Claims Marine Was Drinking

Commandant of Corps Advises Court Martial for Death of Six

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps said today Sgt. Matthew McKeon was under the influence of liquor when he ordered recruits on a night march in which six were drowned. Court martial trial of McKeon was recommended.

Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Marine Corps commandant, also ordered Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger transferred from the command of the Parris Island, S. C., training base, where the tragedy occurred.

In addition he directed a sweeping reorganization of recruit training.

Pate's recommendations were made public when he appeared before the House Armed Services Committee to report on a corps investigation of the April 8 incident, the actions he has taken and the measures he has proposed to the Secretary of the Navy.

The decision on convening a general court martial to try McKeon is up to the secretary, Charles S. Thomas.

DISCIPLINE GOOD

Pate said that over the years the system of stern discipline and tough training of recruits administered by experienced non-commissioned officers, had proved good for the Marines.

But he added that "some practices have crept in... which do not comport with the dignity of the individual."

Therefore, Pate said, he is putting in a new system of supervision both at Parris Island and the other Marine recruit training center, San Diego, Calif. He said he will oversee this new system himself through a chain of officers reporting directly to him.

Snow-Covered Terrain Fails to Stymie Troutmen

By JACK PATTERSON
Outdoors Writer, Pontiac Press

GRAYLING—Sunday's snowstorm came close to returning us to our native outdoors and health. Wet snow on top of rain-soaked secondary roads adds up to interesting driving.

We felt like a remnant of the last Ice Age, slithering about on our appointed rounds. It took more than weather to stop the area's hardy fisherman, however proving—if anything—that opening troutmen are but one jump ahead of the guy with the net.

At Woodland Springs Club we learned that in addition to it being the two hundred fifth successive day with snow on the club grounds, Sunday also provided fair fishing for brook trout.

Dr. and Mrs. Mill Hathaway, Dr. and Mrs. Vern Abbott and the Lee Voorhees' were some of the local people who took advantage of the brookies' indifference to weather extremes.

The club's rainbows refused all offerings and were content to leap about and show themselves to the exasperated fishermen.

The Lewiston area's trout census is in sure and certain danger of a radical decline due to the combined efforts of the Stu Harlocks of Pontiac.

GOT SUNBURNED

Michigan weather being what it is, we shouldn't have been surprised to see Monday dawn clear and bright. We were surprised, however, to be fishing to a hatch (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Wins Injunction in Church Fight

Court Order Restrains Area Jehovah Witnesses From Excluding Man

What Chester Waugh calls the opening round in his 18-month battle with Jehovah Witnesses was ended to him yesterday.

Waugh, a 36-year-old Pontiac Motor worker, won a temporary circuit court injunction restraining Jehovah Witnesses from preventing him from entering their church and praying there.

Waugh, who claims he has been a Witness since 1940 and has served actively in the religious organization, says he was "disfellowshipped" in 1954 for being "a brother-hater and a meddler."

William P. Strong, congregation leader named in Waugh's petition for the injunction, says he "made himself scripturally objectionable to the congregation."

The petition claimed Strong and other members of the congregation had "conspired together to prevent Waugh from worshipping at a public church or other churches."

Waugh says he was twice forcibly ejected from "Kingdom Hall," the local congregation's church in Drayton Plains which he says he helped build, and he has been asked to leave Witness gatherings in Milford, Detroit, Lake Orion and Lapeer, he said.

Waugh said his aim in the fight is to force judicial proceedings of the religious group to be held in public. He calls the trial which preceded his expulsion "no better than a kangaroo court."

Armed with the injunction and accompanied by a Sheriff's deputy, Waugh attended services Saturday night and Sunday. He said yesterday he was segregated from the congregation and watched by guards to prevent his speaking or demonstrating.

Air Force Needs Several Billions to Bolster Peace

Gen. LeMay Asserts Soviet Nuclear Growth Must Be Offset

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay's assertion that the Russians in a few years may have greater air-atomic striking power than the United States prompted Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) to call today for "several billions" more in Air Force funds.

Jackson is a member of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which yesterday heard LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, testify the Soviets already have more long-range bombers than this country, and are producing still more.

LeMay said this means the Russians "will have greater striking power than we will have" in the 1958-1960 period "under our present plans and programs."

As of now, the general said, this country can win "any war the Soviets may start." But, he cautioned, "we are not capable of winning it without this country receiving very serious damage."

Jackson said in an interview he believes "it would take several billions to provide the complete package that Gen. LeMay testified is necessary."

"I don't know of a more competent expert in the field of strategic air power," Jackson said of LeMay.

"No one can speak with equal authority. And he says we need more B52's, bases, jet tankers and skilled professional airmen to keep Russia deterred."

The new defense budget of about 35 billion dollars at first called for about 16 1/2 billions for the Air Force.

Later this was boosted by some millions, with most of the additional request earmarked for increased and accelerated output of B52 all-jet intercontinental bombers.

Jackson said Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had asked a minimum of 20 billions, that former Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot cut this to just above 18 billions, and that Secretary of Defense Wilson lowered it still further.

Congress still has not acted on the defense budget.

Look Out, Lampreys

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to set up an organization, in cooperation with Canada, to eradicate the fish-killing sea lamprey in the Great Lakes was passed yesterday by the Senate. The measure now goes to the House.

Address Ends Career

ALBEN W. BARKLEY

An Unforgettable Man

Political Writer Recalls Barkley at 2 Conventions

By JOE HAAS

It was my privilege to go through two Democratic national conventions with Alben Barkley. And in each he was the most unforgettable man.

At Philadelphia in 1948 he gave the keynote speech which pulled the convention out of the doldrums. From a maze of discouraging circumstances that plagued the party, it put the pep into the delegates that led to the nomination and election of Harry Truman.

At Chicago in 1952, where the convention again met in a spirit of gloom, another man was the key-note. But it was a poor attempt at what appeared to be an impossible task.

Barkley's talk, which followed it, was intended to be a sort of second-coming speech, but it stole the show as no other show ever was stolen. It proved to be the real keynote speech, and drew the greatest ovation of the entire convention.

