Fangboner, Kampsen Win Waterford Race

Called Worst Turnout for Primary Balloting

Waterford Township Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner won the nomination on the Democratic ticket for township clerk, and Leo F. Kampsen, an automobile salesman scored an overwhelming victory over his Republican opponent in yesterday's township primaries.

In what officials said was one of the worst turnouts for a primary, only 2,636 of the township's 22,000 registered voters cast their ballots.

The top position of township supervisor was not contested in either party.

James E. Seeterlin, present clerk, filed on the Democratic ticket. Incumbent Elmer R. Johnson, elected three times on the Democratic ticket, is running as a Republican this year. He changed to the Republican party early last year.

Fangboner, with 630 votes, defeated his rival Lewis B. Ruelle by 101 votes.

Kampsen's 778 total outdistanced Ronald W. Smith's 440, almost two to one.

The only contest on the Republican slate besides clerk was for treasurer. Fred L. Morningstar of 4465 Major St. garnered 680 votes, while his opponent Michael G. Patterson of 6329 Grace K. Court got 570.

The biggest contest after clerk on the Democratic ticket was for the four positions open as township trustee.

Of the seven who filed, John S. Coleman of 100 Crescent Drive polled the highest with 874.

Charles Evans, 370 Riveria St., received 790; a former board member, John E. Verhey, 4434 Cheeseman St., 732, and Kenneth Preston, 6441 Crost Drive, 598.

Losers were Donald R. Herr of 3579 Signet St., with 590, and Juanita M. Luehmann of 3611 Percy King Drive with 429.

Races on the Democratic ticket for constable were won by Gerald Carter of 1043 Hira Road, with, 769, and Roy J. Wegman of 6106 Waterfront St., with 537 total.

The loser, Floyd A. Tonkin of 3490 Dixie Highway received 516 votes.

Russia to Pull Troops From Cuba

U.S. Informed Thousands to Go Home Soon

Secret White House Conference Assumed to Concern Red Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has informed the United States that several thousand Soviet troops will be withdrawn from Cuba in the next three weeks, diplomatic informants reported today.

This word from Moscow is understood to have been given to the Kennedy administration yesterday through the Soviet embassy here.

It is understood that President Kennedy's decision to call congressional leaders to a meeting with him last night followed that development.

The bipartisan group, about a score of legislators, had only two hours notice.

The individuals slipped in and out of the executive mansion, avoiding newsmen.

In spite of this secrecy, reports began circulating overnight that there had been some important development related to President Kennedy's known effort to find out when Soviet Premier Khrushchev intended to pull more of his troops out of Cuba.

Official administration estimates are that there are about 17,000 Russians in Cuba at the present time.

Highly qualified informants said that there was "no deal whatever" involved in the latest development and that the Soviet government had not proposed or demanded any price for the reduction of its Cuban force.

AN OLD PROMISE

Last Nov. 20 Kennedy received a note from Khrushchev saying that a number of Soviet combat units associated with the nuclear missile and jet bomber bases would be withdrawn "in due course."

Two weeks ago Kennedy recalled this at a news conference as he sought to deal with mounting congressional criticism, particularly Republican criticism, of his Cuban policies.

Gen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and others have claimed a serious Communist threat continued in Cuba because of the presence of Soviet combat forces.

The number of troops which would be withdrawn under the new Kremlin assurance was not precisely known but speculation turned on the point that several thousand would mean by definition at least 3,000 and the total could be quite a bit more than that.

Special concern—particularly in criticism of administration Cuban policy here—has focused

Kennedy Welcomes Betancourt to White House

Kennedy Gives Warm Greeting to Betancourt

Venezuelan Leader Is Praised for Policies Aiding His People

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy welcomed Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt to Washington today with extraordinary words of praise.

"You represent all we admire in a political leader," Kennedy told the Venezuelan in a rain-dampened honor ceremony at the White House.

Kennedy and the Venezuelan leader and their wives stood under the north portico of the White House facing Pennsylvania Avenue.

They were sheltered from the rain and snow which fell during the ceremonies but not from the chill blast of Washington's increasingly cold weather.

Mrs. Kennedy wore a black mink beret and matching coat. Mrs. Betancourt wore a tight-fitting hat and cloth coat.

Kennedy wore no overcoat but Betancourt did.

PRESENTS ROSES

Mrs. Kennedy presented a bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Betancourt as the Venezuelan couple pulled up before the White House.

The visitors had just flown by helicopter from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to the ellipse on the other side of the White House, and made the short turn around the executive mansion by limousine.

Kennedy recalled "with great pleasure and appreciation the most cordial welcome accorded to Mrs. Kennedy and me when we visited Venezuela in December of 1961."

"In addition to your own advanced and progressive policies to aid the people of your country, your companionship with other liberal and progressive leaders also makes you a symbol not only for your country but for ours and others in the hemisphere," the U. S. executive told his guest.

Seek Youth in Slaying of 5 in Family

GREEN BAY, Wis., (AP)—A 16-year-old boy accused of shooting to death five members of his family was taken into custody about noon today at a farmhouse some 25 miles northwest of Green Bay.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—A husband and wife, one son and their twin daughters, were found shot to death in their secluded home on the outskirts of Green Bay today, and police issued an all-points bulletin asking for the arrest of the sixth member of the family, a 16-year-old boy.

Police Chief Elmer Madson said the pickup order was broadcast for Harry "Butch" Hebard, a high school junior with dark, wavy hair.

At 11 a.m., Dist. Atty. Robert Warren issued a warrant charging the youth with first degree murder in the slaying of his stepfather.

Madson identified the dead as Jack Hebard, a 38-year-old employe of North Central Air Lines; Mrs. Joyce Hebard, 35, and three of her children by a previous marriage—John Ruddell, 15, and the 11-year-old twins, Judy and Janice.

Madson said that the five apparently were slain before the dinner hour last night, but the bodies were not discovered until a fellow employe of Hebard's, Dale Aebescher, passed the family's remodeled farmhouse home and saw that although it was brightly lighted there was no sign of activity.

Aebescher called his own wife when he arrived at work, and asked her to call the Hebard home and "make sure Jack was up and would get to work on time."

Mrs. Aebescher called the police and asked them to check. Two detectives went to the home, in a sparsely settled and recently annexed outskirts area, and saw four bodies lying on the kitchen floor.

These, Madson said, were the bodies of Mrs. Hebard, the little girls and John Ruddell. Each had been shot once in the temple by what coroner Cletus Belisle said apparently was a 22-caliber pistol. Such a weapon was missing from a gun rack in the basement.

Half of Allocations to Stay in State, GM President Says

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — President John F. Gordon of General Motors says his company consistently allocates about 50 per cent of everything to Michigan.

"We have no intention of deviating," he told a news conference yesterday, "because it is the most economical way to run our business."

Gordon and Chairman Frederic G. Donner disclosed General Motors will spend $1.33 billion worldwide this year for plants and equipment and for special tools, those suitable for only one model year.

Spending in Michigan will come close to $500 million, they said.

They made no attempt at a breakdown of Michigan expenditures. But they did say extensive modernization will be undertaken at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body car and truck assembly plants at Flint and at the Cadillac-Fisher Body facilities in Detroit.

PREDICTED RIGHT

Donner observed that General Motors from the first has predicted excellent sales for 1963, as good or better than the seven million cars of 1962, and "we haven't been wrong so far."

In a move described as "common, ordinary business prudence," the GM officials revealed that the corporation will triple its steel inventory to 1.6 million tons.

This will be done as protection against any steel strike this summer.

Donner and Gordon said GM is stockpiling steel so that if a labor crisis occurs this summer the corporation will have enough "to finish our old models and get a supply of the new ones out."

Gordon said GM normally carries an inventory of 550,000 to 600,000 tons. The supply is now 10-15 per cent above normal and by the end of July GM will have an extra one million tons on hand, he said.

The announcement sent steel stocks upward as much as two points.

On a wide range of other subjects, the top GM executives said:

Seat belts are a good idea but use should be voluntary. Donner said he was pleased that state legislation on seat belts now tended to say owners must supply the belts, rather than dealers or manufacturers.

COMPANY POLICY

General Motors and its divisions will adhere to the Automobile Manufacturers Association resolution on speed and horsepower. GM has a company policy which spells this out, although some divisions have violated it in the past.

Gordon said specifically that no GM division is sponsoring any cars in the Daytona Beach 500-mile race this coming weekend.

But at another point Gordon said if a customer is in the market for performance it would be "very hard for him to miss us."

Donner said General Motors' position on profit sharing continues unchanged from 1948, that employes are going to share in advance of the fact on an assured basis "and I would say that the whole trend of our wage rates and salary rates would indicate they have been sharing."

Romney Lauds Economic Plan

Says Administration Bolsters Integrity

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney believes his administration has made a start toward re-establishing what he calls the state's financial integrity.

The Republican governor beamed with optimism in a television interview last night in reporting on his first six weeks in office.

Emphasizing that getting more jobs for Michigan was still his No. 1 goal, Romney expressed belief that prospects for doing this already have improved.

Steps have been taken, he said, to solve some of the controversial issues between labor and management. He cited efforts to compromise a dispute over payment of state unemployment benefits to workers idled by strikes at plants in other states.

Romney said the legislature "has established a schedule that will result in a short, action-packed session."

The governor's plan is to have a legislative session later this year to consider tax reform. He said tax reform can be put into effect easier under the proposed constitution which will be voted on at the April 1 election.

"We must re-establish Michigan's financial integrity," he said. "We've spent more than we've had in the bank. This is immoral and economically unsound."

The governor said the budget for the next fiscal year will take in more money than the state spends but he remarked, "we've got to do something about our revenue program for the following fiscal year."

Asked whether Michigan was

Would Let Courts Cancel Convictions

LANSING — A bill introduced into the State Senate by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, would allow annulment of criminal convictions after prisoners were paroled or completed their sentences.

The legislation would enable courts to order such an annulment to assist in rehabilitation when it would be consistent with the public welfare.

Courts in which a prisoner was convicted could "enter an order annulling, canceling and rescinding the record of conviction and disposition" if the measure becomes law.

After the annulment, full civil rights would be restored to the released prisoner unless the order provided otherwise.

Roberts' bill said the person "shall be treated in all respects as not having been convicted, except that upon conviction of any subsequent crime the prior conviction may be considered by the court in determining the sentence to be imposed."

Prospective employers and others would be restricted in questioning persons about previous criminal records to such language as "Have you ever been arrested for or convicted of a crime which has not been annulled by a court?"

Under the bill, the questioning restriction would apply to any application for employment, license, or other civil right or privilege, or any appearance as a witness.

Recall, Cityhood Fail

Voters yesterday kept in office three school board members who were the subjects of a special recall proposition in the Avondale School District.

In another hotly contested issue, the proposed city incorporation of Rochester and an adjacent portion of Avon Township was defeated by a 4 to 1 margin.

Complete results of primaries held yesterday in 21 area communities are on pages 4 and 7 of today's Pontiac Press.

Sacrifices Life for Girl

Youth Hurled to Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"He was my first serious boy friend," said Paulette Lewis, 15. "We had been going steady one month and 12 days."

Then she began to cry.

Paulette told Monday, between tears, of the moment David Brimley sacrificed his life for her as they walked, hand-in-hand, across an avenue near their homes.

Suddenly a car roared through a red light, glanced off another auto, and hurtled, brakes squealing, at Paulette and David.

"David shouted, 'Look out,' and he gave me a push," Paulette said. "I think he tried to run, but —when I recovered my balance, I couldn't see him."

David, 17, who had just gotten his first job and enrolled in his first college course, was hurled 150 feet to his death.

The careening car slid into a power pole and halted. Three young men jumped out and ran.

"I looked around," said Paulette, "and saw where the car had hit the pole down the street. I walked down there—" Again she cried "—and found him lying at the curb."

Police drove her home after the accident Sunday night. Her mother, Jean Lewis, called a doctor. He treated the pretty, blonde 10th grader with sedatives.

Police also went to tell David's mother, Lillian Armstrong, a few doors away.

She told a newsman later: "Why, David had just left the house. His dog was watching for him at the window, the way he always does. He was gone half an hour.

"Then—he was dead."

Europe Danger Termed 'Worst'

McNamara Outlines Plans at Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told senators today that "The Communist threat in Europe is the largest single threat we face in the world."

He outlined his department's over-all defense plans before the Senate Armed Services Committee, some members of which were anxious to ask him about a more specific problem, the menace of Soviet arms and troops in Cuba.

McNamara said the Communist peril in Europe is greatest "because Western Europe, aside from the United States, represents the most important center of free world power."

"The loss of Western Europe to the Soviet Union would drastically alter the balance of power in the world," he added.

A censored version of McNamara's prepared testimony, covering some 163 pages, was made available to newsmen outside the closed session. It appeared identical to one supplied when he appeared before the House Armed Services Committee on Jan. 30.

McNamara was called before the Senate Armed Services Committee for testimony behind closed doors on the progress of the administration's program to build a flexible force of strategic weapons capable of absorbing a nuclear attack and then hitting back at the Soviet Union.

East Suffering Epidemic

Flu-Like Illness Hits Midwest

By The Associated Press

Outbreaks of influenza - like disease, hitting epidemic proportions in some eastern localities, have spread to the Middle West. Respiratory illness have been reported to some degree throughout most of the nation.

New York City has an Asian flu epidemic, but it is not as serious as in 1957 when this particular strain swept across the United States for the first time, said Dr. George James, city health commissioner.

In upstate New York, four 40-bed wards of the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo were quarantined because of what a doctor termed an outbreak of an acute, flu-like respiratory infection. It has not been diagnosed as Asian flu.

In the Buffalo area, five schools reported 10 per cent absenteeism because of illness.

More than 1,000 new cases a day were reported in West Virginia last week.

Flu-like outbreaks spread in Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas reported the disease on the increase in counties which include Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, home of the state university.

In the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, about 15 per cent of the area's school children were out Monday, compared with 23 per cent Friday.

City health officials said the flu plague may end quickly—within 10 days.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said cases have been reported in parts of the South, Southwest, Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

The center's latest report—covering the week ending Feb. 9—includes 707 pneumonia-influenza deaths in the 108 cities which file reports. There were more than 100,000 cases reported this week.

Everglades Plane Disaster Linked to Structure Stress

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The flight recorder of the Northwest Orient Airlines jet that crashed in the Florida Everglades last Wednesday indicates the plane was subjected to violent stresses severe enough to cause structural failure, it was learned today.

The stresses may have been the result of storm turbulence, although this still is in the realm of speculation.

SERLING

Sources close to the investigation of the crash, in which all 43 aboard were killed, said a preliminary recorder reading showed this picture:

—The Boeing 720B jet reached a maximum altitude of about 19,400 feet when it encountered what appeared to be extreme turbulence.

—The indicated air speed at this point was about 250 or 255 knots (around 300 miles per hour), which is standard penetration speed for entering turbulence in a jet.

—At this speed, the recorder scrawled out a reading of negative "G" forces 3.5 times that of gravity. Negative G forces put a downward strain on the wings, and 3.5 far exceeds the design limits of the airplane.

— The high G forces indicating probable turbulence was followed by a minute of smooth flight, then slightly choppy air for another 30 seconds, and suddenly a nose down pitch-over into a dive.

—The speed in the dive built up to as high as 620 miles per hour and possible higher. The speed tracing went off the recorder's graph at about 10,000 feet, an altitude at which 620 m.p.h. far surpasses the "never exceed" speed of a jet.

Investigators emphasized that the recorder readings thus far are preliminary and subject to continued analysis. They also cautioned against any premature interpetation.

Airmen and engineers alike would be stunned if it is finally determined that the Northwest jet was wrecked by storm turbulence. Airliners like the Boeing 720 are regarded as the strongest ever built.

"If it turns out to be turbulence," one pilot commented, "it must have been the equivalent of a tornado. I just can't believe it could happen to a jet."

Brazilians Reported on Seized Ship

BELEM, Brazil (AP)—A small detachment of Brazilian marines was reported today to have boarded the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui. The ship was proceeding toward this port at the mouth of the Amazon River.

The Venezuelan government shipping company, owners of the Anzoategui, said in Caracas it had received a message from the ship reporting that she would put into Macapa, at the north entrance to the Amazon, about 200 miles northwest of Belem. All aboard the vessel were reported well.

Four Brazilian marines set out from Belem this morning to board the ship. At the time, she was anchored near an island off the Brazilian north coast.

Later the Anzoategui got up steam and headed southward.

ORDERED TO BOARD

Lt. Francisco Medeiros Araujo and three sergeants were under orders to take control of the ship in the name of the Brazilian government.

Presumably, they had assurance from the nine armed hijackers—members of a Venezuelan terrorist organization—there would be no resistance. Brazil has indicated it would grant the hijackers political asylum and turn the ship back to Venezuela.

The marines left here aboard a chartered commercial airliner at about 5 a.m. for the coastal town of Amapa. There, they were to have boarded a boat for the short trip to the Anzoategui, which had anchored off the Island of Maraca.

In Washington, the Defense Department reported, however, that the ship was under way this morning, staying close to shore. It said that at 7:20 a.m. the Anzoategui was 70 miles from the island and proceeding southward toward Belem. That port is about 240 miles south of Maraca.

Two U.S. destroyers, the Wood and Leary, were watching the Anzontegue from international waters the Navy said.

Kissometer Fair to You?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trio of Miami students have devised a machine that measures the smooching power generated by two people kissing. It's called the kissometer.

Its creators, including a bouncy 18-year-old brunette, are having a lot of fun with trial runs.

"It all depends on the sparkle inside you," said Tatiana Prilutchi, the only female in her electrical engineering class. "If you feel all tingling inside, your kiss will show it."

John Woods, 21, Chillicothe, Ohio, takes a more pedestrian view. "The kissometer is purely dependent on the resistance of the kiss. If it is high, the kiss is good. If it is low, the kiss is bad."

(Resistance, as used by Woods, is purely a technical term in describing the number of electrons that get through.)

The kissometer is rigged with flashing lights and ringing bells.

The lowest quality kiss flashes a sign that says, "Dead fish." A Casanova embrace will register "Wowee." The hottest smooching registers a "Wowee" and clangs a bell.

"The machine works on scientific principles," said Tatiana, of North Miami Beach. "The couple inside the booth hold an electronically charged probe in their hands.

It sends a minute amount of electrical current through their bodies. When their lips meet, the circuit is completed."

The rest is up to the couple.

Birmingham Area News

Praise Pontiac Motion Against Airport Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night commented on the "fine resolution" adopted by the Pontiac City Commission opposing plans for a proposed county airport.

Birmingham has indicated its disapproval of the proposed plan several times since the commission's first resolution against it last Aug. 6.

The Pontiac resolution asks all municipalities in the county to "join in opposing extravagant and unnecessary expenditures of tax funds" for development of Allen's Airport in Orion Township as a county airfield.

Also at last night's meeting, commissioners approved a zoning change for 707 Knox St., changing its present parking classification to single family residence.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Smith, 69 E. Washington St., Clarkston, had requested the change because, they said, "increased taxation" on the present zone classification imposed "a great financial burden."

The city Planning Board recommended the change in a report last December.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reported on the quarterly parking meter survey compiled the week of Feb. 1-8. In comparing the results with last year's figures, Moxley noted "substantial increases in average revenues in all five meter zones."

Since January 1961, he said, the average revenue per meter rose from $1.36 to $1.54 in 1962, and hit $1.70 per meter this year.

"This is the highest January parking meter average on record, surpassed only by last October's figure of $1.72 per meter," he said.

Under general business, Commissioner Robert W. Page asked for a look into the matter of extended short-term parking limits in front of the library and the possibility of a book-drop in front of the building.

This he said, would alleviate the problem of persons walking blocks just to drop off a book.

The United Church Women of Birmingham will take part in the 77th annual World Day of Prayer with a special service March 1 at the First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple Road.

The local prayer observance, open to the public, will begin at 10 a.m. A nursery will be provided for children.

A music program will be presented by the Birmingham Musicale Choral Ensemble.

Court Refuses Church Appeal

Concerned Merger of Two Denominations

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday turned down an appeal by the First Congregational Church of Pontiac and three other Congregational Christian churches against the 1957 merger of their denomination into the new United Church of Christ.

