To Hamper Castro Aggression

Orders Full Cuban Embargo

★ ★ ★

The White House said in a statement that the loss of income to the Castro regime will "reduce the capacity" of the Soviet-tied Havana government "to engage in acts of aggression, subversion or other activities" endangering Western Hemisphere security.

Although a total embargo was ordered the White House said that exports of certain foods and medicines are being excepted "on humanitarian grounds."

The action was the first forceful step taken by the Kennedy administration since the return here Thursday of Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who attended an inter-American foreign ministers meeting in Uruguay on the Cuban situation.

DENOUNCED COMMUNISM

The meeting denounced Cuban communism and ordered the Castro government ousted from the Organization of American States.

Kennedy stated in his embargo proclamation that the import ban was being imposed "in accordance with the decisions of the recent meeting of foreign ministers."

Cuba has been selling about $35 million worth of goods, mainly tobacco, to the United States annually.

The tobacco has been used by cigar makers in the Tampa, Fla., area where the industry employs about 6,000 or 7,000 people, White House officials said.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger declared that "the secretary of labor will make available all types of help possible to the 6,000 or 7,000 people involved in manufacturing cigars made from Cuban leaf."

Kennedy discussed the trade crackdown with Rusk and the final decision to take the action was made Friday. The White House statement said in part:

"The President announced today an embargo upon trade between the United States and Cuba. He said that on humanitarian grounds exports of certain foodstuffs, medicines and medical supplies from the United States to Cuba would be expected from this embargo.

"The President pointed out that the embargo will deprive the government of Cuba of the dollar exchange it has been deriving from sales of its products in the United States.

"The loss of the income will reduce the capacity of the Castro regime, intimately linked with the Sino-Soviet block, to engage in acts of aggression, subversion, or other activities endangering the security of the United States and other nations of the hemisphere."

America Detects Russian N-Test

Says Red Resumption of Blasts Underground Probably Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials speculated today that Russia might have turned to underground nuclear testing to try to set world opinion against any U.S. explosions in the atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the new Soviet burst Friday, saying is apparently had been set off underground.

It was the first time the AEC had told of detecting a Russian underground test. All the previous ones announced by the AEC took place in the atmosphere except for one triggered underwater.

Why the switch from the atmosphere to underground testing? Some U.S. authorities guessed the Soviets were troubled by criticism of their string of fallout-spewing bursts last fall and figured that by going underground they would turn the world's attention to the U.S. testing program.

MAY RESUME TESTS

President Kennedy has said the United States might be forced to resume tests in the atmosphere to protect its nuclear weapons lead.

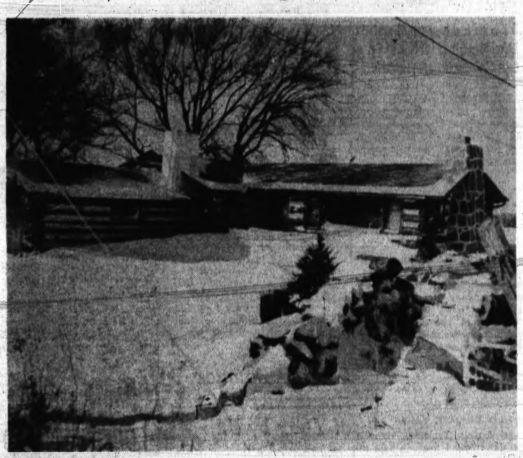

U. S. officials said, however, that one Soviet blast didn't make a case. Their speculation was based on the assumption the Russians would set off more underground explosions.

The Russians hinted at a resumption of tests Friday about the same time the AEC announcement was being read.

★ ★ ★

The Communist party newspaper Pravda, in an article carried by the Tass news agency, accused the United States and Britain of breaking up the 39-month-old nuclear test-ban talks in Geneva.

Frondizi Backs Softer Stand

Assails 'Reactionaries' After Appearing to Bow to Military Men

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi bitterly assailed "international reactionaries" today and defiantly defended Argentina's refusal to vote for expelling Cuba from the OAS at the Punta Del Este conference.

In a speech at Parana, Frondizi declared he accepts full responsibility for Argentina's stand that brought angry military demands for an immediate break in relations with Castro's Cuba.

In speaking of reactionaries, Frondizi referred to opponents of his government's position and declared "I will die" in defense of Argentina's dignity.

He defended Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Ecuador and Mexico for abstaining on the vote to expel Cuba from the councils of the Organization of American States (OAS).

WARNS U.S.

He said that against stern opposition, the six-nation bloc stood its ground to defend the legal rights of the OAS and "the basic principles of self determination and nonintervention."

In a warning to the United States and 13 Latin nations which voted to expel Cuba, he said the renunciation of these principles could plunge the hemisphere into "the law of the jungle."

In MSUO Division

By RALPH P. HUMMEL

A plan for the world's first "Alumni University" — to guide college students' education from freshman year to retirement age — is being shaped at Michigan State University Oakland's Division of Continuing Education.

★ ★ ★

The Alumni University would provide a life-long planned education to overcome "obsolete" learning, fill gaps created by technological and scientific progress and send the graduate up the career ladder with his employer's help.

Cultural as well as professional subjects would be included in the curriculum "to insure the alumnus' development as a man not just as a money-maker."

The words and vision are those of Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of MSUO's Continuing Education.

STARTED IN '58

In 1958, Eklund's division started teaching classes to 50 adults who thronged into converted chicken-coops on Meadowbrook Farms "to find better ways of doing their jobs and to become better people in a cultural sense."

Today, the division is teaching an average of 50 professional and liberal and fine arts courses to 3,000 adults each year. But this type of bits-and-pieces program is not enough for the college graduate, says Eklund.

Nor are the traditional post-graduate programs of formal courses, which he says, "are formed for those whose needs fit — or will fit their needs to such a stereotyped program."

★ ★ ★

Industry's own training schools for new employes indicate the need for a program adapted to the career needs of the employe, Eklund says.

But none of these programs fit his image of being "continuing, systematic and sequential."

The Alumni University would make use of existing post-college programs — academic and industrial — but integrate these into "a progressive program, deliberately forecast, designed and provided on a timely schedule as appropriate to the needs and interests of the student."

TO URGE PARTICIPATION

"The student," says Eklund, "would be encouraged and counseled to take part in most every form of educational program including formal courses leading to advanced degrees, informal (non-credit) courses, weekend workshops, inplant seminars, interprofessional encounters, conferences, institutes, selfstudy, tutorials, recourses, and so on."

Exactly what he would take would be determined by himself, the advice of his employer and an educational counsellor.

Gaining acceptance by the business and industrial world is a major aim of Eklund.

Last week, MSUO took the first formal step of bringing the employer into the picture by assigning to Eklund's Division of Continuing Education the placement of graduates who seek jobs in business, industry and government.

"We hope," said Eklund, "that this function will be the bridge between the university and industry by which we can precede into a long-range formal program of alumni education."

By spring, Eklund hopes to seek the financial support to start a pilot project.

This would be applied to part of the first class of 150 to 200 students, expected to graduate in spring of 1963 from MSUO. It is a group small enough to handle for a beginning, Eklund said.

Supervisors Unit Okays Jury Selection Change

Chances for a Circuit Court jury commission to replace the juror selection system now being used were improved yesterday when the legislative committee of the board of supervisors approved the change.

The 35-member board will hear Tuesday the tentative draft of a bill to permit creation of such a commission in Oakland County. It is hoped to be ready before the Feb. 14 deadline for submitting bills to the legislature.

If approved by the supervisors and legislature, the new system could go into effect next year.

The commission would consist of three members, appointed by the five circuit judges with the consent of the board of supervisors, who would have general supervision of interviewing some 700 prospective jurors each year.

No longer would township supervisors and city assessing officers pick jurors from their property assessment rolls, a source of consternation for county lawyers who have fought for five years for a change in the system.

MAY BE OPPOSED

Depriving the government officers of this right might result in some opposition Tuesday.

Lawyers argue that these same officers have returned time and again the same jurors, most of whom are persons they know as capable jurors, and sometimes their personal friends. This has led to many so-called professional jurors, the attorneys say.

Selection in the future will come from voter registration lists. Names at first will be pulled at random by the three commissioners and later by a proposed data processing system, according to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Murphy would be made clerk in charge of the administration of the jury commission, which would have available duplicate copies of all township and city voter registration lists at the courthouse.

Both Murphy and the five judges opposed the appointment of the commissioners by the governor, as now done under a law governing Wayne County's jury commission.

Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfiled Township supervisor and vice chairman of the board, sought to have the appointment made by the board.

LATER AGREED

Testifying before the committee, Prosecutor George F. Taylor at first said he found nothing wrong with the present system. He called

Robert Kennedys Are Dunked When Boat Capsizes

HONOLULU (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife Ethel and another woman were dunked in the Pacific a quarter mile offshore today when their sailboat capsized in choppy seas.

The other woman was identified only as Mrs. Wilson, traveling with the Kennedy party on a round-the-world trip.

Gen. Walker Jumps In

Texas Race to Be Wild, Woolly

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas set up a political Alamo today in a battle for the governorship with candidates ranging from the very liberal to the extreme right of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

★ ★ ★

It will be the first major political test in Texas for the far right as represented by Walker. Other Democrats in the race so far include incumbent Gov. Price Daniel and three other moderates and a liberal.

Former Navy Secretary John Connally leads the middle-of-the-road contingent, which also includes State Attorney General Will Wilson and former Texas Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby of Plainview.

Houston lawyer Don Yarborough, who has strong labor support, is the only real liberal in the party primary.

One Republican, Jack Cox, an oilman who used to be a Democrat, opposed the crowd. Political experts predicted a donnybrook that could blow the unity of the state's ruling Democratic party into pieces.

Walker, a former Army major general who resigned his commission to champion the ultra-conservative cause against "communism and socialism," entered the race Friday, selecting the Democratic party as the vehicle for his first bid for political office.

CAUSES RIFT

It was learned that Walker's move already had caused something of a rift in conservative circles.

Walker, it was disclosed, entered the race against the advice of Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S. C., who represent conservative wings of their parties.

The three met recently in Washington for two hours. Tower and Thurmond argued unsuccessfully that Walker would hurt not only himself but the conservative movement by entering partisan politics.

Walker, 52, flew to Austin Friday to pay his $1,000 filing fee to Democratic officials for a place on the May 5 primary ballot.

Daniel announced about six hours later over statewide television hookup that he will seek a fourth term, unprecented in Texas. The only other Texas governor to hold three terms was Allan Shivers.

Terrified Indians Pray to Forestall Doomsday

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Terrified Indians plunged into sacred rivers, lit sacrificial fires or prayed by the hundreds of thousands along roadsides today in what they believed to be their eleventh-hour attempt to head off doomsday.

Because of a rare alignment of six planets with the sun and the moon, Indian astrologers have warned that in the next three days the earth "will be bathed in the blood of thousands of kings." They set the period of doom between 5:35 p.m. (7:05 a.m. Pontiac time) today through Monday.

In some parts of India and neighboring Nepal there were reports of near panic with families huddling under one roof to be together when and if the end should come.

Prime Minister Nehru has been warned to take extra precautions but he pooh-poohed the the warnings.

MUMBLE PRAYERS

Pandits—learned men versed in ancient Hindu scriptures—mumbled prayers over fires kept going with butter, grains of camphor and sandalwood powder.

One of India's richest industrialists, Ramakrishna Dalmia, led mass prayer meetings in a New Delhi Fort.

On street corners, astrologers, palmists and almanac sellers raked in small fortunes peddling prophesies of individual doom or survival.

LAST YEAR'S LINE-UP — Buying 1962 automobile license plates now will save motorists from long, cold lines such as this one shown outside the Pontiac secretary of state office last year. Willis M. Brewer, manager of the office at 96 E. Huron St., warned motorists that this scene may be repeated again this year since license plate sales are lagging after getting off to a good start in the last three months of 1961. The new green-on-white plates must be purchased by Feb. 28. Brewer advised that residents avoid the rush by purchasing their plates before the end of the month.

Security Tightened in Paris

Force Threatened Against Try to Block Algerian Peace

PARIS (AP) — Armed police patrols tightened security in Paris today. The government warned French rightists that any attempt to block President Charles de Gaulle's plans for peace in Algeria would be beaten down by force.

Cruising slowly through Paris streets, the patrols checked suspicious vehicles and pedestrians. Tensions mounted amid reports France and the Algerian rebels were near accord on Algerian independence.

During the night, a bomb explosion, apparently the work of the right-wing Secret Army Organization pledged to keep Algeria French, damaged the home of socialist Sen. Gaston Deferre. Deferre, who is also mayor of Marseille, was not at his Paris home.

Attacks in Algiers killed three Algerians today.

The French capital was quiet as dawn broke. There were no signs in downtown areas of the 32 tanks and 100 other military vehicles ordered to reinforce Paris security units before De Gaulle speaks to the nation Monday night.

Interior Minister Roger Frey said he could not "exclude a very limited attempt at disorder." But he told the newspaper Paris Presse l'Intransigeant that "with the mechanism I have on hand, any attempt of this nature will be crushed."

De Gaulle kept to himself what he will say in his radio TV-address, which will be beamed throughout France and Algeria. But it appeared doubtful he could disclose any final solution to the North African rebellion, now in its eighth year.

In recent days, highly placed French sources have reported that the French government and the rebels in secret talks have reached agreement in principle on the major points in issue and the next move to bring about a cease fire awaits approval by the rebel hierarchy.

Rebels Resume Fight in Laos

Provincial Capital Undergoing Shelling by Communist Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Rebel forces have resumed heavy shelling of Nam Tha, causing "fire and heavy damage to property and population," the royal government reported today.

* * *

A government communique said the barrage was resumed late Friday from rebel positions to the north, east and south of the besieged provincial capital.

The communique also mentioned in passing that two companies of Russian soldiers and one company of Communist Vietminh troops had occupied the town of Lao Kang, a few miles from the northern border with Communist China.

American military officials expressed skepticism of this. They said they had no such reports from their field officers.

WOULD RESUME TALKS

(In Luang Prabang, defense Minister Phoumi Nosavan said today pro-Western Premier Boun Oum will resume negotiations for a coalition government if the rebels call off their attack on Nam Tha.)

Phoumi, the "strong man" of the Boun government, said he has sent word to "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma that the premier will fly here Sunday to resume the talks provided fighting around the beleaguered provincial capital ceases by 6 p.m. Pontiac time today).

The communique said a rebel unit of unknown nationality was manning the northern side, one company of Communist Vietminh soldiers manning the eastern side, and one Vietminh battalion manning the southern side.

* * *

It said the town itself was being shelled by 85 millimeter cannon, while its vital airstrip was being bombarded by various types of mortar fire.

Dense Fog Over Much of Nation

By the Associated Press

Dense fog shrouded wide areas of the middle Atlantic, Midwest and Pacific Coast states today, reducing visibility on streets and highways and causing traffic tie-ups and pileups.

* * *

Traffic also was slowed by icy roads in a freezing rain belt stretching from northern Illinois into Ohio. Chicago's O'Hare International airport was almost completely shut down due to icy runways.

* * *

The freezing rain and fog in the East stemmed from a warm front that pushed into the Northeast, ending a long spell of frigid weather that dropped readings as low as -40.

20 CARS COLLIDE

A chain-reaction collision involving about 20 vehicles injured several persons Friday night on the Pacific Freeway in Oregon's Willamette Valley. The pileup, in heavy fog 25 miles south of Portland, blocked traffic in both directions for about an hour.

* * *

The fog that has brought death to 28 persons and caused hundreds of traffic accidents in the past week in California continued during the night but may begin breaking up. The Weather Bureau said more favorable upper air circulation should make it less persistent, at least in daylight hours.

Ready to Hold Talks on Berlin

U.S. Leaves Next Step on Exploratory Parleys Up to the Russians

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported today to have told Russia that it was prepared to continue exploratory talks on Berlin but left the next move up to the Soviet government.

* * *

REJECT PROPOSAL

The object of the meeting, the third in a series, is to probe the possibility of negotiating a compromise settlement of the Berlin dispute.

* * *

In the memorandum, the United States rejected on behalf of the Western powers a proposal advanced by Gromyko Jan. 12 for what has come to be known as a "three Germanys" Berlin solution.

Gromyko had suggested that West Berlin be given the status of an independent city-state and a seat in the United Nations, along with West Germany and Communist East Germany.

MAKES STIPULATIONS

Thompson, on instructions from Washington that were worked out on the basis on consultation among the Western Allies, went beyond simple rejection of the Soviet suggestion. He also is reported to have said that any negotiating formula must provide for continuation of the protective presence of U.S., British and French forces in the Western sectors of Berlin.

Thompson emphasized that settlement of critical problems of Berlin, particularly the issue of rights of access, must occur preliminary to the settlement of broader German issues.

WON'T TRADE INTEREST

His aim was to get across to the Soviets the Western powers were unwilling to trade away other interests in Germany merely to maintain their basic Berlin position.

