Showers, Thaw Bring Ponds

FIRST SPRING FLOOD — Water surrounds this Waterford Township home as warm weather cleared the ground of snow for the first time in several weeks, bringing the first flood of the spring season. Several roads in the area were spanned by large ponds of water, but traffic moved through them slowly after heavy showers last night. (Another picture is on page 2.)

Wind, Rain Lash Region

The roar of the March lion echoed through Oakland County last night after the usually blustery month had started with deceptively lamb-like meekness.

Sunshine and temperatures in the 50s were followed by winds up to 40 miles per hour and heavy showers.

Added to puddles created by melting snow, the rain flooded countless back roads and a few sections of main roads. Pools up to six inches deep were reported on Northwestern Highway, Airport Road and Maple Road.

Lahser road was reported nearly blocked south of Long Lake Road.

Some subdivision roads and intersections were reported under 12 inches of water and mud.

Oakland County Road Commission, its switchboard jammed for hours this morning by incoming calls, erected warning flares and signs along several county roads.

In Walled Lake's Trail Acres subdivision, neighbors reported that rising flood waters this morning forced John Head of Hoeft Drive to remove furniture from his stranded house.

The five-day Michigan forecast promises temperatures averaging 2 to 6 degrees above normal, with slight drops over the weekend and on Tuesday or Wednesday. Normal temperature would be about 36 degrees.

Precipitation is expected to average half an inch, with showers and intermittent rain.

Nationally, March began with mild, clear weather over most of the country. Sections of the South and East were reported wet and windy, and there were showers in the Far West.

Generally cloudy but warm weather prevailed along the Atlantic Coast. Skies were clear and temperatures mild in the northern and central plains and the middle Mississippi valley.

Dust storms were reported in western Nebraska, New Mexico and southeastern Missouri as high winds whipped the plains.

Tonight's forecast calls for fair and cool weather, with the mercury dropping to 30. Tomorrow should be mild, with temperatures rising to 44-48 degrees.

Lowest Pontiac temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 37 degrees. The thermometer registered 37 at 2 p.m.

Disappearance of Banker Baffles Richmond Area

ST. CLAIR (AP)—This area in the "knuckle" of Michigan's Thumb area was baffled today by the disappearance of a well-to-do Richmond banker.

Ray Houston, 54, vice president and director of the National Bank of Richmond, was the object of a wide search. He failed to keep an appointment at a branch office six miles from the bank yesterday and has not been seen since.

Houston's car was found abandoned at the edge of the St. Clair River here. His hat and glasses were on the back seat and there were no signs of violence. The river was dragged for two hours today before a pile-up of ice forced a halt.

Albert F. Lindke, bank president, said no shortage of funds could be found. Houston was reported to have suffered from high blood pressure, but he appeared in good health and spirits when he left Richmond at 9:30 a.m. yesterday for Memphis, six miles away.

He reportedly called his doctor yesterday but found him busy and didn't call back.

Houston was carrying bank papers but no bank funds when he set out for Memphis.

Harold Volkenant, assistant cashier of the Richmond bank, said Houston often carried money between the bank and its branch. Yesterday, however, he took only papers, which he stacked in boxes in the trunk of his 1954 two-tone blue (Dodge) car.

Houston was described as about 5 feet 6 inches tall, 160 pounds and bald.

Formerly a dairy farmer and real estate dealer, he joined the bank several years ago. He is widely known as a judge of horse pulling contests in southern Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Ontario.

Legislators Add to Health Funds

House Committee OKs More Than $34 Million for Cancer Study

WASHINGTON (AP) —The House Appropriations Committee today voted a big boost in funds to fight cancer, heart trouble and other diseases as it recommended $8,301,508,041 in new money to finance 24 government agencies.

The money is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1 and is $154,155,641 more than President Eisenhower had requested.

However, the increase was more than accounted for by the committee's decision to add 305 million dollars more than Eisenhower had requested for the Civil Service retirement fund.

One of the sharpest cuts, $37,100,000 below the President's request, was made in funds for the Civil Defense Administration, for which the committee voted $68,100,000.

For operation of the National Health Institutes, which conduct research in medicine, the committee voted $135,525,000. This is a million more than Eisenhower requested and 37 million more than the NHI received this year.

The National Cancer Institute was allotted $34,437,000, a boost of 2 million over the President's proposal; the Mental Health Institute $23,749,000, up 2 million; the Heart Institute $25,106,000, a 3-million hike.

The dental program $3,471,000, a boost of $500,000; the arthritis and metabolic diseases program $13,845,000, an increase of $500,000; and the neurology and blindness programs $14,196,000, a hike of 2 millions. For microbiology activities the committee voted $8,799,000, a cut of a million.

Church Leaders, Realtors Back Parking Project

Groups Add Support to Plan as Controversy Approaches Vote

With the vote on the $600,000 municipal parking proposal two days off, favorable reaction gained added momentum as two more organizations announced their endorsement, while letters received from other cities indicated discrepancies in claims by opponents' posters at several commercial parking lots.

Also, Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, announced today that he hoped that "all citizens would go to the polls Monday regardless of their convictions."

This morning, Haggard told The Press: "The Oakland County CIO Council, representing 48,000 CIO members in the county and approximately 20,000 living in the city of Pontiac, have by resolution endorsed the program for additional five cent short term parking."

Rarely taking a stand as a group on public issues, the president of the Pontiac Pastors' Association, Rev. Carl W. Nelson, yesterday announced that the church group supports the municipal parking issue.

In a meeting held yesterday, 14 Pontiac realtors, all members of the Pontiac Real Estate Board, declared their unanimous support of the project.

Ralph T. Norvell, head of the "Committee For Five Cent Parking" said yesterday he had received four more letters from cities denying alleged municipal parking difficulties in their cities.

Letters were received from Moline, Ill., Council Bluffs, Iowa, Cleveland, and Gainesville, Ga.

In the meeting of the realtors yesterday, a spokesman for the group said "the group is in complete agreement with the bond issue and the fact that it will not bring an increases in taxes and that it will never be a lien on a man's home or any real estate because it will be paid for exclusively from income derived from it."

"Pontiac vitally needs more off-street parking like many other cities in the United States. Thanks to our city commissioners they have by ordinance given the much-needed answer."

Old-Fashioned State Still Sells Eggs in Shells

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan is still in the horse and buggy days as far as egg marketing is concerned, L. B. Darrah, Cornell University marketing specialist, told a state egg marketing conference today at Michigan State University.

The latest thing, Darrah said, is to sell eggs in plastic containers instead of in the shell. The egg can be cooked as is, he said, or the container can be broken.

Darrah said this saves the former 10 per cent loss because of breakage and imperfect shells.

Other new marketing ideas, he said, are automatic vending machines and the packaging of eggs in brightly - colored cartons.

Curtice Visions Long Prosperity

Says GM Sales Only Slightly Under Same Period Year Ago

A long period of national prosperity is foreseen by GM President Harlow H. Curtice who told a Los Angeles gathering of newsmen yesterday that General Motors sales through Feb. 20 were 98 per cent of the comparable record-smashing period in 1955.

Production figures released by the corporation revealed that GM's output in February was 364,707 passenger cars and trucks in the U. S. and Canada, an increase of 13,314 units over February, 1955.

Pontiac Division produced 38,208 vehicles last month compared with 49,602 in February, 1955. The February output of GMC trucks & Coach Division GMC Truck & Coach with 995 during last year's comparable period and 8,294 in January of this year.

Curtice's prediction was made at a Motorama luncheon during which he scoffed at the belief held in some quarters that a "saturation" point will soon be reached on the production of automobiles and other products.

"I believe that the demand for goods and services will continue to expand in direct relation to the constantly-growing population," he declared. "I expect the economic trend to continue upward."

Results thus far in the auto industry as a whole, he pointed out, uphold his Jan. 16 forecast for production and sale of 6,500,000 cars and a million trucks in the U.S. in 1956.

The GM president also stated that a gas turbine car is a GM production possibility in about 10 years, although he does not "foresee" an atomic-powered automobile at this time.

Hunters Seek Advice on 'Beer' in Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The Idaho highway department says it receives some odd requests for information. This one, for instance, had employes stumped for a couple of seconds:

"I would like information on elk, deer and beer hunting in Idaho." It came from Balboa Island, Calif.

Seems someone had hit the "e" instead of the "a" on the typewriter when asking for information on "bear" hunting.

Lucy Resting in North

EXPELLED, VISITS NEW YORK—Miss Autherine Lucy arrives at LaGuardia Airport in New York from Birmingham, Ala. While Miss Lucy was en route to New York the University of Alabama announced that it had "permanently expelled" her from the school. The University's action came just a few hours after a federal judge had ordered that Miss Lucy, the school's first Negro coed, be reinstated.

Expect Autherine to Tell Future Course of Action

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

NEW YORK—Autherine Lucy is expected to tell today whether she intends to keep up her running battle for admission to the University of Alabama.

The Negro student, who went into temporary seclusion to get a rest and see a doctor, will meet with newsmen this afternoon in the New York offices of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The conference will be her first talk with the press since university trustees announced her expulsion yesterday.

Meanwhile, her attorneys explored possible new ways to force her acceptance as the 125-year-old university's first Negro student.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, stated:

"The underlying issue in this case has become clearer each step of the preceding month. The issue is crystal clear . . .

"This is no longer a case involving a single Negro student. It is a case of whether the law of the courts of the land are supreme. Shall we have the rule by threat of mob or by law?

Down in Birmingham, Ala., the case of Autherine Lucy was in a state bordering on total confusion today.

The trustees' action came within hours of an order from federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms ordering her readmission to the university. She had been suspended Feb. 6 after riots on the campus over her presence.

Her attorney Arthur D. Shores said he had no idea what legal course he would pursue in an additional effort to have the 26-year-old former schoolteacher readmitted.

Miss Lucy herself was in New York for medical attention and "rest, peace and quiet."

The NAACP has been backing her efforts over the past 29

Auto Crushes Child to Death

Royal Oak Girl Victim as Car Rolls Backward Near Kin's Home

A 13-month-old child was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a car yesterday afternoon while her stepfather worked nearby, unaware of the tragedy.

The child, Deborah Edwards of 10710 Hartley, Royal Oak Township, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brown.

Brown, 25, told police he started the motor of one car and then moved to another to make repairs. Unknown to him, the girl toddled behind the first car. It rolled backward and crushed her.

The accident occurred in front of the home of Brown's grandmother, Mrs. Dollie Brown of 10559 Danvers Ct., Royal Oak Township.

The father did not know of the accident until Mrs. Brown came out of the house and saw the child's body, police said.

Convict Attorney of Lesser Crime in 9-Day Trial

Jury Out Five Hours in Reaching Verdict; Sentencing March 12

After deliberating five hours yesterday, an Oakland County Circuit Court jury found Clifford B. Dye guilty of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

Dye, 54, was accused of assault with intent to murder in the non-fatal shooting of Fenton tenant farmer William C. Clark, 27, last Aug. 26 while Dye was Fenton village attorney.

Clark leased a farm from Dye's sister. The shooting followed a series of verbal and legal disputes between the two over management of the farm.

While Dye was accused of attempted murder, which could bring any number of years in prison up to life, the nine-woman, three-man jury found the attorney guilty of intending to harm Clark, but not kill him.

Dye, therefore, could receive up to ten years in prison when he is sentenced March 12 by Judge Clark J. Adams who presided during the nine-day trial.

Dye's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, said he will ask for a new trial within the 20 days allowed by law. If a second Circuit Court trial is denied, said Smith, the conviction will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

BOND CONTINUED

A $10,000 bond, previously posted, was continued, allowing Dye to remain free until sentenced.

During the trial Dye claimed self - defense, saying Clark assaulted him and he shot to scare the farmer. The shot which hit Clark, Dye asserted, went off accidentally while the two grappled.

Clark and his wife, Lois, 27, said Dye pulled the gun from his pocket and began shooting. "I advanced on Dye to protect my wife and children," the farmer stated.

Dye, who was a judge in Louisville, Ky., before coming to Michigan in 1941, registered no emotion upon hearing the verdict.

"I don't see how they could have reached that decision," he said afterward. "I did nothing wrong. In fact, I exercised great self-control."

The case against Dye was presented by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Newspaper Sales Breaks All Records

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Newspaper circulation in the United States broke all records last year—according to the 88th annual edition of N. W. Ayer & Son's Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals.

The Ayer Directory, published yesterday, said combined circulation of all English-language dailies reached 55,837,000 by the end of 1955. This was an increase of close to a million copies daily over the previous year.

The breakdown of circulation shows: U. S. evening newspapers, 33,720,000 daily, an increase of more than 800,000 copies; morning papers 21,327,000 daily, a gain of 90,000; and Sunday papers, 46,044,000, increasing more than 220,000 copies.

A slight drop in the number of daily newspapers was reported, "due to the merger trend."

Saudi Arabia Asks U. S. for Jets and More Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Saudi Arabia was disclosed today to have asked to buy a small number of jet planes from the United States in addition to 18 more tanks.

Officials who reported this said the request has not received U. S. approval. They indicated it would get the same "most careful scrutiny" promised for all Middle East arms requests in a Feb. 18 State Department announcement lifting a two-day embargo on such shipments.

The embargo was imposed amid controversy over a previous shipment of light tanks.

The Saudi request for an undisclosed number of jet planes and 18 M47 Patton medium tanks, officials said, is in addition to seven million dollars worth of U. S. military goods authorized for shipment to Saudi Arabia in the past six months.

Israel's big request for 63 millions in defensive weapons is still "under consideration."

Survey Studies Facilities for Aged in Oakland County

A University of Michigan survey of facilities for the care of chronically ill and aged in Oakland County gives the local institutions a good rating, but calls attention to a lack of physical or occupational therapy.

"In general, the facilities surveyed seemed to be providing adequate custodial and personal care services; and it was apparent in a number of them that great pains had been taken to make the patients feel at home," the report states.

The study, released yesterday, showed that most of the homes were 95 per cent occupied, although a few were only 60 per cent full.

The average number of beds was 20, although some homes had as many as 40 beds and some as few as ten or less.

The average number of direct-care workers to patients was one to seven. The County Infirmary has a one to nine ratio.

None of the buildings, the report said, were built for the purpose of housing old people or chronically ill. However, the report added, most of the buildings had been well-adapted to their purpose.

Of the patients, the report said, 88 per cent were 65 or over and nine per cent were over 90. Some two-thirds of the patients were women and 69 per cent of these were widowed.

More than half of the patients were maintained wholly or partly out of state funds. The average length of stay is two years.

All but four of the homes studied had television sets, most of them had one or two wheelchairs and all had some outdoor recreational area. Only one, however, had a laboratory on the site.

Twenty-four facilities did not differentiate with respect to rates charged to private and publicly-supported patients. In the remaining 21 homes, the range in monthly rates averaged $50.

The smallest range between charges to public-supported and private patients was $10, and the largest range was $100.

Rates also differed for both types of patients, depending on the amount and type of care required by them.

Kenton E. Winter, research associate in the Bureau of Public Health Economics, planned and conducted the survey.

The survey was carried out over a six week period in 1955 by the Bureau of Public Health Economics, of the School of Public Health. Primary objectives of the survey were to obtain information about non-active-treatment facilities, or those providing care other than continuing acting medical treatment to chronically-ill and aged persons.

Surveyed were all facilities in Oakland County licensed by the Michigan State Department of Social Welfare as convalescent homes or boarding homes for the aged. The Oakland County Infirmary and Convalescent Hospital were also included.

Included were 34 convalescent homes and six boarding homes. Some 660 interviews were made, representing a patient population of 928.

"It appears that the majority of facilities in Oakland County were quite well-equipped and staffed to serve as homes for the aged and for people, who, though not necessarily of very advanced age, are chronically disabled or debilitated to a point where they cannot live independently in private quarters of their own, or fit into the homes of their children or other rela-

3 Witnesses Tell of Dairy Losses

Milk Producers Reveal Farm Operations Before Federal Price Hearings

DETROIT (AP) — Three dairy farmers, described by the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. as among the most efficient suppliers of the Detroit-area, said today milk they sold for an average price of 8.2 cents a quart last year cost 9 cents to produce.

The three, Max I. Graybiel of Capac, Robert R. Linck of Brown City and Frank L. Haggard of Dexter, were among witnesses brought by the MMPA to testify at a federal milk price hearing.

The association is asking the United States Department of Agriculture, which sets farm milk price minimums in Detroit, for an approximate penny-a-quart increase.

In addition, the MMPA, seeks a new higher price classification for milk used in certain types of commercial milk products.

Linck, who operates a 250-acre farm in partnership with his father, Raymond, said their earnings for labor on the farm last year averaged 48 cents an hour.

Haggard said it cost him $4.08 a hundred pounds to produce milk he had to sell for $3.80. Graybiel said he got $3.82 against costs of $4.14.

Glenn Lake of North Branch, president of the MMPA, said dairy farmers are being forced out of business because of low milk prices.

months to be admitted to the university.

In expelling Miss Lucy from the university, the trustees accused her of making "false, defamatory, impertinent and scandalous charges" against university officials.

The expulsion resolution said, "no educational institution can maintain necessary disciplinary action of any student, regardless of race, guilty of the conduct of Autherine J. Lucy be permitted to remain."

COURT ORDER

The Negro woman was enrolled at the university Feb. 1 in compliance with a Federal District Court order issued by Grooms.

In the wake of the riots, the Board of Trustees ordered her suspension for "her safety" and the "safety of others."

Miss Lucy's attorneys promptly filed contempt of court proceedings against 13 university officials and trustees.

In the contempt motion Miss Lucy charged these officials had conspired with members of the mob to keep her from attending classes. The petition called the mob action a "cunning stratagem."

In the court hearing Wednesday, however, Marshall moved to amend the contempt proceedings, striking all references to a conspiracy.

GOOD FAITH

In his findings, Grooms exonerated the trustees and officials of the contempt charges on the grounds they acted in good faith in excluding her from the campus after the riots. However, he ordered her readmitted by 9 a.m. Monday.

A Federal Court employe said unofficially the next move now is up to Miss Lucy's attorneys since the readmission order was predicated upon the fact that at that time she was a legally enrolled student.

Meanwhile, the Alabama House of Representatives in Montgomery whopped through a resolution to establish a committee to determine if the NAACP is controlled by Communists.

Under the terms of the resolution, which now goes to the Senate, Miss Lucy would be called as a witness.

The Senate approved a resolution by unanimous voice vote asking for federal funds to settle Negroes outside the South.

How Did a Federal Judge Counterattack Red Taunts?

An Interview With Judge Harold R. Medina, U.S. Court of Appeals, New York

In 1949, eleven top U.S. Communists were sentenced by the court to terms in jail on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the government by violence.

H. R. MEDINA

Presiding judge at this trial was Harold R. Medina, whose skill and patience during the long nine months were widely heralded and admired.

But there is a little known story behind that story. To get this account, a Guideposts reporter went to Judge Medina's office in New York City.

Reporter—I read a lot about you, of course. One thing interested me most: this little item about your fear of height.

Medina—My acrophobia?

Reporter — You're over it now, I suppose.

Medina — Oh yes. I haven't had trouble with that for two, three years now.

Reporter—During the trial your fear was used against you. Would you be willing to tell about it?

Medina — Up until the trial, it was mostly a childhood fear. I remember one summer, when I was a boy on Long Island, my father took me up to Niagara Falls. I just couldn't go near the edge. I was afraid I would jump. Doesn't make much sense, but a thing like this never does.

Reporter — And the fear came alive again during the trial?

Medina — Soon after the trial started, I began to realize the defendants wanted a mistrial. They could succeed in two ways. Either by creating such disorder that I'd have to declare a mistrial; or by wrecking me personally. For the first five months of the trial, witnesses were truculent, attorneys were insolent; we had the greatest trouble keeping order in the court.

On Foley Square, there were a lot of pickets carrying signs. "Medina will fall like Forrestal." It was just a few weeks after Defense Secretary James Forrestal had plunged to his death from a hospital window. Then the chants began. "Medina will fall like Forrestal." The pickets chanted that all day down there in the street. Somehow they had learned about my fear of falling.

I began to find the words jump and fall in messages. In my mail. In phone calls. It began to wear on me. I could feel the old acrophobia coming back.

How does a man face a fear that he can't avoid? I'll tell you. In addition to the self-discipline, I had something else . . . prayer.

Reporter—Prayer?

Medina — I don't mean a prayer directed only towards my fear of falling. I didn't suddenly say, "Now Lord, you have got to take away my acrophobia." I mean a whole prayer-life that asked for strength and guidance in all that I was doing. It was prayer that I had been building since I was a boy. I have always prayed constantly, on and off throughout the day, any time when I was thankful, or under stress, or when I was in any kind of trouble.

It was prayer alone that kept me going during the sixth and seventh months of the trial. Right up to that moment in August, just before the trial ended, when I finally did collapse.

One day my head suddenly began to spin. I recessed the court and walked quickly to the little room in back of the court and lay down. I felt almost panicky . . . I sensed that this was a crisis. A turning. One road led to defeat; the other to victory.

I don't mind telling you I did a lot of praying in that little room. I prayed for strength and I prayed for guidance. There was no visitation, no sudden apparition, but there was the slow renewal of strength. With it came the firm realization that I would be able to meet whatever trials lay ahead of me. I was in the little room for only 15 minutes, but the crisis had passed.

* * *

I opened the door and walked again to the bench, to the completion of the trial, to a future that I was sure would in time be free of my old fear.

New Bronze Building Will Be First in World

NEW YORK (INS)—The world's first bronze skyscraper soon will be erected on New York City's Park Avenue.

A contract for 3,200,000 pounds of bronze to be used in the Seagram Building was signed yesterday.

Building officials said if individual bronze units which will make up the walls of the building were stretched end to end they would measure 104 miles.

County Tops Quota in Bond Purchases

Oakland County topped its U. S. savings bond quota by 33 per cent in January, according to Alfred C. Girard, chairman of the County Savings Bond Committee.

Purchases totaled $1,833,400 Girard said, compared with $1,558,163 for a similar period last year.

Sales activity in Michigan was more brisk than during any other peacetime month, State Sales Manager Delmar V. Cote said in an accompanying statement, which set the January total at $34,068,000, or 18.3 per cent above the quota.

Ike Heading Primary Drive

Dems Unleash Attacks as President Works for GOP Votes

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower was in the midst of a drive for Republican primary votes today as Democrats began to unleash their attacks on him as a campaigner for reelection.

The Chief Executive formally authorized entries of slates of delegates favorable to his candidacy in the California and Wisconsin Republican primaries.

These key primaries will merely test the president's popularity since he will be the only candidate for top-spot on the Republican ticket there. Sen. William F. Knowland told his supporters in the two states that he will make "no appearance" as a Presidential hopeful.

While the President was acting like a man eager to get back into the political maelstrom, several Democrats demonstrated that he was truly in the center of the storm once he announced his candidacy.

Democratic Presidential hopeful Adlai Stevenson said Mr. Eisenhower proposes to make "permanent" the lightened Presidential duties instituted for him during his illness.

And Sen. Hubert Humphrey directed his criticism of the farm bill yesterday directly at the President. He told the Senate: "This isn't Benson's farm program. This is Eisenhower's farm program. Eisenhower is running for reelection. If he's going to be a candidate, he's got to face up to the issues."

2 P.M. Saturday Is Deadline for Absentee Ballots

Tomorrow at 2 p.m. is the deadline for absentee Pontiac voters to cast ballots in Monday's primary election.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the clerk's office in the City Hall will remain open until 5 p.m. today and will be opened tomorrow especially for voters who will not be able to go to the polls Monday. The office will open at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Voters will cast ballots for a $600,000 municipal parking revenue bond issue, a charter amendment for increased pay for the mayor and commissioners, and nominate eight candidates for the City Commission from four districts.

Fifty-seven ballots have been marked to date, Mrs. Evans said today. They include voters coming to vote in the clerk's office and also mailed-in ballots, she said.

Hearings on Donation Winding Up Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee's investigation of an attempt to make a $2,500 campaign contribution to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) ended today.

Meantime, Republican and Democratic members of another committee sought to resolve a dispute over plans for a much broader inquiry into lobbying and campaign contributions.

Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex., was called for the third time before a special committee investigating whether an improper attempt was made to influence Case's vote on the natural gas bill.

Patman is a $35,000-a-year lawyer for the Superior Oil Co. of California. His appearance was expected to wind up the public hearings of the committee, headed by Sen. George (D-Ga).

The 25 $100 bills spurned by Case were left with one of his friends in South Dakota by John M. Neff, a Lexington, Neb., lawyer-lobbyist for Superior Oil, after Neff had made inquiries about the senator's position on the bill to free natural gas companies from direct federal regulation.

Williams Rips AEC Deal With Firms; Asks Revision

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan says the people's 12 billion dollar investment in the discovery of atomic power "is about to be stolen from them."

To prevent this, Williams called for a reversal of Eisenhower administration policies in development of atomic energy for peacetime use and a congressional rewrite of the Atomic Energy Act.

He told a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last night that the result of the existing program will be a monopoly of essential patents by a "few large combines."

He said a "handful of handpicked public utility giants" have been let in on the ground floor of the atomic program while the door was "effectively" shut to 3,500 small concerns.

"This is what they really mean by 'dynamic conservatism'," he said. "The big fellows get the dynamos and the little fellows get the conservatism."

Williams' remarks were piped to banqueters from Lansing via long distance telephone and loudspeakers.

The governor had set out by plane late Thursday afternoon for Evansville, but was turned back by bad weather. His speech was shortened because of the improvised arrangements.

As the need for Atomic Energy Act revision, the Michigan governor said the section should be eliminated which gives the AEC only five years control over patents developed under government sponsorship.

This feature, because the field has effectively been restricted to big utilities, he said, will lead to monopoly.

He said the law as it stands requires no payment or royalty on government atomic patents, and that this needs changing. Income from royalties well could be applied to education, he said.

Gronchi's Next Stop —Norfolk Navy Base

WASHINGTON (INS) — Italian President Giovanni Gronchi leaves Washington today for a top-level briefing on Atlantic defenses at the Norfolk, Va., Naval Base, and the rest of his North American visit.

From the naval installation, he will leave for Ottawa, Canada, and then return to the U. S. for a swing across the country and back before flying to Rome March 14.

During his four-day state visit to Washington Gronchi made many friends for himself and his country and had two conferences with President Eisenhower.

At these meetings and in his speeches, particularly his enthusiastically received address before a joint session of Congress on Wednesday, Gronchi urged the U. S. to take the lead in expanding the Atlantic Alliance into an economic coalition as well as military.

Special Deer Season Bill Fails in Committee

LANSING (AP) — A bill requiring legislative approval of special deer seasons was apparently dead in committee today, sent there by its sponsor.

Rep. Kenneth O. Trucks (R-Baldwin), chairman of the House Conservation, sent his own bill back but did not explain his action.

Earlier, Gov. Williams had indicated he would veto the measure.

Trucks' bill would have required the Conservation Commission to submit deer hunting regulations to the attorney general, the governor and a special legislative committee.

Conservation Department officials objected that the plan would be unworkable.

The Day in Birmingham

Community House Gleans Nearly Half of Fund Goal

BIRMINGHAM—The Community House, which welcomed another 300 newcomers to the city at a meeting Wednesday night, is nearing its deadline in its annual drive for funds, with nearly half of its $50,000 goal already acquired.

March 5 is the date when all the captains and their staffs, numbering in the hundreds, turn in funds for the grand day of tallying.

But the $23,000 already received, in direct mail donations from Birmingham and surrounding area residents, without any amounts in yet from the women soliciting funds is "very encouraging," according to Roll Call Chairman Mrs. George Weinhold.

She points out that the Greater Birmingham area, not just the city itself, is served by the House's activities, and thus is being covered by the hundreds of women seeking Roll Call funds.

City officials talked to the 300 new residents of the area at Wednesday night's program, which was aimed to make newcomers feel welcome, especially to the Community House. It was arranged by Mrs. Charles Kass for the House board.

Mayor pro tem James Allen, taking the place of Mayor Charles Renfrew who is out of town for several weeks, talked, as did Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, chief of Police Ralph W Moxley and the Rev. Robert Dewey, chairman of the Council of Churches.

Witty remarks by Mrs. Kass, an explanation by Dr. Ireland of high scholastic ratings won by local high school seniors and the 75 per cent college attendance of local graduates, brief remarks on city processes by the other officials followed a welcome by Harold Hagan, president of the Community House.

