Polio Shots Delayed for Further U.S. Study

Enumerators Ready for Annual Count

READY TO COUNT—Last minute instructions for this year's school census are being given by Paul Allison, director of child accounting for the Pontiac school district. Seated are Mrs. Russell Granzo, 300 Nelson St., (left) and Mrs. Leonard Thiese, 917 N. Perry St. Monday 41 Pontiac women will begin the house-to-house tabulation of children from one day-old to 20 years.

Far East, Bonn Issues Occupy Big 4 Leaders

Europe Peace Outlook Bright, Dulles Claims on Arrival in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Foreign policy makers of the Western world's new Big Four assembled today in Paris. The troubled situation in the Far East and the ever-present problems of West European defense confronted them.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer all spoke optimistically of chances for resolving international issues.

Dulles started out his round of activities by meeting with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Premier Edgar Faure on the situation in South Viet Nam. Later Macmillan will join them for talks to include Formosa and other Far Eastern issues.

"Never before have I made this journey in a mood of greater confidence for the future of Europe and for the future of European peace," Dulles declared in a statement to newsmen.

He appeared spry and well rested after his overnight flight in President Eisenhower's plane, the Columbine.

He expressed hope he could sign his name to an Austrian independence treaty before he returns to the United States and added:

"Out of that result could come new opportunities for testing the sincerity of the Soviet government's professed intentions of seeking a genuine relaxation of international tensions in Europe."

Adenauer declared his country's admission to the Western European Union and NATO aligns West Germans with the free peoples of the world. In that role, Adenauer declared, West Germany is prepared to fulfill her responsibilities.

Of immediate concern to the Big Three diplomats was the seething political conflict which has pitted South Viet Nam's chief of state, former Emperor Bao Dai, against Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Following Diem's victory over the rebel Binh Xuyen group in last week's bloody fighting, the issue now is whether Viet Nam will remain a monarchy or become a republic.

Reports from the South Vietnamese capital of Saigon say Diem

9,500 in County Were Slated for First Salk Shots

Dr. Monroe Calls Off Program After Federal Recommendation

Polio shots scheduled today for an estimated 9,500 Oakland County School children have been postponed, it was announced at 8:35 this morning by Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

Slated to receive their first shots today were first and second grade pupils in Pontiac, Waterford Township Birmingham, Southfield Township and Ferndale.

Cancellation came after the U.S. Public Health Service said today in Washington that it recommended suspending all inoculations until the government completes its study of the findings of an investigation into the manufacture and testing of polio vaccines now in use.

The investigation was launched after a number of children inoculated with vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif., came down with polio.

Dr. Monroe said the shots would be rescheduled as soon as possible after the announcement of the government agency, and that he expected to receive a go-ahead for the shots here.

The health official pointed out that none of the Oakland County children vaccinated almost three weeks ago had contracted polio. All vaccine used here is made by Parke-Davis & Co., at its Rochester unit.

"We are sure our vaccine is safe," Dr. Monroe said, "but will not gamble. As soon as we get official word, the program will be resumed.

Only one case of polio — of the non-paralytic variety — has been reported in Oakland County so far this year. The child who contracted the disease did not receive the vaccine.

In Michigan, however, State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis recommended continuing the program.

"The decision of the Michigan Health Department is to make no recommendations for a change in the presently scheduled vaccine program.

"If we get a directive from the national licensing authorities, we will act in accordance with whatever we receive," Dr. Heustis said.

The Associated Press reported from Washington that Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele made the official announcement urging that all polio vaccination programs be halted.

School Census Will Start in Pontiac District Monday

Knock, knock! Who's there?

It's the school census lady and she will start calling at your door Monday morning and following days during the balance of May.

She would like to know how many children you have in your family from one day old to 20 years of age. It is also necessary that she be told when they were born and the school (either public or parochial) they attend.

This is an important annual index which serves as the basis for planning school building and courses of instruction. It is also the key for determining the distribution of primary school interest money to the Pontiac school district.

The school census is a barometer for the local board of education in its finance programing for the schools in the years ahead.

Forty-one women, many veterans of years and years of school census taking, have been recruited by Paul Allison, director of child accounting and census for the Pontiac district.

Allison predicts that at least 2,500 children will be added to the 30,000 plus now on the school census rolls of Pontiac.

To make certain that the child who is deaf and hard of hearing, blind and partially seeing and crippled is provided for in the educational planning, separate sheets will be tabulated by the census takers for these children.

Making this tabulation is part of every school district's responsibility.

Dixie Welcomes Rail Strike End

Heavy Cost of Walkout Is Burden to Industries Throughout South

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Prospects of an early end to the bloody and costly Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike caused cheer all along the 4,737-line today.

Violence associated with the strike and increasing in the last few days has included one killing, serious woundings, bridge and rail dynamitings and fires.

The economic loss from the 55-day strike in the 14 states affected will run into millions of dollars.

Included are wages lost to the 25,000 strikers. Layoffs in industries depending on the railroad also have proved costly. In Kentucky alone 14,000 coal miners idled by lack of railroad cars have lost an estimated $5,600,000 in wages.

The railroad's loss likewise was figured in the millions. The L&N suspended its passenger service early in the strike, cutting out an important source of revenue. To this loss was added that from a curtailed freight service.

As freight piled up, industries which had depended on the railroad, turned to motor transportation.

Postal officials also had to turn to trucks and other railroad lines to handle mail when the L&N suspended its passenger service. Mail is carried only on passenger trains.

Louisville is headquarters of the L&N, and Kentucky is one of the states hardest hit by the strike. In addition to the southeastern Kentucky coal miners idled, hundreds of lumber industry workers in the mountains also were laid off.

Georgia's lumber and pulpwood industry laid off 1,200 men. Operations were halted at three pulpwood concerns, 15 sawmills and two big lumber yards.

State's Leading Women Golfers Try Forest Lake

Many of Michigan's leading women amateur golfers are getting in their practice licks early at Forest Lake Country Club in preparation for the Wolverine Ladies Open Tournament, May 25-29.

Among the state players who have entered the tournament, which will also feature the nation's leading pro women golfers, are Pat Devany, Mrs. Irene Bretzlaff, Mrs. Don Weiss, Sally Sharp, Mrs. J. G. Israel, Mrs. J. P. Stapchinskas, Mrs. Donald F. Watkins, Helen J. Grinnell, Mrs. Ruth Stricker and Mrs. Stewart (Sunny) Nunneley, all members of the Women's District Golf Assn.

Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee is an entry from the Women's Michigan Golf Assn., while Mrs. Charles Fox, Mrs. W. H. Falco and Mrs. R. G. Martell are representing the Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn.

Entries have also been received from Mrs. George W. Dixon Jr., of Glen View, Ill.; Wiffi Smith, of St. Clair Shores; Mrs. Maxon Berger, Mrs. Nancy Reuter and Mrs. John Pennington, all of Williamsville, N.Y.

Making Vaccine at Parke-Davis

Production of Serum Continues With End of Strike Threat

DETROIT (AP)—Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit pharmaceutical firm, continued its manufacture of Salk Polio vaccine today with the last possibility of a CIO strike wiped out.

Local 176 of the CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union formally ratified new contract settlement terms with the company last night. The vote of 1,500 of the local's 2,500 members was reported unanimous.

In the effort to avoid a strike, which would have halted production of the Salk vaccine, the previous contract had been extended on a day to day basis since its expiration May 1. Parke, Davis is one of the two major producers of the vaccine.

The union gave up its demand for a guaranteed annual wage. It accepted a seven cents an hour pay increase for this year and six cents for next year in a two-year contract. A pension plan and disability payments were improved.

The settlement brings the average wages up to $2.02 for men and $1.75 for women. Some women's pay rates were adjusted upward.

Parke, Davis is continuing negotiations with the AFL International Assn. of Machinists, whose contract with the company also expired May 1. The 300 IAM members at the company have authorized their officers to call a strike if necessary.

Clearing Skies, Cool on Tap for Weekend

Pontiac area skies are due to clear tonight, according to the weatherman, and weather will be cool over Sunday.

Low temperature expected tonight is 47 — tomorrow's high, 68.

Lowest temperature recorded in the downtown area this morning before 8 o'clock was 55 degrees. The mercury mounted to 75 by 2 p.m.

Starts in City Monday

Check for 20,000 Autos Is Goal of Safety Week

Within the short span of one week this year, at least 20,000 autos are expected to undergo free inspections during the city-wide vehicle maintenance program starting Monday morning.

Sponsored for the fourth year here by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, the program is designed as "a public service in the interest of greater highway safety and saving of lives," said Clyle R. Haskill, committee chairman.

Formerly, the program had sought to check only some 10,000 cars. But this year's effort by the committee is expected to be completed within one week with help from various civic groups in Pontiac.

The annual inspection also is sponsored by the Pontiac Police Dept. and the Pontiac Auto Dealers Assn.

A proclamation by Mayor William W. Donaldson today notes the Safety Committee "in cooperation with the inter-industry and national Safety Council is sponsoring the campaign . . . because of the many accidents and deaths which are caused by automobiles in need of maintenance attention."

Motorists are urged to enter the following lanes during next week for the auto check:

On Johnson street, between Elizabeth Lake and Liberty Sts.; on Hillside drive in front of Lincoln Jr. High School; East Blvd., between Auburn avenue and Whittemore street; Municipal Parking Lot on Pike street and on West Huron, beside the Oakland County Courthouse.

'Brain' Lifts Blame From Weatherman

SUITLAND, Md. (AP) — The Weather Bureau is trying out a complex electronic brain in its quest for more accurate forecasts.

The brain—a big roomful of calculating equipment—turned loose its first experimental forecast last night. It dealt with the nation's weather pattern for today.

Bureau officials said the brain—built by International Business Machines Corp. and leased to the government for $20,000 a month—will make only one forecast a day for a while. Later it will be used for two forecasts daily.

The bureau said the device—designed to relieve personnel of many mathematical calculations—will be able to correlate past and current weather information and then arrive swiftly at a general forecast.

Bureau officials said they expect it won't be too long before the brain will be predicting basic weather developments over the entire world.

Tension Mounts at Derby Track

Nashua 4 to 5 Favorite in $152,500 Running of Kentucky Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Ten horses awaited the call to the post for the 81st running of the $152,500 Kentucky Derby today as tension mounted at Churchill Downs and gaiety took over in the stands across the track.

Expected at the starting post for the Kentucky classic are 10 three-year-olds: Nashua, 4 to 5 favorite, Summer Tan, Trim Destiny, Swaps, Flying Fury, Racing Fool, Jean's Joe, Blue Len, Nabesna and Honey's Alibi.

The track should be fast, with chance of light, scattered showers late in the afternoon.

Mud would make little difference to Nashua, Summer Tan or Swaps although it might force Trim Destiny out of the race.

TV and radio coverage begins at 4:15 (EST) with post time at 4:30.

Shorts in High School Ousted by Principal

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Boys will be boys and yesterday 20 of them who attend Portsmouth's Wilson High decided it was time for a change.

So they showed up for classes wearing Bermuda shorts.

But Principal Robert Sweeney, a traditionalist, thought things had changed a bit too much. He ordered the boys to march right back home and put their pants on.

They did, too.

U.S. to Support Free Viet Nam

Any Anti-Red Regime Acceptable, With or Without Bao Dai

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has indicated it will support an anti-Communist Viet Nam government backed by the people there, whether or not it includes Chief of State Bao Dai.

The department, seeking to discredit reports it is pushing for a constitutional monarchy there, said in a statement yesterday "it is up to the Vietnamese to . . . decide their form of government by whatever constituent process they freely choose."

That process, the department indicated, might be a development growing out of the present powers of Bao Dai, or it might involve instead the action of a popularly backed constituent assembly.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. special ambassador who returned to Saigon after a week of consultations here, was instructed to suggest to Viet Nam officials that changes in the government might be developed from the present legal basis of Bao Dai's position. But officials said also that this country did not want to advocate any particular form of government and that if Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and his followers wanted to oust Bao Dai, that was their business.

School Districts Slate Elections

5 Areas Set Deadline of May 14 for Filing Nominating Petitions

With an eye to upcoming school board elections, board of education secretaries across the county have announced the deadline for nominating petitions.

Annual elections will be held June 13 in West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, Lyon Township, Rochester and Holly school districts, among other areas.

Deadlines for submitting the petitions is 4 p.m. Saturday, May 14. Petitions should be signed by not less than 50 nor more than 75 qualified registered electors of the school district.

Petitions may be secured at the schools.

Two members are to be elected in the West Bloomfield district; one in Walled Lake; two in Lyon; and one in Holly.

Walled Lake voters also will decide on the question of instituting teacher tenure.

Leukemia Claims Rochester Child

ROCHESTER — Cathleen Renee McKenney, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenney of 135 Northwood St., died yesterday in Children's Hospital, Detroit, following a six-month illness. The child was a victim of leukemia.

Cathleen was born on Jan. 16, 1953, in Detroit, and came to Rochester some time ago when her father received an appointment to teach in the Rochester Community Schools.

She is survived by her parents; two brothers, Michael and Wayne, at home; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McKenney of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holdeman of Jackson.

Private funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from the Pixley Funeral Home, with interment at Mt. Avon Cemetery. The family has requested that memorial donations be sent to the Children's Leukemia Foundation in Detroit.

Dinner Reservations Due for Scout Event

Ticket reservations for the annual Clinton Valley Council meeting, May 12, in the dining room of the Pontiac Motor Engineering Building, should be made no later than Monday, according to Edward Leland, council executive.

Persons interested may write or phone the Scout Office, 53½ W. Huron St., FE 4-2509. Tickets then may be picked up at the door. About 250 persons are expected Thursday, Leland said.

Cutlines Corrected

The cutline beneath a picture of the four Davisburg Eagle Scouts in the May 5 issue of the Press reading ". . . it has done what no other troop of similar age or size has done in the history of Clinton Valley Council," was in error.

It should have read: ". . . it has done what no other troop of similar age or size in Manito District has done."

To Take School Census

HOLLY — Superintendent of schools Charles G. Coggins has announced that the annual school census will begin May 12, and will be taken by 15 canvassers who already have been appointed.

It will cover ages 5-19 years, and is expected to be finished before June 1.

Pontiac Hospitals to Mark National Week May 8-14

Pontiac's two major hospitals today announced final plans for celebration of National Hospital Week which begins Sunday.

Sponsored by the American Hospital Assn., the annual event also received official local proclamation by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

A packed week of activities will be launched tomorrow at 2 p.m. in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital when the program will begin with an open house, which will include tours of the nurses' home, a discussion on nursing and a style show on "what the well-dressed student wears."

Sister Mary William, hospital administrator, said, "We are especially anxious that prospective nursing students and their parents visit the home and enjoy the program, but everyone is invited to attend."

Besides daily tours of the hospital's departments and other functions, the institution also will observe National Hospital Day on Thursday which is Florence Nightingale's birthday.

At Pontiac General Hospital, there will be no open house observance, but other activities are planned.

Tuesday evening, the hospital will host the Pontiac Toastmistresses Club for a tour of the facilities.

From 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday, a "Florence Nightingale Tea" will be given for all hospital employes by the Women's Auxiliary.

Groups may arrange tours of the hospital during the week by telephoning Shirley Dovre, administrative assistant at FEderal 2-8161.

The national theme for the week is "Your Hospital—A tradition of Service."

Music Festival Slated at Romeo

Grade School Students to Give Variety Concert Tuesday Night

ROMEO—Band students in the elementary grades will join in celebrating the community school music festival, presenting a concert at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in the Romeo High School auditorium.

The program will feature three student bands, two choruses from grades five through eight, and a kindergarten rhythm group.

Instrumental music, folk songs from other countries, spirituals and patriotic songs will be among the selections.

The concert is being held in connection with National Music Week, according to E. C. Ojala, high school band director. This is the only opportunity offered annually for the local citizens to see the younger musicians in public performance.

Miss Marguerite Crawford, music director of the elementary grades, will direct the choruses and will accompany the local group on the organ.

Mrs. Arthur Snook will also play for the choruses.

Avon Players Set to Produce 'Sabrina Fair'

ROCHESTER — The four-act comedy "Sabrina Fair" is the spring production of the Avon Players.

Performances will be given in the high school additorium at 8:30 next Friday and Saturday.

Dick McGowan, who directed the Players first production, "The Male Animal" in 1947, is directing the play.

When the opening curtain rises, six weeks of study and rehearsing will be behind the production.

Big 4 Chiefs Meet on Far East, Bonn is determined to set up a republic and squeeze out Bao Dai, if the Big Three will recognize such a move.

The French are reportedly anxious to achieve a joint French-American policy on all phases of the Indochinese situation.

Representatives of both sides in the current Vietnamese struggle will be on hand should the Big Three want to hear their views.

Bao Dai has left his French Riviera retreat from which he has been trying to mastermind the Vietnamese crisis to be on hand for the talks here.

The Big Three ministers are also expected to examine the recent Red Chinese offer to negotiate the Formosa disput directly with the United States.

NATO plans a public ceremony Monday when West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will be welcomed to its council tables.

Dulles, Pinay and Macmillan will meet with Adenauer tomorrow to discuss moves to bring Russia into a Big Four conference on the German peace treaty. They also are expected to discuss the Austrian settlement.

Veteran Publisher R. J. Finnegan Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard J. Finnegan, 70, who rose from newsboy-reporter to editor and publisher and whose Chicago newspaper career started at the turn of the century, died last night.

Finnegan, consulting editor of the Chicago Times before the 1948 merger which created the Sun-Times, then became editor and executive vice president of the Sun-Times. He held that position until 1950, when he became consulting editor.

He was president of the City News Bureau, a cooperative news gathering organization, from 1939 to 1951.

Jury to Meet Again Monday in Slaying

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury could reach no decision in an all-day session yesterday and will continue Monday to mull the fate of Charley R. Herron, 37, of 357 Rockwell St., charged with second degree murder.

Herron is accused of shooting Lawrence Freeman, 28, of 476 Ditmar Ave., last Sept. 25 in back of a home at 29 Iowa St. The case went to the jury last Thursday afternoon.

Western Electric Co. Plans Plymouth Unit

DETROIT (AP)—Western Electric Co. announced today it is negotiating for purchase of a 35-acre tract in Plymouth Township as a site for a new multimillion dollar distribution plant. It is at the intersection of Sheldon and Territorial roads.

Thomas A. Gibbs, Michigan manager for Western Electric, said the deal is contingent upon the township permitting the city of Plymouth to annex the site.

The new plant would replace Western Electric's Detroit distribution headquarters and would employ 600, against 460 now employed by the firm, Gibbs said.

$354,406 Tax Lien Filed Against Louis' Property

CHICAGO (INS) — The federal government has filed a $354,406 tax lien against property of Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion.

District Internal Director Ernest J. Sauber filed the lien yesterday in the Cook County recorder of deeds' office.

It alleges that Louis, whose real name is Joseph L. Barrow, failed to pay $339,688 in income taxes during the years 1949-1951, and that interest of $14,718 is due on that amount.

Louis has real estate holdings in Chicago.

4,300 to Try Out as Diplomats

Deputy Hopes at Least 200 Able to Fill Jobs in Foreign Missions

HOLLAND (AP) — The State Department's chief of administration said today he had 4,300 applications from would-be diplomats and "would be more than satisfied" if 200 make the grade.

Loy W. Henderson, deputy undersecretary of state for administration, added in a speech prepared for the Michigan College Assn.

"Our foreign service is the most effective foreign service in the world. It mans some 77 diplomatic missions and 167 consulates."

But, he said, it must be improved, and the way to accomplish this is by a State Department program of training foreign service personnel already on the job as well as by stepping up recruiting.

Henderson said the department would like to have 350 new young foreign service officers by mid-1956. Already in line for examinations next June, he said, are more than 4,300 young men and women. He observed:

"We do not know how many of these candidates will be successful . . . we would be more than satisfied if the June examinations could net us 200 young officers."

Written examinations in June and December will be held at 50 centers throughout the country, Henderson said.

What the department wants, he added, are "friendly, attractive personalities," adding that "the foreign service is no place for dull, unimaginative persons."

Waterford Pastor Lists Mothers Day Topic

Dems Seek Governors' Aid for Own Highway Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today he believes a revision in his highway financing bill voted by the Senate Public Works Committee should eliminate all opposition from state governors.

Republicans backing President Eisenhower's alternative road-building plan had been counting heavily on pressure from the governors to swing congressional sentiment in its favor.

Several Republican and Democratic governors spoke out for the administration proposal at meetings here earlier in the week, although the Gore measure won some Democratic support.

* * *

The revision Gore spoke of would require the federal government to pay nine-tenths of the cost of rebuilding and modernizing the nation's 40,000-mile interstate highway system. That 90 per cent figure compares with the 75 per cent Gore had proposed and the present 60 per cent.

Eisenhower had proposed the federal government pay practically all the cost of the interstate system.

The committee voted 8-4 yesterday to defeat a Republican move to substitute the Eisenhower highway plan for the Gore measure.

* * *

The key feature of the administration program calls for outlays of about 26 billions on the interstate system the next decade. Of this, the states would put up only about one billion; the 25 billion federal share would include 21 billion raised through a bond issue.

The Gore bill would allocate about $8,610,000,000 in federal-state matching funds for the interstate system over a five-year period. Under the revised formula adopted yesterday, the federal government would pay 7¾ billion of this and the states 861 million.

The Day in Birmingham

Shain Class to Celebrate 35th Anniversary Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM—John Caldwell, director of information for the State Department in the Far East, will be guest speaker Tuesday at the Ruth Shain International Relations class at the Community House. The affair will mark the 35th anniversary of the class.

Caldwell, born in South China and educated in Shanghai, will speak on "The Rice Grows Green," from the title of his latest book on the Far East.

A 9 a.m. breakfast will precede Caldwell's talk at 10 a. m.

Thomas Tipton, for several seasons a member of the New York City Opera Company and currently studying at the University of Michigan School of Music, will head the musical portion of the affair. Mrs. Kent McDonald, music master of St. James Episcopal Church, will provide piano music.

The Shain International Relations class is sponsored by the American Association of University Women. In the past 35 years, more than 1,000 meetings have been held similar to the program scheduled for Tuesday in which some of the world's noted speakers have appeared.

A 1907 graduate of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Shain has traveled throughout the world. She has been active in civic affairs, a lecturer on current affairs, a teacher, organizer and a resident of Birmingham since 1918.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and West Bloomfield Township were among 15 communities in Oakland County which have added the greatest number of new homes in the past five years.

Figures released by the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission show that Oak Park led with construction of new homes over the five-year period totaling 6,356.

Birmingham was sixth with 2,407, Bloomfield Township seventh with 2,049 and West Bloomfield Township, with 1,249 new homes, was 12th.

In Bloomfield Township, 190 building permits were issued in the first quarter of this year.

The announcement came early today, after a six-man medical panel completed a two-day study of the way in which the serum is manufactured and tested.

Scheele gave no hint of what the panel had reported. He indicated, though, that other "information" also would be considered before the Public Health Service gives an official opinion Sunday.

Only yesterday, Scheele had recommended vaccination programs be continued. He said then that vaccine already cleared by the Health Service for public use was safe.

The medical panel met at the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., after a number of states reported post-inoculation polio cases. On member of the group was Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh, developer of the vaccine.

The Health Service said in a statement that it would evaluate the panel's recommendations and other information, then announce its finding. It added:

"Pending the Sunday announcement, the surgeon general recommended that states and municipalities postpone their vaccination programs."

Scheele had announced yesterday that the government was holding up clearance of new batches of the vaccine until it could be certain that "every conceivable safeguard" was being used.

He told newsmen the inspection of new vaccine supplies would be resumed right away if present safety measures were judged adequate. He said there would be a few days' delay if more exhaustive test methods were needed.

