Journal Says Super Jet Has Spied on Reds

Magazine's Claim of Reconnaissance Is Denied by Official

WASHINGTON (AP) —The aviation trade journal which kept the secret of the A11 said today the supersonic jet "has already flown long-range reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Officials would not comment for publication on the report in the current edition of Aviation Week & Space Technology.

But one of them, declining use of his name, said "The A11 has not flown any reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Existence of the A11, under development for five years, had been one of the government's best-kept secrets until President Johnson removed the wraps at a news conference Feb. 29.

★ ★ ★

Defense officials praised the trade journal for keeping the secret of the A11 after finding out about it.

U2 SUCCESSOR

There has been speculation that the A11 was designed to succeed the U2, a high-flying reconnaissance plane used on spy missions over Communist territory.

Johnson called the A11 an experimental aircraft and said it was undergoing tests to determine its capability as a long-range interceptor.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called the A11 an interceptor aircraft, said it was being developed as such and declined to comment further on its use.

★ ★ ★

But in an editorial accompanying its article on the A11, Aviation Week said the jet is not a fighter-interceptor aircraft.

RECONNAISSANCE

It is designed mainly for long-range high altitude reconnaissance, the magazine said.

★ ★ ★

The Journal said the A11 has hit speeds of 2,300 miles an hour and is the first military plane to sustain a speed of about 2,000 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

"During operations over the past two years it has proved its ability to out-fly any air defense system now in operational use," the article said.

Weekend Weather Was Woefully Wet

Weekend weather seemed to weep at the approach of spring for we had 1½ inches of precipitation in rain and snow.

Precipitation in the next five days should total over half an inch. Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 41 and low of 26.

★ ★ ★

The temperatures stayed at the freezing point before 8 this morning and rose to 34 by 2 p.m.

Man Arrested in LBJ Threats

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A 32-year-old ex-Marine was held today after allegedly admitting he had mailed threatening letters to President Johnson.

Authorities said Norman J. Estes of Nashua told them he had planned to go to Washington, buy a rifle and await an opportunity to shoot the President.

Estes waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner yesterday and was held in $2,000 bail.

★ ★ ★

Nashua Police Chief Paul J. Tracy said Estes admitted mailing three threatening letters to Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Chief Tracy said Estes signed a statement admitting he wrote two letters to Washington and one to Boston threatening the President's life.

He quoted Estes as saying he had received a general discharge from the Marines and had lost several jobs when his service record became known.

A general discharge is considered less than honorable.

Estes was classified as a "sharpshooter" in rifle shooting in the Marines, officials said.

Police said he was separated from his wife and was living with his brother.

For Alcatraz Island

Sioux'll Be Suing

WANT IT BACK—Many moons ago, the American government took over the Island of Alcatraz in the San Francisco Bay. Many bad palefaces were kept there under guard, until recently. Now the island is almost deserted and a group of Sioux have claimed the land under an 1868 treaty granting them the right to claim land "not used for a specific purpose."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five Sioux Indians who landed on Alcatraz and staked claims to the island site of the abandoned federal prison said last night that they withdrew under threat by the angered warden in charge of a six-man caretaker garrison.

"But we achieved our purpose staking out our claim," said their leader, Allen Cottier, 42, of San Leandro, Calif. He is president of the San Francisco Bay area branch of the American Indian Council.

"We left under threat of violence by the warden," Cottier declared. "He said these guys are going to get out of here or they are going to be scratched up."

ASKED TO LEAVE

Warden Richard Willard said, "I told their attorney, 'If anything happens and any of my people get scratched up, that's a felony.' I asked them again to leave and they did."

Dixie Senators Map Strategy on Rights Bill

Southerners Muster Forces for Struggle Against Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern opponents called a strategy session today in advance of the start of an expected lengthy Senate battle over a broad new civil rights bill.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces who have fought similar legislation in the past, called his supporters to a closed meeting.

Some senators said the floor struggle may last for weeks or even months, but few were trying to predict how or when it will end.

The 10-point measure, which cleared the House 290 to 130 four weeks ago and has President Johnson's firm support, represents a broad attempt to advance the rights of Negroes.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana will make the first move soon after the Senate convenes with a simple motion to consider the bill.

The motion is debatable, and the Southerners have said they will be ready to debate it, perhaps for longer than a week.

This raises the possibility of a double filibuster on the motion to take up the bill, then on the bill itself.

In past civil rights skirmishes Dixie forces usually permitted adoption of consideration motions after brief flurries of opposition.

The Southerners have been reluctant to run the risk of a successful cloture—the Senate's debate shutoff procedure — at the outset.

The civil rights battle is expected to shut down gradually all other Senate business.

But leaders said they would not schedule extra-long sessions at the outset, and some committees plan to operate this week.

RECOVERING BODY — Workers uncover auto in which Mrs. Lucille Hruby, 56, of Oak Park, Ill., was killed during the weekend when a semitrailer truck loaded with dirt tipped over on her car in Des Plaines, Ill. Police said the load apparently shifted while the truck was making a sharp turn at a three-way intersection. The truck also hit a second car, injuring the driver.

Rocky Takes Final Swings at Goldwater and Lodge

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller fired off final salvos against Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Arizona, and Henry Cabot Lodge as the New Hampshire presidential primary campaign rolled toward tomorrow's voting climax.

Obviously reflecting a reported surge in the write-in drive for Lodge, Rockefeller spent as much time at a final news conference criticizing the U.S. Ambassador to South Viet Nam as he devoted to attacks on the views of Goldwater, who is on the ballot with him.

Goldwater and Lodge were not in the state as Rockefeller campaigned down to the wire in an election which was clouded by the existence of many undecided voters.

★ ★ ★

There was in the air the feeling that when Republicans wrestle with the most complex ballots in New Hampshire preferential primary history tomorrow, some upset may result.

NO PREDICTION

Rockefeller declined to guess how at least three major opponents will finish in the contest with him.

Besides the write-in for Lodge, there is an active write-in campaign for Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 party presidential nominee.

In response to questions, Rockefeller said that while it might not be so intended, a substantial vote for Lodge in tomorrow's balloting might be taken as an endorsement of the Johnson administration's actions in South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

He said the administration certainly would try to put that face on it.

VIET NAM

Rockefeller was asked about Goldwater's campaign statement that the United States should consider bombing the Communist supply lines from North Viet Nam. The governor said that no one knew enough about the situation to be sure the Viet Cong supplies were coming principally from North Viet Nam.

How the contestants come out in an election which is likely to see upwards of 100,000 Republicans cast their votes could affect the GOP presidential nomination contests in other parts of the nation.

For Goldwater, the conservative, and Rockefeller, the moderate, there was the psychological need to win this contest, their first outing.

On the Democratic side, some 35,000 votes might be cast if the weather continues mild.

There existed a feeling of uneasiness among supporters of President Johnson that a write-in campaign for him and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy possibly might give the latter an edge in the number of votes.

Senator Seeks Second Term

Hart to Run; Milliken in Lt. Governor Race

By The Associated Press

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today he would "seek the permission" of the people of Michigan to continue in the U.S. Senate.

Hart announced that he would seek a second term at a press conference in a downtown Detroit hotel.

In Lansing, State Sen. William Milliken, R - Traverse City, today announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor as a running mate for Gov. George W. Romney.

★ ★ ★

LBJ WIN

In a question and answer session after his reelection announcement, Hart said he thought President Johnson would "win big" if he sought reelection. Hart also said he would be "proud to run with Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., or anyone of his caliber."

Hart, D-Mich., has already been feted at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner in Washington, with the funds apparently earmarked for his second attempt at election to the U.S. Senate. Hart of Mackinac Island began his first six-year term in 1959.

Meanwhile, the Democrats said they anticipate several Michigan visits by President Johnson in the late spring or early summer.

Chinese Woman Dies; Unconscious 6½ Years

HONG KONG (AP)— A 35-year-old Chinese woman died yesterday after lying in a Hong Kong hospital unconscious for more than 6½ years.

The woman, Tsao Huh Teh, a nurse and midwife, lost consciousness in October 1957, during a Caesarean operation. Since then, she lived on liquid food channeled into her stomach through a plastic tube.

Plan Includes Training for 17-Year-Olds

Aims War on Poverty at Youths Who Fail Army Entrance Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his War on Poverty a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, an official source reported today.

These subjects for the War on Poverty, the source said, will be the 500,000 each year who fail the Army's general classification test. They will be given a chance to enter special work schools where they will take special education and vocational courses.

This is a key provision in the message on poverty, expected to go to Congress today or tomorrow.

Sources close to the planning said the change would have no effect on the likelihood or timing of actual call-up of the younger registrants, for service in the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

Draft calls are filled from the ranks of the oldest eligibles, with those in the lower 20's being called now.

SIZE OF POOL

The 17-year-olds found qualified for service would increase the size of the pool of eligibles but they would be at the bottom of the list, as 18-year-olds are now.

Searching for a practical approach to the problem of school dropouts, the task force assisting Sargent Shriver, head of the War on Poverty, decided the draft was the ideal screening device to pinpoint young men who need extra help.

All youngsters must take a general psychological and intel-

Delta Toured by McNamara

HOA HAO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made a hedgehopping tour of South Viet Nam's Communist-infested Mekong River delta today telling cheering crowds he had come to pledge America's full support for their new leader, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

The tour was marred by the crash of a U.S. Army helicopter escorting him here. Two American crewmen were killed.

At another stop, at Can Tho, McNamara arrived while smoke still was rising from a burning gasoline depot demolished by Communist Viet Cong mortar fire during the night.

★ ★ ★

McNamara spent most of the day trying to make friends, and to influence people to get behind Premier Khanh in the war against the Communists.

With Khanh, whose hand McNamara often held up in the boxer's victory signal, he spoke under a blistering sun in town squares, from a balcony, and at a pagoda belonging to the Buddhist sect called Hoa Hao. The sect, which was founded 25 years ago, was named after this village, 100 miles west of Saigon.

To a Holy Woman of the sect, he brought an American hearing aid, and was given a copy of the Hoa Hao Bible in exchange.

At Can Tho, McNamara made a donation in behalf of the U.S. government of 500,000 piastres —$6,800—for 3,000 victims of a fire that swept a slum quarter last week.

★ ★ ★

McNamara did not see the crash of the helicopter which was flying security cover for his mission.

LEARNED LATER

It occurred a few minutes after he and Khanh had walked away from their landing pad. He learned of it later, after speaking to an enthusiastic crowd, and his appearance turned grim.

Officials said the helicopter lost power while making a low-altitude sweep of the landing pad area. The pilot and copilot survived, but two enlisted men manning the helicopter's guns were killed.

The helicopter was a turbine-powered UH1B, the same type in which McNamara and Khanh were riding.

This was McNamara's second day of his visit to this war-troubled Southeast Asian nation. After briefings yesterday in Saigon, he took off this morning for a firsthand look at the countryside where Communist Viet Cong guerrillas have been waging successful warfare in the last four months.

Vietnamese military sources said Khanh laid a new battle plan before McNamara Sunday night calling for the shifting of troops from relatively calm areas in the north to the river delta.

Vandals Strike Area Schools

Bagley, Bethune and Rochester High Hit

Two Pontiac elementary schools and the Rochester High School were vandalized over the week-end.

Pontiac police discovered the break-ins at the Bethune and Bagley schools early this morning. The high school damage was reported to the sheriff's department yesterday morning.

A glass cutter was used to enter the Bethune school, 154 Lake. All the rooms were slightly ransacked.

★ ★ ★

Milk and cookie cartons littered the gym floor. Two windows were broken in the gym as well as several strikers on a piano.

FORCED DOOR

At the Bagley School, 320 Bagley, the vandals entered the building by forcing a steel door to the boiler room.

Each room on the first and second floor was partially ransacked. A new addition to the building was not disturbed.

Glue was splattered on the gym floor and a glass door in the gym storage office was smashed.

Vegetables were tossed about the kitchen.

BURNED GLOVE

Police found a man's glove burned on the main office floor. Some change also was taken.

The Bethune break-in was discovered at 2 a.m., and the Bagley damage, a half hour later.

Damage at the Rochester school, 180 Livernois, Avon Township, was mostly confined to broken windows. Eight 3 by 6 foot panes, valued at $50 each, were smashed throughout the building.

Desks and metal cabinets in the publications room and counseling office were pried open.

Police said a window was broken to gain entry, after an attempt with a glass cutter failed.

AIRLINER HITS HOUSE — A chartered DC3 airliner rests with its nose embedded in a house in Hoffman Estates, a northwest Chicago suburb early this morning. The copilot, Daniel Jordon of Gary, Ind., was killed. The six residents of the house escaped injury.

Latin Plane Crash Kills 25; 1 Dead in Chicago Landing

By The Associated Press

Two airliner crashes last night, one near Chicago, the other near Bogota, Colombia, killed a total of 26 persons. A third airliner made an emergency landing on a foam - covered runway at Boston early today. No one was hurt.

Twenty - eight passengers walked away from the Chicago crash, but the copilot was killed and the pilot critically injured when the chartered DC3 plowed into a two-story home. Six occupants in the home escaped injury.

The two - engine plane, returning passengers from a skiing trip at Boyne Mountain, Mich., was attempting to land at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather.

Fire Chief Carl Selka said the pilot, Virgil Provost, 40, told him as he was nearing O'Hare Airport he entered a patch of air turbulence.

All 25 persons aboard a Colombian airliner, also a DC3, apparently perished in a crash 18 miles south of Bogota. Authorities said there were reports of an explosion aboard the craft, en route from Pereira to Bogota.

At Boston's Logan International Airport, a Trans World Airlines Constellation made an emergency landing after the pilot reported trouble getting his nose wheel down.

The four - engine plane carried eight passengers and a crew of five, none of whom was hurt as the plane came to rest with its nose on the ground and its tail in the air. The flight originated in Dayton, Ohio.

Morocco Envoy Knifed to Death on Paris Street

PARIS (AP) — The Moroccan Consul-General in Paris was stabbed to death in a busy street today, not far from the opera.

The victim was Si Benarrabi-Thami, about 35, who was attacked as he left the consulate on Rue des Pyramides. Police arrested a Moroccan painter at the scene.

Oumoal Ydr, Moroccan janitor in the consulate building, said the painter had made several trips to the consulate recently in an effort to get a passport. Ydr told a reporter he watched Benerrabi-Thami leave the building and start to walk across the street.

"I went back into the building, but then heard a woman screaming from an upper floor," he said. "I went back outside and saw Benerrabi-Thami sprawled near a parked car."

ligence test when they register for the draft at 18.

"There are some 500,000 youngsters each year who fail this test," the high official source said.

"You know if they fail this test, they're probably going to fail any test, and they are probably not going to be able to hold down any decent job.

"If Selective Service hadn't existed, we probably would have had to create it. It's perfect for our purpose. This gives us names and addresses of persons who need help."

Originally, the source said, Shriver wanted to lower the draft age to 16, but technical problems made this impossible.

He added, "that lowering it to 17 gives us a year's head start in trying to reclaim these youths."

The special schools, or academies as they probably will be called, will be similar to the work camps of the old Civilian Conservation Corps in that they will remove underprivileged youngsters from poor home environments.

But instead of concentrating on outdoors work projects as did the CCC of New Deal days, the new academies will lean heavily on education and vocational projects.

To Overcome Unemployment

LBJ Asks Job, Training Drives

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today to mobilize and upgrade its manpower skills in a major effort to wipe out grimly persistent unemployment.

★ ★ ★

"Overcoming that unemployment is the greatest immediate manpower challenge before us" Johnson said in asking Congress for a broad range of legislation to create jobs and train workers.

The federal government cannot do the job alone, Johnson said in his annual manpower report to Congress.

CALLS ON BUSINESS

Calling on business, labor and state and local governments to cooperate in creating an "active manpower policy," the President said: "These programs will take hold and succeed only when we become determined that nothing is to take priority over people."

Johnson's report was accompanied by Labor Department statistics emphasizing the plight of the poorly educated worker in an increasingly technical economy, and the alarmingly high rate of youths who can't find work.

"What is at stake is whether a free democratic economy can attain well-being for the less fortunate as well as the more fortunate of its people," Johnson said, "and whether it can make population growth and technological advance fruitful for all rather than fateful for some."

★ ★ ★

Johnson's message was underscored by latest government figures showing that 800,000 new jobs in February did nothing to dent the nation's 4.5 million jobless total.

NEW WORKERS

The reason is the steadily growing flow of new workers into the labor market, particularly youths. Automated machinery that shrinks job opportunities also plays a part.

Johnson announced "two new major administrative actions" to study the impact of automation, and "to start a continuing top-level assessment of the relation of the government's programs and our country's manpower assets and needs."

★ ★ ★

He asked Congress to enact pending legislation dealing with youth unemployment, education extension of labor laws to include more workers and increased and broadened unemployment insurance.

"Areas of high unemployment must be revitalized," he said. "Overtime work must be examined critically to determine if it is feasible to convert regular and substantial overtime hours into new jobs."

HALF TRAINED

The Labor Department's accompanying report included new figures showing that "only about half of our workers have had formal job training."

Of the 61 million adult workers aged 22 to 64, it said, only 24 million have had some formal job training and 9 million others have been to college three years or more.

★ ★ ★

The other 28 million, or 46 per cent, "have had no formal job training," it said.

Cyprus Battle Raging Again

Greeks, Turks Ignore Attempts at Truce

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots hammered at each other with mortars, automatic weapons and armored bulldozers at Ktima in Western Cyprus today.

They ignored U.N. and British truce force attempts to halt the fighting.

Fires started by shelling raged unchecked in the area. Greek Cypriot authorities said one member of their security forces was killed.

★ ★ ★

There was no report on Turkish casualties, but the British army said five Turkish Cypriot hostages were killed in a nearby town.

ALL WELL ARMED

British sources said both sides appeared well armed and well disciplined. The conflict broke out at dawn, ending a brief truce that followed skirmishes and near riots at Ktima over the weekend.

Greek Cypriot forces claimed they had driven the Turks back from front line positions at the edge of the Turkish quarter, a warren of twisting, narrow streets jammed with small shops and living quarters.

A Greek Cypriot spokesman said the government ordered an "all-out attempt" to impose government authority on the entire town.

★ ★ ★

Fires raged in some parts of the town. British army officials said firemen couldn't get at the flames because of the heavy shooting.

Indians Claim Land on Alcatraz Island

Francisco, to leave but without pulling up stakes.

Leighton explained the Alcatraz invasion was a protest against the 47 cents an acre awarded as a settlement by the government for land taken from California Indians.