An earlier series of talks was held between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko last fall when both men attended the opening of the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

* * *

At the end of his U.S. visit in the fall, Gromyko met President Kennedy at the White House. Kennedy told him that the Soviet government was asking such large concessions from the West and offering so little that it was seeking to trade "an apple for an orchard."

Their petitions brought the total to six candidates so far for the March 5 primary and April 16 general elections, according to City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Of the six, four are incumbents. Three incumbent commissioners haven't announced their intentions as yet.

Dugan, veteran member of the commission, will be bidding for his fifth term as District 5 commissioner. He has been on the commission eight years.

CAME TO CITY IN '28

Canadian by birth, Dugan, 53, came to Pontiac from Ontario in 1928. Since then he has been employed at Pontiac Motor Division, currently as a gear setup man in the axle department.

Dugan, of 363 Nelson St., is married and has two sons. He is a member of Oakland Park Methodist Church. An early member of the labor movement here, he is still an active member of United Auto Workers Local 653.

Wood, 55, of 157 Michigan Ave., is bidding for his third two-year term as District 6 commissioner. He is a service follow-up man at GMC Truck & Coach Division, where he has worked since 1941.

* * *

He is married and has two children. Wood attended schools in Yale, Brown City and Port Huron. He is a native of Rapid City.

Since coming to Pontiac in 1925, he has been closely associated with church activities.

A member of United Missionary Church, Wood counts three pastors in his immediate family—his father and two brothers.

The Day in Birmingham

First Unit of Church Expected Ready in May

BIRMINGHAM — Completion of the first unit of St. Andrew Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bloomfield Township is expected by mid-May.

* * *

Rev. John A. Root, pastor, said that the $125,000 chapel and educational building, being constructed on Telegraph Road just north of Maple Road, is about one-third completed now.

Two other units, the main sanctuary and fellowship hall, will be built at a later date, probably within three to five years, according to Rev. Root.

The church was organized in May, 1957. It has about 340 members.

MEETING IN CHAPEL

The congregation is currently meeting for Sunday services in the St. Andrew house chapel, adjacent to the building site at 6255 Telegraph.

When completed the entire church plant will have cost approximately $350,000.

The Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs will begin its eighth year of studying the "Great Decision" topics offered by the Foreign Policy Association on Tuesday at the Community House.

The classes will be held 10 a.m. each Tuesday during February and March.

To be reviewed by participants in the 1962 program are issues and policies in Vietnam, Red China, Brazil, Nigeria, Iran, Berlin, United Nations and the United States.

More than 2,000 girl scouts and 500 adults will take part in an international flag ceremony in Birmingham next month.

The City Commission already has given permission to the Southern Oakland County Girl Scouts, Inc. to close Henrietta St. from Maple Road to Merrill St. from noon to 1:30 p.m. March 10 for the program.

* * *

The ceremony will be held in conjunction with the national Girl Scout Week, March 11-17. The organization is celebrating its golden anniversary this year.

The participants in the flag ceremony will group at Shain Park and march down Henrietta to the area between Maple and Martin for the 12:30 p.m. ceremony.

Argentina Upholds Soft Stand on Cuba

The President's surprising speech, coming after he appeared to have bowed to the pressure of military leaders, was expected to add fuel to the military crisis in Argentina.

* * *

A government communique had announced that Argentina now favored the ouster of Cuba from the inter-American system "as soon as possible."

And yesterday Frondizi had summoned home his ambassador to Cuba, Julio Amoedo, in an apparent first step toward a break in diplomatic relations.

A communique issued by the presidential palace made it clear Argentina would vote in favor of ousting Cuba from the hemispheric family of nations when the matter comes up before the Council of the Organization of American States.

ABSTAINED FROM VOTE

At a meeting of the foreign ministers of OAS members in Uruguay earlier this week 20 American republics, including the United States, voted to condemn the Castro regime. But Argentina, along with Brazil, Mexico, Ecuador, Bolivia and Chile, abstained on a resolution calling for Cuba's ouster from inter-American councils.

Frondizi's communique pledged the Argentine government "will comply strictly and within all the resolutions adopted at Punta del Este."

The expulsion of Cuba "must be carried out as soon as possible," the communique said.

* * *

Swainson Urges More Teeth for State Lobby Law

* * *

Revision is needed "in the general public interest and to lessen undue pressures placed on legislators by some special interest lobbyists," he said.

* * *

Swainson said employers of lobbyists, as well as the lobbyists themselves, should be required to register with the state and specify the exact legislative subject matter for which their lobbyists are employed.

* * *

Lobbyists should be compelled to submit monthly reports to the state listing receipts and expenses for their activities in the legislature, he said.

Ex-Policeman Found Guilty

Former Owosso Officer Faces Up to 15 Years in Prison

CORUNNA (AP) — Former Police Lt. Clifford Tunnacliff of Owosso, convicted of giving information to burglars, faces up to 15 years in prison.

* * *

But the state accused him only of furnishing information to two burglars on how to break into the Eagles Home in Owosso Jan. 1, 1961.

He is accused of telling the men how to get into the building. Nine-hundred dollars was stolen in the burglary.

FIRED AFTER 25 YEARS

He was fired Oct. 29 after 25 years on the force.

No one has been charged with the actual burglary, but William R. Mahar, charged in connection with another crime, was named in court as the man who did the breaking and entering.

Roy D. Smith told officers Mahar told him about paying off Tunnacliff. He is charged along with Mahar in connection with an attempted safe robbery.

Tunnacliff pleaded innocent and repudiated confessions to state and Owosso police.

He remained free on $10,000 bond and must return to court for sentencing Feb. 26.

The jury went out at 1:30 p.m. Friday and returned the verdict at 9 p.m., just as Circuit Court Judge Michael Carland prepared to dismiss the jurors for the night.

Mrs. Tunnacliff appeared to be praying as the jury prepared to announce its verdict.

Tunnacliff stared straight ahead, his face impassive. When the verdict was announced, Mrs. Tunnacliff flung herself back in her chair and moaned.

* * *

Doctor Speaks Out Frankly

Dieting Fads Not for Teen-Agers

(Editor's Note — Following is the fifth in a series of six Saturday articles on specific weight and diet problems of young Americans by Gaynor Maddox, author of "The Safe and Sure Way to Reduce.")

(Fifth of six articles.)

GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Food and Markets Editor

Dr. Philip L. White, secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, says:

"What you young people often do to yourselves in an effort to shed a few pounds can be a serious threat to your health and future."

★ ★ ★

Dr. White has pointed comments to make about some of the more popular extremist diets. If you've ever considered one of them, read on.

1. The starvation diet, during which teen-agers just stop eating or eat only a small piece of candy at times to stop hunger pangs.

"This crazy, stupid fad is apparently tied up with the thought that starvation will shrink your stomach and thereby solve all your weight problems of the future. This crash program is not for you.

MAKES NO SENSE

"It makes no more sense to starve during your teens than for you to try to run a fine sports car on 50-octane gasoline."

★ ★ ★

2. Lack-of-sleep diet:. This is a refinement of the starvation or semistarvation diet, during which not eating is combined with staying up all night or very late.

Overweight teens should cut out food like this and stay away from extreme diets which can be a serious threat to their health and future.

"... you will end up so run down, so ripe for serious illness that you seldom will try it again."

"You young people also seem to provide a big market for appetite depressors, too," Dr. White said. "It is no wonder you frequently get inadequate protein, iron and vitamins which must be supplied by the food you eat.

NEVER SEEK AID

"The pitiable part of all this is that if you are, for example, a teen-age girl, you usually want only to lose a few pounds, shrink your stomach a little and move a few curves around.

"But although you would not hesitate to see your doctor about a skin or cosmetic problem, you almost never seek help for a weight problem, no matter how big or little. Therein, lies your trouble.

"Questions of weight and diet should be thrashed out in your physician's office.

"And doesn't it seem just plain common sense to you to have regular medical examinations from time to time? You must realize that it is a great deal simpler to prevent weight problems than to solve them during that complex period of life called adolescence."

Keep Love Letters Private; You're Big Girl of 24 Now

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is away in the service and he writes me very beautiful love letters. I've always let my mother read them, but the last one was rather "personal" so when my mother asked to read it I told her no.

She started to sulk and I'm sure she thinks it is much worse than it really is. She went into one of her nonspeaking moods, which bothered me so much I offered to show her the letter, but she says she doesn't want to see it now. What can I do about this situation? I am 24.

FEELING BLUE

ABBY

DEAR FEELING: You can't blame your mother for feeling hurt when, after sharing all your letters with her, you suddenly receive one you refuse to show her.

Forget the incident. Your mother will get over her hurt. You're a big girl now. In the future keep all your letters confidential and you'll have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: I know a blonde who swears she uses nothing on her hair to keep it light. She washes it once a week, and I notice that just before she washes it the roots are somewhat darker than the rest. Also, in the summertime, her hair is about two shades lighter than it is in the winter. Whom does she think she's kidding?

NOT ME

DEAR NOT ME: She may not be "kidding" anyone — or trying to. The natural oils DO tend to make the hair appear darker, hence the darkness at the roots toward shampoo time. And the sun has been known to bleach blondes blonder.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married in two weeks and I bought a black dress especially for the wedding. Many of my friends have told me that I absolutely should not wear a black dress to my son's wedding as it would be a big insult to the bride. Why? I am a stout woman and do not feel that I look right in anything except black. I would like your advice.

LIKES BLACK

DEAR LIKES: Black is appropriate for mourning. Wear beige, gray or a pastel color.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

An abiding sense of the innate dignity of man has guided Branch Rickey throughout his career, and at 80 he mirrors the belief that each man is a cathedral. Even before he could read, the "father of modern baseball" passed many a boyhood hour absorbed in the pages of a picture Bible. In his more than 50 years in baseball — as player, coach and executive — it was Rickey's conviction that a man's ability should be the only criterion for his advancement. He struck down the racial barrier by bringing in Jackie Robinson as a major league player. Rickey served his country under President Eisenhower as an adviser on employment policy, and at 74 was a co-founder of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. To Branch Rickey, sportsmanship and Christianity go hand in hand.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Are We Forgiving Television for Crooked, Phony Shows?

★ ★ ★

The writer says that TV staged quizzes that were manned by "heroes" and "heroines" who were fed the answers in advance. The public watched in suspense while the actors pantomimed great mental anguish in the "isolation" booths before they came up with a perfect reply they knew already. The "isolation booth" was labeled "proof" that they weren't receiving help.

★ ★ ★

"Why" asks the letter, "do the American public and the courts forgive these TV scoundrels when they have condemned newspapers soundly?"

That's an interesting question.

Why?

★ ★ ★

Certainly the newspapers would have been jeered from all sides; and I'm completely sympathetic with that position. They would have deserved it. Newspapers can't fool people. They can never afford to take the public for a great big, dizzy one-way ride. They may make occasional mistakes, but when that happens, corrective measures are applied swiftly, promptly and fully.

The Associated Press erroneously reported that JACKIE KENNEDY had "done the twist" at a certain party. The member paper providing the story was wrong. Immediately the Associated Press filed a telegraphic correction and the White House received an earnest and sincere letter of apology.

★ ★ ★

No one on TV has apologized to the Nation for the quiz program bilking which went on for weeks. It was a betrayal of the trust and confidence of several million people. TV itself and the tools of deceit who pocketed the cash have never been punished legally. And TV doesn't seem to have suffered.

That's the oddity.

★ ★ ★

Are there crooked shows on the air now? Perhaps people feel TV isn't particularly reliable or accountable and they simply accept it as such. At any rate, newspapers are in a different category. When we show a photo of an astronaut taken from the water, it will be just what it purports to be. We won't fool the public with a practice photo taken two weeks before. Newspapers struggle to tell what happens—as it happens. Perhaps TV is largely a medium of "entertainment" and thus is not beholden to the rigid restrictions that surround newspapers.

★ ★ ★

I'm glad newspapers always have been held sharply accountable by the public. The day will never, never come when they're forgiven for the slightest tampering with the facts, innocently or otherwise.

They must—yes, they MUST—stay that way forever.

Stands Alone . . . .

The March of Dimes just concluded its annual campaign which — regretfully—The Pontiac Press did not endorse or support.

Pontiac was the first city in the land to start a United Fund although Detroit and Pittsburgh contest the honor. At any rate, the Pontiac area studies the budgets and worth of every agency that applies. To date, more than 60 are in the combined package. The Press works for—and supports—the United Fund loyally. We give our time and we give our money. Few do better. But we refuse to admit that the giving world is divided into these two drives:

A—All 60 agencies

B—The March of Dimes

★ ★ ★

The March of Dimes simply doesn't rate a tiny portion of this false equality with sixty others combined. Neither does anyone else. If the givers recognize independent drives, soon others will break away from the UF and then we'll have four, eight, twenty and finally sixty individual campaigns.

No one can afford them.

We haven't the time or money.

★ ★ ★

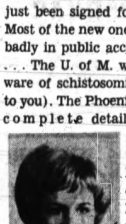

The March of Dimes refuses to co-operate with the rest. It insists that America recognizes it for one individual drive—with all the rest tossed into a common pot and handled in a group.

No agency — we repeat — NO agency rates this.

And in Conclusion . . . .

One of the few new TV shows that won acclaim is "Ben Casey" which has a brilliant rating and which has just been signed for another season. Most of the new ones last fall faltered badly in public acceptance. . . . . The U. of M. warns us all to beware of schistosomiasis (bilharziasis, to you). The Phoenix project provides complete details on application. . . . . Two trusted Central High scouts declare MARY L. MCLAUGHLIN deserves mention as one of the area's feminine stars. I accept their judgment. . . . . The Washington News comes up with this simile: "As busy as the man at Cape Canaveral who's in charge of postponements."

MARY

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie Rita Hayworth rates as one of the most ornery gals in flicker land . . . . . Constance Lektzian writes "You ask whether there's another word like 'bookkeeper' with three double letters in succession. How about 'beerroom?'" Touchdown, Constance! . . . . . Bishop Fulton J. Sheen was asked: "If you were cast away on a desert island and could have only one book, what would it be?" Quoth the churchman: "Thomas' Guide to Shipbuilding." . . . . . Don Maxwell, distinguished Editor of The Chicago Tribune, steered me onto the same vitamin pills George Halas gives the Chicago Bears, but no one has tried to sign me as a middle linebacker.

★ ★ ★

The "no shows" have become so costly to airlines that beginning March first they'll be allowed to charge them $5 or 50 per cent of the ticket (whichever is larger). Conversely, if you're bumped on a confirmed reservation you collect $25 or 50 per cent of the ticket. . . . . TED KENNEDY won't announce his candidacy for the Massachusetts Senate for another week so he'll be 30 years old. Can't the clan work CAROLINE into something pretty soon? . . . . . A woman in Palo Alto sent the Postmaster General 3,000 pieces of junk mail as a protest against the current low-priced postage. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the Jaycees for their fine year; the J's—the ice (not the cold and not the snow—just the ice).

Days of All Faiths:

Doctrine Based on Augsburg Diet

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Feb. 5 in 1530 was the opening date of the Diet of Augsburg, an ecclesiastical assembly which five months later produced the famous "Augsburg Confession." This Confession still stands as the classic statement of Lutheran doctrine. It was the first formulation of Protestant principles.

This word "diet" did not mean a program of disciplined food consumption. It came from the Latin word "dieta" which meant "a day's journey," which in those days was calculated at twenty miles. By evolution it came to mean a gathering of people at some central place not more than twenty miles from the home of any of the participants.

★ ★ ★

The Confession, or statement, produced by the Diet of Augburg had two parts. The first was a series of 21 "articles" about the beliefs of the Protestants, who at that time were quite new in the ecclesiastical world. Remember, this was only 13 years after Luther had started the Reformation with his "95 theses" nailed on the church door at Wittenberg. The articles included Luther's belief that man is justified by faith rather than by any good works he performs, and that priests are unnecessary because Christ Himself is the only mediator between God and man.

★ ★ ★

The rest of the document was a list of the "abuses" Luther accused the Roman church of committing: the withholding of the cup in the Holy Communion, the compulsory celibacy of the clergy, the exercise of secular authority by bishops, compulsory confession, and so on.

Strangely enough, Luther was not present at the Augsburg meeting. The Confession was written mainly by his disciple Philip Melancthon, a teacher of the classics at Wittenberg University.

There were really three Augsburg Diets, a second one in 1548, and a third in 1555. All were important but the term Diet of Augsburg, unless otherwise specified, usually means this first one, at which the Confession was formulated.

EVIL BEASTS AND LIARS

A bishop's lot is seldom an easy one, but no bishop ever had a tougher assignment than Titus, the first archbishop of Crete. He went to that tiny island with St. Paul, and, then, because of the deplorable conditions there, he found himself left behind to get things straightened out. Feb. 6 is St. Titus' Day.

St. Paul makes matters clear in the New Testament letter he wrote to Titus. In one place (1:12) he says "Cretans are . . . evil beasts, liars . . ." Not a very genteel congregation. And in another place (1:5) he tells Titus, "For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting . . ."

