Romney Denies Seeking Swainson's Aid

GOV. GEORGE W. ROMNEY

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Gov. George Romney absolutely denied today he sent a Republican state senator to seek help for his fiscal reform program from former Gov. John B. Swainson, a Democrat.

The governor said at his morning news conference he was aware Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, GOP Senate caucus chairman, was going to visit Swainson at his home Oct. 14.

"But I did not approve of it, and I have had no indication of what transpired," Romney said.

HE DISAPPROVED

Romney said he told Thayer before the meeting he disapproved because "I thought it would be badly misinterpreted."

The meeting was alluded to in the Senate last Monday when Sen. Philip Rahoi, D-Iron Mountain, denounced his minority floor leader, Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, for being the backbone of a move that saw the Senate Tax Committee dump 61 unamended tax bills on the Senate floor. Rahoi indicated Blondy had been acting under instructions from Swainson.

In a syndicated story prepared for release tomorrow, Washington columnist Drew Pearson says Thayer was sent to Swainson by Romney to appeal for Democratic backing for the tax program.

Pearson called the move a desperation effort.

Swainson's story, according to Pearson, is that he was called on for the help.

BOTH DENY

But, in addition to Romney, both Thayer and Blondy deny having been partners to any deal with the former governor.

The Pearson story said, in part:

"In desperation, Romney has appealed to his Democratic predecessor, ex-Gov. John Swainson, for help.

"Last week Sen. Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor, the Republican caucus chairman, made a secret night call at the home of ex-Gov. Swainson (in Lansing).

SWAINSON ASKED

"'Does the governor know you are here?' Swainson asked, referring to Romney.

Lodge Will Return for Report to JFK on Viet Difficulties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will return from Saigon in 10 days to report to President Kennedy on the situation in Viet Nam. No new emergency is involved, officials said.

The State Department, in announcing yesterday that Lodge will return for consultations Nov. 3, said one of the matters to be reviewed is the U.S. backed strategic hamlet program.

The department said there are indications it may have been overextended.

But, officials said, Lodge's trip home does not mean a new crisis has arisen in the troubled Southeast Asian nation.

Lodge will return to Washington less than three months after becoming ambassador at the height of the Diem's crackdown on Buddhist leaders demonstrating against the government.

Since then, there have been some changes in U.S. policy, including the announcement earlier this week that U.S. aid has been cut off to special Vietnamese military forces not actively engaged in battling the Viet Cong. Also, shipments of U.S. surplus food to Viet Nam are to be reduced.

In announcing that one of the matters to be reviewed by Lodge and Kennedy is the strategic hamlet program, Robert McCloskey, State Department press officer, said:

"We have had indications for some time that the strategic hamlet program may have been somewhat overextended in the delta area south of Saigon. We understand that wherever necessary corrective measures are being taken."

Russia Offers Relief to Cuba

No Strings Attached, Says Khrushchev

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has offered massive no-strings-attached aid to Cuba to alleviate hardships caused by recent flood and hurricane damage, the official Tass News Agency reported today.

The offer, in a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Fidel Castro, said some of the aid will come from Soviet supplies already stockpiled in Cuba.

The letter said Soviet experts also will be dispatched to Cuba to assist in reconstruction work —fully at the expense of Russia.

There had been speculation in Western capitals that the Soviet Union was "going slow" in offering aid to Castro because of Cuba's refusal to sign the Moscow partial nuclear test-ban agreement.

Some diplomatic sources had said Castro appeared to be playing one side against the other in Moscow's dispute with Peking where the test-ban agreement has been denounced.

Last night, the Soviet Union denied reports that it had ordered Cuba to undertake sweeping economic and political reforms and improve relations with the United States.

Tass said the report, published in the Financial Times of London and the West German news magazine Der Spiegel, was "an invention from beginning to end, a crude fabrication."

Supervisors to Consider Top Post

By DICK HANSON

A large group of county supervisors is scheduled to meet Monday morning in the courthouse auditorium to further consider strengthening the day-to-day administration of county government.

The issue became controversial when the County Board of Supervisors Ways and Means Committee proposed making County Clerk Register Daniel Murphy chief county administrator by appointing him chairman of the board of auditors at an increased salary.

Several supervisors are pushing to create a separate post of chief administrator.

Monday's meeting has been called by ways and means chairman David Levinson and salaries committee chairman Curtis Hall.

The two committees are expected to meet with the chairmen of the other 27 county committees.

NEW DUTIES

The ways and means and salaries committees are proposing to give the chairman of the county board of auditors additional responsibilities which would make him chief administrator of the county.

The chairman's salary

State Raps Perimeter Road Firm

Levels Censure in Work Delay

The State Highway Department has cited the perimeter road contractor for default of contract specifications and will turn the paving of intersections over to a bonding firm Nov. 1.

In its contract, the Oak Construction Co. of Royal Oak was given until the end of the 1963 construction season to complete and open perimeter road intersections.

But, if progress was declared unsatisfactory, the highway department was given power to turn the work over the the bonding company after Nov. 1.

John A. Willis, senior district engineer, said at a meeting at City Hall yesterday that the highway department was not satisfied with construction progress "and we will invoke the maximum penalties we can under the contract."

The highway department decision came at a time when seven major streets are either closed or partly closed by perimeter road construction.

A main east-west street going through Pontiac, Huron has been closed at Cass since Sept. 10.

Saginaw Street has been closed just north of its Oakland Avenue intersection since Sept. 26.

Busy Oakland has been restricted to two-lane traffic since about Sept. 20, with Perry and Mount Clemens restricted early this month.

Work on Auburn, also restricted, has begun within the last 10 days as has the Pike intersection.

Also yesterday Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck ordered East Pike Street closed to through traffic from Paddock to Mill until a detour around the Pike Street intersection with the perimeter road is widened.

Pike was reopened today as the traffic lane was widened.

Problems at the controversial detour grew early yesterday afternoon when construction workers hit a gas line near the main library and ruptured a water main in front of Central Elementary School.

Water went 60 feet into the air like a geyser when the main broke, according to witnesses, and continued at lower levels for nearly an hour before the break was repaired.

The detour had been harshly criticized at the City Commission meeting Tuesday because it was too narrow for fire trucks and considered unsafe.

ORDERS WORK

Wills said yesterday that the highway department "has ordered the Pike Street excavation backfilled immediately and the Cass - Huron intersection completed at the earliest possible date.

"The work on West Huron is four weeks behind schedule. This delay is due entirely to the delinquency of Oak Construction Co.

"Our recommendation now is that the company be removed from the highway department

Dividends Doubled as Firm Announces High Income, Profits

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—Chrysler Corp. directors proposed a two-for-one split in the company's stock, which would become the second such split in eight months if approved by stockholders, and announced the quarterly dividend would be doubled.

Stockholders would vote on the proposal Dec. 17. The earlier split this year was approved by stockholders April 16.

The big auto-making corporation reported net income for the quarter ended Sept. 30 was $22.8 million, equal to $1.22 a share on the capital stock.

This compared to $3.2 million or 18 cents a share in the comparable quarter of 1962, adjusted for the two-for-one stock split which became effective last May.

Earnings in the second quarter ended in June 1963, were $41.7 million, or $2.23 a share.

NINE MONTHS' INCOME

Net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $100.7 million or $5.44 a share, against $15.1 million or 83 cents a share in the first nine months of 1962, adjusted for the earlier stock split.

October Sky Will Continue in July Blue

October's bright blue skies will be dotted with a few clouds tonight and tomorrow, but temperatures will be as balmy as in mid-July.

The weatherman predicts a high near 80 tomorrow and a low of 60 tonight. The outlook for Saturday is partly cloudy and a little cooler.

Fifty-nine was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. this morning. The thermometer registered 74 at 2 p.m.

Civil Rights Bill Battle Becomes Contest of Wills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fight to kill a tough civil rights bill in favor of a more moderate one settled down today to a contest of wills between the administration and a rebellious group of congressmen.

President Kennedy himself has taken a hand in trying to resolve the fight in favor of the less sweeping measure, which the administration feels is the only one than can get through Congress.

Kennedy met last night with the top Republican and Democratic leaders of the House and the Judiciary Committee but the best he could get was a third postponement of a crucial committee vote on the strong bill. The test has now been set for Tuesday.

The President followed up this morning by calling to the White House a group of the committee Democrats holding out for the strong bill.

No one involved in either meeting would comment publicly, but it is known the discussions are centering on the prospect of getting firm bipartisan support for a compromise bill.

This has been the goal of the administration since it made its original recommendations last June, but no common ground has yet been found between the backers of strong civil rights legislation and those who think even the administration package goes too far.

POLITICAL JEALOUSY

Also operating against compromise are political jealousies, with Republicans balking at coming to the administration's rescue and some Democrats declining to back off from stiff provisions popular with Negro groups.

Leaders of the militant band of holdouts expressed confidence today — even after the White House meeting — that they would maintain their control and vote to bring out the strong bill Tuesday if the committee meets.

"This only means the administration is trying to substitute its judgment for ours," said one of the group. "We're not going to let them do it."

Record Hit at Pontiac for Period

Pontiac Motor Division continues to shatter new model sales records as the entire auto industry reports increased October sales.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, today said 50,861 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold in the first 20 days of the month, a 17 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Pontiac sales in the 10 days ending Monday, were 18,387, an all-time high.

Chevrolet Division announced 10-day sales of 59,622 cars and 12,618 trucks, an increase over this time last year but about 5,000 auto units less than the 1961 record.

CHRYSLER SALES UP

Chrysler Corp. reported 25,506 car sales for the mid-October period, up 14 per cent from last year. Dodges accounted for 10,659 sales, while 14,847 were Plymouths and Chryslers, up 9 per cent.

Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. said mid-month sales hit a new high of 47,322.

American Motors Corp. reported 13,132 car sales during Oct. 11-20, capping a 20-day record peak of 28,902.

County Treasurer Stricken at Office

County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital this morning when he appeared to be suffering a heart attack at his office.

His physician, Dr. Clifford T. Ekelund said the 71-year-old Sparks "possibly had a slight heart attack." His condition was described as satisfactory by the doctor.

Sparks, who has been referred to as "the iron man" of elected county officials here, was admitted to the hospital for further tests and treatment.

He suffered a heart attack about three years ago, according to Dr. Ekelund.

Rates Hobble Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has cleared the way for sale of 1.2 million bushels of corn to Communist Hungary. But the larger issue of wheat sales to the Soviet bloc remains confused.

Cabinet officers huddled Wednesday with a Soviet trade delegation and failed to iron out the chief obstacle to completion of the wheat deal—the higher shipping rates charged by American ship owners.

There is a growing feeling here that the problem can be resolved only by a White House decision, not through negotiation.

The corn sale to Hungary was resolved smoothly because corn and other grains are exempted from the condition that wheat sold to the Soviet bloc must be carried in American ships where available.

The Commerce Department Wednesday approved the $1,929,384-shipment by issuing a license for its export, and a spokesman for Cargill, Inc., big Minneapolis grain processing and shipping firm, said the corn will be shipped soon, probably from an East Coast port.