He said the claims to the 20-acre rock with 12 usable acres were staked under terms of an 1868 treaty which allowed non-reservation Indians to file for up to 40 acres of government land "not used for a specific purpose."

PAPERS COMPLETED

Leighton said the claim papers were completed on the grim rock in San Francisco Bay and dispatched by registered mail Sunday night to the Federal Land Office in Sacramento and the Land Claiming Office in Washington.

"We'll carry on our case in the courts," he declared.

Cecil Poole, U.S. district attorney, disputed the contention by the Indians and the attorney that the island had reverted to unappropriated land.

"Alcatraz is not abandoned," declared Poole. "It is being maintained.

"I'm sympathetic with the Indian question. But even if they really want Alcatraz, it's not mine to give them."

Those seeking the two three-year commission terms are incumbent Robert W. Page, incumbent Ralph W. Main, Mrs. Patricia Grissom of 1090 Westwood, Stanley Flol of 682 W. Frank, Charles W. Clippert of 1792 Pine and Mrs. Ruth McNamee of 1271 Lakeside.

PUBLIC URGED

The CBRA is encouraging the public to attend the session. The group will hold its first annual meeting after the program.

Alva J. Richardson, Bloomfield Hills justice of the peace for 19 years, plans to retire this spring.

The 70-year-old ex-policeman will, however, wait until the City Commission can appoint his replacement.

Richardson, 101 W. Long Lake, had requested that his retirement become effective April 1, one year shy of the completion of his fifth term.

Clerk Robert J. Stadler was asked to persuade Richardson to retain his post until the commission is reorganized after the April 6 election. Richardson consented.

NEED SUCCESSOR

The City Commission must appoint a successor within 30 days of the justice's resignation.

Richardson was a Bloomfield Hills policeman for 10 years before becoming justice of the peace. Mrs. Alice Gilbert, Bloomfield Township justice of the peace, has been acting for him since last fall because of illness.

Jim Rose, director of housing and community service for the Detroit Commission on Community Relations, will speak at tomorrow night's meeting of the Birmingham - Bloomfield Council on Human Relations.

Rose, author of numerous articles on human relations problems, will speak at 8 p.m. at the Community House.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield group was formed last year for the purpose of "studying and sharing thinking and findings on intergroup relations and developing approaches toward improvement of intergroup relations in the geographical areas of the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts."

★ ★ ★

Attorney Alan W. Joslyn, president of the council, said tomorrow night's meeting is open to all area residents interested in the objectives of the group.

CHARLES A. SPARKS

Seeks Term 17 at County Post

Charles Sparks Began Treasurer's Job in '32

Charles A. Sparks today announced his candidacy for re-election to a 17th term as Oakland County treasurer in the 1964 county elections.

First elected in 1932, Sparks a Republican, has served as county treasurer for 31 years.

Referring to his record in office, Sparks said, "I feel that I can sincerely and honestly call on the voters for their support again in our endeavor to continue an efficient and progressive tax collection office."

★ ★ ★

Sparks said, "In finance today, it is important that the best qualified person hold the office of treasurer of our county.

QUALIFICATIONS

"Necessary for these qualifications are mature judgment, years of training and experience and the ability to supervise a well-balanced, well-trained and efficient organization."

While the money taken in by his office is 35 times greater than when he first took office, employes number only three times as many, Sparks said.

Sparks operated a real estate and insurance office for 12 years prior to his first term, and before that worked for Oakland Motor Car Co., the forerunner of Pontiac Motor Div.

★ ★ ★

A past exalted ruler of Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810, Sparks also is a past president of Pontiac Exchange Club, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and State Association of County Treasurers.

He also is a member of the National Association of County Officers and of the National Association of County Treasurers and Finance Officers.

He lives at 7010 Hatchery, Waterford Township.

Ex-Fighter Testifies in Ruby Trial

DALLAS (AP) — Barney Ross, former world welterweight boxing champion, testified today that Jack Ruby as a teen-age boy "used to steam up and turn purple" when anyone disagreed with him.

Ross said he knew Ruby in Chicago when they both were boys.

The former boxer, wearing dark glasses, was the second witness as the fourth week of Ruby's murder trial began. Ruby is charged with murder with malice for having shot down Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Ross said he and Ruby grew up on Chicago's West Side. He said he and the accused man were members of what he called "the group," a band of about 12 boys.

HAD TANTRUMS

He pictured Ruby as a youth who "flew into tantrums" over trifles. He said, "We knew he would steam up pretty quick and we used to protect him."

Ross said that so far as he knew Ruby had never had any trouble with the police.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli asked Ross if Ruby was given to using profanity.

★ ★ ★

The ex-boxer replied in the negative.

WAS PATRIOTIC

Ross, member of the Marine Corps during World War II, said he knew Ruby as a "patriotic, red-blooded American." Ruby was in the Air Corps.

The first witness for the day was Fred Dieberdorf, the jail doctor. He testified that he examined Ruby at approximately 2:05 p.m. on the Sunday when Ruby shot Oswald.

Dr. Dieberdorf said at that time Ruby was still wearing street clothes — coat, white shirt, slacks. Police officers testified last week that one of their first actions was to strip Ruby.

Belli sought to show through Dieberdorf's testimony that there was some doubt about the evidence against Ruby that the police had given.

He pointed out that two hours after the police said they removed Ruby's clothes, he was still wearing the same costume.

Nation Shows Heart for Negro Educator

DUNDEE, Mich (AP) — This southeastern Michigan community of 2,377 has discovered that the nation has a great big heart—too.

Its spirits have risen with those of its gravely injured music teacher, 37-year-old Samuel McDonald. Both town and teacher were feeling fine today, but both still have a long haul.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press carried a story a week ago last Friday about McDonald's car skidding on ice and smashing into an overpass abutment Jan. 31 and about this all-white community's endeavor to see its newly come and only Negro school teacher return to health and his job.

★ ★ ★

McDonald had only the $500 personal injury insurance that came with that on his car. With a teaching experience confined to the segregated South, McDonald had worked as a Boston hospital orderly to finance graduate study at Harvard in 1962-63.

TOWN HELPS

Dundee, with pennies, nickels and dimes from McDonald's pupils, and dollars from townsfolk and teachers, raised $680 for him. But his hospital bill alone ran to $2,500 before it was safe to move him to Ann Arbor's U.S. Veterans Hospital. He won a right to that as a World War II infantryman in the Pacific.

Doctor bills and around-the-clock nursing bills still are to come. So is three to four months more hospitalization. The Monroe County Red Cross donated sufficient blood to cover a bill of $375 for transfusions.

★ ★ ★

A letter from photographer Edward Fuller suggested there might be "a lesson in sociology and humanity for everyone" in what his home town was doing.

As the Dundee and McDonald story spread mail poured in. There were letters from 23 states last Monday alone.

The Samuel McDonald Fund at the Monroe County Bank now contains $1,697 and that's mighty important to Dundee and McDonald. So are the letters that come with the money.

A 19-year-old girl from Hampton, Va., wrote: "At a time when it seemed everything was wrong in our country, I find there's wonderful people in it and everything is very right again."

★ ★ ★

A writer from Maumee, Ohio, said: "Names and colors are not important, but what the heart feels is."

A 9-year-old told McDonald: "I am sorry that you got hurt, but here is $2. My grandfather give (sic) me one and I got one from my pig (sic) bank."

Dundee school children, all white except some 90 from outlying areas, still are writing McDonald bundles of get-well cards. They sent more than a thousand in the first month.

Dundee is still adding bits as it can to the McDonald fund.

Solution to Issue Seen in State Strike

HILLSDALE (AP)—A possible solution to one of the major issues preventing a strike settlement of Essex Wire Corp. was hinted at today.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations were scheduled to resume as the company and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers awaited court actions in separate suits.

★ ★ ★

The possible break dealt with Essex Wire's employment of 15 outside workers whom the union has called illegal strikebreakers and on whose presence in the plant the IUE has brought unfair labor charges.

Avon Players Near 'Oklahoma' Staging

ROCHESTER—"Who has my eye liner?"

"Let's do another quick run-through of that scene — now pick up your cues!"

"Will you sound an 'A' so I can tune my flute?"

These offstage remarks are typical at final rehearsals of the Avon Players' forthcoming production of "Oklahoma."

The popular musical will be presented Friday and Saturday nights both this week and next with a special student performance slated for March 19.

★ ★ ★

Curtain time for the weekend performances is 8:30 p.m. at Central Junior High School. On March 19 it is 8 p.m.

STAGE FAVORITE

The local production of the Rodgers and Hammerstein movie and stage favorite is proving an ambitious undertaking for the players. There are 150 people involved in some phase of the staging.

A 21-piece orchestra is an innovation this year. Previously the accompaniment for musicals was provided by two pianos, bass and drums.

Also backing up the cast of 11 principals, many of them veterans of the local boards, are separate men's and women's singing and dancing choruses.

★ ★ ★

The leading roles are being played by Mrs. Dennis (Adele) Carraher of Rochester and Roger Easton of Birmingham.

PAST PERFORMANCES

Mrs. Carraher was starred in "Kiss Me Kate" a year and a half ago and most recently was seen in "The Seven Year Itch."

Easton, a new face to the Players, formerly sang with the Michigan State University chorus and the Air Force chorus.

Featured members of the cast are Duane Utech, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. William Morgan, Chris Andersen of Birmingham, Pat Jarvis, Dick McGowan, Mrs. Jim Reynolds, Bill Maurer and Ed Howe.

Director is Jarvis Lamb assisted by Mrs. Robert Halbach. Mrs. Edward Ramsey is the producer.

AUTHENTIC COSTUMES

Authentic period costumes for all the female members of the cast were made by Mrs. Harry Huber and her committee.

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter "Spike" Moser are the music directors and Mrs. Andersen, choreographer.

Tickets are available at Morley's Drugs, Community National Bank at North Hill Plaza, Hunter Pharmacy, from any member of the Players or at the door.

Reserved seat tickets can be purchased at Hunter's.

LEAD DANCERS—Lisa Mackie of Birmingham and Rob Halbach of Rochester practice a dance routine for "Oklahoma." Lisa is a junior at Seaholm High School and Rob, a senior at Rochester High School.

STARS OF MUSICAL — Really belting out a duet for the Avon Players upcoming production of "Oklahoma" are the two leads, Mrs. Dennis (Adele) Carraher of Rochester and Roger Easton of Birmingham. The musical will be presented March 13, 14, 20 and 21 with a special student performance March 19 at Central Junior High School, Rochester.

'63 State Corn Crop 2nd Highest on Record

Michigan produced just over 100 million bushels of corn for feed in 1963, the second highest on record.

This is due, to some extent, to new shorter-term corn varieties produced by Michigan State University research allowing replanting of June-frost killed corn.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Careless Diet May Lead to Heart Attacks

Careless dietary habits may be just one culprit causing hardening of the arteries and heart disease. But it should not be neglected.

Heart specialists now recommend skim milk, buttermilk and cottage cheese in preference to sweet cream, sour cream, ice cream, whipped cream, cream cheese and butter.

They recommend red meat, fowl, fish and other seafoods if the fat is trimmed off.

REMOVE FAT

Gravies, soups and stews should be placed in the refrigerator overnight so that the hardened fat can be easily removed.

Use vegetable oils for cooking and for braising meats rather than lard, drippings and suet. Eat eggs in moderation — preferably not more than one a day.

Green vegetables, corn, peas and beans are recommended. For dessert, fruits.

USE LITTLE OF THESE

To be consumed sparingly are margarine, potatoes, rice, spaghetti, bread, cereals, cake, pastries, cookies, pies, candy, jellies, jams, honey and alcoholic beverages.

For those persons whose blood cholesterol and triglyceride levels are already high, many drugs have been used.

Niacin can reduce the cholesterol level. Several other drugs have been found that will accomplish this purpose, but they are still regarded as experimental.

Thyroxine and sex hormones have also been used with some success but the dose of these drugs must be carefully regulated.

BETTER CONCEPTION

Now that we know more about what causes arteriosclerosis, we have a much better conception of how to go about preventing it.

Q — Is there any danger of permanent harm from ultrasound treatments taken once a week?

* * *

A — The effects of ultrasound are chiefly due to the heat induced.

This form of treatment has certain advantages when heat is desired in some joints that cannot be readily penetrated by means of external heat or diathermy.

It should be given only under the direct supervision of a doctor specially trained in its use.

Q — You recently said that Cafergot for migraine headaches should not be taken by pregnant women.

If a woman were taking this drug and didn't know that she was pregnant, in what way would it affect the baby?

* * *

A — If she didn't know she was pregnant it wouldn't matter.

Cafergot contains ergot which causes uterine contractions and might precipitate a premature delivery in a woman whose pregnancy was well along.

Communistic Cuba's Status Shows Little Hope for Future

Poor Cuba, the blighted island to our east is on her sixth year under the iron fist of communism and there's little hope across the immediate horizon. Furthermore, the home-town Napoleon becomes more inept and ludicrous as time passes. CASTRO is an international dud. His dramatic water cutoff has boomeranged and left him worse than he was before. We have sufficient water and the United States has laid off a host of Cuba's well-paid minions.

Both circumstances hurt—badly.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago last month Castro seized the reins of government and spirits soared as flags flew proudly over the "emancipated" isle. Bright days of freedom were at hand. Castro was invited to the United States to speak and he was a hemisphere hero, winning the plaudits of the folks at home and in America. His impassioned orations were solemnly received. But the day of disillusionment wasn't far away. Khrushchev's bloody fist appeared and pretense was ripped aside as Castro was told where to stand, what to say and what to do. It was a clear-cut case of "obey, or else" and the onetime Cuban "liberator" comprehended perfectly.

He salaamed.

Sugar production, Cuba's bread and butter, has declined a startling 50% and is down to 3 million tons. It has been replaced by promises. The newest is a prediction of 10 million tons—in 1970 and that's quite a "fur piece" down the road.

Nor has the Cuban situation been all honey and pie for the Russians. They have become increasingly involved to the point that retreat is impossible. In fact, they encountered the most humiliating single happening to modern Soviets when the late JFK summarily ordered them to dismember their rocket installations and remove the missiles from the island.

★ ★ ★

They complied — but it was a mortifying step and one that cost prestige and standing all over the world. It's possible they've retrieved most of the loss by our own subsequent bungling and acceptance of Russian bravado. Perhaps the two about cancel each other. Bad blood was intensified.

★ ★ ★

But there are other flaws.

Russia admits she is spending a million dollars a day to keep Cuba solvent and even with this, living conditions there are the worst they have been in the memory of man. Poverty, idleness, disease and lost hopes have seized the population.

CASTRO's anniversary speech was startling for he even made unexpected overtures toward the United States which show actual despair. He suggested privately to a correspondent that we "let bygones be bygones." That's nothing short of a sensation for the leather-lunged braggart.

★ ★ ★

The whole Cuban situation results in turmoil on all sides. It places the Russian frontier 90 miles away on our southeast coast. It costs Russia a million dollars a day. It gives the Reds a built-in access for Communistic activities in Latin America. It enslaves a few million well-meaning Cubans who were getting along beautifully until this paradox struck.

★ ★ ★

All in all, it continues to be a plain, everyday, old-fashioned mess. And as far as we are concerned, one of the most ominous features lies in the beachhead this gives the Soviets for their deadly planning in the rest of the hemisphere.

The cost here is incalculable.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Did you know Alaska is approximately ten times as big as Michigan, while Rhode Island is about 50% bigger than Oakland County? . . . . . JOEY BISHOP was named "Man of the Year" by the Friars Club in New York the same week CBS announced his TV show was canceled for next fall. . . . . Supersonic passenger jets will probably be constructed without windows, according to engineers who would like a few trial tests on the general public to study the reaction. . . . . Overheard: "She hasn't been herself since she tried to inhale a cigar." . . . . . Nearly 40,000 corporations own their own airplanes and twice that number belong to private citizens.

LYNDA

Purely personal nomination for an attractive young miss who currently gets her mail at the White House: Lynda Bird Johnson. . . . . You may challenge this but there are nearly one million people 85 years old in the United States. Women outnumber the men by nearly 50%. . . . . Overheard: "When you're down in the mouth, just think of the rap Jonah beat." . . . . . If you hold J or K Government bonds, you should check the date and cash them in. Interest ceases.

★ ★ ★

To settle a bet, the Automat in New York checked the people that ordered pie for breakfast in their 32 restaurants. The number was 822. . . . . This is important. If a fire occurs in your home, get the people out before you call the department. Flames build up heat and do not necessarily creep inch by inch. When the total temperature reaches 800 degrees for 30 seconds, fire breaks out spontaneously wherever that condition prevails. . . . . 'You Suppose It'll Break Any Altitude Records?'

David Lawrence Says:

Tax Reductions Not Only Answer

WASHINGTON — Many an individual doesn't look farther ahead than a few weeks or months.

★ ★ ★

The politicians, therefore, think only in terms of what the popular mood will be at the time of this year's elections.

LAWRENCE

But business has to do long-range planning. Government ought to do so, too, but somehow avoids it.

This is why a 12,000-word address by Henry H. Fowler, under-secretary of the Treasury, delivered here the other day to the annual conference of the Tax Executives Institute, deserves attention as perhaps the most comprehensive defense of the administration's tax policies that has yet been made by anyone.

Fowler says that "new currents that have emerged in the last two years mark a turning point in national tax policy."

★ ★ ★

He sees this as a stimulus to the "private enterprise sector" and emphasizes the role of the government "in promoting maximum employment, production and purchasing power" as a sequel to the employment act of 1946.

LASTING EFFECTS

He feels justified apparently in describing them as broad-gauged laws designed to have lasting effects.

What is overlooked is that tax rates by themselves are not the primary reason for economic troubles.

High tax rates in business are not hard to take if the volume of sales is substantially increased or the profit margin is moved up considerably, thus permitting wage increases as productivity is improved.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps most salutary is the undersecretary's statement that the administration in proposing tax changes realized that national growth cannot be achieved "by a massive increase in federal spending well beyond the necessities of mounting defense and space costs."

CAUSES OF INFLATION

But by the same token, it may be said by way of warning that financial stability will not be achieved by continuous deficits and by a refusal to face up to the real causes of inflation, among them the wage and price spirals.

Investment in new plant and equipment to meet new demands arising from consumer spending can be readily predicted as likely to rise, but the benefits can be negated if wage rates start running away and wage costs are materially augmented.

Fowler speaks of the past inability of business to increase its investment in new plant or equipment and concedes that "corporate profits after taxes, even after the early expansion of 1961, remain below former levels as a percentage of investment capital, of sales, or of the corporate portion of our gross national product."