The high court upheld a New York federal court decision against the four churches in August 1962.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of the Pontiac church, has played a prominent role in opposition to the merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church into the new denomination.

The other churches that joined in the suit are located in Burlington, Iowa, Toledo, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Four other Oakland County Congregational Churches refused to join in the merger.

They were: the First Congregational Church of Royal Oak; the Birmingham Congregational Church; the North Congregational Church of Southfield; and the Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village.

Members of the Pontiac church authorized their officers to make the church a party to the federal court suit in 1956 while the merger was in the planning stage.

The merger joining about 1,400,000 Congregationalists and 800,000 Evangelical and Reformed Church members in 8,311 congregations across the county was completed in June, 1957, in Cleveland, despite the court action to prevent it.

Other court action four years earlier also failed to halt the merger.

Office Workers Worry Unions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Labor union leaders said today at their winter meetings they are acutely aware that white collar workers are far outstripping manual workers as potential union members in the American job market.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz planned to meet during the day with members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council on current problems, including what Wirtz has said is a trend begun in 1956 for technical workers teamed with machines to outstrip craftsmen.

Organized labor in the AFL-CIO has been worried for some time over the prospect that unionized American workers will become increasingly a minority group with declining political and social influence.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has charted a pilot organizing drive in Los Angeles. Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Auto Workers Union, who is regarded as a Meany rival, has scheduled much more ambitious campaigns in other areas.

Wirtz, here for a huddle with the labor leaders, has said that white collar workers, after outnumbering blue collar workers for the first time in 1956, steadily have built up a numerical superiority.

Despite the increasing population and work force, there were about a half-million fewer factory production workers in 1962 than in 1947—a period in which factory output rose by 80 per cent.

Russ to Withdraw Cuba Troops Soon on approximately 5,000 heavily armed combat troops organized into four mobile battalions.

Members of Congress who met with Kennedy declined for the most part to talk with newsmen at any length about the session.

One of them said Kennedy read to the group the November letter in which Khrushchev gave assurances that the Soviet troops in Cuba would be reduced "in due course."

This conferee depicted the President as being cautiously hopeful that these assurances would be carried out.

getting a fair shake on defense jobs, Romney said he considered Defense Secretary Robert McNamara an objective individual and that contracts are awarded on a merit basis. He said it was up to Michigan to do something to get contracts.

"Government is not a prime source of jobs," he said. "The primary responsibility is that of private organizations. We are trying to remove from the Michigan picture the things that have discouraged private organizations."

Romney said the state is going to encourage each community to develop jobs.

Asked about apportionment of the legislature, Romney said: "I know of no valid point that can be raised with respect to the formula of the new constitution. Population and area are both considered. The metropolitan counties will get seven additional senators."

Romney said he also could see no objection to a provision in the proposed constitution to make the office of State Highway Commissioner appointive instead of elective.

Send Copies of Constitution

While the pros and cons of the proposed new state constitution are discussed publicly in the weeks remaining before the April 1 election, Oakland County residents will be able to see for themselves what's in the document.

Copies are being distributed to every library in the county by the Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution (CNC), the group announced today.

CNC decided to make copies available in libraries after supplies ran low. Few more were available from the constitutional convention office in Lansing. A fund shortage has limited the printing of copies.

Libraries also are being presented with two booklets on the document published by the Citizens Research Council and copies of a brochure prepared by the constitutional convention.

None of the material advocates either a "yes" or "no" vote, according to CNC, an alliance of some 20 groups working for passage of the proposed constitution.

Detroit Picks Negro, Officer

Win Primary Balloting for Common Council

DETROIT (AP) — Philip J. Van Antwerp, a retired police inspector, and Jackie Vaughn III, a Negro political leader in the Democratic party, were nominated to Detroit's Common Council in Monday's nonpartisan primary election.

The runoff election will be held April 1 to fill the vacancy left by the death last Aug. 5 of Eugene I. Van Antwerp, a cousin of Van Antwerp.

Van Antwerp led a field of 39 primary candidates by polling 22,635 votes.

Vaughn, a past president of the Young Democrats of Michigan, polled 16,720 votes, drawing well in predominantly Negro areas and also making a good showing in all-white areas.

He is now executive secretary of the Michigan State Athletic Commission. It was his first aid bid for political office.

Former councilman Blanche Parent Wise ran third with 14,678 votes. Fourth with 11,313 votes was Leo J. Nowicki, a former councilman and former general manager of the Department of Street Railways.

The Detroit primary drew only 128,853 votes out of a total registration of 856,460.

In the primary for Common Pleas Court, three incumbent judges easily won renomination.

For the single term ending Dec. 31, 1967, Judge Charles S. Farmer was renominated with 51,398 votes. Opposing him in the April 1 election will be Lee C. McManus, a former assistant prosecutor, who polled 14,261.

Renominated for two terms ending Dec. 31, 1965, were Judge George D. Kent with 43,382 votes and Joseph J. Pernick with 43,325.

Both were appointees of former Gov. John B. Swainson. Also nominated for the April 1 election were Thomas R. Sullivan with 21,136 votes and Anthony J. Szymanski with 21,279.

Cityhood Rejected; Rochester to Stay Village

The signs will read "Rochester Village Limits" for at least a while longer.

The move to incorporate this village and a portion of Avon Township was rejected by a decisive 4 to 1 vote here yesterday.

Residents of the proposed city voted against incorporation by an overwhelming 1,306 to 342. They chose to retain a village of 1 9-16 square miles instead of establishing a city of 4¾ square miles.

IN ALL PRECINCTS

Each precinct voted against incorporation by at least a 3 to 1 margin, according to Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer. Precinct No. 1, made up solely of village residents, opposed incorporation, 361-76.

In 1958 a similar proposal, but requesting a 5 1-16 square-mile-city, was defeated by a 3 to 1 vote.

This drive that began last August, ended with a thud.

Parke, Davis & Co. had threatened to move its 635-acre Parkedale Farms, included in the area proposed for cityhood, should incorporation be approved.

Other opposition was presented as part of a campaign to vote down cityhood. "Poorly planned," and "too small," were phrases worn smooth by objectors.

AREA NEWS

In contrast to this, cityhood advocators talked of representation on the County Board of Supervisors, payment of taxes to only one municipal government and better governmental benefits.

"The township cannot foresee incorporation at this time," Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller repeated throughout the campaign.

"Why should Rochester taxpayers support two local governments when Rochester alone could easily furnish all necessary general governmental services?" retorted Roy Rewold, village president and head of the Steering Committee for City Incorporation.

Rewold claimed that most of the area proposed for incorporation was already serviced by the village.

The existing western and southern limits of the village were retained in the city plan. Dequindre Road would have enclosed the city on the east and Tienken Road was proposed as the northern boundary.

FILED IN VAIN

Nine candidates filed for posts on a city charter commission, but their election was nullified due to failure of the cityhood proposal to pass.

Balloting on the nine commissioners showed Edwin Forbush receiving 900 votes; Ally Ensign, 898; John Terry, 896; John Lowes, 860; Neil Rosso, 797; Roy Rewold, 792; J. Francis Voll, 786; Frank Wolff, 742; and Charles Seed, 736.

Avondale Board Recall Defeated

CASTS BALLOT—Rochester Village President Roy Rewold smiled confidently as he voted on city incorporation yesterday, but by the time the ballots were counted, the smile was gone. Head of the Steering Committee for City Incorporation, he saw the plan defeated by a decisive 4-to-1 margin.

Three Retained by Electorate

Avon Township Bloc Backs Officials

There are still seven members on the Avondale Board of Education today.

The recall attempt against board President Floyd L. Cobb Jr., Vice President David W. Hackett and Treasurer Mrs. Genevieve Porter failed in yesterday's primary.

They were retained in office, mainly due to heavy support received in Avon Township, which comprises the biggest part of the school district.

However, school district residents in the city of Troy and Bloomfield and Pontiac townships voted to recall the three officers, who had been under fire in a controversy which has plagued the district since last August.

The total vote was: to recall Cobb, yes 690, no 865; to recall Hackett, yes 667, no 908; to recall Mrs. Porter, yes 664, no 873.

In Avon Township, voters endorsed Cobb, 554 to 153; Hackett, 539 to 143; and Mrs. Porter, 599 to 148.

BLOOMFIELD OPPOSITION

Bloomfield township residents were strongly against the board. They voted to recall Cobb, 131 to 5; Hackett, 132 to 4; and Mrs. Porter 131 to 5.

Pontiac township voting showed a similar trend. Balloting there were for recall of Cobb, 332 to 284; Hackett, 323 to 284; and Mrs. Porter, 316 to 250.

The small Troy vote was closest of the four municipalities taking part in the special school election. Voters supported the recall of Cobb, 74 to 57; Hackett, 69 to 60; and Mrs. Porter, 69 to 59.

The recall drive was instigated by a citizen's group, the Avondale School District Improvement Association, after the Aug. 7 resignation of former School Supt. LeRoy R. Watt.

Numerous charges have been exchanged between supporters of the board officers and the ASDIA since then.

Reasons listed for recall on the ballot charged that the board officers' refusal to renew Watt's contract was "arbitrary, capricious and without regard to the school district."

The three maintained that they fulfilled their duties "faithfully and with integrity."

They said they refused to renew Watt's contract because he attempted to submit inaccurate information to the Oakland County Board of Education in an effort to obtain public funds to which the school district was not entitled."

Slate Pot-Luck Dinner for Boosters of Band

A pot-luck supper at 6:30 will precede tonight's meeting of the Avondale Band Boosters at the high school.

The program will feature band students who participated in the recent District Solo and Ensemble Festival. Another attraction will be the appearance of the Faculty Quartet.

Traffic Toll Report

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State Police provisional reports today showed 142 persons were killed in highway accidents this year through yesterday as compared to 147 killed in the same period of 1962.

But Only 2 Major Upsets Occur

Spring Boosts Vote in 18 Township Primaries

Spring-like weather is credited with drawing larger voter turnouts than were expected in most primaries held yesterday in 18 area townships.

Most voters — unlike the weather — weren't prepared for any sudden changes, however. Only two major upsets occurred, one in Oxford Township and the other in Royal Oak Township.

For the most part, incumbents were selected to represent their parties in the April 1 general election. Following is a list of candidates in their respective townships:

Addison

Elmer E. Powell won the Republican nomination to oppose Democrat Lawerance T. Barnes for a two-year term on the board of trustees in the only April 1 contest. Powell received 87 votes to Jane Westphal's 703. Barnes, only candidate on the Democratic ballot, polled 18.

Other totals on the GOP ticket were Supervisor: Incumbent Frank Webber, 152. Clerk: Incumbent Robert A. McCallum, 151. Treasurer: Incumbent Donald Hickmott, 146. Trustee (4-year term): Incumbent Lee Gravlin, 140. Justice of the peace: Albert B. Casey, 153 (nominated), and incumbent Raymond R. Snyder, 18.

Brandon

Competing on the Republican ballot for the single trustee opening here, Mrs. Leona Hutchings narrowly outpolled Dr. George Jaruga, 86 to 77.

Marion Pudwell (R) received 28 votes. Democrats chose William Ray, 103, over Renee D. Boschma, 60, to run for the vacancy.

Results of other voting on the Republican slate included, Supervisor: Charles B. Merrell, 183. Clerk: incumbent Galen Whipple, 180, and Treasurer: Incumbent Marvin L. Featherstone, 192.

Groveland

Incumbent Earl B. Rhinevault won the Republican nomination for supervisor by only an eight-vote margin over GOP challenger William Scramlin, 170 to 162.

In the spring election, Rhinevault will be opposed by the Democratic supervisor nominee, Alice Brooks, who totaled eight votes yesterday.

Township officials were to learn today how to break a tie that developed in the GOP's board of review contest between incumbent Dee Ferguson and John Millmine. Each had 153 votes.

Ernestine Webb, with seven votes, is the Democrats' board of review candidate.

All other candidates on the ballot except Raymond Norman are Republicans. Norman qualified as the Democratic trustee candidate with seven votes.

Loses Court Fight in Army Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Arch E. Roberts, dropped from active duty after a speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution in which he described two prominent political figures as leftists, has lost a court battle to force the Army to reinstate him.

Court records disclosed yesterday that U.S. District Court Judge Burnita S. Matthews dismissed the suit Thursday on the government's motion.

About 41 per cent of the fall crop was on hand last year at this time.

"I guess I should have bought a new pair of shoes," he said.

Instability of Money Has Global Effects

Money, which affects us all, is pretty much taken for granted around the world as a medium of exchange.

All countries have their national currencies, the value of which is subject to internal economic pressures as well as external trade balance of payments fluctuations.

A most sensitive factor in the sociological well-being of peoples of all nations, the stability and soundness of currency have from the beginning concerned enlightened statesmen and economists.

Where did money originate?

China, with a culture and a highly organized civilization centuries ahead of then barbaric Europe, as long ago as 6,000 years used spades, hoes, knives and other implements for money. As her sophistication grew, replicas of the implements made of bronze and iron replaced the actual objects as medium of exchange.

Despite this head start, however, most numismatic scholars credit either ancient Lydians or Greeks with making the first coins which had the quality of standard shape, size, content and value.

China, nevertheless, was undoubtedly the first country to use paper money, since MARCO POLO described in some detail the use of it during the era of KUBLAI KHAN in the 13th Century.

But the significant and changeless feature of money is that its intrinsic value is small compared to the representative. This is supported pretty much on the faith of the people among whom it circulates.

When confidence wanes, often born of inflation, a nation's currency suffers depreciation—even to the point, as has occurred many times in history, of total collapse.

Reading of the lightness in which money seems to be held nowadays in Washington, we wonder whether our leaders have given thought to the dangers inherent in policies undermining the confidence of U.S. citizenry in its currency.

It might be a little inconvenient carrying around an assortment of spades, hoes and knives for money.

Need Basic Schooling in Retraining Program

Last year a Federal law was passed which was aimed at retraining manpower for new jobs. With unemployment running high, it was felt with some justification that the Manpower Development and Restraining Act would partially solve the problem.

One of the first things encountered was the fact that about half of the unemployed had too little schooling to pass aptitude tests to qualify them for training projects.

State and local authorities were afraid the Federal Government would not go along with their offering literacy training.

In Washington, D.C., some 12,500 are unemployed, and the vast majority of them are functionally illiterate. Now a pilot program built upon basic education is being started.

The training just getting under way will be for service and maintenance jobs, and four-fifths of the time will be spent learning to read, write and do simple arithmetic.

Federal officials have finally decided that basic education is job-related; a waitress must read a menu, write down an order and add up the bill. Since this holds true in many other vocational categories, it is hoped that other states will follow the District of Columbia.

Who would doubt that basic literacy is a prerequisite to successful training for even the simplest of jobs?

As Supreme Court Justice ARTHUR GOLDBERG once remarked: "The flow of poorly prepared people into the labor force must be halted at the source—the schools."

An Old-Letter Holder Seeks Mode of Dispatch

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

When JFK at his inaugural challenged all Americans to soul-search "What I Can Do for My Country," the old MAT felt pretty frustrated.

He couldn't think of a thing. Such thoughts of learning all the words of The Star Spangled Banner, completing fully and promptly the government's four-page questionnaire No. 321 A 416-3 on Average Number of Shaves Obtained Per Householder Blade and mailing Christmas packages early, all seemed a little on the thin side and of debatable significance in the development of a more progressive and viable America.

But suddenly, I find myself in a long-awaited position to serve my country — specifically the postal department.

For at hand is a letter from Postmaster

William W. Donaldson

accompanied by one from

of San Bernardino, Calif., who wants to know if there was a mail train running between Pontiac and Detroit in 1850. He says that a letter he has, dated that year, made the trip in one day — and he would like to know how it was done.

• • •

Any enlightenment on the subject will be appreciated by our inquirer, and will give the MAT a self-righteous feeling of having answered the President's clarion call.

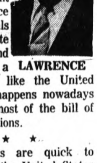
You'd Think He Could Shake The Tailgater

David Lawrence Says:

U. N. Cuba Plan Draws Criticism

WASHINGTON — Officials of the United Nations are disturbed over the widespread disapproval of that organization's project designed to aid Cuban agriculture. Criticism of the U.N. is being expressed in speeches in Congress by members of both parties.



LAWRENCE

The incident is significant because it brings to the forefront the difference between officials with a superstate concept and spokesmen for a single country like the United States, which happens nowadays to be footing most of the bill of the United Nations.

U.N. officials are quick to point out that the United States isn't paying any of the expense for the Cuban project itself, but they choose to ignore the fact that the U.N. is nevertheless taking a position decidedly at variance with American policy in the "cold war."

The argument of the U.N. officials is that their organization cannot be influenced by the national considerations of any country. Cuba, it is insisted, is a member of the U.N. and thus is entitled to all its privileges.

But in answer to this, it may be said that the United States is also a member, with the full right to withhold funds for special projects that go for purposes which could defeat American foreign policies.

The point is made in U.N. circles that if a declaration of war existed between Cuba and the United States, this would immediately interrupt any fund-giving or the operations of the U.N. in any belligerent country.

No state of war has, of course, been proclaimed. But U.N. officials overlook the existence of a "cold war" and the fact that billions of dollars are being spent to try to defeat Communist aggression and that American lives are being lost around the world in places like Viet Nam in an effort to check the military operations of the Communists.

Also, in the last few weeks, there has been revealed a military build-up in Cuba by the Soviets as a forerunner of possible aggression in Latin America.

The fact remains that the Soviet government has taken over Cuba by conquest from within. A people for whom American soldiers and sailors died a few decades ago, to liberate the island from Spain, have lost their independence.

A base has been established in Cuba to take over other Latin-American countries. For the U.N. to give financial aid and comfort to the Communist government in Cuba is brazen indifference to President Kennedy's desire to "quarantine" the island and keep foreign shipping out.

This is certainly not going to enhance the reputation of the U.N. inside the United States.

The American people perhaps have not given as much attention as they should to the constructive work that has been done by the special funds agency of the U.N., which indeed deserves encouragement.

But the blunder in Cuba can only retard the continuance of such aid from the United States.

This controversy has not become a partisan matter in Congress, spokesmen for both political parties have criticized the U.N. action. Senator Frank Church of Idaho, Democrat, chairman of the subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which is investigating the controversial U.N. project, points out that Cuba is in arrears in its regular dues payments to the U.N.

He says the United States should have protested vigorously against the U.N.'s new project. He declares Cuba is a "special case" for U.N. consideration, because it is being used as a military base by Russia "in violation of the spirit of the U.N. charter."

Bob Considine Says:

Americans Worried Most About Situation in Cuba

NEW YORK — Headlines and Opines:

Soviet Forces in Cuba No Menace to U.S. or Hemisphere — Ambassador Stevenson.

Five will get Adlai 10, the 20,000 Russians there are an obvious concern of the President and a deep concern of the American people. I move around the country a lot more than our ambassador to the U.N.

CONSIDINE

The American people don't give a hoot about Viet Nam, Berlin, Laos or the Congo.

It is Cuba they ask a reporter about, nine times out of 10. Cuba and its swarms of tanks, air-to-ground missiles, supersonic MIGS capable of carrying nuclear-tipped rockets, rocket-firing patrol boats, and "missiles hidden in caves."

Most of the "let's go in there and clean 'em out" determinism has leaked out of America's mind. Just as President Kennedy settled for something less than the Kennedy - Khrushchev agreement on big-weapons removal and U.N. inspection, the people seem willing to go along with the administration's long - range hope of toppling Castro economically.

But they're restless with this inching progress; they sense a new fear and-or grudging admiration of Castro spreading through Latin America, the longer he stays in power.

They're impatient with the wrangling Cuban exile groups, and have just about abandoned hope that there can be any counter - revolution commenced on the island itself.

N.Y. Newspaper Strike Enters 10th Week

If present plans pan out, there will be a mass meeting held in New York (possibly under the auspices of the Overseas Press Club of America) at which the publishers and the typographers would be given an opportunity to air their positions and views in public.

There would be no great difficulty getting TV and radio coverage of such an event.

It should serve to defrost one of the cloudiest labor - management controversies of our time.

