Ike to Rest Until January

Answers Questions About President

United Press Photo

DR. WHITE REPORTS ON THE PRESIDENT — Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder (left) listens as Dr. Paul Dudley White answers newsmen during Sunday's press conference. Dr. White said that President Eisenhower would remain hospitalized for at least four more weeks. He also said the President is not yet 100 per cent out of danger, that he would reappraise the situation every two weeks.

German Unity Rests on World Opinion: Dulles

Tells Legion Russians Will Be Forced to Free East European Nations

MIAMI (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles predicted today that world public opinion will compel Russia to permit unification of Germany and free the eastern European satellites.

His talk highlighted the opening of the American Legion convention which found the nation's largest veterans organization boasting over passage of a reserve training law and hungering for more of the same.

Outgoing national Commander Seaborn P. Collins of Las Cruces, N. M., told a dinner party of state commanders last night that congressional passage this year of a national security training law was a victory in the Legion's 31-year fight for a strong citizen reserve. He added:

"While the law may not perfectly suit you and me as legionnaires, it is significant in that for the first time Congress has recognized the need for a strong reserve."

Collins predicted that if the voluntary phase of the reserve training program should fail, Congress will come around, perhaps by next session, to seeing eye-to-eye with the legion on the need for a compulsory reserve program.

Dulles told the convention that "The recent liberation of Austria came about primarily because world opinion" demanded it. He said that East Germany and the Soviet satellites will be freed in the same way.

He also declared:

1. "Soviet Communist doctrine has persistently taught retreat and zigzag as a tactic of conquest. So we cannot tell whether what is now going on marks a genuine change of purpose or whether it is merely a maneuver."

2. The United States cannot now disarm as it did after World War I and II "unless we can be sure that others are doing the same."

3. Communist China "until now" has lived "by the sword." He warned however, "but perhaps they are now beginning to see that persistence in the use of force will surely bring disaster."

4. The Soviet Union advocates "neutrality" for other nations but is not neutral itself. By neutrality, the Soviets "mean that each nation should have the weakness which is inevitable when each depends on itself alone."

5. The U. S. "does not believe in practicing neutrality" which to-

Breakfast to Open United Fund Drive

Goal of $562,175 for 55 Agencies Will Be Sought

Nina Foch, Critchfield Scheduled to Speak at Kickoff Ceremony

Starting tomorrow, residents of Pontiac plus Waterford and Pontiac Townships will be asked to open their purses and help make it possible for 55 voluntary health, welfare and child-care agencies to operate in 1956.

The annual Pontiac Area United Fund drive will open with a goal of $562,175, largest in its history.

Some 350 volunteer workers are expected to attend a kick-off breakfast at 7:45 a.m. in Devon Gables, Telegraph and W. Long Lake Rds.

Nina Foch, television, stage and movie personality, will be a featured guest.

The goal this year represents a 6.9 per cent increase over last year's $525,823 figure.

More than 4,000 volunteers, headed by Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield, will start soliciting for funds after the breakfast.

"Upon their success," Critchfield stated, "rests the future of the Pontiac areas child-care agencies, youth recreation organizations and social welfare services."

Included in the 1955 goal are operating-fund requests of the 13 Community Chest agencies plus the American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic, Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, Oakland County YMCA and West Bloomfield Community Chest.

New in the UF this year is the Waterford Community Activities, Inc.

Volunteer solicitors will attempt to reach every home and business place in the 36-square-mile area. Fund-raising setups have been organized in all industries.

The drive is slated for completion Nov. 3. A mid-point report luncheon will be held Oct. 19.

The Pontiac Manufacturer's Assn. will pick up the tab for tomorrow's breakfast.

Miss Foch, who appeared recently in the premiere of a new television series, "Playwright's Hour" sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division, is taking time to help make the UF drive a success by speaking at the breakfast, and participating in other campaign activities tomorrow.

Meetings Slated With Top Aides During Recovery

Doctor Asserts Extra Confinement Will Assure President's Return

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower cheerfully resigned himself today to a long period of recovery which may keep him out of the White House for the remainder of the year.

And the prospects that he will retire at the end of his present term were heightened by expert medical opinion that it is impossible to say now whether he will be "physically able" to run for re-election in 1956.

While progress from his heart attack of Sept. 24 has been satisfactory, and his morale is high, he has agreed to a decision of his doctors to keep him at Fitzsimons Army Hospital for about another month.

These things became clear as the aftermath of a Sunday news conference at Lowry Air Force Base. Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, speaking for himself and the President's bedside doctors, said:

1. The President will not fly to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., for at least four weeks and maybe not until the end of five more weeks.

2. Eisenhower is not "100 per cent" out of danger and it still is "too early to say" whether he will have "a complete recovery," but he has passed the period when complications normally would occur.

3. He thinks it should be "close to the first of the year" before the President goes back to the White House.

4. The President is "happy" at the hospital and will need a bit of work—such as his conference next Tuesday with Secretary of State Dulles — to keep him from "bubbling over" and to "protect

State Seeking to Purchase Tuberculosis Sanatorium

The state is negotiating with Oakland County for purchase of the county tuberculosis sanatorium for conversion to house mentally deficient persons.

Director of the State Mental Health Commission Charles F. Wagg has been meeting with a special six-man Board of Supervisors committee in preliminary discussions, Chairman of the Supervisors Ways and Means Committee Fred W. Smith, of Royal Oak, revealed today.

No cash offer has been made as yet, Smith explained.

A large backlog has accumulated of mentally defective persons committed to institutions who must remain at home because no space is available.

Meanwhile, patients in tuberculosis sanatoriums over the state have steadily decreased in number in recent years as advances in medical science cut down on number of people contracting TB and time needed for a cure.

The Oakland TB sanatorium, at 7350 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township, has dropped from 162 patients from the county in January this year to 112 in August.

"Sanatorium officials have scoured the county encouraging anyone with the disease to enter the institution," Smith stated. "Patients from adjoining counties have been accepted, but the total still is dropping."

Sale depends mainly on whether the state offers a satisfactory price for the building which can house about 230 patients, Smith stressed.

"If the building is sold, we're not going to push any county patients out in the cold. Facilities will be made available elsewhere which will continue the high-type treatment patients have received in the past. Out-county patients would be given ample time to make other arrangements.

"We will make no deal if the price is not right and excellent care can't be provided at another site," he added.

"We don't need a building as large as the present one," said Birmingham Supervisor David Levinson, a special committee member. "While county population has nearly doubled since 1950, the TB patient-load has decreased."

Gov. Williams has indicated support of the purchase, said Smith. The governor was expected to officially endorse it later today.

Polio Vaccine to Be Released

Serum for Kindergarten, First Grade Promised, Monroe Announces

Enough Salk polio vaccine will be released within the next two weeks to give first polio prevention shots to all kindergarten and first grade children in Oakland County, Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Dept., announced today.

The Michigan Health Department has released 13,000 doses of the Salk vaccine and 18,000 more doses are promised by the end of this week, Dr. Monroe said.

Blue cards containing instructions for procuring the vaccine will be distributed to kindergarten and first grade students through the schools on Oct. 24.

Parents will fill in the child's name, age and school, whether they wish the child inoculated, and the doctor's name if a private physician is to give the inoculation. These cards will determine how much vaccine is to be released to the private physician or to clinics administering the vaccine.

As soon as adequate supplies of vaccine are available, vaccination of all children through nine years of age will be started, where parents give consent, Dr. Monroe said.

Those children who received some polio shots and still have not completed the inoculation series will be given the opportunity to get final shots as soon as vaccine is available.

Records will be kept of every dose of the vaccine administered, to serve as a method of evaluating the effect of the vaccine in preventing paralytic polio. Further planning for administering the vaccine will depend on the State Health Department, which controls release of the Salk serum.

In the 1954 Michigan "field" trials, only three paralytic polio cases occurred among 26,000 children inoculated with the Salk vaccine. In a similar number who received no vaccine, 37 such cases occurred. Of 125,000 inoculated in Michigan in 1955, only seven cases of paralytic polio developed up to Oct. 4. It was not established that all these had had the complete series of inoculations.

Roads of County Don Fall Colors; Tours Readied

Traditionally beautiful Oakland County has donned a colorful fall raiment of vari-hued leaves, and many area residents as well as visitors from adjacent cities are touring the back roads for glimpses of the autumn foliage.

The second in a series of automobile tours designed to display some of the best of these rainbow roads is running in today's Press, on page 19.

Others will follow during the next few days, complete with maps to avoid traffic congestion and possible confusion.

Threat Keeps Rioters Quiet

Indiana Governor May Impose Martial Law in Wake of Labor Violence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. George N. Craig's threat of full martial law kept riot-swept New Castle quiet today, but National Guard patrols fanned out to keep an eye on other struck Perfect Circle Corp. plants.

Thirty-two guardsmen with a jeep appeared at the home plant of the Piston Ring Co., at Hagerstown, 11 miles east of New Castle, and a jeepload of troops watched two Perfect Circle plants at Richmond, near the Ohio border.

Gov. Craig, who had ordered the guard into New Castle by overseas telephone from a fishing boat off the Bahamas, returned Sunday.

He was the only one who spoke in a 20-minute conference with management, the CIO United Auto Workers and New Castle officials. He got promises of a truce until a second conference today.

Meanwhile, federal mediators got negotiators to agree to meet in an Indianapolis hotel at 2 p.m. EST today instead of Tuesday afternoon, as arranged last week.

Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley, who helped disperse a rioting crowd of sympathizers at New Castle last Wednesday, didn't attend Craig's Sunday conference. Handley, whose Republican faction has long been at odds with Craig, said he wasn't invited.

Atty. Gen. Edwin K. Steers, who accompanied Handley to New Castle, attended the Sunday conference but said Craig hadn't consulted him on legal aspects of the guard callup.

After the conference, Steers said: "I am completely amazed." He did not elaborate.

The governor got from Ralph R. Teetor, president of the firm, the promise that there would be no attempt to open the foundry at 7:45 a.m. as the company had planned.

Summer Returning for Brief Local Stay

Eighty degree weather is expected for tomorrow according to the U. S. Weather Bureau

Today's high in Pontiac is due to be between 75 and 79 degrees. Tonight the mercury may go down to 51.

Downtown today's low before 8 a.m. was 54 degrees. The thermometer registered 76 at 2 p.m.

5 Fishermen Bag Swimming Deer in Lake St. Clair

DETROIT (AP) — Five men went fishing in Lake St. Clair yesterday and landed a buck.

The men came across the seven-point deer about seven miles out in the lake—an exceptional distance for a deer to swim.

After considerable maneuvering, they pulled their cruiser alongside the animal. One of the fishermen tossed a noose around the deer's head, the others tied its legs before hauling it aboard. Then they lugged it to a Coast Guard station on Belle Isle where keepers from the island's zoo picked it up, apparently none the worse for the long swim.

Harriman Sees No Duty to Support Adlai in '56

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says he has "no obligation" to support Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, despite past statements in Stevenson's favor.

At the same time, he said he himself is not and has not been a candidate for the nomination. He commented, however, that he does not believe a man of his age — he will be 64 next month—is too old to be president.

Harriman talked about the presidential nomination yesterday in answer to questions on a TV program.

After saying he has no obligation to support Stevenson, he said he and the 1952 Democratic candidate "understand each other fully."

Asked if he felt "morally bound by what you have said in the past," Harriman replied:

"No, not at all morally bound. I have said I was for Adlai but I never said I was going to support him at the convention."

Harriman, who bid for the presidential nomination at the 1952 convention, added, "It is not for me to say at this time whom I would support next year."

TO DECIDE

He said he hopes to be part of the New York convention delegation and "we'll decide together whom to support."

Harriman's claim that he is still free to choose his candidate came after a weekend visit from former President Truman. Like Harriman, Truman in the past had said he favored Stevenson, but at a news conference in Albany, N.Y., declared he was neutral.

Upon arrival at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here yesterday, Truman reiterated:

"I made it clear up there (in Albany) that I am as neutral as a man could possibly be in my position. I said it in Albany and I'll say it now: I'm making no choice until the convention. I'll back the nominee."

In his Albany statement Truman had also said that Harriman has "all the qualifications" to make a good president. If he were a voter in New York State Truman said, he would be for Harriman.

Fenton Attorney Mute on Charge

Judge Hartrick Enters Plea of Innocent for Dye in Shooting

Former Fenton village attorney Clifford Dye, 53, stood mute on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder this morning in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge George B. Hartrick entered an innocent plea for Dye who is accused of shooting William C. Clark, 26, of Fenton, Aug. 26. Clark operated three farms owned by Dye's sister.

The defendant's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, of Pontiac, said he will file a motion to have the charge reduced to one less severe.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said his office will fight any reduction in the charge.

The shooting occurred, police said, following an argument between the two men. Dye is free on $10,000 bond. No trial date was set.

8 Cobras Stymie Zoo

CHICAGO (AP)—If anybody wants a hooded cobra from India the Lincoln Park Zoo has more than it wants. Eight 9-inch cobras were hatched last week. They are worth $30 to $40 each. The zoo maintains a permanent cobra population of six. The extra ones probably will be traded to other zoos.

Fire Hoax Panic Kills 4

CELAYA, Mex. (AP)—Somebody exploded four firecrackers in a local movie theater tonight and a cry of "Fire" rang out. Four persons were trampled to death as the panic-stricken audience rushed for the doors.

Football Traffic Flows Smoothly

Grand River Crossing Staffed by Policemen During Rush Hours

Traffic flow was "considerably better" through the Pontiac Trail-Grand River intersection before and after last Saturday's football games than it was the previous week, Lyon Township Supervisor William K. Smith said today.

The Pontiac Press urged action to relieve the situation last week after a large-scale bottleneck occurred when Michigan played Michigan State Oct. 3 at Ann Arbor.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department and State Police promised to assign more men to keep cars moving through the key intersection.

"Both Lansing bound traffic and autos traveling to Ann Arbor may have backed up a little at times Saturday," said Smith, "but no real bottleneck developed at any time."

SMITH

The police agencies "certainly did all that could be done, Smith said.

"On Oct. 3 I think officials failed to recognize that because both teams were playing in Ann Arbor the number of cars continuing on Grand River past Pontiac Trail was considerably less than when games are scheduled in both cities," he added.

Motorists Pay $13 Million in September Gas Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists paid more than 13 million dollars worth of gasoline taxes in September, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported today.

Hare said the regular 4½-cent a gallon tax brought in $9,870,000, an increase of $1,061,000 over September of a year ago.

At the same time, the 1½-cent a gallon tax imposed for Michigan's arterial highway system brought in $3,254,000.

Early Film Queen Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alice Joyce, a glamor queen of silent films, died yesterday of a heart ailment. She was 65. Her hit movies included "Stella Dallas," "Beau Geste," "Green Goddess" and "Dancing Mothers." Her first screen appearance was in an early success, "The Lion and the Mouse."

Selling Hits Wall Street.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market ran into a wave of selling today and prices dropped sharply. An early period of weakness was followed by a small measure of recovery from the lows. Selling was resumed, however, at the beginning of the third hour and reached a high peak of intensity.

Freed Russian POW Says He Saw Hitler Cremated

BERLIN (AP)—A roaring gasoline blaze consumed the bodies of Adolf Hitler and his bride Eva Braun while about 10 men of Hitler's staff watched in the garden outside the Fuehrer's Berlin air raid shelter in 1945.

That was the story — bottled up by the Russians for 10 years — told as an eyewitness account by Heinz Linge, Hitler's valet, who returned over the weekend from a decade of captivity in the Soviet Union.

"Hitler shot himself, Eva Braun took poison," said Linge in an interview yesterday.

"I carried his body out of the bunker, and then helped pour gasoline over it. We watched it burn for about five minutes."

The body of Eva, Hitler's mistress until he married her the day before the double suicide, was carried out from the underground boudoir and dumped on the grass in the Chancellery garden by Otto Guensche, an adjutant, while Soviet artillery shells were flying overhead, Linge said. Hitler's chauffeur had tried to carry out the body, but it was too heavy for him.

After the interview, Linge went into seclusion with his wife and three children at the apartment of his uncle Heinrich Bauer, a former official of Hitler's Reichsbank. Bauer said today his nephew confided during a quiet moment at dinner that he returned to the garden after the funeral pyre burned out and buried the ashes of Hitler and his wife.

Publication of his account brought a flood of telegrams to Linge, Bauer said, offering "large sums" for his story. During the interview he held back most details, saying he hoped to write a book or magazine articles.

"When the Fuehrer wanted anything at night, it was my Heinz who would come running," Bauer said. "He will really be able to tell something."

Linge's story was matched in part by another returning POW, SS Gen. Hans Baur, Hitler's personal pilot.

Baur told newsmen at Camp Friedland in West Germany he was in the bunker April 30, the day of the suicides.

"I went into Hitler's apartment in the bunker to get my last orders," he said. "Hitler said goodby to me then, remarking that he would now take his own life since the military situation had become hopeless."

Baur said he learned when he returned two hours later that the two had killed themselves, but he did not actually see the bodies.

Linge and Baur may be summoned to testify before a Berchtesgaden court which is expected to rule this month whether Hitler is dead. He has never been declared legally dead.

The aides' stories were substantially the same as had been reconstructed by Western investigators years ago. But the West had to wait 10 years to get their accounts first hand.

Linge said the Russians brought him back to Berlin in 1946 to reconstruct for them exactly what happened in the bunker. He was closely questioned for many days after his capture in 1945, he said. But the Russians never gave out his story and allowed doubts over Hitler's fate to circulate.

The balding, six-foot Linge, now 43, said he personally procured 50 gallons of gasoline to burn the two bodies, but more was required. Other points in his account:

Also in the bunker was Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and his wife and six children. Goebbels and his wife ended their lives with a pistol and the children were put to death by injections given by an SS doctor.

Being valet to Hitler was no picnic. The Fuehrer's nerves were bad and he needed frequent injections to steady himself. He began talking suicide 10 days before he shot himself.

Eva Braun put on a "courageous display" when the time came to end her life.

Linge said the Soviets convicted him in 1950 of helping Hitler to power. In prison his weight dropped from 198 pounds to 110 but is now back to 182.

To Receive Bids on Expressway

Grading, Drain Work on County Highway Will Be Let

The low bidder will be determined Oct. 19 in Lansing for a contract to construct 5½ miles of grading and drainage structures in preparation for paving the new Farmington-Brighton Expressway between Ten and Twelve Mile Roads in Oakland County.

Completion date for the project is Aug. 31, 1956.

Low bidders on two bridge projects on the expressway also will be decided the same day.

One will carry Ten Mile Road over the expressway about two miles west of Farmington. The structure will be of reinforced concrete and steel, about 246 feet long, with a clear roadway varying in width from 48 to 60 feet and with two sidewalks.

The other bridge will take Novi Road over the expressway about a quarter mile north of Novi. Also of steel and concrete, it will be 244 feet long with a 48-foot-wide clear roadway and sidewalks. Completion date on both bridge jobs is July 15, 1956.

Both projects include construction and removal of temporary roads to carry traffic while the spans are going up.

10 Die in State Auto Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ten persons, ranging in age from five months to 95 years, were killed on Michigan highways over the weekend.

The accidental death toll was one of the lowest in recent months despite fair weather that sent thousands of motorists on Sunday drives.

Thomas Pafford, a 95-year-old farmer, was killed Saturday when struck by a car on M61 in front of his home, eight miles west of Standish. The driver was not held.

Glen Reinhart, 46, of Hillsdale, was killed Saturday when his car plowed into a tre near Jonesville. Richard Declute, a 4-year-old Otisville youngster, was killed Saturday when he ran into the path of a car near his home. The driver was not held.

Bruce L. Hoyt, 18, of Clio, was fatally injured Friday night in a two-car collision on the northern outskirts of Flint.

Three-year-old Darlene Dangler of Mt. Pleasant was killed Saturday night when she darted in front of a car near her home about six miles northwest of Mt. Pleasant.

Richard Mowry, 28, of Otsego, was killed Saturday night when his auto ran off U. S. 131 and struck a tree six miles north of Kalamazoo.

Joseph Gadoury, 24, of Battle Creek, was killed Sunday when his car failed to round a curve and rolled over at a rural intersection in Newton Township, about seven miles south of Battle Creek.

George Morrison, 37, manager of the J-M Steel Corp. of Cheboygan, was killed Saturday night when his car went out of control seven miles east of Onaway on M68 and hit a bridge abutment.

Richard Schalk, 5-month-old son of Mrs. Elsie Schalk of Bay City, was killed and 10 others injured Sunday as two cars locked bumpers while traveling north one mile from Pinconning on U. S. 23.

Mrs. Lloyd Keeney, 35, was killed when struck by a car in front of her home three miles north of Jackson on U. S. 127 Sunday night. The car was driven by H. L. Wever of East Lansing.

TELLS OF HITLER'S DEATH — Heinz Linge, Adolph Hitler's personal valet, rests chin in hand at his aunt's West Berlin home after being returned from Russia with other freed German prisoners. Linge said he had helped burn the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun after the couple died in a suicide pact in the Nazi leader's Berlin chancellery air raid shelter on April 30, 1945.

Dramatic Heart Massage Fails 2-Year-Old Boy

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kim Lee West, the two-year-old whose heart stopped for 20 minutes and survived following a dramatic heart massage operation, died yesterday when mucous and fluid congested his lungs.

The boy was found with no pulse when an emergency ambulance crew was called to his house Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Warren West, Kim's parents, said he choked on a food morsel.

Butterworth Hospital attendants were failing in a bid to keep him alive when Dr. John E. Summers, a chest surgeon, happened to pass by on the way to another operation.

He quickly used stimulating drugs, and when that failed, made an incision into the boy's chest. He massaged his heart with his fingers and moments later the boy's heart began beating.

Another incision was made in the throat to let in oxygen through tubes. Plasma and whole blood was injected into his circulatory system.

Kim was described in "fair" condition following the emergency surgery, but relapsed yesterday and died.

his heart from the effects of his overactive brain."

The President, who will observe his 65th birthday next Friday, met with Vice President Nixon yesterday for the second day in a row, and they set up a schedule for Cabinet members and other top executives to begin visiting Eisenhower.

NIXON VISITS

The 42-year-old Nixon, one of the men frequently mentioned in speculation over possible GOP candidates if Eisenhower bows out, found the chief executive in a gay mood when he visited him with Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's chief deputy.

The President was decked out in a loud bow tie of red and white figures on a dark green background, clipped to the collar of his gold-colored pajamas.

Nixon said the President showed a "vital interest" in national and international problems and specified "several subjects" he wanted to talk to Cabinet members about. He didn't name them.

The decision to keep the President at the hospital here instead of flying him to Gettysburg sooner was due to a number of factors, among them, the desire to avoid taking him to his plane on a stretcher.

Dr. White said that sometimes early moving of a patient "may be a little hazardous."

STAY AT GETTYSBURG

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician, chimed in at one point to say it is "almost an absolute probability" that Eisenhower will be flown to Gettysburg when he leaves here.

There the President likely will have "a month of rehabilitation" and light "recreation" in the process of returning to a "normal life," Dr. White said.

His conference with Dulles, in which they will go over the agenda for the foreign ministers meeting in Geneva starting Oct. 27, will be limited to 15 minutes, but the President "is going to be allowed to express his opinions."

Dr. White said Eisenhower may have another short business conference later in the week.

CONFERENCES PLANNED

Beginning the fourth week, starting next Saturday, if all goes well after the Dulles conference, the doctors plan to have the President lifted into a chair, holding regular short conferences with Cabinet officers and others. And by the end of the fourth week, "he may be sitting up practically all day, out of bed," in their opinion.

day "is an obsolete conception."

6. Peace is the goal which the United States "devoutly" seeks but this country does not seek "peace at any price."

7. The United States hopes that the Soviet rulers will accept President Eisenhower's "open sky" plan for deterring surprise aggression through aerial inspection. "If they do, in good spirit, then we can confidently move on to international measures to reduce and control the instruments of death."

GENEVA SPIRIT CITED

Dulles, who addressed his audience as "fellow legionnaires," opened his speech with a discussion of patriotism and then went into "the spirit of Geneva."

He said: "Today, it is Soviet policy to appear friendly and to mingle with all the world. Perhaps the Russians have a proverb like ours which says, 'If you can't lick 'em, join 'em.'"

On the other hand, Dulles said, in the free world "some doors which used to be closed are now open, or at least ajar."