★ ★

Although Fowler doesn't spell them out, he declares that tax policy must be related "to other instruments to meet the ever-changing conditions that will affect a free economy in the type of open world in which we live."

VERY GENERAL

He is very general in his discussion of "monetary and debt management policies," which are indeed vitally affected by the international flow of goods and money.

He recognizes, incidentally, that unemployment has not been cured and that, with the growth of population, there will be need for more job creation.

★ ★ ★

The undersecretary is enthusiastic in his belief that the new tax laws "have already provided an important psychological thrust" but adds realistically that "a healthy economic recovery and growth depends heavily upon the confidence, initiative, incentive, optimism and industry of the private citizen and the private business sector."

Legislature Facing Bills Under Districting Cloud

By KEN SINER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING—A legislature preoccupied with its own future makeup returns tonight to its chambers, where most of the session's major issues still cry for attention.

Last week's State Supreme Court postponement of the reapportionment questions spurred House members to try to freeze their districts this efection year.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, has vowed to start the Senate teacher tenure showdown tonight with an effort to move the initiatory petition to a position for a final vote.

★ ★ ★

He hopes to stage that vote tomorrow—a day when the Senate schedule also calls for final action on the House-approved aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U) bill.

GOT IT PAST

Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, has had charge of the ADC-U bill in the Senate, and Friday got it past its first Senate debate without allowing any amendments.

He has asked Republican colleagues who may plan to vote against the bill to help him beat off amendments by Democrats who hope to liberalize it.

Final Senate passage will qualify Michigan for federal welfare funds, effecting an annual state saving of nearly $1 million, a saving of more than $5.5 million for Detroit, and savings in six figures for half a dozen counties.

★ ★ ★

Tenure action is possible in the Senate because Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has informally ruled that the petitions submitted by the Michigan Education Association need not be treated as bills and may not be changed if they are to be kept off a referendum ballot.

ARRANGED POSTPONEMENT

The advice had been asked by a Republican caucus group which had arranged postponements of the voting on tenure last week.

Kelley told Milliken the petitions may be passed separately in each house, and that they may not be altered in this session, either before or after passage. If the petitions, bearing 325,000 signatures, are not passed verbatim by both houses within the next six work days, they will be subject to a statewide referendum.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

'Should Respect Atheists' Beliefs, Too'

In reply to D. Vinson concerning his letter, "Keep Voluntary Prayer in Schools," it is stated in our Constitution that we have "the right to believe" and the right "not to believe." There are some who do not believe in God so why shouldn't they have the right to keep their beliefs? I am not an atheist but these people should have consideration.

'Church Attendance Deters Delinquency'

The Hawthorne School destruction has prompted me to write. Following in part is a paper written by J. Edgar Hoover to "Sunday School Times."

★ ★ ★

"A record kept by one juvenile court judge shows where only 42 out of 8,000 delinquents under the age of 17 attended Sunday school regularly. This is something that could bring a little light to the actions of young people."

★ ★ ★

When our children were young we took them and other youngsters to Sunday school. One Sunday we stopped for our son's friend and he came to the car but didn't want to go. Our son said, "What's the matter with you. Don't you want to grow up civilized?"

'New Library Schedule Is Not Practical'

It is now almost impossible for students of the surrounding high schools to conform to the new library hours. By the time you get out of school and get down to the library 5 o'clock has already arrived. Our city commission has told us they are unable to finance the help that is needed for the library. It seems that this is just another problem that the commission cannot cope with so they have just found a half way solution.

★ ★ ★

Another thing that disgusted me was the firing of our very capable and well-liked city manager, Mr. Stierer, and the appointment of Mr. Carter. I'm tired of hearing people from neighboring communities call Pontiac "Little Chicago."

'Need New Laws to Combat Swindling'

Contract swindling is enjoying new heights of popularity among the unscrupulous. The reason? There is little the law can do to combat this. Due to the legal nature of a signed contract the law must uphold it. Thus, it inadvertantly becomes the friend of the swindler who obtained that signature by fradulent methods.

★ ★ ★

No matter how often the public is warned the swindler knows he can trick enough people to turn a neat profit. As long as he is careful not to make his fradulent claims in the presence of a neutral witness he has nothing to fear except the wrath of God.

★ ★ ★

Until the lawmakers devise a method of stopping this practice, the only safe thing a person can do is to engage an attorney to go over all contracts.

School Dropouts

The Chattanooga Times

Daily developments at the Occupational Training Center for high school dropouts continually indicate that the students there fully appreciate the new opportunity offered to them.

The morale continues high as the preliminary study period draws to a close and the critical phase of selecting an area for intensive study approaches.

The students' concern for their own future is being matched by the concern shown by those helping them.

★ ★ ★

To aid students in selecting an occupation, the Department of Employment Security is bringing in four counselors from other offices in the state to join with the two available here and with the school's two counselors.

Each of the students will have at least two sessions with the counselors over a two-week period. The students will be assisted in determining which of six areas is best suited to their interests and abilities.

It is such expressions of real concern shown by the Department of Employment Security personnel and by the dedicated staff of the school which have contributed to the high student morale.

★ ★ ★

For varying reasons each of these students dropped out of school in the past and no one doubts but that this is a sensitive group with which to work. The students — and the community — continue to benefit from this laudatory program and the effort by those who are making it work.

Restored Confidence

Chicago's American

Police Supt. O. W. Wilson attributes the successful reorganization of the Chicago Police Department to "an aroused citizenry" in a progress report marking the fourth anniversary of his command. What could be added to this appraisal is that Wilson has succeeded in restoring public confidence in the police force.

★ ★ ★

Just as he has inspired confidence in the public, so has he gained it from his men. This is an intangible quality of leadership that cannot be measured but can be seen in the results it gets; without it, all the innovations, improvements and crime-fighting techniques Wilson introduced would have merely amounted to a paper reorganization.

There are those who will argue that Wilson's reforms have been superficial changes in procedure. But his regime has been remarkably free of scandal; any police department this size is bound to have some personnel who will bring discredit to their uniforms.

★ ★ ★

There are those who will argue that the crime syndicate is a growing, not declining menace, and attempt to correlate this with some failure on Wilson's part.

But the war against the syndicate is one which must be waged at all levels of government and to say that one man in four years should cut out a cancer that has been growing for many years is to expect the impossible.

Ask the social worker how fast police respond to a street gang fight now as compared to the past; ask the robbery victim; ask the housewife whose cat is trapped in a tree. You'll get a resounding vote of confidence for O. W. Wilson and his policemen.

Old Ammo Explodes, Kills Three

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP)—Strange things are sometimes buried and later unearthed in the windswept desert. For three young men stationed at Twentynine Palms Marine Base, death was unearthed by the shifting sands.

Buried ammunition, left over from the desert combat training days of World War II, exploded Saturday, killing the three and injuring two others while about 20,000 men were on maneuvers in the area.

The dead were:

Pvt. Jack Cowsert, 17, son of Mrs. Gloria L. Cowsert of Oakland, Calif.

Pvt. David P. Barnes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Barnes of St. Louis, Mo.

Cpl. Peter S. Lopez, 22, who lived with his wife, Faye, on the Twentynine Palms base.

* * *

Injured were Pfc. Gary P. Betters, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Betters of Chicago and Lance Cpl. Roger D. Rusnak, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Rusnak of Chicago.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

The spokesman said he did not know what the five were doing at the time of the explosion or what detonated the blast, which occurred in the central portion of the 995-square-mile base.

He said demolition experts periodically check the training ground for explosive catches uncovered by the winds.

"The area has been used as an artillery and aerial bombing range since the early days of World War II," he said. "Gen. George S. Patton ran his tanks around here before going to Africa.

"There's a tremendous amount of unexploded ammunition.

"We've known of it for a long time and precautions have prevented any previous accidents like this."

Junior Editors Quiz on DREAMS

QUESTION: Why do we dream?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Primitive peoples thought that inside each person was a kind of little man, and that in dreams this little creature wandered away from the body having strange adventures.

During the 19th century, dreams were often considered to be caused by indigestion. Today, dreams are being carefully studied by scientists.

Our picture shows how experts study dreams by attaching delicate wires to the head and neck which will register the movements of a sleeper on graphs and dials — especially important being the movement of the eyes.

By such experiments, scientists have found that dreaming is as natural as sleeping or breathing; that we all dream, about once every 90 minutes; that we dream about 20 per cent of the night.

The reason why we dream is still under investigation.

A conclusion given by some highly qualified people is that dreams are caused by (1) a few impressions from the outside which spill over the wall which sleep puts around your mind, and (2) by the attempt to grapple with one's inside problems in the little stage of one's dream world—where past and present meet, naturally giving a strange, blurred impression.

FOR YOU TO DO: Write one of your dreams down quickly while your memory is still fresh. Then analyze it. Does it show present and past blurring together? Can you recognize bits of things which have recently happened to you?

Cadillac

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac.

First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy—comparable to many smaller cars.

So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name—Cadillac.

Bank Sets Cameras to Nab Crooks

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's big Chase Manhattan Bank has inaugurated a new, special service just for bank robbers—free photographs.

* * *

Anybody who tries a stickup at any of the bank's 125 branches will find himself photographed from head to toe in a variety of candid snapshots.

Even if a robber gets away, he will find his pictures being spread far and wide around the country, and his chances of spending the loot considerably reduced.

ALL BRANCHES

The bank has just completed equipping all its branches with automatic protection cameras. It says it is the first major bank to do so.

Each branch has from one to six cameras. All are placed for a commanding view of the banking floor, and can be set off unobtrusively by tellers or other staff members. They are connected to an alarm system for alerting police as soon as they go into operation.

The photographs are made on high-speed, 35-millimeter films at the rate of two a second. The cameras hold enough film to make 800 separate pictures.

Each snap of the shutter produces a negative which can be used to make an enlarged photo showing minute details of a robber's appearance.

BEGAN INSTALLING

Chase Manhattan began installing the cameras in its branches in April 1959.

By coincidence, it announced completion of the project almost simultaneously with issuance in Washington of a House subcommittee report that there were 461 bank holdups during 1962, an increase of 27 per cent over 1961, and that the number was continuing to zoom upward with 301 in the first half of 1963 alone.

* * *

Chase Manhattan spent $65,000 to install its 220 cameras. They are rented from two private organizations at a cost of $38,000 a year.

While all branches have guards on duty, the bank believes the cameras have great value as an added deterrent to would-be robbers.

EXTRA GUARD

"It's an extra guard which works silently by just being there," said Gerald J. Van Dorn, bank protection officer. "We have signs posted all around telling of the cameras."

Since 1955, Chase Manhattan has had three successful holdups. Seven other attempts proved unsuccessful. Of the successes, two were staged by the same man and he was later caught.

* * *

Pictures made by the bank's cameras provided vital evidence in convicting two holdup men.

BEING SHOT — In this photo sequence, a man is photographed in a test run of the automatic camera devices installed in the Rockefeller Center branch of New York's Chase Manhattan Bank. Triggered by suspicious bank personnel, the "suspect" is "shot" repeatedly by hidden lens.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe far their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

In Oakland County...

$50 million in smart money on the loose!

No need for a sheriff's posse. We know where the money is. It's in the hands of over 50,000 Oakland County residents who borrowed from their credit unions. Why smart money? Because members' loan costs are lower than so-called "bank rates".

It's smart to always check a credit union loan before borrowing. 99 times in 100, it will save you money! The maximum loan rate is just 1% per month on the unpaid balance. Seldom can personal loans actually be obtained at such low cost from any other source, regardless of "quoted rate". Bank, small loan company, automobile dealer and merchant charge account rates—usually range sharply upward, some to as high as 30% per year.

For most people, the credit union rate is far better than commercial rates on new or used car loans. And there are no investigation or hidden charges, no escalator rate for refinancing.

Low cost credit. Interest refunds (that often save 10-20% more on loan costs). Life insurance matching loans and savings (at no extra cost). Higher dividends on savings. These are just a few advantages, possible because members own and run their credit union—to serve members' needs!

You may be able to qualify for membership in one of Oakland County's 76 credit unions. Check with us now on eligibility. We'll also send you—

Muslim Leader Resigns Post

Malcolm X to Start New Negro Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, outspoken Black Muslim advocate of racial separation, has defected from the parent organization to form his own mosque to promote "active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

* * *

Malcolm told the Associated Press:

"I am still a Muslim. I intend to work on my own among America's 22 million non-Muslim Negroes to convert them from nonviolence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country.

"I want it clearly understood that my advice to all Muslims is that they stay in the nation of Islam under the spiritual guidance of the honorable Elijah Muhammad.

NOT RECRUITING

"It is not my desire to encourage them to follow me."

Malcolm once was considered heir apparent to Muhammad, who makes his headquarters in Chicago.

Noted for his bitter verbal attacks on white people, Malcolm was suspended by Muhammad last November after he said in a speech that President John F. Kennedy's death was a case of "the chickens coming home to roost."

Commenting on his suspension, Malcolm said, "I have reached the conclusion that I can best spread Mr. Muhammad's message by staying out of the nation of Islam and continuing to work on my own.

TO ANNOUNCE PLANS

He said he will call a news conference this week to announce his plans.

Malcolm said that in forming his new Muslim group he will accept invitations to speak to civil rights groups.

"I shall tell them what a real revolution means — the French Revolution, the American Revolution, Algeria, to name a few. There can be no revolution without bloodshed, and it is nonsense to describe the civil rights movement in America as a revolution."

Malcolm said his new Muslim movement would "naturally have black nationalism as a part of its philosophy, but it will not be a black nationalist political party."

Crowds Watch King's Cortege

Body of Paul Moved to Greek Cathedral

ATHENS (AP)— The body of King Paul of Greece, strapped to a gun carriage and followed by members of his grieving family, moved slowly through the hushed and crowded streets of the Greek capital today to lie in state in the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

The booming of cannons signaled the start of the procession, and a salvo was fired every two minutes as the cortege moved under a slate gray sky through downtown Athens.

Servicemen with rifles at attention lined both sides of the mile-long route from the royal palace.

* * *

Walking behind the gun carriage were the new king, Paul's 23-year-old son, Constantine, the widowed Queen Frederika, and other members of the royal family.

MUZZLES DOWN

Units of police, a military band and a company of royal guards from the island of Crete marched with rifle muzzles down in a traditional sign of mourning.

Behind the Crete guards came acolytes holding religious banners. A priest walked with the gem-covered icon of the Virgin Mary of Tinos, the most sacred icon of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The primate of Greece, white-bearded 84-year-old Archbishop Chrysostomos, moved slowly along in flowing golden robes holding a golden bishop's staff.

* * *

The 62-year-old monarch, who had reigned for 17 years, died Friday of complications following stomach surgery on Feb. 21.

UREMIA POISONING

A postmortem showed the king had died of uremia, poisoning from a urinary blockage.

The cause of the blockage was not announced, although there had been speculation that the king had cancer.

The body will lie in state for three days, and the state funeral will be held Thursday.

* * *

DKG Society Hears Bolivian

Pontiac Press Photo

"Fiesta in Bolivia" was the theme for the 18th birthday luncheon of Xi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society, Saturday in Devon Gables. The chairman, Mrs. Charles W. Smith of Ostrum Drive (at left), is showing the program to the guest speaker, Mrs. Randall Audas of Bolivia.

By MADELEINE DOEREN

"The U.S. Image in South America" was analyzed for Xi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society, by Mrs. Randall Audas at the 18th birthday luncheon, Saturday, in Devon Gables.

* * *

In the development of the Delta Kappa Gamma theme "Cultures in Change," the group has progressed from Indian and Negro cultures to those of Latin America.

* * *

Born and educated in La Paz, capital of Bolivia, and France, Mrs. Audas is presently an assistant to the Foreign Students' Adviser at International House, University of Michigan.

* * *

LINGUIST

While in Washington, D.C. she was simultaneously interpreter and translator on a radio program sponsored by the Alliance for Progress. She speaks French, Italian and Spanish besides English, and is teaching herself Portuguese.

* * *

"Bolivians who have visited the United States" according to the speaker, believe they would 'go crazy' if they lived here where electric signs flash like fireworks.

Some 60 per cent of the population is illiterate. They cast a vote for their favored political candidate by choosing strips of colored paper. Ballots are sometimes exchanged for food.

"There is no teen-age world of records, hairdos and dances in my country," continued Mrs. Audas.

* * *

"Six years' attendance in grade school is mandatory. The high school period is also six years. There are two tests each year and no study periods at school. If you fail the tests, you lose contact with the group and it's tragic."

PEACE CORPS HELPS

Highlight of the U.S. image in Bolivia is the work of the Peace Corps who live with the natives, adopting their manner of dress and way of life.

The Corps helps Bolivians to help themselves. The natives need an understanding of values to keep their strength and their faith.

Mrs. Audas concluded by saying "Unfortunately, assistance does not always reach the right people."

* * *

The luncheon committee included Mrs. Charles W. Smith chairman, Mrs. Ralph Forman, Mrs. Ralph Grubb, Mrs. Kent Webb and Mrs. Glenn Wolford.

A candlelight ceremony marked the birthday tribute presented by Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler, Mildred Gingell and Mrs. H. Irwin Gottschalk.

* * *

Ruth Barber of Hillsdale, founder of Xi chapter was a guest, also former state presidents Mary Dixon, Benton Harbor, and Mrs. Clarence Hall of Jackson.

Pontiac chapters Alpha and Beta also Detroit Chapters, Kappa and Lambda, were represented.

Service Unit Buys Stools for Library

The Lakeland - Waterford Opti-Mrs. Club recently completed its first project, a presentation of six stack stools and a table for the children's corner in Waterford Township Library.

* * *

The equipment was purchased from the sale of some 300 cobbler-style aprons at the Community Activities Fair last June. The aprons were sewed by the club members.

This group was organized in September 1961 to aid the Optimist group in performing community services. Collaborating with the Friends of the Library, it is the only service organization in Waterford Township to assist the library as a yearly project.

The club plans and serves the Little League banquet for the Optimist Club, gives Christmas baskets to the needy, besides helping at fairs and community projects.

Wives of Lakeland-Waterford Optimists are eligible for membership.

MRS. D. J. PEARSON

Candlelight and Mums for Nuptials

Reception in Westacres Community House followed the nuptials of Julia Starr Serratoni and David J. Pearson, Saturday, in St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

White chrysanthemums banked the altar for the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Lawrence Kinne of St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Walled Lake.

* * *

White peau satin for the daughter of the Paul J. Serratonis of Orchard Lake featured bodice applique of imported French lace and a bell skirt with chapel train.

Silk illusion veiling fell over the bride's lace mantilla. Her colonial bouquet was of white roses.

