Identify 10 of 66 Dead in Crash Near Stuttgart

Reveal One Victim Is Officer From Nebraska; Withhold Other Names

GROEMBACH, Germany (AP) — American soldiers worked by flashlight through the night collecting scattered, smouldering wreckage from two U. S. transport planes in which 66 servicemen perished yesterday.

The two C119 Flying Boxcar transports collided during an air transport exercise and plunged flaming to earth near this village 20 miles west of Stuttgart.

There were no survivors of the 11 U. S. airmen of the 10th Troop Carrier Squadron and 55 soldiers of the 499th Engineer Battalion who went down in the two planes.

The planes, in a flight of nine, had taken off from the U. S. airfield at Echterdingden and were only 4,000 feet up when they brushed and hurtled earthward.

None of the men had a chance to use their parachutes. They carried full equipment for the flight, which was part of a training program in air movement under simulated combat conditions.

PLANE WAVERS

Witnesses said one craft had engine trouble and wavered in the formation. It apparently clipped off the tail of its neighbor plane before diving into the tall pines of the Black Forest below.

The second plane held course for a minute, then also spun out of control and plunged into a cornfield.

The commanding officer of the engineer battalion, Lt. Col. Frank Little, Central City, Neb., died in the crash.

Names of the other victims were withheld.

One of the first American officers to reach the lonely crash site was Lt. Robert Whitbeck of Niagara Falls, N.Y., who said:

"There wasn't time for them to know what was happening. They must have died instantly."

An investigation was begun.

Authorities in Heidelberg said there would be a 72-hour delay in issuing the full list of dead pending notification of next of kin. The soldiers' names were compiled at headquarters here today for forwarding to Washington.

New York Area Counts 5 Deaths as Storm Nears

Rain Precedes Howler Up Atlantic Seaboard; Carolinas Hard Hit

HATTERAS, N. C. (INS) —Erratic hurricane Connie battered the North Carolina coast today and once again pointed her fury northeastward to bring renewed hurricane alerts to the New Jersey, New York and New England coasts.

The northeast coast, which appeared yesterday to have been given a reprieve from the blasts of the meandering hurricane, again was warned to batten down for a possible visit from the big storm.

Further north, in advance of the storm center, heavy rains flooded low-lying areas around Philadelphia and New York. Four inches of rain within 12 hours at New York flooded basements, roads and railroads and shortcircuited power lines.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm in the New York area.

Today Connie lashed the North Carolina shore with raging seas and 100-mile-an-hour winds, then smashed to the northeast of Morehead City and headed for Cape Hatteras.

With the Carolina coastal areas mostly evacuated, damage was confined primarily to destruction by high water and floods.

The hurricane slapped Wilmington on its north northeast course then turned its "eye" or center toward Cape Hatteras which Connie was expected to hit about noon today.

1,000 EVACUATED

National Guard troops began evacuating some 1,000 people from the Pamlico Sound areas near New Bern, N.C. Police said high waters made the bridge across the Neuse River, which connects U.S. Highway 17, impassable.

* * *

The hurricane alerts removed yesterday were restored today for the Jersey and New York coasts and for shore sections of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

While Connie is proving to be less destructive than at first feared but still potentially dangerous, the fourth tropical storm of the season, Diane, was building up to hurricane force 500 miles north - northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

60 MPH WINDS

The Miami Weather Bureau expects Diane to reach hurricane proportions today. Its strongest winds are about 60 MPH at the center. It, too, moved northward at about six MPH.

* * *

Connie kept churning up huge waves that pounded the Carolina shoreline destroying houses, battering power and communication lines and smashing fishing piers, roads and bridges to pieces.

Because the shoreline was evacuated, it will take some time to establish the amount of damage the wind and waves are causing to the area. Only when the people return to their homes can the damage be totaled.

Torrential rains were reported in some beach areas as the hurricane came inland.

Training Problems, Work Busy Pontiac Guardsmen

By AL LOWMAN
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

CAMP GRAYLING—Training problems, work details and routine camp chores were keeping members of Pontiac's two National Guard units busy this week. They arrived here last weekend to join 8,875 officers and men of Michigan's 46th Infantry Division in its largest field training program in history.

The 200 members of Company M, 125th Infantry, and the 107th Ordnance Company, like others in the "Iron Fist" Division, spent the early part of the week preparing their tent areas, checking weapons, standing inspections and taking part in full-dress retreat parades.

Company M, a heavy weapons unit of .30 caliber machineguns, 81-millimeter mortars and 75-millimeter recoilless rifles commanded by Capt. A. J. Largent, busied themselves in preparing their weapons for next week's simulated combat training.

Meanwhile, the 107th, under the leadership of Capt. Carl G. Yarling, utilized technical knowledge and know-how to keep mechanized equipment and arms in perfect working order in preparation for the combat problem next Monday and Tuesday.

DEFENSE EXERCICE

Tagged "Operation Iron Fist II," the battle exercise involves the infantry division in defense.

A mythical enemy (the 46th Reconnaissance Company) will move against defensive positions in an effort to accustom troops to logistical tactics, staff coordination and actual combation conditions.

Winding up activity this week will be a visit by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, commander in chief of the division. He and Mrs. Williams are scheduled to arrive here tonight along with thousands of other dignitaries and visitors.

PARADE PLANNED

Saturday afternoon, he will review the massed strength of the division as it passes in review during an afternoon parade.

Thailand Envoy Killed in Crash

Ambassador Peurifoy, Son 9, Die in Accident on Gulf of Siam

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—American Ambassador John E. Puerifoy and his 9-year-old son Daniel were killed instantly today when the ambassador's Ford Thunderbird collided headon with a truck on a narrow bridge 125 miles south of Bangkok.

Puerifoy's elder son Clinton, 14, was critically injured.

The accident occurred near the beach resort of Hau Hin, on the Gulf of Siam.

The tall, handsome ambassador, who celebrated his 48th birthday Tuesday, came to Thailand last November after brilliant service in Greece and Guatemala.

A career diplomat, he began his government service in 1935 as a $90-a-month elevator operator in the Senate Office Building in Washington.

He had arrived in the resort yesterday with his wife Betty Jane and their two sons for a 10-day holiday.

There was no immediate announcement of funeral arrangements. Norbert L. Anschuetz became American charge d'affaires.

In the spring before he was named to the Bangkok post Peurifoy had won widespread attention for his role during the overthrow of the pro-Communist regime in Guatemala.

Trains Crash Near Northville

Two Engines, 13 Cars, Caboose Are Derailed Early Today

Three trainmen were injured near the southern edge of Oakland County early today when their freight train plowed into the rear of another which was shunting a car into a Northville industry's siding.

Two Diesel engines and 13 cars were derailed and 600 feet of the Saginaw-Toledo line were ripped up.

Treated for minor injuries at Sessions Hospital, Northville, were:

George O'Leary, 50, of Bridgeport, the engineer.

Stanley Gorski, 22, of Saginaw, the fireman.

Richard Bellenbaum, 30, of Saginaw, the brakeman.

O'Leary and Gorski leaped from the cab when they saw the standing train as they rounded a curve at about 45 m.p.h. Bellenbaum stayed with the train.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad officials said the first train was bound from Saginaw for Detroit and was letting off a car for a Northville industry.

The second train was bound to Toledo from Saginaw. It was being pulled by two engines. The two engines and five of its 62 cars were knocked off the single track.

The caboose and seven cars from the first were derailed.

Telegraph lines along the track were knocked down but were not out of service, said Robert VanderKlipp, C & O special representative.

The accident occurred between 8-Mile and 9-Mile roads in the Novi-Northville area. Service is expected to be restored by 6 p. m.

Soapy Snubbed: Ike, Harry, Herb Too Old for Him

DETROIT (AP)—The committee arranging the formal dedication of Detroit's new City-County Building voted yesterday to invite President Eisenhower and former Presidents Truman and Hoover to the ceremonies Sept. 23. But it snubbed Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

* * *

Asked why, Charles G. Oakman, general manager of the building and a former Republican representative in Congress said:

"The governor of Michigan would probably find the company at the affair too old, anyway."

"With the President, the former presidents, some of the judges and other political figures, Soapy might suspect he was in a graveyard."

Oakman's statements were in reference to a comment Williams made Wednesday in Chicago that President Eisenhower is an "old man" who "may die before the (presidential) campaign starts."

Blaze Damages Pontiac Store

Fire From Refrigerator Sweeps Building, Causes $14,000 Loss

One fireman was overcome by gas this morning as fire swept Roy's Parts and Service Store at 96 Oakland Ave., causing $14,000 damages to the store and contents.

Fireman Junior Deneen of Station No. 3 was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital after inhaling sulphur dioxide gas.

The gas was expelled from a refrigerator under repair which after being tested four days caught fire and the flames spread throughout the store.

City Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said the refrigerator caused the fire which sent smoke spreading next door to Spiro's Market at 94 Oakland Ave., resulting in $350 smoke damage to the building and contents.

Metz said the department received the alarm at 6:40 a.m. and fought the fire for more than an hour. He said both buildings were insured.

Engine companies 110 and 311 and aerial company 1, Station No. 3 responded.

Ike Approves Housing Bill, Hopes Congress Revises It

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says he hopes Congress will act "at the earliest opportunity" to revise the new housing law which he approved yesterday while voicing "serious objections" to some provisions.

The new law authorizes four billion dollars more for FHA mortgage insurance. Without such authority, officials had estimated that this program would halt this fall.

It authorizes also the construction of 45,000 low-rental public housing units in the year ending next June 30. This was one of the provisions criticized by Eisenhower, who had asked for 35,000 units in each of the next two years.

"The full program which I recommended is needed," he said, "and it can be carried out by our local communities and the federal government in a more orderly and efficient manner over a two-year period."

The federal government does not build public housing. Such units are constructed by local housing authorities.

The federal government pays a subsidy to keep the rents low.

OTHER PROVISIONS:

Military Housing — $1,363,500,000 for construction of upwards of 100,000 dwelling units for married personnel at military installations. The Defense Department would own the houses, rent them to its personnel and pay for any losses.

Multifamily Housing — A boost from 5 to 12½ millions in the ceiling on federally insured mortgages on such projects.

Trailer Parks — Authorizes FHA to insure mortgages up to $300,000 for the construction of trailer parks.

College Housing — A 500-million-dollar program of low-interest loans for college construction projects.

Farm Housing — 100 million dollars for farm housing loans.

Public Facility Loans — A 100-million-dollar revolving fund for loans to municipalities for public utility projects.

4-H Dress Revue Highlights Fair

Five Oakland County Girls, One Boy Win Honors Here

Five young Oakland County 4-H girls cut, stitched and modeled their way to top honors Thursday night in the annual 4-H dress revue staged in the arena of the Oakland County 4-H fairgrounds.

One lone, but indomnitable lad, Kenneth Wimmer, a tall Northville freshman, explored the myth that only females know how to sew — he took a special award with his checkered chef's cap, apron and quilted hot-pad mitts.

While hundreds of parents and spectators lined the banks of the fairground arena, 85 4-H girls and

Kenneth displayed their showmanship by modeling the aprons, daytime and evening clothes which they designed and made.

Judges based their decisions on the quality of the workmanship, the selection of material and the accessories chosen to wear with the garments.

WIN TOP HONORS

The five top honorees were Margaret Purdy, a 1st year seamstress with the Avon Stitch and Sew Club of Rochester; Sharon Brodie, a 7th year complete costume entrant from Bloomfield Hills; Patricia King, a 2nd year 4-H sewer from the Troy Ten Thimble Club; Ruth Alix, 4th-year in sewing projects from the Hi-Lo Club of Milford and young Margaret Wiggins, a 3rd-year children's clothing member. She is with the Rochester Club.

Kenneth said he didn't know why more boys didn't enter 4-H sewing.

"Electric machines are fun to work with and just look at all of the good tailors and designers who

Turnpike Official Answers Franklin Village Letter

Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins today answered a letter sent him by Franklin Village President Harold A. Roseberry who said the village does not accept the proposed toll road route running through it.

Higgins also revealed contents of letters sent him by residents in Northern Michigan above the turnpike route who favor its construction as a boon to the tourist trade.

Roseberry said news reports stated the Oakland County Road Commission had approved the proposed route through the county.

"The road commission simply went on record as approving construction of a toll road," said Higgins, "they didn't say that the planned route is the best possible and minor changes should not be made."

OK GENERAL ROUTE

The MTA Monday did approve the general route as set up from Pontiac to the south Oakland line, "but subject to minor engineering changes," Higgins stressed.

"I've been over the section through Franklin and some disruption would occur. I'm willing to get together with the village at any time and attempt to work out a solution."

MTA administrative head Otis Hardy said the authority had asked a meeting with Franklin officials, but the village said it could see little point in discussing the problem.

Roseberry said in his latest letter Franklin now "would be glad" to met with the authority.

"There is no doubt," said Higgins, "that some people will lose their homes, but they will be well paid for them. A road could not be built through this area on any other basis."

CITES LETTER

He cited a letter from the Roscommon Chamber of Commerce president. The letter pointed out that the tourist trade is the principal industry in that northern county.

It backed the turnpike as a road which would speed vacationers through congested Southeastern Michigan and benefit northern areas as well as relieve traffic congestion in this area.

Higgins revealed another letter from a Midland businessman also sent to State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. It asks Ziegler why he "insists" on building a freeway which would compete with the toll road and make it impossible to build.

The Midland man suggests Ziegler might better spend freeway money building roads which would coordinate with, not compete with, the toll road.

Warrant Issued for Kidnaping

Pontiac Man Charged in Abduction of Two Young Women

A warrant charging kidnaping and gross indecency was issued yesterday against Patrick W. Duggan, 21, of 56 Matthews St., by Chief Asst. Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Proceedings are under way, however, to have Duggan committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane as a criminal sexual psychopath.

Police said he admitted abducting two young Pontiac women at gun point Monday night and forcing them to perform indecent acts.

Taylor is drawing up papers today asking Circuit Court to appoint three psychiatrists to examine the accused. A sanity hearing will then be set at which time it will be decided whether to commit him.

Pontiac psychiatrist Dr. L. Jerome Fink yesterday said he examined Duggan last May when the accused was charged with attempting to rape an 18-year-old girl at knifepoint. Duggan showed sexual psychopathic symptoms then, said Fink.

Study Proposed Before Passing State Speed Law

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today he could not endorse a statewide traffic-speed law as an accident preventative until studies were made to see how the measure has worked in other states.

A general speed restriction has been suggested as a means of cutting down on serious collisions caused by high speeds.

"If other states using it, such as Indiana, have found it effective, then Michigan should set up a law," said Ziem. "There is no doubt high speeds cause a majority of fatal accidents."

If a law were passed, he added, "it should be enforced to the letter. Motorists should not be allowed to travel at speeds 5 to 10 miles above the limit without fear of being stopped as is the case in many current instances."

Homecoming of Double Amputee Is Postponed

Bobbie Dunn won't be coming home today after all.

Disappointment evident in her voice, Mrs. Ben Dunn told the Pontiac Press late yesterday that her 14-year-old double amputee son will have to spend several more weeks in the hospital.

"We went out and bought him a new outfit of clothes and a lot of friends were coming over to see him," Mrs. Dunn said. "But we called the hospital and they said they wanted him to stay there a while longer."

Bobbie lost both legs last Christmas Day when he fell under the wheels of a freight train while trying to hop a ride.

Earlier this week, authorities at Mary Freebed Hospital in Grand Rapids informed Mr. and Mrs. Dunn that the boy, fitted out with artificial limbs and able to walk by himself, would be ready to come home today.

Bobbie's parents are still hopeful the lad will be able to come home in time to enroll for fall classes at Eastern Junior High School.

$100,000 Damage Suit Is Filed Here

A $100,000 damage suit has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by Mrs. Gertrude Hall, of Keego Harbor, against Lewis Kirke Douglas, of 32 Cambridge Rd., Pleasant Ridge.

An auto driven by Douglas collided with a motorcycle ridden by Mrs. Hall's husband, Silba, 27, on Aug. 7, 1952 at Middlebelt and Pine Lake Rds.

The cyclist was killed and Mrs. Hall claims Douglas was responsible, according to her attorney, Clarence L. Smith.

The widow has two children and asks the court to award the sum to care for them and her own support as her husband would have done. No hearing date has been set.

1,100 Attend Anti-Polio Shot Makeup Clinics

Attendance figures on youngsters inoculated yesterday at the two anti-polio sho tmakeup clinics in the county showed a slight increase over Wednesday.

The Pontiac clinic treated 243 first and second graders yesterday, according to figures released by Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director.

Children given vaccine injections Thursday at the South Oakland County Health Center in Royal Oak totaled 107, said Dr. Frank J. Condon, deputy director.

Figures from both clinics show that 1,100 youngsters were processed this week. The program will resume Monday, and vaccine shots will be given daily through Friday, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m.

The Health Center in Royal Oak is located at 2401 E. Fourth St., while the Pontiac clinic is at 15 W. Huron St. When the regular anti-polio clinics closed recently, some 12,746 children were yet to be inoculated.

Health officials hope more parents will take their youngsters to the clinics for treatment, as the peak of the polio season will arrive shortly.

'Flying Saucer' Is Identified as Smoke Ring

Theories that Waterford township had a visitor from outer space Wednesday night were quashed today.

Four persons reported seeing a large, black, metallic-looking ring floating overhead about 8:30 p.m.

They reported the object, first a perfect circle about 100 feet in diameter, drifted into a cloud where it changed shape appearing elongated and then square.

Today, William Curtis, of 3919 Iris Dr., Maceday Lake, reported that he was boating on the lake with his family about twilight.

"We noticed a 12-foot runabout burnng on the lake with its occupant swimming away. We picked him up and backed away."

The outboard motor's gas tank blew up, said Curtis shooting a jet of flames 60 to 70 feet in the air. It left a black ring of smoke "like nothing I've ever seen before."

The smoke ring drifted eastward over the area where the sightings were reported. "At first it was 15 to 20 feet in diameter and got bigger the farther it drifted," said Curtis.

Grimaldi was released on $50 bond and said he would appeal the lower court's decision to Oakland County Circuit Court.

AAA Receiving 500,000th Pontiac in Capital Today

At a ceremony recalling the beginning of high school drive, training courses 20 years ago, the 500,000th 1955 Pontiac was turned over to the American Automobile Assn. in Washington, D. C., today by R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

The car, a Safari station wagon, was presented to the AAA for the use of Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, "father" of high school driver training. He is head of the Institute of Public Safety of Pennsylvania State University and AAA consultant on road training.

"Twenty years ago, Professor Neyhart came to the Pontiac Motor Division for help," Critchfield said in making the award.

"He had written the courses and text books and enlisted the aid of the AAA in having them published, but there were no cars available for training the teachers and starting the schools.

"Pontiac contributed three cars and equipped them with dual controls. Additional cars were contributed by Pontiac dealers, and in 1936 four schools began giving the courses with 12 cars.