Tours of the building, led by Mrs. Raymond Peck's committeewomen showed exhibits of silver, ceramics, millinery and sculpture done in House classes. The Jills, a Bloomfield Hills girls group harmonized and President Eisenhower's radio talk was heard during the refreshment hour.

Two seven-year-old boys from Baldwin School, who apparently left school at noon yesterday, in a burst of spring fever, reported missing to police at 3:28 p. m. yesterday, when their school bus arrived without them. Royal Oak police recovered the pair at 5:40 p. m. Returned home were Charles Gougeon and Allen Stark, who said they "just went for a walk."

Leader training for guiding group discussion on books at the Great Books meetings at Baldwin Public Library and others spots where such meetings occur in the north of Detroit area is beginning.

A series of training sessions start at 8 p. m. March 7 at the Ferndale library, according to local chairman Mrs. Harold R. Roehm.

The group here now has about 25 book fans gathering Wednesday evenings on alternate weeks. This week's session was on "The Wealth of Nations" by Adams Smith. Members are men and women from Royal Oak, Birmingham, and Pontiac.

UM Survey Studies Facilities for Aged

tives," the report said.

"Turning to the other side of the picture, it cannot be said that the facilities play any consequential role in the active treatment phase of chronic care. They are not, of course, hospitals, in the sense of containing diagnostic and treatment facilities, and no one could reasonably expect them to be."

"However, neither do they provide any physical or occupational therapy; and the County facility is the only one which has any provision for recreational therapy."

"Neither the equipment and personnel—nor the characteristics of the patients themselves—indicate that the types of facilities surveyed in Oakland County are designed or equipped to handle cases in which there is any significant rehabilitative potential."

In conclusion, however, the report added that "Though we may prefer not to think so, an appreciable proportion of those who are chronically ill have relatively limited rehabilitative potential, in view of our lack of knowledge—medical and otherwise—at this time."

In addition to custodial and personal-care services, the facilities provide care in the rapid and unpredictable onset of acute illnesses, including acute episodes of chronic conditions.

Facilitating the access of patients to physicians in such emergencies is itself an important service performed by the surveyed facilities, according to the report.

"These . . . are the functions which appear to be performed best by the types of facilities surveyed —and in some cases, the best is very good indeed," report conclusions state.

Credited for their cooperation with the survey crew were officials of the Oakland County Health Department, under Dr. John Monroe, and the Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid, Director Ora L. Hinckley and worker Mrs. Mary A. Sands.

Survey officials indicated they hoped to carry out, at a later date, a much more intensive and selective analysis of the data obtained in the survey. Such further analysis is needed to shed light on interrelationships among some of the characteristics of facilities, and patients about which information was obtained.

This would investigate the extent to which specific patient-disabilities are found in conjunction with other disabilities and limitations of patient-capacity.

This further work should be completed before the survey can be said to have produced data which can serve as the primary basis for any extensive or long-range planning in Oakland County, the report said.

The present report is only the first step in the process of describing fully and digesting the findings of the survey.

The 1956 meeting of the Union of Travel Organizations will be in Vienna.

To Seek Court Order to Shut Trailer Park

The city of Madison Heights will seek a court order to close the Victory Trailer Park, scene of two fires since last Sunday, including one that killed a one-year-old boy.

The action was taken after Fire Capt. Joseph R Sloan reported he found 29 violations of the state safety and health code in the park, located on E. Ten Mile Road.

Ronald Carter was killed and two brothers were injured when a blast and blaze swept their family trailer Tuesday.

The park, established in 1948, has been operating without a license since 1953, officials said.

Dancing Children Help Pope Celebrate Birthday

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Children from all parts of the world sang and danced around Pope Pius XII today to wish him a happy 80th birthday.

The papal audience for the children was the first of many events today celebrating the Pontiff's birthday and the 17th anniversary of his election as spiritual head of the world's 450 million Roman Catholics.

The major observance will be a Pontifical Mass in St. Peter's Basilica Sunday, March 11, the day before the anniversary of his coronation as pontiff.

The meeting with the children was held in the Vatican Palace's Consistorial Hall. Vatican officials said it was the first time a head of the church had held such an audience.

The frail, white - clad Pope smiled and at times beat his hands gently to the rousing "Happy Birthday to You"—sung in Italian "Tanti Auguri a Te." He beamed with pleasure when an Italian boy and girl brought him a white cake, topped with 80 gleaming candles and decorated with eight tiny, pink-eyed candy doves.

Meanwhile, 200 Italian schoolchildren—the boys in dark blue and the girls in white smocks—wayed branches of white lilacs and sang the birthday song. With them sang children from a score of other nations.

Recover Jade Loot Stolen From Liner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A $5,180 collection of jade, taken from a showcase aboard the liner Lurline at sea Feb. 22, was recovered in various apartments here yesterday after the arrest of a marine electrician.

Charged with the theft—and with wife beating—was John G. Leary, 39, former crewman aboard the luxury liner. His arrest resulted from a complaint by his Japanese wife Haru, 24, that he had beaten her and taken back a jade bracelet and ring.

Detectives and FBI agents tracked down the bracelet and ring—and then the rest of the loot. They said it was in the apartments of several of Leary's acquaintances, including two women friends. The acquaintances said Leary had either sold or given it to them.

The seaman placed under $20,000 bail, denied the charges.

Leadership at Stake for GOP Veep

By PETER EDSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Republican fight to pick its vice-presidential candidate as President Eisenhower's running mate now develops into a race for GOP leadership in 1960—or before, in case the President should have a more serious heart attack during another term.

This is seen here as another heat in the same old political derby that the Republican party has been running ever since the days of Teddy Roosevelt. It is the quadrennial handicap race between the GOP liberals and the Old Guard conservatives.

The stake is not only the presidency, but control of the party as well. This race will make the top political sporting news from now until the GOP convention at San Francisco ends, about Aug. 25.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is of course the odds-on favorite as of today. But because he is the pacesetter, he is also the entry all the other front runners will try to trip up to put themselves in the lead.

LIBERAL OR CONSERVATIVE

At the moment Nixon is difficult to classify as liberal or conservative. For three years he has supported President Eisenhower right down the line. That would seem to make him a liberal.

But Nixon's record in the House and Senate marks him as a conservative. And his backers in California, who supported him with the famous Nixon Fund in 1952, are classified as wanting to repeal the income tax, and all foreign aid and take the United States out of the United Nations.

Some politicians look for Nixon to make clear his own personal views—now and for the future. If he goes all out for Ike's liberal program, Nixon gains strength from association. But this might lose him the support of ultra-conservatives.

If Nixon can unite support from both factions—as Ike has done—he gains a tremendous advantage.

TOP TWENTY:

Aside from Nixon, the list of today's vice-presidential possibilities can be pretty accurately divided as to liberals and conservatives. A top ten list lines up like this:

Liberals

Chief Justice Earl Warren, Calif., Gov. Christian A. Herter, Mass., ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, N. Y., ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen, Minn., Milton Eisenhower, Pa.

Conservatives

Sen. William F. Knowland, Cal., Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., Sen. John W. Bricker, Ohio, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wis., Herbert Hoover Jr., Calif.

Some of these possibilities have publicly disavowed any interest in the race and taken themselves out—like Warren and Dewey.

A couple are definitely in it and would have been in it even more if President Eisenhower had chosen not to run—Knowland and Stassen, for instance.

Herter is so far letting the office seek the man.

The possibility of some dark horse is not to be discounted. One of the Republican governors might emerge as an acceptable compromise if he can show any talent for uniting the rival factions.

Knight of California, Stratton of Illinois, Craig of Indiana, McKeldin of Maryland, Langlie of Washington are prominently mentioned in this connection.

Since the Republican National Committee takes no part in any pre-convention races, every one of these men must depend entirely on his own resources.

Money is going to talk. Western oil millionaires and midwestern conservative contributions will vie with what the Taft forces called the "Chase Bank-Madison Avenue hucksters." It was this latter coalition that put over Wendell Willkie in 1940. It backed Tom Dewey against the Taft conservatives and it backed Eisenhower.

Some evidence is beginning to show that this eastern money will soon start concentrating behind Gov. Herter. The favorite of the western conservatives is Knowland. In the early winter book it looks like a three-cornered race, with Nixon as the third man.

More Residents Traveling, Says Busy County Clerk

More and more Oakland County people are becoming globe trotters, according to County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Allen's office processes passport applications and "more area people are traveling to Europe and South America this winter than any I can remember."

The majority of passports list destinations such as England, France, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland and the more tourist-attractive Latin American countries.

"We've been averaging 6 to 7 passports a day," said Allen, "and sometimes up to 15."

A person seeking a passport must be a citizen. He must provide certified copies of his birth certificate or naturalization papers. A pair of 2½-by-2½ inch pictures are required plus a $9 fee for the Department of State and $2 for the county.

Applicants must specify when they're leaving, where they're going, how they will travel and how long they plan to stay.

A whole family may travel on one passport, saving processing fees, when the children are under 21 years of age.

Allen's office forwards the completed application to Washington where the actual passport is issued and sent back.

Old Battlewagon of Teddy's Fleet to Make Final Run

NEW YORK (AP)—An old battlewagon that sailed around the world 49 years ago as part of Theodore Roosevelt's "Great White Fleet" will either be scrapped or turned into a floating museum.

The Prairie State, originally the Illinois, was commissioned in 1901. In 1924, she was converted into a floating armory for the New York State Naval Militia.

In 1941 the vessel was named the Prairie State when another Illinois was commissioned.

Sometime this weekend, the Navy said, the ship will make its last run from a Manhattan pier to Bayonne, N.J.

State Plan Opposed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Kent County Board of Supervisors has adopted a resolution opposing a state proposal to fix salaries of certain county employes. John Collins, finance committee chairman, said the fixing of all salaries paid directly by county governments "should be distinctly the prerogative of boards of supervisors." Copies of the resolution were mailed to the State Legislature.

No 'Anchors' for Him After 63 Years at Sea

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Lakes Capt. Thomas A. Small isn't letting his 82 years anchor him to a landlubber's life.

Small, who "took a notion" to ship out on the Great Lakes 63 years ago, is getting ready for another season.

Capt. Small hasn't missed a season of shipping since he signed on a tug May 1, 1893, in his home town of Collingwood, Ont.

He was officially retired in 1938 as "Dean of Pensioners" after 42 years service with the Pittsburg Steamship Division of U. S. Steel Corp. since then he has captained the harbor tug, New York, at Huron, Ohio.

Capt. Small, white-haired but brisk, doesn't claim he's the oldest master on the lakes but thinks he's "up near the top." Even so, he says:

"I feel better now than I did when I was 50."

The captain has to take regular physical examinations to keep his master's papers in order and hasn't flunked a test yet.

POWERED BY SLAB

He recalls when steam vessels were powered by burning slab and cordwood. He once skippered the Old Frontier, known as the "gut wagon," supply boat of Pittsburgh Steamship which took food and equipment to freighters as they passed by in the Sault Harbor.

Small's tugs once hauled logs and rafts of pulpwood during the days of Michigan's rich lumber trade in the 80s and 90s. He also guided schooners up the St. Marys River because the sailing vessels couldn't navigate the treacherous current under their own steerage.

Capt. Small's closest call in his many years of sailing was the sinking of the SS Mataafa at the entrance of Duluth Harbor Nov. 28, 1905.

Small was skipper on the barge James Naysmyth, which was being towed by the Mataafa. They had just left Duluth loaded and bound for a lower Lake Port when a violent storm blew up.

"We tried three times to get back to port but couldn't make it," Smal said "The Mataafa finally dropped us outside the harbor and tried to make the harbor by itself.

SAW SHHIPWRECK

"We were riding at anchor and I saw the shipwreck. Heavy seas smacked the Mataafa against the bottom as she was entering the breakwater and she foundered right there. Nine men were lost.

"We sat outside during the entire storm which lasted two or three days, and finally reached land after the blow died down."

During that ordeal when all hands were sure the barge would founder, Capt. Small said a seaman who had loaned him his watch asked to have it back.

"He sid he wanted it with him so his family would get it if they ever found his body on the beach," Capt. Small said.

Navy Vets Using Stamps as Hospital Therapy

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The need for stamps to help sick or injured service men at San Diego naval hospital continues, J. L. Zerbe says.

Zerbe, retired former University of Pennsylvania professor, is one of the leaders in showing the hospital patients how stamp collecting can serve as occupational therapy.

"This is an excellent time," he says, "for collectors who have unwanted duplicates or non-collectors who just have some stamps to send them to the Navy Hospital Stamp Club, Building 7, U. S. Navy Hospital, San Diego, 34, Calif."

Cuba is the largest island of the West Indies.

He Loves Hospitals, Though Fit as Fiddle

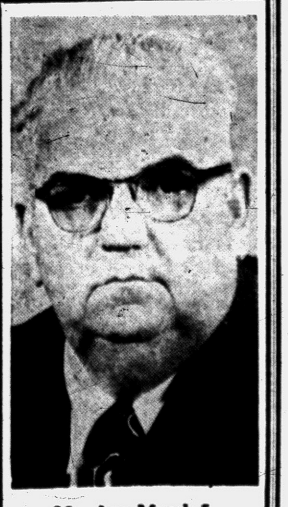

LONDON (INS) — Some people like being in the hospital.

The British Medical Journal has warned hospitals against a young man, described as "a psychopathic malingerer," who apparently has made something of a career of getting medical treatment he doesn't need.

In a letter to the journal, two doctors said: "In 1951 he was known to have been in 29 hospitals." They added: "There is nothing wrong with him."

Lease Site for Hotel

MUSKEGON (AP) — City Commissioners Wednesday approved a lease option on the city parking lot for construction of a proposed $3 million hotel. The site is one block from the heart of the downtown business district. Frank A. Schuler Jr., of North Muskegon, and Michael DeAngelis, New York architect, have a 90-day option on a 50-year lease. The city also agreed to build a 175-car parking lot nearby to replace the space taken by the proposed hotel.

Textile Quota Bill Unsound in Principle

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Commerce Weeks are absolutely right in opposing a drive in Congress for quotas on textile imports.

Yet, that is the object of the Eastland bill already endorsed by 62 Senators and backed by the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute. Opponents of this measure say that instead of helping cotton farmers, it would penalize them and American consumers as well.

The President naturally would be critical of this measure. It violates the principle of reciprocal trade to which he long has subscribed. Secretary Weeks has pointed out that Japan buys $150,000,000 worth of American cotton annually. But we import less than $30,000,000 worth of Japanese textiles in a year.

One needn't be an expert to see that if a higher tariff barrier were erected against textile imports, the result would be a cut in Japanese purchases of American cotton. In the last five years Japan has been our best customer for cotton, wheat and rice.

At a time when our textile imports are less than one per cent of domestic production, it is difficult to understand the reasoning back of this bill. Our Department of State and Agriculture oppose the quota idea.

The only possible conclusion is that the bill sponsored by Mississippi's Senator Eastland would do cotton farmers more harm than good.

Voters' Apathy Hit

West Michigan's State Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings is going to retire from the Legislature.

If as many voters as should do so, read his reasons for deciding against seeking another term, there will be a lot of red faces in Michigan. Certainly his comment on the "apathy of the people back home" should provide them with ample food for searching thought.

Geerlings says he is tired of championing lost causes. After the expiration of his term he intends to devote full time to his work as public relations director of Hope College.

"I can be of more constructive service there to my people and my country," he said, "than I can ever be to the State until the people back home show some interest in government."

Among those lost causes was the Senator's singlehanded fight against recent legislation increasing teacher's salaries $200. He was fighting for the vital principle that local school boards should have the right to run their own affairs. But he got no help from anybody in the Senate or from the homefront.

Voters deserve this lecture. We hope for their sake that Sen. Geerlings will change his mind about quitting. We need men like him in the Legislature.

Atom Pool for Europe

For Americans interested in European integration, there was importance in the U. S. visit of Rene Mayer, chairman of the European Coal and Steel Community.

This former Premier of France didn't confine himself to talking about the three year old six nation community which has proved to be a successful first step toward continental integration. Under it customs barriers have been lowered progressively and production and trade have gained.

In his talks with President Eisenhower and business leaders in New York, Mr. Mayer revealed his interest in a second step toward integration. This is the pooling of atomic energy for the development of power, a shortage of which he believes Europe will face within 25 years.

Already the six foreign ministers of the coal-steel community have discussed organization of a similar authority for a nuclear pool. Peaceful use of the atom would be the prime goal but development of weapons would not be excluded.

There can be little doubt that our Government would be as interested in this project as it was in the coal-steel authority. President Eisenhower told Mr. Mayer this country "regards continued progress toward European integration as a vital contribution toward security, welfare and freedom during the years ahead."

A scientist says he is on the verge of discovering what is holding the universe together. If and when he finds it, we'd feel better if he'd tie a knot in it.

The Man About Town

Detroit Calls Out

City's Recreational Areas Are in Oakland County

Cat: What has less lives than a catty remark.

The complete figures show that, outside of its own Belle Isle, the two recreational areas that draw the largest number from the great city of Detroit both are located in Oakland County. One of these is its zoo in Royal Oak Township, and the other is Kent Lake Park in Milford and Lyon Townships.

No figures on the 1955 attendance at the zoo are available, but Kent Lake drew 1,527,000 during the year, 95 per cent of whom came from Detroit. This was over twice the 654,000 that went to the Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair.

A former Pontiac resident who says he wrestles with our parking lot difficulties on his numerous trips back to our city,

Forrest Humphrey, writes me from his home in Grand Rapids. "I simply cannot understand how anybody can vote against that proposition next Monday, and then sleep with his conscience."

"You can place some confidence in this lion and lamb stuff about the entrance and exit of the month of March," phones of Waterford. He says the warmest entry he has seen this month make in 40 odd years was on a cloudless day when the mercury went into the 60s. On the last day of the same month there was a foot of snow on the ground and the temperature that night dropped close to zero.

Regarding the value of a 1799 silver dollar, of 165 Elizabeth Lake Road, tells me that it is a real collector's item, and worth from $12.50 to $75, according to its condition.

The designers of such things tell me that within five years we can expect highway buses with escalators, air-conditioning, two-way phones and television.

After a recent visit to his old home town of Pontiac, now living in Toledo, writes, "I am amazed at the progress you've made in your city in recent years, and you're doing it in such a substantial way that I hope you'll never get the job finished. When you stop progressing, you're in a rut. Toledo could learn some good lessons from Pontiac."

David Lawrence Says:

President Followed Political Tradition by Not Naming Mate Until Convention

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower followed the right kind of political advice when he avoided a specific commitment on who the vice - presidential nominee should be on the Republican ticket.

The exact words the President used in answering a question at his press conference have not been stressed in many of the dispatches from Washington and radio comments, but they are meaningful. Here is what he said.

"As a matter of fact, I wouldn't mention the vice presidency, in spite of my tremendous admiration for Mr. Nixon, for this reason: I believe it is traditional that the vice president is not nominated until after a presidential candidate is nominated; so I think that we will have to wait to see who the Republican convention nominates, and then it will be proper to give an expression on that point."

No candidate in advance of a nominating convention has ever announced publicly the man he wanted as his running mate.

TWO REASONS WHY

The reasons are based on decades of political experience. First of all, anyone who is himself aiming to win the presidential nomination doesn't venture to antagonize any faction which has a vice-presidential candidate in mind. Secondly, to pick a man for vice president before the convention votes on the top man means a fight that any sensible political leader will regard as an unnecessary battle. In politics, the trick is to avoid doing the unnecessary and the superfluous where votes in a national convention are at stake.

The fight now to prevent the renomination of Nixon as vice president could have ruinous effects inside the Republican party. For, while he wasn't a Taft man in the preconvention fight of 1952, he is friendly to that wing of the party. Likewise, while he didn't exactly become a champion of Senator McCarthy's cause, he did not attack him.

Any abandonment of Nixon would be regarded, therefore, as a slap at both the Taft and McCarthy supporters and also against those Republican organizations which, in the 1954 congressional campaign, benefited so much from Nixon's active campaigning in more than a dozen western states. He also has built up quite a following in the so-called "Eisenhower wing" of the party.

The President has had a better chance to observe Nixon at work than anybody else. He finds Nixon able and versatile and perhaps more familiar with Ike's policies than anybody else on the Eisenhower team. He has been in on all the important conferences on governmental affairs, national and international. The President, to be sure, has been leaning on Nixon for political guidance.

IF NOT NIXON, WHO?

If it isn't to be Nixon, then who? Several names are mentioned. Governor Herter of Massachusetts is an able man. There's a controversy, however, over his eligibility, since, though of American parentage, he was born abroad. Doubtless the Supreme Court would ultimately rule that he is eligible, but it would make quite a rhubarb for the Democrats to play with and there would be doubt raised among the voters for a long time as to who would succeed Ike in case he didn't stay on in the Presidency. The case really couldn't be ruled on till it was actually presented to the Supreme Court. Would the voters "buy a lawsuit?"

The name of former Governor Dewey has been mentioned, though he ran twice for president and was defeated. Inside the party the factional scars are still there. The original Taft men would not like it. Besides the New York state situation is full of old controversies that would be raked up. Dewey would make a good president but it's a question whether he wouldn't be as vulnerable so far as satisfying the Democrats as is Nixon.

For Dewey, too, has said some harsh things about the Democrats —and there seems to be, at least among some writers still sympathetic at heart with the Truman cause, a feeling that the Republican vice-presidential nominee must be acceptable to the Democrats. Just why, nobody knows.

In the final analysis, Nixon, who is 43 years old—almost the same age that Theodore Roosevelt was when as vice president he succeeded McKinley—will probably be the man the Republican leaders will come back to and, if the truth were known, Ike really wants him. That's why, though the President didn't permit a formal endorsement, he went out of his way to say he had "tremendous admiration" for the vice president.

British Chided by Doctor for Unsafe Exposure Idea

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Listening to a commercial spiel on television the other night, I pondered the recent introduction of commercial broadcasting in England and the effect it would have on the health of the people. By the time the fellow had explained again and again how you could save $1,000 that's right, $1,000 — by buying a $3,300 car from him instead of some other dealer, I had concluded that England is for it.

The British Medical Research Council has standing and scientific authority equal to that of any body of professional opinion in this country, such, for instance, as our National Research Council. England is as far from America today as New York was from Chicago yesterday, so we can't continue to ignore the findings of qualified British investigators just because they do not jibe well with the quaint hokum we in Yankeeland feed the public in lieu of scientific truth and common sense.

I refer particularly to the finding of the British investigators that "exposure" to cold, damp, draft, sudden change of weather, wet feet, insufficient clothing, etc., rendered volunteers no more susceptible to respiratory infection than volunteers similarly inoculated but not exposed to any of the discomforts named.

In the face of this British Medical Research Council's finding, to say nothing of the everyday experience of millions of young Americans who worry little about such "exposure," it is difficult to understand why so many of our health officials persist in the delusion. From the customs of young people today, it would seem that the health officials are just kidding themselves.

The British Medical Research Council may or may not be aware that I have been teaching the truth about "exposure" these many years. If members of the Council are aware of my teaching, it goes to show that the prophet is not without honor save, etc. If they are not aware of it, the secretary of the Council should get a letter off to me right away —just address it Brady, Health Advisor, U. S. A.—and I'll be happy to present each member of the Council with a complimentary copy of Little Lesson 5, Call it C R I, a 60-page vest-pocket volumette for which ordinary folk pay 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Readers Present Views About Municipal Parking

Just a few innocent questions regarding this parking lot controversity. When we only have city parking lots, what are the people who work downtown going to do and where are they supposed to park?

How do they figure the municipal lots are so much cheaper? Five cents an hour for nine hours adds up to 45 cents and you can park at any lot in town for that.

As for the shoppers, most of them only come downtown once a week and if they can't spend 40 or 45 cents once a week to park, then they should stay home. It costs nearly that much to come downtown on a bus.

What is being done to encourage individual enterprise when the City (or other governmental agency) enters the field of competition with private business? As for the merchants, isn't the money the people who work downtown spend just as good as the money the occasional shopper parts with?

How many working people can get away from their jobs every three hours to move their cars?

It would be to the advantage of everyone, especially the working people who make downtown Pontiac click, to leave the private parking lots alone.

Just a Working Girl

The City has explained ten times that the meters will eventually pay for the parking lots and yet the private lot owners are still yelping about "additional taxes." Don't the facts count at all with lot owners?

I. K. L.

A vote favoring the issuance of parking bonds, when cast in the Monday election, includes authorization of what is defined as "Automobile Parking System No. 1" and the boundaries of this system as described include the central portion of the city.

No parking is now provided for Pontiac General Hospital. Visitors are obliged to find parking along the streets in the vicinity.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has ample parking facilities which often are taxed to the limit, and there is no question about the need of parking facilities for Pontiac General Hospital.

In these circumstances a vote favoring the proposed adoption of the issuance of parking bonds carries with it the establishment of "Automobile Parking System No. 1." Then, doesn't it follow that all privately owned property which is included within the prescribed boundaries could be subject to condemnation and seizure in order to provide public parking for the hospital?

The boundaries of the above cited authority begin at the northwest corner of West Huron and North Johnson, thence northwardly on the westerly line of North Johnson, all the way around the boundaries of the parking system, finally continued on the westerly line of South Johnson to the point of beginning.

Thus, this broad authority would include all property on both sides of West Huron between Johnson and North Saginaw and all streets in that vicinity. Property owners in the vicinity of the Pontiac General Hospital should give this matter their serious consideration when voting on Monday.

William R. Harrison
395 W. Huron St.

I am in favor of public parking. For one thing, I don't have to leave my car unlocked.

I have also seen the young fellows in the lots try a car out for quick get-away and stopping. I've seen lots packed solid, and they would have to move them around to get out.

I had a fender damaged, too, and all they said was that it happened before parking there. They raise the prices on the nights a person can shop. But I do think the stores should provide some of the lots, too.

It seems like Mr. Stolorow is really afraid of his lots now. He didn't even have decent lots or buildings on them until he was forced to.

As I understand it, the lots are assessed as vacant property. I don't believe Mr. Stolorow even lives in the city, so why should he worry about the taxes?

A Taxpayer

I'd like to pop in and ask one question: Were those pictures of parking lots that have been put on those hand bills taken Christmas morning or a Sunday afternoon? They forgot to say.

Parker

Citizens of Pontiac, a great injustice has been done to your city fathers and publisher of The Pontiac Press, Harold Fitzgerald, by two men who don't live in Pontiac. Now, Mr. Stolorow of the anti-municipal group, who owns 75 per cent of the parking in Pontiac, has flooded our town with propaganda sheets.

"These contain degrading editorials that were against your mayor, your council, your city manager and also against your Pontiac Press.

He accuses Mayor Donaldson of Russian methods, of a government - controlled country. City Manager Willman was also denounced but that could be a retaliation of the civil defense job Little lost.

These two men mislead you, the public. Let all know that your city fathers and Press and you, the public, did not fall for the tricks and remarks made by the Stolorow group which want to monopolize parking in Pontiac.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Deduct $12,250 From Future Earnings for Each Year of High School You Miss

Fritz is at the crossroads! Will he follow Esau and sell out his future for an old jalopy? If so, that car may cost him not $500 but $100,000, for every year of high school is worth $12,250 in future earnings. And each year of college adds about $25,000 in future income. So be smart. Stay in school!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-389: Fritz F., aged 16, is a junior in high school.

"Dr. Crane, he wants to drop out and get a job," his mother began, "for he has a girl and wants to buy an auto."

"But I have urged him to go on till he receives his diploma. Can't you give him some advice about the value of more education?"

HEED BEN FRANKLIN

"An investment in knowledge," said wise old Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

In case any modern youth think Benjamin Franklin was talking through his hat, please listen to a modern scientist, Dr. Paul C. Glick, of our Census Bureau.

Dr. Glick recently computed the lifetime earnings of Americans who had dropped out of school at various years. Some stopped after 1 to 4 years of grammar education. Others finished 8th grade, etc.

So discuss this Case Record in high school classes. Dr. Glick's data are listed in the next paragraph:

Education	Earnings
4th grade	$ 72,000
8th grade	$116,000
12th grade	$165,000
Part college	$190,000
College graduate	$268,000

If Fritz quits school now to earn enough dough to buy an old jalopy, he will punish his wife and children for all the years to come.

For he will deprive them of over $100,000 which he might have earned if he had gone on through college.

"Oh, my jalopy will cost only $500," Fritz might argue.

"But that jalopy will cost you maybe $100,000," we may logically reply.

MODERN ESAU

Don't be a modern Esau who sells out his future for a temporary pleasure that tickles his fancy today. Remember, there are a lot of tomorrows stretching out ahead.