With honor maid Sandra McDougall, were bridesmaids Mary Beth Musser and Constance Lorenz, gowned in azure blue taffeta. They carried matching carnations.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Olga Pearson of East Lansing, had Richard Lamphere of Clarkston for best man. Edward Smith and Charles Pelton of Farmington ushered.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will reside in Birmingham. Both attended Michigan Northwestern College, Traverse City.

Send a Get Well Card

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you do about a friend who says, "I heard something terrible about you yesterday, but I can't tell you what it was because it would only upset you?" GOSSIPTOWN, USA

DEAR GOSSIPTOWN: I'd send her a get well card!

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I can't expect you to solve my problem, but I am interested in your opinion.

Our school has just installed a swimming pool, and the boys have been informed that they must swim nude.

Some of the boys did not approve of this, but they didn't object because they were afraid of the coach. (My son was one, that's how I know.)

I think this should have been decided by the parents as it is a public coeducational school built with taxpayers' money. What do you think?

TAXPAYER

* * *

DEAR TAXPAYER: I agree that this decision should have been left to each parent.

But your boy had better overcome his shyness about nudity in the presence of other boys or he is likely to be miserable much of his life.

DEAR ABBY: My husband says I am unreasonable because I do not approve of his having one night a week "out with the boys."

Before you tell me off I want to explain what his "night out with the boys" entails. First of all, these "boys" have no names or addresses. They just "bum around."

I wouldn't object if he went bowling with the boys, went to a movie or had dinner with the "boys," or even if he played cards — if I knew the "boys" and where they went.

I think you are beginning to get the picture. How do I handle this? I hate to call it quits and throw him out because we have a family.

FED UP

* * *

DEAR FED: Your husband is restless, immature, slippery and in need of some straight talk.

* * *

For the sake of your family, insist that he give up his next night out with "the boys" and spend it with a man of the cloth, or a marriage counselor.

Mrs. Robert Sisson of Lathrup Village will open her home on Thursday to the North Suburban Alumnae of Chi Omega Sorority.

James L. White Jr., associate of Wilcox and Laird landscape architects, will narrate slides showing practical aspects of residential landscaping.

* * *

Refreshments for the eight o'clock meeting are being planned by Mrs. Richard McGrath, Farmington. Mrs. Ted H. Cook, Birmingham, and Mrs. Donald Schoenhals, Southfield.

Chapter Sees Wood Finishing

Wood finished techniques were discussed and demonstrated at the recent meeting of the Phi Kappa Tau chapter of Pi Omicron National sorority Inc.

* * *

Mrs. Maynard Holmes opened her Preston Avenue home for the gathering and Mrs. Bruce Church served as program chairman.

* * *

Pledges Mrs. Dave Brannan, Mrs. James Jeffreys and Mrs. John Salow were initiated.

Several members will attend the Michigan State Board meeting Sunday, in Flint.

Looking over daughter Terri Ann's shoulder in the children's corner of Waterford Township Library is Mrs. John McGrath of Edgeorge Drive. At the right is Mrs. Donald L. Card of Jameson Street, 1964 president of the Lakeland-Waterford Opti-Mrs. Club, donors of the table and stack-stools. Mrs. McGrath was president for 1962-3.

Roses, Lace and Pearls Mark Rites

A reception in the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club followed the Saturday vows of Carol Ann Campbell and Donald J. Chase in Grace Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are the John W. Campbells of First Avenue and the Joseph Chases of Fourth Avenue.

Pearl-frosted Alencon lace applique accented the bride's gown of white peau satin which swept into a chapel train. A pillbox hat held her bouffant veil of illusion.

ROSE CENTER

Red sweetheart roses centered her cascade bouquet of camellias and Pittosporum.

* * *

Her attendants wore floor-length turquoise sheer over taffeta. Each carried a dozen cascading Yuletide roses.

Charlotte DeRousse was maid of honor, along with bridesmaids Kaaren Plunkett, Garden City, and Jeannine Kozma of Flint. Sue Campbell attended her sister as flower girl.

Gary Goodenow of Milford was best man. Guests were seated by Alex Gaulin, Del McConnell, Dayton, Ohio; David Goff and Robert Chase, Rochester. Steven Palace carried the rings.

* * *

The bride attended Western Michigan University. Her husband is a senior at General Motors Institute and presiding officer of Phi Tau Alpha Fraternity.

They will reside on Washington Street.

Hang Them High

If you're hanging a picture grouping over a couch, place the pictures at least 6 to 8 inches from the top of the sofa to the bottom of the frames so that a seated person's head will not hit the frames.

Navy Mothers Make Plans

Plans for the rest of March and the beginning of April were made at the recent meeting of the Navy Mothers Club at the Naval Center.

The Clifford Avenue home of Mrs. Maude Morgan will be opened March 17 for a 7:30 p.m. social meeting.

Post Commanders will hold a card party at the Veterans Memorial Building, Detroit, 12:30 p.m., April 7.

Election of officers will take place at the next business meeting on April 2.

Coat Hangers Create Chaos in Your Closet

Wire coat hangers were never intended to be a closet version of the twisted Chinese puzzle. They are provided by the drycleaner merely to transport your clothes home.

* * *

Wooden, plastic, or other hangers shaped to the curve of the shoulders are better for your closeted clothes, advises the National Institute of Drycleaning.

The expert work of the cleaning plant finisher should and can be retained. For instance, you can prevent coat lapels from flattening by pinning the lapels together with a straight pin.

Handy Handbags

Don't throw away old handbags. Large ones make good first aid, sewing or "whatnot" kits.

Regional Cage Action Moves to Clarkston, Northern Sites

Mikes, W. Bloomfield Foul Out of Tourney

By FLETCH SPEARS

Two local basketball quintets 'fouled' away tournament district titles Saturday night at Pontiac Central.

St. Micha[illegible] ran into foul trouble in [illegible] the Class C title [illegible] Our Lady of [illegible] and West Bloo[illegible] encountered a similar pro[illegible] in losing the Class B crown to South Lyon, 46-43.

FOLS, winning its first district championship, moves to Ypsilanti this week for regional action, and South Lyon will join Imlay City, Fenton and Marysville at the Pontiac Northern regional.

South Lyon staged a stirring fourth-quarter rally to nip the Lakers.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Harmon, a 5-7 guard who makes the Lions roar, climaxed the late surge with a two-pointer with 20 seconds remaining in the game to put South Lyon in front, 44-43, and he put the lid on the scoring with two free throws at the 10-second mark.

TRAIL IN 4TH

The winners started the final stanza trailing, 34-30, and they received a big boost when the Lakers' Dan Greig fouled out with 5:31 remaining.

The Lakers were clinging to a 40-36 lead when Greig departed, and their attack suffered noticably with the senior playmaker on the bench.

The loss of Greig plus a disappointing performance at the foul line were too much for the Lakers.

They held a 19-13 edge in field goals, but hit on only five of 17 attempts at the charity line.

The Lions won the game at the charity stripe, hitting on 20 of 30 attempts, a shooting mark of 66 per cent.

TOP SCORER

Harmon led the winners with 15 points, six of them in the closing quarter. Tom Duncan picked up 11, and Rick Duncan (no relation) added 10.

Greig topped the Lakers with 13 points and Mike Hargreaves collected 10.

Personal fouls took the spark out of St. Michael's attack.

Center Mike Pope (6-5), the club's leading scorer during the season, picked up four personals in the opening half, sat out the third quarter and fouled out with 2:23 remaining in the game.

The Mikemen were trailing by three points when Pope picked up No. 5, and the Lancers took advantage of his absence to boost their lead to eight points.

PACES ATTACK

Mike DeConinck was the top point producer for the Mikemen with 17 points, his best output of the season. Trailing DeConinck were Pope (12), Gary Lamphere (11) and Dick Steinhelper (10).

Reach Clarkston Regional

PCH Steps Past Skippers

By JERE CRAIG

"The Cihefs March On" confidently proclaimed the parking lot bulletin board at Pontiac Central prior to Saturday night's Class A basketball district final.

Indeed the Chiefs did, using a familiar stepping stone in Waterford High to prance into this week's Clarkston regional with a 79-59 triumph.

The district championship at Pontiac Northern was PCH's sixth in the seven years there have been district tournaments. Only last year did the Chiefs fail to make it into the regionals.

The Chiefs' last three district titles have been at the expense of Waterford. Also included in the six cage contests between the two schools (all PCH triumphs) are opening game wins in the 1958 Livonia regional and 1960 Livonia district.

For awhile Saturday night it seemed Waterford, a definite underdog, might at least approach the 1958 tournament scare it gave the Chiefs.

That was the closest of the six contests, ending 48-42 for PCH. Saturday the Skippers took early 4-0 and 6-2 leads at PNH as Central missed its first 10 shots from the floor.

Central scored its first two points at 4:37 on a tipin by Jim Johnson. A run of eight straight points (including two field goals by Gerald Henry) made it 10-6 and PCH never trailed thereafter.

The inspired Skippers hustled hard on offense and defense, but their mistakes began catching up with them, and they just couldn't offset the rebounding of Jim Johnson.

The Central center ruined Waterford's upset hopes by continually picking off offensive rebounds for baskets in close. With 1:45 to play in the half, he had six buckets and Central was ahead, 33-18.

PULL AWAY

At one time the Skippers were down only, 23-18, but PCH ran up 14 straight points to close the half ahead, 37-20.

A persistant defense by the winners, particularly on the part of Al Keel, William Morgan and Henry, led to numerous steals for fast break baskets.

Keel hit 19 points to top all shooters. He teamed with Morgan for 16 in the third period as the winners took advantage of more Waterford mistakes.

The lead was 63-36 at the end of the third quarter. It never went any higher but Mel DeWalt's four last quarter baskets kept Central comfortably ahead.

A late spurt by Waterford's second string against PCH reserves cut the gap to 20 at the final buzzer.

The losers had three times as many errors as Central and it showed in the post-game statistics. PCH took 93 shots in the contest to only 63 for Waterford.

Losing coach Bob Taylor felt the tournament lessons would be a great help next season when the same schools are scheduled to meet in December.

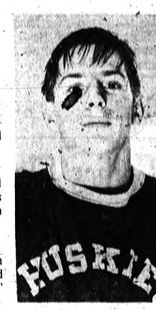
Huskie Grapplers Win 2 State Titles



DAVE BEEBE

DON WEYER

The state Class A high school wrestling title eluded Pontiac Northern at Ann Arbor Saturday, but the Huskies returned home with two individual champions.

Dave Beebe (112) and Don Weyer (145) captured state crowns as the Huskies finished fifth in the race for team honors. The individual titles were the first for the PNH squad.

Ypsilanti led the field of 67 schools with a team point total of 56. Lansing Sexton placed second, Lansing Everett third and Saginaw Valley Conference champion Flint Northern picked off the fourth spot.

River Rouge walked off with the Class B championship at East Lansing. Corunna finished second.

Beebe won five bouts enroute to the 112-pound championship. He scored a 4-1 decision over Al Collins of Flint Northern in the finals Saturday night.

The five wins upped the senior grappler's 1963-64 record to 27-1-1.

Weyer edged Tom Baker of Lansing Everett, 3-2, for the 145-pound title.

LONE PAIR

The two Huskies were Oakland County's only Class A champions.

Hazel Park's Ron Burger, who entered the state competition with a winning streak of 46, won four bouts before losing a referee's decision to Bob Benge of Lansing Sexton in the 133-pound finals.

Pontiac Central's Harold Whiting became ill during a second-round 138-match Friday and dropped a 9-8 decision to Gary Stoner of Portage.

The Chiefs' Paul Thompson, a heavyweight, was defeated in the third round, and Clarence Thomson (95) dropped a first-round bout.

Dale Jones (180) of Waterford was ousted in his second match.

Dennis Prescott of Berkley was runnerup in the 103-pound class and Warren Fitzgerald's Karl Weathers placed second in the heavyweight division.

TAKES SECOND

Stan Secosky of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was second in the 145-pound class in the 'B' meet at East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The FOLS grappler went into the finals with a strong of 56 consecutive victories. He dropped a 4-3 decision to Roger Boehmer of Michigan School for the Blind in overtime.

Wings Closer to Playoff Slot

Club Rallies to Halt Boston, 5-3

BOSTON (AP) — Thanks to Norm Ullman's "hat trick," the Detroit Red Wings need only two points to clinch the fourth and last Stanley Cup playoff spot in the National Hockey League.

Ullman's three goals snapped Detroit out of a 3-0 deficit against the Boston Bruins Sunday night. The Red Wings picked up two more from rookie Paul Henderson and Irv Spencer to whip the Bruins 5-3.

HAWKS MOVE UP

Meanwhile, the scrapping Chicago Black Hawks came from behind to take a 4-3 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. With Montreal holding still in a less deadlock with the New York Rangers, Chicago took over first place in the standings.

Detroit was behind 3-0 early in the thid period when Ullman came alive. He scored at 2:27 and 3:27. Henderson tied it, Ullman fired in another goal in the last period and Spencer insured the victory with the fifth goal near game's end.

Boston's scorers were Johnny Bucyk, with two goals, and Dean Prentice.

Chicago's victory came with the help of phenomenal Kenny Wharram who scored the winning goal in the final period. It was his eighth winning goal this season.

Farmington, Seaholm Gain Berths in Regional Play

The third time was the charm Saturday night for Farmington's Falcons against Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

The Farmington quintet took a 62-53 victory from the Vikings to wrap up the North Farmington Class A district title and a berth in the Clarkston regional tournament.

★ ★ ★

Farmington joined the host school, Pontiac Central and Mount Clemens as regional contenders following its first win in three tries this season against Walled Lake.

FALCONS TOO MUCH

The Vikings took 79-77 and 73-64 wins during the Inter-Lakes League campaign; but found 6-8 Neil Warriner and guard John Olander too much to handle Saturday.

The husky Warriner pulled in 17 rebounds and added six field goals to Olander's eight in a 16-point performance.

Birmingham Seaholm earned a berth in the Ferndale regional with a 66-47 decision over Berkley Saturday evening.

The Maples led all the way. They owned a comfortable 41-21 lead at the halfway mark.

The Maples will join Hamtramck, Detroit Northern and Detroit Redford St. Mary.

FIRST ONE

Lapeer picked off its first Class A district championship by edging Port Huron, 64-63, on a long jump shot by Butch Yeich with 23 seconds to play.

The host Panthers had trailed for three quarters, jumped into an eight-point lead in the fourth period, and then overcame a late Port Huron rally.

Capac trimmed Almont, 41-33, in the Class C district finals at Port Huron Saturday and the Chiefs now move to the Seaholm regional.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Bud Shelton

What was the most exciting single sports event of all-time? . . . A poll of sportswriters once chose the Dempsey-Firpo fight of 1923 . . . That was the fight when Firpo went down nine times in two rounds and Dempsey was down twice including being knocked out of the ring.

How's this for an oddity about the most famous double play combination in baseball history, Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance? . . . Baseball fans have been hearing about them for years . . . Yet, the fact is that this combination actually made very few double plays! . . . When Franklin P. Adams wrote his famous poem about them in 1908, they made only eight double plays all year! . . . The year before they had made only seven . . . And, in 15 World Series games in which they played in 1906-07-08, this combination made no double plays at all!

Do you have any idea how long ago Little League baseball was started, and do you know the name of the man who invented it? . . . The Little League movement was founded 25 years ago . . . It was in 1939 that Cad Stotz of Williamsport, Pa., thought of, and started the first Little League.

I bet you didn't know . . . that Shelton will "Save You More in '64" during their 6th Anniversary Sale that is going on right now! Drop in and see what a real deal is on a new Pontiac or Buick.

Many Problems Need Ironed Out

Too Early to Evaluate Tigers' '64 Chances

By DON VOGEL
Sports Writer, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — What is the outlook for the Detroit Tigers during the 1964 American League leagues baseball season?

★ ★ ★

After only a little more than a week of spring training at Henley Field here, it is still too early to really evaulate the Tigers.

And spring training doesn't always give an indication of a team's potential.

It is apparent, however, that the success of the Bengals will be determined by the pitching staff. Third base, catching and pinch hitting are other problem spots.

Following is a rundown of the Tigers by position going into the second week of training.

Pitching there are three big "ifs" involving the staff which manager Charlie Dressen is praticaIly rebuilding from scratch.

"If" Hank Aguirre and Frank Lary regain their winning form much of the pressure on Phil Regan will be eased. Dave Wickersham probably will be the fourth starter.

The third "if" in the No. 5 spot. Ed Rakow appears to have the inside track, but he now admits to having a sore arm — a carry over from last season at Kansas City.

Don Mossi's ailing left flipper has temporarily moved him out of contention.

The job could go to either Dick Egan or Bill Faul. Dressen, however, would prefer to use Egan in relief Fred Gladding and Terry Fox will be the late inning relievers. Both are righthanders.

★ ★ ★

Bonus rookie Fritz Fisher seems destined to become one of the portsiders in the bullpen.

Catching: Bill Freehan is No. 1, but hasn't started hitting although having been here almost a month. If the big backstop from Royal Oak fails with the stick, the Tigers can always fall back on light hitting Mike Roark who is a better receiver than Freehan.

First base: Norm Cash must continue the hot hitting he displayed late last season. There is no one ready to step in. Pernal Goldy, Jake Wood, Gates Brown and Freehan are the replacements.

Second base: Jerry Lumpe is a solid fielder and hitter. He tightens the infield defense.

Shortstop: Dick McAuliffe is a sound hitter and his fielding is improving.

Third base: Don Wert has been given the job. He is a good fielder and the general feeling is that if he gets off to a good start with the bat the Tigers will have no worries at the hot corner. Should Wert falter, Bubba Phillips or Wood will be ready to take over.

★ ★ ★

Outfield: Don Demeter in center is expected to do everything better than departed Rocky Colavito did last season. Everyone knows what Al Kaline can do in right. Bill Bruton is moving to left and the shift may bother him psychologically.

Bench: Pinchitting could become a major headache. Horton, Goldy and Wood will have to supply the righthanded punch. Brown is the lone portsider and Dressen badly wants another lefthanded batter, preferably a veteran such as Duke Snider.

Conclusion: The Tigers scored 700 runs in 1963, almost as many as the pennant winning Yankees. But the opposition came up with 703.

Wolverines, Tech Paired in Ice Tilt

By The Associated Press

Michigan Tech has elected to meet high-scoring Michigan when the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs begin Thursday.

Tech chose to be ranked fourth in the league, thus pairing itself with the Wolverines. Tech could have taken third place when Minnesota withdrew because the playoffs occur during its final examinations.

★ ★ ★

Second-place Denver meets North Dakota, holder of third. Winners of the semifinals, which run through Friday, meet next Saturday night.

