Higher Exemption Expected to Pass

Rayburn Sees GOP Lending Support to Bill

House Approves Plan to Slash Excise Taxes Despite Ike Opposition

From AP and UP Dispatches

WASHINGTON — House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn predicted today enough Republicans will support a Democratic proposal for a $100 increase in personal income tax exemptions to assure House approval next week.

The prediction came on the heels of House approval Wednesday of an administration-opposed plan to cut federal excise taxes by almost $1,000,000,000 a year. The excise tax reduction bill is expected to pass the Senate with little, if any, change.

Senators braced, however, for a last-ditch administration fight to block the cuts, or at least to reduce them to soften the loss of revenue.

President Eisenhower will make a nationwide radio and television speech Monday night to explain the administration's stand against the tax-cutting drive in Congress.

The excise cuts, representing the first major downward revision of the taxes in 20 years, would add almost a billion dollars to a deficit already forecast by the President at $2,900,000,000 for the year starting July 1.

The bill also includes something the administration wants and had figured into its budget for fiscal 1955—extensions of some steeper excises voted after the Korean War began.

The Treasury would lose another $1,070,000,000 in revenue if these

Bentley Undergoes Another Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), seriously wounded when Puerto Rican fanatics shot up the House March 1, underwent surgery again last night.

The emergency operation, performed about 10 p.m., was to close a wound in the abdominal wall that had come apart, the congressman's aide, Elwood Brake, said today.

Brake quoted Dr. Joseph Young, casualty hospital chief of staff, as saying that Bentley's condition suffered a "slight setback" as a result of the operation.

Bentley, 35, has been in a serious condition since the shooting. His liver was shattered by a bullet which also pierced a lung and his stomach.

He underwent extensive surgery in the first 24 hours after the shooting.

Navy Secretary

CHARLES S. THOMAS

Secretary Aide Gets Navy Post

C. S. Thomas Is Named to Succeed Anderson; Is California Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Sparks Thomas of Los Angeles, now an assistant secretary of defense, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to be secretary of the Navy.

Thomas would succeed Robert B. Anderson of Texas, who has been nominated to be deputy secretary of defense in place of Roger Kyes who is leaving the Pentagon May 1 to return to private business.

No successor to Thomas in his present job has yet been chosen. He is the assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics.

Thomas, 56, is a native of former President Truman's home town of Independence, Mo., but has been a resident of California since 1911.

He served in naval aviation in the first World War, then went into an investment house in Los Angeles and later became president of a chain of west coast retail clothing stores.

In World War II he was a special assistant to Artemus Gates, then assistant secretary of the Navy for air, and later was special assistant to the late James Forrestal who was then secretary of the Navy.

During this period of his government service, Thomas set up a Navy inventory control program and the Navy's first contract negotiation section.

After World War II, he served in various private capacities including airport commissioner of Los Angeles and director of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

When the Eisenhower administration came into office, Thomas was named undersecretary of the Navy and served in that job until last July when he assumed his present post.

Staff Demands for Raises Jar School Budget

Teachers, Principals and Maintenance Men Ask $320,000 More

Faced with a $424,000 deficit and demands for $320,000 in pay hikes, Pontiac Board of Education last night postponed considering its 1954-55 budget until Sunday.

The board will meet Sunday at 10 a. m. in school offices, 40 Patterson St., to take up next year's tentative school budget of $4,586,561.21.

And school officials say if the board grants the raises that teachers, principals and maintenance men want, it will run some $744,000 in the red by July 1, 1955.

All three groups of employes sent delegates to Wednesday's board meeting.

Evert Meyer, representing the Pontiac Education Assn. and American Federation of Teachers, said the groups' want a blanket raise of $400 for teachers next year.

George Yansen, representing school principals, said they want the same—plus $300 for elementary and $400 for junior and senior high principals, to raise the difference between their salaries and teachers' pay.

George E. Jones, speaking for non-teaching school employes, says they want a flat $33-a-month raise next year. His group also asked $100 more for engineers who see schools are heated over the weekends; $25 a month more above the flat raise for technicians and mechanics, and three weeks paid vacation for eight-year employes.

J. C. Cox, assistant school superintendent, again told the board that the school system's starting salary of $3,300 just isn't high enough to hire new teachers.

He said River Rouge and Grosse Pointe are paying $3,600 and $3,700, respectively. Other

Snow Will Precede Rainy Friday Here

Light snow tonight in the Pontiac area is expected to precede a rainy Friday with showers predicted in the afternoon and evening.

Temperatures will range from a low of 30 to 32 tonight to a high of 40 to 44 tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Wednesday the mercury climbed from a low of 29 to a high of 40 degrees. A trace of snow also was recorded yesterday.

At 8 a.m. today the temperature stood at 29, but by 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered 36 degrees.

TALLY VOTES—Recount workers and candidates' representatives are shown above at the retabulation of votes in Pontiac's District 5. The recount was asked by Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck, edged out by 18 votes in the primary. Standing are (l. to r.) City Treasurer M. M. Ashbaugh, election commissioner; Peter Engleman, representing Hallenbeck; City Attorney William A. Ewart and City Clerk Ada R. Evans, other election commission members. Seated are (l. to r.) Lowell Wilkison, representing candidate John A. Dugan; Walter Giddings of the city treasurer's office; Larue Gullett of the city accounting office, and James R. Stelt, city personnel director.

Masked Bandits Hold Up Market

Get Over $3,000 After Forcing 7 Into Cooler at Huntington Woods

Two grotesquely masked, pistol-brandishing gunmen herded seven employes of a Huntington Woods supermarket into a produce cooler last night after forcing the assistant manager to open the safe and turn between $3,000 and $5,000 over to them.

Police are attempting to link the robbery with two other holdups during the evening by a pair of similarly described bandits.

The pair forced its way into the Lucky Store, 26020 Coolidge, about 10 p. m. when one of the employes went outside to set the burglar alarm.

They shoved six stock boys into the cooler, then made assistant manager Warren Laukka turn over the contents of the safe. Laukka was also put in the refrigerator.

Although the holdup men jammed the door lock from the outside, the seven waited several minutes, then walked into the connecting meat cooler, and called police.

The employes said the bandits — both in their twenties — wore nylon stockings over their heads to distort their appearances. Similar descriptions were given by holdup victims in Warren Township and Detroit.

Bandits took between $350 and $400 from owner Dominic Liuzo at his Warren Township supermarket on East 8-Mile road.

Waving pistols, they kicked the glass out of the front door as they entered. The door was unlocked and Liuzzo and a clerk were waiting on two customers.

One of the men emptied the cash register and then fired two shots into the floor "to show us he wasn't kidding," Liuzzo said. Liuzzo and the others were locked in a cooler by the men, but were soon released by another customer.

The third robbery was at a Detroit drugstore, two miles from the Warren Township supermarket. Detroit Police reported the armed holdup men escaped with approximately $870.

GOP Leaders Try to Stifle Party Row Over M'Carthy

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican leaders sought today to kill off the McCarthy controversy before it damages the administration's program in Congress and the party's chances in the November election.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland said President Eisenhower knows he has no power to "purge" a senator since "in past administrations that was tried without notable success."

He said a congressman also is free to say what he pleases. But he warned that it is essential to the party to end the McCarthy storm as soon as possible.

"I think it would be dangerous to our legislative program," he said Wednesday night, "if these controversies continued and the party was involved in splits of the kind that we couldn't get a program through."

Two other prominent Republicans — Sens. Irving M. Ives (NY) and George D. Aiken (Vt) — took about the same position in separate interviews today. Both applauded Eisenhower's appeal Wednesday for an end to the party strife.

"We are supposed to be a team and not a bunch of grandstand players," said Ives.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, center of the furore, agreed at a news conference late Wednesday that the GOP is suffering "a great deal of damage" — but from his critics, not from him.

Really at fault, he said, are

Bingo Test Vote Before Senate

Committee Reports Bill to Put Charity Issue on November Ballot

LANSING (AP)—A proposal to legalize charity bingo in Michigan was reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee today for a floor vote by the Senate.

The proposal would ask the Legislature to submit to the people next fall a constitutional amendment removing the ban on lotteries such as bingo games conducted by religious, charitable, benevolent and similar organizations for charitable purposes.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), the committee chairman, declined to disclose the committee vote but it was reported to be four to two.

Hittle said the committee report would be signed by Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), the vice chairman, an indication that Hittle himself had opposed releasing the proposition.

The bingo proposition is supported by an association of fraternal organizations which has been circulating petitions to place it on the ballot if the legislature fails to act.

Unseat Senator, Committee Asks

Voting 'Irregularities' Found in New Mexico Election of 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican majority of a Senate investigating committee recommended today that the seat held by Sen. Chavez (D-NM) be declared vacant because of "irregularities" in the 1952 election.

The report said the election, in which Chavez was opposed by Republican candidate Patrick Hurley, should be voided.

Sens. Barrett (R-Wyo) and Potter (R-Mich) signed the report.

The third member of the committee, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), was preparing a minority, dissenting report.

The Barrett-Potter recommendations culminate a one-year investigation of fraud charges made by Hurley.

The three-man group is a subcommittee of the Senate rules and Administration Committee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind). Barrett and Potter gave their report to Jenner.

Jenner told reporters the rules committee plans to act on it Tuesday.

Jenner and Barrett said a resolution declaring there was no legal senatorial election in New Mexico in 1952 will be offered to the Senate if the Rules and Administration Committee adopts the subcomittee report.

They said they believed Senate approval of such a resolution by a majority vote would have the immediate effect of unseating Chavez and the New Mexico governor would appoint a senator to serve until the next regular election.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico is a Republican and presumably would appoint a Republican to the seat.

Judge Upholds Dog License Law

Hartrick Denies Writ to Compel Treasurer to Issue Tag

A request for a writ of mandamus to compel County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks to issue a dog license to a Waterford man who refuses to have his dog vaccinated against rabies was denied Wednesday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

The dog's owner, Rex Abney, of 3125 Mann Rd., claimed the license should be issued on the grounds that the vaccination law is unconstitutional.

Judge Hartrick said the law is constitutional under the state licensing act which allows any county board of supervisors to make it mandatory for a certificate of rabies vaccination to be presented before a license is issued.

In his written opinion Judge Hartrick said Sparks could not be compelled to perform an act outside of a clear legal duty. He said the issuance of a license by him in this case would be against the statute.

Abney retained Pontiac attorney Ralph T. Keeling to represent him in the case after Sparks refused to issue a license to Abney last December.

Corporation counsel Harry J. Merritt represented Sparks at the mandamus hearing before Judge Hartrick Feb. 26.

Hallenbeck Asks District 5 Check, Gains Six Votes

First Decisions Upheld and City Commission Candidates Confirmed

City Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck was defeated by 12 votes in today's recount of primary election returns from Pontiac's District 5.

John A. Dugan and John H. Ridgway were confirmed as commission candidates from the district.

Totals were: John H. Ridgway, 365; John A. Dugan, 348 and Hallenbeck, 336. Ridgway lost 3 votes, Dugan 10 and Hallenback 4.

The recount was demanded by Hallenbeck, edged out in the primary nomination race by Dugan and Ridgway. In the original tally, Dugan beat Hallenbeck by 18 votes.

Today's tabulation showed Hallenbeck cutting Dugan's winning margin by six votes.

Hallenbeck gained four votes in precinct 16, two in precinct 17 and one in precinct 19. Dugan gained one in precinct 18.

Precincts 35, 43 and 44 also were rechecked.

Although there were three other candidates entered in the primary race, their votes were not retabulated.

Election commissioners supervising the recount were City Clerk Ada R. Evans, City Attorney William A. Ewart and City Treasurer M. M. Ashbaugh.

Recount clerks were James R. Stelt, city personnel director, Walter Giddings of the treasurer's office and Larue Gullett of the account office.

Other district 5 primary candidates, and their votes were: Leo Morris, 137; J. Marvin Smith, 71; and Howard A. Frost, 70.

State Red Hearings to Get Started May 3

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) said today that the House Un-American Activities Committee will begin hearings on Communism in Michigan at Detroit May 3.

He added that after a week they'll be moved to Lansing May 10-11 and to Flint May 12.

Clardy will be chairman of the subcommittee assigned to the Michigan investigation. Serving with him will be Reps. Scherer (R-Ohio), and Walter (R-Pa).

The Michigan Republican said approximately 100 witnesses who have been summoned are being advised of the new date.

Opening witnesses, he announced, will be Ben Gitlow, a founder of the American Communist Party and Bella Dodd, formerly active among school teachers as a Communist organizer. Both have appeared in previous Congressional hearings.

Extra Tax Money Handy for 3 School Additions

Pontiac taxpayers will get an eight-classroom "dividend" this summer from the 2.5 mill tax they voted in 1951 to build new schools.

Pontiac Board of Education happily issued contracts for three small school additions Wednesday as it learned the tax will bring in some $320,000 more over the next few years than the $2,000,000 expected.

Louis H. Schimmel, board member, suggested the board offer bonds for $320,000 for sale as soon as possible.

The additions, all to be finished Sept. 1, include four rooms at Bagley School, one at Malkim and two at Whittier.

The extra money will also buy a one-room Owen addition and five "portable' classrooms—two at McConnell, two at Wever and one at Wisner schools.

Ward Ross, Inc., won the Bagley contract for $88,780, after the low bidder said he couldn't finish it by Sept. 1. Conrad Co.'s low bid of $24,785 for mechanical work and Ballard Electric Co.'s low estimate of $9,055 were accepted.

The board gave Malkim's contract to Chissus Construction Co. on a low bid of $20,700, which includes plumbing, heating and wiring. Bundy Construction Co. won the Whittier contract on a low bid of $41,990.

Ray Ward was architect for the Bagley addition, with William Zimmerman preparing the Malkim and Whittier plans.

The school board had promised to tie up all income from the special tax, slated to run through 1957, until all bonds for the $1,800,000 the board borrowed in 1952 are paid.

"We've found, though, that new homes, businesses and industries in the school district are giving us a higher income on this tax rate," Schimmel said. "So we've asked Community National Bank (which bought the whole $1,800,000 bond issue) to let us issue these extra bonds. The bank has agreed."

7 Communities in County Seek Long-Term Contract for Water From Detroit

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — The seven-community Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority is seeking a long-term water purchase contract with Detroit which will allow them to change their source of supply to Port Huron or elsewhere if necessary later.

City managers and commissioners from Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkley, Southfield Township, Pleasant Ridge, Huntington Woods and Clawson met Tuesday to discuss a 30-year contract with Detroit.

Assistant Birmingham City Manager John Walker explained that in the event Detroit, in the future, has to go to Port Huron or elsewhere for a water supply, members of the authority do not want to be in the position of buying from a buyer.

"We would rather have a clause in the contract allowing authority members to terminate their supply from Detroit, and pursue, on an equal basis with Detroit and other communities, a new source of water," he said.

Opening of Church Brings Traffic Jam

BIRMINGHAM — Opening of the new First Presbyterian Church on West Maple Avenue has added to a serious Sunday morning congestion problem in the area, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said today.

Two other large churches, the First Methodist and Lutheran Church of the Redeemer are located on close proximity along West Maple avenue.

Moxley has recommended longer time intervals between the several services each church has, and grading and graveling of the north shoulder of Maple road, between Chesterfield road and Palgrim street, to allow through westbound traffic to avoid a long left turn line.

Dads on Way to Get Missing Daughters

BIRMINGHAM—The fathers of three teenage high school girls missing since Monday are en route to Louisville, Ky., today to bring home their wandering daughters.

GOP Leaders Try to Halt Party Feud

"those few Republicans who are damning from hell to breakfast those of us who are doing this very unpleasant task of digging out Communists."

McCarthy aimed the statement mainly at Sen. Ralph A. Flanders (R-Vt) "one of the finest old gentlemen I know." Flanders had accused the Wisconsin Red-hunter of "doing his best to shatter" the Republican Party.

Knowland, speaking in a radio interview, said he hopes there will be no more floor speeches like Flanders' that will distract the Senate from its legislative work. Ives said, however, that the speech was "all right."

At his news conference Wednesday, Eisenhower said Flanders performed "a service" with his speech.

He also declared CBS and NBC did the fair thing in giving the GOP National Committee free time to reply to Adlai E. Stevenson's attack on McCarthyism Saturday and refusing time to McCarthy. It was the senator's demand for time that touched off the current storm.

Flanders was "pleased" with the President's endorsement but Republicans generally withheld comment. Democrats saw no reason to jump into what they consider a GOP family affair.

In his talk with reporters, McCarthy said:

1. He still intends to get a lawyer to force CBS and NBC to give him a half hour of free radio and TV time to answer Stevenson, but that meanwhile he will appear tonight on the 15-minute radio show of commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. to discuss the Stevenson and Flanders speeches.

2. He might accept Edward R. Murrow's offer of time to reply to Murrow's CBS television show Monday night. The CBS executive and commentator said, among other things, that McCarthy had crossed the line between investigation and persecution in his search for Communists.

Thieves Get $1,000 From Oliver Sales

About $1,000 was taken from a vault last night at Oliver Motor Sales, 210 Orchard Lake Ave., according to Mrs. Geraldine Gifford, bookkeeper.

Mrs. Gifford, who said the estimate was incomplete, told Pontiac Police the thieves broke a side garage window and removed a cashier's window to get at the walk-in vault.

She said the thieves, who used screw drivers and other jimmying tools, might be the same ones who took $3,000 from the vault last November.

Rayburn Predicts Higher Exemption

were to expire April 1 as scheduled.

Sen. George (D-Ga), senior Democrat on the tax-writing Finance Committee, said in an interview he expects the Senate to pass the House bill with little or no change.

Several Republicans on the committee said they would go along with the excise reductions.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Finance Committee declined to disclose his position. But he said he would call his group together promptly, perhaps tomorrow, to start work on the bill, against the approaching expiration date.

There were indications today that the administration, which had hoped at least to scale down the excise reductions in the Senate, might instead wind up trying to head off further revenue losses.

George said in the interview that he would not try to attach to the excise bill his proposal for a drastic cut in personal income taxes by raising exemptions of each taxpayer and his dependent.

He said he would save this for the 875-page general tax revision measure which the House starts to debate next Wednesday.

The House bill would cut to 10 per cent all excises now above that figure except those on liquor and tobacco. Affected would be 25 per cent levy on long-distance telephone calls; the 20 per cent tax on movies, sports and other admission tickets, and on furs, jewelry, luggage, cosmetics, women's pocketbooks, wallets, cameras, film and light bulbs; the 15 per cent rate on sporting goods, pens, mechanical pencils, lighters, local telephone bills, and rail, bus and air passenger fares; and the 11 per cent tax on pistols, other firearms and shells.

The extensions in the bill would postpone for one year reductions scheduled for April 1 on liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gas, trucks and buses, beer and wine.

Burglaries in City Total 16 in 6 Days

Two school breakins last night brought the total of reported burglaries in Pontiac for the past six days to 16, according to Pontiac Police Capt. Clark J. Wheaton.

Wheaton said today he believes that two or more burglary rings are responsible for the wave of breakins.

A large safe at Eastern Junior High School at 25 S. Sanford St., was pried open and $20 in change taken by thieves who entered the school through a work shop window, according to Detective John DePauw.

At the Wisner Grade School, 441 Oakland Ave., thieves ransacked the building after pushing open a basement window, but nothing was reported missing, DePauw said.

Strike Averted at Last Minute

Railroaders to Submit All Claims and Disputes to Arbitration

DETROIT (AP)—A strike of 2,000 Michigan Central railroad employes was averted early today, six hours before it was scheduled to start when union and management negotiators agreed to submit claims and disputes to arbitration.

Leverett Edwards, of the U. S. Mediation Service, after 15 hours of continuous negotiating, said both parties had agreed to submit claims and unsettled disputes to a neutral referee, Judge Frank P. Douglas, of Pine, Colo.

Judge Douglas will meet with management and union officials in Detroit at a later date, Edwards said.

The successful negotiation session also canceled a planned freight embargo and the layoff of 12,000 Michigan Central employes.

The strike was scheduled by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen after a dispute involving an interpretation of working agreements.

Michigan Central spokesmen said only a few workers were involved in the issues under dispute and claimed strike action by the brotherhood was unwarrented.

One of the issues involved concerns a rules interpretation. A second concerns duties and pay claims at a Toledo rail yard.

Both have been submitted by the railroad to the National Railroad Adjustment Board.

Sculptor Alois Lang to Be Buried Here

BIRMINGHAM — Service for retired wood sculptor Alois Lang, 82, whose famous religious figures appear at Christ Church Cranbrook and in churches in Cleveland, Toledo and Chicago will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Lang, who had lived in Grand Rapids for the past 27 years, died yesterday at Mercywood Hospital, Ann Arbor, following a long illness.

Born in Oberammergau, Germany, Mr. Lang was a member of the famous family which has always played the lead in the 300-year-old Passion Play at his birthplace.

He had been a member of the Michigan Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Besides his widow, Hattie Hopf, Mr. Lang is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Kindley of Birmingham and Mrs. Lucile Phillips of Grand Rapids, and four grandchildren.

Pontiac Deaths

Brenda Carol Martin

The body of Brenda Carol Martin, 3, daughter of J. T. and Vivian E. Bobo Martin of 188 Prospect St., was sent from the Pursley Funeral Home last night to the Adams Funeral Home at Albertville, Ala., for service and burial.

Brenda was born there April 20, 1950, coming to Pontiac three months ago. She died Wednesday morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Besides her parents she is survived by a brother, Terry G. at home.

Walter C. Russell

After a prolonged illness, Walter C. Russell, 66, of 1383 Stanley, died at his residence Wednesday.

Born at Appleton, Wis., Oct. 9, 1887, he was the son of Richard and Martha Matteson Russell. He married Grace Sweany at Monroeville, Ind., in 1907 and came to Pontiac three years ago from Walled Lake. He was an electrician.

He was a member of Lodge 285 F&AM at Niagara, Wis.

Surviving are two sons and two daughters, Richard E., of Riverside, Calif., Dean, of Livonia, Mrs. Martha Nichols, of Pontiac, and Mrs. Lucille Denis, of Commerce.

The funeral will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Kirkby Funeral Home. The Rev. David Mortensen of Marimont Baptist Church will officiate. The body will be taken to Crivitz, Wis. for additional services and burial.

MRS. JOHN D. MONROE

Urban League Picks President for 1954

Elected 1954 president of the Urban League of Pontiac last night at the Hotel Waldron was Mrs. John D. Monroe, succeeding Leon H. Hubbard.

Mrs. Monroe was first vice president during 1953.

Other officers named last night include Dr. Robert R. Turpin, first vice president; Dr. William A. Gordon, second vice president; Mrs. Eva Spears, secretary; T. Warren Fowler, re-elected treasurer; and the Rev. Soterios Gouvellis, chaplain of the board.

The 1939 United States stamp commemorating the Panama Canal was first issued aboard the U.S.S. Charleston, which was at the Canal Zone.

School Employes Demanding Raises

nearby districts are starting teachers at $3,500, he said.

Mrs. Lola King, board secretary, commented that "teachers are like coffee — the supply is short and the prices are high."

The tentative budget, as drafted, doesn't include any across-the-board pay raises — only individual "earned" raises coming to teachers and other employes as they get higher college degrees or put in more experience.

The tentative budget is only about $150,000 higher than this year's.

Big item is instructional expenses, including teachers salaries and classroom supplies, which come to $3,361,021, some $340,000 higher than last year. Cox says 45 more teachers will be needed next fall.

The school system will save on its capital outlay for school furniture and remodeling, however. The fund is down to $52,900 from this year's $180,900. Many classrooms needed desks, chairs, tables and other equipment this year, and Wever School was remodeled into a junior high.

Airport Association Names New Officers

JACKSON (AP) — A. W. Stultz, of Flat Rock, was named president of the Michigan Assn. of Airport Managers Tuesday. Other officers include Al Williams, of Ionia, vice president; G. H. Martin, of Midland, secretary, and Robert Mettetal, of Plymouth, treasurer.

Yale, founded in 1701, conferred honorary degrees on many of the great leaders of the American Revolution. Men who received these Yale degrees include George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, John Hancock, Benjamin Franklin, and Roger Sherman.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Too Rough on Exile From Cuban Presidency

NEW YORK (INS) — Some people . . . Some places . . . Some things.

Aren't we being a little rough on Carlos Prio Socarras, the exiled president of Cuba? He was our pal during his tenure in office and was royally received and decorated by President Truman on his visit to this country.

He was in the course of bowing out of the picture down there—in accordance with the constitution—when Batista took over by force.

Last December 4 Prio was arrested in Miami by a U. S. deputy marshal, charged with conspiring to ship arms out of the U. S. in violation of the 1939 neutrality act. He was taken into custody, fingerprinted and photographed like a common criminal, and placed under heavy bond.

There can't be much question that Prio wants to see Batista unseated in Cuba. His candidate for the election that never came off was Carlos Hevia, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy who became an almost legendary figure in Cuban politics — in that foes as well as friends considered him clean as a hound's tooth.

We've got a lot of exiled leaders in this country, the free world's last great asylum for the politically oppressed. The Poles, Czechs, Hungarians, Chinese, Albanians, Bulgarians, Rumanians, etc. etc. etc. All maintain headquarters here and work ceaselessly to change the conditions back home which forced them to flee.

They are welcome and often honored in this country. But Prio is given a hard time. He's questioned every time there's a raid on a Cuban gun cache in New York.

He headed up only one Cuban political party. There are seven: Autentico, Ortodoxo, Democrata, Liberal, Union Revolucionaria, Progresista and Accion Unitaria. The Communists are negligible. Anyway, other Cubans in this country could conceivably be plotting to erase Batista — a very tough man to cancel, by the way. But only Prio gets called on the mat.

Pastor Recovers His Stolen Car by Playing Cop

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. William A. Benfield Jr. is a minister by choice, but yesterday he became a traffic cop by necessity and after a chase recovered his stolen automobile.

He was en route to graveside services in a borrowed car when he spotted his own car—complete with dent in bumper and white leather seats.

He chased the auto into Cave Hill Cemetery, reclaimed it, and in short order was in Resthaven Memorial Park to conduct burial services.

Dr. Benfield, pastor of Highland Presbyterian Church, said a youth was driving the car, stolen from his garage March 2. The youth escaped among the tombstones.

15 Loggers Swim River to Escape Forest Fire

CARY, Miss. (AP)—Fifteen loggers escaped flaming death last night by swimming a river minutes ahead of a vast forest fire.

Forester Mac McMillan said the men pulled themselves from the Sunflower River as flames swept to the edge of the opposite shore.

Four loggers who escaped earlier said the men's lives depended on whether they could reach the river before being cut off by the converging flames.

Eisenhower Returns to First Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower goes back to the scene of his other presidency to speak May 31.

The occasion is a pre-convocation dinner sponsored by Columbia University, which he headed before going to the White House.

Other presidential engagements announced yesterday:

March 20—Dinner of the White House News Photographers Assn. and, on the same night, remote control opening of ceremonies in Ripon, Wis., commemorating the first meeting of Rpublicans.

April 22—Annual dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., New York.

May 6—Luncheon of Military Chaplains Assn., Washington.

High Schools in State to Debate on Elections

ANN ARBOR—A statewide high school debate program sponsored by the University of Michigan has about 5,000 students eagerly discussing the merits of electing the President of the United States by direct ballot instead of through the electoral college.

Winners of elimination contests now in progress will tangle at the University April 24, when the state championship debate is held.

Man Awaits Sentencing

Leonard J. Piasecki, 39, of 1133 E. Milton St., Hazel Park, was found guilty Wednesday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a charge of taking indecent liberties. He was released on $1,000 bond and will be sentenced March 29.

He Is Man of Action

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn. (UP) — Bolek Olechny, a restaurant employe, told customers he was going to vacation in Florida. "What would you like me to send you?" he asked a woman acquaintance. "Send me an alligator," she said. Shortly afterward, she received a foot-long alligator by air mail from Florida.

Man Accepts Invitation, Belts Mechanic in Nose

LONDON (AP)—Garage foreman George W. Quelch told the court Michael Neary, a customer, became furious when Quelch spilled some gasoline.

"I'd like to punch you on the nose," Neary blurted.

"If it will make you feel any better, go ahead," Quelch replied.

"Mr. Neary then hit me and I passed out," the garageman testified.

The judge warded Quelch 75 pounds ($210) damages.

Painless Progress

In self interest taxpayers should give careful thought to the long range program of civic improvements on which they will vote on April 5.

As outlined by City Manager Willman, this plan comes as near being a painless means of civic progress as anyone could draft. Besides the proposed hospital addition, it looks ahead to the time when we can have long needed new police headquarters, main library, civic auditorium and three fire stations.

Though the financing plan appears complicated, it really is very simple. Voters are being asked to approve two charter changes authorizing a shift in the use to be made of a small portion of the city taxes collected each year.

City taxpayers have been paying $2.00 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation to pay city debts. Soon, however, the last of the city's outstanding bonds will have been retired. The city now proposes that it be authorized to use this money in the future to finance a continuing program of civic improvements.

Topping that program is the proposed addition to Pontiac General Hospital, owned by the city.

If the taxpayers approve the necessary $3,000,000 bond issue for this addition, the law requires that $1.00 per $1,000 of valuation be earmarked to protect bondholders. But while the law must be complied with, authorizing a maximum levy of $1.00 for this purpose, it is planned to levy only 50 cents of that dollar. The balance of the financing would come out of hospital income.

The $2.00 will permit the city to build the proposed hospital addition and also to carry on a continuing improvement program. In other words, 50 cents of the $2.00 will go to the hospital addition, leaving $1.50 for other improvements such as new police and fire stations, library and other buildings.

Now for the proof that this is a financially painless plan. Everything listed above and more can be acquired for Pontiac without any increase in the present total city tax rate of $13.80 per $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, a "no" vote would save the average taxpayer only $5.40 a year on his average assessment of $2,700. And this would mean no hospital addition, no new fire stations.

Pontiac simply can't afford to turn down this program.

Clipping NLRB's Wings

Considerable doubt exists even in the House Labor Committee as to the wisdom of its proposal to strip the National Labor Relations Board of jurisdiction over unfair labor practice cases.

If Congress should go along with the committee's idea, this quasi-judicial agency would have little to do but enjoy the Washington scene. In fact, its chief remaining duty would be to manage union representation elections and determine those employes eligible to vote in them.

Some years back the conduct of these elections was an important job. Nowadays, however, there are few arguments as to whether a union has the right to be recognized. Much more frequent are disputes over violations of the Taft-Hartley law.

Another fact which shouldn't be overlooked is that this proposal would transfer fair labor practice cases to Federal courts. These already are so overloaded and so far behind their dockets that Congress recently authorized the nomination of 30 additional judges.

★ ★ ★

A motion to reconsider this proposal was defeated by a tie vote in committee. This should be a warning to Congress that the recommendation deserves very careful scrutiny.

Lumber From Wheat

At least one interesting and apparently practical suggestion on how to make use of our enormous wheat surplus has come to light in Washington.

Author of the suggestion is a scientist, Stanley F. Reed. Not long ago he remarked that with enough time and money anything could be invented.

★ ★ ★

Challenged on this statement, Reed developed what amounts to lumber from wheat and is known as wheat-board. As reported by Aubrey Graves in the Washington Post, Reed puffed up wheat kernels to about 20 times their normal size.

These were treated with substances unpalatable to rodents, insects and termites. After being impregnated with resin for strength, the wheat was recompressed.

The result was a product which looks and feels like cork and which has the greatest strength at the lowest cost of any competitive material. Reed believes the material could be used instead of plywood or foam plastics in making doors, table tops and desks or even airplane wings.

Here may be an idea worth keeping in mind in the event no political or economic solution can be found for our enormous wheat surplus problem.