The average high school graduate nowadays has approximately 60 additional years of longevity before him.

How much leverage would Fritz's jalopy exert in prying loose a good job 10 years hence when he is married and has several children to support.

"Boss, I have a 10-year-old jalopy," Fritz might hopefully exclaim, "so please consider me for the job that is open."

The boss would doubtless consider Fritz more than stupid, wouldn't he?

"Boss, I am a high school graduate and can show you my diploma," Fritz might far more profitably boast.

So when you young fellows are tempted to quit school, remember Esau. He was hungry, except for a pot of beans, so he stupidly sold out his future birthright. Don't ever be so gullible!

BE SCOTCH

During grammar and high school, the taxpayers buy your education for you, but in college you must ante up at least $1,500 per year for such schooling.

Be Scotch, therefore, and get your money's worth while the education is still free!

Notice that the high school graduate has a lifetime income of $165,000 against $116,000 for the fellow who quit after 8th grade.

That means you get $49,000 in later life for those 4 years in high school. Each year is thus equal to $12,250 in hard cash. Be smart. Don't cheat yourself and your future family out of this much greater cash income.

And you veterans, please take advantage of your G-I schooling rights.

Send for my booklet "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. If you heed its advice, you may be $100,000 ahead.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Korean Election May Reveal Rhee's Successor

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Who will succeed wily old Syngman Rhee as leader of the Republic of Korea?

The question, important in world affairs, may be answered by South Korea's 20 millions when they choose a vice president in the elections this summer.

Although active and sharp for all his 80 years, Rhee might not survive another four-year term. So business and government leaders are particularly anxious to see who gets the vice presidential nomination at the Liberal government party convention opening in Seoul next Tuesday.

There are half a dozen hot candidates.

At this date, however, you can get even money or better on Lee Ki Poong, 59, American-educated speaker of the House of Representatives.

His backers say his honesty and integrity seem to be the cornerstone younger Korean leaders are searching for today.

"If Lee runs against a single candidate he has a 50-50 chance," said the publisher of one of Korea's leading newspapers. "If he runs against two or more rivals, he should win hands down."

SOME HEDGING

There is still some hedging, however, because Rhee hasn't announced his own candidacy yet—although there is little doubt here he will. He will have the major voice in picking his running mate.

Lee's gentleness impresses visitors. It contrasts with the rough and ready characteristics of most Korean politicians.

His wife Maria Pak is vice president of Ewa Women's University, one of Korea's finest.

Both were educated in the United States and met there. They married in Korea, after Mrs. Lee returned from college. They have two sons.

"During the Pacific war," Lee said, "I had to hide out. The Japanese were especially hard on Koreans who had been to school in the United States. I spent most of my time in mining areas in central Korea, although I had to occasionally report to the police."

OFFERS SERVICES

When the American troops landed in Korea after the war ended, Lee offered his services as interpreter. He left to join Rhee when Rhee returned to head the provisional government.

Since then he has been mayor of Seoul, defense minister and now speaker.

Asked point-blank if he wanted to be vice president, Lee said:

"I don't think I will ever be a good politician. I would prefer to be working with young people. I know, however, that a man can't always do what he wants. Sometimes he has to do something simply because he must do it for others. That is how I feel about politics."

He sounded like a candidate, if a reluctant one. He could be the next president of Korea.

Cites 'New' UM Medical School

Dean Says Expansion of Facilities Increased Enrollment Total

SAGINAW (AP) — A University of Michigan dean said today that the University has, in effect, established a new medical school in Ann Arbor by expanding facilities in the last five years.

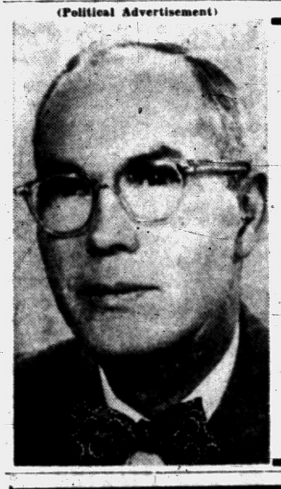

Robert L. Williams, assistant dean of faculties, told the Kiwanis Club that the University's medical school has increased its enrollment by 50 students a year during the past four years.

He said that the university expects an enrollment of 22,300 resident credit students next fall, besides some 300 in the new Flint College and nearly 10,000 in extension course enrollment.

"The University of Michigan," Williams said, "is one of the five great universities in the country and one of the top eight in the entire world."

In further expansion, he said, he expects the university to enroll 40,000 students by 1970 besides enrollments at other cities like the Flint college.

SWIMMING FOR OIL—Aqualung strapped to his back, this skin-diving geologist is scanning the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico — for oil. He's one of a group pioneering in the search for oil in this manner. They operate as far as 45 miles off shore. Crawling over the bottom of the Gulf, they look for sediment deposits suggestive of possible oil pools. As they crawl along, they take photographs of the sediment structure, using a water-tight camera as this diver is doing. The oil industry is the first to put aqualung-diving techniques to use for industrial purposes.

Dems' Civil Rights Stand May Cut Negro Support

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Negro congressman warned today that millions of Negro voters will desert the Democratic Party in November "unless the Democrats stop pussyfooting on civil rights."

The warning came from Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich), who said he has not decided whether to support the Democratic presidential nominee, or President Eisenhower, or neither.

He said in an interview: "The same situation prevails, in my opinion, among all Ngroes. In my estimation, support among the Negro population for the Democratic Party has reached its lowest ebb since before the time of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Diggs said Adlai Stevenson's support for what the congressman termed "a policy of moderation' 'is threatening "to alienate support for the Democratic party."

The Detroit congressman asserted that Negroes generally voted for Stevenson in the 1952 presidential election rather than for Dwight D. Eisenhower. He explained: "Mr. Eisenhower didn't have any record then for civil rights. There was no reason for Negroes to vote for him the past 20 years."

Diggs said Negroes wanted Stevenson and other Democratic presidential hopefuls "to come out four square for the enactment of civil rights legislation by Congress." The congressman stressed especially the need for legislation "guaranteeing the right to vote."

Diggs predicted that unless the Democratic presidential nominee whoever he might be, takes such a position, "millions of Negroes will vote for President Eisenhower."

He added: "Some, of course, will vote the Democratic ticket, as they have for so many years, and quite a number might just refrain from voting for any presidential nominee."

The Michigan legislator said Mr. Eisenhower is regarded by Negroes as having established "a pretty good record" on civil rights while in office.

Township Asks Order for Repair of Building

Farmington Township is attempting to obtain an Oakland County Circuit Court order forcing Douglas L. Patterson to repair a building on lot 599 of Grand River Crest Subdivision in the township.

The township board claims the structure's condition violates a health ordinance. Debris falls from the roof, it alleges, windows are broken and water stands in the basement. A hearing is set for March 11.

City Youths Admit $176 Dairy Breakin

Two Pontiac youths, 17, yesterday admitted breaking into a dairy last Friday night and stealing $176, Pontiac police said.

Their case will be referred to Oakland County Court of No Record today, according to Det.-Sgt. Ray Meggitt.

One of the boys turned over $88, his share of the loot gained from 424 Oakland Ave., Meggitt said. He added that the other lad claimed he spent his money "on new clothes."

The pair was arrested through routine investigation, Meggitt said, and charged with breaking and entering at nighttime.

Modern veterinary practices are believed to date from the establishment of a veterinary school first opened in the city of Lyons, France, in 1761.

Famed Mentalist Slips, Forgets All About Show

DETROIT (INS) — Dunninger, the famed mentalist, today blamed a "mental vacation" for his failure to show up on time at a scheduled appearance in suburban Grosse Pointe Park.

The memory expert said a faulty itinerary had him arrive in Detroit yesterday nearly four hours after he was supposed to appear before more than 1,000 women attending a celebrity series.

However, he said:

"If I had been tuned in on these nice people mentally I might have saved them and myself a lot of embarrassment."

Casino Bought for $14 Million

Harold's Club of Reno Sold for Record Sum to California Group

By ED OLSEN

RENO (AP)—Harolds Club, which in 21 years grew from a $500 bankroll and a white mouse into the world's biggest gambling casino, was sold last night for close to 14 million dollars—cash.

The vast enterprise, by far the biggest moneymaker in Nevada—the nation's only state with legal gambling—was sold to a San Francisco property-management firm headed by Jules J. Agostini Jr.

Agostini, in his early 40s, will be called a "square" in Nevada's gambling fraternity because he never has had a connection with that business.

His firm, the Morgan-Agostini Properties Co., owns 28 San Francisco Bay area buildings.

In acquiring Harolds Club with its 70 gambling games and more than 800 slot machines, the firm also comes into possession of the club's huge parking garage, a million-dollar motel, a plush trapshooting country club, several warehouses, several hundred acres of ranchland near Reno, extensive business property and numerous subsidiary holdings.

Also included are more than 2,500 "Harolds Club or Bust" highway billboards in 41 states which have helped make the casino familiar to motorists.

Known in local gambling circles as "The Factory," Harolds Club takes in more than eight million dollars yearly. Of this, it pays almost half a million a year in gambling taxes to the State of Nevada alone.

It was a family corporation—brothers Harold and Raymond A. Smith and Harold's former wife Dorothy—from its inception in 1935. However the sparkplug of the organization has been colorful, 68-year-old Raymond I. Smith, father of the two brothers.

103 Koreans Dead or Missing in Snowslide

SEOUL (AP) — A thundering snowslide that roared down the mountainous slopes of Korea's famed Punchbowl battleground crushed 83 South Korean army barracks and left at least 103 South Korean dead or missing.

No Americans werein the area, 100 miles northeast of Seoul.

Officers just back from the isolated Korean war front placed the toll at 78 known dead, 25 missing and believed dead and 54 injured. Officials expected the death toll to rise when communications cleared up. Rescuers were encountering great difficulty in reaching the scene. Snow was piled up to 19 feet deep from a heavy three-day fall.

The snow had massed on crags and precipices above the barracks. Suddenly it let go with a great, rumbling roar. Many of the soldiers were buried alive.

U. S. Army helicopters flew in almost immediately.

MTA Receives Okay to Toll Any State Road

LANSING (AP) — Proposals to strengthen the hand of the Michigan Turnpike Authority finally have started to move in the Legislature.

The Senate Thursday nudged to passage stage a bill to enable the authority to route toll roads anywhere in the state deemed feasible, instead of in just the two locations approved in 1953.

And Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), judiciary committee chairman, said that a proposed constitutional amendment to pledge the state's credit to a 300 million dollar turnpike bond issue will be considered next week.

Just Superstition

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—At the Garden Villas school teacher Mae Turnbow put on an old-fashioned spelling bee for third-graders and the girls spelled down the boys as easy as pie. But the boys saw the girls passing something back and forth during the match, investigated, and lodged a complaint. A rabbit's foot had been passed to each girl as her turn came.

Spain - - - America's Ace in the Hole Ally

(This is the fifth of six articles by the famed former American military governor in Berlin, who has just completed a five-week tour of North Africa, Spain and France.)

By FRANK L. HOWLEY, BRIG. GEN., USA (RET.)
Vice Chancellor, New York University

NEW YORK (INS) — Assuming that Soviet land armies one day sweep down across Germany and France to the Pyrenees, can Spain be held?

Yes. Spain is our ace in the hole ally. Franco's army of 22 divisions will fight, as will the people of Spain.

Spain is a vital segment, and will become more so, in the huge defense "V" formed by running a line from Paris to Gibraltar to Tunis, a line along which many U.S. bases are strung to protect the western Mediterranean.

On my tour of Spain, France and North Africa I talked with many military leaders, including Generalissimo Franco.

Franco's army is good, well-trained, but short of heavy equipment. It needs heavy guns and modern communications. Many of its present weapons are Russian-manufactured, brought into Spain during the Civil War, and there are still German 88's lying around.

Protected by an army which will fight—and the Spaniards have good mountain divisions—the Pyrenees mountains on the north are impassable for a modern army except down the narrow passages on either coast.

One passage is not much more than 12 miles wide, the other one is seven miles wide. These passages have been used for centuries by invading armies going north and south. Hannibal moved his army up the coast, across the Alps and down into Italy.

But these passages today can be completely blocked by a modern army using howitzers and tactical air support. These passes can be completely useless to the enemy if we decide to use battlefield atomic weapons, either those fired from howitzers or dropped by plane.

The United States is building four big bases in Spain and a total of 16 if you include those of lesser standing and those under Spanish control.

Air bases run from Cadiz, near the Straits of Gibraltar, to Zaragoza near the Pyrenees mountain border in the north.

They are followed on their march northward by a fuel-giving, 12-inch pipeline running from Rota, near Cadiz on the Atlantic coast.

American share of the direct and indirect costs of this defense insurance probably will run close to one billion dollars. The cost to Spain will be many times that.

WELCOMED IN SPAIN

In understanding the value of this investment Americans must remember one important fact: We are welcome in Spain.

We are welcome despite Spain's long history indicating the difficulties of getting out of their life the outside force invited in to help Spaniards.

The United States is welcomed not only because of Spain's recognition of the common threat presented by Soviet Communism. It's indicated that of all those who have come to help Spain in a common military effort, the United States already has contributed more than all the others combined toward the economic life of the country.

This grows out of the fact that to build a modern airfield, you must first build useable roads to it. You must bring a measure of prosperity to those who are working on construction. You must work out friendly economic and social arrangements with the people of the country.

LODGE CEMENTS FRIENDSHIP

This is being done and very skillfully by the U.S. military, aided by U.S. Ambassador John Lodge, who is one of our successful envoys abroad.

Spaniards who know Lodge not only respect him and the United States, but love him personally.

I had a chance while in Spain to watch a human interest scene involving our ambassador. I was in a waiting room with many others awaiting an appointment with Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo when Lodge emerged from the office.

Two Spaniards who appeared to want to make certain business contacts in the United States buttonholed Lodge. He talked sympathetically, gave them the precise information they wanted.

As he turned away Lodge was approached by an American engineer who was building some of our air bases. He had a complaint against a minor official. Lodge listened to his technicalities, explained the exact situation to the engineer and sent him away completely satisfied without the engineer seeing or squabbling with the minor functionary.

Walking across the room he spotted an old Spanish friend. He put his arm around the man's shoulder as he consoled him over the loss of his wife.

Spaniards who deal with Lodge view him as a man who knows his business and has a heart. He is an able envoy in Madrid at a time when the Communist "witches of chaos" are stirring their brew of hatred in the important Mediterranean area.

It also is very heartening to know, as my travels convinced me, that the Communists' chances of confusing or upsetting Spain are very slim.

Return Convicted Killer

CADILLAC (AP)—Lawrence Luckey, 41, convicted shotgun slayer, has been returned to Cadillac from Detroit on a bench warrant, issued last May, for violation of probation. Luckey, sentenced to 20 to 40 years in 1935 for second degree murder in the death of Mrs. Rose Hazelton, twice was paroled from Southern Michigan Prison. Prosecutor William Peterson said Luckey violated parole both times.

Tea still is Ceylon's most important source of revenue, Colombo reports.

JUICY — Meet pretty Dorothy Steiner of Boca Raton, Fla. She's the new citrus queen of her state, which explains the basket of oranges she holds as she poses on the beach at Winter Haven.

DON'T MISS THIS CHANCE OF A LIFETIME TO SAVE ON FINE FURNITURE!

Bob Considine Says:

Adlai's Democrat Friend Ain't Democratic

NEW YORK (INS) — At least one of Adlai Stevenson's Democratic friends ain't.

The self-appointed front man for the Democratic Party's titular head ran interference for easy-going Adlai as they left the Maisonette at Hotel St. Regis early Wednesday morning about yawning time.

Bandleader Milt Shaw's music had drawn the lively candidate to the floor repeatedly. During one dance, Stevenson stopped and talked for a time with the talented leader and recalled that they had played tennis together 25 years ago.

As Stevenson left the place, convoyed by the friend, Shaw strolled beside him and asked him to autograph a menu.

Stevenson sat down at a table and started to do so but the friend was indignant. Turning on Shaw the guy said, angrily:

"A handshake was enough!"

HAPPY SERGEANT

Eisenhower's decision brought a fierce shout of triumph from Marty Snyder, a local boned-turkey tycoon who was once his mess sergeant and certainly is his loudest supporter.

The former sergeant worships the ground Ike walks and has from the time he was assigned to the general's headquarters near London in 1942. They've seen a lot of each other since.

Marty's book, "My Friend Ike" which just hit the stores (the publisher is Frederick Fell and Co.) bespeaks that affection. It is a comparatively new view of Eisenhower. An earthy, "below the summit" view.

Rotund, cheerful Marty's unsuccessful efforts to be elected to Congress in '54, despite Eisenhower's backing, should interest the deeper-domed biographers browsing in the meager fields of the President's activities in politicking.

Now that Marty has joined the literati, let me apologize for helping to have him heaved out of Philadelphia in 1948 when for days and nights on end his jeep, parked in front of the Bellevue Stratford during the big political conventons, blared forth with:

"We want Eisenhower for President
From every state a million voices call.
We want Eisenhower for President
Not for partisan clan, but for all."

P.S.—The cops chased Marty at the request of sleepless reporters. But Marty's boy made it.

Somebody in the U.N. should look into the sensational revelations recently made by a Soviet escapee who claims he and many other Russians served in Korea in Red Chinese uniforms.

If true, and there seems to be no reason to doubt the man's credentials, isn't this the hottest potato that has confronted the world organization since it made up its mind to declare North Korea the aggressor?

The man is Victor Semenovich Ilyinsky, an animal trainer who jumped the train carrying the Moscow circus about Europe. He turned himself over to West German authorities.

An organization named International Research on Communist Techniques, Inc., formerly the Political Research Project, now has him in tow.

Ilyinsky says that "most of the air corps" on the Communist side in Korea was composed of Soviet fliers, that there were a great many Soviet military advisers, and that all equipment was Soviet although disguised with Chinese insigna. All Soviet officers and men wore Chinese uniforms.

The seed of defection was sown in him one day during the war when he heard Molotov say on the radio that there was not one Soviet soldier on Korean soil, Ilyinski relates.

What burned him was that he heard the broadcast in Korea while serving as a communications officer on a Soviet plane.

Worried about your grammar? So is Ike. One of his few smiles at the press conference the other day came as he cautioned reporters not to quote him directly until Jim Hagerty could clean up the syntax.

HAY THERE! — Motorists are quick to take a second glance at this odd-looking haystack near Fort Scott, Kan. Resembling twin mushrooms, the stack was "undermined" by the daily nibbling of cows. A fence now keeps the animals away, but it is still a sight to see. Looking at the odd stack is Frank Reeds, a Fort Scott newspaper editor.

Now Do You Suppose He's Working for Ike?

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Guess who Gov. Milward L. Simpson is backing. He came to work wearing:

1. An "Ike" button in his lapel.
2. An "Ike" tie.
3. "Ike" cuff links.

Probe Dog Poisonings

LANSING (AP) — The Ingham County Humane Society is investigating a series of dog poisonings in the Greenfield Acres sub-division near Lansing. Two cocker spaniels and a collie have been killed by poisoned hamburger during recent weeks.

Meeting With Reds Planned by French

PARIS (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau will go to Moscow May 14 to visit the leaders of the Soviet government.

Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov called on Mollet last night and presented the Russian invitation. The Foreign Office announced today it had been accepted.

Former President Vincent Auriol now is visiting Moscow and was guest last night at a lavish Soviet government reception. Reports from Moscow said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov conferred at length with Auriol and said the Soviet Union would like to improve relations with France.

The invitation to Mollet—and his acceptance—took on significance because of the campaign the French Communist party has been carrying on to draw the Premier's Socialist party into a "popular front" governing alliance. Mollet so far has rejected the Red overtures but did not refuse the Communist support when they voted to confirm him in office.

A critical shortage of nurses exists in the United States. Experts estimate that by 1960 we will have 50,000 nurses too few to meet our needs adequately.

Order Land Use Study

EAST LANSING (AP) — The East Lansing Zoning Board has ordered a study of land use in the city, particularly of land available for multiple dwelling purposes. The study was prompted by an acute shortage of multiple dwellings for homeless fraternities and sororities connected with Michigan State University.

American hospital bed capacity has risen 50 per cent in the past 20 years.

House Okays River Project

Colorado Storage Plan in Rocky Mountains to Face Sure Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (INS) —The vast Rocky Mountain region appeared assured an upper Colorado storage project today following House passage of the measure by a whopping margin of 120 votes.

The bill now returns to the Senate, which approved a more ambitious upper Colorado project last summer. The House legislation struck from the Senate bill the Juniper Dam and the highly controversial Echo Park Dam.

The Senate is expected to send the proposal to a House-Senate conference, where the House version is likely to be accepted.

Despite constant hammering at the project by southern Californians, only 136 votes could be mustered against the bill while 256 were registered in favor of it.

Fred W. Simpson, chairman of the Colorado River board of California which strongly opposes the huge project, charged that "passage was not achieved on the merits of the project."

Simpson contended: "It was passed under political pressures and as long as it is proposed to investigate lobbies, I think Congress should investigate lobbying by executive departments of the government."

The measure was included on President Eisenhower's program of "must" legislation for 1956.

The House project calls for construction of dams and storage reservoirs at Flaming Gorge, on the Green River in Utah; Curecanti, on the Gunnison River in Colorado; Glen Canyon, on the Colorado River near the Arizona-Utah line, and Navajo, on the upper San Juan River in New Mexico.

Southern Californian legislators claimed the project would rob their more than six million residents of much needed water from the lower Colorado River.

Proponents argued that the project will be designed under the Colorado River compact which divides water from the river between the upper and lower basins.

Doctor Warns Diphtheria May Stage Comeback

LANSING (AP) — State Health officials warned today that diptheria may be making a comeback in Michigan.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner said there have been 35 diptheria cases in the first two months of 1956, compared to 59 cases all last year.

The disease has found victims in St. Clair, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph and Wayne counties this year, he said.

"We can expect even more trouble from diptheria unless every child is immunized and given booster shots on schedule," Dr. Heustis said.

Dr. Heustis urged parents to take special precautions against the disease if their children are between the ages of three and 10.

He said in past years, when the disease was more common, persons were exposed to diptheria more often and thus built up additional immunity.

But as the disease vanished, this chance of extra protection has disappeared too.

Guatemala has adopted a plan for exploitation of government forest lands.

Dutch Gave 'Sinter'

NEW YORK — The Dutch who settled in New York introduced St. Nicholas—or Sinter Klaas, as they called him—to the United States. Originally represented in bishop's clothes, America's Santa Claus gradually took on a different appearance and his gifts were received on Christmas rather than the saint's feast day, December 6.

Much of the helium for industry and modern medicine is obtained from natural gas well sources.

Sweden Plans Dam

STOCKHOLM — A large hydroelectric plant is being planned on the Dal River in central Sweden. By means of a dam that will be Sweden's largest, 2,400 feet long and 345 feet high, a water reservoir 42 miles long will be created. The power station will be blasted out of rock and will be designed to be bombproof.

During the first half of 1955, production of 13 of Canada's 16 leading minerals exceeded output for the first half of 1954, the Bureau of Statistics reports.

Plan Alpine Tunnels

GENEVA — In 1870, after 13 years of hard work, the first tunnel through the Alps, the Freyus, was opened. Later other tunnels were bored, the most recent being the Simplon, completed in 1905. Several plans are afoot for new tunnels, since the present ones cannot handle the steadily increasing amount of traffic.

Ann Arbor Man Guilty in Killing

Dad Who Shot Wife and Two Children Convicted in 1st Degree Murder

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Harld A. Johnson, college educated television repairman whom police said shot and killed his wife and two children Jan. 9, was convicted of first degree murder last night.

A circuit court jury of eight women and four men deliberated five hours before returning a guilty verdict in the slaying of his 1-year-old daughter, Margaret. He was not on trial for the other killings.

Judge James R. Breakey Jr. said he would defer sentencing until a probation report is submitted, either today or Tuesday.

Johnson's attorney, Ralph C. Keyes, said he did not know whether Johnson would appeal the conviction or whether he would change his pleas of innocent on charges of first degree murder in the shooting of his wife Margery and 3-year-old daughter, Barbara.

Prosecutor Edmond F. De Vine said he did not know whether the other charges would be pressed.

Johnson, 38, a University of Michigan graduate, admitted he killed his family but denied the slayings were premeditated. Officers said he tried to take his own life immediately afterward by swallowing poison.

First degree murder in Michigan carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

Judge Breakey complimented the jury, saying, "You resolved the case properly in my humble opinion."

Indian Paper Supports Ike

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The influential Hindustan Times said today people through the world "will welcome" President Eisenhower's decision to run for a second term.

The paper, which often reflects the views of Prime Minister Nehru's government, added that Eisenhower's illness "was considered to be nothing short of a calamity."

"India, with so much in common with the United States, has had full trust in Eisenhower's declared intention to strive for international understanding," the paper said.

What? The Wedding

BALTIMORE (AP) — A girl in the sixth grade brought this note from her mother to the teacher: "Please excuse M— for being absent as I was married yesterday and she wanted to come to the wedding. It will not happen again."

AT EASE — That old Army game of "Hurry up and wait" has been beaten by these soldiers at Camp Hanford, near Richland, Wash. The last man in line squats, letting the man in front of him sit on his knees, and so on up the line. This makes waiting a lot easier on the feet.

Brainy Robot Exemplifies Entry in Science Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A robot that's a whiz at playing tick-tack-toe came to town today.

It's the brain-child of Martin B. Halpern, 16, of Tucson, Ariz., one of 40 smart teenagers who arrived to compete in the finals of the annual nationwide "Science Talent Search."

The contest, for a total of $11,000 in scholarships, is conducted among high schoolers by the Science Clubs of America and is financed by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. Payoff will come next Monday night.

According to young Halpern, his robot "neurovac electric brain" will invariably tie or beat you, because the mathematics of the game are built into its system of mechanical and electrical circuits.

The game is played on a board containing 18 electric bulbs — nine for the robot, nine for its human opponent — which can be lit by either player.

The robot must always make the first move, and someone has to "start" it by setting a dial and throwing a switch. But thereafter, it's on its own. Every move its opponent makes triggers the robot into a counter-move according to a pattern based on accurate mathematics of the game.

CAN'T MAKE MISTAKE

"The machine can't make a mistake," says young Halpern. "The game can end in a tie, but if you make a mistake, the machine will beat you!"

Another teen-aged scientist, James Nearing, 17, of Hawthorne, Calif., told a reporter about a "three-dimensional chess game" he and a friend invented — "just to make the game more complicated than it is!"

Instead of one chessboard, you use three, placed one above the other, with the middle one arranged so you can rotate it outward. The idea is to be able to move upward or downward as well as horizontally.

Ingenious games constitute only one manifestation of the brain-power exhibited by the 40 contest finalists — drawn from 3,375 graduating seniors who originally entered the competition.

Their individual qualifying science projects range from the building of a telescope camera to a report on the "biochemistry of cheesemaking;" and from researches on wind effects on sand dunes to studies of the effects of heart stimulants on the pulse rate of the water flea.

Ward Resigns Post on Planning Board

Richard A. Ware, of Huntington Woods, has resigned as a member of the Oakland County Plan Commission, according to J. Robert F. Swanson, chairman.

Ware has taken a full-time position as secretary of the Relm Foundation in Ann Arbor, where he will reside, Swanson explained.

Speaking of the commission's activities, Ware told Swanson, "I'm sure much progress was made while I was a member and feel much more is in the offing."

Ware had been associated with the Citizens Research Council, of Michigan. "He was one of our most active members," said Swanson, "and his contributions will be greatly missed."

The surface of the moon contains an estimated 14,657,000 square miles.

British Moms Debate Vaccine

Health Ministry Offers to Inoculate 500,000 Youngsters Under 9

LONDON (AP)—All over Britain, mothers cluster in little knots discussing their big problem: whether to have their children inoculated with antipolio vaccine this summer.

The Health Ministry has offered to inoculate 500,000 youngsters under 9. It guarantees the vaccine, a modified version of the American Salk serum, is "as safe as any vaccine can be."

There has been no official campaign in support of the plan. It's up to the parents to decide for themselves. And for many it's a tough decision. They remember some children have contracted polio in the United States after being inoculated.

So far they have been unable to obtain guidance from their old friend, the family doctor. This is because the Health Ministry has given little or no information on the subject to the medical press or local health bodies, although promising to do so soon.

The new vaccine developed by British scientists differs from the Salk vaccine in that the Mahoney strain, one of the three viruses used, has been dropped in favor of a less virulent breed called the Brunhilde.

