

World Told of His Coming

Of all claimants to divinity only Christ could say "My coming was foretold, even to the smallest detail."

The Life of Christ—I

History and Reason Prove Jesus Alone Was Divine

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

History is full of men who said that they came from God, or that they were gods, or that they bore a message from God. Buddha, Mohammed, Confucius, Christ, Socrates, Lao-tse and thousands of others, including the one who founded a new religion today in Los Angeles—each has a right to be heard for his claims. As the yardstick must be outside the cloth, otherwise it cannot measure it, so there must be some tests outside of the claimants and available to all men, all civilizations and all ages, to decide whether any one of them is right in his claims.

These tests are two-fold—reason and history. Reason, because everyone has it, even those without faith; history, because everyone lives in it and should know something about it.

Our reason tells us that if any of the claimants came from God, the least thing that God could do to support his claim would be to preannounce his coming. Automobile manufacturers tell us when to expect a new model. If God is sending anyone from Himself with the most important message for all men, He owes it to us to let us know when He is coming, where He will be born, where He will live, the doctrine He will teach, the enemies He will make, the program He will adopt for the future, and the manner of His death. By His conformity with these announcements, we could judge Him.

Reason further tells us that if God does not do this, then there is nothing to prevent any fool from appearing in history and saying: "I am from God," or "An angel appeared to me in the desert and gave me this message." In such a case there is no objective, historical test for such a messenger. We have just his word for it, and he could be suffering a delusion.

If a visitor came from a foreign country to Washington, and said he was a diplomat, we would ask for both his passport and his documents testifying that he came from a certain government.

His papers would have to antedate his coming. If we ask for such proofs of identity from diplomats, we certainly ought to do so in the all-important subject of religion, asking: "What record is there before you were born, that you were coming?"

With this test in mind, line up the claimants. Put in anyone you please, for at the moment Christ is no bigger than any of them. We now address them:

"Socrates, did anyone know you were coming?" "Gotama, did anyone ever preannounce you and your message, and predict that one day you would sit under the Buddha tree?" "Confucius, was the name of your mother, the place of your birth recorded, and given to men centuries before, so that when

Light Snowfall Blankets Area

County's Side Roads Muddy; Main Trunks in Fair Shape

Although spring is preparing to enter the March scene, Old Man Winter reminded Pontiac area residents of his continued presence today by covering the ground with 1½ inches of snow.

The Oakland County Road Commission called out 60 trucks at 2 a.m. and had main roads in fair shape by morning.

Road Superintendent Oscar Loomis warned that lack of frost in the ground has made side roads muddy and said many cars are stuck particularly in the county's south end.

The forecast was for partly cloudy today and tomorrow, with snow flurries today.

The high temperature today was predicted at 20 to 24, with a low tonight of 16 to 18 and a high tomorrow of 26 to 30.

Pontiac Municipal Airport reported a frigid 6 above zero at 6 a.m. Wind velocity was 20 miles per hour at 10 a.m. with gusts up to 30.

State Police reported main roads slippery in spots this morning, but said no major traffic snafus developed.

The Pontiac Department of Public Works had three trucks out last night salting local streets.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac had climbed to 20 by 1 a.m.

Quakes Subside; Eruptions Still Threaten Hawaii

Volcano Expert Says Conditions Better, but Danger Continues

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—The threat of violent new volcanic outbursts hung like a dark cloud today over the danger-filled lava fields of eastern Hawaii Island.

Earthquakes of diminishing intensity jolted the area throughout yesterday. They rumbled along the 20-mile slope from Kilauea crater to the active volcano fields on Puna Peninsula.

Volcanologist Gordon A. MacDonald said Pahoa—its villagers packed and ready to run if a big eruption burst forth—"is still not out of danger, but things are definitely looking better."

He said the volcano may continue to pop up in the devastated Puna area "for days, weeks, even months."

Gov. Samuel Wilder King inspected the fuming lava flows and spouting lava fountains from the ground yesterday.

A week of fiery eruptions has driven 600 persons from their homes. Lava flows have closed around at least nine dwellings and caused an estimated two million dollars damage to rich cane and timber lands. Four villages have been evacuated.

A fountain of lava burst out of a cane field a week ago near Pahoa. Since then eruptions and earthquakes have scorched a four-mile stretch across the heart of the Puna Peninsula.

One lava river was about 100 feet from the ocean near a deserted southwest settlement, Pohokiki. The molten stream had slowed almost to a stop.

A second flow south of abandoned Kapoho had virtually stopped 200 yards from the ocean. The other coastal villages emptied are Kalapana and Ohihiko.

Seismographs began registering continuous quakes a few miles inland Pahoa Saturday. The uneasy residents maintained vigil in drizzling rain Saturday and yesterday.

Bell May Get Okay to Hike Phone Rates

LANSING (INS)—It was reported in Lansing today that the state Public Service Commission is ready to raise Michigan Bell Telephone Co. rates approximately $2,900,000 a year.

Michigan Bell had sought an increase of $22 million. It could not be immediately learned whether the company would boost rates "across the board" affecting every type of service or whether it would be limited to special customers.

The company asked for a $22 million rate increase in June, 1953, but the request was rejected by the commission May 11, 1954.

However, since that time Michigan Bell has granted its workers $2,900,000 in wage increases. This factor is reported to have changed the Public Service Commission's mind about the company's need for more funds.

George Gobel, Disney Favored to Win Emmies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Gobel and Walt Disney stacked up as favorites to win television Emmies tonight as the nation, via NBC-TV, watches the seventh annual awards of the Television Academy.

The TV counterpart of the movies' big Oscar show goes on national television for the first time.

It will start at 11:30 p.m. and continue to 1 a.m. EST.

If Disney wins an Emmy in his first year of telecasting, the trip to the podium will be old stuff for him. He has won 24 movie Oscars, more than any other producer.

