Ike Urges Free Testing Zone at South Pole

Mrs. Wilson, John A. Hannah Break Ground for MSU-Oakland

By HAROLD S. COHEN

Using the same shovel with which she broke ground for the magnificent Meadow Brook Hall 32 years ago, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, assisted by Michigan State University President John A. Hannah, broke ground for a $2 million MSU-Oakland University building.

Some 500 persons were gathered for the historic moment which followed brief ceremonies on the site of the building near Walton boulevard and Squirrel road.

The site is at the northwest corner of the $10 million Meadow Brook estate given to the university by the Wilsons.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, chairman of the advisory group which worked with MSU to establish the branch, served as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Wilson recalled conditions of 50 years ago when she and her first husband, the late John Dodge, bought the farm that later grew into the 1,200 acre estate.

"There were no paved roads, no water, no toilets, no electric lights, no furnaces," she reminisced.

"It was 50 years ago this spring that we bought the first farm," she recalled, "and it was 32 years ago this spring that Mr. Wilson and the family decided to leave Grosse Pointe and settle out here."

Mrs. Wilson told of the pride she and her husband had in the products of their estate — the animals and flowers they produced.

"Now we shall see a new product — educated men and women of high ideals who will render service to all mankind," she said.

She added that it had been her original thought to turn the estate into an arboretum and park, with the manor hall as a museum.

"This was not possible," she said, "but a year and a half ago we were given the opportunity to help establish an educational center which I know will be of great value to this community."

"Matters were turned over to Dr. Hannah and things started humming. They have been humming ever since."

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald then introduced members of the State Board of Agriculture, Dr. D. B. Varner, MSU vice president in charge of the branch, and Alfred G. Wilson.

He also announced that Michigan State University-Oakland was now the official name of the branch.

Brief talks followed by state Senators George C. Steeh of Macomb County and L. Harvey Lodge of Oakland.

Both paid high tribute to the Wilsons for their generosity and pledged cooperation from the legislature in furthering the development of the college.

★ ★ ★

Final speaker was Dr. Hannah. He disclosed that the contractor had promised completion of the building by July 1959, with opening of the branch set for September 1959.

Dr. Hannah said that the citizens advisory group had now become the MSU-O Foundation.

He reminded the onlookers that they were witnessing a "historic occasion" that the new college would be standing long after they were gone and for centuries to come.

He said MSU-O was not designed as a "transplant" of MSU but would be shaped by local people to meet the needs of Oakland and Macomb Counties.

He stated there was no question that the branch was needed, pointing out there were 44,000 potential students in a 15-mile radius of the site.

"All of us are excited by the rare opportunity afforded us to establish this branch and to meet the needs of this community," Dr. Hannah said.

"We hope to make it more than just a place that educates young people, but like all public universities a place that works with the community for its betterment."

He added that the Wilsons had done their part through their extremely generous gift and that it now was up to MSU, the Legislature and the people of the two counties to make MSU-O what they wanted it to be.

Van Horn's Fate in Hands of Jury Early Next Week

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Where was Billy Ray Van Horn around 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Jan. 24, 1958?

Was he en route from a Waterford Township bar to the home of the Drulard B. Murdocks at 127 N. Josephine St., where he stopped, but went on after discovering no one at home, as he testified Friday?

Or did he find the 39-year-old Mrs. Murdock home and became enraged and killed her after she scolded him for drinking, as Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem contends.

These two big questions must be weighed by a Circuit Court jury of six men and six women beginning Tuesday morning.

They are expected to begin deliberations Tuesday following closing statements by Ziem and Van Horn's court-appointed attorney, Brakie J. Orr.

★ ★ ★

Judge Frank L. Doty yesterday recessed the first-degree murder trial of Van Horn so that statements charging the jury and deliberation might come all in one day. He said he didn't wish to have these interrupted by a weekend recess.

The recess until Tuesday came after four days of testimony.

Shortly before noon yesterday Van Horn, 24, denied on the stand that he had killed Mrs. Hazel Murdock.

"I did not kill her, I didn't," he declared from the witness stand. He was the first defense witness to take the stand.

★ ★ ★

After two hours there, and a brief afternoon session, Van Horn was returned to the county jail to await his fate. A verdict of guilty of first-degree murder would send him to prison for life with no chance for a parole.

Supervisors Will Meet to Receive Report on Equalization

Oakland County supervisors will meet Monday to set the county's 1958 equalized valuation of taxable property.

The annual equalization report, to be presented by Equalization Committee Chairman Alger Zapf, of Royal Oak, is the major part of a fairly brief agenda.

Supervisors last year set the 1957 value at a record $1,673,313,271.

Other Monday business for Oakland supervisors will be a recommendation of the Boundaries committee that an Aug. 5 election date be set for a proposed incorporation of an area of Farmington Township as a village to be called "Quaker Town," and for a proposed annexation of township land to the City of Farmington.

12-Nation Pact Would Assure Peaceful Action

Russia and 10 Others Invited to Parley to Work Out Details

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower proposed today that the U.S. and 11 other nations join in a treaty to make the South Pole area an international scientific testing ground.

A U.S. note inviting the 11 other countries, including Russia, to a treaty conference was delivered by American ambassadors in the foreign capitals.

Other nations invited were: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and Britain.

Eisenhower issued a statement, declaring: "The United States is dedicated to the principle that the vast uninhabited waste of Antarctica shall be used only for peaceful purposes. We do not want Antarctica to become an object of political conflict."

He continued: "We propose that Antarctica shall be open to all nations to conduct scientific or other peaceful activities there. We also propose that joint administrative arrangements be worked out to insure the successful accomplishment of these and other peaceful purposes."

The U. S. proposed that the participating nations in the pact be those which have cooperated over the past nine months in connection with the International Geophysical Year which ends Dec. 31.

The President said: "Our proposal is directed at insuring that this same kind of cooperation for the benefit of all mankind shall be perpetuated after that date.

"I am confident that our proposal will win the wholehearted support of the peoples of all the nations directly concerned, and indeed of all other peoples of the world."

The U. S. has been conducting private consultations with the 11 other countries since March.

★ ★ ★

Seven of the nations—Australia, New Zealand, Chile, Argentina, Norway, France and Britain—have made conflicting territorial claims in Antarctica. The U. S. has never made a claim and has not recognized the validity of any other territorial claims.

All Eyes Turn to Silky at 84th Kentucky Derby

From Our Wire Services

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Fourteen of the world's finest three-year-old thoroughbreds go to the post today in the 84th renewal of the colorful $125,000-added Kentucky Derby at historic Churchill Downs.

It should be the slowest derby in years and one of the most enchanting.

The Louisville Weather Bureau predicts cloudy skies and occasional rains and thundershowers with mild, high temperatures near 70 and a wet track for the Derby.

Scratches permitted up to 45 minutes before post time could reduce the size of the field.

Whatever the final population on the field, it seems to be a three-horse race, and two of these won't see much of the third one until the muddy stretch.

Unless all previous strategy is thrown to the wet winds, jockey Willie Shoemaker will permit Silky Sullivan to dawdle along through most of the first mile of the old mile and a quarter run for a blanket of roses, a cup, more than $100,000 and the glory of it all.

While the California glamor horse is moping along, there is sure to be a fierce battle for the lead. And there, the two other favored colts, Tim Tam and Jewel's Reward, will shine.

All the track talk centers on Silky Sullivan. He may finish far up the track, his usually gallant

Derby on Channel 2

The 84th running of the Kentucky Derby will be televised locally on channel 2, from 4:15-4:45 p.m. with a 15-minute preview by the same outlet beginning at 4 p.m. Post time for the mile and a quarter race is 4:30.

May Have to Kill Brown Bear for Attack on Boy, 2

WARREN (INS) — A 225-pound European brown bear that mauled a two-year-old boy may have to be destroyed.

The bear, named Rusty, clawed and nipped little Michael Pelton Thursday. Forty-five stitches were needed to close the boy's scalp wounds.

Russell Pelton, 50, Michael's grandfather and owner of the bear, said he will try to sell or give away the bear, and if that fails "the only thing left to do will be to destroy him."

Pelton, a blind accordionist, acquired the trained bear in hopes the animal could help him earn a living.

The bear is being held at the Detroit Zoo.

Seeks to Strengthen Economic Relations

Ike Going to Canada in Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will visit Ottawa next July in a personal bid to tighten U.S. relations with Canada, this country's nearest NATO ally and best customer.

The White House announced yesterday that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit the Canadian capital July 8-10.

They will be accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles on what was officially described as an informal trip.

The schedule is expected to allow time for full scale policy talks by Eisenhower with Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, who invited Eisenhower to visit.

Diplomats of both countries hope those talks will better Canadian-U.S. relations, especially in handling economic problems which have caused increasing difficulties in recent years.

Diefenbaker's Progressive-Conservative Party, which holds firm control of the Canadian House of Commons, has some outspoken critics of what they consider Canada's economic dependence on the United States.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is said to want increased Canadian trade with Britain and other Commonwealth countries and to intend to make sure Canada's voice is listened to in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Last year this country exported to Canada $3,880,000,000 worth of goods while Canadian exports to the United States totaled $2,900,600,000. U.S. economists explain that the billion dollar bulge in favor of the United States was made up by the flow of American investment capital into Canada. But even so, Canadian leaders would like to see the trade more nearly balanced.

They are, therefore, critical of U. S. restrictions on foreign oil imports, fearing this may eventually cut heavily into Canadian petroleum sales to the U.S. Northwest.

The Canadians also object to possible restrictions by the United States on lead and zinc imports. Both minerals are sold here by Canada.

Another long-standing source of irritation is the U.S. system of selling surplus wheat abroad for local currencies. The Canadians contend this practice denies them markets which might otherwise be available for normal commercial transactions.

Agree to News Blackout

GM, UAW Meeting Today

DETROIT (AP) — A news blackout went into effect today as General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union met in their first Saturday contract bargaining session.

The UAW and GM and Ford Motor Co. agreed yesterday to reinstate the blackout which was lifted last weekend. Chrysler Corp. and the union are expected to reach a similar agreement when they resume new contract talks Monday.

The blackout is scheduled to last until May 15, but either side can lift it by giving the other 24-hour notice.

★ ★ ★

Today's GM-UAW session also results from an agreement reached yesterday. Working against a May 29 contract expiration deadline, they agreed to meet today in their first weekend session and hold four full-day sessions next week.

Before the news blackout was clamped back on, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock told a news conference a GM claim that union demands for pension improvements would cost 13 cents an hour was "fantastic."

Woodcock said the cost would be 4.1 cents an hour. He added that "the rest of the company figures are just as fantastic."

★ ★ ★

After the conference, Woodcock left for Los Angeles to take part in contract negotiations with the aircraft industry. He named E. S. Patterson, his assistant, to take over the GM talks.

$200,000 Asked for Fight Injury

Pontiac People Named in Suit Arising From Brawl Behind Bar

DETROIT (AP) — Chuck Davey, who once fought for the world's welterweight championship, and four others are being sued for $200,000 in U.S. District Court by a former car salesman who claims Davey and two others beat him up outside a bar two years ago.

The suit was filed yesterday by Lowell Fulkerson, 39, a former auto salesman now of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and formerly of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Fulkerson charges he was permanently injured in a fight the night of May 2, 1956, in a parking lot outside a bar and grill in Waterford Township, just west of Pontiac.

Besides Davey, now retired from boxing, Fulkerson sued William Winters, a Pontiac finance company manager, a man identified only as John Doe, and Clarence I. Humphries and his son, John, owner and bartender respectively at the bar.

The suit charges that the Humphries served liquor to the other three when they were intoxicated.

Fulkerson said he asked $200,000 damages on grounds that he now cannot work and he formerly earned $10,000 a year.

Davey, who lives in West Bloomfield Township, now is an insurance and real estate salesman and public speaker.

Windsor's Firebug Ignites 4 Garages

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Four garages burst into flames last night as a four-hour series of fires ended a week-long lull in activities of this city's firebug.

Two garages were destroyed, one heavily damaged and a fourth saved by firemen. The fires occurred in an 18-minute period.

Earlier a fire attributed to a short circuit in wiring caused slight damage to the warehouse of Canada Steamship Lines here. Shortly after fire destroyed a large barn, an adjacent shed and part of another 150 feet away as high winds sent sparks showering over nearby fields.

Maniac Sought in New England

Missing Girl, 8, Returns Home to Tell of Sex Attack by Captor

BOSTON (AP)—Police launched a New England-wide search for a sex maniac today after blue-eyed Sandra Fallon, 8, missing from her Charlestown home since yesterday, returned early today and said she had been kidnaped and held captive 13 hours.

★ ★ ★

The girl told police she was picked up by a man about 26 near Bunker Hill Monument and forced to the floor of an automobile.

She said she was driven to a wooded area and sexually abused.

The child's dress was torn and her face covered with grime when she ran crying into the arms of her mother at dawn.

Sandra quoted her assailant as saying he would give her 50 cents if she would get into his car and show him Bunker Hill St.

★ ★ ★

When she got into the car, the man sped off. When the child protested he stopped the automobile and put her in the trunk. When he opened the trunk again they were in a heavily wooded area, she said.

At one time the firm said it planned to quit business because of Michigan's "labor and tax climate," but later said it would continue operations as long as orders for its products permitted.

Widow Charges Estate Robbed

Oak Park Woman Sues to Recover $49,000 on Surety Bond

An insurance company has been sued for $49,343 that an Oak Park widow claims she lost through mismanagement of her husband's estate by its late administrator.

The suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by a Detroit attorney, Robert J. Diehl, who has been administering the estate for the widow since Jan. 20.

The suit alleges that Diehl's predecessor, Bernard L. Ryan, "mismanaged the estate's funds, and converted large sums of the estate to his own use."

The estate, originally valued at between $100,000 and $200,000 is that of the late James T. Campbell, president of the Douthitt Corporation, a Detroit photographic equipment firm. Campbell died May 13, 1953, leaving tthe estate to his wife, Mrs. Anna E. Campbell, of 13420 Burton Rd., Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

In his will, Campbell named Ryan, who was his friend, to administer the estate of the widow. The bulk of the estate was made up of stock in the Douthitt company.

Ryan served as administrator until his death, Jan. 4, when Diehl was named by Mrs. Campbell to take over.

Named as defendants in the suit are the Travelers Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn. and Ryan's son, Thomas, of Detroit.

The insurance company had issued the elder Ryan a $50,000 surety bond to guarantee his performance of duty. The younger Ryan was named in his capacity as administrator of his father's estate.

In Disappearance of Girl, 6

Lock of Hair Only Clue

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A lock of hair may hold a clue to the disappearance of pretty little Kathy Hampton.

★ ★ ★

The 6-year-old girl has been missing since Wednesday. A painstaking search of abandoned buildings, alleys and sewers in the rundown neighborhood around her home has turned up no trace of her.

The possibility that a lock of hair might provide a key to her fate arose after Mrs. Laura Hammerschmidt, operator of a suburban beauty shop, reported yesterday a child bearing a close resemblance to photographs of Kathy was in the shop Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The child's shoulder-length hair was cut short at the direction of a woman companion, Mrs. Hammerschmidt said.

Police took hair from the beauty shop and from a brush used by Kathy for a laboratory comparison. They didn't say when laboratory tests would be completed.

Kathy's mother, Mrs. James Hampton, collapsed early today while listening to a radio newscast about the latest development. She mistakenly understood the newscaster to say a sample of hair from the beauty shop had been definitely identified as Kathy's.

"I want my baby," she sobbed. An ambulance was sent for Mrs. Hampton, who has a heart condition, but she refused to leave her third-floor flat. A physician was summoned.

The Hamptons, parents of six children, insist Kathy would not run away.

Kathy's father, a welder unemployed for several months until recently, was in tears after another fruitless search of the neighborhood.

Van Horn Trial Goes to Jury Next Week

in October of last year, asserted in court that his confession, given 22 hours after the crime was given under duress.

"I was scared of them cops. I gave the statement so I could get some sleep and rest," he said.

He accused one sheriff's deputy of pulling his hair during interrogation, and said a State Police officer told him others would "rough him up" if he didn't confess.

In his rebuttals of these charges Friday afternoon, Ziem put the accused officers, Sgt. Paul Carpenter and Det. Charles Leaf, respectively, back on the stand. Each denied any mistreatment of Van Horn.

"The roughest treatment he ever got," testified Leaf, "was when I pulled hair out of his head at Dr. Cobb's office for laboratory tests. And he voluntarily agreed to this."

Cross-examining the long, wavy-haired drifter, as police call him, Ziem fired question after question to show that Van Horn was telling the truth when he confessed to the killing on the night following the crime.

★ ★ ★

But Van Horn insisted that these statements were "false" and "lies." However, he did admit later: "Yes, my statement was free and voluntarily."

"But it was made out of fear," Van Horn was quick to interject.

"Fear of whom?" questioned Ziem.

"Those officers," answered Van Horn, pointing to Leaf, Chief Millard J. Pender of Waterford Township and Sgt. Marion Bauman, Oakland County sheriff's deputy.

