

Greater Than Panama Canal

Completion of New Seaway to Be Felt Around the World

DETROIT (UP)—Completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway will have more impact on world economy than the construction of the Panama Canal, the nation's waterways experts agreed today.

The seaway will add 2,400 miles of coast line to the heart of North America, opening the way for some of the world's largest sea-going freighters to reach Detroit, Chicago and at least a dozen other major "inland ports."

A recent report by the Windsor, Ont., Junior Chamber of Commerce said, "Construction crews, steel, cement and giant bulldozers are moving along the St. Lawrence River . . . it appears that by 1961 this new source of electrical power and international commerce will have been tapped."

"Optimism has reached its peak and every small community along the Great Lakes coast dreams of salt-encrusted ships tying up at its harbor docks."

Since that report was prepared in January, other sources have predicted the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway as early as 1958. On March 3, Martin W. Oettershagen of Chicago, deputy administrator of the Seaway Development Corp., said the new waterway may open within the next three years.

Oettershagen said the New York State Power Authority has urged joint United States and Canadian dam and locks construction along the St. Lawrence River to permit flooding behind the dams on July 1, 1958, to allow trial runs of generators. This would open the seaway for navigation, he said.

Bert Robb, director of the Michigan Waterways Commission, recently said the St. Lawrence Seaway "is already in operation" because last year, 71 foreign vessels made 254 visits to Michigan ports.

However, the seagoing vessels now able to negotiate the narrow channels and the shallow locks of the St. Lawrence River are necessarily small.

Most of the ships are about 250 feet long, with a 40-foot beam, and have between 1,500 and 2,000 tons cargo capacity.

When the seaway is completed, vessels of nearly twice that size will be able to make their way into the Great Lakes. Several motor ships of 2,500-ton capacity are now under construction in Hamburg, Germany, in anticipation of the opening of the seaway. One shipping firm has ordered five of these at a cost of $300,000 each, according to reliable reports.

America's share of the seaway calls for expenditures of about $105,000,000 for St. Lawrence River development—only one-third of the total cost of the project, and all on a self-liquidating basis.

The twisting, shallow St. Lawrence River poses a bottleneck about 140 miles long. The United States is responsible for 46 miles of this, including three locks 800 feet long, 80 feet wide and 30 feet deep, and two canals, both 11 miles long and 27 feet deep.

Canada is building four similar locks and some longer canals and must deepen the present Welland Canal.

Many cities along the route have already begun extensive preparations to compete for international trade by deepening their harbors and enlarging their dock and warehouse facilities. Most notable among these are Toronto and Hamilton, Ont., and Milwaukee, Wis.

Other ports have been severely criticized for failing to take any steps to make ready for an influx of foreign vessels.

In a recent report issued by a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee, grain was listed as the biggest item to be shipped through the seaway when it is completed. A table prepared by the subcommittee shows that 12,100,000 tons of grain may be expected to move down the new waterway in 1959, while the predicted iron ore tonnage moving from Labrador up the seaway is 10,500,000 for the same nine-month season that the lakes are usually open each year.

The subcommittee fixed 36,500,000 tons of cargo as the business expected to be done during the first year the deepened seaway is in operation, with the tonnage eventually rising to 52,000,000 a year.

All the Canadian and United States waterways experts agree that, ton for ton, the St. Lawrence Seaway will represent larger savings in shipping costs for both exporters and importers than does the Panama Canal.

One firm estimates that organizations now shipping grain to the east coast by rail, unloading the grain there, and re-loading it on out-bound ships, could save three-cents a bushel in shipping costs by loading the ships in Great Lakes ports.

As Mayor Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven, Mich., put it: "We must remember that London to New York is no closer than London to Erie, Pa., which is already a considerable distance toward the great midwest cities on the Great Lakes Waterway."

Death PenaltyProsecutor's Aide Calls for Return to Capital Punishment

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor today called for Michigan to reconsider capital punishment as a means of checking the increase in first degree murder and rape cases.

"From 1948 to 1953 we've had about 35 per cent increase in murders in Oakland County," said Taylor.

"I think the threat of capital punishment would make those with homicidal leanings think twice before deliberately planning a murder."

(First degree murder is charged when it is thought the accused person planned the act.)

"When a person knows he could have his own life taken as result of committing a certain anti-social act, he is more apt to hesitate."

The current first-degree punishment is life in prison without chances of parole.

"Some have advocated a review of all such sentences after 17 years with a chance of 'parole,' the prosecutor stated, 'I think this would only make it easier for a person to decide on a murder attempt.'"

The rape penalty is now any number of years up to life. "This violent type of crime disrupts society perhaps even more than premeditated murder and should be punished severely."

Soviet Culture Minister

LONDON (U)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin today fired Minister of Culture Georgi F. Alexandrov.

The Moscow radio said Alexandrov was sacked on Bulganin's recommendation "because he failed to ensure the leadership of the Ministry of Culture."

N. A. Mikhailov, ambassador to Poland, was appointed in Alexandrov's place.

Anti-Fluoridation Group
Plans Meeting Tuesday

The Rev. Robert Garner announced that a panel of prominent dentists and physicians will speak on the hazards of fluoridation at a public meeting of the Citizens Fair Government League at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Pontiac High School Auditorium. The Rev. Mr. Garner heads the league which has been formed to oppose fluoridation of Pontiac's water.

He said various questions will be discussed such as:

1. Exactly what happens to teeth when fluorine has been added to the water?
2. What proof has been offered that there is no harm from drinking fluoridated water?
3. What is the attitude of individual dentists and physicians regarding fluoridation?
4. Why aren't fluorides administered individually by dentists?

Ralph T. Keeling, Pontiac attorney, will preside at this meeting to which the public is invited. "This is to be the first of two meetings arranged by the league for public information on the highly controversial subject of adding sodium fluoride to Pontiac drinking water," Mr. Garner said.

A second meeting, March 31, will have speakers from Saginaw. They will discuss the reasons why Saginaw discontinued fluoridation after using it for three years."

1 Teenager Killed, 5 Injured

DEATH CAR — David Widing, 16, of Holly, was killed and five other teenagers were injured when their car (above) collided head-on with another car, Siberie D. Thorne, 29, of Holly, was listed in critical condition at Flint's Hurley Hospital.

Three Killed in Automobile
Wrecks in Area Saturday

Two men were killed in a 3-car collision on Dixie Highway and a 16-year-old youth died in a head-on crash Saturday night.

The dead are: Richard M. Warner, 49, and William Toll, 29, both of Flint, and David Widing, of Holly. Toll's wife, Dorothy, 29, was listed in critical conditions at Pontiac General Hospital with broken legs, ribs and a broken arm.

House Vote Due on Postal RaiseIke Warns Against Any Additions to Bill Asking
7.5 Per Cent Increase

WASHINGTON (U)—A 150-million-dollar pay raise for postal workers headed toward a House vote today.

In advance of House action, President Eisenhower said he would view with "gravest apprehension" any further additions to the 7½ per cent average increase provided by the postal pay bill.

He noted that the post increase will set the pattern for 1,500,000 civil service employees. This bill is still in committee.

The President's views, contained in a letter Saturday to Chairman Murray (D-Tenn.) of the House Post Office Committee, clearly implied a probable veto of any bigger increase.

They also underscored a statement last week by Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission that the government cannot afford more. It already faces the need of financing government-wide employee benefits totaling more than a billion dollars a year, he said. These are raises and other benefits proposed and pending.

But as the bill came before the House, strong opposition developed among members favoring among other things a 10 per cent figure approved by the Senate Post Office Committee.

Billy Graham
Opens TonightHuge Crowd Expected for First Evangelistic Effort in Glasgow

GLASGOW, Scotland (U)—Glasgow, sunny after a blizzard, was keyed up today for the impact of Billy Graham.

The American evangelist prepared to launch his six-week all-Scotland crusade with a rally at Glasgow's great Kelvin Hall tonight.

The building has room for between 13,000 and 14,000, but not big enough for the expected opening-session crowd. The Glasgow Police Department went on a round-the-clock basis to control the traffic jams.

On the Scottish highways, slushy from Sunday's snow, scores of buses were converging on Glasgow. About half of Kelvin Hall has been reserved for those coming from a distance.

Graham was alone in his room in the North British Hotel most of the day. He was locked up, his teammates said, "with about 100 religious books" he was preparing.

Among the unscheduled events yesterday were unannounced visits to two Glasgow churches.

One, the Downhill "Kirk," was half empty, and there Graham, a Baptist who believes in total immersion, reverently watched a Presbyterian baptism accomplished with a mere sprinkling of water.

Last night Graham attended and spoke briefly at Springburn Hill Presbyterian Church. Several hundred worshippers prayed for the success of the crusade at a session lasting until 1:30 a. m. A dozen women served tea in side rooms and relay teams carried on the prayers.

Four Stand Mute
on Rape Charges

Four men, charged with kidnapping and raping a 21-year-old Pontiac mother March 6, stood mute in Circuit Court today and Judge George B. Hartwick entered an innocent plea for them.

Returned to Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond to await trial were Oscar Chavers, 26, of Gary, Ind., his brother, Richard, 22, of 35 Lake St., Joe Williams Jr., 22, of 25 Lake, and Winston Johnson, 25, of 215 Hughes St.

They are accused of forcing the mother of three into a car after dragging her from a mud-mired auto near South Blvd., while her escort was absent summoning a tow truck.

The woman testified at a lower court examination that the four criminally assaulted her during a 1½-hour ride through Bloomfield Hills and Pontiac before they were cornered by Sylvan Lake and Bloomfield Hills police.

Sure Churchill
Will Step Down
Within WeeksSee Elder Statesman Role After Quitting Job
as Prime Minister

LONDON (U)—Britons took it for granted today that Winston Churchill is stepping down as prime minister within weeks. But no one expects him to go into retirement by the fire-side.

Only the 80-year-old statesman's political enemies seemed to harbor any suspicions the impetuous Churchill might change his mind at the last minute.

The authoritative, independent Times—which seldom deals in political speculation—said today:

"It now seems increasingly likely that he (Churchill) will resign about Easter" and that Queen Elizabeth II will call on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to form a new government.

But the anti-Conservative Daily Mirror, which for two years has been calling Churchill too old for the premiership, said people "will not believe he has gone this time until they see the back of him."

Churchill supporters talked of his becoming a sort of "elder statesman of the free world," speaking out on vital issues. There was talk in parliamentary lobbies that Churchill also would keep his seat in the House of Commons. This would give him a platform and an official status, and would leave him available for any assignment as a special government emissary.

The Churchill Conservative government has until October 1956 in office but can call an election any time before then.

If Churchill does step out, the 57-year-old Eden may hold the dual jobs of prime minister and foreign secretary for a short time. Eventually he is expected to turn the foreign affairs post over to Harold Macmillan, a veteran administrator who is now defense minister.

Second Deadline
in Bonanzagram
Contest Tuesday

The deadline is nearing for all entries in the second Bonanzagram contest. Answers will be accepted through Tuesday, March 22, if brought to the Pontiac Press office. If mailed, they must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday.

No correct solutions to puzzle No. 1 have appeared at the Press office up to Monday noon. Deadline for this claim check is 5 p. m. today if brought to the office; or postmarked 5 p. m. today if mailed.

The first $100 prize will be added to Bonanzagram No. 2, making the weekly prize worth $200.

All Bonanzagrammers hurry with their answers and cash in on this easy money.

Bonanzagram No. 3 appears on page 16 of the Pontiac Press.

Spring Fever
Rainfall Here

Spring arrived officially this morning at 4:35, but the U.S. Weather Bureau said it probably would seem more like the arrival of winter in most sections of the state.

Rainfall, along with a forecast for more, put the damper on spring fever in this area.

Pontiac will get colder weather and rain turning to snow today, tonight and tomorrow. The mercury will drop to a low of 20-24 degrees tonight, rising to only 28-32 tomorrow. Thermometer readings tomorrow night will dip to 20-24.

Traffic officials said thousands of motorists crowded Michigan highways during the weekend and many of them carried equipment for summer cottages and resorts.

Balmy weather also lured many to the state's lakes and streams while others thronged to golf courses or other spring diversions. However, the weather bureau said the next two days will probably make a lot of people forget about spring temporarily.

Communities along the shores of Lakes Erie and St. Clair were warned that high winds may drive lakes to the flood stage. The weather bureau said easterly winds between 30 and 35 miles an hour would come the lakes to rise.

Weekend temperatures in downtown Pontiac ranged from 20 to 42 Saturday, rising to a low of 31 and high of 56 on Sunday. Today at 8 o'clock the mercury stood at 41 degrees, rising to 50 by 2 p. m.

Says Steel Pays
Small ReturnsFairless Tells Senators Industry Doing Poorly
by Its Investors

WASHINGTON (U)—Benjamin Fairless of U.S. Steel said today the steel industry hasn't done right in the past by its owners—American investors.

His own company has been trying "by every proper means" to build investor confidence, U.S. Steel's board chairman said in testimony prepared for the Senate Banking Committee's soon-to-end stock market hearings.

Fairless told the committee that "year after year" steel profits have been below the average of leading manufacturers.

"I am not going to cry on anyone's shoulder about it," he said.

"I am merely going to point out that in view of the heavy capital needs which we face in the future, the rehabilitation of investor confidence in steel issues has become a problem of immediate and major importance."

Fairless, one of the nation's highest-paid industrialists, said the steel industry's problem in getting new funds for expansion is due "in no small degree" to existing tax laws with "unwise and discriminatory double taxation of corporate income and dividends."

"But it is also partly due, beyond doubt," he said, "to the fact that our industry has not, in the past, provided a fair and dependable return to its investors."

Plane Crashes

of Missouri Disaster

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (U)—An American Airlines plane threading its way through darkness and rain toward a landing field crashed last night, killing 12 persons and injuring 23.

The twin-engine Convair crashed in a pasture about two miles north of the Springfield airport. Wreckage was scattered more than 300 feet.

The plane carried a three-member crew and 32 passengers. All the survivors were injured.

Jack Fripish, of Chicago, the pilot, was the only member of the crew to survive. Stewardess Rita Madaj and copilot Glenn Walker, of Chicago and Los Angeles, died.

The airport control tower had given final clearance for the landing. As the craft approached Carl McCarty in the tower saw a flash. Then the plane disappeared and he gave the alarm.

Sheriff Glenn Hendrix, one of the first to reach the scene made muddy by an all-day rain, said: "There was no fire. In the darkness I found it hard to find the plane and I lost my shoes in the mud as I crossed the farm field."

"Then I heard a woman call and I found her sitting on the ground. I gave her my coat and then I saw three persons walking around dazed. I finally could see the plane in the darkness."

"Its wings were sheared off but the fuselage was intact except for the nose."

"The nose was crumpled up like cellophane."

"Two ambulances came near the scene but got stuck in the mud. We started taking out the injured as other ambulances arrived but (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Yalta Interpreter
Calls Conference
'Drunken Brawl'

RIVERA, Calif. (INS)—A Rivera insurance man who served as an interpreter at Yalta has asserted that the conference was "one of the biggest drunken brawls I've ever seen."

Andrew Sawchuk, 33, said yesterday:

"All the way through Russia had us where it wanted us."

Sawchuk learned Russian from his parents, who were born in Russia. He was one of six Navy men who worked with the Communists for three years during World War II. The Yalta conference was one of his numerous assignments.

The former interpreter declared: "President Roosevelt had no business at the conference. He looked sick, he acted sick and he talked sick."

Sawchuk related:

"The Reds weren't stupid at Yalta. As hosts they always kept the tables loaded with wine, champagne, and vodka. I saw more than one state department official carried out after passing out."

4,000 Oakland County Teachers to Meet for Institute Friday in Birmingham

Oakland County's 4,000 public school teachers will meet Friday in Birmingham for their annual institute and to hear Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, and Lawrence Spivak, Washington newspaper correspondent.

All county schools will be closed for the day. Teachers will convene from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. in Birmingham High School auditorium.

William Shuck, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, will preside at the morning session and introduce Spivak, who will conduct an interview on current political problems with several Michigan college professors.

Represented on the panel will be the University of Michigan, Dr. N. M. Eftemenco and Dr. George Peck; Michigan State College, Dr.

Joseph LaPolambara, and Wayne University, Dr. Ira Polley. These men are associated with the political science departments of their schools.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Priest will address the teachers on "Federal Monetary Policies and Their Effect on Domestic Economy."

She will be introduced by Hazel A. Trumble of the Pontiac Press, who will preside at the second session.

Serving as a county-wide committee planning the 1955 meeting are Ralph E. Meek, Avondale School; James Mitchell, Berkley; Robert Richards, Birmingham; Kathleen Flint, Bloomfield Hills; Maxwell Berry, Brandon; Charles B. Haynes, Carver; Rosalind Blier, Clareville and Tim Keough, Clarkston.

Others assisting with the program are Arthur Larson, Clawson; Alda Cox, Dublin; Gladys Buell, Farmington; Audrey Filson, Ferndale; Elsket Baumer, Hazel Park; Marietta Mackey, Holly; Nellie Brewbaker, Lamphers.

John Schoenbach, Madison; Brownlee Elliott, Milford; Ceila Sharpe, Novi; James Hunter, Oak Park; Leslie Reynolds, Lake Orion; Paul B. Ambrose, Oxford; Henry Kiling, Pontiac; and Velma Linekar, of Rochester.

Richard Walsh of Royal Oak has been named to the committee, along with William Greenman, Southfield; Richard Snyder, South Lyon; Gladys Bradford, Troy; Frank Wigent, Walled Lake; Arthur Lake, Waterford; and Terence Murphy, West Bloomfield.

Jelke Kept Her, Pat Ward Tells

Lived With Accused
Procureur in Apartment,
Call Girl Testifies

NEW YORK (U)—Pat Ward, chief prosecution witness in the vice trial of Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, testified today she did nothing about trying to get her own apartment while she was living with Jelke in 1951.

George Washington Herz, counsel for Jelke, cross-examined Miss Ward for the third day. He asked her how long she intended to stay in the Jelke apartment.

Miss Ward replied she did not know, and added "until I found an apartment."

Asked if she tried to find a job in the first three weeks she lived with Jelke, the witness answered "no."

"Did you do any work?" Herz asked.

"No," the witness replied.

"Who supported you?"

"Mickey," she replied.

"Did Mickey buy you any clothes?"

"A few things—blouses, skirts," she answered.

Herz questioned the witness extensively about a checking account she opened in 1951. She conceded Jelke suggested she open a bank account and save her money, but said "he wanted me to save it for Miami."

She said she drew checks for her mother, but did not remember how many.

it was close to 1 a.m. before we got them all out."

The plane crashed about 10:30 p.m.

Robert Browning, 15, of Chappaqua, N.Y., an injured passenger, said there was a "terrible vibration" before the crash.

Mrs. O. W. Peebles, who lives near the scene, reported hearing an explosion just before the crash.

I was on a clipper plane last summer and I read some instructions on what to do in case of a crash," Browning related.

"They said to put your head down between your knees. And I did that when I felt the vibration. The next thing I knew I was lying on the ground about 15 feet from the plane."

Young Browning was en route to visit relatives at Harrison, Ark.

Bill Bowers of radio station KTTS said when he reached the plane an elderly man, whose legs appeared to be broken, was lying beside the plane.