Involved are 30,000 long tons of corn—about one-third the amount the Communists are expected to buy and a mere trickle when compared to the $250-million worth of wheat whose sale now appears clouded.

In giving advance approval of grain sales to the Soviet bloc President Kennedy stipulated that shipments be made on American ships when they were available. Last Friday the Commerce Department exempted grains other than wheat from the requirement.

Soviet officials are balking at the higher rates charged by American shippers—about 20 to 30 cents a bushel higher than foreign rates. This led to Wednesday's luncheon at the State Department, although the United States had advised Moscow that the wheat deal ceased being a government matter once Kennedy had cleared the way for the sales.

ATTEND SESSION

The session was attended on the American side by George W. Ball, undersecretary of state, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. A four-man trade delegation headed by Sergei A. Borisov, first Soviet deputy minister of foreign trade, represented the Soviet Union.

Detroit News Shut by Strike 4th Day

DETROIT (AP)—A labor dispute held back publication of The Detroit News for a fourth straight day today.

Meanwhile, the pressman's union, at an impasse with management, sought intervention from federal and state mediators. It was not determined immediately whether they would intervene.

The request for mediation followed a 5 a.m. closed meeting of Local 13 which voted against a return to work. The pressmen showed up at work stations afterward but did not turn the presses.

Police Awaiting Arson Report in Bedell's Blast

Bloomfield Township police were awaiting an arson report today from the Michigan State Police crime laboratory in the bombing last week of Bedell's Restaurant, 2395 Woodward.

Police expected a report late this week or early next week on the four bags of rubble sent to the state crime laboratory.

A hole was ripped in the front wall of the Bloomfield Township restaurant when a bomb — equal to five sticks of dynamite — exploded early Wednesday morning last week.

A janitor was the only person in the building at the time of the explosion. He was not injured.

With the hole patched up and repairs started, the restaurant was open for business the day after the explosion.

B'nai Israel Rabbi Heads Trial Board

Rabbi Israel Goodman of Congregation B'nai Israel has been elected chairman of the Pontiac Police Trial Board.

Rabbi Goodman, a member of the board for five years, succeeds Malcolm Kahn, who resigned the post when he moved out of the city.

Named vice chairman was Herbert C. Donaldson. Warren Fowler was re-elected secretary of the seven-member board.

TITAN DISMANTLED — Workmen at Cape Canaveral yesterday dismantled a Titan II rocket on the launching pad to protect it from possible high winds from Hurricane Ginny, churning 105 miles off shore. Ginny intensified slightly today, and forecasters said she would likely go inland after midnight somewhere on the Georgia coast.

Plane Crashes on Mission

4 GIs Die in Viet Crash

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane crashed and burned today about 65 miles south of Saigon, apparently killing all four American crewmen and four Vietnamese airmen aboard.

It was the second major air accident in little more than two weeks involving Americans in South Viet Nam. On Oct. 7 two U.S. Marine Corps helicopters crashed north of Saigon, killing 12 Americans.

The transport plane, a C123, was taking part in a flare drop mission in Vinh Binh Province in the Mekong River delta area, American military spokesmen said.

It carried two American officers and two enlisted airmen as well as four Vietnamese. The spokesmen said search parties on the ground had reached the wreckage and found it scattered over a wide area with no evidence of survivors.

Investigation is under way, spokesmen said, but so far no reason has been learned. They said the plane had been assigned to support 9th Division operations in the delta.

The division only recently had been moved from the north into the Delta, now the scene of the sharpest fighting against the Communist Viet Cong.

If all four Americans aboard the plane are dead, it will bring to 134 the number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

Firm Cited on Contract

"The contract is covered by a performance bond and as of Nov. 1, completion of the intersections will be turned over to the bonding company."

Meanwhile Oak continued work on the perimeter road.

ALTERNATIVES

Wills and city engineers said the bonding company would either put a management team on the job, with Oak continuing to work, or hire a new force to finish intersections using equipment already on the construction sites.

Wills said that construction crews began final paving operations at the West Huron-Cass intersection yesterday and "it should be open to traffic in about 10 days."

City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling said today that he wasn't sure, if the perimeter road would be paved from South Saginaw to Oakland this year, as previously hoped.

'NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC'

"My current appraisal is not too optimistic, judging from events of the last two days," Neipling said.

"However, we are still all ready to go on a temporary culvert and paving over the Clinton River north of East Huron if it appears that section can be paved before winter."

Earlier yesterday, Reineck had threatened to stop work on East Pike, order city forces to backfill the excavation there and make Oak post a $5,000 bond to cover work done by the city to make the detour safe.

Today, Reineck said contractors were backfilling and widening the detour.

"The situation is much better now and I won't order work stopped if it continues this way," the assistant city manager said.

Pontiac's central fire station is less than a block from the site and East Pike is a major fire route.

Yesterday's meeting was held to work out a means to solve current problems and improve coordination of construction jobs which affect traffic movement in the downtown area.

Iranian Floods Kill 30

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Flash floods in the wake of heavy rains killed 30 persons and injured 33 more yesterday and today near Kermanshan in western Iran, officials reported.

Two Injured as Car Rams Stone Wall

Two young men whose sports car crashed into a stone wall in Bloomfield Hills early this morning were reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital this afternoon.

James W. Landry, 21, of 775 N. Woodward, Bloomfield Hills is being treated for fractures of both ankles, a broken jaw and facial cuts.

Landry, the owner of the car, was driving. He is reportedly no relation to Pontiac's Mayor Robert Landry.

BROKEN LEG

The passenger, 19-year-old Richard Prusinowski of Royal Oak, suffered a fractured right leg, broken jaw and facial cuts.

Bloomfield Hills police said Landry failed to make a curve on Cranbrook about 500 feet north of Lone Pine.

The small auto swerved up on the sidewalk, back onto the road and across Lone Pine before it smashed into the wall, according to police.

Unionist Urges Faith in U. N.

A Pontiac union offical urged local officials, civic and school leaders "to demonstrate ... faith in the United Nations" today.

Andy Wilson, president of GMC Truck & Coach Local 594, UAW, and chairman of the Pontiac U.N. Day committee, said the United Nations needs the moral support of every American.

The U.N. was founded in June 1945. Representatives, jurists and political leaders from 50 nations originated the U.N.

Today, Wilson said, the U.N. represents 110 nations and it has faced many crisis.

It has prevented war and halted aggression in the Middle East, Suez, Lebanon and many other areas.

He said the U.N. has three objectives in addition to maintaining world peace. These are:

(1) Develop friendly relations among nations.

(2) Cooperate in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural or humanitarian character.

(3) And attaining these goals.

Romney Denies Bid for Swainson Help

Thayer replied," according to Pearson.

Pearson said Thayer asked Swainson to get Romney's program passed by the legislature and that, in return, Swainson asked only that the Republicans agree that all tax bills be voted out of the Senate Taxation Committee, where they had been stalled.

Swainson, Pearson claimed, agreed to use his influence with Sen. Charles S. Blondy, Senate Democratic leader from Detroit and a member of the tax committee, to get Romney's program out of committee.

Top County Post Eyed

would be raised from $14,500 to $20,000 annually to reimburse him for the bigger job.

Levinson said the added responsibilities being proposed will be spelled out in detail at Monday's meeting.

Support of the committee chairmen is sought in an effort to have the proposal approved by the full board of supervisors early next month.

Action on the proposal was deferred at the last meeting of the board when it became apparent the issue would fail for lack of information.

METHOD CRITICIZED

Since then, many supervisors have criticized the ways and means and salaries committees for supposedly trying to railroad the issue through.

The chairmanship of the board of auditors will become vacant Jan. 1, the same day longtime board member Robert Moore plans to retire.

The two committees have pegged Murphy to succeed Moore. He then would be appointed chairman and thus chief county administrator to complete the plan.

Robert Lilly, secretary-member of the board of auditors, has also announced his candidacy for the chairmanship.

THIRD MEMBER

John Austin, third member of the board of auditors, has announced he is not a candidate for reappointment.

He will, however, remain a member of the board at least until his term ends in 1965.

Austin said he wishes to step down from the chair so that a younger man might take the post.

Since then, several supervisors have started a countermovement. They are proposing that a separate job of chief county administrator be established.

Huntington Woods Supervisor Fred Yockey introduced the idea at a meeting Friday of the same group scheduled to gather Monday.

JOB CANDIDATE

He reportedly is a candidate for the job if it is made separate from the board of auditors.

Board of auditors members traditionally are the county's chief administrators. They exercise this authority through control of the budget.

This control has been passed on largely to the ways and means committee during recent years.

Levinson said the present situation has resulted from a "laxity on the part of the board of auditors."

CORRECT SITUATION

Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller said if there is any laxity, it is up to the board of supervisors to correct the situation.

This is why Murphy has been pegged for the job, according to Levinson.

He said he doesn't believe one member of the board of auditors should be paid more than the other two. "This will only create more conflict," he said.

ADVANTAGE CITED

Oak Park Supervisor Abraham Brickner said the supervisors would have the advantage of being able to fire a separate chief administrator at any time a majority felt it was necessary. Auditors are appointed for three-year terms.

The chairman of the board of auditors is then appointed from among the three members for a one-year term.

Teacher Drive Goes On Despite Board's Rebuff

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education's refusal to endorse teacher tenure will have little effect on the current Michigan Education Association drive for a mandatory teacher-protection law.

Charles Lemke, president of MEA Region 7 and principal of the James B. Conant Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills, expressed this opinion today in discussing the decision the board made Tuesday.

"It will affect the campaign to the point that teachers will be discouraged to circulate petitions in school buildings," Lemke said. "This is not possible without endorsement — it would not be professional."

However, Lemke said he was not certain that petitions were being circulated in schools throughout the state. If they are not, Bloomfield Hills teachers will be at no disadvantage, he noted.

The board of education refused to endorse the statewide campaign when requested by members of the Bloomfield Hills Education Association.

In doing so, the board maintained its position on tenure, having denied requests in the past.

HAVE THE RIGHT

But board members told Robert Mehoke and Ted Cavin, BHEA representatives, that the teachers have every right to support the proposal and to attempt to gain backers for it.

"As citizens, the teachers have the right to circulate the petitions from house to house," Lemke said. "Any registered voter can sign or circulate the petitions."

Of the 299,910 signatures needed throughout the state, the quota for Bloomfield Hills is between 900-1,200.

Parking on a section of Hunter (U.S.-10) in Birmingham will be prohibited soon because parked cars are interfering with the vision of motorists approaching intersections, the State Highway Department said today.

No parking will be allowed on the east side of Hunter between a point 168 feet south of Ridgedale and the northern city limit and on the west side of Hunter between Maple and Woodward.

The restriction will become effective as soon as signs can be put up, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Henry T. Gierok

Requiem Mass for Henry T. Gierok, 55, of 465 Lone Pine will be 10 a.m. Saturday at the Holy Name Catholic Church, Southfield. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Bonds Denied in Rights Cases

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Georgia Supreme Court turned down a request for immediate freedom for four young civil rights demonstrators jailed since August at Americus, Ga., but set an earlier date to hear arguments in the case.

