Weekend Accidents Fatal to 4 in County

Crashes Kill 2 Sunday; 10 Hurt; Outstate Toll 7

Pontiac Area Woman, Man Die Saturday Near Clarkston

Separate headon crashes took the lives of two Oakland County men Sunday afternoon ending a grim weekend of traffic accidents.

The dead are William H. Carroll, 24, of 35 East St., Oxford, and Jerome Amman, 16, of 137 Lincoln Ave., Pontiac.

A Pontiac man and a Waterford Township woman died in a headon crash Saturday, near Clarkston.

Carroll was involved in an accident on M-24 yesterday afternoon about 300 feet south of Ray road in Oxford Township. He was driving south on a motorcycle when he collided with a northbound car driven by Park B. Driscoll, 38, of 6214 Garden St., Oxford.

Carroll's wife, Vonda Lee, 21, who was riding with him is at Pontiac General Hospital in critical condition. Carroll was dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Beside Lichtwardt, his wife, Jane, 30; their children, David, 6; Erica 5; Susan 3; Ellen, 2; and his parents Raymond, 63, and Verna, 59, of 1409 Somerset. Grosse Pointe, and Arthur Fitzgerald, 17, of Walled Lake were taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, where most were treated for minor injuries.

PLAY BALL — President Dwight D. Eisenhower makes his fifth appearance from his box seat "mound" to hurl out the opening pitch of the '57 baseball season. Ike was pitching at Griffith Stadium, where the Washington Senators took on the Baltimore Orioles.

Eden's Progress Reported Good

Personal Doctor Says He May Leave Hospital in Three Weeks

LONDON (AP) — Sir Horace Evans, Sir Anthony Eden's personal physician, said today doctors attending the former Prime Minister in Boston hope Eden "will be fit to leave the hospital in three weeks' time."

The 59-year-old Eden on Saturday underwent his fourth operation in as many years to remove bile duct obstructions causing frequent fever attacks. Evans, who flew to the United States to observe the operation, returned today. He is also physician to the royal family.

Dr. James E. Fish, administrator of the Leahy clinic whose staff performed the operation, said yesterday in a bulletin that it was "too early to speculate" on how long he would convalesce. Eden was being fed intravenously and probably would not receive solid foods for several days.

Ike Pitch Opens Baseball Season' in Capital Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower, making his fifth appearance as a "starting pitcher," tosses out the first ball today to get the 1957 baseball season formally under way.

With warm, sunny weather predicted, a capacity crowd of 27,000 is expected to fill flag-draped Griffith Stadium to see the President preside at the opener between the Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles.

Flanked by high government and congressional dignitaries, Eisenhower, a right-hander, will use the ten-millionth baseball manufactured by a sporting goods firm for the major leagues to make his ceremonial pitch.

Today's game, which begins at 1:30 p.m. (EST), is the only one scheduled in the American and National Leagues. All other teams open tomorrow.

After Eisenhower throws out the first ball to Washington and Baltimore players lined up at home plate—the recipient gets a presidential autograph — two erstwhile relief pitchers will take over.

Senator Manager Charley Dressen has picked Bob Chakales and the Orioles' Paul Richards has tapped Hector (Skinny) Brown as mound choices.

He Was Here

Herod's Temple, visited by the Child Jesus when he was 12, has been destroyed centuries ago. On the site stands today a structure known as "Dome of the Rock." This historic location and others which played important parts in the life of Christ are revisited by five articles entitled "He Was Here," starting in The Pontiac Press today. The first appears on Page 17.

Hussein Names New Premier in Jordan Strife

Move Strengthens Bid by Monarch to Purge Pro-Egypt Elements

AMMAN (AP)—Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, a pro-Western political leader, was named Jordan's new premier today. This was a victory for King Hussein in a six-day-old Cabinet crisis.

The seven-man cabinet includes Suleiman Nabulsi, the Leftist National Socialist party leader dismissed as premier last Wednesday.

Bahjat Talhouni, chief of the Royal Cabinet, confirmed that the new government had been formed.

Tension has gripped Jordan during the past few days of the crisis. But it was generally hoped now that the country will return to normal.

The Cabinet was topheavy with Independents. Besides Khalidi, the new government will have five other Independents and one National Socialist.

Appointment of Nabulsi was apparently with the support of the strong National Socialist party, which controls 13 seats in Parliament.

Cold Weather Trend on Its Way Out?

The mercury reached a biting 28 degrees last night, but rose sharply from 32 to 40 degrees between 8 and 9 a.m., seemingly in an effort to reach the 50 to 54 degree high expected today.

With the weatherman reporting cloudy and warmer tonight, low 36 to 40, and predicting cloudy and mild tomorrow with a high of 54 to 58, it appears that Pontiac's cold weather trend might be on its way out.

The mercury reading at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac was 49.

French Novelist Injured in Crash

Francoise Sagan Hurt as Racing Car Upsets; Undergoes Surgery

PARIS (AP) — French novelist Francoise Sagan underwent a lung operation today. The 21-year-old writer, whose teen-age sex novel "Bonjour Tristesse" won her international fame and fortune, was badly hurt yesterday when her British racing car overturned.

Doctors said there were no surgical complications and Miss Sagen was breathing better. They added they still could say nothing about a head injury she suffered.

Apparently the operation was to collapse one lung.

Doctors said she suffered severe shock and internal injuries when her car somersaulted on a clear road and landed upside down in a field. She was driving. Three passengers with her—two men and a woman—were injured only slightly.

Miss Sagan was taken to a Paris clinic, where she sank into a coma and was placed in an oxygen tent. Early today she was reported showing signs of recovering from her shock condition, and the tent was removed. The clinic said she passed a relatively quiet night but still was only semi-conscious.

Sundown Begins Passover Season for World Jews

The Festival of Freedom commemorates the Hebrew Exodus from Egypt. Orthodox and conservative Jews observe the season for eight days, and Reform Jews for seven.

The first Passover supper, or Seder, will bring Jewish families together tonight. The meal consists of foods symbolic of the time of the Exodus.

In a Passover message to American Jews, Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel said yesterday he expects as many as 120,000 Jewish refugees to enter his country this year. He urged Jews to "do everything in their power" to help the refugees.

No Trace as 100 Comb 20-Mile Area

Hunt Phantom Deer Killer in North Michigan Woods

CEDARVILLE (AP)—The Upper Peninsula's phantom deer killer, whatever it be, still roamed the woods as free as the breeze today.

Around 100 hunters didn't find hide nor hair, nor even a track of it in a 20-square mile safari through snow along the shores of the northern tip of Lake Huron yesterday.

Mayor Al Phillips of nearby St. Ignace talked of how "we'll get him next time," but no date was set for another mass-hunter try such as yesterday's.

Several who have seen the killer, which has left as many as nine deer dead in one foray, contend it either is a big cougar (mountain lion) or panther. They deride any suggestion it could be a Canadian lynx or bobcat.

Those who tramped the snow-covered woods 10 miles west of Cedarville yesterday came from as far away as Detroit, Saginaw and Bay City.

But none of the hunters could find a sign of the phantom in the three to four inches of snow. They were looking for a track so a pack of some 20 hounds could get a scent to follow.

The hunt, which got under way at noon, was centered between St. Martin's Point and Pontchartrain shores, directly across the northern tip of Lake Huron from Cheboygan.

A Cedarville family which reported seeing the animal stalking three deer in a clearing last week described it as a huge member of the cat family.

Pontiac Hospital Suit Withdrawn

Doctors Agree to Try Settling Rules Dispute Out of Court

The suit brought against Pontiac General Hospital by six staff general practitioners was today ordered withdrawn by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Although no settlement has been reached, attorneys for both sides have agreed to the appointment of a special committee to look into disputed rules and regulations at the city hospital.

The six doctors filed suit March 15 charging that there were certain surgical regulations at Pontiac General which prohibited "the unrestricted use of their licenses."

Noting that all parties to the suit "are meeting and attempting in the public interest to settle the differences peacefully," Judge Doty this morning cancelled a hearing at which the medical staff sought intervention in the suit.

Babcock said he agreed to appoint the special committee of trustees consisting of Barrett, Harold S. Goldberg, and Willis M. Brewer.

The doctors bringing the suit were Drs. Leonard Blackwell, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi and Roy V. Cooley.

Congress Acts to Rush Through $41 Million Bill

Fund Could Put Pontiac, U.S. Post Offices Back on 6-Day Week

Area postal workers today tackled the mountains of mail that accumulated over the weekend as Congress moved to enact a supplementary appropriation bill of $41 million for the Post Office to hasten the resumption of normal services.

In Ponitac, the rapid movement of first class mail is the primary target. Acting Postmaster Leslie Dean said his men are concentrating today on the first class mail and daily newspapers piled up over Saturday and Sunday.

"We expect to catch up with these categories of mail today, and then start moving the third class backlog during the next four days," he said. "Parcel post is moving normally."

Effective today, Dean revealed, the new window hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., compared with the former hours of 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Dean added no temporary help is being used this week, because regular employes who normally work Saturdays and take a day off during the week had Saturday off.

MEANS LAYOFFS

"It means layoffs for our temporaries," he said, "until we go back to the six-day operation."

In Washington, the House is reported ready to approve the extra $41 million which its Appropriations Committee recommended to operate the post office until July 1.

This sum is $6 million less than the request of Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, who has, promised to restore all cuts possible with the lesser sum.

But Summerfield has indicated he will make no move to lift curtailments on service until the supplementary appropriation bill is passed through Congress and signed by the President.

This may occur quickly, as the Senate is reported ready to act as soon as it receives the money bill from the House, possibly tomorrow.

Clarence Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said today in advance of the House voting, "I expect no difficulty."

ECHOES REMARKS

Income Tax Due Uncle Sam Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam takes his big tax bite today — a 60-billion-dollar levy. For the rest of the year he has to get along on nibbles.

This is the day income taxes are due. They total about 38½ billion dollars. Corporations, too, have to settle their tax accounts with the government. That comes to about 21½ billions more.

But it takes more than 60 billion dollars to run the government. The budget for the fiscal year which ends June 30 is $70,628,000,000.

On top of that there is nearly 13 billion dollars that has to be applied to such things as the Social Security trust fund, the highway trust fund, the railroad retirement account and refunds to taxpayers.

That leaves Uncle Sam needing about 23½ billion dollars after individuals and corporations ante up their tax money today.

But don't feel too sorry for him. He has ways of getting it.

Excise taxes, for instance, this year will net the government about 10½ billion dollars.

Every time you buy a package of cigarettes, Uncle Sam gets 8 cents. He gets 2 cents on the average cigar.

You may not notice it, but the government collects 2 cents for every 1,000 matches sold — 5½ cents if they have "fancy wooden or colored stems."

Buy a quart of beer and Uncle Sam gets 7 cents. He gets $2.10 on a bottle fifth of whisky.

Most excise taxes are hidden in the price you pay for things because they're collected from the manfacturer. He pays it — and passes the cost along to you.

On jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage (including handbags and wallets). Uncle Sam nicks you for 10 per cent of the retail cost.

Those built-in taxes, generally 10 per cent of the manufacturers' selling price, are levied on a host of household items. On light bulbs alone, Uncle figures to take in 24 million dollars this year.

He also gets his cut when you buy a phonograph or phonograph records, a radio, television set, refrigerator or car.

There's something in it for Uncle Sam when you buy a fountain pen or a fishing rod, make a telephone call or go to the movies, buy a roll of film or join a club, take a train ride or rent a safety deposit box.

If all this makes you feel like blowing your brains out, remember that Uncle Sam has a tax on firearms and ammunition too.

Even after the government collects some seven million dollars on wagering taxes (most of it from bookies), there still is a shortage of about 13 billion dollars in the cash box.

The biggest chunk of this — nearly three billion dollars — comes from an item called "recoveries and refunds." This includes compensation for government property lost or damaged, war reparations and recoveries under military occupation ($100,000 this year), recoveries of excess profits and costs and recoveries under foreign aid programs.

Most of the remaining 10 billion dollars flows into the Treasury through business fees and permits, royalties, interest on loans, earnings from government-sponsored enterprises, rentals and the sales of such things as timber, power, publications, surplus army products and scrap.

And don't forget the money deducted from your paycheck for Social Security taxes. This comes to 2¼ per cent on the first $4,200 of annual earnings. The boss matches your tax by a like percentage. This goes into the Social Security trust fund.

Tax Aid Available Here

The Pontiac office of the Internal Revenue Service, 53½ W. Huron St., will be open for taxpayers' assistance today until 4:30. Telephone service is available by calling FEderal 2-0208 until the same time.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Trial of Jesus Begins

Following is the formal report of the trial of Jesus, forwarded to Tiberius Caesar by Pontius Pilate. The transcript is initialed by Marcus Gaeto, clerk.

COURT OF THE GOVERNOR
PROVINCE OF JUDAEA
At Jerusalem
Pontius Pilate, Sitting
THE PEOPLE, PLAINTIFFS versus
JESUS OF NAZARETH, DEFENDANT

This cause came on to be heard and plaintiffs charged:

That the said Jesus of Nazareth was guilty of treason in that he perverted the thoughts of the nation and held himself to be a king.

The court then directly questioned Jesus, asking: "Art thou the king?"

Defendant replied: "Thou sayest it."

THE COURT (repeating): "Art thou the king, then?"

Defendant: "To this end was I born and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."

The Court: "What is truth?"

Upon consideration of the evidence thus far presented, the court advised: "I find no fault in this man."

The plaintiffs then resumed testimony, charging the defendant with causing disturbances in the whole area from Jerusalem to Galilee.

Interrupting, the court inquired if defendant were a Galilean. Answered in the affirmative, he ruled:

This case belongs in the jurisdiction of Herod, Tetrarch of Galilee, and I remand it to him . . .

Money Worries Face Waterford

Board Meeting Tonight Must Squeeze Expenses Into $76,000 Budget

Several big financial problems face the new Waterford Township Board when it convenes for its first regular meeting tonight at 7:30.

Members must begin the job of scheduling all of the township operations into the present financial status of $76,000 balance from last year's budget.

Most immediate action will be the problem of financing the township police department, whose revenue was cut off due to a recent opinion of the attorney general.

Elmer Johnson, newly elected supervisor, said that a special election would not solve the problem immediately. However, he said, it would help get revenue for later governmental operations.

County Supervisors Pass Budget for 1958

A tentative $10,700,920 budget was approved 63-3 today by the Board of Supervisors for presentation to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board.

The budget is based on the assumption the tax allocation board will levy for the county at least this year's millage—4.68 mills.

Supervisors' chairman Delos Hamlin of Farmington believed up to five mills may be necessary to support the new budget, which represents a proposed 16 per cent increase over this year's spending.

The Board of Supervisors today voted $20,000 for purchase of a Franklin boulevard home to reduce crowding at the Children's Home.

Supervisors voted $3,200 for renovation of the building at Mary Day avenue. Fred W. Smith, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said the new space would allow from 15 to 20 children. These will be children from broken homes and other hardship cases who should be segregated from other children at the county home, Smith said.

The board voted to retain Detroit attorney Claude Stevens as additional counsel in a suit blocking construction of a new courthouse.

Stevens, the county's bond attorney, will join Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt in handling the case.

The county's filing Friday of answers to charges by the Oakland County Taxpayers' League is expected to bring the case to court this month.

The way was paved to sell county land to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad for a marshalling yard south of Walton boulevard. The county owns the land along Stanley avenue south of the boulevard. The board was prepared to sell these 9.55 acres at $29,000.

An additional 8.5 acres south of the proposed yard is slated for housing development. The county was prepared to sell this at $24,000 to a private builder.

Teamsters' Rally Poorly Attended

Oregon Protest Meeting Against Beck Attracts Only 150 Persons

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—A well-advertised Teamsters Union rally to protest against Dave Beck and other Teamster leaders who are under fire, drew 150 members yesterday instead of the thousands expected by sponsors.

The sponsoring group of union members had rented the Civic Auditorium, which seats 4,000 persons. They blamed a wind and rain storm for the small turnout.

Local 81 of Portland Teamsters met and afterward reported the 300 members in attendance gave a vote of confidence to Clyde C. Crosby, the top Teamster official in Oregon and one of those under fire.

That meeting also passed resolutions urging an annual audit of finances in each local; a rule that checks cannot be made out to cash; and a requirement that financial records be retained three years.

Record Major Quake in South Pacific

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology have recorded a "major quake" in the South Pacific.

Dr. Charles Richter said that the Cal Tech seismograph recorded the quake yesterday at 11:29:28 a. m., Pacific Standard Time, with a second wave at 11:38:53.

Dr. Richter estimated the quake's center to be 5,000 miles distant from Pasadena. The temblor was recorded moments later at the John Carroll University seismograph station at Cleveland, where it was estimated the distance from Cleveland was 7,600 miles.

The quake yesterday was also recorded on instruments at Fordham University in New York, and at Boston College at Weston, Mass.

Khalidi's success of forming a government came as a surprise. Last official information given out earlier today said that Said Mufti was still trying to set up a Cabinet.

Agreement apparently was reached at a top level meeting called at the palace at noon. All former premiers of Jordan, all members of the Senate and some deputies attended.

Khalidi was the first candidate asked by the monarch to form a new government but he failed after two days and apologized to the King.

Hussein emerged from the crisis with a greater stature than ever. Khalidi is a Palestine refugee. This is important since Palestinians form more than a third of the population.

DAR Unravels Heavy Problem of School Cash

WASHINGTON (UP)—One member of the Daughters of the American Revolution is vigorously campaigning for the ladies to put on weight.

For each pound they gain, Mrs. Lyle J. Howland of Rome, N. Y. hopes to get extra contributions for her school endowment fund.

She started a penny-a-pound a year campaign to raise funds for schools the DAR operates and aids financially. So far it's netted $6,000—that's the equivalent of 600,000 pounds of womankind.

But Mrs. Howland explains a lot of the ladies just turned over a flat $2 or more rather than reveal their weight.

Gray-haired, blue-eyed Mrs. Howland, who made all the ladies think about those pounds, says she gave $2 too, although she's 5 feet 4 and weighs 140 pounds.

Release City Woman in Fatal Shooting

Mrs. Mary W. Burton, 39, of 494 Grant St. was released from Oakland County Jail today, where she had been held since the fatal shooting of Dave Bowman, 34, of 40 Bagley St., Thursday.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said testimony showed the shooting was in self defense, and no charges will be brought at the present time.

Bowman, who was found in his car in front of Mrs. Burton's home, died of shotgun wounds. Mrs. Burton admitted shooting him as he tried to enter her home through a window.

Post Office Tackles Big Backlog of Mail

who added, however, "I feel the $41 million sum is enough to restore all postal services."

Cannon and other Congressional critics of the postmaster general have accused him of violating a law designed to prevent overspending by federal agencies.

The Post Office spent its full fiscal year's appropriation of $2 billion during the first three quarters. Summerfield explained this by citing unforeseen costs due to a postal pay raise and the opening of many new routes to serve expanding residential areas.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, head of the watchdog General Accounting Office, said the Budget Bureau rather than the Post Office broke the law by allowing the too rapid expenditure of funds.

Among the restrictions still in effect, besides no Saturday deliveries and shorter window hours, are a ban on sale of postal money orders at first and second class post office.

In Pontiac, Dean said only one pickup was made Saturday from street boxes as is done on Sundays and holidays, but the order limiting mail deliveries to business districts to not more than two a day will not affect Pontiac which has never had more than two.

U.S. World Trade Fair Opens in Coliseum

NEW YORK (UP)—The U.S. World Trade Fair opened in the Coliseum yesterday with the ceremonial breaking of a seven-foot loaf of bread.