Pontiac City is asked to induct only three men into the army as its quota for March. Press Readers Express Views Regarding the Controversy Over Senator McCarthy

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

You certainly hit the nail on the head with your editorial comment on "That Man McCarthy" with regard to his splitting the Republican party.

I can tell you that their kowtowing to him has cost the Republican party my vote at the next election.

My congratulations to you for having the nerve to comment and bring this matter to the attention of the public as McCarthy's antics are upsetting the whole country.

After reading the article "Back President's Demand for Fair Probes," in your March 4 paper I wish to support a great and staunch man, Senator McCarthy.

I believe in fairness to all who back Senator McCarthy's probing of Communists that you give both sides of the disagreement with Secretary Stevens and others who refuse to answer questions.

We still have Benedict Arnolds in our midst, some wearing the uniform. All courtesy was accorded Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during the questioning of Maj. Irving Peress. Who is he shielding? Secretary Stevens has done a great injustice to his country and party in refusing to aid the committee.

During the trial of six Communists in Detroit, Judge Picard sentenced some who refused to answer questions. Why should these people be treated with kid gloves? My son would gladly help weed out the undesirables if he were called to testify.

The people sending telegrams opposing the Senator likewise do not enjoy G-Man Hoover's war on the Reds. The charge of browbeating is Secretary Stevens' way of covering up his mistakes.

Not too many years ago during a May Day parade several commissioned officers took part. That was during the Truman administration, which explains why they were never exposed. Be fair to Senator McCarthy.

Benefits From Revision of Tax System Coming to 'John Smith' at Long Last

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Fair play for the American taxpayer is in sight. For more than 40 years, since the federal income tax law was passed, the courts have at times narrowly construed the words of the tax statutes contrary to the intent of Congress.

But never until now has a bill finally been presented to Congress to correct these inequities and injustices.

The average citizen isn't familiar with the many benefits that are to come to him when the bill is passed and probably never will be till he comes squarely up against the contingencies that it is designed to meet.

But the provisions of the general revision of the Internal Revenue Code cover 900 printed pages and comprise a multitude of points — everything from partnerships to estates and trusts, as well as the deductions or tax allowances permitted to corporations and individuals on a wide variety of subjects.

The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party will deserve great credit if the measure goes through both houses because, while Democratic administrations in the past have recognized the need for the revision, they have always allowed it to be dropped at the last moment in favor of legislation centering on tax rates.

Much constructive work has been done by the experts in the Treasury Department and by the Joint Internal Revenue Committee of Congress in past years, but time and again it has all been for naught as the measure has gotten entangled in a drive for changes in specific rates.

It became customary to postpone action till the next session, so that in the end nothing was done, though both Democrats and Republicans always said they favored it.

This time the Eisenhower administration is concentrating not on rates but on correcting mistakes and clarifying all sorts of decisions, including some that have been contradictory inside the Internal Revenue service.

The importance of this revision of the code to businessmen and tax lawyers generally can hardly be over-estimated.

It will be of tremendous value, too, to the staffs of the collectors of Internal Revenue, who have been obliged to follow rulings in some instances which they themselves recognized as inequitable but which they could do nothing to change, being bound by previous interpretation.

None of this would probably be necessary if Congress could write clearly into law phrases that cover every possible contingency. But too often the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in writing "regulations" designed to carry out the meaning of the law, has made some far-fetched interpretations which have been unfavorable to the taxpayer.

The philosophy that the government is always right and the taxpayer is always wrong has governed too much of the bureau's thinking in the past.

Not many of the disputed points, relatively speaking, have been carried to the courts on appeal, but many that have been overruled have never been clarified so that a regulation would in itself be overturned.

What the proposed law does is to take into account the court decisions and the existing code. By a set of new interpretations, the true meaning of the law now is stated.

All this may sound technical to the citizen, who naturally isn't familiar with the fine points of tax law, but it can mean hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits to the taxpayer annually — both individuals and businesses.

There is included in the same general tax bill a number of new provisions, such as correction of the inequity in double taxation of dividends, and there are also some new rules on depreciation allowances on machinery and plants.

Some of these will face a legislative fight, and there is certain to be an effort by the Democrats to tack on an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $700.

This is opposed by the administration, because it is a phony move. It can hardly produce any substantial benefit to the economy and, compared with the opportunity to stimulate capital investment in business, such exemptions can never be as effective on the job-creating side as the depreciation allowances, for example. The adoption of many sound and constructive items will go by the boards if demagoguery prevails.

It is a curious thing that the Democratic party, which has always had a conservative wing, should be lining up on the side which would propose an unsound amendment, such as the tax exemption plan. This would cost the treasury $2,500,000,000.

If the national economy could be stimulated by such a provision, it would be unobjectionable, but the obvious purpose of the proponents of the exemption scheme is to kill the relief for double taxation of dividends.

The private capital system cannot function effectively unless investment is stimulated by a fair return to the investor.

Patriotic Americans Shun the Liquor Habit

Susie's Daddy is still fettered with dissolute European attitudes. Patriotic Americans should not only think American but drink American. Whatever lowers our I. Q. is hostile to God's plan, for God intends us to be noble instead of beastial.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-346: Susie, aged 4, and Dolly, aged 2, are causing their maternal grandmother a lot of worry.

"For their father gives them beer with their meals," she protested.

"It seems to me very unwise for a parent to abet such a bad habit as the use of liquor.

"Don't the schools teach the folly of imbibing alcohol? And don't the churches almost universally indict it?

"Dr. Crane, you have also quoted the National Safety Council as saying it leads to a large number of auto accidents.

"So why would any modern parent in America encourage such a bad habit in his little girls?"

Because many Europeans had such contaminated water supplies, they often resorted to the use of wine, beer and whisky.

And their lot in life was often so unhappy that they welcomed the temporary oblivion which liquor produces.

For a few drinks reduce the I. Q. temporarily. The brain works more sluggishly.

Adults then forget their responsibilities, as well as moral code, so they act with more abandon.

This is evident in their exaggerated laughter at inane attempts at humor. It is shown by their childish clumsiness in knocking over glasses and stumbling over rugs or chairs.

Men likewise gamble away their paychecks in grandiose style and then stagger home about 2 a. m. with hardly a cent for the grocery bill of their frightened family.

They may become bullies, too, and beat up their wives and youngsters.

America cut loose from Europe's dictatorial methods of government and its lower economic and moral standards. In 1776, we established a new type of government and a "free enterprise" economic plan in this free land.

So be truly American. Quit imitating decadent Europe. Milk and fruit juices and soda pop and coffee are eminently American beverages.

So drink American. None of those beverages reduces your intelligence. They all promote a high I. Q. and safe driving.

They don't add to the auto accident rate. They don't fog your brain and make you stagger.

Drink American, therefore, if you want to be truly patriotic. Loyal Americans should abhor the dissolute ways, plus the obsolete political attitudes of outworn Europe.

The only defense that can be made of the Daddy of Susie and Dolly is that he may be a foreign immigrant who just doesn't realize that he is now living in an entirely different country.

Immigrants should wake up to the wonderful advantages of this great republic and shed all those old-world habits that are un-American.

Socialism and communism belong in this category, as do the use of alcoholic beverages.

God created man in his own image, and our higher I. Q. is the chief distinguishing trait as human beings and the lower animals.

Since alcohol lowers our I. Q. it thus makes us more bestial, and is in opposition to God's divine plan for nobility of human behavior.

Russian proposal to divide the world with United States was turned down like a marked page.

Question, if Moscow makes the same proposal to another nation will it be accepted?

Shickelgruber and the Mikado had about the same globalized ingredients in their 1941 capers. When the Mikado dropped that portable holocaust at Pearl Harbor it was the metronome for the cadence of the world waltz.

Germany was to baby-sit the western world while Japan took over the Orient, lock, stock and barrel. And let me buzz you some details, brother. They came closer than a hug in a hammock.

It was the resistance of McArthur at Corregidor that upset the Mikado's timing. Mac came back to play the final game in the rice bowl.

The Moscow suggestion would pull the plug on Germany, drop France in the slag heap and scramble England like broken eggs in Hades.

It would be the end of Spain, Italy and Portugal. Nations like Switzerland, Austria, Greece and Turkey would disappear like ants in the rain.

This is the most amazing offer since Ponzi illuminated the financial world by fanning moonbeams with his hat. At the same time it's a Moscovy admission that Russia cannot swing the contract single-handed.

The Kremlin has done pretty good using Ripley's marching Chinese for bait. We can stall that off, by arming the Japanese to the brittle teeth. That's where we came in. The only thing we cared to see again was Walt Disney's "Three Little Pigs."

How long would the world stay divided on false parallels and artificial boundaries? Until Russia decided that one is company and two's a crowd.

Dr. Brady Explains Many Things Poison but Small Proportions Can Be Used

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I believe fluorine (sodium fluoride) should be added to the drinking water in every community where the natural water contains little or none.

I believe this makes the permanent teeth of children 6 to 16 years of age much less likely to decay.

A silly argument of opponents of the practice of fluorinating municipal water supplies is iteration of the fact that sodium fluoride is rat poison.

They have us there. No question — it is rat poison. Cockroach exterminator, too.

Powdered sodium fluoride may be sprinkled or blown into corners or cracks where the roaches run and left for weeks. The roaches walk in it, lick their feet and die.

Of course the stuff cannot be safely used where infants or young children may reach it. It is too poisonous.

The carbon dioxide (carbonic acid gas) that makes soda water, soft drinks, beer, champagne, Seidlitz, Seltzer water and other drinks fizz, sparkle, bubble or foam, would kill by asphyxia (suffocation) if you entered a silo, a well, a cave or mine where enough of the ordinarily harmless gas has accumulated.

If a match, a candle or other flame immediately snuffs out in such a place, it is not safe to enter without oxygen or special air supply.

Breathing chlorine, as it was used by the Germans in World War I, cauterizes not only the air passages but also the esophagus and stomach.

But this is no argument against the universal practice of chlorinating municipal water supplies to make the water safe for drinking. One part of chlorine per million destroys typhoid, paratyphoid or dysentery or cholera germs.

Of late years my second class mail has taxed the capacity of the incinerator, and the bulk of it is "rat poison" propaganda.

Anti-aluminum propaganda still bulks nearly as large as anti-fluorination propaganda. Reading the list of diseases the anti-aluminum people ascribe to the use of aluminum kitchen utensils must keep some credulous customers miserable.

But why throw away your old cooking ware and install whatever kind the man wants to sell you? We have used aluminum cooking ware since Topsy was a colt.

We prepare pancake batter in an aluminum pot and let it cuddle with the yeast snug and warm over night, and for breakfast . . . ow wow, why do I get on such a subject when it's a long, long three hours till dinner time?

I would have ignored the "rat poison" propaganda about fluorides but for the many queries from readers who seem to take it seriously.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Premier Yoshida's April Visit to the U.S. Could Bolster Jap-American Relations

WASHINGTON (INS) — Since the end of World War II America's attitude toward Japan has undergone a complete and historic turnabout.

In fact, that nation occupies a unique place in the United States, one that is not only shared by no other nation, but a place which could not be shared by any other nation.

The roots of American thinking go back a long way—back to the early days of the 20th century and the so-called "Gentlemen's Agreement" when Japan loomed large in West Coast thinking as a peril to the U.S particularly, and the world in general.

From that attitude it was but a short hop, skip and jump to finding the Japanese guilty of every sin conceived by man with the outbreak of war at Pearl Harbor.

And, for most Americans, it was far easier to "hate" the Japanese during World War II than to hate the Germans or the Italians.

But a million or more GIs who served in Japan got to know the Japanese as odd, but likable people.

This was well and good on a personal level. The problem that bothered the thinking American, was: "What about Japan politically?"

In searching for an answer, they inevitably turned to take a second look at one man: Shigeru Yoshida, the shrewd, likable, skilled political leader who has dominated Japanese politics for years.

Now it is rumored that Yoshida will visit the United States sometime in April. When, and if, he comes, he will be subjected to the inevitable close scrutiny with which Americans subject any famous personage from abroad.

He will be photographed and interviewed. And a great deal of weight will be placed not only upon what he has to say, but how he says it.

It is not unreasonable to expect that Yoshida will do much to continue building a rising foundation of friendship towards Japan, or could plant the seeds of destroying this base.

On the whole, Yoshida rates high in the opinion of such U.S. leaders as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

With a true politician's feeling for the sense of people, Yoshida has slowly been carrying his country forward on a plan of cooperation with the U.S.

But it is also felt that while this will, inevitably, produce a stronger relationship both militarily and economically between the U.S. and Japan, Yoshida has, still with the practical shrewdness of a master politician, sacrificed some of the ideals of a post-war Japan free from all sense of fear and intimidation in order to achieve this larger aim.

In U.S. politics this is understandable. At home it is called "log rolling" or a "you support my stand and I'll support yours."

This fact of Yoshida's character is also considered one of his weaknesses by some Americans who feel that, in the long haul of history, the pattern of culture set for Japan by its leaders in this critical time will prove of more overwhelming importance than the gains that may result in the future years.

Their critics are quick to answer that Yoshida is taking the "only sensible course he can follow." Any other path at this time would open up Japan to ultimate destruction by the Communists.

How Yoshida is accepted at home is a question that is somewhat answerless to Americans. Obviously he must have general support, else, like Churchill after World War II he would have fallen and carried his party to defeat with him. But it is not considered here that he is a beloved leader.

And it is generally felt that his hold over Japan politically is so tenuous it could slip in any sudden breeze.

But that he can continue to steer, negotiate, bargain, lead and push the Japanese despite political scandals, inflation, unemployment, and increasingly adverse trade balance is held to be the proof of his political shrewdness.

Beef did not become important in the American diet until after the Civil war.

That First Robin — Forget It, Claims Lansing

LANSING (UP)—Next time you think you see the first robin of spring forget it—there ain't no such bird.

Michigan conservation department bird experts say the "first robin of spring" is just a dumb character that stayed all year.

The conservation men said that, although the robin is listed as a migratory bird, it isn't so in all cases. A few of the red-breasts stay in the north the year round.

What's more, they said the number of robins braving northern winters is increasing, probably a result of decreasing severity of same.

The experts said the winter robins usually don't stay in the city; they prefer warm barns in the country. As the temperature climbs they begin to widen their search for food. This often leads them to urban districts and soon newspapers are flooded with calls from persons who have seen "the first robin of spring."

Anthracite coal was accidentally discovered in Cabron county, Pennsylvania, in 1791 by Philip Ginter, a hunter, who thought it only black stone.

Scelba Receives Confidence Vote

Italian Premier Plans to Rally Backers Soon to OK EDC Pact

ROME (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba's month-old government had the approval of Parliament today to push for a knockdown fight on ratification of the European Defense Community Treaty.

The Premier won a final parliamentary vote of confidence last night. In a stormy session, the 590-member Chamber of Deputies approved his program of mild social reform at home and continued ties with the West by a 17-vote margin.

* * *

Scelba pledged to rally his backers quickly for approval of the EDC pact, which would bring West German troops into a one-uniform army with Italy, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

But it probably will be several weeks before he can clear the way through the maze of complicated domestic issues confronting his wobbly four-party coalition government to get final action on EDC.

With the thin majority the 52-year-old Christian Democrat Premier commands, it will not be easy to push through his domestic program. And the fight over EDC may be the toughest hurdle of all.

* * *

Plagued by the Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists on the left and the Monarchists and neo-Fascists of the right, Scelba managed to win a vote of confidence in his policies last night 300 to 283. The 334-member Senate gave him a bare five-vote margin of approval Feb. 26.

Confirmation by the deputies last night brought at least a temporary halt to the government crisis which has plagued Italy ever since the June 7 elections cut the props from under the pro-Western, center-of-the-road regime of Scelba's long-time mentor, Christian Democrat leader Alcide de Gasperi.

Youths Perching Atop 11 Stories Terrify Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Two youths sitting on the roof's edge of an 11-story office building on busy Park Square brought rush-hour traffic to a standstill and attracted hundreds of terrified onlookers last night.

POolice cleared the area beneath the youths and firefighters worked frantically to set up life nets.

Meanwhile, two policemen ascended to the roof and pulled the boys back to safety.

* * *

The youths were identified as Michael A. Sabia of Winthrop and Walter T. Rich of Wellesley, both 16 and both students at exclusive St. Sebastian's Country Day School Newton.

"There was nothing to get excited about," they said later. "We did it just as a gag. The boys at the school dared us."

Sgt. York Back Home After Stay in Hospital

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin C. York, Tennessee's World War I hro, returned to his home at Pall Mall, Tenn., yesterday after being released from Saint Thomas Hospital here.

Attendants said his condition was "satisfactory" although he would be confined to bed for at least a week. He entered the hospital last month after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Students Stage Strike; Want 2 Teachers Back

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Students at South Point High School didn't take kindly to the dropping of football coach Jack Dick and English instructor John Ayers after their contracts expired last Friday.

Yesterday nearly half of the school's 495 students staged a walkout, parading in the school yard, chanting and carrying banners reading "We want 'em back."

The school board did not say why Dick and Ayers were not rehired.

Youths' Ostrich Tactics Fail to Foil Police Hunt

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Two juveniles, spotted by police yesterday, jumped from the stolen car they were riding in and ducked behind a house.

But officers D. B. Pearson and A. E. Bukosky had little trouble locating their quarry.

The youths had ducked their heads ostrich-fashion beneath a tarpaulin in the back yard. The rest of them was clearly visible.

Cancer Research Man Loses His All but Finds It Again in His Many Friends

By DR. CLARENCE C. LITTLE Director, Jackson Memorial Laboratory for Cancer Reasearch, Bar Harbor, Maine.

Although the nearby forest fire had been out of control for three days, its final twist and sweep on Bar Harbor that October day in 1947 came as a thunderbolt. In a matter of a few minutes, driven by a 60-mile gale, the great blowtorch lashed through the tops of the trees, sweeping everything before it.

DR. LITTLE

So much exciting work had been done in our Jackson Memorial. Laboratory. This large three-story building contained a colony of 90,000 mice, plus thousands of records and slides covering hundreds of experiments carefully accumulated over a period of many years.

So much security came subconsciously from the happiness of creative work in the fight against cancer that no threat of tragic invasion had ever occurred to us.

Twice during that terrible night we tried to reach the lab but were blocked by flames. All evacuees were put under martial law. Then, at four in the morning word came from Frank Clark, a laboratory assistant: "It's all gone, Prexy."

Frank's voice broke. As much of his life as of mine had suddenly vanished. He had been with us since we first cleared land for the laboratory 20 years before.

As soon after daybreak as my wife and I could argue our way back through military lines, the two of us stood by the still smoking ruins. Then, all at once, the significance of the effort and love, which we had put into what was now charred rubble, rushed over me.

There are very few of those indefinable moments of deep spiritual exhilaration in a man's life. This was one. I looked at my wife, smiled and said: "There isn't so much time left now, but we'll do it again."

I had started studying mice when I was a student at Harvard. That work has continued until today. When in 1922 I became president of the University of Maine, for instance, there were many jokes about the lab I set up in one of the poultry houses where I kept my mice. I would tend them until summer, when I would go to Bar Harbor, Maine, and work on my scientific studies.

One of our neighbors on Mount Desert Island was Rosoe B. Jackson, president of the Hudson Motor Company. When Mr. Jackson suddenly died of a heart attack, relatives and friends wanted to establish a research center in his memory.

It seemed as though my studies had been predestined to fill this need. A few months later, in 1929, I began full-time work with the animals: the lab was founded.

Over the years, we built up a fine organization of people. The Laboratory slowly grew.

One of our main contributions soon became supplying laboratories all over the world with carefully bred mice for genetic studies. We bred one family of mice, for example, that would develop cancer with mathematical certainty. Another mouse family, with different ancestry, rarely, if ever, got the diseases.

We had reached the point when significant results were coming with increasing rapidity. Then the fire left us in ruin.

News reports brought quick expressions of frinedship from scientists all over the world.

Their cables were not the usual: "Let us know if there is anything we can do to help." Instead, each man offered aid in his own specific way.

Several hospitals had copied records from our library. These were rushed back to us. Many hundreds of our mice had been in transit; these were returned. In this way, among many other strains, we got back the precious mouse family, for instance, that I had started 225 mouse-generations ago, as a student.

Since a mouse reproduces an entirely new generation in 21 days, having this strain was the same as having the exact cancer history of a human family for over 5,000 years.

The spirit of generosity was so great we even received valuable new strains. In fact, many of our subsequent achievements would never have been possible without the fire.

And, also important, funds began to stream into Bar Harbor. Dollar bills from housewives and school children — from Hawaii to Alaska — larger checks from foundations and institutions with which we had worked. Our frineds stood up to be counted.

By spring a new building, twice as large as the old one and many times as efficient, was planned. And in 1948 the first spadeful of still-charred earth was turned over for the foundation of the new lab.

We were all there: the staff and assistants, the friends from town, representatives of the Cancer Society, the U. S. Public Health Service and others who had helped. It seemed we could almost feel the presence of everyone who had rushed to help us, of whom our lives were a part.

I knew, then, that all the achievements man can produce with his mind are as nothing compared to the spiritual experience of knowing we would never be alone.

I remembered that flood of faith that had come, formless but compelling, to lift, for all time, the heavy curtain of uncertainty — nothing is really lost.

It was as though we had been in the presence of something great and had sensed it. They say the first coming of Christ was gentle. The second coming will be just as gentle.

He will come quietly to any of us as we listen, work, or pray. He will come whenever, amid despair, there is again this sudden birth of faith that does not know defeat.

Tomorrow—Erwin Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, tells his own story.

Ancient Clock Going Strong

Timepiece Built in 1785 Shows No Evidence of Wearing Out

OCONTO, Wis. (UP) — If you think your grandfather clock is old, consider the Oconto clock that has been ticking away for 168 years and shows no signs of wearing out.

Built in 1785, the clock was already old in 1842 when it crossed the Atlantic as the prized possession of its Irish immigrant owner, William Malone. He had learned the clock business by working nine years in the shop of a Killkenny, Ireland, clock and watchmaker.

After spending 14 years in Canada, Malone moved to Appleton, Wis., where he set the clock up in his new jewelry store, one of the city's landmarks.

When he died, the clock stayed in the family and passed down to his grandson, Kenneth Ward of Oconto.

Ward didn't know the clock's age until recently when he took it to a local jewelry store for a check-up. The jeweler, who found nothing wrong with the mechanism, discovered the 1765 date scratched on the case.

The jeweler said the old clock's face of porcelain enamel is as white as the day it was made. All the parts, made by hand, are in good condition. And he added that the mechanism, made of steel and brass, has enough life in it to see the clock through several more generations.

May Pasteurize Beer With Radiation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — A research program is under way, looking toward the possibility of pasteurizing beer in cans almost instantly by use of atomic radiation.

The project is being carried on jointly by the University of Michigan and an aluminum company (Reynolds Metals).

It is believed that a system can be worked out to install a radiation device on the brewery production line which would sterilize the packaged beer as it passes along, with no delay in production, packaging or shipping, and without addying anything to the beer.

The company's interest in the research lies in the probability that aluminum beer cans probably would be the most satisfactory, if the radiation process proves successful.

American and French troops used University Hall at Brown University for a barracks while posted at Providence, R. I., during the American Revolution.

Comics Are Blamed for Lad Killing Pal

WESTVILLE, N. S. (AP)—Stewart Wright, 13, told a coroner's jury yesterday how he shot his 14-year-old pal to death March 2 while they listened to a "shooting" radio program and read comic books about the Two-Gun Kid.

Stewart said his chum, Roland Muir, suggested they play with two rifles kept behind the kitchen door. Roland put six shells in one rifle. Stewart said he thought Roland ejected all of them from the magazine.

"Just in fun I said to Rollie 'Hands up,'" Stewart went on.

Stewart pointed the rifle at Roland and squeezed the trigger. The gun fired, sending a bullet through Roland's forehead.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death and recommended that comic books "of the type found at the scene" be banned.

Witches' Names Cleared; Justice Must Eye Herself

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

The good names of six executed women are being legally restored in Massachusetts, the state where they were hanged. And high time too.

We all know justice is slow, but it was in 1692 that the six were convicted of witchcraft and put to death on "Gallows Hill" in Salem.

Now, 262 years and about 14 generations later, a descendant of Ann Greenslade Pudeator, one of the six, is having the great satisfaction of getting that verdict legally reversed by the state legislature.

He's H. Vance Greenslit of New Orleans, La.—and the first report of success came to him when the INS bureau in his city passed along the news that his appeal had just passed the House of Representatives in the Bay State and that Senate approval was expected to follow shortly.

"What made you bring this action?" he was asked.

"I got tired," the gratified Mr. Greenslit replied, "of being called 'a son of a witch.'"

He discovered his relationship about 20 years ago, he said, when an uncle, W. Lee Greenslit of Lincoln, Neb., began tracing the family tree.

"He's a genealogist and he followed our lineage straight back to Ann Greenslade Pudeator and the Salem witch trials. In 1948 I got a Salem attorney, a friend of mine, to introduce a bill to clear her name. It was beaten down, and another few years went by."

The second time, Mr. Greenslit asked his attorney to round up descendants of the other five "witches" who went up Gallows Hill with Ann, and try to get all six cleared at once.

Living descendants of Bridget Bishop, Susanna Martin, Alice Parker, Margaret Scott and Wilmot Read were found, and they were unanimous about supporting Mr. Greenslit's cause.

"It's cost me several hundred dollars in legal fees," Greenslit ended, "but it's been worth it."

It certainly seems so—and not only from the personal point of view of the families who have had a blot on their names since colonial times.

There's been a dark stain on justice's own family tree too.

From 1450 to 1650, says my encyclopedia, thousands of "witches" were executed in Europe, and the "fanaticism" spread to the new colonies across the sea.

"Even scientific interest," says the encyclopedia, "was suspect. An accusation of witchcraft became an easy means to destroy an enemy."

There were those, of course, who warned then of hysteria and the enslavement of reason by fear. But others said the proof of witchcraft was clear, undeniable and sufficient—and to disagree made you suspect of being "bewitched" yourself.

Only people of great courage continued to speak up and speak out. There were those with enough courage. There always will be those with enough courage.

But when it takes courage to speak, something has gone awry with a nation's freedom.

The first yardstick of that freedom is that it doesn't take heroes to say what they please in public.

When men start applauding free speech as courage—speech is no longer truly free.

For several centuries, the world rate of population growth has increased steadily. At the present growth rate of approximately one per cent a year, world population will double in 70 years. The last doubling took more than a century.

Farmers Market Plans Get Board's Approval

County Auditors Will Take Bids

Building, Shed, Lot for 300 Cars in Project on Pontiac Lake Road

Architect Brad Edwards' plans for the new Oakland County farmer's market on Pontiac Lake road won the County Board of Supervisors' approval Wednesday.

The board told the county auditors to take bids. Supervisors plan to look over the construction offers in April.

The new market, planned for Pontiac Lake road just west of of Telegraph, includes a main building, outdoor "shed" and blacktopped parking lot for 300 cars.

The main building, concrete block, some 178 by 41 feet in size, will include 40 sellers' stalls, rest rooms, offices and a snack bar.

The "shed," a floored and roofed but unwalled building, 40 by 160 feet, could be used during milder months when more farmers and gardeners bring produce to market. It has rom for another 32 stalls, with a roof overhang deep enough to give shelter from rain.

Supervisors Wednesday voted to send telegrams to Michigan's legislators asking them to fight a bill that would let school districts ask Michigan Tax Commission for changes in equalized valuations set by county boards of supervisors.

This bill also would make the tax commission's figures binding for three years.

The county's industrial heads will favor a new courthouse, Lloyd Clawson told supervisors. Clawson, chairman of the board's special building committee, said he met with industrialists about three weeks ago. He repeated that he's sure that "if we carry the facts to the people, they won't turn down a new courthouse Aug. 3."

The board also cleared deeds so that Royal Oak and Farmington will have clear titles to land they have bought from the county some time ago.

Letters to the board included one from the state jail inspector, who commended Oakland County Sheriff's Department on jail supervision. The letter suggested terraza tile be put in cellblock floors and said all prisoners must be furnished coveralls.

Leo M. Maurer of Farmington wrote the board that if the county doesn't get two old dead trees out of the county ditch back of his motel he'll take the matter to Lansing. He claims the trees obstruct the view.

With their parents are Lyn, 11, seated; Phil, 17, and Tom, 15, standing; and 3-year-old Susan Hollis snuggled against her father's shoulder.

WANT TO BUY A LANDMARK?—The Mackinac Island Parks and Harbor Commission has decided to sell to the highest bidder the Clerks' Quarter Building of the John Jacob Astor House. Commission spokesmen said bids for the 137-year-old timber building will be opened on May 8.

137-Year-Old Mackinac House Is for Sale

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—A 137-year-old reminder of Michigan's pioneer role in the fur industry is for sale.

The Mackinac Island Parks and Harbor Commission has decided to sell to the highest bidder, the Clerks' Quarters Building of the John Jacob Astor House.

Commission spokesmen said bids for the two-story timber building will be opened May 8.

Astor, who founded a fur trading empire in the Great Lakes area shortly after his migration to this country, used the building to house employes. It was built in 1817.

The building stands adjacent to the Astor Fur Post and the Mackinac Island Community Building, formerly the John Jacob Astor House.

Originally the clerks' building was divided into small apartments, each with an outside entrance. Small bedrooms on the second floor were used as guest rooms.

The building later was used as a summer hotel on the popular resort island and its first floor was converted into a large dining room.

Commission spokesmen said the building was put up for sale because of lack of funds to support its upkeep.

Senate Enacts Lobby Controls

Bill Squeaks Through by Slim 17-14 Margin in Raucous Session

LANSING (AP)—In one of the most raucous sessions in years, the Senate passed a new lobbyist control bill Wednesday after weakening it at the last minute.

The bill squeaked through without a vote to spare, 17-14. The vote crossed party lines.

At one point the measure got so tangled in parlimentary procedure that the Senate had to adopt a special rule to get it free and make it available for a vote.

The measure retains the present law requiring lobbyists to register with the Secretary of State, but also makes them report monthly their lobbying expenses, their employers, the bills they seek to influence, sets up a code of ethics for lobbyists and creates a joint legislative committee to police lobbyists.

The weakening amendment takes away the power of that committee to revoke or suspend a lobbyist license. The committee now can only recommend such action to the Secretary of State.

Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids), a bitter foe of the bill, dumped his wastebasket on the desk of Sen. Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw), one of the sponsors, after the bill passed.

"You have this day crowned the man who called you a handout," Feenstra said.

County Census Backers to Push Date for Next Fall Won't Let the Issue Die

Oakland County Board of Supervisors killed the special county census Wednesday, but the issue may not stay dead for long.

Harold K. Schone of Oak Park said census backers will ask the board again this fall to approve a census.

'Some of these communities that voted against it Tuesday may go for it then," he said. "They're due to grow."

The special census would have given local cities and townships which have gained the most people since 1950 bigger shares in state tax money.

At stake was the $3,500,000 in sales and intangibles tax money that Michigan sends back to the county each year.

But the communities that hadn't grown so fast would have lost money.

Pontiac, for instance, would have lost some $85,000 a year if the census had been taken. Now it is down for about the same as the $645,000 it got last year.

And Oak Park — which pays a higher share of the county's taxes than Berkley — will go on getting about one-third as much as the $151,000 Berkley gets every year in state sales and intangibles tax returns.

The board's sharp about-face on the census issue (it approved the census without a single "no" vote Jan. 18) left several strings dangling Wednesday.

Oakland County Treasurer's office will have to return $17,350 that several south Oakland communities had sent in as the "down payment" on a census.

The U.S. Bureau of Census in Washington, notified of the county's desire for a census, will have to be told immediately the board has changed its mind.

The board's action Wednesday climaxed several weeks of worry for supervisors from communities on the losing end of the census.