At such a meeting there should be a cross - section of comment from interested parties. The strike, which has cost the papers and the unions millions of dollars they can never hope to recoup, has resulted in similarly huge losses to every enterprise in the community: hotels, restaurants, theaters, tourism, trade in all fields, employment, even has virtually wiped out the funeral wreath business.

Nearly 10 million Americans have lost their only real "outlet for protest."

That alone, it seems to me, provides President Kennedy with a valid reason to adjudge the strike a national emergency and act to end it immediately.

'Make Better Use of Surplus Food'

I have read the first of three articles by John Strohm. I will have to agree that he's an expert expert on starvation or expert on capitalism.

All of the surplus that is held in storehouses in this country could be utilized. We have over 5 million unemployed who could use surplus.

Farming is big business now that farmers don't have to raise anything.

They get big profits for not raising anything.

I have no doubts that Mr. Strohm is capable of his tasks and perhaps he may have some compromising solutions, but he started out in the wrong direction.

Our means of production on our farms could make us the savior of the world, including Red China. Our farms could produce at full capacity and we could get away from all these subsidies.

'Builder Defying Circuit Court?'

I have had a Circuit Court injunction against the property owners for filling in the northwest end of Watkins Lake. They filled in from about 70 to 80 feet of the lake to make the property large enough for two rows of lots instead of one. Now they have violated the injunction as far as to build two homes on the fill-in over riparian rights that belong to all lake property owners.

I can't understand why these people have such little respect for our Circuit Court. If this is justice, I don't think it's right.

How do these people get a builder's permit on property under an injunction?

Eight Points Accent Youth Plan

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGON (NEA)— There is no over-all price tag on President Kennedy's eight-point program just sent to Congress, asking that something be done about and for the nation's youth.

There have probably been more high—and lowbrow conferences on what makes the young people behave the way they do than on any other subject on earth. Few, if any, of the conferences produce anything but talk. So the problem remains to haunt the oldsters.

A whole host of causes need to be examined in trying to determine who is to blame for what's wrong to the degree that it is wrong. The President mentions the major social causes —broken homes, divorce, poverty, disease.

Other unmentioned economic causes need some investigation. Do minimum wage laws, the red tape of Social Security and income tax reporting make it too difficult and too expensive to hire untrained youth? Or is the whole educational system at fault in that it does not properly train youth for the jobs that are available? Viewed from these angles, the problem is universal.

The President says the purpose of his message is to make clear the role of the federal government in aiding state and local governments which have the primary responsibility to protect and promote the welfare of youth. Parents aren't mentioned here.

The President's Youth Opportunities Act presented to the last Congress was reported out by Senate and House committees but never considered on the floor. Whether the new Congress will be just as apathetic, or more concerned, has yet to be revealed.

The message is so vague on all but one or two program costs that the figures have to be dug out of the budget message or just estimated. An educated guess is $350 million total.

If all the related child health, mental retardation and education programs recommended by the President this year are included, the total cost might be $2 billion or more, next year.

Second, the President proposes that the federal government pay half the wages of 40,000 youth for employment on local nonprofit community projects. No cost estimate is given. A rough guess puts the federal share at $150 million.

Third, the President would create a national service corps for volunteers of all ages, including youth. They would perform welfare services in hospitals, mental health centers, migrant worker camps, Indian reservations, city slum and rural poverty areas.

No cost estimate is obtainable for running this program.

Fourth, the Peace Corps, now numbering 45,000 overseas workers, would be increased to 54,030 this year and 58,000 by 1964. Its expenses would rise from $47 million this year to $80 million next, with a new obligational authority of $108 million for 1964.

Fifth, the Juvenile Delinquency Act of 1961, authorized as a three-year program, would be raised from a budgeted $5.8 million this year to $13.2 million next year. Most of this would go for grants to the states for training personnel and running demonstration projects.

Sixth, to assist the 16 million children living in families with earnings so low they pay no income taxes, the President asks Congress to raise appropriations for the Bureau of Family Services from $3.7 million this year to $5.4 million in 1964.

For his seventh program to aid youth, the President repeats the request of his mental retardation message. In this he asked for new authorizations of $55 million the first year, rising to $80 million the third year and thereafter for grants to the states for child health and crippled children's services.

Finally, the President again calls attention to his aid to education program benefiting all youth, on which a price tag of $1.2 billion has been tentatively placed for the first year.

Youths Query NASA on Space Opportunity

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-year-old boy in New York wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration: "I would be willing to die for NASA, my country and the seven astronauts."

Another boy, a senior in a Michigan high school, wrote: "My main goal in life is to step foot on an alien planet."

These are but two examples found today in the letters that keep coming to NASA from young people starry-eyed about space.

The boys and girls ask serious questions, such as what courses they should be taking in high school and what colleges would be best for preparation for space work.

It's amazing how many queries come from girls.

A girl, 14, in North Carolina asked the prospects of becoming a woman astronaut.

"At the present time there are no specific plans for women to be trained as astronauts," NASA wrote her. It added encouragingly, "Perhaps by the time you graduate from college, the picture will change."

To the high school girl in New Jersey who asked about job opportunities for women in space work, NASA wrote that several officials had read her letter. "They are in agreement that this country can ill afford to ignore the contributions which able women can make in space science and technology."

The shooting culminated a long history of marital difficulty, police said.

FATHERS 18 TO 45:

Here's the one plan that can provide all the life insurance you need now!

Just one plan provides lump sum insurance on your life... it also protects your wife... and each dependent youngster is insured, too. If a new baby comes along he's automatically covered after 15 days at no increase in premium.

Best of all, it provides for a cash monthly income for your family if you die... income that can last as long as 30 years. This cash income really rounds out your family's protection. And you pay for no waste coverage. When your children are tots, the length of income benefits is at a maximum. As they grow older and protection needs lessen, your protection tapers off, too. One plan does the whole job... and it's available through just one man, your Nationwide agent. Call him — he's in the Yellow Pages.

Sample plan for a father and mother, both age 30, with a 3-year-old child and newborn baby.

THIS ONE PLAN provides lump sum insurance on Dad's life..... $ 5,000

THIS ONE PLAN provides life insurance for Mom..... 1,000

THIS ONE PLAN provides life insurance for each child under 18..... 1,000

THIS ONE PLAN provides automatic coverage for new babies (after 15 days)..... 1,000

THIS ONE PLAN CAN ALSO PROVIDE $200 monthly cash income for the family if Dad's not there—for as long as 20 years... 48,000*

THIS ONE PLAN is available for this low monthly cost..... 24.19

*This example shows benefits available at plan's beginning. If Dad's death occurs in eleventh year, for example, this amount would be half of $48,000. In this way you pay for no coverage "overload".

Bear in mind, also, that the above plan is just one of many possibilities. Above all, this is flexible life insurance. The monthly income you select may be considerably less than the $200 of this example, depending on your Social Security and Group benefits.

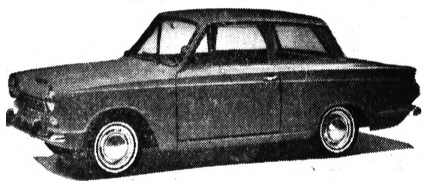
QUESTIONS & ANSWERS



about CORTINA— Ford's newest from England, America's best import buy!

(because it is the one fine car of the low price, import field)

Q. How big is Cortina?

A. It's five people big – the biggest in the low price import field. 98 inch wheelbase, 168.3 inches overall.

Q. What kind of performance may I expect?

A. Cortina feels and handles like a sports car. It is powered by the industry's most modern 4-cylinder overhead valve, 53.5 horsepower engine, largest, most powerful in its price range. This is the same engine, which with racing modifications, has been a consistent winner here and abroad.

Q. Transmission? I like a 4-speed fully synchronized gear box.

A. You get it in Cortina and at no extra cost! Either stick shift or steering column mounted – your choice. Hydraulically operated clutch, too!

Q. What kind of seats?

A. Individual bucket type up front – wide as an air liner's and a full 53.5 inch lounge in back. All padded with deep foam rubber, of course.

Q. Leg room?

A. You'll fit in a Cortina very well indeed even if you are a six footer. 47¼ inches in front, 39.3 inches in back – more than the average of other low price imports. Also more hip, shoulder and knee room.

Q. We've got kids who eat while we travel. Can the upholstery take it?

A. Cortina's color-keyed vinyl wipes spic and span with a tissue. And it's used throughout the interior, doors, seats – even the headlining!

Q. Mileage?

A. More than you dreamed of and on regular. Oil changes only every 6000 miles.

Q. They use salt to melt ice where I live. Can Cortina take it?

A. With the best of them. Bodies are scientifically rust-proofed. Exposed under body parts are zinc coated. The finish is hand-rubbed baked enamel. All this plus unit construction means Cortinas last.

Q. What about noise?

A. Doors, roof and body panels are "sound-conditioned" with heavy mastic material. Whisper if you like!

Q. About that finish again. Is it lacquer or enamel?

A. It's a special specification enamel applied over heavy gauge body steel already treated against corrosion. It is especially resistant to flying gravel and with a minimum of care will last years. Bright work is stainless steel and heavy chrome. The grille is die-cut from non-tarnishing chromium plated aluminum.

Q. What is Cortina's price bracket?

A. In the import price range, a few dollars more than the smallest, hundreds less than others with no greater room.

Q. Are Cortina's difficult to service?

A. Of course not. All fittings – nuts and bolts – are U.S. standard size. All Cortina dealers are supplied with normal parts replacement and render skilled service at low cost.

Q. Is the trunk adequate?

A. Better than 20.9 cubic feet and it's golf bag wide. No other low price import can compare. Next nearest is only 15 – that's 25% less! You also get a car wide parcel tray under the padded dash – and a glove box.

Q. What are the extras?

A. Not many. A radio if you want one and a heater that's a knockout. The rest comes with the car. Examples: Two electric wipers, two padded visors, two padded arm rests, 3 ash trays, silent shut safety door locks, two mufflers, opening rear quarter windows, 12 volt battery, etc., etc., etc., and etc.!

Q. Where may I try a Cortina?

A. At any Cortina dealer listed below.

Best of the imports because best of all CORTINA is a Ford PRODUCT

Junior Editors Quiz on PLASTICS

QUESTION: What are plastics and of what are they made made?

ANSWER: Visualize a tree which is cut down and converted to wood pulp, the pulp then made into paper. The paper may look different from the tree, but the wood fibre in it is still the same substance which came from the tree.

With plastic the story is entirely different. Original raw materials (like wood) are still used, but through the magic of the modern chemist, entirely different products are obtained.

They are different because the arrangement of tiny molecules, of which everything is made, has been changed. Take nylon, a substance superior to most natural products—it won't mildew, isn't harmed by oil or grease, is amazingly strong and elastic.

Yet the raw materials of this wonder substance are simply air, coal, water, natural gas, petroleum and certain agricultural by products (A). From these, two compounds are made (B) which are put together in a mixing machine and here, under heat and pressure, an amazing change takes place.

The molecules of the substances link together in chains, forming new and heavier molecules (called "polymerization"). Now we have nylon (C); a few of its uses are suggested in (D).

FOR YOU TO DO: Examine the objects around you to see how many of them are made of plastic. You'll be amazed at the number!

Offer State Economic Spurs

LANSING (AP) — Bills aimed on getting action on Gov. George Romney's recommendations to the legislature for economic expansion were introduced in the legislature last night.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, the sponsor and chairman of the House Committee on Economic Development, said he thought they had a good chance of passage.

"They were prepared on a bipartisan basis," Bursley said, "and are not controversial from either a Democratic or Republican standpoint."

The measures also have the backing of bankers, chambers of commerce and others interested, he said.

The four measures introduced would reorganize the State Department of Economic Development, provide new sources of credit for industry, permit issuance of local revenue bonds for plant construction and aid investment groups by waiving the five mill franchise fee.

Bursley and his committee worked closely with the governor in preparing the bills.

PAY WOULD DOUBLE

A state department of economic expansion would replace the present economic development department. The executive director would be appointed by the governor and be directly responsible to him.

Bursley said the thinking was to fix the salary of the executive director in about the $20,000-a-year range to attract a capable executive. The post of director, now filled by Robert Byers as acting director, currently pays $10,500.

Another measure would authorize the establishment of business development corporations able to borrow money, issue bonds and lend money to encourage new businesses and rehabilitate existing ones.

Membership in such development corporations would consist of banking organizations, insurance and surety companies and they would be under the supervision of the State Banking Department.

Also aimed at encouraging business was a bill to permit municipalities to issue revenue bonds to build or remodel industrial buildings. These would be leased to businesses with the revenues used to retire the bonds and pay the interest.

Still another business aid was the proposed waiving of the five-mill franchise fee for small business corporations licensed under the Federal Small Business Investment Act and business development corporations.

'Tax the Untaxed' Given as Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Noah M. Mason told Congress today "we must tax the untaxed to relieve the burden of the overtaxed."

He asked for full taxation of savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, cooperatives, credit unions, rural electrification associations and government-owned business.

Mason, an Illinois Republican who was senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee when he retired from Congress last year, gave his views as the committee began hearing witnesses from the general public on tax legislation.

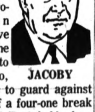
Looks Like Shoo-In

FENTON (AP) — Village President Harry Lemen looks like a sure bet for re-election. Unopposed at the primary Monday, he was nominated for his 31st consecutive term.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Sometimes intermediate cards will block a suit if you don't play them right away.



JACOBY

North scraped the bottom of the barrel to find his three no-trump bid, but South can see nine tricks provided he can bring home five diamonds. The suit figures to break three-two, but South wants to guard against the possibility of a four-one break and sees that if East holds four diamonds to the jack there will be no way to make nine tricks.

Suppose West holds four diamonds to the jack? In that case the bad break will show on the second lead and South will have a proven finesse. However, dummy has entry problems and if South leads his six of diamonds he will lose the hand. If he plays the six to dummy's queen and returns to his ace, when he leads the ten spot West will play low and South will wind up with two good diamonds in dummy and no way to get to them.

South must start the suit by leading the ace or the ten. Assume he starts with the ten and West plays small. South will win with dummy's queen, return to his ace and lead the six. If West plays low South will finesse the nine and pick up the jack. If West plays high, South will go up with the king.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Appreciation by one you respect can make this a banner day. Give your all. Cycle remains high. Be independent, original. Show gratitude, but don't be swayed. Have confidence in your own judgment. Stick to convictions!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Tendency to brood must be checked. Self-pity gains nothing. Recognize past mistakes. But don't be bogged down by them. Start anew. Throw off old fears, superstitions. Resolve to live up to wonderful potential!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Chance to make friend happy. You will find no greater pleasure. Ignore one who claims you are being "merely sentimental." Express your own feelings. Be generous, giving—even extravagant!

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have deep appreciation for harmony, music; for the fine, sensitive feelings that all possess, no matter how deeply hidden.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Crackdown by authorities makes news. Involves law, foreign nations, individuals who have "stretched a point."

It All Started in a Rented Barn

Flamboyant Hollywood Heyday Knew No Bounds

(Editor's note — UPI Hollywood correspondent Vernon Scott, in the second of three dispatches on the dilemma of the movies, recalls Hollywood's great days as a world production center of screen entertainment.

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is a state of mind.

It was born Dec. 29, 1913 when movie pioneers Cecil B. DeMille, Sam Goldwyn, and Jesse Lasky rented a barn to make "The Squaw Man." The rent was $25 a month.

Hollywood was composed of a few farm houses, bean fields, dusty streets and orange groves.

But "The Squaw Man," produced for $15,450.15, made $225,000 and gave birth to a robust new community of movie-making.

DeMille, then Louis B. Mayer, Harry Cohn and Carl Laemmle built little studios on borrowed money and made four and five reel silents starring unknowns and the few Broadway luminaries they were able to lure West with promises of huge salaries.

Few of these early giants made any pretense at being artists. They were businessmen seeking profits. But they hired the right men.

Competition was fierce as the flickering black and white images on the screen captured public fancy.

Theaters sprang up to hold thousands of patrons who came to idolize Fatty Arbuckle, Charlie Chaplin, Marie Dressler, Mary Pickford and a host of other early stars.

By 1918 the silents already posed a threat to Vaudeville and Broadway. Glamorous figures on the screen, most of them from poor backgrounds, began to live it up on a scale never seen before in this country.

Imported limousines, leopards on leashes, mansions with swimming pools and wild parties fired the imaginations of millions. The effect was heightened by scandals and mysterious deaths.

Arbuckle was ruined by scandal. The deaths of William Desmond Taylor and Thelma Todd outdistanced scenarios for excitement.

Wallace Reid was the sensational central figure in a morphine case. Paternity suits were commonplace; so were lurid tales of adultery and divorce.

FILMS SET STYLES

Restaurants in the shape of hats, plaster dogs and windmills appeared as Hollywood moved into the 20s, reflecting the tenor of the times, indeed setting the pace.

But with it all Hollywood was turning out thousands of motion pictures, making millionaires of men like Mack Sennett and the Warner Brothers. Their films set styles for fashions, hairdos, manners and morals.

Some of the pictures were milestones of entertainment. D. W. Griffith had made cinematography an art with "The Great Train Robbery." The first "Ten Commandments" (1923) still is being shown.

The silents, however, reached their millennium with comedy as the Keystone Kops and Buster Keaton regaled the world with their antics.

And as millions of dollars poured into the studios—MGM, Paramount, Fox, Universal and Warners—the power of the resident moguls grew beyond belief.

Each studio had a stable of stars who appeared in as many as half-a-dozen pictures a year. Their salaries were high; taxes low.

The stars could afford to be colorful. Good or indifferent, their movies made lots of money. Cascades of money.

Gradually films, just as they have today, gravitated to questionable taste. Orgies, nudity and adultery became the rage, only to subside when Will Hayes became chief censor and trouble-shooter for the growing industry.

Each studio, though, was a private domain with its own police force, fire department, restaurants, cottages. Elaborate permanent sets included castles, fishing villages, modern streets and western towns. Entrance was granted to the few by special fiat.

KEEPS ON ROLLING

The Academy Awards were instituted in 1928 to shed more luster on the most glamorous city in the world. And still the cornucopia disgorged a torrent of pictures: "Wings," "All Quiet on the Western Front," "Cimarron," "Grand Hotel" and "Cavalcade."

GALLEY TWOO

A new crop of folk heroes was born in Bill Hart, Tom Mix, Ken Maynard and other cowboy stars whose pictures became as formalized and stereotyped as the Japanese Kabuki theater.

And still the patrons came.

When thousands of men and women sold apples and millions more were unemployed the flickers provided escape . . . and hope.

With the advent of the 40s Hollywood at last matured as it entered what is now called its Golden Era. And still another breed of star emerged — Clark Gable, Humphrey Bogart, Lana Turner, Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart, Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy.

The solemnity of World War II and higher taxes took their toll of the old free-wheeling days of big spending and screen fare became more introspective: "Rebecca," "How Green Was My Valley," "Mrs. Miniver" and "Casablanca."

Hollywood contributed her leading men to the armed services; her leading ladies sold bonds, and everyone entertained the troops.

But with the war over there suddenly were more important things to do and think about than the private lives of madcap performers in Lotusland.

Even an ardent campaign by the studios to make the stars "just like the family next door" failed. The excitement and glamour dimmed. Who ever saw the Queen of England doing the family dishes?

NEW BREED

Then came another kind of star — the businessman-producer-director-actor—Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Doris Day.

They moved confidently into the 50s with their own production companies free of the old studio bonds.

The newcomers made their own pictures, spent more money on production and overseas locations, certain that a new era had dawned; and so it had.

But box office slumps, labor problems, strikes and rising costs and taxes, runaway production brought chaos and something else they hadn't figured on: television.

And here, after 40 years of growth, motion pictures as we know them have met their Waterloo. Just as surely as movies killed Vaudeville, television was closing the movie houses.

The average weekly attendance in 1936 was 88 million, according to records of the Academy of Motion Picture library. In 1946, the average weekly attendance hit 90 million. By 1950 it was down to 60 million and in 1960 had dropped to an estimated 41 million.