Gov. Averell Harriman and Mayor Robert F. Wagner sliced the loaf of rye, a symbol of world prosperity and peace, to start the show of 3,000 exhibits from 59 nations.

'Roc-Rol' in Library

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Isadore Granoff, head of the Granoff School of Music, is no fan of some modern music and he reluctantly reports while looking for a book in the Free Library he came upon a file card drawer marked: "roc-rol."

Swedish Official Held for Spying

Member of Atom Group Charged in Blueprint Sale to Russia

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — A high official of Sweden's Atomic Energy Commission has been arrested on charges of spying for Russia.

A police spokesman said 29-year-old Robert Folke Damstedt, the commission's assistant secretary, is being held for trial on charges of atomic espionage.

One unofficial report said a second person was held as a suspect in the case, which was said also to involve sale to Russia of blueprints of Sweden's newest submarines.

The disclosure added another round to the stormy exchange of spy charges and countercharges between Russia and Sweden since World War II. Last month Sweden delivered a formal protest to the Kremlin against Soviet espionage in this traditionally neutral country. That protest was coupled with rejection of a Soviet complaint that 14 spies for Sweden had been arrested and sentenced in Russia.

Unofficial reports described the Damstedt case as the most serious in the long chain since World War II. It was learned, however, that as assistant secretary, Damstedt performed mainly administrative functions and that he was a legal expert rather than a nuclear physicist.

Hearing Postponed on Airline Service

Pontiac's hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Lansing April 23 regarding commercial airline service for Pontiac Municipal Airport has been postponed indefinitely, according to Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The reason for the postponement, Hoskins said, was that the CAB wanted to settle a proposed merger of North Central and Lake Central Airlines before launching new matters.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Sees Agenda About Traffic Problems

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners face an agenda leaning heavily toward traffic and its related problems tonight.

They will receive the combined report of T. M. Vanderstemple, traffic engineer, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and the Plan Board with their recommendations on correcting several unfavorable conditions.

Commissioners have indicated their intention of withholding any decision that they may have more time to study the lengthy report.

Among the reports of City Manager Harold K. Schone, officials will consider such items as the 1957 road oiling, a curb-side parking lot plan and the special traffic problem near Quarton school and the Park street right-of-way.

Alleys enter the picture with a public hearing on the closing of the alley from Stanley street East and repairs on an alley between Hamilton street and Maple avenue.

Coming again before the commission is a continuation of the hearing of property rezoning immediately north of Oakland avenue. The Barton-Komisky holding has shuttled between commissioners and planners for some time. It continues to draw strong opposition from area residents who do not want to see business zoning permitted.

Wednesday marks the end of the poster contest being conducted at Hickory Grove School to advertise the Hickory Holiday PTA sponsored fair, May 25. Posters will be judged by the artist staff of MacManus, John and Adams, Inc. and awards will be presented at a general assembly at the school on May 2. Cash prize will go to the first place winner.

Birmingham chapter No. 220 OES will entertain guests from county chapters at the annual "Friendship Night," Wednesday. Betty Jane Burson, Ione Shepard and Gertrude Goodwin will be received into chapter membership.

Service Clubs to Assist Auto Inspection Program

Eight Pontiac service clubs will assist in the operation of five traffic lanes during the evening hours of the 1957 May Vehicle Inspection Program slated for May 13 through 17.

Robert C. Tricker, service club co-ordinator for the annual five day auto check, announced black and green stickers will be given to owners of autos which have been judged as safe to drive.

Half-minute tests will be conducted at five places in the city. Checks will cover horns, windshield wipers, brakes, steering wheels and lights.

The following service clubs have been assigned to work in check lanes as indicated: Rotary and Optimists Clubs, Saginaw at Huron Streets; Exchange and Lions Clubs, Auburn Avenue near East Boulevard; Northside Kiwanis Club, Montcalm Street in front of Lincoln Junior High School; Civitan Club, Johnson Street between State Street and the railroad and Westside Kiwanis and Kiwanis Clubs, Orchard Lake Avenue near Sylvan court.

The check is sponsored through the cooperation of the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Police Dept. and the Pontiac Automobile Dealers' Assn.

Teams from high school driving classes will check cars from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tricker said, and service clubs members will take over from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Chairman of the entire project is Paul C. Merideth.

One police officer and four volunteer workers will be stationed at each lane to operate the check.

In 1956, almost 25,000 stickers were distributed to drivers whose cars passed inspection.

Women Voters Area League Plans Meeting

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The League of Women Voters here will meet tomorrow for a 12:30 luncheon and general meeting at the home of Mrs. A. G. Person, 2830 Pine Lake Rd.

Decisions on programs as well as election of officers will be held at this meeting.

A sound film in two parts will introduce the subject for the May meetings which is "Conservation Study of Water Resources."

All members have been urged to attend and guests are also welcome.

Train Rams Stalled Car; Flying Debris Kills Wife

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—When their car stalled at a railroad crossing, Jess Biggs and his wife Edith tried to push it off the tracks.

A San Diego-bound streamliner bore down on them. They started to run.

The train slammed into the car, sending debris flying. Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Biggs, 53, was apparently hit by the car's engine, which was hurled 100 feet. She was killed.

Briggs was unhurt.

More than 4,200 sub-postmasters and sub-postmistresses in Britan just got pay raises backdated to July of 1955.

Bob Considine Says:

Film Shows 2nd Generation Genius

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

Saw an astonishing moving picture the other night. It wasn't written by Matthew, Mark, Luke or John. It didn't have 10,000 Egyptian extras, wide-screen, color, or 4,000 girls doing rock 'n' roll.

It was about a busy breadwinner and a high school boy who gets in a little innocent trouble with the police and the efforts of those two, father and son, to find each other's heart.

The film is "Young Stranger." It is second generation genius at work. The young producer, Stu Millar, is the son of Mack Millar, who has been around Hollywood with Bob Hope for years.

The young writer of "Young Stranger" is Robert Dozer, son of Bill Dozier of the films. The star is James MacArthur, 19, son of the late great Charles MacArthur and Helen Hayes.

They have combined to put together a poignant, moving vignette of the awful chasm that can exist—in a busy day and age—between a man and his child.

The picture cost less to make than several recent one-shot television shows. Matter of fact, it once was a TV show on "Climax" under the name of "Deal a Blow." The labor - conscious automaker who sponsored that show had asked that its title be changed from "Strike a Blow."

NOT BRAGGING

But millions will. It's a real good one, and certainly an innovation. Why, it only lasts as long as pictures used to last.

Ernie Pyle was killed 15 years ago this week, Tuesday night the 77th, or "Statue of Liberty," division will take part in a special ceremony at the Memorial Press Center of the Overseas Press Club here in New York. Pyle, who had a heavy premonition that his number was up, was killed while prospecting for stories with the 77th.

Pyle's is one of 82 names honored on the walls of the club, a long list that begins with Webb Miller, who died in a London blackout in the early hours of the war, down through World War II, Korea, Indochina, etc., and ends with Eddie Dowling's wonderful boy, John Dowling, killed covering a Latin American war in 1955.

There are a half a dozen empty slabs at the bottom of the list, active members are inclined to note.

Pyle was unique in the hotly competitive field in which he labored and found his death. His opposition swore as a man to his pre-eminence.

His colleagues held for him the same affection as the GIs who buried him in packing case casket and tenderly marked the coral-encrusted place with a sign which read, "On This Spot, the 77th Infantry Division Lost a Buddy, Ernie Pyle, 18 April, 1945."

SUBSCRIPTION TV

Sure as gunsmoke in a Western, tears on soap operas and heartbreak among the Saturday night comedians, there's going to be subscription television.

The "pay-and-see-the-best" proponents, headed by Zenith's Eugene F. McDonald, appear to have broken through the curious governmental resistance which has so long thwarted efforts to see if the public likes or dislikes the idea.

The questions at stake are only two, and both are simple. The first is whether subscription TV is in the public interest, and only the public can decide that. The second is whether the tradition of competition applies in the broadcasting business as elsewhere.

Seems to me the backers of subscription TV have the right to offer their service for sale and take their losses if they find no market. Or take their profits if they do.

Big business and the ghost of John J. Audobon have reached across time and space and shaken hands.

Operators of the Empire State Building, world's largest, will douse the stationary beacon atop the tower from April 15 to June 1 to eliminate a possible hazard to the multitudes of birds now starting their migration up the Atlantic Coast to cooler roosts.

Mayor Chases Monkey

LA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Callers at the office of Mayor Glen G. Crosbie were told one afternoon that he was out trying to catch a runaway monkey. It was a fact. The mayor is a veterinarian.

Marker of Victory Site Returned to Yorktown

SUFFOLK, Va. (AP) — Even if scrap metal dealer Leon Familant had burned the record, the incident would still be recalled. He rescued it from the fires, though, and sent it along to the commission that is celebrating Virginia's 350th anniversary.

The record was an oblong bronze marker and it went back to Yorktown, Va., whence it came by some unknown hand. The marker says:

"On this spot Lord Cornwallis, commanding British troops surrendered to General George Washington, October, 1781."

Norfolk Eyes Monorail

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — This big port city has named a seven-man commission to study a monorail system to serve the city and perhaps Virginia Beach, some 20 miles away. Cost of a high-speed, overhead rail transit system were estimated by one company at $330,000 per mile.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Report Shows Pontiac in Very Sound Position

City Manager Walter K. Willman has just submitted an annual accounting of Pontiac's current financial and physical condition.

The report is excellent.

We're in a very sound position.

First of all, the City Manager points out that under our charter limitations, we would be entitled to debt of twenty million dollars. This is eight per cent of our assessed valuation of two hundred and fifty million.

An eight per cent debt is a very small one. And yet, even if the bond issues directly ahead are approved by the voters, our total debt will amount to less than eight million dollars. That's a fraction over three per cent. Certainly, Pontiac is in a strong and favorable situation.

We can congratulate ourselves.

We are well off.

By and large, the civic plant is in good physical condition. We are adding eight to ten miles of new pavements per year. The results are gratifying and apparent. With outside help, we are completing the Orchard Lake-Telegraph under-pass, widening Perry street from Huron to the City limits and widening Orchard Lake avenue.

These have been definite bottlenecks and the projected improvements will be of great assistance in bringing traffic into the city.

Sidewalk construction for the year runs just beyond a hundred thousand dollars. Pontiac is not stagnating. We're moving forward constantly on a healthy, carefully financed program.

Some time in the fall, the City will occupy the Public Safety Building. This is approximately a nine hundred thousand dollar venture, and it will house police, fire headquarters and municipal courts. Like the fine, new City Hall, this building WILL BE COMPLETELY PAID FOR WHEN THE CITY MOVES IN THIS SEPTEMBER.

The fifth fire station is about ready. The Press feels that Pontiac has been a trifle slow in bringing our fire protection up to wise levels. We are probably no more than abreast right now, but when the ninety-year-old Central Fire Station is hauled down and replaced by a new, modern building in the near future, we will find ourselves adequately situated.

The City is studying the proposed new road through Pontiac and will be prepared to act when something tangible is offered.

Many cities today find themselves woefully behind the eight ball in meeting current demands. City Manager Willman concedes that Pontiac hasn't quite kept pace with our growth but the lag is small and is a minor matter. Many cities lack public buildings, pavements, sewers, fire protection, police protection and adequate schools.

Some lack all.

Some lack certain combinations.

We are very well situated and the taxpayers can look upon the City Manager's report with deep satisfaction. We're far, far ahead of most cities across the country. They can only look upon us with envy.

Foreign Fair Exhibits Make Friends for U.S.

The international fair season again is opening for Uncle Sam. This year the U.S. will have 21 exhibits in 16 countries, the most since President Eisenhower authorized the program in 1954.

In each country the displays follow a well established pattern. A central exhibit emphasizes some part of American history, life or policy. U.S. industries have individual exhibits which are expanding each year.

Perhaps the 1957 highlight will be the June exhibit in Poznan, Poland, the first behind the iron curtain. At this fair a new type of construction will make possible a dome enclosing more than 12,000 square feet of space. The structure is demountable and will be used again in an exposition at Salonika, Greece.

Other first showings will be in Casablanca, Morocco, Tunis and Rio de Janeiro. In the past, some 30 million persons have seen U.S. exhibits at 45 fairs in 25 countries. This year the attendance is expected to go over the 10 million mark. Visitors to the American exhibits, which always outdraw Soviet bloc displays, want to see how we live. They are keenly interested in our mechanical wonders and new gadgets.

Our manner of life is shown to them in an understandable manner no matter what their nationality, and is much more effective than reams of propaganda. The result appears to be more friends and, incidentally, more business for the United States.

The Man About Town

2,038 in Contest

Largest Number Since It Was Started 10 Years Ago

Rarity: A third wedding anniversary in Hollywood.

When the time closed Saturday noon for entries in our baseball contest, 2,038 good sports had qualified for a chance at winning that prize of $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds. This is to be given to the contestant who names the American League player who will be leading the league on the night of April 26, and comes the nearest to forecasting his batting average.

This is by far the largest number of entries in the history of this annual contest, being 386 more than last year, and the predictions are divided among 124 players.

Top favorite with the contestants is Detroit's

Charley Maxwell,

but he is crowded by another Tiger,

as a close runner up.

Players who received 10 votes or more are: Maxwell, 276; Kuenn, 255; Mantle, 205; Kaline, 170; Ted Williams, 132; Bolling, 57; Berra, 54; Fox, 46; Kubek, 44; Boone, 33; Power, 29; Skowron, 27; Calavito, 23; Wertz, 22; Piersall, 21; Minoso, 20; Al Smith, 18; Martin, 17; Jensen, 17; Bauer, 16; Doby, 15; Avila, 14; McDougald, 14; Vernon, 13; Kell, 13; Nieman, 12; Carey, 12; Lemon, 11; Tuttle, 11; Lollar, 10; Yost, 19; Dick Williams, 10; Runnels, 10, and Sievers, 10.

Ninety other players received from one to nine votes each.

"Next year I'll vote for a player in a Pacific coast major team," confidently writes

George Whitney,

now of Los Angeles, in sending his baseball contest entry.

"Grass fires are the most expensive blazes in our community," writes

"Suburban Fire Chief,"

who continues, "Although in themselves they rarely do much damage, they cost the taxpayers $50 to $100 for each fire for the fire fighters' service—and we recently had eight in one day."

For the third successive year, of Drayton Plains, is first to report tulips in bloom. They grow above a kitchen drain where the ground does not freeze all winter.

Mrs. James Flexner

Through Knotholes, the Voice of Spring

David Lawrence Says:

Facts Still Cloudy in Norman Case

WASHINGTON—Many Canadians are having second thoughts about the case of E. Herbert Norman, Canadian minister to Cairo who committed suicide recently. At first the charges that Norman had Communist connections were vehemently denounced as "slander" and it was announced at Ottawa that the Canadian government had "cleared" Norman in 1951.

LAWRENCE

Indeed, a note of protest was sent to the United States government a few days ago deprecating the hearings of the Senate subcommittee on internal security which had revealed some "derogatory information" about Norman.

Now it turns out that there is a great deal of doubt as to what was really covered by the Canadian government's denial as uttered by Lester Pearson, secretary of state for external affairs, and the mystery is as big as ever.

Last Friday certain questions were put to Pearson in the House of Commons at Ottawa but for some unexplained reason what was said there was not transmitted very fully by the press services or else it was ignored on Saturday.

NO BASIS?

"Will the minister say that the allegations before the subcommittee of the United States Senate on March 12 and 21 specifically were untrue, unjustified and had no basis in fact?"

Pearson in his speech dealt only with Norman's associations with Communists in his student days at Columbia. But he added that as a result of a security checkup on Norman and a personal examination of the reports the government was left in 1951 with no doubt as to the loyalty of Norman and his suitability for important posts.

Pearson, however, said he had made his statement and would stand upon it

RAISES QUESTIONS

This raised some interesting questions for the Senate subcommittee:

1. Who inside the American government was sponsoring such a set-up in 1950 just after the Korean War began?

2. What blocked it and what part did a letter from the FBI to the U.S. Army intelligence play in preventing Norman from getting into such a key post in the United States?

3. Isn't it the duty of a congressional committee to investigate administrative weaknesses which occur inside our government here and with which suspected persons from abroad make contact?

4. Wasn't Klaus Fuchs "cleared" by the British government before he went to work in the secret atomic laboratory in New Mexico?

5. Wasn't Burgess of the Maclean-Burgess scandal—who is now in Moscow advising the Soviets—"cleared" by the British government when he became secretary of the British-Canadian-American committee on atomic problems and thereby was given night and day access to the building of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington?

6. Since Norman was identified as a Communist by information furnished directly to the Senate committee by important witnesses did he cease to be a Communist and in what year?

LI'L ONES

"Ever notice how a married couple begin to look like each other?"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Calcium Steadies Nerves, Is Buffer Against Pain

From time to time, newspapers and magazines carry pieces to the effect that "too much calcium" is dangerous because "deposits" of calcium in the joints may bring on "arthritis" or deposits in the arteries may bring on hardening of the arteries.

DR. BRADY

Sometimes such items even name the obscure research investigator who made the discovery and jumped into the front page overnight.

There is a peculiar weakness in all such utterances of "experts" or "authorities" — they never indicate how much calcium is "too much." The same defect characterizes similar "warnings" about vitamin D.

A good many gullible customers are afraid to take the minimum daily requirements of calcium and vitamin D which recognized health authorities estimate as essential to maintain health or prevent development of nutritional deficiency disease—malnutrition, as old timers called it.

NEEDED BY ALL

In the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope, I suggest for every member of the family, particularly those past 50, a daily dietary supplement which supplies, among other nutrients, nearly as much calcium as one would get in three glasses of milk.

I say that Ca & D deficiency through the years from childhood to the present is the principal cause of premature physical degeneration—in the joints and in the arteries.

One of the physiological functions of calcium is regulation of excitability of nerve centers and nerve fibres. In familiar language, calcium tends to steady the nerves.

Calcium is also administered in inoperable cases of cancer to relieve pain. Persons subject to neuralgic headaches or to migraine (periodic sick headaches) should boost their everyday calcium and D intake. Many experience considerable improvement—some, permanent relief or cure —from this correction of nutritional deficiency.

MILK BEST SOURCE

The most readily absorbable calcium is that of milk. A tablespoonful of milk contains as much calcium as a tablespoonful of freshly made lime water.

High blood pressure in persons with calcium deficiency tends to return to normal when the daily ration of Ca & D is adequate. Calcium tends to relax the coronary arterioles and prevent anginal distress; it is a tonic to heart muscle.

Frequent or habitual use of certain alkalies or antacids, such as bicarbonate of soda (sodium bicarbonate) and magnesia (milk of magnesia, magnesium citrate and magnesium sulfate, commonly known as Epsom salts) "forces calcium from the system"—seriously interferes with the assimiliation and utilization of calcium and keeps victims always a little below par.

Whenever one takes calcium, in any form, as a supplement to the regular diet, it is well to take vitamin D along with it; for vitamin D is essential to insure normal assimilation and utilization of calcium, in food or medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Carlotta's Measurements Have Whole Town Talking

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

After reading nothing but (Colossal) Carlotta's ego-admiring footnotes for the past few weeks, I just had to have my say. Why is it, if she is so noticeably colossal, I haven't read any letters from someone who has seen her? (How could they miss her?) I shall give her an A for imagination and an F for failing to know the tape measure goes around, not across.

"Chicago" Frank

Of course, you know you are driving my husband crazy.

Mrs. "Chicago" Frank

What modest pride. With your wonderful figure you shouldn't hide, Carlotta. A cracked curb or fend or two would really be worth one look at you. Your figure's your fortune so how can you flunk? Unless you're handing out bunk. Girls, don't be jealous. Get with the diet. It can't be done, but it'll be fun to try.

