MOTORISTS TAKE TO RAILS — An estimated 24 to 26 inches of snow fell on this Berrien County town of Watervliet in the southwest corner of lower Michigan in a 24-hour period ending today, snarling traffic and blocking nearby I-94. Railroad passenger business was booming as stranded motorists and workers took to the rails.

Cold Threatens Florida

From Our News Wires

Record-shattering cold from the Canadian border to the Gulf Coast threatened Florida with its worst freeze of the century today and choked off the water supply in Columbus, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The death toll in a solid week of wintry misery for the nation's eastern half climbed past 100.

Knifelike winds carried the cold across the northern and midwest prairies deep into Dixie.

Subzero temperature records were common.

Weather records for the date fell. Winter officially is 10 days away.

★ ★ ★

And the creek in Hell froze over — Hell, Mich., that is.

The coldest reported reading was -23 at Mt. Pisgah, in the North Carolina Smoky Mountains. Mt. Mitchell, N. C., had -19, International Falls, Minn., and Huron, S. D. -18.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

Hundreds of schools were closed because of cold or snow.

Innumerable travelers were marooned because of heavy snow in the Northeast and in sections of the Midwest.

Snows which had buffeted wide sections of the Midwest and East eased, except for parts of Michigan, Ohio and New York state.

Ten more inches of new snow came down on Jamestown, N. Y., and other hard-pressed communities didn't have a chance to start digging out.

In Florida, there were fears that the advancing chill would be worse than the winter of 1957-58, when 18 million boxes of fruit were lost and citrus production was curtailed for two years.

With predictions of temperatures in the low 20's, citrus growers worked feverishly harvesting all the fruit they could and banking mounds of dirt around the young trees.

SNOW IN FLORIDA

Snow fell in Jacksonville, Fla., and the Pensacola Naval Air Station had a low of 19 degrees. Freezing readings were common throughout Florida. South Miami had a low of 36 and Miami 45.

In Columbus, Ohio, a water main broke in the downtown section and businesses, stores, eating places and homes were

Pontiac Temperature Dives to 90-Year Record Low

4 a.m.	1	10 a.m.	8
6 a.m.	1	Noon	11
8 a.m.	5	2 p.m.	15

A numbing Arctic cold wave brought near-zero temperatures and more unwanted snow to Michigan today and extended to six days a killer storm that has virtually paralyzed portions of the state.

Temperatures dived to a low of 1 above zero in downtown Pontiac, a new low for the season and a 90-year record for the day.

More of the same is predicted for tonight the predicted low is expected to hit zero in the city with 8 below in the suburban areas.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow will be a little warmer with the high creeping up to 18 and a chance of a light snow. Friday and Saturday will turn colder again, but on Sunday temperatures will rise a little.

★ ★ ★

Winter blew another blast of snowfall along the Lake Michigan shoreline north from New Buffalo, with 15 inches of fall, to South Haven, with 13 inches, and Muskegon, with 7 inches.

From Grayling to Sault Ste. Marie another 4 inches of snow fell

I-94, the main route between Chicago and Detroit, continued to be a trouble spot.

The freeway was open to one-lane traffic in both directions early today, but so much truck traffic was backed up that vehicles moved at a snail's pace.

The State Highway Department again postponed the opening of a stretch on I-75 between M24 north of Pontiac and U.S. 10 at Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

The opening has been postponed until Friday because the highway is blocked with snow.

★ ★ ★

A total of 30 inches of snow was on the ground at Niles, with 12 inches falling yesterday. At one time, the snow got so heavy that a 27-car New York Central freight train stalled in the center of town.

The cars and engine were removed one at a time by special equipment.

Recent Storm Cost Pontiac Total of $7,400

Last week's snowstorm cost the city $7,400.

That's how much was spent on man hours, equipment and salt to keep main streets clear, according to Clyde Christian, Department of Public Works superintendent.

DPW crews worked continuously from 5:30 a.m. Dec. 6 to 4 p.m. Dec. 8.

In that period, the city rolled up 998 man hours, 663 equipment hours and used 345 tons of salt on city streets.

K Says He's Holding JFK to Cuba Anti-Invasion Pledge

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW—Premier Khrushchev said today he is holding President Kennedy to what he called pledges against an invasion of Cuba and warned if they are not kept "we will be compelled to take such actions as the situation requires of us."

Speaking before the Supreme Soviet Parliament, Khrushchev stressed that the "anti-invasion" pledge was a main factor in the Soviet Union's withdrawal of rockets and bombers from Cuba.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union's policy of peaceful coexistence averted a nuclear world war over Cuba and warned the more belligerent Communist Chinese that the American "paper tiger" had atomic teeth.

★ ★ ★

He accused the Chinese of trying to prod the Soviets into conflict with the United States.

'WE'RE READY'

Khrushchev said that Soviet officers had manned the Soviet missiles in Cuba "which were ready for launching" but not used, sparing the world from a nuclear holocaust.

Then, in the most direct and high-level attack yet on Chinese policy, which holds that communism can triumph over capitalism only by inevitable war, he said the world has no choice but to survive through coexistence.

In rejecting Chinese charges that he had bowed to imperialism in the Cuban crisis, he said that "these people who call themselves Marxist-Leninists" apparently were trying to provoke a clash between the Soviet Union and the United States.

Khrushchev's speech was billed as a major foreign policy statement, and while he devoted much of it to an explanation of Soviet policy with regard to Cuba, he also touched on other outstanding problems, including that of West Berlin.

The Soviet premier renewed his proposal that Allied troops in isolated West Berlin be replaced by United Nations troops.

He revived his threat that the U.S.S.R. would sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Allies reject a treaty with both East and West Germany.

By Soviet reckoning, this would cancel Allied rights in West Berlin.

Khrushchev said Moscow still favors negotiations of disputed questions, but he added that "long patience has an end."

Taking Long Time to Get Jury for Murder Trial

Selection of a jury in the first degree murder trial of three Pontiac men resumed this morning before Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams after a frantic round-up of additional jurors overnight by sheriff's deputies.

Only 13 of the 25 additional jurors ordered yesterday by Judge Adams appeared this morning.

Only 11 passed the preliminary screening, according to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy.

Judge Adams issued the order after a full day of jury selection exhausted the available jurors without impaneling the needed 12.

The shortage developed after two defense attorneys dismissed a total of 29 with peremptory challenges and Judge Adams excused several more for cause.

Defendants in the trial for the July 30 robbery and killing of Pontiac market owner Eftimias Vasiliou are Joseph Page, 26, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Benny L. Spells, 23, and R. G. Stroman, 29, both of 235 S. Anderson St.

Murphy said the shortage would not have happened if the county had a jury commission to

Missile Killer Gets Second ICBM Score

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's Nike-Zeus missile killer today scored its second successful intercept of a target warhead launched by an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile over the Pacific.

The Defense Department announced that a Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile fired from the mid-Pacific Kwajalein Island came within kill range of the target warhead which had been fired 5,000 miles from Vandenberg Air Force Base on the California coast.

Two Zeus missiles were fired in Salvo, but one was destroyed automatically because of what was described as a technical defect in its second stage.

The world's first known intercept of an ICBM target warhead was a Nike-Zeus last July 19.

Since then there have been at least two test foulups be-

Seidman Is Named as Special Finance Aide, Devries to Exec Post

LANSING (AP)—Gov.-elect George Romney announced the appointment today of Glenn Allen Jr., former mayor of Kalamazoo, as state controller, and named two others to serve on his team when he takes office Jan. 1.

Romney also appointed L. William Seidman of Ada as special counsel to the governor for financial affairs and Dr. Walter Devries of Grand Rapids as executive assistant to the governor for program development and agency liaison.

Allen and Seidman ran on the Republican ticket with Romney but were defeated. Allen was the candidate for state treasurer and Seidman for auditor general.

Devries was director of research for the Romney campaign.

In making the announcement, Romney said he was emphasizing the importance of financial management, administrative controls and program development.

The governor-elect said he also was considering others who ran on his administrative board slate for possible appointments.

"The Republican candidates for state office were selected to run largely on the basis of competence, character and capacity. Thus it is not unusual that some of them will find a place to serve the people of Michigan in the new administration," Romney said.

Romney told newsmen he has decided to revamp the organizational structure of the executive office into a cabinet-type system.

He said he would name six top assistants to serve on his team, plus special assistants from time to time.

★ ★ ★

The Seidman appointment is the first of the special assignments.

Other positions to be filled are executive assistants for legal affairs, legislative program, public information and appointments and office management.

Romney, former president of American Motors, apparently was borrowing a page from his executive notebook in working out details of the new organization.

Each of the six assistants will function in a capacity similar to vice presidents in charge of specific departments in a business operation, responsible equally to the chief executive.

Why Buy the Same Old Gifts?

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Why not give dad something different than the usual shirts, ties, sox, underwear or pajamas this Christmas?

Pontiac area store buyers have really gone all out in acquiring novelty gifts and items that the man of the house would not think of buying for himself.

In one store there is a pair of tiny gold old lamp post cuff links that light up when the top is pressed. These are decorative as well as brand new to the area.

Gaining in popularity are the heman cossack hats. They are available in imitation fur in gray, black, brown or white; but some are made of the fur of real animals and come in the same colors.

Another popular item for men is the silver dollar money clips, key chains, belt buckles and even a pillbox.

New bright red corduroy robes and slippers have replaced the dull-colored bathrobes of yesteryear.

★ ★ ★

The most fastidious male couldn't resist a jeweled "tie tac" being shown. A tiny honest-to-goodness diamond set in white gold would complement any colored tie, and keep it in place, too.

Brand new, too, are the battery-operated pencil sharpeners.

Allies Scrap Over Skybolt

LONDON (AP) —The British government admitted today it had failed to reach agreement with the United States on the Skybolt missile. Tentative U.S. plans to scrap it have put the British-American alliance to one of its heaviest strains.

A statement issued by the ministry of defense said, however, discussions on the missile will continue.

The announcement dealt with the talks in London yesterday between Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft.

The two officials discussed at length the prospects of developing the airborne strategic missile on which Britain has been counting

North Borneo Uprising Seems Near Collapse

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—The North Borneo uprising appeared to be near collapse today as British troops mounted coordinated attacks on centers of rebel strength.

The British announced the recapture of a holdout center in the oil town of Seria, and claimed three other rebel-held towns were taken.

In taking the town's jail, a pocket of resistance in Seria, the British freed 45 men who had been held hostage there for four days.

It was reported one American, Harold Eighmie of Wenatchee, Wash., was wounded. He had been used as a human shield by a group of rebels when they attempted to take Penaga police barracks nearby on Saturday and had been held hostage since.

The British command said Lawas and Limbang in the adjoining colony of Sarawak also were recaptured. But reports from Sarawak said the fight for Limbang was continuing with the rebels still in control of about half of the town.

The British also announced the regaining of Kuala Belait, another oil center south of Seria.

Four hundred pro-British Sarawak tribesmen, responding to a government appeal for assistance, fanned out near the border of Brunei and Sarawak in a move to cut off any rebels retreating into the jungle from Brunei.

Three hundred troops of the British First Green Jackets moved ashore at Labuan from the cruiser Tiger. Commando forces also landed in Sarawak.

Soldiers of the queen's own Highlanders took the Seria jail and freed the hostages without a fight. The prisoners included 14 Britons, 4 Dutchmen, 2 Australians and 15 Brunei policemen.

The number was a surprise. Only nine Europeans, Shell Co. employes, were known to have been held by the rebels there when combat teams sealed off the area and bypassed it Tuesday.

The troops moved cautiously to minimize chances that the hostages would be slain by the rebels or injured in a fight.

Eighmie's wound was described as a slight injury in one shoulder. Clifford Joseph, a Eurasian, was killed and five others wounded seriously while used as shields by the rebels in the Fanaga police barracks action.

All the wounded, including Eighmie, were taken to a Kuala Belait hospital for treatment.

A second American, trapped by the rebels in Brunei town, was reported unharmed. He was Arnie I. Sumardilason of Seattle, Wash.

CHARLES THARRETT JR.

Boy on Bicycle Killed by Car in Avon Twp.

A 13-year-old Avon Township boy was killed yesterday when his bicycle was hit by a car a few blocks from his home.

★ ★ ★

Charles Tharrett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tharrett of 1266 Ruby St., died of fractures of the skull and spine. He was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The youngster was an eighth grade student at Avondale Junior High School.

The accident occurred on Livernois Road at East Grace Street, just north of South Boulevard, at 5:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The driver of the car, Clifford L. Keidel, 53, of 3065 Talbot St., Troy, told Sheriff deputies that he did not see the boy until he was directly in front of the car and that then it was too late to avoid the collision.

★ ★ ★

Keidel estimated he was traveling between 45 and 50 miles an hour when he struck the boy.

Police believe the boy was traveling north on Livernois Road, the same direction as Keidel was going, when he veered his bicycle into the roadway. There was no witness to the accident.

The boy's body is at the Moore Chapel of the Sparks-Griffin Funeral home in Auburn Heights.

Woman Pleads 5th Amendment

Refuses to Answer in Communist Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A soft-spoken, Virginia-born woman refused to answer when asked by a House subcommittee on un-American activities today whether she had held Communist membership or had connections with the pacifist group Women Strike for Peace.

The witness, Rose Clinton of New York, speaking with traces of a Southern accent, cited the Fifth Amendment 25 times in declining to answer questions. She did say she was born and educated in Virginia.

The committee counsel said a former FBI undercover agent had identified her as a Communist in 1949 in previous testimony before the committee, and another previous witness had said she had known Miss Clinton as a Communist during the World War II period in Washington.

Miss Clinton declined to answer when asked if she had formed the West Side Peace Committee in New York, whether it had Communist members, or whether it had any connection with Women Strike for Peace.

She was asked about an advertisement in the newspaper National Guardian for a panel discussion on fallout shelters, which listed a peace committee official as a panelist, and which said the discussion was under the auspices of the West Side Peace Committee. Miss Clinton declined to answer.

The House subcommittee is holding three days of hearings on alleged Communist infiltration of peace groups.

Less than half as big a crowd appeared in the caucus room as had showed up at Tuesday's opening session, but the front rows were still filled with matronly women. One of them, who said she was Rebecca Shelley of Battle Creek, Mich., laid a bouquet of flowers beside Miss Clinton as she took the witness stand.

2 Area Men Named to Health Care Unit

Four men, including two from Oakland County, were appointed today to the Governor's Advisory Commission on Health Care by Gov. John B. Swainson.

The two from Oakland are Martin A. Cohen, 23851 Scotia St., Oak Park, and Albert R. Pisa, 5705 Forman Drive, Bloomfield Township.

The others are Allan B. Schmier of Detroit and Kenneth W. Gremore, Grosse Ile.

The commission was established to review the findings of the governor's commission on prepaid hospital and medical care plans and to suggest action on the first group's recommendations.

In the northeastern section of Ohio, an overnight snowfall of from 8 to 16 inches brought new woes to hundreds of thousands of residents.

Scores of towns throughout the area were buried under snow ranging from 20 to 48 inches. Drifts shaped by biting winds in subzero temperatures piled up to depths of 6 and 8 feet.

Ohio State guardsmen were put into emergency work, clearing roadways and shuttling nurses and doctors from their homes to hospitals.

NEW SNOW

New snow and bitter cold covered Pennsylvania, Michigan, West Virginia and Upper New York.

Between 24 and 30 inches of snow fell overnight at Fulton, N.Y., and schools and public buildings were shut.

The temperature fell to -10 at Bonnville, to -7 at Watertown and Elmira, -5 at Poughkeepsie and 19 in New York City.

In the West Virginia mountains snow fell again in sections where drifts have reached depths of 20 feet. Subzero readings were general throughout the state. At Flat Top it was -10. Huntington had -4 and Charleston zero.

screen potential jurors before a jury term began.

A jury commission also would have more names from which to pick prospective jurors, he added, since it would use voter registration lists instead of the tax assessment rolls now used.

Rounding up additional jurors when needed also would be easier and less expensive with a jury commission, Murphy said.

The mathematics of yesterday's shortage, according to Murphy, were as follows: Of 135 originally called for the current term, only 71 survived the first screening. A later call for another 15 produced only seven.

Of this 78 total, 12 are presently hearing a condemnation case and another 12 a civil suit, leaving 54 available for the murder case.

Britain, U.S. Scrap Over End to Skybolt

for maintaining its nuclear deterrent. Indications that Skybolt may be scrapped have roused alarm in Britain.

The ministry statement said that McNamara and Thorneycroft had "full and frank talks." It added:

"No decision was taken on the future of Skybolt, on which discussions will continue."

This was the first official disclosure that the talks had broken up without agreement, though reports leaking out told of a tough bargaining session between the two ministers.

McNamara left for Paris this morning to attend the NATO ministerial meeting. Thorneycroft will be going there tonight.

★ ★ ★

Britain has made plain that junking of the projected missile could lead to a reappraisal of British defense commitments, including the use of Holy Loch in Scotland for a U.S. Polaris submarine base, British informants said.

TOUGH ARGUMENT

Reports from the McNamara-Thornecroft talks yesterday said a tough, blunt argument took place. The Daily Sketch described the meeting as one of the stormiest between ministers of the two governments.

"Mr. McNamara is under no illusions as to the British reaction to any cancellation of Skybolt," a British defense spokesman said.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thornecycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan presumably will have to make the final decision about the Skybolt at their meeting in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20.

The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile that has cost $650 million and had an unbroken string of failures in its first five test firings. It is designed for firing by a bomber standing off 1,000 miles from its target.

Discuss World Questions

Rusk Meets de Gaulle in Paris

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President de Gaulle discussed a wide range of world questions today and Rusk said afterward the talks "went very well indeed."

★ ★ ★

"We discussed the entire situation," the American secretary said.

Rusk called on de Gaulle at his Elysee Palace on the eve of the annual year-end review meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Rusk and de Gaulle were together for an hour and then were joined briefly by Premier Georges Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

Although Rusk did not go into detail, the subjects presumably included de Gaulle's insistence on creating his own nuclear striking force.

The United States is opposed to more national nuclear forces and has suggested a European nuclear force closely integrated with NATO.

The foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 NATO member countries convene in NATO headquarters tomorrow morning for their year-end review of the organization's progress and plans.

Secretary Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara conferred over lunch in the home of Thomas K. Finletter, U. S. envoy to NATO.

Others present included Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor; Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander for Europe, and Norstad's designated successor, Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer.

McNamara flew here from London where he had had discussions with British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft on the Skybolt air-to-ground missile.

Britain has been counting on this weapon for her own nuclear deterrent, but the United States now is reported about to abandon its manufacture.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the day, Rusk called on French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, and received Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange.

City Commission OKs Youth Assistance Plan

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission has agreed to establish a youth assistance program designed to cut down juvenile delinquency in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The program, supported by the North Oakland Planning Division of United Community Services, is guided by the Oakland County Probate Court.

As part of the program, city commissioners will appoint a committee of local residents to work with police, social workers and judicial officials to decrease the number of court cases involving juveniles.

Statistics reveal that the number of juvenile court cases have decreased in 15 county communities which have the program, according to City Manager L. R. Gare.

Commissioners agreed to establish the program on a trial basis for one year.

The Dec. 24 City Commission meeting has been rescheduled for Dec. 27. The meeting date was changed since it would have fallen on Christmas Eve.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Hogan, 920 Glenhurst St.

Smiling Pope Gives Public Grim Words

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A pale but smiling Pope John XXIII, holding his first public audience since he became ill two weeks ago, said today he "may not be here" for the end of the Ecumenical Council next year.

The 81-year-old pontiff's lined face clearly showed signs of illness which Vatican officials have described as stomach trouble and anemia.

But he displayed a jovial and smiling demeanor as he received some 1,200 pilgrims in the palace's Clementine Hall.

The Pope mentioned his hopes that the historic council would be finished by Christmas of 1963.

★ ★ ★

"One year is not a long time," he said. "I may not be here but if I'm not, there certainly will be another pope."

★ ★ ★

At another point during the audience he said:

"I hope to be alive to see the end of this council, but if we are not alive then we hope that God will reserve us a good place."

His tone, while remarking about the possibility of death, remained light and he smiled often.

cause of troubles with a target missile and radar difficulties.

In today's intercept, as in the first, neither the Nike-Zeus nor the target vehicle carried a nuclear device.

★ ★ ★

The Army said ground tracking equipment indicated that the target warhead was "well within the lethal radius" of an operational Zeus warhead.

The Nike-Zeus is designed to destroy oncoming ballistic missiles about 100 miles above earth, as the missile aproaches the end of its trajectory.

It need not make an actual physical intercept, but is designed to destroy an enemy warhead from a distance with its own nuclear warhead.

The Pentagon said the Atlas used in today's test was fired by a Strategic Air Command crew as a training exercise.

"The capability of intercepting single ICBM's under research and development conditions is a valuable contribution to our understanding of the basic factors involved in problems in this field," the statement said.

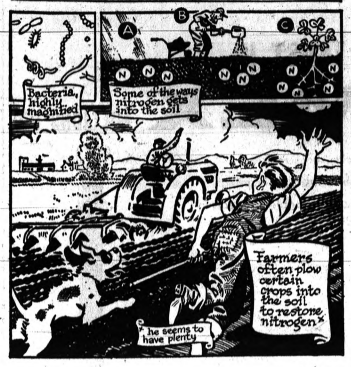
Junior Editors Quiz on FARMING



QUESTION: I have heard that nitrogen fixing-bacteria very important. Why?

ANSWER: Nitrogen is a substance necessary to life because it helps make up the protoplasm which is the living material inside the cells of our bodies. We must take in nitrogen all the time to renew these cells and build more.

We breathe in nitrogen that is in the air but do not absorb it that way, so we must get it by eating plants or animals which have eaten plants. The plants, in turn, get nitrogen from the soil and the soil gets it in a number of ways such as from rain (A) and fertilizer (B).

Another way is through the nitrogen fixing bacteria (C). Bacteria are extremely minute living organisms usually classed as plants. Some are harmful, many very useful, even necessary to our lives. The nitrogen fixing group of bacteria live on the roots of a family of plants called "legumes," which includes peas, beans, alfalfa and clover.

These bacteria have the ability to take nitrogen out of air which works down through the soil. After using this for their own living, they die and leave the nitrogen.

Certain crops, such as corn, take a great deal of nitrogen out of the soil. The farmers often raise legume crops to improve the soil. Legumes are frequently plowed under for this reason.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Nitrogen is continually being passed around — for air and rain to soil, to plants and animals, back to the soil again. This rotation is called the nitrogen cycle. Find out the details about this.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says a Marine Corps physician wrote the mother of a young recruit that there was nothing wrong with her boy except "an acute attack of nostalgia."

Young said, "The indignant mother wrote her senator that her boy never had trouble with 'nostalgia' until he enlisted in the Marine Corps, and she wishes her senator to see the Secretary of Defense immediately and do something about it."

Webster says nostalgia means homesickness—and Young wishes Marine Corps doctors would say so, too.

FOR THE BIRDS—The birdlike equivalent of a turkey dinner is devoured by two winged creatures in Akron, Ohio, during the two-day snowstorm that dumped 13 inches of snow on the ground, snarled traffic — and wiped out food supplies for the birds. Thousands of residents helped out by putting out bread and grain.

Thant Calls for Squeeze on Province of Katanga

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary-General U Thant calls on the United States, Britain and Belgium today to start applying an economic squeeze to the Congo's breakaway province of Katanga.

The United States and Belgium were said to have assured Thant they would go as far as a boycott of Katanga's rich copper and cobalt exports if he feels it necessary to bring Katanga President Moise Tshombe into line.

However, informants said Britain has told the secretary-general it is unwilling to go along with sanctions or other steps that could be viewed as applying force against the province.

Britain has argued that sanctions against Katanga could bring economic disaster to the rest of the Congo and defeat Thant's plan to reunite the divided country.

DETERMINED

Thant apparently was determined to carry out his threat despite Britain's stand. He is said to have been bolstered by expressions of support from U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Ambassador Walter Loridan of Belgium.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak warned in Brussels Tuesday night of the possibility of new fighting. He said that unless Tshombe takes a "decisive step which was asked from him, sanctions, very tough sanctions, will then be taken."

As a first step Thant will seek to halt air traffic into Elisabethville, the Katangan capital, set up blocks on rail lines and cut off mail and telecommunication links.

Belgium is being asked to pull out about 700 Belgian technicians who play a vital role in the province.

The secretary-general wants Katanga to rejoin the Congo under a federal constitution and a 50-50 split with Leopoldville of the $40 million in annual revenues the European-owned Union Miniere combine now pays Katanga.

If Tshombe still resists, Thant will ask member states to ban imports of Katanga's copper and cobalt.

Britain Finds 245 Seek Office

Floured by Doughboys

LONDON (AP)—Britain's legal authorities admitted today that the new army game—getting out of the armed services by running for political office—had them momentarily stopped.

The big question is how to halt legally the stampede.

★ ★ ★

So far, 245 persons have registered as candidates for two vacant seats in the House of Commons. The vast majority are servicemen.

★ ★ ★

Someone discovered that by running for Commons, a serviceman is automatically excused from further duty.

CLAMOR FOR LAW

The government decided to rush through a new low that would dam the deluge of armed forces candidates. But drafting the law isn't as easy as it sounded.

★ ★ ★

The government has encountered legal complications. Some of its best legal brains have yet to find a solution to safeguard the interests of all.

Ann Arbor Plant to Be Redeveloped

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Argus, Inc., will redevelop its Ann Arbor plant into a defense production facility, optical center and manufacturing unit for other technical items, President Herbert R. Leopold of Chicago has announced.

★ ★ ★

The redevelopment may result in the rehiring of some 100 employes expected to be laid off after the shift away from still camera production here, Leopold said here.

Up to 250 additional workers may be hired by mid-August, he added.

Professor Says Private School Will Flourish

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Private colleges will continue to flourish across the country, says Merritt M. Chambers, visiting professor of higher education at the University of Michigan.

Chambers, former executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents, said in an interview:

"The private colleges that are reputable and well -managed will not only survive, but they will have more students, more buildings and more money than they ever had before.

"We will forever prize and preserve the diversity and freedom of choice which their presence provides," he said.

Despite the growth, he added, private colleges' percentage of the total college enrollment probably will continue to decline.

"This is because the total of all students will be doubled within a dozen years," Chambers said.

"Though all colleges will grow, the public institutions will be forced to expand at a more rapid rate than the private institutions are likely to mantain."

85 Prisoners Involved in Riot, 2 Guards Hurt

PRINCETOWN, England (AP) —A riot involving 85 prisoners broke out in Dartmoor Prison Tuesday.

Before it was brought under control at least two guards were hurt, one seriously from cuts and head injuries inflicted with a pair of heavy shears.

The rioting occurred in the shop where prisoners make mail bags.

Wants to Stop Parole Board

Fired Member Seeks Halt to Commutations

LANSING (AP) — A former state parole board member, fired last year, yesterday asked for a court order halting any commutations to release prisoners sentenced for first-degree murder.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash refused to issue an immediate temporary order but scheduled a hearing for Dec. 20 on the petition sought by John A. MacLellan of Detroit.

MacLellan has contended in a series of statements that the board has been subjected to "insidious influences" seeking to obtain the release of ex-Purple gangster Phillip Keywell, 53, and Jack Budd, 57.

Both appeared for commutation hearings before the parole board recently.

* * *

MacLellan said in a bill of complaint that the board should be stopped from allowing further commutations because it is "illegally constituted."

He also asked a permanent injunction to restrain the board from further commutation hearings until its makeup complied with the law.

MacLellan claimed the board was not legal because it does not consist of five qualified members.

He said the appointment of John J. Spencer, former assistant director in charge of penal institutions, was illegal because he was not on the civil service register for the job and did not take a promotional examination.

In his bill of complaint, MacLellan said the board was "in clear violation of the intent of the legislature to keep the parole board free of improper influences."

He said there were more deserving cases than those of Keywell and Budd which had not yet been considered by the board.

Santa Back as Favorite on Christmas Cards

Trade reports indicate that this year nine-billion Christmas cards will be mailed.

And it may come as news to you, but Santa Claus is staging a big comeback this year.

Last year, as a symbol of the season, he unaccountably ran ninth, trailing such leaders as cherubs, candles and Christmas trees.

Why our genial friend had a bad showing in '61 and will have a better one this December, is anyone's guess. But over the years, Santa's popularity has gone up and down as rapidly as he reputedly slides down chimneys.

The Greeting Card Association divides Christmas cards into "general" and "religious" categories. The religious greetings account for about one-third.

While card senders can wait until the last minute to make their choices, makers and sellers plan many months ahead.

★ ★ ★

Manufacturers had designed this year's cards by last Christmas. Retailers selected them last spring. Soon after Labor Day, some stores had the current season's cards on display.

Some of the largest producers turn out as many as 1,800 designs. The Greeting Card Association estimates that some 50,000 different ones are offered every year.

★ ★ ★

Cards range in price from two cents to $2. The average costs a dime, and the typical family sends out 56 of them.

Americans spent $40 million for cards in 1939 and are expected to spend a whopping $300 million this year.

By the way, have you got yours addressed yet?

Investigation Bureau Puts Bite on Crooks

Those of our readers who make their living outside the laws, draw close and receive serious counsel.

★ ★ ★

What you bite is now just as important as who you put the bite on. The FBI indicates criminals are being identified by their teeth prints, as well as their fingerprints.

★ ★ ★

A couple of burglars who left telltale dental clues in cheese and peanut butter are no longer free to nibble snacks in other people's houses.

Police call it an open and shut case, as they clamped down.

'Tree' Important Part of Christmas Season

President KENNEDY, just like the head of any American family, next Monday will be lighting a Christmas tree. This one is the Nation's tree, a 70-foot blue spruce from Colorado.

The decoration of a tree at Christmas is an old Scandinavian and German custom that seems to have spread to England and this country only in the 19th century. For a long time Wooster, Ohio, claimed the honor of having had the first Christmas tree in the United States — decorated by a young German immigrant in 1847.

This honor has since been challenged, and researchers have turned up "first trees" in Philadelphia in 1834, Cincinnati 1835 and Rochester in 1840.

Americans this year will spend well over $50 million on more than 40-million trees. Those raised on plantations are growing in popularity; last year they accounted for about 40 per cent of the market as against a slim 5 per cent five years earlier.

★ ★ ★

The family tree may cost more this year because of the shortage of high-grade Scotch pines, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. They will run about 50 cents higher than last year's $6 average.

Another source, however, reports they're in good supply with wild trees going for under $2. Tall, well-shaped ones are around $5, and Douglas fir are a bit higher.

★ ★ ★

If you're in the market, don't be caught short and forced to settle for leftovers. Select your tree now from the many choice ones available.

IT is surprising to note that the railroads have won their first court test in their attempts to stop running gravy trains for featherbedders.

The Man About Town

Pounds Aweigh

Press Head of Printing to Become Svelte Type

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

A new look has appeared in the Press' composing room. It is worn by the MAT's friends and colleagues.

William F. DeBats

of Clarkston . . .Whazat? You say the language indicates two, and only one is named?

It's very simple. Our man, at 320 lbs. IS two.

● ● ●

But things are changing. Starting at a portly 329 lbs. gross weight, he has sloughed off nine pounds since the Page One announcement a week ago of his program for girth control.

By quick slide-rule mathematics (5 lbs. per belt notch) that means his circumference is reduced by two inches. Soon now, two people will be able to get their arms around him.

The year end's target is a scant 300 pounds.

of 2914 Otsego, says I'm not much good on dates. This has a familiar ring . . . seems like it was a common complaint nearly a half-century ago!

Howsomever, the date in question was the year "1882" that appeared recently in connection with a deed signed by President Andrew Jackson. It should, of course, be 1832.

Our seventh Chief Executive is hereby backdated 50 years, and our historian complimented on his alertness and the fact that he reads the column!

Obviously No Miracle Drug

David Lawrence Says:

Tax Reform, Not Cut, Advocated

WASHINGTON — Maybe the stock market did break on Monday, as reported in news dispatches, because of the statement of chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee that he is opposed to a tax cut now, or maybe it was for some other reason.

LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

But the fact is the chairman of the tax-writing committee of Congress has stated the case against a tax cut in such a way as to cause considerable debate here, too, especially since President Kennedy previously had announced that under certain conditions he would propose a reduction in the next session of Congress.

Mr. Mills said that he "could not go along with the idea that you just cut taxes without regard to the deficit that is created." He insisted that tax cuts should be accompanied by tax "reform" and that the earliest date to expect such reform would be in January 1964.

It's quite possible, of course, that the Administration may welcome the statement of Mr. Mills, because it could get officials out of a dilemma created for them when the prospects for business looked worse than they do today.

Perhaps now, as business conditions seem to be improving, there will be less enthusiasm for the tax cut even inside the Administration.

CHALLENGING

But the reasons given by chairman Mills against a tax cut are so challenging that unquestionably some people who invest in the stock market took his remarks to mean that the expected inflation might not now materialize.

This would account, of course, for the decline, which happened to be the most severe in several weeks.

★ ★ ★

The outstanding fact is that business conditions are getting somewhat better, and Mr. Mills uses the argument that has often been employed before—namely, the time to reduce taxes is when business is bad and not when business is good.

★ ★ ★

He expressed his views in a copyrighted interview in the current issue of "U.S. News & World Report." Here is an excerpt from that interview:

NEED FOR CUT

"Q. Mr. Mills, what do you think is indicated now as to the need for a tax cut?

★ ★ ★

"A. The situation, as I view it at this time from the point of view of the economy as a whole, on the basis of information coming to me from business and government sources, would indicate that there has not been a deterioration in our economy and that there probably will not be a deterioration during the early part of 1963.

On the basis of that projection, it would seem that there probably would be little justification at the moment for a 'quickie' tax cut effective Jan. 1, 1963.

"Q. How do you feel about the argument that present tax rates are so high they keep business from reaching a level at which there would be full employment?

★ ★ ★

"A. That is probably true in the long run. But, on the basis of today's situation—the existing level of economic activity and personal income, numbers employed and other factors that could be mentioned—I question the need of an immediate tax cut for purposes of stimulating the present level of economic activity.

"Q. Are there any conditions in which you would favor cutting taxes even though it might mean a bigger deficit?

"A. If we were going into a depression, perhaps we would actually incur less deficit in the long run and less debt in the long run by doing everything we could to stop a depression—that is, minimizing its depth and the extent of the downturn.

WAIT FOR ONSET?

"Q. Are you saying that such a tax cut should await the actual onset of a recession and not be based on forecasts?

"A. I doubt that you could sell a tax cut alone for purposes of trying to do something to the economy until it's generally discernible that a downturn is coming."

Certainly there are indications that maybe the economic picture has altered for the better, and it's possible that the whole problem of tax changes will be concentrated instead on tax reform—which, of course, is long overdue.

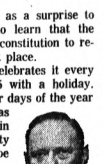
Bob Considine Says:

Few Russians Realize Constitutional Privileges

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union is in the process of revising its Constitution.

It may come as a surprise to some of you to learn that the U.S.S.R. has a constitution to revise in the first place.

It has, and celebrates it every year on Dec. 5 with a holiday. During the other days of the year it has about as much standing in the community as, let's say, Joe Stalin.



CONSIDINE

Lenin expressed it very well. In 1918, eight months after the revolution, he said of the first Soviet constitution:

"We know that the Constition which was endorsed in July was not thought up by some commission, nor was it concocted by lawyers, nor copied from other constitutions. There has never been such a constitution as ours in the world."

He could say that again, and probably did.

★ ★ ★

Hosts of liquidated Russians probably never knew that Article 11 of their constitution reads:

"In all courts of the U.S.S.R. cases are heard in public, unless otherwise provided by the law, and the accused is guaranteed the right of defense."

Writing in the Moscow News on Constitution Day, M. Shafir, a master of law says, without cracking a wince:

"The amendments adopted in 1938 related to the period when socialism was reinforcing its positions and the country was in the main completing the construction of a socialist society."

It was also the time of Stalin's mortstrous purges of some of his best people, roundly denounced years later by one of his then chief batchet men, Nikita Khrushchev.

The further revised constitution may be announced during this week's meeting of top party leaders.

Khrushchev pledged recently that it would "reflect the new stage in the development of Soviet society and the state, raise socialist democracy to a still higher level, provide even more solid guaranties for the democratic rights and freedoms of the working people, prepare for transition to public communist self-government."