Dems Shifting Blame to Ike

Senators Turn Attack on Farm Policy From Benson to President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Democratic senators set out today to tie Republican farm policies they criticize to President Eisenhower rather than Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), who has been one of Benson's most vocal critics, took the initiative yesterday. He told the Senate that he and others may have been unfair to Benson—"a very fine man"—because he said Benson was "only carrying out Eisenhower's orders."

Senators Kerr (D-Okla) and Olin D. Johnson (D-SC) also said in the debate that Eisenhower should share the responsibility. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) added that "Republican members of Congress had to be sold on the Eisenhower-Benson farm program" at special conferences.

Humphrey, who has held the floor for four days, interrupted his marathon speech today but said he would resume it Monday. The Senate is to start voting on the farm bill next Thursday.

* * *

"Some of us have been calling it the Benson farm program but it's really the Eisenhower farm program," Humphrey said. "The responsibility for this farm program that is bankrupting American agriculture should be put right where it belongs, and that's at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave."

That's the street address of the White House.

"The remedy is for the public to register their votes this year to fire the man who ought to have fired Benson," he added.

After four days of the Senate debate, Humphrey joined Sen. Anderson (D-NM) last night in a CBS-TV discussion of farm problems arranged as a reply to a similar appearance by Benson last week.

Hogs Out of Balance

CHICAGO — The average American hog produces enough meat for two persons and enough lard for three. Farmers' efforts to correct the out-of-balance situation have made the demand for meat-type breeding stock greater than the supply.

Now Here's How to Make Million From $25,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How do you go about making a million out of $25,000?

Mrs. Vincent Hallinan, wife of the 1952 Progressive party candidate for president, told yesterday how she did it in announcing sale of her 20-story Clay-Jones Apartments on Nob Hill for $1,200,000.

"It all began 21 years ago, when I put up $25,000 for an apartment house at 970 Geary St.," she said. "The income eventually paid off the $72,000 mortgage.

"In 1943, I traded it for majority stock in the Clay-Jones Corp., whose income eventually bought out the rest of the stock. That's one million dollars for $25,000 and, as it has been said, having a million is just as good as being rich."

Mrs. Hallinan said part of the proceeds will go to settle Hallinan's bill from the Internal Revenue Bureau—a figure Hallinan specified as being "agreed upon."

Hallinan, an attorney, served a 14-month federal prison term on conviction of income tax evasion.

Three Petoskeys Now

PETOSKEY (AP) — The United States now has three Petoskeys: The Michigan city of the same name, a carferry on the Straits of Mackinac and a Navy subchaser, formerly known as the PC569. The Navy's Petoskey is one of 141 smaller vessels assigned names, effective Feb. 15, to replace their former identifying numerals.

Honduras is noted as a valuable source of mahogany.

Petitions Being Circulated for November 6 Election

Some prospective candidates are already circulating nominating petitions for partisan and non-partisan county offices at stake in the Nov. 6 general election.

Deadline for those who are qualifying by petition, rather than paying a $100 filing fee, is 4 p.m. June 19.

County positions at issue in the election will include: state senator; six state representative posts; probate judge; two Circuit Court commissioners, and county prosecuting attorney, clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, sheriff, drain commissioner and surveyor.

A candidate, excepting state representative hopefuls, must get signatures totaling one to four per cent of the total vote cast in the county for his party's candidate for secretary of state in the last election.

Aspirant for state representative posts must get one to four per cent of the vote for secretary of state in their district.

The judgeship and court commissioner posts are non-partisan and use the combined party votes as a base figure.

Construction Man Wins 'Best Dam Man' Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey Slocum has been cited as "the best dam man in the world."

Slocum won the honor last night at a dinner of The Moles, a society of heavy construction men and tunnel builders, for his internationally known work as a dam builder.

He bossed construction of the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington, among others, and now is at work on the 400-million-dollar Bhakra Dam in India. He is 68 years old.

Reports Job Figures

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Michigan State Employment Security Commission here reported a total of 108,000 wage and salary workers on job rolls in February, down 3,000 from the December all-time peak number but 200 more than employed in February 1955.

Gauges School Needs

STOCKHOLM — Forty-six new schools, with a total of 1,045 rooms, are included in a five-year plan presented by the Stockholm School Organization Committee. In addition 11 trade schools and institutes for a total of 3,185 students are planned.

TAKES VOWS — Boyce Brown, once rated the nation's hottest man on an alto sax, has given up the world of jazz for a lifetime in a Catholic monastery. Brown, 45, took his vows as a lay brother of the Servite Fathers, Order of the Servants of St. Mary at the monastery near Granville, Wis. "It isn't a gloomy life," he says. "To me, it's more exciting than music was." He'll play his sax only on special occasions.

'Salt of the Earth' Film to Be Shown in Peiping

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio said today Red China is going to show the controversial American film "Salt of the Earth." A broadcast said Chinese dialogue is being dubbed in.

The picture, made three years ago in New Mexico, gives an unflattering account of the treatment of Mexican-American mine workers in that area.

The Mine Mill and Smelter Workers' Union which cooperated in making the film was later expelled from the CIO on grounds it was Communist dominated.

A strike last fall cost Costa Rica banana growers the loss of 50,000 stems.

Get Close Look at Star Fire

UM Physicists Create Intense Heat in Tube to Aid Astronomers

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Now astronomers can get a close look at star fire—three times as hot as the sun's surface—without ever stirring from their laboratory.

The fire, produced by University of Michigan physicists in a gas filled tube, just 12-feet long, should help astronomers see at first hand what goes on millions of light years away.

Eugene B. Turner, research associate at the University's Engineering Research Institute, says the shock tube which contains the fire operates on a powerful shock wave.

This is how it works. The tube is split into two chambers. One chamber contains a gas at high pressure. The other contains gases under low pressure. They are separated by a diaphragm.

When the diaphragm is removed, the reaction is triggered. The high pressure gas rushes in a shock wave into the low pressure area. The gas particles in the low pressure area are agitated violently when the shock wave hits them.

Heat is the energy of atoms in motion. So, in the brief strike of the shock wave, heat is produced at an incredibly high temperature.

Using this apparatus, University physicists have been able to observe the shock wave through a small window. They measure the speed of the shock wave and calculate the temperature through equations.

When the gases rebound at the end of the tube, the temperatures similar to those on the hottest stars, occur. It is then that the astronomers can make their spectral studies.

Lawrence H. Aller, professor of astronomy, explains that current tests are being made on hydrogen at various temperatures and densities.

"With this information," Prof. Aller says, "we will be able to infer from observed hydrogen line shapes of the stars the temperatures and densities under which they originate."

The University of Michigan shock tube was built under the supervision of Prof. Otto LaPorte, one of three scientists who announced in 1952 the discovery of high tube temperatures. At his urging, the work was turned to aid astronomy.

Men Cling Tenaciously to Stuffy Garments

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Men should be encouraged, in the summer, to wear Bermuda shorts to the office!

Men should be permitted in the Stork Club and similar snob spots without ties or jackets!

Men should be lauded, not laughed at, if they wear sleeveless shirts, open - toed shoes, strapless vests or even (forgive me, father) off - the - shoulder sweat shirts!

For four years, since I encountered my first pair of bare male legs strolling cooly across Park avenue, I have sat back and waited confidently for the revolution.

I recalled a classic line by Joe Frisco who, when passing the table of a man eating an oyster cocktail, remarked, "Boy, the guy who tried that dish for the first time must've had guts!"

And I thought — now that the nuded knee has been exposed to Park avenue, in front of the Waldorf doorman and everybody—a precedent had been set.

What happened?

A LONG WAY

"Well now, man has come a long way the last few years," said O. E. Schoeffler, fashion editor of Esquire magazine, "but I don't think in our time, he will ever dress as immodestly as women.

"The reason is that men don't particularly care to emancipate themselves from the collar and tie and long-sleeved jacket.

"Oh, perhaps for a day or two in July, they will swear delicately about the conventions that prevail. But when the temperature drops, so does the frustration."

Men, implied the debonair Mr. Schoeffler, are more easy - going then women.

It has been my theory—and I explained it to the fashion expert, that men should be flashier dressers than women.

Physically, they are designed in comparatively simple, symmetrical shapes—more or less up and down—and their conservative hairdos and lack of cosmetic coloring make it logical that they should be colorfully clothed. To set them apart, one straight torso from the other.

SIMPLICITY FOR GALS

Women, on the other hand, are more complexly constructed, curved of body, colored of face and fingers and intricate of hair styling. It is they who should dress simply and conservatively, rather than men.

"This is an interesting theory," conceded Schoeffler, "but human nature must be counted above physical architecture.

"Women as a unit have more time to devote to an interest in fashion and its variations. Men have other interests. They cannot afford to sit before a mirror and dramatize their appearance."

Men are becoming increasingly daring, however, in a langorous way. Schoeffler has just returned from a snoop-visit to the European fashion centers, and he reports the following, rather off - conservative trends for spring:

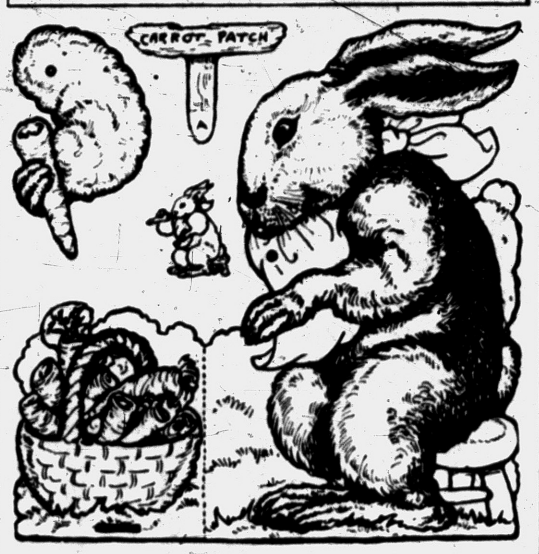

Open - toed shoes for daytime ("no more hot feet"), pastel checks and plaids in business suits ("men are finally breaking through the color barrier"), flat crowned hats ("to aid entering cars and airplanes") and more and smarter Bermuda - length shorts ("which will be worn everywhere with impunity this year.")

Schoeffler suggested that I climb off my soapbox and stop worrying about the styles of men, even in the sizzling days.

Men are like proud, long-haired dogs: You can clip them of their glory for the sake of their comfort, but the chances are they'll slink into a corner and pout.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

First submitted by: Linda Edwards, Combes, Tex.

Richard Rabbit, Carrot Eater

Nearly everyone likes rabbits with their pink noses, big floppy ears and soft fur. They make nice cuddly pets in the home.

The one place where they are not welcome, however, is in the garden. There rabbits make short work of the vegetables which they love to eat. Then they swiftly run away.

But this pet, Richard Rabbit, has his own special carrot patch and doesn't bother any other.

Color the picture and paste down on cereal box cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully and fold back the basket panel so the picture will stand up. Insert Tab A in the slot below the basket and fold it back. Then it will stay in place.

Put the separate arm behind the rabbit's right shoulder and fasten with brass fastener or bent pin.

Now Richard can lift the carrot from the basket to his mouth.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

3.5 Million Soviets Are Heart Cases

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union reports 3½ million persons suffering from heart disease.

This amounts to 43 per cent of all invalids in the U.S.S.R., Minister of Health Maria D. Kovrigina says. She gave no figures on the incidence of cancer but said Soviet death rates from heart disease and cancer are lower than those in the majority of capitalist states.

The report said heart ailments can best be prevented by "reduction of the working day, combining rest with work, balancing diet and participation in athletic activities."

The ratio of one car to every 7.8 persons in Australia is second only to the United States, but Australia equals the United States with one motor truck to every 21 persons.

Sleep-Walker Talks Himself Out of Big Jam

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The driver of a mud-stuck automobile told police he must have been "sleep driving."

He had no other explanation for the fact he was clad only in underclothes and shoes.

He said he was all the time sleep - walking but believed this was his first snooze at the wheel.

The man's mother confirmed he was a sleep-walker.

Four-Part Program Is Praised

Carl Palangi Gives His Performance in Crary School

Last night's appearance of bass-baritone Carl Palangi at the Isaac E. Crary Junior High School made the final program of the Waterford Township Civic Music Association series a grand finale. The handsome young singer performed his four-part program in a manner that would do credit to Pinza.

Besides having a voice rich with resonance, power and beauty, Carl Palangi has the other prerequisites for success — an outstanding personality and a splendid sense of showmanship. He used none of the affectations many singers assume for expression.

The number that showed this most vividly was "Ein Ton" — one tone — by Peter Cornelius. With unbelievable versatility, he sang in German "What sound is that so rich and clear? Beloved one — can it be thy last fond sight sent forth to me?" — all on one note!

The first part of last night's program included Handel's "Si tra i Ceppi", Tosti's "L'Utima Canzone", Da Gagliano's "Dormi, Amore", and Bolto's "Ecco il Mondo", each an aria from a well-known opera.

"Air de Caron" by Lully, "Infidelite" by Hahn, "Mandoline" by Dubussy and "Quand la Flamme del'Amour" by Bizet completed the second group.

An aria from "Prince Igor" by Borodin, "Ein Ton" by Cornelius and Handel's "Dank sei dir, Herr" were the selections heard in the third group.

SUNG IN ENGLISH

The numbers in the fourth part of the program were all sung in English. "Into the Night" by Edwards, "Tally-Ho!" by Leoni, "But Lately in Dance I Embraced Her" by Arensky, "Jonah and the Whale" and "Pilgrim's Song" by Tschaikowsky were followed by three encores — "Do You Remember", "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Old Man River".

Mr. Palangi began his singing career only 10 years ago when he entered the Navy and became a member of the Great Lakes Naval Choir.

A former boxer, the young artist decided to take music seriously when he was awarded an appearance with the San Francisco Symphony by the San Francisco Music Critics Circle little more than five years ago.

Besides his present cross-country tour, he is under contract to make several West Coast television appearances, both as an actor and as a singer.

The singer was accompanied by pianist John Sundsten. An artist in his own right, Mr. Sundsten will tour Europe this summer playing a Sibelius program. Much of his itinerary is scheduled for Finland where he is to meet the outstanding composer, Jan Sibelius.

The third member of this delightful trio which made its appearance here last night was Gualtiero Bartalini, Mr. Palangi's voice coach and manager. Bartalini is a former concert artist who performed interpretive programs in French, Italian, German and Russian.

Don't Wear Mistakes

Everybody makes a fashion mistake now and then. Write it off to experience but don't wear it! If, for some reason, you can't return it to the store, then give it away. Makes much better sense than feeling uncomfortable and looking awful in it.

Talk on Plants Presented

Fourty members and guests of Zeta Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa sorority, gathered at the Adah Shelly Library Thursday evening.

Mrs. Arthur P. O'Neill welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Oliver Dunstan, who spoke on "Plants and Flowers."

The speaker told her listeners they could add to the joy of living with green plants in their midst.

In growing tropical plants in our homes, we need similar conditions, of sunlight, shade, temperature, air and soil, Mrs Dunstan explained. Today there is a great trend to combine the artificial with the natural, the speaker added.

With Easter not too far away, the audience was briefed on the proper way in which to wear corsages. Corsages are worn with the stems down or, if no stems are obvious, with the weight down.

The speaker also stated that on suits, corsages are worn on the left shoulder; for dancing, on the right shoulder. Today, corsages conform to the new fashion look and are arranged for a coming and going appearance.

Proceeds from the evening affair will be used to further the sorority's program of scholarship and altruistic goals.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the St. Patricks' Day motif. A large shamrock centered the table with matching candelabra on either side.

Zonta Club Hears Review of Book

Mrs. John Thors Jr. reviewed the book on the life of Yehudi Menuhin by Robert Magidoff Thursday for members of the Zonta Club of Pontiac who gathered at Hotel Waldron.

The young genius, Mrs. Thors related, was only 2 years of age when he heard his first concert. By the time he was 4, he had decided he wanted to play the violin. At 5 he was taking lessons, but showed no remarkable progress in the beginning.

However, a critic wrote of him when he gave his first solo recital at 6 years of age, "We have today witnessed a new genius that has come amongst us."

Explaining how differently the boy genius was reared than is the average American child, Mrs. Thors said that his parents refused to allow him to play with other children, kept him on a strict schedule of study and did not permit him to enter public schools.

In fairness to the parents, the speaker explained that these parents recognized that they were dealing with a genius and believed their methods were best for him.

JOINED QUARTET

Following his celebrated recital at the age of 8, Yehudi's mother left their home in San Francisco and accompanied him to New York where he played for several months in a quartet.

Following a not too successful stay in New York, the mother returned with her son to San Francisco where he was better known and where first-rate critics and celebrities would come to his recitals.

Yehudi always wanted to study with the great violinist Georges Enesco, and the parents gave up their home to see that their son could study in Paris. While there he met Paul Paray, now conductor of the Detroit Symphony, who was directing an orchestra there.

Another who helped the boy genius was Henry Goldman who gave him his first Stradivarius valued at $60,000.

The violinist has returned, in many ways, the very few gifts he has accepted by giving benefits and concerts for soldiers during World War II and at the present time.

Mrs Adrian C. Ish introduced the speaker, and Mrs. Fotis Takis, president of the Zonta Club, introduced Mrs. L. H. Rauffus and Mrs. J. Harold Harder of Toledo as guests. Mrs. Nat Morrison was welcomed as a new member.

Young Cook Has Recipe for Candy

Bonnie Valvet Uses Chocolate Pudding to Make Her Fudge

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Every time we can get a recipe from a young girl we do so gladly. We firmly believe that youngsters should learn to cook at an early age and should enjoy it.

Eleven-year-old Bonnie Valuet is already a good little cook, her mother says. She likes especially to bake. But her recipe for you readers is one for fudge.

Bonnie is in sixth grade at Whitfield School. She loves to read mystery stories. And anything about a lake fascinates her. Since the family has moved into a new home on Sylvan Lake Bonnie has enjoyed ice skating. She's looking forward to lots of swimming this summer.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE
By Bonnie Valuet

½ pound butter or margarine
¼ cup milk
1 package chocolate pudding
1⅞ cup confectioners' sugar

Melt butter or margarine, add milk and pudding. Mix until smooth. Add confectioners sugar, continue mixing until very smooth. Pour into a greased pan and let set about half an hour. Cut into pieces.

It's Girl's Job to Soothe Her Sulking Beau

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been dating, but not officially going steady for four months. I like him very much and sometimes think he likes me, too. But he's very hard-headed and he gets upset over the least little thing.

"He never yells at me when he gets mad, he just won't talk to me, and that hurts worse. This last week he hasn't spoken to me or even looked at me, and he hasn't given me or any of his friends any explanation.

"Of course, I haven't been talking to him, because he's the one who is mad and I feel that he's the one who should speak, I really haven't done anything wrong.

"If he finally does apologize, should I take him back or just tell him we're through? I'm afraid he'll do this to me again, and again, and it will hurt more each time!"

Answer: He's the one who's mad. You're the one who's hurt. And obviously each of you is waiting for the other to apologize.

You say he gets upset over the least little thing. You also claim you haven't done anything really wrong.

It would seem that you've done something—even if it's a little something—to rub his fur the wrong way. And you haven't helped the situation much by not speaking to him.

When some boys get mad at girls they behave like wounded elephants. They go off by themselves and sulk, nursing their wounds in private. They shrug off any patch-up efforts with sarcastic cracks. And all the time they're wishing to be chased after, patted affectionately and teased back into good humor.

Other boys, when they're annoyed, shoot their tops on the spot. They explode in all directions and get it out of their systems. Then rapidly calm down—it's all over.

Your boy friend is obviously the brooding type. And whether you feel guilty of having offended him, or not, it's up to you to track him down and say sweet and soothing things aimed at getting him over his cross with you.

His real or imagined hurt is depriving you of a boy friend That's what hurts you.

Your hurt is only secondary to his. And you're being hurt because you made him mad. The solution is to get him over it. And you're the only one to do it.

Apologize to him for unintentionally doing something amiss. Be sweet, kind and very gentle with him while he's in this delicate mood. Tease him back into his normal good spirits. Take the blame yourself—tell him you're sorry, you didn't mean it.

And should it happen again, remember it was all your fault. And don't let a week of silence go by between you.

Whip at once into your patch-up act. It's your permanent job.

Slacks Are OK in Some Restaurants

But Do Not Wear Them in First-Rate Eating Place

By EMILY POST

The first letter in my mail today is from a young woman who writes as follows: "My girl friend and I are going to drive to Florida soon for a two-week vacation. We will take turns driving and we thought it would be a good idea to wear slacks in the car as they will be more comfortable than dresses and will not wrinkle as easily.

"Our problem, however, is this: We will, of course, have to stop along the road for our meals and we were wondering if it would be proper for us to go into a restaurant dressed in slacks?"

Answer: It depends entirely upon the restaurant. You would not go into the dining room of a hotel or a first-class restaurant dressed in slacks. But it would be quite all right to go into a cafeteria or other informal type of restaurant dressed in these clothes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong for the bride and bridegroom to give their own wedding when the bride's parents are still living? A friend of mine who is in her mid-40's is going to be married soon to a man 50 years of age.

"This is a first marriage for both. They are going to have a small wedding and would like to have a reception afterwards for their friends and relatives.

"They wish to give the wedding themselves but there has been some criticism of this. What is your opinion?"

Answer: It is entirely proper for a bride and bridegroom of mature years to give their own wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter is giving her senior piano recital soon and we would like to know if there is anything special that we, her parents, should do for her at the recital. Should we present her with flowers or a gift?"

Answer: A basket of flowers would be very nice and practical on this occasion.

Joan Crawford's Beauty, Charm Enchant Husband

(Editor's note: This is the third article in a series about movie queen Joan Crawford.)

By MAY MANN

Joan Crawford's husband, Alfred Steele, multi-millionaire president of an international soft drink company, held her perfumed and jeweled hand over dinner at 21. A conservative businessman, perhaps — but his fond glances at his wife were warmly expressive.

You can see his complete fascination by the pride that reflects in his eyes when he looks at her.

"Being married to Joan is always exciting," he said, "and very glamorous. She is all woman." Joan rewarded him with a warm smile, then picked up the conversation.

"I can't think of anything more deflating than, when after the babies come, a woman's husband starts calling her 'Mother.' If you are the mother of his children, fine. He can address you and refer to you as 'Mother' to them. But you are not 'his mother'. When he puts you into that comfortable, safe category, it is dangerous.

"You can easily become as solid and comfortable as your title — absorbed with motherly interests, house, food, children.

REMEMBER 'YOU'

"What about the 'you' he married — the woman he needs to be his physical mate, his playmate and half of the man-and-woman companionship? The woman who is to hold his interest, intrigue, fascinate, amuse, love, excite, sympathize or cajole him?

"You are far more exciting in the sheerest negligee as a wife and sweetheart than you are in a quilted cotton robe that is practical because of the children. Which role do you choose? Why not choose both? It is a matter of personal, proper casting at proper times."

Joan Crawford Steele is one beautiful package of surprises, her husband says, "She is the most exciting woman in the world, and I've never seen her when she wasn't beautiful!" His eyes added emphasis.

"When I get too busy making pictures, I move into my studio dressing room, except for weekends," Joan said.

"In that way I don't inflict the pressures of my work on my family and inject them with the tenseness I experience during each production.

ALWAYS KEYED UP

"During production I'm always keyed up. Fortunately, I have an understanding group of people around me. Elva Martien, my costumer, has been with me 12 years; Shirley Madden, my hairdresser, five years, and Sylvia LaMarr has been my stand-in for 15 years. Charles Lang, my brilliant and wonderful cameraman, has been photographing me for six years.

"I keep these people around me not only because they are each the best in their field, but because they have learned to adjust to new directors and studios and don't take up one's time with petty details. I am proud of their loyalty and friendship."

"It's the darndest business," said Mr. Steele. "Joan and I married without even waiting for her to make a picture already scheduled. We eloped to Las Vegas, where I began to realize that I had married a girl whose every move is news. Everywhere photographers, reporters. I used to have a difficult time getting her to myself.

"Joan had to start the picture. I had to fly East on business. I returned to find her living in her studio dressing room. I'll naturally join you, I told her, not being able to stay away. The dressing room is about 8 x 10. At night two mattresses came out of the closet and we slept on the floor. There was no room for a bed."

Joan said . . ."I was awake at 4:45 in the morning. As usual, the makeup man, hairdresser and wardrobe people would be there in 10 minutes. I shook Alfred who was still fast asleep. 'Wake up, darling! you have just five minutes to dress and get out of here before my crew arrives.'

"'What for — at this hour?' he murmured, 'it's still dark.'

'UNCIVILIZED' WORK

"But you have to get out of here. They will be walking in any minute. We have to get the mattresses off the floor before they can even get into the room. Please, darling, get up and go to our apartment, or our house.

" 'Sweetheart, you make it seem as if we aren't married'! Alfred mumbled, struggling to grope for his clothing and stumbling out into the early dark of the dawn. 'This is the most uncivilized business I ever saw,' he said as he bumped into the makeup man."

Mr. Steele grinned. "I really don't mind. It's fun."

—"Except all of my trunks," Joan said. "On our honeymoon we went to Europe. I took 43 assorted pieces of baggage for my clothes. Alfred never complained. He'd just say, 'Throw them overboard!' Recently we took our four children on a two-month holiday in Europe. I took just one trunk."

"It was oversize," injected Mr. Steele.

"I believe if something annoys or inconveniences marriage, get rid of it," said Joan. "Of course, I wasn't so well dressed. I'm glad that so far Alfred likes me to continue with my career, in spite of mattresses on the floor."

Her husband broke in: "I am always amazed at Joan's ingenuity. We had been driving in Italy all night and arrived in Rome to find a tremendous press reception waiting. Joan stayed in the car and put on frssh makeup, arranged her hair and emerged really dazzling.

"She can press a dress, a tie or pair of pants, for me, if need be. She is so self-reliant and, best of all, Joan has a wonderful sense of humor.

COMPLETELY HONEST

"A reporter asked, 'How old are you, Miss Crawford?' My bride, completely honest and factual, said, 'I am 47.' Then he asked, 'How many pictures have you made?' She replied, 'Seventy-three, and please don't confuse that number with my age'."

"I've never been able to consider marriage practical," Joan said. "I'm still enough of a child to believe it is the most exciting, romantic, loving-giving relationship. You can be practical about anything in the world but love."

Joan's previous marriages ended in divorce. Yet, her former husbands — Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Franchot Tone, Phil Terry — say she is the most magnificent woman they have ever known.

And there are those who believe Mr. Tone had long retained the hope of a remarriage before her wedding to Mr. Steele.

Will their marriage last? Joan's reply is, "I've managed so far. You can work out a long-range plan in business or anything else. Marriage is the only thing in life you can't plan on. You always hope it will last."

(In the fourth article of this series, appearing tomorrow, Joan Crawford tells the heart-warming story of the four adopted children who call her "Mummie".)

Area Schools Rehearse Plays

Preparation of plays, plans for parties and completing the basketball season are the big news items coming from area high schools this week.

At Avondale High, rehearsals are under way for the Junior Class play. Participating class members say they are going through six weeks of rigorous practice to present a "real thrilling evening" for their audience, April 12.

"Caught in the Villain's Web" by Herbert Swayne is the old fashioned "mellerdramer" to be presented by the class.

The sweet young heroine is Amy Carol Cooper, while the manly hero will be portrayed by Ken Sheehy. Waxed mustache and all will characterize the title part of the villain to be played by Jack Pyle.

Other class members participating in the production include Joy Owen, Marcia Pease, Paula Parton, Bob Snyder and Tom Galloway.

Student director is Marge Gingrich and Wilbur Janoschka is the student producer.

Avondale freshmen are sponsoring a "Leap Year Dance" tonight. Girls are inviting boys to this record hop scheduled to start at 8 in the gymnasium.

Basketball at Avondale is at a standstill this week as the Yellow Jacket fans are watching the Clawson-Fitzgerald game tonight. A Clawson victory would give Avondale a tie for the Oakland B title. The Jackets closed their regular season of play by dropping the highly touted Fitzgerald team a week ago.

St. Michael Council Holds First Meeting of 1956

By JANET ENGLISH

College after graduation is a topic that was given special attention here at St. Michael's this past week.

Thursday found the girls, seniors and underclassmen alike, assembled for an informative discussion of a student's life, both scholastically and socially, at Nazareth College.