Scheele stressed there was "no cause for alarm" in the holdup of inspections—a step that prevents new batches from being shipped by manufacturers.

In California, plans were announced—before today's Health Service recommendation was made public—for resuming vaccinations halted 10 days ago. California was hardest hit among states reporting some children developed polio or similar symptoms following inoculation.

Early today, however, California announced the program would remain suspended until the Health Service makes its finding.

The Kansas State Board of Health also had decided to go ahead with its vaccination program.

What effect today's announcement would have on the plans of Kansas and other states was not known immediately. It was believed that few states had planned weekend inoculations.

Some health authorities asked federal officials yesterday if the halt in inspections meant disapproval of the vaccination program. At the time, it did not mean cancellation of approval.

These queries led Dr. Salk to issue a statement saying some persons apparently had "enlarged considerably" on the meaning of Scheele's comments.

Salk said postinoculation polio polio cases made it necessary to study all aspects of the situation "with the same care and precision as was followed in the large scale tests of the vaccine last year."

Most of the postinoculation victims had received vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. As a result, all Cutter vaccine was withdrawn from use last week.

As of yesterday, 41 cases of paralytic and three of nonparalytic polio were reported among the estimated five or six million children inoculated.

Members of the medical panel that met at Bethesda were: Dr. Salk, Dr. David Bodian of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore; Dr. John Enders, Harvard University Medical School, Cambridge, Mass.; Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; Dr. Howard Shaughnessy, Illinois Department of Health, and Dr. Joseph Smadel, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington.

YOUR SPRING FLOWER GARDEN—6
A Carnation for Mother

Tomorrow is Mother's Day, that very special time when children in many parts of the world honor and remember their mothers. Of course, mothers should be loved and honored all year round, but on this day children of all ages send them flowers, letters and gifts.

The first official Mother's Day was in 1914 when Congress passed a resolution recommending that the second Sunday in May be set aside for mothers. A Philadelphia woman, Ann Jarvis, first suggested Mother's Day in 1907 and worked many years to see it established.

According to the resolution, this day is "dedicated to the memory of the best mother in the world, your mother."

A colored carnation is the official flower for this day. Here is a drawing which you can give to your mother. Color it carefully, cut it out and paste it on brightly-colored stiff paper. This can be your own greeting for Mother's Day.

Bones in Nevada Pit May Give Clues About Oldest Americans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dry bones and an ash pit in southern Nevada may hold the answer to what the earliest American looked like.

Archaeologist Mark R. Harrington leaves today wit a scientific expedition for the ash pit "somewhere in Nevada." He isn't telling exactly where.

"We don't want a bunch of tourists to trample things up," he said.

* * *

Bones of giant sloths and other extinct animals have been found in the ashes. The condition of the bones indicates the animals were eaten by men.

"Since the ashes were found by the 'Carbon 14 test' to be more than 23,800 years old we may find the earliest evidence of man on this continent buried in that pit," Harrington said.

He explained the Carbon 14 test determines the age of the carbon in the ashes by means of measuring radiation. A super-sensitive Geiger counter is used and the radiation decreases as the age increases. When no radiation can be measured the carbon is assumed to be more than 23,800 years old.

* * *

The original discovery of the ash site was made by Fenley Hunter, representing the American Museum of National History. The Southwest Museum here, where Harrington is curator, has been given the right of investigation by te American Museum.

Harrington said the ash pit is the oldest scientifically dated human camp ground in the Western Hemisphere and he has high hopes of finding some evidence of ancient man there.

What does he think such a man looked like?

It's just about anybody's guess, he said. Perhaps the oldtimer was a real low brow like the ape-like Neanderthal man found in Europe. Maybe he was closer to the American Indian with long legs and a long skull.

But whatever he looked like Harrington is sure of one thing. The old fellow liked to whoop it up now and then at a giant sloth barbecue.

Far East Less Tense Since Bandung Talks

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) says the Far East situation was eased by the Bandung conference.

Kefauver, en route to San Antonio to speak before a Democratic party "loyalist" faction, said other nations at Bandung showed Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese leader, that the Far East was not behind him.

The senator, who said he was not a candidate for the presidential nomination, accused the Eisenhower administration of bringing the United States to the brink of war with the "political falsehood of unleashing Chiang Kai-sek."

Woman Killed by Truck Trying to Help Dog

LLANO, Tex. (AP) — State Police said last night that Miss Eunice Maud Gray, 70, was struck and killed by a truck as she sought to give a stray dog a drink of water.

She stepped from an automobile of a woman friend, police said, and crossed the road to the dog. As she reaced the animal, the truck hit her. Officers said the accident was unavoidable.

Psychiatrists Not Ulcer Experts, Doctor Reveals

MONTREAL (AP) — Dr. Seymour Grey of Harvard Medical School advises physicians not to be hasty in turning patients with stomach ulcers over to a psychiatrist.

Speaking here at the 17th annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Assn., last night, Grey said his advice applied especially to patients suffering from ulcerative colitis—a common type of ulcer in the lower part of the stomach.

He said he disagreed with those who believed this type of ulcer was largely "emotional" in origin.

Grey said, he had taken six persons, two with ulcerative colitis, two with peptic ulcers and two normal, and "challenged" psychiatrists to tell which was most likely to have uclers.

The psychiatrists, he said, were unable to distinguish accurately among the six.

Ten Years Ago V-E Day Ended War in Europe

As long as records are kept May 8, 1945, will remain among the most momentous days in all human history.

Just ten years ago tomorrow the collapse of Hitler Germany's armed forces became complete. This sealed Allied European victory in the bloodiest of all wars. It also helped clear the way for the final defeat of Japan which surrendered three months and one week later, on August 14.

★ ★ ★

On May 8 the Allies' surrender terms were ratified in Berlin by Adm. Doenitz, head of what was left of the Nazi government. These terms had been signed the day before at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters in a school house in Reims by Gen. Jodl as chief of staff of what was left of the German armies.

Six days before what was left of Berlin had fallen to the Allies. Seven days before Adolf Hitler had committed suicide and 10 days before Mussolini had been shot by anti-fascist Italians.

★ ★ ★

V-E Day came a little more than five and two-thirds years after Hitler had precipitated World War II by invading Poland. Final Allied victory came three years and five months after the United States was plunged into the war by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Because of Russia's aggressive expansionism, the peace won ten years ago has been marked by dangerous tensions in many parts of the world and armed strife in Korea and Indochina.

★ ★ ★

But thanks to the wisdom of the Allied leaders the free world today is better equipped for anti-Communism defense than ever before. Thanks also to that wisdom of President Eisenhower, who led our forces to victory in Europe, feels able to say that peace hopes now are brightening.

Passage of Trade Bill Major Victory for Ike

President Eisenhower has won his most important victory so far in the 84th Congress.

It came when the Senate approved without crippling amendments and sent to conference his House passed Reciprocal Trade Bill. The final vote was 73 to 13 after eight protectionist amendments had been rejected. Michigan's Sens. Potter and McNamara were among those supporting the President.

There are few differences in the House and Senate versions of the measure to be considered by conferees. Both include the key provisions sought by Mr. Eisenhower.

Besides assuring hi mthe first tariff cutting powers granted a President in 10 years, the measure extends the trade act until June 30, 1958. It also gives him power to reduce tariffs up to five per cent in each of the next three years.

★ ★ ★

Only one Senate amendment is expected to run into trouble in conference and it is the only one adopted without the Administration's approval. It would broaden grounds under which an industry could seek relief from import competition through the Tariff Commission under the escape clause. This is not too serious because the President could override the commission's recommendations.

★ ★ ★

The importance of the Senate's action stems from the fact that the trade act is a key feature of the Eisenhower program. Enactment makes sense for a creditor nation such as the United States. It will strengthen our own and the economies of our allies. At the same time it will bolster the free world's anti-Communist defenses.

Police Urging Return to 2 Plates for Cars

Southeastern Michigan's Police Chiefs have revived agitation for a return to the two plate system of automobile licenses.

In their latest resolution they point out again the help licenses fore and aft would be to them. Not only would it facilitate their general work of combatting crime, but would be especially useful in tracing stolen cars.

Police officials here are 100 per cent behind this resolution. Speaking for himself and Chief Straley, Pontiac's Chief of Detectives Clark Wheaton gives it all out endorsement. So do Oakland County's Sheriff Irons and Undersheriff McQuern.

The Press is mindful of the fact that two licenses would increase State costs. Return to the two plate system which was abandoned during the war to save steel, would increase these costs from $500,000 to $995,000 a year.

Manufactured in the State Prison of Southern Michigan, the plates now cost 13 cents each. If reflectorized for better night visibility, as advocated by Secretary of State Hare, they would cost 19 cents each.

★ ★ ★

However, we still agree with police officials that proper law enforcement demands the additional help that two licenses would afford. It also strikes us that the matter of economy could be taken care of by adoption of a system of permanent plates with annual renewal tabs like those used in 1943.

GOP Split on PAC

Can't Decide if Fight With Union Is Paying Off

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—It would be nice if some seer could tell Michigan Republicans whether their running attack on the CIO Political Action Committee (PAC) is paying dividends.

Opinion among Republicans, from top to bottom, apparently is sharply divided whether the party is winning friends or making enemies.

The Republicans, of course, have been hollering about the state CIO and its president, August Scholle, about Walter Reuther and his minions for the past six years.

That is one reason why it is so difficult for them to put over their current onslaught.

Starting with the spring election campaign, the Republican high command sharpened its attack, or at least shifted the focus.

It began hitting at one phase of union operation—the fact that the CIO PAC donates substantial sums of money to the Democrats from dues and assessments levied upon its members. The point of the Republican attack is that many working in a shop with a CIO contract must join the union and pay the assessments to hold a job.

The Republicans say this is enforced political activity, practically compulsory membership in the Democratic party and is unjust to those who don't subscribe to Democratic party principals.

The unionists, or at least their spokesmen, say that labor has been losing in legislative halls what it gains at the bargaining table. Therefore, that it must go into political activity to preserve and extend its economic gains.

Long ago, the Michigan CIO leadership decided to stick to the Democratic party as the best vehicle for that activity. In fact, it said officially it would never support another Republican.

The labor union position is the dues and political assessments are voted by a majority of its membership—something on one has successfully challenged yet.

As in all matters, there undoubtedly is a minority which objects and a larger group which just doesn't vote at all.

But that is the way laws are passed, public officials elected and most organizations operate. It's democracy, says the union.

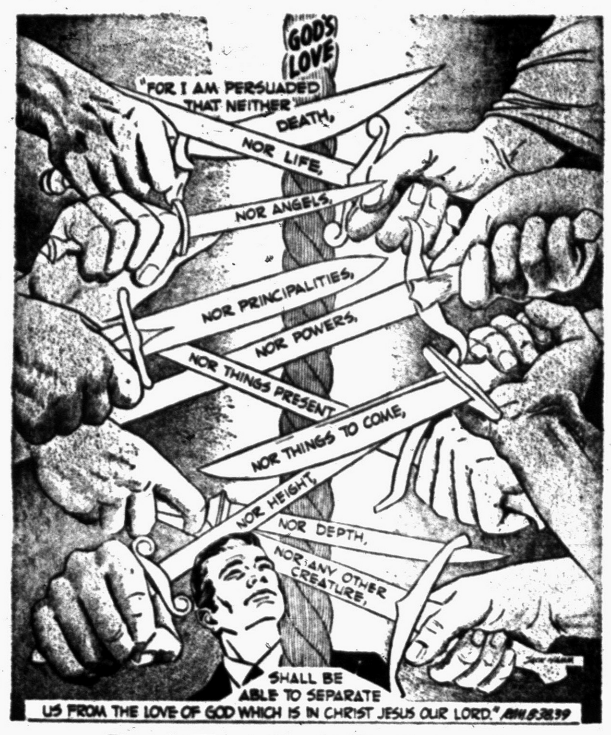

Some Republicans think that they have little or no chance of winning a big labor vote again. They note that union members are deluged with Democratic propaganda in union papers and radio programs, which never mention Republicans except to smear them. These figure their chance is to awaken the majority of non-union people to vote Republican.

Other Republicans think that if there is a real difference between an anti-PAC attack and an anti-union attack, it is too subtle a difference to be sold successfully.

Others think that the Grand Old Party is cutting its throat politically, that it is driving working people solidly into the Democratic column and disgusting non-union liberals to the point they will reject Republicans.

The last election did not provide the answer. Some Republicans think they would have lost all offices if it hadn't been for their anti-PAC campaign. Others think that if if they had let sleeping dogs lie they might have won all posts.

And so the party argument goes—to woo or to rebuff.

Bond That Can't Be Severed

West Germany Recovers Only 10 Years After Defeat

(Editor's Note: It was only a few years ago Germany lay prostrate in defeat—its armies smashed, its cities destroyed, its industries wrecked, its people starving and desperate. In 10 years West Germany has surged back up to the front rank of the world's great economic powers.)

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BONN, (UP)—West Germany, as it prepares to rearm, has become the new industrial giant of western Europe—just 10 years after the most crushing defeat ever suffered by a major nation.

Her industries are booming, her bombed cities are rising new and glistening from their ruins, her factories are working at full capacity and she is challenging the victors of 1945 in the world's export markets.

Ten years ago this correspondent toured the length and breadth of a Germany that lay prostrate in defeat.

The Germany he saw then was a harrowing sight.

Every major city and most of the smaller ones were nightmarish tangles of ruins—ruins in which millions of people burrowed for a shelter of some sort because they had nowhere else to go.

There were no banks, no telephones, no postal services functioning. Nine-tenths of the stores were closed and there was little for sale in those that remained open. Water, electricity and gas services were being only slowly and painfully restored.

Millions of refugees thronged the highways, heading for the homes that probably no longer existed or fleeing from the Russians as the new occupation zone borders were fixed.

Millions more trekked hungrily out of the starving cities each morning to grub and ransack in the neighboring countryside for potatoes or turnips.

But the West Germany of 10 years later is a resurgent nation, on the verge of receiving its sovereignty as an honored and equal member of the western alliance against Communist aggression.

The ruins of its bombed-out cities have long since been cleared away and new buildings of steel and concrete have risen. More than 500,000 new homes were built last year and the Bonn government hopes to push that to 600,000 in 1955.

More than $3,000,000,000 of United States Marshall Plan aid has been pumped into its incredible recovery. But the currency reform of 1948, which gave the country money in which it could put its faith after three despairing years of "cigarette" economy, played its part. So, also, did the hard work of 50,000,000 West Germans, determined to pull themselves up from disaster by their bootstraps.

Here are some facts and figures that show how this nation that suffered ruin 10 years ago already is outstripping its competitors and surging forward in an almost unparallelled economic boom.

West Germany's industrial production, according to figures issued here, increased almost twice as fast as that of Great Britain, France, Belgium or the Netherlands.

Production of transport equipment in West Germany in 1954 spurted 28 per cent compared with 12 per cent in Britain, for example. In other metal-using trade Germany gained 12 per cent compared with Britain's six and in chemicals 16 per cent as compared with Britain's 12.

West Germany in 1954 remained western Europe's No. 1 coal producer with an output of 128,000,000 tons compared with 124,500,000 in 1953.

Raw steel output in 1954 went up to 16,000,000 tons and automobile production spurted 36 per cent over 1953 for a total of 670,000 units. Steel output may reach 20,000,000 tons this year.

A Pity

A well-known woman was famous for her charity to those less fortunate than herself. She couldn't bear to know of the distress of others without doing something to relieve it. She returned to her table in a night club recently and informed her husband that she had just given $200 to the woman in charge of the ladies' cloak-room.

"What's the matter with you?" asked her husband, angrily. "What's the idea of spending money like that?"

The woman's eyes began to dim with tears. "The poor thing," she explained, "told me she had no television set."

Not Matured

Two parrots escaped from their cage and took refuge among the trees in the grounds of a mental institution. The owner of the birds asked the director of the asylum to help get them back. The director thought this might be possible, as one of the inmates believed himself to be a monkey. He asked this man to locate the parrots, one red and the other green.

After an hour or so, the fellow walked in with the red bird held firmly in his hand.

"What about the green parrot?" he was asked.

"I wouldn't take that one from his perch—he wasn't ripe," the climber explained.

Elmer Lepp Announces First Meeting of Young Adults' Club Sunday, May 8

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

May I take this opportunity to express a hearty thanks to the Pontiac Press for publishing previous letters concerning the possibilities of establishing a 'Social Club' for young, single adults?

Since the letters appeared, the idea has advanced beyond the planning stage, and our first social get-together will be Sunday, May 8.

The club will maintain open membership, and I would like to extend a further invitation. Anyone interested in an active and enjoyable social program is welcome. The program is geared to young adults between the ages of 21 and 40 inclusive.

If you would like to visit our first get-together, meet at the Kroger parking lot, Saginaw entrance, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, and come prepared to meet lots of new folks and have an enjoyable afternoon.

A Michigan Mother

Mother Asks Compassion for Family of Offender

I have read different letters in this column about Terry Morgan attacking that little girl. I have known his mother for 16 years and she is a decent, respectable woman. The only reason she got a divorce is that her first husband deserted her. She is now married and was very happy until this happened.

What Terry did was very wrong, but let's not make any more of it than necessary. Things are bad enough as they are and God doesn't want us to disgrace a family of persons.

We are here to help each other to do good, to help in time of need. Now is the time Mr. and Mrs. King need help. Our prayers are needed to help build a good, solid home in which they can be happy again. We are wrong in forgetting that we all make mistakes in our own lives. And God forgives us all.

'Don't Worry About Dogs; Should Enforce Curfew'

Instead of yelping so much about dogs, I think they would do more about enforcing the curfew here in Pontiac. With so much happening to the younger generation, the 10 p.m. curfew should be more rigidly enforced.

'Tax Brings Wolf to Door but There's Still Way Out'

Dear Mr. Smith: Regarding the money I owe you. Because of the income tax, sales tax, excise tax and customs tax, profit tax, inheritance tax, gasoline tax, business tax and school tax and automobile license, truck license, bicycle license, boat license, hunting license and fishing license, dog license and marriage license, I find it impossible to keep the wolf away from the door. However, the wolf had pups on the front door step. I sold the pups, so here is your money.

Days of All Faiths

More Spiritual Meaning Urged for Mother's Day

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Mother's Day, an official U.S. government holiday since 1914, has for some time been a source of worry to church authorities. In spite of the fact that sentimental Americans turn out for church services in large crowds, and in spite of the vast number of sermons preached and anthems sung about mother-love, religious leaders dread both the superficiality and the commercialization to which the day is liable.

To offset the dangers and to give real depth to Mother's Day, the National Council of Churches has renamed it Festival of the Christian Home and has built up a solid background for it through last week's National Family Week studies and through May Fellowship Day, the Friday preceding Mother's Day.

Last Friday, Protestant women led up to Mother's Day by prayer and by discussion of "The Responsible Christian Family." At breakfasts, luncheons, and teas in hundreds of American communities they discussed the question of parents' Christian attitudes in the home and the effect of these attitudes on the children.

The Archangel Michael has had a habit of appearing on earth from time to time for many centuries. Sunday, May 8, is kept, in the Roman and some other churches, in commemoration of the time when he appeared in 492 to a rich Italian cattleman to tell him where he wanted a church built in his honor.

One of the least-known visits of Michael to earth is also one of the most interesting. In the English county of Cornwall there is a town called Helston, and it is said that the name comes from Hell-stone or stone of hell.

The legend is that there once was in the yard of a tavern in this town a huge block of granite which in earlier times had been the stone that blocked off the entrance to hell. The story tells that Satan one night picked up the stone at hell's gate and started off with it on some nefarious errand known only to him. His journey took him across Cornwall, and there he had the bad luck to run into Michael. Naturally, a tremendous fight ensued, and Satan, when he saw he had the worst of it, fled leaving the stone.

The big rock has long since been broken up into building stones and been used for local construction, but the people still turn out on this day and rejoice together over the Archangel's great victory.

* * *

Ask any American who were the first Christians to settle on this continent and it is likely that he will tell you it was the Mayflower Puritans who landed at Plymouth in 1620. And he would be wrong by 14 years.

On Friday, May 13, in 1607 the first permanent Christian colony in North America was established in Jamestown, Virginia, with the Rev. Robert Hunt shepherding the flock, and the construction was immediately begun on a church building, of which ruins are still shown to tourists today.

Even this was not the first contact the American continent had with Anglican (Episcopal) Christianity. As far back as 1578, when Sir Francis Drake put in at what is now San Francisco Bay, a Church of England chaplain had read Anglican services on American soil.

But the first serious development of a Christian community in North America began at Jamestown, when Parson Hunt and his congregation settled down and started the first American town.

One of the preachers who came later was a man named Whitaker. He baptized the Indian princess Pocahontas, whose name is forever romantically linked in America legend with the doughty Captain Smith.

We owe obedience to God . . . Our flag and family . . . And unto everyone who is . . . In just authority . . . But there obedience does not end . . . Along our earthly way . . . We have to be obedient . . . To all we think and say . . . To be obedient to ourselves . . . By being always true . . . To everything, however small . . . We promise we will do . . . And that is more important now . . . Than any other kind . . . If rightful aims and purposes . . . Are present in the mind . . . Because obedience to ourselves . . . And to each vow we make . . . Is faithfulness to God and flag . . . And for our family's sake.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Expectant Mother's Unusual Cravings Have Absolutely No Effect on Baby

Marlene's case shows the vast aid which a modern newspaper can render toward relieving nervous tension in the average home. If you know of any expectant mothers, then send them this case record. A wife should cherish no secret worries or unscientific notions during her pregnancy.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-324: Marlene K., aged 22, is expecting her first baby.

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I are naturally very happy about it," she said.

"But I have a lot of secret worries that I haven't admitted to him for they may be foolish and I am afraid he will laugh at me.

"For example, I have been very hungry for strawberries the past month. And I once heard my grandmother say that if an expectant mother had such a hunger and it wasn't satisfied, she'd mark her baby with a big red birthmark shaped like the thing she craved.

"Well, I haven't been able to get fresh strawberries, so I wonder if my baby will have a red birthmark?"

This clinical column in practical psychology is supposed to help allay unnecessary fears. It thus is your newspaper's attempt to help produce happy homes instead of neurotic, divorced or jittery family life.

Marlene's typical fears are a classical instance in point. And I can bluntly banish that terror by saying that her fears are medically unfounded.

A wife's ideas or unusual hungers do not produce birthmarks, though many people in past generations thought they did.

The developing baby is insulated against its mother's thoughts. This is accomplished through the fact that the baby's brain and nervous system have no connecting links with the mother's.

Marlene's baby also has its own heart and its own blood supply. The baby's heart beats about 140 to 150 times per minute whereas the mother's may run 75 to 80.

And they do not have the same blood supply. The mother's blood does not flow in the baby's veins and vice versa.

For the red blood corpuscles are far too large to slip between the cells that line the blood vessels.

However, germs are so much smaller than blood corpuscles that they can slip through where the cells are figuratively mortared together.

The blood vessels are lined with cells that may be compared to the bricks in a brick wall. The contact of one cell with its neighbors is like the mortar line between bricks.

And bacteria, as well as a virus, can slide through these "mortar" points though blood corpuscles are too large to do so.

Thus, a mother who catches measles during pregnancy may infect her unborn baby with measles. A syphilitic mother may do likewise for her baby unless she is being medically treated to prevent that dilemma.

And the tiny antibodies in the mother's blood, which give us our resistance to disease, may likewise slip through to the baby, which explains why infants are usually immune at birth to the diseases which the mother had in childhood.

Before its birth, a baby is almost as separate from its mother as it is after birth while nursing at her breast!

If you expectant mothers will keep in regular contact with your doctor's office, you need have little medical dread of childbirth.

