Regard Lodge Almost Certain for Second Spot

Nixon Quiet on Choice Amid the Galloping of Dark Horses

CHICAGO (U-P)—U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was an odds-on favorite today as the Republicans their presidential nomination all over except for posting the winner's name on the board, turned to a vice-presidential sweepstakes.

But the man who perhaps already knew the order of the finish—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who will be acclaimed tonight as winner of the No. 1 spot—still was not saying.

And there were dark horses all over the place, ranging from palest gray to a hue hard to tell from black.

In fact a top Nixon aide, in naming a long price of 20-1 for Lodge, also mentioned the name of Sen. Thorton B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, as one to watch. The aide, who would not permit use of his name, also said there were others.

That list included such names as Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the Interior, Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, keynote speaker of the Republican National Convention, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who did not say until Tuesday night that he was all the way out of the running for the presidential stride.

There were more, including a Michigan bond for Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr.

The actual running, if any, likely will be done tonight in the Sharron Blackstone Hotel suite of the vice president.

Nixon has announced that after his own sure nomination he plans to call in representative party leaders for consultation on a running mate. His implication was that a selection—or possibly a choice of selections to be passed on by the delegates' vote—will be made at that time.

TRADITIONALLY BOSS

But a presidential nominee by tradition is boss as to his ticket mate and nobody really expects opposition if Nixon states a choice.

HARMONY HUDDLE—Vice President Richard Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller meet today at the headquarters of the New York delegation. They glowed with happiness, and Rockefeller said of Nixon, "He's going to win with New York State in the fall." All 96 New York votes will go to Nixon.

Nixon Nomination Televised Tonight

The long-expected nomination of Richard Nixon as the GOP presidential candidate is on tap as the main feature of the convention show this evening. The first attraction will be the report of the Platform Committee which has recently made some revisions in its document.

The vice-presidential choice is expected to be made after Nixon's nomination. In between will be a speech by Thomas Dewey.

The nomination speeches, second speeches and balloting of the delegates will be carried in their entirety on television channels 2, 4 and 7 beginning at 6:30.

Radio station WWJ again will begin its coverage of events at 6:15 p.m., WWJ will begin at 7. WJR is scheduled to cut in at 10:30.

Asks Court to Ban 'Deceptive' Slate

An untold Democratic candidate for Congress has asked Circuit Court for an injunction to stop the distribution of union slates using the party vignette.

The distribution now or at the polls Aug. 2, the suit alleges, is "a way well calculated to deceive the electorate of Oakland County" into believing the endorsements are made by the Democratic Committee of the county.

Seeking a temporary and permanent injunction was Leo P. Meagher, 52, of Woodbrook Farms, and the party's 1958 nominee for state senator.

Meagher is a member of the committee—up until Tuesday when his senatorial nominee successor will be chosen—by virtue of his nomination two years ago.

Named in the suit filed this morning were Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, and William B. Lindsey, recording secretary of the council and former officer of Pontiac Motor Local 633 UAW.

Neither Haggard or Lindsey were immediately available for comment.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer, a former member of the Democratic State Central Committee, ordered the defendants to appear before him at 3 p.m. this afternoon to show cause why a temporary restraining order shouldn't be issued.

The attorney who filed the suit for Meagher was another Democratic county candidate not endorsed June 27 by the Council. Meagher's attorney is S. Jerome Bronson of Madison Heights, and one of three Democratic candidates for the county's senate seat in Tuesday's primary.

In the suit, Meagher alleged that the union planned or already has distributed 55,000 copies of these slates bearing the party emblem with the pictures of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. G. Mennen Williams in the upper left hand corner.

It asks voters to "make it emphatic—vote straight Democratic Tuesday, Aug. 2, 1960."

Underneath this is smaller printing are the words "Printed and distributed by the Oakland County AFL-CIO."

It includes 12 union-favored candidates from Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, candidate for re-election as Michigan senator, through to the selection for state representative in the particular legislative district the slate is being passed out in.

Included on the slate is the name of Donald E. Adams, non-partisan candidate for the county's new probate judgeship.

Nearly Embrace in a Warm Exchange at Delegate Breakfast

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (U-P)—In relaxed mood, the Republicans whirled through a round of social activities and sight-seeing today preliminary to their convention's big moment tonight—the nomination of Richard M. Nixon for president.

Tensions and quarrels over the platform had faded. The mood was close ranks and wham the Democrats.

Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who once looked as prospective antagonists at this convention, breakfasted together in great harmony.

Accompanied by Mrs. Nixon, the vice president went over to Rockefeller's hotel for breakfast with the governor and the New York delegation.

ALL BUT EMBRACE—Rockefeller met him at the curb and they all but embraced, looking like a couple of old college buddies at a 25th class reunion.

Nixon called New York the key state in what he said was going to be a very close contest.

Rockefeller, his arm around Nixon declared, "He's going to win with New York State in the fall."

In an informal interview, Nixon indicated his vice-presidential running mate would not be selected until Thursday.

But GOP National Chairman Thorton B. Morton in a statement an hour later said the convention "is going to try to nominate the vice-presidential candidate as planned, Wednesday night."

"However, if the hour should become later," Morton added, "we will put the nomination of the vice president over until Thursday."

WOULD CONSULT LEADERS—Nixon's indication of a delay until Thursday was in a discussion of his plans to consult with party leaders on the question of the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

He said there would be a meeting tonight—or Thursday if tonight's convention session runs late—of party leaders from all sections to talk about a vice-presidential nominee.

"I want to have a full discussion of it before we have a final decision," Nixon said. "I want to have a full discussion of it before we have a final decision."

In response to questions, he said Rockefeller will certainly be one of those consulted. He also mentioned Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as among those whose opinions he desires.

WAS CRITICAL—Goldwater is at the extreme right wing of the GOP. He was critical of last weekend's Nixon-Rockefeller statement of principle. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

GAVEL AND GLEE—President Eisenhower exuberantly waves his gavel to signal he would like demonstrators to let him begin his address at the Republican National Convention in Chicago Tuesday night.

Ike Cites Record of GOP Prosperity

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower says it is "irrefutable truth" that the nation is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, has the strongest military system in the world and is working ceaselessly for peace.

He gave this assessment of his years of stewardship in the White House to an enthusiastic "Thank You Day" session of the GOP National Convention Tuesday night.

Especially in the fields of national defense and economic growth, Eisenhower strongly defended his administration's record.

At many points his speech struck at the Democrats, but he could as well have been speaking of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he said:

"Just as the Biblical Job said his bulls, so we have a cult of professional pessimists who, taking counsel of their fears, continually mouth the allegation that America has become a second-rate military power."

Rockefeller has criticized several phases of administration activity.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who got a handsome send-off for his coming campaign from the retiring president, hailed Eisenhower's speech as "a smash hit."

Rockefeller called it an "excellent, forthright" statement. But Rockefeller, who has urged an immediate rise of 2 1/2 billion dollars in defense spending, refused to comment when asked about the "cult of professional pessimists."

STILL LIKE IKE—Eisenhower, who is nearing 70, received a warm "we like Ike" reception from the GOP delegates, whose party rode to power with him nearly eight years ago after two decades of being on the outside.

He spoke earnestly, and displayed the teleprompter used by many orators. Eisenhower's glasses flashed in the bright TV lights as he bent his head and again to read his speech from a manuscript on the lectern. He smiled seldom.

The President, as he has before, came up with a dramatic challenge to the dictator in the Kremlin.

Would the Soviet dictator, Eisenhower asked, agree to holding of free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations—to permit people everywhere—in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue? RED OR FREE?

"That issue is: Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as found in the United States?"

"Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the results of such elections?"

"The United States would gladly do so."

The President listed a string of achievements on the domestic front.

$98,000 City Pay Hike Advocated by Willman

City Manager Walter K. Willman Tuesday night recommended a municipal wage increase that would cost the city $98,000 annually.

The proposed raise was one of two ways to readjust wages of city employees suggested in a study of Pontiac's municipal pay plan by James O. Yarger, an independent personnel consultant.

The study indicated the city's pay is somewhat out of balance and suggested an upward adjustment to bring it into line with other cities in southeastern Michigan as well as with the rates paid by industry for the same type of work.

Yarger suggested an automatic and a seniority method of setting wages.

Willman recommended that the City Commission adopt the automatic plan.

The so-called seniority method would cost the city $208,000 a year. In either method, the result will be a higher cost of personnel, which, said Willman, "could result in a higher tax rate or in reduced services."

MEETING SCHEDULED—He scheduled a special meeting between the Commission and spokesmen for employee groups to discuss the matter at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Commission is expected to act on the proposed increase at next week's meeting, which will be held Monday night because Tuesday is the primary election date.

Willman recommended that the automatic plan be retroactive to July 1, 1960, and that all employees now in class 'E' in the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

'Miss Democrat' to Be Crowned on Sunday

The contest is open to all single girls 16 to 21 years of age who live in the city or adjacent townships.

Contestants will only be required to register at the picnic which will begin at 11 a.m. city's seniority setup be moved down to class D.

All employees would then move up a step Jan. 1, 1961. The immediate move backward from class E to D still would result in an increase in the employee's salary.

In the study, Yarger has listed the current salary of each employee at each step of seniority and has then listed the figure to which each step should be adjusted upward.

If some cases an employee could conceivably drop back as many as two steps and still get more pay.

The city's pay structure contains five classes or steps of seniority: A, starting wages; B, six months; C, one year; D, two years; E, three years.

At each step, B through E, the employee becomes eligible for a raise on the approval of his department head.

The seniority method of increase simply means that everyone is moved forward one step. Thus, an employee in the C class now goes to the D class.

This could result in a sharp increase from his present pay to the adjusted D class pay.

The automatic method means the employee is raised to the next higher pay figure in the adjusted rates.

Therefore, a Class C employee could revert to Class A but still get a pay hike.

The automatic method also stipulates that any employee now on the proposed minimum or Class A wage be raised to the suggested minimum.

Also that any employee whose current rate falls on one of the proposed steps be moved to the next higher step.

No change was suggested for the employee whose current rate exceeds the maximum proposed for his classification.

The individual pay hike depends entirely on the current wage scale of the employee and how large the proposed increases are for each step.

In some cases, the change is little, in others it is greater.

Commissioners, in discussing the proposed methods of increase, may decide on either method, a combination of the two or variations on either.

It has been suggested by commissioners that the plan could be made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1960.

Willman's variation calls for Class E employees to drop to Class D, regardless of the proposed figures, but they would automatically go up to E again in January.

This recommendation does not include the administrative personnel whose appointments are made by the Commission.

If his recommendation is accepted, the estimated cost to be paid by the city would be $243,963, or about 6 1/2 per cent of the current payroll.

Russia Vetoes RB47 Probe

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Security Council debate on the plane shot down by the Soviets ended Tuesday night with a 9-2 council vote rejecting Soviet charges against the United States and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal for an international investigation.

The Soviets also vetoed an Italian proposal that the International Red Cross lead the two surviving crewmen of the American plane, who are being held by the Soviets for trial as spies.

Despite the impact of the outcome as a defeat for the Soviet Union and a victory for the United States, the debate pointed out that in all three resolutions the vote was 5-2, with the Soviet Union and Poland opposed by all nine non-Communist members of the council, which usually abstain from voting on cold war disputes.

The vetoes brought the Soviet vote to 10 in the council's history.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the Soviets by blocking an investigation showed "they do not believe their own charges" against the United States. He termed the Italian proposal for the Red Cross to contact the captured fliers a "compassionate resolution."

He told the council, "It is a sad thing to see a man as brave as was heard as the Soviet people is represented by a government as cynical as they showed themselves to be tonight."

The Soviets had charged that the RB47, when shot down by a Soviet jet fighter July 1, was on an espionage mission over Soviet territorial waters in the Barents Sea.

The Soviet resolution that the council rejected would have condemned the United States for aggressive acts and called on the U.S. to release the plane and its crew.

Lodge earlier in the debate said the plane was a peacetime reconnaissance aircraft carrying electronic equipment for mapping purposes and that it never came closer than 30 miles to Soviet territory.

In a last-minute counterattack, the U.S. delegate produced a picture of a Soviet TU16 jet bomber which was reported to have shot down the RB47 in 1959 and 1960.

The difference between the United States and the Soviet Union is that we shoot our planes with cameras. They shoot ours with guns and rockets and kill or imprison our crews," Lodge said.

front, defended the administration's conduct on foreign affairs, and said the more Americans today employed, at higher wages and with more take-home pay than ever before in our history.

But the two main segments of his speech were devoted to defense and economic growth, two areas where steady attacks from Democrats have been heightened by criticism of a fellow Republican—Rockefeller.

Speaking of gross national product—the sum of all the goods and services produced in the nation—Eisenhower said "we are fed a great deal of information—and much more of misinformation."

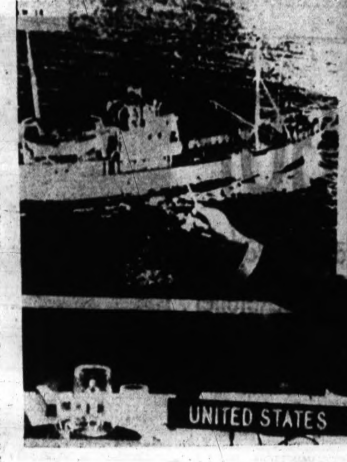

The interesting fact is that in these past years and a half years the annual gross national product has increased by one hundred dollar bills—25 per cent.

"During the almost eight-year duration of the prior, Democratic administration, the gross national product actually declined in every single peacetime year, save one."

"We are indeed sorry to announce the resignation of Albert W. Holcomb, vice president of the W. H. Colby & Co. of Grand Rapids, Michigan, who has been with the company since 1921."

"Holcomb is returning to the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. in response to a very generous proposal which he has possibly turned down," Girard said.

"We regret he is leaving Community's family and wish him all the success in the world," the president concluded.

Adlai's Ex-Wife a Theft Victim

Rep. Broomfield Europe Bound

Named by Royburn on Group to Inspect NATO Defense Installations

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) will get a first-hand look at the free world's North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) defense installations during a two-week trip to Europe.

Broomfield was named today by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) as a member of the House delegation which leaves Saturday for an inspection of the bases.

Appointed to the delegation was "a good lawyer," Broomfield said before leaving Detroit Metropolitan Airport for Washington at noon today.

"I deem this one of the greatest honors ever afforded me and certainly welcome this first-hand look at the state of readiness of our and other free world nation defense installations in Europe," Broomfield said.

REURNS AUG. 13

The delegation, which will return home Aug. 12 in time for the re-convening of the House Aug. 15, will visit defense installations in Germany, France, Italy, Malta and Algeria.

The committee will be briefed by high staff officers of the countries visited, the congressman disclosed.

Broomfield not only welcomed the inspection tour "to see how our defenses stack up," but also to be the first House member to test his own piece of legislation controlling unauthorized expenditures of federal money for foreign travel.

Transportation will be provided by the French government, Broomfield said.

The invitation was extended by the NATO countries of Europe.

Rep. Broomfield, who was given his big day and night here yesterday in what the convention called "The Day," breakfasted with his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices—about 600 in all.

Eisenhower was presented a bust of Abraham Lincoln. Gov. William G. Stratton gave it to him on behalf of the people of Illinois.

In a little speech of acceptance, Eisenhower recalled Lincoln's pronouncement that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

With this as his text, the President said the motto of his administration was "The great middle road, and ignore the gutter, left or right."

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) will get a first-hand look at the free world's North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) defense installations during a two-week trip to Europe.

Broomfield was named today by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) as a member of the House delegation which leaves Saturday for an inspection of the bases.

Appointed to the delegation was "a good lawyer," Broomfield said before leaving Detroit Metropolitan Airport for Washington at noon today.

"I deem this one of the greatest honors ever afforded me and certainly welcome this first-hand look at the state of readiness of our and other free world nation defense installations in Europe," Broomfield said.

REURNS AUG. 13

The delegation, which will return home Aug. 12 in time for the re-convening of the House Aug. 15, will visit defense installations in Germany, France, Italy, Malta and Algeria.

The committee will be briefed by high staff officers of the countries visited, the congressman disclosed.

Broomfield not only welcomed the inspection tour "to see how our defenses stack up," but also to be the first House member to test his own piece of legislation controlling unauthorized expenditures of federal money for foreign travel.

Transportation will be provided by the French government, Broomfield said.

The invitation was extended by the NATO countries of Europe.

Rep. Broomfield, who was given his big day and night here yesterday in what the convention called "The Day," breakfasted with his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices—about 600 in all.

Eisenhower was presented a bust of Abraham Lincoln. Gov. William G. Stratton gave it to him on behalf of the people of Illinois.

In a little speech of acceptance, Eisenhower recalled Lincoln's pronouncement that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

With this as his text, the President said the motto of his administration was "The great middle road, and ignore the gutter, left or right."

Chicago has a morticians' convention coming up soon, and it sometimes looks, during this national political dog, that we'll be leaving some subjects for them to work on.

Looking for the Louisiana delegation was a typical southerner about 5 by 5 who waddled the whole length of LaSalle Street, only to discover they were at the LaSalle Hotel, which is elsewhere. To me he confided that when he gets home he's going to have a law passed prohibiting a street and hotel in the same town with the same name. He says it's against civil rights.

That Michigan delegation reaction for Rockefeller was as perfunctory as an event as I ever attended. But, to the credit of our great state, the delegates were courteous.

An anonymous communication tells me that Oakland County is getting ready to sue the Republican Party. It asserts that when, about 15 years ago, Vernon J. Brown had the Republican nomination for governor about in the bag, and the Oakland County men were among those to switch over to a flamboyant imitation of a western cowboy and clothes horse named Kim Sigler.

It was too late for Brown to withdraw from the primary race, in which he lost out to Sigler. Brown was elected.

Two years later Sigler, let his mouth run free to much against union labor, resulting in the loss of the job to G. Mennen Williams and the start of the Williams era.

P.S.: I don't know who sent me the above dope by air mail, but I have a statement of my own to make—he's right.

Examine Trucker Sept. 1 in Woman's Traffic Death

BIRMINGHAM — An Indiana truck driver charged with the traffic death of a Bloomfield Hills woman early this month was bound for a Sept. 1 examination at his arraignment Tuesday. He was released on $2,000 bond.

James F. Franks, 46, is charged with negligent homicide in fatally injuring Mrs. Henry Kolts of 800 Lane Pine Rd., when his truck collided with hers at Telegraph and Maple roads in Bloomfield Township.

He appeared before West Bloomfield Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dietrich.

Mrs. Kolts, 38, died July 13 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Franks, a week after the accident, from other persons were injured in the four-vehicle collision.

Witnesses claim that Franks, of Monroe, Ind., ran a red light on Telegraph and struck the Kolts car broadside. Mrs. Kolts suffered a broken back.

The negligent homicide charge was brought against Franks by Bloomfield Township police after Mrs. Kolts died and a reckless driving charge by a witness was dropped.

The Oakland County Road Commission reports that Maple road (U.S. 42) will be closed to through traffic beginning Monday from Southfield road to Telegraph road.

It is expected to be closed from three to four weeks while the Road Commission widens the two-lane road from Cranbrook road to Telegraph.

Local traffic may continue to use the route, a commission spokesman said.

Detour signs will go up Monday, and the relocating the Maple road through traffic over to 13-Mile road.

A sewer system for residents along Old Mill road and Chubb Vista drive in Birkshire Villa has received final approval from the Bloomfield Township Board.

2-Week Camp Ends

Scouts Hold Festivity

A two-week day camp program for Waterford Township Cub Scout Pack 199, sponsored by the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, concluded recently with a jamboree program.

Cubs in the Webelos den spent seven days learning the outdoor phases of scouting and Indian lore.

Cub master Richard Yarborough said the day camp program was believed to be the first of its type in the county.

Helping plan the day camp were Mrs. John Stump, Mrs. William Grant, and Mrs. Lester Highlen, den mothers, and Mrs. Delray Hall, pack leader, and Mrs. Lagene Morgan, counselors.

Leading the cubbers activities were William Grant, den chief, and Lester Highlen, scout committee man.

Eisenhower Captures Nation—Greatest Address of His Career

Confident, smiling and on the crest of the wave, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER delivered the most stirring address of the two conventions last evening to a cheering group of Republicans.

The most important man in the world was at his best. He spoke earnestly, positively and carried conviction. The President covered many of the outstanding achievements of his administration and did so convincingly. He drove his points home with emphasis and yet with dignity and decorum. The delegates loved it. A star was in the ascendancy.

It made you proud that you were an American and when he assailed the despicable tactics of the Russians during the past few months, he pulled no punches. He "let KHRUSHCHEV have it." There's no doubt anywhere around the globe today that the United States "is the most formidable military power in the world." The President established this point in compelling fashion. Even the Reds must be a little dubious of themselves today.

Also, he listed financial achievements during his occupancy of the White House and proved with statistics that the nation has been far more prosperous in all ways than it was under Democratic domination. More men are at work now at higher wages than ever before in history.

Rarely has the President been in such fine fettle. He exuded confidence and seemed to be aware from the outset that the facts and figures he had brought to the meeting were bound to win his listeners, whether they be in the audience or in their homes.

MAMIE EISENHOWER traveled every foot of the journey with him and she created a grand impression. All in all, it was a tremendous demonstration.

Mr. EISENHOWER was never more at home on a platform and never did he radiate the supreme confidence that he did last night. He strode into the arena as the absolute master of the situation and never relinquished the reins. Here was long governmental experience, the wisdom of years, military know-how, and a great humanitarian talking to his fellow citizens in the most important nation on earth.

Rousing Keynote . . .

Monday night WALTER H. JUD delivered the keynote speech and both JUD and the talk were tremendous successes. He was applauded and cheered time after time and it wasn't the hired clappers who were carrying the ball.

It was the delegates. They were enthusiastic.

The man made a thoughtful, constructive Republican talk and while he occasionally "viewed with alarm" his remarks were packed with hard facts and he cited chapter and verse.

He made a much greater appeal to his audience than those who spoke in Los Angeles and certainly his acceptance was more spontaneous and heartfelt. Los Angeles speakers paused many times and waited for indicated applause, while JUD was actually interrupted on half a hundred occasions. And this doesn't refer to the hired hands who do their masters' bidding on signal. They may have been present, but they were drawing money under false pretenses. They weren't needed.

This Republican convention to date has witnessed much greater spontaneity than the Democratic. What will happen when the nominations start?

American Voter Spun Around Like Satellite

Latest reports confirmed by texts at the U.S. Naval School of Aviation Medicine in Pensacola shows that man will be able to function in a spinning satellite.

Six men were placed in a chamber which was revolved at various speeds. Man-carrying satellites may be similarly rotated to simulate gravity in space. The volunteers came through the tests all right, but most experienced initial reactions — some of them unpleasant.

Just what does this mean to the rest of us? Well, we'll tell you.

To the American voter it should be no surprise at all. He is regularly spun around every four years in the revolving campaigns. And though he may suffer at times, he and the country always get back to earth after election day.

The Man About Town It Makes It Easy To Get Acquainted When You Mention Our Pontiac

Politician: A person who talks like a statesman, but usually isn't.

When away from home, whether only in Michigan or in some other of our 50 states or a foreign country, you have a big advantage when you tell them you're from Pontiac. It is almost like getting a base on balls.

Everybody's heard of the Pontiac car; many of them own one or more. Most everybody has heard of the greatest Indian chief, and a great number have heard of the city. The residents of no other city, regardless of its size, have such an advantage.

No other city has the same name as an automobile. And our name is the same as that of a car that is making automobile history in these days of fierce competition, as no other car is making it.

Frequently in my travels has the name Pontiac been a great advantage to me. One good example was at the 1956 Democratic national convention in Chicago. There was a mixup in reservations and I found a man from a much larger city in my seat in the press section. He had the same name, and it was one of the best seats, within 20 feet of the speaker's podium.

Things were explained to the management and the top brass immediately came through with: "Give it to the man from Pontiac. Who ever heard of Minneapolis?"

These precocious youngsters (and most of them are) must be reckoned with. My good friend out at Drayton Plains,

Irving Kaszka, tells me that the other day his nine year old daughter came home from school and said she wanted to enter business. When asked for an explanation she said that her teacher had just told her that

Shirley Temple was making a million dollars a year when she was nine.

There's tragedy in our farmers fields according to

"Remember, We're Politicians, Not Carpenters"

David Lawrence Says:

Eisenhower Not on Sidelines Yet

CHICAGO — The man who holds the key to the national election this autumn came to town and was cheered by at least a million persons in perhaps one of the most significant demonstrations in American politics.