"Don't bother about me," the man said. "Get the others out first." Bowers said he didn't know the man's name.

B. H. Mays, of Cushing, Okla., another passenger, said he didn't know what happened.

"The first thing I knew I was on the ground," Mays said.

The dead included Stanley Grzankowski, 64, Detroit, assistant Wayne County prosecutor for 18 of the last 20 years. He was en route to Springfield on private business.

Automobile Wrecks Take Three Lives

juries after his car overturned several times.

Toll was driving the second car struck by Warner's careening auto. Warner was dead at the scene and Toll died a few minutes after arrival at the hospital at about 6:15 p.m.

Widing was killed when his car collided head-on with one driven by Sibera D. Thorne, 29, of Holly. The accident took place at about 8:10 p.m. on M87, according to Holly Patrolman William Wood.

Thorne was listed in critical condition at Flint's Hurley Hospital where five other teenagers riding with Widing were taken. They are Earl Trimbath, 17, good condition; Philip Barnard, 18, fair condition; Sharon Rodes, 16, good condition; Diane Dabier, 16, good condition; and Darlene Webber, 16, good condition.

Sherriff's deputy, Donald Wright and Lyle Wainwright said the two cars met on a blind curve about 1½ miles west of Holly. The teenagers were driving to Fenton.

Meanwhile three men narrowly missed death when their car ran off Oakwood road east of Ortonville at 6 a.m. Sunday, rolled over into a ditch and caught fire.

The driver, James F. McCurdy, 19, of Flint, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises while his passengers, Gerald Laidlaw, 21, of Oxford, was reported in return condition with first and third degree burns to the legs, back and arms; and Hanson T. Steward, 25, of Flint was treated for a broken collar bone.

Deputies Earl Beason and Leonard Evans said the driver apparently was going too fast to negotiate a sharp curve in the road.

Reward Awaits Man Who Found, Returned Wallet

The Pontiac Press today was asked to help locate Mr. "One-in-a-Million."

If you're the anonymous gentleman who returned a lost billfold Saturday, there's a "liberal reward" awaiting you in return for your honesty, according to Lemuel J. Nipper, 32 of 94 Mt. Clemens St.

Nipper, a Pontiac Motor division employee, happily walked into the Press' city room Saturday, holding his faded, red wallet which contained $108.

"I want to give a liberal reward to the man who returned my billfold this morning. He dropped it off at a barbershop (730 Glenwood Ave.), but none of us knew who he is or how he knew I would come in there."

Nipper said he lost the billfold on Lowell St., near Glenwood. "I had $108 in the wallet and only one man in a million would return it, I'll bet," he said.

Surviving him are his wife and mother, Mrs. Katherine Warner of Pontiac.

He Went That-a-Way

CHICAGO (UP)—Police were called out to capture a "man with a gun" during the early morning hours yesterday.

The "man" turned out to be three-year-old Bobby Van Treese. He had wandered from his home, taking his favorite toy six-shooter with him.

Negotiations to Reopen at Wyandotte Chemical

DETROIT (U)—Negotiations re-open today in the seven-week strike of 2,300 United Mine Workers (Ind.) at the Wyandotte Chemicals Co. in suburban Wyandotte.

Wyandotte Mayor William E. Kreger, learning of the move, said, "I hope and expect all concerned will carry out their responsibility to bring this devastating work stoppage to a speedy conclusion."

Mammoth Agenda Facing Commissioners Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A mammoth agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting will find lawmakers discussing a new lighting system for Baldwin Library, an improved post for the Ground Observation Corps and Springdale Park green fees for the coming golf season.

A face-lifting job for Pierce street, in the form of new paving between Lincoln and Brown, will receive consideration. Another paving topic concerns E. Maple from Hunter to Adams.

Further thought will be given to the re-alignment and widening of Willis street, bids for construction of the Columbia relief sewer will be received and election board appointments will be approved.

Scheduled hearings include the necessity for paving Edgewood and Cedar from Lincoln to Catalpa and creation of a special assessment district for Pine street drainage structures.

Thinking it was their friend Eugene Wilkins inside his Tri-Angle Service Station as they walked by last night, Nancy and Pat Kannel, of 1172 E. Ruffner, moved in closer and called hello. The man inside took off.

The sisters told police that when they realized he was a stranger, they asked if Mr. Wilkins knew he was there. The thief then jumped out a side window he had broken to gain entry to the station at 1181 S. Woodward, and ran north.

Police said the culprit took with him over $30 in quarters from a cigarette machine he had jimmied. The entire building was ransacked.

Open to the public is the Pembroke School open house to be held at 8 tonight by the PTA. Visitors will see exhibits and be guided through the 15 classes taught 65 pupils by 14 teachers. Principal Charles Palmer will welcome Pembroke parents and new PTA officers will be elected.

Doctor Impersonator Enters Guilty Plea

A man accused of impersonating a physician in order to rifle doctors' clothing at five hospitals pleaded guilty to larceny in a building today before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Peter M. Roark, 36, of 22909 Gary Lane, St. Clair Shores, was returned to Oakland County Jail under $3,500 bond pending sentencing March 22.

Roark was caught attempting to leave St. Joseph Mercy Hospital March 12 with $145 stolen from a doctor's pocket book. He had gained admittance to the surgical room by saying, "I'm Doctor Patterson from Detroit."

Police said he admitted other thefts from four Detroit hospitals.

UM Lets Work on A-Reactor

Nuclear Plant Will Be 1st Built in U.S. Outside Federal Projects

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Contracts for construction of the first full-scale nuclear reactor—the first to be built in the nation outside the government's—were awarded Saturday by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Ralph Sawyer, director of the university's Phoenix Project, said the $1,000,000 reactor will be dedicated to research and teaching.

The Babcock & Wilcox Co. of Akron, Ohio, will build the reactor while the building to house it will be constructed by Jefferson Dyer, Inc., of Ann Arbor.

Other than the Atomic Energy Commission's nuclear plants, the only other reactor is a small one at North Carolina State College.

The University of Michigan grants a degree in nuclear engineering.

The regents also yesterday:

Approved a $50 increase in board and room rates in the school's residence halls effective for the term starting next September.

Approved gifts and grants totaling $38,718 including a $55,000 gift from Nathan Knoll Memorial Fund to be used at the discretion of the regents.

Appointed Wyeth Allen professor of the industrial engineering division of the department of mechanical and industrial engineering.

Snarling Police Dog Gives Cops Bad Time

SOUTH HAVEN (UP)—State Police encountered a police dog yesterday that was anything but cooperative with police.

The dog disappeared under the parked car of Gene R. Overhiser, of near South Haven. Overhiser crawled under the car trying to lure the canine out. He was greeted with fierce growls.

State Police were called. They found the dog perched in a small exposed compartment in a front fender. But they had no more success trying to lure it out than did Overhiser.

So what did they do? They just removed the fender, and the dog surrendered meekly.

Grocer Shoots Bandit in Attempted Holdup

DETROIT (UP)—A bandit shot while trying to hold up a grocer with a screw driver yesterday was held on an armed robbery charge today.

But grocer Andrew Sandusky, 54, wasn't.

The United States maintains two ocean stations in the Pacific to aid weather and navigation studies. One ship is stationed 900 miles northeast of Honolulu, the other mid-way between Honolulu and Tokyo.

Deaths Last Night

VENICE, France (AP)—Count Michael Karolyi, 86, descendant of Hungarian aristocracy, president of the new Hungarian Republic after World War I, died last night after differences with the Communists.

LAJOLLA, Calif. — Robert J. Thorne, 80, son of a founder and former president of Montgomery Ward and Co.

WASHINGTON — Brig. Gen. Gordon E. Tuckson, 58, former assistant chief of engineers for military operations with the Army.

MIAMI — Robert T. Fennell, 72, civil leader and member of the War Relocation Commission during World War II.

MOOREHEAD, Miss. — Marshall Leonid Alexandrovich Goussakov, 58, of the Russian army, who commanded the Leningrad front during World War II.

BAFTA, Ark. — Charles Castello, 74, former Philadelphia contractor, insurance man and Democratic party leader. Born in Philadelphia.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Harry Shulman, 52, dean of the Yale University Law School, died yesterday at his home. Since 1943 he had been umpire under the contract between the Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers.

A member of the Yale law faculty since 1930, Professor Shulman became dean of the law school last July 1. Since 1939 he had been Sterling Professor of Law at Yale, a chair previously held by Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Dean Shulman was one of the country's leading authorities on labor law and was equally noted as an arbitrator in labor-management disputes.

A delegation of Ford and UAW officials will attend funeral services tomorrow in Providence, R.I.

'Recaptured' Funds Asked for Pontiac City Airport

Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration have promised Michigan a share of "re-captured" funds not used by other states. State Aeronautics Director Lester J. Maitland revealed in Lansing today.

The funds will come out of money left over from federal construction appropriations to states at the end of this fiscal year.

"They promised we would definitely get some of the recaptured funds, but I don't know how much it will be," Maitland said. "We'll take every dime we can get."

Maitland said he has requested $30,000 each for Pontiac, Escanaba and Iron Mountain.

Last month, Pontiac was awarded a $5,901 appropriation from funds granted Michigan by the federal government for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The Upper Peninsula cities, Escanaba and Iron Mountain, received nothing. It was hoped $30,000 would be given Pontiac in order that a $60,000-foot runway could be built to handle larger planes and more aircraft traffic.

'Eden of Louisiana' Will Relive Evangeline Tragedy

ST. MARTINVILLE, La. (INS)—One of the world's most tragic love stories, that of Evangeline, is being re-lived in the strange, shadowed bayou country known as the "Eden of Louisiana."

The story of Evangeline, the girl who searched for her lover many years only to find him near death, has a big role in the 20th anniversary celebration of the migration of the Acadians to what is now the United States.

The Acadians, of French extraction, were all deported from their country, now known as Nova Scotia, because they refused to take an oath of allegiance to the British king in 1755. The Acadians felt that such an oath might result in their being forced to fight their fellow Frenchmen who were bitter enemies of the British.

The 15,000 Acadians were purposely separated and sent to different parts of the country to keep them from banding together and forming a resistance group.

Some of them found their way to the Louisiana bayou country, which, with its dark clear streams shadowed by Spanish moss hanging low from oak trees, reminded them of the former peacefulness of their own native soil. They named it the "Eden of Louisiana," and immediately resumed the agricultural life they had left.

Today, there are more than 30,000 descendants of these people in southwestern Louisiana. Others live in Canada and eastern parts of the U.S.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's poem, Evangeline, is a story of one of the separations caused by the forced migration. Evangeline was engaged to marry a youth named Gabriel before the deportation.

When she came to the U.S., she spent the rest of her life in fruitless search for him. She found him when they were both very old, a few minutes before he died. She died shortly afterward and they were buried side by side.

The story was inspired by Emmeline Labiche, who searched vainly for her betrothed, Louis Arvenaux.

Next month, a pilgrimage is scheduled to the mother church of the Acadians at St. Martinville. A statue of Emmeline, built as a symbol of the Acadian spirit, is situated close to the church.

The celebration will be climaxed in October by festivals, pageants and other cultural events at St. Martinville.

Rhee Cited by U. S. for Korean Service

SEOUL, 20—South Korea's President Syngman Rhee today received the United States Medal of Freedom with Gold Palm from Gen. John E. Hull, retiring U. S. Far East commander.

The citation praised the 79-year-old Rhee for "conspicuous determination and self-sacrifice in the interest of his homeland."

"He has aided the cause of universal democracy and has advanced the date when a united Korea will take its rightful place among the free nations of the world."

Tomorrow Hull will receive South Korea's highest military award from Rhee. Hull will be succeeded April 1 by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. 8th Army commander.

Welcome, Spring!

Though our weather man seems little aware of it, Spring arrived in Pontiac at 4:36 a. m. today.

Happily the chilly reception given the most glorious of all the seasons will be short lived. Soon the strong, harsh winds of March will give way to gentler April zephyrs. All nature will be busy at its enchanting task of awakening from the long sleep of Winter and snow and ice will be only memories.

Already the willow branches are turning color and migrant robins are back in large numbers. Red wing blackbirds, true harbingers of the vernal season, are singing in the swamps and winging their way happily about.

Before we realize it, the ice will have disappeared from Oakland's 400 lakes and they'll stand out like azure jewels in the rich greenery of this most favored County. Then nothing more will be needed to lure Winter bound devotees of all the water sports.

Winters, like old soldiers, never seem to die. They only fade away. But who cares if there's more cold weather. It can't last long and the all important fact is that SPRING IS HERE!

People of the United States have achieved an all-time high standard of living through the simple expedient of overcharging one another for goods and services.

Cat: Of which there are so many because people always are letting them out of the bag.

Entries in the annual MAT Baseball Contest already are arriving in every mail. The prize of $250 in U. S. Savings Bonds will be given to the person who submits the nearest correct answer to the following:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Saturday, April 30, and what will be his batting average?

Every member of your family can make an entry, but each must be on a separate piece of paper. Employees of the Pontiac Press and members of their immediate families are barred from competing.

It costs nothing to enter, but your entry must be received in the Press office by noon on Saturday, April 9. It is none too early to do a little observation on the players, and get in your entry.

Jonathan Merow of Drayton Plains says that it meant business. After an observation of nearly 50 years, he says that when the change comes in the morning hours spring has come to stay.

When the spring in the 1875 family clock was broken in 1925, it was shortened by one-half, but Chester Banfield of Birmingham did not want to discard the heirloom, although it then became necessary to wind it every 12 hours. And he has not allowed that clock to stop in 30 years.

David Lawrence Says:
Release of Yalta Papers
Could Benefit Democrats

WASHINGTON — There needn't be the slightest political damage to the Democratic party as a consequence of publication of the "Yalta" papers — unless, of course, some of the Democratic spokesmen play stupid politics. And there are some signs already that they are fumbling the ball.

Instead of crying out that there will be "international repercussions" and that our Allies are offended by the publication of the documents, the Democrats should be denouncing "secret diplomacy" and pledging their party never to engage in it again if entrusted to power.

The Democrats, moreover, should be pointing out that the late President Roosevelt did not in 1945 have any evidence of faithlessness on the part of the Soviet Union as a wartime ally and that he really was at the time angling for Russian participation in the war against Japan.

The thesis is understandable though not forgivable, in view of what has happened, particularly since the outbreak of the Communist aggression in Korea in 1950, there is no logical basis now for defending the Yalta agreements on any ground.

Least of all should the Democratic party — the party that professes a belief in liberalism — be placing itself in the position of worrying about what any European government, steeped in the traditions of secret diplomacy and the deals of imperialism, may be saying in criticism of the full publicity of international agreements.

There is no objection to the confidential process of diplomatic negotiation which is far better than the "town hall" type of international conferences but it is essential that all the facts be made public once any agreements have been reached so that the Congress and the parliament can decide whether they shall be ratified.

It was the tendency of both Roosevelt — and later President Truman — to make executive agreements binding the nation and affording Congress no opportunity to invalidate them which constitutes the real vice of the Yalta affair. Some form of constitutional amendment like Sen. George's version of the Bricker amendment might be a way of preventing such practices.

The Democratic Party will not win a presidential election for a long time to come if in all public controversies it ranges itself on the side of secrecy and suppression or shows an inclination to be soft on the anti-Communist issue itself.

The convention last week of the "Americans for Democratic Action" which is perhaps the most powerful influence inside the Democratic party councils today show an almost even division between those who are really aware that a Communist conspiracy exists in the United States and those who insist on prating about "free speech" as the real issue.

The latter forget that the greatest liberal of our times, the Late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, declared in a Supreme Court opinion that freedom of speech has to be qualified where the national safety is at stake. He said that nobody has a right "to cry 'fire' in a crowded theater."

The Democrats can wipe the anti-Communist issue off the slate of present-day politics by taking a vigorous attitude toward exposure of the Communist conspiracy in all its ramifications—in American schools, labor unions, radio, television, the press, and the churches.

Only a few months ago the argument was being made that everybody was for these "objectives" and that there was only a difference of opinion on "methods" of ferreting out the wrongdoers. But it is becoming increasingly clear since the Democrats took over in both houses of Congress that with a few exceptions in their ranks, like Sen. Eastland of Mississippi and Representative Walters of Pennsylvania, the drive is on now to weaken the whole security program by hamstringing it with all sorts of restrictions.

"The Daily Worker," the Communist organ, reveals the Communist's big interest in the restriction movement because it has carried on almost daily a bombardment of the existing security regulations. Obviously they need some correction but they need not be sabotaged.

The doctrine which many of the misguided ones, who are not aware that they are unwittingly playing the Communist game, express is that it is better for one guilty employee to be retained in the government than to have 50 innocent ones fired. But the argument collapses when it is possible that the guilty one can be a Klaus Fuchs.

The American people would rather see supposedly innocent persons—including those who have had some doubtful connections—dropped from their posts than to let this government's atomic secrets or its inside information of a military or diplomatic nature leak to the enemy. For the leakage could result in the massacre of millions of innocent men, women and children in America.

Claud McCallum Finds City Parking Lot Convenient, Inexpensive Asset to Pontiac

Letters will be continued when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters and these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It may not be amiss to give a few words of appreciation for Pontiac's new parking lot.

First, it is centrally located, accessible to the main part of the city. Second, it is a commodious lot with its numerous parking spaces.

Third, it has plenty of space for each car and plenty of space for backing out without the danger of collision.

Fourth, one can park a car for a one, two or three-hour period, at 5 cents for one hour, ten cents for two hours or fifteen cents for three hours — a system of wise convenience at moderate cost.

Fifth, cost for parking is of financial assistance to the City of Pontiac.

Says Sentiment Prevents Logical Thinking

The bulk of our actions and reactions arise from our sentiment. Sentiment generally follows two patterns, the non-logical and the irrational.

The public, as a body, follows the non-logical pattern. This means that we, as individuals, take a stand on most issues (thought out by someone else) through our sympathetic or opposing feelings.

We are in some degree under a hypnotic spell and rarely examine the facts of the issue to arrive at a just conclusion after reflection. Man's nature is such that it is impossible for him to escape some ill effect of his own sentiments.

However, once he recognizes this, he may escape many unpleasant and seemingly unavoidable incidents.

Did you ever in a fit of anger damage an object, or insult someone? Where sentiment is predominant in one's thinking, contrary logical argument is futile.

What Would Be Cost of Fluoridation?

I would like to ask the proper authority just what the impounding of fluorine in the city water would cost the city per month. In case it had been in use six months or perhaps a year as an experiment, what would the cost of the experiment be to the taxpayers?

I served as clerk of the village of Oxford for 27 years, which in the later years covered the experiment of doping Oxford's water with a sediment that is supposed to separate the component units of iron naturally in the water.

CHRIST'S CURSES
"Master, behold the fig-tree which thou curst, it is withered away."

Mark 11:21

Few were the curses Jesus spoke . . . But three things did His wrath invoke . . . A barren fig-tree in His way . . . On which He placed His curse one day . . . And then those who a child offend . . . For these a harsh and dreadful end . . . He prophesied and that last night . . . He turned His wrath on one who might . . . Betray His Lord. We hear Him warn . . . 'twere better he had not been born.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Lord also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake; but the Lord will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.—Joel 3:16.

