Police Hunting 2 Bandits and $120,000 Loot

Search for Gunmen Who Held Up WSU Cashier Last Night

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit police were searching today for two gunmen who held up a late-working cashier at Wayne State University and took approximately $120,000.

Police say the two got about $50,000 in cash and another $70,000 in checks.

Cashier Edward Bernier, 34, told police he was just about to leave his office on the first floor of the university's registration center around 8 p.m. when he was confronted by an armed man who held university guard Chester Oldack, 47, in front of him.

The man threatened to shoot Oldack unless Bernier opened the office, the cashier said.

Inside the office, Bernier said, he was forced to open the vault. The bandit took the money and had Bernier carry it out of the building in three university-owned leather suitcases and a blue mail sack brought by the bandit.

FORCED AWAY

A second armed bandit met the group at the front door, and the two university men were forced to accompany the robbers to a nearby parking lot, Bernier said.

There, the two men were released unharmed. The robbers fled in a car parked apparently around a corner, out of the victim's sight.

OU to Seek $2.2 Million for Expansion

Planning funds for a proposed $2.5-million engineering building will be sought from the State Legislature by Oakland University next year.

The OU engineering building is part of a $9-million expansion package that will be placed before the legislature by Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees yesterday approved a total budget request of $2.2 million at OU for building expansion during 1965-66, including a $100,000 appropriation for the planning costs.

In addition, MSU will seek increased operating appropriations, including $497,000 for OU. An OU spokesman said that the added operating funds would be used for faculty positions to

King Weds His Princess as Millions Cheer Wildly

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine of Greece and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark wed today amid the Byzantine magnificence of the Greek Orthodox Church in a city wild with the cheers of a million people.

The cheering crowds, their massed voices often drowned out by cannons firing salutes, saw the handsome king, 24, and his 18-year-old bride only as they rode to and from the cathedral in an open, horse-drawn carriage.

Temperatures were in the 90s and many persons fainted in the heat and crush of the crowd.

Constantine and Anne-Marie — the world's youngest monarchs — made a picture couple. He wore a grand marshal's white uniform. She was striking in a long white satin wedding gown.

Anne-Marie had trouble with her lace-covered, white satin train getting in and out of the wedding carriage.

LACE VEIL

On her lovely blonde head she wore a lace veil. The veil flowed down her shoulders and for several yards down the train.

It was a spectacularly colorful ceremony, but it had its very human moments—when Anne-Marie giggled, and when Queen Mother Frederika came close to hitting Britain's Prince Charles with one of the two crowns used in Greek Orthodox weddings.

Charles did not duck, but he eyed the heavy crowns with concern.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II was the only reigning European monarch not present. Preparing for a visit to Canada, she sent her husband, Prince Philip, her two teenage children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, members of the wedding party.

CLASSIC GOWN

Anne-Marie's wedding gown was of Duchesse satin, in classic Greek style with a high waist and simple lines. The dress was gathered at the waist by an heirloom brooch, and the bodice was covered with lace that had belonged to her maternal grandmother, Crown Princess Margaretha of Sweden, who had worn it at her wedding.

Barry Attacks LBJ Spending

Joined by Thurmond in Visit to Texas

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater staging his first campaign foray in President Johnson's home state, charged today the Democratic chief executive is "the wildest spender of them all."

"The man who promised to save us millions is putting us deeper in debt by billions," the Republican presidential nominee declared in a speech delivered in this east Texas town.

With steps here, in Springfield, Mo., Evansville, Ind., and Charleston, W. Va., the Arizona senator winds up a four-day swing that has taken him into eight Southern states.

Beside him, before cheering Southern crowds, stood South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond, newly enlisted in the Republican cause.

Thurmond joined forces with Goldwater in Greenville, S.C., yesterday, and tossed warmup shots at the Democrats before crowds in Shreveport, La., and New Orleans.

Slapping Johnson in his home territory, Goldwater accused the President of "campaigning for the presidency on the basis of two absolutely false claims."

He said the President claims his administration is cutting federal spending and holding down the government payroll.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Goldwater said. "This administration is trying to deceive the American people."

Under Johnson, he said, spending is going up and the federal payroll has mounted by 18,339 people.

SPENT MORE

"So far this year he has spent $10 million a day more than was spent by President Kennedy," Goldwater said.

Pact Benefits Like Those in Chrysler Deal

Yule Bonus Added; Reuther Calls It 'Frosting on Cake'

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers agreed today on a new contract similar to that at Chrysler Corp. except for the addition of a Christmas bonus which UAW President Walter P. Reuther called "frosting on the cake."

The Christmas bonus will come from the supplemental unemployment benefit fund after the fund is fully paid up. Reuther said employes could get $25 to $100 each.

Reuther said the first bonus may be paid in 1965 and Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president and labor relations head, said this was "mathematically possible."

Denise, after a bargaining session lasting some 23 hours, announced the new contract contains substantially improved pensions, earlier retirement, more paid relief time, an additional week of vacation and two more paid holidays.

Other improvements, Denise said, include larger insurance benefits, fully company-paid health insurance for both employes and retirees, and increased severance pay.

55 MINUTES

Announcement of the Ford settlement came just 55 minutes before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

Both Reuther and Denise declined to put a money figure on the Ford package. They agreed it substantially matched the Chrysler pact which Reuther pegged at 54 cents an hour over its three-year life.

Denise estimated that 19 of 80 separate UAW bargaining units in the Ford complex that has facilities in 30 different states have settled working

Saturn 1 Thunders to 7th Test Success

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Saturn 1, the world's mightiest space rocket, thundered to its 7th straight test flight success today, hurling into orbit an unmanned model of the Project Apollo moonship.

The flight was the second in a long series of unmanned Apollo flights leading to three-man orbital missions and eventually a lunar landing.

The mammoth Saturn 1, 19 stories tall and weighing 570 tons, blazed skyward at 11:23 a.m. EST under the tremendous force of 1.5 million pounds of thrust generated by the world's greatest rocket powerplant.

'Miles Above Earth'

Satellite Hits Scored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today that two U.S. antisatellite systems have scored several successful intercepts of U.S. satellites up to

"hundreds of miles" above earth. McNamara gave a news conference additional details on the antisatellite systems which President Johnson announced in

The defense secretary said, "I'm under serious restrictions" as to what details he could give out either about the two satellite-killer systems or about a new over-the-horizon radar which Johnson also announced. Both, he said, "are very highly classified."

He did disclose that the antisatellite weapons employ the Air Force Thor missile and the Army Nike-Zeus antimissile device.

McNamara said the Army successfully intercepted its first satellite on Aug. 1, 1963, and the Air Force on May 29, 1964 — in each case, a year after they were ordered to start work on the antisatellites.

WITHIN DISTANCE

"The two systems have been effectively tested and have intercepted satellites in space, their missiles passing so close as to be within the destruction radius of the warheads," McNamara said.

He declined to discuss whether the warheads are nuclear or conventional, but indicated there was no actual physical intercept — that the satellite-killing warhead was measured as coming within lethal range of the satellite target.

He refused also to say anything about bases at which the antisatellite systems are deployed. He did not mention where the tests were held, but it is believed to have happened over the Pacific.

McNamara said both the antisatellite systems are derivatives of missile and antimissile (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Johnson Uses 'Advantage'

LBJ Talks Disclose Military Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, back from his first tour of the campaign season, has demonstrated anew that the man in office usually has a built-in advantage over the man who wants his job.

Twice in two days, Johnson dipped into the Pentagon's trove of military secrets for revelations which got great public attention.

Although Johnson at no point directly tied his disclosures to his campaign against Republican rival Barry Goldwater, many seemed to see Goldwater as his target.

In Sacramento, Calif., yesterday Johnson made two major military disclosures, both involving the development of new defense systems which military experts said could properly be lumped in the strategic category.

The President did not say so, but it seemed evident that his revelations were a blunt response to Goldwater's claim that the Democratic administration has failed to come up with any new strategic weapons.

THE SECRETS These were the secrets unwrapped by the President:

• The United States has a new radar that "will literally look around the curve of the earth, alerting us to aircraft and especially missiles, within seconds after they are launched." Previously, there had been a 15-minute warning gap.

• "We now have developed and tested two systems with the ability to intercept and destroy armed satellites circling the earth in space. I can tell you today that these systems are in place, they are operationally ready, and they are on alert." The systems are land-based.

On Wednesday, in Seattle, Johnson heralded another military development designed to make certain that "neither a

Rail Unions Slate Strike on Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad shop craft unions today called a strike that could cripple the nation's transportation industry, to become effective at 6 a.m. local time Tuesday, Sept. 22.

The strike call was announced by Michael Fox, president of the Railway Employees Department of the AFL-CIO. Heads of the six craft unions involved were sitting at his side.

"Our duty to the employes as their collective bargaining representative leaves us no choice except to fix a strike date pursuant to the authority to strike previously voted by them," Fox said.

"We stand prepared to make a fair and equitable settlement but as of now the strike date can no longer be postponed." Fox said exceptions among the nation's carriers to the general strike call will be the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Long Island Railroad and the Southern Railway System.

COMFORT ACCUSED—Wells Herrington, Farmington father of five, sits with his daughter Danielle (left) and wife, Betty, yesterday after learning he has been charged with first degree murder in the shooting of Dr. John

First Contract in Michigan

Set Community Mental Health Service

The first contract in the state for community mental health services, in the form of expanded outpatient mental health care, is slated to begin Oct. 1 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, told the hospital board of trustees last night that an agreement is now being worked out with the County Mental Health Services Board.

He said that the hospital's new outpatient mental health clinic, now at seven hours a week, will be expanded to 24 hours on a three-month trial basis.

A budget of $30,000 has been submitted to the county board.

The expanded services would offer three psychiatrists, a psychiatric social worker, a psychologist and clerical help, all on a part-time basis.

STAFF PROVISIONS

Euler said staff people could be provided without any additions to the hospital staff.

Dr. Clare Gates, public health consultant for United Community Services and also part-time director for the county board, confirmed plans for the program.

However, he said nothing had been finalized yet. An agreement has to be worked out between the county and Pontiac General.

In addition, the county board must make application to the state for the outpatient program. Also, the mechanics of eligibility need to be worked out, he said.

PROGRAM PROVISION

Dr. Gates indicated that there is a provision for the program in the county's 1964 mental health services budget. He said it was the first service contract under consideration in the state.

Pontiac General Hospital initiated a one-day-a-week outpatient clinic in July, accepting walk-in and referral patients on an appointment basis.

The proposed 24-hour clinic, said Euler, would operate on a similar appointment basis. The clinic would furnish services to local residents who need psychiatric care and cannot afford regular medical fees.

Both Dr. Gates and Euler hoped that the clinic could be expanded to 40 hours per week by 1965.

UAW and Ford Agree on Pact agreements at the plant levels which supplement the national contract.

Reuther said all locals had been notified of today's national agreement. He said all locals had been advised to stay on the job.

SOME WALKOUTS

The settlement did not prevent walkouts at four Ford plants.

Ford said its Metuchen and Edison Township, N. J., assembly plants, its Dallas assembly and its Cleveland engine plant No. 1 were down.

At the same time the threat of a strike of some 7,000 white collar workers at Chrysler plants in seven states was averted less than an hour before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

Douglas Frazier, who headed the UAW negotiating team, said the Chrysler settlement paralleled last week's agreement covering hourly raised employees.

Reuther and Denise agreed that a Christmas bonus was about the only economic difference from an agreement-in-principle Sept. 9 by Chrysler.

Denise said "I accepted as a realistic settlement."

Working conditions were a major point with the UAW. Both the Ford and Chrysler agreements provide for 36 minutes of relief time daily instead of the previous 24 minutes for those whose work pace is controlled by machines or assembly lines.

The annual improvement factor, currently 2.5 per cent of the base wage rate or six cents a year, whichever is greater, goes to 2.8 per cent, seven cents, in September of 1966. An additional two cents an hour will be added to the wage rate the same month.

Parties Will Hold Contabs Tomorrow

Dems

Oakland County Democrats will send 184 delegates to Lansing tonight for caucuses leading up to the Democratic State Convention, which will begin at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Oakland Democrats will meet in two district caucuses — the 18th and 19th congressional — at 10 p.m. at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Each district caucus will choose a presidential elector, a district chairman, vice chairman and secretary and one member each for the committees on credentials, permanent organization and resolutions.

In tomorrow's State Convention the Oakland delegation will join with 2,048 other Michigan delegates who will choose candidates for the following offices:

Lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, the eight-member State Board of Education, two vacancies on the Michigan State University Board of Trustees and two vacancies on the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Convention officers will be nominated in tonight's district caucuses.

GOP

The Statler Hotel in Detroit will be headquarters tonight for 161 Republican delegates from Oakland County who will hold caucuses in preparation for tomorrow's Republican State Convention at Cobo Hall.

A roll of 1,535 delegates will be called when the state convention comes to order at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

GOP candidates to be chosen at the state confab will include: Lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, two candidates for the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University, two candidates for the Board of Governors of Wayne State University and eight candidates for the State Board of Education.

Convention officers will be nominated in tonight's district caucuses.

projects which have been under way for years.

THE THOR was this country's first 1,500-mile range missile but no longer is used as a military weapon. The Nike-Zeus has been under development as a missile-killer since about 1957, with an outlay so far approaching $2 billion.

McNamara also conceded that the over-the-horizon radar has "its roots in the past."

He said it is actually a family of radar devices and the principle involves bouncing signals off the ionosphere far beyond the horizon.

He said this kind of radar is different from the currently used variety which is effective by line of sight only.

This new radar, McNamara said, permits detection of enemy missiles flying "within seconds of launch."

This, he said, should "close to double the present warning time" of about 15 minutes afforded by the Distant Early Warning system across Canada and in Britain.

It can detect both missiles and aircraft and McNamara indicated its installation may permit doing away with some extensions of the Distant Early Warning line such as radar picket ships.

Paper Unions Eye Proposals

'Binding Arbitration' Is One Suggestion

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of two striking craft unions today studied new proposals to end Detroit's 66-day newspaper shutdown.

One proposal called for "final and binding arbitration" on the issues which led to a strike last July 13 by Pressmen and Paper and Plate Handlers union workers at the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News.

The proposal came Thursday from officers of the Detroit Newspaper Guild.

The second, not detailed, came from Gov. George Romney.

The Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents the News and Free Press in contract negotiations with craft unions, said last night it would agree to the Guild proposal.

The Guild is not involved in the strike.

DECLINES COMMENT

Freeman Frazee, president of Pressmen's Local 13, declined comment on the arbitration proposal.

Bart Piscatello, president of Platehandlers' Local 10, said he has heard of the Guild proposal and will study it. Piscatello's reaction to the statement was "maybe the publishers ought to negotiate with the Guild."

Nik Clarifies Weapon Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has denied that he said the Soviet Union has a new weapon that can destroy mankind.

Khrushchev said last night scientists had shown him a "terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do." He said it was not a nuclear bomb but gave no indication what the weapon was.

Members of a Japanese parliamentary delegation that met with Khrushchev Tuesday had reported he told them Soviet scientists had showed him a new, secret weapon that could destroy all life on earth.

Khrushchev told reporters at an Indian Embassy reception last night: "I said scientists showed me a terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do. I didn't say anything about unlimited power. It cannot be a nuclear bomb because I saw it near Moscow, and a nuclear bomb would require testing and we are not testing now."

madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

Johnson announced that several nuclear weapons now are equipped with "permissive action locks" which he described as electromechanical units "which must be opened by secret combination before action is possible."

ROARING WELCOME

At Sacramento, Johnson got a roaring welcome from some 40,000 persons gathered on the state Capitol grounds.

He told the crowd in his speech from the Capitol steps that this is a united nation in an election year.

Johnson said "our only purpose still is peace," but should another nation employ armed satellites in space, the United States will be prepared and ready to meet them.

He said he wanted his voice heard around the world.

VISITS PLANT

The President visited the Aerojet-General Corp. plant near Sacramento and watched the successful static test firing of a Titan 3 missile engine.

On his way back to Washington, he stopped at Salt Lake City and visited for about an hour with David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"President McKay looked fine," Johnson reported after calling on the ailing 81-year-old Mormon Church leader at his downtown apartment.

The chief executive returned to the White House early today.

$83,000 Probable Cost of Proposed Boulevard

BIRMINGHAM — Engineers have put a probable price tag of $83,000 on the proposed Coolidge Road boulevard between Maple and Derby.

The estimated figure devised by the Biltmore Development Co. was presented yesterday to city officials who are preparing assessment rules for a Sept. 28 hearing.

Construction of the four-lane boulevard is seen as the answer to traffic problems expected with construction of a $50-million development by Biltmore.

The firm is planning to build on the east side of Coolidge in Troy.

A spokesman said yesterday the portion of the boulevard in Troy, from Derby to Big Beaver, was expected to cost about the same amount as the Birmingham stretch. Each is about a half-mile long.

NECESSITY

Birmingham has declared necessity for the project and has given tentative approval to an agreement with Troy on the matter.

The Troy City Commission is expected to consider the agreement next week. Birmingham commissioners have been assured that Biltmore will reimburse the city and property owners in the special assessment district if the Troy half of the project is not completed.

Plans call for the Birmingham half to be constructed this fall and the Troy half next spring.

"Operation Friendship" again is being undertaken by the University of Michigan Alumni Council.

Some 90 foreign students will be guests in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills homes this weekend before returning to classes at the university.

The students will arrive at Cranbrook School at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow to meet the families they will visit until Sunday afternoon.

Cranbrook Institute of Science has elected two members to its board of trustees.

They are G. Arthur Brown Jr. of G. A. Brown and Associates, Royal Oak, and Dr. William C. Kelly, associate professor of geology at the University of Michigan.

Percy F. Deneau

Service for Percy F. Deneau, 68, of 576 Brown, Birmingham, will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

ONLY ONE GLOBE

He pointed out that the usual pattern was to have only one globe in a classroom at the front of the room.

"In this situation, the youngsters can't see it and therefore aren't motivated to learn about the globe," Dr. James said.

Personal contact with the sphere should provide this motivation, he added.

Tentative plans call for equipping 10 elementary schools with globe sets next year and later introducing them to the rest of the schools.

BARRACUDA FOR '65—The new Plymouth Barracuda retains the sporty appearance and utility which characterized the car introduced last May, but offers new optional equipment designed for performance-minded drivers.

Unveil '65 Plymouth Barracuda Today

The 1965 version of the Plymouth Barracuda, a sports hardtop model introduced last May, was unveiled today by the Chrysler Corp.

With a wheelbase of 106 inches and a width of 70.1 inches, the Barracuda is a five-passenger model, distinguished by its fast-back design and 14.4 square feet of rear window, largest ever installed on a production passenger car.

The Barracuda will go on display Sept. 25 at Oakland Chrysler Plymouth, Inc., 274 Oakland; Birmingham Chrysler Plymouth, Inc., 912 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Al Motors, 2222 N.W. 11th, Walled Lake; Patterson Motor Sales, Inc., 1001 N. Main, Rochester.

SEAT FOLDS UP

The rear seat folds into the floor to convert the car into a cargo area. The rear interior into a seven-foot-long cargo area. Bucket front seats are standard equipment.

Three engines are available. The 225-cubic-inch with 8.4 to 1 compression ratio is the standard six.

The standard V-8 is the 273-cubic-inch engine with 8.8 to 1 compression ratio and there is a high performance V-8 version of the 273-cubic-inch plant.

With either a four-speed manual or automatic transmission, the control lever is floor-mounted.

The automatic transmission selector lever is mounted in a console which has an illuminated selection dial and an ash tray.

Phony Prof Failed to Make the Grade

LYNDONVILLE, Vt. (AP)—The professor was brilliant but he flunked students at Lyndon State College left and right.

This week, the professor flunked out himself.

Denys J. DuPont didn't have a doctor's degree in psychology from Harvard after all.

He didn't even have the master's degree from the University of New Hampshire he claimed when he joined the faculty two years ago.

In fact, DuPont wasn't even a teacher.

'BRILLIANT BUT ...'

President Dr. Robert E. Long described DuPont as "brilliant though not entirely satisfactory" as he disclosed Friday that he had fired the impostor.

"I'm afraid he had us all fooled," Long said. "But I'm sure the students got something out of his courses, regardless of his origins."

Long said DuPont had credentials indicating he was a graduate of New England College, University of New Hampshire and Harvard when he was hired.

All went well until Dean Kenneth T. Stringer noticed that the New Hampshire and Harvard credentials were photostats, and lacked the embossed university seals.

NO DEGREES

It turned out that DuPont did graduate from New England College, but had gone to the University of New Hampshire for only a few weeks and had never attended Harvard.