I quote from my own story about it, which appeared in these columns on July 24, 1952:

"It was the ovation of all ovations. 'Twas the Veep's greatest hour. It was the first time the convention really listened. It made it forget the listed keynoter who preceded him."

"He woke up the convention just as he had in Philadelphia four years ago, when he put the party on the way to success in November."

In that Chicago convention I sat in the press section within 20 feet (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Veep Succumbs to Heart Attack at Virginia Rally

Death at 78 Concludes Long Political Career of Kentucky Senator

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, former vice president of the United States, collapsed and died yesterday on the speaker's platform at a university political gathering.

Barkley, 78, slumped to the floor after a keynote address to Washington and Lee University students assembled in a mock Democratic National Convention.

Dr. Robert Munger, who arrived seven minutes later as ambulance attendants were attempting to administer oxygen, said he died of a heart attack.

Today the "Veep" of the Truman administration made his final journey to Washington. Four students from Washington and Lee and four from nearby Virginia Military Institute accompanied the body.

In accord with Barkley's wishes, a funeral service will be held tomorrow morning in Foundry Methodist Church, Washington.

conducted by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, chaplain of the Senate. Burial will be Friday in Barkley's home town, Paducah, Ky.

Barkley, who described himself as "an old firehorse who has heard the bell," told the W&L students he had arrived here uncertain about going to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August—but had made up his mind to attend. He said he wouldn't be a candidate for nomination for the presidency.

CRIES OF 'NO, NO'

There were cries of "No, no," and when he had quieted the tumult he said:

"I have been in years gone by. But all fire apparatus is automotive now and not horse-drawn."

Reminiscently, he recalled he'd been a delegate-at-large to every Democratic National Convention since 1920; a junior, then a senior member of Congress; a junior senator; a senior senator; majority Senate leader; vice president; then junior senator again.

"I am willing to be a junior," he said. "I am glad to sit in the back row, for I would rather be a servant in the house of the Lord than to sit in the seats of the mighty."

Then he collapsed. Two students on the platform tried to break his fall. The 1,700 people in Doremus gymnasium sat dumfounded. Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia, who had introduced him, grasped Mrs. Barkley's arm and escorted her to the platform. Rep. Burr (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

New GMC Trucks Emphasize Versatility

An improved and expanded line of heavy-duty GMC trucks designed to give peak performance in both highway hauling and off-road operations was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The heavy-duty GMCs include an expanded line of versatile tandem-axle models, a wide range of four-wheel vehicles with more powerful gasoline and diesel engines, and engineering advances that give greater vehicle durability and performance.

This year's complete line of heavy-duty GMC trucks offers unrivaled versatility. Monaghan said.

"Many of our heavy-duty vehicles, including the majority of the tandem-axle models, were designed for combined highway and off-the-road work. Optional equipment like frame reinforcements and a great selection of axle ratios are available."

Providing a wide spread in hauling capacities, the heavy-duty line ranges from four-wheel gasoline models with 22,000-pound gross vehicle weight to tandem-axle vehicles with 90,000-pound gross combination weight.

Several entirely new models, including an FW550 dual-purpose, tandem-axle tractor and a tandem-axle W670, are offered.

Expanded use of V-8 engines is evident in the heavy-duty line, with models powered by either the 210-horsepower or a 180-horsepower V-8.

Twelve-volt electrical systems are standard equipment on all the heavy-duty vehicles, as well as tubeless tires.

With only two parts, the tire and rim, instead of the five or six on conventional tires, the tubeless tire is lighter and permits greater payloads, smaller parts inventories for truckers. They eliminate the danger of rings blowing off.

Although emphasizing a dual use of highway and off-road versatility, the heavy-duty trucks were designed for vehicle compactness and lightness desired in over-the-road operations.

Louisville Judge Jumps Fine for Drunk Drivers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police court Judge Peter B. Mur has raised the minimum fine for drunken driving in Louisville from $100 to $200.

He said the crime was getting "worse and worse."

"And if $200 fines don't break up the practice of drinking and driving," the judge said, "we will set the minimum even higher."

The Bare Facts

DALLAS (AP)—A husband complained in a divorce trial that his wife drank too much. The wife countered that her husband was a nudist and made her go to nudist meetings. She said she had to drink to keep from being embarrassed. The judge is still pondering the case.

Elks to Repair Flooded Alleys

Some County Roads Still Are Treacherous, After Flood Waters

Officials of the Elks Temple were making plans to repair their flooded bowling alleys as fair weather hit the Pontiac area today.

An Elks spokesman said the new alleys received "minor damage" when the basement of the building was flooded in the heavy rains last weekend. He expressed the belief that they would be ready for use when re-ran.

Elsewhere around the Detroit area, residents were hopeful continued good weather would dry up the remaining water from the million-dollar flood.

The water which covered several roads has receded in most cases but State Police have reported some side roads still are soggy and treacherous.

Over 30,000 persons relying on wells for water are being warned against possible contamination. They are being advised to take precautions until drinking water is tested. Flooding near wells may cause pollution, according to Health Department men.

Householders in such areas are instructed to bring well samples to the Health group for analysis and disinfect the wells before drinking. Flooded basements should be washed and disinfected as high up as waters reached, said the Health Department.

Calories Fine— but How About the Food's Taste

WASHINGTON (AP) — WAC officers wish they could find a way to keep women soldiers with weight problems away from snack bars.

It isn't the regular menu that gives the girls trouble, Col. Irene O. Galloway, Women's Army Corps commandant, told the House Appropriations Committee recently.

"The women who are gaining weight will go to the snack bar," Col. Galloway said during testimony made public today.

She explained that strict attention is paid to the caloric content of food served at regular meals (the men get 3,600 calories daily and the girls 2,400). But she added that "regardless of what food you get in the mess... they will still go to the snack bars."

"It is a matter of discipline," she said somewhat ruefully.

of the speaker. The newspapermen all had copies of the speech and we followed him in the text.

But toward the last he appeared faint, his massive frame shook, his great voice quivered, he faltered and he skipped whole paragraphs. We feared he would not be able to finish, and he did quit in the middle of a sentence.

