Oppose Chief Points of Red Proposal

French Agree to Discuss Plan for Indochina Truce

GENEVA (AP) — A French spokesman said today France was willing to discuss the Communist plan for an Indochina armistice along with its own plan, but declared strong opposition to major provisions of the Communist proposal.

The spokesman made it clear France had no intention at present of breaking off the Indochina talks in Geneva despite the apparent East-West deadlock.

He explained France's position at a specially called news conference as the French National Assembly prepared to debate the government's policy on Indochina.

Some observers thought the new French reaction to the Communist terms represented a softening of the position, but it was clear the main provisions of the Vietnam plan were far from acceptable to France.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation, informed of the new French statements, said the United States opposition to the Communist terms was unchanged. It was summed up this way: The Communist plan, if accepted in full, would represent unconditional surrender to the Communists.

Sources close to the Vietnamese delegation said the Communist terms were unacceptable to Viet Nam.

These reactions came as the Indochina talks were in recess. One Western source said they might not be resumed before Friday.

The main points of Western opposition to the Communist proposals on Indochina peace were the provisions for Communist-style elections without international supervision, recognition of the Communist-backed regimes of Indochina and lack of military guarantees to back up the armistice.

Although the Western delegates were agreed there must be full discussion of the detailed armistice proposals, some of them already were talking about writing the Geneva conference off as a complete failure on both Indochina and Korea.

Dirksen Offers Plan to Shorten Capital Hearing

Rebuttal Witnesses to Be in Secret, McCarthy to Resume Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) today came up with a new plan to suspend public hearings on the McCarthy-Army row after testimony from Sen. McCarthy.

These were the main differences from an earlier Dirksen proposal:

1. Once the public hearings were suspended, there would be closed hearings for any rebuttal witnesses the principals to the dispute insisted should be heard.

Transcripts of the closed door testimony would be made public.

2. With suspension of the public hearings, Sen. McCarthy would be freed to resume his own hearings on Communists in the government but with the restriction that he could not look into military installations or personnel.

By present rules, McCarthy is restrained from conducting his own investigation pending the conclusion of the inquiry into his row with Army officials.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD) ordered the hour's delay to give Dirksen time to work over his plan.

Mundt overrode Democratic opposition to delay the start of the hearings while Dirksen revises his motion.

The committee—except for Dirksen—gathered in the hearing room at 9:30 a.m., the hour set for the session to resume.

Mundt then announced Dirksen was revising his plan and said he would not call the committee, to order so that Dirksen could draft his new plan.

Doctor Will Check on Godfrey's Hip

BOSTON (AP) — Radio-TV star Arthur Godfrey will have a check made of his year-old hip operation within a week or 10 days.

Bone specialist Dr. Otto Aufranc, who has been handling the Godfrey case since the death of Dr. Marius N. Smith-Petersen, will go to New York to make the checkup, a spokesman said last night.

The hospital announcement came after the entertainer told his TV-radio audience, "I've got to go back to the hospital and have it (the operation) done all over again" because there is "something mechanically wrong" with the hip.

The original operation, performed last May by Dr. Smith-Petersen, replaced the shattered hip bone with a new ball and socket joint covered by a metal mold.

Both Godfrey's hips were smashed in a Washington automobile accident more than 20 years ago.

Michigan Bell Fails to Prove Case to MPSC

Company Has 30 Days to Ask for Re-hearing of Plea

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission today denied Michigan Bell Telephone Company's request for a $22,308,000 annual rate increase.

The commission held unanimously that the company failed to prove that its rates are too low. The company has 30 days to appeal for a re-hearing.

Previously, the commission has granted Michigan Bell a total of $28,949,882 in rate increases since the war.

Hearings on the current case started July 20, 1953, and were completed last Feb. 15.

If the rate increase had been granted, residential one and two party lines would have cost from 45 to 90 cents more per month, four party lines from 50 cents to 90 cents a month, rural rates 25 cents a month, business services from 50 cents to $4.25 per month for flat rate services and from 75 cents to $1.75 for message rate increases.

Michigan Bell based its petition on the rising price index since 1940 and the possibility of a business depression shrinking its opportunities for investment money.

The commission said that the price level in the United States has risen steadily since 1890 without causing the "dire results" predicted by company attorneys for Michigan Bell's future.

The commission contended that the amount of money available for investment during inflationary periods was almost entirely for the decline in the value of the dollar.