"Last year, more than 500,000 students received this valuable training using 6,900 cars of all makes contributed by civic-minded automobile dealers throughout the country."

Four adult staff members and seven high school-age leaders supervised the program, which included a movie, songfest, and swimming party.

The girls were sent home this morning following a 7 a.m. "polar bear dip" in the 'Y' pool. Boys in the Summer Fun Club engaged in the same activity recently, but they termed it a "sleep-out."

The club will end its activities tonight with an open house for the parents at the YMCA, where children will get the opportunity to show what they have accomplished as Club members.

The archery deer season will open Oct. 1 and continue through Nov. 5, except in Allegan County where it again will continue through Dec. 15. Archers will be restricted to "bucks only" in Chippewa County, except Drummond Island, Menominee, Emmet, Cheboygan, Bay and Hudson Bay and Huron.

Calumet and Hecla Threatens to Close

HOUGHTON (UP) — Calumet Division of Calumet and Hecla Inc. told its 2,200 striking CIO United Steel Workers employes today it is liquidating the division.

The decision was announced in letters to employes.

The action follows the union's rejection Wednesday of a "final" company offer to settle the 14-week-old strike, called May 2 to support union wage demands in a new contract.

The division operated five copper mines and a smelter in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Calumet and Hecla also operates the Wolverine Tube Division in Detroit and a plant in Decatur, Ala.

Lovell said some division workers would be transferred to other company plants.

And at Lansing, Gov. Williams took time out from the Governor's conference in Chicago today to urge management and union officials to settle the Upper Peninsula copper strike.

Frank A. Seiberling Dies in Akron at 95

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Frank A. Seiberling, who made two fortunes in the rubber industry, died yesterday at the age of 95.

Seiberling was $40,000 in debt when he founded the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. on borrowed capital in 1898. He built it into the giant of the industry and amassed a personal fortune of 20 million dollars. But he lost the firm and his fortune in 1921.

Then 61, and five million dollars in debt, Seiberling and his late brother, Charles W., founded the Seiberling Rubber Co.

Old Age Benefits Hiked Under New Act

The mailman recently brought welcome news to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Moore of Rochester.

A letter from the Social Security Administration stated that their old age benefits would be hiked $16.20 a month starting with their coming check.

The raise for the Moores and other old age and survivors insurance beneficiaries was due to the "disability freeze" provisions in the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Benefits are based on a worker's average earnings in certain periods stipulated by the law, explained Rex Atwood, manager of the local Social Security office.

Long periods of disability prior to 65 can lower that average. Congress has provided that periods of total disability can be disregarded in figuring benefits if workers meet the following requirements.

1. He must have worked under social security five years of the last 10 years before disability began.

2. He must have worked one and a half years of the three immediately before he became disabled.

3. He must be suffering from a total physical or mental disability that is medically determinable.

"Nearly 10,000 retired workers and wives in Oakland County are getting social security checks and quite a few of them may meet the rules laid down by Congress, like Mr. and Mrs. Moore did," Atwood pointed out.

However, he emphasized that the disability has to occur prior to age 65 for the law to have any effect. The Pontiac office has already processed several hundred applications for the disability freeze, according to Atwood.

The majority of these were made by workers under 65 who can't collect any immediate cash benefits, he said.

Individuals may obtain further information as to their social security status by contacting the local office, located at 18 S. Perry St.

DONALD A. QUARLES

President Eisenhower has appointed Donald A. Quarles, now assistant secretary of defense for research and development, to be secretary of the air force. Quarles will succeed Harold E. Talbott who recently resigned. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) has demanded a Senate investigation of the private business connections of Quarles. But Quarles, who must be confirmed by the Senate in January, said he is prepared "to divest myself of any securities which would imply a conflict of interests." See story on page 14.

Heads of 4 Communities Planning New Interceptor

BIRMINGHAM — Conclusions were reached and a resolution passed when heads from Birmingham, Troy and Bloomfield Townships and Bloomfield Hills met yesterday afternoon to plan for a joint solution to their sewage problems.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert said this morning that each official will recommend to his respective governing body the advancement of $2,000 for engineering costs to develop plans for construction of an interceptor north of 14 Mile road.

The interceptor would feed into Birmingham's sewage treatment plant, seemingly destined to be enlarged and improved as an alternate measure to the stymied $2,740,000 Evergreen interceptor project.

Officials of the engineering firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark, plus Don Ringler of the Oakland County Drain Commission, also attended the sessions. Egbert said all parties present came to the following conclusion:

"The Evergreen interceptor is still the best answer to ending pollution of the Rouge River; use of the Birmingham plant with the interceptor north of 14-Mile is the next best; and a series of small treatment plants along the Rouge is the least attractive and most expensive plan.

"Speed is imperative, since several area communities are ready to build small plants unless a better solution is worked out," Egbert stated.

The interceptor north of 14 Mile would be extended to the south to join with the Detroit sewer system, forming the Evergreen interceptor, should the Evergreen later be approved.

Long-range delays in the Evergreen project resulted in suits now pending in Oakland County Circuit Court against all but Troy Township, and plus Southfield Township and the City of Lathrup Village.

The suits were brought by the State Water Resources Commission for failure to comply with its order to abate contamination of the Rouge.

Birmingham's second "Platter Party" will be held at the Birmingham Theater tomorrow. Area teenagers are invited to see and hear, in person, the Charms, and Frankie Castro who is making a return appearance.

The show will begin at 9:55 a.m., with doors opening at 9:30. The format is similar to last week's with Ted Donay, local teenager and disc jockey, first taping-recording an hour show. The stars will then sing more numbers before the movie flashes on the screen.

Tentative plans include a female vocalist, in addition to the magic of Lenardo the Magician assisted by Pat Talbot, Miss Birmingham of 1955. Dancers from the Arthur Murray Studio here will perform on stage.

Donay and Jack Cataldo, manager of the theater, are planning the new weekly shows, now running on a trial basis until their popularity is ascertained.

17-Year-Old Girl Dies, Five Injured in Crash Near Roscommon

ROSCOMMON (UP) — 17-year-old Grosse Pointe girl was killed and five of her teen-aged vacationing girl friends seriously injured last night when their car was hit from the rear by another and crashed into a tree. The accident occurred on M76, six miles north of Roscommon.

* * *

State Police said their car was hit in the rear by one driven by Harold Barber, 27, a Michigan National Guardsman from Big Bay, in the upper peninsula. Officers said the girls' car swerved off the highway and smashed into a tree.

Barber was held on a charge of negligent homicide. He was not injured.

In critical condition at Mercy Hospital, Grayling, were Mary Carter, 16, of (2865 West Michigan Ave.) Battle Creek, with a broken back and leg; Ginny Anderson, 15, of Saginaw, back injuries and a skull fracture, and Susan Day, 16, of Flint, broken neck and hip.

In poor condition was Helen Lapham, 15, of Connecticut, with skull and back injures. Miss Swan was in fair condition with neck and skull injuries.

Police said the girls were vacationing at Higgins Lake and Barber was returning to Camp Grayling from an evening pass.

General Wants GIs Withdrawn

Eichelberger Declares Time for Troop Return From Japan Has Come

ASHVILLE, N. C. (INS)—Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, wartime commander of the Eighth Army in the Pacific, said today on the eve of the tenth anniversary of V-J day that the time has come to take many of America's troops out of Japan.

Eichelberger, who was second in command under Gen. Douglas MacArthur during the first three years of the occupation of Japan after World War II, said:

"It is time now to continue reduction of American troops in Japan and substitute Japanese ground forces for that duty."

Recalling the occupation that began soon after V-J day 10 years ago, Eichelberger, now living in retirement, said:

A GAMBLE

"We went into Japan starry-eyed with victory. It was a gamble. We had no way of knowing what would happen when we occupied the country. The Japanese still had two million veteran troops we had to disarm.

"We thought then that peace had arrived. It seemed at that time beyond belief any country would ever want to go to war again."

Eichelberger was on Leyte making plans for the invasion of Japan when the official word of her surrender came on Aug. 14, 1945. He recalled there had been rumors for several days that the Emperor was ready to make peace, but plans for the invasion went ahead.

If "Operation Coronet"—the invasion—had been called for, it would have been Eichelberger's Eighth Army bearing the brunt.

As it was, the general landed in Tokyo with the 11th Airborne on August 30, to remain there three more years with occupation troops.

Farmer's Plight Grave as Hiccups Hit Double Time

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — G. F. Wilson, who started hiccupping shortly after lunch Aug. 2, has started doing it in double time now, his wife says.

The 69-year-old west Texas plains farmer has had only a few breaks from the spasms while sleeping and is in a serious condition in a Lubbock hospital.

Mrs. Wilson said it was the second time her husband has been stricken with marathon hiccups. Twenty-nine years ago, she said, he had a similar seizure. That time, however, they lasted only seven days.

* * *

Mrs. Wilson said the only real rest her husband has had during the attack was when the doctors "knocked him out." She did not know whether they used gas or a hypodermic. But she said he got a few hours sleep without hiccuping.

"He has the double hiccups now," Mrs. Wilson said. "They hit him several times a minute — I just don't know how to describe it."

Rescue Man Pinned Four Hours in Ditch

SAGINAW (AP) — A tractor-trailer driven by Donald D. Swain, 28, of Omar, went off a curve on M15 and into a big ditch Wednesday night and wasn't discovered until some three or four hours later.

Swain was brought to a Saginaw hospital, suffering deep shock and possible internal injuries.

Swain was pinned in his cab when the big rig, loaded with 25 tons of rock lathe, went into the ditch. He was headed for Maybee.

Sheriff's deputies who spotted the wreck said Swain apparently had gone to sleep at the wheel and had been pinned in the cab at least three hours and possibly four. They estimated damage to the tractor-trailer at $8,000.

'Oklahoma' Leading Lady Dies of Polio in Milan

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A sorrowing American troupe scheduled funeral services for its pretty young leading lady today and prepared to carry on with "Oklahoma!"

Blonde Jean Bradley, 28, stricken with polio Wednesday after playing the role of Laurey in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical for 18 months, died last night in the Dergano Hospital here.

Last night's performance—which would have been the company's 1st in Milan—was canceled when her death was announced. The troupe will open in Venice next wth Enid Harding taking over the lead role.

Miss Bradley was a native of Philadelphia.

Marlon Brando Goes Out Window to Avoid Press

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marlon Brando tried but couldn't dodge news photographers yesterday. He was in court on two old traffic citations.

"My chances of ducking you guys are 50-50," the actor told the photographers. "Try and catch me."

They did, once through a doorway opening from the courtroom. Thereafter Brando skipped from courtroom to judge's chambers, to a second and third courtroom. Finally, he climbed out a window into an alley and sprinted away. But a photographer was waiting there too and got his shot.

Incidentally, Brando was fined $50 for an illegal U-turn and driving without a license.

IN A POTTERY TOWN IN OLD MEXICO—5
A Market Stall

Pancho takes his pottery to market and sets up his stall in the public square. Like many other stalls, it is made of bamboo and roofed with a green grass mat.

Pancho arranges his pottery on a stand and leaves his sister Rosita and brother Esteban to run the booth. Then he walks about the square and visits friends in the other stalls selling fruit, candy, flowers, sombreros and scarves.

Paste this picture on cardboard and when dry color with crayons. The grass mats are green with red fringe. The bamboo is yellow and the front of the stand is painted bright blue. Color the pottery and flowers in bright colors.

Cut out the large piece. Fold the mat in front of the stand forward, and fold the ends of the stall back. Then it will stand up.

Cut out the four separate jugs. Cut slits in the stall where the dotted lines indicate them. Push the tabs through the slits and fold the tabs at the tab.

Now you have a market stall, ready for business.

Russian Atomic Scientists Investigate Photosynthesis

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet scientists told the atoms-for-peace conference they believe they are on the verge of solving the mystery of photosynthesis—nature's ingenious method of feeding the world.

• • •

A. L. Kursanov told the 72-nation parley that the Russians, using radioactive isotopes as tracers in plant studies, have found out a number of things about the process in which green plants under sunlight convert carbon dioxide and water into the sugars and starches Men of science have long sought the secret of this process, hoping to duplicate it artificially as a help with the world's food problems. American scientists also have reported progress toward working out the puzzle.

• • •

Kursanov described the Soviet that men and animals eat. findings as "preliminary to the decisive step in the direction of disclosing the mystery of photosynthesis and of mastering this process."

"This probably will take place in the near future," he added.

Kursanov reported the Russians have found that proteins as well as carbohydrates are direct products of photosynthesis in plant leaves. He said that carbohydrates are formed under the influence of the red and yellow parts of sunlight while proteins are formed under the influence of blue light.

This latter finding, he said, could be used in hothouse design to influence the quality and quantity of plants.

• • •

The United States, Canada and Russia reported on extensive aerial prospecting for uranium and thorium in addition to their widespread ground prospecting.

Aly Khan Wants Yasmin Visits

Mother Rita Hayworth Blamed for Disregard of Court Edict

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Moslem Prince Aly Khan and actress Rita Hayworth squared off for another legal fight as Aly sought to have their daughter visit him in France.

Through his attorney, Aly filed a motion in District Court yesterday asking Judge A. J. Maestretti to order Rita to send the 5-year-old Yasmin to France for an 11-week visit.

No date has been set for a hearing.

* * *

Aly said he is ready to post the necessary $100,000 bond and in other ways has tried to comply with terms of an agreement the couple reached last fall on details of Yasmin's visits with her father.

He charged that Rita "has failed and neglected to render any assistance in order to defeat the provisions of the agreement and to deprive him of visitation rights."

* * *

Specifically, Aly said that Rita has refused to help him obtain recognition of their 1953 Nevada divorce in France. Under the agreement such recognition is required in any country which Yasmin is permitted to visit.

Rita now is the wife of crooner Dick Haymes.

Talbott Cites Wilson for Silent Attitude

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retiring Air Force Secretary Talbott has accused Defense Secretary Wilson of failing to defend him.

The brief conversation took place in the defense secretary's office while photographers were snapping pictures of Talbott's successor, Donald A. Quarles.

Talbott plucked Wilson by the sleeve and walked with him to a corner of the big office, saying "I don't like what you said at your news conference about being distressed about the whole business of my resignation."

* * *

Wilson started, in a low voice, to explain what he had in mind. Talbott interrupted to say: "You haven't done one thing to defend me."

"I was very distressed about the whole business,' Wilson said. "I didn't like any part of it." He declined to elaborate as to just what he didn't like.

Congressional Junkets Expected to Set Record

As has been the case for many years, adjournment of Congress signals the start of the junketeering season for lawmakers.

Between now and convening of the second session the number of Representatives and Senators who will travel to many parts of the world is expected to set an all time record.

Curiosity as to whether Russia is sincere in its peace effort has stimulated interest in that country. At least 20 members of the Senate and House have been assured that they will be granted visas to visit the USSR.

Inasmuch as some of them will be in Helsinki for a meeting of the Interparliamentary Union, this will be only a side trip and they will have to pay their own expenses from the Finnish capital.

Unfortunately the cost of these junkets which take lawmakers into almost every country in the world, never is revealed exactly. This is due to the fact that all countries receiving U.S. aid set aside equivalent sums known as counterpart funds.

Ten per cent of these funds are available for administrative and other U.S. Government expenses. Except in Australia and Latin America, junketeering Congressmen can draw on these funds with no questions asked.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, over the years abuses of counterpart funds have developed. There also is waste of junket money for which there must be an accurate accounting. Junkets can and do serve useful purposes. But Congress should tighten the purse strings when the proposed trips are nothing but pleasure jaunts.

Clague Again BLS Chief

In one of its last preadjournment acts the Senate rightly confirmed President Eisenhower's renomination of Ewan Clague to be Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Thus the upper House corrected what many believed was an Administration mistake. When Clague's term expired last year, President Eisenhower did not renominate him because Pennsylvania's Senator Martin opposed him.

★ ★ ★

Labor Secretary Mitchell, however, knowing Clague to be a top statistician praised by business and labor leaders, retained him as a special assistant. At the same time he continued to press the White House for the former BLS chief's renomination which came in April.

Unfortunately, the Senate failed to confirm Solicitor General Sobeloff to be a judge of the Fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. Its Judiciary Committee delayed action because of the objections of Senators Eastland of Mississippi and Johnston of South Carolina.

★ ★ ★

Their opposition based on Sobeloff's skillful presentation of the Federal desegregation case thus temporarily has deprived the Nation of an able jurist's services.

Undoubtedly the Senate early in the next session will confirm the man who served with distinction as Chief Judge of Maryland's Court of Appeals.

A fanatic is a person who is as enthusiastic about something that doesn't interest you as you are about something that does.

Still Too Much Secrecy

It is to be hoped that the 84th Congress will compile in its second session a far better record for open conduct of public business than it did in the session just ended.

Congressional Committees' habit of doing much of their work behind closed doors long has been recognized as undesirable in a democracy like ours. In his New Freedom lectures a half century ago, Woodrow Wilson warned against the closed door practice. Only recently House Rules Committee Chairman Smith attacked it.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, secret sessions violate the spirit of the rule adopted when Congress passed the LaFollette-Monroney Congressional Reorganization Act. This provides that:

"All hearings conducted by standing committees or their subcommittees shall be open to the public, except executive sessions for marking up bills or for voting or where the committee by a majority vote orders an executive session."

★ ★ ★

It is understood, of course, that committees considering matters vital to national defense and security are justified in holding secret sessions.

Latest statistics show the extent to which the open door idea is ignored. During 1954 forty-one per cent of all committee meetings were closed to the public. There was some improvement during the first session of the 84th Congress with only one-third of all committee sessions secret.

Is That the Key?

David Lawrence Says:

Many Who Demanded Talbott Ouster Sought to Have Oppenheimer Excused

WASHINGTON—They blew taps on Harold Talbott's service as secretary of the Air Force—and the secretary of defense pinned a medal on him for his outstanding performance as a public official. But that didn't erase the stigma he will carry for life—the stigma of a cruel system of politics which crucifies a man forever because he makes a single mistake in judgment.

Harold Talbott was a remarkably good secretary of the Air Force but a poor politician. He worked day and night in the interests of the enlisted men and did many things for which he will long be remembered by the airmen of America.

But among other things he was careless in the use of office stationery—as happens every day in every business when employes write personal communications about personal affairs on office letterheads.

It doesn't seem to matter that Talbott wrote to persons who knew him in business many years before or that he told a Senate committee when it originally recommended confirmation to the Senate that he would retain a business connection with a firm of efficiency experts.

* * *

It doesn't seem to matter that the engineering firm of which he remained a partner saved companies a lot of money by its methods and indirectly saved the government money on its "cost plus" contracts — something that caused Talbott to be overenthusiastic perhaps about mentioning it to his old friends. If he had held stock in a drug company that had a cure for polio or something, he mustn't recommend it to his friends or let the Army and Navy know about it. That would be a "conflict of interest" modern style.

