The preliminary examination of four men charged with conspiracy to gamble following a 1963 gambling raid in Pontiac was adjourned today in Municipal Court, to be continued at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Defendants Clotis Skelton, 51, of 33 W. Colgate; Ray Powell, 82½ Baldwin; Robert Barnett, 312 N. Saginaw and Ellis C. Adler, 1910 Hopefield, Orion Township, were all present at the hearing.

During the day testimony was presented by a state police detective who acted as an undercover agent prior to the July 19, 1963 raid on the Baldwin Rubber Tavern, owned by Skelton.

Testimony concerned events leading up to the raid.

The four men have been accused of running a bookmaking operation.

Grant Delay in Rezoning of City Land

A 30-day delay was granted a request to rezone land for a major commercial and residential development near the site of Pontiac's proposed osteopathic college.

The delay was granted by the City Planning Commission without considering the merits of the proposed rezoning.

Developer Charles L. Langs asked that the rezoning be tabled so that the feasibility of the proposed mobile home park could be studied.

Previously, Langs had asked for commercial-1, residential-3 and residential - 4 zoning for property bounded by Auburn Grand Trunk Western Railroad, Clifford and Reed.

Langs plans a shopping center, multiple housing project and trailer park on the 90-acre parcel.

Gunfire Jolts Racially Tense Louisiana City

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — This racially tense mill town, jolted by a flurry of midnight gunfire, girded today to ward off any trouble.

A block of Main Street, target for civil rights pickets, was barricaded. All vehicles were routed around the area. Pedestrians were not affected.

The gunfire came shortly after midnight at a Negro residence where two white civil rights workers have been billeted. Apparently no one was hit.

William J. Yates, 37, of Buffalo, N.Y., a Congress of Racial Equality project director, described the shooting as a clash with the Ku Klux Klan, which has been active in this southeast Louisiana area.

8 SHOTS
Bogalusa police said about eight shots were fired, all from the Negro home. No bullet holes were found in the house.

At Baton Rouge, Gov. John McKeithen said he talked with Bogalusa authorities and was told there was no gun battle.

"It was obviously an effort by these paid, professional agitators from the North and the East to come into our state and create an incident where they can get publicity and raise more money," McKeithen told newsmen.

In Yates' version, groups of cars sped by the house, with men inside shooting at the house through the car windows.

NEGRO'S STORY
His host, Robert Hicks, a 38-year-old Negro, saw things differently.

"This car came by and somebody threw a brick through the back window of the station wagon parked in front," he said. "I ran out on the porch and, blam, there was a shot from the car. I snatched out my gun and fired twice."

"Some of the other men fired."
"But it was dark," he added. "I don't think anybody was hit. I hope nobody was hit. I don't want to hurt anybody."

Hicks said there was only one car involved in the shooting, although he said others had driven by the white frame house earlier.

Cat Burglar Strikes Again

A cat burglar crept into the bedrooms of two Birmingham homes early this morning to steal money while the owners slept.

Apparently the same man broke into the homes of Hugh Diamond, 2247 W. Maple, and Emerson Goetz, 100 Sufferd, according to Birmingham police.

They said the incidents were similar to a rash of unsolved cat burglaries reported last summer in Birmingham and Bloomfield Township.

The break-in at the Diamond home was reported at 3:45 a.m. and the other less than an hour later.

an accident involving one of his sons and the butt of a toy gun.

He also implied that a defective appliance may have caused the blaze, stating he had been having trouble with a hot water heater in the basement.

Direct examination was expected to continue today. Cross-examination by assistant prosecutor James Roberts was scheduled to follow.

Bozo the Clown to Make a Return Visit

BIRMINGHAM — The Community House has planned for Saturday the last of this year's shows for children.

The show is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in the center's auditorium.

Bozo the Clown, who charmed a capacity audience at the Community House once before, will return to the stage for youngsters unable to get tickets for his original appearance.

An added attraction Saturday will be the Mechanical Man.

FULL OF SURPRISES
Life-size, life-like and full of surprises, the metal masterpiece performs some eye-blinking antics, including stunts which defy gravity.

Punky the Child Clown also will be on hand to entertain the youngsters.

A staff of adult chaperones also attends each of the shows which pack the auditorium.

Tickets for the event now are on sale at the Community House, Bates and Townsend.

The kite contest scheduled for last Sunday at Derby Junior High School was postponed a week because of the weather and wet field conditions.

All children five through 12 years of age should report to the Derby athletic field at 8 p.m.

Kites will be judged in three categories — most beautiful; most unusual and highest flying. All kites in the first two categories must be homemade.

The possibilities of spiritual power will be explored at a public Christian Science lecture here Sunday.

Georgina Tennant of London, England will speak at 3:30 p.m. at Derby Junior High School under the sponsorship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Tentative Budget Set for County

FIGURES COMPARED
Expenditures in the tentative budget of $3,660,940 for non-departmental appropriations and $8,123,502 for departmental operation compare with expenditures of $3,235,059 and $6,557,707 respectively in the current budget.

Major increases in departmental expenditures in the 1956 budget include $1.6 million for social welfare, $80,075 for child care and $61,232 for circuit court.

Main non-departmental increases are $75,000 earmarked for payment of medical care for tuberculosis patients sent outside the county and $52,000 for Social Security.

County auditors have termed the proposed budget necessary to meet needs of the county.

that in Oakland County all members of a family can be placed in one building, while in the Wayne County facilities restrictions are imposed.

She explained that Kiefer takes no children and Maybury accepts no women patients.

Another disadvantage of the Wayne County hospitals cited by Mrs. Dodd is the fact that patients are granted no leaves.

Loss of the Oakland County facility also might pose the problem, she said, that persons who feel they might have the disease would be afraid to have a chest X-ray for fear of being sent to the Wayne County hospitals.

Sale of the county TB facility to Oakland Community College was approved last January by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors will decide Tuesday whether to accept a board of institutions recommendation to send patients out of the county, or to house them in the county's medical care facility.

3-Year-Old Struck by Car Is Critical

A 3-year-old girl is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being struck by a car yesterday afternoon.

Linda Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibbs, 2915 1/2th St., was struck as she and her sister, Lorene, 8, ran across Oakland into the path of a car.

The driver of the vehicle, Archie Hill, 32, 52058 Fayette, Rochester, said the two girls ran into the road from in front of a stopped bus.

Troopers Nab 15,153

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report they made 15,153 arrests in February, 13,242 for traffic offenses and 1,189 on criminal complaints.

Police cars traveled 13 million miles during the month; and troopers assisted 4,952 motorists.

Bozo, who has literally pocketful of tricks and treats, always includes some of the youngsters in the audience as part of his stage act.

Display Easter Seal Progress

Area residents will have an opportunity to see some of the progress being made by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults Saturday at the Pontiac Mall.

Representatives of the society and children being treated for cerebral palsy will be at the Bond Clothing Store.

As a part of the Easter Seal drive, Bond stores throughout the country have window displays featuring caricatures of numerous famous people aiding in the drive.

The Oakland society provides cerebral palsy training programs for pre-school children, craft and recreational programs for adult handicapped, braille and craft for the adult blind, physical and occupational therapy for the homebound, physical and speech therapy for children and summer camping for youths.

The annual Easter Seal appeal is the major source of support of a $22-million nationwide direct service program for crippled children and adults.

More than 90 per cent of all funds are retained within the state in which they are raised.

Travel Tax Not Way to Stem Gold Outflow

The proposal that a tax, in the neighborhood of $100, be imposed on all Americans going abroad, as a means of easing the balance of payments problem, has been given considerable attention. Opposing it, however, comes this report from Washington: "...the State Department, along with Federal Reserve Bank Chairman WILLIAM MCCHESENEY MARTIN and other monetary experts, quickly argued that such a move would be ineffective as well as political dynamite. There is only a bare chance that such tax may be imposed."

We hope this will prove correct. The arguments against a travel tax are overwhelmingly strong. Its effect on the balance of payments situation would be extremely small at best.

And it would be a form of class tax. The well-to-do traveler would not be seriously affected. But it would be a real burden to the growing numbers of people of modest means who now, in this jet age, are able to see some of the world outside our own borders.

It would fall with particular weight on the legions of young people who now travel abroad on skin-tight budgets and must make every dollar count.

It would be in direct contradiction, also, to the principle underlying the government-supported People-to-People program, which has the laudatory aim of encouraging peoples of all nations to learn more about each other, as a means of building world understanding and peace. An essential part of such a program surely, is the stimulation of travel.

The travel tax idea is wrong on every count.

Still 'Unemployment' as Jobs Go Begging

There is no doubt that Washington officials make unemployment statistics as accurate as the present state of knowledge and built-in vagueness of the term permits. But it is hard to understand where the 4 million or so Americans listed as "unemployed" may be found.

While the AFL-CIO presses demands for a 35-hour work week and double-time penalty on overtime to "make employment," there is increasing difficulty in finding men and women to fill job openings.

Recently the Wall Street Journal reported on the difficulties employers in a number of areas are having in finding skilled, semi-skilled and even unskilled labor. Costly overtime is being worked in a number of industries due to the lack of applicants.

This is not, apparently, a situation confined to a few sections of the Country. West Virginia has been held up for some years as an example of a "depressed area" in which jobs must be created. But Democrat Sen. JENNINGS RANDOLPH of that state reports that not enough workers can be found to harvest its $20 million apple crop, even with the help of Labor Department recruiters in other states.

Similar stories are being spread on the Congressional Record involving many states in all parts of the Country.

When the Brooklyn Navy Yard closing was announced, job offers for even the unskilled poured in, in many cases from employers "hundreds of miles away."

These bits of evidence, coupled with the pages of Help Wanted advertising in so many papers all over the Country, cause one to wonder how we are to go about curing unemployment if having jobs open and available won't do it.

Act on Impulse Avoid Remorse

Could Make Dreams Real

One of the classic bits of tragic reflection lies in the quote: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—"it might have been."

And what could be sadder for you than to have talked about this Annual Press Baseball Contest, expressed the view that Joe Zlich would be the winner with an average of .491, but didn't quite get around to take pen in hand and relay the intelligence to the contest judges via an entry.

And then—oh, woe is me—found that on the morning of May 17 the leading American League batter was indeed Joe Zlich? ... and to add direct to sadness, that his average was—you guessed it—.491.

Couldn't happen to you, eh? Well, one way to find out is NOT to pen your contest words on an entry for all the judges to see.

Well, let's get on to more pleasant things—like what you would do with the $500 U.S. Savings Bond award which you just might fall heir to.

Of such stuff are dreams made, but you wouldn't have to be asleep to dream about this. It could induce wonderful daydreams.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME

and don't forget, by following the letter of the rules below—submitting entry on a Press form stuck to a card—the winner will receive an extra $50 bond. This is just for aiding the cause of conformity in entries and giving judges an assist in expeditiously sorting them.

BUT—don't get stuck out by good intentions. Entries must be at the newspaper by Monday noon, April 12. They may be mailed or left in The Press Huron Street drop box. Delivery by St. Bernard might prove ill-advised—especially if the courier cut got to nipping at the bottle of brandy that's standard equipment on St. Bernards.

As Confucius said, "Man with late Baseball Contest entry like maiden left waiting at altar—both diamond discards."

CONTEST RULES

1. Everyone is eligible to enter contest except Press employees and members of immediate families.
2. All members of families may submit entries, but are restricted to one each.
3. LEADING BATTER must be the AMERICAN League player, officially at bat 50 or more times, with his league-leading average, when contest closes with completion of Sunday, May 16, games.
4. Deadline for entries is noon, April 12, and they must be on hand at The Press. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.
5. Affix entries or facsimiles on cards (please do not enclose in envelopes) and address to newspaper's Baseball Contest. They may be mailed or deposited in Pontiac Press Huron Street drop box.
6. Entries will not be disqualified should players change clubs after submission.
7. Decisions of judges will be final on all questions relative to contest.

In Washington:

New Theory of Red Containment

By RAY CROMLEY

Behind the scenes, a new policy of Communist containment seems to be developing in the U.S. government.

It would be applied to young and expanding Red countries—such as Communist China, Indonesia, Cuba.

The new "containment theory" holds that if these countries could be restrained by military-economic sanctions—and kept from expanding for a period of years as they develop internally—two things would happen:

First—Their developing economies would urgently begin to require Western markets and access to Western materials and technology.

Second—As the original generation of revolutionaries died off, it would be replaced by more conventional bureaucratic officials and managers. The economic elite which developed would be more interested in improving internal economics and their own positions, less interested in adventuring internationally.

In large part this containment theory has grown out of some government policymakers' interpretations of U.S.-Western experience with the Soviet Union.

One government study asserts: "Any technically advanced, productive economy depends on the creation of international economic order because the scientific and industrial revolutions cannot proceed without markets wide enough, stable enough and wealthy enough to absorb the output of mass production."

"The Soviet Union is (already) discovering that future progress is dependent on responsible trade."

"Just as the Soviet Union may have in part responded to (this) need for Western goods by encouraging an atmosphere of détente (etc.), so may similar pressures yield comparable results with nations such as the Chinese People's Republic and Indonesia, which currently ignore the normal ways of the international world."

"Such pressures can, of course, drive these outlaws to further violence and aggression. "But if the violence can be deterred or contained, the only other alternative for these nations would appear to be to learn how to live up to international obligations."

The study goes on to suggest that "the rise of a modestly prosperous managerial class in some of the older Communist countries is resulting in a diminution of ideological—revolutionary ardor."

This containment theory is not official policy. It is now being argued back and forth among policymakers at the State Department and the Pentagon.

Unfortunately, theories in international affairs are not like those of chemistry or physics. There's no practical way to conduct laboratory experiments to put these theories to the proof.

The Cuba episode might indicate, for example, that Russia has not become less adventurous.

Johnson Took Softer Line on Viet Nam Peace Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—It is President Johnson who is pleading for a discussion to end the fighting in Southeast Asia, not the North Vietnamese who have been bombed for two months by American planes in an effort to pressure them into seeking peace.

They've endured the battering and given no public indication of asking peace.

In making his plea, in a nationwide broadcast from Baltimore last night, Johnson took a softer line than his administration has been following since Feb. 7 when Red guerrillas attacked an American air base and Johnson ordered bombing.

This shift in position came one day after the Associated Press reported 50 per cent of the people in South Viet Nam are sitting on the fence, supporting neither their American-backed government nor the Red guerrillas.

Johnson's shift of position can be seen by comparing what he and his administration had said before with what he said last night.

KEY TO SITUATION

After Johnson ordered the bombing to begin Feb. 7, the White House issued a statement which said in part: "The key to the situation remains the cessation of infiltration from North Viet Nam and the clear indication by the Hanoi regime that it is prepared to cease aggression against its neighbors."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk later repeated that position.

Although Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara yesterday said the military situation in South Viet Nam has become increasingly serious this past year, Johnson Wednesday night made this offer:

"Unconditional discussion" with the North Vietnamese Reds.

His aides, who said there was no indication from the North Vietnamese that they were interested in worthwhile discussion, said Johnson meant the United States would talk even with the fighting going on.

ACCEPTED APPEAL

In taking this position last night Johnson was actually accepting an appeal made April 1 by the heads of 17 nonaligned states for immediate negotiations "without any pre-condition" for a solution to the war.

At the time they made the proposal Rusk was reported by authoritative sources as informing the group that peace in Viet Nam could be restored "very quickly" if Communist aggression ceased.

The only condition that Johnson suggested Wednesday night was that there should be no pre-condition.

Independent Proprietors Oppose Short Workweek

The Nation's independent business proprietors overwhelmingly oppose any Federal legislation to reduce the workweek. In a nationwide ballot on H.R. 1149 to reduce the normal workweek under the Wage-Hour law to 37½ hours in 1966, and 35 hours in 1967, the vote in opposition was 90 per cent with 9 per cent in favor and 1 per cent undecided.

The Federation also asked the independent businessmen what their plans would be under a reduced workweek. Some 19 per cent say they would hire more employees and 26.8 per cent say they would pay overtime rather than hire additional people. The balance would curtail use of manpower to avoid either employing more people or paying overtime.

'Foxes Do Less Damage Than Hunters'

I'd like to take issue with Mr. Hicks on his support of the Senate bill to allow hounds to run early in the spring and at night. More damage is done to farmers' fields and livestock by hunters and their dogs than could ever be done by foxes.

Foxes rarely bother livestock and never hurt people unless cornered and attacked. They are valuable for keeping down the rodent population. And what use do fox hunters make of their quarry? The fur is so mangled it is useless, and the foxes cannot be eaten.

So, fox hunters, keep your hounds home and let the rest of us enjoy an occasional glimpse of that rare, beautiful creature, the fox. I prefer him to you.

Says Socialism Can Prevent Destruction

In the fierce economic struggle raging between American capitalism and the political despots of Russia and China, the Socialist Labor Party of America finds itself in an unenviable but correct position.

The only solution which can prevent world destruction is the international application of the Socialist Industrial Union program discovered by Daniel DeLeon, America's foremost Socialist theorist.

Comments on Naming City Police Chief

How could City Manager Warren appoint Mr. Hanger as police chief when he is not a resident of the City of Pontiac? At a salary of $11,000 annually, I wonder how much he and his wife will spend in Pontiac.

They are working on a nine point program of wage and fringe benefits for city employees. I say let them have some of the benefits, but let them move into the city and help pay for them.

TAXPAYER FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Congratulations are in order for City Manager Warren for naming Mr. Hanger permanent police chief. Now the only justice thing to do would be to bring his salary up to that of the traffic engineer.

State Has Annual Daylight Savings Time

Of course we shouldn't go on daylight savings time. We're there already. Many years ago when Michigan was on Central time as the map indicates it should be, Detroit flipped in a desire to ape New York. Detroit adopted eastern time year around and Michigan followed suit.

For a few years, when New York went on daylight savings time, in the summer, Detroit blindly followed suit. Thus Michigan was two full hours off the clock. It caused some business trouble and the farmers were loud in their protests and they should have been. The fields were wet with dew at ten o'clock.

After an unhappy spell of that, Michigan quit going on double daylight savings time in the summer but remained year around on straight eastern time which is annual daylight savings for a mid-western state.

WAKLEY SUMMATRA

Why can't Michigan go along with her neighbor states and have daylight saving time? Men who work in factories and offices could use the extra daylight for summer recreation. When we had daylight time it was wonderful to have long, light evenings to garden and picnic.

YOUR COUNTRY COUSIN

I agree we should leave the clocks alone. I understand we set our clocks ahead a long time ago and left them there to avoid the constant change. If someone wants to get up an hour earlier, more power to him, but leave the clocks and the rest of us alone.

More Views on Sale of TB Sanatorium

It is easy for people who are not directly involved with the sale of the TB Sanatorium to criticize the board of supervisors. The action taken by the board was based on information presented by the chairman of the board of auditors, Dan Murphy, who was responsible for coordinating the facts.

The board acted with the understanding that the patients would be taken care of in Oakland County.

PUT THE BLAME WHERE IT BELONGS

It is difficult to believe that the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium is gone with the perfect environment, wonderful care and deep concern for each patient so necessary for this disease. The well-being of the patients seems to be of least importance.

Why the sudden stoppage of work on the wing at the Medical Care building, with no explanation, and no comment on rebuilding in Oakland County for the tubercular patients?

Mekong River Project Joins Rival Nations

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The development of the 2,600-mile Mekong River—urged last night by President Johnson—is one of the few projects in Southeast Asia on which rival nations are cooperating.

Working under U.N. sponsorship, 21 nations are teaming up to harness the great river's potential for the benefit of nearly 50 million people.

The nations include South Viet Nam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand. South Viet Nam and Thailand are Cambodia's traditional enemies.

Johnson, in his major foreign policy speech last night, said the Mekong could "provide food and water and power on a scale to dwarf even our own TVA."

Rising in the mountains of Tibet, the great river empties into the South China Sea south-east of Saigon. It drains a basin of 81,000 square miles—nearly as much as Texas and New Mexico—which includes most of Cambodia and Laos and about half of South Viet Nam.

PROJECT SERIES
The U.N. development project calls for construction of power plants, dams, experimental farms and irrigation programs in the vast area inhabited by some of the world's poorest people.

Two irrigation and power dams on tributaries in north-east Thailand will be completed this year. One, at Nam Pong, cost $21 million. The other, at Nam Pung, cost $6 million.

Canada spent $1.3 million for aerial mapping of the river. The United States spent $2.5 million for a survey for a huge dam across the Mekong at Pa Mong. It may cost $400 million but would irrigate 2.5 million acres.

So far, $68 million has been pledged or spent by various countries for development of the Mekong. Dr. C. Hart Schaaf of Fort Wayne, Ind., executive agent of the International Mekong Committee, estimates that $2 billion will be spent by 1980 on dams, power installations and irrigation works.

MORE CROPS
Harnessing the lower Mekong would make it possible to grow two or three rice crops a year instead of one.

People in the area would have cheap, plentiful electricity in place of the present costly power generated with imported fuel.

EUGENE R. BLACK

Banking Expert Aid Team Head

Loaned Out Millions
as World Bank Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eugene R. Black, who will head a team of distinguished Americans helping to formulate an expanded international development program for Southeast Asia, is an old hand at dealing with big figures.

For 13 years he headed the World Bank, which has lent millions of dollars to underdeveloped nations. Before that he was a senior vice president of the Chase National (now Chase Manhattan) Bank of New York.

President Johnson proposed Wednesday night that the United States contribute $1 billion to aid development of Southeast Asia and said Black would head U.S. participation in the enterprise.