Michigan clinched the championship Saturday night with a rousing 13-4 victory over Michigan State, while the Huskies nipped Colorado College 9-8 in overtime.

Palmer Bids for Title in Pensacola Playoff

PENCACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer had the record going for him today as he teed off against Gary Player, and Miller Barber in an 18 hole play off for $4,000 in the Pensacola Open Golf Championship.

Palmer, gunning for his second straight Pensacola Open title and third in five years, has won 11 of his 40 championships on the PGA tour in playoffs.

Player has lost every one of the seven playoffs in which he has participated in the United States. Barber is competing in his first playoff.

PRESSURE PACKED

The 34-year-old Palmer sank a pressure - packed seven-foot putt on the final green Sunday to get into the playoff on the 6,380 - yard, par-72 Pensacola Country Club course. It gave him a 69 and a 14-under-par 274, the same scores posted by Player and Barber 15 minutes later.

Palmer, 13-under par as he came to the final hole, was playing ahead of Player and Barber, who were both 14-under par through 17 holes. Gunning for a birdie to tie, Palmer drilled a five-iron shot that stopped seven feet to the left of the hole. With Player and Barber watching from the 18th fairway, Palmer sank the putt.

Player, former PGA and Masters champion from South Africa, came up 60 feet short of the pin with his approach to the 18th green. Barber, a 31-year-old regular on the PGA tour who plays out of San Antonio Tex., then put his second shot on the 400-yard 18th hole just 12 feet above the pin. Both missed their putts and took par to tie Palmer.

The two losers in the playoff will receive $2,300 apiece while all three players will split half of the gross receipts.

Take 2 From Pistons

Celtics Close to Title

BOSTON (AP)—Detroit's Pistons will be in line for thanks from the Boston Celtics' for the Celtics' eighth straight Eastern Division championship of the National Basketball Association, now virtually assured.

The Pistons obliged by permitting the Celtics to sweep their weekend series. Boston won at Boston Sunday 128-118 after winning at Detroit Saturday 112-94.

★ ★ ★

The twin victories put the Celtics almost out of reach of second-place Cincinnati. Boston has a three-game lead over the Royals with only four games to play. Cincinnati was idle Sunday.

Boston swept to a 67-56 first half lead Sunday and kept control to the finish with Johnny Havlicek getting 34 points and Sam Jones and Tom Sanders 22 each. Boston led 88-66 at one time in the third period.

★ ★ ★

Detroiter Bailey Howell's 23 points pushed him above the 8,000 mark on his career total. Don Ohl led the Pistons with 32.

In other action the New York Knickerbockers snapped a seven game losing streak with a 40-point last quarter enabling them to down the Philadelphia 76ers 104-108 and the St. Louis Hawks routed the Baltimore Bullets 135-117.

Art Wall Furthers Golfing Comeback

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —Art Wall Jr., seldom a winner since 1959 when he was named Golfer of the Year, is back in business today after a near sweep of the Caribbean Winter circuit.

The 40-year-old pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., outshot young Jay Dolan in four extra holes Sunday and won the Puerto Rico Open. The victory was Wall's third in four tournaments on the southern swing, giving him the over-all point title.

Wall, Masters champion and leading money winner five years ago, captured the Maracaibo and Bogota tourneys before his sudden death victory over Dolan, 24, of Leicester, Mass., on the new Dorado Hilton course. Art started his comeback — he hadn't won a major tournament since 1960—by taking the $30,000 San Diego Open in January.

In All-Star Game

Bunning Eager to Face AL

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Jim Bunning is living for the day when he gets a chance to pitch against the American League in the All-Star game after working on the other side of the street six times.

The strikeout pitcher, who spent 14 years in the Detroit organization, now is with the Philadelphia Phillies.

"They finally got me last year," Bunning said. "I walked Tommy Davis and then they hit three ground balls to the infield and he scored. It was the only time in my life I ever saw Bobby Richardson kick a double play ball. I'd just love to work on the American League team next July."

Bunning started three All-Star games for the American League and had a no-hit string of eight innings until Roberto Clemente doubled in the first inning of the 1962 game at Washington.

"My big problem is not adjusting to the National League hitters," Bunning said. "The Phils must have a good book on the hitters and I know a lot of them. But my big problem is to pitch low like I have to do to win. I've got to do my job. When I come up high with the ball it carries a long way."

38 HOMERS

Bunning was making an oblique reference to the 38 home runs he allowed last season, more than were hit off any other pitcher in the American League.

"That was a little more than normal," said Bunning. "Robby Robin Roberts of Baltimore gave me a battle for a while but I edged him."

"But I think when you allow only one home run every nine innings you are doing a pretty good job. When they hit 40 off Ralph Terry in 1962 and he won 23 nobody complained very much. I never complain when I throw home run balls and win. I usually pitch about 260 innings."

Bunning doesn't know too much about National League ball parks but he knows enough to be glad he missed the Polo Grounds.

"They tell me the park in Cincinnati isn't too big," he said.

"We've got some in the American League too. Boston and Minnesota. And that Yankee Stadium can get a little narrow at times. There are a lot of American Leaguers around here. Gene Mauch, Roy Sievers, Johnny Callison, Ryne Duren and the others."

★ ★ ★

Bunning didn't want to talk much about his last year in Detroit. There had been reports that he had asked to be traded.

"Let's just say I talked to them and they talked to me," said the 32-year-old right-hander who led the league in strikeouts in 1959 and 1960.

★ ★ ★

"I have no kicks about the way they handled me in Detroit. They have a good club that should be a contender if the kid behind the plate comes through."

Did Bunning expect any trouble with the strike zone? They claim the American League umpires give you the high pitch and the National Leaguers the low strike.

★ ★ ★

"Ask me that during the World Series will you?" said Bunning.

Young Bengals Back to Varsity After Contest

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—First baseman Bill Roman and outfielder Mickey Stanley are back with the Detroit Tigers after a lend-lease visit to the Tigertown farm base.

Both got hits Sunday in a 4-1 victory for Tigertown over the New York Mets farmhands at St. Petersburg.

★ ★ ★

Roman, University of Michigan alumnus who works in Detroit as an engineer in the off season, is trying to beat out Norm Cash at first base for the Tigers. Cash is again swinging the bat after several days of rest with a pulled muscle in his side.

Dick Egan, left-handed pitcher, has shown the most improvement in the last week. He has developed a pitch designed to baffle right-handed hitters and stands a good chance to make Manager Charlie Dressen's staff.

At Rochester

Troy, Dryden Eliminated

By HERB PETERS

Mt. Clemens and Port Huron St. Stephen lived up to pre-tourney favorites' roles Saturday night at Rochester and won the Class A and D district titles.

The Bathers washed out Troy, 75-61, with a tremendous first half, while St. Stephen came back with a vengeance in the second half to swamp Dryden, 81-45.

Mt. Clemens shocked the Colts with a 28-9 first period and rolled up a 51-27 halftime lead. The Bathers then coasted to a berth in the Class A regionals at Clarkston.

Center Bill Ford scored 23 of his 28 points in the first half for Mt. Clemens, and guard Al Hairston collected 14 of his 23 tally before intermission.

★ ★ ★

Troy kept its score respectable with a 23-for-28 success from the free throw line. Chris Beacham was high for the Colts with 16, and Ted Bauer added 15.

Dryden surprised top-ranked St. Stephen by holding the Hornets to 28-25 the first half, but the Cardinals were badly stung in the second.

★ ★ ★

St. Stephen scurried into a 52-36 lead after three quarters, and outscored Dryden 29-9 in the final period. Greg Duva fired in 12 field goals from outcourt to pace the victors with 25 points.

MSU Edges Ohio State, 81-80

Spartans Aid Michigan's Cage Title Bid

By The Associated Press

Michigan's basketball team can thank archrival Michigan State for a chance at its first outright Big Ten title since 1948.

While the Wolverines stumbled to a 69-61 victory over Iowa at Iowa City Saturday night, the Spartans nipped Ohio State at Columbus 81-80.

A Michigan victory over Purdue tonight will clinch the crown. The Wolverines are assured anyway of the NCAA bid because Ohio State went more recently. Michigan will move into the Mid-East regionals at Minneapolis next Friday.

Meanwhile, Central Michigan squeezed by Northern Illinois 65-62 Saturday and captured its first Interstate Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship with a 6-2 record. Northern Illinois finished second in the IIAC.

INSPIRED

An inspired Iowa team, playing its next to last game for coach Sharm Scheuerman, 29, who is quitting, leaped to an early 33-21 lead. The Hawkeyes might have pulled off the upset of the season except for a cold spell in the second half.

Michigan, mostly on the shooting of Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell, closed the gap to 40-34 at the half. The Wolverines shot ahead 43-42 after the intermission, but went cold and didn't get another field goal for 7½ minutes.

Fortunately, the Hawkeyes were just as cold, going a four-minute span without a bucket.

With about 10 minutes to play, Buntin and Russell took over to push Michigan ahead 51-40. Michigan hung on doggedly to win with Buntin ending up with 28 points and Russell 27. No other Michigan player had more than four points.

Michigan hit on only 23 of 68 shots for a 34 per cent mark, while Iowa managed 25 of 63 for 40 per cent. Dave Roach paced the Hawkeyes, now 3-10 in Big Ten play, with 18 points.

The victory boosted Michigan's record to 11-2 in the conference and 20-3 overall.

END STREAK

Michigan State ended the Buckeyes' 55-game home court winning streak with Pete Gent's basket in the final eight seconds. Ohio State had gone ahead 80-79 on a bucket by Dick Ricketts.

The Spartans also were the last team to beat Ohio State this year. That was a 102-99 thriller at East Lansing. Ohio had won eight straight since then. They now stand 10-3 in the Big Ten.

There was some consolation for the home crowd at Columbus, OSU's Gary Bradds, The Associated Press College Player of the Year, scored 31 points and set three records.

He has scored 735 points to snap the Buckeye season mark of 723 set by Robin Freeman in 1956. Bradds has 474 in Big Ten play to break Purdue star Terry Dischinger's 1962 mark of 459. He also has 174 field goals, 11 ahead of another 1956 Freeman mark.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans fought back from an 11-point deficit early in the second half to win their first game at Columbus in 11 tries. They kept pecking away at the Ohio lead until they took a 75-74 lead with 22 seconds to play.

Fred Thomann led MSU with 24 points, Gent had 23. The Spartans ended up fourth in the standings with an 8-6 conference mark.

Boys' Hockey at Cranbrook

Waterford Township's boys recreation ice hockey program will continue its playoffs this week with games tonight and Wednesday at the Cranbrook rink.

The senior division semifinals will have the Lakeland Optimist team meeting Waterford's Blades at 7:15 tonight.

In the intermediate finals Thursday, the Mountain View Rangers will oppose the Richardson Dairy sextet at 8:15 p.m.

Midwestern Baptist 5 Ends Unbeaten Season

Pontiac Midwestern Baptist completed an undefeated season Friday with an 87-83 overtime decision over Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music.

George Minton tossed in 21 points for the winners. Eddie Odom and Larry Thompson netted 17 each.

Wolverine Athletes Have Their 'Day'

By The Associated Press

Michigan's year? You bet it is. Not only is Michigan going to represent the Big Ten in the NCAA basketball tournament but the Wolverines all but dominated the weekend scene in the conference winter championships.

Michigan captured the track, wrestling and gymnastics titles and finished second to powerful Indiana in swimming. Illinois won the fencing crown.

Picked to finish second to Wisconsin in track, Michigan piled up 67 points to 48 for the runner-up Wisconsin. Michigan State was third with 32.

★ ★ ★

While Michigan was winning the track title, an Ohio State sophomore, Bob Neutzling, cracked the Big Ten pole vault record of 13 years with a leap of 15-feet-8¼. The old mark of 14-8 was set by Don Laz of Illinois in 1951.

Neutzling, a 5-9, 150 pounder, set the record with a borrowed pole after breaking his own pole.

Michigan retained its wrestling crown with ease, rolling up 56 points to 41 for runner-up Iowa. Ralph Bahna won the 123-pound title and Lee Deitrick grabbed the 147-pound championship.

★ ★ ★

Taking all three places in the final tumbling event, Michigan repeated for the gymnastics title. Mike Henderson, John Hamilton and Bill Bolton finished in that order helping Michigan to a final total of 131 points to 112½ for Iowa.

It came as no surprise when Indiana won its fourth straight conference swimming title. Diver Rick Gilbert and backstroke star Pete Hammer each won two titles to pace the Hoosiers to a total of 231½ points.

Indiana won nine championships and tied for another in the 17 events. Michigan scored 171½ points and Ohio State was third with 124½.

★ ★ ★

Illinois dethroned Michigan State to win its fourth fencing crown in five years. The Illini amassed 41 points to finish well ahead of Michigan State and Iowa, who tied for second with 27.

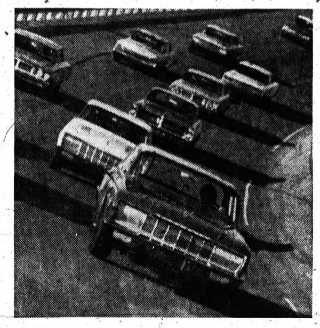
HIGH SPEED YOUR SPEED



Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"
According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500."
Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd for a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.
For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.
Plymouth beats Ford & Chevrolet in tests of showroom V-8s
This competition was more "your speed."
At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.
The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s—cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for"—acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.
In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!

Tax Tips

(Editor's Note — The following income tax information is furnished by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

QUESTION: My two children attend a private school operated by our church. In past years we have not been able to claim the tuition we pay as a charitable contribution on our income tax return. In 1963 I was informed that if we made out our tuition checks directly to the church, the amounts would be deductible. We would like to know if this is correct.

ANSWER: The Internal Revenue laws state that amounts paid for tuition to a private school are not deductible even though the school is operated by a charitable organization. This is true as tuition is a personal expense of the taxpayer and not a contribution to a charitable organization.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Port Strike Called Off for Parley

TOLEDO (AP) — A strike scheduled today by the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association for Great Lakes ports has been called off pending renewed negotiations with shipping firms.

Melvin Pelfrey, union vice president, said yesterday a meeting has been set at Cleveland Wednesday with representatives of some two dozen shippers.

Previous negotiations on the union's pension plan demands broke down last Thursday and union members voted to strike.

★ ★ ★

If progress in Wednesday's talks is not considered adequate, Pelfrey added, the strike will be ordered.

AVAILABLE TO WORK

Meanwhile, engineers will be available to work on fitting out vessels for the lake shipping season, which opens in about three weeks, the union official said.

A strike by the 650 engineers would affect 140 vessels.

Girl, 2, Will Lose 2nd Eye to Cancer

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Vicki Wray, the 2-year-old cancer victim who received gifts last Christmas from hundreds of persons throughout the nation, will have her remaining eye removed today.

★ ★ ★

Vicki, daughter of a $50-a-week Bowling Green, S.C. textile worker who has eight other children, received nationwide attention after doctors at Duke University Hospital said cancer might claim her left eye. She lost her right eye to the disease last July.

Christmas gifts poured into the Wray home and a fund set up in Vicki's name exceeded $17,000.

Rock Hudson Laughs at Critics

By DAVE SMITH
Written for Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If the critics like him, peachy, and if they don't, it's no skin off Rock Hudson's nose.

Hudson is finishing his third comedy with movieland's top-drawing female, Doris Day — "Send Me No Flowers."

If it's like the two earlier Day - Hudson collaborations, "Pillow Talk" and "Lover, Come Back," boxoffice cash registers will jingle to the tune of several million.

★ ★ ★

And the art-of-cinema-type critics will break into pimples at what they've termed a formula of pseudo-sophistication, slapstick and sex peeked at through the fingers.

DON'T AFFECT ME!

Says Hudson: "The critics just don't affect me, one way or the other. Right now the New Yorker, for example, praises everything from Europe and pans everything Hollywood turns out.

"Time Magazine's the same way. If Time ever does have a good thing to say about a Hollywood film it's backhanded compliment, like, 'Oh well, just another typically great film'."

Hudson says some critics too frequently expect so-called art films where entertainment is all that was intended.

★ ★ ★

"And as far as the quality of acting goes — and I like the light comedies and romantic dramas best among the films I've done—I just gear my work to the kind of film I'm making and do the best I can.

BAD TO BE ALONE

"And speaking of comedies, I learned something interesting about the critics and the way they react when I saw "Some Like It Hot."

"Now that was a great movie, I realize, but you know, I didn't like it. You know why? Because I was alone when I saw it.

"That's the trouble with some of these critics. They go to private screenings and exclusive showings and sit there all alone, and then they come out wondering why Hollywood can't make them laugh.

★ ★ ★

"'Some Like it Hot' is the kind of movie that makes you want to nudge the person you're with and laugh out loud. But you're not going to sit there laughing out loud all by yourself. You need an audience laughing with you, in order not to feel like a fool.

NO INFLUENCE

"So ever since then I've realized why so many critics miss the point, and they just don't influence my work," he says.

★ ★ ★

And as if to demonstrate his lack of concern Hudson will soon begin another comedy with Gina Lollobrigida, followed by yet another comedy with Doris Day. The critics are in for a rough time.

Johnson, Lodge Picked at Washington College

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—Students at Central Washington State College have nominated President Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge for president in mock Democratic and Republican national conventions.

★ ★ ★

Johnson ended up with 318 votes to 30 for Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and 27 for Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. Lodge got 225½ votes to 109½ for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Ban Road Billboards

BONN, Germany (AP) — The ban on autobahn billboards continues because they would increase the danger of accidents, Transportation Minister Hans-Christoph Seebohm told the West German Parliament.

Yanks Robbed in Bahamas

Call Scotland Yard in Big Jewel Haul

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Scotland Yard took command today of the investigation of a holdup in which four bandits stole a half-million dollars in jewels from three American couples in this British colony's capital.

★ ★ ★

Robbed on a deserted street after their taxicab was halted as they were going to their hotel from a gambling casino were Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Kass and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Berger of Washington, D.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gould of Cincinnati.

Kass, a Washington real estate developer for 40 years, sold his holdings in 1962 for $41.5 million.

HEADS FIRM

Berger, a lawyer, is married to one of Kass' daughters. He heads the Washington investment firm of Berger & Cox.

Gould is a partner in the law firm of Gould & Reichert, founded by his father.

★ ★ ★

Superintendent John Bailey of Scotland Yard personally took over the investigation.

★ ★ ★

Police Lt. Nigel Morris, who estimated the value on the loss, said the major piece of jewelry taken was a $250,000 ring owned by Mrs. Kass.

IN CASH

The bandits got less than $1,000 in cash, Morris said.