POOR JUDGMENT

Yet, when all is said and done, it was a mistake in judgment and could be exaggerated on the stump. So, as President Eisenhower phrased it, Talbott was right "under the circumstances" in submitting his resignation. What this means is that, even though there was no illegality or fraud, the continuance of Talbott in office would have been a basis for political attack on the administration and hence there was only one thing for him to do—to resign.

It is interesting to note the condemnation which swept over Talbott like a tidal wave. It came from the "Right" and the "Left." The "Right" saw danger to the administration politically. The "Left" saw a chance to bite back because of the improprieties charged to Truman officials in the last administration.

* * *

In the "Baltimore Sun" the other day, C. P. Ives, who writes a signed article regularly on the editorial page, says that, while it would be unfair in a sense to make any comparisons between Oppenheimer and Talbott because they are different personalities, "the same two basic issues appeared" in their cases. He writes:

"There was the issue of a conflict of interest. There was the issue of personal behavior."

Ives then quotes the official record of testimony to show that Oppenheimer lied to the military intelligence officer who was investigating in wartime some details of a Russian effort at espionage which had come to his attention at the atomic laboratory in Berkeley. Oppenheimer admitted he had lied and failed for several months to reveal to his government that he had lied. The Personnel Security Board of the AEC found Oppenheimer "loyal" but a security risk.

"But a closer look at the two cases," writes Ives, "shows up a disquieting detail. The decision against Dr. Oppenheimer detonated a perfect frenzy of disapprobation from a very wide segment of the liberal community. But many of the same people who wanted Dr. Oppenheimer retained demanded that Talbott be dismissed.

Vital Functions Operated Automatically by Nerves

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Here's something to think about—if you ever think: The three vital functions—digestion, circulation and breathing—are controlled and regulated by the autonomic, automatic, sympathetic or involuntary (not subject to the will) part of the nervous system. All of these functions are most efficient when we are asleep or unconscious. When we are awake they are most efficient when least interfered with.

Every health suggestion I make in these Little Lessons: No. 2, C V D, about heart and artery troubles; No. 21, How to Breathe; and No. 25, Constipation Habit, (for any Little Lesson send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) conforms with this physiological fact.

One who practices "deep breathing" or "breath control" as suggested by an instructor whose knowledge of anatomy and physiology is deficient generally gets as much help from it as he would from hoisting himself with his own bootstraps.

Some "deep breathing" instructors have weird conceptions of the anatomy and physiology of breathing. For instance, a noted trainer of athletes blatantly explained in a magazine article that "the diaphragm contracts to drive air out of the chest."

ACTION EXPLAINED

Every schoolboy should know better—would know better if elementary education in Yankeeland were not so restricted by prudery.

The diphragm works, contracts, functions when air is drawn into the chest (inspiration, inhalation).

* * *

The diaphragm is a partition between the upper body cavity (chest, thorax) and the lower body cavity (abdomen). It is composed of muscle and fibrous tissue. The muscle is a ring attached to the inside of the tip of the breast bone, the lower ribs and the spine just below the ribs. The fibrous part is the central tendon, thin but strong.

The diaphragm resembles a tarpaulin covering a haystack. When the tarpaulin contracts (or say if it shrinks) it compresses whatever it covers.

This is the point to remember—namely, that when the diaphragm works (contracts) it presses down upon the abdominal organs—stomach, intestines, liver, gall-bladder, spleen, pancreas, blood vessels, lymph channels. At the same time it tends to lower or release pressure upon the organs in the chest—heart, lungs and blood vessels. This tends to produce a vacuum, into which air enters (by "suction," as one might say).

BOOSTER PUMP

The importance of this point is not that contraction of the diaphragm (shrinking or tightening of the tarpaulin) permits air to enter the chest (inspiration, inhalation, expansion of lungs) but that it squeezes everything down below, including the great veins and the vast network of small vessels of the splanchnic pool, which is capable of holding out of circulation, stagnant, nearly a quarter of the entire volume of the blood in the body.

If all this confuses you it will clear up when you learn Little Lesson 21. Meanwhile just remember that every time you draw breath—provided you do it naturally and not as the deep breathing cultists teach—you not only massage your spleen, gall-bladder et cetera but put in operation a booster pump to improve your circulation.

Tomorrow, if I'm here tomorrow, I'll (let the physiologists) describe how the booster pump works.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Insurance Association Praises Safety Program

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

A recent item in the Press announced a reduction in auto insurance rates by the member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Pontiac and surrounding areas received preferential reductions over many other areas of the State. The reduced rates reflect fewer losses and a generally improved safety record in this vicinity.

Our drivers and pedestrians are to be congratulated on this indication of greater care in the use of streets and sidewalks. Safety campaigning by many individuals and organizations appears to be having a beneficial effect.

The members of our Association wish to pay public thanks to some of those who are spearheading the local auto safety efforts. Specifically, our City Administration and Police Department under Chief Straley, County Administration and Sheriff's Department under Sheriff Irons, and local Michigan Police unit, police department of nearby cities and townships.

Also Pontiac's Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan and Cecil McCallum, Township justices in the area, local schools with their driver training program, Pontiac Press, WCAR and WPON, and the very active Safety Committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce. These and other civic minded groups are continuously serving in the interests of auto safety.

All of us are quick to criticize when the local safety record goes from bad to worse. Our organization considers it timely to thank the public and those contributing to the efforts toward improvement of the record.

Federal Agencies Move to Offset Cost Raising

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The financial agencies of the Federal Government—the housing authorities and the Federal Reserve System—have recently taken counter-inflationary steps which may offset the cost raising impact of Walter P. Reuther, of the Auto Union, and David J. McDonald of the steel union.

* * *

A distinguished banker, the late Benjamin Strong, first governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, used to remark that finance is just the bookkeeping side of business. All too many international financial conferences go on the rocks because they ignore the Strong maxim. They try to substitute money manipulation for sound and prudent operating procedures among the producers and consumers of goods and services.

A new set of labor terms, even though calling for higher rates, is not necessarily inflationary, if it is wholly offset by economies growing out of improved efficiency and productivity, on the one hand, or of increased volume, on the other.

But, apart from long-term considerations, the impact of the cost-raising policies imposed on industry by strong unions is nationally important. They may bear on the constructive circumstance that for some two-and-a-half years inflation has been arrested.

BUSINESS HELPED

Businessmen and others have been favored in their forward planning by an uncommonly steady level of commodity prices. This circumstance may be important for the rolling prosperity which the country has enjoyed. Certainly other causes have included the ending by President Eisenhower of the earlier cold war between government and business. The Eisenhower Administration has tapped new sources of well-being by giving government recognition to the social aspects of private enterprise.

A financial drama considerably less unorthodox is currently unfolding before our eyes. Through established and conservative financial procedures, such as requiring higher down payments and shorter pay-off periods for home mortgages and through reflecting the changed supply and demand situation in respect to money in rising interest rates, authorities are trying to calm down the boom.

They are trying also to offset inflationary aspects of new labor union policies, and prevent a runaway market. In other words, they are seeking to "sit on the bulge during a boom" and avoid a bust.

The note of restraint imposed by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration was subsequently reenforced by lifts in rediscount rates of Federal Reserve Banks. In April rediscount rates were raised by ¼ of one per cent to 1¾ per cent. Last week the rates were advanced to two per cent in Chicago, New York and Dallas, and to 2¼ per cent in Cleveland.

These moves are of symbolic importance with a boom on, and are intended to convey a message that there are still fluctuations—not a frozen pattern at the very summit.

Meanwhile, credit expanded sharply in the first half of 1955, and the volume lift was in part a shift from inventory liquidation to a new pattern of inventory building. The impact on prices can be seen in metals and rubber. Borrowing has been heightened by a credit ease caused by open market purchases of $600 million in securities.

If the public does not take a hint, Reserve authorities can give a bigger punch by reversing open market procedure—by selling instead of buying securities.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Social Science Teacher Confuses Boy by Likening a Democracy to a Republic

Bill is confused. He wants to know if this is a democracy or a republic. Can you quickly outline the differences? If not, better study this case closely. The U. S. A. is neither a true democracy, nor a representative democracy, but a republic, as John Marshall explains so clearly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-311: Bill E., aged 17, will be a high school senior next term.

"Dr. Crane, my parents have reared my brother and me a la Dr. Crane," he began with an engaging grin.

"Oh, I'm not joking," he hastily added. "We got no allowance, but we had to get out and pitch for every cent we obtained.

"We ran errands after school. We carried newspaper routes. We worked on vacations.

"We went to Sunday school and were active in the Boy Scouts. We don't smoke or drink. And we have won letters in high school athletics.

"I have been reading your column myself ever since the sophomore year. So I need some advice.

* * *

"My social science teacher calls this country a democracy. I tell her it is a republic, and that's why we pledge our allegiance to the republic.

"But she doesn't know the difference and she gets us kids all confused as she wanders around with big words, trying to defend herself."

ORDER AND CHAOS

The difference between our republic and a democracy, said sage old John Marshall, "is the difference between order and chaos."

* * *

Well "order" and "chaos" are entirely unlike. They are opposites, so Bill is right in challenging his teacher.

In a democracy, the will of the majority immediately becomes law. But that is a cruel, unstable government of the "might makes right" type.

For example, suppose 51 per cent should vote to take away all the property of blonds. As soon as such a bill were passed, the blonds would lose their entire life earnings in a democracy.

MAJORITY RULES

And if the 51 per cent voted to shoot or imprison the 49 per cent, they could do so, in a democracy, for in such a government the majority rules:

* * *

But in our republic we have a written Constitution which defines certain inalienable rights which even a majority vote of Congress cannot take away.

Even though the majority wants to kill or loot the minority, our Constitution protects the minority.

So our republic is a Golden Rule government, which means we give the minorities the same privileges as the majority.

Our republic is thus not a "might makes right" system where the savage jungle philosophy prevails.

NINE WATCHDOGS

Furthermore, we have nine faithful watchdogs who jealously guard that written Constitution with those inalienable guarantees to minorities.

* * *

In a democracy, the mob rules. Today it may "Hail Caesar" and tomorrow it may yell, "Lynch Caesar," so there is no security in a democracy.

That's why Chief Justice John Marshall said democracy differs from our republic as chaos differs from order.

In our republic, we know from year to year what to expect. If we were a democracy, any shifting majority could reverse yesterday's rules completely.

So be grateful you live in a republic. For we are all minorities in race, for we have no single race that claims 51 per cent. And no religion in this country claims 51 per cent.

* * *

No trade or occupation claims 51 per cent. So we are members of various minorities and would be in constant jeopardy if this were not a republic.

Send for my booklet "Republic vs. Democracy" for further concise differences, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Every loyal American should know the clearcut difference between our republic and a democracy and never malign this country by calling it a democracy.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Multiple Births Rare

One pair of twins is produced in about 88 births. Triplets occur once in about 7,600, and quadruplets once in 670,000. Only about 50 cases of quintuplets have been recorded.

Polio Incidence Data Indicates Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — New polio cases reported by the states for last week showed a seasonal increase of about 36 per cent from the count of the week before, to a new high for the year at 1,409. The total, however, was lower than for the corresponding weeks of the last three years.

* * *

Summarizing the reports today, the Public Health Service said about 60 per cent of the cases reported in the week ended Aug. 6 occurred in the New England, Middle Atlantic and East North Central states.

About half the nation's population is located in those states.

The 1,409 cases last week compared with 1,037 in the preceding week and 1,608 in the corresponding 1954 week.

* * *

Total cases reported since Jan. 1 reached 7,937, or 2,854 below the 10,791 in the similar span of 1954. The total for the "disease year," which begins about April 1 when incidence is usually at its lowest, was 6,874, compared with 9,238 a year ago.

More than one-fifth of the cases reported over the nation last week were in Massachusets, which again led the states with 309. Wisconsin had 105 and New York 102. All other states totals were below 100 cases.

The average number of people who have moved into California each year in recent years is 284,000, more than those moving out.

Andover Rescue Crews Digging Into Wreckage for Victims

ANDOVER, Ohio (AP)—Tired rescue crews, pushing aside blackened beams with crowbars and digging into ashes with shovels, continued to search the wreckage along Andover's explosion-torn square today for more victims.

* * *

Officials said the death toll from the blast and fire which hit this small farming community Wednesday night may rise above the last figure, 21. At least 21 persons were injured.

A number of queries about missing persons indicate two or three more bodies might still be undiscovered in the debris, the officals said.

Bodies of 19 victims had been positively identified by early today.

Two bodies lying in a garage used as a temporary morgue still were unidentified.

The cause of the explosion, which centered in the Gateway Restaurant, where many of the victims had sought shelter from a storm, remained a mystery. One theory is that it was caused by either escaping fuel gas or by sewer gas backed up by clogged drains.

* * *

Among those who filed through the makeshift morgue in search of relatives was William Cutlip, of nearby Williamsfield, a lumberjack.

Walking slowly out of the garage, he said quietly, "I hope that I will never again have to see what I saw this morning."

He had just picked out the bodies of his 16-year-old twin daughters, Arlene and Darlene, who had been waitresses in the restaurant. He identified them by their shoes.

Pilot Is Killed in Crash to Avoid Traffic Vehicles

PERRY, Fla., (AP)—A Navy pilot in trouble apparently crashed his Banshee jet alongside U.S. 27 today to avoid hitting two trucks on the highway.

The pilot, who was killed, was identified as Lt. (j.g.) Robert C. Allison, 27, Robinson, Ill.

"He seemed to deliberately crash his plane on the ground in order to avoid hitting vehicles on the highway," an unidentified truck driver remarked.

Lebanon Won't Join

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Aug. 11 (AP)—Informants here say Premier Sami Solh has promised King Saud of Saudi Arabia that Lebanon will not join the controversial Turkish-Iraqi mutual defense pact. Solh also is reported to have said Lebanon is not ready, either, to join a purely Arab defense pact being promoted by Saudi Arabia and and Egypt.

Hillsdale Crash Fatal

HILLSDALE (AP) — Galen Brehm, 32, of nearby rural Waldron, died Thursday night when his car hit a tree near his home. Police said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Wayne Guardsmen Killed in Lake Huron Air Crash

ALPENA (AP) — While the wife and children of one watched horrified from shore, two Michigan Air National Guardsmen were killed Wednesday. Their training plane crashed into Lake Huron off Rogers City, some 35 miles northwest of Alpena.

Those killed were Capt. Lester J. Singleton, 36, and Airman 1-c George McLaughlin, 33, both of Wayne and both fathers of four children.

McLaughlin's wife, Lorraine, and their children were standing on shore outside their vacation cabin near Rogers City and saw the plane piloted by Singleton plunge into the water.

The plane crashed 300 yards off shore. Some witnesses said it was flying low and suddenly dove into the water for no apparent reason. Others reported hearing the plane's engine stop just before it fell. It was a propellor driven AT6 trainer.

Mrs. McLaughlin and her children, Georgia Ann, 11; Larry, 8; Paula, 7, and Barbara, 3, were staying at the Rogers City cabin while her husband was training with the Air Guard here.

Singleton had taken the trainer up to log part of the 20 hours air time required of all pilots in training.

Both victims were employed as airport traffic controllers by the Civil Aeronautics Administration in the tower at Detroit Wayne-Major airport.

Singleton was a World War II flier, a former pilot for Capital airlines, and during the Korean war was an Air Force instructor at Phoenix, Ariz.

McLaughlin was an Air Force tower operator in World War II and also was a licensed pilot.

Singleton's wife, Martha, and their children, Gerald, 9; Lynn, 8; Lawrence, 2, and Mark, 4 months, were vacationing with his family in Bad Axe while he was in training.

Bowl Inspires Bowl

DALLAS (INS)—The idea for beginning the Cotton Bowl Football game grew out of a trip to the Rose Bowl. Curtis Sanford, a Dallas oilman, originated the plan en route to one of Alabama's appearances at Pasadena. Later, he staged the first Cotton Bowl game, matching TCU and Marquette, in 1937.

Soviets Permitting Citizens to Travel

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government will permit its citizens to travel abroad as tourists not only to Red China and the East European Communist countries, but also to Sweden and Finland, a Soviet newspaper said today. The item immediately raised speculation that if this trend continued, Americans before long could expect to see Soviet tourists atop New York's Empire State building.

A little item in Trud, the Soviet trade union paper, followed announcement by Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin himself that the U.S.S.R. is lifting barriers to let in tourists from the West.

Lack of vitamin A is believed a cause of night blindness.

Heat Barrier Flight Planned

AF Is Ready to Rocket Plane at 2,000 M.P.H. in Friction Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced today it's ready for the first rocket powered flight by the X2 research plane, designed to penetrate the heat barrier with speeds of roughly 2,000 miles per hour or more.

The X2 is the first plane specifically built to explore the point in speed where many metals weaken or break down due to tremendous air friction.

* * *

The aluminum alloy normally used in aircraft has been replaced by stainless steel and other materials. Since ordinary windshield glass would melt at such speeds, highly tempered glass has been used.

The plane was built by Bell Aircraft Corp. for the Air Force and the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

* * *

The Air Force did not estimate its speed, but said it will fly faster than the earlier X1A, which exceeded 1,650 miles an hour in December, 1953.

The new research plane already has been tested in gliding flight.

It was carried up to altitudes of around 30,000 feet by a mother plane and released. These tests have been conducted at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., where the first powered flight of the rocket craft is scheduled in the near future. In these flights, too, the X2 will be carried aloft by a mother plane.

Huge Airliner Freed From Trap in Main Runway

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—A 45-ton DC6 Northwest Airlines plane, trapped in asphalt at the Missoula County Airport for a night and a dy, finally got out yesterday.

A tow truck worked all Wednesday night trying to free the plane from where it had caved through a soft spot on the main runway just before takeoff.

Finally huge jacks were used to raise the craft and crewmen got t up on planks. Then, with two engines roaring and two idling, it shot ahead onto solid footing.

* * *

About 45 of the original 70 passengers were on board when the plane left for Great Falls, Mont. Others had departed in other planes.

Among the passengers was Donald Nyrop, president of the airline, who stayed with the plane until it departed.

Twins to Deliver Twins

ST.LOUIS (AP)—Doctors Dan and Edward Moore, 26-year-old twns from Kewanee, Ill., are serving their internship together in the obstetrics division at Jewish Hospital. Officials said they will aid in the delivery of twin babies in a few days.

New Air Chief Is Top Man in Satellite Work

Less than two weeks after the United States unwrapped its plans to shoot the world's first man-made satellite into space, President Eisenhower has named the top man in the project as secretary of the Air Force.

Charles A. Quarles, present assistant secretary of defense for research and development, takes over his new post tomorrow as successor to Harold E. Talbott, who resigned the job after a Senate subcommittee probe of his outside business interests.