★ ★ ★

As usual, it won't add, "positively!"

Voice of the People:

'Pope John Definitely Not Trying to Block Peace'

Pope John is trying to give world leadership and inspiration to all those who believe in God and wish to see the Gospel more widely known and practiced. Men in position of authority can have a humble spirit.

★ ★ ★

In spite of Red Russia and Red China being caught in acts of aggression, the writer who says Pope John is blocking peace sounds as if he thinks like a Communist. If the Pontiff is blocking peace it is a Soviet peace, which is the peace of death and the peace of the concentration camp. Anything which blocks Communist expansion is against peace in their view. If they shoot you they do it with a peaceful gun.

★ ★ ★

Peace will not return to the world until nations return to God including Soviet Russia.

'Castro's Regime Building Tunnels'

Reports from Cuba inform us that last week there were strong subterranean explosions in the zone near the Almendares River in the city of Havana.

In this region, for about four months, Fidel Castro's Communist regime has been excavating tunnels, taking advantage of the rocky soil characteristic of the Reparto Kohly. These tunnels have their entrance inside houses where elevators have been put. The subterranean explosions heard have shaken the homes throughout a large zone, but their origin is unknown.

The militia in charge in this suburb has been moving and transporting equipment and construction material.

Guard Chiefs Appeal Change

Ask Gov. Vandiver to Negotiate

WASHINGTON (AP) — State National Guard chiefs today refered to the governors a decision on the controversial Army plan to streamline the guard.

★ ★ ★

Unable to reach a unified position in two days of wrangling, the guard chiefs of all states but Alaska finally agreed to refer the matter to the governors' conference.

Maj. Gen. James Cantwell, adjutant general of New Jersey and president of the group, told reporters the guard generals were sending a letter to Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, chairman of the governors' conference committee on guard matters.

Cantwell said the letter outlines what he called "certain concerns" and requests that Vandiver and his committee meet with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in "an attempt to negotiate some of the differences."

★ ★ ★

The New Jersey general refused to elaborate on the "certain concerns" or to make public the letter. He said Vandiver will have to release the letter, if anbody does.

"We did not take a negative attitude," Cantwell said. He acknowledged, however, that the guard generals did not take a positive attitude toward the reorganization plan either.

Cubans to Use Woman Officers on Merchantmen

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban merchant fleet will be the first in Latin America to have female officers, Havana radio said yesterday.

A broadcast monitored here said the maritime academy would graduate the first female officers, after a year's training, next month. It did not say how many would qualify.

The size of the present Cuban merchant fleet was not revealed. Russian merchantmen calling on Cuban ports are known to have women crew members.

Hilarious Tips Given to Golfers

Book Urges Having Alibis and Confidence

By GEMMA STRIFFLER

"How to Play Golf in the Low 120's"
By Stephen Baker
Photographs by Howard Zieff

The fairway looked hazy to him.

It must have been the martinis.

* * *

Our golfer is the hero of a book just published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., written by Stephen Baker, with photographs by Howard Zieff. Title of the book is "How to Play Golf in the Low 120's."

"Have confidence" is the first rule for our golfer in order to help him break the 120 score.

And the second rule is to have a good list of alibis.

* * *

Special equipment also is needed, such as a map for finding lost balls, and a rope noose for discouraged players.

Legwork is important. Caddies even more so. The 19th hole most important of all.

IN DETAIL

Chips, pitches and putts are described in detail. The clubs must suit the golfer's personality.

* * *

The vivid page-size pictures are by Zieff, a top comercial photographer, who has won over 150 awards for his excellent work.

The author is a writer, artist, lecturer and (he says) a struggling golfer.

Readers scream with laughter over this book. It is truly hilarious. It should be in every golfer's library if only to keep him humble and human. The author explains that:

Talking a good game is half the battle! The terminology must be correct. Don't ever say, "I missed the putt," but sportingwise, say with confidence, "I read the green wrong."

* * *

And if our duffer fails to break 120, and he sobs bitterly, it is time for him to hurry to the 19th hole and the psychiatrist's couch!

Mimic Plugs Radio Show in JFK Voice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of a presidential mimic's voice to promote a Washington radio station caused a flurry in the Kennedy administration last weekend — but the voice was taken off the air before the White House could deliver a formal protest.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said today he had called the station from Palm Springs, Calif., last Saturday to object, but learned a station break recording of the voice of Vaughn Meader had already been discarded.

Meader is the comic whose record, "The First Family" in a voice strikingly similar to that of President Kennedy, has sold copies by the hundreds of thousands.

* * *

Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, called Salinger from Washington on Saturday to report that station WWDC in the capital was using a Meader tape to publicize itself between programs.

In at least one break, Meader — aping Kennedy's inflections — told the audience everyone listened to the station, "including baby John."

Salinger said he considered "use of mimicry of the President's voice for a commercial purpose" not quite fitting.

* * *

He was prepared to pass that belief along when he telephoned the station from Palm Springs, where Kennedy spent Saturday night and Sunday.

But he was told the mimicry had ceased.

Salinger related the episode under questioning at his meeting with newsmen today.

U.S. Unhappy as Russians Are Slow to Move From Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sources estimated today that between 2,000 and 3,000 Soviet troops have left Cuba during the past few weeks.

This withdrawal leaves in Cuba the bulk of Soviet military personnel sent there for missilery and other activities.

Estimates on the number still there range from 9,000 to 15,000. The estimates on the withdrawals also range widely because of difficulty in figuring how many men may be aboard outbound ships.

* * *

U.S. officials view the withdrawal as moving at a disappointingly slow pace.

This continuing Soviet military presence in Cuba has been one of the factors keeping the U.S.-Soviet dispute lingering on after the removal of Soviet missiles and bombers.

Premier Khrusuchev has written President Kennedy that Soviet units associated with the offensive weapons will be withdrawn in due course.

LOT UP IN AIR

But this left a lot to be pinned down. Among other things, it is not known here whether the Kremlin considered the short-range antiaircraft missiles in Cuba to be protection for the longer range offensive weapons—and therefore now intends to withdraw them.

Originally, the administration expressed the view that the Soviet military personnel entering Cuba were advisers and technicians, not troops.

Kennedy said on Aug. 28 that "we have no evidence of troops" in Cuba, and on Sept. 13, at his last news conference before the crisis. He was still referring to technicians.

* * *

The prevailing opinion in the administration was that the Cuban buildup was defensive. The antiaircraft and other weapons had been identified as similar to those the Russians had sent to Indonesia. The Indonesian shipments were accompanied by technicians skilled in matters like training and maintenance, but not Soviet combat troops, it was stated.

The Washington assessment changed fast with the discovery of the offensive weapons in Cuba. The Russians themselves were found to be setting up the missile sites, and presumably they would man the missiles.

Soon afterward, a number of Soviet ground combat units were reported found to have arrived in Cuba. These, it was presumed here, were for protection of the offensive weapons. Nonetheless, they were definitely troops in the terminology used by U.S. authorities.

Thus U.S. officials label the Soviet military personnel in Cuba as troops.

Some reports indicate that the personnel originally sent to Cuba as rocket experts have been reformed into regular army units now that their offensive weapons have been withdrawn.

Some officials feel that there was nothing surprising about this—that it's a routine military procedure for personnel under such circumstances and does not indicate the missilemen will be kept in Cuba as ground combat troops.

Enlistees Offered Holiday Leaves

Armed Services recruiting officers in Pontiac have announced that the Army and Navy this month are offering prospective enlistees advance leave to allow them to remain home over the holidays.

* * *

Those enlisting in the Army after Dec. 10 will be granted up to 15 days before departing for basic training Jan. 2, according to recruiter M. Sgt. Raymond R. Barriault.

Navy recruiter, Chief Quartermaster Bob Huffaker, said applicants enlisting this month will be sworn in Dec. 18 but will be granted up to 14 days advance leave.

*

The Army recruiting station is at 53½ W. Huron St. and the Navy office is located at 25 W. Huron St. in the Riker Building.

Tragedy Strikes Twice

UXBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—John E. Mathewson, 33, of Salem, N.Y., was killed in a highway accident while en route home Tuesday night from the funeral of his brother, killed in an accident last week.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep with nagging backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1, by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains, 2, by soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3, by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years.

For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

Plum Pudding Is Traditional

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you always have old fashioned plum pudding for dessert on Christmas Day, don't read any farther. But if you are open to suggestions about dessert, this is the article for you.

Nowadays you can make a holiday pudding and choose whether you will steam or bake it. There's nary a plum in this recipe — but lots of mixed candied fruit and nuts. Evaporated milk makes it moist.

Sugarplum Pudding

8 ounces chopped mixed candied fruit
1-¾ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup plus 2 tablespoons butter, softened
¾ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 eggs
2-3 cup evaporated milk
1-3 cup water

Cut candied fruit into fine pieces. Reserve ¼ cup of the sifted flour, then sift the remaining 1½ cups flour with the baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Mix the ¼ cup flour with the candied fruit and the nuts to coat well. Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Beat in eggs one at a time. Combine evaporated milk with the water.

Add alternately with the dry ingredients to the egg mixture, beginning and ending with the dry. Add fruit-nut mixture and mix until well blended.

Spoon batter into a 1½ quart well-buttered mold. If mold has its own lid, butter inside of lid and cover mold. Or use aluminum foil to cover, pressing tightly around all edges of mold; secure with rubber band or string. Place mold on a rack in a pan that has a tight-fitting cover. Pour enough water into pan to come half way up on mold. Bring water to a boil, cover pan tightly, reduce heat and steam pudding until done, 1½ hours or slightly longer if mold is not hollow in center.

Unmold and serve hot with Snow Butter Sauce. Makes 10 to 12 servings. NOTE: If desired, pudding may be baked in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees). Cover mold as above and bake until done, 1 hour if mold is hollow in center or 1 hour 15 minutes if not hollow. Remove from oven and let stand on cooling rack 10 minutes before unmolding.

Snow Butter Sauce

½ cup butter, softened
¾ cup unsifted powdered sugar
1 cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon vanilla extract

Cream butter. Add the sugar gradually, blending well. Beat in evaporated milk gradually, then blend in vanilla.

Two tablespoons of flour seems like very little, but it is in keeping with the modern trend toward lighter desserts. Christmas Crunch Mold is a dessert you serve cold with whipped cream.

We think this one you will serve often during the winter months.

Christmas Crunch Mold

1 cup fresh dates
½ cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, separated
½ cup roasted diced almonds
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
Sweetened whipped cream

With kitchen scissors, snip dates into fine pieces. In a mixing bowl, combine brown sugar, flour, baking powder, salt, vanilla and egg yolks. Stir in dates and almonds.

Beat egg whites until foamy; add granulated sugar gradually, and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Fold into date mixture.

Turn into well-greased and sugared 8-inch ring mold. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 30 minutes. Cool in mold; turn out onto serving plate and garnish top with sweetened whipped cream. If desired, decorate cream with additional dates.

Makes 6-8 servings.

Light, lighter and now lightest. For calorie - conscious guests, here's a molded pumpkin flavored dessert. Nonfat dry milk is whipped to go into the dessert while a second batch of it dresses the top. Each is flavored with a different fruit.

Orange-Pumpkin Spice Mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup orange juice
2 cups (1-pound can) pumpkin
¼ teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup sugar
½ cup shredded coconut
2½ cups orange whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals
2½ cups apple whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals
Apple wedges

Sprinkle gelatin over orange juice to soften. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until gelatin is dissolved. Cool.

Combine gelatin mixture, pumpkin, vanilla, nutmeg, cinnamon, sugar, coconut and orange whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals; mix well. Turn into lightly oiled 1-quart mold and chill until set. Unmold onto serving platter. Serve with apple whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals. Garnish with apple wedges, as desired.

To whip orange instant nonfat dry milk crystals:

1. Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ½ cup well chilled orange juice.
2. Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
3. Gradually add ¼ cup sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer).

To whip apple instant nonfat dry milk crystals:

1. Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ½ cup well chilled apple juice.
2. Beat until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
3. Gradually add 2 tablespoons sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer). Fold in 2-3 cup finely chopped apple. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Meat Appetizers as Party Food Appeal to Men

The men at your holiday parties will agree that zesty appetizers have the most appeal. They like snacks on the hearty side such as those made with meat.

Try these for your next party: pieces of liver wrapped with strips of bacon served hot with a peppy cocktail dip; meaty cornucopias, made by spreading a slice of salami with chutney, rolling it into a cone and skewering with a cocktail frank.

The canned cocktail franks are handy for the party tray, suggests the American Meat Institute. Make individual sandwiches or serve the franks with a spicy tomato sauce in a chafing dish.

FIRST TITAN "TWO" — The first of the modified Titan inter-continental ballistic missiles made by the Martin-Marietta Co., of Denver, is being lowered onto its blast ring 25 miles from Tucson. The Titan "two" is fired from its 155-foot-deep underground silo instead of being raised to the surface. The 103-foot missile is being lowered onto its blast ring in two stages. This 72-foot section contains the motor.

Diamond: A Best Friend

Demure or dynamic in design, the avalanche of new diamond engagement rings at Christmas forecasts spring weddings.

The majority of men admit that they lack knowledge of diamonds and jewelry design.

However, they know that they want to receive sound value for their diamond dollars.

The best direction for a man to take is through the doorway of a reliable jeweler. Being a diamond expert, he will guide a man toward a final decision to please both finances and fiancee.

Here are a few points of information about diamonds that might help the buyer of that Christmas engagement ring.

The price of a diamond is set by a team called the Four Cs — carat weight, color, cut and clarity.

Diamonds are weighed by the carat, which is divided into 100 points. A diamond weighing 45 points is just five points under a half carat; a diamond of 72 points is almost three-quarters of a carat.

Cut, the second of the price-setting team, has two meanings: It refers to the shape of the diamond and also to the quality of workmanship in shaping and polishing it.

A round diamond, also called the brilliant-cut, flatters most hand shapes. The marquise diamond looks like a boat with points on each end.

An emerald-cut is rectangular in outline and comes in either square or oblong contours.

A pear-shape diamond, wide at one end and tapering to a point at the other, should be worn with the point toward the fingertip. The oval-cut and heart-shape diamonds are new cuts which show off well when worn as solitaires.

In color, the traditional bridal diamond is a sparkling white. A faint tinge of yellow will lower the price.

Clarity means the absence of carbon specks or other inclusions.

Since the naked eye cannot perceive tiny imperfections, the beauty of the diamond is not affected, but the price is lower. A diamond is legally rated as flawless when no inclusions can be seen by an expert using a glass that magnifies 10 times.

Rule Hit Tune's Title Must Be Changed

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — A local court ruled yesterday that a record company must change the title of its hit tune "Spiegel Twist" claimed previously by another recordmaker.

The Spiegel news magazine controversy touched off the worst domestic political crisis in West Germany's postwar history.

Sounds Like a Tall Tail

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Capt. Harold E. Ridle was fined $75 for catching undersized whales, despite his attorney's contention: "How do you throw back a 33-foot whale?"

CHOCOLATE TRUFFLES — Beautifully packaged, sliced Filbert Caramel Rolls and Chocolate Truffles are made for beautiful giving and eating. Store or give them in tin boxes.

Homemade Candies Sweet Gift to Give

A simple answer to the problem of what to give that friend who "has everything" is a gift from your own cheerful Christmas kitchen. And you couldn't make a better choice than these two delicious candies, nicely contrasted in shape, color and flavor.

Sweet cooking chocolate, spiked with rum or rum flavoring, adds a touch of sophistication to the little round Truffles. There's a rich caramel glaze on the Filbert Roll (the making greatly simplified by using caramel chips) over a creamy brown sugar center.

With these candies charmingly boxed and Christmas wrapped, you can be absolutely sure you're presenting a gift in "the best of taste."

Filbert Caramel Roll

7 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon rum extract
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons hot milk
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
¼ cup toasted chopped filberts
1 cup (6 ounces) caramel chips
1 cup toasted sliced filberts

Cream ¼ cup of the butter with the rum extract. Gradually add part of the confectioners' sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add the remaining sugar and salt alternately with the hot milk. Beat until creamy and smooth.

Combine brown sugar, 2 tablespoons of the butter, ¼ cup of the milk, and the corn syrup in a medium saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Then continue boiling, stirring occasionally, until mixture will form a firm ball when a small amount is dropped in cold water (or to a temperature of 248 to 250 degrees F.). Remove from heat.

Gradually add the confectioners' sugar mixture, beating until smooth and thick. Quickly pour out onto a buttered platter or baking sheet. Let set until firm—takes about 10 minutes. Knead chopped filberts into mixture and form into two rolls. Chill.

Combine caramel chips, ¼ cup milk, and 1 tablespoon butter in a saucepan. Place over low heat. Cook, stirring constantly, just until chips are melted and mixture is smooth (do not boil). Cool slightly. Spread over all sides of each roll. Cover with sliced filberts. Chill and slice. Makes about 2 pounds of candy.

Chocolate Truffles

2 tablespoons softened butter
1 egg yolk
¾ cup confectioners' sugar
1 package sweet cooking chocolate, grated
1 tablespoon rum or nonalcoholic rum flavoring
¼ cup (about) chocolate sprinkles.

Cream butter and blend in egg yolk. Gradually add sugar. Blend well. Add chocolate and flavoring. Mix well. Form into ½-inch balls and roll in chocolate sprinkles. Place on waxed paper and chill for several hours.

Sandwich Spread Uses Turkey Bits

If you have some turkey or other poultry that you want to show off in a new way, try this recipe for Minced Turkey Spread.

Minced Turkey Salad Spread

1½ cups minced roast turkey
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon hot sauce (Tabasco)
About 1-3 cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons chopped parsley

Measure turkey, salt, poultry seasoning, onion and hot sauce into a mixing bowl. Blend in mayonnaise, adding a bit more if necessary, to make mixture of easy spreading consistency. Serve sprinkled with chopped parsley. Makes about 1½ cups spread.

Good Anytime

Use Plenty of Oranges

If you include oranges in your letter to Santa this year, you're not apt to be disappointed.

There's assurance from the U.S. Department of Agriculture that oodles of fresh oranges are in sight—golden spheres of juicy goodness which the Department's Agricultural Marketing Service has on its Plentiful Foods List for December.

This means there will also be plenty of these oranges to feature in many menu roles during the month, from freshly squeezed juice for breakfast to a tempting dessert served to friends who drop by to spend an evening.

Fresh Orange Honey Bread

2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup honey
1 egg
1½ tablespoons grated orange peel
2½ cups flour
2½ tablespoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ cup orange juice
¾ cup chopped nut meats

Cream shortening and honey together until well blended. Add well beaten egg and grated orange peel. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt. Add the flour mixture to the creamed mixture alternately with the orange juice. Add the nut meats.

Bake in greased loaf pan in moderate, 325 degree oven for 70 minutes (1 hour and 10 minutes).

Orange Chrysanthemums

6 oranges
1 cup unpeeled apple slices
Mayonnaise sparked with lemon rind
(⅛ cup lemon rind to 1 cup mayonnaise)
Salad greens

Cut tops from oranges. Remove orange meat in pieces. Cut orange shell to imitate petals of chrysanthemums. Toss lightly the orange sections, apple slices and mayonnaise to hold. Fill shells. Place atop attractively arranged salad greens.

Blushing Cookies

The same quick strawberry-flavored mix that makes such delicious pink milk for boys and girls provides perfect decoration for holiday cookies. Just sprinkle the pink powder on cutout or drop cookies before baking.

Brandied Figs a Good Dessert

A delicious hot fruit dessert for the holidays — or any cold winter evening.

Hot Brandied Figs

12 dried figs
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon sugar
⅓ cup coconut
¼ cup brandy
Sour cream, optional

Simmer the dried figs in orange juice and sugar for 15 minutes. Pour into ovenproof serving dish. Sprinkle with coconut and brandy. Bake in 350 degree oven for 10 minutes or until heated. Serve hot topped with sour cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Sauce for Ham

This sprightly red sauce for ham takes only a few minutes to make. Mix 1 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¾ teaspoon cloves in a saucepan. Gradually add a cup of cranberry juice cocktail, a tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup white raisins and cook over medium heat. When it reaches the boiling point, let it boil just one minute.

Sauce Made Pimiento, Pepper Is Yule Treat

Bits of bright red pimiento and pieces of Christmas green bell pepper add festivity to a dish easily prepared for your holiday entertaining.

Holiday Cauliflower

1 large head cauliflower
1 11-ounce can cheddar cheese soup
¼ cup milk
1 2-ounce jar pimientos
½ chopped bell pepper
3-4 drops Tabasco sauce

Break cauliflower into flowerets and cook in small amount of boiling salted water until just tender, 8-12 minutes.

Meanwhile, place the cheese soup, milk, pimientos, bell pepper, and Tabasco sauce in a sauce pan and cook over moderate heat just until mixture starts to boil.

Drain the cauliflower and pour the holiday cheese sauce over it. Serve immediately. Makes 8 servings.

About 24 acres of land are required for each mile of new highway with a 200 foot right-of-way.

Julienne Strips Are Nice Additions

A delicious combination of ingredients for a main-course salad whose amounts may be varied to suit what's in the kitchen, tastes and the number of eaters.

Mary's Chef's Salad

Torn salad greens
Cooked cut green (snap) beans (fresh, frozen or canned)
Diced or Julienne cooked ham
Diced or julienne cheddar cheese
Olive oil and red wine vinegar
Garlic, salt and pepper
Sliced tomatoes and hard-cooked eggs

Turn the greens, beans, ham and cheese into a salad bowl; just before serving toss with oil, vinegar, a tiny amount of crushed garlic clove, and salt and pepper to taste. Garnished with tomatoes and eggs.

Note: The salad bowl may be rubbed with a cut clove of garlic, if desired, instead of adding the crushed garlic.

If she owns a wig, she'll never have to say "no" to your last-minute suggestion that you go out on the town.

Buy Your Lady a Holiday Wig

A wig for Christmas? It'll surprise her, tickle her, and isn't nearly as wacky as it sounds.

Wigs are the rage today, and it looks as if they'll continue to be popular for a long time to come.

They have graduated from the fad class, because women who own them have discovered their practicality.

Although a wig should never be used as an excuse to ignore hair care, many of today's active women wear them for dress-up occasions.

Housewives find that wigs permit them to be ready at all times for emergencies, such as a last-minute announcement that the boss is being brought home for dinner, an unexpected acquisition of theater tickets, or such impulse suggestions as, "Let's eat out tonight."

Meanwhile, their own hair is worn in an easy-to-care-for style.

Of course, you just can't buy a wig for the little woman and gift wrap it for Christmas.

But, according to a manager for a New York wig-making firm, a tiny doll's wig in a miniature wig box, complete with gift certificate, can be placed under your tree.

The certificate can be redeemed at their salons in major cities.

Reds (Y)urting for More Tents

MOSCOW (AP) — The government chief of a Soviet sheep-herding area complained yesterday his shepherds still suffer from a shortage of decent yurts, or tents.

B. Mambetov, premier of the Republic of Kirghizia, told the Supreme Soviet that the old-fashioned yurts are overcrowded and "do not correspond to needs of modern day living."

He recalled Premier Khrushchev had said the situation should be remedied by mass production of large plastic yurts.

That was two years ago, Mambetov said, and so far none has been delivered to his area.

Foxy Farmer Outfoxes Foraging Fox Hunters

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Cyril Brown, 74, said yesterday he has won his battle with local fox hunters who wanted to ban his grandson from their forays because they thought the 8-year-old boy might fail to shut farm gates behind him.

★ ★ ★

The hunters relented after Brown banned them from chasing foxes over his 500-acre farm unless his grandson, John Lund, went along.

Ohio's Rhodes GOP Compromise?

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov.-elect James Rhodes of Ohio rates more attention that he is getting as a man to be considered in the presidential politics of the Republican party.

WILSON

Republicans elected four governors last month in big states with numerous electoral college votes. Rhodes was one of them.

Political writers have concentrated on three as likely or possible Republican presidential nominees in 1964. Rhodes was not one of the three.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, just re-elected, is regarded as the front runner toward 1964. The other two are Gov.-elect George Romney of Michigan and Gov.-elect William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Political writers are a me-too sodality touched by the herd instinct and each with a yen for conformity. That may explain why they generally have ignored Rhodes as a potential 1964 Republican presidential nominee.

It is possible, of course, that Rhodes is afflicted with disqualifying blemishes or inadequacies not easily distinguished at a distance — at the distance, for example of the shores of the Potomac where this is being written.

But, barring such disqualifications, Rhodes should be considered because he has much going for him in the Republican party.

CHAIRMAN'S BACKING

For example, Rhodes has Ray Bliss going for him. Ray Bliss is Ohio state chairman of the Republican party.

He is the best state chairman of the whole lot. Bliss could be chairman of the Republican National Committee any day he would accept the job.

Further, Rhodes has proved that he can get votes in the areas where Republicans need to get them if they are to have much chance to win the big industrial states in a presidential election.

Richard M. Nixon carried Ohio in 1960, so Rhodes' victory last month is not so glamorous as Romney's in Michigan or Scranton's in Pennsylvania.

That is not the complete story.

At a time when the Republican party needs to regain the northern Negro vote to win the big industrial states, Rhodes looks like the man who might be able to do it.

In last month's election, Rhodes more than doubled Nixon's vote in the Negro wards of Cleveland. He carried the city with 54.5 per cent of the city-wide vote.

That is 14.3 per cent better than Nixon did in 1960. These figures are meaningful.

As time goes on, the Republican party, of course, must make up its mind whether to go after the racial bloc votes in the big industrial states of the north or to grab for the southern segregationist vote.

Nixon was unable to make up his mind on that in 1960. More than any other factor, that licked him. This political fact of life is beginning to worry Republicans.

Rhodes has been called a conservative. How conservative Rhodes may be remains to be demonstrated.

But Republican conservatives are panting to nominate for President one of their own. If Rhodes turns out to be a genuine conservative, yet sufficiently liberal that he would not antagonize modern Republicans, he might score in 1964.

That could be a year of compromise for the Republican national convention.

At a glance, Rhodes looks somewhat like a compromise type.

Let Mommies Go Shopping; Fete the Kids

To make yourself the most popular hostess in your neighborhood, give a "let-mother-go - shopping" party for your children's friends.

Invite them to gather at your house for a holiday party in the week just before Christmas, so their mothers can spend a full afternoon gift shopping without worrying about the small fry.

Plan a simple menu of sandwiches shaped with a Christmas tree cutter, hot chocolate topped with marshmallow snowballs, and ice cream decorated with gay candy canes.

For a gala centerpiece, turn a round hatbox into a "drum" by covering it with shiny red paper. Then apply criss-cross cording by squeezing thick suds from a pastry tube.

For favors paint red and green balloons with jolly Santa faces. With thick suds, draw eyes, button nose, merry mouth, and bushy beard sort of dripping off Santa's balloon chin! Set a milk carton house, filled with candies at each place setting.

Workers, 'Elite' See Two Sides of Communist Hungary

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By LOYAL GOULD

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — "So you are another wicked American imperialist," the Budapest taxi driver said with a wry laugh. "I'd give anything if I could be an imperialist and leave this workers' paradise."

Istvan R., a burly, good natured fellow in his early 40s, had picked this reporter up in front of a Budapest hotel. Just before he dropped me, he invited me to visit his home.

"Pick you up tomorrow night at 7," he said.

Istvan's life is in sharp contrast of Communist Hungary's new privileged class. They live in different worlds.

The worker, for whom communism ostensibly was created, is still waiting for his blessings. On the average, he pays two weeks' wages for a pair of shoes or month's salary for a suit. He may wait three years for an apartment, despite Hungary's many housing projects.

Members of the elite, on the other hand, are eligible to obtain houses in residential districts in the hills overlooking Budapest. They get preferential treatment in buying the 6,000 to 7,000 cars imported annually. They can buy French fashions and Western delicacies.

WHERE WORKERS FOUGHT

The road to Istvan's apartment led out of brightly lit downtown Budapest to a grimy industrial area. Here workers fought against Russian tanks in 1956.

We turned down a side street littered with discarded building material, garbage and empty bottles. Istvan parked in front of an old building, still scarred from the Hungarian revolution.

Up three flights of dimly lit and rickety stairs. Istvan's wife, Ilona offered glasses of barack, a brandy made from apricots, and a pot of weak coffee to thaw the chill.

"It's not much," Istvan said apologetically, "but it is the best coffee I can offer."

★ ★ ★

The apartment had two small rooms, a bath, and what could be described as a kitchenette for Istvan, his wife and two teenage sons.

"The regulations," he said, "are that no less than two persons should live to a room. If you have fewer to a room you pay extra taxes but that's only for the privileged class."

Housing, Istvan said, was his least expense—about $12 a month, utilities included. His furniture—a coach, two small tables, a stove, four chairs and two double beds—were duplicates of the shoddy offerings in Budapest stores.

Ilona said it would be impossible for the family to live without pooling Istvan's $55 a month, her $40 earned in a factory, and the $65 earned by the two sons as machinist helpers.

"Sometimes", she said, "I am at my wit's end with worry how we can get the simplest necessities. Pork costs $2.50 a pound, if you find it. There are always shortages of eggs, potatoes, fruit and cheese. And things are so expensive. A television costs $165."

As she went to refill the coffee pot, Istvan admitted:

"I try sometimes to forget our life by drinking too much brandy."

He touched on a problem government officials say is becoming a problem — alcoholism.

★ ★ ★

On another night, Andreas S. sat in one of Budapest's best restaurants, the Kis Royale.

He said he was a chemical engineer, earning the equivalent of $875 a month.

His wife, elegantly dressed, dabbed her eyes as a gypsy violinist played.

"My husband courted me in this restaurant when I was a girl," she said.

Their five-course meal, with wine, cost $25.

"We can afford an evening now and then in a place like this," Andreas S. said. "We top it off with a little dancing and a few drinks in a nearby bar.

"Our family was sort of prominent before the war, but the Communists need us now."

The regime needs engineers, doctors and industrial managers. In return for their assistance, the Kadar, has promised they no longer will run into discrimination because they are not party members.

Although their living standards differ, the taxi driver and the chemical engineer both doubt Hungarians will stage another revolution, at least in the foreseeable future.

"There is no doubt life has improved since 1956," Istvan said. "It is still improving, as long as we can apply pressure for better conditions, there will be no revolution."

A Cooped-Up Cat Converges on Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—They say Christmas is for kids.

But it is also a great time for cats.

In our house, the cat we belong to seems to get more downright enjoyment out of Christmas than people.

BOYLE

During most of the year I have a secret guilty feeling that our cat, Lady Dottie, is somewhat cheated by life. She spends her time, except for a brief stroll in the corridor early in the morning and late at night, cooped up in our apartment.

★ ★ ★

It is a big deal for her when a daring, high-flying sparrow lights on the window ledge of our eighth-floor apartment, and flirts its wings saucily. Then Lady Dottie is suddenly transformed from a sedate old maid into a maddened beatnik.

She loses all her ordinary poise and aplomb and beats at the window wildly until the sparrow shrugs its feathers as if to say—"Well, it takes all kinds to make a world"—and flies away.

Outside of these occasional adventures with sparrows, Lady Dottie derives her greatest thrill from Christmas.

MRS. HYDE

It turns her from a cool, plush sophisticate into a gawky, wide-eyed kitten.

Like a child at Christmas, she won't let you hide anything from her. She is into everything.

She races to the door when the mailman or delivery man comes. She snoops and sniffs at every package. She tried to undo the strings with busy paws.

"Why don't you grow up, Lady Dottie?" I tell her. "After all, you're getting along in years. Why don't you act your age?"

Lady Dottie pays no attention at all. Christmas makes her feel young, and she has an idea that the whole worldwide yuletide pageant is put on exclusively for her benefit.

Lady Dottie pays no attention at all. Christmas makes her feel young, and she has an idea that the whole worldwide yuletide pageant is put on exclusively for her benefit.

She loves to see the beautifully wrapped packages come into our apartment, hates to see any being carried out. Just as do most children, she tends to think of the season as strictly a one-way deal.

One of her great joys when we open a box. She leaps into it, bats the crinkly paper around to hear the sound, then lies down and turns on the inside motor of her delight and emits a mighty purr.

But her happiness reaches a zenith when we put up our two Christmas trees, and turn on the lights. We usually deeorate two trees, a tall live one green with needles, and a small artificial tree with aluminum branches that someone gave us years ago.

Lady Dottie watches gravely as we put each ornament into place, interrupting us now and then to nibble tentatively at a green branch or an aluminum needle.

When the job is finally completed and the children down the hall come in to inspect it, Lady Dottie leads them on proud feet from one tree to the other, as if to say:

"See what I did?"

At might she lies among the treasures beneath the trees as if she were on guard.

At the end of the season, as I take down the decorations, Lady Dottie watches me with sad, reproachful eyes, and I have the weird feeling that I am in some way hurting the idealism of a small child.

If our cat had her way, Christmas would last forever—and life would be a lighted joy all year around.

Potato Chip Recipes

Something Unusual!

New recipes use potato chips for perfect gifts from your kitchen and for holiday open house.

Holiday goodies have a particularly important place in our hearts, for they are a cherished heritage kept alive in thousands of homes.

Ofttimes, the whole family participates in the joy of making and baking them.

There are two time - tested recipes using crisp and crunchy potato chips finely crushed to lend their flavor to unusual Christmas goodies.

Easy and simple to prepare, they make fine "gifts from the kitchen," when packed in metal boxes and tied with gay holiday ribbons.

CHOCOLATE CHIP DROPS

Two (6 oz.) bags semisweet chocolate bits, 1 cup miniature marshmallows, ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger, 1 (6-oz.) bag potato chips, finely crushed. Melt chocolate and marshmallow in top of double - boiler over boiling water, stirring until smooth.

★ ★ ★

Add ginger and blend well. Meanwhile, place finely crushed potato chips in large bowl. Add melted chocolate mixture and mix well.

★ ★ ★

Using a teaspoon, drop mixture into paper cups. Garnish, if desired with marshmallow bits or red and green garnishes. Yield: about 24 small or 12 larger drops.

CHIPPED MERINGUES

Three egg whites, ½ cup light-brown sugar, ½ cup granulated sugar, one (6-oz) bag potato chips, finely crushed, red and green garnishes, if desired.

Beat egg whites until stiff. While beating, add sugars gradually. Fold in finely - crushed potato chips.

Using a decorating tube or two teaspoons, drop mixture on lightly greased and floured baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Sprinkle with red and green garnishes.

Bake in moderate (350-degree) oven for about 15 minutes or until dry and lightly browned.

Remove from baking sheet with spatula or pancake turner as soon as pan is removed from oven. Cool very well before packing. Yield: about 24 chip meringues.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Cirrhosis Of Liver Serious Ailment

Q—What is cirrhosis of the liver? Is it cancerous? How long can you live with it if you take treatments?

A—With cirrhosis of the liver there is a general damaging of liver cells. They are replaced by scar tissue, causing the liver to shrink.

There are different types of cirrhosis with different causes. The most common types are those due to chronic infections and chonic heavy drinking.

BRANDSTADT

Cirrhosis is usually associated with deep jaundice and an accumulation of fluid in the abdomen.

It is in no way related to cancer, although cancer of the liver may also cause jaundice and fluid.

* * *

Cirrhosis is serious. It indicates some underlying disease. How long a person can live with it depends on how successful his doctor is in finding and removing the cause. Early treatment is important.

Q—My parents are old and I would like to visit them. The distance is five hours by jet.

A few years ago I had a nervous breakdown due to uncontrollable fears. I have recovered but I am not strong enough to make a 40-hour train trip.

I have never traveled by air and I am afraid that five hours of panic would send me back to the hospital. Would you advise me to go? Would a tranquilizer help to overcome my fears?

A — Airplanes have become such a common mode of travel that it is strange to find anyone afraid to fly. Planes are used not only to transport well persons but also persons with almost every kind of illness imaginable. If such persons can fly, so can you.

It is true that some persons are killed in airplane accidents but these accidents are surprisingly few when you consider the number of persons who fly every day and the number of miles flown.

The accident rates seem worse because the accidents make headlines whenever they happen in any part of the world.

Don't forget that some people are killed in their beds by hurricanes and tornadoes but I don't know of anyone so foolish as to refuse to sleep in a bed on that account.