Long said the students who had received failing grades under "professor" DuPont were having them raised to "satisfactory."

Plans for the engineering building call for it to be located between the science and library buildings. It is hoped to be in use by the fall of 1967.

The capital outlay monies also include completion of a $2.5-million classroom-office building, located north of North Foundation Hall.

CURRENT BUDGET

Construction funds totaling $750,000 were approved last year for the current budget. Work is to get under way this year.

The engineering building was turned down last year by the Senate Appropriations Committee. Money to do preliminary planning was denied by the Senate committee.

Consumer Hikes Spending in Recent Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was no stampede to the stores last spring when the income tax cut took effect, but there is strong evidence that Americans have been spending an increase percentage of the extra money in the past few weeks. "We know that July and August will show a significant increase in the proportion of money spent," a government official said today, "but we're not making any estimate yet."

Consumers spent about $2 per cent of the extra money they received during the first three months the tax reduction was fully effective — April, May and June.

This may seem an irrelevant figure to the wage earner who had a hard time making ends meet, even with a few extra dollars. But it is watched closely by economists, most of whom assumed the tax cut would provide an important stimulus to business.

MORE PRODUCTION
Increased purchases by the consumer inevitably lead to expanded production at the factory level, and therefore, more jobs and profits.

Administration economists argued that consumers normally spend 92 to 94 per cent of every dollar they can lay their hands on, and that this proportion of the increase in take-home pay would be put immediately into the spending stream.

Since consumers spent only about half the extra money, the percentage of their total income which was spent fell to 81.8 per cent.

This was pointed out in speeches by Richard H. Holton, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, and C. Conby Balderston, a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

LOW PERIOD
Holton noted that the rate of spending often is low in the April-June period. He said there usually is a slight lag between an increase in personal income and increased spending.

Balderston put it this way: "As consumers become accustomed to a little fatter take-home pay, they are likely to increase their spending, and there is some indication that this adjustment has been occurring during the summer months."

Incidentally, he hinted that the Federal Reserve has no present intention of changing its policy of increasing gradually the supply of money and credit. There continues to be unused resources — manpower and production capacity, he said, and a "continued absence of general inflationary pressures."

He added: "Despite sizable and extended gains in activity, the economy's performance has generally been marked by moderation — reasonableness in pricing policies, prudence in family budgeting and in business investment programs, and restraint in inventory management. Basically, it is this pervasive influence of moderation that has made possible the stability of interest rates and

SAVINGS SCENE
The fact that consumers spent 91.8 per cent of their take-home pay does not mean that all of the remaining 8.2 per cent went into savings accounts. There was no massive increase in savings of this type. The "savings" took the form of paying off some debts — although there was no great reluctance to take on new installment obligations — and purchases of stocks and mutual fund shares.

School Director Is Said Crucial

Board Delegate Sees Vocation Class Need

A county director of vocational education has been deemed "absolutely crucial" by an Oakland County school board delegate.

Local districts need help in developing vocational programs that would bring federal funds here, according to Oak Park trustee Arthur G. Parklin.

He said the help should come from the intermediate district staff, Oakland Schools.

A vocational education director was proposed last spring for this year's Oakland Schools budget. However, the post was deleted in the final draft.

Estimated cost was $23,000 with $13,000 supplied by federal funds. Parklin's comments came at a meeting of school board delegates this week.

County Supt. William J. Emerson said that state legislation allows for the formation of a vocational education district.

He said this would be similar to the countywide special education district.

The county could call for a vote to combine the facilities of all school districts to develop a comprehensive vocational program. Special millage could be asked to support such a program.

Federal funds, he added, would match local money spent for vocational training.

Cards Are With You Always

Christmas Comes But Once Each Year--

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is the Christmas card problem.

There are several aspects to it — such as what cards to buy, when to mail them, and whom to send them to.

Buying them isn't much of a task. If you don't feel like going to a store, all you have to do is stay home and wait. Some time between the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving, at least 75 strangers will knock on your door and offer to sell you Christmas cards.

There are more people selling Christmas cards this time of year than are taking in laundry. All of them are doing it to promote a worthy cause. It has been our custom for several years to buy our Christmas cards from a shifty-eyed fellow who says he is trying to raise funds to send more Hottentots to Harvard. The goal isn't so much to help the Hottentots as it is to lift the horizons of Harvard.

HUMOROUS CARD

Every year he tries to sell us a humorous Christmas card showing the three Wise Men riding piggyback on a single camel. We always turn him down because we think the card is in execrable taste — and besides it costs a quarter.

Year after year we always buy the same card. It shows a lighted candle and a wreath and says "With Seasonal Good Wishes." You really can't expect to get more than that for a nickel — while simultaneously sending a Hottentot to Harvard.

We usually buy 500 cards. The question arises then as when to send them. Only the desperately insecure person tries to be the first in his block to mail out his Christmas cards.

We follow a simple formula. We wait until we get our first Christmas card of the year — it usually arrives the week before Labor Day — and then we send out ours.

REAL PROBLEM

Then comes the real problem: whom to send them to.

First we decide we will send one to all our lifelong friends. After addressing a card to our mother, we realize we still have 249 left.

Then we send a card to all the people we owe money to or may want to borrow from in the future. This leaves us with 200 cards.

Next we mail cards to our old girlfriends we knew in kindergarten, the people we met on a cruise to Bermuda in 1951, the captain of the ship, and the fellow who once sold us an insurance policy in Kansas City in 1935.

We are now down to 195 cards. Even if we give one to our favorite mailman — leaving off the stamp, of course — we still have 194 to get rid of.

AFTER DARK

Some years we wait until it is dark and just stuff them into the mailboxes of fellow cliff dwellers in our neighborhood. You can save an awful lot of postage this way.

Other years we pick up a telephone book and address them at random to people whose names begin with "Z." We never put stamps on these cards because we feel there is no point in investing a lot of money in people you've never even met socially. They're lucky to get a card from us at all.

The 250th card we always send to Santa Claus, and put a special delivery stamp on it. To those who claim there is no Santa Claus all we can say is: None of our cards mailed to him has ever been returned marked "Address Unknown."

Michigan Provides Top Fair Exhibits

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan, although not officially represented at the New York World's Fair, nevertheless had furnished some of its most popular attractions.

General Motors and Ford exhibits have rated among the top three crowd-pullers since the day the fair opened last April.

No. 1 on the attendance hit parade from the start has been the General Motors Futurama. It consistently has outpulled General Electric, the second most popular exhibit, by better than 2-to-1.

In the first 16 weeks of the fair, General Motors turnstiles clicked 10,285,331 times, for an average of about 100,000 visitors a day. General Electric counted 4,585,000 over the same period.

FORD ROTUNDA

The Ford Rotunda exhibit was close behind in third place with 4,023,376.

Sponsors of the Vatican exhibit — which features Michelangelo's "Pieta" — claim the No. 2 attendance rating but base their contention on estimates of the crowds rather than by means of mechanical turnstiles.

In earning its unchallenged top ranking, GM's Futurama has attracted better than 50 per cent of those who paid admission to get into the fair.

"We have a capacity of up to 6,000 persons per hour on our ride through the future," said a GM spokesman, who added that the best time to avoid a long wait in line is between 8 and 10 p.m.

TWO HOURS

On crowded days, some visitors reportedly have waited as long as two hours to get in.

Charge Three Counterfeited in Dixie Capitol

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three employees of the Arkansas Highway Department were charged today with making counterfeit currency in the state Capitol.

A fourth man, who worked for a transportation company, was charged with possessing phony bills.

Leroy Lettner, Secret Service special agent in charge here, said about 150 bills in ones and fives had been recovered. He said the money had been distributed among the men, but said he did not know if any had been circulated.

The three department employees were reproduction technicians, and used state equipment in the counterfeiting, Lettner said.

The entire Futurama ride was built in Detroit by the H. B. Stubbs Co., following detailed blueprints worked out by GM's styling staff.

It was then dismantled and shipped by truck caravan to the fair's Flushing Meadow site. There it was reassembled under the roof of the GM building, which covers three acres.

The gigantic structure, with a 110-foot-high sloping canopy, is one of the fair's two largest pavilions. The other is the Ford Rotunda. Cost of the exhibits is estimated in the millions of dollars.

Many of the employees at the automotive attractions are Michigan residents, including nine of the Ford hostesses.

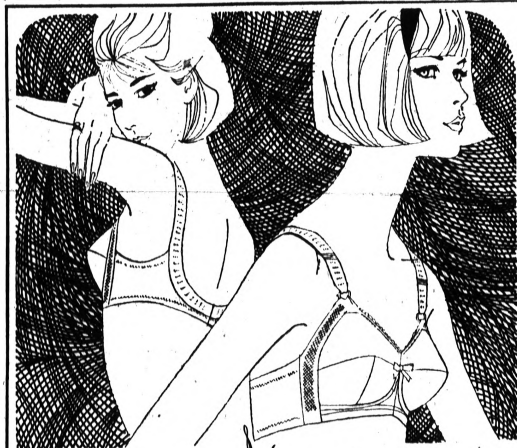

But Michiganders are not confined to the staffs of the Michigan exhibits. General Electric, for example, has six among its tour guides.

And Ruth McCutcheon of Jackson, Mich., was GE's official ambassador touring the nation last spring to invite the public to the fair.

Catholic Church to Aid Antipoverty Program

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Catholic Conference said Thursday it is making all of its church resources available to assist the national antipoverty program.

The state's five bishops were directed to appoint a priest to work with the conference in development of antipoverty programs.

Old Empire Granting Independence to Malta

Make way for another chip off the old empire. The island of Malta will gain its independence on Sept. 21.

Thus will end more than 160 years of attachment to Great Britain, during which Malta was of inestimable value to the United Kingdom as a naval base.

In World War II Malta earned the distinction of being the most bombed place on earth, and in 1942 the George Cross, Britain's highest civilian decoration, was awarded to all the Maltese people, an unprecedented event.

As Malta has done much for Britain, so Britain will do much for Malta. The fifth most densely populated area in the world, less than half of Malta's land can be cultivated. It annually imports $70 million more than it exports. Only substantial aid has kept the island solvent.

The independence agreement calls for continued aid over the next ten years, during which industry and the tourist trade are to be developed.

It is through tourism that the greatest hope lies for eventually balancing the Maltese budget. With a sunny Mediterranean climate, Phoenician temples, Christian catacombs, ancient forts, 85 miles of sandy beaches and—as of now—low prices, Malta has a lot of going for it.

As the old story goes, "Wait'll we get our hats, we'll go with you."

Japanese Keglers Get Ball Rolling on Islands

The Japanese perfected the art of imitation to the point where they no longer know whether they are imitators or innovators.

Years ago they followed America's lead and adopted baseball—soon making it their national sport. They are still running true to form—or, more precisely, rolling true to form. They've taken up bowling.

Bowling centers in the principal cities of Japan, it is reported, are striking it rich. Often, keglers wait two to three hours for a lane, and some establishments have imposed a 500 yen ($1.44) reservation fee. You might conclude that where there's a yen there's a yen.

As of now, the Orientals are not in the same map league with Americans, although they have a few bowlers in the 190-plus average class.

Four years ago there was but one bowling facility in their country—and that at a U. S. Military base. As might be expected, the beginners are making up for lost time, and the assumption is that they are sparing no efforts to become kings of the sport. But we doubt if anyone would pin himself down on when that might come to pass.

Bigger People Present Giant-Size Problems

Bad news. It is not only our increasing NUMBERS that we have to worry about. It's our increasing SIZE as well.

It has been reported before that Junior is generally taller than his dad. Today's GI averages an inch and a quarter taller and 20 pounds heavier than the Doughboy of World War I.

It's not just a male phenomenon. Susie is also taller than her mother. While the population explosion has been pretty obvious, the consequences of this trend to bigness have not yet become too apparent to the general public, though the designers of bus seats, automobiles and wearing apparel have long been aware of it.

This is all well and good, but where does it end? Bigger people require bigger beds. Bigger beds require bigger houses. Bigger houses require more land and lumber and other materials—and so on and on. Eventually there's going to be a squeeze somewhere.

One begins to suspect that the Lilliputians were really glad to get rid of Gulliver.

MANY a television commercial is far from convincing. For example, scarcely anybody believes that a young man's use of a certain hair lotion will attract girls and cause them to become highly amorous.

K Threat Fuels Russo-Sino Rift

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON—Soviet Premier Khrushchev possesses a notable power to agitate and alarm the Western allies.

He needs only to issue a murky claim to the invention of some monstrous new weapon to set off a vast search for clues that could throw light on his dark secret. Whether he similarly arouses the apprehension of the Chinese Communists is a question.

The most fateful confrontation of powers since the U.S.-Soviet showdown over Cuba in October 1962 now seems to be building up between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

But so little is known outside their two ruling groups about the real nature and extent of this quarrel that its future course and possible flash point are extremely difficult to chart.

Much more would be known in the outside world if Khrushchev and the Red Chinese leader, Mao Tse-tung, felt any compulsion to keep their own people closely informed. Their practice, however, throughout the five years the conflict has been growing, has been to employ public pronouncement only as weapons in the fight.

Speaking to a Japanese parliamentary delegation, Khrushchev attacked Chinese claims to 500,000 square miles of Soviet territory. He said Soviet borders are sacred, and he asserted that the Soviet Union has developed a new weapon.

He told reporters yesterday that the weapon was "nuclear and that he had been misquoted in reports that the weapon had 'unlimited power.'"

American officials familiar with military and diplomatic intelligence on affairs in the Soviet Union say there are speculative possibilities but that to the best of their knowledge the Russians have not produced any fantastic new weapon.

They concede, however, that prudence requires the United States not to find out what type of weapon Khrushchev has been talking about.

The REAL SIGNIFICANCE
But Khrushchev's weapon-brandishing remark was not aimed as a threat against this or any other Western country, and in view of experts here an exclusive preoccupation with the weapons angle would obscure its real significance.

Of critical importance, in the view of U.S. officials, is the fact that for the first time, so far as they could recall, Khrushchev has implicitly threatened his Chinese neighbors—still technically his allies—with massive destruction if they ever start encroaching on Soviet territory.

To Western experts, his maneuver suggests that the Sino-Soviet conflict is not only deep and irreversible, but that it may be moving into a new and more dangerous phase.

The one possible modification in what he is reported by the Japanese to have said is that he could claim, if he wished, at some future time, that he was misunderstood, or that his views were misrepresented.

Before making a final judgment, U.S. analysts were waiting to see what, if anything, the Soviet press would say about his remarks to the Japanese.

David Lawrence Says:

Thurmond's Action Forthright

WASHINGTON—Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina is a man of sincerity and deep spiritual convictions. So it comes as no surprise that he is willing to take a position in politics which could mean risking his seat in the Senate when he comes up for LAWRENCE reelection two years hence.

Thurmond—a former governor of his state, a major general in the Army Reserves and a lifelong Democrat—has just announced that he is leaving the national Democratic party to join the Republican party and work for the election of Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee.

Even those who disagree with Thurmond's point of view on public questions cannot but applaud his forthrightness.

For he could, like many politicians, easily have maintained a passive attitude toward the Democratic presidential nominee and followed the same course as some of those Republicans who didn't like the Goldwater nomination but who have not had the temerity to bolt their party and take a position in favor of the candidate of the opposite side, with whose viewpoint their thoughts on current politics more nearly coincide.

Sen. Thurmond's televised address to the people of South Carolina announcing his position was not merely an endorsement of Sen. Goldwater. His 1,500-word speech was an emphatic protest against the trend in the Democratic party.

The senator praises Mr. Goldwater as a man who "believes in and abides by our Constitution," and says:

"I personally know him to be able and responsible. He is an honest man of courage and conviction, who trusts the American people to hold the reins of government and rule themselves."

WITHIN FRAMEWORK
Thurmond frames himself to work within the framework of what he terms the "Goldwater Republican party" and says that for him "there is no alternative."

He declares that some of his friends have conscientiously advised him against this action, and that he fully realizes "the political risk involved in this step and that my chances for reelection might, because of this step, go down into oblivion."

But Strom Thurmond has concluded that he can follow only the course which in his heart and conscience he believes to be in the best interests of "our state, our country, and the freedom of our people."

One thing seems clear today—both parties are undergoing an upheaval.

It is too early to tell how much the "crossover" from one party to the other will be, but there can be no underestimation of the fact that both parties are having difficulty holding all of their previous following in the face of the deep differences of opinion which divide their members and which the 1964 campaign has begun to symbolize.

Peggy Goldwater Longs for Postelection Vacation

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—If Peggy Goldwater were writing a love column, she'd advise married women who are bored with their husbands to plan separate vacations.

Personally, however, she's longing for a vacation anywhere at all after the election.

Dressed in a long flowered hostess gown, RUTH the wife of the MONTGOMERY GOP presidential nominee chatted in their two-bedroom Washington apartment about her role in the campaign, and the shape of things to come.

"Married couples who see too much of each other should try separate vacations," she mused, "but we've had so many enforced separations because of the war, and politics, that I'd even be willing to shoot the rapids of the Salmon River again with Barry, if that's what he wants to do."

Retiring by nature, Mrs. Goldwater insists that she nevertheless enjoys "meeting the enthusiastic crowds" along the campaign trail with her husband.

The attractive, blue-eyed matron said she "woke up in Nassau one morning 10 years ago" and discovered that she had suffered nerve deafness in her right ear.

Other than that her health is good, except that she worries about her weight. "We nibble so much, when campaigning," she smiled ruefully.

WEEK OFF?

Since she is now spending 12- to 18-hour days on the campaign trail, what would she most like to do if she had a day to herself?

"If I had a week," she parried, "I'd go to Elizabeth Arden's Arizona resort for reducing, massage, facials... the works."

With little time for shopping, she had the buyer at Goldwater's store in Phoenix bring her a few things from which to choose, when she was at home Labor Day weekend. A woman accompanies her on the campaign plane to arrange her hair and look after her wardrobe.

Asked if she finds it difficult to keep to a split-second campaign schedule that begins before dawn, she grinned: "I'm always on time. Barry doesn't think I'm going to be, and keeps saying 'Hurry, hurry, hurry!'"

It's no secret that Peggy has repeatedly tried in the years since Barry won Senate election to persuade him to give up politics and return to Arizona.

Although Peggy Goldwater was once the president of a "planned parenthood" group in Phoenix, she has never made a speech, and does not intend to.

She will, however, make a few separate excursions on her own to attend women's luncheons and teas.

Her biggest day comes Oct. 7 in Muncie, Ind., when her home town breaks out the bannermen to celebrate "Peggy Goldwater Day."

Eight months ago we tagged Congress the Lethargic 8th. It wound up an unproductive first session, but at the end of its final session, the Congress had much more to show for itself. It had passed this major legislation:

CIVIL RIGHTS Renders illegal discrimination in places of public accommodation and provides new weapons against discrimination in voting, schools and employment. A historic step forward in U.S. race relations, its passage required a 75-day filibuster to be ended by cloture.

TAX CUT Provides for an $11.5 billion reduction to encourage economic expansion—in spite of a continuing federal budget deficit. The idea appears to be working.

WILDERNESS Establishes a badly needed wilderness preservation system designed to save remaining federally owned wild areas, and immediately places $1 million acres under it.

POVERTY Allots nearly $1 billion for a multifaceted attack on poverty through job training and other schemes. President Johnson describes this omnibus bill as the opening gun in his "national war on poverty."

American Indian Praises Sen. Goldwater

I am an Indian, and my people know Barry Goldwater, and know, too, that he does not deserve the personal attacks on his reputation. It is amazing that a civilized country would allow those of the press and those with influence to spew out such vindictive tripe. I am thinking that my primitive home is much more suited to the development of intelligent thinking.

People are letting themselves be led like sheep. They believe the things that have been said about Senator Goldwater on all subjects—I mean the bad things. I would like to come out strongly against those who are trying to tear this man down. I will tell you what I know and perhaps this will cool some of the cruel remarks made by Negroes, whites, and others.

Barry Goldwater has helped my people in their worst time. He made emergency flights with blood, food, clothes and supplies, without which my people would have died. One saved my life, although he does not know it. The blood he brought was given to me while I lay at death's door.

Barry Goldwater has encouraged the Indian to fight for his rights—with words, and deeds of kindness and firmness, not with violence, criminal acts, or anything of that sort. The Senator has always said that Indian people have as much right to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" as any other race.

Barry Goldwater set up voting districts for the Indian people. If it were not for him, I would not be able to vote. He desegregated the National Guard, making it equal for all races. He also desegregated many public facilities such as airports, movie houses, and so on.