Doctors Diagnose Allergy in More Cases Nowadays

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

It seems to me, that an optimal daily ration of calcium, daily the year around, that is, as doctors say of medicines, "indicated" by allergic sensitivity.

If that's shop talk, let us put it in other words: From theoretical and scientific study of the peculiar state known as allergy, and spontaneous reports or testimonials of innumerable readers, I am convinced that calcium deficiency is the main predisposing cause of this hypersensitive state.

Whether more persons are allergic to this and that nowadays than in the past is debatable. From a casual view one readily infers that a larger portion of the population is affected today, but this offhand impression is invalidated by two pertinent facts: first, that physicians today diagnose allergy in thousands of cases which formerly would not have been so recognized; and second, that sophisticated who have learned to say "definitely" when they mean yes, no or I believe so have learned also to allude smartly to "complexes," "ulcers" and "allergies."

This is a dinky little piece but hard to write. I have dawdled for many hours over it, trying to decide whether it would do some people good yet do others no harm.

Often, says Dr. Warren T. Vaughan, M.D., "Furrows of Allergy," nasal allergy is erroneously regarded as a skin trouble. A person who says "I catch cold all the time" or "I hardly get over one cold before I get another" is likely to be suffering from nasal allergy. In nasal allergy the secretion is more likely to be thin and watery, while in sinus disease it is more apt to be thick, whitish or yellowish.

It is in just such cases of chronic sinus trouble that I recommend correction of calcium deficiency by supplementing the ordinary diet with a daily ration of calcium and D, as I explain in Little Lesson 26, "The Calcium Shortage," for which booklet send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

This is not medicine, no treatment. It is merely better nutrition and must be followed for months or every day the year around, at least until the everyday diet is planned to insure an adequate intake of calcium and vitamin D.

Frequently I hear from some knucklehead that he has "tried taking calcium" as he says I suggested, and it did no good.

I do not suggest that you "try" calcium, I suggest that you eat it every day for not less than three or four months, and along with it of course a sufficient amount of sunshine vitamin D to insure assimilation and normal metabolism of the calcium. That vitamin D promotes calcium utilization in the body is a bit of physiology which some doctors have not yet learned.

Send letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, to: Dr. William Brady, M.D., a stamped, self-addressed envelope, sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Berlin Maestro
Flees to WestQuits Conductor's Job in Soviet Sector With Blast at Red Regime

COLOGNE, Germany (U)—Conductor Erich Kleiber already is hard at work in West Germany after quitting the East Berlin Opera in protest against Communist interference.

Officials of the Northwest German radio here said Kleiber had begun rehearsals for an Easter broadcast March 28 of Carl Maria von Weber's opera "Der Freischütz" and that he would conduct a Beethoven concert in April.

The 65-year-old conductor's flight from East Berlin was revealed Saturday by publication of a letter he wrote March 16 to the Communist opera's manager, Max Burgardt.

In it Kleiber said that several incidents had shown "politics and propaganda will not stop at the front door" of the East Berlin Opera House—"any more than they did in 1934" when the Nazis were in power. The Austrian-born conductor had left Germany in 1935 and remained in exile until after the war.

Since his engagement as musical director of the East Berlin company last year, the Communists had been boosting Kleiber as a star attraction for the gala reopening next September of the rebuilt state opera house. Following his signing, contralto Margarete Klose and several other leading singers from West Germany joined the Eastern opera.

Stevenson Says
He and Harriman
Didn't Talk of '56

ALBANY, N. Y. (U)—Adlai Stevenson says there was no mention of the 1956 Democratic nomination during his weekend visit with Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Harriman accompanied the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee to the airport yesterday for his departure to Chicago, and said the former Illinois governor had given him "good advice on how to improve the administration of New York." He did not elaborate.

Reporters asked Stevenson whether they had discussed the 1956 Democratic nomination. "We never even mentioned it," he replied.

Stevenson said on arrival Saturday that it was a "personal and social call." He was the guest of Gov. and Mrs. Harriman at the executive mansion Saturday night. Both Stevenson and Harriman are regarded as potential presidential candidates.

Politicians Primp for TV

By MARGARET LATROSE

The politicians, who in one breath are trembling in fright over the impact television exerts on the kiddies, are now about to prove their point.

In the second breath, they are about to tuck television under their wings and take off—into the wild blue yonder of the '56 elections.

"Pick candidates who look good on TV," was the essence of the advice of Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, speaking before a gathering of the National Federation of Republican Women in Washington.

Anybody with half an eye to business could foretell that, Democrats notwithstanding, certain professions will prosper between now and election time. That is, dentists, voice teachers and pancake make-up salons.

And if you want to probe further into industries most likely to show black ink in the double entry—the blue shirt crowd won't go hungry. For on television, shirts to look white must be blue, teeth to look real must be false (capped, they say in show business) and complexions to look peachy must be daubed with special TV make-up. Otherwise the freshest unlined political pledge resembles Bela Lugosi with a hangover.

Back to the senatorial concern over the deleterious influence of TV upon those children whose parents haven't gumption enough to turn off the set now and then—at first I disagreed with their premise. But if we shall look forward to dreary months of window-dressing from politicians substituting for Pinky Lee and Mr. Peepers—then I'll vote amen with the investigators.

When CBS tied up Jackie Gleason in that $11 million contract it sounded like a goodly sum, but I guess they knew their business. With national chairmen already lining up San Francisco and Chicago for the big shows, with straight talk coming from their lips about picking candidates who know their way around the TV camera cables and which side of their faces is the "good" side to talk out of, with the Democrats still nervous about getting a candidate who can run against President Eisenhower, well—it's possible that they might have done worse than see where Mr. Gleason stands politically.

He sure wouldn't need any lessons in make-up. Blue shirts he's got. And how about that ready-made slogan—"A-w-a-y We Go!" (Copyright 1945)

Couldn't Go Wrong
— They're Girl Scouts

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—Two little Oklahoma City girls still can't understand why everyone was so worried.

Betty Briggs, 7, and Vickie Mae Smith, 8, went on a cookie-selling expedition for the Girl Scouts Saturday. After they had been gone more than 12 hours, police found them asleep in an old barn.

They said they hadn't been able to find their way home. In true Girl Scout tradition, they had saved one package of cookies to eat, found a mattress in the barn and went to sleep.

Certain primitive Africans bind their skulls with strips of hide so that their heads grow "on a bias." When these wrappings are removed, the first flow of blood is extremely painful.

"We wouldn't be without Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mr. and Mrs. William Hash, of Allen Park, Mich. Mrs. Hash has been hospitalized several times—and each time, her Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract gave her all the basic hospital services she needed, some $1700 worth! "How much better it is to get services, rather than cash benefits like you get with other plans," says Mrs. Hash.

The best idea ever devised to protect you
BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD

Is your family protected? As most of the families on this page found out, you rarely have advance notice when you're going to need hospital and doctor care.

That's why it's so important to take steps ahead of time... to know that when you do need care, you won't have to worry about costs.

Hospital and doctor costs were no problem for the Rosbach family... for Mrs. Knickerbocker... or for any of the others shown here... because, like nearly half the people in Michigan, they had Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

And Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans offer the most realistic hospital-and-doctor-bill protection you can buy.

Only Michigan's non-profit Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans have so successfully geared benefits to actual, current hospital and doctor charges... and made these benefits available at reasonable cost.

Why not give your family the wonderful security of Blue Cross-Blue Shield? Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage. Or, write to Blue Cross-Blue Shield

Mr. Gordon Cox, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Huron Centre, 1058 W. Huron St., Pontiac, Michigan

"The smartest investment we ever made was Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mr. and Mrs. John Rosbach, of Royal Oak. "Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered the entire bill... $1234 in hospital services... when our 12-year-old son had pneumonia. Blue Shield paid nearly all our doctor bill, too. We can't imagine any family running the risk of not having Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

"We're so thankful that we've got Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mrs. Eugene Ramsey, of Berkley, Mich. "In the two weeks I was in the hospital when my little girl was born, the hospital services I needed cost almost $1,600. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered most of them, all but $80... while Blue Shield paid my doctor $300. And both the hospital and doctor were paid directly, too!"

"I can't say enough good things about Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mrs. James A. Dorsey, of Birmingham, Mich. "when I think of the wonderful security it gives you. I like the idea that these plans are sponsored by Michigan hospitals and doctors themselves, who know what kind of protection Michigan people need. We wouldn't be without Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

"I wouldn't have my home if it weren't for Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mrs. Jennie Knickerbocker, a widow, of Highland Park, Mich. "The last hospital bill I had was $629," she says, "and I was covered on all but $5 of it by my Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract."

"I'm sure sold on what Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans do for you," says Mr. Daniel Attan, of Detroit. "Gosh, my Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract completely covered $1967 worth of hospital services I had to have... and Blue Shield paid a big part of my doctor bill."

Hildegard Neff Is Settling Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Hildegard Neff, Broadway's latest toast, ground of fear.

Success isn't likely to turn this German-born girl's head.

She can still remember how she made her first stage hit in bombed-out Berlin wearing an evening gown made from a bed sheet, the only cloth available. Still fresh in her mind are the wartime years take her own life if necessary.

Probe of Fire Will Continue

Police Rule Out Foul Play in Death Caused by Resort Blaze

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nothing to indicate foul play has been uncovered in the investigation of a resort club fire in which a Miami woman died and the husband of former metropolitan opera soprano Itra Petina was seriously burned, sheriff's officers said today.

But they said they have not had a satisfactory account of the incident and that the investigation will continue.

An autopsy yesterday on the dead woman, 34-year-old Emma Jo Selby, indicated she had been alive at the time of the fire, medical officials said.

They said the autopsy showed her throat and esophagus were seared by flames she apparently breathed. No bone fractures or foreign objects in her body were found, they reported.

Dr. Fran R. Bussey Jr., a Bayshore, N. Y., eye specialist, was in a Miami hospital for treatment of burns. His wife, Miss Petina, was in Miami to be near him.

Bussey, who said he "has nothing to hide," refused to discuss the case, on instructions of his attorney, he said.

H. R. Harkins, an Asheville, N. C., attorney, accompanied Bussey and Miss Selby to the famed Caribbean Club on Key Largo for a fishing trip. The club was burned early Friday morning. Its owner Bill Krone was also injured by the fire.

Now costarred with Don Ameche in "Silk Stockings," she plays the role of a Russian lady commissioner, a role first made famous by Greta Garbo in the film "Ninotchka."

"Silk Stockings," a musical, reached Broadway after a 15-weeks of out-of-town trials and tribulations that had many Broadway gloomleaders predicting it would be the season's outstanding flop. But it opened here with a $750,000 advance ticket sale, and proved an instant hit.

The prospect of a long run of offers Hilde the best prospect of stability she has had since childhood.

"I lost 18 pounds during the try-outs, but it was worth it," she said. "I've lived in hotels for six years. I've been nothing but a night plane passenger all that time between Germany, France, England and America."

"Now I can stay in one place. I can have my own apartment, and feel settled for a while. You can have no idea what this means to me."

Hilde shook her long red-blond hair and looked cheerfully around her new four-room penthouse apartment on lower Fifth Ave, as if her mind were feeling each piece of furniture to be sure it was in the right place.

She has a taut, vibrant body, and weathervane eyes that change, not with the wind, but with the light. A strong March breeze rattled the windows, sending cloud fragments across the drab sky. Her eyes deepened to dusky gray or lightened to green as the sky deepened or brightened.

Hilde, now an American citizen, has been a picture star pilgrim since the war. She has made films in three languages—English, German and French—and speaks each so well she has no need of dubbed-in dialogue.

Her first big picture, "Under the Bridges," made by UFA, the German studio, was never released. It was destroyed during an Allied bombing.

Beneath her present security lie crowding memories of the terror of those years, when Allied bombs rained on Berlin day and night. It took some prodding to get her to talk about those years she'd like to forget but can't.

"Most of us carried knives in our boots," she said matter-of-factly. "The knives were to dig out of the rubble, or, if we were hopelessly trapped, to commit suicide."

Hilde said that as the Soviet armies encircled Berlin she herself donned a soldier's uniform and tried to escape to the River Elbe. She was caught by the Russians a few miles short of the American lines and thrown into a concentration camp.

"For three months I was the only woman in a camp of 40,000 soldiers," she recalled. "It wasn't as hilarious as it sounds."

Report U. S. Seeking Aid From Reds in Plane Hunt

FULDA, Germany (AP)—American officials reportedly have asked Soviet authorities to help find a missing U.S. Army helicopter believed down in Communist East Germany.

A 7th Army spokesman said there was a strong chance the craft—missing since Thursday with an unnamed American officer and a German civilian aboard—had been carried across the border by strong winds.

The aircraft disappeared on a flight in the vicinity of Fulda, 12 miles east of the German border.

Do It the Easy Way

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An out-of-control car crashed into the plate glass window of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rothfeder's newly redecorated fashion shop, scattering mannequins everywhere. After the store front had been boarded up, the Rothfeder's put out a sign reading: "Come In—But Please Use the Door."

Here's Still Another "Bonanzagram" Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press April 1.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 3 is published Friday, April 1. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 3

The Customs Office received a note that offered what seemed valuable information on a smuggling trick. However, certain key letters had been omitted from the note by the mysterious informant. Since no such tips are ignored, the note was turned over to a Customs Office code expert. He came up with the solution and the smuggler was easily spotted and arrested on arrival. Can you, too, decipher the message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Proper punctuation is one of the important keys to a correct solution.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.
2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, March 29. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, March 29 for Bonanzagram No. 3. Address "Bonanzagram," Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.
3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.
4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited to one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employees of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employee's household.)
2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.
3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.
4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize.
5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.
6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.
7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.
8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

LET'S HAVE A PICNIC—1
The Teeter-Totter

What better time to have a picnic than in the Spring! All the neighborhood children have planned it and early one morning they go to the park at the edge of the woods. Want to come along? The picnic series will last all this week. Be sure to save each day's event until you have a complete picture arrangement.

Everyone brings food. But before lunch they go on the rides and take turns on the teeter-totter. You can help Doris and Neil have fun on the seesaw.

Color their outfits gaily and then paste the picture on stiff paper or cardboard. Cut out the boy and girl on the plank and the base carefully along the outside dark lines. To make the base stand up, fold back the two sides along the dotted lines.

Slip a small fastener through the dots on the plank and base, and the seesaw should look as it does in the small drawing. If you help them, Doris and Neil will have fun riding up and down on the teeter-totter. Tomorrow, Meet three merry picnickers.

Seeing Spots in the Sky? AF Is Probably to Blame

JACKSON IN — The objects-in-the-sky wonderment in Michigan may have at least a partial explanation in the "radioonde."

The radioonde is a U.S. Air Force weather-gauging instrument which is sent aloft—as high as 14 miles—to report data to the ground.

A balloon carries it up and a paper parachute comes down gently to earth with it after the balloon bursts.

Two parachutes of that type were found in this area and the Air Force, obliged by explaining to one of the finders.

One fell recently near Southern Michigan State Prison. Previously, Maurice Hartcutt, a school teacher, came upon one near his Clark Lake home.

Hartcutt made inquiries and the Air Force sent him a letter and a six-page explanation of the radioonde.

The radioonde, a tube with a pointed nose, is powered with a small battery that transmits signals. A receiving-type ground direction finder picks up the signals and converts them into atmospheric language.

This includes air pressures, temperature, humidity, and wind speed and direction.

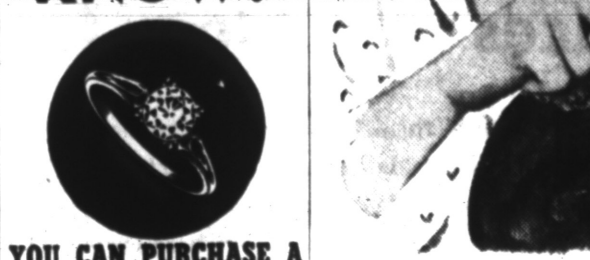

The data is used in analyzing world weather conditions and for local and national forecasts. It contributes, of course, to air navigation.

Including the large balloon, the equipment covers an area of about 50 feet.

The hydrogen-inflated balloon rises to a maximum height of about 90,000 feet.

Senate Group Reveals F. D. R.-Knox Decision to Keep Reds on Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—New investigations have been pledged by the Senate internal security subcommittee to expose any Communists who penetrated the government. "It cannot be said in any sense that we have learned the names of all the secret Communists who infiltrated the government service," the subcommittee said last night. "It cannot even be said that we have learned all about those whose names we have brought to light."

Calling "the exposure of these individuals and their works" one of its continuing projects, the subcommittee made public a 74-page report on the investigations conducted in the last Congress while Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) was chairman. Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), Jenner's successor as chairman, said in a statement the subcommittee has a number of new projects under consideration. He did not elaborate but he said two of them "seem reasonably certain to involve a series of public hearings."

The unanimous report turned in by the subcommittee included these principal findings:

1. That President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Frank Knox, his secretary of the Navy, weakened the Navy's security program in World War II by permitting Communist radio operators on merchant ships.

2. That the magazine China Weekly Review, formerly published in Shanghai by John W. Powell of San Francisco, "was used extensively in the Chinese Communist effort to brainwash American prisoners of war under inhuman conditions of indoctrination, starvation, torture, and death."

3. That the magazine China Weekly Review, formerly published in Shanghai by John W. Powell of San Francisco, "was used extensively in the Chinese Communist effort to brainwash American prisoners of war under inhuman conditions of indoctrination, starvation, torture, and death."

4. That, "in terms of present knowledge," the most important underground Communists who infiltrated the government were Alger Hiss, former State Department aide who recently completed a prison term for perjury, and the late Harry Dexter White, a Treasury Department official. Both denied any subversive activity.

The subcommittee published for the first time messages exchanged by Roosevelt and Knox, both now dead, relating to their decision against barring Communists from jobs as radio operators on merchant ships.

New Directors Announced for Guidance Clinic

The 1955 Board of Directors roster for the Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic was announced today by Madeleine Hall, clinic director.

They are: Dr. Robert J. Mason of Birmingham, chairman; Dr. F. Milton Hathaway of Pontiac, vice chairman, and Mrs. Lawrence S. Marts of Bloomfield Township, secretary.

Board members this week will attend the 18th Annual Conference of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, to take place March 24-25 at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit.

6 Nations Agree to Russian Aid

Reds Find Subscribers for $2 Million Worth of Technical Assistance

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia finally has found takers for two million dollars in aid she has offered for the last two years through the U.N. technical assistance program.

Six countries were reported today to have accepted Soviet help this year in improving their economies. They will be sent Russian technicians or equipment, or will send their own experts to Russia for training.

Three of the nations were identified as Burma, India and Indonesia. Two others were understood to be in the Middle East and the third in Latin America.

Some 10 projects were reported involved. They include machine tools and technicians for an electronic calculating machine factory in India, equipment for water development in the same country and a low-cost housing exhibit in Latin America.

Russia gave the technical assistance program four million rubles for 1953 and another four million for 1954—the equivalent, at the official rate, of two million dollars all told.

She first attached strings to the money. Then they were untied, and she waited for somebody to show interest. Now the leftover 1953-54 rubles are going fast, and the Soviet government has pledged another four million for this year.