Avon Township Boy's Condition Called Fair

Ronald Barker, 10, of 2816 Livernois Rd., Avon Township, was listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today after he was struck by a car Saturday in front of his home.

Hospital attendants said the boy suffered a concussion. He was struck by a car driven by Ralph W. Mitchell, 27, of Birmingham. Mitchell told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies that the boy ran into his path from behind a parked mail truck.

Pontiac Deaths

Eugene Bourford

Eugene Bourford, 81, of Fostoria, Michigan, died Sunday.

Surviving besides his wife Mable are three sons and two daughters; Francis of Pontiac, R. S. of Flint, Melvin of Fostoria, Evelyn Crandell of Flint and Ila Cobb of Millington.

Funeral will be at 2:30 p.m. from the Fostoria Methodist Church with burial in the Watertown Cemetery.

Floyd Marion

Floyd Marion, 58, of Embarass, Minnesota died Wednesday in Hurley Hospital, Flint.

Born in Brown City, Michigan, January 7, 1897 he was the son of John and Rebecca Hillis Marion. He came to the city from Brown City and was a resident for 15 years.

Surviving besides his wife Irene are two daughters; Mrs. Faye Miller of Milford and Bernice of Lum.

Also surviving are four brothers: Winfred of Detroit, Walter of North Branch, Roy of Brown City, and Leland Marion.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday from the Dodd's Funeral Home in Flint.

He was born in Bulgaria in 1880 and has been a resident of Pontiac for 40 years.

He is survived by his widow, Christiana.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. Monday from the Kirkby Funeral Home with the Rev. Lewis W. Towler officiating. Burial will follow in the Oak Hill Cemetery.

BRAXTON TEWART

Aide Is Chosen for Cancer Services

Braxton E. Tewart has been named Director of Field Services for the American Cancer Society's Southeastern Michigan Division, it was announced today by Edward W. Tuescher, executive director.

Tewart, 29, will be responsible for coordinating the activities of the society's units in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, particularly outside of Detroit. He will help direct local units throughout the area, and will help organize new branches where cancer control programs are in need of further development.

Tewart served as executive director for the Dade County Unit of the Florida Division of the Cancer Society before moving to Detroit, and is a former member of the national staff of the society.

The executive board of the North Oakland County unit will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Pontiac office, Cass avenue and West Lawrence street, according to executive director Miss Barbara Amundsen.

Wilson May Miss Paris Auto Exhibit

PARIS (AP)—Charles E. Wilson, who was president of General Motors before he became American defense secretary, looked longingly from the doors of the Palais de Chaillot today.

Wilson is here to attend the three-day meeting of the defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"I hope," he said a bit wistfully, "that the sessions end about an hour earlier one of these days. Maybe then I'll have a chance to visit the Grand Palais."

The Grand Palais, a bit farther up the banks of the Seine, is the scene of the Paris auto show, which opened last Thursday for a 10-day run. One of the biggest stands there was set up by General Motors.

First Aid Awards

LONDON (INS) — Hundreds of awards for first aid treatment of accident cases are given to employes of British Railways annually.

House of Hazards Shows Fire Dangers to Children

Pontiac's "House of Hazards," dramatic illustration of fire hazards in the ordinary home, has been making the rounds of the city's elementary schools this week in celebration of Fire Prevention Week.

The miniature house, owned by the General Motors Truck and Coach Division fire department, is now in its second year of use. Embodying illustrations of 22 separate fire dangers in a typical home, it is wired to show the fires which may result from careless actions.

In one scene in the house, a man is shown smoking a cigarette in bed. When he goes to sleep, the cigarette drops from his hand and the bed catches fire.

GMT Fire Chief Kenneth Goddell has been demonstrating the miniature house to elementary school children this week in preparation for Wednesday night's Chamber of Commerce annual fire prevention program at the North End Recreation Field.

The program, similar to last year's, will be presented by Pontiac Fire Chief Vic Bodamer and Chamber of Commerce chairman Harvey Johns at 7 p.m.

How About That!

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today a farmer in the Azerbaijam Republic, bordering Iran, recently celebrated his 147th birthday. The broadcast said the farmer, Mahmd Fivozov, has 23 children, including a daughter 120 years old.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Scheduled to Scrutinize Ordinances

BIRMINGHAM—Ordinances will come under the scrutiny of the City Commission tonight, dealing with revisions in some cases and the establishment of new ones in others.

A civil defense ordinance will be submitted for lawmakers' approval as will an amendment to the vehicle weight and load ordinance. The question of a swimming pool ordinance will again be considered, along with the advisability of creating one to permit residents to rake leaves into the streets for city collection.

Revisions in parking meter time limitations in the area surrounding the new offstreet parking lot will be up for discussion. Other items include zoning for the Adams Village subdivision, enlargement of the sewage treatment plant and traffic signals for Quarton and Pierce Schools.

A hearing will be held to hear objections to vacating the alley in the block bounded by Hazel, Adams, Bowers and Elm, the closing to extend 180 feet east from Elm Street.

Two men whose lives are closely paralleled will be guests when the American Assn. of University Women holds an open meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Community House.

They are the Hon. Jean Beliard and the Hon. Edward H. Moss, respectively the French and British consuls stationed in Detroit. Both will speak on, "World Affairs today," with a question and answer period to follow. Both also have similar educational and war service backgrounds.

BELIARD

Beliard is a doctor of law and economics and has been attache at the French Embassy, Washington, first secretary of the French NATO delegation and deputy head of information for that organization. In foreign service since 1945, Moss has been stationed in London, Tokyo, Belgrade and the United States.

This year's national PTA theme of, "The Family and the Community," will play a big part in the Adams School PTA 1955-56 program, holding its first fall meeting at 8 tonight.

The Adams PTA theme will be, "Focus on Families," and members tonight will hear the Rev. Shelby Lee speak on, "As We Live Together," on family relationships. The Rev. Mr. Lee is from the First Congregational Church in Port Huron.

First in a series of meetings devoted to mental health will start for Walnut Lake PTA members at 8 tonight, this one based on "American Family Pattern."

Speaking on mental health relative to family living will be Dr. Berwell C. Ryckman, chairman of the Mental Health Division, PTA of Metropolitan Detroit.

"Highway Safety" will be the topic of John Le Tourneau as he addresses the High Twelve Club following a dinner at the Community House at 6:30 tonight. He is associate chairman of the Michigan Trucker's Assn.

Mrs. Michael MacKay

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Michael (Beatrice Miller) Mackay, 49, of 2141 Deering, will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home with burial in Roselawn Park Cemetery. Mrs. Mackay died at her residence this morning. She had been in charge of the Barnum School cafeteria until this fall.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her stepfather, Joseph Miller of Birmingham; one daughter, Mrs. Constance Rooke of Indiana; one son, Albert Young at home; one sister, Mrs. Lillian Kennedy of Birmingham; and four brothers, Oliver Miller of Mackinaw City, Donald of Flint, and Joseph Jr. and Robert, both of Birmingham.

Traveling Kefauver Praises Far East Aid

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Sen. Estes Kefauver said today he thought America's big Far Eastern aid program needs "reappraisal" in some countries, but is generally "well handled."

The Tennessee Democrat, nearing the end of a seven-nation Far Eastern tour, said the balance between economic and military funds should be examined in particular cases.

"But on the whole I would say the money is well received, well used and handled by good personnel," he said in an interview before flying to Korea.

He reported he will have "a good many recommendations" to make to the Senate Armed Services Committee when he returns to Washington.

He was briefed on the military situation for nearly two hours today by Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, Far East commander, and his aides.

Minor Blaze Terrifies 1,000 in Gotham Hotel

NEW YORK (AP) — A smoky fire in the subbasement of the Hotel New Yorker last night alarmed more than 1,000 guests, many of whom came running to the lobby in night clothes.

Two wedding receptions in the hotel were broken up by the fire scare.

The blaze broke out in a pile of rubbish at the base of a pipe duct which carried the billowing smoke to the top of the 42-story, 2,500-room building. Firemen put out the flames in half an hour and reported only negligible damage. There were no injuries.

The Orinoco river, sixth longest in South America, is navigable in the rainy season from May to November, for 1,300 of its 1,700 miles.

Bob Considine Says:

They're Honest About Ike's Illness Reports

NEW YORK (INS) — The Passing Show—

President Eisenhower's heartening recovery is in sharp contrast to Woodrow Wilson's. When Secret Service Chief Col. Ed Starling finally got around to writing about the troubles he had with Wilson, he made a lot of people shiver.

Wilson took up automobile sightseeing trips as a primary hobby after he suffered the stroke that benched him for most of his last months in office. He insisted that the speed of his top-down touring car be kept to 15 miles an hour no matter on which busy road he chose to ride that day. This was okay with Starling except for one thing: Wilson couldn't abide anybody's passing him.

"Chase that fellow!" he'd order Starling whenever somebody would chug past the slow-moving Presidential car. Starling's men would give chase, flag down the startled driver of the offending car and bawl him out—on Wilson's orders.

"I'm going to have myself appointed a justice of the peace so I can fine those fellows," Wilson once told Starling.

Wilson was so fond of one particular car and his daily rides in it that he became indignant when it had to be put in the garage for a check-up. In a pique he ordered a horse drawn Victoria for his outing and insisted that Starling's men ride in electric autos behind him.

Wilson's condition was not told to the American people. Eisenhower's is many times daily.

WILL IKE RUN?

Will Ike run again?

I've been lucky enough to be around with him off and on for ten years but I have no inside information. I don't think anybody has. But a guess would be that bit by bit he'll take command again—or most of it— concentrating mainly on mending the toppled fences of East-West relations. When he feels he has done this, I think he'll say that the job ought to go to a younger man, retire to Gettysburg and stay on call for any future emergency.

Once during the war, while flying the Atlantic to North Africa with a great Air Transport Command pilot named Barney Bridges, a cigar-chewing fellow out of Oklahoma, we passed over a majestically plunging old freighter. It must have been making a good eight knots. We were doing about 280.

"Gee," said Barney, looking down from 12,000, "wouldn't it be wonderful to cross an ocean on one of those." Barney had lost track of the number of times he had flown the Atlantic. He had never been on a ship in his life.

Well, if Barney's still around, let him hear this: Things are getting better all the time for passengers on cargo ships. The American President Lines is spending $200,000,000 on a replacement program aimed at making this nation what it was a century ago in the ocean cargo business. Symbolic of the big investment will be the sailing from New York on October 15 of the S. S. President Jackson, first of the new ones.

This fourth in a long line of President Jacksons will carry the usual 12 passengers, but this time they can roam about in a spacious, glass-enclosed lounge and observation area located above the bridge and affording the view comparable only to that on Olympus. The 12 will have special areas for card playing, dancing, writing, deck sports and for preparing and serving refreshments. There's even an elevator, a special dining room, radio and telephone in each stateroom, moving pictures and, when close enough, TV.

Capt. Bligh never had anything thing like it. Nor did Capt. Bridges.

Cardinal Innitzer, 79, Dies in Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —Theodor Cardinal Innitzer, 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church in Austria, died yesterday of a heart attack.

A target of Nazi mobs and Communist propaganda alike during the changing times of his cardinalate, he had undergone surgery in a Vienna hospital recently and was showing signs of recovery when the heart condition developed.

His death raised to eight the number of vacancies in the 70-member College of Cardinals.

Archbishop-Coadjutor Dr. Franz Jachym, who had been carrying on many duties of the office during the cardinal's illness, was named capital vicar to carry on administration pending appointment of a new archbishop. Religious circles considered Dr. Jachym a likely choice for the permanent post.

Cardinal Innitzer was the son of a poor Sudeten-German lace maker. He studied theology at Vienna Seminary and became its rector. He was named archbishop in 1932 and cardinal the following year.

Cape buffaloes are Africa's most deadly and vindictive animals, says the National Geographic Society. Wounded, they have been known to ambush hunters. Not content with killing their victims, they trample them with ax-sharp hoofs.

YOU'D NEVER KNOW I HAD PSORIASIS (S. D.)*

"It doesn't leave me miserable any more. Thanks to Siroil the ugly crusts and scales have almost entirely disappeared. Siroil is wonderful." The writer of this actual letter has learned, as have hundreds of thousands of others, that Siroil tends to remove psoriasis lesions on outer skin, and that light applications will help to control any recurring lesions. Siroil will not stain clothing or bed linens, and is offered on a two-weeks-satisfaction-or-money-back basis. 22 years of successful results.

MEET YOUR PRESIDENT—1

(This is the first of a week's series about your President. Color the pictures, cut them out on the heavy black lines so that they will stand up on your table, and save for a collection.)

A poor boy, Dwight David Eisenhower was born Oct. 14, 1890, in Denison, Tex. Two years later the family moved to Abilene, Kan.

There he grew up in a white farm house at the edge of town and was nicknamed "Little Ike" by neighborhood boys; one of his elder brothers was called "Big Ike." He and his brothers worked hard doing chores, tending chickens, raising garden crops, selling eggs and vegetables. Before he was 18 he had read the Bible through twice.

Ike had a great interest in sports. Tall and husky, he starred in baseball (inset above shows him wearing Abilene High School baseball uniform) and football. He thought he might be a railroad conductor or a baseball player. Actually he played some semi-pro baseball as well as doing odd jobs after graduation. Major league baseball always has interested him. He still likes to fish and play golf.

Polygamy Fan Decides to Settle for One Bride

LONDON (AP) — A British judge who favors polygamy because of the United Kingdom's excess of women disclosed today he has decided to settle for one wife, a pretty Siamese.

His bride, Chauley, whom he secretly married last week, told reporters it is all right for her husband to talk about polygamy as long as he doesn't try to practice it.

"I am to be the only wife," she declared. "In any case, there would not be enough money for another one."

"I don't think I can afford two wives on my small pension," he said. "Anyway, I do not think it is quite necessary for me to have two wives in order to demonstrate my theory."

Symington-for-President Drive Pushed by Dems

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP)—A proposed "Symington - for - president" campaign is scheduled to be discussed at a meeting of Missouri Democrats here Saturday. Letters inviting a small group of the Missouri senator's supporters and state poitical leaders for a "preliminary" discussion were recently sent out by D. W. Gilmore, Kansas City insurance man and a former state senator and circuit judge in Southeast Missouri. Symington frequently has disclaimed any presidential aspirations.

Nichols Points Way Out of State Road Impasse

Jackson's Republican State Senator Nichols has performed a valuable public service.

With a few well chosen words he has pointed the way out of the State highway construction impasse. As he has made clear this was created by Highway Commissioner Ziegler's obstinate opposition to the proposed Rockford-Bay City toll road.

"If Commissioner Ziegler would co-operate in the construction of a toll road," the Senator said, "and with the accelerated funds that should be derived from an an act of Congress at the next session, an expanding state highway program should develop very rapidly."

Senator Nichols talks sense.

That makes it all the more difficult to understand Commissioner Ziegler's obstructionism and desire to build a freeway paralleling the toll road route. The money he says is available for such a road should be devoted to improving highways in other traffic congested areas of Southeastern Michigan.

In short, Senator Nichols thinks it's high time Ziegler stopped his feudin' and fussin' with toll road Chairman Higgins and started co-operating with him. That, of course, means doing something about more roads.

Many Republicans Listed as Possible Candidates

President Eisenhower's continued steady progress toward recovery is having its expected political effect.

Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, views the future optimistically. He has told newsmen that the committee still expects the President and Vice President Nixon to head the party's 1956 ticket.

There is another Republican school of thought, however, which holds that the President, mindful of his heart attack, eventually will refuse to seek renomination. Still other GOP leaders feel that under no circumstances should the party jeopardize Ike's later years by insisting that he be a candidate.

All this, of course, has had the very beneficial effect of emphasizing that the Republicans have ample presidential material to draw on should the President decide against seeking a second term. Among those frequently mentioned as possibilities are Vice President Nixon, Milton S. Eisenhower, Treasury Secretary Humphrey and former Governor Dewey.

Another name that has appeared prominently in party speculation is that of Chief Justice Warren. While as recently as last April he disavowed any presidential ambitions, many feel that he could be persuaded to change his mind. Other possibilities are Senate Minority Leader Knowland, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts and Illinois' Senator Dirksen.

Just about the only person who hasn't named a candidate possibility is President Eisenhower. If he doesn't run himself, he very probably will have most to say about who does.

The man who married for money can't afford to bite the hand that feeds him. The most he can do is to gnaw a little at the thumb he's under.

Money is by no means the most important thing in life, but can you name half a dozen things more important?

Survey by Illinois Firm an Unnecessary Expense

Anyone wondering why Government costs so much can find a partial answer in recent action by the State Senate's Interim Committee on Audits and Appropriations.

This committee has hired the Public Administrative Service of Chicago to survey Michigan's mental health program at a cost of $20,000 and expenses.

The decision was reached over the protest of Democratic Representative Leslie H. Hudson who sat in on the meeting. It also followed receipt of conflicting reports from State agencies as to the number of beds available for mentally retarded and tuberculosis patients.

A member of the interim committee on the mentally retarded, the Pontiac lawmaker pointed out that there was no need to spend such a sum. According to Hudson, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan not only is capable and equipped to make such a survey but offered to do it for nothing. He spoke to the point when he asked:

"With a local research group available which has made many surveys within the State and knows where to get statistics, why do we go outside and pay $20,000 plus expenses which will probably amount to another $20,000?"

We shouldn't!

Another thing the world needs is popular government at popular prices.

Doing Double Duty

Harmonica: Musical instrument with an auxiliary use—to grate cabbage.

Here's something new for Michigan. Several cases have been reported of trees from which all of the leaves dropped a few weeks ago, and now again are leaving out, just as they did last spring. In most cases they are hickory or other nut trees. Sugar beets, formerly raised quite extensively in Oakland County, still grow well here, as reported by of Cass Lake, who has one that weighs 18 pounds. "If you want to see real tall sunflowers," phones of Lake Orion, "bring your longest measuring stick, as we have them above 17 feet, and still growing." Raised from seed sent him from Norway, of Drayton Plains, has produced a turnip that weighs 12 pounds. Not knowing its variety, he calls it a "Spitsbergen" turnip. "You recently stated in your column that the production of hickory nuts in this area had fallen off," writes of Cass Lake, "but five bushels of them have just fallen off a tree in my yard."

Abner Fessenden

Malcolm Weaser

Of the 161 remaining in the MAT Football Contest, 78 were eliminated when Cornell defeated Harvard, 20-7, Saturday. They are the 75 who picked Harvard to win and the three who predicted a tie. The 83 who picked Cornell carry over to this week's contest game, and divide their predictions: Detroit, 20; Boston College, 63; tie, 0.

David Lawrence Says:

'56 Presidential Campaign Won't Be Dull Regardless of Whom the Nominees Are

WASHINGTON—Time was when the Democratic Party had a liberal passion and the mere suggestion of a boss-picked candidate for the presidency was enough to stir the indignation of silver-tongued orators from coast to coast. But today Tammany Hall's boss occupies a position of leadership and is issuing warnings calculated to make the progressive Adlai Stevenson and his fellow-liberal, Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, hesitate as they turn their eyes toward primaries that might prove futile.

For the Tammany chief is publicly advocating what he calls an "open convention," which is the kind where in the bosses of the big-city organizations have the freest play for their talents in making deals and bargains.

It seems odd that the Democratic Party today should be managed and bossed by the professionals—something that used to be the chief characteristic of the Republican Party. But nowadays there is no "old guard" in the Republican command. The real leaders are young governors and young chairmen of state committees who have a clearer idea of the kind of government the American people want than their Democratic brethren who control the big-city organizations and also the biggest of the state delegations to the Democratic national convention.

The Republican Party through 20 years of defeat, gradually eliminated the dyed-in-the-wool conservatives from positions of leadership and today the party is built in the image of its principal middle-of-the-roader — President Eisenhower.

Whether Eisenhower runs or not, the Republican Party has definitely committed itself to a program which avoids the extreme of either the left or the right and sticks closely to the center, where the people really want the power of government to rest. That's because today the middle-of-the-road means holding at a safe distance the various groups that seek advantage out of governmental policy to the detriment of the national interest.

DEMS FACTIONAL

By contrast, the Democratic Party is committed to a faction and boldly proclaims its bias as a virtue. Thus, the Democrats are promising a one-sided labor law and are counting on the big-labor-union bosses to help them finance the next campaign and to swing the vote of the workers. The "Americans for Democratic Action," a radical organization which comes from the group that former President Hoover characterized as "totalitarian liberals," is expected to mobilize the "left wingers" for the Democrats, while the big-city and state organizations with their machines are counted on to keep in line many of the so-called minority groups.

It's true the Democrats have a cleavage in the South, but this will hardly hurt them this time as it did in 1952. The Democratic Party in the North is in the main harmonious. It has lost the Conservative voters but believes this more than offset by the labor-union and radical vote.

Just now the maneuvering between the bosses who want to see Gov. Averell Harriman of New York nominated and those who are angling to get former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois renominated is so transparent that it is surprising the political science professors who have been declaiming for years against the evils of the convention system aren't uttering a word of protest.

The conspicuous effort at last week's New York state rally of Democrats to woo former President Truman to the Harriman side, though he has been committed to Stevenson in the past, is a sign that the Democrats consider Trumanism an asset rather than a liability.

Some Republicans are delighted that the so-called "give 'em hell" technique is still relished by the Trumanites and that the latter are urging the former president to repeat what he did in 1952 on the stump. Maybe they'll discover that memories of "Korea, communism and corruption" haven't been erased and that the voters will be involuntarily reminded by the Democratic campaigners of the things that caused so many independents to leave the Democratic Party and vote Republican in 1952.

ANTI-RED ISSUE

It seemed for a while that the anti-Communist issue would be forgotten by 1956, but the Democratic radicals and so-called "liberals" are keeping it alive. With the $15,000,000 of the "Fund for the Republic" to be spent largely on publicity projects that are right up the alley of the Democrats, it does look as if the Alger Hiss and Harry Dexter White cases and perhaps some others will be back in the campaign again, with a lot of questions being asked of the officials of the Truman regime which they never have answered. A "give 'em hell" technique begets "massive retaliation" by the other side. So 1956 is not likely to be a dull campaign no matter who the nominees are.

Motion Sickness Victims Tell Troubles to Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"Sitting in the rear seat, with a big pillow at my back and my feet braced on the foot rest I can travel in an auto without much trouble, sometimes but not always. I have less trouble when sitting in the front seat, but this is not always feasible nor efficacious.

"I have always attributed my trouble to allergy to gas fumes. I hope that your suggestions will be as helpful as other suggestions of yours have proved. Please don't let anybody change or sweeten your style. We like it just as it is. (Mrs. A. B.)"

Thank you, ma'am. But what can I do when they tell me to stop this, that and the other practice or else? I'd tell 'em off and devote myself exclusively to bowling from now on, were it not that when I say fiat voluntas tua I feel I must keep pounding away as long as I can teach anybody how to keep well.

"I love to go deep sea fishing, but every time I do so I become ill in spite of the many remedies friends have recommended to prevent seasickness.

"At least this was so until I received your pamphlet on motion sickness.

RESULTS SKETCHY

"I have noticed on more than one occasion your remark that readers rarely report what results they have had from following your suggestions or advice, unless they want something else.

Well, I don't want anything more now except to say thanks a million, doctor, for the tablets you recommend in the pamphlet. I am now able to go fishing even in rough weather, and enjoy myself thoroughly. (D.B.)"

Thank you, sir. It is a rare privilege to hear from a reader who merely reports how something I recommended worked if at all.

SAFER REMEDY

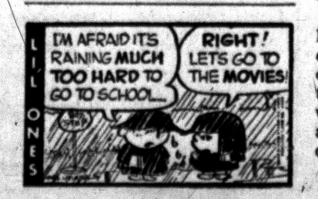

I recommend the remedy which D. B. found so satisfactory because it appears to be safer than other seasickness remedies, and therefore it is available everywhere (railway and bus stations, airports, fishing piers, etc.) without prescription.

On request, signed, I will send a copy of the pamphlet on Motion Sickness. Inclose with your request a stamped, self-addressed envelope. A clipping will bring no reply.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

'Sharp Hood Ornaments Should Be Outlawed'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As autos have been improved mechanically and streamlined beautifully, they have also been decorated with chrome ornaments on the front of the hood. Most of these are model airplane style with long, protruding fronts.

