'Barbara Alive,' Anonymous Tip Tells Parents

Crude Message Says 'Will Contact Later,' Police Seek Prints

By International News Service
A ray of hope brightened the frustrating search for missing Barbara Gaca today when a crudely constructed note saying she was alive arrived at her East Side Detroit home.

Letters had been cut out of newspapers and pasted on to white typewriter paper. The note said, "Barbara alive. Will contact later." The envelope had been meticulously lettered in pencil.

Police are checking the note and hope to find fingerprints on it since adhesive tape was used to affix the letters to the paper. The envelope cancellation showed the letter had been processed at the city's Roosevelt Substation. Police immediately set up plans to open all letters addressed to the Gaca's as they arrive at any postal substation.

Meanwhile, the search goes on for the seven-year-old who disappeared on her way to Assumption Grotto Catholic School last Thursday morning. Today is garbage pick-up day in the neighborhood and sanitation workers have been instructed to examine carefully the refuse picked up in the area.

All of the suspects in the case have been released and the searchers started almost from scratch again this morning. Four officers from the youth bureau and the women's division observed the goings on at the intersections on Gratiot where Barbara was last seen.

Then students at the school were questioned in hopes that one could be found who saw Barbara after 8:05 a.m. when she told a safety boy that she was waiting for a girl friend to walk to school with.

The girl friend has never been located. Two reports about a child answering Barbara's description have come from outside the city. A police radiogram from Springfield, Ill., says a child wearing clothing similar to Barbara's was seen in the hamlet of Havana, Ill. And a waitress in Flat Rock says she saw a despondent child resembling Barbara in the restaurant with a man.

Meanwhile, Dr. Allan Canty, recorder's court clinic psychologist, began supplying police with the name of every known sex deviate living on the East Side.

Takes Place in Time to Wrap Up Segregation Issue Pioneered by Kin

WASHINGTON (UP)—John Marshall Harlan takes his place on the Supreme Court today in time to help wrap up the school segregation decision pioneered by his grandfather in the last century.

Chief Justice Earl Warren was scheduled to administer the constitutional oath to the 55-year-old federal appellate judge from New York in the justices' private conference room shortly before the court meets to hand down decisions at noon. The judicial oath was to be given in the courtroom by County Clerk Harold B. Willey.

Harlan, the 89th man to serve on the nation's highest tribunal, succeeded Justice Robert H. Jackson who died last October.

He arrived on the court before it had put into effect its order banning segregation in the public schools. That decision, announced last May, struck down the time-honored "separate but equal" doctrine for segregating the white and Negro races.

In 1896, Harlan's grandfather—also named John Marshall—was the only justice to oppose a decision that "separate but equal" facilities on railroad cars for Negroes are constitutional. The elder Justice Harlan said "our constitution is color blurred and neither knows nor tolerates classes among citizens."

Take Annual Wing Awards in New York

Immunizations Requests Going to Parents Today

If your son or daughter is among some 40,000 Oakland County school children in grades one and two, he or she brought home an envelope this afternoon.

Inside this envelope, you'll find a letter explaining that a mass polio immunization is planned for first and second grade children as soon as a final report on last year's tests of the Salk vaccine is issued.

Forecast Is Fair, Warmer for Area

The weatherman says it's going to warm up at last ... but not very much.

After temperatures in the 20's all weekend and snow totaling an inch on Saturday, the forecast is for mostly fair and warmer to-night and tomorrow. The U.S. Weather Bureau says the mercury will range from 23 to 27 tonight, rise to 40 to 44 degrees tomorrow and remain at 32 for the low tomorrow night.

Saturday in downtown Pontiac temperatures ranged from 20 to 25 degrees, from 20 to 27 on Sunday. Today at 8 o'clock the thermometer reading stood at 20 degrees, but rose to 35 by 1 p.m.

Bonanzagram Deadline Near

All Bonanzagrams, get busy with your answers—the deadline is drawing near.

Deadline for claimcheck No. 3 is 5 p.m. today if brought to the office; or postmarked 5 p.m. today if mailed.

Answers for Bonanzagram No. 3 will be accepted through Tuesday, March 29, at 5 p.m. if brought to the Pontiac Press office. If mailed they must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday.

With no winners appearing at the Press office up to noon Monday it looks like the weekly prize will mushroom to $300. Get your answers in early and cash in on this big weekly prize.

Bonanzagram No. 4 appears on page 4 of the Pontiac Press today.

Along with this letter, you'll find a request form that you must fill out if you wish your child to have polio shots when the vaccination program begins.

Complete this form, filling in the child's name, age, address and the date, and then sign your name. The form must be returned to the school before March 31.

Children who participated in last year's field tests will also bring forms, and these should be filled out the same way. If your children got the vaccine last year, they won't be on the list for shots next month.

If your youngster was one of the 7,000 or more who received a harmless control substance, then a request form is necessary before the vaccine can be given.

No child whose parents have not filled out a request form can be given the vaccine. In the event that the report on the vaccine is unfavorable, the project will be cancelled, although this seems highly unlikely.

Scelba Arrives for U. S. Talks

Claim Italian Premier Will Quiz Ike on Danger of Formosa Strait War

WASHINGTON (INS)—Diplomatic sources said today that Italian Premier Mario Scelba will seek President Eisenhower's private estimate on the danger of war in the Formosa Strait.

Scelba, who arrived in Washington last night, begins a series of top-level talks with U.S. officials today.

The Italian leader was understood to be concerned over the possibility that if the Chinese Reds launch an all-out assault on the key offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy and the U. S. becomes involved, major war might result.

The top man in Italy's government, accompanied by Signora Scelba and high officials of his government, was greeted at national airport by Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Undersecretary of State and Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr., U. S. ambassador to Italy Clare Booth Luce, Italian ambassador to the U. S., Manlio Brosio and a host of Italian and American diplomatic leaders.

Scelba confers with both President Eisenhower and Dulles today. His three-day round of meetings will cover a wide range of subjects involving the strengthening of defenses against Communist aggression.

Three Convicts Leave Rebels at Nebraska Pen

9 Others Still Holding Two Guards Hostages in Hopeless Revolt

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Three prisoners considered "dead weight" by their companions in the day-old rebellion at Nebraska's state penitentiary were sent to the warden's office today, but nine others still held two guards hostage in the maximum security building.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson said after interrogating one of the trio that the two guards had not been harmed.

Ronald Larkin, 28; Paul Barnes, 35, and Elwood G. Robinson, 29, were sent from the prison jail at 4 a.m. following the first word from the holed-up prisoners since late yesterday afternoon.

Larkin, the governor said, told him the three left the building by mutual agreement because they were considered "dead weight" by the others. There was no elaboration.

The 12 prisoners in the penitentiary's "jail" captured two guards early yesterday. They have been without food since yesterday.

"The guards are not harmed in any way," Anderson said after talking to Larkin. "In fact, they have been sleeping."

The governor said "the men are not planning an escape. They know they cannot escape."

Anderson said prison authorities believe the rebels have "some kind of homemade knives."

First word from the prisoners since early yesterday evening was a phone call to the warden's office early today. John Ward, spokesman for the rebels, told a reporter after refusing to talk to the warden that the prisoners wanted "to get rid of" three of the inmates.

Dozens of guards and state safety patrolmen had the building's lone exit thoroughly covered.

The warden cancelled all work details at the prison for the day. Power was shut off from the besieged building, to deprive the convicts of the use of the radio so they wouldn't know every move the prison officials were making.

Police Watch Anxious Father as Baby Arrives

Four Pontiac policemen, clad in white operating gowns, grimly watched a 20-year-old Puerto Rican auto worker yesterday, while doctors delivered his son by Caesarean section.

The patrolmen were called to Pontiac General Hospital after Pablo Ortiz, an employee of the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, had sternly objected to the operation to deliver his child.

Doctors said that Ortiz, who has been in the U.S. less than two years, claimed that his mother had 12 children without any trouble.

His wife, Modesta, 23, was suffering from complications and doctors told Ortiz that the Caesarean was necessary. She had been in the hospital for 34 hours.

Finally Ortiz agreed, convinced by his parish priest, but he insisted that he be by her side. Doctors said police were called as a precaution.

Shortly thereafter, Dr. Harold Furlong, delivered a 6-pound, 9-ounce baby boy. Both mother and son are in good condition.

Otherwise, his feathers would have been wet through and he'd have frozen to death.

French OK Paris Accords, Seek Four-Power Talks

PARIS (AP)—Bolstered by final French parliamentary approval of German rearmament, Premier Edgar Faure turned his efforts today to getting Allied agreement for Big Four talks soon with Russia.

As he prodded the apprehensive French Senate towards its crucial pre-dawn votes on the Paris accords yesterday, Faure gave assurance he already had contacted the United States and Britain on preparation for a high-level parley with the Kremlin.

Allies Already Planning Talks

Eden Reveals Britain, U. S., France Mapping Details of Big 4 Parley

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden disclosed today Britain, the United States and France have already begun discussing arrangements for a Big Four meeting with Russia.

Eden told the House of Commons this country is ready and eager to discuss the future of Germany and Austria, disarmament problems and a European security system with the Russians — now that the French Parliament has approved the accords to free and rearm West Germany.

Eden, who was answering a Laborite questioner in the House of Commons, said the British "are ready to consult their Allies as to the methods by which we can go ahead" toward arranging Big Four talks.

Britain, he said, proposed the Allies should follow a procedure of consultation that will include meetings of officials then perhaps meetings of foreign ministers and, if all goes well meetings probably at other levels also.

He did not elaborate on his reference to meetings "at other levels." The implication was that one would be "at the summit."

Chances of four-power talks were believed greatly improved by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's sudden support as the French senate prepared to vote.

In an interview with the Soviet news agency Tass Bulganin expressed his "positive attitude" toward President Eisenhower's news conference remarks last week advocating an East-West meeting after the accords have been fully ratified.

State Department officials in Washington said the Western Big Three were expected to consult promptly on Russia's favorable expression.

Secretary of State Dulles hailed the French senate's approval of the West German rearmament treaties as "an event of great significance for the free world."

France's next diplomatic move is expected to be a conference between French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sometime before Easter. The two will seek agreement on details of the Saar compromise which nearly split the West German Parliament.

France was the 10th of the 15 nations involved to complete parliamentary approval of the Paris treaties. Ratification now is expected to come quickly from the remaining five bodies.

2-Day Cold Spell Destroys Fruit, Vegetable Crops

Snow, Gales Rip East as Temperature Sinks to Zero on Plains

CHICAGO (INS)—Winter planted a kiss of death on nine southern states and southern Illinois during its last fling.

A killing, two-day cold wave, whose icy fingers reached to the Gulf of Mexico, ruined fruit and early vegetable crops in the South.

The total loss estimated by agriculture experts is nearly $50,000,000.

Peach crops were completely destroyed in Georgia, Illinois, the Carolinas, Alabama, Louisiana, Kentucky, Virginia, Mississippi and southern Arkansas. Other fruit and vegetable crops in all of the states suffered heavy damage.

Other areas also were hit hard by the below freezing temperatures. Much of upstate New York and the rest of the lower St. Lawrence Valley were hit by snow squalls and gale-force winds. And the great plains shivered in zero temperatures.

Some 40 deaths were attributed to the unseasonable weather.

But the South took the brunt of the property damage. In Georgia alone, the loss was set at $10 million. South Carolina crop damage was estimated at between $7 million and $10 million; North Carolina, $5 million; and $8 million each in Illinois and Alabama. Losses in Kentucky, Virginia, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana also ran in the multi-million dollar class.

Orchardists and farmers desperately tried to save their crops by burning smudge pots, but the cold was too severe. The temperature dropped to 16 degrees at Atlanta yesterday, three degrees below the all-time low for a March 27 set back in 1894. At Fort Valley, Ga., in the heart of the peach belt, the mercury dipped to 19 degrees.

At Orangeburg, South Carolina, 200 fishermen and pleasure boaters were stranded on tiny islands in Lake Marion overnight Saturday as high winds whipped up five-foot waves and threatened to capsize their boats. Two helicopters dramatically rescued 97 of the marooned. The rest waited out the storm and made their way back.

Next UAW Goal 30-Hour Week

Auto Workers Eying New Objective as 1955 Convention Opens

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 30-hour work week is being readied by the CIO United Auto Workers as the next bargaining target after the present drive for the guaranteed annual wage.

The union's leaders are concentrating on whipping up support among the more than 3,000 delegates at the UAW's annual convention for the year-around pay plan. But they talk of the shorter work week as the next big step.

In fact, Walter Reuther, president of the CIO and the 1½-million-member UAW, indicated in his convention keynote address he sees no end in sight to organized Labor's demands for more pay and improved working conditions so long as the American economy keeps expanding.

The UAW has made the guaranteed wage plan its major demand on the auto industry in bargaining talks due to start in early April.

It would bind employers to pay 52 full weeks of pay a year regardless of whether there was that much work for employees.

A cut of the present 40-hour week to 30 hours would mean it would take 25 per cent more individual employees to perform the same amount of work as now, if the cost of overtime penalty pay was to be avoided. It would also mean extending the annual employment guarantee to more employees.

Delegates were due to decide today on Reuther's proposal to boost members' $2.50 monthly dues temporarily to $7.50, effective in May, to increase the present seven-million-dollar strike fund to 25 million.

School Financing Issue on April 4 Ballot

Proposal No. 3 Would Set Up Loan Fund in State

(First in a series of four articles dealing with the candidates and issues on the spring state ballot.)

LANSING (AP)—Four constitutional amendments will be on the ballot when the voters go to the polls April 4, but only one of them is receiving any pressure.

That is proposal No. 3.

No. 3 will allow the state to issue 100 million dollars in bonds to obtain money for loans to local school districts for construction of new schools, acquisition of sites or the enlarging, improvement and equipping of existing schools.

School districts would be eligible for the state loans only if they are levying 13 mills on their state equalized valuations for existing debts. The state would loan a district the amount needed in excess of the 13 mill levy.

Thus the measure is aimed at helping "distressed" districts which have more students than they can handle but either do not have the resources to warrant more debt or have bonded themselves up to their legal limit.

In addition, schools which meet that debt limit requirement could also obtain money from the state to refund their existing bonds, thus probably reducing their interest rates and stretching out the time when the debt must be repaid.

Under proposal, No. 3, the school debt to the state must be repaid in 25 years. The borrowers would be required to maintain their 13-mill levy until the state loan is repaid.

The plan contains a July 1, 1962 cut-off date. After that time the state could make no more new loans to school districts.

In effect, the plan amounts to the state lending its credit to local school districts which will repay the state bond issue and interest charges out of their own tax funds.

Thus, sponsors say, it will cost the state nothing except possibly $100,000 in administration costs.

The proposal specifies that the 15-mill tax limitation will not apply to taxes levied for the local bond issues.

The legislature, if the people approve the plan, will designate some state agency to process the loans.

The plan is a cooperative program worked out by school people, bonding houses, real estate and home builders' associations and has the endorsement of both Republicans and Democrats.

The Michigan Education Association says the plan will help to eliminate overcrowded school rooms, provide for constantly expanding school enrollments, reduce the number of unsafe and unsanitary classrooms and eliminate half-day classes in many areas.

Under present constitutional limitations school districts are allowed to increase their taxes for a 20-year bond issue, but bond houses generally require them to pay off the bonds in 12 to 15 years and to maintain substantial cash reserves to protect the bondholders.

A longer period in which to repay the debts would allow schools to pay smaller interest and to spread the cost over more years.

The principal objections to the plan have been raised by the Citizens' Research Council, a non-profit group interested in governmental improvement.

This group argues the proposal involves "complexities and uncertainties" and says adequate facts about it are lacking.

The council contends that the plan is basically a move to nullify the 15-mill tax limitation as to school building debts.

It argues that the plan does not treat the tax burden equally in all counties, that it could upset the state's already shaky finances and will encourage small districts to build their own schools rather than merging into better financed districts.

Await Bond OK on Sylvan Water

Expect State Approval in 10 Days on Project
Costing $250,000

Further action on a new $250,000 municipal water system for the city of Sylvan Lake today awaited state approval of the sale of bonds to finance the project.

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said approval by the Municipal Finance Commission of the sale of $250,000 worth of general obligation bonds and $100,000 in special assessment bonds is expected within 10 days.

Following state sanction, the city will advertise for bids, Ethier said. Construction of the 7 1/2 miles of water lines is expected to be completed within 90 days of the date of contract.

Estimated daily water consumption is expected to average 450,000 gallons, Ethier said. This figure is based on an average of 300 gallons per day each for the city's 1,500 residents.

Already the one municipal well already dug for the system indicates it can supply more than 1,000,000 gallons per day, state law requires two wells. Drillers are slated to begin test work on a second well this week.

Last week, the City Council confirmed the special assessment roll for the system. Ethier said no objections were raised at the public hearing.

Sylvan Lake residents now obtain their water from their own private wells. The city water system was given voter approval last June.

to shore when it subsided. No one was seriously hurt despite exposure to the below-freezing weather.

To the north, a third of Washington's cherry blossoms were killed, but warmer weather was promised and officials said the famous cherry blossom festival would go off on schedule — with cherry blossoms — barring further damage.

In New York state, large sections were isolated by one of the worst blizzards in recent years. The New York state thruway from Fultonville to Buffalo — 240 miles — was closed. Snow depths ranged up to 15 inches at Syracuse.

This morning, the freezing line had moved up to the northern portions of the Gulf states and a warm trend was forecast. Marked temperature rises were reported in the great plains. Moderately strong westerly winds in the North Atlantic states and snow and blowing snow in the eastern great lakes area — remnants of the storm — marked the eastern weather picture. Widespread rain was reported in the west.

Cap Provides Check on Who Rules Roost

PORTLAND, Me. (UP) — Don Butler, president of a sporting goods company, says he can tell whether a boy buying a baseball cap is under paternal or maternal influence.

"If he does it from front to back," says Butler, "the paternal influence is predominant. If he puts it on back to front, the mother rules the roost."

Butler says to check his theory "watch how a woman puts on a bonnet."

Berkley Infant Killed

FREMONT, O. (UP) — Victoria Miller, 11 months, was killed shortly after midnight today in a one-car automobile accident on Route 53, north of here.

The Ohio highway patrol said three other members of the Miller family, which lives at 2666 Kipling in Berkley were in the car at the time.

They were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, parents of the child who was killed, and Betty Miller, 19.

Bank Transfers Money as Landslide Threatens
CHEROKEE, N. C. (UP)—Money in the Cherokee branch of the Jackson County Bank of Sylva was in danger of becoming "buried treasure."

Officials moved the bank because a landslide threatens to cover the small frame building on the Cherokee Indian Reservation.

Want to Try Again? "Bonanzagram" Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press April 8.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 4 is published Friday, April 8. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 4

The sheriff of Gulchtown found a paper nailed to his door one August morning. It was smudged and almost unreadable, but the sheriff recognized it as a taunting challenge from his old enemy, the bold outlaw whose picture was on the other side of the sheet, over the announcement of a large reward offered for his capture. The sheriff managed to decipher the message, mounted his horse and rode out of town to intercept the robber and gain the reward. Can you, too, figure out the message?

Beginning: A Four-Part Closeup of a Statesman

Eden—How Will He Be as Prime Minister?

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—Britons are wondering what sort of prime minister Sir Anthony Eden will make.

Will Churchill's cigar continue to cast a long shadow over British politics? Has Eden lived in the shadow of other men too long to have a substance of his own?

Neither of these questions bothers Eden's friends. The Churchill-Eden relationship, they point out, was a collaboration in which Eden willingly took the back seat. What worries Eden's backers is The Legend. He will have to live it down, they say, if he is ever to succeed as prime minister.