We know little about Titus himself. A quite untrustworthy account says he was of royal descent, that he was born in Crete, that he went to Judea before the Crucifixion in response to a voice from heaven and that he lived to be over 90.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Reduce Risk of Dysentery With Soap Cleanliness

Chicago couple have cabin next to mine on this Wisconsin lake. They have what doctors call amebic dysentery. They are ultra-clean. In the summer, we go to their cabin, eat with them and mingle with them every day. Their doctors say amebic dysentery is infectious. Do we run the risk . . .? (C. W. J.)

DR. BRADY

Ans. — Yes. However, soap and water cleanliness is generally good assurance against infection.

Through a friend I have just learned of your present activities and whereabouts. This gives me the chance to say that through your column I had almost all the medical advice necessary to raise three children and keep them in good health. What thousands of people you have helped! Thank you and God Bless you.

Ans. — I'm afraid a lot of readers of your paper believe I am retired or dead. Even so, I manage to write a column and answer a few health questions during the week.

Lumbago on and off for the last 30 years. Am 65 now, and the trouble has been greatly reduced since I started eating Ca and D. (O. R.)

Ans. — Lumbago is a common manifestation of a calcium deficiency. Send me 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet, The Calcium Shortage.

Please tell me the origin of the name bradycardia. That's what the doctor's say I have. Is there anything that can be done about it? (E. A. K.)

Ans. — Cardio — or cardia — means heart. Cardia also means the esophageal orifice of the stomach (which is nearest the heart). Brady — is a prefix signifying slow heart; bradyphagia, abnormally slow eating; bradypepsia, slow digestion; bradyphasia, slow utterance; bradypnea, slow breathing.

I can't thank you enough for the excellent result from use of non-surgical drainage of the gall bladder, as instructed in your booklet . . . (Mrs. B. W. L.)

Ans. — Instructions in booklet, "So You Have Indigestion?" for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voters Must Be Informed

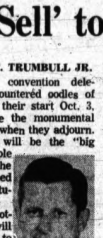

'Big Sell' to Follow Con-Con Work

News Analysis

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Constitutional convention delegates have encountered oodles of problems since their start Oct. 3, but nothing like the monumental one they'll face when they adjourn.

Before them will be the "big sell" to the people of Michigan of the state's proposed fourth constitution.

TRUMBULL

It's possible voters on Nov. 6 will say yes or no to the important document without understanding a word of it.

Delegates, too, are finding parts of it difficult to transcribe into understandable everyday language.

Probably the toughest nut to crack is the legislative reapportionment issue — which by itself could mean success or failure of the 1962 constitution.

Delegates on the legislative organization committee toss around the term "equal proportions" for the House of Representatives as if it were quite easy to comprehend.

("The chair will attempt to explain the parliamentary situation," said former Congressman Alvin M. Bentley, chairman of the education committee.)

There are motions, amendments, substitute motions, motions for five-minute recesses, and finally motions to adjourn.

Mix in a good proportion of partisan bitters and you have an atomic cocktail which could explode in Michigan citizens' faces in November.

WORST TO COME

If it's been hot in the committee sessions, and it has in some, wait until the debate on the proposals goes to the convention floor. Pages should distribute gags and timers. Delegates will need both, and plenty of patience to boot.

Delegates asked the legislature for $50 a day expenses to support a postadjournment commission of 15 members in disseminating information to the public about proposed changes in the constitution.

Legislators balked at the request. They feared the members might sell more than the constitution—maybe even themselves as candidates for the legislators' seats.

An appropriation of around $300,000 will be asked, however, from the legislators to do everything from closing the meeting hall to printing 1 million copies of the new constitution.

The "Address to the People" booklets will be distributed via political parties, the secretary of state, schools and civic groups.

Voice of the People:

'Isn't Duty of Government to Support Individuals'

You can't get something for nothing.

Bureaucracy, red tap, thousands of additional government jobs, plus our federal government in still another business, that of health insurance, is not the answer. Medical care for the aged has been and should continue to be handled at the state and local levels, it it cannot be handled individually by the family. We are individually responsible for ourselves, and the government does not pay the bills for free.

★ ★ ★

The federal government owes us our rights granted us in our Constitution and nothing more. The government is not responsible for giving us a home, food, clothing, jobs, pay checks, utilities, cars, books, hospital or doctors.

★ ★ ★

The people and private enterprise made this country the greatest. Anyone who thinks that free handouts are best should change their place of residence several thousand miles due east.

Mrs. G. L. R.

Parents Interested in School Bus Policy

Why doesn't "I. L." and the rugged children move back to the U. P.? I'm proud that my three are smart enough to remain home three of four days and still keep up.

★ ★ ★

Yes, I could send my second grader two miles down such icy roads that even a car can't make it, then down a treacherous highway another three or four miles. Of course, this little 7-year-old would have to leave home at 5:30.

★ ★ ★

I'm thankful to live in a place where we may be a bit soft where our kids safety is concerned. I'm proud of our sensible school officials who close schools and proud of my "pampered darlings" for being smart enough to make up what they miss.

Just Call Me Softy

This is 1962 not 1900 and there are no county schools on every corner anymore. I have a little girl 5 years old. If the buses didn't run, she would have to walk six miles. This isn't the horse and buggy days.

Mrs. Harold Peck

Lake Orion

"I. L." probably went to school before the automobile was heard of. Consolidated schools weren't in existence and that is where the difference lies. How I wish the schools weren't consolidated.

How long would it take a child under 12 years of age to walk eight miles under the best conditions? Consider the icy roads with the automobiles going by. Father and mother aren't going to walk to work and the mailman, milkman, bread man and paper man have to make deliveries.

A. S.

Some of these old fogies that are indignant over the fact the "little dears" might walk a ways remind me of a current remark. It's now 1980 and little Willie is protesting that his space suit is too tight and he wants a new one to fly to school. The old man stands there and says: "Yeah? Well you ought to see the rickety old bus that used to take me to school. That was really uncomfortable."

Praises Doctors, Today's System

Much is said about doctors, hospitals and insurance. In the past three and one-half years, we have been in Pontiac General and St. Joseph's many times because of serious illnesses. Service in both was excellent. Under the present system we can choose our own doctors and that's the way we want it. The many doctors we are acquainted with are tops in their profession and they are dedicated men. We are 65 and if it hadn't been for good insurance, we would really be behind the eight ball. You can afford to make sacrifices for good insurance.

Commends Johnson for Making Change

In the Waterford area we learn that Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson has decided to leave his party and run as a Republican. Mr. Johnson has been elected three times as a Democrat.

★ ★ ★

Every man has the right to belong to the party which will serve his interests. Mr. Johnson feels that the interests he feels important are not served best by the party under whose banner he was elected three times. It is very refreshing to find a man honest enough to make a change as great as this. To find a man in public office who is not afraid to express his personal thoughts, and be honest with himself is a rarity.

★ ★ ★

Almost at once John Coleman demanded that he retract a charge that decisions by township officials were based on Democratic political considerations.

Mr. Johnson, I am sure that you made your changes with a complete knowledge that you would be called upon to show cause for your statement. Waterford is proud that you are Supervisor.

His theme will be "The Need for Recruitment of Full Time Workers in the Church."

The need for a new Lutheran College in Michigan was recognized by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod at the convention held in San Francisco in 1956. The site was purchased and Vincent G. Kling, architect in Philadelphia was engaged to draw up the plans.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are set for March 15. Completion of the buildings is scheduled for the summer of 1963 with a capacity of 750 to 800 students.

In the first phase of development a campus chapel and library are being emphasized. The library will contain study and research area for 200 students and a stack area for 25,000 volumes.

The chapel will seat 800 with facilities for a 50-voice choir. Space is allotted for basketball courts, a bleacher seating 1,200 and swimming pool. Outdoor recreation is being considered.

In the second phase of development there will be adequate infirmary facilities for students, a social center and an auditorium for 1,000 people with areas for music, dramatic arts, forensics and convocations.

The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod has designated $6 million for the construction of the Ann Arbor College.

City Spends $3.3 Million More

Improvement Program Costs Up

Pontiac's 1961 capital improvement program totaled an estimated $3.3-million more than the 1960 program according to figures prepared by City Engineer James N. Carlisle.

★ ★ ★

The big jump, however, is because more big projects were begun last year than in 1960. In his annual reports to the city manager, the engineer traditionally lists the total estimated cost of a major project in the year the job begins.

Thus, last year's total program amounted to an estimated $4,638,393. Included are the new $3.2-million sewage treatment plant and $450,000 central fire station as yet incomplete.

Both jobs began last summer but much of their cost will be spread over several years, especially the sewage plant cost.

REVERSE PROCEDURE

The same thing happened in reverse the preceding year when the capital improvement program totaled $1,287,000. The total would have been some $2.3-million if costs of the new airport terminal and main library completed that year were included.

Although much of their cost was paid for in 1960, both were started in 1959.

Last year's total investment represents city funds, state and federal funds, special assessments paid by property owners and expenditures by developers and private citizens.

★ ★ ★

Included are paving, sewers, curbs and gutters, drains, grading, blacktopping, and sidewalks, as well as major bridge repairs and park and airport improvements.

Paving and recaps, last year 1.02 miles, $42,000; the year before, .68 miles, $102,000.

Sanitary sewers, last year, 1.02 miles, $41,000; the year before, 2.27 miles, $119,000.

Curbs and gutters, last year, 4.75 miles, $376,000; the year before, 5.38 miles, $424,000.

Grading and graveling, last year, .10 miles, $2,737, the year before, .06 miles, $1,150.

Blacktopping, last year, 5.05 miles, $135,000; the year before, 2.8 miles, $78,000.

Sidewalk construction and reconstruction, last year, .20 miles, $3,721; the year before, 2.30 miles, $52,000.

AT CITY EXPENSE

The city also reconstructed 1.41 miles of sidewalk last year in urban renewal areas at a cost of about $18,000. The urban renewal work was done completely at the city's expense with no special assessments.

Also not shown in the above figures is $74,000 for 5.61 miles of sidewalk repairs and construction by private citizens, developers and commercial establishments at no cost to the city.

An estimated $52,000 worth of sidewalk was constructed or repaired at no city cost in 1960.

PARK EXPENSES

There was some $63,000 spent by the city on lighting, equipment and other improvements at city parks and another $10,000 for a paved service drive, light installation and other improvements at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

★ ★ ★

About $21,000 went for major bridge repairs.

Not included in the total investment was about $5,600 for demolition of six residential structures by city forces last spring in the urban renewal area.

There were 1,216 building permits issued last year resulting in $11,859 in fees paid to the city, according to Carlisle. In 1960 the city collected $9,572 while issuing 1,266 permits.

★ ★ ★

There were 1,124 plumbing permits and 1,234 heating permits issued last year as compared to 991 and 2,284 respectively the year before.

Plumbing fees amounted to $9,276 last year and $7,361 in 1960, while heating permit fees dropped to $9,292 last year from $14,844 the year before.

All told, there were 5,535 permits, registrations, examinations and licenses issued and $38,703.91 in fees collected last year, compared to 6,133 and $39,068.75 the year before.

Orion Township Property Owners and Residents

On next Monday, February 5th, you will have a rare opportunity to help maintain your home and property investment value by voting "NO" on all three amendments.

By twisting the true facts the Orion Chamber of Commerce is desperately trying to delegate itself as your representative. This same minority group has been trying to force the "any type of industry" upon our fine residential zoned areas. With strategically located and available industrial zoned property lying dormant—we must stop this selfish disregard for the home owning, tax paying, majority.

One of your friends and neighbors will try and visit you before election and explain why you should VOTE "NO" 3 TIMES.

Plenty of Broken Bones

January Was Potpie of Weather

Pour on some freezing rain, add a few layers of snow, whip it up with 40 mile an hour winds and you've got the recipe Mother Nature served Pontiac area residents in January.

The result produced plenty of broken bones and dented fenders as residents slipped and slid along streets and sidewalks in the area during the past month.

And it was c-c-cold.

The New Year bowed in rather inconspicuously with a few snow flurries Jan. 1. The month's high temperature, a thawing 42 degrees, was recorded in downtown Pontiac Jan. 3.

However, freezing rain started pelting Pontiac the next night and by the morning of Jan. 5 this area and most of Michigan was like a huge ice skating rink.

Approximately 3.5 inches of snow was dumped on the city Jan. 7 and 8, adding to the misery of motorists and salt crews already fighting a losing battle against icy roads.

FRIGID 15.6

The average low reading in downtown Pontiac during January was a frigid 15.6 degrees. The average high was 28.9 degrees.

Freezing rain fell again on Jan. 15 and 16. Snow and flurries fell on 12 of January's 31 days, totaling 13.5 inches, according to unofficial records of The Pontiac Press.

All the white stuff that had been piled up on roadsides was whipped back over the streets as the elements cooked up one more surprise towards the end of the month.

Winds, which Pontiac Municipal Airport spokesmen said averaged between 30 and 40 miles an hour, rattled windows, piled snow into drifts and snapped a power line in Pontiac and another in Troy Jan. 30.

The bitterly cold north winds dropped temperatures 23 degrees in six hours in Pontiac.

Among all this winter misery there were bright spots. Besides the 12 snow days and the four days of rain, there were 12 days of sunshine and only three that were cloudy.

In Hospital With Flu

Molotov Finally Located

MOSCOW (AP) — The missing V. M. Molotov, always a hard man to pin down, has been found—in quarantine. A doctor said the disgraced old Bolshevik has the flu but that it was not serious.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen traced the former premier and foreign minister to Central Hospital in suburban Moscow Friday night. They were told he was in the infectious diseases section and could not receive visitors.

FINALLY FOUND

It was the first time Molotov's whereabouts had been definitely established since the Soviet Foreign Office, in a surprise announcement Jan. 8, said Molotov was returning to his minor diplomatic post in Vienna. He never showed up.

★ ★ ★

Molotov, 71, returned from his post as Soviet representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna in November after Premier Khrushchev publicly had denounced him and other members of the so-called anti-party group at the Soviet Communist party congress in October.

Western diplomats believed that Molotov would never hold public office again and were stunned by the announcement he was to return. When he failed to appear in Vienna, Western diplomats speculated he was in a new struggle with Khrushchev, the man who toppled him from his party post in 1957.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A usually well-informed source on Thursday said Molotov had suffered a heart attack but was not in dangerous condition.

Federal Government Loans $1 Million to UP

DETROIT (AP) — Loans made to Upper Peninsula businesses last year under the Federal Small Business Administration (SBA) totaled $1 million, the agency's regional office reported today.

The total compares with $389,000 in 1960. Another $618,000 in loans have been approved and are awaiting disbursement.

To Sell Art in London Avoiding Thefts in Nice

NICE, France (AP) — Author W. Somerset Maugham said today he has secretly transferred his $2-million art collection to London to be sold because he is afraid they might be stolen from his Riviera villa.

The 35 paintings carried out of his house under guard and flown to Southeby's gallery in London included three Picassos, three Renoirs, two Matisses, and others signed by Monet, Utrillo, Bonnard, Toulouse-Lautrec, Pissaro and Dufy.

Some people have the notion that a fair deal is one that means a slight advantage in their favor . . . The four-hour day will never work out until someone figures out who'll compensate the workers for the coffee breaks they miss.—Earl Wilson.

Luciano Linked to Dope Plot

Officials Say Late King of Crime in Multimillion New York Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Treasury officials say exiled gangster Charles (Lucky) Luciano had his hands in a multimillion-dollar New York narcotics conspiracy when he died last week in Italy.

Treasury officials also disclosed Friday that he was about to be arrested when he died at a Naples airport Jan. 26.

* * *

The death of Luciano, reputedly a leader of the Sicily-based crime syndicate known as the Mafia, was attributed to a heart attack. The Treasury officials said they had no evidence to the contrary, but noted that Italian authorities are investigating the cause of his death.

The link to the New York narcotics conspiracy case was reported at a news conference by Henry L. Giordano, acting commissioner of narcotics, and James A. Reed, assistant secretary of the Treasury.

Reed and Giordano said a man they identified as Henry Rubino of Miami and New York was discovered shuttling between Luciano's plush home-in-exile at Naples and a Spanish hideout of three defendants in the narcotics case who had fled the United States.

* * *

The three men, who forfeited bonds totaling $110,000 when they skipped the country last year, were described by Giordano as "the main ones in the conspiracy."

They were arrested by Spanish authorities a few days before Luciano's death and were due back in New York tonight to face trial.

Nation's Death Rate Drops in November

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's death rate in November was the lowest for any November of record, the Public Health Service reported today.

* * *

The service's National Vital Statistics Division also reported a record low infant death rate for the first 11 months of 1961.

The national death rate for November was 9.3 for each 1,000 population, about 1 per cent lower than for the corresponding month in 1960, which was as low as had been recorded in any November.

* * *

The infant death rate for the January-November span of 1961 was 25 per thousand live births, compared with the previous low of 25.4 for the similar period in 1960.