It said Michigan Bell has had no difficulty in securing "huge amounts of new capital" at its present dividend and earnings rate.

The commission said that an earnings rate of 6.5 per cent on capital is adequate for Michigan Bell and that present earnings are in excess of that.

Northville Gas Well Brought In Monday
A large gas pocket, believed capable of producing $5,000,000 worth of natural gas over the next 10 years, was struck Monday near Northville by oil drillers.

The well is on the Charles H. Nerretter farm which is only two miles from the Maybury Sanatorium where similar drilling is under study.

Detroit Common Council was considering a plan today to explore the 965-acre sanitarium land for oil and gas deposits.

The gas pocket was struck at 4,317 feet. Pressure was so strong that Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies blocked off the area because of danger of escaping gas.

The well was being drilled in a search for oil. Oil rights are owned by Edward T. Orosian and Associates of Detroit.

John Houston Refuses to Reply on Commie Link

Invokes 8 Amendments to Dodge Answering in Lansing Session

LANSING (AP) — John C. Houston, Pontiac attorney and recent University of Michigan graduate, today invoked half the Bill of Rights to refuse to answer questions on whether he is a Communist.

He was the first witness in today's televised hearings before the House un-American activities subcommittee in Lansing.

Asked if he was a member in his student days, the 28-year-old attorney invoked eight of the first 13 amendments to the federal Constitution in declining to answer.

They included the Fifth Amendment, which guarantees against self-incrimination.

"It is none of your business," he told the committee. He refused to answer questions about alleged Communist infiltration of the Ann Arbor Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild or of the Ann Arbor Town Club.

"It is the function of the people to tell Congress what to think, not Congress to tell people what to think," he said.

Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio), a committee member, asked Houston "Aren't you regularly conferring secretly with high party functionaries in Pontiac?" and "Isn't it a fact that you are the leader of the Communist underground in this area?"

Houston declined to answer and added, "You have no right to ask that question. Whether you like the Constitution or not, I do."

Houston, who was born in Dearborn, was represented at the hearing by Archie G. Leonard, a Pontiac attorney. Chairman Clardy pointed out at the start of the hearing that the committee does not infer any implication against any attorney representing witnesses.

Houston asked not to be televised at the hearing and his request was granted.

It was brought out that Houston has been practicing law 2½ years and was educated at the University of Michigan.

Frank Travenner, committee counsel, told Houston that Mrs. Berenice Baldwin of Detroit had identified him as a member of the Communist party in 1947.

"Is that true?" Travenner asked.

Houston replied that it was none of the committee's business.

Houston made a reference to the spiritual damage being done by the committee and Chairman Clardy said "It is not met for anyone adhering to the Communist philosophy to talk of spiritual values."

Other questions that Houston refused to answer were whether he knew the number of Communist clubs on the University campus (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Dirksen Offers Plan to Shorten Hearing

tested and Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) moved to call witnesses for testimony. But Mundt ruled that he had not convened the subcommittee and rapped his gavel to announce the delay.

Dirksen proposed yesterday a motion which would have called Sen. McCarthy to the stand to replace Secretary of the Army Stevens, and would have recessed the public hearings after McCarthy's testimony was in.

Under this plan, Ray H. Jenkins, inquiry committee counsel, then would have been given until June 10 to study the case and report to the committee on whether other principals in the dispute should be called.

The Army opposed this suggested procedure.

McClellan offered as a substitute a proposal that each senator have an hour in which to cross-examine witnesses, with opposing counsel permitted four hours and Jenkins unlimited time.

McClellan told reporters he did not know what new proposal Dirksen might have but that he was sticking by his own.

"I am not changing my motion and I intend to press it," McClellan said.

As Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) left the hearing room, he quipped, "this is the latest move to expedite the hearings."

Mundt told newsmen who besieged him after the start of today's session was delayed that he knew nothing about Dirksen's revised proposal.

Mundt said there had been no meetings with Dirksen or administration officials about the proposal.

"In response to a question, Mundt said that he had not attended any secret session of GOP members of the subcommittee last night, that so far as he knew there was none."

Sen. McCarthy professed ignorance of the proposed changes in the Dirksen motion.

"I don't know anything about it," he said. "They haven't told me about it."

Attorney Refuses to Answer Probers and, if the Communists were successful in infiltrating the university chapter of the National Lawyers Guild.

When asked if he were issued Communist party card No. 69464 for the year 1947, Houston said, "This is clearly out of your field. I decline to answer."