The U.N. Special Fund, of which Black is a director, is already at work on planning development of the Mekong River region of Southeast Asia —

JOIN IN EFFORT

And Johnson also said "I hope all other industrialized countries — including the Soviet Union — will join in this effort to replace despair with hope and terror with progress."

Appropriately, Black is a long-time advocate of multinational international development programs.

Also mentioned in Johnson's speech was U Thant, who has been secretary general of the United Nations since 1962 and is known for his penetrating understanding of Asian problems.

He was Burma's chief delegate to the United Nations before he was elected secretary general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjöld. Before that, Thant, 56, was a schoolteacher, Burma's director of press and radio and secretary to the Southeast Asian nation's prime minister.

BANKING FAMILY

Black comes from a Georgia banking family. His father, Eugene R. Black, after a successful career as a lawyer, became president of the Atlanta Trust Co. and later governor of the Federal Reserve Board in Atlanta and Washington.

Born in Atlanta May 1, 1898, the younger Black joined the Atlanta office of a New York investment house (Harris, Forbes & Co.) after World War I and rose to assistant vice president before the firm was dissolved in 1933. He then joined the Chase Bank as a second vice president, rising to senior vice president in 1937.

In 1936 Black accepted appointment as undersecretary of the Treasury. But he was released from his acceptance when he found that the post entailed financial sacrifices he felt unable to make.

Black was named by President Harry S. Truman as U.S. executive director of the World Bank in 1947.

Labor May Probe False IUE Vote Count

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO may revive its long-dormant ethical practices committee today to investigate the phony vote count in the race for president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

AFL-CIO President George Meany was expected to get backing from the federation's executive council if he wants to start organized labor's own inquiry into the false results submitted by union trustees.

After the Labor Department disclosed the irregularities in the mail balloting, IUE President James B. Carey resigned and the union's executive board unanimously chose Paul J. Jennings of Newark, N.J., to replace him.

Meany placed the issue at the top of the council's agenda once he got word Monday that a Labor Department recount showed Carey had lost to Jennings in the recent referendum by 23,316 votes.

Union trustees faked the tally to make it appear that Carey won a narrow victory, the federal investigators said.

QUITS POST

Carey said yesterday, after quitting his $25,500-a-year post, that he hoped the AFL-CIO, the Labor Department and the courts would delay further intervention until the IUE executive board looks into the situation.

Carey, an AFL-CIO vice president and council member, has denied any wrongdoing in the election.

Jennings, who had filed a lawsuit demanding that he be installed in office with back pay to Jan. 1 when Carey started his new term, said last night he would drop the litigation. He also promised to work for unity in the IUE and said he would not hold grudges against Carey backers. The AFL-CIO ethics committee is headed by Al J. Hayes, retiring president of the International Association of Machinists, and includes four other AFL-CIO vice presidents.

Auto Engineers Testify on Curbing of Air Pollution

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine introduced the auto smogbill on Wednesday to find out what car makers think of his proposed legislation aimed at cutting down on air pollution by motor vehicles.

The top engineering brass of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors testified at a one-day hearing, along with Harry A. Williams, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Their story was pretty much the same—that they share the Maine Democrat's concern over air pollution and that their companies are engaged in massive research projects to do something about the problem as it relates to motor vehicles. One of the biggest questions was whether exhaust control devices which the industry will install on most of the 1966 model cars it will sell in California have nationwide possibilities.

DETROIT HEARING
The Detroit hearing was part of a three-day inquiry into the problem currently under-way by Muskie's subcommittee on air and water pollution. The final session was to be held in Washington today. The auto spokesmen made two major points:

1—that it is difficult to determine the need for nationwide car exhaust devices until more and better data is available from government agencies on the amounts of air pollution in various parts of the country.

2-YEAR TESTS
2—that at least two years will be required to make comprehensive tests and adjustments on the exhaust devices which will be put into use in California this fall. Herbert L. Misch, Ford vice president engineering, told the subcommittee: "Although we have an extensive testing program under way now for California on 1966 models, we would need one year's field experience with production cars. Following this, we would need at least an additional year to incorporate the indicated improvements in design and to tool up for it."

"We think it is up to the Congress to make the decisions. Our engineers are not so convinced at the moment."

FEDERAL STANDARDS
Sen. Muskie has introduced legislation to establish federal standards for allowable emissions of unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide by gasoline-powered vehicles. The industry spokesmen agreed with Muskie's suggestion that the main problem in autos was safe disposal of the hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide which now are emitted from exhaust pipes. The most commonly suggested device, and the one which will get the biggest test in California in the fall, provides for injecting air into the car exhaust system where gases are the hottest.

To some industry claims that the problem had been eased by the 1963 installation of a crankcase system to cut down on exhaust fumes, Muskie said, "We are still interested in preventative medicine. We want to do something more about the problem before surgery is required." Muskie at his formal hearing had no luck in finding out from the individual companies what they propose to charge for the exhaust devices in California. Harry F. Barr, GM vice president engineering, reminded

Muskie that the "auto companies traditionally do not discuss prices until the new models are introduced." Earlier Williams said in his prepared statement that the minimum price for the unit and installation thereof would be $50 with a minimum annual maintenance cost of $49.63. Some sources expressed doubt that motorists, with the exception of the Los Angeles area which had a smog problem, would want to pay that much to leave a stream of relatively clean air behind them as they drove down the highway.

Static Blocks Assessment of Orbited Engine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists attempting to assess the performance of a tiny electric rocket engine orbited Saturday from Vandenberg Air Force Base are being frustrated by static in telemetry transmissions.

Called an ion engine, the 2.2-pound space vehicle is powered by a small nuclear reactor, Snap-10A.

The ion engine represents an advanced propulsion concept that could operate continuously in deep space flight to provide accelerations up to 10,000 m.p.h., technicians say.

Air Force spokesmen said Wednesday that the engine went through a warm-up sequence on command Sunday but that subsequent static in the telemetry system has made analysis of its performance impossible.

Table Listed for Sales Tax

1964 Income Levy

For use by those Michigan taxpayers who still face the task of completing their 1964 federal income tax returns, R. I. Nixon, Detroit district director of Internal Revenue Service, again issued a table for the Michigan state sales tax.

Nixon emphasized that the table has been revised and that any chart issued or published last year should not be used in preparing 1964 tax returns.

This table may be used as a guide to arrive at the average amount of Michigan state sales tax of 4 per cent which may be claimed as a deduction in the absence of definite proof of payment.

Nixon pointed out that the table takes into consideration taxes paid on the purchase of large household items, but does not include either gasoline tax of 6 cents per gallon or the sales tax on the purchase of an automobile.

These items must be itemized separately and may be taken as a deduction in addition to the amount shown on the sales tax table.

MICHIGAN 1964

AVERAGE STATE SALES TAX TABLE

This table is based on the Michigan general sales tax of 4 per cent. It is for use in determining the average amount of sales tax which may be claimed as a deduction in the absence of definite proof of payment.

Deep green with the luster of glass: a softly luminous shade so dashing and distinctive it was bound to inspire a great maker. In this instance, Petrocelli, who tailors bottle green with a fine Italian hand, from imported Turkish mohair suavely blended with wool—a fabric that captures color and gives it brilliance and depth. In fact, bottle green is just one of many unusual colorings that pacesetting Petrocelli has planted for spring—and pruned into equally pacesetting ideas. The collection is here now, and it's most spirited. The bottle green mohair as illustrated, $115. Other Petrocelli suits from $95 to $125.

Musicale Schedules All-Variety Program

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale will present the annual "Dollars for Scholars" program April 20 in Fellowship Hall of the Central Methodist Church. John Wilkinson, tenor, with Sara Allen, pianist, will open the variety program with show tunes of the late George Gershwin.

Both artists hold master's degrees in voice and piano respectively, from Southern Illinois University. They teach in the Pontiac School System.

TWO-PIANO TEAM

Duo-pianists, Mrs. Roger Welton and Mrs. James Rosenthal will present numbers ranging from light classical to modern compositions.

Mrs. Rosenthal, area teacher, earned her master's degree in piano at Indiana University where she studied with Bela Nagy.

Mrs. Rosenthal who holds a bachelor of arts degree in music from Hunter College, was also the recipient of a Lewisohn Scholarship.

She composes for piano under the name of Bernice Rosner and is annotator for the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

The 1965 Dora Dawson scholarship winners will be announced during the program by Mrs. George Putnam, scholarship chairman.

Emil Sutt will direct an instrumental ensemble in numbers from the jazz idiom. The ensemble is unique in that it is composed of a saxophone quintet with string bass and drums.

Mr. Sutt writes the orchestrations for the group as well as for industrial shows for the General Motors Corporation and others.

Joe Berger, Ted Dedobler, Rex Hanger, Charles Odell, Kenneth Hamilton, Frank Merwin and Mr. Sutt comprise the ensemble.

Tickets for the program which is open to the public are available from Musicale members.

OU Concert Will Close on Easter

Season ticket holders for the chamber music series at Oakland County are anticipating the final concert on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson is opening the ballroom at Meadow Brook Hall for the afternoon event.

This is the fourth concert in this new endeavor.

Musicians in both the string quartet and woodwind quintet are members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; together, they form the Meadow Brook Chamber Orchestra.

Twins' Moms Meet

The Twins' Mothers' Club of Oakland County will conduct a "Problem Clinic" at 8 p.m. this evening in the conference room at the '300 Bowl.' Refreshments will be served.

October vows are planned by Catherine Mary Walser, daughter of the E. F. Walser of Myrtle Street and Norman W. Burns, son of the N. A. Burns of Beverly Hills. The bride-elect was graduated from Pontiac Business Institute and attended Oakland University. Her fiancé is a graduate of General Motors Institute.

Where Did He Get the Idea You Might Be Cooperative?

DEAR ABBY: I am a respectable married woman who has been married for two years. (No children.)

My husband had to go out of town on business for a week, so last evening a married friend invited me over for dinner.

She had some other people there, too. One was a man who was watching it as his wife was out of town. (He's a friend of my husband's.)

Well, after a fun evening, this man offered to drive me home. I accepted.

On the way home he actually tried to talk me into either going to his place, or letting him spend the night at my place!

He was very persuasive, but I told him I wouldn't consider such a thing.

I was so upset once I got in the house, I called my husband up long distance and told him all about it. He was furious.

Then, to calm my nerves, I called up my husband's brother and told him about it, too.

My brother-in-law said I shouldn't have called my husband and told him. I said if I had neglected to tell my husband what took place, if it should happen to come to light later, he might wonder why, if nothing happened, I didn't mention it.

I still think I was right. My brother-in-law says I am wrong. What do you think?

ABOVEBOARD

DEAR ABOVE: I say your brother-in-law is right. You could have remained aboveboard and kept the story to yourself.

It sounds to me as though you expect a medal for behaving the way all respectable married women are expected to behave.

Make Plans for Church Friday Feast

Committee members are making final plans for the annual Good Friday breakfast at the First Congregational Church.

Sponsored by the Women's Fellowship, the breakfast is open to any interested women in the area. It has become a tradition for women of all denominations to attend the event.

Mrs. Ralph H. Read of Southfield, wife of the pastor of North Congregational Church, will speak on the subject, "We Are They."

SOLOIST
Phyllis Smith Harris, accompanied by Charles Wilson, will sing.

Mrs. Mason Rich is general chairman and Mrs. James Absher has charge of the kitchen.

Others working are Mrs. Norman Cheal, Mrs. Irwin Mills, and Mrs. William Miller.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Cecil Bondurant, Mrs. Charles Hawn and Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the committee members, or by calling the church office.

Elegance goes to your head with this lovely cover-up. "Baroque," a luscious Italian silk tulle, printed madly artistic, comes in turquoise, yellow, shocking, beige, and white. By Echo.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Mrs. Scott to Head Colonial Unit

Mrs. Bradley D. Scott of North Genesee Avenue was recently elected to a three-year term as state president of the Society Daughters of Colonial Wars in the State of Michigan.

Serving with Mrs. Scott as registrar will be Mrs. Frank Allen of North Edith Street.

Other area members present at the meeting in the Women's City Club in Detroit were Mrs. Allan Monroe, Mrs. Harry Going, Mrs. E. G. Clark and Mrs. T. W. Jackson.

PATRIOTIC GROUP

The patriot organization consists of members whose ancestry dates back to the 16th and 17th centuries in America.

The Daughters assist the frontier nursing program in the mountainous area near Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Scott will be installed at the International Convention of the organization later this month in the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D.C.

Are Old Hat

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Members of the John O. Childs family took enrollment in a new school in their stride when their father, who heads a U.S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey party, arrived for a three-month survey of six southeast Kansas counties.

Rita Childs, a senior in Parsons high school, previously attended 57 other schools; Pat, a junior, has been a student in 42; Jean, a fifth-grader, has been in 19, but John, in the first grade, can claim only two previous teachers.

Parents Help to Mold Musicians

NEW YORK (UPI) — When parlors had gaslights, most of them also had background music.

It was plink-a-plink filling the air as youngsters practiced piano.

Parents today, as then, influence their children's attitude toward music lessons — whatever the instrument.

The man who says so, Marion S. Egbert, is director of educational services for the American Music Conference.

How you view music helps determine whether your child will be a Bach, a Beethoven or a bust.

PARENTS HELP

Egbert said parents who play musical instruments set the best example.

Music and music-making become associated with pleasure in the child's mind. Often he imitates his parents' efforts.

"But even if you don't play a musical instrument, your positive attitude toward music-making probably will be a determining factor in helping your child get started," he said.

When selecting a musical instrument and teacher, ask your friends — including music teachers at the school your child attends.

"Don't let either the lesson or practice time replace other activities the child cherishes," Egbert cautioned.

"If you do, music will become an enemy."

Noting that a child needs encouragement, he suggested that you always compliment him on passages well played.

Other tips from the expert:

• Let your youngster practice

a well-learned piece first, then the hard ones.

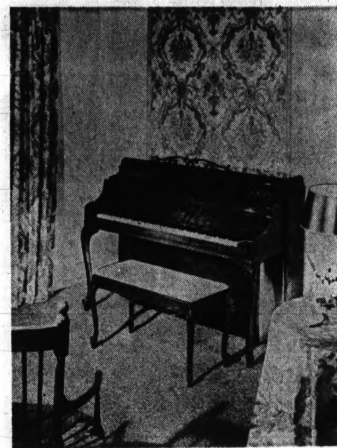

• Don't let him get bogged down in one piece. He'll master the difficult passages later.

• However, don't ignore mistakes as if they hadn't been made.

• Avoid threats. Punishing a child because of failure to practice will make a bad situation worse.

• If the child rejects music study completely, stop the lessons and suggest that "we try the lessons again" in a year or so.

Some children want to start music lessons again sooner.

To avoid an acoustical problem which can arise when pianos are against the wall, John Steinway of the famous piano family advises that a panel of fabric be placed behind the piano from floor to ceiling to serve as a sound-trapper. The fabric, when matched to draperies, lends a coordinated look. A rug or carpeting under the piano is helpful, too.

Diaper Rash Is Soon Gone

The old way is still the best way; at least so far as preventing diaper rash in infants is concerned.

The prescription: Change baby's diaper as soon as possible after he has soiled.

Dr. Hans G. Ketel, of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, Pa., reached this conclusion after a series of 20 studies designed to determine how best to prevent diaper rash.

Creams, lotions, ointments, powders, sprays, all were tried under Dr. Ketel's supervision. Of these, powders were the most effective.

But best of all, the doctor found, was prompt changing of diapers.

If, in addition, reasonably soft diaper material is used and non-porous diaper covers made of plastic or rubber are avoided, the problem of diaper rash will usually be kept under control.

Clean Oven Easy Way

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI)—Home service specialists suggest you clean your oven this way: fill a sauce dish with household ammonia and leave it in the closed oven overnight.

In the morning, even the most stubborn soil will be easy to remove with a cloth dipped in warm, soapy water.

The home service specialists for Westinghouse explain ammonia has an amazing faculty for loosening even baked-on spill-overs.

Money Problem Is Main Reason

NEW YORK (AP)—Money problems provide the number one reason for husbands leaving home, and second on the list is the meddling mother-in-law reports Ed Goldfader, general manager of Tracers Co. of America, which specializes in finding missing persons.

Eight out of ten of those who disappear have passed their 40th birthday and the much-blamed "other woman" is responsible for the flight in only about one out of every 12 cases.

Over 75,000 husbands leave home in the U. S. each year, Goldfader estimates.

Make That Old Phonograph Pay Off

Even though that old phonograph gathering dust in basement, attic or garage hasn't issued a note in many years, there's still a chance for it to provide much more in musical pleasure — thanks to an offer today by a manufacturer and distributor of high-fidelity equipment.

Benjamin Electronic Sound

Corporation, Westbury, New York, has announced its interest in old phonographs, the beginning of a collection which eventually will be made available to banks, schools and libraries as an educational service.

G. Thalberg, national sales manager, said that the company will give one of its Mir-acord record players in exchange for every ancient phonograph that is accepted.

The company has not developed any "name list" of wanted phonographs, but a spokesman said that all interesting and unusual record players of ancient vintage will receive consideration.

No one should send an actual phonograph to the company, the spokesman said. The first step should be the mailing of a snapshot or rough sketch of the phonograph, along with its description.

If the phonograph is accepted, Benjamin will offer, in exchange, its Miracord record player, a high-fidelity unit that has won wide acceptance.

All correspondence should be sent to Old Phonograph Collection, Benjamin Electronic Sound Corp., 80 Swaim St. Westbury, L. I., N. Y.

Simple Vanilla Sauce Dresses Up Desserts

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

There are a number of uses for a simple dessert sauce. Serve it on baked apples, on cottage pudding or on leftover cake squares.

Mrs. Russell Edwards has a sauce recipe she calls Vanilla Dip. Her family likes it.

Mrs. Edwards enjoys experimenting with new recipes, especially baking ones. Bowling is her recreation.

VANILLA DIP
By Mrs. Russell Edwards
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour

¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups hot water
4 teaspoons butter
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon nutmeg —
Mix sugar, flour and salt. Add water slowly, stirring until dissolved. Bring to boil, stirring constantly.

Add butter, vinegar and cook slowly until sauce is thick. Remove from stove and add vanilla and nutmeg. Serve warm.

Sauce will keep in refrigerator. Warm before using. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

It's the no-iron look—the neighborhood cleaner may be slightly miffed, but busy men will welcome this straight-from-the-washer attire.

Slacks, shirts, raincoats, jackets are truly wash-and-wearable, as these photos show. Note the trouser creases.

Did You Ask, 'Who Needs a Wife?'

Remember what they said about wash-and-wear? Why, you just throw the garment into the washing machine, dry it and put it on your back.

Sure. Except that if you didn't use an iron between the washing and the wearing, the end result would be something akin to a well-used barracks bag and you'd be as neat as an unmade bed.

But — flash! — the menswear industry this year has produced fabric which is rumpleproof and permanently creased and the bane of all professional laundrymen since it need never be ironed.

One of the major manufacturers of "permanent shape" fabric is Klopman Mills, a division of Burlington Industries.

President William A. Klopman says the process is so industry-shaking that in a year or two, the customer will have trouble finding shirts, slacks, jackets, coats which are not permanently shaped.

SHIRTS TOO

Shirts, too, have been specially treated to hold their shape without ironing and the Klopman people were wearing them.

The gimmick is polyester fiber — duPont's Dacron, Eastman's Kodol, Chemstrand's Blue "C," Celanese's Fortrel — blended with cotton.

To obtain a permanent press, the fabric is treated with special resins at the mills. The apparel manufacturer makes the finished garment and places it in a curing oven which sets in the creases, pleats and seams.

"And," Klopman says, "they don't come out — ever."

As for permanent shape for shirts, coats, underwear, etc., chemicals are applied to the fabric at the finishing plant and the fabric is fully cured before it's made into wearing apparel.

WILL BE CHEAPER

Though permanently shaped and pressed garments are still slightly higher priced than nontreated wearables, the Klopman people feel the price is bound to drop.

But the customer, in the meantime, saves on laundry bills.

Polly's Pointers

He's Clever Husband

DEAR POLLY — I would like to nominate my husband to the list of clever men who have won Polly Dollars.

The handle on my favorite black purse split open in several places so that the white seam showed. Otherwise the purse was in good condition.

My husband took the center part of one of his discarded black leather belts to make a new handle.

The narrow belt was the exact width of the purse handle. He covered the back of the belt with two coats of black shoe dye and then a coat of wax after the belt was dry.

Next he opened the clamps that held the purse handle, inserted the new one and pressed the clamps shut.

I have learned from many of my friends that their purse handles often wear out before the purses and I hope this helps rejuvenate some old favorites. — MARTHA.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is to help keep your child's pajamas neat and in place during the day.

Make a big cloth applique of a doll, animal or anything you or the child might like and sew it in the middle of the child's bedspread, leaving the upper part open so it is really a big pocket.

When the child removes his pajamas he can fold them neatly and slip them into the spread pocket.

Would be good for a baby's crib, too. — MARCIA

DEAR POLLY — When I defrost my refrigerator I clean the vegetable crisper first, place the trays of ice cubes and frozen foods in it and then close it up.

The foods stay frozen until I am through defrosting and I wash the refrigerator. Only then do I empty and refill the ice trays. — ALICE

DEAR POLLY — I replaced the ties on my kindergarten and first grade children's rain hats with 1/4-inch wide elastic stitched to the hats at each end where the ties were.

Also use this elastic on the back of the neck of the coverall apron a child takes to school on painting days.

Saves the teacher's time and the child's frustration trying to tie the tape.

I find it easier to put any ointment to be used on a child's cut directly on the sterile gauze.