'Kookie' on TV Sunday

Freberg Nervous Over Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie — TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Watch out, television, here comes Stan Freberg. The kookie character from Pasadena makes his jump into TV with a special on ABC Sunday night. If there are any sacred cows in sight, they had better run for cover.

THOMAS

Stan is one of nation's ace lampooners in an era when sensitivities prevent free exercise of the art. His touch is sometimes heavy, but more often deft and delightfully irreverent.

* * *

"Until now, his principal fame has been in records, notably "St. George and the Dragonet" and his raucous recounting of American history. Now he is transferring his touch to TV.

* * *

Critics no doubt will compare him to Ernie Kovacs, since the latter's loss is still fresh in mind. The comparison is no more than superficial, each having his own nutty style.

Freberg showed me some of Sunday night's show and it appeared to have great promise. He was nervously editing the tape at KTLA. "This is the crucial time," he said. "My kind of show hovers between being extremely funny and a complete disaster. It could go either way."

Freberg is a TV pioneer — he was the original voice of Cecil the seasick sea serpent. He has done guest shots but waited until now to do his own show. Why?

"Because I wanted complete freedom, not only over the show but the commercials as well. Most commercials are handled miserably."

The Freberg commercials will be well integrated. He is an old hand at making blurbs palatable. In fact, some of the ads produced by his company are more entertaining than the shows they interrupt.

* * *

Would he be interested in TV as a steady diet?

* * *

"No, I could never do a weekly show," he said. "I'm just not geared for it. On this show I took nine days of shooting — nine days for a one-hour special! It's ridiculous.

"But at least I did some things I wanted to do. No matter what people think of it, it's different."

Leonard Miller Home Fronts on Woodpecker Lake

Background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Leonard Miller woke up at 2:00 a.m. one morning to get up and sketch the stairway for the new home he was helping the architect plan. Architect Fred Horner, AIA, of Highland Park translated Miller's ideas into a blueprint and Austin Building Co. made the house an actuality.

After their marriage four years ago, the Millers traveled around a good bit; lived for a while in Mrs. Miller's home on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair; then rented a house at Union Lake while their new home in Sagamore Estates was being built. She has a daughter and five grandchildren in Lapeer. The new house had to have space for them to visit.

The house is on the east shore of Woodpecker Lake. The Millers' lot is about 130 feet on the lake and 190 feet deep. The house is high above both lake and road.

Inside the double front hall is a wide marble hallway with stairs going up to the living room and down to the lower level. A furry black rug covers most of the floor. Tall brass candlesticks that look Hungarian are placed on each side of the door. The stairs are carpeted.

The ceiling in the living room is white with dark beams. Walls are off white. At the end there is a mural showing a tree branch and ducks. The textured carpeting is white, as are the draperies.

Near the stair rail is a conversation corner. In the middle is an octagon table. Around it are two chairs with caned backs and orange cushions and a pale gold French Provincial loveseat. There are two turquoise pillows on the latter.

STATISTICS

Miller has all the statistics about the house right at his finger tips. There are, he informed us, 1,000 bricks in the white fireplace wall. There are 10,000 feet of wiring in the house.

The dining room is on the lake side of the house. It has the same decorating scheme as the adjoining living room. Glass doors at the rear open on an upper patio. Curved stairs with planters alongside lead down to the lower covered patio.

Furniture is black and gold. The table top is pecan. Chair seats are gold and white brocade. There are small cane inserts in the backs of the chairs. A buffet is built into the wall next to the kitchen. This is black with "gold" hardware.

Across the room is another buffet with the fronts painted in gold leaf. The pulls are Oriental in design. A star spray light fixture hangs from the beamed ceiling.

The kitchen is beige. Beige counter tops have gold specks. A hanging cupboard separates the work area from the breakfast room.

The main bath is also beige. Tangerine towels and shower curtain add a bright note to this windowless room. The paper above the wall tile is beige in a star design. On the double vanity a Venetian glass swan holds soap.

The white textured carpeting is carried down the hall and into the bedrooms. The first room is for guests. Walls are pale blue. Curtains are a semi sheer blue. Furniture is walnut. The white bedspreads are embroidered in blue. Above the beds are blue cameo pictures.

Miller's room is restrained in its decorating. The walls are beige. Curtains have a wild duck design in tans, greens and browns. The bedspreads are green textured ones. Furniture is walnut with inlaid design in the bed headboards.

ROUND BED

By contrast Mrs. Miller's room is extravagantly feminine. It looks like a valentine. The round bed with its tufted pink velvet headboard dominates the room. Over the pleated pink velvet skirt is a deeply scalloped white quilted satin spread. Pink velvet buttons mark the center of each scallop.

These scallops and the buttons are repeated in the window valances. Curtains are the same material as the bedspread, but not quilted. Walls are pink.

Near the walk-in closet there is a pair of antiqued white chairs with ruby upholstery. The seats are the squishy kind you sink down into and the backs are tufted. Between these chairs is a little gold and white table.

Beside the bathroom door is an antiqued white loveseat. The upholstery is pink and white tapestry. On one side is a round gold table with a pineapple base. On the other is a pole lamp with crystal drops.

The adjoining bath is pink and white. There are pink and white artificial flowers arranged at one end of the vanity top. On the floor is a white furry rug. The medicine chests in both bathrooms are hidden behind mirrors. A light touch and the mirror at each end swings out to reveal shelves and to make a three-way mirror.

Down on the lower level is a den-guest room. All Oriental in furnishings, it has a number of interesting features.

COLORFUL

Walls are gold; the carpeting and curtains are beige. There's a black sectional sofa with cane arms and an orange tweed-like covering. The round table in the center of the room has three levels. Pie shaped stools slide underneath.

On one wall is a chest with tortoise shell front and heavy round metal handles. A pair of purple chairs has tall thin backs.

In the family room there is a fieldstone fireplace. At one side is a barbecue unit. Beside it is what Miller calls their entertainment center. There is hi-fi on one side and a TV. The wood box at one end can be loaded from the garage. Walls are birch with a cherry finish.

Facing the fireplace is a curved sectional sofa upholstered in rust tweed. In front of it is a round coffee table. Behind it and near the door is a loveseat. This room has a window wall facing the lake.

A walnut card table is kept set up in one corner. Chairs have cane inserts in the backs. Seats are beige.

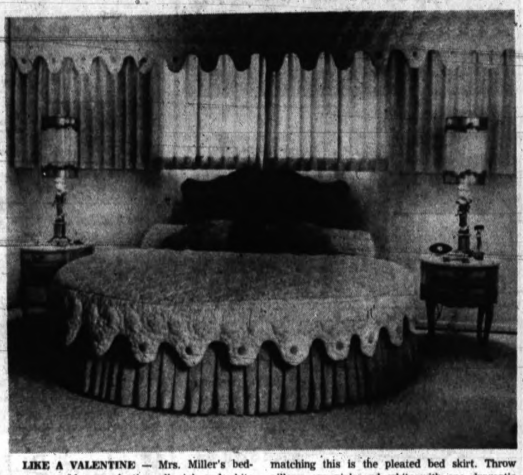

There is a full kitchen down here, back of the bar. Above said bar are three lights—green, yellow and red. Guests always start under the green light.

FOUNTAIN — At the right of the stairs as you reach the top is this charming little fountain surrounded by greenery and a flower or two. There's something fascinating about the sound of running water. A spotlight in the ceiling above makes the corner bright at any time.

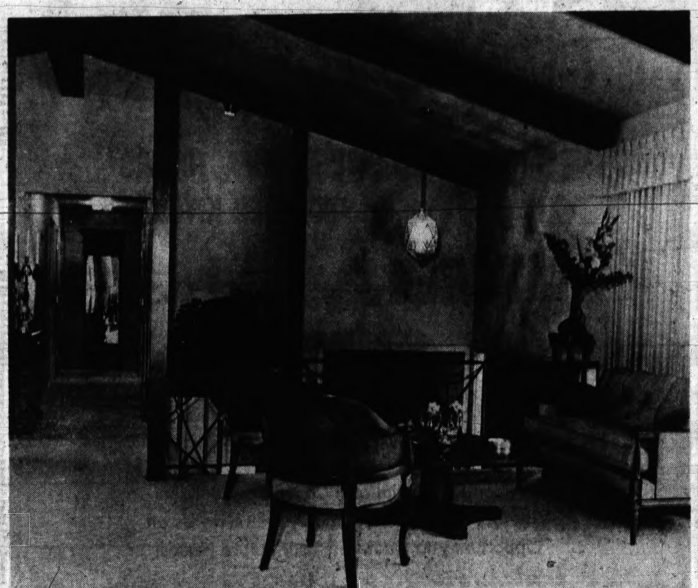

LIKE A VALENTINE — Mrs. Miller's bedroom resembles a valentine, all pink and white and red. Carpeting is white; walls are pink. Bedspread and window valance match; they're white quilted material with pink velvet buttons. The bed headboard is tufted in pink velvet; matching this is the pleated bed skirt. Throw pillows are pink and white with one dramatic red one in the middle. On the antiqueted marble-topped tables Mrs. Miller has placed gold and white lamps.

IN SAGAMORE ESTATES — The Leonard Millers built this grayish white brick home on Arrowhead Road about 18 months ago. Fred Horner, AIA, of Highland Park was the architect. Austin Building Company did the construction work. Shutters and iron work are black. The Millers' lot is on Woodpecker Lake. The attached garage at the right opens into the lower level of the house. At the left is the living room.

BLACK AND GOLD — The furniture in the dining room is black with gold trim. At the left the buffet has gold leaf on the fronts of the cupboard doors. The oval table has a top of pecan wood. Chair seats are gold and white brocade. Outside this room is a railed balcony with steps leading down to the ground level patio.

IT'S BEAUTIFUL — There are so many lovely objects in the living room that one could spend hours studying them. The ceiling is beamed. Walls, draperies and carpeting are a creamy white. The large sofa in the left background is aqua. The lamp behind it is a tall gold and white one. On the far wall is a mural suggestive of the Oriental mood. The black and gold chest below emphasizes this. Note the unusual hearth at the right; it is merely a slate slab anchored in the brick. At the left is a second conversational grouping of furniture.

MODERNITY AND WARMTH — Because of is charming exterior, this three-bedroom home retains the warmth often sacrificed in other bi-level designs. The L-shaped floor plan makes the house appear a good deal larger than its 1,393 square feet. Dimensions are 49'2" wide by 50'9" deep.

FLOOR PLANS — Front to back plan of this house distinguishes it from customary side-to-side bi-level design. Note that no room has to be crossed to get to another room, a characteristic of good home architecture. Ground cover of this house is 1,393 square feet.

Modern Bi-Level Retains Some Traditional Charm

By JULES LOH

Alexander Pope's sound advice about being neither the first to try the new nor the last to discard the old seems to have special application in the field of home architecture.

The economical bi-level design —home architecture's latest advance, but by now a respectable member of the family — combines with a more traditional exterior in this modest house to produce a three-bedroom home which has both modernity and warmth. It is design J-5 in the House of the Week series.

The sleeping wing of this house is in the rear; and the width of the house is only 49'2" which means it will fit comfortably on an 80' lot. Depth of the house is 50'9" and its ground cover is 1,393 square feet.

The basement extends beneath all the house except the living room and garage, and is raised out of the ground slightly to permit ample light and ventilation within the foundation walls — the hallmark of bi-level construction.

Taken as a unit, the front portion of this house — living room, dining room and foyer — presents a spacious expanse unusual in homes of this size.

BALCONY

The dining room looks out over a balcony to the foyer and living room in an unbroken view spanning the entire width of the house. The living room, with a large fireplace on one side complemented by a large picture window on the other, also extends through sliding glass doors to a patio which in pleasant weather almost becomes part of the room.

The lower level features a recreation room of about 400 square feet across the entire rear of the house. Double pairs of sliding glass doors open onto a sunken backyard terrace.

The remainder of the lower level contains a laundry with plenty of space for a workbench or hobby room, plus an abundance of basement storage area. Other storage facilities, including closets, are likewise ample — especially the area in the rear of the extra long garage which is convenient to the patio.

For all its economical features, this house has many of the characteristics, including the appearance, of more expensive homes and would be handsome on any suburban lot.

between the living and sleeping areas, handy to both.

Bathroom facilities are more than adequate in this three-bedroom home. Besides the main bath, there is a half-bath adjoining the master bedroom and a lavatory on the lower level. All the plumbing, incidentally, is on the same line — a mark of economical planning.

By BOB BEEDLE

"Wow! Rick's the best one-handed guard in the league!"

That was Coach Dick Hall's opening remark as soon as he was able to stop chewing his fingernails in the Pontiac Northern dressing room last night moments after a spirited Huskie squad handed taller Farmington a 55-49 upset.

That was Hall's personal opinion on the prowess of his little backcourt scrapper Rick Fisher — but anyone witnessing Fisher's performance last night would agree most emphatically.

Fisher, limited to the use of one hand due to the cast on a broken finger of his left hand, teamed with lanky sharpshooter Gary Hayward to overcome a big Farmington start and deal the Falcons their first Inter-Lakes League loss.

A look at the box score doesn't indicate Fisher's value to his team. He scored only two points — both free throws — but countless times he broke up Farmington passes, set up Northern buckets and seemed to be the "coolest customer" on the court.

HAYWARD GETS 19

Meanwhile, Hayward, 6-2 junior forward, poured in 19 markers, 12 in the big second half, to provide the scoring touch. His layup midway in the third period sent Northern ahead for the first and last time as the Huskies stayed in the lead the rest of the way.

The way Dave Parks' Falcons started 9-0 in the first three minutes) it looked like a repeat performance of their earlier 68-41 victory on the Falcon court.

Garry Hayward tallied the Huskies' first two baskets but the taller Falcons — with 6-5 Walt Grimala and 6-4 Charlie Gadde — were controlling the backboards.

★ ★ ★

It was 16-6 at the quarter and 26-11 near halftime before Northern caught fire. A pair of charities by Dave Shields, 2 straight jumpers by Ed Wasik and a bucket by Shields narrowed the margin to 26-19 at intermission.

RALLY STARTS

Northern wasn't through. Wasik, Gary H. and Souden each hit two points to move PNH to within 26-25. Grimala's free toss put Farmington two up but the Huskies' Hayward popped in two fielders and Northern was ahead to stay.

During the six-minute stretch, Northern outscored Farmington by an 18-3 margin, at which time the Falcons (9-3 overall for the year) displayed sloppy floor play and lost control of the boards to Gary Hayward.

When the losers pulled close in the final period, Gary Hayward's twin brother, Larry, came off the bench to drop in six points and Gary added four for a 10-point Hayward rally.

Fisher's only points came with 47 seconds left and put the Huskies out of reach, 53-47. Guard-mate Wasik played a fine floor game and chipped in with eight points before fouling out with 2:38 remaining.

Northern's proficiency at the free throw lane proved too much in the final period when the Huskies sank all 12 of their free tosses.

The loss dropped Farmington into a first-place tie with victorious Berkley. Northern, after five straight defeats, now has copped two in a row.

Shields' 10 points was the only other double-figure total for PNH. Grimala had 14, Paul Riggio 13 and Gadde 11 for the Falcons.

SINGLE THOUGHT — Pontiac Central's Clarence Douglas (32) and Flint Southwestern's Carl Cmejrek (31) have the same idea—grab the ball — in this bit of action from Friday night's Valley basketball struggle at PCH. Skippers Fall, 68-59; PCH Wins Thriller

Walled Lake Victimized by Southfield, 67-63, for 12th Loss in Row

By DICK BUCK

Berkley hopped into a first-place tie and Waterford fell among the also-rans as the Bears cruised to a 68-59 victory over the Skippers Friday night at Berkley.

The Bears joined Farmington atop the Inter-Lakes League standings with a 5-1 loop mark and Waterford now shares third with Southfield at 3-3.

For one quarter, the Skippers looked like they might be able to handle Berkley. After eight minutes of action, Waterford led 19-16 and had been in front by as many as seven points during the initial period.

Paul Wirebaugh's two-pointer put the Bears ahead for the first time, 22-21, with 5:23 left in the second quarter and for all practical purposes the game could've been called right there.

In another 2½ minutes the home team had built a 12-point margin and held that edge at intermission time, 43-30.

★ ★ ★

Waterford met disaster in that fateful period on a sudden inability to hit on field goal tries, notching only two buckets in that span after sinking six on the first time around.

Starters Paul Wirebaugh (18 points) and Dan Osborne (16) were the big scoring guns for the winners, Bob Raedler paced Waterford with 15.

The Skippers' Moran brothers were held pretty well in check. Gary had 13 points but 9 came in the last quarter with Berkley more relaxed. Paul Moran tallied five points, all on free throws.

Walled Lake, which bowed for the ninth time by seven points or less, turned in one of its best efforts, scoring well and working hard on the backboards, but couldn't cope with the shooting of 6-5 Bluejay Joe Andrews.

Southfield led by four after one period and 33-27 at halftime and appeared to be pulling away by boosting the difference to 12 at the third period.

★ ★ ★

But Bob Tuck swished 12 points and Jim Webb 8 in a 26-point 4th session to give the victors a scare.