Imperfect

We were wondering what size hat C. Carlotta wears. Do they make them that large?

Robust Ruth and Nobust Nancy

Carlotta, you haven't got any girl slinking or in despair. Instead you're making a perfect fool of yourself and while you're admiring yourself, others are being admired. More power to the nice and still proud girls of our communities and to their futures in making this a "colossal" world to live in.

Young Mother of 2

I have come to the conclusion that Carlotta is a fake and could be one of the nude dummies so often seen in some of the downtown stores. It doesn't seem possible for any human adult to have such a small waist measurement unless she be a freak.

Curious

Man, this Carlotta must really think she's got something. Are you the queen of Pontiac or something? As for your small waist, I'll bet you're really in misery. What do you do—wear a girdle? Some of these flat chested girls have at least kept just what nature gave them and have not added on. Women were put on earth to please men, but not like you do. Everybody uses a little trick or two.

34-24-34

Carlotta, you say you make girls slink home in despair. Well, to be frank, I'd be embarrassed if I were as large as you say you are.

Very Proud 34-25-34

Why not a public showing for us unfortunate girls? Can we learn your secret formula? Either you have special medicine or do some good exercises. Are you afraid of a picture or will your great measurements take up too much of the picture? I think you'd better get off it and tell your real measurements.

36-25-36

Since you've remained unidentified, Carlotta, we're beginning to believe all you want is attention and publicity. A 16-inch waist? Are you suffering from malnutrition or is your measuring tape deceiving you? Since cars bump into curbs when you're seen, I suggest you stay indoors because you're a hazard to men on wheels. Just saying you don't have to have your picture published proves you are too good to be true. No one is perfect without artificial help such as cosmetics, foam rubber, etc. To normally proud girls, be normally proud of what you've got. Dont be abnormally proud like Carlotta.

Unbeliever

Carlotta's bragging really isn't anything to brag about. If I had those measurements I wouldn't want to draw attention to them for it must be an awful sight. Bet my "35" looks better. In your dictionary look up Colossus as well as colossal. Anyone desiring to go to England to see a "Colossal" should have a one-way ticket.

Not Jealous at All

'Adopted Parents Should Get Child'

One Who Knows is exactly right in saying the adopted baby should stay with the father and mother that adopted it in good faith.

The original mother was the one that made the mistake. Hence, if anyone suffers, the Finger of God points to her. You can't force suffering on the two fine people that gave the baby a home for a year and a half and you can't penalize the baby itself.

It's the mother's misfortune, and she should measure up to her faults. She made her own bed and now she should lie in it and leave three clean human beings alone. No one of them has erred.

It's too bad anyone has to suffer at all, but if someone does, let the one that asked for it accept it and accept it in silence.

Disputes Figure for Hospital Cost

Taxpayer says in the Voice of the People that Beaumont Hospital cost $4,000,000. He's due for a rude awakening when he finds out it really totaled about $6,000,000.

Some young men get their start in life too easily and then head off in the wrong direction.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Surely I have behaved and quieted myself, as a child that is weaned of his mother: My soul is even as a weaned child. —Psalms 131:2.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dollars Can Never Replace Dads

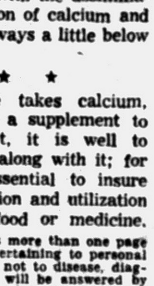

Harry must be careful lest he think dollars can replace dads! Alas, some of our most handicapped youngsters are the children of wealthy and socially prominent families. It is usually more difficult for rich parents to rear self-reliant sons and daughters than for poor parents to do so!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, my wife and I had our first baby a few months ago," he said.

CRANE

"And we are quite delighted. In fact, we have named him Harry Jr., and I have already taken out a college insurance policy for him.

"What else can I do to give him the breaks in the game of life?"

DOLLARS VS. DADS

"An investment in knowledge," said wise old Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

Harry is thus smart in planning for his son's college education. But dollars can never replace dads:

So stress the early training in morality and idealism. If you nurture his love for goodness and music and education during the first 5 years, he will go on to college, even without financial aid from papa.

Indeed, children are better off in poor homes than in the wealthy:

Never grieve because your youngster must share his toys and shoulder his load of household chores and earn his own money, as by carrying a newspaper route.

For such experiences are simply the proper internship in life which prepare a youngster for self-reliant adulthood.

Society leaders may place their only son or daughter in a private school to avoid assuming their proper parental duties. But love and parent-child camaraderie can't develop as effectively when parents are apart from their children.

Oh, rich boys may wear more expensive clothes and drive papa's ritzy car. They may even coast along on papa's wealthy coat tails, enjoying Dad's membership privileges in the Country Club. Dad indirectly does much of their courting for them via footing the bills.

Such rich boys often become neurotic and cynical. They may develop into emotional cripples.

HANDICAPED CHILDREN

Indeed, many of our most handicapped children have wealthy fathers and socially prominent mothers:

For such kids are reared by hired governesses and sent to private boarding schools.

They may have no brothers or sisters because the mother didn't want to be tied down with additional pregnancies.

So these youngsters lead rather lonely lives. They don't get the joy of sandlot baseball and membership in children's gangs.

They don't learn the habit of cooperation in washing dishes or doing the chores. They even miss the wholesome quarreling as to whose turn it is to mow the lawn or run the errands.

And such juvenile quarrels are actually wholesome for they whet the wits of children and likewise force them to compromise and make up after a feud, all of which tends to prepare them for happier adulthood.

William James, eminent pioneer psychologist, said his family was so successful because "We whetted our wits on each other's in table debates."

DADS, BEWARE

Fathers should also remember that dollars don't make up for personal time with youngsters.

Nor does a fat college insurance policy take the place of playing with your child and helping him over the rough spots, both in children's games as well as their lessons.

Worry more about creating a fondness for school in the minds of your youngsters than about a college educational fund.

For if you don't help them like school by becoming proficient in their lessons, they'll become so soured on education that they'll never go to college, anyway.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Rate yourselves thereon every three months.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Greenland Has Mystery of Lost Norse Colony

WASHINGTON—Greenland, like North Carolina, has a "Lost Colony" mystery. A Norse settlement, established in the late 10th century, vanished 500 years later when supply ships from home failed to call. Legend says Eskimo invaders killed the starving colonists.

The average American walks about 7½ miles a day; mailmen over 20 miles, policemen 14, a housewife about five.

'Stolen' in Line of Duty

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A 23-year-old airman who "borrowed" a taxi cab because he was in a hurry to catch a train convinced police that he had no criminal intent. The airman said he visited several taverns while waiting for a train, and only took the cab so that he could reach Union Station before the train left. He was released without charge.

New Zealand's place in the world economic pattern is largely supported by the sheep and cattle industry.

Love Knows No Bounds

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A 20-year-old woman was issued a reckless driving citation because, police said, she rammed her automobile twice into a car occupied by her husband and another woman. Officers quoted Mrs. Connie Lou Lord as saying: "I was mad at my husband because he was late getting home from work and I went out to find him."

But Where's the Fire?

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP) — Volunteer fireman Ross Kirk messed the fire truck as it whizzed away to answer an alarm. Nonplussed, Kirk caught a ride on a city bus, but he needn't have bothered. It was a false alarm.

Climate May Be Uncomfortable, but It's Sure Healthful

Nebraskans Outlive Other Americans

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — It is here in Nebraska—home of the freeze and the brave—that lively women should weave their nests.

Not that Nebraska needs more women; it's already got enough to keep the competition tough and the men tender.

But the fact is that more women need Nebraska. For here on the windy plains, and within the boundaries of the occasional towns, a female's life span is longer than in any other state of the 48.

Even if a woman is only "average" of wind and limb—and what self-respecting lady would admit to that?"—she figures to live to be 74.

It's curious, considering that in some states where the cotton is high and the livin' is easier, an average girl has got to be pumped full of penicillin to endure to such a venerable and vital statistic. You'd think . . .

"You'd think people would stop making cracks about Nebraska weather and wake up," snapped a woman who has least 25 years to go. "We get mad when people talk about our climate. It gets cold in the winter, certainly. It gets hot in the summer, sure.

"But when you look at the vital statistics, every year you find that this kind of climate is what makes people hardy and happy!" Variety (from blizzard to sizzle) is not only the spice of life, it's a tonic to the system.

Nebraskans have tended to be a mite sensitive on the subject of weather since Dr. Richard Page, a Chicago researcher, dubbed their capital, Lincoln, the city with "about the least comfortable year-round climate in the U. S."

Using a theory he called "thermidity," Page analyzed extremes of hot and cold in each of the large cities of the 48 and came out with his comfort count.

A look at the 1956 figures shows that the life expectancy of women, at 74, is tops in the country; that the life expectancy of Nebraska man is 68.2 years, making them only two-tenths of a year less durable than South Dakota, the leader in male longevity; that Lincoln has one of the highest literacy rates of any city in the U.S.—which appears to prove that temperature extremes not only keep the body functioning huskily, but keep the brain racing vigorously as well.

SMARTER POPULATION

The percolating-brain theory is also borne out by the fact that "the elements of nature have made the population smarter than the average guy in a less rugged climate," according to the local lady.

Nebraskans still tell of the blizzard of '88, when nature seemed intent upon wiping them out. But, in the struggle for survival, gentlefolk were turned into geniuses.

One woman schoolteacher held her pupils together in the schoolhouse till the roof blew off, then tied them together with girls' skipping ropes and led them into a stack of wild hay, where they burrowed till the storm was through.

In the effete East, in the lethargic South, in warmly heated parlors and cool, quiet patios, people today are living in comfort.

. . . But not nearly, as any Nebraskan can tell you, so long.

The skirl of bagpipes will greet visitors in Ireland this spring during the Homecoming Festival, locally called An Tostal. A piping competition will be part of the island-wide whoopdedo. Incidentally, bagpipes, claim the Irish, were invented on the "ould sod" and exported to Scotland.

He Leads House Committee

Taber, Close With Cash, Backs More Postal Funds

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The man who is leading the drive to give Postmaster General Arthur S. Summerfield the money he wants has been the most consistent economy advocate the House has seen in decades.

Rep. John Taber (R-NY), ranking GOP member of the House Appropriations Committee, believes Summerfield should get 41 million dollars and be allowed to keep mail services going on Saturdays.

It was Taber who led the move to reverse an earlier vote that would have limited Summerfield to spending an additional 17 million dollars between now and June 30.

This is a switch for the 77-year-old Auburn, N.Y., native. In fact, the New Yorker's big, gruff voice has been heard so often in favor of reducing spending that he has been nicknamed—with some fondness—"Meat-ax John."

CHAIRMAN AT TIME

Taber was chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the 80th Congress when several billion dollars of World War II appropriations were re-captured by Congress.

There have been exceptions, of course, to his drive to save the taxpayers' money.

No one ever worked harder to keep a military facility open than Taber did in trying to maintain the Sampson Air Force Base in his congressional district.

He was successful until last June, when the Pentagon finally decided it couldn't afford to keep the installation going any longer.

Taber has been around Washington so long—he's been in Congress longer than any other Republican except another upstate New Yorker, Rep. Daniel Reed—that he's not cowed by anyone, including the President of the United States.

Other GOP leaders report that Taber has strongly criticized President Eisenhower's record peacetime spending program at recent White House meetings with the chief executive.

Taber was awarded a bachelor of arts degree from Yale University in 1902 and was graduated from New York Law School two years later. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1904, elected to Congress in 1922, and married in 1929.

Air Age Creates Legal Tangles

No International Code Applicable for Births, Deaths in Skies

PARIS (INS) — Man is traveling too fast today for the law to keep pace with him.

As civilian air transport enters the jet age, international lawmakers still are discussing problems that arose back in 1912 when it looked as if flying machines would really fly.

The result is that there is no single world-wide rule applicable to births, deaths, crimes, weddings or even drawing of wills and contracts on aircraft in flight.

A recent childbirth on a passenger plane in flight served to focus attention on the possible complications that can be caused by the present absence of an international convention on what is officially known as "The Juridical Status of Aircraft."

Mrs. Frita Fangal, 24-year-old wife of an Austrian official stationed in London, gave birth to a daughter aboard an Israeli airliner between Amsterdam and Vienna.

The baby's nationality raised a difficult problem.

Was it Israeli because she was born in an Israeli plane?

German because the birth took place over Germany?

Austrian because her parents are Austrian?

Or can she claim all three nationalities?

The U. N. International Civilian Aviation Orangization, which has its European and African regional offices in Paris, will not venture a ruling.

MATS Leads Carriers

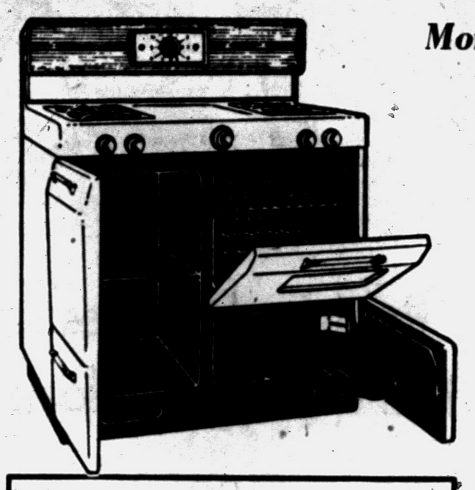

WASHINGTON — The Military Air Transport Service is the world's largest air-freight carrier. Last year MATS flew 580,000,000 ton-miles of cargo and mail for its one customer, the Defense Department. The total is more than the combined haulage of the five largest United States airlines.

Hal Boyle Says:

Stage Fever Inspires Show Planes

NEW YORK (AP) — How would you like to fly around the earth and attend the top shows in all the world's entertainment capitals?

"We're planning such a tour right now for some time after Christmas," said Betty Murray, one of Broadway's most unusual idea girls.

"There will be plenty of people who'll want to go."

Miss Murray, known as "The Show Plane Lady," is perhaps the most stagestruck woman in America. She was a varsity player on the clavichord and the oboe in college, but now she plays all her concertos on an even more lovable instrument — the cash register.

"My mother was a singer and my father was a comedian," she said, "and I yearned to do high idealistic things in the theater myself. But I found my real talent was as a promoter."

Betty came to Broadway with a headful of dreams back in 1947. She took the first job she could find — as a switchboard jockey and utility typist for a local radio station. Then she began promoting trade shows.

In 1954 the tall, slender blue-eyed girl caught the attention of Herman Shumlin, producer of "Inherit the Wind." He made her a production assistant.

"It's something like bird watching," said Betty drily. "You observe everything — and make notes."

Shortly thereafter she heard a group of producers griping about the summer lull along Broadway. She reasoned that the hinterland must be full of people who'd like to fly to a weekend in New York and fill all those empty seats.

"But many people hate to come here by themselves," she said.

They also hate to make hotel and theater reservations. Why couldn't I set up a simple package deal to take care of them?"

She did. She found the woods were full of folks thrilled to find out that for $37.50 plus plane fare they could stay at a hotel in Manhattan, dine at Sardi's, meet theatrical celebrities at a cocktail party and attend two Broadway plays.

The first show plane proved an immediate success. Since then Betty, as founder and president of the American Theater Institute, has ferried 25,000 playgoers here by plane and bus from all parts of America, Cuba and Canada.

The idea has become a multi-million-dollar enterprise. Betty has had no difficulty getting famous Broadway producers and actors to attend her cocktail parties.

"They all realize it helps create an audience for their next play," she said.

Next month Betty will shepherd a group of 71 theater lovers on her first "International Show Plane" trip to Europe. They will attend performances in England, Paris, and Rome, meet Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Mario Lanza — and play a bit of roulette at Monte Carlo.

The round-the-world trip will follow at the end of the year.

Now hailed as a new saviour of the legitimate theater, Betty yearns to be an angel — in the Broadway meaning of the term.

"I'd like to produce a fine play, something real and artistically sincere," she said, "even if it winds up a commercial flop.

"Then, after I've got that out of my system, maybe I'll go back and take up the clavichord and obe again."

Color Guns for Safety

William G. Krebs, representative of a Worcester, Mass., arms manufacturing firm, introduced a brilliant "hunter safety" red lacquered stock on a .410 shotgun at the National Sporting Goods Assn. Show. The stock also is furnished in green, blue, yellow, black and blond.

He says it is a new feature designed to develop hunter safety.

Golden hamsters are among the most prolific of all mammals. Millions in captivity today are descended from a single litter of 12 found in a burrow near Aleppo, Syria, in 1930.

Faces Court Martial at Poitiers

GI, AWOL 11 Years, Pleads Amnesia, Tells Wierd Tale of French War Service

POITIERS, France (INS) — A World War II GI, who pleads amnesia as the reason for his 11-year "absence without leave" from the Army, faces desertion charges at a general court martial in Poitiers Tuesday, April 16.

The Army claims that Brooklyn born private Vito Sala, 32, deserted his unit, Co. A, 398th Infantry, while under fire at Heilbronn, Germany in 1945.

At that time, they said, Sala asked and received permission to go to the rear in order to replace his damaged bazooka. He was not seen or heard from again until September 1956 when he wrote the Army's adjutant general from Marseilles.

In the letter he claimed he was just recovering from amnesia and asked for the location of his former outfit.

Arrested by military police on Oct. 13, 1956, Sala was taken to the Army's hospital at Landstuhl, Germany, for medical and mental examinations.

Authorities there determined that he was responsible to answer the desertion charge.

TOOK NEW NAME

The Army's investigation has shown that Sala worked for four years in Germany under the name of Angelo Turco, after his disappearance.

Records of the French Foreign Legion show that under the same name the Brooklyn soldier served in that organization from 1949 until his discharge last year.

As Legionnaire Turco, Sala served with distinction in the first Algerian campaign and in 1953 volunteered for service in Indochina.

In 1954, he was released from Communist captivity and rejoined his unit in Algeria. There, he fought for two more years against the nationalist rebels until his discharge in 1956.

BEGAN TO REMEMBER

In his statement to Army authorities, Sala said that he had begun to recover his memory after he was wounded at Dienbienphu.

Little by little, he said he had begun to speak English in place of the German and French he had been using exclusively for almost 10 years.

Indiana's Right-to-Work Bill Sparks Action in Other States

INDIANAPOLIS (INS)—The enactment of a so-called "right-to-work" law in industrialized Indiana has added momentum to the progress of similar legislation in other states.

Labor leaders, who have retitled such laws "right-to-wreck-unions," are preparing for tough battles against bills which have been introduced in the legislatures of Illinois, Ohio, Connecticut and Delaware.

Only a few weeks ago, Kansas adopted a bill for a referendum on the question in the 1958 election.

Indiana is the most highly-industrialized of the 18 states which now have "right-to-work" laws. The others are:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Mississipp Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia.

NOT A CONDITION

Basically, the laws declare that membership or non-membership in a labor organization shall not be made a condition of the right to work, or to become an employe of, or continue in the employe of any employer.

The Taft-Hartley Law outlaws compulsory unionism under the closed shop but leaves the responsibility for outlawing compulsory unionism under the union shop up to the individual states, according to advocates of the legislation.

A statement of the Indiana right-to-work committee said:

"The basic right of an employe to join a union is adequately protected by law. The right of an employe not to join a union also should be protected by law."

KILLS CLOSED SHOP

The union leaders maintain the laws kill closed shop agreements under which both employers and unionists have profited. They add that the majority should rule among workers and that there should be no "free riders" in benefits obtained by unions.

Ten thousand unionists marched on the Indiana State House demanding that Governor Harold W. Handley veto the bill after the House of Representatives passed it, 54 to 42, and the Senate, 27 to 23. The governor permitted it to become a law without his signature.