Top TV shows and performers in 21 categories will be honored at a black tie dinner show originating at the Moulin Rouge here and at Nino's LaRue in New York. Steve Allen is flying in from New York to emcee the Hollywood part of the show while Dave Garroway will handle the chores in New York.

Jelke Retrial Opening Today

Public, Press Admitted to Hear Case Against Alleged Call Girl King

NEW YORK (INS)—The retrial of ole heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke on charges of running a cafe society call girl ring opens today.

The public and newsmen will be admitted. Barring them from prosecution testimony at the first trial two years ago resulted in the up-setting of Jelke's conviction on two counts of compulsory prostitution.

New York General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente, who issued the ban, will preside again.

The stocky, dark-haired Jelke said yesterday he wanted to have some women on the jury that will hear expected damaging prosecution testimony by a bevy of beautiful, and expensive, call girls.

The 25-year-old heir to a $3,500,000 oleo fortune explained: "A woman can spot a bad woman faster than any man."

Jelke, who has married blonde Sylvia Eder since his last trial, promised that the names of the most prominent men patrons of the $50-to-$500-a-night call girls will be made public.

His attorney, George Washington Herz, added: "Names of several people in show business, some in the United Nations, and in the business world, will be brought out—plus a batch of new names."

Jelke predicted the admitted prostitute would be "an awful lot of help" to him "if they will only tell the truth this time."

Herz said he hoped to get a jury "able to differentiate between living in a Bohemian atmosphere and living an immoral life. You can associate with prostitutes, you know, without being one."

Scheduled to testify against Jelke is the first trial's No. 1 prosecution witness, willowy Pat Ward, who claims the oleo heir led her into a life of professional sin.

Also slated to take the stand are luscious Barbara Harmon, who testified she helped teach Miss Ward the tricks of the trade; college-educated Pat Thompson; ex-hat check girl Marguerite Cordova and Erica Steel, the alleged ring's madam.

U. N. Observers Rebuke Israel in Border Fight

Cite 'Brutal' Aggression in Attack on Egyptians Last Week in Gaza

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has been charged by the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission as a "brutal" aggressor who deliberately attacked Egyptian forces in the Gaza Strip a week ago.

The armistice group said the bloody assault in which 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis died violated the 1949 Palestine truce agreement.

The commission's ruling yesterday heightened speculation at U.N. headquarters in New York that the Security Council would vote similar censure against Israel when it takes up the explosive issue again next week.

Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns of Canada, U.N. Palestine truce chief, was expected to leave for New York in a few days to give the Security Council a personal report on the Gaza incident, which has strained relations in Palestine to the breaking point.

At yesterday's meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, the truce commission adopted an Egyptian resolution declaring the Gaza attack Feb. 28 "was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force."

It was carried over Israeli objections by the votes of the Egyptian delegation and the U. N. chairman, Commandant Francois Gelcomaggi of France.

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli counter complaint that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that took the Israelis into Egyptian territory.

This complaint was killed off when the Egyptian delegation voted against it and Gelcomaggi abstained.

Border tension was heightened over the weekend by more demonstrations in the Egyptian-held Gaza area. For the second time Arab refugees marched to Government House and demanded that Egyptian authorities give them arms to fight the Israelis.

As a safety precaution, 16 wives and children of the U. N. truce observers in the area were sent to the Arab sector of Jerusalem.

Downtown Stores to Remain Open Monday, Friday Nights

Downtown Pontiac merchants tonight begin a twice-a-week schedule of late hours to accommodate a growing number of evening shoppers.

Richard L. McPartlin, president of the Retail Merchants Assn., said a majority of downtown stores will keep their doors open until 9 both Monday and Friday nights.

Formerly, shops were open evenings Fridays only.

"An increasing number of shoppers have requested the convenience of an additional night opening," McPartlin said. "The merchants are happy to cooperate."

McPartlin said changing work schedules and an upswing in the number of women being employed have brought about the demand.

Pontiac City Lines, Inc., will add buses on Monday to bring the service up to Friday night standards, according to Earl W. Dressner, superintendent.

McPartlin said the recent opening of the city's second municipal short-term parking lot makes parking facilities "especially attractive for the evening shopper."

Pre-Dawn Flash Said Brightest of New Series

Glow From Tower Shot Visible 250 Miles Away in Los Angeles

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The biggest and brightest blast of the 1955 atomic test series lighted western skies 20 minutes before dawn today.

The white flash was perhaps the most dazzling ever seen in Las Vegas, 75 miles from Yucca Flat.

It shown a yellow gold color above the mountains near Los Angeles, 250 miles to the southwest. It was almost as though the sun were trying to make an early appearance.

This was the highest tower shot ever set off in Nevada. It was the 35th test at the Nevada site and fourth of the current series.

Fifty observers saw the detonation from Angel's Peak on the Charleston Range, west of the test site. They reported it was one of the most impressive shots ever seen from the mountain vantage point.

The explosion was from a 500-foot tower for the first time.

A vapor trail was visible high above the fire ball, perhaps the contrail of a high-flying exploratory, or "sniffer" plane, which may have been in the area as part of Air Force maneuvers shortly before the explosion.

The blinding flash finally faded like the filament of a light bulb. The fireball, a perfect sphere, rose almost immediately but held firm about 20 seconds.

This was not the largest fireball or explosion at Yucca Flat. The final test of the 1953 series here displayed a device that exploded with a 30-second fireball and contained a power of about 50 kilotons, or 2½ times normal A-bomb strength.

Today's shot probably packed a 20 kiloton punch, however. The standard A-bomb has a 15-second fireball and a power of 15 kilotons, or the equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The fireball, higher than usual, did not suck up as much dirt as some from the desert floor. The cloud rose quickly and the usual mushroom was clearly visible in Las Vegas in the first light of dawn the stem was reddish and unusually thick.

As the top of the mushroom soared to perhaps 30,000 feet, it seemed to divide into two puffs. But it was entirely possible that it might be an ice-cap forming, as it has at high altitude before.

