Thant to Quit U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. secretary-general, Thant said (AP) — U.N. Thant rejected today "and to leave the Security Council a new five-year term as secretary-general of the United Nations." Thant said he would not accept a second term as secretary-general.

In a message to the 117 U.N. delegates, Thant said he was willing to stay on for an indefinite period while the Security Council tackled the job of finding a new secretary-general. His term expires Nov. 3.

August Just Seemed Cool

After a hot July, August probably seemed cooler than normal to Pontiac area residents, but it wasn't. August was warm compared with the same month last year.

Only one day in August reached 90 degrees and two days hit 91 for the top temperature reading of the month. In August 1965 the top reading was 98 degrees, but the mean temperature was a mere 69.3 degrees.

The lowest thermometer reading last month was 52 on the 24th, which contributed to a pleasant 74.9 as the mean temperature.

August 1965 recorded a much cooler low of 42 degrees, which set many a furnace and fireplace into action.

HEAVY RAIN

Quite a bit of rain covered the Pontiac area last month but most of it fell during two evenings of heavy downpour. A damaging storm hit the Pontiac area on the night of Aug. 15 and early morning hours of Aug. 16.

A fatal accident occurred and power was cut for over 2,700 people as lightning struck, winds howled and 1.5 inches of rain fell.

A steady downpour fell Aug. 21 and 22 dumping .7 inches of rain on parched area crops and lawns.

Total rainfall for last month was 3.39 inches, compared with 3.34 inches the month before and 2.8 inches in August 1965.

For the entire month, temperatures were pleasant and fairly steady with bright, sunny skies predominating.

Italian Tanker Pontiac to Welcome 175 New Teachers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard said today the Italian tanker Alberto Benati was drifting and taking water in heavy seas 100 miles from the center of Hurricane Faith.

The tanker sent an SOS at 7 a.m. today and said she was 500 miles east of Savannah, Ga. The Coast Guard said the tanker apparently is not in the path of the hurricane.

The Coast Guard sent two cutters and alerted other ships in the Atlantic area to assist the disabled tanker. The Swedish refrigerated freighter Kyoto radioed she was within 40 miles and was altering her course to aid the tanker.

The Pontiac School District will welcome its largest crop of new teachers — about 175 — in a 9 a.m. program at Pontiac Central High School tomorrow.

A general meeting for all in structural personnel is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at Pontiac Northern High School.

The newcomers will be welcomed to the community by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Mrs. Fred Goines, president of the Pontiac PTA Council.

School Board President Monroe M. Osmon and Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer also will extend greetings.

Other speakers during the morning session will be Lewis A. Crew, director of instruction; personnel services; Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent for administrative services; and William J. Lacey, assistant superintendent for instruction and pupil personnel services.

PLAN PICNIC

Following a midday picnic, the new teachers will meet with principals at their respective schools.

Four-day curriculum orientation programs for new teachers currently are being held in the school system.

Tuesday's meeting will begin with an 8:30-9:45 a.m. coffee period.

The program following the informal gathering will feature a presentation entitled "Every Teacher's Role in Reading" by Lacy, elementary reading specialist Dr. Dorothy Heagy and secondary reading specialist Elizabeth McDonald.

Traver Miller, Washington Junior High School assistant principal, will report on the 1966 Sarnia Conference of which he was general chairman.

TWO SPEAKERS

Whitmer and Osmon also will speak at the meeting.

Dr. Lee Haslinger, president of the Administrators and Supervisors Association, will preside.

George Putnam, supervisor of instrumental and secondary vocal music, will lead group singing at both programs.

Tuesday afternoon, faculties will report to their respective schools.

Anyone Seen State Queen?

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Miss Michigan, shapely Gayle Ann Chancy, vanished today just five days before the Miss America pageant. But her mother said she probably was all right and police said they were not searching for her.