An act of strike violence at Oakland City, Ind., had much to do with the bill's enactment. The child of two employes who refused to walk out in a strike at a plant in Princeton, Ind., suffered head injuries when someone fired into the trailer home of the parents.

RECALL VIOLANCE

Legislators also were said to have remembered violence at the strike-bound plant of the Perfect Circle Corporation in New Castle, Ind., during which eight persons were shot or otherwise injured.

Lawmakers of other states may be influenced by recent Senate committee disclosures of the activities of Dave Beck, Teamsters' union president, and other labor leaders, according to the right-to-work advocates.

Under the Indiana law, any corporation or individual or association or labor organization which violates the statute may, upon conviction, be fined up to $100 and imprisoned for 10 days.

The law also provides for civil damages for persons injured financially or otherwise by violators.

The Indiana law actually will not take effect until some time this summer because the statutes must first be printed and bound and receipted for by the clerks of 92 counties.

Meanwhile, several labor leaders have made overtures to employers offering favorable terms for continuation of present closed shop contracts.

These present contracts would not be affected by the new law until their expiration.

Of the 400,000 or more wives who each year become widows, 11,000 are under 25 years of age and about 57,000 are under 35 years old.

Men's Sport Clothes Take on Luxury Look

Leisure-minded American men will spend this spring and summer in the best looking, most luxuriously tailored casual clothing in history.

Reflecting the increased time men now devote to family and at-home activities, leisure attire has pre-empted top position in the male wardrobe. The current "dress up" trend pervades business and formal clothes, too, but it is most significant and apparent in clothes for weekends, vacations and other free time.

Summer weather puts the emphasis on sports clothes for both big men and little. This young man wears a smartly styled coordinate suit, consisting of striped red and brown flannel jacket and brown flannel slacks. His dad wears a four-button sport coat in lightweight gray wool with stripes of dark gray and black.

Today's smartly styled sport clothes are in sharp contrast to the "sloppy look" of a few years ago. Somehow, the incongruity of wearing a $1.98 sportshirt while at the wheel of a $3,000 car has finally struck home to millions of American males.

Men know that today's gleaming cars and spotless suburban homes call for better, more elegantly tailored leisure attire.

NEATNESS EMPHASIZED

Clothes for more formal occasions are trim, neat and comfortable. Sportswear is dressed up to the point at which it, too, is trim and neat as well as comfortable.

Is there, for instance, anything more elegant than this spring's brand new "yachting" coat? If it sounds stuffy, it isn't. There's nothing that illustrates at-ease elegance more.

The yachting coat is a lightweight wool flannel double-breasted sport coat that's slimly cut and comfortable, but one of the best looking casual jackets a man can own. Needless to say, the coat is for wear wherever a sport coat is right. Its use is not limited to strolling on the after-deck.

COATS GO DRESS-UP

All of this spring's sport coats have this neat, dressed-up air. Take the five-ounce muted glen plaid worsted. Team it with a solid-colored sportshirt and cambridge gray flannels, and it can't be beat.

The cut of the modified "hacking" jacket gives an elegant look to the sport coat wardrobe. Introduced in novelty jackets a couple of seasons ago, the "hacking" jacket is on its way to top popularity this spring and summer in both men's and boys' wear.

SUITS DOUBLE BREASTED

In suits, the newest and most elegant model is the double-breasted with the single-breasted look. It's cut on very slim lines, has narrowly spaced buttons and an overlap that is next to non-existent. In medium gray with light gray feather stripe it is handsome.

Both suits and sport jackets are extremely light in weight. Shetlands and tweeds are lighter than ever before and in suits featherweight all-wool tropicals are the best-sellers.

Colors, too, are lighter, with greatest interest in light gray, tan, blue and brown.

As for pattern, solids with surface interest like the new tan in tan pebble-effect tropical are top preference with patterns and plains running very close behind.

LOOK OF LUXURY

Evidence of the look of luxury is apparent in every item of apparel from hats, where the small, trim shape reigns and the homburg vies for attention, to shoes where glossy finishes to go with the luster of wool suitings will dress up even grained leather.

There is emphasis too, in shoes, on continental stylings with their long fronts, trim two, three and four-eyelet models, and slip-ons.

The overall picture is one of a neater, trimmer man, dressed casually for leisure living, but dressed up, not down.

For a man to look as elegant as his suit or coat, coordination is of great importance. No matter how trim the design or how neat the tailoring, the desired result is not achieved unless an outfit is put together with care. Selecting the proper shirt, tie, shoes and hat is all-important in making the "right clothes" look right.

But Men Require More Calories Than Women

Husbands Can Use Wives' Reducing Diets

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

While there are plenty of men who are overweight and the term bay window has more than one meaning, women are more likely than men to accumulate extra luggage. There are several reasons for this.

In the first place, a good cook tastes the food she prepares in order to see that it is seasoned properly. Then, too, the woman is around the house much of each day and therefore has more temptation to snack than her husband does.

Women also are likely to drop sports earlier than men. Another factor is the fact that the average woman indulges in much more daytime social life than the average man.

Nevertheless, men also have their health and figure problems. Today correct weight is thought of as a health measure as well as an aid to good looks. Heart disease seems to be the No. 1 hazard for men, even men in the prime of life. Overweight zooms the probability that this may happen to them.

Women often wish to know if their husbands can use the same reducing diet they are using. He can use it in principle as a guide in planning well-balanced meals, but he requires more calories than his wife even when losing weight. This is because of his greater stature.

So, he can eat the same items but take larger helpings. When his wife has one poached egg he can have two, when she has one helping of lean meat, he can have a larger one or a second helping, just so long as he keeps track of his calorie intake.

A GOOD TIME

Lunchtime is a good time for men to cut down on their calories. If they have an adequate breakfast and dinner they can eat high protein, vitamin and mineral, but low-calorie lunches.

This is also profitable because a heavy lunch bogs one down and makes quick, clear thinking more difficult.

Every once in a while I give a day or so to the men who read this column. If you would like to have my Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet, which gives you a loss of from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

DON'T TALK ABOUT BEAUTY ROUTINES

Men love the results of beauty care but they hate to hear about the mechanics of it. After all it takes some of the kick out of looking at a lovely woman if you must also think of her as greased to the hilt with her hair in pincurls and doing exercises for fallen arches!

It is much nicer to take it for granted that her hair is naturally curly, that she was born with lashes that thick and long, and that her charming insteps are here to stay.

Our friends and relatives are bored by our talk about reducing. It is much better to allow them to think that beautiful curves are an unsought heritage rather than let them know that they were won with self-discipline and hard labor.

Social life presents us with one of the biggest problems involved in losing weight. If we go out and entertain a lot this really can sabotage our efforts to lose weight. There are a few tricks which will help save you.

In the first place, take some of everything. You do not have to eat it all and you can take small helpings of calorie high food, but it is a mistake to refuse food which your hostess has taken the trouble to prepare or to plan for you. You can politely refuse second helpings.

A LIGHT SUPPER

If you are going out for luncheon or having friends in, then eat a very light supper, such as fresh fruit and skimmed milk. If you are going out for dinner, just drink a glass of milk or fruit juice at lunch. This will help make up for the heavier-than-usual food you will have once that day.

When you are hostess it is just about as difficult to refuse food. In the first place you want your guests to enjoy their dinner and if you eat very little you will make them feel like gluttons, which certainly is not what one is supposed to make guests feel like. You can follow the same routine whether you are hostess or guest.

All of this reminds me that I never hear a man mention reducing even when he is on a low calorie diet. Do you?

Tomorrow: "Men, It's Your Turn —Exercises Are for You."

Why are women more likely to accumulate extra weight? One reason — a good cook tastes the food she prepares in order to see that it is seasoned properly.

Fashion Hint

Girls want to be smaller everywhere except in the bust it seems and smallness here is not compensated by wearing falsies because girls become selfconscious. So indulge in a wardrobe of gloriously full blouses which accentuate the bust.

Brides: Mold Husbands When Marriage Is New

It's Almost Impossible to Change Them Once They Get Set in Their Ways

By RUTH MILETT

Attention, spring brides.

It's almost impossible to change a husband once he gets set in his ways. Start him out right when the marriage is new.

Decide what jobs you think are "man's work" and leave them for him to do. Do them once and you'll be stuck with them.

Don't let him get into the habit of coming home night after night complaining he's tired. He owes you a little of his best self, too.

So instead of offering him sympathy and an easy chair, go ahead and cook up a little fun a few nights a week.

A movie may do more to make him feel relaxed than sitting at home. There's nothing more tiring than boredom, and he'll soon be bored if you don't have any social life.

Set up some kind of business partnership so that you don't have to ask him for money. Having to ask a husband for money gets to be frustrating in a hurry.

URGE HIM TO WRITE

Don't take on his responsibility to his family. It is much better to encourage him to write his parents than for you to take over the job. Your letters to them should be in addition to his, not in place of them.

Don't let your companionship be all one-sided. Let him share your interests as you share his.

Don't let him turn his paycheck over to you. It is better for the man of the house to pay the bills. Wives who grab the purse strings early in marriage often find themselves saddled with all the financial worries.

It is much, much easier—as any experienced wife will tell you—to start a husband off on the right track than to try to switch him later on.

Hoedowners Club Picks New Officers

Leonard Buzz was elected president of Hoedowners Square Dance Club for the coming year, when 31 couples attended the final dance of the season Saturday evening at Owen School.

Calling the quadrilles during the evening were Mr. Beauchamp, Mr. Elsholz, Glen Hartung, Duane Brown, Howard Hatfield, Ted Hoyt, and Fred Froede who also served as master of ceremonies.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. William Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Al Jackson.

Salad Mold With Meat Is Hearty

Mrs. Slankster Uses Corned Beef and Raw Vegetables

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

As the days lengthen into spring and summer, salad menus are more welcome. A filling salad like this corned beef mold can be the main course. Add bread of some kind and a simple dessert.

Mrs. Harold Slankster shares this recipe with us. She has used it for years and found it a favorite every time. We know it isn't to be found in any one of the four dozen cookbooks we have.

Golf, bowling and Bridge are Mrs. Slankster's hobbies. She and her husband belong to the Viernes Dance Club.

CORNED BEEF MOLD
By Mrs. Harold J. Slankster

1¼ cups boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 can corned beef, shredded
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped
½ cucumber, chopped
4-5 radishes, sliced

½ cup chopped celery
Chopped green pepper

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add salt and vinegar and cool. Add rest of ingredients and chill. Cut into squares and serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

Lawmaker Also Known as Magician

Rep. Kenneth Gray of Illinois Mystifies Partygoers

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Rep. Kenneth Gray (D-Ill), with the glib chant of the professional auctioneer, has sold hundreds of automobiles, from $25 "clunkers" to $5,000 Cadillacs in a single afternoon.

He is a magician. Once he took the shirt off a man without removing his coat. (He made a burning cigarette disappear before my eyes while we were talking.)

He's a mind-reader. At a recent Washington party for members of Congress he had a group of senators and congressmen fit to be tied.

Lining them up, four or five at a time, he asked each to select a word from a magazine and concentrate on it. Out of 40 tries he nailed the right word each time.

What is more amazing is his uncanny success as a "premental" telepathist. He predicted the exact word that would be chosen from any given magazine even before anyone could volunteer to undergo the test.

SKEPTICAL AUDIENCE

He secretly wrote down a word on a piece of paper, folded it, and handed it to a woman in the flabbergasted, and admittedly skeptical, audience.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr. (D-Pa), the volunteer, picked up a magazine at random, selected a word, concentrated on it.

When time was called, Clark spelled out his word. The lady stood up, spelled out the word on the paper. They were the same.

"I only do these things for fun now, or to raise money for charity and other worthy causes," the congressman said. "I'm a dedictated lawmaker, not a magician, mind-reader or auctioneer."

Gray, born in West Frankfort, Ill., November 14, 1924, is the second youngest member of the 85th Congress.

John Dingell (R-Mich) at 30 is the youngest.

AUTO BUSINESS

Before he got into politics, which first brought him to Congress in 1954, Gray was in the automobile business.

Final Lenten Dinner Held by WSCS

The Rev. J. Kenneth Hossmaster spoke on "The Challenge of the Three Crosses" at the Thursday meeting of the WSCS of Oakland Park Methodist Church. Mrs. Albert Barker was re-elected president of the group.

The meeting also marked the final Lenten dinner series at the church. Members of the Pontiac High School Senior Girls' Ensemble presented vocal selections.

It's Easy to Win Youngster's Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Though the bus was crowded, half of the seat in front of me was still available.

Then, on a new surge of passengers, it became occupied. A young mother carrying a small girl, about 2 years old, deposited her in the seat.

She just had time to give her a packet of peppermints and a reassuring "I'll be right behind you" when the crowd shoved her past us to the rear of the bus.

The small girl relaxed. Wriggling back more comfortably in her seat, she set herself to unwrap her candy. But the stiff folds of its silver foil wrapping resisted he After a moment's struggle with it, she looked hopefully at the middle-aged woman who sat beside her.

But she got no help. Instead of opening the candy for her, her neighbor said, "You do it. Just pull the paper away, a little piece at a time."

BACK TO WORK

The small girl stared for a moment. Then, obediently she went back to work on the candy wrapper. When, after several pulls, a piece finally tore off, she looked to her seat mate for new guidance.

"Good," the woman said, "Go on."

Six blocks later, when the small girl achieved her first peppermint, her friend gave her a quiet little round of applause.

Instead of putting the candy in her mouth, the small girl leaned back against the seat, the pepper mint forgotten, to beam devotedly upon her friend.

She went on beaming at her when her mother suddenly appeared to pick her up. She kept her eyes fixed unswervingly on her as she was borne to the exit. Out on the street, she dragged back on her mother's hand to keep the friend's face still in sight.

But what impressed me most was what happened as our bus slid away from the curb. That small girl of not more than 2 years suddenly tore her hand free from her parent's to wave goodby to the woman who sat in front of me.

A SIMPLE RULE

The rule for winning a child's love is simple. You permit him to experience his own powers instead of parading your own "helpfulness."

"We have faith in others' potentialities," writes psychoanalyst Erich Fromm, "only to the degree to which we have experienced growth of our own potentialities." Parents who must always be showing off their "helpfulness" to children do so out of suspicion of it.

Glen plaid makes a major invasion of boys' clothes for spring. It's an ideal dress-up suit for any youngster.

Fashion Hint

Printed raincoats are new in the Paris spring collections. They blossom with vivid flowers on shiny black and come with matching umbrellas.

Sophisticated Paradox

Separates Are Versatile

Some like classic country clothes worked out in high-style prints. Others combine gossamer, feminine tops with heavy denim or sailcloth skirts and pants, reports the National Cotton Council.

Floral-printed sailcloth in a putty, pink, gold and green tapestry designs used for long and short versions of slim "corny" pants with bibs cut like a farmer's.

The same fabric is also used for an easy-fitting blazer and Bermuda shorts. For contrast, grassy green cotton broadcloth "work" shirts are worn with the cornies, blending sophistication with practicality.

SHEERS ARE NEW

Big news on the patio or roundabout a beach house are the cotton sheers, seen most importantly in the chiffon blouson.

Black lace-trimmed cotton broadcloth matador shirts, in both long-sleeved and sleeveless versions, are combined with gondola stripes in tomato red and white tapered duck pants with turned-up cuffs.

Fashion Hint

Stiff, unyielding, harsh fabric in mannish tailoring is strictly for the pretty, youthful woman. A soft band shoulder treatment, a velvet collar, and wool that is soft to the touch, these flatter the elderly matron.

Scrappy Kitten Sets Fine Example

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Cervantes said once that when a threatening thing happens to a puppy, a baby and a kitten, they react as follows:

The puppy slinks off, frightened, its tail between its legs; the baby cries for its mommy; but the kitten stands its ground, hissing and ready to attack.

The same thing is true of human beings when trouble strikes—we either collapse from fright, cry for help from others or settle down to battle it out ourselves.

The latter is, of course, the successful way. If you can take it on faith that every problem has a solution, then you can, as soon as it rears its head, get all your energy together to solve it.

In fact, it's that very first reaction that determines in most cases, the whole outcome.

Mrs. N. is a good example of that.

Her life has been no easier than most, but she has trained herself to solve problems as they come up—no matter how difficult.

"I learned early in life," she told me, "that the energy we usually put into fear, regret and self-pity is more than enough energy to solve the problem in the first place."

I met Mrs. N. because people had been telling me about her fascinating cooking classes for children. Every Tuesday and Saturday she teaches a group of youngsters from 10 to 14.

The boys learn how to cook barbecue dishes and hamburgers and all kinds of "masculine" specialties and the girls run the whole gamut.

The classes are very inexpensive and are held in Mrs. N.'s own kitchen—or in her back yard when it's warm.

"I make about $15 a week over the expenses of materials and so forth," Mrs. N. told me. "And it's such fun! I began it the day after I learned we couldn't adopt a baby.

"We can't have any of our own and, because my husband and I married late in life, the adoption agencies think we're too old to adopt children.

"It was a terrible disappointment, but I decided to have children in our lives, anyway.

"I handle the Tuesday afternoon class myself, but Harry joins me in the Saturday one and has a good time.

"Of course, we get friendly with the children, and the 'graduates' keep in touch with us, even when they go off to college. It's a little like having a family of one's own."

A REAL JACKPOT

There's a woman who could have made self-pity a lifework, but instead, met it with courage and collected a real jackpot!

Public Reaction for Budget Cut

See Trend on Prestige of Ike; 'Economy-but' Letters Coming Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said today he has received a "tremendously favorable" public response to his demand that Congress slash what he criticized as President Eisenhower's incredible spending budget.

The reaction to Goldwater's criticisms of Eisenhower in a Senate speech last week is being watched closely by Democrats as well as Republicans. As a possible indicator of the trend of Eisenhower's popularity, these returns could egg along bolder political attacks on the President.

Goldwater, former chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview he has not received a single letter disagreeing with his criticisms of Eisenhower. He said his office is "swamped" with mail from all over the country, from "intelligent citizens, not crackpots," urging, he said, "Go to it. We're behind you."

Budget-cutting talk continued to echo elsewhere in the capital too, with Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Bridges (R-NH) predicting the Senate will sustain a "major share" of the more than a billion dollars of cuts made by the House in Eisenhower's peacetime record budget requests.

Byrd reported "a new attitude" among senators in favor of economy. Birdges said his mail is running heavily in favor of cuts but he added that "the 'economy-but' people are beginning to be heard from in connection with the House reductions."

"They are the ones," he continued, "who want us to save money, but to restore the spending for projects they are interested in."

Girls Attempt to Spend Night on Navy Tugboat

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Two Massachusetts girls were back home today after failing to spend the night aboard a Navy vessel.

The girls, a 17-year-old from Cambridge and a 16-year-old from Somerville, went to see a sailor friend Saturday but found he had ship duty.

They wandered around Newport until their cash ran out and they were unable to return home.

When they came to a sailor keeping a lonely vigil on a Navy tugboat they asked if they could spend the remainder of the night aboard.

He permitted them to do so, but an inspecting officer found them a short while later and took them to Newport police station.

The girls' parents returned them home. The girls' names were not divulged.

Pop Said 'Pop Question'

WORKSOP, England (AP) — Clothier George Haslam, 67, stressed in announcing his engagement to Florence Beety, 23, that his 90-year-old father approved the match. He told a reporter: "I was worried because I thought gossips would say there's no fool like an old fool. But dad could see I was in love and told me to pop the question."

Pickpocket Candid

CAIRO (AP) — The cops were curious when an Egyptian applying for an identity card listed his profession as a pickpocket. The man's explanation, which seemed satisfactory, was that he would have been guilty of making a false statement in an official document if he had described his profession otherwise.