This means you have to hit what is often a moving target only once and it cuts down on the screaming. — CHARLOTTE

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A bridal shower, Tuesday, in the home of Barbara Harthman on South Roslyn Street honored Mary Carol Robertson, fiancée of Dwight F. Hahnefeld. Judith Hart was hostess.

Mrs. Roy Ward of Nelson street also entertained at a shower for the bride-elect with Mrs. Janet Frenlin, cohostess. Gifts of linens were opened following a recent "dessert" in the home of Mrs. Kenoff Morgan on Grace K Drive.

Parents of the couple who will wed on April 24 are the John N. Robertsons of Hallman Avenue and the Harvey G. Hahnefelds of South Hammond Lake Drive.

DR. DAVID DI CHIERA

Concert to Feature DiChiera's Music

Music composed by an Oakland University professor will be performed at a concert at 3:30 p.m., Sunday at the University.

The works of David DiChiera, assistant dean of Continuing education in the arts, will be performed, some of it for the first time, by Detroit area musicians.

The concert will serve as the premiere for DiChiera's "Fantasy for Violin and Piano" and a choral setting of the 13th Psalm.

Also featured will be his "Piano Sonata," first performed at the Naples Festival of Contemporary Music in April, 1959.

OPERA PRODUCER
DiChiera is the producer-director of the popular "Overture to Opera IV," at OU he teaches composition and music history.

The Sunday concert will open with "Lament for Two Pianos" performed by the young composer and Mary Patricia Race.

This will be followed by the premiere of "Black Beads," three songs on texts by Richard Kubinsky, sung by mezzo soprano Alice Dutcher.

Kubinsky is a Detroit poet. Miss Dutcher was featured in the "Overture to Opera IV."

The "Piano Sonata" was commissioned by the U.S. Information Service when DiChiera was a Fulbright scholar in Italy.

Another new work "Fantasy for Violin and Piano," will bring together the playing of DiChiera and New York violinist Vartan Manogian.

ROMA RIDDELL
Roma Riddell, Canadian soprano, will be soloist for "Four Songs on American Sonnets."

Another soprano, Doralene McNeely will join with an a cappella choir conducted by Professor George Cripps to close the program with a new work based on a Biblical text, "The 13th Psalm."

Tickets for the concert will be available at the door of the Gold Room in Oakland Center. The concert is the last in the current Oakland University-Community Arts Council series.

A July 10 wedding is planned by Karen Louise Bale, daughter of the Ross J. Bales of Bernstadt Street, Novi Township, and Dennis A. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marshall of Austin Drive, Novi Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Illie Tucker of Ferndale announce the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth B. Horner to Raymond Dennis Petersen, son of Raymond D. Petersen of England Beach Road, White Lake Township, and Mrs. Gladys Petersen of Euclid Avenue. Miss Horner attends Harper Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, and her fiancée is a sophomore at Wayne State University. December vows are planned.

Nylon Hook Featured on New Bra

Front closing bras using a sliding nylon clasp rather than a conventional hook and eye closure are the latest offering of several leading manufacturers of intimate apparel.

Offered by a number of manufacturers, styles range from push-up bandeaus to de-collete.

Called the "Bonnie Clasp," by its inventor, former corset and foundation buyer and designer, Sydne Cousins, it is modeled in Du Pont's "Zytel" nylon resin, and sewn directly onto the bra fabric.

The natural resiliency and low friction properties of "Zytel" make it possible for the clasps to slide together smoothly and hold with a positive locking action.

Simple finger-tip pressure on a nylon spring molded into the clasp releases it.

Because the clasp is made of "Zytel," it is smooth, will not rust or corrode, or damage delicate fabrics or laces in washing.

Fastening ease also extends to a two-position version of the clasp used on a back closure model.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hawk of Lapeer, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, at an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Hadley (Michigan) School. The couple was married by Rev. George Haller in Lapeer April 14, 1915. Children of the pair are Mrs. Gordon Welch of Columbianville; Mrs. George Simpkins of Pass Christian, Miss.; Mrs. Alson Phile and Mrs. William Hobbins, both of Metamora. There are nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A Good Deal for Members

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Lasting friendship is in the cards for eight local women. For the past 40 years the members of the Martha Washington card club have been meeting for an afternoon of play and conversation.

The group was formed in 1925 when all the women lived near each other and meetings were held regularly every two weeks.

With some living farther apart now they meet less frequently, but several times each year they get together for luncheon at a member's home and a session of playing 500.

What's more, declares Miss Clara Rehorst, they've never had an argument.

Others are Misses Gertrude and Margaret Hott, Miss Amy Hundt, Miss Olive Meurer, Mrs. Edward Pitzmeyer, Miss Martha Rehorst and Mrs. John Schitz. Members include three pairs of sisters.

The William L. Bartons of Stirling Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ella Elizabeth to Lance Cpl. Duane L. Stringer, U.S.M.C., son of Mrs. Leonard Broughton of Hi-Villa Drive, Orion Township, and Robert D. Stringer of Seeden Street. A July 17 wedding is planned.

Gives Gift to the Deaf

A donation was made to the "Lost Decibels" at the Wednesday evening meeting of Xi Gamma Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The group gathered in the Steepthollow Drive home of Mrs. Robert Schmidt, where the hostess presented a program on "Friendship and Examples of Friendship."

Plans were discussed for the Founders Day program scheduled for April 28. Guest of the evening was Mrs. Joseph Daran.

International Flavor Film

Two French-produced films with international appeal for children and adults are scheduled in the Detroit Institute of Arts' "Great Stories in Film" program on Saturday at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

"The Red Balloon" is the technician classic of a small French boy's pursuit of a wayward toy.

The second feature, "The Overcoat," stars Marcel Marceau in the famous Gogol story told in a combination of pantomime and ballet.

It is open to the public without charge. Children under 12 years must be accompanied by an adult.

Teen-Age Sub-Culture Is Evident Here

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Commenting on a bill seeking to raise New York State's drinking age from 18 to 21, the majority leader of the state Senate, Joseph Zaretski, asserted, "I don't think you can stop teenage drinking by law."

"The home influence is the best preventive I know."
But what if there isn't any home influence?

Why do you suppose that so many politicians feel obliged to talk like Rip Van Winkles?

Doesn't the majority leader read the papers? Has he never heard of "permissiveness" — that theory of child training which has substituted pro-toplasm for the backbone of the formerly vertebrate American parent?

Has nobody ever told him about the invention of the automobile — that vehicle so admirably adapted to distance-making between "home influence" on the young and the more indulgent influence of a fifth of whisky?

How long has he been asleep to be so unaware that teenage America not only controls "home influence" but much of this country's economy — the profits of recording companies, the careers of disc jockeys, rock 'n' roll singers, the sponsorship of radio and television programs?

Doesn't he know that teen-age
America speaks its own language, wears specialized clothing, chooses its own hours and goes its own way — in short, that it operates what sociologists call a "subculture."

Too often that subculture is a foreign country as irresponsible and undisciplined as the darkest Africa.

The majority leader ought to get around a little more.

I wouldn't dream of asking him to spend a couple of days in a slum ghetto where the latent violence of idle, frustrated teen-age America hits you like a blow in the face.

I was just thinking about a visit to one of those nice, suburban high schools where the nice, suburban kids take drugs.

It's awfully hard on parents to be made responsible for it in this affluent society where one marriage out of three ends in divorce, where college officials romanticize student sexual license in the name of "relationship" and where the automobile speeds our children away from our "home influence" every night in the week.

It may not be possible to ever recover it in this so propperous world whose chief purpose often seems "Give me fun now. I'll buy and pay later."

Two Proposals Set for June 14 School Vote in Avondale

The Avondale School Board has decided on two proposals for the June 14 school election ballot and presented new salary schedules to two teachers' organizations.

One of the propositions to go on the ballot will ask the voters for permission to use two mills, society (AEA) is an outgrowth of discussions with both groups.

It offers a base starting salary of $5,200 for those with bachelor's degrees and $5,444 for master's degree holders.

The schedule carries maximums after 10 years of $7,660 for bachelor's degrees and $8,394 for master's degrees.

Those with 15 or more credit hours above the BA or MA degrees would get an additional $200.

PRESENT SALARY

The present starting salary for BA holders is $4,850.

Representatives of the rival AEA and AFT groups took the proposed schedule back for approval or rejection by their memberships.

In other action the board awarded contracts for the construction of additions at the junior and senior high schools, slated to start in about three weeks.

Contracts totaling $290,422 were awarded to the following firms:

Architectural — Bersche Construction Co., Pontiac, $169,000; mechanical — Cavanaugh Construction Co., Inc., Birmingham, $77,322; electrical — Rogers Electrical Service, Pontiac, $44,100; and food service — Canton China & Equipment Co., Detroit, $20,971.

School Board Head to Resign

George Granger, president of the Avondale School Board since last July, has turned in his resignation effective June 29.

In a letter to Board Secretary Thomas Galloway, Granger said that "due to a combination of personal reasons, it would be impossible for me to serve beyond the summer of 1965."

Granger, chosen to head the board one year after the 1963 school election, pointed out in his letter that "the above date is a most timely one for this resignation."

When he leaves the board, Granger will have served two years of a four-year term, his second term on the board.

"To those who have given their support to me," the letter said, "I wish to express my thanks as well as my sincere regret for not being able to fulfill my full term."

1965 Sign-Up for Grain Program in Michigan Sets New Records

New state records are being set in the 1965 feed grain program sign-up, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASCS) Committee.

Oakland County totals are also at a new high, according to Marshall Mohney, manager of the county ASCS office.

As of April 1, 42,176 Michigan feed grain producers had signed up to participate. This is 6,362 more than the previous record set in 1962, according to Light.

Base acreage on enrolled farms is also at a new high of 1,307,344, compared to last year's record total of 970,826.

The acreage to be taken out of feed grain production this year totals 731,856 acres, an increase of 132,458 acres over last year's total.

695 SIGN UP
Mohney reported 695 Oakland County farmers had signed up by last Friday's deadline, with a few more applications expected to arrive in the mail.

About 11,000 acres will be diverted from feed grain production out of a total base acreage of 18,000 acres in the county, Mohney said.

Light said the enrollment for this year's program and the interest shown in prior years indicates farmers' increasing acceptance of the feed grain program.

Purposes of the program are:
• To raise farm income by assuring fair prices for feed grain producers and by providing a basis for stability of livestock prices;
• To continue the progress already made toward reduction of government surplus feed grain;

• To reduce costs to taxpayers for storage of surplus feed grain.

CARRY-OVER REDUCED
Light said surplus carry-over has been reduced from about $5 million tons to less than $5 million tons since 1961.

Estimates are that the program has prevented the addition of over 34 billion bushels to the surplus, reducing costs to the Commodity Credit Corporation by some $24 billion.

CALL FOR HELP — Chuck Spain, operations director of Oakland County React, Inc., uses his mobile Citizens Band radio to summon help for a stranded motorist on I-75 near the Mount Clemens interchange. Spain of 3113 Bessie, Auburn Heights, is one of 42 React members in the local unit which patrol a 23-mile stretch of the freeway on weekend nights to aid motorists who have run into trouble. The voluntary organization gives assistance 15 to 30 times per weekend, augmenting State Police patrols.

React Unit Patrols I-75

Stalled Drivers Aided

During this weekend, and with growing frequency as traffic increases in warm weather, many motorists will find themselves forced to the side of the road due to mechanical difficulties and other unexpected occurrences.

If that happens on I-75 on a Friday, Saturday or Sunday night between Big Beaver Road (16 Mile) and US1 (Dixie Highway), the motorist is not likely to wait long for help.

At least two well-equipped patrol cars belonging to members of Oakland County React, Inc. will also be on that stretch of the freeway, looking for folks in "trouble to help out."

The React group, now numbering 42 members, patrols I-75 for a 23-mile stretch every weekend.

With two men in each car, the voluntary organization of Citizens Band radio operators covers the section of I-75 from 8 p.m. to midnight on Friday, 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday and from 7 p.m. to midnight on Sunday.

TWO H'JRS

The patrols, each out for two hours at a time, render assistance to between 15 and 20 motorists each weekend, using their mobile radio outlets to summon police or medical help when needed.

Most of the members are in the process of being trained by Oakland County Civil Defense in emergency first-aid. Many already carry Red Cross first aid cards.

React cars can be identified by the long antenna they carry, stickers and a "Courtesy" sign somewhere inside the car.

Members wear white helmet liners to identify themselves to worried motorists.

10-Year-Old Top Seller for Players

CLARKSTON — A 10-year-old girl has replaced a state representative as the Clarkston Village Players' foremost booster.

In prior years Frank Crowley spearheaded promotional activities and ticket sale campaigns for the players' productions.

His departure last January for Lansing as the newly elected 19th District representative opened the door for a successor — and in walked Julie Wilford.

Julie, a fifth grader with a love for the theater, has topped everyone by selling 40 tickets to "Web of Murder," which opened last weekend and will be staged again tonight, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Wilford, Julie became enthusiastic about show business last November when she played Little Nellie in the players' production of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

Reunion Is Planned for Class of 1960

ROCHESTER — The 1960 graduating class of Rochester High School is planning a class reunion for June 18.

Letters have been sent out to those class members whose addresses are known, but not all have responded.

Those who plan to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Gary E. (Linda West) Kitchen, 621 Rewold, Rochester.

Proposed Water System Explained at Avon Hearing

AVON TOWNSHIP — The first step toward a proposed $979,472 water main system for the southeastern portion of the township was taken last night as a public hearing was held on the issue.

Plans and cost estimates outlined by engineers, health officials and bonding experts met with mixed reaction from the 80-odd residents who attended the hearing on District No. 1 of the proposed assessment area.

Some petitions were turned in opposing the plan by residents of the district, which includes parcels along John R from Auburn to Avon roads, plus the area north of Brooklands Subdivision.

Another public hearing is slated tonight for District No. 2, which embraces Brooklands Subdivision north of Auburn Road and properties along the south side of Avon.

A hearing for District No. 3, which takes in the remainder of Brooklands, will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the township hall, 407 Pine, Rochester.

TO CHECK PETITIONS

Petitions submitted last night will be checked against tax rolls for validity and representation of land in the district, according to Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller.

The proposed water main system could be rejected in any or all of the districts if residents representing 20 percent or more of the land in the districts sign the petitions.

Miller said the hearing "went very well," and added that some petitions were withdrawn after the water main system was explained to the audience.

Estimated costs explained last night included $3.50 per front foot of property plus a $190 tap-in fee when residents connect up with the mains.

HOUSE LEADS

There will also be a variable but small cost for "house leads" from property lines to homes.

Miller said that a combined meeting of all three special assessment districts will be held May 18 after the separate hearings are over and petitions validated against tax rolls.

He said the board would not take action until the combined meeting was held.

Offer Reward of $2,000 for Killer's Arrest

MACOMB TOWNSHIP — An anonymous reward of $2,000 has been posted for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Rayven Shilling, 29, of Cincinnati, Ohio, whose half-nude body was found in a field here Monday.

Attorney Albert Summer, representing an undisclosed client, posted the reward.

Miss Shilling's body was found by a Macomb County road grader operator 50 feet from Hayes Road, about a half-mile north of 23 Mile Road.

Post mortem examination showed that she died of stab wounds in the chest.

In other developments, her white Chevrolet Corvair which was missing since her death, has been found in the parking lot of a Detroit hotel.

Film Will Be Shown at Imlay City Church

Says MPSC Has Jurisdiction in Rail Dispute

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission has jurisdiction over the cancellation of passenger service on two New York Central New York-to-Chicago trains that pass through the state, says chairman Peter Spivak.

Under a 1958 federal act, Spivak told newsmen Wednesday, the railroad's failure to post 30 days' notice automatically switched jurisdiction back to the regulatory agencies of the states involved. Jurisdiction in such a case normally is exercised by the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

Hastily lettered signs were posted in Michigan depots last Saturday announcing the service would be discontinued as of Sunday, he said.

"Twenty passengers showed up Monday morning, but were refused entrance to the train," he said.

SECOND SETBACK

The state suffered a second setback in its continuing railroad problems Wednesday with an Ingham County Circuit Court ruling in a similar but unrelated case.

The ruling permits the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad to discontinue two trains on its Detroit-Grand Rapids run.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said immediately he will file a petition asking a stay of the court order, adding that he will petition the State Appeals Court for leave to appeal.

A bill to tighten state control over passenger service discontinuance, meanwhile, was halfway through the legislature. It passed the House quickly Monday after word of the NYC action reached legislators.

Spivak challenged published reports that the railroad was suffering "tremendous losses" on the trains and implications that the commission has known for some time of its abandonment plan.

"I read that the railroad has had this under consideration for six months, but we didn't find out about it until an outsider contacted us a short time ago," he said.

NYC general counsel George Wyatt was quoted in a published report as saying:

"We felt that the bill would be given quick passage and immediate effect, and we wanted to drop the train before we got involved in an expensive legal argument under the new bill over our right to drop it."

Wyatt had indicated earlier that he had not known far in advance of the abandonment plan, Spivak said.

The trains, Nos. 39 and 40 and known as World's Fair Special, pass Detroit daily about 2 a.m., one eastbound and one westbound.

West Seeks to Remain in Politics

DETROIT (UPI) — Former State Rep. Daniel W. West said today he will try and stay in politics despite his crushing defeat Monday when he tried to regain his job.

West lost his 24th District House seat after he was exposed as a man who took the identity of a brilliant New York lawyer by the same name.

He ran 15th in a field of 17 in a special election Monday to fill the vacancy. The Democratic nomination was won by James Del Rio, a former real estate broker active in the civil rights movement.

West said Del Rio will win the special May 10 election to fill his job.

"There will not be enough defections from the Democrats to elect the Rev. Robert L. Jordan," he said. Jordan is the Republican nominee.

HIGHEST BIDDER

Commenting on the outcome of Monday's election, West said "that seat went to the highest bidder."

He said he paid his campaign workers $15 a day last year but most of them went over to Del Rio for $20 a day. "I could have had them if I paid $25," West said.

"Some of the precinct delegates were offered $100 if they carried their precincts for Del Rio. If I had raised the bid like an auction, I would have won," he added.

Del Rio was not available for comment.

West, who faces federal and city income tax violation charges, said, "I'll stay in politics — make an attempt to rebuild broken fences and maintain old ties. Next year is another election year."

OK Grant for Saginaw

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $135,333 grant to help Saginaw, Mich., finance the purchase of 14 buses and other equipment was announced Wednesday by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. The grant will be supplemented by $67,667 in city funds.

Three Negro Denominations Plan to Join Reunion Project of Protestant Churches

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Moves toward a wide reunion of American protestantism took on a new interracial dimension today.

Indications came from three large Negro denominations that they will join the project.

Other church leaders applauded the news.

"It is something we had hoped for," said Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson, Jr., of Richmond, Va., presiding chairman at the "consultation on church union."

"It will strengthen the consultation by making it more truly representative of all Christian people in America. It has never been our intention that this should be a union of predomi-

Observers from three Negro Methodist bodies, with a total of about 2½ million members, said they anticipated early action by their denominations authorizing official entry into the talks.

The six denominations engaged in the consultation — Methodist, Episcopal, United Presbyterian, United Church, Christian (Disciples) and Evangelical United Brethren — have some Negro members, but are mainly white.

The Savage Cell—4

Do We Dare Await Proof of Cancer Danger?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Calling for an all-out attack on cancer, a veteran science reporter says the war has bogged down. This is the fourth of 12 articles condensed from the new book, "The Savage Cell.")

By PAT McGRADY
We live in a sea of carcinogens—cancer-causers. Some of them are natural and long familiar. Others are the man-made products of modern times.

They are in the food we eat, the water and beverages we drink, the air we breathe, the habits we develop, the jobs we hold, the drugs and medical treatments we take, in radiations from the heavens above and the earth below.

They may be inside us—in the mechanics of our emotions, in the hormones we produce or fail to produce, in our inherited or accidentally disturbed cell chemistry, perhaps even in the cumulative chemical and physical injury incurred in the process of growing up and growing old.

There have been efforts to identify these dangers and to eliminate them, but so far the efforts have been weak and, except in a few notable instances, ineffectual.

LAWS STRONGER

Laws have been strengthened to ban some carcinogens from commercial products and bar them from natural resources; but, as against the dizzying pace of developments, current statutes and enforcement agencies have fallen farther and farther behind the need.

It must be made clear at the outset that the evidence against any single substance as causing human cancer is strictly circumstantial.

Courts of law, however, regularly send men to the gallows on circumstantial evidence more tenuous than the case against some suspect carcinogens still peddled freely and unabated.

Two sets of circumstances help confound the issue of what causes cancer.

HONEST INABILITY

One is human—the honest inability of equally qualified experts to agree on the validity or interpretation of evidence, the pressures and propaganda of industries to protect themselves and their products, and the natural tendency of scientists to surrender to or too bitterly resist the pressures.

A few researchers have been forced to resign their positions because their findings were unfavorable to an influential industry or product, but their colleagues sometimes argue as to whether true persecution or the scientists' paranoid evangelism was at the root of these incidents.

The second difficulty lies with the suspect substances themselves. It is difficult to ascertain what constitutes a real danger to humans. Some carcinogens cause cancers in 80 or 90 per cent of one sex of animal, and virtually no cancers in littermates of the opposite sex.

And even though a carcinogen induces tumors in a wide variety of mice, rats, dogs, cats, rabbits, guinea pigs, flies, cockroaches, sunflowers, fish and chickens, almost invariably a few organisms escape.