Attorneys for the youths had asked the court to allow bonds for three jailed on the capital charge of attempting to incite insurrection and to reduce the bond of a fourth.

Jailed on the insurrection law were John Perdew, 21, Denver Colo., Don Harris, 23, New York City, and Ralph Allen, 22, Melrose, Mass. The charge is punishable by death under an 1872 statute.

The fourth, Thomas McDaniel, 19, of Americus, was held on $12,000 bond on charges of unlawful assembly and assaulting an officer. Attorneys had tried to get his bond reduced to not more than $5,000.

Chief Justic W. H. Duckworth said the questions involved in the case were "so important this court cannot afford to make a decision until after a hearing and full consideration of such questions on the constitutionality of the Georgia statute involved."

Public and private grasslands in the United States which totaf 948 million acres, form the backbone of the nation's livestock feed supply.

Husband Killer Tries Suicide

DETROIT (UPI)—Mrs. Pauline Podolczak was in critical condition today after she attempted to take her own life when she beat her husband to death with a hammer.

Mrs. Podolczak told police she killed her husband when he threatened her with the hammer following a family argument. She then swallowed some disinfectant.

Police, despite the woman's statement, said they would investigate the possibility that Podolczak's death was a "mercy killing." He had been suffering from epilepsy for the last 40 years.

A Souvenir of Georgia

THOMASTON, Ga. (UPI)—Sheriff E. T. Bray is proud of his copper liquor still—it is in good enough condition to put on public display.

"We've tried for a long time to get a still that we could put up for display and let the public see what one looks like," he said Wednesday. Bray and state revenue agents found the still on a recent raid.

"It's a well-built still and looks like a model operation," Bray said. "I know it will run because it was running when we captured it."

Transportation of the Future

Prof Sees Tube as New Travel Form

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — One of these modern, modern days, a modern child may tell his modern mother he is leaving home for Kalbardino - Balkarsk — and get there in half an hour.

And travelers in San Francisco between Knob Hill and Chinatown would reach their destinations before Jack Robinson could swallow a soy bean. That is the prediction of Prof. J.V. Foa of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Foa, 54, chairman of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering and Aeronautics at RPI, is working—with an Army grant — on a new means of transportation in which a bullet-shaped vehicle propels itself at high velocity through a tube. He envisions travel ultimately at speeds up to 2,000 miles per hour.

"Land vehicles," he says, "must travel along narrowly defined paths. Unless the prescribed path is a straight line, a land vehicle travelling at high speed must be supported from all sides."

SAFETY FEATURES

And that kind of support, Foa says, is best provided within a tube, "because there are safety features that are intrinsic in the operation of a high-speed vehicle within a tube."

Foa says the finished working vehicle would be started by an internal combustion engine, an electric motor or a turbo jet engine. The vehicle would propel itself by the transfer from front to rear of the air or other fluid filling the remainder of the tube.

"In a normal vehicle," Foa explains, "energy losses are great because the vehicle is pushing the air adjacent to it. But in my proposed system, the air would move from the front to the back of the vehicle at such a rate that the rest of the air in the tube wouldn't move—thus all the energy involved would go toward operating the vehicle instead of moving the air."

AP Photofax

INNOVATION — Professor J. V. Foa of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., displays a model of his proposed new system of transportation — a bullet-shaped vehicle that propels itself at high velocity through a tube.

ARMY GRANT

Foa's project is being conducted under a three-year grant from the Army Research Office in Durham, N.C.

Design work has been started for a vehicle three feet in diameter to be tested at speeds as great as 250 M.P.H. in a three-mile long tube.

The proposed system, Foa says "would be best suited for operations at speeds of 250 to 2,000 M.P.H., over distances where the use of such speeds would be economically justifiable."

Engineering know-how about speeds to 350 m.p.h. is available, but utilization of the new system over long distances and at higher speeds would have to develop gradually, he says.

MAIL ROUTE

As a first step in implementation of the system, Foa suggests a mail-carrying line or a shuttle service for passengers between two cities not too far apart—Washington and Philadelphia, for example.

GM Lends Big Assist to Drive

Pontiac Area United Fund received a tremendous boost yesterday by the generous gift of $145,000 from the General Motors Corporation.

This brings the current campaign practically to the halfway mark. But the second half of any fund raising drive is always the hardest. The big contributors, both individual and corporate, are quick to respond as soon as the solicitation gets under way.

The over 4,000 volunteers that have pledged their services to personally conduct the door-to-door solicitation need YOUR HELP. They are now ringing the doorbells for your gift.

These generous workers are not asking for themselves, but rather for the 55 agencies which receive funds from this area drive. This group of unheralded workers is from all walks of life. Many are housewives and businessmen that are giving their time freely to assist in making this once-a-year campaign a financial success.

In order to achieve our goal everyone must do his or her part. There will be laggards, and, of course, a small group that say "this is not our responsibility."

No one can be coerced into giving. But EVERYONE owes a certain responsibility to his fellow man. There are very few who do not personally benefit from one of the United Fund agencies.

For these few that feel that they get nothing in return for their gift, how about thinking of your neighbor for a moment. Chances are one of 55 agencies fills an important niche someplace in their life.

The drive needs YOUR contribution.

Help the solicitors and donate your share in the area where you live and earn your living.

Britons Give Tongue a Home-land Twist

Over the ages, the English have evidenced many superiorities — national and individual.

Not the least of them are some pretty awesome linguistic coups.

Who else, for example, would pronounce as "darby" a word spelled d-e-r-b-y or "clark," when the third letter is "e"? Currently another phonetic classic has made headlines: It's the way the name of Britain's new prime minister gets pronounced. It goes in "HOME" and comes out "HUME."

Since the victor really came from behind to win the top government post, he was very much of a dark horse. In fact, old bean, it could be said he went out in front in the hume stretch.

His emergence as the Kingdom's boss man stirred up some little cabinet and party flap, and for a few days things were a bit sticky, don't y' know, on the hume front.

It looked as though HOME, who thought he was hume with the prime minister's job, might be scratched. The political heat generated by HOME-HUME's appointment suggested the lyrical treatment: Hume on the Range.

But pip-pip and toodle-oo.

Cheerio.

Rocking Chair Record May Start New Craze

GOP Uncertain of '64 Chances

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Republicans, particularly insiders, are talking a lot about the 1964 chances of their party and its would-be presidential candidates. It's all vague at this point and doesn't add up to much.

And no wonder, since New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, the two most eager candidates, haven't yet formally admitted they are.

Take the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Rep. William E. Miller of New York. He says no Republican candidate has the nomination locked up although Goldwater is ahead at the moment.

He adds that if Goldwater sweeps the state primaries "I hardly think the convention could deny him the nomination." You wouldn't have to be an expert or an insider to figure that out.

Tuesday, this writer listened for two hours to an extremely well-informed Republican source — who didn't want to be otherwise identified—and the total of all he had to say was pretty much one big "if."

WAS CONFIDENT

He was confident enough about the party's chances to say the one thing that could cost it the election would be a family fight.

But then, listing Republican complaints against President Kennedy's handling of domestic and foreign affairs, he conceded his party would be in a "hell of a mess" if the Russians pulled their troops out of Cuba just before the election.

The words symbol and vacuum are becoming part of Republicans' political jargon when they talk of Goldwater.

Last Sunday night on television, Sen. John G. Tower of Texas spoke of Goldwater as an ideological symbol "of the opposition to administration programs and policies."

HARD ON COMMUNISM

Either the well-informed source mentioned above had listened to Tower or thought of it himself for he called Goldwater a symbol, too, quoting people as saying "he says what he thinks—he is hard on communism."

He also said Goldwater is filling a vacuum in Republican politics—and that's one reason his stock is going up—because Rockefeller is the only other one actively looking for the nomination.

The word vacuum also popped up on television Sunday night when Rep. Staaley Tupper, a Maine Republican, said:

"There is a vacuum. Gov. Rockefeller's campaign has not started yet, and I think once it does you are going to find that the man Goldwater is going to be separated from the issues he has espoused over the years.

WHAT ABOUT NIXON?

What about former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's chances for the nomination?

The same source didn't rule out Nixon's chances but did say that, after the loss of the 1960 election, the former vice president would probably hurt his chances in 1964 if he took any overt action to seek the nomination.

Nor did this source think Nixon or former President Eisenhower would have much influence in picking next year's nominee, although there are probably some Republicans who would disagree with him about Eisenhower's influence.

Things Did Look Rosy!

David Lawrence Says:

Early Look at Budget Needed

WASHINGTON — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, has a simple suggestion which could clarify the question of whether the proposed tax reduction bill ought to be passed in time to take effect on Jan. 1, 1964, or be deferred.

LAWRENCE

The senator told this correspondent it would be only fair to all concerned for the President to let Congress have a look at the coming federal budget early in December instead of on Jan. 10.

This would give the American people and their representatives in Congress an opportunity to judge whether the tax cut is worth the risks entailed.

Mr. Byrd points out for instance, that only twice before in more than a hundred years have there been three consecutive years of deficits during peacetime and never before in American history a "planned" deficit as distinguished from a deficit arising from unforeseen circumstances.

The President's plan calls for at least five consecutive years of budget deficits.

Most disconcerting of all the factors involved, moreover, is the anticipated presence of $95 billion of unexpended balances as of June 30, 1964. At least $39 billion of this sum will not have been committed by contracts or loans or otherwise and payments could be deferred to later years.

COULD FIND

Certainly, argues Sen. Byrd, somewhere in that $95 billion the executive departments of the government could find enough cash to eliminate the deficit of $9 billion which is planned for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964.

As far back as March 27, Sen. Byrd said:

"Congress could rescind balances; and I think it should in many cases. It could enact an annual expenditure limitation on each appropriation account; I think it should, and Senate Concurrent Resolution 12, now pending before the rules committee, would provide for this."

Most members of Congress have no way of knowing now whether the expenditures for which the money was originally appropriated could, upon reexamination, be reduced. But Congress is entitled to the information.

UNEXPENDED BALANCES

Take, for instance, the fact that for the current fiscal year — which ends June 30 — Congress was asked for $4.9 billion for "foreign aid," though there already were available from previous years unexpended balances. Have not changing circumstances in the world affected the program?

There are plenty of other items which need renewed study in the light of changing circumstances. Economies can, of course, be made if Congress demands them, but if the government departments are permitted to pile up unexpended and unobligated balances from year to year, there is very little incentive to economize.

Meanwhile, the treasury keeps asking year after year for more appropriations, irrespective of what has been accumulating from previous years.

TO KNOW MORE

What the country needs to know is more about the status of government finances before a decision is reached concerning the proposed cut in taxes.

Sen. Byrd believes that the few dollars a year that will be given the average man in tax reduction may be an inconsequential gain, since the money the taxpayer has already put aside in savings could be substantially reduced in purchasing power if inflation comes.

This, Sen. Byrd thinks, will happen as a consequence of an unprecedented series of annual treasury deficits.

Bob Considine Says:

Apartment-Moving Day: Noah Did Much Better

NEW YORK — Man in an undertaker's suit rang the buzzer of our new apartment the other night and my wife went to the door.