Flying is such a wonderful experience that no one should deny himself at least one such trip. I have known persons in the past who were a little anxious about going aloft the first time who now would not think of traveling any other way.

I would certainly not advise relying on a tranquilizer to pull you through. Rather, I would advise that you study the casualness of your fellow passengers as you go aboard then get a window seat and watch the houses get smaller and the clouds come nearer.

* * *

If you drug yourself into a stupor, you will miss all this and won't know what a wonderful experience you might have had. Seasickness is another matter.

You can get the same kind of motion sickness on a plane but even this is not as common as seasickness. Furthermore, your doctor can give you some pills that will prevent motion sickness if taken according to his directions.

Honest Cycle Thief Sees 'There Ain't No Justice'

MIDDLESBROUGH, England (UPI)—John McWilliams, 51, pleaded guilty to stealing a bicycle, even though police said none was reported missing.

The judge said he believed McWilliams' story, praised his honesty and sentenced him to a month in jail.

1,000 Reindeer Killed

IDRE, Sweden (UPI) — More than 1,000 reindeer have been killed so far in the annual round up and slaughter by skiing Lapplanders, it was reported yesterday. The frozen meat will be exported to the United States and Norway.

Hunt Up Odds, Ends for Unusual Gifts

You can start the fun of Christmas long before carols fill the air. Making gifts yourself brings a very special satisfaction.

Your own ingenuity will spark the best creations, but here are a few ideas, using throwaway items or dime store materials as springboards:

Empty coffee tines enameled red, then painted with a big white daisy make cheery kitchen window sill flower pots.

A well-shaped spice jar or mustard pot painted pink, dotted with blue flowers, initials or name could be transformed into a dandy little girl's bank if you slot the lid for coins.

For a glamorous clothes dampener, top a vinegar bottle with a sprinkler cork. Paste strips of masking tape on the bottle, measuring space between strips to get them even. Cover with gold paint, cork and all, and when dry, pull off tape and you'll have smart, even stripes.

Paint sets of trays in ombres of the same shade or trios of bold colors like turquoise, Kelly green and royal blue, or orange, yellow and pink.

Decorate edges or center with flowers, scrolls, polka dots or a personal message. Do the same with kitchen canisters and bread boxes.

A plastic tissue box and small clip board for memo pads make a lady's pretty bedroom gift if painted, coated with a varnish, then sprinkled with glitter while varnish is wet.

You'll find spray paints invaluable for small articles or curvy edges. A wicker waste basket, for instance, is easier to paint this way.

Actress Elsa Martinelli's on a House-Buying Jag

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Don't you believe that diamonds are a girl's best friend, says Elsa Martinelli. Houses are.

★ ★ ★

She should know. She has five of them. She used to have six, but sold one because the neighborhood was depreciating.

THOMAS

Elsa is the Italian doll with an affinity for wild animals. At least that has been the story of her recent film career. She was the magazine photographer in "Hatari," which put her in proximity with all kinds of beasts.

★ ★ ★

Now she's in "Rampage" with Robert Mitchum and various cats, such as tigers, jaguars, etc. Strange company for a girl who was one of Europe's most successful fashion models. But she doesn't mind, especially since the returns may provide her with another house.

"I now have three in Paris and two in Rome," she said between scenes. "I had another in Rome, but the area is building up all around it. When that happens here, property values go up. That is not true in Italy."

SOMETHING TO DO

How did she get on a house-buying jag?

"You have to do something with your money, and houses are as good an investment as any," she explained. "Besides, decorating is my hobby. I buy houses that are run-down and fix them up for rental. I keep one in Paris and one in Rome for myself."

What about buying some here?

"Not practical. It would be too hard for me to call from Europe if a house here needed a plumber. But if I should be here a couple of years to make movies, then I might consider it."

She rejected the suggestion that real estate here was high.

"Why, I have seen some excellent houses with swimming pools in Beverly Hills between $60,000 and $90,000," she said. "They would be much more than that in Europe. If you tried to buy a five-room apartment with three bedrooms and two baths in one of the better districts of Rome, it would cost $250,000. That is just for the apartment, in a building with other apartments."

OTHER HOBBIES

Despite her fondness for real estate, she isn't single-minded about it. "You've got to diversify your investments," she reasoned. "I also have money in other things, including American stocks. Blue chip, of course."

Blue-chip Elsa comes by her thrift naturally. Roman-born, she was the last of eight daughters of a government worker (she also had a younger brother). She started delivering groceries at 12, modeling at 16. She was working as a model in New York when she was picked to play an Indian girl in "The Indian Fighter" with Kirk Douglas.

★ ★ ★

Separated from her husband, Count Franco Mancinelli Scotti, she makes her home in Paris, where her daughter, Cristiana, 5, attends school. But Elsa's legal residence is still Rome.

"The income taxes are more reasonable in Italy," said the wily actress.

Gift of Words for Teeners Is Eye-Opener

Are you puzzling over what to give the very special teenagers and preteeners on your Christmas list? What could be more appropriate than the gift of words?

Their tastes in records and clothes may seem unpredictable, even from day to day.

But one gift you can count on to hold long-term fascination for every high school and college youngster, whatever his tastes, is a big unabridged dictionary.

This prime authority on what words mean, recognized in courts of law, in newspaper and magazine offices, and even the U.S. Patent Office, can open the eyes of boys and girls on your gift list to the excitement of exploring precise word meanings and learning how to use new words correctly.

MIGHTY THINKER — Jimmy Bricel, 16 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bricel of Bellevue, Wash., ponders the situation as he sits for his picture amid stacks of skis at scenic new Crystal Mountain skiing area, some 35 miles southeast of Enumclaw, Wash., near Mt. Rainier National Park.

Minuteman Set for War Duty

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—The Minuteman missile, a test vehicle for 22 months, officially became part of the nation's wartime bombing power yesterday and the first of true push-button capacity.

★ ★ ★

Twenty of the nuclear-tipped missiles were declared ready for war duty in their underground, concrete silos just west of this headquarters city for Malstrom Air Force Base.

Air Force officers were turning over two flights of the intercontinental missiles to the Strategic Air Command.

Work is continuing throughout central Montana to put 130 other Minutemen into their launching holes. All are expected to be operational by summer.

EACH HAS OWN TARGET

Each missile is programmed for a specific target and has its own guidance system to take it there.

Before 1965, after an estimated 10-year expenditure of more than $3 billion, the United States is expected to have more than 800 of these three-stage rockets on station. They include 150 in North and South Dakota and Missouri and 200 in Wyoming.

In addition to these, the nation has a force of approximately 100 Atlas and Titan missiles, plus numerous smaller-range weapons such as the Polaris.

★ ★ ★

In a total of 25 Minuteman trials the Air Force lists 17 successes, 2 partial successes and 6 failures.

The nuclear warhead for the Minuteman is about one megaton —much smaller than for the Atlas or Titan.

The Minuteman offers almost instant reaction capability and can be fired in less than 15 seconds. This compares with up to 30 minutes for the Atlas and Titan which require time-consuming liquid fuel loading prior to launch.

ALWAYS READY

The 58-foot Minuteman with its solid, rubber-like fuel is ready to go at all times.

Each combat-ready Minuteman represents an investment of $3.2 million. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has said this is about one-third the cost of liquid-fuel missiles.

Construction of the Montana missile complex began in March 1961. This was a month after the first test launch and flight down the Atlantic missile range, and four years after solid fuel for such a missile was developed.

The 150 Minuteman missiles will be dispersed about six miles apart over a 200-mile radius. The missiles will remain in air-conditioned, 84-foot holes with only periodic maintenance expected. If malfunctions occur an electronic monitoring system will pinpoint the trouble.

The Minuteman originally was scheduled to become operational last summer. Trouble in the guidance system forced corrections and delay.

Progress Has Drawbacks

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein offered yesterday's illustration of rising costs.

It is going to cost Maryland $125,000 to remodel the house chamber and provide more office space because 19 delegates were added in response to reapportionment this year.

The state house itself cost $65,000 when completed in 1778.

"That's progress for you," observed the comptroller.

'British Scouts Won't Shum Liquor Seller'

LONDON (AP) — The grandson of the founder of the Boy Scouts will be a welcome worker for the movement even though he owns a liquor store, a spokesman for the Scouts said yesterday.

"We already have some quite prominent members in the wine trade," said the spokesman, "and should the new Lord Baden-Powell wish to resume scout work, there seems nothing to prevent it."

The second Lord Baden-Powell, son of the man who founded the Scouts in 1908, died on Sunday at the age of 49. He also was keenly interested in scouting and gave much time to it and other youth organizations. He was founder and president of the Commonwealth Students' Association and president of the Youth Camping Movement.

He was succeeded by his bachelor son, 26-year-old Robert Crause Baden-Powell, who owns and operates the "Whiskey Galore" liquor store in Nottingham.

Although he was once a boy scout, the new Lord Baden-Powell now takes no active part in the movement. But he said he might some day want to associate himself with scouting once more.

Meanwhile, he plans to keep his shop and continue to live in Nottingham.

The second Lord Baden-Powell also is survived by his wife, another son and a daughter.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

AP Feature ..... By LUCRECE BEALE

Copyright, 1962

The zoo doctor agreed that things looked bad.

Chapter Nine

Mr. Shnoo rushed to the bird cage. It was empty. A large pane of glass in the ceiling had been broken and the curious birds had escaped one by one.

Sending for workmen, Mr. Shnoo ordered them to repair the glass at once. Then he and the attendants snatched up nets and sacks of feed and went out to hunt for the birds.

A pigmy owl was found fast asleep, perched on the zebra cage. He was easily captured and returned to the cage.

Mr. Shnoo spied several peacocks strolling down the penguins' walk. He spread a trail of seed and coaxed them back to their cage.

The flamingoes, their pink feathers fluffed by the wind, were found huddled on the steps of the elephant house. They were very glad to follow Mr. Shnoo back home.

HUNDREDS MISSING

But when all these creatures were back in the cage there were hundreds of small birds still missing. They had flown to the tops of the highest trees where they sat shivering with cold and fright.

Mr. Shnoo and his men climbed the trees but no sooner would they reach out with nets than off the birds would flutter to another branch.

Ladders were brought but when they were raised they only frightened the nervous birds off to entirely different trees.

The men got a huge net and held it under a tree. The strongest men climbed up the trunk and shook the branches with all their might. But not even one small bird fell into the net.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Shnoo did not know what to do next. He knew that if the birds stayed outdoors a little longer they would freeze. He beat his hands together and rubbed his head and tried and tried to think what he might do.

★ ★ ★

Crookshank came along and shook his head at the sight of the birds in the trees. "How unfortunate to lose them just before the visit of the Queen," said he.

CALLS SANTA

"Its not the Queen I care about," retorted Mr. Shnoo. "It's the birds themselves!" He went off under the trees, biting his lip and pulling his ear and twisting his mouth until suddenly he knew what he had to do.

He rushed off to the bear cages and slipped into the brown bears' cave. Honeybun, snoozing there, woke up and gave him a big bear hug.

Mr. Shnoo said, "Excuse me, Honeybun, I haven't time to play right now." He pushed her gently away. Then he shut his eyes and stood on his head and wiggled his toes and said "Selbuort Gnippop!" three times.

He got back on his feet and looked around. There was only Honeybun sitting back on her haunches with her jaws wide open to show off her dinosaur teeth.

Mr. Shnoo was too upset to praise her as she wished. He slipped out of the cave and looked all around but there was no one there. Only bears.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Shnoo was terribly disappointed. He hadn't known exactly what to expect but he had been pretty sure Santa Claus would appear as soon as he had said the magic words.

As he went back to the birds he thought. "All is lost! They won't last another hour." The zoo doctor was there and he agreed that things looked bad.

"Even if we could get them now," he said, "they will have terrible colds and could not last."

They all stood about feeling sad and helpless. Suddenly one of the men shouted and pointed down the road. "Look yonder! The giraffes are out!"

They all turned and stared. Here came Herbert and Louise ambling down the road.

They had baskets of straw strapped on their backs and on the tops of their heads they wore enormous round hats tilted between their ears.

★ ★ ★

"The zoo is haunted!" exclaimed one of the men. "First the bear, then the birds, now the giraffes wearing hats! There's trouble everywhere!"

★ ★ ★

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Shoe Report From Cuba

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Cuba will produce 17 million pairs of shoes in 1963, enough to allow each person two pairs a year, Havana radio said yesterday.

★

Seven million pair will be made of canvas and imported rubber soles "in models without much variation," said a broadcast heard here. The balance will be regular footwear of Cuban leather.

★ ★ ★

Although it imported some leather and other raw material, Cuba was a big shoe producer before the revolution and exported some custom made models.

★ ★ ★

It started exporting shoes to Soviet Russia and the Iron Curtain countries in late 1960.

Actress Feels Honesty Simplifies Things

HOLLYWOOD — If all the world leaders had Shirley MacLaine's philosophy, then (according to Shirley MacLaine's philosophy) there wouldn't need to be war, hot or cold.

* * *

Shirley's philosophy, explained over steak and cornbread in her dressing cottage, is that "people should be diplomatically honest."

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

"If you're honest, everybody knows where they stand with you. The record has been set straight, and you can get on with your business.

"That's the problem of the whole world, I think. So much time is spent on bluffing and outguessing that no time is left for honest negotiations. You know, you don't have to love somebody to be honest and open with them."

Of course, the beautiful actress conceded as the steak was taken away and the hot cherry pie brought in, "anything that regards power leads to dishonesty. It seems to be an inevitability, although I can't understand why.

"Why should a man, to attain power, have to be dishonest?"

It was a question Miss MacLaine has every right to wonder about. In Hollywood today, she has attained a highly powerful position in an industry not notable for its utter personal sincerity, despite the fact that she herself is forthright enough to cause press agents to quiver when'er she opens her lovely mouth.

* * *

One small example of her personal eccentricity is that she sees that the date of her birth (April 24, 1934) is prominently displayed in her official biography — an unheard-of tidbit of honesty in the movie industry.

EVERYBODY WILL KNOW!

"Why do I do it?" she looked startled. "Because that's the date I was born. And I don't think anyone should be ashamed that they've lived. People say, 'But Shirley, when you're 40 everybody will know you're 40.' Why not?

* * *

"I think first, you should grow up gracefully, and then you should grow old gracefully—and "you're not a real woman if you're ashamed it's happening!"

Shirley MacLaine is, it can honestly be said, a "real woman." On the set of her current film, "Irma La Douce," in which she plays a carefree lady of the Parisian night, she is something to behold (or be held, as the men would prefer to have it).

Physically, she is as admirable as her psychology, and much of the credit for both goes to the fact that she has had, all her life, a curious affliction:

* * *

"See," she said quietly, "I have an imbalance in my inner ear, which means that the least little motion can make me sick. That's why I took up dancing when I was two.

"If I dance hard, six to eight hours a day, which I did most of my life till the movies, I keep my coordination and then I'm in good shape. But if I slack off, as I have these last few years, I get sick in cars and planes — even crossing a street."

Shirley recalled when she took up dancing again, for the film "Can-Can," after a layoff from exercise.

* * *

"I took an hour's class in dancing and then threw up, literally, for four hours. It's that bad. When I was a kid, we always carried a little pot in the back seat of the car, so I could be sick neatly." she grinned, cheerfully.

"It's not a nice thing to live with, but it has its compensations. It forced me to become a dancer." And from dancer, to top Hollywood star.

"But say, don't make your article about how sick I am, will you? I really have a good life."

She went on to say she loves making films, has a wonderful husband, superb daughter, homes in California, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Switzerland — and all are well worth the painful, nauseating experience she suffers traveling to visit them.

"So I have an imbalanced inner ear," Shirley grinned. "Oh, foo! just say I consider myself lucky to be unlucky."

Problems Make Tax Cuts Doubtful Economic Stimulants

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The question of taxes, whether to cut them or leave them alone, dominates much of business thought these days. This last of three articles, based on a nationwide tour to study the ultimate of business opinion, explores this vital field.)

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK (AP) — Getting America going again, say many businessmen, is not nearly so easy a matter as merely cutting taxes.

CHAMBLISS

Some, while they feel it must be done, doubt that it would pep things up much.

Others, while they feel it would indeed pep things up, question whether current budgets could stand it.

Interviews with businessmen and business economists across the nation found little agreement on the administration's reported plans to try to reduce taxes on personal and corporate incomes by $10 billion in 1963.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy administration thesis is that cutting taxes will generate enough additional business activity to produce enough new tax revenue to replace cuts.

"I can't get it through my head," said H. O. Bercher, president of International Harvester in Chicago, "how you can get more money by cutting revenue."

There's general agreement in principle, however, that taxes are too high in relation to business activity.

FINE POST-WAR TAX

Harvard economist John Lintner says, "present tax rates were fine for the days of the immediate post-war era when pent-up demand threatened to overheat the economy. Then, restraint was needed."

★ ★ ★

"The economy today," he adds, "is not characterized by excess money."

The case for cutting taxes in the lower brackets is less a matter of incentives and more a matter of expanding basic purchasing power. This is the area cited by the administration and most economists as offering the best lever for moving the economy.

★ ★ ★

"The great bulk of the people," said Howard M. Packard of A. C. Johnson and Co. of Racine, Wis., "have to scramble to make ends meet."

A Dallas banker said there is little doubt in his mind but that these people would spend almost every additional cent they would retain through tax reductions.

SOME DOUBTFUL

Du Pont economist William H. Shaw estimates, however, that only about half the money freed would be spent in 1963. Also, he said, higher social security taxes taking effect Jan. 1 would tend to mask much of the increase in available spending money. Thus, he doubts there would be a big immediate impact on the economy.

On the issue of cutting corporate income taxes, there is broad disagreement how the extra money would be spread among dividends to stockholders, salaries, plant expansion, modernization and reserves.

New plants will be built only if the company can expect to earn more profit by doing so, some businessmen say.

Many executives say that there is so much overcapacity today that most additional money would go into cost-cutting and modernization.

An official of Dresser Industries in Dallas comments also that business investment may already be stunted by individual industries worrying that they may get stuck with additional taxes to make up revenue lost in tax cuts.

Implicit in this is the attitude expressed by International Harvester's Bercher, who said: "We may get a reduction in tax rates but not a reduction in taxes. They'll just put the monkey on a different back."

A total of 19,836 United States students studied abroad in 1960-61, according to U.S. government figures. Mexico and France attracted the largest number.

Voters Whip Lake Orion School Expansion

Defeat Bond, Millage Hike

Plans Halted by Veto of $2-Million Issue

LAKE ORION — Plans for a school expansion program in the Lake Orion School District were halted by voters yesterday when they turned down a proposed $2-million bond issue and 4-mill operational tax hike.

Both proposals were defeated by about 150 votes.

Results of balloting on the bond issue were 707 yes, 859 no. The millage increase was rejected by a vote of 732 yes, 883 no.

Precinct I, which includes voters living within the village limits, defeated the proposals by a 2-to-1 margin.

A new $1.1-million junior high school was included in expansion plans that would have been possible had the propositions passed.

* * *

The purchase of a 20-acre site adjacent to the high school for the new junior high was made earlier this month. Funds for the site came from a two-mill building and site fund approved in 1960.

School Board President Richard A. Young said that no definite plans have been made as a result of the election.

"We're meeting tonight and will discuss action to be taken at that time," he said.

OTHER PROJECTS

In addition to the new junior high, several other building projects were in the proposed expansion program.

The present junior high school was to be remodeled, and additions were to be made to the four grade schools.

The four mills requested on the ballot were to be used to cover operational costs for the next seven years.

The school board last October decided the two proposals were necessary, due to present and anticipated overcrowding of the schools.

It had been considering the proposed expansion for a year but was prompted to action by recommendations of the Lake Orion Community Schools Survey Committee.

The bond issue would have been enough to remedy the present overcrowded situation and to handle the 6 per cent annual enrollment for at least three years and probably more, the board agreed.

Schools Supt. A. A. Reed earlier had warned that a "no" vote could mean half-day sessions, a limited program, more overcrowded classrooms and too few teachers.

Farmers Told Deadline

EAST LANSING (AP) — Farmers have been advised the final date for applying for cost-sharing funds from the federal government for conservation practices is Dec. 31. The State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reports applications for such funds already exceed the state's allocation.

MAKE GIFTS — Members of the horticultural therapy group of the Rochester branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association currently are making "ditty bags" for 60 patients at Pontiac State Hospital. Shown finishing some of them here are (from left) Mrs. Jack E. Taylor, Mrs. George A. Marquart and Mrs. Harry S. Freeman II. The bags, which will be filled with toilet articles and decorated with holiday corsages, will be delivered the Friday before Christmas.

From Kresge Foundation

Hospital Gets $100,000

ROCHESTER — A pledge of $100,000 by the Kresge Foundation to the Suburban Unit of Crittenton General Hospital was announced today by Howard L. McGregor Jr., campaign executive committee chairman.

This brings the total amount of pledges for the planned 160-bed hospital to $1,035,576, McGregor said.

The hospital will be located on the north side of Auburn Road, west of John R in Avon Township.

Construction could begin as soon as July, according to A. Riley Allen, administrative head of the parent medical facility in Detroit, if the proposed hospital is eligible for moneys under the accelerated Hill-Burton fund program.

If a crash program does not get under way construction will be started in early 1964, Allen said.

Initial plans for the hospital were announced last January, culminating three years of work for a community hospital by a group of Rochester business and professional people.

The site donated for the $5-million medical facility was the gift of the fund drive chairman who is president of National Twist Drill and Tool Co. and vice president of the Crittenton hospital board.

According to original plans, the Rochester area facility will be expandable to 450 beds by 1970.

The campaign executive committee, which is currently conducting the fund drive is composed of leading citizens from the two-county area that the hospital is designed to serve.

This includes Rochester, Troy, Utica and the townships of Avon, Oakland, Shelby and Sterling.

Plans for the new medical facility were designed by the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc.

Combined Church Choirs to Present Musical Work

The choirs of the Howarth and Paint Creek Methodist churches will combine on two separate occasions to present a cantata, "Night of Miracles," by John W. Peterson.

The Howarth congregation will hear the cantata at 3 p.m. Sunday while the presentation at the Paint Creek church will take place at 4 p.m. Dec. 23.

Joyce Major at the piano and Jane Collins at the organ will provide accompaniment for the 31-voice combined choirs.

* * *

Solo numbers in the cantata will be performed by members of both churches.

From the Howarth church, soloists will be William Hoyes, tenor; Shirley O'Dean, alto; and Thelma Rowe, soprano.

Featured from the Paint Creek church will be William Reeves, baritone, and Doris Barkham and Carolyn Phelps, sopranos.

Philip Johnson, of the Paint Creek church, will direct the combined choirs.

* * *

Howarth Methodist Church is on Silver Bell Road at Bald Mountain Road, and the Paint Creek church is on Collins Road, north of Orion Road.

Set Bazaar to Celebrate Christmas

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The holiday spirit will prevail at Paint Creek Methodist Church tomorrow when members stage their Christmas bazaar and buffet dinner.

Meals will be served in both the church annex and Township Hall beginning at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Edgar Harper is dinner chairman.

Bazaar booths, set up in the Township Hall, will offer all kinds of Yule decorations, handiwork, candy and baked goods for Christmas shoppers.

There also will be a fish pond and silhouette corner.

Mrs. Carl Thomas is bazaar chairman.

Both the church and Township Hall are on Collins Road, just north of Orion Road.

Freeman to Talk at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Sec. of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has tentatively accepted an invitation to address the annual meeting of the Michigan Soil Conservation Districts, Inc., Jan. 18-19 at Michigan State University.

Approve Bonds in Walled Lake

$2.1-Million Issue Passed for Schools

WALLED LAKE — Officials of the Walled Lake School District today were notified that a $2.1-million bond issue passed by voters Oct. 1 has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Approval by the state agency yesterday gives the district authority to sell bonds and award construction contracts for a renovation and building program in the district.

Asst. schools supt. Rolland J. Langerman said that a new elementary school on Keith Road should be under construction by next March. It should be completed by the fall of 1963. Final plans for the school were approved Monday.

Also to be financed by the bond issue are construction of a new school district service center and renovations and additions to two existing elementary schools, Walled Lake Junior High School and the senior high school.

Masonic Lodge Plans Annual Christmas Party

DAVISBURG — Austin Lodge No. 48, F&AM, will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday at the Davisburg Masonic Hall. The party will start with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Austin Chapter No. 396, Order of the Eastern Star, will have a composite school of instruction at the Masonic Hall here Friday night, with members of Holly's Electra Chapter No. 160, OES.

8-Mill School Tax on Ballot in Brandon

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — In a special election Monday residents of the Brandon School District will be asked to renew an eight-mill tax representing approximately one-fourth of the school district's operating funds.

* * *

If approved, the current levy of 29.49 mills, or $29.49 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized, will continue for three more years.

This figure includes the eight-mills which has been in effect for the past three years.

The proposal will be discussed at a 7:30 p.m. public meeting tomorrow at the high school. School Supt. Burl Glendening and the school board will be present to answer any questions on the millage proposal.

The board agreed on the necessity for renewal of the millage in November. They have conducted several public meetings since then, attempting to present the issue to the public, Glendening said.

Tomorrow's meeting will be the last one before Monday's election.

Milford Council Names Three to Review Board

MILFORD — The Milford Council has named three members to regular terms on the Village Board of Review.

Reappointed to the board were Floyd Sands of 806 Canal St., W. W. Miller of 714 Sweetbriar St. and Howard Reid of 524 Atlantic St.

Sands will serve for one year, Miller for two and Reid for three years. All three were temporary appointees last year when Milford was without a village manager.

The council also has scheduled its next regular meeting for 8 p.m. Monday since its meeting would have fallen on Christmas Eve.

ON AWARDS JURY — M. Virginia Sink, 9940 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, is a member of the National and School Awards Jury selecting individuals, schools and organizations to be honored in the 1962 program of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. Miss Sink is president of the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas.

Schools Chief to Be Honored

Shackelfords Guests at Avondale Fete

New Avondale Schools Supt. George E. Shackelford and his wife will be honor guests at a reception Sunday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the senior high school auditorium.

* * *

The affair, open to all residents of the district, is being sponsored by the Avondale Parent-Teacher Association Council and Avondale Education Association.

Greetings will be extended by Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, and Rochester Schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin.

Representing the Avondale school groups will be Mrs. William U. Porter, PTA Council president, and Mrs. Lance Nutter, social chairman of the AEA.

Christmas music will be sung by the high school choir led by Claude Wiseman.

Refreshments will be furnished by the two sponsoring organizations.

Clarkston Masons Plan Annual Christmas Party

CLARKSTON — The annual Christmas party for all Masonic groups that meet at the Clarkston Temple will be Friday at 6:30 p.m. at the temple.

A potluck dinner will launch the evening's festivities, followed by a blind gift exchange during which Santa Claus will make an appearance.

Joyous Music Ushers in Christmas Season

Musicale Chorus Has Big Audience

Deanna Relyea, Sylvan Lake, a music student at the University of Michigan, was the soloist at Tuesday Musicale yesterday. With her are (left to right) Mrs. V. M. Lindquist, Chippewa Road; Mrs. George Putnam, West Iroquois Road; and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, North Hammond Lake Drive. Mrs. Gaensbauer directed the Tuesday Musicale chorus in a program of seasonal music.

By MARY C. BUCK

The Christmas season was ushered in with great joyousness Tuesday afternoon by the Tuesday Musicale Chorus for a standing room-only audience in Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Directed by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and accompanied by Mrs. Walter A. Schmitz at the piano, the 31-member group performed numbers with ease and finesse, ranging from the 16th century to the present, composed of carols old and new, folk songs and spirituals.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gaensbauer, a graduate of Parsons College in Iowa and recipient of a Masters degree from Columbia University, molded her chorus into a full resonant unison or three, four or more parts at will.

The alto section was particularly unified and full-bodied, forming a most solid foundation for the mellow second soprano and vibrant first soprano sections.

UNUSUAL ARRANGEMENT

Following the introduction by chairman of the day, Mrs. A. C. Roberts, the chorus presented a group of carols beginning with an unusual arrangement of Hallstrom's "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen." Although the melody was the familiar one, the harmonies and rhythms were modern and strongly effective, setting the pace for the afternoon's program.

★ ★ ★

The mood then changed to one of deeply religious serenity and peace as Palestrina's "O Bone Jesu" was sung in Latin. The sections' melodies were interwoven with delicate balance and precise enunciation.

Simeone's well-known "Little Drummer Boy" was next and featured Lyle Velte, Pontiac Central High School sophomore on drums, cymbals and block. His percussive effects and the fine accompaniment by Mrs. Schmitz added greatly to this number. It was sung with a beautifully simple, nostalgic interpretation.

TRIO PERFORMS

A trio composed of Alice Helvey, Yvonne Smith, and Elenore Shane performed with tenderness the lovely "Virgin's Slumber Song" by Reger.

The final composition of this group was "The Angels and the Shepherds" by the contemporary Hungarian composer, Zoltan Kodaly.

This is a most dramatic arrangement of a simple Hungarian folk tune which resembles a conversation between two groups of singers as they relate the Christmas story.

The intricate parts and tricky rhythmic patterns were handled by the chorus with ease and skill, testifying again to the fine direction of their conductor.

Joy in youthful accomplishment was enjoyed by all as Deanna Relyea, the club's 1962 scholarship winner, performed with dexterity and skill the first movement of Beethoven's "Pastoral Sonata" and Chopin's "Scherzo in D Minor." In the Beethoven she displayed fine phrasing and depth of tone, creating a feeling of strength and peacefulness.

In the Chopin, her excellent technique came to the fore as her fingers flew over the keyboard with clarity and precision throughout the very demanding opening and closing sections. At present a music major at the University of Michigan, Miss Relyea is studying with Benning Dexter.

CREATES SPIRIT

The spirit of winter fun was created by the chorus when it opened its second group with a clever arrangement by the Krones of the "Swiss Skiing Song," sung in German.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Nicolls, Mrs. William McClure, and Mrs. C. W. Marshbanks, appropriately arrayed in skiing clothes, added greatly to this rollicking song, enjoyed alike by performers and audience.

Also a great favorite was LeRoy Anderson's popular "Sleigh Ride" which was sung with verve and dash.

Again Lyle Velte provided most effective percussive effects. He is at present studying with Sol Rabbio and Robert Clark of the Detroit Symphony and the Detroit Concert Band, respectively.

The mood of spiritual rebirth returned as the Appalachian carol "Never Was a Child So Lovely," arranged by Niles was sung by Mary Louise Lindquist and Glenna Cox very simply and compassionately.

"Little Lordeen," a Gaelic carol arranged by Campbell-Watson, was sung unaccompanied by the chorus with excellent pitch and fine diction. A quiet lullaby, the alto section again shone forth while the oneness between director and chorus was again most evident.

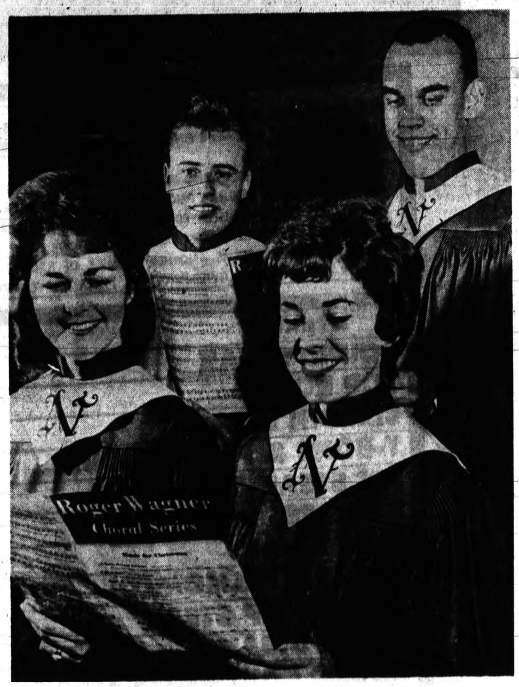
ENCORE GIVEN

The closing selection, by Dorothy McLemore was sung with such spirit that an encore was called for and the group joyously performed "Ring Those Christmas Bells" by Fisher and Levine to conclude a most satisfying musical afternoon.

During the short business meeting preceding the program, new members Mrs. Jerome Cummiskey and Mrs. Alfred DuBruck were introduced by Mrs. Alfred A. Rothweiler. Members and guests were greeted at the door by hostesses Mrs. Robert A. Armstrong and Mrs. Norman Kuijala.

The teatable centerpiece was created by Mrs. Merle R. Voss and Mrs. W. H. Heller. Hostesses at the tea table were Mrs. C. H. Purdy and Mrs. Mac Whitfield. The refreshment committee was co-chairmanned by Mrs. W. E. Brace and Mrs. G. H. Wetterhahn, assisted by Mrs. F. G. Coleman, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs. George Shearer, Mrs. Helen Tottgen and Mrs. J. C. Walker.

Women's Section



Pontiac Northern High School will send its choir to the Community Christmas Concert. Among the singers are Sharon Verwey, East Mansfield Avenue; Douglas Smith, Scottwood Avenue; Sandy Trietsch, East Yale Avenue and Elgin Peterson, First Avenue.

Some of the singers rehearsing at Pontiac Central High School for Sunday's concert are John Hayes, Dwight Avenue; Bill Raynes, Pine Heights Drive; Sharon Fowler, Crawford Street; and Mary Smaltz, Riverside Drive. The MacDowell Male Chorus, directed by A. Michael Dempsey, will join the other singers in songs of the season.

Widower Besieged

Who Got Ball Rolling?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly widow. My brother, 37, recently lost his fine wife, so I am keeping house for him and his two children. My brother is young enough to find another good woman to be his wife and raise his children.

The problem: The married women in this town don't leave him alone. Supposedly respectable married women, living with their husbands, have called him up at two in the morning and begged him to meet them somewhere.

ABBY

I couldn't believe it until he had me listen in on the extension. Four of them are on his trail. How can a decent man find a decent single woman when the married ones throw themselves at him?

CONCERNED SISTER

DEAR CONCERNED: No woman will call a man at two in the morning and beg him to meet her somewhere unless she has had some encouragement. (One might, but not four!) There are plenty of decent widows and single women around. Your brother hasn't been looking in the right places.

DEAR ABBY: In the first place, when I call my doctor for an appointment, his office girl has to know it all. I realize she must know how much time to save for the appointment.

But I have a 10-party line and do you think I want the whole neighborhood knowing my trouble? When I went to his office, the nurse gave me a shot and a bill for $9.50. I never even got to see the doctor. Are nurses doctors now?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nurses are not doctors, they only follow the doctor's instructions. Some nurses are more expert at giving shots than doctors because they get more practice.

Next time, if you want to see the doctor, speak up in his office. Don't needle him behind his back.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After a seven-year courtship, the girl I love has told me she would like to be "friends." Her reason is that she doesn't think she is in love with me.

Abby, I practically supported that girl. I paid a dentist $800 to fix her teeth. (She needed dentures).

I paid I don't know how many bills for her. I got her father out of jail and set her brother up in business. I proved my love for this girl in a thousand ways, and now she offers me her "friendship."

Doesn't she owe me marriage? How can I get her to change her mind.

RON

DEAR RON: You can't. And don't try too hard or you might succeed. A fellow who has to get down on his knees and beg a girl to marry him is lucky if he gets turned down. She owes you plenty, but marriage as a "pay off" would be bad for both of you.

DEAR ABBY: With holiday time drawing near, please warn your readers to be careful when buying Christmas cards. Last year I bought fifty pretty, colorful little Christmas cards and mailed them to my friends. I later discovered the verse inside read: "This little card has come to say A gift from me is on the way!" Best wishes,

"HORRIFIED"

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In the islands of the South Pacific, it is the custom for the women to wear a flower over one ear. When a girl has a boy friend or is married, she wears the flower over a certain ear. If she is not going with anyone special, she wears it over the other ear. I keep forgetting which ear is which. Can you help me?

U.S. MARINE

DEAR MARINE: The flower over the left ear means she is "taken"—the flower over the right ear means she's "available." (But it's those gals with flowers over both ears you have to be careful of.)

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Don't Lick Sticky Fingers

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last evening, while visiting a friend, she passed around a box of chocolates. They were quite soft and I got some of the melted chocolate on my fingers. Not having a napkin or a handkerchief handy, I licked the chocolate off my fingers.