Twelve Persons Hurt in Two-Car Smashup

SAGINAW (AP)—Twelve persons were injured in the collision of a station wagon and an automobile Sunday afternoon. The accident occurred near Hemlock in Saginaw County.

Riding in the station wagon were Robert Robinson, 34, of Howard City, his wife and five children. All were injured.

The car was driven by James Comstock, 34, of Montrose. He and his four passengers also were injured.

Gracie Satisfactory

NEW YORK (AP)—Gracie Fields, British comedienne-singer, was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at Doctors Hospital following a gall bladder operation. The 57-year-old entertainer is the wife of Boris Alperovici.

Molotov's Remarks on Hydrogen Bomb Phrased Vaguely, Translation Points Out

By TOM WHITNEY
 (AP Foreign Staff)
 Exactly what did Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov say about Soviet success with the H-bomb in his recent policy speech?

The Russian leader is frequently quoted as having declared Feb. 8 that the U.S.S.R. leads the United States in manufacture of thermonuclear weapons. Apparently this is the impression the Soviet government would like the Western world to have. Since Molotov's statement, certain Soviet commentators have said precisely that.

For instance Maj Gen. F. Isayev, writing in a foreign affairs magazine primarily for circulation outside the Soviet Union, declared his country was well ahead of the United States in production of hydrogen weapons.

A careful examination of Molotov's remark in Russian, as reported in Pravda, indicates his statement can mean a lot or almost nothing, depending how one reads it. An expert American translator, who has done a lot of official translation work, renders the sentence in the Molotov speech this way:

"Things reached such a point that in the production of the hydrogen weapon the Soviet people attained such success that it is not the Soviet Union but the United States which has found itself in the position of being backward."

A translation into English issued by the Soviet delegation to the U. N. reads:

"It has come to a point where the Soviet people have made such progress in the manufacture of hydrogen weapons that it is the United States that is lagging behind and not the Soviet Union."

An American expert on Russian language and grammar commented today:

"It seems to me to be deliberately vague. If Molotov wanted to say the Soviet Union is now at the present time ahead of the United States in its rate of production of H-bombs, he could have said just that. Instead he used a rather indefinite phraseology."

If Molotov wished to imply that the Russians at this time are stronger in thermonuclear hitting power than the United States, there are authorities to contest the claim. Both President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill have indicated the United States holds a big lead.

It's Possible to Divide an Inch Into Millionths

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Scientists now can divide air into such tiny streams that it is possible to divide an inch into millionths.

W. I. Wilt and H. Kiefaber, of the Sheffield Corp., Dayton, Ohio, told a meeting here of the American Society of Tool Engineers that "new ways are being found every day in which air can be used to divide that inch smaller."

Such revolutionary developments, they said, "make it easier for production and inspection people to turn out and accept good parts in accordance with prints at lower cost of production."

The Department of Agriculture has found benzene hexachloride to be an effective agent in the control of common chicken lice.

Benson Pushes Milk Campaign

Agriculture Chief Tells of Some Headway in Promotional Drive

SALT LAKE CITY (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson urged the dairy industry to step up its "drink milk" campaign.

Benson told the Pacific Dairy and Poultry Association in a prepared speech that "we have yet to see the full effects of the vigorous promotional" drive launched by the industry last year.

The secretary reported that some headway has been made, but he said the industry must still do a better selling job.

Preliminary reports, he said, show a 58 per cent increase in normal monthly consumption in the special school lunch program. In some states, the boost was more than 100 per cent.

Benson said that milk vending machines still lag behind others in sales. He gave these figures: Coffee, 65 million dollars; candy, 210 millions; soft drinks, 393; cigarettes, 690 million, and milk, 22 million.

He added: "Personally, I am not going to be satisfied until I read that sales of milk through mechanical vendors are approaching the totals recorded by competing beverages. We can reach this goal if we have the will to do it."

Unattended Gas Station Does Good Business

OPPSDAL, Norway (INS) — Ingvar Gunnes runs a unique self-service gas station at Oppsdal.

His customers help themselves to gas and leave money in an envelope. If they are owed change, Gunnes sends it by mail.

He said, after operating the system for a year, "I've never lost a farthing."

Extra-Large Black Dog Turns Out to Be Bear

GRANBY, Quebec (INS) — A Quebec man will always believe his eyes. He telephoned police that what looked like a black dog as big as a horse followed him home.

Police—with some thoughts of disbelief—went to his home. They found a huge bear that had recently escaped from Granby Zoo.

The most recent discovery of a major planet occurred in 1930 when astronomers identified Pluto, which lies an average of 3,666 million miles from the sun.

The Life of Christ—13

Jesus' 1st 'Mistake'---Preaching Beatitudes

(More instances pointed to the fact that Christ was proving Himself as the only man who came into this world to die, in yesterday's installment of Bishop Sheen's "Life of Christ." Jesus was 31 years old, stressing the point that His Cross was something that was sealed upon Him from the very beginning. And when Satan tempted Him to be a wonder worker in the Temple, Christ answers that He is a Redeemer.)

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

One way to make enemies and antagonize people is to challenge the spirit of the world. The world has a spirit, and each age has its peculiar outlook and set of values. One age may be described as "revolutionary," another as "capitalistic," and perhaps another as "critical."

But underlying all of these, the world has certain unanalyzed assumptions which govern conduct. Anyone who challenges such worldly maxims as, "you live only once," or "get as much out of life as you can," is bound to make himself unpopular.

This was the first "mistake" of Our Lord, from a worldly point of view. After choosing His twelve Apostles, He delivered what is popularly called: "The Sermon on the Mount," or "The Beatitudes."

So often the unthinking say: "The essence of Christianity" is the "Sermon on the Mount." The truth is that the Sermon on the Mount is inseparable from the Mount of Calvary. The day Our Lord preached His Beatitudes, He signed His death warrant. The Sermon on the Mount cannot be separated from the Crucifixion, as day cannot be separated from night. If a man arose in Moscow and said he believed in free elections, he would be liquidated. What then shall happen to the God-Man if He declares Himself the enemy of egotism, avarice and selfishness? He too will be liquidated!

Sitting on a mountain top, Christ opened His mouth and preached: "Blessed are the poor in spirit; the kingdom of heaven is theirs."

Blessed are the patient; they shall inherit the land.

Blessed are those who mourn; they shall be comforted.

The Sermon on the Mount: Christ preaches the Beatitudes

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for holiness; they shall have their fill.

Blessed are the merciful; they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the clean of heart; they shall see God.

Blessed are the peace-makers; they shall be counted the children of God.

Blessed are those who suffer persecution in the cause of right; the kingdom of heaven is theirs.

Blessed are you, when men revile you, and persecute you, and speak all manner of evil against you falsely, because of me.

Be glad and lighthearted, for a rich reward awaits you in heaven."

To be "blessed" means to be happy.

Poor in spirit: "Poor" does not mean indigent. To be poor in spirit is to be conscious of one's spiritual poverty, to blush at one's own defects, to have a deep sense of nothingness before God, and to be resigned before the beneficent Hand of Providence. The foundation of all spiritual happiness is to be conscious before God of one's emptiness or one's need, like the publican smiting his breast. Poverty of spirit is the very antithesis of the worldly doctrine of self-sufficiency.

The patient: The patient bow to the rod of affliction, and bear injury meekly; in prosperity, they are thankful, and in adversity, they are resigned. Patience is meekness, which is opposed to anger, resentment, and retaliation. It is a consequence of the first Beatitude, for he who has learned the depth of his own weakness, will not be so ready to strike others, but rather will approach them with clemency.

The land they will possess, is not landed property; the Beatitude rather means that they can now enjoy the earth as a stepping stone to life eternal. The meek person is never disturbed by the fact that someone else owns something; possession to him is not an annoyance, but a pleasure which he takes as it comes; therefore, he enjoys the earth. Meek men in the Old Testament, like Caleb and Josue, inherited the Promised Land.

Those who mourn: Those who mourn are not the weepers from discontent, but those who feel the sorrows and the sins of the world as their own. The world regards sorrow as disaster; Our Lord looks upon it as the darkness that heralds the dawn. The sorrow here is not so much physical as spiritual, that is, for sin rather than the consequences of sin. Once the soul looks into its own past, and sees there its multiplied rejections of Divine Love, it cannot help but mourn. This contrition is the condition of moral progress and the pathway to true comfort and peace of soul.

Amundsen Sails Again

Election Plans Made by Club

Robert Grosjean, master of ceremonies, welcomed Hoedowners Dance Club members to Owen School Saturday evening. Election of officers is planned for April 2.

Featured callers were Harvey Gilchrist, Ralph Monroe, Walt Ashley, Mr. Grosjean, Roy Burch, DeWitt Hart, Cecil Elsholz and Howard Fraley. Rapidly May, Ed Farr and Jim Orton were guest callers. Guests were the Jack Martins, the James Ortons, the Mays, the Farris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oesch and Margaret Coutes and John Franzen.

Paris Designers Think of Men Too

PARIS (INS) — Paris, the center of feminine fashions, doesn't neglect men either — French designers have produced "Picasso sweaters," "Balzac shirts" and "Uranium ties" to tickle the male imagination.

The new fashion modes for men are designed to build up masculine personality, individuality and prestige.

Designer Pierre Cardin believes that a male's clothes should be both stylish and comfortable. For sportswear he proposes Picasso sweaters and Balzac shirts.

The first are wide pullovers, hand-knitted of loop wool or cut in a plaid checked, worsted fabric. They reach well below the hips and are worn with stovepipe, suede leather trousers.

Jockey blouses are made of felt or of a wool fabric. Their sleeves are set in low and they come in "masculine colors" including Havana, copper, moss, chestnut and lavender blue.

Balzac shirts serve a double purpose. They can be worn around the fireplace at home without a jacket or with fuxados for a more formal occasion.

They are made of fine linen with romantic sleeves gathered into cuffs. Some have two rows of mother-of-pearl buttons for a double-breasted effect. Others have a set-in front bib pleated to a herring-bone pattern.

They have extra-wide shoulders and extra-short shirt-tails to be worn outside.

There is news in dressing gowns, too. In 1955 elegant men in Paris will wear them short, reaching just to the knee-caps. For a dignified look, however, they must be worn with trousers.

Cardin makes such dressing gowns of real Cashmere wool, velveteen or hand-woven fabric that looks like Indian rugs or blankets.

After the "television pants" for women, Paris now suggests "television jackets" for men. Actually, they are simply a revival of the "smoking jackets" grandpa used to wear.

The television jacket is longer than a suit jacket, single-breasted and with shawl-lapels. Paris tailor Dorian Guy shows one in soft woolen fabric with narrow and blue stripes. It also can be of plaid-patterned wool or of beige camel-hair fabric.

It seems that men were envious when Feds came out with explosive "H-bomb" fashions for women. To go with the females' styles men now are wearing "Uranium ties," pale grey with a metallic shimmer.

To New York Convention

YW Delegates Plan Trip

Delegates from Pontiac YWCA are making plans to attend the national YWCA convention to be held in New York City April 21 through 28.

Those who will attend are Eileen Muir, Kay Veddor, Ora Hallenbeck, Mrs. Fred Haushalter and Mrs. Allan H. Monroe.

Others are Mrs. Myron Buck, Mrs. George Alexander and Kay Chmiloek. Kay has been chosen to represent the teenage group affiliated with Pontiac YWCA.

At a recent meeting of YWCA board held at the Franklin boulevard chapter house, Y-Teen representatives presented a program on their experiences at the mid-winter conference.

The conference was held in February at St. Mary's Lake in Battle Creek. Taking part were Betty Morris, Pat Lawrence and Kay Chmiloek.

Mrs. J. L. VanWagoner gave meditation appropriate to the Lenten season. The next board meeting will be held April 13.

Parents Separated From Grown Children Would Be Happier if 'Adopted'

Woman in East Shows Lonely Moms Friendship

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

"As a nation, we don't neglect our children, but we do tend to neglect our parents," remarked neurologist David C. Wilson of the University of Virginia a while ago at a conference on problems of the aging.

About the same day the mailman brought me a letter from Mrs. Theodore Uber of Slippery Rock, Pa., who far from trying to slough off parents, has gone to great trouble to acquire and cosset them.

"My mother has been dead 10 years and I never knew my mother-in-law, so I've adopted some mothers who live nearby," she writes. "No legal papers are necessary and no expense is involved."

The real daughter of one of my adopted mothers is in New Mexico and another is in California. They can't get home as often as they'd like and so I try to do for their mothers what I would want some one to do for mine where she living and I far away."

So when the Uber takes cookies or rolls, there are always extras for these "unblood" mothers. Mrs. Uber takes them to church and shopping, helps them with the spring housecleaning.

One of the adopted acts as a substitute grandmother for the Uber girls because Mrs. Uber feels that all children need grandparents.

"For boys and girls to know older people is a fine experience for which there is no possible substitute," she declares.

Some experts on bringing up the young echo this opinion but there is another and equally vocal school of thought. One member of it recently told me that he advises youthful married people to put as many miles as possible between themselves and their families.

"Distance," he said with conviction, "is the answer to in-law troubles."

He was thinking, of course, of homes he had seen broken up by interfering and possessive in-laws. But I wonder if discord here is not like any other kind of disharmony — easily turned into harmony by a mixture of honest effort and understanding held together by a liberal application of the Golden Rule.

Too often, older people are set in their ways, reluctant to change and too certain that their ideas are right. Equally, the youngsters are likely to be a little defiant about living their own lives and making their own decisions. Sometimes, too, they unfairly refer to their elders as old fogies just because they think differently.

It may take a crisis to bring understanding. That's what happened to a young couple of my acquaintance recently. The older of their two children was injured in an accident and Grandmother sailed into the emergency with eager hands, affection and a comforting way with a suffering youngster.

Daughter-in-law decided that she had been wrong to think that a mother-in-law's only stock in trade was unwelcome advice. And Grandmother, whose life has been rather lonely since she was widowed, also learned a few valuable lessons. She's no longer a neglected parent and everybody's happier.

The old-fashioned family doctor must have disappeared with the old-fashioned family.

Make Cake to Greet Springtime

Mrs. Simpson Adds Cherries to Prettify Upside-down Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Let's celebrate spring with a delicious dessert. Pineapple Upside Down Cake is her husband's favorite dessert. Mrs. William Simpson says. We know lots of husbands who will agree.

In addition to keeping an attractive home for her husband and three school age children, Mrs. Simpson does part-time general nursing at a local hospital. In connection with the children, her other activities include membership in the LeBaron PTA and being a leader of her daughter's Bluebird group.

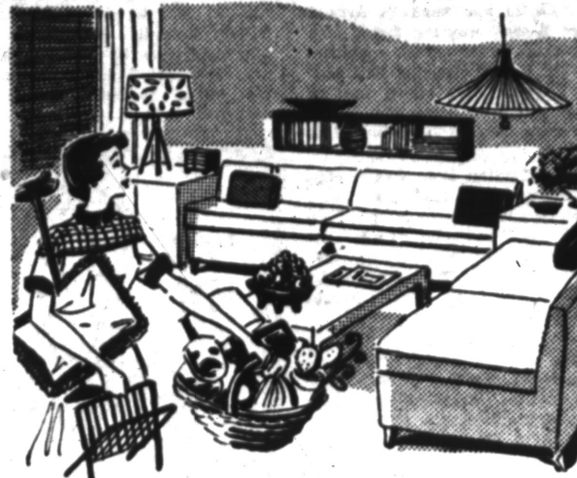

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

By Mrs. William A. Simpson

Place pineapple in a greased 8x8x2 pan. Put a cherry in the center of each pineapple ring. Sprinkle the brown sugar and nuts over the fruit.

Cream the shortening and sugar, add the vanilla and beat well. Add the well beaten egg yolks, then the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour over the fruit and sugar mixture in the pan.

Bake 45 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Invert at once on a cookie sheet and let the pan remain over the cake for half an hour. Serves 6. Top with whipped cream

Clear Up Clutter During Spring Freshening Time

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Clutter has a way of taking over a room when you're not looking. As time goes on, it's all too easy to accumulate things—wrong-size pictures, outmoded lamps, bric-a-brac gifts from people loved more for their generosity than their taste.

All at once a room is full of odds and ends, many of which are a blight on the decoration. Now, when it's spring freshening time, check rooms at your house to see if clutter has the upper hand.

Real Problem of Working Mother: Self-Devaluation

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The real problem of America's working mothers is the constant temptation to justify absence from their children by belittling their value to the children.

Few are aware of it. In the male world that absorbs the working mother, there's time only for speed, pressure and competitiveness. So she has no time to notice her growing belief that what her earnings can purchase for her children is as satisfactory as her presence. She is too rushed to realize how she's learning to de-value herself.

What can be done about it? Well, we'd have to begin by refusing to rate womanly success by the money it earns in the male world.

We'd have to realize that though it gives us cash it demands in return the vitality that belongs to Billy and Sue. We'd have to look straight at what it can do to feminine tenderness after eight hours' labor in it—and stop insisting that the results are good enough for Billy and Sue.

Yes, as we dispense our damaged tenderness to them, we'd have to know it was damaged and be able to wish it were whole. We'd have to withdraw our pride in our masculine achievements that have exhausted our power to deliver feminine ones.

That, at least, would be standing by our own sex values instead of submitting to those of the other sex. Men are going to have to help us.

"Both sexes must unite against the values that conspire to destroy the high prestige to which maternity is entitled," writes psychiatrist Dr. Abram Kardiner in a brilliant new book, "Sex and Morality."

He adds: "When women know that the mother-housewife is not regarded as an unproductive drudge, we'll have better homes. We'll have mothers who appreciate their power to develop in children the social emotions upon which our survival depends."

Dr. Kardiner goes on to tell us what can happen to people who subordinate maternal care to economic gain.

These people live on a certain Pacific island. Tradition requires the mothers to leave home every morning to work in the fields. When their toddlers run after them, crying, they are sent back

Girl's Dates Are Mom's Business

Parent Should Be Part of Teenager's School Activities

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

After you've been dating around for years and years your mother may figure your dates are your business. She may be perfectly willing to leave you on your own to make or break them as you see fit. She won't feel that she has to get in the act.

But at the beginning of dating she definitely wants to know the boys who strike your interest. She expects to be asked before you accept invitations. And she's not likely to smile benignly on bids from boys she doesn't know.

A large part of the reluctance to recognize her daughter's sudden interest in boys and dates is due to the fact that Mother doesn't know her friends.

There are several ways around it. One is for a mother to make a point of being part of her daughter's school life. And that isn't too tough. There's the parent-teacher organization at which she can meet the parents of other students.

There's the guild or the auxiliary where she can associate with other mothers. There are activities at school that she and Dad can attend with daughter. All of this will give her a chance to attach names to faces. So when daughter talks about her pals at home they won't seem unknown.

If Mother isn't interested in bothering that much, daughter will have to start talking things up at home, in which case this problem is likely to come up.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 14 and Mother won't allow me to have boy friends. She teases me when I talk to a neighborhood boy. When I tell her about the boys at school and the ones I meet through my girl friends, she makes an awful fuss."

A boy asked me for a date and I accepted. Mother said I could go. Then at the last minute she changed her mind and I was embarrassed to death. What can I do so that when I do get another date she won't do that to me again?"

Answer: Your Mother would feel more enthusiastic about your date had she known the boy you were going with. From now on, cheerfully take her teasing, and keep right on telling her about the boys at school, the ones you like and the ones you don't like.