Barry Goldwater has encouraged all minority races to campaign for what they feel is rightfully theirs, always stressing peaceful means, but the Negroes and others still vilify him, trying to make him look like he has done nothing. I know that after the Senator helped desegregate the National Guard, the NACP took him in as a member for life. Then, because he voted against the Civil Rights Bill, they turned on him, like coyotes, and cast him out.

Indian people have good memories. As the most mistreated minority in this country, we are willing to go with the man we feel is the best—and the best man in this election year is Barry Goldwater.

Politicians do not think the Indian vote is important. There are only 500,000 full-blooded Indians in America. The politicians have forgotten one important fact: There are five times that many "legal" Indians, those with Indian blood, from one-eighth to three-fourths, and they're Indian, although many of them do not use this fact to draw tax dollars.

Since Senator Goldwater had done so much to help the Indian people progress, he will undoubtedly win a large amount of this "pro-Indian" and Indian vote. I believe that he will win in November, simply because he is an honest, respected, and decent honorable man who is not afraid to speak his mind, or state what he thinks is wrong.

Laos Princes Are Still Feuding

PARIS (AP) — Attempts to bring the feuding princes of Laos to the negotiating table in Paris appear doomed unless the pro-Communist Pathet Lao makes hurried concessions.

A Laotian Embassy official said neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma would hold a news conference Saturday and make a farewell statement before returning to Laos Monday.

The official said the premier would explain his decision to leave "unless the Pathet Lao makes some further proposals between now and the news conference."

Souvanna Thursday rejected a Pathet Lao proposal for disident neutrals in the Plaine des Jarres to return under the command of neutralist Gen. Kong Lee.

Foam Unit Too Efficient?

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP) — Firemen in this central Washington apple capital know two things for sure: Theirs is probably the cleanest fire station in history.

Their new foam machine, designed to smother flames with detergent, is a churning success.

When they tested it Wednesday, foam climbed to the top of a five-story tower of the station in less than three minutes. That's where it was supposed to go.

But as back pressure developed, sudps puffed out below. Firemen tried to bar the door. But no soap. Foam was eight-feet deep inside and spilled outdoors before the machine was stopped.

Say U.S. Urges No Air Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States reportedly is urging the British to block an attempt by Fidel Castro to inaugurate air service between Communist Cuba and the British Bahamas.

Cuba served notice Thursday that the government-owned Cubana Airlines will inaugurate weekly commercial flights Monday between Havana and Nassau, the Bahamian capital.

The United States has banned trade with Cuba and has sought to encourage non-Communist nations to do likewise. In the airline field, only Spain and Mexico have allowed regular flights to Havana.

A Washington food broker, B. L. Wallace, complained only Thursday that the Commerce Department finally rejected, after waiting six months to act, his application for a license to export 20 million pounds of lard to Cuba. Wallace said he had hoped to solve the transportation problem by delivering the lard to a Cuban purchasing mission in Canada.

UNDER DISCUSSION
Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, confirmed that the proposed Cuban airline flights to Nassau are under discussion with the British both in Washington and in Nassau.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, back in Washington after a two-month home leave in Moscow, had a two-hour luncheon conference Thursday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the State Department.

Dobrynin told reporters, "We discussed the whole problem of our relations" in an informal review of the world situation, including disarmament negotiations and the Paris conference on the Laos problem.

Dobrynin said his talk with Rusk embraced virtually all pending issues, but "no particular one was discussed specifically."

WSU Board
Okays Budget
of $35 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University's Board of Governors has approved a $35-million budget for the 1965-66 fiscal year, an increase of $8 million over the current operating budget.

The board said it hopes the State Legislature will provide the additional funds. Wayne President Clarence B. Hilberry told the board Thursday that $3 million of the proposed increase is needed to bring the university back to former standards. He said WSU had slipped during the last two or three years because of a shortage of funds.

The rest of the increase—$5 million—would be used for expansion and improvements and a ten per cent faculty salary increase.

CAPITAL BUDGET

The governors also voted to recommend a capital budget of $11.9 million for the 1965-66 period. The legislature has already approved $3.9 million of that amount.

The additional $8 million is to be used for new classrooms and several new buildings.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: Why is Italy shaped like a boot kicking a football?

ANSWER: Kitty and Henry are showing how closely Italy, with the island of Sicily, at its toe, resembles a boot about to kick a football. To understand how the main shape came, check the line of mountains running down through Italy, curving into the toe of the boot and reappearing in Sicily.

Mountains were formed in several ways. One was by the buckling and wrinkling of the earth's crust as it moved under the mighty forces which, ages ago, gave mountains and continents their present shape.

Mountains formed in this way are called "folded," and the general mass of Italy's Apennine mountains are of this type. But mountains piled up from volcanic eruption also helped to build up Italy's mountain spine (upper right.)

As ancient seas crept around this curving chain of mountains which led first down to the right and back to the left, the rough shape of the boot naturally appeared.

The resemblance was heightened by the fact that the heel part, while not mountainous, was higher than the land around it, and so was left dry by the water, helping to give Italy the general shape of a boot.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look in an atlas and see if you can find other places which remind you of human shapes. Cape Cod, for instance, looks like an arm thrust into the sea with the elbow at Chatham. The upper arm is curved back, with a clenched fist at Provincetown.

Red Influence Up on Cyprus

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Not the least of United States and British concern over Cyprus is the mounting Communist influence there, having as its nucleus the island's own well-organized Communist party and made respectable by President Archbishop Makarios' open flirtation with Moscow.

In Nicosia, the capital, Soviet Ambassador Pavel K. Yermoshin becomes the man of the hour, while U.S. and British representatives find themselves regularly damned not only by the Cypriot press but by Makarios himself.

And while Makarios as a churchman must oppose communism, he has made it equally clear that he will deal with anyone who might help him crush his Turkish Cypriot opposition.

As for the Communist party of Cyprus, it is the only political party worthy of the name on the island. It is tightly organized, well-disciplined and run by men trained in Moscow and taking their orders from there.

Its membership is estimated at around 10,000, but it also controls labor unions with an estimated 30,000 members, or about half of the island's organized labor force.

OPPOSITION ILL-TRAINED

Further, in contrast to the Right organizations, opposing rightist labor and youth groups are considered both ill-trained and badly disciplined.

Turkish sources, admittedly biased, estimate that 40 percent of all Greek Cypriots have Communist connections.

And, while moving cautiously, the party has been attempting to capitalize on its new-found popularity.

A party declaration accused the U.S. of plotting to overthrow Makarios and of pursuing a goal from which Washington could "profit from the chaos that would follow."

NO DISCRIMINATION

A party protest that its members were being banned from the armed forces drew from Makarios a promise that any such discrimination would be ended.

Within Makarios' own government are believed to be a number of Communist party members.

The geographical location of Cyprus in the Eastern Mediteranean, its relationship to NATO and Makarios' new relations with Moscow have produced ironies.

As a spokesman for Greek Cypriots, Makarios frequently has called for union with Greece.

CONDITION FOR AID

Yet a condition of Soviet aid as laid down by Nikita Khrushchev is that he should abandon Enosis, union with Greece.

An obvious Soviet goal is to prevent extension of NATO to Cyprus, as would occur under Greek union, and to neutralize British bases already there.

For the moment, the Cypriot

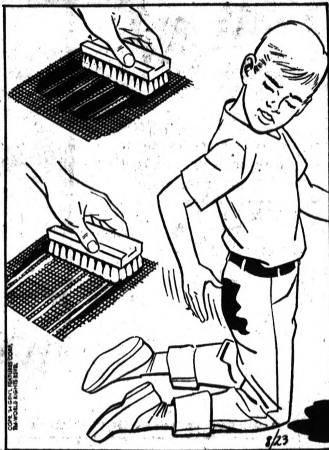

Communist party is laying low on the Enosis issue, saying it is up to the will of the people. However, should Enosis come, the party almost certainly would be outlawed as it already is in Greece.

On Cyprus itself, there is a tendency to downgrade Communist importance.

MERELY USED

Those who do say the church has too strong an influence to permit a Communist takeover and that the Communists now merely are being used by Makarios.

Others before Makarios have made the same mistake.

Problem: Why Does Wet Mud Not Brush Off?

NEEDED: Observation only. We know that wet mud will not brush off our clothes, but will brush off after it dries.

WHY: The surface tension of water binds the clay particles into mud.

Without this bond, the dry loose particles easily brush apart. The clay particles are bound to the cloth by surface tension also.

A collection of these scientific puzzles is in a book form under the name "Science Circus." It is in bookstores and libraries.

THREE GOOD REASONS TO BUY AN ELECTRIC DRYER NOW

- low initial cost
- special installed price
- Edison no-charge service

When it comes to buying a clothes dryer, there are more important things to consider than an incomplete claim about a pennies-per-load operating cost.

Take dryer service, for example. No matter where you buy your electric dryer, Edison will repair or replace electrical parts with no charge for parts or labor.

How do you put a price tag on this extra-special service? One way is to look at what you'd pay for a dryer service policy. Typical charges, in this area, range from $70 to $150 over the first five years. This is the kind of money you save when you dry clothes the safe, gentle electric way.

Also, model for model, an electric dryer costs less to buy than a flame-type does—some electric dryers are $20 to $40 less.

And now, for a limited time, the price paid for an electric dryer includes its wiring, if any is needed. So you save even more.

What about cost of operation claims? Just this, an electric dryer costs about 5¢-7¢ per load to operate—and there are no other hidden costs.

Look at all the facts.

South America's Roads: Gateway to Progress

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A proposed network of highways penetrating the heart of South America is expected to open up thousands of square miles of rich, unsettled jungle land to modern pioneers.

The roads, part of the South American marginal jungle highway system, are under construction or in the final planning stages in Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia.

They will connect the four countries and cross the Andes to fertile, undeveloped lands on the eastern slopes of the Continental Divide.

When the 10-year project is completed, vehicles can go in a matter of hours to points that today require days of strenuous and dangerous travel.

USUALLY FORGOTTEN

Many South American capitals are modern and bustling, but because of a lack of roads the countries' interiors usually are backward and forgotten. Inaccessible regions hold tremendous wealth both above and below the surface.

One American engineer compares the road project with the extension of the railroads in the U.S. West a century ago.

Helping the countries finance the roads are the U.S. government, the Export-Import Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank.

Here is a rundown:

Colombia — A preliminary study is under way for a 1,856-mile section of the jungle highway. More than 900 miles will pass through unsettled country, considered excellent for development of livestock, lumber, fish, game and petroleum.

The Colombian government feels that thousands of families can settle on the rich lands.

Ecuador — Reconnaissance studies of the 500-mile stretch of the jungle highway are nearing completion. Twelve zones have been selected with a total of four million acres in which 68,000 families could be settled.

The highway will connect with the interoceanic project between Ecuador and Brazil, a road that would run from the port of San Lorenzo on the Pacific to Manaus, the Amazon River port in Brazil.

Almost 900 miles of new roads have been built in Ecuador in the last five years at a cost of $62.2 million.

NEW ROAD

A new road between Quito, the inland capital, and Guayaquil, the big banana river port on the Pacific, reduces travel time from 18 to seven hours.

Officials estimate that each new mile of all-weather road built in Ecuador means 380 acres of land that can be brought under production.

Peru — Construction is expected to start within a few months on the first paved highway across the Andes in the northern part of the country.

The 220-mile road is expected to cost $47 million.

PAVED HIGHWAYS

Only 20 per cent of Peru's 22,320 miles of highway are paved.

Officials predict the new roads will help integrate six million Indians into the national life. The Indians are more than 50 per cent of the nation's 11 million population.

Bolivia — The marginal jungle highway project for this landlocked country is still under study. The Bolivia section will be approximately 1,250 miles long and will start at Colija in the northwest corner of the country. It will extend southward to Ypacani in the center of the nation, and from there it will branch out.

Of Bolivia's 12,000 miles of roads, only 340 are paved.

Some road construction is well under way and will help develop regions suitable for bananas, citrus fruits, yuca, rice, cocoa, avocados and peanuts.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Heart Block Not Always Evidence of Ills

Q—A friend of mine has heart block. His pulse is about 48. Can he be cured?

A—Heart block comes in different sizes.

First degree heart block is seen in athletes and is not an evidence of heart disease. BRANDSTADT

No treatment of this type of heart block is required.

Second and third degree heart block may cause fainting. The pulse count is usually about 45.

The severity of this condition varies.

Although there is no cure, treatment with isoproterenol is very effective. Even better is the electronic pacemaker that can now be implanted under the skin of the abdomen.

Q—My doctor tells me I have an enlarged heart, but he did not prescribe anything for it. Is it serious?

A—Are you sure your doctor didn't say that you were just naturally big-hearted?

Enlargement of the heart may be due to a leaky valve, persistent high blood pressure, toxic hyperthyroidism and chronic lung diseases such as bronchitis or emphysema.

How serious the enlargement is depends on several factors. I would infer that, since your doctor did not think it necessary to give you anything for it, he did not consider it serious.

Q—When I look at a street light at night there seems to be a halo around it. Sometimes there is a pain in my right eye. What could cause this?

A—If you see the halos without looking through spectacles or window glass, you probably have glaucoma. This could also cause pain in one or both eyes.

Since more blindness in persons over 40 is caused by glaucoma than any other disease, and since early recognition and treatment could save your sight, you should see an eye doctor without delay.

Q—I get piercing pains through my ears that last about a minute five or six times a day. What could cause these pains and what can I do to stop them?

A—Since an infection in your middle ear would cause continuous pain, your intermittent pain is probably some form of neuralgia (possibly following an attack of shingles involving the head or neck), or a referred pain from arthritis in the vertebrae of the neck, a dental abscess, poor dental occlusion, or, if you have lost all your teeth, habitually leaving your dental plate out of your mouth.

If the pains persist you should have a thorough physical check-up to determine the cause.

No. 2 Spot Virtually Clinched as State Dems Open Confab

LANSING UP — The Democratic party opens its two-day convention today with the major item of business—selection of a lieutenant governor candidate—virtually settled.

U. S. Rep. Neil Staeber, Democratic candidate for governor, was to announce formally today his choice of State Solicitor General Robert Derengowski, a Polish-American with 18 years experience in state government.

Barring a dispute over his choice of a running mate, the only contested issue seemed to be selection of candidates for the new State Board of Education, the Wayne State University Board of Governors and the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

Secretary of State James Hare and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley are unopposed for renomination.

SHARE SLATE

The convention must nominate the lieutenant governor candidate—who will share a slate with the gubernatorial candidate for the first time this year. But this is expected to be a formality.

"I see no evidence of any convention battle," said state chairman Zolton Ferency.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges will deliver two of the convention's principal speeches, and Staeber will offer the keynote address Saturday. Hodges, former businessman and governor of North Carolina, will speak at a dinner tonight on the relationship between Michigan's prosperity and the national economy.

ROLE IN POLITICS

Saturday morning he'll discuss the role of the business and professional man in politics.

A drafting conference was to begin work this afternoon on the party platform.

The formal platform committee will be selected at district caucuses tonight, then will meet at about midnight to polish the party's statement of views.

Ferency said he could "see no fight shaping up on the platform committee."

He predicted that the platform, normally confined to state issues, would touch on some national issues at least as they relate to Michigan.

Nineteen candidates for the eight Board of Education nominations, five for the two Wayne State positions and four for the two Michigan State offices were to present their views and qualifications this afternoon.

Two each of the successful board of education candidates will be nominated to run for the two, four, six and eight year terms being contested. Beginning in 1966, all terms will be for eight years but the staggered start was necessary to establish the rotation principle written into the new State Constitution.

Saturday's general session speakers besides Staeber will include Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and former Gov. John Swainson, now Democratic national committeeman.

Illini Campus Overflows

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — The postwar bumper crop of babies, now enrolling at campuses throughout the nation, is overflowing at the University of Illinois, the country's sixth largest school.

The university turned away 5,500 fully qualified applicants this fall. Admissions experts call it the largest number of qualified high school graduates ever rejected by a college in a single term.

And, the same man cautions, the same problem, with the same huge dimensions, is already beginning to develop in many other states.

Enrollment this term at Illinois' two campuses in Chicago and Urbana will total 27,000, up nearly 1,600 from last year. The school hopes to accept even more with the completion of a new Chicago campus.

UNFIT APPLICANTS

In addition to the 5,500 qualified applicants, said C.W. Sanford, dean of admission, the university rejected another 4,000 that were considered unfit.

One out of five applicants was rejected — and angry letters are flowing to the Illinois Legislature from disappointed parents.

Youth Mute on Charge of Murder

DETROIT (AP)—A 17-year-old youth who police say has admitted stabbing two men—one of them fatally—stood mute Thursday in Recorder's Court on a "first-degree murder charge."

Judge John P. Scallen set examination for the youth, Leonard Johnson, for Sept. 30.

Two juveniles, companions of Johnson, were also held. Juvenile Court authorities said they have not decided whether the pair should be tried with Johnson.

Police said Johnson has admitted killing Raymond Albrecht, 50, Tuesday night.

STABBED IN BACK

Detectives said all three youths also admitted stabbing another man, Norman McNamara, 47, who was treated and released at a Detroit hospital. Police said McNamara was stabbed in the back for "no apparent reason."

The youths also allegedly stole a bag of groceries from a man who was attacked with a brick.

The added enrollment will necessitate hiring of up to 10 additional teachers. Superintendent of Schools Don O. Tarro, said.

Couple Claims Burned Baby

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A northeast Grand Rapids couple, parents of six other children, have told police that the body of an infant found Wednesday in a burned trash box was their 3-month-old daughter.

Inspector Walter J. Gilbert identified the child as Jill Laubenthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett M. Laubenthal.

Laboratory tests continued today in an effort to determine the cause of death. Investigators said the body apparently had been placed in a coal fire in an attempt to dispose of the child after its death.

Gilbert said the baby was born last June 2.

He said the couple was released to their home "after we talked with them for a long time" Thursday night. He said they had appeared voluntarily at police headquarters with their story. Gilbert declined to give further details pending outcome of the investigation.

Russian President Places Cuba on 'Dangerous' List

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet President Anastas Mikoyan warned today that the world could "once again face a direct danger of war" over Cuba.

Mikoyan gave a grim review of international affairs in a speech at a Soviet-Indian friendship meeting in the Kremlin, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

Russia's new president said recent "imperialist activities" had led to "dangerous signs" of the aggravation of "tension," despite the general East-West détente over the past year.

Among these "dangerous signs" he listed: "Criminal aggressive actions by the U.S. against (North) Viet Nam (and) armed member ballot to provide sidewalks where difficult walking conditions exist, went unsupported.

NOT ENOUGH TIME

Board members were in general agreement that not enough time was available to "sell" the proposal to the public before the election.

Robert Lawyer, community school service coordinator, invited board members to the kick-off breakfast Tuesday for the community school program.

Big Margin for Shastri in Key Vote

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's ruling Congress party overwhelmingly defeated today a Communist-backed no confidence motion.

Shastri's parliamentary victory, as expected, was by a huge majority — 397 to 50, with 13 abstentions. It came shortly after he defended his government in a two-hour speech.

Shastri, who had been silent for a week under a deluge of abuse from leftists, promised "no quick solutions to India's ills. He said there would be no quick end to food shortages that have spread discontent throughout India.

In fact, he added: "Very difficult days are ahead for the next month."

There can be no short-term solutions to the food problem, he went on, "not in one, two or three years. We must speak in terms of six to eight years to overcome our agricultural problem."

Hiren Mukherjee, pro-Moscow Communist leader charged the prime minister with "having split solutions to India's ills. He said that would be no quick end to food shortages that have spread discontent throughout India.

"This hurt me deeply," Shastri said, "This strong personal attack was highly objectionable, wholly unjustified and untrue."

Cholera Fatal to 7;

MANILA (AP) — Cholera has taken seven lives in Manila so far this week, but this represents a sharp decline from last week's 26 deaths, the Health Department said.

National statistics showed 523 suspected cases for the week ending Sept. 12, of which 296 were in the Manila area. The week ending Sept. 5 showed 717 suspected cases and 54 deaths.

American intervention in South Viet Nam and Laos."

● The establishment of "the detestable Federation of Malayasia."

● Tension in the Caribbean. Tass said he warned against any armed intervention in Cuban affairs and added, "The world may once again face a direct danger of war."

● Mikoyan also blamed the West for the "unsatisfactory" state of disarmament talks.

The Soviet president called for amendment of the United Nations Charter to give Afro-Asian nations broader representation in "key U.N. bodies—the Security Council and the Economic and Social Council."

Predictions Are Bright

"Grasses and legumes of the future will have multiple disease and insect resistance, high yielding capacity, be of superior quality, and will better withstand extremes of temperature and moisture," predicts Dr. Hugo Graumann of the Agricultural Research Service.

