A Space Creature?

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW RESIDENT — Pontiac's population jumped over the weekend, but the newcomers are strictly seasonal visitors. Traditional with the first major snowfall is the appearance of several dozen snowmen. Youngsters had a long wait for snow this year, but made up for it with creations like this 12-foot giant in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindgren of 27 Delaware St. The creature was put together by the Lindgren boys: Edward, 11; and James, 13.

Moscow Severs Diplomatic Ties With Albania

Staff Told to Get Out; Action Seen as Rebuke to Peiping

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has severed diplomatic ties with Albania in the biggest Communist bloc split since Stalin expelled Yugoslavia from the Cominform in 1948.

The break, disclosed in Tirana and confirmed by the Albanian Embassy here Sunday, has been expected.

The action has been foreseen since Premier Khrushchev at the October Soviet party congress denounced the Albanian leaders as Stalinist and accused them of trying to disrupt Communist unity.

Other Eastern bloc nations are expected to follow the Kremlin's lead, leaving tiny Albania supported only by Communist China and perhaps North Viet Nam and North Korea.

A spokesman for the Albanian Embassy said the Albanian ambassador went home several weeks ago. He said the rupture in relations came several days ago.

The Albanian news agency Ata said an exchange of notes beginning Nov. 25 concluded with one

Saturday announcing the withdrawal of the Soviet embassy and commercial staff from Tirana. Ata said this note also demanded that Albanian personnel get out of Moscow.

By diplomatic accounts, the trouble between the two countries exploded in an angry exchange between Khrushchev and Albanian Communist chief Enver Hoxha at the Moscow conference of world Communist leaders in November 1960.

Albania boycotted the Soviet Communist party congress this fall at which Khrushchev attacked Albania and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in turn criticized Khrushchev for airing the dispute instead of trying to settle it privately.

President Tshombe Up in Arms

'U.N. Wants to Ruin Katanga's Economy'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations declared today Katanga forces led by French mercenaries have acquired enough dynamite to put into effect a last ditch plan to blow up the installations of Union Miniere, the giant mining company in the province.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe declared today the United Nations' aim in current fighting is to reduce considerably if not to destroy "the economic potential of my country." He said Katanga's secession from the Congo was not the target.

After a weekend of air raids and counter raids, Tshombe said Katanga's communications have been largely cut by U.N. attacks on the postoffice and radio transmitters and the most important and modern copper factories in Kolwezi have been heavily damaged.

Tshombe told newsmen he lacked full information on casualties, but said several railway workers were hit by a raid on the railway station.

"This day will be marked with a white stone by the capitalist bourgeoisie to mark the story of its decadence," he declared. "For us and our African brothers this day will be marked with a black stone."

Aside from damage to Kolwezi installations of the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga—a $400 million Belgian-British company that processes copper and cobalt—diesel oil and water tanks were hit and the town was left without fuel, Tshombe added.

(The Brussels radio quoted Tshombe as saying the United Nations destroyed the installations at Kolwezi and also the company's

Two Katanga planes, a light Piper and a Dornier, attacked the U.N.-held Elisabethville airport in the night. Flares fired by Katanga troops ringing the field helped to outline the target. U.N. sources said, however, the damage was slight and there were no casualties.

The Tshombe government acknowledged a U.N. aerial attack on Camp Tshombe—the main military center in Elisabethville. It said two Swedish jet fighters fired rockets in two runs over the camp and then a Canberra bomber of the Indian Air Force attacked with 20mm. cannon. U.N. sources said the prime target was a mortar battery holding up a U.N. advance on a strategic underpass.

Katanga hospital authorities said the U.N. military had warned them that approaches to U.N. positions on the main road leading out of Elisabethville to the airport were going to be mined and ambulances should not enter that area.

Newsmen denied that U.N. planes had attacked the Elisabethville post office Sunday, as was reported by a telephone operator in the Elisabethville exchange. Evidently the operator had been warned a U.N. bomber was overhead and took this to mean the place was under attack.

The Brussels, Belgium, radio quoted Katanga President Moishe Tshombe as saying the United Nations had destroyed both the Kolwezi plant and the Lulilu plant of the Union Miniere Co., a Belgian-British concern whose copper and cobalt is the economic mainstay of his secessionist province. Brussels headquarters of the company lacked confirmation.

British Hold Up on U.N. Bombs

Clearer Explanation of Congo Policies Sought Before Delivery

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today it will not deliver the 24 half-ton bombs it promised to U.N. forces in Katanga, the Congo, until the United Nations explained its Congo policies more clearly.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons by Edward Heath, lord privy seal and deputy foreign minister, in a stormy session on the Katanga flare-up.

Heath stressed that Britain supports the general U.N. objective of conciliating rival Congo factions and removing foreign mercenaries from the forces of President Moise Tshombe. But he said the British government is now "seriously disturbed by the way the fighting has developed."

The British offered the bombs to the U.N. forces last week but stipulated that they would have to be used only for defense. Sharp questions arose here and in the Congo as to how air bombs could be used for defense.

ALL-WEATHER PROTECTION — Neither snow nor sleet will keep Pontiac policemen from catching up with parking meter violators this winter. Patrolman Leland L. They were delivered Friday, the day before the first heavy snowfall of the season hit Pontiac.

Car Rams Tree Bringing Death to 2 City Men

Slippery Roads After First Snowfall Cause Most Accidents

Five persons, including two from Pontiac, were fatally injured in area traffic accidents yesterday after the first heavy snowfall of the season hit Southeastern Michigan over the weekend.

Most of the deaths, according to police, were attributed to the slippery roads and poor driving conditions caused by the several inches of snow that was dumped on the area.

The two Pontiac men, James S. Thompson, 32, 1919 Opdyke Road, and Damon Spence, 28, 794 Parkwood Ave., died after the car in which they were riding went out of control and crashed into a tree.

Three other persons were seriously injured in the same accident which occured at about 12:30 a.m. yesterday on Mount Clemens Street in the city.

Thompson died at 2:03 a.m. in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital while Spence was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver of the car, Grady Ashley, 32, 3780 Bald Mountain Road, Orion Township, told police he could not remember what happened just before the car skidded off the street and hit the tree.

Thompson's wife Rachel was released after treatment at Pontiac General. Ashley's condition is listed as satisfactory.

Also killed in area traffic accidents were Floyd Wolfgan, 58, of 313 Girard St., Madison Heights; Mrs. Lillian Hazelton, 84, of 8195 MacKay Court, Utica; and Bessie Sanford, 63, of Flint.

ATTEMPTED TO PASS

Madison Heights police said that Valko, traveling north on John R attempted to pass another car, driven by Richard L. Reid, 33, of 449 N. Eton Road, Birmingham, when the accident occurred just north of 13-Mile Road.

Reid told police that Wolfgan, heading south on John R was driving without lights. The accident happened about 2:40 a.m. Valko said all he remembers is he started to pass a car and there was no other car heading in his direction.

Reid's car also was involved in the accident but he was not injured.

Mrs. Hazelton died yesterday in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, about six hours after the car in which she was a passenger collided with a wrecker truck that had stopped near the shoulder of M59 to give assistance to a stalled automobile.

The accident occurred about 2 p.m. about a half-mile west of Van Dyke.

Man Rates More Than Shirt, Tie

By JANET ODELL

You can't just buy him a new tie and a shirt. That man in your life should have the same careful thought expended on his gift as anyone else.

Maybe some men are chatty about what they want; we don't encounter that kind. But we have run across some interesting gifts for the male individual on your list.

If his ties are hung all over the closet — or on the door knobs, buy him a tie rack that looks like a golf club with hooks on it.

When the children want to know what to give Daddy, suggest a five-way grooming set that includes a defiater, comb, shoehorn, nail file and clipper. Another item for good grooming is a clothes brush. This year you see them attached to animals carved from olive wood.

For someone on your list who has just become a trailerite, a mobile home park directory is a welcome gift. So is the newest road atlas.

SWEATERS SHARP

Sweaters this year are the handsomest ever. Even if he has a pullover and a cardigan, he might like a colorful bulky sweater. Or, if he comes home each evening and sheds his suit coat, a finely knit wool lounging sweater jacket would please him.

★ ★ ★

You know his hobbies; cater to them. Perhaps he is longing for a certain record he feels is too expensive to buy himself. Surprise him with it Christmas morning.

One of the most useful gadgets we have run across could be a lifesaver for the motorist. It's a slim red metal kit that opens up to show a double reflector in the center. There's a holder on one side for a red flag.

Kept in the car trunk, it can be set out on the side of the road immediately if the car has to stop for emergencies. It's visible both day and night.

Things Look Good for Kids – Not Drivers

Pontiac area residents can expect snow beginning tonight, continuing Tuesday, the weatherman says.

Following a low of 28 tonight the mercury will rise slightly to a cool 35 high tomorrow.

Temperatures will average 6 degrees below the normal high of 36 and the normal low of 23 during the next five days.

Colder temperatures are forecast Wednesday and Thursday, with warmer weather Friday and again colder Saturday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau report.

Precipitation will average five tenths of an inch as snow Tuesday, Wednesday and again about Saturday.

Westerly winds 8 to 15 miles today will become southeasterly 10 to 20 miles tonight.

★ ★ ★

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. today was 26 degrees at 5 o'clock. By 2 p.m. the mercury reading was 33.

Flies Stolen Plane; Almost Rams Jet

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A young Texan, determined to commit suicide, stole a light plane and flew away in a dense fog Sunday. The plane almost collided with a jet airliner over Dallas.

Police said David Mitchell, 20, took the plane after an argument with his wife. Although he had received only four hours flight instruction — three years ago—Mitchell pulled the single-engine plane out of a spin and landed twice without serious mishap.

"I came to my senses in the cold air and decided not to do anything drastic," Mitchell told a reporter. "Before, I wanted to kill myself."

Negro 'Sit-In' Convictions Overturned by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court overturned today conviction of 16 Negroes who by sit-in demonstrations tried to end lunch counter segregation in Baton Rouge, La.

The ruling was given in the first sit-in cases to reach the high tribunal. There have been many such demonstrations in the South.

Chief Justice Warren delivered the unanimous decision.

Warren said that while the arrested persons had raised broad constitutional questions in their appeals, the court found it unnecessary to decide the wide issues.

Instead, said Warren, the court bases its decision on the ground that the convictions "are so totally devoid of evidenciary support as to render them unconstitutional under the due process clause of the 14th Amendment."

The 16 Negroes, all students of Southern University in Baton Rouge, were convicted under a Louisiana law making it a breach of the peace to "act in such a manner as to unreasonably disturb or alarm the public."

Each was sentenced to four months in prison, with three months to be suspended on payment of $100 fines.

In three appeals, the Negroes asked a final ruling that their

Two Royal Oak Girls Claim Suspects Forced Them Into Car

Two 13-year-old girls told police they were taken on a wild, four-hour ride through Eastern Oakland County last night by three men who kidnaped them in Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Minutes after the girls reported the incident, three men they identified as their abductors were arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Roland Pless at Opdyke Road and Walton Boulevard in Pontiac Township.

Being held for investigation of kidnaping are Thomas A. Butts, 21, and Richard C. Hanson, 26, both of Detroit, and Walter Merenuk, 35, of 1737 Cambridge Ave., Berkley.

The two Royal Oak girls, Nancy Seeman, 1210 Irving Ct., and Bonnie Knight, 204 E. Harrison St., said they were on their way home from the Washington Theater in Royal Oak when two of the men forced them into a car.

HELD CAPTIVE

The girls told police they were held captive while their two captors picked up a third man and drove around Royal Oak. They said the men stopped twice to buy beer and later cruised through Rochester, Utica and Lake Orion.

While being held prisoners, both girls said they were threatened and struck several times by the two men. Neither girl was seriously injured and there was no evidence of them being criminally assaulted, according to police.

The girls said they escaped at about 9:30 p.m. when all three men stopped to have a drink at the Bo-Inn Bar, 1132 S. Lapeer Road, Orion Township. They called police from a phone booth at Clarkston and South Lapeer Road.

★ ★ ★

The girls gave Sheriff's deputies the license number and description of the car and it was stopped at Opdyke Road and Walton Boulevard with the three suspects inside.

His Sentence Can Be Death

Israel Convicts Adolf Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel convicted Adolf Eichmann of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jews and said his role in the Nazi program would be remembered "until the end of time."

The special three-man tribunal, which for four months tried the 55-year-old Gestapo lieutenant colonel, handed down its judgment today, a judgment which may bring him death on the gallows.

In a 300-page judgment which they began reading aloud in turn, the three judges determined that Eichmann was proved to be such an important cog in Hitler's machinery for destroying the Jews that he merited conviction on these major counts:

1. Crimes against the Jews.
2. Crimes against humanity.
3. War crimes.
4. Membership in the criminal Nazi SS Elite Guard and SD security police organizations.

Reading the verdict, with all its elaboration of the legal reasoning, will require several days. Sentencing is expected by Friday.

In his bullet-proof, glass-enclosed cage, Eichmann took the first blow of conviction on the major charges with aplomb. Through his hornrimmed spectacles, he fixed a steady stare on the judges.

★ ★ ★

The court delivered an exhaustive study of the "iniquities" of the Nazi Reich and said it later would describe in detail the role Eichmann played as chief of the Gestapo's Bureau for Jewish Affairs, the man who shipped millions to their death in the extermination camps.

The tribunal, headed by Justice Moshe Landau, went to considerable length to justify its right to try Eichmann.

CASE IN VERMONT

Regarding Eichmann's complaint that he was kidnaped, the court described at length a case in Vermont in 1935 in which a man complained he was seized in Canada and brought to justice in the United States.

The Vermont Supreme Court ruled that the method of bringing the man there was unimportant. That, in effect, was what the Israeli tribunal decided in Eichmann's case.

Eichmann had argued that he was only an underling who carried out orders. But the court said: "The laws of humanity are binding on individuals. The guilt of Germany as a state does not detract one iota from the personal responsibility of the accused."

The packed courtroom was deathly silent as the verdict of guilty was pronounced. Many of the 600 spectators had relatives who were victims of the Nazi pogrom were themselves survivors of the death camps.

There was not a sigh or a ripple at the abrupt one-sentence verdict which Judge Landau spoke rapidly before beginning to outline the court's detailed reasoning.

The reading of the judgment

Dominicans End Strike Despite Failure of Talks

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominicans went back to work today despite collapse of negotiations for a unity government and opposition cries that the nation was headed toward another dictatorship.

★ ★ ★

Businesses opened and there was no sign workers were ready to resume the general strike that paralyzed the Dominican Republic for 12 days in the opposition effort to unseat President Joaquin. Workers already have lost considerable wages and Christmas is drawing near.

TALKS BREAK DOWN

The opposition ended the general strike Saturday after the government and its political foes reported agreement in principle on a provisional government to rule until new elections were held.

★ ★ ★

But the talks broke down Sunday. Balaguer announced the negotiators were deadlocked because government officials and armed forces leaders objected to demands that he be replaced by someone agreeable to the opposition.

'EDGE OF DISASTER'

After the breakup, one opposition spokesman declared "We are on the edge of disaster." Another said the nation faced the fate of Cubans under Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

Calling Balaguer a remnant of the old Trujillo dictatorship, the opposition groups said the Dominican people never will accept him as their ruler.

★ ★ ★

Balaguer resumed his program of trying to pacify the people. In one move, his government bought 177 taxicabs from private companies and gave them to the drivers.

He also signed a decree stripping Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., son of the generalssimo assassinated last May, of his general's commission. Trujillo left for France at the height of last month's crisis.

WORK ON VOTE LAW

Congress was at work on a new election law to govern general elections now scheduled for next May. Balaguer said the law is patterned after recommendations made by a subcommittee of the Organization of American States on a recent visit.

The opposition is against elections in May, saying they would be controlled by the military. Balaguer replied he is willing to allow OAS teams to supervise and control the elections.

★ ★ ★

Also in fair condition at the same hospital are Lyle Rosso, 21, of 7700 Smiley Drive, Utica, driver of the wrecker, and Christopher Pace, 29, of 43149 Lira St., Utica, driver of the car Rosso had stopped to assist.

RED FLASHER ON

Utica Police said Rosso had pulled off M59 behind Pace's car with his red flasher on to give Pace gasoline. The two men were standing between the vehicles pouring gas when Bunting's car smashed into the wrecker.

Pace had both legs broken and Rosso sustained one broken leg. Mrs. Hazelton was thrown through the windshield from the impact.

Police are still investigating the accident.

Mrs. Sanford was killed yesterday when the car she was riding attempted to turn and was struck broadside by an oncoming auto in Imlay Township, Lapeer County.

The driver of the car, Marie C. Proctor, 61 and another passenger, Eva Hoffman, 42, both of Flint, are in good condition in the Lapeer County General Hospital.

Her 15-year-old son, Robert, was driving the car when it hit the Proctor car.

Lapeer County Sheriff deputies said Mrs. Proctor attempted a left turn off Van Dyke when the youth, who was driving with a driver's education permit, smashed into the side of her car.

The accident occurred at 11 a.m. about a half mile west of Weyer Road. Deputies are still investigating.

The Day in Birmingham

University Women Plan Yule Festival

BIRMINGHAM — A Christmas festival will be presented Wednesday by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women at the Community House.

The program, which will follow a 12:30 p.m. luncheon, will be opened by Robert Bates, organist and music director of Christ Church Cranbrook.

This will be followed by several selections by Mrs. Howard Berg, soprano.

An original story by AAUW's Mrs. Walter G. Patton will be narrated and pantomimed using taped sound effects and musical background.

Mrs. William Milligan will direct a play entitled "Keep It All The Year," whose cast includes Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Kenneth Kesler, Mrs. Donald Howarth, Mrs. George Mosher, Mrs. Arthur B. McWood, Mrs. William Jackson and Mrs. Robert Henry.

Audience participation in a carol sing, led by Mrs. Howard Green, will close the program.

The children's choir and the youth groups of the Congregational Church of Birmingham have completed their plans for their annual Christmas caroling.

The Pilgrim Choir will go caroling at William Beaumont Hospital Dec. 17 at 5:30 p.m.

The Junior High Fellowship will go caroling to the homes of church members the evening of Dec. 22. The group will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Following the caroling there will be an open house for the Junior High group at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Mead M. Bailey.

★ ★ ★

The Freshman Fellowship and the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship will go caroling to the homes of church members Dec. 23, meeting 7 p.m. at the church for transportation.

George W. Hain

Service for George W. Hain, 41, of 900 Brookwood Lane, was to have been 11 a.m. today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Formerly general sales manager of Lyon, Inc., Detroit, Mr. Hain died Friday of a heart attack at Highland Park General Hospital. He served as a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

But Kommunist, the party central committee's monthly magazine accepted as a Red bible, violently denounced Albania's leaders and asserted the "imperialists" were waiting to welcome Premier Enver Hoxha into their ranks.

The break deprives the Soviet Union of advanced strategic bases on the Adriatic at the edge of the Mediterranean from which scores of Soviet submarines had been reported operating. However, they are believed to have left the Albanian bases some weeks ago.

Albania, a poor country, is faced with the loss of all Eastern bloc economic aid and must now turn to Red China.

At Munich, Germany, Radio Free Europe's East bloc experts said they saw the break as a Soviet attempt to force Peiping into withdrawing support from Albania or else assuming responsibility for "declaring the open split in the (Communist) camp which is now perilously close."

Auto Pioneer Is Dead at 89

Louic G. Hupp Aided in Production of Famed Hupmobile, Other Cars

Automobile pioneer Louis G. Hupp of Bloomfield Hills died yesterday following a long illness.

Hupp, 89, of 75 Devon Road, was associated with his brother, Robert C. Hupp, in production of several early cars, including the Hupmobile and the R.C.H. Robert died in 1931.

Shake-Up Story Denied by Dems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House threw down today reports of an impending shake-up that would replace John Bailey as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Some reports also had it that the Democratic national treasurer, Matthew H. McCloskey is stepping out after seven years of presiding at the party till.

Word got into print over the weekend that Lawrence F. O'Brien, special assistant to President Kennedy and his trouble shooter on Capitol Hill, would succeed Bailey.

Another version was that he would replace McCloskey.

A White House official, in a position to know, said the stories of an impending shake-up along these lines were "totally inaccurate and based on pure speculation without consultation of anyone in the White House."

SAME STORY

"The President intends to lean heavily on John Bailey, Matt McCloskey and Larry O'Brien during the next year—in their present capacities."

McCloskey reportedly has felt for some time that seven years as treasurer of the Democratic party is enough and a younger man ought to take over. The Pittsburgh Post Gazette said McCloskey was going to give up the treasurer's post on his own initiative and that there was a possibility O'Brien might succeed him.

Bailey was out of town and unavailable immediately for comment.

U.N. Is Broke, Says U Thant

Says Year-End Deficit to Reach $107.5 Million; Calls for Action

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations is broke and heading for bankruptcy, acting Secretary General U Thant announced today.

He estimated the U. N. year-end deficit in 20 days will total $107.5 million and that by next June 30 it will be around the $170 million, with only $40 million collections in sight for the first six months of 1962.

Thant told the assembly budgetary committee in a personal appearance "It is imperative that the General Assembly take appropriate action to establish financial responsibility and resources . . . seriously and soon."

Noting that there are $86 million assessments outstanding, Thant said "The situation requires that all member countries assist in providing long-range financing, accompanying pledges of good will with support."

Thant did not detail to the committee his plan for a $200-million dollar bond issue with a 25-year maturity at 2 per cent interest. The bonds would be sold to governments and central banks.

will continue through today and Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner—who prosecuted the case, presented tons of captured documents and 112 witnesses—will then advise the court on the penalty.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius of West Germany, will make his final plea and Eichmann will be allowed to speak in his own behalf.

The court rejected Eichmann's defense plea that Israel had no right to try him for crimes committed elsewhere and under a law passed years after the crimes.

BEST TRADITION

"The court finds the law in the best tradition of international law," the judgment found. The court said international crimes were tried as far back as the Middle Ages in areas where the guilty were caught. Piracy cases were so conducted on the theory that "all mankind must declare war against" such violations. The Israeli judges said this reasoning applies to Eichmann as well.

"A person guilty of piracy has placed himself beyond the protection of any state," the court said.

Eichmann, as chief of the Gestapo's bureau for Jewish affairs, was no better than a pirate, the tribunal concluded.

It was Eichmann's job to round up the Jews, arrange transport to the death camps and see that the human cargo was delivered. Out of that master Nazi plan to wipe out the Jewish race, six million died, more than half of all of Europe's Jewish population.

If Eichmann is sentenced to death, his counsel can appeal to the state Supreme Court. If the high court rejects the appeal, Eichmann can ask clemency from President Izhak Ben-Zvi.

Supreme Court Rules Loyalty Oath Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled invalid today Florida's loyalty oath as applied to teachers in public schools.

The ruling was given on an appeal by David Walton Cramp Jr., a teacher in Orange County, Fla., for nine years. He lost his job for refusing to take the oath.

TEACHER'S OBJECTION

Cramp said he was not a Communist or a member of any organization believing in violent overthrow of government. His refusal to take the loyalty oath was based on the belief it violated constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, thought and association; also the guarantees of due process and equal protection of law.

★ ★ ★

The Florida law requires all public employes to swear they are not Communists and not members of organizations which teach violent overthrow of government. The law calls for immediate discharge of any public employe who refuses to take the oath.

3 Persons Injured as Train Is Derailed

NEW ROCKFORD, N.D. (AP) — The Great Northern Railway's Empire Builder passenger train derailed near Selz, N.D., today, with 11 cars reported off the tracks.

Railroad officials in St. Paul said three persons suffered minor injuries.

Passengers on the 13-car train were taken to a nearby school and church for shelter from the 8-below-zero cold.

The engine and two forward cars remained on the tracks after the Seattle-bound train derailed about 8 a.m. It was running about 2 hours and 40 minutes late out of Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Boy Admits Involvement in Killing, Police Report

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a 15-year-old boy told them he and three other youths killed an elderly widow who ran a tiny candy store in her home because their first planned robbery target was too big.

"The guy was too big," Arthur Elmore, 15, was quoted as telling Detective Lt. Edward Jocque. "We decided not to tackle him."

Jocque said the man ran a beer store. He said the boys—Arthur and Larry Nietupski, Roger Brienister and James Mullen, all 14—planned the beer store robbery Tuesday.

"Larry was going to grab him and I was going to stab him," Jocque quoted Elmore as saying. However, Jocque said, after the boys saw the size of the man they decided to rob Mrs. Lillian Ficht, 80.

OBJECTION OVERRULED

Jocque quoted Arthur as saying he objected to robbing Mrs. Ficht because he lived only a few doors away and knew her well, but was overruled.

The detective said the four entered her tiny living room store and bought cigarets.

He quoted Arthur as saying, "Larry grabbed her and said 'stab her' and I struck at her once. I don't know if it went in. I struck again. I felt the knife go in. Larry let her go and she started to scream."

With that, Arthur said, the four fled, taking no money.

Police said Roger told his parents and went to the police station, then implicated the others.

All were held for investigation of murder. Police said they would ask waivers today so that they may be tried as adults.

Officers Break Up Still

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) — Federal, state and city officers broke into a building here Saturday night and arrested Howard Moore, 55. Police said they found an illegal still in operation. They confiscated 95 gallons of mash and 2 gallons of whisky.

CHA Plans to End Drive This Friday

DETROIT (AP)—A drive to persuade 150,000 Detroit area auto workers to change their health insurance from Blue Cross-Blue Shield to Community Health Association (CHA) ends Friday.

CHA is backed by the United Auto Workers Union.

The two-week "re-enrollment drive" is CHA's first community-wide effort to challenge Blue Cross-Blue Shield since the association was formed in 1936. CHA now has 8,000 members.

A UAW request to let union members decide between the two programs was granted by Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. during contract negotiations earlier this year.

Tiny Rocket Engine Developed for Satellites

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A thumb-sized rocket engine capable of running all day on a gallon of fuel has been developed to help satellites jockey for position in space.

The engine is so tiny that it must be fed through a hypodermic needle, according to Aerojet-General Corp., its developer. It can deliver from 1-100th to 1-10th pound of thrust and is designed to change or maintain the attitudes of orbiting satellites.

Santa's Pack Has More for Everyone This Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Santa Claus is packing his bag this year with the widest choice of play activity ever offered to everybody from toddlers and teen-agers to oldsters who are young at heart.

In keeping with the times, science has inspired much of toyland's output for this Yuletide season, according to the Toy Guidance Council.

And look for mom to show plenty of interest in new toys which reproduce in minute detail the latest trend in elegant home furnishings and landscaping.

But along with the modern trend, one old standby is as strong as ever this Christmas.

OLD WILD WEST

Side by side with replicas of the latest missiles and of submarines run by atomic energy is one of the largest selections of Wild West-inspired toys and accessories ever assembled.

Science toys are accompanied by manuals that suggest a university catalogue. Most ingenious of the new ideas in this department, according to Melvin Freud, president of the Toy Guidance Council, is a series which reproduces famous inventions of the past and integrates them with significant developments in science today.

All very educational and they include the first steam turbine engine, Alexander Graham Bell's telephone and Edison's electric light.

New, too, are kits which reproduce the manufacture of all kinds of plastics, and electronics provide the inspiration for dozens of playroom projects that help junior and sis train for scientific careers.

The Wild West continues a favored form of imaginative play with 1961 children who take earth orbiting satellites as a matter of course.

True replicas of frontier shooting irons are tops with junior range riders, whether the guns shoot cork balls, soft plastic bullets, BBs or just boom and smoke without benefit of ammo.

An ingenious addition to Wild West fun is a new Stagecoach Strong Box with a secret shooting lock.

A concealed cap pistol booms and the Strong Box protrudes a warning muzzle if an interloper tries to turn the key. The owner, of course, knows how to open it without such consequences.

★ ★ ★

Catering to youngsters' love of authentic road building equipment is a heavy, steel gauge version of the mobile crane which reproduces all the fine operating points with live action for the first time, the Toy Guidance Council reports.

Author-Adventurer Dead

Deputy Sheriff Bit by 'Police' Canine

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Lester Hampton might be excused for being less than enthusiastic about an offer of a Doberman pinscher to be used in police work.

★ ★ ★

A woman came to the office with the dog, which she said had been trained for police work, and explained that Sheriff John E. Steel had expressed interest.

Hampton reached down to pet the dog. It bit him. Six stitches were needed to close the wound in the deputy's right wrist.

Most Motorists Eat Little Food on Ohio Turnpike

BEREA, Ohio (UPI)—An army may travel on its stomach but a survey shows travelers on the Ohio Turnpike do not.

The turnpike officials studied 4,000 guest checks representing the eating habits of 9,330 motorists on the 24-mile highway across Northern Ohio.

The survey showed that 22 per cent of the customers stopping at restaurants along the toll road ordered a beverage only.

Fourteen per cent had a beverage and dessert, 24 per cent ordered sandwiches, 12 per cent had breakfast, 19 per cent ate meals or plate lunches, and 8 per cent bought miscellaneous items, such as salads.

About 24 per cent of the checks were for 25 cents or less, 75 per cent were less than $1 and less than 1 per cent were for more than $2.

Lights Reduce Mishaps

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Good street lighting can reduce night injury accidents by 30 per cent, J. M. Waldram, of the General Electric Central Research Laboratory, Wembley, England, told the Illuminating Engineering Society here recently.

Stevenson Will Remain Ambassador to U.N.

ADLAI STEVENSON has decided that he will not run for the United States Senate.

★ ★ ★

President KENNEDY urged him strongly to remain where he is as he has been creating a fine record for his country and has been of inestimable value to the White House in his role of Ambassador to the United Nations.

STEVENSON

★ ★ ★

Adlai Stevenson always has been regarded as a keen man in a debate and a ready fellow with a well-turned phrase. In his current calling, this flair for formal and informal speech has reached new heights. Repeatedly, when the Russian contingent begins arm waving and desk pounding, the U.N. delegation sits back and waits for Adlai Stevenson to put out the fire and push the messy Reds back in their proper place.

★ ★ ★

He has "reoriented" the bullies of bluster many, many times. After some of their more furious outbursts, it is usually STEVENSON that punctures their trial balloons on all sides and then in the middle for good measure.

★ ★ ★

He would have faced a formidable opponent in Senator EVERETT DIRKSEN for the Illinois nomination. The current occupant has been entrenched in state politics for an extended period of time and could stand up under a lot of hammering.

★ ★ ★

Had Adlai elected to try for the Senate—and had he been successful—he would have stood right beside the door pointing to the Democratic nomination for the Presidency when Kennedy leaves. Of course, there's nothing to prevent him from knocking on that same tempting portal from his U.N. position. In fact, Henry Cabot Lodge did precisely that very thing. Still, the Senate would have undeniably given him a greater "in." He knows this and he was well-aware of it when he declined the invitation to consider himself a Senatorial candidate.

★ ★ ★

The President has given him such an unequivocal endorsement he can return to his duties at the United Nations with renewed vigor and with the assurance that he has the complete support of the Nation's Chief Executive Officer.

Director of Art Exhibits Faces Tough Decision

It was she, you know, who discovered a painting by MATISSE had been exhibited wrong-side up in the Museum of Modern Art for 47 days.

But our sympathy goes to the director of the exhibitions.

Daily he must decide whether the red blob is supposed to go on the left, whether the unattached eyeball was intended to jump out from beneath the orange or over the moon, and whether the molten watch was supposed to drip toward the desert or be pulled upward by the symbolic purple train whistle.

★ ★ ★

Maybe the artist was standing on his head when he painted it. Maybe he expresses his nonconformity by signing his name in the wrong corner—upside down.

Rambler Goes Abroad

GEORGE ROMNEY'S American Motors has decided that European auto circles need a bit of their own medicine. AMC and Renault will cooperate to produce a Rambler model on the continent.

★ ★ ★

The foreign auto makers came to this country and sold well when American manufacturers delayed too long in meeting the demand for smaller cars.

Now AMC officials feel there is a demand in Europe for bigger cars than the native versions. This is where the Rambler model will come in, they hope.

★ ★ ★

If the Rambler does as well in Europe as the European cars did here, AMC stockholders will be chortling over their profits.

Toughness!---on the Installment Plan!

Kennedy Proves He's Antibusiness

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may wonder at times why his administration is so frequently referred to as "antibusiness." He need wonder no longer.

For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so.

LAWRENCE

Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages — and even strikes — were justified if based on "productivity."

Now most businessmen know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economists to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment.

Theoretically some of the economies due to better machinery should be divided three ways — to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages.

But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

A TURNING POINT

The President's failure to keep his promise to the NAM and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Kennedy's political fortunes.

Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States.

A serious maladjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year could retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severly to the businessmen at the NAM about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions.

Here is what he said to the NAM convention:

"Labor, too, has its responsibility for price stability, and I shall stress this in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do.

He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management.

And Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention said this:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York "Times" editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest?

When, morover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud?

A president some day who learns how to get across the doctrine that in America "There is enough for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed" could find himself an easy winner of re-election.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

There Are Ways to Stop Pinworm Infection Return

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Pinworm is the worm infestation of childhood which occurs most frequently. Many mothers who write to me seem to think that its presence in their household is a reflection on the care they give their youngsters and their home.

Others regard it as a drain on the child's health and attribute to it almost every complaint that puts in an appearance, such as rings under the eyes, sallow complexion, listlessness and backwardness in school.

Let me try to deal with these disturbing problems in a single package:

The presence of pinworm is no reflection on the conscientiousness or capabilities of the housewife.

Except for itching and the resultant effect of restlessness and scratching, pinworm infestation is of no consequence to the affected youngster.

Several safe and effective drugs are available to rid the child of pinworms. For obvious reasons, I cannot give the names of these drugs nor instruction for their use. Every effective drug has side reactions:

TOXIC EFFECTS

It also has toxic effects if given or taken in excessive dosage. Hence both the particular drug and the particular dose must be suited to the individual who is to take the drug according to specific instructions.

They merely rid you of your unwelcome tenants in the same way you get rid of dust and dirt when you do housecleaning. And, like dust and dirt, they return.

The prevention of reinfection is primarily your job. And here's how you go about it: (1) under your doctor's direction, give the worm medicine to every member of the household whose specimen contains worms or eggs and to every domestic pet you permit to share your home; (2) scrub the toilet seat with any strong household disinfectant; (3) until you get an "all clear" from your doctor, trim the nails of all the infested until they're too short to pick up the eggs when they scratch and (4) keep the youngsters in snug sleeping garments so they can't get their nails in the crotch areas in which eggs are deposited.

Avondale's School Board Interested in Curriculum

Interest relative to the athletic program in the Avondale School District is to be commended.

The administration and the board of education are very much concerned with the over-all program and planning for the district. Right now many of our citizens are working on proposals to be presented to the board to assist in future plans for the education of our young people.

One of these groups is studying curriculum in all its aspects. We would be happy to have any people in our district give us their time and thoughts in serving on such a group. A personal visit or a telephone call to the superintendent's office or the board offices will give detailed information as to time of such meetings.

Tells What Makes Apples Beneficial

Dr. Jarvis' book "Folk Medicine," tells what is so beneficial in the apple. It tells of the value of vinegar and honey as a daily part of our food and the part it plays in nutrition. Del Publishing Company has been putting out a 50 cent paper cover of the book. One man got so much relief from arthritis that it is amazing. Go by the county market Saturday morning and ask for Mr. Gilcher. I, too, have found it a great remedy for an ailment of long standing. The beneficial part which is carried over into apple cider vinegar is potassium — a much needed element.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, Dec. 11, the 345th day of the year with 20 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1816, Indiana became the 19th state to be admitted into the union.

In 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt announced that he would not be a candidate for the presidency.

In 1946, John D. Rockefeller Jr. announced that he had offered to donate a 6-acre parcel along the East River in New York City as a site for the United Nations world headquarters.

A thought for the day: President Abraham Lincoln said:

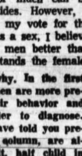
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Emotions Different in Men, Women

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-473: Loran G., aged 29, was an attorney enrolled in my evening course in social psychology.

"Dr. Crane, my sweetheart and I have been having an interesting debate regarding the emotionality of women," he laughed.



CRANE

"In one of your sessions you talked about the emotional differences between men and women. We've been arguing since then on a somewhat related topic.

"For example, do you think men understand women better than women understand men?"

HOW TO UNDERSTAND WOMEN

This would make an interesting debate topic, for much can be said on both sides. However, I believe I'll cast my vote for the women. Taken as a sex, I believe they understand men better than the male understands the female.

And here's why. In the first place, I think men are more predictable in their behavior and hence are easier to diagnose. Women, as I have told you previously in this column, are always half adult, half child in their emotional outlook.

So they never reach the predictable emotional maturity which men attain, for they seldom grow to be the physical equals of the male adults whom they admired in childhood. Boys, however, grow to be as tall and as strong as their fathers and superior in these respects to their mothers.

But the little girl, even when she becomes a woman, is still inferior in strength and height to the male. Hence, she retains some of her former childhood attitudes. Thus, women may be brilliant and competent, often excelling many men at a man's type of work.

WHY WOMEN MYSTERIOUS

But then just when she has acquitted herself nobly, she'll break down and cry over some trivial item. It is this inconsistency which mystifies most men. If you will just realize, however, that women are emotionally half child, half adult, you can easily follow their moods.

For example, a young woman may tell her boy friend that she hates him. He'll react with surprise, then irritation, possibly quarrel violently, and then go home in a huff. After which she'll cry until dawn because that was the last thing she wanted.

Then what did she have in mind by saying she hated him? Very often she simply meant that she had stinted for a month to buy a new frock and the big lummox didn't even notice it. Or she had sat waiting for a kiss or some romantic petting, but he did nothing but talk about the chances of the Yankees versus the White Sox.

A wise man learns that a firm embrace and plenty of long movie kisses will wipe away both tears as well as feminine anger. Unfortunately for girls, the average male argues with them in such situations instead of overwhelming them with ardor.

Shakespeare knew this psychological truth, when he wrote "The Taming of the Shrew." But Shakespeare was primarily a psychologist.

WOMEN GOOD PSYCHOLOGISTS

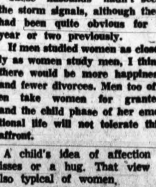
I believe women are better psychologists than men because they more often study people instead of engineering, mathematics, accounting, etc. Women's chief interest in life is people, including men.

But men divide their interest between their profession or business and women. Wouldn't you agree that old bachelors are more content than old maids?

Because women study people and try to learn the reactions of men, I think they know more about men than men do of women. So a woman can usually detect when her mate is developing an interest in another woman.

★ ★ ★

But men can go along in entire ignorance of such affairs between their wives and other men. I know scores of husbands who were completely surprised when their wives announced that they were filing for divorce.



These husbands hadn't seen the storm signals, although they had been quite obvious for a year or two previously.

If men studied women as closely as women study men, I think there would be more happiness and fewer divorces. Men too often take women for granted and the child phase of her emotional life will not tolerate this affront.

A child's idea of affection is kisses or a hug. That view is also typical of women.

Monroe Library to Cut Services in Next Year

MONROE (AP)—The Monroe County Library Board says it must cut back its services next year because of a decrease in traffic violations.

The library board gets most of its revenue from traffic fines.

A spokesman for the board said the new Detroit-Toledo expressway and the new U.S. 23 expressway allowed drivers to bypass the Monroe area where most of the traffic violators were caught.

The board said among other things it would stop bookmobile service to outlying communities and would close 13 branch libraries throughout the county.

Families buying new refrigerators and electric or gas ranges may expect to use them an average of 16 years.

Antioch College Pair Drowns Under Ice

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Two Antioch College students drowned Saturday when they fell through the ice on Clear Lake 15 miles north of Battle Creek.

Dead are Tim Oser, 19, of Melrose Park, Pa., a sophomore, and Susan Meyer, 15, Cedarhurst, N.Y., a freshman and the daughter of New York State Supreme Court Justice Bernard S. Meyer.

Both were counselors at the Clear Lake Camp operated by Battle Creek public schools. The camp work was part of a college training program.

When the pair failed to appear at dinner Saturday night, a search was launched. Students found tracks leading across the lake to a spot where the ice had broken.

State police skin divers recovered Oser's body Saturday and Miss Meyer's Sunday.

Swank NY Hotel Boasts of Fishing in Subbasement

NEW YORK (AP)—The swank Hotel Delmonico on Park Avenue in mid-Manhattan boasts subbasement fishing.

If you dangle a net into a subterranean stream that seeps into the hotel's sub-basement, odds on you'll come up with a few sunfish.

★ ★ ★

The fish come from a pond in Central Park. They swim into a millstream, then into the subterranean stream that carries them into the hotel and finally out a city's sewer system.

The channel is 30 feet below street level. When the hotel engineers have nothing better to do they often dip nets into the water and pull in the sunfish.

Alliance for Progress Starting to Move Ahead

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

President Kennedy heads for Venezuela and Colombia this weekend strengthened by a prospect that this Alliance for Progress can now begin to push ahead toward positive results in attacking a key Latin American problem.

These are in themselves breeding places for violence. They also generate resentment and anger among young pople of other classes—intellectuals, university and secondary school students and others who are impatient for quick change.

When the $20-billion Alliance for Progress program was launched at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon estimated that $9 billion of investment capital would be needed.

With little attendant publicity, Congress took steps to pave the way for attracting private investment. An amendment introduced by Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., was adopted, providing FHA-type guarantees of up to 75 per cent of mortgage investment on request of U.S. investors in attacking South America's housing problems.

DISCUSS PROGRAM

Meetings were held last week in Miami Fla., to discuss how to get a program on the rails and produce a showcase pilot project. Among those taking part were Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., a ranking Senate Foreign Relations Committee members; Frank P. Gatteri, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Americas, and William Q. Winsborough, founder of an international nonprofit foundation known as the "Economic Plan for Freedom."

★ ★ ★

The Miami conferees plan to meet with Washington officials to discuss a housing program under the guarantee setup. They expect thereafter to branch out to other Latin problems, including potable water and schools.

The Congressional Record, at Sen. Humphrey's request, carried a statement by Winsborough on "winning the economic hot war." Humphrey described it as a reply to the President's Alliance for Progress challenge.

Winsborough described himself as shocked by the frequently expressed notion that U.S. businessmen do not care about the plight of American policy. He proposed an "economic peace corps," recruited from American business and working for private enterprise. This corps, among other things, would seek out sources of private venture capital and try to interest it in investing in areas like Latin America.

Winsborough represents, himself, about $2.5 billion of private investment capital which he says he wants to get into projects at home and abroad to earn good returns and "where the principals are willing to reinvest some of these profits in humans and their individual aspirations."

"Others have already shown an interest in doing the same thing," he added. "An American group came to me to help them finance a $20-million housing project in Venezuela and they are willing to turn back 25 per cent of their profits into a revolving scholarships fund for students in the area where they are to invest their money."

There is no atmosphere of charity in this approach, but an appeal to Latin Americans' own self-respect. The approach to the key problem of housing has been quiet, but it can generate much excitement in Latin America. It appears to have been a positive step toward getting the Alliance for Progress into action.

U.S. N-Investment Reported $25 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has invested over $25 billion in its atomic energy program, including development of the atomic bomb, since 1940, the Atomic Energy Commission reported Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The cost of developing the bomb, which was handled then under the war department, was approximately $2.23 billion.

★ ★ ★

The commission said the $2.61 billion required for 1961 fiscal year operations was divided thusly: $733 million for production of nuclear materials, $637 million for procurement of raw materials, $516 million for weapons development and fabrication, $437 million for reactor development, $154 million for physical research, $54 million on biology and medicine and $81 million for miscellaneous projects.

Santa and the Flying Shoes

Copyright 1961 By LUCRECE BEALE (AP)

SYNOPSIS: The Ipswitch is back, terrorizing Polders. The people are demanding that King Ferdinand do something. But he can think of nothing to do. And Christmas is rapidly approaching!

CHAPTER SEVEN

The King thought of the letter to Santa Claus which he had never finished. He got it out and looked at it.

Besides asking for more detective stories for himself he had planned to ask for toy soldiers for his minister of war and a balloon for the minister of science and a book on sandwich making for the cook and oh, — it was such a wonderful Christmas he had planned!

He put the letter on his desk and began to walk up and down the room. It broke his heart to think of the Christmas that now would never be. Suddenly he clapped his hands and cried, "But, why shouldn't it be, after all? I'll write to Santa anyway and who knows — ?"

He turned to the desk and took up his pen but when he reached for the letter it had disappeared! It wasn't under the blotter or in the drawer or on the floor. Frantically he went through all the papers in the room, emptied the waste basket, searched his pockets, even shook out the pages of all the detective stories on the shelves.

HE WAS FRIGHTENED

The letter had vanished.

Now the King was thoroughly frightened. He felt he HAD to reach Santa Claus, that, indeed, Santa was the one last hope of the whole kingdom. He snatched up a piece of fresh writing paper and, gripping one end of the paper tightly in his fist, he began to write.

He told Santa all the awful things that were happening, about the haunted palace and the Ipswitch and the panic of the people. He begged Santa for help or advice or, at the very least, for some detective stories that might help him solve the mystery.

He wrote as fast as he could because he was afraid that any minute the pen would dissolve in his fingers or the paper evaporate in front of his eyes.

When he had finished he folded the letter into an envelope and stamped it with the royal seal and wrote on the front "To Santa Claus. Special Delivery." Then clutching the letter in both hands, he rushed to the office of the minister of science.

IMPORTANT!

"Will you see that this letter is delivered at once!" cried the King. "It is of the utmost importance."

Since the appearance of the Ipswitch the minister of science and the other royal ministers had put all their energies into defending the kingdom.

They met three times a day to wring their hands and discuss the problem. They wrote memorandums to one another suggesting steps some other minister should take. They made long lists of things they themselves had done.

Still they could not capture the Ipswitch or even find it and, in their hearts, they blamed the King for their failure and for all the bad times that had come to the land.

So when the minister of science heard the King's command and saw to whom the letter was addressed he flew into a rage. He snatched the letter from the King's hand.

"What kind of a king are you? Santa Claus and detective stories! The people are right — you are Ferdinand the Foolish and not fit to be king at all!"

* * *

With that he tore up the letter and threw the pieces in the corner.

Astonished and bewildered, the King crept back to his room. "They are right," he thought unhappily. "Perhaps I should step down from the throne and let the people have a wiser king."

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Spain are to stage a joint naval exercise in the Mediterranean off Malta this week. The aim, the Admiralty said, is "to further Anglo-Spanish maritime cooperation."

Chrysler Faces Antitrust Suit

Transport Company in Court Today Charging Carrier Trouble

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A $1.6 million suit against Chrysler Corp., is scheduled to come to trial in U.S. District Court here today.

The suit was filed March 21, 1960, by Crawford Transport, Inc. It claims Crawford was damaged through conspiracy and violation of federal antitrust laws by Chrysler.

The complaint says Chrysler refused to deal with Crawford and refused to permit the firm to compete in the business of transporting Chrysler's products. This, the suit contends, caused the plaintiff's business to be destroyed.

Chrysler is charged in the suit with entering into an agreement or conspiracy prior to May 17, 1957, with Commercial Carriers and others to eliminate competition in the business of transporting Chrysler products.

* * *

The Crawford firm began at Ashland, Ky., in 1930 to haul cars from Detroit to Ohio, Kentucky and North Carolina. It went out of business in 1957.

The petition lists actual damages as $500,000 and asks a court judgement triple that amount.

Federal Judge Mac Swinford is to hear the trial, scheduled to begin this afternoon.

Kissing in Car Illegal Any Time, Rule Italians

ROME (AP) — Italy's highest court has reversed itself and now says it is a crime for a couple to kiss in an automobile even if the windows are frosted over and no one can see inside.

* * *

The Italian penal code outlaws public kissing.

Innumerable persons have been arrested on charges of obscene behavior because police caught them kissing in parked cars. Several appealed on the grounds a kiss in a car is not public.

Several months ago the Court of Cassation ruled in one case that a kiss in a car was all right if the car had blinds or if its windows were frosted over.

But if a person could see into the car, the court ruled, the kissing was illegal.

Romantic Racket Ended

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Bela Huzska, a 46-year-old bookkeeper, has drawn a six-year prison term for a romantic racket. A Budapest court convicted him Thursday on testimony he became engaged to 25 women in succession and coaxed sums totaling $50,000 from them on the understanding that he would buy an apartment.

Urge State Join Fair

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Cultural Commission met with Gov. Swainson Saturday and recommended that Michigan participate in the 1964 World's Fair in New York.

Latin Frets Over Lack of U.S. Leadership

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy's visit to Latin America this weekend comes at a crucial time in our hemispheric relations.

Until recent years the two Americas were a miracle of good neighborliness, voting solidly together on nearly all major issues, and presenting such a united front to the world that Joe Stalin insisted on three Russian votes in the United Nations "because you have Latin America."

Times, unfortunately, have changed. Not only do the Communists now boast a dictatorship in Cuba and a beachhead in British Guiana, but the other nations of the Western Hemisphere are scrapping among themselves.

The split has widened to such an alarming degree that in last week's showdown on a U.S.-backed Colombia resolution calling for a foreign ministers meeting to consider action against Red Cuba, Mexico voted with Cuba against it, and the other Latin American giants—Brazil, Argentina and Chile—abstained instead of supporting us.

Incredibly, this vote came three days after Fidel Castro had publicly bragged about the way he fooled the Cubans, and admitted that he has been a Marxist Communist all along.

'FRIENDS SAD'

Fourteen nations voted for the resolution, so that the meeting will be held Jan. 10, but some of our best friends below the Equator are sadly shaking their heads over "the lack of U.S. leadership."

One of our firmest friends and frankest critics is Dr. Carlos Urrutia-Aparicio, Guatemalan ambassador to the Organization of American States, who wants to see the American government "show less timidity" in dealing with hemispheric problems.

Youngest of all the OAS envoys, the 34-year-old diplomat earned his masters degree at George Washington University, and his PHD in international relations at American University.

He should therefore know where of he speaks when he says: "Nowadays you Americans are so afraid of being called the 'colossus of the north' that you lean over backwards to keep from leading. We would admire you more if you showed more initiative, firmness and leadership. The Communist doctrine is wrong, but at least it has vitality and an implacable plan of action. You are too timid."

★ ★

Ambassador Urrutia said that until the recent appointment of Deiessups Morrison as U.S. envoy to the OAS, the three previous ambassadors had made little if any attempt even to answer the Cuban harangues in the council chambers.

As a result, he disclosed, other Latin American ambassadors would shrug: "why should we answer Cuba's arguments if the U.S. is afraid to do so? Why should we pull the U.S. irons out of the fire?"

AMERICAN OBJECTS

At an embassy row reception a few days before debate was to open on a resolution scoring Russia's resumption of nuclear testing, Dr. Urrutia stood chatting with a U.S. official and several Latin envoys. The Guatemalan remarked that the resolution did not go far enough in condemning the Soviet action, and he planned to make a speech urging that it be strengthened.

"Oh, no, you will not!" the U.S. official exclaimed heatedly. "We plan to support this, because it is better than nothing, and we might make someone mad by trying to get a stronger one."

Dr. Urrutia pointedly told him that he takes orders only from the president of Guatemala, and that he would make the speech which he did.

"Who cares if you make someone a little mad, if you are in the right?" Dr. Urrutia said. "You Americans timidly take a paper to nation X, and it says a comma must go there. Then you take it to nation Y, who says the comma must be a hyphen. Finally you hand it to Z, who screams that it must be changed to a period."

Sighing a little, he added: "Just give us some straightforward leadership, and never mind the pussyfooting."

Lindbergh's Son Becomes Father for First Time

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jon Lindbergh, 24, a son of the man who made the first solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean, is a father.

Mrs. Lindbergh, 22, gave birth last Thursday to a girl, their first child. She left the hospital Sunday.

Lindbergh's father, Charles A. Lindbergh, became a national hero after he flew non-stop in the plane "Spirit of St. Louis" from New York to Paris in 1927.

★ ★

The Jon Lindberghs live on a farm near Ridgefield, Wash. He is associated with a firm that does underwater oil research in coastal waters.

Mail Piles Up in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A refusal of postal employes to work overtime is piling up mail at the outset of the holiday season in which Japanese exchange New Year's gifts and greeting cards. The no-overtime movement is intended to force the government to hire more workers. The postal ministry reports 19,000 parcels and 2½ million pieces of mail have already piled up, unsorted.

Ex-School Head Dies

ALBION (AP)—Don Harrington, 87, who headed the Albion school system from 1919 to 1939, died Sunday. Harrington had been ill for two years. Before going to Albion he was school superintendent at Scottville, Vassar and Big Rapids.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Tornado Hits Alabama; 12 Hurt, Homes Ruined

BREWTON, Ala. (UPI)—Twelve persons were injured, seven homes destroyed and 12 others damaged Sunday when a tornado slashed through a two-block area of Brewton.

Six of those hurt were hospitalized, one with serious injuries. Police said the twister touched down in a predominantly Negro neighborhood, knocking over cars, toppling trees and power lines and wrenching buildings apart.

The United Lutheran Church in America has 4,600 congregations in 32 synods in Canada, the United States and the Caribbean area.

CHRISTMAS MARATHON — This Christmas card made its 28th trip in as many years this week, mailed by Mr. and Mrs. Fredric White, Kalamazoo, to Mr. and Mrs. James Van Zylen, Spring Lake, near Grand Haven. The Van Zylens sent the card to the Whites in 1934, the year the Whites were married. Because of the verse, the Whites returned it the following Christmas. It has now made 14 round trips.

Claims Security Safe in Spite of Reductions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department's chief security officer said Sunday U.S. security has not been endangered by a reduction in the number of his employes.

Salvatore A. Bontempo, administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, said charges that security had been harmed "are not supported by fact and no experts have been fired."

Low Opinion of Hunters

CORTEZ, Colo. (UPI) — A variety store in this Southwestern Colorado town sells these signs for ranchers during certain seasons: "No hunting. Survivors will be prosecuted."

Gray Ladies Saluted at Pontiac General

The 45 volunteers have donated 30 per cent more time this year than in 1960. Last year's total was 6,681 hours.

Harold B. Euler, administrator, commended the Gray Ladies for their help in promoting better patient care.

New York State Debt Triples in 10 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total state debt grew from $4.2 Billion in fiscal 1950 to $15.6 in 1960, according to the Tax Foundation.

'Termite' Was Carrying an Aerial Machine Gun

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Mrs. Leo Manz thought she had termites in her house when she noticed plaster on the floor of an unoccupied bedroom.

However, an exterminator discovered a hole in the ceiling, and Mrs. Manz then found a .50-caliber machine gun bullet behind a closet door.

Norway's Rio of the North

Best Way to See Bergin Is Walking

BERGEN, Norway (UPI)—There are four ways to see Bergen, and every one of them is a delight.

Two of them are aloft — from a (SAS) jetliner at 20,000 or so feet heading into Oslo from New York, and from atop 1,050-foot Mount Florien inside the city. From either vantage point, and in daylight or at night, the city looks like a Rio de Janeiro of the North, wrapped as it is around the base of mountains rising up from the water.

The third way is approaching Bergen by ship or boat through the glistening fjord waters.

After seeing it all four ways, it's difficult to decide which is best, but the vote must go to walking through the charm and buildings of this 900-year-old port. It's the only way you get to know the city, and its friendly people, intimately.

GASLIGHTED STREETS

From a plane or the restaurant atop Mount Florien, which is reached by a step-climbing funicular, the gaslights illuminating the narrow, twisting streets and their two and three-hundred-year-old buildings in the old sections are lost in the over-all brilliance of the night-lighted city. And, too, you have to be on the ground to appreciate the architecture and pointed gables of the medieval buildings in the Bryggen group facing the harbor.

And neither from aloft can you glory in the Romanesque beauty of St. Mary's Church, dating from the 12th Century, with its intricately carved pulpit angels and ceiling with the original decor.

Yes, Bergen has to be seen from the ground, but the other ways shouldn't be slighted either. Besides numerous fjord cruises starting from Bergen, which provide a way to see it from the water, the visitor also might consider making his first entrance via the fjord route from the south on the hydrofoil boat service started just last year.

FAST SEA TOUR

The hydrofoil Vingtor clips off the 102 nautical miles between Stavanger and Bergen at 35 knots, and literally is "more airborne than seaborne.

* * *

Seated in airline-type seats or rocking on the breezy after deck, the 100 passengers get a "quick, American tourist-style" glimpse of the startling fjord country between Stavanger and Bergen. Some Norwegians protest that the trip is too fast to appreciate the scenery, but for the traveler in a hurry, a fast look is better than none at all.

Equally as new to Bergen as the hydrofoil service is a spectacular cable car ride to the top of 2,080-foot Mount Ulriken.

The view of sprawling Bergen, its suburbs and the mountains is more sweeping—but less intimate—atop Ulriken than on the Florien summit. The cable car climbs to the top of a mountain that leads to some of the favored hiking trails of the people of Bergen.

Bergen is the starting point of the well-booked nightly express steamers on their 12-day round-trips around North Cape, and is a major port of call for cruise ships. The 43 ships calling here this year are a record.

Hopes Dim for Early Berlin Talks

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

PEACE PIPE CLOGGED

With the United States, Britain, France and West Germany themselves in disagreement, any prospects for an early foreign ministers' meeting among the West and the Soviet Union over Berlin appear near zero.

Tentative plans had foreseen the possibility of such a meeting sometimes in January. Now, the Soviets appear to have lost interest and to be angling instead for direct Russo-American talks.

Reports from Paris say that the French ambassador to Moscow will begin taking "soundings" on the Soviet attitude in Moscow early next year.

FRENCH NOT ISOLATED

The prospect talks on Berlin will occupy the spotlight at this week's NATO council meeting in Paris. Expected to side with France in opposition to negotiation now with the Russians are Greece, Turkey and Portugal.

ALGERIA

President Charles de Gaulle fears a new era of bloodshed will be touched off in Algeria when or if it is announced that a cease-fire agreement has been reached with the Moslem rebels and that peace talks are about to resume.

He has ordered security authorities to make an all-out effort to break up without delay the extremist Secret Army Organization (OAS) led by discredited Gen. Raoul Salon, a French war hero.

RED CHINA MANEUVERINGS

Some Western sources expect Red China to launch an all-out campaign to establish friendly relation with Japan. The objective would be to strengthen Red China's hand in her dispute with Moscow over the Khrushchev theory of coexistence.

This was the interpretation placed upon Red China's recent invitation to Japan's left-wing Socialists to informatory talks looking toward the signing of a Sino-Japanese trade agreement.

It also was regarded as a warning to Moscow not to oust Albania from the eastern military bloc.

U.S. WHEAT TO CHINA

Hong Kong reports say there "definitely" have been contacts between private American wheat growers and Red Chinese trading officials the result, these reports say, may soon be that American wheat will be slipping quietly past Red China's Bamboo Curtain.

The Red Chinese, hard hit by low grain production for the past three years and with no immediate prospects of improvement, have purchased large quantities of wheat from Canada and Australia and are known to be shopping for more.

It has been suggested that Canada might provide the easiest avenue for American grain to find its way to the mouths of the hungry among Red China's 700 million citizens.

Gang Up on Albanians

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —The Albanian newspaper Zeri e Populit reports the Soviet Union and Hungary have canceled a consular agreement which permitted leaders of Albania, now an outcast of the Soviet bloc, to travel to and from those countries without visas.

New Officers Elected by League of the Blind

The Pontiac League of the Blind has elected Ray Wadley, 494 Third St., Pontiac, president for 1962.

Others elected at the annual meeting were: Mrs. Irene Ward, vice president; Ray McDonald, secretary; Robert Yontz, treasurer; and Mrs. Winifred Fleming as member of the board.

Architects Are Named for Building at Metro

DETROIT (AP) — Architectural work on a new $8.5-million terminal building at Detroit Metropolitan Airport and a $2.5-million expansion of the present terminal will be done by Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates, Inc.

The Wayne County Road Commission said the terminal work is part of a $21-million airport expansion program scheduled for completion in 1964.

Grosberg Denies Federal Trouble

Hoffa's Tax Man Says He Quit Because Boss Wanted the Books

DETROIT (AP)—James R. Hoffa's personal financial consultant and accountant for all Michigan Teamster union locals denies that he resigned because of alleged harassment by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I haven't been bothered by Kennedy since 1957 or 1958," said Herbert L. Grosberg in reply to charges by Teamster President Hoffa who said Grosberg quit because of "constant harassment by Bobby Kennedy."

Grosberg's resignation became known Saturday. He had served Hoffa and the Teamsters for 13 years.

"I resigned because Hoffa wanted all the (Teamsters) records and I do not believe he is legally or ethically entitled to them," Grosberg said, contending that he would have "violated federal law" if he complied with Hoffa's demands.

RESPONSIBILITY!

"I have to go according to what I think is right. The Internal Revenue Code places a responsibility on the party who prepares tax returns as well as the one who files," Grosberg explained.

Grosberg prepared records and reports on financial dealings of Local 299, Hoffa's Detroit home local, and 19 other Teamster locals in the Michigan conference and Joint Council 43.

He also audited health and welfare funds.

Hoffa said that he demanded the books because "We've got to have more control over our books."

Santa to Come Down Chimney if It's Clean

Climbing through chimneys to deliver Christmas presents is one of Santa's most messy jobs.

Chimneys are as much of the tradition of Santa as his reindeer and sleigh. Fireplaces are also part of tradition and are now enjoying an upsurge in popularity.

Homeowners can help Santa as well as themselves by keeping their chimneys "unsooted." A build-up of soot in chimneys diminishes the flow of air that is needed for the efficient operation of fireplaces.

Soot-filled fireplace chimneys also help to dirty the house, particularly on windy days when a back-draft blows soot from the fireplace into the room.

When you aren't using your fireplace, it's advisable, reports the better Heating-cooling Council, to close the chimney damper to conserve heat and prevent drafts. But open it Christmas Eve for Santa.

Tech Sweeps Series

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan Tech drubbed Denver's hockey team 8-2 Saturday night as Tech's captain, Jerry Sullivan, scored three goals in the first period for the hat trick. Tech won the opener of the two-game series 8-7 Friday night. Both Tech and Denver now are 2-2 in Western Collegiate Hockey Association play.

Automated Model Train Takes Peak Into Future

Back in the good old days, model railroading was largely confined to trains that traveled in a circle and emitted an occasional toot or two.

This Christmas, youngsters can have miniature trains that are really a peek into future rail transportation systems.

Remote control operation, still a goal for most railroads, is now an accomplished fact with model trains.

By pushbutton control, young engineers can couple and uncouple cars, change engines, operate switches and control semaphores.

AUTOMATED STOCK

The rolling stock has kept pace with this trend toward automation, too. One realistic freight car automatically ejects baled hay for hungry cows at trackside; others have little men who unload lumber, TNT cars that fly into pieces at the touch of a button, and hopper cars that discharge their coal into bins.

★ ★ ★

Missiles also soar off into space from rocket launcher cars, and there's a motorized rocket sled that races along the rails under its own power, ejecting the pilot electrically by remote control. In short, there's virtually no limit to what kind of trains a child can have under his tree.

★ ★ ★

The current interest in the Civil War has also manifested itself in trains this year. Boys who want to re-enact the strife between the Blue and the Gray can do so with an American Flyer Civil War Frontiersman freight.

Prescott's Post Up for Grabs

GOP Harold Hughes, Dem H. C. Evans Seek Late Senator's Term

By The Associated Press

Seeking the term which expires Jan. 1, 1963, are Clare Republican Harold B. Hughes and Gladwin Democrat Hubert C. Evans.

★

They were elected in a 10-candidate November primary.

Prescott died Oct. 24 after 14 years in the legislature.

It will be Evans' fourth political outing this year. After a successful bid in the constitutional convention primary, he lost in the finals. Evans led all Democratic candidates in the senate election primary.

Hughes, an attorney long active in Republican politics, led all primary candidates with 1,687 votes.

A light vote was forecast for most of the 10-county district. The primary drew as low as 5 per cent of registered voters in some areas.

★ ★ ★

South African Girl Sentenced to 2 Years

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — An 18-year-old colored (mixed blood) girl was sentenced to two years in prison after being convicted of attempting sexual relations with a 17-year-old white Swedish seaman.

The latter was convicted on the same charge last week and punished with eight strokes of a cane. The case brought diplomatic protests from Sweden.

Report on News Media

PARIS (AP) — North America and Europe have 67 per cent of the world's news media, the U.N. Economic and Social Council reports. It made a survey covering daily newspapers, radio, TV and movies. The report said the Soviet Union has 16 per cent and South America, Africa and Asia split the remainder.

News Distributor Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—William J. Harrison, 83, once distribution director for Western Hearst newspapers, died Saturday. He was the first president of the California Circulation Managers Association.

Gas Cloud Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm

'Peace Bomb' Draws Applause

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Scientists counted blessings of knowledge from the first underground atomic "peace bomb" explosion Sunday despite the escape of a cloud of radioactive gas.

They reported 70 per cent success in getting data on major scientific programs, but major mysteries remain.

They judged the steaming radioactive cloud hadn't hurt anybody or anything, although its unexpected fallout partially blockaded nearly 300 observers.

★ ★ ★

Scientists pushed ahead to learn exactly what happened when they detonated the world's first known nuclear explosion intended solely to find peaceful uses for the furies of A-bombs and H-bombs.