Quarles, 61 and a Republican, is a native of Van Buren, Ark., and more recently a resident of Englewood, N. J.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Quarles was recommended to Eisenhower by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

When a reporter asked about Quarles' private business holdings and what was being done about them, Hagerty said he was not in a position to answer that.

Quarles became assistant secretary of defense Aug. 2, 1952. He is a graduate of Yale and was a World War I Artillery captain.

From 1919 to 1948 he was an engineer for the Bell Telephone Laboratories and served as vice president of that firm from 1948 to 1952.

He also is a former vice president of the Western Electric Co. and a former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

As assistant secretary of defense Quarles has concentrated on pushing guided missile programs. He came to the Pentagon after serving as president of the Sandia laboratory in New Mexico which does highly specialized research for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The multimillion - dollar earth satellite program which the White House disclosed with considerable fanfare last month comes directly under Quarles' supervision.

One of the quietest men in high position in the Pentagon, Quarles has kept out of public view but is known to have been Wilson's close righthand man on all problems involving new weapons.

The selection of Quarles came as somewhat of a surprise. His name was not mentioned among the half dozen or so generally regarded as front-runners for the job.

While he was with Western Electric and the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Quarles was in charge of developing carrier telephone systems, broad-band telephone and television systems. During World War II he concentrated on improving military electronic apparatus, particularly radar.

By the end of that war Quarles was vice president of the Western Electric Co. and was the first president of the Sandia laboratory organized by Western Electric to operate an experimental facility for the Atomic Energy Commission.

A slight man with crisp, graying black hair, Quarles holds honorary degrees as doctor of engineering from the University of Arkansas and New York University.

He has two daughters, Carolyn Anne Quarles and Mrs. T. M. Overton, and a son, Donald Aubrey Jr.

Born Same Day as Davy Crockett —You're Invited!

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Kids born on Davy Crockett's birthday are being invited to a big birthday party in San Antonio at Brackenridge Park Aug. 17.

The San Antonio Chamber of Commerce issued an invitation to the youngsters to have ice cream, soda pop and birthday cake on them as part of the Davy Crockett Week celebration.

* * *

Each honoree also will get a handsome certificate as a Davy Crockett frontiersman.

The two-hour party will be entertained by numerous television stars and Texas' own war and film hero Audie Murphy.

A word of advice, young'uns, a birth certificate or a note from your parents that you and Davy were born on the same day will be required.

Ex-Cuban President Home After Exile

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Back from three years of political exile, former President Carlos Prio Socarras settled down in a suite at the Hotel Nacional today to await refurnishing of his palatial country estate.

Prio was booted out in the 1952 military coup which returned Fulgencio Batista to power. He arrived by plane last night from Miami and was greeted by several thousand supporters at the airport.

Although repeatedly accused of plotting against Batistas regime, Prio was permitted to return under a political amnesty which went into effect last May.

Mom Saves Daughter but Wrecks Two Cars

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Jean Trevett, 26, was driving along yesterday when she noticed her 11-month-old daughter inching toward the right door. She reached out for the tot—and lost control of the car, which slammed into two parked automobiles.

One was a shiny 1955 model which a salesman was showing a potential buyer. The sale didn't go through.

Mother and daughter weren't hurt.

'Pvt. Brucker' Notes Changes at Grayling

CAMP GRAYLING (AP) — The camp had changed, the equipment and training methods had changed and so had Wilber Brucker.

Fourty years ago Pvt. Wilber M. Brucker was a young enlistee in training at the Michigan National Guard camp here, preparing for duty at the Mexican border. Wednesday, he returned as secretary of the Army for a tour of inspection.

Where once he had ended every request to the newest second lieutenant with a "Sir," he now rated the smart salute from the highest officer present.

Brucker had other comparisons to make as he viewed the nearly 11,000 Michigan guardsmen go through their paces at their annual summer training camp. Training methods, he noted, had been "almost revolutionized."

"We had manpower and spirit," he said, "but lacked a great deal of training and weapons."

Before long, he said the National Guard will have more combat troops and fewer "housekeeping" soldiers, increased mobility and greater improved technical equipment.

International Seminar

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 11 (AP) — Youngsters from Canada, the United States, Latin America, Greece, Japan, Jamaica and Yugoslavia will meet at Queens University here Aug. 22-30 in a junior Red Cross Canadian - American seminar.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT — Told by an Old Scout

The Mexicans took their soldiers out of Anahuac. Then they brought them back again. When Travis, who had moved to the town of San Felipe, heard this he organized a small force of patriots, marched to Anahuac and made the Mexicans surrender their guns.

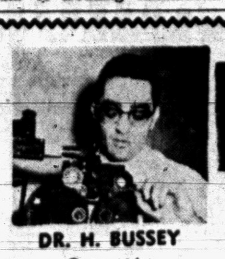

Some folks today say that's when the Texas war of independence began. Don't rightly know but, anyway, the shooting started and Buck Travis, who thought there'd never be another war, found himself fighting and helping win battles as a major of artillery!

Not long after Travis had been transferred to the cavalry as a lieutenant-colonel, he was ordered to reinforce the troops in the Alamo. Soon after he got there who should ride into the fort but his boyhood hero—Davy Crockett! Guess Buck could hardly believe his eyes!

With Colonel Jim Bowie laid low by injury and sickness, Colonel Travis had to take command. A huge Mexican army lay outside the gates of the Alamo, demanding surrender. Travis, Bowie and Crockett talked things over and then decided never to give up!

Local Residents Keep Busy on 'Do It Yourself' Jobs

Pontiac Press Photos

Photographed at her loom, weaving, is Mrs. Edward L. Karkau of Oneida road. Holding the shuttle to which the thread is attached, she moves it in and out among the background threads to form the "Whig Rose," the ancient colonial pattern of her green and white coverlet. By "Doing It Herself," Mrs. Karkau has found she can choose the color, design and material she loves best. In the background, hanging on the warping board are a cashmere afghan, gold draperies and plaid linen towels, all the work of Mrs. Karkau and her loom.

"Pontiac" rear wheels and axle are fastened to the Henry J frame of Bob Van Sickle's "Do It Yourself car." Plaster over wire lath, with fiberglas over all, forms the body. With a 1950 Oldsmobile 88 engine and hydramatic transmission, the car is 14½ feet long, 70 inches wide and 38 inches high. The radiator is Olds, cut down four inches. With a Dodge steering wheel and DeSoto brakes, the car will be finished in about six months. A fiberglas top will give winter weather protection and a canvas top (both removable) will let in the summer sun. Mr. Van Sickle makes his home on Mechanic street.

Peggy and Bobby are watching their mother, Mrs. Leo LaPointe, as she stitches the new drapes for their home on Marion avenue. The natural background with a cherry red and green pattern forms a pleasing picture against the green textured wallpaper. To get just what she wants, Mrs. LaPointe believes in "Doing It Herself."

Painting the pickets of her fence white is Mrs. Jesse G. Druley of Prospect street. Unlike Tom Sawyer who had a "Huckleberry Finn," to do his work, Mrs. Druley is "Doing It Herself." The fence encloses the lawn and garden.

Leather Is Washable

A new tannage method has resulted in leather gloves that may be washed by hand or in the washing machine.

Preparing to paper the powder room at the Harold Jacobsens' home on Interlaken drive are Mrs. A. L. Locklin of Oneida road (left) and Mrs. Jacobsen. The two women "Do It Themselves" when rooms need redecorating. They are adept at papering, painting and any interior work.

Daily Cleaning Gives Bath Sparkle

No matter what decorating scheme you have in mind for your bathroom, you can find fixtures that blend with your chosen color plans. But whatever the color, no bathroom fixture is beautiful unless it's sparkling clean.

The deeper colors, particularly, show up splashings more rapidly, so make a point of cleaning them daily with lots of hot soapsuds and rinses.

Party Fetes Bride-to-Be Joan Cooper

Don't Chase Boyfriend Caught on Rebound

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend liked Bill about six months ago, then she wrote him a 'Dear John.' He took the break pretty hard and he never stopped liking her.

"At least he didn't pay any attention when I started to like him. My girl friend began to like him all over again and she'd get the fires burning then drop him.

"A month ago he made a play for me and stopped chasing her. When she heard about our having fun together she made it a point to show up where we were together.

"Then she'd talk directly to him, tease him, flirt with him like mad, and try to get rid of me. Well, I got mad, and now they are really going steady again.

"I've liked him for a long time, and he told everybody he liked me, and I still like him and want him back. But is he worth getting? He's a flirt. He says we are still friends, but I want more than that. Can you help me?"

Answer: You stepped into a situation that's a bit bigger than you are. You're the girl who caught him on the rebound. You're the girl who filled in while he was on the outs with his real girl friend. He liked you, yes, and he said so.

No reason why he shouldn't like you. But he really goes for your girl friend. And it seems that his feelings for her have weathered the "Dear John," separation, dates with other girls and stuff. They're back together where he thinks he belongs. And what can you do about it?

You didn't have him long enough to get a real relationship established between you. It was a few casual dates, with his mind probably on other people and things.

It's too bad you fell for him so hard. But sometimes you do that. You fall for a boy who is really reserved. A boy who is waiting for his other affairs to get straightened out.

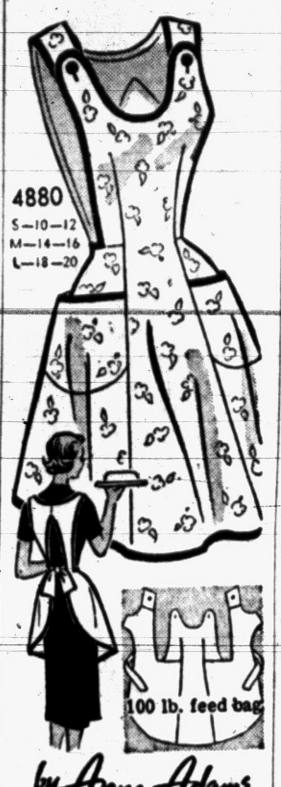

So convince yourself that he was "taken" all the time, no matter what sort of play he made for you. Tell yourself it wasn't in the cards, and make your own play for some one new.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We met last fall and went together until spring when he went to the hospital for an operation. When he came home things had changed between us and we broke off.

"After a month we started seeing each other again and I became very serious. But now we've broken off again. I love him, but I'm not sure how he feels toward me. (It's been a month now). How can I tell him how I feel—or shouldn't I? I'd like to know how he feels about me."

Answer: Two breaks in so few months! Someting is wrong fundamentally between you. And though you may still like him, he has reasons of his own for not seeing you any more. Meaning he is no longer crazy about you.

Must you hear it from him in so many words to be convinced that it's over? Must you tell him how you feel and be embarrassed? Let him go. He's no longer yours.

Lauretta Paul Says Clubs May View Hospital Plans

Lauretta Paul, director of Pontiac General Hospital, reported to the executive board members of the hospital Auxiliary that the plans for the new hospital addition have been completed and would be available next week. Men or women's organizations desiring to see the plans are invited to do so by contacting the hospital for an appointment.

Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the Auxiliary, entertained the group for luncheon and a meeting at her home on Lower Straits Lake. Plans for the coming year were completed.

A check from the Zonta Club of Pontiac for use in purchasing toys for the hospital pediatric play train, was presented by Mrs. Everett Reese.

Folks Foolishly Ban Certain Beauty Edicts

Many parents put age restrictions on many kinds of beauty care in addition to the obvious lipstick or powder.

This can be mighty awkward, especially if parents lay down the law that nothing is to be done about hair on the legs or eyebrows that meet until one is such-and-such an age.

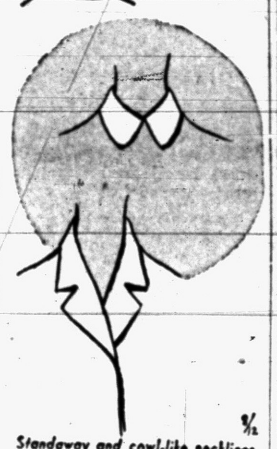

Hair styles have also been known to be part of such edicts. Braids must be worn until this age and then no permanent until that age.

Parents who do this kind of thing are very well meaning. What they have in mind is that gals have a long time to be grown up, all too few years to be young.

Life isn't like this. There are many shades of gray between the blacks and whites of life. The teen-ager who rejoices in a first tulle dress may, the next day, drive eagerly for her youthful shorts and a man's shirt.

If there is no appeal from these laws laid down in the home, the best one can do is to make shift until the law changes.

Alter Your Clothes as Diet Progresses

On a diet? Don't forget to alter your clothes every few days!

Even though you're pretty proud of being able to take a deep breath without popping a seam, you'll soon be eating chocolate pie and peanuts again if you go around with your clothes hanging loosely.

For if your clothes don't fit, your friends — even well-meaning ones —will exclaim about how much weight you've lost, you'll decide you are quite hungry and have lost enough weight, even though you may be far from your goal.

MRS. EDNA RACE

Governor Cites Pontiac Receptionist

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

Recognition has been given to one of Pontiac's most loved receptionists.

The recognition of Mrs. Edna Race is in the form of a letter from Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams, who writes, "It has come to my attention that you have rendered a great service to the people of Michigan in your capacity as receptionist at the Pontiac State Hospital. Your fine disposition and high humor have been an inspiration to patients and visitors arriving at the hospital.

"It is my hope that the people of Michigan continue to have the good service of dedicated citizens like yourself. Please accept my sincere appreciation for the good work you have done."

There have been other tributes paid to this gracious woman. On a recent Sunday a local minister told of her service to patients, employes and visitors at Pontiac State Hospital.

Mrs. Race is aware that the first visit to any hospital can be a very difficult one. Oftentimes relatives and friends are fearful and uncertain. Because of her real feeling for people, and the fact that she is vitally interested in the patients at Pontiac State Hospital, Mrs. Race does much to help these people overcome such fears.

Their burdens are eased somewhat when they realize that their loved ones are being cared for in a hospital that employs people with this kind of understanding.

CALLS BY NAME

By the time the visitor has made his second visit to the hospital, Mrs. Race calls him by name. When the Pontiac Press made a visit to the hospital, the reporter was amazed at the number of visitors she "knows." She made one little girl very happy when she called her by name and remembered where she lives.

Last Sunday 614 visitors called at the hospital between 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.—which could be trying to most receptionists. However, she handled this number in the same pleasant manner.

Members of the hospital staff told the Pontiac Press that Mrs. Race often is able to recognize real problems of people with whom she comes in contact, and will then direct them to the proper department.

* * *

Before coming to Pontiac Mrs. Race lived in Caro, where her husband, Dr. Charles N. Race, was a practicing physician for 19 years. After that time they moved to Flint where he again practiced medicine.

It was after his death that she came to Pontiac State Hospital where she has continued her good work for over 12 years. At present she is living with her mother, Mrs. Jane Griffin, who is 95 years of age, and with her sister, Mrs. Grace MacKenzie, on Washington street.

SUZANNE MARTHA FAIRBANKS

Mrs. Alvin L. DeGraff of Walled Lake and Henry J. Fairbanks of Detroit announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Martha Fairbanks, to Robert Bruce Fields. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Nelson Fields of Lincoln avenue. The couple will be married Oct. 22 in the First Assembly of God Church.

Bosses Rate Older Folks Good Workers

People who stay on the job in their sixties and seventies can be good workers and usually are, according to authorities who should know—their supervisors. In a University of Illinois survey, supervisors in 20 companies rated 1,025 older workers with these results. In over-all performance, 16 per cent were excellent, 32 per cent very good, 36 per cent good.

Seventy per cent were absent less often than their younger colleagues, and 23 per cent had about the same number of absences.

Fifty per cent were rated more dependable. In work quality, 57 per cent did about the same and 36 per cent were better.

More than 75 per cent turned out as much work or more than younger employes. And 60 per cent got along with others as well as young people did, while 33 per cent got along better.

It's New to Match Rug, Wall and Drape

If you are high-style at heart, it is a new idea to match carpets, walls and draperies in a complete one-tone scheme — in a color you live well with. Then add contrasting accents with accessories.

This can be practical, too. Start with one of the popular plain carpets, in color ranges from neutrals to high hues.

Some have a silky look for an elegant setting, some are textured for a more informal room. They will always provide a base for a decorating change-of-heart.

Avoid Using 'In-Law' in Introduction

Relative May Feel Slighted at Formal Phrasing

By EMILY POST

A very pleasant letter today tells me: "I have a new daughter-in-law—and my only one. When I introduce her to my friends should it be as my daughter or my daughter-in-law, or possibly John's wife? Somehow everyone seems to think "in-law" unfriendly. Why?"

Answer: I don't know why, but it is true that the word "in-law" can sometimes connote something forced upon us and not something we ourselves have happily chosen. As a matter of fact, countless in-law relationships fortunately have been of the happiest, but even so, to strangers, it does sound more affectionate to say, "Our Mary, John's wife."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married at four-thirty in the afternoon with a reception at six, and the question of the correct clothes for the men has caused quite a discussion.

"My daughter thinks that the men should wear striped trousers and cutaway coats, while I think they should wear evening clothes since the reception is taking place at an evening hour and they will be at the reception much longer than they will be at the ceremony. Will you please tell us what is correct?"

Answer: Your daughter is right. It is entirely correct to continue wearing afternoon dress on into the evening, but all wrong to wear evening dress in the daytime.

"Dear Mrs. Post: There are four married children in our family, sons and daughters both, and a father. We've recently lost our mother and as we received many floral pieces, spiritual bouquets, notes of sympathy, we'd like to know how to acknowledge them all so as to include everyone."

Answer: The one who is the most intimate friend of each donor should write the note of thanks. This "note" need be no more than the fewest words written on a visiting card.

Hearing Set on Charter for City of Troy

Monday Night Session Planned

Supervisor Barnard Urges Large Turnout to Study Laws

TROY TOWNSHIP—Troy Township residents have been urged to turn out in numbers for a public hearing Monday night on the proposed charter for the new "City of Troy."

The meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Troy High School, will outline the basic points of the charter, and give the public a final chance to offer suggestions and comments.

The charter, which sets up the basic laws under which the new city will operate, will then undergo a last revision by Troy's nine-man charter commission. It will then be submitted to Gov. G. Mennen Williams for approval.

"It is most important that residents come to the meeting," said Norman R. Barnard, Troy Township supervisor. "It has been a tremendous task to prepare the charter, and we want the people's opinion before submitting it to the governor."

The charter provides for a seven-member commission to be elected on a non-partisan basis. Commissioners will serve three-year terms, with initial terms arranged to provide staggered elections.

The mayor will be appointed yearly from the city commission. The commission will appoint the city manager, city clerk, treasurer, assessor, police and fire chief and necessary administrative officials.

The charter provides for election of the presiding justice of the peace and associate justice, the former to be an attorney. Justice court would have jurisdiction in civil matters up to $500.

The charter limits Troy's city tax rate to 20 mills, with 15 mills allotted for operating expenses and 5 mills reserved for debt purposes.