Bring home with you after school the boys you like best. Introduce them to her. Fill in background details that will encourage her to like them. Talk them up so she'll feel she knows them. Then your date will not fall on deaf ears.

Since your mother is going to say or nay your dates you'd be wise to make her feel that your friends are her friends, too.

You Need Something to Look at

By HUBBARD COBB

Every time we drive down a suburban street we are struck by the number of picture windows in homes that look out on nothing more attractive than a sidewalk and a busy street.

This has bothered us because we always felt that when you looked through a picture window you should see a picture. Well, the other day we got talking to our good friend Fred Anderson of the Anderson Window Andersons and he suggested that if you didn't have much of a picture through your picture window, why not make one.

His idea is that if your window doesn't look out on much of interest, it's not a difficult matter to create a little interest. For example, you could plant a nice fast growing hedge around the lawn so that when you looked out of the window you saw the hedge and not a garbage truck rumbling up the street.

Another idea would be to build a terrace or patio in front of the window. Of course, you don't have to stop here. You could plant a few nice fast growing trees which would provide a view and also shade.

This business of shade becomes pretty important come summer because unless the picture window has double glass with one side made of heat absorbing glass, you are going to find that it will let a powerful lot of hot sun into the house unless it's properly shaded.

Of course, you don't have to use trees for shading, awnings of the proper design will do just as well but maybe not provide quite as nice a view as will the trees.

Curtains and draperies on the inside of the window aren't too much help in keeping out the heat in summer but they are effective in keeping in the warmth during the cold weather.

Call Friends If You Won't Be a Bother

Traveling Couple Dislikes Loneliness of Train Station

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "What is considered proper in the following situation? My husband and I travel a good deal and it often happens that we are held over in a city for a several hour wait to make train connections.

In many of these towns live people we have met in our travels, or known slightly through friends at home. Rather than wait around the railroad station, would it be proper to call these acquaintances and ask if we may come to see them?"

If you know that these acquaintances are unlikely to be busy and believe them to be friendly, it will be quite all right for you to telephone and explain that you are in town for an hour or so between trains and would like to come to see them if they will be at home.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am confronted with the problem of how to serve dinner correctly when we have guests at table. I have no maid to help me.

Each place at table is set with a dinner plate and I would like to know how the meat, which my husband carves at table, is put on these plates? Does each guest pass his, or her, plate to him so that he may put the meat on it. This seems rather awkward to me.

Answer: Instead of setting your table with a dinner plate at each place, put them in a pile on the table to the left of your husband who puts a slice of meat on each plate and then passes it to the person for whom it is intended—starting with the lady on his right.

Dear Mrs. Post: Every now and then I have to write a note to my son's teacher and am always confused as to how to sign my name. Is it Mrs. R. J. Smith, Mrs. Smith or Mary Smith? Also, do I close the note with Sincerely, or Gratefully?

Answer: You sign your name Mary Smith, and if necessary you put Mrs. R. J. Smith in parenthesis underneath your signature.

Cards, Baby Sitting Meant Business

By ANNE HEWYOOD

"There is a lady in our town who has a very interesting business," a reader writes, "and she gave me permission to pass it along, in case other women in other towns might like to try the same thing. It can be carried on in one's own home.

This reader's name is Mrs. G., and she has a bridge-teaching, baby-sitting service.

"It all began shortly after Mrs. G. was widowed," the letter read, "she and her husband had loved to play bridge, and were really a wonderful team. She missed it terribly, and she missed him terribly. Also, her income was so small that she desperately needed to find a way of supplementing it.

"One day she decided to see if she could give bridge lessons afternoons in her home. She didn't know whether or not there would be any demand for it, so she inserted an ad in our paper.

"Well, she was moved under with answers. But the trouble was, so many of them came from young mothers who had no baby sitters, and therefore would have trouble getting away for the bridge lessons."

"So Mrs. G. decided to get a high school student to help out.

"She set up the living room with bridge tables, and cleared the extra bedroom to use as a children's playroom. The first afternoon, eight women came. Before long, she had three groups a week.

"The lessons were wonderful, and she was a very good teacher. She served light refreshments, and charged a moderate fee for the whole session, covering the lessons, the baby-sitting and the refreshments.

"At first, so Mrs. G. told me, she was afraid that she would put herself out of business; afraid that after the women learned to play decently, they would stop coming. But all of us had such a good time, and it was so wonderful to get away from the constant baby care, that most of us have fitted our schedules around one afternoon a week at Mrs. G.'s, even after we've learned the fine points of the game.

"This all began four years ago, and Mrs. G. is now busy five afternoons a week. And the way our town is growing, it looks as though she'll never run out of customers.

"She just loves it, because it keeps her in touch with people, which cuts down the loneliness; it gives her a chance to play all the bridge she wants; it gives her plenty of free time to herself—and she makes a profit, too!"

Detergent in Cakes

For those who can't use soap at all because of allergies, there is now a detergent cake for shower or tub use. It won't lather as freely, but the allergic woman can't be choosy.

Make Unique Bookmarks

I know that many of you collect pictures of movie stars, so here is a way to make a "star" bookmark.

Let's thank Beth Sauer and Lynn Weber for this idea. They suggest that you save wooden picnic spoons. If the spoons have been used, wash them and let them dry well.

movie star and cut it out to fit on the large part of the spoon.

Paste it in place. After the paste is dry, give it all a coat of shellac. Do this on both sides. This will keep the picture from tearing and also will make the spoon bright and shiny. You will find that book marks protect your books from folded corners. TRY IT!

General Motors Girls' Club to Present Fashion Show on Wednesday

Wednesday evening members of the General Motors Girls' Club will present a spring style show with fashions by the DeCor Shop. Mrs. Ruby Brusha of Delaware drive (left standing) is trying hats on Margaret Cooper of Glenwood avenue, who will serve as fashion commentator. Eulalia Valentine of East Columbia avenue is admiring a print dress while another of the fashions is being modeled by Beverly Slayton of LeGrand avenue.

Eulalia Valentine Serves as Chairman for Event

Fashions for spring from the DeCor shop will be modeled Wednesday evening at a fashion show being presented by members of the General Motors Girls' Club.

The eight o'clock show will be held in the Pontiac Motor Division Engineering Auditorium. Entertainment will be provided by a local dance studio.

Proceeds will be used to purchase a rolling library cart stocked with suitable reading material for residents at the Oakland County Convalescent Home.

Eulalia Valentine is serving as general chairman of the affair and is being assisted by Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Mrs. K. A. Stevens, Mrs. Ruby Brusha, Irene Schwanbeck, Mrs. H. J. Rickgers and Mrs. J. P. Martin.

Models from all three divisions of the General Motors Corporation are Diana Madsen, Mary Lou Gray, Beverly Slayton, Margaret Thompson and Pat Sephar.

Others are Jeanette DeClerck, Doris and Janice Harmony, Ella Hetherington, Mrs. C. A. Litchel and Mrs. Brusha. Margaret Cooper will be fashion commentator.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mrs. H. V. Kelly Hostess to Group

Guild 10 of All Saints Episcopal Church was entertained at a buffet dinner held recently in the Judson street home of Mrs. H. Vale Kelly. Mrs. George McKnight assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Fanny Salzman gave a Christian education lesson. Plans were completed for a breakfast to be given May 7 at the church. This affair has been sponsored by Guild 10 for 28 consecutive years.

Book Is Reviewed

Mrs. W. J. Baumgartner reviewed the book "Unarmed Among the Outlaws," when January-March group of First Presbyterian Church met.

Mrs. Thomas Tilson gave devotions and Mrs. Smith Falconer was hostess for the recent meeting.

PTA Activities

Pern Porritt will speak at Eastern Junior High School PTA Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Civil defense will be discussed by Charles Evans. Connie Kolb will direct the Girls' Glee Club. Officers will be elected.

Plastic Table Tops Wear Well and Look Well

NEW YORK (INS) — Plastic topped tables not only wear well—they can also help make a whole room look well.

A new group of ten tables, designed in varying heights for use as cocktail, dining and end tables, have sacrificed a little bit of practicality for an extra style note.

The grey, white or walnut laminated plastic tops have the usual plastic advantages in that they are impervious to burns, stains and scratches.

But designer Jens Risom has gambled that people won't leave their cigarettes on the table edge and so has abandoned the stark, all-around plastic look for wood bandings to match the walnut base.

The tables are particularly suitable to modern settings, but the simplicity of their lines makes it possible to place them with traditional furniture as well.

They are available in either 16,

23 or 29 inch heights, and come in small and large rectangular shapes as well as in circular or square models.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *See U.S. Pat. Off.

Bob Considine Says:

Newspaperman's Prayer Needs Repeating

NEW YORK (INS)—There have been so many requests for a piece I once wrote called "Newspaperman's Prayer," since a portion of it was used recently on Loretta Young's television show, that it may save time to reprint it.

It goes:
Dear God, may I be fair. Circumstances and dumb luck have placed in my thimble paws a degree of authority which I may not fully comprehend. Let me not profane it.

Give me the drive that will make me check and counter-check the facts. Guide me when, lost for want of a rudder or a lead, I stumble through the jungle of speculation. Grant me, as the poet sang:

The courage to change
The things I can change;
The serenity to accept
Those I cannot change,
The wisdom to know the difference.

The 26 sharp-edged tools we call our alphabet can do what other tools do: build or destroy. Let me build. But let me know clearly, also what should be destroyed, what darkness, what bigotry, what evil, what curse, what ignorance.

Never let me slip into writing DOWN in famous fear that readers will not understand. Let me write from the shoulder, and always with the assumption that those who read know more than I.

Such news as I find or comes my way, let me tell it quickly and accurately and simply, with an eye to my responsibilities. For news is precious. Few could live without it. When it is stopped or thwarted or twisted, something goes out of the hearts of men it might have nourished.

Confront a starving man with his choice of a succulent meal or the promise to reveal instantly news of great importance, and he will first take the news. THINK pieces, as we say in the trade to identify articles and columns contrived out of airy nothingness, or from a prone position, can never replace the meat and potatoes of news.

Let me champion just causes, avoid expediency, never lose the stimulation engendered by printer's ink. Remind me to be kind to copy boys, for I'll meet them on the way back down—when they are editors. Protect the innocent from me when, with deadlines pressing, my aim grows fuzzy.

Make me use my legs and eyes, the better to track down and see the truth. Deafen me to the Lorelei song of rootless hearsay, rumor and the gossip of town loafers. If word that could cause great harm comes to me, even from sources far above reproach, let me have the dexterity and decency to pick up a phone and ask the subject about it.

When the customers write in to accuse me of being a bum, let me consider carefully the possibility or probability that I am . . . and try to do better. Let me work er, try harder and recall with harder, try harder and recall with proper humility that history produced some notably able reporters, including four journeymen named Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

Let my stomach rebel at plucking meat from publicity handouts and let me not be misled when someone says, "You had a pretty good piece last week but I can't remember what it was," or "I never miss your sports column in 'The Christian Science Monitor,' John."

As long as our men fight, sweat, freeze and die in actual or cold war, sacrifices which at times should make our food stick in our throats and our luxuries a torment, let me never cheaply use the words "courage" or " guts" to describe the means by which a pitcher wins a ball game, a gridman backs a line, a golfer sinks a putt, or a fellow makes a speech. And above all, let me recall repeatedly what the great teachers of the past . . . Moses and Socrates and Christ . . . would have done it by some alchemy they had been given the breath-taking break or swift and far-flung communications.

Too Close for Comfort

DENVER (AP)—Alvin Vigil told police today he lay down on a bed at his home to watch television, dozed off and woke up to find both the TV set and the bedspread gone. A neighbor, Mrs. Martha Kimble, said she saw three men carrying a suspicious looking box down the street. A bedspread was draped over it, she added.

There are more than 8,000 bituminous coal mines in the U.S.

Augustana Choir Internationally Famous Group

When the Augustana Choir steps onto the concert stage at Pontiac High School Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. March 30th, members of the audience will hear a group of internationally known singers.

Augustana Choir upholds a music tradition begun ninety-five years ago at Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois. Although primarily a liberal arts institution, the Lutheran college has had a school of music for many decades and has been a Midwest center for the presentation of the world's great oratorios ever since its founding in 1860.

The Jenny Lind is a fitting name for the women's voices of the choir, for it was Jenny Lind, the famous singer known as the Swedish Nightingale, who was among the first to contribute to the founding of Augustana College.

The Handel Oratorio, a 350 voice community-college chorus, in December presented the 74th Messiah concert on the college campus.

This giant choral group, which is accompanied by the college orchestra and has as guest soloists the leading artists of the country, Veld, the director of Augustana College Choir.

Each year Mid-westerners converge on Augustana to hear the chorus. The nationwide distribution of recordings has helped to spread the fame of Augustana Choir throughout the country.

Television fans saw the group when they appeared on a coast-to-coast telecast of the Ed Sullivan show Sunday.

Though Augustana Choir has never left the United States and Canada, its reputation is internationally known in all countries because of its radio broadcastings and recordings. The Choir is perhaps the only non-professional choir in the nation which is currently receiving royalty payments from two commercial recording firms at the same time.

More than eighty radio network broadcasts have been made by this distinguished group. The Choir's most memorable television performance was an hour long program over the ABS-TV network in 1932.

Augustana Choir each year attracts outstanding young singers to the college. At least six or seven students are on hand each fall to try out for each choir vacancy. There are no scholarships earmarked for choir members as it is a voluntary organization.

The concert here is being sponsored by St. John's Lutheran Church of Pontiac and Christ Lutheran Church of Waterford and tickets may be obtained from members of the churches or by phoning FE 4-3404 or OR 3-1811.

Adopts Japanese Orphan

Adds Daughter to Family of 4

Detroit Plant Worker Relies on Candy, Sons to Abet Language Gap

DETROIT (UP) — A 37-year-old father counted heavily on his three young sons and chocolate bars today to bridge the gap between himself and an adopted daughter who cannot speak English.

But the language barrier wasn't the only problem bothering Richard Ploski. His wife gave birth to her fourth son Saturday, four hours before the arrival of the adopted girl.

Doctors said Mrs. Ploski would not be released from the hospital until tomorrow or Wednesday.

The girl, Susan Yamada, 4, arrived here by plane from a Japanese orphanage.

The little girl stepped bravely from the plane but her composure collapsed and she broke into tears when Ploski walked up and took her in his arms. His sons, Richard, 6, Dennis, 5, and Terrance, 21-months, looked on.

Richard offered her his ice cream cone. It seemed to quiet her some, Ploski said.

"She didn't sleep too much the first night. She cried, probably lonely."

Ploski said he took the girl out of her bed and gave her some chocolate bars.

"She grinned a little. She does not speak English and I don't speak Japanese. But that seemed to make us buddies," he said.

Ploski is finishing the attic of his two bedroom home so Susan can have a bedroom of her own. The attic will be a dormitory-type bedroom for the boys.

The Ploskis first thought of adopting a girl when Terrance was born. They wanted a girl. Ploski and his wife read an article about Japanese children who needed homes. The idea was temporarily set aside while attempts were made to adopt a girl here.

"Agencies wouldn't listen to us, not with three children of our own and a fourth on the way. So we applied for a little girl and a nun at the Sister of Lourdes baby home in Yokohama picked Susan for us," he said.

Ploski, who works in the Fisher Body plant of General Motors Corp., said friends urged he and his wife to "give up the adoption proceedings since the wife's expected child 'might be a girl.'"

Ploski, who was raised in Europe, said the proceedings had already started and "I wasn't going to cancel even if my wife had triplets."

"You know," he said as he bounced the black-haired girl on his knee, "some of my friends dislike the Japanese because of the war. But none of it was this little girl's fault."

Ploski said he wasn't bothered too much by the language problem. He said he could "get to Susan" with chocolate bars and his three sons "get along with her swell."

"Kids just seem to understand each other by motions or something," he said.

HUNGRY FOR KISSES — Herman, the rabbit at left, has discovered that the only way he'll get fed is to stay on the good side of the nameless bunny (the one on the right). By kissing the plastic rabbit on the nose, Herman completes an electrical contact which releases food into his hutch. All Herman knows is it requires about 15 kisses to set his table for every meal. Herman lives in Ann Arbor, and is the subject of experiments.

Awards Slated at Boys' Club Dinner Tonight

Pontiac Boys' Club will present 13 annual awards at its father-son banquet this evening in observance of Boys' Club of America Week.

William V. Coulson, executive director who said some 700 persons are expected to attend the affair, will present the two top awards—the boy of the year and the best athlete of 1934.

Twenty boys, members of the tumbling team and gymnastics classes, will provide entertainment.

Other programs scheduled during this week's celebration are a pet show, Tuesday night; penny carnival, Wednesday; magician's night Thursday, Miss Boys' Club contest, Friday, and elections of Boys' Club mayor and eight councilmen, Saturday.

Gleason's $7 Million Buick TV Contract Criticized by Congressman, FCC Member

WASHINGTON (U)—The $7-million contract which television comedian Jackie Gleason recently signed with the Buick Division of General Motors came in for some congressional criticism, according to testimony released today.

The comment came from Rep. Phillips of California, ranking Republican member on a House Appropriations subcommittee which is looking over budget requests from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

Miss Frieda B. Hennock, a member of the FCC, told the congressional goopie she believes television programs are going to get worse.

The reason for this she said is that "90 per cent of the viewing audience (is) looking at two networks and the other networks get the balance."

Thus, she told a House Appropriations subcommittee, two big networks can largely determine what the viewing public may see and can "build up" a comedian like Jackie Gleason and pay him 11 million dollars.

Rep. Phillips told Miss Hennock that "one more contract like that (the Gleason contract) will ruin the networks."

She replied that it took the commission 30 years to get varied programs in radio, but that "television will be worse and take longer."

"Do you mean television programs will get worse?" asked Phillips.

"Yes," said Miss Hennock. Retorted Phillips:

"Just do not let the commission do anything to remove that little control on the right hand side of the television set that you can turn a half inch to the left and solve the whole thing."

"If Jackie Gleason is worth 11 million dollars, I think (TV comedian) George Gobel must be worth 100 million."

"I agree," responded Miss Hennock. Gleason's new contract with Buick provides he will be paid seven million dollars for producing and starring in his television show during the next two years.

He will receive an additional four million dollars if the show runs a third year.

Another commissioner, Rosel H. Hyde, told the subcommittee the FCC wants to make an overall study of major television network practices. But, he said, the agency is unable to get the money.

Hyde said the study should include the control exercised by the networks over individual stations, their programming policies and other questions.

He added that an investigation should be made before Congress considers various proposals to make television into a type of public utility or to change its present organization.

All members of the FCC, an agency which licenses communications, are agreed on the need for this study, he said. But he added that the approximate $100,000 cost has not been available.

"I do not think," Hyde said, "that we should conclude without an investigation of the facts, that the present system is all bad," or that additional regulation is needed.

Stardom Flight Slow for Most Songbirds

By DICK KLEINER

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — They're asking one question about the current record sensation—can she repeat? Joan Weber made one record, the fabulously successful "Let Me Go, Lover." It was an immediate smash, made her a star, made her enough money to run out and buy a new station wagon. And it may have made it so tough to follow that she never has another hit. That's happened.