Miss Chancy, 19, a blue-eyed brunette, failed to show up at her Dearborn home after leaving Muskegon about 5 p.m. yesterday, driving alone in a flashy car marked with the Miss Michigan and Miss America pageant emblems. Dearborn is about 200 miles east of here.

"She's never done this before," her mother, Mrs. Virginia Chancy, said at her Dearborn home.

"I wish to heck I knew where she was," Jack Bushong, executive director of the Miss Michigan pageant, said here.

Racing Victim Gets $75,000

LANSING (AP) — The state has approved a record $75,000 Workmen's Compensation settlement for John B. White, a former Indianapolis 500 place winner who was injured in a 1964 auto racing crash.

It is the largest amount paid to a victim in Michigan Workmen's Compensation history, said State Compensation Director Weldon Yeager.

White placed fourth in the 1964 Indianapolis race. Two weeks later he crashed in a race at Terre Haute, Ind., and was forced to retire with permanent injuries.

White, 35, now lives in Warren with his wife and five children.

The settlement with White was agreed to by Weinberger Builders, Inc., owner of the car he was driving, and its insurance firm, Midland National Insurance Co.

Property Tax Vote Unlikely

Two methods were discussed, namely, a city income tax identical to the measure rejected by voters last year and a charter amendment to eliminate the current 10-month limit on the city's $7.7-million general fund.

The former method, subject to a petitioned referendum, can be enacted before Nov. 1 by action of the City Commission. The charter amendment requires a vote of the people.

UPDATED FIGURES

City Manager Joseph A. Warren, responding to inquiries from the first conference of community leaders, presented updated revenue figures on the income tax.

Warren, offering figures compiled in the past week by the Citizens Research Council of Detroit, said a city income tax would bring in $2.3 million in new revenue.

Individuals, residents and non-residents, would contribute $1.9 million of this, while corporations would put in $1 million.

Of the $1.9 million received from individuals, an estimated $777,000 would come from the half per cent rate applied to the incomes of nonresidents working in the city.

If coupled with a three-mill property tax cut, the net new revenue from adoption of a city income tax would be $1,697,000, said Warren.

Six cities in Michigan have city income levy levies, he added.

A two-mill hike in the property tax, which would cost the property owner with a home assessed at $4,000 about $10.40 per year, would give the city $802,000 in new revenue.

City officials estimate that $350,000 is needed to raise state and city wages to the average level of those of surrounding municipal employees.

Several community leaders yesterday voiced approval for repeal of the 10-mill tax limitation in the city charter, which would then put Pontiac under the state law limit of 20 mills.

Taylor explained it would then be up to the commission to set the tax rate.

Teachers Voting Today on Ratification of Pact

BIRMINGHAM — The membership of the Birmingham Education Association will meet this afternoon at 4 p.m. at Groves High School to vote on ratification of a teacher contract agreed to last Friday by board of education and BEA bargaining teams.

The negotiated salary package is worth about $600,000, according to a joint statement released by Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith and Don Cameron, BEA executive secretary.

Further details are being withheld pending ratification.

According to Smith, the board of education will hold a special meeting on Labor Day to formally approve the settlement.

Day graduated with honors in humanities from Michigan State University in 1965 and has studied at the Sorbonne in France for the past year.

The program provides for awarding of two-year grants to two recent liberal arts college graduates.

The two selected this year are Thomas E. Carr and Jonathan W. Day.

Each man is given duties as an intern teacher at the school for a two year period and is provided with a living stipend as well as funds sufficient to gain a master's degree at either Wayne State University or the University of Michigan during their two years.

Drivers Urged to Special Caution

A recent news dispatch set forth statistics which are worth repeating with the long Labor Day holiday coming this week-end.

According to the Automobile Club of Michigan, drivers are expected to set a new mileage record. JERRY E. FISHER, Auto Club touring manager, estimates that three million cars will travel 520 million miles on Michigan highways between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

These figures alone should be enough warning to stay off the highways unless it is absolutely necessary. If you are taking a trip, fine. But remember the weekend traffic jams are likely to be the heaviest of the year.