Van Horn admitted being drunk on the night of the crime, and said he went freely to the police with a friend because, "I knew as a good citizen I should go to the station to get this whole thing straightened out."

Sale of the Oliver Supply Company, at 150 S. Telegraph Rd., to James Scribner, of Birmingham, was announced Friday afternoon.

Scribner, of 896 Hazel St., officially took over as the new owner May 1. He began negotiations with the former owner, Harold E. Nephler, of Pontiac, several weeks ago. Nephler had owned the firm for 18 years.

Scribner, a retired restaurant man, had previously sold his partnership in Scrib's Bar and Restaurant, 130 S. Telegraph Rd. to his brother.

"There will be no major changes in the company," said Scribner. "We will retain the name and remain at the same address. I hope we can continue to supply the county in the same manner the company has since 1890."

Couple Beaten by Three Youths

Bloomfield Man, Date Dragged From Parked Car Early Today

DETROIT (AP) — A young Bloomfield Township man and his girl companion were dragged from an automobile today and brutally beaten by three youths in what the victims said was an unprovoked assault in Dearborn Township.

Victims of the attack were Charles Worsley, 21, of 5645 Crabtree Rd., a University of Michigan Engineering student, and Sally Miller, 19, of Dearborn Township.

The youths escaped but Wayne County sheriff's deputies later arrested two, including a paroled convict, for investigation of felonious assault and illegal possession of beer.

Both the girl and Worsley were released after treatment at Wayne County General Hospital. Doctors had to remove glass splinters from the U. of M. student's right eye.

Worsley said he was hit over the head with beer bottles. Miss Miller said she was knocked down by one of the three who hit her with his fists.

The attack occurred at 2:45 a.m. while the couple was parked a few doors from Miss Miller's home.

Worsley said a car bearing three youths wearing dark glasses and trench coats drove up and the youths jumped out, opening the door of his car and saying: "We want to shake you down."

★ ★ ★

Worsley said he thought they might be policemen and demanded to see a badge or credentials. With that, he said, two of them pulled beer bottles from their pockets and began beating him.

Miss Miller ran into her home and awakened her stepfather who called deputies.

Two hours later deputies arrested Robert E. J. Luton and John M. Bell Jr., both 19 of Dearborn. They said Bell was released from Southern Michigan Prison on parole last month after serving part of a 2 to 15 years sentence for armed robbery.

They were held for questioning, but denied today they were involved in the incident.

Princeton Pulls Its Ivy Curtain Over Strippers

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Officialdom, both academic and municipal, has dropped an ivy curtain around the case of two strip-teasers and the undergraduate eating club they entertained.

★ ★ ★

The girls reportedly attended a picnic of some Princeton University students, dancing during the festivities and returning to the club dormitory with a few of the boys after the affair broke up early Thursday.

Police reportedly entered the club and found the women. One of the girls, so the story goes, was injured jumping from a window of Borough Hall while police were questioning her.

But the police have declined comment. No charges have been made public.

The university also has little to say. It will not name the club involved.

★ ★ ★

The injured stripper was identified as Mrs. Judy Renee, 37, of Philadelphia. She reportedly had 14 stitches taken in her scalp following her leap from the second story window. Princeton Hospital confirmed that a Mrs. Renee was a patient.

Fog Snarls Detroit

DETROIT (INS)—Heavy fog halted air travel, stalled shipping and slowed traffic in the Detroit area for a time today. Willow Run Airport stopped incoming and outgoing flights when fog cut visibility to one-eighths of a mile. Four ships anchored in Lake Erie to await better visibility before moving up the Detroit River.

DONALD A. BROWN

Back D. A. Brown for Lieut. Governor

Royal Oak attorney Donald A. Brown has received the endorsement of his fellow Republican Oakland County legislators to be a candidate for lieutenant governor on the GOP ticket in the August primary.

★ ★ ★

The 34-year-old Brown is completing his first term as representing Oakland's 5th District in the House of Representatives.

He was formerly an assistant Oakland County prosecutor for four years. He resigned this post in May of 1956 to go into private law practice fulltime and to run for his present legislative post.

★ ★ ★

"The GOP ticket should include a young, progressive candidate," said Roberts. "And in watching Brown debate on the floor of the House of Representatives we feel he is qualified in all respects."

Brown lives at 900 Lexington St.

legal, political and administrative concepts which render friendly cooperation difficult in the absence of an understanding among the countries involved."

The note proposed that the 12-nation pact could be agreed to without any of the participants renouncing their claims of sovereignty around the South Pole.

The U. S. said: "In other words, the legal status quo in Antarctica would be frozen for the duration of the treaty, permitting cooperation in scientific and administrative matters to be carried out in a constructive manner without being hampered or affected in any way by political considerations.

★ ★ ★

The treaty would be deposited with the United Nations and the U. S. said it would avoid the possibility of the Antarctica continent "becoming the scene of international discord."

A State Department spokesman said that the Soviet Union has been sounded out quietly on the treaty idea in recent weeks and has "given no indication of resistance."

★ ★ ★

The time and site of a treaty conference is still undetermined.

Army Colonel's Wife Gets Used to Twisters

She was alone in the O. A. Pepper ranch house near here yesterday when a twister blew away part of the chimney and badly damaged the roof. Mrs. Hendricks, who had crawled under a bedroom dresser, escaped injury.

In 1928 Mrs. Hendricks was scratched by glass flung about by a tornado that killed 112 persons at Rock Springs, Tex.

She and her husband, an Army lieutenant colonel, are visiting the Peppers, her aunt and uncle, on a stopover en route to Japan.

The Day in Birmingham

Mayor Crago of Petoskey Arriving Here on Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Taking part Monday in the fifth annual Mayor's Exchange Day, Birmingham will host Chester A. Crago, mayor of Petoskey, and Mrs. Crago. Bloomfield Hills will play host to the president of the Village of Morley, Kenneth Turner.

Birmingham Mayor Carl Ingraham will visit Petoskey, while Mayor Dominic Vettraino will leave the Hills to see how the government of a small village functions in Morley.

Both local communities are preparing programs of interest to the special guests, including luncheons, tours and explanations of how the cities operate.

Anticipating one of the most luxurious clubhouses in the area, members of the Village Women's Club have approved plans for their new "home." The building will be located on the 4½-acre site at Chesterfield road and Woodward avenue in Bloomfield Hills.

The clubhouse will be constructed mainly of glass and brick, all in modern design. Smith, Tarapata, MacMahon, Inc., architects, have kept the air of spaciousness throughout with the additional use of glass in sliding doors.

Future plans of the group call for the construction of an auditorium also.

Mrs. Lois Chance of Ann Arbor will be the speaker at the second of a series of spring talks being sponsored by the Birmingham Friends Meeting at the Community House in Birmingham at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Chance, who is clerk of the Ann Arbor Friends group and a member of the Regional Board of the Friends Service Committee, will talk on "Summer Opportunities for Service and Spiritual Growth." She's to discuss the opportunities for service in summer camps, both in the United States and abroad.

After her talk there will be a short meeting for worship. The public is invited.

★ ★ ★

Building took another drop in Birmingham last month, according to Andrew F. Butt, building inspector.

★ ★ ★

The 52 permits issued were for new construction and alterations valued at $207,265, approximately one-third of the value of the 55 permits for construction a year ago at this time.

Mrs. W. Scott Rogers

Service for Mrs. W. Scott Rogers, 75, of 544 Catalpa Ave., Birmingham, will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Rogers died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She had been a resident of Birmingham for 28 years.

Surviving are her husband; a sister, Mrs. Bert McArthy of Grosse Pointe Park, and a brother, Roy Johnson of Cleveland.

Dulles Heading for Copenhagen

To Attend NATO Meet Hoping for Support of Ike's Inspection Plan

DURHAM, N.H. (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles was en route to Copenhagen today for a NATO conference at which he is expected to pick up fresh support for President Eisenhower's Arctic inspection plan despite a Russian veto yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Before taking off from Pease Air Force Base in nearby Portsmouth last night, Dulles branded as frightening the Soviet veto in the United Nations Security Council.

"The result is tragic" but the United States will "refuse to be discouraged," Dulles told 800 persons attending an atomic power institute at the University of New Hampshire.

"At the choice of the Soviet Union, the fears and the risks continue," Dulles said. "They continue for one reason alone, and that is because the Soviet Union rejects international inspection against surprise attack."

★ ★ ★

Dulles said "the significance of that is frightening. It means that at the will and choice of the Soviet Union we shall have to go on living on the edge of an awful abyss from which we could, so readily, be rescued if only the Soviet Union did not insist on retaining for itself the possibility of massive surprise attack against us."

Frondizi Places Ban on Imports

To Conserve Foreign Currency Resources in Stricken Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi has banned all imports to conserve Argentina's rapidly disappearing foreign currency resources. It was the new president's first official act.

★ ★ ★

There was no indication of how long the import ban imposed yesterday would last. It soon will have to be lifted at least partly to allow the nation to bring in vital fuel and raw materials.

Frondizi warned in his inaugural address Thursday that Argentina would run out of foreign exchange by the end of the year if imports were not cut drastically. The nation also is plagued with a chronic inflation which has been reflected in continuing labor unrest.

Vice President Richard Nixon, here for Frondizi's inauguration on his tour of South America, also turned his attention to economic problems.

Nixon told a roundtable meeting of Argentine businessmen that the U.S. government will continue to refuse loans for the development of Argentina's nationalized oil industry as long as enough private capital is available.

But Samuel C. Waugh, president of the U.S. Export-Import Bank, cushioned the blow by saying the bank plans to send a mission here within two months to discuss loan plans, chiefly for railway rehabilitation. He added that the bank also will actively seek opportunities to invest its money in Latin America.

14 Pay Fines After Raid by Vice Squad

A raid on a home at 290 Fisher Ave., at 10 p.m. yesterday, netted 14 persons who were charged with loitering in an illegal gambling place.

The raid was conducted by Sgt. John DePauw and Officers Earl Skrobeck and Gerald Navarre of the police vice squad.

The 14 were arraigned last night by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and all pleaded guilty. They were fined $10 each.

Claims for Relief Reported Falling

WASHINGTON (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation benefits dropped slightly last week.

★ ★ ★

Reporting this yesterday, the Labor Department said initial claims, reflecting new layoffs, declined by 23,3 to a total of 423,000 during the week ended April 26.

★ ★ ★

The department's Bureau of Construction and other outdoor Employment Security attributed the decline in insured unemployment to a seasonal pickup in construction and other outdoor work.

★ ★ ★

About 43 million workers, two-thirds of the nation's labor force, are covered by the federal-state unemployment compensation system.

Eat Hearty Breakfast, Walk Before Working

NEW YORK (INS)—The President of the American Dietetic Association says that bosses who want to get more out of their employes should insist they have a hearty breakfast and a brisk walk before showing up for work.

★ ★ ★

Dr. E. Neige Todhunter declared that a skimpy breakfast is a "contirbuting factor to poor work on the job, nervousness, and irritability." Dr. Todhunter, University of Alabama dean, made his comments in an interview with International News Service. The interview follows:

Q. What do you think of a coffee and doughnut breakfast?

A. "Terrible."

Q. But isn't that a way to cut down calories and reduce?

A. "It's a good way of running yourself down."

Q. Why do you say slim breakfasts—or no morning meal—make a person unpleasant and inefficient?

A. "A number of studies, including one at the University of Iowa, show that physical and mental performance improve considerably in those who change from skimpy breakfasts to hearty ones."

Q. Why do you recommend a brisk walk on top of a robust morning meal?

A. "The walk improves circulation and makes for a greater alertness of mind."

Q. What is a "good" breakfast.

★ ★ ★

A. "First, citrus fruit or juice. This helps stimulate the appetite—which might be lethargic after the night's sleep. Then you have a choice of milk and cereal or an egg, with or without bacon, and toast. The quantity of food depends on the type of activity you do at work. If you sit all the time, you might not want to eat two pieces of toast."

Q. If a person has a long "commute" to work would you recommend a big breakfast?

A. "If a person must travel 20 or 30 or 40 miles to the office, certainly he or she will need a bigger breakfast than one who can make it to the office in less time."

Q. Why?

A. "The commuter must wait longer for lunch. He may have breakfast at 6:30 a.m., compared to someone living closer in who can have breakfast at 8 a.m."

★ ★ ★

Q. Even if a person has a good breakfast and has a "sitting" job, isn't there a chance that the person will start feeling dull around mid-morning or an hour before lunch?"

A. "Yes—and I suppose that's why we have coffee breaks."

Q. Does anything else help?

A. "Yes—the boss should encourage the sedentary workers to run a few of their own errands in the morning. The trips to the water cooler help, too, perking up the circulation. Sometimes a worker may be helped by a walk into a neighboring office with a message that ordinarily would be phoned."

It Seems to Me . . . .

Passage of Time Is Working Against Reuther's Negotiations

As times passes, circumstances seem to conspire against WALTER REUTHER and his negotiations with the three big automobile companies.

★ ★ ★

Every few days, a new factor is uncovered which mitigates against Reuther's avowed intention. Several months ago he announced in effect that he proposed to stand the big three up in a corner and "let 'em have it." Since that time, most economic developments have been a belt in the ear for union negotiators.

★ ★ ★

In the past, it has always been the union which has threatened to "shut up shop and go home." The veiled strike threat of years gone by slowly became an open challenge from the first day of contract talks. Now in 1958, General Motors takes the initiative by declaring that unless there be a signed contract, May 29th, it will consider itself without any obligation whatsoever.

The shoe's on the other foot.

★ ★ ★

One of the biggest stumbling blocks in the laps of the union negotiators lies in the fact that there are more than 800,000 new, unsold automobiles in the hands of dealers. Hence it is quite obvious that a shutdown wouldn't raise any particular havoc with the big three.

★ ★ ★

Then, the current financial statements of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler indicate that the profits of the three have taken drastic turns for the worse.

GM's net is off 30 per cent.

Ford dropped 77 per cent.

Chrysler's profits vanished entirely.

★ ★ ★

In fact, Chrysler faces a loss of 15 million dollars this quarter which makes L. L. COLBERT a very poor target at which to aim pointed darts or barbs. Already, friends of Chrysler are asking Mr. REUTHER whether his members want to share the loss by making direct, individual financial contributions by each employe to the Chrysler treasury.

This may sound like double talk, but it was Mr. REUTHER who suggested the union was ready to take part of the profits from the stockholders to whom they legally and morally belong.

★ ★ ★

If the REUTHER plan were fair, the workers would have to share the deficit as well as the profit. I imagine the bloom is definitely off THIS particular lily. Negotiators will probably slip that "demand" into moth balls for permanent burial in a distant cemetery.

★ ★ ★

The entire nation has focused its attention on the automobile situation. Publishers from coast to coast asked me eagerly for "inside information" when I was in New York. But I reported that neither Mr. REUTHER, Mr. COLBERT, Mr. CURTICE nor Mr. BREECH had taken me into his confidence and all I knew was "what I read in the papers."

★ ★ ★

The move to get the companies to "postpone negotiation" for three months was about the least statesman-like maneuver Mr. Reuther has tried. Unless there are hidden implications that haven't been uncovered, it was just a sorry dud.

★ ★ ★

If we are going to halt inflation, upward trends MUST STOP. This means WAGES AND PRICES.

You can't check one alone.

They're tied together.

If the union leaders want prices held where they are, wage increases will have to stand where they are, also.

★ ★ ★

If this silly economic elevator keeps whirling upward and upward, you may be paying $4.00 a week for The Press and a want ad for three days will run $106. Of course, your wage rate per hour by that time might be $12.80. It all sounds like the silliest dog on the block chasing the stumpiest tail.

Who'll benefit?

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A post card bobs in from "JIMMY" saying that he saw the reference to the large flock of pheasants in Oakland county. "I saw at least two dozen a week ago, far out on the Willow Run airport. When our plane taxied by, they all raised their heads but didn't move and they stood out very plainly as the grass was cut short." . . . . . Overheard in a Doctor's Office: "It's a terrible season in my husband's business. On my vacation in Europe this summer, I'm going to skip a whole country."

★ ★ ★

Scientific tests show a real, hearty male snoring registers 65 to 70 decibels. This is equivalent to the roar of a hungry lion. My wife accuses me of reaching 66 to 71 decibels, the equivalent of a runaway freight. . . . . Nielsen ratings put the singers in this order: Como, Shore, Boone, Fisher, Page, Clooney, Sinatra, Bergen, MacKenzie and Munsel. My own list would put Bergen and MacKenzie near the top. . . . . Did you hear about the Texan who was so rich his son had an unlisted serial number in the Army?

★ ★ ★

Little Known Facts about Well Known People: Mrs. WILLIAM GOSSETT, wife of Ford VP, is the daughter of CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, a really great American. One of the brilliant men of his era, a lot of his erudition passed smoothly to the next generation. ELIZABETH is a warm favorite everywhere and always in demand. In spite of a fine appearance and a commanding presence, she's called "Liz" by all her close friends.