The average duration of childbirth is about 18 hours with the firstborn, so don't expect your baby within 30 minutes after the uterus starts contracting.

And don't forego dates with your husband or allow yourself to become a medical "specimen" in his eyes, for this kills his romantic ardor toward you.

For further advice, send for my booklet, "Facts About Pregnancy" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

It will allay many other needless fears and make pregnancy a more understandable scientific marvel.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Both Raw, Refined Sugar Are Full of Disadvantages

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

THE MAIL BOX

"Raw" Sugar

What vitamins or other items of health value does one get from raw sugar, which costs 20 cents a pound, in place of plain white sugar? It tastes the same but is brownish in hue . . . (C.J.)

Answer—Adelle Davis says (in her book Let's Eat Right to Keep Fit, Harcourt Brace, $3) that "raw sugar has all the disadvantages of refined sugar, in that it can cause tooth decay, overstimulate insulin flow, and ruin appetites." There's no better authority.

Tonsils and "Colds"

Three children, 5, 4, and 3, constantly get "colds," and every time the doctor says that the only thing that will stop them from having so many "colds" is to take out their tonsils . . . (Mrs. G. W).

Answer—Normally 30 out of a hundred children with enlarged tonsils have about three severe so-called "colds" each winter. Twenty-two out of each hundred children with enlarged tonsils continue to have about the same number of severe so-called "colds" each winter after removal of their tonsils. Let the doctor laugh that off.

Turpentine

Since the druggist has refused to sell sodium citrate without prescription we tried another cough remedy you suggest in the C R I book—turpentine on sugar. We have had fine results from it . . . (Mrs. A. C. M.)

Answer—Thank you, for the C R I book (No. 5 Little Lesson), about nose, throat, broncial troubles, send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How It Feels to Be a Nut

I hesitate to tell about the benefits I have obtained from belly breathing—afraid I'll be called a nut . . . (E.A.D.)

Answer—Go on, tell us about it. It might help a lot of folks to enjoy better health. I've been a nut for years and it isn't at all painful. For the pamphlet Belly Breathng send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fluoridation

In LaCrosse we read your column and go along with nearly everything you write except your advocacy of fluoridation. You see, through the hoaxes of the U. S. Public Health . . .etc., etc. etc. (Mrs.———).

Answer—Too bad. But I advocate fluoridation of the water supply and I don't take the "rat poison" propaganda seriously.

Not Yawning Now

I am on my second thousand Iodin ration tablets—and I know they have helped me in many ways. For one thing, I no longer yawn—and I used to yawn constantly, sometimes at embarrassing moments . . . (J. M.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. For instructions for taking The Iodin Ration, send stamped, self-addressed envelope. You are right—it is NOT medicine but a supplement for iodin-deficient diet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Monday Is Deadline to Register for 3 Area Elections

MARKS RETURN FROM DEAD — Mrs. George McDougall of Walnut Lake, who 40 years ago today went down with the torpedoed "Lusitania," and survived only by a near-miracle, holds a picture of the ship, and the "freedom scroll" which she carried on her fateful voyage. Mrs. McDougall's head was sucked into a porthole when the ship sank off the coast of Ireland, and she was drawn down into the ocean depths. Later pressure forced her release and she was picked up and taken to a morgue in Ireland, where she was left for dead. The twitch of her finger, which almost went unnoticed, showed that life was there, and after weeks of treatment Mrs. McDougall, then Alice Middleton, was brought back to health. The "freedom scroll" which she carried on her person throughout her dark adventure is a parchment, bestowed on her in England at the age of 21, entitling her to the "Freedom of the City of London." Only one other living woman, Queen Elizabeth of England, has been accorded the signal honor, which permits its recipient to enter the square mile to the Guild Hall in the heart of London, Mrs. McDougall said. President Eisenhower is the only other living American to have been so honored, she said. Mrs. McDougall lives with her husband at 2177 Lawndale, West Bloomfield Township.

To Vote June 7 on Incorporation

Southfield, Troy Twps., Bingham Farms List Candidates

Preparations for incorporation elections in Troy and Southfield Townships plus Bingham Farms are nearing completion, with one deadline met and another drawing near.

Yesterday at 4 p.m. was the time limit for filing nominating petitions for charter commissions in all three areas with Oakland County Clrek Lynn D. Allen.

Some 38 persons filed in Southfield and 34 in Troy.

Unregistered voters have a final chance Monday to get their names on the rolls, or be disenfranchised for the June 7 voting.

Major portions of Troy and Southfield will decide on changing their status to home rule cities. Bingham Farms, a one-square-mile area of Southfield, will rule on incorporating as a village.

Troy Township Clerk Clifton Truesdell and Southfield Township Clerk Fannie Adams say their offices will be open until 8 p.m. for registration.

Residents who have failed to vote in the past four years must register, or face refusal at the polls election day.

Troy and Southfield will elect nine-member commissions June 7, if the incorporation propositions net a majority of favorable votes in the two townships. Bingham Farms will elect five members. Only five had filed at yesterday's deadline and seem assured of election. They are:

James McGuire, Carson C. Bingham, William King Frank A. Lamberson and William A. Hyland.

Those who filed for the Troy commission include:

Roy L. Duncan, Marvin W. Kuschinsky, Clifford F. Sutermeister Jr., Ceville H. Mason, Henry O. Biroth, Gerald L. Scofield, William R. Jenkins, Louis Yanich, Frances Jo Curtis, Edward J. Armstrong, Michael R. Cyr, Robert Lossing, James W. Jones, Elwyn L. Hunt, Carl W. Campbell and Norman R. Barnard.

Waterford Student to Vie for Detroit Oratory Title

MYLES WATKINS

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Myles Watkins, a Waterford Township High School senior, is 1 of 4 district winners in the Hearst oratorical contest who will contend for the Detroit area grand championship title on May 10. At that time four college district winners also will compete.

The competition will take place at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building, Detroit.

The Waterford student competed in the "Tournament of Orators" at Detroit Central High School recently and won with his presentation of "Robert E. Lee."

Then he again won in the district contest, where he competed against students from five Detroit high schools, as well as Birmingham and Troy High Schools.

Myles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mortyndale Watkins, 4312 Lotus Dr.

Last year he won first place in the state and regional Knights of Pythias contest and went to Washington, where he placed second in the national contest.

Miss Patty Looman is Myles' speech instructor.

He already has been accepted by the University of Michigan where he plans to study law.

Lakeland Church Group to Make Books for Tots

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Scrap books for children in hospitals will be made at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Deborah Missionary Society of the Lakeland Presbyterian Church.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Spencer, 1184 Tull Rd.

Proper PTA to Meet

GINGELLVILLE — The final meeting of the Proper School PTA will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the school. Officers will be installed and the Gingellville Boy Scout troop will present the program.

Reflections

May 8th Is Mother's Day

J. L. VOORHEES

There is one love on this wayward earth that asks for no return. It is right and fitting that we observe Mother's Day as a token of the respect and affection we bear for our Mothers.

Though you are far away it is possible for you to pay homage to your Mother; send her a greeting. If she is gone, revive a project in which she was interested; visit a place where she found peace and happiness, do what she would wish, give in her name. Make a pilgrimage to her, take her where she would be most happy, give her attention, make her realize the place she occupies in your heart.

M. E. SIPLE

Make Sunday, May 8th, a time she will long remember. It is her day, Mother's Day, and only you can make her supremely happy.

Students' Art to Be Exhibited at Baldwin School

GOODISON — The annual art exhibit by the students of the Baldwin School will be the main event at the next meeting of the Baldwin-Goodison PTA, to be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Baldwin School.

Mrs. Dorothy Whipple, art director, will be the speaker of the evening.

Parents and friends of all Baldwin School students have been urged to attend.

Refreshments will be served after the program, following a short business meeting.

To Meet at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Business and Professional Women will hold an election of officers following their dinner at Rotunda Inn Monday, at 7 p.m.

3-Acre Sewage Plan Is Dropped

Troy Twp. May Build Own Interceptor as Joint Proposal Falls Through

TROY TOWNSHIP—A tentative plan to have Troy, Avon and Pontiac Townships band together to solve their mutual sewage disposal problem has been abandoned, Troy Township Supervisor Norman R. Barnard announced today.

The three townships had hoped to build an interceptor sewer to empty into the Detroit system, but this plan was squelched when Detroit authorities informed the county drain commissioner that it had not the capacity to take sewage north of the Troy Township line.

Drain Commissioner Ralph Main made the report of Detroit's decision at a recent meeting in which representatives from Orion and Oakland Townships also were present.

He suggested that Avon, Pontiac, Orion and Oakland Townships get together and work out plans for a joint treatment plant to care for their sewage.

Meanwhile, Troy Township officials conferred with Main at a meeting yesterday, to work out a plan to have Troy Township build its own interceptor to take sewage into Detroit for disposal. Supervisor Barnard said recommendations to that effect would be submitted to the township board at an early meeting.

"We want to get moving on a sewage disposal plan as fast as possible," Barnard said.

"The board has been pretty much in agreement that taking the sewage into Detroit is our best move. Previous estimates have indicated that it would cost approximately twice as much to construct a sewage disposal plant, as against the interceptor sewer to Detroit. A sewage disposal plant also would have to be maintained, adding to the cost."

Board to Consider Two Road Issues

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—A resolution requiring subdividers to blacktop roads in new plats will be under discussion at the township board meeting Monday night.

Also up for discussion is whether or not the township should pay a portion of the costs of oil as well as chloride on the roads.

Action will be taken on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance concerning moving buildings into the township.

Police protection is also on the agenda.

North Branch Memorial Fund Now Totals $154

NORTH BRANCH — The John R. Church memorial fund has reached a current total of $154.00.

A suggestion for the memorial is the offer of Mrs. Doris (Robert) Soldan to paint a life-size portrait of Mr. Church. The suggestion is being considered by the Memorial Committee, whose members expressed themselves as favoring the idea.

The memorial committee consists of Mrs. John Church, Albert Stickle, Mrs. Ruth Fox, Mrs. Spencer Wilson and John E. Simmons, Board of Education president.

Weekend Plans Made for Parents

Festivities Include Sorority Sing and Tour of College

By DELORES WEST

EAST LANSING — Weekend plans on the East Lansing campus will include parents. Parents' Day and Sorority Sing will highlight the weekend festivities.

Parents' weekend, an annual event occuring in May, offers an opportunity for parents of students to become better acquainted with Michigan State College. Some of the activities available for the parents this weekend will be tours of the campus, sporting events, open houses and teas.

Parents of many Pontiac area students will be in East Lansing to take part in the Parents' Day activities. Among them will be Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bradley of Spokane drive who will be the guests of their daughter, Judy Bradley.

Gail Fear and Mitzi Gangler, who recently went active in Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, will be visited by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dalbert Fear, of Burleigh drive, Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gangler of Bloomfield Hills.

Gail was tapped at the May morning sing for membership in Tower Guard, the sophomore women's honorary. Each spring thirty five freshmen women are selected for membership in this service honorary.

Mrs. June Wortman of Dwight Avenue, and a Pontiac friend, Margaret Waters, will travel to East Lansing this weekend to be on hand for the Parents' Day activities and to visit Mrs. Wortman's daughters, Betty and Carol Wortman. While here, they will attend a buffet luncheon at the Chi Omega sorority house on Saturday. Betty is a member of Chi Omega.

Mother's Day will be highlighted Sunday afternoon by the annual Sorority Sing.

This year each of the sixteen sororities on the MSC campus will present a selection, ranging from spiritual to popular arangements. Each group will be judged and trophies awarded to first, second, and third place winners.

Among Pontiac area students are Jan Wasson of Birmingham and Judy Bradley of Spokane Drive; both coeds are members of Delta Gamma sorority.

Some others taking part are Mitzi Gangler and Gail Fear, members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Carolyn Lorenz of LeBaron street and Armen Googasian of East Iroquois road attended the semi-formal term party Friday evening, sponsored by Armen's living unit, Phillips Hall.

"The Moon is Blue" carried out by a colorful scenic background was the theme for the event.

In the last election of officers, junior, Janice Elkins of North Perry street, was elected house president of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mary Ann Sheets Speaks Vows

A gown of crystal white Chantilly lace blended with lustrous silk taffeta was worn by Mary Ann Sheets for her marriage to Edmund Joseph Guzman this morning in St. Vincent de Paul church.

Tiny pearls, iridescent paillettes and rhinestones were lightly scattered on the little basque of lace which was designed with long tapering sleeves.

The full lace skirt parted in redingote fashion over the taffeta skirt and swept gracefully into a chapel length train.

Princess cap of pearls and paillettes secured her veil of silk illusion which cascaded in tiers to finger tip length.

Her jewelry was a string of cultured pearls given to her by the bridegroom. She carried a nosegay arrangement consisting of two pink cymbidium orchids surrounded by feathered carnations and white stock.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mae Sheets of Judson street and James W. Sheets of Walled Lake. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guzman of Osceola drive.

The Rev. Arnold Rodriguez of Dunn Scotus College, Detroit, performed the ten o'clock ceremony before 250 guests. The altar was decorated with vases of gladioli, stock and snapdragons.

Merle Federico of Lake Orion, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor wearing an orchid ballerina length gown of crystallette, topped by a matching jacket. A tiny headpiece of stiff nylon trimmed with small flowers held her face veil.

Wearing identical gowns except for color were the bridesmaids, Mary Kline in powder blue, Marlene Daly of Drayton Plains in maize and Elaine Monroe in mint green.

Mary Ann Sheets, daughter of Mrs. Mae Sheets of Judson street, and James W. Sheets of Walled Lake, became the bride of Edmund Joseph Guzman this morning at St. Vincent de Paul Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guzman of Osceola drive.

MRS. EDMUND J. GUZMAN

All of the attendants carried arrangements of feathered carnations dyed to match their gowns.

Linda Guzman, niece of the bridegroom, wore a pink and white crystallette gown similar to the bride's for her duties as flower girl. She carried a nosegay of pink feathered carnations and wore a matching band of flowers in her hair. Robert Guzman, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Harold Beaubien of Howell served as best man. Seating the guests were Louis Guzman, brother of the bridegroom, Richard Pfeffer, David and George Neville, cousins of the bride from Utica, and Clifford Cochrane, uncle of the bride, also of Utica.

A reception was held at Rotunda Inn. Mrs. Sheets wore a pale aqua frosted silk dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Guzman chose a teal silk suit with pink accessories. Both mothers wore pink rose corsages.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in the New England states the bride was wearing a steel gray linen suit with pink accessories and the pink orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at Ft. Bliss, Texas, where the bridegroom will be stationed with the U. S. Army. He is a graduate of Michigan State College.

Sisterhood Plans Dance

Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel announces plans for a square dance to be held May 14.

The announcement was made at a recent meeting by Mrs. Morris Bletstein.

Mrs. Leon Sirlin, nominating committee chairman, read a slate of officers for the coming year with Mrs. Daniel Foxman as president.

Fira Benenson's Dress Ideal for Summer Nuptial

Anyone for a wedding? Fira Benenson knows exactly how everyone who is a member of the feted party itself should look.

In fact, she wore this design of hers to an extremely chic reception and eyes had a hard time straying away from the star of the show.

Make it in sheer fabric if the date is set for the summer; the bodice is lined to offset the problem of unsightly lingerie straps. Dotted swiss would be particularly enchanting. Voile, gingham, lace, shantung, silks, faille or taffeta are also lovely suggestions.

In typical Benenson fashion, she has given the right amount of couture detail—in the collar yoke that turns down into the sleeves in back; in the way she has cut the bodice into a low rear curve to release a pretty degree of fullness.

Even if there isn't a wedding in the offing, this is a dress that will enjoy many good times in summer and again in fall, depending on the fabric.

This patttern is cut to Designer measurements, not standard Pattern measurements.

Bust	Waist	Hips	Sizes
33	23	34 inches	8
34	24	35 inches	10
35	25	36 inches	12
36½	26½	37½ inches	14
38	28	39 inches	16

Size 12 requires 4½ yards of 36 inch material for dress and 1⅛ yards of 36 inch material for lining. To order Pattern No. 1217, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, G. P. O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y. State size.

Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. American Designer Pattern Booklet No. 11 is available for 25 cents. If paying by check or money order make it payable to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., and add 4 cents for handling.

Mrs. Elwell Is President of Sorority

Mrs. George Eldred of Lakewood drive opened her home Thursday evening to members of Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega Sorority.

Mrs. Forest Elwell was elected president and Mrs. George Knapp as vice president for the coming year.

Other officers elected were Mrs. L. B. Callely, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. James Heathcott, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Harry Gimmel, reporter.

Others are Mrs. Charles Sanft, rush captain, Margaret Harth, associate organizer; Mrs. Arley Lowe, historian and Mrs. Tug Borst, sergeant-at-arms.

Delegates were elected to attend a June National Convention at Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Forest Elwell and Mrs. Robert Holloway are delegates to the business session and Mrs. Harry Gimmel and Mrs. Charles Kistner to the social portion.

Committee reports were given on the spring dance to be held at Knights of Columbus Hall on May 14. Profits from the dance will benefit the child psychiatry educational program at Pontiac State Hospital.

Reveal Engagement

A June 25 wedding is being planned by Maureen Joan Sweetman, whose engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Sweetman of Oakland avenue.

Her fiance is Homer Thomas Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrison of Florence avenue.

Carolyn Emma Kirn Wed Today

BIRMINGHAM—At double ring rites this afternoon, Carolyn Emma Kirn, the daughter of Mrs. Marvin G. Kirn of Catalpa drive, and the late Mr. Kirn, was wed to Thomas Wesley Butters.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Butters of Fairfax road.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Harold Towne at St. James Episcopal Church. William M. Hutchins gave his sister-in-law in marriage.

Chantilly lace over white satin fashioned the bride's wedding gown which had a high V neckline, long sleeves and a very full nylon skirt with lace panels.

A small lace cap held a short illusion veil and the bridal bouquet was of white fresia and gardenias.

Kathryn Kirn was her sister's maid of honor and wore yellow batiste fashioned with a short sleeved bodice, square neck and full waltz length skirt. She wore matching flowers in her hair and carried a basket of pastel spring flowers.

Another sister, Mrs. James H. Herbst, was matron of honor and was dressed in a pale blue batiste frock like the honor maid's.

Bridesmaids Nancy Chapel and Susan Mock were gowned in pink.

Nancy Jo Hutchins, niece of the bride, was flower girl wearing a white frock. All the attendants carried baskets of varicolored spring flowers. Walter Beers was best man and ushers were James H. Herbst, Charles Coley, Thomas Clark, and James House.

A reception was given at Forest Lake Country Club, where spring flowers were used in decoration.

Mrs. Kirn received her guests wearing a rose silk shantung dress with a flower hat and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Butters wore Delft blue with a pink hat and orchid corsage.

For her wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains the bride wore a navy polka dot dress under a navy coat lined to match the dress, and a white hat.

Among the out-of-town guests were grandmothers of both the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. David Herr of Springfield, Ohio and Mrs. F. W. Butters of Lima, Ohio.

Carolyn Emma Kirn, daughter of Mrs. Marvin Kirn of Catalpa drive and the late Mr. Kirn, became the bride of Thomas W. Butters this afternoon at St. James Episcopal Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Butters of Fairfax road.

Garbo: The Legend and the Lady

Tells Studio 'No More Bad Women's Roles for Me!'

By JOHN BAINBRIDGE

X

Owing in no small part to its well-publicized love scenes, Flesh and the Devil was a smashing box office hit. The critics divided the acting honors equally between "the screen's perfect lover" and Greta Garbo. She was now established as a star. After but three American films, she had joined the company of Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri and Norma Shearer, who, as film scholar Lewis Jacobs has remarked, were "the prototypes of the ultra-civilized, sleek and slender, knowing and disillusioned, restless, oversexed and neurotic woman who 'leads her own life.'"

That was not, however, the kind of woman that Greta Garbo, or Stiller, thought it was in the best interests of her career to continue to portray. When MGM selected as her fourth picture an inane work titled Women Love Diamonds, in which she was again cast in a role that she described as that of a "stupid seductress," she balked, for the first time.

She refused to report to the studio to be fitted for costumes, explaining to the Metro officials by phone that she didn't want to play "any more bad womens."

Back of her refusal to report for work was another consideration of more importance. Taking Stiller's advice, she had decided she would make no more pictures unless Metro gave her a substantial increase in salary. She was then in the second year of her three-year contract, and by its terms was being paid six hundred dollars a week. Since John Gilbert was taking home ten thousand dollars a week, both she and Stiller—especially Stiller—felt that an upward revision in her salary was in order.

When her discontent over the matter of legal tender was communicated to MGM, Louis B. Mayer invited her, late in November of 1926, to come to his office for a chat. After the usual pleasantries, he got down to the reason for her visit and asked what figure she had in mind for her weekly pay check. Five thousand dollars, she replied.

It may have been a coincidence, someone has remarked, that a slight earthquake was recorded in the Hollywood area about the time Greta Garbo announced that figure. To think of giving her, a newcomer who had been on the payroll for little more than a year, five thousand dollars a week, Mayer said, was completely out of the question. In that case, Greta Garbo said, she thought she would go home, and she did.

She stayed away from the studio for the next seven months. Throughout her extended war of nerves with MGM, Garbo had the moral support of John Gilbert. Her defiance of the Metro bigwigs, with whom he had had many lively and often bitter skirmishes, appealed to his rakish nature, and he encouraged her to stand pat in her demands.

Gilbert's close friend Carey Wilson, a Metro producer who was then unmarried, was living in Gilbert's house during this period and accordingly saw a great deal of Greta Garbo, with whom he struck up a warm friendship. "She was in love with Jack, and he with her. There is no doubt about that," Wilson said recently.

"We used to sit around the pool and talk by the hour. She never talked about herself, but she used to ask lots of questions about Jack. She wanted to understand him. 'Why does Jack do this?' she would ask or 'Why does Jack do that?' I knew that Jack wanted to marry her, but that subject never entered the conversation. It would have meant talking about her personal affairs, and that she refused to do."

When she was together with Gilbert and Wilson, she was almost always in gay spirits and seemed to fancy herself as a kind of third musketeer. Gilbert and Wilson each wore a loose-fitting, wrap-around polo coat with a belt that tied like a sash. One day Greta Garbo showed up wearing a coat exactly like theirs. "Now I'm one of the boys," she announced.

Wearing their identical coats, the trio often went out together to the movies, excursions that Greta Garbo seemed to enjoy. "Here we go, three fellows out for a good time," she would say as they roared off in one of Gilbert's high-powered cars. She was interested in perfecting her English, and when either Gilbert or Wilson used a word or expression she didn't understand, she usually said, "Come on, I'm one of the boys. Tell me what it means."

With the boys or with Gilbert alone Greta Garbo was talkative, natural and seemingly content. When Gilbert invited other guests to his house, however, she was stricken speechless and displayed an uncontrollable urge to flee into the hills or back to her hotel. Gilbert, who enjoyed having a great many people around him, undertook the task of trying to make her feel at ease with his friends.

His principal training ground for bringing her out socially were his Sunday buffets, which had become a kind of local institution and were usually attended by some two dozen actors, actresses, producers, directors and other film people. Congregating late in the morning, Gilbert's guests played tennis, swam, talked shop and wound up the day with a buffet supper.

Gilbert hoped that in the casual and relaxed atmosphere of these gatherings Greta Garbo would lose some of her shyness and learn to enjoy his way of living. "Jack wanted her to be the official chatelaine of the house on the hill," Carey Wilson has said. "She tried to play that role as Jack wished, but it was hard for her.

"Sometimes, when the buffet had been prepared, Greta would become very nervous and uneasy if the guests were slow in beginning to eat. She would go around to Jack and whisper anxiously that the food was ready but nobody was eating. 'Well, just go and tell the people it's time to eat,' Jack would say. But things like that she couldn't do. What was second nature for him was agony for her."

