

PRESIDENT

Sunset Terrace featured in Detroit News article

Artwork greets visitors to Sunset Terrace from the entry way.

📅 September 25, 2018

SHARE THIS STORY

The Detroit News featured Sunset Terrace, the Oakland University president's home, on the cover of the Friday, September 21, 2018 Homestyle section.

Reporter Maureen Feighan and photographer Daniel Mears shared through their words and images the history and influence behind the home. They also talked to President Pescovitz about what the home means to campus today as both a living quarters and gathering place for the president to welcome members of the campus and community.

See the full story and link to extensive slide show here:

Photos used on Oakland's website courtesy of Daniel Mears/Detroit News photo department.