This liberal arts college in Nazareth, (Mich) is run by Sisters of St. Joseph. Opportunities for scholarships have been extended to any of the girls wishing to attend this school.

Many of the seniors have been filling out applications that will make them eligible to compete in the George Wilson Scholarship Contest. Five hundred dollar awards will be given by the Michigan Federation of Labor to the two Michigan seniors scoring highest in the examination.

Tuesday, the first general student council meeting of 1956 was held. The most important outcome of this assembly was the decision made by the student body to reform their habits in the halls while changing classes.

Even though the varsity team didn't quite make the grade in the playoffs with St. Benedict's, Highland Park, congratulations are due them on their co-championship in the Catholic Suburban League.

The games played Sunday were a double success. The JV's beat St. Mary's, Royal Oak, 33-32. Our varsity cagers put a finishing touch on the picture by coming out on top in their game with a score of 56-33. The Royal Oak Irish missed the boat in both games.

Ike's Old Friend Zhukov Rises in Red Hierarchy

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, has risen steadily in the Communist Party hierarchy ever since Stalin's death.

Zhukov, former comrade-in-arms of President Eisenhower when the latter was a military man in the defeat of Germany, was virtually exiled by the late Stalin after the war at a time when he was a great popular figure.

He became defense minister when Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov resigned a year ago and now he has scored two triumphs in the 20th Soviet Communist Party Congress.

Zhukov has been made a member of the Central Committee and also a candidate-member of the Presidium, the top ruling body. In the latter category he does not hav voting rights in the Presidium but nevertheless enjoys a position of great prestige and influence in party and government councils.

The Soviet marshal also had the satisfaction of witnessing at the party congress some effective mud-slinging by top Communists at that once great party idol, Stalin.

MODERATE RED?

Zhukov has been rated by some observers as a "moderate" in Red councils. This may be true, but what he and other Soviet military leaders said during the congress cannot give any comfort to the Western allies.

Party boss Nikita Khrushchev may have disowned the Leninist principle about the inevitability of war with Western "capitalism," but there were the same old familiar charges that the West was preparing new wars and forming "aggressive blocs" against the Soviet camp.

Zhukov and his deputies, Marshals Alexander Vasilevsky and Vasily Sokolovsky, also stressed the growing striking power of the Soviet armed forces.

They did this to such an extent that they could be accused of having their own Soviet "massive retaliation" plan. The latter phrase, when used by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was taken by Soviet propagandists to mean an American "aggression" plan.

Zhukov was quoted as saying that the Soviet armed forces "now have diverse atomic and nuclear weapons, mighty guided missiles, and among them long-range mission of a first-class jet air force capable of solving any problem that might arise in case of an aggressive attack."

He added: "They are in possessiles."

VULNERABLE U.S.

Sokolovsky claimed that the Soviets have the means of delivering "atomic and hydrogen bombs to any part of the globe," meaning that American cities were vulnerable.

Vasilevsky even hinted that Soviet infantrymen may have held exercises during hydrogen bomb explosions.

He mentioned maneuvers last fall and observers recalled that on Nov. 26, 1955, the Soviet Union announced a series of hydrogen bomb test detonations.

If this is so, Russian soldiers would appear to be the first to have experienced thermonuclear tests. The United States has not publicly announced troop participation in such tests.

Profits from U.S. national forests is $354 million a year, $36 million in cash and the rest in improved facilities, according to U.S. forest service estimates.

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have announced promotion of Arthur H. Long, personnel director, and William J. Ward, commander of the training school at East Lansing headquarters, from the rank of sergeant to lieutenant. Long has been with State Police since 1937 and Ward since 1939.

Soviets Put Out 100,000 Cars for '55, About 4-Day's Output for U. S. Firms

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet Russia's automobile industry turned out about 100,000 passenger cars during 1955.

That's about four days' production for the American motor industry in record-smashing 1955. Nearly 8 million cars rolled off U. S. assembly lines during the year.

And it's roughly the number of autos Britain had left for domestic use after exports from a total output of 1,200,000.

Three top officials of the USSR ministry of the automotive industry gave the first public glimpse of classified Soviet auto figures at ministry headquarters in Moscow.

They were: Ivan P. Gusev, ministry foreign department chief; Dmitri D. Stakheev, the ministry's chief engineer, and Andrei A. Libgard, the ministry's chief designer.

FIGURES INFLATED

The figures they gave, though qualified and probably somewhat inflated, provide the best overall picture of Soviet auto production ever given an outsider. For 1955, the figures given were:

Moskovitch (four-passenger, 26-horsepower midget produced chiefly for the private car market—"according to plan, 35,000 to 40,000."

Pobeda (five-passenger, 52-H.P. workhorse of Soviet taxi fleets and state enterprise utility car, which is also sold to private owners)—"somewhat more than the Moskovitch, roughly 50,000."

ZIM (90- H.P. ringer for the seven-passenger 1946 Buick limousine, issued to Junior VIPS) —"about 10,000.

ZIS-110 (140 H.P. custom VIP limousine, replica of the 1941 seven-passenger Packard)—"approximately 300 to 350."

Truck and bus production in 1955 brought the total Soviet motor vehicle output to just over 435,000. The sixth five-year plan (1956-1960) calls for an overall boost of 46 per cent by 1960, to 650,000 motor vehicles.

(The U. S. produced more than 9 million cars and trucks in 1955.)

Trucks are to increase 32 per cent, buses 88 per cent and passenger cars 86 per cent.

500,000 ON ROADS

This means that the 1960 Soviet motor car total will be about the same as the 1955 production of Chryslers, which ranked No. 9 in U. S. total output for the year.

According to Gusev, the USSR now has about half a million automobiles on the highway. He could give no estimate of how many of these were privately owned, but the figure may be as high as 100,000.

Other sources indicate 45,000 to 50,000 private cars in Moscow alone.

Engineer Stakheev, who queued up to buy himself a Pobeda last year, said he understood that some 15,000 Pobedas and 10,000 Moskvitches were sold to individual Muscovites in 1955.

Gusev said the ministry had no official sales figures since they merely produced the cars and then turned them over to the ministers of domestic and foreign trade for distribution.

The foreign department chief declined to reveal how many Soviet cars were delivered to the ministry of foreign trade for export during 1955.

But sales to the "people's democracies," to Norway, Sweden, Syria, Finland and Holland may account for up to 10,000 cars, which would be about one-tenth of the total production.

Norway alone has been taking 2,000 Soviet Pobedas, Moskvitches and ZIMS a year in exchange for herring and whale oil.

British Caverns Offer Fascinating Adventures

WELLS, England — There are 13 major caverns in Great Britain open to tourists. One of the most interesting is the Wookey — that's right, Wookey — Hole Caves near here. Although now flood-lit for spectators, the natural chambers have not changed since their only illumination was the campfire of the first inhabitatnts 60,000 years ago.

One of the early dwellers, according to legend, was the Witch of Wookey who was turned to stone by a monk from Glastonbury. Her remains, along with her crystal ball are still in evidence and can be seen to this day.

Schools Eye Oxford Area Consolidation Proposal

7 Districts Give Tentative Okay

Plan Would Reorganize 13 Education Divisions Into Single Unit

By WILMA GREENWAY

OXFORD — A 17-point plan to consolidate a number of school districts in the Oxford area was tentatively approved last night by seven of the 13 districts involved.

The action was taken by representatives of the districts at a meeting with the Oakland County Board of Education and members of the Oxford Area Study Committee, held at the Daniel Axford School in Oxford.

Only two votes were cast against the proposal to consolidate into a single district, the result of two years' study on the part of the 75-man Oxford Area Study Committee. Representative of one district declined to vote, and two other districts had failed to send school board representatives.

Approving the proposal were representatives of Leonard, Lakeville, Kingsbury, National, Thomas, Oakwood and Oxford school boards.

TWO VOTE NO

Arnold and North Oxford school district officials turned the proposal down. Rock Valley refused to vote on the grounds that opinion on the issue was divided. East Travis, West Travis and Whigville representatives were not present.

There was relatively little discussion on the issue, and the session was a short one for so important a meeting. Approximately 60 people attended.

Following the vote of the local school boards, the Oakland County Board of Education formally approved the plan. The board also dissolved the Oxford Area Study Committee, which previously had presented the 17-point proposal to its board.

The 17 recommendations included in the committee's 76-page report include reorganization of the various districts into a single fourth class district, to be called the Oxford Area Community School District. The area to be consolidated is located roughly in Oxford and Addison Townships and lower Lapeer County.

PLAN HIGH SCHOOL

The proposed district would secure a centrally located high school for the area.

Other recommendations include a multi-purpose room in each neighborhood school building, to be made available for community affairs; hot lunch program in all the schools; a pupil teacher ratio of 25 to 30 pupils per room in grade 2 and above with 20 to 25 children per teacher in kindergarten and first grade; and a new plan of bus routine.

The appointment of an advisory committee of citizens consisting of one person from each of the former school districts to sit in on board of education meetings and deliberate with the board of the new district when it begins operation also was recommended.

Next step in the gigantic consolidation program is for the representatives to take the plan back to the individual local school boards, which in turn must make formal application to the county board of education for inclusion in the plan. The county board must then apply to the State Board of Education for its approval.

Finally the consolidation plan must go to the individual school district's electors for a public vote.

Food, Fellowship for Milford Opponents

After-Game Custom Creates Good Will

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—Eight years ago, a custom was started at Milford High School that has created more goodwill and super sportsmanship in the athletic department than any other project, according to Erwin Johnson, principal.

After home games on Friday nights, the Milford basketball teams are hosts to their opponents for refreshments and a period of fun. The entire Home Economics House is turned over to the boys, so that they may become "better acquainted, kibitz, and eat')

All of boys are served sandwiches or cake and ice cream with plenty of milk and any animosity that may have been felt on the basketball floor disappears before they return home.

Not only are the Junior and Senior Varsity Squads served refreshments, but bus drivers, officials, the administrative staff and any others connected with the teams are also served. Even the coaches talk and laugh with the "most ridiculous men," the referees.

The result of this project has cut "after-game rowdyism" to a minimum—in fact, Johnson said "there just isn't any time for hard feelings. Tempers have cooled down by the time the two teams have had refreshments and good fellowship together."

One of the main reasons for beginning the project, was that boys in training eat very little supper before a game. By the time 10:30 rolls around, the players are literally weak from lack of food.

Before the project began, all of the players on both teams would swarm downtown and eat too much greasy food too fast, and it was here that arguments would often begin.

Erwin Johnson presented the idea to the Milford PTA in 1948 and a committee was formed to analyze the problem. The result was that three adult couples (parents of the boys), would take turns preparing the snack hour. Money for the refreshments is supplied by the athletic fund.

There are seven teams in the basketball league, and since the plan was adopted at Mil-Hi, every one of the schools has adopted the "good fellowship plan." Officials promoting the plan say that the "results are absolutely amazing."

Project Boasts 381 Owners

Oakdale Cooperative Housing Expands in Year of Existence

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The Oakdale Residents Cooperative Housing, Inc., officially went into operation as a co-op with a membership of 273 fully paid shareholders, and 178 partially paid members on June 1, 1955.

As of today, there are 381 fully paid shareholders, with 135 partially paid members.

President of the co-op, Sgt. Edward A. Wilson, said it was quite a feat for some of the would-be owners to raise the necessary $144 down payment in the 90 days required. The cost of each unit is $375.

Wilson expects all units will be sold by the next annual meeting in January, 1957.

As soon as the units are sold, plans will get under way for an expansion membership service, in the half-mile Oakdale Gardens area, he added.

Included, will be a medical center and an 8-hour-day legal consultant, with guaranteed membership payment, plus a gas station, giving a membership discount.

Inasmuch as the residents of the housing project are only co-op taxpayers, the status of the taxpayer in the Oakdale Gardens area remains as before.

Anyone living in an area where only 25 per cent of the population pays taxes, any resident can be a member of the school board.

Mail Problem at Waterford

U.S. Asking for Bids; Would Lease Building for Post Office

WATERFORD — Waterford Village is still in hope of getting a new post office.

The post office, which is now located at 5836 Andersonville Rd. in what formerly was known as the Howard Jewell Grocery, is inadequate to handle the present bulk of mail, officials said. The need is for a building of approximately 1,200 square feet, which the U. S. Government will lease for either five or ten years.

Notices will be placed in both the post office and the Waterford Township Hall, soliciting bids for the office, postal officials said.

Anyone wishing further information on specifications, etc., can obtain it by contacting John Jehowski, post office inspector, 213 Federal Building, Detroit.

Mental Health Group to Meet

Macomb Committee Event Thursday Is Open to Public

The Macomb County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital will hold its next meeting in the Fellowship Room of the First Presbyterian Church in Mt. Clemens. The date of the meeting is Thursday, the time is 8 p.m. and the public is invited.

Program Charirman, Mrs. C. Harold Wills, of Romeo, announces that a free sound film entitled 'Shyness" will be shown.

The film recently won an international critics award in the field of mental health. It effectively demonstrates how shyness is fostered in children, and its effects in adult lift. It indicates methods of overcoming shyness that may be applied in their broader aspects to adults as well as children.

From the lonely existence of a typically shy adult, the film turns to a study of three friendless children: Anna, shy but wistfully wanting association with others; Jimmy, whose excessive timidity is really a symptom of deep emotional disturbance; Robert, aloof but happily independent. The film reveals how confidence-destroying demands of parents predisposed the children to shyness; and how the children are guided in making better social adjustments.

Citizens Committee President, Lawrence Martell of New Baltimore, urges the community members of Macomb County to attend the monthly meetings. He says "The only way we can remove the stigma associated with the mentally ill is by becoming a better informed citizenry".

Martell feels that the Citizens Committee is helping to do this with its two-fold purpose (1) educate the community in the area of mental health and (2) encourage projects that will assist in the recovery of the patients at the Pontiac State Hospital. Any one interested in mental health may join.

Hal Boyle Says:

Johnny's 'Retirement' Means New Career

NEW YORK (AP) — There are people who do want to do it in this world—whatever there's to be done—and there are those who don't care.

John R. Crooks always did what was to be done. He always smiled, but he also held behind his smile the fierce pride all true craftsmen have in a job they love.

OUT TO PASTURE

Last summer, after 52 years in the same old salt mine, Johnny Crooks was put out to pasture on a well-earned pension. But, like many another retired man, he became desperately unhappy. He cured himself by going out and taking a job in a new field.

Those seeking "the best remedy for retirement blues" might be interested in John's story. Here it is:

In 1903 Johnny, a bandy-legged boy of 14, solemn in the dignity of knee britches and bowler hat, applied for and received the post of night office boy for the Associated Press, then as now the world's largest news gathering organization, for a salary of $4.50 a week. The day office boys got $3.50.

It was a big sacrifice for Johnny. In his heart he really wanted to be a jockey. He was built for it in slimness of body and a whip-like agility of mind.

SPEEDY TYPIST

Instead he became a typewriter jockey, one of the fastest of his day.

For 40 years he was the news librarian of the Associated Press, filing on cards the history of a generation of news as it was made from day to day.

He also filed it in his heart, and when you asked him for it—well, it was there. Johnny was a long lesson in loyalty. He was strictly an organization man. He didn't get to travel much himself—there was a family to be raised—but he traveled and suffered in spirit with scores of foreign correspondents.

His closest buddy was the late Jim Mills, dean of war reporters in his time, whom Gandhi once said he expected would be waiting to interview him at the gates of Heaven. They both have reached the gates, since then, but Jim hasn't found a way to get the story through.

GAP IN THE OFFICE

When Johnny Crooks, this skinny reservoir of news history, went to pasture last summer there was a big gap left in the office where he had worked for so long. It was a spiritual thing.

Johnny wasn't happy either. He cherished the inscribed gold watch—it was what he wanted—and other farewell souvenir gifts for more than half a century of service. He had the pension. He also was free now every day to watch the morning workouts at racetracks where, as a boy, he had dreamed of riding.

But he missed the daily bugle of duty, the active feeling of belonging.

HAPPY AGAIN

He found age no handicap in adjusting to a new job technique. He is buoyant again, happy in new loyalties. The name of the firm that gave him this break—Johnny says if I mention it please make him a partner—is Flood, Conway, Walsh, Stahl—and Johnny Crooks.

Johnny, chirpy as a cricket now, says idleness is a curse to a long-time working man. He advocates a new start.

"It's a mistake for an employer to look at a man's gray hair and refuse him a job," he said. "Gray matter goes with gray hair — and it's always worth hiring.

"It is work that keeps a man young. It is wonderful to learn new things. I've made a lot of new friends. I'm happier now than I've been in many a year."

Johnny, who has more bounce to the ounce at 66 than many a man half his age, gives this as his personal receipe for keeping pep:

"Don't dissipate. Don't overeat. Do everything in moderation. And attend church regularly."

U.S. Joins Moth Fight

LANSING (AP) — C.A. Boyer, head of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the State Agriculture Department, reported that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has promised $20,000 to help pay for spraying against gypsy moths in the Lansing area this spring. The Legislature is expected to appropriate a similar amount. Some 40,000 rural acres will be covered by the aerial spray against the moths, first reported in the area three years ago.

Asks Military Confab

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has asked local chambers of commerce to sponsor military information meetings for the young people and the parents of their communities. "I can visualize no greater service to our youth than the provision of adequate, accurate and up-to-date information concerning their military obligations," the governor said.

Reward Honest Student

LANSING (AP) — Harry Gelhear, Lansing service station operator, thanked and rewarded James Bell, Michigan State University student, who called to report he had found a lost bag containing $325 in station receipts in a gutter outside a bank.

The next international Red Cross conference will be held in India, probably late in 1956, New Delhi learns. It will be the first ever held there.

Athletic Talent Fails to Influence Dexterity

According to a recent magazine article, your muscular development, athletic ability, or gymnastic prowess has little effect upon your manual dexterity, Air Force training specialists have shown.

Trainees were given two sets of tests: (1) Physical: chinning, push-ups, rail-walking, toe-touching, balancing, jumps, and so on; and (2) Dexterity and steadiness: nut-bolt assembling, threading, aiming, stacking, and sorting.

Results showed that abilities needed in physical performance are quite independent of those which are required for fine hand manipulative work.

Seeks Lincoln Data

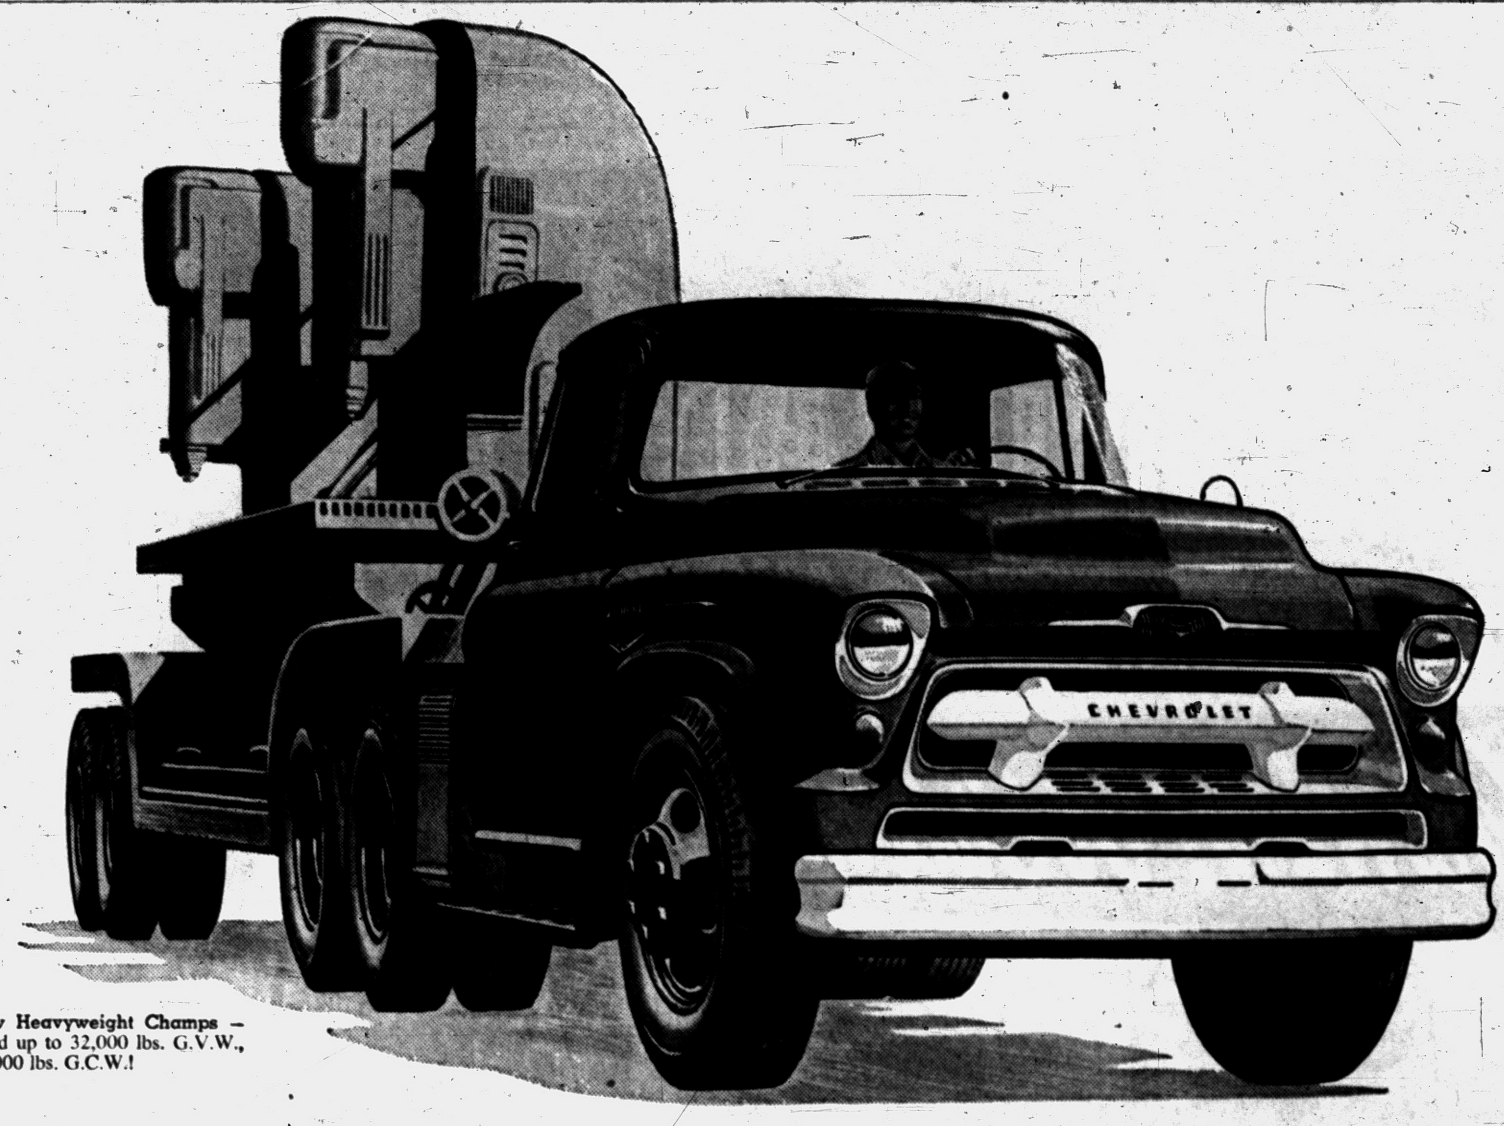

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has issued an appeal for historical material to add to its Lincoln collection at the new university library. MSU is particularly interested in material relating to the Morrill Act, signed by Lincoln in 1862, which established the nation's system of land grant colleges and universities.

One of the first of the police radio stations in the country began operations in New York in 1916 and was used to contact the harbor patrol boats.

America to Help Pay for Guatemala Plan

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Carlos Castillo Armas says the United States will pay a fifth of the cost of his Central American country's new 250-million-dollar economic development plan.

Castillo Armas told the opening session of Congress he also hopes to get $21,300,000 in International Bank loans for the five-year program. He said the United States will put up $53,800,000 toward the total cost.

The U.S. support is intended to help the Castillo government meet any threat from Communist supporters of former President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, overthrown in an anti-Red revolution 20 months ago.

The five-year plan calls for development of agriculture, health, housing, education, electric power, transportation, communications and social security. It also promises redistribution of land to 25,000 families.

Almost 1,000 acres of soil 13 inches thick are being carried down the Mississippi River and dumped into the Gulf of Mexico every 24 hours.

NEWEST CLASSROOM — Typical of the facilities into which 600 pupils of Madison Junior High School moved this week is the classroom above. Two sections of the new building at 1275 N. Perry St. have been completed, and the schedule of the Detroit designers, H. E. Bryster and Associates, calls for the one and a quarter million dollar project to be completed in mid-August. Classroom, science, arts and crafts and shop facilities are now in use.

Tax Cut Not Feasible This Year, Says Official

NEW YORK (AP) — Percival F. Brundage, deputy director of the U.S. Budget, says tax cuts are not feasible this year if a balanced federal budget is to be achieved.

Brundage, who takes office April 1 as budget director, told the New York Chamber of Commerce that military needs are a chief reason for ruling out a tax cut now.

President Eisenhower, he said, "feels as strongly as any of us that our level of taxation is too high to be continued indefinitely without detrimental effects on the growth of our economy."

"But this is not the time to take a tax cut," he said.

Grosse Pointe Woods Has Its First Burglary

DETROIT (AP)—Police in suburban Grosse Pointe Woods say they've had their first holdup since the city was incorporated 16 years ago. A lone gunman took $100 from a cleaning shop.

Detective Everett Plumb said a search of police records failed to disclose a single other holdup since 1940.

Grosse Pointe Woods had a population of 10,381 in the 1950 census. It is considerably larger now.

Illinois Meets Iowa for Big 10 Championship

NOW, ALL TOGETHER! — Everybody seems to have grabbed for the ball in the above shot. It was made during the 1st period of last night's St. Michael - Oxford encounter in PHS gymnasium. No. 22 is Oxford's Bob Brannan, who has a back-hand grip on the ball. Other unidentified players also have hands on the sphere. The dark-shirted player at right is Duane Priebe (St. Mikes). Game was won, 61-34 by Shamrocks.

Highlight Tilt Gets National TV Attention

Both Teams Tied for Conference Lead With 11-1 Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois and Iowa meet for what should be the Big 10 basketball championship at Iowa City Saturday afternoon and with or without statistics the game figures to be a tossup.

The game will be nationally televised (3 p.m. EST-CBS).

Illinois and Iowa are tied for the Western Conference lead with 11-1 records and each winds up the season Monday. Indiana is at Iowa and Illinois is at Northwestern Monday night.

Illinois tops the conference with a 93.6 scoring average to a 79.3 for Iowa.

The Illini are better offensively but the Hawkeyes lead the conference in defense, limiting their opponents to a 69.5 scoring average while Illinois has been nicked for a 76.1 average.

Illinois has a much better overall record than Iowa, having won 18 of 20 games while Iowa has a 15-5 record. But Iowa has come on strong after losing four of its seven pre-conference games and then dropping its Big 10 opener to Michigan State, 65-64.

At Iowa City last year Illinois ran up a 16-point lead in the second half but Iowa won the game. The Hawks didn't win it close, beating Illinois 92-80.

It would surprise no one if Illinois, the nation's No. 2 team, would go over the 100-point mark. The Illini have done that four times this year.

Neither team has any glaring weakness. Neither team depends on one man. Both have balanced attacks where the scoring is usually well distributed.

Martin, Konstanty Only Yanks Outside

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (INS) —Star pitcher Whitey Ford and outfielder Irv Noren are in the New York Yankee fold today as a result of signing 1956 contracts.

Infielder Billy Martin and relief hurler Jim Konstanty are the only Yank players still unsigned.

AP Wirephoto

Trade Winds Are Blowing at Tiger Training Camp

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' spring training camp is only in its second day but already trade winds are blowing around the shaky second base position.

Whether it turns out to be more wind than trade remains to be seen but manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox was making a suggestion or two to the Tiger bigwigs in a head-to-head session.

The proposal reportedly would send Jim Brideweser from the White Sox to the Tigers for Fred Hatfield in a straight player swap. Unless other players also were involved such a deal hardly would be classed as sensational since neither Hatfield nor Brideweser are big name players.

Brideweser kicked around the New York Yankee chain for four seasons before being sold to Baltimore in 1954. He went to the White Sox last season where he played in only 34 games and had a batting average of .207.