Regardless of her tentative social attitude, she held total fascination for Gilbert. "I would rather spend an hour with Fleka than a lifetime with any other woman," he told a friend. But he wanted to spend a lifetime with her—at least, he wanted to make her his bride. He was so confident at one point that his quest was about to succeed that he announced publicly that he and Greta Garbo were planning to marry.

Such a union, one of the newspapers enthusiastically remarked, would "place the ultimate diadem on his brow." But Gilbert later modified his announcement by saying, "I am engaged to Miss Garbo, but I don't know whether she considers herself engaged to me."

On at least two occasions Gilbert seemed close to winning the ultimate diadem. Once, according to Carey Wilson, Gilbert was in a state of great elation and excitement because he was sure he had convinced his Swedish friend that they should marry, quit everything and go away on a year's yachting trip through the South Seas.

So certain was he that this dreamy plan would be realized that he spent over $100,000 in buying and refitting a handsome two-masted schooner, which he christened, in Garbo's honor, The Temptress. As matters turned out, Gilbert had miscalculated the extent of his inamorata's interest in matrimony; the intended bridal craft never put to sea bearing the newlyweds.

On the other occasion Gilbert persuaded Greta Garbo to elope. To minimize the chances of a change of heart, he hurried her into his fastest car and drove at high speed to Santa Ana. When they reached the marriage license bureau, however, she bolted and ran to a hotel, where with maidenly dexterity she hid in the ladies' room until Gilbert disconsolately had given up. Then she took a train back to Los Angeles alone.

For weeks following this fiasco Greta Garbo and Gilbert didn't speak to each other. When they resumed amicable relations, Gilbert's ardor had not perceptibly dampened. On Greta Garbo's part the hectic, romantic period of her association with Gilbert was at an end, to be replaced, she hoped by friendship.

"Many things have been written and said about our friendship," she said in the one interview in which she ever publicly referred to Gilbert. "It is a friendship. I will never marry. . But you may say that I think John Gilbert is one of the finest men I have ever known. . .That I am very happy when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer say I am to do a picture with Mr. Gilbert. He is so fine an artist he lifts me up and carries me along with him. It is not just a scene I am doing—I am living."

Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer would also have been very happy to have Greta Garbo make another picture with Gilbert, but she remained adamant on the matter of money. It was indirectly through Gilbert that this seeming impasse was broken. He introduced her to his business manager and agent, an extremely able Hollywood operator named Harry Edington, who had negotiated Gilbert's so-called "million-dollar contract."

Edington went into a huddle with the Metro executives, and as a result of his skillful negotiating and his client's cool indifference, he eventually produced a contract that she found quite satisfactory. According to the terms of the new contract, which she signed on June 1, 1927, she was bound to work for Metro for the next five years and be paid a starting salary of five thousand dollars a week. This sum was to be gradually increased over the years until in the fifth the weekly pay check would reach six thousand dollars.

Though Greta Garbo was now receiving the respectable income, even by Hollywood standards, of $260,000 a year, she showed no signs of extravagance, aside from buying a secondhand black Packard limousine and hiring a Negro chauffeur to drive it. She continued to live in a small suite at the Miramar Hotel, and began to shop around for a reliable savings bank.

Everyday Religion

"The Doting Title,—Mother."

By DON D. TULLIS

Shakespeare put this line on the lips of King Richard. It is this "Doting Title" that claims our attention and stirs up sacred memories of our long lost yesterdays.

It is not difficult to understand the place the Mother of Jesus holds in the minds and hearts of multitudes throughout the world. They believe that, as motherhood is essential to the human family, so is it to the heavenly. And all join in according her the highest honors that can be paid to motherhood, because of the God-Man she brought into the world.

All mothers deserve all the honor we can possibly give them, provided they are good mothers,—not the cocktail drinking, night club attending individuals, so common today.

But fathers should receive like praise from their children. Mothers do not stand alone in the task of home building or the rearing of their offspring. The family shay that passes through the mud and mire of this modern age must be harnessed to not one steed, but to a well matched team, each pulling his share of the load and each receiving a like share of the refreshments at journey's end.

It would be splendid if candy manufacturers and florists would agree to surrender their two-day profit provided by Mother's Day and Father's Day, and make one great celebration answer for both,—Parents Day. It is father and mother together that form the pivot about which the home revolves. The honor of one is the honor of the other; the sin of one is the sin of the other.

A certain man committed a crime. When he could no longer stand the sting of conscience, he confessed his error to his wife. She did not criticize or scold, but only said,—"Well, John, now that we have done this evil, we must face the consequences together." "We," said John. "You had nothing to do with it." "Oh, yes," she said, "we two are one, and we shall face this think together and together suffer the consequences."

The "doting title,—mother" is on the lips of thankful children the world over today. Let this title include the fathers also. Together they have borne our griefs and carried our burdens.

Hail, mothers and fathers of men! We salute you and thank God that you have lived, for we are what we are because of you.

School Bell Is Dedicated in Church Belfry Sunday

The Rev. Gordon Lindsay of 1742 Opdyke Rd. will assume full time duties as pastor of the Five Point Community Church after May 20th.

A graduate of Wayne University and the Detroit Bible Institute, the Rev. Mr. Lindsay has been serving the church part time since June 1951 when the congregation was worshipping in the basement.

He has had charge of the services on Sunday and worked on week days at the General Motors Truck & Coach Division. During that time, he directed "Youth for Christ."

REV. GORDON LINDSAY

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnett started the church Sunday School 15 years ago in their farm home on Squirrel Rd. About a year later, the church was organized and the members continued to meet with the Barnetts, then moved to the Hubbell Country School until a basement church was ready. The Friendly Married People's Class (Young Marrieds) of the First Baptist Church gave the land to the group for a church. The church building was completed in March 1952 with an average attendance now of 150.

Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock worship hour, the church bell will be dedicated.

The bell came from the Hubbell Schoolhouse, corner of Walton Blvd. and Adams Rd.

which both Mr. and Mrs. Barnett had attended for the grammar grades.

The Rev. Mr. Lindsay and the former Earlene Nelson were married Sept. 6, 1951 in Detroit. The Lindsays have a five-week-old daughter, Robin Gail.

Sunday School classes are being held every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, followed by the worship hour at 11. There is also an evening service at 6:30.

Priest Honored by Detroit Group

Newspaper Guild Elects Pastor in Old Corktown 'Citizen of Year'

By Religious News Service)

DETROIT — The Rev. Clement H. Kern, pastor of Most Holy Trinity Church, was honored by the Newspaper Guild of Detroit as "Citizen of the Year."

Father Kern received the Guild's tribute at a luncheon devoted to its annual Page One Awards. His church is in Old Corktown, a once-proud Irish center of the city which has been settled by newcomers of several tongues and races.

As pastor of a historic Roman Catholic church in a changing neighborhood, the priest has been acutely conscious of the needs of all who live in the area regardless of their race, creed or color.

* * *

At "Corktown College" new Americans have been taught by him how to become part of their adopted land and contribute to its welfare. Along with good citizenship they learn English, letter-writing, cooking, sewing and nursing.

Among other activities Father Kern oversees are the St. John's Home for Men and St. Catherine's Home for Women, and the Four Leaf Clover Club, which brings together aging persons of the community for social periods.

A medical clinic and legal service also are available for those who cannot pay for such assistance.

* * *

It is a tribute to Father Kern that he is claimed by the remaining Irish as an "Irish priest," while the Mexican parishioners ask for him as "the Spanish priest." Actually, he was born in a German parish at Adrian, Mich. 47 years ago.

The statue of the Angel Moroni, atop the highest spire of the famed Mormon Tabernacle of Salt Lake City, is made of hammered bronze 12½ feet tall.

Peron Cops Scatter Catholic Marchers

By FRED L. STROZIER

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Saber - swinging mounted police broke up a mass march through Buenos Aires last night as Roman Catholics demonstrated their loyalty to the church in its current difficulties with the Argentine government.

At least 40 marchers were arrested. One policeman was injured in the scuffle with the crowd, which shouted prochurch slogans. One of the arrested men was identified as retired Army Brig. Gen. Carlos Garcia Cuevas.

* * *

The march was staged after an evening Mass at Metropolitan Cathedral attended by an overflow crowd that blocked traffic in the square. Worshippers, unable to get into the cathedral, listened to the service through loud speakers.

The demonstration came as the Argentine Congress studied measures aimed at separating church and state. Roman Catholicism now is the official state religion.

Confident Living

Youth Follows Five Rules for More Worthwhile Life

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Three years ago, a friend of mine asked me to talk with his son, then a sophomore in college. The boy was headed for the rocks, the father said, and told me of several escapades in which the youth had been involved.

"I suppose you never did anything like that when you were his age?" I suggested. The father admitted that he had, but, of course, he thought his son's circumstances were different.

DR. PEALE

I met the boy and had a talk with him. I couldn't help but like him. He had, I believe, the most expressive eyes I have ever seen in a young man. But they hadn't helped him much; there was no getting around the fact that he was all mixed up. He lacked organization in his life and he had no confidence in himself or his abilities.

"My father is a great person," he told me. "I admire him tremendously because he is so sure of himself. I would like to be that way, but I know I haven't got it in me."

This was particularly interesting because the father had confessed to me that he had suffered from the same self-doubt when he was young.

"Stand up," I ordered the boy. "Go look at yourself in the mirror over there. Look at your eyes. I think they are two of the finest eyes I have ever seen."

He blushed. "My mother used to like my eyes," he said.

"Someone once suggested that the eyes are the mirror of the soul," I went on. "Every once in a while, you should look in a mirror and tell yourself that anybody with eyes like those should never let them blur. They are strong, inspiring eyes. Keep them that way." I also outlined for him a simple five-point program for effective living.

I saw this young man again recently. He is now a senior and, far from being in trouble, is actually on the dean's list. When I asked him how he had overcome his difficulties, he reminded me of the five-point program I had given him at that meeting three years before. You may find it interesting and helpful as he did.

First, pray for a true knowledge of yourself. Most people have no real idea of their own possibilities. They are always discounting themselves.

Second, picture what you want to be and hold that picture persistently. It will tend to actualize in fact.

Third, picture God as always helping you.

Fourth, picture your personality as always flowing out. If you have greatness in you—and you must have, because the kingdom of God is within you—your personality will flow out to help other people.

Fifth, hold strong faith thoughts.

Attention to this program brought this young man from the point of being about to be suspended from college to campus leadership and academic success. "I never knew what I had within me," he said slangily "until I began using that plan and got on the ball spiritually."

There was no egotism in that statement. It isn't egotism when you begin to know what you really are. It isn't egotism to look beneath your defeats and see a tremendous God-given personality.

Life for any one of us cannot really begin until we have a true knowledge of a high though humble appraisal of ourselves as persons.

Taken by and large, I think it can be safely said that the average person does not really comprehend his best possibilities. So if you will use the practical program I gave the college student, it will help you to find yourself. By its use you can make your life more meaningful and satisfying, more useful and constructive than it now is. And don't we all want to be that way?

Carillonneur to Give Recital

Dr. M. Garabrandt to play Bells in Tower of Christ Church

Ringing out over the countryside a message of faith, hope and joy will be the bells of the carillon in the Christ Church Cranbrook Tower Sunday at 4 p.m. Dr. Maurice Garabrandt, carillonneur, organist and director of music of the church, will play.

The recital tomorow will include the following numbers:

Great Is Thy Mercy	G. F. Handel
Musette	J. S. Bach
Air from Orpheus	C. W. Gluck
Preludio	Gian-Carlo
Calm as the Night	Carl Bohm
Rondo for Carillon	Donnell
Ring, Sweet Bells	W. A. Mozart
Jesu	J. S. Bach
Two Hymns
Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah
O God Our Help in Ages Past

Dr. Garabrandt will be a guest of the Canadian government in August when he attends the Guild of Carillonneurs (about 78) of North America in the Peace Tower, Ottawa, Ontario.

The Christ Church carillon is one of the 15 largest in the country. The Rev. Robert DeWitt, rector, would like people to drive near the church and listen to the recital tomorrow and the four succeeding Sundays. The church is on Lone Pine Road.

Diocesan Women Meet

The spring meeting of the Oakland Convocation of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan will be held at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Ferndale, on Monday May 9, beginning with a service of Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m.

Following the 12:15 luncheon, Mrs. Carl Sayers of Allen Park will speak on "The Recovery of Family Life." Discussion groups will then be formed after which a panel summarization of the topic will close the meeting.

Second Retreat Is Open to Men of Any Faith

Father William Westhoven, C. P., former prisoner of the Communist Reds, will be the retreat master, when Pontiac men go on their second retreat May 27-29 at St. Paul of the Cross Monastery, Detroit.

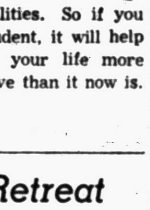

Imprisoned for many months as an American spy, Father Westhoven was released in 1953 with other members of the Order of Passionist Fathers including Bishop Cuthbert O'Gara.

His experiences included house arrest, public trial and the usual "brain-washing." Since his release after spending a year recuperating, Father Westhoven has been assigned to retreat work and lecturing.

Men of any faith are invited to attend the retreat which begins Friday evening May 27 at 6:30 and ends the following Sunday afternoon at 4.

Information or reservations may be had by contacting any of the following parish representatives: Dr. Don Fraser, Merle Berry, George Danic, J. B. Parle, Paul Hagan, Henry Goodell and Joseph Wilhelm.

Teacher, Nurse, Dentist Needed

Mission Board Seeks Skilled Men, Women for Service Overseas

Two men and two women—each specially trained or experienced in a different skill—are being sought by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church for service overseas.

One woman sought is an experienced elementary school teacher to serve in a school for missionary children in Malacca, Malaya. The group is about twenty-five in number, and the classes are the four upper elementary school grades.

These children come from excellent homes, and the teacher will have opportunity to serve boys and girls who will become leaders in the years ahead. The teacher can be appointed for a three-year term, if desired, though the board would like to name her a career missionary.

A woman nurse is needed for the 50-bed Methodist Hospital in La Paz, Bolivia. This is the internationally-known hospital, most famous in Bolivia, founded by Dr. Frank S. Beck. It is modern in all respects.

The woman appointed would have a wide range of service opportunity, including the teaching of student-nurses and the supervision of nurses. A regular (career) missionary nurse is desired, though a three-year appointment can be arranged.

A male dentist is needed for the dental clinic at the noted Clara Swain Hospital in Bareilly, India.

The second man needed is an accounting and business-experienced person for service in the office of the mission treasurer in Korea. The increase in construction funds and relief funds being sent to Korea, make a needed place for this experience.

If you are interested in one of these (or many other) positions, write to Dr. M. O. Williams (for men) and Marguerite Twinem (for women) at 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, N. Y.

St. John Methodist to Send Delegates

The Rev. Donald E. Morris, pastor of the St. John Methodist Church will attend the 86th session of the Lexington Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, which will be held in the Calvary Methodist Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10-15.

Mrs. Myrtle Gardner will attend the conference as the lay delegate from the St. John Methodist Church. Others from the local church who will attend the Cincinnati meeting include: Mrs. Hattie Ross and Mrs. Anna Still.

Speakers scheduled to address the conference include Dr. C. R. Hooten and John M. Swomley, both of Washington, D. C., E. Lamont Geissinger and Herman Will, both of Chicago, Dr. Prince A. Taylor Jr., New Orleans, La., and the Rev. Charles E. Golden, New York City.

Women to Hear Review

The United Church Women will hear the last of the series of India in response to 13 questions Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the YWCA, 22 Franklin Blvd.

Mrs. Percy Jones will give the book review "Change of Heart" by Harold Ehrensperges with the program lasting just one hour.

Mothers Day Offering Planned for Servicemen

Our Pontiac congregations of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, St. Trinity Lutheran, at Auburn and Jessie Sts., St. Paul Lutheran, at Joslyn and Fourth, and Grace Lutheran, at S. Genesse and Glendale, will participate in a nationwide special offering for the Synod's service people on Mother's Day, May 8.

The program includes the cooperation of more than 500 chaplains and contact pastors, inclusive of chaplains and pastors who serve Lutherans at Veterans Administration hospitals.

The annual Mother's Day offering also sustains 49 service centers at home and overseas. These centers, which are supervised by pastors, offer opportunities for spiritual counseling and informal hospitality. The centers are open to all service people.

The program also includes the monthly mailing of private worship pamphlets and devotional materials. A pictorial pocket magazine "Double-Time" is sent out quarterly.

Fair Controversy Is Reawakened

LANSING (UP)—A Detroit architect's recommendation to improve the State Fairgrounds in Detroit stirred a slumbering controversy today over whether the State Fair should be moved to a more central location.

Victor J. Basso, Detroit architect, recommended an $8,155,000 improvement and expansion program in a report to Agriculture Director George S. McIntyre and the State Legislature. The Legislature ordered the study in 1953.

Basso said the program could be carried out over a five-year period.

There are no proposals at this session of the Legislature either to move the fair or expand its present location.

But two Senate committee chairmen said they believed a move might be desirable.

Sen. Bert J. Storey (R-Belding), chairman of the Agriculture Committee, and Sen. Perry Greene (R-Grand Rapids), chairman of the State Affairs Committee, said they believed the fair was "getting further away from an agricultural exposition and developing into a high-class carnival."

The argument over location of the fairgrounds was fought about seven years ago on the issue of whether the State Fair was "strictly for farmers" or should include "all state industry."

Basso, in his report, said the financial success or failure of the fair is dependent on attendance and revenue. The lack of these are considered the cause of the fair's bankruptcy in Lansing in 1892. And for these reasons, the fair was returned to and permanently located in Detroit in 1905."

He said exhibitions such as the automobile show are possible "only where there are industrialists to stage them and a density of population to assure an attendance that can make them worthwhile."

He said the state realized "a net revenue of $162,000 for secondary uses of the fair buildings and grounds last year."

Dan Reed, assistant legislative counsel of the Michigan Farm Bureau, said his organization has not taken any stand on the matter since 1947 "when there was some sentiment for moving it to a more central location."

He said even farmers differ on whether the fair should be a large-scale version of a county fair where farmers get together or in the nature of an agriculture "showcase" to display farm products to as many consumers as possible.

"A central location might be better for a farmer-dominated fair, but Detroit probably would be better for the display idea," he said.

Some farmers fear a centrally located, farmer-type State Fair might draw attendance away from county fairs, he said.

"I have no position on the matter one way or the other right now," McIntyre said.

He did say he believes, however, that Basso's suggestion for a "planned expansion of the present fairgrounds is a good one if the grounds are to be expanded at all.

"A logical plan is better than a hodge-podge program," he said.

Basso said the Detroit fairgrounds could be expanded by purchase of 40 acres of privately owned property which fits into the northwest corner of the grounds.

This property includes 356 lots valued at $2,500,000, he said. He recommended that the state petition the city of Detroit to condemn the property for ultimate public use. The state could acquire the land over a period of years, he said.

Says Married Men Make Better Gobs

CORONADO, Calif. (UP)—The undersecretary of the U.S. Navy said last night that married men make better sailors.

Thomas S. Gates Jr., told the Navy League of the United States: 'The Navy has discovered that a married man is usually more efficient and more responsible than an unmarried one."

His talk at the league's annual convention stressed the influence of wives.

"If the Navy hopes to attract outstanding young men," he said, "it must be increasingly alert to convince the Navy wife that the tasks performed by her husband are important and necessary. It must give her every consideration and support that is possible."

Peace With Honor Aim of U.S. on Formosa

NEW YORK (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon says the essence of the Formosa problem is to "maintain peace without surrendering" our nation's rights.

Nixon, speaking last night before the Society of American Military Engineers, said President Eisenhower should be the one to decide on a course of action in the Formosan situation.

"The best interests of the country will be served by placing confidence in the President, who has all the facts and the background and experience to make a proper decision," Nixon said.

Predicts GAW Strike if Firms Hold Out

HOUSTON (UP) — Walter Reuther "isn't kidding" about a guaranteed annual wage for auto workers, says Dr. Carroll R. Daugherty.

Daugherty, Northwestern University economist who frequently serves as a federal mediator in labor disputes, said yesterday, the CIO-UAW chief's demand may result in a major strike

"Unless Ford or General Motors sign up because of their sales battle, I think we'll see real labor trouble in Detroit this year," Daugherty added in a speech before an industrial relations conference.

Mother of 1955 Gets Crowned

Utah Woman, 75, Wins Citation at Waldorf Luncheon

NEW YORK (UP) — Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, 75, was a happy and humble woman yesterday when she was crowned American mother of 1955.

Mrs. Fugal, of Pleasant Grove, Utah, had her eight grown children with her as she received a citation and pin at a luncheon in her honor.

"This is the most humbling experience of my life," she said. "I've lived nearly 76 years and had a lot of humbling experiences."

Then she added: "I'm not up in the clouds, I'm flying over them."

Mrs. Fugal's husband died 10 years ago. She put all her children through college and has been active in Utah civic and church affairs.

Mrs. Fugal's citation read in part:

"She built through love a home and a life that are models in their every spiritual and material appointment. . . . She reared her children in reverence for God and in an atmosphere of love, sympathy and understanding."

Mrs. Fugal, a member of a pioneer Utah family, grew up, lived, and worked in the fruit fields while she raised her large family.

The affair at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel was sponsored by the American Mothers Committee, Inc.

Sues for Separation

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Virginia Lang, 31, wife of Howard Lang, 46, motion picture producer, has filed suit for separate maintenance. They were married Jan. 25, 1951, and separated Thursday. The couple has a son, Michael, 21 months. Mrs. Lang filed her suit yesterday.

News Story Tips Californian on His Lost Burro

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — Donald C. Waite, toy buyer from an Oakland department store has claimed a Texas burro currently residing in Rochester, N.Y.

Waite was visiting relatives here when he saw an Associated Press story from Rochester asking:

"Anybody know who belongs to Judy?"

Judy is a little burro living in the Railway Express office for five days. A companion ate the tags off Judy's crate.

Waite yesterday told KBET-TV news director Hank Thornley he won the animal in a contest sponsored by a New York toy firm.

He read a letter saying the burro would be shipped from Texas.

How did the burro get to Rochester? Waite doesn't know.

He said he planned to keep the burro—if and when he gets it—at his parents' home in North Sacramento.

Joan Davis Sues Firm for Hair Bleach Harm

HONOLULU (UP)— Actress Joan Davis filed suit in Circuit Court today for $150,000 damages against the Honolulu branch of Elizabeth Arden Sales Corp.

The complaint charged a hair bleach solution caused injury to Joan's eye last year. It did not specify which eye.

D. Dudley Pratt, lawyer representing the corporation, declined comment.

Thief Steals Flowers, Empties Cashbox, Too

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—From the Mothers Day display in a florist's shop here a burglar took a potted hydrangea and a potted red rose.

To this he added a brass planter and two boxes of gold letters for inscribing ribbons with appropriate sentiments.

Then, police reported somewhat cynically yesterday, he took $250 from the till

Unmarried Actress Honored as 'Mother'

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—An unmaried television actress today got a unique Mothers Day gift—10,000 signatures of ex-GI's from Maine to California.

Frances Bavier, known as "mom" to thousands of GIs during World War II, traveled from Normandy to Saipan with an entertainment troupe.

Besides acting, she endeared herself to many by listening sympathetically to problems of homesick sailors, soldiers and Marines.

The huge scroll was inspired by Chicago Tribune writer Kermit Holt, an ex-Marine combat correspondent. He saw her on NBC-TV's comedy series "It's A Great Life," where she plays the motherly Amy.

Remembering her wartime role of substitute mother, he circulated the scroll through veterans organizations in various cities.