The Legend has to do with his perennial youth. At 38, Eden was the youngest British foreign secretary in modern times; at 57, he was still foreign secretary. He is spoken of as the Peter Pan of Politics, the Golden Boy who refused to grow up.

It has to do with his glamor, too. Stanley Baldwin once remarked: "Anthony is good for 2500 extra votes for the Conservative Party in any constituency he visits." And Baldwin meant women voters.

Women take one look at Eden and go home and eye their husbands' waistlines critically.

From his silvery hair to his highly-polished shoe-caps, Eden is six feet of charm. His Bugs Bunny smile merely adds to it. He has had a hat, the famous black Homburg, named after him. Tailors have copied his clothes. Which is all right—"But who wants Gregory Peck as prime minister?" as one of his closest friends despairingly remarks.

His divorce may have made him popular in some quarters, but it is still rated as a political liability. Within the memory of most Britons a king was forced to give up the British throne because he chose a divorcee as the woman he loved.

Eden obtained his decree on grounds of desertion in 1950, but as late as June, 1954, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express (no friend of Eden's) found it necessary to defend him against unpleasant rumors.

"Not only is Mr. Eden free from the slightest stain in his own private life," the Daily Express declared, "but the mere suggestion of such a possibility is offensive."

Eden is the target of other criticisms.

Pier Angeli Resting; Now Out of Hospital

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Film actress Pier Angeli was recovering today from injuries she suffered Feb. 25 when she fell while aboard a Los Angeles-Palm Springs airplane.

The Italian-born actress left Desert Hospital yesterday and will rest here a week before returning to Hollywood. Miss Angeli, an expectant mother, suffered a broken pelvis and an eye injury.

Doctors said she would not lose her expected baby as first feared. She is with her husband singer Vic Damone.

He may be a whiz at international diplomacy, so the argument runs, but how would he fare in a Home Affairs debate? What does he know about economics? Has he ever had to grapple with a budget? Settle a major labor dispute?

Eden has never made a great speech, his critics point out. Shrewd ones, brave ones, skillful ones, yes. But never great ones.

He once wrote a travel book in which all the clichés in the world are chained together in 17 chapters.

Counter-balanced against all these criticisms is the feeling among average Britons that it would be indecent to name anyone but Sir Anthony as prime minister. In this conviction they are harking back to the Eden of the 1930s—the Knight in Shining Armor, the youthful St. George who tried to slay the Dragon of Fascism.

Almost alone of British Politicians, Eden was right about Mussolini. He was right about Hitler. And he did resign from the government rather than be a party to the appeasement of these dictators.

In the members' bar of the House of Commons a graying politician recalled those early days. "Eden," he said, "was what every man secretly admires and hopes to be—an idealist."

"Unfortunately," he sighed, "downing his glass on the bar, 'Ideals are luxuries that few of us can afford nowadays. The Men in the Kremlin use them against us."

The question is, will they twist them against Eden?"

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated.

ated. Proper punctuation is one of the important keys to a correct solution.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, April 5. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, April 5 for Bonanzagram No. 4. Address: "Bonanzagram," % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor," Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employees of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employee's household.)
2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.
3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize.
5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.
6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.
7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.
8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Local delivered price of the 3-door, 4-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. From the factory-installed extras you may want are bumper, such as Heater & Defroster... $81.70; Radio & Antenna... $72.50.

DID you know that the price of the Buick pictured here is now so close to that of the leading smaller cars, that the dollar difference has practically disappeared?

Did you know that this is one of the big reasons why Buick is now in the "Big Three" of America's volume sales leaders—outselling all other cars but two of the best-known smaller cars?

And did you know that another big reason for this huge popularity is Buick's full-line of automobiles covering every price range—from the really-low-priced SPECIAL right up to the custom-built ROADMASTER?

But the clincher is this:

More and more people are finding out that the dollars you pay for a Buick buy more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More and more people are discovering that you get more comfort, more thrill, more satisfaction here—from Buick size and room, from Buick power and performance, from Buick ride steadiness and engineering and solidity of structure.

And—as we've said right along—more and more people are learning that you can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car.

Why don't you come visit us and judge things for yourself?

We can almost promise you that once you do that—once you see what's to be had here for the money you pay—and once you feel what happens when you press that pedal—you won't be happy again until you have a new Buick of your own.

DID YOU KNOW—

- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three best-known smaller cars?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL includes as standard equipment at no extra cost a long list of items usually charged for as "extras" by other cars—items such as direction signals, automatic lighting of glove compartment, variable speed windshield wipers with vacuum booster, and so on?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

GOP Club Set to Split Party

Conservative Unit Tries to Wrest Control From Eisenhower Liberals

CHICAGO (U) — A Republican group has touched off a drive it terms "the first major break between Eisenhower 'liberals' and the 'isolationist' wing of the party."

The drive was announced yesterday by the Abraham Lincoln National Republican Club. The club said its aim is "to wrest control of the Republican party from the New Dealers and internationalists."

The club was one of the sponsors of a conservative Republican rally in Chicago, Feb. 12. Among the speakers were Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin, Sen. Malone of Nevada, Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah and Kit Clardy, former congressman from Michigan — all Republicans.

Capt. Edgar C. Bundy, of suburban Wheaton, the club president, said those speakers have said "they would make themselves available to speak at seminars in each of the 48 states at any time we wish to call them."

Bundy said the Chicago club is being expanded and will establish "recruiting offices around the country."

He also said he is confident that "by the time we are ready for another meeting we will have many other important American leaders on our team, including Senators John W. Bricker (Ohio), Styles Bridges (N.H.), William F. Knowland (Calif.) and William Jenner, (Ind.)."

In Washington, Knowland declined comment; Bridges said he has had no contact with the sponsors and knew "nothing about their plans." In Columbus, Ohio, Bricker said: "I don't know who they are. They've made no contact with me." Jenner was not available for comment.

Air Crash Survivor Tells of Husband's Death in Raft

By ELMER C. VOGEL

SEATTLE (U) The dry, choked voice of Mrs. Emma Peterson sounded shocked and far away as she told of the crash landing Saturday of the big Pan American World Airways plane in the Pacific Ocean.

"I didn't know it was John," she said in the voice of a person who wants to but can't cry. "I just noticed that someone had been dragged in all covered with oil."

"He opened his eyes and smiled weakly, then said, 'Oh, is that you, Emma?'"

"I lifted his head up and laid it in my lap so it would not lie in the water on the bottom of the life raft."

The pilot of the big four-engine Stratocruiser, Capt. H. S. Joslyn, was forced to ditch the plane when one engine was wrenched from its mounting and fell into the sea. There was no explanation for the engine's tearing loose.

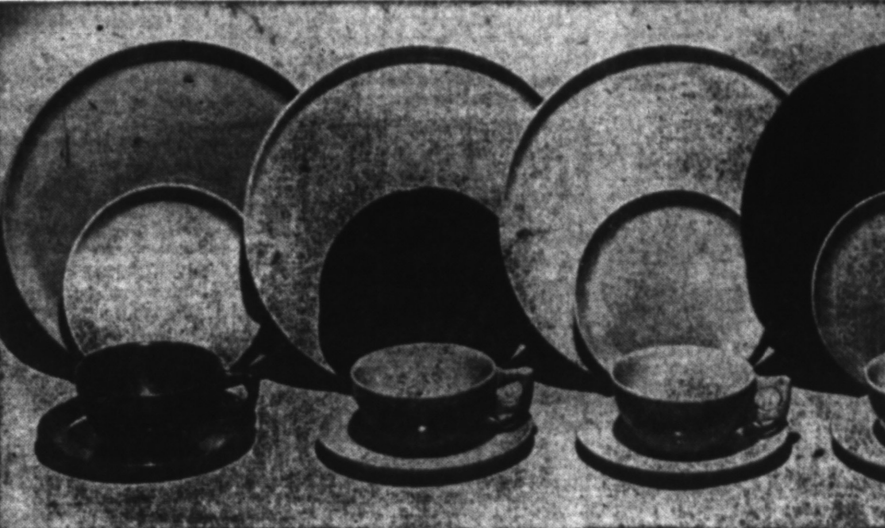

Last night the survivors brought back their recollections, bitter and sweet, and the bodies of the four who perished.

Three were swept to their deaths by a relentless current and wind that drove them away from life rafts on which the surviving huddled.

Those clustered on the three life rafts could hear the constantly weaker and more distant cries of those who died in their life jackets, victims of cold, shock and drowning.

"It's something I never want to hear again," a crew member recalled with breaking voice.

Young Woman Has Household of 47

By PHYLIS BATELLE
PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Housewives who pity their plights on wash day should get a load of the loads Beverly Lyons turns out—nine washersful a day, five days a week.

"I really love it," burbles Beverly. "It's such a challenge!" This girl is an interesting case. As any Oregonian can tell you (for she is famed as a wash-gooder) Beverly is a 30-year-old woman with a mushy heart and, consequently, she maintains a household of 47. They include several children, three adopted, a pair of parents and a variety of other dust-catchers including a lame duck, a sinus-troubled hen, a senile terrier, a ne'er-do-well porcupine and many ducks, goats and cats that don't do a lick of work.

In fact, only 15 members of the 47 are self-supporting. These are Beverly's father, who is in the electric power business, and 14 chickens, which are in eggs.

"Well, naturally, with such a large group, there's plenty of washing to do at home—the kids' clothes, the ducks' blankets, the dogs' shampoo towels and all," beams our girl.

"And, naturally, I have to have a job to keep the farm going (you thought maybe she kept her menagerie in a bungalow?), so I work as a home laundry consultant."

The result is that she goes at life with desperate detergency. She does three washes at home each day, and six on the laundry consulting circuit. When at what she calls "full tilt," demonstrating the controlled-suds detergents of her bosses at Monsanto Chemical Co., she takes on as many as 50 washes a day for the enlightenment of self-service laundry folks.

"But on those days," she confesses, blushing prettily, "I shirk the clothes at home."

Beverly, undoubtedly the world's most clean-living kid, is rather typical of the air of good-humored civic-mindedness you find in Oregonians. The local citizens of Portland, who've heard of her nearby two-acre farm where children and animals are sheltered til death do them part, take it for granted.

"She is a very generous girl," they say. "That's how we raise our females."

A divorcee with one 10-year-old son of her own, Beverly Lyons and her parents have always loved animals, and had a variety of them. It wasn't till four years ago, however, when they finally saved money enough for the little farm southeast of Portland, that they could support more than a half-dozen at a time.

Now, with the peculiar homing instinct that animals have, eight cats, three dogs, nine ducks, two goats, a steer, some hens, the porcupine and the 14 chickens who pay their own way have entered—as strays or as give-aways—the fold. As company they have been joined by three adopted children, two girls and a boy, aged 10 months to 15 years.

"It is," she smiles, "a wonderful family, and I love caring for it. Isn't it fortunate that I have a job washing clothes, so I can get all that practice—and that detergent—for free?"

Voters Abolish School District

Oust Texas Directors in Row Over Firing of Superintendent

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Officials prepared today to canvass election returns which apparently abolished the Irving School District.

The election was another step in a lengthy community controversy including a walkout of some teachers and principals.

Officials expressed optimism classrooms would stay open without interruption.

Residents voted 1,962-1,646 Saturday to abolish the district. If upheld by canvass, this automatically ousts the seven-member school board which fired Supt. John Beard Feb. 16, touching off the led to the walkout of 215 teachers and principals.

Beard backers, who petitioned for the election, say they'll now petition for another to re-create the district.

Between elections, the schools would be under control of three trustees named by the County School Board.

The present board said it fired the 53-year-old Dr. Beard for failure to cooperate. Beard blamed it on a local "political clique."

CHURCHILL: A Man and an Era (5)

The journalist-soldier of India and Africa, age 25, returned to England to run for Parliament. And the electorate returned him to journalism ... and to Africa.

This time it was the Boer War. British against Dutch in South Africa. And the battle pushing deeper into the jungle where the Boers had the advantage.

CLEAR THESE TRACKS! UNCOUPLE THE ENGINE! EVERYBODY RETREAT! WE CAN MAKE IT!

By Ward Cannel and Ralph Lane

I DON'T CARE IF YOUR NAME IS CHURCHILL. YOU ARE NOW A PRISONER OF THE BOER GOVERNMENT!

The ancient Egyptians took homing pigeons on sea voyages.

Bob Considine Says:

General LeMay Has Toughest Job

OMAHA (INS)—Gen. Curtis LeMay looks tough, talks tough, is tough and holds the world's toughest job. Let the man goof just once and your life (and the lives of everybody else in the free world) wouldn't be worth a counterfeit slug.

LeMay holds the club. From a map-lined and chart-filled room at nearby Offutt Air Force Base he controls the Strategic Air Command, the mightiest military striking force in all history.

"If the bell rings today," which is SAC language for "if war breaks out," the atomic attack on scores of Russian and satellite targets would be directed from this room by a cigar-chewing man who seldom raises his voice but has a way of meaning every word he consents to utter.

It has been reported that in the first critical hours of a World War III LeMay would take off in his twin-decked C-97, fly to the center of the conflict and there direct the dropping of A-bombs, H-bombs and whatever else we have in the closet. That presents quite a picture, and the muscular, hard-chinned LeMay would be good type-casting. But the story is wronger than Harvey Matusow.

If war comes, the toughest general of them all will do his fighting from Offutt, no matter how much he growls and wants in. All his tools are here. All his magic buttons.

The nerve center of SAC is deceptively innocuous-looking. The pastel-shaded quarters of SAC's enlisted men, all modishly decorated, give off the air of a Miami motel. The administration buildings look about as menacing as the Census Bureau. The airstrips are not constructed to hold SAC's hardware—the 16-engine B-36, the 6-jet B-47 and the incredible 4-jet B-52.

But once you are taken inside the main administration building, you know that what they're playing they're playing for keeps. You're scrutinized no matter how many badges and cards you're armed with. You don't do any wandering about by yourself. There's a big fellow to walk beside you, and you don't take more than half a dozen steps before you sense that he is your keeper, rather than a pleasant guide.

As you are led closer to "the room" you are deeply impressed with its importance, though the man at your side may be chatting idly about the weather or the Yankees. Big bold signs caution against loose talk. Other signs restrict this or that room, deny one admission to certain corridors. And then at a certain point there are no more open doors. The final portals do not have standard locks, either. They are opened like safes.

SAC is another world ... another war. You won't find a "ranch" cap in the whole outfit. The memories of World War II pilots swim in you, but their gaiety, their light-hearted raffishness are hard to believe as one moves through the stern sobriety of an SAC base.

The SAC pilot (oops, aircraft commander) doesn't smile often. He is likely to be 33 years old and has a couple of children growing up. He is a major, most likely, or even a lieutenant colonel.

On duty he carries sidearms. He knows the precise yields of every nuclear weapon, is hep to radiation problems, the fantastic mathematics of intercontinental navigation, and the figures on life expectancy.

He has made his will and literally is packed and ready to go on a few minutes' notice. His target was selected for him several years ago. He knows it as well as he knows the face of his wife. He has "bombed" it scores of times on the endless practice missions. He'd recognize it on his radar screen through 50,000 feet of pea soup.

There's a place in this country that looks just like it—let's say the railroad switching yards of Chicago, or the Pentagon building—and so he is often sent there, sometimes by way of the North Pole. A truck filled with electronic equipment, parked at the site of the target, keeps tab on the accuracy of his hypothetical bomb drop.

A near-miss isn't good enough.

Arrest Suspect in Slaying of 4

Family Is Found Dead Near Tennessee Farm; Man, 23, Held

ROCK ISLAND, Tenn. (AP)—A family of four was found slain on their farm yesterday and officers accused Billy Gibbs, 23, whom they already had in jail for selling the family's mules and pigs.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bratcher, 44 and 42, their daughter, Lily May, 10, and their motherless granddaughter, 20 months.

As Sheriff Eldridge Youngblood explains it, this was the story: Bratcher was shot to death, his wife and daughter beaten to death and the baby either drowned or allowed to die of exposure last Wednesday.

Thursday, Gibbs sold two mules, a sow and some pigs from Bratcher's farm to McMinnville livestock dealers, and warned one of them of a vicious dog at the farm.

Friday, Gibbs bought a 1940 used car, paying for it with cash and a $75 check from one of the livestock dealers.

Friday night, Charles Bratcher of McMinnville, father of the dead baby, found a note on his father's door: "Baby in Nashville hospital."

Saturday, finding this untrue, young Bratcher called for the sheriff. Officers saw the Bratchers' dog shot to death in the front yard and found bloodstains in the house and barn—but no bodies.

They found Bratcher's blood-stained truck on a McMinnville parking lot, and learned of the livestock sales. They charged Gibbs with larceny.

Sunday morning, they found the baby's body in a water-filled cistern. The mother and older girl were in a sinkhole a quarter of mile from the house, and Bratcher under a sorghum mill a half mile from the house.

Leprosy patients often contract tuberculosis.

THE EASTER STORY—1

Jesus Enters Jerusalem

Jesus rode into Jerusalem at the season of the Passover feast. Passover is a holy Jewish observance. Jesus' 12 disciples were with him. On the road joyful crowds surrounded him. Waving palm branches and shouting "Hosanna," they led him to the gates of the city. He entered the temple and overturned the tables of the money changers and scolded the men who were selling doves to be used as offerings. He said the temple should be a house of prayer and they had made it a den of thieves. Then he healed the blind and crippled people who came to him in the temple. The priests didn't like what he did. They were jealous of him and wanted to get rid of him.

This is the first of 12 stories on Easter. Each story's picture is drawn like a stained glass window. You can look at your church's windows for ideas on how to best color this series.

Tomorrow: Jesus teaches in the temple.

Mother Says No to Girl's Ambition as Pipe Smoker

FLINT — A pretty 22-year-old nurse saw her plans for representing Michigan at the international pipe-puffing contest go up in smoke today. Her mother disapproves.

Kay Kelley, a nurse at Hurley Hospital in Flint, doubtless would have been tabbed as a favorite of the contest in Schenectady, N. Y. She won the state championship Saturday night, outpuffing

Mrs. Robert Rudl of Flint, last year's international champ.

Mrs. Kelley kept her pipe going for 36 minutes, 10 seconds on the regulation 3.5 grams of tobacco. It was her first try at pipe smoking too.

"But mother won't let me go to the contest in New York," she said. "In fact, she's simply shocked by the whole affair. She doesn't even approve of smoking, let alone pipe smoking, for girls."

Winner of the men's title over 25 other entrants was Floyd Bevins, 60, a Flint auto parts salesman. He puffed for one hour, 30 minutes and 15 seconds.

Plan 2nd Blast at Niagara Jam

Engineers Will Plant Dynamite in River Ice From Helicopter

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. — Army engineers today were scheduled to make another attempt to blast free the ice-jammed mouth of the Niagara River on Lake Ontario at Youngstown.

A gale off the lake yesterday prevented attempts by helicopter-borne demolition experts to plant dynamite charges in the ice mass. Two 25-pound charges detonated in the ice by an explosives expert Saturday were no more effective than firecrackers.

There were indications yesterday, however, that natural forces were already at work to free the river, which is choked with the destructive ice for the full 12 miles from Niagara Falls to the lake.

Col. Loren W. Olmstead, U.S. Army district engineer at Buffalo, who is directing the blasting operations, said that water apparently was moving under the ice and may be lessening some of the pressure in the jam by carrying off chunks from the bottom of the ice mass.

The water level at Queenston, Ont., Olmstead said, dropped to 31 feet above normal yesterday. It was more than 40 feet Friday.