Hatfield hit .232 for the Tigers in 122 games. He has been with Detroit since mid-1952 when he came from Boston. His first major league experience was in 1950 with the Red Sox and his best hitting year was 1954 when he had a .294 average in 81 games with the Tigers.

Spike Briggs supposedly told Marion he wasn't interested in dealing. "Don't talk to me about a deal," Briggs said. "The last time we did business with the White Sox they gave up a first baseman with only one leg (Ferris Fain)."

Briggs' current first baseman, Earl Torgeson, is one of the team's two holdouts. The other is Harvey Kuenn.

Briggs has indicated he will stand pat at least until general manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel returns from Detroit on Monday.

Forty-seven other hopefuls greeted manager Bucky Harris at the first drills yesterday.

THE POWERHOUSE By JIMMY POWERS

MIAMI, Fla.—The mockingbirds sang their liquid notes. The flamingoes dutifully paraded, chivvied along by Seminoles saturated in all the primary colors. The Racing Form was printed on pink stock as were the programs. Ladies wore cashmere sweaters ranging in hue from a delicate baby pink to a shocking pink. There were pink hats and pink-rimmed sun glasses. It all goes to show how a gimmick can make a good event into an outstanding one, a "must see" on the winter sports calendar in this sub-tropical land of palm fronds and guava jelly, of pastel convertibles and copper skinned tourists.

But over and above it all the sharp eyed handicappers, the grandstand railbirds come up with the big question: "Now, who do you think will win the Kentucky Derby?"

Truly, racing's glamour age is three — the season of the sophomores — and to prove this, look at Nashua last semester, High Gun in '54, Native Dancer in '53 and one Count in '52.

Who will it be in '56? Will it be the snorting, wild eyed winner of this Flamingo? Will there be a Swaps to duel a Nashau, or a Dark Star to cheat Native Dancer out of the Triple Crown?

Will there be any colt worthy of mention in the same breath with Nashau and the "Dancer"?

NAIL VOTED 2-YEAR-OLD CHAMP

Nail was voted 2-year-old champ of 1955 by the TRA. He won the Belmont Futurity, the Remsen and Pimlico Futurity and $239,930. Nail's weakness is a fast track. He won the Remsen and Pimlico Futurity in the slop. On a fast track he doesn't appear to want to go more than a mile. The Derby is one and one-quarter miles and the Belmont is one and one-half miles.

Needles (seems like everybody named their two-year-olds of 1955 after hardware) was voted best juvenile of last season by the Morning Telegraph and Daily Racing Form correspondents. He had won six of 10 races and $129,805 from such stakes as the Sapling and Hopeful. Pretty horse, too, he won a horse show on conformation in Florida, where he was bred, before he ever ran in a race.

Needles lost his last 1955 race to Prince John and Career Boy in the Garden State Stakes which is the richest cavalry charge on earth. It is one and one-sixteenth miles.

NEEDS SIZE—But if Eddie Ford Jr., age 2½, has any of his pop's ability, some size is all this young left-hander will need to be a winner in the major leagues. Right now, he's only about 20 years away.

Santee Returns to Competition in Kaycee Meet

Supreme Court Order Enjoins AAU, Lets Wes Run in Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's controversial miler, returns to competition tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with the blessing of a State Supreme Court justice and the approval of the Knights of Columbus track officials.

A court injunction signed yesterday by Justice James McNally and followed several hours later by a statement from K. of C. meet director Tom Harrigan paved the way for the return of the 24-year-old Marine lieutenant.

Santee, only American to come close to the magic 4-minute mile and this country's chief 1,500-meter hope in the Melbourne Olympics, was handed a lifetime suspension Feb. 19 by the Amateur Athletic Union's Executive Committee.

The AAU action came after a special investigating committee reported the former University of Kansas runner had taken monies above allowable expenses for a number of meets in 1955, including three in California.

At Quantico, Va., where he is on duty with the Marine Corps, Santee said he had been working out despite the AAU ban.

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney who sought the temporary injunction, said Wes would arrive in New York today. Justice McNally set March 9 for the hearing on the injunction. Upon that decision likely will determine whether Santee will be permitted to run meets at Cleveland, Chicago and Milwaukee later this month.

Yesterday's action set the stage for a return engagement between Santee and Ron Delany, an Irishman from Villanova who has ruled the mile roost all season. In their only previous meeting, at Boston Jan. 28, Delany won in 4:06.3 as Santee faded to fourth after following a blazing early pace. Wes was clocked in 4:08.8.

The AAU had no immediate comment on the Knights of Columbus decision to abide by an invitation, which its statement said was extended to Santee Jan. 19.

Red Wings Clinch Playoff Berth

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings clinched a Stanley Cup playoff berth for the 18th straight year last night with a 2-0 shutout over the Boston Bruins.

The victory pushed Detroit one point ahead of the New York Rangers in their here-today-gone-tomorrow duel for second place in the National Hockey League standings.

The Wings had dropped to third for 24 hours after New York's triumph Wednesday over Boston.

Rookie Goalie Glenn Hall turned in a superb performance making 37 saves to gain his 11th shutout of the season.

Victory came at 5:13 of the final period when Red Kelly sizzled a 30-foot screened shot past Boston goalie Terry Sawchuk. It was Kelly's 16th goal of the season and his first against Boston.

Marty Pavelich added the insurance marker at 15:52 unassisted. It was his second goal in two games for Pavelich who has only five for the year.

The victory gave Detroit 68 points—18 behind the league-leading Montreal Canadiens who already have clinched the NHL title. It left the Bruins only a slim mathematical chance of passing fourth-place Toronto for a playoff spot.

Detroit and New York each have eight games to go in the stretch.

Hall amazed the 8,059 Boston Garden fans with his uncanny skill and timing. He batted the puck in the air several times like a juggler and once stopped a Doug Hohns shot with a jump-skip and kick motion that delighted the crowd.

Even when the Bruins sent Sawchuk off the ice in favor of a sixth skater with 1:20 remaining, Hall was invincible.

The game also was unusual in that only one penalty was called. Boston's Vic Stasiuk was sent off in the first period for tripping.

Four rinksiders were sent home with cuts in the first period when Bob Armstrong slammed Alex Delvecchio into the glass behind the net, sprinkling broken glass over the area.

At Large Entry
Wayne Gets NCAA Bid

NEW YORK (INS) — Wayne University of Detroit was named today as an "at large" entry in the NCAA's national college basketball tournament.

The selection of Wayne (16-1) was announced by Lewis P. Andreas, Syracuse athletic director and chairman of the eastern selection committee.

Wayne will meet DePaul at Ft. Wayne, Ind., on March 12 in a first-round game.

The Tartars, beaten only by Louisville this season, conclude their campaign tomorrow night against John Carroll at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

A. C. Lonberg of Kansas, chairman of the NCAA's basketball committee, announced some of the pairings for first-round eastern games at Madison Square Garden, March 12 and 13.

On Monday night, March 12, Holy Cross plays Temple and Canisius will meet the Atlantic Coast Conference Champion.

Connecticut plays Manhattan and the Southern Conference camp will play an "at large" team, probably the Ivy league titlist, on Tuesday, March 13.

MSU Loses Tank Star for Rest of Season

EAST LANSING (AP)—Larry Ellis, top point-getter for the Michigan State swimming team will be unavailable for the Big Ten swimming meet at Purdue this weekend. Dr. James Feurig, team physician, reported.

Dr. Feurig said Ellis will be sidelined for the rest of the season because of an indolent ulcer caused by X-ray therapy on his left foot.

Vanderbilt Racer N'Orleans Favorite

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Alfred Vanderbilt's front-running Find remained a shaky early favorite today over a field dotted with some of racing's leading handicap horses and jockeys in the $50,000-added New Orleans Handicap.

Find rated a slight edge over the Hasty House Farm pair of Sea O Erin and Mister Black in early forecasts for Saturday's big race, richest offering of the Fair Grounds' 83-day winter meeting.

It's Hot Stove League Time and—

You're the Manager

(Twentieth of a Series)

Whether or not to give up an out with a sacrifice bunt is one of the problems confronting all managers. This is a particularly controversial point when the home team is trailing by one run in the late innings.

BILL BRUTON

Milwaukee manager Charley Grimm was faced with just such a situation in a game against the Chicago Cubs last season. His strategy worked out fine. What would you have done?

(R) stands for a righthanded batter or pitcher and (L) for a lefthanded batter or pitcher.

The Cubs are leading the Braves 1-0 in the last of the eighth at Milwaukee. Warren Hacker (R) is the Chicago pitcher. Chuck Tanner opens the inning for the Braves with a base on balls. Bill Bruton (L) is the next batter with Hank Aaron (R) and Ed Mathews (L) to follow.

Would you:

a. Order Bruton to sacrifice?

b. Try a hit-and-run?

c. Let Bruton swing away?

Result: A — Bruton sacrificed and it paid off. Aaron beat out an infield hit and Mathews doubled for two runs. The Braves won 2-1. (April 18).

Jackson Happy Over Fight for 3rd Base Spot

VERO BEACH, Fla. (INS)—Possibly the happiest Dodger of them all is a fellow who didn't share in Brooklyn's World Series triumph, Ransom Joseph Jackson Jr.

Ransom is the former Chicago Cub 3rd baseman who became a delighted Dodger via the trade market last December and he's more than glad to be a candidate for a regular berth with the world champs.

"It's the biggest break I've ever had in baseball," Jackson claims.

Handsome Ransom, who is 30 years old, is ready and willing to challenge Jackie Robinson for the 3rd base job.

"Seems that every year I have to battle for the position," he says. "No reason to stop now."

Jackson hit .265 in 138 games for the Cubs last season.

Big 10 Favors Pact

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Big Ten acceptance of a permanent or "open end" Rose Bowl football contract with the Pacific Coast Conference was regarded as a cut and dried matter today.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson, preparing to enter a joint meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors, said he definitely was "in favor" of such a pact. This indicated that a conditional vote in the conference was favorable, probably by a margin of 8-2 or 7-3.

Minnesota and Northwestern was reported to be opposed to extending the contract, which grosses more than a million dollars each New Year's day through gate receipts and television and radio rights.

Wisconsin was said to be a borderline case, probably voting in the affirmative when the chips are down.

At any rate, formal approval of the pact by the Big Ten is not expected until its May meeting in Minneapolis after the issue is considered by higher authorities of each institution.

However, the current meetings have proven to be more than just a thorough discussion of the new Bowl plan presented by the PCC which would make the contract binding until either side gives at least a two-year notice of discontinuance.

The current agreement of three years expires with the 1957 game.

The PCC proposal is identical with the pacts of the past in that the same team cannot make the bowl trip but once in every two years. Some Big Ten factions preferred limited appearances to once in three years.

The Rose Bowl trip started 10 years ago by the two conferences, has grown into a big business affair. The Big Ten splits its part of the net proceeds into 12 shares —Two of the representative team, one each to the other nine conference members and one to the commission's office.

Last year each share amounted to about $35,000.

Ezzard Pushed Off List; Summerlin in No. 5 Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in about 14 years, the name of Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, does not appear in the first 10 rankings of Ring Magazine.

The fading 34-year-old Cincinnati veteran, 10th a month ago, was left out of the rankings released today to make room for young Harold Carter of Linden, N.J. Carter was rated ninth.

There were other changes in the heavyweight division still headed in order by Rocky Marciano, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, Bob Baker and John Holman.

Johnny Summerlin of Detroit advanced to No. 5 contender on the strength of his victory over Young Jack Johnson. He was followed by Nino Valdes, Willie Pastrano, Bob Satterfield, Carter and Johnson.

Bobby Boyd, Chicago's fine young middleweight, jumped to fourth place among the 160 pound contenders as a reward for stopping Eduardo Lausse's 33-fight unbeaten streak. Lausse fell from third to fifth.

Overflow Crowd Attends MSU Club Grid Banquet

A turnaway crowd packed into the Birmingham Community House last night for the annual football banquet given by the Michigan State University Club of Oakland County in honor of area high school coaches and athletes.

The guest speaker was Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, MSU head coach, who brought along his entire staff.

Dick Ernst, MSU Club president, gave the welcome address, then turned the microphone over to Bob Reynolds, WJR sportscaster, who was master of ceremonies.

Daugherty, named "coach of the year" in 1955, was given a standing ovation when introduced by Reynolds. The personable Spartan mentor introduced assistant coaches Bob Devaney, Bill Yeoman, Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, Doug Weaver, and Lou Agase, and each made brief remarks.

Dick Kleppe, former Spartan halfback, introduced the high school players and their coaches.

Colored motion pictures of the 1956 Rose Bowl game were shown to wind up the program.

Illinois Gymnasts Face 3 Big Threats

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., (AP) — Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota are given an outside chance to dethrone Illinois as the Big Ten gymnastics champion in competition today and tomorrow.

Illinois, defending NCAA titlist, will be seeking its 7th straight Western Conference Championship.

Illinois has been weakened by injuries to Captain Richard Jirus and Jon Culbertson but still figures to be strong in trampoline and tumbling.

M'Coy, Freeman Stage Rematch

Resume Scoring Duel in Saturday's Big 10 Tilt at Columbus

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's Julius McCoy and Robin Freeman of Ohio State will stage a rematch of their shooting duel in a Big Ten basketball game at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday night.

Freeman, with 379 points, leads the conference in scoring and McCoy is second with 341.

The last time the pair peppered the basket on the same floor, Freeman banged in 46 points and McCoy collected 40.

The NCAA statistical bureau said it could find nothing in its records to match this for a man-against-man scoring duel.

Ohio State with an 8-4 record is third in the conference standings and Michigan State is tied for fifth with Indiana, both with 6-6 marks.

Michigan State will close out its season against Michigan Monday night at Ann Arbor.

A, B Playoffs Start Tonight

City League Quintets After Further Honors at Lincoln, Jefferson

Class A and B playoffs in the city's adult basketball leagues get under way tonight at Lincoln and Jefferson junior high school gyms.

Shaw's Jewelers, who finished the regular season unbeaten, tangle with Stone Front in the 8:30 nightcap and Sun Life battles General Motors at 7 in Class A games at Lincoln.

In Class B at Jefferson, Stadium Inn meets Booth Homes at 7 o'clock and the Lakeside Royals face the Keego Merchants at 8:30.

The Class A champion tackles a Lansing representative in district play at an undetermined site for the right to enter the state tournament finals at Battle Creek on March 16-17.

Pontiac's Class B winner goes to the Inter-City Recreation tourney at Hackett Fieldhouse in Highland Park. The Inter-City meet starts March 8.

LUCKY ANGLER — On his first trip to Florida's winter vacation land, Milford's Alwin Peterson (above right), had the "time of his life." He helped land the big catch of kingfish, on the rack, also some groupers, and thoroughly enjoyed the trip. At left is a former Pontiac man, Art Stephens now living at Marathon, on the Keys, where the pair's angling took place. Biggest of the fish shown was a 19-pounder, Peterson reported. Sails and yellowtail tuna are just beginning to move in, Peterson said.

Arthur Hill	6	3	536	496
PONTIAC	6	4	552	516
Bay City	2	7	511	573
Saginaw	0	9	525	673

Last week's games—Northern 55, Pontiac 51; Flint Central 62, Saginaw 66; Arthur Hill 65, Bay City Central 63.

With the exception of one game, Saginaw Valley basketabll teams wind up their 1955-56 season tonight with all clubs in action. Flint Central has a date, March 9 at Midland, then goes into MHSAA regional tourney action against Sexton March 14. PHS also starts tourney play that night, against Port Huron, following Northern's tourney debut the previous night against Pontiac's Waterford club.

Tonight's action here will find Coach Larry Laeding of the Trojans sending in three juniors and a pair of sophomores as starters. He has no seniors left on the varsity squad, having permitted four to drop out. Those now off the team are Gene Bohn, Dick Leis, Joe Scott and Abe Huerta. "They'll all get their varsity letters, however," Laeding said today.

"We'll try to make an interesting game of it," says the Trojan coach. "But I want to give these sophomores some good game experience, and we weren't going anywhere anyway." Saginaw has missed on all its SVC encounters, although scoring well in every game.

Art Van Ryzin, PHS mentor, promised fans a good, fast contest in this finale.

"Our starters are unchanged. We expect Saginaw to battle along with its fast, 'racehorse' style of play, and the game could be a real colorful, high-scoring contest.

"Trojans have Deb Blondin, second only to Chiefs' Willie Dewalt in the SVC scoring race. Blondin scores well from any place on the floor, and is always dangerous."

Another capacity audience was expected, in view of the game's promise and because of an unusual demonstration between halves of the varsity tilt. A demonstration of weight-lifting, a new sport for PHS, has been arranged, with many boys from the big, twice weekly class taking part.

Junior varsity teams meet in a preliminary at 6:30 p.m. Varsity game begins at 8 p.m.

From The PRESS BOX

Coach Joe Mason down at Wayne University is happy over the selection of the Tartars as an "at large" team to play in the NCAA basketball tournament.

Mason, who guided the Tartars to a 16-1 mark, including 15 straight this season said, "our team isn't great but the boys are deserving."

"They've done a terrific job and it's just too bad we didn't have a stronger schedule," he added.

Everyone admits that Wayne hasn't played what is considered a major schedule but the fault can't be directed at the Detroit school.

Efforts were made to schedule a number of top-notch teams including a couple in the state of Michigan, but that attitude of these so-called majors in the essence of "everything to lose but nothing to gain by playing Wayne," prevailed as usual.

Despite the schedule, it doesn't mean Wayne couldn't take care of a few of the big boys.

"After all even San Francisco doesn't play the best," said Mason. Many basketball fans can easily go along with that statement. The Dons didn't really schedule a powerhouse selection of teams with a total of 16 games against such teams as Chico State, Fresno State, Pepperdine, San Francisco State, Los Angeles Loyola, St. Marys, San Jose State, Santa Clara and College of the Pacific.

Wayne, with a predominately junior team, has lost only to 3rd ranked Louisville this year.

It wouldn't be a surprise to see the Tartars dump DePaul in the opening round at Fort Wayne, March 12.

The Detroit Lions, who for the current season have switched uniforms from football to basketball will make an appearance tonight at the Romeo high school gym against the Remeo Varsity Club.

With the Lions on the hardwoods are Jug Girard, Sonny Gandee, Charlie Ane, Dorn Dibble, Lee Riley and Norm Swanson.

Game time is at 8 p.m. with proceeds going to the Romeo athletic fund. Preliminary of grade school teams is at 7 p.m.

Warm Up for District

Mikes Rout Oxford, 61-34

St. Michael wound up its 1955-56 basketball season in impressive fashion Thursday night with a 61-34 rout of Oxford at the Pontiac High School gym.

The Mikes ended their regular schedule with 11 wins and four losses while Oxford finished with a contrasting 2-11 record. Both teams enter district tournament action next week at PHS.

Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks were never in danger. They tallied six points before the Wildcats could find the basket and raced into a 33-18 lead at halftime.

St. Mike held a 17-point advantage going into the 4th quarter and at one point in the last period the margin was increased to 27.

Three Shamrocks scored in double figures, headed by guard Dan Dropps who netted 19 points. John Keller tallied 12 points and Kenny Halpin added 11. Dave Sweeney and Dave Thomas led Oxford with 10 points apiece.

The Mike reserves completed a sweep for the evening by defeating the Wildcat JV's in the preliminary game.

Meteors, Oliver's Win in Tournament

The Meteors bounced back into contention and Oliver Buick won its 2nd straight in a pair of exciting Class D playoff basketball games Thursday night at the Eastern Junior High gymnasium.

Both contests were nip-and-tuck struggles with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle.

The Police Assn. bowed out of the double-elimination tournament after being edged by the Meteors, 51-50, in a battle of 1st round losers. Dick Singleton the double-elemination tournapoints while Bob Dewey scored 17 for the Policemen.

Perry Williams poured 28 points through the hoop as Oliver Buick bested the Boys Club, 62-58. Andy Ramsey topped the Boys Club with 19 points. Oliver's last quarter rally gained the decision.

The Class D tourney resumes Monday night at Lincoln with the Meteors facing the Boys Club in a 7 o'clock tilt. Winner meets Oliver's for the title.

Peace Doomed in Pro Grid Controversy

Canadian Clubs Refuse to Return Players in Dispute to NFL

TORONTO (AP) — The hoped-for peace between Canadian and American professional football clubs appeared as far away as ever today.

The Canadian Football Council (CFC) refused yesterday to return players now under dispute to the National Football League. Nor, said the council, would Canadian Clubs recognize any claims by NFL clubs to former players coming out of the U.S. armed forces

The council represents the nine teams in the Western Inter-provincial Football Union and the Big four.

It emphasized that if NFL teams do not take up players options for the following season the players become free agents and could be signed by Canadian clubs.

The, decisions reached by the council were an aftermath of peace meetings last month between Ralph Cooper, chairman of the CFC, and Bert Bell, NFL commissioner.

In Philadelphia, Bell described the CFC's decision as a "backward step."

"This won't do a thing to better relations between our two groups," he said. "On the contary, it will hurt relations."

In Detroit, Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions, said one hope remained for peace with the Canadians.

"There is a possibility that individual teams could sit down and negotiate current player problems," he said. "In fact that seems to be the only way left to work out the entire problem."

The Lions have a court suit pending in Canada against Toronto seeking the return of Quarterback Tom Dublinski. The suit was delayed while Cooper and Bell held the peace meetings.

A hearing now is scheduled for March 19 and Anderson said he expected it would proceed.

U-M After 2nd Straight Indoor Track Championship

EAST LANSING (AP) — With defeding champions returning in five events, Michigan will reply on power in an attempt to hoist its second straight Big Ten indoor track championship starting tonight with preliminaries, leading to tomorrow afternoon's final.

The Wolverine's biggest challenge is expected to come from the well-balanced Iowa Hawkeyes.

According to the form charts, Michigan is figured to accumulate something like 55 points in its team title bid to about 40 for Iowa. Indiana is favored for third place with Michigan State and Wisconsin challenging.

Michigan will bank heavily on these 1955 iwnners:

Peter Gray, who took the 880 and 1,000-yard titles last year; Don Wallingford in the two mile; Mark Booth, co-champion in the high jump; and shot-putter David Owen.

Records are expected in the 60-yard dash and broad jump.

Northwestern's Jim Gollididay last week broke the world's 60-yard spring mark by one-tenth of a second with a :06.0 performance. Sophomore Grey Bell of Indiana has broadjumped 25-6¼ this season, nearly a foot over the Big Ten record.

Other conference marks in jeopardy appear to be in the mile relay, high jump, pole vult and hurdles.

Michigan has bettered the relay standard with a 3:17.4 job. Brendan O'Reilly of Michigan has high jumped 6-7¼, only one-fourth inch under the record.

In the 70-yard low and high hurdles, two athletes have come within only one-tenth second of the Big Ten indoor record. George Moyers of Northwestern has done the lows in :7.9 and Les Stevens of Iowa the highs in :8.5.

In addition to Stevens in the barriers and high jump, Iowa's threat comes mainly from Caesar Smith and Tom Ecker in the 440; Ted Wheeler in the 880 and mile; Jack Mathews in the low hurdles; Earl Smith in the high jump; Bill Leahy in the broad jump; Gardner Van Dyke in the pole vault and a mile relay team that has turned in a 3:19 performance.

Hialeah Windup

Fast Field in Handicap Run

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Luxurious Hialeah Park, which recovered from a faltering start to set record rates in both betting and attendance, closes its 40 days of racing today with the $30,000-added Black Helen Handicap, a mile and a furlong race for fillies and mares.

A field of 12 entered the race and if all go the winner will net $28,950 from a gross purse of $40,100. The purse was increased from $25,000 to $30,000 added this year.

The powerful Wheatley Stables entry of Misty Morn and High Voltage, although drawing top weights of 126 and 125 pounds, respectively, was an 8-5 choice with the oddsmakers, as was Maine Chance Farm's Myrtle's Jet, who will carry third high weight of 122 pounds.

Fitzgerald Faces Clawson

Milford-Northville Duel Heads Area Cage Program

Milford's invasion of Northville and the Fitzgerald-Clawson battle are tonight's top prep attractions as all but two area basketball teams end their regular season campaigns prior to next week's district tournaments.

The Berkley-Royal Oak engagement next Friday at Berkley is the lone remaining game in the neighborhood after tonight's action.

Three Wayne-Oakland League games are on tap, headed by the Milford-Northville tussle. Jack Minzey's Redskins, who have the W-O title safely tucked away, trounced Northville in their 1st meeting at Milford, 74-55.

But at that time the Mustangs did not have the services of Clayton Pethers, a tall sophomore who has been piling up points with monotonous regularity since becoming eligible the 2nd semester.

Pethers will be firing tonight and the possibility of an upset looms strong. The Mustangs are 2nd in the league with a 9-2 record.

Brighton visits Clarkston and cellar-dwelling Holly entertains West Bloomfield in other W-O tilts.

Fitzgerald can wrap up the Oakland B crown with a victory over invading Clawson. The Spartans are in 1st place with a 9-2 mark, a half game better than idle Avondale and Madison.

Clawson, listing a 5-6 loop record, has been a hot and cold club this season. The potentially dangerous Trojans would throw the Oakland B title race into a three-way scramble by upsetting Fitzgerald.

Another important clash takes place at North Branch where the Broncos face Imlay City with the South Central crown at stake. North Branch nipped Imlay in overtime, 51-49, in their 1st encounter.

Birmingham tangles with Mt. Clemens, a squad it had difficulty beating at home, in an Eastern Michigan League contest on the Bathers' court, and Royal Oak is host to Fordson in Border Cities play.

Remaining games tonight are Plymouth at Walled Lake, East Detroit at Hamtramck, Roseville at Eastland, St. James of Ferndale at Hazel Park St. Rita, Ortonville at Flint Dye, and Lakeville at Millington.

Cranbrook meets Western Reserve in an Inter-State Prep League game Saturday at Hudson, Ohio.

Burke on Top by One Stroke at Baton Rouge

Equals Record With 65, Barely Misses Try for New Mark

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. today took a one-stroke lead and an aching back into the second round of the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Burke fired a record-equaling 7-under-par 32-33—65 in the opening round yesterday over the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course. He shares the tourney record with three others.

* * *

Burke missed a 15-inch putt on the 18th hole that would have given him a 64, tying the course mark.

Close behind with a steady 33-33—66 was Ed Furgol of St. Louis.

Bunched at 67 were amateur Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash.; George Bayer, Cincinnati; Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N.Y.; and Harry Dee, Hartsdale, N.Y.

After shooting his sizzling round, Burke went to Louisiana State University, where athletic trainer Marty Broussard treated a pleurisy condition with diathermy and infrared rays.

Man Still Pays for Children Richer Than He

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Why should he pay $200 a month alimony and child support, William M. Chapin wanted to know, when his children's television salaries are more than his own?

Seeking to have the payments suspended, Chapin told Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle that his son Billy, 12, earns as much as $1,000 a week as a free lance actor. He said his daughter Lauren, 10, gets $285 a film as Kathy in the Father Knows Best television series. He said he makes $460 a month as an insurance executive.

But Judge Doyle denied the petition after Mrs. Chapin testified the children's salaries are spasmodic and savings clauses in their contracts keep net earnings at a minimum.

WE CATER TO SPECIAL PARTIES

England's Cleopatra Now Americanized

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Cleopatra just gave me an exclusive interview.

I dated up Caesar's dolling, the sexy dish of 50 B.C., at her Park Av. apartment. Julius' girl friend has changed. So would you if an asp put the bite on you.

★ ★ ★ ★

Cleo smokes cigarettes now—filtered—speaks of such home towns as Forest Hills; Ware, Mass., and Fort Lauderdale. Also the chicken liver on Second Avenue. Wait'll you hear her favorite booze!

CLAIRE

Fact is, Claire Bloom, the sensitive, reticent 25-year-old British star who plays Cleo in "Caesar and Cleopatra" on "Producers' Showcase" on TV, is almost a Yankee.

I found out she was twice on Bob Emory's "Big Brother" kid radio program here 13 years ago. "Were you paid?" I asked Claire—a war evacuee then. "I think I was paid. I just wrote in for an audition when I was going to school in Forest Hills. It was not a very happy time. We had no money at all."

Claire went to school "near Ware" and when people say "Near, WHERE?" she says "Near Ware" and it gets to be "Who's on first?" Fort Lauderdale, where she stayed with relatives, she considers a paradise if you're a palm tree. She returned to England, got discovered, and now people ecstasize when she plays the babes of history.