★ ★ ★

Milo Cross tells me that college swimming aspirants have to swim a hundred laps a day in addition to other training duties. . . . . New Mexico is the site of a 15-story building on a lonely mountain which will be devoted to getting more power and energy from the sun's rays. A big swing could develop here within the next decade. . . . . A gal sidled up to an X-ray unit. "I don't need my chest X-rayed," she said shyly, "but the label came off this can. Is it spaghetti or baked beans?"

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Strong athletes have found added power in faith: Gene Tunney, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Otto Graham, Alice Marble, Bob Mathias . . . Locker rooms often echo quietly to individual and group prayers.

As a former sports artist, I've seen boxers, basketballers and gridders bless themselves, and, during a dramatic moment of a professional football game, watched a star turn away and pray. The recorded prayers of athletes rarely ask for victory, but ask that they play their best, that no one be injured, that teammates not suffer for their mistakes, and that they be in stride with God's way.

Protestants Stress Family Week

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Beginning on the first Sunday in May and ending on Mother's Day (May's second Sunday) American Protestants observe National Family Week. The purpose of this annual observance is to remind Christian people of the constant need of cooperation between the church and the home. Every year National Family Week reemphasizes the rededication of home and family to God.

★ ★ ★

This year's theme for the week is "Your Home — A Household of God."

SAINT'S SAINTED MOTHER

The Christian church owes St. Monica a double debt. Besides her contribution of her own personal holiness she also brought into the world a son who became one of the outstanding Christians in all history. That son was the great Augustine, Bishop of Hippo and Doctor of the Church.

It was not without a struggle that Augustine became one of the church's memorable figures. In that he was not entirely unlike his sainted mother. They say she was something of a caution in her younger days, too. By the time she was old enough to be sent to the cellar for the family's dinner wine she soon began to take a nip or two for herself along the way, and in a very short while she was really hitting the bottle. But one day a slave, in an argument with this tippling daughter of the manor, had the nerve to call her a "winebibber," and this brought Monica to her senses. From then on she never touched another drop. A little later she was baptized and thereafter led an exemplary life.

Born in Carthage (North Africa) in 332, Monica was given in marriage at an early age to a bad-tempered, dissolute pagan. She put up with a lot, especially in the matter of his bad example to the children. But by patience and prayer Monica made a Christian of him, and he died secure in the faith, in 371.

★ ★ ★

Her greatest concern, however, was her brilliant elder son, Augustine, who as soon as he could get away left home and launched upon a life of flagrant wickedness. For nine years Monica, in anguish of spirit, watched, wept, fasted and prayed. Finally, irritated beyond endurance by his mother's nagging, Augustine slipped away and went to Rome — but even there she followed him. And there her prayers were answered. Augustine was converted, with the tremendous results that all the world knows. He was baptized on Easter Day, 387.

Thereafter there was nothing left for Monica to live for. She died on the return trip to Africa. She is the patron saint of married women and the pattern of Christian motherhood.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY

Lag b'Omer on Thursday is at the same time the newest and one of the oldest of the Jewish festivals. Actually it would be better to say it is a semifestival. There is no prescribed ritual for it, and the day is a minor one in the Jewish calendar.

The name of the day means simply "thirty-three." Lag b'Omer is the thirty-third of the fifty days between Passover and Pentecost. The rest of the days, before and after Lag b'Omer, constitute a time of semimourning. Though nobody at this late date remembers why, this thirty-third day is the only one in the whole period on which the tone of sadness is relaxed. The rules, such as the one against weddings during this time, are momentarily suspended on Lag b'Omer.

It is ancient because it probably goes back to some sort of pagan nature festival held at this season by the people Jews lived among in their very earliest days as a nation. It is new because the Jews took it over and "Judaized" it by connecting it with an event that, according to legend, happened in their history.

Really the day's obscure origin is not too important by now. Lag b'Omer is a pleasant break in the long serious time between the two big festivals. It is celebrated with a day off for school children and with family outings and picnics in the country.

Chicago is still double-teaming itself in both leagues. All this and the Great Lakes too.

But it won't be long before the Cubs will be in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston or another big southwestern town.

Same kind of experimenting is going along in ice hockey and basketball. One basketball franchise has shuttled between Cincinnati and Rochester.

They've discovered that no town will support a loser. And if anybody is going to die for dear old Rutgers let 'em do it at Rutgers.

Possibly the only owner who will stick with a deficit is Tom Yawkey of Boston. He sure has done considerable banking in the Rathole Trust Company.

Perrini couldn't stand the pressure there and lit out for Milwaukee. But even he didn't have the nerve of Frazee who sold Babe Ruth to New York.

'Please Use Consideration if You Burn Trash Outside'

Please, dear neighbors, take heed and burn your trash early in the evening. I put my clothes out nice and bright and when I looked they were a sight. Smoke was straining through my sheets and they reeked when I took them down. When you're burning trash outside, please have consideration.

'Why Pick Hart for That Job?'

What's going on? Leon Hart is "in bad" with the players on the Lion squad who feel he has been dogging it for a couple of years and now President Anderson puts him on the air to "discuss the players" during the fill-in time. Mr. Anderson does a smart job of running the Lions but it looks as though his foot slipped here. Why pick the guy the squad is sick of to discuss them personally?

Gives Fault Ratio for Poor Education

A letter to the editor says young people today take "easy" subjects. They know so little math and science they aren't prepared to study the harder courses. They know they'll fail. The first principles haven't been driven home. The fault lies between the schools, students and parents in about the ratio of 55, 25 and 20.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Tis True, Biggest Donkey Usually Brays Loudest

"Enclosed 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please send your booklet Chronic Joint Disability. We have found your column invaluable since we came here. Our doctor says that what makes the doctors so mad is that you are so right . . . (T.T.J.)"

DR. BRADY

Answer — And what makes me so mad is that the doctors are sometimes so wrong and so incorrigible about it.

★ ★ ★

"Article in paper says 'Engineer's kidney is contracted, not by inhalation, but by absorption dirt and grit unavoidable on a railroad.' Is that true? (H.M.)"

Answer — It is absurd. There is no ailment or disease of the kidney to which engineers are more subject than other men. There is no scientific evidence that anything is ever absorbed through unbroken skin.

★ ★ ★

"Is it possible to get pneumonia after you have already had it? (Miss E.M.)"

Answer—Yes. In fact, in some instances, one attack seems to render the individual even more susceptible to the disease.

★ ★ ★

"For months I have had burning, smarting sensation in mouth, tongue and throat, and a very red appearance of lining of cheek and under the tongue. I am quite anemic and have some stomach trouble with diarrhea . . . A doctor said I need vitamin B1 . . . (G.H.W.)"

Answer — Deficiency in intake of nicotinic acid may produce such symptoms. Nicotinic acid is one of the entities of the natural vitamin B complex (B or thiamin is another) as it occurs in plain wheat, wheat germ, lean pork, lean beef, beans, peas, fresh raw cabbage, lettuce, cooked broccoli, canned tomatoes or canned tomato juice, carrots preferably fresh raw, eggs, etc.

Instead of trying to take pure nicotinic acid, pure vitamin B or other synthetic, it is always better to take the whole B complex. It is easily taken in tablet form, when it is difficult to get an adequate ration in food.

"A year ago I sent for your pamphlet on Adult Tetany. I was suffering with cramps in feet and legs to the point where I got hardly any sleep at all. Followed the advice in the pamphlet and have had wonderful results. Ever grate-ful . . . (Mrs. F.T.)"

Answer — Excruciatingly painful cramps in feet or legs, sometimes in wrists or arms, occurring suddenly in the night or when the elderly victim tries to stretch early in the morning, generally indicate tetany. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet Adult Tetany and Growing Pains. Probably more doctors would recognize adult tetany if I didn't.

"Every morning when I talk to mother on the telephone she asks if I read such and such in Dr. Brady's column . . . so now I have the habit, and I really enjoy it. The pamphlet on Dermatophytosis . . . (Mrs. O.H.)"

Answer — Thank mother for me. For the pamphlet on Dermatophytosis (Foot Itch, Ringworm, Athlete's Foot) send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 400 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Debunks 'White-Overnight' Idea

Dick brings up the question whether you can turn gray overnight. Be glad you live in a scientific age, for George Washington was beset with hundreds of such false notions. In fact, Washington was probably killed by the misconception that it was smart to bleed a patient with a fever. His doctor took out almost a quart of Washington's blood . . . then Washington died.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-396: Dick M., aged 19, is a science major in college.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, can a person's hair turn white over night?" he began. "It doesn't seem possible to me, but I have heard many people swear that a sudden tragedy or some severe terror made their hair turn absolutely white within just one night. Is that malarky?"

DR. CRANE

SCIENCE OR MALARKY

Before answering Dick's query, may I remind you that in George Washington's day hundreds of similar unscientific notions were spread by word of mouth.

And very able men would solemnly swear to the truth of their weird tales, even though we know nowadays that their statements were falsehoods.

★ ★ ★

For modern science has punctured one delusion after another by the use of new facts and new scientific methods.

As regards this oft repeated story concerning hair turning white, let's view the medical facts.

After the hairs of our scalp protrude through the skin, they are dead.

They have no feeling and obtain no nourishment, nor are they connected by any nerves to the brain.

Nevertheless, barbers in my childhood used to singe the hair of patrons on the theory that the freshly cut ends would "bleed" and thus weaken the vitality of said hairs.

The human hair grows slowly — about an inch per month. So, even if it were possible for severe shock or terror to stop the pigmentation of the roots of the hairs, that change in color would not be evident in the external hair for a long time.

It would take months before any de-pigmentation in the hair roots could change our brown or black or red hair to snowy whiteness.

The statement, therefore, that fear turns a person's hair white over night is pure malarky or buncombe.

However, a shampoo will often make a person's hair look many shades whiter, especially if he uses hair oil regularly or his hair is dirty.

Hair oils make one's hair appear much blacker. So anybody who talks about a sudden change in color of his scalp hair must have had a long overdue shampoo or else have omitted his hair oil.

DEFICIENCY AILMENTS

Several ailments of mankind that appear toward middle age are not due to germs but to deficiences of certain chemicals.

Gray hair, baldness, diabetes, cancer, and possibly multiple sclerosis and several other ailments are in this category.

At the present moment, modern medicine is vitally concerned with the possibility of delaying or even preventing such deficiency ailments by putting trace chemicals into salt or pills.

The widespread condition of goiter, even among men, was thus thwarted in 1924 by placing a trace of iodine in our table salt.

Lately, we have been able to eliminate about 65 per cent of dental decay in children by a similar trace of fluorine in drinking water.

★ ★ ★

Within this generation (before 2,000 A.D.) I think we'll likewise stop most cases of diabetes and cancer by supplementary feeding of trace chamicals in our foods.

The salt manufacturers have already tested the beneficial effects of trace chemical salt for livestock. It produces faster growth, less anemia, less sterility, and many other desirable effects.

We medics are prescribing a "shotgun" capsule of a dozen or more trace chemicals, plus a large number of vitamins, to fortify patients against deficiency ailments, and I think the results will be very helpful. Time will tell but the theory is logical.

Attempted Military Coup Fails

Colombians Going to Polls for Presidential Election

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia prepared today to elect its first constitutional president in a decade after failure of an attempted military coup to prevent it.

In an almost bloodless uprising early yesterday some 1,500 soldiers seized the leading candidate in tomorrow's election and four members of the five-man ruling junta. But the fifth junta member rallied loyal forces and forced the rebels to back down.

★ ★ ★

Rear Adm. Ruben Piedrahita, the fifth junta member, blamed the seven-hour uprising on persons who resent the impending re-emergence of a constitutional government in this South American by supporters of Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, former dictator who was ousted a year ago.

Rojas has been in Spain but last night he flew from Bermuda to Barbados, a Caribbean island 1,300 miles northeast of Bogota. He told a reporter he knew nothing of the uprising. Rojas said he hoped to go to the United States after a five-day visit in Barbados.

The attempted coup was called an act of lunacy by former president Alberto Lleras Camargo, the nation. The political beliefs of the rebels were not immediately known.

The uprising followed a futile attempt Wednesday to disrupt the election. That attempt was staged

Junior Editors Quiz on AMERICAN HISTORY

QUESTION: Did Pocahontas Marry John Smith?

ANSWER: Captain John Smith was one of the leaders of the struggling English colony at Jamestown. A true soldier of fortune, he often traded with the Indians. On one of his expeditions, the Indians took him prisoner and their chief, Powhatan, condemned him to death. Smith later wrote that Powhatan's daughter placed her head on his, just as the chief was about to kill him and begged that his life be spared. In a still later writing, however, Smith claimed it was another Indian girl who saved him.

Pocahontas, a child of 12 at the time of the incident, often visited the white settlement at Jamestown. When war broke out between the Indians and settlers, she was captured and held as a hostage. In April, 1614, she married John Rolfe and returned with him to England where she was introduced to society as an American princess. She had one son, Thomas Rolfe, and died in England. Her son moved to Virginia in early manhood and some of the state's most noted families were descended from him.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Captain John Smith had many great adventures, even before coming to America. Get a book at the library and read about him.

There's No Magic in the Word "GUARANTEE"

Contrary to public belief the mere fact that something is advertised as "guaranteed" is not particularly important. Here's what is important:

1. WHO IS THE GUARANTOR?

2. WHAT ARE THE TERMS OF THE GUARANTEE?

A guarantee is no stronger than the guarantor. A guarantee, in spite of its name, may not in fact be of any protection whatever. It depends upon its terms.

465,000 Jobless in State for April

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan unemployment rose by 1,000 workers a day the first 15 days of last month, reaching a mid-April peak of 465,000.

The figure, estimated by the Michigan Employment Security Commission yesterday, represents 15.9 per cent of the state's near three-million-man labor force. Nationally about seven per cent of the labor force is idle.

Unemployment currently in Michigan is the highest it has been since the MESC started its present statistical system in 1949. The figure includes 275,000 or 18 per cent of the labor force out of work in the Detroit area.

An MESC spokesman said that while pre-1949 figures are not available for comparison, the number of jobless in mid-April could be the highest since 1938. At the most, he said, it would only be matched by the post-war layoffs.

There were 181,000 idle in Michigan in mid-April of last year with 98,000 in the Detroit area.

odds-on favorite to be elected tomorrow under an agreement by the two leading political parties to back him.

The presidential election is being held under a 16-year truce between the Conservatives and Liberals. The truce is designed to put the nation back on the track of peaceful government after eight years of feuding that cost an estimated 100,000 lives.

The plotters led by Col. Hernando Forero struck about 4 a.m. yesterday. They invaded the homes of junta members, touched off dynamite charges and took their victims to a military police barracks 100 yards from the presidential palace.

OUR GIANTS

J. L. VOORHEES

When we were children we had a giant; our dad. In our teens our giant was Babe Ruth; we modeled our ideals after his good sportsmanship, fair play and honor. As we became conscious of tomorrow our giant assumed the shape of a locomotive engineer; we rode in the cab with him, took our train over ribbons of steel at incredible speeds and then we met Dianna and our giant assumed a new shape—a giant of industry.

M. E. SIPLE

Our Dianna wanted a home and no one else could supply it. She wanted children; those children would want a giant and who else could it be but us.

Within the confines of Giant-shadows we see the framework of all that is wholesome in America. Just as our father was a giant to us, we are a giant to our children; they do what they see us do. We must be their ideal of Giantdom.

In a Paris-Styled Blazer

Blaze a Fashion Trail

PARIS (INS) — It's easy to be a "trail blazer" in new French fashions.

Just start with a blazer—there's one in almost every collection. Dior, for instance, offers a boxy, tailored navy blue blazer over a white trapeze-flared skirt. The Dior touch is in the blazer buttons—they're of navy blue wood with a gold rococo metal bow in the center.

Another trail-blazer style by Guy Laroche is a spring and summer suit for town wear. Made of black and white striped tennis flannel, the blazer jacket is double breasted and classic, and the matching skirt is fully pleated. The same black and white striped fabric is used for matching, high-heeled shoes as the chic, finishing touch.

A sporty and amusing blazer for weekend wear has two "change purse" pockets. These two change purses are made of the navy blue blazer fabric, complete with metal frame and clasp.

Epsilon Chapter Elects Officers

Officers have been elected by the Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority.

★ ★ ★

New president is Mrs. Lola Sandage. Others assuming duties include Mrs. Gordon Rice, vice president; Mrs. Lewis Cornell, recording secretary, and Mrs. William VanderZee, treasurer.

Plans are being made for the annual dinner meeting with the district chapters to be held at Devon Gables.

Try Shoulder Exercise

Better Posture May Improve Neck

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is nothing lovelier looking than a beautiful neck and shoulders. Even if you were not born with exceptionally charming ones you can do much to correct any defects you may have in these areas.

Collar bones which are too prominent make many women unhappy. Shoulder blades which protrude in the back and a hump at the back of the neck are two more culprits which harass women.

Today let us consider protruding collar bones and shoulder blades. Both of these characteristics are emphasized by underweight. In fact if the underweight is extreme it may be the only cause. Naturally bone structure also plays a part in these faults. We cannot change this but you can gain weight if you should.

