Fund Pushes Close to Goal

Workers Lack $10,500; Hoping to Finish Friday

Uncounted Pledges and Kits May Shove Total Over the Top

Totals on tally sheets showed $476,759 already in—about 98 per cent of the goal.

Kits of cash and pledges, still uncounted after a busy weekend, waited to be opened in campaign headquarters at Hotel Pontiac.

And headquarters personnel said that enough more money will probably come in this week to take the total "over the top" before Friday.

Geographical division, whose door-to-door canvassers raised $15,176 to top their $14,000 quota.

Commercial division, with $109,854, including Waterford returns—about 85 per cent of the division's $129,000 goal,

Detroit United Foundation's canvassing in the Birmingham-Bloomfield - Franklin area, which has raised $18,000 for Pontiac Area United Fund to date.

The local United Fund expects another few thousand more from that area when all returns are in.

High Mercury of 67 Tops 11-Year Record

The mercury today cracked an 11-year record high temperature for this date after coming within two degrees of an all-time high for Nov. 15 yesterday.

And more 60-degree weather is forecast for the Pontiac area, with a low of 45 degrees tonight and a high ranging from 63 to 67 degrees Tuesday.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac rose to 67 degrees at 2 p.m. today, one degree above the record high of 66 established in 1942. Yesterday's 69 was only two degrees below the 71-degree high recorded in 1928.

A low of 45 degrees yesterday and 42 at 8:30 a. m. today were listed here.

Gets Buck Early Sunday

FIRST ENTRY—John Bridges, 660 Brooks Ave., is shown with a 123-pound, six-point buck, the first entry in the "best rack" division of the Pontiac Press' 1953 deer contest. Bridges downed the buck Sunday morning near Lincoln. He was the first of several Pontiac area hunters reporting successful trips Sunday.

1st Entry Filed in Press' 1953 Deer Contest

First entry in the Pontiac Press' 1953 deer contest was filed this morning.

Registering the entry was John Bridges, 660 Brooks avenue, with a 123-pound 6-pointer which he downed Sunday near Lincoln. The small but well-balanced rack qualified the buck for entry in the "Best Rack" division of the 3-way contest.

Other area hunters reporting success Sunday include Elmer Horton, 156 Edison, spike horn shot in the Gladwin area; Mrs. Jay Hunter, Highland, 8-pointer bagged near Beaumont Road; and Jack Whiteside, Waterford, 8-pointer killed west of Rose City.

9 Arrested in Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Police at Graz said today they had arrested nine youths believed to be leaders of an illegal underground organization promoting revival of Nazism in the British zone of Austria.

FBI Arrests 14 in Ku Klux Klan Kidnap-Beating

Claims Men Abducted, Flogged South Carolina Brother and Sister in '51

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agents today rounded up 14 alleged former members of the Ku Klux Klan in North and South Carolina on charges that they kidnaped and flogged a brother and sister exactly two years ago today.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who announced the arrests, said they were "a continuation of intensive FBI investigation of floggings in the two states which already has resulted in 29 convictions on similar charges in the past year and a half."

Those taken into custody at their homes early this morning were formally charged with kidnaping, interstate transportation of the two victims and their flogging "in a planned raid."

Hoover said the victims were Mrs. Christine Rogers and her brother, Ernest Barfield Rogers, who live about one mile apart on Route No. 1, Lake View, S.C.

The two told the FBI they were abducted on the night of Nov. 16, 1951, by armed Klansmen wearing white robes and hoods who broke open the doors of their homes.

They said they were blindfolded, driven across the state line into Robeson County, North Carolina, and beaten, both suffering serious bodily injuries.

The victims related that Mrs. Rogers was flogged first, being made to lean over the trunk of an automobile while Klansmen held her outstretched hands and others administered the beating.

The brother and sister reported that before and after each was whipped, one of the Klansmen offered prayers. The two were subsequently taken back to the vicinity of their homes and released.

Hoover said the FBI investigation indicated that the floggings were first discussed at a meeting of the Mullin, S.C., klavern of the Klan in October, 1951, and that the same matter was discussed later in a session of the Dillon, S.C., klavern.

Notes to Russia Reject Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Powers told Russia today that the Soviet price for entering into negotiations on German unification and Austria independence is "totally unacceptable."

Notes were delivered by American, British and Foreign envoys in Moscow to the Soviet Foreign Office. They replied to Russian demands put forward in a note on Nov. 3.

In their reply, the Western Powers said the Russian demands in effect placed non-European problems ahead of even a study of urgent European issues and made "a defenseless Western Europe" part of the price for Soviet participation in a conference.

The Western Powers said "the Soviet government must be well aware" that such demands are totally unacceptable.

Officials said that the American note and virtually identical British and French notes were sent to the foreign office in Moscow.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told the CIO today he will ask Congress next January to amend the Taft-Hartley Act so as to make it "absolutely fair to the laboring men and women of this nation, to management, and to the public at large."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Warren L. Stephenson, former Republican leader here, was indicted on perjury charges today in connection with his testimony about an alleged attempt at influence peddling.

Crude 'Cannon' Explodes, Boy May Lose Right Hand

A 16-year-old Lake Orion boy who "has been scolded several times for making lead-pipe 'cannons'," may lose his right hand because one of the crude cannons backfired yesterday.

His mother, Mrs. Roger T. Riley of 329 Central Ave., said the doctor told her yesterday that her son "might lose a hand over this."

Walter and his twin brothers, Ronald and Donald, 14, had lighted the fuse on the home-made cannon and were waiting for it to fire when it exploded in Walter's hands, said Mrs. Riley.

She said that she was visiting her husband at his northern Michigan deer camp when the accident occurred, and didn't learn about it until she returned home.

"They have made other cannons before and fired them," she said. "I told them that I was afraid of the gunpowder and the bullets and told them to quit, but it didn't do any good."

"But Walter told me yesterday that he had learned his lesson. He said, 'Mom, I learned my lesson as soon as that thing went off, I'll never do it again'."

Mrs. Riley said she is keeping her husband informed of Walter's condition. Mr. Riley, a tool grinder at a Pontiac factory, is hunting near Marion.

"Walter is very mechanically-minded," said Mrs. Riley, "and is constantly out in the workshop behind the house.

"My kids are always building things. We bought Walter a rifle so he could go deer hunting and thought that would keep him from fooling around with those cannons. But it didn't."

Mrs. Riley described the cannon as being made from a foot-long lead pipe, packed with gunpowder and stuffed with B-Bs.

The twins were unhurt by the explosion.

Traffic Takes Lives of Two

Berkley, Walled Lake Men Die in Accidents Over Weekend

Traffic accidents in Walled Lake and Brandon Township claimed the lives of two Oakland County men and injured a Detroiter over the weekend.

Andy Tankka, 29, of 3268 Kenmore St., Berkley, died Sunday morning after his auto left Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake, sheared a telephone pole and smashed into a tree.

Ray Wood, 27, of 3100 Seymour Lake Rd., Brandon Township, died in Hurley Hospital, Flint, of injuries suffered Saturday night when his auto, which sideswiped another car, wedged between two trees after it left M-15 just south of Ortonville, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post.

Removal of Tankka's body from the car was delayed two to three hours because of live wires near the auto, according to Sheriff's Deputy Harry Jones.

Sheriff's deputies were called to

3 'Desperados' Found in Hideout After Long Night

DETROIT (AP) — After an all-night search, police and volunteers early today found three little conscience-stricken brothers, huddled together and shivvering in an abandoned and partly burned house.

The boys, Michael, 5, Robert, 6, and Roy, 7, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fleming, ran away yesterday from their suburban Royal Oak Township home.

Township Patrolman Albert R. West found the "desperate" crew in the abandoned house.

"I don't know whether they were shivering more from cold or fright," West said.

Twenty Seamen Feared Killed

Italian Freighter Sinks in Channel Following Collision

DUNGENESS, England (AP) — Twenty seamen were feared killed today in a mysterious predawn ship collision that sank the 2,745-ton Italian freighter Vittoria Claudia in the English Channel.

The 7,264-ton French cargo steamer Perou, which crashed with the Vittoria Claudia, steamed away later with little damage and no reported casualties.

The Italian ship, whose home port was Genoa, reportedly carried a crew of 25, but only five survivors had been picked up by rescue vessels some five hours after the disaster 2½ miles off this southeast England port.

U. S. Air Force helicopters and planes, a British helicopter and a swarm of rescue boats reported spotting numerous bodies floating in the wreckage-strewn channel waters.

"It's a mystery at present how the collision occurred, for the weather was clear as far as we could see," reported David Oiller, a veteran sea rescue worker.

"The sea was dead calm with no wind," he continued, "but picking up survivors was made more difficult because the water was covered with a large amount of wreckage and a lot of oil."

Examination Set in Traffic Death

Harrelson Will Face Lower Court After Two Postponements

After two previous postponements, Leaun Harrelson Jr., 18, of 26 Delaware Dr., is scheduled to stand examination at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Pontiac Municipal Court on a negligent homicide charge.

Harrelson's examination was postponed on Oct. 21 and Nov. 4, following his arraignment Oct. 13.

Leo F. McDonald, court clerk, said he approved one postponement upon request of Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan approved the second upon request of the defendant's attorney, William F. Dohany of Pontiac.

McDonald said the examination would determine if Harrelson is bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment.

Harrelson, the son of Pontiac's state representative, is charged in the death of Mrs. Veda N. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave., who was struck by his car on W. Huron St. at Dwight Ave. Oct. 9.

E. A. Gump Resigns From Police Board

The Police Trial Board was short one member today with the resignation of Eugene A. Gump who said he had established residence in Lansing, according to Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Gump had served on the board since 1949. City Manager Walter K. Willman said he is attempting to select a person for appointment to the vacant position.

Cite Ex-U. S. Lawyer on 'Interest' Law

WASHINGTON (UP) — Former Assistant Attorney General Herbert A. Bergson was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges that he violated the so-called "conflict of interest" laws.

The jury charged that Bergson, within two years after leaving the government in September, 1950, represented clients in private law practice on matters with which he was officially connected while with the Justice Department.

The law states that no federal employe, within two years after leaving government service, may represent clients having "claims" against the government if the former employe handled those cases while working for the government.

It was the first time that a criminal indictment ever had been returned under the conflict of interest laws.

Claims Hoover Present at Talk on 'Spy's' Fate

Former President Will Broadcast His Reply to Brownell Tonight

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman, ready to tell a nationwide audience his side of the Harry Dexter White controversy, says the FBI director sat in on a conference at which White's fate was discussed.

The former President replies tonight over radio and television hookups (11 p. m. EST) to Atty. Gen. Brownell's charges that in 1946 he kept White in government service despite FBI reports that White was a spy.

The name of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover came up when Truman was questioned last night about reports his speech would explain White was retained in government work under a plan to trap an alleged Communist spy ring.

The New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune, in dispatches from Kansas City, Mo., said today that Truman's radio-TV talk is expected to be along these lines.

The Times quoted "close associates" of Truman while the Herald Tribune referred to an "authoritative source," saying Truman is not expected to say Hoover approved such a plan but that Hoover discussed it with other administration officials and made no objections.

The Times added that "it was said that Mr. Truman would contend ... that his (Hoover's) approval, therefore, had been assumed."

Associates of the former President have been quoted as saying the case of White, who died in 1948, was discussed at a conference of Hoover, the late Fred Vinson, chief justice, and Tom C. Clark, then attorney general and now a Supreme Court justice.

Vinson at the time of the reported meeting was secretary of the treasury, later becoming chief justice.

It was at this conference a plan to keep White in government work was reportedly agreed upon.

Truman, in stating that Hoover did attend a conference on White, told a reporter:

"That's all I'm going to tell you now."

His speech, he said, "will answer all questions that can be answered at this time."

Truman did not say who attended the conference in addition to Hoover nor did he specify when the conference was held.

The Kansas City Star in a Washington dispatch reported that Hoover denied he ever had

McDonald May Snub Parley

CIO Convention Begins, Hits Ike's Administration

CLEVELAND (AP) — The CIO headed into an annual convention today publicly criticizing the Eisenhower Administration but with an important CIO leader planning to snub the convention to attend meetings of an Eisenhower-appointed tariff committee.

David P. McDonald, whose plans haven't always jibed with those of CIO President Walter Reuther, was reported ready to stay away from most of the important convention sessions. McDonald heads the powerful CIO Steelworkers Union.

Reuther publicly proclaimed in an advance report to the convention that all was harmonious in the CIO family. In fact, Reuther's report said CIO leaders "are working together in quiet, constructive cooperation."

His report contained frequent criticisms of the Eisenhower Administration and declared it appeared to "channel its thinking and its actions into a rigid pattern of service to big business."

McDonald, who succeeded the late Philip Murray as head of the Steelworkers Union, kept himself scarce in the CIO's pre-convention corridors. Both his union and Reuther's auto workers group, with more than a million members each, have constantly vied for the CIO leadership.

A year ago, at the CIO convention at Atlantic City, McDonald

Troy Triangle Annexation Up for Recommendation at Commission Meeting

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — In order to clear up misunderstanding and "conflicting statements" regarding the intent of Troy Township and Birmingham over development of the triangular property located east of Adams and west of the Grand Trunk Railroad right-of-way, City Manager Donald C. Egbert will recommend passage of a resolution at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The resolution will help clarify the commission's position. Annexation of the Troy Township parcel will be recommended with the provision that both communities and the developer, who is planning terrace construction and the use of septic tanks, will cooperate in solving sewage, drainage and other problems.

A hearing will be held over re-zoning six lots on Southfield at Fourteen Mile from "single residence" to "business A." The plan board will recommend denial of the request.

Status of the city's sewage disposal problems will be discussed at length when the manager recommends action be taken as quickly as possible to decide whether joint action is possible on solving Rouge River pollution.

Birmingham has been studying the problem with Bloomfield Hills and Southfield and Bloomfield Townships, following an order from the Water Resources Commission to abate pollution.

Another recommendation will call for appropriating $500 to provide for cleaning up and seeding areas of the Walker gravel pit, the sanitary land-fill property, as the filled areas are returned to the city.

Re-platting lots in the Forest Hills Subdivision will be under discussion and tabulation of bids received for construction of a utility building at Springdale Park will be given.

New Store Set to Open Tuesday

Alvin's Telegraph-Huron Shop to Feature Line of Women's Sportswear

A new idea in women's apparel will be unfolded tomorrow when Alvin's store opens its doors at Telegraph and Huron sts.

Located on the northeast corner of the intersection the store will be devoted exclusively to women's sportswear. Store hours will be from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays and on Sundays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Featured in the new store will be a complete selection of medium to better skirts, sweaters, blouses, slacks, tailored costume jewelry and sport watches, knit and casual dresses and classic coats including camel's hair, guanaco and Stroocks.

Other related sportswear items also will be carried, according to Alvin Steinman and Marvin Talan, owners of the store.

The interior design of the 28 x 90-foot building features modern new walnut fixtures and contrasting pastels throughout.

Managing the new store will be Mrs. Bea Wheatley who will be assisted by Mrs. Ruth Traschen.

Lorenzo Farrar Gives Ride to 2 Women, Pal; Is Slugged, Robbed

Lorenzo Farrar of 241 W. Wilson Ave., an employe of a Pontiac shoe repair shop, was treated for severe cuts and bruises at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He told Pontiac Police the trio robbed him of $20 and escaped in his car. Two of the hitchhikers were women.

Farrar said he picked up the trio in a Detroit restaurant and agreed to take them as far as Pontiac. They allegedly were bound for Flint.

When he pulled up at his home here, Farrar said, the women refused to get out.

"One of them handed the man something and they started to beat me up," he said.

CIO Assembles, Hits Republicans

supported Allan Haywood, who since has died, in an unsuccessful effort to stop Reuther from becoming CIO president as Murray's successor.

McDonald, named as a member of the Eisenhower committee to study tariff problems, was reported committed to attending meetings of that group in Washington Wednesday and Thursday. On Tuesday, McDonald will absent himself from CIO convention sessions to launch a goodwill tour of steel plants in this area with Board Chairman Ben Fairless of U.S. Steel Corp.

Those saying McDonald will be away from the CIO convention sessions most of the week conceded, however, that he will be around Friday when Reuther is expected to be re-elected to a new term to the CIO presidency.

Others, however, said McDonald may decide on a complete boycott of the convention after its early sessions.

Reds Have Own Version of War

Chinese Give Report Quite Different From Our Record

HONG KONG (UP) — Who's history book do you read?

1. June 25, 1950. The United States instructed Syngman Rhee to invade North Korea. June 7 of the same year, United States aggressors directly participated in the war.

2. The Peoples Republic of Korea counter-attacked. Within one month's time 90 per cent of lands in South Korea were liberated.

3. In September, 1950, United States aggressors employed forces 20 times that of Korea's landed at Inchon. The fire of war neared the Yalu River.

4. Oct. 25, 1950, people of China inaugurated resist-America, aid-Korea campaign. They crossed the Yalu River and fought side by side with Korean Peoples Army.

5. Between Oct. 25, 1950, and May, 1951, Sino-Korean units staged five major offensives forcing the enemy to retreat to areas south of the 38th parallel.

6. Armistice talks began in Kaesong July 10, 1951.

7. Between May 22, 1951, and end of October of the same year United States side's "Summer Offensive" and "Autumn Offensive" met their shameful defeats.

8. Our forces invented iron and steel-like fortifications. The enemy tions. The enemy dared not to addared not to advance an inch.

9. Between October, 1951, and October, 1952, the enemy hid within their trenches, afraid to stage another large-scale assault. The war entered a stage of stalemate.

10. January, 1952, the United States staged germ warfare against our country and Korea.

11. In October, 1952, the enemy staged a large-scale offensive at Shangkanling Rang. Resulted in dreadful defeat. Twelve months of Korean war since Chinese people participated, the initiative in Korean battlefield fell into our side's hands. The war gradually moved southward.

12. Under the great efforts of our side's position of supporting right-people of the entire world, Korean armistice talks arrived at an overall agreement and was formally signed July 27, 1953.

Bay City Refinery Gets Tax Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bay Refining Co. of Bay City, is among a score of firms which received more than $120,000,000 in tax benefits Sunday from the Office of Defense Mobilization.

The Bay City firm was authorized to write off within five years for tax purposes 65 per cent of $2,156,595 it proposes to spend for petroleum refining facilities.

Government grants went to refining, electric utilities, and rail, sea and air transportation companies. They are designed to assist in expenditures for expansions and new equipment to meet defense requirements.

Why are So Many Sufferers from Pains of ARTHRITIS, RHEUMATISM Turning to PRUVO for Sure Relief?

At first a few—then hundreds—then by the thousands the victims of arthritic and rheumatic pain have turned to PRUVO Tablets for special soothing relief. "At last", they say, "we have found the answer.

If you suffer nagging or even almost torturing, unbearable pain in arms, neck, back, legs — you too may right today change the entire course of your life by turning to PRUVO for quick soothing relief. Pruvo therapy, based on the latest findings of a famous medical research authority, is so sound and logical, so safe and sure that it just naturally will appeal to your good judgment.

The function of PRUVO is to break the vicious cycle of pain — the pain which prolongs the spasm of the muscles around the joints and causes the sufferer to refrain from movement. This inactivity can result in atrophy or wasting away and finally deformity of the joints.

PRUVO offers the quickest, longest lasting, non-narcotic relief known to medical science. It contains prescription type ingredients, completely harmless to all organs of the human body, is recommended frequently by doctors. Among these important medications is salicylamide with 5 times the analgesic potency of aspirin — and even those who have found the aspirin type preparation nauseating can take PRUVO without the slightest discomfort or annoyance.

Directions with each bottle tell you how to get the most effective results — and as those aches and pains fade away, it is important that you become gently active — very light massage — easy movement of the affected areas. This is the way to make nature help you by stimulating blood circulation. These simple rules are intended to enhance the pain-relieving effects of PRUVO Tablets.

Is it any wonder that so many are turning to the common sense PRUVO program. Why not join the thousands who are living a better life with PRUVO — only $1.50 for the trial size bottle of 75 tablets — and if you do not start getting pain relief before using half the tablets just return the balance and your money will be refunded in full by PRUVO. Your druggist has PRUVO — and you don't even need a prescription to get this wonderful preparation. Start today!

Don't give up! No matter what you have tried or what you may be using right now — give the PRUVO pain relief program a fair trial. Learn for yourself what thousands of others know about PRUVO for control of arthritic, rheumatic and other attacks of muscular aches and pains when they occur. 99 out of every 100 users have found satisfaction in PRUVO — you, too, can obtain its special soothing relief. Start today!

Remember, PRUVO is the only medication with these prescription type ingredients which costs you not $2.00, not $3.00, not $5.00 — but just $1.50 for the trial size bottle. Leading drug stores also sell PRUVO in the Economy Home Size at $4.00 and the Hospital-Clinic Size at $7.50.

Three Hurt as Car Skids on Gravel

Three Detroiters were injured Saturday when their auto went through a stop sign at Fourteen Mile and Haggerty Rds. in Commerce Township and skidded into a cornfield, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Frank L. Norr, 21, of 17180 Riopelle, Detroit, told deputies he tried to stop but skidded on gravel and lost control of his auto. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for minor cuts.

Freda, 15, and Angelina, 18, Frank's sisters, were admitted to the hospital with concussions and cuts. They are reported in good condition today.

Reception Held at Imlay City for New Pastor

IMLAY CITY — An installation service and reception were held Thursday night in First Baptist Church here for the new pastor, the Rev. David E. Evans, and his family.

The Rev. Frank Turner of Shelton Heights Baptist Church, moderator of the Flint River Baptist District, gave the charge to the minister.

The Rev. Ralph Karney of Lansing, representing the American Baptist Convention, gave the charge to the church and the installation prayer. The sermon was by the Rev. F. L. White of Imlay City, retired minister.

African Peaks Hold Rich Ores

'Mountains of the Moon' Have Deposits of Gold, Radioactive Materials

WASHINGTON—Recent surveys of British and Belgian scientists have confirmed deposits of gold, radioactive ores and other valuable minerals in Africa's mysterious "Mountains of the Moon," one of the world'd least known regions.

A wilderness of weird forests shrouded in mist, the Ruwenzoris, as the mountains are officially known, are a pocket-size range 70 miles long and 30 miles wide, forming the boundary between the British protectorate of Uganda and the Belgian Congo.

Although the range lies only half a degree north of the equator in the midst of steaming tripical jungles, its peaks are perpetually snowclad, says the National Geographic Society.

Midway up the Ruwenzoris' misty slopes heather plants—relatives of the low Scottish shrub—grow to heights of 60 and 70 feet. Huge cushions of vividly colored moss encircle the trunks, and limbs are festooned with streaming pendants of pale green lichens. A bit higher, varieties of lobelia, groundsel and other common garden weeds grow to tree size.

There is no human life above 7,216 feet, site of the highest native village. Water buffaloes occasionally range up to the 7,000-foot level, and elephants are common in the bamboo forests up to 8,500 feet. Leopards and a few antelopes have been sighted as high as 13,000 feet. Bright-feathered birds abound at lower altitudes.

Once thought to contain King Solomon's fabulous mines, the Ruwenzoris were first mapped by the ancient Greek cartographer, Ptolemy. From descriptions given him by travelers, he called the range the "Mountains of the Moon," in the belief that the moon had descended to touch their tips and turn them to silver.

Henry M. Stanley was the first European to explore the range, in 1889. He gave the mountains their modern name. Ruwenzori, a native term, means "King of the Clouds" or "Rainmaker."

Nazism in Red China

Reports from Hong Kong show that history in one totalitarian country is repeating itself in another and that Red China now is using a practice introduced by the Nazis in Germany.

The Mao Tze-tung adaptation has a slightly different twist. In his eyes, according to a Reuters dispatch, the aged, the mentally ill and children are "unproductive units."

They are being tricked into deportation with exit visas which seem to include re-entry permits. A special marking on them, however, makes certain that once outside the boundaries of Communist China, these people never can return.