Plan to be driving in traffic and set your schedule accordingly.

Make certain the driver of the car is rested. Switch drivers occasionally and take frequent coffee breaks.

Records show that a great number of accidents occur within a 25 mile radius of home. That in itself indicates that carelessness combined with drinking is a major cause.

This holiday in particular, with all the advance warning of the heavy traffic, use a little common sense. Be alert and protect yourself and your family.

We can't for the life of us see why anyone wants to get into the milling mobs that will be travelling about this last long weekend of the summer.

However, if you must, take it easy so we are not compelled to write your accident story or publish your obituary. Stay alive!

'Cold War' to Require 600,000 Fighting Men

You won't find this in the official communiques from Viet Nam, or from Washington, either. But the cold facts are inescapable. Military authorities who won't be quoted but who are willing to view the situation dispassionately, suggest that by the end of 1967 we may have 600,000 men fighting this "cold war."

Does that sound like "peace?"

Are we really "holding our own?"

America's Interest in Music on Record Scale

Music is chalking up one of the great success stories this year.

The figures, compiled by Broadcast Music, Inc. in its annual Concert Music U.S.A. survey are overwhelming:

- Increase of 857 per cent in dollar volume of records, instruments and other aspects of music when compared with 1959. That's 25 per cent faster than the growth of the Gross National Product.
- Amateur musicians number 37 million. More than 22 million who play piano and 7.5 million playing the guitar.
- Record sales up 1,344 per cent since 1940.
- The number of symphony orchestras has doubled to 1,401 since 1939. More than 12 million Americans receive instructions in schools or with private teachers.
- There are 63,000 school instrumental organizations.
- All this is Culture with a high C.

Kick Off Press Annual Grid Contest

This is Kickoff day for the Press Annual Football Contest.

Thousands of grid seers each year match wits in the week-by-week elimination that leaves one prognosticator the sole survivor and eligible to become the proud possessor of the $500 U.S. Savings Bond winner's award.

Past contests have produced some cliffhanger finishes. Last year, the winner, Mrs. Nelle Pump, correctly called the first 12 of the 16-game schedule to emerge the winner and won champagne.

But if you think that's good—and it is—go back a year when Mrs. Donald Bradford shook off three other contenders in the FOURTEENTH game to become sole survivor of the several thousand starters. In 1962, Mrs. William Nesbitt had a comparative romp, needing only seven games to bag the bond.

In case you hadn't noticed it, we point out that all three peerless predictors were members of the staff division—a pretty heavy cross to bear for the supposedly superior sex... in sports we hardly add.

Entering the contest is as easy as falling off a log. Actually, we've never fallen off a log, but devotees of the pursuit assure us that you can succeed without half trying. Anyway, all you do to become a live bond prospect is check the outcome of the games below on the entry form (or facsimile) and your promotion prescribes, sign same and send. Better read over the rules, first, though, just to be sure the judges won't blow the whistle on you.