However, the main reason for prominent collar bones and shoulder blades is poor posture. Stand or sit in front of a mirror. Round your back and let your shoulders drop forward. See how noticeable your collar bones and shoulder blades are!

Improvement in posture and the development of musculature will do much to correct these conditions. Do the following exercises.

1. Stand tall, arms hanging at sides. Raise both arms upward with straight elbows. Clap the hands overhead and lower arms to sides. Continue.

2. Make large circles with your arms, pulling BACK as the arms move sideward-downward to place. Continue.

3. Many chinline exercises are splendid for filling out the hollows in the neck. Try this one. Sit or stand. Turn your head as far to the right as possible. Turn it forward. Turn your head as far to the left as you can. Turn it forward.

Continue turning right and left. Do this slowly and keep the chin level with the floor. Do not tip or duck your head while doing this exercise.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have this entire set of exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10 "Is Your Chinline a Pain in the Neck?" Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Father's Objection Is Wrong

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My father insists that a boy friend's mother is not a suitable chaperon when she happens to be a stranger to us. I thought any mother—either the boy's or the girl's—could be supposed to be a proper chaperon.

"The boy has invited me to a dance in his town, which is about 30 miles from home, and his mother has written a very sweet and friendly letter inviting me to come in the afternoon and stay at their house for the night. What's wrong with that?"

Answer: From your description, nothing is wrong. In fact, a welcoming letter from the boy's mother is the most proper invitation possible, and his mother the perfect chaperon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister is to be married soon for the second time. She has asked me to be her matron of honor and she would also like her 12-year-old daughter to take part.

"We have been told that it isn't proper to have more than one attendant at a second wedding. Is this true? If both can't take part, would it be proper to have one as young as 12 be the only attendant?"

Answer: At a second wedding, it is not proper to have a long procession of bridesmaids and ushers, but two attendants —a maid of honor and a junior bridesmaid—would be entirely proper.

Dear Abby ....

Tally Ho!---Keep Mum!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have been playing bridge with the same girls for years. After one of the bridge games I picked up the tallies and did a little re-adding. I found several errors in favor of this one party who kept the score. Now I know why she always went home with the prize. Should I mention this to anyone or should I keep quiet?"

ABBY

DEAR WISE: If you are REALLY "wise" you'll not mention this to anybody other than the party who made the errors. They could have been honest errors, so do it privately and diplomatically or she'll put it down as another "grand slam."

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am an R.N. (registered nurse) who married a man 12 years my junior. His father is an invalid and I am beginning to think the reason he married me is to take care of his father.

"My mother-in-law will come right out and tell you that she has one of those "in-name-only" marriages and all she does is run around. My husband works 10 hours a day, so I am the one who takes care of his father (without pay). I am getting pretty sick of this. Have you any suggestions?"

NURSE WITHOUT PAY

DEAR NURSE: Tell your husband you have "had it" and he and his mother had better start making arrangements for the care of his father. If you wait for them to relieve you of your "duty" you will wait a long time.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am Protestant and my husband is Catholic. When we were married we agreed that he should keep his religion and I should keep mine, but I had to sign a pledge saying our children would be raised in the Catholic faith.

"Frankly, I'm sorry now and think we should compromise and raise all the boys in his faith and the girls in mine. What do you think of this idea?"

A PROTESTANT

DEAR PROTSETANT: I think ALL children in the same family should be raised in the same faith. The family that prays together stays together.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I have a question to ask you and some of your readers. It is no secret that the best cooks in all the world are men. (In France they wouldn't even let a woman in the kitchen except to wash the dishes), so why is it that in THIS country women kick their men out of the kitchen?"

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: When an American man goes into a kitchen, he generally isn't there to COOK, he is either hungry or he wants to supervise.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My husband bought his mother a gas stove five years ago. She picked it out herself to be sure she got what she wanted. She decided she didn't like it, so he traded it in on an electric stove.

"Now she says she would rather have the gas stove back again. Today he is trading her electric stove for gas. I have been using an old second-hand wood stove ever since I was married, 14 years ago. What do you think of that?"

OVERLOOKED

DEAR OVERLOOKED: The squeaky wheel gets the oil. Squeak a little!

Hawaii Is Theme for May Breakfast

"Methodism in the Land of Orchids" was the theme for a May Day Breakfast of the WSCS of Central Methodist Church.

Centerpieces for tables in the Hawaiian motif featured miniature thatched huts, palm trees and leis. At each place setting was a corsage of Vanda orchids flown from Hawaii for the occasion. Speaking on "Methodist Centers and Customs of Hawaii" was Mrs. Ralph Clingaman who called the island "a veritable garden" and showed slides of her trip there. Also participating in the Thursday program were Mrs. Robert Byrnes, Mrs. Harry Stowell and members of the Leora Shanks and the Marian Shaw Circles.

Keep Hubby Proud, Not on Defensive

By RUTH MILLETT

Never tell a man:

"I told you so," or "I didn't think it would work, but you were sure you were right."

"I could have married so-and-so, and sometimes I wish I had."

"If I weren't a good manager we couldn't get along on what you earn."

"You never tell me you love me any more."

"And to think, I gave up a good job to marry you!"

"You never pay a bit of attention to anything I say."

"Other men seem to be able to buy such-and-such for THEIR wives."

"If you had just taken my advice, this wouldn't have happened."

"The trouble with you is. . ."

"I've been asking you for months to do so-and-so."

"You don't have any idea of how hard I work."

"I wish your mother wouldn't. . ."

"You never take me anywhere and I'm sick of the sight of these four walls."

"You ought to see the mink stole Jim gave Eloise for her birthday. Just the kind I've been wanting for years."

"I bought it with MY money."

"As long as I'm working to help support us, I think you ought to . . ."

"I've given you the best years of my life."

Why should a wife avoid all of these statements and whining phrases? Because each and every one of them makes a man feel less like a man.

The secret of keeping a husband happy is to make him feel proud — not apologetic or defensive.

Confident Living

Fallen Girl Finds Hope in His Infinite Mercy

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Not long ago I met a young minister who told me enthusiastically how "exciting" his job in life is. He was really on fire with his work. I guessed that something special must have happened to him to generate such a thrill. And it had indeed.

DR. PEALE

He told me that a seventeen-year-old girl had made an appointment to see him. She was embarrassed and asked that the matter she wanted to talk about be kept entirely confidential. He assured her, of course, that all pastoral counseling is confidential.

"I'm so miserable. I'm so unhappy," she began. "As you know, certain magazines, books and movies seem to tell us that the teaching of the church about personal purity doesn't apply anymore. Writers and playwrights make light of it, and in the stories we read not only young people but actually parents, too, are doing things that are wrong. I've become very discouraged, for I can't seem to find goodness anywhere. The boys want you to pay for every date."

"I was brought up," she went on, "with the idea of being a morally clean girl. But not only books and magazines; even my classmates tell me "that stuff" is now out of date and old-fashioned. Then the boys come along and give you a big line about how they love you and they make demands. They tell you they're not going to love you any more or continue to date you unless you do what they want."

"I just wanted to have fun. I didn't want to give in to what they asked," she sobbed, "but finally I did. Their threats to leave me out of the gang finally broke me down. I thought that nothing could be worse than being unpopular, but now I know how stupid I was.

★ ★ ★

"I'm in pretty deep now. I don't get any fun out of it. I'm just miserable. I feel so dirty, so soiled. And I'll be this way the rest of my life. Why was I such a dope?"

★ ★ ★

The minister, deeply touched, had been trained to handle such human problems and he had an answer to fit her need. "Don't despair," he said kindly. "Against all that wrongdoing and messing up of your life is the healing power of the Lord.

"What you have done has, of course, left scars on you and those you will have to bear. But God's forgiveness can make you clean again. He can change your life. You have had a brush with that form of error known as sin. And sin is a two-faced thing, hiding in glamorous trappings its inner dirtiness and cruelty. Sin is very cruel, for there is no love in it. But Christ sets love against sin. He hates the sin but loves the sinner. He loves you and will free you from your sinfulness."

She looked at him, he told me, just like a pathetic little child. Then he took her from his office into the church, to the altar. She knelt humbly and they prayed together. The girl asked the Lord to forgive her, to change her, to give her spiritual rebirth. The minister was moved to place his hand on the girl's head and pray: "May the healing grace of God take away your sins and make you clean and happy again."

★ ★ ★

As the young minister finished his story, he said: "When I saw the wonderful look on that girl's face following that prayer for cleansing, I knew why I became a minister. What a thrill, actually to see Christ change people. That girl now has what it takes to live right. She found that greatest of all joy—the happiness of the transformed soul."

★ ★ ★

I, too, feel it a great privilege to perach from the pulpit and to write in this newspaper column and say to one and all that no matter what you have done, you can be forgiven, your life can be different, you can know peace and joy. I want to remind you that you do not need to stay as you are. You do not have to live with a self that is weak, fearful, defeated. You can be different—wonderfully different!

Methodist Mission Sets Hawaiian Tour

A methodist mission tour of Hawaii, sponsored by the Division of National Missions and by the Joint Section of Education and Cultivation of the Board of Missions, is projected for July 17 to 30, 1958.

The tour will be by air, leaving San Francisco on July 17 by Pan-American World Airways, and returning to the same city on the 30th. (There will also be an alternate return leaving Honolulu on July 30 and arriving in Los Angeles, August 4.)

The days in Hawaii will be spent in Honolulu, Maui, Hilo, Kona and other points of interest. The principal Methodist mission centers on the Islands will be visited, as will also be the scenic areas for which the Islands are famous the world over.

To Advance Theology

GHANA, Africa (AP) — The International Missionary Council, made up of interdenominational mission groups in 38 countries, announced at its assembly here the setting up of a 4 million dollar fund to advance theological education in Asia, Africa and Latin America—half of it contributed by the Sealantic Fund, Inc., the other half by eight foreign mission boards, all in the United States.

Approximately 1,500 young people from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin are expected to attend the three day affair with registration at 4 p.m. Friday.

Pastor Uses Trailer for Her Parsonage

CREEDE, Colo. (AP) — The Rev. Mary S. Grubbs, Congregational Church pastor, uses a trailer as a parsonage. She believes her parsonage is the only one on wheels.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Grubbs, with the use of her trailer, brings the gospel to rural communities. Without the 31-foot trailer, Creede and Maybelle would be without a Congregational pastor. The two towns are 500 miles apart.

★ ★ ★

Funds for purchase of the trailer were raised by the Congregational Pilgrim Fellowship. Capable with carpenter tools, Rev. Grubbs built a study and desk in the trailer. She has a mimeograph machine in the bedroom.

★ ★ ★

"I hope to spend the rest of my life in rural church work," Rev. Grubbs says. "The church is deeply rooted in rural communities."

Watches Men Vie to Purchase Bibles

Dr. Byron S. Lamson, General Secretary of the General Missionary Board of the Free Methodist Church of North America, was in South Africa recently when first copies of the new Tshwa Bible reached the field.

He states in part that "In more than one place I saw Bibles released for the first time. Men actually ran forward vying with each other for the privilege of buying the Bible for the particular mine area they represented. It was not possible to release more than one Bible to each mine congregation.

"These men seemed as hungry for a copy of the Bible as a starving man would be for a good meal."

Security for You

Army Discharge Papers Can Prove Age

By RAY HENRY

From P. G. of Washington, D. C.: "I was born on July 14, 1894. You can see it won't be long and I'll be able to collect Social Security. The trouble is I don't have a birth certificate and don't even know where in the United States I was born. I served in the Army during World War I. Will Social Security accept my Army discharge as proof of my birthdate?"

If you don't have a birth certificate and can't get one, chances are your discharge papers will be accepted as proof of your age.

★ ★ ★

From D. H. A. of Council Bluffs, Iowa: "about four years ago I started collecting a disability annuity as a disabled government worker. At the time, it appeared that I would never be able to work again because of a serious leg injury. Now, it appears that I'll be able to go back to work. I'm 48. If I go back to work, will I automatically lose my disability annuity?"

No. You'll lose your annuity only if your working income for two consecutive calendar years is at least 80 per cent of the current salary of the position you left when you were disabled. If you do, your working capacity is considered restored.

★ ★ ★

From R. L. of Brooklyn, N. Y.: "I have been living in the United States since 1939 and working regularly in a job covered by Social Security. I've never become a citizen. If I should retire next year at 65 and retire to Italy, can I collect Social Security there?"

Yes, an alien with at least 10 years total residence in the United States can collect Social Security anywhere in the world, except behind the Iron Curtain.

★ ★ ★

From B. B. of Bartlesville, Okla: "What is the easiest way to find out if there are any federal Civil Service jobs open? If I should write to Washington, please give me the address."

Your post office should have information about federal job openings. But, if you wish further information, you may write: Civil Service Commission, Examining Division, Washington 25, D. C.

★ ★ ★

From Mrs. P. E. of Albany, N. Y.: "My husband died in 1950 while working in a job covered by Social Security. He'd worked on the same job for 14 years. When he died, I didn't know about the Social Security lump sum death payment. May I collect the payment now?"

No. Under most circumstances, an application must be filed within two years after death. The maximum delay in applying in all cases is four years.

★ ★ ★

From Mrs. D. T. M. of Mitchell, S. D.: "My husband died two years ago leaving me with three small children. I've been collecting Social Security for myself and the children. I'm considering putting the two youngest children up for adoption. What will happen to their payments if I do?"

The monthly payments will be stopped upon adoption unless they're adopted by a step-parent, grandparent, aunt or uncle.

Challenging to Duel Costs Him $300 Fine

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (UP) — A Neshoba County man, fined $300 for challenging an editor to a duel with pistols or shotguns, is appealing to circuit court.

Buford Posey, 32, told Justice of the Peace Preston Collins yesterday that he didn't actually intend it as a challenge when he wrote to editor Jack Tannehill of the Neshoba Democrat.

★ ★ ★

Tannehill told the court the letter contained three alternatives, one of which was to settle their differences by a duel. What led to the issue was something published about Posey in Tannehill's paper.

Tannehill said he refused to publish Posey's answer because the editor considered the material libelous, for which he would be responsible.

Woman, 52, Slain in $2,000 Robbery

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP) — The woman manager of a Western Union branch office was beaten to death yesterday by a lone robber who fled with about $2,000.

The empty office safe stood open.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Sheriff Theodore Temoschuck said Miss Baier apparently was struck once over the eye and at least twice on top of her head with a hatchet.

Miss Baier worked for Western Union for 25 years.

Police said a pickup order was out for a man about 30 years old seen leaving a nearby parking lot about the time of the robbery.

Mice and Men Score Equally in New Game

DETROIT (INS) — A "guessing game" for mice and men was described in Detroit today at the 30th annual meeting of the Midwestern Psychological Assn.

★ ★ ★

The game is the brainchild of Drs. John W. Overall and W. Lynn Brown of the University of Texas, who have been studying "decision-making."

Rats were given their choice of two passageways in a maze. One led to the food, the other didn't. The path to the rations was changed from time to time.

Human subjects were required to guess whether a card would be red or blue, or to guess some similar two-choice question.

★ ★ ★

The study showed if the rats found the left passageway led to the eats they tended to continue selecting that path.

Men, on the other hand, were more apt to guess a red card after a blue one had appeared, and vice versa.

The psychologists said mice and men had about equal success in the game.

Dr. Overall said the game doesn't mean experiments with rats can't give results that will be valuable to people, but it does mean some differences in their thinking processes must be considered.

Striking Lake Pilots Tie Up Shipping

Conflict Between Past and Present

CHICAGO (UP) — The tie-up of foreign ships in Great Lakes ports involves a conflict between the past and the present — but both sides in the dispute are thinking of the future, too.

Yesterday a federal judge issued an order desifgned to halt the tie-up of foreign shipping here and at Milwaukee.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan banned picketing of docks by the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union until a hearing next Friday on the National Labor Relations Board petition for a permanent injunction.

Thus, the temporary restraining order will remain in effect for at least seven days. Ot next Friday's hearing it may be made permanent.

Years ago, when vessels from abroad got into the trade, their skippers were unfamiliar with the lakes and their ports. So they hired North American pilots.

★ ★ ★

The pilots of westbound ships got aboard at Kingston, Ont., where the St. Lawrence River joins the Great Lakes, and rode to Detroit, Milwaukee or other ports. On the return trips, the pilots got off at Kingston.

Spokesmen for the owners say that, as the seasons went by, the skippers found they needed the lake pilots only in the narrow passages, but they carried them over the full route anyway.

The owners say a round trip from Kingston back to Kingston averages 21 days, but they figure they need a lake pilot for no more than the equivalent of three days — the time spent in the narrows.

The pay rate for pilots was $27.50 per day in 1956. It climbed to $42.50 in 1957.

★ ★ ★

This year the ways of the past came into conflict with the economy-minded thinking of the present.

The owners decided to use the lake pilots only in the areas where the owners think they are needed — that is, the Welland Canal, through Lake Erie, the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River.