Here is just one more example of Communist disregard for human values. It emphasizes again how wide is the gulf between their promise and performance. Those who aren't politically or econmically useful to the state aren't wanted in Red China.

Anti-Foreignism in India

American and British firms operating in India under great difficulties since that country won its independence, now face new and more serious troubles.

These have developed in the wake of adoption by the Indian Parliament of a law aimed at foreign firms. Under it government statisticians can examine all of the books and records of a company at any time.

This greatly increases the harassment of a system which requires companies to pay huge bonuses to employes two or three years after the work has been done.

One example is the plight of the Firestone Rubber Co. which has a plant in Bombay and sells its tires throughout India. Besides salaries, the company pays workers 115 per cent of salary in cost of living expenses, pensions, paid vacations and other benefits. Employes are allowed 25 paid holidays a year plus 12 days sick leave.

In 1951 the unions demanded bonuses of 14 months' pay for one year's work. An Indian court reviewed this demand and set the bonus at five months and the same for 1952. When the unions refused to accept this decision, the Firestone Co. was forced to make it five and a half months pay.

Indian legislators regard this law as a "new weapon" against foreign firms. Certainly it promises to operate most efficiently in discouraging further investment of foreign capital in this teeming subcontinent.

Social Security Revision

Expansion and improvements of the Social Security system is a 1954 goal of the Eisenhower Administration.

This and the fact that millions of Americans are directly concerned makes the hearings begun by a House Ways and Means subcommittee of nationwide interest.

That the committee has an unusual opportunity to render notable service goes without saying. As part of its work it will examine the various proposals for improving the program begun in 1935.

Among them will be President Eisenhower's proposal that coverage be extended to 10,500,000 persons not now on the rolls. He recommended mandatory coverage for some 6,500,000 self employed farmers, domestic servants not now covered, and professional persons. Optional coverage would be provided for an estimated 4,000,000 others, including clergymen and employes of state and local governments.

★ ★ ★

Also certain to be scrutinized are proposals for liberalization of the retirement test. This is the requirement that to be eligible those 65 of age or over but under 75 may not have earnings, as distinguished from investment of other income, of more than $75 a month. There is considerable support for increasing this figure to $100 a month or for otherwise liberalizing the test.

Certainly deserving of attention is the inequity in the 18 month provision. Under this a person might be covered by Social Security for many years, but if the last 18 months before reaching 65 he is not covered, he does not receive any benefit.

On the other hand, a person who at age 63½ qualifies for Social Security coverage and remains in the system until age 65, would receive payments.

The political importance of the whole Social Security question doesn't have to be emphasized. It is attested by figures showing that as of October 1, 1953, more than 47,000,000 workers, and their employers, were paying into the fund and 5,750,000 were receiving benefits.

Many a person has trained his conscience to keep quiet when money talks.

Old Steps at Pontiac City Library Are Replaced

Daffynition

Speeding: A good system to hurry away from it all

After a service of 55 years, the old front steps at the Pontiac City Library have been replaced. Over them has trod quite a segment of our city's history. At first the building was principally used for social affairs. Dances were held there, including the high school proms. Dancing teachers worked out their classes there, and many a prominent Pontiac citizen there first learned to tread the light fantastic. It also was used for local theatrical productions. The congregations of at least two denominations worshiped there after their churches had been destroyed by fire. It is the conservative estimate of that the steps were worn down by at least a million pairs of feet.

The 3,064 who entered the Man About Town football contest are reduced to 29 following Saturday's game. Of the 79 survivors previous to that game, 48 picked Nebraska to win, 29 picked Colorado, and two predicted a tie game. Colorado won, 14-10, so these 29 carry over for the UCLA vs. Southern California game next Saturday.

Russell Nelson Urges Daily Road Patrol to Protect Public From Gravel Trucks

We are writing relative to the gravel truck menace. An accident occurred Nov. 10 at Orion and Collins Rds. on the bridge entering Goodison. One side of the bridge was torn off. We shudder to think what might have happened had a school bus or a car been there at the time.

The incident was mentioned at the Oakland Township Board meeting as a reminder that proper policing of local roads is badly needed but some members of our board still feel that the township cannot afford the additional cost of policing, even on a part time basis.

It was pointed out that the township would have to stand the cost of any liability a local patrolman might incur. We suggested bonding a man, similar to Avon Township's setup, but evidently this did not register. As to liability, who is going to foot the bill for repairing the bridge? This kind of expense hits all our pocketbooks in the entire county.

We urge all civic minded citizens to send a postcard to their local governing bodies requesting more adequate police protection through a daily road patrol.

Russell Nelson, Secretary

Lake Orion.

Editor's Note: The Press is still receiving letters on the Straley-Haskill matter.

Honest differences of opinion may exist regarding various incidents concerning law enforcement which have occurred during the past few months. However, this whole issue has been laid before the Police Trial Board, which is the body set up to handle complaints.

Therefore, the Press suggests that the matter should rest with the board.

No. 1—Did Ex-President See FBI Report on White?

Truman's Talk Tonight Unsatisfactory Unless He Covers These Ten Angles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman did not state all the facts last week when he wrote the House Un-American Activities Committee citing a long list of precedents in an attempt to justify his refusal to honor a subpoena issued in due form by the committee chairman.

Truman cited only the refusals of Presidents who at the time were actually in office when Congress asked them for information.

He failed to cite at all the most important precedent in the records of Congress, which shows that John Tyler, 15 months after he left the White House, did testify before a House Committee in response to its request for information.

Curiously enough, a somewhat parallel issue had arisen then. It concerned the use of funds by a former secretary of state, Daniel Webster, who had set up what was an FBI of those days to conduct detective work in connection with the activities of agents of foreign governments.

The controversy was whether Webster had used the funds for the purpose Congress had in mind or for political and business purposes. The majority report of the House committee, dated June 9, 1846, said:

* * *

"The committee have examined Mr. Tyler, the late President of the United States. He testified that when he came into the presidency, he found the foreign relations of the country in a very delicate condition in certain particulars, which the committee does not deem it expedient to specify, requiring, in his opinion, the employment of confidential agents; and, for reasons assigned by him to the committee, he regarded his secretary of state (Daniel Webster) as the fittest person to select and employ them."

The minority report, which disagreed with the findings on the use of the money, also mentioned "the testimony of ex-President Tyler."

* * *

Thus it is plain that the Congress of the United States, on a matter of great delicacy involving espionage as well as the proper use of federal funds, and the integrity of subordinate officials, has felt that it had a right to examine a former President of the United States.

Truman's decision to "tell all the facts" to a television and radio audience is not a satisfactory substitute for an examination by a committee of Congress.

Here are some of the questions which members of Congress might have asked Truman, and anyone will be able to see whether in his speech Truman has answered any or all of them:

1. Did Truman himself actually read the FBI report of Feb. 4, 1946 to which his secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, called his attention by letter?

2. If Truman did not read the document, whose summarization or evaluation did he accept as the basis for his decision not to fire Harry Dexter White?

3. If Truman decided to keep White on in the government for purposes of surveillance, why did he not tell J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, about it or at least direct his attorney general, Tom Clark, to do so?

4. If Truman decided in his own mind not to fire White and to keep on watching him, why was no record of that decision made anywhere in the government, not even in the files of the Treasury Department, where the then secretary of the treasury, the late Fred M. Vinson, would naturally be interested in recording it?

* * *

5. Why, if it was decided to keep White on in the government, was he permitted to take along with him to the monetary fund subordinates in the treasury who, in the FBI reports, had also been accused of involvement in the Communist espionage ring?

6. Why did Truman tell the reporters last week that he would have to consult his files in Kansas City to refresh his recollection on the White case, and what right has a President of the United States to take away to his private residence from the government files any documents or papers that belong to the government?

7. If Truman has in his possession today any files on the White case, does he contend that this action — taken by him as a private citizen, — is not subject to the subpoena power of Congress and does he feel that he has a right now to refuse to tell Congress either what the papers are or what is in them?

* * *

8. Did Truman ever ask the FBI for any reports on White's activities after White left the Treasury Department and began his work on the monetary fund?

9. Did Truman know that White, while an official of the monetary fund, used his position inside the governmental organization in Washington to recommend for employment in the government persons whose loyalty had been questioned?

10. Did Truman ever acquaint himself with the facts as to why the grand jury, in 1948, was unable for technical reasons under existing espionage laws to indict White? And if Truman knew this, why did he not during his subsequent four years in the White House tell the Congress of the need for strengthening the espionage laws to cover such loopholes?

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says Marriage Is Game With Rules to Abide By

Harold ignores his children and refuses to play ball according to the rules. He wants to "cut up" and "have fun" drinking and carousing at his club. He is emotionally immature, just like a spoiled kindergartener who will not play the nursery games per the rules.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-343: Harold M., aged 31, is the father of three youngsters.

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I are separated at the moment," his slender young wife informed me.

"For Harold says marriage has put him into a strait jacket. He says he wants to have fun and spend his nights at the club.

"Our mutual friends tell me he has never grown up and they think he will always be childish.

"My physician says the only way I could be happy according to Harold's formula, would be for me to forget my children and ignore our bills and spend my nights drinking and dancing with my husband at the club.

"Well, I can't sacrifice my children. Maybe Harold is jealous of them, therefore, because he chases them to the basement and whips them unmercifully though the oldest is only 7.

"I've obtained some solace from going to Sunday school and church, but Harold ridicules such things.

"Yet I love him and don't want to get a divorce, though he insists on it. So what can I do?"

Marriage is a game and it has certain basic rules, just as does baseball.

What would you readers think of a centerfielder who turned his back on home plate with a man at bat to talk and laugh with the folks in the bleachers.

And suppose that fielder tried to "have fun" by standing on his head and "cutting up" for the laughter of the spectators when a fly ball was hit in his direction?

Obviously, the manager would banish him from the game! Well, Harold is the same type of grandstander who refuses to abide by the rules of the marriage game.

Every intelligent man should recognize his obligations to his children. Whether he loves his wife any longer or not, or whether he'd relish being away bowling, or playing poker, he should realize that until his children are out of high school his first obligation is to those youngsters.

They didn't ask to come into the world! So they are his responsibility. And he owes them the courtesy of playing the game of fatherhood per the rule book.

A good American father does not stagger home drunk to terrify his youngsters when he opens the front door. And he doesn't whip them cruelly.

Instead, he is the type of man whom the children rush to greet. If they are toddlers, he even gets down and plays "horse," so they can ride on his back.

He likewise sets them a good moral example. And he sees that they go to Sunday school!

Even if he himself doesn't attend church regularly, at least he doesn't ridicule such fine moral training when his wife tries to teach their children faithfulness to ethical rules.

A man may be partly excused for poor business judgment and for failing to live within his budget, for few Americans are taught bookkeeping or budgeting prior to marriage.

But no intelligent man can be excused for wanting to carouse around at a club and "have fun" at the expense of his youngsters at home. That's a clearcut violation of the rules of the marriage game.

Tomorrow I'll outline more of these rules for good fathers, so save these Case Records and mail them to erring Dads like Harold.

What we like about our national debt is that we owe the loot to ourselves. You can send me your share right now.

The experts in finance say there is no more to worry about than frying a hog in its own fat.

They explain it thissaway. It's like borrowing from St. Petersburg to pay St. Paul.

Once again they forget Minneapolis. Please omit flours.

I dream about those billions all the time. Even when I snatch a cat nap I'm catching mice under Fort Knox.

The plimsoll mark on the cookie jar is $275,000,000,000. We sure dip into the plunder with a liberal steam shovel.

Fortunately we owe the moola to ourselves. Just like eating in your own restaurant.

Do you know how much cabbage the great Alexander Hamilton handled when we kept our collateral above ground? Not over sixty-seven dollars and a soda cracker. Not worth wetting your thumb about.

Washington says we have to boost the limit another fifteen thousand million or so. They must have found another pocket in an old vest.

If there's worrying to do, who's going to do it? We never saw beads of perspiration on an adding machine.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Mrs. X. of the women's club who is the first to squawk about an open window or a household temperature less than 75, apologized as she came to the bridge table, for her miserable "cold."

She was polite and held a handkerchief over her face when she coughed or sneezed.

But nevertheless one of the other players immediately left the table and told the hostess she could not continue playing.

This made the woman with the "cold" furious. She made a few remarks—well, one thing led to another and the club lost several members.

Heaven only knows what the unteachable Mrs. X had. We may reasonably assume it was one or another respiratory infection.

In a talk to follow we'll name a dozen common respiratory infections—CRI, pronounced kree, in the early stage before you or your doctor can tell just which respiratory infection it is.

In the CRI stage, you and your doctor should remember, the infection is most communicable.

This accounts for the rapid spread of measles or scarlet fever, for example, when one child with a "cold" is permitted to attend school, a party or the movies.

The children exposed in that way are infected before the youngster with the "cold" develops unmistakable signs of the disease.

Another case: Miss Y went to work as usual, although she should have been abed with a dreadful you know what.

Her desk was 6 or 8 feet from the desk of the next worker—in an office where there were half a dozen women at work. But Miss Y took pains not to cough or sneeze openface, for she knew that the virus or germs of whatever she had might be carried in the droplets of spray given off by cough or sneeze and land on the face of a person anywhere within range—up to 10 or 12 feet away.

She didn't know that the germ or virus laden droplets (visible or invisible fine droplets) of spray given off by ordinary conversation may be carried to the face of a person within conversational spray range—up to five feet away.

In her daily work Miss Y had frequent occasion to take papers to the next desk and talk with the worker there. And so, a day or two later, the worker at the next desk came down with what Miss Y had given her.

Although Miss Y was back at work in a week or so, her victim never did recover.

Does the grave illness or death of an individual or even a dozen individuals give Miss Y any remorse? Don't be silly. There's no law and little scruple against such offenses.

A respiratory infection is any disease that invades the body through the respiratory tract—that is, the germ or virus enters through the lining of nose, throat, larynx, trachea, (windpipe) bronchial tubes or lung, usually through lining of nose or throat.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Army Trial Set for Mossadegh

Military Court Rules Itself Able to Judge Ousted Premier

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The military court trying ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh for treason got down to main issues today after ruling against the old man's contention that the tribunal was not competent to hear the case.

The court-martial's five judges declared themselves competent yesterday after a week of preliminary hearings, during which the 73-year-old Mossadegh held the floor for many hours with bitter, emotional arguments in his own defense.

Following the court decision, Chief Prosecutor Brig. Hossein Azemodeh read the indictment charging Mossadegh with plotting against the Shah and illegally dissolving the lower house of Parliament. The death penalty was asked.

Presentation of evidence in support of the charges due to begin later today.

* * *

Mossadegh contended the Shah had no authority to dismiss him. He also demanded a jury trial on grounds that the army court could not try him because he had abolished it before his ouster as premier last Aug. 17.

The court, handing down yesterday's decision after a final debate of 4 hours and 45 minutes, also ruled itself competent to pass judgment on Gen. Taghi Riahi, former military chief of staff who is being tried with Mossadegh.

In support of the prosecution claim that the Shah had the right to dismiss Mossadegh, the court cited precedents in earlier dynasties. It added that the present Shah had dismissed three other government chiefs.

"Since the defendant is an ordinary person," said the ruling, "the presence of a jury is not necessary."

As to the defense contention that Mossadegh had abolished the military court while he was premier, the judges held that he had had no power to change army laws.

When the Shah's messenger tried last August to deliver the royal decree firing Mossadegh, bloody rioting resulted, and the monarch fled the country. The Shah's supporters overthrew Mossadegh two days later. The aged premier was jailed, and the Shah returned to the country in triumph.

Ex-Lt. Shoulders Is Back From Hawaii

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Former Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who broke the Bobby Greenlease kidnaping case, arrived home last night after a vacation in Hawaii.

Shoulders, who said he was not called to testify at the kidnapers' trial at Kansas City starting today, wants to divorce his wife and marry Miss June Marie George, who accompanied him on his trip to see his son in Hawaii.

* * *

When reporters questioned him about the kidnaping case, he snapped:

"Go away and leave me alone. I have been patient enough. Now leave me alone."

Shoulders, on his arrival in San Francisco, said he was going to try to get a divorce from his wife here. "I'll make a settlement with her," he said. "We own a piece of property jointly and I'll give it to her."

Split Meetings to Decide Details

Reds Agree With U. N. Plan for Subcommittees to Set Up Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied and Communist diplomats today created two subcommittees to start work tomorrow on the time, site and makeup for the Korean peace conference.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean proposed the split meetings and the North Korean and Chinese delegates quickly agreed.

Dean suggested the peace parley begin Dec. 15. He also recommended again that the conference convene in San Francisco, Honolulu, or Geneva but told the Reds he is open-minded about the place.

* * *

He also told the Reds again the Allies feel that only the belligerents should work out a peace for Korea.

The Communists replied they did not want to talk about these matters, leaving them for the subcommittees.

Dean will meet with the two top Communist representatives, Foreign Ministry Counsellors Ki Sok Bok of North Korea and Huang Hua of Red China, in the subcommittee on composition and place for the political conference.

* * *

Vice Foreign Minister Cho Chang Hwan will sit in as observer for his Republic of Korea government.

Allied delegates on the panel to decide the date will be Edwin Martin, a member of Dean's mission who works in the Office of Chinese Affairs at the State Department in Washington, and Far East expert Col. Stanton Babcock. South Korean Col. Lee Soo Young will be observer for the ROK in these meetings.

Ex-Convict Back in Jail; Picked Deputy for Aide

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Robert Fahey and John Leone walked into a tavern Saturday night. A stranger approached Fahey, asking, "How about helping me in a stickup?"

Fahey agreed, asked for particulars, and was told the job "was good for $18,000 to $20,000." The question of time came up.

"I'm ready now," said Deputy Sheriff Fahey, flashing his badge.

Fahey and his fellow deputy took Wayne Poor, 32, of nearby Edinburgh to the Sangamon County Jail, where Poor was held without charge. Poor said he had been released from a federal penitentiary two days earlier and had come to Springfield to report to a probation officer.

Extensive investigations of possible filter media were initiated in our laboratory and by our consultants early in 1951. The search continued until a strictly non-mineral material was found that effectively filtered the smoke. This is the material used in "L&M" Filter Tip cigarettes and is a highly purified alpha cellulose. Pure white in color, and used as an additive in certain foods, it is entirely harmless to health.

Alpha cellulose is the purest material now available to filter cigarette smoke. It removes over one-third of the smoke without impairing its satisfying taste. The "L&M" alpha cellulose filter* is specially designed to remove the heavier particles from the smoke stream leaving a truly light smoke.

When you smoke "L&M" cigarettes, made and guaranteed by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, you draw into your mouth much less smoke with much less nicotine and other nitrogenous constituents.

Benson Finds Farm Backing

Tour of Drought Area Uncovers No Sentiment for Cattle Supports

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson heads back to Washington today from a drought inspection tour convinced that he was right in rejecting demands of a recent "cattlemen's caravan" for cattle price supports.

He told newsmen that in talking with several hundred livestock farmers, farm organization leaders, and state and local officials in six Western states, he had found no sentiment for direct price floors to bolster and stabilize cattle prices.

"People out here went out of their way," he said, "to tell me they are against supports and that they approve of what we have been doing to help the situation."

* * *

Benson flew into the Southwest and West in a military plane last Thursday to make a first-hand inspection of drought conditions, to find out how emergency drought relief programs are operating and to sample farmer thinking on cattle price supports.

Two weeks ago, several hundred farmers from a number of states gathered at Washington to press for cattle supports. The move was sponsored by the National Farmers Union. Benson told the group that there was no "practical" way of administering supports.

The secretary scheduled a stop at Quincy, Ill., for a motor trip into areas in North Missouri which are seeking drought relief aid. This trip will wind up at St. Louis for the last lap of his return journey to Washington.

* * *

Benson told newsmen that he had found drought conditions in parts of New Mexico, Nevada and Wyoming to be as critical as those in the severe 1934 drought. Livestock men in these areas as well as those in dry sections of Arizona and Utah also have appealed for aid.

The secretary said he would make a decision on these appeals late this week. He said his survey indicated that several hundred thousand head of cattle and sheep in affected areas face short rations unless supplementary feed supplies are made available.

"CHOPPERS" PRACTICE LIFE SAVING—A powerful downdraft from the whirling blades of a U.S. Air Force H-19 rescue helicopter spreads a circle of ripples on the surface of the Han River near Seoul. The plane was caught the instant it was about to touch the water in a simulated rescue of a downed pilot. Called "Choppers" they have made some 1,000 life-saving operations during the Korean war. This mission was flown by the 2157th Air Rescue Squadron.

Haystack Fire Traps 7 Ohio Tots; 2 Die

McARTHUR, Ohio (UP) — Seven children, none more than 6 years old, were building a haystack in a pig pen—and one little boy had some matches.

He set the hay afire. The children were quickly trapped.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oakey McNealy Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Browning, were enjoying a Sunday visit in the McNealy's farmhouse near this southern Ohio town. They heard the children scream.

They ran to the pig pen and pulled the five Browning children to safety. But 4-year-old Oakey McNealy Jr. fell back into the fire as his parents' hands grasped for him. He burned to death.

They managed to get 3-year-old Dolores Ann McNealy from the pen but her dress was burned from her body. She died in a hospital a few hours later.

Presidential Aides Say Visit Alerted Nations to Safety Needs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Aides to President Eisenhower today sized up his Ottawa visit as a step toward alerting both the United States and Canada to a need for bolstering continental defenses against possible Soviet attack.

These aides, who asked not to be named, were quick to note that actual strengthening of the defenses remains to be achieved. But they voiced optimism it will be done.

The President returned to the White House late yesterday after an overnight train trip from Ottawa, where he and Mrs. Eisenhower were guests of the Canadian government for two days.

* * *

A few hours before he left the Canadian capital Saturday, he and Louis St. Laurent, the dominion's Prime Minister, announced in a communique they were in complete agreement on:

"The vital importance of effective methods of joint defense, especialy in the light of evidence of increasing ability for direct attack on both countries by weapons of great destructive power."

The communique was issued shortly after Eisenhower, in an address to Canada's Parliament, deplored Russia's "arrogant" attitude and declared Canadian-U.S. defenses now must be built to recognize "Soviet ability to employ atmic attack on North America."

* * *

The Parliament members thumped their desks in approval when Eisenhower said the United States and Canada "can and will" devise methods to protect the continent against surprise enemy attack by air.

The President added the threat is a present one and that "now is the time for action on agreed measures."

The communique on the Eisenhower talks with St. Laurent and members of the Canadian government's Cabinet said, too, there was agreement on need for a St. Lawrence seaway and a quick start on the related St. Lawrence power project.

Building Tile Shower Kills Young Mother

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP) — A shower of tile building blocks accidentally ripped from a building in nearby Nitro yesterday killing a young mother and seriously injuring her daughter.

State police said the blocks tumbled from the front wall of a grocery when a truck-mounted crane became entangled in electric wires leading to the building.

Mrs. Georgina Saunders, 24, died of a fractured skull. Her 3-year-old daughter Barbara Kay was taken to a hospital with bruises and a possible skull injury.

Man Seeks Information on Wife Who Vanished

Burley Evans of 352 S. Bellview, Lake Orion, has notified Lake Orion police that his wife, Martha, 27, disappeared after leaving their home for work at noon Thursday.

HOW AMERICA IS CHANGING

Now, more married women than single women have jobs!

TODAY, far more women are working outside the home than at the peak of World War II. And of the more than 19 million women employed in the U. S. in the summer of 1953, over 10½ million are married!

Many women work to support themselves and their dependents. Others are adding to the family income. Others work because they like to. Those who stay home to take care of children are finding more time to devote to community activities.

And life insurance is keeping pace and is constantly growing more flexible to meet new needs.

For example, in recognition of the economic importance of women, the life insurance companies are gearing their services more and more closely to the needs both of the woman in business and the homemaker. As a result, women, who have always had a large stake in life insurance as beneficiaries, today own about 50 billion dollars worth of life insurance—or nearly one-fifth of the total.

Women are buying life insurance for the same reasons as men—to help provide an income for their children, or for themselves in retirement years.