When the unfortunate pedestrian gets hit by the front bumper, he gets another dose of injury when he gets struck with that bayonette-like ornament. In my opinion the manufacture of these dangerous ornaments should be stopped and the ones now in use be replaced by safer styles. This would be a simple job at home or in any garage.

Since there are millions of these dangerous ornaments on the roads, they are just as effective as a rebel army equipped with short bayonettes. Hence the war on the highways.

New York Business Site Doesn't Promise Success

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

What purports to be the inside story of Union Carbon & Carbide in keeping its headquarters in New York City, canceling plans to join other companies in the suburbs, hinges on an anecdote.

A realtor, bent on selling the idea of remaining on Manhattan Island, asked for one more conference. Then, he merely told a story about a meeting with a major executive of a nationally known company which had moved to the outlying area.

The company official, then past 70, had started with a component unit of the same enterprise at the age of 18. He was asked the total sales figures then and now. The growth had been fantastically great. The realtor told the businessman that the move to quieter environment probably presaged a leveling off of the tempo of expansion, as younger executives in tweeds would be tempted to the golf courses.

Sometimes a straw breaks a camel's back.

In the competition between New York and other areas, near and remote, many factors are involved.

OTHERS THRIVE

Analytically, the inference that in order to excel company headquarters must be in Manhattan is questioned by the fact that the du Pont Company became an industrial giant from its main base at Wilmington, Del. Likewise, Caterpillar Tractor did not suffer because its principal office was in Peoria, Ill., nor did Allis Chalmers languish in Milwaukee.

And Deere & Company held its own in Moline. Other corporate successes have been based in Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco, Seattle, Omaha, Atlanta, Boston and other points, north, east, south and west.

Similarly May Department Stores through the years got top billing as a merchandising earner without a New York outlet.

Bill Zeckendorf, a bull on Manhattan, has brought forth a constructive approach. This operator is at war with the concept that a building should be left untouched until it becomes unusable. With land limited, Zeckendorf holds that each important parcel should be re-examined periodically to determine whether it is set up to achieve its optimum possibilities.

As neighborhoods change and congestion increases, he and his associates sometimes recommend that a low-rent loft building be converted into an office building. Sometimes he recommends ripping out the interior of an obsolete office building in a new location, and adding to the square footage rental value through modernization.

Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, recently announced agreement "in principle" among city agencies on a vast rehabilitation plan to take in the entire area from 59th Street to 125th Street and from the Hudson River to Central Park.

R. F. Hay, director, division of re-location studies of a company which specializes in selecting industrial locations for clients, thinks other factors are more important deterrents. These he said, include a high wage level not compensated by an offsetting high level of productivity; the high level of taxes, including the state income tax; and the ton-mile state tax on trucks.

Thus, in the new competition among areas, analytical businessmen try to set up a balance sheet of advantages and disadvantages. The head of one national corporation, who elects to stay on Manhattan Island, rather than move to the suburbs, told me the determining consideration is not to upset the housing commitments of employes.

His view was that Manhattan was centrally located for employes owning homes in New Jersey, Westchester and Long Island, and that, while a move to the suburbs would be helpful to those nearby, it would be inconvenient for others.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Reader's Idea That Methuselah's Age Was Based on Moons Couldn't Be True

August is like the blind men of Hindustan. He figuratively grabbed the elephant by the tusk and then violently maintained an elephant was a spear. As you grow older, you learn to be more cautious. Wide experience is necessary to be sure you can see the full "elephant" of life.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Pase P-361: August E., aged 60, is a close reader of this column.

"Dr. Crane, I was doubly interested in your discussion of the possible value of trace minerals in promoting longer life," he began.

"You mentioned that in primitive times the Bible says people lived to be 800 to 900 years old.

"In that connection, you gave Methuselah's age as 969, but said it might be possible they used seasons instead of our modern years.

"Don't you realize that they employed the moon as their time indicator?

"Even the American Indians reckoned time as 'so many moons.' So if you will divide Methuselah's 969 by the 13 moons that make up one of our years, you'll find he lived to be only 74."

FIVE BLIND MEN

Don't you readers recall the famous story of the five blind men of Hindustan, who encountered their first elephant.

One felt his tail; another, his ear; a third, his tusk; a fourth, his trunk, and the fifth blind man got hold of his leg.

When they returned home, they argued violently as to what an elephant was like.

In turn, they insisted that an elephant was a rope, a fan, a spear, a snake and a tree trunk, depending on which part of his anatomy they had chanced to handle.

Well, life is much like that. If you have vast experience, you simply see a larger portion of the entire "elephant."

People of limited experience are often very sincere. They may honestly swear that they are 100 per cent correct in their views, which is true, as far as their limited perspective permits.

But they may be so sadly in error, in the eyes of people with a much wider experience, that they appear silly.

METHUSELAH'S 969 YEARS

Having read the Bible through from cover to cover many times, I knew that the use of "moons" for years was not plausible.

For Enoch, the father of Methuselah, lived 65 years and then begat Methuselah. (Genesis 5:21.)

If we were to employ August's logic and thus divide the Biblical years by 13, we'd not only reduce Methuselah's 969 lifespan to 74, but his father would then have been only 5 years of age when he begat Methuselah!

Obviously, that is quite farfetched. Even counting each of our four seasons as a full year would make Enoch only 16, which is possible.

But I will not argue against the fact that perhaps in early days men actually lived very much longer than we modern human beings.

Maybe when the earth was young and rich in trace minerals, as well as radiational effects, our longevity attained 800 or 900 years.

But nowadays we are unduly stressing the importance of a long life. For a person who has never accomplished anything worth while, certainly should not boast of his great longevity.

A man like Christ lived only 33 years, but has changed the whole course of social relations on this entire planet.

And some of your valiant sons and daughters, who died in the recent war to preserve this republic and its ethical ideals as contained in our Constitution, accomplished far more at their 20 to 25 years, than others who selfishly become modern Scrooges or Silas Marners, yet attain 90.

So quit worrying so much about cancer and heart trouble. Instead, concentrate on greater accomplishments.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Armour Finally Cashes Check Written in 1888

CHICAGO, (INS)—It took 67 years, but Armour & Company meat packers, finally cashed the $22.31 check to John Cobittery it wrote June 9, 1888.

The check was found in some old papers by Mrs. Fred N. Olker of Chicago. She said the check, from the National Live Stock Bank, had been endorsed over to Luke O'Toole who gave it to her grandfather, Michael Fitzland, in payment of a debt. Fitzgerald died in 1898.

Female Pipe Fan Soothes Ike on Vocal Recordings

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. (AP)—A recorded voice that helps soothe President Eisenhower with lilting strains in his Denver hospital room belongs to a woman who smokes a pipe and has no apologies for the habit.

Several records that please the ailing president were made by Danny Guglielmi, once an arranger for the late Glenn Miller but now a chicken rancher, and his wife Dena.

The Guglielmis make the multiple violin and voice recordings in their San Fernando Valley ranch home and Dena is the vocalist. Hearing that the President enjoyed tape recordings, they sent him some of theirs.

Mrs. Eisenhower wrote to thank them, and Saturday Col. Robert L. Schultz, the President's military aide, telephoned to tell the Guglielmis how the President and others enjoyed their recordings.

This sent newspaper photographers scooting to the Guglielmi home, where they found Mrs. Guglielmi puffing a pipe.

"I love a pipe," she said. "I've been smoking them for eight years. Cigarettes are too strong for me. They choke me up."

"I wonder," she said, "what Mr. Eisenhower would say if he knew the woman who sang those songs smoked a pipe?"

Guglielmi said he gets the effect of a full orchestra by multiple recording. For one recording he used 25 violin parts, recorded singly and then combined.

"I was arranging for movie studios but the long hours started ruining my health," he said. "We bought this chicken ranch and decided on the recordings as a hobby. It has made us very happy."

Indians Rally to Help Many Flood Victims

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's government mobilized its resources today to aid hundreds of thousands of persons left homeless by north India's worst floods in more than 70 years.

Hundreds were reported dead in the devastated Punjab region. The waters covered much of Pepsu state as well as a large part of the major city of Amritsar, religious center of the Sikhs.

Pime Minister Nehru after a flight over the area said in a broadcast that "our problem of relief and rehabilitation is a colossal one." The government's resources have already been strained by disastrous floods in northeastern India a month ago.

Nehru described the floods this fall as "the worst in living memory, certainly the worst in the last 60 or 70 years." He said he believed reports of thousands dead in the north were "greatly exaggerated" but warned that the loss of crops by thousands upon thousands of flooded-out farmers posed a grave problem.

First Girl in 50 Years

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jackie Ellen Deitsch is assured of probably the most attention any child in the Deitsch family has had in three generations. She's the first girl born in the family in the last 50 years. In that time there had been 19 boys. The parents are Theodore Deitsch, 36, manufacturing executive, and his wife Betty, 26. They changed the name of their baby from the expected Jack to Jackie and are buying a new wardrobe for it. No one had even thought of buying pink.

It Took Some Figuring

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — The City of Petersburg saved $500 by giving Mayor Churchill G. Dunn an expense-paid trip to New York.

Here's how: Water system bonds for $1,800,000 were mailed to New York. All needed to make them negotiable was Dunn's signature. If he had signed them before mailing they would have required insurance. Dunn went to New York and signed them.

The Riangs, gentle and polite tribesman of southeast East Pakistan, have a strange way of expressing apology. They stick out their tongues.

CHICAGO — The 48 states distributed a record of nearly three billion dollars to local governments for support of primary and secondary schools during the 1954 fiscal year, Commerce Clearing House reported recently. State treasuries also furnished 1.3 billion dollars for colleges and universities.

Unknown Storage Safe

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Charlene Pitts, 6, coughed up a marble she swallowed 2½ years ago after she had her tonsils removed. Mrs. John Pitts, the girl's mother, said she remembered it must have been the marble Charlene lost while playing with a game she had received as a Christmas present.

Frees Military Prisoners

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — The commander of the third military district announced the release of 1,198 persons from jails and prisons on the occasion of Indonesia's Independence Day. They had been held under the "state of war and siege" regulations, and all had belonged to infantry regiments.

Hal Boyle Says:

Conspiracy A-Brewing Against Life-Haters

By HAL BOYLE

Are you a life hater?

When you see somebody happy, do you secretly want to see him miserable?

Do you stir in everyone you meet a desire to serve you as a pallbearer?

If so, be warned. There is a gigantic conspiracy against you. It is a massive scientific plot to make the human race live longer. Its goal: To raise the average life span to 100 years.

The books, magazines and newspapers are full of advice on how to live to be old.

But this is the worst kind of news to you, isn't it? You would rather hang crepe than holly. You'd rather cry than laugh. Life never leaves you breathless, but you wish it would — because breathing is only a nuisance. Your biggest regret is that you weren't born dead.

Is there no help for you? Can a group of rascally scientists force you to live to be 100? Not if you don't want them to!

Here are a few sure-fire tips on how not to live to be old:

1. Develop your present nonwinning personality to the utmost. Fight down any temptation to praise or approve of anything that has happened since the Chester A. Arthur administration.

2. Crab out loud at everybody. Blow your top early and often. Remember, it isn't the passive complainer that gets apoplexy. It's the guy who pops a gusset over trifles.

3. If you have a small persistent pain in your innerds, don't go galloping off to the doctors. If they are curious about what's wrong with you, make 'em wait for the autopsy. They won't cure you then.

4. Always do your looking for sunsets on rainy afternoons. Then you'll never be surprised by joy.

5. If you're not in a rut now, get in one as soon as you can, and dig it as deep as you can. Always walk the same way home. Avoid all change of any kind. Change and variety spice life, and you don't want yours spiced.

6. Avoid marriage at all costs. Matrimony works oddly. It gives a man more to holler about — but it also makes him live longer.

7. If you go hunting, go with total strangers. They are much more likely to mistake you for a deer.

8. Never sit down to a meal unless you are thoroughly worn out or have worked yourself into a towering rage. Avoid all nonfattening foods. If you must eat green vegetables, fry them. Fry them twice.

9. Get four hours of sleep each night — but no more. Don't play tennis except under a hot sun.

10. Never read poetry, see a new play or associate with children. All these things are like deadly poisons to your sense of gloom. They make you feel younger.

Any man who follows these 10 simple rules, I guarantee, won't live to be old. But he'll feel old all the time, older than Methuselah.

And, if you're a born killjoy, isn't that the way you really want to feel?

Paper Bag Hood Hides Face of Drive-In Robber

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) —A drive-in bandit leaned from his auto and took $1,100 from the woman cashier of an outdoor movie theater last night, then drove away.

Helen Franklin, 38, the cashier, said the man drove to her ticket window, turned a small revolver on her and ordered her to give him several stacks of currency. She said he wore a paper sack over his head and drove an old auto.

Did City Hall Try It?

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Patrolman Gene Dalton saw a length of three-quarter inch hose across the street. Apparently placed there by youngsters. Better take it to city hall. Before he finished he had some 500 feet of it in the back of his car. "If you think that isn't hard work, try it," he said.

Chiang's Troops Told to Prepare

Nationalist Chief Urges Army to Brace for War With China Mainland

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China told units of his armed forces today "I hope you will remember the humiliation of our defeat in 1949 and prepare yourselves for the counterattack" on the Communist mainland.

During the parade three huge U.S. B36 intercontinental bombers from Guam flew over the flag-bedecked streets, a birthday tribute by the Far East Air Forces.

Foreign dignitaries in the reviewing stand included Herbert Hoover Jr., U.S. undersecretary of state; U.S. foreign aid chief John B. Hollister; and U.S. Ambassador Karl L. Rankin.

The three conferred with Chiang before the parade. Hoover earlier had said Nationalist China plays an important part in the free world's "effort to seek a world-wide peace." He praised Chiang as "our good and loyal friend."

In his address to Nationalist soldiers, Chiang said:

"I hope you will remember the humiliation of our defeat in 1949 and prepare yourselves for the counterattack that will wipe out the Communist bandits and Russian aggressors.

"When the orders for the counterattack are given, you will begin the task of delivering your kinfolk on the mainland."

Chiang said in a message to the nation yesterday that conditions were "fast ripening" for an assault on the mainland. He added that a counterattack "should start with a revolution on the mainland."

He took issue with arguments that such an attack would involve the United States.

"We neither expect our ally to participate in it nor ask him to assist us against his own interests," he said.

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Duncan McVean (right) is congratulated by Lyle Saum at a banquet for McVean at Pontiac State Hospital Saturday evening. Storekeeper for the hospital, McVean was honored for 50 years of service. Saum is president of the hospital employes club.

Duncan McVean Honored for 50 Years at Hospital

A man who has devoted his life to Pontiac State Hospital was honored Saturday night with a banquet attended by 250 employes and friends.

Duncan McVean, head storekeeper for the hospital, began working evenings and on weekends when still in high school in the year 1905.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, reviewed the growth of the hospital, and said that McVean came to the hospital only 20 years after the opening of the hospital which was then called Eastern Michigan Asylum.

McVean remembers when in 1911 the hospital's name was changed to Pontiac State Hospital during a great mental hygiene movement.

Since that time McVean has seen the hospital grow physically and with pride has watched medical students come from all parts of the world to receive the kind of training the hospital affords.

Speaking briefly was Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Marbach praised McVean for his fidelity to state, community—to his home and to his church.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Gerald Bax. Mrs. Davy Gilpin, former supervisor of women, related early hospital experiences.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable...with restless, sleepless nights...don't wait...try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today!

Plans for Atom Power in Big Rapids Discussed

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — City officials, industrial leaders and Ferris Institute personnel met yesterday to discuss establishment of a neclear powered reactor in the Big Rapids area.

John Keen, general manager of Wolverine Electric Cooperative Corp., indicated his company is investigating the feasibility of an atomic reactor for civilian use.

A Sweetest Day Adventure in Happiness

If you want to experience the warm glow of peace and contentment which is the very essence of true happiness, make it a point to set aside your own cares and worries for a day; go out of your way to make someone else happy.

Spend some time with those youngsters that you haven't seen enough of lately; write that long postponed letter to a friend or relative. A special word of praise or encouragement for someone who needs a boost; an extra cheery "good morning" to the newsboy or the cop on the corner —these are the things that make up the "spirit of Sweetest Day."

You'll be surprised at the magic which lies hidden in even the smallest trifle of unselfishness—try it and make Sweetest Day, Saturday, October 15th, a real adventure in happiness.

$300,000 Processing Plant Now in Full Swing

New System Begins in Holly

Sand and Gravel Co. Increases Production With Procedure

HOLLY — Today commencing at top operation is the new $300,000 processing plant of the Holly Sand and Gravel Company. It increases production to 400 tons of sand and gravel per hour.

Located on Grange Hall Road the plant has been in operation a few years, a division of J.P. Burroughs and Son, Inc., of Flint. The plant triples its former production by the opening of the new processing system.

The new equipment was first opened for a test run last month, and several minor adjustments were made in order to convert it into what is claimed to be the most modern sand and gravel system in Michigan.

The process includes crushing, washing, screening and separating the raw material, of which there is almost an unlimited supply in the 160-acre hilly tract owned by the company.

In the process five grades of stone and gravel are turned out, also two grades of sand. This is used in new building construction in many southeastern Michigan cities, also in highway and other work.

The new processing plant makes possible the correct blending of the various sizes, in order to meet the most rigid specifications of the architects and road engineers.

The great amount of water required for the production of washed gravel and sand is supplied at the Holly plant from a well that was sunk to a depth of over 300 feet and furnishes 500 gallons per minute. As a reserve supply, a large water storage pool has been created.

Charles A. Fellows, president of the Burroughs Company, says the plant extension makes possible a much larger supply of the high grade aggregate gravel required in the transit-mix system of handling gravel and cement, now coming into quite general use.

Romeo Spurs Drive for School Uniforms

ROMEO — The drive to raise funds to purchase new uniforms for the Romeo High School band has been renewed with added vigor.

The Student Council, under the direction of high school instructor Robert Hutton, is sponsoring the drive. Projects were staged to raise funds last year, and one has already added $351.07 to the total since the opening of school in September.

The town was mapped out into sections and 40 persons conducted a sale of candy bars. An added feature was music provided by members of the band riding on a tractor-drawn hayrack.

This project and contributions added to the money raised last year bring the total to $1,536.16. The goal is $5,000, according to band director E. C. Ojala.

Milford Women to Model

Literary Club Prepares Husband's Night Show

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Press Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—One of the first Fur Fashion Shows ever to be presented in the Huron Valley area will be held Wednesday at the Highland School auditorium.

Sponsored by the Monday Literary Club, an evening of solid entertainment has been planned.

This is the Annual "Husband's Night" for Milford's oldest women's organization, and a movie expecially geared for men will be shown.

Beginning at eight o'clock there will be card-playing, with accommodations for over 400 people.

At nine, a fur company of Blissfield, (Mich.) will show more than $60,000 worth of fur garments. This is the same dispay that was presented to Vice-president and Mrs. Richard Nixon, and at Governor G. Mennen Williams' recent conference at the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island.

Along with the showing of the furs, will be a display of fabrics and garments by a woolen mills company, also of Blissfield.

LOCAL WOMEN MODEL

Eight local women will assist six professional models in showing the elegant furs. They are: Mrs. Eddie Murdock, Letty Richardson, Eleanor See, Benie Price, Elaine Wagner, Greta Melzer, Dorothy Sheffler and Caroline Foster.

Dancing exhibitions including the Can-Can, an Assyrian tribal dance, an African native dance, a Rumba, the Charleston and a "Mink Mannequin Ballet" will be presented.

One of the high spots of the evening will be a showing of a colored movie, "The Romance of Furs." The picture will include trapping scenes and will follow the progress of a pelt from the time it is swimming around in an icy stream, until it is being stitched into a garment.

Eighty women of the club are preparing cakes for refreshments, and to conclude the evening, an expensive mink scarf will be given as door prize.

General chairman for the affair is Mrs. Frank Torrence, with Mrs. H. A. Miller assisting.

Profits from the fashion show will be used in the student exchange program, Blood Bank and many other worth while community projects, according to Mrs. Thurman Ruggles, president.

Metamora to Discuss Proposal for School

METAMORA—The study group of the Dryden-Leonard-Metamora school area will hold a public meeting at the Metamora school on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Four architects will be present to present plans for a proposed high school to be built in the area. The probable cost will be discussed and tax rates given.

School board members from all interested districts, and residents are invited.

Utica to Settle Check Distribution Oct. 18

UTICA—City officials are still astir today about the distribution of the General Motors check for $1,481 given the city for payment of expenses during the recent water pollution.

Checks were sent to claimants without benefit of formal council action. The biggest furor was created by the $500 check issued to George Albrecht, head of the water board. Townspeople questioned the amount. Albrecht explained the amount as retribution for time lost from his job while the water was bad.

The council held a special meeting and asked Albrecht to return all or part of the check. Mayor Donald Havel expressed the opinion that the whole affair was handled too informally, and also asked Albrecht to return the check.

Albrecht refused.

Germans Rebuff Rearming Policy

Bremen Citizens Knock Adenauer's Wish; Elect Socialists to Majority

BREMEN, Germany (AP)—West German Socialists exulted today in a sharp rebuff handed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's rearmament policy by the voters of Bremen state.

In elections for a new State Parliament, the antirearmament Socialists yesterday captured a majority — 52 seats — in the 100-member legislature and rolled up their biggest popular vote ever in the state, a center of industry and shipbuilding.

The election campaign was fought over the Bonn government's membership in the North Atlantic Alliance and its plans to build a 500,000-man armed force for Western defense. Socialist leaders charged these pro-Western policies were blocking Soviet agreement to the reunification of Germany.

With only 46 of the 92 seats in the outgoing Parliament, the Socialists had had to govern in alliance with Adenauer's Christian Democrats and the Free Democrats.

Hoping to end the Socialists' dominance in the state, the Christian Democrats tried to capitalize on Adenauer's Moscow agreement to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviets in exchange for release of German war prisoners. "Thank the Chancellor for the return of our war prisoners . . . and give him a personal vote of confidence for his foreign policies," the CDU said.

Instead the voters elected only 18 Christian Democrats, 18 German party members, 8 Free Democrats and 4 Communists. The Nazi-tainted Refugee party and the pro-Communist Association of Germans were shut out.

Police Seek Knifer of Lake Orion Man

Troy Township police today were seeking the assailant of a 38-year-old Lake Orion man, found with 11 stab wounds early Sunday in front of a Rochester Road tavern.

The victim, Alfred S. McLaughlin, of 870 Pine Rd., was discovered lying near parked cars by a tavern patron. Neither McLaughlin or other patrons were able to tell who made the attack.

McLaughlin's condition was reported as good by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital attendants.

Police Chief David Gratopp, who was unable to question the victim because of his condition, said he plans to quiz him later today.

Detroit Child Injured in Two Car Collision

Five-month-old Theresa Demers of Detroit was reported in "fair" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today following a two-car collision Saturday at W. Maple and Farmington roads.

Theresa, who sustained a punctured lung, was riding in a car driven by her father, Robert Demers, who was treated and released, as were Mrs. Demers and Theres's two-year-old brother Patrick.

Demers said he was traveling north on Farmington road and stopped at the Maple intersection, but failed to see the car, driven by 36-year-old Norman Brackett of Wixom, which was traveling west on Maple. Brackett, who said he was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting Demers' car, was uninjured.

Locksmith Locked Out

ATLANTA (AP)—A locksmith went to work early today so he could pick the lock on the door of his store. Loy Lee, who has been a locksmith 30 years, said he installed a fine old oak door and a 50-year-old lock on his store Saturday. But when he got home he discovered he'd left the keys to the lock inside the store.

She's 71 Tomorrow

Mrs. Roosevelt Condemns Forced Retirement Plans

MIAMI, Fla. (INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who will be 71 years old tomorrow, isn't going to celebrate the occasion.

"I'm not celebrating any more birthdays until I'm 75," the former First Lady announced with a smile. "I'm not even going to think about my birthdays."

Mrs. Roosevelt isn't thinking about possible retirement either.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

In an interview with INS, Mrs. Roosevelt explained simply:

"I enjoy doing what I'm doing."

What Mrs. Roosevelt does is enough to make many other people drop with fatigue. Besides her activities as a world traveler, columnist and lecturer, Mrs. Roosevelt devotes a major part of her time to her work as a director of the American Association for the United Nations. It was this post that brought her to Miami for a speech the week before her birthday, but the birthday itself will be spent in New York as a "day off."

There will be no birthday festivities.