The 52-year-old actress said she will personally answer as many signatures as possible during her summer vacation.

Understudy Considers Breaking Actress' Leg

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A few months ago, robusty Gretchen Wyler, an attractive blond Okie, wrote to showgal friends complaining about an understudy's life.

"I'm not a happy chick because I get the healthiest darned people to understudy," she lamented.

"I guess the only way for me to get a break is to break the star's leg."

Suddenly "Gretch" was snatched out of the chorus and her understudy role—and handed a featured part and a show-stopping song in "Silk Stockings," then Don Ameche-Hildegarde Neff musical. She didn't have to break anybody's leg.

Yvonne Adair had pulled out of thes how just before its Broadway opening because she was having a baby. Now Gretchen Wyler sits in the dressing room at the Imperial once used by Mary Martin when she, too, was a Broadway beginner, doing her famous "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" song.

Gretchen now has an understudy of her own.

GRETCHEN

Her understudy, Miss Carol Risser, no doubt complains to friends about the remarkable good health enjoyed by Miss Wyler.

★ ★ ★ ★

"What do you weigh?" I asked her the other night after she'd come off stage after stopping the show with her "Josephine" number.

"Nobody's going to know that!" replied Miss Wyler. She's curvy and cushiony and is supposed to be an Esther Williams type.

"I was always a big gal and people were always saying 'Watch it, Gretch.' But the producers seem to be happy. They told me, 'Don't lose a pound.'"

Her upstairs dressing room is a drop-in headquarters for everybody. Her maid, Rosie, is always bringing in goodies, and Gretchen and her understudy are frequently sitting there insisting to themselves they're not going to eat a thing . . . while they partake.

"Oh, oh, I'm on," Gretchen may say suddenly. "Here, George"—to actor George Tobias—"you're not doing anything. Hook me up!"

★ ★ ★ ★

And, hooked up, she flies downstairs and on stage, then comes off almost staggering from exhaustion after the "Josephine" number in which she demonstrates that Napoleon's gal had "agitatin' eyes" and "undulatin' hips."

"How long was I an understudy?" Gretchen said the other night. "Why, all my life!"

It seems a long time to her. Actually, she turned 23 just a few days after her big success in the Broadway opening.

STARS AS BRIDE — Dublin-born Maureen O'Hara, Irish vixen of John Ford's "The Quiet Man," again plays an Irish girl in the four-time academy winner's "The Long Gray Line." Also starred in the Cinema-Scope-Technicolor picture is Tyrone Power. "Gray Line" comes to the Oakland Sunday.

Surrender Site at Reims Quiet

Maps Still on Walls of Room Where Ike Took Capitulation

REIMS, France (AP)—Ten years ago today Gen. Alfred Gustav Jodl strode into the map room at Allied headquarters here to surrender Germany's armed forces.

The big red-brick trade school near the railway cut, once Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters, keeps the surrender room as it was at 2:41 a.m., May 7, 1945. Huge colored maps paper the wall, showing the advance of the Allied forces.

* * *

The Germans tried to give up to the Western powers alone, pleading there were six million German refugees in Eastern Europe and they had to keep fighting the Russians to protect the refugees. But Allied policy called for unconditional surrender of the Germans. Eisenhower insisted they give up to all. He got his way.

The Western Allies tried to hold up news of the surrender 24 hours, wanting to get a Soviet announcement at the same time. They failed. Eastern Europe still celebrates the anniversary May 9, the date of another signature at Berlin.

In view of the position West Germany achieved this week as a sovereign partner of the West, few Allied bigwigs were expected to attend anniversary ceremonies in Western Europe.

At Reims itself, the celebration was held to a low pitch. Arrangements called for dedication of a plaque on the house where Eisenhower lived and inauguration of a memorial to French resistance forces.

Separated Twin in Grave Shape After Setback

CHICAGO (AP) — Rodney Brodie, who made medical hostory 2½ years ago by becoming the first head-joined Siamese twin to survive separation is in grave condition following an unexpected setback.

University of Illinois Research Hospital said the famous 3½-year-old boy has a brain hemorrhage which doctors are unable to check.

Rodney has been in a coma since early yesterday.

* * *

Doctors say tere is no apparent injury to Rodney's brain, which has been without a hard covering, and that they have been unable to determine the cause of the bleeding.

The youngster, who had been living a normal life at his family's Ferris, Ill., farm home, was returned to the hospital Tuesday after his parents noticed he had become lethargic and did not run and play as usual.

Surgeons discovered the internal bleeding in an exploratory operation Thursday, but the setback was not made public until last night.

Shelters Protect Dogs in A-Test

Atomic Bomb Blast Fails to Kill Animals Behind Shields

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP)—Man-made steel, concrete and earth shelters may be the only solid defensive answer to man's most terrifying weapons, atomic and thermonuclear bombs.

That appears today to be the foremost tangible result of Operation Cue, the major Civil Defense test, and allied military experiments in Thursday's powerful atomic shot.

Scores of test dogs, rats, rabbits, guinea pigs and mice survived the blast in shelters, both surface and underground, from 1,050 to 2,750 feet. R. L. Corsbie, director of civil effects tests for the Atomic Energy Commission, said 24 hours later, "I doubt that any were killed."

Civil Defense heads were encouraged by the fact that two concrete block type houses withstood the blast at the ⅞ mile point. Only their windows and doors failed to hold.

Very clear was the need for protection in homes from flying glass and other debris. Even in homes that withstood the awful blast, mannequins, draperies and walls were riddled or pitted by slivers of glass, and floors were covered with a carpet of glass pellets.

Shelters, or possibly ducking into some protected corner, could answer this threat.

Churchill Gives Painting to New York Publisher

NEW YORK (AP)—An oil painting of a coastel scene from Sir Winston Churchill was among the gifts given Arthur Hays Sulzberger last night marking his 20th anniversary as president and publisher of the New York times.

Among messages praising Sulzberger's record were letters from Churchill and President Eisenhower.

Wilson Censorship Rapped by Butler

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler says Secretary of Denfese Wilson's recent directive on Defense Department news releases is "partisan mismanagement on an alarming scale."

Butler told the Connecticut State Convention of Young Democrats last night the entire publishing industry is disturbed over what he termed the "paper curtain" censorship rule imposed by Wilson that all press releases must make a "constructive contribution."

"His rule," Butler said, "sets up a paper curtain which may be used by his department to hide anything that does not show him and his department in the most favorable light."

Butler said a censorship system such as set up by Wilson would not be justified even in wartime. "He added:

"Mr. Wilson does not understand that his gag rule has no place in the public business."

ROK Envoy Says Reds Plan New Korea Attack

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Another attack in Korea is indicated by a Communist military buildup in North Korea, the Korean ambassador says.

"The Communists are preparing another attack," Dr. You Chan Yang said here yesterday while en route from San Antonio to Washington.

"The Reds in the North have built up over 40 airfields and underground hangars and, brought in 500 planes, including 425 jets," he stated.

Actors Today Don't Beg Hollywood Jobs

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There was a time when Eastern actors would come to Hollywood with hat in hand, hopeful for what the movies could give them. Television has changed all that.

TV actors can afford to be independent, and they are. Most of them realize that the films can help build their names and bank accounts. But movies today provide steady employment for only a choice few. And so New York actors need not wait around for roles here. They can head East and keep active.

One such performer is Rod Steiger, the chunky young actor who won an Oscar nomination for his second film, "On the Waterfront. He said he was happy with the nomination, which improved his professional standing and earning power.

But he was even prouder of the Sylvania Award. Reason: he got the Academy honor for just one role. The TV honor came for a variety of portrayals, from Andrei Vishinsky to the love-Starved Marty.

* * *

"I like doing pictures," Steiger said. "But I'm convinced that you should never come to Hollywood until you've established your name in another medium. If you don't you can get lost here."

He feels that Hollywood has underestimated the power of TV to establish names.

"They say that TV actors have to go to Hollywood or Broadway to make a name for themselves," he declared. "That's a lot of baloney. Last summer Kim Stanley took 'The Traveling Lady' to Michigan and turned away 500 people every night. It was not because of her Broadway reputation, but because she had done the show on TV.

"It's the same way with names like Arlene Francis and Wally Cox when they go out and do summer theaters."

No Rest in Sight for Truman, 71, on Birthday Eve

KANSAS CITY (AP) — On the threshold of 71 years, Harry S. Truman can't see anything but work ahead.

He wouldn't want it any other way as he reaches that age tomorrow. He figures it will take many more anniversaries before he runs out of something to do.

"Something always turns up," he said, referring to his recent quips that he'll run for president again when he reaches 90.

* * *

To him Sunday's anniversary will be something special.

In his hometown of nearby Independence he'll take up a gold-plated shovel to break ground for his dream, the $1,750,000 Harry S. Truman library.

Guests at the ceremonies Sunday afternoon and a big birthday dinner that evening in Kansas City will find Truman well recovered from the serious gall bladder operation he underwent last summer. His own appraisal of his condition is this:

"At 71, I feel as good as ever, although I can't go as fast as I did 20 years ago."

'Body Bountiful'

New Color Film Tells Birth of Craftsmanship

A new sound and color film, "Body Bountiful" distributed by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors is an added attraction to the billing, "Blackboard Jungle," being shown at the Strand Theater this week.

A smooth mixture of entertainment and education, the film relates the story of the birth of craftsmanship in man's early history and its constant progress from the stone age to the present.

Central theme of the film is man's creative ability and his evolution from a creature fashioning things with his hands to an individual presiding over fabulous machines invented to satisfy his instinct for both quality and quantity.

Cobbling, silversmithing, furniture-making and automobile manufacture are all dramatically covered in the film.

In the automotive area, the film traces the manufacture of a door from the drawing board of a stylist on through the successive stages of engineering, tooling, die design, testing and checking, fabrication and assembly to the moment when a new car owner first opens the door to sit behind the wheel and drive away.

In a sense, the film is a pictorial review of the dominant arts of the 20th Century: Science, engineering, designing and craftsmanship. At the same time, it traces the growth of these arts from the historic ages and the ancient arts of sculpturing, painting and architecture.

The film will be made available to schools, clubs and other interested groups.

Information may be obtained by writing Fisher Body Division, General Motors Building, Detroit 2, Michigan.

Before the 19th century, American bison ranged as far east as the Carolinas. In their westward migration, they pounded out trails followed by the Indians and later settlers, routes now followed by modern highways.

Destroys 25,000 Chicks Delayed in Shipping

LONDON (AP)—Some 25,000 baby chicks had to be destroyed by a London vetenarian last night after a transport hitch caused them to miss their scheduled flight to Italy.

Poultry dealer Harry Tabor who was shipping the chicks to Rome said "they were barely two days old and might not have lasted another day in transit."

'I thought it better not to take the risk of causing unnecessary suffering."

FAMILY ROOM — Mrs. A. J. Macksey and son, Jim, enjoy a few moments discussing house interiors in the family activity room of their new Charnwood Hills home. The exterior of the colonial-ranch home is pictured in the photo across the top of the page. A one-story structure, it measures 96 feet long and is located at the top of one of the many hills in Charnwood, a new development east of Adams Rd. between Square Lake Rd. and South Blvd. It was planned by Ranch Homes, Inc.

NEW ORLEANS GRILL WORK — The front entrance of the A. J. Macksey home in Charnwood Hills is framed in white painted iron grillwork typical of the New Orleans area. This same white is used for the clapboard gables and the shutters of the windows as well as the dining room window bay. Another porch is located on the Macksey home which faces the backyard. This is accessible from the living room and the garage entrance.

Your Neighbor's House

Scenic Charnwood Hills Features Rolling Building Sites

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

It is designed for relaxed, gracious country living; it is built on a site overlooking acre after acre of rolling hills, winding valley roads and wooded areas; it is located in a new development where careful planning has resulted in a complete community of one-story colonial-ranch homes which seem to grow out of the sloping terrain surrounding them.

This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Macksey and their son, Jim, in Charnwood Hills (east of Adams Rd. between South Blvd. and Square Lake Rd.)

The 90-foot long exterior is gray brick with white New Orleans grillwork framing the ledgerock-floored front porch. This same white is used for trim in shutters, clapboard gables and for the wood section of the dining room window bay.

For a floor plan, the Mackseys chose a design with three large bedrooms, a master bathroom and a bathroom and dressing room suite; spacious entrance hall with shutter-doored wardrobe closets, a living and dining room, kitchen combined with a family activity room and a laundry room plus another bathroom and a two-car garage.

Spaciousness is not exclusively an exterior prerogative in Charnwood Hills, this same illusion is incorporated in the interior of the Macksey home. This is achieved by the absence of full-wall partitions—one room appears to blend into another. Although the dining room is actually a separate area, it flows into the living room physically and functionally. The kitchen becomes a part of the large activity room and wide windows invite natural lighting inside making the interior part of the surrounding landscape.

Mrs. Macksey relied on the pastel palette for interior decor. The palest of green covers the entrance hall, living and dining room floors and continues upward to shade the walls. In the bedroom wing is the merest suggestion of pink and blues of the robin's egg hue. Warm beiges have been employed to match the white mahogany wall paneling in the family activity room with the same wood used for kitchen cupboards.

Gold draperies complement the living and dining room green and French provincial furniture in fruitwood is at home in this setting.

The most-lived-in and most-conversed-about area of the house is the kitchen-activity room. Measuring 40 feet from the kitchen door to the activity room window, the unit is blessed with an abundance of working and playing area.

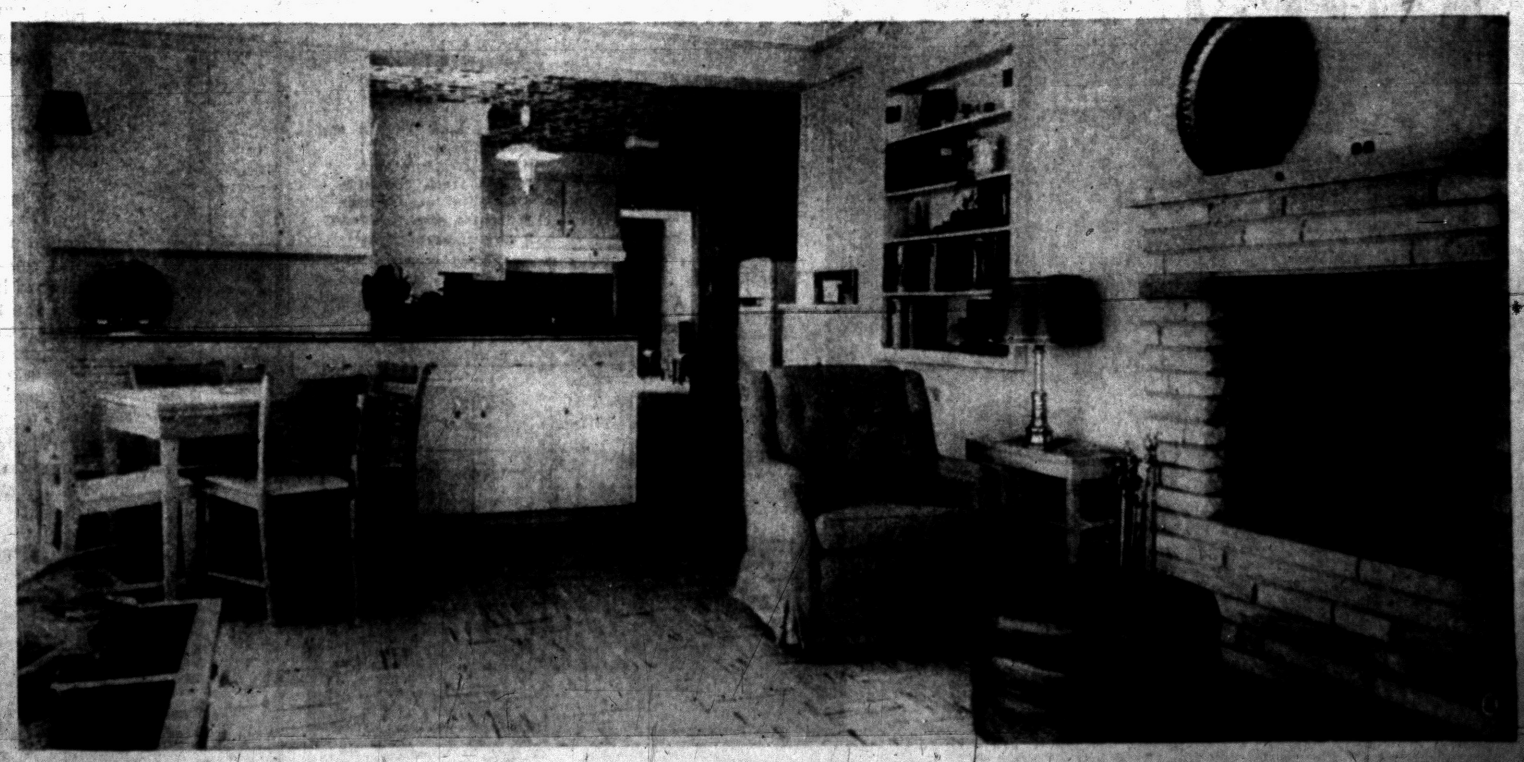

Kitchen cupboards are in the same white mahogany as the panels of the activity room wall; a partial room divider is the two-way peninsular unit with counter top in Formica to match the mahogany. Other counters of the kitchen are done in coral, a note picked from the leaf-patterned wallpaper covering the kitchen ceiling.

The activity room has a raised hearth fireplace done in ledgerock. It is furnished in long, curved and comfortable terra cotta tweed divans, brown leather chairs and bleached mahogany tables. Jade green pillows provide an interesting color accent.

In the bedroom wing of the Macksey home, the master bedroom has its own dressing room and bathroom done in pink tile. Three walls of the dressing room are lined in built-in closets and chests.

Mrs. Macksey picked turquoise for the wall coloring of the bedroom with pale beige taffeta bedspreads. The other bedrooms are in beige and pink with the large bathroom done in gray tile.

Mr. Macksey is a member of the Ranch Homes, Inc. firm with headquarters in Birmingham. Ranch Homes, Inc. is also developing the scenic Christian Hills near Rochester where several hundred homes are being planned.

ACTIVITY-KITCHEN—From the kitchen entrance the large area which also includes the activity room is visible. Walls of the latter are done in white mahogany which match the cupboards of the kitchen. Spaciousness has been achieved with the absence of full partitions in this unit which measures 40 feet long. The upper left hand photo shows the entrance hall with its shutter-doored cloak closets and full length door-flanking windows. At the lower left is the bathroom suite done in gray tile.

Shellacked Floor Can Be Patched

When a shellacked floor shows wear and tear only in spots, it is possible to patch it without redoing the entire area. With steel wool and a floor cleaner designed for the purpose, remove all wax or oil polish carefully from the sections that are to be repaired. Let the surface dry thoroughly, then cover the worn areas with two coats of shellac. The second coat may be applied within four hours of the first. You'll find that the patched areas blend in with the rest of the floor.

Clean Marble Daily

Marble, now appearing more and more in furniture, needs day to day care to keep its rare luster and smoothness. Lukewarm water will take care of everyday dust and dirt.

Twice a year, suds it with detergent to remove dirt which might become ingrained. If repolishing marble becomes necessary the best bet is leaving the job to a profesional.

INVITATION TO COOKING—Beauty teams with convenience and functional efficiency in this compact steel kitchen, one of the newest creations for modern homes. Along one wall area are space-saving, built-in appliances and beautiful steel cabinets, all in a turquoise green hue that blends smartly with patterned wallpaper and white brick housing the wall oven. Easy-to-clean, durable steel cabinets provide abundant storage space besides holding surface cooking units, dishwasher, stainless steel sink, and over-range exhaust fan with ventilating hoods. Despite its compactness, this colorful, wife-saving steel kitchen boasts adequate counter space for food preparation, too.

Spacious Kitchen Is Not Needed for Efficiency

It isn't necessary to have a whopping large kitchen to have a good kitchen today. Increasing use of built-in ovens and separate surface units, which blend with and are readily housed in steel cabinets, has brought a new era of functional efficiency and beauty in smart steel kitchens of any size.

The flexibility of kitchen arrangement, the space-saving, and the conveniences provided by decentralized cooking appliances make built-ins particularly popular in small-space planning. They especially fit into the design of compact one-wall kitchens.

Because of their durability, resistance to heat and moisture, and spacious interiors, steel cabinets are highly adaptable to the new built-ins. Steel cabinets are styled in various sizes and shapes to house these new appliances—and also may be installed above, below, and alongside the built-ins for added storage space.

Wife-saving, one-wall steel kitchens are ideal for apartments as well as for small homes. Along one compact wall area, work progresses in a continuous line. First comes a waist-high, built-in wall oven. Then there are matching warp-free steel base cabinets housing surface cooking units, dishwasher, stanless steel sink, and in-between storage space. Even the refrigerator can be one of the new wall or under counter built-ins if desired.

Plenty of counter space is allowed between the cooking units and sink, and there's a wealth of storage area in the easy-to-clean steel base and wall cabinets. The wall cabinets above the cooking units house an exhaust fan with ventilator hood to protect wallpaper and cabinets from smudges and to remove cooking odors.

SAFETY PAYS

A handy scaffold can be formed with an 8 foot plank at least 2 inches thick and 12 inches wide, laid across two 6-foot step ladders. It is adjustable for painting ceilings or lower story of a house. The Institute for Safer Living recommends clamps to hold the plank.

Good Painting Practice

When you're painting the drawers of a desk or chest, it's advisable to remove the handles or knobs and paint them separately. If you attach them to a section of cardboard, they're easy to handle. The drawers themselves should, of course, be removed from the piece of furniture in which they belong and also painted separately.

"The Legend of Christian Hills"

THREE WEEKS ago we announced the opening of beautiful Christian Hills. The response to this lovely, rolling, wooded hills subdivision was tremendous. We were more than gratified, though not surprised, when the hundreds of visitors we had expected mounted into thousands. Many people were so enthralled by the wonderful, picturesque lot sites that early sales promise rapid development of this enchanting new community. Plenty of beautiful lot sites are still available for those who desire serene, suburban living in a luxury ranch-styled home priced lower than you could possibly imagine.

Many, many people have asked us, "Where did you get the name, Christian Hills?" "Was it the home of early Christians?" "Was it a place where the Indians were converted to Christianity?" "Did you name it yourselves?" "Just where did the name 'Christian Hills' come from?"

Well, we actually didn't know at first but through the kind co-operation of Joe Haas, historical writer for the Pontiac Daily Press, this is the story of whence came the name, Christian Hills:

'Way back in the year 1822 Reverend Smith Weeks took up residence in Section 20 of Avon Township. This is where Christian Hills is now located. The Reverend Weeks was said to be the first Methodist minister in Oakland County and an ardent exponent of the gospel. It is believed that the early settlers dubbed his property "Christian Hills" in view of his dynamic personality, and that the name has persisted down through the years. The Reverend Weeks came from Rhode Island where he entered the ministry at the age of 18. He became a probate judge of Oakland County and was the first chaplain of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Michigan. It is said he walked all the way to Detroit to attend the first meeting in 1826. He died in 1829 at the age of 69.

Small wonder Reverend Weeks fell in love with this beautiful rustic area. Christian Hills is a dream in green . . . a community for those who prefer the best. You will be proud to say, "I live in Christian Hills."

Power Tools Short-Cut Working With Aluminum

When soft, do-it-yourself aluminum was introduced a year or two ago, a question arose in the minds of home-workshop hands. Could this stuff really be worked with woodworking power tools?

Manufacturers of the aluminum said yes, and power-tool makers agreed. To home craftsmen it just didn't seem right, and most of them held back, not wanting to risk damage to their precious machinery. Even though experience has shown this fear to be groundless, many are still dragging their feet.