After the Jan. 18 meeting, some supervisors suddenly realized their cities might lose tax money if the census went through. That was when Ferndale, Pontiac and other supervisors petitioned for a reconsideration of the census approval.

Wednesday's session, marked by two full hours of debate, featured Roy Goodspeed and Orph C. Holmes of Ferndale leading the fight against the census. Schone, Robert O. Wright of Clawson and William T. Dennis, Hazel Park, led the pro-census movement.

U.S.-Japanese Treaty Sent to Diet for Approval

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party has predicted the pact will be ratified shortly, perhaps before the end of the month, despite opposition from the combined Socialist parties and minor groups.

Is U. S. to Protect Off-Shore Formosa Isles?

By FRED SPARKS

PEESHAN, Nationalist Guerrilla Island Off Red China —(NEA) — The United States will soon face another terrible decision in the orient which may bring American sailors under the fire of Red Chinese shore batteries.

The Communists might soon try to invade the strip of islands from north of Swatow to south of Shanghai held by Nationalist guerrillas, as bold a bunch of bully boys as ever peeled a Communist Adam's Apple.

From March to August the Straits of Formosa and the East China Sea are as calm as a goldfish bowl — weather ideal for troop-loaded Communist sampans.

The terrible decision in the Orient, being pondered today in the Pentagon, is: "Should the U. S. Seventh Fleet, now committed to defend only Formosa, extend its floating steel shield to cover the offshore islands, many but minutes by speed-boat from Red China?"

Several top U. S. military masterminds shout "Yes!" They say these island outposts are as vital to Formosa as infantry outposts to a regimental headquarters. They'd be priceless if the Red Chinese hit us again in Korea and — as Ike has warned — if we stop pulling our punches and start splitting our atoms.

If willing to pay in lives sufficient young men — the currency of combat—the Communists can swamp these islands. Lives to Peiping are pennies.

Our carrier aircraft and fleet could splash the Communist wooden ships, for Dictator Mao hasn't a spare steel warship in his sea locker.

The islands staged 863 raids in 1953, and I visited several like Peeshan, a few city blocks from a newsstand selling the day's Shanghai papers. Passing small craft with American cannon that harass Red shipping, I arrived after dark on a blacked-out armed junk.

Even a cigarette glow would encourage nearby Red artillery, which during a recent 24 hours thumped 1,000 shells on Peeshan, lowering real estate values.

I shifted from junk to sampan to the back of a husky porter in swimming trunks. Peeshan hasn't got a yard of beach, touching the sea with a line of cliffs, and he carried me to stone steps.

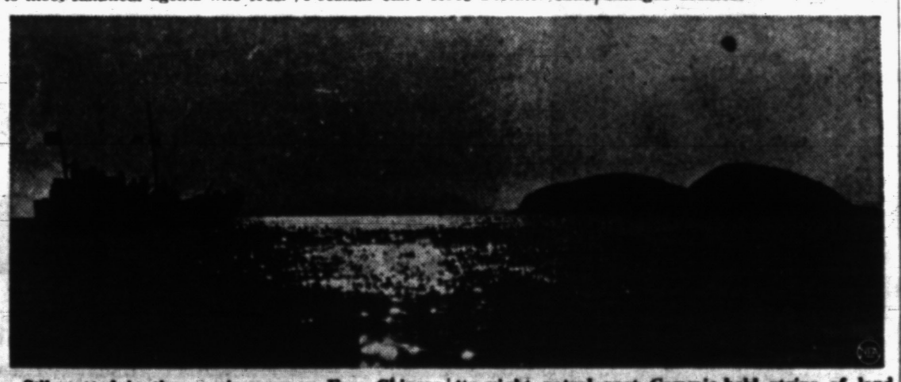
As an oil lamp flickered on his lacquer table, the island commander, apologized in Mandarin fashion for his "unworthy, humble menu, served eggs poached in clear soup with floating strips of chicken and bamboo shoots; fried shrimps big as a lady's fist swimming in soya sauce, and hot yellow wine.

On Peeshan's peak I watched guerrillas dig in "for a last stand," anticipating the troubled spring. I felt they weren't just gassing, for they have that particular zoom which makes commandos or paratroopers or marines a breed alone in a world softened by escalators and electric blankets.

The Free Chinese Government wisely leaves these islands to the volunteer guerrillas, most of whom skipped China recently and are younger than the "wheel chair" army of 600,000 on Formosa. They have no rank, merely "leaders," and earn five Formosan dollars monthly enough for one double-feature.

I could hear Communists checking their machine guns across the waters as I visited bamboo houses to meet fanatical agents who cross secretly to the mainland. Their reports help U. S. intelligence plot Red Chinese intentions.

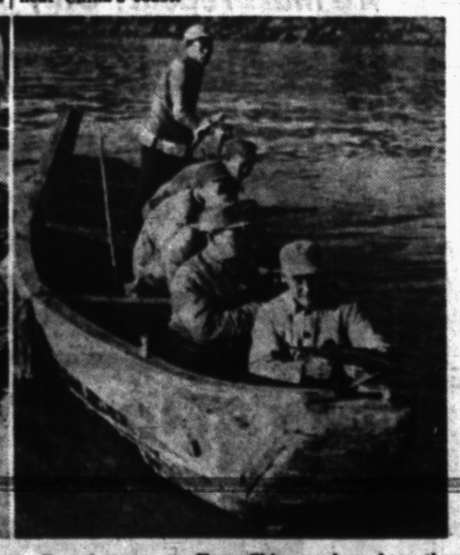
All these stabs from islands like Peeshan can't force Dictator Mao to apply for the Kremlin's Retirement Pension, but they assure mainland Chinese the civil war isn't over. And in the Orient people change sides often as a model changes dresses.



Silhouetted in the evening sun, a Free Chinese guerrilla junk, part of the anti-Red fleet, begins its night patrol past Commie-held strips of land near China's coast.

New face of Free China is this determined, serious youngster who fights with guerrillas against the Reds. He's only 12.

In daylight, sampans cluster in the cove of a Free Chinese island off Red China. By night, they carry guerrillas to raid Commies.



For the camera, Free Chinese show how they sneak up on Communist ships during night raids to seize them for the Nationalists.

Compromise Jobless Pay Measure Passed by Senate

LANSING (AP)—A compromise unemployment compensation bill passed the Senate Wednesday and was immediately blasted by Gov. Williams as a "shabby caricature" of what is needed.

Williams threatened to "go to the people" with an initiated revision of the unemployment compensation law unless the House improves the Senate bill.

A House Republican caucus agreed to hold back its own bill on the subject, one even less acceptable to Williams, and to work on the Senate measure as a starter. It did not agree to accept the Senate bill, however.

The measure, as passed in the Senate, increases maximum idleness benefits from the present $35 to $41 a week for a man with four children. Democrats have demanded from $44 to $52 a week.

It also sets up a new merit rating system for computing employer contributions to the $440 million unemployment fund.

And it extends the maximum benefit period from 20 to 26 weeks.

Williams and Republican leaders were poles apart in interpreting the bill.

The Governor said 64 per cent of the unemployed would either get no increase in benefits or only $2 a week. He said only 1.6 per cent of the unemployed would get the $41 maximum.

In addition, he said, it contains "numerous fine-print eligibility and disqualification clauses which would deprive thousands of Michigan citizens of their job insurance rights.

He implied he would veto the bill in its present form.

Howevr, the bill's sponsor, Sen. James M. Teahen (R-Owosso) said the bill would raise benefits in Michigan to the highest in the nation.

National Guard Defends Circus

Two Commanders Deny That Show Will Take Money Out of City

The commanders of Pontiac's two National Guard units today clarified their positions in the sponsorship of the Webster Bros. Circus to be presented at the armory here March 20.

Capt. Carl G. Yarling Jr., commander of the 107th Ordnance Co., and 1st Lt. A. J. Largent, commander of Company M, 125th Infantry, said the circus was presented in Port Huron and Ann Arbor by the same organization and fully accepted by those cities.

"It has been inferred that the circus we are sponsoring will take money out of Pontiac," wrote the officers. "As we are not standing the expense of the presentation, it is our belief that this money, along with the $42,000 that these units bring in annually through payrolls and monies alloted by the state to maintain the armory, will be spent in the city of Pontiac."

They said the Webster Bros. Circus is standing all expenses of the presentation and that the "Pontiac Guard receives 25 per cent of the gross plus 50 per cent of all tickets sold by members of the National Guard without standing any expense."

The money will be used to further the growth and development of the units, stated Capt. Yarling and Lt. Largent.

"As a proud and protective organization of your city, it is inconceivable how it could be inferred that we would harm the people of Pontiac financially or in any other manner."

Earlier, two persons promoting the show were accused of soliciting funds without a city license. Their conviction has been appealed.

Distribution of veterans in the versatile state runs from 50 veterans in tiny and mountainous Alpine county to 818,000 in Los Angeles county.

Amputees Ski Like Experts at New School

BIG BEAR LAKE, Calif. (AP)—The challenging art of skiing—tough enough for a normal person to learn—is being mastered by a group of determined, one-legged men.

Like other groups in the area they're taking instruction, but there's a difference: the members of this bunch use only one regulation ski, with another on a crutch.

They are students of the American Amputee Ski School, the only one of its type in this country.

Its director, Scobee Smith of Lancaster, Calif., lost a leg in a bout with cancer two years ago.

The school, just started this winter, has about a dozen pupils, including three Army veterans who became single amputees after being injured in Korean combat.

The amputee skiers come from various southern California points to attend weekend classes at nearby Snow Summit.

"The whole idea of an amputee ski school," said Smith, a senior at the University of California at Los Angeles, "belonged to Bob Engelien, a former Army captain and an amputee who died just three months ago."

"Bob saw amputee skiing for the first time in Germany in 1951, and gave it a try. He became convinced there should be an amputee ski school over here. He got it going just before he died three months ago."

* * *

Strangely, one of the obstacles in establishing a ski school came from some skiers who said it would be "depressing" to the public to see amputees skiing. Actually, skiers here now marvel at the amputees' great progress.

"We can ride up on the rope tows, make downhill runs, do our turns and traverses like pros," Smith reported. "Last week, I even went through the slalom course.

As for the construction of the skis, Smith said Engelien brought back a sample crutch ski from Germany and he copied it and made others for the students at his school. "We use a regulation ski plus the crutch ski."

The Snow Summit amputee ski school is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, which pays the teaching and equipment costs. Snow Summit provides the facilities at no cost. Service clubs handle food, lodging and transportation expenses for the amputees.

TOGETHER AFTER 17 YEARS — The above sisters (l. to r.) Mrs. Lura Gipson, of Jonesboro, Ark.; Mrs. Artie Colbert, of Oakland, Calif.; and Mrs. Cecil Skihner, of 61 N. Parke St., recently were reunited after 17 years. They last saw each other in 1937 in Jonesboro. Mrs. Gipson and Mrs. Colbert came to Pontiac to visit Mrs. Skinner who is convalescing from an operation.

Ike Announces Policy Change

President Says Country Won't Fight Without OK From Congress

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's statement that the U. S. never will go to war without Congressional approval was seen today as a basic modification of the previously announced "massive retaliatory" program.

Mr. Eisenhower, spoke with emphasis at his news conference and added he wanted to make his position clear. He later authorized direct quotation.

The chief executive said:

"There is going to be no involvement of America in war unless it is a result of the constitutional process that is placed upon Congress to declare it. Now, let us have that clear. And that is the answer."

He was asked what would the U. S. do if one of the American Air Force technicians assisting the French in Indochina should be killed or captured by the Communists.

The emphatic reply of Mr. Eisenhower was studied in connection with the Jan. 12 speech in New York by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who said the U. S. defense program is based mainly on a "capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our own choosing" in case of an enemy attack.

Adlai E. Stevenson, in his Saturday night talk criticising the administration, said there was a question whether the military "new look" gave the nation "the grim choice of inaction or thermonuclear holocaust."

In a vigorous answer, Mr. Eisenhower said he was doing "nothing" that he does "not believe is for the welfare and the security and the continued safety" of the U. S.

BLASTS McCARTHY — Sen. Ralph E. Flanders, above, Republican of Vermont, accused Sen. Joseph McCarthy in a recent Senate speech of "doing his best to shatter" the Republican Party. Flanders also told the Senate that McCarthy's Red-hunting campaign is diverting the nation's attention from the "dangerous problems" faced abroad.

Music Is Made on Discard Junk

Caribbean Islanders Turn Oil Drums, Cans, Planks to Instruments

WASHINGTON — Alladin rubbed his lamp and up popped a genie. In the West Indies, music-minded islanders are tapping on steel oil barrels with rubber-tipped sticks—and out pour magic melodies.

Enthusiastic "steel bands" now springing up around the Caribean say their tunes are as true as those of conventional orchestras. Certainly they have a haunting quality all their own.

The steel-barrel instruments are discards from oil-industry warehouses scattered among the islands. The musicians cut the drums to size with a hacksaw, and tune them by sledgehammer. With the talent of people who created calypso, they pound out indentations on the drum face until they achieve the precise tonal effects desired.

All over the world, the ingenious use of primitive devices proves that music will out.

Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, wife of the editor of the National Geographic Magazine, reported in a recent article on the improvised gadgets played by the native gold miners of Johannesburg, South Africa.

One dancer at a tribal show at the mines "rattled his own accompaniment with stones in a shoeblacking can. . . There were drumheads stretched across barrels, tin whistles, and marimbas made of planks, copper tubing, and tin cans."

In Latin America, each nation has its own assortment of native rhythm makers.

Among curious examples are cow-horn, deer-hoof, and gourd rattles, bamboo flues, copper bells, and trumpets made of bark, clay, seashells, and animal bones. Other pieces include grotesque but beautifully carved wooden whistles, panpipes of bound reeds, and bird-beak and crab-claw jingles.

Through the ages primitive musicians have used what came to hand.

Students agree that many string instrumnts originated in Asia. An ancient contrivance still played in the world's remoter areas is the musical bow. It resembles the hunter's arched bow, with a fiber or string stretched its length, and either an attached or separate sound box. Musical bows ranging from 25 feet to a few inches have been found.

Water, Tear Gas Quell Jail Riot

Cook County Prisoners Surrender After Seven Hours of Barrage

CHICAGO (UP)—Nineteen prisoners in Cook County's overcrowded jail rioted for more than seven hours yesterday before they surrendered after a barrage of tear gas shells and streams of water from high-pressure fire hoses.

The disheveled prisoners, soaking, shivering and gasping, stumbled out of a cell-block dayroom on the jail's third floor after a final hour of defiance late last night.

Three of the 19 suffered injuries in the stormy battle the inmates had waged with guards, police and firemen. Four guards also were injured, none seriously.

The thwarting of a jail break was blamed by Sheriff John E. Babb for touching off the siege by the prisoners. All were confined to the maximum security section of the jail and were considered dangerous. The ringleaders were described by officials as a condemned murderer and a bank robber.

Babb, who was overcome by tear gas fumes in leading the assault against the prisoners, had steadfastly refused to bargain with the rioters.

* * *

Another jail official said overcrowding of the jail, which houses nearly 2,000 inmates, contributed to the riot. The jail was built to accommodate 1,305 prisoners.

More than 52 tear gas shells were fired into the dayroom, which measures 30 by 100 feet. Firemen poured water in through broken windows and through ports inside the building.

Chief Patrick Tuohy of the sheriff's police finally yelled to the rioters: "All right, any of you that want to come out, walk out backward one at a time."

Tuohy said after a long pause one of the prisoners shouted: "All right, we give up. We're coming out."

Bulletin Official Dies Last Night

Cerebral Hemorrhage Claims Philadelphia Newspaper Executive

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—William L. McLean Jr., 58, a big city newspaper executive who championed the rights of the small town paper, died last night of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was vice president and treasurer of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and a brother of Robert McLean, president of the Bulletin Co. and president of The Associated Press.

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage at his home, McLean was taken to Lankenau Hospital, where he died a short while later. His wife and two children were at his bedside.

McLean was active in the Bulletin's operations since his discharge from the Army as a first lieutenant after World War I. His primary interests were in the company's finances and in the handling of newsprint.

As a past president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Assn., McLean devoted much attention to the problems of smaller newspapers throughout the state.

He felt that the big dailies should keep in mind the smaller newspaper's responsibility to its community and help it meet that responsibility.

Survivors include his widow, Eleanor Ray Bushnell McLean; a son William L. III; and a daughter Ray.

Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Expensive Frugality

DAVENPORT, Wash. (UP) — Turning back the calendar a couple of years may be the wish of many persons, but it didn't work when John Bates tried it. Bates shot his deer in a special hunt and marked it with a tag as required by law. But a game protector discovered the tag was for 1951 instead of 1953. Bates was fined $75 and costs.

Pearson Views Ike as 1-Termer

Speaks in Detroit, Says Chief's Health Fine but Blood Pressure Up

DETROIT (INS) — Washington columnist Drew Pearson predicted yesterday in Detroit that President Eisenhower will not seek a second term.

Pearson said he was given to understand that Eisenhower had told friends it would be necessary to make his mark as President in the next two and a half years.

The columnist interpreted this as meaning the President did not intend to seek re-election.

Also Pearson added that the President's age and health were factors against seeking a second term. The columnist said he thought Eisenhower's health was reasonably good but that he suffered "from high-blood pressure."

Pearson said, too, that former President Harry Truman supposedly had told intimates that Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams would make a splendid Democrat candidate for President in 1956.

The columnist addressed an audience of 2,200 at the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theater. He later spoke at a luncheon at the Detroit Boat Club.

Trial Opens Friday in Slaying of Wife

The first-degree murder trial of Albert Munson, 28, of 442 Bloomfield Ave., is scheduled to begin Friday in Circuit Court.

Munson is accused of shooting his wife Gladys, 33, the night of Dec. 29 in her home, at 240 Hughes St., following a quarrel.

Herman Walton, 38, of 502 Bloomfield Ave., who said he was in the house acting as Mrs. Munson's bodyguard, exchanged shots with Munson and both men were wounded. Walton said he caught Munson after a short chase.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Anti-Picket Hearing Postponed in Flint

FLINT (AP)—An anti-picketing injunction hearing sought by the Commercial Contracting Corp. of Detroit against the AFL Flint Building Trades Council was indefinitely postponed yesterday.

Attorneys for the union and company had asked for a seven-day adjournment to permit continuation of negotiations toward a settlement of a machinery moving dispute.

Instead, Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth said that he would grant an indefinite adjournment which either side could reopen.

The dispute was over whether council members of AFL teamsters men employed by the corporation should remove government-owned machinery from two Buick plants at Flint.

Teamsters have resumed work at the plants and there has been no interference from the building tradesmen.

Woman Proves Non Sequitur, Saves $10 Fine

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Mary G. Talladay turned philosopher in traffic court yesterday and escaped a $10 towing ticket with a neat bit of logic.

Police gave the Detroit woman a towing ticket after pushing her car a few feet last Jan. 27. The car had been blocking a driveway.

"You know as well as I do, your honor, that to tow a car means to pull it," she told Traffic Referee Rollin D. Shull. "And they pushed me. That is not towing."

Shull agreed and suspended the sentence. It was Mrs. Talladay's first brush with the law in 37 years of driving.

Cab Driver Robbed by Young Gunmen

A Pontiac cab driver reported to police Wednesday that two youths robbed him of $20.50 at gun point at Motor St. and Fisher Ave.

The victim, Ben Cole, of 1630 Parkway Dr., Sylvan Lake a Yellow Checker Cab Co. driver, said he was told to drive to a Franklin road address when he picked up the pair at Bagley and Wesson sts.

At Franklin and Fisher Aves. Cole said one of the youths pointed a pistol at him, and told him to stop and robbed him.

Cole described them as medium in height, about 160 pounds, between 17 and 18, and wearing jackets and dark trousers.

Senate to Vote on Alaska Rider

Dem Proposal Attaches Statehood for Territory to Bill to Admit Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alaska finds out today whether its statehood hopes are to be coupled with those of Hawaii.

The Senate scheduled a vote on a Democratic move to tie Alaska to the pending bill, passed by the House last year, to admit Hawaii to the Union.

Observers predicted the outcome would be close. The amendment, offered by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), is backed almost solidly by Democrats. Republicans, with few exceptions, are expected to oppose it.

Chairman Hugh Butler (R-Neb) of the Senate Interior Committee, yesterday called Anderson's move a "political trick" to defeat Hawaii statehood.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, has given assurances that the Alaska bill will be given Senate consideration soon, possibly this month, but Democrats say that isn't enough.

At his news conference yesterday, President Eisenhower urged consideration of statehood for the two territories individually on their merits.

But Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) reiterated Democratic arguments that a single bill to provide admission for both territories offers the only hope that admission of Alaska will be brought to the floor of the House. An Alaska statehood bill, approved by the House Interior Committee last summer, rests in the Rules Committee there.

3 Given Probation for School Entry

Three youths who pleaded guilty to entering the Wilson Grade School without permission were placed on 60 days probation today by Pontiac Judge Odin H. Johnson.

The three are Billy G. Spicer, 18, of 45 Allen St.; Gordon F. Sawyer, 18, of 3166 Pridham, Keego Harbor; and Roger G. Nosek, 17, of 260 E. Wilson Ave.

They were arrested by Pontiac Detective John DePauw and Sgt. Henry Hoyt yesterday after a slip of paper bearing Sawyer's name was found in the school.

DePauw said the school was broken into March 8 but nothing was taken.

Jackson Group Planning Industrial Exhibition

JACKSON (AP) — The newly organized industrial committee of the Greater Jackson Assn. has announced plans to stage an industrial exposition in the Jackson Armory June 3-5.

Waterford Police Recover Car, Arrest 4 Youths

A stolen car was recovered yesterday before the owner knew it was missing, and four Dearborn youths in the car were arrested by Waterford Township Police.

Patrolmen checked the car at U. S. 10 and Waterford road and found that it belonged to a Dearborn man. But Dearborn Police said it was not reported stolen.

The owner identified the car and told police he was not aware that it was missing.

The youths, Jack A. Patton, 17, of 4703 Zigter; Gerald L. Golden, 17, of 18228 Colgate; and two juveniles, were turned over to Dearborn Police yesterday afternoon.

Polio Vaccine Being Delayed

Serum Still Undergoing Extensive Clinical Tests at Laboratory

Dr. John Gorrell, of New York, warned Wednesday that tests of the Salk polio vaccine in Oakland and 11 other Michigan counties may be delayed beyond April 1.

Dr. Gorrell, representing the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, spoke to health directors of the 12 test counties including Oakland's Dr. John D. Monroe, in Detroit. He explained that batches of the vaccine are still undergoing clinical tests and may not reach Michigan until late in April.

Parents of the 32,000 children in first, second and third grades will be asked to let their youngsters take part in the tests.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan health commissioner, warned that if tests are delayed too long, counties may not have time to finish them before schools close for the summer or before the annual rise in polio starts in June. The three doses of vaccine are given over a five-week period.

The county medical directors were given manuals of suggested procedures for conducting the vaccination program.

150 Donors Still Needed for Bloodmobile Visit

About 150 donors are still needed for Monday's American Red Cross bloodmobile visit at the Pontiac Elks' Temple, at 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Bloodmobile hours are 2 until 8 p.m.

Volunteers will man Red Cross office telephones, FE 4-3575, until 5 p.m. Friday to take calls for appointments. Mrs. N. E. Durocher, blood donor recruitment chairman, will take calls at her home, FE 5-4244, over the weekend.

Traditional Prayer Day Is Observed in Holland

HOLLAND (AP)—A day of prayer for crops and industry, a tradition in Holland was observed Wednesday in churches and schools.

Most churches held special services Wednesday night and observance took place during the day in many schools.

At Hope College the program was held as part of Religious Emphasis Week.

Cashing Bonds Causes Arrest

Detroiter, 19, Goes on Spree After Pal Is Sent to Prison

DETROIT (AP) — Treasury agents now have custody of a 19-year-old Detroiter who police said cashed $25,000 in government bonds "because it was his one chance to get in on some big money and live high."

Police said Lincoln Foster Stephens told them he had used a forged draft card to cash the bonds.

He was arrested Friday after six of the bonds were cashed at a Bank of Commonwealth branch.

Police said Stephens bought two expensive cars, eight costly suits, six pairs of shoes, and gambled away $10,000 in Toledo.

Stephens, police said, took the bonds from a safe stolen by himself and Samuel Williams, 39, of Toledo. They stole the safe, police said, from Elijah Conwell, an elderly Bayou, Miss. cotton mill owner, to raise money to defend Williams on an Ohio burglary charge.

The bonds were left to Stephens, police said, when Williams was convicted and sent to prison. Stephens burned $20,000 worth before he got the draft card, police said.

When he did get the card, he waited until the Christmas rush before cashing the bonds, police said. They turned him over to Secret Service agents after his arrest.

Judge Imposes Vacation on Overworked Driver

DETROIT (AP) — William Griffin was given 10 days in jail to rest after he told police that he had been working 16 hours a day and was "just tired out" when his auto struck four parked cars and ran three red lights before he was stopped.

WEB ARTIST—William (Pat) Lyndon, 79, of Kalamazoo, displays one of two web pictures. Pat claims he's the only Irishman currently painting pictures on spider webs. He collects the webs, then paints over them.

Detroit School Principal Dies Following Accident

DETROIT (AP) — Earl J. Mayrend, 55-year-old Detroit school principal, died following an auto collision Wednesday. Police said that Mayrend had been undergoing treatment for high blood pressure.

Witnesses said that he had slumped over the wheel at the time of the accident. Mayrend had headed the Moore School for Maladjusted Youths in Detroit since 1944.

Protest Double Censoring of Indochina Dispatches

MANILA (AP)—Foreign correspondents in Indochina have protested to French authorities against a double censorship recently imposed on news dispatches, an American correspondent said here today.

R. P. Martin of U.S. News and World Report said stories from Indochina are subjected to both French and Vietnamese censorship. The French check for military security and the Vietnamese on political matters, he said.

Detroit Man, 35, Dies as Excavation Caves In

Dearborn Schools Hire Superintendent

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Mark F. Scully will become the highest paid school superintendent in the history of suburban Dearborn July 1.

Scully, now superintendent of schools at Paducah, Ky., was awarded a three-year contract last night. Terms of the contract call for a starting salary of $14,000 and ranges up to $15,000 in the third year.

Scully, who received unanimous approval of the Dearborn School Board, succeeds James A. Lewis.

Lewis resigned to take over directorship of the bureau of school services at the University of Michigan.

Latin Countries Cheer Invitation

Asked Here to Discuss Economic Woes; Red Ban Gets Backing

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP)—Cheered by an invitation to tell Latin America's economic troubles in Washington, the 10th Inter-American Conference doubled its work scheduled today to meet U.S. desires for a resolution promising joint action against Communist infiltration.

Chairman Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, Nicaraguan foreign minister, said his Political Committee would hold two meetings a day until the Communist issue was settled.

* * *

Nine of the 19 Latin-American nations at the conference (Costa Rica has boycotted it) already have gone on record in support of the U.S. proposal to take action against any Red attempt to gain control of an American government. Mexico and Uruguay have urged that the U.S. plan include action against "any totalitarianism," but U.S. spokesmen feel this would scatter the fire of their anti-Communist attack.

U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Samuel C. Waugh brought cheers from most of the delegates when he invited them to meet in Washington to discuss their specific economic problems. Most republics south of the Rio Grande have been willing to go along with the U.S. anti-Communist position in general. But they have consistently demanded effective, prompt aid to bolster their mainly one-crop economies as one of the best ways to raise living standards and thus hamper the spread of communism.

* * *

A chief source of grievance among the United States' southern neighbors is the lack of parity between the prices they get for their raw materials and the prices they pay for U.S. manufactured goods.

FIREMEN USE LADDER TO TOPPLE WALL—An aerial ladder being used by firemen to topple a fire-weakened wall is itself bent in the middle as a blaze destroys an empty grain warehouse and three barges on Gowanus Canal, Brooklyn. These pictures were taken just as the ladder hits the wall and falling debris bends it.

Blowoff Costs Man $81

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—A New Britain motorist was fined a total of $81 on charges of violating five motor vehicle laws. He was picked up after a long auto chase in a busy section of the city. The motorist told the judge that he was "blowing off steam" after an argument with his wife.

Walnuts Shelled Electronically at High Speeds

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — The Northwest Nut Growers processing plant is setting new production records with an electronic nut-cracker which literally explodes walnuts out of their shells.

John E. Trunk, general manager, said the nutcracker shells 1,200 pounds of walnuts an hour. The old crusher type cracker shelled 900 pounds an hour with a much lower yield of nut halves.

The electronic cracker was developed by research engineers in cooperation with Westinghouse Electric Corp. It works this way:

As the walnuts tumble off a threader feeder roll, they are grasped in midair between the tem and blossom end by two metal fingers called electrodes.

A 65,000-volt electrical charge, which is stored in capacitatiors pierces the shells through the electrodes. Then the shells and meats drop into a vibrator conveyor which severs the nutmeats from the shells.

A "cracking" crew of 60 persons now handles the same volume of nuts as the former crew of 100.

Eventually, Trunk said, the plant hopes to triple the walnut shelling rate to 60 nuts a second and possibly even extend the electronic nutcracking process to filberts, of which 98 per cent of the U. S. Crop is raised in western Oregon and Washington.

Cites Obvious Difference

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) —Asked to explain the essential difference between color television and black-and-white, a technician explained: "In black-and-white you see 'snow'. In color, it's confetti."

Cities Make Greater Use of Income Tax

CHICAGO (UP) — More cities are using the municipal income tax as a means of solving their financial problems, according to the American Municipal Association.

In Pennsylvania alone, such taxes are used in 284 communities, including 11 cities, 73 boroughs and 200 school districts, the association said.

In Ohio, the tax is used by Columbus, Dayton, Maumee, Springfield, Toledo, Youngstown and Warren.

Louisville, Ky., has an occupational tax similar to a municipal income tax, which will expire April 1.

Other cities, according to the municipal association, have such taxes under consideration.

As compared with 1939, the average American in 1953 ate 1,250 per cent more frozen vegetables, 900 per cent more baby foods, 738 per cent more frozen fruit and fruit juices, 218 per cent more canned soup and 71 per cent more ice cream.

Many Are Sponsoring Furnishings Exhibit

'Omnibus' Show to Aid Humane Work

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Sponsors of an exhibit which will be called "Omnibus" and which will be put on by the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society, Inc., are many. The show will be held in the former Kresge store in Birmingham March 22, 23 and 24.

Josephine Collins, chairman, reports that for the first time the finest designs in hand-woven fabrics, furniture and household accessories of both past and present will be exhibited side by side so that people may judge for themselves how harmoniously the products of different eras can be combined in the home today.

Each dealer is being carefully selected as outstanding in his field.

Among those sponsoring this affair on behalf of the society are Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Candler, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Davis, Miss Collins, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Everell E. Fisher and Mrs. James Q. Goudie.

Still others are Mr. and Mrs. Graham John Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kern, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Otter and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DeVisser.

The Oakland County Animal Welfare Society, Inc., founded in 1923, supports and supplements the humane work of the county.

The splendid work of the Animal Shelter on West Walton boulevard in Pontiac is well known and is steadily increasing in importance under the direction of Dr. Frank R. Bates and Mrs. Esther Williams, manager.

They are glad to have any interested persons visit the shelter to see the fine things that are being accomplished in cooperation with the humane officer in Oakland County.

Officers of the society are Mrs. Marian La Faive, president; Mrs. Henry Garen, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Jack Craigie, recording secretary, all of Royal Oak, Charles Mortenson of Birmingham, vice president; Mrs. Esther Williams, treasurer; Miss Collins, assistant treasurer, and Albert Sundell, humane officer.

The Omnibus committee members are Mrs. LaFaive, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Goudie, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Delbert Adams, Mrs. Edward G. Ball and Mrs. Lewis K. Marshall.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harrington will be hosts at a buffet supper in their home on Sussex road this Sunday evening. The affair will be a farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Paray and Mr. and Mrs. Valter Poole.