Russia Exploits Satellites in the Quest for Uranium

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Behind the firm Soviet intention to control satellite states in East Europe is the fact that those states possess uranium, the atomic bomb ingredient.

Moscow is benefiting from mines and deposits in Czechoslovakia, Romania, Poland, East Germany, Bulgaria and Hungary.

In subjugated Hungary the anti-Red ferment is still so strong after last fall's revolution that Moscow has been forced to promise that it will re-examine its existing uranium treaty with the puppet Janos Kadar government.

Reliable refugees who slipped out of Hungary told in detail how the Soviets exploited the rich uranium deposits in the Pecs area in southern Hungary. All this was done in great secrecy to try to conceal the fact from the Hungarian people.

Deposits were found in the Pecs area in the fall of 1954. Russia then concluded in 1955 a secret agreement with the satellite state whereby Moscow received long-term, exclusive rights to exploit and utilize Hungarian uranium deposits.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT

The Soviet Union provided 70 per cent of the capital investment to produce the ore. This was done in the form of machinery. Hungary put up the remaining 30 per cent. Hungary also was required to repay half of the Soviet investment —in uranium ore.

In this account given by refugees considered reliable, the Soviet Union was to return to Hungary 10 per cent of the ore after it was processed in Soviet works.

But the catch is that the Soviet Union fixes prices, meaning that Hungary is committed to deliver ore to the Soviet Union on unfavorable terms for an indefinite period.

Two other vital points in the agreement were reported. Hungary may not without Russian consent agree for any other state to exploit or process the ore. And the agreement applies not only to known deposits but to all ore discovered subsequently.

Workers in the Pecs area were told not to divulge the fact that uranium was being mined. The impression was given that the mines were producing bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is made.

Even Hungarian authorities were not told what was going on. Last Nov. 1 a Hungarian atomic scientist, Professor Janossy, in an interview recorded by Radio Budapest, complained:

"The Soviet authorities closely guarded anything connected with uranium . . . the Hungarian experts were left in the dark. I, the vice chairman of the former Atomic Energy Commission, received no information . . . I do not know the terms of the contract with the Soviet Union."

This bold talk, of course, was permitted only because this was three days before Soviet tanks re-entered Budapest and crushed the revolt.

Hungarian miners wrecked and flooded the uranium mines during the revolt. But Soviet officials now are reported to have resumed production.

Report of His Death False, Doctor Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Henry M. Scheer says he wants it known that reports of his death are inaccurate.

He said his family has received more than 50 telephone calls, letters and telegrams of condolence. He is worried that his practice will dwindle because patients won't call if they think him dead.

The misunderstanding arose when another Dr. Henry Scheer died recently. The death notice appeared in newspapers. That started the trouble for the living Dr. Scheer.

Scheer said some of his friends attended the funeral of the other doctor and others have stopped his wife on the street to offer sympathy.

Modern tennis was introduced in the United States in 1874.

ROK Police Arrest Last Red Guerrillas

SEOUL (AP) — National police claimed today that for the first time since the Korean War ended more than 3½ years ago, Communist guerrillas have been wiped out in South Korea.

The police said they arrested the last two guerrillas last month on Cheju Island, off the southwestern tip of the peninsula.

The pair, Oh Wun Kwun, 41, and his 22-year-old woman companion, Han Soon Ae, were brought to police headquarters in Seoul this week for questioning.

Police Director Suh Chung Hak said the once-large Communist guerrilla force now is completely out of existence.

Both Oh and the woman claimed they had been held against their will by a guerrilla chief recently shot to death. Police said no action would be taken against them and they would be allowed to return to their families on Cheju.

Scene of Christ's Temple Visit Still Holy

Moslem Shrine Occupies Old Jewish Temple Site

EDITORS NOTE: Nowhere on this earth is war closer than in Palestine, the very region which heard Christ's voice and felt His footstep. Here is the first in a series of five reports on the condition at Easter, 1957, of sites Christ made holy by His presence nearly 2,000 years ago.

JERUSALEM, Jordan (AP) — Inside the walls of Old Jerusalem is a quiet courtyard surrounding a mosque and beautiful dome. Some people here believe the trumpet will sound on Judgement Day from a rock beneath the dome and that souls of the dead will be weighed in balance scales hanging from nearby arches.

This is holy ground. Foreigners can enter only by special permission. In some sections, shoes must be removed or heavy slippers put on.

Known to the Arabs as the "Haram es Sherif" (August Sanctuary), this enclosure covers the site of the Jewish Temple of Jesus' day. When Jesus was 12, His parents brought Him from Nazareth to visit the Temple here.

While the family was on the north road back to Nazareth, Jesus remained in the Temple with the learned "doctors," astonishing them with His questions and answers.

It was His first effort as a teacher of mankind and the only event of Jesus' boyhood related in the Bible.

Many changes have taken place in this area since Jesus was here. The Jewish Temple has been destroyed for nearly 2,000 years. No Jewish priests can enter the area today. But the temple site still is a sacred religious enclosure where learned "doctors" of another faith gather for endless discussion and study.

BELONGS TO MOSLEMS

The Temple area now is a sacred Moslem shrine, the third most holy place in Islam. The contemporary "doctors" are Moslem sheikhs, some of whom come from thousands of miles away to spend their lives in religious contemplation.

These learned Moslems spread carpets or mats on the stone floor of the courtyard and debate minute theological problems for hours.

Sometimes one will sit apart from the others. With his legs crossed and the Koran opened on a small wooden rack, he will chant Koranic passages by the hour, his body swaying rhythmically.

Sometimes a learned sheikh will have a small boy sitting in front of him for religeous instruction. The sight of such a youngster in a full-length robe sitting at the feet of a sheikh recalls the incident when the boy Jesus talked to the doctors on the same spot.

SACRED ROCK REMAINS

Of the Temple which Jesus visited, there remains a sacred rock which once formed the Jewish altar. On the rock may be seen the channels down which the blood of sacrificed animals flowed when Jewish priests worshipped here.

This rock supposedly was the altar on which Abraham offered to sacrifice Isaac long before Jerusalem became the center of the Hebrew kingdom.

When David established his capital here, he was ordered to build an altar on the threshing-floor of Araunah the Jebusite, which was the same rock. The altar then became the focal point of Solomon's Temple and later the Temple rebuilt by King Herod at the time of Christ.

Moslems built the "Dome of the Rock" on the ruins of the Jewish Temple in the Seventh Century. The rock beneath the dome is now considered the third most sacred site in the Moslem world, behind only Mecca and Medina. It was from this rock that Moslems say the Prophet Mohammed was taken up into Heaven on his horse.

LEGENDS ABOUND

The sacredness of this site has given rise to many legends among superstitious persons here. According to one, the trumpet signalling the Day of Judgment will be sounded from this rock and an arcade standing nearby will hold the scales in which the souls of men will be weighed.

Another legend has it that the dead gather twice a week for prayer in a pit underneath the rock.

Apart from the rock-altar, the only visible remains of the Temple of Jesus' day is the so-called "wailing wall." This stone wall rising from the slums of Old Jerusalem is probably the most sacred spot on earth for Jews. Yet no Jews have visited it since Palestine was partitioned by the Arab-Jewish war of 1948.

Jews believe this wall formed part of Herod's Temple, which was still new when Jesus visited it at the age of 12. The massive stone structure forms the western wall of the Moslem Haram es Sherif.

The wall is Moslem property, but before the 1948 war Jews had recognized rights here.

They could stand (but not sit) before the wall and pray. They were not allowed to bring chairs or benches or build any kind of buildings here.

In the heavy stone of the wall grooves have been worn away where for centuries Jews kissed and stroked the remnant of their Temple while they wailed its destruction and prayed for its restoration.

EASTER COLORING SERIES

1. Painting Easter Eggs

Once again it is Easter time.

This great Christian church festival commemorating the resurrection of Christ from the dead falls on a different day each year. But whenever it comes, Easter is a time of joy and hope.

The name Easter was taken from that of an ancient German goddess, Ostara. Some of the ancient customs of her springtime festival still survive. Notable among these is the exchange of Easter eggs.

Here is Peggy decorating some Easter eggs. She has finished the rabbit in the foreground, and you can see how the addition of a paper collar will dress up an egg and make a base to help it stand up. The egg in Peggy's hand started out to be just an ordinary face, but as she worked at it, the face seemed to become full of life and mischief, almost like a puppet.

Kids Invited to Join Scramble

Easter Egg Hunts Slated at 4 City Parks Saturday

The annual Parks and Recreation Dept. and Junior Chamber of Commerce Easter Egg Hunt will be held Saturday, April 20, at Beaudette, Oakland, Murphy and Jaycee Parks in Pontiac.

Leonard T. Buzz, recreational director for the department, said some 2,500 eggs will be provided as targets for an expected 3,000 scrambling kids.

Buzz said the contest, to begin at 2 p.m. at each park, will be open for boys and girls 11 years and under.

Prizes have not as yet been determined, Buzz said, but will be given for certain colored eggs designated as winners at the four parks.

"We're going this year, rain or shine, or even snow," Buzz promised the children.

He encouraged parents to take their children to the park nearest their home. Beaudette is at Orchard Lake avenue east of Telegraph; Oakland is at Montcalm and Glenwood; Murphy at East boulevard and Elm; and Jaycee is southwest of Malkim School at Joslyn and Walton boulevard.

Budget Worries Heap on Sheriff

Handles Funds for 576 Families of Violators in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (INS) — Having trouble with your housekeeping budget? Too many details? Too many places to spread too little money?

Then pity the Milwaukee County Sheriff's Department which wrestled with the budget problem of 576 families last year.

This unusual situation is the result of the county's unique method of handling misdemeanants sent to the County Jail for State violations.

The system — called the Huber Law — allows the prisoners to work at their regular jobs during the day, but keeps them in jail cells at night and on weekends.

TURN OVER PAY

The prisoners' paychecks are turned over to the Sheriff's department, which in turn arranges budgets for the families involved. Last year there were 576 persons who served time in the County Jail under the Huber provisions. Of this number, six were women.

The law went into effect in 1945 and three prisoners were given its advantages that year. The largest number to serve under the law since its inception was 748 in 1952.

The system has been exceptionally successful, according to Lt. Frank Callan, County Jailer and the man responsible for execution of the law's provisions. Last year, for example, only 71 prisoners failed to return at the appointed time, Callan said. Of these, 56 returned later after periods varying from one or two days to six months or more, he added.

Auto Kills Buffalo in New Mexico; Man OK—Car Not

RUIDOSO, N. M. (UP) — Paul Adam Cooter has a rare distinction in the traffic annals of the State of New Mexico.

He's probably the only man in the history of automobile travel in the state who has ever run over a buffalo.

Cotter, of Roswell, N. M., told state policeman R. W. Driggers he was driving east of here last night on U. S. 70-280.

He said he passed a car and saw, standing in the middle of the highway, a genuine American Bison.

Unable to stop, he struck the animal broadside, killing it instantly.

He will pay for the distinction though: although he was uninjured, damage to the front of his car was estimated at $500.

Driggers said the buffalo was owned by E. N. Hill, Riverside, N. M., and had escaped from a pen where it was being exhibited.

Senator Calls Reuther Honest

But Goldwater Presses Probe of UAW's Role in Wisconsin Strike

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) spoke up today in defense of an old adversary, UAW President Walter Reuther, but said he still wants to investigate Reuther's union tactics.

"I believe Reuther is an honest man," said Goldwater, a member of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

He said there is no conflict between this statement, which he said he made "in fairness," and his desire to investigate the role of Reuther and his United Auto Workers in a three-year-old strike the union still is pushing against the Kohler Co. in Kohler, Wis.

The firm now is operating with nonstrikers and new workers. It has accused the union of "violence and vandalism" and of boycott efforts. The union says the company has refused to bargain in good faith.

Goldwater said his own staff is looking into the legality of union tactics in that dispute.

Much of Goldwater's dispute with Reuther has revolved around the senator's contention that it is wrong to use union funds for political purposes.

The committee has no immediate plans for any kind of investigation of the auto workers union.

It opens Tuesday a brief series of hearings on what Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said was evidence that some labor union officials in the Scranton, Pa., area used "goon squad" violence to deprive union members of their rights.

Youth's Skull Penetrated by Homemade Arrow

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—A homemade arrow hit Jimmy Rains on the head, penetrating half an inch into his skull, and the 9-year-old boy was reported in serious condition today.

His father C. W. Rains said Jimmy and a cousin were shooting the arrow as high as they could yesterday.

Camera Assists Holdup Solution

Hidden Projector Films Bank Robbers in Ohio; 3 Now in Custody

CLEVELAND (UP)—The startling solution to a bank holdup, in which a movie camera made its debut as an arm of the police, has been making headlines here, but in the background are two old-fashioned detectives who noticed a red-haired girl in a restaurant.

The detectives, William Steele and Joseph David, admired the "walk" of a girl in a restaurant three hours before the St. Clair Savings & Loan Co. was robbed of $2,376 Friday noon.

At 4:30 p. m. Friday the two were among a group who saw the two-minute film from a hidden movie camera at the bank. A bank clerk had pushed a button that started the camera and signaled Central Police Station. In the picture they saw a gunman with the lower part of his face masked, and they saw a girl who walked confidently to a cash drawer.

The picture was blurred, apparently by vibration near the camera, but the girl's walk looked familiar. The detectives went back to the restaurant where they had seen the red-haired girl among the customers.

That was how the investigation started. It resulted in the surrender of 18-year-old Rose O'Donnell and Steven Ray Thomas, 24, and the capture of Wanda Di Cenzi, also 18—all within 36 hours after the holdup. All but $600 was recovered.

Police said charges will be filed today.

Miss O'Donnell admitted driving the getaway car, police said. Miss Di Cenzi was located on the tip of a woman who saw the holdup film on television.

Thomas gave himself up after fleeing as far as Indianapolis.

Cardenas Predicts Spanish Republic

MEXICO CITY (UP) — Former President Lazaro Cardenas predicted last night that the Spanish Republic in time would return to power.

Cardenas spoke during a 25th anniversary celebration of the proclamation of Spain as a republic, an event observed by thousands of Spanish exiles living in Mexico.

He said he believed in the cause of the Spanish Republic, and that people who love liberty and peace would in time triumph over force.

Several times during the meeting in a local theater there were cries of "Death to Franco."

100 Feared Dead in Ecuador Flood

GUAQUIL, Ecuador (UP) — Officials fear many persons were swept out to sea by a flash flood which swept through the town of Jipijapa. Twelve bodies were recovered, but authorities said as many as 100 persons may have drowned.

Five feet of water poured through the town in central west Ecuador, near the Pacific coast, yesterday after a dam on the San Vicente River burst in the wake of torrential rains. Houses, vehicles, livestock and trees were swept into the ocean.

Three bridges and a power plant were destroyed. Jipijapa was reported without drinking water or communications. The army rushed first aid supplies, food and clothing to the town.

One of every 15 families in the U. S. depends upon the milk industry in some manner for its livelihood.

Jamestown Celebrates Its Founding 350 Years Ago

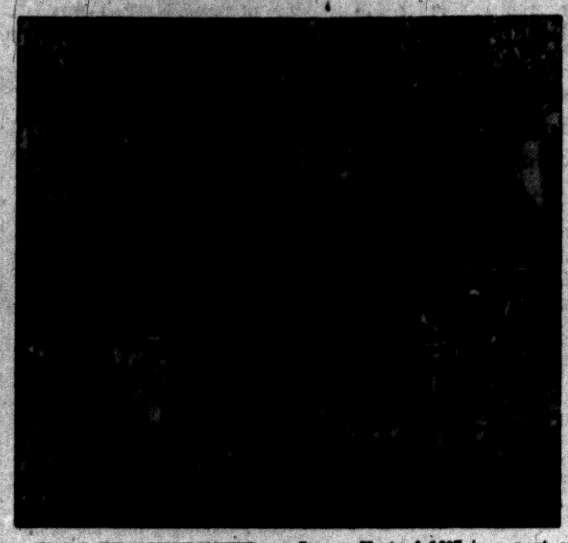

JAMESTOWN, Va. (NEA) — Here in old Virginny, youngsters are priming their imaginary muzzle loaders for a busy season.

They play "hunters and tourists," according to a local resident, instead of cowboys and Indians—aiming from the ambush of the reconstructed stockades of America's first white settlement.

The first of their expected three million targets rolled into this southern historic area to celebrate the opening of the Jamestown Festival this month.

This wave of Americans and others to follow are returning to the scenes of U. S. childhood. Not to disappoint them, a painless $25 million history lesson is waiting.

All Tidewater Virginia is serving up early colonial history along with southern fried chicken and spoon bread. But the main helpings are at Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg. The festival itself commemorates the 350th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown in 1607.

For the above diet, hungry Americans will pay from 60 million to 90 million dollars this year. Wonder what a hardy band of 105 men would have thought of all this hoopla? They're the ones who started it May 13, 1607.

BRAVES STAND GUARD

In the recently completed Jamestown Festival Park, you can see the brave adventurers as big as life in their cannon-bastioned stockade. But under the breastplate and feathered helmets today are men of the Third Infantry Regiment of Fort Meyer, Va.

They stand watch in their roles as settlers over the 22 buildings and church of wattle and daub, a mixture of clay with branches, twigs or straw.

Gently rolling at anchor in the James River below the stockade is the settlers' "fleet." Also outside the fort is America's first industry, the Glasshouse of 1608. Present-day glassblowers puff out delicate bottles and vases as easily as blowing bubbles.

The fleet that brought John Smith and Pocahontas together—the 100-ton Susan Constant, the 40-ton Godspeed and the 20-ton Discovery—have been reproduced full-size. There is enough room on the smaller two for six or 10 persons, mostly on deck. There were 22 living on the Discovery when it crossed in 1607.

No stone has been left unturned between the York and James Rivers for this open air panorama of history. In fact, a few have been moved for a new three-lane Colonial Parkway linking the three cities.

SEEKS RELICS

Uncovering the settlement's 350-year past is a refreshing diversion for Cotter. "I'm used to 'working' 10,000 years ago," he explains.

At the Yorktown battlefield, 23 miles from Jamestown, is another new $40,000 information center housing General Washington's field and dining tent, weapons and dress of the British, French and Revolutionary Army soldiers.

Of the 25 million dollars spent on the Jamestown - Yorktown - Williamsburg area, some 12 million went to help expand facilities in Williamsburg, where colonial life reached its peak.

Into this town of 6,000, John D. Rockefeller Jr. poured 61 million dollars to restore a section to its genteel charm of the days of Patrick Henry, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson.

A tour of the historic area for a family of four will cost about $45 for a two-day visit. The average tariffs are $16 ($4.50 to $23 a room). Five meals for $27—including one at a tavern in Colonial Williamsburg — and the park fee at Jamestown Festival Park are the other expenses.

And if you're lucky, someone may get you up at 6 a.m. for a venison and turkey hash at the hearty breakfast of raw oysters, nearby Common Glory grounds.

Treasure Now Useless

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)— A street digging crew found under pavement in the center of the city a cognac bottle with a 75-year-old label. The bottle was empty.

Pennsylvania has about 13,327 church buildings, more than are to be found in any of the other states.

Senate to Consider Hike in Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a bill to raise the interest rate on government savings bonds from 3 to 3¼ per cent. Easy passage is expected.

The Treasury has said it plans to apply the higher rate to all Series E and H bonds sold after Feb. 1, 1957.

President Eisenhower originally asked Congress for authority to raise the interest ceiling to the 4¼ per cent figure allowed on other government bonds. The House held the limit to 3½ per cent.

Senate-House differences will be worked out in conference.