"People made a great fuss last year when I was 70," Mrs. Roosevelt said "but I'm counting my birthdays only in fives from now on," she added:

NO SENSE OF EMPTINESS

"Why be reminded each year that you're growing a year older?" At my age, I'd like to count only every five years."

The former First Lady says that she has had "no sense of emptiness" in her life in the years since President Roosevelt died and her grown-up children concentrated on their own families.

"I don't think older people can feel emptiness as long as they use the abilities they have," she said. "I have always had so many interests in my life that I always had more to do than time to do it in."

Mrs. Roosevelt noted that many older women feel "lost" when their children grow up and move away.

DEVELOP ABILITIES

"I think the answer is that every woman should develop her own abilities in the years when she is bringing up her children," she suggested. "Then when she has more time in later life she knows what her abilities are and can use them for an occupation and an interest in life to counterbalance the emptiness when her children are gone."

Mrs. Roosevelt advised older women to take up civic, cultural, religious or charitable work — "whatever best suits their abilities."

Mrs. Roosevelt, who wore a plain gray dress and pearls during the private interview in her Miami hotel apartment, expressed sympathy for those older people who have not had an opportunity to prepare themselves for the years after retirement.

One difficulty, she said, was that the business world has set arbitrary retirement deadlines.

"You can't set a deadline for retirement," she declared, "and I think we've made a mistake in doing so. Each person must arrange his life according to his capacity, and the 'retirement' age for each person must be judged as an individual case. Many people can still develop their abilities when they grow older."

Mrs. Roosevelt concluded by re-emphasizing her own plans after her 71st birthday: "As long as one can use the abilities one has, there is no sense of retirement."

REBELS' "BRAIN"? — Moroccan rebels, fighting the French in that protectorate's mountainous Riff area, have shown such organization that French authorities suspect their campaign is planned by someone outside the country. Named as their possible inspiration is exiled Riff leader Abd El Krim, "Lion of the Atlas," who as a rebel defied and defeated Spanish and French forces from 1921 to 1926. He is now in Cairo.

Ball Player Dies in Tavern Brawl

Howie Fox Was Pitcher in Both Major Leagues During Career

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Howie Fox, 34, who pitched for three major league baseball clubs, was stabbed to death after he ejected three young men from his tavern in the early morning hours yesterday.

Two college students and another man were booked by police. Charges were being prepared today.

Witnesses said Fox was stabbed three times in front of his tavern and died crawling toward the door. His bartender Hubert Callahan, 47, was critically slashed.

Booked for investigation of murder and assault to murder was John J. Strickland, 20, a San Antonio College student. Booked as material witnesses were Jack G. Allen, 21, also a student at the college, and Martin Belto, 27.

CUT BY FOX

Strickland had a severe cut over his right eye—caused, he told police, when he was struck by Fox with what looked to him like a miniature baseball bat.

All three made statements to police.

Officers pieced together this story:

After the fight in front of the tavern, Strickland's companions took him to City-County Hospital, where several stitches were taken above the eye. Then he went to a downtown hotel.

Later in the day, he left and police found bloody clothing in the room. Strickland then returned with his companions and a hotel clerk told them they were wanted by police. They went to the city jail.

The 6-foot-3, 195-pound hurler pitched for Cincinnati in 1944 through 1946 and again from 1948 through 1951. He was with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1952 and the Baltimore Orioles in 1954. The past season he pitched for the San Antonio Missions, A Baltimore farm club, and had three wins in eight assignments. His best year was 1950 when he won 11 and lost 8.

Alpha Beta Chapter Holds Initiation for 9 Members

Pontiac Press Photos

Marilyn Morris (right) of Ottawa drive had good reason to be surprised when she went into the comic book concession at Webster School Fall Fun Frolic since she found (left to right) Robert C. Tricker of Dick avenue, father PTA member; Mrs. Everett Cooke of Holly, a teacher, and Mrs. Thomas Hollis, PTA president of South Genesee avenue taking a sneak preview. The comics will be found in Genevieve Durfee's first grade room when the festival opens Tuesday afternoon.

Ceremony Performed at Luncheon

Meeting Conducted by Mrs. Dodson at Hotel Waldron

Highlight of the Saturday luncheon meeting of Alpha Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society was an initiation ceremony held for nine new members.

Mrs. Thomas Dodson, chairman, conducted the meeting held at Hotel Waldron.

Assisting in the initiation were Mrs. Iva O'Dell, Gertrude Ealy, Irene Olzak, Norma Bidstrup, Lorena Adams, Mrs. Max Selle, Frieda Huggett, Helen Bulla, Emily Hicks, Hazel Potts, Mrs. Irene Albright and Eva Bigsby.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Olive Lord and forming the chorus were Mrs. Ethel Kohn, Mrs. Theodore Wiersema, Honora Kinsella, Mary Panks and Aldene French.

Among the state officers present for the event was Katherine Riggs, who spoke briefly to the group.

Vote to Continue Psychiatric Work

Lambda Chi Omega Sorority voted to continue working with the Child Psychiatry Program at Pontiac State Hospital at its Thursday meeting.

As part of the program members will continue taking patients on swimming parties and will hostess the Tuesday evening 4-H Club meetings.

Delegates elected for the state convention to be held at Ann Arbor Oct. 16 were Mrs. Forrest Elwell, business delegate and Mrs. Harry Gemmel, social delegate.

She Sells Paintings at Art Parties

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some time ago, I suggested that any of my readers who have interesting home activities might write and tell me the details.

Today I received one of the most interesting letters I've ever read. It comes from Mrs. Margie Kasen, in Cranford, N. J.

Here is what she writes:

"For some time, I have been wondering if you would like to hear about my hobby, which has become quite profitable during the past year.

"Before my marriage to an American GI, I was a village schoolteacher in a little school on the outskirts of Sherwood Forest, England. My favorite subject was art. When I was not teaching it, I was studying it.

"When I came to the States, my art had to be put in the background, for I had three children in three years.

"But as the diaper-changing phase began to taper off, I had more time and began painting murals for the children on the doors and walls of their bedroom.

"When our children started to school, I painted pictures to decorate the knidergarten room and later to illustrate geography lessons, etc. Also, when asked for prizes for the school square dance, I again painted pictures—clowns, too, for the school circus.

"Paintings became useful for all kinds of occasions — baby shower gifts, house gifts, birthday gifts, Christmas and anniversary presents—and they were all greatly appreciated.

"How to make my hobby pay off was my next idea. Murals were out of the question, as my painting time is usually from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 9 to midnight.

"One evening, after spending a most enjoyable time at a plastic party demonstration in a neighbor's home, I decided to paint a collection of watercolor and poster color pictures and have my own art party. One and a half years later, in October 1954, I was ready.

"I had 80 paintings, framed, numbered and priced. They ranged from 50 cents for miniatures to five dollars. I had paintings of cowboys, ballerinas, crinoline ladies and my favorite flowers from Sherwood Forest.

MANY ORDERS

"Then I invited friends in to see my work. One party led to another. I had four in that one month, which resulted in orders that kept me busy until two days before Christmas!

"Each party starts off with an art class. Everyone has to draw something, and a prize is given for the best. We conclude each party with a musical quiz, a song-fest or an impromptu concert.

"Sometimes I'm asked why I don't just supply gift stores with my pictures, but I prefer giving my art parties. I make more friends and find it far more rewarding!"

PTA Activities

Longfellow PTA will meet Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium. A get-acquainted period will follow the business meeting.

Sarah McCarroll PTA will meet Wendesday at 1:45 p.m. The executive board will meet at 12:45 p.m.

Charlotte Hardy, instructor at the School of Education of the University of Michigan, will speak on Child Discipline at the Willis scohol PTA Thursday at 2 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Owen School PTA will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the all purpose room. Janice Antona and members of her citizenship class will give a demonstration on naturalization.

Parents Are Invited to Meet Principal

Parents of students of Eastern Junior High School will have the opportunity to meet Kenneth Nagley, new principal, at a get-acquainted open house Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Mrs. Nagley also will attend.

Mrs. Charles Neldrett, vice-president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, and past president of Eastern Junior High School PTA will also welcome Eastern's families during the evening.

Mrs. Charles Hartzman, PTA president, is chairman of the affair. Refreshments will be served by PTA members.

Les Filles Holds Membership Tea

Sally Warren, of Henry Clay avenue, was hostess to the Les Filles annual membership tea Sunday afternoon.

Holy Land Visitor Speaks at Harvest Home Banquet

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Sun-red sumac, purple tinged vines of wild grape, cattails, cornstalks and pumpkins decorated the banquet hall of First Methodist Church for the 65th annual Harvest Home Banquet, Friday.

The 500 friends and guests were seated at tables centered with yellow and green toy size wooden wheelbarrows filled with gourds, grapes, peppers and persimmons. Yellow candles lent a warm, golden glow.

Individual programs were enclosed in yellow paper wheelbarrows on which harvest fruits were hand colored.

Jeanette Church, general chairman, gave a word of welcome, thanked those who had worked with her on banquet arrangements and introduced the toastmaster, the Rev. Keith Colby of the Elmwood Methodist Church.

"When traveling in the Holy Land, it isn't what you see but what you feel," said Dr. Chester A. McPheeters, minister of Metropolitan Methodist Church, Detroit, who gave the main address.

TRAVELED ABROAD

Dr. and Mrs. McPheeters spent the summer visiting Europe and the Holy Land.

Dr. McPheeters said that as they left the airport and were being driven into Jerusalem, the cab driver remarked, "You are on the road to Samaria." All the Bible stories of Jesus on the road that he had been taught in Sunday School and had read came rushing to his mind.

He went on to tell about Israel today. Before and during World War II millions of Jews had been exterminated in Germany, including the family of the present Israeli president. At first, Yitzhak Ben-Zoi hated the Germans and vowed vengeance. But he discovered that hatred and bitterness hurt no one but himself; it poisoned his own soul.

Changing his thinking, Yitzhak Ben-Zoi gave up his hatred and has dedicated his life to building Israel into a Jewish state that will be an example for all the world.

Perc Carr, who directed community singing had everyone vocalizing on old time rounds and spirited songs. Maxine Murphy was accompanist.

The Boys' Ensemble of Pontiac High School gave several selections and Herbert Hoffman, minister of music, sang several solos.

PASTOR IN CHARGE

The highlight of the evening was the Harvest with the Rev. Paul R. Havens, who has been pastor 12 years, in charge.

Throughout the past year Sunday School classes and church organizations have worked to present offerings at the Harvest Banquet.

The gifts were brought in unique ways. Several boys, dressed in work clothes came pushing a wheelbarrow full of hay, plus a bag of money. They carried a sign "It Ain't All Hay."

Some brought their gifts in baskets of fruit. One class presented a small tree loaded with one, five and twenty dollar bills.

An adult group that has been serving fish dinners, presented a plate of fish to the pastor along with the profits.

A class of girls came in singing "Bringing in the Sheaves," and offered a bag of silver dollars.

It was disclosed that Mrs. John Rawley has attended this banquet for 30 consecutive years.

The Rev. Mr. Havens pronounced the benediction.

Assisting Miss Church as chairmen of committees were Allen Elliott, Mrs. Clayton Rule, program; Mrs. Fred Manes, publicity; Howard Crawford, tickets; Guy Emery, decorations and Perc Carr, Perc Parsons and Harry Going, gifts.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service served the dinner.

Big White Elephant March to Start Webster Festival

Fall Fun Festival week at Webster School begins tomorrow afternoon with a White Elephant march. No gift is too small nor too insignificant to be used on this yearly project.

Inasmuch as some of the objects of PTA are to promote the welfare of youth and to bring into closer relationship the home and the school that the parents may cooperate in the united effort to further the child's training, members of the Webster PTA board feel that a fair is the project to which everyone can contribute efforts and talent.

Mrs. Kenneth Long, finance chairman, is handling arrangements for the affair and each room has chosen its own project and advertised it by posters and bulletin board displays.

Beginning with a smorgasbord, visitors will have a full evening of entertainment. Because of the amount of work involved, four rooms are co-operating with the dinner arrangements. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Keith Gowan, Mrs. Matt Grahek, Mrs. David DuVall and Mrs. Roy Corwin Jr. The smorgasbord will be served from five until seven o'clock.

CARTOON THEATER

A new feature of the Webster Fair is the cartoon theater arranged by Emma Spears' fifth grade and their room mother, Mrs. Benjamin Bisgeier. Games have proven to be such a popular concession that a wide variety are included in this evening of fun.

A dart game is sponsored by Mrs. Norman Feet for Mrs. Arthur O'Neill's room and Mrs. Kenneth Madsen is planning them for Geraldine Doerfer's third grade room.

Mrs. Elmer Jewell chose games for Mrs. James Paulin's third grade room and D. G. Hamilton is handling the activities for Mrs. Donald Hinkley's fifth graders. Mrs. Allen Hawke is chairman for Carol Charles' third grade room.

A grab bag has been planned by Mrs. John Patterson and Mrs. J.R. Jenkins is arranging a beauty shop. Visitors may purchase a bag of popcorn made in Mrs. Carl Robertson's sixth grade room by Mrs. Robinson Bronoel; ride a playground tractor being sponsored by David Weathereoll's sixth grade with Mrs. Thurley Allen as chairman or enjoy a pony ride planned by Mrs. D. B. Eames for the second grade room.

LUNCH STAND

For those who cannot come early enough to enjoy the smorgasbord, hot dogs and potato chips are being sold by Mrs. Francis Larkin's kindergarten with Mrs. George Watters in charge. Pop and coffee for the quick lunch are being sold by Mrs. L. C. Howlett for Mrs. Denzel Sheppard's second grade and dessert may be purchased from two carnival concessions.

* * *

Mrs. Homer Gerue's fifth grade will have candied apples made by Mrs. John Leacher or cotton candy may be purchased from Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler's first grade under the supervision of Mrs. Forrest Wood.

Balloons, an atmosphere necessity, may be purchased in Mrs. Elsie Welch's first grade room from Mrs. James Forman, and Mrs. Addison Oakley will have ice cream in Mrs. James Jones' room.

Mrs. T. Boice Purdy will be at the candy counter in Mrs. Harold Muldowney's kindergarten room, and a baked goods counter is planned in Mrs. William Donnelly's fourth grade room sponsored by Mrs. Kenneth Gilboe.

Patrol Boys of the school under the direction of Arnold Thingstead will arrange for a checkroom and the parking lot will be in charge of Mrs. Gerald White's fourth grade fathers with Mrs. Earl Van Dyke in charge.

Verla Lee Sturgeon became the bride of George Raymond Howell at a candlelight service Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah R. Sturgeon of Bamford drive and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Howell of Pontiac drive are the parents of the bridegroom.

MRS. GEORGE RAYMOND HOWELL

Howell-Sturgeon Nuptial Held at Grace Lutheran

Wearing a gown of silk taffeta and delicate rose-point Chantilly lace, Verla Lee Sturgeon became the bride of George Raymond Howell Saturday evening.

The scooped neckline of the gown was accented with scalloped lace sprinkled with iridescent sequins and the long lace sleeves ended in points over the wrists. The bodice was fashioned of taffeta with an insert of lace which fell into the skirt forming a full front panel.

Three tiers of silk taffeta formed an overskirt, over three layers of silk and nylon tulle which fell from the center front waist around to the back forming a cathedral length train. Each tier of taffeta was appliqued with matching iridescent sequins.

Her headpiece was of beaded embroidery on a queen's crown from which extended a floor length Chapel veil of imported French illusion, edged with Chantilly lace. She wore a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and a gold wedding band, an heirloom of her grandmother. She carried stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

DOUBLE RING RITE

The 7 o'clock candlelight double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Otto Schultz in the presence of 300 guests at Grace Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah R. Sturgeon of Bamford drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Howell of Pontiac Drive.

Mrs. Robert D. Travis was matron of honor wearing a bouffant length nylon net dress in a Salvia tone with which she wore a matching stole. The gown was fashioned with a shirred bodice and full skirt featuring circle patterns of net. Her headpiece was a princess crown of delicate pink tulle and flowers.

Gwendolyn Lehmann, Joan Morang and Mrs. Joseph Zaffina were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns and headpieces were identical to the honor attendants and they carried crescent shaped bouquets of pink Fugi chrysanthemums and ivy.

FLOWER GIRL IN PINK

Nancy Windiate performed the duties of flower girl. Her gown of delicate pink net was scattered with rosebuds in the Salvia tone, harmonizing with the attendants. She wore a crown type headpiece and gauntlets in matching pink. Joseph Morang served as ringbearer.

Paul Snyder was best man and seating the guests were Kenneth Garves of East Grand Forks, Minn., Ordean Sandness of Keego Harbor, and Robert D. Travis.

Inexperienced Girl Can Manage 'Fast' Boy

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

How's a girl, without appearing a ninny, to cope with a boy who has had lots more experience than she has? If he's lived a little longer, traveled wider and faster, seen more things and met more people, he's likely to be way ahead of her.

A girl likes that. But she likes to feel that she has some power of her own. She doesn't want to be taken for a ride.

Add a bright good humor, a lively imagination and a smattering of information to the minimum of experience and a girl can hold her own. She needn't feel like horrified innocent abroad. Which, I suspect, is the way this girl is feeling. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: When a boy with a more or less fast reputation asks out a girl who is more or less inexperienced, what should she do?

"If she says 'no, no, no' to everything he'll drop her like hotcakes, and yet if she goes along with him she'll be just another one of the many.

"How does she strike a happy medium? Especially when she likes him and wants to keep him for a lot longer than just one date?"

Answer: A girl who hasn't met all the types, seen everything and felt all the emotions should not jump to conclusions when she starts being out of breath trying to catch up. She'll keep her balance if she doesn't rush.

Try being detached. Coolly discuss his plan for the evening, or his line, or his actions, with a large smile, but only medium enthusiasm. The reasonable defense.

The music at that place isn't too super, you've heard, will substitute for the bald statement that you aren't allowed to go. The picture at the drive-in isn't nearly as good as the one in town—if you want to give the drive-in a miss. A detached talk-it-over will help you get your own way.

And try teasing. On the basis that it's too fast too soon. He's the rare thing—a hurricane with a boy's name, rushing in with a swoosh and a whoops—and you don't know him that well yet. Laugh off his approaches gently while you keep your distance.

You needn't be passive—and just let things happen and go on. Hold his hand for a while, but draw your own away to get your hanky out of your purse, or put on some lipstick, then clasp your own hands.

Sit in the circle of his arm for a while, just long enough to let him know you don't think he's poison, then sit up, change your position so that you turn sideways toward him. Break things up with a logical excuse.

And all the time be breezy, gay, amusing and fun. Appreciate him, but don't be awed or scared of him. Be responsive, not docile like a lamb.

Show him that you're wide awake—on to him if not up to him. He ought to like it.

Rev. Allebach Performs Knowles-Bowhall Nuptials

The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church performed the Saturday evening wedding ceremony uniting Joan Irene Bowhall and Wallace E. Knowles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bowhall of Orlando avenue, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A Knowles of Upland avenue.

MATRON WEARS BLUE

A Windsor blue gown of crystal silk was worn by Mrs. Donald Harrison for her duties as matron of honor. Her velvet headpiece was arranged with pompons on either side and she carried a velvet ring of Japanese roses encircled with clustered bronze, yellow, gold and beige pompons.

Linda Terry, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Harold Wiggins were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns were fashioned identical to the honor attendants and they carried matching velvet rings of flowers.

Tom Walsh performed the duties of best man and seating the guests were Harry Paulson and Edward Doyle.

At the reception held immediately following the ceremony at the Amvets Hall, the bride's mother greeted her guests wearing a gown of Careso faille in a light rose color with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of feathered carnations and roses.

Enamel Art Is Featured at Gallery

One of the high points of the art show opening today at the Little Gallery in Birmingham is a fountain which sprays water over life size sculptor pieces done in the medium of enamel on copper, producing brilliant jeweled tones.

Featuring three aspects of modern art; enamel, pottery and painting, the show is open daily Monday through Saturday until Nov. 10.

Maureen Wicke of Grosse Pointe is presenting works of enamel on copper, one of the most technically difficult forms of art. Having established a national reputation for originality of design and daringness of execution, Mrs. Wicke continuously produces unexpected enamels in her search for new applications.

An arrangement of enamel birds and butterflies arranged on a wall is most suggestive of what an individual can do with a single wall in her home.

A unique display of pottery is being displayed by Polia Pillin of California. She has gained a reputation in the country for these shapes and forms she produces in pottery.

SEMI-ABSTRACTIONS

Presenting paintings which are semi-abstract and accenting bright Mexican colors is Robert Ellis. A resident of Mexico the artist is enjoying his first major show in the United States and is receiving an enthusiastic reception. At 32, Ellis' life illustrates to a remarkable degree the pattern of the artist in our time.

A wall design by Alicia Mackie of Bloomfield Hills is creating much interest. She has gained a reputation for her designs and execution of design in jewelry, working with gold and silver with or without stones.

For people seeking a different wall treatment Alicia's answer is the four dimensional wall design, an interesting feature of the show. Featuring height, width, depth and change the design can be used by itself or it is suitable with one's own personal decor.

A clock on which all emblems of the zodiac are placed on sterling silver cloisonne constituting the hours of the day attracts many visitors.

Three aspects of modern art has been arranged by Peggy Di-Salle of Birmingham.

Fragrance Shower

Give a fragrance bridal shower, inviting the guests to bring gifts of scent to the bride-to-be. Presents could range from a luxurious bottle of her favorite perfume to bath accessories such as softeners, soap, dusting powder, body lotion.

"Sure proud of my Peggy!"

I'm just as proud as a peacock of my Peggy for the efficient way she manages our home. For instance, many of her friends are still knocking themselves out scrubbing wood floors. But not my Peggy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. And I'll be hanged if Peggy's floors aren't the talk of our block. I sure have to hand it to my Peggy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax for making easy work of a tough job. And I love 'em both for it!

Simmer Chili Sauce for 2-6 Hours

Mrs. Ralph Pepper Likes to Add Celery to Tomato Mixture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We think you'll agree that we couldn't have gotten a more appropriate recipe from Mrs. Ralph Pepper than one for chili sauce.

Just the smell of cooking chili sauce sets your taste buds to tingling. Why not try this recipe with some of those tomatoes still left on the vines?

Mrs. Pepper leads a quiet life, with church her main outside activity. She loves to sew and knit. Her garden, especially her flower garden, gives her a feeling of deep satisfaction.

CHILI SAUCE
By Mrs. Ralph Pepper

1 peck tomatoes (13-14 pounds)
1 pound celery (2 bunches)
1 quart onions, chopped
3 green peppers, chopped
½ tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon dry mustard
2 sticks of cinnamon or 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 pounds brown sugar
¼ cup coarse salt
1 quart cider vinegar

Cook tomatoes 15 minutes and drain off half the juice. Chop the vegetables, tie spices in a cloth bag and add to the tomatoes. Simmer slowly to desired thickness. This will take from 2-6 hours. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes 6-8 pints.

Film covered glassware will have better luster if a few drops of ammonia are added to the rinse water.

Kids 'Cut Off Noses' to Spite Others

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

At bedtime, the children's mother gave them lollipops. To John, the older boy, she gave a red, cherry-flavored one; to Alan, the yellow, lemon-flavored kind.

But Alan wanted a red one like his brother's. He teased for it until his mother showed him the empty jar. Still dissatisfied, he suggested that she "make" John exchange with him.

When she refused, he lost his temper. He hurled his lollipop to the floor — and ran upstairs where increasing bitterness finally overwhelmed him with floods of tears.

Our grandparents called this kind of behavior "cutting off your nose to spite your face."

They were away off on its motivation.

We cut our noses off; not to spite ourselves but some other fellow. We don't want to lose our noses any more than Alan wanted to lose his lollipop.

MADDER THAN EVER

Our trouble is, we're scared to know how much we want to hurt the other fellow. So what we do is reproach him by hurting ourselves. As this inflicts pain on us instead of relieving us of our original anger, all that happens is that we get madder than ever.

Children who do not dare to attack us openly often try to hurt us by hurting themselves.

Like Alan, they will throw away the yellow candy they really want to keep in order to reproach us for not giving them the red kind. If we love them, we don't let them get tangled up in this kind of boomeranging attack on us.

We say to the child who has hurled his candy across the room, "What are you throwing your candy away for? You don't hate your candy. You hate me. You don't want to hurt the candy; you want to hurt me. All right—say so. Then go pick up your candy like a sensible child and enjoy it."