CONSIDINE

"Did somebody die in here?" he asked cheerfully.

"Just a moment, I'll look around," she said. There were a few of us at the bar. She took a quick head-count, like any good Russian sentry along the road to West Berlin would, then reported back to the merry mortician that the apartment held no stiffs or, at least, 100 per cent stiffs.

He looked at his slip of paper and restudied the number of our apartment, dabbed in black paint on the unpapered wall near the door.

"Oops," he said. "Wrong apartment."

He took off down the littered hall and was nice enough not to add, "See you later."

The incident somehow fitted into the general pattern of moving into a freshly baked New York apartment. Noah managed things better, even among the cobras and the mongooses.

Management warned us in a mimeographed ukase some months ago that we must have our beds, tables, stuffed crocodiles and antimacassars bunched at the lip of the freight elevator of the new joint at 9:14 a.m. on a given day (Actually, they charged us for the day) — or else. Or else, presumably, they'd hit the moving van with a napalm bomb as it chugged up to the door five minutes later.

Well, sir, my wife made it, and alone. Soon as I learned the precise date of the move, I flew off sneakily to the Vietnamese front. "Chicken," my wife cabled.

A month later, I was back sure that everything had been moved and the new pad would be habitable.

HABITABLE?

Everybody was moved, true, but it's a question whether the place is habitable for human occupation. Moving into a new apartment in New York today is something like it must have been being born on the Wednesday of the first week in Genesis.

That ancient tool, the hammer, is having a fine comeback in our modernistic hutch. This honored mallet begins making itself heard at 7:30 each morn and is with us through the day.

Our walls are thin. Exactly how thin one hesitates to guess. But, to be on the safe side we're waiting for the family who rented the next door apartment to move in before we hang our pictures. And they hang theirs.

With a little cooperation we can share the intruding nail points.

That was O.K., but now since they put an island in the curve and took signs down we have lots of excitement every night, sometimes twice a night police cars, wreckers, ambulances and the works.

There are no signs telling people the road has been changed or there is a 90 degree curve or anything to this effect. So far we have never read in a paper about any accident which has happened on this curve. Why?

On the next street four girls were hospitalized for more than a week, which happened here on the curve and nothing was published on the accident.

It costs no more to run a city than it does to run a township unless you add services and departments. We will merely substitute a city commission for a township board, a mayor for a supervisor. We have a clerk and a treasurer and the buildings in which to conduct our business. We have a police department, fire department and water department.

As a city we will have an estimated budget of $456,000 for the maintenance, building and repair of our roads from gasoline and weight taxes. The state and county would still maintain their trunklines and we can do at least as good a job on our roads if not better.

We will not lose our state aid for school buses and the school system will not be affected in any way.

Europe Troop Cutback Question Isn't Whether, but How Soon

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question does not seem to be whether the United States will reduce its combat forces in Europe, but how soon it will be done.

The State Department is concerned over a recent speech by a top ranking Pentagon official which dealt, among other things, with "evolutionary changes" ahead for units deployed overseas. And it is anxious to get word out that no immediate troop reduction in Europe is planned.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to use the occasion of a visit to West Germany during the next few days to make a formal announcement. It will be aimed at calming alarm in West German government quarters, evidenced by a request for clarification on the speech of Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric in Chicago last Saturday.

In that speech, Gilpatric talked about change in the size and type of forces overseas which "lies ahead" and said the current test airlift of 16,000 troops to Europe demonstrates the capability to deploy military power far faster and longer than ever before.

Gilpatric and others have talked publicly and privately on several occasions about improved strategic deployment capabilities, with implications that economics and other factors were pointing to an eventual cut in forces abroad.

But the Saturday speech was almost on the eve of the dramatic Exercise Big Lift demonstration and test. It was followed closely by an Army announcement that atomic arms for ground forces in Europe and elsewhere overseas would be increased—something that suggested there was a way to maintain the same amount of defensive firepower with fewer men.

There are now five Army divisions and other units amounting to the strength of a sixth division deployed in West Germany. The total manpower of the U.S. ground forces there is about 250,000.

HAS INSISTED

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has insisted that no immediate cutback in combat strength in Europe is planned. But he also has decided that some of the noncombat strength can be brought home.

Although the Defense Department has kept secret any plans it has for an eventual trimming down of European combat strength, it is probable such plans exist.

It should be noted that the Pentagon now keeps current a five-year projected budget, prepared along with each annual budget. The projected budget contains general estimates of forces and equipment needed during each of the following five years. McNamara and his fiscal aides are now completing work on the fiscal 1965 budget request, a request which also includes programs extending through to 1970.

Money is directly related to overseas deployment.

COSTS MORE

Not only does it cost more to maintain a military unit overseas, but it costs more as measured in gold dollar expenditure. The imbalance of several billion dollars which has developed is mentioned by McNamara as one of the prime reasons for cutting down at least noncombat forces overseas.

U.S. dollars are spent abroad in two ways by the military; expenditures for supplies, utility services and similar service from the country in which troops are stationed and private spending of soldiers and their dependents.

Teacher Units Vie for Support

News Analysis

By GARY THORNE

Increasing competition between two teacher organizations is illustrated by the current statewide petition drive to get 300,000 signatures in support of teacher tenure.

The Michigan Education Association (MEA) has launched a petition campaign to pressure the legislature into passing a tenure act. The battle for teacher tenure, however, is part of a bigger war.

And the war may eventually extend to Pontiac and Oakland County school districts.

School teachers, and administrators in some instances, have one of two major organizations to represent their interests with their employers—school boards.

- First, the MEA, made up of teachers and administrators.
- Second, the Michigan Federation of Teachers (MFT) which consists largely of classroom teachers.

Both groups are affiliated with national and local organizations. The Pontiac Education Association, for example, is part of the MEA and also the National Education Association.

TIED TO AFL-CIO

The Pontiac Federation of Teachers, in turn, is affiliated with the MFT and the American Federation of Teachers, which is connected with the AFL-CIO.

The avowed purpose of both groups is to represent teachers. The MEA takes a professional approach, while the MFT is a union.

In recent years, the younger, more militant federation has made considerable inroads in the membership ranks of the association.

The education association has responded with a more aggressive stand. One such stand is the tenure drive. Another is professional negotiations.

ON AGENDA

The latter topic is slated to be discussed tonight when the PEA meets informally with Pontiac school board members.

School Board President William H. Anderson expected a majority of the board to attend the 6:30 p.m. meeting.

Anderson said the Pontiac school district has no set policy on dealing with employe groups, but the practice has been to meet with a joint committee from both organizations.

"One or two board members have met with representatives from both groups," he explained, "and we try to give them insight into board problems as well as listen to their views."

TWO-YEAR SCHEDULE

Pontiac teachers recently received a two-year salary schedule, he added. Hence, negotiations won't be held again until 1965.

Local school officials expect one or the other of the teacher groups to make a stab at obtaining sole bargaining rights.

The keen rivalry between the NEA and the AFT has prompted such requests in school districts across the country. Pontiac educators, however, expect this may take a year to develop.

Salary talks between teachers and school boards are viewed differently by the two organizations. The union urges an industrial collective bargaining situation.

Meantime, the teachers' association refers to it as professional negotiations. The negotiations frequently extend beyond simple wages, hours and working conditions.

The NEA aims for a hand in making policy in certain areas. In the past, school boards have fought this claiming that policy-making is best left to school boards and administrators.

Rivalry between the AFT and NEA is certain to cause some change within the Pontiac area school districts.

The MEA has opened the competition with a bid for a tenure act for the state's teachers. The deadline for 300,000 signatures is Nov. 22.

After the tenure petitions are presented to the legislature, the lawmakers have 40 days in which to act. If they fail to do so, the issue goes to the people for a vote.

The Pontiac affiliate of the MEA is pledged to secure 6,000 signatures, while region 7 (Oakland County) is responsible for 30,240.

3rd Party Gets Okay on Petitions

LANSING (AP)—The State Elections Office has approved the form of a petition to be circulated by a civil rights movement seeking to put a Negro third party on the ballot in November 1964.

The movement, known as the Michigan Committee for a "Freedom Now" party, plans to run Negro candidates for all state offices next year.

Robert Montgomery, director of elections, said the petition was submitted by Lamar Barron of Detroit, acting chairman of the committee.

Montgomery said establishment of a third party on the ballot requires petitions signed by at least 1 per cent and not more than 4 per cent of the total vote for the successful candidate for secretary of state in the last previous election.

This would require the "Freedom Now" party to gather at least 14,896 signatures, Montgomery said.

In addition, the petitions could not carry more than 35 per cent of their total signers from one county and would have to have signatures of registered voters from each of at least 10 counties.

Really Safe Match

A match introduced in 1882 was chemically treated to extinguish itself when the flame reached the midway point of the stick, thus preventing danger of burning fingers.

Stewed Prunes: Breakfast of Champions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Nothing is impossible in life to a man who has the character to eat stewed prunes every morning for breakfast.

BOYLE

But to me, the worst of all foods is mutton, sometimes known as lamb. I'd rather cat a pair of wool socks, flavored with ketchup. I dislike mutton so much that I refuse to count sheep when I have insomnia.

Nothing ruins optimism in a fellow more than the realization that there is no one on earth who will die and leave him money.

The reason a man loses his temper when his shoestring breaks is that he can't find anyone else to pin the blame on.

WORST ANYWHERE

The most discourteous teenagers in America dwell in New York City. Not one out of 10 school kids here will get up and yield his subway seat to an elderly man or woman.

Bowlers are usually bigger liars than fishermen, and if the Lord ever made an honest golfer, he must have taken him to heaven very young.

NEVER FORGET IT!

A bride never forgives a bridegroom who has to stifle a yawn during the wedding ceremony. He'll hear about it all the rest of his days.

The two greatest crosses the average wife has to bear in this world are a stingy husband and a tight girdle.

The time when the average woman is most interesting to listen to is when she's playing the piano.

Salesmen say fat men usually buy the most expensive shoes because they have the most foot troubles.

I feel sorry for a man who invariably wears a white shirt to work every day. To me, it's a sign that he lacks imagination—or is henpecked.

POOR, RICH BOYS

The people who enjoy poverty most are self-made millionaires. They never tire of recalling how much more fun they had when they were young and poor and struggling.

Nobody is more ignominious than a smalltime gambler in hock to a cheap bookie.

I never trust a man who looks forward with relish to serving on a jury. I suspect him of being a secret sadist.

Glasses Stay Same But Eyeballs Don't

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seven out of every 10 persons in the United States have defective vision, according to Auguts Nelson, executive secretary of the Better Vision Intitute.

Millions of persons are wearing the wrong glasses because their vision has changed since they last had their eyes examined professionally, he said.

Propaganda Campaign

Reds Protest Allied Patrols in E. Berlin

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING

BERLIN (UPI) — Interference with Western allied patrols in East Berlin may be the next Communist move to restrict Western rights here.

The East Germans have opened a propaganda campaign against the tours of East Berlin made many times daily by American, British and French military sedans.

The Western Allies consider the regular patrols a sign that all of Berlin is still under four-power rule. The Russians claim this rule no longer exists.