For almost every family, the needs for protection are constantly changing—and life insurance can be planned to meet these changes.

A suggestion: Have your needs or circumstances changed? Have you looked over your life insurance to see how it stacks up with your present way of living and the goals you and your family have set for yourselves?

Can't Shoot Cousin, Man Shoots Grandparent, Self

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police said Arthur E. Cobb, 28, shot and wounded his 74-year-old grandmother yesterday, then killed himself after she refused his request for cartridges so he could "shoot his cousin."

Mrs. Charles M. Nicholson, the grandmother, was shot in the chest with a .22-caliber pistol, the bullet passing completely through her body. Her condition was not serious.

Nixon Lunches With Hirohito

Vice President Visiting Japanese on His Tour to Include Iran

TOKYO (AP) — U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon and his wife rode a storybook, horse-drawn coach today to the ceremonial high point of their Japanese visit—a luncheon with Emperor Hirohito at his moated palace grounds.

The day was crammed with formal visits for the vice president, who is touring Asia on a world trip as President Eisenhower's special envoy.

* * *

This afternoon, following the palace luncheon visit, he was guest of honor at a military reception at Pershing Heights, U. S. defense headquarters.

From that he hastened to an inspection of Japanese troops of the national security force stationed just outside Tokyo.

Tonight he attended a formal dinner with Yoshida.

* * *

Throughout the day Nixon repeated to the Japanese his message of American good will toward Asian nations and of the joint work of self defense that must be done.

Nixon's most important announcement was that on his trip home he will stop in Iran, one of the danger spots of the Middle East.

It's the most logical thing in the world to call corsets and brassiers "Foundation garments," say fashion manufacturers, calling attention to a dictionary definition of "foundation." "That upon which anything is founded."

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Human Beings Too Little for Religion, Sometimes

The Rev. George Mahder, pastor at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Fourth and Joslyn Aves., since April, spoke Sunday from the theme, "What's Right With the Church." St. Paul's church was organized in 1949.

A condensed form of his sermon is given here.

* * *

Do you know what's wrong with the church? Frequently such a question may disturb us, but it should not, because for almost 2,000 years people have been trying to destroy the church and have met only with failure.

Let's admit the church does have its shortcomings and will continue to do so as long as it deals with sinful human beings. This, however, is no reason for us to condemn it.

We do not condemn the banking system because a few bankers may be dishonest. We do not condemn the automobile industry because of the accidents which some drivers may have on our highways.

So instead of asking "What's wrong with the church, let's ask what is right with it?"

In God's eyes, the Christian Church is perfect because it is holy. This church is without spot or wrinkle because it is the Bride of Christ. He paid for her redemption with His life.

If you think there is something wrong with the church, then tell me, what is wrong with the forgiveness of sins, with the Word and Sacraments, with peace by God's pardon, or reconciliation through the blood of Christ?

Because there are imperfections in the church, we can only blame ourselves. We frequently are too little for a big job, too little in faith to carry out the commission to preach the Gospel of salvation to every creature.

REV. GEORGE MAHDER

Let's go on the offensive, however, and find out what is right with the church. It is built on the right foundation, Jesus, a carpenter's son. Our Savior gave the blueprint of this building to His disciples one day in the words of the text, "And I say unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of Hell shall not prevail against it." Mat. 16:18.

You see, the church's foundation is Jesus Christ. Her foundation is He who died on Calvary's cross for our sins and rose again on the third day. And today, this same Jesus is alive ruling and over-ruling the affairs of men everywhere.

Then again, the church caters to the right people. It caters to sinners. "There is joy in the presence of the angels over one sinner that repenteth."

Sinners come to the church for help. The answer is "Him that cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out." And to those who hear and receive this message, it is big enough to cover all their sins.

The church also has the right answer to some important questions, such as "Who am I?" and "Where am I going?".

True science and other arts agree with the church which gives me the answer from God himself, namely, that I am a living soul, created in God's image and that my destiny is not the grave, but eternal life in Heaven, if I will accept it in faith.

What's right with the church? It has the right foundation, caters to the right people, has the right message and the right answers, and it gives me hope for eternal life in Heaven.

Waits for Decision on Housing Deadline

LANSING (AP) — Governor Williams today awaited word from federal officials regarding an extension of the December 8 down payment deadlines for the Carver Homes project in Inkster.

Under the present schedule, he said tenants who wish to buy their dwellings must make a down payment by the December 8 deadline. But Williams maintains in a letter to Albert Cole, administrator of the housing and home finance agency, that many of the Carver tenants have been out of work because of Kaiser Motors layoffs at the Willow Run plant.

The houses must be sold by July 1. Williams said the tenants may obtain employment and be in position to make a down payment, if given an extension.

Detroit Negro Takes Art Prize

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Negro artist's keen understanding of the lonely side of big city life won him top honors in the 44th Michigan artists exhibition today.

Hughie Lee-Smith, 38, a Detroit resident since 1941 and a graduate of Wayne University, won the $300 Founders Society prize for his oil painting entitled, "The Piper." It depicts a Negro boy blowing a toy horn against a background of dilapidated buildings and a dirty street.

Lee-Smith's painting and 24 other prize winners will be on display starting Tuesday at the Detroit Institute of Arts. The show will continue until Dec. 20. 20.

Among other prize winners were these outstaters:

Bill Moss, Ann Arbor, $50, oil, "Backstage."

George E. Hess, Ann Arbor $50, photographic collection purchase prize for his photograph of men at work.

Modern brass is an alloy mostly of copper and zinc, although in early times it referred to the alloy of copper and tin which we call bronze.

ALBERT J. RHODES

Pontiac Shrine Club Names New Officers

The Pontiac Shrine Club named Albert J. Rhodes as president during its annual election of officers recently. He succeeds Matthew D. Shelton who was named to the board of directors. Rhodes is past first vice president.

Others elected are William S. Farnum, first vice president; William H. Denmark, second vice president; Charles H. Kreher, secretary, and William J. Morse, chaplain.

Also named to the board were Carl L. Opland, Don R. McDonald, Joseph J. Joiner and Stanley J. Treadwell.

Farmer Likes Old Trade: Cow Calves Every Year

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Farmer Lawrence Byrnes is convinced he made a pretty good deal when he got his cow, Betsy, in a trade for two tons of hay and a stack of straw in 1930.

Then six years old, Betsy has had a calf every year since then and Byrnes in convinced that is a national record.

The terms "bug" and "insect" are not synonymous. The true bug is a member of one particular family of insects, the Hemiptera, which includes over 55,000 known species and over 4,000 from North America alone.

Quadruplets Born to Georgia Woman

SYLVESTER, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Robert Dollson, 37-year-old wife of a Negro farmer, gave birth to quadruplets here but two of the babies died about 18 hours later.

The two who died were boys. Worth County Hospital attendants said the surviving girls were in fair condition last night.

Each of the babies weighed about 2 pounds 7 ounces and all were placed in an incubator immediately after their birth late Saturday night.

Mrs. Dollson, the mother of eight other living children, exclaimed, "I couldn't believe it was happening, but when they kept holding up one baby after another I had to believe it."

Bowlegged Girls Can Stop Worrying

Spring Clothes Ignore Paris Hemlines

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Girls with bowlegs can stop worrying. They won't have to show their knees next spring.

As store buyers from every section of the country poured into New York last week for the opening of Spring Market Week in the wholesale garment district, it became apparent almost at once that the brief threat of knee-length skirts launched in Paris was a false alarm.

* * *

Perhaps the storm of protests from U.S. women had something to do with it. Perhaps New York manufacturers decided not to be pushed around any more by Paris "decrees." Whatever the reason, next spring's coats, suits and dresses shown this week by leading wholesalers are about the same length as those of this fall. In some cases skirts may be slightly shorter, but the difference is not enough to be perceptible.

Biggest news so far in the early showings is the return of the black or navy fitted dressy coat, in silk or wool-and-silk mixtures, for spring town wear. Many of these have wide white linen collars. Some are designed to be worn as coat dresses.

* * *

Also important in the spring coat picture are little, waist-length toppers in pastel fleece, some spattered with jewels, to wear day or night. White and off-white are used widely in the new fleece coats, most of which are in feather light fabrics, often of wool blended with cashmere or angora.

Hair Dyes Governed by Locality

Women of St. Paul Just Don't Go For Silver Blonde

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — There is hardly a single woman in St. Paul, Minn., who's brave enough to dye her hair silver blonde.

So says Harry Robins of St. Paul, who complains that if you want a silver blonde in that twin city, you have to import her from Chicago.

To Robins, a mild-mannered gentleman of 43, silver blondes are very important. So are ash blondes, redheads, golden brownettes and any other color in the hair dye lists.

He's director of educational research for a St. Paul concern described as the world's largest manufacturer of professional hair coloring.

Robins' job is basically to convince women that it's right and proper to stroll into a beauty parlor and say:

"Make me blonde."

"Twenty years ago, hair dyeing was frowned upon for two reasons—the dyes were pretty poor, and women who dyed were considered fast," he explained.

"Now the situation is different—thanks to easier application of dyes, more naturalness in colors, and the fact that women are beauty-conscious."

Robins estimates that today one out of every four American women dyes her hair. He backs this up with figures: So far in '53, women have spent $80 million for hair dyes.

The popularity of hair dye keeps manufacturers busy perfecting new shades, which is how Robins learned about the paucity of silver blondes in St. Paul.

"We were ready to test this new shade—a very pale, almost white blonde, so as usual we advertised for women who wanted to go blonde to come in and have the job done at our expense."

The ads ran in Twin City newspapers, says Robins, for three months, but not one volunteer showed up.

So the company finally imported 36 girls from Chicago, paying all transportation and hotel bills, to get the necessary silver blondes.

The incident proves the little-known fact, according to Robins, that hair dye colors depend on local style. He explained that some colors are popular in certain areas and considered unfashionable in others.

For instance, Robins said, Chicago prefers silver blondes, while the rest of the Midwest sticks to light brown. New York's top color is ash blonde, while Miami likes silver blondes. It's golden blondes in Dallas, but in Hollywood, gals have to be real red redheads.

DELORES JEAN FREDERICKS

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Delores Jean, to John Goodwin are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fredericks of East Beverly avenue. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Goodwin of Cedar street. A June wedding is planned.

Miss Shelly Talks At PTA

"Allow children to use books as tools," said Miss Adah Shelly in her talk to the Longfellow School PTA Thursday in the auditorium.

Children's Book Week listed for Nov. 15-21 was the basis of her speech, "Books versus Television."

"Television is the new means of education and can stimulate the further use of books by posing questions that arouse children's curiosity." "Expose the children to books," continued Miss Shelly.

"Learning to get along with books can mean many things to many people and acquiring the habit while young will be influential in coping with world problems as they are," Mrs. Shelly concluded.

The 4th and 5th grade students of Mrs. Harvey McCann's room recited Edgar Guest's poem, "It Couldn't Be Done."

New shades for the auditorium and folding tables for the gymnasium will be purchased with part of the proceeds from the fall festival.

Principal Adeline Hook announced an open house to be held Thursday, Nov. 19, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Refreshments were served by the home room mothers of Mrs. Charles Gleason's room, Mrs. Gerald White and Miss Stella Lou Hammond. Mrs. Arthur Oxley and Mrs. Robert Howey presided at the tea table.

Saybrook Group Elects Officers at Vann Home

Mrs. Howard McIntyre was re-elected president of the Saybrook Group of the First Congregational Church when the group met Friday in the home of Mrs. W. H. Vann on South Shore drive.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Arthur W. Selden, first vice president; Mrs. Vann, second vice president; Mrs. Dora Dawson, secretary; Mrs. Helen Teitgen, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Gaff, corresponding secretary.

Plans were made for a church bazaar, "Holiday Flavors and Favors," to be held Dec. 4. It was announced that the group will serve luncheon for the Women's Fellowship meeting Friday at the church.

Mrs. Grady Smith and Mrs. Charles Uligian assisted Mrs. Vann at the group meeting and Mrs. Ida Eveland was honored on the occasion of her 90th birthday.

Mrs. Vann gave the highlights of the meeting of the National Council of United Church Women which she attended recently in Atlantic City.

2 Schools Hosts at Open Houses

Open house preceded the Thursday evening PTA meeting at LeBaron School, which was highlighted by a panel discussion on special education.

Frank DuFrain was moderator of the panel, which consisted of Mrs. Erwin Gottschalk, Josephine Seeley, Elnore Trout, Mrs. Wilson Roback, Max Bilsky and Mrs. William Perrin.

* * *

Working in the kitchen were Mrs. John Forester and Mrs. Walter Miller, assisted by Mrs. Bert Olliffe, Mrs. John Carhart, Mrs. Harold Caswell and Mrs. Anton Melzer.

Pouring at the tea table were Mrs. David Pursiel Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnett. Mrs. Caleb Martin took new memberships and Mrs. Olin Hoffman accepted magazine subscriptions.

Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton of Drayton Plains were honored Sunday at an open house in celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary. The affair was held at the home of the Lloyd Thorntons of West Walton boulevard.

PTA Activities

Wisner PTA

Executive board of Wisner School PTA will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Discussion Is Held by Oakland WSCS

A panel discussion on the food and agriculture organizations of the United Nations highlighted the Thursday evening meeting of WSCS of Oakland Park Methodist Church held in the church parlors.

Mrs. Bert Weddle was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Clara, who gave devotions on "A Sower Went Forth."

Participating in the discussion were Mrs. Irl Williams, Mrs. Ray Coombe, Mrs. Gerald Wright and Mrs. George Dietrich of Central Methodist Church.

TBI Makes Plans for Holiday Dinner

Nov. 21 is the date set for the November meeting of TBI Women's Club, which will be a Thanksgiving dinner.

Mary Ardelan will be hostess to the group in her home on Cooper street. She will be assisted by Evelyn Beeson, and all women graduates of the Pontiac Business Institute are invited to attend.

The dinner, which will feature turkey, cranberries, pumpkin pie and other traditional Thanksgiving fare, will be held from 4 until 6 o'clock.

MOMS Luncheon to Be Held Tuesday

Mrs. Edgar Thomas will open her home on Center street Tuesday to members and guests of Unit Two MOMS of America, Inc., for a luncheon.

This is one of the many projects to be sponsored by the members in the interest of veterans and their families.

League of Women Voters to Discuss Progress Since Getting Suffrage

Film to Be Shown at Crofoot

Meeting Set Wednesday

With the purpose of discussing the achievements of women since suffrage was granted, the Pontiac League of Women Voters will hold a general meeting for members and guests Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Crofoot School.

Featured on the program will be a movie, "The Power of Women—Who Cares?" This discussion-type movie is moderated by Mrs. John G. Lee, president of the League of Women Voters of the United States.

Others participating in the film will be Mrs. James W. Morrison, a leader of the suffrage movement in this country; Mrs. R. L. MacDougall, former treasurer of the Georgia league, and Col. Mary Josephine Shelly, director of women, United States Air Force.

Col. Shelly was formerly assistant to the dean of students at the University of Chicago and assistant to the president of Bennington College.

The purpose of the program is to answer the questions: Have women achieved anything in the 32 years since suffrage? If so, what? What were the obstacles which were put in their way in the beginning? How were they surmounted? Are the obstacles they face now of the same nature?

Group Headed by Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. D. R. Wilson was re-elected president of the Colonial Group of First Congregational Church when the members gathered Friday at the home of Mrs. Claude Shoup on Mohawk road for a luncheon meeting.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Fred Voelker, vice president Mrs. John Niggeman, secretary, and Mrs. Ross P. Tenny, treasurer.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Earl Treadwell. Plans were made for the Christmas bazaar to be held Dec. 4.

Members of the committee in charge of the Friday meeting included Mrs. J. A. Rammes, Mrs. Gerald Hunt, Mrs. J. Lee Voorhees, Mrs. Ray Caughill, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap and Mrs. Harold Dudley.

Marianne Sinclair Marks 13th Birthday

Marianne Sinclair of Rutherford road received her first orchid Friday at a celebration in honor of her 13th birthday. The orchid was presented by her grandfather, Oren A. Blink.

Following dinner at Wilkins, Marianne and her guests, including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sinclair her sister, Renie, her grandparents, Mrs. B. E. Sinclair and Mr. and Mrs. Blink returned to the Sinclair home.

Also on hand for the occasion were Colleen Sharako and Joyce Meyer.

Photographed as they left for a 12-day cruise to the Caribbean were Mr. and Mrs. John Thornhill of Bloomfield Hills. Sailing from New York, they will make stops in The Netherlands West Indies, Venezuela and Colombia.

But Diamonds Are Excluded

Department Store Adopts Self-Service

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK, (AP)—Now there is a self-service department store where everything except diamond rings can be fingered, lifted from the shelves and paid for at a cashier's counter.

This is the latest development in a trend toward help-yourself shopping. Grocery stores introduced women to the rubber wheeled cart and self selection. Department stores began experimenting cautiously.

A linen department here and a toy department there were converted to self service. Shoppers have been able to wheel grocery-type carts around Macy's toy department for the past year.

Now a big department store has plunged in up to its fur department. Beginning today, nothing is under the counter except, as we said, the diamond rings and a few expensive wrist watches.

"It is a national trend," said Clement V. Conole, president of the Hearn Department Stores, who is launching the brave new plan. "Women have less time to shop. They're more like men. They want to get what they want and get out."

Only the main floor of the store has changed radically in appearance. Long aisles and counters have been replaced by tiered shelves set diagonally around the floor.

"It is a maze," Conole explained. "A customer walks a couple steps in one direction and runs smack into merchandise. There are attendants, but not as many as the sales people we employed under the old system.

"We only use carts in certain departments where it is practical. But on all floors there are two types of checkout desks—cash and wrap desks and charge and send desks. If a customer pays cash, there is no sales slip. She just pays for it and walks out.

"The entire operation," Conole continued confidently, "will speed sales, cut overhead and consequently cut our markup so the customer will get the savings."

There are limitations to the plan which even the head of a self-service department store admits. If a woman were buying a mink coat or a $25 pair of shoes, she'd expect a little personal attention from a salesman.

"We don't sell mink coats," Conole explained. "We only sell less expensive furs. As for shoes—well, we have chairs where women can sit down and try them on.

"They choose the styles they like from a display table and an attendant brings the correct sizes. Then the woman takes the pair she buys to the cashier's desk."

Other department store officials feel that much merchandise depends on "a selling job," where a salespersons is there to answer questions and suggest other selections.

But they all agree that stores will increase their use of self-service departments where it makes it easier for both the customer and the store.

Central Methodist WSCS Units Meet

WSCS Units of Central Methodist Church met in various homes recently.

Mrs. M. E. Kerns of Sylvan Lake was hostess Thursday to members of the Gertrude Howe Unit for a dessert luncheon. "Prospering Power of Praise" was chosen as the devotional topic by Mrs. Albert Weber, and Mrs. George Fisler spoke on "What Methodist Women Are Doing."

* * *

The Clara Swain Group welcomed Mrs. Conway Lewis and Mrs. H. A. Kewit as new members when it met with Mrs. Harold Srigley of Watkins Lake for a dessert luncheon Thursday.

"Keep" was the devotional theme chosen by Mrs. Lloyd Pardee, and the program on "Evangelism Among Women" was led by Mrs. Percy Jones. Participating in the program were Mrs. M. E. Baldwin, Mrs. Kewit, Mrs. Ben Speer, Mrs. Clara Jenks, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Daniel Murphy.

Tuesday evening the Ida Kahn members met with Mrs. Russell Vessells of East Iroquois road. Mrs. Walter Wittkopf gave the devotions based on "Thanksgiving," and Mrs. Percy Latimer spoke on the distribution of WSCS funds.

* * *

The Lois Parker, Martha Sheldon and Susannah Wesley Units met jointly Thursday to hear missionary Mrs. Homer Bondurant of Jackson, who is home on furlough from Peru.

Mrs. Robert Field was hostess to the group in her home on South Avery road. Assisting here were Mrs. William H. Taylor and Mrs. Robert Byrnes.

* * *

A book review of "The Greatest Faith Ever Known" was given by Mrs. John Thors, and Mrs. John Garrison led devotions.

* * *

The Rev. John Mulder spoke on "Mission Trends" when Mary Reed Unit met with Mrs. John E. Linabury Thursday at her home on East Iroquois road.

* * *

Hand-knit articles for Korea were brought by members of Lucy Webb Hayes Unit when the group met Thursday with Mrs. Harry Stowell of Elizabeth Lake road.

Mrs. Harry Baker spoke on the work of the WSCS in Rhodesia and reviewed an article by Charles A. Sauer, a missionary returned from Korea.

Mrs. Dewey Allen and Mrs. Pearl Kline assisted the hostess.

4 Presbyterian Groups Conduct Friday Meetings

Mrs. Ivan Wilcox was hostess in her Old Orchard drive home to members of the September-October Group for a dessert luncheon.

Mrs. Margaret Curvin, Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. John Reene assisted the hostess. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Catherine Weeks.

Mrs. L. Verl Kline read devotions and Mrs. H. R. Fraser gave the mission study.

* * *

Mrs. Davy Gilpin was elected president when the February Group met with Mrs. Ernest Taylor of Delaware drive.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Hazel Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Basil B. Kimball, treasurer, and Mrs. Bradley Scott, secretary.

Mrs. Roy Fosbender led devotions and Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon gave the mission study. Mrs William Vogel assisted the hostess.

* * *

The December Group met for luncheon in the home of Mrs. Harry Aten on Quarton road. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. James Coon.

Mrs. E. L. Guy gave the Bible study and Mrs. Leslie Ellis presented the missionary report with a portion of the book "Africa on Safari."

The group has scheduled the next meeting for the evening of Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Marvin Redmond on Motorway drive. Mrs. E. D. Auchard and Alice Brewer were guests at the Friday meeting.

* * *

Lulu McGregor was elected president of the Flora Shelly Group at an evening dinner meeting held at the church. Avis Carey is secretary and Isabel Goodson is treasurer.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Olive Lord, Mrs. M. M. Jones and Mrs. George Snyder.

Miss McGregor led devotions and Grace Clark gave the mission study. Plans were made for Christmas activities.

Allemanders Dance Has Hunt Theme

"Ala Man Deers" was the title on the stage curtain when Allemanders Square Dance Club held a party Saturday evening in Donelson School.

Completing the decoration theme was a man in full hunting attire who sat dreaming of the set of antlers he was about to acquire as he gazed at a mounted deer head nearby.

The refreshment table held a centerpiece of rabbits, deer, bears and log cabin, depicting a hunter's dream come true.

Those planning the party included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gamble, chairmen, assisted by the Harold Otts, the Joseph Blanks and the Leslie Pillows.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cowdin and the Rolland Rossers were guests of the William Barrows; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kreag came with the Arthur MacFaydens, and the Lionel Barils were guests of the Sam Healanders.

The next party will be held Nov. 28 at Donelson School.

Louis Shermans Go to Canada for Honeymoon

Baskets of white chrysanthemum and carnations and banked palms decorated Emmanuel Baptist Church Nov. 7 when Marlene Lawrence became the bride of Louis Earl Sherman.

A Pater Pan collar finished the illusion neckline, and seed pearls outlined the yoke and collar. Long sleeves of lace ended in points over her wrists and the full skirt of the dress fell into a train.

Shirley Lawrence was her sister's maid of honor, and attendants were Mrs. James Rowland, Mrs. David Casebeer and Leobelle Foust of Birmingham.

Kathryn White was flower girl, and Arthur Alexander, the bride's cousin from Royal Oak, carried the ring.

Mrs. Rowland was best man for Louis, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sherman of Squirrel road. Harold White, Ross Vaughn and the bride's uncle, William Alexander of Royal Oak, seated the guests.

Class Headed by Mrs. Walker

Mrs. Robert Walker was re-elected to the presidency of the Fellowship Class of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church when the group met Friday evening at the church.

Other officers elected include George Hollis, vice president; Mrs. Harold Pearsall, secretary, and William Gaddes, treasurer.