Mr. Paray will direct the last Detroit Symphony concert of the year this evening and will leave shortly with Mrs. Paray for Paris. They plan to spend this summer on the French Riviera.

Mr. Poole will direct the last of the family concerts for the season Sunday afternoon. Among the other guests there will be Mr. and Mrs. Eduard Werner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Black, Georges Miquelle and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Tilton.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Remick Jr., Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom, John B. Ford, Edgar Ailes, Edward McCrone, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy G. Vandeveer, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baker, Mrs. John Parker, Noel Baker, James Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Saul Bernat.

Still others are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perkins, Mrs. and Mrs. W. Whiting Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Oliver.

* * *

Mrs. C. E. Wilson Jr. and Mrs. Edward E. Wilson have returned home after a week at the Surf Club in Miami Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Micou of Lone Pine road are returning this weekend from a month's trip. They stopped off in Florida to visit Mrs. Micou's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sanderson, formerly of Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham, and from there they flew to the Virgin Islands for several weeks.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Breech will return next week from their stay in Honolulu where they and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Breech Jr. have been vacationing for several weeks.

The senior Breeches also visited Palm Springs, Calif. Mr. Breech will precede Mrs. Breech in coming home by a few days.

She will stop off to see again their new grandchild, William Ernest, 2 months old at his home in Pacific Palisades where he lives with his parents, the junior Breeches, and his brother, Andrew Leland, who is 2 years old.

Next week Mr. and Mrs. William R. Breech will leave here for a month's holiday in Honolulu at the Surf Rider.

Better Take Long View of Wardrobe

Pick Spring Outfit With Eye to Future, Seniors Advised

You girls to whom graduation from high school is no longer in the dim future have something mighty important to add to your shopping considerations this spring. And that is, of course, the new way of life you soon will be entering.

Whether you will be job-hunting this June or next or acquainting yourselves with the halls of higher learning, from now on you should select your clothes with that in mind.

Then, when the time comes to take the big step, you won't be caught short with a closet full of clothes that in one way or another are not quite right.

Probably nothing could be a better choice right now, regardless of your plans, than a navy blue suit of simple, classic lines. Since you will be expecting a lot from it, you should invest in one that boasts both a sturdy fabric and good tailoring.

A slim skirt with a full hem is a wise choice since it will adapt itself to new hem lengths with the greatest of ease.

A crisp white blouse in opaque nylon or dacron is a fashion-right choice and the height of practicality.

Select your handbag with an eye to the future, too. You will be glad later on if you invest a few extra dollars in one of good calf.

Be conservative in selecting shoes. If it's pavement-pounding for you this June, a medium-heel pump in soft, pliable leather is a must. In fact, it's just about the best choice for anyone.

Now, one can carry good sense too far. Spring, after all, is a time for feeling light and gay. So let the bouyancy go to your head—and your hands.

Get a hat that's right for you as you are today, not as you will be next year. And get it in a shade that shouts, "Spring, 1954."

If you haunt the hat bars, you can accomplish this with surprisingly little money.

Complete the pretty picture with some perky gloves that match the hat perfectly. And your outfit will seem so carefree no one will ever guess your long-range strategy.

Span-the-Season Styles Popular for Teenagers

As spring dresses for girls and teens continue to stress the familiar and well-liked silhouette of bouffant skirt and molded bodice, the news revolves around the dress that can be worn through several seasons.

These span-season dresses are designed to wear under the coat in the spring and under the sun wear during summer.

The overwhelming use of cotton as well as soft semi-sheer silk or synthetics reflects the importance of this trend.

Sleevelessness, brief sleeves, cool necklines (scooped, bateau, cowl) are the details that appear everywhere. When longer sleeves, and higher necks are used, they are executed in summery fabrics for wear during the early summer.

Princess silhouettes appear everywhere in young dress fashions. For younger children, the princess front is combined with elasticized back inserts, sashes or buttoned half belts to facilitate fitting.

Princess dresses for teens and sub-teens feature small buttoned back belts for waist adjustment. Empire influence appears again, often combined with the princess silhouette. Dress costumes feature tiny Empire jackets, often over princess dresses.

And princess dresses have bias bands, scalloped contrast bands or seaming defining the Empire silhouette.

Vacationers Gaily Recall the Snow Back Home

Visiting Celebrities Add Zip, Sparkle to Miami

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI — You never know who'll pop in and out of Miami these days.

Just in the past week, south Floridians have had as their "guests" pretty young movie actress Elizabeth Taylor, her husband Michael Wilding and their few-months-old youngster; Adlai Stevenson, in town for the big Democratic rally, and arriving just a couple hours later — Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, here for both business and pleasure. And last weekend there was Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York.

It's such fun talking about the "snow back home" while lolling in the bright sunshine, watching the deep red poinsettias, the bright bougainvillea, the hibiscus and the palm trees swaying gently in the soft breezes.

At the opening of Gulfstream, Track by the Sea (up in Broward County) were Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Eames. They plan to concentrate on fishing for a few days this week.

Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Eames usually stay at the Windsor Hotel in Hollywood, but this year they have an apartment at Belmont-by-the-Sea in the same city.

They're seeing a lot of former Pontiacers Mr. and Mrs. Price Hill, who now call California their home. The Hills have taken an apartment in Hollywood for three months.

The other afternoon the Eames' called on Mr. and Mrs. Nelse Knudsen — to see the Knudsens' new home.

And some time next week, they'll be down in Miami to see Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Parr and little Johnny.

The Eames' are hoping their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Thompson, also of Pontiac, will join them this week.

Now that Gulfstream has opened, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jerome, who winter in Fort Lauderdale, will cheer the bangtails once in a while.

Mainly they've been seeing friends, going out for boat rides and just taking it easy.

They've seen the Benjamin Anibals, also staying in Fort Lauderdale; also a group of friends from Bay City — Mr. and Mrs. James Rissers, Mr. and Mrs. George Masenick and son, David, and Howard Ford.

The David Edstroms of Pontiac leave Monday, after a vacation at Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, to head homeward.

After several weeks at the Lee Apartments in Lauderdale, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Keyport of Grayling left Friday for St. Petersburg. There they'll visit friends for a couple of weeks, then head northward.

Some time this week, the Pontiacers who spend the winter in Lauderdale will greet Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Huttenlocher, also of Pontiac. They'll be here about two weeks — and plan to include a jaunt to Havana in their vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cudney of Pontiac headed northward a week ago.

Frequently seen about Miami is Mrs. J. W. Christie of Pontiac who is visiting her daughter, Mary, who makes her home in Fort Lauderdale.

MARLENE ANN TODD

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marlene Ann, to Norman P. Spotts are Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Todd of North Roselawn drive.

Norman is the son of the Donald R. Spotts of Florence, N. J., and a graduate of Bob Jones University.

A June wedding is planned.

INA CRAWFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd Crawford of Walled Lake are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ina, to Ronnie Steele of Lexington road. He is the son of Mrs. Cecil J. Steele of South Saginaw street and Mr. Steele of Auburn avenue. An April wedding is planned.

Owen PTA Has Election of Officers

R. J. Sinclair of the Chamber of Commerce was guest speaker before Owen School PTA Wednesday when new officers were elected.

Mr. Sinclair spoke on the public improvement and expansion program which will be on the April ballot. Mrs. Cleatus Garner was elected president; Mrs. Eugene Chisholm, first vice president; Mrs. John Giles, second vice president, and Oliver J. Drumheller, father vice president.

Teacher vice president is Mrs. Russell Holmes, and Mrs. James Highbaugh is secretary. Other officers include Mrs. Walter Trietsch, treasurer, and Mrs. John Maxwell, historian.

Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, president of Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, spoke on the importance of Girl Scouting to the community.

A music program was presented by Mrs. Gordon Rice and her second grade, and first grade mothers served refreshments. The attendance prize was given to Mrs. Merrell Stephens' room.

Report Heard by Blue Star

At the Tuesday meeting of Blue Star Mothers Chapter 4 in the YMCA, Mrs. Helen Smale reported on the hospital work discussion conducted at a recent meeting she attended in the Veterans Memorial Building, Detroit.

Mrs. James Dando reported on the Blue Star Mothers Rehabilitation Foundation, Inc., which gives assistance to 27 veterans and their families.

The foundation contributes money for food, doctor bills, eyeglasses, fuel oil, medicine and rent.

Chapter 4 will send its president, Mrs. George Leinenger, as a delegate to the rehabilitation board meeting to be held March 19 in Detroit.

Leal Emes Group Has 15th Birthday

The 15th birthday of Leal Emes Group of First Presbyterian Church was observed Wednesday evening at Colonial Manor in Birmingham.

Mrs. Clarence Norton and Anna Marie Predmore had charge of dinner arrangements, and Mrs. Edward Markham was announced as hostess for the April meeting at her home on Josephine avenue.

McKerrows Home From New Mexico

Gordon VanCamps Fly to Florida for Short Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. James McKerrow of Pingree avenue have returned home after a four-week visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Corp. and Mrs. Robert S. McAtee, in Albuquerque, N. M.

The incentive for the visit was the birth of the McAtees' daughter, Judith Ann. Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. McKerrow visited the Darrel Joyners, former Pontiac residents.

All-Chapter Style Show Discussed

Beta Sigma Phi to Sponsor Event on March 31

Mrs. Ray Slaughter will represent Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority as a model at an all-chapter style show to be held March 31 in the auditorium of Pontiac High School.

Mrs. Robert Shorey, general chairman for the show, reported on the progress of the decorating and entertainment committees when Phi Chapter members met Tuesday evening in Hotel Waldron.

Reports of all committees were called for by the president, Mrs. Cecil Elsholz.

An announcement of travel movies to be shown at the March social meeting was made by Mrs. Mable Roat. She asked that members bring guests to this meeting.

A nominating committee comprised of Mrs. Donald Rosie, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Arnold and Mrs. Thomas Ogden was appointed to prepare the slate of new officers for the April business meeting.

"Count Your Blessings" was the theme for a talk given by Mrs. Arnold, and Mrs. E. L. Sturdy spoke on "The Power of Positive Thinking" for the regular program based on the year's theme of "Happiness."

Tipacon Chapter Holds Meeting

Hotel Waldron was the setting for the Wednesday evening meeting of the Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Members listened to tape recordings made by members of the speechcraft class, and violin selections were played by Cleobelle Coleman accompanied by Mildred Bennett.

Plans were discussed for the "Boss Dinner" to be held at Oakland Hills Country Club on April 7.

Sorority Plans Banquet in May

A May banquet was discussed Tuesday evening by members of Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Members met with Mrs. Alphonse Fowler in Birmingham. She was assisted by Mrs. Willard Stevens. Chairman of the banquet is Mrs. Harold Cousens, assisted by Mrs. Enar West and Mrs. Charles Long.

Mrs. Andrew Vitt conducted the business meeting and members sewed cancer pads under the direction of Virginia Luther. A nominating committee composed of Betty Halsey and Mrs. Gerald Livingston was chosen.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Scheduled

Plans were made for May 6 mother and daughter banquet Tuesday evening when members of the WSCS of Oakland Park Methodist Church met in the church parlors.

The meeting was opened by the group repeating The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Irl Williams gave devotions and was in charge of the program.

The group decided to change the date of the April meeting to April 5.

Refreshments were served by the Mary-Martha Circle. The offering will be used for the Spanish-speaking American study project.

Installation Slated by the White Shrine

Officers elected at the Wednesday meeting of Pontiac White Shrine will be installed March 24.

The group met at Roosevelt Temple with Mrs. Ernest Pearson, grand conductress, and Pierre Shaver, associate patron, Order of Amaranth, as special guests. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones of Goodrich were also guests.

Pontiac White Shrine Drill Team will sponsor a fashion show and card party March 31 at Roosevelt Temple.

The older woman job-hunter is a familiar figure in employment offices today, with a million more women than men 45-plus.

Employers' Attitude Puts Women Past 35 on Shelf

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Florence Nightingale had passed 35 at the height of her nursing career; Louisa May Alcott bagged success at 36 with "Little Women" and Marie Curie won the Nobel Prize for her work with radium when she was 44.

But today's modern working girl, 35 or over, is practically ready for the shelf. At least that's what's in the minds of many employers, the U.S. Women's Bureau points out.

Hardly a week goes by, declares the bureau, that a letter does not come in from a woman somewhere in the United States who's looking for a job. The seriousness of the situation for these job-hunters, many of them 60 or more, is shown in desperate tone of some of the letters.

"Private employment bureaus shook their heads," writes a 49-year-old woman from Rhode Island, "and simply said 'Sorry kids, no one over 35.'"

From Detroit, a widow, 59, relates: "I am looking for a job in factories, stores or any place where one can make an honest living. My age is against me. I am desperate and don't know where to turn. Could you please help me?"

A Sacramento, Calif., job-searcher who had hotel and nurse's aide experience says she's told she's now too old for that type of work.

A 56-year-old "worried widow" writes: "Since my husband died nearly three years ago I have been knocking around from pillar to post and trying to get a decent job with a living wage."

The employers of today, she writes, will make all kinds of excuses "to keep from hiring any woman after 35 years of age."

How come there are so many older women looking for jobs?

Among persons 45 and over, there are now a million more women than men. Statistics show that while the entire population doubled from 1900 to 1950, the middle-age group 45 to 64 tripled and the over-65 bracket increased four-fold.

Add to this that women have a longer life-expectancy than men; that older women are freer to go into the labor market than young mothers; that some widows with insurance policies and pensions are finding they fall short of current living costs.

Barriers to their employment are real. But the reasons for these barriers, the Women's Bureau declares, may not be.

Although more exploratory work needs to be done on the relation of work performance and learning to age, a few studies which have been made show that any loss of speed or muscular strength among workers past 40 is compensated for by increased skills and better judgment.

Workers 45 and over in 109 manufacturing plants studied by the Bureau of Labor Statistics were absent less often than younger workers and had fewer injuries.

The older workers, however, recovered more slowly from injuries.

The woman worker who is mature and in good health "has great reserves of endurance and recovers rapidly from fatigue," it was discovered by the chief psychiatrist of a big insurance firm.

The Women's Bureau, which does not function as a placement service, has put some practical suggestions on job-hunting into a pamphlet entitled "Over 40 and Looking for a Job?"

It recommends that the job applicants (1) use the public employment office and counseling facilities, (2) the placement bureau of their trade union, professional association or college, (3) watch newspapers for accounts of new plants, branch banks or department stores to be opened in the neighborhood.

In job interview hints, the Women's Bureau warns against trying to act like a teenager. It's bad, though, for even a gray-haired grandmother to apologize about birthdays.

Concentrate on the advantages of maturity, the bureau says. Dependability, accuracy, good judgment, sensible habits, no fooling on the job and willingness to take on responsibility are the older women's top assets.

Card Party Held

Nine guests were present at the annual benefit card party of Friendship Club which was held at the home of Alma Ollila on Brunswick boulevard.

Mrs. Chester Schultz and Mrs. Forrest Milzow assisted the hostess.

St. Pat Meeting Held Wednesday by Secretaries

St. Patrick's Day provided the theme for the Wednesday evening meeting of the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association held in Hotel Waldron.

Dee Dieterle gave the invocation and Mrs. Hope Scott conducted the business meeting at which plans were made for the group to attend the University of Detroit NSA Secretarial Workshop on Friday and Saturday.

Guests for the evening were Loretta Collins, Florence Robinson, Marilynne Bird, Virginia Martin, Patricia Fanson, Florence Evans, Nellie Smith and Mary DeBoe.

Edythe Perry was appointed chairman of the nominating committee and Pearl Korn, Miss Dieterle, Mary Eleanor Lockman and Ula Trevethan will assist her.

Initiation of officers will be held at the April 14 meeting in Hotel Waldron.

Whitney WCTU Discusses Bills

A discussion of current bills in Congress was the highlight of Dora B. Whitney WCTU meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alex Baldwin on Williams street.

Mrs. John Webb explained the Bryson bill, three bills to curtail the narcotic drug business and state bills for better control of the liquor business, and the group discussed them.

Mrs. W. A. Stewart told of her work in the WCTU and recited a poem. Mrs. Baldwin spoke on her recent trip to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras and to Utah where she visited the Mormon Temple. She also spoke on her experience in the flash floods at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Eleah Patten reported on Frances Willard and her work. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Howard Brown of Loon Lake Shores on April 13.

Several Men Air Their Complaints Concerning Women and Careers

One Objects to Unfeminine Attitude

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It always surprises me to learn that men read my column too, but the mail indicates that such is the case.

Today you might like to hear some of the typical 'beefs' which my men readers give me about women.

"I have no objection to girls working," a young bachelor writes, "but why do they always get so unfeminine and aggressive?

"Just because they work side by side with men, they think they can take the initiative and invite the men to lunch, and do all sorts of things that they wouldn't do socially. Not all of them, of course, but too many.

"Please, please tell them to remember that men still like to do the inviting!"

Well, I think this man has a point, so if you've been making that mistake, better change your habits!

Here's another from a man in his early 40s:

"I've never advanced as far as I should," he tells me, "because I haven't enough education. When we were first married, I planned to continue college at night, but my wife wouldn't hear of it. It cost too much and it separated us too much.

"But I wish I had held out. I'd be making double today if she had just been willing to economize in the beginning. She might even have had a mink coat by now!"

Young brides, beware! He may be willing to sacrifice his dreams for you now, but he'll hold it against you the rest of his life.

And this from a young man in his early 30s:

"My girl had no faith in me," he said. "I was making a good salary in a job I hated, and I wanted to change. But it meant much less money and postponing our marriage a few months.

"But she couldn't see it. 'If you loved me,' she said flatly, 'you'd want to make money for me, and you wouldn't care whether you liked the job or not, as long as you had me.'

"That was supposed to force me into voluntary slavery — but it didn't. It forced me to break with her and find the right kind of girl, which I did."

Sometimes I think modern man's dilemma is every bit as difficult as modern woman's.

Make the Most of Flowers by Arranging Imaginatively

Make the most of cut flowers by arranging them with imagination; and by showing them in interesting containers. A famous expert on flower arranging suggests this new idea: Use two or three unrelated flower shapes, such as field daisies and bachelor's buttons.

Let the stems become a part of the decoration by placing the whole thing in a large clear glass vase or pitcher. The stems visible through the glass, give a balance to the flowers.

A small bouquet of garden flowers has a Victorian charm. This is very appealing in a glass vase of fine quality. Select one of the beautiful clear colors in which American handmade glassware is being made today.

Even a few stray flowering branches, such as apple, peach or dogwood, become important if handled with understanding.

Fan them out upright in a shallow glass bowl by means of a wire or mesh holder. On the table at the base of the bowl arrange some seashells and a single amethyst glass globlet.

The pale coloring of flowers and shells combining with the beautiful, jewel-like amethyst of the glass will form a lovely still-life picture.

The first step is to make sure that the color of the bouquet is at peace with the colors of the background of your room. In a room whose walls or chief color accent is Williamsburg green almost any color flower may be chosen.

A good rule to follow in selecting flowers is to keep bouquets simple if there are patterned wallpapers; while pale, delicate walls enhance Victorian bouquets.

Many of today's homes have white painted walls and are modern in mood and furnishings. For these, choose a dramatic splashing of reds or deep purples for flower tones.

Must Dinner Be Served in the Home?

Couple Prefers to Entertain Guests in Restaurant

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Is it improper, when one has a house in which one can have people in to dinner, to take guests out to a restaurant to dine?

"I have no help and when I have to prepare a meal, set the table, serve it, etc., so much of my time is taken up that I cannot really enjoy my company, and it is so much easier for my husband and me to take them out and then come back to the house later to play cards, or whatever else we wish to do.

"A friend of mine says this kind of dinner-giving is quite all right when you don't have adequate dining space, but when you do, guests should be asked to the house. I would very much like to hear what you have to say about this."

Answer: To take your guests out to dinner is entirely proper, although I do think that dining in a private house is much more friendly.

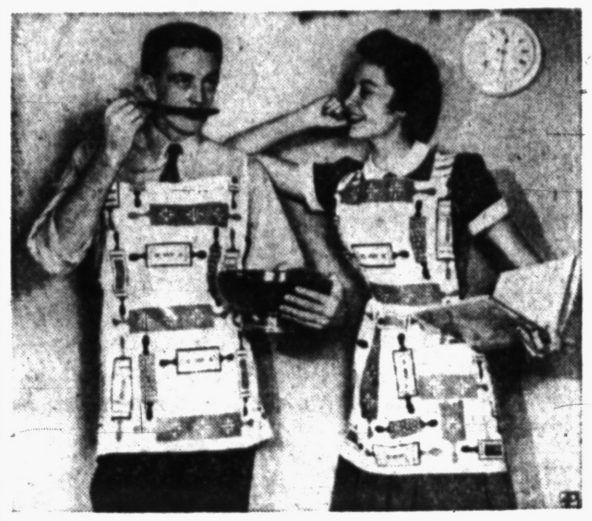
Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give a personal trousseau shower for a friend of mine who is soon to be married. Before sending out the invitations, I would like to know what you think of including sizes at the bottom of the invitations.

For example: "Slip—Size 34," "Stockings—Size 9½," etc. This would not only make it easier for the givers, but also would prevent a lot of exchanging afterwards for correct size. Does this plan have your approval?

Answer: I think your idea is very practical, and I do approve.

Dear Mrs. Post: I received several checks from friends and relatives for wedding presents, and I am at a loss as to how to word my thank-you notes for these gifts. Do I mention the amount—or just how is such a note worded?

Answer: Just write "Thank you for your generous (or very welcomed) gift," and if you know what you are going to buy with it, it would be very nice to say so. For example: "I am going to use it to buy the lovely chair I saw."



Mr. and Mrs. Aprons . . . Make them from dish towels.

Dish Towel Apron Ideal for Husband

He-Man Creation Covers Your Chef With Distinction

The helpless hubby is becoming as extinct as the dodo bird.

The American male suddenly has discovered that he has a sense for sauces and a flair for flavors, and has invaded the kitchen with little-boy enthusiasm.

He feels, however, that your frilly aprons are strictly for sissies, and has become the dry-cleaner's delight.

Next time your meat loaf maestro grabs for the garlic, cover him with a couple of dish towels, shaped to a man-sized apron.

Make one for yourself, too, for teamwork operations, in a matching pattern of stylized rolling pins, or any other motif you prefer.

These aprons are easy on the budget, simple to make and fun to wear. Sewing center experts have worked out these easy directions:

Each apron requires two dish towels, measuring 30 by 16 inches. To make the Mr. apron, cut one dish towel in half, making two pieces 15 by 16 inches, which will form the side panels.

From the top of the second towel cut two strips 1½ by 16 inches for the belt ties, and two strips 1 by 16 inches for the neck ties. Hem the top edge of the remainder of the towel, which forms the center panel.

Hem the cut edges of side panels, and stitch to each side of the center panel, starting at the hem. Be sure pattern runs in same direction on all panels.

Fold each tie strip in half lengthwise, turn in seam allowance and stitch. Attach strips in place at sides and top of apron.

For the Mrs. apron, use one whole dish towel for the skirt. Mark off 20 inches in the center of the long edge of the towel, and gather to 12 inches, leaving a 5-inch section ungathered on each side. Turn under and hem the 5-inch sections.

From the second towel, cut a 13x16-inch top panel. Fold top panel in half to establish center front.

Make two darts at the bottom of the panel, each 3 inches from either side of the center front line, measuring 1 inch wide and 6 inches long.

Fold in sides of panel until it measures 12 inches. The fold will be deeper at the bottom than at the top, due to the darts.

Fold under one-half-inch seam allowance at bottom of panel, and top-stitch to gathered section of skirt.

From the remainder of the second towel, cut two 2x16-inch side ties, and two 3-16-inch neck ties. Hem sides and ends of strips, and stitch in place at sides and top of apron.

Cut a pocket 6 by 8 inches, turn in seam allowance and stitch to apron skirt, placing pocket 4 inches from side and 5 inches from top.

If your husband is a really dedicated chef, make him a chef's hat, appliqued with a cut-out design to match his apron.

With this encouragement, he's sure to enjoy coping with the curry . . . and might even lend you a hand with the dishes afterwards.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Kind Deeds Often Form Chain to Help Many More

Early this year a young baritone got a $750 scholarship to help him in his singing career. This was very nice for ambitious Duncan McLeod, but the reason for the scholarship is even nicer.

It's part of the story of Blanche Thebom, who a few years ago had a fine messo-soprano voice but no money for a musical education. Some kind people supplied funds and, after three years, Blanche made a successful concert debut in New York and was launched on a road that led her to important roles in the great Metropolitan Opera.

MISS McBRIDE

The grateful singer saved her money to repay her benefactors. They said with finality that their pleasure in her success was repayment enough.

So Blanche, instead of blowing the windfall on a mink coat or a trip to Europe, established a scholarship from which each year some talented music student will benefit. The fund has now been awarded five times.

Happily this pleasant show of gratitude, expressed by passing on benefits, isn't as rare as you might believe. Only often the passing-on is done so quietly that few hear about it.

Long ago when I was on the borrowing end, I learned about the practice of many businessmen who when they lend to somebody who is temporarily down on his luck invariable say: "Don't pay this back to me. When you can afford it, pass it on to somebody else who is in a tight place."

It isn't always money that is involved. Often it is time. A certain well-known theatrical director will always find an hour to interview any ambitious young person. The reason? He remembers that years ago Arthur Hopkins, famous producer, interrupted a busy schedule to see him when he was newly come to New York, green and frightened.

"I've discovered no geniuses," the director said thoughtfully, "but I do believe I've been of use in a few cases where discouragement might have sent competent prospects rushing home."

Film star Bette Davis once told me that she sees herself when she's older, running around looking for young talent.

"An exciting thing to do would be to help kids get started in the theater," she said enthusiastically. "Only of course you couldn't just choose candidates because you liked them. You'd have to be selective to do any good. They'd have to have talent, first of all."

Though she didn't know it at the time, a friend of mine started a nice little chain reaction once just by keeping her mouth shut. She was rather startled years later when a woman suddenly said to her: "I've been paying off to you for a long time now. Do you remember—probably you don't—what a patient angel you were back there when I thought my whole life was smashing up?

"You listened and listened while I poured out my heart to you. Ever since, in gratitude, I've been the perfect audience when somebody wants to air his troubles. I'm just passing on your kindness."

It's a fascinating idea that the good deed the doer forgets, the encouraging word, the helping hand, go beneficiently on and on mitigating at least a little the frequent cruelty of an all-too-difficult world.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Explaining why she liked a certain girl a teenager summed it up with: "She always treats you the same — no matter who else is around." That's a fine foundation for making friends. Nobody likes to be fawned on one day and ignored the next.

The friendly person who always treats you the same has the kind of manners that make for friendship.

Wall Fungus Is Problem Any Season

By HUBBARD COBB

Some individual said the other day that Americans are becoming so soft what with our central heating, indoor plumbing, TV and cake mixes that we'd soon become a pushover for almost anyone.

Well, we've heard that one before but we will agree that our centrally heated houses are causing a lot of people to be bothered all year around with mildew and mold on interior walls.

Mildew and mold will grow on almost anything if the climate is warm and damp. They'll do well on brick and stone, paint, wallpaper and even leather.

When they appear on paint and wallpaper they soon discolor the finish so that when they are removed, a nasty stain is left.

You can get rid of mold and mildew easily enough by scrubbing a wall with a strong cleaning solution or a fungicide, but they may appear again in the near future. You can reduce this possibility by adding a fungicide to the paint or by using a mildew-proof paint.

Wiping wallpaper down with a mild fungicide will keep the mildew off for a long time, but be sure that the wall paper is washable and make a test first to be sure that the fungicide does not harm the wallpaper colors.

Unless the humidity in your home is very high, the chances are that mildew appearing on a wall indicates dampness in the wall. It may be due to condensation or to an outside leak.

It can also appear when plaster has been applied directly over masonry.

If Spring Calls — Play Hookey

Spring isn't officially here yet and it will be quite some time before the scents of lilac and magnolia will be coaxing us out of the house.

Still, now and then, we do have a day that hints of nicer things to come. There's a fresh, clean smell in the air; the birds chirp more, the sun shines bright, and the breezes are soft.

When such a day comes your way, don't waste it. Use it to shed some of your winter lethargy.

If you possibly can, put off till tomorrow what you had planned for that day. Take a leisurely stroll instead.

You couldn't find a better beauty treatment. Even if you can manage only a 15-minute walk, it will do wonders for you.

Use Brush to Scrub Strapless Brassiere

Soil-wise, the danger spots on a strapless bra the top curves of the cups. Designed as they are to hug the body tightly, these edges pick up oils and make-up from the skin—and become dingy and discolored unless they receive special care.

Squeeze the bra through thick, warm soapsuds to restore its fresh, dainty condition. Then lay it flat on the edge of the basin and scrub these upper edges with a soft, sudsy brush before rinsing.

Gift Hankies Make Cocktail Apron

If you were laden down at Christmas with enough handkerchiefs to take care of a dozen noses for a dozen years, you might put some of the prettiest to a new use.

Make a cocktail apron (even a nonsewer can, it's so simple) of black cotton and scatter a few of the handkerchiefs on it. Use one to make a pocket.

Georgia Has World's Only All-Steel Hotel

NEW YORK (UP) — A unique building in the hills at Toccoca, Ga., is billed as "the world's only all-steel hotel."

The Lake Louise Hotel was built by a manufacturer of earth-moving equipment. Steelways, magazine of American Iron and Steel Institute, says the structure is as interesting of design as it is indestructible.

A huge dome-shaped auditorium forms the hub of the hotel. Radiating outward from it are seven spoke-like steel structures which contain the rooms. Hallways have steel ceilings and walls. So have the rooms which are furnished with steel beds, chairs and tables. The entire building is air-conditioned.

Vacationers attending religious services at an open air building nearby are protected from showers by a steel roof. Even the hotel pier jutting into the lake is made of steel.

In the hotel dining room, guests seated in steel chairs enjoy southern meals served on steel tables. Where are the meals prepared? In a stainless steel kitchen, of course.

WHAT BIRDIE?—"Look at what birdie?" ask CheeChee and Blackie (right) as they pose in Fort Worth. The "family album" portrait was made after CheeChee decided to become a grease-monkey by climbing into the motor of a parked car. Lost for a day while his owner sought police aid in finding him, CheeChee's monkey-shines were discovered and he came back home to a reunion with pal Blackie.

Old Movies Are Put on 16mm. Film Now

WASHINGTON (UP) — Movies produced between 1894 and 1912 now may be seen on 16-mm. film.

After six years of experiment a process has been developed whereby paper prints of the original films can be produced on 16-mm. film.

Films made from paper prints, stored in the Library of Congress for more than 50 years, were previewed at the Library and at the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in Hollywood recently. These movies depict such historic events as troop movements during the Spanish-American war and President McKinley making a speech shortly before his assassination. Comedy and feature-type films also were among the old movies.

Model Carrier Stored

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UP)—One of the world's smallest aircraft carriers has been put in mothballs for the winter. The USS Quonset Point—a 44-foot scaled model of the famous USS Essex—was mothballed and stored in a base wharehouse until spring when it will be used again for exhibitions.

Operation Pickup Is a Big Success

RAYMOND, N. H. (UP)—Ruel Webb and Fred Hargraves, state construction engineers, found various sized nails scattered along 500 feet of Route 101. They were from three smashed kegs that apparently had fallen from a passing truck.

As Webb and Hargraves conducted "Operation Nail-Pickup" on their knees, the flashing light on their state car halted motorists who began helping.

One woman brought a dishpan from her car, explaining that her husband was building a garage. The job was shortened when another driver produced a broom and began sweeping the nails.

Not a single blowout was reported.

Spaghetti Dish Good for Hungry Family

Plan supper around cans of spaghetti on the night when your family seems "hollow to the toes." With the spaghetti, mix dried beef and green beans. That's elegant eating.