At this point, Congressman Scherer (R-Ohio) said that he wanted the record to show that Houston's laughing and smirking throughout the testimony was "part of your contemptuous attitude."

Houston said, "Honestly, I have no contemptuous attitude. I have no disrespect for Congress, but for a long time, I have objected to the antics of this committee."

Last night three university faculty members were suspended from their teaching duties when they refused to answer similar questions.

The subcommittee recommended contempt citations against one of the faculty members and two graduate students who appeared at yesterday's session.

University President Harlan H. Hatcher ordered the suspension of the two faculty members.

Harold Shapiro of the Independent Fur and Leather Workers Union of Detroit and Richard L. Davis of Detroit, an employee of the Concrete Wall Co., were other witnesses scheduled to appear today.

At the conclusion of yesterday's session, the subcommittee voted to recommend that the full committee cite the following for contempt of Congress:

Edward H. Shaffer, 31, of Ann Arbor, graduate student in economics at the university.
Byron E. (Mike) Sharp, 25, university graduate student.
Dr. H. Chandler Davis, 26, university mathematics instructor.

Clardy said the subcommittee would further study the testimony of Dr. Mark Nickerson, 37, associate professor of pharmacology, and Dr. Clement L. Markert, 31, assistant professor of zoology, before deciding on contempt proceedings.

Clardy said Shaffer and Sharp were in contempt because of contemptuous attitudes and answers and Dr. Davis because he relied only on the First Amendment to the federal Constitution in declining to answer.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of speech, press and association. The subcommittee, Clardy said, recognizes only the Fifth Amendment, guaranteeing against self-incrimination, as a valid reason for declining.

All five declined to answer the direct questions: "Are you now or have you ever been a member of any organization advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence?"

Dr. Hatcher said this was sufficient grounds for the immediate suspension of Drs. Davis, Markert and Nickerson from their teaching duties pending an investigation.

SIGHT TEST—Little Susan Caspary, 4, of 168 Lincoln Ave., one of the tots who came in for a free vision test at the Pontiac Vision Screening Center yesterday points a finger upward to show how easy it is to "read" the letter E. With her is Mrs. Phillips VanDusen of Birmingham Junior League. Vision tests will continue to be given today and tomorrow, from 9:30 to 4:30 p. m., at Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, Williams and Pike Sts. All parents with children between the ages of three and five are invited to bring them in for vision examinations.

For Pre-School Children

Vision Testing Continues Through Wednesday Here

Is your pre-school age child one of the 10 per cent who will walk in the world of shadows?—one who will, perhaps, never see anything sharply, clearly defined?

If you want to be sure he isn't, you still have one more day to take him in for a free sight test.

The Pontiac Vision Center, which opened Monday will remain open until 4:30 p. m. today and all day tomorrow from 9:30 to 4:30. Its location is Stevens Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church, Williams at Pike Sts.

It offers free vision examinations for children between the ages of three and five.

It is hard to believe, but one out of 10 children between the ages of three and five actually has faulty vision. Such vision defects, if caught before the tot reaches school age, are almost always correctable.

The vision screening clinic wants to test the eyesight of every child between the ages of three and five. It wants to be sure your child won't be one of the unlucky 10 per cent.

Sponsored by the Junior League of Birmingham, the program is in cooperation with the Pontiac Board of Education and city, state and county health departments. It is backed by an advisory committee including prominent local physicians. It is instituted as a community service for people of all income brackets.

Here's how the tests are conducted:

When you take your child in to the center, he (or she) will be greeted by one of the friendly, specially trained Junior League workers, who will start him off on interesting sight games that teach him how to "read" the testing chart. In a few moments the test is over, and all the youngster knows is that he's had a good time.

But you will know how well he sees. And if he happens to be one of the 10 per cent, you will have the chance to correct his vision before irreparable harm is done.

The vision screening program makes no attempt to diagnose or treat the cases of faulty vision. If your child fails to pass the tests, he will be referred to your family eye doctor for treatment. The Section section of the Massachusetts Vision Test is the method used. It takes but a few moments, and no appointment is needed.

The program closes in Pontiac tomorrow. For those who cannot come in now, three more clinics will be set up:

In Drayton Plains May 17-18 at Community United Presbyterian Church, Sashabaw Rd. and Monroe St. On May 19 at Christ Lutheran Church, Airport and Williams Lake Rds. And on May 21, at West Bloomfield Town Hall, 4600 Orchard Lake Rd.