If the vessel was bound for a port on Lake Superior — Duluth, for instance — a pilot would stay on board through the St. Mary's River, the link between Lakes Huron and Superior.

The pilots refused to work on that limited basis. This dispute took the form of a strike or lockout April 21. Pickets were posted at ports. Longshoremen refused to pass the picket lines.

Some 50 ships throughout the Great Lakes — a dozen of them in Chicago alone — lay idle.

The National Labor Relations Board filed a petition in U.S. District Court in Chicago yesterday for a five-day injunction against union picketing of U.S. ports.

Three top union figures in the dispute between the Great Lakes Pilots Assn. and the Shipping Federation of Canada were in Montreal hoping to meet with management in an attempt to break the tie-up of foreign vessels on the lakes. The meeting had been proposed by Mayor Richard E. Daley of Chicago.

About 50 lake pilots, all but a few of them Canadian, are involved in the dispute. They are in a pilot pool at Kingston, Ont.

They work under a rotation, roll call system. The first man takes a ship, then his name goes to the bottom of the list.

Ella Fitzgerald Searched by Customs Men

LONDON (UP) — American jazz singer Ella Fitzgerald was still a little flustered but calming down today after customs men searched painstakingly through her six travel cases.

★ ★ ★

"They asked me if I had anything else on my body, and I said something like 'Yeah, buster, I'm a big girl, and I wear a girdle,'" Miss Fitzgerald said.

The other 14 members of her Jazz at the Philharmonic troupe were subjected to similar examinations when they flew in from Paris yesterday for a concert tour. Vitamin pills were sent off for a quick analysis but were returned intact.

The customs officials were tight lipped, refusing to say what they were looking for, or if they were just making a general look-around without anything specific in mind.

★ ★ ★

Once the troupe was past the barrier, British hospitality made amends.

Norman Granz, promoter of the concerts, took an indulgent view of the airport affair. "As far as I know the business is finished—in fact, nothing ever started," Granz said.

Tot Dies Under Car

HUDSON (UP) — Two-year-old Paul Connolly of Roseville was killed Friday when he was crushed under the wheels of a car driven by his mother. Police said the mother, Mrs. Patricia Connolly, 26, was backing out of a relative's drive here when Paul fell through a car window and the front wheels rolled over him.

Mackinac Bridge Traffic at 265,127

ST. IGNACE (UP) — More than a quarter of a million vehicles crossed the Straits of Mackinac Bridge in the first six months of operation. The bridge authority said today the best is yet to come.

Figures announced today for the month of April and for the six months since the 100 million dollar span opened Nov. 1 showed that bridge traffic during the winter totaled 265,127 vehicles.

Ferry traffic during a similar six month period a year ago totaled 185,880, showing an increase for the bridge of 79,247.

Authority Chairman Prentice M. Brown said the April increase over ferry traffic of a year ago was 52.2 per cent — tops for the six months.

In actual vehicle count April ranked second to November, the opening month, with 47,469 crossings. In November 104,585 vehicles crossed the brand new bridge.

U. S., Philippines Move Slowly on Project

Making Corregidor International Shrine

MANILA (INS) — The Philippines and the United States are moving slowly to turn Corregidor, guardian rock of Manila Harbor, into an international shrine.

It was on Corregidor that American and Filipino troops held out against the Japanese invaders long enough to foil Japan's plan to use the Philippines as a springboard to Australia, Hawaii and control of the Pacific Far East.

The effort on the "Rock" and making the island a tourist spot: Bataan before that cost more than 60,000 lives by May 6, 1942, when Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright surrendered the last 11,574 troops.

Today, 1,734-acre Corregidor boasts little but ruins, mud and dust, the bent and rusted steel frames of buildings, harbors littered with war debris and some 10,000 tons of undetonated explosives.

But there are a few starters for a light plane strip, a temporary four bedroom resthouse atop the highest peak, a reconstructed lighthouse with a 360-degree view of Manila, Bataan, Cavite Province and the South China Sea.

★ ★ ★

Philippine Tourism Commissioner Modesto Farolan could give no estimate on when facilities for tourists will be completed on the historic island. Main reason for the delay, he said, is that both Washington and Manila are dragging their feet on releasing money needed to carry the program.

The Philippine National Shrines Commission has been allocated a total of $150,000 by Congress for reconstruction of the cottage occupied by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Malinta Tunnel plus erection of a permanent resthouse.

Only $20,000 has been released by the Philippine Bureau of Public Works for improving the island's roads, airstrip and south pier.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Corregidor - Bataan Memorial Commission is committed to build a $6,000,000, 250-foot-high memorial on Topside, the rocks' highest point. Tentative dedication for the memorial is January, 1961.

Meanwhile, Corregidor is not closed to tourists, but difficulties are many. Visitors have to pack their own food and water. They must be guided about the island to avoid explosive-strewn areas, and they must bring their own gas to use in vehicles provided by the American Navy or the Philippine Army.

What Will Pat Do Now That He's Graduating?

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Now that you're about to graduate," a fellow said to Pat Boone the other night, "do you figure to get a job of some kind?"

★ ★ ★

WILSON

Pat—who was dining late laughed over his crepes suzette for Bing Crosby'd recently asked him the same question. Lately he's been busier than a one-fingered gittar player.

"I thought I might make music my career," said Pat, kidding along but straight-faced. Besides his TV, his movies and recordings, he's getting graduated from Columbia on his 24th birthday.

"Are you moving from New Jersy to Hollywood?" I asked.

"Boy, we're trying to decide!" His wife Shirley, mother of four daughters, and his manager, Jack Spina, were with him. "Depends whether we do two movies a year or only one . . ."

PAT BOONE

"Seriously, though," Pat said, "last year in college I studied music for the first time and this year I had a course in chamber music. I got to thinking that my rock 'n' roll records were paying for my chamber music source.

"And I decided that Beethoven and Fats Domino had something in common—they used the same notes. Of course Beethoven could read music. The hillbillies would say he was good in spite of that!"

Pat grew up around Granny White Pike outside Nashville but never got into hill-billying. He guesses it was because he never got a gittar. Somebody got him a uke instead.

★ ★ ★

"When I met Shirley down there and saw Red Foley's big home and swimming pool in the high society section of town, I began to have a healthy respect for country music.

"I also decided there was nothing to their songs, so I wrote a few. I couldn't get anybody interested."

So Pat became a pop-singer—with a Phi Beta Kappa key possibly in the offing.

"I hope," said Pat. "I'll be eligible, being in the upper 10 per cent of the class, but if anybody thinks I'm trying to get it for publicity and doesn't recommend me, I believe I'd be out.

When Pat hit Broadway, fresh from ministerial school, he was against working in night clubs where dancing was allowed.

★ ★ ★

"We've kept them to a minimum," he said. "There's one thing I wanted to do on TV that I finally got done. Singing the Lord's Prayer a cappella. It always seemed to me that the orchestra sort of got in the way."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Sugar Ray Robinson is economizing — he trimmed his entourage from 35 to 11 . . . Errol Flynn, movie-making in Africa, had a case of vodka flown to him. . . . George Raft'll do summer stock . . . The pajamas Sophia Loren wore in "The Key" were auctioned off in London for $750.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Everyone should own a really comfortable bed and a truly good pair of shoes, for he is in one or the other most of his life.—Quote.

★ ★ ★

"I've come to the conclusion," writes Ham Park, "that what makes the happy ending in a lot of TV dramas is the mere fact that they have ended." . . . That's earl, brother.

Smoke Over City Alarms Residents

For a short time yesterday afternoon, it looked to some people as if part of Pontiac was on fire.

Their alarm was caused by two dump fires with the smoke being carried by the strong winds. One fire was at the Pontiac Motor Division dump on Montcalm street which was reported at 1:30 p.m., and an earlier one on Orchard Lake at Telegraph road about noon.

Both blazes were brought under control by the Pontiac Fire Department within an hour.

Actress Flabbergasted by TV Academy Honor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'm still riding on Cloud 9," said Ann B. Davis. But she came down to earth for a moment to explain how she got up there.

★ ★ ★

She's been riding high since she won a TV Academy award a fortnight ago as the best supporting actress in television. As any fan of the Bob Cummings Show can tell you, she is Schultzy, long-suffering secretary of the rakish photographer.

Four years ago, Ann was working in the Christmas card line of a local department store. She graduated to a revue in a tiny Hollywood theater. There was no salary attached.

★ ★ ★

"I figured anywhere I went from there would be an improvement," she cracked. But she doubtless never suspected that she'd make the grade as an award winning actress.

Ann admitted an affinity for comedy at an early age. Born in Schenectady, N. Y., and reared in Erie, Pa., she long had a notion she wanted to act, especially for laughs. For the first few years of her career, she got little else.

★ ★ ★

"I played in all kinds of theaters, even a tent show," she recalled. "I got $20 a week. Later, it was raised to $25 because I was a good kid and helped put up the tent."

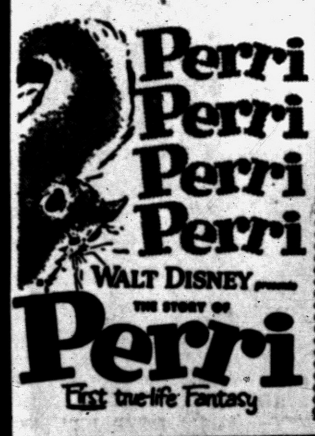

She came West in '49, seeking gold at the Porterfield, Calif., barn theater. There was little to be found, but the experience was great. She continued prospecting in Monterey and San Francisco theaters before trying her luck in Hollywood.

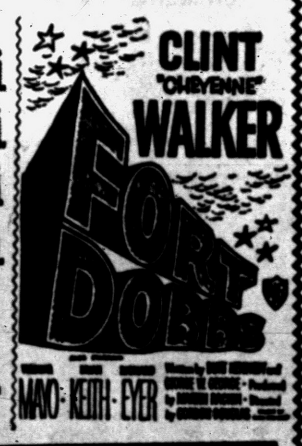

★ ★ ★

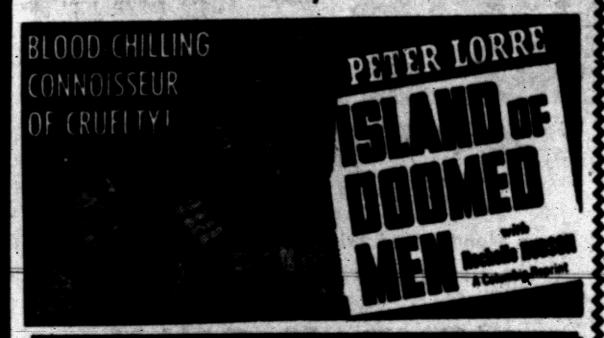

"In between, I worked in the 5 and 10, waited tables—the whole bit," she said. "Sure, it was a tough way up, but there's one good thing about it: you feel so grateful when the good things do start happening to you."

ON KELLER LANE — The Dewey Bradys have recently completed their new home in Bloomfield Heights. Former residents of Berea, Ohio, the Bradys wanted a suburban location for their pink and white bi-level home. Shutters are blue. E. P. Eroh was the architect for the Brady house. Bruce Kinzler did the building.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderworp

TILED PASS-THROUGH — Tiny squares of blue, pink, gray and black tile make up the pass-through between kitchen and family room. The dividing wall, the breakfast bar and all kitchen cabinets are oak. The wallpaper has a linen-like weave in it. Tile is used on all surfaces in the kitchen as well as on some of the walls. Next to the glass-doored storage cabinet shown here is a wall refrigerator on the kitchen side.

Your Neighbor's House

Dewey Bradys Choose Suburban Living

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Although the day was sunny, there was a nip in the air. That made the bed of scarlet Emperor tulips in front of the house a doubly welcome sight. Mrs. Dewey Brady said she and her husband had come up from Ohio on a blustery fall day just to plant bulbs for color this spring.

★ ★ ★

Because the Bradys had lived in a small town before moving to Michigan they wanted to build in a suburban area. When they were first married they lived in Detroit; in fact, they still have relatives there. But they wanted nothing to do with city life.

★ ★ ★

Keller Lane is in Bloomfield Heights, just north of Lone Pine road. The Bradys' pink brick house is the second one west of Franklin road. It has blue shutters and white clapboard trim and upper level. The double garage is under this level.

E. P. Eroh, AIA, was the architect for the Bradys. Bruce Kinzler built the house. Carol Morris of Michigan State University Home Economics department helped Mrs. Brady plan her kitchen.

Mrs. Brady's love of antiques is apparent as soon as you enter the house. The cranberry glass ceiling fixture in the vestibule is a reproduction of a Victorian light. The floor is ceramic tile. One wall has louvered doors hiding the guest closets. The walls are papered in a white, black and gold print.

FORMAL LIVING ROOM

Directly ahead is the living room. Picture windows look out onto the gently rolling back yard. They are dressed with floor length beige draperies; the flowered design is a large one. The walls are papered with a monotone square printed paper that has a hint of gold in it.

Around the white fireplace there is a double row of decorative tiles. The hearth is tiled. Opposite this fireplace is a long gold sofa, flanked at each end by mahogany lamp tables. Two upholstered armless chairs are deep red. A gray lounge chair has deep red fringe.

At the quiet end of the house there are two bedrooms. First is the guest room with its own bath. There is a bay window in this room. Closets have louvered doors.

★ ★ ★

Carpeting is cream colored. Walls are pale blue and woodwork white. The white taffeta draperies have a blue flower design. On the twin beds there are white spreads, quilted in gold.

In the bay window there's a small marble top table. On one side is a little rocker with tapestry upholstery. On the other is an "under stairs" chair similarly covered. Because this type of chair was originally meant to set against a stair wall, it has a slanting top.

At the end of the hall is the bathroom. Floor, walls and ceiling are tiled in gray. A mammoth corner vanity has a blue tile top. Over the entire thing is a mirror. Fixtures are gray. Curtains are sheer white material with a pale flower design on them. There are lots of cupboards in here and in the hallway.

★ ★ ★

The Bradys' bedroom has deep picture windows framed in green curtains with a bright design. Outside is a gnarled apple tree that delights Mrs. Brady every time she sees it. Over the beds is another pair of windows.

The wallpaper in this room looks like Oriental writing. The background is white with the design in black and gold. The carpeting is cream. This room has two sets of louvered closets.

BARBECUE FIREPLACE

Back of the living room fireplace is a fireplace in the family room. This one, made of pink brick, is raised off the floor for easy tending. Underneath, there is a space for wood storage. At one side is a place to barbecue.

This room was planned for easy care. The floor is ceramic tile in shades of tan. Under the round maple table and in front of the sofa are brown braided rugs. The walls are papered in beige with old kitchen utensils printed on the light background.

Ceiling beams are oak. At the end joining the kitchen a whole wall is paneled in oak. In this wall there are storage cabinets. One end is open and has a tile top with a small sink insert. Glass-enclosed shelves above hold glassware. A shelf runs around the lower cabinet and serves as a breakfast bar.

★ ★ ★

The sofa is rust colored. There are captain's chairs around the table and at the counter. There's a platform rocker near the fireplace. Next to the windows is a maple hutch cupboard to hold more antique glass and china. Cafe curtains are beige linen, semi-sheer with a gold thread.

As mentioned previously, Brady had help from MSU in planning her kitchen. It is enough to make any woman sigh with envy. It's convenient, easy to care for and attractive.

The ceramic tile floor is a continuation of the family room floor. "No care at all," says its owner. Counter tops and splash boards are made of smaller tiles. Instead of curtains there are decorative tiles around the diamond paned windows. Just a short valance of material like the family room curtains takes away any look of bareness.

LOW STORAGE

There is no high storage at all. The refrigerator is mounted in the wall next to the tiled pass-through, but it is low. All the oak cupboards have ball bearing shelves that pull out easily.

Under the sink is a trap door that opens when the cupboard door opens. Mrs. Brady can put all her wastepaper and tin cans down here. Baskets underneath catch the debris.

At one side of the dishwasher are vegetable bins. The corner has a gigantic lazy susan in it. Paper towels, waxed paper and aluminum foil are mounted on rolls inside the walls. Pull-down doors make them easy to reach.

The sink is unusual. One side is the conventional depth, while the other side is only half as deep. This enables Mrs. Brady to sit on a stool and prepare vegetables without having to reach down. She has two cutting boards.

The part of the house over the garage is like a separate guest apartment. On the ground level there is a bathroom and the grandchildren's guest room. This is a sturdy looking room with pale green walls and a brown tweed rug. Furniture is oak. The tan curtains have squares of peach, green, white and coral on them.

Up half a dozen steps is what Mrs. Brady calls "the cheery room." Here the floor is ranch pegged oak with bright braided rugs on it. Walls are beige. The bird print curtains at the eight windows have a green background. In one corner is a built-in desk.

★ ★ ★

Set at right angles along adjoining walls are two brilliant orange sofa beds. Under the front windows is a drop leaf table. There are a number of comfortable upholstered chairs around the room. The whole atmosphere is bright, cheerful and homey.