Mrs. Albert Lovse was named general chairman for the annual Christmas party. Assisting her will be Mrs. Howard Groome and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spragg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ritter were hosts for the evening and Mrs. Leonard Mayes was cohostess. The Clarence Winklers were guests.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

"Do I dance with Janie all the time?" asked a junior high schooler getting ready to go to his first dance. His mother explained he must dance the first and last dances with the girl he was taking to the party and a few others in between. But she assured him he could dance with others girls, too, just so he was sure Janie had someone to dance with.

Might as well teach them early that when they take a girl to a party they have to look out for her.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Column Is Good Vehicle for Gripes, Confessions

A columnist can sit at her typewriter and pour out all her uncertainties and woes, secure in the knowledge that she'll be paid something for the recital while anybody else, for such satisfactory unburdening, must turn over a big chunk of her weekly paycheck to a psychiatrist. You can even tell in your column about your operation or the trip you took that no friends would ever listen to you talk about.

MISS McBRIDE

When you like somebody or something, you write about him or it. When somebody or something vexes you, you set it all down. This is wonderful.

I've been annoyed at Broadway first nights for years, but I never had a chance to say so until I started columning. I feel much easier about them now. Restaurants that served warm water in a cup with a teabag on the side—when I ordered tea—have always enraged me, but now that I've gotten rid of that rage in a column, I don't mind so much.

I've long been sick of so-called intellectuals who brand every sweet, honest emotion as corny, but I feel more tolerant since I've talked back to them.

In my column I've confessed to all sorts of sins: The bad temper that leaves me limp and guilty-feeling after each explosion; my unlovely stinginess in hating to have people use my telephone; the fact that I stole malted milk tablets from my own grandfather when I was 9. Readers write comfortingly that I'm not alone in my peccadilloes and match me, crime for crime.

One of my "confessions" involved me in correspondence with a delightful stockbroker in Michigan who was distressed because I said (laughingly, I thought) that I'd rather sock my savings under my mattress than in a bank. I explained that I meant to be funny, and at last reports all had been forgiven and my broker friend is reading me every day.

The most startling benefit of writing a column came after the one in which I wailed that I could not find any sausage meat like that my father used to fix every fall on our farm in Missouri. First a nice man named Smith long-distanced me from Baltimore, then a call came from Mr. O'Brien in Waverly, N. Y.

Both gentlemen said the same thing: "Lady, I've got your sausage meat." And the nice part was that they had—almost. I know because they sent samples. And readers from all over sent sausage, recipes, dealer addresses and reminiscences. I never had so much fun or ate so much sausage in so short a time in my life.

Now I'm going after salt-rising bread. My Aunt Mame, who makes the best in our family, used to mail me a loaf now and then, but she broke her leg awhile back and can't get about to cook yet.

I know there's no use trying to find salt-rising in New York, for Thyra Samter Winslow, the writer who helps me keep up on food gossip, says the last place that made it had to stop because poor benighted neighbors complained so much about the way it smelled when rising.

As soon as I get the salt-rising issue settled, I think I'll see whether anybody ever gathers hickory nuts in autumn any more. I have a recipe for hickory nut cake that I'm dying to try, but no hickory nuts.

A column is a wonderful thing.

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a senior in high school and I'd like very much to be an airline hostess. Will you please give me some information on the necessary requirements?"

I'm a great believer in going straight to headquarters for such information. Write a letter to some of the major airlines and ask them what you have to do, be and know in order to qualify for a hostess job with their company. They'll undoubtedly send you full information, then you'll be able to compare your notes and plot your course.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Some time ago you gave the address of the International Friendship League in your column. I wrote to the league and received the name of a girl in Scotland. I enjoy writing to her very much.

"I'd like to write for another name but I have mislaid your article that gave the address. Would you please print it again?"

With pleasure. International Friendship League, 40 Mount Vernon St., Boston 8, Mass.

All you have to do to get an exciting correspondence started with a young somebody in any one of about 72 different countries is to write to the league and ask for a name.

It would be a good idea to tell something about yourself, your age, your preferences, and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Young people all over the world are eager to have a "friend" in the United States to whom they can write. They want to know how we live, what we do for fun, what we study, how we feel about things, what we think.

Writing about your activities, your experiences and adventures makes letters interesting and easy. And your replies will come back in English! So make yourself a new friend in a foreign land. Your letters will do it.

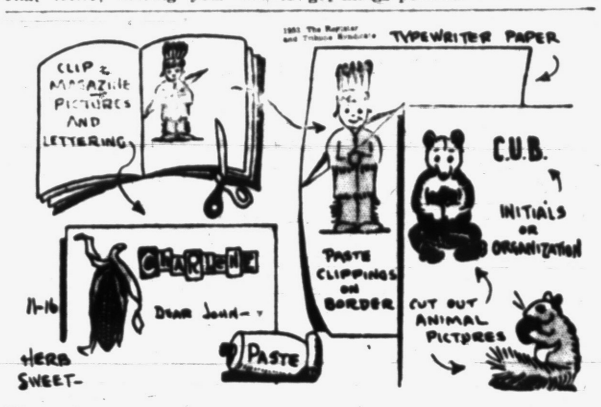
"Dear Miss Woodward: I'd been going pretty steadily with Dick and I told him how much I cared about him. Later I found out I wasn't sure. So I wrote him a letter and told him so.

"Now he's mad because I sent the letter through the mail, and though I have apologized, he does not come around. I care a lot about him, so how can I patch things up?"

It wasn't so much sending the letter through the mail, as sending the letter at all that upset Dick. That letter, voicing your doubts about him, was a tangible thing for him to cope with.

What made you write it? What was behind it? What else didn't you say? Those are all questions Dick asked himself while he held your letter in his hand.

Some letters are better not written. Once put on paper, you can not take back your words, change your mind, or control the impression they make. Your letter upset the works. If you can convince Dick to forget all about it, you may get things patched.



Try It

Decorate Own Stationery

Most of us have one great fault in common—we don't write enough letters. Don't you like to receive letters? Well so does everyone else! One of the nicest things about Try It is the mail that I receive from you Try-Iteers, and I always answer you.

Here is an idea sent in by Charlene Frost who writes many letters to her brother who is in the Navy. Charlene designs her own stationery and makes each letter a little different.

When you design your own stationery you can make it interesting to the person who is receiving the letter. If you were writing to one of your friends, you would want to cut out a picture of something amusing or, if he liked horses, you could cut out a picture of a beautiful horse.

Be on the lookout for pictures which are interesting and you can even color them.

Apple Cake Has Spice and Juice

Mrs. Myron Burt of Davisburg Gives Special Recipe

By JANET ODELL

When we visited the YWCA Ladies Day Out group recently, we met some of the nicest women. They were most generous with their recipes.

Mrs. Myron Burt of Davisburg contributed her recipe for Apple Upside-down Cake.

APPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
By Mrs. Myron Burt

6 tart apples
1 cup dark brown sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
2 beaten eggs
1 cup milk
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Salt

Peel and slice the apples. Arrange in a well-greased pan, using all the half cup of shortening for this purpose. Sprinkle the brown sugar and cinnamon over the fruit. Simmer over a very low fire while you are mixing the cake.

Cream the two tablespoons of shortening and sugar, add the beaten eggs. Mix flour, salt and baking powder together and add alternately with the milk. Pour over the apple mixture. Bake at 325 degrees for 35 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Bands—high or low, says Paris. To be chic, choose high bands because the long line from bust to hem makes for a taller silhouette.

Miss O. L.—One of the outstanding coats in Paris, and the source of inspiration for spring, has lowered waistline suggestion. This cuts height but remembering always for the taller look, you want the long-legged illusion of bands placed high up.

Little Aids Ease Strain of Motoring

Sand, Shovel Are Driver's Friends in Wintertime

By KAY SHERWOOD

CHICAGO (NEA) — Before the first blizzard stalls you at the sewing club meeting, get the family bus geared for the emergencies you're most apt to meet.

I'm just assuming that you're the family chauffeur who steers Junior to the Scouts, Dad to the train, Susie to the movie and drives dozens of miles a week on home errands.

Winter driving is one of the activities I like the least. But we can't hibernate so we might as well equip ourselves to handle the icy ruts, the quick freeze, the sudden snowstorm and the steamed-up windows that plague the winter driver.

Putting the car in mechanical order for the cold months is a job I leave to the man of the house and the service station.

But gathering up homey but invaluable aids to keep in the car trunk should have the supervision of the gal who's going to need them.

Sand shoveled out of the kid's sandbox and into a box or bag will be worth its weight in gold if you get stuck in an icy rut. Fill two or three small containers with about 15 pounds of sand each, because they will be easier to handle than one large sack.

Sprinkled on the ice or snow, sand gives rear wheels enough traction to pull you out of the predicament.

Carl Doman, a service manager, advised us to carry a small shovel. An Army surplus store yielded a short, sturdy and compact trench scoop which works fine for spreading the sand around.

Another trick I learned from Doman was to keep a couple of pieces of corrugated cardboard handy. If it's snowing hard and you have to park outdoors while you shop, slip the cardboard under the windshield wipers.

This prevents the snow from blanketing the windshield and insures better vision later. The cardboard, used to shove snow off the car roof and the rear window, saves your fine leather gloves from an icy soaking.

An improvement on swiping off the steamed-up windows with a gloved hand is keeping an old windshield-wiper blad for the purpose. Wiper scrapes off moisture without smearing and window stays cleaner longer.

Officers Named by Pilgrim Group

Mrs. Robert Reynells was elected president of the Pilgrim group of First Congregational Church Friday when the group met at the home of Mrs. Norman Feet on Spokane drive.

Also named to office were Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind, first vice president; Mrs. D. C. Inman, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Meserva, secretary; Mrs. Feet, treasurer and Mrs. J. Frank Thomas, corresponding secretary.

Final plans were made for the group's booth at the church bazaar to be held Dec. 4, and members worked on scrapbooks to be taken to the children at the Oakland County Contagious Hospital.

The Dec. 11 meeting will be a Christmas tea at the home of Mrs. Don Thomas on Utica road.

Assisting the hostess with luncheon wwere Mrs. Henry Noll and Mrs. James Hatton. Mrs. Ivan Knight gave devotions.

Mrs. Huntwork Heads Group

Mrs. Leslie Huntwork was elected president at the Friday meeting of the April-May group of First Presbyterian Church.

Other officers elected at the luncheon meeting were Mrs. John Heitsch, vice president; Mrs. Duane Lemaux, secretary, and Mrs. Floyd Mortenson, treasurer.

Serving luncheon were Mrs. Orley Hill, Mrs. William Kalwitz, Mrs John Birge and Mrs. E. V. Overstreet.

Mrs. Kenneth Carman conducted the meeting and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel gave the Bible study. Mrs. Huntwork read letters from missionaries.

Woman Earns Money With Mending While Caring for Convalescent Hubby

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I love to sew," women will frequently tell me, "but there's just no way for me to do it professionally. I'm not a designer, so I cannot get a job in fashion.

"I'm just a good, plain seamstress—wonderful at mending and routine stuff, but by no means a fine dressmaker.

Then these women usually pause, sigh, and conclude, "So I suppose it's really hopeless."

But occaionally I meet a woman with sufficient enterprise and ingenuity to figure out a way to make a living at sewing.

Mrs. Ames is a good example. Her husband was ill and her large family—three daughters, four sons — all married and away from home.

"I knew I would have to find something to do at home," she told me, "because I had to be with Ed. He didn't need constant nursing care, because he was convalescing, but he did need me in the house.

"And the only real skill I had was mending. I learned it from a nun—and if I say so myself, I mend beautifully."

Mrs. Ames lived in a rather prosperous suburb, where most of the families had several children and were comfortably well off.

"One day at the supermarket," she said, "I overheard a couple of women complaining about their mending. They were saying that mending piled up so when there were children, and so little time for all the other chores.

"It gave me a good idea. I went home and wrote a very carefully worded classified advertisement, to the effect that I would do home mending—pick up and deliver at a flat weekly sum, based on the number of children and adults in the family.

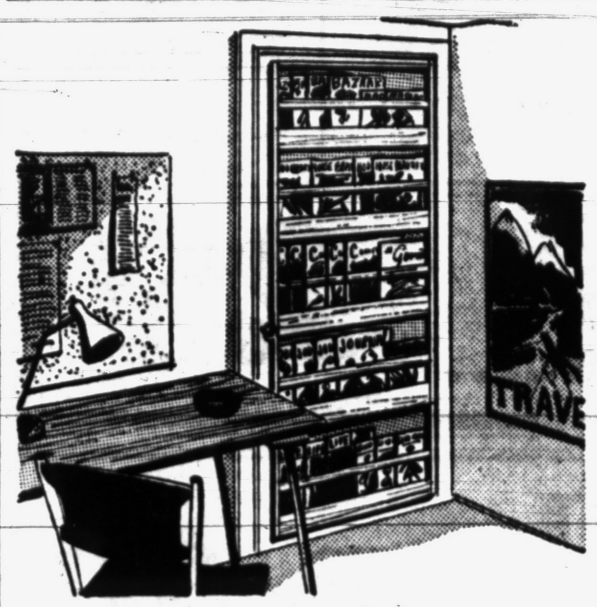
"I figured I'd only get one or two answers, and then could figure out the fee. Well, I got 11 inquiries!

"I was a busy woman," she said gaily. "I told them all I'd call them back, and then I checked my memory and compared notes with all my friends, and figured out approximately how much time it would take to handle the mending for the average family with two children, three children, and so forth.

"I took on three customers, saw how it went, and then took on four more."

Mrs. Ames now spends five hours a day in her home mending and chatting with her husband. And she clears $30 a week.

"I feel so good," she said, "to think that I can actually earn an income. And the relief from financial worry has speeded up Ed's recovery more than we ever expected!"



Magazine Rack on Door Relieves Cluttered Room

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

In these days of small homes and small rooms, it's a big job just to find places to put things.

A bright idea on how to solve a storage problem does as much good as a new decorating idea, and often the room's decorating benefits almost as much from it. It does if the the storage idea helps to clear the room of clutter and leaves it looking smoother and more serene.

Here's an idea for finding storage space where there isn't any —on the back of a door.

A magazine rack there steals no valuable floor space, holds more magazines than could be kept neatly anywhere else and makes the special copy you're looking for almost as easy to spot as a picture on the wall.

Build the rack nearly as wide and tall as the door with shelves spaced to fit various sizes of magazines, and bars both below and half way between each shelf to hold them securely.

* * *

Mrs. T. N. "What can be done to calm down the color scheme of a bathroom which has bright rose pink fixtures, white tile half way up the wall trimmed in black, wallpaper with pink figures on a green background, green woodwork and a black floor?"

The wallpaper and the woodwork can be changed without too much trouble. Choose a white background paper with a delicate, wide-spaced pattern in pink and perhaps another light color, and paint the woodwork white.

Use white curtains, pale pink and deep pink towels and black and white rugs and bath mats.

Mrs. L. L. "The draperies we have now will do for the living room of the house we're moving into, but there is a sun room adjoining it for which there aren't enough draperies.

"Could draperies be omitted and the sun room windows be merely curtained to the sills? What color should the curtains be? The draperies have blue and green figures on a gray background, and we plan to paint the walls gray."

Sill-length curtains will smooth into the picture with a pleasing effect if they are the gray of the walls.

Local WCTU Holds Dinner at Church

Frances Willard WCTU met at the Church of the Brethren for a cooperative dinner Thursday evening. A business meeting was followed by devotions given by the Rev. James Luther.

The program consisted of two violin trios by A. Elmer, Arnold and Leonard Dorey. Connie Wilson played an accordion number. Mrs. L. G. Rowley and her mother, Mrs. Catherine Cable sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Orla Mason. Mrs. Rowley was the speaker.

AWOL Airman Arrested on City Bus by Deputy

A Waterford Township youth, who escaped Friday from the Selfridge Air Force Base guard house, was arrested Saturday by an off-duty Oakland County sheriff's deputy on a Pontiac city bus on M59 in Waterford Township.

James W. King, 17, of 2886 Landsdowne, was arrested by Deputy Merrill Finkle after Finkle spotted King getting on a Pontiac-bound bus. The deputy halted the bus and brought King to the Oakland County Jail.

Automobile production is one of the fastest growing industries in Canada. From a modest beginning of 17 vehicles manufactured in 1904, Canada now assembles over 450,000 cars and trucks a year.

Bob Considine Says:

Kidnap Leeches Deserve Much Less Than Prison

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Count me among those who think that jail's too good and booby hatches too lush for people who attempt to cash in on the environs of kidnap and murder.

There were times just before Pearl Harbor when I thought Col. Lindbergh was in need of a refresher course in how to make sense, win friends and influence people.

But I could never feel anything but grief about the loss of his boy and rage over the people who sought to capitalize in one way or another on the tragedy.

U. S. Attorney Edward L. Scheufler, in charge of the prosecution of little Bobby Greenlease's kidnapers and murderers — Carl Hall and Bonnie Heady—has announced the names of two loathesome bums who tried to get some of the ransom money in this horrifying case.

To the shame of the hotel industry, which doesn't deserve the rap, one is a Kansas City bell boy and the other a St. Joseph (Mo.) busboy. They will be tried later for claiming by devious means that they had the child.

There were 13 other people who contacted the elder Greenlease directly or indirectly, and kept alive the old man's pathetic hopes that the lad of his late years was still unharmed and could be returned to the family for a price.

I am no authority on the code of ethics that exists in the jungle or on the most rapcious level of the sea, but I cannot conceive of its being more villainous than the actions of this scum on the clean beach of civilization—these would-be collectors of ransom.

As for the principals in this case, the man Hall and the woman Heady, they must be wondering today as they sit in their cells in the towering Jackson County Jail in downtown Kansas City. They must be wondering how they have stayed whole this long.

The law, which now moves in on them like an inching glacier, has also seen to their well-being since they confessed cynically that they killed the boy, stuffed him in a quick lime grave and took the money.

The only purpose of their trial is for Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves to receive from a jury a recommendation as to the extent of the punishment. They are being tried under the "Lindbergh Law," which carries the death penalty.

But in Missouri a judge cannot hand down that ultimate penalty without a recommendation from a jury. Hence the dozen (plus two alternates) to be selected tomorrow from a panel of 125 men and women from the western half of Missouri.

There is much speculation in K. C. over the approach which Roy Dietrich, respected president of the Kansas City Lawyers Association, will take in behalf of Hall. He has accpeted the task of representing Hall in court, where he will be assisted by Marshall K. Hoag, from Hall's home town.

Roles Factual, Call for Talent

Actors Have Records in Many Broadway and English Shows

NEW YORK—A fresh set of actors and actresses must be selected for each story of television's "The Man Behind the Badge," based on actual case histories of crime prevention, and law enforcement agencies.

Thus the problem of finding performers who can typify the real-life personalities is an exacting one says Dallas Brody, the show's casting director.

The prime consideration in casting for "The Man Behind the Badge," is, of necessity, getting a capable artist who physically and otherwise personifies the subject type of a story.

According to Miss Brody, it would be impractical and undesirable to cast an actor who is a likeness of the story's hero, because the latter may not precisely represent the type usually associated as such in the public mind.

Since the roles are strictly factual, their portrayal is not easy, and hence calls for seasoned talent. The players on each drama have all had substantial stage, screen or television credits.

For example, Richard Carlyle, a bank robber in one story, has appeared in "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Mr. Barry's Etchings," and other theater plays and in such movies as "The Iron Mistress" and "Target Unknown."

Jack Warden, a "Badge" actor, is featured in the screen hit "From Here To Eternity." Another, Larry Fletcher, has been in 29 Broadway shows and has acted in England and Australia. In a recent broadcast, too, was Ruth Enders, a brilliant stage and television actress.

Researchers bring back to program headquarters in New York a detailed description of the subjects of each script story, along with photographs.

But Miss Brody in casting prefers to know only the subjects' geographical region, age and family status, along with the story of their deeds and research material on job or profession.

When a lead is cast, he or she is thoroughly briefed on the alter ego and an experienced performer is thus able to bring the part to vivid life.

Korean Family of 4 Walks Out on Reds

Father, mother, son and baby daughter came back from a prisoner-of-war camp and were trucked to start life anew in the Republic of Korea.

The Chos had been listed among South Korean prisoners who wanted to stay with the Communists. But they changed their minds.

Eight days ago there were three Chos — San Kong, the father; Kyong Suk, the mother, and 2-year-old San Nam. Then Mrs. Cho gave birth to a daughter. The son also was born in a POW camp.

The Chos did not explain how they came to be listed as unwilling to return or why they changed their minds.

Claim Reds Force Scientists to Work

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin anti-Communist group said today at least 1,000 German specialists, including atomic physicists, are still being forced to work in Russia for the Soviet military machine.

The League of Free Jurists said they are the remainder of a large number of scientists, engineers and technicians, who were rounded up in the East Zone in October, 1946, and sent of to the Soviet Union on "voluntary" five-year contracts.

Some have since returned to Germany, including highly-skilled technicians of the Zeiss Optical works in Jena.

Some of those still in Russia are being held on Gorodomlia Island in Lake Seliger, near the Leningrad-Moscow Railway, without any work, the Free Jurists claimed.

Others are reported working in heavily-guarded military research centers. They include atomic, X-ray and high frequency physicists, naval constructors and torpedo experts.

Roaring Fire Sweeps Philippine City; 1 Dies

MANILA (AP) — One person was killed and five city blocks were gutted in a roaring fire which swept through the commercial district of Gumaca today, the Philippine News Service reported.

Oakland Begins Medical Survey

60,000 School Children Get Questionnaires on Immunization Record

Some 60,000 school children are taking home letters asking for their immunization "histories" today as Oakland County Health Department's immunization survey got under way.

Dr. John D. Monrie, department director, said Pontiac and Birmingham schools have joined in the survey.

The health department is questioning parents of all youngsters in kindergarten through fifth grade to find out if enough of them are immune to diptheria and other diseases to stave off an epidemic.

Dr. Monroe asked parents of the test group to fill out the forms completely, detailing vaccinations, "shots," and the years they were given, and return them to the schools by this Friday. Crews of volunteers will help health department nurses check results.

Dr. Monroe commented that a rise in diphtheria in last two years had helped spur the survey.

"There is indication the number of immunized children may be dangerously low," Dr. Monroe said. "At least six of every 10 children in a community should be immune to a disease if the community is to be protected."

Dr. Monroe explained that then, although an occasional child may still contract the disease, enough of his playmates are immune so that the disease doesn't race unchecked through the area.

Plenty, even though you've never heard of Mike. It put money in your pocket, as well as his!

In taking out his small loan, Mike did his bit to confirm the American principle of healthy consumer credit...the lending of moderate sums to individuals for the things they need. He used his money for manufactured goods, clothing, and to keep himself and his family in good health. Add his loan to the millions made by other average folks and the total's tremendous.

And that's important to you... plenty. Dollars in circulation help maintain prosperous business, high living standards, a flourishing economy for everybody.

General Public Loan has served thousands of people like Mike in the Pontiac-Detroit area in the past seventeen years. And now there's a new General Public Loan office in Pontiac.

At any of the twelve General Public Loan offices in this area up to $500 can be obtained for clothing, fuel, home or auto repairs, or any worthy purpose. Most loans are made in one day on the borrower's name only or other plans.

Godfrey's Four Shots Fail to Get Buck

DETROIT (AP) — Radio-television performer Arthur Godfrey missed four shots at bucks on the opening day of Michigan's deer-hunting season yesterday. He said he would try his luck again today.

His companion, Gen. Curtis Lemay, commanding general of the Strategic Air Command, fired shoulder to shoulder with Godfrey and he missed too.

Train Schedule Quickly Changes Opera's Route

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The script for the opera Cavalleria Rusticanna calls for the heroine, Santuzza, to fall dead in the finale —but the script didn't reckon with a tight train schedule.

Irene Jordan sang the leading soprano role here last night. She had counted on the one-act opera being over by 9:20 p.m. and made reservations on a train leaving at 9:42, the only accommodation she could get to Olean, N. Y., where she gives a concert tonight.

The opera started late. By 9:30 Santuzza was still very much alive and Miss Jordan had to rush off, in full costume, to catch her train.