The administration has been pushing for quick action on the measure to spur lagging sales of the savings bonds.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Isle of Man Loses Its Native Language

LONDON (INS) — The Isle of Man, that tiny vacationland of 221 square miles in the Irish sea equidistant from Ireland, England and Scotland, is fast losing its native tongue.

Only 355 of the total population of 55,253 can now speak Manx according to an official report on the latest census. Back in 1901 the figure was 4,657, in 1921 it was 915 and in 1931 some 529 locals could still speak Manx as well as English.

But as tourists could not possibly understand the local lingo in any case, no drop in the 600,000 vacationists visiting the island each year is expected.

Love Peanut Butter

Small-fry favorite: peanut butter frosting for cupcakes. To prepare, blend a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine with a quarter-cup of peanut butter. Then mix in sifted confectioners' sugar and add enough hot milk to make spreading consistency.

Wisconsin has more than 16 billion board feet of raw lumber and at least six million feet of pulpwood.

Onion Dinner Success

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP) — Thlopthlocco Methodist Indian Church's annual wild onion dinner was a success. John Deer, a church official, said $180 was raised with 250 in attendance.

Edge Bucs in Grapefruit Finale

Confident Tigers Go West

EN ROUTE TO KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who closed their exhibition season on a winning note, bubbled with enthusiasm today as they rolled toward their American League opener against the Kansas City Athletics tomorrow.

Every regular expressed confidence "we'll move up" from Detroit's fifth place finish of last season. Some even forecast that with luck they might do even better than second place, where the experts figure them to end up.

The Tigers whipped the National League Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 to close out their exhibition season at Charleston, W. Va., yesterday.

That was cheering, especially since Jim Finigan, the new third baseman, clouted a two-run homer and centerfielder Bill Tuttle drove in two runs with a double.

The homer was Finigan's second of the exhibition season. He came from Kansas City in a winter deal with a reputation of "fine field; no hit." But he had bettered rivals at bat as well as afield to nail down the job for the season opener.

Tuttle, who skidded to .253 at the plate last season, has started to look like the .279 hitter he was in 1955. And he still is one of the fleetest more sure-handed center fielders in the majors.

Left fielder Charley Maxwell got two of Detroit's nine hits off four Pirate pitchers to complete spring training with a torrid .429 mark.

The closing triumph and the excitement of opening day added to the enthusiasm. The Tigers seemed to have forgotten entirely that their exhibition season, which also started with a victory, was the worst in either major league.

Overall it was 11-19, and against major league opposition it was 10-18.

As they entrained for the west, the Tigers switched both outfielder Mel Clark and pitcher Pete Wojey from Charleston farm club to Detroit contracts.

Clark, once with the Philadelphia Phillies, finished the spring with a .405 average for 33 times at bat. Wojey, a refugee from the Brooklyn farm system, compiled a 2.65 earned run average in 10 spring games, yielding only five runs in 17 innings.

Lary opens against the Athletics here Tuesday. Hoeft will get the opening assignment in Detroit Thursday against the Cleveland Indians.

Duke Maas held the Pirates to a run on six hits in five innings yesterday. Jim Bunning allowed two runs and two hits in two. Maas was the winner.

Two-Point Margin

OCSC Wins Brusha Trophy

They couldn't have been much closer without ending in a knot, those Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and Multi-Lakes Conservation Association riflemen, shooting for the new Frank Brusha Memorial Trophy, Sunday.

But when the smoke was cleared away on the M-L indoor range the Waterford club's team had emerged winner by just two points, 945-943. The M-L total was 13 over the club team's average for 1956.

Contest was tight all the way, and was decided only after junior Margaret Kempel fired a 188 with iron sights. Scores had been even until Lynn Bush and Emmett Teefey slipped on their tries to make their averages. OCSC went ahead four points, then Margaret nailed the win.

In a last-ditch effort to save the award, M-L called in Jack Thompson from his job. Everybody else had fired. Only Jack could save the win. Thompson fired a "Yankee 7" on his standing score, but he had a 191 total, exceptional under the pressure.

The scores:

OCSC — Elvis Henry 191, Cash Bond 189, Milton LaPorte 189, Margaret Kempel 188, Kjell Danielson 188 for 945; M-L — Thompson 191, Lynn Bush 189, Teefey 188, John Armstrong 188, Joe Katona 187.

Capital Scene of Majors '57 Season Opener

Washington to Host Baltimore Before Top Government Brass

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's opening day in the nation's capital, the annual occasion for dignitaries and plain everyday "kill the umpire' fans to mingle at Griffith Stadium and help get the '57 baseball season underway.

The weatherman predicted a sunny afternoon, with the mercury climbing into the 50s around game time, 1:30 p.m., EST.

The Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators provide the competition, launching the 1957 season a day ahead of the other major league clubs. Here are the pitchers:

For the Orioles, Hector Harold "Skinny' Brown, a knuckleballer hoping to give Baltimore its first opening day victory since entering the American League in 1954.

For the Senators, Bob Chakales, a veteran reliefer getting his big chance as a starter and hoping to keep the hex on Baltimore.

All three are righthanders.

A crowd of some 28,000 was expected to watch the President toss out the first ball and help perpetuate one of the traditions that has made baseball the national pastime.

With the customary first baseline box set aside for the President, seats also were reserved by a distinguished collection of Supreme Court justices, Congress members, cabinet officers and top military leaders.

The President's older brother, Edgar, also had a box. He was vacationing at Scottsdale, Ariz., while the Orioles trained there this spring and watched several workouts. Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles invited him to the game—to sit by Baltimore's third base dugout, opposite the President.

From The PRESS BOX

The annual softball and baseball umpires' clinic, conducted by the Parks and Recreation Department, begins the 1st of three Monday sessions tonight at Pontiac High School. Any person interested in officiating City League games this season is urged to attend.

Terry Lewis, Berkley sophomore, has been named honorary captain of the Central Michigan College wrestling team. Lewis received a varsity letter as a freshman and had a 5-2-2 record this season.

The 1st meeting for managers or representatives of women's City League softball teams will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office, City Hall.

Pontiac's top civic leaders will attend an informal reception for Jesse MacLeay, Pontiac High's new head football coach, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Hotel Waldron.

WINS FIRST, THEN LOSES — Ronnie Richards, age 5, moves in for a follow-up after flooring his opponent Gary Hardin in the 39th annual Navy Junior Boxing matches at Annapolis. In his next bout (lower photo) however, Richards got a taste of his own medicine as he was downed by Joe Hazard. The sons of the Naval officers are featured in the bouts.

Bell Criticized for TV Censure

Announcers Selected Because of Knowledge of Sponsor Products

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell says there is nothing new in the National Football League's method of selecting radio and TV announcers for football games.

In a statement yesterday he denied the system had been instituted because of controversies last year when TV cameras failed to show fights that occurred in several NFL games. Oliver E. Kuechle, Milwaukee Journal sports columnist, stated Saturday the system was "a challenge to the integrity of men who want to do honest reporting on the air." He suggested the selection method came because happenings on the field were "too vividly or honestly described."

Bell said it was NFL policy for him to select the actual game announcer, color reporter or commentator from three men suggested in each category by the advertiser. He explained that sometimes announcers knew their sponsor's products better than football.

Bell, in justifying the selection method, said he didn't want fights on the football field telecast because of the influence on youngsters watching the games.

Tribe, Pirates Grapefruit Champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Step up and meet the champions—the Pittsburgh Pirates, no less. The young, brave and hopeful Buccos finished the exhibition season yesterday with a 20-10 record, although they lost their finale 4-3 to Detroit.

The Pirates finished with a .667 average, a half-game ahead of the Milwaukee Braves—that's more like it. The standings were figured on all games, against both major league and minor league opposition.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians came out on top with a 19-14 record good for .576. The New York Yankees were second with an 18-16 mark. The Indians played most of their games against the New York Giants.

The Brooklyn Dodgers polished off the Yanks, 2-1 in the Yankee Stadium, and that old Yankee-killer, Johnny Podres, held the Bombers completely in check for the first four innings to run his scoreless string against them to 21 innings starting with the last two stanzas of the third game of the 1955 World Series.

Carl Furillo singled home Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider in the third inning with Bobby Shantz on the mound for the Yanks to give the Brooks their triumph.

In the only extra-inning game of the day, the Giants toppled the Baltimore Orioles at Baltimore 6-5. Bill Taylor was the man of the hour for the Giants, coming up in the 11th inning with a mate on base and crashing an inside-the-park homer.

Elsewhere, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-2 at Boston; the Indians whipped the Braves 5-4 at Milwaukee; the Chicago Cubs licked the Chicago White Sox 4-1 at Chicago; St. Louis and Kansas City divided a doubleheader, the Cards winning the first 7-3, the A's the second, 1-0, at St. Louis; and the Cincinnati Redlegs eked out a 4-3 victory over the Louisville Colonels of the American Assn. at Louisville.

Underdog Wins National Table Tennis Crown

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Second seeded Bernard Buiket of Cleveland upset favored Erwin Klein of Los Angeles yesterday to win his first national men's singles title in the finals of the 27th annual U. S. table tennis tournament.

The favorite survived in the women's singles as defending champion Mrs. Leah Neuberger, New York, warded off second seeded Mildred Shahian of Chicago to win her eighth title, 21-10, 21-17, 21-18.

Klein, defending champion in both the men's and junior singles divisions, fared better in the latter and defeated Norbert Van Dewalle of Chicago, 21-19, 21-19, 21-17.

Hagge Leads Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP) — Marlene Bauer Hagge, the impertubable little blonde with the deadly putter, moved back toward the top in money-winnings today as she led the field by two strokes entering the final 36 holes of the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open.

Continuing the putting rampage that pulled her out of early season doldrums and got her back on the trail of her fabulous 1956 record, Mrs. Hagge blistered Glen Lakes Country Club's 6,238-yard with a competitive course record four-under-par 67 yesterday. It shot her into the lead at the halfway mark with 138 for 36 holes.

In second place was Wiffi Smith the freckled red-head from St. Clair, Mich., who shot her second straight 70 yesterday. In third place, two strokes back of Miss Smith with 142, was Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis.

Sugar Hart to Fight Bostonian Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Carnett "Sugar" Hart, upset by Boston's Walt Byars in his last start, takes on Willie "Pineapples" Stevenson, another rugged Bostonian, in a 10-round bout at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The lanky, hard-hitting Hart, 21, was a 5-1 favorite when he had his winning streak of 12 snapped by Byars at Madison Square Garden, last March 8.

The Philadelphia welterweight is a 3-1 choice over Stevenson, 23.

PHS 9 at Royal Oak

Pontiac High's baseball club is in Royal Oak today for 2nd game of the spring, against the Oaks. Ed Heikkinen's team won its opener, a 3-1 decision over Waterford last week.

First home stand of the season is a double-header this Saturday at Wisner Field, against the Port Huron club. Games are set for 1:30 and 3 p.m.

Satterfield Tests Coast Heavyweight

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Bob Satterfield of Chicago puts the sluggers' test to local heavyweight Ben Wise in a bout scheduled for 10 rounds in Oakland's Auditorium tonight.

Satterfield has won 33 of his 44 victories by stopping his foe and has been stopped 13 times.

Wise has only six victories on his record, five of them by knockout. He has lost four times and fought one draw.

Bradley Selected PWBA President

Mrs. Genevieve Bradley was re-elected president of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association at the group's final meeting of the season yesterday at the Elks Temple.

Other officers named were Agnes Mazza, treasurer, and Eva Miller as sergeant-at-arms. Sally Hoffman was named to the executive board. All others have another term in office.

The selection of the sites for the next two Association tournaments and the presentation of awards to this year's winners were other highlights of the five-hour session.

Huron Bowl will be host to the tournament next year and Montcalm Center in 1959. The group will celebrate its 25th anniversary at the next tourney.

Hoover Winner in First Test

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, won his first match of the 1957 ABC Masters tournament last night when he whipped Joe Bolek of Chicago 850 to 710 in their four-game encounter.

The Masters tournament is a distinct event and not a part of the American Bowling Congress championships which are also being rolled here. The Masters is a double-elimination singles affair.

Jack Aydelotte of Minneapolis, Minn., put on the evening's best scoring performance when he clubbed out a four-game total of 919 to whip Detroit's Buzz Fazio who had 863.

Jimmy Carman, 18, of Dallas, who led the eight-game qualifying rounds of the tournament with 1,748, absorbed his first loss at the hands of an old pro. Buddy Bomar, of Chicago eked out an 809-805 victory over the Texan.

Mackell, Simmons Spark Win

Revived Bruins Blank Habs

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran winger Fleming Mackell and rookie goalie Don Simmons are responsible for a revived Boston hockey team in its uphill Stanley Cup fight against Montreal.

The Bruins move into the Forum, madhouse headquarters of Les Canadiens, for the fifth game tomorrow night after turning them back 2-0 yesterday in a last-ditch battle for survival.

Mackell's two goals and a shutout by Simmons enabled Boston to foil a Montreal bid for a four-game sweep of the best-of-seven series. The Canadiens lead three games to one.

The reversal has enlivened the entire Boston team. The players are looking forward eagerly to the test tomorrow night after regaining their confidence.

"Now if we can only win that next one, and back here Thursday, we'll be in pretty good shape," Simmons said after his 21-save performance.

Mackell, the scoring thorn in Montreal's side for the four games, has accounted for four of the five Boston goals.

Flem scored at 2:56 of the first period on his own rebound with the Canadiens shorthanded. In the final 20 seconds he faked his way around Maurice Richard and fired into an open net after Montreal pulled goalie Jacques Plante in an effort to tie.

"It really was sweet to see that goal," Mackell said of his second tally.

It was the first whitewash of Montreal since Dec. 26 when Toronto edged the Canadiens 1-0. In cup finals, it had been three years since Montreal had been blanked.

"I had a couple of tough chances, but the fellows really worked in front of me tonight," Simmons said afterward. Plante was exceptional, too, with 27 saves.

Coaches Milt Schmidt of Boston and Toe Blake of Montreal agreed the game was so closely matched it could have gone either way and that it was the same kind of hockey exhibited in the second game of the series. Montreal won that test, 1-0.

"They deserved to win," said Blake. "They played a great game. There's no use crying about it. We will have to try and wrap it up in Montreal."

Heinsohn's 37 Sets Pace

Celts Take NBA Playoff

BOSTON, April 15 (AP) — Boston savored its first world basketball championship today because of rookies Tom Heinsohn and Bill Russell and a pair of slick sophomores.

There are no better players in the National Basketball Assn., than veterans like Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman.

But when the chips were down the Celtics' younger set came through to nail down the team's first playoff championship in the 11-year history of the loop.

In the most exciting title series to date, Boston nipped St. Louis 125-123 in double overtime Saturday in the decisive seventh game.

Heinsohn scored 37 points, hitting on 17 of 33 field goal tries, and had 23 rebounds. Russell grabbed 32 rebounds and tallied 19 points.

Frank Ramsey scored on a 20-foot, one-handed jump shot with 72 seconds remaining in the second overtime and Jim Loscutoff put on the final touches with a free throw in the last second.

These NBA second year men were great, too.

For years the Celtics ranged from awful to terrific but sweat and toil could not produce a title.

Then came the moves to get All Americas Heinsohn and Russell.

During Heinsohn's senior year at Holy Cross, Celtics Coach Red Auerbach several times said he didn't believe Tommy was NBA calibre. But when the time came he wound up as Boston's No. 1 draft choice.

Joie Ray, 63, Runs Birthday Mile in 6:26

Old-Time Distance Star Ambles Around U. of Ill. Track

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Joie Ray has awed Father Time again.

The old time distance star ran his fourth straight "birthday mile" yesterday, this time in 6:26. He turned 63 years of age Saturday.

The mile run was on the indoor track at the University of Illinois Armory before a few news men, Dr. T. K. Cureton, university researcher who has studied some of the world's greatest athletes, and several of his assistants.

Joie wasn't disappointed in his 6:26 effort, but with characteristic confidence that earned him the monicker of "Chesty Joie" in his prime, he vowed he could do better.

Heinsohn Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Heinsohn of the Boston Celtics edged out teammate Bill Russell for "Rookie of the Year" honors in the National Basketball Assn. in balloting of sportswriters and broadcasters in league cities.

LONG WAY—Mrs. John Detendinger came the longest distance to qualify in the Bowlerama. She comes from Oakland County's southern-most community of South Lyon. She rolled a handicap 575 at Land-O-Lakes.

Bowlerama Qualifying Complete

The three men's leaders of the opening weekend and women from Pontiac and Milford reigned today as the top scorers in three days of qualifying in the Pontiac Press Bowlerama.

The championship round will be held Saturday at Huron Bowl. Qualifiers for the finals will be announced following an official check of individual averages.

Approximately 39 men and 11 women keglers will participate in the battle for the top prizes of $400 and $200 and handsome desk calendar sets.

Howard Compton of Clarkston emerged as the outstanding male bowler in the qualifying with his 694 to pace the pack at Dixie Recreation. Lee Miller finished 1st at Auburn Lanes with 687, while contestants at Land-O-Lakes were led by Frank Pavlinac's 683.

Two of the runnerups were also holdovers from the 1st weekend of action. They were Les Smith with 683 and Bob Pickett at 680. Only newcomer in 2nd place Saturday was Dick Shoun who rolled a 659 at Auburn.

A pair of 664 series by Bob Postal and Gene Shell, I. Gray's 663 and a 662 by R. K. Bone were some of the other leading men's scores.

All 108 women entries competed Saturday with Pontiac's Gerry Weber topping the group with a fine 664 total based on a 526 actual score and a 138 handicap.

She was the high woman at Dixie. Lois Fletcher ranked 1st at Auburn with 491 of her 617 total from actual pinfall. The Land-O-Lakes keglers were paced by Mrs. K. Pargo of Milford with 637 featuring a 478 actual.

Pat Donner at 631, H. Smith's 630 and 587's by I. McDonald and D. Iverson were good enough for runnerup positions at the various alleys.

Mrs. Marion McNair posted the outstanding actual score for women with 539 although she ranked only 3rd in handicap play at Land-O-Lakes. Gerry Weber was next at 526.

Three different men bettered Lee Miller's best actual total of 615 which paced the opening two days of competition. Dick Shoun was 1st in the trio with 635, I. Gray hit 627 and B. Johns 617.

The Press will award trophies to the leading men and women qualifiers at each of the three qualifying locations.

Sailer 3rd at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Tony Sailer, Olympic ski champion from Austria, wound up his American tour yesterday in an unaccustomed third place.

A discouraging combination of Josl Rieder, an intent fellow Austrian, and near-blizzard conditions brought about the setback.

Rieder won the annual Golden Poles giant slalom with snow falling heavily, a gale blowing and visibility almost zero. Rieder was timed at 2:32.4 minutes for the run of slightly more than a mile on the upper slopes of Mt. Hood, 60 miles east of Portland.

Francois Bonlieu of France was second at 2:32.6. Sailer, who won the North American men's title at Squaw Valley, Calif., last week, passed remarks with gatekeepers on the way down and wound up with a time of 2:36. Christian Pravda of Sun Valley was next at 2:40.2.

Vet Leonard Wins Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Stan Leonard of Canada has found that for him, at least, life on the links does begin at 40.

He pocketed $2,000 first money in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament yesterday with a 69 finish for a 276 total to win his first American tournament in three years of circuit play.

A professional for 17 years, the balding Leonard stayed pretty close to home most of that time. He won the Canadian PGA title five times and had a good club job. The life of a traveling circuit player held little appeal for him.

But several leading American pros told him he was "missing the boat" by not taking his chances in the United States where the big money is. So he took his first fling at a tournament schedule two years back. Although he never won until yesterday, he was often well up in the money.