If the charter is approved, the commission will set up a special election date at which time voters will have the final say on whether the charter is to go into effect, and who the seven city commissioners are to be. This election constitutes the final step in the forming of the city.

The proposed city takes in 27½ square miles in the township. Left out is a three square mile section in the northeast corner and two square miles in the west area of the township—both sparsely populated. These two sections would remain as Troy Township if the city charter is approved.

Answer to Bonanzagram No. 22

Here's Report on Competitive Product

The manufacturer finally pieced together his aide's message on his competitor's product. He filled in the missing letters by this reasoning:

SLIPPED THE GUARD (i. e. "gave the guard the slip") is the way the message begins. CLIPPED or FLIPPED would imply the use of physical force, which in turn would be a tip-off to Metropolitan Motors that they were being spied on—a situation that was to be avoided. LAST NIGHT AROUND BUILDING makes sense, since it states the time of the break-in.

CAST LIGHT would be pointless; Mifflin would have used a flashlight, but probably with great caution on his furtive adventure. Any other combination would be far-fetched here.

HAD LONG LOOK AT PLANS is right, with MODEL following. LONG is better than the obvious LONE. PLANS, MODEL is clearly preferable to PLANE MODEL or PLANT MODEL. A PLANE could scarcely suggest a car design, and a design is not, strictly speaking, developed (as stated later) from a PLANT MODEL. FROM WHICH NEW SHORT CAB DESIGN WILL BE DEVELOPED. SHORT CAB, rather than SPORT CAR, was clearly indicated by the names of the companies involved—General Conveyances and Metropolitan Motors.

NAMED SKYLINE is again suggested by the reference to Metropolitan Motors. FAMED STYLING would be incorrect phrasing, as the STYLING would not be FAMED before the public had even seen it. BY RECENTLY HIRED STAFF EXPERT is more logical than EXPECT TO STRESS HORIZONTAL LINES. The latter would be a meaningless surmise on Mifflin's part as to Metropolitan's plans.

* * *

POWER PROMISES NEW HIGH IN PICKUP. PROMISES is less definitive than PROVIDES, and in spite of his LONG LOOK AT PLANS, Mifflin would not be sure enough of the possibilities to use the word PROVIDES in this connection. PROFILES obviously would not fit the sense. HEIGHT AN ALL-TIME MINIMUM is suggested by the earlier reference to HORIZONTAL LINES. Minimum WEIGHT would be less comfort and safety in a SHORT CAB, and is therefore an improbable alternative. AN is better than AT because it results in a more complete sentence, involving omission of only the one word "is." The use of AT here would involve the omission of two words, "is" and "an."

* * *

SPECIAL PEDAL USED FOR GEAR SHIFT is right, and indicates an innovation in the mechanism for shifting gears. A SPECIAL METAL would not be used for this purpose, and GEAR SHAFT or REAR SHAFT would be a misnomer for what is normally called the drive shaft.

BOLD COLORS ANOTHER TELLING FEATURE. BOLD COLORS on cabs are nothing new, but there must be something out of the ordinary to report here, for TELLING, that is, forceful or striking, is the word rather than the obvious SELLING. COLD COLORS, indicating blue or green, would be unlikely phrasing. And GOLD COLORS would be better put as GOLD COLOR.

CHANGE TO FORMER SUSPENSION SYSTEM is correct; the alternative FIRMER SUSPENSION would mean a harder, less comfortable ride, something that would not be an asset in a taxi. Such a change WILL BE WIDELY ACCEPTED if the current suspension system were unpopular, as is presumably the case. It would not be WIDELY ACCENTED, as Metropolitan would not be anxious to advertise their mistakes. WISELY ACCENTED is ruled out by the same reasoning, and WISELY ACCEPTED would be a kind of guesswork inappropriate in this informative message. MORE CLASS THAN EVER is a general statement of where the keen competition will lie; if it were MORE GLASS THAN EVER, Mifflin would presumably give specific information as to the area in which the additional GLASS was to be used. The phrasing EVEN ON CURRENT MODELS would involve the use of the superfluous word EVEN, for THAN ON CURRENT MODELS would be sufficient.

* * *

A new sentence begins with ON CURRENT MODELS STRESS IS ON DRIVING SAFETY. DRIVING SAFETY is something that could be emphasized in a design, whereas DRIVING SAFELY would have to be the subject of an educational campaign. A semicolon keeps the two thoughts in the same sentence, as they are closely related. NEW EMPHASIS suggests a change, and therefore fits better than NOW EMPHASIS. The emphasis is TO BE ON CONTROL AND RELAXED ASPECTS OF DRIVING.

RELAXED is more definitive than the broad term RELATED, and so is more informative here. DESIGN SHOULD SELL READILY is preferable to JELL READILY. AND SITUATION POINTS TO LIVELY COMPETITION AHEAD. LIKELY, that is, probable, would be superfluous. LIVELY, meaning vigorous or brisk, is the better prediction.

Although the writer was characterized as a "husky young man," the signature is not BIFF. It is a shortening of his last name, and is MIFF.

Two Young Lads Send Eisenhower Blue Ribbon Ewe

WARSAW, Ky., (AP)—Two boys whose family has raised sheep for 91 years yesterday sent a fellow farmer, Dwight D. Eisenhower of Gettysburg, Pa., a prize-winning ewe.

* * *

Robert and Louis Ewbank told the President in a letter that they had read he had received cattle and hogs for his farm but no sheep.

"So we are shipping to you express prepaid one of our Kentucky State Fair prize-winning ewes from our F.F.A. project," they wrote. F.F.A. stands for the Future Farmers of America.

"She is of straight imported English bloodlines and we hope a neighbor sheepman can breed the ewe so your grandchildren will have a purebred lamb to 'pet' when they come to visit you next spring."

Dodge Division Layoff Due in Detroit Today

DETROIT (AP)—Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. will lay off 11,712 production workers following the assembly of the last of its 1955 passenger cars today.

A company spokesman said production workers in trim, assembly and other departments will be recalled by Aug. 22.

About 8,200 are expected to be back to work by Sept. 6, the company said. The remainder will return by Sept. 16.

Dodge production so far this year amounted to about 205,000 cars, compared with about 78,000 in the comparable 1954 period.

Cotton Candy-Animals-Carnival . . . It Totals 4-H Fair

BOTTLE'S-EYE VIEW — How it looks from the other side is the view from the target milk-bottles in one of the many carnival events on the midway at the fair. Here Francis Patterson of Crystal, who runs the booth, takes a crack at his own game. The bottles were safe, but the photographer was a little jumpy.

ALWAYS MORE WORK — Fair chores never cease, as Jim Ogden of Clarkston (left) and Dick Scramlin of Holly will testify. They are members of the Oakhill 4-H club. Jim is driving a few more nails to reinforce stalls as frisky horses await the judging events scheduled for them Saturday.

WOULDN'T BE A FAIR — Without cotton candy, it just wouldn't be a fair, Michael and Linda Bray agree. Children of fair manager John Bray, they are still a little amazed at what happened to their back yard. They live at the fairgrounds year round, but the sudden bustle of activity has them wide-eyed. Handing down the treat is Earl Floyd, of Waterford Township.

TRAIN 'EM EARLY—Two-year-old Martha Stimson seems to like her early attempts at horsemanship, even if mother Mrs. Hugh Stimson of 630 Wesbrook, Pontiac did help manage the reins. A complete carnival show on the fair grounds has helped draw thousands of area residents out to the ninth annual 4-H and Agricultural fair. Last year's attendance figure was 50,000 for the five days, and this may be broken this year if good weather continues.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderworp

OFF IN SPACE — Getting up into the thinner air to take a look at this corn stalk is Ricky Muir, 14, of the East Orion 4-H club. Since he has an entry in the same classification, he's getting a good look at what he has to compete against. Even with the help of a step-ladder, he still had to look up to inspect the uppermost part of this giant stalk.

GETTING THE BRUSH OFF — Cynthia Gates, 18-year-old, gives a touch or two to her horse, Mac and Joe's Cotton Lass, as she prepares for Saturday's horse judging. The Northville girl also was preening Mac by trimming his whiskers, until he tried to eat the scissors.

THEY DIDN'T WIN, BUT — It was fun anyway, even if their float didn't take the top honors, this group from the Seymour Lake 4-H Club feels. They participated in the parade of clubs Wednesday night, when the East Orion club float took first place. Working here before the parade were Brenda Miller, 16, Doris Bradley, 17, and Sidney Miller, 12.

DOWN AND OUT — This fair business can get pretty tiring, as this napper indicated. Catching a few winks is Bill Carnahan, 16, of Walled Lake. He found the straw in the horse stalls to his liking. Besides the animals on display at the fair, there are clothes and handicraft projects made by the 2,500 4-H club members in the county.

Two-Day 'Inter Clubs Flower Show' Slated

Members of four Oakland County garden clubs have been meeting in committees, working to bring an outstanding flower show to this area.

The Dirt Gardeners and the Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac have banded together with Sylvan Garden Club and the Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club to present their "Inter Garden Clubs Flower Show," scheduled Aug. 27 and 28 at the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

A schedule for the event may be secured from members of any of the clubs, but the rules and regulations are simple.

All entries must be in place by 11 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 27, and only judges and clerks will be allowed in the exhibition rooms during the judging.

Entries must not contain flowers on prohibited list of the Conservation Department. All containers and accessories must be marked with the name of the owner.

RULES FOR EXHIBITS

Only one entry in a class will be allowed an exhibitor and the exhibit must conform to specifications. Exhibits must be kept in good condition throughout the show; otherwise they may be removed by the committee.

In the horticulture classes specimens must be grown by the exhibitors, and the variety correctly named. Containers will be furnished by the committee.

Section one has been slotted to 11 artistic arrangement classes—those interpreting early dawn, sunrise, noon, sunset, twilight, afterglow, moonlight, and midnight—as well as an arrangement in any kitchen utensil, an arrangement for a coffee table, and an arrangement in a natural container such as wood, a shell, etc.

SECTION TWO FOR MEMBERS

Section two is devoted to 12 table settings which have been assigned to club members.

Section three has 20 classifications for floral exhibits. Those to have only one stalk or stem are gladiolus, hemerocallis, lilies, phlox, hybrid tea roses (floribundas, one cluster), decorative and cactus type dahlias, delphinium, celosia, sunflower and any bulbous flowers.

The horticulture entries which may have three blooms are dwarf and giant zinnias and marigolds, miniature and pompon dahlias, chrysanthemums (three sprays), and berried shrubs may have three branches.

DISPLAY IN GROUPS

Daisies and calendulas should be displayed in groups of five.

* * *

Section four will include smallest and largest flower entries and section five is for those who have unusual house plants and African violets.

Section six is for vegetables grown by the exhibitor—his or her best three beets, carrots, potatoes, tomatoes, peppers (green or red) or cucumbers.

Junior gardeners will have their own division. Their section one is to include arrangements of annuals.

An arrangement in a favorite container, average height 18 inches; a miniature arrangement—under 6 inches high; an arrangement using the color of a bird or butterfly, with a picture accompanying it; one best individual large flower; and best group specimens—three small flowers—are classes of this section.

The five classes of section two have been assigned to birdhouses and feeders—the best large birdhouse, the best small birdhouse, the most usable bird feeder, the most decorative entry and the most original entry.

The vegetables they have grown this summer may be displayed in the five classes of section three: the best individual specimen, one large vegetable; the best group specimens, three or more small vegetables; the most unusual vegetable growth; the best animal or person made of vegetables; and a child's tray using a vegetable arrangement.

General chairman of the show is Mrs. Vivian Tubbs of 5265 Tubbs Rd., Waterford Township. Assisting her as co-chairmen are Mrs. Leon Zelinski of the Sylvan Garden Club, Mrs. Fred Bohlman of Pontiac Better Home and Garden Club, Mrs. Donald Gilchrist of the Pontiac Dirt Gardeners, and Mrs. E. J. Lally of the Waterford National Farm and Garden Club.

PREPARES FOR GARDEN SHOW—Entries such as the ones shown above will be part of the "Inter Clubs Flower Show" coming Aug. 27-28 in the CAI Building, Waterford Township. Holding the large entry sheet which will list the many displays is entry chairman Mrs. H F. Simmons of Pontiac. Four Oakland County garden clubs have united to present the two-day show. Entries will be grouped into nine adult and junior sections — including flower arrangements, table settings, vegetables, horticultural exhibits and bird houses and feeders.

Plan New Life in Garden Before Winter

NEA Feature

Gardens are apt to be at their worst in August. Picking all faded flowers and yellowing foliage each day will make all the difference in the world in appearance.

As a rule, saving seed from your own plants is not worth while. Specialists can do a better job.

But in case you want to try it, a wise precaution is to tie a colored thread around the stem just below any pod you want to save. This serves as a warning in your daily going over of the garden.

If you decide to save some seed of your own, watch for outstanding plants.

PICK STRONG PLANTS

Aquilegia or columbine is a good subject with which to start. Select vigorous plants with clear-colored flowers of desirable shades and save one pod from each plant.

START SEEDS — Give your seeds a start in a cold frame for nursery planting.

The seedlings will give you a wide range of color and you should save only the best. In this way, year by year, you can build up a choice collection of aquilegia. Of course, the original seed, which you buy, should be especially fine.

Sow the seed thinly as soon as it is ripe in a shaded cold-frame. Lacking a frame, a seed bed may be prepared in a shady spot in the garden. The little seedlings will appear quite quickly and may be moved to a nursery bed in September.

QUESTION OF CUTTING

Among delphinium fans, there is some argument as to whether to cut the old flower stalks to the ground immediately after flowering or to leave them. Of course, we all hope to get a second crop of bloom, but it takes a vigorous plant to produce two crops of bloom and retain strength to survive the winter.

It is through the agency of the chlorophyl in the leaves that a plant manufactures its food. Therefore, the delphinium needs all the foliage possible to feed its roots.

It may be that a great deal of winter killing is due to the practice of severely cutting back the foliage.

So, leave much of the old growth and let the young stalks grow up through. This serves a double purpose, as the old stalks have now become quite hard and woody and help to prevent wind damage to tender young stalks as they grow.

A good feeding cultivated into the soil around each plant will go a long way to encourage vigorous growth.

Delphiniums are heavy feeders and to enjoy two crops of bloom you must set a good table for them.

Now's the Time to Place Orders for Shrubs, Bulbs

Now's the time to order new material for fall planting, including evergreens and many flowering shrubs.

Ball and burlapped plants are likely to be the best investment even though they are more expensive.

It's getting late to send the bulb orders in. Consider ordering something besides daffodils and tulips lovely though they are. The very early blooming bulbs are well worth the time and planting effort.

New Chemical Effectively Used to Control Flies

Malathion is the newest and one of the most effective residual wall spray for fly control, reports Lyle Goleman, Ohio State University extension entomologist.

Malathion kills DDT resistant flies and lasts about three weeks.

Goleman recommends mixing 5 tablespoons of 57 per cent malathion concentrate and an equal amount of sugar in one gallon of water. Malathion should not be sprayed on animals.

Chemical controls aid in fly control, but sanitation is still the first line of defense against flies, Goleman said. If folks don't clean out and destroy fly-breeding places regularly, the best chemical controls will fail.

Some chemicals become ineffective as flies develop resistance to them, he added. Only trial and error will tell which insecticide will be most effective.

Perennial Seedlings Require Protection

If you haven't done so already, rig up some kind of protective structure to keep the burning sun off the perennial seedlings.

Lath structures are wonderful, but it can also be done less expensively with cheese cloth or even paper.

Record Crop Harvested From National Forests

WASHINGTON (INS)—The forest service says a record volume of timber was harvested from the national forests during the fiscal year ended June 30.

The value of the crop was placed at $70,760,440 as compared with $65,407,400 in the previous 12 months.

Thin Rock Garden

Work over the rock garden some day after a soil softening rain, thinning out overcrowded sections where creeping phlox, the sedums and the other vigorous plants threaten to take over.

Start Perennials in Coldframe

Early August Is Time to Plant Seed for Bloom Next Spring

AP Newsfeatures

Perennials are an integral part of any garden plan. Perennials are the plants which, with reasonable care, give you bloom year after year with certain limitations.

They may be started from seed. Early August is a good time to get under way. Early spring, before April, is another favorite perennial planting time.

However, to start from seed in early August, the open garden soil is too warm for good germination of most seeds. A coldframe which can be shaded, controlled and properly ventilated is ideal.

Or, if you would rather skip the seed work, you can readily purchase plants from the nearby nursery, greenhouse or farm supplier.

SET FOR SPRING

The seeds planted early in August will be ready for bloom next spring. Usually the seedlings can winter in the frame without transplanting until spring. Another time for coldframe plantings of perennial seeds is late in November. The seeds will remain dormant until spring.

* * *

The seeds may be planted directly on the soil in the frame, in seed flats, or in pots sunk with the tops almost level with the soil. Generally, either seed flats or pots will give you more maneuverability.

There are perennials which will bloom in early spring, late spring, and various phases of summer and fall.

They grow to varying heights, so adjust your plantings to give continual bloom through the season as well as graduated height in the beds.

PRIMROSE POPULAR

An old favorite early spring perennial is the primrose; Lily-of-the-valley is a mid-spring bloomer, while the Shasta daisy, pinks, iris, oriental poppy, sweet William or delphinium will give you bloom from late spring through early summer.

For fall flowers, there are the ever-popular chrysanthemum and the rose-mallow.

These are just a few of the usually hardy perennials.

Winter protection in northern climes requires a protective mulch over the perennial bed to prevent heaving from alternate freezing and thawing.

Through the years, there will be need for occasional replacement of plants, for while the group is dubbed perennial, it normally is not perpetual.

Keep making regular garden rounds with scissors, snipping off fading flower heads of annuals to force the plants to produce bloom for a longer period.

Plan Construction, Landscaping Jobs

Make plans now for any construction jobs and landscaping jobs necessary.

If you have water problems—too much in certain spots in certain seasons—think in terms of regrading to provide drainage, but consult experts to make sure a more expensive job of drainage (agricultural tile plus gravel trenches) will not have to be made.

Even if it is more expensive it is an economy to do the required job once and for all rather than a series of unsuccessful patching jobs.

Prepare Peony Bed, Plant in September

Peony orders can be sent in now and the roots planted in September.

Pick out the location for the plants now—protected spots—and prepare a deep, well-drained, well fertilized spot for them which they can inhabit for years without disturbance.

Cut down and dispose of dried foliage of bleeding heart.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Slugs were a nuisance in our garden last year, destroying many fine plants. What can be done to get rid of them?

A—Slugs can be kept to a minimum through the use of a poison bait like Bug-Geta and Snarol. Scatter the pellets on the soil about the plants. Also place a few small, thin pieces of wood, the size of an envelope, two to three feet apart among the plants, placing some poison bait underneath. The slugs will crawl under them since they hide by day. Each afternoon lift the pieces and dispose of the slugs.