He says variety improvements have increased the value of alfalfa by millions of dollars and bacterial wilt resistance has added $100,000,000 a year to the value of alfalfa.

Spotted alfalfa aphid resistance has added $25,000,000.

Surprise Husbands

Women Plan Weekends

Home gardening has been steadily increasing in recent years throughout the country, partly because of the healthy new crop of homes — but also because of women.

"Women are the biggest and best buyers of growing plants and garden supplies," according to Lamar Little, F. W. Woolworth's horticultural buyer.

"It has been our experience that wives come in during the week and load up the car with gardening supplies of all types — seeds, plants and tools — with which they surprise their husbands on weekends," Little observed.

The selection of basic tools is a puzzling one for most women, especially when confronted with numerous items of equipment and about to engage in home gardening for the first time, he said.

The beginning gardeners of those with a tight budget should start with seven basic tools.

Little suggests a garden rake, preferably of the level-head type; a lawn rake; a six-inch hoe; a full-sized trowel with a three-inch-wide blade; a round-pointed long-handled shovel; a pair of professional pruning shears with overlapping blades, and a pair of grass shears. These are basic requirements, he points out.

When the home gardeners become more active and proficient she can add various specialty items such as a transplanting trowel; a three- or four pronged cultivator (with a short handle for flower beds or a long handle for vegetables); a grass whip; a shaping fork, and a short handled, flat, square-edged spade that substitutes for an edging knife and sod lifter.

Beyond this, a gardener's tool requirements depend a great deal on soil and plantings. She might need a hedge shear, tree pruner, pruning saw or a tamper to press down small newly seeded patches of lawn.

Great care should be taken in selecting tools. Top quality tools are the best buy.

Good tools can be identified by their construction. Care should be taken to see that they are made of heavy metal with the head securely attached to a sturdy handle.

The connection between the tool head and the handle is an important spot to check, bearing in mind that a tool with a flimsy connection won't last when striking a stubborn rock or hard root.

Top quality gardening tools are really cheaper because they will last for several gardening seasons, the Woolworth buyer notes.

Geraniums Are Summer Favorites

Professional growers, as fashion conscious as the new generation of plant lovers, have developed more than 30 new color varieties of geraniums.

These traditional summer favorites are finding increased popularity as summer plants because they withstand heat well in either indoor or outdoor locations, provided they are grown and kept in porous red clay pots, which give them ideal drainage and oxygen supply.

Battle Over 'Nice Guys' Could Erupt at State GOP Confab

DETROIT (AP) — There should be plenty of volunteers to hold their coats today as two of "the nicest guys" in the Michigan Legislature battle down to the wire for the privilege of sharing the Republican ticket with Gov. George Romney.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, and House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, are leading contenders for the lieutenant governor's slot on the ballot—to be filled at the two-day Republican state convention opening today.

A highlight of the convention will be the appearance of former Vice President Richard Nixon, who will deliver the keynote address Saturday.

Both Milliken and Green are personable, well-liked and respected in their respective chambers. Both reportedly have broad support across the state. And both have tried to identify themselves with Romney's program in the legislature.

Romney has praised both as "good men," but says he has no preference. He has said several times that he is willing to let the matter go to a floor vote—unless, all concerned express a preference for having the matter settled before it gets to the floor of the convention Saturday.

Although the candidate is to be selected by the delegates, the wishes of the governor would normally be complied with, since they are running as a team.

"If delegates at the convention and their leadership indicate they'd rather have the matter settled ahead of the floor action," Romney said, "I'd be willing to follow a procedure to determine the delegates' attitude and to find out the candidates themselves are willing to settle the race without a floor vote."

Reports that the loser would get the secretary of state nomination seem to be born out by Romney's repeated statement that he would like to have both on the ticket.

RUNS AS TEAM
The lieutenant governor candidate, however, will run as a team with the governor, sharing victory or defeat. The secretary of state candidate would have to oppose incumbent James Hare, a leading Democratic vote-getter.

Each candidate likes the idea of the other running for secretary of state, one GOP spokesman said. "They've been doing a regular 'Alphonse and Gaston' routine for months," he added. Milliken, a boyish-looking 42, has been working for the nomination much longer than Green.

Family of Winners

DARTON, England (UPI) — Nina Kaskiewicz went with her young brother Paul when he won a free trip to Dublin in a painting competition. While she was there, the 17-year-old girl won three beauty titles and a part in a television film.

and reportedly has built up campaign organizations in all 83 Michigan counties. He is president of a Traverse City department store, has been in the Senate since 1961 and majority floor leader since 1963.

Green, 52, is a Tuscola County best farmer, former teacher, coach and school superintendent. He has served in the House since 1951, and was elected Speaker in 1963.

Milliken is regarded as a liberal. Green, on the other hand, is known to back Sen. Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential candidate, whom Romney has not endorsed.

The floor vote, therefore, is regarded by some as a test of strength between conservative and so-called "moderate" Republicans.

Hubert Happy After Hitting Texas Trail

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, beaming and happy after a long day's journey through Texas, pressed his Southern vote hunt today in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' Arkansas.

It was Humphrey's first vice presidential campaign venture into the South—a South he says will, on the main, stay in the Democratic column in November despite passage of the civil rights bill.

After declaring in the Lone Star state Thursday that he and President Johnson hope to match or better Franklin D. Roosevelt's landslide victory of 1936, Humphrey today turned his guns on Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater over rural economies.

Addressing a four-state regional meeting of the National Rural Electric Co-operators Association, the Minnesota senator contended that rural Americans might still be living in "utter darkness" if it had been up to Goldwater.

Humphrey said farm areas got electricity because a Congress and Democratic administration "believed that the government should work for the people. And the people believed and called upon the government. But, said Humphrey, as he has time and again, "the philosophy of Goldwaterism holds that people should be suspicious of the government, that they should distrust the government, that they should fear the people who work for the government."

He then struck his theme that the federal government has been an instrument for progress and prosperity. In this case, he said, it was federal legislation that created the Rural Electrification Administration and brought rural America out of the darkness.

"Sen. Goldwater," Humphrey said, "has consistently voted against rural electrification and has just as consistently voted against all the related programs that make rural electrification possible."

RURAL AMERICA

He said he was talking about the Tennessee Valley Authority, other federal wholesale power authorities, dams and "all the programs which build rural America."

Thursday Humphrey spread the Johnson gospel from Wichita Falls in the north to Waco in the center and to San Antonio in the south.

Humphrey got his wildest reception—and his first real heckling from Goldwater supporters—at San Antonio. At the John F. Kennedy School, Humphrey declared that the late President Kennedy had captured the hearts and the love of young people "like no other American president."

But, the torch had been passed to Johnson, he declared with his voice cracking with emotion, "I would just like to help President Johnson carry the torch of enlightenment to the young people of America."

At the Alamo, Humphrey was practically mobbed by happy Democrats waving LBJ and Humphrey placards. A band played "Hello Dolly," which has become a Johnson campaign theme song.

At the edge of the crowd, three or four Goldwater placards and a big banner appeared and there was a chant of "We want Barry."

Johnson-Humphrey fans then stuck their placards in front of the Goldwater ones. A half-dozen policemen moved in to keep watch, but there was no trouble. And Humphrey, who was running into the first pro-Goldwater demonstration in his campaign, smiled and advised the Democrats to act "like good winners."

Faculty Changes at OU Approved by MSU Board

Faculty changes at Oakland University were approved yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, governing board of the two institutions.

Among the approved changes was appointment of a new OU librarian.

Floyd M. Cammack, 31, assistant librarian at the University of Hawaii, was skoyed for the post. He succeeds David Wilder, who resigned this summer to direct establishment of a university library in Baghdad, Iraq.

Wilder has served as librarian since 1959. A former Rhodes scholar, Cammack holds a doctorate from Cornell University. He will join the OU staff this month. Three OU faculty appointments were also okayed by the MSU trustees.

George V. Cripps of East Carolina College was appointed associate professor of music; Marshall M. Levinson of Wayne State University was named assistant professor of economics; and Miss Mary L. White, who held a predoctoral fellowship at Western Reserve University, was appointed instructor in psychology.

The MSU board approved the designation of Jesse Pitts, professor of sociology, as chairman of the department of sociology and anthropology.

Pitts succeeds Frank E. Lee, who resigned.

Also approved was the promotion of William C. Bryant from instructor to assistant professor in the modern language department, and Richard A. Kamman from instructor to assistant professor in psychology.

Says Retired Mayo Doctor

'Greater Concern About Health Today'

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—A Mayo doctor who carried on in the tradition of the famed Mayo brothers said today that people are more concerned with their health than they were a generation ago and that medical skills will improve to save more lives.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son and nephew of the late Drs. Charles H. and William J. Mayo, made these observations in an interview at the closing session of the Mayo Centennial Symposium.

"People today have the benefit of better educational background concerning their health and the importance of catching physical changes early," he said.

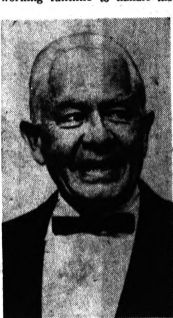

"Life insurance companies stress this in advertisements, and health writers point it out in their columns."

"CHUCK"
Dr. Mayo, known to his friends as "Chuck," retired from the Mayo Clinic last year at age 65 after a 25-year career as a surgeon, author and alternate delegate to the United Nations.

"But don't call it retirement," he said with a twinkle. "I do more today than I did before, and I thought I worked hard before."

He said he keeps a secretary working fulltime to handle his correspondence, keeps abreast of medical literature, is chairman of the Board of Regents at the University of Minnesota, a trustee of Carleton College, director and chief medical consultant for Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co., and a director of United Benefit Life Insurance Co.

"The clinic went on a five-day workweek July 7, and with this I disagree," he said. "I still work six long days."

ATTENDED

Dr. Mayo has attended all sessions of the two-day symposium, which climaxes a year-long observance of the 100th anniversary of the approximate birth-dates of the famed Mayo brothers. The brothers established the Mayo Clinic, in 1913.

The symposium is being attended by more than 2,000 doctors, scientists and scholars.

Dr. Mayo believes that medical skills are very good but that further progress lies ahead. But he said such legislation as the King-Anderson bill to put medical care under Social Security will block efforts to attract more promising young men to medical careers.

TREND

He said the long-term trend away from general practice toward specialization may be reversed by earlier marriages in recent years.

"When I was in medical school, only 3 per cent in my class were married," he said.

"Now some classes report as many as 66 per cent of the students married. These married men can't afford to continue their studies for a specialty right away."

When Dr. Mayo retired it marked the first time the clinic and its board of governors were without a Mayo. But another Mayo is carrying on the family tradition. His son, Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, is a Mayo Foundation fellow in surgery at the clinic.

His Name's a Lemon

WREXHAM, England (UPI)—Shadrack Strickland, 18, was fired from his car salesman job because his friends always called him by his nickname in front of customers. His nickname is "Shady."

BLUE SHIELD ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

only one increase for doctors in 25 years...

How many times have participating Blue Shield doctors been granted fee increases?

Just once in the 25 years that Blue Shield has been in existence. The increase was for less than 15% and was granted in 1958. (In that same 25 years, incidentally, the cost of living has gone up more than 120%.)

How much is involved in adding a newborn baby to my Blue Shield coverage?

You need simply report the birth within 30 days, if you have a family contract. From the moment of birth your new child is automatically covered. If the child is your first born you must simply change your coverage to a family contract.

What is the maximum age at which I can get Blue Shield coverage?

There is no maximum age. There is no minimum age. The Blue Shield philosophy is to offer the proper health care protection to all Michigan citizens regardless of age, condition of health, or income.

Can I be treated for the same illness more than once?

Yes, you can. Necessary services are never excluded just because you were treated for the same condition previously.

Isn't a lot of the money I pay Blue Shield used to pay the cost of running the company?

No. Actually less than 7% of every dollar is used to operate the plan. The rest is returned to subscribers in the form of benefits when they are needed. This is one of the lowest administrative costs of any health care protection plan anywhere in the United States.

Do you have a question about your Blue Shield coverage? Just write Dept. 54, Michigan Medical Service, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan 48226. We will answer as many of your questions as possible in future columns.

Mrs. LBJ Urges 'Great Society'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made her first formal campaign speech today — a call to arms for the "great society" and a denial that it is a political gimmick.

"I do not think only Democrats dream of the great society," she said of her husband's professed goal for America. "However, I do believe that since the days of the depression and war, it has been the leaders of the Democratic party who have been most practical and persistent in taking the necessary steps to achieve it."

As the nation's First Lady saw it: The "great society" calls for "imaginative planning at the top; legislation to set up the machinery. But — then — most of all, people in action in their communities to bring it to the hometown of America."

In her speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio, Mrs. Johnson remarked that "some people have interpreted my husbands 'great society' as a campaign promise."

'NOT TRUE'
"Nothing can be so far from the truth," she declared, adding: "No one can give you a 'great society' — all in a neat little package and delivered at your doorstep. Presidents can inspire it, strive for it, and, with Congress, set the designs on the drawing boards. But people like you must give it life."

She spoke of having traveled 400,000 miles across America this year and seeing many citizens busy "transforming small islands of poverty to communities of hope."

"This," she said, "is what the great society is all about. There is work to be done. But we — not in Washington — but in America are doing it." "It is wise application on the local level of national legislation that will bring the great society about," Mrs. Johnson said.

URGES WOMEN
She also urged women to vote, declaring "it chagrins me when I read that nearly one-third of the women who have the right to vote fail to make it to the polls."

Mrs. Johnson is on a two-day visit to Ohio, her first campaign swing on her own. She has been boosting local Democratic candidates, including Miss Frances McGovern, a young Akron attorney who is running against Rep. William Ayres, a seven-term Republican congressman, in Ohio's 14th district.

The First Lady went to Akron Thursday and spent today in Columbus. She flies back to Washington tonight.

For Akron visit proved she has two solid requirements for politics — a sturdy hand and a pair of comfortable shoes.

MANY HANDS

More than 3,500 women shook hands with Lady Bird Thursday at a tea luncheon in Akron and while the other female dignitaries kicked off their shoes as they stood in the receiving line, Mrs. Johnson kept hers on and personally greeted each guest.

"I wore comfortable shoes," she explained.

In stocking feet were Mrs. Frank J. Lausche and Mrs. Stephen M. Young, wives of Ohio's senators; Mrs. Anthony J. Celebrezze, wife of the secretary of health, education and welfare, a former Cleveland mayor; Miss Frances McGovern, Akron attorney seeking the 14th District congressional seat, and wives of several city officials. Miss McGovern sponsored the luncheon.

3 Vans Moving Jackie's Things to Her Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — Three large yellow vans pulled up to the 85th Street entrance of a Fifth Avenue building and began moving Mrs. John F. Kennedy's furniture into her new apartment.

Mrs. Kennedy conferred briefly with the movers, and then left. A woman friend remained to supervise the job.

The Kennedy apartment takes up the 15th and 16th floors of the building. It will be several weeks before the President's widow and her children, Caroline and John Jr., move in. There's still considerable redecorating to be done.

The family has been living in the Carlyle Hotel since Mrs. Kennedy decided to move to New York from Washington.

King Hopes Pope Will Rap Bias

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King said today he hoped Pope Paul VI would follow up their meeting with a statement reiterating the Roman Catholic Church's stand against racism.

The Pope was to receive the American Negro leader in private audience today.

King said in an interview with the Rome Daily American: "Of course, I hope that the Pope will see fit to release a statement about our talk. The Roman Catholic Church has already let its opposition to racism be known and it has been of great help to us in our work."

"But I think if every individual Catholic were made aware of the Church's stand by the Pope, it would be of great assistance to the civil rights movement in the future."

The Pope's response may never be disclosed by the Vatican. Often the Vatican issues statements after private audiences. Often it doesn't.

Since his arrival in Rome Wednesday, King has refused to discuss his call on the Pope in detail. But a statement issued in his name by his office in Atlanta, Ga., said he would discuss with the pontiff the role of the church in creating an integrated community life.

King also said he was concerned with the large metropolitan areas in the northern United States "where the Roman Catholic Church is a powerful factor in the attitude of the people."

King is a copastor with his father of the Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta. He also heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, a militant civil rights organization.

For the 37th year members from the branch have asked the public for donations for the sale, proceeds of which provide fellowships for advanced study to women.

This year 30,000 books and phonograph records were received in response to AAUW requests. These will go on sale Monday through Saturday of next week at Denny's.

Hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Thursday and Friday when hours will be extended from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Sports Marred Vacation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I invited her parents to spend two weeks with us at our summer home.

My father-in-law is an ardent sports fan, and while I like to listen to baseball games now and then, I dislike a steady diet of them.

ABBY

I had looked forward to this vacation to catch up on some long delayed pleasure reading. My father-in-law turned on all the baseball games without asking whether they would bother anyone else in the room.

I took it for a week, but I balked when he added football games. He and his wife accused me of being a poor host.

They said that by inviting them, had in effect turned over the use of our home to them.

I said that their manners were poor, and I would no more turn on a baseball game without asking them than sit down and start reading aloud in their presence without permission.

There was a scene and they left in a huff. Who was right? POOR HOST?

DEAR HOST: There is more than one way to skin a cat. You apparently chose the most painful method.

You were right. But you could have set them straight in a more diplomatic manner.

DEAR ABBY: My 20-year-old daughter is an exceptionally pretty girl. She has always been very popular and I never worried about her.

We are very close. Lately she has been asking me questions that have led me to believe that she is far more advanced in her experiences with boys (one in particular) than she should be. I wish she would be 100 per cent frank with me so that I could warn her of some of the things girls should be careful of.

Yet I don't want her to think I am giving my approval to anything that is wrong. I hope I am making sense, Abby.

I guess what I want to ask is this: Is it wrong for a mother to tell her daughter everything she thinks the girl ought to know in case she needs the information?

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If the mother thinks her daughter "ought to know"—it is wrong NOT to tell her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOWARD: To avoid those "Blue Mondays" try going to church on Sundays.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Boarding the plane that would take them to Athens are Mr. and Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles, Ottawa Drive. Above them on the steps are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Chirekos, Moline, Ill. Mr. Chirekos as president and Mr. Sekles chairman of the board of trustees of the American Hellenic Educational and Progressive Association represented the organization at the wedding today of King Constantine of Greece and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark.

Pinking Shears Will Cut Patches

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill M. Bush Jr. of Bloomfield Village announce the engagement of their daughter Merilyn Helen to Thomas Owen Morrow, son of the Earl E. Morrow of Far Hill Drive. Graduates of Michigan State University, they plan January vows.

Children Look at Life Paint Impressions

A child's view of the world, from all around the globe, will be on exhibit in Oakland County for the next six weeks.

The display opens Sunday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the Oakland YWCA in Royal Oak. During the tea Mrs. Carl Andreas of Detroit will speak.

The tea and exhibit are free and the six week's display of about 50 pictures is prepared by "Art for World Friendship" and sponsored in this area by the county branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

"Boys and Toys — are we perpetuating an ethic of violence" is the topic of Mrs. Andreas' talk.

WEEK AT 'Y'

The exhibit, including pictures from Thailand, New Zealand, Ghana and Japan, will continue at the YWCA for one week from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will then be displayed in other parts of the county ending with an appearance at the Pontiac Mall during United Nations Week, Oct. 19-24.

Mrs. Janet Hawksley of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the Sunday affair.

The pictures are created by children in 94 countries and five continents, including the Soviet Union.

GROUP BASIS

They are exchanged on a group basis in that children work under the supervision of a school teacher, scout leader or other interested adult.

The children are urged to paint pictures about themselves or their friends and they soon discover that their interests are the same the world over.

Altar Guild Plans Tea

The St. Hugo of the Hills Altar Guild Society has extended invitations to all members for a tea Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the Harshade Street home of Mrs. Frank Audette.

Mrs. Robert Rich is chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Robert Squires, Mrs. Frank O'Hara and Mrs. Frank Linskey.

LLOYD-MILLIKAN

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian church was the setting for the recent marriage of Ruby C. Millikan to Robert V. Lloyd. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Morse of Ridgeway Drive and Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd of Roselawn Drive. The bride wore a floor length gown of white satin. The bride's sister, Patsy Morse, was maid of honor. Another sister, Shirley Morse was bridesmaid. Ron and Steve Frailey were best man and usher. The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church.

Baby Clothes Sorting

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When my second baby arrived, I spent quite a bit of time sorting through old baby clothes trying to determine sizes on items that had long since lost their size tags.

Now that the second one has started to outgrow things, I am packing everything away in bags and carefully labeling them "Birth to 12 lbs." "13 to 16 lbs." and so on.

This includes sweaters, socks, caps, kimono, booties and everything that has a size.

Hope to save myself some time when I need them again and, in the meantime, may save some other new mothers' time. — MRS. J.R.E.