Women Voters to Hear Hougen

Superintendent to Tell Why 7 School Districts in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Reasons for the seven school districts existing in the township and problems arising from the situation will be discussed by Dr. Leif Hougen, school superintendent, before the League of Women Voters tomorrow.

* * *

Dr. Hougen will speak on school organization within the township with specific reference to the West Bloomfield School District.

Progress reports will also be given by committee chairmen for the league's "Know Your Township" survey.

Heading the committees are Mrs. Carmi Odell, present form of government; Mrs. G. E. Covey, public health and sanitation; Mary Lee Hawkes, public welfare; Mrs. J. S. Couzens, education; Mrs. F. A. Shaw, recreation; and Mrs. Graham Overgard, political organizations and elections.

* * *

Research for data on police and fire protection will be furnished by Roosevelt School students under a high school instructor.

Also, the West Bloomfield Planning Board will submit material covering the township's appearance and its future.

The meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m. in West Bloomfield Town Hall.

Deer Cooperates in Shortening Hunt

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Luther E. Fick may have been the first Michigan deer hunter to get a buck, but he got help from the deer.

* * *

The Soo hunter left home before sunup Sunday. A buck rammed into his car on M-28, about 16 miles west of here at 6:10 a.m. Fick stopped and waited for sunrise.

Fick tracked the injured deer to a nearby field. He killed the six-pointer and returned home shortly after sunrise.

Ex-Ambassador to Israel at Bond Sale Banquet Here

By LULA OGDEN

The Jewish community of Pontiac was represented by about 200 persons at the "Bonds For Israel" banquet Sunday evening at B'nai Israel Congregation social hall. Purchase of one or more bonds was the admission charge.

Guest speakers were James G. McDonald, first ambassador to the State of Israel, and Rabbi Charles E. Shulman of New York City.

McDonald, known as a great humanitarian, told of the struggles of the State of Israel during its five years of independence and of the remarkable progress that has been made. McDonald is of Scotch ancestry.

He told of the perilous situations now existing, with the Arab countries of Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon almost marking time for the downfall of Israel, with their boycott of trade and travel.

The Arab countries also feel that the burden of some 800,000 refugees that have taken asylum in Israel up to the present time is a load they will not be able to cope with, said McDonald.

"In keeping its doors wide open for the oppressed, Israel is fulfilling a Jewish tradition of compassion for those in need," the former ambassador said.

He pointed out that members of the Jewish faith in this country who enjoy prosperity and peace must give support to Israel. This is an essential to peace, he claimed.

McDonald said that the purchase of bonds was not UJA, but was an investment backed by traditional integrity and this money was not being used for luxuries but to bolster the economic super-structure of the country.

The bond dollars will be used for railroads, power for industry, and desert irrigation.

"Back of the Bonds for Israel is the pledge of the people of Israel that they will literally plow them into the economy of the country," he said.

In buying these bonds, Jews of this country will hearten Israel and prove to the Arab countries that they have no intention of deserting Israel.

Harold S. Goldberg, local chairman, presided at the banquet. He introduced Rabbi Henry Hoschander, host, who gave the invocation after the group had sung the "Star Spangled Banner," and Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, who pronounced the benediction.

Also at the speaker's table was Meyer Simon, chairman of the reception committee. He introduced Rabbi Shulman who made an eloquent plea for the sale of bonds.

Guests of the Congregation, also at the speaker's table, were Judge and Mrs. George Hartrick and Judge H. Russel Holland, Jacob Kovinsky, honorary chairman of the band sale, and Lewis Castle of Flint.

4-Car Collision Injures Man

Thrown From Auto by Impact, L. P. Callahan in Fair Condition

A four-car collision on Auburn avenue near Adams road Sunday hospitalized an Avon Township man who was thrown from his car by the force of the crash, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Lawrence P. Callahan, 31, of 3437 Auburn Ave., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a skull fractured, possible concussion and cuts and bruises. His condition today is fair, the hospital reports.

The driver of the car which collided with Callahan's auto has not been located, deputies said. A passenger in the auto, Troy Smith Scott, 37, of 3373 Auburn Ave., Auburn Heights, denied being the auto's operator, according to Deputy Homer Kelly.

Scott, who did not name the driver, pleaded guilty today of being drunk and disorderly and was fined $25 and $15 costs by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

The car, after striking the rear of Callahan's auto, careened into a parked car owned by Marvin Hawkins, 21, of 87 E. Huron St., and the two autos smashed into another parked car owned by Sam Fidamis, 58, of 402 E. Beverly Ave.

Area Livestock in Chicago Fair

Rochester, Clyde Farms to Enter International Exposition Nov. 27

Two Oakland County farms will have entries in this year's Internation Livestock Exposition at Chicago beginning Nov. 27.

Howard L. McGregor, representing the nationally known Great Oaks Stock Farms of Rochester, has entered a show string of ten purebred Aberdeen-Angus cattle in the contests for that breed.

Knobby Hills Farms, near Clyde, will also exhibit Angus cattle.

The exposition, the topmost agricultural event in the nation, will run eight days in the six-acre International Amphitheatre. Entries have been listed from prominent ranches and farms in 36 states and several Canadian provinces.

Four Injured Here as 2 Cars Collide

Two persons were hospitalized and two others suffered minor cuts and bruises in an auto accident Sunday at Bloomfield and Nebraska Aves.

Reported in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Mrs. Estell Pruitt, 42, admitted for observation, and L. C. Lewis, 30, of 406 Bloomfield Ave., who was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured leg and cuts.

Mrs. Pruitt was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband J. L. Pruitt, 43, of 234 Rapid St., and Lewis was riding in an auto driven by Fuller Isaac, 36, of 406 Bloomfield Ave., who suffered cuts. Also riding with Isaac was Sam Dunn, 23, of the same address, who was slightly hurt.

Both drivers told Pontiac Police they were unable to avoid the collision as both cars were passing through the intersection.

British Ship Boarded

HONG KONG (AP)—The British freighter Hydralock radioed today it was intercepted again by an unidentified gunboat and boarded in the Formosan Straits off the Red China seaport of Amoy.

The 365-ton vessel was released a few hours later, it said, after the boarding party checked the manifest.

"We Appreciate Trucks..."

Says Harvey Campbell,
Executive Vice President
Detroit Board of Commerce

"YOU'LL see a campaign some of these days," Mr. Campbell points out in THE DETROITER, "selling highway transport—trucks, that is—to women and children.

"Such tender folks should say a prayer of gratitude every time they see a truck. They should thank Providence whenever grace is said at table because without trucks we wouldn't eat—would have no clothing, shelter, comfort, fun—or newspapers.

"Small towns, deserted by railroads, have grown, prospered and made ours a pleasant and prosperous land — saved by motor trucks.

"Aircraft, steamship and railroad operators should help preserve and encourage highway transport planners and thank them for their existence, because without trucks nobody could load a boxcar, ship or plane.

"Get our point? We appreciate trucks—and truckers."

Civilians Now in Pentagon Work on Major Changes

Tackling Tremendous Task of Reorganization and Costs

By ROGER STEWART
Staff Writer, New York World-Telegram and Sun

WASHINGTON—To the casual eye, the Pentagon, vast nerve center of America's armed might, remains about the same as it was, say, a year ago, when a Democratic administration was running things.

Physically, there is little difference. The huge, five-sided concrete doughnut doesn't change much from year to year.

But inside, where important decisions are made on matters of strategy, personnel, arms procurement, spending, and so on, there's been a big change.

Today, a reorganization of the agency has taken place, and a new team is on the job.

Making of Policy in Civilian Hands

It's a civilian team, with emphasis on business brains and business techniques — all of which is in complete accord with American tradition.

From the dawn of the republic — with occasional exceptions — Uncle Sam has left policy-making up to his civilian leaders, while operations — the technical task of running the various branches of the armed forces—have been entrusted to military and naval experts.

The shift in approach, insofar as managing today's complex defense program is concerned, is as different from last year's way of doing things as the historic difference between Gen. George B. McClellan's cautious method of fighting (but not winning) the Civil War and that of the hard-hitting general who took his place (and won) — U. S. Grant.

Seeks to Cut Costs, Increase Defense

Assuming office at a time when the administration is seeking to do seemingly opposite things—cut the cost of defense and increase the effectiveness of the various services — the new team has a stupendous task to face.

Significantly, in devising strategy to lick both problems, the recently invoked reorganization of the defense establishment provided for both a decentralization of civilian administration and an increased centralization of authority in the newly reconstituted Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, "captain" of the new defense team, found himself in some difficulty when he sought confirmation by the Senate last January.

He has been the center of controversy ever since — in large measure because of his determination to cut expenses.

Insists It's Possible, Picks Able Men

His insistence on reducing appropriations for the Air Force by about $5,000,000,000, for example, has stirred up an argument which undoubtedly will go on until (1) either he proves his thesis that the country can have "more defense for less money" or (2) his line of reasoning eventually is proved to have been faulty.

Wilson has no doubt whatever that he is right and will so demonstrate in the long run.

Known as a strong executive when he headed the giant General Motors Corp. before entering President Eisenhower's Cabinet, he has shown no sign so far that the controversy has caused him to lose faith in himself or in his program.

Even so, he has taken care to select a team of assistants whose combined experience, administrative ability and farsightedness rate extremely high.

The reorganized plan calls for, among other things, a group of nine assistant secretaries of defense.

All nine posts now have been filled, each occupied by an outstanding civilian expert in one or more phases of administration.

The last name to membership in this group, for example, is former Sen. Frederick A. Seaton of Nebraska, who recently took office as Assistant Secretary for legislative and public affairs.

A newspaper publisher who served as operations chief of the Eisenhower campaign last year, he is in a particularly good spot to deal with senators, since, as a former senator himself, he will have the "privilege of the floor" at the Capitol.

The other eight assistant secretaries include:

W. J. McNeil (assistant secretary and comptroller), who was a rear admiral and fiscal director of the Navy in World War II.

A native of Boone, Iowa, he served in high civilian posts under Defense Secretaries James Forrestal, Louis Johnson, George Marshall and Robert Lovett.

He is responsible for all budget, accounting, reporting, auditing and fiscal activities of the Defense Department.

Frank C. Nash (assistant secretary for international security affairs).

An authority on unification — having served in this capacity under Secretary Forrestal — Nash is a lawyer who also has had experience as deputy U. S. representative to the United Nations. Now 43, he was born in Syracuse, N. Y.

John A. Hannah (assistant secretary for manpower and personnel).

Formerly president of Michigan State College, his responsibilities are especially heavy because of the shortage of available manpower coupled with the need to increase enlistments and draft quotas to provide replacements for veterans of the Korean War.

A resident of Independence, Mo., Thomas served as undersecretary of the Navy for six months before assuming his present post.

Before that, he headed a chain of men's clothing stores and had other business interests.

Donald A. Quarles (assistant secretary for research and development).

A resident of Brooklyn, Newbury worked for Westinghouse Electric Co. for 45 years, advancing from apprentice engineer to vice president and a member of the board of directors. He is 73, the oldest member of the team.

Franklin G. Floete (assistant secretary for properties and installations).

Melvin A. Casberg (assistant secretary, health and medical).

Kyes Is Wilson's Right-Hand Man

These, then, are the hand-picked assistants who have been named to work directly under Secretary Wilson and his deputy, Roger Kyes, in improving the department's organization and in supervising the Army, Navy and Air Force in their respective fields.

As for Kyes, he is Wilson's right-hand man in the defense setup, just as he used to be his right-hand man in General Motors.

In addition to this Defense Department team there are, of course, Secretaries of the Army (Robert T. Stevens), Navy (Robert B. Anderson) and Air Force (Harold E. Talbott).

Each of these officials is aided by an undersecretary and two assistant secretaries.

Altogether, the Pentagon "hierarchy" now includes Wilson and 23 civilian officials, together with the four-member Joint Chiefs of Staff, all of whom are professional military men.

The latter group consists of Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff; Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff.

28 Men Face Task Greatest on Record

It is to these 28 men that the nation now looks to maintain an efficient, well-organized, well-balanced military establishment.

The task they face, in this era of the hydrogen bomb and a tense international situation, is the most difficult that any comparable group of Americans ever stacked up against.

One aspect of the complex problems that must be solved concerns the Army's efforts to modernize itself in line with President Eisenhower's demand for reforms in all the armed services.

A five-member study group, named late in August by Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, now is at work looking into such matters as the service's top organization (to determine, among other things, whether the frequently criticized general staff concept is sound), the relationship of field commands to headquarters.

Also the structure of the six Army commands in the U. S. and all overseas commands, research and development, and the technical services, including finance, medical and ordnance divisions, and the engineers, quartermaster, signal and transportation corps.

Improvements Due After Big Changes

The committee itself includes four industrialists, headed by Paul L. Davies, president of a California food machinery and chemical company, and a military representative, Lt. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, deputy chief of staff for plans and operations.

Out of this study is expected to come not only administrative improvements and command reforms, but also recommendations for basic changes in the Army which can be achieved only by means of legislation.

The same sort of overhauling has been ordered by Secretary Wilson for all three branches of the armed forces.

He particularly wants to see improvements made in the Army, Navy and Air Force divisions concerned with procurement and supply, distribution of munitions, and inventory and accounting.

Only when these things have been accomplished will it be possible for the defense secretary and his Pentagon team to demonstrate whether the more-defense for-less-money idea really works.

PENTAGON QUARTERBACK—Whether it's jet planes, right, or Army procurement, the policy-making for the services is now under the leadership of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

ARMED FORCES HUB—The sprawling Pentagon is where top-level military planning is made. Signals for the vast organization are now being called by civilians.

Editor Questions What Is Meaning of 'Natural' Allies

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When Henry Cabot Lodge was battling in the U. N. to limit the Korean peace conference to those nations that had borne an active part in the Korean War, the cry went up that we were offending our "natural" allies by our intransigence.

In holding out against the desires of India, Britain and others to include "neutrals" at the peace table, we were, according to Lodge's "liberal" critics, in danger of "winning a precinct and losing the world."

The word "natural," however, as used by Lodge's critics, will hardly bear inspection. Is Nehru our "natural" ally when he exhibits a shortsighted willingness to abet the linked imperialisms of China's Mao Tse-tung and Russia's Malenkov? Are France and Britain our "natural" allies when they behave as though our defensive positions in the Western Pacific were utterly unimportant?

Use of the word "natural," as applied by Lodge's critics to Britain, France and India, implies that there is an immutable political order in the mid-twentieth century world—an order making changes in "natural allies" forever impossible.

But if there is anything certain in this world besides death and taxes, it is that the "natural" allies of yesteryear are not necessarily the "natural" allies of tomorrow.

War, as Napolean said, is a matter of positions — and when a new enemy arises, it may mean that new allies are needed to guarantee the safety of new positions around the globe.

Is there anything monstrous about saying this? With memories of the cruelties practised by Germany and Japan in World War II, it might seem so. But a glance at history must dispel the idea that the monsters of yesterday are necessarily the monsters of tomorrow.

For hundreds of years the French were regarded as wicked men by Englishmen. (England, in turn was "perfidious Albion" to the French.) When Napoleon Bonaparte ruled Europe from Lithuania to Spain, English mothers used the threat that "Boney will get you" as an ace card in their attempts to establish nursery discipline.

"Boney" was the Hitler of his day. And the Britishers of one hundred and fifty years ago turned to Germany as a "natural" ally in the campaign that was ultimately to unseat Napolean at Waterloo. It took Bismarck to upset the balance.

Today, with the rise of Soviet Communism, Germany and Japan have gone the way of post-Napoleonic France: they are no longer strong enough by themselves to menace anybody of consequence. They lack the raw materials and the geographical space needed to support strong war machines in the age of jet planes and atomic weapons.

By themselves, Germany and Japan could conquer neither Russia, nor the U. S., nor any combination of western powers. They have become pawns on the board of world politics.

The Germans and the Japanese can read history. They know that there is only a limited amount of safety in a buffer, or neutral, position.

When war comes between strong and implacable enemies, "buffer" positions tend to disappear. Sooner or later the Germans and the Japanese will choose something safer than mere neutrality. They will not declare for the U. S., if our statesmen fail to treat them as "natural" friends.

McCarthy Plans College Penalty

Schools Not Eliminating Balky Witnesses Would Stand Financial Loss

BANGOR, Maine, (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) says colleges that won't fire uncooperative witnesses stand to lose financially under legislation he is preparing.

The Senate's investigations subcommittee chairman said his staff has been instructed to draft a bill that would remove tax exemptions from foundation funds given to colleges and universities which employ faculty members who invoke the fifth amendment.

The fifth amendment to the U. S. Constitution, permitting individuals to refuse to testify on grounds of possible self-incrimination, has been used numerous times by witnesses questioned by McCarthy's committee.

McCarthy said in an interview last night he plans to introduce the measure the first of next year.

The Wisconsin senator, bound by air for New York City today after a Maine speaking tour, said:

"Of course many foundations and their expenditures are very fine. This legislation wouldn't affect their good work.

"But if a foundation gave money to an educational institution that kept on its teaching staff fifth amendment personnel or espionage agents, it would lose its tax exemption and any contributions to the foundation by individuals no longer would be deductible for income tax purposes."

McCarthy said Harvard University—"once a great university"—was one institution receiving funds of the type which his proposed bill could affect.

McCarthy said he told Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey that Harvard Professor Wendell Furry had refused to answer questions about Communist association.

He said Pusey replied that freedom-of-thought considerations prevent discharge of personnel merely for making use of the fifth amendment.

Republicans to Map Strategy Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strategy for the 1954 session of Congress will be mapped at talks Dec. 10-12 between President Eisenhower, members of his Cabinet and Republican congressional leaders.

This was announced last Saturday by Sen. Knowland of California, GOP Senate leader. He said legislation agreed upon at the December talks "should be expedited."

Knowland said the first bill to be considered by the Senate in January presumably will be one to authorize U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence seaway. Canada has said she will build the seaway alone if Congress again refuses to authorize U. S. participation.

Talbott Keeps Mum on A-Bomb Storage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Talbott, back from an overseas inspection tour, is not talking about any storing of atomic weapons at projected U.S. bases in Spain.

Talbott, who arrived in Washington yesterday with Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan Twining, told newsmen: "I can't discuss it."

He was referring to a statement, attributed to him recently at Madrid and later disclaimed by him as a misquote, that atomic weapons would be available eventually at the Spanish bases. Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson have said there are no such plans.

Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, is in Madrid now to inspect the base sites.

Detroiter, 65, Slugged, Dies Later in Hospital

DETROIT (UP)—Detective Lt. Thomas Cochill of the homicide bureau said today robbery apparently was the motive in the bludgeon slaying of Joseph Ilkewicz.

Ilkewicz, a 65-year-old Volunteers of America shoemaker, was found unconscious in an alley early Sunday and died shortly after he was admitted to Receiving Hospital. Doctors said he suffered a skull fracture, several broken ribs and numerous cuts and bruises.

Charles Gets Sick With the Humility, All Because Nomineering Backfires

Yesterday my Aunt Frieda called up and invited me to dinner. "Is tonight potted meatballs," she said.

When I got there, I found the meatballs hadn't been potted. My Uncle Charlie, however, was.

BILLY ROSE

Face down, he was stretched out on the parlor couch, one shoe on and one off.

"He is drunk like a whole boat sailors," said my aunt. "He drank a full bottle cooking brandy."

"What made him do it?" I said.

"He is suffering from a bad case humility," said Frieda.

"Tell it from the beginning," I said.

"Okie-duck," said my aunt. "Last night at 10 o'clock is taking place the election of officers at the Nonsectarian Pinochle and Poker Club. Your uncle is deciding to be president, and so accordingly he is inviting to the house for dinner Mordecai Slifkin, his campaign manager, for the purpose Slifkin should practice up the nomineering speech.

"Well, after the coffee Slifkin is getting on a chair and saying, 'Gentlemen, this man is considerate to his fellow humans and even total strangers. I give you your friend and my friend — our next president—all hail, Charlie!'

" 'A fine speech,' says your uncle, 'but after you are making it I will tell the members I am not choosing to run.'

" 'This is crazy talk,' says Slifkin, 'If you are not choosing, why should I make a speech?'

" 'Because, like you are saying, I am smart like a fox,' says Charlie. 'Abe Greenfield, my opposition, will likewise be claiming to be brave, clean and reverent. So, to nail up the election, I must show I got something he ain't. Namely, humility. You ever heard from Caesar?'

"Three times he is nominated and three times he is giving a refusal. This is showing so much humility that the citizens are lifting him to the shoulders and making him the king. Tonight this likewise I am doing, and getting a bigger percentage than Eisenhower.'

* * *

"So Charlie and Mordecai is going to the meeting. There Slifkin is making his speech, and your uncle is rising on the platform and saying, 'My friends and wisherwells, honored I am but fit I ain't. What you got to find is a man smarter, more good-looking, even, if possible, a better pinochole player. In all due respect, I am declining.'

* * *

"Well, Abe Greenfield, the competition, is not being fooled by Charlie's tricks. 'In the department of humility,' he is hollering, 'like in the department of pinochle, Charlie has got me beat to little frazzles. I likewise am declining.'

"Three times this is happening, and everyone is knowing it is a contest to see whose humility will wear out first.

"But suddenly up jumps a fly in the borscht—a nobody by the name Sam Pfeffer, 'Fella members,' he is shouting, 'maybe being president of our club ain't good enough for these two high-tone gentlemen.

"Well, there is one chappie in this room who ain't got a head too big to fill the president's boots —namely and to wit, yours truly, little Sammy Pfeffer.'

"Well, what happens," said Frieda, "ain't hard to guess. The members is putting it right away to a vote and Pfeffer is winning it landsliding. The vote was anonymous, and so even your uncle is now sick with the humility."

Russian Pens New Poem on Comrade Robin Hood

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said a splendid new poem entitled "A New Ballad on Robin Hood" was published today the the Communist newspaper Pravda, and the news made the autumn leaves quiver in Sherwood Forest.

The Moscow report came amid charges made lately in Indianapolis, Ind., that the legendary Robin Hood was a kind of prototype of a Communist and that American children shouldn't read about him.

Mrs. Thomas White, member of an Indiana commission which advises on text books, said the story of the outlaw who robbed the rich to give to the poor smears the idea of law and order, and follows the Communist line.

Sherwood Forest, near Nottingham, was Robin Hood's hideout, and if he were operating in this age, the squad cars of Nottingham Sheriff William Cox would be chasing him up and down the woodland lanes. He probably would escape by scampering up a tree.

But today, Russian poems notwithstanding, Sheriff Cox defended the memory of the amiable bandit. Nottingham likes him, "and so do good children in every land," the sheriff said.

Moscow radio did not broadcast the text of the new ballad, the author of which was reported to be N. Gribachev. But, if the ballad tries to make a commissar out of him or brings in something about the Volga, it perverts an honest and a lovely legend, Cox said.

The sheriff said he has had to answer numerous inquiries from America since Mrs. White made her charges.

"I have told all inquirers that the Communists will never be able to steal Robin Hood," the sheriff said. "There is no record in my files hinting that any member of his band was a Communist.

Man, 69, Loses 4-Block Race to Policeman

DETROIT (AP)—Steve Gurich used to be quite a sprinter in his younger days, but at 69 admits he is slowing up a bit.

It all started when a pedestrian dropped a $10 bill which blew down the street. Gurich picked it up and took off, with Patrolman Elliott in pursuit.

The officer won the foot race, returned the $10 to its owner and took slow-footed Gurich off to the calaboose.

Insurance Engineers on Icebox Lookout

NEW YORK (AP)—The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, reporting that 28 youngsters have suffocated in abandoned or unused refrigerators this year, is asking insurance engineers to watch out for the boxes.

The association said over the weekend that the engineers have been asked to remove door hinges or render locks unworkable if they find any of the refrigerators while on their rounds.

At least 81 refrigerator deaths have occurred in the past eight years, the association said.

9-Year-Old Girl Kills Brother With 'Toy' Gun

DETROIT (AP) — Nine-year-old Gladys Simmons, shot and killed her two-year-old brother yesterday with what she thought was a "toy" pistol.