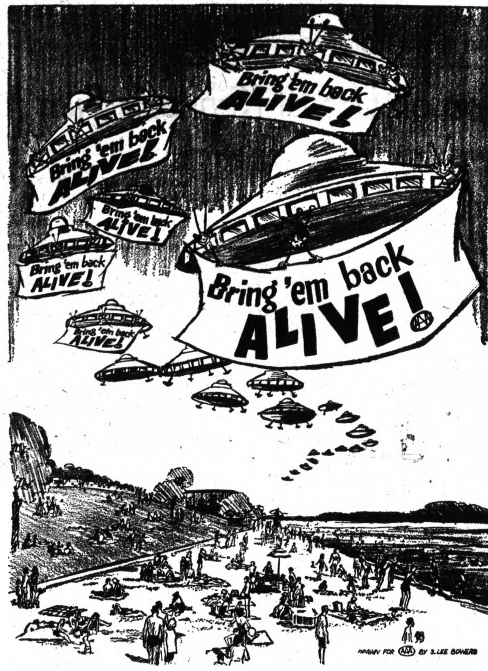

Good luck, and may the best man (or woman) win.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employees and close relatives) but are limited to one entry each. This limitation also applies to families, each member of which may participate.
2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 15 games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank), sign entry form (or facsimile) with name and address and dispatch to Football Contest, The Pontiac Press.
3. Please do not enclose entries in envelopes. Attach them to post cards or cards of similar size and mail to Press or deposit in its Huron Street drop box.
4. The entrant who correctly predicts the consecutive outcome of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. A bonus bond of $50 will be added if the winner's entry is submitted in the manner suggested.
5. Contest deadline is Friday noon, Sept. 23, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.
6. Judges' decisions on all questions relating to contest will be final.

David Lawrence Says:

Delay on Inflation Curbs Risky

WASHINGTON — Indecision over the next move of the government in the widening economic crisis is risky, but as always the politicians hesitate to do anything drastic just before an election.

There is talk, for example, on Capitol Hill about taking a recess in October and Lawrence postponing any important action until the session is resumed after election day in November.

This is tantamount to avoiding any decision whatsoever on the kind of legislation to enact until after the election is held two months from now.

Such a course is fraught with political danger instead of advantage to the party in power. For at the present moment the disquiet is widespread, and the election is bound to reduce the Democratic majority in both houses.

Would such a verdict be regarded as a mandate to do later the very things that people want done now?

Can President Johnson assume that, if in the meantime he loses public confidence because of his dilatory strategy, the remedial legislation he may ask Congress to pass will prove beneficial or that the economic condition of the country will get better before the presidential election two years hence?

NO EASY DECISION

Obviously, it is no easy decision for the President and the leaders of his party to reach. For they are really up against the necessity of making definite plans right away to deal with the economic crisis that is slowly evolving throughout the country.

Concern over inflation is mounting. Reports of rising farm prices could mean higher food prices and an upward spiral in the cost of living. Higher interest rates are causing a building slump.

All this makes the need for new legislation plainly apparent.

"I think we're in trouble and I also think the administration waited too long," says Sen. Morton of Kentucky, Republican, a member of the Senate Finance Committee.

Johnson chose HHH as his running mate in '64 chiefly because of the latter's popularity among liberal metropolitan Democratic groups which galled at LBJ.

"DESTROYED SUPPORT"

Then, as savvy capitalist-watcher Will Henderson observes, "He destroyed Humphrey's support by using him to attack Humphrey's own supporters' position on Viet Nam."

The vice president, who originally came to the Senate as the darling of the left, now finds himself in the unhappy position of watching the new left climb on Bobby's shiny bandwagon, while he himself is forced to defend the administration's Viet Nam policy.

Speculation is rife that Johnson, to improve his own sagging image, may have to dump Humphrey for Kennedy in '68.

Such a maneuver would be

Michigan's Chief Justice Requests Clarification

An editorial carried in your paper was referred to me by one of your readers. It is apparent that he thought you were talking about the Michigan Supreme Court. I am sure you were not.

Since other readers also might have gotten the same impression, it would seem to me only fair that you clarify the editorial.

(Editor's Note: The editorial in question referred to the acquisition by the Supreme Court of the United States of a clerk with a marked communistic record and communist activities. The editorial was at fault in not designating plainly which Supreme Court.)

'Americans Should Not Support Beales'

I don't think the U.S. should have allowed the Beales to enter the country after making such a remark about Jesus Christ. I love the Lord and I hate to hear His wonderful name abused.

American parents who allow their children to buy tickets to promote such people had better examine their values. This is what is wrong with our youth.