Ex-Detroit Publisher Interred in California

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Funeral service for Daniel F. Lyons, former executive of a Detroit educational publishing firm, were held yesterday in Beverly Hills.

Lyons was a native of Dearfield Township and a graduate of the University of Michigan and the U. of M. law school. In 1940 he retired from the publishing firm of Lyons and Carnahan and moved to California.

Missing Tug Found Safe in Cove on Lake

TRAVERSE CITY — A fishing tug and its three-man crew were reported safe near home port in Wisconsin today after being reported missing on northern Lake Michigan.

Coast Guard search crews spotted the tug yesterday, moored in a cove four miles from its home port of Ellison Bay, Wis.

Herman O. Weborg, captain of the tug, said he and his two man crew spent Saturday night in the cove rather than battle heavy waves kicked up by the 35-mile-an-hour winds on the lake.

'Lakeland's Paradise' Is Slogan Chosen for Waterford

Kate Whitfield Wins Contest

Receives $25 Award; Township Road Signs to Display Slogan

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Winner of the contest to select a suitable slogan for Waterford Township is Mrs. Kate Whitfield, 6781 Williams Lake Road.

The winning slogan is "Waterford Township: Lakeland's Paradise."

It was chosen at a meeting Saturday at the Waterford Township Hall from 113 entries, and was the unanimous choice of the judges.

The township has 30 odd lakes, the largest number of any of the 25 townships in Oakland County. Most of these lakes are surrounded by homes. The judges felt that such a slogan would recognize the importance of this quite outstanding feature of the township's attractions.

The slogan will be painted on large signs to be erected on every highway entering the township. It also will be used on stationery and other printed matter put out by the township and its residents.

For her winning slogan Mrs. Whitfield receives a prize of $25, contributed by members of the Waterford Township Board, each of whom donated $5.

She is a member of a prominent Waterford Township family, and for many years has been a prominent booster for the area. She has had an intimate connection with many of the things that have contributed to its progress.

The judges in the contest were: Percy King, life-long resident of the township; James C. Covert, first Superintendent of the Waterford Township schools; and Joe Haas, Pontiac Press staff member.

SET FOR THE SHOW—A model boy is two-year-old Jeffrey Wyckoff of Clarkston. To prove it, he will model children's clothing at a spring style show sponsored by Zeta Zeta Omega Sorority, to be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday at Drayton Plains School. Modeling women's clothing will be his mother, Mrs. Lynn Wyckoff (right) and Mrs. Milton McNally (left) of Drayton Plains.

Gala Evening Is Planned at Drayton Wednesday

DRAYTON PLAINS — Members of the Zeta Zeta Omega Sorority are planning a gala evening when they stage their Spring Style Show and Card Party at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Drayton Plains School.

Funds derived from the affair, which will be held in the school auditorium, will be used to finance a student project at Waterford High School, Mrs. Harry Nicholson, president of the sorority, said.

Fashions in the show will be from Cecile's in Drayton Plains, and sorority members will assist with the modeling.

Fashions exhibited will include children's clothes, both boys' and girls'; young girls' clothing, women's styles, and bedwear.

This is the first such venture of the sorority, and members are inviting the people of the community to turn out in numbers for the benefit affair.

General chairman is Marcella Shell. Door prizes and refreshments will be included, as well as table prizes for the card games. Donations of $1 will be asked for the affair.

See Slow Week for Legislature

Lawmakers Ease Off to Avoid Vote Losses Over Touchy Issues

LANSING (AP) — With its hot potatoes temporarily shelved, Michigan's Legislature returns tonight for what looks like a humdrum week.

To most members it was just as well. They frankly don't want to step on anyone's toes the week before the April 4 state elections.

One hot potato, changing university, has been handed to the Michigan State College to a uni-senate after a stormy week in the House.

'Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee to which the bill was referred, indicated he will get started on it this week.

The University of Michigan, which opposes calling MSC "Michigan State University", has asked for a hearing on the bill and Hittle already has said he will grant the request.

The other hot issue, a new highway program, has been entrusted to the tender mercies of a House-Senate conference committee — but the committee has not been completed.

Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) must decide this week how to select three conferees from the House without overly angering conflicting blocs in the House.

With these issues off the floor for the moment, the House and Senate will return at 8 p.m. to find relatively dull calendars awaiting them.

In the Senate, a large backlog of bills has piled up behind a 307-page revision of the school code. Senators expect to be several more days wading through the highly-technical measure.

The Senate has an early vote scheduled on a bill to let the state pledge $12,500,000 of its annual highway funds for expressway bond issues. This is an increase of five million dollars over the amount now permitted.

Traditionally, the Legislature keeps to a slow pace, in the days immediately preceding a spring election lest it stir voter groups to anger.

Figure Fashioning Club to See Films, Hear Talk — WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Members of the Fashion Your Figure Club will see two color movies, "Losing to Win," and "Proof of the Pudding," at their regular meeting, at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Waterford High School.

Mrs. Charles Cole, Oakland County health nurse, will give a talk on the dangers of being overweight.

Placed on Probation — William Bain, 33, of Detroit, was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 court costs today by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick.

Bain admitted March 21 passing a bogus $24 check in Hazel Park Feb. 26.

The state competition was conducted under the auspices of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

Sewing Session Slated — WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Sewing is on the agenda for the Sunnyvale Ladies Missionary Auxiliary meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the chapel.

Say 3 Pirated GM Car Designs

State Police Capture Trio Trying to Sell New Model Photos

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne (Detroit) County authorities promised a decision today on whether warrants would be issued against two police officers and a General Motors Corp. guard alleged to have sold top secret plans of future GM cars.

State Police said the three were nabbed Friday after two of them accepted $1,000 in marked bills from an independent automobile designer in Mount Clemens for photographs of new GM models.

Designs of new model cars are closely guarded secrets of the automotive industry. Police said GM claimed that had the pictures fallen into the hands of competitors, it could have cost the company millions of dollars to redo and change designs.

Arrested for investigation of grand larceny were Elmer E. Bolla, 27, of East Detroit; Thomas Robertson, 32, of Roseville and Richard DeClair, 23, also of Roseville. DeClair is a brother-in-law of Bolla.

Bolla, a Macomb County deputy sheriff since March 15, was fired after his arrest. Robertson, a Roseville policeman, was suspended.

The two were caught in a police trap after the car designer tipped troopers of their offer. DeClair, a guard at the GM styling and research building in Detroit, was arrested at work. Bolla is a former plant guard.

State Police Lt. Fred Davids said Bolla and DeClair photographed pictures of GM designs while making their rounds of the styling and research building. Robertson gave them the camera, Davids said.

Police said the three contacted Chrysler and Ford officials and offered to sell the photos for $1,000. Neither company would buy. Later they approached the independent designer in Mount Clemens.

Wildcat Strike Ends at Two Food Plants — BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Normal production was expected today at two General Foods Corp. plants following agreement between management and CIO United Cereals, Baker and Food Workers to end a three-day strike.

The agreement was reached yesterday after union membership voted to return to work.

The walkout, termed unauthorized by union and management, idled 2,200 workers.

It was touched off when some 350 employees of the company's carton and container division left their jobs Thursday night to protest a company plan to "redistribute work" on a single operation involving four men.

Ferndale Tot Out to Prove Spring Is Here

FERNDALE — Despite winter's big comeback, a little Ferndale four-year-old still believes in spring, and this weekend she set out to prove it.

Donning two right shoes and buttoning only as much of her dress as she could reach, little Connie Topping got up from a nap and gaily set out from her home at 1725 W. Saratoga St., minus coat, hat or overshoes.

The sub-freezing weather didn't bother her a bit, but her cool costume attracted the notice of four teenagers who took her to the Oak Park Police Station. There a patrolman bundled her up in his coat and started out in a scout car to find her parents.

En route, the pair saw a man running along the street anxiously looking right and left, and Connie pointed him out as "my Daddy."

She was returned home, apparently none the worse for her out-of-season adventure.

Pontiac Sales Reach New All-Time High — PONTIAC (AP) — Pontiac Motors today reported its retailers delivered 32,657 new cars during the first 20 days of March.

The company reported sales for the first 2 1/2 months of 1955 totaled more than 115,000 units. This was the highest volume for the period in Pontiac history.

PTA Board to Meet — KEEGO HARBOR (AP) — The Executive Board of the Roosevelt PTA will meet at the home of Mrs. R. Dale Aumadher, 1910 Beverly, at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Lake Orion Meeting Was Held on Friday — LAKE ORION — A public meeting on weed control in Lake Orion was erroneously reported as scheduled for March 26.

The meeting was held last Friday.

Topic at Troy Is Incorporation — BARNARD, Gray to Talk at High School PTA Meeting Tonight

TROY TOWNSHIP — Background on planning that has gone into the zoning and the building up of a balanced tax base for the township, as relates to Troy's desire to incorporate, will be discussed by Supervisor Norman Barnard at the Troy High School PTA meeting at 8 tonight.

Incorporation is sought to prevent the annexation of 76 acres of industrial property at the southern border of Troy. The Vickers Corp., of Detroit is seeking to construct a $2,000,000 plant at the southwest corner of Maple and Crooks road and wants the property annexed to Royal Oak.

Ernest W. Gray, chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Incorporation, will report on plans underway by the group to promote the incorporation.

An adult education exhibit will include a style show by the millinery class, with refreshments served by the cooking class.

Detroit Attorney Says Fluoridation Unsafe

John Safran, Detroit lawyer who is also associate minister of the Detroit Central Methodist Church, points out that two Congressional hearings have been held on fluoridation. These hearings, he says

"established two important facts: 'The two Congressional hearings held upon fluoridation established two important facts: (1) Eminent authorities are in disagreement on the safety of fluoridation. (2) Science has no answers for many questions concerning fluoridation. Briefly the disagreement centers around the following points:

"First. The basic underlying assumption that those who favor fluoridation have made is that naturally fluoridated water is identical with artificially fluoridated water. This has never been scientifically established. In fact, Dr. Dillon, D. D. S. of Great Britain, in ten years of experimentation has proved that there is even a difference between the toxic (poisonous), content of naturally fluoridated water. His work just doesn't receive the attention it should in our country.

"Those in opposition claim that fluoridation is unsafe unless the similarity is proved by scientific experiment. Until the similarity is established all the statistics cited from the naturally fluoridated areas have no value. This appears so elemental that it is difficult to understand how reasonable men could differ on it.

"The question you and I have a right to ask is, 'Why don't the experts prove their basic assumption before proceeding with the experiment of fluoridation?' It is so difficult, most authorities claim. A few even claim it is impossible.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation without first proving by scientific experiment that naturally fluoridated waters are the same as artificially fluoridated water?

"Second, There is a fundamental disagreement as to whether fluorine accumulates in the body of a normal, healthy individual. Some authorities claim that at least 90 per cent is excreted. Others claim that almost all is excreted. What happens to the rest?

"Those in favor of fluoridation claim that the very small amount that is retained in the body hardens the teeth. However it only affects the teeth of children up to the age of twelve. Even those in favor of fluoridation admit that ten to twelve per cent of the children will get too much fluorine and will thus develop mottled teeth —defective teeth which are too brittle to fill and are unattractive due to white spots.

"Those opposed to fluoridation claim that fluorine does accumulate in the body. Thus over a period of years, they claim, the small amount that remains in the body will reach the point where it will seriously impair the health of the individual or even cause his death. It may take as long as 20 to 30 years before this point is reached.

"This fact enables those who favor fluoridation to ask, 'Why don't you give us the evidence that it harms people?' They have no clinical evidence that it is safe but are willing to assume it is because no evidence has been presented that satisfies them.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation without knowing definitely the accumulative effects of fluorine?

"Third, An individual whose kidneys do not function properly should not drink water containing fluorine or for that matter any other poison. Let me make it clear at this point that fluorine is one of the deadliest poisons known to man.

"If the Pontiac water supply is fluoridated, we will all have to have regular periodical physical examinations to determine whether our kidneys are functioning properly or else just take the chance like most are doing in Highland Park. Is it moral to advocate fluoridation without informing the public of this great danger?

"Fourth, Little scientific clinical research has been conducted to determine what effects fluorine will have upon the older groups in our society. Those in favor of fluoridation base their position upon statistics gathered from naturally fluoridated areas which I have explained are valueless at present.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation without having definite knowledge of what effects it will have upon the older people?

"Fifth, The amount of fluorine one's body can tolerate, varies according to age, the state of health, both physical and emotional, and one's diet. If you eat a lot of fish or drink a lot of tea, both of which contain a high percentage of fluorine, you cannot safely drink as much fluoridated water as some other individual. "If you are an habitually high strung person, it will affect you more than if you are easy-going. If you are well you can tolerate more than while you are sick. A young person can tolerate more than an old person. A crisis in one's life causing a great emotional disturbance would immediately lower to toleration point.

"Although the toleration of every individual varies from day to day, it is yet assured that over a period of time one part of fluorine for every million parts of water will be perfectly safe for everyone. Those in favor of fluoridation always point out that although fluorine is a deadly poison it will prove beneficial when used in such infinitesimal amount.

"Dr. William P. Martzowka, Saginaw physician and a leader in a recent successful fight to remove fluorine from that city's water supply, gives us the following interesting facts: 'We are told that 0.9 parts per million, (of fluorine), is safe; 1.8 p.p.m. is not safe. One drop per 16 2-3, (roughly 17 gallons), equals 1 p.p.m.

"In other words: One drop of fluorine in 17 gallons of water is safe because it is an infinitesimal dose. If we add one more drop, another infinitesimal dose, to 17 gallons, it is not safe. With two drops in 17 gallons the kidney is unable to eliminate enough fluoride. This causes accumulation to take place.

"Also, it is well known that every food we have and every drug we have cannot be used by many persons. How many individuals in Pontiac would be allergic to fluoridated water? There is no way of telling.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation if the toleration point of every individual varies from day to day and a certain percentage are bound to be allergic to it?

"Sixth, There is a great deal of difference between chlorination and fluoridation. Chlorine is put into water to purify it and then it is removed. Fluorine is put into water with the intention that it remain in the water. The more one boils water, the less chlorine is left in the water; whereas the higher the fluorine concentration becomes. In ordinary cooking one can easily double the fluoride concentration.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation when this constant danger will exist?

"Seventh, How about the pilot study projects that have been carried on for years like in Grand Rapids, Mich., and in Newburgh-Kingston, N. Y., etc.? Haven't these studies given us all the answers we need? No they haven't because, as Dr. Dean testified under oath in 1952, those pilot study projects were set up with but one purpose in mind: to confirm their hypothesis that 'we would get a reduction in dental caries.' They weren't interested in observing whether there would be any adverse psychological or medical consequences.

"Is it moral to advocate fluoridation when you clearly understand that the pilot study projects didn't even seek the answers to the many unanswered questions?

"Eighth, Why do those who favor fluoridation do so with such fanatical zeal? Why do they refuse to consider any evidence which would tend to discredit their position? The cause of tooth decay is well established. Dr. Philip Jay, D.D.S., Sc. D., Professor of Dentistry, University of Michigan, one of the leaders in this movement for fluoridation, made the following statement in his reply to my article in the Michigan Christian Advocate in 1954.

"It is quite generally agreed among dental research workers that caries (cavities), can be prevented without using fluoride water if the diet is low in carbohydrate and contains no sugar whatever. Fluoridation is the first effective measure which has been found to neutralize somewhat the harmful effect of high sugar intake in susceptible individuals.

"Instead of gambling with the liver of millions of people, wouldn't it be far more moral to tell our children the harmful effects of sugar? By disciplining themselves they would grow in physical health and spiritual health. To help them by examples is our Christian responsibility. The millions that would be saved could be used to feed our brothers and sisters around the world who are starving for the basic necessities of life. Those who still desired would be free to harden their teeth by taking fluoride in capsule form at very little cost."

Service on Wheels Good News Throughout Home

By ELIZABETH HILLYER
No one ever knows until she owns one just how useful a serving cart is. This kind, really a drop-leaf table on wheels, easily takes on a dozen pleasant chores for one family who owns it.

It serves refreshments in the living room and is the extra server with the coffee and dessert at the hostess' elbow in the dining room.

It earns its keep just by saving trips with dishes between the kitchen and dining room. Mother enjoys pushing it to a window for her quiet second cup of morning coffee.

Sometimes it's a sewing table, or a hobby worktable or a writing table pulled up to a favorite chair. It serves breakfast on the porch on a bright spring morning, or dinner for two before the fire on a winter night when the children are abed.

The teenagers love it for trundling snacks all over the house, and anyone who's ailing can eat from it when one leaf is pulled over the bed. The younger children also use it this way for games and toys. The table sketched is cherry with damage-resistant plastic top and shelf surfaces, a new design by William L. Beard.

Frankness Best Policy in Problem

Don't Hesitate to Tell Him You Don't Want His Company

By EMILY POST

The following question comes from a young woman who asks: "What can I say to a man who persists in asking me to go out with him? I don't want to be rude, but I have no intention of going anywhere with him — ever. I would be very grateful for your help in this matter."

Answer: He must be a very determined young man and since your constant polite refusals have not discouraged him any, I'm afraid there is nothing else to do but to resort to such frankness as having to say, "Please don't ask me any more because I am sorry I really do not care to go out with you."

Dear Mrs. Post: I've been told that on our twin bedspreads my initials should be used. But I think it would seem more suitable to have the one on my husband's bed marked with his initials. What is proper?

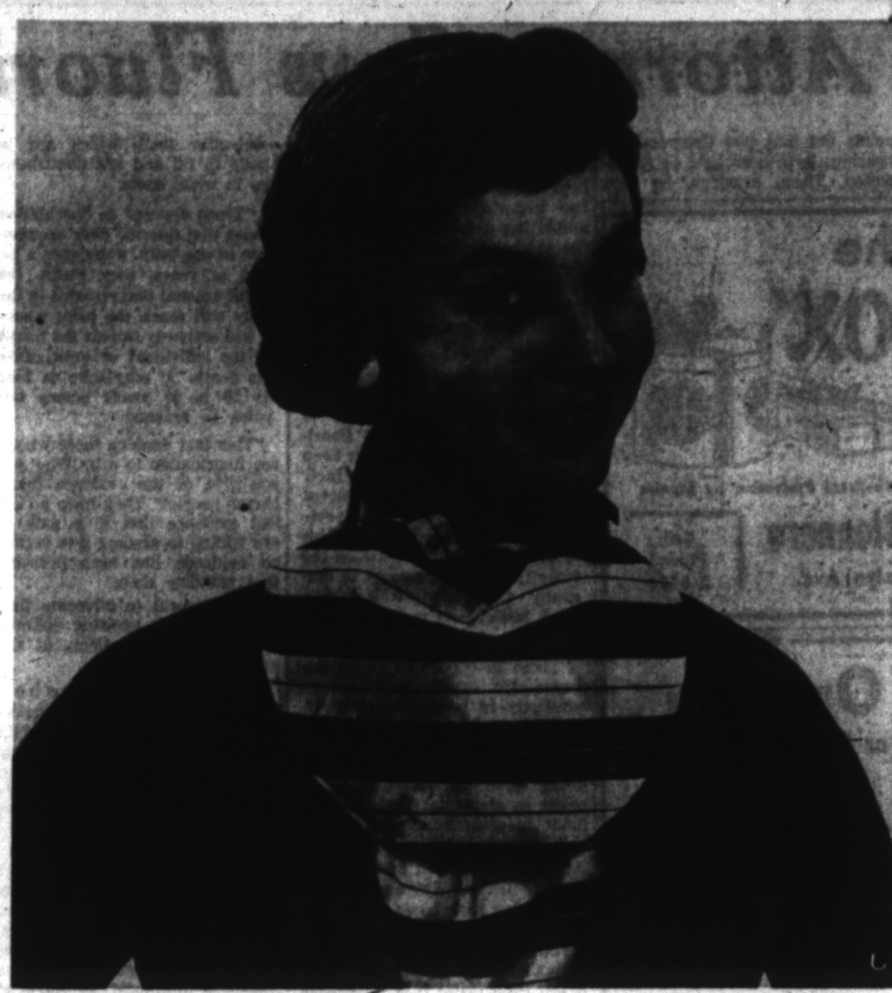

Answer: Correctly, house linen is always marked with the wife's initials.