Andrews finished with 25 and Mike Fournier had 21. Tuck totaled 21, Webb and Mike Hinckley added 14 apiece. The much bigger Jays had only a 23-17 edge on rebounds.

Seaholm Wins, 54-33; E. Detroit Leads EML

East Detroit stayed unbeaten in the Eastern Michigan League and stayed in first place with a 54-50 victory over Ferndale, while Port Huron stayed close on the heels of the Shamrocks with a 52-48 win over Royal Oak Kimball.

Birmingham Seaholm moved out of a basement tie by scoring a 54-33 victory over Hazel Park in the other league encounter. Mt. Clemens was idle.

A third period cold spell by Ferndale was all East Detroit needed. The Shamrocks led 17-11 after one quarter and only 25-24 at halftime. After the third period it was 39-31 and out of reach.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm held a 25-18 halftime advantage and never fell behind. Bruce Nyberg led the Maples with 13 points while Bill Daniel had 12 for the losers.

Craig Kirby, Wally Gahler and Bill Chilton got 40 of Kimball's 48 points, having scored 18, 12 and 10 respectively.

It was close most of the way as Port Huron led 23-21 at halftime and 33-30 after three quarters.

The EML race could continue as it is until East Detroit and Port Huron play their showdown game Feb. 23rd.

Tim Wood Wins Novice Men's Figure Skating Championship

Joanne Heckert and 17-year-old Gary Clark, both of East Lansing, Mich., finished third in the competition for the junior pairs title. They got 14 ordinal points, compared with six ordinal points for the winning brother-sister duo of Elizabeth and Paul George of Watertown, Mass.

Wood collected eight ordinal points in his novice men's victory, just edging Paul McGrath of Boston, who had nine. Duane Maki of Detroit was fifth with 24.

Dickinson Leads at Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The Palm Springs Golf Classic today was still a grab-bag matter—if a $50,000 purse merits such a tag—with slender Gardner Dickinson leading the parade into the fourth round of the 90-hole money match.

The 34-year-old 130-pounder from Crystal River, Fla., led with rounds of 68-66-66 for a 54-hole total of 200 and a lead of two strokes.

Breathing down his neck were Arnold Palmer and U.S. Open champion Gene Littler—Arnold making a bid for his first tournament victory of the year and Littler his second triumph in as many weeks.

Capac Wraps Up Thumb League Title

Capac assured itself of the Southern Thumb title and a high rating in class C state poll by routing Brown City, 75-54. The defeat pushed Brown City into a tie behind Capac with New Haven which whipped Anchor Bay 48-30.

Capac now has a 10-0 league mark and 12-0 overall, while Brown City and New Haven each have 7-3 marks.

In other games of the Southern Thumb, Memphis rolled over lowly Dryden, 71-45, and Armada trimmed Almont, 91-47.

Capac got good balanced scoring with John Scheuer and Rick Hawks collecting 20 each, Dan Petz adding 12 and Ken Kobayashi getting 11. Capac led 41-23 at halftime.

★ ★ ★

New Haven took an early lead and was never headed as Irv Chopp scored 14 and Ron Lee hit for 12. Doug Fisher was Anchor Bay's best pointmaker with 10.

Armada set a school scoring record with its 91 points and 37 field goals. Last year the mark was 85 set against Dryden. After taking a 27-8 first quarter lead with Marv Thompson getting 10 of his 25 points, Armada led 46-25 at halftime and 66-39 after three periods.

★ ★ ★

Dryden's young squad took another licing. Paul Grondin hit 19 for the losers while Fred Walls got 16, Hildred Lewis 12, Gary Lynch 11 and Mike Sano 10 for Memphis.

All 10 players got in for Memphis and nine figured in the scoring. Dryden now has gone 13 games this season without a victory.

Central Nips Southwestern at Wire, 56-54

Douglas' Bucket With 7 Seconds Left Tops Big Rally by Chiefs

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central's exciting basketball win over Flint Southwestern here Friday night should be a morale booster for the Chiefs.

Obviously suffering from a letdown after last week's loss at Saginaw High, the Chiefs cut loose with a magnificent 2nd-half rally to nip the dead-game Colts at the wire, 56-54.

Clarence Douglas capped a 14-point performance with a driving layup in the final seven seconds to produce the Chiefs' all-important triumph, their 7th in eight Saginaw Valley Conference decisions.

★ ★ ★

Douglas' basket, which crawled over the rim into the bucket, climaxed a long, uphill struggle for the Chiefs, who were down by 10-1 late in the 1st period and 26-18 near the end of the 2nd quarter.

Central cut the deficit to 26-18 at halftime, then bounced back with a vengeance after intermission behind the shooting of Douglas, Rudy Ransom and Roy Couser.

Ransom took scoring honors for PCH on 16 points, 13 in the 2nd half, before fouling out with 1:20 left in the contest. Douglas tallied 10 following intermission and Couser netted eight of his 11 points in the 3rd and 4th stanzas.

Yuille, an eagle-eyed 5-foot-8 guard with a soft outside shot, bettered by one point his own school scoring record as he sank 10 of 15 tries from the floor and bagged 7 of 8 at the foul stripe.

★ ★ ★

Yuille personally kept the fighting Colts on their upset-minded binge and the screaming audience in the PCH gym gave him a well-deserved round of applause when he fouled out with 1:59 remaining.

Southwestern had quarterly leads of 12-7, 26-18 and 41-38 and PCH never went in front until the first minute of the 4th session when quick fielders by Douglas and Ransom put the Chiefs ahead, 42-41.

But the Colts were far from finished and PCH again fell behind, 54-48, with two minutes to go.

Then Couser, making his best offensive showing of the season, hit two free tosses and Douglas fired a jumper to make it 54-52. With 55 seconds left, Ray Sain clicked on a tip and the count was tied.

Otto Kennedy rebounded Jerry Rittenbery's missed free throw and PCH called a timeout with 43 seconds to go. The Chiefs worked the ball around for a game-winning shot and Douglas came through. Southwestern's Hamp Morris connected in retaliation, but time had expired before the shot.

Southwestern failed to capitalize on three 1-and-1 chances at the foul line in the final 80 seconds. Ken Franklin muffed his first try with 1:20 remaining and Rittenbery missed twice (1:05 and 0:46).

The Colts enjoyed a slight shooting edge, netting 22 of 67 attempts for 32.8 per cent compared to Pontiac's 21 of 67 for 31.3. The 6-foot-6 Kennedy topped all rebounders with 14.

The luckless Colts now stand 3-5 in the Valley and 3-6 altogether. Central's over-all record is 9-1. It was the first hardwood meeting of the two schools and the only time they'll meet this season.

Roseville Tops Kettering

Rochester Trips Romeo

By HERB PETERS

The Falcons won their fifth straight Tri-County outing all right, beating Romeo 68-62, but only after nearly blowing a 20-point lead they carried into the final period.

Lapeer kept in hot pursuit of Rochester by thoroughly trouncing L'Anse Creuse, 65-30, for its fourth win in five league starts. Waterford Kettering stepped too far out of the loop and was bombed 60-31 at Roseville.

Despite Romeo's full court press, which bothered the Falcons considerably, Rochester pulled away from an 18-16 first quarter to lead 41-31 at the half and then 64-44 with two straight 23-point periods.

Coach Ralph Vanzo, apparently at ease with his seventh victory in 10 games in the bag, dug deep into his bench for the fourth canto. And that's when the excitement really began.

Romeo's Bulldogs scented an opening and exploited it fully. They scored 16 straight points to draw within four, 64-60, before Rochester's first stringers got back on the floor to call a halt.

Even then the closing minutes became a wild melee and it took two fielders by Jerry Olsen to smother the sensational rally. Olsen finished with 22 points, teammate Ed Fliss canned 17, and Dave McDonald tallied 15. John Hanley led Romeo with 13.

McDonald's four buckets sparked the Falcon's second quarter drive, and Olsen collected nine points in the big third period spree when the Rochester lead mounted to 24 points.

KETTERING TRAILS

Kettering matched Roseville in a 7-7 first period and trailed 21-14 at the half. But the second portion was no contest with the Wildcats going 18-21 to fashion a rout. Roseville's Dick Boari was high with 14 points, followed by Kettering's Dick Shipman with 11.

L'Anse Creuse never warmed up after a long trip to Lapeer. The Lancers were down 14-6 the first period and managed only one point in the second with Bob Duck wall getting 17, Tom Conner 15 and Augie Maasch 13.

Imlay Dumped From Unbeaten

Imlay City got dumped from the ranks of perfect-record teams last night and will likely be dropped from its lofty position in the state ratings.

The Spartans, 12-0 entering the game, ran into some cold shooting in a 56-50 setback at Saginaw Buena Vista.

Imlay got off on the right foot by taking an 18-14 1st quarter lead but Saginaw went in front 25-24 at halftime and dominated the last two periods despite numerous Spartan rallies.

★ ★ ★

Doug Perkins got 13, Terry Ignasiak and Gary Burke 10 each for the state power. Ken Howe of the winners topped the game with 18. A 6-for-18 foul shooting record was typical of the Imlay shooting success.

Maple Grove St. Michael made Millington's record 0-12 in an 80-56 romp.

The Cardinals staged a 12-point spree to go ahead by three in the 2nd quarter but Mikes regained the advantage and kept it. Ken Birchmeir of the winers was high for both teams with 23. Darwin Doty canned 12 and Dave Sherman 10 for MHS.

Parker's 5 Goals Vault Mt. View Into NL Finals

Spearheaded by Dave Parker's five goals, the Mountain View Rangers moved into the finals of the city's National League hockey tournament with an 8-1 rout of the Union Lake Optimists Friday night at Northside Park.

A goal by Bob Piaskowski in the 3rd period was the first counter made against Ranger goalie Rick King in nine periods of competition.

Too much snow on the ice from last night's heavy fall halted the American League nightcap between Standard Forge and the Pontiac Central Raiders at the end of the 2nd stanza with Forge leading, 3-1. The game was slated to be completed this morning at 9 o'clock.

The Forge-PCH winner was scheduled to meet the Mountain View Rangers this afternoon at 2:30 for the AL championship. Boys Club met Forge this morning at 10:30 in a National contest.

PCH Tankers Score 2nd Win of Season

Pontiac Central splashed its way to its second victory of the season last night by defeating Flint Southwestern, 66-39.

Phil Cashin was a stand out in taking the 100 backstroke and 200 individual medley events. Bob Lorenz again was a double winner as he won the 50 and 100 freestyle events.

Other first places were posted by Bob Bryce in diving, Skip Mellen in the butterfly, Barry Coram in the breaststroke and by the medley relay team made up of Jenkins, Blaylock, Mellen and Howard.

Thompson Sets Mark in Saginaw Victory

Ernie Thompson shattered the Saginaw Valley's single game scoring record Friday night, pouring 44 points through the hoop to pace the Trojans to an 81-43 rout of Flint Central.

The previous single game mark was 43, set by Flint Central's Joe Quarles in 1956-57. Thompson's total included 19 field goals and three foul shots as the Trojans hiked their season record to 9-0.

Dennis Schumacher's 21 points featured Arthur Hill's 67-56 victory over Flint Northern. Keith Kundinger netted 20 for the Hillites and Charlie Haynes mashed 19 in defeat. Winless Bay City Central lost to crosstown rival Handy, 57-48, in another Valley game last night.

World Half Mile and Pole Vault Records Fall by Wayside

Snell Shatters Two Marks in Zealand Track

22-Year Old Runner Is Clocked at 1:45.1 in Half Mile

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. (AP)—Peter Snell, who bettered the world mile record last week, ran the fastest half mile in track and field history Saturday. The 22-year-old New Zealander was timed in 1 minute, 45.1 seconds—clipping 1:7 seconds off the world mark set by Tom Courtney of the United States.

In the process, Snell bettered the world 800-meter record with a time of 1:44.3.

Snell last Saturday ran the mile on a grass track in 3:54.4—one-tenth of a second under the world record of 3:54.5 set by Australia's Herb Elliott.

Snell won the 800-meter gold medal in the Rome Olympics but reached his peak this season.

Before the race, he said: "I feel if I am going to get the half mile record, I should do it now. I am not sure how much the mile record took out of me, but I know I am definitely fitter than ever before."

Barry Robinson, New Zealand's Olympic quarter-miler and a late entry in the half-mile, led Snell around the first lap in a fantastic 50.5 seconds.

Two Americans, former Stanford star Ernie Cunliffe and Jim Dupree of Southern Illinois U., the AAU 880-champion, were in the race against the flying New Zealander.

Courtney, former Fordham University star from Livingston, N.J., set his record at Los Angeles, May 24, 1957. The record for 800 meters had lasted more than six years. Roger Moens of Belgium set it at Oslo on Aug. 3, 1955.

The powerfully-built, smooth-running Snell had come within three-tenths of a second of Courtney's mark—clocking 1:47.1—only two days before he set his mile record last Saturday.

Dupree was second in 1:49 flat.

RECORD BREAKER — Peter Snell, the New Zealander who last Saturday set a new world record for the mile with a time of 3:54.4, Friday broke two more records at Christchurch, New Zealand. He shattered the world 880-yard record by 1.7 seconds with a time of 1:45.1 and also broke the 800-meter mark by 1.4 seconds with a clocking of 1:44.3.

Packers Win, 112-96

Chicago Fond of Pistons

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Pistons are good news for the Chicago Packers, the new National Basketball Association team.

The Packers, who have won only 11 games all season, beat the Pistons 112-96 last night. It was Chicago's third victory over the Pistons in seven games.

The Philadelphia Warriors pulled off a 129-116 victory over New York in the first half of a double-header. Then they watched the champion Boston Celtics maul a good Cincinnati team 143-124.

Syracuse put a defensive clamp on St. Louis' top scorers and scored a 135-101 rout in Utica, N.Y. Wilt Chamberlain was held to one of his lower point totals of the season, 35, in the Warrior victory.

Indoor Shot Put Mark Also Falls

Uelses Clears 16-Foot Barrier

NEW YORK (AP) — John Uelses who became the first pole vaulter in history to clear 16 feet Friday night, is a handsome German-born corporal in the United States Marines who still doesn't think he has reached his full potential.

"On a good night," he observed after clearing 16¼ before a packed Madison Square Garden crowd in the Millrose Games, "I think I might make 16-4 or 16-5."

JONES WINS

Hayes Jones of Pontiac, Mich. had things even easier than Sieberg. He won the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.2.

Frank Budd of Villanova had to turn on the heat in the final strides to beat out Herb Carper of the Santa Barbara, Calif. A. C. and win the 60-yard dash in 6.1, equalling the meet record.

O'BRIEN LATE

Parry O'Brien, 30-year-old Los Angeles banker who held the listed shot mark of 63-1½, was delayed in flight and did not arrive at the Garden until just before Gubner got off his throw.

Gubner had a remarkable series and his first toss brought gasps from the audience. It was 62¾. Then came two fouls. Then a flip of 62-11¼, then one of 62-3½, and finally the record.

Gubner took dead aim on the record this year. Before bettering the record, his best was 6-4½.

Ed Kohler of Fordham University was second with a 56-3 effort followed by Jerry Montkofsky of the Grand Street Boys in New York with 5-10½ and Joe Marchiony of the New York Athletic Club with 54-5½.

CROSSBAR BUMPED

Some cold water was thrown on Uelses' feat when a photographer knocked down the crossbar after John had cleared the height on his third and final try. AUU Chief Dan Ferris said that the vault was not remeasured according to the rules and that the AAU records committee would have to decide whether it was an indoor record.

★ ★ ★

"This is annoying," shrugged Uelses, 24 years old and 6-1, "but after all, I've done it now, so I'll do it another time again. It's like a lot of other things — like the 4-minute mile. Once you do it, you can do it again.

"But it's sort of a pity to get all psyched up over it, then have them take it away from you."

When he is discharged from the Quantico Marine base in a couple of months, Uelses pronounced it yool-cess, will head for Southern Illinois University where he intends to major in mathematics.

Uelses was born in Berlin and came to the United States in 1949, through the help of Sen. George Smathers DFla. He became a citizen as soon as he could and graduated from high school in Miami, Fla., then spent a year at the University of Alabama before joining the Marines.

"When I missed my first two tries at 16 feet," said Uelses, "Aubrey said to me 'take it easy, you're rushing too much'. He was right.

"The fact that I cleared it with plenty to spare made me feel good, but believe me it was a tough night. When I went up I knew I had it good and I just sort of floated over."

Ironically, Uelses almost was eliminated when the crossbar was at a mere 14-6. He missed twice and made it on his third and last attempt.

Wammerdam Send Wishes

Congratulations to Uelses

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Cornelius Warmerdam, the first man ever to pole vault 15 feet, expressed congratulations for John Uelses Friday night, but added:

"I didn't think it would take 'em 22 years to hit 16 feet."

That was the same event where 20 years ago lanky Dutch Warmerdam became the first man ever to pole vault 15 feet indoors. Warmerdam already had hit that mark outdoors in 1940.