First cook 2-ounces of sliced dried beef in 1 tablespoon shortening in a skillet; cook slightly, just until edges curl. Stir in 1 can of spaghetti in tomato sauce; add 1 cup drained cooked green beans (unsalted) and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Heat well. This makes 2 servings; you'll probably want to double it.

A veal stew is delicious when it is made with yellow turnip and onion. Serve the stew with brown rice.

Punch Must Be Green March 17

Put Irish Bow in Your Hairdo

Frozen Lemonade and Mint Jelly Make Right Base for Beverage

Put a green bow in your hair and start preparations for your St. Patrick's Day party. Cut cookies and sandwiches in the shape of shamrocks and clay pipes, spread them with green icing or filling, and make a Kelly-green punch.

Here is an easy recipe for a Lemonade-Mint beverage which is really refreshing. Make it with frozen concentrate for lemonade and mint jelly. Frozen concentrate for lemonade, which is pure California lemon juice with sugar added, is a perfect base for scores of delicious beverages.

Lemonade-Mint Punch

1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
4 tablespoons green mint jelly
1 large bottle ginger ale
Ice cubes

Combine concentrate for lemonade (undiluted) and mint jelly and mix well, until jelly has softened in the concentrate for lemonade. Add ginger ale and ice cubes and stir well. Serve immediately. Yield: one quart.

Lemon-Avocado Sandwiches

3 ripe avocados
4 tablespoons canned or frozen lemon juice
½ tablespoon grated onion
Firm bread, cut like shamrocks or pipes

Peel and mash the avocados, adding lemon juice as soon as possible to prevent the fruit from turning dark in color. Put mixture through sieve, if you prefer to make it uniformly smooth. Add salt and grated onion and mix well. Spread mixture on bread cut in fancy shapes (shamrocks, top hats, clay pipes for St. Patrick's Day). Do not prepare the sandwiches until as near serving time as possible.

Reviving Drink

Mid-afternoon perker-up: Hot apple juice — it's wonderfully reviving! And for spiciness and extra aroma, stir it with a cinnamon stick.

PADDY'S SPECIAL—Lemonade-Mint St. Patrick's Day punch is made with mint jelly and frozen lemonade concentrate. Serve it with cookies iced in green and lemon-avocado sandwiches. Invite the neighbors in for a March 17 tea party.

Yankee Chowder Has No Tomatoes

For years there has been a controversy between the cooks of Manhattan and those of New England. Each insists that her way of making clam chowder is the only way.

We print here the recipe that makes New England Clam Chowder. It contains no tomatoes.

Clam Chowder

1 quart clams with liquor
¼ pound salt pork
2 medium onions, sliced
3 cups diced potatoes
2 cups boiling water
4 cups milk
1 teaspon butter
1 teaspoon flour
Salt and pepper

Drain liquor from clams, strain and reserve. Look over clams, removing any pieces of shell. Chop less tender parts of clams fine. Dice salt pork and cook until golden and crisp. Add sliced onions and cook until light yellow.

Add potatoes, chopped clams and boiling water. Simmer, covered, until potatoes are tender. Add milk, soft parts of clams, and heat.

Just before ready to serve, add clam liquor which has been heated to boiling point and thickened with the butter and flour blended together. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serves six.

They'll Go for Oatmeal

Hot oatmeal capped with canned apple sauce and coarsely crumbled peanut brittle is a breakfast dish that will rate as a family favorite, and it's a substantial dish, too.

Baked Picnic Ham Has Tempting Glaze

Here's a variation on a favorite way to glaze a pork butt.

Savory Pork Shoulder Butt

1 boneless smoked pork shoulder butt (about 2 pounds)
Whole cloves
¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
3 tablespoons prepared yellow mustard

Cover butt with water; bring to a boil; simmer one hour. Drain and stick with cloves at 1-inch intervals at 1-inch intervals.

Mix brown sugar and mustard to a paste; spread over meat. Place in small shallow pan or ovenproof platter.

Bake in 450 oven basting once or twice, for 10 or 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Souffle to Serve With Pork Roast

Next time you have pork chops or roast for dinner, try this souffle with them. It's a change from mashed potatoes and almost as easy to fix.

The souffle comes to the table smoking hot, a light fluff under a fragile brown crust. The taste is of apples, to sweet potatoes of orange and cinnamon . . . all wonderful with pork.

Indeed, the members of your family will probably think it fine eating with any meat, and with chicken or turkey, too . . . and right they'll be.

Cooked apple sauce make this souffle the extra special dish it is. The apple sauce lends refreshing apple zest, helps fluff the souffle high and smooth. Paired with the apple sauce are cooked sweet potatoes.

Apple Sweet Potato Souffle

2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups cooked apple sauce
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 cups mashed sweet potatoes, cooked or canned
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup melted butter or margarine
4 eggs, separated

Combine sugar and cinnamon; add to apple sauce with orange rind; mix well. Combine sweet potatoes, salt, apple sauce mixture and butter or margarine. Add beaten egg yolks.

Beat egg whites stiff; fold into apple sauce sweet potato mixture. Pile lightly into greased 3 quart casserole. Bake in hot oven 400 F., 45 minutes. Serve immediately. Yields 6-8 servings.

Try Lenten Adaptation of Chili Baked Beans

NEW YORK (UP) — Good the year around but also adaptable to Lenten meals is this chili baked bean dish.

To make, mix together a 1 pound can of vegetarian baked beans, 1 small, chopped onion, ½ teaspoon of chili powder, and salt and ground black pepper to taste. Cook over medium heat 5 to 10 minutes, or until the onion is done. Yield, 2 to 3 servings.

Long, Long Breadline

If all the loaves of bread consumed in the school lunch program in 1953 were laid end to end, the line of loaves would extend about 19,000 miles. According to estimates by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, 1,153,000,000 school lunch meals with bread were served during the year. Bread consumption has increased steadily in each of the past ten years.

Add canned tuna fish to a plain tomato sauce and serve over spaghetti for something different.

Apple Dessert Goes 'Top Hat'

It's smart to put a little glamour in your ever day family desserts just as you do with your extra special party creations. And it's really very simple.

Appearance-wise, there are many simple ways to perk up any dessert. Baked apples, for instance, take on a party air when they're given a top hat of ginger meringue. The same treatment dresses up an ordinary bread pudding.

Ginger Baked Apples

6 large firm baking apples
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 cup water
Few drops red vegetable coloring (optional)

Heat oven to 350 (moderate). Wash apples and core. Starting at stem end, pare apples 1-3 way down. (Helps keep skin from bursting). Place in shallow baking pan, pared side up.

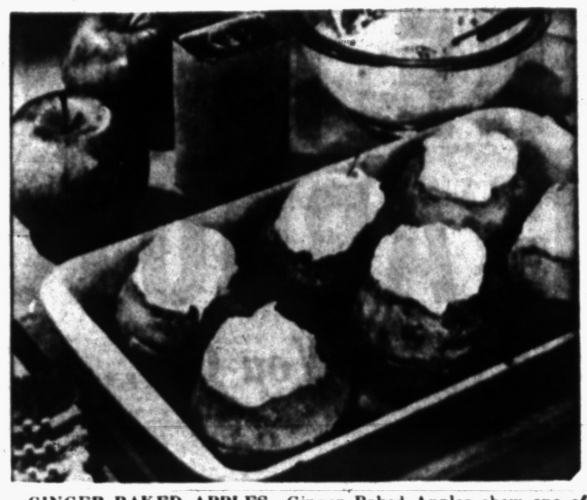
Boil remaining ingredients together about 5 minutes. Pour syrup over apples. Cover. Bake 25 minutes. Remove cover. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until tender when pierced with a fork. Remove from oven.

Top with the following Ginger Meringue:

Ginger Meringue

1/16 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, unbeaten
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon ground ginger

Add salt to unbeaten egg whites; beat until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Beat in ginger. Pile meringue on tops of baked apples. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in preheated slow oven (300 degrees). Yield: 6 servings.



GINGER BAKED APPLES—Ginger Baked Apples show one of the simple ways a family-type dessert can be given an extra bit of glamour. The generous topping of meringue adds eye appeal and a wonderful new flavor note to this old favorite dessert.

Appease Appetites With Hot Egg Salad

Of all the foods we eat, few, if any, give us the high nutritional value and the wide variety of delectable dishes that eggs do. The egg yolk is second only to fish oils as the richest source of vitamin D which combats rickets among children.

For adults, a serving of only two eggs supplies up to 22 per cent of the vitamin A we need every day, 8 per cent of the calcium, 18 per cent of the phosphorus and 26 per cent of the iron.

Here is a satisfying egg dish your family will enjoy:

Hot Egg Salad

6 to 8 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely cut
1½ cups celery, diced
¼ cup coarsely chopped pecan meats
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅔ cup salad dressing
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 cup crushed potato chips
Salt to taste and additional pepper

Combine eggs, celery, pecans, onion, parsley and pepper in mixing bowl. Add salad dressing. Toss lightly to blend ingredients. Add salt and additional pepper to taste.

Divide into four individual 1-cup shallow casseroles. Sprinkle with cheese. Top with potato chips. Place casseroles on baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 minutes or until thoroughly heated.

Children who are hard of hearing repeat grades four times as often as normal children.

Pineapple Coleslaw Is Sweet and Tangy

If you like a salad with both a sweet and tangy flavor, this slaw is your dish.

Pineapple Slaw

4 cups finely shredded green cabbage
1 9-ounce can pineapple slices or small pieces
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
Salt
Lettuce

Put cabbage in large mixing bowl. Drain pineapple; if slices are used, cut into small pieces; add pineapple to cabbage.

Mix 4½ teaspoons of the pineapple syrup with the mayonnaise, vinegar and mustard. (Use remaining pineapple syrup in a fruit drink if desired.) Add to cabbage and pineapple with salt to taste; mix well.

Chill at least ½ hour, stirring a few times, so flavors will mingle; serve on lettuce. Makes 4 servings.

Grilled pork sausages become a "special dish" when served with heated, canned apple slices.

Freezing Bread Won't Restore Its Freshness

In tests made recently at the laboratories of the American Institute of Baking, Chicago, it has been found that freezing will preserve, but will not restore, the freshness of bread.

It had come to the attention of the Institute that homemakers were being advised to cut food costs by buying stale bread and "restoring" it through freezing. The savings, it had been stated, would help purchase the freezer. Requests came to the institute for information as to the truth of this claim that stale bread would be refreshened through freezing.

The tests have shown that freezing is an ideal way of storing fresh bread, since even at the end of a month it will be fresh. Freezing does not restore stale bread to its original freshness.

The bread held at zero temperatures will be as fresh or as stale when removed as it is when placed in the freezer.

The institute laboratory tests were made with the assistance of its regular taste testing panel which has functioned for several years in the various laboratory tests of bread freshness. All bread used in the recent freezing tests was prepared from the same formula, and baked under uniform conditions. All loaves were wrapped and sealed as soon as cooled.

Drinks 11 Million Cups Tea, Tells Just How to Make It

Eleven million cups of tea! That's how many Charles F. Hutchinson has drunk. He's dean of tea experts and for 40 years was supervising United States Tea Examiner for the Food and Drug Administration.

Because coffee prices are skyrocketing, Hutchinson's advice about teamaking takes on economic significance for many households.

Since 1945, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics, the price of coffee has jumped 200 per cent as against 35 per cent for tea. Today, a cup of coffee in the home costs approximately three and a half times as much as a cup of tea.

The actual figures are coffee, 5.2 times as much as loose tea, or 2.6 times as much as tea-bag tea. Loose tea is more economical than tea-bag tea.

Hutchinson claims he has discovered the perfect loose-tea maker. It's new on the market, made of heat resistant glass, stainless steel and bakelite.

Designed to take tea making out of the kitchen and into the dining or living room, it comes in 4 models: 1 to 4 cups, 3 to 8 cups, 2 to 6 cups, and ½ gallon iced-tea maker.

The new tea maker has a stainless steel infusion basket, with 4,000 holes, allowing water to circulate freely and permitting full expansion of each leaf of the loose tea.

The infusion basket banishes job of scouring tea leaves out of the pot and insures a uniform brew.

For tea bag users, Hutchinson gives this expert advice: A bag holds exactly enough tea to make exactly one cup.

Use rapidly boiling water, 1 tea bag per cup plus one for the the pot. Allow 3 to 5 minutes for brewing.

Although the best tea is made in a teapot, it's easy to turn a teacup into a teapot. Simply place the saucer over the cup during brewing. Resist dunking the tea bag up and down in a cup or teapot.

Color is no true indication of tea. Some strong teas brew light and some weak teas brew dark. Milk is better than cream with tea because it lets the true flavor of tea come through. Lemon adds a delightful flavor to tea.

Rinse With Hot Water

As you wash your dishes, stack them in a dish drainer, then rinse them with hot water. They dry quickly this way and need little or no wiping. Silverware, however, should be dried right after it's washed.

Different Supper Dish

For a speedy range-top supper dish that's extra flavorful, serve seafood noodles. Cook a finely chopped garlic clove in butter, then add a can of condensed clam chowder, a can of tomato paste, and 2 cups of cooked egg noodles. Fold in chunks of tuna, heat and serve.

Brown Bread and Beans ---What Could Be Better

Old-fashioned baked beans have terrific appeal in cold weather. Here's a recipe with unusually good flavor, rich with the aromatic flavor of molasses.

Old-Fashioned Baked Beans

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
2 No. 2 cans kidney beans
2 1-pound cans baked beans
1 medium onion, sliced

Mix together unsulphured molasses, mustard, vinegar and salt. Combine kidney beans and baked beans; stir in molasses mixture. Layer with onion slices in bean pot or casserole. Bake in a moderate oven 45 minutes, or heat in skillet on top of range 10 minutes. Makes 12 servings.

Ever try using molasses in barbecued chicken? It's really good.

Barbecued Chicken

Have a 1½ to 2 pound broiler cut in half. Place in shallow pan; skin side up. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in 350 oven 1½ hours; turn twice during baking. Baste with molasses barbecue sauce during last hour of baking. Makes 2 servings.

Molasses Barbecue Sauce

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce

Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil 1 minute. Makes 2/3 cup.

Limeade Makes Refreshing Ice

St. Patrick's Day is coming along and you know what that means — everybody celebrates.

The color green naturally comes to mind—a cool, refreshing tint of green. So for dessert, to top off dinner on March 17, we turn to a delicious lime ice. You can make it in your own kitchen—it's that easy. And for true fruit flavor we use frozen limeade.

Did you know—when freezing desserts it's better not to fill refrigerator trays to the brim—liquids need room to expand. If you wrap your tray in wax paper as soon as the lime ice is frozen and lower the temperature control, you can avoid those large crystals that sometimes form on the surface of home-made frozen desserts.

Lime Ice

1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 can fresh-frozen limeade
2 cups water
5 drops green coloring

Blend sugar, milk and cream together in heavy pan and stir over moderate heat only until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat. Blend contents of limeade can with 2 cups water and stir slowly into milk and cream mixture. Blend in green coloring.

Pour mixture into 2 refrigerator trays and place in freezing compartment of refrigerator. Set dial for fast freezing. When mixture is frozen (in about 2 hours) return dial to normal. Makes 8 servings.

Canned Bread, Cake Already on Market

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The housewife soon may buy canned breads and cakes the same way she chooses tinned vegetables and fruits.

The products already are being sold in some chain stores and the baker claims the additional cost of canning is more than offset by the cut in losses from staleness. Canned breads and cakes are said to stay fresh for months.

They are vacuum packed as soon as they leave the oven. So far, the line includes whole wheat, white, plain and seeded rye, gluten, corn bread and pumpernickel.

The cake line includes pecan coffee, golden pound, whole wheat pound and angel food.

Basil for Flavoring

NEW YORK (UP)—To see that even the children can appreciate spinach, add a touch of ground basil leaves with 2 tablespoons butter Blend ¼ teaspoon ground basil leaves with 2 tablespoons butter and mix with cooked chopped spinach. This amount is enough for 6 portions.

Men Will Praise Ribs With Sauce

Now is the time for a round of entertaining. You should be caught up from your holidays and ready for some festivities again before the entrance of the Lenten season.

February, with all its special days, offers fine opportunities for attractive parties, formal or informal according to your mood. Here is a meat dish to bring praise from the men folk and good enough for a party, too.

Sweet-and-Sour Spareribs

2 pounds spareribs, cut in 2-inch lengths
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons salt
1 large onion, chopped
1-3 cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons corn starch
¼ cup vinegar
2½ cups (No. 2 can) pineapple chunks
1 tablespoon soy sauce
2 green peppers, sliced in thin rings

Place spareribs in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with pepper, and 1 teaspoon salt. Add onion. Bake in 450 oven about 1 hour, or until spareribs are tender. Turn spareribs once or twice during baking period. Meanwhile combine corn syrup, corn starch and remaining salt in skillet.

Stir in vinegar, juice drained from pineapple and enough water to make 1 cup liquid and soy sauce. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and becomes clear. Add green pepper rings. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, 3 or 4 minutes longer.

Add pineapple chunks; heat thoroughly. Pour over spareribs on hot platter. Makes 4 servings.

Curried Chicken Is Succulent Dish

This is a quick curry because you don't have to filet the chicken.

Curried Chicken

¼ cup butter or margarine
One 2½-pound ready-to-cook weight frying chicken
¾ cup coarsely grated onion (lightly packed)
1 medium sized apple (peeled and coarsely grated)
4 teaspoons curry powder
1 chicken bouillon cube
Salt and pepper
1¾ cups boiling water
¼ cup cream

Brown chicken in butter in 10-inch skillet. Add onion, apple, and curry powder. Dissolve bouillon cube in water; add to skillet with salt and pepper to taste. Scrape up browned particles from bottom of pan with wooden spoon.

Cover and cook until chicken is tender. Remove chicken pieces; force mixture in pan through fine strainer. Return chicken and sieve mixture to skillet; stir in cream. Reheat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

Fixing Grapefruit Is Easy Task With Sharp Knife

You'll find fixing grapefruit halves or sectioning the whole fruit for use in salads and fruit cups really a cinch if you use the right tools for the task — good sharp paring knives.

Experts seem to agree on a short, straight bladed knife for separating the fruit from the dividing membranes in halves.

If you like the seeded fruit (and many people prefer it) but not the chore of removing the seeds, cut around the seeds, removing a cone from the center.

To section the whole fruit, peel like an apple, and then cut from the outside down to the core with a knife blade about 5 or 6 inches long; slip out section by pulling knife back along next membrane.

Grapefruit is at its peak of economy and quality right now, and makes a wonderful first or last course — sensible because it provides lots of vitamin C to help fight colds, and because it has a good low calorie count.

Peach Ambrosia!

Here's a peach ambrosia — it can double as an appetizer or a light dessert. Defrost 1 package frozen peaches, combine with sliced banana and coconut. That's all there is to it! So simple — so very delicious.

PEACH AND CHEESE VARIETY SALADS—It is easy to have variety in salads with cottage cheese and cling peaches. Shown are a number of ways to vary the combination. Rye wafers are a perfect accompaniment for this appetizing twosome.

Molded Cottage Cheese Teams Up With Peaches

Cottage cheese and cling peaches are the perfect twosome for so many interesting salad combinations that it is easy and fun to make a "help yourself salad plate" for buffet entertaining.

Mold the cottage cheese for a different version of this dairy food. It combines with many flavors in a gelatin mold, two of which we feature today. Blue cheese and cottage cheese in a heart shaped mold over two peach halves adds a tangy flavor to these otherwise mildly flavored foods.

An appetite tempter is molded cottage cheese in which is zesty mayonnaise and chopped pecans arranged with peaches.

Sliced peaches made into various fruit gelatin molds, set against snowy white cottage cheese add eye and taste appeal because of their colorful contrast. Canned cling peaches are a natural for the many fruit flavored gelatins.

A simple effective arrangement of just peaches and cottage cheese can spark interest in a salad combination. Place a rounded serving of cottage cheese on greens. Arrange sliced canned peaches around the cottage cheese in petal fashion for a flower salad. Green pepper is colorful for the stem and leaves.

When planning menus it is important to include foods that have a crisp texture along with those that are smooth and soft — it adds interest to many food combinations that otherwise could be monotonous.

That's why rye wafers are the perfect accompaniment for these salads, for they are a crisp food. These wafers are an excellent base on which to serve a variety of spreads. Delicious too, buttered and then popped into the oven to warm for serving.

Blue Cheese-Cottage Cheese Molds

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups cottage cheese (1 12-ounce package)
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ cup crumbled Blue Cheese

Dissolve gelatin in the hot water. Add the cold water. Chill until of a jelly-like consistency. Beat with a rotary beater until frothy.

Add the mayonnaise, cottage cheese, and Blue Cheese and mix well. Pour into individual molds which have been oiled or dipped in cold water. Makes 8 individual molds.

Lemon-Pecan-Cottage Cheese Molds

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups cottage cheese (1 12-ounce package)
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Chill until of a jelly-like consistency. Beat with a rotary beater until frothy. Add mayonnaise, cottage cheese, pecans, and lemon juice.

Mix well. Pour into individual molds which have been oiled or dipped in cold water. Makes 8 individual molds.

Suggestions for Planning Kitchen Counter Space

"Good kitchens don't just happen, they must be planned," stressed Miss Marjorie Bettesworth, Jackson home economist during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College.

Here are some suggestions she gave for planning counter space: Plan for 15 inches by refrigerator (adjacent to open side of door); 36 inches to the right side of sink bowl; 30 inches to the left of sink bowl; 24 inches beside and within reach of the range; 36 inches for mixing and food preparation.

Keep Bread Box Dry to Discourage Mold

If bread molds, it may be because the housewife puts bread in a bread box which is not dry. This occurs when the box is cleaned but not well dried.

The bread box or drawer should be washed thoroughly, well dried and sunned, if possible, at least once a week. Brush it free of crumbs with a clean dry brush between washings.

Baking soda is preferred to soap for odorless cleaning. Adding vinegar to the rinse water helps kill mold spores, but might cause a tin box to rust if carelessly dried.

Meringue Cookies Melt in Your Mouth

Use leftover egg whites to make these sweet treats.

Cherry Walnut Kisses

4 egg whites
Dash salt
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
⅛ cup sifted flour
¼ cup chopped walnuts
2 cups shredded coconut
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, (well drained).

Add salt to egg whites and beat until foamy; add cream of tartar and beat until whites stand in soft peaks. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Gradually sift flour over mixture, folding it in as you do so.

Fold in walnuts, coconut and cherries. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet. Bake in slow (325F) oven 15 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

When a recipe calls for a cup of eggs you'll usually need five medium-sized eggs.

Mother Goose Was Busy Concocting Good Recipes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Liking a bit of fun along with the serious part of our job, recently we have been reading Mother Goose. We thought it might be amusing to see what kind of food the nursery rhyme folks ate.

MRS. ODELL

You know, of course, that some of the most familiar nursery rhymes are very old. King Cole, for instance, dates back to around 200 A. D. However, only since 1600 have the rhymes been in published form.

One staple article of diet for the Mother Goose people seems to be plums. We all know about Little Jack Horner's plum in his Christmas pie. Plum cake is mentioned in a number of rhymes.

A riddle about a plum pudding goes as follows:

Flour of England, fruit of Spain,
Met together in a shower of rain.
Put in a bag tied round with a string;
If you'll tell me this riddle,
I'll give you a ring.

Even good King Arthur falls from grace when he steals three sacks of barley meal to make a pudding. The verse goes on to tell that he stuffs it with plums and two great lumps of fat.

What he and Queen Guinevere and the nobles didn't eat the first night, the Queen fried for breakfast the next morning. Just like our fried mush!

A variety of fruit mentioned includes "Oranges and lemons, Say the Bells of St. Clements"; Curly Locks' "strawberries, sugar and cream."; the "apples in the hold" from I Saw Three Ships a Sailing.

Medieval folk must have been fond of pies of all kinds. The Patty-Cake of the child's hand rhyme was undoubtedly some sort of pastry. At Banbury Cross it was possible to buy a "penny white loaf, a penny white cake, and a two-penny apple pie."

We do not know what kind of tarts the Queen of Hearts made, but we do know they tempted the Knave beyond all resisting. Simple Simon knew enough to stop the pieman, even though he lacked the necessary penny.

Four and twenty blackbirds popping out of a pie as it was set before the King was no flight of fancy. The World Book tells us that a favorite trick of the 1500s was to hide surprises of all kinds in pies.

An old recipe book actually gives instructions about making pies with live birds in them so that they may fly out when the pie is opened.

Who hasn't twisted his tongue over Peter Piper's Pickled Peppers? They are a very real and modern food. If we remember correctly, we published a recipe for them only last summer.

One problem we haven't solved is whether pease porridge is soup or cereal. According to the rhyme it improved with age so it must have been soup. The only other mention of soup we could find was about the broth the Old Woman in the Shoe fed to her numerous offspring.

We were a little surprised to have both pancakes and fritters show up in the verses, more surprised about the fritters. The Bells of London rhyme rings "Pancakes and fritters, Say the Bells of St. Peter's." We wonder what kind of fritters they were.

One dinner invitation and some advice to mothers concludes this rambling on food from the nursery rhymes. The first describes a rather meager meal:

Hot boiled beans and very good butter,
Ladies and gentlemen, come to supper.

The second is rather dubious advice to follow:

Johnny's too little to whittle,
Give him some raspberry jam,
Take off his bib, put him into his crib,
And feed him on doughnuts and ham.

The children of another century must have had cast-iron digestive systems.

This Drink Is Smooth

Teenagers Delight: One pint of vanilla ice cream beaten to a froth with 4 cups of apple juice. Pour foaming into tall glasses and add a dash of mace. Enough for four tall glasses or six shorter ones.

Oysters Getting More Popular

Years before refrigerator cars made shellfish available to the entire country during all the "R" months, even midwesterners could look forward to the barrels of oysters that their Eastern cousins sent them at holiday times.

As the distribution of this delicious seafood has become more widespread throughout the United States, the demand for good oyster recipes has increased, and the popularity of scalloped oysters and oyster stews has given Americans a desire for more ways to cook this shellfish.

In response to this demand, here is a new recipe from the National Fisheries Institute for shell macaroni and oysters—a Seashell Casserole.

SEASHELL CASSEROLE—A new way with oysters is to serve them in a casserole of shell macaroni and cheddar cheese. Similar to scalloped oysters, yet different enough to be a change, oysters fixed this way should please all lovers of the bivalve.

Seashell Casserole

1 pint oysters
2 cups uncooked shell macaroni
⅓ cup butter
1 clove garlic
⅓ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated cheddar cheese

Drain oysters, reserving 1 cup liquid; cook macaroni according to directions on the package. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Peel garlic, split in half and brown in butter. Remove pan from heat. Discard garlic. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add oyster liquid and milk. (If oyster liquid is not used, add 1 extra cup of milk).

Stir until well blended. Return to heat and cook until thick. Stir and pour into buttered 2-quart casserole. Make a well in center and pour in oysters. Bake in a 350 degree oven about 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Family Will Enjoy Beef and Corn Pie

The family will love this novel ground beef and corn pie. It's easy to make—and you'd better keep the recipe in a handy place, for there'll be frequent requests for repeat performances.

Beef and Corn Pie

¾ pound lean ground beef
1 cup soft bread crumbs
⅓ cup milk
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons minced onion
1½ cups drained whole kernel corn
½ cup drained canned tomatoes
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon basil
Butter or margarine

Soak bread crumbs in a mixture of milk and beaten egg for 5 minutes. Add ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt, worcestershire sauce and onion; mix well. Line the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan and bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 10 minutes.

Mix together well drained corn and tomatoes and add seasonings. Fill meat shell, dot with butter or margarine and return to oven to bake for 25 minutes longer.

Cut into wedges for serving. 4 servings.

Milk-Drinking Habit Good for Aging Women

Many aging women could gain increased vitality by improving dietary habits.

This conclusion was expressed by a group who have extensively studied food habits, metabolic response to diet, and general health of older women. A high degree of vigor was observed in older women who had established good dietary habits.

Milk was the one food they most frequently neglected. There is need for careful and complete counseling of older women on choice of food and its preparation to help them secure an adequate low cost diet with minimum expenditure of time and effort.

Cook Potatoes in Jackets to Get Most Food Value

At the University of Maine in Orono, a comprehensive program of potato research is in progress. In addition to experiments with different types of potato seed, methods of growing, harvesting and marketing, much work is being done on the actual cooking of potatoes and preparing them for the table.

Dr. Kathryn E. Briwa, food specialist, heads this study group and she has this to say about the general use of potatoes:

"Today, potatoes can be a thrifty part of any meal. They blend well with many other foods and when properly cooked, are enjoyed by all members of the family, young and old.

"This includes the dieter if he will leave off the butter, gravy, and cream and other fats that are calorie rich.

"A pressure saucepan shortens their cooking time, but care must be used so as not to overcook them. Potatoes cooked in their jackets and eaten at once give the most food value.

"Baked potatoes, especially when the skins are eaten, give a lot of real food value and eating pleasure. For tender, crisp skins, scrub the potatoes to get off all earth materials, rub them with a once over of fat and bake them along with any oven meal.

"They also provide the hot dish, to go with a meal that has a hearty salad for the main dish. They should be eaten as soon as they are done.

"Scalloped potatoes are good for covered dish suppers and for company meals because there is no last minute preparation and they 'hold well' if things don't go as planned.

"To speed up cooking time, slice them thin, use a shallow pan and have the white sauce boiling hot when it is poured over the potatoes.

"Mashed potatoes are an ever popular dish, but for best results, they should be eaten as soon as possible after mashing. If they must be held, put them into a hot oven in a covered casserole dish, or keep them warm over hot water.

"They may need a second mashing just before serving to restore them to light fluffiness and smooth, lump-free texture."

Sour Cream Adds Zest to Veal Steaks

When looking for a different way to serve veal, turn to Paprika Schnitzel. This is a zestful dish made up of paprika-seasoned veal steaks slowly cooked until tender with sliced onion and sour cream.

To prepare this veal dish, sufficient for six servings, purchase 1½ pounds of veal shoulder steaks. Cut the meat into serving size pieces, then dredge them with seasoned flour.

In the meantime, heat 2 tablespoons of lard or drippings in a heavy frying-pan. Add paprika to the fat until it is quite red. Then to the pan add three sliced onions and cook until transparent.

Next, add the meat and brown on all sides. To this add one-half cup of sour cream. Cover the meat closely and let it cook slowly for about 45 minutes or until tender.

Ham and Lima Dish OK on Sunday Night

Use this tasty casserole for your next Sunday night supper.

Ham and Lima Casserole

2 cups large dry limas
Salt
1 large onion (chopped)
1 green pepper (chopped)
3 tablespoons bacon drippings or other fat
1¼ pounds smoked ham (diced)
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1-3 cup cooking sherry
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Pepper to taste
1 clove garlic if desired (minced)

Rinse limas and cover with cold water. Soak overnight or for 6 to 8 hours. Bring slowly to boil in soaking water. Boil gently 30 minutes to 1 hour, just until tender but not mushy.

Add 2 teaspoons salt toward end of cooking. Drain beans thoroughly. Cook onion and green pepper gently in bacon drippings for 5 minutes.

Add ham; cook, stirring often, until ham begins to brown. Add tomato sauce, sherry, brown sugar, pepper and garlic; mix well. Gently stir in beans. Season with salt to taste. Turn into 2-quart casserole. Bake, uncovered, in 350 oven 1½ hours. Makes 6 servings.

Tea Bags in 50th Year

By International News Service

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the tea bag. The Tea Council, which understandably is proud of tea bag birthdays, reminds housewives that every tea bag is an exact scientific blend of 20 or more varieties of tea, calculated to be just enough to make one good cup of tea.