Year Books Tax Exempt

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said yesterday that year books prepared by students and sold to students by nonprofit schools are exempt from the state sales tax.

Kelley's opinion came in reply to a query from Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, who said several school officials had inquired whether the tax exemption applied to the annual year books.

The attorney general said that year books constitute a creative work and represent a valuable educational endeavor on the part of Michigan school children.

"In some schools," he added, "students enrolled in a journalism course or other similar courses as a regular part of the school curriculum are assigned the task of preparing and editing the school year book and receive school credits for successful completion of the course. The printed year book is the fruit of such experience."

Kelley concluded that there was no question but that the year book prepared by and for school children under the direction of school authorities is a school book within the meaning of that term as contained in the law exempting "school books" from the tax.

2 MSU Fraternities on Social Probation

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two Michigan State fraternities have been placed on strict social probation for a year for sponsoring an unregistered, unchaperoned party where alcoholic beverages were served and coeds were present.

The action against the Alpha Tau Omega and Zeta Beta Tau fraternities was announced by the MSU inter-fraternity council. The fraternities are forbidden to hold parties and social events for a year.

The party was held by the fraternities at Williamston on Feb. 8. A fraternity youth who attended was one of those killed in a multiple-death auto accident when driving back to the campus following the party.

Tulips, hyacinths and crocus in pots are readily available at this time of year. Although spring may be weeks away and gardening just a thought for the future, these flowers will give you a headstart on the season to come. They'll do wonders for your morale with their bright colors and their fragrance.

Flowers in Season

Bring Spring Into Home

Winter winds may be whistling around the chimney, but the flowers of spring already are at hand. Even if your garden still is inches under snow and weeks away from bloom, you can bring spring into your home with a pot of hyacinths or tulips, or a bouquet of fresh yellow daffodils and blue iris.

There's nothing quite like spring flowers to take the edge off the hunger for green growing things that comes to all of us at this time of year.

And this is exactly the time when these flowers — carefully forced for early bloom — are in season at local florist shops. They began to arrive in January and will be available until well after Easter.

FOR EVERY DAY

Flowers are for everyday enjoyment. It doesn't require a holiday, a birthday or a party to have flowers at home. Instead of saving them for company occasions only, why not treat yourself to flowers the next time you go shopping?

Hyacinths in a pot will fill a room with their fragrance — and they last for days and days. Your cut flowers will last longer if you follow a few simple rules in handling them.

1. Select your hyacinths, daffodils or tulips while they are still in the bud, whether you buy them as cut flowers or potted plants.

2. Cut the tips of the stems to open them. The stems will have hardened since the first cutting, and cutting again will make it easier for stems to absorb water and remain firm. The more water in the stems, the less likelihood there is that they will droop.

3. Use a sharp knife to cut the stems. A scissors will pinch the stems, partly closing them and reducing their ability to absorb water.

CUT UNDER WATER

4. It helps to cut under water to keep air bubbles from forming in the stems.

5. Three to four inches of water is enough for tulips, daffodils and iris in a vase or arrangement. Add some fresh water every two or three days.

6. Keep pots of hyacinths or tulips well watered. Potted bulb flowers use lots of water. Do not let the soil become dry.

7. Keep both cut flowers and pots of flowers out of direct sunlight and away from radiators. Heat and light will hurry the life cycle. The flowers will last longer if kept on the cool side and away from bright sunlight.

Very Few People Really Are That Which They Often Seem

DEAR ABBY: I helped at a church supper last evening and three other women were there, busting about, in good health, trying to outwork each other.

They all have mothers in the local rest home and claim they are unable to care for their mothers in their own homes.

ABBY

Is this Christianity today?

Whom are they fooling? Surely not God! Those women nauseate me, and I couldn't partake of their hypocritical offering of food to help the Lord.

Neglecting their own mothers to go to a church basement and work harder than any cleaning woman. No amount of public slaving will cover up their sins of failing to care for their own mothers. May God forgive them.

OUTRAGED

DEAR OUTRAGED: I cannot know of all the reasons these women do not nurse their own mothers in their own homes. Nor can you. Things are not always as they appear to be. "Judge not—that ye be not judged."

DEAR ABBY: When "Worried Hostess" inquired about how to handle a guest who didn't eat meat, I was delighted with your reply, "Pass the fruit and nuts to him."

Being a vegetarian of long standing, I have encountered many such worried hostesses. Nature has provided us with plenty of goodies that man can eat and enjoy without eating meat.

I know many nice people consider me "nutty," but I keep reminding myself of what Henri Barbusse said: "If someone sees something half an hour before the others can see it, he is 'nuts'—at least for that half hour."

Yours truly,

KARL

DEAR ABBY: I didn't mind when this certain person sent out birth announcements for her first baby, and even for her second, but since 1954 she has had seven children and I am getting very tired of her annual birth announcement because it means a present.

She is a nice person, Abby, but enough is enough. Should I send her an anonymous complaint? All I can afford is a five-cent stamp.

CAN'T AFFORD HER

DEAR CAN'T: The "anonymous" letter is a coward's weapon. Use the five-cent stamp to send her your congratulations and good wishes.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Follow Wish of Bride's Guest List

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Does the bride's family have the right to tell the bridegroom's family who they may invite to the wedding? Included on my wedding list were the names of my three nieces — aged 9, 11 and 13.

I am very close to these nieces and they were looking forward to going to my son's wedding. When my son gave the list to his fiancee's mother, she told him that no children were to be invited to the wedding so he removed their names from the list.

I was furious when he told me this and feel that even though they are giving the wedding, we should certainly be permitted to invite whom we please. Am I right about this?

A: In general, yes; but if the bride's mother has decided to have no children at the wedding she can't invite your nieces without seriously offending others whose children are being omitted.

Q: We have received an invitation to a wedding addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Doe and on the line beneath, Miss Mary Doe. None of us will be able to go to the wedding.

Should my daughter send a separate reply or may one reply be sent for all three? If so, how should it be worded?

A: One reply is sufficient. The wording would be:

Mr. and Mrs. John Doe
and

regret that they are unable to accept Mr. and Mrs. Smith's kind invitation for . . .

Q: A friend of mine recently had twin daughters. I have been asked to be the godmother for one of them. I am going to give my godchild a bond for a christening present.

I would like to know if I am also expected to give a present to her twin sister.

A: No, the twin sister's present should be given to her by her own godmother.

Details concerning the remarriage of a widow and divorcee are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Second Marriage." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Schussin' Sam Sweeps the Slopes

By LINDA LAMARRE

It's a verbal "schuss" — ski talk with "Sam," that is.

Schuss? For the uninitiated, that's skiers' German for "going very fast."

Sam? She's "just one of the boys" on Mt. Holly's 30-man ski patrol. Maryann Clifton of Osceola Drive is also a nursing supervisor at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Over a couple of cups of coffee the other night, she ran down ski patrol requirements, training and duties.

As more enthusiasts clustered around the table, the conversation snowballed into general ski talk, ski trips and the Schussmeisters Club, organized at Mt. Holly last summer.

"The people up at the hospital are sick and tired of hearing about my trip to Europe and skiing," Maryann admitted. "But I've converted a lot of nurses to the sport."

With her enthusiasm and know-how it's easy to see why. Maryann caught the ski bug about 12 years ago, before it really spread to lower Michigan.

"People used to question me with, 'skiing?'," she said. But, ski she did — in used Army boots, on wooden skis without metal edges and despite a broken hand her first time out.

Undaunted, she continued her weekly excursions to Upper Michigan ski areas.

"There weren't any around here then," she added.

She joined the Mt. Holly ski patrol when the area opened in 1955.

ONLY GAL PATROLMAN

"Sam" was the only gal on the 10-man patrol at that time. Today she's one of two women on the 30-member patrol, including apprentices.

There's more to becoming a patrolman than just putting a little red flag with a white cross on your ski poles.

A prospective ski patrol apprentice must pass the advanced first aid and ski safety courses of the American Red Cross and be a good skier.

An apprentice, Maryann explained, puts in 26 hours of skiing under the supervision of national ski patrolman. This includes toboggan practice, loading and unloading the injured, and first aid room experience.

If your ski patrol leader thinks you're ready for the all-day proficiency tests, she continued, he sends your name into the National Ski Patrol division in the state.

These tests are conducted three times a year, usually in Northern Michigan.

"They don't tell you where," Maryann added, "so you can't get in any practice on the slopes beforehand."

SOME NEVER PASS

Under supervision of the National Ski Patrol, the exam includes skiing, a first aid problem and a written exam covering the contents of two hefty books — the Red Cross first aid book and the National Ski Patrol manual. The scores in each test are totaled.

"Some people never pass," Maryann said, "they flunk them out left and right."

The patrol at Mt. Holly works strictly on a volunteer basis. Each member is on call for a four-hour shift and is supposed to clock at least 64 hours a season.

"Most of us average between 140 and 160 hours," Maryann said, "just because we want to. Sometimes you don't ski at all, but work in the first aid room."

In addition to practicing with the Schussmeisters, Maryann and the other patrolmen hold a weekly practice.

Besides tending the scraped, bruised and broken, patrolmen see to it that skiers stay in their proper areas and check for safety hazards — loose clothing or no safety straps.

They examine tow lines and "sweep the slopes" at closing time.

This last maneuver shepherds all last-minute skiers off the hills and lets the patrol check back trails for any injured who may have fallen out of view.

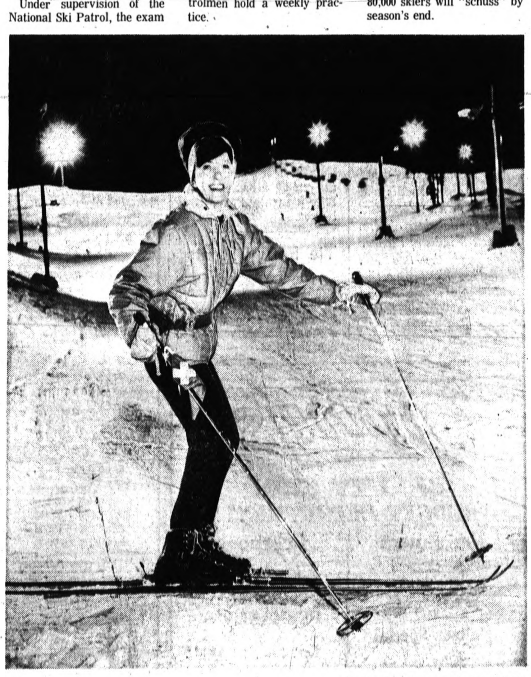
At the end of her hospital day, when she exchanges a nurse's cap for a skier's headband, Maryann is still on duty.

She merely switches responsibility from some 150 patients and approximately 50 hospital employes to Mt. Holly, where an estimated 80,000 skiers will "schuss" by season's end.



Pontiac Press Photo by Edward R. Noble

When not on duty as a nursing supervisor at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Maryann Clifton of Osceola Drive is on call an average of 150 hours a season on the Mt. Holly ski patrol. One of two women 'patrolmen,' she has supervised the safety of thousands of skiers since the area opened in 1955.

Are American Women Squaring the Figure?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Can it really be true that, in less than 40 years, the women of America are going to be — literally and physically — square?

A Sunday supplement quotes several foundation garment makers as predicting this phenomenon.

Apparently the waistlines of our women are moving outward, while the hips and busts are remaining status quo. Eventually — and probably by the year 2000 — they believe we may all be straight up and down. Square.

Can't you see it now?

Cubular corsets.

But I can't really believe there's much danger of this hideous shapelessness taking place. At least, not unless men decide that's the way they want women to be.

My private forecasting experts predict, instead, that all women can have "ideal" figures by the year 2000 . . . .

Science will have advanced to the stage where we can inject harmless substances into our bodies where we want them to be fuller — and syphon it out where we want to look slimmer.

In fact, we can change our chassis from day to day.

If we get confused with all this stylish switcheroo, we'll just take a "mental adjustment" pill and be all right again.

Or we can retire to our Caribbean vacation room, turn on the video surf, adjust the sun ceiling to "midday," point the climathermometer to 86 degrees, take a planter's punch capsule and go to sleep.

A vacation makes everybody regain a little common sense.

Bon voyage — eh, forecasters?

Smoot-Sheffield Vows Spoken in Candlelight

Geraldine Vera Sheffield exchanged vows with Warren Leslie Smoot before Dr. Tom Malone and some 500 guests Saturday evening in Emmanuel Baptist Church. Rev. W. N. Miller of Pilgrim Holiness Church assisted at the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are the John L. Sheffields, Fairgrove Avenue, and the Charles F. Smoots, Baldwin Road.

A full-length silk illusion veil fell over the white chiffon velvet bridal gown and cathedral train. White orchids, carnations and sweetheart roses comprised the bride's bouquet.

Attending their sister were Mrs. Charles B. Kincaid, Owosso, matron of honor, Donna M. Sheffield and Mrs. Keith Bearden.

Fabrics Change

Changes in "everyday" fabrics bring related changes in washing methods. Heat used to be hazardous for woolens, but a new washwear finish makes wool garments and sweaters look better after dryer-drying than when line-dried.

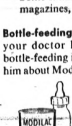
Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

First baby about to make his (or her) debut? When you pack for that joyous trip to the hospital, apart from the basic necessities for you and baby, here are a few minor necessities that will stand you in good stead:

- A simple cosmetic kit, to indulge in a bit of luxury primping that may be by-passed when you get home.
- Note paper and a ball point pen, to dash off those "thank-you" notes you may not have time for later.
- Some small change for papers, magazines, stamps, etc.

Bottle-feeding facts. If you and your doctor have decided that bottle-feeding is for your baby, ask him about Modilac®...the Gerber Baby Formula.



It's a special milk formula, that provides the nutrients your baby will need. Modilac really looks like milk and tastes like milk because it's flash-sterilized in 6 seconds to protect color and flavor, as well as precious protein and vitamin values.

For your convenience, Modilac is a complete formula. No syrup or sugar to measure or mix. No vitamin supplement needed. All you have to do is combine it with the amount of boiled water your doctor specifies.

Organization plan. Home at last, with a new love in your heart and no time on your hands. If you do a bit of pre-planning and organize your days in terms of baby's needs first and chores second, you'll fare beautifully. Household duties can usually wait—a little heart that needs you can't.

Solid start. Almost before you know it, your baby will be ready for cereal. Good starting point for this important step: Gerber Cereal Sixes. This handy, 6-in-1 package contains small-size boxes for pint-size appetites: Rice Cereal, Mixed Cereal, High Protein Cereal and 2 Oatmeal make up this nice-to-eat sextette. Flavors are delicate, the way they should be for babies, the texture dreamy-smooth. And, they're enriched with iron, calcium, and B-vitamins. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Chiefs Have Two Contests Still on Tap

Thumb School Favored to Push Season Streak to 49 Straight

By The Associated Press

Capac, which held second place for five weeks, today was named the top Class C basketball team in the state — the first new leader in the Associated Press' weekly prep poll since it started seven weeks ago.

The AP's panel of Michigan sports writers and sportscasters, while selecting Capac (14-0) to replace Ontonagon (15-0 in Class C), retained the top teams in the other three classes.

Capac, which has won 47 straight regular season basketball games, has Armada and Almont remaining on the schedule and the Chieftains will be favored to push their streak to 49 in a row before entering tournament play.

Benton Harbor (14-0) continued to rule in Class A. River Rouge (14-1) leads the pack in Class B, while Champion (15-0) headed Class D.

There were no new teams among the leaders in Class C as Ontonagon dropped to second, Perry (13-0) held on to third, Cheboygan Catholic Central (15-0) moved up two notches to fourth and Addison (15-0) and Sebewaing (12-0) tied for fifth to make up the top five.

POINTERS SECOND

Grosse Pointe (15-0) traded places with Saginaw Arthur Hill (13-0), moving up to second place in Class A. Ferndale (12-0) moved into fourth place as Grand Rapids South (12-0) dropped to fifth.

The only new entry among the top ten was Pontiac Central (9-4) which placed ninth.

There were a number of changes in Class B as Vassar, third-ranked last week, lost two games and dropped out of the top ten.

Hudsonville Unity Christian (13-1) was still in second place, but Paw Paw (12-1) took over third — a jump of two places. Ithaca (14-1) also moved up two places and took over fourth, with West Bloomfiled (12-2) taking fifth.

Replacing Vassar in the top ten was Charlotte (12-1) which was tenth.

DIDN'T SLIP

Champion, which appeared to be slipping last week, strengthened its postion in Class D. Galien (14-0) held on to second as Britton (14-0) took over third and Owosso St. Paul (11-2) dropped to fourth.

COLLISION — Katshuhiki Maki (left) pitcher of the Hanshin Tigers, collides with his first baseman Katsumi Fujimoto, as they go to make a putout on Detroit Tiger player John Matchick in their exhibition game in Lakeland yesterday. Matchick bunted down the first base line and Fujimoto made the tag before the pitcher collided with him.

Rookie Pleases Tigers' Manager

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Larry Foster is one of the faces in the crowd at the Tigers' early camp . . . a kid who hopes somebody will notice him.

But dozens of them pass through Tigertown every spring. They all share the same ambition —to be a Tiger someday, the sooner the better. Most are destined to remain minor leaguers.

But Foster already has been noticed by the man who counts most—manager Bob Scheffing.

"I hear that Foster kid is coming out of the army soon," Scheffing said one day last summer. "He may be able to help us in 1963."

Scheffing got his first eyeful of Foster yesterday. The young righthander from Lansing pitched two dazzling innings as Detroit defeated Japan's Hanchin Tigers, 9-7. The victory squared the international exhibition series at one-all and was Detroit's first of 1963.

Foster's performance easily was the best so far by any pitcher in camp—on the Detroit roster or not.

He retired six batters in order over the last two innings. Foster's work may have earned him a look-see at the Detroit camp which opens officially for batterymen tomorrow.

Foster, who was 3-0 last year at Denver after his release from the army, currently is on the Syracuse farm roster.

WINS OWN GAME

John Ison, another reliever on the Syracuse roster, was the winning pitcher after driving in the deciding run with a single. His base hit to left broke a 6-6 tie in the fifth.

Detroit's squad, consisting mainly of rookies and minor leaguers, banged out 13 hits. The big belters were Gates Brown, a promising outfielder belonging to Syracuse, and veteran Jake Wood.

Brown had two singles and a triple. Wood slammed a single and a double, giving him four hits for the two games. He has reached base eight times in 10 appearances.

But so far the biggest hitter of all has been Hanshin's Katsumi Fujimoto, a stocky first baseman. He went four-for-five in each game.

Bob Anderson, a former Chicago Cub who Scheffing's banking on in his bullpen, started and worked four innings. He tired in the fourth when he was touched for four hits and two runs.

Two additional games have been scheduled with the Japanese today and Tursday to give Scheffing a better line on his young pitchers. The Hanshin visit winds up this weekend with games Saturday and Sunday.

Local 594 Out of C Lead

The Columbia Avenue Baptists utilized an action packed fourth period last night to knock Local 594 out of first place in Class C city basketball, 65-52.

Jim McDonald of Columbia sparked the final period scoring rampage that broke open a tight game with eight points. He took scoring honors for the tilt with 23.

Bill Campbell was high in a losing cause with 19.

Michigan Bell held a 19-8 first stanza lead over the Pontiac Police and expanded it to a final, 51-31 decision.

The victory placed Michigan Bell in first place after the Local 594 upset.

Meanwhile, McDonalds Drive-In edged UAW 57-50 and the Bachelor's Club defeated Colonial Lumber 81-72 to maintain a one game lead over McDonald's in Class B.

Buc Hayward led Michigan Bell with 13 points and Joe Wilson of the Police countered with 10.

Gary Holtz paved the way for the McDonald victory garnering 23. Jimmy Gordner had 16 in a losing cause.

WATERFORD

O'Neil Realty moved into a tie for first place in the Wateford Class B League by edging Woodcum Drilling, 61-54. The real estate team is deadlocked with Reeves Service.

Winless Woodcum, which lost its 10th game, got 20 points from Jim Hurren, but converted only 6 of 21 free throws. Jim Patterson led the winners with 14.