For if what the critics have been saying about the Eisenhower administration had really sunk in with the people as a whole, then there would never have been the outpouring of people and the spontaneous expressions of applause noted here.

Dwight Eisenhower, it will be said, has always been a popular figure and some have argued that, while this was campaign for him, he cannot transfer his loyalty to anybody else. History doesn't agree with that appraisal.

This writer remembers how the popular Teddy Roosevelt in 1908 transferred his own strength even to the colorless and relatively unknown William Howard Taft and produced the biggest landslide in electoral votes known up to that time. "T.R." incidentally, was a war hero, too, having been dramatically produced in the Spanish-American War victory in Cuba.

What Dwight Eisenhower brings to the campaign is a record which his opponents have denounced but of which he himself is proud. He feels he served the public interest by keeping the nation out of war. Though a military man himself, he refused to do any subversive and instead has worked unceasingly for the cause of war prevention.

His speech to the convention on Tuesday night couldn't be couched in the same phrases that he will use once the new nominee for president is selected. Then he can make it more personal and speak of Nixon and his capabilities.

But the two main issues of the campaign turn on the record of the Eisenhower administration. Do people have jobs? Are times good in a broad sense? Is the people appreciate the fact that in the last seven years their sons have not been engaged in a war?

The last affair—the Korean War—cost more than 155,000 casualties and was fought 8,000 miles away from the homes of American families. Will this happen again?

Some of these questions are especially influential in public reaction to the so-called peace issue. Actually, it's an issue that has to do with keeping the boys who were drafted or the one who have served already from being sent to the front lines of any war, large or small.

The President has borne the brunt of international crises for many years. He has had to take

Notwithstanding the momentary smarting or bite caused by iodine, I prefer it to any other antiseptic available for the purpose when I have such an antiseptic.

A single application of iodine or a single coat of it on the skin will rarely cause more than momentary smarting. It is rather repeated applications that sometimes burn or blister.

The momentary bite of a drop of iodine upon a cancer sore in the mouth, for instance, seems to be followed by prolonged relief of the soreness attending cancer.

Daily application of iodine tincture and glycerine, half and half, is the most satisfactory treatment for cancer sores in the mouth—usually they clear up in two or three days.

So-called "colorless" iodine is not iodine at all, but a relatively inert solution of iodides, of little or no value as an antiseptic or disinfectant, though perhaps suitable for internal use where the effect of iodine is desired.

On long standing iodine tincture may become stronger instead of weaker. Because the alcohol evaporates faster than the iodine does. Iodine tincture applied to the skin over sprains, inflamed lymph insults from Khrushchev but these are minor incidents that can be tolerated by the President and the country far better than the consequences of any action which could lead to war.

Eisenhower in the coming campaign will ask for a vote of confidence in his administration. He will point to Richard Nixon as a man familiar with the details of the Eisenhower policies in the world and experienced in the methods to be used in carrying them out. The President will argue against change at this critical time in history.

That's why Dwight Eisenhower's visit to Chicago becomes a memorandum able opening of the actual campaign to obtain at the polls a vote of approval for the administration, which will assert emphatically that it has brought good times in an economic sense and has kept the nation out of war.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Who declares his way to his fate, and who requires him for what he has done? — Job 21:31.

How would he be if he, which is the top of judgment, should bid judge you as you are? — Shakespeare.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Medicine Cabinets Must Reflect Intelligence, Thrift

The important things to put into your medicine cupboard are intelligence and common sense and economy. If you use common sense to get safety and health out of it. Nine out of ten family medicine chests are a waste of money. Whether of the ready-made store kind or home made and equipped, contain items that have no business in such a place.

Among the dangerous and unnecessary items I have seen in family medicine chests or cupboards are such poisons as strychnine, mercuric (carbolic acid), corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury), creosol solutions (various proprietary mixtures of crude phenols with soap solutions), and even a can of lye. The lye was evidently put there by some thoughtless, irresponsible person, but it goes to show how some people tempt fate.

In my judgment the only antiseptic, disinfectant, or germicide necessary in the medicine cupboard are an ounce of iodine tincture USP XIII (2%) and an ounce of boracic acid.

Immediate application of iodine tincture (USP XIII (2%)) to any cut, scratch or abrasion is the most efficient first aid disinfection, in my judgment. If this is done and the wound immediately covered or dressed with a sterile (germ-free) dressing for protection, no further antiseptic treatment is necessary.

Notwithstanding the momentary smarting or bite caused by iodine, I prefer it to any other antiseptic available for the purpose when I have such an antiseptic.

A single application of iodine or a single coat of it on the skin will rarely cause more than momentary smarting. It is rather repeated applications that sometimes burn or blister.

nodes and swollen joints acts as a counterirritant and in a limited and uncertain extent systemically the negligible quantity that may be inhaled as it is vaporized by the heat of the body. Despite labored efforts of certain doctors to make the public believe iodine and other substances are absorbed into the system through the unbroken skin, there is no scientific proof that such absorption occurs.

Stuffed nests that more than one person has used, and even a can of lye, were found in one of the medicine cabinets examined by Dr. William Brady, Jr., of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Positive Thinking Gives Strength

This fact was specifically proved by an interesting experiment in England where a group of soldiers were given a handicap test.

Before they were hypnotized, they were told to grip the machine as hard as they could. Since they were competing with each other, they did a good job and averaged 101 lbs.

Then they were hypnotized. Now they were told that they were weak and feeble. Under this negative mental attitude, they were then urged to grip the machine as strongly as possible.

And they averaged only 69 lbs! But notice what happened next, for they were now told that they were strong, powerful, Herculean.

And with this POSITIVE mental attitude, their handgrip averaged 140 lbs! Note that this was almost 40 per cent higher than their best possible strength when they were in the normal waking state.

"But Dr. Crane, where did that extra strength come from?" you may ask.

Well, we know the muscles didn't suddenly grow bigger and stronger by an increase in the number or size of the muscle cells.

In hypnosis, however, they concentrated their attention. For they were momentarily deaf and blind and insensitive to other stimuli. So there was less distraction of their attention into other channels.

And that's why mothers, when sent-hypnotized by danger to their youngsters, often perform feats of strength that they can't duplicate under normal conditions.

Voice of the People

'Longest, Loudest Applause Received by Russia's Flag'

In his de Jazmin, the Tenth Baptist World Alliance was held. The Communists used this meeting to further their propaganda.

Each of the 45 countries presented their flag, and voted scriptures. The "Red Flag" received the longest and loudest applause. At the close of the session the pastor of the First Ukrainian Baptist Church of Sao Paulo, Brazil, said: "The red on that flag is the blood of my people."

After the session was over, Khrushchev said this statement: "Life is short and I want to see the Red flag fly over the world in my lifetime."

Three Russian Baptists elected to offices at the World Alliance have been identified as Red agents. These ministers work directly under a major general in the Soviet Secret Police. It is also significant to note that the Moscow Baptist Church is the only Protestant church permitted in a city of eight million people and it is under the complete direction and control of the Communists.

I don't think that God wants Bible-believing Christians or their church associating with a God-hating country as Russia. Are you or your church being used to further the Communist cause?

Entries Pouring In for Eastern Michigan Fair

Rate Exceeds That of 1959

Varied Program Set; Harness Racing Marks Are Expected to Fall

IMLAY CITY — From all present indications, the Eastern Michigan Fair to be held here Monday through Saturday will be the "biggest and best" in its 62-year history, Al Pierceall, fair secretary said today.

Already entries are pouring in far above last year's totals, and records for harness racing events are expected to tumble, he reported.

Traditionally, some 75,000 persons attend the fair, sponsored by the Lapeer County Agricultural Assn.

Highlights of the six-day program will include a 4-H livestock show, county fairs' tug of war, dairy show, tractor hauling contest and harness racing under the lights Wednesday through Saturday nights.

Features of Monday's program will be the judging of 4-H and Future Farmers of America departments, the opening of the midway at 6 p.m.; raising of the colors at 7:45 and performances of Dapper Dan Flenor's Hell Drivers before the grandstand at 8 p.m. Judging of all Floral Hall department exhibits will take place at 10 a.m. Tuesday. These will include farm produce, canned goods, flowers, grain and baked goods.

According to Pierceall, entries still will be accepted in home economics, horticulture, livestock and dairy departments until Saturday.

Entries in racing events must be submitted by 10 a.m. the day before the race the horse is scheduled to enter, he said.

A special attraction, new to the fair this year, will be the R-1 Foley Show to be presented at 2 and 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Entries are expected in the harness races beginning Wednesday with top drivers from leading tracks, including Northville's MRA's Wolverine Race Track, Hazel Park and others.

Featured races Wednesday night will be the 2-year-old filly pace, 3-year-old stud and gelding pace and 4-year-old stake.

Judging of livestock in all departments will be at 10 a.m. Thursday. Cattle entries already are double those of last year, and sheep are not far behind, Pierceall said.

The tractor-hauling contest is slated for 2 p.m., and the harness races that night will feature the 2-year-old filly pace, the 2-year-old stud and gelding pace and the 2.26 trot.

The automobile and farm machinery parade will take place at 1:30 p.m. Friday, to be followed by children's games, races and contests.

The county fairs' tug-of-war will be at 7:30 p.m. with the harness racing to begin at 8:15. Races will be the 2.26 pace, 2.17 trot and 2.18 pace.

The livestock parade is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Aug. 6, fairs' tug-of-war at 7:30 p.m. and the last harness races, the 2.22 pace, 2.22 trot and the 2.15 pace and trot at 8:15 p.m.

Tough Talk Was Needed at Summit

Ike Derides Khrushchev's Claim

By BOB CONSIDINE

CHICAGO—Wish he had talked as tough to Khrushchev at the summit and immediately thereafter as he did Tuesday night at the GOP Convention.

The President answered the traditionally sweeping boasts, brags and invasions of the Soviet dictator with a challenge of breathtaking dimensions. He derided Khrushchev's claim that American prestige has been crushed abroad, and then he dared his man in these sweeping terms:

"I challenge him to make this test. Will he agree to the holding of free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations to permit people everywhere, in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue? That issue is:

"Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as found in the United States? Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the results of such elections?"

That would have surely shaken that bum, if he had said it at the height of his yapping.

The grueling war between the Coke cartels is, as usual, being fought right down to the last free burp. Coca Cola's International division, was confirmed in two payments.

Also confirmed in three payments was blacktopping on Rose-lawn drive, Fiddis to Maines.

The special assessment roll for grade and gravel work on an alley running north of Walton boulevard from University to an alley east of Baldwin was confirmed in two payments.

Commissioners have authorized the vacating of Clara street in assessors' plat 102 from west line lots 19 and 28 to the west line of Arlene street where no objections were voiced at a public hearing on the proposal.

The land will be redeveloped as part of a new subdivision.

The city has agreed to pay $1,000 from state returned gas tax monies at the request of the Michigan Highway Commission for street improvements on Telegraph road.

The Highway Department announced plans to pave the median area (center island) from Elizabeth Lake road south to Hazel street sometime this year, Wilman told commissioners.

Bids for furniture and equipment for the new city library totaling $23,456 have been approved by the commission and the City Managers Library Committee.

Commissioners have ordered the city purchasing agent to buy two items bid on.

The city's weed control is progressing with some 1,900 vacant lots inspected to date, according to Lester R. Stanley, weed supervisor for the Parks and Recreation Department.

About 52 per cent have been found and almost 40 per cent have been found in violation, he reports.

The second inspection has been made in the area from Bagley street to Michigan avenue. Cutting of lots in violation began July 19.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Inmates at the state penitentiary faced a "get tough" policy today following a fire Tuesday which gutted two shop buildings inside prison walls.

Warden Lynn Bomar said inmates started the fire deliberately in sympathy with 20 maximum security prisoners on a hunger strike against tightened security measures.

Guards shot three prisoners as they tried to keep fire trucks from entering the prison grounds. Bomar said the men were not seriously wounded.

Gov. Buford Ellington ordered prison officials to institute a tough policy to keep order.

"If these people don't want to be treated like human beings, then that's the way it will be," the governor said. He declined to say what measures he had in mind.

McNutt Ruckus Not Over Yet

Southfield Mayor May Veto Firing of City's Administrator

SOUTHFIELD—The status of ousted city administrator Robert J. McNutt is still in doubt today.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson said this morning he has no immediate plan to meet with the Council or McNutt. He said he would wait until tempers on both sides cooled down.

McNutt was fired Monday night in a 12 vote by a four-man power block led by John J. Hollywood. Swanson labeled the dismissal "irresponsible" in that it left the city without management.

The mayor further indicated that he may veto the Council action. He has 10 days under the city charter to do this.

In a 10-page statement read to the Council Monday night, Hollywood charged McNutt with "collusion and deceit" and then proposed that he be fired.

Hollywood was backed by Council President C. Hugh Bohann, Councilmen O. David Edwards and Thomas M. Costello. Councilwoman Mrs. Jean McDonald and Councilman Clarence A. Durbin voted "no."

The sixth councilman, Emanuel Christensen, was on vacation. McNutt denied the charges and walked out of the meeting.

Car Sales Running Just Fraction Ahead

DETROIT — Sales of new cars during the middle third of July were fractionally better than during the similar period last year, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

Ward's said cars were sold at the rate of 17,853 daily between July 11 and 30. Last year the rate was about 17,100 daily.

"The gap was considerably less than it was during the first six months of the year when 1960 sales ran about 10 per cent ahead of 1959 figures."

Ward's said the six compact cars accounted for 26.1 per cent of all mid-July sales compared with 25.1 per cent during the January-June period.

Street Improvement Makes Headway

The progress of Pontiac's street improvement program was well in evidence at Tuesday night's City Commission meeting.

Commissioners confirmed special assessment rolls on eight projects now completed.

Public hearings were held on five other proposed road work projects and commissioners accepted the city engineer's estimate on yet another proposed construction project.

The estimate was for curb, gutter, drainage, widening and related work on Howard street, Baldwin to Johnson, and on Johnson from Howard to Oakland.

Curbs and gutters will be constructed on the southerly sides only of both streets.

The estimate called for a total cost of $17,193 with the city paying $15,584 and the remainder paid to special assessments to property owners at the rate of $1.30 per front foot.

A public hearing on the construction was scheduled for Aug. 3. The city assessor was authorized to prepare special assessment rolls on three proposed projects after hearings on intent to construct were held.

These involve the construction of curbs and gutters on Hillmont avenue, Nebraska to Earlmoor; Melrose avenue, Madison to Mt. Clemens, and Pleasantview drive east of Hillmont.

Commissioners authorized the same type of work to proceed on Raeburn street, Sanford to Baxter, after no objections were voiced at a public hearing on the special assessment roll.

Widening and blacktopping was ordered for Edson street, Rundle to Montclair, after no objections were voiced at a similar hearing on that project.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed and payment ordered due for seven blacktopping jobs now completed.

Confirmed in three payments was blacktopping on Victory drive and Carr street, Mt. Clemens to the south boundary of Pontiac Krolls subdivision; Court drive, Mt. Clemens to Grandview; and Ivy street, Montclair to Kennett.

The same work on Delwood avenue, Earlmoor to Howland; and Myra avenue, Voorhes to Sylvan court, was confirmed in two payments.

Also confirmed in three payments was blacktopping on Rose-lawn drive, Fiddis to Maines.

The special assessment roll for grade and gravel work on an alley running north of Walton boulevard from University to an alley east of Baldwin was confirmed in two payments.

Commissioners have authorized the vacating of Clara street in assessors' plat 102 from west line lots 19 and 28 to the west line of Arlene street where no objections were voiced at a public hearing on the proposal.

Commissioners have ordered the city purchasing agent to buy two items bid on.

About 52 per cent have been found and almost 40 per cent have been found in violation, he reports.

Warden Lynn Bomar said inmates started the fire deliberately in sympathy with 20 maximum security prisoners on a hunger strike against tightened security measures.

Guards shot three prisoners as they tried to keep fire trucks from entering the prison grounds. Bomar said the men were not seriously wounded.

Gov. Buford Ellington ordered prison officials to institute a tough policy to keep order.

"If these people don't want to be treated like human beings, then that's the way it will be," the governor said. He declined to say what measures he had in mind.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Inmates at the state penitentiary faced a "get tough" policy today following a fire Tuesday which gutted two shop buildings inside prison walls.

Warden Lynn Bomar said inmates started the fire deliberately in sympathy with 20

U.S. Grants $1 Million for Monroe Hospital

MONROE, La.—A federal construction grant of at least one million dollars has been awarded for a new hospital.

J. R. Homminga, chief of the Michigan Department of Hospital Survey and Construction, said the federal aid would go to the Memorial Hospital Fund Drive, one of two drives currently being held here.

The government will pay some 37 per cent of a total estimated cost of $3,300,000 for a new 200-bed facility.

East German Fleet to Match West's?

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—Russia is building up Communist East Germany's small and out-moded fleet in a move to match West Germany's growing naval strength, according to Western intelligence reports.

Soviet efforts to give the Communist navy more fighting punch are viewed by West German defense officials as a Communist action that will strengthen Bonn's attempts to lift restrictions imposed on the West German navy by the Western European Union.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, U.S. Chief of Naval Operations, has seconded German motions to change the current tonnage limit for surface warships from 3,000 tons to 5,000 tons and permit the country to build submarines larger than 350 tons.

Russians strategists believe that in the event of war, the Eastern Communist bloc must crush

Western defenses in the Baltic Sea if Soviet submarines and surface vessels are to break out into the open Atlantic.

VIEW CONTROL

At the same time Soviet control of the Baltic's Western approaches were viewed as a prerequisite to protect the Northern flank of any Soviet troop movements on the Central European continent.

According to Western intelligence reports, the Soviets have told East German Communists that they will shortly receive five Skoryi-class destroyers to bring up to a total of seven the East German destroyer fleet. Two destroyers are to be launched shortly at East German shipyards.

The Skoryi destroyers displace 2,150 tons and carry four 130 millimeter guns and 10 torpedo tubes. They are operational in large numbers in the Soviet fleet.

Naval sources said the Soviets are also handing over to East Germany 12 330-ton submarines of the Soviet MV class, armed with two torpedo tubes and developing a submerged speed of 10 knots. These vessels were described by West German experts as "not too impressive."

West Germany now has six American-leased Fletcher-class destroyers (2,700 displacement tons) operational.

Four more German-built destroyers, the first to be commissioned in the fleet next year, will join the nation's destroyer squadrons within two years.

The West German navy currently comprises 127 warships, including a fleet of some 20 high-speed quadruple screw torpedo boats, reaching a express-train speed of 45 knots.

These 160-ton boats have been referred to as some of the most versatile and powerful craft in any navy.

Intelligence sources, assessing East German naval strength, pointed out, however, that the Communists are expected to run into difficulties training crews in appropriate numbers for their new ships. East Germany has a considerable manpower shortage.

Military training of Communist sailors was reported also to be suffering from an over-emphasis of political indoctrination.

Stiff Fines Handed Two U.S. Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the heaviest airline fines yet imposed by the Federal Aviation Agency showed up on the FAA's violations docket today.

Trans World Airlines paid a $15,000 civil penalty for failure last year to maintain current proficiency checks for at least 70 of its flight engineers.

American Airlines paid a $9,000 penalty for a series of maintenance violations.

3rd Schlesinger History Book on New Deal Due

BOSTON (UPI)—A third volume of Arthur Schlesinger Jr.'s history of the New Deal will be published Sept. 7.

Houghton Mifflin Co. announced the publication of "The Politics of Upheaval" which deals with the years 1935 and 1936, including portraits of Harry Long, Father Coughlin and Dr. Townsend.

The first two volumes were "The Crisis of the Old Order" and "The Coming of the New Deal."

Drayton Rector Dies in Detroit

Rev. Waldo R. Hunt of St. Andrew Church is Heart Victim

The Rev. Waldo R. Hunt, rector of St. Andrew Episcopal Church, Drayton Plains, died of a heart ailment yesterday morning at Harper Hospital, Detroit, after a brief illness. He was 65.

The Rev. Mr. Hunt of 5845 Rowley Dr., Drayton Plains, came to St. Andrew's as vicar in 1951 when the church was a mission of All Saints Episcopal Church, of Pontiac. Services were held in the CAI Building on Williams Lake road.

Under his leadership and guidance, an old movie theater was purchased and renovated for church worship. Later the building was sold and land was purchased on Hatchery road where the new church was built in 1956.

The Rev. Mr. Hunt was responsible for St. Andrew's incorporating as a church. He became its first rector in October 1959.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, he served as rector of St. John Episcopal Church at Wayne for 13 years before coming to the Pontiac area.

Active in civic affairs in Wayne, he served as president of the Wayne Ministerial Assn. and chairman of the United Nations committee of Wayne Rotary Club.

He helped organize and was president of the Wayne Coordinating Council and has served on the Wayne Recreation Committee. During World War I he served with the YMCA in the Middle East.

Before entering the Episcopal ministry, he was professionally engaged in boy scout work and camp leadership.

A member of the diocesan department of Christian education, the St. Andrew's rector has been adviser in young people's work for the Down River Convocation. Surviving are his wife, Myrtle; a daughter, Mrs. George Kubitsky of Livonia; a son, Peter serving with the Army in Korea; and four grandchildren.

A memorial service of Holy Communion will be conducted at 8 a.m. Friday at St. Andrew Church by the Rev. C. George Whitfield.

Funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday with the Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley, suffragan bishop of the Michigan diocese, officiating. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

REV. WALDO R. HUNT

The family said memorial tributes may be made to St. Andrew Episcopal Church, Drayton Plains. The body is at the Coats Funeral Home, 3141 Sashabaw Rd.

Will Platform Suit GOP Convention?

Rebuilt Rights Plank Set for OK

CHICAGO (AP)—A broad, 10,000-word Republican platform with a sturdy rebuilt civil rights plank is ready for expected GOP convention approval tonight.

Prospects of any floor battle faded as most GOP chiefs indicated they would accept the compromise worked out Tuesday night by the platform committee on the hotly racial equality issue. The compromise was voted 86-28.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, due to wear the party's presidential mantle, was described as satisfied with the completed platform product. Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York echoed the reports after visiting Nixon early today.

ENDORSES REVISION

Further along in the wee hours, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he endorsed the revised plank, calling it "a strong and specific declaration in support of equal opportunity, human dignity and the supreme worth of the individual."

Both Rockefeller and Nixon had described an earlier platform plank as unsatisfactory. Rockefeller said he would like to have seen even the new plank go further in some respects, but said he was grateful with the revision.

"The plank is comprehensive," he said. "It attacks discrimination in voting, housing, schools, jobs and public facilities."

Southern delegates, claiming a victory in keeping civil rights policy declarations as moderate as possible, said they had no desire to kick up any convention fuss.

C. Harold Alexander, Florida Republican chairman, said after a meeting of 10 Southern states' chairmen he does not expect a minority report to go before the convention.

The GOP would rally behind the platform and Nixon to present a solid front. Nixon is expected to elaborate on the platform in an acceptance speech Thursday night and in a Friday news conference.

The platform is a mishmash, adheres to traditional GOP conservatism in fiscal and economic policies, commends for continuation the tenets of President Eisenhower's administration, but promises to provide any increased national defense expenditures found necessary.

The final defense plank represents a considerable revision from an earlier version also sharply criticized by Rockefeller. The original consisted primarily of a pledge to continue Eisenhower policies. The final plank calls for accelerated missile production and new weapon development in an intensified defense program.

To Facilitate 'Intelligent' Voting

Citizens League Rates County Hopfuls

In its annual endeavor to help voters to cast "an intelligent vote" in elections, the Oakland Citizens League today released its rating of the many candidates for 15 county offices.

Unopposed candidates were not rated.

Among the interviewed hopefuls in the six-man race for the Democratic nomination for Congress, the league rated three "three star" winners and two "two star" winners.

Incumbent Republican William S. Bloomfield is unopposed for re-nomination.

Rankings were reached, the League said, through questionnaires, looks into credit ratings, court records, home interviews and full committee interviews.

The League emphasized that in the primary it compares only candidates running for the same office in the same party, not in the opposing party.

The League also ranked the eight candidates bidding for Oakland County's partisan new probate judge post.

Following are the League's ratings:

Adopt Rules for Curbing Maverick Truck Firms

LANSING (UPI)—Two new rules to make it harder for maverick trucking firms to violate Public Service Commission rules have been approved, a commission spokesman said.