Leonard won about $5,700 in eight U. S. starts this year before coming here. Three times in the Masters at Augusta, Ga., he has finished in the top 25. He pocketed about $14,000 last year.

When it was all over Leonard, who plays from Lachute, Canada, had a three-stroke edge over Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., who played with him. Souchak had to can a 10-footer for a birdie on the last hole for the par 70 and 279 total that gave him $1,500 second money.

Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N. C., leader with Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., after 54 holes, started badly and finished with 74. That dropped him to 280 and a tie for third with young Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa, who had a 73 finish. Each won $1,100.

Fifth money of $900 went to Al Besselink of Grossinger, who finished with 69 for 281. Then came Ford, slumping to 76 and a tie at 275 with Mike Fetchick, Mahopac. Each won $775.

Yanks, Braves Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees not only are an overwhelming choice to capture their third consecutive American League pennant but a majority of the experts forecast another world championship for them.

In the annual Associated Press pre-season poll, the nation's baseball writers selected the Milwaukee Braves to dethrone Brooklyn as National League champions and picked the Dodgers to nip the Cincinnati Redlegs for second place.

The Detroit Tigers, fifth a year ago, were the consensus choice of the 563 writers — largest number ever to participate in an AP poll —to finish second to the Yankees. Cleveland was the choice for third with Chicago fourth. St. Louis was picked to round out the first division in the National League.

Dominating the poll as no other club had ever done before, the Yankees were first place nominations on all but 51 ballots, as 512 writers picked them to win, 44 selected them for second and 44 non-believers had them in third place. No one dared to place them any lower.

The Braves also drew a surprisingly large first place total, receiving 260 top votes to 157 for Brooklyn and 130 for Cincinnati. The Cards had 11 first place nominations, Pittsburgh had three and the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies one each. The Chicago Cubs, a solid choice to finish in the basement, were the only National League club not to get a first place vote.

Detroit led the American League also-rans with 26 first place votes to 13 for Cleveland, 10 for Boston and two for Chicago. Baltimore, Kansas City and Washington picked to finish sixth, seventh and eighth, respectively did not get any No. 1 nominations. The Red Sox, despite their high first place total, were picked to finish fifth, below Cleveland and Chicago.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS — The Novi-Wixom area is the site for the new Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Co. This plant, one of the largest and most modern automotive facilities built in Michigan in recent years, has a production capacity of 112,000 cars with an annual payroll of about 30 million dollars.

National Lincoln Plant Opens Doors in Wixom

The plant, second in size to the Ford Rouge plant, is situated on a 325-acre site west of Wixom road and north of Grand River (U. S. 16).

The opening of the new headquarters for Lincoln marks the first time that the division has had its separate facilities for the administration, production, and distribution of its cars.

The final assembly line, expected to turn out 112,000 cars a year, will be completed May 1, officials said.

The facilities include a 200,000 square foot brick and glass, three-story office building, a 1,300,000 square foot assembly plant, test track and a power plant. The combined office and manufacturing buildings equal 35 acres under one roof.

The division was formerly housed in the Rouge plant area in Dearborn. Nearly 5,000 persons will be employed, with an annual payroll of approximately $30 million.

Full operation will be reached with the start of production of 1958 models in late summer.

Four cafeterias and two dining rooms will seat more than 1,000 persons at one time. A hospital with ambulance service will be staffed by a doctor and five nurses.

The plant will have its own police and fire protection agencies.

Ground was broken for the building Dec. 2, 1955. The 16 months and 13 days marks the shortest time in company history for any project of similiar size to be built.

The facilities are second only in size to Ford's Mahwah, New Jersey and Dearborn Rouge plants in the company's 21 assembly plants.

Paved parking facilities are available for 3,600 cars.

Attempt to Identify Montreal Fire Victims

MONTREAL (AP) —Relatives streamed through the city morgue today trying to identify charred victims of a fire that swept a suburban old people's home, killing 15 residents.

Most of the aged victims were burned beyond recognition. Crippled or bedridden, most had been unable to escape the blaze that engulfed the two-story converted farmhouse within minutes.

Police at Point-Aux-Trembles, where the tragedy occurred, listed four persons still missing. But Mrs. Jean Henry, manager of the home, said there were only 29 persons in the building at the time and 14 survivors had been accounted for.

Thirteen inmates and two nurses walked or were carried to safety before the upper story collapsed.

Firemen believe the blaze, which broke out at 7 p. m. Saturday and raged for three hours, was caused by a short circuit.

Collision of 3 Cars Injures 2 Riders

Crawford Dies in Washington

Former Representative From Michigan Fought for Hawaii, Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Michigan Congressman Fred L. Crawford, a staunch conservative who once went to jail for two days and two nights to back up a personal principle, died Saturday night at his farm near the nation's capital.

Funeral service for the 69-year-old former Republican lawmaker will he held at Washington Wednesday.

Crawford represented Michigan's eighth Congressional district from 1934 to 1952, when he was beaten in the GOP primary election by Alvin W. Bentley of Owosso, the present Republican Congressman from the eighth district.

Crawford, noted as a champion of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and for his deep interest in Puerto Rican affairs, became nationally known in 1950 when he planted himself in jail to uphold personal principles.

He was in jail because of an incident with a farm hand who had made a disparaging remark about a woman. Crawford stepped up to defend the woman's honor. He reportedly slapped the man who made the remark.

In jail he refused to pay a bondsman $25 to get him set free. He claimed he had a right to post a personal bond and offered $50,000 in securities.

The matter went to the Maryland attorney general, who upheld Crawford, but Crawford remained in jail, pleaded guilty to the assault charge, and paid a $25 fine.

After his failure to win renomination in 1952 Crawford remained in Washington as a lobbyist for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. He was a member of a Washington law firm dealing with insular affairs.

Girl Faces Charge for Issuing Checks

Patricia Marie Jackson, 19, of 19348 Indian St., Detroit, will be arraigned in Circuit Court next Monday charged with passing bogus checks on the Community National Bank.

She was arrested Thursday by Pontiac Police at the Detroit Police Station where she had just been released by the Detroit Recorder's Court on two years probation plus restitution of approximately $185 for bad checks cashed in Detroit.

Climax Search for Area Boys

Three Are Found Safe in Caseville Area After 8 Hours

One Ferndale and two Southfield Township boys were found hungry and cold at the end of a dead-end road yesterday after having been lost for more than eight hours in the woods and swamps near Caseville.

The youths were Loren E. Schimmelmann, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schimmelmann of Ferndale; Robert Mellott, 10, and his brother, Thomas, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Mellott of Southfield Township.

The families were spending the weekend at a cottage owned by the Schimmelmanns. The parents said they heard the boys leave the cottage about 7:30 a.m. and assumed they had gone out to play. Instead, they went for a walk and got lost in near-freezing weather.

The parents began a search for the children an hour after they had left the cottage. County authorities were notified shortly after noon and the boys were found about 4 p.m.

This year Peggy Emmert and John Walker are the chosen ones. They and approximately 30 other Michigan students will leave Wayne Major Airport on June 26, spend the summer as guests of German families, and return late in August.

Peggy, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emmert of Westacres. Previous to entering high school she attended Union Lake and the junior high. She celebrated her 17th birthday Sunday.

In addition to maintaining a straight A scholastic average, this tiny bundle of energy is extremely active in extra curricular activities. A student library assistant, she was elected president of the Student Library Assistants of Southeastern Michigan.

Parachute Chase Draws Crowd at Saginaw

3 Michigan Planes Caught in Accidents; None Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two airplanes cracked up in Michigan landings over the weekend. Another successfully landed on a too-short runway. And still another created quite a commotion as it zoomed down following a parachute dropping from a weather baloon.

William Lucius, 25, of Flint, escaped unhurt as his plane nosed into a farmer's field in which he was landing near North Branch in midafternoon.

Jones suffered a fractured skull. His 8-year-old daughter, Peggy Ann, suffered gasoline burns, and Edward Pratt, 11, of Lansing got both cuts and burns in the Grand Ledge mishap. They were taken to a Lansing hospital.

State Police said Jones had taken the children for a short ride and had set the plane down for a landing when it skidded off the runway into a field.

Lucius said a sudden switch in winds dropped his plane from five feet into a North Branch field. The plane's wings were crumpled, the propellor smashed, and the nose bashed. He had taken off from Clio and was en route to North Branch to visit a friend.

A Michigan Air National Guard F89 running out of fuel landed on the Kalamazoo municipal airport's 8,800-foot runway, although it isn't considered safe to land such jet fighters on runways of less than 5,000 feet.

Capt. B. J. Buckout of Lansing also flew the plane, which normally requires just as much takeoff room, out of the Kalamazoo field. But first fuel was trucked in from Battle Creek's Kellogg Field, along with a new pair of tires to replace those Lt. Tom Parshley all but burned off in braking his landing to a stop 100 feet from the runway's end.

At Saginaw a parachute drifting down and being chased by an airplane caused considerable excitement. The parachute, carrying weather instruments, came from a balloon which exploded over Saginaw.

Some thought for a time some kind of aerial attack must be under way as the airplane zoomed down to rooftop levels following the parachute. The curious caused a major east side traffic jam after the 'chute landed. The plane, identified as an Air Force one, flew off elsewhere.

Langley Fights to Keep His Job

Eyes Delay in Judgment Which Might Oust Him as District Attorney

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Dist. Atty. William M. Langley, convicted of failing to prosecute gamblers, will go into court today to try to hold on to his job.

Langley, one of the focal points in a yearlong vice investigation in Portland, was convicted by a State Circuit Court jury Saturday.

The penalty is removal from office and a possible $50 to $500 fine, but Langley's attorneys obtained an arrest of judgment. They are scheduled to argue for further delay and also to make a motion for a new trial.

They said they plan to appeal if their motions are denied.

Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thorenton of Oregon said, however, that Circuit Court Judge Frank J. Lonergan could remove Langley from office at once, despite any appeal.

Thornton said it then would be up to Gov. Robert D. Holmes to appoint a successor.

Langley, insisting he is the victim of a frameup by Portland racketeer Big Jim Elkins, has fought to retain office. The 41-year-old Democrat faces six other indictments, returned by vice-investigating grand juries.

Elkins testified in the trial that he had given Langley a cut of gambling profits and that Langley had agreed to help protect gambling.

Elkins said this alliance broke up, however, after "the union" began influencing the district attorney.

Earlier Elkins had testified in Washington, D. C., before the Senate Rackets Committee that Teamsters Union officials connived with Langley to try to move in on some rackets in Portland.

Youth Kills Father in Family Quarrel

AIKEN, S. C. (AP) — A 12-year-old Clearwater youth shot and killed his father yesterday during an argument after the family returned home from church services, Sheriff Wyman Busch reported.

Hubert Lee Cain, 30, died in the emergency room at University Hospital in nearby Augusta, Ga., shortly after the shooting.

H. L. Cain Jr. shot his father, the sheriff said, after the father beat Mrs. Cain and pulled a knife on her during a row. The sheriff quoted Mrs. Cain as saying her husband had threatened to kill her.

Busch said he was told that the son went into a bedroom during the argument, got a shotgun and fired when the elder Cain advanced toward him with a knife.

No charges have been filed, the sheriff said.

Hollywood Headlines

Movieland Life Provides Rich Hoard of Memories

(First of Six-Part Series)

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—My wife's favorite Hollywood story concerns the time a prominent producer and his wife took us out one Sunday to see Will Rogers and some other movie people play polo. This was in 1929, a few weeks after we had arrived here, and we were newly married.

The uplifters' in Santa Monica didn't have a bar in those Prohibition days, so the club was living up to its name. My host and I therefore had to go to a stable to get a preluncheon highball. While we were away, Mrs. Producer decided to tell Mrs. K. about life in Hollywood. Her thesis was:

"You are new here, so I feel I must tell you some of the facts. Your husband, in his job of covering Hollywood, meeting beautiful women, will meet some who will be attracted to him. And he will be attracted to them. But you mustn't let it worry you, because these Hollywood affairs never last very long. You will know each time he has lost interest, because he will come home to you with a gift—a diamond bracelet, a star sapphire, perhaps a new car . . ."

Well, that was part of our introduction to Hollywood. As long as we've lived here, we continue to be surprised, amazed, amused and interested.

Sometimes meeting screen stars in the flesh is disillusioning. More often it is not. For, to come across successfully, these people must have unusually effective personalities. Some are good Joes naturally, some have to work hard at it.

Still new here, I came home one day and said in disgust that "that Crawford is a dame I never care to see again." At luncheon at the studio that day, Joan joined a little group of us and ordered a salad. It consisted of chopped vegetables nicely laid on large lettuce leaves. She didn't want the lettuce, so she picked them out of the salad and tossed it over her shoulder onto a tray on a table behind her. I admired her marksmanship, but not her manners. But that wasn't all. A phone was brought to the table and she carried on a silly conversation in pig-Latin with her fiance, Doug Fairbanks Jr., whom she later married.

I kept my resolve for two or three years, but curiosity overcame me after Joan became Mrs Fairbanks. Besides, I am the tolerant and forgiving sort. I wondered what influence the manners of Pickfair — the home of her father-in-law and stepmother, the place around which Hollywood society gravitated a quarter a century ago — had had on Joan.

It produced a wondrous change. I found Joan a charming hostess and a gracious lady and one of the best interview subjects I ever encountered. She not only had the desire to improve herself, but the ability. She is one of Hollywood's most generous persons today. She has given thousands of dollars to worthy causes — and always without the benefit of publicity.

These reminiscences are not going to be a history of Hollywood. I'll tell some of the amusing and interesting highlights of a good many years as I remember them. Remember is correct, because a flood a few years ago washed away the thousands of clippings and carbon copies I was saving for some occasion like this.

Actors, to me, are like specimens held on the end of a pin to be examined — each much the same but each fascinatingly different. I subscribe to the definition of an actor credited to Marlon Brando: he's an actor if when you ain't talking about him he ain't listening.

Tomorrow: Hollywood homes — no huts are they.

Seaway Causing Boom in Massena

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — An estimated 10,000 workers will be employed on the American side of the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project at the peak of the construction season this summer.

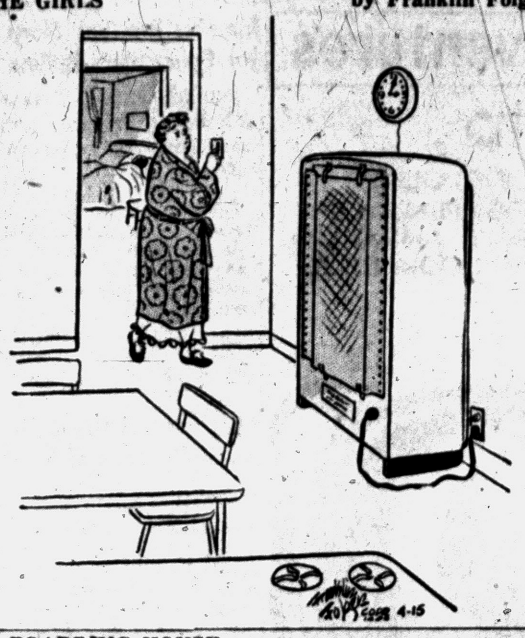

Employment last month was 3,500.

Workers are pouring into Massena in anticipation of the warm-weather upswing in employment, but right now there are more men than jobs.

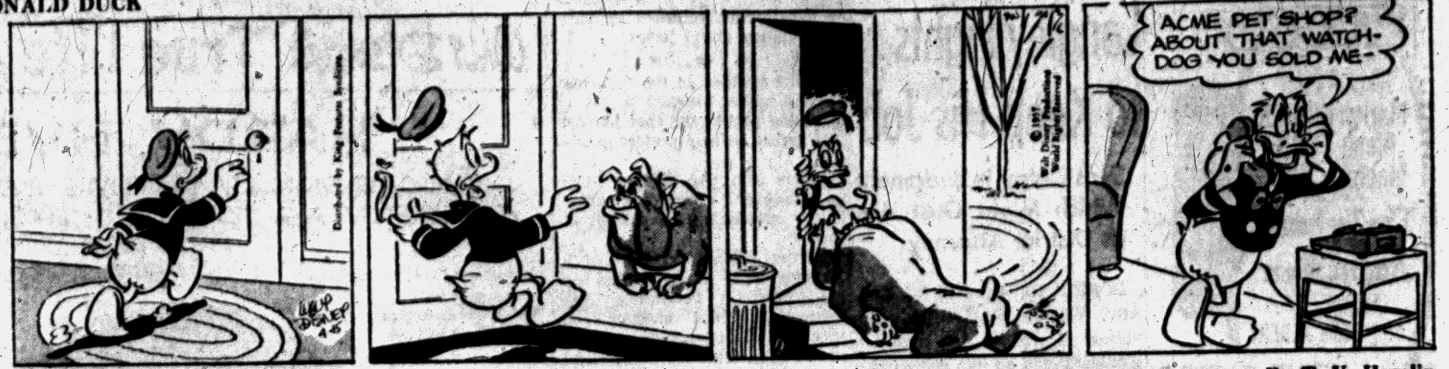

Seventy-six trailer parks have been established in the Massena area to accommodate the seasonal workers. Most are coming from the South.

The Reynolds Metals Co., and the Chevrolet division of General Motors plan to construct plants in the Massena area. Employment in those industries is expected to rise as that of the seaway project decreases.

Policemen Go Astray, Bishop Sets 'Em Straight

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Someone forgot to tell the police escort that the bishop was Methodist.

The escort was arranged for the 15-mile trip from Kansas City to Liberty when Bishop Eugene M. Frank's plane landed at Kansas City behind schedule.

The escorting patrolman, told only that Frank was a bishop, led the caravan to St. James Catholic Church, seven blocks from Liberty Methodist.

The wrong turn was soon righted and the St. Louis bishop pulled up in time for the service in his honor.

Stock Market Loses Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market lost ground early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Key stocks lost from fractions to a point or so.

The market was slightly higher at the opening and kept to the upside until a gradually increasing number of minus signs tilted it to the downside.

No particular selling pressure was apparently in any particular division. Steels, however, were traded with somewhat greater activity.

Most leading steels showed fractional losses. Profit-taking could easily account for this following the leadership they gave the market in its vigorous rise of last week. At the same time, however, there was news once more of slackening steel production.

Another easing in copper prices also dampened enthusiasm.

Early Results Promising

New Drugs Aid Cancer Battle

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — New chemical arrows are being fired into human cancers, with some early promising results.

They are the latest among drugs designed to damage or kill cancer cells without harming normal cells to a serious degree.

Three such drugs were described to the American Assn. for Cancer Research meeting here this weekend.

One of them, known as 6-Azauracil has brought temporary improvement in one-third of a small group of patients with acute leukemia, or cancer of the blood, said Dr. B. I. Shnider and associates of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) and District of Columbia General Hospital.

In two other patients, the drug reduced the size of solid cancers which had spread from original sites elsewhere in the body.

Another drug, methotrexate, has apparently suppressed a rare type of cancer occurring in the uterus or womb of women after pregnancy, said Dr. Min Chiu Li, Donald B. Spencer, Dr. Roy Hertz and Dr. Herbert A. Lubs of the NCI.

Two women with this kind of cancer, known as choriocarcinoma, have had no detectable signs of tumors for more than a year. Before taking the drug, they had advanced, widespread cancers. How long the improvements may last is not yet known.

A third drug, 5-fluorouracil, now is being tested in humans by University of Wisconsin doctors and scientists after showing marked activity against several types of cancers in rats and mice.

This drug was synthesized by Prof. Charles Heidelberger and Dr. Robert Duschinsky and Ernest Pleven of Hoffman-La Roche, Inc.

It is designed to stall cell reproduction in cancers by altering the chemical nature of uracil, a substance which cells use for food. Cancer cells are greedier for it than normal cells. Dr. Heidelberger reasoned it could poison cells if a fluorine atom replaced a hydrogen atom in the uracil molecule.