"But I don't do it very often," he grins. "I might break my neck."

Warmerdam feels now that Uelses has boosted past 16 feet that there will be many others reaching that height.

"Somebody will join this kid up there real soon, I'm sure," Warmerdam said. "As for Uelses, I wouldn't attempt to guess what his limit might be. He's still improving."

Keg Meeting Changed

Clarkston is Far Short of Upset at Northville

Barons Stay in 2nd, Score 49-48 Triumph

Lakers Gain Third, Holly Takes Milford in Other W-O Action

Clarkston failed to come near upsetting unbeaten Northville but Bloomfield Hills clung to slim Wayne-Oakland League title hopes with a last-second victory last night.

The Barons retained 2nd place by nipping surprisingly tough Clarenceville 49-48 in the final second while West Bloomfield was breaking a tie with Clarkston to take 3rd with a 54-48 verdict over Brighton.

Holly continued its drive towards the .500 mark by whipping Milford in the other loop cage game, 48-37.

Visiting Clarkston was unable to give Northville the trouble it did at home two months ago as the 70-57 score indicates.

★ ★ ★

The Mustangs, posting No. 9 in the W-O, opened up with an 18-11 lead in the 1st quarter and widened the gap to 18 at half-time. It got up to 20 before the Wolves came back to cut the difference down some.

Play was marred by 44 personal fouls divided evenly. Each had 29 charity tosses with the losers hitting a big 25.

Dan Brown sparked Northville with 21 points. He hit nine straight free throws and a total of 11. Mike Applegate's 22, including a spree of eight successive foul conversions, topped the losers. Chuck Funk followed closely with 18 and made 10-for-11 on the line.

TREGENZA AGAIN

Clutch man Art Tregenza swished a jump shot from 15 feet out at the final buzzer for the Bloomfield clincher. It was only the 2nd field goal of a 10-point night for the Baron star but a big one. A three-point play by Bill Wheeler had put Clarenceville ahead by one with a minute left.

Brian O'Neil had his best night of the season pacing Hills with 15 points. Wheeler's 17 featured the losers' attack.

West Bloomfield had to come from behind. Brighton was in the van 24-22 at the half and held the edge until midway in the 3rd period. After two ties, a basket by Dan Greig put the Lakers in front to stay.

Coach Art Paddy's quintet stayed in charge the last 10 minutes featuring sophomore Greig, who finished with 20 points. Max Pearsall canned 15 in defeat.

At Milford, Holly broke away from a 19-19 1st half tie to lead all the last two quarters. It was only 32-29 at the 3rd period. Jim Ray's 13 paced the balanced Broncos.

The Redskins could make only nine field goals on a 20 per cent shooting night. Dennis Flynn was high with 10 — 8 of them free throws. There were 69 foul shots in the contest.

Lamphere is Loser After Apparent Win

Two free throws after regulation play had concluded enabled Lutheran West to nip Lamphere 56-55 last night.

Phil Freer, who hit 28 points, had apparently clinched the issue for the Rams with a free throw and the players were leaving the court when an official announced a foul had been called at the final whistle.

Avondale Pulls Surprise; Oxford Drops Lake Orion

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS

One would think Avondale was sitting on top of Oakland-A League by the way the Yellowjackets walked over Oak Park in an upset victory, 68-50 last night.

It's really Fitzgerald leading the league now after whipping Troy, co-leader up to last night, 51-46.

In other games involving league teams, Clawson rolled over Madison, 61-44 and Oxford took care of arch-rival Lake Orion in a non-loop affair, 52-46.

For Avondale it was the best performance of the year and a 5-10 freshman played a big role in the victory.

Lynn Thorpe hit 16 points and picked off 15 defensive rebounds. He shared the scoring honors with Roger Van Conant who had 16 followed by Biff Rice with 14 and Dale Yarger with 10.

It was the second league win in eight games and the 4th overall victory with seven setbacks.

Oak Park dropped into fourth place with an even 4-4 league record. Robie Goldenberg hit for 16 and Dennis Pink and Al Ruby each got 11 for Oak Park.

OXFORD WINS

Lake Orion, sitting in the league basement with a lone victory, fared no better outside the loop. Oxford made it two straight victories having defeated Kettering on Tuesday. The Wildcats tied the count 32-32 midway in the third quarter and after a bucket by Bill Hulse, they led the rest of the way.

Oxford now stands 3-6 for the season and Orion is 1-9. Hulse led Oxford's scoring with 18 and he got help from Dan Kelly with 10, John Cucksey had 13 for Lake Orion.

In the big game of the league, Fitzgerald pushed into second place, having led 30-25 at halftime and 37-31 after three quarters.

Duane Pisarek connected for 20 and Fred Huckel 10 for the winners while Tom Kelly got 17 and Hank Akin 14 for Troy.

Clawson held a 34-20 half time margin and never was in trouble. John Miller and Tom McArthur each had 12 as did Bud Shoup for Madison.

With two games left, Clawson kept its mathematical hopes alive for a title share.

N. Farmington Freezes

It was a cold night for North Farmington. While Riverside was collecting 30 points in the second quarter, North Farmington got only six and the halftime margin was 41-10. The final was just as bad, 74-26.

Mike Fleming's 12 points was tops for the losers.

St. Fred Loses Fourth Straight; Leaders Breeze

St. Michael to Host Our Lady of the Lakes Tonight at PNH

St. Frederick went down to its 4th straight defeat bowing 65-45 to visiting St. James in a Suburban Catholic contest here Friday night.

Royal Oak St. Mary gained ground on idle Orchard Lake St. Mary by blasting St. Rita 62-37 in the other league game.

St. Michael will be favored to post its 2nd loop victory tonight meeting Our Lady of the Lakes at Pontiac Northern, St. Benedict, ranking 3rd, plays St. Clement.

Emmanuel Christian fell before hot Grosse Pointe University School 48-38 and Royal Oak Shrine was a 62-49 victim of Detroit Holy Redeemer.

St. Fred had usual problem of being inconsistent on offense. The Rams have topped 50 only twice in 10 games.

CLOSE AT START

St. James led only 17-14 after one period but breezed the rest of the way highlighted by a 23-point 2nd quarter.

It was 40-25 at the half and never closer than 10 thereafter. Tim Mulcaster, Oakland County's No. 1 scorer, scored eight in the big session and totaled 25. Pete Vasquez rung up 18 for the Rams.

RO St. Mary turned on the steam after holding only a 25-20 halftime advantage. Bob Door's 18 points and Pat Moroski's 17 sparked the Irish. Ed Zyromski chipped in with 12.

Grosse Pointe had Emmanuel by six at the half and boosted the margin to 13 at the 3rd quarter. Al Hartwick was the big gun in the triumph with 23.

Kerry Rogers poured in 18 and Ralph Wingate 12 to head the Lancers, who are now 2-7.

Shrine could not recover from a 17-point deficit in the 2nd half in dropping its 6th contest in eight outings. Jeff Fohey tallied 15 and Rick Seymour 13 in the loss.

Each team dominated a half and Birmingham Groves had the big one to edge Southgate Davison 56-53 yesterday.

Down 24-20 after two periods, Groves roared back to go ahead 41-35 at the third quarter and held on for its fourth triumph.

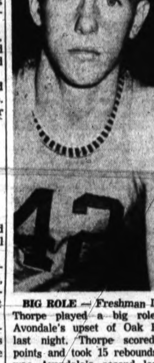

Russ Bitzer scored 22 points and Bill Stephenson 13 in the win. Larry Altobel garnered 19 for Southgate.

Ortonville Battered 88-46 at Goodrich

It was 88-46 when the final whistle sounded. After leading 20-19, Ortonville slumped to trail by 43-29 at the half and it was no contest the last 16 minutes.

Jim Killbreath starred for Goodrich with 16 points. Bill Atkins heads the Blackhawks, who were bothered by a tight press, with 12. Ortonville is now 4-7.

Income Tax Primer

Filing Return Made Easier

By RICHARD A MULLENS
Written for NEA

Filling out your income tax return should seem easier this year than in previous years. For one thing, there are only two forms to choose between—Form 1040 and Form 1040A.

For another, an effort has been made by the Internal Revenue Service to make Form 1040 for 1961 more readable and easier to follow.

The main form is limited to a single sheet and provision is made for attaching separate schedules, if needed.

Form 1040A is still available and is much the simpler return to fill out. It is printed on a punch card and may be used if:

1. Your income was less than $10,000, and

2. It consisted of wages reported on withholding statements (Forms W-2) and not more than $200 from other wages, interests, dividends, and

3. You wish to take the standard deduction (about 10 per cent of your income) instead of itemizing deductions.

* * *

If you do not meet all three tests, you must use Form 1040.

The following schedules and forms are available as separate attachments to Form 1040. Use any which apply to your income or deductions. Copies may be secured from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Schedule B: Supplemental Schedule of Income and Credits. Use for reporting dividends, interest, pensions and royalties and miscellaneous income.

Schedule C: Profit (or Loss) from Business or Profession. Self-employed persons use this schedule.

Schedule D: Gains and Losses from Sales or Exchange of Property.

Form 2106: Statement of Employe Business Expenses. Salesmen and other employes who travel find this form helpful.

Form 2441: Statement of Expenses for Care fo Children and Certain Other Dependents.

Form 2440: Statement to Support Exclusion of Sick Pay.

Form 2948: Medical and Dental Expense Statement. Particularly helpful if 65 or over.

* * *

For taxpayers who are married, it will almost always be advisable to file a joint return. A joint return can be filed even though you are not married for all of 1961 provided you are married at the end of the year.

If you are divorced or legally separated at the end of the year, you are considered single for the entire year.

If both you and your spouse are working and earning approximately the same salaries, you should compute the tax on a joint return basis and then on a separate return basis. Separate returns may result in a lower tax.

* * *

For example, suppose Jonn Q. Public earned $2,495 and his wife earned $2,740. If they compute their tax by using the Tax Table (which they must use unless they itemize deductions) and have no other exemptions, separate returns would save them $5 in tax.

This results from the fact that the Tax Table figures the tax at the midpoint of the income bracket. Any income above that point but below the next bracket escapes tax.

MORE INFORMATION

Q—I want to file a joint return with my wife but I don't want her to see how much I made. Does she have to sign?

A—Yes. Unless she signs the return, you have not filed a proper joint return and the Internal Revenue Service may compute your tax on a separate return basis.

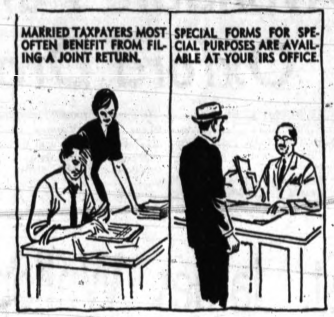

Q—My wife died on April 25, 1961. May I file a joint return?

A—Yes. If your husband or wife died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year.

Q—My wife made less than $600 last year. Must we report that income on a joint return?

A—Yes. Even so, a joint return will be cheaper, in most such cases.

NEXT: More reporting tips.

Believes Official Defended by JFK Misled on Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin Johnston, D-S.C., says he believes a State Department official defended by President Kennedy at a news conference was "hoodwinked" into believing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was not a Communist.

Johnston heads the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which questioned the official, William A. Wieland, behind closed doors for 3½ hours Friday. The hearing was not announced in advance.

Wieland, former director of the State Department's Office of Caribbean-Mexican Affairs, declined comment.

Last week at his news conference Kennedy came to the defense of Wieland and J. Clayton Miller, another State Department employe, when a reporter referred to them in a question as "well-known security risks."

Graham Sees Step to Christian Unity

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says attendance by Protestant observers at the Roman Catholic Church's ecumenical council in Rome next October will mark a step forward in Christian understanding.

But he told a news conference Friday he does not envision actual Christian unity in the foreseeable future. The Catholic Church's belief in the infallability of the Pope is a doctrine which hinders merger, he said.

The Baptist evangelist said he considers his current South American crusade as a sort of bridge to unite Christian churches, declaring he came here "not to call the people to a specific religion or sect, but to Christ."

CD Office Requests Funds for Program

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Defense Office has asked the legislature for funds to get rolling on a broad defense program that eventually would supply community fallout shelters for 12 million people.

Although the state's population is less than 8 million, space would have to be supplied for people in more than one location — at work or school—the office said.

Civil defense officials expected Michigan to have space for a maximum of 200,000 residents by the end of the current fiscal year, next June 30.

To whom it may concern, particularly Norman Rice and Muriel F. Rice, his wife, and all owners of property fronting on, abutting or having access to rights in Duck Lake, or who are interested in having fixed and maintaining the normal height and level of said lake pursuant to the provisions of Act 146, Public Acts of 1961, said lake being located in Sections 11, 12 and 14 of Highland Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a petition praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal height and level of Duck Lake, said lake being located in Sections 11, 12 and 14 of Highland Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are further notified that a hearing on the petition will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland on Tuesday the 27th day of February, 1962, at the opening of Court on that day at 9 a.m., or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

You are further notified that on said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 1016.6 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 1016.6 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why:

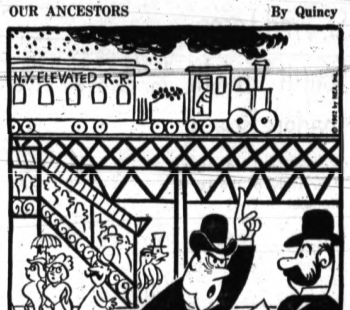

(A) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established;

(B) Why 1016.6 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake.

(C) Why such other and further relief as to the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to petitioner.

Reflections

SPACE FLIGHT

J. L. VOORHEES

Some of us like to explore strange roads, visit unusual places, see spectacular scenes, however, to go into space is out of the question—but is it?

When we meet a stranger we are face to face with an unknown. He walks, talks, runs and yet he is as different as the dash board in my car and one in a Space Shop. We explore, may find one personality trait that compliments our own complex arrangement. We discover gentleness and firmness, spirit and calm, anger and love, and a hunger for companionship. We find a universe housed in a stranger, a human being on whom we may lean, someone who compliments, or balances, or pushes, or steadies; he's a friend.

M. E. SIPLE

We meet strangers everyday. Few of us peek into the darkness to discover the beauty, the greatness, the strength and the weakness of a human being hungry for friendship. The wealth on earth is not hard metal but the soft hand of a friend.

Unequalled Facilities and Gracious Beauty

COPYRIGHT 1959, A. C. HAMAKER

Do Not Experience That Forgotten Feeling, That Void . . .

Flowers serve their highest ultimate purpose in rendering more beautiful the memory of the last rites. Few are the persons who fail to feel the goodwill engendered by the thoughtfulness and soft beauty of flowers at the funeral.

By contrast, the funeral without flowers must be experienced to be appreciated. There is always uncertainty, sometimes remorse to the family of the departed who fail to have flowers present for the funeral. It is a forgotten feeling and a void that cannot be corrected later.

So we advise without reservation, "Allow friends—those who knew the departed in life—to extend condolence and tributes as they see fit. Welcome the gifts of flowers if that is their wish."

Family Service of Oakland Increases Its Aid During '61

Robert J. Janes, executive director of Family Service of Oakland County, has reviewed the organization's 1961 activity in an annual report to the board of directors.

During last year the agency served 2,132 different families, a 4 per cent increase over those aided in 1956.

The largest percentage of families presented marital problems. The second largest group of families was concerned about their children and their behavior problems. In the last two-thirds of 1961, the agency gave consideration to 1,087 children.

Besides an increased number of families served, the organization also took on a new program of group counseling with individual families. The successful venture undertaken by Mrs. Albertina Mabley, a staff member with many years' experience in the Birmingham office, may become a permanent part of the program.

The board of directors took a step forward in the same year toward committing itself to extend casework services to the county's aging population.

Result of this step will be seen later this year when the agency will have a specialized caseworker act as its participant in the Family Service Association of America's Project on Aging. The three-year program is under sponsorship of the Ford Foundation.

FACES PROBLEM

Among the agency's problems was its attempt to serve an increasing number of families without additional staff personnel. This resulted from insufficient capital from the Community Funds in Oakland County which support the agency.

Although totally dissatisfied with the dilemma of the long waiting list, the board of directors has expressed appreciation in professional manner which staff members have been able to cope with this problem.

One reason the agency has been able to make gains in spite of inadequate financial support is related to the fact that the staff continues to increase its production and find new methods of adequately servicing families in a shorter time period.

The latter meant a savings of approximately $2,000 to the community this past year. However, Janes reports, the agency has reached its saturation point and unless additional funds are forthcoming, he said, ability of the organization to meet the increasing demand of service to families will depreciate greatly in the next few years.

★ ★ ★

Establishment of the Membership Body, for which any Oakland County citizen interested in strong family life, may apply, was an outstanding achievement in '61, Janes said.

'EXCELLENT LEADERSHIP'

James C. Allen, president, states that success of this movement is due to the excellent leadership provided by Fred W. Sanders, chairman of the Membership Body.