The rules will go into effect when the November issue of the state administrative code is printed, officials said.

The rules were aimed at preventing truck owners who are not licensed as common carriers to "lease" their vehicles to firms and send along a driver, thereby acting as common carriers, a spokesman said.

The commission said the rules were formulated in response to demands by legitimate truckers all over the state.

Special Cooking Tools Are Most Interesting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You know, if you love to cook as we do, you're always on the lookout for interesting utensils. We visited a store that specializes in equipment for entertaining, cooking and baking. From all over the world the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney A. Krause, have gathered tools to make cooking a more exciting activity.

There's a whole wall of cookbooks. If you need a recipe, there is a convenient table with paper and pencil waiting for you. Women who enjoy cake decorating would love the wide variety of books and materials on that subject.

You never saw such a collection of rolling pins. One unusual one, made of brass, was at least 30 inches long. Another one would make dough look striated while the third one had geometric figures on it.

There were molds for every conceivable purpose. In addition to the usual molds for gelatins there were molds to make chocolate figures—for sugar and gum paste designs—for marzipan. Large number molds are used for anniversary cakes (incidentally, any of the pans can be reused). Little cutlet shaped molds hold aspic.

And the tart pans! We counted 25 different shapes of tart pans, plus some French Madeleine frames.

Cake pans that are different are pans that make a cake shaped like a man's tie—an open book—or a football. Many of these pans are made just for the Krauses'. One large cake pan Mr. Krause showed us is of heavy metal that heats slowly and bakes the cake evenly without burning.

In addition to all the ordinary cookie cutters there were sets for Halloween cookies featuring a broom, witch, cat, pumpkin and owl. There were the Christmas sets and those for Easter. There were donkeys and elephants. We bought a medium sized ball and a heart to replace the one we've been holding together with adhesive tape for a year or more.

You can find all sorts of interesting cake and cookie decorations too. All their food coloring are periodically tested for purity in Washington. You can get tiny bottles or four-ounce ones. You can get glamour glitter for cookies that looks like sequins. You can get special kinds of coconut, almond paste and dragees, not only silver in color, but gold and pastel.

In the flavoring line we saw powered vanilla, white vanilla, all the fruit flavors, a special blend for coffee cakes, wine flavorings, mocha flavor and many others.

Did we buy anything. Of course. We bought a flavoring called Complement, the cookie cutters, already mentioned and a tube pan to make Bundt Kuchen.

If you are interested in seeing Kitchen Glamour for yourself, call us for further information. Just be prepared to spend some time browsing.

Plenty of Sugar Will Be Available

Sugar has been in the news lately. The president has cut the quota which the United States will import from Cuba during the rest of this year. Although Cuba has been the largest supplier of sugar to this country, no shortages or sharp price rises in the United States now or later are expected.

Foreign sugar production and the prospect of extra output from U.S. beet fields will fill part of the gap, all ears: 14 years, all feet: 21 reports the Marketing Information years, all muscle: 45 years. cent higher than a year ago. These stocks have been built up in anticipation of troubles with Cuba.

In the more distant future the United States can purchase sugar from other countries for less money than Cuban sugar, because there is no agreement which holds the price above the world market as has been the case of Cuban sugar.

There is no reason to stock up on sugar. There is plenty and there will continue to be.

Review of the six ages of man: prospect of extra output from U.S. beet fields will fill part of the gap, all ears: 14 years, all feet: 21 reports the Marketing Information years, all muscle: 45 years. All these, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. At launch, 40 years, all in. Grandpa's Menus Would Be Unappetizing Today

Eating habits have changed over the past thirty years advises the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Today we are eating twenty-five per cent more meat, fish and poultry than 30 years ago; fifty per cent more citrus fruit and tomatoes; twelve per cent more dairy products and eggs; and thirty-one per cent more coffee, tea and cocoa.

In the same period the typical American's consumption of flour and cereal products has decreased thirty-seven percent and of potatoes, thirty-three per cent. Fats and oils remain at about the same average, sixty-six pounds per person per year.

Fidel Still Sick Man

Castro Offers Revolution as Example; Blasts U.S.

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—An ailing Fidel Castro offered his revolution as an example to other Latin American countries Tuesday and repeated charges of U.S. aggression against his government.

Obviously not fully recovered from his bout with pneumonia, the prime minister looked drawn and haggard as he hoarsely harangued the crowd. He spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and in the end practically stumbled into the arms of his followers behind him.

Instead of a predicted half million, about 200,000 Cubans struggled through rain, heat and muddy roads to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Castro's revolutionary movement in its birthplace, the Sierra Maestra mountains of eastern Cuba.

Accusing the United States once again of aggression against his regime, Castro said "the principal reason for aggression against our country is to prevent our being an example" to the rest of Latin America.

"We will continue making our fatherland an example that will convert the Andes range into the Sierra Maestra of the continent," he declared.

The Cuban leader also repeated his charge that the proposed new U.S. aid program for Latin America is a bribe to whip up opposition to him.

"The United States says to them, 'We will buy you. We are going to pay you price to join us against the Cuban revolution,'" Castro said.

Castro shared the platform with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, leftist

Philip H. Willkie Doesn't Expect VP Nomination

CHICAGO (UPI)—Philip H. Willkie, son of the late Wendell Willkie, said that he doesn't take his campaign for the Republican vice presidential nomination too seriously.

He said his name has been "tossed around" in speculation for the post, but "I do not expect to be nominated."

The Rushville, Ind., attorney is candidate on the GOP ticket for state superintendent of public instruction in Indiana. He said that while he does not harbor any false hopes for national office this year, he does expect to "wage a fighting campaign" for the state office in the coming campaign in the Hoosier state.

Willkie said he thought the vice presidential nomination lay between Henry Cabot Lodge and Sen. Thurston Morton.

Freud Associate Jung Marks 85th Birthday

KUESNACHT, Switzerland (AP)—Prof. Carl Gustav Jung, one of the founders of modern psychiatry, celebrated his 85th birthday with his 18 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren Tuesday.

The famous Swiss neurologist, early associate of the late Sigmund Freud has lived in retirement in his lakeside villa more than 10 years. He still enjoys excellent health.

Dag in Belgium on Way to Congo

BRUSSELS (AP)—U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived in Brussels today for a brief round of talks with Belgian officials before going on to the Congo.

Hammarskjöld was to confer with King Baudouin, Premier Gaston Eyskens and Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny before taking another plane this afternoon to the African republic.

The secretary general came here after three days of talks at U. N. headquarters in New York. The foreign ministry said last week Hammarskjöld was involved in the abduction.

assured Tuesday, Lumumba again stressed his government's wish that Belgian troops get out of the Congo as once.

Israeli Envoy, Family Get Out of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Israeli Ambassador Arish Levavi, his wife and two daughters, left Tuesday for home.

Levavi was declared persona non grata (unwelcome) by the Argentine government as a consequence of the dispute over the abduction last May of former Nazi official Adolf Eichmann.

The foreign ministry said last week Levavi was involved in the abduction.

Liver Sausage Mixture Has Variety of Uses

You might place this Liver Sausage Spread in your cookbook and classify it as an "all around" — "year around" recipe. It's so versatile that it can be enjoyed... as a sandwich filler, sausage spread or celery stuffing. The smoked flavor of the sausage combines well with the chopped cucumber, onion juice, Worcestershire sauce and salad dressing. Certainly this recipe will become a standard for the modern homemaker who has many demands on her time. Prepare the spread in advance to save a few precious moments when operation sandwich making gets under way. Reba Staggs, an authority on the storage, care and cooking of meat, states that carefully made sandwiches may be stored for 12 to 24 hours at refrigerator temperature if wrapped in a moisture-vapor proof material. Liver Sausage Spread 1 pound liver sausage 1 cup chopped unpeeled cucumber 1 teaspoon onion juice 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce 1 cup salad dressing Mix together all ingredients. Yield: 2 1/2 cups spread. Serving Suggestion: 1. Allow approximately 1/4 cup of liver sausage spread per sandwich. 2. Use as spread on variety of breads for open face sandwiches. Top with grated carrot, finely chopped onion, reduced parsley or chopped hard-cooked eggs. 3. Use as stuffing for celery.

Summertime Triumph

Use plump, peak-of-the-crop peaches and pears to tasty advantage in this fruity pie. Fill 9-inch pastry shell with mixture of 2 cups each peeled and sliced peaches and pears, 1 1/2 tablespoons tapioca and 1/4 cup sugar. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter and cover with 9-inch pie crust. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven, 30-40 minutes. Serve slightly warm with a topping of fluffy whipped cream or tangy peach ice cream.

Peanut Butter Blends Into New Sauce

Peanuts, you know, contain a good supply of the three B vitamins — thiamin, riboflavin and niacin, so necessary to vitality and general health. They're also good sources of phosphorus, calcium and iron. Actually, peanut consumers apparently prefer their peanuts in the form of peanut butter, for more than half the shelled peanuts used for edible purposes are marketed in this form. One of the most delightful ways to use peanut butter at this time is to prepare a peanut butter sauce for some of the spring vegetables so plentiful this month. Just melt 1 tablespoon of butter or margarine in a pan over boiling water and blend in 1/4 cup of peanut butter. Add 2 teaspoons of flour, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, pepper, and stir until smooth. Then stir in 1 cup of milk slowly. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. This will make about 1 cup of sauce which you can serve on cooked cabbage, onions, or cauliflower.

MARKET BASKET FILLER

Pretty, color combination and it tastes good! Mold cooked asparagus stalks (cut in short lengths) in tomato aspic.

Ever add sour cream instead of milk to potatoes you are mashing?

Soup Flavor Improves by Standing

Europeans have long made this kind of hearty soup.

Quick Peasant Soup

3 cups meat stock (can 1 pound dried tomatoes can (1 pound and 4 ounces) chick peas 1 cup finely shredded cabbage 1/2 cup thin green paper strips beef bouillon cubes 1 tablespoon instant onion 1 teaspoon tomato seasoning 1/2 cup 4 teaspoons salt

Turn stock, tomatoes and chick peas (including liquid in cans), cabbage, green pepper, bouillon cubes, onion and tomato seasoning into a medium-sized kettle; heat slowly. Add sugar, salt and whole wheat bread.

pepper to taste; simmer about 15 minutes or until cabbage is cooked.

Allow flavors to blend a few hours or refrigerate overnight. Serve hot. Makes 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 quarts.

Note: If you have a freezer you may store bones from meat roasts and steaks to make meat stock from them; cover with water and simmer with salt, peppercorns, bay leaf, a few cloves and allspice berries, an onion and carrot and celery leaves; strain.

Combine 1 cup canned baked beans, 1/2 cup crumbled crisp cooked bacon, and enough prepared mustard to make it spreading consistency. Spread on rye or whole wheat bread.

Peach Macaroon Dessert Frozen, Then Sliced

Peachy good and savory are these macaroon slices made by mixing 2 cups macaroon crumbs with 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts and 1/2 cup melted butter. Spread 1/4 of this crumb mixture on bottom of 2 x 2 1/2 x 6 1/2 inch loaf pan lined with aluminum foil or waxed paper.

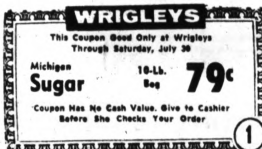

Top with a one pint layer of fresh peach ice cream; repeat crumb and ice cream layers using four layers of crumbs and 3 pints of ice cream, and ending with crumbs. Freeze until firm. Remove from pan, slice and serve with a garnish of fresh peach slices. This makes 24 servings.

Frozen French Fries Go to Picnic as Appetizers

CHICAGO—A man's first choice for an outdoor-grilled meal is invariably steak and French fries. Here's a new twist on the old favorite. Heat up a package of frozen French fries before dinner, and serve as a hot and crisp appetizer to dip in a delicious cheese concoction.

Frozen fries aren't fussy about the heat of the fire, so they may be prepared while you are waiting for coals to reach steak-cooking temperature. Toss the frosty potato strips in a skillet with a little shortening or oil, or shake them in a wire corn-popper. The savory cheese dip may be carried from home in a plastic refrigerator dish or screw-topped jar. Pack some small paper plates to hold the fries and muffle cups of cheese dip.

Youngsters can be a big help to Dad by passing the appetizer while he tends the grill. Try steak sauce seasonings and sauce for a change. As long as it is not overcooked, the charcoal-permeated meat has a marvelous flavor of its own.

With the steak, serve a big green salad and a hot buttery vegetable. Frozen peas or lima beans may be heated on the grill while the well. Stir in bacon. Serve with steak cooks. Season the frozen crisp hot frozen French fries, block, and a good-sized pat of butter, and wrap in a double thickness of aluminum foil, ends folded under. This cooking method takes about five minutes more than the package directs.

Sprinkle dinner rolls with a little water and heat in a covered skillet, shaking occasionally. A bowl of cherries is a perfect dessert.

He-Man Bacon-Cheese Dip
1 1/2-cup jar sharp pasteurized processed cheese spread
1 1/2-cup jar cream cheese

1 cup finely diced onion
2 tablespoons well-drained sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon liquid smoke
4 slices bacon, fried crisp and crumbled
Crisp hot frozen French fries.
Combine ingredients, except the bacon and French fries, and blend.

Canned Consomme Will Turn to Jelly if Chilled

Jellied consomme is so popular during hot weather. It's so easy, too. (Simply place unopened can of soup in refrigerator until jellied — about 4 hours.) Plan to serve it dressed up with a whipped cream topping.

Blend 1/2 cup heavy cream (whipped) with a teaspoon grated lime rind and a half teaspoon of sherry. Enough for 2 to 3 servings. With a tray of fancy sandwiches, it's a perfect "ladies luncheon" menu.

Cereal Can Turn Into Curry Go-With

Barbecuing spareribs? Count on at least three pounds of the ribs to serve four.

Smoked Picnic Requires More Cooking Than Ham

Easily confused because of their similarity in both shape and flavor, smoked picnic and smoked ham are different cuts of meat. Meat cut from the shoulder section is called picnic, while meat from the leg is ham, the American Meat Institute explains. Although both meats are baked in a 225 degree F oven, smoked picnic should be cooked slightly longer than ham for best flavor and tenderness.

Bake a whole cook-before-eating smoked picnic to an internal temperature of 170 degrees (between 30 to 35 minutes per pound). A fully cooked picnic may be served cold or reheated in a 225 degree oven to an internal temperature of 130 degrees (14 minutes per pound).

Troops Set Up Strong Points

Hope in Bulawayo Riots

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Officials held some hope today that anti white rioting in Negro townships of Bulawayo was on the wane after three days of violence, in which at least nine Negroes were killed and 188 injured.

European and African troops managed to establish a number of tactical strong points in the African areas of the city. The rioters had drunk all the bottled beer and wine that had helped fuel their orgy of violence and burning.

Most of the dead were believed victims of police firing on gangs of rioters who attacked them as they made sorties into the African townships. At least one of the dead was battered to death by rioters enforcing a work boycott.

6 KILLED TUESDAY

Six persons were killed Tuesday, the bloodiest day since violence erupted Sunday in protest against the racial policies of the white-dominated South Rhodesian government. Negro groups charge that the government, while preaching a policy of race partnership, is actually practicing the white supremacy tactics of neighboring South Africa's government.

The rioting was touched off by the arrest of the leaders of the militant National Democratic party.

(The crisis in the British colony raised grave concern in London. The House of Commons met through the night to discuss the situation.)

Congo Heads Get Personal Aid From U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba of the Congo and his aides, reportedly short of money for their North American visit, were said today to be getting personal financial help from the United Nations.

The young republican ran into financial difficulties after it became independent of Belgian rule June 30.

There was no confirmation, however, of a report that Lumumba and his party of 18 left Leopoldville last week with only $20 among them.

Mike Hove, an African legislator from the ruling Federal party, estimated that less than one percent of the 100,000 Africans in the townships had had any hand in the riots.

"Africans are as appalled as Europeans at what has happened and are ready to band together to bring the mobsters to book," he said.

Congo Premier Appeals to U.S. for Economic Aid

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congo's Premier Patrice Lumumba arrives today amid full military honors to appeal for emergency U.S. economic and technical help for his crisis-ridden, near-bankrupt government.

Administration leaders arranged to give him a friendly reception plus promises of aid via the United Nations—in his struggle to keep his 27-day-old republic alive as an independent African nation.

At the start of a hastily-arranged two-day visit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was due to meet the Congolese African leader at the airport at mid-afternoon along with a welcoming Army band and a military honor guard.

Lumumba, who only last week was talking of asking Russian help to oust Belgian troops from the Congo, was to meet officially with Herter and top administration aides later today as a follow-up to his New York meetings with U.N. officials.

He will be an honor guest during his stay, residing at the government's Blair House. He is to mix some sightseeing with his official call, including a talk with representatives of the World Bank, who might help ease his government's financial plight.

African ambassadors have arranged a dinner and a big diplomatic reception in his honor, to demonstrate their backing for the new independent African nation to emerge from colonialism.

Lumumba's arrival coincided with an appeal from his finance minister back in Leopoldville for money and doctors to help restore essential services in the Congo.

He said that between 8 and 10 million dollars are urgently needed to meet government payrolls in August and to keep the government from collapsing in new riot and disorder.

Top State Department officials surveyed the virtual economic and government paralysis in the Congo, have concluded that financial aid, backed by several hundred million dollars in economic assistance, may be required if the U.N. Man Threatens Ex-Wife, Police

Troopers Captured but Saved by Members of State Force

WAYLAND (AP)—Two State Police troopers were captured and disarmed last night by a man who threatened to shoot his ex-wife in the head if they did not surrender.

They were rescued by fellow officers.

Troopers George Hein and Larry Olmstead went to the home of Mrs. Agnes Terpstra in nearby Moline to answer a family trouble call.

Mrs. Terpstra said her former son-in-law, Richard Childs, 27, of Wyoming was threatening her daughter Rose, 20, who had divorced Childs recently.

Hein and Olmstead said that when they arrived they found Childs and his ex-wife in the backyard. They said that as they approached Childs seized the woman, held a .45 caliber revolver against her head and told them, "Drop your guns or I'll blow her head off."

The officers surrendered their guns and then were herded into the house where Mrs. Terpstra, who had been watching from a window, had just managed to telephone the police again.

Cpl. John Graham and Trooper Paul Ruge arrived shortly afterward. They carried a rifle and a riot gun. They went into the house and Childs, still threatening to shoot his wife, told them to drop their weapons.

Instead Graham began to plead with Childs and when the man's attention was distracted Ruge jumped him and took his gun away. During the struggle Childs' revolver discharged once but the bullet struck no one.

Childs was subdued and taken to the Wayland post. Officers said he probably would be charged today.

'Dutch' Party All Right

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother has been asked to be the best man at a friend's wedding. He would like to give a bachelor party for the bridegroom in a private room of a very nice restaurant here in town.

He wants to make it a "Dutch treat" dinner. That is, he is planning to ask all the men invited to contribute ten dollars. Part of this money is to go toward the payment of the dinner and the remainder is to go toward a purse for the bridegroom.

I told him that I didn't think it was proper for him to invite these men to a party and then ask them to pay for their own dinners, and that he gave the party it was up to him to pay for it.

He thinks it is perfectly all right to do as he suggests as he cannot afford to give the party alone. Please give me your opinion of this as I don't want him to be criticized later for having done the wrong thing.

Answer: If the men that are invited agree to the "Dutch treat" dinner and to the amount each is to contribute, no one will criticize your brother for having organized it. Any money left over should be used to buy a present for the bridegroom and not given to him as a purse.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am badly crippled with arthritis and it is very difficult for me to get up. When a woman is presented to me, would I be considered very rude if I did not rise?

Answer: You need do no more than start to get up and then if the woman doesn't sense your difficulty and say, "Oh please don't get up," you may quite properly say with a smile, "I'm very sorry, but getting up is so difficult for me."

Dear Mrs. Post: When a group of women go out to dinner and they have one drink at the bar while waiting for a table, is it a tip to the bartender in order?

Answer: Yes.

Mothers Compare Notes on Same-Age Babies

One year ago five area women became good friends while awaiting the birth of their babies at Pontiac General Hospital. Later, when each was presented a pink baby girl bundle, the mothers decided to keep in touch with one another to observe their infants' development. Tuesday the group got together for a pleasant afternoon of teeth, hair, weight, shoe size and first word comparing.

Carole Lombard Back in Style?

Fickle Fashion Foils Females

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor

PARIS (UPI) — We women no sooner get our hemlines all taken up than, whoops, Paris hauls 'em down again. And just about the time we get our psyches adjusted to the rush of the 1960s, Paris pushes us back into the leisurely pace of the 1930s. Fickle fashion, in other words, is at it again—off on a new cycle which this year means a lot of return to the old.

So look for skirts one to two inches longer than last year and to the revival of the sleek, straight hairdos, the hair-covering hats, the wrap-around coats, and the loosely-fitted silhouette of the pre-World War II days when Carole Lombard instead of Brigitte Bardot was setting styles.

These were among the fall and winter fashion trends which developed on the opening day of a week-long series of shows by members of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne (The Union of Parisian Dress Designers).

Shown Tuesday: A batch of old-timers in this big business of women's wear, Pierre Balmain, Jacques Heim, president of the chambre, Nina Ricci, and Gres.

Designer Pierre Cardin, who once was with the house of Christian Dior, was yesterday's strongest exponent of the longer skirts and the return to an era which many of you reading this are too young to remember.

Cardin dropped hemlines about two inches from last year's level so the knee-cap is amply covered, Jacques Griffe and Jean Patou were more cautious, lowering their hemline only to one inch.

Shoulders were natural. Dresses and suits (with hip-bone length jackets) skimmed over the body lightly, never hugging too closely. Waistlines were not sharply-defined, but indicated with scallop insets or intricate seaming.

Most daytime costumes of the new season continued the slim skirt. But watch for gentle flare and there.

Both Cardin and Patou featured the wrap-around look for fall. Several of the Cardin coats not only had to be clutched together at the front to keep out winter breezes, but also had huge, fur-trimmed collars wrapped high and close about the neck.

Patou's head designer, German-born Roland Kari, carried the wrap-around theme right from suits through late day and formal clothes. Favorite technique was the wrap-around skirts, with one layer of fabric overlying another smoothly.

Touches of the 1930's showed at Jacques Griffe's. Lines of the costume followed the body naturally, the firm said, obeying what the texture of the fabric itself demanded.

Adequate Light Means a Lot at Beauty Time

To insure beautiful and flawless results when making-up, your face should be flooded with light as you apply your various beauty requisites.

According to a beauty authority unless you can see every stroke of make-up that you apply, and are able to see the colors in their true shades, your make-up application will fall short of perfection.

If you are making-up for daytime, apply your requisites near a window where the light steams in to guide you. If this is not convenient, light up your dressing table with bright daylight electric lights and check the results in front of a window before going out.

Snip, Snip, Snip and Dior Shows the Kneecaps

PARIS (U) — Designer Yves Saint Laurent of Dior dropped a fashion bomb today by chopping skirts off short enough to show the kneecap and dropping the waistline nearly to the bottom of the hips.

Busts were flattened and waists swallowed up.

The line was basically a sack, or chemise, with a low-slung bag tucked on at the bottom.

Jackets, too, were dropped drastically to the bottom of the hip, where gathered-on melon skirts took over. Skirts were moderately tucked in at the hem, which usually hit mid-knee level.

Saint Laurent did not baptize his new shape with a name, but it looked a bit like a bomb or elongated melon. It always hung on a long, slack mid-way top.

Barbecue Honors Fiancee

Joan Barbara Pierce of Birmingham is on a busy party circuit before her marriage to James Bradley Ryse.

Guests at Sunday's outdoor barbecue luncheon given by Sandra Thraen of Birmingham and Betty Seymour of Pontiac included many former classmates of the bride-elect at Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Roy Jackson invited members of the Maranatha Bible Class of the First Baptist Church to a shower Thursday evening at her home on Eastwood street.

Saint Laurent did not baptize his new shape with a name, but it looked a bit like a bomb or elongated melon. It always hung on a long, slack mid-way top.

Hosts for the rehearsal dinner Thursday, Aug. 4, in Ted's Restaurant, Bloomfield Hills, will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryse of Ophyle road, parents of the bridegroom-elect.

Mrs. Paul Carey of Bloomfield Township has been named honor matron for the Aug. 6 wedding in the First Methodist Church, Birmingham.

Betty Jo Fitzpatrick, Betty Seymour and Sandra Thraen will serve as bridesmaids.