His much younger wife to whom he had been married three years before sat in the front row in the balcony just above the press section. She became greatly alarmed when he faltered, bit her lips and hid her face in her hands.

She joined him on the stage for the ovation which was louder and longer than any other in the entire convention, not excepting that for Stevenson after his nomination and that for President Truman. I tried to time it — but it stopped my watch.

Barkley had a soft spot in his big heart for Pontiac. His first remark when I was introduced to him was, "You've always made a good car."

We discovered we were approximately the same age, and in press conferences he always pointed me out as "that boy," saying that we were so young that we both still had much to learn.

The summer school curriculum will include art history, the classics, English, French, and social studies. Since courses are non-credit, there will be no formal examinations given.

All registrations must be completed by June 11 for these sessions. All students who will have completed the 10th, 11th, or 12th grades by June of 1956 are eligible to enroll. Previous attendance at Kingswood or Cranbrook is not required to take the six-week courses.

Classes will be held five mornings each week with students allowed to take one or two courses. Three guest teachers will team with members of the regular Kingswood faculty in conducting the instruction. The summer session will be directed by Mrs. Cyril A. Player.

Physicist Called in Graham Trial

Scientist Will Testify on Bomb Used to Blast Fated Airliner

DENVER (AP) — A top FBI physicist was called today to give what the prosecutor calls "key testimony" in the murder trial of John Gilbert Graham, 24, accused of blowing up an airliner carrying 44 people.

Dist. Atty. Bert Keating said Dr. J. William Magee of Washington, D.C., would "tie together and explain" bits of metal and carbon identified previously by FBI and United Air Lines witnesses as being foreign to aircraft.

FRAGMENTS FOUND

The state witnesses said the fragments were found in the shattered remains of a DC-8B that exploded last Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., 11 minutes after taking off from Denver.

Graham is charged in the death of his mother Mrs. Daisy E. King, 55, one of the 44 passengers. He's accused of stuffing a dynamite time bomb in her luggage.

Magee, assistant chief of physics and chemistry at the FBI laboratory in Washington, testified previously that he found traces of exploded dynamite in metal fragments of Cargo Pit No. 4, where Mrs. King's luggage was placed.

Green Berets! Army May Issue Them to Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is thinking of outfitting its troops with berets — but the idea already has one Congress member agast.

told the House Appropriations Committee in testimony made public today that the Army has "under study" proposals to outfit all troops in green berets.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said he thought berets might be good morale builders for special units like paratroopers, "but not GI berets for the whole Army."

"I think it is fine to have a hot-shot outfit... wearing it, but I will have something to say before they break out the Army in berets," Flood declared.

3-Year Probation Given Mary Hargo

Mary Hargo, 39, of 289 W. Wilson St., was sentenced yesterday to three years' probation and restitution of the $1,283.33 in dues of the Pontiac Matrons' Club which she admitted converting to her own use.

Mrs. Hargo, former treasurer of the club, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty. She pleaded guilty to the charge April 18.

As treasurer, Mrs. Hargo reportedly kept a false bankbook to show members records of dues deposits she had not made.

The shortage in club funds was discovered by members told police last December when withdrawals from the bank for donation to charities were planned.

At that time, they said, Mrs. Hargo disappeared after a fire of unknown origin had slightly damaged her house.

After expected approval by the commission, City Manager W. K. Lemaux, will act on the bids.

The following items will be added to tonight's City Commission agenda as the result of action taken last night by the commission at their informal meeting:

2 — Formal approval of Pontiac General Hospital budget.

3 — Approval of lease for U.S. Army Training Center.

4 — City Attorney to prepare ordinance authorizing pay raise for Municipal Court jurors.

William said money should be available in about four weeks.

"We will begin working on certain phases of the project right away," he added.

Other items on the 26-point slate include action on 17 public improvement projects.

Other business to be acted on by the commissioners includes a deed from Adolph and Helen Hohm for a part of lots 18 and 25 in Mt. Clement Hills.

Expected to be accepted also will be four right-of-way agreements necessary in a storm drain project.

A resolution authorizing the city clerk to advertise for recapping State street between Huron and Johnson, and Osborn street between Saginaw and Sanford, is scheduled to be acted on tonight.

City Attorney William A. Ewart will present two reports on negotiations for two lots in the city.

The group is scheduled to meet May 11 at the Waldron Hotel.

Birmingham Student Held in Shooting

JACKSON (AP) — A Birmingham student at Spring Arbor Junior College was being held by police today for investigation in the shooting of the 10-year-old son of former college president Dr. C. D. Moon.

Police said Eddie Moon was playing outside Norman Schrott's dormitory when he was shot Sunday. Schrott, 18, of Birmingham, told police he was about 85 feet from the boy in his second floor dormitory room. He said he pointed his .22 caliber rifle at the child's back and pulled the trigger. Schrott said he did not know the gun was loaded.

The Moon boy was reported in fair condition at University Hospital, Ann Arbor. He was reported paralyzed temporarily with a bullet in his spine.

Schrott was held without charge at the Jackson County Jail. Eddie's father resigned last September as president of the small Free Methodist college eight miles west of Jackson. He now teaches at Hillsdale but lives in Spring Arbor.

There are seven locks on the Illinois Waterway, which links Lake Michigan with the Mississippi River.

St. Clair searches. They'll look for drowning victims, investigate sunken cars and trace underwater crime clues.

Bell Borrowing Approval Asked

$30 Million Debenture Would Help Finance Big Expansion Move

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. asked state permission today to borrow 30 million dollars to help finance a $332,504,000 expansion program over the next three years.

The expansion program was some 135 million dollars bigger than the expansion program for the last three calendar years.

The company petitioned the State Public Service Commissioner for authority to issue 30 million dollars worth of 40-year debentures.

Bell officials say the mammoth construction program, to be completed by 1960, will include installation of 421,000 new phones and allow completion of a new plant in Ypsilanti.

The three-year program will also see conversion of the last hand-cranked telephones operated by the company in Michigan to dial systems.