DEAR POLLY: To reinforce the frayed seams in my little girl's school dresses and blouses I sew a white shoe lace between the seams at the armholes.

I stitch through the shoe lace and the dress material. It really works. — MRS. R.C.

DEAR POLLY: To always be sure you are sewing on the right side of solid colored fabric, remove the pattern from the material and put a piece of transparent tape on the wrong side of each piece.

The tape can be easily removed and does not leave marks. If your hands are chapped and stick to material as you sew, rub some vinegar into your hands. I always keep some by my sewing machine. — MRS. T. C. W.

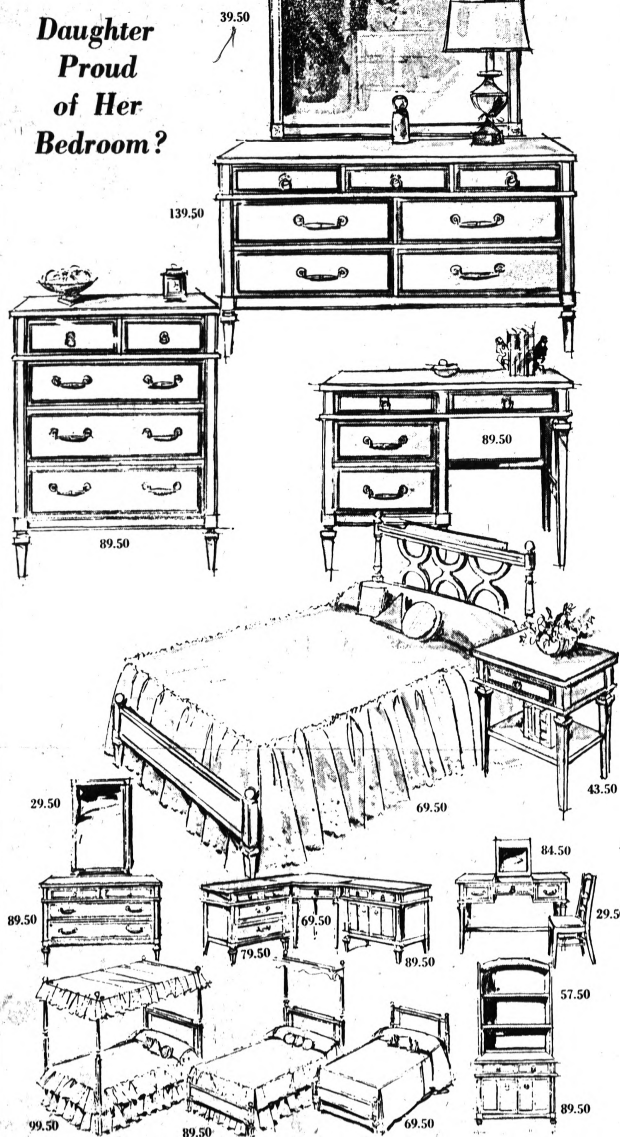

DEAR POLLY: I found an effective way to clean my dust mop. After I mop the floors and shake out the dust, lint still clings to the mop.

Instead of picking it off by hand, I scrape the mop along the edge of an outside brick corner of our house. It is amazing how the rough bricks pull off the lint. — E.Q.

DEAR POLLY: When you go shopping, put the sales slips for your purchases in your purse. Then if you mislay a package and a clerk or someone else finds it, you have proof that it is yours. — PENNY.

Bath Towels as Cover-Ups

You have nothing to wear? You can get an attractive informal costume right out of the linen closet.

Take two matching bath towels in colorfast pattern or a solid hue—and sew them together at one end, leaving a 13-inch opening for the neck.

To form sleeves, sew matching hand towels lengthwise along each side, centered with the neck opening. Sew three snaps on the ends of the hand towels to keep the sleeves in place and five snaps part way down both sides of the bath towels.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The time of reckoning has arrived! Have you tried on your fall clothes; did it wither your appetite? That's what one reader has written me. She writes:

"After going through a buga-bag of beautiful clothes I had to give away because I can no longer button or zip them, I finally awoke to the fact that now is the time to do something about my figure."

"I must get back to my old weight of 125 pounds. My present weight is 140, after three babes in succession. I would like to look like the same girl my husband married."

"Please send exercises for slimming the abdomen, waistline, hips and thighs, along with your 8-Day Reducing Diet. I missed some of the diets and exercises."

"I love to eat, but giving away all those clothes has withered my appetite."

SUMMER'S SHOCK

After picking up a few pounds during the summer or while on vacation it is sometimes a shock to try on fall and winter garb which has been waiting hopefully for us in a closet or in a store. It's probably a shock to the clothes too!

Don't feel defeated and give them away. Instead, get into them! Evidently having to give away the clothes had a constructive effect on this reader. However, reducing in order to wear pretty clothes you have is a great incentive and can also whet the appetite.

It always helps to have a definite goal you are shooting for. In order to lose most attractively the reducer should indulge in some special exercises.

The waistline is one of the spots where those unwanted pounds love to gather. Do the following exercise for mid-slimming. Stand tall with your feet separated and your arms raised sideward, shoulder height.

Bend to the left, touching the floor with the fingertips of your left hand as far to the left as possible. Raise the trunk and pull back as you continue on to bend to the right and try to touch the fingertips of your right hand to the floor as far as to the right as possible. Raise trunk and continue. The pull back between bends is important.

If you would like to have my short routine of exercise to recondition your figure for fall clothes send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Essential Daily Routine," number 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Kalamazoo Rite Unites Area Couple

St. Monica Catholic Church in Kalamazoo was the setting for the recent vows of Claudia Sue Heersma and Quartermaster Michael D. Schrock, of Kalamazoo.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harris S. Heersma of Kalamazoo the bride chose a floor-length Empire gown of ivory satin and a lace veil. She carried ivory chrysanthemums. Cynthia Barnes was honor maid at the ceremony performed by Rev. Adolph Nadach. Frances Lucke attended as bridesmaid.

Daniel Schrock of Kalamazoo assisted his brother as best man and James D. Schrock of Birmingham was an usher. They are the sons of the Gilvert V. Schrocks of Birmingham. Scott Carter also escorted the guests.

After a reception for 300 guests in the Knights of Columbus club rooms, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. They have resumed senior year studies at Western Michigan University.

Hospitality Talked About Way Back in Colonial 1885

The following was printed in the first issue of Good Housekeeping in 1885.

"Hospitality is one of the primal instincts of man. Nor is it only an instinct. It is a virtue and sometimes a very lofty one."

"It is most touching among the poor, most graceful in the rich, and most difficult in the middle classes."

"To receive guests has been the pride of the English noble, the religion of the Arab, the amusement of the country squire, the sign of brotherhood among pioneers, the polite show of the Chinese, the joy of children, the delight and terror of young wives, and the duty performed with a varying mixture of pleasure and fatigue of the average American."

"If there are any thoughts by which the pleasure can be made more, and the fatigue less, to our own countrymen, and especially countrywomen, for it is upon these that the care and the labor chiefly come, let us consider them."

Two were wounded 310 miles northeast of here Wednesday when a patrol was ambushed by a Communist unit. One Vietnamese soldier was killed and six others were wounded. The Viet Cong reportedly suffered seven killed.

The Viet Cong shot down an armed U.S. Army helicopter about 260 miles from Saigon yesterday, and all four crew members were injured. Two were hospitalized.

Lake Orion to Eye Sewerage

Opportunity for Residents to Study Facts, Figures

LAKE ORION — Two experts will lay the facts and figures concerning a planned $1.36-million sewage system before the residents of the village Monday night.

A public meeting slated for 7:30 at Blanche Sims School was scheduled by the Village Council in order that residents might get answers to any questions they may have about the system.

Book Group to Form for Discussion

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A Great Books Discussion Group, emphasizing the theme "Let's Think for Ourselves," is being organized in the township.

The group will meet for two hours every other week at the West Bloomfield Township Library, 5630 Orchard Lake.

Participants will discuss today's problems "through the reading of the works of the greatest thinkers and writers of all times — books which have left a permanent influence on Western civilization," according to Mrs. James Worley of Royal Oak, program coordinator.

Membership is open to all adults in the community and there is no tuition fee. The first meeting is scheduled for 8 to 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Enrollments are being accepted by librarians, Mrs. Marjorie Partridge.

STIMULATING DISCUSSION

Group moderators have completed an authorized leadership guidance course under auspices of the Great Books Foundation. Their function is to stimulate discussion by asking questions which bring out the ideas in the text being studied.

Such questions as "Are all men created equal?" "How should we bring up our children?" and "Is man superior to the state?" will be considered as the group reads "The Declaration of Independence," Montaigne's "Essays" and Aristotle's "Politics."

Seek Republicans to Back Johnson

EAST LANSING (AP) — Volunteers for Johnson, a group aimed at recruiting "large numbers of life-long Republicans who have decided to cast their lot with the Johnson forces," has been organized at Michigan State University.

Economics professor Walter Adams, temporary chairman, said the organization is intended to woo Republicans who want to remain in their party, but work against the election of Sen. Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential candidate.

"We want to make it clear, however, that we are sticking to the presidential race, and not presidential race, and are not

Troy Church Plans Organists' Meeting

TROY — The Troy Methodist Church will be the setting Monday for the open meeting of the American Guild of Organists.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. following a dinner in Fellowship Hall. It will feature several anthems by the local church's Chancel Choir, directed by Rodger H. Phillips.

Speaker of the evening will be Malcolm Johns, choir director of Cross Pointe Memorial Church. He will discuss his trip to Europe and play recordings of German organists and choirs. Robert Glasgow, organ instructor at the University of Michigan, also will give a lecture.

Louis H. Schimmel, director of the Michigan Municipal Advisory Council and a financial consultant in the planning of the system, will explain the financial side of the plan.

Technical details of the system will be explained by Donald Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

The system, slated to eventually serve a total of 845 buildings, will be laid out in the part of the village east of the lake, and will not take in islands and peninsulas.

SERVE 3,000

A sewage treatment plant will be constructed in the southeast corner of the village, with a capacity to serve about 3,000 persons.

The system will be constructed on the basis of a contract between the village and Oakland County, which stepped in at the Village's request to plan the system.

The method of financing is ultimately up to the Village Council, which has not made a decision as yet.

A vote will not be required to put the system in.

FIRST STEP

The plans represent the first step in a delayed series of actions which the village must take toward eliminating pollution of Paint Creek, under orders from the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

The deadlines for submission of plans and awarding of contracts were both missed, even with an extension.

As a result, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley filed suit against the village in early August.

The deadline for operation of the system remains July 1, 1965.

getting into state or local races or issues," said Adams.

He charged that Goldwater is trying to change the party in its traditional makeup of diverse economic, social, ethnic and regional groups to "a monolithic, ideological and extremist faction."

AFTER CONVERSATIONS

He said the group was formed after conversations with faculty colleagues.

"We found that the so-called 'frontlash' not only exists, but it is extensive," he said. "And this was one way to make it effective."

The group — mostly faculty members — is made up of Republicans, Democrats and independents, he said. Volunteers will be given "meaningful roles" in such areas as registration drives and speakers bureau activities, he added.

Distribution Education

Theme for Conference

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney announced Thursday a governor's conference on education for distribution will be held Oct. 20 at the Lansing Civic Center.

Purpose of the conference, Romney said, is to discuss how persons engaged in distributive education can further contribute to Michigan's economy, prepare youths and adults for successful careers in sales, marketing and distributive occupations, help to discourage school drop-outs and help reduce unemployment.

'BUTTON, BUTTON' — Six-year-old Tommy Ilkka beams as Aunt Jemima pins a giant-sized button making him a member of her Breakfast Club on his shirt. Julie White, also 6, already sports her pin. The button presentations were made yesterday at Meadow Brook School in Avon Township where Aunt Jemima was appearing to publicize the school's PTA Pancake Jamore. It will be tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at West Junior High School.

Oxford Woman Struck by Car

OXFORD — A 77-year-old Oxford woman was listed in good condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital, Pontiac, after being struck by a car early last night.

Mrs. Clara Dixon of 11 Lincoln was hit while crossing the street at 120 S. Washington at about 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Elton J. Ellis, 54, of 3500 Lakeville, Oxford Township, said that Mrs. Dixon ran out in front of his car without looking.

Mrs. Dixon told Oxford police officers that she could not have been running, due to a July operation, and said that Ellis must have been speeding.

Ellis told police he was traveling at about 30 miles per hour in a 40-mile-per-hour zone.

WOMAN'S INJURIES

Mrs. Dixon suffered a fractured right leg and scalp lacerations.

Oxford police are continuing to investigate the accident.

NEWS OF THE AREA

The Play's the Thing, but Sales Important

ROCHESTER — The week of Sept. 28-Oct. 4 has been proclaimed "Avon Players Week" to spark the theatrical group's annual sale of season tickets.

Although sales get under way officially this weekend, they are slated to gain added impetus during the week set aside by the Village Council.

The Players have selected four plays for the forthcoming season, all of them popular Broadway and Hollywood favorites.

The first is "Come Blow Your Horn" to be presented Oct. 16 and 17 in Central Junior High School.

Just about the time the new year begins the local thespians will swing right into rehearsals for their Jan. 22-23 production of "Picnic."

SPARKLING COMEDY

"State of Mind" is to be staged March 19 and 20, and the season will end in late spring with the sparkling comedy, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

By purchasing season tickets in advance, players can save substantially on the cost of individual tickets. Each ticket entitles the holder to four admissions during the season and can be used twice for one play.

This means the two tickets can be used by two people to see any two plays.

Say Area Man Tried Robbery

Reported Seized by Chicago Bank Guards

CHICAGO (AP) — An unemployed Almont, Michigan man was seized by guards Thursday as he attempted to rob the First National Bank of Chicago, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said.

The man, John Ramon Tuero, 42, was charged with attempted bank robbery.

The FBI said that Tuero entered the downtown bank unarmed and shoved a note and a sack under the bars of a teller's cage.

The note read: "Fill this sack with five and ten dollar bills. Then send me to prison for God's sake or back to a VA hospital."

RELEASED

The FBI said Tuero was recently released from a Veterans Administration hospital in Martinez, Calif.

Featured will be games, cotton candy, baked goods, car wrecks and a white elephant sale.

Clowns, a zany zoo and Condon's balloon animals will add to the color of the fair.

The Auxiliary of VFW Post No. 4036 is the pack sponsor.

Chinese Reds Show Strain of Rift With Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's Communist party structure is showing the strain of its massive quarrel with the Soviet party.

Doubt, contradictions and quarrels are infecting the highest levels of the Chinese party.

Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung has ordered a nationwide purge to halt the infection which began with the publication of the theories of Yang Hsien-chen, a philosopher and central committee member who was educated in the Soviet Union.

Yang, whose influence as president of the higher party school was enormous, pushed a theory that it is possible for capitalism and communism to merge. Mao calls this a betrayal of the Marxist theory of class struggle, of China's own line that revolution is the only way to defeat the West and communize have-not nations.

Schools Offer Adult Classes

Signup for Credit Courses is at PCH

High school credit classes for adults will be offered this fall by Pontiac schools.

The credit courses, and adult education instruction, are offered through the Pontiac area vocational-occupational training program.

Registration begins Monday in the office of adult education at Pontiac Central High School. The office is open 1:45-3:30 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.

Three 10-week terms will be offered this year.

Class offerings include algebra, English, history, cooking, accounting, machine shop, foreign languages and technical courses.

ANY COURSE

School officials, however, state that any course will be offered if 12-15 persons sign up for it.

Special courses in beginning reading, adult driver education, citizenship and Americanization are available.

Scott Carpenter Picked for Navy Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter, the second American to orbit the earth, has been selected for promotion from Navy lieutenant commander to commander.

At the same time, Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, announced in Houston that the Navy officer will serve as his executive assistant.

In August, an article in the party's newspaper, the Peking People's Daily, denounced Yang as a proponent of "modern revisionism." This meant he was espousing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ideas.

For weeks it has been known that not everyone in China agreed with Mao's uncompromising policies of violence. But how deep was the disaffection? The Sept. 11 issue of "The Peking Review" gives this answer:

"At the present time, the debate which has started on the philosophical front in our country is continuing. In terms of numbers of participants or of its widespread influence and great significance, a debate such as this has rarely been seen in our academic circles for many years now. It seems that it is still far from being concluded. Step by step it is deepening. Truth always develops in struggle."

THREAT TO POSITION

This crisis, heaped on top of his battle with Khrushchev, can threaten Mao's position. He is expected to win.

One big question is whether any recent party school graduates have spread Yang's contagion to professional army officers who may be unhappy over Mao's efforts to bring the 2.5-million-man army under strict party control.

Plains Indians called the soaring, snow-topped mountains of the "back-bone of the world."

NO PIED PIPER—Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen is admitted a powerful factor in the U.S. Senate. However, as a piccolo player, he falls flat. The minority leader is shown trying a test foot on a gift piccolo presented to him yesterday at his Capitol Hill office. After managing to raise only one weak "pffitttt," he decided to donate the instrument to an Illinois orphanage.

Ev Long-Windedness Not Tuned to Piccolo

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The senator from Illinois huffed. And he puffed. But he couldn't produce a peep. So an orphanage is richer today by a $375 piccolo.

It all began last month when the loquacious leader of the Senate's Republicans, Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, confessed to his colleagues that he had been his boyhood dream to be able to "tootle on a piccolo."

In the time-tested manner of such things, virtually the next mail brought him an offer of a piccolo free from Richard W. Bosse of Elkhart, Ind. Bosse is president of Artley, Inc., which he describes as the world's largest manufacturer of flutes and piccolos.

It was then that Dirksen had second thoughts. Too many years had passed since he first harbored his dreams of piccolo glory, he said. He agreed to accept the instrument, however, and pass it along to a worthy youngster.

The presentation was made yesterday in a Senate reception room, with Dirksen amiably hamming it up for the benefit of photographers and television cameramen.

LIKE "PFFFTTTT"
Arlington Zetty, a handsman and piccolo player of 30 years standing, was on hand to demonstrate.

"Just purse your lips like blowing into a pop bottle," he said.

Dirksen blew. The only sound was something like "pffftttt." He handed it to Zetty, who rippled through a rendition of Yankee Doodle.

"Marvelous," Dirksen said.

PICCOLO POSE
He posed with the piccolo at his mouth, obediently quivering his fingers and puffing out his cheeks in response to directions from photographers.

He warbled a few bars in harmony with the music, cupped an ear the better to hear, and even pretended to lead Zetty's playing but he wouldn't try again to play the instrument.

"I don't know from sour apples," he said. "And anyway, I might run out of steam."

The piccolo goes to Guardian Angel Orphanage of Joliet, Ill.

Johnson Is Backed by Hearst

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hearst Newspapers today endorsed President Johnson for election, throwing their support to a Democratic presidential candidate for the first time since 1932.

The endorsement came in a signed editorial by President William Randolph Hearst Jr., which said in part:

"It is our belief that Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey have not only earned the confidence of the American people but in addition are an able, stable, reliable and experienced combination to guide our country on a course of strength and honor and freedom."

The editorial appeared in Friday editions of Hearst Newspapers, which are in New York, Albany, Boston, Baltimore, San Antonio, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Editor & Publisher, the newspaper trade magazine, reported Thursday that Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, leads Johnson 241 to 222 in a poll of daily newspapers that have announced endorsements.

But the magazine said the margin for Goldwater was the smallest for a GOP candidate since it began such surveys in 1932.

Obstructed Sea Save

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The captain of a Cuban tugboat was quoted today as saying that U.S. sea and air craft "obstructed" his efforts to save a blazing Spanish freighter, attacked by small armed boats Sunday.

U.S. service spokesmen could not be reached at once for comment.

Havana Radio quoted Capt. Guillermo Laguna of the Castro tug Tenth of October in a broadcast monitored at Miami.

Laguna told a news conference and a Spanish official that the U.S. Coast Guard vessel No. 615 and a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane both harassed the Tenth of October by circling it. He claimed also they violated Cuban territorial waters.

When the tugboat reached the scene, the freighter (Sierra Aranzazu) was burning, Laguna said. He charged that when his crew tried to fight the fire the Coast Guard boat zigzagged dangerously across the tug's bow, and the plane flew overhead.

SAID CONFIRMED

Gov. Wallace Surprises All

Cryptic on Call of Legislature Session

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has managed to surprise and puzzle the capital with a call for a one-day special legislative session.

Wallace made the call Thursday in the midst of his whirlwind speaking tour through Indiana and Wisconsin.

He is being rather cryptic about what, exactly, he expects the legislators to do, though it appears that he plans some action to end racial mixing in the state's schools.