SUSCEPTIBILITY VARIES

Except in highly inbred strains, susceptibility to cancer varies as much as or more than the carcinogenic agents themselves.

Some carcinogens act alone. Some must work together. Many must be dissolved in natural fats, oils or water to take effect. And some cause cancer only when altered by body chemistry.

Some have an additive effect—that is two or more of them pool their potency.

Some have a multiplying effect—one may make another five or 10 times as potent. One may cancel out the effects of another. Some cancer-causers even are used as anticancer drugs.

Some chemicals act in concert with physical or chemical injury, cold, heat, growth, aging, genes, hormones, viruses, rays, vitamins or enzymes.

SOME INACTIVE

Some cancer-causers are inactive unless there is a deficiency of a vitamin or hormone or enzyme.

Some of the foremost abnormalities in the fertile field of medical fantasy center around carcinogens.

They range from soothing assurances by manufacturers and vendors to ridiculous declarations by alarmists; from panic printed in public periodicals to childish secrecy—supposedly panic—preventing—by scientists and health agencies.

The most notable instance of federal action against a carcinogen was in the famous tainted cranberry episode.

NAIVE PRESS

The government's intemperate blast in a naive press against defiant cranberry growers did not win the confidence of the public or the respect of science.

The answer to the riddle of cancer—causation may be basic—such as the possibility of some yet unknown common denominators. But important clues could lie in a number of other vague areas.

Is there, for instance, such a thing as a "house of cancer"—a house in which an inordinate number of cancer deaths have occurred?

There are a number of these eerie residences in which all or almost all unrelated tenant families for a half-century or more lost at least one member to cancer.

COINCIDENCE?

Is this sheer coincidence? Or is there something in the structure, the grounds, the air, or the water which is conducive to cancer?

Carcinogens have been recognized for almost 200 years ever since scientists traced the cause of scrotum cancer in London chimney sweeps to soot.

ARTIFICIAL CHEMICALS

Since then, many new carcinogens have been identified. Some are among the 800 artificial chemicals in common use, and possibly among the 50 or so introduced each year to the public.

They are called carcinogens because they cause cancers in experimental animals. Most independent scientists consider this evidence of a potential danger to man.

The path to scientific proof has many pitfalls. For instance, an appalling high lung-cancer rate is said to prevail around Asbesta, Mont., where copper smelting is virtually the sole industry.

INDUSTRY CLAIMS

There is obviously validity to the claims of industry that if we were to abandon absolutely the use of all carcinogens, life would become dreary.

We would not have, as we know them, paved roads, synthetic automobile tires, oil and gasoline, plastics of many descriptions, many metals and alloys, pesticides, insecticides, fertilizers, cosmetics, detergents, drugs, foods, dyes, and other essentials as well as time-savers, luxuries, and comforts.

Nevertheless, some scientists would ban all possible cancer-causers.

Some others urge the standard of a "safe dose." An industry spokesman has argued that many years of experimentation and study are necessary before a proved carcinogen can be labeled dangerous to humans.

HAZARDS

Yet with environmental hazards mounting and cancer deaths increasing, 10 or 21 or more years of testing is a long time for the public to wait for warnings of potentially dangerous exposures.

Many, in that time, may be done to death by agents they could have avoided had they been cautioned.

The cancer epidemic is growing. It seems hardly reasonable to ask the public and Congress to let industry and business have their way, unmolested by the press or governmental inquiry, for an entire human generation.

People in the News

Ringo Starr expects to become a father this fall.

"I've never been so delighted in my life," the Beatles' drummer told newsmen in London last night. "I only knew about it last week. The baby's due in late October."

Ringo was married in a civil ceremony on Feb. 11 to Maureen Cox, a hairdresser. She is 18, he is 24, and both are from Liverpool.

"We hope that our first will be a boy," said Maureen. "Naturally, I'd like the baby to be like Ringo, but he needn't necessarily follow in his father's footsteps."

Ringo added that "If he shows talent as a musician, I'll be pleased. But if he is no good I won't encourage him."

Suggests LBJ Decorate Louis Armstrong

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has a suggestion for President Johnson: Pin a presidential medal on Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong for being a "goodwill ambassador" in many nations in recent years.

Javits made the proposal in Washington yesterday, noting that the veteran Negro trumpeter was the first American band leader to score a triumph in Communist East Germany.

Armstrong will be 65 on July 4, the day the President announces his medal winners.

Mrs. MacArthur Visits Husband's Tomb

Mrs. Douglas MacArthur yesterday visited the MacArthur Memorial where the general's body is entombed in Norfolk, Va.

The widow toured the memorial building and looked at recent acquisitions. It was her third trip to Norfolk since the funeral a year ago.

No New Clues in 4 Slayings

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Police from many areas of southwestern Michigan spent several hours in a meeting here Wednesday, pooling information about the slaying of three women and a 7-year-old girl.

Officers said no new information had turned up during the day.

The work of checking hundreds of tips and leads began after the discovery of the mutilated bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 37, last Sunday. Officers are convinced there is a connection between the deaths of the three and the earlier discovery of the nude body of Delores Young, 19, in a burned house here.

The State Police crime laboratory continued attempts to identify the owner of several pieces of men's clothing found in the same area, as the three bodies.

'Early Bird' Set for Space Shift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Early Bird satellite, already a proven handler of television signals, is expected to be maneuvered to push it toward its permanent root in space.

Communications Satellite Corp. (Comsat) engineers planned to fire small gas jets designed to guide the world's first commercial communications satellite to a point over the Atlantic between Brazil and South Africa.

A small kick-motor then will be fired about 8:30 a.m. EST tomorrow over South America to direct the satellite into a circular orbit 22,300 miles high.

There its speed will match the earth's rotation, making it appear stationary in the sky.

The 85-pound satellite was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Tuesday night. Comsat said it performed so well the project was speeded up by several days.

EARLY TEST

Engineers gave the satellite an early test yesterday and received television patterns of excellent quality.

"It is safe to say that the television capability of the Early Bird satellite is established," said Siegfried H. Reiger, Comsat technical vice president.

St. Lawrence Seaway Opens 7th Season

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway opens today for its seventh full season amid forecasts for record cargo movement and ice conditions expected to cause some disruption in the early flow of traffic.

The opening equals last year's April 8 opening, earliest in seaway history.

The Winnipeg Lake, a 750-foot Canadian vessel loaded with nearly a million bushels of grain, was expected to lead the downstream procession through the Eisenhower Lock here. The Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., said cargo tonnage in 1965 was expected to surpass last year's record 393 million tons.

Americans Are Paying More for Potatoes Due to the Smallest Crop in Seven Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With the potatoes and gravy appetite are paying more for your taste this year than Americans ever have.

potato crop was the smallest in seven years — nearly 25 million 100-pound bags under the previous five-year average of 266 million bags.

All major producing areas but

Maine were hit last year by bad weather and frosts.

The acreage finally harvested — 1.3 million acres — was the smallest since 1867, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Supply and demand has boosted San Francisco retail prices to 79 cents for a five-pound sack of No. 1 Oregon Klamaths, sized from six to 14 ounces.

In Idaho, land of the premium

russet baking potato, 1964 production dropped to 36.3 million bags, a decrease of 14 million from 1963.

Idaho russet bakers cost 20 cents a pound.

POTATO CHIPS

Potato chip prices have not gone up because chip makers were guaranteed their supplies at prices contracted with growers before they planted.

One market chain expects prices to start downward by mid-April. Burger said he doesn't expect a major break before mid-May.

Nation's Newest Fad: Skateboarding

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The country's newest sport is leaving a trail of fractured adolescents from Southern California to the East Coast.

Skateboarding, a sidewalk-roadway version of surfing, has become the latest youthful mania.

Skateboarding is performed on a simple piece of board, about two feet long, with roller skate wheels attached to the bottom.

Learning to ride a skateboard often is a period of alarmingly frequent meetings with the asphalt, and the hazards of the sport have caused concern among parents and doctors alike.

ACCELERATION

Yet, despite its potential to bruise and fracture, skateboarding is accelerating like a careening teen-ager.

"It would be impossible to guess the number of skateboarders in the country," says a spokesman for the Quarterly Skateboarder, a new magazine. "Anyone can make a board, and they've become popular all over."

Several companies are manufacturing the boards, and sales have outdistanced production schedules. Prices range from $2.98 to $29.95 — and boards are selling by the millions. The fad is not limited to youngsters.

For the more sophisticated, motorized skateboards are available. A California man has a power model which will propel its 200-pound rider at 10 miles an hour. The model is operated by a manual throttle and steered by the rider shifting his weight.

The motorless skateboards are likewise steered by weight shifting and can reach perilous speeds.

There's a Cut of Veal for All Budgets

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Veal chops were on our dinner menu the other night. They were good.

Veal is a meat that does not get the attention it deserves. For the individual who must watch calories, especially fat calories, veal is an excellent choice.

But if not prepared properly, veal can be dry. Moist heat is the best way of cooking. The following recipe is a good illustration of this method.

Veal Cutlets Piquant

2-lbs. veal cutlets, $\frac{1}{4}$ " thick
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ginger
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or cooking oil
1 lemon
2 sweet pickles or 6 small gherkins
Divide cutlets into 6 portions. Combine kitchen bouquet, ginger, pepper, salt and lemon juice. Brush cutlets with combined seasonings.

Melt fat in skillet with tight-fitting cover then cook cutlets, uncovered, over moderate heat, until well browned. Cover and cook until tender, about 25 minutes.

Remove to hot platter and top each piece with a thin slice of lemon topped with a thin slice of pickle or a gherkin. Serve with mushroom sauce. Makes 6 servings.

If cutlets seem a bit expensive for your food budget, don't give up. You can buy a less expensive cut and come up with a delightful dish in the French manner.

Veau de la Campagne, or Country Veal, may be made early in the morning, or even a day ahead of time. You'll refrigerate it, of course, until dinner time. Then add mushrooms and sour cream.

Call this dish veal stew, if you must, but it's elegant stew.

Veau De La Campagne

2 tablespoons salad oil
1 medium onion, sliced
2 pounds veal, cut in 1-inch chunks
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon thyme leaves
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon mace
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
12 ounces (bottle or can) beer or ale
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped celery
1 carrot, sliced
 $\frac{1}{2}$ pound mushrooms, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup dairy sour cream

Heat oil in large kettle; add onion, meat, parsley and seasonings. Cook meat until browned, turning occasionally. Cover and simmer until tender, about 2 hours.

Add mushrooms during last 15 minutes of cooking. Remove from heat. Stir flour into sour cream. Stir into stew. Heat gently; serve immediately. 6 servings.

Those of you who have rotisseries can cook a boneless veal shoulder roast. The butcher will bone and roll the shoulder cut if you ask him.

This same roast can be cooked in the oven. In either case, you'll want to baste it during the cooking period.

Rolls Veal Roast on a Spit

5 pound boneless veal shoulder roast, rolled and tied

1 tablespoon leaf tarragon

1 teaspoon salt

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper

1 stick ($\frac{1}{4}$ cup) butter or margarine, melted

1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine tarragon, parsley, salt, and pepper. Rub combined seasonings over roast. Insert the spit through the center of the roast to balance the weight evenly. Place spit in position on rotisserie.

Cook according to manufacturer's directions until roast meat thermometer registers 180 degrees, about $\frac{3}{4}$ hours for a medium done roast.

After first $\frac{1}{4}$ hour of the cooking period, baste roast occasionally with mixture of melted butter and lemon juice.

Note: To roast in 325 degree oven; place in a low-sided open pan. Allow $\frac{3}{4}$ to 4 hours for medium done roast.

VEAL CUTLETS PIQUANTE

Pair Waffles, Bacon for Different Dish

A hot waffle sandwich makes hearty lunch fare. Prepare enough batter from a mix or from scratch, to make six servings, adding $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of grated cheese to the batter when it's ready to be baked. Bake in hot waffle iron until steaming stops.

Sandwich individual waffle sections together with 2 slices of pan-fried crisp, drained bacon for filling. Serve with warm maple or maple-blended syrup.

VEAL A LA CAMPAGNE

Serve Gourmet Shrimp

A buffet is certainly the easiest way to entertain. Its easy elegance makes it festive, and allows guests to take as little or as much as they wish.

The most important rule to remember about buffet service is to keep cold foods cold, and hot foods hot. Set relishes and salads in a bed of cracked ice to keep chilled; use an electric warming tray or chafing dish to provide heat.

Shrimp, being universally popular, are good choices for a buffet dish. The Shrimp Association of the Americas recommends this hot Buffet Shrimp and Pineapple for serving from a chafing dish or electric casserole.

It has an intriguing Polynesian flavor which blends well with a variety of accompaniments. Serve it as a main dish or hot hors d'oeuvre.

Buffet Shrimp and Pineapple
2 packages (8 oz.) peeled and deveined shrimp

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 tablespoons cornstarch

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup sauterne or other dry white wine

1 can (9 oz.) pineapple tidbits with syrup

3 tablespoons lime juice

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cloves

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon sugar

and lightly tinged with brown. Remove shrimp from pan with slotted spoon.

To cornstarch, add two to three tablespoons sauterne, stirring to make a paste. Stir remaining sauterne in gradually. Add to fat in pan. Then add pineapple tidbits and syrup and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly until thickened and clear.

Stir in lime juice, cloves, salt and sugar. Return shrimp to pan and stir to blend with pineapple. Cook and stir just until shrimp are hot. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

Serve on patty shells as a main dish, on toast rounds as an hors d'oeuvre. Makes 6 main-dish servings; about 2 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

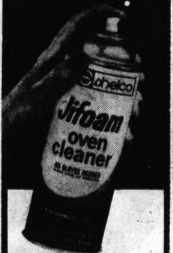

Vary the Taste

Vary-canned tomato soup by adding finely diced celery; another time add a bay leaf as you heat the soup, then remove the spice before serving.

The National Audubon Society celebrated its 60th anniversary in January, 1965.

Gingerbread Doughnuts Are Unusual

There are numerous legends about how the doughnut came to have a hole in the middle.

Some say the hole was originated by a ship's cook who observed that while the captain steered the ship he stuck his fried cakes through the spokes on the steering wheel. The accommodating chef henceforth made his cakes with holes.

However, others favor the story about the hungry boy who couldn't wait for the doughnuts to finish cooking and poked the doughy middle out with his thumb.

Raised Gingerbread Doughnuts
1 cup milk
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup dark molasses
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine
¼ cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
2 eggs, beaten
5 cups unsifted flour (about)

Dumplings Have Base of Bread Cubes

How about hot soup for lunch with delicious tasty bread dumplings in it? This hearty soup idea can be prepared from kitchen staples in half an hour's time.

Form the dumplings firmly with the fingertips so that they will hold together in the soup (any favorite creamed or clear soup will do).

Bread Dumplings
3 cups enriched white bread cubes (about 6 slices cut in ½-inch cubes)
¼ cup enriched flour
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
5 cups ready-to-serve soup or broth
Mix together bread cubes, flour, onion, parsley, salt, baking powder and pepper in large bowl. Blend egg, milk and butter or margarine. Add liquid all at once to bread mixture and stir well. Let stand 10 minutes.

Using fingertips, shape mixture firmly into 16 balls, about the size of large walnuts. Lower gently into boiling soup or broth. Cook, uncovered, 7 to 8 minutes. Serve hot.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Apple Dessert Great Favorite in Scandinavia

Scandinavian Apple Cake
1 package (6 ounces) zwieback
¾ cup packaged graham cracker crumbs
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ cup butter, melted
2½ cups thick sweet apple sauce
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Crush the zwieback, several at a time, in an electric blender or with a rolling pin so crumbs should be about 1½ cups.

Mix with the graham cracker crumbs, cinnamon and melted butter. Mix the applesauce with the grated lemon rind.

Sprinkle a layer of the crumbs into a buttered ovenproof glass round cake dish (8½ by 1½ inches). Spoon a layer of applesauce over crumbs; continue alternating crumbs and applesauce with last layer of crumbs.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned — 30 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 10 servings.

Choose the Crumbs

You can use any of the following for crumb pie shells: chocolate cookies; ginger snaps; graham crackers; zwieback; vanilla wafers.

Try this variation of stuffed celery. Cut stalks to uniform lengths and fill each with a mixture of chopped hard cooked eggs, chopped parsley and mayonnaise. Top each with a whole Norway sardine.

Scald milk; stir in brown sugar, molasses, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure warm water into a large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice, eggs, and 5 cups flour; beat until smooth. Stir in enough additional flour to form a soft dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top.

Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Punch down. Place dough on lightly floured board and roll out to about ¼-inch thickness. Cut into doughnuts with 2½-inch doughnut cutter.

Place on greased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Drop into deep hot fat (375 degrees) raised side down. Fry 2 or 3 minutes, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Roll in cinnamon-sugar mixture, if desired.

To Keep Parsley

A bunch of parsley will stay fresher and last longer if you wash it thoroughly, then stand it in a glass of water, like a bouquet, for a couple of hours. Drain it well on a paper towel before storing it in the refrigerator.

Leftover Kraut

A little sauerkraut left over? You'll find it is surprisingly good added to tomato soup. When you add the kraut, add a bay leaf, too.

Almost all homemakers know lemon juice will keep peeled, sliced fruits from turning dark. What's new is applying juice to fruit with a cotton swab. The swab eliminates dripping.

Title Is Fancy, Dish Is Superb

Ragout is a French word meaning a stew with meat and vegetables. It can be seasoned with a wine and is a wonderful way to use a less expensive cut of meat.

This Beef Ragout is made with wine and a package of Hearty Beef soup.

Beef Ragout

2 pounds beef top round steak
3 tablespoons margarine
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 envelope hearty beef soup mix
2 cups water
Cut meat across the grain into thin slices. Melt margarine in skillet; add meat and cook over medium heat, turning once until browned. Drain off excess fat. Add onion and soup mix. Stir in water.

Cover; bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, until meat is tender, about 1½ hours. Makes 6 servings.

Gas, Smoke Bombs Used on Marchers

By United Press International
Police at Camden, Ala., yesterday used tear gas and smoke bombs to turn back two of four marches by Negro demonstrators and while clergymen.

Apparently no one was injured. A white youth, James (Arkansas) Benson, was jailed for resisting arrest, and two Negro youths were taken into "protective custody" and later released.

The seven or eight out-of-state ministers participated in all of the marches and wore the blue denim "uniform" of the civil rights movement over their clerical clothes.

Police exploded six tear gas bombs to disperse one group of marchers, and tossed a smoke bomb to maintain order in another march. The fumes and smoke was blown away quickly by the wind.

The demonstrators were protesting voter registration procedures in Wilcox County, one of the Alabama black (southern) belt areas where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has conducted a civil rights campaign since January.

FREE ON BOND
In Birmingham, three of four Ku Klux Klansmen, linked with the death of a white civil rights worker, were free on bond today for the second time since their arrests late last month.

A special federal grand jury returned indictments Tuesday night in Montgomery against Collier Leroy Wilkins, 21, Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Eaton, 41.

A fourth Klansman, Gary Thomas Rowe, was not indicted. All four were from the Birmingham area. The three Klansmen were arrested and charged March 26 following the night rider slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a 39-year-old Detroit mother of five children who was shot as she drove on U.S. 80 near Lowndesboro.

NOT MENTIONED
Mrs. Liuzzo was not mentioned in the indictment returned by the grand jury Tuesday and made public yesterday morning.

Elsewhere in the nation: WASHINGTON — There appeared to be considerable sentiment on a House committee to write into the voting rights bill an outright ban on state poll taxes.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The reward for conviction of the terrorist bombers, who planted bombs at various homes here recently, has risen to $86,000.

Church Reform State Guard General Foe to Yield Faces More Queries

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest, who has agreed to drop his public opposition to changes in church liturgy, says he will select new leaders for the Catholic Traditionalist Movement.

The Rev. Gennar A. De Pauw, professor of canon law at Mount St. Mary's Seminary in Emmitsburg, stated his views in a televised interview Wednesday night.

Lawrence Cardinal Shehan met with De Pauw in Baltimore Wednesday for 21 minutes. The cardinal announced afterward through Bishop T. Austin Murphy that De Pauw "in a spirit of loyalty to his lawful superior declared his acceptance of the cardinal's directive" to disassociate himself from the movement.

De Pauw said he was appealing the cardinal's decision to Pope Paul VI, the Vatican Holy Office and Francis Cardinal Spellman, whom he described as the "senior American cardinal."

He said he would select laymen as leaders "because no priest will stick his neck out after what I got."

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, who has spent about eight hours on the witness stand explaining actions which led to his suspension, faced a further barrage of questions today.

Today is the 18th day of Gov. George Romney's 84-hour-old hearing on gross neglect of duty charges against McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert.

It marks exactly six months from the day they first were relieved of duty.

In nearly four hours' cross examination Wednesday, Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl probed into alleged illegal Camp Grayling land transactions involved in the charges.

Assistant Atty. Gen. James Ramsey planned to question McDonald today about alleged "illegal expenditures."

Searl's queries hit again at key points raised earlier — how much the State Military Board knew about the land deals when it approved them, and what notice the military gave to an attorney general's letter concerning land transactions.

Asked at which meetings the board was informed of details of the land transactions, McDonald said "It seems like we told them at every meeting."

The charges say McDonald and Neifert failed to inform the board of full details of the transactions.

"When you have two lawyers out of four members of the board, there's nothing you can hide," McDonald added.

The letter involved was sent to McDonald in September 1958 by then deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph Billzke.

Romney told McDonald, "there is no question in my mind that the attorney general said this transaction (one involved in the charges) was illegal."

McDonald, however, called it "an ambiguous letter."