Hand cranked, or magneto type equipment, is still in use in Elk Rapids, McBain, Scottsville, Stephenson, Gagetown, Marion, Menominee and Unionville.

About 5,000 hand-cranked telephones in those communities will be converted to dial phones by 1960 the commission said.

The commission previously authorized the company to issue 117 million dollars in stock to help finance the expansion program.

The Day in Birmingham

City Plans Public Meeting to Discuss Fluoridation

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — A public meeting to hear state officials discuss advantages of fluoridation of city water supplies is being planned by city commissioners.

The commission proposes to decide for or against fluoridation after the meeting.

Commissioners last night heard two state health department officials explain success in reducing dental caries in children in Grand Rapids, where fluorides have been added to water supplies for ten years.

Dr. Fred Wertheimer, chief of the state department's dentistry section, said the department endorses fluoridation for water not containing enough natural fluoride.

Birmingham's water supply contains some, but not enough fluoride, he says.

Commissioners are delaying their vote until the public can be more fully advised of the process. Addition of fluorides would probably wait for the filtration plant being talked of for the city's water system.

At present, adding water to each of the seven wells would be costly. However, after July the city water is to be supplemented by 50 per cent Detroit water, and mixed with that supply in a central plant.

A public vote not necessary, although citizens of Pontiac and other cities have voted. Pontiac rejected fluoridation in April, 1955, after citizens petitioned for a referendum.

Two paving projects were approved last night, with the Eton street width set at 33 feet, and the Holland Avenue width at 25 feet.

Holland, being paved from Eton street west, does not need a parking lane with only five commercial firms owning property. Representatives of the firms said their trucks could operate better without parking there, they added.

A petition for a patrolman at Oakland and Hunter was presented by parents of school children who use the crossing. The stop light is not enough and the underground tunnel is used by of willow flies on the Au Sable's north branch by mid-afternoon and getting sun-burned in the process with hover-flies and a stray moquito or two to add to the fun.

Started off in the morning downstream from the M10 dam. Watched an expert nymph fisherman take a pair of ten inch browns and then a nearby factory started its infernal machinery, raising the water level and flow very rapidly.

NORTH BRANCH GOOD

We didn't make any effort to fish the main stream. It's got to have time to replenish itself. Upstream from M10 the Henry McNalleys of Rochester were taking a toll. Further upstream, City Manager "Bill" Willman was flailing the stream with deadly intent and results. Further up the Ben Jeromes were hatching sinister plans against the main stream's trout.

On the North Branch we dropped in on the Lynn Allens and learned that fishing there had been pretty good right from the start. Lynn, of course, knows that stream like a book and whether or not it was because of this, he and his week-end guests, the Harold Smeeds, the Donaldsons and Elmer Horns came up with some very respectable trout.

Except for water temperatures, streams in the Au Sable system are in very fishable shape. North Branch is normal and clear. Main Stream and South Branch near normal for this season, a trifle dark. Another couple days of warm sunshine and these waters should provide some top-notch activity. By next weekend, barring further snow or cold rain.

Also Surviving

Surviving also are a son, David Murrell Barkley of Paducah, Ky., and two daughters, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur II and Mrs. Max O'Reil Truitt, both of Washington.

In Frankfort, Ky., some form of political chaos was brewing today over who will succeed Mr. Barkley in the U.S. Senate.

Gov. A. B. Chandler is empowered by law to appoint a successor to serve until another senator can be elected in November.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eastern and Western railroads raised their basic passenger fares by 5 per cent today.

There was a simultaneous 7 1/2 per cent hike in Pullman charges throughout the country.

The Southern railroads are scheduled to make a similar 5 per cent increase in their basic passenger fares effective May 15.

The Interstate Commerce Commission late yesterday approved the increase in interstate passenger rates west of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, plus West Virginia and most of Virginia.

The commission said multimillion-dollar deficits which the railroads have been incurring in passenger operations since World War II demonstrated a need for additional revenue.

The ICC also authorized the railroads yesterday to make the 5 per cent hike effective on travel within Arkansas, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota and Texas.

only 50 per cent of the children, they said.

Front of the Municipal Building and surrounding grounds will be first step of the remodeling planned there by city commissioners. Approved last night was a new walkway, at a cost of $1,200 and a new hand rail up the steps, for $350.

Ordinances for motor buses and swimming pools were tabled until next week as they came before commissioners at 11:15 p.m. After referring the recreation department's budget to the city manager and deciding the proposed anti-litter ordinance was not enforceable, commissioners adjourned at 11:30.

The city's new assessor, Clark Hagstrom, began work today. He comes from Ironwood, and will be advised in his new work by Elmer Haack, retiring assessor.

President A. Edward Mollanen, of L'Anse will exchange places with Mayor James Allen on May 21 as part of Michigan Week observance. Mayor Allen will visit L'Anse in the Upper Peninsula.

Sen. Barkley Dies While Making Talk

Harrison (D-Va.) also rushed forward.

Calls were made for doctors and ambulances but the Rt. Rev. John J. Gravatt, Episcopal bishop of South Carolina, who had delivered the invocation, said later he believed the former "Veep" was already dead.

CONVENTION OVER

The convention recessed but later was called off indefinitely. The students dispersed quietly and the senator's body was removed on a stretcher.

Until his collapse he apparently had been in fine spirits as he played again a part he almost owned—keynoting a Democratic convention.

His speech was the real Barkley — sprinkled with quips, praise for the Democrats and artful digs at Republicans past and present. It was all extemporaneous. He had spoken for about 20 minutes in the hot, stuffy gymnasium when he collapsed, toppling a microphone as he fell.

Barkley came to Washington 34 years ago as a member of the House of Representatives. Later he was elected to the Senate, where he became majority leader. He resigned his Senate seat in 1949 to take office as vice president. He tried briefly for the presidential nomination of his party in 1952 but failed, then ran for the Senate and was elected.

His death brought expressions of grief from President Eisenhower and members of both parties.

Eisenhower said "the nation is poorer" for his death: "As vice president of the United States, member of Congress and senator from Kentucky, Mr. Barkley had a long and distinguished record of public service for the people of his state and country."