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining with a girl friend in a restaurant that has booths, should I sit facing her or do I take my place beside her? Which is proper manners?

Answer: If the table is very narrow, you sit across from her. If the table is wide and set for four people, you sit beside her.

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be possible to send our regrets to a wedding (which is to be at home) on the card enclosed with the wedding gift? For example, on my card to the bride write: "So sorry we can't come to the wedding. But will be with you in thought." I would not then write a separate acknowledgement.

Answer: Your suggestion is entirely correct.

French Engineers Launching Project to Harness Tides for Electric Power

PARIS (UP) — French engineers have just started what is probably the first full-scale attempt to harness the moon's tidal pull for electric power.

From time immemorial the moon's gravity has attracted the sea, pulling it out of its bed, over the beaches and up the estuaries. But as the moon continues in its orbit around the earth, the water it has attracted slips uselessly back into the sea.

Engineers have long dreamed of harnessing the vast power of the tides. So far little has been done. But now the big French power company, Electricite de France, has started preliminary construction on its tidal power plant on the Rance Estuary, between Dinard and St. Malo in Brittany.

The first job is to build roads and housing for the construction crew. In December, Electricite officials received completed plans for the dam and power plant from competing designers. Construction will start in earnest in the spring, and officials hope the first moon-born kilowatt-hours will be juicing France's electric lines at the end of five years.

Engineers in many countries are watching the French experiment. If it works, they have a number of estuaries that would be ideally suited to similar projects.

French scientists have been quietly working out the problems involved at the Laboratoire D'Hydraulique at Grenoble. They set up a small model of the project to aid them in their calculations.

As the engineers see it, the estuary will fill up at high tide. The turbines will be covered over and the water will continue to mount until it reaches a depth of 11.40 meters (about 37 feet).

During this period of filling, the turbines will not function.

There are two kinds of men—those who kiss and tell and those who kiss and exaggerate.

Don't Doubt When He's So Good

Talk Insignificant if Actions Speak Eloquently

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going out steadily ever since we met two months ago. His sister introduced us.

I like him very much and he told his family that he likes me too. When he's with me he certainly acts that way. He's very sweet to me. But he never tells me he likes me.

I told his sister that and she said it's because he's shy. So what should I do? Should I tell him that I like him first? Or should I just keep quiet and wait? I'm going out of my mind!"

Answer: Haven't you proof enough? He dates you steadily which is a sign that he likes you a lot. He told his family that he liked you. He shows you in lots of little ways that he thinks you're tops.

Can't you believe all that? Must you actually hear those little words in order to believe what you already know to be true?

Lots of boys (and not just the shy ones) hesitate to talk too personally and intimately even with the girls they like best. They're afraid to put their innermost feelings on record.

Shy about it, maybe. But prudent too. They don't want to open up topics of conversation that can get out of hand. So they quietly say nothing. They are sweet and do nice things, instead.

So why not play his game? Go right on being sweet to him, show your appreciation and your approval. Skirt around those three little words yourself. You'll both have just as much fun without saying them.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm worried about a girl in my class. She and a girl friend drive around at night and pick up boys who are walking around."

They're respectable girls and I don't think they should do this. My boy friend and I have a particular interest in them. How can we let them know they shouldn't do this without making them mad at us?"

If you speak to the girls about it they may take it as scolding criticism and remind you that what they do is none of your business. You might have better luck in changing their activities if you spoke to them about your particular interest in them. Let the good word get around that you like them. Then follow it up with dates.

Keep those girls occupied if you want to keep them out of mischief. Take them out, spend casual evenings in their homes, join up with other couples for informal parties.

If you can persuade them to go steady with you, their loyalty to the deal may keep them from wandering. You will have set up a constructive channel for their energies—a routine that would be fun for you too.

Take Things Easy

If you packed the family's summer cottons away unstarched and unironed, save yourself a week of solid drudgery by unpacking that box and ironing a few at a time or even the whole batch at once, before it gets hot.

Toastmistresses to Hold Speech Contest Saturday in Pontiac

Choir Sings in Pontiac Wednesday

Famed Group to Be Presented at 2 Performances

The Augustana Choir of Augustana College in Rockford, Ill., will present a concert at Pontiac High School Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The choir upholds a music tradition begun 95 years ago. The college has had a school of music for more than a hundred years, and has been a Midwest center for the presentation of the world's great oratorios ever since its founding in 1860.

The Jenny Linds is a name given to the women in the choir. It was Jenny Lind, the famous Swedish Nightingale, who was among the first to contribute to the founding of Augustana College.

The concert here is being sponsored by St. John's Lutheran Church of Pontiac and Christ Lutheran Church of Waterford. The Rev. Carl W. Nelson and The Rev. Arvid Anderson, pastors of the two churches, are making all arrangements.

Sunday evening the choir was featured on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, the choir will sing at the Assembly at Pontiac High School and at 3 p.m. at Waterford High. Later in the afternoon they will be taken on a tour of Pontiac Motor Division.

Henry Veld is conductor and founder of the choir. In addition to his directing duties at Augustana, he is director of the Apollo Musical Club of Chicago.

Tickets may be obtained from members of the churches or by phoning FE 4-3404 or OR 3-1811.

Patient in Hospital

Mrs. E. M. Buckley of Commerce road has returned to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where she recently underwent surgery.

Shirley Dove (seated) of Dwight avenue will represent Pontiac Toastmistress Club at the speech contest to be held Saturday at Hotel Waldron. Mrs. P. Eugene Miller (left) of Edgewood Park drive is general chairman of the contest which is sponsored by Council Four, International Toastmistress Clubs.

Joyce Irene Miller Wed in Church of Brethren

A white ballerina length gown of net and lace over taffeta was worn by Joyce Irene Miller for her marriage to Edward E. Shelby Saturday evening in First Church of the Brethren.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Miller of Adams road and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Shelby of Harrisburg, Ill., and Garland Shelby of Edison avenue.

The bride's headpiece secured a fingertip length veil and she carried a white Bible with an arrangement of white roses, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

The Rev. L. W. Shafer performed the eight o'clock ceremony before an altar decorated with palms, candelabra, and vases of white carnations and snapdragons. Mrs. Paul Girtman attended the bride as matron of honor wearing a blue gown of net and lace in ballerina length. Shirley Bauer, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor wearing an orchid ballerina length gown.

Both attendants carried arrangements of yellow carnations with streamers matching their gowns. Linda McClusky, the bride's niece, was flower girl wearing a yellow gown of net and taffeta and carrying a nosegay of orchid flowers.

Jack Shelby of Harrisburg, Ill., served as his brother's best man and seating the guests were Wesley DeVault and Jack McClusky.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Ralph Blough of Goshen, Ind., sang the bridal recital.

The bride's mother greeted 100 guests at a reception held in the church parlors wearing a turquoise dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy checked suit. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow carnations and Tulleman roses.

Following the reception the new Mrs. Shelby changed to a gray suit with pink straw hat and pink gloves. She wore the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Pontiac.

Annual Lenten Tea Held at All Saints

The annual Lenten tea of Guild Eight of All Saints Episcopal Church was held this year as a memorial to Mrs. John Davies.

The Rev. C. George Widdfield addressed the group, at the Wednesday event, on the topic, "The Alternatives of Life."

Mrs. Christopher Gibbons was chairman of the event held in Rose Kneale room of Stevens Hall. Mrs. Widdfield and Mrs. Alex Maginnis presided at the tea service.

A girls' vocal group from Pontiac High School presented selections.

Roof Won't Fall in Because Your Son Has Bad Opinion, Thinks You're Awful

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
During World War II, I met a young woman named Miss P. She lived with the wealthy aunt who had adopted and educated her. In return for these favors, she was required to submit to many humiliations.

by Anne Adams 4712 12-20; 30-42

She was a reserved young woman—until the name of Adolph Hitler was mentioned. Then Miss P. would become incandescent with anger. Hand on her throat, she'd say, "Even speaking the beast's name chokes me."

At first, because you hated him yourself, this was impressive. Gradually, however, you became aware that there was something off-center in the violence of Miss P.'s feelings.

You began to realize that it had been aroused, not by Europe's dictator, but by her private one. And that she was just using him as the socially approved object of rage which was too risky to direct at her aunt.

Sometimes children will use substitutes like this for the anger they feel toward us.

Because teachers are grownup authorities, too, they make fine substitutes. So when Joe, home from school, begins bitter complaints about Miss Soames' bossiness over homework revision, it's a good idea to turn thoughtful.

Thinking back to three days ago, we may recall the rebellion with which Joe accepted our refusal to punish his little brother for playing with his tool chest. If so, let's encourage him to give his anger to the person who aroused it by saying, "You're pretty down on grownups today. If you're mad at me about something I've done, I wish you'd tell me about it instead of being scared to."

Joe's opinion of our treatment of him may not be flattering—but the open attack is wonderfully satisfying in the long run.

Oh, the first shock's not pleasant. It's startling to learn you're unjust and contemptible after spending three hours mending and ironing Joe's school shirts. The big thing is, you discover that you survive.

Despite Joe's bad opinion of you, you find you're still alive. And you emerge from the shock with the blessed realization that the roof isn't going to fall in on you because your child thinks you're awful.

That's what we have to find out. It has to stop mattering what Joe thinks of us. That's when encouragement of the open attack pays off. We have ourselves back in our own possession.

Whole again, we find ourselves saying gently to our angry child, "Yes, I can see why I made you mad. I don't blame you. On the other hand, I didn't think it was fair to Buddy to punish him because...

By forcing Joe to overcome his fear of our disapproval, we are rewarded by losing our fear of his.

Lose Fear of Portable Heaters

This was a rough winter for portable oil heaters and an even rougher winter for a lot of people who heat their homes with this type of unit.

We know a lot of people who have used this type of unit for many years without trouble but for the most part they took excellent care of the unit and were careful about how the fuel was handled and stored. Unless these units are so handled, they can be very dangerous.

In this day and age there is no excuse for having a heating system in your home which is dangerous and might possibly start a fatal fire.

Back in the old days a central type of heating system was expensive and often could not be installed in an existing house but that age has passed a good many years ago.

Today there are many brands of central heating systems that operate on either gas or oil.

These are central type systems which can be installed in just about every type of existing house and which, when properly installed, are as safe as things can get these days.

They are approved either by the Underwriter's Laboratory or the American Gas Association and carry a seal of approval from one of these organizations.

The oil units draw their supply of oil from an outdoor storage tank which immediately eliminates the hazard of having inflammable material right next to the heater. And best of all neither the gas or oil fired heater is expensive.

A unit for a small house won't cost as much as many TV sets and the peace of mind they will deliver is worth a lot more than any of the stuff coming in over the air these days.

If you own your own home or are a landlord and at present depend on portable units for heat you owe it to all concerned to put in a system now that will deliver safe heat come next winter.

IF short—

Abandon H-line. A-line better for height. Narrow shoulders speed to neckline width for diagonal lines which are best for short figure.

Mrs. S.—Break away from the straight up and down silhouette which squares you. The "A" line is most exciting in a three-quarter length coat worn with a pleated skirt. The 38- to 40-inch coat is prophetic for fall, 1955, according to prestige designers.

In Other Words, She's Doubtful Writer Ponders Wisdom of Promising to Reform

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

A Cleveland reader writes to suggest that a good start for marriage might be a list of faults of both partners tacked up somewhere as a constant reminder for each to improve.

Well, maybe a list of faults could save a marriage, but it certainly didn't help me keep my New Year's resolutions of 1954. Carefully I compiled this combined confession and plan for personal betterment.

It was printed and Myra clipped it from the newspaper and nailed it nearly in a conspicuous spot, apparently hoping that, frequently nudged, I'd stick to my diet, control my temper and all the rest.

I read the document over once, marveling as I did so that I could ever have been such an optimist. After that, as far as I was concerned, it simply became part of the wallpaper design. I never again consciously looked at it during all of 1954.

Yet I'm a great one for making lists. Like the late Scott Fitzgerald, when I am out of sorts or can't sleep, I amuse myself by tabulating people who would, for instance, be sorry if I died; those who would rejoice if I had a bit of bad luck; what I'd buy if I had a million dollars and so on.

I also keep meticulous records of future engagements but the trouble is I don't look at these again, so now and then I have a horrible moment like the one when I took down the telephone at 8 p.m. one evening and a reproachful friend said in answer to my hearty inquiry about her health, "I'm all right, but what about YOU?"

The soufflé was ready five minutes ago to take out of the oven and you aren't here to eat it!"

After that incident, I kept even more lists so that it was impossible at any time to investigate the contents of my handbag without two to six tumbling out. But my difficulty is that they are never the ones I need at the moment.

One I just re-found probably would have meant a great deal last month, but now it is as mysterious as a code message from an unfriendly power: "Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe—100,000" (which would be impressive if it were not followed by a doodled figure built around what started, I think, as a telephone number), "poor Mr. Rittenhouse" (I can't remember a soul named Rittenhouse), "melt a pack, choc. bits double boiler," "2 lbs. chopped," "allergic to wool so nylon better."

There's more but that gives you an idea. I suppose some would say that finding anywhere, anytime the scrap of ticket stub on which that was written was a kind of miracle and since the stub is typical of the paper on which I mostly write important items, maybe I ought to try using something more substantial.

Of course the married couple's lists of faults would be much neater and cleaner anyway. But I've just thought—wouldn't HE watch with hawk-like eyes the list marked HERS to see whether she was keeping to it—and vice versa? And would that mean living happily ever after?

When your date gets ready to leave you may bring him his topcoat if you have hung it up for him, but don't help him on with it. A man always holds a woman's coat for her but a woman never holds a man's.

Unless he is old and feeble and actually needs help.

Miami Still Claims Many From City

Parrs, Owens Are Among Those Free From Cold, Snow

By ETHEL TOMBRINK
MIAMI—It was a busy week for the Clinton Parrs—they moved from their temporary abode, an apartment in South Miami, to their newly built home south of Coconut Grove. The Colonial style house in the new Town and Ranch Estates. Up in Hollywood Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owens are taking in some sunshine. They're staying at the Surf and Spray apartments in Hollywood Beach, and just a little ways away are Mrs. Owens' parents, the Charles Hayners.

The Hayners spent a few days as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Knudsen.

On the way down the Owensens spent a while in Fern Park, near Orlando in the midst of the citrus area, for a few days with Mr. Owens' family.

They plan on stopping there again on their drive back to Michigan in another week.

The Pontiac residents have seen other Michiganders—Mrs. Russell Eames, who'll be heading back home soon, the David Edstroms among others.

Bird-lover Miss Harriett Ratliff makes frequent trips to Everglades National Park to admire our tropical feathered friends—the roseate spoonbills, the egrets, anhingans, purple gallinule, American heron, blue heron and small white heron.

She had a house guest from Fremont, Mich., recently and is looking forward to other visitors next month—before she packs up and returns to Michigan early in May.

Box Social Held by Gospel Carriers

Members of the Gospel Carriers Class of the Silvercrest Baptist Church held a box social Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott opened their new home on Midland road for the occasion.

Guest was the Rev. Mel Johnson, director of Youth for Christ in Minneapolis, Minn. The next meeting of the class will be held April 30 at the William Croteau home on Old Orchard drive.

The engagement of their daughter, Joyce Elaine, to Elmo C. Jones is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Perry of State avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jones of Collingwood avenue. Joyce attended Wayne University and Elmo attended Michigan State College.

JOYCE ELAINE PERRY

Joyce Nelson Is Honored

Mrs. Claude Kittner, Betty Kittner, and Mrs. John K. Frost were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Joyce Nelson. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Kittner on Auburn avenue.

Miss Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf Nelson of Opdyke Road, will exchange her nuptial vows with Robert L. Sower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Sower of South Anderson Street.

St. Johns Lutheran Church will be the setting for the ceremony to be performed April 23.

Guests at the Friday shower were Mrs. Richard Sower, Mrs. Gustaf Nelson, Mrs. Laura Clawson, Mrs. Edward Craft, Mrs. Hector McClelland, Mrs. Norman Nelson, Mrs. Oscar Bloomquist, and Mrs. Julia Nelson.

Others were Mrs. Albert Olson, Mrs. John Carlson, Mrs. J. Richard Erickson, Mrs. Hans Mickelson, Mrs. John Englund, and Mrs. Adolph Hornblad.

Also invited were Mrs. John Berglund, Mrs. L. Harold Peterson, Mrs. Stanley Hester, Mrs. Oscar Frisk, and Mrs. William Hotham.

Joyce has asked her sister-in-law, Mrs. Norman Nelson, to attend her as matron of honor and other attendants will be Fay Febray and Amina Lennon. Dawn Nelson, niece of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl.

Lawrence Sower, cousin of the prospective bridegroom, will serve as the best man. Seating the guests will be William Archambeau and Norman Nelson.

Hostesses at a recent shower honoring Joyce were Mrs. Norman Nelson, Fay Febray, and Amina Lennon.

Homemakers Hear Talk on Fabrics

Mrs. Daniel Peterson of McCormick street was hostess to members of the Modern Homemakers Club.

An informative talk on the care and sewing of today's fabrics was given by Mrs. Roy Klein and Mrs. Eric Danielson. They brought out in their talk that sewing on the new man-made fabrics or those treated with special finishes may require a new technique.

Mrs. H. L. Stein showed the group how to make wood fibre carnations.

AWBA Holds Annual Tea on Sunday

Mrs. Brooks Tells Purpose, Goals of Organization

Tipac Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held a tea Sunday at Devon Gables.

President Mrs. Dorothy Brooks welcomed the guests and introduced Cleobelle Coleman who played two violin selections accompanied by Julia O'Brien.

Arlene Newcombe was presented with a vice president's pin by Mrs. Brooks.

During the afternoon members looked at the scrap book and thought about their organization—what it has meant to them, and what it has accomplished.

The purpose of the association, spokesmen say, is to "elevate the social and business standards of women in business by uniting them nationally for training designed to make them more efficient, more considerate and more cooperative toward their work, their employers and their employer's customers."

Locally, chapters are limited in size to 100 members. Each chapter meets once a month at which time personnel directors, doctors, college professors and business men and women in all professions are among those asked to speak.

Once a year each chapter has "Boss Night" at which time the member's employer is invited to dinner.

These dinners do much to show employers that members of the American Business Women's Association are interested in them, their jobs, and in the companies they represent.

ABWA's Creed comes from Elbert Hubbard's quotation: "If you work for a man, in Heaven's name work for him. If he pays you wages which supply your bread and butter, work for him; speak well of him; stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."

Mrs. Madge Berryman was tea chairman assisted by Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Millicent Swindeman, Mrs. Carroll Welch and Mrs. Joan Callahan.

Pouring were Mrs. Swindeman and Evelyn Cole. Mrs. J. Earl Holliday was in charge of music.