But very few of the top thrushes hit stardom that fast. With most of them, it's a case of years of working in nightclubs, on small radio stations, with bands, on small record labels.

Patti Page is a case in point.

Then, in October, 1930, she cut a Christmas record. It was called "Boogie-Woogie Santa Claus," and it was quite a boogie-woogie failure. But there was a song on the other side—the "flip" side, record men call it—with the name, "Tennessee Waltz." That sold more than 3,000,000 copies and was the biggest record hit in 20 years.

So Patti Page arrived. And she stayed arrived—she had nine straight hits after "Tennessee Waltz," capped by the fabulous (shudder!) "Doggie in the Window."

Now the Tulsa girl, an ex-art student and one of 11 children of a railroad section foreman, lives in an apartment on Park Avenue. She employs a publicist, two secretaries (one for her fan clubs), a record promoter, a musical arranger and a pianist and she retains a lawyer and an accountant. But it took her six years to get from Tulsa to Park Avenue.

Six years doesn't seem like such a big obstacle to the thousands of hopefuls who yearly try to become big-time thrushes. The record field is still one of the most likely-to-be-cracked. All it takes is one record—or 13. Or maybe hundreds, and still no Park Avenue.

But every year they try. And every year somebody makes it. In 1934, there were three who became stars—

There was Joan Weber, a little 18-year-old from New Jersey. She'd been singing with small combos in little nightclubs around New Jersey spots. Her discovery led to that first record, "Let Me Go, Lover." Everyone is watching her, the director of Augustana College Choir.

Each year Mid-westerners converge on Augustana to hear the chorus. The nationwide distribution of recordings has helped to spread the fame of Augustana Choir throughout the country.

Ploski said he wasn't bothered too much by the language problem. He said he could "get to Susan" with chocolate bars and his three sons "get along with her swell."

"Kids just seem to understand each other by motions or something," he said.

JOAN WEBER: Can she repeat?

to see how her second, "It May Sound Silly" and "Call Me Careless," does.

And there was Betty Madigan, who won all the polls as the outstanding new girl singer of 1934. Her big record was a fragile little minuet-like song called "Joey."

Betty is one of the most beautiful of all the girl singers, which hasn't hurt her career one decibel. She's from Washington, D. C., and had gone to Catholic University before she turned singer. Then there were quite a few appearances in dingy nightclubs and small hotels before a New York publicity man, Arthur Pine, heard her and turned manager on the spot. He brought her along slowly.

But it took her several records before "Joey," and she still isn't in the Page class. Time will have to judge whether she makes it for her.

The third of '34's best new singers was Jaye P. Morgan, who made it despite the corny name. (She thinks it helped her.) She grew up in a family of singers, and the "Morgan Family" tricked throughout the west and mid-west singing anywhere there was an audience. When she was 13, her father died, the act broke up and she went back to school.

But she kept up her singing on small radio stations and little clubs, and then joined Frank DeVoi's band and sang with him for three years. Restless, she quit and headed for New York.

Her pretty blonde looks and trim figure — coupled with her unique style — won her a TV job. And she made a few records with a small label. Then one of the large companies signed her, and she made her first big record,

J. P. MORGAN: And more time.

"That's All I Want From You." Time will have to judge her future, too.

Every year, then, a few nestling thrushes take to the air. But it's a long pull. Many of them, like Peggy Lee, Kitty Kallan, Suzy Gale, Jo Stafford, Helen O'Connell and Kay Starr, spent years with bands, bouncing around the country on buses and playing one-night stands.

All of the top stars—the Eileen Barton, Mindy Carsons, Georgia Gibbs, Ertha Kitts—put in years of apprenticeship. They've sung in bands, radio, nightclubs, vaudeville, block parties—anywhere they could pick up a few bucks and a little experience.

But for every thrush who winds up nesting on Park Avenue, there are hundreds who go back to the bushes.

Communist Handbook Turned Over to House Probers

SEATTLE (AP)—Communist party big shots frown on using flower pots for window signals (the cops are wise) but they recommend the use of onion juice and water for writing secret messages.

This and a lot of other cloak and dagger information was gleaned from a handbook which the House Un-American Activities subcommittee obtained from a witness yesterday.

The manual, part of a collection of hundreds of documents stuffed into four cartons, was supplied by Eugene Dennett, steelworker and former Communist official testifying at hearings the subcommittee is conducting here.

Dennett had the records because he ignored orders from the party to destroy them when they read him out of membership in 1947 for "deviationist Trotskyism."

Frank S. Tavenner Jr., committee counsel, said the records are the most voluminous ever turned over to the committee by a former Communist.

He said the handbook, written by B. Vassiliev, a former communist strategist, goes much more into detail of Communist party mechanics and "is much plainer in its purposes" than anything in the extensive files of the committee.

Not only were the cops wise to the flower pots, Vassiliev wrote, they were even doublecrossing the Communists by putting pots in the windows themselves.

Comrades were instructed to use "the latest inventions of chemistry" in writing messages not intended for bourgeois eyes. But if the chemicals weren't handy, mix onion juice and water, they were advised.

Cafes also were looked upon as bad places for meetings.

"There always are spies in cafes and in countless numbers and it is difficult to get rid of them."

An ordinary, indistinctive flat was recommended, instead. Pass-words for getting into that flat were mandatory and of varying complexity as an official's rank increased.

Rank and file members got through the door with simple passwords. District workers had to learn a more complicated routine. And central workers, they really had to know the answers. A member who could ask and respond to three questions could be "addressed with full frankness."

Codes were specified, too ranging from ordinary word juggling to real mysterious stuff about book pages and poetry.

For instance, "auntie" was a printing press and "sugar" was type for the printing press.

There were instructions for infiltration of unions, industrial enterprises and professions like law, medicine, education and writing.

16 Die in Traffic Over Weekend

Dad, Daughter Drown; Girl, 3, Killed by Kick of Horse Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On the eve of spring, 16 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in Michigan.

In other accidents, 3-year-old Constance Bradford of Center Line died after she was kicked in the chest by a horse Sunday.

Arthur B. De Vries of Grand Rapids and his 6-year-old daughter, Cheryl, lost their lives Saturday when their motorboat capsized in the rain-swollen Grand River north of Grand Rapids.

The traffic victims included David Whiting, 16, of Holly, who was killed in a two-car collision on M87 near Holly.

Gerald David Kelly, 24, of Howell, a Michigan State College student, was killed Saturday when he lost control of his car and crashed into a tree near Howell.

Mrs. Linnea Wiley, 45, of St. Clair Shores was injured fatally Saturday night when hit by a car while crossing a Detroit street.

David D. Klinger, 73, of Detroit was killed when hit by a car Saturday night while crossing the Willow Run expressway.

Mrs. Margaret Randall, 31, of Inkster was injured fatally Saturday, in a two-car collision near Inkster.

Richard M. Warner, 49, and William Toll, 29, both of Flint, were killed Saturday in a collision on U.S. 10 near Clarkston.

Percy Morris, 26, coach of the University of Cincinnati rifle team, and Stanley Myers Jr., 23, a member of the team, were killed Friday night when the car in which they were riding missed a curve and overturned on U.S. 112 in Lenawee county.

Larry Lee Jackson, 19, of Elkhart, Ind., was killed Saturday in a two-car crash in Flint.

Louis Marchio, 50, of Melvindale was killed Friday night in a car-truck collision on U.S. 23 near Ann Arbor.

John Meier, 60, of near Mount Clemens was killed by a car early Saturday while walking along a highway near his home.

Mrs. Helena Roberts, 62, of Van Dyke was killed Friday night when hit by a truck while crossing a street in Warren Township.

Length of Days on Increase as Spring Arrives Today

With the arrival of spring at 4:36 this morning, daylight hours will steadily increase until summer in June.

For astronomy fans, spring offers many planetary phenomena well worth watching.

Jupiter will remain as one of the brightest objects and can be located high in the sky at dark near and to the south of Polaris and Castor in Gemini. On March 31 the moon will pass about two degrees below Jupiter, explains Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh of University of Michigan astronomy department.

2 Educators Blast Prepaid Schooling

DETROIT (AP)—Spokesmen for Detroit's two universities have criticized a Michigan State College proposal to allow parents to pre-pay for their children's education.

The Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, president of the University of Detroit, described the plan as "a threat to the freedom of choice a mature 18-year-old should be able to exercise when he is ready for college."

Olin E. Thomas, vice president of Wayne University in charge of finances, declared the plan would put MSC in the banking or insurance business.

The plan proposed by MSC would allow parents to pay $15 a month in advance from the birth of a child to cover the eventual cost of college education. It has the tentative approval of the State Board of Agriculture, the school's governing body.

Guilty Plea in Robbery Case Brings Sentence

Raymond Lendzian, 27, of Royal Oak, today received from two to ten years in Jackson state prison when he appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty after pleading guilty to robbery armed March 15.

Lendzian and three other men, previously sent to prison, admitted the $5,000 holdup of the Club Bar, 844 E. Ten Mile Rd., last Nov. 12.

Marshall died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday night when his car overturned on the Albion-Concord road.

Dale Colby, 30, of Scottville was killed Sunday night in a two-car crash on U.S. 31 south of Ludington.

Royal Oak Sailor, 20 Saves 2 in Florida

ROYAL OAK — A 20-year-old Royal Oak Coast Guardsman played a major role last night in the dramatic rescue on Tampa Bay.

Hospitalized for a virus attack, Jerrold Camp heard screams for help, and left his bed.

Diving into the bay, he struck out in the direction of the cries. A security patrolboat pulled out to overtake Camp, and heard the distress cries when they were pulling him from the water.

Rescued by the patrol were two 15 year old boys who had gone water skiing and had motor failure.

Camp is the son of James C. Camp, 612 Mt. Vernon, and is a 1953 graduate of Royal Oak high school.

Given Prison Sentence

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Hubert A. Partridge, 23, of 2320 Kenneth, Royal Oak, was sentenced to a maximum ten years in Jackson State Prison by Judge George B. Hartrick.

A jury March 9 convicted Partridge of assaulting a 13-year-old girl in Royal Oak last Sept. 20.

Councilman in Georgia Solves Numbers Game

EASTMAN, Ga. (AP)—A perennial headache has come from multiple demands for municipal auto tag No. 1.
City Councilman Hoke S. Wynne struck at the problem with a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, to sell 25 tags with No. 1 on them for 1955.
"And if this doesn't fill the needs this year, we can get more next time," Wynne said.

Pioneer British Heart Surgeon Lauds Advances Made Recently in America

DETROIT (AP)—Sir Russell Brock, pioneer British cardiac surgeon, says heart surgery has made great strides in this country in recent years.

Sir Russell told heart specialists from 20 countries attending the International Symposium on Cardiovascular Surgery that "chest surgeons who were chiefly interested in the lungs when I visited this country in 1949 now operate on the heart. They realize that heart surgery is here."

Sir Russell lauded the presentation made at the international meeting by Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, spokesman for University of Minnesota surgeons who use a so-called "cross circulation" system of heart surgery in which a blood donor shares his circulatory system with a patient undergoing a heart operation.

"This demonstrates that you can do operations in the open heart under direct vision," Sir Russell said. "Compared with cross circulation the stocks of mechanical methods (artificial hearts and lungs) are rather low."

He said that with hypothermia (cooling the patient's body temperature) it may be possible to do the same things as with cross circulation.

While heart surgeons in America have been reducing patients' temperatures by using ice packs or immersion in cold water, Sir Russell said he and his associates in England use bloodstream cooling.

"This reduces the time that the patient is at low temperature and thus reduces danger," Sir Russell said. "Furthermore, the heart is under observation during the cooling process."

Dr. Lillehei reported that within the last month he and his associates have used successfully a reservoir of oxygenated blood instead of cross circulation from donors while correcting defects in children's hearts.

This blood is taken from the arteries of donors instead of from veins and thus contains oxygen. Dr. Lillehei said so long as circulation is maintained the patient's rate of circulation can be reduced to one-tenth normal without brain damage. The time of an operation using the oxygenated blood reservoir is limited only by the amount of blood available, he said.

French Okay Budget of Nearly $9 Billion

PARIS (AP)—France's National Assembly has approved a budget anticipating nearly nine billion dollars in government income this year. But with military expenditures still to be figured, the intake is expected to fall about 10 per cent short of spending.

The Assembly approved the measure in a postmidnight session yesterday 392-211. It anticipates an income of 3,080,500,000 francs ($8,800,000,000).
Premier Edgar Faure already has promised to revise the nation's controversial tax structure to meet complaints of irate small businessmen and shopkeepers.

Stassen Asks Public for Help in New Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen wants the public to send him suggestions on how he could approach his new job as President Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament.

Stassen, named to the new post created Saturday by Eisenhower, invited the public's ideas, suggestions and comments in an ABC radio-TV interview yesterday. Of his Cabinet-level job, Stassen said:

"This is the search for ideas that mankind will have better hope for peace. It is the kind of matter in which you must never give up hope . . . even in a nuclear age."

About 44.3 per cent of U.S. farms have telephone service.

Star Black Stallion Wins Animal 'Oscar'

NORTHBRIDGE, Calif. (AP) — A black stallion named Gypsy has won an animal kingdom version of the Oscar.

He was awarded the Patsy award—for the picture animal top star of the year—for his part in the film "Gypsy Colt."

The event, sponsored by the American Humane Assn., was held yesterday at Devonshire Downs in the San Fernando Valley community.

Second place went to Francis the mule for "Francis Joins the Wacs" and third to the seal Esmerelda for "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

Lighted Cross Restored a Memorial to Physician

Central Methodist Church has restored the lighted cross to the dome of the church. It was first placed on the church in 1920 and stood until 1949 as a memorial to Central's servicemen who gave their lives for this country in World War I. It is being replaced as a memorial to Dr. George Alexander who served this community as a physician for more than 50 years.

The original cross was placed on the church in honor of the 78 servicemen who served in World War I and a memorial for Captain James Cook, Lieut. Elmer B. Nelson, H. B. Rodenbo and Russell Barley who made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Reds Accuse U. S. of Falsifying Yalta

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda has accused the U.S. State Department of trying to smear the 1945 Yalta conference by publishing "by no means authentic" documents.

"Attempts to discredit the Crimean conference led only to discrediting the United States," the Communist party paper said. "Ruling circles in the United States once again exposed themselves as the enemies of peace and international cooperation. Their actions have given rise to new suspicions among the United States' partners in NATO and have increased contradictions among them."

"Ruling circles in the United States would like to blacken the whole idea of international negotiations between great powers and thereby hinder the lessening of international tension," Pravda charged.

'Take-It-Easy' Policy Brought Red Wings Title

DETROIT (U)—A new "take-it-easy" policy—replacing the old rule of the "iron fist"—led to the Detroit Red Wings' seventh straight National Hockey League championship.

In a game free of any serious incidents, the Red Wings clinched the title Sunday night by humiliating the Montreal Canadiens, 6-0, before a roaring but orderly crowd of 13,383.

With a guard of 70 policemen standing watch in Olympia Stadium, the crowd generally was well behaved. One joker tossed a live baby octopus onto the ice, while another set off a string of firecrackers.

But that was all. Nothing resembling the ugly riot in Montreal Forum last Thursday.

Explaining the Red Wings' switch in strategy, General Manager Jack Adams said:

"We decided to go easy with the boys this season. This was Jimmy Skinner's first year as coach and we didn't want him and the boys to get off on the wrong foot by working too hard."

"Practice sessions were easier and shorter and the players were able to spend more time at home than before. So in the final few weeks they were fresh."

In the past, Adams has ruled the Red Wings with a firm hand. His theory was to keep the club a close-knit unit which did nothing else but eat, sleep and talk hockey.

Adams' change of battle plans proved successful. The Red Wings won their last nine games in a row for one of the greatest rallies in hockey history.

The comeback reached its climax in the second period of Sunday night's game when the Wings poured in five goals—four of them in a wild five-minute, 20-second spree.

Capt. Ted Lindsay, playing with a leather and metal brace to protect his bruised shoulder, scored three goals. The injury had kept him sidelined for the previous three games.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk hung up his 13th shutout of the season and, in so doing, won the Vezina Trophy from Toronto's Harry Lumley by a single goal, 135 to 134.

By finishing first, the Red Wings earned an additional $500 per player. They also gained a slight edge in the Stanley Cup playoffs which get under way Tuesday. If they reach the final round, four of the games, if necessary, will be played on Detroit ice.

Detroit meets Toronto in the 1st round of playoffs, while Montreal squares off against Boston. First games of the series are in Detroit and Montreal, Tuesday.

The New York Rangers Sunday night knocked Lumley out of the Vezina Trophy race by defeating Toronto, 3-2, on second-period goals by Andy Bathgate and Harry Howell. Chicago, meanwhile, turned back Boston, 4-3.

Adams today lauded his players and called coach Jimmy Skinner "the coach of the year."

"Belief in God and confidence in themselves did it for them. They said we wouldn't do it a month ago. They also said the only champion left in Detroit was the Lions. Well, here it is seven in a row."

Speaking of coach Jimmy Skinner, who took the unprecedented seventh title in a row in his last season at the helm, Adams said: "He's the coach of the year. He had (Capt. Ted) Lindsay and Howe out for several weeks and they're both all-stars. He also lost Lindsay on account of the suspension, but he did a wonderful job with the club."

The picture in the Montreal locker room was one of great contrast from the wild celebration in the Red Wing room. No one, including the press and Red Wing messengers, was allowed inside.

Inspired Jackson 5 Takes 'A' Title; Rouge 'B' Winner

EAST LANSING (U)—Records fell like so many tumbling blocks Saturday as Jackson, River Rouge, Houghton and Mass won championships in a hectic climax to the state high school basketball tournament.

Jackson caused the biggest surprise by setting three records while thumping favored Benton Harbor, 74-61, for the Class A title.

Leading the Vikings to their 3rd state championship was a lithe, soft-shooting guard named Larry Bley. The Negro shot-maker hit on 15 of his 16 field goal attempts and added eight of nine free throw tries to run up a record 32 points.

He broke the former Class A title game mark of 24, set by Dick Rifenburg of Saginaw Arthur-Hill in 1944.

Hitting on 46 per cent of its shots, Jackson broke its own scoring record as well as the title game scoring record. The old tournament mark was 64 points by Kalamazoo Central.

In Friday's semifinals, Jackson established a school mark by whipping Highland Park, 72-50. However, that one lasted only 24 hours as the red-hot Vikings practically ran Benton Harbor out of Jensen Fieldhouse with its amazing shooting.

River Rouge didn't set any records but the fancy Panthers came up with a thrilling stall in the last two minutes to beat Buchanan 51-48, and win the Class B crown for the 2nd straight year.

River Rouge scored only two points in the last five minutes and 40 seconds—but those two points—a pair of free throws by Herb Wood in the final four seconds—clinched the victory. Prior to Wood's clutch free tosses, River Rouge had thrilled the crowd by freezing the ball for almost two minutes to protect a slender one-point lead.

Houghton's Pesky little Grem-lins broke the Class C title game scoring records by outlasting Wayland, 65-62, for its 1st state championship. The former mark was 64 by East Grand Rapids.

Mass, which trimmed Ashley 73-45 for the Class D crown, had two record-breakers—Dale Blake Class D individual mark of 22 points. Blake popped in 25 points and Antila 23.