Significantly, the propaganda attacks have coincided with Russian harassment of Western Allied convoys on the highway to the West through East Germany.

Western officials think the propaganda campaign might be an end in itself, part of the effort to whip up anti-Western feeling in East Germany.

But they do not rule out the possibility that the campaign might be designed to lead to serious harassment of the patrols.

HAVE DIFFICULTY

The patrols have had difficulty from time to time since the Communist wall was built on the East-West Berlin border Aug. 13, 1961.

A few were stoned. Others were hemmed in by Eastern police cars and their passage blocked for a short time.

But in the last few weeks a concerted propaganda campaign against the patrols has been going on and this has been regarded by many in the West as a sign the Communists are planning to stir up new trouble.

Maj. Gen. Helmut Poppe, whom the East Germans call their East Berlin commandant — a title not recognized by the Western Allies — last week charged the Western allied soldiers were pulling down East German flags in East Berlin and engaging in other "gangster" actions.

The East German news service accused Western military vehicles of causing a long series of traffic accidents in East Berlin.

And almost daily the Communist Press publishes letters, said to be written by indignant East Berliners, denouncing the patrols.

REPEATED WORDS

The same phrases recur in all the letters, the most repeated being "Our patience is not unlimited" and "We will not continue to tolerate rowdies in the capital of the German Democratic Republic."

"The occupiers will act decently when they visit our capital and obey our laws and ordinances or we will have to greet them with appropriate measures," one letter in the Berliner Zeitung said.

In the Western view, Western allied soldiers have the right of free movement in East Berlin and are not "guests" when they go there, certainly not guests of the East German government which is not recognized by the West.

And any attempt to halt the patrols or seriously interfere with them would be sure to cause a grave international incident.

The military value of the patrols probably is negligible. They have nothing to do with the vital right of access to West Berlin. The highway on which convoys travel does not run through East Berlin but runs out of West Berlin directly into East Germany.

But under four-power post-war occupation agreements with the Russians the Western Allies have the right of free movement in East Berlin, considered the Soviet sector of the city.

School Case With Amish Faces Delay

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Prospects were today that it may be December before 11 Amish fathers at Camden will be brought to trial on charges of failing to send their children to state-approved schools.

The fathers already have been arraigned but their trial in Justice Court at Camden has been postponed indefinitely.

Hillsdale County Prosecutor James Parker said he was too busy with the opening of the County Circuit Court to try the case immediately. The court convenes Oct. 29, and a murder trial is scheduled to get under way Nov. 12.

Parker said today "The case will go to trial as soon as I can find time to handle it."

Earlier, Parker had appealed to the State Attorney General's office for help in the case, but he was turned down.

Funeral Service Set for Retired Admiral

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Funeral service was to be held today for retired Rear Adm. Irving Hall Mayfield, 78, one of the Navy's first submarine skippers, who died Tuesday of a heart ailment.

Mayfield was a World War II logistics expert. A 1907 graduate of the Naval Academy, he also served as inspector of machinery for submarines built during World War I.

'U.S. Could Send Man to Moon in Safety'

HONG KONG (AP) — Maj. Gen. Oliver K. Niess, American space expert, said that U.S. medical scientists now have sufficient knowledge of conditions in space to send a man to the moon in complete safety.

Niess said orbital flights and tests have demonstrated man's ability to exist in space. He is in charge of the Air Force medical team working on the U.S. space project.

Of Ecumenical Council

Racial Decision Is Urged

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A group of 147 U.S. Roman Catholic prelates urged the Vatican Ecumenical Council today to make a strong declaration on racial equality.

Bishop Robert E. Tracy of Baton Rouge, La., speaking for the American bishops and archbishops, proposed that a council document on the laity be amended "to emphasize the equality of all members" of the Roman Catholic Church.

Council press spokesmen paraphrased him as telling the 2,300 prelates in St. Peter's that "discrimination based solely on race can not be reconciled with our belief that God created all men equally."

MODERNIZE OFFICE

In another council action, the assembly voted approval of a document modernizing the divine office, the daily prayers every priest must read, and encouraging all Catholic laymen to take up the practice.

A third major development at the council was announcement of a decision for a showdown vote on whether the Virgin Mary should be discussed within a council schema on the Church as a whole, or in a separate schema devoted to her alone. Some council fathers have argued that a separate schema might give a distorted view of her role. The vote will be taken next week.

Legislature Candidate Offers Salary He'd Get

TRENTON, N. J. — Carlton E. Mason, Democratic candidate for the State Senate in Cape May County pledged to donate his $5,000 legislative salary to two hospitals if elected.

Senate Majority Leader Charles W. Sandman Jr., R-Cape May, who is Mason's opponent, commented: "It's easy to offer to give something away you're never going to get."

Brass buttons bearing the initials, G. W., were manufactured widely in the United States just after George Washington's inauguration. Some still exist.

"Why don't you go to Osmun's?"

But once in a while (when asked) he has a few things to say on his own. Not all gems maybe — but usually interesting. Take Osmun's for instance.

Why does he recommend going there?

He knows the importance of being served well. He knows what a difference good brands can make (like 'Botany' 500). And he knows there's no substitute for ageing. (Osmun's has been mellowing for over 32 years.) In short, he knows Osmun's . . . and likes it.

Which brings us to you.

Isn't it time you discovered there's more to buying a shirt or a suit than just buying a shirt or a suit? We'd love to show you that whether it's your own tailored charge plan or the free alterations or the no-push atmosphere . . . Osmun's is your kind of store.

Bar none.

Why don't you go to Osmun's for: Famous 'BOTANY' 500 SUITS, OUTERCOATS, SPORT COATS, superbly tailored by DAROFF. See our just-arrived collection in the great new Fall colorings. It's one of the biggest in all Michigan.

Police Quell Dominican Junta Foes

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Police used clubs, guns and tear gas here yesterday to break up demonstrations hostile to the civilian junta installed by the generals who ousted President Juan Bosch a month ago.

One youth was shot and wounded, another was slugged with a pistol butt, and a number of persons overcome by tear gas were hospitalized. At least 10 persons were arrested, including one girl who was released later.

The "state of siege" forbidding public gatherings has been lifted, but an order published yesterday requires that police be notified two days in advance of political meetings planned here and three days in advance of rallies scheduled in the provinces.

Three antigovernment demonstrations, involving high school or college students for the most part, were reported here yesterday. One protested last month's coup, another opposed yesterday's police order, and the third supported Juan Casasnovas Garrido's claim to the presidency.

Explosion in Mine Kills Two Workers

BESSEMER, Mich. (UPI) — A mine explosion 3,500 feet underground killed two miners here yesterday.

John Re, 45, Montreal, Wis., and Leslie Ahonen, 36, Wakefield, Mich., were operating a drilling machine, according to officials of the Pickens-Mather Mining Co., when the drill touched off a charge that had failed to detonate.

The victims were working in the Peterson Mine's 29th level when the dynamite charge exploded.

Gold mining in South Africa has reached depths of 9,000 feet below the earth's surface, believed to be something of a record.

Kelley Plans Parley on Law Enforcement

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley will sponsor an all-day law enforcement conference on the campus of Northern Michigan University today.

The conference is expected to draw law enforcement officials from all over the Upper Peninsula.

Panther . . . ? Feline Flop!

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — An excited report from a woman yesterday that a black panther was prowling around sent police into immediate action.

Several vehicles and an officer armed with a rifle were sent to the scene. The hunters froze when a black animal was sighted in the brush. They braced for an attack when it moved.

Out of the brush strolled a nonchalant black house cat.

COMMON AIM — This group of photography writers went down to the sea to see and test the Movexoom camera loaded with new Agfachrome film. Standing on New York harbor, all are aiming their cameras at a departing liner.

AP Newsfeatures

Several new items in the photo market got off the beaten path to announce their presence recently.

Secondly, a new accessory in the slide projector field gets into the invisible ultrasonic world to accomplish slide projector magic.

More than a score of photographic writers gathered aboard a private yacht for a short cruise in New York Harbor to field test Agfa's new 8mm movie film and trio of 8mm movie cameras.

BEAUTIFUL DAY

It was a beautiful fall day except for the atmospheric haze which became especially noticeable when lining up distance shots.

Action was supplied unexpectedly when the liner United States nosed out of her pier and slid majestically down the harbor to the ocean.

The Schneider Variogen f-1.8 zoom lens showed a bright reflex image with fingertip control of the view from 9mm to 30mm. We relied on automatic exposure operation but manual control is available for difficult lighting situations.

The viewfinder reveals the lens opening while shooting and it also shows a visual battery check signal.

For more refinements, there is a Movex Reflex Zoom camera. This has the f-1.8 lens with a five-time zoom ratio from 7.5 to 37.5mm.

SPRING DRIVE

A unique spring drive will run off a full 25 feet, or more, of film before rewinding is necessary. An easy loading cassette holds the film; a quick turnover makes the second half of a film instantly available.

A carry-all kit also contains an accessory lens focusing from 7½ inches to infinity for titling or extreme closeups.

The third camera in the line is a simplified Movex Automatic II with an f-1.9 lens.

It will be processed in the U.S. in their new Flushing, N. Y., color lab. Our first results were quite satisfactory in camera and film performance.

The magic accessory in slide showmanship is the Grafsonic, a cordless remote control device introduced by Graflex.

MOVE FREELY

With it, the person putting on a slide or filmstrip show can move freely about, within 40 feet from the projector and yet control exactly when the next slide is to fall into place.

He does it with a pushbutton transmitter about the size of a match box, held in his hand.

The ultrasonic signal is received by a receiver control unit which is plugged into the remote control outlet of a projector.

In some cases it is attached directly; in other cases a special adapter cord will make it usable on most popular projector models. A standard 22.5 volt battery provides the operating power for the receiver-unit.

It is believed that nickel was the first alloying element used in steel castings. This was in 1896 when the first nickel steel-mill rolls were cast.

Top Navy Scholars Start New Program

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Six Naval Academy midshipmen have been freed of regular classroom work this year to concentrate on research and studies of their own choosing.

They are known as "Trident scholars."

Hand-picked for the program from the upper 10 per cent of their class were:

Bobby Joe Haynes of Watauga, Tenn., who will study chemical characteristics of a heretofore unreported salt compound.

Jeffrey V. Wilson of Kansas City, Kan., studying concepts of fire control in laser or energy-beam weaponry.

Leon P. Brooks Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla., who will do research on radiation effects on transistors.

Melville H. Lyman III of Glen Ridge, N.J., who will conduct research on applied navigation.

PROGRAM GREW

The program grew out of a visit to Yale University last spring by Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, academy superintendent, and Capt. Robert W. McNitt, secretary to the academic board.

Kirkpatrick was impressed with Yale's "Scholar of the House" program and decided to try something similar at the Naval Academy.

Each of the Trident scholars works under guidance of a faculty adviser. The program is under supervision of a standing committee from the faculty. A project report or thesis is required of each scholar at the end of the year.

The midshipmen, all seniors, must participate in regular brigade activities except for time they would normally devote to classes. All chose to carry some regular classroom work, from 9 to 12 hours, in addition to their special studies.