$6 MILLION DRILL

The specially designed five-kiloton atomic device was detonated a quarter-mile underground. It was in a chamber at the end of a buttonhook tunnel dug 1,100 feet through salt rock from a vertical mine shaft. This Project Gnome hole alone cost $1 million, the total drill nearly $6 million.

A main objective was to learn what happens when a nuclear blast, equivalent to 5,000 tons of TNT, occurs in salt rock. Scientists hoped it might form a cavity partly full of molten salt and steam.

★ ★ ★

The earth shock produced a moderate earthquake in Carlsbad, 23 miles away, where a waitress saw "an itty-bitty Santa Claus shaking on a drug store counter." It didn't harm the Carlsbad Caverns, 34 miles west, or potash mines, kept empty of people when the blast detonated.

Seismic measurements obtained near and far may help show the difference between the "signature" of an earthquake and a secret nuclear underground bomb test.

LEAKY BOILER

The blast apparently turned the chamber room into a leaky boiler, said Dr. Phillip Randolph, Livermore, Calif., deputy technical director of Gnome.

Somehow, the leak sent radioactive gasses up the mine shaft, a white steam turning into an invisible but quickly dying cloud of radioactive gas. A filter in the shaft head apparently stopped solid particles, said Dr. Randolph.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the gas swept away over essentially unpopulated areas. But for more than three hours they blockaded the direct road to Carlsbad until radioactivity across the road died down. And "for good housekeeping," the AEC washed seven cars caught between blockade points.

The highest radiation rating inside any car was 15 milliroentgens (thousandths of a roentgen) per hour and declining, said AEC's Dr. Gordon Dunning. He said a person could live the rest of his life in the car and get a total dose of only 75 milliroentgens. A thoroughly safe lifetime exposure to radiation has been set at 35 roentgens, not milliroentgens.

'NO ONE INJURED'

Test director James Reeves said "to the best of my knowledge at the present time, no one was injured."

While the dissipating gaseous radioactivity was small, radiation in the mine shaft was terrific — 1 million roentgens at the bottom an hour after blast, Dr. Randolph estimated. Five hours after the blast, it was about 40,000 roentgens. A lethal human dose is 1,000 roentgens.

This will delay attempts to recover a special wheel, near the bottom of the shaft, which measured neutrons flying from the blast chamber through a 22-inch wide vacuum pipe.

RIG TO BORE

In a day or two, a drilling rig will start boring to learn if a cavity was actually formed.

An experiment to capture radioisotopes flying up the vacuum pipe, which peered into the blast chamber from the surface, also apparently worked. But a three-foot thick concrete slab on which instruments stood, was tilted over, and the ground above the chamber apparently heaved up a few feet.

The nuclear device, using new principles to make peace time explosives cheaper, also apparently worked quite well, said Dr. Randolph. Observers 4½ miles away could feel its power from the rolling earth tremors.

He said the experiment definitely advanced ultimate peaceful uses of nuclear explosives.

Red Nurseries Keep Children

Most E. German Women Must Leave Offspring in Order to Work

LEIPZIG, East Germany (UPI)—In Leipzig's Rosental Park on sunny spring days one can often see groups of small children playing games or spinning hula hoops under the supervision of girls in their 20s.

The children, all under school age, are there because their mothers have been encouraged to work to help alleviate East Germany's pressing labor shortage.

East Germany's state-controlled nurseries are not designed just to take a child off mother's hands for a few hours.

If the child is small enough—four months to about a year-and-a-half—the nursery will care for it night and day, six days a week. The mother picks up the child on Saturday night when she finishes work and brings him back on Monday.

Children from one-and-a-half to about six can be left in the nurseries eight hours each day, and school age children can be placed in special classes after their regular school hours.

The charge is 3 marks (about 75 cents) a week.

A Leipzig University student who guided visitors about the city said "almost all" young husbands and wives in this area have jobs.

The girls who supervise the nurseries receive a 10-week training course, he said.

2 See 'Corruption' in Education Values

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of America's leading educators see the values of contemporary higher education as "desperately corrupted." Both put some of the blame on college presidents.

Dr. A. Whitney Griswold, president of Yale University, said he believes that "we who hold the office (of president) spend so much time justifying what we're doing that we don't have time to do what we're justifying."

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago, asserted that university presidents too often were "the go-getting corporate type, preferably one who is accomplished in public relations."

Their performance, Hutchins continued, is judged "by the figures—by the amount of money that comes in, by the quantity of brick and mortar that is assembled, by the number of students that enroll, and in some places by the digits in the football scoreboard."

HAS HOPE

Griswold, expressing his views in a booklet, "The University," published by the Center for Study hope that the "service station concept of the university" might be on its way out.

★ ★ ★

In education, Dr. Griswold said, "the sales doctrine that the customer is always right" does not apply. He recommended that those who tried to interfere with academic freedom be reminded that "the doctor cannot help the patient who insists on making his own diagnosis."

★ ★ ★

He attributed some of the defects in current standards of education largely to the preparation of high school teachers, saying that "it's at the secondary school level that these values are most desperately corrupted."

★ ★ ★

Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, expressed his views in a comment published with the interview of Dr. Griswold. The fund sponsors the group that published the interview.

Winter Wallops the Nation With Snow, Ice and Wind

By The Associated Press

A new snowstorm came out of the Rockies today as winter smote the nation with disagreeable weather that included record subzero temperatures, road-blocking snow, flooding rains and shattering winds.

★ ★ ★

The weather was a factor in the deaths of at least 55 persons since a previous snowstorm crossed the Midwest Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Two major roads in Eastern Arizona were closed by snow drifts measuring from 2 to 22 inches. The new storm forced schools to close today in San Juan County in Northwestern New Mexico.

SNOW IN NEW MEXICO

Snow depths in New Mexico ranged from 8 inches in Raton to 20 at the Nageezi trading post in San Juan County.

★ ★ ★

Snow fell from Northern Arizona into Wyoming and the Dakotas and eastward. Heavy snow, with accumulations of 4 inches or more headed toward Kansas, Nebraska, Northwest Oklahoma and the Northern Texas Panhandle.

One to 6 inches of new snow was expected in Southwestern Oklahoma.

Sleet and freezing rain moved from New Mexico, across Northern Texas, Eastern and Southern Oklahoma toward Southern Kansas and Southern Missouri.

Ice glazed major highways in the northern half of New Mexico, Northern Texas and Oklahoma.

CARS LINED UP

Autos were lined up for 3 miles on the Turner turnpike east of Oklahoma City Sunday until trucks sanded the pavement.

Snow or snow flurries were in store for the upper Mississippi Valley, the Northern Great Lakes region, parts of the Ohio Valley and New England.

A child drowned in a rain-swollen creek at Mobile, Ala., Sunday. Mobile reported 3.53 inches of rain in 12 hours Sunday. Small streams in the area were flooded. Tombigbee River at Jackson, Ala. was expected to crest 2 feet above flood stage today.

★ ★ ★

Minor flooding occurred in Atlanta, Ga., where rain totaled 2 inches Sunday.

An inch to 1½ inches of rain fell in Louisiana and Mississippi, with minor floods in some places after weekend totals of 10 inches of rain.

TORNADO STRIKES

Twelve persons were injured Sunday by a tornado that struck the Southern Alabama town of Brewton, destroying seven houses and damaging 12 others.

Gen. Cecil Simmons Named Guard Chief

LANSING (AP)—Brig. Gen. Cecil L. Simmons was named commander of the Michigan National Guard's 46th Infantry Division by Gov. Swainson today and promoted to major general.

Simmons will take over command of the 8,500-man unit when Maj. Gen. Cecil J. Kennedy of Flint retires Feb. 28. Kennedy has held the post two years.

Kennedy, 49, has been assistant division commander since Nov. 3, 1959. In civilian life, he is traffic engineer for the city of Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Scientists Find Dolphin's Secret of Wave Riding

Scientists announced Sunday they knew how the sleek little mammals ride waves without wiggling a flipper but managed to maintain the speed of a ship.

Dr. Allan J. Acosta and Taras Kiceniuk of Cal Tech's Hydrodynamics Laboratory and Dr. Bryne Perry of Stanford University solved the problem with a torpedo model in a water tunnel.

The metal "dolphin," about 1-foot long and 2-inches in diameter, was used to show that the drag force acting on the "dolphin" would be reduced when the model was located in the forward part of the wave.

Final Hearing Set on Paving Proposal

A final hearing for black topping Kempt Street, will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight at the regular Waterford Township Board meeting.

The board will also receive bids for a two-year contracts for supplying gasoline in the use of township vehicles, and Clerk James E. Sesterlin will present a report on bids for five two-way mobile radios.

Township Atty. Paul Mandel will present a revised ordinance for used car lots and Ray Graessele will discuss proposed cemetery endowments for township residents.

Not counting the TV antenna on its tower, the Empire State building rises to a height of 1,248 feet, man said.

Santa Arrested for Plying Trade in Philadelphia

★ ★ ★

Santa, better known as Charles Staeger, Cornwell Heights, and four other workers were cited in a suburban discount store for violating a law forbidding "gainful employment" on Sunday. The citation was made after a merchants' group complained.

Society to Urge Legislation for Mental Health

Legislative recommendations for mental health in the 1962 legislature will be revealed Wednesday at a meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health.

Featured speakers at the noon gathering at Devon Gables restaurant will be Charles F. Wagg, director of the Michigan Department for Mental Health, and Harold Webster, executive director of the society.

The county's seven members of the legislature, as well as Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward, who is also a state representative, will attend, a spokesman said.

'WE Can Bury YOU, Mr. K'

'Go, Go, Go,' They Prayed...and the Titan Whined 'OK'

By BOB CONSIDINE

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif.—The control center, built like a brick smokehouse, was crowded when Brig. Gen. Roger Crow, deputy commander of the 1st Strategic Aerospace Division of the Strategic Air Command, led me in and pointed to a seat in front of one of the bewildering consoles.

Crowded and tense.

Across the room, high on the wall, hung two TV sets whose screens showed nothing more enchanting than a view of the bleak California wasteland which once had been Camp Cooke, infantry training center.

The room was alive with the compelling cadence of a countdown. Men hunched over their consoles and desks, chanting off the minutes and the readings of their dials and buttons.

Col. Joseph J. Cody, a sandy-haired Texan with a lean jaw, worked in the center of what sounded, to the reporter, like a sound track from the Tower of Babel. This was to be his "bird," all 10 storys of it, all 110 tons, all 380,000 pounds of thrust—and all those millions it cost to build.

IMPORTANT PHONES

A major crouched over a panel whose phones perhaps might be—in time of war—the most important telephones in the free world. Their lines led to the underground command headquarters of SAC, Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, and to the Pentagon and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"That's ack, simulating the 'Go to War' signal," Gen. Crow said, in a room that now buzzed with new intent. "Watch the screens."

A miracle of technology began to unfold before our eyes.

Two 400-ton steel and reinforced concrete doors—like modernistic doors on an old-fashioned cyclone cellar—lifted themselves from the deserted land.

* * *

And up from a silo, dug 165 feet into the earth, appeared a glittering Titan I, a simulated multi-megaton bomb forming its warhead. It rose on its elevator and launch pad until it stood revealed in all its impressive length and bulk.

The sun at noon glinted off its ice-caked sides as tons of liquid oxygen, colder than minus 300 degrees fahrenheit, seethed in its tanks.

"It won't be long now," the general said. "Let's go outside and watch it."

* * *

In less time than it would take N. S. Khrushchev to remove his shoe, the umbilical cords began dropping from the towering intercontinental missile.

A great silence fell upon the little group of observers—officers and their wives, engineers from the Martin Company, who built it, and myself, by chance the only reporter present.

The countdown, in what seemed the voice of God, reached its breathtaking "zero" and an inferno of flame belched from the bottom of the monster, sending a great expanding plume of fire, gases and seared soil skimming across the forlorn land.

ROSE RELUCTANTLY

The Titan rose as if reluctant to leave the earth which had harbored it so long. It literally inched its way upward, and now the observers could speak again.

"Go . . . go . . . go" they implored.

It went.

It went aloft with a roar that caused the ground to dance in a miniature earthquake — the white-hot eyes of its twin exhausts too bright for the human eye to endure.

The general tilted his head back to follow it, holding his left hand high—not to shield his eyes against the sun or the missile's scalding eyes but to follow the sweep hand on his watch.

MOMENT OF TRUTH

"Separation in five seconds from, ah, now" he muttered.

This was the missile's and the operation's moment of truth. The huge Titan itself was hardly a pinpoit in the blue dome above us by now, but behind it flowed a great white tell-tale vapor trail.

Suddenly, that trail was snipped as if my a gigantic unseen scissors.

Another deep silence hovered over the observers, and then they let loose a triumphant shout.

* * *

A second vapor trail had appeared farther along in the trajectory of the Titan. The second stage, the pay-off stage, had ignited on schedule. The Titan and its warhead were en route to the target area off Eniwetok, more than 6,000 miles away, and at 15,000 miles an hour.

"I feel like I just had a baby," a strapping Martin engineer wheezed.

The announcement that went out from Vandenberg that day—Sept. 23, 1961—was couched in the stiff bare-bones English of the military:

* * *

"The first integrated total weapon system test of an operational prototype Titan ICBM was successfully conducted by the Air Force today from a Weapon System Test Facility at Vandenberg. The Titan intercontinental ballistic missile was launched at 12:37 p.m. by the Air Force Systems Command's Ballistic Systems Division and contractor crews with the participation of Strategic Air Command personnel."

* * *

It might have read melodramatically. What the 395th Missile Squadron launch team, under Capt. Lester E. Treankler of Kingsford, Mich., had proved in and around the Titan's silo that day was that the United States can prepare and launch one of these incredible objects, as a retaliatory stroke, within an astonishingly short time.

The precise number of minutes and seconds is classified material, but it is safe to say that—if the Cold War ever heated up to the boiling point—such missiles could be well on their way to planned Soviet targets while Soviet ICBMs were still in space.

The Titan's flaming exhaust had fused the dirt and sand near the site into a blanket of jade and glass pebbles. It had buckled and warped a metal shield on the inner side of one of the huge silo doors, and scored the heavy rubber tubing of the umbilicals.

Otherwise, the silo's elevator—believed to be the biggest and strongest in the world—could have received a fresh Titan, and lowered it deep into the earth. The "storm doors" could have been closed for protection against enemy nuclear attack, the missile fueled, lifted and launched.

NETWORK OF TUNNELS

The earth far beneath Vandenberg's Titan sites is veined with a bizarre network of tunnels, piping and wiring. Great underground pumping stations force liquid oxygen into the missiles at tremendous pressure. Kerosene pipelines run for miles to appointed bungs in the hides of the missiles.

Enormous blast doors are spaced here and there in the tunnels, for personnel safety.

Riding a wire-mesh service elevator up the side of a parked Titan I gives one the eerie feeling he is ascending the Washington monument on an outside, rather than interior, lift. The trip seems endless, and the magnitude and complexity of modern warfare stays with the viewer for many days to come.

Nothing has been overlooked that would stand in the way of fast reaction, if the free world is attacked.

If the vast doors of a silo were ripped off by a Soviet warhead, what is believed to be the largest complex of steel springs in the world would cradle and cushion the shock below, and the Titan I could still rise in terrible retribution.

Astonishingly, what with the "state of the art" moving as swiftly as it does, the test I witnessed was the test of an already obsolescent weapon.

Titan I, now operational in its silo-lift configuration, is an awesome but "interim" weapon. But, until it can be phased out, the United States will continue to build the Titan I and provide "hardened" silos for them.

But Titan II will be as ready to fire as a cocked pistol. It will be fired from the bottom of its silo, once the heavy overhead protective cover, an improvement on silo doors, is rolled back on its railroad wheels.

* * *

The inner walls of the Titan II silo are thickly lined with spun glass, to absorb the shock waves and sound as Titan II thunders upward from the bowels of the earth. Without that cushion, it might destroy itself by the very noise it creates.

* * *

The minutes saved, at a cost of countless millions, could mean the difference in the Western world's way of life.

If war rained down on the West this minute, and it did not cripple our ballistic counterpunch, the Air Force could give a colossal account of itself, using "obsolescent" missiles alone.

* * *

(Next: Conclusion. SAC, the heart of any war of retaliation, and a talk with the man who forged that mighty deterrent force, Gen. Curtis LeMay.)

While it does seem a little silly to mention it now, this country was founded as a protest against taxation . . . Prices are now just about as high as politicians said they'd never get . . . When nobody disagrees with you, you're either brilliant or single. — Earl Wilson.

'If I'm Elected...' Promised Nominee John F. Kennedy

Editor's Note — No President ever took office with more precise ideas of what kind of a President he wanted to be. How has John F. Kennedy measured up to his own vision? This is the first of five articles appraising the Kennedy record, by a seasoned Washington reporter who covered his 1960 campaign.

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—How is John F. Kennedy doing as President?

It has been a year since his election, and 11 months since his move into the White House.

★ ★ ★

Has Kennedy gone forward with the daring, imaginative leadership he said this country so desperately needed?

★ ★ ★

Or, as some disenchanted Kennedy enthusiasts of 1960 now suggest, has his administration compromised so frequently it has, in their view out - Eisenhowered Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

Latching on to any political fact can be as difficult as picking up a wet watermelon seed.

PROBLEM TOUGH

But here the problem is tougher. Talk to the men around Kennedy—as this reporter has—and the answer is almost always the same: He is doing exceptionally well.

Except for Cuba, an obvious and admitted disaster, few mistakes are confessed, publicly or privately. If one even dares to suggest that an alternative course might have produced better results, the rebuttal is instantaneous and it is smooth, like a salesman's speech that has been tailored in advance to meet each objection.

★ ★ ★

Talk to men far removed from Kennedy, politically and literally, and the standard Republican response is exactly the opposite: The New Frontier is floundering; Kennedy already is a failure.

★ ★ ★

If one dares to mention that the administration pushed considerable legislation through Congress, the answer comes quickly: These bills have been kicking around for years, and any Democrat, moving into the White House, supported by a Democratic Congress, would have gotten as much.

TRUTH ON BOTH SIDES

The very vehemence of their replies suggests that neither side is too sure of its ground, that each fears there's some truth in the other's argument.

Anyone judging Kennedy's progress has to keep in mind that it is an ingrained political habit to see everything as all good or all evil.

★ ★ ★

For he not only made the usual promises — accurately called "campaign oratory" by Wendell Wilkie—but he also went far beyond. Repeatedly, almost constantly, he talked of the ideal president.

Few men ever pursued the presidency so openly and persistently. None ever entered the White House with a cleaner concept of what the presidency should be, or with a firmer vision of the President he wanted to become.

Those of us who followed Kennedy through the enthusiastic months leading up to his dramatic victory over Richard M. Nixon saw the image laboriously hammered out: on a cold, windy airstrip in Presque Isle, Maine, at a huge auditorium in Oakland, Calif., before a street crowd that filled Penn Square in Reading, Pa.

NEW CAMPAIGN

Wherever he went, and sometimes it seemed he went everywhere, Kennedy tried to add a new dimension of presidential campaigning.

Earnestly and impressively, Kennedy pictured an alert, aggressive, positive leadership that would move this country forward again and gain the admiration of the whole non-Communist world.

"I want to be a president," Kennedy said, "who has the confidence of the people—and who takes the people into his confidence—who lets them know what he is doing and where we are going, who is for his program and who is against. I hope to set before the people our unfinished agenda—to indicate their obligations—and not simply follow their every whim and pleasure. . . .

★ ★ ★

"I want to be a president who is the chief executive in every sense of the word."

"I am not promising action in the first 100 days alone," he said. "I am promising you 1,000 days of exacting presidential leadership."

Well, he started out as if he meant every word of it.

A NEW GENERATION

His eloquent inaugural speech—"let the word go forth . . . that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans"—was a fervent plea for peace that brought almost universal praise. Even Republicans were impressed.

Kennedy and the eager young men around him set such a pace in those early weeks that Washington, always an exciting place when a new administration takes over, seemed in a ferment that would stir it to the bottom of its bureaucracy.

But fate was unkind to Kennedy.

Even then, before his administration had a chance to get shaken down properly, came April 17 and the Cuban invasion—a shocking, humiliating failure that was heard, and denounced, around the world.

'IF I'M ELECTED'

"If I am elected next Tuesday," Kennedy had said in his New York speech, "I want to be a president known—at the end of four years—as one who not only held back the Communist tide but advanced the course of freedom and rebuilt American prestige—not by words but by doing great deeds as a good neighbor—not by tours and conferences abroad, but by vitality and direction at home."

A mighty high standard, maybe too high for these clamorous, uncertain times.

Disillusionment was bound to come.

Yet Kennedy judged the Eisenhower administration by these standards, and he asked that he be judged by them, too.

And so, as in subsequent stories we examine where he has failed and where he has succeeded, we'll have Kennedy's own high view of the office to guide us.

Albania Break Shakes Solid Red Bloc

WASHINGTON (AP)—The diplomatic break between Albania and the Soviet Union raised prospects today for further cracks appearing in the once seemingly solid Communist world.

★ ★ ★

U.S. experts figured a logical next step would be Albania's expulsion from the Warsaw Pact, the Moscow-directed military alliance of European Communist countries, and withdrawal of relations with Tirana by the Soviet Union's European satellites.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Whether the Red Chinese follow suit on the Soviet break with Albania or whether they openly flout Moscow by maintaining friendship with the tiny Balkan state, the omens of further friction in the Communist camp were pleasing from the Western view.

'DISCONTENT'

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball saw the Moscow-Tirana break as "evidence of a very considerable amount of discontent and disagreement in the Communist bloc."

★ ★ ★

"It indicates another rift of consequence" in what "appeared to be a monolithic structure," Ball said Sunday night during a television interview—NBC, Meet the Press.

★ ★ ★

U.S. authorities were not prepared to say that Albania has left the Soviet bloc, as Yugoslavia did when kicked out of the Cominform in 1948. In general, Washington counts as Soviet bloc members those whose foreign policy is Moscow-controlled.

★ ★ ★

Nor was any prediction available that the United States would soon extend aid to Albania, as it has to Communist Yugoslavia and Poland—still a member of the Soviet bloc. Albania has been getting aid from Red China and Albania's Communist leader Enver Hoxha has said he would not accept assistance from the West.

U.S. CAUTIOUS

Washington officials were careful to point out that the Soviet-Albanian withdrawal of diplomatic representatives, announced Sunday through the official Albanian news agency Ata, was just a further deterioration in a rift between the two countries which has been widening for some time.

★ ★ ★

Both the Russians and the Albanians had been decreasing their diplomatic staffs in the other's capital before the break. The Albanians were absent from last October's Communist party congress in Moscow and from some Warsaw Pact meetings. As Soviet bloc aid to Albania has been chopped down, Red China's has increased.

★ ★ ★

From a strategic standpoint, Albania—a mountainous Mediterranean land about the size of Maryland with a 1.5 million population—is unique among European bloc countries in that it has no common border with the bloc. Its land neighbors are Yugoslavia and Greece.

Realty Prices Leveling

NEW YORK (UPI)—The boom in real estate prices appears to be leveling off in most areas of the country with the exception of California and the southwest, according to many land developers. A Federal housing official contends that "the U.S. is at the top of the land cycle."

Jamaica Pushes Drive to Improve Travel Facilities

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI) — The government of this Caribbean island is pushing a three-pronged program to improve its land, sea and air facilities.

A new jet-age airport will be completed here next month, the second to be built on the island in two years. The other is at Montego Bay.

A program to rebuild the island's 2,600 miles of main roadways started in 1955 and is continuing at an annual cost of $3 million. Jamaica's railroad will retire its last piece of steam locomotive equipment in little more than a year as new self-propelled diesel units take over.

Since 1950, three new ports have been built and a fourth, now under construction, will bring the island's total to 15.

Millions Likely to Get Higher Interest on Savings

Editor's Note — Recently the Federal Reserve Board authorized commercial banks to raise some interest rates on savings up to 4 per cent beginning Jan. 1. The following article shows what has happened since this ruling and how it may affect the millions of depositors around the nation.

By RICHARD H. HOENIG
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 million thrift-minded Americans eventually may find more money in their savings accounts—just by sitting back and waiting. This will be the result of recent changes in an administrative rule most people weren't aware even existed.

4 PER CENT

The rule is Regulation "Q" of the Federal Reserve Board and the change will permit most of the nation's commercial banks to pay up to 4 per cent interest on savings left in the bank over a year and 3½ on savings left in for less than six months. Until Jan. 1 the limit is 3 per cent.

Not all of the estimated 110 million depositors in various savings institutions will benefit immediately. But starting next month a small number scattered from New York to California will begin earning more on the dollars they save. The number is expected to swell as months pass.

Most savings dollars are held by three different types of financial institutions. They are commercial banks, savings and loan associations and savings banks.

COMMERCIAL BANKS

Commercial banks are corporations owned by stockholders and can be distinguished by the checking services they offer. They pay interest to savings account holders.

Savings and loan associations are mutual cooperative share account institutions which pay interest-dividends to account holders.

SAVINGS BANKS

★ ★ ★

The latter two institutions pay more interest—as dividends—than commercial banks. One purpose of the new regulation change was to permit banks to compete better for the privilege of keeping the public's money, and making it earn its keep.

★ ★ ★

Just a week after the Federal Reserve and Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. raised the maximum interest rate permitted, a score of banks in 14 states had announced higher rates. They include Chase Manhattan of New York City, second largest bank in the country.

Savings and loan officials everywhere began considering countermeasures at once. One of the largest in Missouri, Community Federal Savings & Loan Association of St. Ann, jumped its dividend to 4.5 per cent from 4.25.

SAVER WINS

About the only winner in this looming tug of war is likely to be the saver.

For over a decade, banks and savings and loans firms have been battling for savings dollars because these deposits are the basis for all their lending and other activities. The savings and loans have had the best of its since their dividends aren't regulated by anyone.

REGULATED

Since 1957 commercial banks, the type that also offer checking services, have been limited by Regulation Q to paying 3 per cent on savings.

Since 1945 savings and loan growth has been about six times as great as that of the commercial banks.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless a big majority of banks indicated a cautious attitude toward raising their interest rates. Some experts thought it would be a while before the increases filtered down to smaller communities, away from financial centers where competition is keenest.

★ ★ ★

President Clark Beis of Bank of America of San Francisco, the biggest bank in the world, anticipated "little if any change," under current interest rate patterns. In the same vein, Crosby Kemper Sr. chairman of the City National Bank & Trust Co., one of Kansas City's largest, said he doesn't believe the big banks will pay higher interest because they can't afford it.

COMPETITION STIFF

Others think the regulation Q change eventually will affect most banks. Over 400,000 savings account holders of Chase Manhattan of New York, will be earning 3½ per cent instead of 3 beginning Jan. 1.

"No one can estimate today how many banks will raise their rates but there is no doubt that in most places where competition exists for savings the rates will go up," said a spokesman for the American Bankers Association.

"I would expect the average rate paid by commercial banks to move up to 3 per cent or so," he added. That would be more than ½ per cent above the present average return of 2.36 per cent.

Commercial banks have about $82 billion in savings accounts and time deposits, up 10 per cent in the first 10 months of 1961. Time deposits are money left undisturbed for definite periods such as six months, mostly by corporations. Banks have an estimated 60 million savings and time deposits accounts, based on Federal Reserve figures.

The country's 6,300 savings and building and loan associations have about $78 billion in assets, or savings money, with over 30 million account holders, based on Federal Home Loan Board figures.

MONEY GOES WEST

"It is a natural expectation that savings and loan associations will move up from their present rate level," said Ed Hiles, executive vice president of the Georgia Savings and Loan League.

Savings and loans on the west coast have been paying 4½ per cent generally and 4.6 per cent in a few cases. This has attracted money from all over the country. These rates are higher than the average for the nation, however. In New York State the average rate is about 3¾ per cent.

Some 500 mutual savings banks chartered in 18 states hold another $36 billion of savings money in about 22 million accounts. Their rates are regulated to some degree in nine states. Nationally they paid an average 3.63 per cent on last June 30, according to the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Almost half of the 127 in New York State will pay 4 per cent on two-year money after Jan. 1.

Death Rate in Fires Highest at 65, Over

NEW YORK (UPI)—The highest death rate by fire is among persons 65 years of age and over, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

★ ★ ★

The second highest rate is among children under 5 years of age.

Safety experts advise parents to keep matches out of reach of children and forbid youngsters to operate electrical appliances unless an adult is present.

★ ★ ★

Old persons should be warned to try to leave a burning house as soon as possible, the underwriters said.

Cold Produces New Amplifiers

Scientists Find Gases Cooled to Liquids Have Great Sensitivity

NEW YORK (AP) — An extremely deep freeze process, that has given birth to a new science, is producing some interesting results on the American technological front.

Called cryogenics, this science's stock in trade is supercold, ranging nearly all the way down to absolute zero (minus 459 degrees Fahrenheit). This super cold is generated by liquified gases.

By applying these gases to common items and processes, says Steelways, the publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, scientists have produced: microwave amplifiers hundreds of times more sensitive than present radar, natural gas converted into liquid form for easy shipment abroad, greater speed in computers and other electronic devices.

Full realization of Cryogenics' promise depends on successful fabrication of materials to store the super-cold gases, the magazine says.

The steel industry recently has made what may become a significant break-through — a new steel that could cut 10 per cent from the cost of erecting storage vessels to hold gases.

Pontiac Press Photos

Pontiac Northern High School's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will open at a matinee performance Wednesday. Appearing in the Christmas classic will be (from left) Albert Monroe, West Ann Arbor Avenue, as Kasper; Peter Pratt, North Edith Street, Amahl; and Cheryl Montgomery, Cameron Street, the mother.

Pontiac Northern Plans Menotti's Yule Classic

Four performances of Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be presented this week by the drama and vocal music departments of Pontiac Northern High School.

Matinees will be Wednesday and Friday for elementary and junior high school students. Evening performances will be 8 p.m. Thursday and Saturday.

Directed by Melvin Larimer, vocal music instructor, and Anthony Chiarilli, drama coach, the performances will feature double casting. Amahl will be played by Peter Pratt and Earl Myers, sixth grade boys. The mother will be Cheryl Montgomery and Patricia Wampler.

Playing the three kings will be Albert Monroe and Ronald McDonnell — Kasper; Jerry Brabant—Melchior; and Elgin Peterson-Balthazar.

Sandra Trietsch, pianist, and a full orchestra will accompany the presentation. Sandra Sommerville, Michigan State University student teacher in vocal music, will assist in directing the production. The choreography is directed by Jackie Rae Voorhees, assisted by Madeline McDonnell.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Woman Discusses Yule Traditions

Mrs. George Gaches spoke concerning "Christmas Traditions" when the Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church gathered at the home of Mrs. Percy Hunt on Cherokee Road, Friday.

★ ★ ★

Luncheon chairman, Mrs. William Knudsen was assisted by Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. C. J. Barrett, Mrs. E. M. Peterson and Mrs. Engel Groenberg.

★ ★

Mrs. E. R. Bigler read a Christmas story for devotions.

Thelma Lee Edwards Weds John C. Whaley

White poinsettias banked the altar in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church for the Saturday vows of Thelma Lee Edwards of Pinegrove Avenue to John C. Whaley. Rev. G. J. Bersche performed the two o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of John C. Edwards of Union Lake and the late Mrs. Catherine Edwards. The Harvey Whaleys of Hogarth Street, Waterford Township, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's ballerina-length dress of white silk chiffon featured a white velveteen bodice with bateau neckline and shirred elbow-length sleeves. A pearl crown caught bouffant shoulder-length illusion veiling. She held a nosegay of white chrysanthemums and pink rosebuds.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. John C. Hazlett, her sister's matron of honor, appeared in a pink brocade sheath dress with matching tulle overskirt. A veiled pink feather hat and nosegay of pink rosebuds and white carnations completed her ensemble.

★ ★ ★

After a mid-afternoon reception in the Sunnyvale Chapel Hall on Pontiac Lake Road, the couple left for a motor trip through New York State and New Jersey. They will live in Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

The bride attended Missionary Training College, Nyack, N.Y. Mr. Edwards holds a degree from Northwestern University, Chicago, and attended Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. and the Rensselaer Technical Institute, Rensselaer, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

Miss Joseph Repeats Vows in Church Rites

The Everett Josephs of Lochaven Road, Waterford Township and the Robert Robertsons of Dexter Road, parents of the newlyweds, received guests in the church parlors.

The bride's floor-length gown was styled with molded bodice of white Chantilly lace with draped shoulder-line and bouffant tiered skirt of nylon net over taffeta. Her silk illusion veil was fitted to a pearl headpiece and she held a white Bible topped with white Shasta daisies and chrysanthemums.

BEST MAN

The newlyweds will live on South Marshall Street. Mr. Robertson attended Ferris Institute.

36 Couples Attend Party

Gifts brought by members for the boys attending winter camp at Camp Oakland were grouped around a tall silver tree.