★ ★ ★

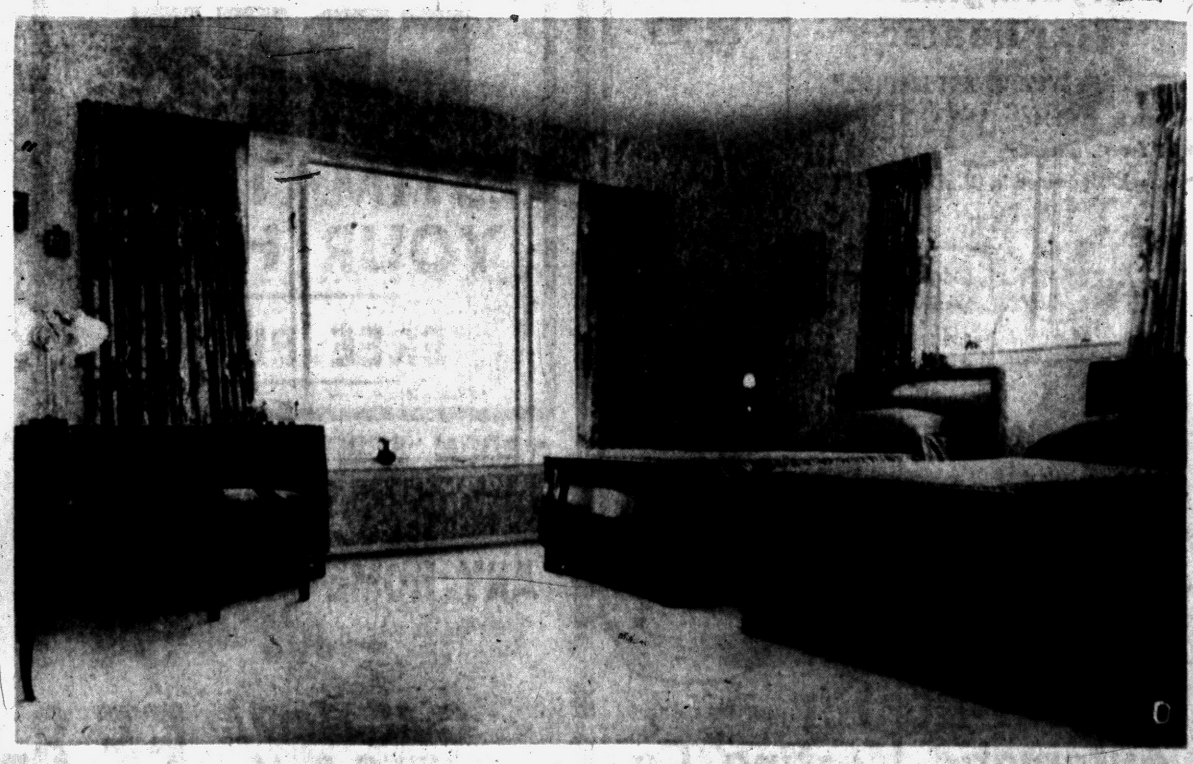

The Brady home is charming now. When the landscaping is completed, it will be even more delightful.

RAISED FIREPLACE — The fireplace in the family room is raised up to waist height. This makes for easy tending and permits space underneath for wood storage. Oak beams decorate the ceiling. The floor is ceramic tile in shades of beige. Furniture is maple. The light fixture over the table is a copy of a Victorian antique. Linen cafe curtains are used for the long windows overlooking the rear yard. There is a small porch just outside of this room.

THE CHEERY ROOM — Ranch pegged floor with bright braided rugs start the look of informality in this room, located on the upper level over the garage. Walls are neutral and set off the green bird print curtains. The most vivid spot of color is in these twin sofa beds covered in bright orange. Other furniture is covered in browns and greens. This room has windows on three sides.

BEDROOM WITH A VIEW — Even from the beds there's a view in this room. Right outside the windows is an apple tree. The rest of the spacious rolling back yard is also visible. Walls are papered in white, black and gold. Draperies have a green background. The bedspreads are quilted green taffeta. Furniture is bleached mahogany.

When boring a hole in wood or metal, clean the hole out often and never crowd the drill or bit.

New House Design Seen in Alternating Levels

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

This original plan, designated X-4 in the House of The Week series, achieves two happy results:

(1) The bedroom area is much greater than in almost any other house with comparable foundation size, and

(2) The alternating levels create a striking exterior appearance.

From the drawing board of Architect Rudolph A. Matern, the simple but unusual design incorporates two major rectangular areas on three different levels.

The plan works this way:

The lower level is in a rectangle extending from front to rear. The upper level is in a rectangle placed atop the lower rectangle and in the opposite direction, from side to side.

The grade level, with space for a carport and garden terrace, runs from front to rear. At the front of the house, the grade level carport is under the side-to-side bedroom wing.

Statistics

The overall dimensions of House of The Week design X-4 are 46 by 43 feet 6 inches. A minimum lot 60 by 100 feet is recommended. There are three main areas: the living-dining room and kitchen area has 540 square feet; the foyer level, including the recreation room and the mud room, has 537 square feet; the bedroom area has 1,050 square feet. The 537 square foot foyer level, the architect says can be constructed for perhaps half the cost of the remainder of the house. There are eight rooms, including four bedrooms, plus 2½ baths. There is a full basement under the living, dining, kitchen area.

The two grade levels were kept narrow and running from front to rear to create a fresh look in the exterior design. The upper level from side to side — because it overlaps only the front half of the lower level — extends as an independent, elevated wing, supported by columns.

Matern says of his plan:

"Beyond gaining interest for the exterior, this plan offers an exceedingly large amount of bedroom space for this house when compared with its small foundation size.

"If this were a regular split, the bedrooms would be located over the foyer, mudroom and recreation room — an area of about 560 square feet. No more than three normal sized bedrooms would be possible in such an area.

"Here we have 1,050 square feet of bedroom area, divided into four bedrooms plus one and a half baths and closet space — an increase of more than 490 square feet in bedroom space."

Unique, too, is the arrangement of the carport and front entrance. The whole area lies under the extended bedroom level, giving weather protection.

Up four steps from the foyer is the garden terrace, shielded on the left by a stone wall and opening into the living room through sliding glass doors.

The entrance to the house is through large double doors. The foyer floor is polished slate. The recreation room is on the same level as the foyer but it can be closed off completely by folding partitions. The living room is up 4 steps from the foyer.

When the recreation room is used for entertaining, the folding partitions may be thrown open to usher guests in; the foyer then can be used as an overflow area. Guests, too, can wander readily to the garden terrace in the rear or to the living room.

Two glass side lights flank the double entrance door to capture more natural light for the foyer. The recreation room has a tile floor on concrete to reduce cleaning chores.

A lavatory is convenient to the recreation room, outdoors, the basement and the kitchen. The living level has a chimney core which acts as a divider between the living room and the kitchen and provides a corner fireplace and barbecue.

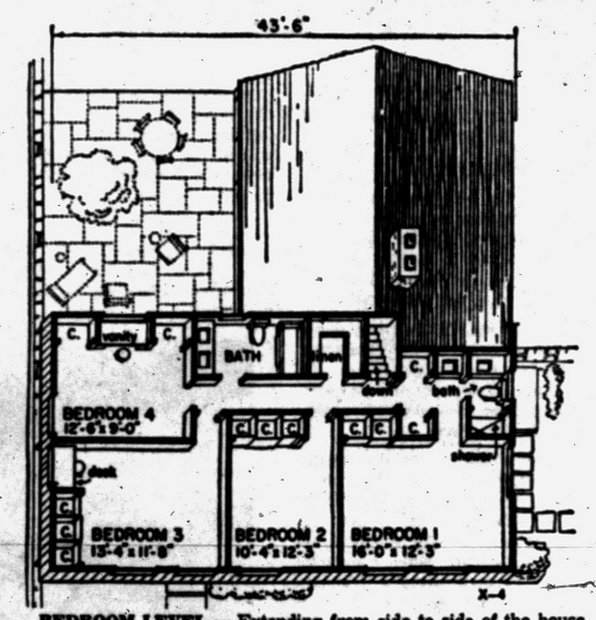

Anyone desiring a study plan of this house may obtain one by sending 35 cents in coin (no stamps accepted) to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac 12, Michigan, and asking for House of the Week Plan HW-X-4.

ALTERNATING LEVELS—This stylish house represents a new concept in multi-level design. The upper bedroom wing, shown here, extends from side to side. The lower living level runs from front to rear.

RECTANGULAR LIVING LEVEL — This level extends from front to rear of the house. The front entrance and carport lie under the extended bedroom level, giving them good weather protection. A garden terrace flanks the living room located at the rear of the house.

BEDROOM LEVEL — Extending from side to side of the house, this bedroom level overlaps the living level only at the front of the house. Four good-sized bedrooms and two baths are possible with this arrangement. Note the numerous closets.

Two-Layer Siding Self Insulating

When a truck load of aluminum siding left for St. Ignace this week, it carried a new type of exterior home covering. This new siding is made in two layers, with a spongy substance on the inside and metal on the outside.

Users of Bac-R-Foam need no insulating material under the siding. The foam substance acts as a sponge, absorbing heat and cold. It can be used to cover any outside surface. In St. Ignace it is going on log cabin motel units. Bac-R-Foam comes in white and pastel shades.

Hardened paint brushes will soften readily if you place them in hot vinegar and then wash them in warm suds.

Home Owners Now Buyers of New Homes

A growing number of builders are finding that a majority of the people buying their homes are already home owners.

This is in sharp contrast with the situation in the period immediately after World War II, and again in 1953-1954, when the majority of home buyers were making a purchase for the first time.

Two major elements contributing to the change in the type of buyer is the desire to upgrade the home and the pressure from growing families. What was adequate shelter 10 or 15 years ago may be totally inadequate for a family today.

★ ★ ★

Periods of economic uncertainty such as now sometimes have a reverse effect on the home building market. Prospective buyers, who have the ability to make a purchase, often turn to real estate as an investment less affected by economic fluctuations.

Buyers who are making their second purchase to upgrade their housing, or because of expanding families, are more conscious of built-in quality in construction.

Douglas Fir Leads List of Wood for Homes

A surprising increase in the number of single-family dwellings built of wood was registered during 1956, says the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Wood was used structurally in the exterior walls of 83 per cent of one-family homes, compared to 77 per cent just a year before.

More than half of all framing lumber used in the U. S. is Douglas fir, the tough, high stress lumber produced in the rain-drenched western half of Oregon and Washington.

Saws made of flints with serrated edges have been found in caves in North America dating back to the stone age.

Constant Care Preserves Paint

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The thousands of visitors who yearly come to Mount Vernon, the home of our first President, unanimously express their amazement in the fine preservation of the mansion's construction. Although built of wood, the building has withstood the decades. This is largely due, say the experts, to the fine coatings of paint it had in the beginning, and continue around the clock in the present time.

It is fascinating to read of how George Washington prepared his houses for painting. He had fine white sand brought all the way from Point Comfort on the Chesapeake to use in sanding his buildings. Later he experimented with ground and sifted white stone from his plantation to ascertain if it would do as well.

All through his diaries, George Washington mentions his continuous use of paint in maintaining his property. Among its painting supplies, Mount Vernon had such things as "white lead, red lead, linseed oil, turpentine, brushes, whiting, chalk, ivory black, lamp black, etc.

More of this fascinating historical story may be read in the booklet, "Armor Against Time."

PRIZE-WINNING SCHOOL — The Greenfield Elementary School in Birmingham has been selected as a Top Award Winner in the Seventh Annual Competition for Better School Design. Eberle M. Floor Becomes Focus of Room Decoration

Island rugs — round, kidney-shaped, oval, irregular curves — designed to focus conversational groupings of furniture in large rooms, are centering attention anew on beautiful floors.

This latest technique in modern furnishing calls for highly polished and softly colorful backgrounds. Smart accents in scatter rugs can be used to their most striking advantage over neutral or tone-setting floor colors.

An interior decorator is given wide latitude in developing a color composition over a floor covered, for example, in random tone cork tile or woodgrain solid vinyl. The greater depth offered in these modern floor materials over old-fashioned shellacked boards opens new opportunities for dramatizing lighting effects.

Modern decorators consider a floor as the greatest single color mass in a room and they start from there with their color schemes.

To point the ends of dowel rods, put them into the chuck of your electric drill. Form the ends against a piece of sandpaper tacked on wood held in a vise.

Quick Careful Job Essential in Lacquering

DO . . . apply a lacquer finish when you want a hard, durable surface that dries fast and therefore is not susceptible to dust during the drying process.

DO . . . if possible, apply lacquer by spraying, but when that is not practical, use a brush in broad, sweeping strokes.

DO . . . work quickly with lacquer, moving on to adjacent areas in a hurry and overlapping the previous strokes very slightly.

DO . . . know that lacquer, like most finishes, produces the finest results when it is put on in several thin coats rather than one or 2 thick ones.

★ ★ ★

DON'T . . . forget that lacquer is a highly volatile product and should be applied either outdoors or where there is plenty of ventilation indoors.

DON'T . . . in applying lacquer with either a sprayer or a brush, go back over an area that already has started to set or you will get a messy result.

DON'T . . . neglect to mix lacquer with lacquer thinner, a half-and-half mixture being about right for most purposes.

DON'T . . . sand a lacquer finish with a heavy sandpaper or a heavy touch, otherwise you will cut through the lacquer.

Louver Door Ideal for Rainwear Closet

Outdoor clothing, boots, and hats wet from rain or snow will dry out more quickly in a closet with a louver door.

★ ★ ★

Air circulating through the louvers does the drying job. It also prevents mustiness and discourages moths.

★ ★ ★

Ready-made louver doors of ponderosa pine are available from building material dealers in sizes to fit most door openings. The clear wood can be painted or stained to harmonize with any room decor.

If you want to remove decals from walls or furniture, simply paint the decals with several coats of vinegar, give the vinegar time to soak in, and then the decals will wash right off.

Questions and Answers

Q—Our old roof is in pretty bad shape and we're afraid it might start to leak at any time. But a neighbor said we'll have to wait for warmer weather to have a new roof put on. Is this true?

A—Your neighbor is wrong. A new roof of asphalt shingles can be applied successfully at any time. In fact, cold weather actually is a good time to reroof, since the work schedules of most roofing contractors aren't as heavy as they are in other seasons.

Q—My brother-in-law says our house doesn't need insulation because it has brick veneer walls. I disagree with because the walls seem to be cold on the inside. Who's right?

A—You are. Brick veneer or any other type of masonry does not prevent much heat loss. You can test this yourself by placing your hand on a concrete or cinder block basement wall in winter. It will be cold, no matter how warm the basement is. In fact, tests have shown that a 3-inch thickness of mineral wool insulation will stop more heat than nearly 6 feet of solid brick.

Q—How can I make caulking around a bathtub last longer?

A—Paint it with enamel the same color as the walls or tile above the tub. The waterproofing action of the enamel will give the caulking compound longer life.

Q—Is there a remedy for chalking plaster walls? We can't get wallpaper to stick.

A—Coat the wall with a half and half mixture of shellac and alcohol. This seals the plaster with a waterproof surface and the wallpaper will stay in place.

Q—How can I repair large cracks in a plaster ceiling?

A—It's not practical to attempt to fill the cracks, since the new plaster needs more suppport. Remove plaster on each side of the crack to a distance of about 6 inches. Place a strip of metal lath in the clearing, nail it to the old lath, and fill the opening with new plaster. Do this in thin layers, permitting each layer to dry slightly before adding a new one.

Q—Is a prime coat always necessary on new wood?

A—With rare exceptions. The type of wood, too, determines the kind of prime coat you need. If the wood is porous, the priming coat should contain enough oil to fill the pores. Resinous woods need priming coats with a high turpentine content to dissolve the resins and open the pores.

A—Twelve to 18 inches in most rooms. A 48-inch height is recommended in kitchens, laundries, and workshops.

A—Wax them. The rods will slide easier, and the blinds will collect less dust.

Q—Can a broken ladder rung be repaired?

A—Cut the rung off flush with the inside of the rails. Make two blocks of hardwood, drilling holes in them the same diameter as the new rung. Fit the rung tightly into the two blocks, and bolt or nail the whole assembly securely to the inside of the rails.

Belt Protects Wood

To drive finishing nails without leaving hammer marks and dents on the wood, try this idea from Popular Science Monthly: After driving the nail partway in, slip an old leather belt down over it, so that the nail sticks up through one of the belt holes. Now, with the belt lying on the wood, you can drive the nail down almost flush with the wood, and the leather will protect the wood in case your hammer slips. Finally, remove the belt and finish the job with a nail set.

Painting a Ceiling Easy to Do – IF!

Don't begin painting a ceiling unless you intend to finish it in one session, because you'll be risking a lap mark by doing so, even with modern paints.

★ ★ ★

Don't forget that many ceilings can be covered adequately with a single coat if all dirt and dust are first washed off.

Don't if you plan on using a roller, overlook the possible use of an extension handle that permits you to stand on the floor while working.