According to one power-tool manufacturer, maker of Delta machines, the transition from woodcraft to aluminumcraft in a power-tool shop is easy. Experimenting "with great success," Delta experts found that, in fact, no special attachments or accessories are needed. They offer the following hints and suggestions to power-tool fanciers who make the switch to aluminumcraft.

Homemade jigs and fixtures for cutting, bending and shaping facilitate the home craftsman's work with soft almuinum.

1. When cutting aluminum on the circular saw, the not-too-familiar ring of the blade biting into metal is no cause for alarm. Although it may sound as if the blade is being damaged, it is not. The combination rip - crosscut blade furnished with a circular saw is ample and strong enough to cut aluminum without dulling.

2. For drilling accurate, clean holes in aluminum, the drill press is ideal. Place a waste piece of wood beneath the aluminum and feed a machine spur bit slowly into the metal. (Machine spur bits are similar to the common auger bit, except that they have plain points instead of screw points.) Twist drills may of course be used, too, to make smaller holes.

3. The jointer may be used for trimming uneven or ragged edges of aluminum stock. Jointing sheet aluminum is complicated a little by the fact that it tends to move away from the jointer's guide fence. Holding a piece of waste wood stock over the cutter knives prevents this, and a perfectly straight edge is produced.

4. Bandsaws and sanding machines of various types, among other power tools, are just as applicable to aluminumcraft without special preparation.

Power tools will help shortcut your work with aluminum in another way. With them you can make special forming jigs and fixtures for bending and shaping aluminum. Without forming jigs your aluminum projects are sharply limited in scope, since it's difficult to form the material if it is not held securely in a stationary fixture.

Some of the jigs you'll find most useful include:

Sawing Jig—For cutting aluminum sheet on the circular saw, it eliminates the tendency of the metal to rise above the saw blade. Large flat board clamped to saw fence holds down the metal.

Edge - Rolling Jigs—For rolling ornamental edges on sheet aluminum, they consist of dowel rods in various sizes, each with a saw kerf cut the length of the rod. Saw kerf holds metal edge, while diameter of dowel determines diameter of edge roll.

Tube-Bending Jig — Prevents kinks while permitting identical bends in lengths of tubing. It's made of semicircular wood block fastened to a rectangular wooden plate equipped with stop blocks.

Scroll - Forming Jig — Used to bend flat bars of aluminum into scroll shapes, it consists of a round block of wood of any required diameter, bolted to a larger surface. C-clamp holds aluminum strip against the block for bending.

As you become better and better acquainted with aluminumcraft you'll find that your projects will dictate the design of many additional jigs and fixtures. You'll make them yourself and be dog-gone proud of your ingenuity.

New Decorative Use for Asbestos Shingles

A new use for asbestos-cement siding shingles has been found by interior decorators. They are utilizing the attractively colored shingles as plaques for flower vases and on walls behind flower arrangements to mask off clashing background colors. Because they are made in many pleasing colors, it is easy to choose shingles which will harmonize with the flowers.

Color Stain Wood Cabinets

Kitchen Cupboards Take on Many Tones With New Process

Here are directions for color staining wood kitchen cabinets. They were compiled after experiments on clear ponderosa pine cabinets in both assembled and knocked-down form.

A knocked-down, or "KD" kitchen cabinet is entirely precut and sanded. It is assembled and installed with a hammer and screw driver.

For staining, ask for a sample piece of the same material the cabinet is made of. Try the color stain on this sample piece and apply a finish coat of varnish or lacquer to see the effect. If the sample is suitable, proceed with the job as follows:

1. Clean the wood surface of all dust, dirt and grease.

2. Apply the stain and wipe it off to get the desired depth of color. The longer the stain is allowed to penetrate before wiping, the darker the color becomes.

3. Apply one or two coats of clear, satin varnish (dull finish varnish) or lacquer.

4. Sand lightly between coats to keep surfaces smooth.

If sandblasted effects — to raise the grain — are desired, proceed as follows:

1. Have the doors and drawer fronts sandblasted at a monument works.

2. Clean off all dust with a cloth dampened with a solvent or thinner.

3. Apply stain, thinned more than otherwise, because sandblasted pine absorbs more stain. Apply finish to sample piece before going farther with project to judge results.

4. After stain has dried, sand very lightly with a sanding block and fine sandpaper. This removes the stain from the high points of the wood and highlights the grain.

5. Dust and apply one or two coats of dull finish varnish of the non-yellowing type, or clear lacquer.

Most Cellar Water Comes From Roof

More cellar dampness is caused by roof water than by underground water sources. Tests have shown that in most cases the ground water level is well below a cellar floor.

Cellar walls can normally keep out the amount of rain water that falls on the ground next to the foundation. But when the greatly increased drainage of a roof is allowed to seep into the small areas next to house, cellar walls are subjected to a task for which they were not designed.

Gas is stored in underground salt beds in Michigan. The gas is stored in caverns left when the salt is extracted from the earth.

Interesting Fireplace Front Made From Tile

The tiling of your fireplace front and hearth is probably the best way to dress up and modernize its old brick or stone face.

In Europe and in many fine older homes in this country, tiled fireplaces have always been popular. After all, the fireplace is usually the center of interest in the living room; it should look the part.

Because of the increasing decorative range of fireproof tile today, the possibilities for a striking yet practical fireplace re-do are virtually limitless. Tile comes in a wide variety of sizes, shapes, color and textures; almost any pattern can be worked out to go with the decorative scheme of the rest of your room.

Spray Painting Tip

A distorted spray from a paint gun is a sign of a dirty air cap. Take off the cap and wash it carefully in clean solvent. If the air holes need reaming, use a broom straw or a matchstick splinter. Never use a metal instrument.

New Wood Uses Aid Church Building

New methods of utilizing wood in the construction and furnishing of churches have assured that material a continuing position of importance in the nation's accelerated church building program, institutional experts report.

Further, they point out, genuine hardwood reflects today's trend toward a warm friendly atmosphere in churches.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that church construction is proceeding at the rate of $450 million annually. Remodeling and expansion account for an additional $400 million each year.

Among the contributions of the wood products industries to modern church construction methods are glue-laminated arches and beams, hardwood plywood paneling and molded plywood pews.

The laminated arch and beam system is believed to have almost unlimited engineering possibilities. This new method of support is more economical than older systems and it provides the free expanse of space so essential in churches.

Hardwood plywood paneling is a favored material because the warm beauty and timeless simplicity of the natural grain pattern are in keeping with the dignity and meaning of the church. In the sanctuary, the darker plywood species, such as mahogany, walnut, red birch or stained oak, are preferred. In social areas, Sunday school rooms and corridors, the lighter woods, such as birch, gum and maple, are most popular.

Economy is present in the strength and durability of the plywood paneling and in its easy maintenance.

Only an occasional going-over with a wax cloth is needed. Genuine hardwood plywoods have superior acoustical values, making the material eminently suitable for church construction.

Molded plywood church pews have found wide favor in recent years because of their smooth, well-postured design and one-piece construction. In Sunday school and social areas, the same molded plywood stacking chairs so widely used in public schools are now appearing in greater numbers. Because of plywood's combination of strength with light weight, these chairs can be staked on top of one another and moved aside to clear the area for group activities.

Workshop Patterns

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

This handy piece of utility furniture may be taken down and moved to camp or shore cottage by loosening a few bolts. Another important feature is that when the twins get too grown up for bunk beds this good-looking job may be cut apart. Notice that each corner post has a middle beading to match the one on the top. The posts are cut just above this beading and presto you have twin beds. Actual-size cutting guides for all shaped parts are given on the pattern. The dimensions are for standard 39-inch twin bed springs. Send 25 cents and get this pattern 236 or send $1 and get the Children's Furniture Packet of five standard size patterns including the bunk bed pattern 236.

NINE ROOMS—Big and spacious, nine rooms and three baths all on one floor, this house needs no basement. A boiler room off the kitchen uses a flue in the fireplace chimney. Generous closets, a separate pantry and a large storage space in the two-car garage help to eliminate need for a basement. This is plan 7424AP by Herman York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. The house covers 2,418 square feet, not including garage which figures separately.

U.S. Building Up in April

First Quarter Shows 41½ Billion Dollars in Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today that construction in April boomed to a record for the month of 3¼ billion dollars.

Construction in the first four months of the year also set a record, the Commerce and Labor departments reported, and construction expenditures in April rose to an unprecedented annual rate of over 41½ billion dollars, considering seasonal factors. The actual outlay last year was over 37 billions.

* * *

Building of private residences showed the greatest dollar gain in the first four months of this year compared with 1954. However, building activity was at a peak also for commercial buildings, schools, churches, sewer and water facilities, public utilities and highways.

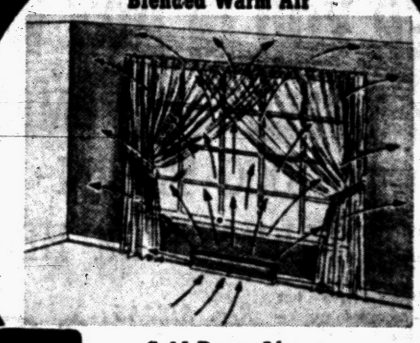

* * *

The only major construction segment running at lower levels than a year earlier was publicly financed outlays, down by 3 per cent. Increased spending by state and local governments did not quite offset a decline in federally financed construction.

Shadow Line Emphasis Aids Home Appearance

Deeper horizontal shadow lines which enhance the appearance of an asbestos-cement sided house can be obtained by using fiber shingle backers as an underlayment. Another method is to use wood strips over the top of each course of shingles, nailing the shingle bottoms in the next course above to the wood strips.

Check Wire Capacity for New Appliances

Portable electric heaters are becoming so popular in supplementing heat for extra rooms that overloads may be placed on many house circuits.

The current consumption of portable electric heaters ranges from 250 watts for a single heat lamp, to 1,650 watts for large room heating units.

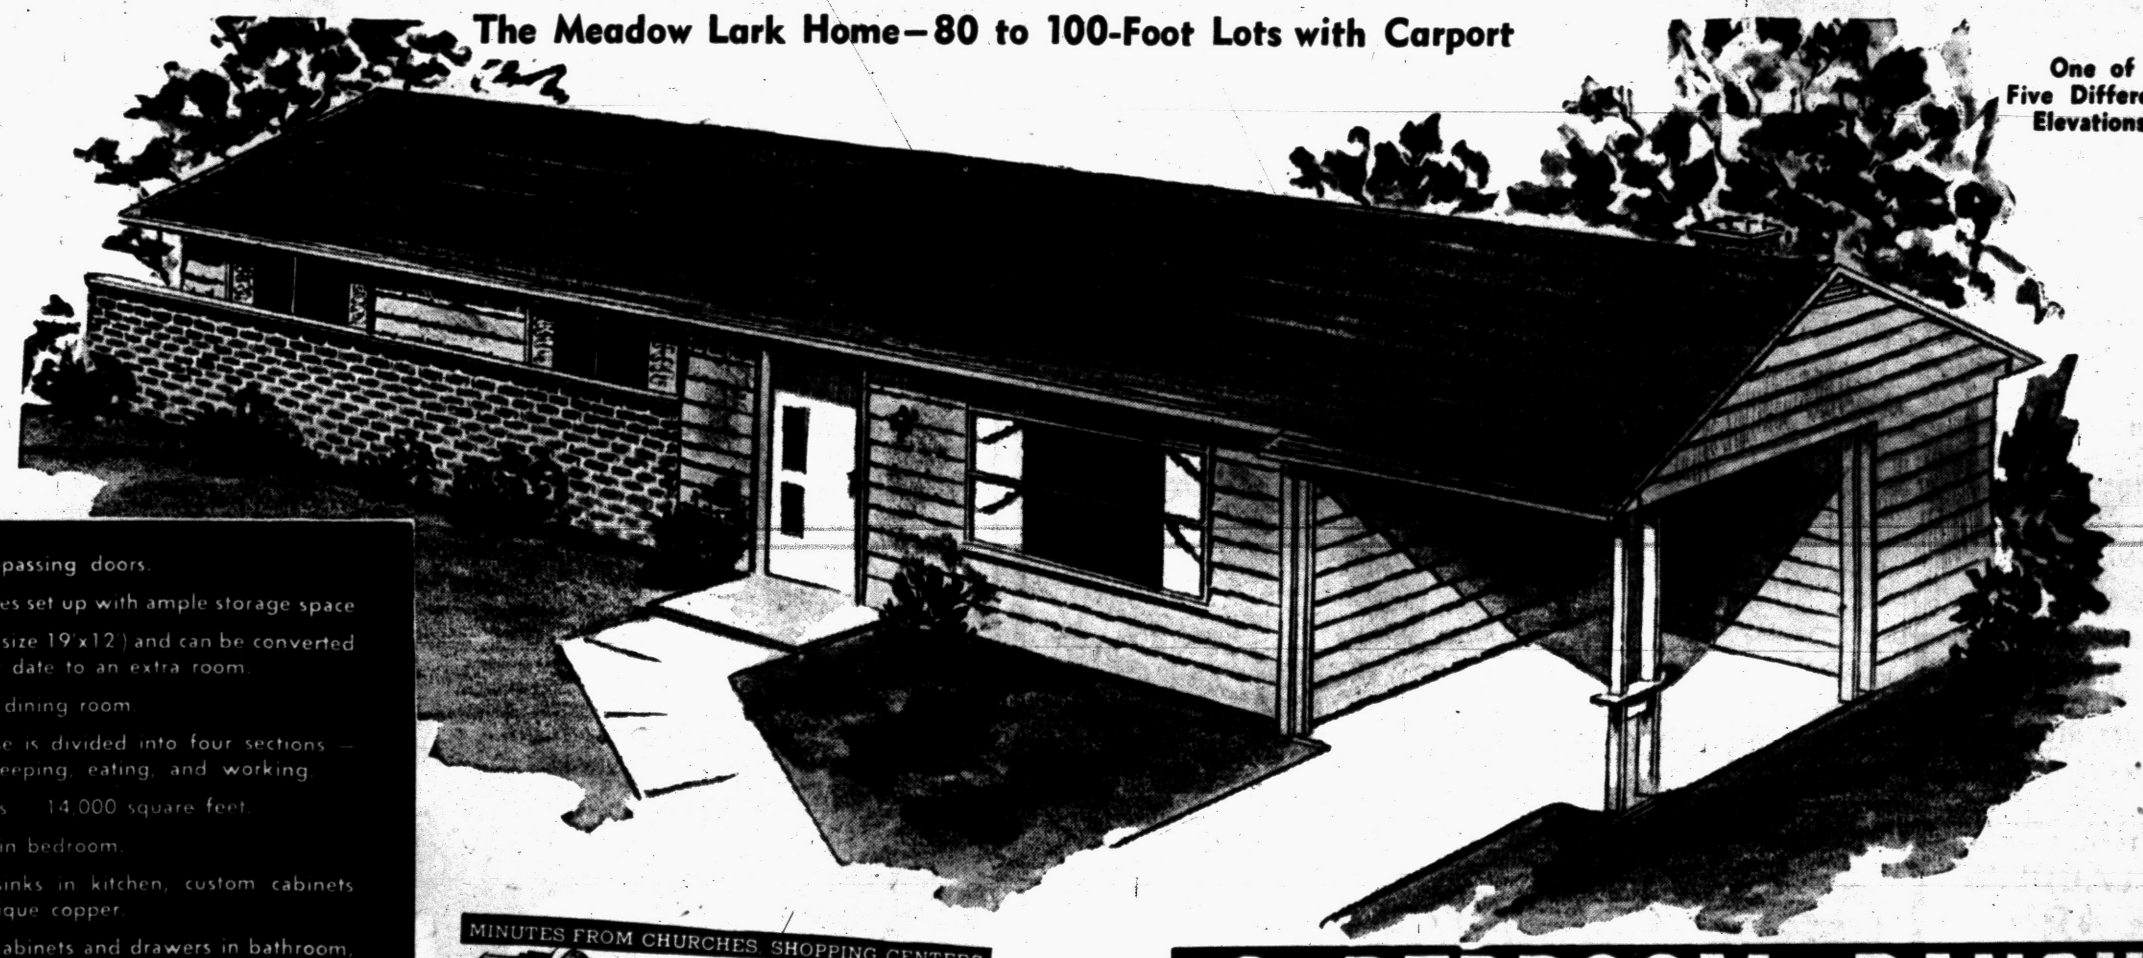

If a large capacity electric heater is plugged into a single 15-amphere circuit, common in most homes, no other appliance can be connected without blowing a fuse or tripping a circuit breaker.

According to one of the largest wire manufacturers, about 34 million homes have the minimum 15-ampere circuits. Wiring authorities consider this inadequate to handle many of the new electric appliances now on the market.

They recommend that houses be wired with 20-ampere circuits, allowing up to 2,400 watts per circuit.

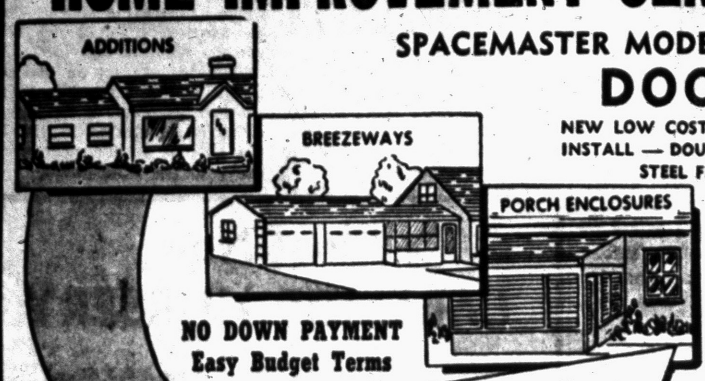

Clean Up Oil Stains

Fresh oil on a garage or workshop floor can be soaked up with a thin layer of dry cement. Let it stand overnight, then sweep off the excess with a stiff broom.

Low Roof 'Hugs' Ground

This three-bedroom ranch home has ceilings that follow the slope of the roof to give the illusion of greater size. Labeled "midwest contemporary" in architectural style, the house is Plan No. AB198, American Builder magazine, 79 W. Monroe, Chicago.

Door-high walls separate the kitchen from the dining-living area, furthering the sense of increased size. Bedroom and hall closets are placed at the center of the high point of the ceiling, thus providing additional storage space.

Vertical boards and face brick are used effectively on the exterior. Low roof lines make the house "hug" the ground. A newly developed application method makes it possible to cover low-slope roofs like this with asphalt shingles, giving the home-owner a wide choice of attractive colors. The amount of window area is extensive, in line with modern housing trends.

The modern appearance of the interior is heightened both by the unusual diagonal layout of the wall between kitchen and dining area, and by the open floor plan, which allows flexible arrangement of furniture.

The house plan calls for a full basement, half of which is devoted to heating and laundry equipment, the other half to free space which may be finished later on as a recreation room. There is also room for a fruit storage bin under the entrance vestibule.

(Detailed building plans are available from American Builder, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3. Refer to Plan No. AB198.)

Spring Cleaning Requires a System

Every homemaker has her own system of spring cleaning.

It usually starts with putting away winter wear and furnishings and getting out the lighter items for spring and summer.

But here's a note of caution: If you find yourself spending time cleaning in the kitchen and bathroom, something's amiss. Bath and kitchen, by rights, should never need a special spring cleaning.

A prideful homemaker knows they should be clean and sanitary right through the year. It's an easy job if the walls and floors are surfaced with an easily-cleaned material which comes bright and fresh with just a simple detergent and water.

Ounce of Prevention

If you fail to follow the best construction practices while you're building a new house you may end up by having a damp basement. Make sure that you have proper drainage, that membranous waterproofing is sealed to all exterior walls and that there is rammed oakum and hot bitumen in the joints between floor and walls.

Sanding Is Important

Sanding is one of the most important phases of floor finishing. The finest finish you can buy will not make a poorly sanded floor look like anything but a poorly sanded floor.

Some Rules for Windows

Research Shows Glass Should Cover More Than 20 Per Cent

How much window space would you allow for each room in planning or modernizing a home?

Most building codes accept not less than 10 per cent of the area of a room as the area for windows. But research shows that glass areas should be more than double that amount for proper lighting.

Because windows can affect your comfort both physically and psychologically, the University of Illinois Small Homes Council has worked out a set of new rules to be applied to windows in an ideal house.

"Provide glass areas in excess of 20 per cent of the floor area of each room." That is the first rule. And the experts suggest that much more is desirable, especially for cloudy days.

"Place the principal window areas toward the south except in warm climates where a northern orientation will limit heat from the sun." This rule is based on the fact that the south sky is the brightest. Direct sunlight can also be controlled easier on the south than on the east and west.

"Windows in more than one wall of a room give more effective daylighting than windows in just one wall." Also one large window provides a better distribution of light than the same amount of space devoted to separate windows with dark areas between them.

Extending window heights as close to the ceiling as possible lengthens the depth of light penetration into a room.

Draperies, curtains and other window hangings should be placed above the head of a window and to the sides of the frame to free the entire glass area for light. "Dark, heavy draperies hung over the sides and top of a window can reduce the available daylight by 75 per cent," the experts found. "The practice of pulling window shades one-fourth or one-half way down results in loss of light in the rear of the room where it is needed the most."

When it comes to ventilation, the research showed that more than 10 per cent of the floor area of a room should be matched with windows that open.

"Screen only those parts of the window that open for ventilation," the council advises.

SWANK LOCK—New cylindrical locks with the keyhole in the doorknob are bringing new designs in escutcheons. This Dallas star is one of the latest styles in quality hardware. It can be placed even in the center of a door.

Water Softener Now Standard in Many Homes

Water softeners are becoming standard equipment in many modern homes. In hard water areas, these units have been found to pay for themselves in savings in soap and detergents.

The Water Conditioning Foundation reports that in a typical area where water is moderately hard, as much as 1½ pounds of soap may be destroyed for every 100 gallons of water used in bathing, laundering and house cleaning.

When soap is added to hard water, a certain amount of the soap is used up in taking the hardness out of the water. This is so much lost soap as far as washing effectiveness is concerned.

An objectionable by-product of soap in hard water is the familiar soap scum which shows up as a ring in the bathtub, a dull film on freshly washed silver and glassware and a gray cast on laundered linen.

In many communities water softeners are rented by the month from established service organizations.

Keeping New Doors From Warping

Proper care is required to keep new doors from warping. Under the standard guaranty of the National Woodwork Manufacturers Assn., paneled doors of ponderosa pine are warranted against a warp or twist of more than ¼-inch upon delivery.

To maintain that standard, this treatment is recommended:

(1) Store doors only in a dry room—never in a new building where plaster is wet. (2) Apply a primer coat immediately after delivery. (3) Never cut a lock mortise deeper than within one inch from the inside edge of a door stile. (4) Give the top and bottom edges of a door at least two coats of paint or varnish immediately after the door has been fitted.

Color Runs Rampant in Modern Home

The American home is ablaze with color. And in spite of the lavish use of white, the flame will not be quenched. It has raced from bathroom to living room and now to kitchen and bedroom. It has captured the imagination of the conservative.

Kitchen appliances make their debut in every hue from torquoise to wood brown. And rumor has it that small appliances will follow suit shortly.

Plumbing fixtures in lollipop colors have brought the rainbow to the bathroom where no color seems to be too gay or too glamorous. It has glorified pumpkin, flaunted purple, played up metallics.

Bedrooms are reveling in painted furniture—pink, blue, green and believe it or not, flame red. Black and white furniture with spatterdash jet and gold lends to the Hollywood setting now apparent in the average home.

Every period and furniture style seems to be in vogue at the moment. Even a dreary wood like mission oak is revived with a mat paint finish of white, pink, blue, yellow to serve as an accent piece in any room whether its lines are English, Spanish or early 20th Century. Old Jacobean pieces of heavy carved oak are being resurrected from the cellar or bought for a song at auctions and perked up with white, Ajuga blue or Comanche red paint to become conversation pieces.