I was criticized later by my husband for having done this, but what else was there to do? Under the circumstances, was it so terribly wrong to do what I did?

A: Rather than lick your fingers, you should have asked your hostess if you could have a paper napkin or a tissue on which to wipe your fingers.

Q: I recently was the guest of my brother's fiancee and her family who live in a distant state. While I was there, my future sister-in-law arranged several dates for me.

Before I left she and her mother suggested that I write thank - you notes to these young men upon my return home. I would like to know if you think this is necessary.

I have, of course, written to my brother's fiancee's mother to thank her for a pleasant visit, but I question the propriety of writing to these young men. May I please have your opinion on this matter?

A: You are right. It is not at all necessary for you to write to these young men to thank them for taking you out. I do hope that you thanked them verbally for an enjoyable evening when you returned from your dates with them.

Q: When having guests for dinner and they bring in a dessert, is it impolite to serve the dessert I have previously prepared for them, or must I offer them the dessert they have brought in?

Would it be proper to offer them a choice of either my prepared dessert or the dessert they have brought?

A: It will be polite to offer their unexpected dessert in addition to your own.

Christian Group Hears Speeches

The Christian Women's Fellowship group of the First Christian Church met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Jack Clark gave devotions entitled "The Christian Meaning of Christmas Decorations."

Mrs. Allen Hersee, project chairman, explained the Christian Relief Overseas Project (CROP) and the "Used Stamp Project." One commemorative postage stamp will supply nine bowls of cereal or 223 cups of milk.

★ ★ ★

Several stamps can send a heifer to a starving farm family or help ship a carload of grain through CROP.

Participating in a panel discussion entitled "Are These Our Children?" were Mrs. Brady Adams, teacher, who discussed the needs of the exceptional child and Mrs. Robert Albrecht, a nurse, and Dr. Robert Albrecht, who spoke of causes of handicaps and retardation. Mrs. Joe Morgan was moderator.

★ ★ ★

Pastor Jack Clark told what the church is doing for the exceptional and retarded children.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses for next Tuesday's evening circle meetings will be Mrs. Ray Patton, Naomi, and Mrs. William Tompkins, Lydia. The Elizabeth Circle will gather at 12:30 p.m. for luncheon with Mrs. Edward Williams.

McCarroll School Gives Yule Show

McCarroll School will present its annual Christmas program for parents and friends tonight at 7 p.m.

The lower grades will give a play based on the music of the "Nutcracker Suite" called "The Toymaker's Shop." This will be followed by "Greensleeves," and the "Shepherd Boy," a musical play by the upper grades.

June vows are planned by Carole Eileen Coolman, daughter of the Percy D. Coolmans, Allen Park, and Gary Alan Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Miller Jr. of Marie Circle. She is an alumna of Alma College where her fiance is presently a senior.

Weave Tiny Elastic
Into Sweater Neck

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"I have trouble keeping the neckline of cardigan sweaters from stretching. Would you pelase help me with your good advice?

Miss D. M.

Dear Miss D. M.

Thread tiny, round elastic on a needle and carefully weave it in and out of the neck edge of the sweater. Don't pull it too tight, just enough to hold the shape. It works like magic.

★ ★ ★

You Puff Powder Mark
To Measure Dress Hem

"Dear Eunice,

"How can one measure and pin up hems in dresses and coats so they will be even all around, WITHOUT asking friends and neighbors (they all seem so busy)?"

Mrs. I. M. B.

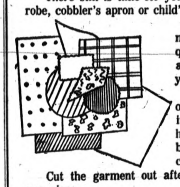
Dear Mrs. I. M. B.:

The only gadget I know about is a hem marker that stands on the floor and has a tube with a bulb on the end. The tube sprays a fine powder when you squeeze the bulb and it marks the hemline.

If anyone has any ideas or suggestions that have worked well, please let us know so we may share it with other women who sew alone.

CHRISTMAS GIFT

There still is time for you to make a clever patchwork robe, cobbler's apron or child's painting smock.



Hunt out all of your scrap material and make a crazy-quilt piece of fabric. If you have a new type sewing machine you can zig-zag them together.

Lay one piece on top of the other and stitch about half an inch from the edge. After you have machine stitched, it will be easy to trim the excess off close to the stitching.

Cut the garment out after you have enough fabric in one piece.

Favorite Waistband Can Be Fitted to Another Garment

"Dear Eunice,

"I have just finished a pair of slacks which had a curved waistband in the pattern. They fit so well that I am wondering if I can use this waistband on any pattern for skirts as well?"

Mrs. H. M.

Dear Mrs. H. M.:

If the contour of the skirt is the same at the waistline as the contour of the slacks which had the curved waistband, it should work out beautifully. If not, you could shape it the same by holding the one pattern over the other and trimming slightly until they are identical.

★ ★ ★

FANCY PANTS

"My children seem to grow taller before they grow wider. Their jeans and slacks are too short before I know it. I make plaid cotton flannel shirts and use a wide piece of the plaid for the facing of the pants (which have been pieced to lengthen). When the cuffs are turned up they make a matched set.

"If you aren't starting from scratch and have ready-made shirts, cut a strip off the tail, below where it is tucked in, and piece with solid color. The piece you cut off could be used to face the pants and form a cuff."

This suggestion by Mrs. Fred Dillberg, Napa, Calif., is the winner of this week's Tailor Trix pressing board.

Wax Paper Used to Slide
Suede Under Presser Foot

Mrs. A. F. W. says:

"I recently purchased some laminated suede cloth to make a coat. I found it easy to cut and mark. However, the foam backing would not go through the metal presser foot of my machine. I pinned wax paper on top of the fabric. It worked perfectly, easy to see through, easy to pull off, and eliminated the difficulty in machine stitching.

English Woman Changed World

The spirit of the Christmas season once flowed throughout the world from the home of a slight, shy English woman who has been all but forgotten by the world to which she gave so much.

Her name was Kate Greenaway, a noted artist of another century whose works inspired the habits, clothing and feeling of her day, not only in England but in America and continental Europe as well.

Miss Greenaway, born in 1846, began imitating the works of her father, a wood engraver, early in life. By the time she was 17 she had won her first art prize—a bronze medal for six ceramic tile designs.

Soon to follow were magazine sketches; children's books with both verses and sketches by Miss Greenaway, almanacs and, for six or seven years, a multitude of Christmas cards that vaulted her into great popularity.

Children and their clothing were Miss Greenaway's favorite art subjects.

Waterford PTAs Plan Christmas Programs

Four Waterford Township area Parent-Teacher Associations will hold their Christmas meetings Thursday evening.

Christmas at Haviland, the annual Christmas program sponsored by the Laura Smith Haviland School PTA, is set for 7:30 p.m.

Every child in the school will participate in the program, based on "The Christmas Tree Forest" story. Mrs. Chris Serbinoff will direct the music.

WILLIAMS LAKE

Williams Lake Elementary School PTA will hold a Christmas open house.

Families whose last names begin with letters A through K are asked to arrive between 7 and 8 p.m. Those names beginning with L through Z are asked to come between 8 and 9 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and the school choir will present a program, based on the evening's theme of art and music.

DELLA LUTES

The Della Lutes School will hold a Christmas open house from 7 to 8 p.m.

The children's art work will portray the qualities of Christmas.

The school chorus, under the direction of Judith Wolfe, music instructor, will be caroling at Pontiac General Hospital on Dec. 19.

JAYNO ADAMS

A Christmas musical program at 7:30 p.m. at Waterford Kettering High School will replace the Jayno Adams Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

Youngsters from kindergarten through sixth grade will participate in the program, under direction of Mrs. Donald Mullett.

Anyone Can Follow

Be Shepherds, Not Sheep

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE O-403: Dr. Woodrow Goodman is the dynamic president of Marion College.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "we'd like to have you deliver our commencement address, so would you please tell us the title of your talk?"

DR. CRANE

Usually I speak at such occasions on the topic "Be a Shepherd Instead of a Sheep."

Then I outline the responsibilities of educated people to take the lead in all constructive action, instead of being sheep who meekly accept the fads and fashions of advertising copy writers.

★ ★ ★

Some years ago while I was riding on a train from Chicago to New York, I sat beside a visitor from Australia.

He represented a large group of sheep ranchers over there and had come to America to negotiate for the sale of their wool.

In discussing the sheep industry, he told me that the ranchers must often make the sheep plunge into a stinking vat of sheep dip, to kill the ticks and other parasites that afflict them.

"But the sheep don't like to get wet," he began, "so they refuse to jump into that big vat of smelly sheep dip.

EASY SOLUTION

"We have found an easy solution, however, for we just lasso the lead sheep and actually drag him through the sheep dip.

"Without a moment's hesitation, then, the entire flock will plunge in after him, for sheep simply follow the leader."

With this illustration I then warn students that society has invested a large amount of money in them for 16 years to make them independent thinkers or "shepherds" of the less-educated folks in America. Thus, they have a serious responsibility not to meekly adopt bad habits.

For they are pace setters, and the masses of sheeplike younger folks will tend to follow their example, blindly.

★ ★ ★

This matter of free public education, for instance, also needs to be reanalyzed. For it has been only in about the past 150 years that any country has offered free schooling to its children.

Remember, the first high school in America was started in Boston (and for boys only) in the year 1821.

And it wasn't till 1850 that elementary schools began to schedule classes through the eighth grade.

In fact, not till 1872 did the courts okay tax support for public high schools!

So free education is a recent luxury in the entire history of mankind!

TAKE ADVANTAGE

You pupils should thus take full advantage of it while it is still free!

For many Americans are challenging the financial capacity of our country to maintain free schools much longer, at least after the sixth grade.

Horace Mann is really regarded as the "father" of the public school movement.

"Schoolhouses," he said about 1840, "are the republican line of fortifications."

He referred to the defense of this unique republic as a golden rule form of government in contrast to the jungle "might makes right" doctrine of democracies.

"Be ashamed to die," he also advised teen-agers, "until you have won some victory for mankind," and I concluded my commencement address at Marion College with that inspiring precept.

Life's Wonders Protect Us Against Horrors

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Twenty-eight years ago when he was a small boy, his parents made a point of introducing him to the goodness of the world.

He remembers his mother calling him; and, how together they watched a limp, dull creature break from a chrysalis in their garden and clinging to a twig, wait for the sun to flush its stretching butterfly wings with brown and gold.

He remembers the Mother Goose people pictured on his wallpaper; and how his father told him stories about them before he fell asleep.

He remembers how they always seemed to be there when he came upon his first tortoise, his first dandelion.

Ten years ago a mortar shell exploded on a barren Korean hillside — and introduced him to the foulness of the world. He does not remember its flash and roar. All he remembers is pain, the smell of anesthetics, the probing at his shattered legs and his torn lungs and nerves.

* * *

Yesterday, depositing his crutches against our living room wall, he sank into a chair and said, "I've just come from the park. I saw a lovely thing. I saw the sunlight turn the trunk of a beech tree to silver. How good it is to be a living man!"

Only if we have been taught to see the goodness of the world can we accept its foulness.

This is my answer to a reader who asks, "How do you tell a child about sex molesters? An old man in our town has been arrested for molesting a little girl and we know that our 6-year-old daughter has heard some gossip about it from other children. How do we open the subject with her without frightening her?"

Have you rejoiced with her over new leaves? Have you marveled together over the tiny nails on a baby's hand? If so, what you have to tell her about old men who molest little children will be accepted — and placed in the balance where such information belongs.

If you have not shared delight in the goodness of life with her, you'd better go carefully with your introduction to its evil.

Insanity is that point at which we arrive when the world's evils overcome us — and behind us, instead of the counteractive memories of its goodness, there is only an emptiness into which we fall.

* * *

If we want to protect children's mental health from injury by the knowledge of life's foulness, we cannot do it just by choosing delicate words. It can only be done by building behind them the firm ground of experience in the goodness of life.

Divide Proportionately in Family

Use 6 to 15 Per Cent of Income for Clothes

By MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: My 14-year-old daughter is turning from a tomboy into a young lady, very interested in clothes. I welcome this change, but I don't want to be foolish about indulging her in everything she sets her heart on.

My husband's income is $680 a month, after deductions. Can you tell me what it should take to dress a girl of this age?

Mrs. Ed W., Philadelphia

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. W.: I know there's a temptation to shop lavishly under the circumstances — it's such a nice change from levi's and droopy sweaters. But hold onto your good sense.

I suggest you and your daughter write down the clothes she'll need for a season. It's easier to plan for three or four months in advance.

A family's wardrobe can range from 6 to 15 per cent of the spendable monthly income —in your case, from $40.80 to $102. You will have to decide what proportion of this amount you want to spend on your daughter's clothes.

Probably more for this coming season than you will later on, since she won't have much of a backlog to start with. Also, you will want to encourage her new interest in her appearance.

★ ★ ★

Whatever the two of you decide on, be sure to buy washables. When clothes can go into the washing machine and out of the dryer in a matter of an hour or so, she will need far fewer garments.

The most fashion - conscious clothes, including outer wear, are machine - washable these days, and it just doesn't make sense to buy any other kind.

Take time to co-ordinate basic garments and accessories, and beware of the do-dads that a girl would tire of quickly.

By all means let her exercise her own selective talents — as far as you reasonably can.

★ ★ ★

If you have a money problem, write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer those of greatest interest in her column.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley: How do you go about figuring what it actually costs to drive a car?

On his new job, Jim will be driving our 1961 Chevrolet 40 miles a day, to and from work. The rest of the trips are short ones, except when our son takes the car on dates about twice a week.

I know we'll have added expense now, but I'd like to find out how much.

Mrs. J. C., Louisville, Ky.

Dear Mrs. C.: Operating costs will often vary as much as 50 per cent for the same make and model car. So the best way to determine these costs is to develop your own figures.

As a guide, here's a breakdown of national average cost figures for a 1961 Chevy: a little over 2½ cents a mile for gas and oil; a bit over 1 cent a mile for maintenance and tires; $30.93 annually for fire and theft insurance; $107.71 annually for liability. Since your son is using the car, this figure might well be higher.

The average motorist, driving your make and model car about 20,000 miles in one year, pays about 8 cents a mile. Use that for a budget figure, and adjust it as your own records shape up.

Polly's Pointers

Let 'Em Have It, Gals

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a tip for women who drive alone in their cars late at night. A bottle of ammonia, with a window squirter, can be kept under the front seat.

When walking alone at night carry one in the purse. I defy a mugger or molester to withstand the effects of it in the eyes. Beth

DEAR POLLY — Soon it will be time to feed the birds.

I save a mesh bag from 10 pounds of potatoes, soak the label off and then put a big piece of suet in it. Pull the string tight and hang it on a tree limb.

Works better than wire as no matter how small the piece of suet gets, the birds can always reach it.

In very cold weather, birds' feet can freeze to wire, too. Bird Lover.

DEAR POLLY — I cannot tie pretty bows so came up with the following idea for still having attractively wrapped Christmas gifts.

Instead of throwing away my faded, tired-looking, artificial flowers, I spray them with gold to use in place of bows and ribbons.

Last year, my "conversation piece" was a large flat package, wrapped with all gold paper, with one single long stemmed gilded rose taped across the top. So simple but still the most attractive package under my tree. Dolores

DEAR POLLY — My three daughters and I do most of our own sewing and have found a good use for those lovely wool scraps left from skirts and dresses.

We cut them into 4- or 5-inch-square blocks, crochet around them with bits of left-over yarn — any color— using a single crochet stitch.

Then we join all together with the same color yarn and have a warm and practical afghan.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Sharon Taylor Married in Candlelight Service

Attendants wearing cardinal red silk brocade preceded Sharon Lee Taylor to the altar in Lake Orion Methodist Church Saturday evening when she became Mrs. James Clifford Saussen Jr. Rev. Robert Hudgins performed the candlelight service.

The bride is the daughter

of the Leslie J. Taylors of Lake Orion and the senior Saussers of Hartford Street are parents of the bridegroom.

Embroidered medallions accented the portrait neckline of the bride's gown of white silk organza, styled with bouffant skirt and chapel train. Organza rosettes touched with seed pearls caught her silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white roses, carnations and pompons.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James Martin attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Janet Chevrier and a cousin Judy Taylor, both of Detroit and Charlotte Knotts, Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Their white fur headpieces with red veils matched their muffs topped with corsages of peppermint-striped red carnations.

Roe Sausser stood as best man for his brother. Ushers were Michael Rickard, Daryl Wilson and Philip Felice.

★ ★

After greeting some 300 guests in the American Legion Post Hall, Auburn Heights, the couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan. They will live in Lake Orion.

Senior Citizens Set Luncheon, Church Program

Familiar Newspaper Is Gone

NY Household Misses Old Pal

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's said we never appreciate something that is part of our everyday lives until it's no longer there.

For us living in New York, the "something" is plural — which multiplies the missing. Since Saturday, nine major daily newspapers have been closed because of labor disagreements with unions.

★ ★ ★

The result has turned our home into a place with the air of a funeral parlor. We're lonesome, uncertain, as if a loved member of the family were gone.

The absence of a presence taken as much for granted in the morning as fruit juice and coffee is difficult to adapt to.

At our house, the day normally starts with the pleasant-sounding plop (only now, that I don't hear the plop do I recall how pleasant a sound it is) of newsprint at the front door.

The day usually ends with other newspapers bought on the way home and gleaned at bedtime.

★ ★ ★

Now, the man of the house mopes around in a bathrobe not even starting his morning coffee until he's reminded it's there, as usual.

Then, reading being a strong habit in our household, he pokes around in magazine racks until he produces something to go with the coffee.

The other morning when I checked, he was going through a fashion monthly dated last August.

★ ★ ★

Yes, we're getting the news, because radio and television have stepped up their news coverage in the absence of the dailies. Even so, avid a listener and viewer as I've become, something seems amiss when one is unable to sit down and read the details on a big story right down to the 35th paragraph.

READ CLEAR THROUGH

At our house, traditionally, the newspaper is read from front to final page, including the public notices ("I will not be responsible for the debts of my wife — who has left my bed and board . . .") and the lost and found ("Lost, in the vicinity of Times Square, one ladies' ring, sentimental value, reward . . . ")

One of the worst blows is the loss of the crossword. Our household is in danger of forgetting the six-letter synonym for newt, the seven-letter synonym for African antelope.

Of course, it would be in the absence of newspapers that my regular winter cold sets in, but there has been the handy substitute of television as I look at the four walls and the screen — and "Young Dr. Malone" and "Doorway to Destiny" and "Love of Life" and a rerun of "December Bride."

★ ★ ★

Radio, television and the Weather Bureau's telephone service keep the household aware that it snowed this week, that today will be cold, tomorrow more of same. But how does one know the readings in Anchorage, Los Angeles, Rome and London?

Christmas shpping now means a lot more huffing than normal, because a telephone call about an advertised item helps get a lot of the buying out of the way.

Senior Neighbors

Members Plan Aged Club

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The organization, Senior Neighbors, in Chattanooga, Tenn., is only two years old but it has more than a thousand members.

I think one reason for its success is the fact that the members were in on the planning. No activities were set up for them.

They decided what they wanted and still do. And, people come from all walks of life.

Probably most exciting, Senior Neighbors has called for help on members and friends who have special skills. Many civic minded organizations have given aid too.

Mrs. Charles V. Thompson, cofounder, is an artist and donates time to teach painting. One retired designing engineer teaches classes in ceramics. A retired teacher teaches Spanish and French. One woman with a special talent for it teaches cake decorating.

OTHERS TAKE PART

The City Recreation Department donates one of their instructors in crafts for classes. The Electric Power Board loans one of their people to teach how to cook for only one or for two people. The Local Red Cross instructs in home nursing. The Medical Auxiliary trains interested members in baby sitting.

Senior Neighbors are constantly adding to their activities. They are expanding their program for home-bound members. They are reviving the Men's Coffee Group. They are talking about a hiking club.

Day hostesses are always on hand. They send out a monthly newsletter. They have open house once a month with their own committees planning the entertainment. They have a colorful and gay Christmas party each year.

Judging by the persons I have met who are working with Senior Neighbors, I can believe it when Mrs. George W. Power, one of the cofounders said, "Really there is a cheerful, happy, wonderful, intangible atmosphere about the whole place."

Mrs. Power added, "We need the skills of retired people."

It seems to me that this must be mutual because I am sure that the retired folks are having a great time contributing their services to this group.

It is always a shame for talents to waste away for lack of use when so many others can benefit by them.

Decorated Sleds in Family Room

If your children have outgrown their sleds, how about painting them a gay color, padding them with foam rubber cushioning, and placing them in the family room. They make excellent low seats for TV viewing.

Kingswood Plans Yule Program

A musical Merry Christmas program is planned by seventh and eighth grades of Kingswood School Cranbrook for families and friends Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Kingswood auditorium.

The program, directed by Bertha Seifert, includes scenes from Dickens' "Christmas Carol," with Mary Lovett as Scrooge, and Wiggin's "The Birds' Christmas Carol," with Serena Simons as Mrs. Ruggles.

Seventh grade soloists are Mary Gerisch, Penny Crocker, Alexa Kachcinko and Chalyce Brown. Tenth-grader Brenda Ebersole is cellist accompanist.

Accompanists for the eighth grade glee club are Kathy Wilde, Mary Schinnick, Rebecca Fleishman and Chalyce Brown.

Taffy-Like Candy Is Twisted Into Canes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. Paul Beckman of Union Lake called us to say she has great fun and equal success with making her own candy canes. She wanted to share her recipe with you readers.

This busy grandmother likes to paint china, sew, crochet, refinish antiques, play the piano and hunt and fish. Last summer she made a stone wall and a stone bird bath.

CANDY CANES
By Mrs. Paul Beckman

2 cups white corn syrup
1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup water
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar

Boil until mixture becomes brittle when dropped in cold water. Remove from heat, add ½ teaspoon peppermint flavoring.

Pour into two buttered dishes and color one batch red with food coloring. As soon as the candy reaches a comfortable stage to handle, butter your hands and pull candy like taffy.

When light and porous, roll into long pencil-thin strips and twist the two colors together. Cut off and shape into canes. Let harden on waxed paper.

Club Elects New Officers at Meeting

New officers were elected at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Fashionette Club at the Adah Shelly Library.

Elected were: Mrs. Wava Forker, president; Mrs. Edna Mertz, vice president; Mrs. Cletus Slade, recording secretary; Mrs. James H. King, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Matthew Fotheringham, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Burhans, custodian of the scales; Mrs. Victor Ejven, custodian of the awards; Mrs. Harold Hopper, weight recorder; Mrs. Frederick Root, program chairman; Mrs. Bernard Zywicki, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Jamie Gould, historian.

The new officers will take over their duties Jan. 8.

Mrs. Peter Hernandez was awarded the club trophy for losing the most weight since the last meeting.

The club will meet next Tuesday for a cooperative dinner and Christmas party. Gifts will be exchanged.

Residents Flee Fire in Detroit

One Killed, Six Injured in Blazing Apartments

DETROIT (UPI) — A four-alarm fire raged through a downtown Detroit apartment building early today, killing one man and injuring six firemen.

Residents of the apartment building fled in nightclothes into 5-above-zero temperatures.

The body of Robert Hurst, 51, the building maintenance man, was removed from his basement apartmnet. He died from smoke inhalation.

The six firemen were injured when one of the walls of the four-story building collapsed and the rubble buried a fire engine.

All were hospitalized, but their injuries were not believed serious.

Detroit fire chief Glenn Thom said the blaze started in the basement of a store on the first floor of the building.

Flames quickly shot through the building and into the apartments on the second and third floors.

Residents were routed by shouts and the smell of smoke.

They grabbed what clothes they could and rushed into the street where they shivered in the bitter cold while volunteers rounded up warm clothing and sought places of shelter.

Some of them went to homes of friends nearby.

* * *

Welfare agenices sent cars to carry the occupants to shelter sites. A portable canteen was set up at the scene to serve hot coffee to firemen and occupants of the building.

The bitter cold hampered firemen attempting to battle the blaze. One hose froze and broke.

The spray from water hoses coated everything with a sheet of ice and made it almost impossible to walk in the area.

Helmets worn by the firemen were completely encased in ice and the numbing cold made it difficult to handle equipment.

Firemen said the building was a complete loss.

Little-Known Brunei Rich in Oil, Rubber

By United Press International

To most Americans, Borneo was known mainly as the home of the "wild man" exhibited in cages at circuses and fairs. But the island is rich with oil, rubber and lumber.

* * *

The Sultanate of Brunei, where revolt has flared, is the second largest oil producer in the British Commonwealth. The tiny protectorate, slightly larger than the State of Delaware (2,226 square miles), is the smallest of the three territories on the island.

Yet the Shell Oil Co., fields at Seria produce 33 million barrels of oil a year and furnish the Brunei government with the income which has made possible free schools, free medical benefits and old age pensions for its citizens.

Brunei has a population of about 85,000 with almost half concentrated around the main city and capital of Brunei. Most of the population are Malaysians, although there is a large percentage of Chinese.

* * *

There also is a sizable native group, including Dyaks, some of whose fellow-tribesmen in the interior of Borneo still practice head-hunting.

* * *

Brunei has been a British protectorate since 1888, with Britain responsible for its defense and foreign affairs. Since Sultan Sir Omar al Saiffudin Washedul Khairi Waddin assumed rule in 1950 there have been numerous reforms.

Under the sultan, the first political party — the people's party whose leader claims to be leading the revolt — was organized formally and registered as a political organization. In 1959, the sultan promulgated the first written constitution.

Brunei faces on the South China Sea, about 80 miles west of Singapore. It is surrounded on the land side by Sarawak, once ruled by the "white sultans."

* * *

A strip of Sarawak extending to the sea cuts Brunei in two parts — the western section is roughly 25 miles wide while the eastern section is 7-15 miles wide.

* * *

Brunei was the most powerful state in Borneo — which up until the 19th century was known as Brunei — from the 16th century to the early 1800s. The sultan controlled the island — third largest in the world after Greenland and New Guinea.

SULTAN OF BRUNEI

But in 1841, the sultan ceded Sarawak to Sir James Brook, the first of the "white sultans" of the territory which is now a British crown colony.

The power of the Burnei sultanate gradually lessened in the ensuing years. In 1877, Britain acquired North Borneo, also currently a British crown colony, and 11 years later, made Burnei a protectorate.

* * *

The first Europeans known to visit Brunei (Borneo) was Magellen and his sailors on their historic round-the-world voyage in 1521.

* * *

About five years later, the first Portuguese arrived. A trading post and a Roman Catholic Church were established in Brunei in the early 17th century. The Spaniards, Dutch and British came in later but stayed only briefly.

Brunei was occupied by the Japanese during World War II and its capital city almost destroyed.

The sultanate is mostly low-lying terrain, with numerous streams. Rainfall is high, an average of 100 inches annually on the coast and about 200 inches in the interior.

Rice, sugar cane, pineapples and bananas are the principal crops. There is considerable stock raising, including cattle, buffalo and hogs.

* * *

Behind the revolt is opposition to the planned federation of Brunei, with Sarawak and North Borneo into a greater Malaysia with Singapore and Malaya within the British commonwealth.

* * *

The three British territories occupy the northern one-third of the Island of Borneo. The remainder is controlled by Indonesia which took over from the Dutch after World War II.

India Accepts It for Time Being

No Guarantee on Cease Fire—Nehru

NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Nehru said today India has given no guarantee it will continue to observe the cease fire the Chinese Communists proclaimed in the Himalayas.

"We have given no guarantee on the future of the cease fire," Nehru told parliament.

"It depends upon the circumstances. But for the time being India is accepting it."

Nehru said India does not wish to impede the cease fire and welcomes reports of Chinese withdrawal in the northeast. The Chinese are insisting on holding their present positions in Ladakh, at the northwestern end of the border, where they occupied more than 2,000 square miles in their invasion.

* * *

Whatever the outcome of the cease fire and the Chinese withdrawal, Nehru said, India will have to continue to strengthen its defense forces.

REITERATES DEMAND

"We shall continue to do so," he declared.

Nehru reiterated India's demand that the Chinese give up their recent military gains before there can be any peace talks. Peking has rejected this demand.

Nehru said talks with the Chinese could begin if they withdrew to the positions they held Sept. 8.

Nehru reported 197 Indian soldiers were killed in fighting against the Chinese from the beginning of their offensive Oct. 20 until last Monday. The fighting stopped Nov. 22 with the Chinese cease-fire proclamation, but two more Indian soldiers were killed later.

Nehru said 291 men were wounded in battle, that the Chinese say they are holding 1,102 prisoners and 5,174 apparently are missing.

He said that 9,811 men had returned to northeastern army headquarters at Tezpur from units cut off by the Chinese advance north of Tezpur, and another 2,350 had come back from defeats near Walong, at the eastern end of the border.

Indian Red Cross trucks drove into the eastern Himalayas to collect 30 prisoners the Chinese said they would release tomorrow at Dhirang Dzong, 50 miles beyond Bomdilla.

Road Chiefs' Unit Installs President

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Edwin V. Mueller, chairman of the Kent County Road Commission, took office today as president of the Association of Southern Michigan Road Commissions.

Installations came in business sessions concluding the organization's annual conference at Grand Rapids. Mueller succeeds Donald A. Ratekin, engineer-manager of the Allegan County Road Commission.

Howard Minier, superintendent manager of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, was installed as vice president of the association and Fred Rogers, Livingston County Road Commission engineer, was returned to a 25th term as association secretary-manager.

House Maid Is Arrested

SEOUL (AP) — For over a week rocks flew by night, terrifying residents of Shinnamdong, a neighborhood in the southern outskirts of Seoul.

Police arrested Kim Jungal, a 17-year-old house maid, who told them:

"Two months ago a witch told me that I was doomed to die at the age of 20, and that the only charm against the curse was to smash as many window panes as I could."

Library Fails Shopper Seeking Wealthy Wife

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Dr. Norman Winfrey, director of the state library, says he won't be able to supply a list requested in a letter from George Lang of Sydney, Australia.

Lang asked for a list of millionaire Texas widows and said, "If you could add spinsters it would be appreciated. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Farms Ask U.S. Views on Unions

ATLANTA (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation convention looked to the Kennedy administration today for a possible outline of its views on the issue of extending labor unions and wage standards to agriculture.

* * *

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz addresses today's convention session on the government's labor policies.

Federation officials said they hoped Wirtz would state the administration's position on efforts to farmers and farm workers.

EYE CLARIFICATION

Too, they looked to Wirtz for clarification of administration plans on possible broadening of past federal efforts to set farm wage and other employment conditions and standards in connection with government labor recruitment programs.

* * *

Convention delegates are considering resolutions which take a strong slap at what policy drafters said was a labor monopoly in this country.

"The concentration of economic power in labor unions permits resort to measures which, if used by any other economic group, would result in drastic antitrust action," the resolutions said.

BLAME UNIONS

They put much of the blame on organized labor for what was called a price squeeze on farmers. They said unions as well as business should be subject to antitrust laws.

* * *

Meanwhile, Charles B. Shuman, president of the federation, took out after Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on the latter's plea in a speech at St. Paul, Minn. Tuesday night for farmer approval of a new wheat control program at an upcoming referendum.

AGAINST PROGRAM

The federation opposes wheat controls and will seek to defeat the new program. Freeman said the new program is essential not only for the welfare of producers but for the benefit of government negotiations with the European Common Market on U.S. wheat exports to that area.

* * *

"Freeman's talk indicated he is desperate," Shuman said. "He must have found out that farmers don't want his new wheat program. He sees his house of cards falling about him."

Grand Rapids Man Dies; Found in Unheated Shed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Charles Centilli, 57, was found dead under a blanket on a mattress on the floor of an unheated shed where he apparently had been taking shelter in northeast Grand Rapids.

Dr. George Falbisaner, medical examiner, said the man appeared to have been a victim of exposure. A post-mortem examination was ordered to determine the cause of death.

Crash Victim Succumbs

DETROIT (UPI)—James A. Sparkman, 40, Inkster, died today at Wayne County General Hospital of injuries suffered last night when his car collided with another auto in Inkster.

Masons Plan Installation of Officers

Roosevelt Lodge No. 510, F&AM, will hold its annual public installation of officers Saturday at 8 p.m. at Roosevelt Temple, 22 State St.

Robert C. Davis of 209 Riviera St., will be installed as worshipful master.

Other new officers to be install for the coming year include James Reinert, senior warden; Alfred C. Vaughn, junior warden; Charles R. Buell, treasurer; William C. Phahlert, secretary; and Albert E. Holtom, chaplain.

Others to be installed are Harry E. Hodge, senior deacon; P. L. Newingham, junior deacon; Cecil McAllister, marshal; and Edward J. Plummer, tiler.

Robert G. Sislock and Edward Moden are senior and junior stewards respectively.

Associate stewards being installed are Leslie H. Dean Jr., Joe K. Emert, Harold Johnson and William Stoutenburg.

Rebel Warned in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's new air force commander demanded today that his predecessor and a rebel garrison at the jet base of Cordoba surrender or face the onslaught of "overwhelmingly superior force."

* * *

Brig. Carlos Conrado Segundo Armanini issued the ultimatum—but without setting a time limit — as harried Argentine government chiefs met far into the night in attempts to find a bloodless solution to the nation's sixth military - political crisis in nine months.

Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina set up the rebel headquarters at Cordoba, 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, after President Jose Maria Guido fired him Tuesday as air force commander in chief.

* * *

Armanini said Alsina had headed a minor group in a conspiracy to overthrow Guido's government and was fired "for this motive among others." Also dismissed was an air force combat commander, Brig. Gilberto Hidalgo Oliva, who was reported under arrest.

East Berlin Families to Entertain Guards

BERLIN (AP)—Neues Deutschland, official organ of the East German Communists, told its readers Tuesday that families, factories and schools are planning to entertain guards from the Berlin wall on Christmas.

Most of the 12,000-man "people's police" estimated to be stationed directly on West Berlin's border are youngsters drawn from other parts of East Germany.

Crutch Prints Lead to One-Legged Burglar

DALLAS (UPI) — The only clue to several burglaries recently were crutch prints.

"Every time I looked around, I saw reports where crutch marks had been observed at the scene," said Police Capt. Walter Fannin.

Fannin said he found his man Monday and charged one-legged James Ferman Swiger, 46, with burglary.

Trading posts were established along the Mackenzie River in Canada early in the 19th century.

The slender "stogie" cigar is believed to have derived its name after Conestoga, Pa., or the Conestoga wagon. It is especially popular in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

There are more than 1,000 species of fish in the Congo River, which runs 2,900 miles in Africa.

Nonfarm Labor Breaks Record

November Toll Higher Than Any Like Period

WASHINGTON (AP) The Labor Department reported yesterday the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls was 56.2 million in November, a record for any November.

The figure represents a drop of about 100,000 from October, but is 1.2 million higher than in November 1961, the former record for the month.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower director, said the previously announced decline of about 900,000 in employment to a total of 68 million and a rise of 500,000 in unemployment to 3.8 seasonal changes to be expected in November.

★ ★ ★

The average work week for production workers rose to 40.4 hours instead of showing its usual November decline.

Average hourly earnings of factory workers increased by one cent to a record $2.41 with weekly earnings rising to an average of $97.36, just short of a record.

The average factory worker was putting in nearly three hours overtime in November.

★ ★ ★

Overtime hours were especially high in the booming auto industry where the work week rose from 42.6 hours in October to 43.3 hours in November.

Wolfbein said the chief surprise in the November job figures — a sudden 150,000 rise in the number of unemployed teen-agers — was primarily due to full time students looking for part time jobs.

★ ★ ★

This in turn, he said, was the main factor in causing the seasonally adjusted idle rate to climb from 5.5 to 5.8 per cent of the work force.

Dogs Love Toothpaste

West Germany Crisis Ended

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's worst political crisis has ended with the formation of a new coalition government without two ministers of the previous cabinet.

★ ★ ★

Konrad Adenauer, the 86-year-old chancellor, will continue to lead the government though in a lame-duck role as a result of the promise wrung from him during the crisis to retire next year.

The Free Democrats, who upset the old coalition by withdrawing from the government three weeks ago, will hold the same five posts they had before.

The agreement on a new government, reached last night, provided for dropping two of the storm centers in the crisis — Adenauer's defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss, and the Free Democrats' justice minister, Wolfgang Stammberg.