Guests from the Pontiac area, Detroit and Columbus, Ga., are expected to attend. At 10 a.m. that morning in

Fete Millers' 30th Year

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Ots H. Miller of Howe court, Waterford, have been invited to the couple's 33rd wedding anniversary open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Guests from the Pontiac area, Detroit and Columbus, Ga., are expected to attend. At 10 a.m. that morning in St. Benedict Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. Robert F. Wyzanski will officiate at a blessing of the wedding.

Following the Saturday affair, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will begin a two-week motor trip to Florida where they will vacation with Mrs. Miller's father, former Pontiac resident Frank Bertoli of Lakeshire.

Displays Garb of Past White House Women

Fashion Show Honors First Lady Mamie

CHICAGO (AP)—First Lady Mamie Eisenhower, after a Republican convention, arrived today at a showing of historic fashions of past GOP occupants of the White House.

She is the guest of honor at a "Great Ladies" luncheon, a gala social event of the GOP convention.

It was much publicized, rehearsed and even previewed on television before the actual production today before some 2,000 women.

The display included a replica of Mrs. Eisenhower's Renoir pink inaugural halter, with 2,000 glittering pink rhinestones, modeled by attractive Mrs. William Straiton, wife of the governor of Illinois.

CAREFULLY COPIED

The gowns, representing the 12 first ladies of Republican presidents from 1860 to 1960, were careful copies of actual dresses now on display in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

It has been estimated the copying job cost $25,000. It was done by Mme. Barbara Karinska, who has costumed the New York City Ballet.

With professional staging and amateur models—all prominent GOP wives—the showing included narration by Arlene Dahl and Wendell Corey.

Such care was taken in the planning of the affair that Mrs. Styles Bridges, wife of the New Hampshire senator, even was wearing a University of Vermont sorority pin like one Grace Coolidge wore. Mrs. Bridges was modeling the dusty rose velvet short flapper-era dress of Mrs. Coolidge.

Mrs. Lawrence Averill of Detroit, in the same sorority chapter as Mrs. Coolidge, provided her pin for Mrs. Bridges' costume.

The dresses are considered so elegant and historic that they will go on tour of the United States from here and may be presented to a museum later.

SPECIAL WALTZ

Mrs. C. Weyland Brooks, Illinois national committeewoman and official convention hostess, spent months setting up the affair featuring a specially composed "Great Lady Waltz" and a luncheon menu including mint julep frappe, festival of chicken and a dessert described as "american bombe, illuminated on parade."

Summer Apples Taste Fine in Flaky Strudel

By JANET OBEIL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Now that summer apples are in the stores you might like to make Apple Strudel. This is a yummy pastry that goes well with coffee any time.

Mrs. Anthony Goryl, today's cook, has five children, including a baby only two months old. She enjoys gardening and sewing.

APPLE STRUDEL

By Mrs. Anthony Goryl

1/2 pint sour cream
3 egg yolks
1 package dry yeast
1 cup warm water
1 cup sifted flour
1 pound margarine
Cut margarine and flour together until crumbly. Add sour cream and slightly beaten yolks. Dissolve yeast in warm water and add. Work together like pie crust. Chill overnight.

Take one-third of the dough and roll very thin on a floured board. Lay on a greased cookie sheet. The dough MUST be larger than the pan to allow for shrinkage.

Sprinkle dough with a couple of handfuls of corn flakes. Cut peeled apples into 1/4-inch wedges and cover all the dough. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar mixed with cinnamon. Dot with bits of margarine.

Fold the dough to meet in the center of the pan like the back of an envelope. Bake 35 to 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Cool and glaze with a mixture of confectioners sugar and milk. Cut into bars. You may keep the dough in the refrigerator for a week.

Tots Are Tasters

Children are explorers and like to taste things they find. They may sample aspirin, laxative, sedatives, rubbing alcohol, liniment, furniture polish, paint and insecticides. Home economists suggest parents take special precautions to store harmful materials out of baby's reach.

Notables Discuss Hats

A quick look around the glossy advertising, publishing and fashion firms in any big city bears out this view. It's easy to spot the boss lady—she's the one wearing the hat. Some prominent women in and out of New York recently aired their views on the subject of hats:

Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, lawyer and secretary of state for New York: "Choosing the right hat to go with a costume, gives me almost as much satisfaction as winning a case in court."

Dorothy Draper, noted decorator: "I like the well-groomed effect of a hat planned to go with an outfit. I wear my hat in the office all day, so as not to spoil the effect."

Alexandra Danilova, ballerina and choreographer: "I always choose a dramatic hat for a lecture date. I even wear a hat while directing rehearsals."

Joan Crawford, business executive and movie star: "I couldn't imagine dressing for the day and leaving off a hat. Hats are the very spice and life of a costume. That's why I wear my hat in the office—taking it off would spoil the complete effect I created so carefully that morning."

"The dress and hat are a unit, and neither should detract from the other. I interpret this rule by wearing a simple hat with an elaborate costume and gay flowered hats with simple outfits."

Mrs. T. Marko Robertson, society leader: "A hat is an exclamation point to what you are trying to say about yourself. I like hats so well that I pick the hat first and then the outfit to go with it."

Ann Sothern, TV and movie star: "I don't think anything else a woman wears has more subtle appeal than a hat."

Gossip Disperses Milady's Charm; Breeds Sorrow

(NEA) — If you would like to check on the degree of charm you possess, ask yourself some questions:

Am I a gossip? Am I nosy? Do I pry into the affairs of others? Do I ask questions which are none of my business? Do I distort the scraps of information I pick up when I retell them?

If the answer to any of these questions is yes, better give charm a low rating. For no woman who is a gossip ever possesses a large degree of charm.

In back of her eagerness to gossip lies an envy of the activities of others, coupled generally with a real dislike. Such a woman is no warmhearted friend of humanity. Rather, she is busy peering and pecking, trying to discover the little flaws in human nature.

Of course, this activity doesn't make her very happy. And her discontent is always reflected in the tight little lines about mouth and eyes. If this is happening to you, ask yourself if what you are doing to yourself is worth it.

What Leads to Loneliness?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is surprising that so many folks live in the midst of society surrounded by all sorts of people in today's crowded life, without ever mixing or making friends. Yet there are thousands of these lonely folks everywhere. Why is this? What attitudes or circumstances lead to this situation?

Sometimes ill health or financial strain or deep emotional stress are the underlying factors. Any of these may cause a person to pull into his shell much like an animal which is very sick may hide away in a dark corner.

Sometimes we must let our wounds alone before again meeting the world head on. We may need time for adjustment before the pieces of life again fall into place. However, even this, when carried too far, is a handicap to recovery. Work and human contact are the best of all medicines and bring life back into focus.

Certainly financial strain should not cause you to lose track of your friends or to fail to make friends. Your real friends will still be there, and all real people appreciate the thought rather than the elaborate-ness of the entertainment. The others really do not matter!

A visit or a telephone call or a note or some thoughtfulness which costs nothing but a bit of perception, are the things which warm the heart. A cup of tea offered with sincere and enthusiastic hospitality is as cherished as a four-course dinner, by those who count.

I think, actually, that most lonely folks are that way because they are timid about making the first gesture toward friendship. They wait for the world to come to them. If you are lonely, if you do not have enough friends, don't be afraid to make the first gracious gesture.

It is impossible to contribute generously to the lives of those about one in ways that really count without having friends. If you have a sensitive attitude, drop it. Come out of your shell. Make the first gesture and watch the miracle happen!

If you need some psychological suggestions to help you, my leader, "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self-Consciousness" will help you. If you wish to have it, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 30. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Daughter's Welfare Rates Before Trust

By RUTH MILLETT

The only boys who won't date a teen-age girl because her parents are "strict" are the kind she shouldn't be dating, anyhow.

That's my answer to a teen-age reader who thinks her parents are "strict" are the kind she shouldn't be dating, anyhow.

She writes: "Most of my friends can do as they please because their parents trust them. Half of the time their parents aren't even home when they have dates and they certainly don't think they have to meet the boy."

"They can come in any time they please, too, because their mothers don't let up for them and don't know when they get in. Don't think my parents are old-fashioned and unreasonable."

No, nor will you, when you are old enough to appreciate their concern for your welfare and to be grateful for the love that prompts them to do what they know is right instead of taking the easy way of letting you do as you please—as some of your friends' parents do.

No decent boy is going to think less of you for such parental concern and supervision. In fact, most of the boys you meet will have more respect for you because your parents obviously cherish you enough to try and protect you.

There's another thing you ought to know. Your parents aren't showing any lack of trust in you by wanting to meet your dates and wanting to know where you are going and by wanting you home at a reasonable hour.

That's their duty as parents—just as it is your duty as their daughter to not only respect their wishes but to try to appreciate their loving concern.

Paint Buying Tip

(UPI) — When selecting a paint color from a small paint chip, remember that the color will look deeper when it is used on a larger area like a wall. For that reason, choose a color that is a bit lighter than the one on the chip.

Pore Thing, See a Doctor, Says Abby

Girl's in a Sweat Over Perspiration

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know this isn't the worst problem in the world, but it's had enough to write about.

I belong to a family of champion "perspirers," my mother walks around the house with a dish towel tucked in her belt because she perspires so much. Last week we went to a neighbor's home to play cards and they said, "Let's use the old cards."

ABBY: Gerlie gets them all wet anyway. My kid brother doesn't dance because his hands sweat so bad. And I won't let a boy hold my hand for the same reason. My homework papers get blurred and crinkly if I'm not careful. Is there a cure for this? Or are we all hopeless?

DEAR ABBY: Perspiration seems to run in your family. Sweat glands become overactive when emotions are supercharged.

Discuss it with your family doctor. Perhaps he can give you something to control it. If he can't, try to forget it—it's a problem you simply have to sweat with.

DEAR ABBY: What do you say to a teen-age daughter who looks at you with hate, in her eyes and says she doesn't owe you anything because she didn't ask to be born?

HEARTICK: MOTHER ASKS to be born. What children "owe" their parents for the gift of life is never repaid to the parents. It is passed on instead to THEIR children.

DEAR ABBY: Please advise "CUCKOO MYSELF" that if she orders a cuckoo clock for her relatives through her husband who is stationed in Germany, she will certainly be cuckoo.

A serviceman purchasing goods in a foreign country must sign a statement that the purchase is a bona fide gift (he has a quota of such gifts, too) in order to get it duty-free. He may not send things home to sell.

If he is caught breaking these regulations, he is subject to either or all the following penalties:

Court Martial
$5,000 fine
That's a pretty stiff price to pay for any kind of clock.

"COVERSEAS AND NOT CUCKOO"

NEIGHBOR WHO IS WISE TO HER? A new broom sweeps clean. Buy one. And start with your own doorstep.

"What's Your Problem?" Write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of The Pontiac Press.

GOP Aided by Woman of Monroe

Mrs. Gibson Heads National Party Club; Leads Female Work

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than two million women will be campaigning helpmates for the Republican ticket, Mrs. Peter Gibson, president of the National Federation of Republican Women has predicted.

Mrs. Gibson has been a volunteer worker for the Republican Party for more than 20 years.

The Monroe, Mich., woman began her political career in 1938 by collecting absentee votes. She worked her way through the ranks as a precinct worker, then "it" of the local women's group—she club and delegate to two national conventions.

In 1958 she was appointed by President Eisenhower to serve on the Advisory Commission.

In addition to her political interests, Catherine Gibson has worked in various positions with the Eastern Star, the Rainbow Girls, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Business and Professional Women.

300,000 MEMBERS
She is head of an organization boasting a membership of about 300,000.

"Women," she said, "want peace more than anything else in 1960. And they'll vote for an administration that will work for peace."

She said the Eisenhower administration "secured that peace with the cessation of the Korean war."

Furthermore, she said, "The Republicans ensured a more stable prosperity, leveled off prices, and brought sons and loved ones home."

Mrs. Gibson said she is proud of the distaff attendance and participation in this week's GOP convention.

She said the 929 women delegates and alternates at the convention represent a record for either party.

And of that number, she said, more than 90 per cent are members of the Federation.

Beware the Wild Nail Polish Shade

(NEA) — Originally, the idea behind nail polish was to lend the hands a jewel-like look through the contrast of pink or rosy-red to white skin.

We've come a long distance since then. But our skin tones have not changed. So before you consider brown, blue, beige or white polish, consider your own skin tones.

Does beige polish really enhance your skin? Or does it make your hands look sailow? Unless a new polish shade really does something for you, best stick to the rosy tones.

Don't Strain Eyes

MAKE-UP FOR A SUN TAN

Don't try to follow your usual pattern of applying make-up once you have a sun tan. To achieve the clear and cool fresh look for summer, use a very light touch. Start with a makeup cream used sparingly. Add a bit of tinted foundation and top with pressed powder. Foundation and powder of a shade nearest your sun tanned face of course. Shape your brows well and tweeze out the stragglers as always. Use a brush after swimming to reshape your brows. Fill in lightly but not dramatically. Choose your lipstick in a fresh coral shade. Avoid blue-red lipsticks until your tan has faded.

If beauty sleep is hard to come by on nights, try this soothing, cooling ritual: Before retiring, take a leisurely bath in tepid, neither hot nor cold, water. Dry by patting

Six County Offices Sought by Nine Dems

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Nine Democratic candidates seeking six local county offices have the primary spotlight all to themselves while six unopposed Republican incumbents watch from the sidelines.

As in 1958, the nomination race for prosecutor is about the only contest that has enlivened the usually uninteresting scene.

Two Bloomfield Township neighbors are after the Democratic nomination for prosecutor, and one of them is campaigning as though he's in the Nov. 5 election.

In an exchange of letters and public appearances, George J. Fulkerson, a 35-year-old Birmingham attorney, has criticized Republican incumbent George F. Taylor for not sufficiently carrying out the duties of his $13,500-a-year job.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE?

This type of campaigning—in which Fulkerson has a family behind him nearly as large as that which won Sen. John F. Kennedy the presidential nomination—is usually reserved until after the primary.

Prosecutor by judicial appointment since December, Taylor refuses Fulkerson's charges, among them that Taylor "mis-handling" a 1958 gambling conspiracy case and isn't protecting the public from business frauds.

Taylor likes to point out the benefits of his "Off the Record Court" whereby juveniles escape criminal records for minor non-violence offenses.

Staying out of the crossfire is Fulkerson's opponent for the nomination, Alvin S. Rappaport, 46-year-old attorney and former chief civilian administrator for the War Department during World War II. Twice an unsuccessful candidate for the Birmingham Board of Education, Fulkerson was one of the first to enter the county race in January. He received the backing of his Bloomfield Democratic Club. In a crusade to get his neighbors to back him, Fulkerson believed he had Rappaport's good will. Much to his surprise, several weeks later he found his neighbor to be his opponent.

It's been some time since the GOP incumbent team has had a primary with no opposition whatsoever.

And it's been some time—longer than they wish to recall—that Oakland Democrats have been able to unseat the courthouse officeholders.

Franklin E. Morris, presently a Ferndale attorney—has the honor with his party. He was prosecutor last in 1958.

SEE TIDE TURNING

Local Democrats see the tide turning. They cite figures showing GOP winning margins narrowing over the years.

They've returned two 1958 nominees to the primary years in an attempt to loosen the GOP stranglehold.

One, John E. Kronenberg, 37, manager of the Berkley secretary of state's office, faces some strong opposition if he is to grab off the nomination a second time.

This competition comes from David S. Lees, 43-year-old Troy salesman for a food service company and former troubleshooter for Local 42 of the Office Employees International Union (AFL-CIO) as well as international representative of the Seafarers International Union (AFL-CIO).

With this background, Lees easily won endorsement of the Oakland County AFL-CIO and a "qualified" tag from a splinter group of the county Democratic Committee headed by Mrs. Harriett Phillips of Huntington Woods.

Kronenberg opposes it as being a special interest group for labor. Its existence is expected to play a role in the outcome of the primary and November balloting.

SECOND IS UNOPPOSED

The second nominee of two years ago is William K. Benson, 51-year-old Ford Motor Co. millwright from Rochester. Benson is unopposed in the primary for the office of county treasurer.

And well he might be, for his fight will come in November when he tries again to unseat the grand daddy of the Republican ticket—Charles A. Sparks, who has held the office of treasurer consecutively since 1933.

The Democratic race for county sheriff takes on a new light this year. George B. Hicks is not in the contest as nominee as he was in 1952, 1954, 1956 and two years ago.

Unopposed for the nomination is Homer Hight, 53, an Oxford auto dealer and for 20 years a plant protection officer for Pontiac Motor Division.

The candidate served a year as a deputy under former Sheriff Frank Schray.

He has three years (1954-57) on the Oxford Village Council. This is Hight's only other attempt at winning a public office.

He will oppose Sheriff Frank W. Irons this fall. Irons, former Berkley chief of police, has been sheriff since 1955.

In the third two-man Democratic race for one of the six county office nominations, an elementary school teacher from Hazel Park and a civil engineer from Pontiac Township are vying for the drain commissioner nomination.

Both making their first bids for public office, they are Sol Plafkin, 38, and Roy J. Russell, 39, in the Ypsilanti Daily Press in 1955 and 1956.

a Birmingham firm of consulting civil engineers and land surveyors. The winner will go against Daniel W. Barry, drain commissioner, on Nov. 5.

Plafkin said he learned the drainage problem of a community when he served as city hall reporter for the Ypsilanti Daily Press in 1955 and 1956.

He says what the county needs in the office he's seeking is "a secretary-general of a small United Nations." The county is losing millions of dollars due to the Republican incumbent's failure to unite cities and townships in area-wide projects such as the "17-Town Drain," he said.

Russell calls for a "fair and equitable apportionment of costs for drain improvement assessments, based 100 per cent on benefits derived from said improvements."

Plafkin also makes this a point of his platform.

Last comes the less-known office of county surveyor.

The Democratic nomination is already in the grasp of Stanley F. Dunn, 43-year-old engineer with the Chrysler Corp. and treasurer of the Bloomfield Democratic Club. He is unopposed.

He'll match votes in November with Ralph S. Main, surveyor since 1956 and former drain commissioner.

Fights Rail Transport Loss

Kent County Looks Ahead, to Build a New Airport

GRAND RAPIDS (U.S.)—A community which serves as the industrial and commercial hub of Western Michigan determined recently it would not lose this distinction.

Grand Rapids, the core city of Kent county, faced a continuing drop in railroad transportation and the inadequacy of its airport. To meet the problem, Kent County voters June 7 approved construction of a $6,997,000 airport—one of the most modern facilities in the nation.

Grand Rapids, on the coast of Michigan, is off the beaten path with respect to highway and railroad travel. Air transportation, it was decided, is the city's only direct link with other manufacturing centers in the country.

Kent County Airport officials asked expert advice on improving its position in air transportation. The Federal Aviation Agency suggested the county give consideration to moving to another location.

NEW SITE USED

Consultants, among the finest in the nation, recommended Kent County abandon its 40-acre site in a congested area and build an airport in Cascade Township, a residential-farm area southeast of Grand Rapids.

The Cascade site consists of 1,900 acres surrounded by rolling farmland instead of congested residential districts, schools, churches and factories.

It is 11 1/2 miles from downtown. The new U.S. 16 expressway is just one mile away and the trip can be made in 20 minutes or less to the heart of Grand Rapids.

Exhaustive cost surveys showed the new airport would require expenditures totaling $6,997,000, and that the cost to Kent County taxpayers would be $3,750,000. Federal and state grants would cover the balance.

To finance the local cost it was decided to ask voters to approve a general obligation bond issue. The bonds were to be retired by levying two-fifths of a mill for 17 years.

It also was determined that the county would realize about two million dollars from the sale of the present airport which would be used to retire the bonds.

The airport and financing program were not put over without a fight. Opponents strongly denounced any talk of relocating the facility and denied the improvement could be accomplished within the financial structure proposed.

GENEVA—The world malaria case total has been cut in half, from 300,000,000 to 150,000,000 cases per year in the 12 years since the World Health Organization began fighting it.

State Collects Yearly Fee

Deadline on Registration Near for Airplane Owners

LANSING (UPI)—Airplane owners in Michigan have until Sunday to register their craft with the State Aeronautics Department.

But no long line—such as the ones that form for automobile licenses—are expected to form. The department expects more than 3,100 registrations to come in by mail.

"Registration serves the same purpose for aircraft owners that licensing does for cars," said Fred L. Waite, director of operations for the Aeronautics Department.

"The plane owners are relieved of the personal property tax on their aircraft."

MAXIMUM $80

Fees range from $1.50 for a special experimental model to a maximum of $80 for any size aircraft.

Owners pay one-half cent a pound empty weight. The smallest standard craft costs $3.50 to register, officials said.

The airplane must be airworthy before it can be registered.

Federal regulations call for inspections and specify conditions that constitute airworthiness.

An airworthiness certificate from the U. S. government is accepted as proof for state purposes, Waite said.

"We do send out a question card that brings in general information on what type equipment a plane has," he said.

HELPS PLAN FUTURE

"This helps us in planning for the future development of aviation throughout the state. It also tells us the size of the plane and the airport where it is kept," he said.

"It means we could pick up the airplane at a moment's notice and use it in case of an emergency."

The number of planes registered has been growing at the rate of about 150 to 175 aircraft a year for the last several years, he said.

The compilation for the 1959-60 flying year—just compiled from the information cards received last year—showed some 308,557 hours of business flying and 367,500 hours of pleasure flying in Michigan.

Officials said the figures might not be too accurate because of breakdowns in the reporting system—but the ratio was about right and was expected to hold true for the 1959-60 flying year.

Sentence Twosome for Abandoning Child

MOUNT CLEMENS — A young couple was sentenced to prison Monday for abandoning its four-month-old son on the front lawn of a St. Clair Shores home May 27. James Collins, 29, was sentenced to one to four years in prison. His wife, Ruth, 20, got six months for four years in the Detroit House of Correction. Police traced a towel used to wrap the child, John Patrick, to his parents. The boy had been left on the lawn of Kenneth Metcalf, 40.

Weak Civil Rights Plank Will Cost GOP Support

DETROIT (UPI) — A weak civil rights plank will cost the Republican Party Negro support, leaders of Detroit and Michigan branches of the National Assn. For the Advancement of Colored People warned the GOP platform committee. A telegram sent to the convention by the NAACP expressed "very deep concern about efforts of the Republican party to adopt a weak civil rights platform."

Officials Angry
Snead Misses Eastern Open and Causes Stir

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sam Snead, an aristocrat of the golfing circuit from the West Virginia hills, found himself involved today in a big-city squabble.

The 45-year-old Slammar, a former Eastern Open winner, ruffled tournament officials by announcing he plans to skip the 11th annual event starting at the Pine Ridge course Thursday.

Two other top-name players and former winners here, Arnold Palmer and Art Wall Jr., joined Snead in bypassing the Eastern. All three have scheduled exhibitions in nearby Pennsylvania and Virginia while the tournament is in progress.

While the controversy picked up steam, Snead walked calmly into the scene and dangled.

"I don't know why they're objecting to a match in Philadelphia. How many Eastern Open spectators do they expect to have from Philadelphia?"

Mr. Kovens, general chairman of the tourney, has opposed the exhibitions scheduled by the missing stars and contended the Eastern would be played in today's event. But PGA tourney director Ed Carter is reported angry with the Eastern Open committee for allowing Snead to play in today's event. It was felt this ruined any case against the players skipping the regular tournament.

Other players grumbled privately.

Larry Gains 5-3 Win Over Nats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A comeback from behind 3-1 triumph over the Senators last night put the Detroit Tigers into a tie for fifth place with Washington in the American League race.

Detroit spotted Washington a three-run lead in the opening inning and then rallied with the help of ninth-inning relief pitching from Clem Labine.

Frank Lary was riding along on a five-hitter until Jim Lemon and Billy Gardner opened the sixth with singles.

Labine came in to strike out Harmon Killebrew. An infield error advanced Lemon and Gardner but Labine got Elmer Valo to ground out and end the game.

Lary got the victory, his ninth of the year and his fifth over Washington this season.

The triumph was sweet revenge over Washington hurler Pedro Ramos who lost his 11th game against six wins. His last time out against Detroit, Ramos pitched a one-hit shutout game.

Rocky Colavito hit his 21st homer for the Tigers with Neal Chisley shorted in the fourth to reduce Detroit's deficit to 3-2 and the Tigers went ahead 4-3 in the sixth on singles by Colavito, Norm Cash and Lou Berberet, an error and Chico Fernandez' sacrifice fly.