The shock of the explosion hit the mountain-top observers ½ minutes after the flash. The peak is roughly 55 miles from Yucca Flat.

Flood Sweeping Into Ohio Towns

603 Families Evacuated as River Crest Moves Downstream

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—The flooding Ohio River swept into low-lying river towns today leaving hundreds more families homeless.

Some 603 families and 114 business places have been evacuated in communities along the river. More than a third of these were from Hamilton County here and surrounding areas.

The state highway patrol reported the closing of some 48 highways.

From Pittsburgh to Marietta, O., the water is decreasing at the rate of one-tenth foot per hour, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Blaze Levels Home on Lake

Expectant Mother Rushed to Hospital During Fire

COOLEY LAKE — While their latest home at 8509 Cooley Beach Dr. went up in flames this morning, an expectant mother was rushed to the hospital by her anxious husband who feared the baby might arrive before the fire department could extinguish the blaze.

Mrs. Bonnie Morgan was packed into the family car in her nightclothes by her husband, Ray, and taken to Harper Hospital. The baby had not yet arrived at noon today.

The Morgans discovered the fire when they awoke about 6 a.m. and found the back porch ablaze. They paused only long enough to turn in the alarm, after Mrs. Morgan showed signs of shock.

White Lake Township Fire Chief Mark Iton said his department, assisted by Union Lake Fire Department, fought the flames about one hour, but the fire was too advanced when they arrived. Firemen were hardpressed to save the house next door, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gregory, which suffered about $600 damage to paint and windows on one exterior wall, he said.

The Morgan home, including all its contents, was a total loss, Iton said. The blaze was believed to have started in the pump house on the rear porch.

Besides loss of all the baby clothes, the Morgans are still searching for their two cats—one of which was also to be a mother in about two weeks.

Four Men Held on Rape Count

Accused of Kidnaping and Assaulting Young Mother Sunday

Four men are held today in the Oakland County Jail for investigation of kidnaping and raping a 21-year-old mother of three young children Sunday morning. They were arrested after a general police alarm alerted 40 patrol cars from six police departments in a county-wide hunt.

Captured within an hour of the alarm were Richard Chavers, of 38 Lake St., and his brother, Oscar, 26, visiting from Gary, Ind.; Winston Johnson, 26, of 315 Hughes St., and Joe Williams Jr., 22, of the Lake street address.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the men, except Oscar Chavers, admitted abducting and raping the woman in their auto.

Sgt. John Carman, of Sylvan Lake Police Dept., said the woman was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital after two patrol cars converged on the men's auto at Saginaw and Wilson Sts.

The woman told police she was returning from a wedding with a close friend of the family. When their auto became stuck in the mud on E. South Blvd. near Opdyke road, an auto, with two men and two women offered to help.

The escort said he asked Oscar Chavers to call a tow truck.

Chavers later returned to the scene with three other men and offered to drive the escort to a gas station. The escort was later ordered out of the car and called police after he saw the car head back toward his auto.

When police arrived they found the woman missing from the car. She told Taylor that two of the men dragged her out of the car by her feet and began choking her when she started screaming.

Taylor said Oscar Chavers is scheduled to take a lie-detector test today.

RAF Ace's Remarks Fan Royal Wedding Rumors

LONDON — Persistent press rumors that Princess Margaret will wed divorced ace Peter Townsend got unexpected support today. A big circulation tabloid carried an interview with the RAF group captain indicating there may be something to the stories.

British papers first dropped hints that Margaret was in love with Townsend — more than 15 years her senior — two years ago when he was an equerry in the royal household and they were frequently seen together at social functions.

The reports died down a short time later after Townsend suddenly was whisked off to Brussels as air attaché at the British Embassy. Since then, as far as the British public knows, they haven't met.

But two big Sunday papers — the People and the Pictorial — asserted this weekend that the romance is still very much alive and that the matter will soon come to a head.

Today the Mirror, which is under the Pictorial and has a circulation of 4½ million, carried an interview with the 40-year-old Townsend in Brussels which gave the impression the stories had some basis.

Mirror reporter Howard Johnson said he told Townsend that the Pictorial had commented that if Margaret "places above all the man she loves, then she need fear no enduring rebuke."

He quoted Townsend as replying, "That is nice to hear."

Johnson said he also told Townsend the Pictorial had predicted there soon would be an announcement from Buckingham Palace "concerning yourself and Princess Margaret."

He said Townsend replied:

Reason and History Prove Christ Divine

you did come, men would know you were a messenger from God?" "Christ, did anyone know of your coming, the circumstances of your life, where you would live?"

All are silent—but one. There were no predictions about Buddha, Confucius, Tao, Mohammed, or anyone else—except Christ. Others just came and said: "Here I am, believe me." They were, therefore, men among men, and not the divine in the human, which is the kind of leader we want for these hard times. Christ alone steps out of that line and answers: "My coming was foretold, even to the smallest detail."

He tells us to search the writings of the Jewish people and the correlated history of the Babylonians, Persians, Greeks and Romans, and for the moment, to regard their writings merely as historical documents, and not as inspired writings. The person of Christ in passing this test of reason and history speaks:

"About two thousand years before I was born, there appeared a man, Abraham, as the head of people in whom 'All the nations of the earth would be blessed'.

About two thousand years before I was born, it was foretold, that he who would be born among the people of Abraham, would be also the 'expected of the nations,' that is of the Gentiles as well as the Jews. About seven hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that I would be born in Bethlehem, and that even though born in time, I already had an eternal birth.

"Not only was my birthplace foretold, but about seven hundred years before, it was foretold, that I would be born of a virgin: 'A virgin shall conceive and bring forth a son, and his name shall be called Emmanuel.'"

"About seven hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that the kings of the East would bring gold and frankincense and myrrh, that I would sojourn to Egypt, and that I would live in Nazareth. About six hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that I would come within a set period after Cyrus gave out the order for rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. About five hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that my name would be Jesus or Saviour."