ASKS FOR PAPERS

The defense has pointed to a sentence in the letter telling McDonald to send abstracts and other papers relating to any transactions to the attorney general's office for checking.

McDonald said he sent in the papers and that he accepted the attorney general's reply "as acceptance of not just the title, but the whole transaction."

Provisions in Amended State Bill

Birth Control Help for Unwed Mothers?

LANSING (AP)—Public family planning assistance could be extended to unwed mothers — under certain circumstances — under terms of amendments to two controversial House birth control bills adopted by the House Social Welfare Committee Wednesday.

The amended bills were to be reported out to the House today.

AFTER 2ND BIRTH

Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, sponsor of the bills, offered the amendments which would allow state and local welfare agencies to provide birth control information or material after a second illegitimate birth to a mother on welfare.

The bills set a state policy on birth control for welfare recipients and authorize the establishment of clinics.

They prohibit initiation of birth control discussions by social workers — contrary to the policy adopted last month by the State Social Welfare Commission and earlier this year by the city of Detroit.

The commission's policy, which would be superseded by such legislation, allows initiation, provided no pressure is applied to accept the assistance as a requirement for relief.

TOTAL PROGRAM

It allows assistance to unwed mothers as part of a total program of problem-solving and rehabilitation.

Ryan's amendments to his own bills are "an attempt to draw the line between two dangers—that of excessive illegitimacy at public expense on the one hand, and of conveying the idea that the state sanctions sexual promiscuity by providing information and help to unmarried women on the other," Ryan said.

"After the second birth, pattern has been set," he said. "And although this is contrary to public policy, which opposes sexual promiscuity, we can justify it by arguing it helps maintain suitable homes for the existing children and works for the over-all good of society."

The bills, signed by nine Democrats and two Republicans, were opposed in a committee hearing Wednesday by Dr. Ralph Tenhave, a research assistant at the University of Michigan

School of Public Health, and Mrs. John O'Brien of Ann Arbor, a representative of a World Family Planning group.

SIMILAR POLICY

The measures were supported by Rupert Kettle, director of the Kent County Board of Social Welfare, which adopted a similar policy last September—the first birth control policy in the state.

Mrs. O'Brien, hailing the Social Welfare Commission's policy on birth control as "bold steps forward," criticized the bills as "not needed" and too restrictive.

"Initiation in this area should be allowed just as in any other social or health problem," she said.

PHYSICAL WELL-BEING

The amendments, Ryan said, allow a doctor to initiate discussions on "any matter which he deems essential to the physical well-being of his patient."

The anti-initiation policy, Mrs. O'Brien said, denies women on welfare a "right to know."

Private physicians usually ask the mother of a newborn child what her future plans are. Under the proposed law, except for essential questions of health, a doctor would not be allowed to ask the welfare mother the same question if it led to a discussion of birth control.

Because the percentage of stillbirths and maternal mortality is substantially higher in such cases—often because of the youth of the mother—"I want to do something before that second birth," Tenhave said.

Kettle objected that the initiation is "inherently coercive, because the case worker has a life-and-death power over the welfare recipient."

The bulk of caseworkers — many of them young, unmarried and fresh out of college — are "not qualified to initiate discussion of birth control," he said.

Thousands Forced to Flee Homes as Floods Tear Midwest

By the Associated Press
Destructive floodwaters spilled over widespread areas of the Midwest today. Thousands of persons sought shelter as their homes were filled with water.

Two persons were killed Wednesday in a southern Minnesota rainstorm and two children were missing after they were seen playing near the swollen Battle Creek River in Minnesota's Ramsey County.

An estimated 1,000 persons have been forced from their homes in several Iowa areas. Dozens of communities were in danger of their creeping floodwaters.

Officials said flood damage in Cherokee, a town of 8,500 in northwestern Iowa, could exceed $2 million.

The Weather Bureau forecast up to 1 inch of rain by tomorrow.

Cherokee was struck when the Little Sioux River surged to 27.1 feet, before dropping to 25 feet Wednesday. Flood stage is 17 feet.

CEDAR RIVER

Northeastern Iowa battled the rampaging Cedar River. Central Iowa was hard pressed to hold back the Des Moines River. Some residential and business areas in the Waterloo-Cedar Falls vicinity were under water. An estimated 100 homes were evacuated in southwestern Fort Dodge.

The Red Cross said it was caring for 135 persons in shelters in Cherokee, Webster City, Marshalltown and Waterloo, and for 346 flood victims in several other cities.

April rains which struck large portions of the country Wednesday, mixed with mild temperatures, melted the remnants of some deep snowpacks, filling rivers and streams to overflow.

Generally clear weather favored conditions in flooded portions of Minnesota, but not snow fell on top of the deep old snow cover along the Canadian border area, increasing the flood danger.

In parts of Minnesota, there was no way to gauge the depth of flooding on the Cottonwood River, which runs into the Minnesota River at New Ulm. The river gauge was an estimated 20 feet of water. The previous high was 16.9 feet in 1947.

The Red Cross said about 500 families had been evacuated in southern Minnesota and the figure was expected to jump to 2,500 within the next few days, when more rivers begin rising in southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

A dozen roads were closed in southern Minnesota.

Forecasters predicted a crest of 25.5 feet for the Minnesota River in Mankato Friday, a half-foot higher than the city's 26-foot diking system built after the 1962 floods.

Severe storms battered sections of northern Texas, southern Oklahoma and Nebraska during the night. A tornado struck Anadarko, in southwestern Oklahoma, damaging a rest home and other property. The 120 patients in the rest home were not injured.

Hail pelted Oklahoma City and winds were clocked at 70 m.p.h. in a thunderstorm. Strong winds and hail and rain also lashed Omaha and parts of south central Nebraska, including Hastings and York.

Thunderstorms which swept areas in the Southeast Wednesday tapered off to showers. In South Carolina, the worst hail storm in 40 years battered a 65-mile path in the Columbia area.

The Weather Bureau reported rain fell in most parts of the country Wednesday. Early morning temperatures ranged from 28 at Mullan, Idaho, to 74 at West, Fla., and were near or above normal in most areas.

Says She's Owed $385 for Water

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Victoria Welch says the city of Houston owes her $385 because of overcharges on her water bill dating back to 1944.

The 78-year-old woman, who has a file in the City Water Department almost as big as she is, sat silent and smiling Wednesday as her problem was described to the City Council by a niece, Mrs. Paul E. Ross.

"I'm on your side," Mayor Louie Welch told her.

Miss Welch, wearing a black cotton dress with lace at the wrists and a small straw hat, smiled and nodded.

PRIVATE LINE

Mrs. Ross said her aunt built a private water line from the city system to her home years ago. In 1944, 1947 and 1961, the city erroneously permitted three homes to hook onto the line.

All the water used in those homes ran through Miss Welch's meter. She and the users both paid the city for it.

The mistake was discovered when the city widened the street.

Water adjusters said they had records only through 1961. They refunded her $349 for the 1957 to 1961 overcharges.

CITY AGREES

"The city agreed to pay my aunt an additional $385 if she would let the city have the water line," Mrs. Ross said. "We lived up to our part of the bargain but my aunt can't collect from the city."

The city legal department said the statute of limitations had run out.

Mrs. Ross said her aunt had supported herself for 39 years with a small amount of property left by her parents.

After Miss Welch left the council chamber, Mayor Welch told City Atty. John Widenhall: "Find a way to pay her — not a lot of reasons why we can't."

Service Groups Set Workshop

The protective service groups in Oakland County will hold a workshop conference April 23 at Oakland University.

The workshop is being cosponsored by 14 social service agencies and probate judges Donald Adams and Norman Barnard.

There are 24 protective service groups in the county. They operate as separate entities within cities.

Their function is to breach the gap between police, courts and social agencies in the rehabilitation of juveniles.

They also work to combat delinquency and parental neglect.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the workshop is to both acquaint community leaders with juvenile problems, and to also show the job which the protective service groups can do.

Invitations have been sent to community leaders, city officers, police authorities, school board members and teachers, clergymen, service club leaders and members of the press.

Main speaker at the workshop will be R. Bernard Houston, director of the Michigan Department of Social Welfare.

The remainder of the day will be used for five workshops.

Citizens interested in attending the all-day affair should contact Edgar W. Flood at the Oakland County Probate Court.

S. Viets Delay Trial of Accused Embassy Bomber

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today it had postponed the trial of one of the terrorists who bombed the U.S. Embassy. The Viet Cong had threatened to shoot an American captive if the bomber was executed.

Salon authorities said the trial of Nguyen Van Thai, 33, was postponed indefinitely.

Hanoi Radio broadcast a communique Wednesday from the Viet Cong's political agency, the National Liberation Front, saying it Thai was executed. Gustav C. Hertz, a U.S. aid mission official missing since Feb. 2, also would die.

The broadcast made no reference to the execution, scheduled today, of Le Dau, 24, admitted Communist agent arrested Sunday night at Da Nang. He was caught in a hotel with a transistor radio filled with explosives.

Salon authorities had not announced imposition of the death penalty on Thai. But the Communist broadcast claimed there was scheming to that end "under the pretext that he was involved in the bomb blast at the U.S. Embassy."

Hanoi's broadcast not only gave the first word from the Communists that they actually had Hertz as a prisoner. It also constituted the first admission that the Reds were responsible for the embassy bombing which killed two Americans and 29 Vietnamese.

The broadcast said none of the terrorists were killed in the blast and that all the bombers returned "safely to their base."

TERRORISTS KILLED

After the bombing, however, South Vietnamese authorities said the terrorist who drove the sedan loaded with explosives up to the embassy was killed by the blast as he tried to ride off with Thai on a motorbike. A police man shot Thai in the stomach and he was captured. Thai has been under treatment for his wound.

Thai and another Vietnamese accused of being involved in the bombing were to have gone on trial before a military court Wednesday. Saigon officials gave no indication that the postponement was the result of the reprisal threat.

Hertz, 46, of Leesburg, Va., disappeared while on a motorbike trip near Saigon Feb. 2. He was chief of the aid mission's public administration. "Ten in Saigon and had lived here since 1963 with his wife and three of their five children.

Mrs. Hertz and the children left Viet Nam later when American dependents were evacuated. Two older children are in college in the United States.

'GOOD TREATMENT'

The Hanoi broadcast said Hertz "is now in the hands of the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front, which has given him good treatment ever since his capture."

It added that "the fate of G. Hertz is decided by the United States itself."

In Washington, the State Department said the reprisal threat had been referred to President Johnson and that it would have no comment until a decision had been made. The President made no mention of the incident in his speech on Southeast Asia Wednesday night.

Highly reliable sources in Bangkok told the Associated Press that the United States has stationed 35 of its highly regarded F4C Phantom jet interceptors in eastern Thailand.

JETS ARRIVE

The sources said the jets arrived Wednesday at Udorn, less than 40 miles from the Laotian border and well within range of North Viet Nam. There had been speculation in Salon and Washington since Communist MIG jets shot down two F105 bombers south of Hanoi last Sunday that the F4C would be brought in. The Phantom was about the same speed as the F105 — about 1,500 miles per hour — but is considered more maneuverable, therefore more desirable for aerial dog-fight purposes.

U.S. officials in Bangkok had no comment on the report. Diplomatic sources in Moscow said Red Chinese objections to Soviet weapons heading for North Viet Nam have been lifted. They said talks in Peking involving the Soviets, Chinese and apparently also the North Vietnamese removed difficulties.

Communist China today accused Japan of giving material support to the United States in South Viet Nam. Peking warned that Premier Eisaku Sato's "reactionary" policies might result in a break in trade.

Cong Suffers Major Setback

Viet Marines Claim 200 Guerrillas Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. officials claimed today that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed Wednesday night in a major battle with Vietnamese marines in Binh Dinh Province, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties, the Americans said.

It was the second major success claimed this week in the ground war against the Communists. U.S. officials reported Wednesday that 276 Viet Cong were killed and 33 captured in a three-day battle in the Mekong River delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon. Six Americans and 16 South Vietnamese soldiers died in that battle.

In Saigon, young naval officers staged a mutiny against their commander, Adm. Chung Tan Cong, but the revolt appeared to have the approval of the government and the other South Vietnamese armed forces.

NOT WORRIED
Sources in the government said Cong, a close associate of ousted strong man Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, had ignored repeated requests to resign. The meeting therefore was not surprising, and the government was not worried, the sources said.

Air Force Skyraiders were circling the city as night fell, apparently to make sure there was no trouble.

There was no shooting and no unusual troop movements in the capital.

U.S. Air Force jets and other combat planes flew 63 missions today against a suspected large Viet Cong concentration in Kontum Province, near Saigon. Results were not reported immediately.

The U.S. Navy announced that one of its 7th Fleet Skyhawk jet fighters was shot down by Communist ground fire and crashed into the sea on Wednesday's strike against transport routes in North Viet Nam. The pilot was missing and presumed killed, the Navy said.

Officials had reported earlier that all the planes participating in the strike returned safely.

FROM JAN. 1, 1901 TO DEC. 31, 2000

QUESTION: Did the 20th century start Jan. 1, 1900, or Jan. 1, 1901?

ANSWER: To understand the final answer when we give it, let's go back to the first century (picture, upper left). It's easy to understand that our counting starts Jan. 1, of the year 1, A.D.

The word "century" means 100, and as we usually use it it refers to 100 years. To make a full hundred years in this first century, you must go to the year 100 and include all of it, down to the end of Dec. 31.

Then the second century will start on the next day; but since you've used up the year 100, you must start with 101 A.D., as the beginning of the second century.

Continuing on through the years we come to the 19th century, lower left. Since it started in 1801, to get the full 100 years of a century it will have to last until Dec. 31, 1900. The day after this is the day the 20th century starts, and this has to be Jan. 1, 1901, which is the answer to the question.

You may wonder who the little character with the forked helmet is at the end of this century, on Dec. 31, 2000 A.D. Our artist said this is quite a long way off, and a lot will have happened.

Moon travel will probably be quite a regular occurrence, our artist didn't know what the well dressed moon-gor will be wearing in the year 2000, but he had fun making a guess.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look ahead and try to figure out the appearance of our world in 2000 A.D. Draw your idea of a car of that time, also a house. What will boys' and girls' clothes be like?

Confidentially, His Name Is a Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Don't ask OGP-0002 what he did last weekend. It's a secret.

Just about everything OGP-0002 does nowadays is secret.

Who's OGP? Not a Central Intelligence Agency operative. Nor even a British secret agent. He's Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y.

After looking around the Armed Services Committee, of which he is a member, Pike decided he needed a secret title, such as OGP-0002, when he found so many things secret.

After seeing the word "secret" stamped everywhere, Pike did a little investigating. He found that during the two years of the last Congress, the Armed Services Committee held 127 meetings, mostly secret. Subcommittees held 239 more meetings, many "even more secret."

NO IDEAS

Pike said the only thing he knows about a subcommittee concerned with the Central Intelligence Agency is who is on it. He said he doesn't have any idea what the group does.

The Congressman also points to the first page of testimony before his own subcommittee by Army Secretary Stephen Ailes. It was stamped in red ink "secret" at the top, "secret" at the bottom.

Pike revealed the entire page: "Stephen Ailes was born in Romney, W.Va., the son of Eugene E. Ailes and Sally Cornwell Ailes. He spent his boyhood in Scarborough, N.Y., where he attended the Scarborough school."

Pike says it went on in this vein for a full secretive page. "The heart grows faint at the

Bandit Kept Informed on Off-Robbed House

HEEMSTEDE, Holland (UPI) — A bandit who broke into an often-robbed house found this note awaiting him: "This house has been broken into four times already. Jewelry and money are not here any more. Do keep things tidy. Thank you."

The intruder carefully and tidily searched the house, found nothing — and left.

Report a New Cancer Drug

Yet to Be Proved Useful for Humans

DETROIT (AP) — Development of a new type of experimental anticancer agent — a chemical with molecular "clars" — was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

The synthetic drug has proved effective in destroying or slowing a wide variety of cancers in animals. It has yet to be proved useful in man.

It's a new form of a class of chemicals known as thioselenocarbonyls, and is dubbed "KTS" for short. It has an unusual ability to pick up, or "chelate," certain trace minerals present in the body, such as copper, in a clawlike action. It apparently needs copper to give it antitumor activity.

Tests of whether it would be safe for use in man have been started in a few presumably hopeless cases of cancer, reported Dr. Harold G. Petering of the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo.

PRELIMINARY TESTS

But Petering said at a news conference at the 149th national ACS meeting that the human tests being conducted at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., are only preliminary ones to evaluate safety.

He indicated that the tests are not expected to provide any gauge of whether the substance would be effective against cancer in man.

Petering elaborated on a formal report he and researcher Garret J. Van Gieson, also of Upjohn, prepared for the meeting.

The scientist said, in answer to a question, that the research left unanswered questions, including exactly how the drug works against animal tumors.

Brothers Meet Again After 54-Year Lapse

WITHERLEY, England (UPI) — Ernest Wilson, aged 69, didn't recognize the man who walked slowly up to his cottage here until he said, "Hello, brother." Then he shook hands with 83-year-old Joe Wilson, of New York, who was making a surprise visit home after 54 years away.

More Trooper Training

EAST LANSING (AP) — A group of 74 State Police troopers will report back to the East Lansing headquarters April 26 for five weeks of advanced training. This follows a period of field experience for the probationary troopers.

Wall, Casper Masters on Greens

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
AUGUSTA, Ga.—If putting is the primary factor to victory in the 28th Masters golf tournament, starting today at Augusta National golf course, then add the names of Art Wall Jr. and Billy Casper with their hot putters to the list of strong contenders.

Casper, who has been dropping his putts on the 12-tournament winter circuit faster than the 30 pounds he dropped from his frame since last summer, and Wall, whose putter made him, king of the recent Caribbean tour, have been handling the monstrous Augusta greens in practice rounds in unerring fashion.

Yesterday the regulation courses were closed at 2:30 p.m., ending all practice rounds, but that didn't stop Wall or Casper.

The two veterans of the PGA tour took part in the nine-hole feature tournament on the par-three course and the greens, although smaller but just as tricky, were handled in stride. Wall won the short course tournament with a record breaking seven-under par 20, while Casper used his putter to shoot a 23.

Both commented they were very happy with their putting and it was obvious why.

Wall dropped seven birdie putts and took pars on the fourth and sixth holes in his par-three round of 20, while Casper hit five pars and four birdies in his nine.

In his regulation practice round on Tuesday, Wall took medal honors with a 66 and included was the 38th hole-in-one of his career. Casper's unofficial practice round score was 68.

HIGH GREENS

When they take to the high regulation greens in the opening round today the results may be different, but at any rate while some of the other players in the 91-man field have been brooding over their game on the greens, Wall and Casper start the tournament with a greater degree of confidence because of their putting.

as keen about his putting thus far. "I'm happy with the weather, the condition of the course, but oh, my putting . . ."

Jack Nicklaus didn't blame it all on putting. He said, "My short game has been sloppy." Tony Lema, who would like to wear the green jacket of the Masters champion for the first time, went into detail to point out why the winner would have to "lame the monsters" (referring to the greens) to win the 1965 crown.

"This course doesn't demand flawless driving and you have more room on the fairways for more margin of error to let you get by with some sloppy drives. But the greens are so undulating and so fast that you can wind up three and four putting if your irons don't get you close to that flag.

"It wouldn't surprise me to hear someone hit 18 greens and finish with an 82. I hope it's not me," he added.

The first two some given the honorary starting spots to hit the first tee shots at 9:36 a.m. were 80-year-old Jack Hutchison, 1920 PGA champion and 82-year-old Fred McLeod, the 1908 USGA Open champion.

Neither will continue through the tournament, although McLeod did go the 72-hole route at the age of 81 last year.

FOREIGN CHAMPS

In the field are 56 U.S. pros, 16 U.S. amateurs and 19 foreign champions.

All 17 living Masters champions are in the tournament. And as has been traditional, each former champ is paired with an amateur in the opening round.

It is also customary that each foreign pro entered be paired with the featured of today's twosomes including Casper and Bruce Crampton; Wall and Ed Updegraff; Ken Venturi and Billy Campbell; Sam Snead and Billy Joe Patton; Nicklaus and Ed Tutwiler; Palmer and Charles Coe.

The officials of Augusta National announced yesterday that 25,000 admission tickets at $5 each would be sold today and Friday, but that the limit of 50,000 tickets for Saturday and Sunday at $7.50 each are gone and visitors should be warned not to try to gain admission.

Hobbled Red Wings Set for Fourth Tilt

AUGUSTA, Ga.—In 28 past Master's golf classics since 1934, the shot that is always recalled by the greats of the game as the most memorable in the tournament's history took place in 1935. "There are at least 10,000 people who claim to have seen the shot, but there weren't more than 200 people around the green," said 63-year-old Gene Sarazen, who has spent the last 30 years relating his famous double eagle on the 15th hole at Augusta National Course.

The hole was 485 yards at that time compared to the 520-yard distance today. Craig Wood the tournament leader was already in the clubhouse with a 282 total, and Sarazen, the only one close enough to catch him still seemed too far away to do it.

He needed three strokes to beat Wood. As he came down the 15th fairway following his 250 yard tee shot, Sarazen turned to his caddy and asked, "Stove Pipe, what do I need to win?"

"Well, Mr. Sarazen, you'll need a couple birdies to catch him," replied Stove Pipe.

With Stove Pipe's approval, Sarazen took his 4-wood out of his bag to go for the remaining 225-yards. At the same time he went for his club, he rubbed his hand over Stove Pipe's near-the-scalp hair.