Vice President Nixon said Barkley "was loved and respected by those who were privileged to know him, regardless of their partisan affiliations. He was, and always will remain in the hearts of the American people, the one and only Veep."

Mrs. Barkley, his second wife, whom he married in 1949, was driven to Washington last night by a state trooper with Mrs. Francis P. Gaines, wife of the Washington and Lee president, as her companion.

Long Dream of Presidency Eluded Alben Barkley

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alben W. Barkley—a man of humor, balance and kindness—was one of those politicians who is widely beloved in his lifetime by his political friends and foes alike.

But when he said it was the last thing he said—that he was content to accept a "seat in the back row" of political life, he was expressing a thought that had come to him late in life. He was accepting a reality forced upon him by his age—78.

WANTED MORE
He had wanted more than a back seat. He had been one of the great public servants of his time. He had been in Congress almost continuously since 1913. And he had a dream. Perhaps he alone knows how long he had it.

He wanted the presidency. But when at last he reached out, it eluded him.

Yesterday, reviewing his career in an address at a student's mock

Democratic convention at Washington and Lee University, he referred good-naturedly to the fact that he was the junior senator from Kentucky.

He had been senior senator for years but lost seniority when he gave up his Senate seat to be vice president from 1949 to 1953. When re-elected senator in 1954, he became junior to Kentucky's Sen. Earle C. Clements, who was elected in 1950.

HOPED BRIEFLY

But less than four years ago, at the 1952 Democratic convention in Chicago, he hoped briefly his party might nominate him for the presidency.

He was disillusioned fast. On the convention's opening day, organized labor leaders whom he had generally supported all through the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, refused to consider him. Too old, they said.

He was 74 then, and he felt fine, as he did most of his life. He was a vigorous man who had remarked at 71, a politician in the classic tradition: arm-waving, roaring and witty. Not long ago he said he had never had a headache in his life.

He was reportedly deeply hurt when the union leaders rejected him. If he had refused to face it within himself, he had to face it now: even his friends thought he was too old for the presidency.

HIGH POINT OF LIFE

But out of his disappointment, no matter how bitter, he rose to what became perhaps the high point of his life.

Two days later, in the summer-boiling convention hall where the Democratic party had been almost torn apart in angry, factional dispute, Barkley went before the delegates with a rousing speech for unity.

The ovation when he finished may have been one of the longest in convention history. As he finished, standing alone, white-haired in the blinding spotlights, the jam-packed delegates leaped to their feet and cheered.

They were cheering more than just a man who had made a good political talk. They were trying to tell him, it seemed, that they loved and cherished him for his long and

Detectives Probing Hardware Breakin

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives were seeking leads today in the weekend break-in of a Telegraph Road hardware store in which merchandise valued at about $5,000 was taken.

Store owner Keith Anderson revealed yesterday that 22 guns and 40 fishing reels had been stolen as well as various other fishing equipment, two clocks and a typewriter.

The break-in was discovered Sunday morning by manager Wallace Simmons. Entry was gained by making a hole in the rear wall of the Bloomfield Township building.

Twenty thousand Norwegian males who will be 19 this year will report for military service in the next few months.

Dems, GOP Close Ranks to Pay Tribute to Barkley

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. leaders laid partisanship aside today to mourn the death of the Veeep—Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

Former President Truman told an audience: "I knew him before he went to the Senate."

"He was one of the greatest vice presidents that ever occupied that chair."

"The reason was that he knew all of the senators, all of the members of the House and all of their wives and friends—their shortcomings and their qualities."

Barkley was vice president during Truman's 1949-1953 term. Previously, they had served in the Senate together.

FAITHFUL FRIEND

"George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, called Barkley 'a faithful friend of labor throughout his long career in the public service.'"

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas termed Barkley's death "a terrible loss for millions of Americans."

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the country and Kentucky "have lost a great citizen and a great senator."

Adlai Stevenson paid tribute in Seaside, Ore., to Barkley's "courteous service to his country and his party."

It was as if they were trying to wash away in the sea of their applause whatever hurt he may have reached out for the highest office

the voters could give.

And he knew, if any man did,

the significance of that almost endless less applause. As it turned out, he was never to hear its like again.

He looked into the blinding lights, he waved, he seemed happy to bursting as he stood on the platform alone. All the other politicians, as if realizing that this hour belonged to Barkley alone, stayed away.

He was so happy, so unable to know what to do with himself in this moment of joy, that he wandered around, reaching over with the railing, and shaking hands with newspapermen he didn't know. It was the closest he could come to shaking hands with himself.

ROMANCE FOR THE VEEEP — Sen. Alben W. Barkley, who collapsed and died Monday afternoon at Lexington, Va., and his bride, the former Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, are shown as they prepared to cut wedding cake following their marriage in St. Louis, Mo., in November of 1949, when Barkley was vice president of the United States.

Dems Pressing Farm Bill Vote

Early Action in House Urged for Compromise Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats pressed today for an early House vote on a new compromise farm bill.

The Rules Committee scheduled a meeting on the request of Rep. Cooley (D-NC) that it clear the bill for floor debate as soon as possible, perhaps, tomorrow. Cooley is chairman of the Agriculture Committee, which unanimously approved the bill yesterday.

Cooley tailored the measure largely to meet objections President Eisenhower voiced two weeks ago when he vetoed the farm bill Congress had passed.

Gone from the new bill is a provision for mandatory high supports for basic crop prices.

Cooley's bill includes provision for Eisenhower's soil bank, contemplating payments to farmers who retire some of their acreage from production of crops now in surplus. But the bill would not give Eisenhower the requested permission to make advance payments of as much as 500 million dollars this year to farmers who agree to take part.

Concert Series Campaign Starts

Waterford Music Assn. Holds Kickoff to Bring Top-Flight Artists

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — With the aim of enlisting 1,000 people in the cause of good music, the Waterford Township Civic Music Association held its kickoff dinner last night.

Today some 200 volunteer workers are calling friends, neighbors and strangers to sell memberships and meet the goal by 6 p.m. Saturday.