Children only put spitefulness into this kind of self-punishing action if they fear putting it into openly accusing words.

It's a grand thing to grow up aware of one's desires to accuse. Lots of people know nothing about them.

An alcoholic son, for example, may not have the faintest idea that he drinks too much to spite a dominating mother he dares not accuse.

TO SPITE HUBBY

An ailing wife may prefer not to know she's developed a costly illness to spite a husband who doesn't make enough money.

A man will make his business failures accuse his family for giving the college education to his younger brother.

Spitefulness, unacknowledged and displaced, is a most destructive force in human life. If we realize this, we never reprove a child for his open and direct accusation.

Though we may reject the charge he makes, we acknowledge his right to make it.

Margaret Jean deBeaubien and Frederick A. Burne were married Saturday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. deBeaubien, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Burne of Westford, Mass., are his parents.

MRS. FREDERICK A. BURNE

Jean DeBeaubien Becomes Bride of Frederick Burne

BIRMINGHAM — Margaret Jean deBeaubien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. deBeaubien, was married to Frederick Arlington Burne at a seven o'clock ceremony Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Burne of Westford, Mass.

Mrs. John C. Burne of Carnegie, Pa., was matron of honor and Virginia Robertson, bridesmaid. They both wore floor length gowns of aqua crystalette with matching caps and bouquets of yellow Fuji chrysanthemums. John C. Burne was his brother's best man and John deBeaubien and George Scott were ushers.

The bride chose a white satin gown with a deep neckline outlined with lace. Her full skirt fell in a sweep train and her short veil was held by a lace cap. She carried white roses with white orchids.

Mrs. Burne wore a wine crepe gown with matching hat and corsage of blush roses. Mrs. deBeaubien's gown was of Teal crystalette and her hat of matching maline.

A reception was given at Rotunda Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burne will live in Detroit.

Russia Emphasizes Multi - Apartment Building Construction for All Citizens

(Daniel Weisberg, assistant professor of real estate at Boston University, spent 28 days touring Russia. In the following article he describes what the Soviet is doing to provide housing for its crowded masses, and compares housing conditions there with those in the United States.)

By DANIEL WEISBERG
(Written for INS)

Housing is one of the major problems of the Soviet but progress is being made at a good rate. As one travels from city to city in Russia, one is impressed with the number of cranes that pepper the skies.

The emphasis is on multi-story apartment construction. Moscow apartment houses, for example, have as many as 10 stories and more.

They have to build their cities vertically rather than horizontally as we are doing in America. First, their mass transportation facilities are not adequately extended to the suburbs; second, there are relatively few automobiles; and third, the utilities do not reach out far enough. The number of automobiles quoted was 5,000,000 as against our 60,000,000.

Houses being built in the suburbs are single family homes. They represent the only private ownership in the Soviet Union. A man can build himself a home but not a 2-family house. This would involve renting to a tenant for profit and in their country it would constitute "exploiting the worker."

'DACHA' TYPE HOME

The homes in this category which are built are mostly of the "Dacha" type. They consist of two, three or four rooms. Some have toilet facilities but a very great number of them, an outhouse. They resemble our summer cottage type of structure.

They are built of four types of material, a pre-cut log cabin construction, a normal wood frame building, an adobe brick structure, or a type of cinder block, somewhat different than ours. They are by far inferior to our average single family house built in the past 10 years.

In a city like Stalingrad, which was completely destroyed during the war, the pre-fabricated concrete slab technique is now being introduced in apartment house construction. Plans call for the manufacture next year of concrete slabs for single family houses.

GUARANTEED CONSUMPTION

These apartment projects are now being built by the pre-fabricated concrete slab method. Unlike our use of this method, their slabs are poured at a factory and transported to the job. A plant totally devoted to concrete slabs can cut costs considerably. These plants involve a tremendous investment of capital and probably can only work in the Soviet Union.

They have a guaranteed consumption of their entire production. The government owns the plant, constructs the building, and is the landlord upon completion. They, therefore, control the method of construction.

In our country, each contractor makes his free choice of the construction method. This means there would not be enough apartment construction to absorb the output of this most expensive plant.

RENT BY INCOME

The city of Stalingrad, for example, has been building at the rate of 150,000 square meters of living space per year without pre-fabricated slabs. Next year they will build six of these concrete slab plants whose production will permit them to double their construction 300,000 square meters.

Rents in the Soviet Union are levied not on the location of the building or its age or quality but on the earning capacity of the individual tenant. The lowest income earner will pay approximately $3 per month and the highest $12 per month.

The Russians don't lose an opportunity to tell an American how cheap their rents are and how expensive ours are by contrast. They are fooled, however. They don't realize that the same outfit that rents them an apartment for $3 or $12 a month, also charges them the equivalent of two weeks salary for a pair of shoes or a month and a half's salary for an overcoat. They give it to them on one end and take it away on the other.

There is this to say. They are building at a tremendous rate and are making great inroads into the solution of their housing problem but they certainly have a great distance to go if they are going to solve their acute shortage and eliminate their slums.

Soviet Returns German PWs

118 Repulse Pressure of Red Government to Stay With East

CAMP FRIENDLAND, Germany (AP)—A group of 118 returning German prisoners of war who defied Communist pressure to settle in East Germany arrived at this West German repatriation camp today.

So far 310 prisoners of the Soviets released in East Germany have won their way to West Germany instead.

Another 138 were taken to West Berlin at their demand, among them Heinz Linge, Hitler's valet.

The new arrivals at Friedland and Berlin were among 610 who came in from the Soviet Union to the East German repatriation camp at Fuerstenwalde Saturday. The Russians wanted to free them there on the grounds that their prewar homes were in East Germany.

One said: "At Fuerstenwalde high Communist functionaries and people's police tried to persuade us to remain in East Germany.

"They even hurried some of our closest relatives—some we had not seen in more than 10 years—to meet us at the camp and try to get us to stay but we refused."

11 Get Promotions in National Guard

Foliage of Fall Beckons to Residents

Another autumn foliage color tour of approximately 45 miles, and with no left turns, takes you through sections of Oakland County now quite resplendent in a great variety of hues.

It is on good pavement, with the exception of about six miles of excellent dust-treated gravel, and combines lake and wooded views and many hills and valleys that are entrancing.

The route is west from the court house on Huron Street, which merges into Highland Road (M-59), for a distance of 17 miles.

Just after you pass under the railroad viaduct, turn right into the Milford-Holly Road eight miles to the Davisburg Road, where you turn right four miles to the white church just as you are entering Davisburg.

At this church you turn right on Andersonville Road eight miles, to the Dixie Highway at Waterford, on which you turn right eight miles to Pontiac.

Discuss Change in Patent Laws

Inquiry Begun to Evolve Methods to Encourage Attic Inventors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators and prominent witnesses gathered for a discussion today on what patent law changes might help the inventor and promote America's scientific progress.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), chairman of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee conducting the $50,000 inquiry, said in announcing the round table hearing over the weekend that he hopes to have legislative recommendations for Congress next year.

LAWS STIFLE

The senator said he believes the present laws, last revised in 1952, tend to stifle the enterprise of small-time "attic" inventors who have contributed heavily to engineering advances of the past 50 years.

He said the U.S. Patent Office lacks the money and manpower to process speedily the thousands of patent applications it receives, and that the normal lag between application and granting of a patent now is four years.

Newsmen Laud Ike's Physician

Dr. Paul Dudley White Fascinates Reporters With Wry Diplomacy

DENVER (AP)—If they are really searching for candidates for president, the Denver White House press corps might cheerfully nominate Dr. Paul Dudley White.

Reporters aren't too sure he has all the necessary political background—and he'd be the last to say that he has—but he's a whiz at a news conference.

Age might be a handicap in most cases, but the dry-humored 69-year-old heart specialist from Boston carries his years lightly, answers medical questions straight from the shoulder and preserves a complete calm.

He captivated his audience at a news conference yesterday — just as he did a little less than two weeks before, That followed his first examination of President Eisenhower soon after the President's attack of coronary thrombosis.

He may lack political background, but he is learning fast. For instance, yesterday he anticipated a question whether Eisenhower could run again, if he wanted to. Dr. White had run into complications on that score before.

"The ultimate future," he said in that dry voice of his, "appears favorable, but any further questions asked me about what I think he might do a year from now, any such question, is unanswerable."

The last time he talked with the newsmen here Dr. White said it was "conceivable" that, barring complications, the President would be "physically able" to run again.

Reminded of this yesterday, he came back with:

"I didn't say that he was going

He added that what he said two weeks ago was based on whether the President "had a complete recovery." And even now, he continued, "it is too early to say" whether that will be the case.

He explained too why the President's breakfast menu includes "beef bacon" so often.

"Beef bacon has less fat than bacon bacon," he observed.

He even volunteered that sometime, after some of the pressure has passed away, he may do something about some of the reflections he has written about "coronary thrombosis in the presidency."

"But" he concluded, "they are not suitable for this conference at the moment."

Molotov's Public Admission of Error May Spell End of His Diplomatic Role

MOSCOW (AP)—A cloud has blown up over the future of V. M. Molotov, the veteran Soviet foreign minister, less than three weeks before the opening of the Geneva foreign ministers' conference.

The Old Bolshevik has admitted making a mistake on an obscure point in Communist ideology and Western diplomats here today were trying to guess what is afoot.

Possibilities mentioned ranged from a shift in Soviet foreign policy to a new struggle for power in the ruling circle.

"The ideological point raised is so obscure that it seems his recantation can only be a pretext for disassociating Soviet foreign policy from a man with whom the Presidium does not agree," said one Western observer.

MOLOTOV FLUBS

He added that there was no apparent reason for "such a quick solution as discrediting a man who has been foreign minister for 15 years."

In a 500-word letter printed by the magazine Communist, Molotov confessed he had made a mistake in a speech to the Supreme Soviet Feb. 8 when he referred to the Soviet Union as a country where "the foundations of socialist society already exist."

What he should have said, he explained, was that the Soviet Union has already built a socialist society superstructure and is ready to proceed to communism.

Such an error, he said, was theoretically and politically dangerous, and a contradiction of numerous official party decisions.

PECULIAR TIME

The Supreme Soviet to which Molotov spoke was the one at which Georgi Malenkov resigned as premier and also confessed faults.

One Western diplomat said it was a "peculiar time" for the foreign minister to admit errors publicly, just before the Geneva meeting. This source added that he wondered if Molotov would represent the Soviet Union there.

Even if he does go, the diplomat said, he has been downgraded to "just a messenger boy."

Rubber Union Chiefs Talk Contract Details

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Rubber Workers Union reportedly was trying to end a 3-day walkout today after 1,000 United States Rubber Co. tire builders voted yesterday to accept a new national contract.

Taking no formal action on the walkout, the workers voted to accept a 12-cent general wage increase, an additional 8 cents for skilled workers, plus a little over a penny an hour per worker to be distributed as the employes wish.

The walkout began at 3 p.m. Friday and has idled more than 5,000 workers. However, yesterday's meeting was called to act on ratification of the contract, not the strike. The current average wage was not available.

Another meeting has been scheduled Sunday by the union to decide on distribution of the hourly wage per worker under the new contract.

Red-Freed Americans En Route to United States

HONG KONG (AP)—Three American civilians freed by the Chinese Communists were en route to the United States today aboard the liner President Cleveland.

They were Robert Howard Parker, 82, of Philadelphia, Pa., a retired businessman; Miss Sarah Perkins, 63-year-old missionary of Charleston, S. C., and 13-year-old Emma Angelina Barry, child of an American father and a white Russian mother.

Claims Chances Are 50-50 Ike Will Run Again

CORONA DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—There is an "even, 50-50 chance that President Eisenhower will run for re-election," says J. Howard Pyle, a presidential assistant.

The former Arizona governor did not elaborate on the statement in addressing Orange County Republicans yesterday except to say:

"If God will spare this man for us for a few more years, we will see a new era of international peace."

Pyle said the Democratic party will put an estimated 25 million dollars into the 1956 campaign while "the Republicans will do well to muster three million dollars." The recipe for GOP success, he asserted, is to "go out house-to-house and person-to-person and tell the truth about the party."

Churchill Claims Survival Rests on U.S.-British Unity

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill says the safety of the world depends on "the essential and fundamental unity of the English-speaking people."

This unity, he says, is "not at the expense of other countries, nor by the creation of elaborate machinery, but as the natural realization of a great truth."

Britain's wartime Prime Minister spoke by recording last night at the annual Freedom House dinner as the recipient of its 1955 Freedom Award for services to the cause of freedom.

Churchill said:

"At all times when America and the British Commonwealth have stood together, things have gone more or less right for us. Whenever we have drifted apart in the present century we have met with calamity, and we have had to come closer together to save ourselves from destruction.

"What improvement there may have been during the past few years in international affairs we owe to the unity of the Western world and to the sacrifices we have made to maintain a strong, bold and united front.

"If this improvement continues, there may well be felt on either or both sides of the Atlantic a temptation to drift apart again, and for nations to go their own way.

"Nothing could be more disastrous than that, and it would surely lead sooner or later to a catastrophe such as mankind has never known."

Saying the United States and Britain are closer today than ever before, Churchill declared:

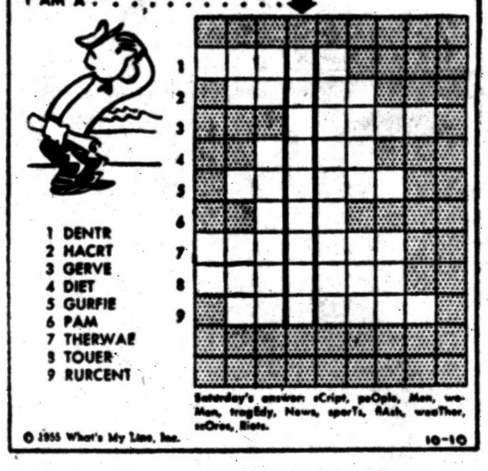

"That is the most significant fact of this postwar era, and as long as it continues so, we need fear no foe."

Freedom House, which was incorporated in 1941, is dedicated to perpetuation the "one world" concepts of the late Wendell L. Willkie.

Truck & Coach Firemen Cut Down on Plant Blazes

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

Quickly and coolly, a workman sets aside his paint gun and takes a fire extinguisher from its nearby bracket.

Calmly, and using the same skill with which he applies paint, the worker shoots a cloud of carbon dioxide over the flaming motor.

In seconds, the blaze is out. A potentially costly fire has been nipped, thanks to the painter's fire-fighting ability.

That ability didn't come naturally. The painter is one of 250 GMC employes comprising 18 volunteer fire brigades at the big factory.

Each man has received from four to six hours of what GMC Fire Chief Kenneth E. Goodell calls "the ABCs of fire fighting."

Goodell, who has six regular firefighters in his command, says these simple lessons provide each brigade member with a sound background for quick and competent fire fighting.

The men learn which type extinguisher to use for different fires and how to correctly handle each device. They also learn what fire hazards to watch for. And they are taught artificial respiration and how to handle injured persons.

It is, a fire-fighters' axiom that the first five minutes of a blaze are the most important. If the flames can be brought under control within that time, chances of a major fire are reduced almost to zero.

With that in mind three years ago, Goodell conferred with Harvey M. Johns, plant protection supervisor, and Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director. They came up with a plan for individual volunteer brigades throughout the sprawling plant.

It was reasoned that there would be more teamwork and interest in a smaller unit and that reaction time probably would be quicker should fire break out in an area the volunteers were completely familiar with.

Along with the establishment of individual brigades came the idea for a yearly event in which the units could compete in battling simulated factory-type fires.

At this year's event, held recently at the division's athletic field, the competitors—one from each team—first fought excelsior fires using soda and acid extinguishers.

Then the excelsior was rekindled and the men used water-type extinguishers.

Next, using CO-2 units, the contestants raced against stop watches to extinguish flaming buckets of paint thinner.

In other competition, the men used dry chemicals, carbon tetrachloride and foam to put out fires which sent clouds of black smoke billowing from large thinner-covered pans.

Effectiveness of the program—and the competition—is shown in the dramatic decline in "chargeable" fires at the plant.

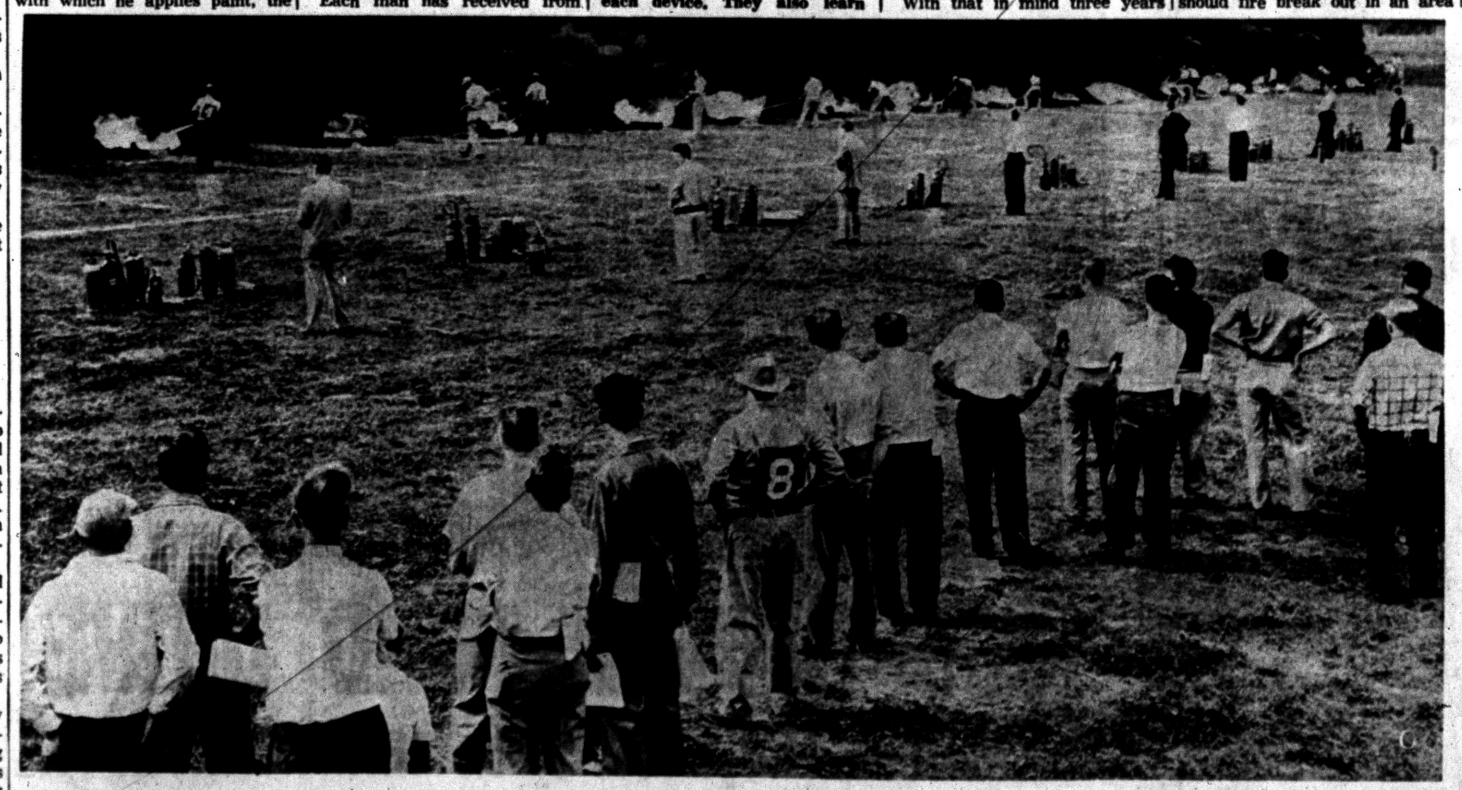

In 1953, there were 62 fires which caused damage over $25, thus falling into the chargeable category. In 1954, the total was down to 11. And so far this year, Goodell proudly reports there has been but one.

"Our annual contest is not just another sporting event," Goodell says. "It is designed to give members of the volunteer brigades practice in extinguishing fires under pressure.

"Contestants walk, not run, to the extinguishers and then to the fires. They are penalized pointwise if they break stride and are disqualified if they don't completely extinguish the flames.

"We don't want our men to panic."

The volunteer's remarkable record indicates that Goodell need lose little sleep over that possibility.

GM FIREFIGHTERS IN ACTION — Volunteer firemen from GMC Truck & Coach division's 18 fire brigades battle paint thinner fires with carbon tetrachloride in the third annual Fire Brigade Contest, held recently. Judges with stop-watches (standing, behind fire extinguishers) time each contestant to determine how fast he extinguishes his fire. The brigade with the speediest fire-fighters wins a rotating trophy.

Mickey Cohen Free; Off to Los Angeles

STEILACOOM, Wash. (AP)—Mickey Cohen is on his way back to Los Angeles, where his name used to be mentioned in connection with rackets before he served almost four years for income tax evasion.

The pudgy and balding Cohen was freed from McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary yesterday.

He stepped off a launch, legged it two blocks trying to evade reporters, then met four men, including his brother Harry, a Chicago construction man. His first words were: "Where the hell you guys been?"

The quartet dashed to Harry Cohen's blue Cadillac. Then Mickey told reporters he was going back to Los Angeles. He told a Los Angeles Examiner reporter he was thinking of opening a bar and grill in Beverly Hills or the so-called Miracle Mile.

I Don't Want You to Go Into Bars, D'Ya Hear Me!

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Gertrude French Carwile, 33, and her husband, affectionately known as "Junior," languished in county jail here today, as remorseful—said the jailers—as anybody you ever saw.

Junior wanted "Just one more beer" yesterday and Gertrude objected. But he entered the Little Wheel drive-in minus Gertrude's approval.

She drove their car through a storm door first in her attempt to stop junior—but missed. So she made a circle, knocked down 12 feet of wall and drove 22 feet into the barroom, scattering some 20 customers.

Still Junior hadn't put that bottle down. Gertrude jumped out of the car, grabbed a plank and began swinging it at Junior. She hit him once, detaching him from the brown bottle.

Crash Victim Recovery Task Almost Complete

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—The arduous task of recovering and bringing down the last of 66 persons killed in a United Air Lines crash near here last Thursday was expected to end today.

In all, 36 victims of the nation's most tragic commercial air disaster have been lowered off the 12,005-foot peak. They were taken to a temporary morgue in a University of Wyoming science camp about six miles below.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Did Rise Stevens 'Yelp' During 'Carmen'?

Music Critics Standing Pat on Writing What They Hear During Performance

It isn't necessarily that John Public is "wrong" when his ears disagree.

"We simply have no interest in the public's reaction," said Harold Schonberg of the New York Times. "We have no fancy idea about moulding the public's taste. Like any other reporter, we write what we hear."

As for Miss Stevens, Schonberg and others acknowledged she has come along very nicely since the panning she took early in her career from a San Francisco critic. She is a world renowned nightingale today.

And the panning and praising profession has strayed not one inch from its policy of describing the sweet and the sour in proper terms.

So what makes a music critic tick? What type of fellow is he? How does he operate? How does he recognize a good composition or a good rendition What makes a good music critic?

The answers to these questions were easily rounded up at the workshop, where about 40 critics from around the country are gathered.

Schonberg, John Rosenfield of the Dallas Morning News, Miss Lenore Crawford of the Toronto, Ont., Free Press and Carter Harman of Time Magazine pulled themselves out of the crowd to supply some of them.

They are genuinely amused by their "long hair" reputation. And, indeed, looking around, there was a goodly number of crew-cuts among delegates.

"Take Schonberg there," Harman said. "He's a he-man fisherman when he can get away from the office. He flew in a DC3 during the war—a paratrooper, if you please."

The workshop whitewashed one other misconception of the critic. He does, too, know how to applaud.

The cheering and applause was sharp and sincere when Louisville hosts passed around personalized bottles from a Louisville bourbon factory.

Luxury Liner Docks Near Detroit Park

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit has approved temporary docking plans for the Great Lakes luxury liner, Aquarama.

The converted ocean-going freighter has scheduled operation between Detroit and Cleveland for next summer. The ship is so large that special docking facilities are needed to handle it.

Under temporary docking facilities the ship will tie up at the foot of the Parkside Playfield at the foot of Detroit's West Grand boulevard.