"Even the details of my character were preannounced, namely, that I would be kind, console the afflicted, be rejected by my own people. The details of my death were foretold: Centuries before, it was prophesied that there would be wounds in my hands and feet, that my enemies would shake dice for my garments, and yet in putting me to death, they would not break a bone of my body. A thousand years before, it was foretold that at my death I would be given vinegar and gall in my thirst."

"Six centuries before my birth, it was preannounced that I would ascend into heaven. So many prophecies were made concerning me that at the time of my coming, the ancient synagogues collected 456 distinct prophecies. But it was not only the people of Israel who expected me, but all the other peoples of the world."

We turn now to pagan testimony. Tacitus, speaking for the ancient Romans, says: "People were generally persuaded in the faith of the ancient prophecies, that the East was to prevail, and that from Judea was to come the master and ruler of the world."

Suetonius, in his life of Vespasian, recounting the Roman tradition also said: "It was an old and constant belief throughout the East, that by indubitably certain prophecies, the Jews were to attain the highest power." China had the same expectation, but because it was on the other side of the world, believed that the great wise man would be born in the west. The Annals of the Celestial Empire state: "In the 24th year of Tchoo-Wang of the dynasty of the Tchou, on the 8th day of the 4th moon, a light appeared in the southwest which illumined the king's palace. The monarch, struck by its splendor, interrogated the sages. They showed him books in which this prodigy signified the appearance of the great saint of the West whose religion was to be introduced into their country."

The Greeks expected him, for Aeschylus in his "Prometheus," six centuries before Christ's coming, wrote: "Look not for any end moreover to this curse until God appears, to accept upon his head the pangs of thy own sins vicarious."

How did the Magi of the East know of the Saviour's coming, if it was not from the many prophecies circulated through the world by the Jews and probably through the prophecy made to the Persians by Daniel more than five hundred years before Christ's birth?

The Day in Birmingham

Expect Rezoning Request to Bring Hot Discussion

BIRMINGHAM — Routine matters will be taken up at tonight's city commission meeting, with a lively discussion anticipated over the hearing to rezone property west of Woodward and south of Colonial Court. Six letters of objection are included in the agenda.

Other hearings will be held to consider paving Webster from U.S. 10 to Adams road and Worth street from U. S. 10 to a point north of Webster. The last is to approve creation of a special assessment district for construction of a water main on Worth street between Webster and Haynes.

Arrangements will be completed for revisions in the traffic signal system at Lincoln and 14 Mile roads.

An even dozen names have been placed on the city ballot for three city commission posts in the April 4 election.

Filing nomination acceptances with city clerk Miss Irene Hanley for the three-year terms were Manley Bailey, Harry M. Denyes Jr., Donald K. Fill, Omar Hansen, C. Watts Wacker, and Vincent Watkins, incumbent.

Seeking the two-year term created when Commissioner Robert Navin resigned — he is moving — are Dr. Bernard A. O'Dell, John M. Radey, Frederick Flesseelman, Carl F. Ingraham, Atwell J. Smith and the only woman if the group, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr. Sidley E. Sullivan did not turn in an acceptance.

It was all in the line of duty but Patrolman Lawrence W. Winkelman has to suffer through rabies shots as a result.

Called to remove a strange animal from a window well at 1025 N. Woodward yesterday, Winkelman accomplished his mission, but was bitten on the left hand by a muskrat. The animal got away and Winkelman received medical aid.

Lie detector tests have cleared T. Doyle Webb, 36, and William E. Gray, 36, both of Detroit, who were held for investigation in the murder of Doyle Howe, 23-year-old gas station attendant found shot at work last September.

Mrs. Charles Shain will report on the economic phase of the Chamber of Commerce conference she recently attended in Chicago, at tomorrow's meeting of the Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs. It will be at the Community House at 10 a.m.

Service for Mrs. George (Clara Yeager) Spencer, 75, of 775 Hazel St., will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in Franklin Cemetery. A life-long resident of this area, she died suddenly yesterday.

River Just Rollin' Now,

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The Los Angeles River is just rolling along today—without hot rods.
Police rounded up about 150 youngsters who were racing coupled bottom yesterday. About 30 other cars left the police waiting on the levee and escaped up the San Fernando Road ramp.

Police made no arrests but explained to the youngsters that a river, even without water, is a river and not a race track.

Marble Makers Seek Protection

Claim Factories Here Suffer From Cheaper Import Product

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UP) — Things are still rolling at a local plant, and its veteran employees want the federal government to make sure they always will.

The firm (Vitro-Agate), one of the country's seven, manufactures those brightly colored marbles that clutter up Junior's pockets and find their way under adult feet at unexpected times.

The 60 employees at the local plant are concerned about competition from Japanese marble makers who, because of cheaper labor, can undersell the American product. At least one local worker decided to do something about it.

Mrs. Evelyn Dye, of Vienna, W. Va., wrote to Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-WVa.) and asked his aid in revising present tariffs on imported marbles.

"I can't see taking jobs away from people in the United States for the sake of the Japanese," she wrote.

To emphasize her point, Mrs. Dye said that during peak years, the seven United States marble plants employed a total of 900 workers. Now, she said, the seven-plant employment is down to about 300.

She offered a suggestion to put American marbles on a competitive level again. Why not, she asked, require "made in Japan" labels on all marbles imported so the cost of labeling would necessitate higher prices.

Japanese marbles presently are shipped in bulk with only the container labeled. That way they also can be shipped as "ballast" from Japan to San Francisco for only $15 a ton.

Officials of the seven American marble firms—six of them are located in West Virginia and the seventh at Ottawa, Ill.—met here recently and asked U. S. Customs for some sort of relief.

Uncle Zaharatos, Uncle Sam Tops, Says Greek Pair

DETROIT (UP) — Two Greek immigrants, whose homes were destroyed in the 1953 earthquakes, agreed today that "Uncle Sam and Uncle Zaharatos are the best friends we got."