In his announcement he said only that he hoped the session would "return complete control of our school system to the state government."

SEES MOVEMENT — He added that he hoped the session would "start a movement and set a pattern that will be followed across the land."

In a telegram to members of the legislature, Wallace did little to clarify the purpose of the session.

"I believe," said the telegram, "that we can perform a service to our people and the people of this country by initiating an action to protect our local school system."

He added that the action could be taken in one legislative day.

LAW PASSAGE — The one-day session request eliminates the possibility that Wallace intends to act for the passage of a law.

The Alabama Constitution prohibits passage of a law in less than five legislative days.

About the most that could be accomplished would be the passage of a resolution, which is merely the statement of a legislature's position on a subject and does not carry the weight of law.

Whatever the lawmakers might say in this fashion would have no effect, legally, on the Alabama school system.

The world's tallest living tree, a California coast redwood, towers 367 feet high and measures 44 feet in girth, the National Geographic says.

Promoter Built Empire From $200 Start

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer

MONTREY, Calif. — In sweatshirt and slacks, he looks as if he might be one of the set workers on the movie location. But he is the man who is spending $4.8 million on the film, the most costly operation of a new entertainment empire.

Martin Ranshoff, 38, hunched in repose seems an ordinary man. But that is a state you seldom find him in. Most of the time he roams restlessly and talks tirelessly, largely about new triumphs for Filmways, which is his special baby.

"Started with a $200 investment in 1954," he tells you. "Next year we'll be doing a $20 million gross."

He also is happy to report that next month he will have three films shooting with an investment of $10 million: "The Sandpiper" with Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Eva Marie Saint; "The Loved One" with all kinds of people; "The Cincinnati Kid" with Spencer Tracy and Steve McQueen.

IN RELEASE — Plus which he will have two movies in release: "Topkapi" with Melina Mercouri and "The Americanization of Emily" with James Garner and Julie Andrews.

Filmways will also have four television series on the air: the top-rated "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Petticoat Junction," "Mister Ed" and the new "Addams Family."

Marty Ranshoff is living proof of the old Hollywood maxim, which I just invented, that there will always be dynamic new promoters to fill the vacuum created by the passing of men like Jerry Wald and Mike Todd. By sheer willpower and drive, Ranshoff has created ed Filmways in his own image: big-thinking, ambitious, successful.

GRADUATED — "I graduated from Colgate and went to work for a film company in New York that was making documentaries," he related. "Then in 1954 I started Filmways. I was 24 years old at the time, and it was a crazy thing to do. But we started to do business with our documentaries and commercials."

"The company really started moving when we did a film to introduce the 1958 Ford. We actually drove the cars around the world, minus the oceans, of course. It was a tremendous operation, requiring the shipment of cars and camera equipment to remote countries. The film drew us a lot of attention, and business began to zoom."

TELEVISION — Ranshoff went into television by hiring Al Simon, who had directed the Burns and Allen operation. The first product was "Mister Ed," which accomplished the miracle of going from syndication to the CBS network.

The producer dipped into movies by locking in Kim Novak for "Boys' Night Out." "I paid her too much money, but I needed a star to get started," Then came "The Wheeler Dealers."

Ranshoff said the percentage of Filmways' operation is now 45 features, 45 television and 10 documentaries. He expects the division and size of the enterprise to remain as is: "There just isn't enough talent for us to get any bigger." Or enough Ranshoff, either.

Taking Advantage of Tottering Regime

Viet Cong Guerrillas Step Up Attacks

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — The Communist Viet Cong guerrillas today stepped up the tempo of their attacks on a Vietnamese regime still tottering from a month of internal strife.

American officers said the Communists apparently overran a government outpost only 30 miles northwest of Saigon in Hau Nghia province.

An American spokesman said the post was attacked shortly after midnight. Since then there had been no radio contact with the post or the column which was sent to relieve it.

have from 150 to 200 members, and will have the job of writing a permanent constitution while serving at the same time as a national legislature.

Peace Plan May Ease Cyprus Rift

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Further proposals to ease tension on Cyprus may emerge from Greek Cypriot President Makarios' peace plan for the troubled Mediterranean island.

Makarios, here for King Constantine's wedding, conferred Thursday with Premier George Papandreou and other leaders of the Greek government.

Foreign Minister Stavros Costopoulos said afterward that Makarios' pacification policy is going to expand further. He did not elaborate.

Papandreou said the Greek and Cypriot governments were in complete agreement on Cyprus issues.

ARMED POSTS

Makarios proposed Tuesday that both Turkish and Greek Cypriots removed armed posts on the island. He said the Greek Cypriot government would lift its economic blockade against Turkish Cypriot areas.

The plan outlined to U.N. Secretary General U Thant, drew criticism from U Thant, which said it was "a full-fledged peace offensive for propaganda purposes."

However, some Turkish leaders said that the basis could be the basis for an improvement in relations between the feuding Cypriot communities if Makarios "lives up to his promises."

Makarios also proposed that his government provide financial assistance for resettlement of Turkish Cypriots forced to abandon their homes. He said a general amnesty would be granted to Turkish rebels under criminal charges for offenses against the government.

A shipment of 260 tons of Turkish Red Cross supplies arrived Thursday at Famagusta for the Turkish Cypriot village of Kokkina.

U.N. officials in Cyprus said that the blockade appeared to be lifted and tons of food were flowing into the Turkish quarter of Nicosia and other Turkish Cypriot areas.

Play About Truman Has Been Canceled

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — "The Man From Independence," a play based on the life of ex-President Harry S. Truman, won't open at Central Missouri State College as planned.

Thomas J. Graves, an instructor at the college, said unofficial legal problems forced cancellation of the play, which was to have had its premier Nov. 12. It was written by J. Roy McCarthy, member of a St. Louis radio station staff.

Hero Gets New Car

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI) — Stephen McKinlay, 29, who smashed his car into another one driven by bandit speeding away, after holding up a bar, was presented with a 600-pound ($1,680) automobile by a brewery company yesterday to replace his wrecked one.

Defensive Secondary Hit by Injuries

Lions Battle Rams for First Place Saturday Night

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
PALO ALTO, Calif. — A battle of defenses and a short-lived first place standing will be the big features of the Detroit Lions-Los Angeles Rams battle in the Coliseum Saturday night, at 10 p.m. Pontiac time.

other two unbeaten, Green Bay and Minnesota, play Sunday.

The Rams are boasting strongly about their exceptional defense which allowed the Steelers a total of only 167 yards last week. Included of which were only 119 yards net rushing and 48 net passing.

Five Steeler passes were intercepted, three fumbles recovered and the Steeler Quarterbacks were hit seven times for 63 lost yards in passing as the Rams chalked up a 26-14 triumph.

These defensive totals are much more impressive than the Lions' figures in the 26-17 win over the 49ers in as much as the Detroit secondary failed to intercept a pass and broke through to hit 48er quarterback John Brodie only twice.

This is the contest the Lions have been worrying about most of the two coast games

Last year they won in Los Angeles, 23-20, but not impressively. Rookie Terry Baker started the game and had three passes stolen from him to lead to Detroit touchdowns.

In Detroit, however, the Rams took advantage of a riddled Detroit defense which saw players such as Ollie Matson, Gall Coghill, Terry Barr and Tom Hall in the secondary because of injuries and they handed Detroit a 28-21 setback.

The Lions' secondary now has a few more problems.

Yale Lary who injured his ankle in the 48er game has been running but not taking part in practice, and yesterday Gary Lowe suffered a freak accident which may keep him out of the Saturday night game.

HOT BATH
Lowe was in the training room and was preparing to give him a leg treatment in the whirlpool bath.

The hot water hose which had been running in the bath suddenly went wild and flew out of the bath scalding him across the stomach and legs.

Trainer Millard Kelley said the burns were painful, although considered not serious, and caused blisters in some areas.

Lowe was covered with ointment and bandages and was unable to take part in practice yesterday.

His spot most likely will be filled by Bruce Maher who had been the 5th man of the Lions' secondary for five years.

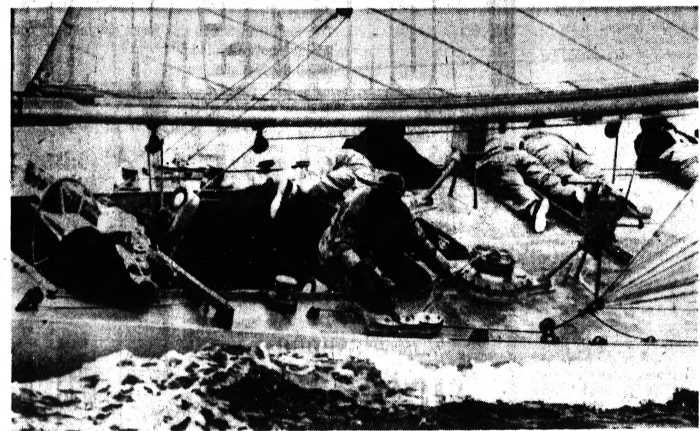

Should Lary be unable to play the entire game at the right safety spot, rookie Wayne Rasmussen may be put to a stern test in this position.

Milt Plum will start at quarterback for the Lions and rookie Bill Munson will get the nod for Los Angeles in place of Roman Gabriel whose knee injury has kept him out of drills for nearly a week now.

Joining Munson in the backfield are Dick Bass and Ben Wilson who combined for 117 yards rushing against Pittsburgh last week.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected at kickoff time.

English Hopes Near Bottom

British Newspapers Reveal Despair

LONDON (AP) — A groan of despair went up from the maritime British today in the sluggish wake of Sovereign's second America's Cup defeat.

"Totally outclassed" was the headlined comment of the Times. "Disastrous," echoed the Liberal Guardian.

British commentators cabling from Newport, R. I., found it all the more humiliating in that the American yacht Constellation trounced her British rival in heavy weather.

NOT THIS TIME

It has long been the theory here that a good strong blow would see the British plunge ahead.

The Times yachting correspondent cabled: "Disappointment among British supporters turned to abject humiliation. Sovereign was outclassed by a better boat in every way."

"Where Constellation surged and looped over the waves in great powerful swoops, Sovereign wallowed ineffectively."

"Aboard the press boat conversation turned to other matters, and those of us with English accents kept as quiet as possible. Interest in the series is virtually ended and the remaining races are likely to attract few spectators."

"Who, after all, would pay to watch a racehorse run against a donkey?"

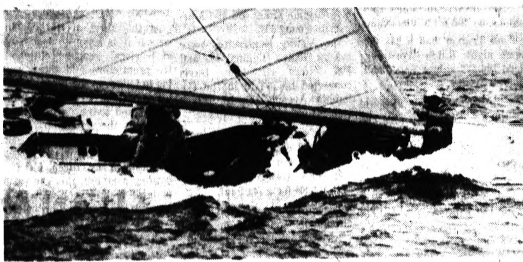

JUST NO RACE

David Thorpe, yachting correspondent of the Daily Telegraph called the 20 minutes, 24 seconds defeat staggering and added: "It was no use. It was just no race."

"This was the day they had been saying Sovereign was waiting for, a day for hearts of oak and good Clyde-side ships."

"But Constellation's American designer, Olin Stephens, had said that Constellation was primarily a heavy weather boat despite her prowess in light airs."

"He knew what he was talking about."

U.S. America's Cup Yacht Treats Challenger 'orrible

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — It was "orrible, absolutely 'orrible, what Constellation did to Sovereign."

And there is no let up on the horizon even though there will be no racing today at Sovereign's request.

Peter Scott, skipper of the Royal Thames Yacht Club's challenger, put it as well as any after Sovereign's disastrous defeat in the second America's Cup race Thursday.

TWO MORE

With Constellation now needing but two wins to retain the cup for the United States, what did he think of Sovereign's chances?

"Expect pretty much as you do. But, you know, hope springs eternal in the human breast and the final issue is decided after the fourth race, not the second."

Bob Bavier, Constellation's No. 1 boat steerer, politely chided: "We subscribe to that." But he had the look that if anything was worrying him, it had nothing to do with racing 12-meter sloops.

The victory margin in time was the widest margin since 1886 in the 19 challenges for the cup — 20 minutes and 24 seconds or about 2½ miles.

"I'm fond of understatements, but to think that I'm disappointed would be a major understatement," said Scott.

WIND BLEW

If the Gods of the sea are ever going to beam on Sovereign, it seemed they must have been doing so at the start of Thursday's match: The wind blew a chilly 21 knots from the southwest, the kind of blow the British yacht had been praying for.

What's more, Scott had the edge when the opening gun fired. He was up the line to windward although the defender from the New York Yacht Club might have crossed first.

Bavier played it safe, crossing several boat lengths to leeward to avoid Sovereign's backwind as much as possible. But after 20 minutes or so Constellation was not only upwind of Sovereign but a satisfying 200 yards in the lead.

From then on it was only a question of how much the white, 66-foot American yacht would win by.

Racing will resume Saturday, weather permitting. Sovereign is to have some sails recut and she will be out again this afternoon doing homework on spin naker drills.

It is about as wishful as the New York Mets printing World Series tickets.

Hockey Clinic Slated

NEW YORK (AP) — Muzz Patrick, general manager of the New York Rangers, has announced that a unique hockey coaches clinic, believed to be the first of its kind in the United States, will be held Oct. 28 in Madison Square Garden.

Leaf shots in the two periods he worked.

George Gardner, 21, the No. 2 goalie, the Wings selected when they let Sawchuk loose in the draft, yielded a third period goal to 19-year-old rookie Ron Ellis.

However, Larry Jeffrey, rookie Butch Paul, and Bruce McGregor, scored on Leaf veteran Johnny Bowes in the final period.

It was a rough game—11 penalties—but both clubs were in their passing. However, it was Detroit's first pre-season game and the fourth for the Leafs, who now are 2-2.

SPORTS

Hungry Chiefs Open on Road

Title-hungry Pontiac Central will kick off the 1964 Saginaw Valley Conference race on the road tonight, while Pontiac Northern is entertaining a non-conference foe at Wisner Stadium.

The Chiefs only SVC championship came in 1943, and they start their bid for a second tonight at Bay City Central, the favorite in the race this year.

The game is one of three on the SVC slate. Flint Southwestern opens at Flint Northern and Midland plays host to Bay City Handy. Saginaw and Saginaw Arthur Hill open the league schedule tomorrow night.

Central hasn't won a league tilt since its 20-14 triumph over Flint Northern in 1962. Since then, the squad has dropped 10 and tied one—the deadlock a 6-6 affair last season with Bay City Handy.

SIMILAR TEAM

The Chiefs will open the '64 campaign with much the same team that suffered through an 0-8-1 mark last season. Despite the record, the squad gained invaluable game experience, an asset which coach Paul Dellerba is counting on to move the Chiefs up a few notches in the long standings.

Pontiac Northern's Huskies will be looking for their second victory in a row over Troy when the Colts move onto the Wisner field at 8 p.m.

The Colts have a veteran ball club and are expected to give the inexperienced Huskies a stiff test.

Northern takes on Kettering next week and will open the Inter-Lakes League campaign against Farmington Oct. 2.

Other LL teams are also engaged in non-conference action. Walpole Lake takes on Royal Oak Kimball at home, Waterford travels to West Bloomfield and Farmington has an away date with Livonia Bentley.

Birmingham Groves will be looking for its first win over Birmingham Seaborn when the two meet at 8 p.m. on the Maples' field.

Athletic Head Named at U-D

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Calihan who will begin his 17th year as basketball coach this fall, was named athletic director at the University of Detroit Thursday.

Calihan, himself a star basketball player at U-D in the late 1930s, is the first athletic director at the university since Earl (Dutch) Clark retired eight years ago.

Calihan will continue to coach basketball.

WINNING RECORD

During his coaching career, Calihan's teams have posted a 227-189 record and participated in three national post-season tournaments.

The announcement of Calihan's appointment was made by U-D President, the Rev. Laurence V. Britt, S.J.

Father Britt said he felt the creation of the office of athletic director would provide for "greater coordination of all phases of the University's intercollegiate athletic program."

Tiger Manager Eyes Trade Market

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen admits that his immediate goal is to "foul up the Yankees in the final week of the season."

But next to that, Dressen has started to make a few plans for next year.

Though he hasn't been officially signed to manage during 1965, the feeling around Tiger Stadium is that Dressen and his entire coaching staff will be rehired.

Dressen was asked early this week what he felt was his No. 1 need for 1965.

He paused only a moment before answering: "A left-handed pitcher for the bullpen—and another left-handed starter if we can find one."

It doesn't take a baseball fan to realize that good left-handed pitchers are prized possessions by any club.

Mickey Lolich and Hank Aguirre are the only two presently on the Detroit staff. The best lefties among the farmhands are young Fritz Fisher, the former University of Michigan ace, and Dick Egan.

BIG ERA

But Egan's value is questionable since he had a 6.07 earned run average in 43 innings at Syracuse.

He doesn't know yet whether Johnny Saele, purchased from Syracuse Wednesday, will be any help.

Dressen does know that if he is going to get his left-hander—either as a starter or for the bullpen—he's going to have to shop around.

"We've got a couple of good players on that Syracuse team," Dressen said. "Maybe they're good enough to take over for some of the veterans we have now."

"Does that mean that you wouldn't be afraid to trade off some of your starters to get what you want?" Dressen was asked.

He smiled, but didn't answer. Outfielder Jim Northrup of

HOODWINKS DODGERS

Bobby Shantz, a mid-season buy, starred on the mound as the Phillies beat Los Angeles, 4-3, and cut their pennant-clinching number to 10 last night. Story on C-9.

U-M Displays Ground Attack

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan Wolverines displayed their ground game Thursday in their last scrimmage before their season opener, but only a select few were permitted to watch the workout.

Coach Pump Elliott again barred the public from the scrimmage. The intra-squad contest was a one-sided affair with the first-string Blues winning, 63-0.

Elliott said he divided the squads in such a way to give the offense a maximum workout.

All four quarterbacks competing for the number one spot — Bob Timberlake, Rick Volk, Pete Hollis and Wally Gahler — led the Blues to at least two touchdowns each.

First string center Brian Patchen was out with a heavy cold and may not practice for two or three days.

Tiger Manager Eyes Trade Market

Alma paced the Detroit-owned players on the Syracuse roster this year. He had a .311 batting average with 18 home runs and 92 runs batted in.

STRAIGHTENED OUT

Willie Horton, the pride of spring training and a lost after the season started in Detroit, straightened out and hit .292 with 28 homers and 99 RBIs.

Bill Roman, who is just itching to play first base for the Tigers, had 11 homers and 98 runs batted in while batting .281.

Bruce Brubaker paced the pitching staff with a 15-9 record and a 2.77 ERA. He struck out 131 and walked only 44 in 192 innings of work.

All four players have shown Dressen time and again that they are ready for big league play.

Hank Aguirre (5-9) is scheduled to start for the Tigers tonight when they open a three-game weekend series against Cleveland.

Yankees Hold Slender Lead After 6-2 Win

Bombers Trim LA; White Sox, Baltimore Tied for Second

By The Associated Press
Yoo hoo, Yogi, you can't be in first place. This is 1964.

Yogi, formally known as Manager Berra, and his New York Yankees clinaxed a 42-day drive to the top of the American League Thursday night with a 6-2 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

The victory lifted the Yankees two percentage points — .593 to .591 — ahead of the idle Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, who are tied for second.

With two fewer losses than the other contenders, the Yankees appear to be in a good position to capture their fifth straight pennant.

But besides the Orioles and the White Sox standing in their way, the Yankees are faced with the odds that they've never won the pennant in a year ending in "4."

STINGING ENDED

Yankee teams have finished second in four of the six years of that type in this century, but that's as close as they've come. Their second place finish in 1954 ended a string of five consecutive pennants.

The Yankees have 17 games in which to shatter that unwanted reputation while Baltimore and Chicago have 13 each in which to extend it.

All three teams play at home tonight with the Yankees hosting Kansas City, Baltimore engaging Los Angeles and Chicago taking on Washington. New York holds a 9-6 margin over the Athletics, the Orioles are 9-6 with the Angels and the White Sox lead the Senators 11-4.

NO OTHERS
The Angels-Yankees game was the only one scheduled in the AL Thursday night.

New York's latest victory came with a big help from the bullpen. Roland Sheldon rescued Matt Stottlemyre in the seventh inning after the Angels had scored two runs and had the bases loaded with one out.

Sheldon struck out pinch hitter Ed Kirkpatrick and got pinch hitter Felix Torres to hit into a force out.

Stottlemyre, now 7-2, had allowed only one hit through the first six innings. That was a hint given by Bob Rodgers in the fifth.

Mokey Mantle collected a single, a double and his 31st homer, a two-run smash in the seventh, for New York. His single in the sixth inning was the 2,000th hit of his major league career.