"Some luck was involved," she modestly admitted.

She went to a party while in London in "Ring 'Round the Moon."

A friend of Charlie Chaplin told her she should be in Chaplin's film, "Limelight." Claire said "Har Har." But Chaplin wired her from Hollywood for photos—then she flew to NY to meet him for a test—and in only four months, absolutely nothing had happened.

"One day my mother rang up the theater. There was a nice wire from Mr. Chaplin. Would I ring up New York? I was in such a terrible state of nerves, I had my agent do it."

She landed it, proving you should never go to parties.

Miss Bloom poses in longish wigs and tons of perspiry materials. She's anti-cheesecake. But TV cheesecake is now appearing in British papers.

SHARON

"Maybe it's to pep up the British men—they need it," she said.

She returns here in September with the Old Vic company to tour and she has a "poetic desire" to visit New Orleans, San Francisco, Phoenix, Denver—and she ought to be happy there because favorite drink of this favorite of the British thitter is:

". . . something Mrs. Chaplin introduced me to. Bourbon old-fashioned."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Orson Welles was offered a $5,000-a-wk. raise—to $25,000—for another week at the Las Vegas Riviera . . . The Duchess of Windsor, Leonora Corbett and escorts bravoed Dorothy Donegan's showy trio at the Embers. Otto Preminger told Miss Corbett, "I don't like your gown." She answered, "And my gown doesn't like you!" . . . Jackie Gleason paid about $5,000 for tickets so his staff could go to his 40th birthday party.

Singer Diahann Carroll and agent Monte Kay got married and are at home on 57th St. . . . Cy Howard the Hollywood cutup is now cooking up a film in Paris paralleling Grace Kelly's story . . . A beautiful new B'way personality (married) fell for her hairdresser . . . Bill O'Dwyer's due here on business—Rosemary Ridgewell-type, that is.

Zsa Zsa Gabor may sue a stripper billed as "Za Za." "Imagine her," fumes Zsa Zsa, "billing herself as a Hungarian!" . . . Georgie Jessel has a new approach—took Jayne Mansfield and her daughter, 5, to dinner . . . Phil Silvers bought cashmere shirts for his whole TV crew . . . General George Marshall's started his memoirs . . . Sharon Shore made a hit subbing for ailing Neile Adams, who's back in the Versailles show.

★ ★ ★ ★

Deek (Ink Spots) Watson reconciled with his wife, gave her a Continental to soothe her feelings . . . Richard Barthelmess wants Sinatra to remake his 30-year-old film, "Patent Leather Kid" . . . A touted H'wood romance is all publicity; the gal slapped the guy so hard she broke a fingernail.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

It's easy to recognize the French premier in any photograph of the Big Four. He's the one you don't recognize.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Sportscaster Chris Schenkel insists boxing is less nerve-wracking than acting: "A fighter doesn't have to wait up for his notices."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Ted Steele described a Mickey Spillane novel: "It's so tough that I looked inside the book jacket and found a holster."

"A local mother boasts that her baby is swallowing solids now—pencils, clips and assorted pins."—Augusta (Kan.) Gazette. That's earl, brother.

Dulles Starts Far East Trip

Secretary of State Plans Asia Visit; Will Attend Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles sets off today on a visit to Asia and the Far East, major front in the cold war.

He hopes on his return later this month to have information which will help him decide whether U.S. foreign policy should be revised to meet the Russian drive for new political and economic influence in the area's underdeveloped countries.

The immediate purpose is his scheduled attendance March 6-8 at a meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization at Karachi, Pakistan.

He also will visit nine other capitals from New Delhi to Tokyo and confer with a wide range of Asian leaders, including India's Prime Minister Nehru.

The 25,000-mile journey will raise his total travel since he took office three years ago to approximately 300,000 miles.

The trip will be his first to Asia since the Soviets, after the summit conference last July, launched their political and economic drive to penetrate Asian nations with offers of cooperation and financial aid.

Dulles has termed their operations in Asia and the Middle East dangerous new threats to the security of the free world. Within the past week, he has said the Soviet campaign appeared to require on the part of this country nothing more than a flexible and continuing foreign aid program.

At a news conference Wednesday, he said that during his trip he expects to collect information which would help him decide what if any other new foreign policy measures should be taken.

HOPES TO FLY 'ROUND WORLD ALONE—Jan Woods, of Van Nuys, Calif. taking a year's leave of absence from her school teaching job, prepares to leave with her dog, Cindy, on a solo flight by easy stages around the world. She plans to stay for short periods of time at each stop to get acquainted with the people of foreign lands and figures the trip will take a full year. The plane, a Cessna 170B, will be shipped by boat across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Hollywood Headlines:

Anita Says British Actor Hasn't Popped Question

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Straight from Anita Ekberg I learn that she doesn't believe Anthony Steele, the British actor who is here to visit her, made a statement in London that he was going to marry her.

"He wouldn't do a thing like that," said Anita.

"Are you going to become Mrs. Steele?" I asked.

Very naively she said, "He hasn't even asked me. There are lots of things to consider."

Career-wise, Anita has two pictures on the fire after she finishes "Back From Eternity" for John Farrow. Robert Fellows, who owns the valuable Ekberg contract, wants her to star in "Glare," and there also is an offer from Warwick Productions in London for her to go to Jamaica for "Fire Down Below."

Anita is very happy over her career, which within the short space of a year has made her one of the most sought-after actresses on the screen today.

EXCITED ABOUT ART

The last time I saw Tony Quinn he was all excited over a valuable painting of the crucifixion he had bought from a Parisian painter named Jensem.

He bought it in Paris for $3,000 and shortly after refused $10,000 for it. Tony is not mercenary, and he loves the painting.

I had thought that he was leaving immediately for Paris to co-star with Gina Lollobrigida in "Hunchback of Notre Dame," but he has managed to get in an extra picture before he leaves.

Young producer Robert Jacks has signed Tony for "The Lonely Gun" for United Artists release. He'll play a character who feels equal to society when his six-shooter is strapped on his side. The shooting is scheduled for mid-March.

Talked with Betty (Lauren) Bacall after she took Bogey to Good Samaritan Hospital for an operation on his throat.

She said, "The doctors say my boy must stay in the hospital for two weeks, and then must rest his voice for two months after that."

The recuperation period will take place at Frank Sinatra's house in Palm Springs as Frank will be taking off for his picture in Spain just about the time Bogey leaves the hospital.

Betty tells me that their Warner picture, "Melville Goodwin, USA." will not start until some time in April when Bogey gets his famous voice back and gets rested.

HOTEL PURCHASE

When I talked to Mary Pickford she verified that she, Buddy Rogers and a syndicate have bought the old Mayflower Hotel in Los Angeles—a landmark with 350 rooms—from Joseph Greenbach.

The price was two million dollars, and Mary invested some of the money she made on the sale of her United Artists stock.

She said they plan to give the Mayflower a complete face-lifting job. It's one of the oldest hotels in the city and always has done a good business, situated as it is in the heart of the city.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: That pink ruffled shirt that George Sanders wore when he escorted an unidentified blonde to the Moulin Rouge must really have been something to see.

Stopped in a minute at Valerie and Donald Nelson's party for Mrs. John Mills of London. Linda Christian, all done up in a pinkish gown, was with Edmund Purdom.

Lord Carnavon, back in town, came with Joan Fontaine and Collier Young; and Mrs. Jules Stein, who is back among us after a visit in the East, came in later.

Natalie Wood and actor Sal Mineo, both in the Oscar derby, for their work in "Rebel Without a Cause," are now having a "derby" of their own.

Two other Academy Award nominees, Joe Connelly and Robert Mosher, who are in the race for best original screenplay for "Private War of Major Benson," are now writing a series on "Benson." It will have to be good to be as good as the first.

Peron Law Allowing Divorce Suspended

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's provisional government has suspended ex-dictator Juan D. Peron's controversial law allowing divorce in this Roman Catholic country.

The new move is part of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's campaign to re-establish friendly relations with the church.

The government decree suspended the Peron divorce law until Congress—now dissolved—can act on the issue. It said Peron's government had proclaimed the law "in the course of religious persecution" without the knowledge of the people.

Passage of the divorce law in December 1954 precipitated a major break between Peron and Catholicism, Argentina's established church and the faith of 90 per cent of the people.

Plan New Warehouse

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Farm Bureau Services, Inc., has started construction on a new $165,00 warehouse near Lansing to replace the one destroyed by fire last Dec. 9. A new $180,000 processing and packaging plant for field seeds also is being constructed.

Jo Stafford Has Girl

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—It's a boy and a girl now for singer Jo Stafford and her husband Paul Weston, record firm executive. Amy Anne, the 5-pound, 9-ounce daughter, arrived yesterday at St. John's Hospital. The Westons have a son, Timothy John, 3.

Hussein Ousts Army Leader

Dismiss Famed British Chief to Satisfy Wish for All-Arab Troops

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, famed British "Glubb Pasha" who created Jordan's crack army, has been dismissed by King Hussein.

The King and Premier Samir el Rifai's government acted to satisfy strong anti-Western elements demanding that the army—the Arab Legion—be put under complete Arab control.

There was no immediate word how Glubb's dismissal from the post of chief of the army general staff would affect the nearly eight million pounds ($22,400,000) which Britain pays Jordan annually for support of the legion. The subsidy constitutes more than half the gov-ernmnt's budget.

Glubb left by plane with his family for London today. An official announcement said his dismissal took effect yesterday.

Man Kills Self in Driveway of Funeral Home

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police said William H. Rost, 78, drove his car into the driveway of a friend's funeral parlor last night and shot himself in the temple with a .32-caliber revolver.

Officers said they found a note, reading in part:

"Dear Franklin—

"I'm trying to make it just as easy as possible for everyone. Consequently I'm making personal delivery to you . . ."

(Signed) Bill Rost.

"P.S. Will you see that the car and gun get back to the house. Thanks."

Funeral director Franklin Ives said Rost had been despondent since the death of his wife a few months ago.

Paper Plant to Close

OTSEGO (AP)—Thor Corp., which operates the Bardeen Division of Allied Paper Mills in Otsego, Wednesday announced the plant will be closed in an economy move. A letter to the plant's 250 workers said the firm would attempt to find employment for them at its Kalamazoo and Flint plants.

To Survey River Flats

MUSKEGON (AP) — Stuart Perry Walsh, director of Industrial Planning Associates of San Francisco and Washington, D. C., has been engaged by the Chamber of Commerce to survey the Muskegon River flats regarding the area's potentialities for future industrial development. The survey is expected to begin Monday.

Man Still Pays for Children Richer Than He

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Why should he pay $200 a month alimony and child support, William M. Chapin wanted to know, when his children's television salaries are more than his own?

Seeking to have the payments suspended, Chapin told Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle that his son Billy, 12, earns as much as $1,000 a week as a free lance actor. He said his daughter Lauren, 10, gets $285 a film as Kathy in the Father Knows Best television series. He said he makes $460 a month as an insurance executive.

But Judge Doyle denied the petition after Mrs. Chapin testified the children's salaries are spasmodic and savings clauses in their contracts keep net earnings at a minimum.

Cleo smokes cigarettes now—filtered—speaks of such home towns as Forest Hills; Ware, Mass., and Fort Lauderdale. Also the chicken liver on Second Avenue. Wait'll you hear her favorite booze!

CLAIRE

Fact is, Claire Bloom, the sensitive, reticent 25-year-old British star who plays Cleo in "Caesar and Cleopatra" on "Producers' Showcase" on TV, is almost a Yankee.

I found out she was twice on Bob Emory's "Big Brother" kid radio program here 13 years ago. "Were you paid?" I asked Claire—a war evacuee then. "I think I was paid. I just wrote in for an audition when I was going to school in Forest Hills. It was not a very happy time. We had no money at all."

Claire went to school "near Ware" and when people say "Near WHERE?" she says "Near Ware" and it gets to be "Who's on first?" Fort Lauderdale, where she stayed with relatives, she considers a paradise if you're a palm tree. She returned to England, got discovered, and now people ecstasize when she plays the babes of history.

"Some luck was involved," she modestly admitted.

A friend of Charlie Chaplin told her she should be in Chaplin's film, "Limelight." Claire said "Har Har." But Chaplin wired her from Hollywood for photos—then she flew to NY to meet him for a test—and in only four months, absolutely nothing had happened.

"One day my mother rang up the theater. There was a nice wire from Mr. Chaplin. Would I ring up New York? I was in such a terrible state of nerves, I had my agent do it."

She landed it, proving you should never go to parties.

Miss Bloom poses in longish wigs and tons of perspiry materials. She's anti-cheesecake. But TV cheesecake is now appearing in British papers.

"Maybe it's to pep up the British men—they need it," she said.

She returns here in September with the Old Vic company to tour and she has a "poetic desire" to visit New Orleans, San Francisco, Phoenix, Denver—and she ought to be happy there because favorite drink of this favorite of the British thitter is:

". . . something Mrs. Chaplin introduced me to. Bourbon old-fashioned."

Secretary of State Plans Asia Visit; Will Attend Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles sets off today on a visit to Asia and the Far East, major front in the cold war.

He hopes on his return later this month to have information which will help him decide whether U.S. foreign policy should be revised to meet the Russian drive for new political and economic influence in the area's underdeveloped countries.

The immediate purpose is his scheduled attendance March 6-8 at a meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization at Karachi, Pakistan.

He also will visit nine other capitals from New Delhi to Tokyo and confer with a wide range of Asian leaders, including India's Prime Minister Nehru.

The 25,000-mile journey will raise his total travel since he took office three years ago to approximately 300,000 miles.

The trip will be his first to Asia since the Soviets, after the summit conference last July, launched their political and economic drive to penetrate Asian nations with offers of cooperation and financial aid.

Dulles has termed their operations in Asia and the Middle East dangerous new threats to the security of the free world. Within the past week, he has said the Soviet campaign appeared to require on the part of this country nothing more than a flexible and continuing foreign aid program.

At a news conference Wednesday, he said that during his trip he expects to collect information which would help him decide what if any other new foreign policy measures should be taken.

HOPES TO FLY 'ROUND WORLD ALONE—Jan Woods, of Van Nuys, Calif. taking a year's leave of absence from her school teaching job, prepares to leave with her dog, Cindy, on a solo flight by easy stages around the world. She plans to stay for short periods of time at each stop to get acquainted with the people of foreign lands and figures the trip will take a full year. The plane, a Cessna 170B, will be shipped by boat across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Hussein Ousts Army Leader

Dismiss Famed British Chief to Satisfy Wish for All-Arab Troops

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, famed British "Glubb Pasha" who created Jordan's crack army, has been dismissed by King Hussein.

The King and Premier Samir el Rifai's government acted to satisfy strong anti-Western elements demanding that the army—the Arab Legion—be put under complete Arab control.

There was no immediate word how Glubb's dismissal from the post of chief of the army general staff would affect the nearly eight million pounds ($22,400,000) which Britain pays Jordan annually for support of the legion. The subsidy constitutes more than half the government's budget.

The dismissal ended 30 years of Middle East service for the tough, wiry little 59-year-old soldier who learned the ways of the Arabs on camelbacks and around the desert campfires and built the Arab world's best army from scratch. His enemies called him "The Uncrowned King of Jordan."

Glubb left by plane with his family for London today. An official announcement said his dismissal took effect yesterday.

Paper Plant to Close

OTSEGO (AP)—Thor Corp., which operates the Bardeen Division of Allied Paper Mills in Otsego, Wednesday announced the plant will be closed in an economy move. A letter to the plant's 250 workers said the firm would attempt to find employment for them at its Kalamazoo and Flint plants.

Hollywood Headlines:

Anita Says British Actor Hasn't Popped Question

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Straight from Anita Ekberg I learn that she doesn't believe Anthony Steele, the British actor who is here to visit her, made a statement in London that he was going to marry her.

"He wouldn't do a thing like that," said Anita.

"Are you going to become Mrs. Steele?" I asked.

Very, naively she said, "He hasn't even asked me. There are lots of things to consider."

Career-wise, Anita has two pictures on the fire after she finishes "Back From Eternity" for John Farrow. Robert Fellows, who owns the valuable Ekberg contract, wants her to star in "Glare," and there also is an offer from Warwick Productions in London for her to go to Jamaica for "Fire Down Below."

Anita is very happy over her career, which within the short space of a year has made her one of the most sought-after actresses on the screen today.

EXCITED ABOUT ART

The last time I saw Tony Quinn he was all excited over a valuable painting of the crucifixion he had bought from a Parisian painter named Jensem.

He bought it in Paris for $3,000 and shortly after refused $10,000 for it. Tony is not mercenary, and he loves the painting.

I had thought that he was leaving immediately for Paris to co-star with Gina Lollobrigida in "Hunchback of Notre Dame," but he has managed to get in an extra picture before he leaves.

Young producer Robert Jacks has signed Tony for "The Lonely Gun" for United Artists release. He'll play a character who feels equal to society when his six-shooter is strapped on his side. The shooting is scheduled for mid-March.

Talked with Betty (Lauren) Bacall after she took Bogey to Good Samaritan Hospital for an operation on his throat.

She said, "The doctors say my boy must stay in the hospital for two weeks, and then must rest his voice for two months after that."

The recuperation period will take place at Frank Sinatra's house in Palm Springs as Frank will be taking off for his picture in Spain just about the time Bogey leaves the hospital.

Betty tells me that their Warner picture, "Melville Goodwin, USA," will not start until some time in April when Bogey gets his famous voice back and gets rested.

HOTEL PURCHASE

When I talked to Mary Pickford she verified that she, Buddy Rogers and a syndicate have bought the old Mayflower Hotel in Los Angeles—a landmark with 350 rooms—from Joseph Greenbach.

The price was two million dollars, and Mary invested some of the money she made on the sale of her United Artists stock.

She said they plan to give the Mayflower a complete face-lifting job. It's one of the oldest hotels in the city and always has done a good business, situated as it is in the heart of the city.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: That pink ruffled shirt that George Sanders wore when he escorted an unidentified blonde to the Moulin Rouge must really have been something to see.

Stopped in a minute at Valerie and Donald Nelson's party for Mrs. John Mills of London. Linda Christian, all done up in a pinkish gown, was with Edmund Purdom.

Lord Carnavon, back in town, came with Joan Fontaine and Collier Young, and Mrs. Jules Stein, who is back among us after a visit in the East, came in later.

Natalie Wood and actor Sal Mineo, both in the Oscar derby, for their work in "Rebel Without a Cause," are now having a "derby" of their own.

Two other Academy Award nominees, Joe Connelly and Robert Mosher, who are in the race for best original screenplay for "Private War of Major Benson," are now writing a series on "Benson." It will have to be good to be as good as the first.

Peron Law Allowing Divorce Suspended

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's provisional government has suspended ex-dictator Juan D. Peron's controversial law allowing divorce in this Roman Catholic country.

The new move is part of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's campaign to re-establish friendly relations with the church.

The government decree suspended the Peron divorce law until Congress—now dissolved—can act on the issue. It said Peron's government had proclaimed the law "in the course of religious persecution" without the knowledge of the people.

Passage of the divorce law in December 1954 precipitated a major break between Peron and Catholicism, Argentina's established church and the faith of 90 per cent of the people.

Plan New Warehouse

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Farm Bureau Services, Inc., has started construction on a new $165,00 warehouse near Lansing to replace the one destroyed by fire last Dec. 9. A new $180,000 processing and packaging plant for field seeds also is being constructed.

Jo Stafford Has Girl

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—It's a boy and a girl now for singer Jo Stafford and her husband Paul Weston, record firm executive. Amy Anne, the 5-pound, 9-ounce daughter, arrived yesterday at St. John's Hospital. The Westons have a son, Timothy John, 3.

Man Kills Self in Driveway of Funeral Home

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police said William H. Rost, 78, drove his car into the driveway of a friend's funeral parlor last night and shot himself in the temple with a .32-caliber revolver.

Officers said they found a note, reading in part:

"Dear Franklin—

"I'm trying to make it just as easy as possible for everyone. Consequently I'm making personal delivery to you . . ."

(Signed) Bill Rost

"P.S. Will you see that the car and gun get back to the house. Thanks."

Funeral director Franklin Ives said Rost had been despondent since the death of his wife a few months ago.

80-Mile Winds Sweep England Causing Damage

LONDON (AP)—Winds ranging up to 80 miles an hour raged across the British Isles today, causing widespread damage and driving dozens of ships to cover. Two deaths were blamed on the storms.

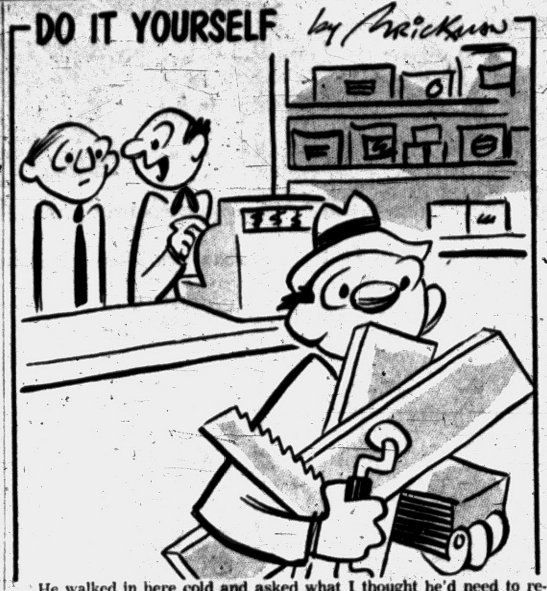

The 488 - ton coastal vessel Greenhaven was blown on the rocks off Donegal, Ireland. Her crew of 10 scrambled to a reef to await rescue.

In northern England, hundreds of windows were blown in, chimneys crashed through roofs, walls collapsed and signboards were toppled.

One person was killed under a falling wall. Another was hit by a train, which the victim didn't hear approaching because of the howling wind.

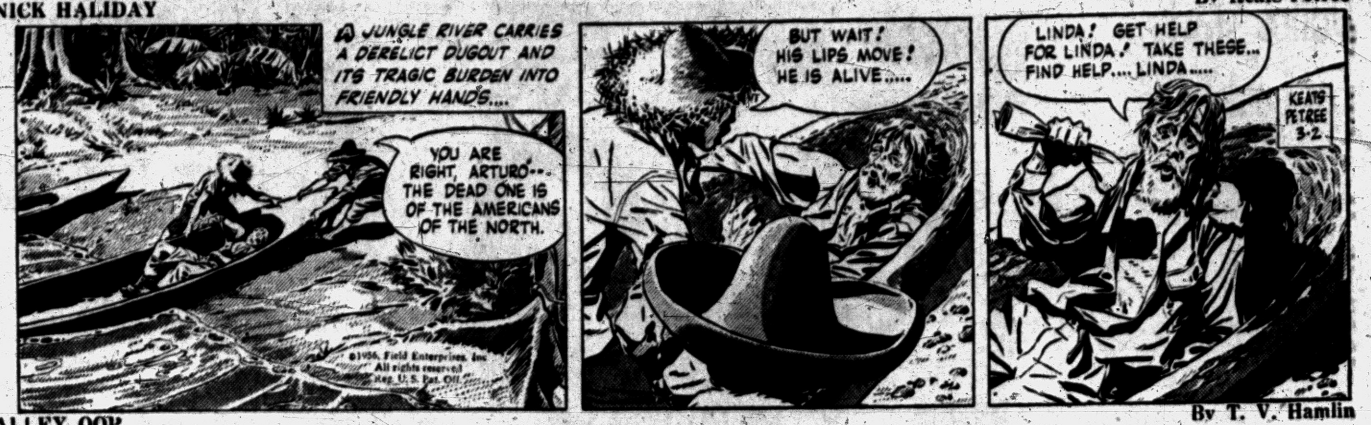

The Pennsylvania turnpike links Philadelphia and the Ohio border, a distance of about 327 miles, and was built at a cost of about $211 million.

Oils Again Lead Higher Market

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second straight day, the oils today led the stock market moderately higher.

Prices were up 1 to around 2 points throughout the list. Losses were fractional.

As yesterday, the oils had excellent help from the railroads, steels, coppers and chemicals. And once again the motors were neglected by buyers.

Trading at times was brisk and hit a pace around 2,500,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,410,000 traded yesterday.

Among gainers were Amerada Petroleum, Phillips Petroleum, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Shell Oil, Santa Fe Railroad, American Telephone, Magma Copper, Olin Mathieson Chemical, American Hawaiian Steamship, Bethlehem Steel and United Aircraft.

Ford Motor over the counter was steady at 61¾ bid and 62 offered. Trading in the stock proceeded quietlyy.

Warner Bros. was down between 1 and 2 points after starting on 5,500 shares off ⅞ at 22½. The company agreed to sell 750 features and a number of short subjects for 21 million dollars to PRM, Inc.

The market yesterday rallied well under the leadership of oil shares. Before the day was done, just about every major division was well ahead except motors.

That continued today, and at noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead 70 cents at $108.90. Yesterday the average was up $1.10 on the day.

Census Report Boosts Beans

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans advanced several cents on the Board of Trade today, leading the grain market higher. Dealings were fairly active in all pits.

Buying in beans followed issuance of the Census Bureau monthly report on bean crushings. They were very large, indicating heavy consumption of soybeans during January.

Among other cereals oats lagged behind the market, just about holding steady. New crop wheat futures inched higher several days of weakening prices. Best gains in wheat were not held.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅜ higher, March $2.19⅞; corn ¼ to ⅝ higher, March $1.28½; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, March 60¼; rye ½ to 1⅛ higher, March $1.31; soybeans unchanged to 2¾ higher, March $2.59¾, and lard 5 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.82.

ZAFFERANA, Sicily (AP) — A terrific explosion has ripped open a huge new lava mouth on the side of flame-spouting Mt. Etna.

Anxiety increased in Zafferana and half a dozen other villages on the volcano side as a 500-foot-wide tide of molten lava surged down ominously toward orchards and outlying homes.

High State Court Won't Enter in Church Dispute

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has refused to interfere with the main lines of settlement of a dispute that divided the First Protestant Reformed Church of Grand Rapids.

The Supreme Court Thursday affirmed a lower court decree restraining a faction led by Rev. Hubert DeWolf from interfering with the church corporation in use of its property.

However, the decree was modified in one respect. The superior court was directed to hold further proceedings on the question of whether damages in the nature of rent should be awarded for the time the DeWolf group was in possession of church properties.

'55 Plates Bring 23 Motorists Tickets, Fines

Twenty-three motorists were ticketed by Pontiac police during the first 24 hours after 1955 license plates expired.

The fine is $2.

Four car-owners reported 1956 license plates stolen yesterday. Police believe these plates are temporarily being used by drivers who missed the midnight Wednesday deadline.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley warned the law affecting expired license plates will be strictly enforced in Pontiac.

"Every violator will be ticketed, regardless of whether his car is moving or parked," Straley said today.

"Drivers will be ordered to get cars off public streets and parked cars will be impounded after 48 hours," he warned.

"It's not fair that offenders be excused. They've had four months to buy new plates," Straley added.

Now Hollywood Marilyn Monroe Film Producer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Warner Brothers Studio welcomed its newest producer last night amidst the most excitement on the lot since the original Rin Tin Tin nipped Jack L. Warner's leg.

The producer is Marilyn Monroe, who appeared at a news conference in the capacity of president of Marilyn Monroe, Inc. She wore a form-fitting black dress.

The conference was called to announce that Miss Monroe's "Sleeping Prince," in which she will costar with Sir Laurence Olivier, will go out under the Warner banner. Miss Monroe will get co-producer credit with Olivier. The famed Englishman will direct.

Studio boss Warner disclosed that Miss Monroe will get a healthy hunk of the profits of the picture, which will be shot in England.

Someone asked Marilyn to compare Hollywood cocktail parties with those in New York.

"You meet a better class of hors d'oeuvres in California," she answered while munching caviar.

Andes Railway Opens Frontier

Will Connect Quito and San Lorenzo, Ecuador as Line Nears Finish

WASHINGTON — Deep in northern Ecuador, a railroad is nearing completion from the Andes to the coast, promising a new frontier of forests and farmlands for settlers.

After four decades of labor, the railroad will connect Quito, the capital, and San Lorenzo, a northern seaport some 200 miles away, the National Geographic Society says. Between the inland capital and the Pacific Ocean lies undeveloped territory of mountains, fertile valleys, heavily wooded hills, savannas and dense jungle.