He explained later that a ring he had picked up in Mexico had been lucky for him so he rubbed it over Stove Pipe's head. The 4-wood shot stayed low, hitting the front of the green.

BALL ROLLED IN

The small gallery went wild: They even said one spectator ran onto the green, took the flag, and covered the hole with his hat. "But that wasn't true," said Sarazen.

"But I knew from the excitement the ball had rolled in," he added.

He ultimately tied Wood with 282 and then won the Masters in a playoff round.

It was his first attempt at the Masters and the only one he has ever won, but in his 17 past appearances in this famous classic and of the many other great tournaments he played in, the double-eagle of 1935 has been recorded as one of classic shots in U.S. golf history.

DITTOES FROM THE MASTERS

Of the leading money winners in the modern era of golf, which historians say goes from 1947 to the present, there is only one absentee at the 1965 Masters.

The missing golfer is Ted Kroll, currently the head pro at Franklin Hills. According to the PGA records of "modern era" money winners, Kroll stands 12th with a career total of $257,964.44.

Kroll turned pro in 1937 and was a touring regular through 1949.

Since then, he has been only a part-time tour player. His biggest check was the $50,000 in the famous World Tournament at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter in 1956.

OLSM Thinclads Win; 'Hard' Loss for Hawks

Orchard Lake St. Mary received a record breaking performance as the Eagles opened defense of their Catholic League track championship with an 80% to 20% over St. Theresa.

Ortonville gave Lake Penton a "hard time" as the Hawks lost a triangular meet 53% to 43%. Hartland scored 29 points.

AAU Picks 2 Swimmers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rick Girdler, a 100-yard freestyler from Mountain Lake, N. J., and 300-yard freestyler Michael Burton of Sacramento, Calif., have been selected by the AAU Men's Swimming Committee to represent the U.S. in an international meet at Brussels Saturday.

He won the broad jump in 20-5/4, the 100 in 11.4 and the 220 in 24.7. He also anchored the winning 880 relay team which was clocked in 1:41.2 over a damp, slow track.

OLSM's mile relay team of Dick Hopkinson, Bob Wojtylski, John Dziuba and Bill Donahoe was first in 3:56.4. Greg Mackie, Dick Mrozinski and Bill Halvargis joined Stec on the 880 quartet.

Other OLSM winners were Mackie, 440 in 56.7; Hopkinson, 380 in 2:18.7; Frank Sankowski, shot, 44-5; and Larry Coffee, pole vault, 9-0.

WET TRACK

Ortonville's track was too wet and muddy so the meet with Lake Penton and Hartland was moved to the much harder asphalt parking lot. The pole vault and broad jump were not run.

Winning for Ortonville were Wayne Wells, mile, 5:15; Gary Buttr, 440 in 60.1; and Joe Slaughter, 80 hurdles, 24.1.

Chicago Six Readies Bid to Even Series

CHICAGO (U)—The first round Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs between the Chicago Black Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings resume Thursday night with the host Hawks seeking to square the best-of-7 series at two games each.

The Hawks will again be pinning their hopes on Bobby Hull, who looked like anything but a hobbled hockey player Tuesday when he contributed two goals in Chicago's 5-2 victory.

The two tallies raised Hull's playoff goal production to five in three games and signs of bad knees that sidelined the Golden Jet periodically during the second half of the regular season were absent.

After Tuesday's battle, Tommy Ivan, Hawk manager, declared, "I think he's passed the test," referring to Hull's knees.

Also in good health for the vital game will be defenseman Pete Piloni and young center Phil Esposito. Both were pronounced fit after showing no signs of earlier ailments in Tuesday's game.

WINGS CLIPPED

On the other hand, four Red Wings will not be available to Coach Sid Abel Thursday. Ron Murphy, ex-Hawk, re-injured his shoulder in Tuesday's tough tilt while Doug Barkley was yanked from the line-up after sustaining a groin injury.

Both Gary Bergman and Val Fonteyne were left in Detroit to recover from injuries suffered in the playoff opener.

THE HAWKS, WITH SIX ROOKIES

On their roster, are hoping the endurance of youth will start showing as the series moves into later games which will, of older, playoff-wise Wings.

However, the Detroit veterans gave no indication of slowing down Tuesday as 42-year-old Ted Lindsay scored both Wing goals. Only Norm Ullman, who led the league in goals, with 42 over the regular season, showed signs of the long season.

MIKITA STARS

Ullman was outplayed for the first time in the series by Stan Mikita, who beat him out for the regular season scoring trophy. Abel seemed confident despite the defeat Tuesday. "They still have to beat us in Detroit to win the series," he said.

Detroit won the first two games of the series on home ice to take a 2-0 lead in the series. After tonight's fourth game, the teams return to Detroit for the fifth game.

Abel ordered no practice for his squad after the loss. Several Hawks skated Wednesday at the team's retreat in Rockton.

ROK Grid Coach Joins Iowa Staff

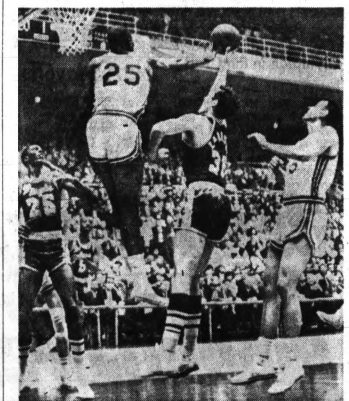

Prentice (Pin) Ryan, highly successful football coach at Royal Oak Kimball, is moving to the University of Iowa as an assistant.

Ryan, 36, will become back-slash coach. He replaces Andy MacDonald who resigned to take the head coaching post at Arizona State. Jerry Burns is the head coach at Iowa.

Ryan has coached for eight years at Kimball.

Goalies Canadian's Target?

TORONTO (U)—Johnny Bower got a tongue-lashing from his coach last season for going to the assistance of an injured opponent.

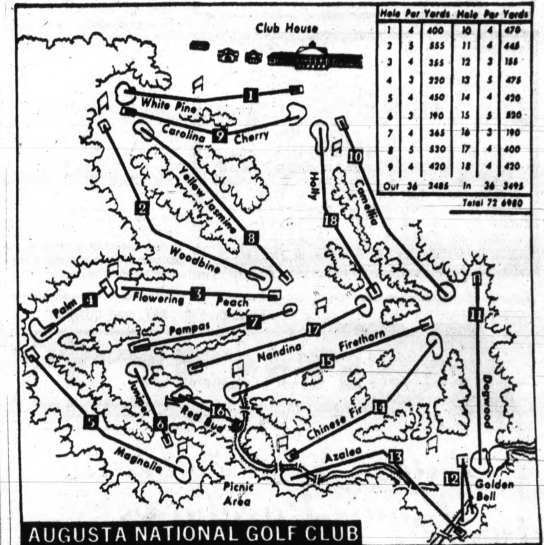

It created quite a stir in the Toronto Maple Leafs' camp at the time. The veteran goalie talked back to Punch Imlach and the angry coach barred the club's dressing room to reporters when the incident was made public.

Imlach, long since reconciled with the press, explained the incident Wednesday as the Leafs worked out for tonight's fourth game of their Stanley Cup semifinal against the Montreal Canadiens. He wasn't objecting to the principle of Bower's kindly act but to the man involved.

The player whose collision with the end boards precipitated the incident was John Ferguson, the Montreal right winger, who was a stick boy for Vancouver of the Western League when Bower played for them 11 years ago.

The 40-year-old netminder is no longer happy about the way Ferguson handles a hockey stick.

Tigers Packing Gear

Ailing Bailey Howell Puts Punch in Bullets' Attack

BALTIMORE (AP)—The pressure didn't bother Bailey Howell. He was so relaxed, he was floating.

After undergoing intensive treatment and taking pills to relax his back muscles, the veteran Baltimore cormoran led the Bullets to a 122-115 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night.

Although he was a doubtful starter until two hours before game time, Howell scored 29 points and grabbed 17 rebounds and survived 40 minutes of punishing basketball without further aggravating his old back injury.

The come-from-behind triumph gave Baltimore its first victory in the National Basketball Association's best-of-7 Western Division final playoff.

The Lakers had taken the first two games of the series in Los Angeles.

A muscle spasm in pre-game practice kept Howell out of the second game against Los Angeles.

For two hours Tuesday and more than three hours Wednesday, Howell was given the works—ice massage, heat, ultra sound waves, diathermy, whirlpool, pills and more pills. But not until he worked out at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, did Bailey decide to attempt playing.

Flags goalie Norm Jacques scored the first shutout of the playoffs, blocking 3 shots on goal.

Player-coach Lloyd Maxfield and Jerry Moore each hit two goals to spark the Flags attack. Ken Gribbons and Garry Ross each netted one.

The series moves to Des Moines Friday night for the sixth game.

6-Run Inning Aids 9-4 Win Over NY Mets

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' exhibition season concluded Wednesday and left some players in good spirits and all packing suitcases.

Sluggo Al Kaline was one of the happiest as he slammed his third home run in five games, leading the Tigers to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets.

The Detroit onslaught started in the second inning with Kaline's four-bagger, Don Wert and Dick McAuliffe followed, driving in two runs each.

Winning pitcher Mickey Lolich, Jerry Lumpe and Norm Cash drove in runs in the fifth to boost the Tiger total to nine.

EXPECTED BACK

First string catcher Bill Freehan went into a hospital Wednesday with a back injury. Tiger officials said the injury was not serious and Freehan is expected to be with the team Friday for the trip to Atlanta.

The Tigers will open the regular season Monday at Kansas City after finishing up the Grapefruit circuit with an 11-13 record.

Purdue Hires W. Va. Coach

Ex-Pro Cager King Succeeds Ray Eddy

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — George King, a 700 winner at West Virginia, moved into a 500 situation as head basketball coach at Purdue and started assessing Boilermaker prospects today.

King, 36, former National Basketball Association player who won 102 games and lost 43 in five years as coach of the Mountaineers, was named to succeed Ray Eddy at Purdue Wednesday night.

BROKE EVEN

Eddy stepped out as coach a month ago after 15 seasons, during which the Boilermakers won 176 games and lost 164. They broke even last season at 12-12 but were only 5-9 in the Big Ten.

King said assistant Joe Sexton and freshman coach Bob King will stay at Purdue. Both had been mentioned as being under consideration for the top job.

King said his contract calls for "more than one year," but its duration and his salary were not disclosed. Eddy's salary was $15,000 a year.

Future Bright for Local Cyclists

A membership that includes five of last year's high-scoring Central Michigan Scrambles Association point producers boosts the hopes for a banner first year by the Pontiac Comp Team motorcycle club.

The club was reorganized last fall and has approximately 30 members at present. It will be competing every weekend now until next fall, and some members may race into December.

A few members did some ice racing this winter but most of them rebuilt their motorcycles during the off season. The club meets every other Saturday night.

President Art (Butch) Bentley was second last season in amateur class competition and vice president Howard Lovett ninth.

Detroit Attorney Heads Golf Group

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — George Hagarty, a Detroit corporation lawyer, was elected president of the American Seniors Golf Association Wednesday.

Other officers: Jack Russell of Clearwater, vice president; Ogden Risley, Excelsior Springs, Mo., Treasurer; and Edwin Titus, Grand Blanc, Mich., secretary.

Larry Brown, who was seventh as an amateur last year, has moved into the expert class along with club members Dennis Atherton (fifth rated) and Bob Spangler (15th).

The latter, however, was limited by injuries and is considered a top prospect for leading the association this summer. Other officers are Pete Crawford, secretary, and Brian Marchewka, treasurer.

The Pontiac Comp Team will enter the races this Sunday at Mustang Acres, Brighton. Additional details for motorcycle fans are available from Ray Pace at FE 2-9769.

Astros Test Stadium

Dome Flies Disappearing

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros agree a thrown and batted ball behaves in the $31.6 million Harris County Domes "fantastic" but he added, "It may be hard to catch a fly ball."

But catching it can present a problem.

The Astros tested the multi-purpose stadium for the first time in force Wednesday with batting practice and an intra-squad game.

During the afternoon batting practice most of the Astros had trouble catching pop and fly balls as the sun penetrated the dome and reflected against the bright center field seats.

Another intra-squad game is scheduled this afternoon as the Astros want to familiarize themselves as much as possible with their new home before they introduce indoor major league baseball with a six-game Friday to Monday exhibition and league opening schedule.

FIRST GAME

Houston and the New York Yankees open the stadium Friday night and the Astros play Baltimore Saturday afternoon and Sunday night and the Yankees against Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Houston and Philadelphia play the league opener Monday night.

During the batting practice, the players had trouble tracking the ball against the gridwork of the skylights and girders of the roof.

General Manager Paul Richards and Field Manager Luman Harris both said they felt the matter could be corrected without difficulty.

Richards said the lights would be turned on for the intra-squad game this afternoon.

"I think it will be all right," he said.

Banks Starts 13th Campaign

Cubs Aging Star Continues to Shine

By United Press International
At an age when most ball-players have lost their youthful optimism and enthusiasm for the game, Ernie Banks acts like the eternal rookie.

The 34-year-old Banks, preparing for his 13th National League season, still insists that his Chicago Cubs could win the pennant despite the fact that the lowly Brubs haven't even finished in the first division during the past 18 years.

And while most aging veterans slowly go through the motion of the spring training ritual of confidence that their jobs are secure, the Cubs' slim slugger tackles the task with the zest and hustle of a first-year man trying to stick with the club.

As a result, Banks, who holds the major league career record for home runs by a shortstop, usually wastes no time in settling into mid-season form.

If his spring is any indication of his regular season play, the likeable Ernie could wind up as the All-Star first baseman.

Banks shifted to first on a permanent basis in 1962 and since that time has been plagued by a series of illnesses and injuries which have dropped him far below his peak form of 1958 and 1959 when he won the Most Valuable Player award.

All signs point to a renaissance this season, however, as Banks has been hitting at a .392 clip with four home runs.

Ernie, who needs only 24 homers in 1965 to reach the 400 plateau, collected a triple and single Wednesday in Chicago's 8-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

FIFTH BLAST

Billy Williams, the Cubs' outfielder whose whiplash swing reminds many people of Banks' form, rocked his fifth circuit of the training period while Doug Clemens added two doubles and a single to the Chicago attack, which figures to scare a few teams this year.

Hard-luck Tracy Stallard, who gained a dubious sort of fame by serving the first home run ball to Roger Maris in 1961 and then had the misfortune to labor for the New York Mets where he promptly became a 20-game loser, encountered more misfortune with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stallard hurled six shut-out innings in the Cards' 6-4 defeat of the Philadelphia Phillies, but was decked by Richie Allen's drive which hit him in the groin and forced him to leave the game.

Pete Richert, an ex-Dodger making the most of his new surroundings with the Washington Senators, pitched three scoreless innings to preserve Bennie Daniels' 5-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Don Blasingame and Ed Brinkman collected three hits apiece to pace the Nats' 13-hit attack.

ski limited the Bombers to eight scattered hits in a 4-1 triumph for the Milwaukee Braves.

Felipe Alou and Mack Jones slugged solo homers for the lame-duck Milwaukee team.

Hasler Lake Stocked With Browns, Bass

Hasler Lake, on the Genesee-Lapeer County line north of Goodrich, has been stocked with 20,000 brown trout and 10,000 black bass.

The lake was poisoned out last fall because of a heavy concentration of carp. A weir across the lake's outlet is designed to keep carp from using the lake.

Bowlers to Induct Detroit Gibson

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The induction of Thern Gibson of Detroit, as the 29th member of the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame will highlight action in the 62nd annual ABC tournament here this evening.

Gibson has an outstanding ABC record which includes three team titles, four team all events championships and a 198 average for 27 years.

He also has rolled six 1900 all events totals, a feat equalled by just one other man in history, Ed Lubanski, also of Detroit.

Following his induction, the living members of the Hall of Fame will compete in a special match to highlight the actual competition on the lanes.

Dick Weber Scores at 226 Clip for 16

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Pre-tournament favorite Dick Weber of St. Louis took the lead at the end of the first full day's competition Wednesday in the $100,000 Firestone Professional Bowlers Association Tournament of Champions.

Weber, who is leading the current money race with a total of $27,840 for the year, moved up from fourth place to replace Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., as the first day leader.

In his second game of the evening block, Weber strung together 10 straight strikes before leaving a 4-6 split in the 11th frame, finish with 287. He finished with an 1848 block.

Pro Players Huddle With NFL Owners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The player pension fund and its administration is expected to come under fire Friday when National Football League owners meet with their player representatives in what one official described as "an exchange of ideas."

Players want representation on the pension board, now made up of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and two businessmen not connected with football. They are Ted Etherington, president of the American Stock Exchange, and Clyde Vandenberg, a California public relations executive.

Friday's meeting at the plush Ivanhoe Hotel is the outcome of a request made last January when players asked for a meeting between six of their representatives and six owners. The players said they wanted to discuss certain proposals to be presented to the owners.

The club owners' answer was that this could be accomplished at the regular meeting in February at Palm Springs, Calif. After that confab, each owner invited his player representative to meet with the 14 owners and Rozelle.

ROZELLE OBJECTS

Ordell Brasse of the Baltimore Colts, president of the players' group, wanted the meeting to include Creighton Miller, the players' attorney, but Rozelle objected, saying this would make the meeting unwieldy.

Brasse withdrew his request with the comment, "It's time for them (the owners) to give a little, too."

Also expected to come up is the NFL Playoff Bowl game between runner-up teams. Last January this game, played in Miami's Orange Bowl between the St. Louis Cardinals and Green Bay Packers, added $160,000 to the pension fund.

Student Featured on Wrestling Card

The Student will tangle with the Destroyer in the feature bout on Saturday night's professional wrestling card.

Three other bouts are listed on the schedule: Don Barnes vs. Don Duffy; Bernie Dunn vs. Pete Ludwick; and Bill Norris vs. Francis Renault.

The first match starts at 8:30 at the National Guard Armory on Water Street.

Virginia Golfer Trips Seniors' Champion

CLEARWATER, Fla. — E. D. Gunter of Richmond, Va., who downed the defending champion in Wednesday's round, goes up against Jack Russell of Clearwater, Fla., today in the quarter-finals of the 31st annual American Seniors Golf Tournament.

Gunter beat Robert Kiersky of Pittsburgh, Pa., 3 and 2 Wednesday at the 6,367-yard, par-71 west course of the Belleview-Biltmore Hotel at Belleair.

Roger Maris Will Instigate $100,000 Suit

Yankee Outfielder Cleared of Charges in Bar Rhubarb

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Roger Maris, acquitted of a charge he slugged a man in a bar fight last week, said he had decided to sue for more than $100,000.

"I did not swing at anybody," the New York Yankee outfielder told Municipal Court Wednesday. "I was shoved from behind and thrown against the plaintiff. That was all."

After the judge found him innocent and he rushed to a spring training game, Maris announced he was going to file a civil suit against his accuser, Jerome Modzelewski, a 25-year-old male model.

Modzelewski, who divides his time between agencies here and in Chicago, also has pressed charges against Cleve Boyer, h' Yankees' third baseman.

That trial is set for May 11. A bartender said he was trying to quiet Boyer "when the bang happened. That's when Boyer hit him (Modzelewski)." Burns and another witness said they did not see Maris take a swing.

LEAVING BAR

Modzelewski and his red-haired companion, 21-year-old Angela Della Vedova of Sudbury, Ontario, testified that the rhubarb started when they were leaving Nick's Bar the night of April 1.

Modzelewski said he heard an objectionable remark — so objectionable that it was not allowed in testimony — directed at him from the ballplayers' table.

"I asked Mr. Boyer for an apology," Modzelewski said. He went on:

"Boyer said, 'let's go out and fight.'"

"I said, 'I don't want to fight. I'm here for an apology.'"

"Maris said, 'get out of here. Who do you think you are?'"

Modzelewski said the pair then "ushered me out the door" and outside "the arms of both men came flailing."

Maris said he first noticed Modzelewski as he was talking to Boyer inside the lounge.

'LITTLE MAD'

"I looked at Cleve and I could see he was getting a little mad," Maris said. He said he was pushed toward the front door and when he got outside he "tried to stop what was . . . happening."

Instead of taking a punch, Maris said he pulled one person off Modzelewski. He also denied that he said, "let's go get him."

"I think I'm big enough if I wanted to get him, I could," Maris said.

Judge Arnold Grevior dismissed the charge. "There is a reasonable doubt as to what happened," he said.

It took 11 stitches to close a cut on Modzelewski's mouth.

Warm Weather Signaling End of Ski Season

By The Associated Press

Arrival of sunny spring weather virtually ended the skiing season in Michigan.

Among many announcements of resort closings for the season, only a few Michigan ski areas reported enough snow remaining to stay open.

In West Michigan, resorts open were Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs, which had a 20-inch base and reported good spring skiing, and Boyne Mountain Lodge near Boyne Falls, 48-inch base and good spring skiing.

The East Michigan Tourist Association reported the Skyline Ski Club near Roscommon was open, with an 8-inch base and good corn snow skiing.

Contender's Role for Utica Nine

(EDITOR'S NOTE—his is the 10th and last article in a series discussing the area high school baseball prospects. Today the independent prep teams.)

By JERE CRAIG

Among the area schools that either do not compete in a league or try in a loop oriented outside the county area, Utica has developed the reputation as one of the very fine baseball schools.

The Macomb County nine has another strong contender for Bi-County League honors after being at the top for the past five or six seasons.

Coach Bob Dilday has senior right-hander Dave McIntosh who was unbeaten in six decisions last year, and two promising juniors, Dennis Budzyn and Herb Doebler, to form the pitching staff.