The brother, Jesse Simmons Jr., was shot as he rode his tricycle as the two were at play near their home.

Police said the small boy had apparently found the pistol in an alley near the home.

LCC May Curb Military Liquor

Appeals to U. S. About the Retail Reselling of Untaxed Alcohol

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Liquor Control Commission today launched a drive to prevent liquor, purchased state-tax-free by the state's 39 military establishments, from being resold to bars and retail distributors.

Harold M. Kinder, commission business manager, said Michigan had joined 15 other states in appealing to the Defense Department to end the resale practice.

Kinder explained military establishments have been buying their liquor directly from distillers and thus have escaped the state's 44 per cent markup and sales tax. He estimated they purchase about 1,100 cases a month.

"We don't know how much of the liquor was resold, but reports were popping up thick and fast for a while that it was turning up where it shouldn't — especially at bars near military bases," Kinder said.

He said the state proposed to the Defense Department that all future purchases of liquor by Michigan Military Units should be made through the state liquor monopoly, rather than direct from distillers.

He said the state would sell at a "reasonable discount" to the military.

Kinder explained that special retail distributors, bars, charitable organizations and some others of the commission's customers now get their liquor at from 10 to 22 per cent below retail price. He said military establishments are getting liquor even cheaper than that.

As a temporary measure to halt the flow of illegal liquor to bars near military bases, the state has required that distillers selling to the military place a special 5-cent red tag on each bottle.

Search On in North for Jail Escapees

CHARLEVOIX (UP)—A search was under way today for three men who escaped from Charlevoix County Jail by rushing past a turnkey who was transferring them to individual cells.

The escapees were identified as Sam Marsh, 28, Williamsburg; Edward Shenoskey, 18, St. Ignace, and Charles Noah, 17, Charlevoix. Sheriff Floyd Ikens said all three were serving 10-day larceny sentences.

Ikens said the trio escaped Saturday night when the turnkey unlocked a cellblock door.

U.S. Man Gets Danish Scolding

Informed sources said that the general, during three days of conversations with Denmark's Greenland Department, had been "called on the carpet" because "certain scientific investigations" had been carried out by the U.S. bases in Greenland without Danish permission.

All scientific work in Greenland must be approved by a special Danish commission. Nature of the scientific activity was not indicated.

The sources said that Gen. Myers admitted the activity had actually taken place and promised to see that no such thing happened in the future. This satisfied the Danes.

Reports that the "scientific investigations" took place in the area of Soendrestroemf (Bluie West 8) could not be confirmed here.

There was no indication of other subjects discussed during the general's visit to Denmark.

Hatcher Pledges Help for Probe

Doubts Very Many at U. of M. Will Be Found Pro-Red Suspects

ANN ARBOR (AP)—President Harlan H. Hatcher doubts that "any great number of people" from the University of Michigan will be involved in a Michigan investigation of communism by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

But Hatcher pledged his full cooperation. And he also announced he would call a special meeting of student leaders and faculty members to work out methods of dealing with student loyalty cases that might develop because of the probe.

The investigation, likely to begin in Detroit in January, will be conducted by an un-American activities subcommittee headed by Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich).

Clardy said Saturday the number to be summoned from the University of Michigan would be "surprising and distressing to the public, but not alarming to the committee."

"The committee," Hatcher said, "appears to be going back great distances in time, but I cannot conceive of a 'distressing' number of Communists or Communist front activities on the campus today."

The faculty senate, with approval of the board of regents, last month voted to give Hatcher authority to initiate on his own, action against any faculty member whose loyalty he might question.

Greek King, Queen on Way to Arizona

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The King and Queen of Greece are en route to Arizona's Grand Canyon this morning after a crowded weekend in Los Angeles that included visits to movie studios, their first view of American football and attendance at church services.

The royal pair left by train yesterday afternoon and are scheduled to arrive at the Grand Canyon this morning on another lap of their American goodwill tour. They are scheduled to make their next public appearance Wednesday at Houston, Tex.

Heavy Rains Precede Typhoon Into Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Heavy, wind-blown rains leading a typhoon soaked the Philippine's northeast coastal area today as the big storm and its 100-mile-an-hour winds neared Luzon Island.

The typhoon was 230 miles northeast of Manila in early afternoon, moving about 13 m. p. h. toward the fertile Isabella and Cagayan shoreline area.

Ancient Egyptians considered the cat an important person, and when one died, it was mummified and buried in a cat cemetery. The Egyptians took care of its needs in after life by burying mummified mice and little saucers of milk with it.

Hollywood City Celebrating 50th Birthday

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Happy birthday to Hollywood. It's officially 50 years old today.

Fifty years ago, the voters—all 165 of them—streamed to the polls to vote on whether the city of Hollywood, Calif., should be incorporated. On Nov. 16, 1903, the votes were counted. Incorporation had won, 88 to 77.

This month Hollywood is celebrating its golden anniversary with a historical exhibit, banquets and special TV shows. Hollywood's only daily newspaper, the Citizen-News, put out a special edition to signalize the event, and it is filled with interesting notes about the town's history. For instance:

How did the town get its name? A successful Kansas businessman came to California to establish a ranch home near Los Angeles. His wife, Mrs. Harvey Wilcox, took a train trip east and met a woman who talked about her summer home near Chicago. It was called Hollywood. Mrs. Wilcox liked the name and gave it to her California ranch. . . .

There was a pineapple plantation in mid-Hollywood during the 1880's. Toward the end of the 19th century, the area was a center of lemon growing. Some folks think the principal industry here hasn't changed much. . .

Hollywood's incorporation did not last long. In 1910, citizenss voted to annex Hollywood to Los Angeles. The principal reason was that Hollywood couldn't provide adequate sewers and water for itself. . . .

One of the laws passed during the town's brief independence was a speed limit for all vehicles: 12 miles per hour in the straight-away, 6 miles per hour around corners. . . .

The first movie studio was established in the Blondeau Tavern at Sunset and Gower (now the site of CBS) in 1910. Within three months, there were 15 other film companies in the area. . . .

The first TV station was Don Lee's experimental W 6 X A O, which went on the air Dec. 23, 1931. Among the firsts recorded by the station: The first reception of TV in an airplane, 1932; The first full length movie on TV, 1933; The first coverage of a disaster—the Long Beach earthquake of 1933. . . .

In 1903 there were seven small grammar schools in Hollywood, but the closest high school was an hour's hike away. The population had been bolstered by 70 births in one year, so the city fathers decided a high school was needed. In September of 1903, 36 teenagers met in a store room which was the beginning of Hollywood High School. Among the disinguished alumni: Lana Turner, Joel McCrea, Judy Garland, John Wayne, Carole Lombard. . . .

Recent surveys show that a third of Hollywood's 165,000 residents attend church weekly. Eighty per cent of the remainder go to church from one to 26 times a year. Hollywood has always been a strong church town. The first was the Hollywood Christian Church, built in 1888. Today's First Presbyterian Church has over 6,000 members, making it the largest of that denomination in the world. . . .

In 1892, you would stay at a hotel for $12 a week, and meals were as low as 25 cents, including a bottle of red wine. Money in circulation was mostly silver and gold, including California gold 25 and 50 cent pieces. Pennies were a novelty generally brought by Eastern visitors. . . .

The San Fernando Valley at the turn of the century was "little more than a desert waste. There were a few small villages, and one of them was notorious as a hideout for yeggs. The valley now numbers more than a half-million citizens. . . .

The first real industry in Hollywood was a carpet factory founded in 1908 near the present site of the Hollywood Bowl. Today there are 209 different industries in Hollywood, making everything from aircraft engines to bottle caps.

Has Fatal Heart Attack

CADILLAC (AP)—Rudolph Rother, 58, of Route 1, Martin, died of a heart attack yesterday in Greenwood Township of a short time after he had shot a deer and dragged it part of the way to his auto. Coroner James Yearnd of Cadillac said other members of the hunting party found the body.

Hits U.S. Policy of 'Materialism'

St. Louis Industrialist Says Foreign Policy Has Cost Prestige

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A St. Louis industrialist, once known as the Republican party's "financial angel" in Missouri, charges a foreign policy "based on materialism" has cost this country prestige abroad.

Edgar M. Queeny, chairman of the board of Monsanto Chemical Co., leveled his criticism at the administration in a company publication, Monsanto Magazine, released yesterday.

• • •

Queeny was critical of State Department policy that "sends materialists to win friends in lands where spiritual values rank higher." As a result, he said, the United States has lost intead of gained prestige while government representatives continue the practice of "tossing a handful of money around."

The industrialist recently returned from a worldwide trip that included an extended Korea stopover for the American-Korean Foundation and was a member of a world tour group headed by Gen. James Van Fleet.

The American-Korean Foundation is a private group suggested by President Eisenhower and headed by his brother, Milton Eisenhower.

Queeny, who in the past has made sizable contributions to the state GOP and contributed freely to the party's national fund, cited in his report numerous cases of what he called excess spending by American "diplomats" and "experts" in Korea and elsewhere.

He said the American Mission in Korea staff lodged in 375 of Seoul's "better homes" leased by the AMIK and said staff members were provided with two or three servants each, free rent, free household repairs and redecorations, free telephones and taxi service, tax-free gasoline, cigarettes "and liquor—40,000 a month of tax-free liquor."

• • •

Queeny was not critical of money spent in direct aid to Koreans but charged that this country's contributions greatly exceeded that of other nations.

The ultimate result of expenditures under present conditions, he charged, would create "complete socialism in Korea."

"I would like to see an end of the U. N. farce in Korea," he said while noting that he does not regard himself as an isolationist or anti-British.

"If we could unshackle ourselves from the United Nations in this area," he said, "all official Korean rehabilitation agencies could be administered more efficiently and economically by Americans."

Queeny also suggested that his company and other American firms should be approached on a "without profit" basis for an economically justified project in a field in which its personnel is competent to help in the rehabilitation of Korea.

Offer Refund on Hoax Spy Story; Will Sell as Novel

NEW YORK, (UP)—Publishers of "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" prepared today to continue selling the book as a novel while offering refunds to the 10,000 persons who bought it as a true story.

Bennett Cerf, president of Random House Publishers, acted yesterday after the weekend admission of the "hero" of the story that it was all a hoax.

Author Quentin Reynolds wrote the book as the story of George Dupre, of Calgary, Alta., Canada. Dupre told a tale of torture at the hands of the Nazis during imaginary service in the French underground as a British spy.

Dupre broke down Friday under the questioning of a reporter and said he had been carried away by a desire to prove to the young "that a man with faith can endure anything—even death."

Cerf said yesterday that all who bought the book, which came out about three weeks ago, could have the $2.75 purchase price back if they want it. Cerf also said that a new printing of 2,500 copies now on the presses will be revised to include an explanation of the incident.

Reynolds yesterday said another explanation would be carried in the January issue of the Reader's Digest. This magazine published a condensed version of the Dupre tale in its November issue.

Word of the hoax brought expressions of "fantastic" from Reynolds and "extraordinary" from Dewitt Wallace, the publisher of Reader's Digest. Random House also was bewildered.

Reynolds said he carefully checked Dupre's background and reputation before writing the story. Wallace said he thought any reporter would have accepted the story.

Doug Collins, a reporter for the Calgary Herald exposed the hoax after the newspaper decided to question Dupre about a photograph produced by a Royal Canadian Air Force veteran. The photo showed the veteran and Dupre in Victoria in the RCAF at the time Dupre supposedly was in Nazi hands in France.

Collins, who had worked with British Intelligence, quickly tripped Dupre on details of the service.

Greenlease Jury Selection Starts

Federal Panel to Decide if Kidnapers Get Death or Life Imprisonment

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Selection of a federal jury starts today for a hearing that will determine whether the kidnap-slayers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease shall die in the gas chamber.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, playboy wastrel, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, housewife turned alcoholic, already have pleaded guilty to violating the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

The couple is subject to life imprisonment or death under the statute. The death sentence must be recommended by a jury.

• • •

U. S. Dist. Atty. Edward L. Scheufler has said he would request the death penalty, so the jury was called to hear the evidence.

He said the government would try to show that Hall and Mrs. Heady kidnaped and killed the son of multimillionaire auto dealer, Robert C. Greenlease without any mitigating circumstances.

Twenty subpoenas have been served and up to 200 persons are available to testify for the government, Scheufler said.

• • •

U. S. Dist. Judge Albert L. Reeves has indicated he believes the evidence can be presentd in a short time.

Judge Reeves appointed Roy K. Dietrich, president of the Kansas City Lawyers Assn., to represent Hall. Mrs. Heady's attorney is Harold Hull of Maryville, Mo.

Dietrich has said he does not know yet whether the defendants will testify. He said that "depends on what the United States attorney does in the case."

• • •

Mrs. Heady admitted luring little Bobby from a private school in Kansas City, Mo. She and Hall took him across the state line into Kansas, where he was shot to death in a field Sept. 28. The body was buried in a grave already dug behind Mrs. Heady's house in St. Joseph, Mo.

Six days later the couple obtained a record $600,000 ransom from the boy's father. But within two days the pair was caught in St. Louis after a drunken spree. About half the ransom was recovered. The couple denies knowing where the rest of the money is.

Bus Driver Lends an Assist to Stork

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — A bus driver, on a trip from Florence to Phoenix, came out with an extra passenger recently — a seven pound, 10-ounce baby boy whom he delivered en route.

Driver Lee M. Mull, 39, of Phoenix, said the first indication of his predicament was when another passenger told him, "A lady back there in the bus is having a baby."

Mull stopped at Florence Junction, got sterilized scissors, string and a bottle of alcohol, and proceeded to deliver the infant. The mother, Mrs. Carmen Flores, of Phoenix, and son were "doing fine" when they arrived at a Phoenix hospital by ambulance an hour later.

"I wasn't a bit nervous, but that little squirt bellowed just like a bull," said Mull.

Urge Changes in Tax Suits

House Investigators Ask Remedy of Duplication in Litigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax fraud investigators today urged "immediate and drastic remedies" for costly delays and duplication of effort in federal tax lawsuits.

They asserted that existing divided responsibility for tax cases between the Treasury and Justice departments puts "undue burdens" on taxpayers and should be revised to give the Internal Revenue Service greater authority.

• • •

In the second of a series of reports on a two-year investigation of the Internal Revenue Service, a ways and means subcommittee said it found duplication of effort "in every activity" in which the Tax Division of the Justice Department participated.

"The consequent delays both prejudice the government's chances in litigation and impose undue burdens on the taxpayer," the report stated.

"The waste of manpower reduces the number of cases which the government can litigate.

"Effective coordination of tax policy is not being achieved."

• • •

The sub-committee named no names in its report. A featured witness during its hearings was T. Lamar Caudle, former assistant attorney general in charge of the Tax Division. In November 1951 he resigned at the request of former President Truman, who said he had "outside activities" incompatible with his official duties.

The subcommittee recommended, in effect, that the Justice Department's role be cut down and that of the revenue service increased in fixing policy on prosecution of tax cases.

It recommended that the attorney general and secretary of the Treasury get together to end present duplications in the legal review of criminal prosecutions and suits to collect delinquent taxes, suits for tax refunds, appeals, and handling of offers to settle or compromise tax cases.

• • •

Under the existing setup, the chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Service is charged with processing and screening tax cases prepared by revenue agents.

These cases then go to the Justice Department for prosecution. The department's Tax Division takes jurisdiction over all cases as soon as they go to court.

The subcommittee, however, said that in criminal tax cases the Tax Division's role is limited to approving the proposed prosecution before referring it to a U. S. district attorney.

The report said the Justice Department "blocked" a proposal to eliminate processing of cases by the Tax Division and to have them forwarded directly from the revenue bureau to U. S. attorneys.

Seeks Police Pay Hike

DETROIT (AP) — City Councilman Del Smith, alarmed at the number of police officers who have left the force for better paying jobs, said today he will ask the council to work out a plan providing periodic raises for patrolmen after they reach the present four-year maximum pay of $5,036.

Timbuktu, featured in stories for generations as the ultimate of far-away places, is a drab, sunbaked village on the southern edge of the Sahara desert, about 800 miles from the nearest coast. It is now known as Tombouctou.

RULER—King Saud, 48, is the new monarch of Saudi Arabia, succeeding King Ibn Saud, who died at the age of 73. The oldest of Ibn Saud's approximately 30 living sons, he has been groomed for the succession ever since a royal decrée in 1933 confirmed him as heir apparent.

Londoners Fear Winter, Coming of Deadly Smog

Worried Londoners, who vividly remember last December's doubled death rate, are flooding newspaper officers and Parliament members with letters. They demand quick action to end pollution of the air before winter's fog turns it into throat-catching smog.

* * *

Last week the government announced that Britons with heart or lung diseases would be supplied with free smog masks through the National Health Service.

Medical men say last winter's smogs killed around 12,000 persons, most of them infants or old people.

But some critics say the government's approach to smog has not been nearly urgent enough. They say the government, after announcing it would set up an inquiry commission, took six months to name its members.

* * *

They accuse government inquiries of being notoriously slow in getting things done. Up to Sept. 30, they charge, the smog inquiry commission had held only one meeting.

Any attack on smog must be a slow—and costly—business.

Atmospheric pollution in a big city comes from three main sources: factories, homes and vehicles.

London is trying to cut down chimney smoke in two ways.

* * *

1. It is encouraging factories and householders to install efficient heating systems using smokeless fuel. That's not easy in Britain, where a blazing coal fire is part of the household tradition.

2. "Smokeless zones" are being set up in industrial and commercial areas. Inside these zones, no factory or office block is permitted to belch smoke. This plan has worked well in the provinces.

The vehicles problem is trickier. A vast upsurge in road traffic followed the end of gasoline rationing in 1950 and it hasn't stopped yet. Exhaust fumes hang in narrow city streets and on one has yet thought of a way to shift them.

Three FBI Agents Killed in Collision

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—A car carrying five FBI agents and their bag of five deer from a Wyoming hunt collided with another auto at an intersection north of here yesterday, killing three federal agents.

Another FBI agent and two Iowans, in the other car, remained in critical condition, Decorah Lutheran Hospital reported today. the fifth federal agent and another Iowan also were injured.

Killed were Louis Ewing, 27, Robert J. McMichaels, 30, and Joseph Hughes Jr., 25, all of Chicago. The other agents were George Bavis, 39, in critical condition, and John Mediary, 27, both of Chicago.

Florida Woman Lassoes Alligator as Men Watch

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An unidentified woman yesterday lassoed a four-foot alligator as it crawled along a city street.

He didn't get the woman's name. He called the sea zoo here and an attendant carted the creature away.

Children's Society Aids 97 in County

The Oakland County branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society is caring for 97 youngsters this month, an increase of eight over October, according to Miss Oriel Endelman, executive secretary of the society.

Miss Endelman released the figures yesterday during the society's monthly board of directors' meeting at the Waldron Hotel.

She said six of the children were from broken home situations in which parents requested temporary help while making permanent plans for their children.

Two other youngsters were cared for while the mother had an operation, Miss Endelman said.

Hirohito Escapes Ceiling Collapse; Japs See Omen

TOKYO (AP)—Bored with a television show, Emperor Hirohito walked out of his sitting room to his laboratory, where he studies marine life as a hobby.

Just 1½ hours later, the massive plaster ceiling of the sitting room collapsed. The imperial household today reported the incident, which happened 10 days ago. It shocked the Japanese nation.

It carries a significance here not known in the Western world, for the expression "to let the ceiling fall' is almost the same as "to assassinate the ruler."

The imperial household said no negligence was involved, that perhaps summer rains and damp weather were responsible.

"The construction company is ashamed of the incident and is now doing the job all over again on its own cost," the announcement said.

Lady Loses 36 Lbs. Easily With Rennel

When friends tell you that you are "pleasingly plump" they are trying to be polite and usually are not telling the whole truth. That condition indicates your guard is down and you are making a careless bid to an early end. Why anyone should be so neglectful we will never know. Rennel Concentrate is a quality product and has helped thousands of Mich. users solve the reducing problem. Doctors and insurance experts agree that correct weight is important to good health. Mrs. H. Smith, 1944B Lyndon, Detroit, Mich. substituted action and the use of Rennel for wishful thinking and fretting. She writes, "Due to a heart ailment my doctor advised a drastic reduction in weight. At 34 years of age I was 40 lbs. overweight. I chose Rennel Concentrate as my reducing aid and with its help easily lost 36 lbs. in six months. Once more I am able to do my own housework. After wearing a size 18 dress I am pleased to be able to wear sizes 12 and 14 again."

This prime steel source grows with the automotive industry

Right in the heart of the automotive industry, the steel company set up long ago to become a dependable first source for the car makers is now completing a new stage of growth. Great Lakes Steel—prime supplier of sheet, strip, and other shapes used in vast volume by the motorcar makers—is rounding out an expansion program that increases our annual capacity to four million ingot tons. That's about 25% of the automobile men's total needs for steel : : : and about 40% of their needs for the kinds of steel we make.

The way Great Lakes goes at it—starting with the ore and working it through to the finished forms—steelmaking calls for substantial facilities, even by the standards of the mighty automotive industry. We have our own blast furnaces, bessemers and open hearths; blooming mills; hot and cold rolling mills and merchant mills.

Recent expansion has included a huge new blast furnace, a new slabbing mill, and two new bessemers. Coming up in the next few months are seventy new coking ovens, another new blast furnace, additional finishing facilities, and all the extra handling equipment it takes to make things work together.

Through this integration of operations, Great Lakes has built flexibility and availability unique among steel suppliers. Through this expansion, we mean to take good care of many customers in many fields, while we carry on our service as a dependable first source for the automotive industry.

Michigan Seeks Scoring Punch to Upset OSU

Hopes to End Season on Happy Note Next Saturday

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR, (AP)—Michigan began a frantic search today for the scoring punch that might end the Wolverine season on a happy note next Saturday.

If Coach Bennie Oosterbaan can find it in five days Michigan might upset Ohio State.

But that's about all Michigan can achieve this year.

Saturday, the Wolverines had goal-line fever and lost their third Big Ten game of the season 14-6 to rival Michigan State. The Michigan score was its first touchdown in the last three conference games.

The best Michigan can do now is a 3-3 league record. Worst would be a 2-4 conference mark, and the poorest since Michigan won none out of five in 1936.

A windup victory would put Michigan and Iowa in a tie for fifth. A loss would mean a tie for eighth, with the winner of the Indiana-Purdue game.

Wolverines were in the peculiar position the last two weeks of playing better football than they did early in the season when they piled up five victories.

Saturday, they turned what was billed as "Biggie's revenge" into a hard-fought football game that quieted all talk of a runaway by the high-powered Spartans of coach Biggie Munn.

Fans who came to see MSC avenge the 55-0 Michigan victory of 1947 quickly forgot about that and watched an exhibition of hard, if not spectacular football.

Staters Aren't Too Optimistic Over Chances

Feeling Persists MSC Would Fail in a Vote for Western Trip

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State will have to play an anxious waiting game this week after overcoming a stubborn Michigan defense to defeat the Wolverines 14-6 in the traditional game between the two rivals Saturday.

Biggest thrill for Saturday's sell-out crowd of 52,324 had nothing to do with what was happening in Macklin Stadium.

It came when the public address system announcer reported that Wisconsin was beating Illinois in another Big Ten battle.

Almost to a man, the fans knew that put MSC in first place in the Big Ten race and assured it at the worst a tie.

This week the Spartan camp must wait to see whether the Illini can overcome Northwestern, which has five conference losses, next Saturday. Michigan State's heart will not be in East Lansing, where it meets Marquette in a season windup, but in Evanston, Ill.

If Illinois wins, as expected, the Spartans and the Illini will end in a tie. A vote of conference athletic directors would be needed to break the deadlock.

But there's a persistent feeling at Michigan State that the Spartans, newest member of the Big Ten and currently under probation, could never win any popularity polls and would be voted down.

Michigan State played steady but unspectacular football to win its fourth game in a row from Michigan and the 46th in the series between the two rivals.

'52 Tinge in NFL Standings

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League standings had a decided 1952 tinge today chiefly because of Lou Groza's toe and Carlie Trippi's arm.