The Leland Martins, who were chairmen, were assisted by the Clement Clevelands, the Wesley Tindalls, and the Joseph Taunts. The greens and wreaths were brought by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes.

Tuesday Musicale Sets Concert

The annual Christmas concert presented by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus is slated for 1:30 Tuesday afternoon in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer is director for the program. Helen Schmitz will be accompanist.

Jean Huttula, Pontiac Central High School senior, will be violin soloist with Alice Furlong accompanying.

Miss Huttula, Pontiac Tuesday Musicale's 1961 scholarship winner, attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen for eight weeks last summer where her record was reported outstanding. She is concert mistress of the All-City Orchestra.

Selections by Miss Huttula will be "Ciaccona," by Vitali; "Cavatina," Raff; and "Csardas," Monti.

Soprano soloists on the program will be Mary Ann LaMonte, with "Christmas Lullaby", and Muriel Mercer, "Happy Sounds," a 14th Century tune.

Holiday favorites scheduled for the concert include Bach's "Christmas Cantata," No. 142; Tschaikowsky's "Nut-Cracker Suite" with Ethel Forman as second pianist; and Levene's "Ring Those Christmas Bells," by the chorus.

★ ★ ★

Party, Meeting Are Held by Church Units

Mrs. George Gaches of Moreland Avenue was hostess Friday evening for the annual Christmas party of the Standish Group of the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Sol Kline and Mrs. Ralph Howell served a holiday dessert.

The story of the Nativity was read by several members and Mrs. Ray Meiser led the singing of carols.

Mrs. Forest Bouck opened her new home in Fox Bay, Waterford Township Friday afternoon for the December meeting of the Saybrook Group.

Assisting her with the luncheon were Mrs. Wilbur Ott, Mrs. William Hempton and Mrs. William Coleman.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Major Ernest Alder of the Pontiac Salvation Army spoke about the social service unit of the organization. Mrs. Arthur Selden gave Christmas devotions and Mrs. Carl Leonard led the group in carol singing.

DONNA MARGARET PARSONS

A January wedding is planned by Donna Margaret Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Parsons of Genes Drive to Airman 3.C. Richard M. Bradshaw, son of the Charles Bradshaws of Second Avenue. He attends Air Force School at Amarillo, Tex.

Should Junior Come Out Fighting?

Olive Branch or Club?

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to add my two cents to the debate of whether parents should teach their children to fight back:

When our son was young, he was picked on by every bully in the neighborhood. My husband forbid our boy to raise his hands in violence against another. Yes, even in self-defense. We held back the tears when the little fellow would come home bloody and whipped. My husband taught him that the difference between man and animal was that man was endowed by his Creator with the intelligence to reason. Animals relied on their brute strength.

ABBY

Today our son is an outstanding lawyer. In his childhood he lost many a fist fight, but since he has achieved manhood he has lost very few cases.

PROUD MOM

DEAR ABBY: The letter from MRS. A., who didn't know what to do about her son who took a licking from all the kids in the neighborhood, reminded me of my own experience:

When our boy was 7, he took numerous beatings from a neighbor boy who was the same age, but much bigger. From my window I saw the bigger boy pick a fight with mine. My boy would run away, but the bigger boy would chase him and continue to hit him.

I got so furious I ran outside, took my boy's fists and literally forced him to pound the other boy, but good. The boy's father came out and do you know, he took me to court!

It seems there is a law against what I had done. From then on I let the boys fight it out themselves.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR ABBY: I have news for MRS. A., whose son was the neighborhood punching bag. I was once in that spot myself, but fortunately we had an uncle living with us who used to be a prize fighter.

He taught me how to take care of myself if anybody got rough. I didn't have to use my dukes many times, but when I did, it came in very handy. You should have told the mother to give the kid boxing lessons.

SMALL BUT POWERFUL

DEAR ABBY: I used to live by the rule, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." If someone slugged me, I'd slug them back.

I never lost an eye, but I lost plenty of teeth before I learned that knocking out somebody else's teeth didn't replace my own.

PEACE LOVING

★ ★ ★

DEAR "PROUD MOM, LEARNED A LESSON, SMALL BUT POWERFUL" and "PEACE-LOVING": A compromise is usually the best way to settle an argument. In answer to the question, "Should a small boy be taught to fight back?", I quote Theodore Roosevelt:

"SPEAK SOFTLY — BUT CARRY A BIG STICK."

You Can't Evaluate a Pet

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Did you ever take tests just for fun? Well, I've just finished one — a test dreamed up by the Humane Society of the United States to help us find out whether or not we have a high P.Q.—pet quotient, that is.

★ ★ ★

"Are you planning to regard the new pet as a full member of your family and to be responsible for it 24 hours a day, 365 days a year?"

At that point everyone in the family is saying, "It won't be a bit of trouble. Isn't it the cutest thing?" You always have to agree to the latter — and then it's too late to think about the 24-hours-a day, 365-days-a-year responsibility. You've got it, and that's that.

★ ★ ★

"Do you know the cost of caring for the contemplated pet? Are you able and willing to meet that cost? In 10 years a city dog will cost a minimum of close to $1,000."

I must admit that I've never figured the lifetime cost of a pet in advance. I've never figured it up afterward, either.

★ ★ ★

To tell the truth, it seems almost as hard-hearted to keep track of a pet's expenses as to remind a child of all you've done for him. You just do whatever is needed and whatever has to be done and that's that.

Besides, how could you possibly balance the books? What's a dog's happy tail wag worth, for instance? Does it balance a bill from the vet?

Come to think of it, maybe that's the fun of taking tests. So rarely is there a simple "Yes" or "No" answer—even when that is all you are expected to give. At best you usually have to answer "Yes . . . but" or "No . . . but on the other hand."

You can't even test a person's P.Q. (or what kind of a pet owner he'll make) by any flat yes or no answers to a lot of questions. For how can you tell how much you are going to love a pet until he has had a chance to wag or purr or clown his way into your heart?

★

Your husband should rank above a pet, so why not read "How to Have a Happy Husband"? Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press.

Engagement Isn't Cricket If He's Wed

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going with a man who is married and has two children. His wife has started suit for divorce and, after this becomes final, we are marrying. May I accept a ring from him before the time has passed?

Everyone knows she has left him and is suing for divorce, and as long as we have definite plans I'd like my family to announce them. Would this be in good taste?

A: It would be in very bad taste for your family, or you, to make a public announcement before your fiance-to-be is legally free. I certainly do not think it wise to accept his ring or consider yourself engaged while he is still the husband of another.

Q: Will you please tell me if it is in bad taste for a young couple to walk on the street holding hands?

A: On a country road they might, but they certainly should not on a city street.

Q: My fiance's parents are divorced and both have remarried. I would like to know if both parents should be asked for a list of guests they wish to be invited to the wedding, or is the bridegroom's mother alone asked for a list?

A: I would suggest you discuss this with your fiance, telling him the total number of invitations you can send to friends and relatives of his family, and ask him to decide how to divide this number between the lists of his father and mother.

Be Foot-Loose

Poor Tired Dogs Need Care

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

How are you treating your feet? I am much more interested in heads and hearts than feet but, after all, these underpinnings carry the burden of body weight, poor posture, snow, cold, rainy weather and dancing, even The Twist!

I would much rather punish my feet with dancing (bet they like it better, too) than with the extremely pointed-toed shoes I have been wearing. (I couldn't find any others which did not look like snowplows.)

My feet were never things of beauty, but I had no corns or anything like that. Now I have one toe which looks disjointed. Fortunately, shoes gradually are becoming more normal, and I suppose that one toe is a small price to pay for not having to go barefoot for the last few years.

Have you had a similar experience? If so, please write and tell me, because as you know, misery likes company, even loves it. Brother!

One of the tenets of foot health is a well-fitted shoe, but let's forget that for the moment. There are other things we can do to make our feet and ourselves comfortable. For one, you would not go into a well-heated building (usually an overheated building) and keep a heavy raincoat on. That is just what you ask your feet to do when you do not remove galoshes or rubbers when you are indoors. This is extremely irritating to your feet.

Also, your feet may well profit by special exercises, just as you do. If there is any suggestion of weak arches, or if you are overweight, you would be smart to take a few arch exercises regularly.

EXERCISE

The following exercise is a well-known one, but very effective and sort of fun. Put some marbles or pencils on the floor. You can borrow your son's marbles or buy some at the dime store. Pick the marbles (or pencils) up with your toes and then toss them away. Repeat this many times with both feet.

Also, remember that your feet need nightly lubrication during cold weather, especially the heels and the cuticle about the toes.

★ ★ ★

For other profitable exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Open House Scheduled by Navy Mothers' Club

The Pontiac Navy Mothers' Club will furnish and serve refreshments for an open house Wednesday when the Naval Training Center receives a citation at the West Huron Street headquarters.

The group will contribute to the toy and doll fund and will help dress dolls now on hand for Christmas giving to Navy children. Food baskets are being prepared for needy area veterans' families.

At the Thursday evening meeting Mrs. William Christie read letters from the U.S. Veterans Hospital in Battle Creek outlining plans for the Christmas party to which the local Navy Mothers contribute each year.

Past Commanders attending the Christmas dinner and party in Detroit this week were Mrs. Alma Cowley, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mrs. Mark W. Kinney, Mrs. Vinton Ball and Mrs. Christie. Mrs. Kinney was elected club adjutant and Mrs. Cowley was voted a member. Mrs. Ball also attended the recent state board meeting.

A social evening will follow the 6:30 cooperative family dinner on Dec. 16 for the Mother's Club in the Naval Training Center. Mrs. Vidal Gonzales, Mrs. Russel Canterbury, Mrs. Gordon C. Boice and Mrs. Kinney are in charge.

Mrs. Ball will accept contributions toward the bakeless bake sale to benefit the State Club at the next business meeting on Jan. 4.

Sorority to Help Needy Area Family

Members of Xi Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will bring food, toys and clothing for a needy area family to the annual Christmas party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Forsyth on St. Joseph Road.

Mrs. Wendell Doolin of Nichols Drive was hostess for the December business meeting.

Crumbs Coat Dumplings Baked With Veal Cubes

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In answer to our request for more meat recipes, Mrs. Louis Towers of Cedar Island Lake telephoned in with this one for Veal Dumplings. It is a family recipe, she says.

Mrs. Towers, the mother of three youngsters, says homemaking and cooking are her hobbies.

VEAL DUMPLINGS
By Mrs. Louis Towers

2 pounds veal steak
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ cup salad oil
1¾ cups small cooked onions, drained
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
1 cup water

Coat meat with mixture of flour and paprika and pound in. Cut meat into 2-inch cubes. Brown in oil. Place in large flat baking pan and add drained onions.

Combine soup and water in skillet in which meat was browned. Bring to a boil and pour over meat. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Dumplings

2 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon each celery seed, dry onion flakes and poppy seed
¼ cup salad oil
1 cup milk

Sift dry ingredients. Add seasonings, oil and milk. Stir to moisten. Drop by spoonfuls into mixture of ¼ cup melted butter or margarine and 1 cup bread crumbs. Place on top of meat and bake until brown, about 15 minutes.

Heat a second can of cream of chicken soup with 1 cup sour cream. Do not boil. Pour over meat and dumplings, or serve separately as a sauce. Serves 6 to 8.

Gifts for Home Are Collected

Gifts for the folks at Hilltop Rest Home were brought to the Brooklyn Avenue home of Mrs. Byfourd Laur Thursday evening, for a meeting of Rho Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority. Mrs. Ronald Carr was cohostess.

Mrs. Theodore Fauble of the Pontiac Story League told her sorority sisters the story of "The Juggler of Notre Dame" by Anatole France. Mrs. Melvin A. Boersma directed the singing of Christmas carols.

New members, Mrs. I. Joseph Davis and Mrs. Curtis Cheek were welcomed.

Agnes Shipman of Kansas City, founder of the sorority, will visit the group on Feb. 12.

Fellowship Class Schedules Dinner

★ ★ ★

Dinner chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Walter De Nio. The John Cowes and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis will present the program.

★ ★ ★

Bridge to Understanding Goes 2 Ways

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

What junk you write. That article about the girl who said "I don't feel like it" when her mother asked her to turn down the TV volume made me sick.

That mother should have given her a good crack in the face instead of turning down the TV herself and saying, "I'll want to know why you wouldn't do what I asked when I've finished this phone call."

ANSWER: I have a little story I want to tell you.

I once knew a Miss F who ran a little book and stationery shop which supported her and her mother. One fall when she renewed her lease her landlord had ordered, she began to cry. "You must forgive me," she said. "Everything is still in a mess and I've been working late . . . and Mrs. Lawrence, my mother . . . she doesn't love me . . . last night when I got home so tired I could hardly walk she never noticed . . . she never saw. She just said, 'Go and get me . . .'"

Miss F had to see a doctor that afternoon.

You see, this grown child had a very reasonable reason for not feeling like obeying her mother's order to make her a cup of tea.

Sometimes younger children too have reasonable reasons for not jumping to our orders.

If we feel no interest in his reasons sooner or later he may know himself to be unloved. The question "Why didn't you do what I asked you to do?" is the bridge we make between us and a resisting child across which he can come over to us and tell us why he is worried, how he has been unwittingly hurt, what is troubling him so that he has been unable to serve us willingly.

★ ★ ★

Do you always feel like doing what you're told? Are there never times for you when you want someone to say, "Why didn't you do as I asked? Are you tired? What is wrong? Tell me?"

Chapter Shows Creative Gifts

Creative gifts for children to make were displayed by members of Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Alton Rowley on Seymour Lake, Ortonville. Mrs. Gerald Burley was cohostess.

★ ★ ★

Gifts brought for the Oakland County Children's Home and for Pontiac State Hospital patients were tagged.

★ ★ ★

Fete Savedges on Milestone

Yellow chrysanthemums and gilt pine cones set the theme for the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Benson H. Savedge observed at an open house given by their sons and daughters Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ray Rooney of Oshawa Circle was hostess, assisted by the anniversary couple's other children William and Benson Savedge and Mrs. Kenneth Sutton, all of Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

The couple has 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Units Busy With Yule Activities

Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. C. M. Saunders, Mrs. Dewey Taylor, Mrs. R. C. Cummings and Mrs. Bessie M. Brown.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Asa L. Drury chose "Advent" for her devotional topic and Mrs. Clifford C. Grovogel was in charge of the Christmas program.

Officers for 1962 were installed by Mrs. H. E. McCullough and Mrs. Mallory F. Coleman was recipient of a gift for her services as past chairman.

Guests of the group were Mrs. William Garner, Mrs. Charles Grant and Mrs. McCullough. Mrs. William Jones was welcomed as a new member.

Yomar Group met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. James Spark on Parkway Avenue. Mrs. Sam Miller assisted with refreshments.

Mrs. Donald Williams gave the Bible study and Mrs. Emil Bruestle gave two Christmas readings, "Story of the Christmas Bells" and "Christmas Years Ago." Mrs. George Sullivan led carol singing.

The group will meet for cooperative dinner Jan. 4 at the church.

The Faith Group of the First Presbyterian Church met Friday for a luncheon and Christmas party at the Union Lake home of Mrs. Frank Wilson. Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Harold Smead and Mrs. Robert Sigler.

Mrs. Willis Brewer read a prayer written by Mrs. Ching Ling Lee of Hong Kong from "The Fellowship of the Least Coin." A special gift acknowledged her work as chairman of the Faith Group. Mrs. Randall Spurgeon is incoming chairman.

Some 35 members of the July-August group were Friday luncheon guests of Mrs. Robert Oliver of West Iroquois Road. Cohostesses were Mrs. Warren Abbott and Mrs. John Patterson.

Mrs. Paul Kern read a Christmas prayer from "The Fellowship of the Least Coin" and gave her impressions of Hong Kong, recently visited. White elephant gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. C. J. Nephler of Cherokee Road opened her home Friday to the September-October group who gathered for the annual Christmas tea and white elephant gift exchange.

The afternoon opened with a prayer by Mrs. Charles Allen and closed with a Christmas poem read by Mrs. Elaine Malone.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Howard D. Glenn, Mrs. Frank B. Gerls and Mrs. E. L. Page.

MOMS Members Exchange Presents

The Past Presidents Club for Zone 5, MOMS of America, exchanged gifts Thursday evening at a Christmas buffet supper in the home of Mrs. Frank J. Polasek, Auburn Heights. Mrs. Jeanie Burgdorf assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Malcolm Scantland gave the devotions and a Chrjstmas prayer and Mrs. Arthur Burgess conducted the business meeting. New member Mrs. Joe A. Goedeke was welcomed.

A Bible has been sent to the U.S. Veterans Hospital in Iron Mountain in memory of the late Mrs. Samuel Sprague, Michigan State Board chaplain.

Mart Sees Substantial Gain

Steels and Motors Being Bought

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrials moved forward in response to strong investment demand and gave the stock market a substantial gain despite some profit taking early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains of fractions to a point among pivotal issues outnumbered losers in the same range.

Sttels, motors and some oils were bought heavily, reflecting institutional interest. The leading tobaccos, some airlines and rails also improved.

★ ★ ★

Reports of continuing strong demand for steel combined with general optimism among market analysts as background factors in the advance.

American Telephone touched a new high at the opening and bettered it as the session went on, showing a gain of well over a point. Irregularity prevailed among other utilities. Houston Light & Power added around 4. Eastern Gas & Fuel, Consolidated Edison and Public Service Electric & Gas were moderate losers.

★ ★ ★

Xerox added more than 7. Korvette ran up more than 2. Woolworth advanced a couple of points as Christmas shopping was reported burgeoning.

★ ★ ★

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in heavy trading. Gains of around 2 points were posted for Gulton Industries and Gulf American Land. Up a point or so were R. C. Williams and Livingston Oil. Active fractional gainers included Stanrock Uranium, Pacific Petroleum and H. L. Klion. Technicolor was off about a point. Associated Oil & Gas was fractionally lower in brisk trading.

Bond Prices Are Steady

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities said the only price movements were a few, minus 1-32s scattered throughout the list. There was little volume.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange industrials pushed upward a bit but this was balanced by a dip in utilities. Rails held mixed.

There were hardly any changes amounting to a full point. An exception were Boston & Maine Railroad 4½s up 1 at 45½.

National Output to Be High in '62

Insurance Firm Sees Gross Products 9 Pct. Above 1961

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — The Prudential Insurance Co. today predicted the largest increase in national output in 1962 and a Gross National Product (GNP) of $566 billion.

The prediction was made in a forecast issued by Prudential President Louis R. Menagh. The predicted GNP represents a $46 billion, or 9 per cent, increase over the estimated GNP of $520 billion for 1961.

According to the forecast, the gain will represent "an increase in real output instead of a bookkeeping rise resulting from inflated dollars."

Public spending was expected to increase by $25 billion; business spending by $5 billion and government expenditures by $11 billion, the forecast said.

Unemployment, however, would remain a problem, the forecast said.

A large increase in the labor force plus "inadequate training, poor information regarding job openings and lack of geographic mobility" will keep the unemployment rate over 5 per cent throughout the year, according to the forecast.

In foreign trade, "The U.S. is still plagued by the wage-price spiral; productivity is not advancing as rapidly in this country as in Europe and Japan; and the necessity for heavy government grants and loans abroad appears to be increasing rather than decreasing," the report said.

"The best that can be hoped for in this area is that the trade surplus will be held at the 1961 level," Prudential's forecast said.

Grain Mart Trade Brisk but Balanced

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade was active but fairly well balanced and prices of grain futures started today in a narowly mixed range.

Wheat, corn and soybeans shifted only minor fractions from previous closes during the first several minutes with more gains than losses. Oats and rye were mostly easier.

Say Farm Supports Violate Divine Law

CHICAGO (AP) — President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation today attacked federal farm price support and control programs as violations of divine law.

★ ★ ★

He said that by giving something for nothing through subsidies and by limiting individual "the unmistakable pattern of God's plan" that individuals accept and discharge greater responsibilities.

★ ★ ★

Shuman took that position in a talk prepared for his organization's annual convention which opened Sunday and extends through Thursday. The farm leader has been a sharp critic of Kennedy administration farm policies.

Recovery, Common Mart, Etc.

'61's Top Business Stories

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business on the upgrade again and a stock speculation bubble that burst vied for the headlines in 1961 with a gathering trade and tariff storm and the jump in defense spending. And here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business stories of a turbulent year.

1. Recovery from recession. Industry dragged along the bottom in the first three months of the year, made an impressive if short comeback, took a late summer and early fall siesta, and then started forward again briskly at the end of the year. Each turn, or failure to turn, made news.

2. The stock market. The spring saw the public clamoring to buy stocks they thought glamorous, many of almost unknown companies. The speculative spree soon brought a rough hangover for many get-rich-quick artists. In the final weeks of the year many of the blue chips climbed to new highs.

★ ★ ★

3. The Common Market. Europe's experiment in trading blocs paid off big. Americans began to debate bitterly how the United States should meet the challenge —by lowering tariffs to get in step, or by raising tariffs to protect home industries from invasion of cheaper foreign goods.

COLD WAR

4. The war of nerves. The Berlin crisis, President Kennedy's ordering a big jump in defense spending, Russia's nuclear bombs, all made headlines on financial as well as front pages. The spending affected prospects in many industries, the mounting Treasury deficit stirred talk of more inflation to come, and business as well as individuals joined in the big debate: To build shelters or not to build shelters, to share them or not to share them.

5. The price-fixing scandal. Business news spilled all over the front pages when 29 electrical equipment makers, including some of the nation's top corporations, were fined $2 million after pleading guilty or no contest to charges of price-fixing and bid-rigging. Seven of their officials were sent to jail. At year end; civil suits seeking damages that some said could run into billions of dollars were being filed by the utilities and other corporations that had bought the electrical equipment.

6. Unemployment. Depressed areas, swelling welfare rolls, long lines at the unemployment benefit payment windows persisted through most of 1961. In the closing weeks the business recovery was helping some, but still not as much as hoped. Variously blamed: Automation, a fast growing labor force, a less than booming growth in the economy.

ANTITRUST SUITS

7. Government vs. business. Some businessmen began saying that the number of antitrust suits and roadblocks against mergers showed an antibusiness bias in Washington, especially distrust of bigness in itself. The administration denied it. The charges and disavowals and later the reconciliation moves, all made news.

★ ★ ★

8. Du Pont's GM stock. The big chemical company's efforts to find the least painful way of obeying a court order to get rid of 63 million General Motors shares made this a cliffhanging item.

★ ★ ★

9. Texas vs. Wall St. The Murchison brothers of Texas won the year's roughest proxy fight. They took control of Alleghany, an investment holding company, away from Woolworth heir Allen P. Kirby.

10. The cost of living. The year's sleeper—prices didn't drop during the recession, nor rise sharply during the recovery. Instead, the cost of living just kept rolling along, slowly rising much of the time to make successive new highs—the one thing in 1961 you could always count on.

Dillon Is Not Concerned Over U.S. Dollar Drain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon expects the U.S. gold-and-dollar outflow to increase in 1962 to between $2 billion and $2.5 billion.

Although this would be higher than the estimated 1961 balance of payments deficit of more than $1.7 billion, Dillon is saying in private conversations the rise is no concern for alarm.

Dillon points out that this year marked a big improvement from the gold-and-dollar drains of the preceding three years, each of which exceeded $3 billion.

Moreover, he is confident that long-run influences are working in the direction of further reductions in the deficit, with the possibility that it can be wiped out entirely within a few years.

The Defense Department also is considering use of German army personnel in operating U.S. military depots in Germany which supply troops of both nations. This would reduce U.S. costs of maintaining the depots.

West Germany already has agreed to purchase some $500 million to $600 million worth of American military material a year. The French have said they want to buy unspecified amounts of U.S.-made aircraft, electronics equipment and other items. U.S. officials plan to talk to the Italians about similar sales.

Besides strengthening NATO forces, the joint-supply arrangements would serve to bring back to this country dollars spent abroad by the government and private citizens.

★ ★ ★

If enough dollars were recovered, there would be no net outflow despite U.S. private investment abroad, foreign aid and other overseas spending.

TO BOOST EXPORTS

Other reasons for Dillon's optimism are the possibility of boosting exports, the prospect of increased dividends on American investments abroad and reduction in the number and size of U.S. military bases overseas.

There are experts in and out of government who would challenge Dillon's optimism. Some authorities doubt that government programs will have as much effect as Dillon hopes.

Some point out that Dillon, as treasury chief, cannot afford to appear other than confident and optimistic about the nagging gold-and-dollar problem.

★ ★ ★

If he didn't think that U.S. policies were curing the malady, they ask, who would? A failure of confidence abroad could lead to another crisis.

More Freeway to Be Opened

Add 35 Miles to Stretch From Ohio to Mackinac Bridge Next Week

LANSING (AP)—Another 35 miles of the 330-mile Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway will be opened to traffic in the next week, the State Highway Department said today.

Twenty-five miles of U.S. 10 freeway between Midland and Clare will be opened Friday. Nine miles of U.S. 23 Freeway between Hartland in Livingston County and Fenton in Genesee County will be opened next Monday.

More than 250 miles of the freeway will be completed with the opening of the new sections. A 190-mile stretch, bypassing Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Midland, Clare, Harrison, Houghton Lake and Grayling, is virtually continuous.

The remaining 75 miles of the freeway are scheduled for completion by the end of next year. It will be extended from the bridge to Sault St. Marie by the end of 1963.

Pontiac Chess Club Downs MSUO Team

Pontiac Chess Club yesterday defeated the Michigan State University Chess Team, 9½ points to 8½, in 18 games.

The Pontiac Chess Club, which draws its membership throughout Oakland County, meets at 7:30 p.m. each Monday at the Adah Shelly Library, E. Rundell Street and Glenwood Avenue.

Meetings of the MSUO Chess Club are announced from time to time on bulletin boards on campus, according to Serge Shishkoff, adviser to the club. The club is made up out of students, but faculty members will join in competitions with groups which have nonstudents as members.

Insiders Fail to Make a Clean Break for It

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Two Oklahoma penitentiary inmates were sought by guards and bloodhounds for four days.

Then they were found inside the prison walls, hiding in a hole they had dug under a shower stall and stocked with food and water.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traditionally, December has been the "silly season" for the stock market, says Winslow, Cohu & Stetson.

Investors and speculators, without heed to prices or value, throw over positions in stocks that have declined in order to establish tax losses, and blithely rush into other stocks that have declined in the hope of catching a good rally when the selling is over, the firm points out.

Winslow-Cohu feels that the current speculative atmosphere is supercharged and suggests that the weeks ahead may see some fairly wild performances.

"Popular favor is turning to the old line blue chips and it is here that speculative excitement would logically be centered," the firm says.

"We still look for a strong advancing market, but from now on would expect increasingly erratic behavior among the leaders as public participation makes its presence felt."

Technical indications, according to E. F. Hutton & Co., still show the major price trend to be a healthy one, and a good month for the market is a strong possibility.

Chartercraft, discussing the immediate trend of the market, believes that bullishness is spreading rapidly over more and more stocks. During the past week, the service reports, 51 stocks reversed their trends — 33 from bearish to bullish and 18 from bullish to bearish.

Trucking industry profits have staged an impressive comeback this year, Standard & Poor's Corp. notes. Based on prospects for further business improvement, the agency adds, the rising trend in intercity truck traffic and tonnage, should continue well into 1962.

Firemen Spend Time Fanning Flames of Love

At 4:55 p.m., Charles William Merriman and Linda Ruth Reed of Knoxville drove up to the fire hall and asked where they could get a marriage license.

"At the courthouse," they were told, "but you've only got five minutes." The lovers rushed off.

At 5, they were back with the license — to find that the firemen also had been busy.

★ ★ ★

At 5:05, Miss Reed became Mrs. Merriman.

At 5:06, the firemen served cake and coffee.

At 5:10, the newlyweds drive away.

Farm Customer Slips

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Latin America is buying fewer farm products from the United States. In the fiscal year ending June 30, the 20 Latin nations bought $338 million worth of U.S. farm products, $110 million less than in the previous year.

Southfield Unit Expected to Appoint James Ginn

James C. Allen, Southfield attorney for almost four years, today handed his resignation to Mayor S. James Clarkson. According to Allen, his resignation will become effective Dec. 31, and in the days remaining he will work with his successor "for an orderly succession of work."

He said he is just carrying out the intention he first expressed—to resign right after the city election last April. He added he bears no animosity toward anyone and will continue in private practice.

SOUTHFIELD—Mayor S. James Clarkson's long battle to appoint James Ginn, county Democratic party chairman, as city attorney may come to an end tonight.

It is expected that a compromise will be reached between the mayor and the City Council with the Council's approval of Ginn's appoitment.

In return, it is anticipated that the mayor will approve council's appointment of Gerald Easlick as city assessor.

The council has turned down Ginn's apjpointment three times during the past eight months on the grounds that the job of city attorney should be nonpartisan.

Further, city officials claimed that he did not have enough experience with municipal government law.

MAY BE ASKED TO QUIT

If appointed, Ginn will be asked by council to give up his political affiliations. If the appointment is approved, Ginn will replace preset city attorney James C. Allen.

Clarkson fired Easlick four months ago as city assessor because of differences of opinion on procedures in assessments. Council then appointed Easlick as assessor consultant.

The mayor vetoed the appointment but later compromised giving the city clerk and treasurer authority to sign Easlick's paycheck. He had been without pay for six weeks.

As far back as May 22, Clarkson delivered an ultimatum of sorts to the council, in a letter stating: "Despite the action of the council, I am still of the opinion that James Ginn is the best qualified attorney for the position.

"I have no intention of submitting the name of someone else whom I consider to be second best," the Mayor said then.

Instruments Are Easy to Play, in Many Cases —Variety Is Wide

Easy-to-play musical intruments that fit personalities as well as pocketbooks can be this year's easy-to-make decisions on what to give people who "have everything."

New portable electrics, from $100, can be played virtually at once. Consoles, from $500, require about three months of instruction and practice.

Often used in grade schools as an introduction to formal music instruction, recorders are equally popular among chamber music lovers. They start at $5.

Other quick-to-learn instruments include the accordion, a variety of drums and the harmonica. Accordions and drums start at $40; harmonicas at 75 cents.

Eight Carpathian walnut varieties rank higher in market quality and probably furnish the best source of propagating material according to Michigan State University horticulturists. The superior varieties are: Hansen; Somers N2; Van Buren; Fickes; Somers NC4; Noggle; Somers N1, W3, and Somers N1, W4.

Retired Persons Unit to Install Officers

New officers of Pontiac Chapter Seven, American Association of Retired Persons, will be installed 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at its meeting in the United Fund Building, Pontiac.

Those taking office will be Maurice E. Fitzgerald, president; Wayne Devor, first vice president; Howard Bell, second vice president; Mrs. Grace Fitzgerald, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Larson, recording secretary; and George Larson, treasurer.

Details for the chapter's Christmas party will be discussed, according to Fitzgerald.

2 Special School Votes Set in Madison Heights

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—Special school elections are being held in two Madison Heights school districts today and tomorrow.

Madison School District voters are balloting today on a $1,300 bond issue for new construction, and voters in Lamphere School District ballot tomorrow on a five-mill operational tax boost and renewal for five years of an existing five-mill tax.

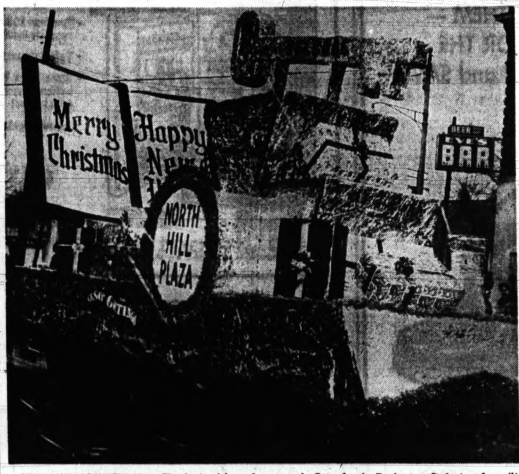
ROUND THE WORLD — Young people dressed in costumes from many lands were on the local Rotary Club float in Saturday's 11th annual Christmas parade in Rochester. They were portraying the theme of the float which was "Christmas and Rotary Around the World."



SEASON'S GREETINGS — The best wishes of the holiday season were offered to residents and visitors by the merchants of North Hill Plaza who entered this float in the Christmas parade Saturday in Rochester. It featured a gilt key to the village on top and gaily decorated packages on all sides.

Short Journeys Can Wear Tires Down Quickly

CHICAGO (UPI)—A short trip to the shopping center may wear your tires more than a long trip on a super highway.

A tire can be worn as much from driving 13 miles an hour around one city street corner as from driving 10 miles without a turn, according to R. L. Marlowe, a physicist at the B. F. Goodrich Research Center.

Marlowe said that the way a driver turns corners, applies his brakes and accelerates are major factors in the life of his tires.