LOCAL HUSKIES — When the Huskies of Michigan Tech meet the Wildcats of Northern Michigan tonight in the 85th basketball clash between the two old rivals, one of the ex-local cagers with the Tech team to start will be Bill Massey, 6-foot guard from Birmingham. He sits with coach Verdi Cox. Tech has a 13-2 record and Northern stands 12-5.

Ski Signals Necessary

ROME (UPI) — The supreme law court ruled yesterday that normal rules of caution for the highway also apply to ski slopes.

The court made the ruling in an accident case in which it held a skier responsible for breaking a girl's leg.

MSU, U. of M. Cagers Fall to 'Road Jinx'

By United Press International

Both Michigan and Michigan State last night succumbed to the road jinx in Big Ten action, the Wolverines bowing to Northwestern, 63-62, and the Spartans proving no match for Ohio State, 87-77.

Northwestern piled up a 12-point lead early in the second half but had to battle the clock and a Wolverine rally to come out with a victory.

Michigan State was never in the game as the seventh-ranked Buckeyes kept their share of the Big Ten lead. Ohio State led by 13 points at the half and were never in serious trouble.

Bill Buntin led Michigan scorers with 22 points. The loss left the Michigan quintet with a 4-5 record for the season.

OUT OF SHADOWS

Gary Bradds, who last season played in the shadow of All America Jerry Lucas, led the Ohio State victory surge with 31 points.

Michigan State rallied briefly and cut the Buckeye lead to seven points shortly after halftime but Dick Reasbeck hit for three quick baskets and Dick Rickets added two to rebuild to 11 points.

Marcus Sanders led the Spartan assault with 24 points. The loss left MSU with a 3-7 conference mark.

Minnesota kept pace Monday night with the other contenders, including Indiana, with a smothering 72-48 triumph over Wisconsin. The victory boosted the Gopher record to 7-3, one-half game behind Illinois and Ohio State who have 7-2 records.

Illinois halted its recent skid with an 87-79 victory at Purdue. Indiana remained one game behind the leaders with a 72-71 victory at Iowa.

11 Quints Accept Bids

Post-Season Tourney Berths Being Filled

By The Associated Press

The fields for the two major post-season college basketball tournaments began taking shape today with 11 teams accepting bids to compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament.

Eight schools were named for at-large berths Monday in the 25-team NCAA field while three acceptances were received for the 12-team NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The NCAA entrants include Loyola of Chicago and New York University, both ranked among the nation's top ten in this week's Associated Press poll.

RANKED THIRD

Loyola, ranked No. 3 with a 22-1 record, will play a first round game in the Mideast regionals. Tenth-ranked NYU, 13-2, is an at-large selection in the East regionals.

Colorado State University, 16-4; Texas Western, 16-5 and Oklahoma City, 15-7, were chosen for the Midwest Regionals. Seattle, 17-4; Oregon State, 14-6 and Utah State, 19-5, will take part in the Far West regionals.

The three teams accepting NIT bids were Miami of Florida, 20-4; Providence, 15-4 and Canisius, 14-4. The tournament will be held March 14-23.

Only three at-large positions remain to be filled in the NCAA bracket, two from the East and the other from the Mideast. One of the Eastern representatives will be the Ivy League champion. Fourteen other conference champions automatically qualify for the tourney.

The opening round regional eliminations get underway at various sites around the country March 9 and March 11. Winners advance to the regional finals at College Park, Md., East Lansing, Mich., Lawrence, Kan., and Provo, Utah. The semifinals and the finals of the NCAA championships will be held at Freedom Hall in Louisville, March 22-23.

INITIAL BIRD

Loyola, competing in the NCAA tournament for the first time, takes part in the Mideast regionals March 11 at Evanston, Ill. The pairings have not been announced but Loyola, the champions of the Mid-American and Ohio Valley conferences, and another undisclosed at - large selection will be involved in a first-round doubleheader.

College Races Unsettled

By The Associated Press

This is supposed to be the time of the college basketball season when the conference races begin to unscramble and a clear-cut leader emerges. But in some of the leagues the standings remain just as jumbled today as they looked at the start of the campaign.

The Big Ten, the Big Eight and the Southeastern conferences all head into the homestretch with very much in doubt.

Ohio State, ranked fifth in the current Associated Press poll, and Illinois, No. 6, both won Monday night and stayed tied for first place in the Big Ten.

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State and Auburn, rated No. 9 nationally, posted Southeastern Conference victories and remained tied for the SEC lead.

FIRST TO FOURTH

And poor Colorado, seventh in the listings a week ago but out of the Top Ten this week, lost to Missouri 60-58 Monday night. The Buffaloes not only lost first place in the tightly bunched Big Eight standings, but tumbled all the way to fourth.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other member of the new Top Ten to see action, thrashed St. John's in New York 70-47 while rebounding from a 92-75 upset at the hands of Bowling Green Saturday night.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses and total points based on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Baptists, Methodists Collide

First Baptist and Central Methodist will play tonight at 7:15 in the Central Elementary School gym as the YMCA - Church League's senior division enters its home stretch.

The game was moved up from Friday night to permit the Methodist team to play a collection of league coaches and officials in special exhibition on the Friday night schedule.

Central defeated last place Oakland Park Methodist last week, 68-42, while First Baptist fell to first place Trinity Baptist, 67-22.

Other action this Friday will have runnerup Macedonia Baptist playing Oakland Park at 6 p. m.; the special exhibition match will begin at 7:15; Trinity has an 8:30 date with St. Paul Methodist; and All Saints will meet First Congregational in the 9:45 nightcap.

In last week's activity Roger Wotila tallied 25 points but it wasn't enough to enable St. Paul to overcome All Saints which won, 65-51.

Frank Lary Hurls Without Effects

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — One afternoon last June the New York Yankees vengefully ripped into Frank Lary, their arch tormentor, for six runs in the first inning.

Every pitch the Detroit Tiger right-hander delivered shot pain through his shoulder. It was a rare exhibition of mistreatment for the pitcher who on better days toyed with feared Yankee sluggers.

This was the day it was realized Lary's aching shoulder had made him useless for the Tigers in 1962.

"He can't break a pane of glass," muttered manager Bob Scheffing after the bombardment of his 23-game winner of 1961.

Lary completed the first week of work aimed at a comeback from a 2-6 record Monday. And the Yankees beware. Their old nemesis is about ready to break glass.

He pitched for 25 minutes in a converted hangar at the Tigers' minor league training camp, where he reported early. It was his most strenuous outing — and the first time he threw anything other than straight pitches.

"You threw breaking stuff?" Lary was asked.

"Yep," he shot back in his Alabama twang. "And I almost broke a window."

The quip was typical of Lary—of the strong-armed pitcher who enjoyed nothing more than humbling the Yankees and usually doing it.

NATURAL MOTION

"His motion was natural, not like last year when he pushed everything," said pitching coach Tom Ferrick, who supervised the workout.

"He threw a lot of sinkers and while he didn't throw real curve balls, he did spin the ball off his fingers like a curve."

Ferrick and Scheffing are restrained so far in their enthusiasm over Lary's progress. They're waiting to see how his shoulder holds up against the strain of breaking pitches in exhibition games. But both admit they're encouraged.

"I was never discouraged," said Lary, who hasn't felt a trace of irritation in his shoulder. "This is something that can happen to all pitchers. You've just got to face it and hope you can work out of it.

"I think I can make it back."

Keglers Shatter Pins in League at Huron Bowl

C&E Marathon swept eight points last week to increase its edge in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night A League.

The league had eight 600 series and 41 games of 200 or better as the pace setters pushed their lead to six games over Huron-Airway. Larry Crake's 218-211-213—642 topped the individual scores.

Other leading figures were Dick Childress' 242 high game, Ken Blankenship's 230-202—613, and George Bidwitt's 213-222—604.

Two members of the Grounded Crew team showed their wings Wednesday in the Airway Angels League with series of 519 and 513. Shirley Grusnick was only six actual pins better than teammate Bernie Jorgenson.

German Gives Advice

U.S. Skiers Do Well

DENVE R (AP) — Knowledge shared by East Germany's Helmut Recknagel, world champion ski jumper, is sending Americans gliding record distances this season.

And Recknagel's sportsmanship could lead to his downfall at the world championships March 17 at Oslo, Norway, Art Tokle, Olympic ski jumping coach, said today.

Jumping secrets divulged last year by Recknagel to John Balfanz, 22, Mhneapolis competitor, are credited by Tokle with helping Gene Kotlarek, 22, of Duluth, Minn., set a North American record of 322 feet at Steamboat Springs, Colo., last Sunday.

4-GROOVES

Tokle disclosed that Balfanz brought back to the U.S. last year a pair of 4-groove skis given to him by Recknagel. The revolutionary skis—jumping slats formerly had 3 grooves—also had 6-ounce weights inserted into the back end.

Balfanz had the skis duplicated by a Minneapolis manufacturer who employs him. He gave one pair of the new weighted, 4-groove skis to Kotlarek.

Tokle said the extra groove gives faster speed on takeoff —Kotlarek was timed at 59.8 miles per hour — and provides more stability as the jumper kicks off from the takeoff.

The 6-ounce weights at the rear of the skis permit the jumper to dive forward harder and farther against the air pressure than formerly because the point of balance is further back.

MUST LEAN

"The more the jumper can lean forward the more distance he'll get," Tokle said. He likened it to riding air currents in a sail plane.

The ski acts like an airplane wing, supporting the jumper as he skims across the air pressure. The trick—of which Kotlarek and Balfanz are masters—is to maintain the tips of the ski just above the air stream. If the tips are too high the skis fly up and the jumper mushes out. Pointed down too far, the skis dive downward slamming the jumper into the ground far short of his goal.

"No jumper in the world would have beaten Kotlarek Sunday," Tokle said confidently.

The United States never has won a medal in Olympic ski jumping competition nor has it won the world title.

Tokle believes Kotlarek or Balfanz will win at Oslo next month.

GO FOR THE BIG, STRONG, SILENT TYPE?

Most people think of Dodge as a medium-price car. Because it has been for many years. Because it's big. Almost 18 ft. long.
But in spite of its bigness and tradition, the 1963 Dodge is a low-price automobile.
This year, for instance, if you can afford a Chevy, you can afford a Dodge.
Understand, we are not talking about one special model. There are 24 models, in three series, all in the low-price field.
And the 1963 Dodge is an automobile so strong, so well-made it is backed by a five year or 50,000 mile warranty*.
No wonder we call them "The Dependables". They are.
*Your Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair without charge for required parts or labor for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules.

ALL airlines including MILITARY

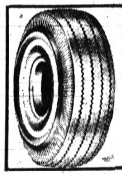
is the first consideration in operating any airplane. It is significant that all airlines in the United States including the U.S. Air Force and the U.S. Navy use retread tires . . . there must be a reason! Aircraft tires are of very special construction designed to withstand safely the impact of extremely heavy loads landing on paved runways. This special construction for safety is necessarily expensive. When the tread is worn the tire still has all of the special safety features that cost so much . . . all that is needed is new tread.

here's a tip from FRED GAUKLER
Your new automobile comes equipped with GRADE 1 major brand tires built to the specifications of the automobile manufacturer who designed the car and knows what is safe. When the tread on a Grade 1 tire is worn, you still have all the construction features stipulated by the engineers who designed your car . . . all that is needed is a new tread costing about HALF as much as a new tire of the same quality.
BEWARE OF LOW PRICED INFERIOR TIRES
Grade 2, 3, and 4 Tires are not acceptable to the engineers who designed your car, and they should not be accepted by you.


We strongly suggest you try our GRADE 1 Premium Custom Retreads manufactured on equipment specially designed and engineered by Super Mold Corp. of California and proved in action by the GOLD MEDALLION TEAM of Championship Drivers.

NEEDS OXYGEN — Gene Fullmer's trainers administer oxygen to his sparring partner Eddie Hickman after Fullmer knocked him out with a right during training in Las Vegas yesterday. Fullmer, former middleweight champion, is preparing to meet Dick Tiger in Las Vegas convention arena, Saturday.

Fullmer Is Confident for Bout With Tiger

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An air of quiet confidence surrounds Gene Fullmer's camp as he enters the final two days of training for his middleweight title fight with Dick Tiger.

The brawling Fullmer knocked out sparring partner Ed Hickman in the first round of a training stint Monday. The Los Angeles boxer remained unconscious for five minutes before trainers revived him.

"It felt like a mule hit me," the stunned Hickman said later.

The former middleweight champion drove a hard right to Hickman's jaw then followed with two quick lefts. Hickman fell straight back and struck his head against the canvas.

Trainers rushed into the ring and gave the fallen boxer oxygen.

94 ROUNDS

Fullmer earlier boxed two rounds with Milo Savage, Salt Lake middleweight, to raise his training total to 94 rounds.

Marv Jensen, Fullmer's manager, was pleased with his fighter's showing.

"He's had good execution," Jensen said. "You can't feel anything but good when he lands good combinations."

He said Fullmer has lowered his hands to achieve better leverage.

"In San Francisco he fought with his hands too high," Jensen added, "Now he's got them down where he can get power behind those blows."

The challenger had been concentrating on a left jab until Monday's workout. But Monday he threw right hand punches almost exclusively.

TOO MANY

"He knew he was throwing too many lefts so he went right-hand crazy," explained Jensen.

The chalenger's strong showing in training has lowered the odds to 3-1 in Tiger's favor. They opened at 4-1.

Oddsmakers believe the price will drop to below 2-1 at fight time Saturday.

Tiger of Nigeria, took Monday off and went sightseeing to relax.

LOS ANGELES — Trevel Holman, 154, San Diego, Calif., stopped Eddie Pace, 153¼, Honolulu, 7.

New Boxing Council Snubs 'Return' Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — "It seems like a good idea, yet sometimes it ain't."

That terse comment from world lightheavyweight champion Harold Johnson summed up today the general reaction to the resolution of the newly formed World Council of Professional Boxing prohibiting, effective July 1, return bout contracts for title fights.

The resolution was hailed by Nat Fleischer and Harry Markson, two well-known boxing authorities, on their return from Mexico City where the World Council adopted the resolution Saturday night.

Fighters and managers who commented, however, were more reserved in their views.

RING HISTORIAN

Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine who has gained a world-wide reputation during his more than 50 years in the sport, declared:

"The resolution banning return bout contracts has teeth in it and has long been needed. It is the most constructive piece of boxing legislation in many years."

Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, said the resolution would eliminate what he termed "shotgun contracts."

He explained: "This is when a champion tells a contender he'll give him a title fight but he must give him a return fight if he loses."

In expanding his views as a fighter Johnson added: "Suppose it is a very close fight or the champ has an off night, then I think he should get a return fight fast. Otherwise I think it is a good thing because it will open up boxing to more contenders and give more people a crack at titles."

Gil Clancy, co-manager of Emile Griffith, the world welterweight champion, asserted: "When you have a champion you don't want to put the title on the line unless there is a rematch."

NO REMATCH

"If I didn't have a champion I might feel differently," Clancy said, adding that there was no return clause in the contract Griffith signed to defend his title against Luis Rodriguez in Los Angeles March 16.

Jersey Jones, American representative for Dick Tiger of Nigeria who defends his world middleweight title against Gene Fullmer in Las Vegas Saturday, said "I agree that a champion should not be able to force a challenger into a return bout."

Fullmer, who lost his crown to Tiger in their first bout, said "I don't go along with it. I don't feel a champion who struggles 5, 6 or 7 years to get where he is should be penalized on one fight alone."

Despite Big Gains by a Few Issues

Mart Slips in Moderate Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted lower in moderate trading early this afternoon despite wide gains by a few specially situated issues.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

Some of the special stocks rose as much as 3 or more points.

The trend was lower among steels, motors, utilities, aerospace issues, airlines, tobaccos, and oils. Nonferrous metals and rails were mixed.

The list was backing away from its latest recovery high. It bumped against overhanging resistance in the form of stock for sale yesterday afternoon. Although the day ended with a slight gain, the trend was reveresed.

FEW SHARP MOVES

The session was enlivened by a few sharp moves. U.S. Smelting advanced more than 3 amid continued concern over a proxy fight this spring.

American Telephone's earnings, though higher, were uninspiring to Wall Street. AT&T slipped about a point. Consolidated Edison took a similar loss. Philadelphia Electric dropped ½ to 30¾ on 18,300 shares.

Chrysler was steady at the start but later showed a fractional loss along with most other leading auto stocks. Studebaker held firm.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in quiet trading. Heli-Coil rose more than a point. Up fractionally were Microwave Associates, Technicolor, Brown Co. and Teleregister. Syntex lost more than a point.

Bond Prices Mixed at Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were mixed at the opening of trading today.

Over the counter dealers in U. S. government securities quoted some intermediates off 2/32 to 4/32 while most long maturities held steady. Activity was limited.

All sections of the corporate market advanced small fractions. A number of gains amounted to a point or more among the non-convertibles.

They included Texas and New Orleans Railroad 3¼ by 1⅛ at 90½, Lehigh Valley Railroad 5S series C by 2 at 64, and Union Tank Car 5S by 2 at 106.

Wagner Hints at Own Plan

Faced With Impasse in Newspaper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner, faced with an impasse in the city's 74-day-old newspaper blackout, has hinted that eventually he may come up with a peace formula of his own.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has offered the services of the state government again to try to get the city's nine major dailies back on the streets.

Wagner was asked Monday if he was considering offering a mediation proposal in the strike of AFL-CIO International Typographical Union printers.

"I have not done that as yet—both sides would not want it at this point. But I am not saying what I will do in the future," Wagner replied.

VOICES DOUBT

A publishers' spokesman, who had just left a City Hall meeting with the mayor, voiced doubt of any progress through further government intervention.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the Herald Tribune, said, "I am very pessimistic. We may need an honest broker and not more mediators. I do not feel that any more federal, state and city intervention would be helpful."

Grain Futures Weak During Early Activity

CHICAGO (AP)—Further liquidation and short selling weakened the grain futures market slightly again today during the first several minutes of activity on the board of trade.

Wheat showed a little firmness in spots but all other commodities were generally to major fractions or more lower. Soybeans slipped more than a cent on the nearby months.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I'm going nuts thinking of what I've done. First, I bought Pacific Petroleum at $26 a share—$13,000 worth—and it has gone way down. Last year, I borrowed $5,000 on my Pacific Pete and used it to buy Reserve Oil & Gas at $17 a share. It's gone down to about $10 a share. Please tell me if I should hold these stocks or take a big loss." P. C.

A) I don't think there's any need of your going nuts. Given patience, both these stocks may very well make a good recovery.

Pacific Pete is a good Canadian land play situation in which solid Phillips Petroleum has a substantial interest. The price is down here largely because the market has lost interest for the present in this type of stock. I would hold Pacific Pete.

Reserve Oil has crude interests in California. In my opinion, this is a good candidate for a sellout—any such action would probably improve your situation. My advice is to stay with it.

Q) "Many people don't know the true function of the specialist on the floor on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. In my opinion, he has the unjustified power to manipulate the price of the stock he handles at his post and determine the price that the public has to pay. Publish this and many investors and not gamblers will appreciate it." J. H.

A) I've printed it, but if you will allow me to say so, that doesn't mean that I agree with it.

The role of specialist on the Big Board is to maintain at all times an orderly market in the stocks he handles. Since purchases and sales are by public auction, most of the time he simply matches orders that come to him from brokers on the floor. On occasions when there is a wide spread between bid and ask prices, he buys or sells stock for his own account to prevent violent fluctuations.

The specialist operates under close exchange regulation, and I believe his function is important and very rarely abused.

Ford Finance Official Talks to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Ford Motor Co. official, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, suggested to the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday that corporate and personal income taxes should be cut $6 billion, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

"If tax-rate reduction is going to wait upon final resolution of the issue raised by the President's package, then tax-rate reduction is going to wait too long," testified Theodore A. Yntema, chairman of the Ford finance committee.

Yntema, speaking as chairman of the committee, which is a businessmen's group, said that the tax cut should be divided with $4 billion for individuals and $2 billion for corporations.

He agreed with the basic idea of President Kennedy that the nation's economy should be stimulated by a tax cut, but differed on method. Kennedy has proposed a tax cut, tied in with revisions of the basic tax structure.