★ ★ ★

As a by-product of the above development, the Lakeland Players of Waterford Township agreed, as a community service, to put on a play written by Nora Stirling under auspices of the Plays for Living Division of Family Service Association of America. "Eye of a Hurricane," already seen twice in Oakland County, will be reproduced for any interested organization.

Traffic Is Big Problem on Road to Broadway

By EARL WILSON

Four evenings a week, about 6:30, he climbs in behind the wheel of his station wagon at Stony Point, in Rockland County, N.Y., and heads down into the boiling traffic of Manhattan toward Broadway and the show he's starring in, "Milk and Honey."

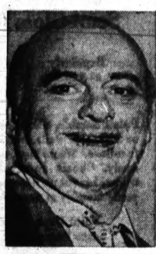

WILSON

"It takes me about 50 minutes," he says. "So I get to the theater about 7:20 or 7:30.

"The half-hour call" is at 8 so I still have half an hour to play with."

"But I got in a jam that last ice strorm," he mentioned the other afternoon. "I ran into the back of a policeman's car.

"He skidded and I skidded into him. I guess it's the first time in my life I ever said to a cop, 'What's the matter with you? Don't you have a directional signal?'"

WEEDE

This was in New Jersey in the Palisades area.

"The cop was very nice — but he did say, 'We'll have to report it.' I knew that was going to take a while. When we went before the sergeant, the policeman said, 'Look, it was an accident,' and they placed no charge. I got to the theater at 8:20 — I'd phoned ahead — and they didn't have to hold the curtain."

"Did you mention who you were and your time problem?" I asked Weede.

"I started to," Weede smiled. "I just said, 'I have to get to a theater.' They said, 'Oh, you were going fast?' I said, 'Oh, no, I have plenty of time.'"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Arthur Miller said at Cavangh's he'll raise Christmas trees on his Conn. farm. . . . One of the sets for "The Umbrella" is a wrecked taxi that cost $50. While they were waiting to drag it into the theater in Phila., it got a ticket for parking.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Actor George Sanders told how he feels about TV: "I only turn it on when something very special is being presented, such as myself."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A panhandler tells us that Jack Benny is always good for a five, or a ten—and sometimes even for a quarter.

EARL'S PEARLS: "Half my mail," writes Ray Parr of Oklahoma City, "is from loan companies eagerly speculating I might be short of cash. I still can't figure out how they all found out about it at the same time." . . . That's earl, brother.

Hotel Manager Asks Sunday Liquor Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Jerry Moore, a Detroit Civic Center commissioner and general manager of the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel, wants Sunday sales of liquor to spur Detroit and Michigan convention business.

★ ★ ★

"I can think of no other single action that would do more to bring delegate and visitor dollars to Detroit and other Michigan cities," he said Friday.

★ ★ ★

He urged the legislature to permit Sunday liquor sales on a "local option" basis by a vote of the people in the communities.

Bookies Invade Mass. Capital

Legislators Find Illegal Gambling Under Own Roof in Bay State

BOSTON (AP)—The concern of the Massachusetts Legislature over widespread gambling operations centered today on illegal betting under its very own roof —the state house.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

They also found pencils and a pad of paper like those used by bookies hidden in the emergency telephone compartment of the elevator used each day by Gov. John A. Volpe.

★ ★ ★

Earlier the Senate president and the House speaker moved jointly to fire Robert G. Connolly, head of the legislative document room, allegedly for taking part in bookie operations.

Connolly denied he was a bookie. He described himself as an amateur handicapper who often was called upon for his advice on which horses to bet on.

Connolly charged there has been betting going on at the state house for the 20 years he had been there. Before he was appointed head of the legislative document room, Connolly was a Democratic legislator from a Boston district.

★ ★ ★

Connolly said the dozen legislators he knew to have placed illegal bets are equally divided, Democrats and Republicans. He did not name them.

Reds 'May' Copy Kennedy-Style News Meetings

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law said it was possible the Kremlin may someday adopt the American presidential-type news conference.

The son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper, made the comment to newsmen as he and his wife Rada left Idlewild Airport for Mexico City.

Asked whether such conferences were possible in the Soviet Union, he said "yes," adding that the possibility was "not excluded."

Community College Commission Formed

LANSING (AP) — Formation of a statewide commission on community college development was announced today by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

"We are at this moment contacting outstanding community and civic leaders, educators, business, industry and labor for appointments to this commission," Bartlett said.

★ ★ ★

Purpose of the commission will be to study the entire problem of development and expansion of Michigan's community college system, Bartlett said.

Two Accountants Seek to Succeed Rep. Young

LANSING (AP) — Two Ingham County candidates said today they would seek the Republican nomination to fill the seat vacated by the death last month of State Rep. Ralph Young, R-East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Franklin Gregg Jr., an East Lansing accountant, and Paul Richards, mayor of nearby Mason, said they are seeking the nomination. Gregg, 36, is self-employed. Richards, 45, is supervisor of accounting for a Mason firm.

JFK to Announce Import Ban

Expect Total Cuba Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is expected to announce shortly a complete embargo on U.S. imports from Cuba amounting to about $35 million a year.

The action will be the first here following the decision of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers to exclude Cuba from the Organization of American States and to take steps to combat Communist subversion in this hemisphere.

President Kennedy reportedly made the decision to crack down on imports following the return of Secretary of State Dean Rusk from the inter-American meeting at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Rusk said Prime Minister Fidel Castro has been using the dollars to finance Communist activities in other Latin-American countries.

U.S. imports from Cuba in the first 11 months of 1961 ran to about $32.4 million. About 90 per cent of this was tobacco for the cigar manufacturing industry in the Tampa, Fla., area. The remaining 10 per cent was fresh fruits and vegetables.

FOOD, MEDICINE OK'D

U.S. exports to Cuba in the same period totaled about $13.6 million in food and medical supplies. It was understood that under the new decision Cuba would still be able to buy U.S. food and medicine.

The Kennedy administration has been reluctant to halt these exports lest such a move be interpreted as a blow at the Cuban people.

In another action aimed at the Castro government, the United States will press its inter-American allies next week to agree on joint security measures to defeat a Cuban-based "Communist offensive" against this hemisphere.

What is needed, according to Rusk, is a plan for action "that can block Communist subversive activities before they reach the level of insurrection or guerilla war."

Rusk told the nation in a television broadcast Friday night that there was a "mounting Communist offensive" in the hemisphere.

He described it as a "systematic subversive attack spearheaded by the present regime in Cuba."

The OAS is due to meet here Wednesday to consider ways of carrying out the decisions of the Punta del Este conference.

Says Red Resumption of Blasts Underground Probably Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials speculated today that Russia might have turned to underground nuclear testing to try to set world opinion against any U.S. explosions in the atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the new Soviet burst Friday, saying it apparently had been set off underground.

It was the first time the AEC had told of detecting a Russian underground test. All the previous ones announced by the AEC took place in the atmosphere except for one triggered underwater.

Why the switch from the atmosphere to underground testing? Some U.S. authorities guessed the Soviets were troubled by criticism of their string of fallout-spewing bursts last fall and figured that by going underground they would turn the world's attention to the U.S. testing program.

MAY RESUME TESTS

President Kennedy has said the United States might be forced to resume tests in the atmosphere to protect its nuclear weapons lead.

U. S. officials said, however, that one Soviet blast didn't make a case. Their speculation was based on the assumption the Russians would set off more underground explosions.

The Russians hinted at a resumption of tests Friday about the same time the AEC announcement was being read.

★ ★ ★

The Communist party newspaper Pravda, in an article carried by the Tass news agency, accused the United States and Britain of breaking up the 39-month-old nuclear test-ban talks in Geneva.

Frondizi Bows to Military Men

President of Argentina Reverses Soft Cuban Stand in Ouster Call

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—Bowing to military leaders, President Arturo Frondizi steered Argentina today into the ranks of Western Hemisphere nations that want Cuba kicked out of the inter-American system.

An Argentine break in diplomatic relations with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government appeared certain. But informants said it would be done over a period of time. Frondizi Friday summoned home his ambassador to Cuba, Julio Amoedo, in an apparent first step toward a formal break.

A communique issued by the presidential palace made it clear Argentina would vote in favor of ousting Cuba from the hemispheric family of nations when the matter comes up before the Council of the Organization of American States.

ABSTAINED FROM VOTE

At a meeting of the foreign ministers of OAS members in Uruguay earlier this week 20 American republics, including the United States, voted to condemn the Castro regime. But Argentina, along with Brazil, Mexico, Ecuador, Bolivia and Chile, abstained on a resolution calling for Cuba's ouster from inter-American councils.

In MSUO Division

By RALPH F. HUMMEL

A plan for the world's first "Alumni University" — to guide college students' education from freshman year to retirement age — is being shaped at Michigan State University Oakland's Division of Continuing Education.

★ ★ ★

The Alumni University would provide a life-long planned education to overcome "obsolete" learning, "fill gaps created by technological and scientific progress and send the graduate up the career ladder with his employer's help.

Cultural as well as professional subjects would be included in the curriculum "to insure the alumnus' development as a man not just as a money-maker."

The words and vision are those of Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of MSUO's Continuing Education.

STARTED IN '58

In 1958, Eklund's division started teaching classes to 50 adults who thronged into converted chicken coops on Meadowbrook Farms "to find better ways of doing their jobs and to become better people in a cultural sense."

Today, the division is teaching an average of 50 professional and liberal and fine arts courses to 1,000 adults each year. But this type of bits-and-pieces programs is not enough for the college graduate, says Eklund.

Nor are the traditional post-graduate programs of formal courses, which he says, "are formed for those whose needs fit — or will fit their needs to such a stereotyped program."

Industry's own training schools for new employees indicate the need for a program adapted to the career needs of the employe, Eklund says.

The Alumni University would make use of existing post-college programs — academic and industrial — but integrate these into "a progressive program, deliberately forecast, designed and provided on a timely schedule as appropriate to the needs and interests of the student."

TO URGE PARTICIPATION

"The student," says Eklund, "would be encouraged and counseled to take part in most every form of educational program including formal courses leading to advanced degrees, informal (non-shops, inplant seminars, interprofessional encounters, conferences, institutes, selfstudy, tutorials, recourses, and so on."

Exactly what he would take would be determined by himself, the advice of his employer and an educational counsellor.

Last week, MSUO took the first formal step of bringing the employer into the picture by assigning to Eklund's Division of Continuing Education the placement of graduates who seek jobs in business, industry and government.

"We hope," said Eklund, "that this function will be the bridge between the university and industry by which we can procede into a long-range formal program of alumni education."

By spring, Eklund hopes to seek the financial support to start a pilot project.

This would be applied to part of the first class of 150 to 200 students, expected to graduate in spring of 1963 from MSUO. It is a group small enough to handle for a beginning, Eklund said.

Supervisors Unit Okays Jury Selection Change

Chances for a Circuit Court jury commission to replace the juror selection system now being used were improved yesterday when the legislative committee of the board of supervisors approved the change.

The 35-member board will hear Tuesday the tentative draft of a bill to permit creation of such a commission in Oakland County. It is hoped to be ready before the Feb. 14 deadline for submitting bills to the legislature.

If approved by the supervisors and legislature, the new system could go into effect next year.

The commission would consist of three members, appointed by the five circuit judges with the consent of the board of supervisors, who would have general supervision of interviewing some 700 prospective jurors each year.

No longer would township supervisors and city assessing officers pick jurors from their property assessment rolls, a source of consternation for county lawyers who have fought for five years for a change in the system.

MAY BE OPPOSED

Lawyers argue that these same officers have returned time and again the same jurors, most of whom are persons they know as capable jurors, and sometimes their personal friends. This has led to many so-called professional jurors, the attorneys say.

Selection in the future will come from voter registration lists. Names at first will be pulled at random by the three commissioners and later by a proposed data processing system, according to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Murphy would be made clerk in charge of the administration of the jury commission, which would have available duplicate copies of all township and city voter registration lists at the courthouse.

Both Murphy and the five judges opposed the appointment of the commissioners by the governor, as now done under a law governing Wayne County's jury commission.

Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor and vice chairman of the board, sought to have the appointment made by the board.

LATER AGREED

Gen. Walker Jumps In

Texas Race to Be Wild, Woolly

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas set up a political Alamo today in a battle for the governorship with candidates ranging from the very liberal to the extreme right of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

★ ★ ★

It will be the first major political test in Texas for the far right as represented by Walker. Other Democrats in the race so far include incumbent Gov. Price Daniel and three other moderates and a liberal.

Former Navy Secretary John Connally leads the middle-of-the-road contingent, which also includes State Attorney General Will Wilson and former Texas Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby of Plainview.

★ ★ ★

One Republican, Jack Cox, an oilman who used to be a Democrat, opposed the crowd. Political experts predicted a donnybrook that could blow the unity of the state's ruling Democratic party into pieces.

Walker, a former Army major general who resigned his commission to champion the ultra-conservative cause against "communism and socialism," entered the race Friday, selecting the Democratic party as the vehicle for his first bid for political office.

CAUSES RIFT

It was learned that Walker's move already had caused something of a rift in conservative circles.

★ ★ ★

Walker, it was disclosed, entered the race against the advice of Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S. C., who represent conservative wings of their parties.

The three met recently in Washington for two hours. Tower and Thurmond argued unsuccessfully that Walker would hurt not only himself but the conservative movement by entering partisan politics.

Walker, 52, flew to Austin Fri. day to pay his $1,000 filing fee to Democratic officials for a place on the May 5 primary ballot.

Daniel announced about six hours later over statewide television hookup that he will seek a fourth term, unprecented in Texas. The only other Texas governor to hold three terms was Allan Shivers.

Terrified Indians Pray to Forestall Doomsday

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Terrified Indians plunged into sacred rivers, lit sacrificial fires or prayed by the hundreds of thousands along roadsides today in what they believed to be their eleventh-hour attempt to head off doomsday.

Because of a rare alignment of six planets with the sun and the moon, Indian astrologers have warned that in the next three days the earth "will be bathed in the blood of thousands of kings." They set the period of doom between 5:35 p.m. (7:05 a.m. Pontiac time) today through Monday.

In some parts of India and neighboring Nepal there were reports of near panic with families huddling under one roof to be together when and if the end should come.

MUMBLE PRAYERS

Pandits—learned men versed in ancient Hindu scriptures—mumbled prayers over fires kept going with butter, grains of camphor and sandalwood powder.

One of India's richest industrialists, Ramakrishna Dalmia, led mass prayer meetings in a New Delhi Fort.

On street corners, astrologers, palmists and almanac sellers raked in small fortunes peddling prophesies of individual doom or survival.

LAST YEAR'S LINE-UP — Buying 1962 automobile license plates now will save motorists from long, cold lines such as this one shown outside the Pontiac secretary of state office last year. Willis M. Brewer, manager of the office at 96 E. Huron St., warned motorists that this scene may be repeated again this year since license plate sales are lagging after getting off to a good start in the last three months of 1961. The new green-on-white plates must be purchased by Feb. 28. Brewer advised that residents avoid the rush by purchasing their plates before the end of the month.

Security Tightened in Paris

Force Threatened Against Try to Block Algerian Peace

PARIS (AP) — Armed police patrols tightened security in Paris today. The government warned French rightists that any attempt to block President Charles de Gaulle's plans for peace in Algeria would be beaten down by force.

Cruising slowly through Paris streets, the patrols checked suspicious vehicles and pedestrians. Tensions mounted amid reports France and the Algerian rebels were near accord on Algerian independence.

During the night, a bomb explosion, apparently the work of the right-wing Secret Army Organization pledged to keep Algeria French, damaged the home of socialist Sen. Gaston Deferre. Deferre, who is also mayor of Marseille, was not at his Paris home.

Attacks in Algiers killed three Algerians today.

* * *

The French capital was quiet as dawn broke. There were no signs in downtown areas of the 32 tanks and 100 other military vehicles ordered to reinforce Paris security units before De Gaulle speaks to the nation Monday night.

Interior Minister Roger Frey said he could not "exclude a very limited attempt at disorder." But he told the newspaper Paris Presse l'Intransigeant that "with the mechanism I have on hand, any attempt of this nature will be crushed."

De Gaulle kept to himself what he will say in his radio TV-address, which will be beamed throughout France and Algeria. But it appeared doubtful he could disclose any final solution to the North African rebellion, now in its eighth year.

In recent days, highly placed French sources have reported that the French government and the rebels in secret talks have reached agreement in principle on the major points in issue and the next move to bring about a cease fire awaits approval by the rebel hierarchy.

GUTTED BY FLAMES — A fire, apparently touched off by a defective oil space heater, did an estimated $7,000 damage to this five-room frame home at 1068 Holbrook St., Waterford Township, about 2 p.m. yesterday, according to township firemen. The owner, Harold Allard, estimated the loss to furniture and other contents shown scattered about the front lawn at an additional $4,500. Most of the home was gutted by the blaze, which firemen extinguished in little over an hour.

Rebels Resume Fight in Laos

Provincial Capital Undergoing Shelling by Communist Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Rebel forces have resumed heavy shelling of Nam Tha, causing "fire and heavy damage to property and population," the royal government reported today.