★ ★ ★

Two earrings taken from the couple were found in the street, apparently dropped by the robbers. Their car was found abandoned a mile from the holdup scene.

Child's Emotions Can Hinder Learning

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Teachers blame the home for students' behavior—and sometimes they are right!

Home and parents do have a vital influence on the school work of youngsters. This influence is most pronounced in preschool and primary grades, when a child's habits of learning, his behavior toward others and his feelings of personal worth are being established. The period goes far to determine success or failure in the years ahead.

DR. NASON

There is more involved than reading to a child and surrounding him with books as a buildup for reading readiness. A child's ability to carry out the tasks of school and to establish sound learning habits are also affected by his life at home.

Only when the rest of his life is secure, can a child quietly proceed with the problems of the schoolroom. Failure to get along with his schoolmates may be due to his morning send-off.

The morning rush may be only a very small part of a mother's activities, but it may well set the tenor for the child's whole day.

★ ★ ★

A child who goes off to school in the morning with a parent's shouts still ringing in his ears, arrives in the classroom wholly unprepared for the challenges of the day.

TENSE CHILD

Such a child is a tense child. A tense child is an unfriendly child. It isn't that he will not, but that he can not, apply himself to work or even to play under these circumstances.

Mothers must be careful to see their children off to school not only clean and well fed, but with a feeling that their parents love them, no matter what they do.

The way a pupil thinks and behaves is, in most cases, established by the situation in his home.

★ ★ ★

The parents of Dan, a third-grader, talked to me about his behavior in school. Dan had difficulty getting along with the teacher—he was troublesome on the playground. His school work was not good.

We discussed discipline. Dan's mother said "I am a strong disciplinarian. I lay down careful rules. But Dan breaks these rules even though he is punished when I catch him."

Here was the key to Dan's school behavior. His problem at home was how to outsmart his mother — to get around rules.

At school his thoughts followed the same pattern and centered on how to make his way ahead of a line, or how to get by in his schoolwork, what to say to the teacher to avoid trouble, and how to find a place in the sun by bullying smaller children.

A child who is confident of his place in the love and affection of the family, who has received the firm, kindly discipline that helps him know how he should act, is getting the attention at home that every child needs.

Such a child can then turn his attention to learning.

The newest bridge magazine is Modern Bridge published in Atlanta by Hampton Hume and edited by Dick Freeman who is certainly the best bridge player among magazine editors and may well be the best editor among the bridge players. It has started out with a bang.

JACOBY

In "Chalk Talk" Margaret Wagar, a leading teacher and one of the four greatest women bridge players of all time, discusses the takeout double. Today's hand is given as a horrible example.

The game was duplicate, and normal defense by East and West set South two tricks and resulted in a top score for East and West.

Mrs. Wagar points out that if South had let West play three hearts, the contract would probably have been set. She further points out that North felt strongly that South should have passed.

North is right from a result standpoint but from a practical standpoint North had made a bad double.

Good players just don't ever make a takeout double of one major suit without good preparation for the other. If North had good preparation for spades, then it was up to South to compete further.

Just change the North hand a trifle. Add the king of spades and subtract the king of hearts. He would have the same 13 high card points, and he would also have adequate spade support and less defense against hearts.

South would be able to make three spades; East and West would be able to make three hearts.

Libel Ruling Is Overturned

High Court Upsets $500,000 Judgment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned today a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala.; city official in a suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., delivered the unanimous decision.

The libel suit was based on publication of an advertisement in the Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement had statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery.

★ ★ ★

L. B. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery, won the award in the Circuit Court of Montgomery County with a contention that several paragraphs in the advertisement would be taken as reflecting on him.

CONSTITUTIONAL STANDARD

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, in a concurring opinion joined by Justice William O. Douglas, said the court was announcing today a constitutional standard that prohibits a public official from recovering damages for a defamatory falsehood relating to his official conduct, "unless he proves that the statement was made with actual malice — that is, with knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was false or not."

Brennan's main opinion said the Alabama law of civil libel involved in the case, was a form of regulation that creates hazards to protected freedoms markedly greater than those that attend reliance upon the criminal law.

Grain Mart Weak After Mixed Start

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market teetered between weakness and firmness in early transactions today on the Board of Trade then turned mostly weak.

Losses outnumbered gains slightly during the first several minutes although nearly all fluctuations held within a cent of Friday's closes.

Brokers said nothing materialized over the weekend to bolster the notions of speculators about the market. Commercial demand was understood to be slack all around.

International Competition

Gold Mart Uncertain

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There's an international cast in the gold drama today. And often the players are acting at cross purposes.

DAWSON

A sudden spurt in the price of gold in London after months of quiet comes on the same day the U.S. Treasury is announcing apparent victory in holding down the drain on its gold reserves and the House of Representatives is passing a bill aimed at further safeguards.

★ ★ ★

To understand how fluid and complex and inflammable is the situation you have to mix:

ECONOMIC MOVES

The Russian's hunger for wheat, the Italian's worry about the falling purchasing power of his lire, the Englishman's spending spree, the Frenchman's preference for the good hard metal, and the American's nervousness over the outflow of dollars into foreign stocks and short term securities.

It's a temperamental cast. And even the most expert of international directors can't be absolutely sure how the next performance will go.

Here's how it looks in the early days of March.

The price of gold on the London Free Market last week jumped 1.875 cents an ounce to $35.095 to end months of quiet trading. The heavy demand apparently came from Italians who have been sending capital out of their country because of fear that mounting inflation would weaken the value of the lire.

LOSING GOLD

The U.S. Treasury has been losing very little gold in recent months, halting the disturbing drain of previous years. In 1963 the total loss was $391.7 million, smallest since 1957. And the net loss in the last three months of the year was only $15 million.

Gold flowed both ways. France bought $515.7 million from the United States, preferring gold to dollars in its reserve. Other buyers were Spain, Austria, Argentina, Israel, Turkey, Egypt, the Philippines, Syria, Yugoslavia.

The U.S. Treasury also sold $69 million of gold to domestic users in the professions, industry and arts.

★ ★ ★

But the United States also bought gold. The biggest amount was $329.3 million from Britain. Most of this is supposed to have been from the London gold pool set up by leading western nations to protect their reserves and currencies.

And an important flow into this pool was gold from Russia. The Soviet Union sold gold to get various currencies it needed —such as dollars for the purchase of American wheat.

SAD NOTE

The gold story doesn't end on this happy note, however.

The British have been having a buying spree and sudden economic expansion following a tax cut. To curb a boom that might become a bust and to head off threatening inflation, the Bank of England has just raised its interest charges to five per cent, from four. Consumer and business borrowing costs are expected to rise accordingly—and yields on investment money would go up.

★ ★ ★

If they became too attractive, idle dollars here might be once more lured across the Atlantic in volume—or so banking circles fear. And any such a flight of dollars would build up surpluses that foreign banks could return to the U.S. Treasury for more of its gold.

To hold a disturbing rush of investment dollars into foreign securities in the first part of 1962 the Kennedy administration proposed a tax ranging up to 15 per cent on the purchase by Americans of stocks of foreign corporations and other debt securities. The House has just passed this bill and sent it to the Senate.

The aim is to keep idle investment dollars ("hot money") at home and out of the hands of those who might raid U.S. gold stocks.

Opponents charge this would be self-defeating. They argue that private American investment in foreign securities, industry and resources eventually returns earnings that help balance our international payments — and hence help guard our gold.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am 72 years old and retired. I have six children, all of whom are doing well except one. He is a retarded boy. While my wife and I are alive he has nothing to worry about, but I would like to help provide for him when we're gone. Through working weekends I have saved $1,000. Could you suggest a stock that could increase in value over the next few years to help this boy?" T. G.

A) You should buy a very strong growth stock with a consistent record of widely expanding earnings, dividends, and price over a long period of years. Bristol-Myers is just such a stock, and I recommend it to you. This company has a strong stake in ethical drugs, and it is a highly efficient merchandiser of consumer items such as Bufferin and Clairol.

Q) "A friend has told me of a company that is an agency of the U.S. Government but has common stock owned by the public. Dividends are supposedly paid monthly. What is the name of this company, and where are the shares traded?" D. S.

A) I believe the company in question is the Federal National Mortgage Association, the shares of which are traded over-the-counter. With its preferred stock held by the Secretary of the Treasury and its common in the hands of the public, "Fanny Mae" is a unique situation.

The company was established by the Federal Government to deal in FHA and VA mortgages. Since it buys and sells mortgages originated by lending institutions, Fanny Mae provides a secondary market for this type of investment.

Dividends on the common are paid monthly. The current rate is 30 cents a month, or $3.60 a year. I consider the shares an excellent commitment for those desiring good income.

Chrysler Plans Bonuses, Dependent on Court Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. intends to pay 3,000 executives and officials $15.5 million in incentive bonuses from its big year of 1963, dependent on settlement of a stockholders' court suit over its incentive pay.

The auto company, whose 1963 profit hit a record $161.6 million in its great comeback from 1962, disclosed the plan Sunday in its printed annual report to stockholders.

★ ★ ★

The 1963 bonuses would be four times larger than those of 1962.

The suit is that in chancery court at Wilmington, Del., brought 3½ years ago by stockholder-attorney Sol A. Dann of Detroit.

PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

A proposed settlement was approved last week provided Chrysler signs it by Wednesday.

Plaintiff Dann charged Chrysler in August 1960 with conflict of interest and mismanagement by certain officials. Chrysler countered with a libel suit against Dann.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler's report to stockholders said the payments would be made contingent on the settlement in Wilmington.

The agreement as reported in Wilmington called for the payment of 1963 bonuses under an old plan based on pretax net income instead of a new plan based on after-tax net income. Chrysler said that until the litigation is settled initial payments to participants will be provisionally limited to the old plan.

HEALTHY STATUS

The Chrysler bonus announcement was a further reflection of its healthy economic status in 1963 when it turned a profit of $161.6 million, equivalent of $4.35 a share. The year before netted $65.4 million, or $1.81 a share.

Incentive bonuses are separate from the stock option purchase plan for company officials. Chrysler executives reportedly made a total profit of $4 million on the stock-option plan last year.

★ ★ ★

Names of the 3,000 officials to be given the bonus were not listed in the stockholders report. However, payments to officials who also are company directors are expected to be included in a proxy statement yet to be announced by the company.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

ART THOU THE CHRIST?

Shortly before daybreak, Jesus was led into the Sanhedrin to be questioned by the chief priests and elders of the people.

"Art Thou the Christ? Tell us," they asked Him.

And He said to them, "If I tell you, ye will not believe; and I question you, you will not answer Me or let Me go. But henceforth, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of God."

And they all said, "Art Thou, then, the Son of God?" He answered, "Ye say that I am." (Luke XXII:69-70)

"What further need have we of witnesses?" asked the high priest. "Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned Him to be guilty of death." (Mark XIV:64)

Seek Mental Ills Program Head

The Oakland County Mental Health Board is looking for an administrator to head its community service program.

The board will contact medical schools and colleges, psychiatrists and mental health institutions in an effort to find the right individual.

The administrator's first duty would be to assist the board in setting up its program, which is without precedent locally.

Charles Mentzer, interim secretary of the board, said applications will be sought by May 11, when they will be reviewed by the board.

The program as presently envisioned calls for outpatient clinics to treat mental cases before they can become too severe and in-patient services at general hospitals.

Also being considered are some type of local community facilities for the mentally retarded.

County officials have set a salary range of $12,000 to $15,000 annually for an administrator, and, according to Board Chairman Paul Averill, have said they would consider paying more for a psychiatrist if one is required to head the program.

The mental health board remains uncertain whether the administrator should also be a psychiatrist.

VOTED DOWN

Board member Dr. Jerome Fink of Pontiac General Hospital sought to limit applications to psychiatrists but was voted down by other members.

The board agreed to consider this point further after it has received applications for the position.

The state doesn't require that the administrator be a psychiatrist, only that he have training in the mental health field.

★ ★ ★

Averill noted that on a recent tour of community mental health facilities in San Mateo County, Cal., he found the program was headed by a psychiatrist with an administrator working under him.

San Mateo County, near San Francisco, has had a mental health program in operation since 1957.

★ ★ ★

Averill said the program included outpatient treatment and rehabilitation at a county mental health center and inpatient care at general hospitals, but no facilities for the mentally retarded as yet.

S. Korea Arrests 6 for Anti-U. S. Agitation

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's Central Intelligence Agency announced today the arrest of five North Korean Communist agents and one collaborator assigned to stir up anti-American feelings.

The anti-American agitation was to have been based on a decline in U.S. aid to South Korea and on incidents in which Koreans were shot by U.S. sentries, the agency announcement said.

TOO POOPED — Two coeds and a young man (background), all among 37 college students arrested in a vice raid on fraternity revelries in a downtown Indianapolis hotel yesterday, sleep with heads buried on a table at police headquarters while awaiting release on bond.

37 Students Arrested in Hotel 'Orgy'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Thirty-seven college students will appear in court today on charges stemming from what one policeman termed a regular orgy at a downtown Indianapolis hotel.

★ ★ ★

The defendants, 22 young men and 15 young women, were arrested early Sunday when police raided a fraternity dance at the Claypool Hotel and then rooms because of noisy conduct.

★ ★ ★

"What they had was a regular orgy," said Robert Gigure, a vice squad patrolman. "We would have had to get a pickup truck to haul all the beer cans away."

The officer said one student, dressed only in shorts, was arrested as he chased a coed down a hallway, and several coeds were dressed in negligees.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

The charges filed by police against the 37 students included entering the bedroom of a member of the opposite sex, disorderly conduct, public indecency, under-age drinking and larceny.

One student was seized with a neon telephone sign taken from the hotel lobby.

★ ★ ★

The male students and their dates were attending an annual statewide undergraduate meeting of Phi Delta Theta men's social fraternity. Police said about 600 students were attending the convention.

An excise officer said he found students drinking at the fraternity's dance. He called police who stopped the dance on the mezzanine and then heard loud noise from upper floors of the hotel.

BEER CANS

Gigure said beer cans and bottles were being thrown out of hotel windows onto Washington Street, which carries U. S. 40 traffic through the heart of Indianapolis.

Tracing the noise from room to room, police made the arrests. "It was a real mess," said Sgt. James P. Brenton of the vice squad.

★ ★ ★

It took two hours and a dozen paddy wagon trips to take the young people to jail where they spent several hours until bonds were made. All were released on bond Sunday night.

One coed commented: "That's what I always wanted, a criminal police record. A good thing to tell your kids, 'I spent the night in the pokey, picked up on sex charges.' That slays me."

'ONLY THIS'

One man bailing his daughter out of jail said, "I thought she had been in an accident when police called. Thank God it's only this."

Police said the defendants are from Indiana, Purdue and DePauw Universities and Hanover and Wabash Colleges. Officials at the schools said they were investigating.

At the Phi Delta Theta banquet which preceded the dance, Rep. William G. Bray, R-Ind., said: "American youth must prepare early in life to study and to offer the best of the citizenry if Democratic government is to succeed."

Sinatra Kidnapers' Kin Rap Verdict, Sentences

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Families of two young men sentenced to life in prison for kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. hope the sentence will be reduced, and attorneys for all three defendants say they'll appeal the convictions.

The families and attorneys contend the jury was wrong.

Attorney George Forde, after speaking to the family of Joseph Amsler, 25, said: "They told me the verdict was wrong —that it doesn't change their views, and that the sentences were so excessive as to be beyond the sense of reality."

OTHER TWO

The other two defendants were Barry Keenan, also 23, and John Irwin, 42. Keenan and Amsler, who abducted the 20-year-old singer from a Lake Tahoe, Calif., motel last Dec. 8, were convicted Saturday on all six counts of a federal grand jury indictment.

Keenan and Amser were sentenced to life imprisonment plus 75 years, but first will undergo psychiatric examination. U.S. Dist. Judge William G. East, in sentencing the pair Saturday, said their prison terms may be modified after the tests are completed in about 90 days at the Federal Medical Facility in Springfield, Mo.

★ ★ ★

Irwin's sentencing was postponed pending completion of a probation report. He was convicted on five counts, could serve 75 years in prison. He was acquitted of taking part in the actual abduction.

Gladys Towles Root, Irwin's attorney, told newsmen: "We knew from the start that we will have to win this case in the appeals court. That's why we took so much trouble to protect our record."

REJECTED CLAIM

Throughout the trial the defense maintained the kidnaping was a publicity stunt and that young Sinatra knew about it in advance. The jury rejected the hoax claim.

Young Sinatra was released on Dec. 11 near his mother's Bel Air home after his father paid $240,000 ransom in small bills. The three defendants were arrested a few days later by the FBI.

Trial testimony pictured Keenan as the mastermind who told at least 14 people beforehand of his "perfect crime."

Said Mrs. Root: "Barry Keenan and Joe Amsler did everything but wear a neon sign on their backs starting: 'Come to the kidnap party Sunday night. We are kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr.'"

RANK AMATEURS

Government prosecutor Thomas Sheridan termed the kidnaping "a vicious crime pulled by rank amateurs moved by greed."

Young Sinatra, after learning of the verdict, said, "The whole business is over with. Let's forget it."

Fire Destroys Large Area of Dixie City

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) — A fire swept along by 20-mile-an-hour winds leveled a section of this Old South city yesterday, and damaged estimates were placed at more than $2 million.

Two firemen received facial burns and a spectator was overcome by smoke.

Old-time residents called it the worst fire to hit the city since General Sherman and his Union forces burned it down on Feb. 14, 1864. The city of 50,000 was hit by a tornado that leveled the same area in the early 1900's.

★ ★ ★

Seven stores on Front street were destroyed and many adjoining businesses were damaged.

NOTHING LEFT

"Those stores weren't just destroyed," a fire department official said. "There's just nothing left there at all."

The alarm came as nearby churches were holding Sunday school classes. Congregations poured from the churches to watch the fire, and police estimated that 5,000 spectators gathered in the downtown area.

★ ★ ★

Winds which spread the flames were estimated by the weather bureau at 20-23 miles per hour.

Russia Readying March Rocket Feat

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is grooming a giant, multi - stage rocket for a new space spectacular this month—possibly an orbital flight by two or more cosmonauts.

The silvery rocket has been raised on a launching pad at Baikonur, a few miles east-northeast of the Aral Sea in Kazakhstan province in the steppes of southern Russia.

Baikonur is the site of the huge cosmodrome which has sent six Soviet cosmonauts into earth orbit in the past three years. Russia's last manned spaceflight, in the summer of 1963, sent cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky and the world's first spacewoman, Valentina Tereshkova, on extended voyages through space.