7 Local Women at DAR Parley

The 55th state conference of Daughters of the American Revolution began today in Hotel Sheraton-Cadillac, Detroit, and will continue through Wednesday.

Gertrude S. Caraway, president general, and Mrs. James B. Patton, national defense chairman, both of Washington, D.C., head the list of guest speakers.

Attending from General Richardson Chapter are Mrs. Frank B. Geris, regent; Mrs. Harry D. Chapman, state conservation chairman; Mrs. Allan H. Monroe, Mrs. Bradley Scott, Mrs. Harry Goring, Mrs. Lee Dunlap and Mrs. Melville Luttrell, state director.

Coming Events

West Side Extension Group will meet with Mrs. Thomas Johnson, 661 Robinson, Wednesday at 11 a.m. with school girl luncheon at noon.

The Spring Institute of the 10th District of WCTU will be held Tuesday at First Methodist Church in Royal Oak.

Honeymooning in Chicago are Mr. and Mrs. Smith Falconer Jr. She is the former Jane Richards, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry S. Richards of St. Louis, Mo. He is the son of the Smith Falconers of Hickory Grove road. The couple was married Friday evening in University Methodist Church of St. Louis.

MRS. SMITH FALCONER JR.

Smith Falconer Jr. Weds Jane Richards in St. Louis

University Methodist Church of St. Louis, Mo., was the setting Friday evening for the marriage of Jane Richards and Smith Falconer Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry S. Richards of St. Louis, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Falconer of Hickory Grove road. Buses of white flowers and candles decorated the altar for the eight o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Jesse E. Thomas.

The bride chose an ankle length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle for her marriage. The gown was fashioned with long torso of lace and matching peplum at the waist. The high neck was finished with a small lace collar which matched the long sleeves.

The full skirt had panels of lace

1930 Graduates Plan Reunion

A committee for a reunion of the January 1930 graduating class of Pontiac High School met recently at the Owensos street home of Mrs. Oscar Aue.

May 21 is the date set for the reunion which will be held in the high school cafeteria. Questionnaires are being sent to each member of the class for their first reunion.

Committee members are Mrs. Aue, Mrs. Lillian Hilton, Mrs. Howard Hess, Mrs. Elmer Jewell, Frank Blanchard, Dr. John Lyons Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elkins.

Study of Aged and Ill Shows No Harm From Fluoride, Commission Reports

Opponents of fluoridation have advanced the claim that no tests have been made involving the aged or the chronically ill.

Asked regarding this phase of the fluoridation issue, Dr. John D. Monroe, director of public health for both Pontiac and Oakland County, made the following statement:

"We are repeatedly told that one of our major problems today is chronic disease. Many of us relate chronic illness directly to the older age group, hence it comes as a bit of a shock to find that of the approximate 5.3 million people affected by chronic illness about one-fourth of these persons are less than 35 years of age.

"The magnitude of the problem still remains in the upper age group but any measure that might be beneficial to this total problem seems worthy of consideration.

"Most of us will agree that the prevention of the occurrence of disease—or prevention of its progress—is a desirable solution to the growing problem of chronic disease. Dental caries is considered an important chronic disease—important in terms of widespread prevalence and destruction of useful tissue—also important because the loss of teeth may complicate the life of aged persons and persons suffering other disabling conditions, such as the cerebral palsy child.

"The Journal of the American Dental Assn., June 1954, issue states: A concept frequently overlooked is that many dental diseases are or may become chronic. Among these conditions are dental caries, gingivitis, advanced periodontal disease, malocclusion and Vincent's disease." Of course most of us are fully aware of the fact that an untreated local infection can often result in a rather alarming systemic condition.

"In this country we have an independent national agency known as the Commission on Chronic Illness and founded by the American Hospital Assn., the American Medical Assn., the American Public Health Assn. (not the USPHS) and the American Public Welfare Assn. This agency was organized to study the problems of chronic disease, illness and disability.

"Recognizing the potential benefits that could ultimately be derived from water fluoridation, the board of directors of the Commission on Chronic Illness appointed a committee of rather distinguished scientists who reviewed and evaluated the available evidence on fluoridation.

"The committee consisted of Dr. Kenneth F. Maxcy, professor of epidemiology, Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health; Dr. Edward J. Stieglitz, outstanding geriatrician of Washington, D.C., and Dr. Nathan Shock, chief of the section on gerontology, National Institute of Health.

"As a result of the investigations and hearings conducted by this committee on fluoridation, on March 18, 1954 the Commission on Chronic Illness urges American communities to adopt this public health measure as a positive step in the prevention of the chronic disease, dental caries.

"Among the mass of material evaluated was a study carried out at the National Institute of Dental Research on somewhat more than 50 cases who were known at the onset of the study to have damaged kidney function. These persons use drinking water containing 1 p.p.m. of fluoride.

"The results of the study indicate that the excretion pattern of fluorides in these patients with damaged kidneys is similar to that reported by McClure for healthy young men," says this report. In other words, this amount of fluoride is not harmful to persons known to have existing, kidney damage.

"Another study of interest was one carried out at Southbury Training School in Southbury, Conn., on middle-aged and elderly inmates who have been drinking fluoridated water since 1945. The report of the medical director, Dr. Herman Yarnet, states: We have seen absolutely no evidence of any deleterious effect on these patients.

"One sometimes wonders why we make such a fuss about programs proposed when they are intended solely for the good of all of us.

"The fluoridation of water supplies involves no new experience in human welfare. For years on end over 3,000,000 people in these United States have been living in ordinary good health on water naturally containing fluorides in the amounts recommended for caries control, or more; living undisturbed by the furor of fluoridation.

"Remember the scare propaganda that went on about the polio vaccine last year? Well, it kind of looks like large numbers of children all over the country will be protected against polio because enough people in these United States had faith in their scientific leaders.

"Dental caries, a chronic disease, is not as dramatic as polio; it is much more prevalent, insidious, expensive, frustrating and quite disabling to thousands. What do you want to do about this particular chronic disease?"

Saved by Wooden Leg

BOSTON (U)—George A. Skibbs, 35, toppled into the pit of the Park Street subway station last night. His left leg fell across the lethal third rail which supplies electricity to run the trains. But he escaped with only a lacerated forehead. His left leg was a wooden one.

Polish Tanker Docks at Red Chinese Port

HONG KONG (U)—Maritime sources said today that the Polish tanker Karpaty has arrived at the Chinese Communist port of Whampoa with about 10,000 tons of petroleum, including jet fuel.

The report could not be confirmed officially. It has been known here for some time, however, that at least two Polish tankers are running between the Romanian oil port of Constanta, on the Black Sea, and Whampoa, the port for Canton.

The Finnish tanker Aruba sailed from Constanta early this month with 13,000 tons of jet fuel reportedly destined for Whampoa. She was forced to head back to Romania after the Nationalists threatened to intercept her, and her Finnish crew refused to sail into "dangerous waters."

A-Stockpiling in Nippon Illegal, Jap Chiefs Say

TOKYO (U)—Both Japan's prime minister and foreign minister expressed doubt yesterday whether the United States legally could stockpile atomic weapons in Japan. Foreign Minister Shigemitsu questioned by a Communist member in the Diet (Parliament), said neither the U. S.-Japan security pact nor its accompanying administrative agreement specifically authorized such a step. Prime Minister Hatoyama agreed.

About 12,300,000 people have been added to the U. S. population since the 1950 census.

Democracy (Junior Size) in Action at Boys' Club

HE VOTED—Mike Read, 12, one of Boys' Club campaign managers in Saturday's annual election, proudly receives his "I voted" tag from staff member Terry Thomas. Nearly a thousand youths had been campaigning for favorite candidates during the past week, commemorating Boys' Club of America Week.

PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN—Dick Neaves, Bruce Baker, and Truman Hammett, 17-year-old members of Pontiac Boys' Club senior group, turned young politicians Saturday when they combined their efforts and planned strategy to gain offices in the annual election. They did well: Neaves won the office of councilman at large, Baker and Hammett were named councilmen. The three youths are all seniors at Pontiac High.

fight by his young supporters, Perkio was elected mayor by the slim margin of five votes. The election was preceded by a primary in which 27 boys had participated as nominees.

VOTERS RALLY—Hundreds of youths like those shown above during a Pontiac Boys' Club election rally last week, received a practical lesson in Democracy. Candidates, who had been narrowed down from 27 in the primaries, stood before large groups of boys and made speeches about their platforms and how the club would benefit during their reign of office. Promises ranged from "more members for Boys' Club" to theories on how to "stop juvenile delinquency," said William V. Coullacos, executive director.

Youths' Election Draws Record Number of Voters

Future Mr. Pontiac Citizen emerged Saturday one step closer to the ways of American principle and democracy—a lesson taught annually at Pontiac Boys' Club to hundreds of youths who take part in elections for mayor and six councilmen.

Falling just before the regular April city election in Pontiac, the pint-size election could well be a fitting example to the youths' parents who probably are still deciding whether to vote.

The youths turned out 911 strong, the largest number of votes ever cast in the 11-year history of the club, said William V. Coullacos, executive director.

Following an intensive campaign and primary election last week, the youths named Dean Perkio, 15, as mayor. Dean defeated Dick Neaves, 17, by a slim five votes. Neaves, receiving the next biggest number of votes, was elected councilman-at-large.

Elected councilmen were Bruce Baker, Truman Hammett, Herb Butler, Ted Wharry, all 17-year-old senior students at Pontiac High, and Larry McCarty, 14, of Lincoln Junior High.

The new mayor, said Coullacos, won on a timely campaign platform: "If I'm elected mayor," said Perkio in his main speech, "I'll help organize the biggest program in Pontiac to straighten out juvenile delinquency."

Boys who had brought with them horns, rattles and hastily-painted campaign signs, gave out with loud cheers with yells, "Good boys are Boys' Club boys. Let's help the boys that need help."

Defeated candidate Charles Jennings, 14, wouldn't promise anything during the huge rally: "Men, I'm not going to promise a thing... and I'll tell you why. We got plenty and everything we want at Boys' Club, but I'll tell what we do need: Better government and better boys to get into government. What we do is more important."

Dean's platform varied little. The youth noted if he became mayor: "I'll attempt to keep the same principles that we've maintained. It's the best way for boys to learn how to be good citizens when they grow up. We're going to try to lick every bit of juvenile delinquency there is by keeping out of it ourselves."

These youths need guidance in morals, good government, citizenship, and skills and play. This is the major aim of the boys' club. Our staff is specially trained and indoctrinated to fill those needs. We are proud of the fact that juvenile delinquency in the Boys' Club area is the lowest in Pontiac. Reports by officials say that this area once had the highest

Faith, Hope and Charity Mark 87th Birthdays

MARLBORO, Mass. (U.P.)—Faith, Hope and Charity—white-haired, blue-eyed triplets—observed their 87th birthdays yesterday with prayers and a chicken dinner.

Mrs. Annie Faith MacDonnell, Mrs. Ellen Hope Daniels and Mrs. Charity Murphy, went to different masses "so we wouldn't be stared at."

However, they were together the rest of the day as guests of the Marlboro Country Club.

Texas Is Still Bragging

AUSTIN, Tex. (U.P.)—A bill was introduced in the current session of the Texas legislature to put the slogan "Tremendous Texas" on automobile license plates.

Rutgers U. Revives Field Course Plan

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (U.P.)—Rutgers University's school of education is using a 25-year-old idea to make sure there are enough teachers to go around in the classrooms of 1935.

The problem of getting more and better teachers quicker is being solved by an enormously expanded field service course program that was initiated in 1929.

Last fall, the program enrolled 429 teacher students in 18 field service courses. Today, there are 46 field courses given in 30 cities in 14 New Jersey counties to more than 1,000 elementary and secondary school teachers.

The field service course, an old concept in teacher education, brings the school to the teachers. Local school districts supply the facilities and at least 20 students for each course. Rutgers provides the instructors.

Engine Charley Wilson Sets New Record in Cabinet's Hot Seat—26 Months Today

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Charles E. (Engine Charley) Wilson set a record today through dog fights, stock-ownership battles, endless criticism and reports of his resignation.

But the white-haired secretary of defense has lasted 26 months today, longer than any of his four predecessors in this hot seat of the cabinet.

The persistent rumors that he is resigning have not subsided, neither has Charley Wilson.

If Wilson had stuck to his old post as president of General Motors Corp., he would have been jobless, although probably not penniless, next July. That will be his 64th birthday, and time for retirement under company policy.

Along with his hope to keep his present job for a while, which pays him a fraction of his former General Motors salary, Wilson has two other ambitions:

- 1—To play the violin.
- 2—To be a cartoonist.

So far as is known, there has been no progress toward ambition No. 1.

But he has had a nibble, of sorts, in the second endeavor. A cartoonist told him that you can learn the art in 10 easy lessons. He has received the lessons—10 pencilled ovals into which, in 9 stages, the eyes, nose and other features are drawn.

The census of working cartoons remains unchanged.

He likes the cartoons—so much so that he invited the cartoonists to come to Washington and lunch with him last Monday.

He wrote them that "I have long admired the ability and facility with which you gentlemen in the profession point up the events in the news, and I hope you will be able to give me something of an insight on how you do it."

Schoolroom Counts by Thirteen Only

OVERTON, Neb. (U.P.)—A seventh-grade schoolroom here is plagued by the number 13. There are 13 pupils in the seventh grade—nine boys and four girls.

There are 13 pupils in the eighth grade—nine girls and four boys.

The 13 in the seventh grade are, 13 years old, so are the eighth-graders.

There are 13 members of both classes of Irish origin, while the other 13 are of German origin.

Native Tells of Eruptions in Hawaii

By JOE HAAS

Moke Ahuna is his name, and he was one of our guides through the volcanic sections of the Island of Hawaii last month.

It was he who took us into the supposedly extinct crater of the volcano which has since erupted. The seismographs then showed an uneasy portent of dire things to come. And they were closer than we thought.

Let me explain that these guides are all native Hawaiians, well educated and trained for the service.

Moke spent two years at the University of Southern California, is married, has four children, and knows his way around. If he ever missed anything, he'll go back after it.

A letter received from him today says that he's been quite busy "since hell broke loose." On the night of the eruption he drove his limousine within 50 feet of the activity.

He writes, "People were allowed to play with the hot lava and have souvenirs made from it before it cooled. It was all exciting. Reporters and photographers were all about us. They were on the spot in an inferno."

"Kapoho village was surrounded with molten lava like two prongs. They were bound for these, but the pressure behind them was relieved when an eruption broke out at another point. One vent eases another.

"Rifts that stretched out three miles were composed of leaping fountains bounding 300 to 400 feet and even 800 to 1,000 feet in the air at times. It was like a thousand Fourth of July celebrations merged into one.

"Trees at the edge of the village burst into flames as we watched. Some homes were engulfed by the lava, but no lives were lost. The people had been evacuated when cracks were discovered opening in the village streets. The eruption now has tapered off considerably.

"You'll remember what I told you about the different types of lava, and gave you some samples. The lava in this flow is of the kindier type. Nobody now is allowed to enter the stricken area, so we cannot take people there. But the sightseeing planes are busy."

"Since you left we've had some other freakish attractions. This is the only spot on earth where you can at the same time see an erupting volcano, snow-capped mountains, every tropical fruit and flower, palm fringed beaches, waterpouts, rainbows and lightning, plus the smoke that has blanketed the islands since the eruption started."

Moke's cleverness is reflected in his salutation in his letter: "Aloha, Winnie and Joe." How he learned about the "Winnie" I cannot understand. She also pleads innocence, but maybe she was getting even for something.

Ex-Secret Service Agent Is Lecture Series Speaker

Nicol Smith, adventurer, former U.S. Secret agent and world traveler, Tuesday evening will show color films on "Bavaria, The Jewel of Germany." This is the seventh and last presentation of the Kiwanis Lecture series at Pontiac High School for the season.

In his photographic journey, Smith transports you over all of scenic Bavaria, from Lake Constance to the Konigsee, where silhouetted mountains tower the highest in Germany.

Via camera, you'll go sliding in the Allgäu. You'll pass through ancient Bavarian forests and through green pastures with their thriving beef herds.

From medieval cities, on to Berchtesgaden, favorite retreat of Hitler, journeying thence to Munich where Nymphenburg porcelain is developed in detail. You'll visit a simple farm kitchen where typical Bavarian tidbits are prepared.

You'll see the famous castles of King Ludwig II and stop to admire, at Nymphenburg palace, the wedding carriage with richly gilded wood carving, decked in blue-gold brocade velvet.

NICOL SMITH

Smith has lived a life of adventure since a very young man, exploring all the world to photograph strange, remote and interesting places. Besides his many motion pictures, he has written five books, his most recent one, "Golden Downy to Tibet."

Bridge Not for the Birds

By MARGARET LATROBE
A gentleman at Yale University, Edmund W. Sinnott, is quoted by a national magazine as saying that bridge (that card game, remember?) is not "for the birds." Quite to the contrary, "Prof. Sinnott feels that if the energy spent on playing bridge were applied to "amateur scientific pursuits such as bird banding and tree ring analysis or exchanging specimens of coleoptera (who he?) or records of meteorite showers—that energy would be spent in a more "socially useful" form.

Speaking as one who doesn't know from a chickadee to a robin redbreast, but who deals—excuse it, "doles" out sunflower seed just the same, I would like to venture a little support for bridge. It was my dubious distinction once and only once to have as partner in a duplicate bridge tournament a young professor of science, and what kept us from being still fast to our seats these 16 years hence was a three-alarm fire.

Literally, a big fire broke out in the very building where this young chap held his classes enthralled with chemical experiments, and he had to leave the game. Slower than Christmas he was—about bidding about whether to finesse for the king, about the percentages operating for or against his nine of spades.

He was the kind of bridge player who tries to remember previous hands in a duplicate game, and had little formulae for so doing. While his three fidgety companions waited, he took long periods of meditation during which we were forgetting everything he tried to remember. Who dealt? Where are we, anyway?

Drawing one partner like this is enough to drive the most ardent bridge addict to drink, bird watching or exchanging coleoptera—and I hope this latter is what I think it is or maybe I'm in trouble with the editor.

Listen, professor, bridge doesn't take energy. It just takes practice, a modicum of luck and some high cards—that's all. And the more unscientific the partner, the better. I'll take the psychic two no-trump any time. And believe me, bidding and making a slam gives a person more extra oomph than a bottle of distilled sunlight.

For a nice friendly game of bridge you need only an honest shuffle, a pencil stub and the back of an envelope for the score. Whereas the sport of bird banding requires hotfooting it around catching specimens, hands and birds—at great expense of energy. And as for tree ring analysis—do you play for a 10th or a 20th?

Cut for partners. Whose deal? You bid four Baltimore orioles? Double!

Tre Life of Christ—19

Jesus Went to Cross in Obedience

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN
(We all need Christ—in a world which tries to interpret man in terms of sex, in a world of certain men who believe with Lenin that one must resort to violence and duplicity in order to conquer the world; in a world that believes personality should be manipulated, our whole life geared to flattery and influencing people for the sake of utility and popularity. The lesson of the Beatitudes is that they are not ideals. They are hard facts and realities, inseparable from the Cross. Man needs the love of God in his heart. To strive not to be like other men, but to be perfect as God is perfect—that is the only new thing in the world, states Bishop Sheen, but so few are the people willing to try it.)

Over thirty times during His Life, Jesus Christ spoke of a must about His sufferings and death. Those who quarrel and bicker about who put Him to death are very much off center. Our Lord was under no outer compulsion: He was not a victim of circumstances beyond His control; He was not a devotee of the world's highest values, like a soldier dying on a battlefield; He was not a martyr for a great cause; not a moral teacher Whom the mediocre slew because they could not stand the moral lashings of His purity. He went to death not because of the plotting of evil men, nor because He was a victim of circumstances quite beyond His control, nor because of the power of the Roman Empire.