Uncle Zaharatos is Nicholas E. Zaharatos, a retired Detroit restaurant owner. It was through his efforts, that nephews Eleftherias, 20, and Nikolaos Zaharatos, 18, were able to come to this country.

The two brothers survived the earthquake that devastated their home in Cephalonia. But they and their parents were left destitute.

It was then they heard from Uncle Zaharatos and of his success in the new world. They wrote and asked him if he could help them get to this country and learn the restaurant business. He said he would, and he did.

When the brothers arrived they brought along Eleftheria Galatzoulou, 23, a cousin also left destitute by the earthquake.

"Maybe she can learn to be a good waitress," one of the boys said in his native tongue.

But the older Zaharatos says the first step is "citizenship papers."

"Then we'll get them started in the restaurant business," he said.

Policeman Wounded Quelling Family Row

DETROIT (UP) — Patrolman Lauren Sult, 27, was in serious condition at Receiving Hospital today with a rifle wound he suffered while helping quell a family row.

Sult and two other officers were called to the home of John Hale, 42, last night. While the other officers were wrestling with Hale for possession of the rifle, the weapon discharged.

Sult, who was standing in the doorway, was struck in the left arm and side. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition but doctors listed his condition as serious today.

Hale, who had threatened to use the rifle on his wife, was held for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder. Police said Hale was too drunk to allow questioning at the time of his arrest.

Losing Expectant Wife Rattles Frantic Hubby

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Edward Van Houten's car stalled while he was rushing his expectant wife to Butterworth Hospital. He ran to a nearby house to call for assistance.

But when Van Houten returned to the car his wife was gone. Turned out that a stranger drove her to the hospital where she gave birth to a six-pound girl.

Airman Still Alive After 10 Years?

NEW YORK (INS) — From time to time, since the end of the big war, I've written about a fine old New York waiter named Harry Lepelletier who will not take the word of the Defense Department that his son was killed on a photo-reconnaissance mission July 17, 1944.

Lepelletier has devoted a decade to the task of trying to prove that the form telegram which informed him and his wife of the death of their son was a mistake.

He has made a trip through Europe, has button-holed Air Force veterans at meetings, pored the walls of town halls and meeting places all over the world with a pathetic 1-sheet bearing his son's picture and headlined, "Have You Seen This Boy?"

The father has convinced himself that 5. Sgt. Nathan L. Lepelletier is alive but suffering from amnesia. The A20 that crashed in the water near Regenville in France on the fateful day yielded only two of its three crew members. Nathan's body was not recovered.

The far-flung search for young Lepelletier, and the parents' determination to spend what little money they have for information about him, has flushed a number of ghouls, crackpots and sharpshooters, all intent upon selling their useless services or false information for personal gain. It is jarring to an unconstructed optimist to read some of the mail sent to this yearning couple.

But after all this time and expense the Lepelletiers feel they cannot brush aside even the most blatant proposals or the dimmest clues. The father now tells me that a letter addressed to the son was received at the family home not long ago.

It was sent by one Katherine Ferring, a German girl, and was written in German. In the letter

Hepatitis Cases Up in State During '54

LANSING (UP) — The number of reported cases of hepatitis — infection of the liver — has increased markedly in Michigan, but the state Health Department says it does not think the illness is on the increase.

The department said the number of reported cases increased from 48 in 1950 to 1,419 in 1954. But Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control, said the fact that the number of deaths from hepatitis remains fairly constant suggests the disease merely is being recognized and reported better, rather than that the disease is actually on the increase. About 25 deaths occur yearly.

Hepatitis is a virus infection of the liver causing fever, loss of appetite, vomiting, abdominal upset and often jaundice.

Buzzie Roosevelt Marries Writer on Magazine Staff

NEW YORK (UP) — Army Pvt. Curtis Roosevelt—the "Buzzie" Dall who frequently visited the White House during the early years of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration — was married yesterday to Miss Ruth W. Sublette.

His grandmother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, was among those who attended the ceremony at the Metropolitan-Duane Methodist church. Also present were his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Roosevelt.

The 24-year-old bridegroom is assigned to Ft. Dix, N.J. The 27-year-old bride, a New York City resident formerly of Montgomery, Ala., is on the staff of Vogue Magazine. It was her first marriage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James Addison Halstead of Los Angeles, the former Anna Roosevelt, and of Curtis B. Dall of Philadelphia.

He legally changed his name from Dall to Roosevelt in 1950. His marriage to the former Miss Robin Edwards, a model, ended in divorce.

About 12,000 ships use the Suez canal in an average year.

the girl wondered why young Lepelletier had not written to her "since leaving Germany." She wished him a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and said, in passing, that the same wishes were being sent by his friend Jack Frowler of Philadelphia, Mississippi, which is the county seat (pop. 3,800) of Neshoba County.

Police questioned Miss Ferring but she couldn't remember when she had met Lepelletier. Now the elder Lepelletier is looking for Jack Frowler. A check with newspapers in that area could not produce anybody of that name.

Anybody know Jack Frowler? If so, the Lepelletiers live at 80

Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand ambassador, speaking at the Overseas Press Club:

"The Manila Treaty has made history in a number of respects. It is the first multilateral mutual defense treaty that includes both Asian and non-Asian members. It demonstrates the growing cooperation and trust among Asian and non-Asian countries which are determined to save themselves and their neighbors from Communist domination.

"The treaty has, for the first time other than in the Korean peninsula (whose strategic position is more insular than continental) involved the United States in a formal military commitment on the mainland of Asia.

"It serves as a stern warning to would-be aggressors that they can no longer hope to seize weaker countries one by one, but that they stand face to face with the combined strength of the treaty members."

Press Worldwide Search for Missing Whitman Diary

DETROIT (UP) — Rare book dealers around the world were alerted today to watch for poet Walt Whitman's diary which disappeared from the Detroit Public Library last week.

The global search for the book, valued at between $10,000 and $25,000 began after police said they believed there was little chance the manuscript was in the hands of a man who demanded $1,000 ransom for it.