"While these operations take place over a very small part of the total mileage, their effect is large because the rate of wear for these operations can be 1,000 times as high as for normal straight-ahead operations," he said.

Wheels that are out of alignment also cause excessive tire wear, he said.

A 1-degree misalignment can increase the rate of wear seven times, and a 2-degree misalignment will raise it 50 times.

Marlowe said new highways are causing tires to wear out three times faster than older roads.

8 Injured as 3 Cars Collide in Storm

ROMEO—Four adults and four children were injured in a three-car accident in the snow storm Saturday afternoon on E. 32-Mile Road, a mile east of Romeo.

All were taken to the Community Hospital near Almont and are reported in satisfactory condition today.

In one car were Seraph Dansingburg, 27, the driver, and her sister, Cecile, 43, both of 283 E. St. Clair St. The younger woman suffered facial injuries and her sister, broken ribs and leg injuries.

Mrs. Martha Kegler, 30, of 69200 Hicks Road, driver of the second car, sustained facial cuts and chest injuries.

Driver of the third car, Raymond K. Greenman, 29, of 3530 Glover St., Almont, was taken to the Community Hospital with head cuts. His daughter, Deborah J., 5, who was riding with him was the only person in the mishap to escape injury.

According to Romeo State Police, Greenman was traveling south on Powell Road and applied his brakes for the stop sign at 32-Mile Road. His car skidded into the intersection and when he found he couldn't stop, Greenman tried to go on through.

HIT ON BOTH SIDES

His car ran into the side of the Dansingburg auto going west on 32-Mile Road and spun it around. Almost simultaneously the Dansingburg car was hit on the other side by the auto driven by Mrs. Kegler, going in the opposite direction.

From the impact, Greenman's car made a complete U turn heading back up Powell Road. He was ticketed for disregarding the stop sign.

Spend Weekend Inside Shelter

Warren Couple, Son Find Living in Structure Chilly but Okay

WARREN (AP) — A Warren couple and their 4-year-old son spent the weekend in a fallout shelter and found it chilly but otherwise A-OK.

"It was a good chance to get away from the television and talk a little bit," said Max Lehman, 47-year-old production worker in this Detroit suburb.

"We took along plenty of toys and games for David (the Lehmans' 4-year-old son). The only time he seemed anxious to leave was Sunday morning when he heard about the snow. He wanted to build a snow man."

Lehman, his 34-year-old wife and their son entered the family's new back-yard shelter at 5 p.m. Friday. They emerged yesterday after a 43-hour test period, complaining only that it had been a bit chilly.

★ ★ ★

INKSTER (AP) — Rosemary Ballard, 8, one of nine children of Mrs. Mary B. Ballard, died in a fire which swept a two-story duplex here shortly after midnight today.

A neighbor, Ben Woods, 15, told police he climbed to a second-floor bedroom window, kicked out the glass and dropped several of the children to neighbors outside. Rosemary had crawled under a rug in another bedroom, apparently to escape the flames, police said.

Big Snow Accompanies Rochester Yule Parade

ROCHESTER — As if by prearrangement the 11th annual Christmas parade in Rochester and the first big snowfall of the season began at about the same time Saturday afternoon.

The snow provided a fitting backdrop for the arrival of Santa Claus who, although he was last in the line of march, warmed the hearts of the shivering children when he waved to them from his cart.

Not far behind the veterans' color guard was the Downtown Merchants float which had brightly colored and beribboned Christmas presents on it.

★ ★ ★

One of the most appealing entries in the parade was the Avon Players float. It featured live jacks-in-the-boxes, Mrs. Thomas R. Lusk and Mrs. Duane Utech, popping in and out of their boxes and waving to the crowds as they passed by.

BIG TEDDY BEAR

The Mitzelfeld department store float centered by a large teddy bear in a rocking chair drew admiring oh's and ah's from both children and adults along the parade route.

More music was provided by the choristers on the St. Andrew Catholic Church float depicting "The First Christmas."

A new attraction this year was a quartette of baton twirlers, called the Orionettes. They were led by Sandra Sheldon, Miss Orion of 1960.

Also included in the line of march were Rochester and Avon Township officials, Rochester Kiwanis, Rotary Club, North Hill Plaza floats, Leader Dogs for the Blind buses and the Rochester Lions Club clowns.

★ ★ ★

The Avon Youth Recreation program and local cub scout dens also had youngsters in the parade. Another attraction was a U.S. Army missile from the Auburn Heights NIKE site, and pony-drawn carts filled with children.

Other entries included the Rochester Eagles, Michigan Central Christian College, Cases Hardware, the Shriners and the Rochester 4-H riding group, the Trailblazers.

No prizes were given for the best floats this year.

Education Board to Hear Parents

Bus Service Protests Will Be Reviewed by Farmington Unit Tonight

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Board of Education tonight will review the protests of mothers here who kept their children from school three days the last week in November because of a lack of bus service.

Nearly 40 children living in the 13 Mile-Orchard Lake roads area were not permitted to attend classes Nov. 27-28-29 by parents who claimed that their walk to the Bond Elementary School was hazardous because of heavy traffic.

All the children, however, were back in school on the fourth day after the parents were told by Supt. Gerald V. Harrison that the school board would air their complaints. Fourteen families were involved in the boycott.

Harrison also had threatened the parents with court action under the state's mandatory school act if the children were not back in classes the fourth day.

The board of education meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Church Women Plan Christmas Program

WALLED LAKE — The United Lutheran Church Women of Shepherd of the Lakes Evangelical Church here will hold its annual Christmas program at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

The program will be presented by Mrs. Betty Ridley and Pastor Robert Shade and will feature Negro spirituals and scripture. There will be an exchange of dollar gifts.

Members who are making sunshine bags for the library group at the Pontiac State Hospital are to turn them in at the meeting tomorrow as they will be filled at that time. They will be distributed at the hospital Dec. 19.

Rabies Warning Issued by Officials

ROMEO—After laboratory tests showed that a skunk which attacked a dog near here was rabid, Macomb County health officials issued a warning against the chance of rabies in wild animals.

Dr. Oscar D. Stryker, director of the county health department, urged hunters and farmers to report any bites to his office and to capture the animal alive if possible and turn it over to police. They also were asked to notify the health department.

Dr. Stryker said the rabid skunk had bitten a dog on a farm north of 35-Mile Road. The farmer was advised to destroy the dog.

Plowing to a depth of 22 inches increased the yield of corn 15.4 bushels per acre in research conducted by Michigan State University soil scientists.

Detroit Retains 2nd by Beating Vikings, 13-7

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions had visions of clinching a trip to sunny Florida, but the San Francisco 49ers have held up their reservations.

After sputtering their way to a rather lucky 13-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings Sunday at Tiger Stadium, the Lions hopefully waited for the Green Bay Packers to beat the 49ers on the West Coast and guarantee them a trip to Miami for the Playoff Bowl.

But Tommy Davis booted a field goal in the final 11 seconds to give the 49ers a 22-21 verdict over the NFL's Western Division champs so the Lions have no assurances of anything just yet.

If they want to meet the Eastern Division's runnerup team in the 2nd annual Playoff Bowl Jan. 6, they'll have to conquer those rugged Philadelphia Eagles next Sunday at Detroit in the 1961 season finale.

The Lions' hard-earned triumph before 42,655 fans boosted their record to 8-4-1 and kept them in 2nd place in the West.

If the 49ers defeat the Baltimore Colts Saturday in a nationally televised game at San Francisco, the Lions will be forced to whip Philadelphia the following day to earn the bowl berth.

A 49er victory and a Lion loss would deadlock the two teams for 2nd place in which case the 49ers would get the bid because of their decided edge over the Lions in their two meetings — a 49-0 San Francisco win and a 20-20 tie.

Detroit's offense has seldom been more inept than it was yesterday against the Vikings, who have made remarkable progress this year under head coach Norm Van Brocklin.

Only a rock-ribbed defense kept Minnesota at bay and even then, Detroit's harrassed forces needed an assist from the official's flag.

Fullback Mel Triplett raced 42 yards for an apparent touchdown midway through the 4th quarter, which would have put the Vikings ahead with the extra point, but a five-yard penalty for being off side nullified the run.

Then the Vikings knocked on the Lions' door in the last two minutes and that threat to win ended on the Detroit 20-yard stripe as Gary Lowe intercepted Fran Tarkenton's pass in the end zone.

It was a game of defense, erratic offense and breaks. Each team lost the ball three times on fumbles, each team had a field goal try blocked and the Lions intercepted three Tarkenton aerials.

Dick (Night Train) Lane intercepted two of Tarkenton's passes before Lowe pulled off his big interception and it also was Lane who blocked a field goal attempt by Mike Mercer late in the 2nd quarter.

Detroit drove 49 yards in three plays for the touchdown with the key play in the drive a 55-yard pass completion from Ninowski to Gail Cogdill, which put the ball on the Viking seven-yard line.

After looking to the left side for pass receivers, Ninowski swung to the right and rolled into the end zone untouched for a TD. Jim Martin placekicked the 7th point.

Minnesota took the 2nd half kickoff and marched 72 yards in 13 plays behind excellent quarterbacking by Tarkenton, who's going to be an outstanding NFL field general before very long.

Tarkenton's 27-yard aerial to ex-Lion Jerry Reichow aided the push and Triplett picked up 13 yards through guard.

With 3rd and goal to go on the Detroit two and the Lion defense massed for a rush, Tarkenton lobbed a soft pass to Hugh McElhenny, who crossed into pay dirt easily. Mercer converted and the score stood 7-7.

Martin kicked his 2nd field goal of the game and 14th of the season early in the 4th period. Following a Viking punt, another Lion drive was stymied and Martin put three more points on the scoreboard with a field goal from the Minnesota 23.

Giants Nip Eagles, Eye Title Contest

By The Associated Press

Selection of the opponent for the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League's title contest Dec. 31 had narrowed to two teams and two games today.

The teams are the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles. The pressure is strictly on the Eagles. They must win. And even that won't do them any good if the Giants win or tie.

The games are Sunday's Giants-Cleveland Browns encounter in New York's Yankee Stadium and the Eagles-Lions tussle in Detroit's Tiger Stadium in the season windups. A Giants' defeat and an Eagles victory would necessitate a playoff in New York Dec. 24.

The two-team situation in the Eastern Conference was set up Sunday when the Giants edged the Eagles 28-24 in a rip-snorter at Philadelphia to go out in front by one game. The Browns dropped out of the title chase when they were upset by the Chicago Bears 17-14.

PACKERS TOPPED

It didn't mean anything for Green Bay but the Packers were surprised 22-21 by the San Francisco 49ers, who are battling the second place Lions for the right to represent the West in the Bert Bell Memorial Bowl for the conference runners-up at Miami, Fla., Jan. 6. The Lions hold a one-game margin over the 49ers, who wind up at home against Baltimore Saturday.

The Browns need a victory over the Giants and an Eagles' defeat by the Lions to get into the runner-up bowl. Such an outcome would leave Cleveland and Philadelphia tied for second but the Browns hold a point margin over the Eagles after splitting their two regular season games.

In other games Sunday, Pittsburgh defeated Washington 30-14 to run the Redskins' non-winning streak to 23 games over two seasons (they tied three); St. Louis wallped Dallas 31-13 and Detroit got past Minnesota 13-7. Los Angles beat Baltimore 34-17 Saturday.

Charlie Conerly was the key in the Giants' squeaker over the Eagles. The 40-year-old quarterback, a bench warmer most of the season, replaced Y. A. Tittle when the Giants' attack bogged down in the second period with the Eagles leading 10-7. He threw three touchdown passes, one 35 yards to Joe Walton and two of 26 and 11 yards to Del Shofner. Before he left the game, Tittle also hit Shofner with a 46-yard payoff aerial.

TOUCHDOWN PASSES

Sonny Jurgenson also tossed three touchdown passes for the Eagles, two to Tommy McDonald, and altogether picked up 367 yards in the air for an NFL single season record of 3,320 yards in passing. Johnny Unitas held the mark of 3,099 yards, made last year in 13 games.

The Bears came from behind for their triumph with Roger LeClerc's nine-yard field goal with 3:30 left deciding the issue. After yielding two touchdowns in the first period, the Bears put together all of their points in the final quarter. Touchdowns on Willie Galimore's three-yard plunge and a 64-yard pass play from Ed Brown to Angelo Coia preceded LeClerc's field goal.

★ ★ ★

Lou Groza kicked both the extra points after Cleveland's touchdowns to set an all-time league career scoring record of 826 points, two more than Philadelphia's Bobby Walston, who kicked a field goal and three extra points in a losing cause. Don Hutson of Green Bay held the old career mark of 825 points.

LONG MARCH

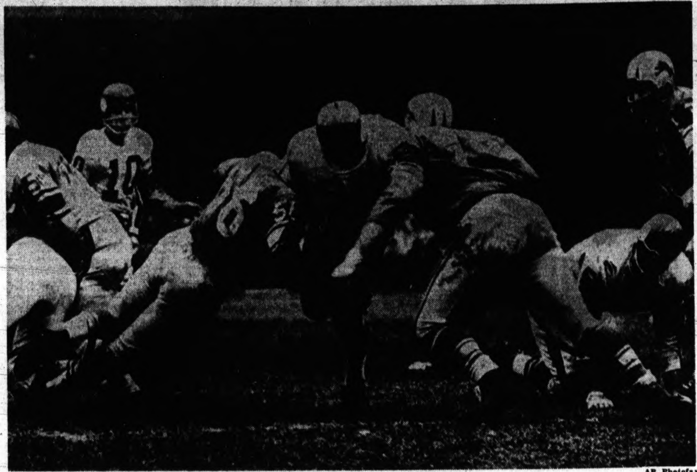
Dallas jumped out in front of St. Louis 13-0 but Sam Etcheverry's arm and John David Crow's legs enabled the Cards to win handily under the direction of three assistant coaches. It was the Cards' first game following the resignation of coach Pop Ivy.

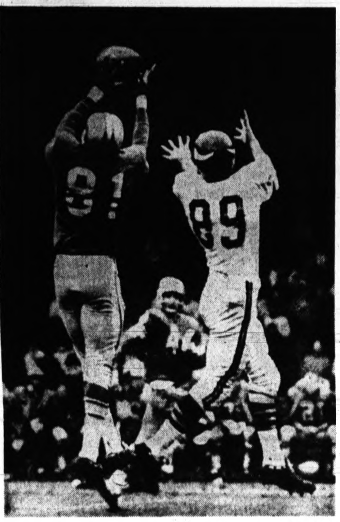
★ ★ ★

Bobby Layne, Pittsburgh's veteran quarterback, got back into the good graces of the Steelers fans when he tied Sammy Baugh's all-time league record of 187 touchdown passes in a career. He fired four in the Steelers' easy triumph.



AP Photofax

GAP CLOSED — Captain Joe Schmidt (left) of the Detroit Lions and big Roger Brown quickly close a gap which was opened for Hugh McElhenny of the Minnesota Vikings. The Viking back got six yards before getting hit by the two Lion defensive stars, and it was this type of defensive play which caried Detroit to a 13-7 victory over the Vikings at Tiger Stadium Sunday.



AP Photofax

TD SETUP — This pass interception by Night Train Lane of the Lions is the play which setup the Detroit touchdown in yesterday's 13-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings at Tiger Stadium. Jerry Reichow (89) of the Vikings was the intended receiver of Fran Tarkenton. Lane also blocked a kick during the game.

Cannon Goes Wild, Houston Sure of Tie

By The Associated Press

There was some question early this season whether Billy Cannon, the Louisiana State All-America who had been no ball of fire in his first year of pro football, would make the Houston team.

There's no question about Billy's ability now — not after Sunday, when Cannon scored five touchdowns, rushed for 216 yards to break the league one-game record and caught passes for 114 yards as the Oilers beat New York 48-21 and became "dormie" in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

Houston clinched no worse than a tie for the title and became a prohibitive favorite to take it all, since only lowly Oakland remains to be played.

That would set up a repeat of last year's championship game in which Houston licked the Los Angeles Chargers, now San Diego. San Diego, which already has sewn up the Western Division championship, beat Buffalo 28-10 while Dallas bashed Denver 49-21

in other Sunday AFL games.

Boston, which whipped Oakland 35-21 Saturday night, remained a game back of Houston in the Eastern Division race and could tie for the championship.

Cannon's 216 yards rushing wiped out the record of 158 set by Abner Haynes of Dallas Nov. 26 against Oakland. The five touchdowns tied the record for one game set by Haynes the same day.

San Diego had trouble with Bufalo but called on its defense to overcome a 10-point deficit, then had Jack Kemp come off the bench and pass it to safety. Keith Lincoln's 57-yard punt return got the Charges moving and an intercepted pass set up the go-ahead touchdown.

Weekend Sweep Puts Wings in Fourth

Stasiuk, Howe Provide Punch in 3-2 Victory

Vic Nets Two Goals, Gord One at Chicago to Edge Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—Gordie Howe and Vic Stasiuk provides the punch that put the Detroit Red Wings all alone in fourth place in the National Hockey League today.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk scored twice—his second the game-winning goal—and Howe once as the Red Wings beat the Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 last night. Howe set up one of Stasiuk's goals and Stasiluk set up Howe's.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings had been tied for fourth with Chicago before the victory.

Chicago jumped off to a quick lead when Eric Nesterenko beat Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk in the first period. Bronco Horvath scored on a power play early in the second period to give Chicago a 2-0 lead.

Detroit came roaring back in the second period as Howe tipped in a long shot by Stasiuk. It was the brilliant right winger's 12th goal of the season.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk tied it up just before the end of the second period. Eddie Litzenberger passed to Alex Delvecchio, who fired a long blast and Stasiuk knocked it in.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk's final goal came in the last period after Howe took the puck away from Chicago defensemen Jack Evans near the Hawks' blue line, slipped past a defender and fed a perfect pass to the charging Stasiuk, who tipped it in.

ON TARGET — San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie (12) picks out his target, R. C. Owens and hits him with a pass in the second quarter against the Green Bay Packers. Hank Gremminger (46) of the Packers pulls R. C. to the ground after the pass gained 40 yards. The 49ers upset the Packers 22-21 to stay in contention for the runnerup spot with the Lions in the Western Division.

Maple Leafs Set Sights on 1st Place Canadiens

By The Associated Press

The muscular Toronto Maple Leafs, now in solid possession of second place in the National Hockey League, have their sights set on leading Montreal — but catching the Canadiens may be something else again.

The Leafs gained one point on the perennial leaders over the weeked and are now three back. Montreal meanwhile extended its string to 12 without a loss.

Of the five games Montreal has lost this season, two have been to the Leafs. They don't have a head-to-head meeting until Jan. 3.

Toronto's two weekend victories enabled the Leafs to stretch their margin over third place New York from two to five points.

The key was Toronto's 3-2 victory over the slipping Rangers Sunday night. In the others, Montreal got a 4-3 decision over Boston while Detroit beat Chicago for the second straight evening, 3-2.

Toronto jammed in three quick first period goals—two of them on power plays—then held off New York rallies the rest of the way as veteran Don Simmons, subbing for injured Johnny Bower, registered his second straight victory in the Toronto nets.

Billy Harris and Bon Nevin each scored on a power play, and Frank Mahovlich contributed his 12th goal of the season as Toronto built a 3-1 first period lead. Dean Prentice and Adny Hebenton scored for the Rangers.

Ralph Backstrom's second goal, his 14th of the season, broke a 3-3 tie and gave Montreal the victory over Boston. The shot came only five minutes from the end. J. C. Tremblay and Don Marshall got the other Montreal goals with Andre Pronovost, Jerry Toppazzini and Don McKenney scoring for Boston.

In Saturday games Montreal and New York tied 2-2, Toronto punished Boston 9-2 and Detroit shut out Chicago 3-0.

OSU Fullback Ferguson Now Back of Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Ferguson, Ohio State's line smashing fullback who already has signed to play with the Pittsburgh Steelers next season, is college football's "back of the year" for 1961 in a nationwide poll by United Press International.

The 207-pound Buckeye star captured the honor by a small but clear margin over Syracuse University halfback Ernie Davis in voting by 324 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Ferguson, who previously had proved the top vote-getter on the UPI All-America team when he was mentioned on 90.1 per cent of all ballots cast, was the "back of the year" selection on 94 ballots. Davis, who broke Jimmy Brown's rushing records at Syracuse, was second with 70 and speedy halfback James Saxton of Texas was third with 58.

The Steelers, who made Ferguson their No. 1 choice in the annual National Football League draft, announced his signing last Friday. To get him they had to outbid the San Diego Chargers, who made him their No. 1 choice in the American Football League draft.

145 Bowlers in Tournament Finale Sunday

Unofficial Cutoff Point at Huron 636 as Monti Leads Qualifiers

The Pontiac Press Bowlerama qualifying list was completed at 145 Sunday when 73 more happy keglers made this week's finals with topnotch showings at two sites.

A total of 52 made the grade at Huron Bowl where a handicap score of 636 turned out to be the cutoff point. Twenty-one advanced at Collier's Lanes with 634 good for the last berth there.

All qualifiers from the past two weekends will head into the battle for the big money Sunday at 300 Bowl. Several will also compete in the acutal invitational right after the handicap part of the meet is finished.

Joe Monti and Bill Jarrett clinched high qualifier trophies yesterday. Monti topped 363 men at Huron with 726 sparked by a 649 actual. Jarrett had 685, including a 604 actual, at Collier's where 152 participated.

There were five others in the 700 class at Huron. Larry Crake rolled 716 with a 643 actual, Paul Miller hit 713 featuring the high tourney actual of 1961 with 688, Jay Carroll had 711, Gene Lund and Mike Kachanuk 709. Carroll downed 674 pins.

Morris Wideman took 2nd place honors at Collier's at 681 edging Ken Ashbaugh by two pins. Vic Stoddard had 668, Ray Kitchen, an early pacesetter, 664, J. Franklin 661 and Bert Schmidt 660.

Jerry Harnack and Bob Richards matched 661 actuals, Kachanuk posted 659, Lund 655 and Paul Horie 652 there. Bill Leigh and Jay Lovett put on quite a show on the 4:15 p.m. squad hitting 643 and 637, respectively, on the same lanes.

Harnack's 258 headed the games at Huron. Mike Kramer hit 256, J. Denisuik 248, Richards and Charles Melton 247, Leo Boxe, Jim LeBow, Roland Rothbarth and Dr. E. E. Ludwig 246. Melton had to settle for an alternate berth, LeBow and Ludwig did not qualify.

George Chicovsky paced the actual series department at Collier's with 659. Joe Puertas, a 1st week alternate, made sure he was in the finals with a 631. Stoddard and Schmidt had 614s.

Bob Gormong scored a 246 to lead all single efforts at the M-24 bowling location. Puertas was close behind with 244, Jim Mullinix had a 240, Chicovsky 235-232 and Schmidt successive 222s.

Gormong was actual invitational victor two years ago and Lovett was runnerup to him.

Fullmer's Not Spectacular, but He Gets the Job Done

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fullmer has got to be the working man's candidate for "man of the year." As a boxer, a world champion, he is a magnificent day laborer.

There is nothing spectacular about Fullmer. He just uses his hands, and maybe a little elbow grease and a shoulder here and there, to lift that bale, tote that load and knock the hell out of the other guy in the ring.

It's just like any other working stiff: It brings home the bacon. It also keeps Gene in his proudest possession, the National Boxing Association portion of the world middleweight championship.

★ ★ ★

Two nights ago Fullmer in the same dig-that-ditch fashion knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in 10 rounds to keep his cherished side of the title, and wreck Benny's dream of becoming a double division champion.

GAINED WEIGHT

Paret owns the world welterweight, or 147-pound championship. For Saturday night's effort the Cuban kid weighed 156¾ and Gene 159¾.

There was really nothing singular about Fullmer's victory. He just pinned Paret against the ropes for most of the bout and belabored him with a constant barrage of short lefts and rights to wherever they might and did land.

Finally, after 2:30 of the 10th round, in both exasperation and utter exhaustion, Paret simply pitched over backwards for the third time in the round and received a 10-count toll from the referee, Harry Krause.

For the 6,100 fans in the Convention Center, and the viewing TV fans across the nation, it apparently was a fine fight. Some of them booed the plodding, craggy-browed winner. But mostly there were cheers.

"This guy was as tough as any I've ever fought. I can't remember," said Gene, nursing a badly swollen eye, "hitting anybody as hard without his falling down. I thought, 'He can't take this all night,' but I thought he was going to."

HITS TACTICS

Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, bemoaned what he called Fullmer's "rough house" tactics. But he said Paret would try no more middleweights for a while. Ex-welterweight champion Emile Griffith or challenger Jorge Fernandez of Argentina will be Paret's foe next March 24.

P. L. of P. Leads Huron Classic

P. L. of P., the Huron Bowl Classic team known only by these initials, again threatens to make a runaway of the league title chase. Although an element of mystery surrounds the meaning of the three letters, there is nothing mysterious about the way Carl Behrick's crew has opened a seven game lead on the remaining 15 teams in the tough Huron loop.

Karl VanDeMoortell's 635 led Stanton Plumbing to a six point win over Felice Quality Market and a tie for second spot with Westside Mobil, who blanked Montcalm Centre. George Miller was high in this match with 605.

Double Cola pulled up into a fourth place tie with J & J Barbers by outscoring the barbers 6-2. Fred Ringrose and Kerry Reetz posted 608 and 602 for the winners, while Jack Chambers had 619 for the losers.

Jim Walker's 617 helped Calbi Music to a 6-2 win over Frayer's, and Ron Damico hit 619 as Gaukler Storage downed Westside Lanes by the same margin.

Harold (Skin) Keith and Pat Sweeney combined for 614 and 600 as Sno-Bol shut out Veteran's Disposal despite a 611 by Oz Jewett.

'Team' Crown Goes to Lakewood

A house trophy will be awarded the establishment and $5 gift certificates will go to each member when prizes are distributed Sunday following the individual finals at 300 Bowl.

"It took the mighty mouse to beat the big houses," said coproprietor Bill Kuklinski of Lakewood after the final totals were in.

He was referring to the fact that his 14-lane establishment won out over places ranging in alleys from 16 to 40.

Competing at Huron Bowl yesterday, they finished at 3050 featuring 661s by Jerry Harnack and Bill Richards and Jerry Perna at 609. Jack Chambers added 598 and Gene Shell 521.

Wonderland Lanes finished No. 3 with 2984 as last bowler Paul Horie hit 652. Next was Airway Lanes at 2952.

Dixie Recreation took 5th at 2861 followed by Huron at 2842. Jay Lovett fired 637 to lead the latter group Sunday. Sylvan had 2768, Nor-West Recreation 2725 and East Highland Recreation 2724.

Collier's Lanes hit 2704, Howe's Lanes 2671, 300 Bowl 2661, Cooley Lanes 2633, Motor Inn 2598, Hilltop 2589, Elks 2513, Maple Lanes 2724 and Fairgrounds 2442.

The three top teams each had three men make the handicap finals. Dixie placed two. Two from East Highland are alternates.

MSU's Hatcher First Negro With Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State fullback Ron Hatcher Saturday became the first Negro football player ever to sign a contract with the Washington Redskins. The 215-pound Hatcher was the Redskins eighth National Football league draft choice.

Hatcher said he had no feeling "one way or another" about being the first man of his race to become a member of the Washington team. "I'm here to play football," he said.

Canadian Golfer Nods After Birdie Captures Coral Gables Open

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—"Did you win?"

About 4,000 other spectators knew the slender, 24-year-old had won his first major tournament.

He blocked Gay Brewer's bid for three victories in a row by bagging a $2,800 birdie on the 17th hole.

Knudson, learning on the 16th hole that he needed a birdie to beat Brewer, did it on the 530-yard par five 17th. After driving into the rough, he reached the green with a four-iron and wedge shots, then sank a seven-foot putt.

The Toronto pro, playing coolly while his expectant wife kibitzed nervously, closed with a 32-34—66. That gave him an 11-under-par 273.

Pittsburg Bowl Winner Before Slim Gathering

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Pittsburg State of Kansas defeated Linfield of Oregon 12-7 in the first Camellia Bowl before only 10,000 spectators. But officials have promised to repeat the small college football championship in Sacramento despite the poor attendance.

★ ★ ★

Both teams were unbeaten in 10-game regular season schedules, with Pittsburg going on to live up to its Associated Press rating as the No. 1 small college team in the nation.

★ ★ ★

The game, formerly called the Holiday Bowl when staged six times in St. Petersburg, Fla., annually decides National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship.

Actual's Invited List to Be Known Wednesday

The invited list of the top bowlers in The Press Bowlerama will be printed in Wednesday's Press. Those receiving invitations will be bowling in the Bowlerama Actual's Invitational Tourney immediately following the handicap champion next Sunday at 300 Bowl. There are numerous additional prizes for the Actual's entries. The invited list Wednesday will be final and no alterations will be made.

Bearcats vs. Drake Tonight

Cinci and Ohio State Win

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati, one of the giants of college basketball, faces its first major obstacle tonight in a tough Drake team that hasn't been tested in winning two games.

Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion and ranked second in a season preview Associated Press poll, chalked up its 25th straight victory with an 86-67 romp over Wisconsin Saturday.

Coach Ed Jucker then hustled from the afternoon game to scout the impressive Drake team that crushed Illinois Colelge 110-48. It was the second straight for Drake and pushed their average to an even 100 points per game.

★ ★ ★

The Bearcats, upset victors over Ohio State for the NCAA title and trailing the Buckeyes in the current poll, had no trouble in winning their third of the season. Cincinnati, paced by Paul Hogue's 15 points, stormed out to a 44-24 halftime advantage and coasted in from there.

DEACONS WHIPPED

Ohio State, led by All-America Jerry Lucas, stormed past its first major challenger, Wake Forest, and now takes a week off.

The Buckeyes crushed Wake Forest's third-ranked Deacons 84-62 at the top of the weekend schedule. Ohio State held only a 37-31 halftime lead, but broke it open with 13 straight points soon after intermission.

All other ranked teams in action came through on schedule, though Seattle, No. 10, got a scare from Idaho before pulling out a 69-68 decision.

Providence, ranked fifth, got another good performance from its two giants, 6-10 Jimmy Hadnot and 6-11 John Thompson in a 75-51 breeze past St. Francis of Brooklyn. Hadnot had 28 points and 17 rebounds, Thompson 21 points and 18 rebounds.

EASY TRIUMPH

Powerful West Virginia added impetus to its drive for a national ranking with a 96-79 thumping of previously unbeaten Furman. Tod Thorn got 30 points.

In some of the other major games, Dayton defeatd St. Joseph's, Pa., 78-67, Iowa trounced Miami, Ohio, 75-55, Illinois beat Oklahoma 72-60, UCLA got past Kansas 69-61, Utah punished Loyola of Los Angeles 100-71, Michigan State won from Tulsa 90-70 and Texas tripped Tulane 90-65.

★ ★ ★

Wilt the Stilt 'Slows Down'

'Skids' to 55 Points After Scoring Binges of 78 and 61

By The Associated Press

You'll pardon Wilt Chamberlain if the pace of three games in 48 hours began to show on him.

After scoring a record 78 points Friday night and coming back with 61 in the national TV game Saturday afternoon, Chamberlain managed only 55 in guiding the Philadelphia Warriors to a 118-109 victory over the Chicago Packers in the feature of two-game Sunday program in the National Basketball Association.

Cincinnati toyed with New York's hapless Knicks, 134-94 in the other game, almost lost in the hoopla over the 7-1 Chamberlain and his fantastic weekend.

In the three games, Wilt scored 194 points—and only a letdown in the first half Sunday night kept him from getting over the 200 mark. The Packers, with Walt Bellamy and Si Green leading the way, bolted into a 34-17 lead after one period and, with Chamberlain held to 20 points, still led 58-51 at the half.

Then Chamberlain and the Warriors' fast break, triggered by Guy Rodgers and Al Attles, got going. Big Wilt added 35 points after the intermission. By the time the third quarter was over, Philadelphia had a 10-point lead. It was easy after that, although Bellamy scored 33 points, Green 25, and Bob Leonard 22 for the Packers.

Jack Twyman, Oscar Robertson and Arlen Bockhorn did the heavy scoring for Cincinnati, with Twyman high man with 38 points. Bockhorn and Robertson each had 27.

Named Top Performer in Junior Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Bill Harper, slippery quarterback for the Cameron, Okla., Aggies, has been named Junior Rose Bowl player of the year for his part in the Aggies' 28-20 upset victory over Bakersfield, Calif.

Harper ran for the Aggies' first score, passed for their second and called a surprise pitchout that produced the deciding touchdown Saturday.

Pender Rejects Fullmer's Offer to Fight Briton

BOSTON (AP)—Former middleweight champion Paul Pender today flatly refused Gene Fullmer's offer of $15,000 to let Fullmer get first crack at Terry Downes of England.