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Poland has been asked to replace Italy in the Olympic soccer tournament by the International Football Federation (FIFA). The Polish Football Association, however, is expected to refuse the bid, according to FIFA.

Pontiac Central came out on top, 46-0, in its only meeting with Windsor. The game was played in 1916.

PNH Harriers Top Barons; PCH Wins

Bloomfield Hills grabbed the first two places but fell victim to the depth of Pontiac Northern in dropping a 25-32 cross-country decision to the Huskies yesterday.

The Barons' Tom Kerney paced the field with a clocking of 18:54 followed by teammate John Benicic.

Northern took the next five positions. Tom Kaul was third, followed by Nick Ochoa, Bruce Gibson, Dave Kay and Bob Burch. The win was Northern's second of the season.

Bill Hollis paced Pontiac Central to a 21-36 win over Kettering at Beaudette Park, covering the two miles in 10:53. Bob Wiggins of PCH was second in 11 minutes followed by teammate Marty Acosta.

Frank Linamata of the Captains was fourth.

Oxford defeated West Bloomfield, 19-44, as Tom Swett of the Wildcats ran the Oxford course in 11:38. Falschinski of West Bloomfield was second in 12:08. Then came Jim Burr, Bud Gerow, Jim McGraw and Jim Bove of Oxford.

State Amateur Golfers Ousted in Tournament

Chuck Kocsis, Fred Kammer Drop Out in Quarter-Finals

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michigan's last two survivors in the National Amateur Golf Championship were knocked out of the running Thursday.

Chuck Kocsis, 51, of Royal Oak — who finished second in 1956 — dropped a 1-up decision to Dale Morey of High Point, N. C.

Morey, 43, was 3 up after 10 holes, with birdies on the seventh and 10th. Kocsis cut it to one with a birdie on No. 11 and a par on No. 15 and they halved the last three.

KRAMMER OUT
Also shunted to the sidelines was 42-year-old Fred Kammer of Detroit. He bowed to Don Allen, 26, of Rochester, N. Y., 1-up.

In one of today's 36-hole semifinals, Bill Campbell, the West Virginia gentleman with the Princeton degree, meets Mark Hopkins, a University of Houston junior.

Campbell is 41, playing in his 21st amateur, in the semis for the first time since 1949, and taking probably his last good shot at this title.

Hopkins is 21, so skinny his college chums say that he is all feet and follow-through, and hard to tell from his caddy.

In the other semi, Ed Tutwiler, a West Virginia car dealer now wheeling in Indianapolis, meets Dave Eichelberger, a student at Oklahoma State.

Tutwiler is 43, in his eighth amateur, and maybe getting his last crack at the title. Eichelberger is also 21, slight and a chipping fool.

ANNIVERSARY FEAST—Margo Demetres treats Chuck Beyette to a piece of anniversary cake during Wednesday night festivities at Sylvan Lanes. Cake was presented to her as Lakeland Ladies League president in recognition of the league's 25th year of bowling. Proprietor Art Rosner also gave cake to the Pontiac Social Bowlers League—of which Beyette is secretary—last week. Both leagues started in 1940 at the ill-fated Keego Harbor Spillway Lanes. The men's circuit still has three active charter members.

BOWLING

Merl Antis started the Pontiac Motor Inter-Office League off right last week at 300 Bowl with a 278-602 performance.

John Trainor had a 245 the same night, Ralph Armstrong fired 206-213 games and Cadel Burrell 216-200.

The St. Joseph Hospital League was paced by Moe Osterholt's 226-499. The Saturday night Ins and Outs reported a 202-504 effort by Lucille Myers, a 509 for Marie Reynolds, a 200 for Ray Brancheau and a 193-194-195 progression by Pete McClain.

Betty Smiley could grin over a 225-565 performance in last week's Airway Ladies' Major Classic Lorraine Cloutier had 200-542, Shirley Pointer 220-517, Virginia Miller 533 and Marguerite Young 533.

The Airway Keglerettes were led by Gladys Higgins' 207 and Pat Jeffers' 491. Jerry Davis converted the 6-7-10 in the Columbia Avenue Baptist Mixed loop Saturday.

Troy's Thunderbird Lanes had a 300 game Monday night in the Senior House League. Warren's George Sweet had 197-212-300 for a 709 total.

The Coffee and Doughnut Fun circuit at Orchard Lanes last week was treated to a 256-817 performance by Marion Sinko, and Irma Steed scored a 202.

Lakewood Lanes' Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church League recorded a 254-616 actual for Bill Webb last Thursday.

Proprietor Bill Kuklinski has a couple team spots in Mixed Couples handicap league for 9 p.m. Tuesday, and is looking for mixed doubles bowlers for a 10 a.m. league that same day.

Montcalm Bowling Centre Saturday night saw the Marimont Baptist Church League start with a 224 by E. A. Lundeen and a 221 by Bob Deudler.

Montcalm's Monday Morning Trio Men's League started play and Ed Stone hit a 222 game. "Lucky" Smith scored a 208. The league still has some openings to fill.

Huron Bowl's Wednesday Nite "A" League was paced by the Triple XXX team for the second straight week. Dick Childress had 611 and Mutt Morse 610.

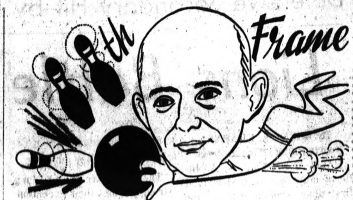

Gridiron Bar's eight-point sweep enabled it to tie for first with Triple XXX. Morse led the latter last week with a 633 as it took the lead first week.

Dominic Mazza rolled a high game of 258 Wednesday night for the Wolverine Entertainers. Last week's high series was Joe Foster's 658.

The Bowling Proprietors Association of America National All-Star eliminations for Michigan hopefuls will be coming up next month at several points around the state.

Pontiac bowlers are included in the Eastern Division which will bowl at Flint's Sky Way Lanes. The area includes Lansing to Port Huron and Pontiac to the Thumb.

Two modifications in this year's eliminations could make the road to Philadelphia and the National tournament a bit easier.

The winners at Flint — three men and two women — will qualify for the nationals, rather than having to compete additionally in Detroit. The Motor City this year has its own district, as do the Western, northern and southwestern portions of the state.

The eliminations, also, have a $1,500 prize fund this year in Flint. The entry fee is $50, a rise of $15 to facilitate the direct qualifying for the nationals.

The deadline for entering is a week from tomorrow, and blanks are available at all Michigan BPA establishments.

The bowling spread over three weekends, beginning the first weekend of October. Finalists will have bowled 36 games before reaching the last day's head-to-head competition.

Last year Mike Samardzic Jr. and Fred Carter qualified for the nationals BPAA All-Star in Dallas, which was finally won by Detroit's Bob Strampe.

TAKING ADVANTAGE
At this time of the bowling season it is easy to lose sight of bowlers' responsibilities to the proprietors and those waiting to follow on the lanes.

Friendships are being renewed and extra care taken to get off the right start on the scoreboard. This can often consume excessive time.

Multiplying by three for four bowling partners, this can result in hard feelings as well as financial loss for the proprietor.

Two of the prime delaying acts are (1) mingling with spectators and (2) clearing the approaches three or four lanes each side of a bowler.

Leagues that have agreed to bowl the early shift have the responsibility to finish by the time the next ones are scheduled. Leagues should be done with three games in 2 hours and 15 minutes, or 2.30 at the longest.

Unnecessary time spent on the approaches and working on the scoreboard when it is time to bowl are other unintentional time consumers that can be avoided.

Overcoming these delays now can result in much better cooperation some night when one group can not avoid taking a little extra time.

PBA Star Hardwick Shakes Off Slump

AKRON, Ohio — Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., just elected "Bowler of the Year," snapped out of a temporary slump in Tucson, Ariz. last weekend, finished fourth in a Professional Bowlers Association tournament there, and gained slightly on Florida's Bill Allen in their fight for money leading honors.

Mathis, who weighs 293 pounds, and nine other Olympic boxing candidates took decisions over their opponents in three, three-minute rounds identical to Olympic competition.

Titans, WMU Have Kentucky Arc Tilts; Wildcats Respected

By The Associated Press
The University of Detroit and Western Michigan head the list of 10 more Michigan schools which open their football seasons Saturday.

Three of the teams which started play last Saturday will be playing their second games. Detroit and Western Michigan both will be playing night games in Kentucky: the Titans against the University of Kentucky and the Broncos meeting Louisville.

SMALL COLLEGE

Small college action in the state has Michigan Tech at Ferris State, Parsons (Iowa) College at Northern Michigan; Taylor, Ind., at Hillsdale; Findlay, Ohio, at Hope; Manchester, Ind., at Alma; Anderson, Ind., at Olivet; and Northwood at Grand Rapids J. C.

Adrian is Defiance, Ohio, and Albion at Wheaton, Ill., in the others.

Detroit faces a tough task against the nationally-rated Wildcats at Kentucky, while WMU will be in its first game under Coach F. William Doolittle.

Michigan Tech, a 7-0 victory over Superior State Wis., last week, is expecting another close battle with Ferris. The Huskies defeated the Lower Peninsula rival 87 last year.

Ferris defeated Tech 41-0 in 1962.

SECOND CLASH

Hillsdale, surprised by Findlay last week, will be meeting Taylor for the second time in history. The teams first met in 1948 when Hillsdale took a 78-6 defeat.

Doolittle who will operate with a three-team type of play of the single wing offense, has two players on the doubtful list for the opener.

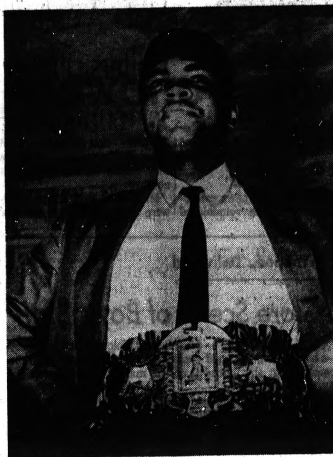

Sophomore tackle Ruddy O'Boyle may not make the trip because of a chronic sacroiliac problem and guard Dave Katt has a sore shoulder.

Albion, meanwhile, will be seeking revenge for the 14-6 defeat inflicted by Wheaton last year. Coach Morley Fraser has 28 letters on his 36-man traveling squad.

Northern Michigan, which upset Parsons 21-12 last year, expects to have another tough assignment. Parsons has 18 returning lettermen.

Midget Teams Opening Annual Grid Candy Sale

Players of the Suburban Midget Football Conference will begin their annual candy sale tomorrow in the campaign for funds to operate the 10-team, five-community league.

A two-week candy sale each September has supported the program for its eight previous seasons, although this is only the second year for the conference in its present arrangement.

Troy, Madison Heights, Royal Oak, Walled Lake and Keego Harbor (Lakeland Athletic Association) are the league members.

Boys 9-12 years of age participate. Each team (25 players or more) will spend about $70 per boy to outfit the players in proper equipment. Each unit has three teams—freshmen, junior varsity and varsity.

Pontiac boys are eligible to play for the Lakeland AA which plays its home games at West Bloomfield High School Stadium Sunday afternoons.

Winning is deemphasized in that league standings are not kept, no individual awards are presented, and there are no playoffs.

Each boy must play at least four consecutive plays per half and must rest at least four consecutive plays per half. The teams have controlled scrimmage games this weekend and next week start their six-game conference schedule.

College Teams Await Kick Off

By The Associated Press

Colorado and Southern California kick off the first full weekend of the college football season tonight, a weekend that has more toughs than traditional opening breathers.

The Saturday line-up offers Navy at Penn State, Syracuse at Boston College, Georgia at Alabama, Air Force at Louisiana State, Oklahoma at Maryland and Missouri at California as examples of major teams opening with important opponents. And Mississippi, picked No. 1 in The Associated Press' preseason poll, could have its hands full with Memphis State, a growing power ready to challenge Georgia Tech as the South's top independent.

FIRST ACTION

Southern California, co-favorite with Washington to make it to the Rose Bowl, starts festivities tonight against Colorado, the only major Friday night action and only the second major college game of the season.

UCLA opened the season with a 17-12 upset at Pittsburgh last week.

Halfback Mike Garrett, who paced USC to a 14-0 victory at Colorado last year, again is expected to lead the attack. Colorado lost only five men by graduation from the team that compiled a 2-8 mark last season, but is relying heavily on sophomores and is a three touchdown underdog. Mississippi is favored against Memphis State, but not too heavily. Ole Miss again sports a rock-ribbed defense, and has a score to settle with the oncoming Tigers, who held them to a scoreless tie last season.

RANKED NO. 2

Oklahoma, deep and tough, is ranked No. 2, and with quarterback Mike Ringer in good shape, is favored over Maryland. Terrin, Tom Nugent, however, is reminding people he has managed an upset in each of his 27 years as a coach.

One of the top attractions, and one of four regional television games, has 10th ranked Navy at Penn State. The Middies will rely heavily on quarterback Roger Staubach. Penn State is reported to have some thin spots, but is a very slight underdog to the team that was No. 2 in the nation last year.

The other regional TV games are SMU-Florida, Kansas State-Wisconsin and Stanford-Washington State.

Texas may not be quite as tough as the team that took the national title last season, but the Longhorns have their defense back virtually intact in this year of the near-two-platoon system and are heavily favored over Tulane.

Neither is ranked among the top 10, but the Missouri at California affair could be one of the more interesting. Missouri is ranked second only to Oklahoma in the Big Eight and has a revamped defense to test Cal quarterback Craig Morton.

MANTLE PIECE FOR MICKY — New York Yankee super star Mickey Mantle (right) holds bat which he used to record 2,000th and 2,001st hits last night. Manager Yogi Berra is also happy about the whole thing since Mantle's three hits included his 450th home run and paced the Bronx Bombers to a 6-2 victory over Los Angeles and first place in the torrid American League race.

Phillies Number Now '10'

Dodgers Counted Out of Race

By The Associated Press

The count has reached 10 for both the Philadelphia Phillies and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The National League-leading Phillies reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to 10 Thursday night while toiling 10 over the Los Angeles Dodgers, handing the defending champions a 4-3 defeat that mathematically eliminated them from contention.

The victory boosted the Phillies' bulge over idle, second-place St. Louis to 6½ games with 15 games remaining and left this magic number situation: Any combination of Phillies' victories or Cardinal defeats totaling 10 will bring Philadelphia its first NL flag since 1950.

HOLDING ON

The Cardinals, meanwhile, are holding onto second place by only one game over the Cincinnati Reds, who rode a three-homer salvo to a 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the only other NL game scheduled.

The Phillies got the job done against Don Drysdale with the aid of three errors that led to four unearned runs, tagging the Dodger right-hander with his seventh straight loss to Philadelphia. Drysdale has not beaten the Phillies since June 1, 1962.

Locked in a 3-3 tie going into the ninth, Drysdale started his own downfall when he hit lead-off batter Ruben Amaro with a pitch. Ron Fairly then added to Drysdale's troubles, grabbing a pop-out by John Briggs, then throwing wild to first in an attempt to double up Amaro.

Amaro reached second base on the play, moved to third on a single by Tony Gonzalez and scored as Richie Allen hit into a force play.

TWO ERRORS

The Phillies had scored three unearned runs in the first inning as Maury Wills made two errors, but the Dodgers got two back in their half against rookie Rick Wise.

Bobby Shantz then came on for the Phillies in relief and was touched for the tying run in the sixth on Tommy Davis' run-producing single.

Shantz, however, wound up with the victory — his first for the Phillies — as he checked the Dodgers on three hits in 7-2-3 innings before leaving for a pinch hitter in the ninth. Drysdale's loss was his 14th against 18 victories.

Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Johnny Edwards homered as the Reds built a commanding 7-1 lead going into the ninth. Jim O'Toole, meanwhile, had retired 22 Cubs in order after allowing a first inning run.

15TH VICTORY

John Boccabella's single, Andre Rodgers' triple, a single by Billy Cowan and Ron Santo's homer chased O'Toole.

Two Pros Share Lead in Portland Tournament

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Five months ago, Frank Beard was near death. Thursday he and powerful Jack Nicklaus were tied for first place in the $40,000 Portland Open golf tournament.

Both scored four-under par 68 in the first round for leads of up to four strokes over forty-three other players who matched or broke par on the 6,404 yard par 35-37-72 Portland Golf Club course.

Each had rounds of 33-35.

VIRUS ILLNESS

Beard, a bespectacled 25-year-old from Louisville, Ky., said a virus illness almost took his life in April and lingered for several weeks, delaying his return to form.

He is getting better. Beard has won $8,000 since July and won money in his last seven tournaments. His highest finish was two weeks ago when he placed sixth in the Dallas Open. "It's nice to be ahead for a change," said Nicklaus who got off to his best start in several weeks. He said he is determined to replace Arnold Palmer as the professional tour's leading money winner. Nicklaus has won $101,917 this season, compared to $110,748 for Palmer. Palmer is not competing in the Portland Open. Nicklaus can gain $5,000 with a first place finish.

SLOW PLAY

He won the Portland Open in 1962, despite a two-stroke penalty for slow play.

For a time Thursday it appeared that U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi would be the first round leader. He was four-under par on his first nine, but on the second nine he missed by inches numerous attempts at birdies and wound up with a 69.

With him were veteran Lorn Hebert, and three golfers who are little-known—Ron Letellier, Santa Monica, Calif., Jack McGowan, Largo, Fla., and Sonny Methvin, Baton Rouge, La. The field will be out to the low 70 scores after Friday's round and to the low 60 for Sunday's wrap-up of the 72-hole tourney.

Predicts Many Will Not Vote

Miller: 'Lukewarm' Followers in LBJ Camp

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller says people who tell pollsters they favor President Johnson are only "lukewarm" about him and may not bother to vote.

This will make the difference on election day, he argued Thursday, because — by contrast — those who favor Sen. Barry Goldwater are "feverishly supporting him with all their mind and body and soul."

The Republican vice presidential nominee developed this theme during a news conference in Columbus, Ohio, as he sought to discredit polls that show the GOP national ticket trailing the Democrats.

Later, he pressed his attack on the Democratic ticket before an enthusiastic crowd of about 3,300 delegates and spectators at the Ohio Republican state convention.

BLASTS HUBERT

He hit especially hard at Johnson's running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, whom Miller accused of practicing "deceit and evasion" in defending the Americans for Democratic Action.

Miller then flew to Chicago to address a breakfast meeting today of Illinois and Cook County Republican leaders and to attend a Roman Catholic Mass in conjunction with the annual Polish-American Congress.

He planned to move on to Erie, Pa., and wind-up today's campaign swing at Pittsburgh.

The New York congressman had been turning aside questions on public opinion polls by declaring that "the polls were wrong in New Hampshire, Oregon and California — and they are wrong now."

At the Columbus news conference, however, he volunteered this line — that the polls are not accurate barometers because they usually reflect only yes or no answers.

Miller said that voters rarely were enthusiastic over Johnson, saying such things as "isn't he a wonderful man — I think he's a great American."

Instead, he continued, people blandly say, "Well, he is there and times are good and we might as well keep him."

What Goldwater has going for him, Miller said, "is a tremendously dedicated, enthusiastic, hard-working group of people and this will make a tremendous difference on election day as to the number of people who will come out and will vote."

GOP VOTES

"You can rest assured that everyone in the country who favors Sen. Goldwater will be recorded on election. While the enthusiasm on the other side of the fence is a negative one, a lukewarm one."

Miller devoted much of his Ohio convention speech to disputing Humphrey's defense of the ADA on a television panel show Wednesday night.

Miller cited the ADA's 1963 platform to support his contention — denied by Humphrey — that the ADA favored admission of Red China to the United Nations.

He also quoted ADA Director Richard A. Lambert as having written in a 1962 letter that it was against ADA rules to reveal the names of members. Humphrey, until recently an ADA vice chairman, had disputed Miller's characterization of the ADA as a secret society.

Wrapped, Delivered

Store Scene of Boy's Birth

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Zenord Holcomb had her baby — a boy. Then the market cashier who helped deliver it did the logical thing: she placed it on the market scales for weighing.

The boy tipped the scales at 7 pounds.

Police said Mrs. Holcomb, 26, was cashing a check at the market when labor started. Before police or an ambulance could arrive, the child was on its way, assisted by Dorothy Childs, 29 the cashier.

The child was weighed and wrapped for delivery, with the mother, to County General Hospital when police arrived.

Grew Into Thorny Problem

Illegal Garden Saved

NEW YORK (U)—At the last moment today, the great government of the City of New York saved the crops.

A car sped to a city park to halt the plows before they turned over the corn, carrots and flowers a parks department employee had planted to teach children how things grow. A letter of praise for his work almost had him in the doghouse.