Q—Would one be wrong in assuming that a pink climbing rose was cross-polinated by wild blackberries in an adjoining lot? The roses were pink for years, but this summer we were amazed to see the rose vine a mass of white flowers seemingly identical with the blackberry blossoms.

A—It is most doubtful if the blackberries are to blame for the white flowers. It is my opinion that the small white flowers on the rose came from shoots developing from the root stock—the vigorous multiflora rose. So dig away some of the dirt about the rose and jerk off all canes from below the graft, then fill dirt back again. To allow this growth to remain spells disaster for the plant.

Q—What can one add to the soil to increase its acidity? We have a planting of rhododendrons and mountain laurel in mind.

A—A number of chemicals can be used: aluminum sulfate, epsom salts and sulfur. A soil test should be made first to determine how much acidifying material is needed. Have the test made by your local county agricultural agent.

Q—Have access to countless four to eight-feet tall Buckthorn seedlings. Would these plants make a satisfactory tall hedge?

A—Buckthorn, rhamnus frangula, makes an excellent tall hedge if pruned twice each year. Untrimmed, it grows 10 feet and more tall and almost as broad.

Pawn Shop Junk Collects Dust in Capitol Basement

LANSING (AP) — State officials are worried these days over what to do with a pawn shop collection of old watches, trinkets and jewelry gathering dust in a capitol vault.

Taking inventory recently, the state found it had: a pair of fingernail clippers, a shotgun, one gold hairpin, two purple stones, sundry knives and cuff links.

The items were turned over to the state from the estates of people who died without leaving wills.

Guardian of the odd lot is the State Board of Escheats, which met this week to look over bids for the items.

"The bids were so completely out of line that I recommended we reject them," said State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, chairman of the board.

A LOT IS JUNK

Brown conceded that much of the assortment is junk. But, he added, some of the items can't be sneezed at.

"We have some fine watches and a one carat diamond that has been appraised repeatedly at $215," he said.

And what was the state offered for the collection? One man bid $10 for the entire lot—another $75. Brown said the collection has been conservatively appraised at $328.

Statutes require the board to attempt to sell the odds and ends every six months. The board mailed 150 letters to likely customers, and received only three nibbles.

"I don't know what we will do," Brown said, "but we can't give this stuff away."

The board may decide to give items declared to have no value (such as the fingernail clippers) to a state institution.

In addition, Brown said, it will probably not attempt to sell the collection again until the lot is of sufficient value to justify advertising.

An alternative, Brown said, would be to auction the collection. He said he would ask Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh for an opinion on the legality of that.

In the meantime, the assortment of lockets, rings and watches—once precious to their owners—is gathering dust in a basement vault.

The number of U. S. men between the ages 20-25 has fallen from a record 7.25 million in 1945 to 6.5 million.

The Cats of a Puzzle

PAW PAW (AP) — The case of 13 yowling cats came up before the Paw Paw Board of Trustees and finally was tossed to the police committee to handle. A woman resident complained the cats were whining in her neighborhood "at all hours of the night," sleeping on top of cars, destroying gardens and menacing children. A committee will determine whether cats come under the village dog ordinance.

Hollywood Headlines

Scene Stealers Team Up in 'All Our Yesterdays'

By DOROTHY MANNERS
For Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—What a pair of fine old scene-stealers get together when Barbara Stanwyck reports to MGM in November to co-star with James Cagney in "All Our Yesterdays!"

Although these two were Warner Brothers stars at the same time, I don't recall they ever made a picture together.

In the Ralph Wheelwright original, Barbara plays the head of an orphanage, a highly sympathetic role for that Stanwyck gal who specializes in meanies.

Jules Schermer produces and the director is John Sturges.

Doris Day's next at MGM is with Howard Keel in "The Opposite Sex," about a group of gay divorcees in Reno (if they are so gay.) This story by Fay and Michael Kanin was first announced for Esther Williams. But the Swim Queen's new deal with MGM is for just three pictures in five years—and this won't be one.

With Doris' career at it's peak following her big hit in "Love Me or Leave Me," MGM is taking great care with her material.

She and Keel should make beautiful music together in the Joe Pasternak production scheduled for late November.

Those international lovers Zsa Zsa Gabor and Porfirio Rubirosa, who have been having a social fling in Cannes and the other gay spots in Europe, will be torn asunder when Zsa Zsa flies to New York tomorrow.

She'll spend ten days with her mother. These two must have patched up the tiff they had at the time mama gave out her opinion that there would be no marriage between her glamorous daughter and Rubi.

Then it's Hollywood for Zsa Zsa where she'll polish up a new nightclub act for Las Vegas.

A special "invite" has gone to Clara Bow in Reno asking her to be one of the guests of honor at the party at Frascati's on Aug. 23 which will bring together the old—and new—Wampas baby stars. Jack Cummings, Jim Henaghan and Ginger Rogers sent the telegram to Clara, the original "It" girl.

Other former Wampas babies who are invited are Laura La Plante, Sue Carol Ladd and Mary Brian.

Getting elected to the Wampas was, at one time, one of the biggest honors the Hollywood press agents could bestow on promising young actresses and its lists include me of the brightest stars of filmdom.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Susan Hayward and Don "Red" Barry a newsome at the captain's table.

Debbie Reynolds (who else?) gave Eddie Fisher a small but very nice birthday party Wednesday night.

Vivian Blaine, and others in the "Guys and Dolls" show at the Royal Nevada in Las Vegas, got a big kick out of Marlon Brando sitting ringside at the first performance. Vivian was a show-stopper——so was Marlon.

Gary Crosby and Sammy Davis Jr. have "cut" a record. This one I want to get.

That's all today.

Boy Scouts Walk Away From Bad Bus Accident

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—A chartered bus loaded with 29 Boy Scouts from Abilene, Tex., overturned yesterday and slid down an embankment into the Pecos River near Terrerro. It rolled over 1½ times, landing with wheels in the air in a shallow inlet.

State policeman Jim Clayton said neither the scouts nor the adults with them were injured. "I couldn't even find a scratched nose," he said.

Indian bird lovers, before white settlers came to America, attracted martins to their tepees by attaching hollow gourd nesting boxes to tent poles.

Girl Stowaway, 16, to Fly Back to Hilo

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's back to Hawaii for Jocelyn Joan Pilapil, 16, probably the only girl who ever made the trip here in a Canadian destroyer.

She pleaded guilty yesterday in federal court to a charge of juvenile delinquency. She was given five years probation — and orders to go back to her parents in Hilo.

* * *

The U.S. marshal's office said the government would fly Jocelyn to Hawaii in a Navy transport today or tomorrow, so it won't cost her parents anything. Her trip here on the destroyer Athabaskan —on which she admitted stowing away—probably won't cost anything either.

"The commanding officer was happy enough just to see her leave the ship," said a spokesman for the U.S. Attorney's office.

Tokyo has a population of eight million, city officials say.

Mysterious Black Bugs Rout Family From Home

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) — Kenneth W. Troutman had to move out of his house last night after an "invading army of thin, black bugs" literally had the place crawling.

Troutman, who called police, said the unidentified bugs, "thousands and thousands of them," came up out of the ground after a rain and covered his house.

Unable to wash them off with a garden hose, Troutman took his family and moved in with a neighbor.

Police were unable to identify or get rid of the bugs.

About 5,000 Americans drown every year.

Bonanzagram No. 23

Story Clues

Mr. and Mrs. Mallard had been doing some traveling in the west, and also been much occupied in furnishing a new home. They suddenly realized that they had not heard from their young son, attending a large boarding school in the East, for almost a month, so they sent off a chiding telegram, asking that he write them air mail immediately. The youth, who had been busy with his own concerns, athletic and otherwise, noted it was April First and decided it was time for a spoof. He wrote them in cryptic terms, leaving many of the words incomplete. He knew it would amuse them to figure out what news he had for them. The parents were able to fill in and understand the letter. Can you, too, decipher what the young jokester wrote?

How to Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit

1. After solution is empleted, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, Aug. 16 for Bonanzagram No. 23. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p.m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." This letter must reach the Press not later than 5 p.m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

City Post Office Speeds Postal Savings Payments

The Pontiac Post Office is among those in 215 U. S. cities which will employ new methods of faster payments to widows, families and estates of deceased postal savings depositors, according to Leslie H. Dean, acting postmaster.

The new process was announced yesterday by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

In the past, request for payment in all cases were made through the post office in which deposits had been made—back to the division of postal savings in Washington.

The new procedure, which eliminates referring the matter back to Washington, saves two weeks time, as the post office which handles the deposit can make the payment directly to the representative of the estate.

The experimental use of the program in 11 cities including Detroit, proved so successful the department announced recently that it planned to extend the service to other major offices that have the staff and facilities to handle the claims, Summerfield said.

Generally speaking, these are post offices which have annual receipts of $1,000,000 or more, he pointed out.

However, it was emphasized that executors or administrators of the estates must have been appointed in the state where the post office of deposit is located before they are eligible to receive payment.

N'Orleans Jazz Becoming a Forgotten Art

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — The echoes of New Orleans jazz still blow loud and unrefined here in their smoky birthplace; but the tones are not as pure as they once were, and the beat is not as sure.

* * *

That's because — ask anybody on Bourbon street or South Rampart — the saints of jazz have gone marchin' out. They have left New Orleans for a better life.

Most of the real old masters are dead and buried. Buried to the blaring, wailing wake music that was the first solid jazz.

Most of the living "saints" have migrated north. To Chicago and New York where the money is fater and the tone of a musician's skin isn't as important as the tone of his trumpet.

"Funny, but the purest jazz bands down in N'Orleans now are white boys," says an officer in the local jazz club, "and they do a good job of imitating the pure jazz — but it's phony.

"The thing is dying as far as the colored fellows are concerned. They're all students of music now, and they play progressive jazz or Chicago-style jazz, which is a lot different. I guess they think it's more commercial because the critics go wild for discord.

"We think it's a shame!"

The spokesman is Dr. Edmond Souchon, a medico who helped organize the "New Orleans Jazz Club" back in 1948 in an attempt to return jazz artistry to the city. He says it's been hard, because New Orleans is "the toughest place in the world to sell jazz to the people. It's a commodity they've heard all their lives on the streets and taken for granted. They don't believe in paying for it.

The result is that a musician is "doin' right well" to make $75 a week here. Whereas up north a good New Orleans man is appreciated.

"So we lost most of 'em," Dr. Souchon goes on, wistfully mentioning names like Jerry Roll Martin, King Oliver, Irving Fazola.

"And most of 'em, when they do go north, lose some of the feel for New Orleans, and start playin' very commercial stuff. I don't blame anybody for blowin' his horn the way it'll make the most money . . . but don't call it New Orleans jazz."

* * *

Souchon mentioned one of the most famous Louisiana alumni, the Hon. Louis Armstrong (they pronounce it "Lewis" here, instead of "Looie"): "He was fine in his old days down here, and sometimes he shows great flashes of what he used to be. But . . ."

START UNKNOWN

Nobody knows exactly when jazz started but it was sometime around 75 years ago that it was first noticed. Negro house servants used to listen to salon music played by their masters' guests and with whatever instruments they could steal, buy or invent—try to imitate it.

But their beat would not be restrained to parlor tempos, and their inherent quest for freedom found an 'outlet in their exalted horns and banjos. And then, when the dark-skinned musicians began to play their exciting form of music on the way to and from the cemeteries where they buried their loved ones, the extemporaneous bands developed a decided marching beat.

It's that strong, solid beat that sets New Orleans jazz apart from the Chicago and New York variations which were born after New Orleans musicians gradually began wandering up the Mississippi river, blasting their music for all who would listen.

You don't hear that beat much anymore, except at the Negro funerals," the local lovers of the art from say. "Maybe a dozen times a year now, there's a Negro funeral that's celebrated with high pomp and pure jazz. Somehow or other, the word gets whispered around town and the whites who love spectacles turn out.

* * *

"When they walk away from the the burial ground playing 'When the Saints Come Marchin' in,' you know you're not listening to souped-up Mickey Mouse music — you're listening to great art!"

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Outrigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices in all models—and, finally, the great scientific, technical and engineering resources of General Motors.

The new Chevrolet has proved itself all K-I-N-G in today's toughest driving competition!

Starting at Daytona Beach last winter, the new Chevrolet swept aside all competition in its class in acceleration tests.

It lambasted every car in its field and all but one of the high-priced cars down there on the fast, furious frontier of NASCAR*-sponsored trials.

And since then what's happened: The latest figures on hand show that so far Chevrolet has piled up a total of 196 points in NASCAR Short Track Standings—which puts Chevrolet in FIRST PLACE with a commanding lead of 99 points over its nearest rival! And that rival is a medium-priced car!

What makes Chevrolet such a winner on the tracks? Faster acceleration, for one. Superior handling qualities, too—sure, steady cornering; quick, accurate steering; and smooth, positive braking. And these very same things clearly mean more safety and pleasure for you on the modern frontiers of our nation—our highways!

Legion 2nd Half Title Race Looms as Two-Team Battle

AMERICAN LEGION BASEBALL

H.V. Boys Club	5	1	Berkley	2	3
Birmingham	5	2	Rochester	2	4
Waterford	3	3	Clawson	1	5

Second-half title chase in the American Legion's 18th District Baseball League shapes up as a two-team affair following Wednesday's interesting results.

* * *

Huron Valley Boys Club, current leader, removed Waterford as a contender with a 7-3 victory over the 1st-round winner. Dave Gaddis hurled a neat four-hitter for Boys' Club while his mates were banging out 10 hits off Waterford's Jerry Kruskie. Gaddis fanned eight batters as Boys Club recorded its 5th win in six starts.

Birmingham stayed right on the heels of the pace-setters by disposing of Clawson, 5-4, in eight innings. Danny Cornila's bases-loaded double in the 1st overtime frame tallied two runs to wrap up the contest.

The pesky Clawson team rallied in its 8th on a home run by pitcher Tom Raines and a follow-up single and stolen base placed the tying marker on 2nd, but there the effort died. Don Picmann, Bob Isbell, and Terry O'Conner pitched for Birmingham, which at one time blew a three-run lead, with O'Conner getting the win.

* * *

Berkley edged Rochester's club, 3-2, in Wednesday's other game. The losers outhit Berkley, 9 to 3, but collapsed defensively for five errors in the 2nd and 3rd innings when Berkley scored all of its runs. Bill Henderson hurled the distance for Rochester and faced only 13 hitters in the last four innings, but the damage was done. The losers collected six hits from the 4th through the 7th, but couldn't score.

A full schedule of games is carded for Sunday and two more are listed today as the American Legion season nears its end. Birmingham, trailing Boys Club by a slim half-game, journeys to Berkley today, then meets the same team Sunday at home. Rochester entertains Clawson today and tangles with Boys Club at Milford in a Sunday doubleheader. Last-place Clawson faces Waterford Sunday at Waterford.

Jets Smother Realty 9, Cut Class A Knot

Four-Run 4th Inning Clinches Victory in 3rd Game, 11-1

It was a long time coming, but when it did—it happened in a big way.

Don Nicholie Real Estate and L. C. Anderson Jets met for the 3rd straight time Thursday night at Wisner Field in their 2nd round game of the Class A City Baseball League playoffs. In two prevous outings they fought to 1-1 and 2-2 deadlocks spanning 15 innings.

Last night the Jets halted the "merry-go-round" in no uncertain terms, They routed starting pitcher Dick Womack in the 1st inning and handed out equally rude treatment to successors Albie Roman and Dick Lewis to rack up an 11-1 victory over the Realty club.

Jets rapped 14 hits off the Don Nicholie trio with six members of the lineup each collecting two blows. In the meantime, pitcher Warren Hagyard was dishing out a measly four hits. A triple by Lewis and Jack Cole's single notched Don Nicholie's lone run off Hagyard in the 6th frame after the Jets had established a 6-0 lead.

Womack departed in the initial stanza after a streak of wildness resulted in a run. Two walks, a hit batsman, a fielder's choice and a single by Eugene Cox scored once and brought Roman on the scene. Singles by Roy Beasly, Fletcher Davis, Judge Booker and Toney Lothery, a lusty triple by Lou Seay, and two errors scored four times in the 4th.

* * *

Lewis relieved Roman in the 5th after Seay blasted his 2nd three-bagger to send home Beasly, aboard with a single. Jets assaulted Lewis for five runs in the 6th on singles by Cox, Booker, Colle Hunt, and Bill Johnson, plus a brace of walks. Then the Jets decided to rest on their laurels.

Class A playoffs will resume Monday night at Wisner. Don Nicholie will clash with the Auburn Merchants at 5:30 p.m. in the 3rd round of the double elimination tournament.

'Bow Golf' Given Whirl by Archers

Use Arrows in Place of Balls; Coast Star National Titlist

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Golf, to be played with bows and arrows instead of clubs and balls, was on tap today for the 71st National Archery Assn. tournament at Miami University.

The fun follows yesterday's serious title competition in which archery's major championship, the target title, was decided.

* * *

Joe Fries, 36 bowmaker from Los Angeles, annexed the men's crown with steady shooting. Mrs. Ann Clark of Cincinnati, in her first national competition, grabbed the women's No. 1 spot. Richard Carlson, 16, of Sacramento, Calif., repeated his 1954 victory in the junior boys division. Nancy Breneman, whose toughest competition came from her 17-year-old twin sister, Dorothy, grabbed the junior girls title. The Breneman girls are from Columbus, Ohio.

Talent-Loaded Stars in Underdog Role

CHICAGO (AP) — Tonight's the night a bunch of college boys try to beat the football pros at their own game.

The College All-Stars, made up of 49 of the top players of the 1954 college season, tackle the Cleveland Browns in the Chicago Tribune Charities' 22nd annual All-Star game.

* * *

The contest starting at 8:30 p.m. (EST) at Soldier Field will be televised over the ABC network and broadcast over the Mutual radio hookup.

* * *

The game will be played under the professional rules allowing free substitutions. Last year the All-Stars were defeated by the Detroit Lions, 31-6, playing under their own limited substitution rules.

* * *

But the main difference from previous All-Star contests is that the current All-Stars have been coached in the wide-open, passing, pro style of play by four experts in the field. In other years this chore was performed by a staff of college coaches.

The current staff is led by Curly Lambeau of Green Bay Packer fame, assisted by Hunk Anderson, Steve Owen and Hamp Pool, all veterans of the pro football wars.

They have hand-picked their own squad, and the word is out that they have whipped it into a formidable aggregation for the big test against the National Football League champions.

* * *

The college squad is shot through with talent—quarterbacks Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, Paul Larson of California, George Shaw of Oregon and Dave Leggett of Ohio State; ball-carriers Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State and Dick Bielski of Maryland, and linemen Max Boydston of Oklahoma, Dick Syzmanski of Notre Dame and Bud Brooks of Arkansas.