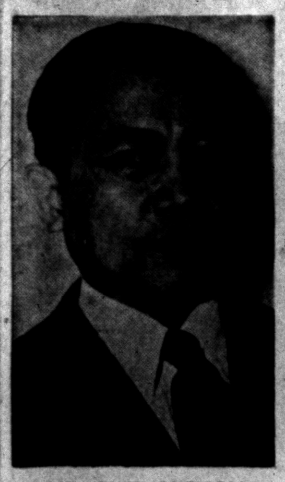

Owners of the Aquarama hinted they would operate out of another port if Detroit failed to come up with necessary docking space by next spring.

... And They Shall Have Music ...

These Are the Men Who Make You Sing

These are the men who have made you laugh and cry, with "Ol' Man River," "Oh What a Beautiful Mornin'" and "Some Enchanted Evening." Today Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein are kings of Broadway. How do they do it? What are the secrets of their success? Charles P. Arnot of INS takes you backstage, into their homes, to show you this team in action, from failure to triumph after triumph. This is the first of five articles.

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. — These are the men whose words and music have been sung by two generations of Americans, by millions around the world.

Remember?—"Lover Come Back to Me," "Ol' Man River," "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," "The Last Time I Saw Paris."

These are but a few of 265 published songs for which Oscar Hammerstein wrote the lyrics before he teamed with composer Rodgers.

Remember?—"My Heart Stood Still," "With a Song in My Heart," "Love Me Tonight," "Where or When," "I Married An Angel," "This Can't Be Love."

It seemed inevitable that Hammerstein's words would find their way to Rodgers' melodies. When it happened, the music world was electrified with songs—witty and sad, simple and sophisticated.

Is there anyone who hasn't hummed, sung, played or heard: "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin'," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "If I Loved You," "Some Enchanted Evening."

Both Rodgers and Hammerstein work hard, shun night spots, love their families, indulge in no excesses and deny their renowned creative talent is genius. If a show falls short, they never blame critics—they blame themselves.

MUSICAL PARTNERSHIP

After 12 years, this most successful musical partnership since W. S. Gilbert stopped speaking to Sir Arthur Sullivan, remains clear-headed, human, warm and sentimental.

Hammerstein's short-cut hair has become a little greyer, Rodgers' a little thinner. At 60, Hammerstein's blood pressure is the same as at 21. The 53-year-old Rodgers has just come through a successful jaw operation.

Tomorrow they "gamble"—to use their own word—their most valuable property, "Oklahoma!" in a brand new film process with a brand new cast.

Then on Nov. 30 their seventh musical play, "Pipe Dream," the life and love along John Steinbeck's rugged Cannery Row, will be introduced to Broadway.

They've taken audiences everywhere from the factories of New England ("Carousel") to the wartime tropics ("South Pacific.")

Rodgers and Hammerstein still remember empty seats in the St. James Theater in 1943. New York's once-gay White Way had surrendered to Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia's wartime dimout.

In the last row on the center aisle, a square-cut man—a glint of professional approval in his eyes—quietly finger-drummed the tempo of his own familiar music with the self-critical ear of an expert. Richard Rodgers was "scared to death."

That was the magic night "Oklahoma!" moved into the heart of America, and became part of it.

First-nighters streamed out onto dimmed-out Broadway humming "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," the first song Rodgers and Hammerstein ever wrote for the Broadway stage. Now, some 4,500 "Beautiful Mornings" later, they've traveled a full cycle and "Oklahoma!" is coming back to Broadway.

WORLD PREMIERE

The world premiere of "Oklahoma!" as a motion picture—the first Rodgers and Hammerstein musical on the screen—will assemble in Broadway's Rivoli Theater 1,600 of the season's best gowned, coiffeured and black-tied dignitaries.

Rodgers and Hammerstein formed their own motion picture production company, hand-picked the cast and spent—one or the other—every minute on the set during the seven months of filming.

It's made in a revolutionary new screen process, known as "Todd-Ao," named for Broadway Producer Michael Todd who is credited with the idea, and the American Optical Company which developed the system.

It took three years and $4 million to develop Todd-Ao. It uses only one camera and one projector, and a single strip of film 70 mm. wide, giving three and one-half times the photographic area of the standard 35 mm.

PART OF REVOLUTION

When "Oklahoma!" flashes on the Rivoli's deep-curved, wide-angle screen, the backers will be launching a $12 million investment. There have been some estimates that it will have a three-year Broadway run alone and gross overall a record $75 million.

It's all part of the revolution which swept the American musical theater when Rodgers first put his music to Hammerstein's words.

To Rodgers, a sort of dynamo among composers, their merger was an "explosion."

"What happened between Oscar and me was almost chemical," he recalls.

To Hammerstein, a shy musical poet, it was "an incredibly smooth and happy professional union."

Explosion or union, the musical meeting set off a chain reaction that has cracked the international sound barrier and left translators across half the world puzzling how to capture the local idiom of "Wonderful Guy" and "Nothin' Like a Dame."

Tomorrow: That fateful day in the fall of 1943—the birthday of "Musical Americana."

Aircraft Export Parts

NEW YORK—The American aircraft industry sold more than $618,900,000 worth of aircraft and parts to foreign countries during 1954, the second highest export volume in its history, but nearly $260,000,000 below the all-time high set in 1953.

However, this export figure is equal to well over three times the total dollar value of all aircraft shipped abroad in all the years before World War II.

There, You See — the Tooth Fairy Really Is Alive

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Eight-year-old Jeannie Marie Celidonio was missing a tooth today but she still has her dog, Bobo, and an unshakable faith in the Tooth Fairy.

Bobo jumped out of the family car in a downtown section and disappeared Wednesday. The heartbroken Jeannie wiggled a loose baby tooth out and put in under her pillow with the note:

"Dear Tooth Fairy, I don't want any money, just send back my Bobo."

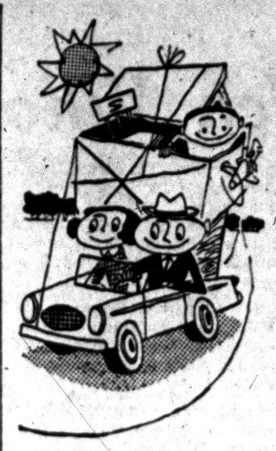

And the Tooth Fairy, the spirit who trades rewards for baby teeth, came through nobly. Pasadena Juvenile Lt. Elmer Wallace returned Boby yesterday. He explained the pooch had followed his daughter home from school.

State Plans All-Out War on Pesky Gypsy Moths

LANSING (AP)—The state expects to spray more than twice as much land for gypsy moths next spring than was sprayed this year.

The state, attempting to locate the extent of gypsy moth infestation, set traps in a one and three quarter million acre area in central Michigan.

Federal authorities will be asked for $60,000 in funds to supplement $50,000 earmarked by the Legislature this year for gypsy moth control.

An estimated 18,000 people moved into Oakland County each year during the five year period from 1950 to 1954. This fact is shown in the population studies of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Convictions for Violating Food Laws Hit State High

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department said today it obtained 100 convictions for violations of state food laws in September, the highest number of convictions in three years.

Miles A. Nelson, chief of the department's enforcement division, said only one of the cases brought to court was dismissed.

Of the total number of convictions, 48 were for misbranding food products, 11 for insanitary conditions in eating places, 28 for adulterating food products, nine for failure to buy state apple stamps and four for miscellaneous offenses.

Sugar is used as a raw material in about 87 industries.

American Families Earned $4,175 in '54

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government says the average American family earned $4,173 last year, slightly less than in 1953 but almost $300 more than in 1952.

The Census Bureau, which made the estimates, said the increase since 1952 "probably represented a significant gain in purchasing power for the average family since prices rose only slightly during the same period."

Income, according to this report, is the combined total monetary income earned by all members of the family during the calendar year. The figures are based on sample surveys by the Census Bureau.

The report said about 16 million of the 42 million families in the nation had incomes of $5,000 or more in 1954 while eight million had incomes under $2,000.

Ex-Official of Texas U., Dr. W. J. Battle, Dies

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP)—Dr. William James Battle, whose 62-year tenure at the University of Texas included being a bookstore operator and interim president, died here yesterday after a long illness. He was 84.

Funeral services were scheduled today. Burial will be in Raleigh.

Dr. Battle, born in Raleigh, was the son of Dr. Kemp Plummer Battle, president of the University of North Carolina from 1871-92.

On Way to Governor for Signature; Name Dec. 6 to Vote

MADISON HEIGHTS — A new Madison Heights Charter was signed by the nine members of the Charter Commission, at a special session held on Saturday, and is now on its way to Lansing for Gov. Williams' approval or rejection, said acting Mayor Virginia M. Colberg this morning.

Dec. 6 is the voting date, when residents will either accept or reject the city law.

In the meantime, at 1:30 today, the whole charter commission will appear before Oakland County circuit judges, sitting as a three-man tribunal.

John Archambault, president of the Madison Citizens league, which has opposed the first charter, has asked the court to prohibit work on the new charter until the validity of petitions asking for election of a new charter commission has been determined.

Woodward PTA to Get-Together Tonight at School

ROCHESTER — The Woodward PTA meets this evening at 7:30 in the Woodward School. The first half hour will feature a get together period of parents and teachers. The regular meeting will take place in the school basement at 8 p.m.

Mr. John Addison of the Scott-Forsman Publishing Co. will speak on "Why reading is taught as it is, in the early elementary grades."

The executive board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Jerome, 157 Ferndale.

Conference Scheduled by Methodist Churches

IMLAY CITY—The first quarterly group conference of Medhodist Churches will be held at First Methodist Church, here, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Lapeer Chest Begins Drive on October 17

LAPEER—The Lapeer Community Chest begins its annual drive for funds on Monday, Oct. 17. The quota this year is $8,000, which is $850 less than last year.

Rod Parsch was re-elected president of the Community Chest; Curt Bishop, re-elected secretary-treasurer and Lyle Jones, vice-president. Chairman of the house-to-house drive for Tuesday, Oct. 18, are Naomi Beardsley and Mrs. Mary Potter.

Utica Has Dedication for New High School

UTICA — Dedication of the new Utica Community High School was held in the school yesterday.

Guest speaker was a Utica High Alumnus from 1921, Albert L. Lumley, professor of athletics and physical education at Amherst College, Amherst, Mass. Lumley compared the difference in schools and attitudes from old days to today.

Hundreds passed through to view the new school during the open house scheduled from 2 p.m. till 6.

Father Weiler will lead a Cana conference for married couples following the mission on Sunday and Monday Oct. 16-17 in the church hall. The two hour sessions will begin at 8 p.m. each evening.

All interested persons, Catholic and non-Catholic, are invited to attend.

Hold Boy Scout Court

ROCHESTER — Troop No. 40 Boy Scouts will hold a court of honor at 7:30 tonight in the undercroft of St. Phillip's Episcopal Church.

Lapeer to Write New Charter

LAPEER — Lapeer City commission last week named nine men to write a new city charter. They are asked to complete the job by the first of the year so that it may be submitted to the voters at the April election.

There must be a 90-day interval between its completion and a vote.

The city is now operating under a charter adopted in 1919. Changes in state laws since that time have nullified some sections of the charter.

Hollywood Headlines

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Rita Hayworth will be back in Hollywood in November or early December to check in at Columbia for "Joseph and his Brethren." She'll ask for Glenn Ford as her co-star.

No statement is being issued by the legal department on either side until her case against Columbia, and vice versa, is withdrawn. But you can take my word for it, the case will be settled.

Unofficially, it's whispered that Rita has been advised by her attorney, and Abe Lastfogel, her representative, to fill her contract for two pictures at Columbia, which makes her free for a United Artists contract.

Julie London, the ex-Mrs. Jack Webb, believes in taking her case right to the judge and the jury. She left Sunday night to visit disc jockeys, radio and TV commentators in five key cities to plug her record, "Cry Me a River."

As soon as she gets back, she will go into "The Case Against Joe" a modern mystery drama being produced by Aubrey Schenck and Howard Koch for Allied Artists. Julie won't sing a note, even though there will be music in the film—but will give forth with eye-filling dramatics.

The one-day absence of Cameron Mitchell from the set threw 20th Century-Fox into a dither. Cam had been extremely nervous and they feared he would not be able to return for the 40 days additional shooting on "Carousel."

BLOOD COUNTS

His physician, Dr. E. Lindeman Aberg, was taking blood counts all day. His diagnosis was appendicitis, and producer Harry Ephrom and Dr. Lee Siegel were assured that Mitchell could finish the picture, but that he should have an appendectomy after the picture is finished.

Cam is still separated from his wife and four children and was in such secret hiding that the studio had difficulty finding him.

U. S. Arms Plan Adoption Seen

Stassen Predicts Result of Disarmament Idea Will Weld Nations

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Harold E. Stassen says he is convinced the adoption of a dependable arms inspection disarmament plan "can well prove to be the magnet which will draw the East and West together in a genuine spirit of cooperation."

He said "heartening results" had come out of the recent United Nations subcommittee meetings on disarmament at which he represented the United States.

OPTIMISTIC

In a talk at a citywide Protestant laymen's rally last night, he said:

"I am optimistic because mankind has never faced the extreme alternatives of today. On the one side, if man stumbles into nuclear war, the unimaginable devastation of that conflict could set back civilization by centuries. On the other side, if assured peace is attained, the beneficial results of this same nuclear energy will advance human welfare in all nations beyond man's dreams."

Stassen said the general principle of arms inspection had been accepted and "the inspection procedures outlined by the President are being reviewed carefully by the Soviet leaders along with provisions for ground inspection."

* * *

He added that immediate results should not be expected since "many other difficult and major differences must be ironed out".

Doubts Soviets Utilize All Data Spies Collect

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, says he thinks the Russians are good at collecting but he doubts they make the best use of what they learn.

In an interview with Rep. Keating (R-NY), filmed for television broadcast in New York state, Dulles said yesterday he sees no evidence the Russians have slackened their efforts "in the covert field an the field of subversion" since the Geneva summit conference.

"I think they're good in collecting. I'm not awful sure they're good in analyzing. I don't think the people who analyze the intelligence they get know these other countries well enough."

Humphrey Bogart Quits Fight Career for Good

"Women today aren't what they used to be; they used to be girls."—H. G. Hutcheson.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Humphrey Bogart's made several trips to N. Y. without pushing anybody's face in — so I formally notified him that he's getting dull.

★ ★ ★ ★

"You're becoming boringly respectable," I told him. "When you going to flatten somebody again?"

"I've retired from fighting," yawned Bogie. Up in his suite at the St. Regis, he was sitting with his shoes and socks off, to show his sexy feet, and his hat on, for reasons of his own. "I'm getting old.

"I stay out of the Stork and El Morocco, those trouble spots. I go to '21' or to the Pavilion — who'm I going to fight at the Pav — Mrs. Vanderbilt?"

Lauren Bacall swept into the room. I asked her if she'd tamed Bogie to this lamentable meekness.

"It's age!" she said, tossing her head. "He's just turning 56, and when he turns 65 . . . oooooooh, boy-eee! But," she added, "we do have the Hollywood rat pack. I'm the den mother!"

"What are its aims?"

"It's aims are to drink a lot of bourbon and stay up late," Miss Bacall said. "Sid Luft, Judy Garland and Frank Sinatra are in it."

"You have to be a little musical," Boyle explained.

"I heard you invited Sidney Skolsky to be a fellow rat?"

"What!" scoffed Bogie. "Do you know we caught him eating a chocolate eclair and drinking beer with it!"

★ ★ ★ ★

"Oh, drop dead," heckled Bogie.

"No kiddin', a lot of the critics think so."

"You guys been out buying up a few votes," Bogie returned.

"By the way," said the young man from Paramount when we left, "was he natural like this before he hit the top?"

"He's always been natural since I've known him, but then he's always been at the top since I've known him," I said.

"Maybe that's why," the young man said.

ANN ARBOR—While a sellout crowd of some 97,239 watched in the stands at University of Michigan's huge football ampitheater Saturday afternoon, a highly-regarded West Point Army Eleven went down to a surprising 26-2 defeat.

Army's big club moved into the stadium a slight favorite over the Wolverines because of a high-scoring record this fall, and because Michigan had never before won a game in the long series with the Cadets.

But this was the day.

And out of the contest arose a new, shining star on the Wolverine roster.

For tall, 175-pound Terry Barr, personally set the Cadets down, by his two touchdowns. The second took all the hopes away from the West Point crew by the very brilliance and audacity of it.

Barr had grabbed a pass from Jim Maddock in the 1st period, after an Army fumble on the 45. Terry took the ball to the one, and then went over for the tally.

Near the midpoint of the 2nd period Barr took a long punt by Army's Vinc Barta, on his own 18, skirted, dodged and outran the Army for a TD. Michigan's alert players quickly set up the necessary blocks to break Barr past midfield. From there he was on his own.

At the Army 40 Terry slanted sharply toward the middle of the field. Barta, the safety man, came up to meet him, but Terry swinghipped by and bolted for the goal line and the counter. The play covered 82 yards.

Army never had the same drive after that play.

Michigan scored twice in the final period, for good measure. Army collected its two points in the waning minutes of the game when 3rd string quarterback Johnny Greenwood was downed back of the goal on an attempted pass play.

U. of M.'s last TDs were made by Ed Shannon from the one, and by Jimmy Pace after a recovered Army fumble on the 22. Pace went four yards around end.

Army suffered from a bad case of fumbleitis. And the virus hit the Wolverines, too. In the 3rd period at one time the ball changed hands four times in succession, with "M" finally ending the comedy of errors with its 3rd touchdown. Army fumbled nine times. Michigan three. Michigan recovered eight Army bobbles, Army two of the UM miscues.

While he was not called on to do much more than average duty, early in the game, Michigan's brilliant All-America candidate, Ron Kramer, went out on the runback by Barr in the 2nd period. He was bruised in a hard block on an Army tackler, helping clear the way for Barr's 82-yard dash.

Kramer Hurt; Out of Action for This Week

All-America Candidate Bruised in Hard Block on Army Tackler

ANN ARBOR (AP)—End Ron Kramer, who suffered a bruised chest in the 26-2 romp over Army, will miss Michigan's game against Northwestern this Saturday.

"He's out for sure but may be back for Minnesota the following week," said Wolverine coach Bennie Oosterbaan. "His injury isn't serious."

Doctors at University Hospital said Kramer had only bruises—no cracked ribs as at first feared.

The giant end from East Detroit sprawled near midfield while the sellout crowd of 97,239 was still cheering Barr's exploits. Kramer was in obvious pain as he walked from the field.

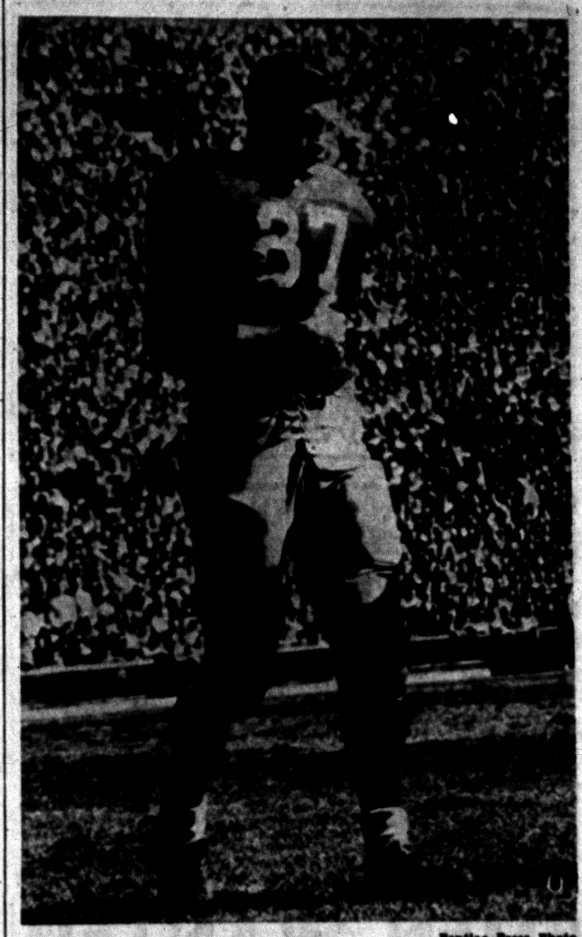

Kramer missed the final 38 minutes and, even without him, Michigan pushed Army all over the field, forcing the Cadets to fumble an unbelievable nine times.

If anything, Kramer's injury gave Michigan a chance to prove it is no one-man team, and the Wolverines proved this without doubt.

BARR RAMBLES — Terry Barr (41), right, Michigan's surprise star in the startling 26-2 victory over Army, Saturday, showed some of the stuff in this kickoff runback that later broke the hearts of the Cadets. He galloped back with the aid of such blocking as that shown by the two unidentified Wolverines above. The Army player is (86) Don Satterfield, an end.

West Coast 11 Rocked by MSU for 38-14 Loss

State Breezes to an Easy Win After a 26 Point Halftime Edge

EAST LANSING (AP) — Macklin Stadium was the scene of a flashback to the old days of football glory Saturday when Michigan State was fielding unbeaten teams and building up for the Rose Bowl.

Undergraduates on the sidelines had a gay time tolling a bell every time the Spartans scored against Standford. The starting team, sparked by the pinpoint passing of quarterback Earl Morrall, looked like a championship outfit while running up a 26-0 lead by the half.

Substitutes of the 2nd and 3rd squads and the sophomore hopefuls romped during the 2nd half and helped to build to the final 38-14 margin.

The crowd of 47,586, attracted by the 1st home show of the MSU season, appeared to enjoy it thoroughly.

So a good time was had by all except the disappointed Stanford crew that had hoped to take two in a row from Big Ten teams.

Michigan State breakout into the high scoring bracket also helped add zest to the next one coming up—meeting here with unbeaten Notre Dame.

Michigan State jumped on four Stanford fumbles and drove three of them 71, 50 and 40 yards for scores. The scouting report had warned against Stanford passing, but the defenders made it appear an empty threat as only 15 throws were completed for 24 yards.

The three MSU quarterbacks completed seven of eight tries between them for 191 yards. Morrall hit four for four, including his 50-yard scoring pass to end John Lewis.

The rushing statistics were even at 269 yards. Clarence Peaks, with a 90-yard net and two touchdowns, was the big gun of the MSU ground attack. Morrall and fullback Jerry Planutis and Don Gilbert were the others sharing in the Spartan scoring.

Rangers Hand Red Wings 3rd Straight Loss of Year

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings have a new look this year and it isn't the new Marquee that hangs in front of their Olympia ice palace.

The new look is on the scoreboard inside. So far, the part of the scoreboard that says "Wings" hasn't caught up with the part that says "visitors." And this, truly is a "n-e-w l-o-o-k" for the defending National Hockey League and Stanley Cup champions.

Such was the case last night when Detroit ran its string (of losses) to three straight—the same number of games played so far this young season.

It was the New York Rangers last night who tripped them, 3-2, before 10,152 howling fans who were'nt gawking at the scoreboard the way they did last season.

With the defeat, Detroit is fast approaching that dismal year of 1938, when the 1st four games were dropped. It's been that long since the 1st three were dropped.

What happened last night?

It started in the 1st period when the Rangers' Don Raleigh deflected in Lou Fontinato's long screen shot for the 1st score.

Danny Lewicki pounded in the 2nd tally for New York in the 2nd period after faking two Detroiters to the ice for a clear 15-footer.

Then, with New York shorthanded in the final period, Red Kelly served a perfect passout which Gordie Howe converted for the 1st Detroit goal.

But Ron Murphy rapped in what proved to be the winning score when he lifted Dave Creighton's rebound into a half-open cage. Warren Godfery fired the final Detroit goal with four mintues to go.

Spartan, Irish Clash Saturday Midwest's Tops

MSU's Improving 11 to Give All-Winning ND Real Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's conquering heroes return to Big Ten football competition and Wisconsin's league leaders go to Southern Cal but the top game in the Midwest this week pits Michigan State against Notre Dame.

The unbeaten, unscored upon Irish will get a stiff test from Michigan State's young but rapidly improving Spartans in a nationally televised game at East Lansing.

While the Irish try for their 4th straight shutout Michigan takes on Northwestern, Minnesota is at Illinois and Purdue moves in on Iowa.

Non-conference games find Duke at Ohio State and Villanova at Indiana.