The program is aimed to help your child. Take advantage of it.

The committee, meeting at Pontiac High School, dropped a proposed door-to-door canvass in favor of the telephone drive.

The mobile X-ray units will tour Pontiac for six weeks starting May 21 to take free chest X-rays of Pontiac people in a county-wide drive to find cases of tuberculosis.

The drive is sponsored by the Oakland County Health Department, Medical Society, Tuberculosis Assn. and Michigan, Pontiac, Birmingham and Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge health departments.

Mrs. Weaver, secretary of the Pontiac PTA Council, said the 22 Pontiac PTAs will attempt to call all PTA members to make sure families know of the drive.

Copies of the chest X-ray survey leaflet "Why Not Be Sure?" will be sent home with school children. Pontiac Zonta Club members, with Miss Lola Parkins as chairman, will mail letters about the visit to 400 local organizations.

Volunteers to help staff the two mobile X-ray units will be organized by Mrs. M. L. Shadley of the Oakland County Medical Auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. Matt Shelton. Mrs. Calvin A. Dennison was named publicity chairman for the steering committee.

6-Year-Old Injured in 3-Car Smashup

A 6-year-old Pontiac girl was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head injuries sustained when the auto in which she was riding was involved in a three-car pile-up Monday on Highland road, Waterford Township.

Penny Lynn Shaw of 449 Racburn St. was injured when the car, driven by her father, Reginald, 30, was struck in the rear by one driven by Leroy Smith, 40, of 301 Going St.

Waterford Township Police said Shaw had slowed behind Mrs. Nadeline Erickson, 32, of Waterford Township, who had halted for a hole in the road. Smith, coming behind, was unable to stop and struck Shaw's auto, driving him into the back of Mrs. Erickson's car.

French Plan Mercy Lift for Dien Bien Phu Injured

SAIGON, Indochina (U) — The French rushed preparations today to airlift their wounded from the fallen fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

A French army spokesman said Gen. Henri Navarre, commander of French Union forces in Indochina, had been instructed by the Paris government to contact the Vietnamese commander, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, and arrange for the mercy lift as soon as possible.

The Communists agreed at the Geneva conference yesterday that the French could fly out 1,300 seriously wounded troops the Reds said they had captured when they seized the northwest Indochina bastion Friday after 56 days of repeated attacks.

It could not be learned immediately whether Navarre had been able yet to contact Giap.

It was believed possible the French commander would use Radio Hironde (Swallow)—voice of French forces in the Far East—to make contact.

Radio Hironde carried Navarre's earlier appeals for brief halts in the firing to permit evacuation of French Union wounded after the attack began March 13. Giap turned a deaf ear to those appeals. His troops fired on hospital-marked planes and helicopters trying to fly out the wounded.

Once arrangements with Giap are made, the big problem will be landing facilities for the French transports. Dien Bien Phu is 175 miles northwest of Hanoi, nearest hospital center big enough to handle such a large number of cases.

The fortress' two airstrips were churned to rubble by rebel mortars and artillery. The besiegers' ever-encroaching trenches poked them repeatedly. Before the planes can land there, the strips will have to be repaired.

Whether the Vietnam will do this themselves, using war prisoners for labor, or leave it to French engineers was not known.

It appeared possible helicopters might start bringing out the most gravely wounded shortly.

The Vietnam radio said last night every possible medical aid

Red-Run Union Controls Sought

Brownell Asks Power to Dissolve Labor Units Full of Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has asked Congress for far-reaching power to dissolve Communist-honeycombed labor unions.

A request for this and other new anti-subversive authority was sent to Capitol Hill yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell, who said he has the backing of the White House.

Brownell proposed that the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB) be empowered to disband not only Red-infected unions, but in a new departure—to dissolve business firms it finds are Communist-infiltrated and in a position to harm national security.

The attorney general also suggested that Congress permit the government to bar subversives from privately owned defense plants.

The union-dissolution power was proposed as a drastic substitute for a Taft-Hartley Act requirement that union officials file non-

Communist oaths with the National Labor Relations Board before their unions can be eligible for board services.

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, promptly introduced two bills to implement Brownell's recommendations.

The Justice Department is known to have had trouble trying to enforce the non-Communist oath requirement.

In the seven years since the Taft-Hartley Act became law, the department has investigated scores of cases of union officials suspected of filing false non-Communist affidavits, but there have been only four convictions, and one of these was reversed.