True, indeed, the stage was set by evil men, but Our Lord always presents Himself as One Who took charge of the plot. He went to death in obedience to His Father, with Whom He is one in nature: "The Father and I are one."

Buddha came into this world to live, so did Socrates, so did Confucius, so did Moses and the Prophets. However, there was One person Who came into the world to die, and that was the Eternal Galilean, Jesus Christ.

The Cross came at the end of His Life, from a time point of view, but it was hovering over the crib from an intentional point of view.

There is a maxim in philosophy: "What is first in intention is last in execution." A young man decides to become a doctor. But the intention is perhaps twelve years or more before he receives his M. D. In like manner, the Cross was first in intention in the earthly life of Christ, but the last in execution. Our lives are lived forward; His life was lived backward. The Cross was the reason for the crib and His teaching, not His crib and His teachings the reason for His Cross.

Nothing is more beautiful in His character, than the way He prepared His Apostles for that unpalatable lesson of seeming defeat as the condition of victory. How slow they were to understand the story of why He must suffer, but with what infinite patience He instructed them. He took two steps in unfolding the mystery of His death and why it was necessary:

1—An occasional reference to the need of sacrifice, until they were convinced by the prophecies and miracles that He was the Son of God.

Though He knew from the beginning that His Father so loved the world that He sent Him into it to redeem men from their sins, nevertheless, He could not tell this to His Apostles without arousing their prejudice or destroying their feeble faith. Instead of saying that He would sacrifice Himself, He began by telling them that they should sacrifice themselves.

For example, when He was seen in the company of publicans, some of the "nice people" lifted their eyebrows, but He explained to His disciples: "I came not to save the just, but the sinners." To heal men of sin is a greater manifestation of Power than to exterminate sinners by punishment. He did not tell them at that moment, how this was to be accomplished, but only that such was His purpose.

Next, He warned them that as a result of their companionship with Him, they too would have to suffer. "The servant is not above the Master." He even tells them they are to consider themselves "blessed" when "men shall hate you . . . and cast out your name as evil." This was a strange forecast to give disciples.

namely because they followed Him they would have misdeeds thrown at them. Before Him and since many have preached that if you are good, they will be prosperous; Jesus tells them that if they are good, they will be persecuted: "You shall be hated by all men for My Name's sake."

Being reasonable men, He hoped they would draw inferences from such warnings as: "Fear ye not them that kill the body, and are not able to kill the soul." Why should He Who had the power to raise the dead, and lift up limbs long palsied with disease and death now tell them not to fear those who would torture their bodies? Would His body be tortured? Was He bidding them to do something from which He would exempt Himself by His power? They knew the soul was worth more than the body, but why speak of their bodies being killed? Would they die as martyrs?

The conclusion was inevitable; He was bidding them to a life of sacrifice because He would be sacrificed. He did not yet say that He would offer Himself for the sinners of the world; rather, He said because His sacrifice was a Divine "must" laid upon Him by love, they must be prepared for the same maltreatment, because they were His servants.

Despite His patience in educating His followers, they did not grasp the lesson. The disproportion be-

Armistice Unit Charges Egypt in Latest Attack

JERUSALEM (AP) — Egypt stood charged today with "flagrant violation" of the Palestine truce. The U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission censured her for a "brutal and murderous" Arab attack last week on an Israeli wedding party.
A government spokesman in Calcutta denied that Egypt had launched the attack that killed one woman and wounded 23 persons including five children. He said Egypt would appeal yesterday's commission decision.

The attack took place last Thursday at Patis, 11 miles inside Israeli territory from the Gaza Strip.
Thirty-eight Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed Feb. 28 in the Gaza area in a battle which the armistice commission blamed on the Israeli army.
Summing up Thursday's shooting, a commission communique noted "with extremely grave concern the aggravation to the serious situation along the armistice demarcation line." It called on Egyptian authorities to do their best to arrest "these infiltrators."

4,000 Fiddle Fans Jam Fair Exhibit

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — About 4,000 fiddle fanatics got in a lot of fiddle-fiddle at Oklahoma City's Fiddle Fair yesterday.

Twenty-eight fine old instruments of early Italian, German and French make were shown as a special feature. But of the 44
Stradivari, Guarneri and Amati violins displayed, none were pronounced authentic by George R.
Clarke, violin maker and connoisseur, who examined them all.
The audience loved every minute of it though, staying more than eight hours, while some 200 violins were exhibited.

Two More Priests Arrested by Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Two more Roman Catholic priests were in trouble with the law today as President Peron pressed his campaign against what he calls church influence in politics.

Reports from Cordoba province said the Rev. Sergio Loidi, parish priest at General Cabrera, was arrested Saturday on undisclosed charges. Three days earlier authorities picked up Friar Jose Maria Valls, head of the Franciscan order in Cordoba. A police judge sentenced him to 10 days in jail for "spreading false reports tending to alarm the population." Thirteen other clergymen have been jailed in Argentina since Peron began his drive last November.

Critics Pick 'Mutiny'

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie critics for newspapers and radio and television stations have picked "The Caine Mutiny" as the outstanding film of 1954 in a poll by the trade paper Film Daily. "On the Waterfront" was second.

Oil Pool Ranks Third

LUDINGTON (AP)—The Ludington Daily News reports the Dundee Eden Oil pool in Mason County ranks third among Michigan's producing oil pools. Its 1954 production, measured last November, was 53,128 barrels. It ranked behind Dundee's deep river pool in Arenac County, 110,521 barrels.

Beginning—A New Game

Four-Deck Calypso Is Easy for Any Beginner to Learn

By OSWALD JACOBY

Calypso is the fascinating new card game that has come to us from Trinidad by way of England. Most anybody can learn to play calypso in a short time; but it is a game of skill, and good play is rewarded. What's more, it packs a big punch, whether the players are good or bad.

Ingredients: Four players and four ordinary decks of cards, without jokers. Divide the players into two partnerships, with the partners facing each other at the table, as in bridge or canasta. Shuffle the cards all together into one big pack.

The four deals: The player who has cut the highest card deals out one card at a time until each player has 13 cards. The rest of the pack is put aside until this first deal is played out.

At that time, the next player (at the left of the original dealer) deals out one card at a time until again each player has 13 cards. This uses up the second quarter of the pack. This process is repeated a third time, and finally a fourth time. By that time the whole pack has been used up, and the game comes to an end.

Trump suits: Before the game begins, each player is given a trump suit. The position at the table is always:

Diamonds Hearts Clubs Spades

The player who has cut the highest card chooses his trump suit before he deals the first hand, and this fixes the trump suit for each of the other players. If he chooses spades, for example, his partner's trump suit will be hearts, and the trump suits of the opponents will be diamonds (to his left) and clubs (to his right).

Calypso: During the play of the cards various players will win tricks, as in bridge, pinochle, euchre, and many other card games. (Tricks, and the winning of tricks, will be fully explained in the second of these articles on calypso.)

When you win a trick, you leave face up on the table in front of

Wings Bide Time Aim for 4th in Row Over Leafs

TORONTO — It was Hap Day, a man familiar to playoff comebackers who said "we'll win the series."

And it was the Detroit Red Wings who a few hours later made Hap's prediction look mighty shaky when they slapped a 2-1 defeat on the Toronto Maple Leafs in the 3rd game of their best-of-seven Stanley cup semi-finals Saturday night.

The Detroiters, who won the National Hockey League championship with a great stretch drive, took a 3-0 grasp on the series with some masterful displays of power and checking. They need only a victory in the 4th game here to tomorrow night to wrap it up and meet either the Boston Bruins or the Montreal Canadiens in the final.

Day, Leaf general manager who has the knack of instilling comeback fire, wasn't saying much. Nobody could blame him. Few, if any, of the 12,531 fans who witnessed the engagement would give the Leafs much of a chance to produce an almost miraculous four-game winning streak now.

As they did in Detroit in the 2nd game last Thursday, the Wings moved into a 2-1 lead in the 1st period and made it stand up all the way. Only occasionally were they threatened in the wind-up session. Goaltender Terry Sawchuk was there to stop them.

Ted Lindsay, who made it a point to goad any Leaf who came his way, scored the 1st Detroit goal and assisted on the other. Dutch Reibel, center on the big line of Gordie Howe and Lindsay, got the 2nd Wing goal. Howe assisted on both.

Leftwinger Sid Smith, who counted 33 goals during the regular 70-game schedule, made it No. 3 for the playoffs by beating Sawchuk at 7:29 of the opening period to deadlock the engagement 1-1.

That was it for Leafs. They made a determined effort but a goal that was disallowed late in the 1st period took a lot of steam out of them.

The disputed goal came at 17:37, with the Wings ahead 2-1. Rightwinger Ron Stewart, speeding dead-on for the Detroit cage, either kicked or carried the puck into the nets when he fell in front of Sawchuk.

Referee Red Storey ruled that he kicked the puck, passed by center Rudy Migay, behind Sawchuk. Stewart argued strenuously but Storey stuck by his decision.

The Leafs, who dropped the 1st game 7-4 and the 2nd 3-1 in Detroit, played their best hockey of the series for the 1st two periods. They hit the Wings with stiff bodychecks and checked them closely. But the defending Stanley Cup champs kept con-ing back for more.

Detroit general manager Jack Adams said it was "the big one to win." In the dressing room after the game, he commented:

"It's a nice spot to be in. They have to make it four straight now."

Day didn't go along with Storey's ruling on the disputed goal.

"It bounced off Stewart's skate as he slid near the nets. The rule book says a player must deliberately kick a puck into the nets for it to be disallowed."

Leaf coach King Clancy, shaken by the defeat, agreed with Hap. "That may have been the turning point, although we missed some good chances later in the game."

Wes Posts 4:04.2 Santee Is Voted Finest Performer at Chicago

CHICAGO — Wes Santee, the great Kansas miller who came within six-tenths of a second of the world indoor record, today was named the outstanding athlete of the Chicago Daily News Relays.

Santee ran a brilliant 4:04.2 Saturday night to set a new Bankers Mile record. The old record of 4:04.6 was established by Gil Dodds in 1944.

Twenty four hours earlier, he had run a 4:04.6 mile at Cleveland. Santee set a world indoor mile record of 4:03.8 earlier this year but Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark lowered it a week later by two-tenths of a second.

Second in the voting by sportswriters and radio and television announcers covering the meet was Mal Whitfield. The two-time Olympic champion won his fifth straight Relays 600 Whitfield was last year's award winner.

Tied for third in the voting were pole vaulters Don Laz and Rev. Robert Richards. The former University of Illinois stars both cleared 15 feet but missed at 15-3.

Among others receiving votes was Harrison Dillard, 31, Olympic champion.

Bucks in Tank Sweep

OXFORD, Ohio — Swimming rivals of Ohio State's renowned NCAA champions had some solace today in knowing Buckeyes Ford Konno and Yoshi Oyakawa paddled their last collegiate race Saturday night.

In fact, Coach Mike Peppe, who now owns nine NCAA titles, says Buckeye prospects next year are "very poor."

But Michigan and Yale, last weekend's deadlocked runners-up, probably won't believe that until they see it.

fore that race he was going to beat him. I was afraid he was, too. But Ford stood up under real pressure all the way by Wardrop to whip him again."

Konno (1,500-meter and 440-yard) and Oyakawa (100 and 200-yard backstroke) were the meet's only double winners and Oyakawa became the first swimmer in NCAA history ever to win the same event (200-yard backstroke) four straight years.

HENRY SAVES FOR BRUINS—Sugar Jim Henry of the Boston Bruins, stops the puck with his padded leg as Jackie LeClair (left) of the Montreal Canadiens, tries to break away from Bruins' Bill Quackenbush and Leo Boivin (20) in the 1st period of their National Hockey League playoff game in Boston Sunday night. Canadian Don Marshall comes up from the rear to take part in the action. Boston won, 4-2.

In addition to Konno an Oyakawa, who between them won 13 individual NCAA titles, Ohio State will also graduate diving champions Gerry Harrison and Morley Shapiro. Harrison, the 1953 long board NCAA title, Saturday night dethroned team-mate Shapiro in the high board event.

Peppe's gloom in the wake of the most decisive team victory in NCAA swimming history, 90 points to 31 each for Yale and Michigan, has some sunshine around the edges.

Sophomore Al Wiggins, who set a new 150-yard individual medley mark Saturday night and helped Ohio State to a new American 300 medley relay record, will be back.

So will Fletcher Gilders, who Friday night retained his NCAA low board title. And Peppe admits he has two dandy frosh divers coming up in Don Harper and Glen Whitten.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — The Detroit Tigers will have to win their last three games to end the Florida part of their exhibition season with a 500 mark.

Yesterday's 3-2 loss to the Washington Senators left them with a 6-9 spring record.

After today's game with the Kansas City Athletics, only a Lakeland meeting with the New York Yankees and a game Wednesday with the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota remain.

The Senators edged the Tigers yesterday on Ernie Oravetz's single with one out in the 9th.

Maurice McDermott opened the bottom half of the inning with a single off loser Ray Herbert and moved to 2nd on Eddie Yost's sacrifice. The 5-foot-4 Oravetz brought McDermott in with a hard drive over 2nd.

The Senators scored twice in the 4th off Bob Miller who started for Detroit. Pete Runnels singled. Roy Sievers tripled to right and Bruce Edwards scored Sievers on a single.

The Tigers tied the score against Camilo Pascual in the 5th with two out when Jim Delsing walked and Harvey Kuenn, Fred Hatfield and Ferris Fan singled.

It was Herbert's 1st loss in three appearances this spring. He was nipped for 6 of the Senators 10 hits in the 4 innings he worked.

Detroit collected all of its five hits off Pascual in the 1st five innings. Third baseman Ray Boone, trouble lately with a sore arm, accounted for two of the Tiger hits.

Bill Frosts, Frank Lary and Paul Foytack were named to pitch for Detroit against the A's.

Edwards, Kline to Help More Cubans on Hand, Dressen Predicts First-Division Finish for Senators

ORLANDO, Fla. — Knee-deep in a new wave of Cuban immigrants, Manager Chuck Dressen glibly predicts a first division finish for his Washington Senators.

"I don't know whose place we'll take but we're going to place somebody out," he said. "The old man (Owner Clark Griffith) told me when I took over we needed a catcher, shortstop and an outfielder.

"We picked up Bruce Edwards, the fellow that used to play with Brooklyn to help our catching. I saw him last year when I was in Oakland and he was with Los Angeles. He can help us."

"For shortstop we drafted Bobby Kline from the Yankee organization. So far, he's been doing pretty good but I haven't made up my mind on shortstop yet. For the outfield, I think Tom Umphlett, a fellow that had a bad season last year, is going to be all right. I had a little talk with him and I think he has a new attitude on the game."

From time to time, Dressen interrupted the interview to summon Camilo Pascual, a young Cuban pitcher who also acts as interpreter.

Seven assorted Cubans from the rosters of various clubs in the Washington organization, have been working out with the club. Pascual, 21, must stay, not only because he is the interpreter, but also because he is a promising right-hander with a 4-7 record in '54 who figures to be a starting pitcher. Pedro Ramos, another right-hander who won 15 games last year at Morristown, Ky., and Hagerstown, also has impressed Dressen. The other Cubans are doubtful factors.

Dressen shows the same old driving spirit and hustle that made him popular at Brooklyn until he sat down to write the famous "Dear Walter" letter to Owner Walter O'Malley. A year in the minors at Oakland finds Dressen eager to make the most of a 2-year contract in a new league.

Ohio State captured eight of the 14 events in the three-night competition at Miami University's pool, turning in what Peppe described the most "spirited" performance in Buckeye history.

"This was not the strongest team I've ever coached," said Peppe, 57, who has directed the Buckeyes for 25 years. "But I never had a team with such competitive spirit."

"You take Konno in the 440-yard freestyle," said Mike, "Jack Wardrop (of Michigan) told him be-

Championships were decided Saturday in two YMCA basketball leagues as Greek Orthodox and Central Methodist teams won junior and senior high school cage division titles.

The Greeks downed Eastern Junior Hi-Y, 24-11, as Mike Varon dumped in 12 points. Larry Colbert had 5 to lead Eastern.

In the high school loop, the Methodists were forced into overtime to trip Hi-Y Titlists, 46-43. The teams played to a 41-41 tie in regulation, but Central Methodist grabbed a 5-2 advantage in the extra period.

Ronald Sandage was the top scorer with 17 points. Trophies will be presented to players on the championship teams following tonight's Intramural League title game.

Oklahoma Aggies Are Favored for AAU Title

ITHACA, N.Y., March 28 — The country's best amateur matmen square off in the National AAU Wrestling Championships at Amityville, N. H. Thursday with the Oklahoma Aggies' tough Cowpokes favored to retain their team title.

The defending champions earned their favorite's role with an impressive second straight NCAA team victory over the weekend. The Aggies accumulated 40 points, nine more than runner-up Penn State Pitt was third with 28 and Oklahoma's Sooners fourth with 26.

with a close-checking, hard-hitting game. Referee Frank Udvard called seven 1st period penalties—five against the Bruins—but Boston kept Montreal from scoring in the 1st session while bagging enough goals to win. Hal Laycoe also scored for Boston. Ken Modell & Jackie LeClair got the Montreal goals.

Detroit Police Five Wins State MRA Title

GRAND RAPIDS — A balanced Detroit police team won the Michigan Recreation Assn. Class A basketball crown today after breezing through a Grand Rapids tournament.

The police squad replaces Jackson Show Bar as state champions. Detroit downed Jackson 58-43 in Saturday's semifinals. They followed with a 53-37 clincher over Grand Rapids De Young-Torna.

Teams from Trenton, Saginaw, Ann Arbor and Pontiac were eliminated by defeats in opening tournament games last Friday.

Polo Season Nearing

Ivory Polo teams' spring practices will begin April 2 at the Ivory Polo Field, 8-Mile Road and Lahser, weather permitting. Over 20 poloists are expected to turn out, including members of not only the Ivory Rangers, but also Franklin Hills, Majors, Pontiac Chiefs, and Strawberry Hill teams.

Michigan Ski Expert Suffers Broken Leg

SUN VALLEY, Idaho — Skiing stars can get hurt just like poeives.

Stein Eriksen, the Norwegian Olympic ace and now instructor at Boyne Mountain, Michigan, suffered a broken leg here yesterday. He had come to Sun Valley to watch the Harriman Cup races during the weekend. The accident occurred on Baldy Mountain.

Race Is Close as Archers Near Season Finale

Only two weeks remain of the Pontiac Archery Club's indoor league season and team number 5 holds a narrow 3-point lead over team number one. Members of the league-leading team include Harold Hedges, Hanna Hedges, LeRoy Addison and Paul and Doris Baldwin. The top two teams are matched in the final night of the season.

In last week's action, Wendie Harvey shot 206 of a possible 280 for the highest score ever recorded on the Pontiac range in regular competition.

On Easter Sunday, April 10, a sunrise service will be held at 7 a.m. at the archer's outdoor range in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area. This will be followed by a 28-target shoot. Regular outdoor season gets underway April 17.

Pontiac Bowler Fourth in Elks State Tourney

Don Menzel of Pontiac finished 4th in the singles division of the state Elks 35th annual bowling tournament at Battle Creek, which concluded over the weekend. Menzel had 632-54—686 to place 4th behind Mark Weitzke, Owosso, 706.