Said Yntema:

"We should make now the cuts that are desirable and wait before committing ourselves to making cuts in 1965.

"If the American people find the $3.5-billion tax revision pill so bitter they will not swallow it without $13.5 billion of rate reduction sugar coating, perhaps they shouldn't swallow it at all."

He added his belief that the Kennedy proposed cut in corporation income taxes from 52 per cent to 47 per cent in two steps is too small.

"It amounts to only a fifth of the proposed tax cut and is an inadequate reflection of the importance of the corporate profits tax as an obstacle to economic growth," he said.

O'Neil will discuss vice crimes in Detroit. The meeting will be held at 6:45 p.m. at the Kingsley Inn, 1495 Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Hills.

City to Consider Ban on Parking

Affects Saginaw Street During Road Project

City Commissioners will be asked to okay an agreement tonight which would prohibit parking on downtown Saginaw Street during the perimeter road construction.

The document, drafted by the Michigan State Highway Department, would extend past May 1 the no-parking regulations on Saginaw Street now in effect through an agreement with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

Saginaw Street parking was discontinued in the central business district when free parking became available in municipal lots Feb. 1.

The State Highway Department and city have tentatively agreed that parking will have to be discontinued on some interior streets to avoid traffic congestion during construction of the loop highway.

Also on tonight's agenda is final approval of a contract with Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens for demolition in the R44 urban renewal project.

Contracts for re-use appraisals on urban renewal properties in the R20 and R44 projects will also be up for approval.

Commissioners will be asked to okay a resolution authorizing City Manager Robert A. Stierer to obtain bids for construction of a shelter and comfort station at Aaron Perry Park.

Also slated are public hearings and final adoption of ordinances which would rezone two land parcels to manufacturing use.

One involves 361 lots in South Park Subdivision, and the other a 6-acre parcel on Oakland Avenue at Tallahasse Street.

Gas Economy, Plus All That Horsepower?

A gasoline economy run when some companies are talking more and more about horsepower?

Yes, declare Mobil Oil Co. officials, who announced yesterday that their Mobilgas Economy Run will start March 30 in Los Angeles.

"We took a survey," explained Roger Mahey, Mobil public relations director, "because we were concerned about horsepower interest, too.

"We found out there's a great deal of interest in economy among the auto makers. In fact, among manufacturers of middle-sized cars, we found that was their chief concern."

People who wanted the horsepower, he said, are beginning to wish they had economy, too.

This year's cross-country economy run, as last year, will end at Cobo Hall in Detroit April 4.

Pontiac Motor Division cars, which took first place in two classes last year, are expected to be well represented in the field of entries again this year.

In the 1962 run, a Pontiac Star Chief was first in the medium-priced class and a Tempest took top honors among large-engine compacts.

Mobil will announce the official list of 1963 entries later.

The field will include at least 35 cars sponsored by dealers, dealer associations and private persons. Drivers are named by the entrants.

There are eight classes ranging from small-engine compacts to luxury automobiles.

All 'Ups' Aren't Good in Auto Industry

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The big word in the auto industry at the moment is "up."

Sales are up and production is up and that's good. Inventories also are up and that's not so good.

The factories have been building cars at near record rates through the winter and despite record sales, stocks are beginning to accumulate, especially in the modest-volume makes.

This means decisions must be made now. Should output be slowed until the snow melts and spring sales sprout? Or should stocks be assembled that will assure spring buyers immediate delivery on the model of their choice?

PACE SLIGHTLY AHEAD

Original schedules called for some 617,000 assemblies in February and the pace so far has been slightly in excess of that figure. Sales are expected to run around 500,000 units.

Inventories of cars in dealer stocks, and in transit from assembly plants, totaled about 970,000 as the month opened. Thus the month-end total should move over the million mark for the first time since last March 1.

Observers said the figures shouldn't cause to much concern because the sales rate has held up. The 970,000 cars represented an industry average of 46 days' supply.

General Motors continues to hold its production closest to actual sales and as a result is running with an inventory considerably under the industry average. Other than the standard GM cars, only the Ford Galaxie was below the average at the start of the month.

Inventories a year ago were almost exactly the same as now, but with sales at a slower pace represented a 52-day supply.

The origin of the military hand salute is obscure but it may have been traced back to the Crusades era when it was accepted as a substitute for raising the hat or helmet.

Graft Kidney to Father of 9

BOSTON (UPI) — A Wisconsin father of nine, who underwent a rare kidney transplant operation in an attempt to save his life, was reported in fair condition today.

George E. Brost, 39, of Wauwatosa, Wis. yesterday received a healthy kidney from Nancy Luedicke, 29, of West Allis, Wis.

They are not related and did not know each other until after she volunteered to give up one of her kidneys to save him.

Miss Luedicke, who underwent a 2½-hour operation, was in good condition. She was expected to be released from Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in about two weeks.

Brost is doomed to die if his body does not accept the transplanted kidney. Doctors said he will undergo another operation to remove his other diseased kidney in a few weeks.

Brost's operation lasted five hours and 10 minutes.

Cite Cuba Blockade, Ask Ship Build-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has steamed up to Capitol Hill, signaling a request for more ships.

It has pointed to the Cuban crisis as a dramatic lesson of the uses of modern seapower in a nuclear age—a lesson, it argues that the Soviet Union is "belatedly recognizing."

Previously, the Navy let it be known that it believes it needs more than the 41 ships provided for construction in the budget sent to Congress by the Defense Department and the White House.

Monday, two of its top brass—Secretary of Navy Fred Korth and Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations—got a chance to voice their worries to the House Armed Services Committee.

Anderson said the American-Soviet showdown over Cuba "was an example of the present inability of the Russians to sustain an overseas venture when challenged by our overwhelming seapower in a particular area, as well as their apparent unwillingness to so attempt."

WARNS AGAINST LETDOWN

But, he cautioned, "If we permit our seapower to diminish, whether from motives of economy or lack of understanding of its importance, a vacuum would be left which the Russians obviously would seek to fill and which they could succeed in filling."

The big concern, as Korth and Anderson see it, is the number of overage ships which will have to be replaced.

The problem of ship obsolescence, said Korth, will become critical about 1968.

Korth noted that the Navy plans to get 41 new ships and convert 35 old ones.

In the past the Navy has pointed to statistics showing that out of a fleet of 861 ships, 595 are 13 years old or older, and 362 are beyond the estimated age of reliability.

Navy men feel the problem is most acute in destroyer types, where 168 of the 226 are overage.

The Soviet Union's submarine fleet, estimated at 430 ships, is believed larger than America's. However, most Western experts agree that the United States outnumbers the Soviet Union 3 to 1 in the far-ranging nuclear powered submarines.

"Jane's Fighting Ships," the authoritative British manual on naval strength, lists some 3,000 ships in the Soviet fleet. They include an estimated 25 cruisers and 165 destroyers, 500 motor torpedo boats and a host of such lesser craft as tugs and training ships.

Susan Get Opportunity to Die Once Again

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Susan Strasberg came bouncing vivaciously across the bare stage of the Winter Garden — looking very unlike somebody who's going to die fairly soon.

"Do you realize how many times I've died?" the snapping-eyed little brunette, who's suddenly become quite a sex symbol, asked this visitor with a light laugh.

WILSON

"And now I'm to do the 'Camille' death scene which is supposed to be the great tear-jerker of all time. I'm beginning to get nervous. Why is it that so many people want me to die all the time?"

Susan led me across the stage and introduced me to black-bearded British actor John Stride and brilliant Italian director Franco Zeffirelli, her colleagues in the new Camille, "The Lady of the Camellias," due March 18.

"And now you're going to match your dying ability with Greta Garbo's," said somebody who remembered G.G. had done "Camille."

"I won't match her but I've had lots of experience dying," she said. "In 'Anne Frank' they led me away to die, and besides that, I've been electrocuted . . . I've been shot through the heart by the Nazis, I've been bombed to pieces . . .

"And now," she said, flirtatiously, to John Stride, "it'll be fun dying. I'm going to die in his arms . . ."

Susan looked at him. "He's the boy from the country," she said, referring to his role in the play.

"I am not from the country," he bristled. "I'm from London." "In New York," she flipped back, "we call that the country."

"Ohhh, thank you very much, Miss Strasberg," he growled good-humoredly.

"That's why," Susan laughed, "people want me to die all the time."

Income Hits Record Rate

All-Time Annual High for Personal Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department reported yesterday personal income rose in January to a record annual rate of $452.4 billion, but the gain resulted from GI insurance dividends not scheduled again this year.

Making adjustments for seasonal conditions, the department set the December-January increase at an annual rate of $2 billion.

The January estimate would have been $448.8, or $1.6 under December, except for the Kennedy's administration's decision to push up the payment date of two GI insurance dividends and distribute a special dividend to World War II National Service policyholders.

These amounted to $298 million, or $3.6 billion at an annual rate.

On the minus side, income was reduced by the increase in social security taxes which figure at an annual rate of $1 billion of employes and the self-employed.

This is about half the estimate of the year's impact of social security rate changes and does not include amounts paid by employers.

January income also declined about $750 million as the result of another peculiar factor, the unusually large payment of corporate dividends in December.

Manufacturing payrolls declined about $300 million, to an annual rate of $93.9 billion, continuing a six-month trend in which manufacturing salaries and wages have either held steady or declined.

Transportation payrolls also dropped off in January, largely because of the Longshoremens' East and Gulf Coast strike.

Nonmanufacturing payrolls gained somewhat. The net income of farm operators decreased in the wake of a rise in December.

Congress Will Get Medicare Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy plans to send his medicare program to Congress Thursday as part of a special message on problems of the aged.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze has said the controversial administration plan to provide medical insurance for the aged through the social security system has been revised this year to make it "more palatable" to opponents.

In 1642 Blaise Pascal, French philosopher, made the first calculating machine.

Plan Highway Hearing

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department will hold a public hearing at Negaunee Feb. 28 on the proposed relocation of 8.9 miles of M35 at Negaunee at an estimated cost of $700,000.

Obscenities Aid Comedian in Deciding on Jury

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Lenny Bruce acted as his own attorney Monday in selecting jurors for his trial on a charge of obscenity in his act at a night club.

Bruce, 37, mentioned common obscenities to prospective jurors and asked them if the words were repulsive to them. He accepted as jurors those who replied no and rejected those who replied yes. A lawyer, Earl W. Zaidens, is aiding Bruce at the trial.

A jury of eight women and four men was selected. Bruce was arrested Dec. 5 in the Gate of Horn night club by police who said he used obscene language and gestures. The club's liquor license was suspended 15 days as a result of the police raid.

40 Freight Cars Fall as Trestle Collapses

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP)—Wrecking crews are attempting to salvage 40 cars of an Illinois Central freight train which plunged off a trestle when a bridge collapsed.

No one was reported hurt in the accident Monday. Rushing waters of the swollen Coles Creek, fed by heavy rains, weakened the bridge and caused its collapse after three engines pulling the long freight had crossed.

Fangboner, Kampsen Win Waterford Race

Venezuela Chief Off to U.S.

Supervisor Post Not Contested in Either Party

Township Officials Say Turnout One of Worst for a Primary

ELMER FANGBONER

LEO F. KAMPSEN

Waterford Township Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner won the nomination on the Democratic ticket for township clerk, and Leo F. Kampsen, an automobile salesman scored an overwhelming victory over his Republican opponent in yesterday's township primaries.

In what officials said was one of the worst turnouts for a primary, only 2,636 of the township's 22,000 registered voters cast their ballots.

The top position of township supervisor was not contested in either party.

James E. Seeterlin, present clerk, filed on the Democratic ticket. Incumbent Elmer R. Johnson, elected three times on the Democratic ticket, is running as a Republican this year. He changed to the Republican party early last year.

Fangboner, with 630 votes, defeated his rival Lewis B. Ruelle by 101 votes.

Kampsen's 778 total outdistanced Ronald W. Smith's 440, almost two to one.

The only contest on the Republican slate besides clerk was for treasurer. Fred L. Morningstar of 4465 Major St. garnered 680 votes, while his opponent Michael G. Patterson of 6329 Grace K. Court got 570.

The biggest contest after clerk on the Democratic ticket was for the four positions open as township trustee.

Of the seven who filed, John S. Coleman of 100 Crescent Drive polled the highest with 874.

Charles Evans, 370 Riveria St., received 790; a former board member, John E. Verhey, 4434 Cheeseman St., 732, and Kenneth Preston, 6441 Crest Drive, 598.

Losers were Donald R. Herr of 3579 Signet St., with 590, and Juanita M. Luehmann of 3611 Percy King Drive with 429.

Secret Meeting Sparks Rumors on Cuba Move

JFK, Congressional Leaders Talk at Night; Development Due?

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — A secrecy-cloaked White House meeting between President Kennedy and congressional leaders set off speculation today of an impending development in the Cuban situation.

The President and his top advisers met with 17 lawmakers for 40 minutes last night in a discussion described by the participants as a "routine" review of Cuba and other foreign policy issues.

U. S. officials said later no major U. S. action or announcement was planned. They said that American policy remained unchanged and that no new operations by this government were contemplated.

But the tight gag clamped on legislators and officials alike led diplomatic quarters to suggest that Kennedy might have received a reply from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to his recent demand for a timetable on removal of Soviet troops from Cuba.

It was considered possible that the President might have invited the congressional leaders from both parties to the White House to discuss with them the Russian position.

Two administration officials who joined in the meeting—CIA Director John A. McCone and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara — were scheduled to appear today at closed sessions of congressional committees.

One Republican leader, who declined to be quoted by name, brushed off last night's meeting as a "rehash of the situation in Cuba and Latin America."

He said he viewed it as an attempt to quiet some of the attacks on the administration's Cuban policy.

He said he thought Kennedy has been "disturbed by some of the criticism Republicans have been aiming at his foreign policy and is trying to pacify us. They are smart boys there."

"Just a general intelligence roundup on Cuba" and some other areas, said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., remarked he didn't hear anything particularly new about the Cuban situation and the Soviet military power there but "the general feeling was that things looked a little better."

Half of Allocations to Stay in State, GM President Says

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — President John F. Gordon of General Motors says his company consistently allocates about 50 per cent of everything to Michigan.

"We have no intention of deviating," he told a news conference yesterday, "because it is the most economical way to run our business."

Gordon and Chairman Frederic G. Donner disclosed General Motors will spend $1.33 billion worldwide this year for plants and equipment and for special tools, those suitable for only one model year.

Spending in Michigan will come close to $500 million, they said.

They made no attempt at a breakdown of Michigan expenditures. But they did say extensive modernization will be undertaken at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body car and truck assembly plants at Flint and at the Cadillac-Fisher Body facilities in Detroit.

PREDICTED RIGHT

Donner observed that General Motors from the first has predicted excellent sales for 1963, as good or better than the seven million cars of 1962, and "we haven't been wrong so far."

In a move described as "common, ordinary business prudence," the GM officials revealed that the corporation will triple its steel inventory to 1.6 million tons.

This will be done as protection against any steel strike this summer.

Donner and Gordon said GM is stockpiling steel so that if a labor crisis occurs this summer the corporation will have enough "to finish our old models and get a supply of the new ones out."

Gordon said GM normally carries an inventory of 550,000 to 600,000 tons. The supply is now 10-15 per cent above normal and by the end of July GM will have an extra one million tons on hand, he said.

The announcement sent steel stocks upward as much as two points.

On a wide range of other subjects, the top GM executives said:

Seat belts are a good idea but use should be voluntary. Donner said he was pleased that state legislation on seat belts now tended to say owners must supply the belts, rather than dealers or manufacturers.

COMPANY POLICY

General Motors and its divisions will adhere to the Automobile Manufacturers Association resolution on speed and horsepower. GM has a company policy which spells this out, although some divisions have violated it in the past.

Gordon said specifically that no GM division is sponsoring any cars in the Daytona Beach 500-mile race this coming weekend.

But at another point Gordon said if a customer is in the market for performance it would be "very hard for him to miss us."

Donner said General Motors' position on profit sharing continues unchanged from 1948, that employes are going to share in advance of the fact on an assured basis "and I would say that the whole trend of our wage, rates and salary rates would indicate they have been sharing."

To Talk 2 Days With Kennedy on Latin Woes

Delay Planned Parade to Greet Betancourt Because of Weather

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt, who has waged an uphill and winning four-year battle to show the way to peaceful revolution in Latin America, arrives in Washington today for two days of talks with President Kennedy.

Betancourt, accompanied by State Department chief of protocol Angier Biddle Duke and Viviana Munoz Marin, daughter of Puerto Rico Gov. Luis Munoz, left San Juan at 8:17 a.m. (7:17 a.m. Pontiac time).

Munoz bade them farewell at the airport. He was due at Andrews AFB, Md., at 11:20 a.m. Pontiac time.

From Andrews, Betancourt was to be flown to the White House in a helicopter where the President and Mrs. Kennedy will welcome him, his wife, daughter and official committee.

Because of snow and rain, the White House postponed plans for a ceremonial parade through the heart of Washington honoring Betancourt. The parade will be held tomorrow instead.

President Kennedy's official welcome for the visiting chief executive was shifted from the south grounds of the White House to the North Portico. Thus the two presidents could meet and exchange greetings under cover.

Betancourt is a friend of the United States and a No. 1 Latin-American enemy of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

En route to his meeting with Kennedy, Betancourt received an enthusiastic welcome Monday when he stopped off at San Juan.

Without mentioning Cuba by name, he told newsmen, "as long as the Communist beachhead in America is not eliminated, we will be exposed to the risk of sabotage."

Flu-Like Bug Puts Bite on Middle West

By The Associated Press

Outbreaks of influenza-like disease, hitting epidemic proportions in some eastern localities, have spread to the Middle West. Respiratory illnesses have been reported to some degree throughout most of the nation.

New York City has an Asian flu epidemic, but it is not as serious as in 1957 when this particular strain swept across the United States for the first time, said Dr. George James, city health commissioner.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said cases have been reported in parts of the South, Southwest, Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

In upstate New York, four 40-bed wards of the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo were quarantined because of what a doctor termed an outbreak of an acute, flu-like respiratory infection. It has not been diagnosed as Asian flu.

In the Buffalo area, five schools reported 10 per cent absenteeism because of illness.

More than 1,000 new cases a day were reported in West Virginia last week.

Center of the U.S. Public Health Flu-like outbreaks spread in Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas reported the disease on the increase in counties which include Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, home of the state university.

In the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, about 15 per cent of the area's school children were out Monday, compared with 23 per cent Friday.

City health officials said the flu plague may end quickly—within 10 days.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said cases have been reported in parts of the South, Southwest, Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

The center's latest report—covering the week ending Feb. 9—includes 707 pneumonia-influenza deaths in the 108 cities which file reports. There were more than 100,000 cases reported this week.

Would Let Courts Cancel Convictions

LANSING — A bill introduced into the State Senate by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, would allow annulment of criminal convictions after prisoners were paroled or completed their sentences.

The legislation would enable courts to order such an annulment to assist in rehabilitation when it would be consistent with the public welfare.

Courts in which a prisoner was convicted could "enter an order annulling, canceling and rescinding the record of conviction and disposition" if the measure becomes law.

After the annulment, full civil rights would be restored to the released prisoner unless the order provided otherwise.

Roberts' bill said the person "shall be treated in all respects as not having been convicted, except that upon conviction of any subsequent crime the prior conviction may be considered by the court in determining the sentence to be imposed."

Prospective employers and others would be restricted in questioning persons about previous criminal records to such language as "Have you ever been arrested for or convicted of a crime which has not been annulled by a court?"

Under the bill, the questioning restriction would apply to any application for employment, license, or other civil right or privilege, or any appearance as a witness.

Recall, Cityhood Fail

Voters yesterday kept in office three school board members who were the subjects of a special recall proposition in the Avondale School District.

In another hotly contested issue, the proposed city incorporation of Rochester and an adjacent portion of Avon Township was defeated by a 4 to 1 margin.

Complete results of primaries held yesterday in 21 area communities are on pages 4 and 7 of today's Pontiac Press.

Romney Lauds Economic Plan

Says Administration Bolsters Integrity

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney believes his administration has made a start toward re-establishing what he calls the state's financial integrity.