The Southern market loves upholstered pieces at the moment and this is a trend becoming nationally apparent, partly due to video viewing.

Lounge type chairs with foot sections that slip into place for cat naps or just lazy comfort are back in the living room. In the west there is a trend to modern design.

The East takes its contemporary furniture built for service. These days there is little of the modern that used to shriek of discomfort or impracticality. Bureaus have drawers of various sizes—some deep enough for hats and purses, others shallow for holding gloves, belts, scarves, stockings.

Even the well-heeled choose antiques today with an eye for color. directoire dining chairs are likely to sport new backs and seats of lemon, red or torquoise leather. Hepplewhite and Sheraton, favorites of small homes and apartment owners, are being used with black and colorful lacquered accent pieces. Chippendale is still the darling of those who can afford it and have the space to play it up.

Redwood and white birch are popular in the West (and the hardware is sometimes massive—huge drawer pulls of pewster, silver, copper.)

Rattan is becoming increasingly popular because it goes so well with all the colors now being tossed about the house. A new knockdown group offers five semi-finished pieces of hickory and rattan for outdoors.

All painted furniture is popular, and this includes primitive furniture popular with young people who want it as-is—faded, worn, whether hand painted or stenciled.

Shower - Over - Tub

Almost every new residential home built today has the shower-over-tub combination in the bathroom. The use of a handsome yet really waterproof material is definitely needed in these modern installations. That's why durable tile is most often used in residential homes of quality. Practical as well as decorative, waterproof tile is a permanent installation that's easy to keep clean.

22 Family Guinea Pigs

Air Conditioning Marches Into Low-Cost Homes

Keep your shirt on if you want to keep your house cool economically. Everybody seems to agree that air conditioning is wonderful. But few people realize that one of the most severe tests ever given to an industry is now being completed with 22 families as guinea pigs to demonstrate the virtues, faults, economy and luxury of air conditioning.

This test means a lot to all home owners who do not have year-round central air conditioning. It is a good stunt being put on in an air conditioned village at Austin, Tex. Different air conditioning plants were installed in each of the 22 houses, which were built and sold by Austin builders for about $15,000 each.

The buyers agreed to play ball by keeping books on costs and memos on how they liked air conditioning. The houses represent a wide variety: frame and masonry as well as combinations of the two; two bathrooms in 18 homes and 1½ baths in four; double carports or two-car garages. In many of the houses thermostatically controlled exhaust fans were installed in the attics to suck out hot air and ease the load on the air conditioning equipment.

So far the upshot has been that all but one of the owners are satisfied with air conditioned comforts; 14 are happy with the humidity maintained, but operation costs are running higher than anticipated.

Well, it's hot as Texas in Austin and summer cooking is as important in this region as comfortable winter heating in Duluth or Bangor. But when the first reports on the Austin research were announced at the January convention in Chicago of the National Assn. of Home Builders, sponsors of the everyone could keep their tempers so well air conditioned. Builders blamed the air conditioning manufacturers and the manufacturers blamed the architects.

Events have now reached a point where Business Week, commenting on the experiment under a headline "Air Conditioned Homes Getting Closer, But—" concludes such homes "are within the reach of persons of moderate means, but installation charges must be reduced and service facilities improved."

Obviously, everybody is going to benefit from the Austin test, but the growing pains are interesting. The guinea pig families report in surveys that they sleep better, eat better, eat heavier foods, cook more, bake more, enjoy better health, children are peppier (!) and play indoors more; less sinus trouble; less dirt and dust in the house; family dispositions better; entertain more; stay home more; fewer picnics and movies; do more household work; serve more warm drinks.

However, the goal of $100 per year for operation seems to have been lost with a yearly cost approaching $120. This is based on Austin's rates of $1.62 per kilowatt hour for electricity, 25 cents per 1,000 gallons for water and 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas.

Noise from equipment was one of the complaints. "The builder can solve the noise problem in advance," one study concluded. "The cost of sound-deadening a closet varies from $20 to $45."

But one of the most interesting criticisms is leveled at the architects. "It is not good judgement," this report said, "to take any convenient house plan that happens to fit the lot physically and proceed with construction. Badly oriented windows provide the single largest source of heat gain."

As much as one ton in capacity of cooling equipment can be saved by a slight shift in orienting a house so that a large window area will be sheltered from direct sunlight.

Tricks Remove Old Coatings

There are several good tricks to know when you're removing an old finish on a curved surface or on ornamental carved sections.

First of all, of course, you apply paint and varnish remover to a small area and allow sufficient time for the old coating to soften. On flat surfaces, a broad-bladed putty knife will then serve as a satisfactory scraper. A wire brush can also be most helpful.

Steel wool is a great aid on curved surfaces. Sometimes, it's a good idea to attach a length of steel wool to the gummy side of wide adhesive tape, then pull the wool back and forth over the curving surface.

When you come to carvings, remember that steel wool on a lollipop stick or a meat skewer can help. Steel wool entwined with a piece of strong cord can be most helpful on spindles, too.

After you've taken off the old coating entirely, be sure to remove all traces of the remover by rubbing the surface with medium-fine steel wool, moistened with mineral spirits. Allow the surface to dry overnight before refinishing.

Home Repair Dos – Don'ts

PAINTING A CEILING

Do . . . paint the ceiling before the walls, working across the width of the room rather than the length.

Do . . . remove any old calcimine with a sponge and warm water, since paint cannot be applied oven calcimine with good results.

Do . . . run masking tape along the walls at the ceiling line, especially when only the ceiling is to be painted.

Do . . . use some kind of sturdy scaffolding arrangement, such as two stepladders with a strong plank between them.

Do . . . whether using a brush or roller, avoid paint-overloading, which will prevent a smooth job as well as cause dripping.

* * *

Don't . . . keep the container of paint on the scaffold in front of you or you're liable to knock it over.

Don't . . . neglect to give any patches in a plaster ceiling a coat of sealer before starting to paint.

Don't . . . forget that taking the screws out of the ceiling fixture and dropping it a little will enable you to do a neater job.

Don't . . . think that by being extra careful, you can avoid getting a few drops of paint on furnishings; two or three inexpensive drop cloths should be used to cover anything which can't be moved out of the way.

Don't . . . overlook the possible use of special extension handles, which can be attached to either rollers or brushes and enable the major part of the ceiling to be painted while you are standing on the floor.

Handy Potting Table Eases Garden Work

Gardeners who grow plants from seed or are interested in house plants should have a handy potting table where work can be done sitting down, home demonstration agents advise. Covering the table with asbestos-cement board, a material that is not damaged by contact with soil, will give the table an easy-to-clean surface and protect it against rotting.

Curtains will slide on the rod faster if you put a small piece of adhesive tape over the end of the rod.

'Something Dull Something Bright'

When you're planning to repaint a room and are considering various color schemes remember that every scheme needs the contrast of "something dull, something bright, something dark and something light."

First, pick the colors for your walls and floor coverings because they're the biggest areas of color. Floor coverings are often the dull or dark color. Walls may be painted dark or light. Colors for your draperies, upholstery and slip covers can be dull, dark, or light. Finally, choose one bright color for accents.

Stick to three colors in your floor covering, walls, furniture and draperies. Add dashes of a single bright color. Don't be afraid to repeat the same colors over and over. Repetition ties your room together.

Bamboo and wicker highlight this streamlined kitchen. A collection of wicker baskets gives added storage space. Copper and brass utensils hang from three bamboo poles over counter, and drawer and cabinet handles are brass. Counter top is Capri blue Kenflor vinyl material which matches the floor tiles surrounding the broad crossbands of white tweed tiles, both set off by white and yellow feature strips and green and white ivy theme-tiles. Wicker plant baskets, bamboo window and under-sink curtains, a bamboo teacart and serving trays all emphasize the rich decor.

Terrace Solves Grass Problem

Built of Quarry Tile, Outdoor Patio Can Be Beautiful

The man who doesn't let any grass grow under his feet in business can be pretty unhappy when none of it will grow in his back yard, either.

Many a homeowner struggles to get a backyard lawn to grow, and the struggles later to keep it in shape. That situation, in a nutshell, is one of the great reasons for the popularity of terraces.

A terrace does not eliminate a lawn completely, but it can cut it down to manageable proportions and give a fellow a chance to enjoy some weekend and early evening leisure. But, for the unwary a terrace can cause some headaches too, so here are some planning hints:

Build the terrace of permanent materials, so that it won't need continual repair. One of the most satisfactory is quarry tile, which will not be damaged by frost and will dry off quickly after a rain. The pleasant reddish brown of quarry tile blends well with the greens and browns in nature.

Give a lot of thought to the location of the terrace. If your lot is small, keep it to the edge so that the center will be open and the space seem larger. A terrace off the living room picture window will make the interior of the house seem larger.

Don't overlook the need for shade. If you can't locate the terrace by a good shade tree, plant a small one now and use a trellis or beach umbrella for shade until the tree can take over.

Furnish the terrace carefully. You'll spend a lot of hours on it, and you'll undoubtedly entertain there. You can ruin the appearance of even a fine terrace by junking it up with miscellaneous chairs and benches. Better a few inexpensive pieces that go well together and complement your home.

Electrical Company Opens New Business

GRANGOOD McDONALD

A new electrical business has been opened at 1472 Baldwin Ave., Pontiac, by two men who have more than 15 years of experience in the commercial and industrial electrical installation and maintenance field.

Edwin E. Grangood of Williams Lake and Harry McDonald of Pine Lake have founded the G and M Electrical Contracting Co.

The Antarctic continent covers 6,000,000 square miles, but only one-third of it has been seen by human eyes.

Excessive Moisture Must Be Controlled

There are three general sources of moisture which may cause trouble in the home. These are the areas inside the home, the underside of the structure and the outside.

There are three ways to control excessive moisture. You can eliminate the moisture at its source, you can isolate it to prevent its entrance into areas where it may cause trouble and you can ventilate the excess moisture, thus exchanging humid indoor air with dryer outdoor air.

A Safety Paint

Non-skid paint, containing an abrasive such as pumice stone, can be used to prevent slips on steps and cellar stairs. It was developed to prevent crewmen from slipping inside military tanks and is now widely used in industrial plants.

It has been a long time since the gas lamp but lighting designers haven't been fast asleep. Over all the world unique fixtures are taking the place of outmoded types in size, design, color, utility as shown in the recent International Lighting and Design Competition held at Los Angeles. More than 450 lighting fixtures were shown. These are gay and smart enough to be conversation pieces.

Sweden's entry in design competition is this ceiling fixture of six bell lamps all in different colors, adjustable to any length.

The new look in lighting fixtures exhibited at the Los Angeles International Lighting and Design Competition is illustrated (left) by an exhibit from Rome, Italy. It is called "carousel," has circles of black, white or bright colored metal on brass arms and (right) from England this wall bracket fixture with four cones in different colors.

Flint Youth Designs Homes

Jimmy Litten, 16 Years, Wins First Prizes in Model Contests

FLINT, Mich. (UP) — If 16-year-old James M. Litten (of 2491 S. Dye Rd.) has his way, homes of the future will make more extensive use of glass.

And someday Jimmy Litten may have his way.

The Flint Dye High School junior has already won the Flint area model home building contest for high school students sponsored by the Flint Association of Home Builders, and finished first in the state contest held in the recent Detroit home show.

In both contests young Litten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Litten, won a $100 first prize. Next, his model home goes to Washington to compete for the national grand prize of $500 and an all-expense trip to Chicago.

* * *

"All new homes should have more glass in them," the young designer said today. "It's a good, substantial building material that gives a house a neat appearance and does wonders for the lighting problem."

Litten has been designing and building model homes since he was 14, and now has a part-time job building scale models of actual houses being constructed by a Flint contractor.

The slim, bespectacled youth hopes to make architecture and contracting a life-time career.

"I hadn't given housing layouts a second look until our drafting teacher at school required each student to build a model house," he says. "Then I became so interested in it that I've been drawing designs and making scale models for two years.

"Some people say my designs are too radical, but someday my houses will be the kind these people will be living in."

* * *

Litten's Michigan prize-winner was a six-room model with a flat roof. The living room incorporated a sloping, 12-foot ceiling — and a lot of glass.

Last year another of Litten's models won first prize in the Flint contest and second in the state, and was among the top 10 nationally.

He is taking a college preparatory course in high school and hopes to study architecture at Jones University in South Carolina after he graduates next year.

* * *

Like other model builders, the boy uses Balsa wood, sandpaper, cellophane and glue as his major "construction" materials.

"There's only one bad thing about building model houses in my own home," the youth says. "My folks make me clean up the mess when I'm through."

Detergent Is Best for Cleaning Tile

Soap is not recommended for cleaning tile work in a bathroom. In hard water areas, the combination of the soap and water can form an insoluble film on the tile work. A water softening detergent in warm water is more successful.

Joints between tiles can be kept clean by scrubbing with a fiber brush. Some tile men recommend the use of lemon oil to prevent mildew and keep tilework sparkling.

Twin Bill at Ann Arbor to Fix Big Ten's Leader

ANN ARBOR—Ann Arbor was the Big Ten's baseball capital today with Michigan and Minnesota fighting for the lead and the favorite's role for the title.

* * *

The Wolverines and Gophers, tied at the top at 6-1 each, met in a doubleheader.

The two stayed neck and neck by winning yesterday, Michigan over Iowa, 4-2, after going hitless for six innings and Minnesota over Michigan State, 3-0, on pitcher Ron Craven's three-run homer. Michigan had to muster a three-run 8th inning rally to nose out Iowa as three Wolverine sophomores held the Hawkeyes to seven hits.

Moby Benedict's home run with a man on was Michigan's big punch in the 8th. In the 7th Danny Cline had singled for the 1st hit off Iowa's Bill Schoof and came around on Ken Tippery's single and a fly.

Sophs Don Poloskey, Jim Clark and Bill Thurston shared the Wolverine pitching.

Pitcher Craven broke up the Minnesota-Michigan State game at 390-foot homer over the center field fence with two men on base in the 3rd.

Michigan State plays a doubleheader with Iowa at East Lansing today.

PHS Overpowers SVC Foes for 1st Track Title

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

SAGINAW—Like the conquering Roman legions of old, Pontiac High School's victorious track squad yesterday afternoon and night piled up another tremendous success.

Chief thinclads invaded Arthur Hill's fine field and when the tests of athletic skill, speed and stamina were concluded emerged with their 1st Saginaw Valley Conference track championship. Pontiac simply overpowered the field of five other Valley schools to compile a top-heavy 69, and 7-10 total.

This figure compares very well with the scores of the six other meets of the year—all of which have been fine victories. It was equal to the combined counts of Flint Northern in the runnerup spot and Saginaw High, 3rd place team 35 1/10 and 34).

Other team scores included:

Bay City 25 and 3-4; Arthur Hill 20 and 3-5 and Flint Central 16.

Pontiac's victory was one of balanced power. Chiefs scored in every event but the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. They collected seven 1sts, six 2nds, three 3rds, and two tied for 3rd in another event, two tied for 4th and two placed 5th.

The PHS powerhouse set one new record and equalled another. New mark was hung up in the medley relay by Archie Brooks, E. J. Harris, Charley Spann and Jim Shorter, running in that order. The 2:31.7 mark erased Flint Northern's 2:33, set in 1952.

Hayes Jones, who has made specialty of collecting 15 points each meet (and did it again Friday), equalled the high hurdles record at 14.9 seconds to collect 14 points.

Heaviest point concentrations for the Chiefs were in the high jump, where they piled up 13 markers with four out of five places, led by Hudson Ray's 6-foot leap. One other meet record was equalled in a special trial by Jerry Hamling, Bay City vaulter. Hamling won the event at 11 feet 6 inches, then cleared 12 feet. Pontiac's Ted Munger surprised by taking 2nd place.

Jones was an easy winner in the high sticks, while Willie Wilson took the low barriers with Hayes right on his heels, and both far in front of Saginaw's Bill Chesney.

Two redhot finishes were put on by Pontiac runners. Probably the most spectacular was the great try Rod Treais made in the 2nd section of the half mile. Trailing in 5th position going into the final turn Rod put on the pressure, ran the last 100 like a sprinter and was within a half step of edging Arthur Hill's Bill Hartle, the winner.

Bill Douglas was the class of the field in the other section, taking a cleancut win over Abe Huerta of Saginaw in the good time of 2:06.45.

PHS coaches were pleased with the final victory, the half mile relay, won in 1:33.9. A driving finish in which Charley Spann had to come from behind to overtake and beat Bay City's Willie Smith in the last few yards had the fans on their feet.

Pontiac's coaches were delighted. Wally Schloerke, head coach, declared that it was just another demonstration of great team spirit, and a burning desire to go all out in every event.

"This was the big 7th," Schloerke pointed out. "Now we will have to keep our desire for victory in the MHSAA regional at Ypsilanti, next Saturday and the biggest test of them all—the state meet at Lansing, the following weekend." All PHS coaches had nothing but praise for the grand job the fine squad turned in.

Flint Northern threatened for a time, but when Douglas grabbed the 1st half mile section it was all over. Chiefs then had 55 and 3-4 points to Vikings' 35. All the rest of the points Pontiac piled up were "velvet."

VICTORY COGS — Three of the important cogs in the PHS track "machine" that Friday ground out its 7th straight victory, winning the Saginaw Valley conference crown for the 1st time. Above is Charley Spann, anchor man in the half-mile relay that closed the meet. Spann came from behind at the last baton station to win. It gave the Chiefs their final points for a 69 and 7-10 total. At right above is Bill Douglas, who won the 1st half mile run with a great final burst of speed, and at right is the "Mr. Consistent Scorer," Hayes Jones, who equalled the SVC record of 14.9 seconds for the high hurdles.

Harper Holds 7-Stroke Edge in Texas Test

Posts 5-Under Par 65 Friday to Go With a 1st Round 69

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP)—The only thing Chandler Harper had to worry about in the third round of the $25,000 Colonial Invitation Golf Tournament today was blowing a seven-stroke lead.

He was worrying, too.

"I've never had a lead this big before," he said yesterday after posting a 5-under-par 65 to go with a first round 69 for a course record-equaling 134 total.

"Now I've got worry about blowing it, I know I could do that, too."

If the balding, 41-year-old former National PGA champion plays anywhere near like his first two rounds today and tomorrow he can quit worrying.

Hoping desperately to catch up with Harper or at least get within shooting distance of that $5,000 first prize money were three players at 141.

Ben Hogan, pre-tournament favorite to take his fifth Colonial Tournament, was bracketed at 145.

Johnny Palmer had a 74 for a 144 total.

Antonio Cerda of Buenos Aires, Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, and Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., were tied for second. Cerda turned in yesterday's second lowest score, 67, Boros, Finsterwald, Jack Burke and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., all had two-underpar 69s over the par 35-35—70, 7,035 yard course. Burke had a 36-hole total of 142, and Ford a 146.

Classiest shot of the day came by veteran Harry Todd of Dallas. He chalked up an eagle on No. 9 from 120 yards out when his approach shot homed into the cup like a pigeon late for supper.

Grouped with Burke at 142 were Jack Fleck, Davenport, Iowa., who had a 72, and Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill., who posted a 71.

Five players were tied at 143, including Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex., the one-time master of all pro golf's tournaments and now semi-retired.

Old Bengal Virgil Trucks Beats Tigers by 1-0 Count

CHICAGO (AP) — Virgil (Fire) Trucks still remembers the day the Detroit Tigers decided he was washed up and peddled him into what they thought would be oblivion with the St. Louis Browns.

That was back in 1952 after the fireballing righthander had finished a dismal 5-19 season for the Tigers.

But last night against the fuzzy cheeked 1955 edition of the Tigers the veteran hurler, now with the Chicago White Sox, flashed his finest form, allowing only two singles in a brilliant 1-0 triumph.

For Trucks it was an especially happy night. A 19-game winner last season, he had been hit hard in his other three starts this spring and had only a 1-2 record going into last night's contest.

Tigers were just what he needed. For 5⅔ innings the erstwhile league leaders couldn't hit a ball out of the infield. Then Al Kaline spoiled the no-hit bid with a sharp single to left. Only other safety was a single through the box by Bill Tuttle after two were out in the 7th.

Ned Garver suffered the loss which dropped the Tigers a full game behind 1st place Cleveland.

Catcher Sherm Lollar opened the 7th for the White Sox with a double, one of the two Chicago extra base hits. Ed McGhee was sent in to run for him and Trucks laid down a bunt. Garver fielded it but in trying for McGhee at 3rd he fired into left field and the pinch runner scooted home.

Following a day game in Chicago today Tigers play a doubleheader with the White Sox tomorrow and then head for their 1st eastern swing.

Score, Turley Threaten Bob Feller's Mark

Tribe Ace Whiffs 10 in 3-Hitter; Yankee Fans 13 in 2-Hitter

The Associated Press

The way Herb Score and Bob Turley have American League batters fanning the breeze these days, it may be that Bobby Feller's strikeout record will have to dust off and keep an eye on its first real challenge.

* * *

Feller's achievement is a phantom that's never been chased, unlike Babe Ruth's home run record that has had to assert itself practically every year. Those 348 strikeouts Bobby whipped home in 1946 haven't even bothered to sneer at recent totals.

Robin Roberts' 198 strikeouts in 1953 were the closest anyone ever came to Feller's mark.

Now come Highballin' Herb and Bullet Bob.

* * *

Score, the 20-year-old lefty Cleveland's Indians have touted as a southpaw Feller, actually is ahead of Feller's pace. After his first five appearances in '46, Feller had whiffed 48. Score after five games has fanned 50.

Turley, at the same five-game milestone, has struck out 46.

Both Score and Turley, the 24-year-old righthander of the New York Yankees, are a bit ahead of Feller's season-long average of eight strikeouts per nine innings.

* * *

Turley picked up ground on Score yesterday, fanning 13 in a two-hit, 6-0 victory over Boston. Score set down 10 in a three-hit, 4-1 success against Kansas City.

In other AL games, Virgil Trucks two-hit Detroit for a 1-0 Chicago victory while Washington edged Baltimore 2-1.

* * *

In the National, Brooklyn remained a winner, beating Philadelphia 6-4 in 12 innings; Pittsburgh made it six straight, 3-2 over New York; Cincinnati beat Chicago 4-2 and Milwaukee beat St. Louis 8-5.

From Doghouse to Hero, Newcombe Role

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—From doghouse to Dodger hero in 36 hours is the story of Don Newcombe, but the hulking Brooklyn pitcher is $300 or more poorer for it.

There was no indication that the 235-pound righthander's penalty for insubordination would be lightened because of his sparkling two-inning relief job last night which helped the Dodgers to a 6-4 12th inning victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

FRIDAY'S HOME RUNS

Mantle, Hunter, Yankees; Majeski, Pope, Indians; Burgess, Redlegs; Chiti, Cubs; Virdon, Repulski, Cards; Amoros, Dodgers; Greengrass, Phils.

Skippers Spill Leading I-L 9

Southfield, with a big assist from Waterford, got back into a tie for 1st place in the Inter-Lakes baseball league Friday by tripping Farmington, 8-6.

Waterford bounced back into a contender's role by lacing the previously unbeaten league-leading Berkley club, 11-2.

Dave Freeman's Skippers scored four runs in the 2nd inning and added 6 in the 5th frame to salt away the game at Berkley. Jerry Harnack drove in 6 runs, including a long home run in the 2nd which followed Ron Kind's double and a walk.

Harnack also chased home 2 runs with a single and another with a sacrifice fly. Steve Kebler pitched 6-hit ball, fanning 9 while walking 7.