Russell's 'Dip' Shot Gives Dons NCAA Cage Title

But Jones' Defensive Work on Gola Sparkles in 77-63 Decision

KANSAS CITY (U)—The "dip" shot executed by Bill Russell displaced the old fashioned "tip" and last-minute strategy succeeded as the University of San Francisco Dons took away the National Collegiate Basketball crown from LaSalle's Explorers.

San Francisco, rated No. 1 nationally in The Associated Press poll of writers and sportscasters, won the 17th NCAA-sponsored cage tournament, 77-63, over 1954 champion LaSalle before a packed house of 10,500 in Municipal Auditorium Saturday night.

In the preliminary game for third place the Big Seven Conference champion Colorado Buffaloes knocked off Iowa's Hawkeyes of the Big Ten, 75-54.

While the 6-foot-10 Russell was busy helping the ball downward and into the basket off his teammates long shots, it was left for the Dons' K. C. Jones to come through with the job that really told the Explorers.

Jones, a senior who packs 202 pounds in a 6-11 frame, was given the task by Coach Phil Woolpert of stopping three-time All-America Tom Gola of LaSalle. Jones not only limited Gola to 6 field goals, but wound up with 10 field goals and 4 free throws for 24 San Francisco points.

Woolpert assigned Jones to Gola shortly before game time when it was apparent Jerry Mullen, ace defender of the Dons, wouldn't be able to go full steam because of an ailing ankle.

Gola's game total of 16 points, four of them on free throws, represented the best individual effort for Coach Ken Loeffler's LaSalle club.

The box score showed Russell with 23 points, next best to Jones, but the Dons' gangling All-America at times had even the official scorers confused over who should be given credit for the bucket. The first three baskets chalked up for Russell came on guides as the lean Negro star pushed the ball into the goal.

Russell, who has another year of collegiate eligibility remaining, was voted the outstanding player of the tournament.

Altobelli Has Chance Wertz Battles Mitchell, Rookie for 1st Base Job

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS)—A battle among two ex-outfielders and a slick-fielding rookie is in full swing as the Cleveland Indians try to solve their perennial first base headache.

Principals in the tussle are Vic Wertz, Dale Mitchell and rookie Joe Altobelli, the latter up from Indianapolis for a shot at the "big time."

Wertz was the part-time 1st sacker during the '54 season, sharing the spot with Al Rosen and Bill Glynn. He starred at bat in the Tribe's otherwise dismal World Series.

Vic, who belted 15 homers and drove in 61 runs for the Redskins in 123 games, seemed to have gained full reign during the winter when Glynn was said to be in Indianapolis by the Tribe.

But a battle began shaping up the 2nd day of spring training when Mitchell, a veteran of eight full seasons with the Indians as an outfielder, brought a 1st-baseman's glove to camp.

Manager Al Lopez, who has an over-abundance of outfielders, immediately announced that "Mitchell has a chance" to take the job away from the long-ball clouting Wertz.

Mitchell, who saw part-time duty as an outfielder and pinch-hitter, wound up last season batting .283—his lowest mark since becoming an Indian. Mitchell, however, boasts the 2nd highest lifetime batting average among present day active players in the American League, a rousing .315. Only Ted Williams of Boston tops him.

Miss Smith, Pat Play for N-S Amateur Crown at Pinehurst, N. C.

PINEHURST, N.C. (U)—Eighteen-year-old Wiffi Smith, just the tonic the depleted ranks of amateur women's golf needs in view of the banner number of links ladies who have turned professional in recent years, and Pat Lesser, a "veteran" at 21, met today for the North and South amateur title in an All-Pacific Coast final.

Today's match found Pat, whose home is in Seattle, still seeking her first victory in three starts against Wiffi, who lives in La Canada, Calif.

Smooth-swinging Wiffi, whose given name is Margaret, was sensational in Sunday's semifinals that saw her another National Champion, Romack of Sacramento, Calif., 6 and 5, while Pat disposed of Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 2 and 1.

Jewelers Gain Berth in MRA State Tourney

Win District Playoff From Port Huron, 76-49, at PHS Saturday

Shaw's Jewelers moved into the Michigan Recreation Association state basketball tournament at Grand Rapids next Friday by routing Port Huron Muller Brass Saturday night in the finals of the MRA district playoff at Pontiac High School.

Bob McManus sparked the Jewelers to a resounding 76-49 victory with 21 points. The one-time St. Frederick's High School star tossed in 10 points in the 1st quarter as the Pontiac city champs were taking a 21-8 lead.

Shaw's continued to out-score Port Huron in every period as 10 members of the Jeweler team got in the scoring column. Garland Townes had 12 points, Ken Titherage, 9, and Cec Hanes, 8, to follow Charles Smith of Port Huron had low McManus.

24 and was high for the game. Basketball activity continues at the PHS gym tonight as the Inter-City Recreation Association Class D tournament begins with Pontiac's "D" champs, Elks 723, meeting Hamtramck at 8:30 p.m.

Two games are scheduled Tuesday night, with the championship game Wednesday night.

Sparrow Plays in East-West Game Tonight

Guy Sparrow of Pontiac and the University of Detroit will participate tonight in the 4th annual East-West game in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium. The game is played for the benefit of the Shrine hospitals for crippled children.

Wilbur (Sparky) Stalcup of Missouri coaches the West team, with LaSalle's Ken Loeffler handling the East. Tom Gola of LaSalle is the East's foremost star.

Along with Sparrow, the West team includes such standouts as Cleo Littleton of Wichita, Bob Patterson of Tulsa, Lester Lane of Oklahoma and Burdette Halderson of Colorado.

'Deadeye Redskin' Clever Milford Sharp-Shooter Collects 325 Points to Set County Scoring Pace

Jim Davidson, slender, sharp-shooting forward for Milford's potent basketball point machine, is the Oakland County prep basketball scoring champion for the 1954-55 season.

Davidson, who coupled with center Tom Gould to give the Redskins the area's foremost 20 punch, collected 325 points in 16 games for an average of 20.3 points per game.

The 6-3 Milford junior easily out-distanced another 11th grader, Jim Simer of Royal Oak Madison, for top honors.

Simer's 2nd place average was 18.4 for 14 games. Lionel Bradley of Pontiac St. Fred's was 3rd with 18.2. Davidson's scoring partner at Milford, Gould meshed 280 points for a 17.5 4th place mark.

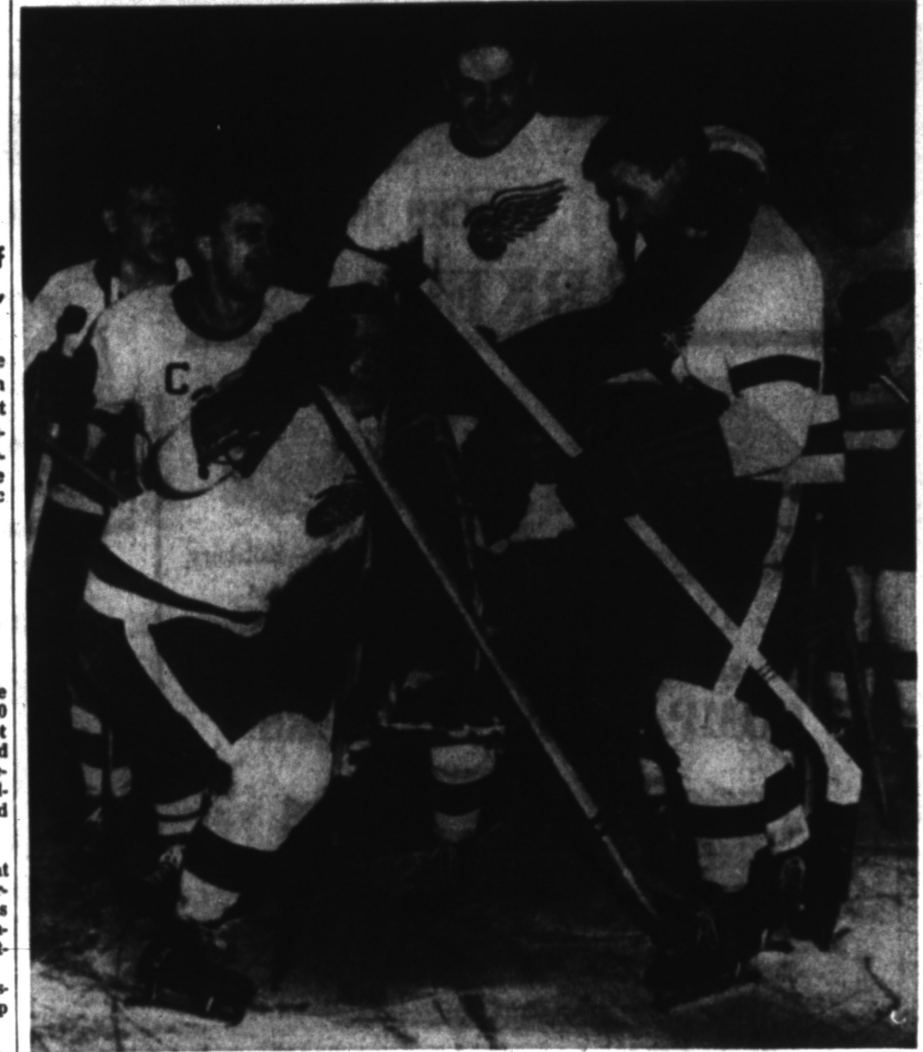

Thus Davidson and Gould accounted for nearly 38 points a game between them. There were no repeaters among the first 10, all last year's aces having been graduated.

Rochester's Arlan Stone was the 1953-54 champion with 374 points and a 23.4 average. Davidson finished 11th last year at 145. With still a year to play, Davidson has accumulated 557 points for Milford in regular season play.

Shrine also landed two players among the leading 10 with Hugh Kirtke (16.9) taking 5th place and Ron Troy (15.4) rating 9th. Roundout of the leaders are Vince Pernick of Orchard Lake St. Mary, (8th on 16.7), Jack Acton of Troy (7th on 15.8) and St. Michael's John Keller (8th on 15.7).

Like Davidson and Simer, Keller is a junior. The others have concluded their prep careers.

Other underclassmen who scored well and will be back next season include Bob Evans of Southfield, Frank Rogers of West Bloomfield and Bill Dean of Rochester.

RED WINGS CELEBRATE — Goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Detroit Red Wings is lifted to the shoulders of teammate Vic Stasiuk (right) and Marcel Pronovost after Detroit downed Montreal's Canadiens, 6-0, Sunday night at Olympia, to win the National Hockey League championship for the 7th straight year. Hero of the contest with 3 goals was Ted Lindsay, second from left, with 3 goals.

Bucky Hoping for Rain So Tired Tigers Can Get Respite From Heat; Bengals Bow to Boston

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers says he never thought he'd see the time in spring training he would be wishing for rain.

But he is now. After the 10-3 licking his Tigers absorbed yesterday at the hands of the Boston Red Sox, Harris said:

"I'd sure like to see a break in this weather right now."

"This is the 26th straight day

we've been working out in 80 degree temperature," Harris said, "and I know the players are tired out. So much heat so fast has exhausted them. A day of rest would do them a lot of good right about now."

Without rain there'll be no rest for the Tigers. There isn't an open date on their exhibition schedule until March 31, the day before they break camp.

Big Frank Sullivan, Boston right-hander, allowed only one hit in the 1st five innings. Sullivan retired the first 10 men in a row and faced only 17 in five frames.

Detroit's three runs came in the 8th off southpaw Mel Parnell.

Al Kaline opened by beating out an infield ground ball, Bill Tuttle followed with a clean single—his 2nd. Then, Walt Struhl, rookie Tiger catcher, scored Kaline on a single and the other two runs came in on a wild pitch and a double play.

Boston got nine hits and six runs off starter Duane Maas before the Tiger hurler was pulled out with one out in the 3rd.

Bill Fouts, a southpaw, was tagged for three hits and another run in the 5th. Van Fletcher gave Boston its final three runs in the 7th.

The loss pushed Detroit down to a 4-7 exhibition game mark. Saturday Boston defeated the Tigers, 6-4.

Detroit was to meet the Baltimore Orioles at Lakeland today.

Well-Rested Piston 5 Tops Champ Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fort Wayne's Pistons held a one-game advantage over the defending champion Minneapolis Lakers today in Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Assn.—illustrating a definite advantage in winning the division crown for the regular season.

Minneapolis finished a best-of-three series with Rochester only Saturday night, winning 119-110, while Fort Wayne loafed all week except for an exhibition game.

The fresh Pistons licked the weary Lakers Sunday on the neutral Elkhart, Ind., Coliseum Court, 96-79.

Final Michigan Tourney Results

EAST LANSING (U)—Here are the results of Saturday's championship games in the state high school basketball tournament:

Jackson 74, Benton Harbor 61
River Rouge 81, Buchanan 48
Houghton 68, Wayland 63
Mass 72, Ashley 48

If it wasn't the heat yesterday, it was the Red Sox steam.

The Sox clobbered the Tigers for 18 hits while holding Detroit to four—the same number Boston's Billy Goodman got in five trips to the plate.

Detroit's three runs came in the 8th off southpaw Mel Parnell.

Al Kaline opened by beating out an infield ground ball, Bill Tuttle followed with a clean single—his 2nd. Then, Walt Struhl, rookie Tiger catcher, scored Kaline on a single and the other two runs came in on a wild pitch and a double play.

Bill Fouts, a southpaw, was tagged for three hits and another run in the 5th. Van Fletcher gave Boston its final three runs in the 7th.

The loss pushed Detroit down to a 4-7 exhibition game mark. Saturday Boston defeated the Tigers, 6-4.

Detroit was to meet the Baltimore Orioles at Lakeland today.

Incomparable Babe Plans to Play Here

If her health does not interfere, the incomparable Babe Didrikson Zaharias will return to Oakland County this summer, where she got her start in the links game.

The Babe belted her 1st tee shot from the old No. 1 tee at Orchard Lake, where Frank Syron was then the pro. Syron now owns Pontiac Country Club.

Forrest Lake Country Club's Bill Newberry, chairman for the May 26-29 Wolverine Ladies Invitational Open tourney has the Babe's word she'll be here for the 72-hole event. Betty Hicks, Jackie Fung, Mickey Wright and Beverly Hanson are other topnotch stars expected to take part.

Pontiac Man Named on Forestry Group

Among officers named last week by the Michigan Forestry and Park Association, is Pontiac's Robert Osgood, Oakland county forester. Osgood was named vice president. Lyle Ambs of Jackson is the new presy. Wilfred Brownell of Detroit, former president, and Nick Kirk of Kalamazoo are board members.

Hall of Fame Planned

EAST LANSING (U)—A hall of fame to honor Michigan sports immortals is in the works. A special committee headed by athletic director Clarence (Biggie) Munn of Michigan State College met over the weekend to lay the groundwork for the project.

Gregory Peck Rejects Role in 'Pompey's Head'
By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Gregory Peck told me that he has definitely turned down "The View from Pompey's Head," the Hamilton Boss novel. Not that it isn't a good story, but he says it isn't right for him.
"I'm reading the galley proof of 'The Day the Century Ended,' a novel by Francis Gwaltney, which Darryl Zanuck sent me. I haven't finished it yet, but I like it as far as I've gone," said Gfeg. "I'm also slated to do a remake of 'The Rains Came,' by Louis Bromfield."

Although Gary Cooper was supposed to meet hotel man Conrad Hilton's representative Fred Joyce at the Flamingo in Las Vegas to discuss the Hilton film story, "Silver Spade," Gary told me he didn't know whether he could get there tomorrow. He was supposed to enter the sports writers annual fishing contest.
"I am planning to take Rocky and Maria to Honolulu for the Easter holidays, and we're still discussing the Billy Wilder story, 'Friendly Persuasion,' and one other one," Gary told me.

I've been writing so many months about Liberace and his plans to make a picture at Warner Brothers that when he told me that Gordon Douglas will direct him in "Sincerely Yours" I realized that in a month and a half he'll actually be before the cameras.
The script is being prepared by Irving Wallace, and Henry Blanke, the producer, is even now deciding on the cast.

Lee goes to Washington this week for the newspaper correspondents dinner, and then joins Sonja Henie in New York.
Times are changing. Tuesday Jack Webb goes to UCLA to conduct a jazz seminar on the subject of styles and jazz. He's taking seven men from his "Pete Kelly's Blues" band to illustrate the evolution and the meaning of jazz, and he'll also have the professors of music by his side.

Five hundred students have asked for seats, and there'll be 500 more clamoring to get in.
When Doris Day and Marty Melcher arrive in New York on April 2, she'll be met by Bob O'Donnell, head of the Interstate Circuit Theatres, and presented with the Golden Script Award—their first annual award.

This is being presented to Doris because her 12 starring pictures during seven years have returned a total gross of 65 million dollars.
Doris goes to London to costar with Jimmy Stewart in "The Man Who Knew Too Much" for Alfred Hitchcock.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Desi Arnaz is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for a checkup and therapy for a painful leg.
Betty Hutton's sister, Marion, may have said goodbye to writer Jack Douglas—Betty thinks he's terrific at a typewriter. He's written her forthcoming night club act for her.
My neighbors, Dorothy Lamour and Bill Howard, have sold their beautiful home in Beverly Hills.

and they're still considering moving back to Baltimore.
Rubinoff arrived in town over the weekend, but it's my opinion Zsa Zsa has cooled.
Donald O'Connor was at the Encore two nights in succession with cute Dani Crayne, U-I starlet. What's happened to Gloria Noble?
The girl Rock Hudson's attention has turned down "The View from Pompey's Head," the Hamilton Boss novel. Not that it isn't a good story, but he says it isn't right for him.

ADA Resolves to Oppose Reds
Also Pledges Protection for Civil Rights in Hot National Convention
WASHINGTON (AP)—Continued opposition to communism and renewed emphasis on protecting civil rights have been pledged by Americans for Democratic Action.
Resolutions on those and other policies were adopted by the ADA during a weekend national convention marked by hot floor battles among the 600 delegates. Another proposal urging admission of Red China to the United Nations was rejected yesterday after an hour's debate.
The convention named Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Washington attorney, as national chairman and re-elected Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as honorary chairman.

The ADA, formed in 1947, describes itself as an independent, anti-Communist organization espousing "liberal" principles. It generally supports policies of the New Deal and the "Fair Deal."
"Civil liberties shall be one of our main purposes in the coming year," Rauh told a news conference. "We intend to fight for the expression of all ideas, including Communist ideas."
His statement contradicted an earlier convention stand. The delegates had decided, by a vote announced as 90-60, to delete a phrase "including Communist ideas" from a pending proposal which would have supported the right to advocate "unpopular political proposals including Communist ideas."

Democrats Seen Giving Up Fight for $20 Tax Cut
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders predicted freely today House Democrats will abandon their fight for an income tax cut to avoid being blamed for slicing other revenues.
The House voted its $20-a-person tax cut plan into a bill which would extend for another year corporate and excise tax rates due to expire April 1. The Senate rejected the tax cut and voted only to continue the other taxes. Unless they are extended, government income will drop an estimated three billion dollars a year.
Sen. George (D-Ga.), who fought the tax cut plan, said last night he believes the House will back down rather than run the risk of killing the revenue bill. House members also said during the weekend they thought they would be forced to yield.
House and Senate conferees will meet Wednesday to seek some compromise.