Informed sources said U.S. reconnaissance and surveillance systems have detected "unusual activity" in the Baikonur region. Meanwhile, Soviet tracking ships are reported steaming toward stations in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

TRACKING SHIPS

Russia has no counterpart of the worldwide tracking network that the United States has established to follow the course of its astronaut flights. Instead, the Soviets use highly instrumented ships to augment the string of stations that stretches generally northeastward across the broad chest of Russia.

As usual, there has been no advance word from Moscow concerning the impending shot. But usually reliable U.S. sources said two distinct possibilities are:

— Another "dual flight" by two cosmonauts in separate Vostok spaceships, and an attempt to link them into a small station in the sky. Such a link-up was believed to have been one of the goals of the Bykovsky - Tereshkova voyage. If so, the attempt was ruined when Bykovsky's Vostok 5 went into orbit slightly off course.

— An attempt to send two or more cosmonauts aloft in the same spaceship. If a third spaceman were rocketed into orbit aboard a second Vostok, an attempt to bring the vessels together might be expected.

GIANT BOOSTERS

The second possibility would be the more ambitious of the two, but it would depend upon whether the Soviets want to go this soon with the giant new space boosters it test - fired over the Pacific Ocean in December and January.

The first six Vostoks, each weighing more than five tons, were hurled into space by boosters generating 20 million horsepower in the booster stage alone. U.S. experts believe the new Russian boosters may be three times as powerful.

America's mightiest space booster is the Saturn-1, a 1½ million - pound thrust "super-rocket" that may be only half as powerful as the upgraded Soviet powerplant.

* * *

And, for the record, the next U.S. manned orbital shot is expected early next year, and will send two astronauts three times around the globe aboard the new Gemini space capsule.

COSMONAUT IDENTITY

The question always comes around to the identity of the next Russian cosmonauts in space.

This side of the Iron Curtain, there is no answer. Soviet policy has steadfastly been one of strictest secrecy in this matter — possibly to prevent the embarrassing questions that most certainly would arise should one of its young space hopefuls "disappear" for one reason or another.

But names other than the six who definitely have been identified as spacemen and women have cropped up from time to time as supposed members of the cosmonaut ranks. Recently, spaceman Adrian Nikolayev referred to his "good friend and cosmonaut, Ivan Anikayev."

Another mentioned from time to time has been Alex Grachev. And at the wedding reception for Nikolayev and Miss Tereshkova, someone asked the cosmonauts who were guests to stand up. Ten men and four women — one described as a "stunning redhead" — took the floor.

U. S., Japan Begin Study on Earthquakes

TOKYO (AP) — The United States and Japan opened a 12-day conference today to seek ways to predict earthquakes.

Seventy Japanese and ten American seismology and geophysics experts are attending the meeting, which is being held under the U.S.-Japan program for scientific cooperation.

A new process makes it possible to print photographs on linen with results equal to those on paper.

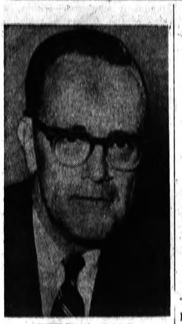
LBJ to Ask Lower Draft Age



PHILIP A. HART

Senator Announces Candidacy

By The Associated Press

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today he would "seek the permission" of the people of Michigan to continue in the U.S. Senate.

Hart announced that he would seek a second term at a press conference in a downtown Detroit hotel.

In Lansing State Sen. William Milliken- R - Traverse City, today announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor as a running mate for Gov. George W. Romney.

★ ★ ★

LBJ WIN

In a question and answer session after his re-election announcement, Hart said he thought President Johnson would "win big" if he sought re-election. Hart also said he would be "proud to run with Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., or anyone of his caliber."

Hart, D-Mich., has already been feted at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner in Washington, with the funds apparently earmarked for his second attempt at election to the U.S. Senate. Hart, of Mackinac Island, began his first, six-year term in 1959.

Meanwhile, the Democrats said they anticipate several Michigan visits by President Johnson in the late spring or early summer.

Congressman Neil Staebler, who seeks his party's nomination for governor, said at Marquette the President has been invited to several nonpolitical events but that party heads hope he can include politics.

Staebler said Johnson has been invited to the University of Michigan spring commencement and the Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival in July.

Journal Says Super Jet Has Spied on Reds

Magazine's Claim of Reconnaissance Is Denied by Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—The aviation trade journal which kept the secret of the A11 said today the supersonic jet "has already flown long-range reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Officials would not comment for publication on the report in the current edition of Aviation Week & Space Technology.

But one of them, declining use of his name, said "The A11 has not flown any reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Existence of the A11, under development for five years, had been one of the government's best-kept secrets until President Johnson removed the wraps at a news conference Feb. 29.

★ ★ ★

Defense officials praised the trade journal for keeping the secret of the A11 after finding out about it.

U2 SUCCESSOR

There has been speculation that the A11 was designed to succeed the U2, a high-flying reconnaissance plane used on spy missions over Communist territory.

Johnson called the A11 an experimental aircraft and said it was undergoing tests to determine its capability as a long-range interceptor.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called the A11 an interceptor aircraft, said it was being developed as such and declined to comment further on its use.

★ ★ ★

But in an editorial accompanying its article on the A11, Aviation Week said the jet is not a fighter-interceptor aircraft.

RECONNAISSANCE

It is designed mainly for long-range high altitude reconnaissance, the magazine said.

★ ★ ★

The Journal said the A11 has hit speeds of 2,300 miles an hour and is the first military plane to sustain a speed of about 2,000 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

"During operations over the past two years it has proved its ability to out-fly any air defense system now in operational use," the article said.

RECOVERING BODY — Workers uncover auto in which Mrs. Lucille Hruby, 56, of Oak Park, Ill., was killed during the weekend when a semitrailer truck loaded with dirt tipped over on her car in Des Plaines, Ill. Police said the load apparently shifted while the truck was making a sharp turn at a three-way intersection. The truck also hit a second car, injuring the driver.

Victory in New Hampshire Hinging on Undecided Vote

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A cloud of indecision which could have a telling affect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of tomorrow's New Hampshire primary.

There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

This highlighted an invitation for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, partisans thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might come up to challenge them.

WRITE-IN CAMPAIGNS

Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee, were represented in write-in campaigns.

If these were successful in gaining a substantial share of the nearly 100,000 Republican votes expected, it could project them forcefully into the presidential nomination contest.

For Goldwater, the conservative, and Rockefeller, the moderate, there was the psychological need to win this contest, their first outing.

Both vowed to continue their quest for nomination in victory or defeat.

PAYOFF IN RACE

They are looking to the June 2 California primary as the payoff derby after running this preliminary heat.

On the Democratic side, some 35,000 votes might be cast if the weather continues mild.

There existed a feeling of uneasiness among supporters of President Johnson that a write-in campaign for him and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy possibly might give the latter an edge in the number of votes.

★ ★ ★

But this potentially embarrassing situation could be explained rather easily, Democratic leaders said, by the fact that the voters know Johnson will be the presidential nominee and are interested only in recording their support for the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy in the selection of Johnson's running mate.

Senate Begins Rights Debate

Predictions Are Few on House-Passed Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins its historic civil rights debate today with few members willing to predict how or when it will end.

The 10-point measure, which cleared the House 290 to 130 four weeks ago and has President Johnson's firm support, represents a broad attempt to advance the rights of Negroes.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana will make the first move soon after the Senate convenes with a simple motion to consider the bill.

The motion is debatable, and the Southerners have said they will be ready to debate it, perhaps for longer than a week.

DOUBLE FILIBUSTER?

This raises the possibility of a double filibuster on the motion to take up the bill, then on the bill itself.

In past civil rights skirmishes Dixie forces usually permitted adoption of consideration motions after brief flurries of opposition.

The Southerners have been reluctant to run the risk of a successful cloture—the Senate's debate shutoff procedure — at the outset.

The civil rights battle is expected to shut down gradually all other Senate business.

REGULAR SESSIONS

But leaders said they would not schedule extra-long sessions at the outset, and some committees plan to operate this week.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has served notice that he will try to shunt the civil rights bill to the Judiciary Committee once Mansfield opens debate.

But Senate parliamentarians say this cannot be done until the motion to take up is adopted.

The Senate's assistant Democratic leader, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who is in charge of the bill, told a reporter he is confident Morse's effort will fail.

To Extend War on Poverty to Needy Teens

Entrance Test Failures Would Get Chance to Receive Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his war on poverty a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, an official source reported today.

These subjects for the War on Poverty, the source said, will be the 500,000 each year who fail the Army's general classification test. They will be given a chance to enter special work schools where they will take special education and vocational courses.

This is a key provision in the message on poverty, expected to go to Congress today or tomorrow.

Sources close to the planning said the change would have no effect on the likelihood or timing of actual call-up of the younger registrants, for service in the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

Draft calls are filled from the ranks of the oldest eligibles, with those in the lower 20's being called now.

SIZE OF POOL

The 17-year-olds found qualified for service would increase the size of the pool of eligibles but they would be at the bottom of the list, as 18-year-olds are now.

Searching for a practical approach to the problem of school dropouts, the task force assisting Sargent Shriver, head of the War on Poverty, decided the draft was the ideal screening device to pinpoint young men who need extra help.

All youngsters must take a general psychological and intelligence test when they register for the draft at 18.

★ ★ ★

"There are some 500,000 youngsters each year who fail this test," the high official source said.

"You know if they fail this

Ex-Marine Held For LBJ Threat

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A 32-year-old ex-Marine was held today after allegedly admitting he had mailed threatening letters to President Johnson.

Authorities said Norman J. Estes of Nashua told them he had planned to go to Washington, buy a rifle and await an opportunity to shoot the President.

Estes waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner Sunday and was held in $2,000 bail.

★ ★ ★

Nashua Police Chief Paul J. Tracy said Estes admitted mailing three threatening letters to Johnson.

Chief Tracy said Estes signed a statement admitting he wrote two letters to Washington and Boston threatening the President's life.

He quoted Estes as saying he had received a general discharge from the Marines and had lost several jobs when his service record became known.

A general discharge is considered less than honorable.

Estes was classified as a "sharpshooter" in rifle shooting in the Marines, officials said.

Police said he was separated from his wife and was living with his brother.

★ ★ ★

He had no children, was unemployed and his last known job was in a Nashua restaurant.

McNamara Tours Delta in Viet Nam

HOA HAO, South Viet Nam (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made a hedgehopping tour of South Viet Nam's Communist-infested Mekong River delta today telling cheering crowds he had come to pledge America's full support for their new leader, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

The tour was marred by the crash of a U.S. Army helicopter escorting him here. Two American crewmen were killed.

At another stop, at Can Tho, McNamara arrived while smoke still was rising from a burning gasoline depot demolished by Communist Viet Cong mortar fire during the night.

★ ★ ★

McNamara spent most of the day trying to make friends, and to influence people to get behind Premier Khanh in the war against the Communists.

For Alcatraz Island

Sioux'll Be Suing

AP Photofax

WANT IT BACK—Many moons ago, the American government took over the Island of Alcatraz in the San Francisco Bay. Many bad palefaces were kept there under guard, until recently. Now the island is almost deserted and a group of Sioux have claimed the land under an 1868 treaty granting them the right to claim land "not used for a specific purpose."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five Sioux Indians who landed on Alcatraz and staked claims to the island site of the abandoned federal prison said last night that they withdrew under threat by the angered warden in charge of a six-man caretaker garrison.

"But we achieved our purpose staking out our claim," said their leader, Allen Cottier, 42, of San Leandro, Calif. He is president of the San Francisco Bay area branch of the American Indian Council.

"We left under threat of violence by the warden," Cottier declared. "He said these guys are going to get out of here or they are going to be scratched up."

ASKED TO LEAVE

Warden Richard Willard said, "I told their attorney, 'If anything happens and any of my people get scratched up, that's a felony.' I asked them again to leave and they did."

Cyprus Battle Raging Again

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots hammered at each other with mortars, automatic weapons and armored bulldozers at Ktima in Western Cyprus today.

They ignored U.N. and British truce force attempts to halt the fighting.

Fires started by shelling raged unchecked in the area. Greek Cypriot authorities said one member of their security forces was killed.

* * *

There was no report on Turkish casualties, but the British army said five Turkish Cypriot hostages were killed in a nearby town.

ALL WELL ARMED

British sources said both sides appeared well armed and well disciplined. The conflict broke out at dawn, ending a brief truce that followed skirmishes and near riots at Ktima over the weekend.

Greek Cypriot forces claimed they had driven the Turks back from front line positions at the edge of the Turkish quarter, a warren of twisting, narrow streets jammed with small shops and living quarters.

A Greek Cypriot spokesman said the government ordered an "all-out attempt" to impose government authority on the entire town.

* * *

Fires raged in some parts of the town. British army officials said firemen couldn't get at the flames because of the heavy shooting.

TURKS ACCUSED

A Greek Cypriot government statement accused the Turks of starting the battle at dawn by firing without provocation from the minaret of a mosque overlooking Ktima's market place.

The government warned it would attack the minarets if the Turkish Cypriots continued to use them for machine gun nests.

The government also accused the British of protecting Turkish positions. It said a Greek Cypriot was killed by a Turk who fired from behind a British armored car.

* * *

The government statement added:

"At about 10 a.m. today Turkish insurgents made use of long range heavy weapons firing against (Greek Cypriot) security forces. Heavy firing was heard all over the town.

PROTECT TURKS

"British troops continue to protect Turkish positions.

"At 10:45 a.m. Turkish terrorists used mortars in their attacks against Greek quarters. State forces are advancing and enforcing the law."

British headquarters said mortars and armored bulldozers were brought into the action.

Vandals Strike Area Schools

Bagley, Bethune and Rochester High Hit

Two Pontiac elementary schools and the Rochester High School were vandalized over the week-end.

Pontiac police discovered the break-ins at the Bethune and Bagley schools early this morning. The high school damage was reported to the sheriff's department yesterday morning.

A glass cutter was used to enter the Bethune school, 154 Lake. All the rooms were slightly ransacked.

* * *

Milk and cookie cartons littered the gym floor. Two windows were broken in the gym as well as several strikers on a piano.

FORCED DOOR

At the Bagley School, 320 Bagley, the vandals entered the building by forcing a steel door to the boiler room.

Each room on the first and second floor was partially ransacked. A new addition to the building was not disturbed.

Glue was splattered on the gym floor and a glass door in the gym storage office was smashed.

* * *

Vegetables were tossed about the kitchen.

BURNED GLOVE

Police found a man's glove burned on the main office floor. Some change also was taken.

The Bethune break-in was discovered at 2 a.m., and the Bagley damage, a half hour later.

Damage at the Rochester school was mostly confined to broken interior windows. Eight 3 by 6 foot panes, valued at $50 each, were smashed throughout the building.

* * *

Desks and metal cabinets in the publications room and counseling office were pried open.

Police said a window was broken to gain entry, after an attempt with a glass cutter failed.

Knifer Kills Paris Envoy of Morocco

PARIS (AP) — The Moroccan Consul-General in Paris was stabbed to death in a busy street today, not far from the opera.

The victim was Si Benarrabi-Thami, about 35, who was attacked as he left the consulate on Rue des Pyramides. Police arrested a Moroccan painter at the scene.

Oumoal Ydr, Morroccan janitor in the consulate building, said the painter had made several trips to the consulate recently in an effort to get a passport. Ydr told a reporter he watched Benerrabi-Thami leave the building and start to walk across the street.

* * *

"I went back into the building, but then heard a woman screaming from an upper floor," he said. "I went back outside and saw Benerrabi-Thami sprawled near a parked car."

BLOOD ON STREET

There were splotches of blood on the street.

Within a few minutes, Ydr said, police arrived and arrested the Moroccan painter.

"I saw on the street a knife about this long," Ydr added, measuring off about 10 inches on his arm.

* * *

Mohamed Cherkaoui, Moroccan ambassador in Paris, said the arrested man had come to the consulate every day for the past week, seeking the passport.

"I guess he didn't want to wait any more," he added.

Latin Plane Crash Kills 25; 1 Dead in Chicago Landing

By The Associated Press

Two airliner crashes last night, one near Chicago, the other near Bogota, Colombia, killed a total of 26 persons. A third airliner made an emergency landing on a foam-covered runway at Boston early today. No one was hurt.

Twenty-eight passengers walked away from the Chicago crash, but the copilot was killed and the pilot critically injured when the chartered DC3 plowed into a two-story home. Six occupants in the home escaped injury.

The two-engine plane, returning passengers from a skiing trip at Boyne Mountain, Mich., was attempting to land at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather.

Fire Chief Carl Selka said the pilot, Virgil Provost, 40, told him as he was nearing O'Hare Airport he entered a patch of air turbulence.

All 25 persons aboard a Coombian airliner, also a DC3, lombian airliner, also a DC3, apparently perished in a crash 18 miles south of Bogota. Authorities said there were reports of an explosion aboard the craft, en route from Pereira to Bogota.

At Boston's Logan International Airport, a Trans World Airlines Constellation made an emergency landing after the pilot reported trouble getting his nose wheel down.

The four-engine plane carried eight passengers and a crew of five, none of whom was hurt as the plane came to rest with its nose on the ground and its tail in the air. The flight originated in Dayton, Ohio.

The former boxer, wearing dark glasses, was the second witness as the fourth week of Ruby's murder trial began. Ruby is charged with murder with malice for having shot down Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

* * *

Ross said he and Ruby grew up on Chicago's West Side. He said he and the accused man were members of what he called "the group," a band of about 12 boys.

HAD TANTRUMS

He pictured Ruby as a youth who "flew into tantrums" over trifles. He said, "We knew he would steam up pretty quick and we used to protect him."

Ross said that so far as he knew Ruby had never had any trouble with the police.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli asked Ross if Ruby was given to using profanity.

* * *

WAS PATRIOTIC

Ross, member of the Marine Corps during World War II, said he knew Ruby as a "patriotic, red-blooded American." Ruby was in the Air Corps.

Indians Claim Land on Alcatraz Island

Francisco, to leave but without pulling up stakes.

Leighton explained the Alcatraz invasion was a protest against the 47 cents an acre awarded as a settlement by the government for land taken from California Indians.

He said the claims to the 20-acre rock with 12 usable acres were staked under terms of an 1868 treaty which allowed non-reservation Indians to file for up to 40 acres of government land "not used for a specific purpose."

PAPERS COMPLETED

Leighton said the claim papers were completed on the grim rock in San Francisco Bay and dispatched by registered mail Sunday night to the Federal Land Office in Sacramento and the Land Claiming Office in Washington.

"We'll carry on our case in the courts," he declared.