In the team handicap event, Stephenson Club of Ferndale was 5th with 2980. The leader was Tarry House of Grand Rapids, 3054.

Kalamazoo Dreyer's was the actual team leader with 2837. Singles leader was Ed Haines of Detroit (672) and the doubles winners were Larry Howe and Oscar Soerenson of Ann Arbor (1267).

Next year's tournament will be held in Saginaw.

Bucks Option Garber

PT. MYERS, Fla. — The Pittsburgh Pirates have optioned pitcher Bob Garber to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Garber, a right-hander, had a 194 record last year with Denver of the Class A Western League which now is in the American Assn.

Chicagoans Hits Third in Slovak Pin Tourney

MILWAUKEE — John Minyo, Chicago, rolled into third place in the singles event of the 13th annual Slovak National Bowling Tournament Sunday with a 657.

The doubles team of Dr. S. J. Hietko and Joe Cullen, of Chicago, took over second place with 1247.

There were no other changes among the first three places in other events.

The weekend tournament opened March 5 and closes May 22.

Titans Win Pin Test

DETROIT (UP) — The University of Detroit reigned as champion of the Wayne University Invitational Bowling Tournament today.

Titans bowled over Wayne and the University of Michigan with a total of 2,670 pins. Wayne was 2nd with 2,623 and the Wolverines 3rd with 2,622.

Indiana Girl Titlist

CHICAGO — Brenda Borton of the Indianapolis A.C. tonight won the National AAU junior women's 250-yard breaststroke title at Chicago Town Club.

Miss Borton's winning time was 3:49.7.

Hodges Goes 11 Innings

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Gil Hodges played the entire 11 innings in left field Sunday, but had only one putout as the Brooklyn Dodgers bowed to the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Hodges, the Brooks' regular first baseman, had a perfect day at bat with three singles and three bases on balls.

Musial Tops for Runs

CHICAGO — Stan Musial leads active major leaguers in career runs scored with a total of 1,396. Ted Williams was next in line with a 1,285 total.

2 TV Bouts on Tap for Home Viewers

NEW YORK (INS) — Former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco is a 3-to-1 favorite over fellow New Yorker Libby Manzo to night in their scheduled 10-round bout at the Eastern Parkway Arena. The match will be televised nationally (by ABC).

Hitters Find Range in Grapefruit Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For the first few weeks of baseball's spring training season, it's the pitchers who hold the upper hand while the hitters gradually adjust their batting eyes. Now, with the major league teams winding up their fourth week of workouts, the hitters have started to find the range and are moving ahead of the pitchers.

This was borne out Sunday when such formidable swingers as Larry Doby, Jim Rivera, Jackie Robinson, Willie Mays, Dusty Rhodes, Bob Cerv, Yogi Berra, Stan Musial, Frank Thomas, Del Ennis and Smokey Burgess unleashed a barrage of base hits that reverberated around the Grapefruit and Cactus exhibition circuits.

Doby smashed three home runs—one with the bases loaded—and drove in seven runs as the Cleveland Indians overwhelmed the San Francisco of the PCL 14-0. The grand-slammer came in the fifth inning and broke a scoreless tie, while the other two were in the ninth inning when the Indians scored nine times.

With Rivera producing two clutch hits, the Chicago White Sox edged the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3 in 11 innings. The fleet outfielder socked a 2-run homer with two out in the ninth inning to tie the score 3-3. Then he stepped up in the 11th frame and delivered a double that sent home Minnie Minoso with the winning run.

The Dodgers had a star of their own in Robinson, who collected four singles. He also scored two of Brooklyn's runs, one coming on a steal of home.

Mays continued to feast on Chicago Cub pitching. After belting a pair of home runs against Chicago Saturday, he again homered in the New York Giants' 8-4 triumph over Chicago Sunday. New York has won four in a row and eight out of the last nine games. Meanwhile, the amazing Mays has accounted for eight round-trippers in the exhibition games.

While Mays was performing with the varsity, teammate Rhodes went on a batting rampage to lead the Giants "B" squad to a 13-8 conquest over Cleveland's "B" team. Normally a pugnacious pitcher, Rhodes batted in the cleanup spot and lashed out four hits—including a double and a triple—as he drove in five runs.

In a doubleheader, featured by both timely hitting and good pitching, the New York Yankees downed the St. Louis Cardinals 7-4 in the opener and the teams fought to a scoreless tie in the seventh-inning nightcap. Cerv's bases-loaded home run in the eighth inning gave the Yankees their victory and Berra chipped in with four hits. Musial slammed his first four-bagger of the spring for the Cards.

Southpaw Whitey Ford worked eight innings in the first game—the longest stint by a Yankee pitcher. Harvey Haddix of St. Louis and New York's Bob Grim turned in the doubleheader in the second game.

Frank Thomas, appearing in his first exhibition game since signing with Pittsburgh March 17, walloped a 3-run homer and a single in three trips to spark Pittsburgh to a 7-6 squeaker over the Baltimore Orioles.

Setup for 1956 Olympics in Melbourne Called 'Mess'

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (INS)—Chancellor Otto Mayer of the International Olympic committee charged today that Australia's arrangements for the 1956 Olympic Games are a "mess."

Mayer said the organizing committee at Melbourne is continuing to meet with a "great deal of trouble... the whole situation is in a mess."

"The Australians really have to get a move on if the games are to be organized in anything like the proper manner."

"There is very considerable opposition in Australia to the games being held there, and the organizing committee at Melbourne is constantly running into trouble."

He said trouble is brewing over Australia's organization of press arrangements whereby the entire French press was offered 15 seats.

He declared, "I had a letter

Final Round 68 Wins at Miami for Eric Monti

His 270 Is 18 Under Par, Two Better Than Runnerup Rosburg

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"I concentrated on my own game. I didn't worry about the guys trying to beat me."

That was Eric Monti's comment after he fired a steady final-round 68 Sunday to beat off the last-minute challenge of several money-hungry pros and win the $12,500 Miami Beach Open Golf Tournament.

It was Monti's biggest victory. The Los Angeles pro, on six weeks leave from the Hillcrest Club, hasn't followed the tournament trail since 1950, when he was seriously injured in a traffic accident. He plays in only a few tournaments each year.

His cool, last-round 68 gave him a 72-hole score of 270. He was 18 strokes under par for the Bayshore Golf Course and two blows in front of Bob Rosburg of San Francisco at the finish. Monti's winning purse was $2,200. Rosburg got $1,500.

"I played well," the slender, bespectacled Californian said. "He spends most of his time teaching golf. His pupils include movie stars Jack Benny and the Marx Brothers."

He started the final 18 holes with a one-stroke lead over Rosburg and Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, L.I., N.Y.

It was a familiar situation. In the first tournament of the winter tour at Los Angeles, Monti had entered the last round leading by a stroke but blew it by taking a 76 on the last 18.

This time he didn't blow. He went into the final nine still leading the field by the same margin. At the 18th, he dropped in an unnecessary birdie putt to increase his margin to two strokes.

Mayfield, who set a new competitive record of 65 for the Bayshore course in the second round, ended up in a third-place tie with Sam Snead at 273. Each received $1,075. Fifth place went to young Doug Higgins of Midland, Tex., who posted 275 and got $840.

NFL Executives Hear Lion, Card Questions

NEW YORK (AP)—Two items are on the agenda at a special meeting today of the Executive Committee of the National Football League.

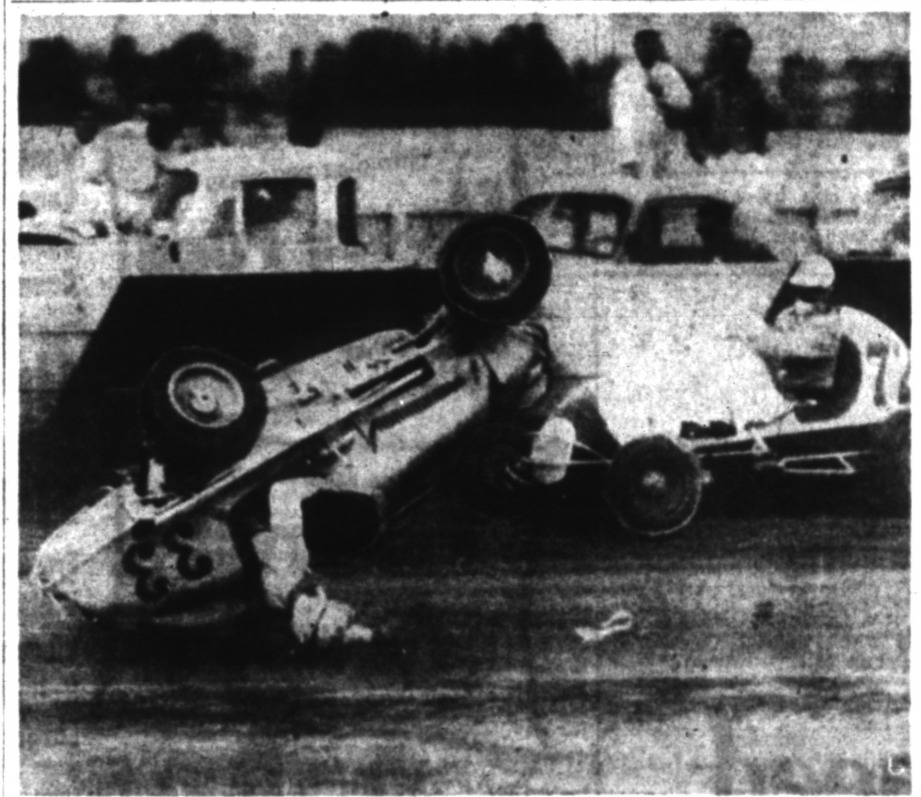

The meeting was called at the request of the Detroit Lions and the Chicago Cardinals. Commissioner Bert Bell disclosed Sunday night. The committee will discuss the Canadian situation and also hear a schedule complaint from the Cardinals.

Evart Bowler Takes Lead in State Meet

BAY CITY (AP)—Guy Dible of Evart took the lead in the handicap all events this weekend to lead three changes in the standings at the half-way mark of the Michigan State Bowling Assn. tournament.

Dible rolled 551 in the team events, 631 in doubles and 574 in singles to compile a 2026 total with a 270 pin handicap.

Other changes: Don Morgan and Dominic Panico of Albion took over 2nd place in the handicap doubles with a 96 handicap, 1256 series for a 1332 total.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE—Colby Scroggins, Downey, Calif., rolls over in this midsize car in a preliminary race in Los Angeles Sunday. Scroggins' car flipped and spun around, finally coming to a halt with the driver pinned. He escaped serious injury, sustaining a wrenched shoulder and facial bruises. At right, Marty Mazzman of Fresno drives close to the wall to avoid hitting Scroggins.

Trabert Wins at Miami Beach

Tony Now Seeks Fifth Straight Win Over Vic Seixas in Puerto Rico

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tony Trabert, who plays a fast, smashing game of tennis, today went looking for his fifth straight victory over Vic Seixas, the nation's top-ranked player from Philadelphia.

The Cincinnati amateur out-gunned Seixas Sunday in straight sets to win the Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament.

The two leave by plane today for San Juan, Puerto Rico, for the Caribe Hilton Tournament this week. Then they go separate ways for awhile and will meet again at River Oaks Invitational in Houston, Tex., April 19.

Detroit Bowlers in Lead in Women's State Tourney

JACKSON (AP)—Detroit entries set a blazing pace during the sixth weekend of the 29th annual Women's State Bowling Tournament by grabbing the leads in five of the eight divisions.

Doris Knechtges and Delores Wroblewski and their Acar Branch teammates grabbed a major share of the laurels.

Knechtges, who hit a 289 single in Saturday's doubles competition took over the lead in actual all events with 1,906—an average of nearly 211 pins for her nine games of bowling in team, doubles and singles.

She also took over the runner-up spot in all events handicap with 1,915 only five pins behind still another Detroit Irene Monger.

Wroblewski went to the top in actual singles with 635. Dot Aldred and Helen Shablis took the actual doubles lead with 1,156 and three

Marciano Relishes Work

Rocky Breaks Camp in East, Moves West to Set Up Training for Bout With Cockell

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano broke camp here today and headed for California where he will begin serious workouts for his May 16 title defense against Don Cockell of England in San Francisco.

Here in his Catskill Mountain haunt, he has been training "tightly" for more than two months. This consisted of boxing 87 rounds with his sparmates, doing hundreds of miles of roadwork and whipping through the equivalent of another 100 rounds with the punching bag.

Just before the final check on his equipment, he stepped on the scales and showed 191 pounds, just four over his best fighting weight.

The Brockton Blockbuster will make a couple of stops on his leisurely trip to the coast, then will set up headquarters in California, Calif., 73 miles from San Francisco. His contract requires him to train near Frisco for six weeks before the fight.

To the wonderment of everyone in his camp here, Marciano's reticence of the heavy chores is a source of constant amazement. "It makes me feel good and helps me enjoy my eating better," said Marciano. "So I don't mind it at all. Besides, I need the work since I've been out of action since September."

His nose, the most famous one since Jimmy Durante started in show business, which was cut badly the last time he licked Ezzard Charles, is fine, he reported.

"My sparring partners have caught me on it solidly a couple of times, but it hasn't hurt at all. Yes, I do think about it once in a while."

Is the Rock worried about Cockell?

"I've never seen him fight and I've never seen any movies of him," he shrugged.

New weapons?

His trainer Charlie Goldman, who has been in his corner since he started his professional career has to take over on that count.

"Now he straightens out his punches so his arms are in front of him whether he connects or not," said Goldman. "He didn't do that the last time he fought Charles. This means he can protect himself better all the time."

Lake Orion Team Winner of 22nd PWBA Tourney

The 22nd annual Pontiac Women's Bowling Association tournament came to a close over the weekend at Colonial Lanes, Utica, with Schick's Appliance of Lake Orion holding fast to the lead it has held since the 2nd weekend of firing.

The Lake Orion team rolled a 2601 and with a handicap of 510 totaled 3111 to win by 66 pins over Munro's Cabins of Pontiac. Violet Rowden is captain of the championship team. Della Barado captains the runnersup.

Third place went to Utica's Engel Chevrolet-Olds, captained by Dorothy Albend, with 3015. Peggy Bender's Service Window Cleaning of Pontiac was 4th with 2992, and Sportsmen's Inn of Waterford, led by Clara Orders, was 5th with 2930.

Pat McGinnis and Elizabeth Robinson won the doubles after gaining the lead the very first week of bowling. Their winning total was 1310. Bernice Lavooy of Milford, who also took the lead in the 2nd week, won the singles with 684.

Gen Bradley of Pontiac won the all events with 1635. High actual performances include Schick's 1061 in team game, and 2601 in series. Marbara Hammett and Helen Achenbach had the highest individual games (233) and Mrs. Bradley high series (599).

Capac, Pontiac Hounds on Top

Win Senior and Junior Honors Sunday for Pioneer Assn. Trial

Top honors for Sunday's annual spring field trial for the Pioneer Coon Hunters Association were taken by a Pontiac and a Capac hound, respectively.

In the senior trial, Silver, owned by S. Snell of Capac was winner of the first line. First tree winner in the senior division was Homer, owned by Ike Hollin of Detroit.

First tree dog in the junior division was also the first line winner. It was Lyle Young's fine Spotlight. The Pontiac hound was the only double winner of the day.

Senior second line dog was Mike, owned by James Berden of Pontiac, and the winner of second tree honors was Miss Rock, owned by Snell.

Hunter, aptly named hound, owned by W. Washington of Flint took second line honor in the junior class while the second tree place went to Little King, owned by Bob Beardslee of Mt. Clemens.

Winners divided $75 cash awards in each class finals.
Some 75 coon hounds took part in the trials, held north of Pontiac on Grange Hall road. The trials were the final event of the season for the Pioneer group.

2nd Elimination Tests Held at Rolladium Rink

Class A—Sharon Bottoroff and John Mikusak.

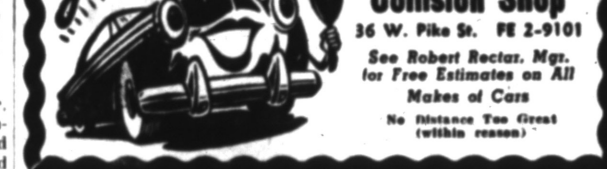

Class B—Judy Graham and Jim Berryman.

Class C—Judy Capel and Douglas Stranahan.

The San Francisco Olympic Club was Phillips' victim Friday night 53-51, then a hard-pushing, talented crew of Colorado University players fell before the Oilers Saturday night, 66-64.

The Greater the need for High Octane
The Greater the need for TCP

Today's engines deliver more power than ever before—and with greater economy, too!

They're high compression engines. They're built to squeeze more power out of every drop of the high octane gasolines they require.

But high octane alone will not keep these engines delivering their full power. They must be protected against the harmful effects of deposits that build up in combustion chambers.

The reason is this:

When your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time . . . before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

House Rift Seen Over Farm Bill

$879 Million Request May Touch Off Debate on Benson Policies

WASHINGTON (INS)—An $879-million-dollar farm bill seemed sure to set off a swirling, ahead-of-schedule debate in the House today on the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The basis was laid in advance of the House session in a report of an Appropriations subcommittee. Chairman Whitten (D-Miss.) said the group had what he called facts to back up its criticism of the operation of crop controls and of the surplus disposal program termed the criticism "political propaganda."

Rep. Vursell (R-Ill.) called Benson a man of "courage and integrity" who has "proved his ability in the two years he has been secretary of agriculture." He said most criticisms of Benson by the committee majority were "unjustified."

All seven members of the Whitten subcommittee are agreed on the money bill itself. As okayed by the full Appropriations Committee Friday, it earmarks $878,625,391 in cash and $88 million dollars in lending authority for the Agriculture Department in the fiscal year beginning July 1—a net cut of only $6,245,234 below Benson's request.

Boys Wreak Havoc in 'Lovable' School

DETROIT (INS)—The ultra-modern Larned Elementary School in Detroit, designed "so that youngsters would love their school," was open for classes today but it took 12 extra men to clean up $10,000 damage inflicted by two boys.

The two are cousins and one is a fourth grader at Larned. The Larned student explained the vandalism simply by saying "They were too strict at the school," where he received passing grades in "civics" but flunked "self control" and "social adjustment."

The boys were trapped yesterday when the school engineer returned to the building to inspect the boilers. They had first entered the building Saturday afternoon but just looked around and caused damage. They returned yesterday morning to wreck havoc on the $600,000 school which was opened just last September.

Detroit Edison Head Reveals Atom Unit

DETROIT (INS)—Walker L. Cislir, president of Detroit Edison Co., announced today the formation of a new non-profit corporation to carry on atomic power research.

Cislir is former management committee chairman for 33 companies which have been cooperating with the Atomic Energy Commission in the study of atomic power problems. He was named to head the new organization, Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc.

Other officers include R. George Rindell, president of Philadelphia Electric Co., vice president; Arvin E. Upton, Washington attorney, secretary; John L. Grose, Washington attorney, assistant secretary; Edward M. Spencer, assistant treasurer of Detroit Edison Co.; treasurer; and William G. Bourne, treasurer of Commonwealth Associates, Inc., Jackson, assistant treasurer.

Carmel Quinn Reveals She'll Marry Manager

NEW YORK—Carmel Quinn, the cute Dublin redhead on the Arthur Godfrey show, has accidentally tattled that she, too, has picked out a man to marry—Bill Fuller, of Dublin, her manager and discoverer.

"Isn't he awful? He's wahrrmin' it out of me"; she exclaimed the other day to a friend after she'd told me.