★ ★ ★

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, generally considered in line to succeed Adenauer, remain in their key spots in the government for Adenauer's Christian Democrats.

Altogether there are eight new faces in the 20-man cabinet.

Rum, Cigars Spiced Woman's Long Life

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Josefina Encarnazion, a tiny woman who loved cigars and children almost equally, is dead.

She was 112, 114 or 115 years old, no one knew for sure, not even Mrs. Encarnazion.

"Too many years have gone by for me to remember," she once said.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Encarnazion was a small woman—about 4-feet-10 and 80 pounds. In her native Puerto Rico she reared about 30 adopted children, swearing by "spicy food, a good cigar and a good drink of strong rum" as the sustaining forces in her incredibly healthy life.

She died Tuesday in a nursing home where she had lived since April.

"Probably pneumonia," her doctor said.

★ ★ ★

The doctor said he had no doubt she was more than 100 years old.

Until she stopped eating and took to her bed about 10 days ago, Mrs. Encarnazion was agile and spry.

"She always wanted to help," said Miss Mary Patricia McMullen, day supervisor at the nursing home. "She spoke no English, but no one could have been more polite and lovable."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Encarnazion lived most of her life in Mameyés, a little Puerto Rican town no longer on the map.

"Ever since I opened my eyes, she was old," said Mrs. Constance Cunard, 49, of Miami, one of many children she reared.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Encarnizion and Mrs. Cunard came to Miami eight years ago.

Mrs. Encarnazion was married once.

"She had one child," said a woman who knew her. "The child fell down a stairway and was killed."

★ ★ ★

A small white bandana always on her head, rosary beads always around her neck, she was the delight of the nursing home.

"Until the day she went to bed sick, she smoked cigars—big coronas," said Miss McMullen. "Her relatives would bring her rum and she would sip that."

Drop Charge in Mate's Death

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Cass County authorities yesterday announced there would be no charge filed against Mrs. Daisy Rose Lovell, 34, in the shotgun death of her husband, William, 38.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor Glenn Squiers said:

"In reviewing the circumstances surrounding the death of William Lovell, I have reached the positive conclusion that the shooting was justifiable by reason of self defense."

Lovell was slain Dec. 9. His wife who returned home from the hospital a day earlier with their infant daughter said she fired the gun in the climax of a family argument.

★ ★ ★

Part of the quarrel, according to Police Chief Richard Wild, was that Lovell had wanted a boy. The couple were parents of four other children ranging in age up to 15 years.

Dog Credited as Life Saver

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A barking dog was credited with probably saving the lives of nine members of three Butler families Tuesday after carbon monoxide fumes seeped through their apartment building.

The dog's barking aroused its owners in a third-floor apartment. Firemen were summoned and awakened two other families.

Mrs. Florence Bobbert, 46, was admitted to a hospital in fair condition. Her husband and a daughter were treated at the scene. They own the dog.

Notes Backward Trend of London Auto Speed

LONDON (UPI) — Wilfrid Andrews, chairman of the Royal Auto Club, noted that when the organization was formed in 1897, London's speed limit was 14 miles an hour.

Andrews said today the average speed in London traffic is 10.7 miles an hour.

Swainson Set to Head Dems

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. John B. Swainson has said he will remain head of the Democratic party in Michigan when he leaves office next month.

"I not only consider myself so, but I am assured by many people that I am," Swainson told newsmen.

He was asked if he plans to run again for governor in 1964.

"If I were, I would announce it at a more appropriate time," he answered.

★ ★ ★

Swainson said he did not plan to run for congressman-at-large in the next election because he believes the state will be redistricted to encompass its new congressional seat before then.

About 600,000 overseas visitors are expected to spend $520 each in the U.S. this year, says Voit Gilmore, travel service director of the Department of Commerce.

State Employes Get 1½ Days Off for 2 Holidays

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's state employes will get a day and a half off with pay for both Christmas and New Year's, they have been notified by the State Civil Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

Both holidays fall on Tuesday. State workers also have the afternoon off on Monday.

Those wishing to take off for a long weekend by not working at all Monday must have the approval of their department heads and deduct the other half day on Monday from their annual leave.

The commission announced, meanwhile, that state workers will get seven holidays off with pay next year.

These will be New Year's, Memorial, Independence, Labor, Veterans, Thanksgiving and Christmas days.

Farm assets in the United States jumped from $200 billion to $207 billion in 1962.

Dispute Will Hurt Communications

LONDON (AP) — The National Association of Overseas Telegraphists said Tuesday its members had been instructed to work strictly according to rules from Dec. 19 to 26 in a jurisdictional dispute with the Post Office, which controls the telegraph system.

By complying minutely with every rule in the book laid down by the General Post Office, the association's 1,500 members would cause heavy delays in overseas cables moving in and out of Britain, said an association spokesman.

The association issued the order because, it said, the General Post Office refused to recognize the association and give it negotiating rights.

Educational Leaves Gaining Business Popularity

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — Robert S. Bell already had a bachelor's degree and a law degree. Nevertheless, in 1955 when he was 40, Bell returned to the campus one day a week for a year.

To do it, he had to take time from numerous business and civic activities, for Bell was executive vice president of Packard-Bell Corp., an electronics firm with 1962 sales of about $50 million.

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

"When an executive is through learning, he's dead," Bell said later, explaining his two-semester stint at the University of California at Los Angeles. He attended classes in a special executive development program.

★ ★ ★

Something resembling Bell's attitude has been going on in the business world the last few years and appears to be spreading.

In one of its most dramatic expressions, David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, suggested periodic management leaves for high-level executives, perhaps every seventh year.

Speaking to the American Philosophical Society, Rockefeller, a brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, lamented the continuing division of society, especially the business world, into compartments.

COMMUNICATIONS GAP

The result, he said, was a stultifying communications gap in a decade of extremely rapid social and scientific change.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot afford to flounder in a communications vacuum while science and technology . . . reshape our world," he said.

To a point, much business thinking across the country is in tune with Rockefeller's thesis.

However, many executives express doubts about the wisdom of sabbaticals of from a full semester to a year.

This year about 3,000 executives were sent to university-sponsored, in-residence executive development programs lasting two weeks or more in the United States and Canada. Roughly 50 colleges, universities, institutes and associations gave such comprehensive programs.

★ ★ ★

Courses in managerial accounting, labor relations and the like heavily accented many offerings.

A few, such as those at Stanford University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, ran a full academic year and included audiences with Cabinet members, corporation heads and foreign dignitaries.

Exactly what benefits are reaped from these programs?

Like many corporations, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, which has sent more than 1,600 executives back to school in the past 15 years, couldn't pinpoint them.

"It's very difficult to appraise precisely," said H. P. Schoeck, Jersey Standard director of executive organization and development.

"The real value is not so much the subject matter as in the informal rubbing of shoulders with men from very different businesses, from labor, the academic world, the military and government."

BROADER HORIZONS

Others stressed the release from the insular aspects of executive life, tending to more specialization, an intense preoccupation with the narrowing job environment.

As Rockefeller put it, even golf course, bridge table, club and cocktail party discussions become parochial.

★ ★ ★

Since 1956 the Southern Pacific Railroad has sent about 50 men a year to special courses lasting six weeks to a year at schools like Stanford, MIT and Harvard.

"They can study anything they like—Chinese so far as I care. It's broadening," said Donald J. Russell, president.

Actually, study has concentrated on advanced management training, transportation, finance and similar subjects at graduate schools of business at the various institutions.

★ ★ ★

Regarding Rockefeller's sabbatical idea, several corporate bosses expressed reluctance to give up bright young men for a whole year.

"And there's a reluctance on the part of the men themselves," Schoeck said.

★ ★ ★

An official of Raytheon Co., Lexington, Mass., electronics concern, approved long sabbaticals, but said they should be regarded not as a complete answer but as a supplement to short courses, seminars, in-house training programs, fellowships and the like.

In Chicago, Tilden Cummings, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co., agreed with Rockefeller that executives congregate too much, intensifying a need for "cross pollination of ideas."

Cummings' bank sends officers and executives to Rutgers, in New Jersey, the University of Wisconsin and elsewhere for summer courses, mostly to schools of finance.

"We're not particularly interested in liberal arts courses," management and training at Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit-based pharmaceutical firm.

Robert Mitchell, a vice president of Mattel, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., toy manufacturer, said most of its middle and senior executives have gone through the UCLA program attended by Bell.

"I think there's some connection between our educational philosophy and the company's growth," Mitchell said

PNH Whips Rochester, 83-61; Lakers Dump Waterford, 59-49

Lepley Hits 22 but Team Loses Second in Row

Haywards, Burklow Reese Pace Northern to First Win

By DON VOGEL

Pontiac Northern unleashed its fast break in the second half last night to whip Rochester, 83-61.

★ ★ ★

And the Huskies did it with star forward Gary Hayward sitting on the bench for the final 11 minutes. Hayward fouled out in the third period with the Huskies in front, 48-37.

Still, he managed to score 20 points, high for the host school.

The victory evened PNH's record at 1-1 Rochester is still looking for its first win after two starts.

The Falcons started fast, racing to a 12-5 lead behind the shooting of Chuck Lepley. But the Huskies stormed back to tie the count at 16-all on Jerry Reese's free throw and went ahead on a pair of charity tosses by Gary Hayward.

Mike Burklow's layup shot pushed Northern in front to stay, 27-26, and the Huskies went on to build a 36-29 halftime lead. PNH slowly opened the gap until Gary fouled out. Then they really pulled away.

★ ★ ★

Coach Dick Hall started Reese in place of Dave Bihl and sent Dean Souden to forward along with Gary and Roger Hayward. Reese was a sparkplug on offense and picked off several key rebounds.

STARTING ROLE

He cemented a starting berth by dropping in 13 points. Roger Hayward came on strong in the second half. The 6-2 sophomore scored 14 points in the game and controlled the defensive boards after his brother fouled out.

Lepley turned in a fine performance for the Falcons. He dropped in six baskets and added 10 free throws to take game scoring honors with 22 points. Burklow, who seemed to improve as the game progressed, hit 17.

The Huskies used a 2-3 zone defense to successfully contain Rochester's 6-8 Mike Wilson. The big lefthander was consistently out rebounded by Gary Hayward and was finally moved to a high post in the second half.

He scored only nine points.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies, who started out running in the loss to Flint Southwestern, went back to their old style of set offensive patterns. They used the fast break only when there was a clean chance at the basket.

Wilson drew four fouls in the first half and this hampered his rebounding in the last two periods. When Gary Hayward departed, the Huskies suddenly started fast-breaking with almost every rebound.

They blasted open a 74-59 lead with 4:30 to play and Hall began sending in the reserves.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies were much improved over their poor showing against Southwestern. They missed a half dozen easy layups but the bad passes and sloppy ball handling were missing.

Pressure Free Throws Win for Lapeer, 58-57

A pair of pressure free throws by George Schwerin after the final buzzer gave Lapeer a 58-57 nonleague victory over Flint Kearsley last night.

★ ★ ★

The Panthers had squandered a 37-27 halftime lead before Schwerin was fouled as the game ended. He scored 12 points. Dick Fellers and Mike Powell each had 14 for Lapeer.

Gary Owen hit nine field goals and 10 free throws for 28 points in losing cause.

Last Chance to Enter

Bowlerama Deadline in Few Hours

Now is the final time for all bowlers to enter The Press Bowlerama.

The last chance is only a few hours away—midnight to be exact.

There's still time to pick up some extra cash for the holiday by just qualifying in the final round Sunday at 300 Bowl and North Hill Lanes in Rochester.

A guaranteed first prize of $600 followed by prizes of $400, $250, $125, $100 and others right down to at least $15 will be at stake when all the qualifiers of three weekends battle it out at Airway Lanes, Sunday December 23rd.

BIG PRIZES

Depending on entries, the winner and all the places right down the line could earn more than the guarantees. Last year's first prize of $500 and the winner, Jack Frusbour came out with $565.

If entries were to hit 2,000, the possibility of which is remote at this time, first prize could be close to 1,000.

As of now, the 1962 tournament may reach 1,200 entries the same as last year, unless there is a last minute rush. On this basis nearly 200 handicap and actual bowlers, or one for every 5.9 bowlers would share the big purse.

This is a big payoff compared to the one for 10 basis of most tournaments.

Entries can be submitted to any establishment or they may be brought to the Press sports department by noon Thursday. All pairings will be printed in Friday's Press.

W. Bloomfield Reveals Class in Easy Win

Skippers Could Make Trouble in I-L Race After Jittery Start

By JERE CRAIG

This may be the week coach Art Paddy learns how good the West Bloomfield basketball team really is.

The Lakers moved out of the Wayne-Oakland League to make Waterford's debut an unsuccessful one last night, 59-49. It was the toughest foe the West Bloomfield squad had met this season and the Lakers will return to W-O loop play Friday night against what could be an even tougher adversary, Northville.

Earlier, the Lakers had posted successive easy triumphs, 72-37 and 57-25, against Clarenceville and Brighton, respectively, to open their league campaign. Neither game put the Green and White under much pressure.

Last night's contest wasn't as close as the score might indicate. After a slow beginning, the winners jumped into a four-point lead and built it as high as 12 points twice in the opening half and led by nine at halftime. Their quick-moving offense repeatedly set up easy baskets in close.

JITTERY

The Waterford squad apparently suffered from opening night jitters. It showed hustle, rebounding and good play execution in the and good play execution in the opening minutes but couldn't score with any consistency.

Coach Gus Eichhorn watched the Skippers take at least four clear shots at the hoop in vain before the visitors could grab the basketball for an offensive maneuver.

After West Bloomfield mounted a 3-0 margin, the Skippers took a 4-3 lead on a short hooker by Bob Readler. Dan Armistead's bucket returned the Lakers to the lead and they never trailed thereafter.

In the second half, the winners' top margin was 58-38 after a six-point spurt evenly divided by Bill Eliason and Dan Grieg. The 6-4 Readler and Rick Russ then sparked a nine-point burst by the Skippers in the closing minutes of the game against the winners' first unit that helped reduce the deficit considerably at the final horn.

Readler topped all scorers with 15 points, including seven of nine from the free throw line. Russ supported him with 11 counters. West Bloomfield displayed a balanced attack with Greig (14), Armistead (13), Eliason (12) and Charlie Robison (10) in twin figures.

The home team did show enough talent to tab it as one to watch in the Inter-Lakes League race. If Eichhorn can convince the Skippers that they should move themselves and the ball considerably more around the court, then any loop contender will have to deal with them before establishing itself in the race.

A better indication of Waterford's relative strength in the conference may be forthcoming Friday night when it travels to Farmington for the league opener. The Falcons are expected to be top contenders in the race.

Fitzgerald Swimmers Swamp Dearborn Team

Fitzgerald boiled past Dearborn Edsel Ford last night, taking seven of 11 events, to post their second swimming victory in three starts, 61-44.

Three Spartan varsity records were broken in the process.

Sophomore Dave Gagnon finished the individual medley in 2:25.0 while teammates Marvin Petty, Ron Seibert, Dan Robertson and Gary Dallas took honors in the 200-yard medley relay.

Butterflier Dan Robertson set the other varsity mark in :59.7.

The only double winner for the night was Fitzgerald's freestyle artist Bill Anderson who took both the 50 and 100 events.

Four Lions Picked

Packers Dominate All-NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay already has locked up 10 positions on the 22-man National Football League All - Star team selected for the Associated Press although the Packers still have not clinched the western conference title.

★ ★ ★

The New York Giants, who meet the western winners for the league championship Dec. 30 at Yankee Stadium, put four men on the club selected by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Detroit, trailing the Packers by one game with one to play, also placed four men on the team. Baltimore had two and Washington and Dallas each had one place.

Green Bay's powerhouse, which leads the league in scoring and also has allowed the fewest points wound up with fullback Jim Taylor, tight end Ron Kramer, tackle Forrest Gregg, guard Jerry Kramer and center Jim Ringo from its offensive unit on the All-Star team. The Packers, defensive group contributed end Willie Davis, tackle Henry Jordan, linebackers Dan Currie and Bill Forester and corner back Herb Adderley.

Y. A. Tittle, the Giants' "bald eagle" quarterback and Del Shofner, his favorite passing target, made the offensive team along with the big Rosey Brown at tackle. Jimmy Patton, veteran safety man, was named on defense.

LED BY BROWN

As befits a club that leads the league on defense, Detroit placed four men on that unit, led by 296-pound Roger Brown at tackle, middle linebacker Joe Schmidt, corner back Dick (Night Train) Lane and safety Yale Lary.

Jim Parker of Baltimore, used both at guard and tackle, was picked at guard.

Detroit's Alex Karras was a close runner-up to Jordan for the other tackle job and New York's Jim Katcavage drew powerful support for defensive end. Corner back Erich Barnes of the Giants and safety Willie Wood of Green Bay also received strong backing. All won jobs on the second team which New York had five places and Green Bay four.

Down Oxford, 64-38

Wolves Win Easily

By DICK POINTON

A group of loyal Clarkston and Oxford students forfeited a couple of hours of homework last night to visit the Wolves' gym while their respective cage teams squared off.

The Oxford fans went home disappointed, their team losing, 64-38.

It wasn't much of a contest for either team.

The Wolves outclassed their visitors in every department and maintained a substantial lead the entire contest.

Jumping to an early first quarter lead, 15-7 and utilizing the remainder of the 2nd quarter to extend the lead to 13 points, Clarkston had the contest won at the half, 31-18.

The hosts exhibited a good display of teamwork and, coupled with the sure shooting of Ken Misken, waltzed through the second half and the visitors' defense to double the score, 43-23, with 3:36 left in the third quarter.

Misken bucketed seven from the floor and made two of two tries from the line to take high point honors with 16.

Teammate Dan Craven was the only other player on either team with double figures with 13, eight of them in the third period.

RAGGED SHOOTING

Despite 7-foot center Dan Marlowe the Wildcats were noticeably weak under the baskets and their overall shooting was a little ragged.

Trailing 46-25 going in the third quarter the Wildcats managed to break a four minute scoring famine when six-foot senior forward Dan Hoover bounced one through the hoop.

When the teams returned for the final eight minutes Marlowe, who had been on the bench since the middle of the second period, returned to action and tipped in an errant shot by teammate Russ Cork.

He followed with three free throws after Bob Jennings of the hosts and Dan VanVleet traded two-pointers making the score 54-30 with 3:25 to play.

★ ★ ★

The big lead held for the hosts and baskets by Gary Bass and Jennings in the final minutes clinched the affair.

Hoover was high man for Oxford with nine. Marlowe was next with eight.

Wolves' mentor Dominic Mauti emptied the bench early in the third quarter.

Emmanuel, Romeo Lose

Clintondale and Utica rolled over Emmanuel Christian and Romeo, 70-37 and 81-55 in that order last night.

It was Utica's debut on the hardwood and quite a job for Romeo, the 67-58 winner of its own opener Friday against Rochester.

Emmanuel, meanwhile, now the victim of three consecutive defeats in as many starts, couldn't contain a Clintondale attack spearheaded by Harry Davis who tallied 24, Murdock Williams' 17 and Tom Hicks with 10.

The hosting Lancers saw Ralph Wingate almost match Davis' total garnering 23 on 10 field goals and 3 free throws.

Wingate's teammate Ron Jackson accounted for 10 in the rout and Jim Gillespie completed the Emmanuel scoring with four.

The Bulldogs had nine players in the scoring column but lacked the scoring strength that enabled Jim Moshenke of the winners to sink 24.

Romeo guard Tim Quinn was the only cager in the double scoring with 12.

BOWLING

Outside the Bowlerama competition and some classic league action, one of the more notable bowling local items over the weekend was an excellent 681 actual by Bill Arnold in the Twilight League at 300 Bowl.

Arnold's series included games of 253 and 237.

Earlier in the week the Shelby-Utica All Star Classic at Shelby Lanes had a 629 series by Harold Deichelbor (206-233). Ron Moore and Rick Ardoin bowled 610 series with Moore having a 213-208 combination. Ardoin included 224 and 205 in his series.

RACE TIED

Mary Ann Gabriel rolled a 218 actual (high for the season) at Airway in the Thursday Nite Ladies League. The league is enjoying a close race for the top position with B & W Controller Corporation being tied with Larry's Hi-Lows.

The Three Crooks continue their devilish antics in the Airway Angels loop. Last Wednesday morning they teamed up for a 1945 team series with handicap for the top mark of the season.

Two of the Crooks were particularly adept at upsetting the pins. Vi Roise scored a 576 actual (693 with handicap), including a 209 actual; while Arlene Schurr fired 206-658 actuals (also 693 with handicap).

★ ★ ★

The Pin Busters' leading scorer was Evelyn Bertram who rolled a 200 actual.

Cele Smith scored a 205-555 actual combination in the Airway Rockettes League last week. Gerry McGregor fired a 518 series and Phyllis Fangel scored with a 204 game.

Pontiac Motor Transmission's lead is now 16 games in the league. In another Airway league last week, Four Towns Methodist Church's keglers are led by the Twisters with the Sidewinders in the runnerup slot. Dick Wagner had the high game last week with a 201 in the mixed loop.

The Elks Ladies' Thursday Night Bowling League has Wiggs Colony Shop on top by seven points. None of the ladies last week approached Gertie White's 212 and Geneva Bradley's 500 season marks, Eleanor Barnes, however, did pick up the 6-7-10 split.

At Hilltop Lanes, Pet Land still trails Pixley's in the battle for first place. Four and a half points separate the two teams. Vi Renius rolled 208-573 to pace last Thursday's action.

At 300 Bowl, Midtown Shop leads the Pontiac Motor Inter-office Bowling League by three games. Lyons Sunoco Service in second place has a team average of 876, only 16 pins below the leaders. A 2956 team series with handicap by Reliability led the field recently.

★ ★ ★

In the Lutheran Mixed league at Airway, Ardell Schmidgall led the week's scoring with 556 series and Paul Karas with 204 game; and in the Airway Father & Son League, young Rocky Searle with a 112 average bowled a 112 triplicate last Sunday.

Saturday's high in the Montcalm Junior Bowling League was Ted Rabaja with 540 and Russ Adams with 529. In the Cooley Lanes Majorettes' league Estelle Millen had an all-spare game of 171 and Bette Dorreel received a triplicate award.

Tight Scores in City Play

Two single point decisions and a six-point win highlighted play in the city recreational basketball leagues last night.

★ ★ ★

The Bachelor's Club's fourth quarter rally fell short in the adult league's round robin tournament and Michigan Bell made off with a 41-40 triumph. Gary Holtz's 19 points gave McDonald's Drive-in a big push toward its 56-50 win over UAW 594.

Columbia Baptist, meanwhile, dropped its second straight decision this week after two opening triumphs when Westside Recreation pinned a 57-24 beating on the churchmen. George Ratledge had 15 for the losers.

★ ★ ★

A 23-point performance by Jan Blacher enabled The Spartans to nip New Hope 52-51, and Willie Harsten duplicated that feat for Jo Jo's in a 75-36 shellacking of Neopolitan during Class D play last night.

In Waterford cage action tonight at Pierce Junior High, Drayton Inn will play Lakeland Pharmacy at 7:15 and Hoyt Realty will clash with A & W at 8:30.

Army-Free Baylor on Scoring Spree

NEW YORK (AP) — For Elgin Baylor, the great Los Angeles Laker star, obviously the best thing about being in the Army is getting out.

★ ★ ★

"It's great to be back playing full time," Baylor said, after he poured in 42 points and led the Lakers to a 124-121 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in a National Basketball Association doubleheader here Tuesday night.

In the second game, the New York Knicks won their fourth straight — for the first time in two seasons — as they led almost all the way in trimming the Boston Celtics 95-87.

★ ★ ★

With Wilt Chamberlain pumping in 61 points, the San Francisco Warriors ended their losing string at 11 games with a 136-124 victory over Syracuse.

Imlay City Eyes Capac After Whipping Almont

Imlay City warmed up for its big battle with Capac Tuesday by crushing Almont 67-31 last night.

The Spartans, now 3-0, led 36-14 at the half.

George Lang with 15, Eddie Lomerson with 14 and Tom Gibbard with 12 led Imlay. Dave Yennier hit 13 for Almont. (0-3).

Cranbrook Pins Kimball

PNH Wrestlers Top Berkley

It's one down and four to go in the Inter-Lakes for the Pontiac Northern wrestlers, defending I-L champs, after defeating Berkley on the Bears' mats last night, 39-10.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook, meanwhile, was taking advantage of another home team at Royal Oak Kimball and emerged the 24-20 victor of a hard fought meet.

The Huskies outpointed the Bears early in the meet, Dennis Mills garnering a five point decision from his Berkley opponent followed by two PN pins at 103 and 112 by Gary Cobb and Skip McIlroy.

It wasn't until four events later that Berkley managed to get into the scoring column, Jim Barazinni decisioning Joe White 5-0.

A draw between Dennis Hubble of the visiting red and white team and Mike Allen resulted in a 28-5 score entering the final three weight groups.

The Bears managed a pin in the 165 class John Green of the Huskies the victim.

TWO PINS

Northern returned with two consecutive pins in the 180 and heavyweight, Jim Haun and Roger Coleman taking advantage of their hosts in times of 1:58 and 1:45 respectively.

The Cranbrook Cranes trailed 17-0 after the first five events but John Goodman with a pin, Rick Stolorow taking a decision plus Bill Stroud holding his opponent's shoulders to the floor for the count saw the Cranes catch up.

Another pin by Cranbrook's Jim Carr at 154 put the Cranes ahead 18-17.

John Thinstad and Tom Barlow completed the visitors' scoring at 165 and 180.

Red Sox Trade Green, Stallard to N.Y. Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The new-look Boston Red Sox hierarchy has stepped into the center of baseball's bustling trade mart again and peddled a pair of players who apparently fell into disfavor at Beantown — infielder Pumpsie Green and pitcher Tracy Stallard.

★ ★ ★

Green, the first Negro to play for the Red Sox, and Stallard, the man on the mound when Roger Maris hit home run No. 61 in 1961, were sent to the New York Mets Tuesday in a 3-for-1 trade that brought utilityman Felix Mantilla to Boston.

The Red Sox also will deliver a third player — a minor leaguer — to the Mets at a later date.

Snow, W. Michigan Fail to Defeat Irish

From Our News Wires

Even the weather couldn't keep Notre Dame from winning at home.

The unbeaten Irish overcame heavy snow in South Bend and Western Michigan, 82-68, to record their fifth victory last night.

★ ★ ★

Bud Acton of Troy poured in 32 points to lead Alma past Calvin, 74-59, in a MIAA game; and Assumption ran is record to 5-1 with an 86-63 decision over Hillsdale.

Sophomore center Walt Sahm was an unbeatable combination for Notre Dame, grabbing 26 rebounds and pumping in 27 points.

The 6-foot-9 Sahm controlled both backboards and blanked the Broncos' center, 6-6 Dennis Griffin in the point column.

Manny Newsome led the way for Western with 26 points.

A 28-inch snowfall limited the crowd to 2,000, mostly students, and the game was delayed 10 minutes by the late arrival of game officials.

Joe Green and Tom Henderson sparked Assumption, leader at halftime, 37-32, with 14 points apiece.

Charlie Works netted 16 for the Dales.

NO PROBLEM

Jeff (Pork Chop) Mullins and Jay Bird Buckley provided enough ammunition to overcome a bad night by Art Heyman, who was limited to 13 points as second-ranked Duke rapped Vanderbilt, 90-70.

Mullins wound up with 22 points and the 6-10 Buckley finished with 21. Vandy sophomore Roger Schurig took scoring honors with 30 points.

Only one other top ten team was in action. Sixth-ranked West Virginia, led by peppery Jim McCormick, outclassed Richmond 78-59 in a Southern Conference game.

Elsewhere on the conference scene, North Carolina State used a jump shot by John Key with two seconds remaining in overtime for a 76-74 decision over Maryland, and Vermont defeated New Hampshire 78-33 in a Yankee Conference clash.

★ ★ ★

West Virginia had to get along without leading scorer Rod Thorn, who sprained an ankle in last Saturday's loss to Ohio State. McCormick was the top point-maker with 16 points.

The key to the North Carolina State triumph over the Terrapins was Key, whose only successful shot was the final basket, and Larry Larkin, a sophomore whose college career was resumed after five years in the armed forces. Larkin led the Wolfpack with 23 points. Jerry Greenspan tallied 30 for Maryland, which lost its 12th in a row.

Merchants Win 2-0

Goals by Bob Wilson and Hugh Remley gave Rochester Merchants a 2-0 victory over Platters in the Detroit Senior B. Hockey League last night. Goalie Bob Chullar turned away 19 shots as the Merchants evened their league mark at 2-2.

Park Users Endorse Michigan's Facilities

LANSING (AP) — The people who used Michigan's state parks in 1962 either were very pleased with them or too polite to admit otherwise.

This is the general impression left by a quick riffle through the 35-page compilation of answers to the questionnaire supplied to visitors in 35 state parks by the House interim committee on parks and public recreation.

Overwhelmingly, the answers in this outdoor version of "Twenty Questions" show Michigan's parks are held in high regard by their users, whether they be Michigan citizens or non-residents.

Witness what was in some ways the most important single response: 96 per cent of the non-residents said they'd like to come back, while only two per cent said they wouldn't and another two per cent did not answer.

And this one, also of some special significance:

★ ★ ★

"If you have traveled and stayed in parks in states other than Michigan, name one or more, and rate according to preference, including Michigan."

FIRST PLACE

Michigan's parks were rated best by 480, or 72 per cent, of the 649 persons who answered the questions. For the record, 86 placed Michigan parks second, 40 placed them third, 43 rated them fourth, and 486 didn't attempt to compare.

The House Committee distributed 2,000 of these questionnaires in the parks and got back 1,117, which is not a bad average when dealing with persons more concerned with enjoying themselves than filling out forms.

The results now go into the mill and should emerge, said Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, the committee chairman, in the form of proposed legislation during the 1963 session.

★ ★ ★

A group of 50 recreation and conservation specialists will study the answers and return recommendations to a committee meeting the week of Dec. 17. Their findings will be used as legislative guidelines.

★ ★ ★

Van Til said the quiz attempted to define the attitudes of park users toward facilities provided, while pinning down such data as distances traveled, most popular types of attractions, and economic impact on the surrounding area and the state.

★ ★ ★

"We also hope to suggest additional methods of financing an expansion of the park system — if it is determined the system should be expanded — and outline areas of potential use," he said.

The questions were only 20 in number but they covered virtually every aspect of park use, ranging from what the visitor believed to be the primary purpose of state parks — recreational, scenic or historic — to what he does on rainy days.

★ ★ ★

(The rainy day results, incidentally, showed that 167 read, 226 go sight-seeing, 191 play indoor games, 161 loaf, and 171 do something "other.")

GOOD FACILITIES

Michigan's parks have sanitation facilities rated thusly by the questionnaire: excellent, 574; good, 380; fair, 127; poor, 28; no answer, 8.

The parks are overwhelmingly considered to be recreational (959) rather than scenic (137) or historic (10).

Facilities (419) was given as the chief reason why visitors went to a certain park, well ahead of such choices as friends (94), closeness (221) area interest (83) or the vague - but - necessary "other" (182).

★ ★ ★

At the same time, facilities needing to be expanded were broken down thusly: toilet and bathhouse (606), camp sites (392), camp stoves (367), trailer sites (264), parking spaces (142), and picnic tables (137).

County 'Missing Boat' on Potential Tourists

By DON VOGEL

A salesman from Cincinnati sat at a drug store soda fountain in Pontiac the other day carefully nursing a cup of coffee.

★ ★ ★

"You have the most unpredictable weather I've ever seen," he commented between sips. On thing led to another and finally he said:

"You people are living in a tourists paradise and don't know it.

"Oakland County was just another spot on the Michigan map when I was assigned to cover this area. I like to hunt and fish, and carry my equipment with me wherever I go.

"I was in Arkansas and they have everything the outdoorsman could want. When the company said come to Oakland County, I looked it up on the map, saw how close it was to Detroit and the large population, I almost left my tackle at home, figuring there would be nothing here but people.

"I was wrong, very wrong."

WHAT MAPS DON'T SHOW

"The big maps don't show all the lakes and state-owned land. My business takes me all around the county and it didn't take me long to discover that I could hunt and fish with good success.

"It isn't as good as Arkansas or some other places I've been, but I'm very pleased with your recreational facilities.

"When I'm back home, I talk about Oakland County and people listen to me in amazement. They can't understand how a county with three-quarters of a million people can have so much to offer from a recreational standpoint.

"It's true the county is flooded by people out of Detroit on summer weekends, but during the week there is more than enough room and enough things to do for everyone.

"The businessmen around here are missing the boat when they don't capitalize on the potential tourist trade that could be routed here."

★ ★ ★

And so it goes.

The county can offer camping, hiking, bird watching, swimming, boating, shooting, golf, tennis, roller and ice skating, bowling, industrial and educational tours, hunting, fishing, winter and summer skiing.

Oakland County has something for everyone.

It has everything to handle an increase in tourism. There are sufficient motels, hotels, tourists rooms and other accommodations.

All that is needed is promotion.

There is very little outside promotion for Oakland County. The Southeast Michigan Tourist Council is mainly responsible for any advertisements for this area.

Many people—in Michigan well as other states—who know—of Oakland County, feel that it is part of the Detroit metropolitan complex, bursting with people straining to get north "away from it all."

The southern part of the county, where most of the population is found, falls into this category. The remainder of the county is different.

The available land and recreational facilities rival those in Northern Michigan. In many instances, Oakland County has more to offer.

LEFT IN THE DARK

People in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Genesee Counties know this. But vacationers and weekend tourists from Southern Michigan and other states have been left in the dark.

The tourist trade ranks very high in Michigan business. Much of it is through "word of mouth" advertising rather than by promotion. Michigan is very weak in pushing its tourist attractions.

Oakland County isn't going to get much help from the state level as far as tourism is concerned. The promotion will have to come from within the county.

This has to be done soon or some other area with much less to offer will be making the money that could very easily be spent in this county.

BOXED CUTIES—This is a typical promotional picture from Florida. The attached cut lines read: These two Florida cuties, Beth Lanche and Clair Parks from Cyprus Gardens, are out to catch their big one using a giant-sized waxed cardboard carton for a fishing boat, but they don't seem to mind this new type of boat when the fishing is good and the water is calm on Lake Eloise.

State Ranks Low in Tourist Push

Tourism is considered a leading industry in Michigan — varying, depending on the source, from second to third or fourth in rank.

★ ★ ★

The cost of promoting this business, however, appears relatively low as compared to other states. Tourist interests are not happy with the appropriations from the state to promote their business, but these are the facts.

During the 1961-62 fiscal year —the last complete period on which figures are available for most states, Michigan fell well in the middle of the states on expenditures for vacation travel promotion.

The Michigan legislature appropriated $350,000 for tourism promotion, $120,000 of which was to be divided equally among the four state tourist associations for local use.

A national publishing company report shows that during the same period Florida, Hawaii and Pennsylvania spent well above that appropriated by most other states.

The three leaders appropriated $2.4 million, $1.6 million and $900,000, respectively, for tourist promotion efforts.

SPEND $500,000

Below these in rank were Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana and New York — lumped together with spending programs between $500,000 and $700,000 for the year.

Eight states fell into the grouping with Michigan, at the $300,000 level.

Of 45 states reporting the remaining ranked downward from $300,000 to the low of $1,500 spent in Indiana and a two-year appropriation of $25,000 provided by Nebraska.

Recreation Area for St. Clair

Urges 20 Man-Made Islands for Lake

LANSING (UPI) — The State Conservation Department, hard pressed to find new recreational lands in the metropolitan Detroit area, has been urged to consider building 20 islands across Lake St. Clair for use not only as a state park but also as possible sites for a world's fair, olympiad or international trade exhibition.

★ ★ ★

The man - made islands, which stretch from Windmill Pointe near the Detroit River to Harsen's Island at the mouth of the St. Clair River are the dream of Paul Lutzeier, press aide to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

In a report he has drafted for presentation to the Conservation Department Lutzeier claimed "public access to the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers is diminishing daily as an exploding population utilizes the few remaining waterfront areas for industrial, commercial and housing needs.

"Some way must be found to locate and retain for public purposes the additional lands which will be needed to provide recreational opportunities for the tens of millions of people who will live within 50 miles of Lake St. Clair in the shorter-work-week decade we are now entering."