Cecil Poole, U.S. district attorney, disputed the contention by the Indians and the attorney that the island had reverted to unappropriated land.

"Alcatraz is not abandoned," declared Poole. "It is being maintained.

* * *

"I'm sympathetic with the Indian question. But even if they really want Alcatraz, it's not mine to give them."

Commission Candidates to Present Their Views

BIRMINGHAM—All six of the candidates for City Commission posts will present their views to the electorate Wednesday night.

The 8 p.m. meeting in the Mary Griffith room of the Community House will be sponsored by the Central Birmingham Residents Association (CBRA).

Each candidate will speak briefly before the six discuss election issues. They also will answer questions from the floor.

* * *

PUBLIC URGED

The CBRA is encouraging the public to attend the session. The group will hold its first annual meeting after the program.

Alva J. Richardson, Bloomfield Hills justice of the peace for 19 years, plans to retire this spring.

The 70-year-old ex-policeman will, however, wait until the City Commission can appoint his replacement.

Richardson, 101 W. Long Lake, had requested that his retirement become effective April 1, one year shy of the completion of his fifth term.

* * *

Clerk Robert J. Stadler was asked to persuade Richardson to retain his post until the commission is reorganized after the April 6 election. Richardson consented.

NEED SUCCESSOR

The City Commission must appoint a successor within 30 days of the justice's resignation.

Richardson was a Bloomfield Hills policeman for 10 years before becoming justice of the peace. Mrs. Alice Gilbert, Bloomfield Township justice of the peace, has been acting for him since last fall because of illness.

Jim Rose, director of housing and community service for the Detroit Commission on Community Relations, will speak at tomorrow night's meeting of the Birmingham - Bloomfield Council on Human Relations.

Rose, author of numerous articles on human relations problems, will speak at 8 p.m. at the Community House.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield group was formed last year for the purpose of "studying and sharing thinking and findings on intergroup relations and developing approaches toward improvement of intergroup relations in the geographical areas of the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts."

* * *

Attorney Alan W. Joslyn, president of the council, said tomorrow night's meeting is open to all area residents interested in the objectives of the group.

Namara often held up in the boxer's victory signal, he spoke under a blistering sun in town squares, from a balcony, and at a pagoda belonging to the Buddhist sect called Hoa Hao. The sect, which was founded 25 years ago, was named after this village, 100 miles west of Saigon.

To a Holy Woman of the sect, he brought an American hearing aid, and was given a copy of the Hoa Hao Bible in exchange.

At Can Tho, McNamara made a donation in behalf of the U.S. government of 500,000 piastres —$6,800—for 3,000 victims of a fire that swept a slum quarter last week.

* * *

McNamara did not see the crash of the helicopter which was flying security cover for his mission.

LEARNED LATER

It occurred a few minutes after he and Khanh had walked away from their landing pad. He learned of it later, after speaking to an enthusiastic crowd, and his appearance turned grim.

Officials said the helicopter lost power while making a low-altitude sweep of the landing pad area. The pilot and copilot survived, but two enlisted men manning the helicopter's guns were killed.

The helicopter was a turbine-powered UH1B, the same type in which McNamara and Khanh were riding.

* * *

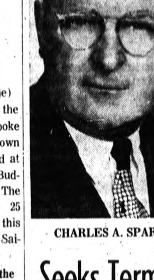
McNamara did not interrupt his tour. He spoke at three widely scattered places in the delta, each time praising Khanh, who seized power Jan. 30 in a bloodless coup.

SECOND DAY

This was McNamara's second day of his visit to this war-troubled Southeast Asian nation. After briefings yesterday in Saigon, he took off this morning for a firsthand look at the countryside where Communist Viet Cong guerrillas have been waging successful warfare in the last four months.

Vietnamese military sources said Khanh laid a new battle plan before McNamara Sunday night calling for the shifting of troops from relatively calm areas in the north to the river delta.

U.S. military advisers have been urging more action in the delta against the guerrillas, who have been mauling government forces there in recent months.



CHARLES A. SPARKS

Seeks Term 17 at County Post

Charles Sparks Began Treasurer's Job in '32

Charles A. Sparks today announced his candidacy for reelection to a 17th term as Oakland County treasurer in the 1964 county elections.

First elected in 1932, Sparks a Republican, has served as county treasurer for 31 years.

Referring to his record in office, Sparks said, "I feel that I can sincerely and honestly call on the voters for their support again in our endeavor to continue an efficient and progressive tax collection office."

* * *

Sparks said, "In finance today, it is important that the best qualified person hold the office of treasurer of our county.

QUALIFICATIONS

"Necessary for these qualifications are mature judgment, years of training and experience and the ability to supervise a well-balanced, well-trained and efficient organization."

While the money taken in by his office is 35 times greater than when he first took office, employes number only three times as many, Sparks said.

Sparks operated a real estate and insurance office for 12 years prior to his first term, and before that worked for Oakland Motor Car Co., the forerunner of Pontiac Motor Div.

* * *

A past exalted ruler of Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810, Sparks also is a past president of Pontiac Exchange Club, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and State Association of County Treasurers.

He also is a member of the National Association of County Officers and of the National Association of County Treasurers and Finance Officers.

He lives at 7010 Hatchery, Waterford Township.

To Overcome Unemployment

LBJ Asks Job, Training Drives

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today to mobilize and upgrade its manpower skills in a major effort to wipe out grimly persistent unemployment.

* * *

"Overcoming that unemployment is the greatest immediate manpower challenge before us" Johnson said in asking Congress for a broad range of legislation to create jobs and train workers.

The federal government cannot do the job alone, Johnson said in his annual manpower report to Congress.

CALLS ON BUSINESS

Calling on business, labor and state and local governments to cooperate in creating an "active manpower policy," the President said: "These programs will take hold and succeed only when we become determined that nothing is to take priority over people."

Johnson's report was accompanied by Labor Department statistics emphasizing the plight of the poorly educated worker in an increasingly technical economy, and the alarmingly high rate of youths who can't find work.

* * *

"What is at stake is whether a free democratic economy can attain well-being for the less fortunate as well as the more fortunate of its people," Johnson said, "and whether it can make population growth and technological advance fruitful for all rather than fateful for some."

* * *

Johnson's message was underscored by latest government figures showing that 800,000 new jobs in February did nothing to dent the nation's 4.5 million jobless total.

NEW WORKERS

The reason is the steadily growing flow of new workers into the labor market, particularly youths. Automated machinery that shrinks job opportunities also plays a part.

Johnson announced "two new major administrative actions" to study the impact of automation, and "to start a continuing top-level assessment of the relation of the government's programs and our country's manpower assets and needs."

* * *

He asked Congress to enact pending legislation dealing with youth unemployment, education extension of labor laws to include more workers and increased and broadened unemployment insurance.

"Areas of high unemployment must be revitalized," he said. "Overtime work must be examined critically to determine if it is feasible to convert regular and substantial overtime hours into new jobs."

HALF TRAINED

The Labor Department's accompanying report included new figures showing that "only about half of our workers have had formal job training."

Of the 61 million adult workers aged 22 to 64, it said, only 24 million have had some formal job training and 9 million others have been to college three years or more.

* * *

The other 28 million, or 46 per cent, "have had no formal job training," it said.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Careless Diet May Lead to Heart Attacks

BRANDSTADT

Careless dietary habits may be just one culprit causing hardening of the arteries and heart disease. But it should not be neglected.

Heart specialists now recommend skim milk, buttermilk and cottage cheese in preference to sweet cream, sour cream, ice cream, whipped cream, cream cheese and butter.

They reommend red meat, fowl, fish and other seafoods if the fat is trimmed off.

REMOVE FAT

Gravies, soups and stews should be placed in the refrigerator overnight so that the hardened fat can be easily removed.

Use vegetable oils for cooking and for braising meats rather than lard, drippings and suet. Eat eggs in moderation — preferably not more than one a day.

* * *

Green vegetables, corn, peas and beans are recommended. For dessert, fruits.

USE LITTLE OF THESE

To be consumed sparingly are margarine, potatoes, rice, spaghetti, bread, cereals, cake, pastries, cookies, pies, candy, jellies, jams, honey and alcoholic beverages.

For those persons whose blood cholesterol and triglyceride levels are already high, many drugs have been used.

Niacin can reduce the cholesterol level. Several other drugs have been found that will accomplish this purpose, but they are still regarded as experimental.

Thyroxine and sex hormones have also been used with some success but the dose of these drugs must be carefully regulated.

BETTER CONCEPTION

Now that we know more about what causes arteriosclerosis, we have a much better conception of how to go about preventing it.

Q — Is there any danger of permanent harm from ultrasound treatments taken once a week?

* * *

A — The effects of ultrasound are chiefly due to the heat induced.

This form of treatment has certain advantages when heat is desired in some joints that cannot be readily penetrated by means of external heat or diathermy.

It should be given only under the direct supervision of a doctor specially trained in its use.

Q — You recently said that Cafergot for migraine headaches should not be taken by pregnant women.

If a woman were taking this drug and didn't know that she was pregnant, in what way would it affect the baby?

* * *

A — If she didn't know she was pregnant it wouldn't matter.

Cafergot contains ergot which causes uterine contractions and might precipitate a premature delivery in a woman whose pregnancy was well along.

Tax Tips

(Editor's Note — The following income tax information is furnished by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

QUESTION: My two children attend a private school operated by our church. In past years we have not been able to claim the tuition we pay as a charitable contribution on our income tax return. In 1963 I was informed that if we made out our tuition checks directly to the church, the amounts would be deductible. We would like to know if this is correct.

ANSWER: The Internal Revenue laws state that amounts paid for tuition to a private school are not deductible even though the school is operated by a charitable organization. This is true as tuition is a personal expense of the taxpayer and not a contribution to a charitable organization.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Port Strike Called Off for Parley

TOLEDO (AP) — A strike scheduled today by the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association for Great Lakes ports has been called off pending renewed negotiations with shipping firms.

Melvin Pelfrey, union vice president, said yesterday a meeting has been set at Cleveland Wednesday with representatives of some two dozen shippers.

Previous negotiations on the union's pension plan demands broke down last Thursday and union members voted to strike.

★ ★ ★

If progress in Wednesday's talks is not considered adequate, Pelfrey added, the strike will be ordered.

AVAILABLE TO WORK

Meanwhile, engineers will be available to work on fitting out vessels for the lake shipping season, which opens in about three weeks, the union official said.

A strike by the 650 engineers would affect 140 vessels.

U.S. Reports Shooting Near Gabon Embassy

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — U. S. officials said a serious shooting incident occurred near the American Embassy in Libreville last night.

No injuries were reported, nor were any details available immediately. U. S. officials declined to add to the brief report.

A bomb exploded near the embassy Thursday night. No one was injured, but the embassy was slightly damaged.

★ ★ ★

The embassy also reported a series of anonymous telephone calls advising Americans to leave Gabon.

FRENCH ANGRY

There have been reports that French residents of this former French colony are angered at what they claim is U. S. intervention in Gabonese political affairs.

★ ★ ★

U. S. officials have denied any such intervention.

Trading Moderately Active

Steels, Motors Up on Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Some strength in steels and motors highlighted a stock market advance early today. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional.

★ ★ ★

The auto stocks appeared buoyed by Ford's boost in production schedules because of record sales. Ford and General Motors gained fractions, Chrysler almost a point.

FRACTIONAL RISE

Most of the major steelmakers also rose fractionally as reports were that demand for steel continued strong.

Cigarette issues post a string of small gains. A published report said the search for a less harmful cigarette is getting under way in earnest.

★ ★ ★

Some of the electronics, office equipments and other "glamour" issues made wider advances. IBM was up 2, Zenith and Litton Industries about a point each and U. S. Smelting more than a point.

Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .6 to 299.1.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Libel Ruling Is Overturned

High Court Upsets $500,000 Judgment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned today a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala., city official in a suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., delivered the unanimous decision.

The libel suit was based on publication of an advertisement in the Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement had statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery.

★ ★ ★

L. B. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery, won the award in the Circuit Court of Montgomery County with a contention that several paragraphs in the advertisement would be taken as reflecting on him.

CONSTITUTIONAL STANDARD

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, in a concurring opinion joined by Justice William O. Douglas, said the court was announcing today a constitutional standard that prohibits a public official from recovering damages for a defamatory falsehood relating to his official conduct, "unless he proves that the statement was made with actual malice — that is, with knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was false or not."

Brennan's main opinion said the Alabama law of civil libel involved in the case, was a form of regulation that creates hazards to protected freedoms markedly greater than those that attend reliance upon the criminal law.

The Alabama rule of law, Brannan said, was not saved but its allowance of the defense of truth.

★ ★ ★

"We hold today," Brennan said, "that the Constitution delimits a state's power to award damages for libel in actions brought by public officials against critics of their official conduct.

"Since this is such an action, the rule requiring proof of actual malice is applicable."

International Competition

Gold Mart Uncertain

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There's an international cast in the gold drama today. And often the players are acting at cross purposes.

DAWSON

A sudden spurt in the price of gold in London after months of quiet comes on the same day the U.S. Treasury is announcing apparent victory in holding down the drain on its gold reserves and the House of Representatives is passing a bill aimed at further safeguards.

★ ★ ★

To understand how fluid and complex and inflammable is the situation you have to mix:

ECONOMIC MOVES

The Russian's hunger for wheat, the Italian's worry about the falling purchasing power of his lire, the Englishman's spending spree, the Frenchman's preference for the good hard metal, and the American's nervousness over the outflow of dollars into foreign stocks and short term securities.

It's a temperamental cast. And even the most expert of international directors can't be absolutely sure how the next performance will go.

Here's how it looks in the early days of March.

The price of gold on the London Free Market last week jumped 1.875 cents an ounce to $35.095 to end months of quiet trading. The heavy demand apparently came from Italians who have been sending capital out of their country because of fear that mounting inflation would weaken the value of the lire.

LOSING GOLD

The U.S. Treasury has been losing very little gold in recent months, halting the disturbing drain of previous years. In 1963 the total loss was $391.7 million, smallest since 1957. And the net loss in the last three months of the year was only $15 million.

Gold flowed both ways. France bought $515.7 million from the United States, preferring gold to dollars in its reserve. Other buyers were Spain, Austria, Argentina, Israel, Turkey, Egypt, the Philippines, Syria, Yugoslavia.

The U.S. Treasury also sold $69 million of gold to domestic users in the professions, industry and arts.

★ ★ ★

But the United States also bought gold. The biggest amount was $329.3 million from Britain. Most of this is supposed to have been from the London gold pool set up by leading western nations to protect their reserves and currencies.

And an important flow into this pool was gold from Russia. The Soviet Union sold gold to get various currencies it needed —such as dollars for the purchase of American wheat.

SAD NOTE

The gold story doesn't end on this happy note, however:

The British have been having a buying spree and sudden economic expansion following a tax cut. To curb a boom that might become a bust and to head off threatening inflation, the Bank of England has just raised its interest charges to five per cent, from four. Consumer and business borrowing costs are expected to rise accordingly—and yields on investment money would go up.

★ ★ ★

If they became too attractive, idle dollars here might be once more lured across the Atlantic in volume—or so banking circles fear. And any such a flight of dollars would build up surpluses that foreign banks could return to the U.S. Treasury for more of its gold.

To hold a disturbing rush of investment dollars into foreign securities in the first part of 1962 the Kennedy administration proposed a tax ranging up to 15 per cent on the purchase by Americans of stocks of foreign corporations and other debt securities. The House has just passed this bill and sent it to the Senate.

The aim is to keep idle investment dollars ("hot money") at home and out of the hands of those who might raid U.S. gold stocks.

Opponents charge this would be self-defeating. "They argue that private American investment in foreign securities, industry and resources eventually returns earnings that help balance our international payments — and hence help guard our gold.

Q) "I am 72 years old and retired. I have six children, all of whom are doing well except one. He is a retarded boy. While my wife and I are alive he has nothing to worry about, but I would like to help provide for him when we're gone. Through working weekends I have saved $1,000. Could you suggest a stock that could increase in value over the next few years to help this boy?" T. G.

A) You should buy a very strong growth stock with a consistent record of widely expanding earnings, dividends, and price over a long period of years. Bristol-Myers is just such a stock, and I recommend it to you. This company has a strong stake in ethical drugs, and it is a highly efficient merchandiser of consumer items such as Bufferin and Clairol.

Q) "A friend has told me of a company that is an agency of the U.S. Government but has common stock owned by the public. Dividends are supposedly paid monthly. What is the name of this company, and where are the shares traded?" D. S.

A) I believe the company in question is the Federal National Mortgage Association, the shares of which are traded over-the-counter. With its preferred stock held by the Secretary of the Treasury and its common in the hands of the public, "Fanny Mae" is a unique situation.

The company was established by the Federal Government to deal in FHA and VA mortgages. Since it buys and sells mortgages originated by lending institutions, Fanny Mae provides a secondary market for this type of investment.

Dividends on the common are paid monthly. The current rate is 30 cents a month, or $3.60 a year. I consider the shares an excellent commitment for those desiring good income.

Chrysler Plans Bonuses, Dependent on Court Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. intends to pay 3,000 executives and officials $15.5 million in incentive bonuses from its big year of 1963, dependent on settlement of a stockholders' court suit over its incentive pay.

The auto company, whose 1963 profit hit a record $161.6 million in its great comeback from 1962, disclosed the plan Sunday in its printed annual report to stockholders.

The 1963 bonuses would be four times larger than those of 1962.

The suit is that in chancery court at Wilmington, Del., brought 3½ years ago by stockholder-attorney Sol A. Dann of Detroit.

PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

A proposed settlement was approved last week provided Chrysler signs it by Wednesday.

Plaintiff Dann charged Chrysler in August 1960 with conflict of interest and mismanagement by certain officials. Chrysler countered with a libel suit against Dann.

Chrysler's report to stockholders said the payments would be made contingent on the settlement in Wilmington.

The agreement as reported in Wilmington called for the payment of 1963 bonuses under an old plan based on pretax net income instead of a new plan based on after-tax net income. Chrysler said that until the litigation is settled initial payments to participants will be provisionally limited to the old plan.

HEALTHY STATUS

The Chrysler bonus announcement was a further reflection of its healthy economic status in 1963 when it turned a profit of $161.6 million, equivalent of $4.35 a share. The year before netted $65.4 million, or $1.81 a share.

Incentive bonuses are separate from the stock option purchase plan for company officials. Chrysler executives reportedly made a total profit of $4 million on the stock option plan last year.

Names of the 3,000 officials to be given the bonus were not listed in the stockholders report. However, payments to officials who also are company directors are expected to be included in a proxy statement yet to be announced by the company.