* * *

Cleveland, however, remains a two touchdown favorite, despite the loss of their great quarterback, Otto Graham, who retired at the end of last season. But Graham's loss is not expected to be sorely felt as Coach Paul Brown has a more than capable replacement in the veteran George Ratterman.

Clear and pleasant weather was forecast for the game.

* * *

The proceeds—expected to reach $400,000 including TV and radio reimbursement—will go to United Charities, Catholic Charities and Jewish Federated Charities of Chicago. Some 75,000 fans are expected to attend.

HIGH AND WIDE — Yankees shortstop Phil Rizzuto, 10, is pulled off the bag, top photo, by 2nd baseman Gil McDougald's throw in 7th inning of Yankee-Red Sox game at Yankee Stadium yesterday. Billy Goodman, Boston 2nd baseman, slides in safely, upsetting Rizzuto who couldn't grab the throw. McDougald's error prevented possible double play on Ted Williams' grounder and Goodman later scored. Yanks won, 5-3.

Ted Calls His 2,000th Hit 'Cheapest' of the Season

NEW YORK (AP)—"Wow, what a smash that was. The cheapest hit I've made all year!"

That was Ted Williams' immediate reaction to his 2,000th major league hit Thursday when he realized the first of his three remaining goals before he lays his bat away for good.

* * *

As can be surmised, the fearsome Boston Red Sox slugger wasn't overly proud of the safety that placed him in the exclusive 2,000-hit club. There are 96 other members of the club, three of them active. The hit, a first inning single off Bob Turley, was a high fly that fell untouched in short left center as shortstop Phil Rizzuto, left fielder Elston Howard and center fielder Mickey Mantle all converged on but failed to reach.

* * *

Williams got his 2,001st hit in the fifth and he undoubtedly would like to exchange it for the first inning "bleeder." This one was a ground rule double into the right-field stands that came off Ted's bat as if it were shot out of a cannon.

Despite Williams' two hits, the New York Yankees overcame the Red Sox 5-3 to capture the rubber of the three-game set and send the visitors back to Boston in fourth place.

Williams, the perfectionist, bowed his head in embarrassment and kept his gaze on the ground as Umpire Ed Rommell stopped the game and rolled the baseball, on which Williams made his 2,000th hit, into the Red Sox dugout for safe-keeping. Ted shuffled nervously at first base when the fact was announced to the 24,254 fans present via the public address system. As his wont, The Thumper did not tip his cap in acknowledgment of the crowd's thunderous ovation.

Rivalry Blooms in AAU Test

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A heated international rivalry that began in last spring's Pan-American Games highlights today's session of the 4-day Women's National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

The meet got off to a good start last night with Carolyn Green of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winning her fourth successive national 1,500-meter freestyle championship, despite a physical handicap, and with Mary Ann Marchino, of the Indianapolis Athletic Club, setting a new junior national record in the 100-meter backstroke.

* * *

But all attention today is focused on 14-year-old Wanda Werner of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D.C., who will try to turn the tables on her Pan-American Games conqueror, Helen Stewart of Montreal, Canada. Last March in Mexico City the two sprinted to the finish line of the 100-meter freestyle in identical 1:07.7 times with Miss Stewart declared the winner by a scant touch. Joy Alderson of Chicago who won the event last year, is not defending.

Three other titles will be on the line today and tonight in swim meet being conducted in Fairmount Park's John B. Kelly Olympic pool.

* * *

Pat McCormick, California mermaid, defends the first of her trio of diving titles—the platform dive—and Marie Gillet of the Walter Reed team seeks to repeat her 1954 win in the 400-meter individual medley. The 200-meter backstroke crown will be up for grabs since last year's winner, Barbara Stark, isn't back to defend.

Miss Green, a 21-year-old University of Miami junior, won the 1,500-meter event in 21:15.4, good time considering that she labored under a bad sinus attack.

Miss Marchino's record-breaking time for the 100-meter backstroke was 1:17.1.

Bicmar Grabs Finals Spot on Victory Over Riteway

Bicmar Inn advanced to the championship finals in the Class B City Softball League playoffs with a 6-2 victory over Riteway Softwater Thursday night at Beaudette Park. Bicmar will clash with General Motors for the crown.

John Helisik continued his sparkling mound work in the post-season tourney as he eliminated the Riteway club with a 4-hit performance. The Bicmar hurler posted eight strikeouts while issuing two passes. Riteway's two runs were unearned.

Bicmar broke a 2-all tie in the 6th with a pair of runs and sewed up the game in the 7th when Jack Ganzel's big bat again loomed into the picture. Ganzel clouted a home run with Jerry Ganzel aboard to put the contest on the shelf.

Franklin Products trounced Louie's Tavern, 7-3, in the nightcap at Beaudette. Game concluded the National loop's regular season schedule with Louie's already the established champion. Cal Bidwell hurled a 4-hitter for the winners and Dick Ramsey chipped in with a 3rd-inning homer.

Shaw's Jewelers grabbed 2nd place in the girls' circuit by nosing out Avondale, 8-7, in a thriller at North Side Park. The two squads ended the 7th in a 5-5 tie, forcing the tilt into extra innings.

Archie Tests a New Punch in Secret Drill

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—Archie Moore, who will try to lift Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship Sept. 20 in New York, has taken his first secret boxing workout at his Berkshire camp.

* * *

Moore went into the ring behind closed gates Thursday. After the session Trainer "Cheerful" Norman reported:

* * *

"Archie wanted to try out certain punches and a number of defensive moves, which he didn't want anyone to see. He didn't stand up and spar, it was really what you may call a schooling session. We plan to do this about once a week. Archie can learn more this way offensively and defensively than in a boxing session."

Early to Bed Is Rule for Detroit Lions

YPSILANTI (AP) — Early to bed or early to rise is the ultimatum coach Buddy Parker has given his Detroit Lions football squad.

To show he wasn't fooling, Parker sent a group through a special practice yesterday morning for violating curfew. Rest of the squad had the time off.

"If they want to go dancing, they have to pay the fiddler," Parker said.

Among those paying the fiddler were Doak Walker and Bobby Layne.

Sylvan, Dick-Wes Post Playoff Wins

A pair of four-hit shutouts were recorded Thursday night at Drayton Plains as the Waterford League softball playoffs got under way.

Sylvan Center surprised Gidley Electric, 4-0, behind Ray Conley's whitewash chore. Wayne O'Shaughnessy sparked Sylvan offensively with a double and single in three attempts, plus scoring half of his team's runs.

Dick & Wes blanked Richardson Dairy, 2-0, with Fred Konchis administering the brush. It was some degree of vengeance for the Sporting Goods nine, since the Dairy club was initially responsible for knocking them out of 2nd place.

Playoffs will not continue until Tuesday, August 23, because of the Class B district softball tourney at Drayton from August 18-22.

Saratoga Holds Knight's Night

Yearling Sales Close Tonight; $43,000 Top in Wednesday Deals

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) —This'll be Knight night as the Saratoga yearling sales wind up a week stand with 43 horses from Henry H. Knight's Almahurst Farm of Lexington, Ky., slated to be sold.

* * *

Knight's night usually tops the sales but it'll have to be high to exceed Thursday night's sale when 49 yearlings were knocked down for $488,500. The average of $12,010 was the highest of the week.

* * *

Eleanor R. Sears, Boston sportswoman who figured prominently in last year's auction, paid the largest price. She bid in an imported son of Nearco from the consignment of Larry MacPhail's Glenangus farm for $43,000.

* * *

The 21 colts offered by MacPhail sold for an average of slightly more than $11,000, about $2,000 more than his 12 fillies brought on Wednesday night.

New Mile Mark May Be Made in Race Today

Four of World's Top Milers Clash in Test at London Meet

LONDON (AP)—Four of the world's fastest milers clash tonight in a race that could produce a new record or perhaps be just another mile.

The occasion is the Hungary-Britain track and field meet.

* * *

The mile is scheduled for 6:45 p.m. (1:45 p.m. EST) and a crowd of 40,000 or so should be on hand for the first day's event in the meet which ends tomorrow.

Here are the four starters in the mile:

Chris Chataway of Britain, world 3-mile record breaker and a 3:59.8 miler.

* * *

Ken Wood of Britain, a 4:01.6 miler who broke the world 2-mile mark by six seconds here May 30 but finished second to:

Hungary's Sandor Iharos, holder of international standards for two miles, 3,000 meters and 5,000 meters.

Laszlo Tabori of Hungary, who was clocked in 3:59 in a recent race in London in which the first three runners beat four minutes.

Chataway was second and Brian Hewson of Britain third, both in 3:59.8.

Chataway has predicted one of the four will better John Landy's 3:58 record. The Englishman is a great competitor and should the early pace be slowed down, he possesses a finishing kick that should be hard to fight off.

* * *

Iharos, an army lieutenant, recently turned in 3:40.8 for 1,500 meters (metric mile) to cut one second off the listed record established by Landy. Tabori ran 1,500 meters last week in Warsaw in 3:41.6 and is in excellent condition.

There's a possibility both countries may juggle their starting lineup. Hungary already has changed once, substituting Tabori for Istvan Rozsavolgi, a fast half miler who has done 1,500 meters in 3:42. Britain may throw in Hewsom for Wood at the last minute but it is doubtful.

* * *

With four top class runners maneuvering for points, the race could well be a slow one. Then again, if the weather proved unpleasant—and it can in London—fast times would be out of question.

Harry Gilmer Gets His Chance to Show Worth as Offensive Player, in Lions' Plans for 1955

YPSILANTI (AP)—Harry Gilmer, a tarnished golden boy, is getting his chance to shine with the Detroit Lions.

* * *

The former Alabama passing star has been named Detroit's No. 2 quarterback, under Bobby Layne. He takes over for Tom Dublinski, who made the headlines by jumping to Canada.

This is just the chance Gilmer has been yearning for ever since he came to the National Football League in 1948—a fateful year for him.

Gilmer was the bonus draft choice of the Washington Redskins, which meant they considered him the finest collegiate player in the nation. This was an opinion shared by many.

* * *

The ghought was to groom Gilmer to take over for the aging Sammy Baugh, winding up a brilliant career.

But before Gilmer ever had a chance to strut his stuff, he suffered a severe muscle injury in his leg and was out for the season.

* * *

"I couldn't play a minute," Gilmer recalled in his room at the Lions training base here, "but instead of sending me home, they made me sit on the bench all season. And in civilian clothes, too. I even made all the rrad trips on crutches.

"So when the next season rolled around, they didn't ook upon me as a rookie at all," he continued. "I had a poor season that year and I guess I've never caught up."

* * *

Later, the Redskins, in a move to insert fresh faces into a dreary picture, made Eddie LeBaron their big attraction, and relegated Gilmer to chore of defensive halfback. He's been playing the position ever since.

Now, though, the Lions have entirely different plans for the 29-year-old veteran.

"He'll see action," said coach Buddy Parker, "juwt how much will depend on how much he shows us. So far he's looked real good."

Parker has four offensive quarterbacks in camp—Layne, Gilmer, Paul Held, re-acquired from the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Duncan McDonald, a rookie from Michigan.

The fact that Gilmer was designated as No. 2 isn't too much of a surprise—but he's as tickled as a kid at Christmas by the move.

"I'm finally doing what I came to do," he said. "I'm not sour against the Redskins — they paid me every Monday morning for seven years. But offensive quarterback is my position."

Increased Hazards

OCSC's Shelley Tells of Forest Fire Conditions in Northern Ontario Area

By HOWARD SHELLEY

Forest fire hazards in the Ontario bush country have been much greater this year than at any time in the past decade or so. The extremely early spring with below normal rainfall, and one of the dryest summers old timers could recall, have accounted for an outbreak of fires over the entire Province of Ontario. The fires have certainly tested the ability of "bush country fire fighters."

SHELLEY

In many years of visiting in Ontario we have never found conditions so hazardous as on the recent jaunt into the northern Algoma area, (245 miles up the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railroad) directly north of Sault Ste, Marie.

Leaving the train at Oba, we traveled 18 miles by boat down the Oba river to Dick Watson's Pine Portage Camp on Kabinakagami Lake, (lake of many bays), it was there that we became acquainted with fire conditions that have proved so troublesome this summer.

Sporadic rainfall was inadequate to place on the forest floor the normal amount of moisture needed to safeguard against fire. Thus, the entire region, consisting of vast stands of spruce, balsam, and Norway, as well as poplar and aspen was a veritable tinder box.

* * *

Under those conditions the careless camper, woods traveler or fisherman may easily leave an infamous mark in the timber-producing northland by carelessly tossing aside a cigaret, a burning match, or the supposedly dead ashes from his pipe. This can be quite dangerous, as the bush fire fighters have been finding out.

* * *

Several items of unusual interest were encountered during our brief sojourn there—in a land that is just as primitive today as it was 50 or 100 years ago. Naturally it is noted for its outstanding fishing and big game hunting.

It is amazing to see how well equipped, and how efficient and maneuverable the Ontario bush country fire fighter has become. Natives are schooled in methods of fire prevention from an early stage in life.

The native knows the forest is his means of livelihood. Through one medium or another, it accounts for fish in the lakes, game in the woods, and harvestable timber.

He is cautious from the moment he arises early in the morning, until he retires at night.

Mid-way during our stay word came from the chief fire warden at Kapuskasing, 100 miles northeast, that all travel permits were cancelled immediately. That meant no more shore dinners of fresh fried fish. No fires of any kind were to be built anywhere. They even considered asking all tourists to leave that particular area.

Then days prior to our arrival a small fire had broken out on a point of land in the lake. However it was brought under control after only a few acres were burned. Firefighters were rushed in by pontoon equipped planes and with their effective portable pumps soon had the charred woodland wetted down.

(Another installment of this story will appear shortly).

Tribe, Chisox, Yanks Regain Old Look in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League race had its old look today, with Cleveland, Chicago and New York scraping for the pennant while Boston and Detroit, who gave it a nice try, slipped into the background.

* * *

And if Al Lopez and Casey Stengel finally have things going for them again, as it appears, Chicago may not be long for this world either.

The Indians held their two-point spread by whipping Detroit, 3-2, yesterday while second place Chicago pounded Kansas City, 14-1, and third place New York, another three points behind, disposed of Boston, 5-3.

By dropping the three-game set at Yankee Stadium, 2-1, the Red Sox tumbled three games behind. The Tigers, shut out in three at Cleveland, skidded eight games back.

It was the method of operation that held the secret for the Tribe and the Yankees.

Manager Lopez, who got a pinch single from Hoot Evers when he replaced the injured Larry Doby Wednesday night, started him against the Tigers yesterday and the ex-Detroit hope smacked a three-run homer off Billy Hoeft in the sixth. That made it the second straight come-from-behind morale booster for Lopez Injuns.

* * *

Stengel had himself his first series victory since July 1-3. Ol' Case juggled the batting order, one of his better accomplishments, and came up with a bunch who swatted on cue and rapped three extra base blows—two of them triples. It was all over in two frames as the Yanks went off to a 4-0 lead against rookie Frank Baumann, a gambling starting choice by Bosox boss Pinky Higgins.

Bob Turley won his 13th, but not without trouble. He left in the ninth when Billy Klaus opened with a double and Stengel pulled his ace in the hole.

* * *

Southpaw Tommy Byrne, Casey's surprise stopper this season but "overlooked" as a starter in the series, ambled out for what was only his third relief bit. First, he knocked off Ted Williams (who earlier finally got his 2,000th hit) on a ground ball. Next, he got Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus.

And then he sent a called third strike past Norm Zauchin.

The White Sox won without much shenanigans. They broke out for 16 hits and rapped loser Vic Raschi and reliefer Cloyd Boyer for seven extra-base blows in support of Connie Johnson. Jim Rivera drove in five runs with two triples and a double.

Those were the only games scheduled in the AL.

Half the National League also took a rest, with Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh idle.

At Milwaukee, however, St. Louis righthander Willard Schmidt had a real workout, limiting the Braves to just one hit to win the nightcap, 4-0, as the Cards swept a doubleheader. Milwaukee, beaten 7-1 in the opener on three unearned runs in the first, now trails Brooklyn by 16 games.

The only hit off Schmidt was Johnny Logan's leadoff single in the seventh. Stan Musial and Solly Hemus homered for the Cards.

Cincinnati used an unearned run in the 11th to beat Chicago 6-5, despite a 39th home run by Cub shortstop Ernie Banks that gave him the major league lead.

Aussies, Italy Battle for Right to Meet U.S. Squad

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mighty Australia and Italy, a one-time tennis stepchild, tangled today in the Davis Cup interzone finals for the right to challenge the defending champion U.S. team for the coveted mug.

Aussie Captain Harry Hopman hauled Lew Hoad out of mothballs and assigned him one of the singles spots as a token of his respect for the Italians. Hoad, a muscular blond who helped Australia whip the United States twice in the Challenge Round, was scheduled to face Fausto Gardini in the first match at the Germantown Cricket Club starting at 1 p.m. (EST).

The second singles sent Ken Rosewall against Nicola Pietrangeli. The doubles, scheduled for tomorrow, will pair Hoad and Rex Hartwig against Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola. The final two singles matches of the best-of-five series, reversing the first day's order, will be played Sunday. The Challenge Round is scheduled for Forest Hills, Aug. 26-27-28.

* * *

Although Hopman, the long-time leader of the Australian cuppers, never would admit it, there was talk all over the tennis circuit that Hoad, a cannonball artist, was sulking because his bride was sent back to Australia a couple of weeks ago.

AT HOME—Al Lopez, left, welcomes Sal Maglie, 38, to Cleveland's Home for the Baseball Aged.

Ex-Tiger Infielder Succumbs at 59

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — H. S. (Bert) Ellison, once a Detroit Tiger infielder and later manager of the San Francisco Seals, died yesterday at 59.

* * *

A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, Ellison played 3rd base and shortstop for Detroit until he was sold to the Pacific Coast League club in 1921. He managed the Seals for three years, winning the league pennant in 1923 and 1925.

The physician diagnosed his son's illness as polio and brought him to the hospital.

Big Demand for 'M' Football Tickets

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Football ticket requests are running 10 per cent above last year at the University of Michigan.

This was reported Thursday by ticket manager Don Wier. He credited an attractive seven-game home schedule and the fact Michigan is rated as a contender for the Big Ten title.

The 97,239-capacity Michigan stadium was filled only once last year, for the Michigan-Michigan State game. The two meet at Ann Arbor again this year.

State Plans to Test Fish Growth Theory

LANSING (AP) — Two separate fish improvement experimentation programs have been reported by the State Conservation Department.

The department said Minnewanna lake in the Metamora Recreation Area was treated with chemical weed killer last week to check the theory that water weeds in small lakes harbor so many little fish that they don't grow properly.

The department said stunted fish are a common problem in many Michigan lakes because panfish produce young in such terrific numbers each year.

Growth changes in the fish in Minnewanna lake will be studied for several years in the experiment.

A plan to remove rough fish this week from 20 miles of Ford River in Dickinson County also was announced.