An unbeaten junior variety last year will advance several talented prospects to fit in with returning infielders Tom Orlovsky, third base; Alex Ginglowski, shortstop; and Roger Schroeder, first base.

Royal Oak Shrine has its hopes up for one of its better diamond entries in the Detroit Catholic League.

The key performer for the Knights should be pitcher-shortstop Dennis Bienkowski, a strong hitter with a good arm.

His brother Bob, a junior, will do the catching. Dave Yeager, a sophomore, will alternate positions with Dennis. Outfielder Roger Schium should add power to the attack.

CATCHING VOID

Country Day School of Birmingham has indications that it will field one of its best teams in many seasons. The only serious void to fill from last year's 8-4 team is behind the plate.

Both Gary Hourihan, a lefty, and Al Sothman, a right-hander, are back. Solid hitting Mike Dunn returns at first base, and the initial sack will be covered by 6-3, 220-pound Mark Greenstone. Henry Sobell returns with Sothlin at the keystone.

Hopes were high at Ortonville for a fine season this spring by the Brandon Black Hawks, but recent developments are causing coach Bob Harvey to do some patch work on the lineup.

Particularly affected was the infield. The corners are in good hands: Don Wagner at first base and Joe Maxwell at third both were regulars last year. But all-league outfielder Gary Pangus is moving to shortstop and second base is wide open.

Center fielder Les Saunders is a fine leadoff batter, and catcher Tom Rexford should help pitchers Jerry Richard and Jerry Ashby.

LONG REIGN

At Inlay City, coach Lyle Powers will end a long reign in the school's athletic program with his 17th baseball season. The veteran mentor does not have much hope of repeating last year's South Central League title.

The pitching will be built around Roger Benheim who won four of the 10 (in 11 games) title victories last year. The team's strong points are center fielder Gary Timmer and first baseman Bill Hoeksema.

GOP Yells 'Rubber Stamp'

Dems Push for Health Bill OK Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders, ignoring Republican charges of "rubber stamp," press today for passage by midnight of a $6-billion health care-Social Security bill.

Republicans concentrated their efforts on a preliminary vote, expected late today, on substituting for the bill President Johnson backs one introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

The Byrnes bill is similar in most respects to the administration measure, but would not provide payroll tax increases to finance a hospital benefit for the aged. Instead, the bill would provide higher payments by participants and general Treasury subsidy.

Democrats, however, said they have the votes to pass the administration version overwhelmingly.

"The Congress of the United States has become a rubber stamp," Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Wednesday in a speech complaining that the bill had not been given adequate airing in public hearings.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, defended the bill against charges that it would impair professionalism in medical practice.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., a physician, said it would lead to destruction of the doctor-patient relationship and overcrowding of hospitals.

But Mills said the committee had taken pains to prevent any government infringement on traditional professional practices, requiring in the bill that a private agency, such as Blue Shield, be engaged to handle relations with the medical profession.

"There is no intention whatever to tell doctors what they may charge a patient, or to tell a patient to go to Dr. X rather than Dr. Y," Mills insisted.

Mills also took issue with

Byrnes' description of his bill as a more economical one. He said there was no question the services contemplated in the legislation would cost money, but there was no magic way of reducing the cost by one financing method rather than another.

The legislation, which would accomplish the greatest single expansion of Social Security since the system was established, would provide hospitalization for all those 65 and older, with the patient paying the first $40; an optional $3 a month plan of health insurance for doctors' bills and incidentals; a 7 per cent increase in old age Social Security payments and enlargement and liberalization of programs of federally aided state medical help for the needy.

Majority of Norwegians Caught in Inflationary Spiral, Try for Economic Survival

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegian housewives, plagued by increasing prices, take a trip abroad to save household money. Thousands of them make the 24-hour round-trip voyage to neighboring Denmark to stock up the vastly cheaper Danish foodstuffs. The solution is available only to those Norwegians within easy reach of the southern ports, however. Most of the 3½ million population must struggle for economic survival in a price-wage inflationary spiral. The price index, on which wage adjustments are decided, has soared from 100 in 1959 to 129.8 today. There has just been another round of wage increases with some salaried workers getting hikes of 10 per cent. Automatic and semiautomatic increases in wage rates accorded in general wage agreements will just help boost the inflation spiral in months to come, economists claim. Officially the index figures for incomes and prices increase at about the same speed. In practice, however, the price index is galloping ahead. The Socialist government is facing growing demands from the opposition parties for action to stop inflation. Elections are scheduled next fall and the Conservatives, Liberals, Agrarians and Christian Democrats will try to topple the government of Einar Gerhardsen. The people aboard fishing boats, behind machines and tools, counters and typewriters, are worrying. The foodstuff index — 100 in 1959 — rose to 121 last December. The meat index rose to 126 and the fish index soared to 136. Fish is one of the most important factors in every Norwegian's diet. Norway's income tax is graduated progressively, so wage increases shrink as the earnings rise. This makes many higher-paid employees prefer fringe benefits such as unlimited use of a company car or company-financed low rental housing.

Steamer With Iron Ore 1st to Clear Escanaba

CLEVELAND (AP) — The steamer E. T. Weir Wednesday became the first vessel with a cargo of iron ore to clear Escanaba, Mich., the ice committee of the Lake Carriers' Association was told.

The steamer is bound for Detroit, and two more steamers were being loaded at Escanaba, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Elephants Cause Static on Phones

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Stewart Lancaster and his fiancée, Diana Bantooherhujs, ran into an unexpected obstacle when they tried to telephone from Louisville to their parents near Cape Town, South Africa.

The callers gave up, then placed the call later without difficulty.

Happy Feeling in Hollywood

Awards Turnout Best in Years

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Academy aftermath. "Isn't it marvelous? Isn't it beautiful?" Bob Hope rhapsodized as he gazed over the glittering throng at the Oscar Ball. "They all came out. That's what is so great about it, they all came out."

Indeed, it seemed as though Hollywood's entire galaxy, from Francis X. Bushman to Sandra Dee, had turned out to show there was life in the old town yet. There was a happy feeling in the air, both at the awards telecast in Santa Monica's civic auditorium and at the ball in the Beverly Hilton's International Ballroom.

Not since the prewar era when awards were given at dinner parties in hotel ballrooms had there been so much community spirit. The optimistic feeling wasn't even dampened by the selection of four foreigners for the acting awards. Hollywood now claims Julie Andrews as its own, and Rex Harrison and Peter Ustinov have long worked here.

COMPLETE SURPRISE

There was the usual Tuesday morning quarterbacking about some aspects of the awards. Much of it centered on the choice of Peter Ustinov for best supporting actor. No one questions the skill of his comic invention as the all-thumbs jewel heister in "Topkapi." But was he in support?

"Who was he supporting?" asked Jack Palance. "He had as big a role as anyone in the picture."

Another bit of drama was almost passed over in the rush of major awards at the end of the program. It was a message from Patricia Neal, last year's best actress, now convalescing from strokes: "I am sorry I am unable to be with you tonight. I send my love to all."

The movie industry would be lucky if it could provide as good a show next year.

Ex-Calvin Prof Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Funeral service will be held Friday for Dr. John P. Van Hallama, 81, professor emeritus of biology at Calvin College, who died Tuesday night following a brief illness. Dr. Van Hallama retired in 1955 after 46 years of teaching at Calvin.

Begin Fire Probe in Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The state fire marshal's office was scheduled to begin investigating today the fire which destroyed a house belonging to Wil Branscomb, president of the Benton Harbor chapter of the NAACP.

The fire occurred Wednesday. Branscomb and his family moved out of the house after it was partially destroyed by fire Feb. 11. Authorities said the February fire may have been caused by faulty wiring.

A neighbor, told firemen Wednesday s' heard a noise shortly after she discovered the blaze. She said she saw a man run from the house and drive away.

Find Burning Cross; 11th in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — A burning cross, the 11th burning or charred cross found in the Detroit area since last weekend, was set afire in the backyard of Frank Prusinowski's home Wednesday night.

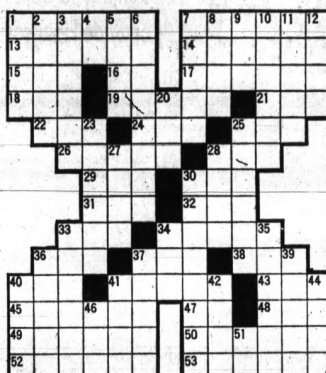

Prusinowski said he was told of the cross by a neighbor. He said he went out and extinguished it with a bucket of water. He could give no reason for the burning.

Cabbies Forced Wrong 'Taxi' off the Road

ROTTERDAM, Holland (AP) — Two taxi drivers, determined to see none of their colleagues violate a strike call, forced a "cab" off the road here yesterday.

The vehicle was an unmarked police car—which gave the cab drivers a free ride to jail for "engineering traffic."

Benny Shows He's Master at Benefit Show for Selma

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jack Benny at 71 is still able to make the kids half his age say, "He's the master."

They were saying it after the great "Broadway's Answer To Selma" benefit at the Majestic, the greatest mobilization of talent since wartime. Jack had started his little performance when he suddenly stopped and said, "My God, am I doing this for NOTHING?"

Everybody there was so conscious of the high prices placed on seats, to help the times of the Selma rioting, that it was doubly funny when Jack said:

"I had a choice of either making an appearance . . . or making a donation."

Looking back on that benefit—and I've seen a few—I'd say it was unforgettable, an evening for gasping, a night of revolt . . . and quite irrelevant to a couple of spots.

Sammy Davis—who looked pretty glossy in white tie and tails when he opened the show around 8:45—had changed into a tux when he sat on a stool in the center of the Majestic stage about 5 A.M. and proclaimed the financial success of Broadway's Answer to Selma.

"The lowest count is the biggest amount anybody has ever had—$150,000!" Sammy's voice crackled out . . . and somewhere in that speech he said:

"Gov. Wallace . . . your days are numbered!"

That was one of the gasps. Another gasp came when Buddy Hackett, star of "I Had a Ball," said that a couple of the drama critics "won't like this"—and proceeded to say where (in his opinion, of course) drama critics' taste is situated. It was a most rebellious evening.

Dr. Martin Luther King had already been chauffeured to the airport by this time, to return to Selma. Birda Belafonte, who sat in the box with him, had been his chauffeur.

The Secret Service men are known in Washington as Bird-Watchers. Victor Borge commented . . . Ethel Merman cracked the walls, without a mike, when she belted great songs that were almost as loud as her short silver-sequined dress . . . Dick Shawn "praised" today's kid singers who "make their living acting like they're animals" . . . then there was Dan Dailey soft-shoeing . . . Carol Burnett and Tiger Haynes with their great charm . . . Carol Channing is something dazzlingly Italian singing a specially composed song ("This Kind of Freedom") to shrieks of "MORE."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Some of those twist, frug and watusi steps are so wild, Morty Gunty claims, that several faces won't allow premarital dancing.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Conceit is the anesthetic that nature gives a man to deaden the pain of being a darned fool."

—Anno

Victor Borge gave this advice to a young songwriter at Reuben's: "The first thing to do when you get a movie assignment is find out what key the producer sings in." . . . That's earl, brother.

Canadian Burial for Air Ace

DETROIT (AP)—The body of an American World War I fighter ace—who in his last years had to battle near-poverty—will be buried Friday on Commonwealth territory, in nearby Windsor, Ont.

R. E. Dodds was a dashing young pilot for the Royal Flying Corps who shot down 11 German planes with his De Havilland biplane.

To thousands on both sides of the Atlantic his name became a household word when King George of Great Britain honored Captain Dodds with the Distinguished Flying Cross—one of the nation's highest decorations—after a bombing raid on the German lines in France.

Last Friday, Dodds died at the age of 72 in his small boarding house room in Detroit, victim of a heart ailment. The boarding house manager said he did not know of any relative of Dodds.

UNCLAIMED

His body lay unclaimed in the Wayne County Morgue for four days.

Funeral services were finally arranged by the Canadian Legion of Detroit. Burial will be at Victoria Memorial Cemetery. A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Dodds enlisted in 1916. After training in Toronto and England, he was assigned to duty on the Western front on Dunkirk to Soissons and elsewhere. He eventually was named a squadron commander.

Between the two world wars, Dodds sold cars in Detroit. At the start of World War II he became a pilot instructor for the Royal Canadian Air Force. He became a car salesman again after 1945. After his retirement in 1957, Dodds lived on a small Social Security pension. He was plagued by frequent illnesses.

TV Producer Expires

Romney to Get Bill on State Finances

LANSING (AP)—On its way to Gov. George Romney for signature today was a $6.8 million bill to finance state government from now until June 30.

The supplemental appropriations bill for the balance of the current fiscal year cleared its last legislative milestone Wednesday when the House agreed to a conference committee version of the bill.

The Senate had agreed Tuesday to the conference version of the beefed-up bill which had grown about $1.3 million since it left the Senate for the House the first time.

General Dies of Injury

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—Maj. Gen. John K. Hester, commander of the 17th U.S. Air Force, died today of brain injuries suffered in a parachute jump last Friday.

Shortly after the accident, surgeons performed an operation to remove a blood clot and relieve pressure on the brain.

Hester, 48, a native of Plains, Mont., was a veteran of 50 combat flying missions during World War II. He was a high Pentagon staff officer before assuming his last command over air units along the Iron Curtain.

Hester had worked closely with airborne troops of the U.S. 7th Army.

- Keeps time by the constant vibrations of a tuning fork activated electronically. It doesn't tick, it hums.
- Does away with the hairspring and balance wheel, the parts which limit the accuracy of all conventional watches.
- Just 12 moving parts. So rugged, so trouble free you can forget about usual watch maintenance and repair.
- Never, never needs winding—even off your wrist. Power cell lasts one full year.
- So astonishingly accurate it has been purchased by the U.S. Air Force for every pilot in the X-15 project.

Belcher Refutes Evidence of Responsibility for Blaze

A man accused of setting a house fire which killed his wife and six children denied on the witness stand yesterday that he had anything to do with the fatal blaze.

Harry M. Belcher, seemingly confused at times while he told his story, took the witness stand yesterday to refute key prosecution evidence in his first degree murder trial.

Juries also had a chance yesterday to visit Belcher's Ferndale home, which was gutted in an early morning fire Jan. 25.

Under questioning from his attorney, John McIntosh, Belcher slowly and deliberately told of events of the morning of the fire and afterward.

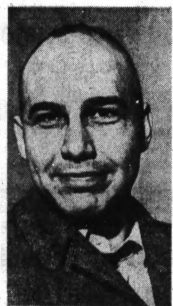

Prosecution testimony had indicated the presence of a gasoline can in the basement of the home. Witnesses also said that the 32-year-old Belcher had sev-

UNDECIDED

Asked about it, he said, "I'm at the point now where I'm undecided as to whether I had gasoline in the can."

He also could not recall being questioned by police about the can, saying, "I was under sedation at the time."

Wednesday's testimony touched briefly on Belcher's

More to Testify on Scrap Yard

A suit brought by the city and 15 residents against a Pontiac scrap yard was to enter its third trial day this afternoon.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was expected to call more residents to the stand from the neighborhood around Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., 22 Congress.

A total of 14 persons have been called so far to testify in the Circuit Court trial. Nine persons testified yesterday.

The suit contends that a metal-crushing machine used at the scrap yard is a public nuisance. Witnesses have testified to the smoke, noise and odor created by the machine's operation.

The trial opened Tuesday before Judge Frederick C. Ziern.

FUNERAL HOME

Yesterday's session saw a patron of the funeral home testify that she was disgraced by the noise from the machine during the funeral for her husband.

A former resident of the area, who sold her home to the scrap yard firm, testified that she was told she wouldn't want to live in the area because a new machine was to be installed that would make it unbearable to live there.

Judge Ziern planned an afternoon trial session today. More residents were expected to testify and sound experts were also to appear.

Close Up U-M at Flint, State Board Advises

Recommends That New 4-Year School Be Started Instead

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education recommended yesterday that rather than expand the University of Michigan Flint branch, the state should set up a brand new four-year college at Flint and close the branch.

The unanimous board action was in response to a request from the legislature for its views on U-M plans to expand its present junior-senior program at Flint to a four-year operation, starting next year.

Asked whether the recommendation meant the board had taken a policy stand against branches, Board President Thomas Brennan said: "I think the master plan will make this final determination."

The board suggested allowing the U-M to accept freshmen as planned at Flint next year — but not after that.

The freshmen could be allowed to complete all four years of undergraduate work at the U-M branch, the board suggested, but the branch should close as soon as the new college is operating.

ADVOCATED DELAY

The U-M expansion plans had sparked a controversy in which Gov. George Romney advocated delay until the board had time to work out a master plan for education in Michigan.

Romney aides said the governor would not comment on the board's recommendation until some time today.

U-M President Harlan Hatch responded last night to the board's position by issuing the following statement:

"The State Board of Education is advising the legislature. Their recommendations as indicated in the telegram to me tonight obviously will have many implications which the legislature will want to study."

EARLY STATEMENT

"The state board has said that it will issue an early statement setting forth the background and reasoning for its decision. We will be interested in studying that document. In the meantime the matter is before the legislature."

Brennan said the board hoped the legislature would act during the current session to establish the new college.

one-year romance with 20-year-old Joyce Cross of Hazel Park.

The defendant testified that he never told his wife of the relationship nor did he ever mention divorce.

AWAKENED BY SMOKE

Belcher told the court that he was awakened the morning of the fire by stifling smoke.

He said when he was unable to get out his bedroom door he threw a shoe through the bedroom window, and climbed out, assisted by neighbor Dennis Lukaski.

In an attempt to refute other evidence presented by prosecution witnesses, Belcher denied severing telephone wires in the basement of the home.

He indicated that a bruise on his wife's face was caused by an accident involving one of his sons and the butt of a toy gun.

He also implied that a defective appliance may have caused the blaze, stating he had been having trouble with a hot water heater in the basement.

Direct examination was expected to continue today. Cross-examination by assistant prosecutor James Roberts was scheduled to follow.

Tee Off at Masters

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

AUGUSTA, Ga.—With temperatures in the 80s, the 29th annual Masters Golf Classic featuring a select field of 91 golfers, got under way at Augusta National Golf Club this morning.

The honors of hitting the first tee shots on the historic par 36-36—72 course went to 80-year-old Jack Hutchinson and 82-year-old Fred McLeod, two of the great names of golf at the start of the century.

Hutchinson, former British Open Champion and winner of the PGA crown in 1920, put a small hook on his tee shot which stopped about 160 yards down the fairway, while McLeod, 1908

See Story, Page D-9

U.S. PAG Open champion, hit straight down the middle an estimated 180 yards.

All of the living 17 former Masters' champions were in the starting field today led by such famous names as Gene Sarazen, Jimmy Demaree, Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Ben Hogan and Sam Snead.

Modern era ex-champions are Art Wall Jr., Jack Burke, Cary Middlecoff, Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus and defending four-time champion Arnold Palmer.

FIFTH TRY

Palmer, trying for an unprecedented fifth Masters championship, has not been the picture of contentment in his practice rounds the past two days.

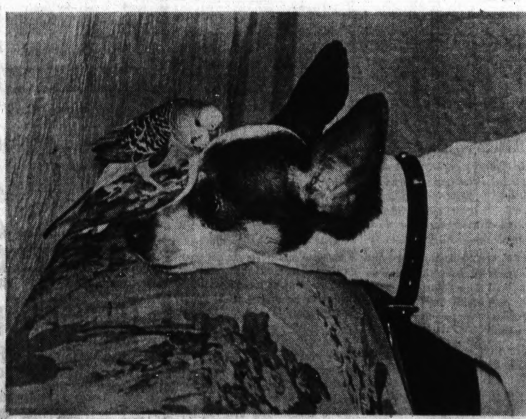

He birdied 11-12-13 in practice yesterday, but went into the lake on 14 and hit his third shot on the 53rd-yard 15th wildly over the bleachers.

He did not reveal his score but commented afterward, "If you were playing as badly as I was you wouldn't tell anyone your score either."

First regular two-some to go out at 9:12 a.m. was Mason Rudolph and Japanese pro Tomoo Ishii, who is among 19 foreign champions in the field.

Rudolph, first off the tee, also took the early lead. He birdied 2-3-4 and bogied No. 4 to finish the front nine with a three-under 33.

Proposes Giant SE Asia Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States is ready — without preconditions — to sit down at the bargaining table with the Communists to try to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam.

And even before any peace talks start, the President said last night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including Communist North Viet Nam.

As a starter, Johnson told the nation by radio and television from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, he will ask Congress to authorize a $1-billion American investment in the program.

He proposed that U.N. Secretary General U Thant launch

See Stories, Pages A-8, D-7

the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U.S. participation.

But while showing the Communist world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.

WON'T WITHDRAW

He said of U.S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam: "We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

And while he said the United States is unconditionally ready to discuss peace, he said: "Such peace demands an independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others—free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no country."

"These are the essentials of any final settlement."

Johnson said there are many approaches to a peaceful settlement of the war, that old agreements may have to be reaffirmed or strengthened with new ones.

S. Viet Naval Chief Ousted?

Bloodless Mutiny Is Staged by Officers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Young naval officers mutinied against the commander of the Vietnamese navy here tonight and it appeared the commander, Adm. Chung Tan Cang, was deposed.

There was no shooting. Vietnamese Skylanders were in the air over the Saigon waterfront where a number of naval ships were tied up, but it did not appear fighting was imminent.

There were strong indications the mutiny was condoned by other branches of the armed forces and the government itself.

One top-ranking government source said Cang had been asked several times to resign as commander of the navy but had refused to do so.

Cang was one of the closest associates of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the deposed strong man of South Viet Nam.