Police also considered hiring a New York literary detective to aid in the search.

Charles Feinberg, Detroit oil executive and owner of the book, said he had received two telephone calls from a man who told him to leave $1,000 in a telephone booth at a municipal golf course and pick up the book at the same spot two hours later.

However, police said the caller was probably someone who thought he had stumbled on a "get rich quick" scheme and said they would press the search in other channels.

Feinberg said he had suggested that police hire William Berquist, an expert at tracing vanished literary rarities, and had called a London rare book dealer with worldwide contacts.

"I asked the London dealer to notify other dealers throughout the world that the manuscript is missing," Feinberg said. "This will make it extremely difficult for any thief to dispose of the book."

The oil company executive said he has received no word from his mysterious caller since he demanded positive identification of the diary before he would come to any agreement.

He said he suggested that the caller get in touch with his lawyers and read passages from the manuscript over the telephone.

"I haven't heard a word from him since then," he said.

Police also were searching for a shabbily dressed man who seemed

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both— Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution, Al-ready, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drugstores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly—no questions asked.

Future Teachers Speak in Lake Orion Program

The Alpha Gamma Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, a professional Teachers group, has launched its own teacher recruitment program in the schools of Lake Orion, Oxford, Troy, Rochester and Clarkston.

At a recent joint meeting, members met at the Blanche Simms School in Lake Orion introducing young Future Teachers of America from each of their schools as their guests for the occasion.

Ray Vancette of Lake Orion served as moderator for a panel discussion carried on by these young FTA members.

Covering the following areas, the panel discussed:

- 1—What can be done to get more young people to enter the teaching profession.
- 2—Why I choose teaching as my career.
- 3—How limited is the field?
- 4—Qualifications of a good teacher.
- 5—How do the salary and retirement benefits rate with other professions?
- 6—Preparation necessary.
- 7—What are the comparative costs which face a teacher?
- 8—What role do the placement bureaus of the colleges play in obtaining good jobs for graduates?

At the conclusion of the open forum discussion period, the film, "What Greater Gift" was shown.

Future Teachers of America is an organization which was first started over a decade ago to interest prospective teachers in the profession.

Schools operating such an FTA program encourage young people to work in the classrooms a few hours each week in order to become familiar with the work of a teacher. Many Oakland County schools are now conducting such a program.

Students Seek Help in Ouster

Texas Group Will Ask
State to Intervene in Firing of Superintendent

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Students have called on the state to help settle a fight between the Irving School Board and fired Supt. John Beard.

The 53-year-old Dr. Beard is battling to keep his job. The board has stood fast on its decision to discharge him.

The fuss raged unabated today while a strike by some 200 teachers and other school employees who support Beard entered its second week. Volunteers and replacements are running the schools, which are under police guard because of the emotional pitch in this booming little city of some 23,000 near Dallas.

In the latest exchange, the board yesterday turned down Beard's suggestion the public vote on whether he or the board should quit. Beard fired back that the board is "dogmatic, unfair, undemocratic and biased."

As hot words flew, students were preparing a letter to State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar asking help. The idea of the letter originated with nine students, and they said there was no opposition to it from either side.

It said in part, "We, the students of the Irving school system, representing the rights of every American student, request the aid of state officials in Austin for investigation and improvement of the school situation during the present emergency."

There was no immediate comment from Edgar.

The board fired Beard Feb. 16 for what it called his "repeated failure to cooperate with the board on important policy matters . . ." Beard blamed his discharge on a "local political clique" and said he will appeal to Edgar.

Former Times Editor Succumbs in Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Frederick T. Birchall, 84, acting managing editor of the New York Times from 1926 to 1931, died today at Dawson Memorial Hospital, Bridgewater, N. Y.

In recent years he had been living in retirement at his home at Petite Riviere, 18 miles from Bridgewater.

The cause of death was not included in the notification received here. Birchall left no close relative.

Breakin Suspect May Have Been Asleep on Job

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Police today were investigating the possibility Bradford P. Borden, 22, of Greenwich, Conn., was sleep-walking when he broke into a home.

Francis A. Downey, investigating a noise in his home early yesterday, found Borden sitting in a dazed condition in a living room chair.

Borden claimed he was driving home from Northampton when he became sleepy and pulled over to the side of the road for a nap. The next thing he knew he woke up in Downey's living room, police quoted him as saying.

Police said it is possible Borden walked in his sleep from the car, opened a window in the Downey house and climbed in.

Borden was charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime while police continued their investigation.

Lariat, Horse Help in Rescue of Surf Bather

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A patrolman used a horse and lariat to save Robert E. Malone from drowning off Ocean Beach yesterday after Malone had plunged to the aid of another distressed swimmer.

Carrying the rope, Patrolman Arthur Hagstrom, 28, swam out to Malone, nearly unconscious in the surf from fighting an ebb tide undertow.

Hagstrom pulled Malone, 39, Daly City accountant, toward shore until he was nearly exhausted. Nick Papazian rode his horse out to Hagstrom, who looped the lariat to Papazian's saddle.

The horse then pulled Malone to shore with Hagstrom holding his head out of water. Hagstrom is a former lifeguard.

Bruce McFarland, 28, whose wave for help Malone had answered, came safely to shore by himself. The ebb current's pull stopped, explained McFarland, "or I wouldn't be here."

Local Boys Pledge UM Fraternities

Council Election Results Announce Rick St. John VP

By SUE GILBERT
ANN ARBOR — Fraternities are in the spotlight this week. Results of the Interfraternity Council elections reveal that Rick St. John of West Iroquois road has topped the office of executive vice president.

The Interfraternity Council is the body which regulates relations among fraternities and represents them in campus administration. Rick is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and a junior student in the school of business administration.

The final dinners are over and fraternity rushing, which has been going on for the past two weeks is at an end. Two local residents have joined the ranks of Sigma Nu. They are Brad Bonas of East Iroquois road, and George Gogansian, also of East Iroquois road.