GLADYS WARD

Objects to Inoculations, Immunizations

The vaccine makers inveigled the government to pass legislation which compels dog owners to have their pets inoculated against rabies, which many doctors doubt exists. Unsatisfied with the profit from this, they have now cajoled the legislators to force "immunization" on helpless little children, before they can enter school. Conscientious objectors may avoid this.

In Toronto, I understand fewer than half of the pupils have been "protected" by these stabbings and there is less sickness among them than the others. It will be interesting to observe how the health of these youngsters compares with those who have been victimized.

Will LBJ Veto Guam's Right-to-Work Bill?

I only hope that President Johnson will not bow to the wishes of union bosses to veto this Right-to-Work bill so compulsory unionism can be established in Guam. The right NOT to join a union is just as basic as the right TO join.

The country suffers tragically from the abuses of labor, in no small measure because in many states thousands are compelled to support compulsory unionism to hold a job. The cost of this to the public through inconvenience, hardship, excessive costs, including gross featherbedding, and inflation is staggering.

Today, the unions in New York are imposing ridiculous costs and restrictions on the press there as well as in many other places in the country.

Question and Answer

If I.B.C. is the year before Christ was born and I.A.D. the year after, what is the year of his birth?

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT

REPLY

According to the Christian era calculated by the monk Dionysius Exiguus in the sixth century after Christ, Jesus was born December 25 in the Roman year 753, which was established as I.B.C. The Roman year 754 became I.A.D. However, Biblical scholars dispute the monk's calculations were wrong and place Jesus' birth at 4 B.C. or earlier.

In Washington:

Red Realists to Try Their Hand

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If my recollection of the personalities of the Red China leaders in Yenan 40 years ago serves me right, the new shuffle in Peking has demoted rigidly doctrinaire Marxists and promoted Marxist pragmatists.

Liu Shao-chi, ousted as Mao's heir-apparent, in Yenan days was a rigid, uncompromising man. He was serious, unsmiling and unapproachable. He was not one to bend personally or in theory. He was un-Chinese in his rigidity.

Liu believed in a literal interpretation of Marx and Lenin and in a literal interpretation of Communist theory generally without regard to realities or practical problems.

Years later, Liu reportedly was the moving spirit behind Red China's Great Leap Forward and the hasty shifting of Red China's farmers into unworkable communes.

The P.T. has promoted men of Red China's intelligentsia — educated men with a middle-class background.

Because they are pragmatists, their being of the intelligentsia will not prevent them from humbling large numbers of the intelligentsia and promoting propaganda and work programs glorifying manual labor and attacking the superiority of the peasant — for practical political reasons.

Most of the promoted men have been associated with the group of specialists who believed that while it was essential to be Red, it was also important to be expert professionally.

The demoted Liu Shao-chi was a leader of the group which said that being 400 per cent Red was all that mattered. Liu was suspicious of experts.

The purge promoted men with a background in the Soviet Union. Most men in this group have a history of study, training, travel or residence in Russia.

Moscow over the past several years has secretly backed this group. Their anti-Moscow skepticism may be intended to free the masses of a pro-Russian taint. Since they're strongly Chinese, they also fear Russian nationalism in Asia. They have a strong desire to beat out Russia and take over leadership of the international Communist movement. Whether they move closer to or farther from Russia will depend on which course they believe will best help Red China. It won't depend on their ideology.

This group of strong men, as seen in Yenan, was strongly Communist. But they were not ones to push a program that was failing. They believed it sometimes essential to bend in order to live to fight another day and win in the long run.

These men were deep believers in the importance of propaganda. That is, for psychological reasons they often talked a much more rigid game than they practiced.

In Yenan, while convinced of the importance of morale and convictions in winning the civil war, they were private talkers these men made it clear they knew the importance of modern weapons and weren't taken in by their own propaganda.

If they reason now as they did in Yenan, they will think a long time before confronting the United States head-on in South Viet Nam — unless they think the United States is vacillating.