3 ARE OFFICERS

Three of the scholars are officers in the brigade of midshipmen. Graham is brigade administrative officer. Haynes is a battalion commander. Plott is a battalion subcommander.

McNitt says the emphasis was on choosing men of over-all ability, as well as scholarship quality.

Dixie GOP Chief Sees Party Gains

DALTON, Ga. (AP) — A Republican won a special election to fill a State Senate vacancy, and the GOP state chairman hailed the result as "an indication that Republican gains in the South really are basic."

R. S. Thomas, a carpet mill employe, led Democrat James Phillips, a lawyer, by nearly 600 votes out of the approximately 6,000 cast Wednesday. They are seeking the Senate seat vacated by Charles Pannell, a Democrat who recently was appointed to the Georgia Court of Appeals.

State GOP Chairman James Dorsey said in Atlanta that the election outcome reflected organization and local support for party efforts.

Traffic Probe Unveils Alcohol Wreck Factor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A White House study committee said yesterday there was evidence that drinking was a factor in up to half of the nation's 40,000 annual traffic fatalities.

The President's Traffic Committee recommended more research on the cause of traffic accidents in a report presented to President Kennedy by William Randolph Hearst Jr., chairman of the group and editor-in-chief of the Hearst Newspapers.

European Writer Dies

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Hans Natonek, 71, European journalist, novelist and poet, died Wednesday after a long illness.

China, Afghanistan Okay Border Treaty

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China and Afghanistan have approved the draft of a border treaty, Peking Radio reported today.

The broadcast gave no further details, but the treaty probably related to a narrow strip of Afghan territory that touches the border of Red China's Sinkiang Province.

Politically Naive, but Intelligent and Fearless

Mme. Nhu Comes for Tea and Stirs Up Old Injuries

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Tempestuous Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu came for tea and sympathy. She took the former with a little milk and the latter with a grain of salt.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Clearly the beauteous first lady of South Viet Nam considers herself an exceedingly misunderstood woman — and she probably is.

During the nearly two hours that Mme. Nhu, her exquisite 17-year-old daughter, Le Thuy, Marguerite Higgins and I sipped tea together in splendid isolation, her quicksilver moods ran the gamut from fiery anger to little-girl hurt.

The anger was reserved for the Kennedy administration which has flouted all rules of diplomatic courtesy by its public snub of the first lady of an allied government, who is also a member of its Parliament.

Her hurt stems from the equal snubbing administered by her father and mother, who resigned as Vietnamese ambassador and U.N. observers respectively, and have refused to see her.

What manner of woman is this diminuitive, Oriental typhoon whose tongue has the perpetual motion of a whirling dervish? How much influence does she wield with her powerful husband and his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem? What makes her tick?

SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCE

Although she has been publicly compared with China's equally indomitable Mme. Chiang Kai-shek because of her beauty, courage and driving ambition to "help" her country, there is a significant difference.

Mme. Chiang, having been educated at an American college, understands something of our Western psychology. Mme. Nhu does not. Further, she suffers acute language difficulties, leading to an often unfortunate choice of words.

We tried earnestly to point out to her the mistakes in her approach to American audiences. We suggested milder synonyms for such inflammatory words as "liar" and "coward."

We urged her to express more frequent appreciation for the $1.5-million-a-day aid that Americans are pouring into Viet Nams' war effort, but she could not really grasp our point.

Her daughter shyly said, "I agree with you," but Mme. Nhu said proudly: "They would think I am begging. Why should I beg?"

Her patience with the Kennedy administration is clearly exhausted, and like a wounded child who strikes out blindly at the cause of its hurt, she said: "I telephoned my husband last night and told him, 'Let's break off diplomatic relations with America, and just take their military aid.'"

NO ANSWER

Trying to smother my laughter at the naivete of her remark, I asked for her husband's reaction to the suggestion. "He didn't answer me," she shrugged. Fortunately, her husband and his presidential brother are more attuned than Mme. Nhu to the hard realities of statecraft.

Quite obviously, also, she has little political influence over the two men whom she has accused our government of trying to overthrow.

Petulant and politically naive she is, but she is also fearless and intelligent. Insisting that Communists are using Buddhists in an attempt to discredit the Diem regime, she said: "If we are really persecuting the Buddhists, then why did Professor Buu Hoi accept appointment as our permanent observer to the United Nations?"

It was a good question. The world's foremost expert on leprosy has just arrived to replace Mme. Nhu's mother at the U.N., despite the fact that his own mother, Dieu Hue, is a Buddhist nun who threatened to burn herself to death in protest against Diem's alleged repression of Buddhists.

If conditions are really that bad, why would Viet Nam's foremost scientist, himself a Buddhist, agree to serve Diem?

Mme. Nhu is understandably bitter about her snubbing by the Kennedy administration. After Robert Kennedy was received courteously by her government last year in Saigon, and their positions are somewhat parallel.

Bobby is a member of the Cabinet, and the President's brother. She is a member of parliament, and the Vietnamese president's sister-in-law. Both visits were equally unofficial.

WHY HUMILIATION

Would it perhaps have been wiser for the administration to have sent a car and protocol officer to meet Mme. Nhu's plane?

Do we accomplish anything by humilitating a highly placed foreign visitor whose countrymen and ours are dying together on the same battlefield, in common defense against communism?

Mme. Nhu is being swamped by telephone calls from Franciscan monks, Jesuit priests and Protestant ministers who don't think so.

The very fact of the unprecedented snub is inadvertently helping her cause — which is to win sympathy and support for her husband's ruling family.

It is true that Mme. Nhu lacks tact and humility, but what of some of our own officials?

Deeply resentful, Mme. Nhu's black eyes snapped as she demanded: "Why should your government officials advise me not to come here and speak, when I only want to tell the truth? Why don't they want you to hear the truth?"

I asked Le Thuy what she thinks her mother should do during the last week of her stay, and the junior miss replied gravely: "I think mother must be frank, but I think she should only talk to the press and groups like that. I don't think she should be wearing out her strength talking to the colleges."

Both women yearn to see Mme. Nhu's father and mother, whom they feel have been adversely influenced against them by press reports. "If only I could explain myself to them. . ." Mme. Nhu sighed.

And what of her allegations that our Central Intelligence Agency tried to promote a coup d'etat against President Diem? A proud smile flitted across her scarlet lips, but her eyes burned fire as she replied?

"It is true, but they were wasting their time. After all, my husband has the youth with him, and I have the women. How could a coup accomplish anything?"

Then He Slipped Away

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Two Nigerian policewomen said today they were trapped and assaulted by a man they were sent to arrest. They said he put soap in their mouths to keep them from screaming.

About four-fifths of Canada's residents are native-born citizens.

Committee Will Fight Rowdyism

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — An antidelinquency steering committee was formed here yesterday after a physician complained that narcotics were causing an outbreak of teen-age rowdyism.

Court officials, law enforcement agencies, school officials and other community leaders called the meeting after rowdiness marred a recent Mount Clemens football game.

"The use of narcotics in this city is far more common by both races than we believe it to be", Dr. Lewis Rickman, head of the Mount Clemens chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People told the gathering.

Police Chief Philip Oakey confirmed narcotics, primarily marijuana, is being brought into Mount Clemens. He said his force is investigating.

County Sports Many Unusual Mailboxes

PHOTO-STORY
By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Ever wonder what kind of people live behind the hundreds of unusual mailboxes that dot rural Oakland County?

More often than not these individuals are creative and have a tremendous sense of humor.

Ask the mailman who pushes magazines, letters, cards and bills into all sorts of odd boxes.

WRITE A BOOK

He could probably write a book on what he sees along the roadside, and invariably these "different" mailboxes are more accessible than the conventional type sitting on posts.

For instance, the most commonly seen is the welded chain-link mailboxes. Some are shaped like iron serpents twisting upward, and others just seem to be reaching out toward the roadway.

Old pumps made into mailbox bases also are popular, and while some were in use 15 years ago, others go back to the early 1900's—elaborate, and individualistic.

However, all mailboxes, no matter what their shape or size, must meet United States Postal regulations, according to Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson.

They must be the right distance from the road and the right height, to keep from slowing down deliveries, he explained.

SHEER NECESSITY

There's probably a story behind the reason for people having unusual mailboxes, but Hans Erting's old barn mailbox was made out of sheer necessity.

When the Ertings moved out to their home on Orchard Lake 14 years ago, the roads were muddy, gutted and almost inaccessible. The mail carriers complained that they couldn't get to the house to deliver packages.

So the ingenious country gentleman designed and built a miniature barn, one of the largest mailboxes in the area, to accommodate the mail.

In order that passing motorists would not knock down his brain - child, Erting installed three little warning lights.

It's made of aluminum and has time-weathered brass numerals and lettering.

ANCHOR CHAIN

Then there's the J. J. Garsteckis of 26656 Carol Lane in Franklin, with their welded chain-link mailbox. The unique base was once part of a heavy anchor chain on a boat sailing the Great Lakes.

Originator of the chain base, Lloyd Earp, said he wouldn't attempt to make another chain base like the Garsteckis, for less than $50.

It took plenty of time and patience for the welder to put those chains together and cement them down in the ground.

One day when Leonard Damphouse of 6351 Alden Drive, Union Lake was wandering around his neighbor's backyard, he came upon an old rusted water pump—the kind used 60 years ago.

His neighbor was glad to get the "monstrosity" out of the way, and promptly helped Damphouse take it home.

Today, the old pump stands as a useful thing of beauty. After a good sanding job, a bright coat of paint and a little pipe work, the pump handle reaches out holding a turquoise mailbox in the back and a brilliant matching milkpail with flowers in the front.

Take a drive through Lake Sherwood near Milford, and every mailbox on Driftwood or Triwood has a driftwood base.

It all began years ago, when originator of Lake Sherwood, James Cole, collected driftwood as a hobby.

Soon, his big empty haybarn was filled with driftwood collected from all over the country. So that's where all the residents acquired their unique and decorative mailbox bases.

American Well Treated in Red Prison; Now a Nervous Wreck

BERLIN (AP) — American student Robert Mann said today he was physically well treated while jailed for 21 months in Communist East Germany. But, he said, the experience had left him a nervous wreck.

Mann, 20, from Sepulveda, Calif., told a news conference he was jailed on a charge of "luring away" East German citizens.

When he appeared before reporters in the U.S. mission in West Berlin, he was very pale and obviously nervous.

He spoke haltingly and his English was stumbling, as if spoken by a German. He frequently turned to a U.S. official to ask for the translation of a German word into English.

Mann was released by the Red regime yesterday. He said he stayed last night in a private home in West Berlin.

"I'm glad to be back, but one of the most important things for me now is the process of making a transition," he said. "I am nervous and I still have difficulty speaking English."

Mann was sentenced to 21 months imprisonment after a secret trial in East Berlin July 14, 1962, on charges of trying to help an East German escape to the West.

Informed sources said he was accused of trying to supply false identity papers to a young East Berliner. The fate of the German has not been disclosed.

The court counted the six months Mann spent in jail awaiting trial against his sentence. His term ended yesterday.

Manned Flight Tests Under New Director

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Walter C. Williams, former director of Project Mercury, has been named operations director for all manned flight missions.