A homer from Gardner, his sixth for the Senators, with one on featured Washington's three-run burst in the opening inning.

The Tigers caught Ramos in the eighth on singles by Frank Bolling, Berberet and Fernandez.

Both teams are 8½ games back of the top spot in the league and four full games out of the first division.

Pete Burnside will pit his 5-5 record against unbeaten John Kralick in the teams' encounter tonight. Kralick has won all four of his decisions this year.

Detroit got Hank Foiles and Harry Chitti from the Kansas City Athletics in a shuffle that sent infielder Rocky Bridges and catcher Red Wilson to Cleveland.

Rick Ferrell, assistant to Tiger president Bill DeWitt said the deal yesterday was only the start of a shake-up designed to jolt the Tigers out of their sixth-place rut.

"We can't do anything right now with the core of our club because we're limited to waiver deals," Ferrell said. "But we have more than two months of the season left and that's enough time to get something going. This race isn't over yet."

It was not immediately disclosed whether Kansas City picked up a player in the deal but the Indians said they had placed Johnny Briggs on waivers and he had been claimed by another team, possibly the Athletics.

Indian general manager Frank Lane said in New York that the deal was prompted by the loss of Woody Held, Cleveland's regular shortstop. Held broke a finger July 18.

"We needed an experienced shortstop," Lane said, "and Joe Gordon was anxious to get Bridges. We realized that he was the best available." Lane said the deal was made "on getting Foiles in any deal we made."

Bridges, 32, has spent most of this season on the bench although he was the regular Tiger shortstop last season and batted .268 in 116 games.

Foiles, 31, moved to Cleveland from Pittsburgh last month. He is hitting .307 and could replace Lou Berberet, currently batting .180 as Detroit's front line receiver.

Chitti, 28, will also be available for the first string catcher's job. Last year he batted .268 in 116 games as Kansas City's regular catcher but he has been on the bench much of the time in the past month.

Chitti currently is batting .222 with five home runs and 28 runs scored in 30 games. He has a .200 average.

Lane noted that he signed Wilson, 32, to a contract with the Cleveland White Sox eight years ago. "I know something about Red Wilson," he said.

Briggs has won four games and lost two with Cleveland this season. He has a .446 earned run average. The team which claimed Briggs was not disclosed. Lane said, because waivers don't expire until Saturday.

Law Keeps Pirates Moving

By the Associated Press

The stubborn Pittsburgh Pirates aren't going to walk the plank for anybody. At least not as long as Vern Law can beat the St. Louis Cardinals practically blindfolded.

And not a long as Elroy Face can right a listing ship.

The Cards rocked Law with a pair of two-run homers in the seventh inning Tuesday night, but he survived the inning with a 5-4 lead that turned out to be the final score as Pittsburgh stayed a half game ahead of Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

The victory was Law's 13th, making him the biggest winner in the majors.

It was also his 10th straight over St. Louis, which hasn't beaten him since June 24, 1958.

But when the Cards acted up on reliever Fred Green in the eighth, Face salted the victory with a double play ball and then a 1-2-3 job in the ninth for his 15th save among the Pirates' 53 triumphs.

Milwaukee, too, had it in the bullpen, as Ron Piche saved his seventh for the Braves, who beat the Giants 3-1 at San Francisco. Carl Willey (5-4) was the winner on a five-hitter, but Piche had to wipe out the side in the ninth after the Giants rocked Willey with a homer and a single.

Cincinnati's Bob Purkey (10-6) pitched the only complete winning game in the league, a four-hitter that topped the Dodgers 4-1 at Los Angeles. Dick Farrell had to bail out Robby Roberts (1-9) to nail down the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3, come-from-behind victory at Chicago.

The Pirates got over the clenching run in the top of the seventh when Bill Mazeroski singled and pinch-hitter Bill Virdon hit his sixth homer. Law had a triple, his second of the year, in a three-run Pittsburgh outburst in the fourth against loser Curt Simmons (2-1).

Carl Sawatski and that pinch-hitter George Crowe, had the Cardinals, Crowe's extended his all-time pinch-hit homer record to 13.

The Braves' victory, their sixth straight over the Giants and their 11th in their last 13 games, prevented Sad Sam Jones (12-10) from matching Law's win record. Jones struck out 11 and didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning.

But in the seventh the Braves' Lee Maye singled through the box, stole second and came home on Johnny Logan's single. In the eighth, Eddie Mathews walked and went to third in Hank Aaron's single. Joe Adcock squeezed home Mathews and Aaron scored when Jim Marshall third wild trying to catch him at second.

Marshall homered to lead off the ninth, and Felipe Alou singled, but Piche moved in to get the Landrith on a fly, and pinch-hitters Dave Philley and Dale Long on ground balls.

Rookies Cliff Cook and Gordon Coleman, each playing in only his second game for Cincinnati, drove in a run apiece and veteran Frank Robinson hit homer No. 19

McIntire Upset in Amateur Golf

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The favorites showing up for the second round of the Women's Amateur Golf Tournament today didn't have too much room for overconfidence. All they had to do was glance back at Tuesday's first round in which Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., and Edith, Ind., shot down Barbara McIntire, the USGA and British Amateur champion, 1-up.

Miss Roth, the present Florida titlist, wasn't supposed to beat Miss McIntire. So Nancy fired and outgoing 2-under-par 34 for a 2-up lead and hung on for the victory.

Mrs. Anne Casey Johnstone, veteran Iowa champion from Mason City, eliminated Phyllis Preuss, Brighton, Mich., 3 and 2 in what was regarded as a mild upset. Miss Preuss, low amateur in the recent Women's Western Open, had tied for the qualifying medal with a 71.

Miss Roth's second round foe was Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., who ousted Lois Penn, Des Moines, Iowa, 2 and 6.

Area Boys Top Threats for U.S. Skeet Honors

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Late summer, and approach of the early fall outdoor season, find the area, state and national shotguns pointing for annual skeet and trap championship events.

It has been noted, almost everywhere the scattergunners congregate, that youngsters are burgeoning their way into the top divisions. The lists are filled, more than ever before, with capable, expert youthful performers. They are crowding the veterans, and it will take some exceptional efforts on the part of the old-timers to get a look-in at the big titles.

Indications of this youthful upsurge in the shotgun fields, were clearly seen in the National Skeet Championships here (OCS) several years ago.

The youngsters who took the spotlight then, are now rolling along at the top, this year. For the forthcoming NSSA world skeet championships, again at the Lynn-haven, N.J. Princess Anne club, are three top youngsters, who had their big start here.

BROWN BROTHERS, SHULEY HIGHLY REGARDED

At one of the several Nationals held here, 11-year-old Eddie Brown, of Birmingham was a sensation. He has continued that course, up to now, and is regarded a real threat for world honors.

Older brother Bud Brown is highly rated, along with the lad that also got his big start in Nationals at OCS's field.

Bob Shuley, Roselle, Ill., is mentioned as the "big" threat, a high-shooting star ever since he blossomed out at OCS. Miner Cletti, 16, from Childersburg, Ala., highest junior average marksman in 1959, an all-around .974 (4,721x4,850), is another who performed here.

Among the honors these youngsters have achieved this year was a sweep of the recent Great Western Open. Bud Brown took the 20-gauge, Eddie the small-gauge. Bud (Leland) is 16, Eddie 15. Shuley won the all-around and sub-all titles, and Dave Husey, 17, of Chicago the all-gauge.

The Nationals run July 31-Aug. 6.

PREPS FOR STATE SHOOT WITH HOT ROUNDS

More along the shooting line.

Area, scatter-gunners are getting in practice rounds for the state shotgun championships, Aug. 13-14, at Williams Gun club, Davison, and among them is the 1959 women's champion.

"Yes, I'll be back after a 2nd championship," says personable Jennavave (Mrs. Arthur W.) Oesch of Pontiac. "But it's going to be a difficult job, with all that competition." Mrs. Oesch (see accompanying photo) named Vida Vandewater of Waterford, Eileen Griffey of Owosso, young Janet Leonard from OCS, Wilma Dell of Pontiac, and Muriel Pace, also from Pontiac, as competent opponents.

But she carded her best series of practice rounds first of the week, a 19-bird field total, 21 from the traps and 22 on the skeet field. Pretty good shooting!

This observer is also informed that all others of last year's divisional titlists will defend their crowns, including Bob Uptegraft, men's champ, John Webster (Junior) and the two-man team, Stu Fleming and Tom Loucks.

Little anglers and big dogfish have been having their innings around area lakes, like 6-year-old Craig West, son of George and Elizabeth West, 1910 Warwick, Sylvan Lake. Craig was fishing with a miniature casting rod, with a worm for bait, in a channel near the home. All of a sudden he had a strike, and when his dad helped him haul in his fish it proved to be a 20-inch 4½-pound dogfish. "If his dad hadn't helped Craig," reported Mrs. West, "that fish might have caught the boy."

Other lucky anglers about the area included Mrs. Hattie (William) Koben, 1231 Stanley, who took a 12-inch calico bass on Woodhull Lake.

Ted Villella, 254 S. Paddock, fishing at Art Tew's Pine Lake spot took a 26½-inch, 4-pound pike, and Charles Feisel, 1901 Lamphere, and son Max landed their limit of bass, crappies and bluegills.

Good fishing is reported for all Oakland county waters. Lakeville Lake, is one producer, with Harriett Johnson, 447 Emerson, Pontiac, getting a 5-pound, 15-ounce largemouth, despite a bad backlash on her reel. The fish hit while the tangle was being unwound.

Earl Morrill of the Detroit Lions ranked second in the overall passing statistics for the 1959 National Football League with a mark of 8.04 yards average gain per attempt.

Eagles Begin Workouts With 48 in Camp Today

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League begin full workouts today with 48 players in camp.

Absent will be Marion Campbell, veteran defensive tackle, who must undergo a leg operation Thursday for the removal of a calcium growth. Club officials estimate he will be out four weeks.

CLOBBERED FISH — Mark Floor, 9, had only one arm he could use when he saw a big pike below a pier at a lake near Dowagiac, but he captured it, as the picture proves. His left arm broken in a fall, Mark said he grabbed a board with the other hand and "clobbered" the fish, without the need for any fishing tackle. The pike weighed 7 pounds, was 30-inches long.

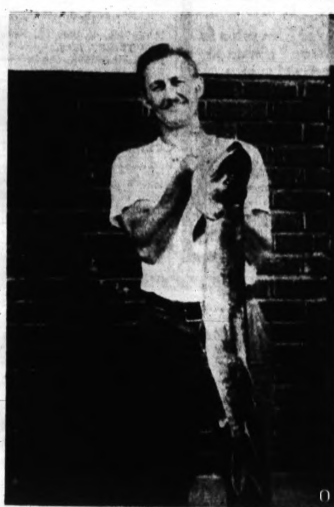

State to Name Angling Champ

HOUGHTON LAKE, Mich. — Plans for a Michigan State Fishing Contest to determine a champion to represent the state in the 1960 Fresh Water World Series of Sport Fishing next October were announced today at International Headquarters here.

Local champions of competitions throughout the state will be eligible for the Michigan state finals at Houghton Lake over the weekend of Sept. 10-11.

Champions and challengers from each participating state and nation — about 100 masters of rod and reel representing more than 20 million anglers in the United States and millions more from abroad — will meet in the World Series, embracing a week of varied competition at a half-dozen famous fishing sites and alternating targets daily to include musky, bass, rainbow trout, lake trout, pike and perch.

Sportsman's Showcase at Houghton Lake, new International Headquarters for the World Series, will be host at the final awards dinner where the new world's champion sport fisherman will receive the championship trophy, sponsored by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

WILDLIFE MUSIC — Some years ago a number of muskies were planted in Wildwood lake, in the Holly Recreation area. Most fishermen have forgotten about them. Irving Atkinson, 1072 Meadowlawn, was fishing for bass when he discovered they were there. The fine, big fish was 36 inches long, nearly 12 pounds in weight, the fisherman's biggest fish in 25 years of angling.

"The best horses, the best drivers, and probably the best race track in the Eastern Michigan Fair Grounds, in 1957, could be a member of the Michigan State Fair track will have in many years."

It's just possible he may be correct, since many of the best in the state, winners in Michigan's famed two and three-year-old colts stakes racing, will be at the route-33 fairground to prove his point.

10 From Area Given Citations in Miami Tourney

The Metropolitan Miami (Fla.) annual fishing tourney citation lists have been announced. The list includes 10 Oakland County, sea-fishermen and women anglers, among the hundreds recognized for various awards.

The Oakland County anglers represent nearly one-sixth of Michigan's total (67) receiving citations.

Area citation winners include: Sportsmanship — F. W. Dubois, Birmingham; Robert M. Hallstead, Birmingham; William B. Lamond, New Hudson; Ken Marshall, Hazel Park.

Citations — W. Douglas McKenzie, Birmingham (albacore 12 lbs); Everett E. Fisher, Birmingham (10 lb, 8-oz. bonefish); B. H. Schwadner, Birmingham (10-lb, one-oz bonefish); Ida J. Max, Nov (36-lb, grouper); Dick Steinhilber, Birmingham (18-lb, 12-oz. white shark); Mrs. N. W. Drouillard, Ulster (60 lb. amberjack).

current leader in two separate fishing contests.

On June 21 he landed a 1-pound, 5-ounce (10 ¼-inch bluegill) to assume the top spot in The Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby." He's still in front.

The same fish was entered for the OCS contest, led the June entries and won a $25 merchandise certificate. And it's still in the running for the grand prize.

A yellow puffer bug was the lure, a favorite with Blom. Second place went to a 45-ounce gill entered by Grace Westfall, also of Holly.

The OCS contest runs through July and August, with awards for heaviest fish to be made each month. It is open to any Michigan resident and entry blanks can be secured from most area sports-goods stores.

Four Hungarian Fighters Give Scroll to Nixon

CHICAGO (AP)—Four Hungarian freedom fighters presented a scroll to Vice President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday in honor of his trip to Hungary after that country revolted against communism in 1956.

The four men, all from Chicago, said they believed Nixon was the best qualified American to deal with Communist nations.

Dick, Pat Nixon Have Come Far Since That Night in 1952

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
CHICAGO — In a stirring moment of history eight years ago tonight, the nation had its first klieg-lighted glimpse of a reed- thin, hazel-eyed young woman named Patricia Ryan Nixon.

She stood hesitantly and softly smiling behind a dark-haired, square-jawed young man who raised his arms high above his head in the time-honored victory salute, while a tumultuous assemblage roared its approval.

The man beside Richard M. Nixon was none other than Sen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, a war hero returned to conquer the hearts of America. The look in Dick Nixon's deep brown eyes seemed to translate: "What am I doing here?"

Pat Nixon's gaze, glowingly centered on her youthful husband, was mutely saying: "How glorious that this should happen to Dick!"

In that brief period while time stood still, it was obvious that Pat felt herself to be a mere spectator. Modest by nature, she had not thought that she should be standing beside the man who had just been chosen the vice presidential nominee.

Suddenly Dick turned. When he spoke, he shouldered, and as the booming platform managers propelled her toward center stage, the Republicans with one voice hailed the misty-eyed woman whom only a few of them would have recognized on the street a minute before.

What a lot of history has flowed into the text books since that time.

Will Spanky for Hanky-Panky

Most Firms Nix Officials With Interests in Suppliers

NEW YORK (U)—Most corporations do not want their executives to hold financial interests in companies from which they buy supplies, a Wall Street Journal survey indicated today.

However, few have specific rules against it or see the necessity for them.

The Journal surveyed more than 60 business concerns after William C. Newberg resigned as president of Chrysler Corp. in a dispute over profits he received from "interests in" Chrysler suppliers.

Chrysler said Newberg agreed to turn over to the corporation "profits in excess of $400,000 made by him from interests in vendor companies."

A. W. Steudal, president of Sherwin-Williams Co., maker of paints and chemicals, told the Journal that "we do not permit or tolerate" executives to hold interests in suppliers.

"We don't permit any of our executives or buying people to have an interest in any of our sources of supply except where it is a company listed on a stock exchange," said Robert W. Galvin, president of Motorola, Inc.

"It would be grounds for dismissal," said President John Carter of Fairchild Camera & Instrument Co.

Some executives expressed the opinion the Chrysler incident might prompt some tightening up. Among them was Chairman Hugh Robertson of Zenith Corp., who said it "may prompt more companies to put unwritten policies into writing."

Absolute zero on the Centigrade scale is a minus 273.16 degrees.

But look at Pat Nixon! By her indefatigable travels through South America, Europe, Asia, Russia and Siberia, the one-time school marm has indelibly imprinted her personality on this nation and the world.

This amazing woman gives the outward appearance of fragility and yielding femininity. Actually she is a human dynamo, with a will of iron.

The chagrined Red exerts who had been ordered to keep her under wraps soon discovered this side of her nature, as she politely but firmly insisted on unimpeded opportunities to talk to the "real" Russian people.

No one met Pat and Dick Nixon when they flew to Chicago eight years ago for the Republican National Convention.

A junior senator with little influence within his party, and with his own state of California pledged to the candidacy of Gov. Earl Warren, Nixon checked in not to perform his duties as a delegate.

Cautions Against Food Freezer Deals

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has warned consumers to be leery of any food freezer sale plan that includes a deal for large amounts of food at low prices.

Adams said the public should avoid any "gimmicks" by purchasing a freezer from a reputable dealer and the food from a reputable dealer.

The Agriculture Department has also been fighting false or fraudulent claims by dealers who sell freezers in combination with a deal for food to put in it.

Michigan Vacation Trails

Scenery, History Offered at Presque Isle Harbor

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of dispatches that will continue through the summer detailing special features and points of interest for Michigan vacationists.)

By United Press International

Presque Isle Harbor is entered through a narrow neck of water from Lake Huron. The narrow entrance leads to an expansive oblong bay that is a favorite resting place for the yachtsmen who know the harbor.

One resident of the area, about 20 miles north of Alpena and 20 miles south of Rogers City off U.S. 23, said the harbor's "unmatched beauty and convenience for boatmen are the best kept secrets in the state."

On the inland shore of the harbor is a road leading south through the hamlet of Presque Isle and to U.S. 23, or west toward U.S. 23. Just across this road is landlocked Grand Lake, nearly surrounded by resort cottages and cabins.

On the north point of the harbor inlet stands the old Presque Isle lighthouse, built in 1846 by the U.S. government. It was used until 1970 when the present Coast Guard lighthouse was built a mile north.

The old lighthouse and the light-house keeper's home have been restored over the past 20 years and is one of the outstanding historical attractions of northeastern Michigan.

BUILT BY JEFF DAVIS

Legend holds that Jefferson Davis, later to become president of the Confederacy, designed and built the old lighthouse for the government in 1840 as his first mission after graduation from West Point.

F. B. Stebbins bought the lighthouse and keeper's home from the government in the 1890s and has restored the structures.

A large ship's propeller flanks the entrance to the lighthouse from the highway. A winding drive through dense woods leads to the lighthouse. A Civil War cannon, a ship's captain and anchor from a lumber schooner, a circle saw blade from Beaver Island, the wreck of the Barque Fanny, a 3455-pound bronze bell taken from the Lansing City Hall and many other historic items are on the grounds.

Winding stone steps lead to the

Every Delegate Is Photographed With Nixon

CHICAGO — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has embarked on a project of having his picture taken with each of the Republican National Convention's 1,333 delegates.

The photographs were snapped after Nixon made his talks at delegate meetings. The pictures are being made on an assembly line basis with each delegate allotted only a few seconds with the vice president.

"Put on your best smile," Nixon told them. "It's over before you know it."

Cobo Hall Opens Aug. 14

Detroit to Bloom as Major Convention City

DETROIT (UPI)—Los Angeles and Chicagoans, look to your convention laurels.

DETROIT, in the state of Paul Bunyan, has thrown up the world's largest convention hall and arena, and Paul would be proud of its dimensions.

On Aug. 14, Cobo Hall will officially open when it hosts the Florida Telegraph Delivery Arts Convention.

From then on it seems almost certain that massive Cobo Hall, an outstanding feature of Detroit's Civic Center on the north bank of the Detroit River, will never know a quiet moment.

HONOR LATE MAYOR

The $54-million building is named in honor of the late Albert F. Cobo who long served in Detroit's city government, and was mayor from 1949 to 1957.

In his administration much of the Civic Center plan, of which the hall is part, was initiated.

It will be the first time since the original Automobile Manufacturers Show in 1900 the automobile manufacturers have staged a show in the "city of cars."

Cobo Hall is 480 feet wide—more than one-and-a-half football fields—and about 1,000 feet long—nearly one-fifth of a mile.

It includes exhibit areas, assembly halls, dining rooms and storage space all in one building. There are two ground levels in the structure, made possible by the downward slope of the terrain toward the Detroit River.

The lower ground or river level has about 184,000 square feet of exhibit space, designated as "Hall D."

Halls A, B and C on the upper, Larned street level, can be combined into one enormous exhibit hall of approximately 300,000 square feet.

SOUNDPROOF CURTAINS

Between each of the three upper halls are soundproof, vertical-lift curtains, which can be used to make separate and fully independent exhibit areas out of the vast space.

Wide vehicle and pedestrian ramps wind their way from top to bottom in the three-story building. Stairways, escalators and elevators also service pedestrian traffic.

A three-fourths of a mile corridor around the exhibit halls links all entrances and exits of the building; and on the south-east corner joins Cobo Hall with the new 14,000-seat Convention Arena, scheduled for completion in early 1961.

The total usable floor space of Cobo Hall and Convention Arena and garages will be 2,220,400 square feet.

The "two integrated" buildings cover 17 acres of land, and will provide 51 acres of floor space.

Cobo Hall has 32 meeting rooms, ranging from the smallest, which seats 80, to the largest, with a capacity of 1,250.

A banquet hall for 2,800 can quickly be changed into a 4,300 capacity auditorium, or an immense ballroom (with white oak walls and teakwood floor) overlooking the Detroit River.

Through ceiling-high windows, dancers will have the feeling they are in a cliff-house extending beyond the shore.

A cafeteria below the ballroom on the river will seat 1,500 persons. A small coffee shop will be open throughout the day.

One of the most striking features of the banquet-hall kitchen, after you wade through shoulder-high steel pots and pool-table-size grills, is a $45,736 automatically-controlled, convyORIZED, electric broiler.

A chef attaches the steak to the conveyor belt outside the broiler.

Cal-lift curtains, which can be used to make separate and fully independent exhibit areas out of the vast space.

Wide vehicle and pedestrian ramps wind their way from top to bottom in the three-story building. Stairways, escalators and elevators also service pedestrian traffic.

A three-fourths of a mile corridor around the exhibit halls links all entrances and exits of the building; and on the south-east corner joins Cobo Hall with the new 14,000-seat Convention Arena, scheduled for completion in early 1961.

The telephone system would serve a community of 8,000. The 140 pay stations are more than are contained by any other public structure in Michigan.

GOP Uses Its Star Like to Crack the Ho-Humness

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes of a TV convention whither—
The Republicans brought up their No. 1 star Tuesday night with President Eisenhower dealing the nominating convention a speech that set the partisan post-bolling.

Until the President took stage center, there was little to keep the home viewer glued to the set. It had been an interesting but particularly vital show. The networks did what they could to stir excitement over the civil right plank of the platform, the liberal conservative positions and the vice-presidential choice.

But, as with the Democratic move, the inevitability of the presidential nomination robbed the convention of its drama and may be the reason for mediocre TV ratings. Americans love a good fight, but respond coolly to political rites.

The President got the complete attention of the TV cameras, of course. Not many other speakers did. Rep. Charles Halleck made the screen with his speech, but Rep. William Miller was shut out.

LODGE WELL EXPRESSED
United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge got the all time best exposure of any vice presidential possibility. His castigation of the Soviets in the Security Council was featured.

Beatniks are taking a beating at Chicago. Herbert Hoover gave them a rap Monday night, and Halleck assailed a "beatnik evening" Tuesday night.

Sen. Everett Dirksen wins the nod for the best unprompted speaker, since Democratic keynote Frank Church, like Church, Dirksen spoke fluently without a card at notes.

Mark Hatfield, who nominates Richard Nixon for president tonight, is the Republicans' answer to the handsome juveniles of the opposition. In an interview with CBS' Charles Patterson, the Oregon governor looked as handsome as a TV gunslinger.

ABC seems to be the most broadcast with sticking to the speakers on the podium through thick and thin. CBS is next. NBC appears to wander the most.