It was a tiny garden, but it was planted without permission and higher-ups in the department decided discipline was needed.

On reflection, however, department officials decided "We're going to let everything go until full maturity," a spokesman said.

END OF GARDEN

And when the crops come in, that will be the end of Paul Goluboff's garden in the park.

The bureaucratic wheels began to turn when Mortimer Todd, who lives across from a playground in the Bronx, wrote to the Parks department. "I want to commend one of your attendants for the initiative he has shown in planting vegetables and flowers in a small portion of the park, because of the reaction of my daughter and other children, which has been excellent."

Samuel M. White, the department's director of maintenance and operations, answered Todd's letter, saying he would pass the comments on to Goluboff.

He sent copies of this letter to Goluboff and Goluboff's father. At the end of all three copies there was this note to the foreman: "The motivation, while well intentioned, is contrary to department policy. Remove the garden prior to 8-18-64."

VIOLATED RULES

Goluboff and his foreman, Joseph F. Forshey, 60, have been ordered to a hearing and face possible disciplinary action for violating regulations.

Forshey said Goluboff had been authorized to grow ivy, but it wouldn't grow, so he planted vegetables and flowers. But Forshey failed to notify the head office.

"This," he said, "was a mistake."

Have Air Alarm in Indonesia

TOKYO (AP)—Sirens wailed in Jakarta today when unidentified airplanes were sighted in the vicinity of the Indonesian capital, Indonesia's Antara News Agency reported.

In a broadcast heard in Tokyo, Antara said:

"The sirens were sounded while Radio Republic Indonesia broadcast an official announcement by headquarters of the 7th sector of civil defense, Jakarta.

"All traffic was immediately stopped throughout the city and the people were asked to look for shelter. The capital in a few moments turned from a bustling world town into a silent town where all activities had stopped and vigilance was stepped up to the utmost."

This was "no air raid exercise," Antara said, "it was real."

The all-clear was sounded an hour and a half after the alarm, Antara reported.

A 'Jackie' of All Trades Can't Make Memory Work

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Beautiful Paula Stewart, wife of comedian Jack Carter, is getting a shot at Hollywood and TV as star material... and like many glamour stories, it happened strangely enough to seem untrue.

Her friend producer Sandy Howard phoned her one day:

"Paula, I need a babe for a movie who can ride a horse and a motorcycle, play golf and tennis, water ski, fly a plane, look good in a bikini—and do comedy. Know anybody?"

"Of course! Me!" said Paula. She got the part in "Diary of a Bachelor," opening just now in Hollywood. This week she was also on "On Broadway Tonight" on CBS TV, making her more important than anytime since she was Cupid to Lucille Ball and Gary Morton.

Flying topped most girl candidates for the part in the film. "I started flying at 16 in Chicago, and got my pilot's license at 17," says Paula. "My father, Dr. Walter Zimmerman, insisted that all his children, ex-wives and present wives, know how to fly. I have an instructor's rating."

Paula once took her husband Jack Carter up. His most memorable words were: "LET ME DOWN!"

Though she shoots around town on an Italian scooter or Japanese motorcycle, and even rides pedigreed horses, Paula has one weakness. She can't remember when she did all these things. Or any other things. I asked her when she did her flying.

"I think it was last spring but maybe it was a year ago last spring," she says. And, listen, don't ask her wedding date without giving her a little notice!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Frank Sinatra Sr. and Jr. will be in competition in Las Vegas in December—Sr. at the Sands, Jr. at the Flamingo... The newly wed and rich-Harry Lees showed up at Cavanaugh's in separate Rolls Royces; no family trouble—they just felt like traveling in different cars... A Broadway star held up the curtain of his show 15 minutes, till tickets were found for friends he'd invited.

The Animals flew back to London, but not till one of 'em (Alan Price) dated Princess Mary Obolesky... John Mills, still waiting for the liquor license so he can take over El Morocco, gave a plush party there for sociable Barbara Harrison... Greta Garbo's French Riviera villa (bought nine years ago for $45,000) is for sale for a mere $64,000.

Youth's Marriage Wish a Taxing Situation

AMPTHILL, England (UPI)—Christopher Kenna, who makes $117.60 a week as a carpenter, told magistrates here yesterday that his parents would not give consent to his marriage to 20-year-old Carole Gurr. Asked why he could not wait until his 21st birthday, for 10 weeks' time, Kenna told them, "I want to get the tax relief." The magistrates gave their consent.

'Miles Above Earth'

Satellite Hits Scored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today that two U.S. antissatellite systems have scored several successful interceptions of U.S. satellites up to "hundreds of miles" above earth.

Nikita Denies Weapon Can End All Life

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has denied that he said the Soviet Union had a new weapon that can destroy mankind.

Johnson Uses 'Advantage'

LBJ Talks Disclose Military Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, back from his first tour of the campaign season, has demonstrated again that the man in office usually has a built-in advantage over the man who wants his job.

McNamara gave a news conference additional details on the antissatellite systems which he said were announced in a speech yesterday at Sacramento, Calif.

The defense secretary said, "I'm under serious restrictions" as to what details he could give out either about the two satellite-killing systems or about a new over-the-horizon radar which Johnson also announced. Both, he said, "are very highly classified."

He did disclose that the antissatellite weapons employ the Air Force Thor missile and the Army Nike-Zeus antissatellite device.

McNamara said the Army successfully intercepted its first satellite on Aug. 1, 1963, and the Air Force on May 29, 1964 — in each case, a year after they were ordered to start work on the antissatellites.

He declined to discuss whether the warheads are nuclear or conventional, but indicated there was no actual physical intercept — that the satellite-killing warhead was measured as coming within lethal range of the satellite target.

He refused also to say anything about bases at which the antissatellite systems are deployed. He did not mention where the tests were held, but it is believed to have happened over the Pacific.

McNamara said both the antissatellite systems are derivatives of missile and antissatellite systems.

Police Hunting 2 Bandits and $120,000 Loot

Search for Gunmen Who Held Up WSU Cashier Last Night

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police were searching today for two gunmen who held up a late-working cashier at Wayne State University and took "approximately $120,000."

Police say the two got about $50,000 in cash and another $70,000 in checks.

Cashier Edward Bernier, 34, told police he was just about to leave his office on the first floor of the university's registration center around 8 p.m. when he was confronted by an armed man who held university guard Chester Olack, 47, in front of him.

The man threatened to shoot Olack unless Bernier opened the office, the cashier said.

Inside the office, Bernier said, he was forced to open the vault. The bandit took the money and had Bernier carry it out of the building in three university-owned leather suitcases and a blue mail sack brought by the bandit.

FORCED AWAY

A second armed bandit met the group at the front door, and the two university men were forced to accompany the robbers to a nearby parking lot, Bernier said.

There, the two men were released unharmed. The robbers fled in a car parked apparently around a corner, out of the victim's sight.

OU Will Request $9 Million for Expansion Plan

Planning funds for a proposed $25-million engineering building will be sought from the State Legislature by Oakland University next year.

The OU engineering building is part of a $9-million expansion package that will be placed before the legislature by Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees yesterday approved a total budget request of $2.2 million at OU for building expansion during 1965-66, including a $100,000 appropriation for the planning costs.

In addition, MSU will seek increased operating appropriations, including $467,000 for OU.

An OU spokesman said that the added operating funds would be used for faculty positions to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

King Weds His Princess as Millions Cheer Wildly

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine of Greece and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark wed today amid the Byzantine magnificence of the Greek Orthodox Church in a city wild with the cheers of a million people.

The cheering crowds, their massed voices often drowned out by cannons firing salutes, saw the handsome king, 24, and his 18-year-old bride only as they rode to and from the cathedral in an open, horse-drawn carriage.

Temperatures were in the 90s and many persons fainted in the heat and crush of the crowd.

Constantine and Anne-Marie — the world's youngest monarchs — made a picture couple. He wore a grand marshal's white uniform. She was striking in a long white satin wedding gown.

Anne-Marie had trouble with her lace-covered, white satin train getting in and out of the wedding carriages.

LACE VEIL

On her lovely blonde head she wore a lace veil. The veil flowed down her shoulders and for several yards down the train.

It was a spectacularly colorful ceremony, but it had its very human moments—when Anne-Marie giggled, and when Queen Mother Frederika came close to hitting Britain's Prince Charles with one of the two crowns used in Greek Orthodox weddings.

Charles did not duck, but he eyed the heavy crowns with concern.

CLASSIC GOWN

Anne-Marie's wedding gown was of Duchesse satin, in classic Greek style with a high waist and simple lines. The dress was gathered at the waist by an heirloom brooch, and the bosom was covered with lace that had belonged to her maternal grandmother, Crown Princess Margaret of Sweden, who had worn it at her wedding.

ROYAL CROWNING—Crowns are held over the heads of King Constantine of Greece and his bride, Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, during their wedding ceremony at Athens' Greek Orthodox Cathedral today. Prince Philip, husband of British Queen Elizabeth (background), was among European royalty attending the rites.

Pact Benefits Like Those in Chrysler Deal

Yule Bonus Added; Reuther Calls It 'Frosting on Cake'

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers agreed today on a new contract similar to that at Chrysler Corp. except for the addition of a Christmas bonus which UAW President Walter P. Reuther called "frosting on the cake."

The Christmas bonus will come from the supplemental unemployment benefit fund after the fund is fully paid up. Reuther said employees could get $25 to $100 each.

Reuther said the first bonus may be paid in 1965 and Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president and labor relations head, said this was "mathematically possible."

Denise, after a bargaining session lasting some 23 hours, announced the new contract contains substantially improved pensions, earlier retirement, more paid relief time, an additional week of vacation and two more paid holidays.

Other improvements, Denise said, include larger insurance benefits, fully company-paid health insurance for both employees and retirees, and increased severance pay.

55 MINUTES

Announcement of the Ford settlement came just 55 minutes before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

At the same time the threat of a strike of some 7,000 white collar workers at Chrysler plants in seven states was averted less than an hour before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

Douglas Frazier, who headed the UAW negotiating team, said the Chrysler settlement paralleled last week's agreement covering hourly rated employees.

Reuther and Denise agreed that a Christmas bonus was about the only economic differences from an agreement-in-principle Sept. 9 at Chrysler.

MANY DIFFERENCES

Denise said, however, that in noneconomic matters there were many differences.

Reuther said the Ford contract made a number of in-

Barry Attacks LBJ Spending

Joined by Thurmond in Visit to Texas

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater staging his first campaign foray in President Johnson's home state, charged today the Democratic chief executive is "the wildest spender of them all."

"The man who promised to give us millions is putting us deeper in debt by billions," the Republican presidential nominee declared in a speech prepared for delivery in this east Texas town.

With stops here, in Springfield, Mo., Evansville, Ind., and Charleston, W. Va., the Arizona senator winds up a four-day swing that has taken him into eight Southern states.

Beside him, before cheering Southern crowds, stood South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond, newly enlisted in the Republican cause.

SLAPPING

Slapping Johnson in his home territory, Goldwater accused the President of "campaigning for the presidency on the basis of two absolutely false claims."

He said the President claims his administration is cutting federal spending and holding down the government payroll.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Goldwater said. "This administration is trying to deceive the American people."

Under Johnson, he said, spending is going up and the federal payroll has mounted by 18,339 people.

SPENT MORE

"So far this year he has spent $10 billion a day more than was spent by President Kennedy," Goldwater said.

Executive Mute on Charge in Dentist Fatal Shooting

Wells S. Herrington, 45-year-old Stroh Brewery executive, yesterday stood mute on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting of a Birmingham dentist Wednesday.

Herrington was arraigned before Farmington Municipal Judge Sylvester Pheny after police said he admitted shooting Dr. John R. Foster.

The Farmington father of five is being held without bond in the Oakland County jail pending preliminary examination Sept. 25.

The shooting occurred at 10:58 p.m. Wednesday and was witnessed by Herrington's estranged wife, Betty.

The couple was attempting a reconciliation in an apartment which Herrington had rented when Foster tried to break in, according to Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin.

MOVED EARLIER

Mr. Herrington was living in the family's home at 3401 Grand River. Her husband had moved into the apartment at 3277 Grand River early in the week.

Templin said Mrs. Herrington had been dating Foster since March, when she said for divorce on grounds of "extreme cruelty."

Mr. and Mrs. Herrington said they were asleep when Foster arrived and tried to persuade Mrs. Herrington to leave.

Their daughter Danielle, 18, who had fallen asleep in a car in the parking lot, told police Foster grabbed the keys for the apartment from her and ran back upstairs.

CLAIMED YELLS

According to the Herringtons, Foster was yelling, "I'm going to kill you. I'm going to kill you," as he unlocked the door.

Herrington shot him twice as Foster entered. The 41-year-old dentist collapsed and died in the doorway. Herrington was picked up and held over by Farmington City Police.

COMFORT ACCUSED—Wells Herrington, Farmington father of five, sits with his daughter Danielle (left) and wife, Betty, yesterday after learning he has been charged with first degree murder in the shooting of Dr. John R. Foster Wednesday night. Herrington said Foster tried to break into the apartment where he and his estranged wife were attempting to effect a reconciliation.

Set Community Mental Health Service

The first contract in the state for community mental health services, in the form of expanded outpatient mental health care, is slated to begin Oct. 1 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, told the hospital board of trustees last night that an agreement is now being worked out with the County Mental Health Services Board.

He said that the hospital's new outpatient mental health clinic, now at seven hours a week, would be expanded to 24 hours on a three-month trial basis.

A budget of $30,000 has been submitted to the county board.

The expanded services would offer three psychiatrists, a psychiatric social worker, a psychologist and clerical help, all on a part-time basis.

STAFF PROVISIONS

Euler said staff people could be provided without any additions to the hospital staff.

Dr. Clare Gates, public health consultant for United Community Services and also part-time director for the county board, confirmed plans for the program.

However, he said nothing had been finalized yet. An agreement has to be worked out between the county and Pontiac General.

In addition, the county board must make application to the state for the outpatient program. Also, the mechanics of eligibility need to be worked out, he said.

Dr. Gates indicated that there is a provision for the program in the county's 1964 mental health services budget. He said it was the first service contract under consideration in the state.

Pontiac General Hospital initiated a one-day-a-week outpatient clinic in July, accepting walk-in and referral patients on an appointment basis.

The proposed 24-hour clinic, said Euler, would operate on a similar appointment basis. The clinic would furnish services to local residents who need psychiatric care and cannot afford regular medical fees.

Both Dr. Gates and Euler hoped that the clinic could be expanded to 40 hours per week by 1965.

CLAIM 7000 CHINESE

Die in Typhoon Ruby

MACAO (AP) — Arrivals from Canton said today more than 7000 Chinese were killed in Communist China's southernmost Province of Kwangtung when Typhoon Ruby swept up the Pearl River estuary Sept. 5.

The travelers said the typhoon caused widespread flooding and many houses collapsed. They said more than 800 were killed when a school dormitory collapsed near Canton. The reports could not be confirmed here.

provements in working conditions but created "no Utopia," Denise said. "I accepted as a realistic settlement."

Working conditions were a major point with the UAW. Both the Ford and Chrysler agreements provide for 36 minutes of relief time daily instead of the previous 24 minutes for each shift, in September of 1966. An additional two cents an hour will be added to the wage rate the same month.

NO INCREASE

There will be no general wage increase in 1964 but employees will receive an increase of about one per cent in take-home pay next month when the company starts paying the full cost of group life and disability insurance. Hereafter, workers have shared the cost.

The bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage in the automotive industry as a whole is $3.01.

Starting next November, Ford will pay the full cost of hospital-medical-surgical insurance for retired workers and their eligible dependents as it now is doing for active workers.

madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

Johnson announced that several nuclear weapons now are equipped with "permissive action locks" which he described as electromechanical units "which must be opened by secret combination before action is possible."

ROARING WELCOME

At Sacramento, Johnson got a roaring welcome from some 40,000 persons gathered on the state Capitol grounds.

He told the crowd in his speech from the Capitol steps that this is a united nation in an election year.

Johnson said "our only purpose still is peace," but should another nation employ armed satellites in space, the United States will be prepared and ready to meet them.

He said he wanted his voice heard around the world.

VISITS PLANT

The President visited the Aerojet-General Corp. plant near-Sacramento and watched the successful static test firing of a Titan 3 missile engine.

On his way back to Washington, he stopped at Salt Lake City and visited for about an hour with David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

"President McKay looked fine," Johnson reported after calling on the ailing 91-year-old Mormon church leader at his downtown apartment.

The chief executive returned to the White House early today.

Paper Unions Eye Proposals

'Binding Arbitration' Is One Suggestion

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of two striking craft unions today studied new proposals to end Detroit's 66-day newspaper shutdown.

One proposal called for "final and binding arbitration" on the issues which led to a strike last July 13 by Pressmen and Paper and Plate Handlers union workers at the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News. The proposal came Thursday from officers of the Detroit Newspaper Guild.

The second, not detailed, came from Gov. George Romney.

The Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents the News and Free Press in contract negotiations with craft unions, said last night it would agree to the Guild proposal.

The Guild is not involved in the strike.

DECLINES COMMENT

Freeman Frazee, president of Pressmen's Local 13, declined comment on the arbitration proposal.

Bart Piscatello, president of Platehandlers' Local 10, said he has heard of the Guild proposal and will study it. Piscatello's reaction to the statement was "maybe the publishers ought to negotiate with the Guild."

The newspapers in announcing acceptance of the arbitration said:

"In the public interest and the interest of the 4,100 employees of these newspapers, and their readers and advertisers, The News and the Free Press agree to this step in the hope that it will end the strike."

ACCEPT PROPOSAL

"If the unions will agree to return to work in order that publication can be resumed, the newspapers will accept arbitration on the basis provided in the international arbitration agreement between many newspapers in many cities and the international union of these two striking locals."

Gov. Romney met last night with leaders of both striking locals. It was the second effort in two days by the governor to end the strike.

Predictions Are Bright

"Grasses and legumes of the future will have multiple disease and insect resistance, high yielding capacity, be of superior quality, and will better withstand extremes of temperature and moisture," predicts Dr. Hugo Graumann of the Agricultural Research Service.

He says variety improvements have increased the value of alfalfa by millions of dollars and bacterial wilt resistance has added $100,000,000 a year to the value of alfalfa.

Spotted alfalfa aphid resistance has added $25,000,000.

Surprise Husbands

Women Plan Weekends

Home gardening has been steadily increasing in recent years throughout the country, partly because of the healthy new crop of homes — but also because of women.

"Women are the biggest and best buyers of growing plants and garden supplies," according to Lamar Little, F. W. Woolworth's horticultural buyer.

"It has been our experience that wives come in during the week and load up the car with gardening supplies of all types — seeds, plants and tools — with which they surprise their husbands on weekends," Little observed.

The selection of basic tools is a puzzling one for most women, especially when confronted with numerous items of equipment and about to engage in home gardening for the first time, he said.

The beginning gardeners of those with a tight budget should start with seven basic tools.

Little suggests a garden rake, preferably of the level-head type; a lawn rake; a six-inch hoe; a full-sized trowel with a three-inch-wide blade; a round-pointed long-handled shovel; a pair of professional pruning shears with overlapping blades, and a pair of grass shears. These are basic requirements, he points out.

When the home gardeners become more active and proficient she can add various specialty items such as a transplanting trowel; a three- or four-pronged cultivator (with a short handle for flower beds or a long handle for vegetables); a grass whip; a shaping fork, and a short handled, flat, square-edged spade that substitutes for an edging knife and sod lifter.

Beyond this, a gardener's tool requirements depend a great deal on soil and plantings. She might need a hedge shear, tree pruner, pruning saw or a tamper to press down small newly seeded patches of lawn.

Great care should be taken in selecting tools. Top quality tools are the best buy.

Good tools can be identified by their construction. Care should be taken to see that they are made of heavy metal with the head securely attached to a sturdy handle.

The connection between the tool head and the handle is an important spot to check, bearing in mind that a tool with a flimsy connection won't last when striking a stubborn rock or hard root.

Top quality gardening tools are really cheaper because they will last for several gardening seasons, the Woolworth buyer notes.

Scatter Calliopsis in Permanent Bed

One of the easiest of all flowers to grow is calliopsis.

There are both tall and short-growing varieties, both with flowers in shades of golden yellow, reddish brown and purplish brown.

Scatter the seeds where the plants are to grow.

Geraniums Are Summer Favorites

Professional growers, as fashion conscious as the new generation of plant lovers, have developed more than 30 new color varieties of geraniums.

These traditional summer favorites are finding increased popularity as summer plants because they withstand heat well in either indoor or outdoor locations, provided they are grown and kept in porous red clay pots, which give them ideal drainage and oxygen supply.