The announcement was made yesterday by George E. Mueller, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). He said all NASA, defense and other teams would report to Williams.

Asks for Financial Aid

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI)—Kadiri Olupo, a 41-year-old garbage cleaner, came weeping to the newspaper Morning Post yesterday and begged for money to help support his newborn quadruplet children.

"I'm old," Olupo said, "and there is no magic to charm my life so that I can live long enough to help these innocent children." He said he earns eight pounds ($22.40) a month.

In its war for independence from Mexico, Texas used a naval force consisting of four small vessels.

County Home Rule a Local Decision; State Sets Tax Limit

By DICK HANSON

How high a tax rate should home rule counties be allowed to set by charter?

This would be considerably higher than the present 15-mill limitation.

This becomes especially true when considering that the present millage is shared by schools, townships and county government. County government received 5.25 mills as its share this year.

STATE'S ANSWER

The answer to how high the tax rate can go is expected to come from the State Legislature as an integral part of a new act to make county home rule possible.

While the new State Constitution provides for county home rule, it leaves it to the legislature to set the limitations. These would include a ceiling on county tax rates.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is striving to have home rule legislation passed during next year's regular session.

Home rule is being sought so that the county government can make its own decisions in matters of local administration instead of having to approach the legislature each time.

WEAKER GOVERNMENT

The latter method, as it applies now, is blamed for weakening local administration of government at the county level.

If a home rule act is passed in Lansing, it still will be up to county voters to decide if they want home rule here.

The voters first would be able to elect a commission to draft a proposed home rule charter.

As one of its provisions, the charter would state what taxes the county would be able to levy on property without a further vote of the people, and within the limitations of the state act.

VOTER DECISION

Then county voters would go to the polls to either accept or reject the proposed charter in its entirety, including a tax ceiling.

The County Board of Supervisors Legislative Committee currently is working on the draft of a proposed home rule enabling act.

When completed, the supervisors will submit their proposed law to the State Legislature for consideration.

As one of its provisions, committee members are recommending a 20-mill limitation for home rule counties.

This would be the ultimate taxing power that could be given any county under home rule government.

The charter would still enable the people to vote for additional tax levies for specific purposes not covered in the charter. But these would require special elections.

County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen, who prepared the working draft for the committee, said, "The financial aspects remain nebulous and premature."

He explained that the county's final recommendation to the legislature will depend largely on what it does to Gov. George Romnay's fiscal reform program in the meantime.

HE'LL KEEP GOING — George Gloss, 46, owner of the Brattle Book Shop in Boston, Mass., carries books from his burned-out store, which has been in operation for 138 years. A half-million dollar fire Tuesday destroyed an estimated 300,000 volumes.

Higher Rate of Radiation

Fallout Intake Worries Norse Scientist

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK—A sample of the hair of a 9-month-old baby and of the blood of a 24-year-old adult both contained considerably more radioactive carbon than was normal for human beings before hydrogen bombs were exploded in the atmosphere.

The hair sample was taken only a year ago and the blood sample only last month. From these and other calculations, a Norse scientist, Reidar Nydal, demonstrated this radioactive carbon "made" by bomb explosions is going into people at an ever-increasing rate.

Even if there are no further atmospheric bomb tests, it will be three or four years before the sharp rate of increase will level off. At that time the amount in people will be two to three times the normal, especially the people of the Northern Hemisphere.

Nydal's mathematics were an indirect explanation of why the Swedes awarded a Nobel Peace Prize to the American chemist, Dr. Linus C. Pauling. Scandinavia has gotten its full share of radioactive "fallout" from bombs and has been deeply worried about it. Pauling led a worldwide campaign to abolish atmospheric testing which was crowned by the recent treaty.

Nydal works at the Norwegian Institute of Technology in Trondheim. He was concerned with perhaps the most potentially vicious of fallout particles. That is the radioactive isotope, carbon 14.

It has a half life of over 5,000 years, which is one part of its danger. The other part is that carbon enters into all living processes, from the lowest to the highest.

WAS LIMITED

Before there were atomic bombs the only source of carbon 14 was in the neutrons released in the atmosphere by cosmic rays which combined with superabundant nitrogen atoms.

The supply was limited and relatively small. Nevertheless, carbon 14 entered into all the chemistry of life, and science now "dates" organic materials thousands of years old by their persisting radiation.

Nydal calculated that the neutrons released by just one hydrogen bomb explosion are to be counted only in astronomical figures, such as 10 followed by 28 and more zeros.

Since each neutron is bound to find a hydrogen atom, the number of carbon 14 atoms in the stratosphere just about equals the total of released neutrons.

With measurements of atmospheric carbon 14 content made along a north-south line through the Northern Hemisphere from Ethiopia in the south to Norway in the north, he demonstrated that each summer since bomb testing began, these bomb-made carbon 14 atoms are pulled down to earth from the stratosphere at a phenomenal rate.

That is so because in spring and summer the troposphere, (the atmosphere closest to the earth's surface), reaches much higher into the stratosphere above it and draws down the stratosphere's content of bomb-made particles.

If a carbon 14 atom, once it gets into the troposphere, isn't taken in by food plants (and then is transferred into the flesh and fluids of the animals which eat the plants), it can stay around some seven years before it is absorbed into the oceans.

LEVEL DOUBLE

Nydal calculated that last August the troposphere's carbon 14 level doubled but represented only 15 per cent of the carbon 14 atoms created in the stratosphere by the 1961 and 1962 bomb test.

That means the troposphere's content will continue to rise for some years. Nydal thought that in some 50 years the troposphere level could be stabilized at the safe level which existed before there were atomic bombs.

New Operation for Heart Ills

Could Show Whether Cholesterol Matters

It could help show whether all the concern about cholesterol in our food and blood is really justified.

Cholesterol is one of the main fatty materials blamed for clogging arteries and bringing on heart attacks and strokes, with danger especially for men who have high amounts of it in their blood.

CREATES DETOUR

The operation creates a detour around the lower part of the small intestine. This is a major area where cholesterol made inside the body gets into the bloodstream, Dr. Henry Buchwald of the University of Minnesota said today.

In animals, the operation reduced blood cholesterol by as much as 85 per cent, he told the American Heart Association's council on arteriosclerosis.

And, he added, it was noticed that humans who had had part of the small intestine removed because of obstructions had very low levels of blood cholesterol.

SIX OPERATIONS

Dr. Buchwald and Dr. Richard Barco now have performed the bypass operation on six patients who had dangerously high blood cholesterol, levels well above or double or triple the amount considered normal.

Results look promising so far, with their cholesterol levels down by 40 to 50 per cent, Dr. Buchwald said. But it will be a year before it's known whether the levels will stay down.

Then, Dr. Buchwald said, the question will be what happens to their arteries? Will the sharp drop in cholesterol slow down or perhaps even reverse the artery-clogging disease? If it does not, it could be a sign that cholesterol does not play so vital a role as is generally believed.

Murder Is Charged in Knife Slaying

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Mrs. Erzsebet Wittner, 39, will be charged with murder for the knife slaying of her stepdaughter Tuesday, Kent County Prosecutor James K. Miller said yesterday.

Miller authorized a warrant on an open charge of murder against the Hungarian immigrant, who admitted killing Beatrice Wittner, 7, with a kitchen paring knife while the child was sleeping.

The woman, who then tried to take her own life, will be arraigned when she leaves St. Mary's Hospital. Mrs. Wittner is being treated for knife wounds on the neck and arms.

Utilities Are Costly

Dognaping Is Charged Against 2 LA Men

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two Los Angeles men today faced charges of "dognaping." They are accused of taking dogs from parked cars, then returning the animals to collect reward money.

Booked on suspicion of grand theft merchandise were Patrick F. Carbon and George Miglins, both 21. They were turned in by a woman who had paid a $30 reward for the return of her French poodle, "Fifi."

Spirit of Optimism Prevails

Sweeping Changes Shift Power Balance in 18-Year-Old U.N.

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — As the United Nations celebrates its 18th birthday today, much stress is being placed on relaxation of international tensions and a spirit of optimism in U.N. debates.

Those who have observed the U.N. during these 18 stormy cold war years agree that there has never been a more cordial East-West relationship.

But so far, the change has been mainly in climate. There has been no breakthrough on basic problems, such as disarmament.

The United Nations itself still faces many critical problems, including long overdue structural changes and mounting financial woes.

Apart from the so-called new spirit—which may or may not be here to stay—the United Nations has undergone many sweeping changes during the 18 years since it came into being Oct. 24, 1945.

Many of these reflect the changing world picture, marked by the emergence of new Asian and African nations. The U.N. now has 111 members; it had 51 originally. It has 33 from the African continent; it had 4 in 1945.

After roaming from Church House in London to Hunger College and Lake Success in New York, the organization is now ensconced in its $100 - million glass and stone headquarters on New York's East River. Even these new quarters already are

One consequence of growth has been a shift in the balance of power within the organization and a much greater emphasis on the problems of colonialism and the developing countries.

The powerful Asian - African group has 58 members, which gives it a dominant role on such matters of common interest as colonial issues.

One important development has been a decline in the role played by the Security Council and an increase in the prestige of the General Assembly. Primary cause of this shift was the free-wheeling manner in which the Soviet Union wielded the veto with its paralyzing effect.

Two other important changes: The broadening of the role of the secretary-general from that of administrator to that of executive, who not only carries out peacekeeping missions but sometimes initiates them. This evolution was brought about over the years by all three secretaries-general — Trygve Lie, Dag Hammarskjold and U Thant — despite Soviet opposition.

The expansion of the U.N. peacekeeping role to include the use of U.N. military forces. This was first done in 1956 during the Suez crisis and was repeated in 1960 in the Congo. These forces, made up of units contributed by small countries, take the place of the big power police force envisaged in the U.N. Charter. The big powers have never been able to agree on organization of the projected force and the idea has been shelved.

Children's Fund

Record Plugs UNICEF

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new long-playing record album with a galaxy of American talent went on the market this week to benefit the U.N. Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the U.S. Committee for the United Nations.

The unusual disc, entitled "three billion millionaires" was conceived as the first musical comedy ever created expressly for the record medium.

Arnold Michaelis, who produced the prizewinning "Adlai Stevenson Reports" TV show, is producer and narrator of the album, and Peter Farrow and Diane Lampert wrote the book and lyrics.

All the artists and writers contributed their services and royalties.

Thant Sees Hope Ahead

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary-General U Thant said Wednesday night that in looking back over 1-8 eventful and sometimes stormy years of U.N. history "we find cause for hope."

In a message on the eve of the U.N.'s 18th birthday, he added that while the air has never been entirely clear of war and threats of war "yet the world today is at peace.

"The partial test-ban treaty has opened the door to further and—I hope—more meaningful steps in the direction of peace and disarmament."

Soybean Finds Modern Use After Humble Beginnings

CHICAGO (NEA) — When Commodore Matthew Perry sailed back from Japan in 1854 he had more souvenirs than a GI after a Tokyo furlough.

Among them was a bag of weeds that the Japanese called daidsu mame.