Membership in the music association includes a season's tickets to a series of concerts, to be presented at Cray Junior High School this year. The "guaranteed audience plan" insures bringing in trained concert artists who otherwise would not appear in any but the concert halls of a large metropolitan city.

Martha Smith, representative of Civic Music Service, Inc., of New York, was the speaker for last night's affair. She explained that this means of bringing fine music to many communities was started by the Civic Music Association 32 years ago.

"Formerly a few wealthy patrons had been solicited to back each concert and then the artists would perform to half-empty houses," Miss Smith said. "Now, with many persons backing the concerts, a better audience is guaranteed the artists perform better. The concerts are available to many at a minimum cost."

The speaker emphasized that no memberships will be accepted after Saturday. At that time the budget is set up and the talent committee selects the artists. Admission to all concerts is by season membership only.

Township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson last night proclaimed this week as "Civic Music Week" in Waterford Township. The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany gave the invocation for the dinner, and Harry Nichol and David Wilson, Cray Junior High School students, presented three piano-bass viol duos.

MAKE OVER PLAYS
THE POWERHOUSE

This would be a sorry world if we tried to make every one fit into a pattern. I don't say, therefore, all front office brass should copy Bill Veeck.

But I do believe there are certain fundamentals of sheer general entertainment, appealing to male and female, youth and adult, which Veeck uses as a guide. These fundamentals, not the Veeck mannerisms, deserve study because they pay off in whirling turnstiles.

Take the opening game at Miami the other night. Veeck lived up to his reputation as baseball's greatest showman by staging an expensive, but exciting, pregame show that had the fans howling, gasping or dissolving in laughter.

Fireworks thundered in the tropical sky and spelled out: "Hi, fans." A pretty girl walked a tight wire 80 feet above ground from a light tower in center field to right.

The stadium was darkened and the Marlins sprinted out in spanking new uniforms, one at a time, for a crisp personal introduction in a blazing spotlight. Max Patkin, a combination clown and coach and oldtime friend of Veeck's from Cleveland days, went to work pantomining in the coaching box.

Jimmy Burns reported: "Patkin provoked gales of laughter. Some of the feminine shrieks could be heard high in the press box, an indication Veeck may know the secret of interesting women in baseball."

There was a dramatic descent in a helicopter by Satchel Paige, a player brawl on the basepaths, and a game viewed by 8,816. It was topped off by a Miami victory over Buffalo, 10-3.

Satchel Paige looks like a Cub Scout compared with Al Payer who will play third base for Sugarloaf, Pa., in the Anthracite League this season. Payer can run, hit, is a class infielder and is 52.

Decline Hits Major Crowds

AP Survey Shows 10 Per Cent Slump Under Figures for 1955

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball attendance is slumping approximately 10 per cent with 11 clubs showing a decrease in a comparison with last year's figures.

An Associated Press survey revealed today that the big league ball clubs have played before 1,059,172 fans this season. The total in as many home dates in 1955 was 1,176,172. With the weather a likely factor, the decrease is 117,695.

Only the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers are showing gains. The Yanks are up 57,000 and the Red Sox almost 20,000 with the other three teams only slightly ahead.

Milwaukee, which has led in attendance since it went big league in 1953, yesterday played before its smallest County Stadium crowd—6,990. The Braves have drawn 55,391 for three home games and they had 65,271 in the till last season.

Tunney Advises Rocky Not to Change Mind

MONTREAL (AP)—Gene Tunney, who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world almost three decades ago, said today he has advised Rocky Marciano.

"Don't ever change your mind," Marciano retired as undefeated heavyweight champion last Friday and Tunney said he sent Rocky a telegram the next day "extending my congratulations on his decision."

Conrad Sets Sights on 2nd British Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Conrad, the British amateur golf champion, will attempt to duplicate Lawson Little's feat by winning the coveted title two years in a row.

Little captured it in 1934-35. Conrad will head a strong American delegation to Troon, Scotland, for the competition May 28-June 2, the U.S. Golf Assn. announced yesterday.

Conrad won the championship last year while serving as a lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. He also was a member of the Walker Cup team at the time.

Tigers Open Five - Game Eastern Trip in NY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, 2nd best hitters in the American League last season, currently are the loop's second best fielders. And only the New York Yankees top them in double plays. The Chicago White Sox, who topped the Tigers in hitting in 1955, now top them in fielding. But Detroit, away down in 5th place in hitting, is a jump ahead of the league-leading White Sox in that department. Detroit now is surprisingly 2nd in another department, too. That is the home run department. Detroit has clouted 16, against 15 for the Yankees who top the league in the batting averages. The Tigers, counting two Sunday in sloppy Briggs Stadium, have committed only a dozen errors in the season's 1st ten games. Chicago hasn't miscued yet, but has played only six games. With rookie Reno Bertoia figuring in practically all of them, the Tigers have executed 14 double plays, which is 2nd only to the Yankees' 17.

The Tigers were distinct surprises in the hitting, fielding and home run departments as they arrived today for the 1st of two games against the Yankees.

Nobody expected them, with Al Kaline (.340), Harvey Kuenn (.306), Bill Tuttle (.279), Ray Boone (.284), Earl Torgeson (.283) and Frank House (.293), to be away down in 5th place in batting with a mere .241 average, even at this early stage. (Parenthetical figures are for 1955.)

Currently Kaline is hitting only .195, Kuenn, .184; House, .167; Boone, .231; Torgeson, .235, and Tuttle, .244. Charley Maxwell, however, has a remarkable .435 for the six games he has worked.

Most experts predicted — and still do — that the Tigers will hit somewhere around their 1955 mark of .266. They now are currently 25 points below it.

By the same token, with Bertoia handling the 2nd base pivot, the Tigers have crossed up pre-season experts with their fielding, especially in double plays.

Home run production also has been a surprise, although only three of 16 have come with men on bases. Despite this, however, 19 of Detroit's 33 runs thus far have come on circuit clouts.

Pitching has been and continues to be a Detroit worry. Ned Garver may not be ready to return to action for several days because of a pulled tendon in his elbow.