Large areas may be thus opened for production of bananas, rice, sugar, cotton, tobacco, cocoa, coffee, and fast-growing balsa, used in making life preservers and rafts. Wild rubber trees and the ivory-nut palm, which provides vegetable ivory for button manufacture, rank among Ecuador's forest assets. Dairy farming and grain raising are suited to higher altitudes.

The new railroad will bring Ecuadorean exports nearer to the outside world. The nation, wedged between Colombia and Peru high on South America's western coast, has long relied on a railroad connecting Quito and southerly Guayaquil, the principal seaport. The new carrier will actually become an extension of the Quito-Guayaquil line, providing the capital and northern areas about a 350-mile shorter haul to the Panama Canal than Guayaquil afforded.

San Lorenzo's excellent natural harbor will be further improved as a result of the new railroad. Plans call for dredging sections of the surrounding bay to accommodate large ships. A lighthouse, additional cargo-handling facilities and enlarged piers are projected.

Ecuadoreans and tourists long have marveled at the railroad between Guayaquil and Quito, which negotiates cliffs "impassable even to goats."

Built by Americans and called one of the world's spectacular engineering accomplishments, the railway climbs to heights of some 9,000 feet. Passengers are transported in a day through both tropical and alpine climates. At stations along the sometimes zigzag route, Indians peddle food to passengers.

Divorce OK'd in 1857

LONDON — Until 1857 England had no divorce law. Up to that year civil law and canon law were in agreement on the indissolubility of marriage. A divorce required a special act of parliament, and very few persons tackled such an expensive venture.

Business Primed for Role in '56 Election Campaign

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business rather expects to be one of the many issues in the presidential campaign.

The enthusiasm voiced by many top industrialists and financiers over President Eisenhower's decision to run again sounded mostly one note: it would bolster business confidence.

The business leaders appeared to accept the belief widely held—rightly or wrongly—that this is a "businessman's administration."

Opponents of the administration may be expected to step up their charges — aright or wrong — that Washington's policies of the last three years have tended to favor the interests of business, to make "big business" bigger and to make competition rough for small business.

Business has been increasingly sensitive about its position and about public opinion in the last 20 years or so. Particularly since World War II, business leaders have tried hard to "get the business story across"—to make the rank and file of the citizenry understand that healthy business meant a generally healthy nation, that business wasn't a wholly selfish thing but had the general welfare at heart too.

Business leaders realize that the present business setup was put for a test when several top leaders of business moved into leading posts in Washington three years ago and announced that the climate for business would be favorable.

Industrialists are quick to give to this a good deal of the credit for the good times that blossomed last year—doubters think that many other factors had equal or greater weight in turning the recession into a boom.

Industrialists who believe that the prosperous times show what business can do when given a freer hand fret lest something jolt confidence, turn the economy downward and sour the electorate.

Most of them realize all the other factors making for upward or downward turns of the business cycle. Most know that other issues will be hotly debated during the political campaign and may capture more of the public's interest.

But many expect that as the campaign progresses there will be debates on which is better for the nation, an attitude of "be kind to business" or one of "police business closely lest it grab too big a share."

'Just a Second' —What Is It?

Astronomers Can Tell Exactly What Makes Up Our Time

WASHINGTON — The basic bit of time isn't what it used to be. Astronomers have given the second a new length. "Just a second . . . " you say. What is a second? A blink of an eye, a flick of time. The steady tick . . . tick . . . tick of a watch. Surer than death or taxes, the seconds go by.

Exactly stated, a second now is 1-31,556,925.97474th part of a year—a particular year that went by more than half a century ago.

The old familiar second was defined as 1-86,400th of a day, measured by timing the revolution of the earth. Most of the world's clocks still will tick away these seconds. But scientists who split the second into bits as small as billionths will henceforth work with a new time scale.

Even so, the earth doesn't turn at an exact and changeless rate. Early in each year it spins more slowly than it does toward the end of the year. Its rate wobbles much as 30 seconds in 200 years. And very gradually, the earth is slowing down.

So long as time was measured by sundial, pendulum, or mechanical clocks, the planet's eccentric spinning was of little consequence. But for astronomers studying other bodies in the heavens, and for engineers working with speeds of light and electrons, the fluctuating second has caused more and more trouble.

The new second is based not on the turning earth, but on the time it takes the sun to pass from vernal equinox across the skies and back to vernal equinox as the earth swings once around its home star in a year.

State Official Lauds School Health Trend

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, declared Thursday night that Michigan schools are on the right track when they give priority to physical and mental health needs of children "rather than sparkling athletic teams."

Dr. Heustis spoke at the convention of the Michigan Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The State Health commissioner said there had been praiseworthy strides toward health for young people but that stepped-up work was needed against dental decay, hearing and vision losses, malnutrition and emotional maladjustment.

"We are a long way from arriving at a balanced program which recognizes that health and physical fitness are inseparable allies," Dr. Heustis told the coaches and physical education instructors.

"Persons trained in physical education," he said, "are in the best possible position to assist in expanding health and physical education services which will prepare Michigan young people for mature citizenship."

Car Output Plummets in Chrysler Divisions

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says its plants turned out 74,934 passenger cars last month, a drop of nearly 43 per cent from February of 1955.

The biggest decline was in the Plymouth Division which built 38,954 cars last month compared with 68,068 a year ago. The Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial divisions also showed decreases.

Chrysler production for the first two months of 1956 is down 83,547 units from last year—174,765 this year as against 258,312 in 1955.

Section 3. The Board of Education has caused an estimate to be made of the cost of said project by Johnson and Anderson, Incorporated, which estimate is on file with the Secretary and is in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), and the Board of Education does hereby adopt said estimate as the estimated cost of said project. The Board of Education does hereby adopt said engineers' estimate of 20 years and upwards as the period of usefulness of said project.

Section 4. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended, revenue bonds in the aggregate principal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), for the purpose of paying the cost of the said project. Said bonds shall be known as "Waterford Township High School Athletic Field Revenue Bonds"; shall be dated as of March 1, 1956; shall bear interest at the rate of 1% per annum from July 1, 1956, payable on January 1, 1957, and thereafter semi-annually on the first days of July and January in each year; and shall mature in the amount of $2,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1957 thru 1967 and in the amount of $3,000 on July 1 in the year 1968; provided, however, that the bonds of said issue shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the school district, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of the bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption at least once in a newspaper circulated within the school district. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand for the redemption of the same. The said bonds shall be non-coupon bonds and shall be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 430, both inclusive. Bonds Nos. 1 thru 360, maturing in the years 1957 thru 1965, shall be in the denomination of $50 each. Bonds Nos. 361 thru 430, maturing in the years 1966 thru 1968 shall be in the denomination of $100 each. The principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Treasurer of the school district, No. 2101 West Walton Boulevard, Pontiac, Michigan, or at the Pontiac State Bank in the City of Pontiac, Michigan (or at the branch of said bank in Drayton Plains, Michigan), interest being payable upon presentation of said bonds for endorsement of interest payments thereon, and principal being payable upon presentation and surrender of said bonds as they severally mature.

Section 5. The President and Secretary of the Board of Education are hereby authorized and directed to execute said bonds for and on behalf of the school district and to affix the seal of the school district thereto. Upon the execution of said bonds, they shall be delivered to the Treasurer of the school district, who is hereby authorized and directed to deliver them to the purchaser thereof upon receipt of the purchase price therefor.

Section 6. The bonds herein authorized shall be sold in the manner provided in Section 12 of Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended.

Section 7. Said bonds shall not be a general obligation of the school district and shall not be an indebtedness of the school district within any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation. The principal of and interest on said bonds shall be payable solely from the net revenues derived from the operation of the Waterford Township High School athletic field, including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof. To secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds issued hereunder, there is hereby created in favor of the holders of said bonds and each of such holders, a first lien (by said Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended, made a statutory lien) upon the net revenues from the said athletic field, including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof. The net revenues so pledged shall be and remain subject to said lien until the payment in full of the principal of and interest on said bonds.

Section 8. The holder or holders of any of the bonds herein authorized to be issued, shall have all the rights and remedies given by law and particularly by said Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and the security therefor.

Section 9. The athletic field shall be operated upon the basis of a fiscal year beginning on July 1 of each year and ending on June 30 of the following year.

Section 10. The operation, maintenance and management of the athletic field shall be under the immediate supervision and control of the Board of Education or of such officer or board as shall be designated or created by, and subject to the control of, said Board of Education.

Section 11. Charges for admission to football games of Waterford Township High School at said athletic field shall be as follows:

Single student admission	$ .75
Single adult admission	1.00
Junior High School season tickets	1.00
Senior High School season tickets (If purchased on activity card basis)	.75
Adult season tickets	3.50

Whenever the said athletic field is used for other purposes, the charges or rentals therefor shall be fixed by the Board of Education.

Section 12. The charges hereinbefore established are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation of the athletic field and such expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order; to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all bonds payable therefrom, as and when the same shall become due and payable; and to build up the fund for replacements of said athletic field as provided in this ordinance. Charges shall be fixed and revised from time to time by the Board of Education so as to produce the foregoing amounts, and the school district covenants and agrees to maintain at all times such charges as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 13. The revenues of the said athletic field are hereby pledged for the purpose of the following funds, and as collected shall be set aside and paid into the fund to be known as the "Receiving Fund" of said athletic field and shall be transferred therefrom periodically into separate and special funds, as follows:

1. Operation and Maintenance Fund. Out of the revenues in the Receiving Fund, there shall be first set aside in December of each year, into a fund to be designated "Operation and Maintenance Fund," a sum sufficient to provide for the payment for the next calendar year of all current expenses of administration and operation of the athletic field and such current expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve it in good repair and working order. The Board of Education, during December of each year, shall adopt a budget covering the foregoing expenses for the next calendar year, and such expenses shall not exceed the amount specified in said budget except by a vote of 4/5ths of the members of the Board of Education.

2. Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there shall be next set aside in December of each year, into a fund to be designated "Bond and Interest Redemption Fund," a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal and interest which will mature during the following calendar year upon all outstanding bonds of this issue, and if there be any deficiency in the amount previously set aside, then the amount of such deficiency shall be added to the current requirement. Additional moneys may be placed in said fund as hereinafter provided. Moneys in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund may be used for the purchase of bonds of this issue upon tenders (after advertisement therefor as provided below) or for the redemption of bonds of this issue, after there shall have been set aside a sum sufficient to pay the interest and principal maturing before the expiration of eighteen (18) months from the next interest payment date in case of purchase upon tenders or from the redemption date in case of redemption. No bonds shall be redeemed until the school district shall have first advertised for tenders by publication of a notice of the time and place of receiving same, in the Pontiac Press, at least once not less than seven (7) days prior to such time, and shall have accepted such tenders as shall have been made at less than par and accrued interest.

3. Replacement Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there shall be next set aside at the end of each fiscal year beginning with that ending June 30, 1957, in a fund to be designated "Replacement Fund," a sum not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) per year until such fund shall reach at least five hundred dollars ($500.00), to build up a reserve for any replacements to said athletic field which may become necessary from time to time. Whenever moneys shall be used from said fund to make such replacements, said fund shall be restored to the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) as soon as possible thereafter.

The revenues remaining in said Receiving Fund at the end of any fiscal year after satisfaction of the above requirements, shall be deemed to be surplus and transferred, first, to the Operation and Maintenance Fund to the extent of any then deficit therein; second, to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund to the extent of any then deficit therein; and third, to the Replacement Fund to the extent of any then deficit therein. If thereafter any balance remains in said Receiving Fund, such balance may be transferred to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, or such balance may be transferred to a fund to be designated "Improvement Fund" and used for improvements, enlargements and extensions to said athletic field, or such balance may be used for such other purpose or purposes as the Board of Education may determine to be for the best interests of the school district.

No disbursements shall be made from said Receiving Fund except as above provided.

All moneys in the aforesaid funds shall be deposited with the Pontiac State Bank in the City of Pontiac, Michigan. The moneys in each of said funds shall each be kept in a separate depository account.

Section 14. The school district hereby covenants and agrees with the holder or holders, from time to time, of the bonds herein proposed to be issued, that it will punctually perform all duties with reference to said athletic field and said bonds required by the constitution and laws of the State of Michigan and by this ordinance; that it will construct the project herein provided for in substantial accordance with the maps and plans hereinbefore referred to, and will have the same in operation on or before the 1st day of September, 1956; that it will not sell, lease, mortgage or in any manner dispose of said athletic field until all bonds payable from the revenues thereof shall have been paid in full or unless and until provision has been made for such payment. Said school district further covenants and agrees with the holders of said bonds that it will maintain said athletic field in good condition and operate the same in an efficient manner and at a reasonable cost, so long as any of said bonds are outstanding; that all of its Senior High School home football games will be played at said athletic field; that it will maintain insurance on the athletic field and appurtenances for the benefit of the holders of said bonds in an amount which usually would be carried by private companies engaged in a similar type of business; that it will prepare, keep and file such records, statements and accounts as may be required by Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as now or hereafter amended.

Section 15. While any of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be outstanding, no additional bonds payable from the revenues of the athletic field shall be issued which shall have a prior or equal standing therewith.

Section 16. The bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be substantially in the following form, to-wit:

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC FIELD REVENUE BOND

Know all men by their presents, that Waterford Township School District, Oakland County, Michigan, hereby acknowledges that it is indebted and for value received promises to pay to the bearer hereof the sum of Dollars on the first day of July A.D. 19—, and to pay interest thereon at the rate of one (1) per centum per annum, from July 1, 1956 until paid, said interest being payable on January 1, 1957 and thereafter semi-annually on the first days of July and January in each year, which principal and interest are to be paid solely out of the revenues hereinafter specified. Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Treasurer of said school district, No. 2101 West Walton Boulevard, in Pontiac, Michigan, or at the Pontiac State Bank, in the City of Pontiac, Michigan (or the branch of said bank in Drayton Plains, Michigan), said principal being payable on the maturity thereof upon the presentation and surrender of this bond, and said interest being payable as the same matures upon the presentation of this bond to said Treasurer or said Bank for the endorsement of such interest payment hereon.

This bond is one of a series of bonds of like date and tenor except as to maturity and denomination, numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 430, both inclusive, aggregating the principal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) issued by said school district under and pursuant to and in full conformity with the constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan (especially Act No. 94 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended) and Ordinance No. 1 duly adopted by the Board of Education of said school district on the —— day of ——, 19——, for the purpose of paying the cost of improving the recreational facilities of said school district by the fencing of, and the installation of lighting fixtures on, the Waterford Township High School athletic field.

This bond is a self-liquidating revenue bond, is not a general obligation of said school district, and does not constitute an indebtedness of the said school district within any constitutional or statutory limitation. The principal of and interest on the bonds of this series are payable solely from the revenues of said athletic field (including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof) remaining after deducting the reasonable expenses of the administration, operation and maintenance of said athletic field, and the payment of both the principal of and interest on said bonds is secured by a statutory first lien on such net revenues.

The said school district reserves the right to redeem the bonds of this series prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds called to be redeemed, by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the school district. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand to redeem the same. The said school district hereby covenants and agrees that at all times while any of the bonds of this issue shall be outstanding, it will maintain such charges for the facilities furnished by said athletic field as shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation of said athletic field, and such expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order; to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of said bonds as and when the same become due and payable, and to build up a reserve as provided in said ordinance for any replacements to said athletic field which may become necessary from time to time. Charges shall be fixed and revised from time to time by the Board of Education so as to produce the foregoing amounts.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared, that all acts, conditions and things required to exist, happen and be performed, precedent to and in the issuance of the bonds of this series, existed, have happened and have been performed in due time, form and manner as required by law.

In witness whereof, Waterford Township School District, Oakland County, Michigan, by its Board of Education, has caused this bond to be signed in its name by its President and Secretary, and its corporate seal to be affixed hereto, all as of the 1st day of March, A.D. 1956.

Sponsor Stops Picking Up Tab

Comedian Thinks That Too Much Is Expected of Newcomer

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The slender, handsome young television comedian puffed nervously on a cigarette and gulped coffee in his dressing room just before show time.

"It's a screwy business—just a screwy business," he sighed in the vexed, impatient manner of a man who has discovered that there is not, and never will be, enough time.

"I don't understand it, and I don't think anyone else does either."

He combed his hair in agitation and then waved a hand vaguely at space.

"They're waiting for you out there. Sooner or later the novelty wears off, and then . . . saturation is the misery of the business."

And for Johnny Carson, television has, indeed, been a "screwy business," a business that appears to be letting him down just when he could feel his fingers closing on the topmost rung of the ladder of success.

WIDE FOLLOWING

In yess than a year on a network show, he won critical acclaim for his "low pressure," whimsical brand of comedy — calculated to make his audience happy rather than hysterical—and gathered to himself a wide and loyal following among viewers.

His only failing seems to be that he has not achieved the status of a "comedy sensation," or, to put it more simply, that his ratings—those specters to all TV performers—have not been high enough to justify the $25,000-a-week cost of keeping him in the nation's living rooms.

And so his sponsor will stop picking up that $25,000 weekly bill, which, according to TV tradition, should leave young Mr. Carson as high and dry as a beached whale after his current contract expires April 1.

Carson still has a five-year contract with CBS and although it, like most such pacts, is well equipped with options, the shortage of really able comics should insure him against unemployment.

The question is whether he will have what every performer passionately desires, his own show, next season. Carson sized up his problem this way:

NO SLAM-BANG

"I think you have to be low pressure to exist in this business. I honestly don't believe you can exist with that slam-bang type of comedy. You don't belt comedy at a guy sitting at home with a can of beer in his hand."

Johnny pointed out that he expected his format to gather its adherents slowly and that CBS put his show opposite a tough competitor—the Lux Video Theater—in the Eastern TV market. But he admitted:

"Sponsors think that in a comedy show you've got to have screams. They want to hear that studio audience howling. And this constant attention to ratings!"

Carson's prime difficulty is a fundamental one in television. Giving an established star a show and expecting him to be a crashing success immediately is one thing. But expecting a newcomer to hit the top overnight is quite another.

"It's amazing," Carson puzzled. "Most of the big TV stars were stars before they went into TV. They were accepted. What's tough is getting accepted. In 13 weeks you've got to be so good that 20 million people will tune you in. That's a tough order!"

* * *

He shook his head. "All you can do is the best show you can," he said, "and if that doesn't go, to hell with it."

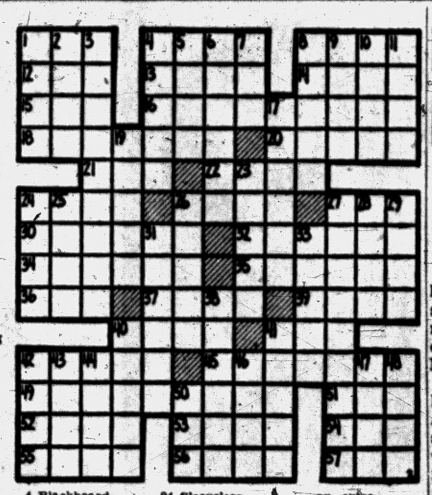

Formerly the leading nutritional problem in the United States was vitamin deficiency. Now it is obesity.

Warm Weather Starts Sap Run in Maple Trees

VERMONTVILLE (AP)—Warming weather has started sap running in maple trees in the Vermontville area.

Local farmers said the run was about 10 days late but had hopes that a combination of warm days and cool nights would make for a good maple syrup season.

Members of the Future Farmers of America at Vermontville Community School started hanging buckets on trees yesterday and planned to have 500 out by the weekend.

Syrup will be made at the Municipal Sugar Shanty and some will be served for the annual Vermontville Maple Festival April 14.

Future Farmers at nearby Nashville and Boy Scouts also have started hanging buckets. Their combined operation was expected to tap around 900 sugar trees.

Most farmers in the area planned to have buckets out by the weekend.

Says It's Up to Ike on Nixon Question

BOSTON (AP)—Gov. Christian A. Herter (R) says if "President Eisenhower wants Nixon again" as a running mate "I think he certainly will be nominated."

Herter also told a news conference last night he is "certainly not" going to enter any contest for nomination for Vice President.

"There isn't going to be any contest," he added. "I haven't the vaguest notion how you could have any contest. The convention selects the nominee for Vice President."

Herter was mentioned as a possible presidential candidate if Eisenhower decided against running. He now is being mentioned in some quarters as a likely choice for the GOP vice presidential nomination.

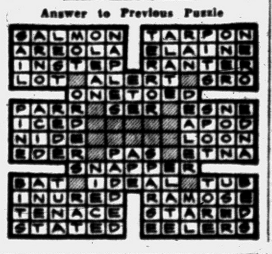

Viewer 'Lost' in Video Fire, Ignores His Own

GUELPH, Ont. (AP)—Frank Traplin was watching a television movie of a fire that destroyed the three-story Windsor Hotel in Kitchener when his wife shouted: "Fire. Fire."

Replied Traplin: "I'm watching the fire on TV. Don't bother me now."

Minutes later firemen, called by a neighbor, extinguished a blaze in the Traplin kitchen. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Give Contracts on New School

After taking bids for a second time, Pontiac Board of Education yesterday awarded contracts totaling $407,757 for construction of the Walton Boulevard Elementary School.

The figure is $60,000 less than the first bid total which was rejected Jan. 24 as being too high, according to Building Coordinator Dr. Otto C. Hufziger.

Gallagher-Schurrer, of Pontiac, won the architectural trades contract to put up the building with a low bid of $275,475.

H. H. Stanton Plumbing and Heating Co. of Pontiac, was awarded the mechanical trades contract with a low $99,927 bid and Schultz Electric, of Pontiac, the electrical trades contract with a low bid of $32,355.

To contain eight classrooms, two kindergartens and a multi-purpose room, the structure will be located on a ten-acre site on Dexter road north of Walton Boulevard and east of Opdyke road. Grading has already been done under a separate contract. Architect is Ray Ward.

The multi-purpose room will contain a stage, gym floor, cafeteria, locker room and toilet facilities. Planned to open next September, the school is expected to relieve crowding at Willis Elementary School.

Promote 67-Year Commuter to 'Train Engineer'

BABYLON, N. Y. (INS) — For 67 years Frank Sutton has commuted daily on the 68-minute long Island railroad run to Long Island City from Babylon.

He made the run again today, but the number 1 commuter was driving the train — by giving orders to the regular engineer.

Dressed in an engineer's cap and denim jacket Sutton, who began making the run in 1899, perched proudly in the cab of the 2,000-horsepower diesel locomotive.

At the end of the run Sutton had breakfast with the railroad's president, Thomas M. Goodfellow and some friends. He was presented with a lifetime "Honorary Engineer" certificate.

The 82-year old Sutton said: "It's about time I got a promotion."

Kefauver Tours New Hampshire

Citizens of Manchester Greeted by Tennessean as Primary Nears

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) shook a thousand hands last night as he carried his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination into New Hampshire's largest city.

In six hours, the senator also held a news conference, visited an Air Force filter center, spoke to students at St. Anselm's College, walked up and down the city's main street "to meet the voters," and popped up in a furniture store, luncheonette, hardware establishment, department store, City Hall and a social club.

His goal: victory in New Hampshire's March 13 presidential primary, the first test of voter sentiment in this presidential campaign year.

His method: a smile, a handshake and a personal plea for support—the strategy that paid off with an upset victory over President Harry S. Truman in the 1952 New Hampshire primary.

Kefauver made one point crystal clear at his news conference—although he is unopposed in the preference poll phase of this year's primary, his slate of delegate candidates face a stiff fight from a politically powerful ticket favorable to Adlai Stevenson.

At St. Anselm's College, Kefauver told the students, "There has been a gradual concentration of economic power in the hands of fewer and fewer people, and most of the nation's business is now controlled by about 170 corporations."

Judge Pays 17 Fines During Amnesty Period

NEW YORK (AP) — A Municipal Court justice has taken advantage of an amnesty period granted traffic violators and will pay up for 17 tickets he collected since April 1953.

The Traffic Summons Control Bureau disclosed that before the deadline last Wednesday Justice Carson Dewitt Baker filed the forms agreeing to pay.

Baker commented that he took advantage of the amnesty "like any other citizen."

Connecticut Yankees Meet——in Collision

PROSPECT, Conn. (AP)—It seemed only natural that William E. Sullivan and Irving King should meet.

Sullivan lives on Sylvan Avenue in Waterbury but works in New Haven.

Finally they did meet.

Their cars collided on their way home from work.

'Please Call Again'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A burglar who broke into a store fled after tipping over a shelf loaded with canned goods. In his hurry he left a coat with some calling cards in the pocket. Police went to the address given on the cards. There they arrested Melvin Brown, 17, who admitted the burglary.

700,000 Injured Yearly in Do-It-Yourself Jobs

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Some 700,000 Americans are injured each year in do-it-yourself job accidents which, in many cases, end up as being more expensive than if professionals had done the work, a safety expert said.

"The accident rate is further boosted in the home accident field by a growing woman's auxiliary corps of home fixers," added Arthur A. Burroughs, a safety engineering expert for the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.

Dextrose, a form of sugar, is found in the blood.

Cancer Workers Preparing for Annual Crusade Month

American Cancer Society is preparing for its annual educational campaign, held each year in April, and designated as Cancer Crusade Month.

Judge H. Russel Holland has accepted the post of chairman of the crusade for the North Oakland County unit of the Southeastern Division of the society.

In Pontiac the society is supported by the United Fund. In areas in which the United Fund is not active, fund raising is combined with the educational campaign.

Some 50 people from various county areas met Wednesday in the society office at 66 W. Lawrence St., to plan the campaign. Mrs. Edward W. Williams, Rochester, presided and addressed the group.

She stressed the value of using leisure time for things we want to do most and things will give us the most genuine satisfaction at the end of the day.

Dr. John J. Marra, president of the local unit, spoke on the cancer research program and the hope of improved treatment methods in the future.

Edward W. Tuescher, executive director of the Southeastern Michigan Division, discussing need for funds to continue cancer research, pointed out that the nation spends 12 times as much on chewing gum as on cancer control.

Judge Holland, in speaking to the group, said he "sees cancer as murder."

He deplored the hush-hush approach to the killing diseases and said that an approach to gain workers must first be made on an individual basis; second, the humanitarian angle.

JUDGE H. R. HOLLAND

Mrs. L. Bushnell of the New York office, and Braxton E. Tewart, Detroit office, then discussed with the workers more specific plans for the April campaign. Small group meetings were arranged for the county areas.

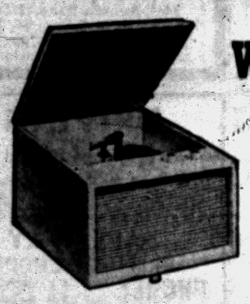

George Washington became President at age 57.

FACTS About The Revenue Parking Bond Issue!

Who Is Fighting It!

The PRIVATE PARKING MONOPOLY is fighting it! These people do not live in Pontiac! They are not your neighbors in Pontiac. They, their hired out-of-town propagandist and lawyers . . . and their associates from Detroit, Ohio, Florida and Washington are the ones flooding you with mailers, handbills, and poster . . . LOADED with misleading statements, distorted facts, and plain untruths! It's the PRIVATE PARKING MONOPOLY boys trying to divert your attention away from their "gravy money!"

Why They Are Fighting It!

Certainly not in your interests! Certainly not in the city's interests! NO! They resort to the foul fighting only to protect their own big money making lots. They make a fair profit on the all-day parker such as the clerk, store owner, and the professional man . . . BUT THEY REALLY TAKE THEIR BIG MONEY FROM YOU THE SHOPPER! Because they charge 35c to 45c for one hour or less . . . and re-rent this same space over and over again . . . many times in the SAME HOUR YOU'VE ALREADY PAID FOR! YOU PAY THE HIGH RATE! YOU ARE THEIR EASY MONEY! These men own or control almost EVERY private parking lot in town! How they got them is another story! Those figures published in the Pontiac Press last Tuesday were really enlightening! While the City takes about $97,000 a year in 5c parking fees, WHAT MUST THE GREEDY PRIVATE PARKING MONOPOLY BE GETTING AT 25c to 45c a CAR?

How They Are Fighting It!

By trying to mislead you! By printing and distributing statements that are untrue . . . and by blasting you with sensational headlines, stories based on half-statements and inference. By use of every dirty, cunning form of political deception. By attacks on city officials and civic-minded citizens, by taking the data and figures furnished to them by your city officals and distorting them to their own use. By denying the rulings of State Commissions and the State Supreme Court. By SCARING HOME OWNERS with deliberate threats of higher taxes and seizure of property. These are the underhanded methods used by the Big Money Parking Boys to lead you astray, to keep your attention away from their real interest . . . their own pocketbooks!