Lutzeier then proposed construction of the chain of islands as "one dramatic yet relatively inexpensive solution for this pressing problem."

BRIDGE WORK

He said the islands could be connected to the mainland and to each other by a series of bridges and causeways which would be "a handy and picturesque communications link between metropolitan Detroit and the residents of growing St. Clair River communities who now must make the big detour around Anchor Bay to reach downtown Detroit."

★ ★ ★

The report also said, "One of the most attractive aspects of this proposal is that it need not be done as a crash overnight program. If started at once, an island could be created each year for the next 20 years."

★ ★ ★

Lutzeier said the relative shallowness of Lake St. Clair — much of the lake's depth ranges between 2 and 12 feet—would help reduce the cost of building the islands. He suggested material periodically dredged from the shipping channel in the lake and industrial waste from the metropolitan area could be used as raw materials for the islands.

Record Black Bear Shot in Adirondacks

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — A 650-pound black bear, possibly the largest ever killed in North America, was shot by a professional guide in the Adirondack mountains, the Conservation Department disclosed yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Robert Avery, a guide and hotel owner at Arietta, brought down the huge bruin with a single shot. Conservation officials, viewing the 562-pound dressed bulk of the animal, said it was the largest black bear killed since they had been keeping records.

The animal measured one inch under six feet from tip of nose to tip of tail, officials said. It took Avery two days to drag the carcass 4.5 miles out of the wilderness. He reported seeing tracks made by even larger bears.

E. Detroit, L'Anse Lose

Clawson Keeps Rolling

Clawson rolled to its fourth victory last night, 64-45, over outmanned Warren Lincoln.

★ ★ ★

Grosse Pointe made East Detroit its fourth victim, 77-57, and Fraser rocked L'Anse Creuse, 65-52.

The unbeaten Trojans held Lincoln to only one field goal as they sped to a 29-14 halftime lead. John Miller was high for the winners with 20 points.

Tom McArthur hit 11 points and collected 18 rebounds and Bud Trexler added 12 points to a sharp playmaking performance. Paul Dadag led winless Lincoln with 14.

Grosse Pointe raced to a 50-26 halftime lead and coasted home. Bob Hadley and Gary Spade each scored 12 and Mark Lonesk and Vic Dahooge each 11 for the Blue Devils.

★ ★ ★

Glen Brandt with 18 and Dick Williamson with 17 topped East Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Ed Stivers scored 25 points, nine on field goals, but it wasn't enough to keep L'Anse Creuse from losing its third game in four starts. Dan Woack notched 21 for Fraser.

Tales of Birds 'n' Bees Can Be Buzzin'

BY DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — My wife pointed out the other evening that one of our daughters is nearing the age when she should be told about "the birds and the bees."

★ ★ ★

"Okay," I said. "You tell her about the birds and I'll tell her about the bees."

WEST

I had a reason for proposing this arrangement. That very day I had been reading a report on bees prepared for the Smithsonian Institute by James E. Hambleton.

I don't know whether Hambleton has any children, but he is a whiz when it comes to bees. For the first time since I became a parent, I feel qualified to discuss this subject with my offspring.

★ ★ ★

So climb upon my knee, dollink, and your wise old father will give you the scoop.

When we think of the bee we ordinarily think of it in terms of honey and wax, although some of us may think of it in terms of getting stung.

Actually, making honey and wax and stinging people is a relatively minor part of a bee's job. What makes the bee important is his role in pollination.

Where pollination is concerned, he is the king bee. It might even be said that he is the bee's knees.

According to Hambleton, there are about 50 crops in this country that require insect pollination. Insect pollination is necessary or desirabe for such vegetables as carrots, onions, cabbage, cauliflower and brussel sprouts.

★ ★ ★

At one time, there were enough native insects around to take care of this. But farming operations have greatly expanded while the pollination insect population has declined.

As things now shape up, the bee is about all that stands between some crops and extinction. Bees get credit for an estimated 80 per cent of all pollination.

Or, it might be said they are to blame for 80 per cent of the pollinating, depending on how you feel about brussel sprouts.

At any rate, Hambleton estimates their contribution to agriculture at more than $500 million a year, not counting what they bring in by way of honey, wax and insect bite lotions.

★ ★ ★

Until I read Hambleton's report, I did not realize that the bee was so valuable. I can understand now why it is important to tell out children about them.

I just hope my wife does as well with the birds.

Supreme Court OKs Swainson's Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Michigan's outgoing Gov. John B. Swainson yesterday was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., appeared as Swainson's sponsor in the brief proceedings.

Swainson also planned to confer later in the day with Pentagon officials about the effect in his state of the National Guard's recently announced reorganization.

No More Palace Debs

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Queen Louise has decided to abolish court introductions of debutantes beginning next month, a palace spokesman said yesterday.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

When you hold two five-card suits and your partner raises one of them your hand becomes much stronger than its actual high card holding indicates. But if you don't know how to handle your two-suiter in the play you won't get even full value out of it.

JACOBY

The general rule is not to play trumps until after you have ruffed out losers in your side suit.

South failed to follow this principle in a rubber bridge game in Fort Worth and the result was a lost game.

He followed suit on the first two diamond leads and ruffed the third. Then he drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the ace and king of hearts, ruffed a heart and made a grimace when East failed to follow. He went into a huddle, useless because it was too late to do anything about making the hand. Finally he led a club from dummy.

West won the trick, led his last trump whereupon South had to lose a heart trick.

If South had done this thinking after ruffing the diamond he would have seen that he could not afford the luxury of drawing trumps but could have made the hand by going right after the heart suit.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Many past efforts can now be made to bear fruit. Be ready to accept added responsibility. Remain alert for greater opportunity, profit. Be sure you have solid facts to back statements.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Changes occur in YOUR FAVOR. Do not resist improvement. Avoid adhering to status quo. Take a chance on your own ability. Gemini and Virgo individuals are on your side.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Emphasize original approach. Money problems soon overcome. But you must take initiative. Others may not have confidence because they do not perceive potential. Act on your own.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Take care in expressing yourself through second person. Others may misquote you today. Decide upon program and carry it out. Cycle continues high. Realize you are on "winning" side!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Insist on certain amount of PRIVACY. Review past achievements. Look to future possibilities. Strive for new ways of self-expression. Be versatile. Keep mind and heart open.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Accept opportunity to make new friends. Turn on Virgo charm. Share knowledge, hobbies. Encourage stimulating conversation. Break away from routine. Relax. Take step to insure FUTURE HAPPINESS.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Accept certain realities. Outline constructive program aimed at achieving ambitions. Refuse to be sidetracked. Opportunity to impress one in authority arises. Take advantage of it!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Good Moon aspect today highlights publishing, religion. Gain strength through aid of loved ones. Put across ideas with sincerity, vitality. Make this a banner day!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): It's time to take stock. Get off by yourself. Sum up present situation. Money-making idea should be put to use. Be practical where marital or business partners are concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Answer mail, make calls to friends who have been ignored due to busy schedule. Emphasize relations with public. Get out of shell. Express views. Read newspaper to keep up with current events.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Persevere. No time to give up. Aid soon forthcoming. Look at funny side of situation. Smile, make friends by avoiding "long face." Goals be optimistic.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Aspirations can be transformed to realities. Make basic changes. Insist on payment for services rendered. Maintain dignity. Speak up to one in authority. Be gracious, but determined.

★

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are able to express ideas in form of stories, parables. Fine for writing, publishing. Added responsibility, more income indicated.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Policies are set. Position of nations, individuals become more "fixed." Mental level of CAPRICORNS: Essential that you have ALL facts at hand. This could lead to better things in near future.

Choose Industrialist to Head Auto Club

DETROIT (AP)—The board of directors of the Automobile Club of Michigan re-elected Detroit industrialist and civic leader Mervyn G. Gaskin to the post of club president yesterday.

Gaskin predicted the auto club will continue to grow in the coming year and added that the club has already scheduled the opening of three new offices within the next few months.

He said additional offices are in the planning stage.

Castro's End—Like His Beginning—Must Be Violent

By PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

Guantanamo is emerging slowly from its womanless, wifeless state. The simple return of domesticity seems to establish that the Cuban crisis is not a crisis anymore.

As wives rejoined husbands on the big naval base, UPI correspondent John Goldsmith reported this burst of affection from hospital technician Edwin C. Adams, who but for a turn of events might have been NEWSOM engaged in far less pleasurable pursuits. Said Adams:

"We really missed those long haired mess cooks."

Castro's Cuba also seemed to be returning to normal.

Scarcely had the last Russian bomber departed in its crate from Cuban shores than the government set about confiscating more businesses and returning to its normal denunciations of the United States.

★ ★ ★

If this seems like a light approach to a most serious problem, it is not intended so.

Rather it is a sigh of relief echoing in many another quarter that the world has managed to emerge relatively unscathed from what could have been its first, and perhaps its last, nuclear war.

The fact that a firm hand, plus diplomacy, had turned an untenable situation into one of some advantage to the United States did not, however, provide a total solution nor the answer to several remaining important questions.

WHAT ABOUT FIDEL?

One of the most intriguing of these is, what now for Fidel Castro?

If the Soviet Union simply used the bearded leader as a means for placing their missiles and bombers on Cuban bases and thereby gaining a military advantage over the United States, Castro's usefulness to them now would seem to be considerably reduced.

Despite the jovial appearance of Soviet First Deputy Anastas Mikoyan on his departure for Moscow after a 24-day Cuban visit, it also seemed obvious that Castro had proved a hard man to handle, thus further reducing his usefulness.

There is no doubt also that he has been badly hurt in Latin America.

When such a man as Brazil's Leonel Brizola, anti-Yankee governor of Rio Grande Do Sul state, lashes out at hhim for "dishhonoring" the Cuban revolution, it is apparent that the portrait of an idealistic champion of the people has been dimmed considerably.

★ ★ ★

As for the United States, the administration opposes now as it has in the past an invasion of Cuba, both for its high cost in lives and for the effect it would have on other American nations.

But President Kennedy clearly made known an alternative when, in his announcement Oct. 22 of the Cuban quarantine, he told the Cuban people:

". . . Many times in the past the Cuban people have risen to throw out tyrants who destroyed their liberty. And I have no doubt that most Cubans today look forward to the time when they will be truly free . . . ."

Altogether, Castro seems more alone now than he ever was, with more people having reason to wish he would disappear.

It is possible that he will.

But Castro's own history is one of violence and it seems his end also must be violent.

Whether the end comes from internal revolt or from the outside, the cost still will be high.

Breaking Down Doors to Keep Warmed Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Burglars at Little Rock Air Force Base forced the hinges on a storeroom and took eight fur parkas valued at about $500.

The mercury rose only to 30 degrees Tuesday and the prediction was for zero readings in the state today.

Over a million combine machines and 4,750,000 tractors are used in American farming operations. But an estimated 3.5 million work animals are still maintained.

Mississippi Cost U.S. $406,508

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has put a $406,508 price tag on its use of marshals and lawyers for 46 days during the University of Mississippi desegregation crisis.

The figure, released by the Justice Department, included all department expenses — from travel costs to the price of teargas pellets.

The summary, covering Sept. 15 through Oct. 31, did not include major expense of the operation — the use of federal troops to enforce court orders requiring the admission of Negro James H. Meredith to the previously all-white university.

Two persons were killed and hundreds were injured during rioting which erupted the night of Sept. 30 after Meredith was led onto the campus.

Most of the expense was $292,769 overtime pay and travel expenses for 541 deputy U.S. marshals employed in the operation. These included specially-deputized border patrolmen and Bureau of Prisons personnel.

The overtime pay accounted for $190,715 and travel costs for $102,054, the department said.

Other expenses, it added, included $67,723 for supplies and equipment, $23,469 for communications and $22,547 for miscellaneous items.

Listed among the miscellsneous items was $11,668 for repairs "to vehicles damaged during rioting."

Cuba Nationalizes Cash 'for People'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Scarce merchandise valued at over two million Cuban pesos and cash amounting to $28,000 have been "recovered for the people" through nationalization, Havana Radio said yesterday.

The cache of dollars, said a broadcast heard here, was uncovered at Sagua la Grande in Las Villas Province.

Without prior notice, the government last Dec. 4 decreed nationalization of the last remaining privately owned businesses. This apparently caught proprietors without time to hide their cash hoards. Many of them are being held for trial, Havana Radio has reported.

Studebaker Makes Glass Fiber Bodies

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker has started pilot production of glass fiber bodies for its Avanti sports model at the company's main assembly plant.

Currently the bodies are assembled by Molded Fiber Glass Co. at Ashtabula, Ohio.

Studebaker hopes to have the South Bend assembly under way by the end of January with production running 25 bodies per day by the end of February.

The Ohio plant, which fabricates as well as assembles the bodies, now produces 25 daily. Production would continue in Ashtabula.

Studebaker said it has 2,500 back orders for the car.

Friendly Police Dog Stolen From Pound

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A police department dog has been stolen.

Police reported that Duke, a 9-month-old German shepherd, was taken from the city dog pound where he was kept as a canine corps replacement.

They said Duke is very friendly.

Key Stocks Advance

Market Scores Sharp Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a fairly sharp gain in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks scored gains of fractions to more than a point.

Steels, motors, oils, electrical equipments, mail order-retails, electronics, and utilities were among the gainers.

The list was mixed at the start but began to show selective improvement almost immediately. The buying move won further support and prices moved upward steadily without any hullabaloo.

Brokers said the market was still largely in the hands of professionals as the newspaper strike in New York has taken away financial news from many smaller investors.

BULLISH BROADCAST

A bullish broadcast late last night was cited as a possible factor in the rise. The thought expressed was that the list had resisted profit taking so well yesterday that the basis seemed to be laid for a fresh advance.

Except for Studebaker, which was unchanged, the auto stocks advanced unanimously. Chrysler rose well over a point and General Motors was up nearly a point. Ford and American Motors were fractional gainers.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted intermediate and long maturities generally 2/32 higher in quiet dealings.

Rails edged upward in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange while industrials slipped small fractions. Utilities were mixed.

County Supervisors to Hear Proposals on Young

Five recommendations aimed at solving the county's problem of inadequate juvenile facilities will be presented tomorrow to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by its juvenile committee.

★ ★ ★

A special meeting has been called by Board Chairman Delos Hamlin to consider the problem and the recommended solution—a children's village.

The idea of a village to handle all children placed in the county's care, including both neglected and problem youngsters, was originated by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

He has called the present overcrowding and mixing of emotionally disturbed children with others at the County Children's Center as a highly explosive situation that can erupt into violence at any moment.

★ ★ ★

The juvenile committee, headed by Oak Park Supervisor Abraham Brickner, will ask the board to approve immediate construction of three youth cottages on the site of a future children's village.

This would solve the immediate problem, while planning continues for future needs, Brickner said.

The initial three units would cost an estimated $515,000.

They would provide space for 70 - 100 youngsters, separating some 40 emotionally disturbed children and generally relieving overcrowded conditions.

PROVIDE FOR 370

The village, for which preliminary plans have been completed, would provide for 370 children.

This is the number of county wards Judge Moore foresees within the next 20 years based on current population trends.

The county presently has 250 children placed in its care, or 70 more than it has adequate space for.

The children's village would cost an estimated $3 million, according to Pontiac architect Harry M. Denyes Jr.

It would contain several cottages, a school, diagnostic and treatment center, nursery, medical care facilities and a central kitchen, all in a campus-like setting.

A general site already has been approved and additional property purchased by the Board of Supervisors for the proposed village.

It lies between the state police post on Telegraph Road and Road Commission buildings at the County Service Center.

Brickner said the committee is recommending to the board:

1. Approval of the exact site within the general area.
2. Appointment of Denyes as architect.
3. Approval of his preliminary plan.
4. Immediate construction of three youth cottages to meet the current "emergency" needs.

Boy Faces Shots After Bite

Want Stray Dog Crackdown

A 9-year-old Pontiac boy faces the prospect of a Christmas holiday spent receiving a series of antirabies shots.

Because of this, the latest of a string of recent dog bite reports on Pontiac's North side, city commissioners last night called for a crackdown on dogs running at large and possibly the hiring of an additional dog warden.

Mark Nasstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nasstrom, 502 E. Mansfield Ave., was bitten by a stray dog as he entered St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 1133 Joslyn Ave., last Sunday morning.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Police have not been able to find the black mongrel with brown face and white paws. The dog had a broken chain around its neck.

Unless it is found soon, Mark will have to undergo the series of shots. Police are appealing to anyone seeing a dog of this description to notify them or the boy's parents immediately so the dog can be kept under surveillance.

Commissioner Loy L. Ledford cited the incident at last night's meeting, adding that recently nine children in that area were bitten by stray dogs on one day.

He and Commissioners Winford E. Bottom and Milton R. Henry agreed that the city's dog warden is overworked and suggested that the possibility of hiring added personnel be investigated.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. also pointed out that "our citizens are very negligent in calling us about stray dogs but refusing to sign a complaint."

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said he would talk with Police Chief Joseph Koren about stepping up enforcement of the city's dog ordinance prohibiting even licensed dogs from running loose.

★ ★ ★

"The problem always seems worse during winter when the dogs tend to stick together in packs," Stierer said.

"The dog warden" he continued, "has already been placed on an overtime basis to get these dogs running at large.

"With the recent reorganization of the police department, establishing a 17-man traffic bureau, it will be difficult to assign another dog warden from existing police personnel.

★ ★ ★

"I only wish we could get more cooperation from the citizens."

To Open Bids on Loan Notes

To Decide Financing of Renewal Project

Bids will be opened at 1 p.m. nevt Tuesday on the sale of $3,518,000 in preliminary loan notes to finance continued operations in Pontiac's first urban renewal project (R20).

The City Commission last night authorized City Manager Robert A. Stierer to notify the winning bidder as soon as bids are tabulated.

This is the fifth such preliminary loan to finance the R20 project.

★ ★ ★

It will be used to retire outstanding loan notes and provide operating funds for the next six months.

City officials also anticipate receiving a federal capital grant of $282,475 and relocation grant of $29,061 in the near future to help retire old notes.

The notes mature every six months. Pontiac's last loan was for $3,597,000.

★ ★ ★

Community National Bank has submitted the low bid on all four previous sales of preliminary loan notes.

Sentenced to 60 Days for Robbery in Pontiac

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem yesterday sentenced Edward Lucas, 18, of 256 Rockwell St., to 60 days and three years' probation on unarmed robbery charge.

Lucas, who pleaded guilty Nov. 27, was accused of being one of three men who took $70 while wielding a straight razor from an attendant at the Progressive Oil Co. station at 477 S. Saginaw St. on June 19.

GEORGE T. PAPPAS

Lodge to Install Officers Friday

Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F&AM, will install George T. Pappas of 143 W. Howard St., as its worshipful master Friday at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, 22½ E. Lawrence St.

Other officers to be installed are Leland Dennis, senior warden; Charles Moore, junior warden; Wayne E. Scott, secretary; Francis Mapley, treasurer; and Uno Skyttia, chaplain.

Also assuming new offices will be Eldean Chew, senior deacon; Richard Crawley, junior deacon; Earl Hudnell, tiler; and Fred Cleland, marshal.

Walter Shelton, Sam Bland, Harold Palasian and Robert Smelser are the new stewards.

Hold Theft Suspect on West Coast

A Livonia pharmacist, sought by police for four months after the loss of nearly $3,000 from drugstores in Walled Lake and Northville, was being held today by California authorities.

Police said 27-year-old David H. Leach is accused of taking the money Aug. 11 and fleeing the state, leaving his then-pregnant wife and five children in Michigan.

Walled Lake police are holding a grand larceny warrant against Leach, charging he stole $2,500 from Anderson's Pharmacy, 1122 W. Maple Road, Walled Lake.

He has been arrested by FBI agents in Long Beach, Calif., on a warrant for interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

Detective Sgt. Harry Maur of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said Leach also is to be questioned concerning a shortage of some $400 from a Northville drugstore.

Officers said Leach left notes at the two stores where he was employed, saying he took the money and asking that the owners not tell anyone about it.

In the notes, Leach said his need for the money was "a matter of life or death."

Maur said Leach has told FBI agents the money was to pay gambling debts which he incurred on a visit to Las Vegas, Nev.

Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker was awaiting word today on whether Leach will waive extradition in California.

Decker expects to bring him back to Michigan.

School Unit to Get Results of Employe Insurance Poll

Results of an employe opinion poll on health insurance will be presented to the Pontiac Board of Education at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at 40 Paterson St.

The questionnaire centered around employes' preferred type of health insurance assistance which might be provided by the school district.

No such assistance is planned immediately by the board. The questionnaire was circulated to provide information on such assistance which has been demanded for the past several years by two employe unions, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

The unions are Local 719 of the State, County and Municipal Employes Union, AFL-CIO, and the United Skilled Maintenance Trades Union, a local unaffiliated group.

The groups encompass maintenance and custodial employes.

On past occasions, board reaction was that the demands could not be granted for one employe group without opening the door to similar demands by the other employes.

Whitmer predicted there would be "a little discussion" by the board on the results tomorrow. However, no action is expected to be taken at that time, he added.

"This matter is really a spring decision," he said. Spring is when the board views its budget for the coming year and hears employes' demands.

PLANS FOR ADDITION

At the same meeting, Asst. Supt. Richard C. Fell will present to the board preliminary plans for an addition to Irving Elementary School.

Assistant Supt. William J. Lacy will give an oral progress report on an experimental program for improving reading ability of students in seven elementary schools.

The plan was started this fall in Bagley, Bethune, Central, Franklin, McConnell, Whittier and Wilson schools.

Lacy also will ask the board to set aside five separate days this January, February and March when pupils at the school will be dismissed between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. to permit teachers to attend training sessions for reading teaching.

Certified Personnel Director Lewis A. Crew will present a report by the Michigan Personnel Service on re-classification of 13 secretarial and clerical positions.

A reassignment of administrative responsibilities last June brought about a realignment of secretarial responsibilities.

Youth Bound Over on Break-In Charge

DeWayne Weaver, 16, of 3082 Norcott St., Keego Harbor, was bound over to Circuit court yesterday by Waterford Township Justice John E. McGrath, following a preliminary examination on a breaking and entering charge.

Weaver, charged with the Nov. 21 daytime breakin at Boles Service Station, 3861 Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township, was jailed when he failed to meet the $500 bond set by McGrath.

He will be arraigned Monday at 1:30 p.m.

A 38-caliber pistol, four cigarette lighters and $6 in cash were taken in the breakin.

2 Flint Men Sentenced for Groveland Burglary

Two Flint men were sentenced yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem for the $70 burglary Nov. 13 of the Country Kitchen, 14007 Dixie Highway, Groveland Township.

Charles Douglas, 22, was given one to 15 years in Jackson prison and Marvin Johnson, 19, was placed on three years' probation with the first 45 days to be spent in jail. Both pleaded guilty Nov. 26 to breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Khrushchev's Fair Game for Family Satire Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Since one record company was able to get away with a satire on the present occupants of the White House, another felt that Nikita S. Khrushchev was fair game, too.

The result is a newly issued travesty on the people in the Kremlin called "At Home With That Other Family."

As in the case of the record made by imitators of the Kennedy family, the one made by mimics of Khrushchev and his wife is reported by the record manufacturer to be enjoying brisk initial sales.

The Khrushchev record idea was dreamed up by comedy writer Leonard Gaines and Gwen Davis, author of "I Love Louisa," which is expected to be Elizabeth Taylor's next movie.

Miss Davis also appears in this "quickie" recording as "Nina Petrovna Khrushchev" but she sounds more like Molly Goldberg, George Segal is cast as "Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev."

If you want to believe what you hear on this record, Khrushchev is a jolly old fellow who has been brainwashed by American television commercials and Mrs. Khrushchev is a homey housewife who needs a maid.

"Nickie," she pleads, "let me get a girl at least twice a week."

"I'll get you something nice," Nikita replied. "It's a white tornado."

In another section of the record, Nina wants to know why she can't get things done. Don Mishie, that man with the Damon-Runyon-type accent, offers advice.

"Madame," he says, "too many soapsuds are clogging your machine."

In one segment, Nina presides at a Telstar-televised tour of the Kremlin.

RED ROOMS

"This is the Red room," she says. "And behind that Red room is the other Red room. And behind that is the other Red room."

★ ★ ★

There is the inevitable press conference. Here Khrushchev, who on other parts of the record speaks a heavily accented English, speaks in a language that might be mistaken for Russian. His remarks are translated.

"How do you feel about Red China?" a reporter asks.

"It's all right if you have the right accessories and linen;" is the answer.

"Can a Jewish man become premier?"

★ ★ ★

This question is followed by a long reply in "Russian," but the translator says: "The premier feels that after he dies, Nina can marry anyone she wants."

"If you reach the moon first, would you consider it Soviet property?" another newsman asks.

"Finders keepers, losers weepers," the premier replies.

Digital dialing, a new system in which numbers take the place of letters in making telephone calls, is the subject of one skit.

Khrushchev tries to place a phone call and the operator gives him a long string of numbers.

"Please," he says, "I'm an old man and I have a tired finger."

To Americans who are old enough to remember the "knock, knock" craze of the 1930's, one part of this record is grim. It's a World War III joke.

"Knock, knock," someone says.

There is no funny reply. Just silence.

Pontiac Area Deaths

C. B. BOYKIN

Service for C. B. Boykin, 47, of 231 Crestwood St., will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Macedonia Baptist Church with burial following in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving besides her husband are a son, George of South Lyon; a brother, Charles Sanders of Milford and three grandchildren.

Federal Recognition Extended to General

LANSING (UPI) — Federal recognition of the grade of major general of the line has been extended to Maj. Gen. Cecil Simmons, commander of the 46th Infantry Division of the Michigan Army National Guard, Gov. Swainson said yesterday.

Swainson said the recognition was made effective as of Nov. 19. Confirmation by the U.S. Senate and appointment as a reserve officer of the Army in the same grade are pending, Swainson said.

Explain Firing Welfare Aide

The firing of Helen E. Slayton, ex-deputy director of the County Welfare Department, was explained yesterday to the welfare committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The committee indicated it was satisfied that the acting director of the department, George Williams, had sufficient reason to fire Mrs. Slayton, 50, for "insubordination."

Welfare Board Chairman John A. Macdonald informed the committee that Williams was not appearing "on trial" before them but to keep members abreast of events.

Williams was hired by the welfare board and it alone could relieve him of his present duties, Macdonald said.

The board previously supported the acting director in his actions.

Mrs. Slayton had been with the department for 20 years. She served the entire period under Director George A. Burt, who has announced his retirement after the first of the year.

Illness has kept him away from his office for the past year.

Williams will succeed Burt, Macdonald said.

LAWRENCE J. DUPREE

Gets New Job With Pontiac

The appointment of Lawrence J. Dupree as assistant organization and analysis manager at Pontiac Motor Division, was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager for the division.

Dupree has served as business management manager for Pontiac's Pittsburgh zone since 1951. He plans to move to the Pontiac area in the near future.

He joined Pontiac in 1945 as car distributor and office manager in the Cincinnati zone and in 1947 became assistant manager of car distribution at the central office in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

In 1949 Dupree was named parts and accessories manager in the Cleveland zone.

A native of Cincinnati, Dupree graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1932. He is married and has four children.

Pontiac City Affairs

U.S. Park Funds to Be Sought

By a 5-2 vote, the Pontiac City Commission last night approved asking the federal government for $34,830 toward the purchase of future park property next to Galloway Lake.

Voting against the measure were Commissioners Charles H. Harmon and William H. Taylor Jr. Both opposed paying $174,000 for the 64½-acre parcel when the proposed purchase was okayed several weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

The application for funds will go to the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Funds equaling 20 per cent of the purchase price are available under the federal open space program, designed to aid cities in acquiring land for park sites.

In another property deal, commissioners authorized the city's purchase of property for widening Wrenn Street for $11,450.

ZONING ACTION

In other business, the following action was taken.

Commissioners concurred with planning commission recommendations to rezone from residential to commercial one lot at 160 Palmer St. and two lots at 117 E. Columbia Ave. Public hearings will be slated on both items later.

Commissioners concurred with a planning commission recommendation to proceed with plans to rezone to commercial the north side of Fisher Street, Bagley Avenue to the Clinton River.

Final adoption will be held up pending the presentation of specific plans for use of the site by the owner.

★ ★ ★

In a related item, commissioners concurred with a recommendation to vacate an alley running between Fisher and Rockewell streets and scheduled a public hearing on the vacation for Jan. 22.

Vacation is contingent on adoption of the rezoning of the property.

The commission agreed with a recommendation from planners to deny a request to rezone more than 150 lots in South Park Subdivision from Residential-2 and 3 to Residential-1 classification.

★ ★ ★

An accompanying recommendation to rezone the entire subdivision to Manufacturing-1 was tentatively okayed.

The area lies at the northwest corner of East and South boulevards.

★ ★ ★

A public hearing on the rezoning will be held before the planning commission at its Jan. 9 meeting.

Commissioners concurred with a planning commission recommendation to vacate a strip of land at the rear of the main Pontiac Post Office on West Huron Street.

The land had been retained as right-of-way for future extension of Miami Road when the post office was built in 1958. A public hearing will be slated on the matter.

★ ★ ★

An identical recommendation to vacate land behind the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland Building, next door to the post office, was deferred one week so that nearby property owners can be notified.

★ ★ ★

The First Federal property, to be used for offstreet parking, is adjacent to residences on Genesee Road.

Public hearings were scheduled for next Tuesday's meeting on special assessment rolls covering proposed construction of curbs and gutters on parts of Cornell Avenue.

Also slated for public hearing next week was a roll covering unpaid weed cutting charges for 1962.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed in two payments each for construction of a water main in part of Kennett Road and curbs and gutters on a portion of Hollywood Avenue.

Confirmed in five payments each were rolls covering curbs and gutters on parts of Columbia, Eastwood and Harvey avenues.

A request from Jesse Toles Jr. to drop Donald F. Schroeder as a partner in his BDO and BDM licensed business at 920-23 Joslyn Ave. was approved.

Turn Lanes Installed on Huron Section

To eliminate a growing traffic problem, turn lanes are being installed in the center of W. Huron Street between Murphy Street and Osceola Drive this week.

Parking will be eliminated at the south curb of W. Huron along this stretch, City Manager Robert A. Stierer told the City Commission last night.

The measure was recommended by the city's traffic committee and approved by the Police Department Traffic Bureau and Michigan State Highway Department.

Traffic turning into the main Pontiac Post Office, 735 W. Huron St., heavy turn traffic at several intersections and a general increase in volume brought on the need for channelization, Stierer explained.

"Signs and cones designating turn lanes will be installed by Department of Public Works crews Friday," he said.

"If the channelization proves successful," Stierer noted, "it can be extended east to Johnson Avenue.

Skating Rinks Stalled by Lack of Frost Here

An unusual aspect of the current cold spell is that it came before there was any frost in the ground.

That's why ice skating rinks still haven't appeared in Pontiac, according to the Parks and Recreation Department.

There must be at least 3 inches of frost in the ground before rinks can be successfully flooded.

★ ★ ★

Preparations are now moving ahead rapidly, and with cold temperatures forecast for the next five days, flooding should be possible by early next week, department officials reported today.

Present plans called for 17 skating rinks, two hockey rinks with boards and three areas with an extra rink for hockey without boards.

The sled slide at Murphy Park was opened last weekend and is reported to be in perfect shape. The toboggan shoot is being iced and is expected to be operating today or tomorrow.

County 'Seniors' Lauded on Work for the Aging

The Oakland County Senior Citizens Council is one of seven organizations in the state singled out for outstanding work by the Michigan Commission on Aging.

The commission cited the group for its services to senior citizens during the last year. The county council's president is Joseph Garner of Rochester.

The other groups are:

★ ★ ★

Ann Arbor Committee on Aging, Jackson Senior Citizens Center, Clinton County Senior Citizens, Midland Council on Aging and the Traverse City Committee on Aging.

The Ypsilanti Senior Citizens Recreation Center also was congratulated for its work during the last year.

Set Hearings for Proposed Ordinance

Public hearings on Waterford Township's proposed new zoning ordinance are scheduled for Jan. 15 and 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School.

Primary purpose of the new ordinance prepared by township planning director Robert Diebali is to provide greater township control over land use.

Far more detailed than the existing ordinance, the new one is a 90-page text including over 100 definitions. The present 10-page ordinance contains only a few definitions.

★ ★ ★

The proposed ordinance, along with the zoning map, will be published Wednesday.

Work on the document began last May and is now completed. Following the public hearings it will be submitted to the county zoning coordinating committee for review.

A previous revised zoning ordinance prepared by the township zoning board was rejected by the county committee two years ago. The township had no planning director at the time.

Fly Boston-Rome Route

BOSTON (UPI) —Trans World Airlines inaugurated weekly service between Boston and Rome last night via Shannon, Paris and Zurich.

Janitor Jailed for 60 Days

A 38-year-old Pontiac Mall janitor who pleaded guilty Nov. 27 to breaking and entering the Mall's new Grinnell Bros. store Sept. 19 yesterday was sentenced to 60 days in jail and three years' probation.

★ ★ ★

Oran Harge, of 2241 Antoinette St., Detroit, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Harge was caught in a police stakeout at the store during the night after a stock inventory showed several radios and television sets missing two days before the store was to open. Police said some $1,650 in merchandise taken from the store was recovered.

Grand Rapids OKs Employes' Pay Raise

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The Grand Rapids City Commission approved a 10 per cent pay increase yesterday for the city's 500 policemen and firemen.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was a 5 per cent pay hike for 500 laborers and skilled tradesmen employed by the city.

Board Opens Bids for Sewer

Total Will Keep Cost Within Estimate

Bids for construction of the Dequindre interceptor sewer in Southeastern Oakland County were opened yesterday by the 12 Towns Drain Board.

Low bids total $5,643,735, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry announced afterward.

This will keep the total cost of the project within the original estimate of $8 million, Barry said.

Yet to be added to construction costs are costs of engineering, land acquisition and contingency funds before arriving at a final figure.

Drain commission engineers should have the final figure within the next few days, Barry said, in time for bonds to be sold and construction to begin by Jan. 1.

The project must be under way by the first of the year in order to qualify for federal grants for half of the total cost.

Bidding was divided into four divisions.

Low bids were submitted by Dimambro Construction Co. of Detroit in two divisions totaling $4,024,900; Mansini Construction Co. of Warren, $1,541,835; and James & Savage Co., of Detroit, $77,000.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindnesses and expressions of sympathy extended to us by our relatives, friends, neighbors, classmates, Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. and Orchard Lake Police Dept. The Brodie family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son Freeman Leslie Raetz, who passed away December 10, 1945.
Time turns away the edges of grief
But memory turns back every last.
Sadly missed by Mom and Dad.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY HUSband, Otis O. Overly, who passed away December 12, 1961.
I cannot say,
And I will not say,
That he is dead, he is just away,
With a cheery smile,
And a wave of the hand,
That he is still as the same I say,
He is not dead, he is just away.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

TAIL-ENTED — Jack, the Mexican burro at the Baltimore, Md., zoo, takes a critical look at his first attempt at abstract art. Zoo Director Arthur Watson gave Jack his chance after Khrushchev said that one isn't able to tell if abstract art is drawn by man or "smeared by the tail of a donkey." The painting, called "Black Whisk," was shown to art instructor Wilson Binebrink, who praised it. Watson plans more tail paintings for Jack after the summer fly season returns.

TV Show to Feature Off-Seen Old Comedian

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — More than 18 years ago, character actor Frank McHugh played the role of a priest in a movie called "Going My Way," starring Big Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Tonight actor Frank McHugh will be back on "Going My Way," only this time it is an ABC television program—and he plays a safe cracker's assistant.

★ ★ ★

McHugh, who started in show business in his native McKeesport, Pa., as a youngster, has contributed his talents as a comedy character actor to literally hundreds of plays, silent movies, talkies and, now, television. In the movies he was almost inevitably cast in every part calling for a funny drunk. He played innumerable comedy reporters, too, but perhaps is most often seen now in the late, late television shows playing a cab driver in James Cagney's famous "Roaring Twenties."

PHILOSOPHICAL

McHugh takes the long philosophical view of show business, suffering with a casual shrug what he calls, "the actor's malady."