BLOODLESS COUP

When Khanh was ousted in a bloodless coup by his generals in February, Cang remained loyal to Khanh until the end, retreating finally with Khanh to the mountain resort of Dalat.

At the time, Cang had tried to rally his navy in support of Khanh and actually had moved most of his ships to Cape St. Jacques, a regional military headquarters on the South China Sea southeast of Saigon. But the navy refused to fight.

Cang stayed on as navy commander, creating a situation embarrassing to the whole Armed Forces Council.

Tentative County Budget Is Ready

A tentative 1966 Oakland County budget of $19,428,037—up 12.9 per cent over the current $17,218,876 budget — will be submitted to the board of supervisors Tuesday.

The budget is based on a tax rate of 5.97 mills which would yield $14,483,537 in revenue from a projected county equalized valuation figure of $2,427,684,200. Estimated receipts would yield the balance.

Expenditures in the preliminary budget include $3,666,948 in nondepartmental appropriations, $5,123,502 for departmental and institutional operation and $7,583,587 for salaries.

Due to the closing of the TB sanatorium, the 1966 budget calls for a net reduction of 86 employees, from the present 1,297 to 1,211.

A total of 154 employees were eliminated in the 1966 budget because of the facility's closing, however 68 new employees are included in the tentative budgets in various other departments.

Major personnel increases are 18 for the social welfare department, 11 for the health department.

TB Patient Ship-Out Is Called 'Crime'

Sending Oakland County tuberculosis patients outside the county was called "a crime" today by a spokesman for a group of former patients at the Oakland County TB Sanatorium.

Janet C. Dodd, speaking for the Patients Benefit Association of the TB Sanatorium, asked for public support of her group's fight against the patient transfer.

A final decision on the fate of the remaining 60 patients at the Oakland County facility is expected at Tuesday's meeting of the County Board of Supervisors.

Mrs. Dodd of 2462 Derby, Birmingham, stressed three points in citing her group's objections to the proposed transfer:

• We object to having members of a family ill with TB separated by miles.

• We take issue with the fact that taxpayers of Oakland County losing the right to say how these patients will be treated.

• We object to the large overcrowded buildings (Herman Kiefer and the Maybury Sanatorium) which reduce patients from individuals to case numbers.

Mrs. Dodd also cited the fact (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5) ment, eight in the children's home, seven for the sheriff's department and six new employees for the board of auditors.

Provision for $200,000 in salary adjustments is included in the tentative budget.

The current budget earmarks $7,426,112 for salary expenditures.

The proposed 1966 budget was recommended yesterday by a group of supervisors' ways and means committee after a two-day review of budget recommendations submitted by the board of auditors.

IF APPROVED

If approved by the board of supervisors Tuesday, it will be (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

First of Series Drivers' Class Tonight

It's back to school time for area drivers who want to do something about improving their driving skills.

Class is in session at 7:30 tonight as the Pontiac Police, the Automobile Club and the Pontiac Press open the doors for a drivers' school in Pontiac.

The first of its kind in the area, the school will be held at the city's public safety building, 110 E. Pike.

Motorists will be given instruction on such topics as driver attitude, car maintenance, speed, how to signal for turns and maneuvering, freeway driving and pedestrian safety.

The school is voluntary and each class will last 75 minutes.

2ND THURSDAY

Following tonight's special session, classes will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month.

The material offered at each class will be different — not merely a repeat of a previous session.

Tonight's school will feature a special program.

Chief William Hanger of the Pontiac Police Department and Harold Heumann, manager of the Auto Club's Pontiac Division, will address the school.

AUTO CLUB COORDINATOR

Reynier Staats, special project coordinator for the Auto Club's safety and traffic division will conduct the first night's class.

After tonight's session, Patrolman Billie Irwin of the Pontiac Police Department will conduct the school.

A take-home driving quiz and a speed and distance chart will be given to those attending tonight's session.

The school is free and all area residents are urged to attend.

Hearing Begins on Gambling

The preliminary examination of four men charged with conspiracy to gamble following a 1963 gaming raid in Pontiac was adjourned today in Municipal Court, to be continued at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Defendants Clovis Skelton, 51, of 32 W. Colgate; Ray Powell, 82½; Baldwin; Robert Barker, 312 N. Saginaw; and Ellis C. Adler, 1910 Hopefield, Orion Township, were all present at the hearing.

During the day testimony was presented by a state police detective who acted as an undercover agent prior to the July 19, 1963 raid on the Baldwin Rubber Tavern, testimony concerned events leading up to the raid.

The four men have been accused of running a bookmaking operation.

Grant Delay in Rezoning of City Land

A 30-day delay was granted a request to rezone land for a major commercial and residential development near the site of Pontiac's proposed osteopathic college.

The delay was granted by the City Planning Commission without considering the merits of the proposed rezoning.

Developer Charles L. Langs asked that the rezoning be tabled so that the feasibility of the proposed mobile home park could be studied.

Previously, Langs had asked for commercial-1, residential-3 and residential-4 zoning for property bounded by Auburn Grand Trunk Western Railroad, Clifford and Reed.

Langs plans a shopping center, multiple housing project and trailer park on the 90-acre parcel.

The rezoning will be scheduled for the planning commission's May meeting.

GM Awarded Contract
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says it has been awarded a $3,440,100 contract to continue development of a new tank in cooperation with West Germany.

Labor May Probe False IUE Vote Count

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO may probe the long-dormant ethical practices committee today to investigate the phony vote count in the race for president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

AFL-CIO President George Meany was expected to get backing from the federation's executive council if he wants to start organized labor's own inquiry into the false results submitted by union trustees.

After the Labor Department disclosed the irregularities in the mail balloting, IUE President James B. Carey resigned and the union's executive board unanimously chose Paul J. Jennings of Newark, N.J., to replace him.

Meany placed the issue at the top of the council's agenda once he got word Monday that a Labor Department recount showed Carey had lost to Jennings in the recent referendum by 23,316 votes.

Union trustees faked the tally to make it appear that Carey won a narrow victory, the federal investigators said.

Carey, an AFL-CIO vice president and council member, has denied any wrongdoing in the election.

Jennings, who had filed a lawsuit demanding that he be installed in office with back pay to Jan. 1 when Carey started his new term, said last night he would drop the litigation.

He also promised to work for unity in the IUE and said he would not hold grudges against Carey backers.

The AFL-CIO ethics committee is headed by Al J. Hayes,

No Holiday in Holiday as Homes Burn Down

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Wednesday was no holiday for Lee and John Holiday of Holiday, Utah.

Their houses, next door to each other, burned down. County Fire Chief Frank P. Jones said arson was suspected.

The houses were not occupied and no one was hurt.

Do We Dare Await Proof of Cancer Danger?

By PAT McGRADY
We live in a sea of carcinogens—cancer causers. Some of them are natural and long familiar. Others are the man-made products of modern times.

They are in the food we eat, the water and beverages we drink, the air we breathe, the habits we develop, the jobs we hold, the drugs and medical treatments we take, in radia-

They may be inside us—in the mechanics of our emotions, in the hormones we produce or fail to produce, in our inherited or accidentally disturbed cell chemistry, perhaps even in the cumulative chemical and physical injury incurred in the process of growing up and growing old.

The second difficulty lies with the suspect substances themselves. It is difficult to ascertain what constitutes a real danger to humans. Some carcinogens cause cancers in 80 or 90 per cent of one sex of animal, and virtually no cancers in littermates of the opposite sex.

The most notable instance of federal action against a carcinogen was in the famous tainted cranberry episode.

NAIVE PRESS

The government's intemperate blast in a naive press against defiant cranberry growers did not win the confidence of the public or the respect of science.

The answer to the riddle of cancer—causation may be basic—such as the possibility of some yet unknown common denominators. But important clues could lie in a number of other vague areas.

Is there, for instance, such a thing as a "house of cancer"—a house in which an inordinate number of cancer deaths have occurred?

There are a number of these eerie residences in which all or almost all unrelated tenant families for a half-century or more lost at least one member to cancer.

COINCIDENCE?

Is this sheer coincidence? Or is there something in the structure, the grounds, the air, or the water which is conducive to cancer?

Carcinogens have been recognized for almost 200 years ever since scientists traced the cause of scrotum cancer in London chimney sweeps to soot.

Some 30 years ago, it was first shown that butter yellow, a food additive, caused liver cancer in rats.

ARTIFICIAL CHEMICALS

Since then, many new carcinogens have been identified. Some are among the 800 artificial chemicals in common use, and possibly among the 50 or so introduced each year to the public.

They are called carcinogens because they cause cancers in experimental animals. Most independent scientists consider this evidence of a potential danger to man.

The path to scientific proof has many pitfalls. For instance, an appalling high lung-cancer rate is said to prevail around Anaconda, Mont., where copper smelting is virtually the sole industry.

INDUSTRY CLAIMS

There is obviously validity to the claims of industry that if we were to abandon absolutely the use of all carcinogens, life would become dreary.

We would not have, as we know them, paved roads, synthetic automobile tires, oil and gasoline, plastics of many descriptions, many metals and alloys, pesticides, insecticides, fertilizers, cosmetics, detergents, drugs, foods, dyes, and other essentials as well as time-savers, luxuries, and comforts.

Nevertheless, some scientists would ban all possible cancer-causers.

Some others urge the standard of a "safe dose." An industry spokesman has argued that many years of experimentation and study are necessary before a proved carcinogen can be labeled dangerous to humans.

HAZARDS

Yet with environmental hazards mounting and cancer deaths increasing, 10 or 21 or more years of testing is a long time for the public to wait for warnings of potentially dangerous exposures.

Many, in that time, may be done to death by agents they could have avoided had they been cautioned.

The cancer epidemic is growing. It seems hardly reasonable to ask the public and Congress to let industry and business have their way, unmolested by the press or governmental inquiry, for an entire human generation.

Americans Are Paying More for Potatoes Due to the Smallest Crop in Seven Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You with the potatoes and gravy appetite are paying more for your taste this year than Americans ever have.

It's because the nation's 1964

potato crop was the smallest in seven years — nearly 25 million 100-pound bags under the previous five-year average of 266 million bags.

All major producing areas but

Maine were hit last year by bad weather and frosts.

The acreage finally harvested — 1.3 million acres — was the smallest since 1867, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Supply and demand has boosted San Francisco retail prices to 79 cents for a five-pound sack of No. 1 Oregon Klamaths, sized from six to 14 ounces. In Idaho, land of the premium

russet baking potato, 1964 production dropped to 36.3 million bags, a decrease of 14 million from 1963.

Idaho russet bakers cost 20 cents a pound.

POTATO CHIPS
Potato chip prices have not gone up because chip makers were guaranteed their supplies at prices contracted with growers before they planted.

One market chain expects prices to start downward by mid-April. Burger said he doesn't expect a major break before mid-May.

Early Trading Is Active

Market Prices Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices moved a little higher in active trading early today.

Gains of key stocks were mainly fractional. Some of the higher priced issues rose a point or so. Many stocks showed little or no change.

Wall Street seemed to regard President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam as moderate and its effect was reassuring. Improved earnings reports from some large corporations also bolstered sentiment but the April 15 tax deadline still was cited as a dampening influence.

To View Role of Samaritan

Conference Is Slated at Chicago Tomorrow

CHICAGO (AP) — Earlier this week, two university students were driving along a Chicago-area expressway when they saw a crowd gathered on a bridge. They stopped to see what was going on.

They found 60 persons on the bridge, watching a car sink slowly into the icy Des Plaines River. Inside the car was a suburban housewife, trying vainly to get out.

The boys swam into the river and pulled the woman to safety. They were good Samaritans. They acted when the other three chose not to become involved.

The University of Chicago has called together lawyers, philosophers, psychiatrists and sociologists to meet tomorrow to discuss the role of the good Samaritan in American life.

Since the days of the Biblical good Samaritan, and long before, man has grappled with the question of his responsibility toward his fallen neighbor.

MORE MORAL

The question traditionally has been more moral than legal.

The answer through the years has been that a person who ignores the plight of his neighbor may well be a moral monster, but he has committed no legal wrong.

Law Prof. Harvey Kalven Jr. of the university, in discussing the conference, raised several questions which he said surround the basic question of a man's responsibility to his neighbor.

He said there have been only four countries that have passed legislation making a citizen legally responsible for a fallen person—Communist Russia, Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy and Vichy France.

MATURE SOCIETY

"In a society that is as mature as ours," Kalven said, "the good Samaritan really need not exist. Or do not arise so infrequently that existing frameworks can provide for them."

"Or will things ever be that perfect?" Kalven asked.

"Whatever the momentum of rescuing people has been through the ages, it appears to be breaking down recently," Kalven said. He cited the case of 29-year-old Catherine Genovese who was stabbed to death in New York one year ago when at least 38 persons ignored her cries for help.

Kalven said another question is what form assistance should be taken. He said it may be sufficient merely to notify police or other appropriate officials.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The American dollar is looking a lot healthier than it did just weeks ago. It fetches more in exchange for other currencies. It buys more gold in the free market — meaning, the price of gold has dropped. More interest in the dollar must be paid to borrow surplus dollars in Europe.

The big outflow of dollars in private capital ventures that alarmed the administration in the final months of 1964 and the first six weeks of 1965 is reported to have dropped to a trickle.

The question is: Will this turn for the better last?

Voluntary action by U.S. banks and corporations is credited with the early results. But most champions of this cooperative method of halting the flow agree that its results can only be temporary. The big problem of the U.S. balance of international payments deficit remains.

COMPLICATION

A further complication in deciding the effectiveness at the moment is that the U.S. balance usually improves in the early months of any year.

Last year the first quarter deficit dropped so sharply that some optimists thought the problem had been licked. Then in the next three months the deficit mounted rapidly. It leveled off during the summer, but by the end of the year, private capital and government

The first half of this year's opening current account was just as bad. But since President Johnson asked U.S. banks and corporations to curb the outflow, the dollar loss has been slight. The Treasury says that in 1964 U.S. bank lending to industrialized countries came to more than a billion dollars and that in the first six weeks of 1965 they crammed in another $500 million. Then on Feb. 10 the President asked for a halt. The Treasury says that in the following four weeks, the flow of bank funds was less than $5 million.

His predecessor, Douglas Dillon, says "voluntary restraint can serve as a dike for a period of time, but still farther ahead we have to look for a more basic adjustment of our international payments balance."

The new secretary of the Treasury, Henry W. Fowler, agrees that the voluntary program "cannot and should not be looked upon as a permanent program. The clear need remains to make our own economy more competitive in world markets and to encourage capital flows into the United States."

OTHER SOURCE

His predecessor, Douglas Dillon, says "voluntary restraint is working so well that by this summer or fall European financial officials may be willing to talk seriously about finding something other than surplus U.S. dollars to use for foreign exchange reserves."

But right now, that dike to the excessive outflow of U.S. dollars seems to be holding. And the pressure on the dollar has relaxed abroad. The price of gold bid up by speculators who even $2 billion at an annual rate. Early estimates are expected later this month.

"For the moment, we appear to be making good progress in," says William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System. The program to turn in their surplus dollars for U.S. Treasury gold, but the buildup in this surplus has dropped — however temporarily.

Elephants Cause Static on Phones

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Stewart Lancaster and his fiancée, Diana Benbow, ran into an unexpected obstacle when they tried to telephone from Cape Town, South Africa.

Elephants, an operator told them, were causing a thunderous static that drowned their voices.

It seems the elephants like to scratch themselves on the telephone poles in Africa, causing the static.

The callers gave up, then placed the call later without difficulty.

Happy Feeling in Hollywood

Awards Turnout Best in Years

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Academy aftermath —

"Isn't it marvelous? Isn't it beautiful?" Bob Hope rhapsodized as he gazed over the glittering throng at the Oscar Ball. "They all came out. That's what it is so great about it, they all came out."

Indeed, it seemed as THOMAS though Hollywood's entire galaxy, from Francis X. Bushman to Sandra Dee, had turned out to show there was life in the old town yet. There was a happy feeling in the air, both at the awards telecast in Santa Monica's civic auditorium and at the ball in the Beverly Hilton's International Ballroom.

Not since the prewar era when awards were given at dinner parties in hotel ballrooms had there been so much com-

Troupe Trains for Dixie Tour

Seek to Improve Play Quality, Unit Morale

NEW YORK (AP) — A squad of actors is taking special training for a back-roads tour of Dixie this summer.

Learning to "live together" rates equally with studying dramatics at the Free Southern Theater workshop.

"After all," says Scott Cunningham, "we're all going to be going up the wall at some time."

Cunningham, 32, recently became the first artistic director for the year-old project. FST visited 18 towns last summer. It aims now at progressing in quality and morale, Cunningham says, "beyond being regarded as merely amateurish and well-intentioned."

FLOOD OF APPLICATIONS
The announcement of plans for the trek brought a flood of applications from apprentice and experienced players that surprised Cunningham and the pair who launched the enterprise, Gil Moses and John O'Neal.

"Several hundred requests came in from all over the country," says the director.

"A big consideration has been getting people who can live together in close quarters. The nine months of workshop and tour can fray a lot of nerves — it can also be a challenge to develop some fine actors."

Cunningham was an original member of the Lincoln Center Repertory troupe here.

WHILE ON TOUR
The itinerary is being worked out but will include stops in Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and possibly Alabama. The company, as last season, plans to live with local residents while on tour.

Performances are given in Negro neighborhoods. Admission is free.

"Everyone is invited," says Cunningham, "but mostly so far Negroes are the ones who come."

The repertory last season included "Porgy and Bess," "In White America" and "Waiting for Godot." "Godot" is being repeated.

community spirit. The optimistic feeling wasn't even dampened by the selection of four foreigners for the acting awards. Hollywood now claims Julie Andrews as its own, and Rex Harrison and Peter Ustinov have long worked here.

COMPLETE SURPRISE

As for supporting-actress winner Lila Kedrova, her award was a complete and happy surprise. The town dearly loves a Cinderella story.

There was the usual Tuesday morning quarterbacking about some aspects of the awards. Much of it centered on the choice of Peter Ustinov for best supporting actor. No one questions the skill of his comic invention as the all-thumbs jewel heister in "Topkapi." But was he in support?

"Who was he supporting?" asked Jack Palance. "He had as big a role as anyone in the picture."

If there were an Oscar for good sportsmanship, it would be in Audrey Hepburn's hand today. The lovely lady, who is not nearly as fragile as she looks could have stayed mainly in the plains of Spain. Despite the Academy's pettishness in not nominating her for "My Fair Lady," she flew here to share her co-workers' triumphs.

SCENE OF DRAMA

Her appearance transformed what might have been a routine awards-giving into a scene of high drama.

Another bit of drama was almost passed over in the rush of major awards at the end of the program. It was a message from Patricia Neal, last year's best actress, now convalescing from strokes: "I am sorry I am unable to be with you tonight. I send my love to all."

The movie industry would be lucky if it could provide as good a show next year.

FATE IS THE HUNTER

Canadian Burial for Air Ace

DETROIT (AP)—The body of an American World War I fighter ace—who in his last years had to battle near-poverty—will be buried Friday on Commonwealth territory, in nearby Windsor, Ont.

R. E. Dodds was a dashing young pilot for the Royal Flying Corps who shot down 11 German planes with his De Havilland biplane.

To thousands on both sides of the Atlantic his name became a household word when King George of Great Britain honored Captain Dodds with the Distinguished Flying Cross—one of the nation's highest decorations—after a bombing raid on the German lines in France.

Last Friday, Dodds died at the age of 72 in his small boarding house room in Detroit, victim of a heart ailment. The boarding house manager said he did not know of any relative of Dodds.

UNCLAIMED

His body lay unclaimed in the Wayne County Morgue for four days.

Funeral services were finally arranged by the Canadian Legion of Detroit. Burial will be at Victoria Memorial Cemetery.

A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Dodds enlisted in 1916. After training in Toronto and England, he was assigned to duty on the Western front from Dunkirk to Soissons and elsewhere. He eventually was named a squadron commander.

Between the two world wars, Dodds sold cars in Detroit. At the start of World War II he became a pilot instructor for the Royal Canadian Air Force. He became a car salesman again after 1945. After his retirement in 1957, Dodds lived on a small Social Security pension. He was plagued by frequent illnesses.

TV Producer Expires

Romney to Get Bill on State Finances

LANSING (AP)—On its way to Gov. George Romney for signature today was a $6.8 million bill to finance state government from now until June 30.

The supplemental appropriations bill for the balance of the current fiscal year cleared its last legislative milepost Wednesday when the House agreed to a conference committee version of the bill.

The Senate had agreed Tuesday to the conference version of the beefed-up bill which had grown about $1.3 million since it left the Senate for the House the first time.

General Dies of Injury

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—Maj. Gen. John K. Hester, commander of the 17th U.S. Air Force, died today of brain injuries suffered in a parachute jump last Friday.

Hester never regained consciousness after sustaining head injuries in the last of five training jumps at Marne-la-Meudon. His main net reserve parachute opened properly.

Shortly after the accident, surgeons performed an operation to remove a blood clot and relieve pressure on the brain.

Hester, 48, a native of Plains, Mont., was a veteran of 50 combat flying missions during World War II. He was a high Pentagon staff officer before assuming his last command over air units along the Iron Curtain.

An Air Force friend recalled today that Hester "believed in knowing the other fellows problems."

That was one of the reasons he volunteered for the parachute training that ended in the fatal jump.

Hester had worked closely with airborne troops of the U.S. 7th Army.

Hester, a holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star and Air Medal, was one of five men who jumped from a C-130 transport from a height of 1,250 feet in "ideal" weather.