Veteran Virgil Trucks, bothered with a sore arm, was hit heavily in a short relief stint against Cleveland Sunday. Rookie Bud Black failed in his 1st start, also Sunday and against Cleveland. Young Bob Miller hasn't been impressive in recent assignments.

Harris picked Steve Gromek (1-1) today to oppose Whitey Ford, who has won his two 1956 starts for the Yankees.

After two here, the Tigers move on to Boston, Baltimore and Washington before returning to Briggs Stadium May 11.

Indian Guffaw

Lopez Can't See Yankees

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—If you want to get a king-sized guffaw out of Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, mention that perhaps the New York Yankees might win the American League pennant by as much as 10 games.

That's what they're saying around the circuit, but the gay Senor, who ran a bad second to the Yanks last year with his Tribe, sees nothing but humor in it.

"How can the Yankees be favored?" he asked today. "Why, they're hurting for a shortstop. And don't tell me they're not. Just who is their regular at the position?"

"Certainly, the Yanks are good. But if they're favorites, then we're co-favorites, and our chances of winning are every bit as good as theirs."

The Indians head for Washington and a game with the Senators tomorrow.

New Crowd Marks Loom for Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—Berlin's record of 3,000,000 spectators for the 1936 Olympics likely will be smashed at the Melbourne Games November 22-December 8.

Australia has only 9,000,000 people, but has a higher percentage of sport fans than any other nation. Already 1,250,000 seats have been sold for various events and in many cases only seats left are those reserved for overseas visitors.

There will be no vacant reserved seats for any day of athletics at the main stadium where an estimated 880,000 people will see track and field events.

Nearly 100,000 people will watch 18 sessions of swimming and again only seats available are those set aside for overseas visitors.

The cycling velodrome holds 20,000 and all sessions will be packed, as will be hockey and soccer stadium which has 35,000 capacity.

Another 110,000 people will witness both the opening and closing ceremonies and a similar crowd is sure to see soccer finals at the main stadium.

Add to these totals the tens of thousands who will watch rowing at Lake Wendouree, road cycling at Essendon and the marathon from free vantage points, and the Berlin record looks certain to go.

Victoria's schools are taking an amazing interest in the games. Special sections are being set aside for school children and abide by the decision of Wallace Wade, Southern Conference commissioner.

At Durham, N. C., Wade pointed out that Southern Conference rules do not prohibit its athletes from competing with service teams or other organizations which may have former professionals as team members. He would not comment further.

MSBL Expands for '56 Season

The Michigan State Baseball League held its 1956 organizational meeting Saturday at the Hayes Hotel in Jackson. Operating with six teams last year in its first season of operation, the league has expanded to 12 cities for the new season which will start in mid-May.

The infant league will be broken into eastern and western divisions this year. Pontiac GMTC will compete in the eastern division along with Royal Oak, Dearborn and Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Battle Creek, Lansing and Muskegon comprise the western group.

Officers were elected at the Jackson gathering. Jim Terrell of Saginaw was elected president. Paul Parks of Pontiac and Stan Galdys of Grand Rapids were named first vice-presidents, and Mike Rogan of Dearborn was chosen secretary-treasurer. J. Layler of Jackson, J. Seltnerich of Battle Creek and D. Law of Kalamazoo were named trustees.

Louisiana Teams Avoid Segregation Crisis by Switching Site

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Evangeline League avoids a segregation crisis tonight when a two-game series moves from Baton Rouge to Lafayette.

The crisis would have arisen had the series been played here as scheduled. The city has imposed a ban on Negro players in the Baton Rouge ball park. Lafayette has two Negroes on its roster.

The ban on Negroes already has cost the Baton Rouge club dearly. The Rebels refused to play the Lake Charles Giants, leaders in the Class C circuit, last Saturday because of a Negro player in the lineup. League President Ray Mullins yesterday ordered the game forfeited to the Giants.

Baton Rouge General Manager Art Kowalski announced the transfer of the series to Lafayette. If the league is able to reach a decision on the problems at its May 6 meeting, he said, Lafayette will return the two games at Baton Rouge later in the season.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

The average player is troubled by the small chip shot called for when the ball lies a few feet from the putting surface.

Often this type of shot is referred to as a "pitch and run." For the idea is to pitch the ball low and let it run the rest of the way to the hole. A pitch and run shot should be used when there are no hazards, such as a trap, between you and the hole.

The No. 9 iron or a wedge is probably the average player's best choice for this shot. Your 9-iron enables you to loft the ball slightly. Aim for a spot on the green, and allow the ball to run to the hole.

Use the overlapping grip for a pitch-and-run shot, gripping the club two or three inches down the shaft. This will shorten your backswing. A short chip — or pitch-and-run-shot does not require a full swing.

A very narrow stance is required for this shot, since there is little pivot or foot action in executing it. Use an open stance which is formed by drawing the left foot back from the line of flight. Your weight is fairly distributed with emphasis on the left foot, to enable you to hit the ball first and take a little turf afterwards.

Your hands and arms are close in toward your body during this shot. Your hands should be slightly ahead of the ball at the address.

As you assume your stance, look at the hole and get a mental picture of the spot on the green in which you wish the ball to hit.

Use an open stance with the feet close together for a chip or pitch-and-run shot. Hands are ahead of the ball at the address and the club is gripped about two or three inches down the shaft.

Prep Pitchers Shine, Fire Three Shutouts

The long-awaited appearance of the sun Monday afternoon must have been a source of inspiration for high school pitchers as three sparkling shutouts were recorded in yesterday's baseball action.

The most brilliant performance was turned in by Orchard Lake St. Mary's Paul Frankowiak, who twirled a one-hit masterpiece as the Eagles trimmed St. Frederick, 8-0, in a Suburban Catholic League game at Orchard Lake.

Frankowiak struck out 16 batters to lead the Eagles to their first win of the season. Bob Crossedell's single spoiled Frankowiak's no-hit bid. Terry Raymond and Len Mallat each collected two hits for St. Mary. It was the 4th loss in a row for the Rams.