WHO GUESSES CROWDS?
A course in crowd estimation for TV reporters. A CBS man guessed the Nixon reception at the Chicago airport at 1,200-1,500. The NBC man figured 5,000-6,000.

much talk is beginning to show on some of the TV commentators. Edward R. Murrow admitted referring to the Republicanoppers as "Nixon and Rockefeller."

Stassen Poses With Nixon, Yet He Backs Rocky

day posed for campaign pictures at a meeting between Pennsylvania's 70-voice delegation and Nixon, the probable GOP presidential candidate. Stassen is now a Philadelphia delegate. News photographers were not permitted to take pictures.

Stassen has been urging a draft of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination.

Once Popular U. of M. Football Star

Ford's Top-Drawer in GOP Politics

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—When Jerry Ford was tearing down the field as center for the University of Michigan football team, his force and drive and husky good looks made him a popular young man on the campus.

Twenty-six years later, his force and drive and husky good looks still are winning friends—and votes—for Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., six-term Congressman from Michigan's fifth district.

Republican leaders casting through their ranks for examples of the youthful new look in top-drawn GOP politics, point to Ford with fond pride.

At 47, he is a veteran of nearly 12 years in Congress and is regarded by some as the State's most influential voice on Capitol Hill since the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

He is a member of the Republican Policy Committee in the House and generally is looked upon as the leader of Michigan's GOP Congressional delegation even though he is not the top man on the seniority pole.

Governor Rockefeller Was Really Amazed

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—Gov. Rockefeller, so the story goes, was traveling in his home state recently when he happened to pick up a copy of "Playboy" Magazine which some correspondent had brought along for cultural purposes.

Believe it or not, the Governor had never seen the magazine before.

His eyes popped as he beheld one of the "playmates" and he exclaimed to a reporter, "My heavens, are they allowed to sell things like this in New York State?"

I told this story to Hugh Hefner, the thirty-five publisher of "Playboy," while sitting around with him in his "Playboy Club," first of many that are to be opened throughout the U.S.

(I admit this wasn't exactly the same as being out at the Republican Convention, but after all, several Republican delegates were there, and I was covering them, see, Boss?)

"If you're going to be realistic," he said, "You have to admit that the principal appeal for the readers of an adult man's magazine is beautiful women."

So he gave them lots of beautiful women and the circulation is now 1,100,000. Somebody somewhere is blasting the magazine every minute and Hefner hopes they keep it up.

"If we got to a point where everybody accepted us, we'd no longer be the voice of the aware rebel," he said.

You probably have your own opinion of "Playboy"—but young Mr. Hefner is an alert gent. The fact that Rocky didn't know of the existence of the magazine indicates to me that he was running too hard for President. I'll bet Nixon on that.

Jerry Lewis Slashes Back at TV Critics

Editor's Note: Last January UPI television reviewer Fred Danz wrote of Jerry Lewis: "He is so unappealing that he is almost repulsive."

Before leaving for a vacation, Danz wrote: "He is so unappealing that he is almost repulsive."

By JERRY LEWIS
I have been described as a rebel, a maverick and several other things not even that complimentary.

I would like to set the record straight.

I have no arguments with qualified reviewers, but I do have a king-sized disdain for the recently promoted office boys who have no training or background in the entertainment world but who, through some strange quirk of fate, have been elevated to the rather responsible position of deciding what the American public shall watch in the privacy of their own living rooms.

I have seen some of these pseudo-intellectuals destroy an entertaining show with no other purpose in mind than to display to their readers their ability to turn a clever phrase.

LESS THAN HONEST
I also accuse some of the reviewers of being somewhat less than honest.

A classic example of that is when one reviewer—not yourself—wrote three scathing paragraphs about a segment of one of my shows that said: "Well, the only odd thing about it is that the part he didn't like was a filmed segment I had shot in England and was never used on the show."

This little episode hasn't helped inspire my confidence in this particular reviewer's honesty or integrity.

Other reviewers I despise are those pin-braided beauties who for one reason or another have formed a personal dislike for certain people.

Observers almost invariably describe Ford as conciliatory and hardworking. In nearly 13 years, he has missed only 47 of 1,872 House roll calls.

Nearly every weekday morning while back home and the other day-to-day letters of a Congressman's job keep him at his desk till after 6 p.m. Two or three nights a week he heads off for evening receptions or meetings; other nights he usually finds time for "homework," putting on a pipe and poring over committee papers.

HAS MAGNETISM?
Big, blond, boyishly handsome, Ford is well equipped with the elusive quality vital to most successful politicians—personal magnetism. His wide and ready smile is almost a match for the famous Eisenhower grin.

At home in Grand Rapids, he is as much in demand at literary teas as party convalesces.

Ford—has no relation to the Ford's automobile family—gets close but he continues to drive a mobile office, a trailer that he moves from town to town and from supermarket to parking lot during the campaign. Citizens are invited to voice their complaints, make requests, ask advice.

His efforts at reuniting families separated by the Iron Curtain have brought Ford valuable friendships among voters. He said: "I have a normally democratic bloc to be reckoned with in the fifth district."

Jerry Ford knows where his bread is buttered. He said: "I have a normally democratic bloc to be reckoned with in the fifth district."

GOP Platform For Federal Aid

Government to Assist in School Construction but Not Teachers' Salaries

CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican Platform Committee Tuesday approved a platform pledging federal aid to construction of schoolrooms and dormitories.

But it rejected the idea of providing federal aid for education in the employment of teachers.

In limiting this education-aid pledge, the plank said the primary responsibility for education must remain with the local community and state.

"The federal government," it said, "should assist selectively in strengthening education with full federal control of schools."

"We believe that any large plan of federal aid to education, such as direct contributions to or grants for teacher salaries can only lead ultimately to federal domination and control of our schools to which we are unalterably opposed."

This plank, the position taken by the Eisenhower administration. The Democratic convention pledged federal aid for teacher salaries as well as for school construction.

Red U.N. Delegate Has Heart Attack

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomatic sources say the Soviet delegate to the United Nations, Arkady A. Sobolev, 57, will be sent home for treatment for heart trouble as soon as he can be moved.

It was learned Tuesday that he suffered a heart attack Saturday and was put to bed in his New York apartment.

Soviet diplomats said Sobolev was better although not yet able to make the trip home. Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kulikov has been representing the Soviet government in the Security Council debates this week.

Ypsi Residents Win Phone Listing Fight

LANSING (AP)—An Ypsilanti group has won a fight here for a telephone book listing with Ann Arbor rather than with the downriver Detroit area.

Six Howard Blackenbury, Ypsilanti housewife, led a group of about 20 objectors appearing at the State Public Service Commission for a conference with representatives of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Previously, Ypsilanti was listed in a separate book with Ann Arbor. Under a reorganization, Ypsilanti numbers now are listed with the downriver Detroit area. The objectors said they had no cultural or geographic ties with the downriver Detroit area. Ypsilanti numbers, they said, now are sprinkled in with the rest of the area listings instead of being listed separately and alphabetically.

Don E. McCaw, assistant vice president in charge of revenues for Michigan Bell, promised Ypsilanti would be returned to a separate directory with Ann Arbor when the next telephone books are issued in December.

See Slight Increase in Price of Sugar

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American housewife probably will start paying a little more for sugar within the next week because of market dislocation following suspension of the Cuban quota, sugar brokers said.

B. W. Dyer & Co., authoritative sugar analysts, predicted the retail rise—the first to be attributed to the Cuban situation—will be from one-third to one-half cent a pound.

"That won't mean much to the housewife," a Dyer spokesman said, "and it might prove temporary." Once new sources of raw sugar start moving rapidly to this country to replace the 700,000 tons cut from the Cuban quota, things might straighten out.

Ike Vigorously Defends 8 Years as President

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower says it is "irrefutable truth" that the country is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, has the strongest military system in the world and is working ceaselessly for peace.

He gave this assessment of his years of stewardship in the White House to an enthusiastic "Thank You Ike Day" session of the GOP National Convention Tuesday night.

Especially in the fields of national defense and economic growth, Eisenhower strongly defended his administration's record.

At many points his speech struck at the Democrats, but he could as well have been speaking of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he said:

"Just as the Biblical Job had his trials, so we have a cult of professional pessimists who, taking counsel of their fears, continually mouth the allegation that America has become a second-rate military power."

Rockefeller has criticized several phases of administration activity.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who got a handsome send-off for his coming campaign from the retiring president, hailed Eisenhower's speech as "a smash hit."

Rockefeller called it an "excellent, forthright" statement, but Rockefeller, who has urged an immediate rise of $15 billion dollars in defense spending, refused to comment when asked about the "cult of professional pessimists" phrase.

STILL LIKE IKE

Eisenhower, who is nearing 70, received a warm "we like Ike" reception from the GOP delegates, who party rode to power with him nearly eight years ago after two decades of being on the outside.

He spoke sarcastically, and disdained the teleprompter used by many orators. Eisenhower's classics flashed in the bright TV lights as he bent his head time and again to read his speech from a manuscript on the lectern. He smiled seldom.

The President, as he has before, came up with a dramatic challenge to the dictator in the Kremlin.

Would the Soviet dictator, Eisenhower asked, "agree to holding of free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations—to permit people everywhere—in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue? RED OR FREE?"

"That issue is: Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as found in the United States?"

"Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the results of such elections?"

"The United States would gladly do so."

The President listed a string of achievements on the domestic front, defended the administration and services produced in the nation—Eisenhower said "we are not a great deal of information—and much more of misinformation."

The interesting fact is that in these past seven and a half years the annual gross national product has increased by one hundred billion dollars—or 25 per cent.

"During the almost eight-year administration of the prior, Democratic administration, the gross national product actually declined in every single peacetime year, save one."

$98,000 City Pay Hike Advocated by Willman

City Manager Walter K. Willman Tuesday night recommended a municipal wage increase that would cost the city $98,000 annually.

The proposed raise was one of two ways to readjust wages of city employees suggested in a study of Pontiac's municipal pay plan by James O. Yarger, an independent personnel consultant.

The study indicated the city's pay is somewhat out of balance and suggested an upward adjustment to bring it into line with other cities in southeastern Michigan, as well as with the rates paid by industry for the same type of work.

Yarger suggested an automatic and a seniority method of boosting wages.

Willman recommended that the City Commission adopt the automatic plan.

"The so-called seniority method would cost the city $28,000 a year. In either method the result will be a higher cost of personnel, which, said Willman, "could result in a higher tax rate or in reduced services."

MEETING SCHEDULED

He scheduled a special meeting between the Commission and spokesmen for employ groups to discuss the matter at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Commission is expected to act on the proposed increase at next week's meeting, which will be held Monday night because Tuesday is the primary election date.

Morton Only Other One With Even Slim Hope for Nod to 2nd Spot

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon wants Henry Cabot Lodge as his running mate in the 1960 presidential election.

The only other man still in the running as far as Nixon is concerned is Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton. Nixon might give Morton the nod if there were a pressing need to please disgruntled conservatives. But Morton is rated only an outside bet.

Informed sources said Nixon has decided Lodge's record as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations would make him a valuable campaign partner in an election year of international tensions.

President Eisenhower also rates Lodge tops. But he has left the choice strictly up to Nixon.

Except for Morton, every other vice presidential contender has been eliminated, for all practical purposes.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who might have had the vice presidential nomination for the asking, has taken himself out of the picture.

He resisted new draft movements yesterday and said that if his name were placed in nomination for second billing "I would rise to ask that it be withdrawn."

The GOP convention was scheduled to vote its vice presidential choice tonight, but Nixon raised the possibility that the balloting for second place on the ticket might be postponed until Thursday.

Radio station WJZ again will begin its coverage of events at 6:15 p.m., WJZ will begin at 7. WJZ is scheduled to cut in at 10:30.

Nominate Nixon on TV Tonight; Planks Also Due

The long-expected nomination of Richard Nixon as the GOP presidential candidate is on tap as the main feature of the convention also this evening. The first attraction will be the report of the Platform Committee which has recently made some revisions in its document.

The vice-presidential choice is expected to be made after Nixon's nomination. It is to be a speech by Thomas Dewey.

The nomination speeches, seconding speeches and balloting of delegates will be carried in their entirety on television channels 2, 4 and 7 beginning at 6:30.

Radio station WJZ again will begin its coverage of events at 6:15 p.m., WJZ will begin at 7. WJZ is scheduled to cut in at 10:30.

Gov. Harold Handley of Indiana said Nixon liked the idea, but Nixon sources doubted this.

Will Platform Suit GOP Convention?

Rebuilt Rights Plank Set for OK

CHICAGO (AP)—A broad, 10,000-word Republican platform with a sturdily rebuilt civil rights plank is ready for expected GOP convention approval tonight.

Prospects of any floor battle faded as most GOP chiefs indicated they would accept the compromise worked out Tuesday night by the platform committee on the touchy racial equality issue. The compromise was voted 55-25.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, due to wear the party's presidential mantle, was described as satisfied with the completed platform product. Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York echoed the reports after visiting Nixon early today.

EXPOSURE REVISION

Further along in the wee hours, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said his endorsement to the revised plank, calling it "a strong and specific declaration in support of equal opportunity, human dignity and the supreme worth of the individual."

Both Rockefeller and Nixon had described an earlier platform plank as unsatisfactory. Rockefeller said he would like to have seen even the new plank go further in some respects, but said he was grateful with the revision.

"The plank is comprehensive," he said. "It attacks discrimination in voting, housing, schools, jobs and public facilities."

Ah, here's some good news. The Weatherman says our bright and sunny weather will continue for several days.

Tonight and tomorrow will be fair with little temperature change. Temperatures for the next five days will average near the normal high of 84 and normal low of 63 with only minor day to day changes.

Precipitation will average less than one-quarter inch in scattered showers about Saturday.

Morning winds at six miles an hour southwesterly will become west to northwest at 10-15 miles tomorrow.

Sixty-three was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 1 p.m. was 83.

Rocky and Dick All But Embrace at Breakfast

Vice President Choice Won't Be Made Until Thursday After Talks

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (AP)—In relaxed mood, the Republicans whirled through a round of social activities and sight-seeing today preliminary to their convention's big moment tonight—the nomination of Richard M. Nixon for president.

Tensions and quarrels over the platform had faded. The mood was, Chase ranks and whom the Democrats.

Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who once looked as prospective antagonists at this convention, breakfasted together in great harmony.

Accompanied by Mrs. Nixon, the vice president went over to Rockefeller's hotel for breakfast with the governor and the New York delegation.

ALL BUT EMBRACE

Rockefeller met him at the curb and they all but embraced, looking like a couple of old college buddies at a 25th class reunion.

In an informal interview, Nixon said he felt that his vice presidential running mate will not be selected until Thursday.

He said there would be a meeting tonight—or Thursday if tonight's convention session runs late—of party leaders from all sections to talk about a vice presidential nominee.

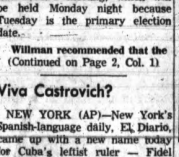

"I want to have a full discussion of it before we have a final decision," Nixon said.

In response to questions, he said Rockefeller would certainly be (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

CHICAGO—It was a great day and night for the Republicans. It was a great day and night for Chicago.

Never before did this great city give such a political demonstration for a man who wasn't running for any office.

Never before did a Republican president get such a welcome in heavily Democratic Chicago.

The afternoon cavalcade of Ike and Mamie found more than a million people lining its course between the airport and downtown. At the Republican National Convention it was their night. Nothing else counted for much.

been for the Democratic Congress; when he told of his efforts to restrain himself when any effort is made to belittle our status among nations when he asserted that the United States would be willing to stand by a honest vote among nations as to whether or not they wanted communism; and when he said the stakes are too high to risk our nation's future in the hands of a frivolous, irresponsible or inept government.

Adding glamour to the convention are Miss Irene Giacobbi of Clawson, a page and chairman of our county's Young Republican Club, assisted by Miss Barbara Borgen of Pontiac.

$98,000 Pay Hike Asked by Willman automatic plan be retroactive to July 1, 1960, and that all employees now in class E be in the city's salary setup be moved down to class D.

All employees would then move up a step Jan. 1, 1961. The immediate move backward from class E to D could result in an increase in the employee's salary.

The study, Yarger has listed the current salary of each employee at each step of seniority and then listed the figure to which each step should be adjusted upward.

In some cases an employee could conceivably drop back as many as two steps and still get more pay.

The city's pay structure contains five classes or steps of seniority: A, starting wages: B, six months; C, one year; D, two years; E, three years.

At each step, B through E, the employee becomes eligible for a pay raise on the approval of his department head.

"The seniority method of increase simply means that everyone is moved forward one step. Thus, an employee in the C class now, goes to the D class.

This could result in a sharp increase from his present pay to the adjusted D class pay.

The automatic method means that the employee is raised to the next higher pay figure in the adjusted rates.

Therefore, a Class C employee could revert to Class A but still get a pay raise.

The automatic method also stipulates that any employee now below the proposed minimum of class D be raised to the suggested minimum.

Also that any employee whose current rate falls on one of the proposed steps be moved to the next higher step.

No change was suggested for the employee whose current rate exceeds the maximum proposed for his classification.

The individual pay hike depends entirely on the current wage scale and the proposed increases are for each step.

In some cases, the change is little or others it is greater.

Commissioners, in discussing the proposed methods of increase, may decide on either method, a combination of the two or variations on either.

It has been suggested by commissioners that the plan could be made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1960.

Willman's variation calls for Class E employees to drop to Class D, regardless of the proposed figure, but they would automatically go up to E again in January.

This recommendation does not include the administrative personnel whose appointments are made by the Commission.

If this recommendation is accepted, the estimated cost to be covered by the city would be $248,363, or about 65 per cent of the current payroll.

Russia Vetoes RB47 Probe

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Security Council debate on the RB47 probe ended Tuesday night with a 9-2 council vote rejecting Soviet charges against the United States and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal for an international investigation.

The Soviet also vetoed an Italian proposal that the International Red Cross contact the two surviving crewmen of the American plane, who are being held by the Soviets for trial as spies.

Despite the official impasse, U.N. diplomats cheered up the outcome as a defeat for the Soviet Union and a victory for the United States. They pointed out that on all three resolutions the vote was 9-2, with the Soviet Union and Poland opposed by all nine non-communist members of the council including Guyana and Togo.

The votes brought the Soviet total to 89 in the council's history.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the Soviet's blocking an investigation showed "they do not believe their own charges against the United States."

He termed the Italian proposal for the Red Cross to contact the captured fliers a "compassionate resolution."

He told the council: "It is sad that when a people as warm as the Soviet people is represented by a government as cynical as they showed themselves to be tonight."

The Soviet has charged that the RB47, when shot down by a Soviet jet fighter July 1, was on a spy mission to Soviet territorial waters in the Barents Sea.

The Soviet resolution that the council rejected would have condemned the United States for aggressive acts and called on it to cease such activity.

Lodge earlier in the debate said the plane was investigating electronic currents in Arctic waters for mapping purposes and that it never came closer than 30 miles to Soviet territory.

In a last-minute counterattack, the U.S. delegate produced a picture of a Soviet T-16 jet bomber equipped with electronic reconnaissance equipment under a wing and said such planes had been flying off the Alaskan coast for years.

He said the Soviet jet was shot down in 1959 and 1960.

"The difference between the United States and the Soviet Union is that we shoot our planes with cameras. They shoot ours with guns and rockets and kill or imprison our crews," Lodge said.

Holcomb Resigns Local Bank Post

"We are indeed sorry to announce the resignation of Albert W. Holcomb, vice president, president of the A. C. Girard, president of Community National Bank said today.

"Holcomb is returning to the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. in response to a very generous proposal which he couldn't possibly turn down," Girard said.

"The fund was established six years ago to construct special classrooms for handicapped children in need of extra facilities."

A half mill since the special education fund was created in 1954, the levy will go down from .4 to .3 beginning with the December bills, according to Kenneth W. Brown, deputy superintendent of county schools.

The fund was established six years ago to construct special classrooms for handicapped children in need of extra facilities.

Cut Special Education Tax Levy

Caught up with his backlog and aided by a boost in valuation, the Oakland County Board of Education will trim its annual special education levy this year by one-tenth of a mill.

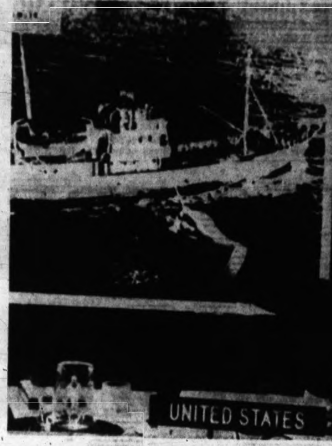

County officials immediately welcomed the reduction as lowering the over-all county tax bills, which would increase by a half mill in December if voters Tuesday approve the courthouse completion millage propositions.

A half mill since the special education fund was created in 1954, the levy will go down from .4 to .3 beginning with the December bills, according to Kenneth W. Brown, deputy superintendent of county schools.

The fund was established six years ago to construct special classrooms for handicapped children in need of extra facilities.

Since the program was started, Brown said, 123 classrooms have been constructed throughout the county. They are a part of existing schools.

The reduction will mean 1960-61 receipts of $100,000 from the levy with some $200,000 with the half mill, Brown said.

COUNTERCHARGE — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge points to an enlarged photo of the Soviet jet fighter which he charges with spy activities during the test of the U.S. nuclear sub George Washington off Cape Cod, Mass.

The current front-runner for the GOP vice-presidential slot defended the U.S. against spy charges brought by Russia over the RB47 incident before the U.N. Security Council Tuesday. A vote of 9-2 rejected the Soviet charges.

Dearborn Widow Sought on Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—"We've combed that island over and over again and we haven't found a trace of her," puzzled State Police said.

Their search for a widow who vanished mysteriously while out on a walk on this Lake Huron resort island.

Mrs. Frances Lacey, 49, of Dearborn left her hotel at 10 a.m. Sunday to visit relatives on the other side of the island. At some point during the three-mile walk she vanished and has not been seen since.

More than 60 policemen and volunteers using bloodhounds and a plane have been searching for her.

State Police Sgt. George Burnett, commander of the St. Ignace post and director of the search, said he is puzzled because "it is very unlikely for a person to get lost on the island."

"We've combed this island, especially its 46 miles of major trails and its few rocky cliffs and other natural haunts. It is so interlaced with trails you never are more than a few hundred yards from one of them."

This was Alford's first campaign in a Democratic primary. He won his first term as a write-in candidate against party nominee Brooks Hays in the 1958 general election.

Arkansas' four other congressmen and Sen. John L. McClellan had no opposition. Their names were not on the primary ballot.

Cheboygan Still Short

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—A census report aimed at wiping out a drop of 41 in Cheboygan's population fell 31 short. The Chamber of Commerce reported that 28 people claimed they were missed in the 1960 census.

Memories of the old days when William McKinley was stumpin' for President were conjured up by a Pontiac State Hospital patient who celebrated her centennial birthday yesterday.

Smiling, she said she felt more like 100 — as she welcomed her two granddaughters who came to celebrate her 100th birthday.

Exactly 61 of her patient friends helped divide the birthday cake at the party sponsored by the Pontiac Chapter of the Psychiatric Attendants Nurses Assn.

She has spent more than 30 years out of a long century of life at the hospital, entering Oct. 8, 1928.

Pontiac State Hospital Medical Superintendent Dr. Walter N. Obermuller chatted freely with her, plainly encouraged by the lady's achievement.

Her silvery hair pulled back in a neat bun, she had quite a time holding back her desire to open the gifts brought to her.

Confronted with a roomful of guests, some girls and a large cake, she joked, "Isn't this something, it's like being born on the farm for my birthday."

Rock Switches Vote to Nixon

Concedes to Dick in Nomination but Still Refuses VP Spot

CHICAGO (AP)—His own presidential hopes shattered for 1960, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was lined up today behind Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

But the New York governor claimed a victory in the party platform which was reshaped to conform in several areas with his views.

The 36-vote New York delegation at Rockefeller's bidding adopted unanimously Tuesday a resolution endorsing Nixon as the Republican candidate for president.

ONLY ONE CANDIDATE — Rockefeller, who had held himself open for a draft, said in introducing the motion: "It is clear that, insofar as the vast majority of delegates to this convention is concerned, there is only one candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States."

The governor said his concession of the top spot did not mean he would accept a vice presidential nomination.

He repeated earlier statements that he would even turn down a personal appeal from President Eisenhower to take the place.

Faubus campaigned on his six-year record and segregation was a minor issue, compared to 1958, when Faubus talked of little else.