* * *

A government communique said the barrage was resumed late Friday from rebel positions to the north, east and south of the besieged provincial capital.

The communique also mentioned in passing that two companies of Russian soldiers and one company of Communist Vietminh troops had occupied the town of Lao Kang, a few miles from the northern border with Communist China.

American military officials expressed skepticism of this. They said they had no such reports from their field officers.

WOULD RESUME TALKS

(In Luang Prabang, defense Minister Phoumi Nosavan said today pro-Western Premier Boun Oum will resume negotiations for a coalition government if the rebels call off their attack on Nam Tha.)

Phoumi, the "strong man" of the Boun government, said he has sent word to "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma that the premier will fly here Sunday to resume the talks provided fighting around the beleaguered provincial capital ceases by 6 p.m. Pontiac time today).

The communique said a rebel unit of unknown nationality was manning the northern side, one company of Communist Vietminh soldiers manning the eastern side, and one Vietminh battalion manning the southern side.

* * *

It said the town itself was being shelled by 85 millimeter cannon, while its vital airstrip was being bombarded by various types of mortar fire.

Dense Fog Over Much of Nation

By the Associated Press

Dense fog shrouded wide areas of the middle Atlantic, Midwest and Pacific Coast states today, reducing visibility on streets and highways and causing traffic tie-ups and pileups.

* * *

Traffic also was slowed by icy roads in a freezing rain belt stretching from northern Illinois into Ohio. Chicago's O'Hare International airport was almost completely shut down due to icy runways.

* * *

The freezing rain and fog in the East stemmed from a warm front that pushed into the Northeast, ending a long spell of frigid weather that dropped readings as low as -40.

20 CARS COLLIDE

A chain-reaction collision involving about 20 vehicles injured several persons Friday night on the Pacific Freeway in Oregon's Willamette Valley. The pileup, in heavy fog 25 miles south of Portland, blocked traffic in both directions for about an hour.

* * *

The fog that has brought death to 28 persons and caused hundreds of traffic accidents in the past week in California continued during the night but may begin breaking up. The Weather Bureau said more favorable upper air circulation should make it less persistent, at least in daylight hours.

Seeks More Congo Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula lined up today an intensive round of talks with U.N. laders to muster support in the General Assembly for more aid to unite the divided African state.

* * *

Adoula arranged a conference with acting Secretary General U Thant on efforts to bring Katanga into line.

Also on Adoula's appointment list were U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak and Russia's Valerian Zorin, who has accused the U.N. of conniving with colonial powers to keep Katanga independent.

Struck by Rifle Butt at Store; Bandit Gets $75 in Other Robbery

She said the thief struck her with the rifle butt as she struggled with him. She told police there was about $10 in her purse and approximately $102 in a purse she was carrying for Mrs. Evelyn Mina, 2623 Bridle Road, Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Mina was closing the store when the robbery took place about 8 p.m. Witnesses said the thief fled on foot. Miss Gray was not seriously hurt.

Ready to Hold Talks on Berlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported today to have told Russia that it was prepared to continue exploratory talks on Berlin but left the next move up to the Soviet government.

* * *

REJECT PROPOSAL

The object of the meeting, the third in a series, is to probe the possibility of negotiating a compromise settlement of the Berlin dispute.

* * *

In the memorandum, the United States rejected on behalf of the Western powers a proposal advanced by Gromyko Jan. 12 for what has come to be known as a "three Germanys" Berlin solution.

Gromyko had suggested that West Berlin be given the status of an independent city-state and a seat in the United Nations, along with West Germany and Communist East Germany.

MAKES STIPULATIONS

Thompson, on instructions from Washington that were worked out on the basis on consultation among the Western Allies, went beyond simple rejection of the Soviet suggestion. He also is reported to have said that any negotiating formula must provide for con tinuation of the protective presence of U.S., British and French forces in the Western sectors of Berlin.

Thompson emphasized that settlement of critical problems of Berlin, particularly the issue of rights of access, must occur preliminary to the settlement of broader German issues.

WON'T TRADE INTEREST

His aim was to get across to the Soviets the Western powers were unwilling to trade away other interests in Germany merely to maintain their basic Berlin position.

An earlier series of talks was held between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko last fall when both men attended the opening of the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

* * *

At the end of his U.S. visit in the fall, Gromyko met President Kennedy at the White House. Kennedy told him that the Soviet government was asking such large concessions from the West and offering so little that it was seeking to trade "an apple for an orchard."

Revival Meetings Start

Rev. Clifford Finch of Deerfield will conduct the revival meetings at Beulah Holiness Church, Osmun at Going Streets beginning Sunday. Services will start at 7:30 p.m. and continue through the week. Rev. John W. Burgess is pastor.

The Day in Birmingham

First Unit of Church Expected Ready in May

BIRMINGHAM — Completion of the first unit of St. Andrew Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bloomfield Township is expected by mid-May.

* * *

Rev. John A. Root, pastor, said that the $125,000 chapel and educational building, being constructed on Telegraph Road just north of Maple Road, is about one-third completed now.

Two other units, the main sanctuary and fellowship hall, will be built at a later date, probably within three to five years, according to Rev. Root.

The church was organized in May, 1957. It has about 340 members.

MEETING IN CHAPEL

The congregation is currently meeting for Sunday services in the St. Andrew house chapel, adjacent to the building site at 6255 Telegraph.

When completed the entire church plant will have cost approximately $350,000.

The Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs will begin its eighth year of studying the "Great Decision" topics offered by the Foreign Policy Association on Tuesday at the Community House.

The classes will be held 10 a.m. each Tuesday during February and March.

To be reviewed by participants in the 1962 program are issues and policies in Vietnam, Red China, Brazil, Nigeria, Iran, Berlin, United Nations and the United States.

More than 2,000 girl scouts and 500 adults will take part in an international flag ceremony in Birmingham next month.

The City Commission already has given permission to the Southern Oakland County Girl Scouts, Inc. to close Henrietta St. from Maple Road to Merrill St. from noon to 1:30 p.m. March 10 for the program.

* * *

The ceremony will be held in conjunction with the national Girl Scout Week, March 11-17. The organization is celebrating its golden anniversary this year.

The participants in the flag ceremony will group at Shain Park and march down Henrietta to the area between Maple and Martin for the 12:30 p.m. ceremony.

Russell M. Richardson Jr.

Service for Russell M. Richardson Jr., 22, of 1357 Chesterfield St., will be 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. James Episcopal Church. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Richardson died yesterday at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, after a long illness. He was a student at Western Michigan University.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Richardson of Birmingham; two sisters, Diane S. and June E., both at home; maternal grandfather, Richard C. Cobbe of Mentor, Ohio; and paternal grandmother Mrs. Lydia S. Richardson of Meadville, Penn.

Frondizi Gives In to Military Leaders

The expulsion of Cuba "must be carried out as soon as possible," the communique said.

While Frondizi apparently had averted an open clash with his military leaders, the governments of neighboring Brazil and tiny Ecuador were facing criticism at home for favoring no action against Cuba.

* * *

"We're sitting on a keg of powder," former President Juscelino Kubitschek said in describing upheavals touched off by the Brazilian abstention.

Swainson Urges More Teeth for State Lobby Law

* * *

Revision is needed "in the general public interest and to lessen undue pressures placed on legislators by some special interest lobbyists," he said.

Swainson said employers of lobbyists, as well as the lobbyists themselves, should be required to register with the state and specify the exact legislative subject matter for which their lobbyists are employed.

* * *

Lobbyists should be compelled to submit monthly reports to the state listing receipts and expenses for their activities in the legislature, he said.

Ex-Policeman Found Guilty

Former Owosso Officer Faces Up to 15 Years in Prison

CORUNNA (AP) — Former Police Lt. Clifford Tunnacliff of Owosso, convicted of giving information to burglars, faces up to 15 years in prison.

* * *

But the state accused him only of furnishing information to two burglars on how to break into the Eagles Home in Owosso Jan. 1, 1961.

FIRED AFTER 25 YEARS

He was fired Oct. 29 after 25 years on the force.

No one has been charged with the actual burglary, but William R. Mahar, charged in connection with another crime, was named in court as the man who did the breaking and entering.

Roy D. Smith told officers Mahar told him about paying off Tunnacliff. He is charged along with Mahar in connection with an attempted safe robbery.

Tunnacliff pleaded innocent and repudiated confessions to state and Owosso police.

* * *

He remained free on $10,000 bond and must return to court for sentencing Feb. 26.

The jury went out at 1:30 p.m. Friday and returned the verdict at 9 p.m., just as Circuit Court Judge Michael Carland prepared to dismiss the jurors for the night.

Mrs. Tunnacliff appeared to be praying as the jury prepared to announce its verdict.

Tunnacliff stared straight ahead, his face impassive. When the verdict was announced, Mrs. Tunnacliff flung herself back in her chair and moaned.

* * *

Your Neighbor's House

Leonard Miller Home Fronts on Woodpecker Lake

Background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Leonard Miller woke up at 2:00 a.m. one morning to get up and sketch the stairway for the new home he was helping the architect plan. Architect Fred Horner, AIA, of Highland Park translated Miller's ideas into a blueprint and Austin Building Co. made the house an actuality.

After their marriage four years ago, the Millers traveled around a good bit; lived for a while in Mrs. Miller's home on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair; then rented a house at Union Lake while their new home in Sagamore Estates was being built. She has a daughter and five grandchildren in Lapeer. The new house had to have space for them to visit.

The house is on the east shore of Woodpecker Lake. The Millers' lot is about 130 feet on the lake and 190 feet deep. The house is high above both lake and road.

Inside the double front hall is a wide marble hallway with stairs going up to the living room and down to the lower level. A furry black rug covers most of the floor. Tall brass candlesticks that look Hungarian are placed on each side of the door. The stairs are carpeted.

The ceiling in the living room is white with dark beams. Walls are off white. At the end there is a mural showing a tree branch and ducks. The textured carpeting is white, as are the draperies.

Near the stair rail is a conversation corner. In the middle is an octagon table. Around it are two chairs with caned backs and orange cushions and a pale gold French Provincial loveseat. There are two turquoise pillows on the latter.

STATISTICS

Miller has all the statistics about the house right at his finger tips. There are, he informed us, 1,000 bricks in the white fireplace wall. There are 10,000 feet of wiring in the house.

The dining room is on the lake side of the house. It has the same decorating scheme as the adjoining living room. Glass doors at the rear open on an upper patio. Curved stairs with planters alongside lead down to the lower covered patio.

Furniture is black and gold The table top is pecan. Chair seats are gold and white brocade. There are small cane inserts in the backs of the chairs. A buffet is built into the wall next to the kitchen. This is black with "gold" hardware.

Across the room is another buffet with the fronts painted in gold leaf. The pulls are Oriental in design. A star spray light fixture hangs from the beamed ceiling.

The main bath is also beige. Tangerine towels and shower curtain add a bright note to this windowless room. The paper above the wall tile is beige in a star design. On the double vanity a Venetian glass swan holds soap.

The white textured carpeting is carried down the hall and into the bedrooms. The first room is for guests. Walls are pale blue. Curtains are a semi sheer blue. Furniture is walnut. The white bedspreads are embroidered in blue. Above the beds are blue cameo pictures.

Miller's room is restrained in its decorating. The walls are beige. Curtains have a wild duck design in tans, greens and browns. The bedspreads are green textured ones. Furniture is walnut with inlaid design in the bed headboards.

ROUND BED

By contrast Mrs. Miller's room is extravagantly feminine. It looks like a valentine. The round bed with its tufted pink velvet headboard dominates the room. Over the pleated pink velvet skirt is a deeply scalloped white quilted satin spread. Pink velvet buttons mark the center of each scallop.

These scallops and the buttons are repeated in the window valances. Curtains are the same material as the bedspread, but not quilted. Walls are pink.

Near the walk-in closet there is a pair of antiqued white chairs with ruby upholstery. The seats are the squishy kind you sink down into and the backs are tufted. Between these chairs is a little gold and white table.

Beside the bathroom door is an antiqued white loveseat. The upholstery is pink and white tapestry. On one side is a round gold table with a pineapple base. On the other is a pole lamp with crystal drops.

The adjoining bath is pink and white. There are pink and white artificial flowers arranged at one end of the vanity top. On the floor is a white furry rug. The medicine chests in both bathrooms are hidden behind mirrors. A light touch and the mirror at each end swings out to reveal shelves and to make a three-way mirror.

Down on the lower level is a den-guest room. All Oriental in furnishings, it has a number of interesting features.

COLORFUL

Walls are gold; the carpeting and curtains are beige. There's a black sectional sofa with cane arms and an orange tweed-like covering. The round table in the center of the room has three levels. Pie shaped stools slide underneath.

In the family room there is a fieldstone fireplace. At one side is a barbecue unit. Beside it is what Miller calls their entertainment center. There is hi-fi on one side and a TV. The wood box at one end can be loaded from the garage. Walls are birch with a cherry finish.

Facing the fireplace is a curved sectional sofa upholstered in rust tweed. In front of it is a round coffee table. Behind it and near the door is a loveseat. This room has a window wall facing the lake.

FOUNTAIN — At the right of the stairs as you reach the top is this charming little fountain surrounded by greenery and a flower or two. There's something fascinating about the sound of running water. A spotlight in the ceiling above makes the corner bright at any time.

LIKE A VALENTINE — Mrs. Miller's bedroom resembles a valentine, all pink and white and red. Carpeting is white; walls are pink. Bedspread and window valance match; they're white quilted material with pink velvet buttons. The bed headboard is tufted in pink velvet; matching this is the pleated bed skirt. Throw pillows are pink and white with one dramatic red one in the middle. On the antiqueted marble-topped tables Mrs. Miller has placed gold and white lamps.

BLACK AND GOLD — The furniture in the dining room is black with gold trim. At the left the buffet has gold leaf on the fronts of the cupboard doors. The oval table has a top of pecan wood. Chair seats are gold and white brocade. Outside this room is a railed balcony with steps leading down to the ground level patio.

IN SAGAMORE ESTATES — The Leonard Millers built this grayish white brick home on Arrowhead Road about 18 months ago. Fred Horner, AIA, of Highland Park was the architect. Austin Building Company did the construction work. Shutters and iron work are black. The Millers' lot is on Woodpecker Lake. The attached garage at the right opens into the lower level of the house. At the left is the living room.

IT'S BEAUTIFUL — There are so many lovely objects in the living room that one could spend hours studying them. The ceiling is beamed. Walls, draperies and carpeting are a creamy white. The large sofa in the left background is aqua. The lamp behind it is a tall gold and white one. On the far wall is a mural suggestive of the Oriental mood. The black and gold chest below emphasizes this. Note the unusual hearth at the right; it is merely a slate slab anchored in the brick. At the left is a second conversational grouping of furniture.

Bookies Invade Mass. Capital

Legislators Find Illegal Gambling Under Own Roof in Bay State

BOSTON (AP)—The concern of the Massachusetts Legislature over widespread gambling operations centered today on illegal betting under its very own roof —the state house.

★ ★ ★

Capitol police raided a state house janitors' room Friday and confiscated what they described as several numbers pool slips.

★ ★ ★

They also found pencils and a pad of paper like those used by bookies hidden in the emergency telephone compartment of the elevator used each day by Gov. John A. Volpe.

★ ★ ★

Earlier the Senate president and the House speaker moved jointly to fire Robert G. Connolly, head of the legislative document room, allegedly for taking part in bookie operations.

Connolly retaliated quickly by charging the legislature with hypocrisy, asserting he knows of a dozen legislators who frequently place illegal off-track bets on the dogs and horses.

★ ★ ★

Connolly denied he was a bookie. He described himself as an amateur handicapper who often was called upon for his advice on which horses to bet on.

He claimed he never placed a bet in his life.

★ ★ ★

Connolly charged there has been betting going on at the state house for the 20 years he had been there. Before he was appointed head of the legislative document room, Connolly was a Democratic legislator from a Boston district.

★ ★ ★

Connolly said the dozen legislators he knew to have placed illegal bets are equally divided, Democrats and Republicans. He did not name them.

Reds 'May' Copy Kennedy-Style News Meetings

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law said it was possible the Kremlin may someday adopt the American presidential-type news conference.

The son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper, made the comment to newsmen as he and his wife Rada left Idlewild Airport for Mexico City.

Community College Commission Formed

LANSING (AP) — Formation of a statewide commission on community college development was announced today by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

"We are at this moment contacting outstanding community and civic leaders, educators, business, industry and labor for appointments to this commission," Bartlett said.

Purpose of the commission will be to study the entire problem of development and expansion of Michigan's community college system, Bartlett said.

Two Accountants Seek to Succeed Rep. Young

LANSING (AP) — Two Ingham County candidates said today they would seek the Republican nomination to fill the seat vacated by the death last month of State Rep. Ralph Young, R-East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Franklin Gregg Jr., an East Lansing accountant, and Paul Richards, mayor of nearby Mason, said they are seeking the nomination. Gregg, 36, is self-employed. Richards, 45, is supervisor of accounting for a Mason firm.