* * *

Cleveland's all-winning Browns and the Detroit Lions met for the NFL title last fall and it looks as if they're headed for another clash since they top their respective conferences.

There's little question but what the Browns will be in the playoff. They have won eight games and lead the Philadelphia Eagles by 2½ games in the Eastern Conference. Each has four to play.

But the Lions' hold on the top spot in the Western Conference is not so secure. They hold a half-game margin over the second-place Los Angeles Rams and a full game over the third-place San Francisco 49ers.

Cleveland, with Groza kicking three field goals, played an important role in dissolving the three-way tie for the Western Conference lead yesterday. The 11 points contributed by Groza (he also converted after two touchdowns) were the difference as the Browns defeated the 49ers 23-21 before 80,698 at Cleveland.

At Chicago, Trippi completed eight passes, seven of them in a row, from a spread formation. The Cardinals tallied in the final minute to tie the Rams 24-24. The deadlock by a team that hasn't won a game all season really gave the Rams' title hopes a setback for the Lions, throwing up a sturdy defense after Bobby Layne had tossed two touchdown passes, beat the Green Bay Packers 14-7.

* * *

None of the other games had any effect on the upper brackets in either conference. The Pittsburgh Steelers did move into third place in the Eastern Conference on a 14-10 victory over the New York Giants. And the Eagles retained a mathematical chance of catching the Browns by thumping the Baltimore Colts 45-14 after Buddy Young had returned the opening kickoff 104 yards for a Baltimore touchdown.

* * *

Bears tied the Packers for last place in the Western division with a 27-24 decision over Washington's Redskins.

Cotton Bowl's Team Will Be Named Sunday

Selectors Will Attend Half-Dozen Games on Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl selection committee will be watching a half-dozen games Saturday in making its decision on which team is to be invited for the New Year's Day football show in Dallas.

The visiting school for the Cotton Bowl will be revealed probably Sunday but not before that, Leonard Green, chairman of the selection committee, said today.

* * *

He admitted the committee was perplexed over the upsets and fluctuating records of the available teams but said the same seven eligibles that had been under consideration from the start remained. They are Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Missisippi, West Virginia and Tennessee.

Obviously Missisippi lost ground in its bid last week when it was beaten 38-0 by Maryland, and West Virginia's chances were hurt when it lost its first game of the season—to South Carolina, 20-14. But, Green pointed out that South Carolina has a good football team too.

* * *

Alabama plays Maryland, Auburn clashes with Clemson, Kentucky meets Tennessee, Georgia Tech plays Duke and West Virginia has North Carolina State. Kentucky and West Virginia are closing the season and good showings Saturday might give them the inside track. Alabama and Auburn play each other Nov. 28. Tech still will have Georgia, Mississippi will still have Mississippi State and Tennessee will still have Vanderbilt and University of Houston.

* * *

There's not an unbeaten team in the lot. West Virginia has the best record (7-1) and Auburn second best (6-1-1), while Alabama has 5-1-3. Green observed that an Alabama victory over Maryland would make that team red hot.

14-6 Victory Assures MSC of Share in Title

With Badgers' Upset of Illini, State Can Now Wait It Out

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

EAST LANSING — There was a noticeable rise in the prevailing "rose bowl" fever here at the seat of Michigan Agriculture College, as a result of a combination of gridiron "symptoms."

First was the Spartans' expected (but extremely bitter) victory over University of Michigan's Wolverines, 14-6.

Second was the unexpected, (but deeply hoped for) upset administered by the Wisconsin Badgers to Illinois, 34-7.

There were times in Saturday's spectacle before the 2nd largest crowd in Spartan history (52,324) when State lost its poise almost completely. But recovery was equally rapid, and Michigan thrusts were stopped most of the time. Victory was MSC's 4th straight over the Wolverines.

After a scoreless 1st period and well into the 2nd session, neither team threatened. Wolverines had Leroy Bolden, MSC running ace, bottled, and their defensive play was very tight on passes. State likewise put the brakes on Tony Branoff, U. of M.s best runner, and broke up most of the passing attempts.

Spartans crossed M's goal first in the 2nd period on a pass from Earl Morrall to Jim Ellis in the end zone. The TD climaxed a 66-yard drive that started in the first period and carried over.

State scored again in the 3rd, on the first time half-back Bert Zagers threw a pass in a college game. Zagers ran to the left, then turned and fired a southpaw toss to Ellis Duckett in the end zone.

A series of breaks preceded Michigan's tally early in the finale. It started when Ellis picked up Baldacci's punt near his own goal line, cut back and swept to his right just barely making the field of play, when Michigan tacklers hit him. He lost the ball and Wolverine's Dick Beison recovered on the four.

Two State fumbles and an interception of a Tom Yewcic pass later, Michigan had the ball on MSC's 35. It kept going to the two on runs and a pass, where Spartans staved off a scoring thrust, climaxed by a futile pass on the final down.

Bolden was State's busiest ball carrier with 23 tries for 75 yards, a low production for the former Flint speedster. Branoff for Michigan was not as effective as in the Penn game, and Ted Kress was the top runner with 28 yards in nine attempts.

Spartan's can now sit back and wait out the Big 10 schedule. Illinois and Wisconsin with 4-1 marks in Big 10 play close their seasons Saturday against Northwestern and Minnesota, respectively. In case of a title tie conference members decide on the Rose Bowl team. Marquette, at East Lansing, winds up Spartans' season this weekend.

Bucceroni Faces Beshore in TV Match Wednesday

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Bucceroni, rated as the No. 4 heavyweight contender, meets Freddie Beshore in a 10-rounder Wednesday night at the Olympic in Los Angeles.

CBS will telecast the bout coast to coast starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Joey Klein, bright New York welterweight prospect, faces a toughie in Freddie (Babe) Herman in the top ten at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena tonight. Du Mont will telecast the 10 p.m., EST, tussle to some parts of the country.

* * *

Chico has an 11-fight win streak going. Martinez has won three in a row. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST. It will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

* * *

Middleweights Pierre Langlois of France and Jesse Turner of St. Louis will be seen in the Saturday night national TV bout out of St. Louis' Kiel Auditorium. St. Louis will be blacked out of the telecast, which starts at 9 p.m., EST.

Pfeiffer Wins State Tourney

Earns Berth Against Defending Titlist for Match Game Crown

Pfeiffer, with series scores of 3132, 3039 and 3113, will meet defending champion Detroit Stroh's in a 6-city tour for the 1953 state team match-game bowling title. Dates and sites for the championship battle have not been decided.

With Fred Bujack as high man for the eliminations, Pfeiffer was 345 pins better than 2nd-place R. and M. Manufacturing, also of Detroit.

Drag Races Planned

A pre-holiday drag race is planed for Partington's Pasture Speedway next Sunday, weather permitting. Trials will run from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with races from 3 to 5 p.m. Track is located at Ryan north of 15-Mile Road.

Twelve states have pari-mutuel harness racing.

21 Collegiate Teams 'Perfect'

Maryland, Irish Only Major Teams Unbeaten and Untied

NEW YORK (AP)—List of the nation's unbeaten, untied college football teams had dwindled to 21 today, with 13 of them having completed their seasons.

Maryland, with nine victories, and Notre Dame, with seven, are the only major teams on the list. West Virginia dropped out Saturday in a 20-14 loss to South Carolina.

International League Sets Another Meeting on Dec. 1

MONTREAL, (AP) — International Baseball League, unable to iron out difficulties involving admission of new teams to the Triple A loop at a meeting here Sunday, has scheduled another session for Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 2.

It was continued uncertainty over acquisition of the Richmond, Va., franchise that prevented the league from accepting both Richmond and Havana, Cuba, into the circuit.

The league voted to continue on an eight-club basis, if at all possible, and president Frank Shaughnessy said he hopes the Richmond situation will be straightened out by Dec. 20.

The International now officially has seven clubs—the eighth, Baltimore Orioles, stepped up to the American League—but it is known that Springfield, Mass., interests would like to dispose of their holdings.

Franchise at Richmond, which has been operating in the Class "B" Piedmont League, is owned by Eddie Mooers who also owns the ball club's park which has a seating capacity of around 6,500.

It was reported there was no difficulty as far as Havana was concerned but it was understood the price asked for the Richmond franchise was too high.

Shaughnessy indicated further approaches would be made to Mooers before the Atlanta meeting.

McDaniel Sets Mark for Horse Trainers

SANMATEO, Calif. (AP)—R. H. McDaniel, who saddled three winners at Bay Meadows Saturday may set a new record this week for number of wins in one year by a thoroughbred trainer.

Trabert and Seixas in Aussie Semifinals

SYDNEY (AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnatti and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, America's hopes for the Davis Cup doubles match, reached the doubles semi-final of the New South Wales tennis championships today with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 9-7 victory over Clive Wilderspin and Nearle Fraser.

They're due to meet Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig in the semi-finals Wednesday.

Bruins Seek Subs for Sidelined Regulars

BOSTON (AP)—With two players sidelined with fractured legs, Boston Bruins today planned to call upon their Hershey American Hockey League farm club for at least one replacement.

Left winger Real Chevrefils and defenseman Bill Quackenbush suffered right leg fractures against the Maple Leafs in Toronto Saturday night. Chevrefils, according to a Toronto hospital's report, will be out for the season and Quackenbush from six to eight weeks.

MSC and UM Bands Provide Bright Program

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan State's second largest football audience, Saturday not only witnessed a bitter and interesting gridiron battle, but was regarded with some fine musical features as well.

Under a bright, autumn-like sky, both Michigan's blue-gold clad marching musicians and State's snappy white-green uniformed band performed at half time.

Many Pontiac fans were especially interested in the Spartan band. It's strutting drum-major was Eugene F. Hickson, a Pontiac boy, who has one more game to go before closing a 4-year career as the shako-wearing Spartan "major."

Fans got a laugh when cheer leaders lugged Governor (Soapy) Williams' "Paul Bunyon" trophy to midfield to show it off before game started, and unceremoniously grabbed the husky figure off the base to expedite its return to the sidelines.

Jackson Team Wins Southern Mich. Title

JACKSON (AP)—St. Mary's High school of Jackson is football champion of the Southern Michigan Catholic League. It clinched the title Sunday with a 42-7 victory over Jackson St. John.

The triumph gave St. Mary's a perfect season of eight games without a defeat. It was the first such since 1946, when the Celts last won the league championship.

Toronto Extends Unbeaten Streak to Eight NHL Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs are still tied for 2nd place in the National Hockey League, but they're only two points behind the pace-setting Montreal Canadiens today.

Wings whipped the New York Rangers 4-1 last night to extend their unbeaten streak to six games in a row. Leafs, after playing a 1-1 tie with the Boston Bruins, now have gone eight straight games without a defeat for the league's best streak of the season.

Detroit, which has won the NHL championship for the past five seasons, edged the Rangers 3-2 at New York Saturday.

Toronto had to come from behind to gain its deadlock with the Bruins, who bowed to the Leafs 2-0 Saturday night.

Veteran Porky Dumart put Boston ahead 1-0 early in the 3rd period with his first goal of the season. Ron Stewart then evened the count for Toronto at 1:33.

In other games of the night the Canadiens played a 2-2 tie with the last place Chicago Blackhawks after bowing to Chicago by 3-2 Saturday night.

Doug Harvey and Ken Mosdell put the Canadiens in front 2-0 in the 1st period, but 2nd period goals by Lou Jankowski and Gus Bodnar earned the Hawks a tie.

Columbia's All-Time All-Star Backfield Is Rated Even Better Than Notre Dame, Michigan by Scribe

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—What college has the best all-time, all-star backfield? This argument came up lately in the death of Walter Koppisch of Columbia, a great athlete and a leading sportsman.

Strange as it may seem, the presence of Koppisch, a brilliant back in the '20's, moves Columbia up with Notre Dame, Michigan, Yale, Southern Cal, and Minnesota to the top of the heap, in the matter of great backfields.

* * *

I believe that with Koppisch I could pick an all-time backfield that would stand with the best. One that possibly would outrank an all-time Notre Dame quartet. Suppose we name a few of the leading all-time backfield casts.

* * *

Carlisle—Jim Thorpe, Joseph Guyon, Pete Calac, Mt. Pleasant. Yale—Clint Frank, Coy, Mal Stevens, Caldwell. We could name others, but these would stand with the best.

Suppose we take Columbia against Notre Dame. I'd rather have Columbia's all-time all-star backfield.

* * *

You might disagree. But suppose we pick Gipp, Schwartz, Layden and Lujack—about as good a selection as one could pick. What's Columbia got?

* * *

Well, Koppisch was Walter Camp's All-America entry and he was picked by Camp over the Four Horsemen. The next two Columbia picks would be Morley and Weekes, from a long time ago.

* * *

Morley was a great running and blocking back. He was something along the line of Marty Brill of Notre Dame, but slightly more versatile. A really great back. Harold Weekes, the 210-pound Columbia hurdler who insisted on jumping over the line feet first, was extremly fast, rough and powerful.

* * *

Now we come to the fourth Columbia star. His name is Sid Luckman. George Halas says he is the greatest back from any college—Notre Dame included. He was the smartest of all the quarterbacks. That will do pretty well—Koppisch, Weekes, Morley and Luckman.

Oklahoma Only Team Assured Post-Season Game

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The mad scramble for the pot of gold and glory in the New Year's Day bowl games showed no signs of being settled in most cases today—and the prospects were that some would have to go to a faculty vote.

With only one more big Saturday to go for most college teams, only Oklahoma can sit back and watch the others tear at each other. The Sooners are assured of a spot in the Orange Bowl by virtue of winning the Big Seven championship for the sixth straight year. They've won 40 conference games in a row.

The chances are strong that they'll meet Maryland, which by all odds should win the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference championship. Still, Duke, no shrinking violet, is tied with the Terps as of now for first place in the league.

* * *

Rose Bowl—The Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference winners are pitted against each other, provided they haven't played the previous year. That eliminated Wisconsin and Southern California. The Badgers threw a monkey wrench into Illinois' plans Saturday by throttling the Illini 34-7. If the Illini beat Northwestern Saturday, they'll wind up tied with Michigan State, which has finished its league season.

* * *

That would call for a faculty vote, in which case Illinois probably would get it since Michigan State is not in the best of graces with the Big Ten. In fact, they're on probation.

* * *

In the Pacific Coast half of the Rose Bowl, UCLA and Stanford are tied for the lead, each with a record of 5-1. This week Stanford plays California and UCLA tackles Southern California. If both contenders win, the league schools will vote for the host.

* * *

Cotton Bowl—The Southwest Conference winner acts as host in this one and the clearest word that can be used is "chaos." Texas has a 4-1 record with one to go while Baylor, Rice and Southern Methodist all show 3-1 records with two games each still on their schedules. This could finish in a four-way tie, a situation that would give the moguls a real voting problem.

Sugar Bowl — Despite its loss to Notre Dame, Georgia Tech was the No. 1 candidate for one of the assignments—until it ran into a 13-6 defeat at the hands of Alabama Saturday. Now 'Bama could get the spot. The same could be said of West Virginia. The Mountaineers thought they had a good chance, what with a winning streak of 13 games. But South Carolina stopped them 20-14.

* * *

Meanwhile, Notre Dame continued to make the experts look good. The Irish, voted the No. 1 team in the preseason Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters, have been at the top ever since and now boast the longest winning streak in the country—nine, including a 34-14 triumph over North Carolina Saturday.

Southern Bowl Meeting May Be Anti-Climactic

West Virginia's Loss Lessens Possibility of New Year's Day Bid

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—An unmistakable feeling of anticlimax was in the air as the Southern Conference met here today to reconsider the ban it placed on football bowl games in 1951.

* * *

The get-together of representatives of the 10 conference colleges was called hurriedly last week—presumably to help clear the way for West Virginia University's acceptance for a major bowl bid.

Now that West Virginia has suffered its first defeat this season, there may be no bowl bid to accept, even if the conference decides to rescind the ban.

* * *

West Virginia, the nation's eighth ranked football team, was upset by South Carolina last Saturday 20-14. The Mountaineers, only Southern Conference club seriously thought of as a bowl eligible, have been on both the Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl lists.

As the conference opened its meeting, it was a question how high West Virginia still stood on those lists. A Sugar Bowl spokesman in New Orleans said the Mountaineers still were getting top consideration — that two scouts were "very much impressed" by West Virginia's performance against South Carolina despite its defeat.

* * *

If, indeed, the door to a major bowl is still ajar for West Virginia, today's decision by the conference will carry immediate import—for unless the bowl restrictions are lifted, the Mountaineers can play nowhere Jan. 1.

Max Farrington, conference president from George Washington University, said the meeting was called especially to take up the bowl question. West Virginia, he emphasized, has not asked for the meeting nor for any easing of the bowl ban to accommodate its ambitions.

* * *

A special committee of the conference, appointed last June to review the subject of bowls, recommended after a meeting in Roanoke, Va., 10 days ago that the bowl ban be removed "under certain circumstances." It did not say what these circumstances were.

CASE — Pointing For Control Thumb Straight Ahead — Jimmy Smith, world match champion for 16 years, my instructor, taught me ball control with a simple system he termed "thumbing your way to the top."

It was easy to learn and do consistently, and we are confident you will benefit by his formula to be outlined in subsequent articles. Position of the thumb, he stressed, regulates direction and ball action. His lesson began with the straight ball for accuracy.

Thumb pointed straight ahead, at the pins, as illustrated. Arm must swing straight back. No break in elbow. No wrist turn whatever. Deliver ball about six boards from right hand gutter. Concentrate on swing and follow-through. Never mind how many pins you knock down. Direction is more important.

Dutchmen Lose, Chips Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'd likely have a hard time today convincing anyone around Alma that Hope is football champion of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA).

But Hope's Dutchmen, with a 5-1-0 record are champs of the MIAA and Central's Chippewas are IIAC kings, with a 5-0-1 league mark.

Alma College dumped the Dutchmen, who cinched the championship a week ago, 33-19, with Marv Raab running for three touchdowns and catching a pass for another.

Michigan Normal fought Central Michigan to a 33-33 tie at Ypsilanti, but Central won its second IIAC crown in two years with a 5-0-1 record against Normal's league record of 4-1-1. In overall play they have identical 7-1-1 marks.

Western Illinois has a 4-1 IIAC record with another game to go but can't match Central's record of not losing a league game. What happens in that game, however, will determine whether Normal finishes second or third.

Albion gained the runner-up spot in the MIAA with a 27-7 trimming of Adrian. Albion finished with a 4-1-1 league record and Adrian with a 1-4-1 one.

Alma could claim third place if it disposes of Olivet this week. Olivet went out of the MIAA and whipped Grand Rapids Junior College, 21-6, last weekend. Freshman Olivet stands 2-3-0 in the MIAA.

Hillsdale came from behind with two second-half touchdowns to hand Kalamazoo its sixth straight MIAA loss, 13-6. Hillsdale stands 3-1-2, Kalamazoo 0-6-0.

Western Michigan closed out its worst season in the last 15 by dropping a 40-0 decision to Kent State in a Mid-America Conference game. It gave a 0-4-1 conference record and boosted Kent State to 4-1-0.

State Prep 11's Meet in 1-Play Contest Today

NASHVILLE (UP) — Vermontville High School comes out of its 9-day huddle this afternoon to climax one of the strangest football dramas Michigan record books have to offer.

Action is a replay of the final 22 seconds of the Nov. 7 game between Vermontville and rival Bellevue. The Tri-County League ordered the replay upon approving a protest by Vermontville Coach Dave McDowell.

Vermontville, trailing 12-3, will have the ball on the Bellevue 1-yard line, 1st down and goal to go. That means Vermontville will have time for one payoff running play, or possible two if a quick time out is called.

Vermontville, which seldom passes because it lacks a talented flinger, also runs for its extra points. Should the team score, the rules say it would be allowed to try for the conversion even if the clock runs out.

Thus, Vermontville has had since Nov. 7 to dream up a "sure thing" play aimed at getting that final yard. McDowell said his biggest worry was the chance of a fumble.

"I have the play picked out but haven't discussed it with the boys too much because I don't want them to get the jitters and fumble," he said.

MSC Co-Pick in IC4-A Run

Spartans, Penn State Top Choices in Cross Country Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Big 10 champion Michigan State and Penn State, the class of the East, rate as co-favorites in the IC4-A cross-country championship scheduled for the Van Cortland Park trails today.

Michigan State defending champion, will rely mainly on the talents of Lyle Garb and Ronnie Barr to give the Spartans the title.

Chick Wener's Penn Staters, who defeated Michigan State in a dual meet earlier in the season, have two of their mainstays from last year back, plus one speedy sophomore.

Bob Hollen and Lamont Smith were sixth and ninth, respectively, in the 1952 race. Doug Moorhead is the sophomore who has helped State to four dual triumphs and one triangular victory.

All told, more than 200 harriers will vie for the individual title won last year by Georgetown's Charley Capozzoli, who since has been graduated.

Thirty-seven colleges will be presented in the run which is slated for 3 p.m. (EST).

Doud, Steward Win Roller Skating Test

Winners in Class A were Duane Presson and Sharon Greene. In Class B, Tom Muenstermann and Karen Swanson and in Class C, Charles Cole and Carol Ann Kropp.

Beverly Doud and Duane Steward of Pontiac won Sunday night's dance contest—the collegiate—in which 15 couples from Detroit, Clawson, and Pontiac competed. Winners were awarded trophies.

Lions Stumble to 14-7 Win Sunday

Eaglets Close Year With 7-7 Stalemate

Orchard Lake St. Mary battled Wyandotte St. Carmel to a 7-7 tie Sunday night in the Eaglets' final 1953 game.

Both teams scored in the opening quarter. Wyandotte team moved 72 yards in nine plays, with halfback Mike Kelly going the final 32 yards. Quarterback Tom Kalisiewicz booted the conversion.

Fullback Eugene Stasialowicz passed 23 yards to end Tom Kalasz for the Orchard Lakers' touchdown and took a heave from Ed Pilarski for the tying extra point.

Red Wings Win Twice

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Red Wings haven't lost in their last six starts. They seem ready to take charge in the National Hockey League.

The Wings, as usual, were plagued with their early season case of "bumble-ites," playing shabby, in-and-out hockey. But, now, after 16 games, they seem to have worked out the "bugs" and appear ready to challenge the Montreal Canadiens for 1st place.

Wings scored a double victory over the New York Rangers in a weekend home-and-home series. They won 3-2 in New York Saturday and 4-1 in Olympia Stadium Sunday.

It gave Detroit 21 points in the standings to 23 for Montreal. Toronto also has 21 points but the Leafs aren't considered a threat for the league championship.

In their 1st 16 games, the Wings have won nine times, lost three and four ties. At the same time last year, their figures were 7-6-3.

Wings scored in three-goal clusters in defeating the Rangers over the weekend. They scored three times in the final period Saturday to win their first road game of the season.

Last night they reversed the script, scoring three times in the 1st period. Johnny Wilson, Gordie Howe and rookie Bill Dineen were the marksmen.

Paul Ronty scored for New York in the 2nd period but Red Kelly matched this tally for Detroit by netting in the final period. Kelly and Howe each have six goals.

In the 3rd period, Wing captain Ted Lindsay and Ronty engaged in some fisticuffing—and Lindsay did all the cuffing. He fired at least a half dozen blows at Ronty without a return.

UMPIRE DOWN AND OUT—Umpire Arthur Barry rolls on his back after being hit as Boston College attempted to score from the Detroit 10-yard line Sunday afternoon at Boston. Barry, former Princeton football captain, now principal at Peabody, Mass., High School, broke his leg in the spill. BC left tackle Jack Parker (right) calls to Barry. Detroit players include Jack Flanagan (64) and Al Baumgart (49). BC won, 33-20.

Titans Whipped by BC, 33-20

BOSTON, (UP) — Halfback Bob Burgmeier's three second-half touchdowns weren't enough and Detroit's Titans lost a 33-20 football game to Boston College here Sunday.