The drugs are examples of a world-wide search for chemicals that can selectively damage or kill cancers. Partial successes, and even failures, contribute to understanding how to build better drugs.

Many scientists think there will have to be various drugs to hit at different types of cancer, rather than hoping for one which would strike at all kinds of cancers with equal effect.

Aircraft, Missile Makers Depend on U.S. Contracts

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Makers of missiles, aircraft and their power plants still do the biggest military business with the government.

A list of the 100 largest defense contractors for the 18 months ending last June 30 was published today by the Defense Department which has put such compliations at irregular intervals since July 1950.

Heading the list for the entire six-year period is General Motors Corp., but the big automotive concern dropped to No. 14 in the tabulation for the 18 months ending last June. In the 18-month period, GM received or held military contracts with a net value of 326 million dollars, or a little more than 2 per cent of the total defense contracts awarded in that time.

The leading company on the new 18-month list was North American Aviation. It was followed closely by General Dynamics Corp., which builds planes, submarines and missiles. The two leaders each accounted for 5.2 per cent of the $25,637,000,000 total of defense contracts during the 18 months.

No. 3 was United Aircraft, with 5 per cent of the dollar value of contracts. General Electric, makers of jet engines and a wide variety of electronic devices, ranked fourth with 4.1 per cent. The Boeing Airplane Co., builders of the giant all-jet B52 bombers placed fifth with 4 per cent.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its subsidiaries ranked sixth with 2.9 per cent and the Ford Motor Co., which builds jet engines and other non-automotive military equipment, seventh with 2.7 per cent.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. was eighth with 2.6 per cent, Douglas Aircraft Co., ninth with 2.3 per cent and the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. 10th with 2 per cent.

The 100 largest contractors in the 18-month period accounted for 68.7 per cent of total military contracts.

During the entire six-year period starting in July 1950, the 100 biggest contractors received 63 per cent of the total. The Defense Department said that the rise in the proportion of military business awarded to a smaller number of firms resulted from the complexity of modern weapons systems. These make it more practicable for prime contracts to be awarded to a single company although that company usually has to subcontract much of the work to many other firms, the department said.

Legislator Demands Income Tax Slash

An immediate income tax reduction in the 1958 national budget has been called for in Washington by Rep. William S. Broomfield, of Royal Oak.

Broomfield, a Republican, claimed the Democratic-controlled Congress is deliverately waiting until election year in order to turn tax cuts into "political hay."

"Why wait a year?" Broomfield asked. "We'll have a $1.5 million budget surplus this year and the tax relief is needed right now."

Broomfield said he has received "literally hundreds" of letters from Oakland County residents, many of them low wage earners and small businessmen, asking for cuts "because of the Federal income tax squeeze."

Ford Plans Unveiling of New Convertible

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today its new convertible car with the retractable steel top will have a suggested list price of $2,702, plus Federal taxes, transportation and dealer preparation charges.

The new car, to be called the "Skyliner," will go on dealer display April 18.

The Skyliner is powered with an eight-cylinder engine. The car is three inches longer than the longest current Ford models. It has 522 parts different from other Fords.

The retractable steel top automatically disappears into the trunk 40 seconds after the driver presses a button on the instrument panel.

Fire Destroys Home of Avondale Family

AVON TOWNSHIP — The basement home of Arthur Shappell, at 3776 Auburn Rd. was gutted by fire about 4 p.m. yesterday.

Shappell, his wife, and four children were away but a passing motorist discovered the blaze and notified Avondale Fire Dept.

According to Fire Chief Harold S. Miller, the damage was about $1,000.

Boy, 10, Critical, Struck on Bicycle

Walter Jones Jr., 10, a third grader at Central Elementary School, remained in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after he was involved in an accident while riding his bicycle Saturday.

A hospital spokesman said Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, of 111½ E. Huron St., was operated on Saturday night for a fractured skull and a "severe concussion."

Pontiac police report the driver of the involved auto was the Rev. Leroy William Shafer, 67, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, 46 N. Roselawn Ave.

The child was injured at the corner of E. Huron and Mechanic streets about 4:10 p.m. Saturday, and police said they believed defective brakes on the boy's homemade bicycle was the cause of the accident. The bicycle ran into the Shafer auto which was driving on E. Huron street.

GROUNDED SAUCER — Children's imaginations soar spaceward at playgrounds in West Berlin, Germany, where "saucers" like the one in the picture have been installed. The plastic creations have entrance and exit doors, slides and climbing devices.

Replica of Ship to Duplicate Pilgrims' Trip

BRIXHAM, England (AP)— The Mayflower II, replica of the Pilgrims' sailing ship, is scheduled to make the first brief stage of its voyage to America tomorrow.

Comdr. Alan Villiers announced the 180-ton sailing vessel would be towed out of this Devon port for the voyage to Dartmouth, about 10 miles down the coast. After a short stop there, it will continue on to Plymouth, England.

From Plymouth the ship will make its official start for the United States, presumably some time this week, on its attempt to duplicate the Pilgrims' journey to Massachusetts in 1620.

"The crew is on board busy tucking away the last pieces of cargo," Villiers said. "There's a little too much to do to get going today."

Villiers apparently will use the short trips to Dartmouth and Plymouth for his sailing tests.

Ten Ore Freighters Clear Soo Locks, Ice

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS) — Ten ore-laden freighters head for lower lake ports today through the Soo after battling their way through the worst ice conditions of a half-century.

Aided by seven ice breakers, seven of the vessels were taken through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie last night and early today.

All the ships were downbound past Detroit, except one, which was headed for Lake Michigan.

Meanwhile, nine other freighters, which had been jammed in Whitefish Bay, were freed and were plying open waters in Lake Superior toward upper lake ports.

The seven ice breakers was the greatest concentration of breakers in years. The ships fought windrowed ice piles as high as 25 feet in places.

Chicago Traders Deal in 'Old,' 'New' Contracts

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Board of Trade today began dealings in both "old" and "new" style wheat futures contracts.

The new contracts were made necessary by a change in federal wheat grading standards, a board spokesman said.

Old style contracts will be traded until their final delivery date. After the December contract is closed out late in December, there will be no further trading in the old style contracts.

Business Notes

F. J. Kleitz, special representative for the Assn. of American Railroads, will address members of the Pontiac Traffic Club at the organization's monthly meeting tonight.

The program will be devoted to a current campaign to promote "perfect shipping" through efforts to reduce loss or damage to freight during transportation.

Clifton E. Marvin, local switchboard installer for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., has been cited by the firm for his record of 25 years without an accident involving a company vehicle.

MARVIN

A resident of 434 Linda Vista Dr., Marvin observed his 30th anniversary of service with Bell this week. A son, Lorne, is a cable splicer at the Pontiac office.

News in Brief

Jean Thor, 19 N. Marshall St., reported to Pontiac Police someone attempted to enter her home by removing a screen from a basement window and breaking the window Saturday night.

Right Numbers All You Need to Win $400

If your troubles are the type that would be helped by sudden acquisition of $400, here's your chance to improve your lot. Just pick out the right numbers, write them in the proper blanks, send them to us on a postcard in time to meet the deadline below, and your problems are solved.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Waterford to Form CD Group

A movement to stir up interest in civil defense and build a Ground Observer Corps., in Waterford Township, is under way, sponsored by the Jayno Adams P.T.A.

A registration and instruction course for residents interested in emergency disaster relief work, will be given at the school at 7:30 tonight and also the following Monday, April 22.

Mrs. John Warren, coordinator of emergency service for southeastern Michigan, will be the director for the two-night instruction course.

At the present time, there is no established Ground Observer Post in Waterford Township, and the civil defense program has been inactive due to lack of government apprpriations and public interest, according to Waterford Township Civil Defense Director Louis Dorman Jr.

Dorman said that there are civil defense radio transmitter and receiver sets available, and these will be used by the police and fire departments, in case of disaster.

The group pushing the emergency disaster program, is headed by Mrs. John Cudnohfsky and Jayno Adams PTA president, Mrs. John Mihalek. The two women returned recently from attending classes in Lansing, gathering information on the proposed project.

An extensive campaign is being planned to recruit and educate Waterford Township residents as to what to do in case disaster strikes either this or the Pontiac areas, Mrs. Mihalek said.

Chamber Urges Long-Range Aid

Commerce Body Backs Altered Spending Plan on Foreign Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Chamber of Commerce recommended today a "longer range" foreign aid program calling for an appropriation of $3,600,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Its suggestions would entail a cut of about 800 million dollars in President Eisenhower's request for $4,400,00,000, a reduction far less drastic than many members of Congress are advocating.

The Chamber also recommended what it termed "suitable assistance" to neutral nations "without requiring them to ally themselves militarily with the West.'

James Tanham, retired businessman and former vice president of the Texas Co., New York City, outlined the Chamber's position in testimony prepared for a special Senate committee studying the foreign aid program.

Tanham, speaking as chairman of a Chamber subcommittee on foreign aid, suggested:

1. Reducing allocations for military assistance to $2,017,000,000 — a saving of 433 million dollars.

2. Lopping off another 200 million from nonmilitary aid.

3. Saving another 168 millions by shifting "responsibility and accountability" for military assistance and "boosting efficiency.'

Tanham told the committee:

"The National Chamber urges that the Congress authorize the foreign aid program on a longer range basis" than the present year-to-year authorizations "in the interest of efficiency and economy."

Former Immigrant Takes Party of 70 to See Sweden

CHICAGO (AP)—The "fulfillment of a lifelong dream" is at hand for 57-year-old Ragnar Benson, who is picking up the tab for a $50,000 three-week holiday in Sweden with 70 relatives and friends.

The Benson party—flying in a chartered Scandinavian Airlines DC6—was scheduled to land in Malmo, Sweden, today.

The airliner left Chicago last night amid shouts of "bon voyage" from friends and neighbors.

Benson, who immigrated from Sweden with a sister in 1911 at the age of 12, told newsmen before departing O'Hare International Airport:

"My heart is so full of the thankfulness for what the United States has done for me."

The Swedish immigrant became a bricklayer's apprentice in 1915 and now heads an 80 million dollar a year engineering firm.

Benson said the trip is his way of expressing gratitude to some of the people who helped him as a newly arrived immigrant.

About half the guests are relatives, including Benson's wife and son and the son's six children. Some 20 employes of the engineering firm, Ragnar Benson, Inc., and other friends make up the party.

The group was expected to return to Chicago May 6. While abroad, Benson's guests will be free to do as they choose. Side trips to the continent were planned by some.

One aim of the trip, Benson declared, is "to promote good will." He is taking a letter of greeting from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley to Mayor Thomas Munck of Malmo, Sweden's third largest city.

Some 150 of Benson's relatives and friends will gather as his guests tomorrow at a banquet in Almhult, Benson's birthplace.

Pure Oil, Union Agree to Terms

Workers Continue Strike at 5 Gas Distributors in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — A strike-ending agreement was reached between the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union and the Pure Oil Co. yesterday. This reduced to five the struck gasoline and fuel oil distributors in Detroit.

The union called strikes against eight companies over a period of six weeks to support wage demands to go into new contracts. It previously had reached agreements with Socony-Mobil Oil Co. and Aurora Refining Co., the latter Speedway's supplier.

Local 389 of the union still is on strike against Gulf, Sinclair, Standard, Shell and Texaco.

Only about 30 of the 700 affected by the eight walkouts are employed by Pure. The walkouts shot off deliveries to filling stations, but did not seriously pinch Detroit motorists. Several independents and Cities Service and Sun Oil were not struck.

Walter V. Thornton, secretary-treasurer of local 389, said the new Pure Oil contract is similar to that reached with Socony-Mobil and Aurora. It carries a five per cent wage increase, an eighth paid holiday, four weeks' vacation after 20 years and higher holiday pay.

Union employes are drivers, terminal employes, maintenance men and mechanics. Their average wage ranged from $2.40 to $2.55 hourly before the strikes.

Comic Starring in First Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Watch out, TV! You could lose one of your brightest young talents — Ernie Kovacs.

The brush-lipped, cigar-chewing comic is here for his first movie and has admittedly fallen in love with picture-making.

"This is the life!' he exclaimed. "I never realized how much fun performing could be. For the past nine years, I've been writing, directing, producing and acting in my own shows on TV. And what a struggle that is!

"You go on the show with maybe 20 minutes' rehearsal for an hour program. In the middle of everything, you realize you need a closeup next. So you look around the stage for the closeup camera and you give the director a lift of the eyebrow to signal him to bring the camera in.'

Nowadays, he has a much softer life. He arrives on the set of "The Mad Ball," gives a quick study of lines somebody else has written for him and goes into the scene to be directed by Richard Quine. The latter is the one-time actor and now sensational director of comedy hits like "Solid Gold Cadillac" and "Full of Life."

"There's only one thing missing to make this perfect," Ernie sighed. "That's Edie."

He referred to his wife Edith Adams. They are separated by 3,000 miles because she's one of the stars of "Li'l Abner" on Broadway.

"I've been trying to get her out of the show for a week so she could join me," he said. "Maybe if you would put in the papers that I was being chased by some blonde out here, that'd get her out here sooner."

"I'd love it," he said, "especially if Edie were out here. It's possible. I'm finishing up a novel called 'Zoomar,' which will be published in October. If it's made into a movie, I'd like to have some control over it."

His TV future is in doubt. He just turned down an offer to replace Sid Caesar's show this summer.

"I'd go on if they wanted to put the show on for 26 weeks," he reasoned. "But I think it's a mistake to get typed as a summer replacement personality. I did it last year for Caesar, and that's enough."

He has a Producer's Showcase to do this spring and is negotiating for a producer-director-writer-star deal with NBC. "But we can't get together on the money," he said. "Oddly enough, my figure is somewhat higher than their figure."

Actress Seeks Divorce From Theatrical Agent

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Inger Stevens has changed her mind; she now wants a divorce instead of a decree of separate maintenance from Anthony Soglio, New York theatrical agent.

She filed suit for separate maintenance Jan. 25. Her new action, filed last week, asks for a divorce, charging cruelty.

Holy Places Fail to Draw Tourists for Easter Visits

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) —The Easter tourist season is shaping up today as the poorest in years.

Only about 1,500 foreigners have arrived in Israel and Jordan to observe the holiday and make the pilgrimage to holy places. Last year the number was 15,000.

Hotels in the Israel sector of Jerusalem reported 200 foreign guests including only a scattering of Americans.

The lack of tourist business was attributed to three factors:

1. The tense Middle East situation since the Sinai war.

2. The fact that the lifting of an American ban on travel to Israel earlier this month came too late for organized group travel.

3. The current upheaval in Jordan — site of most of the holy places.

Reports from Bethlehem, whose hotels and tourist shops lean heavily on the Easter tourist trade, said the biblical city had practically no visitors.

Eyes Guidance in State Schools

Bartlett to Introduce Counseling to Children at Early Stage

DETROIT (AP)—A program of guidance covering children from their first day in kingergarten through high school is planned by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett when he takes over July 1 as state superintendent of public instruction.

"Counseling and guidance actually will begin at the first meeting between the mother and the kindergarten teacher," Dr. Bartlett said in outlining his plan yesterday.

The program will be limited, he said, only by funds and personnel available to individual school districts.

He said his would be the first attempt to give Michigan's 1,520,000 school children a "child centered" program of personal, social and occupational adjustment.

From kindergarten on, Dr. Bartlett said, "child records on an increasingly elaborate and more searching scale will follow the youngster throughout his entire school career."

By the time he has finished with his elementary grades," Dr. Bartlett continued, "We should have a good line on his quirks of personality, varying degrees of adjustment or maladjustment and his aptitudes for an adult career."

Dr. Bartlett, assistant superintendent of schools in Grosse Pointe, said some larger school districts already have developed guidance and counseling programs.

Two Hurt as Car Hits Tree After Tire Blowout

Two people were injured at 11:30 last night when a car driven by Gordon M. Wells Jr., 33, of 5219 Sashabaw Rd., Clarkston, hit a tree at 4051 Sashabaw.

Wells' wife, Gladys, 28, and his daughter, Nola, 10, both suffered facial lacerations and were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, treated and released.

Justice Engages Police as Marriage Witnesses

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Justice of the Peace Wendell Foster was redecorating his courtroom here when a young couple entered and requested him to marry them. There were no witnesses and even a trip to the street failed to turn up any.

Sends Specimens to U. S., Britain, Russia

India Seeks to Identify Skeletons at 'Haunted Lake'

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian anthropologists have turned to British, Russian and University of Michigan scholars to help them solve the mystery of "the haunted lake."

Rupkund Lake, 18,000 feet high in the Himalayas, is the body of water in question. Some 200 to 300 human skeletons scattered along its banks have created its mystery.

Peasants living near the lake, in the Almora-Garhwal district bordering Tibet, had always feared to go near it, saying it was haunted.

But the reason for their fear was not known until 1942, when a government forest officer ventured into the area in search of rare medicinal herbs. He came upon the lake—and its skeletons, believed to be centuries old.

NUMBER VISITED

In the past two years, a number of scientific expeditions have traveled to the remote lake to see the skeletons and to try to determine who they were.

How long the skeletons had been there, how they got there, what had happened to them—these were all questions that brought many theoretical answers but no authoritative replies.

One of the experts who traveled to Rupkund was Dr. D. N. Majumdar, head of the department of anthropology of Lucknow University. He brought back dozens of skulls and other bones, plus remnants of tents and clothing found in the area. He also found some human hairs, preserved in the snow around the lake.

SUSPECTS AVALANCHE

Majumdar said the skeletons were those of men, women and children, with few aged people. He said the bones appeared to be of Mongolian, North Indian and Tibetan stock. He added that he personally felt the skeletons represented a group of people, heading from Tibet back to India, who were killed in a natural calamity such as an avalanche. But he was not sure who they were.

If the age of the bones could be determined, Majumdar said, historians might be able to give the real answer.

Therefore, he said, specimens of the bones have been sent for dating to Prof. James B. Griffin, director, the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology at Ann Arbor, to the British Museum in London and to a Soviet University Museum he declined to further identify.

These are some of the theories advanced about Rupkund:

The skeletons are the bodies of pilgrims who died in an avalanche or snowstorm while heading for a legendary Rupkund Buddhist monastery, which is said to have existed near the lake a century ago. There is no sign of the monastery near the lake today.

The skeletons are of traders and their families, moving between India and Tibet, who were killed in an avalanche or a sudden snow storm blocking the Rupkund valley.

The skeletons are those of Tibetan or Kashmiri soldiers who fought each other in 1841. The Kashmiri troops had invaded Tibet. This theory says the skeletons either represent the dead of a battle, with their camp followers (that's why the women and children), or the victims of an avalanche or snow storm while one or the other armies was moving through the area.

Majumdar is not to be confused with Dr. Datta Mazumdar, director of anthropology for the Indian government, who also visited Rupkund and advanced the theory the skeletons were those of pilgrims.

Irish Paper Denies McLeod Unpopular

DUBLIN (AP)—Ireland's biggest newspaper, the Irish Independent, has denied there is widespread feeling against the appointment of Scott McLeod to be U.S. ambassador to Dublin.

"As far as Ireland is concerned, we are aware of no grounds on which exception could be taken to Mr. McLeod's nomination and appointment," the paper said last night in an editorial. "The suggestion that there has been any outcry against it (in Ireland) is, as the Irish public is well aware, quite unfounded."

The Independent added that a report in a London paper the Irish people are hostile to McLeod is "equally baseless."

President Eisenhower's nomination of McLeod, controversial State Department security chief, has been attacked by the conservative Irish Times and some papers in Britain and the United States.