Southfield came from behind to tie the score at 6-6 on Don Collier's triple, then broke the deadlock in the 6th inning when John Moilanes tripled behind singles by Bob Evans and Sam Manderachia. Dick Covera hurled 1-hit relief ball for 4 2-3 innings.

Walled Lake pulled into a 4th place tie with Van Dyke by beating the Abes, 11-5. Niles Freeland's Vikings came up with 9 runs on 7 hits in the 5th inning, climaxed by Phil Hunter's homer. Jim Lowery had 3-for-3 for Walled Lake and shortstop Larry Dion came up with a rally-killing fielding play in the final frame.

Area's Auto Racing Swings Into Action This Weekend

Auto racing in Pontiac and the Oakland County area starts Sunday with the season opening of the Pontiac Speedway.

A 9-event program, sanctioned by the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, will get under way with time trials at 12:30 p.m. and the first race at 2:30. A number of top-notch driveres are expected for the sportsman's hardtop competition.

Double points (in feature and semi-final events) are awarded on the opening program towards the NASCAR track, state and national championships. The quarter-mile dirt oval is reported in good shape by manager Don Pike.

A 25-lap feature headlines the opening show and is supported by a 15-lap semi, a 10-lap pursuit, the usual heat races and a 4-lap dash for the day's four fastest qualifiers.

Jack Conley of Brighton, who won the opening day feature at Flat Rock Speedway last week in great style, has been installed as the favorite on the basis of his Flat Rock showing.

The track, located three miles west of the Pontiac Airport on M59, also has a new flagman this season in Phil Ragatz of Waterford, a driver at the track last year.

Pike has invited any Land o' Lakes Racing Assn. drivers to compete in Sunday's races. The 2nd show is slated Sunday, May 15. Old model stocks will run thereafter on Wednesdays, with hardtops going Sundays.

Easy Win for Clarkston Team

Clarkston High's track team hardly worked up a sweat in winning its final tuneup for Tuesday's Wayne-Oakland League meet by routing Holly, 100-9 on the Wolves' track Friday. Another W-O entry, West Bloomfield, slipped by Melvindale, 55 1-3 to 53 2-3.

In other meets, Southfield, which may make its presence felt in the upcoming Inter-Lakes Conference meet, dumped Roseville of the Oakland-B, 67 1-6 to 42 5-6, and Cranbrook's fine aggregation drubbed Rochester, 75 2-3 to 33 1-3.

Clarkston swept all first in its meet and all seconds except the high hurdles. Gordon Campbell led the parade with firsts in both hurdles and ties for first in the high jump and pole vault.

Gary Rogers gave Keego its victory margin by winning the broad jump, final event on the program. He also took both hurdle events. Bob Quirk highlighted Southfield's win by setting a new school record in the shot put with a 47-foot, 3¾-inch toss. It is better than the existing Inter-Lakes record.

Shamrocks, Eaglets Battle for 1st Place

Orchard Lake St. Mary and St. Michael of Pontiac will clash at Orchard Lake Monday afternoon in a showdown battle for 1st place in the Suburban Catholic League baseball race.

League-leading St. Mary is undefeated in four games, while St. Mike's nine has three wins against a single loss.

Pontiac's other SCL member, St. Frederick, will face Ferndale St. James, also on Monday, at Columbia-Joslyn south field.

NY Official Wants to Locate Martinez

NEW YORK (AP)—What ever happened to Vince Martinez, the handsome young welterweight from Paterson, N.J.?

Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, wants to know, too. He opened a hearing yesterday to find out why the boxer has been idle since Dec. 10, 1954, following a prolonged dispute with his manager, Bill Daly.

Troy Victor on Links

Troy High golfers defeated Rochester over the Bald Mountain Golf Club course Friday, 347-381, with George Catto setting the pace on an 84. Bud Gladstone led Rochester with an 88. In a Thursday meet at Davisburg, Clarkston outscored Holly, 199-216. Rollie Harmes had 45 for the losers, while Bill Shanks' 46 led Clarkston.

Probe Possible Doping in 'Knockout' of Johnson

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Laboratory tests are expected to prove today whether Harold Johnson, No. 1 light-heavyweight title contender, was doped or the victim of a stupefying punch by Cuban heavyweight Julio Mederos at the Arena last night.

The 26-year-old Johnson, a 4-1 favorite, failed to answer the bell for the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder and Mederos was awarded a technical knockout victory. Johnson collapsed in his corner and had to be removed from the ring on a stretcher.

Alfred Klein, state athletic commissioner, told reporters that there was something "definitely mysterious about what happened to Johnson. The doctors believe he may have been drugged. We will conduct a thorough investigation," he announced.

Jimmy White, manager of Mederos, dismissed the dope talk as nonsense. White said his fighter belted Johnson groggy with a right hand at the bell ending the first round. Mederos, who lost a decision to Johnson in Miami last December, gained his 18th victory in 28 fights.

Johnson spent the night at Hahnemann Hospital where a blood test and urinalysis were performed. He is expected to be released today.

Jacks Near 2nd Crown With Win Over PHS

Saginaw Arthur Hill's defending champion tennis squad overwhelmed the Pontiac Chiefs, 7-0, in a SVC meet at Saginaw Friday afternoon. It was PHS' 2nd loss at the hands of the Lumberjacks this season.

Arthur Hill, undefeated and well on its way to another Valley title, won every match in straight sets. Two of the Chiefs were shut out.

Shamrocks Downed by OL Cindermen

Pontiac St. Michael's young track team bowed to St. Mary of Orchard Lake, 72-37, in a dual meet Friday afternoon at Wisner Field. It was St. Mary's 4th win in 10 meets, and St. Mike's 2nd reversal.

One St. Mary school record was broken and two Eaglets were double winners. Only consolation for the Mikes was Dan Dropps, whose win in the high jump and three 2nd places gave him 14 points, high for the meet.

Eaglets' Stan Majewski won in the 180-yard low hurdles in 21.5 seconds for a new school record. He also won the 120 highs. Other double winner was Gerry Leszczynski, who captured the 440 and broad jump, at 19 feet 7.

Shamrocks had one double victor. Mike Clever took the 100-yard dash and the 220.

Santee Shoots for Mile Mark

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Wes Santee, the lean Kansas cowboy who has come within a split second of the elusive 4-minute mile three times, plans an all-out attempt today to become the third human to break through the barrier.

Paced by his University of Kansas teammate, Art Dalzell, the 23-year-old Santee set his run for 3:05 p.m. (EST), during a dual track and field meet between Miami and Florida State Universities.

"Miami's warm weather is ideal," Santee said. "Everything depends on the wind. Any breeze over five miles an hour means a 4:05 mile or worse for me."

The Miami Weather Bureau forecast a temperature around 80 and variable breezes ranging from five to 12 miles an hour, but some of the wind will be screened off by a canvas covering the high fence around the track.

"We're going to go all out for a 4-minute mile," Santee said, "and if we're sharp we've got a chance."

The Miami cinders have been oiled and steamrollered. Santee said he had never run on such a track "but other runners have told me that such treatment makes a track springy and fast. We were impressed with it."

England's Roger Bannister broke the 4-minute mile mark for the first time May 6, 1954, but his record of 3:59.4 stood for just 15 days. Australia's John Landy was clocked at 3:58 on June 21. Since then, each man has beaten the 4-minute mark again, but no American has ever done it.

Santee has been clocked under 4:01 three times. He set the present American mark of 4:00.5 at the recent Texas Relays.

World Conditions Shaping Toward Peace This Week

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. The Federal Republic of Germany became a sovereign nation, and an ally of the free world, as the result of the ratification of the Paris treaties. It was a momentous defeat for Soviet Russia in the cold war. The occupation of West Germany, with its 50,000,000 people, by the United States, Great Britain and France formally ended.

The approximately 550,000 American, Canadian, British, French and Belgian troops in West Germany will remain as guests and partners in a common defense against Communist aggression. West Germany became a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and prepared to contribute to it a fighting force of 500,000 men.

2. Russia, having lost its desperate fight against West German armament, appeared prepared to sign a treaty to restore to Austria the sovereignty it lost when Nazi Germany seized it in 1938. In the treaty negotiations in Vienna, the Soviet delegation gave up its insistence on two important points. Allied authorities now hoped that the treaty might be signed, after years of Soviet obstruction, about mid-May.

Russia's motive in its apparent decision to sign the treaty was to try to sabotage West Germany's rearmament. The Kremlin would hold out hope to West Germans that they, too, could have a peace treaty and end the occupation of East Germany by Russian troops, if they would be neutral.

3. Military experts of the eight Southeast Asia Treaty Organization countries agreed upon a master defense plan to meet any Communist aggression in southeast Asia, the 10-day secret meeting of the experts was held in Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines.

Recommendations to be made by the experts, including defense of Thailand and the Indochinese states of South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, will be considered at a higher level meeting to be held in Bangkok, Thailand, June 6.

The Bad

1. The political crisis in South Viet Nam, which threatens to explode in open civil war, became even more tangled. For the moment, American-supported Premier Ngo Dinh Diem maintained supremacy over the rebellious political-religious sects. But Diem's own supporters split over a new issue—whether to depose playboy chief of state Bao Dai, who was sitting out the crisis on the French Riviera.

2. It was announced that delegates of Soviet Russia and its European satellites would meet in Warsaw, Poland, next Wednesday to establish a "unified military command." This was Russia's first retort to West Germany's entrance to the North Atlantic alliance. The Communists also intensified their threats to West Berlin, hinting at at blockade.

3. The Himalayan Mountain kingdom of Afghanistan announced it was mobilizing because of a dispute with Pakistan over a big tribal area on their frontier. A conflict between the two countries could only benefit Soviet Russia, which adjoins Afghanistan on the north.

Two City Slickers Join Rush for Uranium Ore

NEW YORK (UP) — The uranium rush is in full Geiger-click, folks. Even the city slickers and wolves are donning prospector's clothing.

Two young men who have no idea how to use a compass, who never have hunted game, and never roughed it except in the concrete jungles of Brooklyn and the Bronx, set a course across the Hudson River yesterday and into the wilds of Canada to moil for a fortune in radio-activity.

One gave up a job with Arthur Murray teaching dancing in a hurry. The other gave up a career as a wallpaper salesman, which he got into after stints as a sunglasses huckster on street corners and a pitchman for a girlie show.

Both had $150-a-week jobs. Against the opposition of their parents, they have pooled their savings, total $2,500, and are "going for broke." If they don't strike uranium, you may hear of a combination dancing school and sunglass emporoium being set up in the Yukon.

The lure of uranium—as of gold before it—is a simple one. The dancing instructor, Earnest Giannone, 25, of Brooklyn, explained it this way:

"I don't want to have to have a life of rat chasing. I want one thing in life: To be a millionaire."

Arthur J. Rand, 28, of the Bronx, the former pitchman, said he was voted "most likely to succeed" in James Monroe High School class of 1944, and he wants to live up to his year-book billing.

"We've got an awful lot to learn," Rand said. "We're city slickers going in to rough it in an area where there are other prospectors. I'd really be sorry if we struck it rich in one day. I wanta suffer."

They're shoving off for northern Saskatchewan, and points north and east of there, in a vintage 1942 jeep, heavily laden with outdoor frou-frou. Their equipment includes a "scintillation counter," which they say is 500 times more senstive than a Geiger counter.

They also have a tent, two sleeping bags, a Coleman stove, geologists' picks and axes, and a book on such things as compass use and claim staking.

They'll grubstake themselves to flour and bacon later, to supplement the wild game they hunt and cook. They have purchased two rifles for protection against bears, wolves, and other prospectors.

Both have been thinking about becoming prospectors for two or three years. Their appetites were whetted by numerous magazine stories about men who made huge fortunes overnight. They met through a mutual friend a month ago and immediately decided to pool funds and go.

Giannone, slim, with dark curly hair, whose professional dance-instructor name is "Gregory," said his father "at first thought I was completely crazy." He said his father relented when reminded that he himself had struck out from Italy for America at the age of 17.

Rand, a big, blue-eyed blond, said: "My family is mad. My father says I'm completely nuts."

They said they felt they might write a book on their adventures. "In English class," said Rand, "I used to write very rawr and realistic."

Card of Thanks 1

WITH DEEPEST APPRECIATION we thank our neighbors and friends for their many beautiful floral offerings, spiritual bouquets, cards of sympathy and other kindnesses. We especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Amshay for their continuous assistance, the pastors of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Particularly the Rev. M. J. Veryser for his inspiring consoling sermon, the Rev. Wm. J. Radamacher's, recitation of the Parish rosary, the Daughters of Isabella's group rosary and ritual for the Departed, Mr. Dominic Kline and Mr. Richard Miller for the music, the altar boys and the pall-bearers. We are sincerely grateful to Dr. John Hubert the consultants, interns, nurses, Sisters and Chaplain of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Schutt for their special courtesys. We shall remember always the final tribute to our mother, Margaret L. Hoffman, and the music and prayers in the chapel of memories at White Chapel Memorial Park.
Her children, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoffman, her grandchildren, Rosemary and Robert.

Beaver Trapper Getting Tired of Work at 86

IRONWOOD (UP) — John Kangas says he just isn't sure whether he will do any beaver trapping next year.

He's been doing it since 1903 and, as John puts it, "Im 86 now and I'm getting tired."

John, who makes his home at nearby Mass, trapped six beavers this season. Conservation officers say it isn't unusual to see him walking three miles from where he lives and checking his traps.

"But things aren't as good as they used to be," says John. "I've been trapping beavers every season since 1903 when I bought a license for $15 and could take 15 beavers on it.

"And then you could buy as many licenses as you wanted. That year I bought three licenses and took 45 beavers in all."

Even that wasn't John's first hunting venture. He began hunting deer in 1899 "when the fee was a dollar and you could shoot five deer.

"Got my buck last season, too," says John.

John says there are more deer now than there were in 1899, but that there were more bucks then.

Incidentally, he killed a 400-pound bear in his orchard last October.

Crosses Finish Line, but Without Vehicle

GARDENA, Calif. (UP)—At least C. K. Pearson tried.

Pearson's motorcycle hit a crash wall 10 feet from the finish line last night. He was catapulted high into the air and across the finish, but his motorcycle came down in a heap 10 feet short.

George Everett of Pasadena won the race. Pearson, a Riverside rider, finished a flying second, but since his motorcycle didn't cross the line he was disqualified and Jack Schlayman of Los Angeles got second money.

Cyclist in Crash Saved by Grabbing Truck Axel

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (UP)—Floyd Hayes, 21, was thrown under a truck when it and his motorcycle collided on a city street yesterday.

He told police he grabbed the front axle as he went under and "rode it to a stop."

Hayes was treated at a hospital for leg and hand injuries.

Inventor of Fishing Lure Victim of Own Ingenuity

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS) —Clarence Anderson invented a gadget that makes an artificial worm wiggle like a live one.

But ardent fisherman Anderson had this complaint to make:

"I'm so busy turning out the darn things I can't find time to go fishing."

A-Weapons for Ships

BATH, Maine (UP)—Adm. Robert B. Carney said today American destroyers will soon be armed with guided missiles and ultimately will be atomic-powered.

Do-It-Yourself Thief

DETROIT (UP)—Police today were investigating the barber shop theft of two electric clippers, a straight razor, a pair of hand clippers and a barber's gown. The price of haircuts in Detroit goes up from $1.50 to $1.75 next week.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LELIA C. Snell, who passed away May 8, 1954.
The shock was sudden, the pain severe. Little we thought that death was so near. Our heart still aches with sadness, our eyes shed many tears. God knows how much we miss you as this ends the first sad year.
Sadly missed by her Mother, Grandmother, Sister, brothers, Aunts & Uncles.

'Father Knows Best' Is Tops in Family Service

NEW YORK (INS) — The television-comedy of an everyday American family, "Father Knows Best," today was given the 1955 Family Service Television Award.

The Family Service Association of American, a federation of 260 Family Service agencies in 230 cities presented the award for "constructive portrayal of family life."

The program, which was carried weekly over 120 stations of the CBS-TV network, lost its sponsor and network at the end of March. Following nationwide protests, an other sponsor was obtained and the show returns to the air on August 31 over NBC-TV.

In Hollywood, Gen. Omar Bradley presented the TV award on behalf of the Family Service agencies, to Robert Young, Jane Wyatt and other members of the "Father Knows Best" cast.

He Takes the Cake

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (UP)—Mrs. Golda Knuth reported to police that her cafe was burglarized. She said she didn't miss anything but: A large bite had been taken out of a cake left on the counter.

Diving at his prey, a duck hawk often travels 180 miles an hour.

Auto Production Declines; GM Hits 1.5 Million

DETROIT (UP) — Ward's Automotive Reports noted a moderate decline in motor vehicle production in its weekly survey of the automotive industry.

The agency said this week's U.S. assemblies will include 179,365 cars and 31,160 trucks. Last week 184,279 cars and 32,350 trucks were made. In the corresponding 1954 week U. S. output consisted of 122,572 cars and 21,961 trucks.

Ward's attributed this week's decline to such factors as heat losses, mild labor disturbances and reduced Saturday scheduling. It reported that Willys car assembly has been temporarily halted, but that Kaiser car production has been resumed for the first time since June 30 last year.

Also noted was General Motors' production this week of its 1,500,000th U.S. car of the year.

Canadian plant output this week is set at 10,975 cars and 2,856 trucks. Last week 11,307 cars and 3,085 trucks were built in the dominion. In the corresponding 1954 week Canadian plants built 8,145 cars and 1,962 trucks.

About two million children in the U. S. have some degree of impaired hearing.

Attention TV Owners!
More and more people are daily finding out that it pays to call firms of this association for TV service. The following firms are pledged to charge you only for the service and parts that your TV equipment needs for satisfactory performance. Quality workmanship and parts are always cheapest in the long run.

State Game Experts Stumped by Auodad

SAGINAW (AP)—Game experts, inspecting the carcass of a strange-looking animal shot by a Saginaw man, puzzled over how an auodad or Barbary sheep — native to Africa — got to this area.

Louis H. Zanner of rural Saginaw shot the curly-horned, long haired sheep after it charged him near his cabin at Gladwin Tuesday night. He said he fired seven times before dropping the animal.

A taxidermist identified it as an auodad, which normally is found only in zoos in this country. He said the condition of its hooves indicated the animal had spent much time in captivity.

Conservation men said the animal may have fallen from a passing truck.

Pickets Keep Up Marches Before Miami Hotels

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Pickets continued to march at 10 plush oceanfront hotels here today but an oral court order barred them at two others.

Circuit Judge Pat Cannon yesterday granted temporary injunctions halting picketing at the Casa Blanca and Sea Isle Hotels. He said testimony showed that picketing at the two hotels was not peaceful.

* * *

Last Saturday three other circuit court judges refused to order picketing halted at seven other luxury hotels. Testimony in all nine cases was remarkably similar, court observers said.

Dave Herman, special recognition, called a strike at the Lombardy Hotel in what he said was "retaliation" for Judge Cannon's ruling.

In addition to the Lombardy, others being picketed are the Dilido, Saxony, Monte Carlo, Algiers, Sorrento, Sherry Frontenac, Roney Plaza, Sans Souci and Empress.

Longest home run on record was hit by Babe Ruth in 1919, in a baseball game between the Boston Red Sox and New York Giants in Tampa, Fla. The ball traveled 587 feet.

Bob Considine Says:

He Gets Key to City, Now He Needs Lock

BALTMORE (INS)—My father was born here 100 years ago June 1 and my mother, a lifelong Democrat who still wants to challenge Tom Dewey to a duel was born here 85 years ago come Sept. 17.

Neither was ever given a key to the city, so they emigrated to Washington, D. C., then a primordial swamp.

But one of their sons got the key Wednesday from the hands of the mayor, at the Hotel Emerson meeting of the Advertising Club of Baltimore. He plans to stay in Baltimore until he finds a lock it will fit. The son, not the mayor.

Baltiore has a remarkable mayor at that. Tommy D'Alesandro, son of an immigrant, moved back into office Tuesday with a 24,785 edge for his third four-year term.

He left school here in the sixth grade after accidentally decapitating a statue of St. Aloysius. As a non-voting honoraray citizen, I now urge him to do something about the magnificent $15,000,000 airport he was instrumental in building several years ago.

I urge him to let the airlines know that it is here. From most parts of the country, Baltimore is harder to reach by air than Calcutta. Most times of day you could spray a tommy gun around its ramps and waiting rooms and never wound a soul.

D'Alesandro's third win is a tremendous tribute to the man's personal popularity and the confidence the average Baltimorean has in him.

Two scandalous court trials involving a son (the son was acquitted both times) and distressing trouble elsewhere in his family sent the man off to the hospital for seven months leading up to the election.

But with his house in order once again, he has bounced back like a 30-to-1 shot winning at Laurel by 10 lengths. Actually, he has now run 22 times for public office and is batting 1.000.

This is the home of Lt. Col. Ulio Amoss, the retired Air Force intelligence officer who annoys and astounds the Pentagon and State Department from time to time by the clarity of the reports he receives from shrouded "operatives" behind the Iron Curtain.

He runs a kind of foreign Kiplinger letter. Several years back Amoss arranged for the free world to glom a Russian built MIG15.

The whole bill, including the defection of the Polish pilot, cost only about $7,500. Many months later the government was still offering $100,000 to any North Korean or Red Chinese pilot who would fly one out—and $50,000 for all MIGs brought out after the first one.

Dr. Howard Howe works in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. Dr. Jonas Salk could tell you a lot about Dr. Howe. But for a flip of fate the historic polio vaccine would be known as the Howe vaccine rather than the Salk.

Dr. Howe contracted tuberculosis while engaged in the important work that helped to smooth Dr. Salk's path. His friends will tell you that it was his work with the monkeys whose kidneys opened the door to the miraculous vaccine which really caused Dr. Howe's illness.

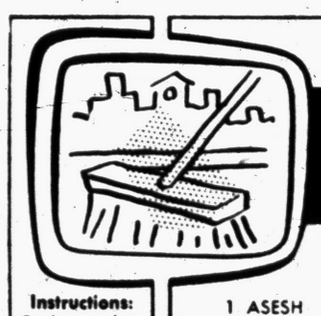

Ran into my old friend from the Kefauver committee days, former Sen. Herbert O'Conor, here and found hm as doughty an enemy of crime and communism as when he wore the toga. He is a top Baltimore attorney and churchman.

His predecessor in the Senate, George L. 'Radcliffe, prominent here in every worthwhile effort, tells me he sat down the other day and wrote a letter to his friend Mohammed Ali, Pakistan's spokesman at the recent Afro-Asian conference. Ali visited Baltimore not long ago as a guest of Sen. Radcliffe's English-speaking Union.

Radcliffe simply thanked him, man to man, for speaking up against communism at that Red-soaked conference. He thanked him for having the gumption to state aloud that the U. S. was not the menace it was pictured to be.

And the thought occurs to me: Why shouldn't we all do things like this? Letters from average Americans would be more treasured and perhaps do more good than any official scroll which a political administration in this country could bestow upon a foreigner who fended for us in the pinch.

So get busy while I ask my friend Lou Azrael, star columnist of the News-Post, to show me around the town. I've got to find that lock.

Mrs. F.D.R. to Decline Government Pension

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says she will decline any pension voted by Congress for widows of Presidents.

The Senate Thursday unanimously approved a bill to give an annual pension of $22,500, an office and clerical help to former Presidents—and an annual pension of $10,000 to widows of former chief executives. The House has yet to act on the bill.

Mrs. Roosevelt said pensions were "fine things" for those who really needed them but that she had sufficient income to meet her requirements.

Admits Narcotics Charge

Thomas Jones, 28, of 127 Bagley St., pleaded guilty to illegal use of narcotics yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court and Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for May 16. Jones was arrested by Pontiac Police last Sept. 1.