State Veterans Hospital Needs Big Overhaul Job
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration Hospital at Battle Creek was listed by the House Veterans Affairs Committee yesterday as among 56 hospitals in need of major overhaul.
The committee said the hospitals need "major modernization" at a total cost of upward of 150 million dollars.

400 Unhurt as Windstorm Knocks Down Circus Tent
UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Mothers screamed, frightened children cried but no one was seriously hurt when a windstorm yesterday collapsed a circus tent on 400 persons.
Soggy and heavy from lashing rains which accompanied the storm, the big Hagen Bros. Circus tent fell just before the lion and tiger act began—and just after other circus animals paraded around the arena.
Had the thunderstorm-spawned wind struck a moment earlier or later, the animals might have been freed among the spectators.
"I might have been scared if I had had time," said J. W. Stewart, Uvalde grocer who brought his two sons and a neighbor's two girls to the Jaycee-sponsored show on Uvalde's northern outskirts.
The children, among several hundred youngsters in the tent, were Jimmie, 12, and Ronnie Stewart, 4, and Deborah, 5, and Gail, 4, daughters of Robert Hicks.
"I told Jimmie to get Ronnie," Stewart said. "Then I picked up Deborah and Gail, one under each arm. Just after we got

Sonny Tufts to Show How He Belts Songs
By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Sonny Tufts' departure for Boston to show his proud sister family that he can "belt out legit songs" is one of the jollier events of the year.
"Mother travels—she's loaded—ALL my family's loaded but me," the handsome Hollywoodian said when I asked if she'd be at the Beantown opening of "Ankles Aweigh," his new show.
"You should see my family! In over 300 years—since 1638—they haven't moved out of an area of 3 square miles. They're really in a rut."
Sonny, a playful fellow in his day, said he had one brother here who's a typical Wall Streeter—"pipe-smoking, yachting, went to Harvard, excuse the expression"—Sonny pretended to spit—"awfully nice chap, though."
"I was a black sheep because I went to Yale. They said 'YALE!'"

I asked Sonny about his singing in this show starring the Kean Sisters.
"You forget I had 3 years of operatic training! Why, since my governess took me to see Eddie Cantor—that was as far as we were allowed to go in Boston—Eddie Cantor—I wanted to be an actor."
"I had 5 bands at Yale at one time. Oh, brother! Blue blazers, white flannels, megaphones, fur coats."
"We shuttled to and from Europe every summer. When we played, half the band would be out dancing with girls from Smith or Vassar on board."
"On one trip, Tito Schipa heard me and said, 'My boy, you should study singing.'"
"And I did for 3 years. I didn't even have a martini. If you did the coach would say 'Goodbye.'"
"They thought they had found a great voice. I'm a natural blond, 6-4, and Melchior was leaving. I signed a contract with Earl Lewis at the Met."
"But I also sang some at supper clubs. Real legit stuff. But my friends'd say 'What about the stuff you did at college?' I changed a little—and my price went up."
"And I'd go down to the 52nd St. joints to study timing. My Boston friends said, 'Tufts, what are you doing in a jawnt like this?'"

"My real name's Bowen Charleston Tufts 3d and I'd call myself Charles Bowen."
"I got into a Broadway show, then went to Hollywood on a visit, and Jack Donnelly, a friend of mine, went to Paramount's head man and said: 'My friend would like to be in the movies.'"
"The head man said 'Would he now?' And I soon was. But they were fed up with singers then so I kept it quiet that I could sing."
Outside of a couple of pictures, Sonny's kept his voice pretty much a secret since, but now he's been studying again, and so the two secrets are out—that he went to Yale and studied opera. Some of his Boston friends don't know which is worse.
Just yesterday they were saying at the rehearsals, "Hey, Sonny, can you quiet it a little?"—and he was saying, "Bam! I'm ready for Boston!"

Pilot Makes Error, Drops Wing Tanks
BATTLE CREEK (AP)—An F86 Sabre Jet pilot accidentally jettisoned two six-foot, 50-pound empty aluminum fuel tanks into a residential area yesterday.
One tank hit a home and bounced into a driveway where, minutes earlier, children had been playing. The other tank hit a sidewalk. No one was hurt.
The plane was piloted by Maj. Percy Lewis, stationed with the 172nd Fighter and Bomber Squadron of the Michigan Air National Guard at Kalamazoo Field.
Lt. Col. Robert W. Flagg, squadron commander, said Lewis apparently touched a switch by mistake and sent the tanks plummeting earthward.
The Philippine islands are composed of 10 large and 970 small islands.

Firm to Prepare for Straits Span
American Bridge Will Set Up Office in April at St. Ignace
ST. IGNACE (UP)—The American Bridge Division of U. S. Steel will open its first office here in about a month to get ready for its key role in construction of the $100,000,000 Mackinac Straits Bridge, officials said today.
Carl H. Sanders, an official of the Detroit office of the American Bridge Division, said a small sub-office will be set up here sometime during the next month to receive and stock materials that will be used in construction of the bridge's superstructure.
Sanders said between 10 and 20 men will work at the office until early June when the firm will open a field office and bring in a full staff of clerical workers and other construction officials.
American Bridge holds the largest contract dollarwise on the huge project that will link Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas.
The American Bridge official emphasized that U. S. Steel will not start work on the project until sometime in June after the bridge's foundations have been completed and that no large scale hiring will be done until then. He said most of the workers will be specialists that will come here from all parts of the U. S. after they have been notified by their unions that a job is available for them here.
Meanwhile, officials of Merritt, Scott & Chapman, which holds contracts to build foundations and approaches for the bridge, said they still have not set a definite date for resumption of construction.
Charles E. Halkenhorst, project engineer for the firm, said two weeks ago that construction might be resumed as early as April 1 because of the mild winter and the fact there is less ice in the Straits of Mackinac than anyone anticipated. He said construction should be resumed, at the latest, by April 15.
His firm, too, will obtain most of its workers through unions and that it is useless for men to come hundreds of miles to see about a job when no hiring is being done.

Leftist Attorney Ends 2nd Term in Federal Prison
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vincent Hallinan, 1952 Progressive party candidate for president, was released yesterday after his second federal prison term.
"I'm not afraid of going back," he said.
Hallinan, 59, left-wing attorney and politician, told reporters, "Nothing will stop me from continuing to fight for liberal causes."
He flew to San Francisco after his release from McNeil Island Wash, Federal Prison. There he served 14 months of an 18-month sentence for tax evasion.
His wife and six sons greeted him at the airport here. He carried a copy of "False Witness" by Harvey Matusow, turncoat witness in Communist hearings.
Hallinan's first prison term was a six-month sentence for contempt

Plug-Chewing Husband Deserves Goodbye Kiss
CROWLEY, La. (AP)—City Judge Edmund M. Reggie holds a wife has no grounds for a fight when her husband tries to enjoy a good-by kiss and a plug of chewing tobacco at the same time.
He found Mrs. Winston Bertrand guilty of committing simple battery on her husband and gave her a suspended sentence of $15 or 10 days in jail.
Mrs. Bertrand testified she pushed him in the face in a spat after her refusal to kiss him good-by while he was chewing.

Thin Body Has Fat Voice

By PHYLLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS)—She strolled into the office—the hottest, lustiest European singing sensation since Edith Piaf—and she might as well as have been licking a lollipop.

A heavy blanket of brown hair warmed her back almost to the waist, and great brown eyes batted naively.

"Ah, I can see you are like so much people," said Caterina, Valente, shaking the blanket. "You cannot see how a fat voice can come out of a thin body. I should look so mature, like Katie Smith, and it should please, you better, hey?"

Yeah, hey. It just didn't seem right, that this small girl was the instrument for the giant voice on the record "Malaguena"—the record that is currently jolting every airwave in the country.

Actually, as Miss Valente explained, her small and innocent features are the result of a most natural situation. Though she is today the toast of disc jockeys on two continents, and though she is all of 25 years old, her fame is really only two months old. And for nearly 20 years before she became famous with this one record, she was merely the extra-added attraction in her own mother's vaudeville comedy act.

"When your mama is famous," says Caterina sagely, "you find you stay young an extra long time."

Many of the United States' better Cinderella stories are just as well-deserved, but few happened with such lightning speed as Miss Valente's.

A Spanish-Italian girl, she was born to a large family which had been famous in European theatrical circles for four generations, but was temporarily wearing down its heels. Of 10 brothers and sisters, only three are living today; the others died of malnutrition.

"But mother was always good," she remembers, "and still is known as the funniest woman in Europe. She was a big hit in the Palace Theater here in New York 20 years ago, and she brought me up on her memories of America."

As a consequence, Caterina learned English right along with German, Swedish, Spanish, Italian and French—all of which she had to speak and sing fluently if she was to hold her job as a part of Mama Maria Valente's roving vaudeville act. Until recently, then, she was just a singing sidekick who started in vaudeville when she was four years old singing kiddie songs, and was in just about the same spot 20 years later, only the songs grew up.

Then a year ago a record company in Germany hired her to do some songs. She signed a contract in a big hurry, so fast she couldn't bother looking for a desk—she just used the back of her guitar. The few records she made went over quite well in Germany, but she was by no means a crazy rave, and then:

"I asked the record company could I please do this song called 'Malaguena,' which I think is the most beautiful song in the world. They said oh well okay, try it." It was not an instant success in Germany, but when Decca Records heard it, and issued it for American consumption, it became the biggest thing since 'All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth.'

Before Caterina could say "Gimme please the raise," she was packed off to America to appear on last night's "Colgate Comedy Hour," and now she returns to Germany to star in two films.

"It is crazy, hey?" She says, "me being a star?"

We agreed, and advised her to keep that crazy kiddish hair and those crazy innocent eyes in spite of her stardom, and no matter how sexy she sings. She said she will try—but "no much people are telling me now what to do."

(Tomorrow: Miss Battelle foresees peace on the highways with the invention of special cars for women drivers.)

Selling Splurge Tumbles Grains

CHICAGO (U-P)—A heavy selling splurge sent grains reeling downward on the Board of Trade today. Large declines were run up at or shortly after the opening, during which time both wheat and soybeans recorded losses running to around 5 cents. Feed grains and rye were very weak. After the heavy selling, the market staged a substantial recovery.

All soybean contracts except March tumbled to new seasonal lows. July, September and December wheat also were at their lowest since trading in these contracts started.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 1/2 to 2% lower, March $2.19; corn 1/4 to 1/2% lower, March 72 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2% lower, March $1.03; soybeans 2 1/4 to 3% lower, March $2.57 1/2; and large 8 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $11.92.

One Wife on TV, Another Home

You Can't Hardly Get Two of Them Women Any More

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Many people, believe thee me, should sit right down and read this here story about George Gobel. Oh, I tell you true, things are in an awful stew.

There's one Alice Gobel on television; another Alice Gobel at home; George in both places and TV fans wondering who's who, what's what, how come, and what's fact and what's fiction.

And that's not even adding to the confusion by mentioning that the TV Alice, Jeff Donnell, and her husband, movie star Aldo Ray, have a date with the stork in September.

So there you are—and here I am—and here's the show (case) for unscrambling things about the comedian who just won an Emmy as television personality of the year.

The real George and Alice Gobel met at Roosevelt High School in Chicago, their home town, when her name was Alice Humecki. They were married Dec. 13, 1942.

They have three children: Gregg, 10; Georgia, 8, and Leslie, who will be a year old March 30.

They live in a three-bedroom, ranch style home with a swimming pool at Sherman Oaks, a San Fernando Valley suburb separated from Hollywood by a range of mountains. Alice's mother, Lucille, of Polish descent, lives with them and helps Alice with the children and the cooking.

Until 35-year-old George became a TV star, Alice's mother whipped up juicy roasts and thick Polish-style gravy for him back in Chicago. Now, because he's a little fellow—only 5 feet, 5 inches—he has to wiggle his weight and is confined to steaks and salad. Alice and her mother eat the roasts and gravy while George drools.

On television George and Alice argue constantly. A friend who has known the real George and Alice for 10 years says:

"I've never heard them argue about anything."

At home George is the easy going fellow who leaves the management of everything to Alice, who is a whiz at the job.

She shuns the limelight and Hollywood's cocktail parties to concentrate on the role of housewife, mother and headwaiter-valet for George—who loves it.

When he leaves home for his TV show or a night club tour, Alice packs his suitcase. He doesn't even check its contents; everything he needs is there, down to an extra hankie.

Shunning the spotlight goes for George, too. He much prefers the private company of old Air Force pals, his golfing companions—he shoots in the 80's—and friends from his Chicago radio days.

On these occasions he reverts to the role of a singer and at the drop of a cue he unpacks his guitar. There's always a guitar in the trunk of his car.

One Gobel show on TV was about his son, Gregg. The boy was flunking at school and Alice dragged George in for a heart to heart talk with the principal. In real life, Gregg bags straight A report cards.

Another show was about Bob, George's brother-in-law, stopping by for a cup of coffee and staying for six months. In real life, his brother-in-law Bob is a business associate.

But George's dialog on TV is much the same as it is at home. Those expressions sweeping the country—"I became unglued"—"Sure you do"—"So there you are"—"Well, I'll be a dirty bird"—and "You can't hardly get them no more"—are phrases he's been using for years.

Now about the TV Alice Gobel—a Hollywood movie actress with a ski nose and a boy's name, Jeff. Jeff Donnell became Mrs. Aldo Ray just before she became "Mrs. George Gobel."

She and Aldo live at Sherman Oaks, too.

And Jeff even had to change the date of her wedding to accept the TV job with George. In arguments with Aldo about it, he quipped:

"Honey, you'll have to make up your mind. You marry George Gobel or you marry me."

Jeff arranged things so she got both.

She has two children by a prior marriage—13 year old Mike and eight-year-old Sally. In September, when the stork is due, she'll be even with the real Alice.

Says Jeff, "I'm really a lot like the real Alice. I love my home

The REAL GEORGE GOBEL — At home with the real Alice Gobel he makes a point of something or other for son Gregg while daughter Georgia watches. They have another daughter one year old.

Nose Wheel of Airliner Collapses on Runway at Chicago Field

CHICAGO (AP) — Sixty passengers and six crew members all escaped injury when a big airliner nosed into the ground on an emergency landing here yesterday.

Afterward, entertainer Connie Boswell sang, "We Came in on a Wing and a Prayer."

The passengers got a shaking up—but nothing worse—when the nose wheel of an American Airlines DC7 collapsed on landing at Midway Airport.

The plane was on a nonstop flight from Los Angeles to New York when one engine began sputtering east of Chicago.

Capt. R. A. Patterson, of Los Angeles, headed the ship back to Chicago for a landing.

The passengers continued to New York in a later plane.

Name 2 State Firms in Insurance Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan health and accident insurance companies yesterday were listed among five the Federal Trade Commission said complaints had been issued against alleging false and misleading advertising.

This brought to 28 the number of companies against which complaints have been brought since the FTC started its investigation of this phase of the insurance business.

Named among the five latest were National Casualty Co., Detroit, and Federal Life and Casualty Co., Battle Creek.

The complaints charged that the companies can cancel the policies at any renewal dates. The FTC alleged also that instead of the broad coverage advertised by all five companies, the policies actually are hedged with limiting qualifications.

Howard Estes, Director for the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital (Infirmary) said today that the hospital will purchase a new library cart for patients this week.

The cart will be put into use throughout the hospital at once, carrying books and magazines to the various wards.

Donors who made the purchase possible were: General Motors Girls Club, with $100 donation, and an unnamed donor, who left $100 to the hospital in her will, Estes said.

Alaskan Bird Identified in Northern Michigan

GLENNIE (AP) — A varried thrush—native Alaskan and Pacific coast songbird—has been identified as a winter and spring visitor to northern Michigan for the first time.

The bird was observed by Eugene Kenaga, research entomologist with the Dow Chemical Co., at the winter feeding station at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Harvey near Five Channels Dam on the Au Sable south of here.

DETROIT (UP) — Police today sought warrants charging 20 alleged members of a $1,500-a-day gambling ring with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

The suspects were arrested Saturday night in raids on 13 business places and private homes.

Seven persons arrested in the raids were released to appear later as police witnesses.

Kidnaped Baby Back With Mom

Charge Woman Took 29-Minute-Old Infant From Hospital Crib

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A woman charged with snatching a 29-minute-old infant from its hospital crib "wanted a baby girl worse than anything in the world," her father said. She has three sons.

Officers found the little girl yesterday in the Houston home of Mrs. Pauline Schulze, 30, a former nurse's aide.

The child was sped by police-escorted ambulance 85 miles back to Beaumont and reunited with its mother before she knew it was kidnaped Saturday—while she was still in the labor room. The news had been kept from her.

Doctors said the baby was in good condition.

Its navel was tied with a shoulder strap from a woman's slip.

Mrs. Schulze was charged with kidnaping and jailed here. Officers said she kept screaming during long hours of questioning, "It's my own baby." They said she apparently had an overwhelming desire for a fourth child and claimed the baby was born to her at home.

Footprint records identified the child as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, of Beaumont. Examinations of Mrs. Schulze confirmed she has not given birth recently, doctors said.

Officers said Mrs. Schulze, treated in the same Beaumont hospital in 1951 and 1953 after nervous breakdowns, had been surgically sterilized and could not bear a child. Her father confirmed she is sterile.

The baby, who weighed 6 pounds 10½ ounces, was kidnaped from its bassinet at East Texas Baptist Hospital here early Saturday afternoon by a woman disguised as a nurse.

Officers said Mrs. Schulze, who worked in the Beaumont hospital in early 1951 as a nurse's aide, had told neighbors she was pregnant. Suspicious, they telephoned Houston police.

Scelba Making Try to Stave Off Crisis

ROME (INS)—Italian Premier Mario Scelba called in party leaders today in an effort to avert a government crisis before he leaves of a visit to the U. S. Scelba called in secretaries of his own Christian Democrat Party, Social Democrats and Liberals.

The crisis came after Republican Party members refused to participate in a promised Scelba government reshuffle. There has been increasing Social Democratic pressure to abandon the government immediately.

Soo Centennial Opens at Banquet Attended by 1,200

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The centennial celebration of the Soo Locks was opened officially over the weekend at the marine homecoming and centennial banquet.

The Locks, linking Lakes Huron and Superior, were completed in June, 1855. Since then more than four billion tons of raw materials have moved through them.

In the eight-month navigation season on the Great Lakes, the yearly tonnage shipped through the locks more than tripled the tonnage moved through the Panama Canal and amounts to nearly one-third more than the tonnage handled through the Suez Canal.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Donald C. Potts of Cleveland.

president of the Pittsburgh Steamship Division of U. S. Steel Corp.

About 1,200 people attended the banquet. The centennial celebration will continue through the summer and be highlighted by the dedication of the MacArthur Lock, named after Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

NEW YORK (AP)—Lyn Jones, a blonde model from Queens, has dropped her $100,000 suit against had claimed that RKO used without her consent a picture of her body with the head of Jane Russell to promote the film "Underwater."

The studio announcement said no settlement was involved in the withdrawal and that Miss Jones admitted it was "all a mistake."

There was no immediate comment by Miss Jones.