One of those consulted. He also mentioned Sen. Bruce Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as among those whose opinions he desires.

WAS CRITICAL — Goldwater is at the extreme right wing of the GOP. He was critical of last week's Nixon-Rockefeller statement of principles, calling it a surrender by Nixon. He also didn't like some aspects of the platform.

Nixon's mention of the Arizona senator as one of those to be consulted about the vice presidential nominee tended to emphasize the cloak-and-dagger phase into which Nixon, in firm control of the convention, has now carried it.

The name still getting most attention in speculation as to the No. 2 spot on the ticket was that of U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Also figuring in it were Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota and Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan had his backers, too.

President Eisenhower, who gave his big day and night here yesterday in what the convention called "Thank You Ike Day," breakfasted with his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices—about 600 in all.

Eisenhower was presented a bust of Abraham Lincoln, Gov. William G. Stratton gave it to him on behalf of the people of Illinois.

In a little speech of acceptance, Eisenhower recalled Lincoln's proclamation that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

With this as his text, the President urged that GOP candidates follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Examine Trucker Sept. 1 in Woman's Traffic Death

BIRMINGHAM — An Indiana truck driver charged with the traffic death of a 13-year-old Birmingham girl early this month was bound over for a Sept. 1 examination at his arraignment Tuesday. He was released on $2,000 bond.

James F. Frakum, 44, in fatally injured homicide in charged with the death of a 13-year-old Birmingham girl, Henry Kolts of 360 Lone Pine Rd., when his truck collided with hers at Telegraph and Maple roads in Bloomfield Township.

He appeared before West Birmingham Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dietrich.

Mrs. Kolts, 35, died July 13 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, a week after the accident. Seven other persons were injured in the post-accident collision.

Witnesses claim that Frakum, of Monroe, Ind., ran a red light on Telegraph and struck the Kolts car broadside. Mrs. Kolts suffered a broken back.

The negligent homicide charge was brought against Frakum by Bloomfield Township police after Mrs. Kolts died and a reckless driving charge by a witness was dropped.

Kolts, who owns an advertising agency, has filed suit in Detroit Federal Court against Frakum for $15,000 in the death of his wife.

The Oakland County Road Commission reports that Maple road (15-Mile) will be closed to through traffic beginning Monday from Southfield road to Telegraph road.

It is expected to be closed from three to four weeks while the Bond Commission widens the two lanes to four from Cranbrook road to Telegraph.

Local traffic may continue to use the route, a commission spokesman said.

"Detour signs will go up Monday, he said, relocating the Maple through traffic over to 13-Mile road."

A sewer system for residents along Old Mill road and Chula Vista drive in Berkshire Villa has arrived final approval from the Bloomfield Township Board.

Thirty-two home owners in the area will benefit from the $32,000 project, 21 of Vicksburg.

Both started their $5.54 positions Monday with the Juvenile Court Division, Miss Wendland will be assigned to the District Home section of the division while Miss Maloney will work out of the Neglect section, according to James W. Hunt, division director.

The addition of the two women is brought about by the 1960 census which authorizes the county to have six assistant county agents. One more will be added later, Hunt said.

He welcomed the additions to the staff as being a step toward giving "more priority" to each case.

Miss Wendland received her degree in sociology from Eastern Michigan University and a Miss Maloney received her degree in psychology in June from Antioch College.

Negro's Dream of Convention Glory Shattered

CHICAGO (AP)—An Indianapolis Negro lawyer's dream of becoming the first Negro to have his name placed in nomination for the presidency ended Tuesday.

Frank R. Beckwith, who ran against Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Indiana's presidential primary, delivered a withdrawal speech at the Indiana delegation's meeting Tuesday at which he renounced and praising the GOP as the "party of freedom."

Gov. Harold G. Hamm, election chairman, said he had explained to Beckwith that he could not be placed in nomination by Indiana because Nixon had won the primary.

In his great stockyards amphitheater, the bluebirds of the live-stock world will parade soon after the political bluebirds quit their parading.

In spite of the fact that the air conditioning plant changes the air to cool it over, the speakers sometimes make the convention look like a Los Angeles smog or Clinton River fog.

Hint to the folks back home: Remember that we have a primary election coming up next week, where you have your say. At these conventions it's usually only the politicians who have their say.

If the Democrats think they're going after the woman and young vote in an exclusive fashion, they have another guess coming. The appeal is up front everywhere here.

Courthouse Project at Stake

County voters have been more than candidates to be voted on in Tuesday's statewide primary election.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, warned voters not to overlook the two county propositions and local questions that appear on the top of the machine.

Eisenhower Captures Nation—Greatest Address of His Career

Confident, smiling and on the crest of the wave, Dwight D. Eisenhower delivered the most stirring address of the two conventions last evening to a cheering group of Republicans.

The most important man in the world was at his best. He spoke earnestly, positively and carried conviction. The President covered many of the outstanding achievements of his administration and did so convincingly. He drove his points home with emphasis and yet with dignity and decorum. The delegates loved it.

A star was in the ascendency.

It made you proud that you were an American and when he assailed the despicable tactics of the Russians during the past few months, he pulled no punches. He "let Khrushchev have it." There's no doubt anywhere around the globe today that the United States "is the most formidable military power in the world." The President established this point in compelling fashion. Even the Reds must be a little dubious of themselves today.

Also, he listed financial achievements during his occupancy of the White House and proved with statistics that the nation has been far more prosperous in all ways than it was under Democratic domination. More men are at work now at higher wages than ever before in history.

Rarely has the President been in such fine fettle. He exuded confidence and seemed to be aware from the outset that the facts and figures he had brought to the meeting were bound to win his listeners, whether they be in the audience or in their homes.

MAMIE EISENHOWER traveled every foot of the journey with him and she created a grand impression. All in all, it was a tremendous demonstration.

Mr. EISENHOWER was never more at home on a platform and never did he radiate the supreme confidence that he did last night. He strode into the arena as the absolute master of the situation and never relinquished the reins. Here was long governmental experience, the wisdom of years, military know-how, and a great humanitarian talking to his fellow citizens in the most important nation on earth.

Rousing Keynote . . .

Monday night WALTER H. JUNE delivered the keynote speech and both JUNE and the talk were tremendous successes. He was applauded and cheered time after time and it wasn't the hired clappers who were carrying the ball.

It was the delegates. They were enthusiastic.

The man made a thoughtful, constructive Republican talk and while he occasionally "viewed with alarm" his remarks were packed with hard facts and he cited chapter and verse.

He made a much greater appeal to his audience than those who spoke in Los Angeles and certainly his acceptance was more spontaneous and heartfelt. Los Angeles speakers paused many times and waited for indicated applause, while JUNE was actually interrupted on half a hundred occasions. And this doesn't refer to the hired hands who do their masters' bidding on signal. They may have been present, but they were drawing money under false pretenses. They weren't needed.

This Republican convention to date has witnessed much greater spontaneity than the Democratic.

What will happen when the nominations start?

American Voter Spun Around Like Satellite

Latest reports confirmed by tests at the U.S. Naval School of Aviation Medicine in Pensacola shows that man will be able to function in a spinning satellite.

Six men were placed in a chamber which was revolved at various speeds. Man-carrying satellites may be similarly rotated to simulate gravity in space. The volunteers came through the tests all right, but most experienced initial reactions — some of them unpleasant.

Just what does this mean to the rest of us? Well, we'll tell you.

To the American voter it should be no surprise at all. He is regularly spun around every four years in the revolving campaigns. And though he may suffer at times, he and the country always get back to earth after election day.

The Man About Town It Makes It Easy To Get Acquainted When You Mention Our Pontiac

Politician: A person who talks like a statesman, but usually isn't.

When away from home, whether only in Michigan or in some other of our 50 states or a foreign country, you have a big advantage when you tell them you're from Pontiac. It is almost like getting a base on balls.

Everybody's heard of the Pontiac car; many of them own one or more. Most everybody has heard of the greatest Indian chief, and a great number have heard of the city. The residents of no other city, regardless of its size, have such an advantage.

No other city has the same name as an automobile. And our name is the same as that of a car that is making automobile history in these days of fierce competition, as no other car is making it.

Frequently in my travels has the name Pontiac been a great advantage to me. One good example was at the 1958 Democratic national convention in Chicago.

There was a mixup in reservations, and I found a man from a much larger city in my seat in the press section. He had the same number, and it was one of the best seats, within 20 feet of the speaker's platform.

Things were explained to the management and the top brass immediately came through with: "Olive it to the man from Pontiac. Who ever heard of Minneapolis?"

These precocious youngsters (and most of them are), must be reckoned with. My good friend out at Drayton Plains, Irving Kasak, tells me that the other day his nine year old daughter came home from school and said she wanted to enter a contest. When asked for an explanation she said that her teacher had just told her that

Shirley Temple was making a million dollars a year when she was nine.

There's tragedy in our farmer's fields, according to

"Remember, We're Politicians, Not Carpenters"

David Lawrence Says:

Eisenhower Not on Sidelines Yet

CHICAGO — The man who holds the key to the national election this autumn came to town and was cheered by at least a million persons in perhaps one of the most significant demonstrations in American politics.

For what the critics have been saying about the Eisenhower administration has really sunk in with the people as a whole, then there would never have been the outpouring of people and the spontaneous expressions of applause noted here.

Dwight Eisenhower, it will be said, has always been a popular figure and some have argued that, while this was true in the past, he cannot transfer his strength to anybody else. History doesn't agree with that appraisal.

This writer remembers how the popular Teddy Roosevelt in 1903 transferred his own strength even to the colorless and relatively unknown William Howard Taft and produced the biggest landslide in electoral votes known up to that time. "T.R." incidentally, was a war hero, too, having been dramatically associated with the Spanish-American War victory in Cuba.

What Dwight Eisenhower brings to the campaign is a record which his opponents have denounced but of which he himself is proud. He feels he served the public interest by keeping the nation out of war. Though a military man himself, he refused to do any sabre-rattling and instead has worked unceasingly for the cause of war prevention.

His speech to the convention on Tuesday night couldn't be couched in the same phrases that he will use once the new nominee for president is selected. Then he can make it more personal and speak of Nixon and his capabilities.

But the two main issues of the campaign turn on the record of the Eisenhower administration. Do people have jobs? Are times good in a broad sense? Do the people appreciate the fact that in the last seven years their sons have not been engaged in a war?

The last affair—the Korean War—cost more than 135,000 casualties and was fought 8,000 miles away from the homes of American families. Will this happen again?

Some of these questions are especially influential in public reaction to the so-called peace issue. Anyway, it is an issue that has to do with keeping the boys now being drafted or the one who have served already from being sent to the front lines of any war, large or small.

The President has borne the brunt of international orcs for many years. He has had to take

The Country Parson

Daily application of iodine tincture and glycerine, half and half, is the most satisfactory treatment for canker sores in the mouth—usually they clear up in two or three days.

So-called "colorless" iodine is not iodine at all, but a relatively inert solution of iodides, of little or no value as an antiseptic or disinfectant, though perhaps suitable for the treatment of the skin effect of iodine is desired.

On long standing iodine tincture may become stronger, instead of weaker, because the alcohol evaporates faster than the iodine does. Iodine tincture applied to the skin over sprains, inflamed lymph nodes and swollen joints acts as a counterirritant and in a limited and ancient manner systemically—the negligible quantity that may be inhaled as it is vaporized from the heat of the body. Despite labored efforts of certain doctors to make the public believe iodine and other substances are absorbed into the system through the unbroken skin, there is no scientific proof that such absorption occurs.

Among the dangerous and unnecessary items I have seen in family medicine chests or cupboards are such poisons as strychnine, phenol (carbolic acid), corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury), creosol solution, various proprietary mixtures of crude poisons with soap solutions and even a can of lye. The lye was evidently put there by some thoughtless, irresponsible person, but it goes to show how some people tempt fate.

In my judgment the only antiseptics, disinfectants or germicides necessary in the medicine cupboard are an ounce vial of iodine, the USP XIII (2%) and an ounce of boracic acid.

Immediate application of iodine tincture USP XIII (2%) to any cut, scratch or abrasion is the most efficient first aid disinfection, in my judgment. If this is done and the wound immediately covered or dressed with a sterile (germ-free) dressing for protection, no further antiseptic treatment is necessary.

Notwithstanding the momentary smarting or bite caused by iodine, I prefer it to any other antiseptic available for the purpose when I have such an injury.

A single application of iodine or a single coat of it on the skin will rarely cause more than momentary smarting. It is rather repeated applications that sometimes burn or blister.

The momentary bite of a drop of iodine upon a canker sore in the mouth, for instance, seems to be followed by prolonged relief of the soreness attending canker.

"Help, help!" he yelled, "for I can't hold on," and before we could go to his rescue, he dropped about 30 feet to the ground, spraining his ankle.

Actually, he had plenty of strength available, but his fear robbed him of it.

If he had hugged the tree only moderately, the friction of the rough bark against his work shirt, would have stopped his descent. But John was so scared he was practically powerless.

If you think positively and feel confident, your strength is actually greater than when you feel defeated or afraid.

The important things to put into your medicine cupboard are intelligence and common sense and economy, if you expect to get satisfaction and health out of it. Nine out of ten family medicine chests are cluttered with either the store-bought or home-made and equipped, contain items that have no business in such a place.

Among the dangerous and unnecessary items I have seen in family medicine chests or cupboards are such poisons as strychnine, phenol (carbolic acid), corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury), creosol solution, various proprietary mixtures of crude poisons with soap solutions and even a can of lye. 'Longest, Loudest Applause Received by Russia's Flag'

In Rio de Janeiro, the Tenth Baptist World Alliance was held. The Communists, used this meeting to further their propaganda.

Each of the 45 countries presented their flag and quoted scripture. The "Red Flag" received the longest and loudest applause. At the close of the session the pastor of the First Ukrainian Baptist Church of Sao Paulo, Brazil, said, "The red on that flag is the blood of my people."

After the session was over, Khrushchev made the statement: "Life is short and I want to see the Red flag fly over the world in my lifetime."

Three Russian Baptists elected to officers at the World Alliance have been identified as Red agents. These ministers work directly under a major general in the Soviet Secret Police. It is also significant to note that the Moscow Baptist Church is the only Protestant church permitted in a city of eight million people and it is under the complete direction and control of the Communists.

I don't think that God wants Bible-believing Christians or their church associating with a God-hating country as Russia. Are you or your church being used to further the Communist cause?

Harness Racing Marks
Are Expected to Fall

IMLAY CITY — From all present indications, the Eastern Michigan Fair to be held here Monday through Saturday will be the "biggest and best" in its 62-year history. Al Pierce, fair secretary said today.

Already entries are pouring in far above last year's totals, and records for harness racing events are expected to tumble, he reported.

Traditionally, some 75,000 persons attend the fair, sponsored by the Lapeer County Agricultural Assn.

Highlights of the six-day program will include a 4-H livestock show, county firemen's flag of war, dairy show, tractor hauling contest and harness racing under the lights Wednesday through Saturday nights.

Features of Monday's program will be the judging of 4-H and Future Farmers of America departments, the opening of the midway at 6 p.m., raising of the colors at 7:45 and performances of Duper Dan Fleener's Hell Drivers before the grandstand at 8 p.m.

Judging of all Floral Hall department exhibits will take place at 10 a.m. Tuesday. These will include farm produce, canned goods, flowers, grain and baked goods.

According to Pierce, entries still will be accepted in home economics, horticulture, livestock and dairy departments until Saturday.

Entries in racing events must be submitted by 10 a.m. the day before the race the horse is scheduled to race, he said.

A special attraction, new to the fair this year, will be the R. & P. Policy Show to be presented at 2 and 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Over 200 entries are expected in the harness races beginning Wednesday with top drivers from leading tracks including Northville, MRA's Wolverine Race Track, Hazel Park and others.

Featured races Wednesday night will be the 2-year-old filly pace, 3-year-old stud and gelding pace and 1-year-old stake.

Judging of livestock in all departments will be at 10 a.m. Thursday. Cattle entries already are double those of last year and sheep are not far behind, Pierce said.

The tractor-hauling contest is slated for 2 p.m. and the harness races that night will feature the 2-year-old filly pace, the 2-year-old stud and gelding pace and the 2.26 trot.

The automobile and farm machinery parade will take place at 1:30 p.m. Friday, to be followed by children's games, races and contests.

The county firemen's tug-of-war will be at 7:30 p.m. with the harness racing to begin at 8:15. Races will be the 2.26 pace, 2:47 trot and 2:18 pace.

Metamora Set to Cast Ballots on Zoning Law

METAMORA TOWNSHIP — Voters in Tuesday's regular primary election here will make the final decision on a proposed township zoning ordinance which has been the subject of controversy earlier this year.

The ordinance, adopted last January, was scheduled to go into effect Feb. 14, but was blocked by petition signed by 77 residents asking for a vote of the people.

Objectors to the ordinance claimed that it is unfair to persons with farms smaller than 10 acres.

However, Township Clerk Doris Hobbs said at the time that there is nothing in the ordinance prohibiting farming on plots less than 10 acres.

A committee was formed by the Township Board to formulate and distribute a newsletter, explaining the ordinance to voters. The letter was sent out this week.

For Street Improvements
Rochester Awards Contract

ROCHESTER — The 1960 paving, resurfacing and curbing work will be done here by the A and A Asphalt Co. of Birmingham, the Rochester Village Council has decided.

The company was awarded the contract after submitting low bid of $1,060,100. The work includes the village's entire street improvement program for the year.

Another public works project given council approval was a proposal to improve street lighting in Rochester.

The Council also passed an ordinance prohibiting dogs from running loose in the village and gave first reading to a more lenient ordinance concerning house trailers.

Under the new ordinance, disoccupied house trailers could be parked on residential lots by their owners.

Swimming Pool
Law Approved
in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — An ordinance which prohibits construction of swimming pools on lots less than 5,000 square feet in size has been adopted by the Lake Orion Village Council.

A permit must be obtained from the village building inspector before work is started.

In addition, the lot on which the pool is to be built must be surrounded by a fence not less than four feet high. All other regulations in the ordinance are in accordance with rules set down by the Oakland County Health Department.

The village also has adopted the same rules for electrical permits as those approved by the Orion Township Board.

McNutt Rukus

Veto Firing of City's Administrator

SOUTHFIELD — The status of ousted city administrator Robert J. McNutt is still in doubt today.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson said this morning he has no immediate plans to meet with the Council for McNutt. He said he would wait "until tempers on both sides cooled down."

McNutt was fired Monday night in a 4-4 vote by a four-man powers block led by John J. Hollywood. Swanson labeled the dismissal "irresponsible" in that it left the city without management.

The mayor further indicated that he may veto the Council action. He has 10 days under the city charter to do this.

In a 10-page statement read to the Council Monday night, Hollywood charged McNutt with "collusion and deceit" and then proposed that he be fired.

Hollywood was backed by Council President C. Hugh Doherty, Councilmen O. David Edwards and Thomas M. Costello. Councilwoman Mrs. Jean McDonald and Councilman Clarence A. Durbin voted "no."

The sixth councilman, Emanuel Christensen, was on vacation. McNutt denied the charges and walked out of the meeting.

Tug Master Is Fined as Customs Violator

HAMILTON, Ont. —The master of the Melanie Fair, the largest tug on the Great Lakes, was fined $1,000 in Magistrate's Court Monday after pleading guilty to a breach of the Customs Act.

Capt. William Wharton, 37, of Burlington, admitted obtaining equipment and work worth more than $55,000 done on his ship while in Holland.

The ship was seized after Capt. Wharton made a customs report on July 5 without mentioning the repairs or an air-cooled compressor unit.

The tug was released last Friday after Capt. Wharton had paid twice the duty plus taxes, as well as a

More School Bus Deaths, Accidents

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Five persons including three children were killed in accidents involving school buses on Michigan highways last year, state police said.

The figures showed a 12 per cent increase in accidents (one more death) and 15 per cent less injured compared with 1958, the agency said.

Fewer casualties were recorded in "associated" type accidents — those involving persons crossing the roadway before hearing or after getting off a school bus — than in any year since 1944, police said.

The 1959 study covered the first year since a law requiring traffic from both directions to stop when a school bus stopped.

There were 278 accidents actually involving school buses, an increase of 6 per cent, the police said.

But there was a decrease in the number of persons killed in these accidents, and a marked drop in the number of persons injured.

Fidel Still Sick Man

Castro Offers Revolution as Example; Blasts U.S.

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—An ailing Fidel Castro offered his revolution as an example to Latin American countries Tuesday and repeated charges of U.S. aggression against his government. Obviously not fully recovered from his bout with pneumonia, the prime minister looked drawn and haggard as he hourly harangued the crowd. He spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and in the end practically stumbled into the arms of his followers behind him.

Instead of a predicted half million, about 200,000 Cubans straggled through rain, heat and mud-drenched roads to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Castro's revolution—his movement in its birthplace, the Sierra Maestra mountains of eastern Cuba.

Accusing the United States once again of aggression against his regime, Castro said "the principal reason for aggression against our country is to prevent our being an example" to the rest of Latin America.

"We will continue making our fatherland an example that will convert the Andes range into the Sierra Maestra of the continent," he declared.

The Cuban leader also repeated his charge that the proposed new U.S. aid program for Latin America is a bribe to whip up opposition to him.

"The United States says to them, 'We will buy you. We are disposed to pay your price to join us against the Cuban revolution,'" Castro said.

Castro shared the platform with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, father-in-law of the late Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, leftist ex-President of Guatemala; Red China's vice minister of commerce, Lu Hsi-chang; Vladimir Pavlovsk, Czechoslovakia's ambassador to Cuba; and Gen. Alberto Bayo, a former Spanish loyalist leader who taught Castro guerrilla warfare in Mexico.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Philip H. Willkie, son of the late Wendell Willkie, said that he doesn't take his campaign for the Republican vice presidential nomination seriously.

He said his name has been "tossed around" in speculation for the post, but "I do not expect to be nominated."

The Rushville, Ind., attorney is a candidate on the GOP ticket for state superintendent of public instruction in Indiana. He said that while he does not harbor any false hopes for national office this year, he does expect to "stage a fighting campaign" for the state office in the coming campaign in the Hoosier state.

Willkie said he thought the vice presidential nomination lay between Henry Cabot Lodge and Sen. Thurston Morton.

Freud Associate Jung Marks 85th Birthday

KUENSACHT, Switzerland (UPI)—Prof. Carl Gustav Jung, one of the founders of modern psychiatry, celebrated his 85th birthday with his 19 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren Tuesday. The famous Swiss neurologist, early associate of the late Sigmund Freud, has lived in retirement in his lakeside villa more than 10 years. He still enjoys excellent health.

Dag in Belgium On Way to Congo

BRUSSELS (AP)—U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived in Brussels today for a brief round of talks with Belgian officials before going on to the Congo.

Hammarskjöld was to confer with King Baudouin, Premier Gaston Eyskens and Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny before taking another plane this afternoon to the African republic.

The secretary-general came here after three days of talks at U. N. headquarters in New York with Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba. In a joint communiqué issued Tuesday, Lumumba again stressed his government's wish that Belgian troops get out of the Congo as soon as possible.

Israeli Envoy, Family Get Out of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Israeli Ambassador Ariel Levavi, his wife and two daughters, left Tuesday for home.

Levavi was declared persona non grata (unwelcome) by the Argentine government as a consequence of the dispute over the abduction last May of former Nazi official Adolf Eichmann.

The foreign ministry said last week that the abduction was involved in the abduction.

Dewey Retired From Politics

BY BOB CONNIDINE
CHICAGO—Tom Dewey is here, getting a kick out of doing little or nothing.
"I'm permanently retired from politics," the man who lost to F.D.R. in 1944 and to Harry Truman in 1948.

British Record Top Car Output

Go Over Million Mark in Six Months; June Production Beats May
LONDON, (UPI)—British car output made history in June when the output of all classes of vehicles topped the one-million mark in a half-year.
In the six months ended June the total production was 1,033,631 vehicles against 750,226 in the corresponding period of 1959.
June output was 181,174 units against 126,544 for May.
Trucks, buses and other commercial vehicles produced in June numbered 48,384 against 30,623 a year ago this period.
In June, however, auto exports suffered a setback and dipped to 46,000 in that month against some 70,000 in May and 47,500 in June last year.

man in 1948 tells old friends who come upon him — sometimes with a start — in this convention town.
New a member of one of New York's biggest and most successful law firms, the former DA, governor and GOP leader is making important money for the first time in his life.
But the whiff of the smoke-filled room will always be in Tom Dewey's nostrils; as will the appetite to be near the political arena.