All men pledged this semester will remain in their dormitory residences until next fall when they move into the fraternity houses as "active" members.

Paul Kors of Perry street also received pledge status. His fraternity is Alpha Tau Omega.

Gerry Cook of Dwight street has pledged Delta Tau Delta.

A Phi Sigma Kappa membership bid was taken by Duncan McVean of the State Hospital grounds.

Henry Baylis of Spence street, went through rushing period this semester as an old hand at the business. He was activated recently in Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity. And Henry, by the way, is one of those students to be congratulated on an all-A record for last semester. His curriculum is pre-professional.

Malcolm Walker of Henderson street represented his dormitory house (Wentley House, West Quadrangle) in a campus swimming meet recently. Malcolm also swam in campus water polo competition last semester.

On the co-ed side of the picture, Nancy Turnbull of South Going street came to Ann Arbor to be the weekend guest of Valerie Darnen of South Marshall avenue, and her roommate, Virginia Haroutunian of Ferry avenue.

Although we imagine there was plenty of time for hen sessions, the girls did have a busy weekend. Nancy and Valerie attended the Assembly Ball Saturday evening.

Assembly Ball is the annual girl-bid dance for independent women. This year's theme was "Alice in Wonderland." Nancy's escort for the evening was Joe Frisinger of Ann Arbor, and Valerie's beau was Peter Ward also of Ann Arbor.

Friday evening Virginia heard the Anna Russell concert which was sponsored by the University.

Weekend plans of Bob Dernberger of Oriole road, and his fiancée, Irene Jackman of Bellows Falls, Vt., centered around an informal dancing party held at his fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa Saturday evening.

Mrs. Balmer Reviews Book at Meeting

The book, "Seven Steeples" was reviewed by Mrs. Richard Balmer at a recent meeting of WSCS of Central Methodist Church. Mrs. Percy Jones gave devotions. The study group will meet Tuesday with Mrs. A. B. Coates in her home on East Iroquois road.

Members of Fanny Crosby Unit served luncheon. Mrs. Lyle Saum was chairman assisted by Mrs. Irwin Brockie, Mrs. Glen Werner, Mrs. Richard Warriner, Mrs. Clarence Foss, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. Ross Porritt and Mrs. Keith Johnston.

Golfers Plan Ahead

Mr. Runk's program is one of a series of color motion pictures showing his bird sanctuary in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains. He says that more than 170 species have sampled life there in the last few years.

Proceeds from the program will be turned over to a 4-H club project. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watt will preside at a dinner for executive board members at Fox and Hounds before the program.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD—1

In the Woods

Once upon a time there was a girl called Little Red Riding Hood because she always wore a pretty red cape with a hood.

One day Little Red Riding Hood set out to see her sick grandmother who lived on the other side of the woods. She carried a basket filled with cookies. There were beautiful flowers in the dark green woods and Little Red Riding Hood picked some blossoms.

This is the first of a week-long series of cut-outs on this favorite story. Color the picture carefully, and remember to give the little girl her red cape and hood. Paste the picture on stiff paper and cut it out along the heavy outside lines.

Also cut along the dark lines on the top back part of Little Red Riding Hood's basket. Then you can clip the end of the flowers under the lid so she can carry them safely to her grandmother. Fold back the two side parts along the dotted lines and Red Riding Hood will stand up. Tomorrow: Red Riding Hood meets the wolf.

Snake Charmer, Bitten by Cobra, Dies in Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Frieda Hoxter, 25-year-old German girl who came to the United States as the wife of a GI, died last night from the bite of one of the two cobras she used in her snake act. The 25-year-old woman, who performed as "Princess Naja," was bitten on the left arm Friday night during a night club performance.

her husband, a corporal stationed at Ft. Meade, Md.

She had been bitten three times in less than three months, and had spent brief periods in St. Joseph's Hospital, the same institution in which she died.

Police Capt. Elmer Bowen ordered Mrs. Hoxter's two cobras and a python she used in her act taken from the club to the zoo, labeling them a "public menace."

Police officers in Italy and particularly in Rome are required to know and be able to speak at least one foreign language.

Ford to Give Schools $50 Million in Grants

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford Foundation has set aside 50 million dollars to help private colleges and universities raise their faculty salaries.

The project was announced yesterday by Henry Ford II after a meeting of the foundation's trustees. The institutions to receive the money will be selected after a special advisory committee, yet to be chosen, makes recommendations.

Ford said the schools "will be asked to match the gift with funds raised from other sources, with varying ratios of matching." He said final distribution of the fund will be completed by the end of 1957.

Homicidal Maniac Arrested as Drunk

PUEBLO, Colo. (INS) — A 35-year-old state hospital mental patient, described by authorities as a homicidal maniac, fled the institution early today, and a short while later was unknowingly jailed by Pueblo police on a drunk and disorderly charge.

The patient, Robert A. Harding Jr., was admitted for the second time to the Pueblo institution on Dec. 30, 1952.

He was diagnosed as a victim of a "chronic brain syndrome"—a brain disorder which strikes the patient with painful head seizures usually leading to patterns of violent misbehavior.

Harding, who slipped away at 1:08 a.m., was picked up in a Pueblo tavern and jailed as a drunk. In his jail cell he apparently collapsed and struck his head.

When medical assistance was called in for him it became known he was a mental patient escapee.

NEW YORK (INS)—Zsa Zsa enthused about her role on "Climax" next Thursday thus: "It's not one of those silly Zsa Zsa Gabor roles." The beautiful gay bore will be aboard tomorrow's Comedy Hour . . . Ethel Merman and Red Skelton will repeat "Show Stoppers" April 14, sketches and songs still to be selected.

Glitter in the Kitchen Item: Gladys Swarthout, probably the most glamorous of all Met Opera stars, did the cake-mix spiel on yesterday's "Portia Faces Life."