RIVAL DOG FOOD — NATURAL VITAMINS — for HEALTH, GROWTH and VIGOR

New Cookbooks So Good They'll Make Reader Drool

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

The Pontiac Public Library has two new cookbooks on its shelves. Both are excellent. We'd like to tell you a little bit about them.

Just in time for the Lenten season is Louis Garrison's Delicious Seafood Recipes (Thomas Y. Crowell Co. $3.00). The author — a woman, despite the spelling of the first name — is anxious to show her readers that fish cookery is simple and the resulting product delicious.

The most important thing to remember in fish cookery is not to overcook.

Most fish can be baked; oily fish like whitefish, red snapper or salmon should be broiled; small pan fish should be sauteed in butter or oil.

In each chapter the recipes are alphabetical, making it a simple matter to find what you want. Although Mrs. Garrison has tried to give recipes for only those fish and shellfish obtainable over a wide area, she does manage to get in recipes for a few unusual foods like octopus, eels, squid, muskellunge and snails.

A chapter each is devoted to Canapes and Hors d'Oeuvres, Sauces for Fish and a Glossary of Cookery Terms.

Sardines are a familiar food on the picnic or canape table. Have you ever broiled them? Mrs. Garrison suggests this recipe.

Broiled Sardines

4 tablespoons butter
¼ cup bread crumbs
1 cup rich milk, warmed
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
Salt and cayenne
1 can boneless and skinless sardines
Paprika
4 slices buttered toast

Melt butter in saucepan; add crumbs and milk. Heat thoroughly. Add eggs, season with salt and cayenne.

Place the sardines on a cookie sheet or in a very shallow pan. Broil in a preheated broiler 5 minutes.

Place broiled sardines on hot, buttered toast; cover with egg sauce. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve hot. Makes 2 servings.

The second cookbook is John and Marie Roberson's Complete Small Appliance Cookbook (A. A. Wyn-$2.95). The Robersons are already well known in the cookbook field, having written several other volumes. They are the owners of a gourmet shop in New England, so they know fine food.

The Robersons tested a wide variety of small electrical appliances, selected the ones they considered outstanding and used them to test the various recipes.

The appliances discussed are infra-red broilers, rotisseries, portable roaster ovens and casseroles, deep fat fryers, electric grills and waffle irons, mixers and blenders, and a miscellaneous group of kitchen helpers.

The authors give due credit to the geniuses of the past who discovered and harnessed electricity. They predict that hand labor in the kitchen will become all but obsolete in the future.

Each chapter gives general rules for using the appliance under discussion. (In the introduction the authors give the names of the appliances they consider the best in each field). Then a selection of mouth-watering recipes follows. Your editor had just eaten an adequate breakfast before looking over the book. By the time she had finished, she was ready for a four-course dinner.

Even the table of contents is interestingly written. The print in the entire book is excellent. The book is of an easy size to hold and use. I think perhaps that a library copy will not be enough for me.

Note: Three days later — it wasn't. I bought a copy.

Add a sprinkle of brown sugar to gravy which has been oversalted. The sugar will kill the salty taste but will not make the gravy taste sweet.

Fresh-Frozen Vegetables May Be Oven-Baked

When you are using your oven to prepare dinner, don't overlook the easy and delicious way to prepare your frozen vegetables.

Just place the package of frozen vegetable in a casserole. Add ¼ cup water, 1 teaspoon of salt and 2-3 tablespoon butter or margarine. Cover the casserole and bake in a moderate oven for an hour. (Do this when you are oven-baking the rest of the meal.)

This completely eliminates the "lid-lifting" and watching problem.

THE SILVER-THROATED WOO

pours his heart out to the retailer and forgets about the customer

The Woo is a manufacturer who thinks his fate is in the hands of retailers alone.

He pours out his heart and gold and prizes to storekeepers — then has nothing left to woo the shopper — the one who buys his product.

Naturally the importance of newspaper advertising escapes him, just as his customers do.

Fortunately the Woo is a rare creature. Most manufacturers know that it's smart to woo the storekeepers — but even smarter to win the consumer's lasting love! So the wise manufacturer does just what the storekeeper himself does — he advertises in newspapers.

Which is plain common sense, because practically everybody in town reads the newspaper... relies on it for shopping help.

No wonder advertisers throughout the nation spent a record-breaking $2,655,500,000* in newspapers last year — twice as much as in any other medium!

All business is local ... and so are all newspapers!

Council Asks Audit of Books

Romeo Body Requests 1st Check in 10 Years; Sees No Irregularities

ROMEO — An audit of the village books for the first time here in 10 years will be made some time after March 15, according to Village Council members.

Decision to make the audit was made in a special meeting of the council recently.

A Detroit accounting firm, specializing in municipal accounts, was authorized to inspect the village accounts and records.

"The council is of the opinion that no irregularities have occured, but that the system is just antiquated," said Percy G. Horler, village attorney.

Raymond C. Moore, a representative of the accounting firm who at the special meeting, said the cost of the audit would depend on the amount of work involved.

Stanley Palmer, councilman, suggested that the audit be conducted over the past two years, and if any disorders were discovered that the check-up should go back two years more.

The auditing period will cover the period from March 1, 1952 to Feb. 28, 1953 and the same period in the following year.

Moore said he would notify the council during the audit of suggestions for charges and that he would attempt to set up the books to eliminate complications.

It was also suggested that a yearly audit be made.

4-H's Building Proposal Gets Blessing of Board

Oakland County 4-H Leaders Association's proposed building bee at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Pontiac has the County Board of Supervisors' blessings.

Supervisors Wednesday approved a resolution from Howard Reid, agricultural committee chairman, to let the association put up a building on the fairgrounds on Perry street "at their own expense."

Reid said 4-H Fairs have outgrown the exhibit building and the cost of renting tents is running high.

With supervisors' sanction on the building bee, the 4-H Leaders' president, James Reid of Milford, named the "bee" committee Wednesday night.

James Marble of Milford is chairman, with Leon Storm of Lake Orion; Thurman Bowers, Milford; Robert McCrory, South Lyon; Kenneth Rocker, Wixom; Mrs. R. H. Dudley, Birmingham; and Reid as members.

John Bray, county 4-H Agent, said the Leaders and 4-H members have some $1,600 on hand to buy building materials.

"We plan a wooden building 100 by 32 feet in size with poles instead of cement as a foundation," he said. "This cuts the cost."

Bray said it cost $2,700 to rent tents for last year's 4-H shows. During the 4-H Fair Aug. 10-14, he said, nine big tents and a small one were used for horses, vegetables, chickens, sheep, hogs, small displays and merchants' exhibits.

"This building won't solve the whole problem but it will cut down on the tents somewhat," he said; "and it will be a safer place to exhibit our valuable livestock."

Bray said that the bee will get under way soon "if the city of Pontiac will issue us a building permit."

Hospital Starts Hiring Drive

Recruiting of Technical Employes Is Launched by Oakland Hospital

ROYAL OAK — Business offices of Oakland Hospital have been opened here at 3339 Tyler St., the 13 Mile road entrance to the hospital site, and an employe recruiting program for the hospital's supporting services is being launched.

This was announced today by E. A. Tomlinson, president of the board of trustees. He said new offices in the converted dwelling adjacent to te construction will be headquarters for the project until the hospital opens next January.

With the opening of the new offices, personnel will be recruited in order to build an efficient service organization by t time the hospital opens, according to Owen R. Pinkerman, new executive director.

Pinkerman said the first phase of recruiting will deal wiill applicants having technical training in classifications such as registereed nurses, laboratory technicians, practical nurses. Approximately 330 employes will be needed, he pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Nichol, who last week lost their home and its contents in a fire, were presented with a quilt by the unit.

'54 Lapeer Cancer Fund Drive Head Appointed

LAPEER—Frank Conlen of Lapeer has been appointed chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1954 fund campaign for Lapeer County.

The drive will open April 1, with the county's quota set at $3,095.

Hazel Park Council Fills 2 City Offices

HAZEL PARK—Two city offices, vacated by the resignation of Leonard A. Watchowski, were filled by the City Council this week.

Adele Anderson, acting treasurer, was appointed treasurer and Alex J. McKinnon was named assessor.

Hospital Auxiliary Picks New Officers

LAPEER — New officers were elected this week at a meeting of Lapeer City Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Guy Owen was named president of the group. First vice president is Mrs. L. L. Waterbury, and second vice president is Mrs. Bernard Horton.

Others elected included Mrs. Claude Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joan Mignery, recording secretary; Mrs. Jay Lishness, treasurer; and Mrs. Don Kay, Mrs. G. A. Graham and Mrs. Clarke Dorland, directors.

Banquet in Romeo to Observe Girl Scouts' Birthday

ROMEO — Girl Scouts, Brownies, their families and friends will observe the 42nd birthday of Girl Scouts of America Saturday at a banquet in Romeo High School auditorium.

The banquet will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Jackson Harrell is general chairman. Mrs. Howard Jelsch is decorations chairman.

Special favors have been designed by each troop for use as decorations at the tables. Place settings will be brought by parents, according to troop leaders.

Following the potluck dinner a program will be held featuring a Walt Disney movie.

Thomas School PTA Chooses New Officers

THOMAS—Thomas School PTA elected new officers at a meeting this week. They were Mrs. Jack Ferrell, president; Mrs. Paul Pearce, vice president; Mrs. Robert Evans, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Brauer, treasurer.

A panel discussion was also held on the topic "How the School Operates and How the School Board Operates."

OUT AHEAD WITH ZIPPY, THRIFTY POWERGLIDE. It's the first automatic transmission in the low-price field and the most improved and advanced! Acceleration is smooth as silk and instantly responsive—gas goes a long, long way. Optional on all models at extra cost.

OUT AHEAD WITH AUTOMATIC POWER CONTROLS. Chevrolet is the first low-priced car to bring you the extra-cost options of Power Steering (now at a new low price!), Power Brakes (available on Powerglide models) and Automatic Front Window and Seat Controls (available on Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models). It's more proof that Chevrolet is ahead in engineering!

What you want most Chevrolet gives you first!

(that's the reason more people want . . . and buy Chevrolets than any other car)

Chevrolet keeps coming up ahead of other low-priced cars with the new things and good things you want. And you pay less for a Chevrolet—it carries the lowest price tag of any line of cars.
So why go hundreds of dollars higher when you can get what you want in a new Chevrolet? Come on in—you'll like the way we're talking business.

BUS "BOSS" CHECKS THE ENGINE—Mrs. Doris Lowery, attractive dark-haired director of bus transportation for the Rochester Community School district, knows how to fix an engine if a mechanic is not available. In charge of 15 buses covering almost a thousand miles a day, Mrs. Lowery begins each school day by helping to warm up buses at 6:30 in the morning. In the above picture with the regular school district mechanic, Harold Murphy, she discusses the regular tune-up due the buses. Lower left, Mrs. Lowery, mother of three young daughters, uses a wrench for a final tightening job before this bus takes off for its regular run.

School Board Hears Employes

Groups Discuss Salary, Operating Funds Before Walled Lake Body

WALLED LAKE — Committees from three employe groups appeared before the Walled Lake Board of Education Monday.

The board heard first from a committee representing the system's teachers. The group discussed the board's decisions regarding salaries for next year and the possibilities of additional local revenues being raised for operating purposes.

The board agreed to give the matter further study.

Also to be considered is a salary plan submitted by a committee of school principals.

Final group to appear was a committee from the system's custodial staff. The school board agreed to give custodians a three-week summer vacation if they regularly work a 45-hour week during the year.

In other business, a special meeting was set for March 22 when bids will be opened on two 60-passenger school buses.

Plans and specifications for the library and kitchen in the new high school will also be considered at the meeting.

Tommy Warren Presented With Eagle Badge

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Tommy Warren, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren of Dunbar road, has been awarded hihs Eagle Badge by Robert Jackson, community commissioner of Boy Scouts.

Tommy is one of the youngest boys ever to receive the badge. He also received his one-year service star and six merit badges during the Youth Night program sponsored by Angling Road School PTA recently.

Tommy is the third member of his family to receive the coveted Eagle Badge. His father and his older brother, Michael, have also received the award.

Also active in scouting are Tommy's younger brother, Russell, 8, his sister, Joanne, and his mother.

Russell has joined the St. Michael Cub Scouts, while Joanne is a Girl Scout. Mrs. Warren has six years of service as a den mother and instructor in handicrafts.

Band's Mothers Club to Sponsor Talent Show

Firemen Seek Gear Funds

Plan 2 Milford Dances for Money to Purchase Portable Equipment

MILFORD — Milford firemen are attempting to raise funds with which to buy portable equipment for use when answering fire alarms.

Firemen plan to hold two dances to raise the money.

Equipment being considered will produce from 1,000 to 2,000 watts of light from a portable generator and will answer the lighting problems while firemen are out on calls.

The first fund raising affair will be a St. Patrick's Dance to be held Saturday night at the American Legion Home on Commerce Street. Music will be furnished from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. by Herman Scheel and his orchestra.

The second dance will be the annual Firemen's Ball which will be held sometime in May.

Firemen hope the two dances will raise enough money for immediate purchase of the lighting equipment.

Start 2nd 10-Week Adult Shop Class in Holly

HOLLY — A second 10-week class for adults is being started in the Holly Area schools. It is under the direction of Percy L. Fry, high school shop instructor, assisted by Orvid Hargu.

The classes meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the school shop, from 7 to 10 o'clock and are open to the general public.

Members are allowed to designate the projects on which they desire to work. The first class has been in operation since early last month.

Brown-Clothier Wedding Held on Saturday

MARLETTE — Ann Alaire Clothier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Clothier of Marlette, became the bride of Lawrence Ronald Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brown of Clifford in a ceremony at the Baptist parsonage in Mayville Saturday.

Patricia Billot of Marlette was maid of honor and Donald Long of Clifford was best man.

A supper followed in a Marlette restaurant.

Two Youths Sent to Circuit Court

AVON TOWNSHIP — Two youths were bound over to circuit court when they waived examination on charges of breaking and entering before Justice of the Peace Luther C. Green yesterday.

The pair, James A. Robtroy, 18, of Birmingham and Clement Berger, 17, of Big Beaver were returned to Oakland County Jail when they were unable to post $1,000 bond.

They were accused of breaking into Whims Bowling Alley in Rochester Monday night.

A 15-year-old, arrested with the pair, was released to his parents, according to Rochester police.

Rochester School Buses Kept Operating by Woman

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

A comely woman 5 feet 2 has exploded the mechanical myth—knowledge of machinery is not an exclusive male prerogative.

Reported to be the only woman bus director in the state, Mrs. Asa Lowery has charge of the Rochester Community Schoool district's 15-bus system which covers nearly 1,000 miles a school-day.

Most of her 13 drivers are men.

Cylinders, carburetors and clutches have become music to the ears of the diminutive Doris Lowery. But woe to the out-of-tune tappet that dares to throw a discordant note into the motor rhythm of one of her school buses.

If a mechanic is not available, she lifts the hood and fixes it herself. A reluctant motor has often been coaxed back into operation by a mere cleaning of the points with Mrs. Lowery's fingernail file.

According to the men who work with her (she uses 'with' not 'for') she never employs feminine wiles to gain a point.

"Solid," is the drivers' collective answer to the query about the bus "boss." "Why, she even thinks like a man. At first we had our fingers crossed when they told us a woman was to direct this transportation system, but we soon found out she knew her engines."

Nearly 1,800 school children depend upon Mrs. Lowery's bus scheduling for their ride to and from school each day. She has had charge of this system since November 1, 1953.

When a driver can't make it in themorning, she becomes a "route jumper." Learning all the routes and the stops where children are to be picked up is part of her job.

Her day begins at 6:30 a. m. when she arrives at the school garage to help warm up the buses. School bells, she smiles, do not wait for buses and students can't be tardy because of slow buses.

Keeping charts on daily bus check - ups, she notes lights, brakes, mileage for oil changes and grease jobs and claims that daily checking saves garage bills. Rochester district reports savings under this system.

Mrs. Lowery's interest in machinery began in her childhood when she chose running her father's riveting machine to playing with dolls. Today her motor interest runs the gamut from farm tractors to airplanes.

Holder of a pilot's licene, she was a member of the Civil Air Patrol during the war years and with her sister was a regular air show entrant. The Dawn Patrol also claimed her as an active member.

Summers she helps manage a 10-acre strawberry farm at 2550 Livernois Rd., but admits, despite her love of machines, she prefers to cook.

Three daughters, all students in the Rochester schools, Polly, 12, Linda, 8 and Sally, 6, keep this daily interest alive.

University Now 137 Years Old

Alumni to Mark Date March 18; Michigan Is Fourth Largest

ANN ARBOR — The University of Michigan, older than the state itself, is planning to celebrate its 137th anniversary this month.

While an act by the "teritorial legislature" established the University on Aug. 26, 1817, alumni throughout the world traditionally mark the historical date about March 18. The latter date is the 1837 one, when the state's first legislature passed an act to reorganize the University.

Perhaps some of them will wonder what the educational institution, now fourth largest in the country, was like "back in those days." Well, one of the most interesting records of the University's past is in the U-M Michigan Historical Collections.

The information concerns an 1880 inventory of the University, when the only land which "the mother of state universities" owned was the original 40 acres that it had been given when it moved to Ann Arbor from Detroit in 1837, plus a lot on which one of its three observatories now stands.

Now there are some 970 acres in the Ann Arbor area and about 17,500 more in out-state Michigan and elsewhere, including the 346 acres of the new North Campus.

Back in 1880 the buildings were lighted with gas and heated by stoves, with cord wood always on hand and coal scuttles furnished for every classroom. Today the University furnishes enough electricity to light the cities of Sturgis and Charlevoix.

The University Hospital at that time consisted of a faculty house and a one-story frame extension.

In those years it was believed by some that hospitals should be built cheaply so that they could be burned and replaced by another inexpensive structure when they became "germ laden."

The hospital inventory shows that the beds were furnished with ticks or mattresses stuffed with corn husks or with straw.

But even then the University was keeping up with the times. For the Michigan Historical Collections' inventory lists a phonograph "bought in 1878-79," just a year after Thomas A. Edison made his first experimental phonograph.

Officers of 'New Army' Act Like Alert Executives

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—We were having dinner in the general's mess in Korea the other night, and looking at the faces around the table, a thought suddenly struck me—

"The people of home don't have to worry about America's interests out here. ... They're in good hands."

• • •

The staff officers sitting there looked like the department heads of some hot-shot American corporation. They were all youngish, lean, incisive, alert. There wasn't an over-stuffed colonel in the lot.

In the buzz of conversation, drifting through the room, there was some shop talk, naturally. But they also were talking politics, the Berlin conference, economic conditions at home, and a whole range of subjects outside the immediate purview of the 8th Army and its officers in Korea.

• • •

This, of course, is the "New Army."

Nobody typifies these men better than the commander of the 8th Army, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Taylor is 52. He is lean, sinewy and looks like a college athlete. Because of his four stars, the staff calls him "The Old Man," although he is only a few years older than most of them. Moreover, he can trim their ears off at tennis or handball, which he plays regularly.

• • •

He is a fighting soldier—the general who parachuted into Bastogne to rejoin his division, the 101st Airborne, when it was locked in the Battle of the Bulge.

Before that, however he was entrusted with the ticklish decision—political as well as military—of negotiating with Marshal Badoglio for an airborne operation against Rome in September 1943. That was before Italy had surrendered. Taylor was smuggled into the city under the noses of two German divisions stationed nearby.

Incidentally, he ruled against the proposed operation.

Ever since he was a young officer, he has been in posts around the world that threw him in contact with problems of diplomacy and international relations. He speaks French, Spanish and Japanese, and picked up a working knowledge of Chinese while he was stationed in Peiping.

• • •

Now he is studying Korean.

His primary job over there today is, of course, the military dispositions of the 8th Army.

• • •

In addition, however, he initiated and obtained the funds for a program of reconstruction and rehabilitation. He administers that program.

Finally, he deals directly with President Syngman Rhee and the South Korean government. In that task, he is little different from an ambassador. He is a soft-spoken man, by nature, but he can be tough as nails in these negotiations.

Taylor is typical of America's "New Army."

You can't help but conclude: "Our interests abroad are in good hands, with men like these."

Haymes' Deportation Hearing Postponed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dick Haymes deportation hearing has been closed and the crooner's counsel given until March 18 to present briefs against the proposal of the immigration service to send him back to Argentina, where he was born.

Depositions from Haymes and others, submitted yesterday, maintained that he reported for Army induction at Ft. Jay, N.Y., in June 1945 but was released three days later because of high blood pressure. His deportation is based on a charge of draft dodging.

The immigration service also contends that Haymes subjected himself to deportation by going to Honolulu last June and returning without a re-entry permit. He went to Hawaii to visit Rita Hayworth, whom he subsequently married.

Some modern highways are built 36 inches thick for heavy duty. As late as 1934 it was believed a 10-inch concrete slab was all that was needed.

James Roosevelt Opponent Is Picked

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—The 26th Congressional District Republican organization last night endorsed Theodore R. Owings as its candidate for the House seat that Democrat James Roosevelt is seeking.

Owings, Culver City clerk, told a cheering throng that "I want this to be a nice family contest between myself and Mr. Roosevelt."

Last Sunday Roosevelt received the 26th District Democratic Council endorsement. Another Democrat, Ned Redding, community newspaper publisher, already has filed his nomination papers to oppose Roosevelt in the primary election June 8.

Fungus Is Like TB

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The U. S. Public Health Service will investigate the causes and effects of valley fever in Arizona next summer. Valley fever is a fungus infection that attacks the lungs of humans. It resembles tuberculosis.

Benson Backing Support Slashes

Agriculture Secretary Behind Administration's Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson has served added notice he intends going all the way in support of the Eisenhower administration's new farm program.

In his most forthright statement on the politically explosive farm issue, Benson told House critics yesterday he would "probably" advise the President to veto any bill passed by Congress which would continue the present system of rigid high price supports.

Then, commenting on the possibility the issue may be forced to an early test in the Senate, he told newsmen, "It might be just as well to have a showdown now."

* * *

The secretary returned for another session today with the House Agriculture Committee, which he told yesterday:

"There are better ways to spend public money than for the continued accumulation of unneeded reserves (surpluses), without equivalent benefits to farmers or consumers."

Benson's "showdown" comment was made in response to reports that efforts will be made in the Senate to tack mandatory high price supports to a wool subsidy bill now awaiting action there. This bill is approved by the administration.

Boy Facing Life Term for Slaying His Aunt, 14

LOUISA, Ky. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Walter Lowe must pay with a life prison sentence for killing his 14-year-old aunt, Susie Mae Edwards, on a dare last Dec. 10.

The youth, who was 14 at the time of the slaying, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court yesterday.

Coroner L. Byron Young said witnesses told him Lowe was holding a loaded shotgun and the girl told him he was "afraid" to fire the weapon at her. He pulled the trigger, then ran.

U. of M. Health School Plans 3rd Conference

ANN ARBOR — Ways to prevent farm and home accidents and sanitation problems in "boom" towns will be among subjects discussed at the third Health Conference of the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, scheduled for March 23-25.

Over 60 public health officials and specialists also will consider fluoridation of drinking water, tuberculosis and chronic disease, all problems common to the public health field.

Chiefs Blast East Detroit to Take Favored Spot

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High blasted defending champion East Detroit 65-46 last night to step into the favorite's role at Birmingham's Class A regional basketball tournament.

In other 1st-round games, Berkley upset Birmingham 49-44 and DeLaSalle routed hapless Waterford, 77-49.

Royal Oak and Hamtramck advanced to the semifinals at Ferndale, the only other "A" regional site in the area. Royal Oak dumped Southfield 52-35, while Hamtramck plastered Hazel Park, 72-42.

Chiefs turned in their top performance by far of the year in ousting the Shamrocks. Their 65-point total was the highest posted by a PHS five since the 1950-51 season and the 3rd highest score in the school's modern history.

Pontiac sank four of its 1st eight shots to take an early 8-4 lead, but blew the advantage to trail 15-12 at the end of the opening period.

The two teams battled on a par until the last three minutes of the 1st half, when reserve center Marv Caswell connected from the corner to break a 27-all deadlock. Pontiac never again lost the lead. Walt King dropped a free throw and Walter Poe and Caswell added single buckets to give the Chiefs a 34-27 haltime edge.

East Detroit chopped the lead to 34-31 early in the 3rd quarter, but Pontiac came up with a 10-point spree to establish a comfortable margin. Chiefs went into the final period with a 49-39 bulge and outscored the Shamrocks 16-7 in that stanza to win easily.

Three PHS players hit double figures. Poe led scoring with 17 points, while Bob Johnson had 13 and Dick Blacklaw 12. High man for the losers was Ed Smith with 10.

Both teams hit on more than 35 per cent of their shots from the floor. Pontiac sank 27 of 76 tries for .355, while East Detroit dropped 17 of 48 shots for a .354 mark.

Six-foot 4-inch center Dick Radatz was the big gun in Berkley's surprising triumph over the host team. The big pivot star poured in shots from all over the floor to take game honors with 26 tallies.

The score was knotted seven times before the Bears pulled away from a 28-28 tie to lead 37-33 at halftime. Maples tried desperately to overcome the deficit and managed to pull to within three points, 45-42, with less than two minutes remaining. A bucket by Don Biggott and two free tosses by Lewis Lemack in the closing seconds pulled Berkley out of danger.

DeLaSalle stormed to a 39-23 halftime lead over Waterford and continued to score almost at will throughout the 2nd half to coast to its victory. Center Don Dembeck sparked the win with 19 points, while Bob Jacober had 18 for the Skippers.

No games are scheduled tonight at Birmingham. Pontiac meets Berkley in the feature game Friday night at 9 p.m., Friday's 1st game matches Mt. Clemens and DeLaSalle at 7:30 o'clock.

BEARS' BIG BOY—Dick Radatz (24), shown above setting up a play, was the big factor in Berkley's 49-44 upset of the host team in Birmingham's Class A regional tourney opening round last night. The 6-foot 4-inch center scored 26 points to take scoring honors for the night. Other players above are Birmingham's Howard Christie and Dick Muller (29).

MISSED!—Pontiac High forward John James (17) missed on this layup but did connect on four other tries as he contributed nine points in the Chiefs' 65-46 victory over East Detroit at Birmingham's "A" regional tournament last night. Guarding James is Shamrock Larry Schultz. James fouled out in the last minute of the 3rd period after his mates had built up a 49-39 lead.

Tentative NHL Playoff Dates Are Drawn Up

Championship Series to Get Under Way on March 23

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only one point behind 4th-place Boston in their battle for the last playoff berth in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers will meet the Bruins in the hub tonight with "some surprises" up their sleeves.

Yes, I think we're going to show them something new," Coach Muzz Patrick said last night after the Rangers had defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2.

"This one against Boston is the big one, of course," he said. "I've been concentrating on improving our power play. I think the Bruins have caught onto it, so we've been working on new patterns. Maybe they won't be able to figure them out so easily."

* * *

The league's board of governors yesterday drew up the playoff schedule.

Each playoff series will be a best-of-seven set.

Series "A" will be between the 1st and 3rd place teams. Assuming Detroit wins and either Montreal or Toronto finishes 3rd, the following dates were set:

* * *

At Detroit, March 23, 25, April 1 and April 4 or 5.

At Montreal or Toronto, March 27, 30 and April 3.

In Series "B" if New York takes 4th place, it will have the first two dates at Madison Square Garden, March 23 and 25. The garden will be occupied by the circus thereafter and all of the remaining Ranger games would be on the road.

If Boston plays Montreal, the dates will be:

At Montreal, March 23, 25, April 1 and 6.

At Boston, March 28, 30, and April 4.

No dates were arranged for a possible meeting between Boston and Toronto.

Browns' Opener Is With Lions

Cleveland and Detroit 'Replay' Title Tilt in Erie City, Oct. 3

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Browns open their home season Oct. 3 against the Detroit Lions—the club which dumped the Ohioans the last two years in the National Football League championship game.

* * *

Bobby Layne passed to Jim Doran for 33 yards and the deciding touchdown in the last two minutes of the 1953 game, which Detroit won 17-16.

Two other times the Lions — whom the Browns never have beaten — got 17 points for victories over Cleveland. They won a regular season game two years ago 17-6 and the 1952 title game 17-6.

Other home games announced yesterday by the Browns are Oct. 10, Chicago Cards; Oct. 31, New York Giants; Nov. 7, Washington; Nov. 21, Philadelphia; Dec. 12, Pittsburgh. All will be played on Sundays.

Road games have not been announced yet, but since the season starts Sept. 26, first Cleveland contest will be away from home.

It's Time Out!

Falcons Survive Close Call; Scrap Enlivens First Game

By JACK SAYLOR

Rochester's Falcons awaited tonight's semi-final game with Walled Lake still shivering from their close call with Mt. Clemens St. Mary in Wednesday's opening regional prep basketball tournament action at Pontiac High School.

Rochester blew a big first half lead, then sunk six of eight free throws in the final two minutes to nip the Mountaineers, 55-54, in a Class B game.

Before tonight's Falcon-Walled Lake game at 9 p. m., Utica meets St. Clair in the other Class B semi-final. Keego Harbor and St. Thomas open festivities with a first round Class C encounter at 6 p. m.

In Wednesday's Class C tilts, Grosse Pointe St. Paul eliminated St. Benedict, 49-40, and St. Charles downed Sweetest Heart, 54-41.

Gene Konley's Rochester five nearly blew the game wide open at the start. Falcons took a 16-5 lead at the quarter and left at the half with a 33-21 bulge after hitting a torrid 60 per cent clip.

Second half was a different story. Ken Holden, 6-3 Mountaineer forward, bucketed 14 points and nearly upset the Rochester applecart for the 2nd time this year. St. Mary is the only team to win over the Falcons in 19 games.

Mt. Clemens steadily closed the gap to 44-38 at the end of the 3rd quarter. Successive fielders by Ray Heitchue and Jim Diebold put the Mountaineers in front 50-49, with two and a half minutes to play. It was the only time they led.

Don Robertson dropped in three of four free throws and Max Powell added a pair to make it 54-50 with 34 seconds left.

Complexion changed rapidly as Holden streaked down court to score and Bob Pattyn intercepted the throw-in from out of bounds to tie the count. Rochester threw in again and Pattyn fouled Roger Forbush.

With 13 second remaining, Forbush missed the 1st shot, but sunk the 2nd for the game-winning point. Robertson's tremendous play turned the tide for the Falcons.

He directed the floor game, rebounded consistently and led the Rochester scoring with 17 points. He meshed 9 of 10 from the foul line, where the Falcons won the game.

St. Mary out-scored Rochester, 23-19, from the floor and made 8 of 10 foul shots, but the Konleymen hit 17 of 25.

Robertson's work was supplemented by Powell, who had 14 points (11 in the 1st half) and Arlan Stone with 12 (10 before the intermission). Another vital contributor was Jerry Dahlman, who did a capable job after starter Earl Kitchen fouled out just before the 3rd quarter ended.

Scoring honors went to St. Mary's Holden with 21 points.

The St. Paul-St. Bens game was enlivened by a last quarter scrap that saw St. Paul's Ted Monahan ejected. Order was quickly restored and the Flyers made four straight free shots to quell a Raven rally.

The Grosse Pointe quint had opened up a 23-14 halftime lead and stretched it to 41-24 at the 3rd quarter, before Benedict center Mike Carroll sparked a comeback that pulled Highland Park within six points.

Monahan and Bob Wright had 11 points each for the Flyers, while Carroll had 15 for St. Bens.

Sweetest Heart was willing, but out-manned against the taller St. Charles team. Dennis White and Gordon Clark each had 14 points for the Dragons. Charles led 24-12 at the half.

Tonight's Keego-St. Thomas winner faces Marine City in Friday's Class C opener at 7 p. m., while St. Paul and St. Charles clash at 8:15 Friday. Finals are Saturday, Class C at 7, Class B at 8:15.