116 PCT. FOR NIXON
He is a 116 per cent Nixon man but is being used by the convention bosses to placate those elements opposed to the vice president's presidential ambitions.
Specifically, Dewey will speak to the convention tonight before the nomination of Nixon and the nomination of his running mate.
The expectation is that his appearance and his words will heal such wounds as might be inflicted here and there as the Nixon bandwagon careens through the hall at high speed.
Dewey asked his friend Rockefeller to run for the second spot, and was given the same short answer everybody else received.
There was a time when Dewey was considered a potential secretary of state in a Republican administration. But President Eisenhower was committed to and thoroughly sold on John Foster Dulles.

If a Nixon-Lodge ticket should win in November it is possible that Dewey's name would be revived for this post, if Christian Herter and Douglas Dillon were shelved along with other Eisenhower appointees.
HARD TO SLEEP WELL
A man who twice has been within arm's reach of the presidency must never really sleep well.
One would think that life would be a series of soul-searches, piecing together the little errors of commission and omission without which victory might have been his.
He must count bad breaks instead of sheep before dozing fitfully off, must until his dying day feel in his heart of hearts that the victors were lucky stiff.

'Dutch' Party All Right

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother has been asked to be the best man at a friend's wedding. He would like to give a bachelor party for the bridegroom in a private room of a very nice restaurant here in town.

He wants to make it a "Dutch treat" dinner. That is, he is planning to ask all the men invited to contribute ten dollars. Part of this money is to go toward the payment of the dinner and the remainder is to go toward a purse for the bridegroom.

I told him that I didn't think it was proper for him to invite these men to a party and then ask them to pay for their own dinners, and that if he gave the party it was up to him to pay for it.

He thinks it is perfectly all right to do as he suggests as he cannot afford to give the party alone. Please give me your opinion of this as I don't want him to be criticized later for having done the wrong thing.

Answer: If the men that are invited agree to the "Dutch treat" dinner and to the amount each is to contribute, no one will criticize your brother for having organized it. Any money left over should be used to buy a present for the bridegroom and not given to him as a purse.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am badly crippled with arthritis and it is very difficult for me to get up. When a woman is presented to me, would I be considered very rude if I did not rise?

Answer: You need do no more than start to get up and then if the woman doesn't sense your difficulty and say, "Oh please don't get up," you may quite properly say with a smile, "I'm very sorry, but getting up is so difficult for me."

Dear Mrs. Post: When a group of women go out to drink and they have one drink at the bar while waiting for a table is it a tip to the bartender in order?

Answer: Yes.

One year ago five area women became good friends while awaiting the birth of their babies at Pontiac General Hospital. Later, when each was presented a pink baby girl bundle, the mothers decided to keep in touch with one another to observe their infants' development. Tuesday the group got together for a pleasant afternoon of teeth, hair, weight, shoe size and first word comparing.

Fickle Fashion Foils Females

By GAY PAULEY

UP Women's Editor

PARIS (UPI) — We women no longer get our hemlines all taken up than, whoops, Paris hauls 'em down again. And just about the time we get our psyches adjusted to the rush of the 1960s, Paris pushes us back into the leisurely pace of the 1930s.

Fickle fashion, in other words, is at it again—off on a new cycle which this year means a lot of return to the old.

So look for skirts one to two inches longer than last year and to the revival of the sleek, straight hairdos, the hair-covering hats, the wraparound coats, and the loosely-fitted silhouette of the pre-World War II days when Carole Lombard instead of Brigitte Bardot was setting styles.

Shower Fetes Anastasia

Anastasia Savvas was honored at a bridal shower in an Oriental garden setting Sunday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William P. Gregory on West Huron street.

The honoree's sister Mrs. Fred P. Samra of Detroit was cohostess.

Among the guests were the bride-elect's mother Mrs. Azarias Savvas of Liberty street and Mrs. John Phillips of Toledo and Mrs. Gus Johnson of Royal Oak mother and godmother of her fiancé.

Also present were Mrs. Abraham Ryerson, Evelyn Ryerson, Christine George, Mrs. Abraham Etanides, Mrs. Abraham Savas, Mrs. Sorates V. Sekles, Mrs. Peggy Tsanis, Mrs. John Tsanis, Mrs. Ray Pace, Mrs. Paul Mitchell, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Nicholas, Mrs. Phil Christ and Mrs. Basil Kirako.

Others were Stella Williams, Helen Blades, Mrs. Kenneth Davis, Mrs. Sam Savas, Mrs. William Coulacos, Mrs. Pantelides, Mrs. Edward Oliver, Mrs. Nick Papadopoulos, Mrs. Stephen Sorates, Mrs. Theodore Brown, Mrs. Peter Karakos, Mrs. Nick Vakeith, Elizabeth and Bethania Gregory.

The list concludes with Mrs. Andreas Sicas of Toledo, Mrs. James Prokos of Waterford Township, Mrs. George Samra and Doreen Griffin of Detroit and Mrs. Nicholas T. Mitchell of West Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Fred P. Samra's will serve as the sister-in-law of the bride-elect's mother when her sister marries George Mitchell, Sept. 1 in St. George's Greek Orthodox Church.

Bethania Gregory will serve as her cousin's bridesmaid, with Christine George, Evelyn Ryerson and Antigone Papantolha.

Snip, Snip, Snip and Dior Shows the Kneecaps

PARIS (AP) — Designer Yves Saint Laurent of Dior dropped a fashion bomb today by chopping skirts off short enough to show the kneecap and dropping the waistline nearly to the bottom of the hips.

Huets were flattened and waists swallowed up.

The line was basically a sack, or chemise, with a low-slung bag tucked on at the bottom.

Jackets, too, were dropped drastically to the bottom of the hip where gathered-on melon skirts took over. Skirts were moderately tucked in at the hem, which usually hit mid-knee level.

Saint Laurent did not baptize his new shape with a name, but it looked a bit like a bomb or elongated-melon. It always hung on a long, slack mid-thigh top.

These were among the fall and winter fashion trends which developed on the opening day of a week-long series of shows by members of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne (The Union of Parisian Dress Designers).

Shown Tuesday: A batch of oddities in this big business of women's wear. Pierre Balmain, Jacques Heim, president of the chamber, Nina Ricci, and others.

Designer Pierre Cardin, whose name was with the house of Christian Dior, was yesterday's strongest exponent of the long, everted and the return to an era which many of you reading this are too young to remember.

Cardin dropped hemlines about two inches from last year's level so the knee-cap is amply covered. Jacques Griffe and Jean Paton were more cautious, lowering their one-half to one inch.

Shoulders were natural. Dresses and suits with hip-length jackets slung over the body lightly, never hugging too closely. Waistlines were not sharply defined, but indicated with scallop insets or intricate sewing.

Most daytime costumes of the new season continued the slim line. But watch for gentle flare here and there.

Both Cardin and Paton featured the wrap-around look for ease in movement. The Cardin coats not only had to be latched together at the front to keep out winter breezes, but also had huge, fur-trimmed collars wrapped high and close about the neck.

Paton's head designer, German-born Roland Karl, carried the wrap-around theme right from suits through late day and formal clothes. A corset technique was the wrap-over skirts, with one layer of fabric overlaying another smoothly.

Touchees and the 1930's showed at Jacques Griffe also. Lines of the costume followed the body naturally, the firm said, obeying what the texture of the fabric itself demanded.

Adequate Light Means a Lot at Beauty Time

To insure beautiful and flawless results when making-up, your face should be flooded with light as you apply your various beauty requisites.

According to a beauty authority, unless you can see every stroke of make-up that you apply, and are able to see the colors in their true shades, your make-up application will fall short of perfection.

If you are making-up for daytime, apply your requisites near a window where the light steams in to guide you. If this is not convenient, light up your dressing table with bright daylight electric lights and check the results in front of a window before going out.

Fete Millers' 30th Year

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Otis H. Miller of River court, Waterford, have been invited to the couple's 30th wedding anniversary open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Guests from the Pontiac area, Detroit and Columbus, Ga., are expected to attend. At 10 a.m. that morning in St. Benedict Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. Robert F. Wyager will officiate at a blessing of the wedding.

Following the Saturday afternoon ceremony, the Millers will begin a two-week motor trip to Florida, where they will vacation with Mrs. Miller's father, former Pontiac resident Frank Bertoli of Lakesworth.

Six County Offices Sought by Nine Dems

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Nine Democratic candidates seeking six local county offices have the primary spotlight all to themselves, while six unopposed Republican incumbents watch from the sidelines.

As in 1958, the nomination race for prosecutor is about the only contest that has enlivened the usually uninteresting scene.

Two Bloomfield Township neighbors are after the Democratic nomination for prosecutor, and one of them is campaigning as though he's in the Nov. 8 election.

In an exchange of letters and public appearances, George F. Fulkerson, a 32-year-old Birmingham attorney, has criticized Republican incumbent George F. Taylor for not sufficiently carrying out the duties of his $13,500-a-year job.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE:

This type of campaigning—in which Fulkerson has a family behind him nearly as large as that which won Sen. John F. Kennedy the presidential nomination—is usually reserved until after the primary.

Prosecutor by judicial appointment since December, Taylor refuses Fulkerson's charges, among them that Taylor "mis-handled" a 1958 gambling conspiracy case and isn't protecting the public from business frauds.

Taylor likes to point out the benefits of his "Old the Record Court" whereby juveniles escape criminal records for minor non-violence offenses.

Staying out of the crossfire is Fulkerson's opponent for the nomination, Alvin S. Rappaport, 46-year-old attorney and former chief civilian administrator for the War Department during World War II. Twice an unsuccessful candidate for the Birmingham Board of Education, Fulkerson was one of the first to enter the county race in January. He received the backing of his Bloomfield Democratic Club.

In a crusade to get his neighbors to back him, Fulkerson believed he had Rappaport's good will. Much to his surprise, several weeks later he found his neighbor to be his opponent.

It's been some time since the GOP incumbent team has had a primary with no opposition whatsoever.

And it's been some time longer than they wish to recall—that Oakland Democrats have been able to unseat the courthouse officeholders.

Franklin E. Morris, presently a Ferndale attorney, has the honor with his party. He was prosecutor last in 1953.

SEE TIDE TURNING

Local Democrats see the tide turning. They cite figures showing GOP winning margins narrowing over the years.

They've returned two 1958 nominees to the primary wars in an attempt to loosen the GOP stranglehold.

One, John E. Kronenberg, 37, manager of the Berkeley secretary of state's office, faces some strong opposition if he is to grab off the nomination a second time.

This competition comes from David S. Lees, 42-year-old Troy salesman for a food service company and former troubleshooter for Local 42 of the Office Employees International Union (AFL-CIO) as well as International representative of the Seafarers International Union (AFL-CIO).

With this background, Lees easily won endorsement of the Oakland County AFL-CIO and a "qualified" tag from a splinter group of the county Democratic Committee headed by Mrs. Harriett Phillips of Huntington Woods.

Kronenberg opposes it as being a special interest group for labor. Its existence is expected to play a role in the outcome of the primary and November balloting.

SECOND IS UNOPPOSED

The second nominee of two years ago is William K. Benson, 31-year-old Ford Motor Co. millwright from Rochester. Benson is unopposed in the primary for the office of county treasurer.

And well he might be, for his fight will come in November when he tries again to unseat the granddaddy of the Republican ticket—Charles A. Sparks, who has held the office of treasurer consecutively since 1933.

The Democratic race for county sheriff takes on a new light as this year, George D. Hicks is in the contest as nominee as well as challenger.

He was in 1952, 1954, 1956 and two years ago. Unopposed for the nomination is Homer Hight, 53, an Oxford auto dealer and for 20 years a plant protection officer for Pontiac Motor Division.

The candidate served a year as a deputy under former Sheriff Frank Schram.

He has three years (1954-57) on the Oxford Village Council. This is Hight's only other attempt at winning a public office.

He will oppose Sheriff Frank W. Russell, 30, former Berkeley chief of police; has been sheriff since 1955.

In the third two-man Democratic race for one of the six county office nominations, an elementary school teacher from Hazel Park and a civil engineer from Pontiac Township are vying for the drain commissioner nomination.

Both making their first bids for public office, they are Sol Plafkin, 30, and Roy J. Russell, 30, in charge of engineering activities for a Birmingham firm of consulting civil engineers and land surveyors. The winner will go against Daniel W. Barry, drain commissioner, on Nov. 8.

Plafkin said he learned the drainage problem of a community when he served as city hall reporter for the Ypsilanti Daily Press in 1953 and 1956.

He says what the county needs in the office he's seeking is "a secretary-general of a small United Nations." "The county is losing millions of dollars due to the Republican incumbent's failure to make cities and townships in area-wide projects such as the 13-Town Drain," he said.

Russell calls for a "fair and equalized apportionment of costs for drain improvement" assessments, based 100 per cent on benefits derived from said improvements.

Plafkin also makes this a point of his platform. Last comes the less-known office of county surveyor.

The Democratic nomination is already in the grasp of Stanley F. Dunn, 43-year-old engineer with the Chrysler Corp. and treasurer of the Bloomfield Democratic Club. He is unopposed.

He'll match votes in November with Ralph S. Main, surveyor since 1956 and former drain commissioner.

Fights Rail Transport Loss

Kent County Looks Ahead, to Build a New Airport

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A community which serves as the industrial and commercial hub of Western Michigan determined recently it would not lose this distinction.

Grand Rapids, the core city of Kent County, faced a continuing drop in railroad transportation and the inadequacy of its airport. To meet the problem, Kent County voters June 7 approved construction of a $6,997,000 airport—one of the most modern facilities in the nation.

Grand Rapids, as most of Michigan, is off the beaten path with respect to highway and railroad travel. Air transportation, it was decided, is the city's only direct link with other manufacturing centers in the county.

Kent County Airport officials asked expert advice on improving its position in air transportation. The Federal Aviation Agency suggested the county give consideration to moving to another location.

NEW SITE USED

Consultants, among the finest in the nation, recommended Kent County abandon its 80-acre site in a congested area and build an airport in Cascade Township, a residential farm area southeast of Grand Rapids.

The Cascade site consists of 1,500 acres surrounded by rolling farmland instead of congested residential districts, schools, churches and factories.

It is 11½ miles from downtown. The new U.S. 16 expressway is just one mile away and the trip can be made in 20 minutes or less to the heart of Grand Rapids.

Exhaustive cost surveys showed the new airport would require expenditures totaling $6,997,000, and that the cost to Kent County taxpayers would be $3,975,000. Federal and state grants would cover the balance.

To finance the local cost it was decided to ask voters to approve a general obligation bond issue. The bonds were to be retired by levying two-fifths of a mill for 17 years.

It also was determined that the county would realize about two million dollars from the sale of the present airport which would be used to retire the bonds.

The airport and financing program were not put over without a fight. Opponents strongly denounced any talk of relocating the facility and denied the improvement could be accomplished within the financial structure proposed.

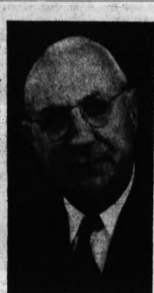

GENEVA—The world malaria-casualty total has been cut in half, from 300,000,000 to 150,000,000 cases per year in the 12 years since the World Health Organization began fighting it.

State Collects Yearly Fee

Deadline on Registration Near for Airplane Owners

LANSING (UP)—Airplane owners in Michigan have until Sunday to register their craft with the State Aeronautics Department.

But no long line—such as the ones that form for automobile licenses—are expected to form. The department expects more than 2,100 registrations to come in by mail.

"Registration serves the same purpose for aircraft owners that licensing does for cars," said Fred L. Waite, director of operations for the Aeronautics Department.

"The plane owners are relieved of the personal property tax on their aircraft."

MAXIMUM $50

Fees range from $150 for a special experimental model to a maximum of $50 for any size aircraft.

Owners pay one-half cent a pound empty weight. The smallest standard craft costs $3.50 to register, officials said.

The airplane must be airworthy before it can be registered.

Federal regulations call for inspections and specific conditions that constitute airworthiness.

An airworthiness certificate from the U. S. government is accepted as proof for state purposes, Waite said.

"We do send out a question card that brings in general information on what type equipment a plane has," he said.

HELPS PLAN FUTURE

"This helps us in planning for the future development of aviation throughout the state. It also tells us the size of the plane and the airport where it is kept," he said.

"It means we could pick up the airplane at a moment's notice and use it in case of an emergency."

The number of planes registered has been growing at the rate of about 150 to 175 aircraft a year for the last several years, he said.

The completion for the 1959-60 flying year—just compiled from the information cards received last year—showed some 308,357 hours of business flying and 367,500 hours of pleasure flying in Michigan.

Officials said the figures might not be too accurate because of breakdowns in the reporting system—but the ratio was about right and was expected to hold true for the 1960-61 flying year.

Area Boys Top Threats for U.S. Skeet Honors

Late summer, and approach of the early fall outdoor season, find the area, state and national shotgunners pointing for annual skeet and trap championship events.

It has been noted, almost everywhere the scattergunners congregate, that youngsters are burgeoning their way into the top divisions. The lists are filled, more than ever before, with capable, expert youthful performers. They are crowding the veterans, and it will take some exceptional efforts on the part of the old-timers to get a look-in at the big titles.

Indications of this youthful upsurge in the shotgun fields, were clearly seen in the National Skeet Championships here (OCS) several years ago.

The youngsters who took the spotlight then, are now rolling along at the top, this year. For the forthcoming NSSA world skeet championships, again at the Lynn-Haven, N.J. Princess Anne club, are three top youngsters, who had their big start here.

BROWN BROTHERS, SHULEY HIGHLY REGARDED

At one of the several Nationals held here, 11-year-old Eddie Brown, of Birmingham was a sensation. He has continued that course up to now, and is regarded a real threat for world honors.

Older brother Bud Brown is highly rated, along with the lad that also got his big start in Nationals at OCS's field.

Bob Shuley, Roselle, Ill., is mentioned as the "big" threat, a high-shooting star ever since he blossomed out at OCS. Minor Clisset, 16, from Childersburg, Ala., highest junior average marksman in 1959, an all-around .974 (4,727x4,850), is another who performed here.

Among the honors these youngsters have achieved this year was a sweep of the recent Great Western Open. Bud Brown took the 20-gauge, Eddie the small-gauge. Bud (Leland) is 16, Eddie 15. Shuley won the all-around and sub-small titles, and Dave Hussey, 17, of Chicago the all-gauge.

The Nationals run July 31-Aug. 5.

PREPS FOR STATE SHOOT WITH HOT ROUNDS

More along the shooting line.

Area scattergunners are getting in practice rounds for the state shotgun championships, Aug. 13-14, at Williams Gun club, Davison, and among them is the 1959 women's champion.

"Yes, I'll be back after a 2nd championship," says personable Jennavene (Mrs. Arthur W.) Oesch of Pontiac. "But it's going to be a difficult job, with all that competition." Mrs. Oesch (see accompanying photo) named Vida Vandergriff of Waterford, Eileen Griffey of Owosso, young Janet Leonard from OCS's, Wilma Dell of Pontiac, and Muriel Pace, also from Pontiac, as competent opponents.

But she carried her best series of practice rounds first of the week, a 19-bird field total, 21 from the traps and 22 on the skeet field. Pretty good shooting!

This observer is also informed that all others of last year's divisional titlists will defend their crowns, including Bob Uptegraft, men's champ, John Webster (junior) and the two-man team, Stu Fleming and Tom Loucks.

Little anglers and big dogfish have been having their innings around area lakes, like 6-year-old Craig West, son of George and Elizabeth West, 1910 Warwick, Sylvan Lake. Craig was fishing with a miniature casting rod, with a worm for bait, in a channel near the home. All of a sudden he had a strike, and when his dad helped him haul in his fish it proved to be a 20-inch 4½-pound dogfish. "If his dad hadn't helped Craig," reported Mrs. West, "that fish might have caught the boy."

Other lucky anglers about the area included Mrs. Hattie (William) Echem, 1231 Stanley, who took a 12-inch calico bass on Woodhull Lake.

Ted Villella, 254 S. Padlock, fishing at Art Twor's Pine Lake spot took a 26½-inch, 4-pound pike, and Charles Feisel, 14901 Lamphere, and son Max landed their limit of bass, crappies and bluegills.

Good fishing is reported for all Oakland county waters. Lakeville Lake, is one producer, with Harriett Johnson, 447 Emerson, Pontiac, getting a 5-pound, 13-ounce largemouth, despite a bad backlash on her reel. The fish hit whig the tangle was being unwound.

Earl Morrall of the Detroit Lions ranked second in the overall passing statistics for the 1959 National Football League with a mark of 8.01 yards average gain per attempt.

State to Name Angling Champ

HOUGHTON LAKE, Mich. — Plans for a Michigan State Fishing Contest to determine a champion to represent the state in the 1960 Fresh Water World Series of Sport Fishing next October were announced today at International Headquarters here.

Local champions of competitions throughout the state will be eligible for the Michigan state finals at Houghton Lake over the weekend of Sept. 18-19.

Champions and challengers from each participating state and nation — about 100 masters of rod and reel representing more than 30 million anglers in the United States and millions more from abroad — will meet in the World Series tour, embracing a half-dozen famous fishing states and alternating targets daily to include muskie, bass, rainbow trout, lake trout, pike and perch.

Sportman's Showcase at Houghton Lake, new International Headquarters for the World Series, will be host at the final awards dinner where the new world's champion sport fisherman will receive the championship trophy, sponsored by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

WILDWOOD MUSKIE — Some years ago a number of muskies were planted in Wildwood lake, in the Holly Recreation area. Most fishermen have forgotten about them. Irving Atkinson, 1072 Meadowlawn, was fishing for bass when he discovered they were there. The fine, big fish was 26 inches long, nearly 12 pounds in weight, the fisherman's biggest fish in 23 years of angling.

Fast Harness Field at Inlay Fair

Track Record Looms

"The best horses, the best drivers, and probably the best racing in the Eastern Michigan Fair track will have in many years," announced fair secretary, Al Piercel, of Inlay City, discussing the four-night race meet that starts next Wednesday (Aug. 3) at 8 p.m.

It's just possible, he may be correct, since many of the best in the state, winners in Michigan's famed two and three-year-old stakes racing, will be at the route-53 fairground to prove his point.

The 2:07 record for the half-mile oval, set by the pacer, Carolyn Grattan, in 1957, could be a mean feat for the new track, which will be in good condition and men working their horses fast this is the year for a new mark.

Fans of America's fastest growing sport will have an opportunity to do plenty of cheering during the 62nd annual fair since there will be 24 heats of exciting racing.

Trotters and pacers, ranging from eager two-year-olds colts and fillies to the raceway-experienced stallions and mares, which have as much as $15,000 in their bank accounts, will show their flying heels.

Bruck Stewart of Flint will be the presiding judge, Paul Craig of Caro, one of the best with the mobile starting gate, will handle the fields on the track, and Jack Calvert of Inlay City, a chap with excitement in his voice will describe the races over the public address system.

Post-time for first races, next Wednesday and Thursday will be 8 p.m., while starting time will be 8:10 on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 5-6.

Catches Biggest Bluegill

Richard A. Blom, Holly panfish angler, holds the unusual distinction in these parts of being the current leader in two separate fishing contests.

On June 21 he landed a 1-pound, 5-ounce (10½-inch bluegill) to assume the top spot in The Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby." He's still in front.

The same fish was entered for the OCS contest, led the June entries and won a $25 merchandise certificate. And it is still in the running for the grand prize.

A yellow puffer bug was the lure, a favorite with Blom. Second place went to a 15-ounce gill entered by Grace Westfall, also of Holly.

The OCS contest runs through July and August, with awards for heaviest fish to be made each month. It is open to any Michigan resident and entry blanks can be secured from most area sports-goods stores.

Red Sox Recall Catcher

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today announced the recall of catcher Jim Pagliaroni from Spokane of the Pacific Coast League.

To make room for him, the Red Sox sent catcher Ed Sadowski to Spokane.

Eagles Begin Workouts With 48 in Camp Today

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League begin full workouts today with 48 players in camp.

Absent will be Marion Campbell, veteran defensive tackle, who must undergo a leg operation Thursday for the removal of a calcium growth. Club officials estimate he will be out four weeks.

But she carried her best series of practice rounds first of the week, a 19-bird field total, 21 from the traps and 22 on the skeet field. Pretty good shooting!