The Republican governor beamed with optimism in a television interview last night in reporting on his first six weeks in office.

Emphasizing that getting more jobs for Michigan was still his No. 1 goal, Romney expressed belief that prospects for doing this already have improved.

Steps have been taken, he said, to solve some of the controversial issues between labor and management. He cited efforts to compromise a dispute over payment of state unemployment benefits to workers idled by strikes at plants in other states.

Romney said the legislature "has established a schedule that will result in a short, action-packed session."

The governor's plan is to have a legislative session later this year to consider tax reform. He said tax reform can be put into effect easier under the proposed

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — A husband and wife, one son and their twin daughters were found shot to death in their secluded home on the outskirts of Green Bay today, and police issued an all-points bulletin asking for the arrest of the sixth member of the family, a 16-year-old boy.

Sacrifices Life for Girl

Youth Hurled to Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"He was my first serious boy friend," said Paulette Lewis, 15. "We had been going steady one month and 12 days."

Then she began to cry.

Paulette told Monday, between tears, of the moment David Brimley sacrificed his life for her as they walked, hand-in-hand, across an avenue near their homes.

Suddenly a car roared through a red light, glanced off another auto, and hurtled, brakes squealing, at Paulette and David.

"David shouted, 'Look out,' and he gave me a push," Paulette said. "I think he tried to run, but —when I recovered my balance, I couldn't see him."

David, 17, who had just gotten his first job and enrolled in his first college course, was hurled 150 feet to his death.

The careening car slid into a power pole and halted. Three young men jumped out and ran.

"I looked around," said Paulette, "and saw where the car had hit the pole down the street. I walked down there—" Again she cried "—and found him lying at the curb."

Police drove her home after the accident Sunday night. Her mother, Jean Lewis, called a doctor. He treated the pretty, blonde 10th grader with sedatives.

Police also went to tell David's mother, Lillian Armstrong, a few doors away.

She told a newsman later: "Why, David had just left the house. His dog was watching for him at the window, the way he always does. He was gone half an hour.

"Then—he was dead."

McNamara Due to Assess Cuba

To Outline to Senate U. S. vs. Soviet Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid a continuing din of political argument over Cuba, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gives senators a fresh assessment today of American vs. Soviet military power.

McNamara was called before the Senate Armed Services Committee for testimony behind closed doors on the progress of the administration's program to build a flexible force of strategic weapons capable of absorbing a nuclear attack and then hitting back at the Soviet Union.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said McNamara will be "open to questions" about Soviet military strength in Cuba and seems likely to get plenty of them.

Stennis said the Preparedness subcommittee he heads will begin a concentrated investigation of the Cuban situation later in the week, after McNamara has completed his report on the military posture.

ANOTHER ROUND

Stennis' previous statement that another blockade of Cuba may be necessary if Soviet troops there cannot be forced out by economic means was topped by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in another furious round of congressional debate Monday.

Goldwater, an Air Force Reserve major general and a member of the Armed Services Committee, called for a blockade of all shipments of any kind to Cuba. He said the Kennedy administration ought to get up "enough gumption" to end the Communist threat to the hemisphere "once and for all."

MONSTER OF THE DEEP—This huge 92-foot fiberglas model of a blue whale awes visitors to the Smithsonian Institution's newest display, "Life in the Sea," which opened yesterday in Washington. Both Sides Meet at Luncheon

Russ Adamant on Test Ban Pact

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union refused to budge today from its take-it-or-leave-it stand on conditions for a nuclear test ban treaty.

American, British and Soviet disarmament negotiators gathered at a private lunch for what their spokesmen called a "social" meeting. It was their first joint meeting since the 17-nation disarmament conference resumed here last week after a two-month recess.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., who was present, told UPI afterward that it was a "fruitful discussion but there was no sign of any significant shift."

Humphrey's remark seemed to crush cautious hopes for some break in the nuclear deadlock that had been raised earlier as a result of the lunch get-together.

Humphrey said he found the Russians courteous, but "I do not think there was any particular sign of a new move."

"There was nothing new," the conference spokesman said.

The United States and Britain, as well as delegates of the neutral nations attending the 11-month-old conference, have been trying to get the Russians to resume nuclear test-ban bargaining among the big three.

But the Russians have stuck to their position of offering a treaty of Kremlin terms only.

Conference sources said the meeting might lead to some break that would get formal negotiations going on a nuclear test ban treaty.

They said the Russians have asked the same group to meet again tomorrow at the Soviet delegation's villa.

Everglades Plane Disaster Linked to Structure Stress

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The flight recorder of the Northwest Orient Airlines jet that crashed in the Florida Everglades last Wednesday indicates the plane was subjected to violent stresses severe enough to cause structural failure, it was learned today.

The stresses may have been the result of storm turbulence, although this still is in the realm of speculation.

Sources close to the investigation of the crash, in which all 43 aboard were killed, said a preliminary recorder reading showed this picture:

—The Boeing 720B jet reached a maximum altitude of about 19,400 feet when it encountered what appeared to be extreme turbulence.

—The indicated air speed at this point was about 250 or 255 knots (around 300 miles per hour), which is standard penetration speed for entering turbulence in a jet.

—At this speed, the recorder scrawled out a reading of negative "G" forces 3.5 times that of gravity. Negative G forces put a downward strain on the wings, and 3.5 far exceeds the design limits of the airplane.

— The high G forces indicating probable turbulence was followed by a minute of smooth flight, then slightly choppy air for another 30 seconds, and suddenly a nose down pitch-over into a dive.

—The speed in the dive built up to as high as 620 miles per hour and possible higher. The speed tracing went off the recorder's graph at about 10,000 feet, an altitude at which 620 m.p.h. far surpasses the "never exceed" speed of a jet.

Investigators emphasized that the recorder readings thus far are preliminary and subject to continued analysis. They also cautioned against any premature interpetation.

Airmen and engineers alike would be stunned if it is finally determined that the Northwest jet was wrecked by storm turbulence. Airliners like the Boeing 720 are regarded as the strongest ever built.

"If it turns out to be turbulence," one pilot commented, "it must have been the equivalent of a tornado. I just can't believe it could happen to a jet."

4 Brazilian Marines Go to Freighter

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — Four Brazilian marines left by plane today to take over the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, anchored by its pro-Communist captors off the Brazilian island of Maraca.

Lt. Francisco Medeiros Araujo and three sergeants flew to the coastal town of Amapa where they will go to the ship by boat. Presumably they had assurances of the nine armed hijackers—who took over the ship a week ago—there would be no trouble.

The hijackers have been promised asylum in Brazil, an action expected to bring strong protests from Venezuela.

GOAL THWARTED

Their chief aim—to prevent President Romulo Betancourt's trip to the United States—was thwarted. He went ahead with the trip, saying the Venezuelan people and armed forces back his regime.

The Brazilian marines were under orders to take control of the ship pending the arrival late tonight or early Wednesday of a Brazilian navy corvette carrying marines to escort the Anzoategui 240 miles down the coast to Belem at the mouth of the Amazon River.

There was speculation that the ship had halted off northern Brazil because it ran out of fuel or had engine trouble. The Brazilian navy is under orders to seize the ship. The navy has said the future of the hijackers—members of a Venezuelan terrorist organization—would be left to the Brazilian Foreign Ministry.

SURVEILLANCE

U.S. craft, hovering outside Brazilian territorial waters, kept the Anzoategui under surveillance but made no attempt to arrest it.

Brazil has promised political asylum to the hijackers when they surrender the vessel. The Venezuelan Foreign Ministry said it will demand their extradition. The ship will be returned to Venezuela presumably with its captain and most of the 35 crewmen.

Kissometer Fair to You?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trio of Miami students have devised a machine that measures the smooching power generated by two people kissing. It's called the kissometer.

Its creators, including a bouncy 18-year-old brunette, are having a lot of fun with trial runs.

"It all depends on the sparkle inside you," said Tatiana Prilutchi, the only female in her electrical engineering class. "If you feel all tingling inside, your kiss will show it."

John Woods, 21, Chillicothe, Ohio, takes a more pedestrian view. "The kissometer is purely dependent on the resistance of the kiss. If it is high, the kiss is good. If it is low, the kiss is bad." (Resistance, as used by Woods, is purely a technical term in describing the number of electrons that get through.)

The kissometer is rigged with flashing lights and ringing bells.

The lowest quality kiss flashes a sign that says, "Dead fish." A Casanova embrace will register "Woweee." The hottest smooching registers a "Woweee" and clangs a bell.

"The machine works on scientific principles," said Tatiana, of North Miami Beach. "The couple inside the booth hold an electronically charged probe in their hands.

It sends a minute amount of electrical current through their bodies. When their lips meet, the circuit is completed."

Praise Pontiac Motion Against Airport Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night commented on the "fine resolution" adopted by the Pontiac City Commission opposing plans for a proposed county airport.

Birmingham has indicated its disapproval of the proposed plan several times since the commission's first resolution against it last Aug. 6.

The Pontiac resolution asks all municipalities in the county to "join in opposing extravagant and unnecessary expenditures of tax funds" for development of Allen's Airport in Orion Township as a county airfield.

Also at last night's meeting, commissioners approved a zoning change for 707 Knox St., changing its present parking classification to single family residence.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Smith, 69 E. Washington St., Clarkston, had requested the change because, they said, "increased taxation" on the present zone classification imposed "a great financial burden."

The city Planning Board recommended the change in a report last December.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reported on the quarterly parking meter survey compiled the week of Feb. 1-8. In comparing the results with last year's figures, Moxley noted "substantial increases in average revenues in all five meter zones."

Since January 1961, he said, the average revenue per meter rose from $1.36 to $1.54 in 1962, and hit $1.70 per meter this year.

"This is the highest January parking meter average on record, surpassed only by last October's figure of $1.72 per meter," he said.

Under general business, Commissioner Robert W. Page asked for a look into the matter of extended short-term parking limits in front of the library and the possibility of a book-drop in front of the building.

This he said, would alleviate the problem of persons walking blocks just to drop off a book.

The United Church Women of Birmingham will take part in the 77th annual World Day of Prayer with a special service March 1 at the First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple Road.

The local prayer observance, open to the public, will begin at 10 a.m. A nursery will be provided for children.

A music program will be presented by the Birmingham Musicale Choral Ensemble.

Court Refuses Church Appeal

Concerned Merger of Two Denominations

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday turned down an appeal by the First Congregational Church of Pontiac and three other Congregational Christian churches against the 1957 merger of their denomination into the new United Church of Christ.

The high court upheld a New York federal court decision against the four churches in August 1962.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of the Pontiac church, has played a prominent role in opposition to the merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church into the new denomination.

The other churches that joined in the suit are located in Burlington, Iowa; Toledo, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Four other Oakland County Congregational Churches refused to join in the merger.

They were: the First Congregational Church of Royal Oak; the Birmingham Congregational Church; the North Congregational Church of Southfield; and the Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village.

Members of the Pontiac church authorized their officers to make the church a party to the federal court suit in 1956 while the merger was in the planning stage.

The merger joining about 1,400,000 Congregationalists and 800,000 Evangelical and Reformed Church members in 8,311 congregations across the county was completed in June, 1957, in Cleveland, despite the court action to prevent it.

Other court action four years earlier also failed to halt the merger.

constitution which will be voted on at the April 1 election.

"We must re-establish Michigan's financial integrity," he said. "We've spent more than we've had in the bank. This is immoral and economically unsound."

The governor said the budget for the next fiscal year will take in more money than the state spends but he remarked, "we've got to do something about our revenue program for the following fiscal year."

Asked whether Michigan was getting a fair shake on defense jobs, Romney said he considered Defense Secretary Robert McNamara an objective individual and that contracts are awarded on a merit basis. He said it was up to Michigan to do something to get contracts.

"Government is not a prime source of jobs," he said. "The primary responsibility is that of private organizations. We are trying to remove from the Michigan picture the things that have discouraged private organizations."

Romney said the state is going to encourage each community to develop jobs.

Asked about apportionment of the legislature, Romney said: "I know of no valid point that can be raised with respect to the formula of the new constitution. Population and area are both considered. The metropolitan counties will get seven additional senators."

Romney said he also could see no objection to a provision in the proposed constitution to make the office of State Highway Commissioner appointive instead of elective.

Office Workers Worry Unions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Labor union leaders said today at their winter meetings they are acutely aware that white collar workers are far outstripping manual workers as potential union members in the American job market.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz planned to meet during the day with members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council on current problems; including what Wirtz has said is a trend begun in 1956 for technical workers teamed with machines to outstrip craftsmen.

Organized labor in the AFL-CIO has been worried for some time over the prospect that unionized American workers will become increasingly a minority group with declining political and social influence.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has charted a pilot organizing drive in Los Angeles. Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Auto Workers Union, who is regarded as a Meany rival, has scheduled much more ambitious campaigns in other areas.

Wirtz, here for a huddle with the labor leaders, has said that white collar workers, after outnumbering blue collar workers for the first time in 1956, steadily have built up a numerical superiority.

Despite the increasing population and work force, there were about a half-million fewer factory production workers in 1962 than in 1947—a period in which factory output rose by 80 per cent.

Send Copies of Constitution

While the pros and cons of the proposed new state constitution are discussed publicly in the weeks remaining before the April 1 election, Oakland County residents will be able to see for themselves what's in the document.

Copies are being distributed to every library in the county by the Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution (CNC), the group announced today.

CNC decided to make copies available in libraries after supplies ran low. Few more were available from the constitutional convention office in Lansing. A fund shortage has limited the printing of copies.

Libraries also are being presented with two booklets on the document published by the Citizens Research Council and copies of a brochure prepared by the constitutional convention.

None of the material advocates either a "yes" or "no" vote, according to CNC, an alliance of some 20 groups working for passage of the proposed constitution.

Cityhood Rejected; Rochester to Stay Village

The signs will read "Rochester Village Limits" for at least a while longer.

The move to incorporate this village and a portion of Avon Township was rejected by a decisive 4-to-1 vote here yesterday.

Residents of the proposed city voted against incorporation by an overwhelming 1,306 to 342. They chose to retain a village of 1 9-16 square miles instead of establishing a city of 4½ square miles.

IN ALL PRECINCTS

Each precinct voted against incorporation by at least a 3 to 1 margin, according to Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer. Precinct No. 1, made up solely of village residents, opposed incorporation, 361-76.

In 1958 a similar proposal, but requesting a 5 1-16 square-mile city, was defeated by a 3 to 1 vote.

This drive that began last August, ended with a thud.

Parke, Davis & Co. had threatened to move its 635-acre Parkedale Farms, included in the area proposed for cityhood, should incorporation be approved.

Other opposition was presented as part of a campaign to vote down cityhood. "Poorly planned," and "too small," were phrases worn smooth by objectors.

AREA NEWS

In contrast to this, cityhood advocators talked of representation on the County Board of Supervisors, payment of taxes to only one municipal government and better governmental benefits.

"The township cannot foresee incorporation at this time," Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller repeated throughout the campaign.

"Why should Rochester taxpayers support two local governments when Rochester alone could easily furnish all necessary general governmental services?" retorted Roy Rewold, village president and head of the Steering Committee for City Incorporation.

Rewold claimed that most of the area proposed for incorporation was already serviced by the village.

The existing western and southern limits of the village were retained in the city plan. Dequindre Road would have enclosed the city on the east and Tienken Road was proposed as the northern boundary.

FILED IN VAIN

Nine candidates filed for posts on a city charter commission, but their election was nullified due to failure of the cityhood proposal to pass.

Balloting on the nine commissioners showed Edwin Forbush receiving 900 votes; Ally Ensign, 898; John Terry, 898; John Lowes, 860; Neil Rosso, 797; Roy Rewold, 792; J. Francis Voll, 786; Frank Wolff, 742; and Charles Seed, 736.

Spring Boosts Vote in 18 Township Primaries

There are still seven members on the Avondale Board of Education today.

The recall attempt against board President Floyd L Cobb Jr., Vice President David W. Hackett and Treasurer Mrs. Genevieve Porter failed in yesterday's primary.

They were retained in office, mainly due to heavy support received in Avon Township, which comprises the biggest part of the school district.

However, school district residents in the city of Troy and Bloomfield and Pontiac townships voted to recall the three officers, who had been under fire in a controversy which has plagued the district since last August.

The total vote was: to recall Cobb, yes 690, no 865; to recall Hackett, yes 667, no 908; to recall Mrs. Porter, yes 664, no 873.

In Avon Township, voters endorsed Cobb, 554 to 153; Hackett, 659 to 143; and Mrs. Porter, 599 to 148.

BLOOMFIELD OPPOSITION

Bloomfield township residents were strongly against the board. They voted to recall Cobb, 131 to 6; Hackett, 132 to 4; and Mrs. Porter 131 to 5.

Pontiac township voting showed a similar trend. Balloting there were for recall of Cobb, 332 to 284; Hackett, 323 to 284; and Mrs. Porter, 316 to 250.

The small Troy vote was closest of the four municipalities taking part in the special school election. Voters supported the recall of Cobb, 74 to 57; Hackett, 69 to 60; and Mrs. Porter, 69 to 59.

The recall drive was instigated by a citizen's group, the Avondale School District Improvement Association, after the Aug. 7 resignation of former School Supt. LeRoy R. Watt.

Numerous charges have been exchanged between supporters of the board officers and the ASDIA since then.

Reasons listed for recall on the ballot charged that the board officers' refusal to renew Watt's contract was "arbitrary, capricious and without regard to the school district."

The three maintained that they fulfilled their duties "faithfully and with integrity."

They said they refused to renew Watt's contract because he attempted to submit inaccurate information to the Oakland County Board of Education in an effort to obtain public funds to which the school district was not entitled."

Spring-like weather is credited with drawing larger voter turnouts than were expected in most primaries held yesterday in 18 area townships.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

First baby about to make his (or her) debut? When you pack for that joyous trip to the hospital, apart from the basic necessities for you and baby, here are a few minor necessities that will stand you in good stead:

- A simple cosmetic kit, to indulge in a bit of luxury primping that may be by-passed when you get home.
- Note paper and a ball point pen, to dash off those "thank-you" notes you may not have time for later.
- Some small change for papers, magazines, stamps, etc.

Bottle-feeding facts. If you and your doctor have decided that bottle-feeding is for your baby, ask him about Modilac's ...the Gerber Baby Formula. It's a special milk formula, that provides the nutrients your baby will need. Modilac really looks like milk and tastes like milk because it's flash-sterilized in 6 seconds to protect color and flavor, as well as precious protein and vitamin values.

For your convenience, Modilac is a complete formula. No syrup or sugar to measure or mix. No vitamin supplement needed. All you have to do is combine it with the amount of boiled water your doctor specifies.

Organization plan. Home at last, with a new love in your heart and no time on your hands. If you do a bit of pre-planning and organize your days in terms of baby's needs first and chores second, you'll fare beautifully. Household duties can usually wait—a little heart that needs you can't.

Solid start. Almost before you know it, your baby will be ready for cereal. Good starting point for this important step: Gerber Cereal Sixes. This handy, 6-in-1 package contains six small-size boxes for pint-size appetites. Rice Cereal, Mixed Cereal, High Protein Cereal and 2 Oatmeal make up this nice-to-eat sextette. Flavors are delicate, the way they should be for babies, the texture dreamy-smooth. And, they're enriched with iron, calcium, and B-vitamins. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Chiefs Have Two Contests Still on Tap

Thumb School Favored to Push Season Streak to 49 Straight

By The Associated Press

Capac, which held second place for five weeks, today was named the top Class C basketball team in the state — the first new leader in the Associated Press' weekly prep poll since it started seven weeks ago.

The AP's panel of Michigan sports writers and sportscasters, while selecting Capac (14-0) to replace Ontonagon (15-0 in Class C), retained the top teams in the other three classes.

Capac, which has won 47 straight regular season basketball games, has Armada and Almont remaining on the schedule and the Chieftains will be favored to push their streak to 49 in a row before entering tournament play.

Benton Harbor (14-0) continued to rule in Class A. River Rouge (14-1) leads the pack in Class B, while Champion (15-0) headed Class D.