According to Justice Department authorities, the difficulty stems from language requiring union officials to certify only that they are not Communists at the time of filing. They say an official with Red connections could resign from the Communist party to take the oath, then rejoin the next day.

These officials said they hoped the union-dissolution weapon would impel Red-dominated labor organizations to purge themselves.

Students Taking Polygraph Tests

Mass Quiz Program Under Way to Discover Missing Baby-Sitter

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Today you are a high school boy in La Crosse, the western Wisconsin river city where 15-year-old Evelyn Hartley vanished from a baby-sitting job more than six months ago.

You are called from your classroom to another room where there is a chair and a mysterious-looking machine. It is a Stoelting polygraph. The device is attached to your arm, to a band around your chest.

A man named A. M. Josephson asks you your name; you tell him. He asks where you live; you tell him. He asks what grade you're in; you tell him. He asks, "Do you know what happened to Evelyn Hartley?" You say no. Then you are disconnected from the polygraph, which is a standard lie detector, and go back to your classroom. You meet another boy on his way in and you grin.

It's a break in the school-day routine—a lark. "But," says Dist. Atty. John Bosshard, "it wouldn't be a lark for the young man who couldn't truthfully say no to the big question."

Not that the La Crosse County prosecutor really expects to have this mass quiz program turn up the abductor of the pretty young baby sitter who was snatched from the home of a family friend while her small charge slept unharmed in another room.

It turns up leads, though. There have been a dozen already—checked out as fruitless, but still leads—and this is only the fourth day of the long project. Twenty to thirty boys can be processed a day, and there are more than two thousand in the city's three high schools. Josephson says it's the largest such test in the history of crime detection.

Josephson is the polygraph expert fresh from four years of service as an expert with the Army's Criminal Investigation Division in the Far East. He was hired last month to head the new La Crosse City-County Crime Laboratory.

"The tests have renewed the in-

Senator Wants High Production

Humphrey Says U.S. Economy Should Be $500 Billion by 1960

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told a CIO "full employment" conference today the nation should set its sights on a 500-billion-dollar economy by 1960.

The economy now is running at about 360 billion dollars a year, but Humphrey said vastly increased national production is needed to prevent a decline in living standards.

He was a featured speaker at a meeting of CIO delegates called to discuss the unemployment problem. The latest government report showed 3,465,000 jobless in April, many in factories organized by the CIO.

The Minnesota senator, a frequent critic of Eisenhower administration economic policies, was invited to express one point of view. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey was invited to speak for the administration. Sen. Humphrey said in his prepared remarks that yesterday's goals are no longer adequate for "the needs and aspirations of today and the tomorrows to come." He said a constantly expanding economy is needed for a growing population in an era of great scientific advancement.

"We cannot stand still, without really slipping backwards," he said. "Our total national production ought to grow by at least 4 per cent every year, in order to just keep up with our existing needs. . . . And all of us want to do more than that."

If U.S. economic growth can expand to the 500-billion-dollar mark by 1960, Sen. Humphrey said, it could mean:

Seventy million jobs.
A $4,000-a-year minimum standard of living.

An over-all increase of 40 per cent in U.S. living standards.

An average weekly wage of $100 for production workers. (It now is a little more than $71 a week.)

A 20-25 per cent rise in farm production, with plenty of markets.

Dogs and turkeys were the only domesticated animals in North America at the time Columbus discovered the New World.

Perfume That Clings
Q—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.
A—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.25 plus tax at better stores.

Child Star Told

Court Orders Mother of Margaret O'Brien
to Spend Less

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court judge, noting that actress Margaret O'Brien's fortune declined $34,623 in two years, has ordered her mother and guardian to curb her expenditures stringently.

The onetime child star of films, now 17, will have to get court approval of any expenditures exceeding $500. Under California law, Superior Court has jurisdiction over the business affairs of wage-earning minors.

Judge Victor R. Hansen made his ruling yesterday at a hearing on accounts submitted by Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, guardian and mother of the actress. The accounts showed that Miss O'Brien's worth in December 1950 was $150,920 but in December 1952, had dropped to $156,297.

Mrs. O'Brien, explaining the heavy expenditures, said it was necessary for Margaret to keep herself before the public in furtherance of her acting career.

The accounts, were approved by the court with the exception of $1,325 in charitable contributions, which the mother said she would transfer to the estate from her own funds.