"I won't have any part of it," Pender said. "This is the first I've heard of it and it can be the last. I won't listen to it.

"Where was Fullmer when I was looking for him to fight me? He wasn't interested then. I'm not interested now."

Downes is recognized as champion in Massachusetts and New York and by the European Boxing Union. He dethroned Pender last September in London. They are due to meet again in March. Fullmer is the National Boxing Association titlist.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona Winter League season ended Sunday with the entire schedule canceled by rain.

As a result, Baltimore and San Francisco ended in a tie for first with identical 32-17 records.

Action of Fans After It's Over Mars Contest

St. Mike Is Defeated, So Is Waterford OLL in SCL Play

Rochester beat down a Pontiac Northern rally in the fourth quarter Saturday night to defeat the Huskies, 62-57.

★ ★ ★

Northern fans moved onto the court after the final buzzer and clustered around the game officials and scorers table. One PNH fan shoved and half punched one of the officials before cooler heads prevailed.

St. Michael and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes dropped Suburban Cahtloic League games Saturday. St. Benedict downed the Shamrocks 56-44, and the Lakers dropped a 50-41 decision to Royal Oak St. Mary.

Rochester sprinted to an 11-0 lead on the way to its first victory over Northern. The Huskies failed to dent the scoreboard until Rick Fisher dropped in a fielder with 2:54 to play in the first quarter.

PROTECT LEAD

The Falcons of coach Ralph Vanzo played a conservative style of ball in the second half, trying to protect the large lead. Wilson, who had picked up four fouls in the first half, did not play in the third period, and appeared only long enough in the fourth quarter to foul out. He scored 18 points.

With three minutes remaining in the game, Rochester held what looked like a commanding 59-48 advantage. Northern suddenly came to life and with one minute left trailed 59-57.

But PNH's Larry Hayward drew his fifth personal a half minute later, and then was given a technical, and Rochester's Jerry Olson dropped all three shots to put the game out of reach.

Fliss topped all scorers with 18 points. Olson added 11 to the Falcon's victory. Gary Hayward pumped in 18, Mike Birklow 11 and Wayne Daniels 10 for the Huskies.

STRONG SURGE

A strong second half carried St. Benedict to its win over the Mikemen. The Ravens held a slim 24-20 halftime edge, but quickly moved to a more comfortable advantage.

George Strango topped the winners with 25 points. Charlie Daul scored 20 for the Shamrocks.

A cold third quarter spelled defeat for Our Lady. The contest was tied 21-21 at the half, but St. Mary gained a 20-8 third period margin and that was the big difference.

Michigan State Wins; Wolverines, Titans Lose

Century Mark Broken in Two Games

By The Associated Press

Aquinas scored 59 points in the second half and coasted past Muskegon Junior College 101-79. But despite the 101 Aquinas points, the losers' Mike Pedler was the game's top scorer with 37. Tom Williamson led the balanced Aquinas attack with 20.

Northern Michigan stopped Marquette a bare two points short of the century figure while losing to the Warriors 98-60. It was the fourth straight loss for Northern, but the smaller Wildcats held surprising leads twice in the first seven minutes. Jim Karabetsos led Northern scorers with 20 points.

Wayne State fell to Loyola of Chicago 93-43. The Tartars trailed at halftime 45-27. Fred Prime paced the Wayne attack with 12 points.

It was a dark day for Western Michigan as the Broncos absorbed losses on two fronts. In addition to the 28-12 Aviation Bowl football defeat by New Mexico, Valparaiso edged WMU basketballers, 82-77.

TECH WINS

Other action saw Michigan Tech notch a 72-62 victory over Northern State conference foe Moorhead (Minn.) and Soo Tech rolled over Detroit Tech 71-51.

MIAA teams had a rough night.

Wheaton (Ill.) knocked off Albion 81-68. Dennis Groat of Albion led all scorers with 20 points.

In MIAA conference action, Jim Vanderhill scored 31 points while helping Hope to a 93-74 victory over Adrian. Don Harned, of Troy was top scorer for Adrian with 22. The Dutchmen are 1-0 in conference play. Adrian is 1-2.

In non-conference action, Ferris held on to defeat Wabash (Ind.) 57-53, but Wooster (Ohio) whipped Alma 95-91.

Michigan State fared best among the state's major colleges. The Spartans rolled past Tulsa 90-70 for their second straight non-conference win of the season.

Michigan and Detroit both lost.

NO SCORING

From good to bad in 10 days is the sad situation confronting Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack.

John Oosterbaan and John Harris, the Wolverines' two transfer rookies, continued their scoring artistry Saturday night, but received little help from teammates. The result was a 69-61 loss to Butler.

Broncos Lose in Bowl, 28-12

Small Crowd Watches Lobos Strike Early

Western Is Outclassed by New Mexico Eleven in Aviation Tussle

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — The first annual Aviation Bowl played here Saturday was almost as big a flop as the Gotham Bowl.

Snow, sleet and rain dampened spectators and the playing field. Bowl chairman Don Miller said the meager 5,000 attendance caused an $8,000 loss at the gate.

Those who braved the miserable weather were disappointed at the match. Western Michigan tried hard but couldn't approach the finesse of the New Mexico Lobos, who took a 28-12 decision.

New Mexico punched across two quick touchdowns in the opening minutes of the game to take command and held control thereafter.

The game was just a minute old when New Mexico, favored by one touchdown, marched 56 yards to score in three quick plays with quarterback Jim Cromartie rolling out and over from the three. The extra point attempt failed.

Moments later, Chuck Cummings recovered a Bronco fumble on his own 42, and nine plays later, New Mexico's Bobby Santiago scored from the 10. Bobby Morgan ran for two extra points.

★ ★ ★

The Broncos picked up one touchdown in the first quarter when Bob White plunged over from the four and another in the final period when Dave Cook took a five-yard pass in the end zone from quarterback Ed Chelbeck. Both runs for extra points failed.

★ ★ ★

The Lobos added two more touchdowns in the third period when Morgan went over from the 10 and Cummings returned an intercepted pass 43 yards. Herb Bradford ran for a two-pointer after the final touchdown.

Baylor Triumphs in Gotham Play

Bowl Games Under Way

By The Associated Press

Chapter one of this year's bowl saga is over and chapter two of the ever-lengthening series is coming up this weekend in Philadelphia and Houston.

In Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, Syracuse, led by All-America halfback Ernie Davis, tackles a hot Miami, Fla., University team which should feel right at home in Pennsylvania. Over half of its team comes from the Keystone State.

The third Bluebonnet Bowl game will be placed in Houston's Rice Stadium, pitting Kansas of the Big Eight against Rice.

Both games will be nationally televised. The Liberty Bowl begins at 1 p.m., EST (NBC-TV) and the Houston affair at 2 p.m. (CBS-TV).

There still are plenty more to come, continuing with the North-South game in Miami, Christmas night. The following seven days will be crammed with bowls and all star games, culminating in the Rose-Sugar-Cotton-orange affairs New Year's Day and the Senior Bowl and U.S. Bowl in Washington the following weekend.

WANT MORE

The debut of the Gotham Bowl this past weekend was a 24-9 success for Baylor's Bears over previously unbeaten, but once-tied Utah State. The prompters, who got last-minute help from national television to help avert a severe red ink bath, say they'll be back for more in 1962.

The Liberty Bowl people feel that this year, their third, will consolidate the Philadelphia game. Syracuse, with Heisman Trophy winner Davis the big selling point, brings a 7-3 record against the Hurricanes, who won their last five games, and also finished with a 7-3 mark.

The Hurricanes also have a couple of M-M boys in soph quarterback George Mira and All-America end Bill Miller.

Kansas brings a 6-3-1 record against Rice's 7-3, but the Jayhawks John Hadl, a jack-of-all-football-trades, gives them a slight edge over the Southwest Conference Owls. A capacity house of 76,000 is expected.

FUMBLES HURT

Ronnie Bull, Baylor's blockbusting halfback, and a flock of fumbles and interceptions were too much for the Aggies. Utah State tackle Clyde Brock was withheld from the game by Coach John Ralston amid rumors that he had signed a professional contract.

An alert Baylor defense grabbed six fumbles and intercepted three passes that nullified fine line play by Aggie All America tackle Merlin Olson and also stopped Utah State's touted offense.

In other games, New Mexico's strong running game powered past Western Michigan 28-12 in the Aviation Bowl at Dayton, Ohio; Pittsburg, Kan., State won the NAIA title in the Camellia Bowl, at Sacramento, Calif., beating Linfield, Ore., 12-6; Florida NAIA title in the Camellia Bowl, at Sacramento, Calif., beating Linfield, Ore., 12-6; Florida A&M's Rattlers squeezed by Jackson, Miss., State for the mythical national Negro collegiate title in Miami's Orange Blossom Bowl, 14-8; Ft. Eustis defeated the Quantico Marines 25-24 for the inter-service title in the Missile Bowl at Orlando, Fla.; and in the Junior Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Cameron, Okla., Junior College beat Bakersfield, Calif., JC 28-20.

Hall's Ouster First Step

Army Beefing Up Football

Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army is making plans for a beefed-up football program, with a new head coach the first order of business.

It is apparent that the dismissal of Dale Hall Saturday was just one step in West Point's intention to bolster football at the Military Academy. The announcement of Hall's firing contained several broad references to a proposed new look.

Army will not stick to the tradition of restricting the coaching post to academy graduates.

West Point has not had a non-graduate as football coach since J. W. Beacham of Cornell held the job in 1911.

There are at present a number of potential candidates who served as assistants at Army during the 18-season tenure of Earl (Red) Blaik. This includes head coaches Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State, Andy Gustafson of Miami, Fla., Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Tom Harp of Cornell.

There are two ex-West Point line stars with considerable experience as assistant coaches who should be in the running. They are Johnny Green, now at Florida, and Bill Yeoman, at Michigan State.

If West Point plans any drastic overhaul in its football program, recruiting would have to be accelerated, there would probably have to be an increase in appointments allotted to football candidates, and a relaxation of policy regarding players' adherence to academy routine.

Hall had pinpointed some of Army's disadvantages and made a strong stand for a heightened effort in its football program shortly before his dismissal. He said, "West Point has some problems to face up to, some decisions to make . . . If it wants to play big time football it's going to have to work at it."

Hall was surprised and bitterly disappointed at the decision to terminate his contract, even though he was well aware his job was in jeopardy. The action was taken by West Point's superintendent, Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, after consultation with the athletic board.

He succeeded Blaik in 1959 and won 16, lost 11 and tied two. There were rumblings of discontent toward the end of this past season and the 13-7 defeat by Navy in the final game probably swung the balance.

Romeo Player Honored

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Five Western Michigan players were named Saturday to the Mid-American Conference's first and second all-conference football teams chosen by the coaches. Dennis Holland, an end, and quarterback Ed Chlebek made the first string. WMU men on the second team were tackle John Lomakowski, of Romeo, guard Pat Emerick and back Bob White.

Rams Sign Irish Back

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Clay Schulz, 190-pound Notre Dame quarterback used mostly on defense, said today he has signed with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

Schulz, 21, of Schofield, Wis., is the fourth Notre Dame player to sign a pro contract in the last week, all with NFL teams.

Science Begins in Elementary Schools

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

There's a revolution brewing in our elementary schools! Children are bubbling with interest in science and their questins are "bugging" their teachers.

DR. NASON

Today's children know facts that were only dreams when we went to school. Their world is full of rocket ships, jet aircraft, guided missiles and satellites. They know more about them than you might think.

Children have a vast ability to soak up information, especially when they are fascinated with a subject.

They gather surprising bits of knowledge from toys, books, pictures, comic strips, newspapers, television and just asking questions. Before long they have accumulated an impressive store of facts.

Every parent knows that very young children can ask dazzling questions, especially about science. Many parents find them hard to answer. So do teachers!

QUESTIONS!

But we had better answer them if we are to stimulate enough young scientists to match the Russians in this field.

★ ★ ★

There are good reasons why children are fascinated by science and learn a great deal about it. For one thing, children are always attracted by the exciting and impossible happenings in fairy stories and tales of magic. They still are.

But today we are living in a world that's full of magic—real magic. The manned satellite has "outflow" the flying carpet.

Adults are just as fascinated, but they approach it differently. We accept atomic energy and space flight as the work of scientists; interesting, but we don't expect to really understand them. The child, however, IS the scientist or astronaut in his own imagination. He expects to understand!

What happens when our little astronaut goes to school? Is his consuming interest in science whetted, discussed and encouraged?

★ ★ ★

In the past—and too often even yet — our budding scientist was handed a primer with very little scientific content and taught to read. There's nothing wrong with that. But science, said the experts, must wait. Just as soon as you can read, write and do arithmetic we'll talk about it. Junior's rocket-powered interest in science never got off the pad. The countdown looked too long!

★ ★ ★

Today this is being changed. Junior is going to get science, but it may not be quiet what he expected. It may not even be the kind of science he is most anxious and ready to learn.

AN AFTERTHOUGHT

Science has been tacked to the elementary school curriculum as a sort of afterthought. Specific science subjects in the secondary schools were designed as college preparation. As the subject grew—and scientific knowledge has exploded—the sheer volume of material has forced some of it downward into elementary schools.

The things forced downward have been, by common consent, the simpler concepts: Magnetism, simple mechanics, plants and animals, etc. This is perfectly reasonable and, in most cases, has led to good results. Pupils are interested and learn a great deal.

Recent research, however, points to ways in which we might get even better results. Properly presented, many concepts in electricity, magnetism, the solar system and even the structure and nature of atoms and molecules can be understood by 6 and 7-year-old youngsters.

The difficulty is with the presentation of the concepts. Incorrectly done it may be more confusing than educational. Properly handled, it can stimulate and encourage the scientific "spark" and keep it burning all the way through college.

★ ★ ★

What does it take?

First we need a plan for teaching science—one that places science in a logical sequence from kindergarten through high school. One that introduces each concept in a way and at a point where it will best succeed.

It also requires teachers who are trained to do this specialized job. If we develop a continuing science program we may even need special teachers in elementary grades, at least until our regular classroom teachers develop the new skills they will need.

(If you have a question for Dr. Nason, write him in care of The Pontiac Press. If your question is of general interest, he will discuss it in his column.)

Boys' Club Receives 2 New Contributions

Christmas spirit of giving is gladdening the hearts of over 2,000 Pontiac Boys' Club members.

Two contributions, a handmade $3,000 model train and 400 towels for locker and gym activities, have picked up the youths' morale, according to Frank Cashman, assistant director of the Boys' Club. Many of the boys have spent hours helping clean up the northwest section of their club building gutted by flames last month.

Upon reading of the $40,000 fire which destroyed equipment including the trains forming the basis of the Casey Jones Clubs, Dr. Milton Okun, psychiatrist, decided transporting his 23-foot spread of trains and scenery from his basement at 3261 Sherbourne, Detroit, to the Pontiac club would be very worthwhile.

The move will probably be made as soon as the clubhouse is repaired after Christmas.

FIRST TRAIN SET

Pontiac Boys' Club received its first train set just a year ago as a gift from Thomas E. Wilson, of GMC Truck and Coach, whose son had outgrown interest in the trains. Boys club members had just resumed fall railroading when flames devoured the set.

Another move, this one before the holiday, has been taken by Banner Linen and Supply Co. of 366 N. Cass Ave. who contributed 400 towels for locker and gymnasium activities, Cashman pointed out.

To date, these have been the only donations since the fire, but various local groups have enabled the youths to participate in field program outings, tours and small parties at members' homes, while repairs are under way.

★ ★ ★

High Court Says Nix to Teamsters

Rejects Locals' Appeals to Prevent Inspection of Union Records

The U.S. Supreme Court today rejected an appeal from International Brotherhood of Teamsters Locals 614, in Pontiac, and 299, in Detroit, regarding the inspection of union records.

The court let stand a decision that the Secretary of Labor may inspect union records under the 1959 Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act without any indication of a violation.

The ruling was handed down last August by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. It was promptly appealed by the two locals.

The controversy arose when Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg subpoenaed records of Locals 299 and 614 on Sept. 19, 1960. Union officials refused to comply.

The law requires unions to file organizational and annual financial reports with the secretary.

It gives authority to the secretary "when he believes it necessary in order to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate" the law "to make an investigation . . . " for this purpose he has subpoena power.

SUED FOR ORDER

When the Teamster unions balked, Goldberg sued for an enforcement order. Federal District Judge Frederick W. Kaess of Detroit ruled against him but was reversed by the Sixth Circuit.

The Teamsters' appeal to the Supreme Court said "Congress has not granted such arbitrary power to one government official, but rather has limited the subpoena power to those situations in which there appears some reasonable necessity for the seizure of a union's books, files and records."

Secretary at U.N. Pummeled in NY

NEW YORK (AP)—A secretary of the Danish mission to the United Nations was pummeled in an argument stemming from a minor automobile collision early today, police reported.

★ ★ ★

Officers said Erik Svenningsen, 36, of Yonkers, was hit several times by Julius English, 33, of the Bronx, a chauffeur.

Police gave this account:

★ ★ ★

The two men got out and, according to witnesses, English began striking Svenningsen about the head with his fists. Police intervened and arrested English on a third-degree assault charge.

Workers Strike at GM Plants in 5 Ontario Cities

TORONTO (AP) — More than 15,000 members of the United Auto Workers union (CLC) went on strike against General Motors of Canada at plants in five Ontario cities after negotiations broke down between them at 4 a.m.

Workers manned picket lines in Toronto, Oshawa, St. Catharines, London and Windsor, tying up the company's $800-million annual production of cars, trucks, buses, diesel engines, appliances, parts and engines.

It was the second time in six years the union had struck against GM in Canada.

Soviet Envoy Leaves Canada on Order

The Foreign Ministry said today it asked the embassy last Thursday to arrange the departure of Lt. Col. Anatoly F. Loginov, assistant military attache. An embassy spokesman said today the attache left yesterday by plane for Moscow.

Seeks to Preserve Statue of Justice

JUSTICE

Lady Justice has a new champion in White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz. He is anxious to see the august lady preserved for posterity.

Cheyz believes the stately statue is worth saving, along with any other relics of the past still remaining in the building that is soon to be offered for sale and probably for destruction.

He announced today that he intends to propose at the Oakland County Board of Supervisors meeting that "a suitable location be found for the statue and any other properties of true historical value to Oakland County.

"I intend to propose placing the statue and such properties at the county service center, perhaps in the halls of the new courthouse, where they may be on public display for generations to come," he said.

The old courthouse and county prosecutor's office behind it will be offered for public sale later this month. The County Board of Auditors is hopeful that some business enterprise will purchase the site for mercantile expansion in downtown Pontiac.

But no allowance has been made for the preservation of historical facets of the old buildings which now seem doomed to disappear soon from the scene.

"Replacing the antiquated buildings in favor of our spanking new courthouse tower in the county service center is certainly for the best, but some reminder of their past existence and what they stood for over the years must be retained," Cheyz said.

Threat to Finger Got His Irish Up, but Callahan Won

"Don't let them cut my finger off, mommie," he moaned.

His parents anointed the finger with ice, cooking oil, and soap. When they failed to dislodge it, they called the fire department.

Three policemen, five firemen and a huge hook-and-ladder showed up.

"In the excitement, I suppose they didn't quite understand the message," Mrs. Callahan explained.

The kids in the neighborhood crowded closer when a fireman produced an enormous pair of metal shears.

"Don't cut it off," howled Timmy.

Nurses, doctors, parents and officers moved toward a special solution to free the swollen finger when it suddenly popped out of its own accord.

Labor Leader May Get New Court Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court set aside today the conviction of John J. Killian, former Milwaukee labor leader, on a charge that he falsely denied he ever was a Communist.

At the same time, the high tribunal ordered the U.S. District Court in Chicago to hold a hearing to determine whether Killian should have a new trial.

The hearing will be on the question whether the district court, in trials of Killian, should have ordered production of statements made to the FBI by a paid informer, Michael J. Ondrejka. The statements concerned receipts of payments made by the FBI to informers.

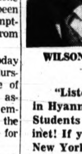
Justice Whittaker delivered the 5-4 decision today. Dissenting opinions were written by Justices Black, Brennan and Douglas, with Chief Justice Warren and Black concurring in the latter's dissent.

Twist Craze Made '61 Very Amusing Year

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If we hadn't had the Twist, 1961 would have been a sad year.

"I've never seen so many cops and celebrities out in front," Bob Hope exclaimed the other night on a Waldorf dais sparkling with President Kennedy, Cardinal Spellman, Gen. MacArthur and others. "Why you'd think this was the Peppermint Lounge!"



WILSON

Give credit to Hope — he's our only great humorist left. "Nixon couldn't be here; he's running for Governor . . . he'll campaign on radio." Hope said . . . to enormous applause and loud laughter even from JFK who remembered the TV debates pretty well . . . "Gen. MacArthur didn't have far to come; he lives right here in the Waldorf. That GI Bill is wonderful!" Hope said . . . "But the General is used to roughing it. He was in 'South Pacific' before it was a hit . . .

★ ★ ★

"Listen, 'touch football' is not a sissy sport. Up there in Hyannis Port, roughing the passer is a Federal rap . . . Students out there, stand by! You could be the next Cabinet! If you were from Harvard, you'd be in tomorrow! . . . New York has changed. I took a cab from the airport and Carmine De Sapio was driving."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

You can hardly blame Fred Astaire for setting up some rules for press interviews. He will not discuss (1) his age (2) Ginger Rogers or (3) Barrie Chase . . . Jane Russell's rehearsing her cafe singing act — to open in the Chicago Living Room . . . Julie Andrews closed her eyes and guessed some of the food set before her at the Tower Suite. "I have 20-20 smell," she said . . . Kim Novak will Christmas in Chicago.

KIM

EARL'S PEARLS: An executive is a fellow who is able to think a problem over for a few days, before he makes a snap decision.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A young mother (notes Quote) found her kids quietly watching a cowboy show on TV, and said, "Well, all's western on the quiet front."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Comedy writer Jay Burton offered a toast: "Well, here's to me — you people are doing all right by yourselves."

U.S. Assistance to Be Revised

Ribicoff Reveals Plan to Eliminate Abuses, Cut Down Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced today 10 administrative changes in the federal-state public assistance program. He said they are aimed at eliminating abuses, helping people get off relief, and strengthening family life.

Ribicoff told a news conference the changes, approved by President Kennedy, are the first steps in a broad program for welfare revision.

Legislative changes will be proposed to Congress next year, he said, and further administrative changes are also under study, but he did not detail these.

The changes, in brief, will require that:

A STATE UNIT

Each state establish a special unit responsible for locating deserting parents of children who are applicants for or recipients of public assistance. The special unit will seek to reunite families whenever feasible and to obtain financial support.

State aid plans include a definition of fraud in accordance with state law as it relates to receipt of assistance payments; strengthening of state administrative procedures for identifying, investigating, evaluating, and referring for legal action cases in which there may be fraud by assistance applicants or recipients.

U.S. Helicopters Arrive in Saigon

First Aircraft Sent for Direct Support of Vietnamese Army

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A converted U.S. carrier steamed into Saigon today with a load of U.S. helicopters earmarked for use against the Communist Viet Cong.

★ ★ ★

Aboard the vessel—the Core—were two full U.S. Army helicopter companies, including service troops and pilots, as well as 15 single-engine training planes for the use of Vietnamese air force. The arrival of the helicopters, which will remain under the control of the U.S. Military Assistance Group here, marks the first time U.S. aircraft will be used in direct support of Vietnamese ground forces.

★ ★ ★

The two companies arriving on the Core were identified as the 57th Light Helicopter Co. of Ft. Lewis, Wash., commanded by Maj. Robert J. Dillard; and the 8th Light Helicopter Co. of Ft. Bragg, N.C., commanded by Maj. Charles M. Hardesty.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese and U.S. officials declined to make official statements about the equipment, but since the Core had to dock at rush hour at a pier on one of Saigon's busiest streets, real secrecy was impossible.

Coal Firm Founder Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Justin Potter, 63, founder of the Nashville Coal Co. and later president of Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., died Saturday at a hospital. A native of Smithville, Tenn., Potter became a multi-millionaire and a leading conservative spokesman. He was an outspoken foe of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Henry Morgan drives one of those compact French Peugeot sedans around Hollywood and recently the panelist of "I've Got a Secret" narrowly missed a jaywalker. The latter yelled after him, "Watch it, mister, you almost ran under me!"

Big 3 Aides Agree on Congo Priority

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers met today in hopes of settling serious policy differences and agreed to work for a united, peaceful Congo.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were joined at lunch by West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. This afternoon the discussion was to turn to Berlin.

The chief U.S.-British aim in the talks was to persuade the French government to drop its adamant opposition to negotiations with the Soviet Union for some sort of compromise on the future of West Berlin.

A French spokesman said the morning session was devoted only to the Congo and Southeast Asia.

As the three ministers conferred, Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium sent a cable urging them to ask acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for an immediate cease-fire in Katanga, the Congo. He said the Belgian people were shocked by the U.N. military action in the former Belgian colony.

The issue of Katanga has arisen to plague the Western Allies just as they were preoccupied with finding a common approach to the question of negotiating with the Soviet Union.

The United States has backed the use of U.N. force to restore order in Katanga with an airlift of military supplies. The British government has objected to the use of force, and France has no sympathy for the entire U.N. operation in the Congo.

There was no indication that differences over Katanga had been ironed out. Conference officials limited themselves to the statement that the three powers agreed on the broad aims for the Congo. They include the consolidation of the entire country under a stable government to prevent a slide into civil war and anarchy.

★ ★ ★

The reintegration of the breakaway Katanga province with the central Congolese government should be done by conciliation, the three Allies agreed.

The foreign ministers' conference will emerge into the broader annual review of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Wednesday.

Rusk will leave Paris Saturday and return home by way of Madrid. He is expected to see Generalissimo Franco.

Reuther Pledges AFL-CIO Battle

UAW President Vows Fight to Commit Unions to Refereeing System

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — Walter Reuther today pledged an all-out fight to commit the AFL-CIO to a tough new system for handling labor's internal wars and to a multimillion-dollar organizing drive.

★ ★ ★

The industrial unions headed by Reuther made it clear at a caucus Sunday night that unless the AFL-CIO convention adopts their proposals they will step up their battling with rival building trades.

The building trades called a meeting of their own today to decide their course. It was strongly indicated in advance they will veto the industrial union's proposals.

Reuther heads the Auto Workers Union and the AFL-CIO industrial union department. He told reporters he will lead a convention drive for these objectives:

★ ★ ★

A compromise disputes settlement plan—This would let outside umpires decide which of two feuding unions is right over such matters as membership raiding, work rights, boycotting products made by members of a rival union, and name-calling.

OPPOSES CENSURE

A strong civil rights program—Reuther said he disagreed with fellow members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in the statement they issued two months ago censuring A. Philip Randolph, Negro president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. Randolph is seeikng to get the censure statement withdrawn.

Radio Listeners See Spots as Talk Turns to Leopards

★ ★ ★

Police said the effect was smaller but similar to that produced by Orson Welles in his "invasion from Mars" broadcast of the 1930s.

★ ★ ★

WHERE ARE THEY?

Police Sgt. L. J. Prugh said one caller asked: "Where are those 15 tigers that broke loose?"

He said it wasn't imaginary tigers the Rev. Harvey Hahn told about, but imaginary leopards—and only four, not 15.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FRED Hibler who passed away Dec. 11, 1959
I know you are in His keeping,
There is nothing I can do;
I remember all the happiness,
That you and I once knew.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROGER R. Curtis who passed away Dec. 11, 1960.
Your memory is a keepsake,
With which I'll never part;
Though God has you in His keeping
I still have you in my heart.

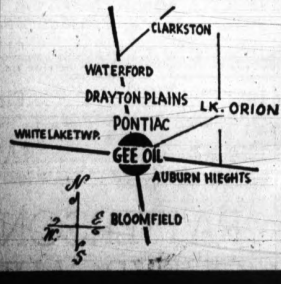
When Better Fuel Oil Is To Be Had... Gee Will Have It!

You Can Depend on Gee!

There is no substitute for quality . . . quality in the product . . . quality in the service . . . for in reality it's the "service after the sale" that really counts.

The dependability of your fuel dealer is the essence in complete heating satisfaction, the first factor is in having the fuel oil of your choice available when you need it . . . This is where the dependability of Gee really counts . . . Gee's automatic service assures you of always having plenty of better quality fuel oil regardless of the weather as we keep track of your fuel oil need through our modern "Degree Day" method and before your present supply is exhausted your fuel tank is refilled with the better quality fuel oil that has made Gee one of the foremost fuel distributors in this area.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SWITCH TO GEE!



No matter where you live in Pontiac, Drayton Plains, Waterford, Clarkston, Orion, Auburn Heights, Bloomfield Hills, Keego Harbor or the surrounding area, you, too, can enjoy trouble-free warmth and comfort all Winter long as our trucks (meter equipped for accuracy) are in your neighborhood almost daily. Be sure . . . Be Safe . . . Be Comfortable . . . Dial FE 5-8181 Now!

NOW... For Even Faster Service

GEE's TRUCKS ARE RADIO DISPATCHED

Gee's Fleet of new, modern GMC trucks are radio equipped, which means that our office is in constant touch with our courteous drivers. Should you need fuel oil immediately, we contact one of our fleet of GMC trucks and dispatch it to your home. However, it is better to place your order early and use Gee's modern "Keep-Fill" service!

Locally Owned and Operated

37 Years Pontiac's Fuel Dealer

Year after year, month after month, in wartime and in peace Pontiac and Oakland County residents have depended on Gee for better quality fuel for the past 37 years. Today, as in 1925, you can rest assured that our staff of Pontiac and Oakland County people know your fuel needs and the service given throughout the past 37 years is your guide to complete heating satisfaction.

Katanga Plane Bombs Airport Held by U.N.

Swedish Fighters Raid Bases, Mine Road to Elisabethville

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced today it will not deliver the 24 half-ton bombs it promised to U.N. forces in Katanga until the United Nations explains its Congo policies more clearly.

U.N. sources said no damage or casualties resulted.

It said two Swedish fighters loosed rockets in two runs over the camp and then a bomber of the Indian air force attacked with cannons.

Union Miniere Co. installations, African quarters and the center of the town were hit, according to the Katanga government. No figures of casualties were available, but a spokesman said a gasoline storage tank was set afire and "we fear the worst."

Katanga hospital authorities said the U.N. military had warned them that approaches to U.N. positions on the main road leading out of Elisabethville to the airport were going to be mined and ambulances should not enter that area.

Newsmen denied that U.N. planes had attacked the Elisabethville post office Sunday, as was reported by a telephone operator in the Elisabethville exchange. Evidently the operator had been warned a U.N. bomber was overhead and took this to mean the place was under attack.

The Brussels, Belgium, radio quoted Katanga President Moishe Tshombe as saying the United Nations had destroyed both the Kolwezi plant and the Luilu plant of the Union Miniere Co., a Belgian-British concern whose copper and cobalt is the economic mainstay of his secessionist province. Brussels headquarters of the company lacked confirmation.

Meter Motorscooter

Big 3 Aides Agree on Congo Priority

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers met today in hopes of settling serious policy differences and agreed to work for a united, peaceful Congo.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were joined at lunch by West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. This afternoon the discussion was to turn to Berlin.

The chief U.S.-British aim in the talks was to persuade the French government to drop its adamant opposition to negotiations with the Soviet Union for some sort of compromise on the future of West Berlin.

A French spokesman said the morning session was devoted only to the Congo and Southeast Asia.

As the three ministers conferred, Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium sent a cable urging them to ask acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for an immediate cease-fire in Katanga, the Congo. He said the Belgian people were shocked by the U.N. military action in the former Belgian colony.

The issue of Katanga has arisen to plague the Western Allies just as they were preoccupied with finding a comon approach to the question of negotiating with the Soviet Union.

The United States has backed the use of U.N. force to restore order in Katanga with an airlift of military supplies. The British government has objected to the use off orce, and France has no sympathy for the entire U.N. operation in the Congo.

There was no indication that differences over Katanga had been ironed out. Conference officials limited themselves to the statement that the three powers agreed on the broad aims for the Congo. They include the consolidation of the entire country under a stable government to prevent a slide into civil war and anarchy.

The reintegration of the breakaway Katanga province with the central Congolese government should be done by conciliation, the three Allies agreed.

The foreign ministers' conference will emerge into the broader annual review of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Wednesday.

Rusk will leave Paris Saturday and return home by way of Madrid. He is expected to see Generalissimo Franco.

Oil Burner Explosion and Fire Damage House

Things Look Good for Kids – Not Drivers

Pontiac area residentc can expect snow beginning tonight continuing Tuesday, the weatherman says.

★ ★ ★

Following a low of 28 tonight the mercury will rise slightly to a cool 35 high tomorrow.

Temperatures will average 6 degrees below the normal high of 36 and the normal low of 23 during the next five days.