Despite the loss of end Ron Kramer in the 26-2 rout of Army, Michigan shouldn't have any trouble in beating Northwestern and moving into a 1st place tie after Wisconsin plays Southern Cal Friday night.

Kramer threw such a furious block while Terry Barr was romping for an 82-yard touchdown run that he had to leave the game and is not expected to play Saturday although his bruised chest is not considered a serious injury.

Eaglets Victors in 3rd Straight League Contest

St. Mary's 11 Tramples Rita's 31-6 in Sunday Tilt at Hazel Park

Orchard Lake St. Mary's championship-minded Eaglets powered to an easy 31-6 victory over St. Rita in a Suburban Catholic League football game Sunday afternoon at Hazel Park. It was the 3rd straight win for the Eaglets.

Gerry Leszcysnski, hard-running fullback, opened the scoring for the unbeaten St. Mary's 11 with a three-yard run around end. Pete Madelans placekicked the only successful conversion of the game.

St. Mary's 2nd touchdown came early in the 2nd quarter on a pass from quarterback Ted Kopacki to Stan Majewski which covered 50 yards. St. Rita scored its lone TD in the same stanza on an 18-yard gallop by Chet Laabs.

Eaglets went right to work in the 3rd period, scoring twice to put the game out of reach. Paul Franckowiak pitched a 28-yard aerial to Madelans for the 1st TD and Len Mallat plunged across from two yards out to complete a 47-yard drive.

St. Mary's final touchdown was scored in the 4th quarter. Dennis Mutrynowski intercepted a St. Rita pass on the loser's 31-yard line and raced all the way to paydirt.

Ferndale St. James downed St. Mary of Royal Oak, 26-6, in a Suburban Catholic League tilt yesterday at Royal Oak.

Hubert Sparks Crane Victory

Cranbrook 'Quarter' Scores 3 Touchdowns in Win at Flint

Led by quarterback Pete Hubert who scored three touchdowns, Cranbrook High School's football team defeated Flint Tech Saturday night at Flint, 28-14. It was Cranbrook's 2nd triumph in three starts.

Hubert scored the opening tally in the 1st quarter on a one-yard plunge and chalked up the next TD on an eight-yard end run. Then halfback Herb Stanton produced the game's most sensational play by returning the 2nd-half kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown. Hubert's even-yard end run scored the 4th TD for the Cranes in the 3rd quarter.

Jerry Hudson tallied both touchdowns for Tech in the 1st and 4th periods in identical fashion. He scooped up fumbles in the Cranbrook backfield for TD runs of 28 and 10 yards.

Cassady Takes Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Howard Cassady, Ohio State's All-America halfback, has taken over the lead in the Big Ten scoring race.

Cassady scored a pair of touchdowns against Illinois Saturday to run his point total to 30 and climb past Michigan's Ron Kramer.

Kramer, injured in the Army game, was shut out and slipped to 2nd place with 25 points. The point totals are for all games played.

Michigan State's Jerry Planutis scored a touchdown and added two extra points against Stanford to take over 3rd place with 23 points.

Moving up among the top eight were Minnesota's Dick Borstad who scored two touchdowns against Northwestern and Ohio State's Fred Kriss who scored one touchdown and added three extra points to give him 13 points good for 8th place.

They will be held at Saranac Lake on Feb. 11 and 12 and at Lake Placid on Feb. 25 and 26 respectively.

Stranahan Finally Achieves Pro Golf Victory With Stroke Win Over Wall

BALTIMORE (AP)—Frank Stranahan, who explained he became a professional golfer because it "means more" than playing as an amateur, clutched a $3,000 check today to prove his point.

The 33-year-old strong boy from Toledo, Ohio, picked up this little convincer yesterday as the victor's booty in the $17,500 Eastern Open over Baltimore's municipal Mt. Pleasant course.

He couldn't have chosen a more dramatic spot for his initial victory as a pro after years of successful campaigning in the amateur ranks.

It was the last tournament on the 1955 trail mapped out by the Professional Golfers' Assn. and Frank didn't cinch it until he dropped his final putt in the 72-hole event.

That stroke gave him a one-under-par 71 for the last round and 280 for the route, enabling him to finish one ahead of Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.

"Ah, it's wonderful," said Frank.

Besides winning the world amateur four times and a flock of other amateur titles, he had actually beaten the pros in four open tournaments dating back to the 1945 Durham Open.

But he remained an amateur until a year ago, and this was his first successful bid for cash that went with a crown.

"Playing as a pro means more to me because I know I'm out there every day trying to beat the best there is," he said.

"As an amateur you may play in an open tournament with the pros, but you are not really competing with them. You know you don't have to beat them, that you just have to beat the other amateurs to win.

"But when you are a pro yourself, believe me, it makes all the difference in the world. Then you know it's going to be tough because there are at least 50 really good players up against you every time you go out there."

Stranahan, son of a wealthy industrialist, got a big hand from the gallery of about 4,000 when he dropped a putt of about 18 inches for his victory.

Texas Aggies to Get Test Against Strong TCU Squad

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Paul (Bear) Bryant came to Texas A&M from Kentucky under a six-year contract charged with the responsibility of rebuilding Aggie football fortunes.

Knowing Bryant's propensity for resurrecting football fame, through his work at Maryland and Kentucky, Aggie followers said "Old Bear will have us up there in three years."

It now looks like Bryant may be a year early. In his first season, his thinly manned Aggies won only one game although giving everybody they met a tough afternoon except Texas Tech in the opening game.

Now, this is his second season and his sophomore-studded team has won three out of four, including among its victims Louisiana State, the outfit that gave highly rated Georgia Tech such a battle last week and played Rice to a tie the week before. The Aggies whipped LSU 28-0.

Last week A&M trampled Nebraska 27-0.

So, next Saturday, the Aggies set sail in the Southwest Conference race and meet, of all people, Texas Christian's undefeated, untied and unworried Horned Frogs in the very first game.

That's a tough one," said Bryant today. "I have been pleased with what my boys have done this year. That victory over Louisiana State was one of the greatest efforts I ever saw. But remember we haven't won a conference game yet. My scouts tell me TCU is a great ball club."

Dover Hill Cocker Wins at Detroit

Dover Hill's Chief of Staff, 10-month old silver buff cocker spaniel, won the puppy sweepstakes of the American Spaniel Club show held Saturday in Detroit at the Fort Wayne Hotel.

The dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caughill of 1061 Dover Rd., competed against 10 other dogs in his class and came out on top bringing a silver service to his owner. Just last month, Chief of Staff won two variety dog shows in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Jameson Wins Richmond Open

Betty Shoots 71 for 220 Total to Capture $5,000 Award

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Betty Jameson of San Antonio won the $5,000 Richmond Women's Open Golf Tournament yesterday, posting a 71 for a 220 total in the 54-hole contest.

Mary Lena Faulk, who needed a par 5 on the 501-yard 18th hole to tie, shot her third stroke into a trap and finished second with a 221.

This tournament ended the season for the touring women.

Patty Berg ended as top money winner with $16,492.34 collected in 22 of the 28 tourneys. She also won the Vardon Trophy with a round average of 74.47. It was the first time any woman has won both the money and the trophy.

Fay Crocker won $11,796.17 with a 75.76 average.

Yesterday's victory boosted Betty Jameson to fourth money, $10,393.17. Fifth was Mary Lena Faulk with $10,386.50.

'Fumbleitis' Helps Wolverines to 26-2 Win Over Army; Oklahoma Extends String to 22

Monday's football wash, and who left the soap on the football?

Fumbles, fumbles everywhere but none more butter-fingered than Army, which saw the ball squirt loose nine times against Michigan with the Wolverines recovering eight in their 26-2 victory. . . . But it wasn't just the football which was slippery at Ann Arbor. . . . Michigan's Terry Barr caught a punt on his 15 and squirmed 85 yards to one of his two touchdowns. . . . It was a pleasant triumph for the Wolverines, who had never beaten an Army team while losing five straight games. . . . Army is the only rival holding a series edge over Michigan—not even Notre Dame has it—and the Wolverines don't like it.

Speaking of streaks, Oklahoma's winning skein was lengthened to 22 on its 20-0 rout of Texas and there appears no chance of breaking it this year. . . . On an opposite note, luckless Pennsylvania, beaten by Princeton 7-0, now has gone 16 games without a victory and has suffered 12 straight defeats. . . . Alabama, once the scourge of Dixie, has lost six in a row and gone nine games without a win. . . But of all the stars which have fallen on Alabama, none perhaps left a greater impact than Texas Christian's Jim Swink, who rolled up 139 yards and three touchdowns in TCU's 21-0 victory. . . . Swink now has scored 62 points and run up 484 yards in four games.

At Cambridge, Mass., the score should have read: DeGraaf 20, Harvard 7. . . . Quarterback Billy DeGraaf scored all of Cornell's points, three touchdowns and both extra points. . . . He had a rival for one-man-gang honors in Dennis (The Menace) McGill of Yale who personally scored four touchdowns in the 46-14 rout of Columbia. . . . George Welsh had a hand in all of Navy's 21-0 triumph over Pitt. . . . He ran over for one, passed for a second and set up the third. . . . A familiar phrase now with the return of one-platoon football: Navy is unbeaten, untied and unscored on.

A couple of third-stringers came off the bench to grab headlines. . . At Evanston, Ill., Dick Borstad, a sophomore fullback, brought back memories of Bronko Nagurski and Jack Manders as he bulled Minnesota to an 18-7 victory over Northwestern . . . And at Philadelphia, Princeton was scoreless until it took the blanket off a long-legged newcomer named Tommy Morris, a third-string tailback, who immediately led the Tigers to their lone touchdown. . . . Two of the day's fanciest plays were nullified by the whistle. . . . In the Penn game, Penn's Alex DeLu streaked 85 yards to an apparent touchdown with a fumble when the play was called back because of a clipping penalty. . . . Georgia Tech's Jimmy Thompson had an 85-yard punt return cut back by an out-of-bounds call in the LSU game, won by Tech 7-0.

Oklahoma's enemies must feel sometimes they are seeing not just double but in triplicate. . . . Bob Burris, who scored a touchdown Saturday, is the third of his clan to play with the Sooners. . . . What happened to the football players at Stillwater, Okla., in the Wichita-Aggies game was nothing compared with what happened to the spectators. . . . A 15-minute brawl over the goal posts followed Wichita's 14-7 victory and no real football fan was in style unless he wore a black eye. . . . Oklahoma insisted on wooden goal posts in the Texas game at Dallas so its supporters could chop up the wood for souvenirs. . . . You can have your Hopalong Cassadys and Dennis the Menaces for appropriate football handles, but our favorite grabbed a punt at Bluefield, W.Va., and ran it back 99 yards, longest run of the day, to help West Virginia to a 47-12 triumph over VMI. . . . The player's name: Jack

Nail Wins Futurity Stakes at Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow's Nail, who jumped right into the 2-year-old championship picture with all four feet Saturday when he won the rich Futurity at Belmont Park, can run his earnings to record proportions if he has the stuff champs are made of.

Trainer G. P. "Maje" Odom will aim Nail for the world's richest stakes, the Garden State, a mile and one-sixteenth test for 2-year-olds at Garden State Park, New Jersey, Oct. 29.

Nail also is eligible for the Pimlico Futurity, at the same route, Nov. 19. No decision will be made about this until after Garden State.

Nail paid $16.10 for $2 as he splashed through the slop to earn $100,425 of the Belmont Futurity purse totalling $125,125. The Garden State will be worth about $275,000, the winner netting some $155,000, while the Pimlico Futurity gross will hit around $80,000 with about $70,000 to the winner.

If Nail could cop the next two big ones, he will earn more than $325,000 in five weeks, and break the 2-year-old money winning record of $277,132 made in 1953 by Hasty Road.

Nail was almost unknown before he went to the post Saturday for only the fifth race of his career. In four previous starts, two in the spring, and two this fall, all were down the Widener straight course at Belmont. So, Hedley Woodhouse rode him down the chute for the fifth time, proving at least that he's a champion on that strip.

Fourteen of the 15 starters Saturday are eligible for the Garden State, as well as the Pimlico Futurity. It seems certain that most of these, plus some additions, will have another try at Nail. He was best of all on a straightaway in the mud, but how will be at a distance around two turns at Garden State and Pimlico?

Parker Displeased at Play of Lions

DETROIT (UP)—The charm of a champion no longer belongs to the Detroit Lions.

"We make new mistakes every week," growled Coach Buddy Parker after yesterday's staggering 17-10 loss to the Los Angeles Rams. "We patch up our old mistakes—then a new set of them pops up."

The jolting defeat, before a sell-out crowd of 54,836, was the Lions' third straight and all but ended their hopes of making the National Football League playoff game for the fourth straight year.

It will take a miracle to put the Lions into the title game, and this doesn't look like a season of miracles for the Lions.

The futility of their plight was clearly projected in the final minute of the game, when quarterback Bobby Layne whipped up a furious drive which carried to the Los Angeles 17—only to have the clock run out.

The Lions got their share of the breaks yesterday—but they were bad.

With Layne throwing all but two passes, the Lions established a team record for completions—27. But the alert Rams picked off four others, three of them by halfback Willard Sherman of St. Mary's.

While the Lions piled up 290 yards through the air, their runners accounted for only 90 along the ground—a meager 49 in the first half and 41 in the second.

"We don't have a guy who can bowl 'em over," he said. "Bowman could do it last season and so can Hunchy when he's right. But that's not enough."

Parker was referring to Bill Bowman, rookie fullback who is now in service, and fullback Bob Hoernschemeyer, Detroit's clutch runner who has been bothered by injuries this season.

The Detroit coach said he was disappointed with the showing of halfback Lew Carpenter, who made a scant 14 yards in eight carries. Parker openly proclaimed at the season's start that Carpenter would be one of the best runners in the league. Now it's quite another story.

The only time the Lions were really in the ball game was in that final minute, when Layne completed four desperate passes to the Los Angeles 17.

* * *

Parker said he planned no drastic changes. There's not much he can do, though. Just show up for next Sunday's game against San Francisco and hope for the best.

More Circuits May Be Added for Pro Golfers

Setup Too Small to Handle Players, PGA Director Says

BALTIMORE (UP) — There's so much gold in the golf hills and so many players eager to mine it that two professional tournament circuits may be set up next season, says a PGA official.

Ray O'Brien, tournament director for the Professional Golfers' Assn., said yesterday about 40 more sponsors for tournaments are available.

"This is the 43rd one we have had this season," said O'Brien, referring to the Eastern Open which ended here yesterday. "And even that is too many.

"We also have nearly 500 players registered to play the circuit, and I don't see how we can handle them all. We are going to have to do something about it—like maybe setting up two circuits."

O'Brien said one potential sponsor had offered to stage "12 or 14" tournaments worth $7,500 each under PGA regulation. He added plans will be presented to the PGA executive committee meeting Dec. 1 in Atlantic City, N.J., for one circuit comparable to the existing one and a second or "sort of minor league" for younger players or those not too successful under the present setup.

"To avoid conflict," said O'Brien, "we could start one tour from the West Coast and one from the East, running them both about the same time."

The PGA tourney director said the idea of two tournament circuits was mentioned at the 1954 executive committee meeting and has been under informal study since then. He said chances of approval this time look "pretty good."

Big Herman Hickman Gets Bang Out of Grid 'Picks'

NEW YORK (UP)—Herman Hickman, 20 pounds lighter but friendly as ever, enjoys Mondays much more since he gave up coaching football and took up crystal ball gazing.

Every Friday evening the Tennessee-born amateur chef and professional raconteur takes to the air on CBS Radio to indulge in a little forecasting on which football teams are going to win Saturday.

Thus far Hickman is averaging .810 in picking winners.

How does he do it?

"Well," says Hickman, "for one thing I know a lot of coaches around the country. But I seldom ask a coach information about his own team. I ask him information about the other teams in his area—and preferably not a team his own team is playing the following week. "A coach always rates his own team too high or too low. But he always rates his opponent too high.

"Crystal ball-gazing is certainly a lot more fun than coaching. In coaching you're stuck with the same team the following Monday. But in the crystal ball business you can forget all about 'em."

Mikes, Rams on Losers' Ends

It was a sad weekend for Pontiac parochial football fans as both St. Frederick and St. Michael dropped Suburban Catholic League decisions Sunday.

St. Benedict of Highland Park defeated St. Fred's, 31-13, in a free-scoring affair at Wisner Stadium, while St. Benedict virtually eliminated St. Mike's from further contention with a 7-0 victory at Center Line.

St. Benedict opened yesterday's scoring at Wisner on a 12-yard run by fullback Jack Philion after the visitors had recovered a Ram fumble on the 12-yard line.

St. Fred's struck back to take a brief 7-6 lead, the only time during the game the Rams held the advantage, on a pass from quarterback Tom Derocher to Dick Doyon which spanned eight yards. Doyon ran left end for the extra point.

Highland Park team scored twice in the 2nd quarter to hold a 19-7 halftime margin. Halfback Dick Gacki dashed 10 yards through the middle for the 1st TD and dropkicked the extra point. Moments later A. Clark lofted a 25-yard scoring aerial to the elusive Gacki to put the Rams deeper in the hole.

In the 3rd period Philion intercepted Derocher's pass and galloped 70 yards for the Parkers' 4th touchdown.

Then the Rams uncorked the most spectacular play of the game in the 4th period for their final tally. Larry Morrow hit Doyon with a pass in the right flat and the rangy halfback sprinted 90 yards for the score.

St. Benedict scored its last touchdown on a plunge from the one-yard line by Gacki to complete a sustained drive of 75 yards.

St. Michael turned in one of its finest performances of the season yesterday at Center Line, but "Dame Fortune" was unkind to the Shamrocks in their battle with title-minded St. Clement.

After blowing two scoring chances in the 1st half, Mikes weakened in the 4th quarter under a determined attack to lose their "must win" contest.

Sparked by fullback Dick Daledine, the Clements marched 35 yards following a Shamrock punt to score the game's lone touchdown with 2:45 left to play. Daledine climaxed the drive by bucking over from the one. Gary Fix converted.

Twice Shamrocks threatened in the 1st half. In the 1st quarter they drove to the two-yard line before relinquishing the ball, then in the 2nd period they reached the five before running out of gas.

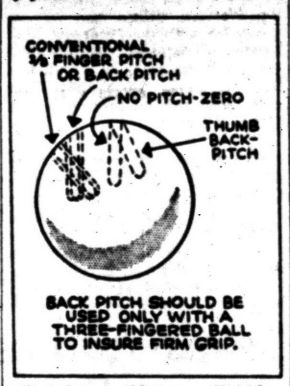

Shamrocks held the powerful Clements at bay throughout three quarters. St. Clement failed to cross midfield in the 1st half and advanced to the Mikes' 30 in the 3rd period. But in the 4th quarter the Shamrocks wilted — and that was that.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

ABOUT BACK PITCH — Topflighters treat their bowling thumb with tender care, appreciating what a serious handicap a sore thumb can be. Junie McMahon, for example, twice lost a lead and finally his chance to win the world match title because a badly blistered thumb made it impossible to put hook spin on the ball in the late stages of the championship.

To avoid thumb trouble, be certain the thumb hole in your ball is neither too tight nor too abruptly pitched. In either case, friction will bring on blisters. Should a blister develop, my advice is to stop bowling until it heals. Don't keep on aggravating it. Then change the grip of your ball as McMahon did. Go to a back-pitched thumb, as sketch shows, to relieve all pressure at release. I suggest also that you have "lifts" drilled or fitted into the finger-holes to give you a firm grip, even with a fairly loose thumb hole. Use back-pitch only with a three-fingered ball.

Topsy-Turvy in NHL This Year

Red Wings in Cellar as Hawks, Rangers Do Battle for 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's no surprise to see Montreal at the top of the National Hockey League today, but otherwise things look pretty topsy-turvy with the Detroit Red Wings running dead last and New York and Chicago battling for second place.

The rebuilt Rangers made it two in a row last night topping the defending league and Stanley Cup champion Red Wings 3-2.

Al Rollins, Chicago Blackhawk goalie had a busy birthday, making 36 saves in the course of his mates' 3-1 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Montreal's Canadiens, led by Jean Beliveau's goal and two assists rolled over Boston 5-2, although goalie Jacque Plante's shutout string was broken after 145 minutes.

Few Top College 11s Left in U.S. Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The show is just starting, folks, but for most of the nation's college football teams it ended almost before it began.

Perhaps eight teams still were in the running for the mythical national championship today with the season only one third completed. This is the earliest mass exodus from contention in years.

For the likes of Army and UCLA, disappointment came early. Both were rated potential champions before the season started. But now they're in the back seat. UCLA still can win the Pacific Coast Conference title and play in the Rose Bowl, of course, but it is eliminated from consideration for the national crown because of its defeat by Maryland two weeks ago.

The big boy on the Coast right now is Washington, which has won four games without a defeat, including a stunning 7-0 conquest Saturday over Southern California — the club that was supposed to give UCLA a battle for the title.

The Huskies still must meet UCLA Nov. 15. That one coud settle the Rose Bowl question.

As for Army, the Cadets had to swallow a particularly bitter pill when they dropped a 26-2 decision to Michigan. Never before in the five meetings before the two schools had the Wolverines whipped the Cadets.

Furthermore, there was a strong suspicion that if Army was invited to a bowl game, it would follow Navy's lead and accept. The West Point brass had high hopes for this club. The most distressing fact, from the Army viewpoint, is that the team did everything to help Michigan by fumbling nine times.

Ron Kramer, Michigan's top end, got bruised in the Army game and won't play against Northwestern this Saturday and he'll be missed. Luckily, Northwestern is about the weakest team on the remainder of the schedule for Michigan, rated as the outfit to beat in the Big Ten.

Besides Washington and Michigan, the teams still in the running for the national crown include Navy, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Maryland, Duke and Georgia Tech.

Navy and Notre Dame share one distinction. They are the only major teams in the land that haven't been scored on. The Middies — pending the clash against Army Nov. 26 — nailed down the Eastern title with their 21-0 victory over Pitt Saturday.

Notre Dame, of course, now is very much in contention. Its 14-0 victory over Miami — a team that had been pointing for the game for two seasons — proved that. And quarterback Paul Hornung can handle himself with the best.

Maryland, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, and Duke, the two behemoths of the Atlantic Coast Conference, don't meet. Both would like to get to the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, and if they both go undefeated, the conference will select the team by vote. Maryland probably would get the bid since Duke played there last Jan. 1.

The Terps won their fourth straight by smothering Wake Forest 28-7, while Duke clubbed William and Mary 47-7. Maryland tangles with North Carolina this week. Duke has a toughie in Ohio State. The Buckeyes walloped Illinois 27-12.

Georgia Tech, the class of the Southeastern Conference, had its troubles eking out a 7-0 victory over Louisiana Tech. Its big test will come two weeks hence against Duke.

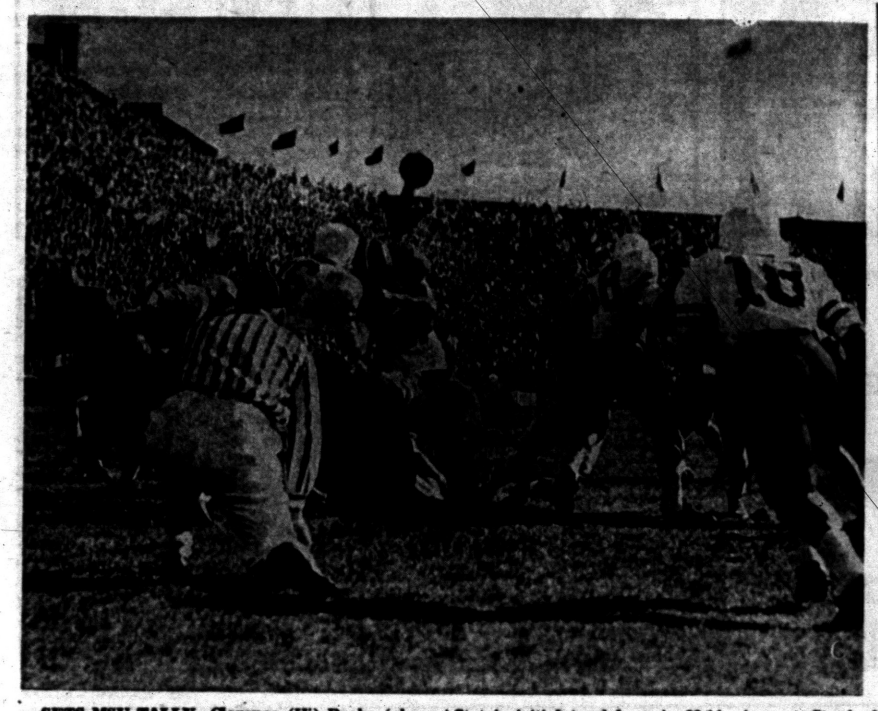

Europe's Ribot Awaits Invitation

PARIS (AP)—Unbeaten Ribot awaited an invitation today to compete in the Washington D.C. International at Laurel, Md., Nov. 11 as the result of his victory in Longchamps' Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, Europe's richest horse race.