Ore Miners Face Layoff

ISHPEMING (AP)—Grover Holt, general manager of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., said Monday that about 25 per cent of the company's 1,500 Marquette range workers will be laid off May 15. He said the cutback would hit workers at the Bunker Hill, Cambria, Lloyd, Maas, and Mather mines. He blamed cuts in steel production for the layoffs.

One-third of the accidents each year on American farms occur in the homes.

Zsa Zsa Reveals
Betrothal to Rubi
in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor says she and Portfiorio Rubirosa, Dominican Republic diplomat, are engaged.

Her announcement, which didn't surprise anybody present, was made to reporters yesterday while Rubirosa was unloading her 20 pieces of luggage from his plane, in which they flew from New York.

Rubirosa didn't say much of anything. He is still married to heiress Barbara Hutton.

Miss Gabor said she was wearing an engagement ring under her glove. But she wouldn't remove the glove. And she said the ring didn't come from Rubirosa.

"It's my old 'working diamond,'" she said, adding: "We're engaged, but we cannot speak of marriage because neither of us is yet free."

She has an interlocutory divorce decree from actor George Sanders. It won't be final for a year. Miss Hutton and Rubirosa are estranged, but no divorce complaint has been filed.

Zsa Zsa says she is going to work in television here. Rubirosa said he will be around for a couple of weeks, then return to Europe.

Suit Filed in Movie
of Rita, Aly Khan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A four-million-dollar suit has been filed in connection with "Champagne Safari," the movie account of the African hunting trip taken by Rita Hayworth and Moslem Prince Aly Khan on their honeymoon.

Defense Film Corp., the distributor, brought the court action yesterday, complaining that the film has been maliciously and wrongfully kept from the screen.

The suit was filed against Beckwith Corp., financial backers of the venture, and Columbia Pictures, Inc. Harry Cohn, president of Columbia, also is named as a defendant. Miss Hayworth, now the wife of crooner Dick Haymes, is under contract to Columbia, and the pact provides that Columbia must give permission for her appearance in any film.

Yvonne Has Chatter Advice
for Shelley

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two glamorous girls met on an airplane flying from Europe to America. One was Shelley Winters, the other Yvonne DeCarlo.

"I'm going to divorce Vittorio (Gassman)," Shelley said sadly. "Oh, are you?" said Yvonne. "Yes, and I've decided I'm not going to talk about it."

"Now you're using your head for the first time." For Shelley to be silent on any topic is unusual in the extreme. But to Yvonne, it would be the most natural thing in the world. She is in demand as a film actress on two continents, and part of her success can be attributed to the fact that she refuses to tell all.

She is unique in an era when stars reveal everything, from their breakfast menus to their bedtime habits. She harks back to the time when the film famous had an aura of mystery, a la Garbo.

"I don't believe in telling everything about my life," says Yvonne. "I keep my personal matters to myself and let people guess what kind of life I lead."

The only time she broke this edict was when she made a picture with Carlos Thompson, the Argentine lover. Since she had some money in the film, she allowed a romance to be blown up between her and Carlos. But she confesses that the publicity got out of hand.

As for other and more authentic romances, it's anybody's guess. She has boy friends from here to Persia and does nothing to encourage or discourage reports of her love matches.

"The French have a lot of fun with it," she laughed. "They call me 'La Dernière des Femmes Fatales.' That means I am the last of the movie vamps, along the lines of Theda Bara. When I was at the Cannes Film Festival, I had come down to the Riviera from Switzerland with some French friends. I didn't want them to be bothered, so I wouldn't tell people where I was staying. The French papers came out with the news that Yvonne DeCarlo was hiding out with her lover in a chateau!"

I saw Yvonne on her old home lot, Universal-International, where she rose to fame as queen of the sagebrush and Scheherazade epics. Oddly enough, she was working in an RKO picture, "Where the Wind Dies," which was borrowing U-I's massive back lot for outdoor scenes.

She reported she had just returned from Paris, where she had made a film in French. She said she had liked the picture but hated the producer and told him so. Her return from France was her 16th crossing of the Atlantic.

FRANK SINATRA
Prior to the making of "From Here to Eternity," in which Frank Sinatra played such a fine part, he was in a picture made many years ago called "THE MIRACLE OF THE BELLS." In this picture he plays the part of a priest in an impoverished coal town. The picture was made in 1948 and was one of the outstanding pictures of the year. Frank Sinatra's acting was comparable to that done in "From Here to Eternity."