Frank House Is Key

Briggs Eyes 4th Place, Hutch Also Hopeful

LAKELAND, Fla. (INS) — Owner Spike Briggs said today his Detroit Tigers will "settle" for 4th place this year.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson quickly shrugged off the chill this statement occasioned and asked: "Why not first?"

Then the Tiger manager withdrew his tongue from his cheek and offered more honestly:

"I fugure we'll be better this season, but if we finish higher than we did last year (6th) it will be because our kids had themselves a great year."

Hutchinson took the Detroit reins from Red Rolfe in 1952, when the Tigers swan-dived to the American League cellar for the youngest team the Bengals have ever had — an average of less than 25 years a man. He said:

"Maybe they'll come through this year. Maybe they won't do it until 1955."

Since their disastrous collapse two years ago, Tigers have poured out $120,000 for three 19-year-olds — pitcher Bob Miller ($60,000), outfielder Al Kaline ($35,000) and infield Reno Bertoia ($25,000).

But an overlooked factor in this youth movement, Hutch hopes, will be ex-Sgt. Frank House.

Catchers have triggered Detroit's four modern pennant successes — Mickey Cochrane in 1934 and 1935, Birdie Tebbetts in 1940 and Paul Richards in 1945.

Phillies '2-Man Staff' Rounding Into Fine Shape

Steve O'Neill Expects Roberts and Simmons to Win 45 Games

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Manager Steve O'Neill's prediction that Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons will provide the Philadelphia Phillies with 45 victories this year looked today like the understatement of the spring training season.

O'Neill's $500,000, "2-man staff," easily the strongest 1-2 pitching punch in the National League, is rounding into splendid shape. It seems certain now that Steve will have both Roberts and Simmons razor-sharp for opening day—a luxury the Phillies have enjoyed only once in the last three years.

Roberts, a 23-game winner last season, shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers with four hits for five innings in his spring debut Wednesday night while Simmons limited the Detroit Tigers to one hit in five-inning stint only 24 hours earlier.

O'Neill's two stars combined for 37 victories in 1950, for 42 in 1952 and for 39 in 1953 but Steve feels they can do better if both remain healthy throughout the season.

Karl Drews followed Roberts to the mound Wednesday night and the Dodgers rallied at his expense for six runs and a 6-6 tie in the eighth inning. They won, 7-6, in the 11th when Wayne Belardi singled with the bases filled.

Trippi 1st, Lary 4th in NFL Punt Returns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charley Trippi of the Chicago Cardinals, who didn't return a single punt in 1952, carried back 21 in 1953 for 239 yards and an average of 11.4 yards per carry, to lead the National Football League in this department.

Yale Lary of Detroit wound up 4th with an 8.8 average. Emlen Tunnell of New York made the most returns, 38, for 223 yards.

Green Bay won the team championship in punt returns with an 8.9 average return, followed by Washington, San Francisco, Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions.

Old Rivals Feller and Hal Working Together Sunday

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Bob Feller, nearing the twilight of a fabulous career, and Hal Newhouser, looking for a new start in his, will work together for the first time here Sunday when the Cleveland Indians play the New York Giants in another Desert League exhibition.

Time was when Feller and Newhouser were bitter pitching opponents for the Indians and Tigers. Feller won most of those for a 10-3 record in their personal rivalry, although Newhouser had the satisfaction of beating him the last day of the 1948 season, forcing the Indians into a pennant playoff.

Feller, at 35, is much more comfortably situated in baseball than is Newhouser, who will turn 33 this month. Feller's arm is still sound, even though it is no longer a feared whip, while Newhouser is battling against a mysterious and painful malady.

Feller won 10 games for the Indians last year, seven of them in the second half of the season. Newhouser didn't win any and the Tigers finally set him free.

Newhouser has been here since camp opened and the hot desert sun apparently has helped him. He hasn't suffered a serious twinge yet, and he has pitched regularly in batting practice.

One Medalist Left in Florida Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Robert Sweeny, former British Amateur champion now living in Palm Beach, was thhe only one of three co-medalists left in the South Florida Golf championship today as second round play began.

Sweeny was four under par over the 6,008-yard golf club course to win his first round match over George R. Guy of Virginia Beach, Va.

He had tied with W. B. Merry, West Palm Beach, and Jack Waddell, Florida State university student from Lake Worth, with 69s in the qualifying round.

Michigan men still in the tourney included Ray Palmer of Wyandotte, and Ray Burgin of Dearborn.

Bratton Fined for Poor Showing Against Saxton

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Former welterweight king Johnny Bratton was slapped with a $3,000 fine by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission Wednesday for his poor TV showing against Johnny Saxton in Phaladelphia Feb. 24.

Murray A. Frank, general counsel for the International Boxing Managers' Guild, branded the action "capricious and arbitrary" and said he would take the matter to the courts.

Sexton, Fordson Meet Upset-Minded 'Spoilers' in Regional Battles Tonight

By JOE FALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unbeaten Lansing Sexton and defending Champion Dearborn-Fordson, who were fortunate to win opening games in the state high school basketball tournament, go back into action tonight against a pair of upset-minded "spoilers."

Sexton, winner of 17 straight games, meets its hot intra-city rival, Lansing Eastern, in the Class A regional eliminations at Mt. Pleasant.

Fordson, which wobbled to victory last night, comes right back and plays sharpshooting Detroit Catholic Central at Plymouth.

These games, plus a battle between Flint Northern and Flint Central, are among the top ones on a program which will cut the tournament field to 104 teams. Originally, 632 teams started from scratch.

Sexton and Fordson will have to improve over their initial tournament showings if they're to make a serious bid for the Class A title.

Fordson had the good fortune last night to run into a team which was cold in its shooting — Plymouth High. Fordson scored a 50-37 victory as the losers hit only 13 per cent of their shots.

Despite Plymouth's inability to locate the basket, Fordson had to fight much of the way to score its 12th victory in 16 starts.

Sexton, you'll recall, had to hustle all the way Tuesday night to beat Bay City Handy, a team which had lost 10 straight games.

So Sexton and Fordson are on the spot, and it's a rather warm one, too. Lansing Eastern will be spurred by city pride against Sexton while Detroit Catholic Central will go against Fordson fresh from a 66-37 rout over Lincoln Park.

Meanwhile, at Flint, two ancient rivals — Northern and Central — will meet in a game that could go either way, although Northern is favored.

Not to be overlooked in the Class A field is Muskegon Heights, which powered to a 63-28 win over Muskegon last night for its 14th victory in 15 starts.

Favorites moved ahead in Class B. A free throw by Roger Forbush in the last 13 seconds gave Rochester a 55-54 verdict over Mt. Clemens St. Mary.

Mt. Pleasant made its record 16-2 by whipping Petoskey, 70-60, despite a 23-point performance by the losers' Doug Piehl. Lowell trimmed Blissfield, 65-41.

In Class C, Lansing St. Mary, a strong favorite for the title won its 20th game against one loss by tripping Owosso St. John, 64-45. Marlette ran its record to 17-2, downing Mayville, 74-46.

Berg Shooting for 6th Crown

Babe, Louise Suggs and Rawls Patty's Threats in Titleholders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)— Forty-five of the nation's top women golfers today began their quest for the respected titleholders crown.

For most of them, all that is past is definitely a prelude. This is the one they want to win.

Patty Berg of Chicago, veteran of 22 years of competitive golf, is defending the title she has won five times on the rolling Augusta Country Club course.

Among leading contenders are Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Zaharias of Tampa and Chicago; Louise Suggs of Atlanta, top 1953 money winner; Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., National Women's Open champion; and Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare of Merion, Pa., six-time winner of the National Amateur who had come out of retirement for a crack at the blue-ribbon title.

MSC Netters Go South

EAST LANSING (UP) — A five-match southern training trip will open spring activity for Michigan State tennis team, athletic director Ralph H. Young announced today.

Spartans start spring training against Davidson College March 29 and begin 11 regular season matches April 27 against Wayne.

Hutch Hopes for Good Years From Kuenn, Boone

Blue Devils, Bevo's Rio Lose in NAIA Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The tournament-wise Springfield (Mo.) State Bears jumped into the favorite's spot today in the National Intercollegiate Basketball meet, replacing Bevo Francis and his Rio Grande college club.

Southeastern Louisana college knocked Rio Grande out of the tournament 78-65 last night in second-round play. The Louisiana team wasn't even listed among the eight seeded squads.

Bevo, who entered the meet with a 50.4 per game average, was held to 27 points.

Quarterfinal games were scheduled tonight, with Springfield State playing East Texas State in the feature.

Bevo's 27 points brought his season total to 1,165 for 25 games.

Springfield, leading from the start, trounced Gustavus Adolphus, 66-57 in its second-round tilt.

Lawrence Tech of Detroit, one of the seeded entries, held a 41-39 halftime lead over high-scoring Arkansas State, but fell behind in the 3rd quarter and never caught up. Final was 85-72. Werner Killen paced the Blue Devils with 21 points.

Kiner Is Off to Great Start in Spring Drills

Ralph Slugging, Also Polishing Up Bunting, Outfield Play

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs gives every indication of a young man bent on wondrous things this season.

* * *

He hopes to regain the home run championship of the National League, and he should re-establish his claim as an all-round baseball player.

Just yesterday the Californian's bat sank the New York Giants for their fourth straight defeat, 10-7, with a performance tht started with a two-run homer his first time at bat and a grand slam edition later in the game. His RBI; six runs.

In five exhibitions, Kiner is hitting well over .500. He has three home runs and has driven in 10 runs. This is for a gentleman who generally got off to a slow start in spring training.

Kiner signaled events to come when he reported to camp weighing a trim 190 pounds. This was seven less than when he finished the long grind last year and 10 or 15 pounds under the figure he carried into the quarters of his former employers last spring, the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Just as pleasing to Phil Cavarretta, the Cubs' manager, and the club as a whole, is the determination he has shown in the outfield.

In addition, Kiner, without any prompting, has been spending long periods brushing up on (1) bunting, and (2) sliding.

The general impression is that he had a "bad year." Maybe so, but many a club would like more "bad" years from a guy who belted 35 home runs, drove in 116 runs hit a creditable .279 and had a fielding average of .973.

New Civilian Pistol Record Is Registered

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)— A new record for a civilian was registered in the National Midwinter .22 Caliber Pistol championship yesterday when James E. Clark of Shreveport, La., scored an aggregate of 889.

W. W. McMillan of the Parris Island S. C. Marines and Harry W. Reeves, Detroit policeman, tied with 882, while M. Sgt. H. L. Benner, West Point academy coach and defending overall midwinter champion, had 880.

Clark won two of the four events making up the .22 caliber championship. He also shot 297 of a possible 300 in the national match course for another civilian record and 195 out of a possible 200 in slow fire.

Spartan Golfers Open Season Against Broncs

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State's golf team will open an 11-event schedule this spring with a dual match with Western Michigan April 16, athletic director Ralph H. Young announced today.

Spartan golfers will play in nine dual meets, a triangular match and the Big Ten championships. The squad travels to Lexington, Ky. for practice sessions a week before the season starts.

Don't Think, Just Hit

Harvey Kuenn Says 'Sophomore Jinx' Strikes Hitters Who Try to Be Sluggers

By GAYLE TALBOT

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit's sensational young shortstop, Harvey Kuenn, munched reflectively on his cud of tobacco and said, yes, he believed he had figured out why so many players experience the "sophomore jinx," and that he believed he knew how to lick it.

* * *

If true, this will be of extreme importance to the Tigers, who will not have a great deal to sell in the coming American League race unless Kuenn can repeat the season which won him Rookie of the Year honors by an overwhelming vote.

"Way I have it thought out," he said, "is that the first year a player is up he isn't trying to be smart and outthink the pitchers. He is not worrying too much about getting distance. At least, that's the way I was.

* * *

"So he has a good year, but in the offseason he gets to thinking that if he can out think the pitchers and figure out what is coming on a certain pitch, then he can swing with all he's got and go for the fences. In others words, he quits hitting naturally and starts trying to outsmart the pitchers. Next thing you hear this sophomore jinx has got him."

But Kuenn was going to avoid all temptation to be smart and just go along hitting the ball?

It was suggested that he would have had the setup to end all setups if he only had foreseen the transfer of the Braves to his home town last year and hooked up with them.

"Don't think I haven't heard plenty about that," he said. "but I think I'll do all right where I am, too."

One of the things that made Kuenn's play stand out so vividly in his freshman year was the fact that he did not permit the befuddled state of the Tigers infield to affect his own performance. At one time or another he was flanked by a total of nine different second and third basemen.

Calumet's Big Kentucky Derby Hope Is Injured

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Bad luck continues to stalk the Calumet Farm and its trainers, Ben and Jimmy Jones who have so ably demonstrated their magic touch with horses.

Calumet's big hope in the Kentucky Derby, Duke's Lea, won't be in the run for the Roses at Churchill Downs, May 1.

The promising colt, who came along rapidly this winter at Santa Anita, suffered a quarter crack recently, probably in the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita, Derby, and will be on the shelf indefinitely.

Ben Jones, who has saddled six Kentucky Derby winners, five of them for Calumet, planned to take Duke's Lea and a small string of horses east next week, but plans have been changed and he will stay here. Calumet string will not be split, but will campaign this spring in California, at Bay Meadows and Hollywood Park.

Rangers Cling to Slim Playoff Hopes With Win

NEW YORK (INS)—New York Rangers climbed to within one point of 4th place in the National Hockey League last night by beating the last place Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2, before 6,328 fans at Madison Square Garden.

Rangers kept their slim playoff hopes alive and picked up two points on the idle Boston Bruins by breaking a 2-2 tie in the third period on goals by Camille Henry and Bob Chrystal.

Bucceroni Will Travel to Germany for Match

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight contender Dan Bucceroni will go to Germany for a bout with European champion Heinz Neuhaus in late April or early May, manager Don Battles said today.

Battles said promoter Joachim Goettert proposed to stage the bout in an outdoor stadium at Dortmund, Germany—Neuhaus' hometown—on either April 25, May 2 or May 9.

Detroit Could Improve on 6th Place Finish

Bengal Boss Also Cites Need for Better Hitting From Dropo

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Freddy Hutchinson believes his Detroit Tigers are improved but he is not prepared to say that they will better their 6th place standing of last year.

"A great deal depends on whether Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone can continue their fine work of last season," the Tiger manager said.

"Both were outstanding last season. Kuenn, of course, was the rookie of the year, batting over .300 and fielding his position well. I think he'll be a better player this year, especially in the field.

"Harvey should be an even better hitter this year because he is a smart hitter. I would like to see him hit with more power though. I think he has the power if he learns to pull the ball more.

"Boone was one of the best hitters in the league last year after coming to us from Cleveland. He was the third leading slugger in the league with 26 home runs and 114 runs batted in.

"This is a bter them than we had last year," said Hutchinson. "It is not going to battle the Yankees or anybody else for the pennant but it is a young team that will be improving. We've got some good players but we could use more speed and another left-handed long ball hitter.

"If Walt Dropo can start pounding the ball like he did his first year at Boston and if we can get our outfield straightened out, we should make it hot for those 1st division clubs."

Tigers, Hutch pointed out, must carry three bonus youngsters all year. They are Bob Miller, an 18-year-old lefthander from Berwyn, Ill., who got $60,000; Al Kaline, a 19-year-old outfielder from Baltimore who got $35,000; and Reno Bertois, who received $25,000.

"It makes it a little tough to carry three bonus players," Hutchinson said, "but we have to do it. We're fortunate, however, that all three youngsters are exceptional prospects. Miller has a world of speed and lots of poise. Kaline is fast as a deer and has a strong arm. Bertoia looks every inch a ball player and can develop into a great hitter."

TOP DOG—King Peter of Salilyn receives a big hug from his owner, Mrs. Fred Gasow of Birmingham, Mich., after being declared "best in show" by the Detroit Kennel Club. King Peter defeated Ch. Carmor's Rise and Shine who had previously won the "best in show" title in both Cleveland and New York.

State Expected to Field Veteran Nine This Season

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State College is expected to field a mostly veteran squad with the start of baseball this spring.

Although the squad has not yet been able to get outdoors, warm-ups are already going on in the MSC livestock pavilion.

Earl Morrall, football quarterback from Muskegon, is the only sophomore given a chance of breaking into the starting lineup right away.

Morrall is a good bet to take over for Stan Turner, regular shortstop last year, who has signed a professional contract.

Bob Powell of Flint, Chuck Bodary of Flat Rock and Jack Risch of Milwaukee, are scheduled to go in the outfield.

Chuck Mathews of Rosebush, Mich., will be on first base, Will Hopping of Detroit on second and Jack Zeitler of Buffalo, N. Y., will cover third. Morrall will be a shortstop and Tommy Yewcic, another football quarterback, is expected to be the regular catcher.

For a pitching staff, coach John Kobs has Bud Erickson of Grosse Pointe, Dick Idzkowski of Hammond, Ind., Bill Saffran of Boyne City and Bruce Jokes of Lansing. Erickson is a senior and the rest are juniors.

Tiger Rookie Has Baseball Minded Family

Five Lary Brothers Tried, Failed in Bids to Make Majors

By FRANK ECK

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Frank Strong Lary, a hard-throwing 22-year-old righthander, may succeed where five other brothers failed.

Baseball veterans give him a good chance to make the major leagues with the Detroit Tigers.

Lary, whose only full season in organized ball saw him win 17 games for Buffalo of the International League, is one of seven pitching brothers. Even his dad, Milton, pitched some semi-pro ball years ago around Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Lary discussed his baseball-minded family yesterday as the Tigers were taking their 3rd beating from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-1. It was Detroit's 3rd exhibition loss in four starts.

"Five of my brothers never made the majors," he said. "Al had a trial with the Chicago Cubs but the highest he ever got was with Springfield in the American Association.

Tiger skipper Fred Hutchinson thinks Lary can make the grade.

Detroit's pitching sagged yesterday against Pittsburgh. Tiger hurlers gave up five home runs, accounting for all of the Pirates' runs.

Lefty Billy Hoeft gave up two homers, and Jim Bunning three. Dick Weik, who worked the final two innings, kept the ball inside the fences.

Homering for Pittsburgh was Sid Gordon, Frank Thomas, Jerry Lynch, Jack Shepard and Bob Skinner.

State's Varsity Clubs Planning to Organize

EAST LANSING (UP)—A state wide association of college and university varsity clubs has been organized by representatives of 11 Michigan institutions, it was announced today.

Varsity clubs are composed of letter-winners in all collegiate sports.

Palmer, Haas and Middlecoff Open Favorites

Stranahan, LSU Golf Team Head Ranks of Amateurs in Test

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Steady Johnny Palmer, who's been playing golf since he was 13, joins Fred Haas Jr. and Cary Middlecoff as favorites in a field of 150 teeing off today in the opening round of the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open.

Top man at Mexico City and one of the most consistent money winners on the PGA winter trail, the Charlotte, N. C., pro got the nod of country club spectators with his down-the-middle shooting in practice rounds and his flawless technique in yesterday's golf clinic.

Middlecoff, a more incendiary type but an even more frequent visitor at the pay window, has always found the 6,411-yard par 72 Baton Rouge course to his liking, finishing high in the money in both previous PGA events here.

If the weather turns bad, Haas, New Orleans driving range operator, might have the inside track. He played the course often as a golf star at Louisiana State University and can quickly adjust to the constantly changing winds that frequently buffet the narrow fairways.

As far as picking favorites, fans have their pick of all 10 champions from stops along the winter trail thus far, and no one is overlooking such shotmakers as Fred Ford and Dave Douglas.

Heading the amateur ranks, as usual, is Frank Stranahan, the Toledo muscle man, but a lot of attention will be centered on the LSU golf team which is fielding an 8-man squad, led by Shreveport's Tommy Morrow, low amateur here last year.

St. Louis in Favored Golden Gloves Spot

CHICAGO (AP) — St. Louis, with four boxers still in contention, is favored tonight to dethrone Los Angeles for the team title of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

A crowd of 18,000 at Chicago Stadium will see top amateur fighters from 16 scattered centers battle for eight weight-class titles in the semifinals and finals of the big meet.

Winners will be eligible to represent Chicago in the annual intercity bouts with New York at Madison Square Garden March 22 and become members of the U.S. team that will meet Europe's best in the international matches in Chicago Stadium May 20.

Raschi Impressive in NL Debut

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chalk one up for Vic Raschi today—and the St. Louis Cardinals too.

"I think I can help them a lot," Raschi repeatedly has said since the Redbirds purchased him from the New York Yankees.

Yesterday, he showed he wasn't kidding. Making his debut for the National Leaguers, the 35-year-old right-hander limited the Chicago White Sox to two hits in the four innings he worked as the Cardinals eked out a 7-5 victory.

* * *

Using his fast ball sparingly, but effectively mixing up curves and changes of pace, he gave up a home run to Eddie Stewart and a double to Bob Boyd in the first inning, then held the Chisox hitless in the next three frames.

Because Raschi needed four and sometimes five days rest between starts in 1953, many observers felt that the Cardinals paid too much (reportedly $80,000) for a "once a week" pitcher.

* * *

Bobby Shantz, another question mark pitcher, also made his spring debut, but he wasn't nearly so successful as Raschi.

Sidelined most of last season with a sore arm, the pint-sized Philadelphia Athletics' left-hander gave up three Cincinnati runs in three innings. He was touched for a home run by third baseman Charley Harmon, a double by Ted Kluszewski and singles by Grady Hatton, Bob Borkowski and Roy McMillan. Philadelphia won the game 4-3 on a ninth-inning squeeze bunt by rookie Forrest Jacobs.

At Sarasota, Fla., pinch-hitter Billy Goodman's single in the seventh drove in two runs as the Boston Red Sox topped the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 for the fourth straight triumph. Henry Aaron walloped a home run for the Braves.

Outfielder Jim Fridley hit a ninth-inning home run, at Tucson, Ariz., to give the unbeaten Baltimore Orioles a 2-1 decision over the Cleveland Indians. Veteran Howard Fox was the winning pitcher.

* * *

Shut out until the eighth, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored six times to tie the score then pushed over a run in the 11th to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6. Robin Roberts, the Phillies' big winner, blanked the Brooks for five innings.

* * *

Pinch-hitter Lew Berberet's sacrifice fly in the ninth drove in the winning run as the Yankees edged the Washington Senators 4-3. Negro catcher Elston Howard tripled home two of the Yankees three runs in the fourth.

At Mesa, Ariz., Ralph Kiner hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded, to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 10-7 victory over the New York Giants.

Lions Sign Two Players

DETROIT (AP)—A draft choice and a free agent have signed contracts with the Detroit Lions, champs of the National Football League. The draft choice is Dick Kercher, Tulsa University back who posted a 5.7 average rushing in 1952. The free agent is Dominic Fucci who has played three backfield positions for the University of Kentucky.

Former big league stars Wally Moses, Rollie Hemsley and Augie Galan are the 1954 coaches for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Rogers Wins Title

Ron Rogers of Pontiac won the novice welterweight championship in the Western Michigan Golden Gloves recently. A student at Ferris Institute, Rogers is the son of Mrs. David Rogers, 28 Hartung Ct., Pontiac.

Soccer Popular Sport

Soccer is the top sport in the British Isles, Italy, Uruguay and about 50 other countries. In England there are 88 teams in major play. Game attendance sometimes reaches 150,000.

Winter Tough for Spartans

Only Three of Eight MSC Squads Compiled Winning Marks

EAST LANSING (UP)—Swimming, wrestling and boxing were the only winning squads out of Michigan State's eight winter sports teams as Spartan athletes won 40 contests and lost 48 during the 1953-54 season.

Won-loss records for MSC teams to date:

Boxing 4-1, wrestling 7-2, swimming 6-2, gymnastics 3-4, track 1-2, fencing 2-9, basketball 9-13 and hockey, 8-14 and one tie.

In Big 10 standings Michigan State's basketball team finished eighth, fencing sixth, track fifth, wrestling and swimming third. The gymnastics team competes in conference championships Friday and Saturday. MSC's hockey team finished sixth in the 7-member Western Intercollegiate league.

15-Man PHS Tank Squad Named for MHSAA Event

Pontiac High Swimming Coach Robert "Des" Boyce will take a 15-man squad to Ann Arbor Friday to compete in the annual MHSAA meet.

Accompanying the team will be Neil Gray, former PHS head swimming coach who will be an official at the meet.

The test, which is expected to attract more than 20 Class A teams, will get under way at 7:30 p. m. Friday with preliminaries in diving.

Swimming preliminaries are slated for Saturday morning and afternoon, and the finals are to begin at 7:30 Saturday night. Test is being held in the University of Michigan pool.

Co-favorites for the "A" title will be Fordson, which has won the crown for the past two years, and undefeated Jackson.

Squad making the trip includes: Free-stylists Jim Schellenberg, Dick Gavette, Bruce Mumbru, Bob Howse, Bob Lamson, John and Phil Wargelin, Mal Walker and Lee Hathaway; breast-strokers Bob Keavy and Ken Scott; backstrokers Tom Cross and Bill Hampton, individual medley man Dwayne Butler and diver Bill McLarty.

Regular Season Baseball TV Coverage Is Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC-TV will carry a series of 30 big league games over a limited hookup this season.

Outside of the World Series, the All-Star and other special games, this is the 1st time a television network has taken on baseball as a regular project.

The telecasts will be in addition to any local station transmissions and will take the games into areas which could not tune them in last year.

Pirates' Future With Rickey

By BILL CORUM

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (INS)—I've been trying to get to Fort Pierce for the last ten days. I knew, however, that I'd make it eventually.

Branch Rickey didn't pick Fort Pierce as the training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates because he wanted people to see them.

As a matter of fact, the Pirates are here incognito. This is a ball team that's so young that when a manager wheels a pram out to first base nobody thinks anything of it.

As I have said so many times however, Rickey is a smart man. When they aren't playing, he can use these kids to sell pop and hot-dogs in the stands.

"Long John Silver" Galbreath and "Jean LaFitte" Fairless, the owners of the Buccaneers, will wind up one day hoisting the black flag of the Pirates in victory over Forbes Field. All I know for sure about Mr. Rickey, after watching him through the years, is that he does build winning teams.

Years ago in the good town of St. Louis, the Deacon taught Sam Breadon how to do it. Later on, of course, when they had split company, Breadon did it alone with the Cardinals.

But there was a difference in the operation when 'Singing Sam" took over. By then he had reached a state of affluence where he could keep his good players.

When Rickey was the general manager of the team, he had to do it the hard way.

At the end of the fiscal year, Breadon would show Branch the club's statement, and whatever the amount of the loss it was up to Branch to sell players until he had made it up.

Rickey did the same in Brooklyn under somewhat similar circumstances and it may be that he isn't costing the Buc owners quite all the money that some believe.

If only the Pirate fans will be just a little patient, they'll see a pennant fly over Forbes Field again. These are only boys off the corner lots that manager Fred Haney has here at Fort Pierce. But they'll grow up faster than you think.

Later Bear Season Asked

Hunters Want Special Sept. 1-15 Period in Upper Peninsula

Michigan Bear Hunters Association plans to ask the state conservation commission this week to reconsider its action of last month of eliminating a special late summer bear season in the Upper Peninsula.

Carl T. Johnson, Cadillac, president of the association, will ask the commission to approve a special bear season from Sept. 1 to Sept. 15 to take the place of the Aug. 15-Sept. 15 season last year.

Members of the association hunt bears with hounds and they say that's the best time of the year to use their dogs. Johnson said his group would want the commisson to ban shooting at bear at garbage dumps or other baited areas during the special season. The commission meets in Lansing Thursday and Friday.

Jones Scores Upset Against Gil Turner

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — California titleholder Bobby Jones ignored the dopesters and scored an upset over 4th ranking middleweight Gil Turner in a 10-round nationally-televised bout last night in Philadelphia.

Jones, 155, of Oakland, won the votes of judges Lou Tress (6-3-1) and Jimmy Mina (5-4-1) in the split-decision victory.

Referee Dave Beloff marked his card 5-3-2 for Turner, 151, of Philadelphia, who was a 3-1 wagering choice. Jones' stinging hooks and jabs showed up best in the 5th and 8th rounds while Turner overcame his weariness and took the last round.

Canadian Geese Seen, Spring May Be On Way

Spring can't be too far away.

William Wood, who lives at 2441 Orchard Lane, Pontiac, spotted a pair of Canadian geese walking on the ice at Pontiac Lake this morning. The honkers apparently are resting before continuing their northward journey.

Wood reports that he hasn't seen the species hereabouts this early in at least six years.

Foresters to Meet

Conservation department foresters will hold four public meetings in the northern part of the state late this month to map plans to fight the annual invasion of caterpillars.

Meetings have been scheduled for Cheboygan March 23, Petoskey March 23, Rogers City March 24 (tentative), and Alpena March 25.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Lift, Don't Turn.

Point Thumb or V—A ball delivered with a natural swing will release anywhere from three inches to a foot over the foul line. And the arm, in smooth form, swings on through and straight out, coming upward just a little in a finishing lift, as the sketch of stylist Ned Day shows.

I have had several letters asking how high the arm should be lifted, and where the hook turn is applied? The turn actually comes of itself if the hand is in proper position to begin the downswing.

Fingers must be on the outside, behind and slightly under the ball. The fingers alone move around to the right, ever so little, to the point of finishing lift. In Day's case (see sketch), the thumb is up and pointing at the pins in playing an alley of medium polished surface.

On a slick surfaced alley the hand is turned over a bit more, so that the thumb and index finger form a "V" aimed at the pins in the follow-through.

Dukes, Hilltoppers NIT Favorites

NEW YORK (AP)— The National Invitatioin Tournament takes the center of the stage in college basketball's biggest week of the year today as the 16 teams remaining in the National Collegiate Championships awaited their next games.

Semifinals were on tap in the NIT with top-seeded Duquesne favored over fourth-seeded Niagara and second-seeded Western Kentucky expected to topple third-seeded Holy Cross. The final, and a consolation final for tonight's losers, is scheduled Saturday.

* * *

Some of the NCAA entries headed for the four regional tourney sites — Philadelphia, Iowa City, Stillwater, Okla., and Corvallis, Ore.—and those already on hand got in their final practice licks.

* * *

Here's how they'll line up for the NCAA tilts tomorrow night:

At Philadelphia—Navy vs. Cornell and La Salle vs. North Carolina State.

At Iowa City—Penn State vs. Louisiana State and Notre Dame vs. Indiana.

At Stillwater—Bradley vs. Colorado and Rice vs. Oklahoma A&M.

At Corvallis—Southern California vs. Idaho State and Santa Clara vs. Colorado A&M.

* * *

The NIT is running true to form for the first time in years. That, plus the fact Duquesne already has beaten Niagara twice, albeit with difficulty both times, makes the Dukes favored in their game. Western Kentucky figures to have too much height and speed for the slick Crusaders of Holy Cross.

The NCAA field finally was completed yesterday with the selection of Colorado to represent the Big Seven Conference. The Buffaloes gained a tie with Kansas in the conference race when the Jayhawkers were upset by Missouri, then won the berth on a lucky draw by Conference Commissioner Reaves Peters. Kansas won the NCAA title in 1952, and lost out in the finals to Indiana last year 69-68.

* * *

Indiana may have their toughest struggle in their tourney bow this time. The Hoosiers, ranked second nationally go against Notre Dame's 5th-ranked team, which has rolled to 17 consecutive victories. Indiana beat the Irish 66-65 back in December and also eliminated Notre Dame in last year's NCAA Tournament.

Neither NCAA Nor Big 10 Television Plan May Be Answer to College Football's Tough Problem

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The new debate between the NCAA and the Big Ten is only a small part of the TV picture. The TV problem in football is one that can't be solved easily. It has no quick solution.

TV is like some vast tidal wave that engulfs everything. Baseball rushed into television without any serious thought about the matter and today is in greater trouble than it has ever known before.