There were no new teams among the leaders in Class C as Ontonagon dropped to second, Perry (13-0) held on to third, Cheboygan Catholic Central (15-0) moved up two notches to fourth and Addison (15-0) and Sebewaing (12-0) tied for fifth to make up the top five.

POINTERS SECOND

Grosse Pointe (15-0) traded places with Saginaw Arthur Hill (12-0), moving up to second place in Class A. Ferndale (12-0) moved into fourth place as Grand Rapids South (12-0) dropped to fifth.

The only new entry among the top ten was Pontiac Central (9-4) which placed ninth.

There were a number of changes in Class B as Vassar, third-ranked last week, lost two games and dropped out of the top ten.

Hudsonville Unity Christian (13-1) was still in second place, but Paw Paw (12-1) took over third — a jump of two places. Ithaca (14-1) also moved up two places and took over fourth, with West Bloomfied (12-2) taking fifth.

Replacing Vassar in the top ten was Charlotte (12-1) which was tenth.

DIDN'T SLIP

Champion, which appeared to be slipping last week, strengthened its position in Class D. Galien (14-0) held on to second as Britton (14-0) took over third and Owosso St. Paul (11-2) dropped to fourth.

Ski Activities Slated for Area Wednesday

Hoping for better ski conditions, two skiing events are on tap for the local area Wednesday.

At Mt. Holly, local ski teams Bloomfield Hills and Walled Lake will join two of the top prep teams from upper Michigan, Traverse City and Leelanau, in a meet at 1:00 p. m. Wednesday.

Rookie Pleases Tigers' Manager

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Larry Foster is one of the faces in the crowd at the Tigers' early camp . . . a kid who hopes somebody will notice him.

But dozens of them pass through Tigertown every spring. They all share the same ambition —to be a Tiger someday, the sooner the better. Most are destined to remain minor leaguers.

But Foster already has been noticed by the man who counts most—manager Bob Scheffing.

"I hear that Foster kid is coming out of the army soon," Scheffing said one day last summer. "He may be able to help us in 1963."

Scheffing got his first eyeful of Foster yesterday. The young righthander from Lansing pitched two dazzling innings as Detroit defeated Japan's Hanchin Tigers, 9-7. The victory squared the international exhibition series at one-all and was Detroit's first of 1963.

Foster's performance easily was the best so far by any pitcher in camp—on the Detroit roster or not.

He retired six batters in order over the last two innings. Foster's work may have earned him a look-see at the Detroit camp which opens officially for batterymen tomorrow.

Foster, who was 3-0 last year at Denver after his release from the army, currently is on the Syracuse farm roster.

WINS OWN GAME

John Ison, another reliever on the Syracuse roster, was the winning pitcher after driving in the deciding run with a single. His base hit to left broke a 6-6 tie in the fifth.

Detroit's squad, consisting mainly of rookies and minor leaguers, banged out 13 hits. The big belters were Gates Brown, a promising outfielder belonging to Syracuse, and veteran Jake Wood.

Brown had two singles and a triple. Wood slammed a single and a double, giving him four hits for the two games. He has reached base eight times in 10 appearances.

But so far the biggest hitter of all has been Hanshin's Katsumi Fujimoto, a stocky first baseman. He went four-for-five in each game.

Bob Anderson, a former Chicago Cub who Scheffing's banking on in his bullpen, started and worked four innings. He tired in the fourth when he was touched for four hits and two runs.

Two additional games have been scheduled with the Japanese today and Tuesday to give Scheffing a better line on his young pitchers. The Hanshin visit winds up this weekend with games Saturday and Sunday.

Local 594 Out of C Lead

The Columbia Avenue Baptists utilized an action packed fourth period last night to knock Local 594 out of first place in Class C city basketball, 65-52.

Jim McDonald of Columbia sparked the final period scoring rampage that broke open a tight game with eight points. He took scoring honors for the tilt with 23.

Bill Campbell was high in a losing cause with 19.

Michigan Bell held a 19-8 first stanza lead over the Pontiac Police and expanded it to a final, 51-31 decision.

The victory placed Michigan Bell in first place after the Local 594 upset.

Meanwhile, McDonalds Drive-In edged UAW 57-50 and the Bachelor's Club defeated Colonial Lumber 81-72 to maintain a one game lead over McDonald's in Class B.

Buc Hayward led Michigan Bell with 13 points and Joe Wilson of the Police countered with 10.

Gary Holtz paved the way for the McDonald victory garnering 23. Jimmy Gordner had 16 in a losing cause.

WATERFORD

O'Neil Realty moved into a tie for first place in the Wateford Class B League by edging Woodcum Drilling, 61-54. The real estate team is deadlocked with Reeves Service.

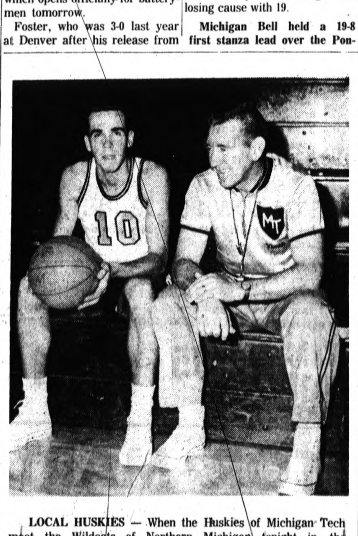
Winless Woodcum, which lost its 10th game, got 20 points from Jim Hurren, but converted only 6 of 21 free throws. Jim Patterson led the winners with 14.



LOCAL HUSKIES — When the Huskies of Michigan Tech meet the Wildcats of Northern Michigan tonight in the 85th basketball clash between the two old rivals, one of the ex-local cagers with the Tech team to start will be Bill Massey, 6-foot guard from Birmingham. He sits with coach Verdi Cox. Tech has a 13-2 record and Northern stands 12-5.

Ski Signals Necessary

ROME (UPI) — The supreme law court ruled yesterday that normal rules of caution for the highway also apply to ski slopes.

The court made the ruling in an accident case in which it held a skier responsible for breaking a girl's leg.

MSU, U. of M. Cagers Fall to 'Road Jinx'

By United Press International

Both Michigan and Michigan State last night succumbed to the road jinx in Big Ten action, the Wolverines bowing to Northwestern, 63-62, and the Spartans proving no match for Ohio State, 87-77.

Northwestern piled up a 12 point lead early in the second half but had to battle the clock and a Wolverine rally to come out with a victory.

Michigan State was never in the game as the seventh-ranked Buckeyes kept their share of the Big Ten lead. Ohio State led by 13 points at the half and were never in serious trouble.

Bill Buntin led Michigan scorers with 22 points. The loss left the Michigan quintet with a 4-5 record for the season.

OUT OF SHADOWS

Gary Bradds, who last season played in the shadow of All America Jerry Lucas, led the Ohio State victory surge with 31 points.

Michigan State rallied briefly and cut the Buckeye lead to seven points shortly after halftime but Dick Reasbeck hit for three quick baskets and Dick Rickets added two to rebuild to 11 points.

Marcus Sanders led the Spartan assault with 24 points. The loss left MSU with a 3-7 conference mark.

Minnesota kept pace Monday night with the other contenders, including Indiana, with a smothering 72-48 triumph over Wisconsin. The victory boosted the Gopher record to 7-3, one-half game behind Illinois and Ohio State who have 7-2 records.

Illinois halted its recent skid with an 87-79 victory at Purdue. Indiana remained one game behind the leaders with a 72-71 victory at Iowa.

11 Quints Accept Bids

Post-Season Tourney Berths Being Filled

By The Associated Press

The fields for the two major post-season college basketball tournaments began taking shape today with 11 teams accepting bids to compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament.

Eight schools were named for at-large berths Monday in the 25-team NCAA field while three acceptances were received for the 12-team NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The NCAA entrants include Loyola of Chicago and New York University, both ranked among the nation's top ten in this week's Associated Press poll.

RANKED THIRD

Loyola, ranked No. 3 with a 22-1 record, will play a first round game in the Mideast regionals. Tenth-ranked NYU, 13-2, is an at-large selection in the East regionals.

Colorado State University, 16-4; Texas Western, 16-5 and Oklahoma City, 15-7, were chosen for the Midwest Regionals. Seattle, 17-4; Oregon State, 14-6 and Utah State, 19-5, will take part in the Far West regionals.

The three teams accepting NIT bids were Miami of Florida, 20-4; Providence, 15-4 and Canisius, 14-4. The tournament will be held March 14-23.

Only three at-large positions remain to be filled in the NCAA bracket, two from the East and the other from the Mideast. One of the Eastern representatives will be the Ivy League champion. Fourteen other conference champions automatically qualify for the tourney.

The opening ,round regional eliminations get underway at various sites around the country March 9 and March 11. Winners advance to the regional finals at College Park, Md., East Lansing, Mich., Lawrence, Kan., and Provo, Utah. The semifinals and the finals of the NCAA championships will be held at Freedom Hall in Louisville, March 22-23.

INITIAL BIRD

Loyola, competing in the NCAA tournament for the first time, takes part in the Mideast regionals March 11 at Evanston, Ill. The pairings have not been announced but Loyola, the champions of the Mid-American and Ohio Valley conferences, and another undisclosed at - large selection will be involved in a first-round doubleheader.

College Races Unsettled

By The Associated Press

This is supposed to be the time of the college basketball season when the conference races begin to unscramble and a clear-cut leader emerges. But in some of the leagues the standings remain just as jumbled today as they looked at the start of the campaign.

The Big Ten, the Big Eight and the Southeastern conferences all head into the homestretch with very much in doubt.

Ohio State, ranked fifth in the current Associated Press poll, and Illinois, No. 6, both won Monday night and stayed tied for first place in the Big Ten.

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State and Auburn, rated No. 9 nationally, posted Southeastern Conference victories and remained tied for the SEC lead.

FIRST TO FOURTH

And poor Colorado, seventh in the listings a week ago but out of the Top Ten this week, lost to Missouri 60-58 Monday night. The Buffaloes not only lost first place in the tightly bunched Big Eight standings, but tumbled all the way to fourth.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other member of the new Top Ten to see action, thrashed St. John's in New York 70-47 while rebounding from a 92-75 upset at the hands of Bowling Green Saturday night.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses and total points based on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Gas Economy, Plus All That Horsepower?

A gasoline economy run when some companies are talking more and more about horsepower?

Yes, declare Mobil Oil Co. officials, who announced yesterday that their Mobilgas Economy Run will start March 30 in Los Angeles.

"We took a survey," explained Roger Mahey, Mobil public relations director, "because we were concerned about horsepower interest, too.

"We found out there's a great deal of interest in economy among the auto makers. In fact, among manufacturers of middle-sized cars, we found that was their chief concern."

People who wanted the horsepower, he said, are beginning to wish they had economy, too.

This year's cross-country economy run, as last year, will end at Cobo Hall in Detroit April 4.

Pontiac Motor Division cars, which took first place in two classes last year, are expected to be well represented in the field of entries again this year.

In the 1962 run, a Pontiac Star Chief was first in the medium-priced class and a Tempest took top honors among large-engine compacts.

Mobil will announce the official list of 1963 entries later.

The field will include at least 35 cars sponsored by dealers, dealer associations and private persons. Drivers are named by the entrants.

There are eight classes ranging from small-engine compacts to luxury automobiles.

Most Losses Fractional

Stocks Dip in Moderate Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in moderate trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

The list was lower from the start in a continuation of late yesterday's move which saw stocks backing away from an advance to overhead resistance levels where stock is presumed to be for sale.

The trend was mildly lower among motors, rails, tobaccos, chemicals, aerospace issues, utilities, and mail order-retails.

Chrysler, steady at the start, took a fractional loss along with Ford and American Motors. General Motors was about unchanged. Studebaker was firm.

Steels were unchanged to mixed. Bethlehem dipped a fraction. Jones & Laughlin nudged ahead. U.S. Steel was about unchanged.

The market seemed to have exhausted the inspiration of a higher steel industry operating rate and other good news.

U. S. Smelting, up a point, continued strong. American Photocopy also remained in demand, adding a fraction following yesterday's run up on news it had won a patent infringement suit. IBM gained a small fraction.

Losses of about a point were shown by Consolidated Edison and Eastman Kodak.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally lower. Fractional losers included Syntex, Universal Controls, Aurora Plastics, Barnes Engineering, Colonial Sand & Stone, General Plywood, Kaiser Industries and Molybdenum.

Among gainers were Occidental Petroleum, Giannini Controls and Aerojet-General.

Wagner Hints at Own Plan

Faced With Impasse in Newspaper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner, faced with an impasse in the city's 74-day-old newspaper blackout, has hinted that eventually he may come up with a peace formula of his own.

* * *

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has offered the services of the state government again to try to get the city's nine major dailies back on the streets.

Wagner was asked Monday if he was considering offering a mediation proposal in the strike of AFL-CIO International Typographical Union printers.

"I have not done that as yet—both sides would not want it at this point. But I am not saying what I will do in the future," Wagner replied.

VOICES DOUBT

A publishers' spokesman, who had just left a City Hall meeting with the mayor, voiced doubt of any progress through further government intervention.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the Herald Tribune, said, "I am very pessimistic. We may need an honest broker and not more mediators. I do not feel that any more federal, state and city intervention would be helpful."

At Albany, Rockefeller said "the services of the state government are available for any realistic steps to bring about a settlement of this tragic dispute."

The governor said, "I have been closely following the situation throughout and have been in touch with both sides to do whatever possible to contribute to a settlement."

At a 3½-hour meeting Monday night, the Newspaper Unity Committee, composed of officers of the city's 10 newspaper unions, defeated a resolution recommending "that all unions resume full-scale negotiations with the publishers for the purpose of reaching an equitable settlement."

IN CLEVELAND

In Cleveland, Ohio, negotiators for the Cleveland Newspaper Guild agreed tentatively to undisclosed contract terms with that city's two dailies, pending ratification by the membership.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Press & News have been closed for 82 days by strikes of the guild, the independent Teamsters and the AFL-CIO printers, machinists and mailers.

'Population' Problem

Boom Slows Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK — The stock market has its own population explosion problem. The number of shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange grows mightily. And so, too, during the 1950s did the number of shareowners.

The trouble comes when either a bullish or a bearish enthusiasm seizes so many shareowners that the exchange's recording system is swamped. This leaves all stock owners—some 17 million Americans now by the latest estimate—wondering what happened to the value of their holdings.

There is wear and tear on countless nervous systems, and maybe even some marital spats over the hazy state of the family fortune. Newspapers can't get the quotations in time for the usual editions. And the more shareowners the greater the curiosity about how they and their neighbors are faring. Many of the public with a flare for thinking the worst decides the silence means the country may be going to pot.

There is nothing like the word that "the tape is running late," meaning the latest prices aren't available yet, to augment the trend of the market in which ever direction it may have been going when last reported.

AUTOMATION PROMISED

The New York Stock Exchange assures its many kibitizers that it is turning to automation to speed the latest prices to the public. Hopefully, in a year or two there won't be any more long waits, as last May and June, to find out what really went on in Wall Street.

The exchange's stock ticket network serves more than 700 cities in the United States and Canada. In his annual report today the exchange president, G. Keith Funston, assures this wide audience that a new printer is being developed that is 80 per cent faster than the present one.

The Teletype Corp. machine may be able to transmit 1,000 characters per minute. This will get the latest prices, once they are recorded, out to the public at a speed that only an avalanche of trading could smother.

To record the transactions, International Business Machines Corp. computers equipment will be in operation early in 1965.

COMPLETE COVERAGE

An optical reader will electronically speed sales and bid-asked information from the trading floor to the computer. This intricate system will continuously determine total volume, volume for each stock, open, high, low, last sale prices and bid-asked quotes.

The exchange says the new system will be able to handle trading volume in excess of 16 million shares a day. On May 29 the volume rose to 14,750,000 shares, and the tape ran long after trading closed.

The automated quotation service also will be able to handle 400,000 phone inquiries a day and respond to 150 inquiries for prices simultaneously.

The number of shares listed on the exchange tends to grow steadily because of corporate stock splits as well as the floating of new shares. And the number of potential traders increases as more families put some of their savings into stocks.

Funston says the number of shareowners could reach 25 million by 1970.

Bull markets always multiply the number of traders, attracting amateur financers by the thousands. If a roaring bull market doesn't come before 1965 the exchange expects to handle it without the irritating delays that brough down criticism upon it last May and June.

$6 Billion Cut in Taxes Urged

Ford Finance Official Talks to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Ford Motor Co. official, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, suggested to the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday that corporate and personal income taxes should be cut $6 billion, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

"If tax-rate reduction is going to wait upon final resolution of the issue raised by the President's package, then tax-rate reduction is going to wait too long," testified Theodore A. Yntema, chairman of the Ford finance committee.

Yntema, speaking as chairman of the committee, which is a businessmen's group, said that the tax cut should be divided with $4 billion for individuals and $2 billion for corporations.

He agreed with the basic idea of President Kennedy that the nation's economy should be stimulated by a tax cut, but differed on method. Kennedy has proposed a tax cut, tied in with revisions of the basic tax structure.

Said Yntema:

"We should make now the cuts that are desirable and wait before committing ourselves to making cuts in 1965.

"If the American people find the $3.5-billion tax revision pill so bitter they will not swallow it without $13.5 billion of rate reduction sugar coating, perhaps they shouldn't swallow it at all."

He added his belief that the Kennedy proposed cut in corporation income taxes from 52 per cent to 47 per cent in two steps is too small.

* * *

"It amounts to only a fifth of the proposed tax cut and is an inadequate reflection of the importance of the corporate profits tax as an obstacle to economic growth," he said.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I'm going nuts thinking of what I've done. First, I bought Pacific Petroleum at $26 a share—$13,000 worth—and it has gone way down. Last year, I borrowed $5,000 on my Pacific Pete and used it to buy Reserve Oil & Gas at $17 a share. It's gone down to about $10 a share. Please tell me if I should hold these stocks or take a big loss." P. C.

A) I don't think there's any need of your going nuts. Given patience, both these stocks may very well make a good recovery.

Pacific Pete is a good Canadian land play situation in which solid Phillips Petroleum has a substantial interest. The price is down here largely because the market has lost interest for the present in this type of stock. I would hold Pacific Pete.

Reserve Oil has crude interests in California. In my opinion, this is a good candidate for a sellout—any such action would probably improve your situation. My advice is to stay with it.

Q) "Many people don't know the true function of the specialist on the floor on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. In my opinion, he has the unjustified power to manipulate the price of the stock he handles at his post and determine the price that the public has to pay. Publish this and many investors and not gamblers will appreciate it." J. H.

A) I've printed it, but if you will allow me to say so, that doesn't mean that I agree with it.

The role of specialist on the Big Board is to maintain at all times an orderly market in the stocks he handles. Since purchases and sales are by public auction, most of the time he simply matches orders that come to him from brokers on the floor. On occasions when there is a wide spread between bid and ask prices, he buys or sells stock for his own account to prevent violent fluctuations.

The specialist operates under close exchange regulation, and I believe his function is important and very rarely abused.

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The big word in the auto industry at the moment is "up."

Sales are up and production is up and that's good. Inventories also are up and that's not so good.

The factories have been building cars at near record rates through the winter and despite record sales, stocks are beginning to accumulate, especially in the modest-volume makes.

This means decisions must be made now. Should output be slowed until the snow melts and spring sales sprout? Or should stocks be assembled that will assure spring buyers immediate delivery on the model of their choice?

PACE SLIGHTLY AHEAD

Original schedules called for some 617,000 assemblies in February and the pace so far has been slightly in excess of that figure. Sales are expected to run around 500,000 units.

Inventories of cars in dealer stocks, and in transit from assembly plants, totaled about 970,000 as the month opened. Thus the month-end total should move over the million mark for the first time since last March 1.

Observers said the figures shouldn't cause to much concern because the sales rate has held up. The 970,000 cars represented an industry average of 46 days' supply.

General Motors continues to hold its production closest to actual sales and as a result is running with an inventory considerably under the industry average. Other than the standard GM cars, only the Ford Galaxie was below the average at the start of the month.

Inventories a year ago were almost exactly the same as now, but with sales at a slower pace represented a 52-day supply.