★ ★ ★

Don't paint the walls until the ceiling is completely finished, because it is much more difficult to paint a ceiling after the walls have been done.

DON'T . . . use latex out of doors unless the label specifically says it is suitable for exteriors.

Weather May Be Key Factor in 84th Derby Today

But Tim Tam to Be Favored Rain or Shine

Reward and Sullivan Rated Top Contenders Even in Mud

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A hand-picked field of 3-year-old horses, as finely tuned as a stradivarius, were poised today for what could be the most sensational Kentucky Derby in 84 years of running of the turf classic.

Trainers walked the stalls, watching their thoroughbred charges like a mother hen hovering over her baby chicks. Now and then they paused, looked at the skies and wondered if there could possibly be any more rain.

It didn't seem so. But after a day of bright sunshine and drying winds had made the Churchill Downs racing strip fast it started raining again yesterday. The weatherman said there would be more of the same today.

Rain, or even threats of it, could hold the crowd well under the expected 100,000 or so, since usually some 25,000 gather in the infield. Any precipitation would make it mighty uncomfortable under the open skies.

★ ★ ★

The same goes for the open seats at each end of the quarter-mile long stands. Even many of the $22.50 box seats are uncovered.

Post time for the 1¼ mile race is 4:30 p.m. It will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 4:15 to 4:45 p.m. (EST) with a 15-minute preview by the same outlet starting at 4 p.m.

The condition of the track will determine the size of the field which will parade to the post as the massed bands play "My Old Kentucky Home." Sixteen originally were entered Thursday.

In addition to Jet's Alibi, trainer Harry Trotsek said he would not start Hasty House farm's Van Trust.

★ ★ ★

However Van Trust had not been officially withdrawn late last night. They have until 45 minutes before post time to scratch.

A Dragon Killer will not go if the track is muddy. On the basis of 14 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $160,500, with a net of $116,400 to the winner.

The possibility of an "off" track didn't shake the standings of the big three—Tim Tam, Jewel's Reward and Silky Sullivan. It is Silky, the flaming Chestnut from California, who has turned this derby from a lack-lustre affair into one that promises to be as thrilling as any ever raced on these ancient grounds.

The trainers of all of the big three said "we're ready."

Loss Ends Honeymoon for Tiger

Red Sox Beat Bunning, 6-0

BOSTON (AP) — Detroit Tiger pitcher Jim Bunning's honeymoon with the Boston Red Sox has ended.

Bunning, an old Boston nemesis, collected five victories in six starts against the Red Sox last season while he was en route to a 20-game winning season.

The easy touch came to an end yesterday as the Red Sox blanked the Tigers 6-0 and gave Bunning his third straight loss. He has won only one game thus far this season.

The victory was the third for righthander Dave Sisler who scattered seven hits but still managed to blank the Tigers.

★ ★ ★

Bunning held the Red Sox to two hits until the seventh inning. He saw the game go down the drain in that inning when he gave up three runs, two of them unearned.

George Spencer replaced Bunning in the eighth and surrendered three more runs before Tom Morgan put down the rally.

Second baseman Pete Runnels led the Boston assault on Bunning, getting a double and a pair of singles which drove in two runs. His double scored Jimmy Piersall in the second and his second single counted the third run in the seventh.

★ ★ ★

The seventh and eighth were Boston's big innings.

Bunning walked Frank Malzone in the seventh. Sammy White and Piersall connected for singles to fill the bases. Malzone scored when Detroit shortstop Reno Bertoia bobbled Don Buddin's grounder and Buddin made it to first. Runnels then singled to score White.

A walk, a single by Gene Stephens, a double by Malzone and a single by Piersall accounted for the three runs off Spencer in the eighth.

★ ★ ★

The Red Sox and Tigers meet again today with Bob Shaw scheduled to pitch for Detroit and Willard Nixon.

Homer Snaps String, But Turley Wins

'Mudcat' Beats Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It looks as though Jim "Mudcat" Grant, a rookie right-hander with a fast ball, is Cleveland's No. 2 man as the Indians build a successor to the big four pitching staff of Feller, Lemon, Wynn and Garcia.

Mudcat, a 22-year-old 6-footer who is unbeaten, ranks right behind southpaw ace Herb Score at the moment after gaining his third complete game victory last night with a six-hitter that beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-1.

The kid from Lacoochee, Fla., who also springs a curve ball, leads the Injuns in complete games and tops the starters with a neat 1.85 earned run average. He couldn't have arrived at a better time, what with Score's comeback from last year's eye injury interrupted at present by a sore elbow and Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, all that remain of that once great staff, giving in to age.

★ ★ ★

The New York Yankees have the No. 1 pitcher in the American League for the present, however, with Bob Turley giving up but one run in 27 innings. Bob Cerv's eighth homer ended Turley's scoreless string at 19 innings, but the big right-hander gave up only three other hits in an 8-1 victory over Kansas City that padded the Yankees' lead to 1½ games.

Dave Sisler gained his first shutout in the majors with a six-hitter as Boston defeated Detroit 6-0, and Julio Becquer's 10th inning pinch hit single gave Washington a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

★ ★ ★

Grant walked but one and fanned three. The Orioles scored in the seventh on doubles by Gus Triandos, who had half their hits, and Bob Nieman. The Tribe handed winless Billy Loes his third defeat, scoring in the first on an error and bagging two in the seventh on Chico Carrasquel's single.

★ ★ ★

Turley, 3-0, who his 11th in 12 decisions against the A's as slumping Yogi Berra singled home two runs in a three run first against ex-Yankee Ralph Terry, who lost his first. Bill Skowron hit a two-run homer and Norm Siebern rapped a two-run double for the Yankees. Tony Kubek, playing his first game after a spring groin injury, had three hits, one an RBI single, while subbing in center for Mickey Mantle, resting a sprained foot.

★ ★ ★

Camilo Pascual won his first for the Senators, striking out 13—counting 10 in the first four frames. Sherm Lollar drove in both Sox runs and had half their six hits. Winless Dick Donovan started for Chicago, but gave way when the Nats tied it 2-all in the seventh. Reliever Gerry Staley gave up his first hit when Rocky Bridges doubled in the 10th.

Podres First With 4 Wins

Bucs String Snapped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pirates finally ran out of pitchers, and their winning streak, which ran to six and carried them to second place in the National League, has sputtered out.

★ ★ ★

After rolling along behind Bob Friend, Ron Kline, Vern Law and some surprise relief, Manager Danny Murtaugh had to turn to his rookies last night and they blew a 5-0 lead while losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-5.

Johnny Podres of the Dodgers became the first to win four games in the majors this season, with Clem Labine hurling no-hit relief after the stocky southpaw gave way with arm trouble in the sixth.

The loss plunked the Pirates to fourth, 1½ games behind, while San Francisco regained second with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs clung to a half-game lead by over-hauling the Braves 8-7. George Crowe drove in six runs for Cincinnati in a comeback 7-3 victory at St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Rookie right-handers Ben Daniels, George Perez, Curt Raydon and Ron Blackburn of the Pirates took turns getting battered by the Dodgers, who had lost three straight to the Bucs. Perez was the loser, coming on in a six-run fourth. Don Zimmer had three hits, drove in three runs and stole home for the Dodgers.

Veteran Marv Grissom saved 19-year-old Mike McCormick's first victory of the year for the Giants, fanning pinch hitter Bob Bowman and Richie Ashburn and getting Rip Repulski on an infield pop with two on in the ninth. Rookie Bob Schmidt's third home run counted the clincher in the sixth off Jack Sanford, who lost his third. Repulski drove in both Phil runs with a fly ball single and homer.

★ ★ ★

Crowe's two-run single brought the Redlegs from behind in the seventh against winless Sam Jones (0-3) and he followed with a three-run homer in the ninth. Hal Jeffcoat saved Brooks Lawrence's first victory, getting ex-Redleg Curtis Flood (just recalled from Omaha where he hit .350) to hit into a bases-loaded doubleplay that ended the game.

★ ★ ★

A pinch hit three-run homer by Jim Bolger triggered a six-run seventh for the Cubs and chased Gene Conley in his first start. Then Walt Moryn, who had started the comeback with a home run in the sixth, belted another off loser Dick Littlefield in the ninth. Don Elston won his third in relief as the Cubs, who have tagged 11 of 13 homers given up by Milwaukee, made it three straight over the Braves. Wes Covington hit a two-run homer for the Braves in his first appearance since a spring training leg injury.

Holds Two-Stroke Edge

Bolt Paces Colonial Test

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Tommy Bolt, called "thunder" and "tempestuous Tommy" because of his club throwing along the golf trail, gave the fans a picture of the "new Tommy" yesterday when he took over the lead in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

★ ★ ★

The 38-year-old Bolt waded over the water-logged 7,021-yard Colonial Country Club course in par 70—a round which he didn't think was very good—and said, "I had no urge to break a club."

His 138 for 36 holes gave him a two-stroke lead as the curtailed field started out today in the second round.

The rain and mud and water caused two players — Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Bob Rosburg of Napa, Calif.—to withdraw.

Bolt, who registers out of Paradise, Fla., and has been in the money in 11 of 12 tournaments this year, had two birdies and two bogeys, otherwise a long string of par 4s, and he negotiated the course in 30 putts.

Forlornly Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., the Masters champion who tied the course record with a 5-under-par 65 in the opening round, soared to a 77 and said the uncertainty of things—"I thought they would call the round" — caused him to play poorly. Palmer faded to 142 and a tie for fifth place.

★ ★ ★

Stan Leonard, the 43-year-old balding veteran from Vancouver, Canada, fashioned a 72 and moved into undisputed second place at 140.

Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich. was bunched in an eight-way tie at 145 today as the Colonial Golf Tournament entered its third round.

★ ★ ★

Tied for third at 141 were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who shot 69 and 73 respectively. Hawkins was one of two players able to better par. The other was Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, who had a 69.

Writers' Party Bars Chandler

Chandler and his party arrived at the affair after leaving a Kentucky Colonels dinner on the same floor of a hotel.

Host for the sports writers party was Churchill Downs. Walter Smith, an assistant public relations man at the race track, refused to admit them because their names were not on the list.

Some angry words were exchanged, but Chandler's party left.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Powdery Sand Trouble.

DIAGNOSIS: Letting Clubhead Enter Sand Too Far Behind the Ball.

TREATMENT: When you're in a trap in which the sand is loose and powdery, alter your technique a little. Bring the clubhead into contact with the sand about a half inch nearer the ball than you would for an ordinary explosion in firmer sand.

The reasoning here is that the clubhead will sink deeper into this soft sand so that you'll have more sand to have to dig out along with the ball. Otherwise, you use the same technique as for explosion shots from sand of ordinary texture.

Any sand shot —including this one — calls for a rather abrupt picking up of the club on the backswing, as opposed to sweeping the club back in a wide arc. Here's where a lot of golfers go wrong.

It'll help to remember that the best swing for playing out of the sand is a U-shaped swing. The point is try to get the ball up quickly and steeply on all sand shots.

1958 Spartans Battle Old-Timers Today

Annual Meeting Ends Spring Drills, Clinic

Daugherty Expecting Considerable Trouble With Grads

EAST LANSING—The old pros and the young undergraduates thumped heads here today in the second annual Michigan State old timer-varsity football game.

Even the threat of showers has failed to dim enthusiasm for the contest among Spartan rooters — seeking again an answer to the question of whether experienced age can beat enthusiastic youth.

The returnees managed a 20-20 tie last spring and the game gave those hungry for the return of fall and football something to chew over all summer.

"Maybe they'll beat us," said varsity coach Duffy Daugherty. "But we aren't being booby-trapped. We know those old guys can go. But they'll have to earn it," he said. "We won't be fooling around either."

★ ★ ★

The varsity probably will start with a backfield array of pro passer Al Dorow at Quarterback, Leroy Bolden and Clarence Peaks at halfback and Walt Kowalczyk at fullback.

Facing them on the offense will be Mike Panitch at quarterback, Bob Bercich and Art Johnson at halfback and Blanche Martin at fullback.

The old timers will have further backfield help from such former stars as Earl Morrall, Jim Ninowski, Billy Wells, Don McAuliffe and Lynn Chadnois.

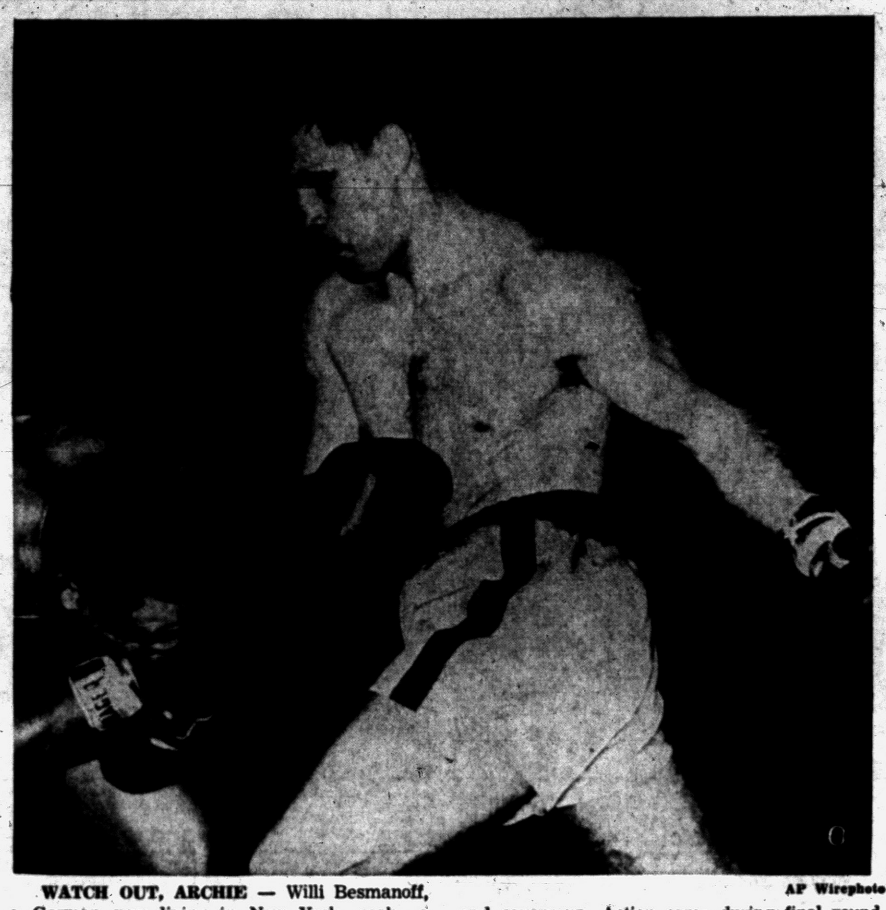

★ ★ ★

In the line will be bruisers like Dan Currie, Don Coleman, Larry Fowler and Joe Carruthers. Pass targets will be an assortment of ends including Bob Carey, Bob Jewett, Jim Hinesly, Ellis Duckett and Harold Dukes.

The pros will be allowed unlimited substitution while the varsity will play under the limitation of Big Ten rules.

The old timers have all the glamor names but the varsity, hardened by four weeks of spring practice, is expected to show better coordination and lasting ability.

Williams Gets Athlete of Year Award

BOSTON (AP) — Boston slugger Ted Williams, off to one of the poortest starts in his long career, feels it won't be long before the hits start dropping in for him.

"I feel good and I know I'll get going pretty soon," Ted said. "Those injuries have made it tough to get started, but I'll be all right."

Williams was far from downcast as he talked yesterday before receiving the one award that had eluded him for years—the trophy as the Male Athlete of the Year.

Selected by the nation's sportswriters and sportcasters in the annual Associated Press poll in 1957, the 39-year-old Red Sox outfielder was presented the Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy in a brief ceremony.

Although noted for his temperamental outbursts, Ted was at his jovial best in accepting the engraved trophy from Judge Robert G. Cannon of Milwaukee and Andre J. Jalloran of Framingham, national vice president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles which puts up the award annually.

★ ★ ★

"Say, that's some trophy," exclaimed Williams as he looked over the award which is more than two-feet tall including base.

"I was really happy when I heard I had been voted the award," he added, "I know it's a great honor."

Ted indicated he still expects another great season despite his start when he asked: "Has anyone ever won it twice?"

Told that former tennis star Don Budge and golfer Byron Nelson each had been voted athlete of the year twice, Williams said: "I duno, but I think I was second one year. I can't remember when."

★ ★ ★

Williams dominated the ballots of 214 sportswriters and sportscasters in the AP poll by winning his fifth batting title with a .388 average. He also hit 38 homers, won the league's slugging title with a .731 mark and set a record by drawing 33 intentional walks.

Milford Surprises in 'Quad' Meet

Drake Sets CMC Mark

Milford's determined track squad, minus its two top stars, Andre Lavoy (high hurdler, high jumper, broad jumper) and Bob Casper (ace sprinter) ran roughshod over three other opponents, in a quadrangular meet last night under the Milford lights. Bill Golden's squad collected 77 and 2-5 points; Clarkston 28 and 1-5; Clarenceville 18 and 2-5, and South Lyon 17.