Boston College, led by Dick (Zig Zag) Zotti, punctured Detroit's defenses for four touchdowns in the opening half and then put over a clincher in the third period.

The Eagles were strongest on the ground, not in the air, and ground out 212 yards rushing to 144 for the Titans. They completed one of the only three passes they threw for nine yards, while Detroit connected on 7 of 14 for 61 yards.

Detroit also was tops in the first downs department, 15 to 12.

Valdes Knocks Out European Heavy Champion

DORTMUND, Germany (UP)—Having knocked out European heavyweight champion Heinz Neuhaus, Cuban slugger Nino Valdes today was confronted with the prospects of meeting Hein Ten Hoff, another German heavyweight, who isn't champion of anything.

Valdes, the Cuban who leaped into fistic prominence and third place among world heavyweights with an upset triumph over Ezzard Charles, flattened Neuhaus in the fourth round of their scheduled ten-round bout yesterday. Two powerful rights cut short the bout in Westfalen Halle, to the surprise and consternation of a crowd of more than 17,000.

As for Ten Hoff, the German's manager, Fred Kirsch, said in Washington a few hours after Valdes' victory that he had accepted an offer to have Ten Hoff meet Valdes in Germany sometime in January.

Defeat Packers to Take West Division's Lead

Losses by 49ers, Rams Give Detroiters Sole Possession of Spot

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP)—Detroit Lions played their worst game of the season—and wound up in first place.

Call it "luck of the champions"—or anything else—but that's what happened to the Lions Sunday. They were outplayed by the Green Bay Packers but wound up with a 14-7 victory that shot them into first place in the Western Division of the National Football League.

San Francisco dropped a 23-21 decision to the Cleveland Browns while Los Angeles, in a real stunner, was tied 24-24 by the Chicago Cardinals, a team which hasn't won a game all season.

With only five games to go the Lions have a definite edge. If they win their remaining games, neither Los Angeles or San Francisco can do anything about catching them.

Only two weeks ago, if you recall, the situation was reversed. Lions trailed Los Angeles by one game and were hoping that the Rams would lose. It looked desperate for Detroit.

Now, however, Los Angeles not only has lost (to San Francisco) but has a tie marring its record. That tie could give the Lions just enough of a margin to win their 2nd straight divisional championship.

But the men of Buddy Parker will have to improve on their showing against Green Bay Sunday. Packer pushed the Lions all over City Stadium, piling up 261 yards through the air to 173 for Detroit.

They still pay off on touchdowns, though, and Bobby Layne of the Lions passed for two TD's. He and Doak Walker combined for an 83-yard scoring play in the 2nd period. In the 4th, he hit end Leon Hart with a 21-yard scoring aerial.

Trailing 14-0, Green Bay bounced back and drove 69 yards in four plays to score its only touchdown. A 52-yard pass, from Tobin Rote to Al Carmichael, put the ball deep in Lion territory. Floyd (Breezy) Reid cracked across from the one.

Bolden Boosts Yardage Total in 'M' Game

Flint Star Accounts For Fourth of MSC Ground-Gaining

EAST LANSING (UP)—Halfback Leroy Bolden now has personally accounted for almost one-fourth of the total yardage made this season by Michigan State's Big Ten football leaders.

Bolden contributed another sparkling performance Saturday when the Spartans defeated Michigan 14-6, pushing his season record to 622 yards gained in 110 rushing plays.

Michigan State's total team yardage for the season is now 2,550, including 1,763 by rushing and 787 by passing.

Quarterback Tom Yewcic is second in individual performance with 460 net yards of which 449 were gained on his passes. Fullback Evan Slonac holds third place with 376 yards, all gained by rushing. Slonac has carried the ball 71 times.

Rice Scores 3 Times Against Gophers, Nears Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (UP) — Iowa's George (Dusty) Rice burst into top contention for Big Ten individual scoring honors with a three-touchdown splurge as the Hawkeyes beat Minnesota 27-0.

Rice now has totaled 10 touchdowns for 60 points against conference and nonconference teams.

Mickey Bates of Illinois and Bob Watkins of Ohio State, tied for the lead with 66 points, were held scoreless Saturday. It was the first time this season Watkins hadn't scored at least one TD.

Ballots May Decide Big 10 Rose Bowl Team

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—There is a very real possibility that the battle for the Big Ten Rose Bowl bid will be decided finally in the ballot box instead of the stadium.

That is, if Illinois' football team wasn't blown so high by Wisconsin's 34-7 blast that it won't be able to settle down against weak Northwestern Saturday.

But if the Illini can finish their season with a victory over the Wildcats — five-time losers in the conference—they'll match the MSC record of five Big Ten wins and one loss.

Then the conference's athletic directors will have to choose between Michigan State's Spartans and the Illini, voting for the team they think the most "representative."

Wisconsin also can end the season with a 5-1 mark by beating Minnesota Saturday. This would make the Big Ten championship a three-way affair but the Badgers, having taken the trip to Pasadena last Jan. 1, are ineligible for a repeat this season.

Michigan State finished its conference season with a 14-6 conquest of Michigan.

If Illinois and Michigan State tie for the crown, a victory over the Milwaukee Hilltoppers Saturday would serve to pad MSC's argument for the Pasadena nomination. Spartans have lost only one game, to Purdue.

However, two other considerations might work against selection of Michigan State:

1. The Spartans are on Big Ten probation because of certain recruiting practices.

2. They are in their first year of Big Ten competition.

Some athletic directors might consider these items as bearing on the "representative" business. They might think so even though Wisconsin and Illinois both lose and Michigan State winds up the lone conference champion.

Other conference games Saturday match Purdue and Indiana and Ohio State and Michigan. Iowa is at Notre Dame in a nonconference clash.

The Hawkeyes from Iowa City pulled a major surprise in blanking Minnesota 27-0, holding Paul Giel and his mates in their own territory virtually all afternoon while Dusty Rice sped to three touchdowns.

In other games, Indiana beat Northwestern 14-6 and Ohio State took Purdue 21-6. Among the independents, Notre Dame, the nation's top-rated team, continued undefeated and untied with a 34-14 trampling of North Carolina and Marquette defeated Holy Cross 13-7.

Key Situation

Early Goal Line Stand Turning Point for ND

By FRANK LEAHY

After hearing many of the weekend's upsetting results, we felt extremely fortunate to have gotten by North Carolina in a rather convincing manner.

Although I don't believe too strongly that in every game a key play or situation decides the game, I do feel that Saturday there was a point very early in the contest which caused the subsequent action to unfold in our favor.

Notre Dame took the opening kickoff and scored on eight running plays. But three plays later North Carolin's Dick Lackey ran 53 yards to our 19 and in three more plays the Tarheels had a 1st down on our six. Four plays later Notre Dame took over on the 5 yard line. The ability to stop Carolina early in the game when they were so hot had a lasting effect on the players of both teams.

Senior fullback Neil Worden had one of his finest days for Notre Dame as he established what is believed to be a modern day Notre Dame scoring record over a 3-year period.

He now has registered 25 touchdowns since playing his 1st game against Indiana as a sophomore in 1951. In that game he scored four touchdowns.

Even though we were very pleased over the outcome of the North Carolina game it was shortlived as very shortly after we heard the news of Iowa's most convincing shutout of Minnesota. In my opinion, Forest Evashevski has done one of the finest coaching jobs in football this fall.

Wisconsin's Ivy Williamson and South Carolina's Rex Enright shared the upset honors of the week as they removed from the ranks of the undefeated Illinois and West Virginia.

Coach Williamson did a remarkable job as he not only had to contain the Big Ten's most explosive offense, but also had to devise an offense which would score against the finest defense in the western conference. As the score of 34-7 very definitely indicates, he did both.

Another, accolade must go to Alabama's Red Drew for upsetting Georgia Tech. Defeats of Illinois, West Virginia and Georgia Tech throw the bowl pictures into confusion. In the southwest, Houston's stunning defeat of Baylor was by far the top item of the day.

Smart Set Down by Racing Body

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Trainer Wayne (Curly) Smart and his assistant, Carl Larsen, are under suspension until Sept. 30, 1954, on orders of the New York State Harness Racing commission.

Smart and Larsen, both of Delaware, Ohio, were set down for giving hypodermic injections to three horses last July and August. They admitted 10 days ago at a hearing that injections had been given the three horses, but instead only ACTH and not a stimulant was given.

'Mr. Shortstop' a Realist

Writer Refutes 'Defeatist Attitude' Label Pinned on Marty Marion by Art Ehlers

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It isn't quite time yet for the annual polls, but we would like to jump the gun somewhat and enter in the quote-of-the-year section the statement of Art Ehlers, the new general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, that Marty Marion had a "defeatist attitude."

* * *

Ehlers made his prize observation in the course of explaining why he was not retaining Marion as manager of the transplanted Orioles, but was, instead, awarding the job to his pal Jimmy Dykes. Marion had managed the team last season when it was called (among other things) the St. Louis Browns, and his contract still had a year to run.

There is no intention here of going to bat for Marion. Marty was the greatest shortstop we ever saw and there is no more likeable fellow in the game, but whether he is a good manager we have no way of knowing. Our only concern is with the expressed reason for sacking him.

Specifically, what sort of attitude did Ehlers expect Marty to project after he had spent a year managing what is generally conceded to be the worst collection of players in modern big league history into the American League cellar

If displaying a "defeatist attitude" means that Marion declined to paint a rosy picture but insisted upon telling the new owners that they had better get themselves some baseball players quick, then we submit that he both did credit to himself and extended a great favor to the Orioles.

Skippers Lose Season Finale

Pass Interceptions Are Damaging in 25-0 Loss to Owosso

Waterford closed its 1953 football season Saturday night, dropping a 25-0 decision to Owosso on the Trojans' field.

Five intercepted passes ruined the Skippers, who ended the campaign with three wins, four losses and a tie. Owosso end Duane Hanchett accounted for three of the interceptions.

Jim Haskins passed for three touchdowns, two to halfback Dick Smith, one to Jim Clark. Smith scored the other on a plunge.

Waterford made only one trip inside Owosso's 30-yard line. A pass interception halted the Skipper on the Owosso 12 in the third period. Skippers completed only one of 11 attempts.

You may be able to buy cheaper coal than Gee deep-mined, clean Kentucky egg, but you cannot buy a more economical coal.

More economical, because it gives you more in warmth, more heat, more comfort, more cleanliness. Coal, like every other commodity, is available in many kinds and qualities . . . some coals burn quickly, gives little heat, an abundance of ashes and dirty, bothersome clinkers and soot stringers . . .

But, this is not so with Gee deep-mined, clean Kentucky Egg Coal . . . it's high combustion point makes it one of the cleanest burning fuels obtainable, it is clinkerless, leaves no soot stringers and very little ash . . . Yet, you get 15,000 BTU's to every pound, which means an abundance of heat with no waste.

You'll Save More If You Keep Your Bin Filled With Gee Deep-Mined, Clean Kentucky Egg Coal...

• Cleaner
Cleanly mined, Gee Kentucky Egg comes from the very heart of America's richest coal veins . . . it is screened, rescreened to remove all impurities and delivered cleanly to your home free of slack . . . you get all solid coal.

• Longer Lasting
Gee Kentucky Egg coal is so sized to fit in the firepot of your furnace in a manner that creates the correct combustion which enables the coal to burn without forming clinkers.

• Easy Starting
Gee Kentucky Egg coal is easily kindled as it is a clean coal.

• Economical
The impurities found in coal are removed from Gee clean, deep-mined Kentucky coal by modern methods at the mines, there are no soot stringers or clinkers, very little ash and an abundance of heat which all add up to true economy. One load will convince you.

Hal Boyle Says:

Return of Big Back Yard Answer to Juvenile Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — If you were Santa Claus and could give every child in America one present, what would it be?

My choice would be—a big, old-fashioned back yard for the child to grow up in. Do you remember the fun you had in one when young? If you have no such memories, then life short-changed you. You missed some wonderful times.

The juvenile delinquent is a real problem kid today. Nearly every one of us normal adult delinquents is sure he is an authority on what is wrong with the modern child rebel—which probably only proves what smug, crazy, mixed up, middle-aged children we ourselves are.

"All the smart alec kids of today need to straighten them out is a few more trips to the woodshed," grumbles a leader of the punishment school. "To put any sense in their heads you have to start pounding at the bottom—with a razor strap."

"No, no," objects the self-made sociologist. "Build them more supervised school playgrounds."

A third expert is in favor of putting a psychiatrist in every kindergarten, but can you really find out what is wrong with a bad child by asking him? How would he know?

"There isn't any answer," snorts the cynic. "It's all heredity. A born wrongo will live and die a wrongo. He's bound to go from reform school to jail."

But somehow I'd like to see my own solution tried out—which is to give every child at least one wise-hearted parent, and that old-fashioned back yard in which to grow up.

All children, like all adults, want and need discipline as well as freedom in their lives. All children, like all adults, must find a balanced compromise between their cravings for both responsibility and liberty to lead a happy life.

A child is an animal who likes the feel of grass and ground under his feet, a place to play where someone he loves keeps an eye on him but still leaves him free to be the pirate or Marco Polo of his dreams. And what fills this prescription better than the old-fashioned back yard?

It should have a garden in summer and space to raise pets the child can love and feel superior to because they depend on him. It should have trees he can climb and discover a brave new world. It should be wide enough for a snowball battle in winter.

Let there be a woodshed, and let it echo now and then, when necessary, with the measured sound of a razor strap applied in justice, not in anger.

But also let the woodshed be the clubhouse for one of those secret socities which boys form because they already want to belong to something bigger and more important than themselves. These are the birthplaces of patriotism.

In a big back yard a child can learn most of the lessons he needs, and still run in to mama's comforting arms if he gets hurt in a tumble or a squabble. Where else can a child better enjoy both freedom and safety?

The sorrow of our growing cities is that we are crowding little box-like homes closer together, and the yards are so small a kid can't open his stamp album in one without brushing it against the house next door.

Maybe this is all sentimentality. But none of the kids I played with in the big, old-fashioned back yards of my youth ever went to reform school or wound up in prison. None yet has found life a dead-end street.

Greenlanders Shift Economy

Warmer Climates Allow Islanders to Farm, Raise Sheep, Catch Cod

WASHINGTON — Because their climate is growing steadily warmer, Greenlanders are turning from hunting to sheepherding and fishing for their livelihood.

New packing houses and freezing plants have been built. Some 10,000 lambs are processed each year, thus far entirely for local consumption.

It is a drastic change for the 22,000 Greenlanders, most of whom live in the southwest of the Danish island. Once these people lived entirely by the harpoon and spear, killing walrus, narwhals, whales, polar bears and above all, seals.

The seal kill alone amounted to 50 per person annually. Now the seal herds have followed the cold water northward, and the kill is down to two for each inhabitant.

The raising of livestock is nothing new in Greenland, recently proclaimed an integral part of the Danish kingdom. More than 1,000 years ago, during another warm period, Viking settlers raised cattle and even tilled the ground.

Greenland sheep raising dates from 1915, when a flock of 175 was imported from Iceland, and young Greenlanders were trained to care for them. Present flocks are in part descended from these Icelandic ancestors. Excellent tweed is produced from the wool.

More than climate has caused changes on the earth's largest island. Airplanes have taught the world that the shortest route from the Western Hemisphere to Europe and Asia lies over the icy Arctic, and Greenland now is a strategic place. The United States has built a huge Air Force base at Thule.

Another drastic change is the introduction of a money economy, strange to a people who once traded only by barter. Now for their fish and mutton and wool Greenlanders receive cash.

Grain Market Moving Ahead

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains pushed ahead in active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Price trends were highly confused at the outset. Wheat displayed an easier tone while soybeans added fractions to the remarkable rise they have had since mid-August. Later, the entire market moved up, soybeans gaining around 4 cents.

Tito Dramatically Offers Trieste Port City to Italy

ROME (AP) — A new offer by Yugoslav President Tito to give Italy the port city of Trieste raised diplomats' expectations here that a five-power conference on the disputed Adriatic territory is imminent.

These circles also felt Italy and Yugoslavia now were agreed on a number of major points relative to the 285 square miles of territory inhabited by 375,000 persons which each nation has claimed in the past.

But he repeated his demand for the rest of Zone A, the territory of farms and vineyards around the city. The city's 300,000 population is largely Italian, the rest of the zone's 25,000 settlers are mostly of Yugoslav-Slovene origin.

Tito also warned that any further Italian expansion at Yugoslav expense would result in a "conflict."

He told a parliamentary election rally "Yugoslavia will not go to war for Trieste," but Deputy Foreign Secretary Ales Bebler later explained his chief meant just the port city, not all of Zone A.

* * *

Yugoslav control of the rest of Zone A would isolate the port from Italy. Diplomats here believed, however, that Yugoslavia also would concede Italy should get a corridor linking her with the city. They anticipate sharp disagreement, however, on how wide this band should be.

Tito's speech represented a moderation of Yugoslav policy.

On Oct. 10 he had demanded the city be an autonomous, or self-governing unit under Italian sovereignty, with the rest of Zone A having similar status under Yugoslav sovereignty. He also demanded internationalization of the city.

Diplomats here hinted that announcement of a five-power conference on Trieste was in the offing. At the conference, the United States, Britain, France, Yugoslavia and Italy would seek to iron out the issues brought to a head by the British-American declaration Oct. 8 that they were withdrawing their occupation troops from Zone A, including the port, and turning the area over to Italy.

* * *

Tito's threats to march his own troops into Zone A—they already occupy Zone B—if the Italians moved in has delayed the British-American withdrawal.

Break Ground for LIT Edifice

Work Begun on Building for Lawrence Institute of Technology

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Ground breaking ceremonies here Sunday officially began construction of a $2,000,000 building for the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

President Dr. E. George Lawrence said that the three-unit building will be ready for occupancy by next September.

He said additional buildings will be added later to the new 63-acre campus.

Attending the ceremonies were Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence, 88, mother of the president, and Miss Genevieve Dooley, registrar of the college since its founding 21 years ago.

LIT has been located in the Ford Building in Highland Park since its founding, but added enrollment made the move necessary, Lawrence said.

The new building will house some 2,500 day and night students, he stated.

News in Brief

A tool box and gasoline worth an estimated $25 were taken from the property of Fred Metzner of 4231 Bluebird Dr., Commerce Township, Sunday, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mechanics tools, valued at $100, were taken from the back seat of a car owned by August Hanson of 1125 Wooley Rd., Brandon Township, according to a report received Sunday by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The home of Benson O. Savedge at 2483 Normadele St., Waterford Township, was broken into Saturday. Thieves took a $2 bill after forcing entry through the front door, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Four hub caps were taken from a car owned by Gerald Armstrong of 4900 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, while the car was parked in a lot at 4825 Highland Rd. Saturday, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Delbert D. Mathes of 156 W. New York St. reported to Pontiac Police that someone broke into his auto Saturday night and stole a camera and photography equipment valued at $244.80.

Walter O'Niel, 68, of 2420 Georgeland, Drayton Plains, was fined $100 and $25 costs after he pleaded guilty Saturday to drunk driving when he appeared before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Hoover Is Linked to White Decision

approved a plan to retain White and that he opposed his appointment as U.S. executive director of the International Monetary fund.

Brownell has charged that "White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him" to the monetary post.

The attorney general said an FBI report to the effect that White was a spy was "delivered to Truman through his military aide, Brig. Gen. Harry M. Vaughan."

* * *

Truman said he would go "all out" on his speech tonight, which will be carried by NBC, CBS and ABC radio and television networks. It will be made in nearby Kansas City.

Truman and associates have been working on the speech for several days. Two friends who aided the former President with the speech are Matthew J. Connelly, Truman's former appointment secretary in the White House, and William Hillman, author of the Truman biography, "Mr. President."

They flew into Kansas City from New York last night. Connelly said Truman wanted to check some material in his files before they gave the speech its final polishing.

In Washington, some Democrats in Congress rallied behind Truman.

* * *

Although there were some dissenters, the minority party semed to be drawing closer in a development that could spell trouble for the Eisenhower administration's program in the next session of Congress.

Brownell has promised further disclosures beyond the White case when he testifies tomorrow before the Senate internal security subcommittee on the case.

Political figures disagreed in weighing the probable effect of the case on next year's elections for control of Congress. Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said yesterday the issue of communism in government will be a major one.

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee told a news conference at Beloit, Wis.: "I don't think the people will eat warmed-over spy."

* * *

Hall, who appeared on a CBS television program, was asked whether Brownell's charges in the White case were the first of a series. He said that so far as he knew there were no other similar cases pending.

Asked if he knew about the White case in advance, Hall replied that the GOP committee had been informed shortly before Brownell first made the charges on Nov. 6.

Business Notes:

Examine 1954 Sales Program

Wholesalers of Pontiac Motor Division Here to Review Plan

More than 300 members of the wholesale organization of Pontiac Motor Division were guests today of the division for a review of the 1954 sales program.

The visitors, representing zone and regional personnel from coast to coast, assembled at the auditorium at the engineering department this morning. The business session ends at 4 p.m. A dinner will follow tonight at the Hotel Statler in Detroit.

Those addressing the group include R. M. Critchfield, general manager; H. E. Crawford, general sales manager; E. J. Chapman and J. C. Jamieson, assistant sales managers; L. W. Walker, national sales promotion manager; B. B. Kimball, advertising manager; Hugh J. Hales, general service manager; A. L. Drury, parts sales manager; J. H. Otis, accessory sales manager; R. V. Wiley, business management manager; E. D. Foley, organization and analysis manager, and James T. Wilson, car distribution manager.

In addition to outlining plans for sales of the division's 1954 models for relaying to dealers, everywhere, there was a review of the 1953 season. Chartered buses transported the group from Detroit to Pontiac.

Charles W. Smith, associated with McKinsey and Co., management consultants, will point out the importance of selling a complete marketing research program to management as a solution to looming distribution problems when he speaks before the Michigan chapter of the American Marketing Assn. in Detroit Tuesday. Smith, a marketing consultant, will speak at the Stockholm restaurant at 6 p.m.

2 Die in Weekend Mishaps in County

the scene by Mrs. Lewis Capp of 155 Osprey Dr., Walled Lake, who heard a passenger with Tankka, Theodore H. Holma, 42, of 2078 Indiandale, Detroit, calling for help.

Holma was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with fractured ribs and a leg injury. His condition today is reported good.

State troopers said Wood lost control of his car after it side-swiped another auto driven by Alfred O. Sanchez, 26, of 1963 Buena Vista, Detroit.

Wood, born in Silverwood Jan. 28, 1926, was an employe of GMC Truck and Coach Division here. He was married to Juaneta Young, in 1944 at Lapeer.

Surviving besides Mrs. Wood are two daughters, Julie and Susan, two sons, Michael and David; Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wood of Lake Orion; two brothers, L. D. and Burrell of Lake Orion, and a sister, Mrs. John Metz of Pontiac.

Service will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the C. F. Sherman Funeral Home in Ortonville. Burial will be in Metamora Cemetery.

Rochester Man Hurt as Car Hits Truck

Frank Piper, 65, of 3530 Rochester Rd., Rochester, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered Sunday when his auto struck the rear of a parked truck on Rochester road in Avon Township according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Piper suffered possible rib fractures when his car collided with a truck operated by Ivan H. Renshaw, 35, of 43330 Ryan Rd., Utica. Piper's condition today is listed as good.

Renshaw told deputies he had stopped his truck to check a broken trailer wheel. Piper said he hit the truck rather than swing into an oncoming car.

Chicken House Fire Causes $190 Damage

Boss said the shed damage was estimated at $100 and the chickens were worth an estimated $90.

The township firemen were called to eight grass fires over the weekend, Boss said. He warns residents to be especially careful of fires during the dry season because of large areas of high weeds and dry grass in the township.

In Memoriam 1

When day is done and shadows fall
We think of you dear, your name we call
Think of the things we used to do
You were such a good daddy, so kind and true
Of memories you left the best
Grant him dear God, heavenly rest.

Card of Thanks 2

I WISH TO THANK MY FRIENDS and relatives for their acts of sympathy during my recent bereavement. Your thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. Mrs. James B. Adams.