Colder temperatures are forecast Wednesday and Thursday, with warmer weather Friday and again colder Saturday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau report.

Precipitation will average five tenths of an inch as snow Tuesday, Wednesday and again about Saturday.

Westerly winds 8 to 15 miles today will become southeasterly 10 to 20 miles tonight.

★ ★ ★

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. today was 26 degrees at 5 o'clock. By 1 p.m. the mercury reading was 34.

Moscow Severs Diplomatic Ties With Albania

Staff Told to Get Out; Action seen as Rebuke to Peiping

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has severed diplomatic ties with Albania in the biggest Communist bloc split since Stalin expelled Yugoslavia from the Cominform in 1948.

The break, disclosed in Tirana and confirmed by the Albanian Embassy here Sunday, has been expected.

The action has been foreseen since Premier Khrushchev at the October Soviet party congress denounced the Albanian leaders as Stalinist and accused them of trying to disrupt Communist unity.

Other Eastern bloc nations are expected to follow the Kremlin's lead, leaving tiny Albania supported only by Communist China and perhaps North Viet Nam and North Korea.

A spokesman for the Albanian Embassy said the Albanian ambassador went home several weeks ago. He said the rupture in relations came several days ago.

The Albanian news agency Ata said an exchange of notes beginning Nov. 25 concluded with one Saturday announcing the withdrawal of the Soviet embassy and commercial staff from Tirana. Ata said this note also demanded that Albanian personnel get out of Moscow.

★ ★ ★

By diplomatic accounts, the trouble between the two countries exploded in an angry exchange between Khrushchev and Albanian Communist chief Enver Hoxha at the Moscow conference of world Communist leaders in November 1960.

★ ★ ★

Flashes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A converted U.S. carier steamed into Saigon today with a load of U.S. combat helicopters earmarked for use against the Communist Viet Cong.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff announced today 10 administrative changes in the federal-state public assistance program. He said they are aimed at eliminating abuses, helping people get off relief, and strengthening family life.

Radio Listeners See Spots as Talk Turns to Leopards

★ ★ ★

Police said the effect was smaller but similar to that produced by Orson Welles in his "invasion from Mars" broadcast of the 1930s.

★ ★ ★

WHERE ARE THEY?

Police Sgt. L. J. Prugh said one caller asked: "Where are those 15 tigers that broke loose?"

He said it wasn't imaginary tigers the Rev. Harvey Hahn told about, but imaginary leopards—and only four, not 15.

Three Arrested in Kidnap Case

Two Royal Oak Girls Claim Suspects Forced Them Into Car

Two 13-year-old girls told police they were taken on a wild, four-hour ride through Eastern Oakland County last night by three men who kidnaped them in Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Minutes after the girls reported the incident, three men they identified as their abductors were arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Roland Pless at Opdyke Road and Walton Boulevard in Pontiac Township.

Being held for investigation of kidnaping are Thomas A. Butts, 21, and Richard C. Hanson, 26, both of Detroit, and Walter Merenuk, 35, of 1737 Cambridge Ave., Berkley.

The two Royal Oak girls, Nancy Seeman, 1210 Irving Ct., and Bonnie Knight, 204 E. Harrison St., said they were on their way home from the Washington Theater in Royal Oak when two of the men forced them into a car.

HELD CAPTIVE

The girls told police they were held captive while their two captors picked up a third man and drove around Royal Oak. They said the men stopped twice to buy beer and later cruised through Rochester, Utica and Lake Orion.

While being held prisoners, both girls said they were threatened and struck several times by the two men. Neither girl was seriously injured and there was no evidence of them being criminally assaulted, according to police.

The girls said they escaped at about 9:30 p.m. when all three men stopped to have a drink at the Bo-Inn Bar, 1132 S. Lapeer Road, Orion Township. They called police from a phone booth at Clarkston and South Lapeer Road.

The girls gave Sheriff's deputies the license number and description of the car and it was stopped at Opdyke Road and Walton Boulevard with the three suspects inside.

A Space Creature?

NEW RESIDENT — Pontiac's population jumped over the weekend, but the newcomers are strictly seasonal visitors. Traditional with the first major snowfall is the appearance of several dozen snowmen. Youngsters had a long wait for snow this year, but made up for it with creations like this 12-foot giant in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindgren of 27 Delaware St. The creature was put together by the Lindgren boys: Edward, 11; and James, 13.

Man Rates More Than Shirt, Tie

You can't just buy him a new tie and a shirt. That man in your life should have the same careful thought expended on his gift as anyone else.

Maybe some men are chatty about what they want; we don't encounter that kind. But we have run across some interesting gifts for the male individual on your list.

If his ties are hung all over the closet — or on the door knobs, buy him a tie rack that looks like a golf club with hooks on it.

When the children want to know what to give Daddy, suggest a five-way grooming set that includes a delinter, comb, shoehorn, nail file and clipper. Another item for good grooming is a clothes brush. This year you see them attached to animals carved from olive wood.

For someone on your list who has just become a trailerite, a mobile home park directory is a welcome gift. So is the newest road atlas.

SWEATERS SHARP

Sweaters this year are the handsomest ever. Even if he has a pullover and a cardigan, he might like a colorful bulky sweater. Or, if he comes home each evening and sheds his suit coat, a finely knit wool lounging sweater jacket would please him.

You know his hobbies; cater to them. Perhaps he is longing for a certain record he feels is too expensive to buy himself. Surprise him with it Christmas morning.

One of the most useful gadgets we have run across could be a lifesaver for the motorist. It's a slim red metal kit that opens up to show a double reflector in the center. There's a holder on one side for a red flag.

Kept in the car trunk, it can be set out on the side of the road immediately if the car has to stop for emergencies. It's visible both day and night.

Flies Stolen Plane; Almost Rams Jet

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A young Texan, determined to commit suicide, stole a light plane and flew away in a dense fog Sunday. The plane almost collided with a jet airliner over Dallas.

★ ★ ★

Police said David Mitchell, 20, took the plane after an argument with his wife. Although he had received only four hours flight instruction — three years ago—Mitchell pulled the single-engine plane out of a spin and landed twice without serious mishap.

"I came to my senses in the cold air and decided not to do anything drastic," Mitchell told a reporter. "Before, I wanted to kill myself."

2 Pontiac Men Killed as Car Rams Into Tree

Police Blame Slippery Roads, Poor Conditions for Most Accidents

Five persons, including two from Pontiac, were fatally injured in area traffic accidents yesterday after the first heavy snowfall of the season hit Southeastern Michigan over the weekend.

Most of the deaths, according to police, were attributed to the slippery roads and poor driving conditions caused by the several inches of snow that was dumped on the area.

The two Pontiac men, James S. Thompson, 32, 1919 Opdyke Road, and Damon Spence, 28, 794 Parkwood Ave. died after the car in which they were riding went out of control and crashed into a tree.

Three other persons were seriously injured in the same accident which occurred at about 12:30 a.m. yesterday on Mount Clemens Street in the city.

Thompson died at 2:03 a.m. in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital while Spence was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver of the car, Grady Ashley, 32, 3780 Bald Mountain Road, Orion Township, told police he could not remember what happened just before the car skidded off the road and hit the tree.

Thompson's wife Rachel was released after treatment at Pontiac General. Ashley's condition is listed as fair.

Also killed in area traffic accidents were Floyd Wolfgan, 58, of 313 Girard St., Madison Heights; Mrs. Lillian Hazelton, 84, of 8195 MacKay Court, Utica; and Bessie Sanford, 63, of Flint.

ATTEMPTED TO PASS

Madison Heights police said that Valko, traveling north on John R attempted to pass another car, driven by Richard L. Reid, 33, of 449 N. Eton Road, Birmingham, when the accident occurred just north of 13-Mile Road.

Reid told police that Wolfgan, heading south on John R was driving without lights. The accident happened about 2:40 a.m. Valko said all he remembers is he started to pass a car and there was no other car heading in his direction.

Reid's car also was involved in the accident but he was not injured.

Mrs. Hazelton died yesterday in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, about six hours after the car in which she was a passenger collided with a wrecker truck that had stopped near the shoulder of M59 to give assistance to a stalled automobile.

The accident occurred about 2 p.m. about a half-mile west of Van Dyke.

His Sentence Can Be Death

Israel Convicts Adolf Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel convicted Adolf Eichmann of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jews and said his role in the Nazi program would be remembered "until the end of time."

The special three-man tribunal, which for four months tried the 55-year-old Gestapo lieutenant colonel, handed down its judgment today, a judgment which may bring him death on the gallows.

In a 300-page judgement which they began reading aloud in turn, the three judges determined that Eichmann was proved to be such an important cog in Hitler's machinery for destroying the Jews that he merited conviction on these major counts:

1. Crimes against the Jews
2. Crimes against humanity.
3. War crimes.
4. Membership in the criminal Nazi SS Elite Guard and SD security police organizations.

Reading the verdict, with all its elaboration of the legal reasoning, will require several days. Sentencing is expected by Friday.

STARED STEADILY

In his bullet-proof, glass-enclosed cage, Eichmann took the first blow of conviction on the major charges with aplomb. Through his hornrimmed spectacles, he fixed a steady stare on the judges.

★ ★ ★

The court delivered an exhaustive study of the "iniquities" of the Nazi Reich and said it later would describe in detail the role Eichmann played as chief of the Gestapo's Bureau for Jewish Affairs, the man who shipped millions to their death in the extermination camps.

The tribunal, headed by Justice Moshe Landau, went to considerable length to justify its right to try Eichmann.

CASE IN VERMONT

Regarding Eichmann's complaint that he was kidnaped, the court described at length a case in Vermont in 1935 in which a man complained he was seized in Canada and brought to justice in the United States.

The Vermont Supreme Court ruled that the method of bringing the man there was unimportant. That, in effect, was what the Israeli tribunal decided in Eichmann's case.

Eichmann had argued that he was only an underling who carried out orders. But the court said: "The laws of humanity are binding on individuals. The guilt of Germany as a state does not detract one iota from the personal responsibility of the accused."

★ ★ ★

The packed courtroom was deathly silent as the verdict of guilty was pronounced. Many of the 600 spectators had relatives who were victims of the Nazi pogrom were themselves survivors of the death camps.

★ ★ ★

There was not a sigh or a ripple at the abrupt one-sentence verdict which Judge Landau spoke rapidly before beginning to outline the court's detailed reasoning.

The reading of the judgement will continue through today and Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner—who prosecuted the case, presented tons of captured documents and 112 witnesses—will then advise the court on the penalty.

ADefense counsel Robert Servatius of West Germany, will make his final plea and Eichmann will be allowed to speak in his own behalf.

The court rejected Eichmann's defense plea that Israel had no right to try him for crimes committed elsewhere and under a law passed years after the crimes.

BESTH TRADITION

2nd Strike Is Threatened in Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The opposition heatedly charged a return to dictatorship, broke off negotiations with President Joaquin Balaguer's regime Sunday night and implied renewal of a general strike againt Balaguer.

"We are on the edge of disaster," an opposition spokesman said after Balaguer declared the talks seeking a solution to the nation's protracted political crisis had reached a "definite impasse."

An opposition leader warned that the nation was headed down the path of Castro's Cuba.

The strike, launched 13 days ago by the opposition to back its demands that Balaguer step out of the government, was ended Saturday when it appeared agreement was near on a junta from which Balaguer would resign before the end of the year.

Balaguer said Sunday the talks were stalemated because government officials and leaders of the armed forces objected to the opposition plan for him to be replaced by an opposition choice.

★ ★ ★

The National Civic Union, largest of the opposition groups, charged that Balaguer and the armed forces chief, Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, had betrayed "the just hopes of the people."

The Civic Union said Balaguer, former front man for slain dictator Rafael Trujillo, "has found a new master, dictator Rodriguez Echavarria."

"But," a Civ Union communique said, "the Dominican people will not accept him now or ever."

Viriato A. Fiallo, president of the Civic Union, said party leaders would meet today to discuss the next steps "to achieve our ends in a peaceful manner."

He praised the strike as an admirable show of unity and said on a radio broadcast its "sole proposition was the removal of Balaguer and the conquest of freedom."

★ ★ ★

Balaguer conferred for four hours at the National Palace with Arturo Morales Carrion, U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs; U.S. Consul John Calvin Hill, and Chilean diplomat Federico Jose Oyarzun, Rodriguez Echavarria joined the conference about two hours after it started.

The armed forces chief declared after the closed-door meeting the government would not permit a coup d'etat by the opposition.

"They were offered participation in the government but refused," he said, adding that the armed forces backed constitutional order and would obey presidential dictates.

Balaguer asserted he still considers the negotiations open and said he is willing to resign in the interests of national unity.

Moscow Severs Ties With Albania

when the Kremlin denounced Albania, it actually was attacking Peiping for not supporting Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence.

But Kommunist, the party central committee's monthly magazine accepted as a Red bible, violently denounced Albania's leaders and asserted the "imperialists" were waiting to welcome Premier Enver Hoxha into their ranks.

The break deprives the Soviet Union of advanced strategic bases on the Adriatic at the edge of the Mediterranean from which scores of Soviet submarines had been reported operating. However, they are believed to have left the Albanian bases some weeks ago.

Albania, a poor country, is faced with the loss of all Eastern bloc economic aid and must now turn to Red China.

At Munich, Germany, Radio Free Europe's East bloc experts said they saw the break as a Soviet attempt to force Peiping into withdrawing support from Albania or else assuming responsibility for "declaring the open split in the (Communist) camp which is now perilously close."

Auto Pioneer Is Dead at 89

Louis C. Hupp Aided in Production of Famed Hupmobile, Other Cars

Automobile pioneer Louis G. Hupp of Bloomfield Hills died yesterday following a long illness.

Hupp, 89, of 75 Devon Road, was associated with his brother, Robert C. Hupp, in production of several early cars, including the Hupmobile and the R.C.H. Robert died in 1931.

★ ★ ★

Hupp, an area resident nearly 50 years, was an 1895 engineering graduate of the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

In recent years, he had been active in real estate, developing areas near his Bloomfield Hills home.

IN REAL ESTATE

He was associated with the real estate firm of Judson Bradway, developer of Bloomfield Village, the former site of the old Hupp family farm.

Born in Kalamazoo, Hupp was the oldest living member of the Ann Arbor chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Also in fair condition at the same hospital are Lyle Rosso, 21, of 7700 Smiley Drive, Utica, driver of the wrecker, and Christopher Pace, 29, of 43149 Lira St., Utica, driver of the car Rosso had stopped to assist.

RED FLASHER ON

Utica Police said Rosso had pulled off M59 behind Pace's car with his red flasher on to give Pace gasoline. The two men were standing between the vehicles pouring gas when Bunting's car smashed into the wrecker.

Pace had both legs broken and Rosso sustained one broken leg. Mrs. Hazelton was thrown through the windshield from the impact.

Police are still investigating the accident.

Mrs. Sanford was killed yesterday when the car she was riding attempted to turn and was struck broadside by an oncoming auto in Imlay Township, Lapeer County.

The driver of the car, Marie C. Proctor, 61 and another passenger, Eva Hoffman, 42, both of Flint, are in good condition in the Lapeer County General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Her 15-year-old son, Robert, was driving the car when it hit the Proctor car.

★ ★ ★

Lapeer County Sheriff deputies said Mrs. Proctor attempted a left turn off Van Dyke when the youth, who was driving with a driver's education permit, smashed into the side of her car.

The accident occurred at 11 a.m. about a half mile west of Weyer Road. Deputies are still investigating.

Reuther Pledges AFL-CIO Battle

UAW President Vows Fight to Commit Unions to Refereeing System

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — Walter Reuther today pledged an all-out fight to commit the AFL-CIO to a tough new system for handling labor's internal wars and to a multimillion-dollar organizing drive.

★ ★ ★

The industrial unions headed by Reuther made it clear at a caucus Sunday night that unless the AFL-Co convention adopts their proposals they will step up their battling with rival building trades.

The building trades called a meeting of their own today to decide their course. It was strongly indicated in advance they will veto the industrial union's proposals.

Reuther heads the Auto Workers Union and the AFL-CIO industrial union department. He told reporters he will lead a convention drive for these objectives:

★ ★ ★

A compromise disputes settlement plan—This would let outside umpires decide which of two feuding unions is right over such matters as membership raiding, work rights, boycotting products made by members of a rival union, and name-calling.

OPPOSES CENSURE

A strong civil rights program—Reuther said he disagreed with fellow members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in the statement they issued two months ago censuring A. Philip Randolph, Negro president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. Randolph is seeking to get the censure stetement withdrawn.

A determined new organizing drive—reuther renewed his offer to put up $1 million as a starter from his own Auto Workers Union.

Seeks to Preserve Statue of Justice

Lady Justice has a new champion in White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz. He is anxious to see the august lady preserved for posterity.

★ ★ ★

JUSTICE

Cheyz believes the stately statue is worth saving, along with any other relics of the past still remaining in the building that is soon to be offered for sale and probably for destruction.

He announced today that he intends to propose at the Oakland County Board of Supervisors meeting that "a suitable location be found for the statue and any other properties of true historical value to Oakland County.

"I intend to propose placing the statue and such properties at the county service center, perhaps in the halls of the new courthouse, where they may be on public display for generations to come," he said.

The old courthouse and county prosecutor's office behind it will be offered for public sale later this month. The County Board of Auditors is hopeful that some business enterprise will purchase the site for mercantile expansion in downtown Pontiac.

But no allowance has been made for the preservation of historical facets of the old buildings which now seem doomed to disappear soon from the scene.

"Replacing the antiquated buildings in favor of our spanking new courthouse tower in the county service center is certainly for the best, but some reminder of their past existence and what they stood for over the years must be retained," Cheyz said.

Supreme Court Rules Loyalty Oath Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled invalid today Florida's loyalty oath as applied to teachers in public schools.

★ ★ ★

The ruling was given on an appeal by David Walton Cramp Jr., a teacher in Orange County, Fla., for nine years. He lost his job for refusing to take the oath.

TEACHER'S OBJECTION

Cramp said he was not a Communist or a member of any organization believing in violent overthrow of government. His refusal to take the loyalty oath was based on the belief it violated constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, thought and association; also the guarantees of due process and equal protection of law.

★ ★ ★

The Florida law requires all public employes to swear they are not Communists and not members of organizations which teach violent overthrow of government. The law calls for immediate discharge of any public employe who refuses to take the oath.

The Day in Birmingham

University Women Plan Yule Festival

BIRMINGHAM — A Christmas festival will be presented Wednesday by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women at the Community House.

The program, which will follow a 12:30 p.m. luncheon, will be opened by Robert Bates, organist and music director of Christ Church Cranbrook.

This will be followed by several selections by Mrs. Howard Berg, soprano.

An original story by AAUW's Mrs. Walter G. Patton will be narrated and pantomimed using taped sound effects and musical background.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William Milligan will direct a play entitled "Keep It All The Year," whose cast includes Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Kenneth Kesler, Mrs. Donald Howarth, Mrs. George Mosher, Mrs. Arthur B. McWood, Mrs. William Jackson and Mrs. Robert Henry.

Audience participation in a carol sing, led by Mrs. Howard Green, will close the program.

The children's choir and the youth groups of the Congregational Church of Birmingham have completed their plans for their annual Christmas caroling.

The Pilgrim Choir will go caroling at William Beaumont Hospital Dec. 17 at 5:30 p.m.

The Junior High Fellowship will go caroling to the homes of church members the evening of Dec. 22. The group will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Following the caroling there will be an open house for the Junior High group at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Mead M. Bailey.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

Besides his wife, Milda I., he is survived by two daughters, Karen I., and Kimberly A., both at home; two sons David R. and George W., III, also at home; and his mother, Mrs. Alva Hain of Birmingham.

Threat to Finger Got His Irish Up, but Callahan Won

"Don't let them cut my finger off, mommie," he moaned.

His parents anointed the finger with ice, cooking oil, and soap. When they failed to dislodge it, they called the fire department.

Three policemen, five firemen and a huge hook-and-ladder showed up.

"In the excitement, I suppose they didn't quite understand the message," Mrs. Callahan explained.

The kids in the neighborhood crowded closer when a fireman produced an enormous pair of metal shears.

"Don't cut it off," howled Timmy.

Nurses, doctors, parents and officers moved toward a special solution to free the swollen finger when it suddenly popped out of its own accord.

Boy Admits Involvement in Killing, Police Report

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a 15-year-old boy told them he and three other youths killed an elderly widow who ran a tiny candy store in her home because their first planned robbery target was too big.

"The guy was too big," Arthur Elmore, 15, was quoted as telling Detective Lt. Edward Jocque. "We decided not to tackle him."

Jocque said the man ran a beer store. He said the boys—Arthur and Larry Nietupski, Roger Briemister and James Mullen, all 16—planned the beer store robbery Tuesday.

"Larry was going to grab him and I was going to stab him," Jocque quoted Elmore as saying. However, Jocque said, after the boys saw the size of the man they decided to rob Mrs. Lillian Ficht, 80.

OBJECTION OVERRULED

Jocque quoted Arthur as saying he objected to robbing Mrs. Ficht because he lived only a few doors away and knew her well, but was overruled.

The detective said the four entered her tiny living room store and bought cigarets.

He quoted Arthur as saying, "Larry grabbed her and said 'stab her' and I struck at her once. I don't know if it went in. I struck again. I felt the knife go in. Larry let her go and she started to scream."

With that, Arthur said, the four fled, taking no money.

Police said Roger told his parents and went to the police station, then implicated the others.

All were held for investigation of murder. Police said they would ask waivers today so that they may be tried as adults.

Officers Break Up Still

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) — Federal, state and city officers broke into a building here Saturday night and arrested Howard Moore, 55. Police said they found an illegal still in operation. They confiscated 95 gallons of mash and 2 gallons of whisky.

CHA Plans to End Drive This Friday

DETROIT (AP)—A drive to persuade 150,000 Detroit area auto workers to change their health insurance from Blue Cross-Blue Shield to Community Health Association (CHA) ends Friday.

CHA is backed by the United Auto Workers Union.

The two-week "re-enrollment drive" is CHA's first community-wide effort to challenge Blue Cross-Blue Shield since the association was formed in 1956. CHA now has 8,000 members.

A UAW request to let union members decide between the two programs was granted by Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. during contract negotiations earlier this year.

Stevenson Will Remain Ambassador to U.N.

ADLAI STEVENSON has decided that he will not run for the United States Senate.

★ ★ ★

President KENNEDY urged him strongly to remain where he is as he has been creating a fine record for his country and has been of inestimable value to the White House in his role of Ambassador to the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Adlai Stevenson always has been regarded as a keen man in a debate and a ready fellow with a well-turned phrase. In his current calling, this flair for formal and informal speech has reached new heights. Repeatedly, when the Russian contingent begins arm waving and desk pounding, the U.N. delegation sits back and waits for Adlai Stevenson to put out the fire and push the messy Reds back in their proper place.

★ ★ ★

He has "reoriented" the bullies of bluster many, many times. After some of their more furious outbursts, it is usually STEVENSON that punctures their trial balloons on all sides and then in the middle for good measure.

★ ★ ★

He would have faced a formidable opponent in Senator EVERETT DIRKSEN for the Illinois nomination. The current occupant has been entrenched in state politics for an extended period of time and could stand up under a lot of hammering.

★ ★ ★

Had Adlai elected to try for the Senate—and had he been successful—he would have stood right beside the door pointing to the Democratic nomination for the Presidency when Kennedy leaves. Of course, there's nothing to prevent him from knocking on that same tempting portal from his U.N. position. In fact, Henry Cabot Lodge did precisely that very thing. Still, the Senate would have undeniably given him a greater "in." He knows this and he was well-aware of it when he declined the invitation to consider himself a Senatorial candidate.

★ ★ ★

The President has given him such an unequivocal endorsement he can return to his duties at the United Nations with renewed vigor and with the assurance that he has the complete support of the Nation's Chief Executive Officer.

Director of Art Exhibits Faces Tough Decision

It was she, you know, who discovered a painting by MATISSE had been exhibited wrong-side up in the Museum of Modern Art for 47 days.

But our sympathy goes to the director of the exhibitions.

★ ★ ★

Daily he must decide whether the red blob is supposed to go on the left, whether the unattached eyeball was intended to jump out from beneath the orange or over the moon, and whether the molten watch was supposed to drip toward the desert or be pulled upward by the symbolic purple train whistle.

★ ★ ★

Maybe the artist was standing on his head when he painted it. Maybe he expresses his nonconformity by signing his name in the wrong corner—upside down.

Rambler Goes Abroad

GEORGE ROMNEY's American Motors has decided that European auto circles need a bit of their own medicine. AMC and Renault will cooperate to produce a Rambler model on the continent.

★ ★ ★

The foreign auto makers came to this country and sold well when American manufacturers delayed too long in meeting the demand for smaller cars.

Now AMC officials feel there is a demand in Europe for bigger cars than the native versions. This is where the Rambler model will come in, they hope.

★ ★ ★

If the Rambler does as well in Europe as the European cars did here, AMC stockholders will be chortling over their profits.

Toughness!---on the Installment Plan!

Kennedy Proves He's Antibusiness

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may wonder at times why his administration is so frequently referred to as "antibusiness." He need wonder no longer.

For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so.

LAWRENCE

Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages — and even strikes — were justified if based on "productivity."

Now most businessmen know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economists to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment.

Theoretically some of the economies due to better machinery should be divided three ways — to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages.

But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

A TURNING POINT

The President's failure to keep his promise to the NAM and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Kennedy's political fortunes.

Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States.

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severly to the businessmen at the NAM about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions.

Here is what he said to the NAM convention:

"Labor, too, has its responsibility for price stability, and I shall stress this in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do.

He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management.

And Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention said this:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York "Times" editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest?

When, morover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud?

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

There Are Ways to Stop Pinworm Infection Return

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Pinworm is the worm infestation of childhood which occurs most frequently. Many mothers who write to me seem to think that its presence in their household is a reflection on the care they give their youngsters and their home.

Others regard it as a drain on the child's health and attribute to it almost every complaint that puts in an appearance, such as rings under the eyes, sallow complexion, listlessness and backwardness in school.

Except for itching and the resultant effect of restlessness and scratching, pinworm infestation is of no consequence to the affected youngster.

Several safe and effective drugs are available to rid the child of pinworms. For obvious reasons, I cannot give the names of these drugs nor instruction for their use. Every effective drug has side reactions.

TOXIC EFFECTS

It also has toxic effects if given or taken in excessive dosage. Hence both the particular drug and the particular dose must be suited to the individual who is to take the drug according to specific instructions.

They merely rid you of your unwelcome tenants in the same way you get rid of dust and dirt when you do housecleaning. And, like dust and dirt, they return.

The prevention of reinfection is primarily your job. And here's how you go about it: (1) under your doctor's direction, give the worm medicine to every member of the household whose specimen contains worms or eggs and to every domestic pet you permit to share your home; (2) scrub the toilet seat with any strong household disinfectant; (3) until you get an "all clear" from your doctor, trim the nails of all the infested until they're too short to pick up the eggs when they scratch and (4) keep the youngsters in snug sleeping garments so they can't get their nails in the crotch areas in which eggs are deposited.

Avondale's School Board Interested in Curriculum

Interest relative to the athletic program in the Avondale School District is to be commended.

★ ★ ★

The administration and the board of education are very much concerned with the over-all program and planning for the district. Right now many of our citizens are working on proposals to be presented to the board to assist in future plans for the education of our young people.

★ ★ ★

One of these groups is studying curriculum in all its aspects. We would be happy to have any people in our district give us their time and thoughts in serving on such a group. A personal visit or a telephone call to the superintendent's office or the board offices will give detailed information as to time of such meetings.

Tells What Makes Apples Beneficial

Dr. Jarvis' book "Folk Medicine," tells what is so beneficial in the apple. It tells of the value of vinegar and honey as a daily part of our food and the part it plays in nutrition. Del Publishing Company has been putting out a 50 cent paper cover of the book. One man got so much relief from arthritis that it is amazing. Go by the county market Saturday morning and ask for Mr. Gilcher. I, too, have found it a great remedy for an ailment of long standing. The beneficial part which is carried over into apple cider vinegar is potassium — a much needed element.

Says Some Citizens Protest Christmas

This nation, founded under God, has sheltered the oppressed of the world and prospered. Now some of our citizens loudly protest a manifestation honoring His Son's birthday.

We are, indeed, inviting God's wrath.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, Dec. 11, the 345th day of the year with 20 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1869, Indiana became the 19th state to be admitted into the union.

In 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt announced that he would not be a candidate for the presidency.

In 1946, John D. Rockefeller Jr. announced that he had offered to donate a 6-acre parcel along the East River in New York City as a site for the United Nations world headquarters.

A thought for the day: President Abraham Lincoln said: "There is no grievance that is a fit object of redress by mob law."

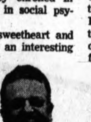
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Emotions Different in Men, Women

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-473: Loran G., aged 29, was an attorney enrolled in my evening course in social psychology.

"Dr. Crane, my sweetheart and I have been having an interesting debate regarding the emotionality of women," he laughed.



CRANE

"In one of your sessions you talked about the emotional differences between men and women. We've been arguing since then on a somewhat related topic.

"For example, do you think men understand women better than women understand men?"

HOW TO UNDERSTAND WOMEN

This would make an interesting debate topic, for much can be said on both sides. However, I believe I'll cast my vote for the women. Taken as a sex, I believe they understand men better than the male understands the female.

And here's why. In the first place, I think men are more predictable in their behavior and hence are easier to diagnose. Women, as I have told you previously in this column, are always half adult, half child in their emotional outlook.

So they never reach the predictable emotional maturity which men attain, for they seldom grow to be the physical equals of the male adults whom they admired in childhood. Boys, however, grow to be as tall and as strong as their fathers and superior in these respects to their mothers.

But the little girl, even when she becomes a woman, is still inferior in strength and height to the male. Hence, she retains some of her former childhood attitudes. Thus, women may be brilliant and competent, often excelling many men at a man's type of work.

WHY WOMEN MYSTERIOUS

But then just when she has acquitted herself nobly, she'll break down and cry over some trivial item. It is this inconsistency which mystifies most men. If you will just realize, however, that women are emotionally half child, half adult, you can easily follow their moods.

For example, a young woman may tell her boy friend that she hates him. He'll react with surprise, then irritation, possibly quarrel violently, and then go home in a huff. After which she'll cry until dawn because that was the last thing she wanted.

Then what did she have in mind by saying she hated him? Very often she simply meant that she had stinted for a month to buy a new frock and the big lummox didn't even notice it. Or she had sat waiting for a kiss or some romantic petting, but he did nothing but talk about the chances of the Yankees versus the White Sox.

A wise man learns that a firm embrace and plenty of long movie kisses will wipe away both tears as well as feminine anger. Unfortunately for girls, the average male argues with them in such situations instead of overwhelming them with ardor.

Shakespeare knew this psychological truth, when he wrote "The Taming of the Shrew." But Shakespeare was primarily a psychologist.

WOMEN GOOD PSYCHOLOGISTS

I believe women are better psychologists than men because they more often study people instead of engineering, mathematics, accounting, etc. Women's chief interest in life is people, including men.

But men divide their interest between their profession or business and women. Wouldn't you agree that old bachelors are more content than old maids?

Because women study people and try to learn the reactions of men, I think they know more about men than men do of women. So a woman can usually detect when her mate is developing an interest in another woman.

But men can go along in entire ignorance of such affairs between their wives and other men. I know scores of husbands who were completely surprised when their wives announced that they were filing for divorce.

These husbands hadn't seen the storm signals, although they had been quite obvious for a year or two previously.

If men studied women as closely as women study men, I think there would be more happiness and fewer divorces. Men too often take women for granted and the child phase of her emotional life will not tolerate this affront.

A child's idea of affection is kisses or a hug. That view is also typical of women.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy's visit to Latin America this weekend comes at a crucial time in our hemispheric relations.

Until recent years the two Americas were a miracle of good neighborliness, voting solidly together on nearly all major issues, and presenting such a united front to the world that Joe Stalin insisted on three Russian votes in the United Nations "because you have Latin America."

Times, unfortunately, have changed. Not only do the Communists now boast a dictatorship in Cuba and a beachhead in British Guiana, but the other nations of the Western Hemisphere are scrapping among themselves.

The split has widened to such an alarming degree that in last week's showdown on a U.S.-backed Colombia resolution calling for a foreign ministers meeting to consider action against Red Cuba, Mexico voted with Cuba against it, and the other Latin American giants—Brazil, Argentina and Chile—abstained instead of supporting us.

Incredibly, this vote came three days after Fidel Castro had publicly bragged about the way he fooled the Cubans, and admitted that he has been a Marxist Communist all along.

'FRIENDS SAD'

Fourteen nations voted for the resolution, so that the meeting will be held Jan. 10, but some of our best friends below the Equator are sadly shaking their heads over "the lack of U.S. leadership."