The 3-year-old Italian-owned colt, racing in the silks of the Marquis Incisa Della Rochetta, chalked up his eighth successive victory, five this year, in winning the mile and one-half event yesterday.

The stake carried a value of $123,000 with Ribot earning $87,328.

EAST LANSING—Norm Masters, veteran Michigan State tackle, rates the 1954 Notre Dame line as the toughest he has worked against.

SETS MSU TALLY—Clarence (Hi) Peaks (above, arrow) smashes from the five to the one to set up State's initial touchdown in 38-14 win over Stanford Saturday. Jerry Planutis scored.

Sachs Sweeps 50-Lap Auto Race Inaugural

READING, Pa. (AP)—Eddie Sachs won the inaugural running of the 50-lap Tommy Hinnershitz Sweepstakes yesterday by edging the Reading auto driver for whom the race was named with a clocking of 23:01.58.

Behind Sachs, of Speedway City, Ind., and Hinnershitz, were Mike Magill, Haddonfield, N.J., third; Danny Kladis, Chicago, fourth, and Joe Barzda, New Brunswick, N.J., fifth.

Otto, the Spark!

Graham Sets Off Late 87-Yard March That Gives Browns Win Over Eagles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The champion Cleveland Browns can be mighty thankful for their powers of persuasion that enticed Otto Graham out of retirement for another year in the National Football League.

Graham, who had planned to retire this year after leading the Browns to nine straight division titles, sparked an 87-yard touchdown march in the final minutes yesterday to defeat Philadelphia's touted Eagles 21-17.

The victory gave Cleveland a 2-1 record and raised them to a four-way tie for first place in the Eastern Division with Washington, Pittsburgh and the surprising Chicago Cardinals.

In a radical shift of the balance of power in the Western Division, Los Angeles shares the lead with the frisky Baltimore Colts by virtue of a 17-10 decision over the winless Detroit Lions. The defending Western titlists now occupy the cellar with the Chicago Bears. Baltimore defeated Green Bay's Packers 24-20 Saturday night and, like the Rams, sports a spotless 3-0 record.

In Sunday's other action, the Pittsburgh Steelers handed the disappointing New York Giants their third straight defeat 30-23; the San Francisco 49ers got on winning ways with a 20-19 triumph over the Bears, and the Chicago Cardinals handed the Washington Redskins their first defeat, 24-10.

With the Browns trailing 17-14 on their own 13-yard line and 4 minutes and 13 seconds left, Graham started a touchdown march which included a fourth-down pass to Dante Lavelli for 14 yards on the Eagles 44. A 36-yard run by Otto, a 2-yard pitchout and his 5-yard scoring pass to Lavelli gave the Browns the winning touchdown. Graham also accounted for the other Cleveland touchdowns, scoring one and passing for the other.

Washington opened the scoring against the Cardinals with a field goal by Vic Janowicz after Ron Marcinak stole the ball from Frank Bernardi on the Cardinal 13. But the Cards went ahead seven minutes later on an 8-yard pass from Lamar McHan to Gern Nagler after Jim Psaltis recovered a Redskin fumble. Although the 'Skins outpassed the Cardinals 189 yards to 45, the tough Chicago forward wall held firm when it counted. Washington crossed the goal line only once, a 1-yard buck by Janowicz.

In a desperate bid for a tie, the Giants recovered a Steeler fumble in the waning minutes but could not score. After trailing 17-16, quarterback Jimmy Finks pulled the Steelers ahead in the last quarter by means of two 51-yard pass completions that set up two touchdowns.

New Atomic Tests Set for Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Planning is reported under way for a new series of atomic tests next month at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

The reports, which had no official confirmation, were that the proposed tests might involve change in some existing devices and might provide further information on radioactive fall-out.

There was speculation that additional information on either or both of those points might be a part of preparations for a new series of hydrogen tests in the Marshall Island testing grounds next year.

The new Nevada test series, it was understood, is being planned on only a small scale. At the conclusion of the spring series, observers were given to understand no further tests were planned there this year.

Seeks Stability in Coffee Price

Brazil Envoy Certain U.S. Will Go Along With Any Latin Measure

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Brazilian Ambassador Joao Carlos Muniz said today he is certain that American consumers will support an effort to assure coffee price stability.

The ambassador, in a speech prepared for the National Coffee Assn. convention, significantly did not refer directly to any specific plan to bring about that stability.

Colombian and Central American growers have supported a producers' plan for an international coffee agreement, which consumers could join.

Brazil, the world's biggest coffee grower, has declined so far to take part in such an agreement. The United States, the largest coffee user, hasn't announced its stand.

Sales Hammer Stocks Down

NEW YORK (AP)—A wave of selling broke on the stock market today at the start of the third hour and hammered prices down severely.

It was the second spell of weakness encountered by the market during the day. The first in the initial hour was a quiet decline, and it was followed by a partial recovery from the lows.

Within a short time, the decline was resumed and broadened until it swamped the high speed ticker.

All divisions of the market were depressed by the selling, and there were losses of 1 to 4 points everywhere. The greatest decline of any leader was around 9 points.

Among others badly hit were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, RCA, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Aluminum Ltd., Reynolds Metals, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (NJ), Royal Dutch Petroleum, Eastern Air Lines, and Distillers Corp.

To Elect Flannel Queen

CEDAR SPRINGS (AP)—The 1955 Red Flannel Queen, honorary ruler of the Michigan town which has become internationally renowned for the resurgence of the "long-handled" undergarment, will be selected Oct. 17.

COURT WEAR — All set for a hot set is June Clark, modeling a new tennis outfit at the National Fabric Fair in London. Created by designer Teddy Tinling, the long-torso tennis dress challenges the trend to briefer and briefer attire seen on tennis courts in recent years.

New Inventions Flow Constantly

Research Produces Many New Items for Demonstration

WASHINGTON (INS)—Research carried out or sponsored by the Agriculture Department is producing a constant flow of new items ranging from plastic egg cartons to flame-resistant fabrics.

A demonstration staged for the benefit of executives of the Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division trotted out new textiles developed from corn fiber, a cork substitute made of peanut shells, and giant hybrid onions of which even Texas can be proud.

A quick run-down of some of the more important items from hybred corn to tomato powder takes a rapid-fire commentator from 45 minutes to an hour.

The plastic egg carton is one of the newer developments. It will permit the housewife to see at a glance whether the eggs she's shopping for are cracked or dirty.

Attractive models who take part in the show come down the runway in neat cold-resistant cotton jackets—made from a new type fabric which is said to be 25 per cent closer woven than the usual cotton textile.

There are also trim dresses and other garments of specially treated wool which may be laundered in the normal manner with no fear of severe shrinking.

The demonstrator proudly displays a pair of men's shoes processed from leather which was made with a domestic tanning agent. Previously, the U.S. has been wholly dependent on foreign sources for tanning materials.

In addition to tomato powder, there are new lemon and pineapple crystals, as well as citrus crystals which take only half as much shipping and storage space as frozen concentrates and which need no refrigeration.

Special new rations have been developed for the armed forces through agricultural research. These include potato chip bars, which compress this popular food item into a fraction of the space it normally requires, and a new vacuum-packed chocolate candy which will stand up under temperatures of up to 110 degrees.

Another item of potential military value is a new lubricant for jet engines which has been found to perform excellently at either extreme of temperature. The base material for the lubricant is turpentine, one of the southeast's most plentiful products.

City Detectives Praised for Solution to Theft

Pontiac Police Detectives Olin Hoffman, James Bale, Charles Gale and Raymond Meggitt yesterday were commended in a letter from Mrs. Evelyn Mattson, secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac Cab Co., for their work in solving the theft from her home last week of articles valued at more than $100.

Police said today that the articles, which were traced to several Detroit pawnshops, had all been recovered.

Convertibles Gain Favor Among Nation's Investors

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Convertibles have their admirers in Wall Street too these days.

These are convertible debentures —interest-bearing certificates issued by corporations and secured not by specific assets but by the company's reputation. Under certain conditions, usually including payment of an additional sum of cash, these debentures can be converted into common stock.

This gives this form of indebtedness a two-way stretch appealing to many investors.

Their popularity is always greatest with the investing public in rises high enough, the holder of the debenture can convert and show a sizable gain.

There is a boom on this year in issuing new convertible debentures. Around one billion dollars worth of new ones have been sold. The biggest issue yet—for 637 million dollars—is being peddled this week by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

One reason for the popularity of convertibles is tagged in the Stock Exchange's magazine out today. The Exchange points out that many convertible bonds issued before the start of the bull market now command prices far above the one originally paid for them. This is because the market price of the common shares into which they can be converted has risen so sharply. Example: one $1,000 convertible of Consolidated Edison can be changed into 40 shares with total market value now around $2,000.

Being tied so closely to the market price of common shares, the price of convertibles moves sensitively with the market. Before President Eisenhower's illness, convertible debentures were moving up steadily in price. Since then they have shared the sharp breaks that common stocks have had to weather.

Convertibles appeal to investors for several reasons. Just as they are they pay interest. A drop in stock market prices doesn't affect that. But a rise in stock prices—for whatever reason, including the new threat of inflation — could make debentures profitable to convert into common stock.

Business Notes

Appointment of William P. Strong to the position of assistant coach engineer at GMC Truck and Coach Division was announced today by C. V. Crockett, chief engineer.

Strong, of 2275 Coventry, Drayton Plains, joined GMC's engineering department in 1935 and has served as the coach new development engineer since August, 1953.

Walter E. Otto, president of the Michigan Mutual Liability Co., and president of that organization's affiliate, Associated General Fire Co., has announced the two organizations will be merged Nov. 30.

The action was taken at the recent meeting of the boards of directors of the two companies, and has the approval of the Associated stockholders. State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre has authorized the move.

Fabric Imports Worry Textilers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Merchants are enjoying a very pleasant autumn. Store sales ride high above a year ago. Chains and mail order houses report booming business in September. Shoe sale volume is up. Diamond merchants say their sales are setting a new record.

But the textile and garment industries—which should be happy about this—have found something else to worry about.

The free-spending American consumer appears very tempting to manufacturers and designers overseas. And they are moving in fast.

Italian, French and English garment makers are invading the American market with clothing for men as well as women.

The American Cotton Manufacturers Institute says Japanese fabric sales to U.S. buyers in August totalled 52 million yards. This topped total sales of 48 million yards for all of 1954.

JAP CLOTHING IMPORT

The Institute estimates that total cotton cloth imports from Japan this year will reach 75¾ million yards.

Japanese cotton wearing apparel has had an even greater sales increase in the United States. Last year Americans imported $877,525 worth of these garments made in Japan. This year, according to the Institute, the import value will rise to $9,123,328.

The National Assn. of Shirt, Pajama and Sportswear Manufacturers says there is a 10 per cent increase this year in the amount of cotton shirts and blouses imported from Japan.

Imported men's suits and women's gowns are mostly in the luxury class. Here, style is more of a selling point than price.

The buying spree in this country sustains the increase in imports. But outcries from American manufacturers are expected to increase, too, especially after Congress reconvenes.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported today net income for the quarter ended Sept. 30 of $139,360,000 equal to $2.74 a common share. This compared with $120,985,705, or $2.58 a common share, in the same period last year. For the year ended Sept. 30 net income amounted to $528,050,000, or $10.62 a common share, as against $466,062,582, or $10.41 a common share, in the preceding year.

NEW YORK (INS)—Elastic Stop Nut Corp. of America reported net income for the nine months ended Aug. 31 of $1,101,756, equal to $2.18 a common share. This compared with $1,315,399, or $2.60 a common share, in the same period last year. Sales decreased to $14,941,443 from $17,086,429 in the comparable period of 1954.

Johnson Wants Defense Report

Contract Award Listings Give 'Misleading' Facts, Texas Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee wants the Defense Department to resume a cumulative listing of defense contracts by companies since 1950.

The Armed Serivices Preparedness Subcommittee, in a report signed by chairman Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said Congress and the public are entitled to "a complete and accurate picture of these awards."

On the basis of its own computations, the subcommittee said, a cumulative list of contract awards since 1950 would show General Motors Corp. still at the top.

GM LISTED

But in the 1953-54 listing by the Defense Department, it said, General Motors and 44 other big defense contractors were missing, chiefly because cutbacks and cancellations in their contracts largely offset new orders given them during the period.

The Senate investigators said Defense officials listed a 398 million dollar error in the General Motors totals, a 140 million dollar error for the Kaiser Motors Corp. and other mistakes from one to 39 millions for other contractors.

Beagle Thief Holding Out for More Reward Money

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Paul Tungett's offer of $10 to the finder of two lost Beagle pups got results, but not the pups.

Tungett said a man answering his newspaper ad telephoned an accuate description of the dogs but held out for a bigger reward.

"That's blackmail or something," the distraught owner complained.

He said the caller hung up when he refused to up the offer. He placed a value of $25 each on the pups and said the mother, worth $100, accidentally hanged herself when they slipped away. She was strangled by her leash when she scrambled over a four-foot fence.

Remains of Georgia Rail Crash Cleared

HAZLEHURST, Ga. (AP) — Crews cleaned up the wreckage of Georgia's worst rail disaster in 11 years to permit resumption of service today on Southern Railway's single line track into Hozlehurst, 180 miles southeast of Atlanta.

Two Southern trains, a passenger and a freight, slammed together on a curve Saturday, killing five trainmen and injuring a dozen persons, none seriously.

Wrecking crews spent all day yesterday clearing away the debris while thousands of spectators watched.

Violence Again Erupts in French-Held Tunisia

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The first violence in Tunisia since this protectorate was granted partial home rule by France more than a month ago was reported last night.

An Algerian Sheikh was killed in Tunis by three armed terrorists and at Zardis, in the south, a Tunisian was killed when a policeman opened fire on jeering civilians.

While a nationalist terror campaign continues and tribal war has erupted in neighboring Algeria and Morocco, Tunisia has been comparatively calm in the six weeks since agreements were signed with France giving more self government.

Armed Robberies Net $49 From Cab Drivers

Two armed robberies of taxicab drivers yesterday netted thieves just under fifty dollars, Pontiac police said today.

Two men hailed a cab driven by Noel Evrard, of 104 Mary Day Ave., posing as fares. They then robbed Evrard of $37 at knifepoint.

Hearing Aid Company Reports Theft of $50

Thieves who broke into the National Building offices of the Bel-Tone Hearing Aid Company yesterday stole cash and checks worth $50, Pontiac police reported today. Company officials said the rifled cashbox was in a locked cabinet.

Typhoon Nora Roaring Toward Teeming Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Nora, pushing driving rains across a broad Pacific front, roared toward Tokyo with 100-mile-an-hour winds today.

Unless it swerves it will pile into the most heavily populated area of Japan sometime Wednesday.

AIR-MINDED — Mrs. Zaddie R. Bunker, 68-year-old great-great-grandmother, was recently certified by the Civil Aeronautics Authority to fly multi-engined aircraft. The vigorous, Palm Springs, Calif., flier started flying three years ago, "just for fun." Since then she's logged 401 flying hours, flying across the country twice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
FOR THE COUNTY OF OAKLAND

In the matter of the petition of the City of Pontiac for condemning of private property for the acquisition of certain lands in Assessor's Plat 119, City of Pontiac for the establishment of a Municipal Parking Lot for off-street parking in the vicinity of Lafayette, Wayne and Pine Streets in the City of Pontiac as a necessary public improvement for the use and benefit of the public. No. L.38841.

ORDER FOR APPEARANCE OF MRS. FRANCES N. SWISHER

To: Mrs. Frances N. Swisher.
111 Ledyard Road,
Winchester, Massachusetts.

At a session of said court held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, on Monday the 26th day of September, A.D. 1955.

Present: Honorable Frank L. Doty, Circuit Judge.

This date being the return day of the Summons issued by the Clerk of the Court and it appearing from the return of the Deputy Sheriff on file in said cause that the respondent, Mrs. Frances N. Swisher cannot be found within the County of Oakland and has not been served with the Summons heretofore issued by the Clerk of this Court, and

It further appearing that said respondent, Mrs. Frances N. Swisher is a non-resident of the County of Oakland and State of Michigan and is a resident of Winchester, Massachusetts and has not voluntarily appeared in said cause according to affidavit on file, and

It further appearing that said respondents, Mrs. Frances N. Swisher is the owner of Lot 78 of Assessor's Plat 119 of the City of Pontiac and that service of Summons has been made on the other respondents.

It is therefore ordered that said respondent, Mrs. Frances N. Swisher appear on October 31, 1955 and show cause why the prayer of the petition on file in this cause should not be granted.

It is further ordered that a certified copy of this order be personally served on such respondent wherever found if practicable at least six days before October 31, 1955 the time named in this Order for Appearance of said respondent.

It is further ordered that a certified copy of this order be published for three successive weeks at least once in each week in a newspaper published within the City of Pontiac, the last publication to be at least six days before the date fixed in the Order for Appearance.

It is further ordered that the Affidavit of due service and the publication of the Order for Appearance shall be filed in the Clerk's office and shall be sufficient evidence of service on the respondent, Mrs. Frances N. Swisher, and of the manner of such service.

FRANK L. DOTY, Circuit Judge.

Hostility Parts Barry and Joan

Nelson Stays in Show While Caulfield Returns to Film Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What happens when a comedy team goes sour?

In the case of Martin and Lewis, it turned out all right. They reconciled before millions of TV viewers, embracing each other and singing a sentimental "Side by Side." Chances are they'll be better than ever. They exhibited a warmth toward each other that had been lacking in recent years.

Another TV team broke up with a big scene, but their differences could not be resolved. They are Joan Caulfield and Barry Nelson. Both are going their separate ways.

Two years ago, Joan and Barry were chosen to play in the TV version of "My Favorite Husband." The show was proclaimed a hit from the start. The clever writing and bright acting by the stars combined to best "Your Show of Shows" in audience ratings. This helped hasten the breakup of another team—Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca.

But things went wrong on "My Favorite Husband" last season.

"I guess the same thing has happened with every team except Amos 'n' Andy," Joan explained.

"In 'My Favorite Husband,' the comedy arose because of the girl. Barry thought more of the show should be directed at him. He pouted.

"To keep him happy, they aimed a show at him. Then I'd be just as miserable as he was. Finally one day we had our blowup and of course the story of the fight spread through CBS like wildfire."

The show was further dampened by an interview in which Nelson said he was fed up and had handed in his notice.

"And Barry should be happy," she added. "Now it's 'The Barry Nelson Show — with Vane a Brown."

6 Chinese Red Divisions Leaving North Korea

TOKYO (AP) — The first contingent of six Chinese Communist divisions reported being withdrawn from North Korea crossed the Manchurian border into Red China today, the Red radio at Pyongyang said.

The broadcast said a 40-car train carrying 1,440 men and weapons and ammunition passed through the border town of Sinuiji.

Red China announced last month six divisions are to be withdrawn. A Chinese Red division usually has 10,000 men.

Gina Lollobrigida Reveals: 'Sex Has Gone Far Enough'

By JAMES BACON

JUST CYNICS

There will be some people who will contend that the letter, posted in Paris, came at the urging of her publicity man. Beware of such people, for they are cynics.

Gina, of course, is shooting the movie "Trapeze" in Paris with Burt Lancaster and Curtis. Of her costars, Gina writes:

"Tony—he is young manhood. I can understand why he is the great love of those American Roberto-stocking girls."

She explained that Roberto-stocking is Italian slang for bobby soxer.

Lancaster? "That man has strength. I catch my breath when I think of him."

EATS HER CANDY

The next paragraph concerned her husband Milko Skofic.

"Milko is more than my husband; he is my personal physician. He is my favorite reporter. He is my tennis coach, my business manager. Above all he is the guardian of my happiness."

Founder of Missionary Sisters Dies in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Mother Mary Joseph, 72, founder of the Maryknoll Sisters, a worldwide Roman Catholic missionary order, died of peritonitis yesterday at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Mother Mary Joseph, who retired as head of the order in 1947, had been partially paralyzed since suffering a stroke several years ago.

She was taken to the hospital in an ambulance early Saturday from the headquarters of the Order of Maryknoll, N. Y., near Ossinging.

She was born Mary Josephine rogers at Jamaica Plains, Mass., a daughter of Abraham and Mary Josephine Rogers.

Mother Mary Joseph was a 1905 graduate of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., where she became interested in foreign missions. After her graduation she remained at Smith two years as an assistant professor of biology.

Neon Sign Is Portable

SAN ANTONIO — A neon-sign manufacturer in San Antonio has come up with a portable indoor neon sign that has inter-changeable, individual letters to permit 'do-it-yourself" buyers to assemble their own signs. With enough letters on hand, sign owners can change their messages at will.

Comedian Walter Slezak Joins Hospitalized Pinza

NEW YORK (AP) — The two stars of the Broadway musical "Fanny" —singer Ezio Pinza and comedian-singer Walter Slezak—are on the sick list.

Pinza is under treatment for pneumonia and pleurisy at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. His condition today was reported "fair and satisfactory." He was admitted to the hospital shortly after finishing Friday night's show.

The stars' places are being taken by substitutes. Slezak said he expects to be back in the show by midweek.

Teen Military Training Tough

New Six Month Reserve Course to Insure Youth Health and Safety

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Security Training Commission says youths taking a six-month course under the new military reserve program should be given "intensive and realistic (rtaining) with due regard for safety."

At the same time, it called for extra care in assuring the physical and moral well-being of the youths, most of them of predraft age. It expressed confidence the services have ample regulations and good men to do that.

MAKES SUGGESTIONS

The commission, which helped to prepare the new program and will watch over its operation, made detailed suggestions in a weekend report to Secretary of Defense Wilson.

It called on communities and civilian leaders near military camps to help, saying that the "average young American will do the right thing if he is not unduly tempted by the wrong."

It suggested also that full recreational facilities be provided at the training stations, and that the young reservists be given "little, if any, leave or time off base."

Physical Fitness Fan Macfadden Ailing in Jersey

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Bernarr Macfadden, physical culturist and magazine publisher suffering from a stomach disorder, was reported in serious condition today at the Jersey City Medical Center.

Macfadden, 87, was admitted to the hospital Friday with an ailment described by an associate as possibly caused by a three-day fast. He did not explain the reason for the fast.

A resident of the Hotel Earle, Macfadden had been reported in good condition yesterday.

He was jailed for three days last April in connection with a $9,000 alimony claim by his estranged third wife Mrs. Jonnie Lee Macfadden.

The elderly exponent of rugged living came to New Jersey after he was held in contempt in New York for failure to pay his wife $600 a month in alimony and $5,000 in counsel fees.

His estranged wife's action here last April led to the three days in jail for Macfadden, who claimed he was broke. Her court writ barred Macfadden from leaving New Jersey until the alimony proceedings were settled. He was released from jail on $10,000 bond.

VA Announces Uptake in GI Home Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it approved more then 55,000 GI home loans during August, pushing to the four million mark the number guaranteed since the program began in 1944.

The VA said the original principal amount of 4,017,543 approved loans totalled $30,273,322,000. Nearly 18 per cent of the loans, amounting to more than four billion dollars, already have been repaid in full, it said.

Foreign Student Rise

ANN ARBOR (AP)—There are 1,226 foreign students enrolled at the University of Michigan this school year. The University reported that this is a 12 per cent increase over last year with the sharpest increase shown in enrollments from the Far East. The ten countries with the largest enrollments are: Canada, 233; India, 88; China, 80; Philippines, 59; Turkey, 54; Japan, 46; Venezuela, 46; Korea, 39; Iraq, and Germany, 37 each.

Attend Forest Session

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Three University of Michigan foresters will attend the annual meeting of the Society of American Foresters in Portland, Ore., Oct. 17-19. Dean Stanley Fontanna and Profs. Kenneth Davis and Stephen Spurr will deliver papers at the meeting.