★ ★ ★

He says, "When you've finished one job, you always believe that you'll never work again. But somehow, you do."

"There have always been good plays and bad plays, good movies and bad movies," said McHugh. "And there will always be good television programs and bad ones.

He does feel strongly that television misuses the word "star" —to him it is a performer of proven ability whose name (placed above the title of the vehicle) brings crowds to the box-office.

"I've never been a star," he remarked. "But after all, when I entered the theatre, most of us didn't want to be. We just wanted to be good actors."

★ ★ ★

The die has been cast on NBC's "Empire"—Anne Seymour's dying, that is. Sometime early in March the character of Lucia Garret, matriarch of that huge, rich New Mexico spread, will sicken and pass away. Ironically, the episode with the death scene will be the heaviest role fine actress Seymour has had in the modern western.

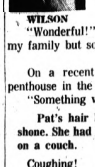
The producers of the show decided to get rid of its two women characters because writers could not seem to find material for them and they were a plot problem.

Terry Moore, who plays the ranch-owner's daughter, Connie, drew a kinder fate: She will get married and move away.

Patricia Medina Bothered by 'Coughers' in Theaters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A very funny thing happened to Joseph Cotton's exquisitely beautiful wife, Patricia Medina, while she was campaigning against "coughers"—the people who cough during plays and movies and disturb nice quiet folks like you and me.



WILSON

"Those people," pretty Patricia was telling Joe recently, "should hold their coughs in or go out in the street to cough."

It was very annoying to them, playing wife-and-husband in the whodunit about Big Business chicanery, "Calculated Risk," at the Ambassador.

"So I'm going to crusade to get the coughers out!" Patricia said—and Earl Wilson was to do a fat interview about it.

"Wonderful!" I said. "I don't like to mention any people in my family but some of them do cough needlessly . . ."

★ ★ ★

On a recent afternoon, I arrived at the Cottens' stunning penthouse in the E.60s, ready to ensnare Pat's blistering words.

"Something wrong?" I asked.

Pat's hair had been freshly done. Her diamonds had been shone. She had on—or over her—a beautiful mink. She was lying on a couch.

Coughing!

"Hilarious!" I exclaimed. "Makes a funny column. Cough Bites Anti-Cough Actress!"

"Yeah" Pat sniffled in agreement. "Everybody in the cast got coughs. We couldn't hear ourselves act. I got so I loved coughers in the audience. They gave me a chance to cough."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Edith Piaf—our Paris spy insists — bought electric trains for Christmas for her youthful husband, Theo Sarape . . . Mrs. Kirk Douglas decided not to sue about her article, "My Awful Wedded Husband," which she'd claimed was printed without her final O.K.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Phil Foster, enthusiastic about the suggestion that U.S. stamps be flavored to taste like wine, has already ordered a quart of 4 cent stamps.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Want to learn to think fast on your feet? Become a pedestrian." (George Carlin).

"You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time," swears Eydie Gorme, "but you can't con Edison" . . . That's earl, brother.

Steps Out for Breather

Bear Plays Cagey

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A huge polar bear wandered out of an unlocked cage at Chapultepec Park Zoo yesterday, causing considerable excitement but no harm.

While shrieking spectators fled and the zoo's public-address system warned people out of the area, the bear leaned against his cage. When keepers gingerly poked him with broom handles, trying to herd him back into the cage, he yawned.

★ ★ ★

The bear was slightly irritated when a keeper lassoed him and tried to drag him to the cage. He broke the rope and lunged menacingly at the keeper, who hastily retreated.

After about half an hour, the bear wandered back into the cage and park police slammed home the bolt on the cage door.

Lawmakers Will Adjourn

Michigan Legislature to Reconvene Dec. 27

LANSING (AP) — The State Legislature will return to close the books on its 1962 session on Dec. 27.

★ ★ ★

Legislative leaders made the announcement yesterday, thus turning down a suggestion the law making body return for a pre-Christmas session.

House Democratic leader Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit had urged the legislature to reconvene before Christmas to pass legislation allowing the state to participate in a federal program of aid to needy children of the unemployed.

House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, said letters would be mailed next week calling for a quorum (18 senators, 56 house members) on Dec. 27.

★ ★ ★

Pears said if a quorum is not established, state police will be empowered to bring in absent lawmakers.

Pears, one of four legislative leaders who can call the body back into session, said formal adjournment "is necessary to close the possibility of legal challenges against 1962 legislation."

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley advised last week that he doubted whether failure to adjourn would invalidate any legislation, but he said such a failure might pave the way to lawsuits challenging the 166 pending bills.

Pears said no new legislation could be considered by lawmakers when they return because the five day waiting period for legislative bills could not be fulfilled.

U. N. Charges Reds Violated Armistice

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U. N. Command yesterday charged the Communists committed 264 violations of the armistice agreement within the demilitarized zone between July 24 and Nov. 29.

The charge was made by U. S. Col. Vincent F. Goodsell, the senior secretary of the Military Armistice Commission, at a meeting of secretaries.

Goodsell said 88 of the violations involved the carrying of automatic weapons by personnel of the Communist side.

The Communist side disregarded the U. N. charge and countered with its own charge that a U. N. truck violated the armistice agreement by failing to have a proper identification flag.

Plan Hearing on Extra Two Hours for Bars

LANSING (AP) — Detroit bars won't be allowed to sell liquor for an extra two hours "without a public hearing and careful consideration" says the State Liquor Control Commission.

The pledge came from Joseph L. Wisniewski, liquor commission chairman, when he was confronted here yesterday at a public hearing by Robert Hammond, executive director of the Michigan Temperance Foundation.

Hammond, who previously had made scattered charges against the commission on being "soft" on violators, concentrated his attack at the hearing against a suggested extra two hours for drinking in Detroit.

"It is ridiculous to think that even 19½ hours isn't enough for the most thirsty," he said.

The commission, meanwhile, was defended by several sympathetic liquor business witnesses, including John A. Guarnieri, executive secretary of the Michigan Package Liquor Dealers Association.

★ ★ ★

He said anyone going into the liquor business in Michigan has to put up a large amount of money and has to conform to more regulations than any other business going.

"But we have never been served by a more reasonable and fairer commission," he said.

Mackie Plans 'Critical Path' Construction

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced it will use a new technique — called the critical path method — to coordinate construction of the $40-million Grand Rapids east-west freeway.

The method refers to the way department engineers will coordinate the three major phases of construction.

These are movement of millions of cubic yards of earth with minimum interference to traffic, the maintenance of traffic while the city is sliced in half by the freeway work and over-all coordination of a great number of projects by many different construction firms.

More than 50 bridges and overpasses will be built on the 12-mile section of freeway, scheduled to be opened to traffic by late 1964.

A part of the roadway will be built first for use as a haul route for the earth moved in the construction — or a critical path, the department said.

To insure completion of each project in sequence, the department will assess charges of $1,000 a day against projects not completed on schedule.

Two Others—Seidman, Devries—to Join Allen, Governor-Elect Says

LANSING (AP)—Gov.-elect George Romney announced the appointment today of Glenn Allen Jr., former mayor of Kalamazoo, as state controller, and named two others to serve on his team when he takes office Jan. 1.

Romney also appointed L. William Seidman of Ada as special counsel to the governor for financial affairs and Dr. Walter Devries of Grand Rapids as executive assistant to the governor for program development and agency liaison.

Allen and Seidman ran on the Republican ticket with Romney but were defeated. Allen was the candidate for state treasurer and Seidman for auditor general.

Devries was director of research for the Romney campaign.

In making the announcement, Romney said he was emphasizing the importance of financial management, administrative controls and program development.

★ ★ ★

The governor-elect said he also was considering others who ran on his administrative board slate for possible appointments.

"The Republican candidates for state office were selected to run largely on the basis of competence, character and capacity. Thus it is not unusual that some of them will find a place to serve the people of Michigan in the new administration," Romney said.

Romney told newsmen he has decided to revamp the organizational structure of the executive office into a cabinet-type system.

He said he would name six top assistants to serve on his team, plus special assistants from time to time.

★ ★ ★

The Seidman appointment is the first of the special assignments.

Other positions to be filled are executive assistants for legal affairs, legislative program, public information and appointments and office management.

Romney, former president of American Motors, apparently was borrowing a page from his executive notebook in working out details of the new organization.

Each of the six assistants will function in a capacity similar to vice presidents in charge of specific departments in a business operation, responsible equally to the chief executive.

Tells Supreme Soviet Imperialists' Scheme Foiled in Cuba

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared today that if American pledges on Cuba are not fulfilled "we will be compelled to take such actions as the situation requires of us.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the Supreme Soviet today that Russia's peaceful coexistence policy headed off a world nuclear war in the Cuban crisis.

In his first major speech since the Cuban situation eased, Khrushchev told the Soviet parliament that "all sensible people profoundly welcome this triumph of reason."

★ ★ ★

He said it showed that during the crisis period "the forces of peace would foil the schemes of the imperialists."

The foreign policy report was broadcast and televised as it was being made, with Radio Moscow broadcasting the speech in several languages to Africa, Asia, Europe and North America.

Choose Jury for Murder Trial

Selection of a jury in the first-degree murder trial of three Pontiac men resumed this morning before Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams after a frantic roundup of additional jurors overnight by sheriff's deputies.

Only 13 of the 25 additional jurors ordered yesterday by Judge Adams appeared this morning.

Only 11 passed the preliminary screening, according to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy.

Judge Adams issued the order after a full day of jury selection exhausted the available jurors without impaneling the needed 12.

The shortage developed after two defense attorneys dismissed a total of 29 with peremptory challenges and Judge Adams excused several more for cause.

EXPLAINS SHORTAGE

Defendants in the trial for the July 30 robbery and killing of Pontiac market owner Eftimias Vasiliou are Joseph Page, 26, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Benny L. Spells, 23, and R. G. Stroman, 29, both of 235 S. Anderson St.

Murphy said the shortage would not have happened if the county had a jury commission to screen potential jurors before a jury term began.

A jury commission also would have more names from which to pick prospective jurors, he added, since it would use voter registration lists instead of the tax assessment rolls now used.

Rounding up additional jurors when needed also would be easier and less expensive with a jury commission, Murphy said.

The mathematics of yesterday's shortage, according to Murphy, were as follows: Of 135 originally called for the current term, only 71 survived the first screening. A later call for another 15 produced only seven.

★ ★ ★

Of this 78 total, 12 are presently hearing a condemnation case and another 12 a civil suit, leaving 54 available for the murder case.

Ask JFK-Nikita Phone

GENEVA (AP)—The United States proposed today the installation of a direct telephone connecting President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as part of a detailed system for preventing war by miscalculation or accident.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean urged the 17-nation disarmament conference to give careful consideration to ways of keeping the world from blundering into war.

He introduced a six-point program for building up confidence between nations and insuring them against surprise attack or blows delivered by accident.

This whole field, Dean said, "offers opportunities for early agreement which should not be passed by."

He did not mention the recent Cuban crisis, but the proposals which he advanced would reduce the chance of a repetition of such a threat to peace.

★ ★ ★

The American document contained these major points:

1—The nations would give advance notice of major military movements to allay any fears of an aggression.

2—Installation of permanent observation posts at railway junctions, ports, key highway intersections and large airfields plus observation by air-

Winter Refuses to Release Nation From Icy Clutches

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably cold weather and gusty, raw winds held a vise-like grip over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today.

There appeared little prospect of an immediate general break in the bone-chilling weather.

Record low temperatures were reported in most of the ice belt for the second straight day — 10 days in advance of the official start of the winter season.

In the snow-covered sections of the Northeast, pounded by storms for nearly a week, more heavy snow fell.

Weary highway crews struggled to keep the main arteries open. Snow depths measured eight feet in parts of northeastern Ohio.

The main core of the Arctic air centered in the North Central region. Brisk winds powered the subzero cold southward to the Gulf Coast and eastward to the Appalachians.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures far below zero were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, ranging to as low as 18 below in Huron, S.D.

Below-zero marks were general in the Midwest.

SOUTH CHILLY

The South shivered in the season's coldest weather. It was near zero in sections of North Carolina, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee and in mountain areas of northern Georgia and Alabama.

Fresh blasts of winter blew into Florida today.

Sleet peppered Tallahassee and snow fell at Jacksonville. Miami braced for cold rains.

Sub-freezing temperatures were common in north Florida. The Pensacola naval air station reported a low of 19 degrees.

The Florida highway patrol reported snow at Starke, southwest of Jacksonville.

The overnight low reading at Miami International Airport was 45 degrees. Farmers, hit hard by a freeze Monday night, escaped damaging frost although South Miami reported a low of 36.

"And it looks like they'll escape frost again tonight," said Neil Frank, forecaster at the Miami weather bureau.

New low temperatures for the date were set Tuesday in many sections of the icy belt. The mercury continued its downward plunge during the night and early morning, threatening record lows for today.

A state of emergency was declared in downtown Columbus,

A numbing Arctic cold wave brought near-zero temperatures and more unwanted snow to Michigan today and extended to six days a killer storm that has virtually paralyzed portions of the state.

Temperatures dived to a low of 1 above zero in downtown Pontiac, a new low for the season and a 90-year record for the day.

More of the same is predicted for tonight the predicted low is expected to hit zero in the city with 8 below in the suburban areas.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow will be a little warmer with the high creeping up to 18 and a chance of a light snow. Friday and Saturday will turn colder again, but on Sunday temperatures will rise a little.

★ ★ ★

Winter blew another blast of snowfall along the Lake Michigan shoreline north from New Buffalo, with 15 inches of fall, to South Haven, with 13 inches, and Muskegon, with 7 inches.

From Grayling to Sault Ste. Marie another 4 inches of snow fell

★ ★ ★

Interstate 94, the main route between Chicago and Detroit, continued to be a trouble spot.

The freeway was open to 1-lane traffic in both directions early today, but so much truck traffic was backed up that vehicles moved at a snail's pace.

The State Highway Department again postponed the opening of a stretch on interstate 75 between Michigan 24 north of Pontiac and U.S. 10 at Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

The opening has been postponed until Friday because the highway is blocked with snow.

★ ★ ★

A total of 30 inches of snow was on the ground at Niles, with 12 inches falling yesterday. At one time, the snow got so heavy that a 27-car New York Central freight train stalled in the center of town.

The cars and engine were removed one at a time by special equipment.

Recent Storm Cost Pontiac Total of $7,400

Last week's snowstorm cost the city $7,400.

That's how much was spent on man hours, equipment and salt to keep main streets clear, according to Clyde Christian, Department of Public Works superintendent.

★ ★ ★

DPW crews worked continuously from 5:30 a.m. Dec. 6 to 4 p.m. Dec. 8.

In that period, the city rolled up 998 man hours, 663 equipment hours and used 345 tons of salt on city streets.

Why Buy the Same Old Gifts?

Why not give dad something different than the usual shirts, ties, sox, underwear or pajamas this Christmas?

★ ★ ★

Pontiac area store buyers have really gone all out in acquiring novelty gifts and items that the man of the house would not think of buying for himself.

In one store there is a pair of tiny gold old lamp post cuff links that light up when the top is pressed. These are decorative as well as brand new to the area.

Gaining in popularity are the he-man cossack hats. They are available in imitation fur in gray, black, brown or white; but some are made of the fur of real animals and come in the same colors.

Another popular item for men is the silver dollar money clips, key chains, belt buckles and even a pillbox.

New bright red corduroy robes and slippers have replaced the dull-colored bathrobes of yesteryear.

★ ★ ★

The most fastidious male couldn't resist a jeweled "tie tac" being shown. A tiny honest-to-goodness diamond set in white gold would compliment any colored tie, and keep it in place, too.

Brand new, too, are the battery-operated pencil sharpeners.

Allies Scrap Over Skybolt

LONDON (AP) — The British government admitted today it had failed to reach agreement with the United States on the Skybolt missile. Tentative U.S. plans to scrap it have put the British-American alliance to one of its heaviest strains.

A statement issued by the ministry of defense said, however, discussions on the missile will continue.

The announcement dealt with the talks in London yesterday between Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft.

The two officials discussed at length the prospects of developing the airborne strategic missile on which Britain has been counting

North Borneo Uprising Seems Near Collapse

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—The North Borneo uprising appeared to be near collapse today as British troops mounted coordinated attacks on centers of rebel strength.

The British announced the recapture of a holdout center in the oil town of Seria, and claimed three other rebel-held towns were taken.

In taking the town's jail, a pocket of resistance in Seria, the British freed 45 men who had been held hostage there for four days.

★ ★ ★

It was reported one American, Harold Eighmie of Wenatchee, Wash., was wounded. He had been used as a human shield by a group of rebels when they attempted to take Penaga police barracks near-by on Saturday and had been held hostage since.

The British command said Lawas and Limbang in the adjoining colony of Sarawak also were recaptured. But reports from Sarawak said the fight for Limbang was continuing with the rebels still in control of about half of the town.

The British also announced the regaining of Kuala Belait, another oil center south of Seria.

★ ★ ★

Four hundred pro-British Sarawak tribesmen, responding to a government appeal for assistance, fanned out near the border of Brunei and Sarawak in a move to cut off any rebels retreating into the jungle from Brunei.

Three hundred troops of the British First Green Jackets moved ashore at Labuan from the cruiser Tiger. Commando forces also landed in Sarawak.

Soldiers of the queen's own Highlanders took the Seria jail and freed the hostages without a fight. The prisoners included 14 Britons, 4 Dutchmen, 2 Australians and 15 Brunei policemen.

★ ★ ★

The number was a surprise. Only nine Europeans, Shell Co. employes, were known to have been held by the rebels there when combat teams sealed off the area and bypassed it Tuesday.

The troops moved cautiously to minimize chances that the hostages would be slain by the rebels or injured in a fight.

Eighmie's wound was described as a slight injury in one shoulder. Clifford Joseph, a Eurasian, was killed and five others wounded seriously while used as shields by the rebels in the Fanaga police barracks action.

All the wounded, including Eighmie, were taken to a Kuala Belait hospital for treatment.

A second American, trapped by the rebels in Brunei town, was reported unharmed. He was Arnie I. Sumardilason of Seattle, Wash.

Construction Worker Dies From 15-Foot Fall

DETROIT (AP) — A 58-year-old construction worker was injured fatally yesterday when he fell into a 15-foot pit in a water filtration plant under construction in Allen Park.

Logan Jackson of Taylor Township, an employe of the company building the plant, was dead on arrival at Wyandotte General Hospital.

Boy on Bicycle Killed by Car in Avon Twp.

A 13 - year-old Avon Township boy was killed yesterday when his bicycle was hit by a car a few blocks from his home.

★ ★ ★

Charles Tharrett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tharrett of 1266 Ruby St., died of a fractured skull and a broken back. He was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The youngster was an eighth grade student at Avondale Junior High School.

The accident occurred on Livernois Road at East Grace Street, just north of South Boulevard, at 5:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The driver of the car, Clifford L. Keidel, 53, of 3065 Talbot St., Troy, told Sheriff deputies that he did not see the boy until he was directly in front of the car and and that then it was too late to avoid the collision.

★ ★ ★

Keidel estimated he was traveling between 45 and 50 miles and hour when he struck the boy.

Police believe the boy was traveling north on Livernois Road, the same direction as Keidel was going, when he veered his bicycle into the roadway. There was no witness to the accident.

Expect Women to Jam Hearing

Pacifists Investigated by House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Militant women were expected to pack the House caucus room again today for Women Strike for Peace, a pacifist group.

Yesterday's opening session was repeatedly interrupted by emotional applause as some witnesses voiced defiance of the subcommittee and an ex-FBI man shouted a demand for a halt in the proceedings. He was escorted out by a policeman.

The hearings have drawn protests from a number of liberal groups and from Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N. Y., who said they were an example of "misuse and abuse of legislative power."

Two of the women witnesses cited the fifth amendment — a constitutional protection against possible self-incrimination — in refusing to answer questions, including whether they are or had been Communists.

Another woman, Mrs. Lyla Hoffman of Great Neck, N. Y., argued that the committee's questions were not relevant to her activities in organizing Women Strike for Peace in her community.

She conceded she had once been a Communist but not for the past five years. She cited the first amendment provisions on freedom of association rather than the fifth amendment.

More New York-area women are expected to be called during the three days of hearings. Another prospective witness is Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, Washington leader of the group, who has organized several picket lines at the White House protesting nuclear testing.

HUSTLED FROM HEARING — Jack Levine, a former FBI agent, is rushed out of the hearing room of the House subcommittee on Un-American activities by a Capitol policeman yesterday. Levine interupted a hearing with a shouted demand that the congressmen discontinue their inquiry into the Women Strike for Peace organization.

"The attack on Cuba, prepared by the aggressive imperialist circles of the United States, has been averted," he said.

"The direct threat of a thermonuclear world war, which arose in connection with the crisis in the Caribbean, has been averted."

Khrushchev said the future held only two alternatives — peaceful coexistence or destructive war.

"Events have confirmed that the peace forces are able to overcome the most dangerous international crises, to curb the imperialist aggressors," he said.

"All our thoughts are concentrated on creation and on the construction of communism.

"People don't want war . . . we must substitute negotiation for war."

Ohio, today because of a water main break. Schools, stores and most offices were closed.

Mayor Ralston Westlake issued the emergency order, asking all citizens to remain away from the downtown area unless their presence was absolutely necessary.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle issued a statement saying "only those state employes who are in a position to assist the City of Columbus in the present emergency are required to be on their jobs today."

'MISERABLE'

Much of the eastern half of the nation felt the effects of the storm and cold which packed the punch normally expected in mid-winter.

★ ★ ★

"Miserable" was the Weather Bureau's description of conditions in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

More heavy snow was dumped along the eastern shores of Lakes Michigan, Erie and Ontario. Drifts piled up higher than four feet in some places.

A state of emergency was declared in Conneaut, in northeast Ohio, as huge drifts from the 20 inches on the ground blocked all roads leading into the community of 16,000.

National Guardsmen brought a supply of food and fuel into the snowbound area and used some tanks and heavy trucks for a shuttle service to a hospital.

Two men died of heart attacks while shoveling snow in Ohio, raising the death toll in Ohio alone to 25.

Storm-related deaths since the storm struck in some areas last Wednesday were more than 70.

There were monumental traffic jams in many parts of the snow belt. Schools remained closed in many areas. In Cleveland, John Carroll University announced its 3,916 students would begin Christmas vacation immediately. It had been scheduled to start Dec. 18.

President Plans News Meeting at 4 P.M. Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 4 p.m. EST today, his first session with reporters since Nov. 20.

The White House said Tuesday two television networks, the American Broadcasting Co. and the National Broadcasting Co., plan to carry the conference live.

It will be carried live on radio by ABC, NBC, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Mutual Broadcasting System.

CBS plans to televise a filmed recording of the conference at 5 p.m. EST.

It will be warmer in the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern and central Plains and parts of the northern and central Plateau.

Britain, U.S. Scrap Over End to Skybolt

for maintaining its nuclear deterrent. Indications that Skybolt may be scrapped have roused alarm in Britain.

★ ★ ★

The ministry statement said that McNamara and Thorneycroft had "full and frank talks." It added:

"No decision was taken on the future of Skybolt, on which discussions will continue."

This was the first official disclosure that the talks had broken up without agreement, though reports leaking out told of a tough bargaining session between the two ministers.

McNamara left for Paris this morning to attend the NATO ministerial meeting. Thorneycroft will be going there tonight.

★ ★ ★

Britain has made plain that junking of the projected missile could lead to a reappraisal of British defense commitments, including the use of Holy Loch in Scotland for a U.S. Polaris submarine base, British informants said.

TOUGH ARGUMENT

Reports from the McNamara-Thorneycroft talks yesterday said a tough, blunt argument took place. The daily sketch described the meeting as one of the stormiest between ministers of the two governments.

"Mr. McNamara is under no illusions as to the British reaction to any cancellation of Skybolt," a British defense spokesman said.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thorneycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan presumably will have to make the final decision about the Skybolt at their meeting in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20.

The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile that has cost $650 million and had an unbroken string of failures in its first five test firings. It is designed for firing by a bomber standing off 1,000 miles from its target.

Meets Leaders in Paris

Rusk Busy Trying to Patch NATO Cracks

PARIS (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk embarked on a heavy schedule of diplomatic meetings today in an effort to patch up some cracks in the Atlantic Alliance.

★ ★ ★

Rusk arranged separate meetings today with three top French leaders — President Charles de Gaulle, Premier George Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville — as a prelude to a three-day session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers opening tomorrow.

Rusk also arranged to lunch with Thomas K. Finletter, permanent U.S. representative to NATO, chat with Italian Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni and dine with the British, French and West German foreign ministers.

American sources said Rusk did not intend to try again to persuade de Gaulle to abandon plans for an independent French nuclear striking force, although the United States has opposed it all along.

In a message to the National Assembly yesterday, de Gaulle said it was "inconceivable" that France should not have its own nuclear force.

American sources said Washington has decided that it will have to abide by this decision.

RCSK HAS PLANS

However, Rusk was expected to:

—Sound out de Gaulle on merging a French nuclear force with a European nuclear force inside NATO.

— Urge France to step up its commitment of conventional forces to NATO. France pledged 14 divisions in 1952 but has only 2 under NATO command now. De Gaulle apparently will not give more until the United States and Great Britain agree to include France in a Big Three NATO directorate.

— Appeal to de Gaulle not to make Britain's entry into the six - nation European Common Market too difficult. The United States fears that if negotiations collapse Britain might pull its forces out of Europe.

Indications were there would be some tough talking by the United States to European members about boosting conventional forces in NATO.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, has said he needs a minimum of 30 divisions to hold off a possible Soviet attack. He has only 25 and some of these are below strength.

The United States can point out that it has maintained the draft while many European countries have scrapped it, and that the United States spends 10 per cent of its Gross National Product on defense while the average of European NATO members is only 5 per cent.

City Commission OKs Youth Assistance Plan

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission has agreed to establish a youth assistance program designed to cut down juvenile delinquency in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The program, supported by the North Oakland Planning Division of United Community Services, is guided by the Oakland County Probate Court.

As part of the program, city commissioners will appoint a committee of local residents to work with police, social workers and judicial officials to decrease the number of court cases involving juveniles.

Statistics reveal that the number of juvenile court cases have decreased in 15 county communities which have the program, according to City Manager L. R. Gare.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners agreed to establish the program on a trial basis for one year.

The Dec. 24 City Commission meeting has been rescheduled for Dec. 27. The meeting date was changed since it would have fallen on Christmas Eve.

New officers of the Oakland County Young Republicans will be elected at the GOP group's meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Birmingham Community House.

Christmas carols and the collection of gifts for the Girls' Ranch at Camp Oakland will highlight Monday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Birmingham Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Hogan, 920 Glenhurst St.

Smiling Pope Gives Public Grim Words

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A pale but smiling Pope John XXIII, holding his first public audience since he became ill two weeks ago, said today he "may not be here" for the end of the Ecumenical Council next year.

★ ★ ★

The 81-year-old pontiff's lined face clearly showed signs of illness which Vatican officials have described as stomach trouble and anemia.

But he displayed a jovial and smiling demeanor as he received some 1,200 pilgrims in the palace's Clementine Hall.

The Pope mentioned his hopes that the historic council would be finished by Christmas of 1963.

★ ★ ★

"One year is not a long time," he said. "I may not be here but if I'm not, there certainly will be another pope."

★ ★ ★

At another point during the audience he said:

"I hope to be alive to see the end of this council, but if we are not alive then we hope that God will reserve us a good place."

His tone, while remarking about the possibility of death, remained light and he smiled often.

craft, mobile ground teams or overlapping radar systems to guard against sneak mobilization.

3—Exchange of military missions by the major powers as a confidence-building measure.

4—Communications links between major capitals to prevent war by miscalculation. A hot telephone between Washington and Moscow—or "purple line" as it is sometimes called—would fall in this category.

REVEAL ACTION

5—Studies of the ways in which modern weapons themselves might tend to touch off a war.

6—The various countries would make public the steps they had taken individually to prevent war by accident.

Dean stressed that all the proposals were subject to informal discussions and study to fill in details. He proposed that technical groups be established to do some of this work.

The American idea is that the hot telephone line would connect Kennedy and Khrushchev and also might link U.N. Secretary General U Thant with the other two. Whether any other world figures would be included would be open to consideration.

Voters Whip Lake Orion School Expansion

Defeat Bond, Millage Hike

Plans Halted by Veto of $2-Million Issue

LAKE ORION — Plans for a school expansion program in the Lake Orion School District were halted by voters yesterday when they turned down a proposed $2-million bond issue and 4-mill operational tax hike.

Both proposals were defeated by about 150 votes.

Results of balloting on the bond issue were 707 yes, 859 no. The millage increase was rejected by a vote of 732 yes, 833 no.

Precinct I, which includes voters living within the village limits, defeated the proposals by a 2-to-1 margin.

A new $1.1-million junior high school was included in expansion plans that would have been possible had the propositions passed.

★ ★ ★

The purchase of a 20-acre site adjacent to the high school for the new junior high was made earlier this month. Funds for the site came from a two-mill building and site fund approved in 1960.

School Board President Richard A. Young said that no definite plans have been made as a result of the election.

"We're meeting tonight and will discuss action to be taken at that time," he said.

OTHER PROJECTS

In addition to the new junior high, several other building projects were in the proposed expansion program.

The present junior high school was to be remodeled, and additions were to be made to the four grade schools.

The four mills requested on the ballot were to be used to cover operational costs for the next seven years.

The school board last October, decided the two proposals were necessary, due to present and anticipated overcrowding of the schools.

★ ★ ★

It had been considering the proposed expansion for a year but was prompted to action by recommendations of the Lake Orion Community Schools Survey Committee.

The bond issue would have been enough to remedy the present overcrowded situation and to handle the 6 per cent annual enrollment for at least three years and probably more, the board agreed.

Schools Supt. A. A. Reed earlier had warned that a "no" vote could mean half-day sessions, a limited program, more overcrowded classrooms and too few teachers.

Farmers Told Deadline

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Farmers have been advised the final date for applying for cost-sharing funds from the federal government for conservation practices is Dec. 31. The State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reports applications for such funds already exceed the state's allocation.

Hospital Gets $100,000

ROCHESTER — A pledge of $100,000 by the Kresge Foundation to the Suburban Unit of Crittenton General Hospital was announced today by Howard L. McGregor Jr., campaign executive committee chairman.

This brings the total amount of pledges for the planned 160-bed hospital to $1,035,576, McGregor said.

The hospital will be located on the north side of Auburn Road, west of John R in Avon Township.

Construction could begin as soon as July, according to A. Riley Allen, administrative head of the parent medical facility in Detroit, if the proposed hospital is eligible for moneys under the accelerated Hill-Burton fund program.

If a crash program does not get under way construction will be started in early 1964, Allen said.

Initial plans for the hospital were announced last January, culminating three years of work for a community hospital by a group of Rochester business and professional people.

The site donated for the $5-million medical facility was the gift of the fund drive chairman who is president of National Twist Drill and Tool Co. and vice president of the Crittenton hospital board.

According to original plans, the Rochester area facility will be expandable to 450 beds by 1970.

The campaign executive committee, which is currently conducting the fund drive is composed of leading citizens from the two-county area that the hospital is designed to serve. This includes Rochester, Troy, Utica and the townships of Avon, Oakland, Shelby and Sterling.

Plans for the new medical facility were designed by the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc.

Combined Church Choirs to Present Musical Work

The choirs of the Howarth and Paint Creek Methodist churches will combine on two separate occasions to present a cantata, "Night of Miracles," by John W. Peterson.

The Howarth congregation will hear the cantata at 3 p.m. Sunday while the presentation at the Paint Creek church will take place at 4 p.m. Dec. 23.

Joyce Major at the piano and Jane Collins at the orgen will provide accompaniment for the 31-voice combined choirs.

★ ★ ★

Solo numbers in the cantata will be performed by members of both churches.

From the Howarth church, soloists will be William Hoyes, tenor; Shirley O'Dean, alto; and Thelma Rowe, soprano.

Featured from the Paint Creek church will be William Reeves, baritone, and Doris Barkham and Carolyn Phelps, sopranes.

Philip Johnson, of the Paint Creek church, will direct the combined choirs.

★ ★ ★

Howarth Methodist Church is on Silver Bell Road at Bald Mountain Road, and the Paint Creek church is on Collins Road, north of Orion Road.

Set Bazaar to Celebrate Christmas

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The holiday spirit will prevail at Paint Creek Methodist Church tomorrow when members stage their Christmas bazaar and buffet dinner.

Meals will be served in both the church annex and Township Hall beginning at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Edgar Harper is dinner chairman.

Bazaar booths, set up in the Township Hall, will offer all kinds of Yule decorations, handiwork, candy and baked goods for Christmas shoppers.

There also will be a fish pond and silhouette corner.

Mrs. Carl Thomas is bazaar chairman.

Both the church and Township Hall are on Collins Road, just north of Orion Road.

Approve Bonds in Walled Lake

$2.1-Million Issue Passed for Schools

WALLED LAKE — Officials of the Walled Lake School District today were notified that a $2.1-million bond issue passed by voters Oct. 1 has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Approval by the state agency yesterday gives the district authority to sell bonds and award construction contracts for a renovation and building program in the district.

Asst. schools supt. Rolland J. Langerman said that a new elementary school on Keith Road should be under construction by next March. It should be completed by the fall of 1963. Final plans for the school were approved Monday.

Also to be financed by the bond issue are construction of a new school district service center and renovations and additions to two existing elementary schools—Walled Lake Junior High School and the senior high school.

Masonic Lodge Plans Annual Christmas Party

DAVISBURG — Austin Lodge No. 48, F&AM, will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday at the Davisburg Masonic Hall. The party will start with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Austin Chapter No. 396, Order of the Eastern Star, will have a composite school of instruction at the Masonic Hall here Friday night, with members of Holly's Electra Chapter No. 160, OES.

8-Mill School Tax on Ballot in Brandon

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — In a special election Monday residents of the Brandon School District will be asked to renew an eight-mill tax representing approximately one-fourth of the school district's operating funds.

★ ★ ★

If approved, the current levy of 29.49 mills, or $29.49 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized, will continue for three more years.

This figure includes the eight-mills which has been in effect for the past three years.

The proposal will be discussed at a 7:30 p.m. public meeting tomorrow at the high school. School Supt. Burl Glendening and the school board will be present to answer any questions on the millage proposal.

The board agreed on the necessity for renewal of the millage in November. They have conducted several public meetings since then, attempting to present the issue to the public, Glendening said.

Tomorrow's meeting will be the last one before Monday's election.

Milford Council Names Three to Review Board

MILFORD — The Milford Council has named three members to regular terms on the Village Board of Review.

Reappointed to the board were Floyd Sands of 806 Canal St., W. W. Miller of 714 Sweetbriar St. and Howard Reid of 524 Atlantic St.

Sands will serve for one year, Miller for two and Reid for three years. All three were temporary appointees last year when Milford was without a village manager.

The council also has scheduled its next regular meeting for 8 p.m. Monday since its meeting would have fallen on Christmas Eve.

Joyous Music Ushers in Christmas Season

Women's Section

Deanna Relyea, Sylvan Lake, a music student at the University of Michigan, was the soloist at Tuesday Musicale yesterday. With her are (left to right) Mrs. V. M. Lindquist, Chippewa Road; Mrs. George Putnam, West Iroquois Road; and Mrs. Ferdenand Gaensbauer, North Hammond Lake Drive. Mrs. Gaensbauer directed the Tuesday Musicale chorus in a program of seasonal music.

Musicale Chorus Has Big Audience

By MARY C. BUCK

The Christmas season was ushered in with great joyousness Tuesday afternoon by the Tuesday Musicale Chorus for a standing room-only audience in Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Directed by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and accompanied by Mrs. Walter A. Schmitz at the piano, the 31-member group performed numbers with ease and finesse, ranging from the 16th century to the present, composed of carols old and new, folk songs and spirituals.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gaensbauer, a graduate of Parsons College in Iowa and recipient of a Masters degree from Columbia University, molded her chorus into a full resonant unison or three, four or more parts at will.

The alto section was particularly unified and full-bodied, forming a most solid foundation for the mellow second soprano and vibrant first soprano sections.