Haygood and Faulkner, sons-in-law of Mrs. Ford, are visiting from their homes in Tyler, Texas.

Evers 3-Run Blast Sinks Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Their own pennant hopes smashed to pieces—very, very small pieces—it appears the only consolation left for the Detroit Tigers is a chance to play the roll of "spoilers" in the remaining weeks of the American League pennant chase.

They will get an opportunity to start knocking down the favorites tonight when they return home to open a there-game series with the Chicago White Sox in Briggs stadium.

The Tigers expect a crowd of more than 35,000 to watch Steve Gromek (11-6) dual with Chicago's Virgil Trucks (10-6).

Tigers are eight games behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians, virtually their game standing when they opened a 19-game road trip July 27. Only difference is that New York was in 1st place then, with Detroit 7½ games off the pace.

If the Tigers were to be considered serious pennant contenders, they had to win on the road. They didn't. They had a 9-10 record, messing up a good trip by blowing the final three games in Cleveland.

Last two losses were particularly bitter for the Tigers. Ralph Kiner beat them with a grand-slam homer in the 9th inning Wednesday. Then, yesterday, Hoot Evers, an ex-Tiger, slammed a three-run homer to give the Indians a 3-1 victory.

So in two weeks on the road all the Tigers did was slip a half game further off the pace. They come back home with a 59-53 record. It's not good enough for a spot in the 1st division but, yet, it's their best mark in four years.

Billy Hoeft had a 1-0 shutout going into the bottom of the 6th inning yesterday.

With one away, Al Rosen walked and Vic Wertz hit a wind-blown double to center. Evers, playing in place of the injured Larry Doby, then socked the ball into the left field seats—and that was that.

Tigers got only one more hit through the final three innings—a meaningless two-out single by Al Kaline in the 8th—as Early Wynn stopped them for his 14th victory against seven losses.

For Hoeft, it was his 6th setback against 11 wins.

Tigers had taken a 1-0 lead in the 3rd inning on a trio of singles by Harvey Kuenn, Bill Tuttle and Kaline. But that's the last time Wynn let them see home plate, except when they stepped up to bat.

Twin Bill at Drayton

A softball double-header featuring Waterford Junior and Little Leaguers will be played tonight at Drayton Plains ball park. Fillmore Hardware meets Drayton Drug in a Junior League scrap at 6:30 p.m., followed at 8 p.m. by a Little League tiff between Waterford Village and Union Lake Lumber.

Rams Sign Ex-Buck Place-Kicker Weed

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — Tad Weed, former Ohio State University place-kicking specialist, has been signed by the Los Angeles Rams and will report Saturday. He was signed Thursday at the Evanston, Ill., camp of the College All-Stars, who meet the Cleveland Browns in Chicago tonight. Weed weighs only 145 pounds and is 5-5, but he converted 60 of 71 points after touchdown in three years for the Buckeyes.

Castoffs Bring Cheers

Pair of Old-Timers Put Tribe Back in AL Race

CLEVELAND (AP) — The fans moaned every time the Cleveland Indians signed up another aging castoff—but they cheered this week as two of the oldtimers got off the bench and delivered clutch home runs to put the Indians back in the American League lead.

Hoot Evers, 34-year-old outfielder acquired from the Baltimore Orioles, smacked a three-run homer Thursday to give the Indians a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers, and a sweep of the three game series.

* * *

The night before, Ralph Kiner, 32-year-old former National League home run king, clouted a grand slammer in the last of the ninth for a 6-4 win.

Ex-Oriole and ex-New York Yankee Gene Woodling, who will be 33 next Tuesday, smacked five hits in the series. He has now hit safely in his last nine games, and has boosted his average 13 points to .260 since July 31.

* * *

Ferris Fain, cast off by the Tigers at 33 because he had a game leg, played errorless ball for Cleveland at first base, relieving Vic Wertz in the late innings.

Cleveland sends another veteran back into action today against Kansas City—pitcher. Bob Lemon who has been laid up with a pulled leg muscle for several weeks.

Manager Al Lopez is counting on his collection of veterans, rookie fireballer Herb Score, and two fine young relief hurlers, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski, to finish strong and keep the pennant in Cleveland.

* * *

Indian fans are starting to believe it was smart to sign up Sal Maglie, the 38-year-old pitcher picked up from the New York Giants a few weeks ago. He hasn't come through—yet.

Brough, Hart Make U.S. International Favorites

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Two players who never have lost a Wightman Cup singles match and two doubles combinations who have dominated world tennis for many years make the U. S. women strong favorites to defeat England's best in the international series tomorrow and Sunday.

* * *

The United States had won the cup the last 18 times and hold a 22-4 margin in the series dating back to 1923.

Wimbledon champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and U. S. titlist Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., are the two Americans who never have bowed in the cup singles competition.

Miss Brough will be after her eighth victory when she meets Shirley Bloomer in the opening singles match. Miss Hart, winner of 12 straight Wightman singles, tangles with Angela Mortimer. Sunday they change opponents.

* * *

Miss Hart and Shirely Fry of Akron, Ohio, the world's No. 1 doubles combination, take on Miss Mortimer and Angela Buxton Sunday.

* * *

Miss Brough and Mrs. William du Pont Jr., of Wilmington, Del., the former Margaret Osborne, form the other U. S. doubles team. They have a record of nine U. S. and five Wimbledon doubles crowns. Their opponents tomorrow will be Miss Bloomer and Patricia Ward.

Dorothy Head Knode, a newcomer to Wightman Cup play from New York, plays her only match Sunday. She'll meet Miss Buxton.

CLARKSTON GOLF COURSE

NINE HOLES SEMI-PUBLIC at Eston Road Waters Lake

Rosburg, Krak, Littler Lead Tam's Rush

CHICAGO (AP)—The rush to stake out claims on Tam O'Shanter's golf gold had reached Yukon proportions today as 27 pros, separated by only four strokes, tried to keep to the front in the "World" money stampede.

Three comparative youngsters defied the "shakes" to roll into the first-round lead yesterday in an opening bombardment of par 72.

Bob Rosburg, 28, who grips a club like a baseball bat and swings for home runs; Mike Krak, 27, Czechoslovakian-born novice on the PGA tourney circuit, and Gene Littler, 25, fourth-leading money winner, each ripped a 66 from Tam's lush 6,900-yard course to share the first-round lead.

But there were others still strongly on the scent of a treasure that goes to the 72-hole winner—$50,000 in cash, $55,000 for 55 exhibitions, $1,000 in caddy fees, and an option on 50 more exhibitions at $1,000 each.

* * *

One stroke away at 67, were two seasoned cash seekers, Fred Hawkins and Bob Wininger.

At 68 were Antonio Cerda, the gay gaucho from Buenos Aires; Henry Ransom, and longshot Jay Hebert.

* * *

Crammed in at 69 were Paul O'Leary, U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck, Gardner Dickinson, Wally Ulrich, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Errie Ball, Shelley Mayfield and Walker Inman.

The group of 11 at 70 included such veterans as Dutch Harrison, Jackie Burke, Jim Ferrier, Julius Boros, and Frank Stranahan.

* * *

In all, 41 in a field of 105 matched or shattered par in the first round to give the Tam O'Shanter acreage one of its worst beatings.

As the treasure hunt entered the second round, probably most attention was centered on the pudgy, bespectacled Rosburg, whose home-made swing has carved $15,000 from the tourney trail this year—more than enough to feed his wife and three kids.

Bob once played second base on the Stanford nine. He holds a golf club the same way he gripped it when his father put one in his hands at the age of two. At seven he scored a hole-in-one and at 17 he won the Northern California Junior crown.

"I felt I was too slow to be real good in baseball, although several scouts had their eyes on me," he says. "As for golf, I feel right at home with a club in my hands, no matter how I hold it or how I swing it. The real artistry of golf is in those short chip shots and putts."

* * *

Other divisional leaders in the "World" tourney were:

Women pros ($12,000 in prize money) — Patty Berg and Fay Crocker, each with 5-under-par 71s.

Women Amateurs—Gloria Fecht, Inglewood, Calif., 76, and Ruth Jessen, Seattle, 77.

Men Amateurs—Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga., 67.

STILL PITCHING — Cy Young remains a target of autograph seekers at 88. Old Tuscarawas won more games than any other major league pitcher—511.

Schmidt Scalps Milwaukee With One-Hit Effort

Logan's Hit in Seventh Spoils Card Hurler's No-Hitter Bid

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Willard Schmidt, making his third bid for a steady job with the St. Louis Cardinals, said "I was just taking them as they came" after setting down the Milwaukee Braves on a ont-hit pitching performance Thursday.

* * *

Schmidt and the rest of the seventh place Cards licked the second place Braves, 4-0, in the second game of a double header after taking the first game, 7-1.

The lanky righthander said in the dressing room, "I'll take a one-hitter any time. I was aware I had a no-hitter going. But I wasn't pitching for one, I was just taking them as they came. There was no pressure on me. I had a four-run lead when Johnny Logan got his hit."

* * *

Logan hit Schmidt for a clean single to open the seventh inning. He was one of four Braves to reach first as the 26-year-old Hays, Kan., hurler walked three and struck out seven.

Schmidt said he used "mostly fast balls, about eight sliders, five curves and one changeup" in measuring the Braves.

* * *

Schmidt tried first with the Cardinals in 1952 and had another brief stay in 1953. He was purchased from Omaha of the American Assn. on July 12 this year.

His season record is now 3 and 2 and his overall major league mark is 5 and 7.

Scott Frost Wins Wolverine Feature

Hambletonian winner Scott Frost won the $10,000 Victory song harness stake at Wolverine Raceway last night in 2:03 3/5.

Scott Frost led Colbymite by more than three lengths. Wayahead was third.

* * *

Scott Frost paid $2.20 and $2.20 with no show betting. He cost the track $5,391 in a minus pool on place betting.

The mutuel handle for the race was $59,549, largest in Wolverine history.

Michigan Pacer Sets Mark for 2-Year-Olds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jerry Perskins, son of Jerry The First, broke the world's record for two-year-old geldings by pacing the 2nd heat of the $7,033.33 Grandview-Ohio Futurity No. 1 in 2:06.1 last night.

* * *

Driven by owner Perry D. Tennis, of Turner, Mich., Jerry won the 1st heat in 2:06.4, paying $3.40 in the 1st time and $2.60 in the runback. He now has a record of five victories in seven starts.

Car Building Halted to Prepare Rambler

DETROIT (INS)—American Motors Corporation will shut down its car-building operations for four weeks starting today to prepare new production facilities for their Rambler model.

The new facilities are expected to increase Rambler production by 60 per cent. At present it is assembled on the same line with Nash and Hudson models, but a new and separate line will be used, E. W. Bernitt, vice president of Automotive Manufacturing and Procurement, said.

Bernitt said daily output capacity will increase from 500 to 800 units. He pointed out that Rambler sales in the first six months of 1955 were 150.5 per cent greater than in the same period last year.

Ramblers are produced at the AMC plant in Kenosha, Wis., and some are assembled at the El Segundo, Calif., facility.

Grains Steady on Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains held steady on the Board of Trade today but an early effort to rally wound up nowhere.

In moderately active dealings small gains were posted at the outset as the market continued the upturn which got under way in the last half of the previous session. But there wasn't much news to encourage buying and most cereals soon slipped back.

Wheat near the end of the first hours was ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.95¾; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September 1.29½; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, Sept. 58⅛; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, Sept. 99; soyer, September 58⅛; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, September 99; soybeans ½ to 1 cent higher, September 2.25¼, and lard 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.97.

Bob Crosby's Daughter Wants to Dance

Cathy Readies for TV Career

Buxom Youngster Sees Success Possibility by Being 'Different'

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Cathy Crosby, the only female entertainer of the famous clan, said today she wants to do something the other Crosbys can't do.

"I want to dance," she exclaimed in her dressing room at CBS-Television City. "I want to be different!"

Cathy, buxom, black-haired facsimile of her Pop, band leader Bob Crosby, bounced around the room demonstrating snatches of her new-found art — Spanish, ballet and be-bop all rolled into one—while her girl friend, Bobbie Mabbe, looked on admiringly.

"I don't want people to say I inherited my voice and that I don't have much else to offer," Cathy explained.

The effervescent 16-year-old thinks it's tough being the offspring of a celebrated family.

* * *

"But just think how much worse it would have been if I'd been a boy," she protested. "Can't you imagine the trouble I'd have being a male Crosby? As it is I'm probably in for plenty of competition from my three-year-old sister Junie.

"Thank goodness I don't have to worry about that yet!"

EXPERT TRAINING

Under the expert guidance of her Pop's manager, Gil Rodin, Cathy has sprouted from a shaky-voiced kid into a poised and relaxed young lady who can belt out a song like nobody's business.

Her first professional appearance was at the age of nine when she yodeled "Wonderful Guy" on her daddy's radio show. The next year she guested for Uncle Bing and it was then she decided to follow in the Crosby songprints.

During her fledgling days, Cathy attended the veddy social Westlake School for Girls in Los Angeles, then breezed over to Switzerland for a six months' course in which-fork-to-use

"I liked it there," she admitted, "and I'd like to have stayed a little longer. But I really think my television career is much more exciting."

VIVA LA FRANCE

"It came in handy when I got to Paris," she announced, "because a tall, dark handsome Frenchman proposed to me. He couldn't speak a word of English and if I hadn't been able to speak French I wouldn't have known a single thing he said.

"I sure wouldn't have wanted to miss that," she giggled. "He even kissed my hand!"

The blue-eyed Crosby cutie said the Parisian proposed in a night-club "where all the best people went."

Cathy has been appearing on the Bob Crosby show all summer and is otherwise busy with dancing and dramatic lessons for which CBS is footing the bill.

She's personally footing her own bill for daily reducing treatments to get rid of excess poundage she picked up in Switzerland.

Her reducing efforts are inspired by two things—career and boys.

LIKES 'EM TALL

"I like 'em tall, dark and handsome," Cathy admitted. "I like blondes, too. But they always wind up being brunets.

"I haven't thought too much about marriage," she ran on, "but, I wouldn't mind if my husband was in the same profession and didn't object to my career.

"Of course, later on, I might fall so much in love I'd even give up my work. I wouldn't want to do that yet, though. After all, I'm just getting started!"

No Pay for 531 Reporters Working for 'Roll Call'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roll Call, the Capitol Hill newspaper, now claims the "largest, highest-priced staff of any fortnightly publication in the world." But it doesn't pay most of them.

The chatty news sheet, started several months ago to report Capitol doings, said it has issued red-and-black press cards to all 531 members of the House and Senate.

Editor Sidney Yudain said he hopes all his "new reporters" will "consider themselves members of the working press and will keep us informed by dispatches from their hometowns and their travels."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Andrew Sterling, Noted Songwriter Dead at Eighty

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Andrew B. Sterling, 80, writer of hundreds of popular songs, among them "When My Baby Smiles at Me," died today at St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been an invalid since he suffered a fractured hip two years ago.

Sterling, born in New York City Aug. 26, 1874, was a successful theatrical painter and decorator before he became interested in song-writing. His first efforts were parodies of popular songs in the late 1890s. From that he turned to popular songs and his first big success was "My Old New Hampshire Home," for which he wrote the lyrics and the late Harry von Tilzer wrote the music. He wrote most of his songs with Von Tilzer.

Among his notable songs were "Wait 'Till The Sun Shines Nellie," "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louie," and "What Are You Going to do When The Rent Comes 'Round."

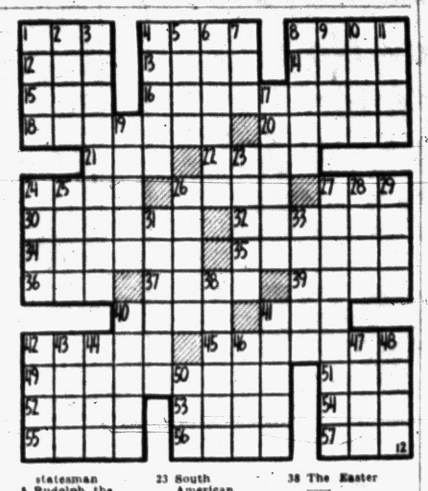

Surviving are his widow, the former Dorothy Heywood, vaudeville performer, and two nephews, Raymond Andrew Sterling, and James D. Sterling, both of New York City.

Proves She Can Walk:

Spunky Babe Zaharias Tees Off Against Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias cautiously got out of a hospital bed to show that she wasn't licked yet—and was determined to win her second battle with cancer.

The world's greatest woman athlete said, "get my shoes," when her husband encouragingly told her:

"Show us how you can walk. They hear all this talk about your being sick and may think you can't walk."

George Zaharias, the former "Weeping Greek" of wrestling fame, beamed happily as the Babe cautiously left her bed and walked around the room.

The Babe was making plans to return to competitive golf next season when Zaharias and a visitor entered her John Sealy Hospital room.

"I finished a nap a few minutes ago and have been thinking about my '56 clubs and clothes and how pretty they are going to look," she said.

"I'm feeling much better."

"It's my right foot that bothers me," she explained, "but it is much better after the treatments."

Babe began receiving X-ray treatments last Thursday, minutes after doctors told her a "small cancer lesion" in the pelvic area was the cause of pain that persisted after a successful spinal disc operation June 22.

It was a recurrence, a possibility that haunts many patients who have won a bout with cancer. In 1953, in Beaumont, the Babe underwent surgery for removal of a rectal malignancy.

Doctors were uncertain as to her golf future after the Beaumont operation but four months later she placed third at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter and won the Women's National Open at Peabody, Mass., in July 1954.

* * *

No surgery is planned this time, at least for the present. Both the Babe and George recognize they face another tough battle. Both are confident.

George puts it this way:

"The time we've spent here in the hospital is just a time out for a rest after being a champion 27 years."

The X-ray treatments at the University of Texas Hospital are expected to continue another 10 to 15 days.

After that?

"We're going to do just what our doctors tell us," George said.

"We believe in our doctors here and feel that what can be done will be done here. We are hopeful, just like before, The Babe will come out of it and believe she will. She's responding very well. She has less pain day by day. She took a ride night before last in a car, walks around and is talking about going to a beauty shop to have her hair washed and curled up.

"It is just one of the unfortunate things of life, but she took it with great courage."

* * *

Babe took periodic checkups following the Beaumont operation. All reports were good until after the disc operation.

Mail, flowers and telephone calls have poured into John Sealy since the Friday cancer announcement.

"She's heard from everybody, everywhere, sports world, kids, old people, people we don't know," George said. "She's asked them to donate to the Cancer Fund but they donate and send flowers anyhow."

Prison Trusty Drowns

JACKSON (UP)—Osie Moore, 39-year-old Southern Michigan Prison trusty from Detroit, drowned Wednesday in a swimming pool behind the home of Warden William H. Bannan. Prison officials said Moore, serving 7½ to 15 years for manslaughter, apparently decided to take a dip while draining the pool.