For five successive years minor-league attendance has almost disappeared and big-league attendance has been falling away at the rate of 500,000 a season. Another 500,000 or more are expected to vanish from the turnstiles this year.

* * *

Now football's collegiate group is trying desperately to handle the matter. I've known most of the men in the NCAA group well for many years—from Tom Hamilton to Asa Bushnell. They have been clean, decent and honest—looking for the general interest of football.

If there had been unlimited TV, the attendance for average college games would have been wrecked. A few of the leaders would have done very well. But outside of Notre Dame, and possibly a very few others big enough to defy even television, the attendance drop would have been terrific.

Each season brings a bigger problem, for every year unnumbered new TV sets move into the scene.

* * *

The Big Ten is not satisfied with the NCAA TV plan that was tried out before. It was an honest effort to meet the situation. But it was facing an almost impossible situation.

* * *

From my own angle, there were many television games I hadn't the slightest interest in. This same feeling was known to many millions. They want to see Notre Dame, Michigan, Michigan State, Georgia Tech; UCLA, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Maryland and a few other leaders.

The NCAA TV commission is still doing the best it can, but it is facing a badly tangled situation. It is quite possible the Big Ten idea won't be any better. It will have to be tested first.

I think the NCAA has been justified in its effort to save intercollegiate football. I also think the Big Ten is justified in trying out its regional scheme, but they are still groping in the dark for the right answer.

Reports From Majors' Camps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRADENTON, Fla. — Manager Casey Stengel got a good look at two New York Yankees' winter acquisitions yesterday and he liked what he saw.

Elston Howard, first Negro ever to don a Yankee uniform, whacked a two-run triple as the champions defeated Washington 4-3. And Harry Byrd, strong armed pitcher obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics, hurled hitless and runless ball for three innings although he walked three to load the bases in the fifth.

MIAMI, Fla.—Joe Black of the Brooklyn Dodgers has proved himself something of a mediator as well as a pitcher. Black, hoping to regain the form that made him the star of the National League champions' pitching staff in 1952, was instrumental in persuading Sandy Amoros to sign his contract yesterday. Amoros was considering playing for a club in the Dominican Republica, which offered him a couple of thousand dollars more than the Dodgers.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Manager Leo Durocher is not what you would call cheerful these days following four straight setbacks by his New York Giants but he did manage today to say some nice things about a few of his players.

He evidently was pleased by the hitting of Whitey Lockman and Bill Taylor and the fielding of third baseman Hank Thompson in yesterday's 10-7 defeat by the Chicago Cubs.

ORLANDO, Fla. — Washington Senators manager Bucky Harris gets his first look today at highly-touted Cuban outfielder Angel Scull in the team's workout at Tinker field.

Pitcher Connie Marrero checked in yesterday from Havana and reported his arm is in fine shape.

Teammates Are Rivals

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Goodman and George Kell of the Red Sox are virtually tied in lifetime batting averages. Goodman has a mark of .31146 while Kell owns a .31139 average. Goodman has played in 778 American League games. Kell has appeared in 1,348.

Amateur Hockey Player Killed in Auto Wreck

DETROIT (INS) — A young amateur hockey star died early today in a traffic accident near Farmington.

Victim was Kenneth B. Fenwick Jr., 17, a member of the O'Donnell-Blatz team slated to play in the Michigan Amateur Hockey League championships at Olympia Stadium in Detroit this Sunday.

Three others were injured in the wreck which state police said happened when the car careened off the road onto a shoulder and rolled over in a ditch.

Perfect Wife June Allyson Has 2 Hubbies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's idea of the perfect wife says she isn't.

June Allyson is the doll who has inherited Myrna Loy's apron as the ideal spouse of the movies. You'll remember that Miss Loy, who was wed four times in private life, was named the perfect mate after she starred in "The Thin Man" with William Powell. It was about the first time that marriage had appeared exciting on the screen.

Now it's Miss Allyson. She appears to have two husbands—her real mate, a former crooner named Dick Powell, and her screen hubby, James Stewart. She admits that she often sees more of Stewart than of Powell.

The Stewart-Allyson alliance began with "The Stratton Story." That movie mating was so successful that Stewart hunted for years to find another vehicle they could do together. He finally found two—"The Glenn Miller Story," which is now breaking records, and "Strategic Air Command," which is beginning production.

When I talked to June in her Paramount dressing room, she scoffed: "Me the perfect wife? Pooh! Far from it."

Her husband—that fellow who used to sing—probably wouldn't agree, but she claimed she's a fizzle as a mate.

"I'm a lousy cook," she said. "The only thing I can really cook well is coffee and eggs. I learned to cook eggs at the American Women's Club on 57th street in New York when I was looking for jobs. I had an old two-burner stove and the only thing I could afford was eggs.

"Oh, yes, I can also barbecue. We built a new one, and I went nuts about it. Cooked up some wonderful steaks. I would have been a whiz in pioneer times. It's too bad I can't cook indoors too."

She added that she always forgets to order food and never has time to sew and do the little wifely chores around the house.

I asked her about her two husbands, and she said they are very much alike.

"I've never seen either of them blow up," she observed. "Jimmy never gets excited. Not that he never gets angry. He does. But the only way you can tell is that he gets a little deadly.

"Richard never raises his voice either. He's the ulcer type—holds things closely to him. If he ever has to bawl someone out, he says it very nicely.

"Jimmy is a very interesting person. He's not at all as quiet as people think he is. He can be shy with strangers, but with friends he can be a real yakker."

NEW JOBS—Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown College, top, is chairman of an eight-man committee named to study ways of increasing the effectiveness of career government employes. Maj-Gen. James F. Gavin, bottom, was named Army chief of staff for operations, starting in April. General Gavin saw considerable action in Europe during World War II.

Sennett Stars Reunited on TV

Silent Screen's King of Comedy Is Honored at Nostalgic Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mack Sennett, once Hollywood's king of comedy, took a sentimental journey into the past last night as his stars of yesteryear gathered for a reunion at his old studio.

The creator of the Keystone Kops and the Mack Sennett bathing beauties was the subject of the TV show "This Is Your Life." Emcee Ralph Edwards assembled many of the old Sennett troupe for dinner and drinks at the site of the old Keystone studio in the Edendale district of Los Angeles.

The place is now used by a trucking firm, and the company erected an obelisk in honor of the studio for the occasion.

* * *

The 69-year-old Canadian-born producer was taken completely by surprise. He was induced to attend the program by Cameron Shipp, with whom he is writing his memoirs. He was supposed to be appearing on a show called "So You Want to Write a Book," and a phony script was even concocted.

There were many laughs and much sentiment at the after-show party. Edwards had assembled many figures from Sennett's past, among them his boyhood sweetheart from Northampton, Mass., Mrs. Rose Clark, whom he hadn't seen in many decades. Also, Fritzi Scheff, star of "Mademoiselle Modiste," in which Sennett played a chorus boy 50 years ago.

* * *

The dwindling ranks of the Keystone Kops included Hank Mann, Chester and Heinie Conklin and Andy Clyde.

Other Sennett stars present included Sally Eilers, Phyllis Haver, Louise Fazenda, Jack Mulhall, Franklin Pangborn, Minta Durfee Arbuckle and Alberta Vaughn.

Harold Lloyd was there and recalled working three or four months as a juvenile for Sennett at $50 a week before moving on to greater fame. Sennett, who also started such stars as Charlie Chaplin, Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, Carole Lombard and Gloria Swanson, has been in semiretirement since 1935. He leads an active life, remaining in touch with the show world and playing golf daily.

Boatyard Adding New Mid-Section to Lengthen Ship

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—In an unusual repair job, Todd Shipyard has cut a 523-foot tanker in two and is replacing its midships section with a larger one which will make the vessel 14 feet longer.

The tanker, the Ticonderoga, was ripped by an explosion last September which blasted a hole big enough to drive a locomotive through.

Yesterday the new midship section was floated from a drydock and joined to the original bow section. Later the stern will be welded on.

Banquet in May to Honor Retiring MSC Professor

EAST LANSING (AP)—Prof. A. A. Applegate, retiring head of the Michigan State College journalism department, will be honored at a banquet at the MSC Kellogg Center May 1.

The Michigan Press Assn. and members of the college's four honorary journalism fraternities are sponsoring the event.

Carl Saunders, editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, will be toastmaster.

Tentative plans of friends of Prof. Applegate are to establish a loan fund or scholarship for journalism students in his honor.

Dulles' Anti-Red Program Wins Nods at Venezuela

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The betting now is that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be successful in ramming through the inter-American conference at Caracas a strong anti-Communist resolution.

His resolution would extend the Monroe Doctrine against foreign intervention or further colonization in the Western Hemisphere to include international communism.

It would consider any Communist government set up in the Americas as under the control of Moscow and therefore to consist of direct foreign intervention.

United action by the various American nations "under existing treaties" then would follow.

Recent events have both underlined Dulles' warning against Communist infiltration in the Western Hemisphere and have illustrated the difficulties of dealing with it.

Dulles hopes for almost unanimous approval of his resolution.

Guatemala, as was expected, opposes it vehemently.

The United States never officially has accused Guatemala of being Communist-run.

But Guatemala has been called a "bridgehead" for communism in Latin America and, at the least, is Communist-influenced.

Guatemala has attacked the Dulles resolution as another example of United States "dollar diplomacy" and "big stick" policies which would lead directly to U. S. intervention in Latin American affairs.

These are powerful arguments below the Rio Grande where a traditional suspicion of the "colossus of the north" still exists and where "colonization" is a hated word.

Last fall the British expelled the prime minister of British Guiana, Dr. Cheddi Jagan, and outlawed his peoples' Progressive party as pro-Communist.

This week the British government in London received an urgent warning from Gov. Patrick Renison of British Honduras that there is a link between the people's United party of the colony and the Communists of Guatemala.

He urged an immediate investigation, especially in light of the fact that British Honduras elections come just six weeks from now.

Both cases might be taken as a warning to Latin American nations.

However, unfortunately for American solidarity, both occurred in colonies, and Central and South American nations are likely to get more morbid satisfaction out of British colonial difficulties than to take any warning that "it can happen here."

A situation with related factors exists in Puerto Rico. There the fanatic Nationalist party is not Communist but has welcomed help from the Communists.

It is noteworthy that not in Guiana, British Honduras or in Puerto Rico have the Reds made an open grab for power. They have operated in fronts or in collaboration, thus complicating any attempt at retaliation against them and making more dangerous the charge of intervention.

Police Rush to Capitol After Phone Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — An anonymous telephoned warning — and memories of the shooting spree staged by Puerto Rican fanatics 10 days ago in the House of Representatives—sent police reinforcements on the double to the Capitol yesterday.

Nothing happened. William Bonsell, House sergeant-at-arms, said an untraceable call the FBI received, predicting "trouble," probably was the work of a crackpot—"but we can't take any chances."

20 Hurt as Trains Collide in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 20 persons were injured, none seriously, yesterday when the Pennsylvania Railroad's Liberty Limited and the Burlington Line's Minneapolis Zephr collided in the Union Station's train shed.

Twelve of the injured were passengers in the Limited, which was bound for Baltimore and Washington. Five of the train's porters and waiters also were hurt, as were six Burlington employes aboard the Zephyr. There were no passengers on the Zephyr, which was backing into the big station for an outgoing trip. Only one of the injured remained hospitalized overnight.

Objects to Abbreviation

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UP)—Elizabeth Shoemaker, manager of the Greater Vermont Association, says the abbreviation "Vt." is "ugly, snippy and in no way connotes the picture of the state." She says that residents "promote" their state by "constant repetition of its name," spelling out the name fully every time in all written use of it.

Grains Dipping, Wheat Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains declined in quite active dealings on the board of trade today.

Heavier selling appeared to be in the new crop wheat contracts which have been advancing for some time because of the drought in the western section of the Great Plains. A possibility of moisture in parts of this area created some hasty selling.

Soybeans suffered from some additional profit taking after their six months advance, although they didn't lose too much ground. Feed grains eased partly because of fairly liberal recipts of cash corn, totaling 171 cars.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1⅞ cents lower, March $2.29¼, corn ⅝ to ⅞ lower, March $1.53, oats ¼ to ⅝ lower, March 77, rye 1 to 1¼ lower, March $1.19, soybeans 1 to 2½ lower, March $3.48½ and lard 5 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $17.32.

Ford Motor Co. Reveals Latest in 'Dream' Design

DETROIT (AP)—A "dream car" that looks as though it might have been designed to end all "dream cars" has been completed by Ford Motor Co.

It will be shown publicly Friday at the Chicago Auto Show.

Ford calls the car the "Ford FX-Atmos."

The model has no engine, but nevertheless it has many unusual features including handgrips that control a power steering unit, and a "Roadar" screen that is supposed to constantly picture the road ahead.

When the car was previewed here part of the transparent top had to be unscrewed while a "driver" was lifted in.

Boy, 5, Gets Wish, Dies Like His Cat

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—John Anthony Dillon was 5 years old and he had a cat he loved very much.

She was Grey Lady, a birthday present when he was 4.

They played hide-and-seek together. The cat slept on his bed at night.

Last Thursday a car swerved into the yard and hit the cat. It didn't stop. Grey Lady crawled to Tony and died in his arms.

They buried Grey Lady, but Tony couldn't give her up. Saturday he opened up the grave and cradled her in his arms.

After they buried the cat again, Tony told his mother, "I want to go just like Grey Lady did."

He did. He was killed by a motorcycle yesterday as he and his mother, brother and sister crossed a highway on their way home.

Move Jet Squadron

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Far East Air Force said today it has shifted the 15th tactical reconnaissance squadron of about 25 jets from Korea to Komaki air installation near Nagoya in central Japan. It did not say whether other planes replaced the 15th in Korea.

Market Narrow, Deals Cautious

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved narrowly today with trading quiet in early dealings.

An air of caution about trading carried prices small fractions either way.

A little higher were steels and coppers. Unchanged to lower were motors and mail order issues. Others were mixed including railroads and aircrafts.

Among higher stocks were Southern Pacific, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, American Cyanamid, American Woolen, U. S. Steel, and Radio Corp. Lower were Santa Fe, Eastern Air Lines, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, and Boeing.

County Deaths

Laurence A. McCleish

ROYAL OAK — Service for Laurence A. (Mac) McCleish, 62, who died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Virgil Lake of 4127 Berkshire, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home, Auburn Heights, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

A former resident of Birmingham, he is survived by his widow, Nona; two daughters, Mrs. Lake and Mrs. Howard Hatt of Birmingham; a son, Donald of Birmingham; and two sisters, Mrs. Verna Johnston of San Diego, Calif, and Mrs. Audrey Garty of Honolulu, Hawaii.

The family requests that donations be made to the American Cancer Society in lieu of flowers.

MOMS of America Unit Holds Luncheon Meeting

GALLOWAY LAKE — MOMS of America Unit 21 met at the home of Mrs. Alta Koch, 381 N. Saginaw, for a luncheon and business meeting yesterday afternoon.

Plans were made to sponsor a modern and square dance March 20 at Pontiac Township Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. The groups also donated $10 to the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital.

School Board to Continue Fire Insurance Methods

Pontiac Board of Education voted Wednesday to keep the "five-year" plan insurance it's carrying with Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents.

The board, meeting at 40 Patterson St., renewed $2,221,780 worth of fire insurance with the association and took out $764,735 more to cover new buildings.

Total premium was $17,799.63.

Under the plan, one-fifth of the school's system of insurance expires each year. The Pontiac association gives the school system five years worth of insurance for four years' premiums under the long-range plan.

But two board members — Maurice J. Croteau and Ferd N. Thiefels — again objected to giving the association a "monopoly" on school fire insurance.

And Robert Tricker, Mils Insurance agent, questioned why the school system doesn't request bids on fire insurance. Mills Mutual had bid the same premium, with a possible 15 per cent dividend later.

The school system now carries some $12,000,000 worth of fire insurance — all with the Pontiac association.

The board decided Wednesday to let the city use schools for voting places in city elections, even if it means some youngsters have to take time off.

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent, said that schools are getting crowded and it will be "impossible" to find room for voting booths next fall unless some classes are cut.

A letter from Kline B. Hartman, Jefferson Junior High principal, told the board he wants to resign and teach at Pontiac High School. No official action was taken.

The board decided not to accept a deed to 11 acres of Kennett Road land it's buying from Oakland County for $5,500 until a clause is rubbed out.

The deed, drafted by county officials, specifies that if the school board ever stops using the property for school, the county could refund the $5,500 and take back the land, and any improvements (such as a school building) on it.

Croteau, a Pontiac supervisor, said this clause wasn't in the County Board of Supervisors' sale resolution.

Cox told the board that Owen has changed its schoolday to 8:45 a. m. to 2:45 p. m. so that youngsters miss heavy factory traffic on Columbia and Baldwin avenues.

And he read a letter from an Owen mother who said that maybe the reason youngsters got hit by cars is that they "are taught to be too dependent on safety patrol boys and not use their own judgment."

Business Notes:

Predicts County to Go to 780,000

Edison Man Tells Lions Population May Double by Year 1970

Future growth of Oakland County and the Detroit industrial area, as projected in studies to determine future electric power needs, indicates Oakland may have a population of some 780,000 by 1970.

The 1950 census showed 396,000 people living in the county.

The forecasts were given Wednesday by George Matthews, director of personnel and training for Detroit Edison Co., in an address before the Lions Club.

He said his company must anticipate power needs at least five years ahead to make necessary physical plant expansion.

Stressing that Michigan is the leading industrial state of the nation, he said that additional water transportation by reason of the St. Lawrence Seaway, will further advance our industrial position.

"There is a concerted movement of industry to areas outside of Detroit," he said. "Large acreage purchases have followed the railroads which fan out from the metropolitan area.

"In addition to the big expansion of major corporations many small industrial units desire to locate 10, 20, and 30 miles from Detroit, to take advantage of the water transportation."

He stated Edison now is hooked up with the Ontario Hydroelectric system, so that the two may exchange current in times of stress on either side of the border.

In the field of atomic adaptation of power, he said engineers are now considering a type of "floating barge" generating station which might be hooked into a power grid system wherever needed.

He said by 1955 his company will have a plant investment of about $850 million, with an annual power capacity of more than 12 billion kilowatt hours.

A Linda Lee shop featuring ladies' apparel and a complete maternity department is opening today at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center at Telegraph and W. Huron St.

The 22x80 foot store, decorated in blue and rose, will be managed by Mrs. Ethel Timmerman of Pontiac. This is the first store in the chain to have a complete line of maternity clothes.

The net income of the Ohio Oil Co. of Findlay reached $43,539,000 last year, a 10.6 per cent gain over 1952, President J. C. Donnel II reported to stockholders today. Dividends were $3.25 per share, compared with $3 per share in 1952. The company's product carries the "Marathon" trade name in Michigan.

Three Pontiac representatives of Equitable Life Assurance Society recently completed courses in programming at the agency's Flint headquarters. They are George H. Hanson, Richard L. Mineweaser and Charles H. Vaughn. Hanson was named class president.

Briggs Manufacturing Co., Detroit, directors have declared a dividend of 25 cents for each share of outstanding stock on record March 19. The dividends will be paid March 31.

Appointment of Sheldon F. Woodard as division master mechanic was announced this week by John E. Brennan, Chrysler Corp. general manager. Woodard, who attended school at Birmingham, University of Michigan and Michigan State College, formerly was assigned to the Chrysler Jet Plant near Utica.

Five associate managers and 14 agents in the Pontiac district of the Life Insurance Co. of Virginia have qualified to attend the company's 1954 Leaders Convention starting March 25 in New Orleans, according to Louis Pohl, Pontiac district manager.

Television advertising must be done on a large scale or practically not at all, Horace B. Northcott, advertising director of the Union Pacific Railroad, said at the Cleveland Advertising Club last week.

Mr. Northcott, in an interview, said TV now gets two per cent of the Union Pacific's advertising budget. Unless it is made much larger, wiping out several other media, there is no value in increasing the amount, the ad director said.

New Credit Union Sets Office Hours

Oakland County Employes Credit Union will open a part-time office on the third floor of the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., Friday.

The board of directors Wednesday night decided to keep the office open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 4 until 5 p.m. The credit union will start taking applications for loans April 1. Only savings accounts are being accepted this month.

The new credit union, headed by James Hunt, chief juvenile probation officer, is open to all 1,200 county employes. The association will keep members' savings accounts and grant loans at a low interest rate to members.

Child Hurt in Accident

Donelda Archer, 7, of 158 Whittemore St., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for cuts and bruises suffered yesterday when she darted into the path of a motorcycle driven by Lawrence Lamberson, 25, of 102 Whittemore St., according to Pontiac police. She was struck in front of her home.

2 Chrysler Detroit Plants Idled by Wildcat Strikers

DETROIT (INS) — The second wildcat strike in a week Wednesday saw 8,200 workers idled at two Chrysler Corp. plants in Detroit.

Approximately 5,200 employes at Chrysler's automotive body division Mack Plant were sent home as 18 trim shop workers snarled the production line when they walked off their jobs. Three thousand more workers were sent home from the Plymouth Plant as the production line slowed for lack of auto bodies.

Whaling Fleet Sails Into Northern Pacific

COAL HARBOR, B. C. (AP)—The 20th-century version of "Thar she blows" sounded across the Pacific Ocean's stormy waters today as six sturdy boats started a hunt for 600 whales.

The ships left here yesterday and will range from 100 to 200 miles out of this shore station deep in Quatsino Sound on the northwest coast of Vancouver Island.

They seek humpback, finback, sei, blue and sperm whales in the only whaling expedition known to operate this far north in the Pacific.

They will conclude their search six months from now. It is hoped the catch will be big enough and expenses small enough to show a profit—a result obtained only once before in the six years of operation by the B. C. Packers, Ltd.

Five vessels, with 25-man crews, harpooned 539 whales last year in a season cut short two weeks by a Pacific storm.

Inexperienced Nurse Almost Starts Epidemic

SEATTLE (AP) — Fifteen students returning to a local grade school after short absences underwent a routine check of their temperatures. For all 15, the thermometer registered 102—3.4 degrees above normal.

They were sent back home.

Then one mother, who could find no fever in her youngster at home, decided to investigate. Inquiry disclosed that an inexperienced aide had not shaken the thermometer between each temperature check, believing that the cool antiseptic solution in which it was dipped was enough to send the mercury down.

Spry Woman Celebrates 107th Birthday Today

CUMBERLAND W. Va. (AP) — A quiet birthday party—her 107th—will be held here today for spry Mrs. Susan May.

She was born March 11, 1847, in Pendleton County, Va., which has since become part of West Virginia.

Recalling her long life yesterday, she said two of her brothers fought on opposite sides in the Civil War. As for the more recent past, she remembered that she had an appendectomy two years ago when she was "only 105."

Bootleg Whisky of 1918 Found in Old Building

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A long-forgotten cache of bootleg whisky was uncovered yesterday under the floor of a downtown landmark being razed for a parking lot.

Some of the whisky carried labels bearing a 1918 date. A stack of money also was found but most of it was shredded badly, apparently by rats. Several $5 and $10 bills were still intact, however.

Says Hollywood Is Sophisticated

Pop Singer Was Used to Gang of 2,000, Finds Few Out West

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Singer Eddie Fisher made a startling discovery today — Hollywood bobbysoxers are more "sophisticated" than the ones back east.

They don't tear his clothes!

Eddie, a TV favorite of the schoolbook and saddle-shoe set, marveled at the dignified reception he received from a mere handful of autograph fans since he arrived to air his TV show from the West Coast.

"At the Paramount" (in New York) he laughed, "there usually are 2,000 or 3,00 kids yelling at my dressing room door and waiting around my house.

"But out here, just a few girls have come up and asked for my autograph and quietly walked away. I've never seen anything like it!

"I guess Hollywood kids have more opportunity to see TV and film people than they do in New York, so they don'r get nearly as excited."

Eddie admitted he likes the old razzle-dazzle.

He added a little wistfully:

"I sort of miss all the rumpus. Those kids yelling and laughing make me feel wanted."

The singer, who aired his show here with the help of guest star Dinah Shore, estimated good-naturedly that his frantic bobby-sox following has cost him thousands of dollars worth of natty attire.

They rip his jackets, grab his monogrammed hankies, his $10 ties and jerk the buttons from his coat. And he loves it.

Only time Eddie ever complained was when a song-happy gal climbed on stage and tore the back out of a new cashmere jacket.

"That was real nervy," he said, "but even then, I wasn't angry. It made me feel unhappy until I got another jacket just like it."

Eddie, woh is an Eddie Cantor discovery, says he's "just a singer" and not a "song stylist."

"I tried to develop a style once but it didn't sound natural and it didn't sound like me. So I guess I'm stuck. I'll just always have to sing the way I feel."

Fisher considers Nat King Cole one of the great stylists of the day, along with Perry Como and Bing Crosby.

Eddie, who was lunching in a restaurant across the street, got up to leave when three middle-aged women quietly asked him to autograph their dinner napkins.

He obliged, but as he sauntered out the door, he murmured:

"Wonder whatever happened to the bobbysox brigade?"

Church Groups Get TV Advice

Lt. Gov. Reid Suggests Dry Advocates Turn Sport Sponsors

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. Clarence Reid (R-Detroit) said today he was advising church and dry groups to raise their own advertising money and sponsor television programs of baseball and boing.

This was Reid's response to a whirlwind of telegrams which began to arrive in the Senate as that chamber gingerly took charge of the House-approved McCune bill to censor beer and wine advertising on television. Much of this is linked to sports broadcasts.

Reid ignored the telegrams, which frightened the House into passing the bill, and sent the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee. Insiders said it would die there, although the chairman, Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) is known to be friendly to the church and dry groups which backed the bill.

"I have a stack of telegrams a foot thick already," Reid said, "to put this bill in the liquor committee. But it's going to judiciary committee because it is a legal matter.

"I'm telling these dry and church groups that if they had any sense they would raise their own money and sponsor good clean athletic events on television themselves. Take the play away from the breweries.

"Clean sports are a good thing and would make a wonderful attraction for the message the churches want to put across to the public."

Reid said a number of church officials to whom he made the suggestion were "very enthusiastic."

Ship Sabotaged in English Port

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) —Deliberate damage to the electrical wiring of the 1,700-ton British destroyer Uranian was disclosed last night.

Wiring in several parts of the vessel was cut, apparently with a hacksaw.

Security officers were called to investigate.

More than 17 sabotage incidents have been reported aboard British naval vessels during the last nine months. The damage has been minor, however, and naval authorities blame it on a 'wave of hooliganism" stemming from discontent among crewmen.

Red Fishermen Need Improved Reconnaisance

MOSCOW (AP)—The fish may be clever in Soviet waters—especially down south in the Sea of Azov—the government says that's no reason why Soviet fishermen can't catch as much as they're supposed to.

The government newspaper Izvestia, in a recent article, said it's the result of poor organization and planning when this sort of thing happens:

"Last year the whole fleet was concentrated at one shore of the fishing field (in the Sea of Azov)—and the fish went along the opposite shore. By the time the fleet had moved to the other shore, the fish had circled around and gone to the place where the fleet had waited in vain for them several days."

The fishermen, said Ivestia, will have to learn to outsmart the fish by improved reconnaissance.

Schwable Says Judgment Lost

Blames Reds' Mental Torture for His False Germ Confession

WASHINGTON (UP)—Col. Frank H. Schwable said today solitary confinement, constant interrogation and a sense of futility led him to confess falsely to Communist charges of waging germ warfare.

"My judgment became warped," Schwable told a Marine court of inquiry. "I didn't think then I was losing my sense of judgment. I thought I could think out things fairly well."

The 45-year-old Marine aviator recounted in detail the treatment dealt him by Chinese and North Korean captors during 14 months imprisonment.

The court of inquiry is seeking to determine whether Schwable should be disciplined for the "confession" which he later repudiated.

Schwable said the 24-page explanation he wrote for Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps commandant, immediately on his return home, is "true to the best of my knowledge." He said the statement omitted some details because details sometimes "sound like excuses."

"I wouldn't make any excuses to the commandant," Schwable said, "and I won't make any excuses now."

Schwable looked haggard as he leaned forward, elbow on the witness table, and outlined in a clear, but restrained voice, his ordeal.

"Every time I wake at night," he said, "I wake up thinking of this thing. I have been fairly successful at eliminating many of the minor miseries, but the little details are often things that tell the whole picture."

Schwable put special emphasis on his reiteration of that:

"I was not subjected to physical torture—in the sense of brutality."

"Perhaps," he went on," "I would have been more fortunate if I had. That is something people seem to understand. Mine was more subtle."

Las Vegas Hit by Worst Windstorm in 15 Years

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Winds up to 60 miles an hour last night ripped off parts of roofs, felled signs, knocked down power lines which caused four small fires, and whipped up dust clouds which slowed traffic to a crawl.

Observers said it was the worst windstorm in 15 years at this desert resort.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was president of the National Geographic Society from 1898 through 1903.

Fish Trained to Feed at Bell

College Project Trying to Determine Acuity of Their Hearing

HAMILTON, Ont. (UP) —Fish are trained to answer a dinner bell to obtain their food in a tank at McMaster University.

It is part of an experiment being carried out at Hamilton College to determine the hearing ability of fish. The research is the only project of its kind in North America.

Dr. H. Kleerekoper, the man in charge of operations, said fish do hear, but do not have the same type of ear as the higher animals and their range includes sounds anywhere between a few cycles to 7,000 cycles per second.

In other words, fish can hear lower tones than humans but do not have as high a range of hearing.

Dr. Kleerekoper and his researchers started training fish by having them associate sounds of a certain frequency with the getting of food.

In a small tank set up in the university's biological department, four microphones to carry sound from audio-oscillators were attached to each corner and submerged in water when in use.

Minnows were trained to swim to the source of the sound from one microphone, and later they rushed to the mike to receive their meal whenever it was turned on and certain sounds transmitted.

Movie cameras showed the fish did not swim in a straight line to the mike, but followed the curving path of certain sound waves.

It was also learned fish can distinguish clearly between two or more different tones and they have a memory for certain others.

Dr. Kleerekoper doesn't believe what fishermen say about noise scaring off "the big ones" and a fish that gets away warns others. The scientist said fish have to be taught to associate certain sounds with danger.

"And," he added, "I doubt if any ever escaped from a fish hook and passed the information of his narrow escape onto other fish. They can't talk."

Vet Gets Recognition 50 Years After War

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Rush Rinehart got a medal from the Republic of Cuba—50 years after he earned it.

Several years after the Spanish-American war, an appropriation for medals was made by the Republic so it could honor veterans like Rinehart. However, the money ran out and the awards were discontinued.

About a year ago, Rinehart heard a new appropriation had been passed. He applied for his medal and received it last month.

Officer Discovers It's Brothers Day

LAURENS, S. C. (AP) — State Highway Patrolman J. A. McDonald arrested a man who had no driver's license and no license plates on his car. Three hours later he picked up another man under the same conditions — turned out to be the first one's brother.

Headed back into town with his second arrest, McDonald stopped two more cars, each for driving too fast. They were driven by another set of brothers.

Swedish Navy Faces Officer Shortage

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Neutral Sweden, whose soldiers have not fired a shot in anger for more than 100 years, is worried about a shortage of suitable officers for its army.

"The brainy chaps are keeping out" is the gist of a special report just issued. "The (armed) forces are facing a serious crisis in intellectual quality".

Texas Has Almanac

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Texas, one of the few states that was a sovereign nation before it joined the Union, has another claim to fame—its own almanac. The Texas Almanac is a biennial publication by a Dallas newspaper (Morning News). The 671 pages of the 1954-55 edition cover everything from Aberdeen Angus Assn., Texas, to Zuniga Mission.

Submarines do not carry doctors, and all medical duties, including emergency operations, are carried out by pharmacist mates.