Carmel was worrying out loud about a physical exam that day—part of her application for permanent U.S. residence, preliminary to becoming a citizen.

"I have one tahrribl' thing wahrrin' with me!" she confessed. "Don't you have a seeing-eye boy friend?" I asked her.

"I hahve!" It is Fuller, 37-year-old owner of clubs in London and Dublin who hired her there and booked her as a singer with Ambrose's orchestra in London.

"It was good experience travelin' in coaches, sittin' up all night, lookin' out at the blackness, listenin' to the men snoring. Men can sleep anywhere, they can!"

Carmel, who's 25, and Fuller may marry next summer. Godfrey's said to approve.

"Maybe we could go back to Dublin on a trip," she said. "I'd give anything to be walkin' up the street in Dublin this minute. Not that I don't like here. The dresses you can buy here, they're out of this wahrrid for style."

"I sent one I'd already wahrrin' a while to my sister, and everybody in Dublin was lookin' at it, remarkin'." Life's been very good to her since she came here a year ago, especially when she went to audition.

"Oh, there were hundreds there, all perfectly poised, and one man said it was all cut and dried. I said to him, 'Don't keep sayin' that to me. I'll go and do me best.'"

"Then I began sayin' to myself, 'Does it matter that much? Sure, I'll be dead in a few years anyway.'"

She was astonished to win and her regret now is that Godfrey's show isn't seen in Ireland, where they have little TV.

"It makes me miserable that nobody in Dublin sees me," she said. "All they can do is hear me on the radio. They all sit up till half-one in the mahrn'n' scottin' around the radio to hear me."

"I listen to the Arthur Godfrey Digest on the radio Friday night," she said. "Though 'tis real difficult, tryin' to listen to the Godfrey radio show and watch 'The Life of Riley' on television at the same time. 'Tis real hard to do both, 'tis!"

McNamara Seeking to Lift Farm Income

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) says "Congress must not dawdle" over proposals to lift farm income.

In a statement prepared for the Congressional Record McNamara said "we must act quickly to protect our farm families directly, and through them, all of us."

He said farm income in January, 1955 was the lowest for any month since World War II.

The administration may rest assured that regardless of party level the members of the Senate are prepared to do whatever the welfare of the farm families dictates, McNamara said.

Annual Roundup of Rattlesnakes Stymied by Cold

OKEENE, Okla. (INS)—It was just too cold for rattlesnakes to be rattling around.

The 550 rattlers captured by hunters in the annual Okeene Rattlesnake Roundup yesterday represented one of the smallest catches in the 16-year history of the event.

A crowd estimated by the Oklahoma highway patrol at between 16,000 and 18,000 braved icy winds to watch the colorful proceedings.

Ed Lamlie, chief rattler of the International Assn. of Rattlesnake Hunters, was disappointed at the catch. Some 2,000 diamond backs were expected to be snared from the gypsum hills that surround this northwest Oklahoma City.

Biggest snake was garnered by Jimmy DAVIS, of Watonga. It measured 67½ inches and weighed 3½ pounds. It was auctioned for $25.30. The 550 snakes weighed a total of 779 pounds—a new all-time low.

One out of every 60 workers in the U.S. is employed in hospitals.

Atomic Ack-Ack Slated for Test

Nevada Trial Planned for 'New Antiaircraft Nuclear Weapon'

WASHINGTON (INS)—The world's first atomic antiaircraft weapon soon to be detonated high over Nevada opens the way for a new era in military planning.

Atom-tipped guided missiles may, according to experts, serve as the nation's principal reserve for defense.

Explosion of the weapon, a warhead designed for ground-launched and airborne rockets, will demonstrate that a fleet of bombers could be destroyed in one blast at the altitude at which modern attack planes are built to fly.

The dramatic test will demonstrate further that no damage or injury would occur on the ground. Even directly beneath the explosion, the radiation dose would amount to only one hundredth that received in a standard chest X-ray.

The Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission unveiled plans for the Nevada test last night in an announcement revealing that the nuclear warheads can be carried in anti-bomber rockets. Small rockets can be fired by fighter planes while ground-launched anti-aircraft missiles would be larger.

The explosion presumably will be at an altitude of five or six miles—by far the greatest height at which an atomic test has ever been conducted. For the first high-altitude demonstration, the warhead will be dropped from a B-36 bomber.

Defense officials confirmed that the Nevada maneuver in which a "non-nuclear device" was set off at an altitude of 30,000 feet Friday was a rehearsal for the "shot" that for the first time will cast the atom in a purely defensive role.

The carefully-worded Defense-AEC announcement said only that the explosion will be "at a point many thousands of feet above the ground."

'Copters Shuttle 93 Lake Boaters to Safety in Dixie

VANCE, S.C. (INS)—Two helicopters flying a continuous shuttle service brought 93 stranded fishermen and pleasure seekers to safety yesterday. They were among more than 200 marooned overnight by high tides and rough water on Lake Marion.

Most of them—men, women and children—beached their boats on the small islands that dot the 12-mile lake and built bonfires. All made it safely to shore yesterday. No one suffered any more than a slight case of exposure.

The helicopters from Shaw Air Force Base at Sumter, S.C., effected many of the rescues by the light of the fires. Capt. Robert L. Heas, of Philadelphia, who with Maj. Francis M. Carney, of Doylestown, Pa., flew one helicopter, said, "There was no panic and it was a very fine, very successful operation."

Those not picked up by the helicopters, had to wait until the water calmed down enough to allow them to bring their boats to shore. Women and children were picked up first. After all the stranded returned to shore, the helicopters flew on the lake making certain no one was left.

Legion Hits Hoover on VA Medical Cuts

TRAVERSE CITY (INS)—The Michigan American Legion has criticized the Hoover Commission for its recommendation to pare government medical benefits for veterans.

Resolutions opposing the recommendations were passed at the group's annual spring conference yesterday.

1. The four Michigan tuberculosis hospitals re-allocate space for mentally ill children;

2. Congress take action for the release of 11 U. S. airmen held in Red China; and

3. State Legion posts provide volunteer civil defense workers.

Withdrawn was a resolution proposing Detroit for the Legion's national convention in 1958. Lack of available accommodations was given as the reason for the withdrawal.

Spencer Tracy Accepts Role in 'The Mountain'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—When Spencer Tracy comes back from his sojourn in Europe he'll make a picture at Paramount called "The Mountain," based on a novel by Henri Troyat. The bait held out to Spencer is Edward Dmytryk, who will produce and direct. Dmytryk won great praise for his work on "Caine Mutiny."

Spencer reports first to MGM for "Jeremy Rodock" in May, and he goes to Paramount in September.

"The Mountain" deals with two brothers who are guides to a steep, almost inaccessible mountain. There's a plane crash which destroys the mountain top. They are told there's a cache of gold up there, but what they really find is a girl alive in the wreckage.

Linda Christian, diamonds and all, whisks away to Spain on May 1 to costar with Carlos Thompson in "Thunderstorm."

Linda takes her two children to New York for Easter to see their father, Tyrone Power.

The boy with the best chance of getting the Harry K. Thaw role in "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing" is Bob Wagner, who has made extensive tests.

The name of Harry K. Thaw, almost 50 years ago, was front page copy in every newspaper in the country. He shot and killed famous architect Stanford White over Thaw's wife, Evelyn Nesbit. It's Evelyn's story that Charles Brackett is bringing to the screen.

Bob, who is under contract to 20th, is much younger than Thaw was when he was sent to Matteawan prison after Evelyn Thaw bared her soul to save him.

The way Veronica Lake's secret marriage of a year to Joseph McCarthy—not the senator but a song writer—was revealed was when she had to sign some legal papers. She signed her real name, McCarthy, and it was then that Andre De Toth, the director, by whom she has a child. There is a little girl by a previous marriage, and both of them make their home with Andre.

The career of Marsha Hunt has taken a real upturn. She has been at the Carthy Circle in "Anniversary Waltz," and now she moves to Warner to play the role of James Dean's mother in "Rebel Without a Cause."

Another happy girl is 17-year-old Natalie Wood, whose test for the same picture was so good that she was signed by Warner to play the femme lead with Dean.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Kirk Douglas returned home today to find many congratulatory wires after I broke the news that Anne expects a baby.

Barbara Payton, who disappeared completely from the front pages, was waiting for Mickey Knox on the sidelines of a TV film he was making.

Marlon Brando is itching to do the Rocky Graziano life story. Pamela and James Mason are in San Francisco looking over locations for their new TV series which Mason will produce and for which Pamela will write the scripts.

Nix on Tax Cuts, Sen. Byrd Says

Dem. Money Watchdog Promises to Aid in Job of Balancing Budget

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) hoisted a stop signal today to Democrats and Republicans bent on cutting taxes in 1956's election year.

Byrd, who heads the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he will fight any tax cut—whether it is suggested by Democrats or Republicans—until the budget is balanced.

Moreover, he said he won't go along with the idea expressed recently by President Eisenhower that it might be possible to cut taxes next year if budget balancing is in sight but not actually achieved.

"I don't go for that idea at all," he said. "The way to get a tax cut is to reduce expenses so that the budget actually is balanced. Until it is balanced, I am not willing to reduce taxes and borrow the money to do it."

Taking a similar stand, Byrd unsuccessfully opposed tax cuts last year.

The effort of House Democrats to put across this year a $20-a-person individual income tax cut effective in 1956 lost out when Byrd and Sen. George (D-Ga.) bucked their party's leaders and got the Senate to kill it. It is expected to be buried tomorrow, when the House acts on a conference committee agreement to eliminate it.

Such Strange Questions!

Employees of Muskegon C. of C. Feel Like Panelists on "Information Please"

MUSKEGON (UP)—Some people, it seems, think the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce has answers to just about any question they have the urge to ask.

"Sometimes I think people have us confused with the program 'Information Please,'" one Chamber staffer said. "And after working here for a while, you get a feeling that you're on the program eight hours a day."

During one week, the Chamber received requests ranging from the one that came from Lansing asking the name of the winner of the Miss Universe contest to a request from a Cleveland man who wanted to know if there was any uranium on his property near Twin Lake.

Other "typical" inquiries received by the Chamber office during the same week included: Firm in Thika, Kenya Colony, Africa, desires list of graphite users in Muskegon area.

Shipping concern on East Coast requests information regarding stevedoring facilities at port of Muskegon.

Business concerns asks for lists of conventions and special events in area.

Women in New Mexico requests aid in selling a plot of ground in Muskegon County.

Chicago Boy Scout Council wants maps and information in order to schedule a canoe trip on Muskegon River.

Man in Chicago requests an estimate on value of his lots in Lake-wood Township.

Artist from Missouri desires information on selling oil paintings of Michigan.

Dem to Seek Election in Republican Primary

BEDFORD, Pa. (UP)—Virgil C. Boor of nearby Bloomfield Twp. filed nominating petitions for school director on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Then he found out cross-filing was illegal in Pennsylvania. The Bedford County solicitor yesterday ruled the county had to accept the first petition filed. So, although Boor is a registered Democrat, he'll be running in the Republican primary.

Photographers Searching for Pin-Up Girl—Age 75

NEW YORK (UP)—The photographers' Association of America is looking for a pin-up girl to grace its 75th birthday party in Chicago in August.

The "most photogenic and charming" woman born in 1880 will be chosen as the convention's "sweet 75." The photographers figure they have a possible 400,000 women from whom to choose.

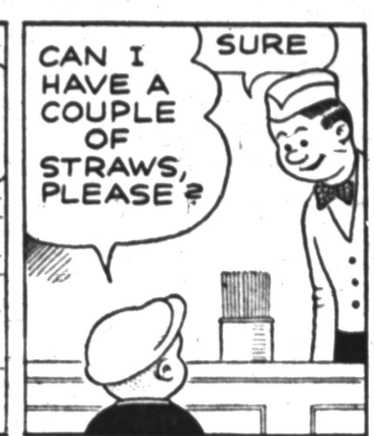

The total payroll of hospitals in the U.S. amounted to $2,987 million for 1933 for their 1,168,564 employees.

General Trade Information Bureau, Sumatra, Indonesia, desires trade directories, import and export information.

"We welcome inquiries and are pleased to provide facts on what makes this the best place in the world to call home," a chamber official said.

"We do our best to answer any and all questions that come our way and I think our batting average is as high as any member of the radio quiz program."

Actress' Sister Chose New One

Marisa Pavan Dropped 'Pierangeli,' Making TV Debut Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — How does a young actress who has a famous twin sister go about choosing a professional name that's different?

That was the problem of Marisa Pavan who makes her live television debut tonight on CBS' Studio One. Her real name is Marisa Pierangeli and her twin sister, Anna, simply divided the family name to become Pier Angeli.

Marisa, not wanting to walk in her sister's shadow, solved her problem in this fashion:

"I thought of all the last names of my friends back in Italy to see if one might not go well with Marisa."

"I'd write down my first name and try it with each last name. I went down the list and couldn't find one that sounded right."

"Then I remembered a friend of the family named Pavan and wrote 'Marisa Pavan.' I liked it and decided to use it. I was working at Paramount at the time and suggested the name, and they approved it."

"That way I didn't even have to change my initials."

Color TV Studio Starts Broadcasts From Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Color City, the new NBC Burbank studio built from the ground up for color telecasting, went on the air last night with a 90-minute color spectacular viewed mostly in black and white across the nation.

As Bob Hope quipped: "Color TV soon will be within the reach of the average working millionaire."

An idea of the ratio of color to black and white sets is given in the Los Angeles Electric League's statistics estimating there are 699 color sets in southern California to 2,057,497 black and white receivers.

But Color City, of course, is for the developing future and NBC President Sylvester L. Weaver Jr. says the network plans two color spectaculars a month from here from now on. Previously, all NBC color telecasting originated in New York.

Warmth of Open Fire Too Much for Floor

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Merrill Swain Jr. and his wife were relaxing last night in front of their fireplace. Swain got fidgety. The room was getting hotter.

He discovered the floor under the fireplace was on fire. Firemen put out the blaze.

Swain sells fireplace equipment.

$5 Million Available

Sloan Foundation to Back Basic Research Projects

NEW YORK — The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation is planning to spend $5 million to promote basic research in the physical sciences. Fortune magazine will report tomorrow.

This sum is described by Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of General Motors, as "a preliminary fund." Mr. Sloan also told Fortune that the Foundation is considering "a comprehensive program" to encourage fundamental research in the physical sciences.

Underwater TV Finds Jet Parts

Ohio Firm Tells How Camera Helped Locate Debris in Pacific

NEW YORK (INS) — An Ohio firm has disclosed with Navy permission, how a specially-developed underwater television camera helped locate vital parts of an experimental F-100 jet plane which crashed in the Pacific Ocean off Los Angeles during a test flight early this month.

The wrecked North American Aviation Co. plane crashed into the water at a speed of better than 800 miles an hour, according to W. I. McCord, sales manager of the Diamond Power Specialty Corp., of Lancaster, Ohio, which developed the undersea TV "eye."

Because of the speed at the time of the crash the plane—whose pilot had managed to bail out safely—broke into fragments as it hit the water and sank. It was important that as many parts as possible be recovered to provide possible clues to the reasons for the crash.

Beginning March 14 technicians and divers were taken to the scene of the crash and the undersea TV camera was lowered better than 120 feet to scout the bottom for the plane parts.

Once the camera was lowered observers on the deck of the salvage ship were able to watch everything that the camera picked up—on a TV screen on deck.

"About 65 to 70 per cent of the parts, including the engine, were recovered by divers after being located by the TV camera," McCord said. The major part of the operation took little more than a week.

City Women Voters Back State Issues

The Pontiac League of Women Voters has discussed the four state issues on the April 4 ballot and voted to support them, according to Mrs. D. B. Eames, publicity chairman.

Proposal number one provides that all non-partisan nominating procedures, primaries and elections for judicial officers be conducted under laws set up by the Legislature.

The second measure would require State Supreme Court justices and circuit judges to be attorneys and under 70 years old. The third would allow the state to borrow up to $100,000,000 and loan sums to hard-pressed school districts to pay off building bonds.

The last proposal would authorize setting up a bipartisan, four-person state board of election canvassers.

NAACP Member Drive Extended to April 17

Annual membership drive of Oakland County Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has been extended to April 17, according to Linwood L. Flack Jr., president.

Flack said Mrs. Mary Ann Taylor, 40 Harris St., has sold the most memberships to date. He also announced the group's monthly membership meeting would be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Trinity Baptist Church.

Can't Afford Fine or Jail

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 24-year-old mother came up with a new story when arrested by police last night for loitering. "I don't have any money for a fine," she complained. "and if I go to jail I'll be stuck 30 cents an hour by the baby sitter until I get out."

Canners Donate Samples in A-Radiation Research

WASHINGTON (INS) — U. S. processors are kicking in enough canned food to supply 100 families of four for a year in an attempt to find out whether it will be safe to eat after an atomic explosion.

The experiment will be carried out with the official blessing of half a dozen government agencies during the Atomic Energy Commission's current series of tests at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

About 25,000 samples of 60 different canned food items, some in glass and some in tin, have been selected on the basis of the processed foods consumers buy in largest volume.

This is the equivalent of 1,200 cases, and a National Canners Association spokesman estimated that average consumption is about three cases per person per year. A total of 153 canning firms are splitting the tab for the test material and the cost of transporting it to Nevada.

The Civil Defense Administration, which is vitally interested in the experiment, has recommended that U. S. families keep a three-day emergency supply of food on hand in event of an enemy attack.

Tentative plans call for the tests to be carried out on or about April 26, with exposures of the canned food to be made at various distances from the blast. An extensive program of post-explosion testing of the samples will be carried out.

Among other things, the Canners Association said the federal food and drug administration will use some of the exposed food in animal feeding tests to be conducted in FDA laboratories.

A spokesman reported that food and drug scientists actually will set up three separate tests. As he outlined it, the first of these will be a 90-day feeding program using monkeys.

To determine whether there are longer-range effects, FDA will feed other batches of the canned goods to rats over a six-month period. Finally, there will be 18 months of testing with dogs.

Citing potential value of the experiments, the industry pointed out that after World War II bombing raids, European cities became wholly dependent on canned foods because refrigeration and power facilities were knocked out.

Now the situation is further complicated by the question of whether even canned foods subjected to atomic radiation will be safe for human use. The forthcoming tests are expected to supply the answer.

Fear Soldier Drinking

MERIDEN, Conn. (UP)—The Connecticut Temperance Society voted to oppose universal military training on the grounds that it would "stimulate the liquor habit in American youth."

Evidence Sat Upon at Assault Hearing

OMAHA (UP)—During a recent court trial of several men on assault and battery charges, numerous references were made by the prosecuting attorney to a chair one of the defendants allegedly threw at one of the plaintiffs during a scuffle.

In summing up his case, the defense attorney demanded to know why the chair hadn't been introduced as evidence, since it had such important bearing on the case.

The prosecuting attorney then pointed to one of the defendants and remarked:

"One of your clients has been sitting on the chair all through the trial. I didn't want to disturb him."

We All Need 50 Years to Learn How to Live

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Everyone should live to be 150 years old. "It takes the first 50 years to learn how to live," Dr. Walter Stark, a dentist, told a pre-retirement institute yesterday. "The next 50 years should be used for production, and in the next 50 years a human being sought to be entitled to do the things he wants to do, aside from the commercial side of production."

Some Crooks Stupid, Police Captain Thinks

MONTREAL (UP)—Detective Captain Cecil Rowe thinks some criminals are stupid. One lawbreaker, whose name was withheld pending his appearance in court, stole the overcoat and wallet of an office manager. The wallet contained two choice tickets to a National Hockey League playoff game.