One of our firmest friends and frankest critics is Dr. Carlos Urrutia-Aparicio, Guatemalan ambassador to the Organization of American States, who wants to see the American government "show less timidity" in dealing with hemispheric problems.

Youngest of all the OAS envoys, the 34-year-old diplomat earned his masters degree at George Washington University, and his PHD in international relations at American University.

He should therefore know whereof he speaks when he says: "Nowadays you Americans are so afraid of being called the 'colossus of the north' that you lean over backwards to keep from leading. We would admire you more if you showed more initiative, firmness and leadership. The Communist doctrine is wrong, but at least it has vitality and an implacable plan of action. You are too timid."

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Urrutia said that until the recent appointment of Delessups Morrison as U.S. envoy to the OAS, the three previous ambassadors had made little if any attempt even to answer the Cuban harangues in the council chambers.

As a result, he disclosed, other Latin American ambassadors would shrug: "why should we answer Cuba's arguments if the U.S. is afraid to do so? Why should we pull the U.S. irons out of the fire?"

AMERICAN OBJECTS

At an embassy row reception a few days before debate was to open on a resolution scoring Russia's resumption of nuclear testing, Dr. Urrutia stood chatting with a U.S. official and several Latin envoys. The Guatemalan remarked that the resolution did not go far enough in condemning the Soviet action, and he planned to make a speech urging that it be strengthened.

"Oh, no, you will not!" the U.S. official exclaimed heatedly. "We plan to support this, because it is better than nothing, and we might make someone mad by trying to get a stronger one."

Dr. Urrutia pointedly told him that he takes orders only from the president of Guatemala, and that he would make the speech; which he did.

"Who cares if you make someone a little mad, if you are in the right?" Dr. Urrutia said. "You Americans timidly take a paper to nation X, and it says a comma must go there. Then you take it to nation Y, who says the comma must be a hyphen. Finally you hand it to Z, who screams that it must be changed to a period."

Sighing a little, he added: "Just give us some straightforward leadership, and never mind the pussyfooting."

Lindbergh's Son Becomes Father for First Time

FIRE VICTIM — Clair Langford, 18, of Averill Park, N.Y., died in a dormitory fire in Rogers Hall, fashionable Lowell, Mass., private girls school.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jon Lindbergh, 24, a son of the man who made the first solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean, is a father.

Mail Piles Up in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A refusal of postal employes to work overtime is piling up mail at the outset of the holiday season in which Japanese exchange New Year's gifts and greeting cards. The no-overtime movement is intended to force the government to hire more workers. The postal ministry reports 19,000 parcels and 2½ million pieces of mail have already piled up, unsorted.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Tornado Hits Alabama; 12 Hurt, Homes Ruined

BREWTON, Ala. (UPI)—Twelve persons were injured, seven homes destroyed and 12 others damaged Sunday when a tornado slashed through a two-block area of Brewton.

Six of those hurt were hospitalized, one with serious injuries. Police said the twister touched down in a predominantly Negro neighborhood, knocking over cars, toppling trees and power lines and wrenching buildings apart.

The United Lutheran Church in America has 4,600 congregations in 32 synods in Canada, the United States and the Caribbean area.

Gray Ladies Saluted at Pontiac General

The 45 volunteers have donated 30 per cent more time this year than in 1960. Last year's total was 6,681 hours.

Harold B. Euler, administrator, commended the Gray Ladies for their help in promoting better patient care.

New York State Debt Triples in 10 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total state debt grew from $4.2 billion in fiscal 1950 to $15.6 in 1960, according to the Tax Foundation.

'Termite' Was Carrying an Aerial Machine Gun

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Mrs. Leo Manz thought she had termites in her house when she noticed plaster on the floor of an unoccupied bedroom.

However, an exterminator discovered a hole in the ceiling, and Mrs. Manz then found a .50-caliber machine gun bullet behind a closet door.

Detroit Retains 2nd by Beating Vikings, 13-7

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions had visions of clinching a trip to sunny Florida, but the San Francisco 49ers have held up their reservations.

After sputtering their way to a rather lucky 13-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings Sunday at Tiger Stadium, the Lions hopefully waited for the Green Bay Packers to beat the 49ers on the West Coast and guarantee them a trip to Miami for the Playoff Bowl.

But Tommy Davis booted a field goal in the final 11 seconds to give the 49ers a 22-21 verdict over the NFL's Western Division champs so the Lions have no assurances of anything just yet.

If they want to meet the Eastern Division's runnerup team in the 2nd annual Playoff Bowl Jan. 6, they'll have to conquer those rugged Philadelphia Eagles next Sunday at Detroit in the 1961 season finale.

★ ★ ★

The Lions' hard-earned triumph before 42,655 fans boosted their record to 8-4-1 and kept them in 2nd place in the West.

If the 49ers defeat the Baltimore Colts Saturday in a nationally televised game at San Francisco, the Lions will be forced to whip Philadelphia the following day to earn the bowl berth.

A 49er victory and a Lion loss would deadlock the two teams for 2nd place in which case the 49ers would get the bid because of their decided edge over the Lions in their two meetings — a 49-0 San Francisco win and a 20-20 tie.

Detroit's offense has seldom been more inept than it was yesterday against the Vikings, who have made remarkable progress this year under head coach Norm Van Brocklin.

Only a rock-ribbed defense kept Minnesota at bay and even then, Detroit's harrassed forces needed an assist from the official's flag.

Fullback Mel Triplett raced 42 yards for an apparent touchdown midway through the 4th quarter, which would have put the Vikings ahead with the extra point, but a five-yard penalty for being off side nullified the run.

Then the Vikings knocked on the Lions' door in the last two minutes and that threat to win ended on the Detroit 20-yard stripe as Gary Lowe intercepted Fran Tarkenton's pass in the end zone.

It was a game of defense, erratic offense and breaks. Each team lost the ball three times on fumbles, each team had a field goal try blocked and the Lions intercepted three Tarkenton aerials.

Dick (Night Train) Lane intercepted two of Tarkenton's passes before Lowe pulled off his big interception and it also was Lane who blocked a field goal attempt by Mike Mercer late in the 2nd quarter.

Detroit drove 49 yards in three plays for the touchdown with the key play in the drive a 55-yard pass completion from Ninowski to Gail Cogdill, which put the ball on the Viking seven-yard line.

After looking to the left side for pass receivers, Ninowski swung to the right and rolled into the end zone untouched for a TD. Jim Martin placekicked the 7th point.

Minnesota took the 2nd half kickoff and marched 72 yards in 13 plays behind excellent quarterbacking by Tarkenton, who's going to be an outstanding NFL field general before very long.

Tarkenton's 27-yard aerial to ex-Lion Jerry Reichow aided the push and Triplett picked up 13 yards through guard.

With 3rd and goal to go on the Detroit two and the Lion defense massed for a rush, Tarkenton lobbed a soft pass to Hugh McElhenny, who crossed into pay dirt easily. Mercer converted and the score stood 7-7.

The Lions bounced back to grab a 10-7 advantage. Their drive stalled in Viking territory and Martin booted a 43-yard field goal to send them in front.

Martin kicked his 2nd field goal of the game and 14th of the season early in the 4th period. Following a Viking punt, another Lion drive was stymied and Martin put three more points on the scoreboard with a field goal from the Minnesota 23.

Giants Nip Eagles, Eye Title Contest

By The Associated Press

Selection of the opponent for the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League's title contest Dec. 31 had narrowed to two teams and two games today.

The teams are the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles. The pressure is strictly on the Eagles. They must win. And even that won't do them any good if the Giants win or tie.

The games are Sunday's Giants-Cleveland Browns encounter in New York's Yankee Stadium and the Eagles-Lions tussle in Detroit's Tiger Stadium in the season windups. A Giants' defeat and an Eagles victory would necessitate a playoff in New York Dec. 24.

The two-team situation in the Eastern Conference was set up Sunday when the Giants edged the Eagles 28-24 in a rip-snorter at Philadelphia to go out in front by one game. The Browns dropped out of the title chase when they were upset by the Chicago Bears 17-14.

PACKERS TOPPED

It didn't mean anything for Green Bay but the Packers were surprised 22-21 by the San Francisco 49ers, who are battling the second place Lions for the right to represent the West in the Bert Bell Memorial Bowl for the conference runners-up at Miami, Fla., Jan. 6. The Lions hold a one-game margin over the 49ers, who wind up at home against Baltimore Saturday.

The Browns need a victory over the Giants and an Eagles' defeat by the Lions to get into the runner-up bowl. Such an outcome would leave Cleveland and Philadelphia tied for second but the Browns hold a point margin over the Eagles after splitting their two regular season games.

In other games Sunday, Pittsburgh defeated Washington 30-14 to run the Redskins' non-winning streak to 23 games over two seasons (they tied three); St. Louis wallped Dallas 31-13 and Detroit got past Minnesota 13-7. Los Angles beat Baltimore 34-17 Saturday.

Charlie Conerly was the key in the Giants' squeaker over the Eagles. The 40-year-old quarterback, a bench warmer most of the season, replaced Y. A. Tittle when the Giants' attack bogged down in the second period with the Eagles leading 10-7. He threw three touchdown passes, one 35 yards to Joe Walton and two of 26 and 11 yards to Del Shofner. Before he left the game, Tittle also hit Shofner with a 46-yard payoff aerial.

TOUCHDOWN PASSES

Sonny Jurgenson also tossed three touchdown passes for the Eagles, two to Tommy McDonald, and altogether picked up 367 yards in the air for an NFL single season record of 3,320 yards in passing. Johnny Unitas held the mark of 3,099 yards, made last year in 13 games.

The Bears came from behind for their triumph with Roger LeClerc's nine-yard field goal with 3:30 left deciding the issue. After yielding two touchdowns in the first period, the Bears put together all of their points in the final quarter. Touchdowns on Willie Galimore's three-yard plunge and a 64-yard pass play from Ed Brown to Angelo Coia preceded LeClerc's field goal.

★ ★ ★

Lou Groza kicked both the extra points after Cleveland's touchdowns to set an all-time league career scoring record of 826 points, two more than Philadelphia's Bobby Walston, who kicked a field goal and three extra points in a losing cause. Don Hutson of Green Bay held the old career mark of 825 points.

LONG MARCH

The 49ers moved 91 yards in the closing minutes to edge Green Bay. Trailing 19-21, the 49ers picked up yardage through the air to the 8. Tommy Davis kicked a 14-yard field goal with 11 seconds left to decide the game.

Dallas jumped out in front of St. Louis 13-0 but Sam Etcheverry's arm and John David Crow's legs enabled the Cards to win handily under the direction of three assistant coaches. It was the Cards' first game following the resignation of coach Pop Ivy.

GAP CLOSED — Captain Joe Schmidt (left) of the Detroit Lions and big Roger Brown quickly close a gap which was opened for Hugh McElhenny of the Minnesota Vikings. The Viking back got six yards before getting hit by the two Lion defensive stars, and it was this type of defensive play which caried Detroit to a 13-7 victory over the Vikings at Tiger Stadium Sunday.

TD SETUP — This pass interception by Night Train Lane of the Lions is the play which setup the Detroit touchdown in yesterday's 13-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings at Tiger Stadium. Jerry Reichow (89) of the Vikings was the intended receiver of Fran Tarkenton. Lane also blocked a kick during the game.

Cannon Goes Wild, Houston Sure of Fire

By The Associated Press

There was some question early this season whether Billy Cannon, the Louisiana State All-America who had been no ball of fire in his first year of pro football, would make the Houston team.

There's no question about Billy's ability now — not after Sunday, when Cannon scored five touchdowns, rushed for 216 yards to break the league one-game record and caught passes for 114 yards as the Oilers beat New York 48-21 and became "dormie" in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

Houston clinched no worse than a tie for the title and became a prohibitive favorite to take it all, since only lowly Oakland remains to be played.

That would set up a repeat of last year's championship game in which Houston licked the Los Angeles Chargers, now San Diego. San Diego, which already has sewn up the Western Division championship, beat Buffalo 28-10 while Dallas bashed Denver 49-21

in other Sunday AFL games.

Boston, which whipped Oakland 35-21 Saturday night, remained a game back of Houston in the Eastern Division race and could tie for the championship.

Cannon's 216 yards rushing wiped out the record of 158 set by Abner Haynes of Dallas Nov. 26 against Oakland. The five touchdowns tied the record for one game set by Haynes the same day.

San Diego had trouble with Buffalo but called on its defense to overcome a 10-point deficit, then had Jack Kemp come off the bench and pass it to safety. Keith Lincoln's 57-yard punt return got the Charges moving and an intercepted pass set up the go-ahead touchdown.

Weekend Sweep Puts Wings in Fourth

Stasiuk, Howe Provide Punch in 3-2 Victory

Vic Makes Two Goals Gord One at Chicago, to Edge Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—Gordie Howe and Vic Stasiuk provides the punch that put the Detroit Red Wings all alone in fourth place in the National Hockey League today.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk scored twice—his second the game-winning goal—and Howe once as the Red Wings beat the Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 last night. Howe set up one of Stasiuk's goals and Stasiuk set up Howe's.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings had been tied for fourth with Chicago before the victory.

Chicago jumped off to a quick lead when Eric Nesterenko beat Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk in the first period. Bronco Horvath scored on a power play early in the second period to give Chicago a 2-0 lead.

Detroit came roaring back in the second period as Howe tipped in a long shot by Stasiuk. It was the brilliant right winger's 12th goal of the season.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk tied it up just before the end of the second period. Eddie Litzenberger passed to Alex Delvecchio, who fired a long blast and Stasiuk knocked it in.

★ ★ ★

Stasiuk's final goal came in the last period after Howe took the puck away from Chicago defensemen Jack Evans near the Hawks' blue line, slipped past a defender and fed a perfect pass to the charging Stasiuk, who tipped it in.

ON TARGET — San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie (12) picks out his target, R. C. Owens and hits him with a pass in the second quarter against the Green Bay Packers. Hank Gremminger (46) of the Packers pulls R. C. to the ground after the pass gained 40 yards. The 49ers upset the Packers 22-21 to stay in contention for the runnerup spot with the Lions in the Western Division.

Maple Leafs Set Sights on 1st Place Canadiens

By The Associated Press

The muscular Toronto Maple Leafs, now in solid possession of second place in the National Hockey League, have their sights set on leading Montreal — but catching the Canadiens may be something else again.

The Leafs gained one point on the perennial leaders over the weeked and are now three back. Montreal meanwhile extended its string to 12 without a loss.

Of the five games Montreal has lost this season, two have been to the Leafs. They don't have a head-to-head meeting until Jan. 3.

Toronto's two weekend victories enabled the Leafs to stretch their margin over third place New York from two to five points.

The key was Toronto's 3-2 victory over the slipping Rangers Sunday night. In the others, Montreal got a 4-3 decision over Boston while Detroit beat Chicago for the second straight evening, 3-2.

Toronto jammed in three quick first period goals—two of them on power plays—then held off New York rallies the rest of the way as veteran Don Simmons, subbing for injured Johnny Bower, registered his second straight victory in the Toronto nets.

Billy Harris and Bon Nevin each scored on a power play, and Frank Mahovlich contributed his 12th goal of the season as Toronto built a 3-1 first period lead. Dean Prentice and Adny Hebenton scored for the Rangers.

Ralph Backstrom's second goal, his 14th of the season, broke a 3-3 tie and gave Montreal the victory over Boston. The shot came only five minutes from the end. J. C. Tremblay and Don Marshall got the other Montreal goals with Andre Pronovost, Jerry Toppazzini and Don McKenney scoring for Boston.

OSU Fullback Ferguson Now Back of Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Ferguson, Ohio State's line smashing fullback who already has signed to play with the Pittsburgh Steelers next season, is college football's "back of the year" for 1961 in a nationwide poll by United Press International.

The 207-pound Buckeye star captured the honor by a small but clear margin over Syracuse University halfback Ernie Davis in voting by 324 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Ferguson, who previously had proved the top vote-getter on the UPI All-America team when he was mentioned on 90.1 per cent of all ballots cast, was the "back of the year" selection on 94 ballots. Davis, who broke Jimmy Brown's rushing records at Syracuse, was second with 70 and speedy halfback James Saxton of Texas was third with 58.

The Steelers, who made Ferguson their No. 1 choice in the annual National Football League draft, announced his signing last Friday. To get him they had to outbid the San Diego Chargers, who made him their No. 1 choice in the American Football League draft.

Unofficial Cutoff Point at Huron 636 as Monti Leads Qualifiers

The Pontiac Press Bowlerama qualifying list was completed at 145 Sunday when 73 more happy keglers made this week's finals with topnotch showings at two sites.

A total of 52 made the grade at Huron Bowl where a handicap score of 636 turned out to be the cutoff point. Twenty-one advanced at Collier's Lanes with 634 good for the last berth there.

All qualifiers from the past two weekends will head into the battle for the big money Sunday at 300 Bowl. Several will also compete in the acutal invitational right after the handicap part of the meet is finished.

Joe Monti and Bill Jarrett clinched high qualifier trophies yesterday. Monti topped 363 men at Huron with 726 sparked by a 649 actual. Jarrett had 685, including a 604 actual, at Collier's where 152 participated.

There were five others in the 700 class at Huron. Larry Crake rolled 716 with a 643 actual, Paul Miller hit 713 featuring the high tourney actual of 1961 with 688, Jay Carroll had 711, Gene Lund and Mike Kachanuk 709. Carroll downed 674 pins.

Morris Wideman took 2nd place honors at Collier's at 681 edging Ken Ashbaugh by two pins. Vic Stoddard had 668, Ray Kitchen, an early pacesetter, 664, J. Franklin 661 and Bert Schmidt 660.

Jerry Harnack and Bob Richards matched 661 actuals, Kachanuk posted 659, Lund 655 and Paul Horie 652 there. Bill Leigh and Jay Lovett put on quite a show on the 4:15 p.m. squad hitting 643 and 637, respectively, on the same lanes.

Harnack's 258 headed the games at Huron. Mike Kramer hit 256, J. Denisuik 248, Richards and Charles Melton 247, Leo Boxe, Jim LeBow, Roland Rothbarth and Dr. E. E. Ludwig 246. Melton had to settle for an alternate berth, LeBow and Ludwig did not qualify.

George Chicovsky paced the actual series department at Collier's with 659. Joe Puertas, a 1st week alternate, made sure he was in the finals with a 631. Stoddard and Schmidt had 614s.

Bob Gormong scored a 246 to lead all single efforts at the M-24 bowling location. Puertas was close behind with 244, Jim Mullinix had a 240, Chicovsky 235-232 and Schmidt successive 222s.

Gormong was actual invitational victor two years ago and Lovett was runnerup to him.

Fullmer's Not Spectacular, but He Gets the Job Done

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fullmer has got to be the working man's candidate for "man of the year." As a boxer, a world champion, he is a magnificent day laborer.

There is nothing spectacular about Fullmer. He just uses his hands, and maybe a little elbow grease and a shoulder here and there, to lift that bale, tote that load and knock the hell out of the other guy in the ring.

It's just like any other working stiff. It brings home the bacon. It also keeps Gene in his proudest possession, the National Boxing Association portion of the world middleweight championship.

★ ★ ★

Two nights ago Fullmer in the same dig-that-ditch fashion knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in 10 rounds to keep his cherished side of the title, and wreck Benny's dream of becoming a double division champion.

GAINED WEIGHT

Paret owns the world welterweight, or 147-pound championship. For Saturday night's effort the Cuban kid weighed 156¾ and Gene 159¾.

There was really nothing singular about Fullmer's victory. He just pinned Paret against the ropes for most of the bout and belabored him with a constant barrage of short lefts and rights to wherever they might and did land.

Finally, after 2:30 of the 10th round, in both exasperation and utter exhaustion, Paret simply pitched over backwards for the third time in the round and received a 10-count toll from the referee, Harry Krause.

For the 6,100 fans in the Convention Center, and the viewing TV fans across the nation, it apparently was a fine fight. Some of them booed the plodding, craggy-browed winner. But mostly there were cheers.

"This guy was as tough as any I've ever fought. I can't remember," said Gene, nursing a badly swollen eye, "hitting anybody as hard without his falling down. I thought, 'He can't take this all night,' but I thought he was going to."

HITS TACTICS

Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, bemoaned what he called Fullmer's "rough house" tactics. But he said Paret would try no more middleweights for a while. Ex-welterweight champion Emile Griffith or challenger Jorge Fernandez of Argentina will be Paret's foe next March 24.

P. L. of P. Leads Huron Classic

P. L. of P., the Huron Bowl Classic team known only by these initials, again threatens to make a runaway of the league title chase. Although an element of mystery surrounds the meaning of the three letters, there is nothing mysterious about the way Carl Behrick's crew has opened a seven game lead on the remaining 15 teams in the tough Huron loop.

Karl VanDeMoortell's 635 led Stanton Plumbing to a six point win over Felice Quality Market and a tie for second spot with Westside Mobil, who blanked Montcalm Centre. George Miller was high in this match with 605.

Double Cola pulled up into a fourth place tie with J & J Barbers by outscoring the barbers 6-2. Fred Ringrose and Kerry Reetz posted 608 and 602 for the winners, while Jack Chambers had 619 for the losers.

Jim Walker's 617 helped Calbi Music to a 6-2 win over Frayer's, and Ron Damico hit 619 as Gaukler Storage downed Westside Lanes by the same margin.

Harold (Skin) Keith and Pat Sweeney combined for 614 and 600 as Sno-Bol shut out Veteran's Disposal despite a 611 by Oz Jewett.

'Team' Crown Goes to Lakewood

A house trophy will be awarded the establishment and $5 gift certificates will go to each member when prizes are distributed Sunday following the individual finals at 300 Bowl.

"It took the mighty mouse to beat the big houses," said coproprietor Bill Kuklinski of Lakewood after the final totals were in.

He was referring to the fact that his 14-lane establishment won out over places ranging in alleys from 16 to 40.

Competing at Huron Bowl yesterday, they finished at 3050 featuring 661s by Jerry Harnack and Bill Richards and Jerry Perna at 609. Jack Chambers added 598 and Gene Shell 521.

Wonderland Lanes finished No. 3 with 2984 as last bowler Paul Horie hit 652. Next was Airway Lanes at 2952.

Dixie Recreation took 5th at 2861 followed by Huron at 2842. Jay Lovett fired 637 to lead the latter group Sunday. Sylvan had 2768, Nor-West Recreation 2725 and East Highland Recreation 2724.

Collier's Lanes hit 2704, Howe's Lanes 2671, 300 Bowl 2661, Cooley Lanes 2633, Motor Inn 2598, Hilltop 2589, Elks 2513, Maple Lanes 2724 and Fairgrounds 2442.

The three top teams each had three men make the handicap finals. Dixie placed two. Two from East Highland are alternates.

MSU's Hatcher First Negro With Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State fullback Ron Hatcher Saturday became the first Negro football player ever to sign a contract with the Washington Redskins. The 215-pound Hatcher was the Redskins eighth National Football league draft choice.

Hatcher said he had no feeling "one way or another" about being the first man of his race to become a member of the Washington team. "I'm here to play football," he said.

Canadian Golfer Nods After Birdie Captures Coral Gables Open

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—"Did you win?"

About 4,000 other spectators knew the slender, 24-year-old had won his first major tournament.

He blocked Gay Brewer's bid for three victories in a row by bagging a $2,800 birdie on the 17th hole.

Knudson, learning on the 16th hole that he needed a birdie to beat Brewer, did it on the 530-yard par five 17th. After driving into the rough, he reached the green with a four-iron and wedge shots, then sank a seven-foot putt.

The Toronto pro, playing coolly while his expectant wife kibitzed nervously, closed with a 32-34—66. That gave him an 11-under-par 273.

Pittsburg Bowl Winner Before Slim Gathering

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Pittsburg State of Kansas defeated Linfield of Oregon 12-7 in the first Camellia Bowl before only 10,000 spectators. But officials have promised to repeat the small college football championship in Sacramento despite the poor attendance.

Tag and Cut Own Yule Tree New Wrinkle

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — A new wrinkle in the annual selection of Christmas trees by families is gaining in popularity.

This is the "you pick it" or "you chop it yourself" idea, a movement which probably stems from the old American family tradition of going into the forest to cut a Christmas tree and haul it home.

In New Jersey, about 300 farmers are engaged in growing Christmas trees. In many cases families drive to one of the tree plantations weeks before Christmas to inspect the crop. They make their choices and the trees are tagged with their names and the dates they intend to pick them up.

United Jewish Appeal After $95 Million in '62

NEW YORK (UPI) — Delegates to the 24th annual United Jewish Appeal national conference will vote today on a stepped-up goal of $95 million for relief projects during 1962.

The target was announced by UJA Chairman Joseph Meyerhoff of Baltimore. The campaign to aid Israeli immigrants and needy Jews elsewhere raised $60 million this year.

America Should Send Troops if Necessary, Rep. Gerald Ford Says

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. R-Mich., said Sunday the United States should send troops to Southeast Asia if necessary to block the spread of communism.

★ ★ ★

"We must stand up and be counted" to keep the Philippines and South Viet Nam from being overrun by communism, Ford said on KYW-TV's "Open Circuit" program in answer to a question from the viewing audience.

Ford attacked the Kennedy administration for what he called the disturbing tendency to centralize power in Washington and the desire to spend more and more money.

"We now are seeing the ill effects of the great increase in federal spending," he said, referring to an estimated $7 billion deficit for the current fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

"The government should hold back in its expenditures for area redevelopment, depressed area help and housing," he urged. "The way the economy is going now, federal help is not needed. And besides, the job can be done locally."

Italy's 'Comrades' Put on Good Show

BY FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—North of Rome lies Italy's richest farmland. Yet, this area is called the Red Belt, for well-organized Communists and fellow-travelers control most local governments, operate flourishing co-ops and recruit talent with comparative ease.

South of Rome, the land is parched. Only the unemployment list seems to grow. Ironically, in this area of great need, the Communists find it difficult to overcome the strong Catholic faith of the peasants.

This apparent paradox was explored Sunday night in "The Remarkable Comrades," and uncommonly eloquent documentary presented on ABC-TV's "Close-up." The hour blended excellent photography, reporting, writing, background music and narration in an impressive fashion.

REDS ONE IN FOUR

Filmed over a period of months, "The Remarkable Comrades" displayed in vivid terms the influence of the opportunistic Italian Reds, who number 1.5 million of Italy's 6.7 million population. One in every four Italians, we were told, votes Communist despite Italy's explosive prosperity.

Why? It seems that expediency is a major factor. An Italian writer, Ettore Della Giovanni, explained it: "They just think that through the pressure that the Comunists exercise almost every day . . . they can get a great benefit."

What the film showed us of the field hands and factory workers bore out Della Giovanni's theory.

Along with such well-spaced interviews, the program consisted of absorbing, intimate photographic compositions as the camera traveled up and down the peninsula to show Italy's industrial recovery, Communist festivals, Red rallies, leadership schools, welfare offices, co-ops and cells in action.

Moving south, we were then shown how the Roman Catholic Church counters the Communist drive.

NOT WON OVER

Is there hope? Executive producer John Secondari, the narrator, concluded with this optimistic assessment: "The Communists have not convinced the majority of Italians; they have not won Italy, they probably never will. For in these hills is the birthplace of Western man . . . the first laws . . . the renaissance. All these things are in every Italian, even in the Italian Communist."

Spirited music by Giovanni Vicari was an asset, as was the understanding script by producer Helen Jean Rogers. But I thought the real hero of the piece was the cameraman, Bill Hartigan. Once again, his personalized, adventurous style made the program's statements come alive.

Twist Craze Made '61 Very Amusing Year

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If we hadn't had the Twist, 1961 would have been a sad year.

"I've never seen so many cops and celebrities out in front," Bob Hope exclaimed the other night on a Waldorf dais sparkling with President Kennedy, Cardinal Spellman, Gen. MacArthur and others. "Why you'd think this was the Peppermint Lounge!"

WILSON

Give credit to Hope — he's our only great humorist left. "Nixon couldn't be here; he's running for Governor . . . he'll campaign on radio," Hope said . . . to enormous applause and loud laughter even from JFK who remembered the TV debates pretty well . . . "Gen. MacArthur didn't have far to come; he lives right here in the Waldorf. That GI Bill is wonderful!" Hope said . . . "But the General is used to roughing it. He was in 'South Pacific' before it was a hit . . .

★ ★ ★

"Listen, 'touch football' is not a sissy sport. Up there in Hyannis Port, roughing the passer is a Federal rap . . . Students out there, stand by! You could be the next Cabinet! If you were from Harvard, you'd be in tomorrow! . . . New York has changed. I took a cab from the airport and Carmine De Sapio was driving."

Horse Ambushes Boy Chasing Lost Chick

★ ★ ★

Berry was trying to chase down a lost chick and return it to the brood. But as he was about to sneak up on the chicken through tall grass, he inadvertently slipped up on a horse. The surprised horse responded with a kick that sent Berry head over heels.

★ ★ ★

Suburban Lines Operating Again

Company Plans Appeal of Circuit Court Order to Restore Service

DETROIT (AP)—Intertown Suburban Lines buses have started rolling again.

The first buses to operate since Aug. 1 made regular pickups Sunday. Kenneth E Totten, regional manager of the line which serves 14 Western Wayne County communities, said increased service would be offered today.

A Circuit Court order has been issued to restore full service, but an attorney for the company, Edmund M. Brady, said he plans to appeal the Circuit Court order to the State Supreme Court. "We feel that the company has gone out of business and the order to restore service is unjustified," he said.

Meanwhile, negotiations for the purchase of Intertown by a Washington, D.C., firm, reportedly were still going on.

Bus drivers and mechanics struck the firm in August and later in the fall the firm said it was going out of business. A state order, however, said the line had to resume business when the strike was ended.

Coal Firm Founder Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Justin Potter, 63, founder of the Nashville Coal Co. and later president of Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., died Saturday at a hospital. A native of Smithville, Tenn., Potter became a multimillionaire and a leading conservative spokesman. He was an outspoken foe of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Henry Morgan drives one of those compact French Peugeot sedans around Hollywood and recently the panelist of "I've Got a Secret" narrowly missed a jaywalker. The latter yelled after him, "Watch it, mister, you almost ran under me!"

Blames Parents for Delinquency

'They've Lost Their Guts,' Says Serious Comic Sam Levenson

NEW YORK (UPI) — What's wrong with American kids? What's wrong with the schools?

"Parents!" said Sam Levenson, a comedian who wasn't joking. "I think they've lost their guts!"

They've given their children's playgrounds to gangsters and they're buying them TV sets instead of education, he said.

Levenson was a New York City slum boy himself and taught for a number of years in the city's schools. These days, between TV and club engagements, he's crusading at PTA meetings.

"Six parents are enough to wipe out any two juvenile delinquents," Levenson said. "Thirty parents could demolish any street gang.

"That chunk of concrete in front of the house is the most valuable playground in the world. Mothers should fight to keep it safe for their children.

"What do they have to do? Watch their own children. Patrol the streets. Get the kids home for dinner. Call the kids home when she sees them playing with the wrong kids. If every mother did that, there'd be no gang.

"She's got to make the distinction between a gang and a club. Even a well-intentioned child can get confused if the choice is left to him. Any kids that carry knives don't belong to a club.

"Second, she can go to the corner and say, 'boys, you go home.'

"When I was a kid, every parent was a policeman. My mother would call the policeman against her own child if he wouldn't come in when she said.

"Now a policeman gets a rough deal from the parents when he tries to protect their streets. The disrespect for the gentlemen of the law is unheard of.

"These parents are the weakest link in our social system. No wonder kids drop milk bottles and beer cans on policemen."

"They're so afraid of depriving their children of something, if the kid needs a book from the library, they go get it for him—when the kid should be going himself and learning to use the library."

★ ★ ★

How will it all come out?

Mounted Police Given 17 Dogs, 2 'Bad Hombres'

The company, filming "Nikki, Wild Dog of the North," ended up with 19 extra animals. Production manager Erwin Verity called the Mounties and offered them the dogs.

"We've got a couple of bad hombres, too," he said.

★ ★ ★

When the mounties arrived for the dogs they found the "bad hombres" to be two wolves who had showed up on location site and been picked up with the dogs.

Filling Gasoline Needs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The number of service stations in the nation increased by 14.8 per cent in the past decade while consumption of motor fuel increased by 66 per cent, according to the American Petroleum Institute. There were 206,302 service stations in 1958 compared with 179,647 in 1948.

THE AGE OF SCIENCE shows up in a new version of an old favorite. Getting ready for another space shot, this youngster loads his erector set rocket launched. The motor raises the rocket into firing position and launches it automatically, while a revolving radar screen "keeps track" of the flight. It's only one of an endless variety of fascinating models he can build with this versatile toy.