Lavoy and Casper were dropped indefinitely, just before the meet, for disciplinary reasons.

The "Golden boys" took 10 firsts in this, their 6th straight win. They are unbeaten.

Event winners included: For Milford—George Johnstone (high hurdles), medley relay, Peder Jensen (mile), Jerry Hackett (440), Gene Schuett (low hurdles), 880 relay, tied vault (4-way), Dick Woodfill, Bill Verish (Seyler of Clark, Mitchell of Clarence.) Bob Hoyt (shot), freshman Dennis Munson (broad jump), Schuett and Hoyt tied (high jump).

Only other firsts were by South Lyon's Underhill (880) and Hinds (100-yard) Sitaire of Clarenceville (220-yard).

Cranbrook finished 6th to lead area teams in the "B" division at the Central Michigan meet, Friday. Cranes had 20 points; Lake Orion was 8th with 19. Winner was River Rouge with 47; Willow Run 2nd with 38.; Cass City 3rd with 23. Brethren repeated as Class D titlist, its 6th win.

Jim Drake of Orion set a new century mark with 10.0, to pace his team, which won the Central Relay (Van Wagoner, Shoup, Doherty and Drake), in 1:11.3. Drake was 2nd in broad jump at 21-4½.

Cranes' points came on Doug Graham's 2nd in the shot (48-2½), Gary Griekschiet's 4th in low hurdles, 2nd in mile relay (3:42.5) and 3rd in 2-mile relay (8:51.1)

Today's events include Class A and Class C. Several area "A" squads are in the field.

Elks Doubles Meet Will Close Sunday

The 2nd annual Elks Mixed Doubles tournament comes to a close Sunday evening on a day which has been proclaimed "Bill Warden's Day."

Three squads will bowl on the final day starting at 2 p.m. A 1275 posted last weekend by the veteran E. "Cap" Holliday and D. Opie stands as the score to beat for the title.

Individual leaders thus far are M. Porter (men) 696 and M. Case (women) 675.

3-Run Homer Brings Victory for Eaglets

When Tony Chojnowski belted a home run in the 3rd inning of yesterday's SCL ball game at Orchard Lake, he chased in two runs ahead of him, and clinched a 4-1 decision over St. Rita. Win was 2nd for the Eaglets and leaves both Ritas and St. Marys with a 2-1 record. Mt. Clemens St. Clements is SCL leader with 3-0. Eaglets, Rita and ROSM are tied for 2nd.

St. Mary got its other run in the 2nd frame, Ritas scoring in the 5th. Freshman Stan Krogulecki was the winning pitcher, allowed 8 hits, fanned 12. Loser was Chet Grabinski with 5 hits, including two homers.

Southern League Drops Freshmen

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Southern Conference bowed to the pressure of its larger members and the NCAA here Friday and voted overwhelmingly to make freshmen ineligible for varsity sports.

It beat down, however, an effort to prohibit conference teams from playing colleges which allow freshmen to compete.

For every sport except football, the freshman rule will go into effect July 1 this year. Freshmen will be permitted to play on conference football varsities this fall but will be barred as of July 1, 1959.

Archie Seeking Patterson Bout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Condition makes the difference.

Archie Moore was the first to say it after winning a 10-round split decision from Willie Besmanoff last night. It was Moore's 11th straight victory.

★ ★ ★

"That boy was in good condition. He gave me plenty of trouble. You know how it is when you have to jump in as a substitute," explained the 41-year-old light heavyweight champion.

★ ★ ★

The champion said he wants to put in another bid for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight crown.

"I would like to box Patterson again but I'm going along beating the heavyweights that lead to him."

★ ★ ★

Moore said if Patterson refuses to fight, he'll try to lure Sugar Ray Robinson into the ring.

"When Ray gets down to his last $100,000 maybe he'll fight me for the light heavyweight title."

He said he'll have to keep fighting another 10 years "to meet household expenses. I have a new baby, you know."

Ike OKs World Golf Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials arranging a world amateur golf tournament say plans have advanced too far to consider President Eisenhower's suggestion that duffers be allowed to play in it.

Representatives of 36 countries yesterday created the machinery for an international tournament every two years, beginning at St. Andrews, Scotland, this Oct. 8-11.

Between business meetings they paid a call on golfer Eisenhower at the White House and received warm support for their plans.

Standing near his own practice green, Eisenhower said the competition can breed nothing but good.

★ ★ ★

He added, however, that "hot shot golfers" always participate in such tournaments. He said some high handicap players ought to be included, too. Duffers are not so worried about winning, Eisenhower said, and their presence in the tournament might help alleviate tension in "this" poor old world."

Fear Deposits of Oil Threaten Naples Bay

NAPLES (INS) — The beautiful bay of Naples may be threatened by oil.

Italian geologists believe the bottom of the scenic bay, site of the Isle of Capri, may contain oil. They are not sure how extensive the deposits, if any, are.

Tourist officials in the oil-hungry country, for one, are hoping against oil. Even romantic Vesuvius would lose its charm seen through oil derricks and bathing would become impossible on Capri.

Pilot Training Costly

CHICAGO (INS) — A major U. S. airline estimates that over a 20-year period it spends $30,000 for continual training of a pilot. United Airlines said $3,000 is spent on the initial training of a new pilot.

Riviera Officials Won't Get Truce for Lady Docker

NICE, France (AP) — As long as Lady Docker says she's "at war with Prince Rainier," Riviera officials say she'll need the French government to arrange a truce.

Authorities in this Mediterranean coast pleasure spot yesterday turned down British industrialist Sir Bernard Docker's request to lift a ban to the Riviera.

★ ★ ★

Only a special order from the French Interior Ministry can change the situation unless the French Foreign Ministry makes a plea to Prince Rainier's neighboring country of Monaco, officials said.

Authorities in Monaco kicked out Sir Bernard and his temperamental blonde wife last month after charging she tore up a Monacan flag and insulted the prince. Lady Docker, famous for winning marble championships and driving around in a gold-plated Daimler automobile, was mad because her 19-year-old son hadn't been invited to a palace reception.

★ ★ ★

Under a treaty between France and Monaco, the Dockers also were banned from the French Riviera. They like to vacation here aboard their yacht, so Sir Bernard wrote the governor of the Alpes-Maritimes Department asking to be let back under a special alien residents' law.

Provincial officials claimed the law didn't apply. They forwarded Sir Bernard's letter to the Interior Ministry.

Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones Tells Oakland Clubwoman:

MSU Ranks as World-Great College

LAKE ORION — The amazing growth of Michigan State University was described yesterday by Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones at a meeting of the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Miss Jones, called "The First Lady of Oakland County" by Mrs. John Lessiter, president of the Lake Orion Women's Club, in her introductions, is a former member of the State Board of Agriculture which governs MSU.

Her topic was a timely one, for yesterday marked the ground breaking for the Oakland County Branch of MSU.

Miss Jones described how MSU, established as a land grant college to serve agricultural and vocational training needs of the state, has grown to where it now ranks with the great cultural learning institutions of the world besides carrying out its original objectives.

"The glorious part of the university's history is that culture and land was combined," she said. "This was made possible because the people of Michigan were behind it."

Conservationists Seek Owners

Dogs Slay 9 Deer in Avon

★ ★ ★

The deer were found yesterday morning, clawed and chewed to death. Fourteen of the herd survived. Other than being frightened, the remaining semi-tame animals were in good condition, according to Conservation Officer Warren Kendall.

Motorists sighted some of the dead deer lying next to the fence. They also told Kendall they saw two fairly large dogs leaving the area about daybreak.

They must have gotten into the yard through a hole somewhere in the fence, Kendall said.

The burglary was discovered about 4:30 a.m. by the manager, Pat Schooley.

The thieves also stole a company truck which they apparently used to transport the safe. An undetermined amount of endorsed checks were also in the safe.

Waterford PTA Council Issue Still Undecided

The question of whether Waterford Township units will form their own Parent-Teacher Association council, or remain as members of the Oakland County PTA, is still unanswered, after several meetings held this week.

In a vote taken at a meeting of representatives of 17 Waterford Township school PTAs, six indicated that they were in favor of a localized council.

Other delegates had no reports from their organizations and most said that their group needed more information on the matter before making a decision.

Another meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, May 26 at the high school, when district chairmen will meet with the group to again discuss the proposal.

American Cars to Get Bigger Yet

Spending More Money on '59 Models

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry is making a huge investment in 1959 model cars. The sum probably will top last year's record-smashing 1½ billion dollar new model outlay.

Out of the investment will come some of the most broadly redesigned cars in industry history. For the car makers it is a gigantic gamble that major styling and engineering changes will break through buyer resistance that has dropped sales to the lowest level in years.

Influencing each car builder is the determination to gain a greater share of over-all car sales.

The outpouring of dollars invested in the new models will be reflected in wholly new bodies, advanced engine performance — with the promise of more miles per gallon of fuel — and even more luxurious interiors.

★ ★ ★

Despite the success of foreign-built small, low-priced models, major U.S. car builders are concentrating on larger cars. General Motors and Ford are importing smaller, low-priced cars to meet the competition of foreign auto manufacturers. They have plans for building small cars and putting them on sale when they feel demand warrants it.

But their major efforts now are concentrated on conventional size cars. Some 1959 cars will be even longer, lower and wider than 1958 models. And, if industry gossip is accurate there will be more soaring fins.

One development of recent years as competition increased is that the lower priced models became more luxurious and more costly. They moved into what formerly had been known as the medium price bracket.

This led to the disappearance of the low priced field as American motorists knew it. Some industry experts say the rapid growth of the market for lower priced foreign cars is due in large measure to this fact. They say demand for the lower priced, imported cars definitely is more than a fad; that many of the small car buyers feel they cannot afford a car costing more than $2,000.

It has been said that because of higher production costs American car makers cannot build a car to compete in price with the smaller imported models. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard have such cars in their Rambler and Scotsman models, respectively.

Barring a change in plans Studebaker-Packard will have a smaller wheelbase in its line in 1959.

For the near future, however, the hottest competition will be among General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for buyer preference in all price fields embracing conventional size vehicles. Last year Ford and Chrysler took a sizable chunk of the market from General Motors.

This year, in a smaller overall market, GM has regained the ground it lost to its two major competitors.

In the most recent production computation General Motors was accounting for 55.92 per cent of output; Ford 27.26 and Chrysler 12.72. At the same point last year the standing showed GM with 46.45 per cent; Ford 30.43 and Chrysler 20.67.

In this year's retail deliveries the standings are General Motors 50.2 per cent against about 46 per cent last year; Ford 26.6 per cent against 30.11 a year ago and Chrysler 14.6 per cent against 18.80 a year ago.

★ ★ ★

At 50-plus per cent of the retail market GM is much closer to its accustomed postwar share. It obviously will strive hard to hold that percentage in 1959.

Gunfire, Explosions Rock Tense Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Volatile Haiti was under a stage of seige today as jittery authorities sought to keep the Negro republic's confused political situation from erupting into new violence.

★ ★ ★

The National Assembly granted the government emergency powers yesterday following a night of scattered gunfire and mystery explosions.

★ ★ ★

No casualties or property damage were reported. However, artillery pieces were drawn up on the grounds of the National Palace as the army was alerted and special guards posted around oil storage tanks outside Port au Prince.

Interior Minister Frederick Duvigneaud accused supporters of former Sen. Louis Dejoie, unsuccessful candidate for president last September, of touching off new violence to prejudice Haiti's economic aid talks in Washington.

Dejoie has been in hiding since Francois Duvalier was elected president. The government has offered $5,000 reward for his capture.

Compared to Boom Times

Net Profits on Decline for Most Companies

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Three out of four of the first 580 corporations to report first quarter earnings showed net profit after taxes trailing their year ago figures.

★ ★ ★

Combined the companies made $1,997,564,000 in the first three months of 1958, a 33 per cent drop from the $2,985,375,000 the same firms made in January, February and March of 1957.

Declines from a year ago were reported by 404, and 57 reported net losses, against 20 in the red last year.

This year's figures suffered from being compared to the booming early months of 1957 when many companies reported record sales and profits.

The squeeze of rising operating costs on profits showed up plainly in the final months of last year and brokers said the stock market had discounted most of the current statements some time back.

The 478 industrial firms in the current list had combined earnings of $1,515,145,000, a 36 per cent drop from the $2,379,370,000 reported by the same companies a year earlier. Declines were reported by 351.

The 48 utilities in the list showed a 6 per cent gain over a year ago. The railroads showed net income dropping 91 per cent, with only seven of the 39 showing an increase.

Among the industrials best showings were: The tobacco group, up 32 per cent; food and beverages, up 2 per cent; drugs, up 2 per cent, and office equipment, up 1.4 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The hard hit auto manufacturers and their suppliers were down 88 per cent; farm equipment off 64 per cent; steel companies down 58 per cent; airlines 51 per cent; mining and metalworking firms off 47 per cent; textile and apparel companies down 45 per cent; machinery and tools off 40 per cent; rubber companies off 33 per cent, and oil companies down 32 per cent.

Negro College Fund Given $35,000 by GM

DETROIT — A $35,000 General Motors gift to the United Negro College Fund was announced today by Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel and chairman of its committee for education grants and scholarships.

★ ★ ★

The GM grant comes at the beginning of the 1958 nationwide drive by the United Negro College Fund which provides financial aid to 33 Negro colleges in 12 states. It brings to $170,000 the amount GM thus far has given to the fund.

"We are pleased to add our support to the United Negro College Fund because we know that the 27,000 students enrolled in its member colleges will provide many of tomorrow's outstanding Negro leaders," Mr. Seaton said.

The grant was made under General Motors' expanded program of support for higher education which is now in its fourth year. Besides providing yearly grants in aid to associations of colleges, the plan, by next September will be aiding 1,600 outstanding young men and women each year studying under four-year GM scholarships in colleges of their choice.

LAKEFRONT
$59,500

The incredible truth is that this home was built by a master builder for his family in the year 1956. Overlooking one of W. Bloomfield's largest lakes. The setting is just where one might expect a lifetime roof and buff brick exterior. Wandering through, you come to a large carpeted living room, graced with a rare window wall leading onto a 30 ft. veranda overlooking the lake. As you gaze through the far end of the living room, you see a brick fireplace wall which blends through to a large window-ed dining room. As you continue through, you find 3 wonderful bedrooms 2 ceramic baths and a complete GE kitchen. Then we go below to the lake level, here we find another complete GE kitchen and 18 x 42 ft. recreation room and fireplace. 12 x 18 TV room. A birch panelled bar room. Another bedroom and a full ceramic bath. We discover Hi-Fi and indirect lighting through-out. A water softner. Gas fired base radiant hot water heat. As you walk down the flagstone to the lake, you find a wonderful beach and an automatic boat lift. You'll see complete landscaping, underground sprinkling system, floodlights front & rear, a 2 car attached plastered garage with automatic controlled doors. It is simply not possible to compare this property to others like it. Shown by appointment only!

All-Star Radio Program to Concentrate on Color

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — A producer named Dee Engelbach has rosy hopes that some purple prose and a roster of talent which should make television green with envy will result in a red letter day for network radio.

★ ★ ★

If Engelbach succeeds, you'll not only hear a two-hour special program on CBS radio Sunday when "Radio Color Roundup" comes on the air. You'll see it too—in the vivid eye of the mind, the imagination.

Engelbach has assembled himself quite a roster of talent for the variety program:

Color is the unifying theme with which Engelbach seeks to weave together this variety of entertainment. What does he mean?

"Modern life," he says, "has produced a widespread and permanent interest in color for the ordinary American. We think about pink automobiles, green refrigerators, pastel sinks, and some of us even remember the color of a sunset or a patch of daffodils.

"On 'Color Roundup' we hope to make listeners see, in their mind's eye, the colors of the things and places with which our broadcast is concerned.

"The script will be shot through with color imagery and the unifying theme will be the colors of the seasons."

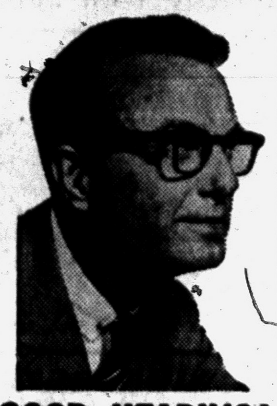

Recalling Wordsworth's line, "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky," Engelbach proposes to reverse the process: "The listener will behold a rainbow because we made his heart leap up."

Makes Hasty Retreat as Bullocks Drop In

NEWCASTLE, England (INS) — Mrs. Doris Swan answered a rap on the door and beat a hasty retreat when four wandering bullocks lumbered into her house.

Crash after crash shook the house as the bullocks trampled over furniture. The staircase was wrecked and the bannisters ripped away as three bullocks tried to go upstairs and met the fourth coming down.

When your TV set needs service, be sure you get highest quality replacement tubes and buy only the tubes necessary to restore your TV set to good operation. If you prefer to service the set yourself, have an OCEA expert technician test your tubes on high quality professional equipment. Only an experienced Service Man can correctly analyze tube troubles.