UNUSUAL ARRANGEMENT

Following the introduction by chairman of the day, Mrs. A. C. Roberts, the chorus presented a group of carols beginning with an unusual arrangement of Hallstrom's "God Rest You Merry Gentlemer.." Although the melody was the familiar one, the harmonies and rhythms were modern and strongly effective, setting the pace for the afternoon's program.

★ ★ ★

The mood then changed to one of deeply religious serenity and peace as Palestrina's "O Bone Jesu" was sung in Latin. The sections' melodies were interwoven with delicate balance and precise enunciation.

Simeone's well-known "Little Drummer Boy" was next and featured Lyle Velte, Pontiac Central High School sophomore on drums, cymbals and block. His percussive effects and the fine accompaniment by Mrs. Schmitz added greatly to this number. It was sung with a beautifully simple, nostalgic interpretation.

TRIO PERFORMS

A trio composed of Alice Helvey, Yvonne Smith, and Elenore Shane performed with tenderness the lovely "Virgin's Slumber Song" by Reger.

The final composition of this group was "The Angels and the Shepherds" by the contemporary Hungarian composer, Zoltan Kodaly.

This is a most dramatic arrangement of a simple Hungarian folk tune which resembles a conversation between two groups of singers as they relate the Christmas story.

The intricate parts and tricky rhythmic patterns were handled by the chorus with ease and skill, testifying again to the fine direction of their conductor.

Joy in youthful accomplishment was enjoyed by all as Deanna Relyea, the club's 1962 scholarship winner, performed with dexterity and skill the first movement of Beethoven's "Pastoral Sonata" and Chopin's "Scherzo in D Minor." In the Beethoven she displayed fine phrasing and depth of tone, creating a feeling of strength and peacefulness.

In the Chopin, her excellent technique came to the fore as her fingers flew over the keyboard with clarity and precision throughout the very demanding opening and closing sections. At present a music major at the University of Michigan, Miss Relyea is studying with Benning Dexter.

CREATES SPIRIT

The spirit of winter fun was created by the chorus when it opened its second group with a clever arrangement by the Krones of the "Swiss Skiing Song," sung in German.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Nicolls, Mrs. William McClure, and Mrs. C. W. Marshbanks, appropriately arrayed in skiing clothes, added greatly to this rollicking song, enjoyed alike by performers and audience.

Also a great favorite was LeRoy Anderson's popular "Sleigh Ride" which was sung with verve and dash.

Again Lyle Velte provided most effective percussive effects. He is at present studying with Sol Rabbio and Robert Clark of the Detroit Symphony and the Detroit Concert Band, respectively.

The mood of spiritual rebirth returned as the Appalachian carol "Never Was a Child So Lovely," arranged by Niles was sung by Mary Louise Lindquist and Glenna Cox very simply and compassionately.

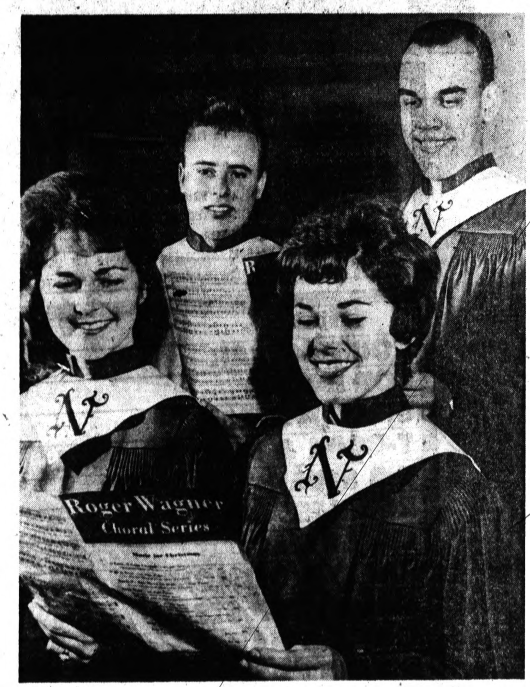
"Little Lordeen," a Gaelic carol arranged by Campbell-Watson, was sung unaccompanied by the chorus with excellent pitch and fine diction. A quiet lullaby, the alto section again shone forth while the oneness between director and chorus was again most evident.

ENCORE GIVEN

The closing selection, by Dorothy McLemore was sung with such spirit that an encore was called for and the group joyously performed "Ring Those Christmas Bells" by Fisher and Levine to conclude a most satisfying musical afternoon.

During the short business meeting preceding the program, new members Mrs. Jerome Cummiskey and Mrs. Alfred DuBruck were introduced by Mrs. Alfred A. Rothweiler. Members and guests were greeted at the door by hostesses Mrs. Robert A. Armstrong and Mrs. Norman Kuijala.

The teatable centerpiece was created by Mrs. Merle R. Voss and Mrs. W. H. Heller. Hostesses at the tea table were Mrs. C. H. Purdy and Mrs. Mac Whitfield. The refreshment committee was co-chairmanned by Mrs. W. E. Brace and Mrs. G. H. Wetterhahn, assisted by Mrs. F. G. Coleman, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs. George Shearer, Mrs. Helen Teitgen and Mrs. J. C. Walker.



Pontiac Northern High School will send its choir to the Community Christmas Concert. Among the singers are Sharon Verwey, East Mansfield Avenue; Douglas Smith, Scottwood Avenue; Sandy Trietsch, East Yale Avenue and Elgin Peterson, First Avenue.

Some of the singers rehearsing at Pontiac Central High School for Sunday's concert are John Hayes, Dwight Avenue; Bill Raynes, Pine Heights Drive; Sharon Fowler, Crawford Street; and Mary Smaltz, Riverside Drive. The MacDowell Male Chorus, directed by A. Michael Dempsey, will join the other singers in songs of the season.

Widower Besieged

Who Got Ball Rolling?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly widow. My brother, 37, recently lost his fine wife, so I am keeping house for him and his two children. My brother is young enough to find another good woman to be his wife and raise his children.

The problem: The married women in this town don't leave him alone. Supposedly respectable married women, living with their husbands, have called him up at two in the morning and begged him to meet them somewhere.

ABBY

I couldn't believe it until he had me listen in on the extension. Four of them are on his trail. How can a decent man find a decent single woman when the married ones throw themselves at him?

CONCERNED SISTER

DEAR CONCERNED: No woman will call a man at two in the morning and beg him to meet her somewhere unless she has had some encouragement. (One might, but not four!) There are plenty of decent widows and single women around. Your brother hasn't been looking in the right places.

DEAR ABBY: In the first place, when I call my doctor for an appointment, his office girl has to know it all. I realize she must know how much time to save for the appointment.

But I have a 10-party line and do you think I want the whole neighborhood knowing my trouble? When I went to his office, the nurse gave me a shot and a bill for $9.50. I never even got to see the doctor. Are nurses doctors now?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nurses are not doctors, they only follow the doctor's instructions. Some nurses are more expert at giving shots than doctors because they get more practice.

Next time, if you want to see the doctor, speak up in his office. Don't needle him behind his back.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After a seven-year courtship, the girl I love has told me she would like to be "friends." Her reason is that she doesn't think she is in love with me.

Abby, I practically supported that girl. I paid a dentist $800 to fix her teeth. (She needed dentures).

I paid I don't know how many bills for her. I got her father out of jail and set her brother up in business. I proved my love for this girl in a thousand ways, and now she offers me her "friendship."

Doesn't she owe me marriage? How can I get her to change her mind.

RON

DEAR RON: You can't. And don't try too hard or you might succeed. A fellow who has to get down on his knees and beg a girl to marry him is lucky if he gets turned down. She owes you plenty, but marriage as a "pay off" would be bad for both of you.

DEAR ABBY: With holiday time drawing near, please warn your readers to be careful when buying Christmas cards. Last year I bought fifty pretty, colorful little Christmas cards and mailed them to my friends. I later discovered the verse inside read: "This little card has come to say A gift from me is on the way!" Best wishes,

"HORRIFIED"

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In the islands of the South Pacific, it is the custom for the women to wear a flower over one ear. When a girl has a boy friend or is married, she wears the flower over a certain ear. If she is not going with anyone special, she wears it over the other ear. I keep forgetting which ear is which. Can you help me?

U.S. MARINE

DEAR MARINE: The flower over the left ear means she is "taken"—the flower over the right ear means she's "available." (But it's those gals with flowers over both ears you have to be careful of.)

★ ★ ★

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Don't Lick Sticky Fingers

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last evening, while visiting a friend, she passed around a box of chocolates. They were quite soft and I got some of the melted chocolate on my fingers. Not having a napkin or a handkerchief handy, I licked the chocolate off my fingers.

I was criticized later by my husband for having done this, but what else was there to do? Under the circumstances, was it so terribly wrong to do what I did?

A: Rather than lick your fingers, you should have asked your hostess if you could have a paper napkin or a tissue on which to wipe your fingers.

Q: I recently was the guest of my brother's fiancee and her family who live in a distant state. While I was there, my future sister-in-law arranged several dates for me.

Before I left she and her mother suggested that I write thank - you notes to these young men upon my return home. I would like to know if you think this is necessary.

I have, of course, written to my brother's fiancee's mother to thank her for a pleasant visit, but I question the propriety of writing to these young men. May I please have your opinion on this matter?

A. You are right. It is not at all necessary for you to write to these young men to thank them for taking you out. I do hope that you thanked them verbally for an enjoyable evening when you returned from your dates with them.

★ ★ ★

Q. When having guests for dinner and they bring in a dessert, is it impolite to serve the dessert I have previously prepared for them, or must I offer them the dessert they have brought in?

Would it be proper to offer them a choice of either my prepared dessert or the dessert they have brought?

A. It will be polite to offer their unexpected dessert in addition to your own.

Christian Group Hears Speeches

The Christian Women's Fellowship group of the First Christian Church met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Jack Clark gave devotions entitled "The Christian Meaning of Christmas Decorations."

Mrs. Allen Hersee, project chairman, explained the Christian Relief Overseas Project (CROP) and the "Used Stamp Project." One commemorative postage stamp will supply nine bowls of cereal or 223 cups of milk.

★ ★ ★

Several stamps can send a heifer to a starving farm family or help ship a carload of grain through CROP.

Participating in a panel discussion entitled "Are These Our Children?" were Mrs. Brady Adams, teacher, who discussed the needs of the exceptional child and Mrs. Robert Albrecht, a nurse, and Dr. Robert Albrecht, who spoke of causes of handicaps and retardation. Mrs. Joe Morgan was moderator.

★ ★ ★

Pastor Jack Clark told what the church is doing for the exceptional and retarded children.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses for next Tuesday's evening circle meetings will be Mrs. Ray Patton, Naomi, and Mrs. William Tompkins, Lydia. The Elizabeth Circle will gather at 12:30 p.m. for luncheon with Mrs. Edward Williams.

McCarroll School Gives Yule Show

McCarroll School will present its annual Christmas program for parents and friends tonight at 7 p.m.

The lower grades will give a play based on the music of the "Nutcracker Suite" called "The Toymaker's Shop." This will be followed by "Greensleeves," and the "Shepherd Boy," a musical play by the upper grades.

June vows are planned by Carole Eileen Coolman, daughter of the Percy D. Coolmans, Allen Park, and Gary Alan Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Miller Jr. of Marie Circle. She is an alumna of Alma College where her fiance is presently a senior.

Residents Flee Fire in Detroit

One Killed, Six Injured in Blazing Apartments

DETROIT (UPI) — A four-alarm fire raged through a downtown Detroit apartment building early today, killing one man and injuring six firemen.

Residents of the apartment building fled in nightclothes into 5-above-zero temperatures.

The body of Robert Hurst, 51, the building maintenance man, was removed from his basement apartment. He died from smoke inhalation.

The six firemen were injured when one of the walls of the four-story building collapsed and the rubble buried a fire engine.

All were hospitalized, but their injuries were not believed serious.

Detroit fire chief Glenn Thom said the blaze started in the basement of a store on the first floor of the building.

Flames quickly shot through the building and into the apartments on the second and third floors.

Residents were routed by shouts and the smell of smoke.

They grabbed what clothes they could and rushed into the street where they shivered in the bitter cold while volunteers rounded up warm clothing and sought places of shelter.

Some of them went to homes of friends nearby.

* * *

Welfare agenices sent cars to carry the occupants to shelter sites. A portable canteen was set up at the scene to serve hot coffee to firemen and occupants of the building.

The bitter cold hampered firemen attempting to battle the blaze. One hose froze and broke.

The spray from water hoses coated everything with a sheet of ice and made it almost impossible to walk in the area.

Helmets worn by the firemen were completely encased in ice and the numbing cold made it difficult to handle equipment.

Firemen said the building was a complete loss.

Brunei Rich in Oil, Rubber

By United Press International

To most Americans, Borneo was known mainly as the home of the "wild man" exhibited in cages at circuses and fairs. But the island is rich with oil, rubber and lumber.

* * *

The Sultanate of Brunei, where revolt has flared, is the second largest oil producer in the British Commonwealth. The tiny protectorate, slightly larger than the State of Delaware (2,226 square miles), is the smallest of the three territories on the island.

Yet the Shell Oil Co., fields at Seria produce 33 million barrels of oil a year and furnish the Brunei government with the income which has made possible free schools, free medical benefits and old age pensions for its citizens.

Brunei has a population of about 85,000 with almost half concentrated around the main city and capital of Brunei. Most of the population are Malaysians, although there is a large percentage of Chinese.

* * *

There also is a sizable native group, including Dyaks, some of whose fellow-tribesmen in the interior of Borneo still practice head-hunting.

* * *

Brunei has been a British protectorate since 1888, with Britain responsible for its defense and foreign affairs. Since Sultan Sir Omar al Saiffudin Washedul Khairi Waddin assumed rule in 1950 there have been numerous reforms.

Under the sultan, the first political party — the people's party whose leader claims to be leading the revolt — was organized formally and registered as a political organization. In 1959, the sultan promulgated the first written constitution.

Brunei faces on the South China Sea, about 80 miles west of Singapore. It is surrounded on the land side by Sarawak, once ruled by the "white sultans."

* * *

A strip of Sarawak extending to the sea cuts Brunei in two parts — the western section is roughly 25 miles wide while the eastern section is 7-15 miles wide.

* * *

Brunei was the most powerful state in Borneo — which up until the 19th century was known as Brunei — from the 16th century to the early 1800s. The sultan controlled the island — third largest in the world after Greenland and New Guinea.

SULTAN OF BRUNEI

But in 1841, the sultan ceded Sarawak to Sir James Brook, the first of the "white sultans" of the territory which is now a British crown colony.

The power of the Brunei sultanate gradually lessened in the ensuing years. In 1877, Britain acquired North Borneo, also currently a British crown colony, and 11 years later, made Brunei a protectorate.

* * *

The first Europeans known to visit Brunei (Borneo) was Magellen and his sailors on their historic round-the-world voyage in 1521.

* * *

About five years later, the first Portuguese arrived. A trading post and a Roman Catholic Church were established in Brunei in the early 17th century. The Spaniards, Dutch and British came in later but stayed only briefly.

Brunei was occupied by the Japanese during World War II and its capital city almost destroyed.

The sultanate is mostly lowlying terrain, with numerous streams. Rainfall is high, an average of 100 inches annually on the coast and about 200 inches in the interior.

Rice, sugar cane, pineapples and bananas are the principal crops. There is considerable stock raising, including cattle, buffalo and hogs.

* * *

Behind the revolt is opposition to the planned federation of Brunei, with Sarawak and North Borneo into a greater Malaysia with Singapore and Malaya within the British commonwealth.

* * *

The three British territories occupy the northern one-third of the Island of Borneo. The remainder is controlled by Indonesia which took over from the Dutch after World War II.

Choose Industrialist to Head Auto Club

DETROIT (AP)—The board of directors of the Automobile Club of Michigan re-elected Detroit industrialist and civic leader Mervyn G. Gaskin to the post of club president yesterday.

Gaskin predicted the auto club will continue to grow in the coming year and added that the club has already scheduled the opening of three new offices within the next few months.

He said additional offices are in the planning stage.

Castro's End—Like His Beginning—Must Be Violent

By PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

Guantanamo is emerging slowly from its womanless, wifeless state. The simple return of domesticity seems to establish that the Cuban crisis is not a crisis anymore.

NEWSOM

As wives rejoined husbands on the big naval base, UPI correspondent John Goldsmith reported this burst of affection from hospital technician Edwin C. Adams, who but for a turn of events might have been engaged in far less pleasurable pursuits. Said Adams:

"We really missed those long haired mess cooks."

Castro's Cuba also seemed to be returning to normal.

Scarcely had the last Russian bomber departed in its crate from Cuban shores than the government set about confiscating more businesses and returning to its normal denunciations of the United States.

★ ★ ★

If this seems like a light approach to a most serious problem, it is not intended so.

Rather it is a sigh of relief echoing in many another quarter that the world has managed to emerge relatively unscathed from what could have been its first, and perhaps its last, nuclear war.

The fact that a firm hand, plus diplomacy, had turned an untenable situation into one of some advantage to the United States did not, however, provide a total solution nor the answer to several remaining important questions.

WHAT ABOUT FIDEL?

One of the most intriguing of these is, what now for Fidel Castro?

If the Soviet Union simply used the bearded leader as a means for placing their missiles and bombers on Cuban bases and thereby gaining a military advantage over the United States, Castro's usefulness to them now would seem to be considerably reduced.

Despite the jovial appearance of Soviet First Deputy Anastas Mikoyan on his departure for Moscow after a 24-day Cuban visit, it also seemed obvious that Castro had proved a hard man to handle, thus further reducing his usefulness.

There is no doubt also that he has been badly hurt in Latin America.

When such a man as Brazil's Leonel Brizola, anti-Yankee governor of Rio Grande Do Sul state, lashes out at hhim for "dishhonoring" the Cuban revolution, it is apparent that the portrait of an idealistic champion of the people has been dimmed considerably.

★ ★ ★

As for the United States, the administration opposes now as it has in the past an invasion of Cuba, both for its high cost in lives and for the effect it would have on other American nations.

But President Kennedy clearly made known an alternative when, in his announcement Oct. 22 of the Cuban quarantine, he told the Cuban people:

". . . Many times in the past the Cuban people have risen to throw out tyrants who destroyed their liberty. And I have no doubt that most Cubans today look forward to the time when they will be truly free . . ."

Altogether, Castro seems more alone now than he ever was, with more people having reason to wish he would disappear.

It is possible that he will.

But Castro's own history is one of violence and it seems his end also must be violent.

Whether the end comes from internal revolt or from the outside, the cost still will be high.

Breaking Down Doors to Keep Warmed Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Burglars at Little Rock Air Force Base forced the hinges on a storeroom and took eight fur parkas valued at about $500.

The mercury rose only to 30 degrees Tuesday and the prediction was for zero readings in the state today.

Mississippi Cost U.S. $406,508

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has put a $406,508 price tag on its use of marshals and lawyers for 46 days during the University of Mississippi desegregation crisis.

The figure, released by the Justice Department, included all department expenses — from travel costs to the price of teargas pellets.

The summary, covering Sept. 15 through Oct. 31, did not include major expense of the operation — the use of federal troops to enforce court orders requiring the admission of Negro James H. Meredith to the previously all-white university.

Two persons were killed and hundreds were injured during rioting which erupted the night of Sept. 30 after Meredith was led onto the campus.

Most of the expense was $292,769 overtime pay and travel expenses for 541 deputy U.S. marshals employed in the operation. These included specially-deputized border patrolmen and Bureau of Prisons personnel.

The overtime pay accounted for $190,715 and travel costs for $102,054, the department said.

Other expenses, it added, included $67,723 for supplies and equipment, $23,469 for communications and $22,547 for miscellaneous items.

Listed among the miscellsneous items was $11,668 for repairs "to vehicles damaged during rioting."

Cuba Nationalizes Cash 'for People'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Scarce merchandise valued at over two million Cuban pesos and cash amounting to $28,000 have been "recovered for the people" through nationalization, Havana Radio said yesterday.

The cache of dollars, said a broadcast heard here, was uncovered at Sagua la Grande in Las Villas Province.

Without prior notice, the government last Dec. 4 decreed nationalization of the last remaining privately owned businesses. This apparently caught proprietors without time to hide their cash hoards. Many of them are being held for trial, Havana Radio has reported.

Studebaker Makes Glass Fiber Bodies

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker has started pilot production of glass fiber bodies for its Avanti sports model at the company's main assembly plant.

Currently the bodies are assembled by Molded Fiber Glass Co. at Ashtabula, Ohio.

Studebaker hopes to have the South Bend assembly under way by the end of January with production running 25 bodies per day by the end of February.

The Ohio plant, which fabricates as well as assembles the bodies, now produces 25 daily. Production would continue in Ashtabula.

Studebaker said it has 2,500 back orders for the car.

Friendly Police Dog Stolen From Pound

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A police department dog has been stolen.

Police reported that Duke, a 9-month-old German shepherd, was taken from the city dog pound where he was kept as a canine corps replacement.

They said Duke is very friendly.

Over a million combine machines and 4,750,000 tractors are used in American farming operations. But an estimated 3.5 million work animals are still maintained.

Selected Issues Up on Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, tobaccos, and selected issues moved higher in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of key stocks went roughly from fractions to about a point.

The list was thoroughly scrambled at the opening. As time went on, elements of strength appeared progressively but the over-all picture was still uneven.

All the top steel producers were U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin, both ahead about a point, and Youngstown Sheet, ahead well over a point.

Among tobaccos, Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, and American Tobacco posted fractional gains.

UP A POINT

Chrysler, up a point, was the best of the auto stocks. General Motors tacked on a fraction. Others were about unchanged.

Du Pont recovered a point, American Telephone a fraction.

★ ★ ★

Douglas Aircraft was fractionally lower in moderate dealings despite reports from London that possible discarding of that company's Skybolt missile might threaten the British-American alliance.

The market seemed to show no immediate reaction to Washington news that President Kennedes strong opposition on the part of key figures in congress.

General American Transportation dropped 2¼ to 66 on 1,200 shares.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Bonds Steady, Rise Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were steady to a shade higher at the opening today.

★ ★ ★

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted intermediate and long maturities generally 2/32 higher in quiet dealings.

Rails edged upward in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange while industrials slipped small fractions. Utilities were mixed.

Ford Cautious About Economy

Prosperity Not Certain; Need Broad Tax Cut

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II took a cautious view of the year ahead in his traditional year-end statement issued today.

He said the pickup in the economy in 1962 "has by no means been strong enough or gone far enough to insure that we are headed for new plateaus of prosperity."

Some spark is needed, he suggested, "to give the economy enough momentum to carry it past rough spots without stalling."

★ ★ ★

Ford said the country needs a strong pickup in investment spending and a broad tax cut for both individuals and business.

"We need a continued management effort to control costs, and a corollary acceptance by labor of the fact that all will benefit ultimately if a part of productivity gains are used to avoid price increases rather than to raise wages.

"These measures would put our economic house in shape for the long haul and enhance our prospects for 1963."

★ ★ ★

The automative executive said most of the indicators point to an excellent year for new-car sales but that such sales will depend upon operation of the general economy.

"There just is not enough momentum in the current upswing to carry the economy past obstacles," Ford declared.

"The economic outlook for 1963 is optimistic and replete with opportunity," he said, "but prosperity will not thrust itself upon us automatically. There are doors to be opened to make it feel welcome."

Hopes to End News Strike Appear Dim

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes for a speedy end to the printers strike that has blacked out all nine of this city's major dailies seemed blacker than ever today.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, called it "an extremely serious situation" that could keep the papers out for weeks. He left Tuesday night for a speaking engagement in Atlanta, Ga., after a day here trying to break the deadlock.

Wirtz left behind the nation's top negotiator—Director William E. Simkin of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service—to sit in at a joint bargaining session today between representatives of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union Local 6 and the Publishers Association of New York.

But, asked if either side had changed its position on wages and fringe benefits since the strike began early last Saturday, Simkin replied:

"Not fundamentally."

Wirtz said he didn't know if he would return here for another try at ending the strike.

Avert Strike 5 Minutes Before the Deadline

FLINT (AP) — Agreement was reached between the management of the Chevrolet Assembly Plant here and Local 659 of the United Auto Workers yesterday eliminating a strike threat five minutes before a 4 p.m. deadline.

There was no break in production as Chevrolet Assembly employes reported for their regular second shift operations.

Set Highway Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing will be held at Pinconning Dec. 20 to discuss the proposed location of a $20-million freeway in Bay and Arenac counties north of Bay City, the highway department announced.

Khrushchev's Fair Game for Family Satire Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Since one record company was able to get away with a satire on the present occupants of the White House, another felt that Nikita S. Khrushchev was fair game, too.

The result is a newly issued travesty on the people in the Kremlin called "At Home With That Other Family."

As in the case of the record made by imitators of the Kennedy family, the one made by mimics of Khrushchev and his wife is reported by the record manufacturer to be enjoying brisk initial sales.

The Khrushchev record idea was dreamed up by comedy writer Leonard Gaines and Gwen Davis, author of "I Love Louisa," which is expected to be Elizabeth Taylor's next movie.

Miss Davis also appears in this "quickie" recording as "Nina Petrovna Khrushchev" but she sounds more like Molly Goldberg, George Segal is cast as "Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev."

If you want to believe what you hear on this record, Khrushchev is a jolly old fellow who has been brainwashed by American television commercials and Mrs. Khrushchev is a homey housewife who needs a maid.

"Nickie," she pleads, "let me get a girl at least twice a week."

"I'll get you something nice," Nickie replied. "It's a white tornado."

In another section of the record, Nina wants to know why she can't get things done. Don Mishkin, that man with the Damon Runyon-type accent, offers advice.

"Madame," he says, "too many soapsuds are clogging your machine."

In one segment, Nina presides at a Telstar-televised tour of the Kremlin.

RED ROOMS

"This is the Red room," she says. "And behind that Red room is the other Red room. And behind that is the other Red room."

* * *

There is the inevitable press conference. Here Khrushchev, who on other parts of the record speaks a heavily accented English, speaks in a language that might be mistaken for Russian. His remarks are translated.

"How do you feel about Red China?" a reporter asks.

"It's all right if you have the right accessories and linen," is the answer.

"Can a Jewish man become premier?"

* * *

This question is followed by a long reply in "Russian," but the translator says: "The premier feels that after he dies, Nina can marry anyone she wants."

"If you reach the moon first, would you consider it Soviet property?" another newsman asks.

"Finders keepers, losers weepers," the premier replies.

Digital dialing, a new system in which numbers take the place of letters in making telephone calls, is the subject of one skit.

Khrushchev tries to place a phone call and the operator gives him a long string of numbers.

"Please," he says, "I'm an old man and I have a tired finger."

To Americans who are old enough to remember the "knock, knock" craze of the 1930's, one part of this record is grim. It's a World War III joke.

"Knock, knock," someone says.

There is no funny reply. Just silence.

Pontiac Area Deaths

Mrs. Berz died yesterday in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was a member of Commerce Chapter No. 301, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving besides her husband are a son, George of South Lyon; a brother, Charles Sanders of Milford and three grandchildren.

Explain Firing Welfare Aide

The firing of Helen E. Slayton, ex-deputy director of the County Welfare Department, was explained yesterday to the welfare committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The committee indicated it was satisfied that the acting director of the department, George Williams, had sufficient reason to fire Mrs. Slayton, 50, for "insubordination."

Welfare Board Chairman John A. Macdonald informed the committee that Williams was not appearing "on trial" before them but to keep members abreast of events.

Williams was hired by the welfare board and it alone could relieve him of his present duties, Macdonald said.

The board previously supported the acting director in his actions.

Mrs. Slayton had been with the department for 20 years. She served the entire period under Director George A. Burt, who has announced his retirement after the first of the year.

Illness has kept him away from his office for the past year.

Williams will succeed Burt, Macdonald said.

Federal Recognition Extended to General

LANSING (AP) — Federal recognition of the grade of major general of the line has been extended to Maj. Gen. Cecil Simmons, commander of the 46th Infantry Division of the Michigan Army National Guard, Gov. Swainson said yesterday.

Swainson said the recognition was made effective as of Nov. 19. Confirmation by the U.S. Senate and appointment as a reserve officer of the Army in the same grade are pending, Swainson said.

LAWRENCE J. DUPREE

Get New Job With Pontiac

The appointment of Lawrence J. Dupree as assistant organization and analysis manager at Pontiac Motor Division was annouced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager for the division.

Dupree has served as business management manager for Pontiac's Pittsburgh zone since 1951. He plans to move to the Pontiac area in the near future.

He joined Pontiac in 1945 as car distributor and office manager in the Cincinnati zone and in 1947 became assistant manager of car distribution at the central office in Pontiac.

* * *

In 1949 Dupree was named parts and accessories manager in the Cleveland zone.

A native of Cincinnati, Dupree graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1932. He is married and has four children.

Skating Rinks Stalled by Lack of Frost Here

An unusual aspect of the current cold spell is that it came before there was any frost in the ground.

That's why ice skating rinks still haven't appeared in Pontiac, according to the Parks and Recreation Department.

There must be at least 3 inches of frost in the ground before rinks can be successfully flooded.

* * *

Preparations are now moving ahead rapidly, and with cold temperatures forecast for the next five days, flooding should be possible by early next week, department officials reported today.

Present plans called for 17 skating rinks, two hockey rinks with boards and three areas with an extra rink for hockey without boards.

The sled slide at Murphy Park was opened last weekend and is reported to be in perfect shape. The toboggan shoot is being iced and is expected to be operating today or tomorrow.

County 'Seniors' Lauded on Work for the Aging

The Oakland County Senior Citizens Council is one of seven organizations in the state singled out for outstanding work by the Michigan Commission on Aging.

The commission cited the group for its services to senior citizens during the last year. The county council's president is Joseph Garner of Rochester.

The other groups are:

* * *

Ann Arbor Committee on Aging, Jackson Senior Citizens Center, Clinton County Senior Citizens, Midland Council on Aging and the Traverse City Committee on Aging.

The Ypsilanti Senior Citizens Recreation Center also was congratulated for its work during the last year.

Set Hearings for Proposed Ordinance

Public hearings on Waterford Township's proposed new zoning ordinance are scheduled for Jan. 15 and 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School.

Primary purpose of the new ordinance prepared by township planning director Robert Diebali is to provide greater township control over land use.

Far more detailed than the existing ordinance, the new one is a 90-page text including over 100 definitions. The present 10-page ordinance contains only a few definitions.

* * *

The proposed ordinance, along with the zoning map, will be published Wednesday.

Work on the document began last May and is now completed. Following the public hearings it will be submitted to the county zoning coordinating committee for review.

A previous revised zoning ordinance prepared by the township zoning board was rejected by the county committee two years ago. The township had no planning director at the time.

Fly Boston-Rome Route

BOSTON (UPI) —Trans World Airlines inaugurated weekly service between Boston and Rome last night via Shannon, Paris and Zurich.

Janitor Jailed for 60 Days

A 38-year-old Pontiac Mall janitor who pleaded guilty Nov. 27 to breaking and entering the Mall's new Grinnell Bros. store Sept. 19 yesterday was sentenced to 60 days in jail and three years' probation.

* * *

Orhn Harge, of 2241 Antoinette St., Detroit, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Harge was caught in a police stakeout at the store during the night after a stock inventory showed several radios and television sets missing two days before the store was to open. Police said some $1,650 in merchandise taken from the store was recovered.

Grand Rapids OKs Employes' Pay Raise

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The Grand Rapids City Commission approved a 10 per cent pay increase yesterday for the city's 500 policemen and firemen.

* * *

Also approved was a 5 per cent pay hike for 500 laborers, and skilled tradesmen employed by the city.

Board Opens Bids for Sewer

Total Will Keep Cost Within Estimate

Bids for construction of the Dequindre interceptor sewer in Southeastern Oakland County were opened yesterday by the 12 Towns Drain Board.

Low bids total $5,643,735, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry announced afterward.

This will keep the total cost of the project within the original estimate of $8 million, Barry said.

Yet to be added to construction costs are costs of engineering, land acquisition and contingency funds before arriving at a final figure.

Drain commission engineers should have the final figure within the next few days, Barry said, in time for bonds to be sold and construction to begin by Jan. 1.

The project must be under way by the first of the year in order to qualify for federal grants for half of the total cost.

Bidding was divided into four divisions.

Low bids were submitted by Dimambro Construction Co. of Detroit in two divisions totaling $4,024,900; Mansini Construction Co. of Warren, $1,541,835; and James & Savage Co., of Detroit, $77,000.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son Freeman Leslie Rantz, who passed away December 10, 1961.
Time turns away the edges of grief
But memory turns back every leaf.
Sadly missed by Mom and Dad.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY HUSband, Otis O. Overby, who passed away December 12, 1961.
I cannot say,
And I will not say,
That he is dead, he is just away.
With a cheery smile,
And a wave of the hand,
Think of him still as the same I say.
He is not dead, he is just away.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

U.S. Park Funds to Be Sought

By a 5-2 vote, the Pontiac City Commission last night approved asking the federal government for $34,830 toward the purchase of future park property next to Galloway Lake.

Voting against the measure were Commissioners Charles H. Harmon and William H. Taylor Jr. Both opposed paying $174,000 for the 6½-acre parcel when the proposed purchase was okayed several weeks ago.

The application for funds will go to the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Funds equaling 20 per cent of the purchase price are available under the federal open space program, designed to aid cities in acquiring land for park sites.

In another property deal, commissioners authorized the city's purchase of property for widening Wrenn Street for $11,450.

ZONING ACTION

In other business, the following action was taken.

Commissioners concurred with planning commission recommendations to rezone from residential to commercial one lot at 160 Palmer St. and two lots at 117 E. Columbia Ave. Public hearings will be slated on both items later.

Commissioners concurred with a planning commission recommendation to proceed with plans to rezone to commercial the north side of Fisher Street, Bagley Avenue to the Clinton River.

Final adoption will be held up pending the presentation of specific plans for use of the site by the owner.

In a related item, commissioners concurred with a recommendation to vacate an alley running between Fisher and Rockewell streets and scheduled a public hearing on the vacation for Jan. 22.

Vacation is contingent on adoption of the rezoning of the property.

The commission agreed with a recommendation from planners to deny a request to rezone more than 150 lots in South Park Subdivision from Residential-2 and 3 to Residential-1 classification.

An accompanying recommendation to rezone the entire subdivision to Manufacturing-1 was tentatively okayed.

The area lies at the northwest corner of East and South boulevards.

A public hearing on the rezoning will be held before the planning commission at its Jan. 9 meeting.

Commissioners concurred with a planning commission recommendation to vacate a strip of land at the rear of the main Pontiac Post Office on West Huron Street.

The land had been retained as right-of-way for future extension of Miami Road when the post office was built in 1958. A public hearing will be slated on the matter.

An identical recommendation to vacate land behind the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland Building, next door to the post office, was deferred one week so that nearby property owners can be notified.

The First Federal property, to be used for offstreet parking, is adjacent to residences on Genesee Road.

Public hearings were scheduled for next Tuesday's meeting on special assessment rolls covering proposed construction of curbs and gutters on parts of Corwin Avenue.

Also slated for public hearing next week was a roll covering unpaid weed cutting charges for 1962.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed in two payments each for construction of a water main in part of Kenneth Road and curbs and gutters on a portion of Hollywood Avenue.

Confirmed in five payments each were rolls covering curbs and gutters on parts of Columbia, Scottwood and Harvey avenues.

A request from Jesse Toles Jr. to drop Donald C. Schroeder as a partner in his SDD and SDM licensed business at 820-22 Joslyn Ave. was approved.

Turn Lanes Installed on Huron Section

To eliminate a growing traffic problem, turn lanes are being installed in the center of W. Huron Street between Murphy Street and Osceola Drive this week.

Parking will be eliminated at the south curb of W. Huron along this stretch, City Manager Robert A. Stierer told the City Commission last night.

The measure was recommended by the city's traffic committee and approved by the Police Department Traffic Bureau and Michigan State Highway Department.

Traffic turning into the main Pontiac Post Office, 735 W. Huron St., heavy turn traffic at several intersections and a general increase in volume brought on the need for channelization, Stierer explained.

"Signs and cones designating turn lanes will be installed by Department of Public Works crews Friday," he said.

"If the channelization proves succesful," Stierer noted, "it can be extended east to Johnson Avenue.