Dave Gaddis hurled a neat four-hitter as Clarkson blanked Northville, 2-0, in a Wayne-Oakland League contest at Northville. A walk to Don Alexander and consecutive singles by Garry Nelson, Chuck Passage and Gaddis gave the Wolves their two runs in the last inning.

Waterford's Jerry Kruskie engaged in a brilliant pitching battle with Berkley's Herb Duncan in an inter-Lakes game at Waterford and Kruskie came out on top, 1-0. Each pitcher allowed only five hits, but a base on balls to Tom Bryce, an infield out, and Ron Kind's single in the 1st stanza handed Kruskie the only run he needed.

Al McFarlane of Milford probably deserves recognition as the tough-luck pitcher in Oakland County this season. McFarlane gave up only one hit yesterday, but lost a Holly, 2-1, in a Wayne-Oakland tussle at Milford.

A single by Coggins the 1st inning was the lone Holly hit and the only safety made against McFarlane in the last 14 innings. McFarlane tossed a no-hitter against Brighton last Thursday and lost that one too.

Milford committed nine errors to provide shoddy support and walks by McFarlane also contributed to his downfall. Both Holly runs were unearned. Huber hurled a six-hitter for the winners.

St. Michael dropped its 4th straight Suburban Catholic League decision, 5-2, to St. Clement of Center Line at Columbia. Joslyn. Clem Kramer pitched a three-hitter for the Clements

Moore Wastes Little Time Beating 'Tiger'

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Aging Archie Moore, winding up his tuxedo tour for the defense of his lightweight crown in June, handily dispatched Tiger Gene Thompson of Los Angeles last night with a knockout in 1:45 of the third round.

Both fighters weighed in at 189½ for the scheduled 10-round.

Thompson was staggered twice in the first round with rights to the jaw—the same punch Moore used for the knockout.

The Los Angeles fighter landed a few jabs on Moore's nose before the champ sent him wobbling-kneed to the ropes.

Husband Seeks to Sue Martha

Fifth Mate's Attorney Trying to Serve Comic With Summons

NEW YORK — An attorney for comedian Martha Raye's fifth husband, Edward Begley, says he is trying to serve a summons on her in a divorce suit. Begley is 30 and Miss Raye 39.

Last Saturday she was sued for alienation of affections by a 20-year-old housewife, Mrs. Barbara Ann O'Shea of Westport, Conn.

LOVE THEFT
Mrs. O'Shea accused the wide-mouthed comedienne of stealing the love of her policeman husband Robert, who had been acting as Miss Raye's bodyguard in his off-duty hours. Miss Raye has a home in Westport.

The Westport police chief yesterday ordered the 27-year-old patrolman not to report for duty until further notice.

Meanwhile, Miss Raye's attorney Shirley Woolf arrived here from Miami. She said she had come here "to clean up this ridiculous mess."

'SHOCKED' BY SUIT
She said, Miss Raye was "shocked" by the housewife's suit and had no romantic relationship with the young patrolman.

The attorney for Miss Raye's fifth husband said he could not disclose details of the divorce action, including who would be named co-respondent. The couple were married in 1954.

Service Groups Offer Facilities for Infirm

Clinton Valley No. 10 of the IOOF and its affiliates, Pontiac Encampment No. 26, Welcome Rebekahs, No. 276 and Pontiac Rebekah, No. 450 have announced the continuance of their hospital bed and wheel chair service for this year. The announcement was made by Raymond E. Kline in conjunction with the 137th anniversary of the IOOF.

This service has been carried on in Michigan for 17 years by the order with over a million dollars invested in equipment. The Pontiac area lodges have offered the beds and chairs for home use locally for the past 10 years, Kline said.

Mrs. Bessie Huston and Mrs. Raymond Kline, both of Pontiac, are in charge of the free service.

The first attempt by Israel's farmers to grow rice has been successful. The rice was grown on two experimental plots in the Hule Valley.

Hollywood Headlines:

Fredric March to Limit Future Career to Movies

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — It's no more legit for Fredric March.

For 20 years or more, the actor has been bouncing back and forth between Hollywood movie sets and the Broadway stage, with notable success in each. But now he plans to limit himself to occasional movies.

TO ENJOY LIFE

"I'm 58. When you get as old as I am, you want to enjoy life. Mostly that means traveling to me."

"I couldn't face another long run in a Broadway show. We've had some pretty long runs in shows like 'Skin of our Teeth,' 'The American Way' and 'A Bell for Adano.' It was fun doing them, but I wouldn't want to stick in a show for a year or two again. That's for the kids, the ones with stardust in their eyes."

"Supposing I get in a show," he mused. "I get home around 4:30 in the afternoon, have dinner and then I have to go to the theater. If there's a party that night, I could meet my wife there. But by the time I arrive, the party's about over."

YOU'RE STUCK

He made the same observation that I heard the late Walter Huston make in his later years: "If your play's a hit, you're stuck with it. If it's a flop, it's no fun."

So he's going to stick to movies

Discovers Generosity Is Very Costly Virtue

FITCHBURG, Mass. — Albert Joseph, 38, of Bellows Falls, Vt., told police how his generosity proved costly.

He said he met a man in a diner, felt sorry for him because he longed for a beer and gave him the keys to his parked car where some beer was stored.

When Joseph went to the car 20 minutes later, the man, the beer and $295 worth of clothing were gone, he reported.

Old Beans Rise, Then Fall Back

CHICAGO (U)—Old crop soybeans spurted several cents to another series of new seasonal highs in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

After setting the new peaks, beans fell back but the old crop months remained above the previous close. Dealings were only moderately active.

In other grains corn showed considerable strength, particularly the old crop months. Oats moved higher in sympathy with corn. Wheat lagged as additional moisture was received in parts of the winter wheat belt overnight.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1 cent lower, May $2.35 1/2, corn 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, May $1.52 1/2, oats 1/2 to 3/4 higher, May 65 1/2, rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, May $1.29 1/2, soybeans 1/2 to 1/4 higher, May $3.25 1/2, and hard 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $14.40.