Carol Haney isn't a bit sore at being introduced to Toast of the Town as "Carol Chaney," not at $3,000 per mispronunciation.

The great Gleason will have merchandised under his name a toy TV studio for kids who want to play TV producer; a bus driver's outfit with cap, coin changer, transfers and puncher; a bus with Ralph Kramden at the wheel and passengers including Reginald Van Gleason, the Poor Soul, etc.; and later a monthly comic book, food packages, buttons, beanies, books, men's shirts, ties, jackets, women's "honeymooner" dresses and cosmetics; and so on.

We asked "Fantomime Quiz" star Jackie Coogan what his brother Bobby, also an ex-film star, was doing these days. "He's in Paris, chief photographer for Shell Oil and weighs 320 pounds," said Jackie . . . Sir Winston is no TV addict. Yachtsmen Turn Tables on Would-Be Rescuers

NEW ORLEANS (U)—A Coast Guard crash unit and a police patrol boat went to aid pleasure craft on Lake Pontchartrain yesterday when a 20-degree temperature drop brought high winds and rough seas.

The Coast Guard boat wound up high and dry on a jetty. The police boat bent its propeller, began to leak and had to be towed to a New Orleans boat yard by a passing pleasure craft.

Except for these two casualties, all other small craft were reported out of danger with no rescue operations necessary.

Quiz Detroit Mother in Death of Baby Boy

DETROIT (U)—A young mother was a police prisoner in receiving hospital today, held for investigation in the death of her 7-week-old son.

She is Mrs. Elaine Barry, 22, of Detroit, who police say tried to commit suicide yesterday by scalding herself in a shower. She was halted in the attempt by relatives who found her son, Robert Jr., dead in his crib. He apparently suffocated.

Mrs. Barry is separated from her husband, Robert Sr. She was reported in "serious" condition.

Lansing Store Owner Dies After Long Illness

LANSING (U)—Frank N. Arbaugh, 82, founder of the S. N. Arbaugh Co. Department Store in Lansing, died Saturday night after a long illness.

He was a native of Johnstown, Pa., and a graduate of Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers College.

Arbaugh was one of the men who helped rebuild Johnstown after the disastrous flood of 1889. He came to Lansing in 1896 and started his business career as a $20 a month clerk in a grocery.

Canadian officials report that average temperatures in their country are rising at a rate of three degrees every 70 years.

Peter Pan on TV Tonight

By PHYLLIS BATTLETT
NEW YORK (INS) Tonight is the night when Mary Martin will soar into the sights of America's televisioners and try to convince them that fairies are not phantasies.

Having seen her Broadway version of "Peter Pan," I'd be willing to bet even money in fairy-dust currency that the shimmering Miss Martin will succeed.

But for awhile there, while I was watching the NBC "spectacular" in rehearsal, it looked like never . . . never . . . might never . . . never . . . go . . . on!

The setting was a giant room in the old Vitaphone silent film palace in Brooklyn. There were 550 spotlights studding the ceiling, and 150 technicians and actors circling the floors. The temperature, under the lights was close to 110, and the fever under the technicians' collars was unmeasurable.

I stood and watched while they set up the nursery scene for the first act. Suddenly a quiet-spoken man said "Pardon me, please," stepped around me, over some cables and onto the set. He crouched on all fours and barked. "Good!" shouted Jerome Robbins, the director. The man walked back. "I'm the dog," he said simply.

Peter Foy, the little Britisher who manipulates the wires on which Mary Martin will fly three-eighths of a mile through spotlighted space, climbed to the fifth rung of a ladder. "Ready?" he screamed.

There was an answering shout and with a great clap, the wide window doors of the nursery swung apart and Miss Martin soared stunningly into the room. Hey first word: "Let's try it again, Peter. I didn't fly high enough. I can go higher, can't I?"

On the sidelines, Richard Halliday, Mary's husband, shook his head good naturedly. "You can't say you've fallen in love with a woman all over again, when you never stopped—but I'm mad about that girl. This is absolutely, positively, the toughest job she's ever had in the theater and not only does she never whine, she always asks for more."

He said she lost 10 pounds in the six-months' run of "Peter Pan" on Broadway, and he's going to take her (and 15-year-old daughter Heller, who plays Liza in the show) on a freighter to South America next week. "Fatten 'em up," he explained.

There are six sets ready for action in the Brooklyn studio; besides the nursery, a forest, a cave, a ship, the hold of a ship and never-never-land. On the side, hanging like a beauteous blessing over the hectic proceedings is a 60-foot-high curtain representing the night sky. Takes 6,000 watts to light those stars and that moon," estimated lighting director Jack Fitzpatrick, "enough to illuminate 10 houses."

An air of tenuous serenity pervaded the sets when Miss Martin was in view, which was most of the time. "Nobody feels like swearing when she's around. She makes you feel too good," explained a puller of flying cables. But when she was dressing, or munching a sandwich off-stage, there was louder communication.

"Where's the shadows?" called a panicky wardrobe woman, and another rushed out with shapeless patches of gauze. "Don't you think these sequins are too

PLEASE BLEND — Japanese dancer Ryuko Uakabara blends East and West very effectively as she appears in a Tokyo nitery, the 21-year-old beauty's kimono shows such foreign influences as a split skirt and a fringed hip line, and she wears western-style shoes and earrings.

Monkey Business Just Too Rough for House Painter

NEW ORLEANS (U)—Harry D. Spencer swears today he is all through with monkey business.

A house painter by trade, Spencer looked around for something else during a slack season. A newspaper ad landed him with a New Orleans firm that buys monkeys from South America for sale to zoos in this country.

"I was born and reared on a farm in Indiana, so I figured I'd do all right with monkeys," moaned Spencer from his bed in New Orleans Charity Hospital.

The job of feeding them and cleaning their cages netted him $20 a week, 10 bites, chills, a 104-fever and a strange malady that doctors so far call "fever of unknown origin."

Spencer still thinks monkeys are "cute little fellows," but he's going back to painting.