Some agricultural people then planted them down South to see what would happen. They couldn't wrap their tongues around the Oriental word so they called them Japanese peas.

The humble Japanese peas did very well. And today, known as soybean, this vegetable stands as one of the biggest moneymakers for the American farmer. Oddly, it is probably eaten by more people without knowing it than any other food. Inscrutable, these Japanese peas.

ALL-TIME HIGH

Here at the Chicago Board of Trade, president Robert C. Liebenow predicts an all-time high in soybean trading. In the first six months of this year soybean movement accounted for $14 billion in total trading of $22 billion. Four times as much soybeans were traded than wheat in terms of dollars.

Last year, according to the Agriculture Development, 675 million bushels of soybeans were raised in the United States. The harvest is increasing every year.

Soybeans are not much good for anything unless they are crushed and bled of their oil. If you did choose to cook them in your kitchen you would have to follow the age-old recipe for preparing skunk cabbage; namely:

Cook three hours with a portion of hog jowl, allow to cool, open kitchen window and throw the whole mess out.

The soybean is really not edible until crushed into oils and meal. A bushel (60 pounds) of beans nets 47 pounds of meal and 11 pounds of oil.

Most of the oil goes into food products, the rest being used industrially. Ninety nine per cent of the meal is used as a prime ingredient in rations for poultry, hogs, cattle and sheep, thus finding its way to the dinner table through a more involved process.

COOKING OILS

Some of the human food products are cooking oils, mayonnaise, margarine, salad dressings, and salad oils. A few of the many technical or industrial uses are in caulking compounds, disinfectants, linoleum backing, printing inks and anti-knock gasoline compounds.

The harvest begins late in September and continues into November, moving from the southernmost areas northward.

Little Piatt County, Ill., claims to be one of the best-yield counties in the nation, with a year-after-year average of around 37 bushels an acre. Folks around the county seat of Monticello (population 3,200) depend heavily on their soybean acreage, though corn is still their biggest crop.

Soybean yield in 1962 was 3 million bushels. Yield is expected to be up to 38-40 bushels an acre this year, about 15 bushels above the national average.

BUSY TIME

Soybean time is a busy time and all hands pitch in. On one day recently while Piatt County's oldest active farmer, 93 years, was driving a truck of soybeans to market, the 17-year quarterback on the Monticello High School football team was harvesting in the field.

The day before he had scored a touchdown, which helped his team to a 13-0-0 victory. But that didn't keep him from being on the combine early the next day to harvest Commodore Perry's "Japanese peas."

Teamwork Urged to Push State Economy

DETROIT (AP) — Collaboration of education, industry and government is needed to push the economies of both Michigan and the United States ahead at an accelerated pace.

On this point, at least four speakers agreed at the opening yesterday of the Michigan Industry-University Research Conference.

They were Gov. George Romney James E. Webb, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; E. Finley Carter, a director of Stanford Research Institute; and Bernard M. Conboy, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion.

Keynoting the opening of the three-day conference, Romney told some 250 industrialists and educators yesterday that Michigan's economy now is "propelled with the push of the past instead of by the pull of the future."

While saying that the state has good reason to be satisfied with its research activities, the governor asserted. "We must strive to keep ourselves reasonably dissatisfied."

Among causes for satisfaction, Romney pointed out that Michigan's universities rank sixth nationally in number of Ph.D.'s produced, more than $600 million was spent here in 1961 on research and development, and the state has tremendous natural resources.

But, he added, Michigan should be dissatisfied that so many of its Ph.D.'s are being lost to other states, that California and Massachusetts continue to overshadow it in industry-education-research complexes, and Michigan hasn't made the most of its resources.

GROUP CHALLENGED

The governor then challenged the group to concentrate on the collaboration of the state's educational, research and industrial talent.

Webb saw a need for developing growing relationships between science, education, industry and government.

Carter said the nation's boundaries of knowledge have been extended greatly and new methodology developed as a result of defense-oriented research.

Describing the new Michigan Department of Economic Expansion, which he heads, Conboy said its primary activities include expediting sound corrective legislation, promoting lease-type research facilities near universities, and the administration of $750,000 in state-appropriated research funds.

Each new generation must be persuaded to keep America free or America as we know it will perish. Armies and navies on the sea and in the air are powerless to preserve freedom if it is lost in the hearts at home. — Nelson S. Dilworth, state senator of California.

In Ghetto Segregation Charge

Negroes Sue Chicago School System

By United Press International

Negro parents protesting Chicago's neighborhood school system, which they claim fosters ghetto-type segregation, have taken their fight to the federal courts.

Eighteen parents filed suit yesterday in U.S. district court asking that the system supported by the Chicago School Board and Supt. Benjamin C. Willis be declared unconstitutional.

Other racial news:

● NEW ORLEANS — Negroes planned a rally today to plan a direct action campaign here which they hope will force city officials to accept 18 demands for less segregation and better job opportunities.

● SHREVEPORT, La. — A federal judge has ordered 953 Negroes reinstated on the Jackson Parish voter rolls within 60 days. The Negroes were taken off the rolls during a Citizen's Council purge in 1956.

● ST. FRANCISVILLE, La. — Seven Negroes took voter registration tests here where a registration drive is currently under way, but all failed.

● JACKSON, Miss. — Dr. Ralph Bunche, undersecretary at the United Nations, told an audience at Negro Tougaloo College yesterday that Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett's fight against integration had hurt the United States' image abroad.

● MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals opened hearings yesterday on damage suits against the U. S. government arising from the race rioting last fall at the University of Mississippi.

● DECORAH, Iowa — Luther College announced yesterday it will exchange students next semester with four Negro colleges in the south.

STUDENTS ARRESTED

● CLARKSDALE, Miss. — Two more Yale University students who had come to Mississippi to help with the political campaign of NAACP leader Aaron Henry were arrested yesterday. The students were arrested on charges of loitering.

Earlier this week, at least two other Yale students were arrested for delivering integrationist literature without city permits.

Wallace already has asked a state grand jury to look into the matter.

Larger Papers Attract Grads

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A recent Michigan State University survey shows MSU's journalism and advertising graduates are becoming increasingly oriented toward large newspapers when they accept jobs.

"The journalism graduate of the 1960's tends to go directly to the metropolitan newspapers or the large middle-sized daily, without previous professional experience," William Haight, placement officer for the journalism and advertising graduates, said.

Of 156 graduates during the past six years, statistics show only 24 per cent went to weekly newspapers and in the past year they were only able to land 12 per cent of the total, Haight said.

BIGGER PAPERS

Larger daily newspapers attracted 26 per cent of the graduates in the past six years and 57 per cent of the graduates in the past three years, he said.

During the period, the number of journalism graduates going into the newspaper field remained about the same, or about 42.3 per cent, Haight said.

Haight offered the small papers several alternatives if they hope to get more talent: meet the competition directly by on-campus recruiting; start promotions among high school students, seek junior college graduates, smaller state and denominational college graduates and high school graduates, and intensify in-service training programs.

"Another realistic solution is to employ women in many of the news staff roles now considered suitable only for men," Haight said.

New York Got Nixon in Population Trade

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller commented on the population race between his state and California yesterday during a speech to the California League of Cities.

"We've been losing population to you," Rockefeller said. "The only one we've gained is Dick Nixon, and we're glad to have him."

Charged U. S. Official Will Remain on Duty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department said yesterday that Otto F. Otepka would remain on active duty as its chief security-risk evaluator pending final department review of charges against him.

Otepka was charged by the department Sept. 23 with violating state department procedures in giving information on loyalty matters to the senate internal security subcommittee. He has denied the charges.

Wonder Glues Can Hurt

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Poison experts here have warned boat owners, home handymen and amateur carpenters using the "wonder glues" known as epoxy resins to keep the stuff off their hands when it is wet.

The University of Rochester department of pharmocology reported the resins are "endowed which, at present, seem to be indivisible from their desirable ones."

Dr. Harold H. Borgstedt said with certain toxic properties the "desirable, if not indispensable" characteristics make them potentially toxic if exposed to the skin or breathed excessively.

Goldwater's a Champion at Traveling, Raising GOP Funds

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Neither Sen. Barry Goldwater or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, but they are giving voters a look at their campaign techniques. Associated Press reporters provide an assessment —today, how Goldwater ticks; tomorrow, a story on Rockefeller.)

WASHINGTON (AP) —Advice from the White House cuts no ice these days with Sen. Barry Goldwater. But the political formula the Arizona Republican follows is in line with an unsolicited tip from President Kennedy.

Goldwater, a possibility for the GOP presidential nomination next year, has spanned the continent twice on a hectic two-weekend round of speaking engagements.

Kennedy said two weeks ago Goldwater could win the GOP nomination, but it would take "a trying seven or eight months which will test his endurance and his perserverance and his agility."

The formula is one that has made Goldwater a champion among Republican fund-raisers.

He says it has acquainted him with Republican workers from coast to coast, and he credits that for his showing in the public opinion polls.

DATES MADE EARLIER

Goldwater's travels have few of the trappings of a campaign. He says most of his speaking dates, from Massachusetts to Texas, to California and Oregon were made long before the Republican presidential pot began boiling.

Goldwater says he's logged a million miles for the Republican cause, running up an air travel bill that averages $10,000 a year.

Amid talk that he is veering toward the middle of the road in the gathering battle for the nomination, Goldwater said once more that he hasn't changed his ideas—people are just starting to pay some attention to them.

"My basic conservative philosophy remains the same," said Goldwater.

He summed it up this way: "You make your progress best on the known and proven values of the past."

Most of the time, the senator and his wife have been traveling alone, or with only one aide. But now he's thinking of sending out advance men and taking along more help.

The senator's political audiences have been receptive, if not wildly enthusiastic. Much of the noise they make is stirred up by youthful Goldwater fans—who have become the senator's cheerleaders around the country.

But Goldwater says crowdsmanship and polls don't win nominations—and primary elections don't guarantee delegate support He points to the fate of the last conservative champion to bid for the White House, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who lost the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

Goldwater's travels usually are weekend journeys or one-night stands. And he insists they haven't kept him away from his work at the Capitol.

In New Hampshire on Oct. 29, he may start sounding more like an active campaigner in the undeclared scramble toward the nomination.

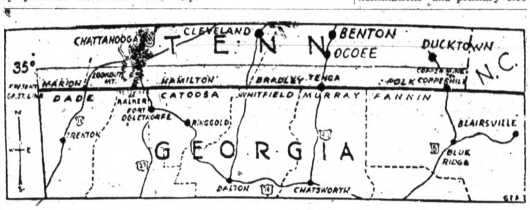
New Hampshire holds the nation's first presidential primary on March 10, and Goldwater says it is the state in which he has spent the least time during his years of travel for the Republican cause. Rockefeller stumped New Hampshire last weekend.



AREA OF DISPUTE — The state of Georgia will ask the U.S. Supreme Court to decide whether the shaded area on the map, presently in Tennessee, belongs rightfully to Georgia. Officials claim the 60 square mile area was mistakenly put in Tennessee by a survey years ago. At stake is a rich copper basin near Copperhill, Tenn.

Chicken Sandwiches Put 20 in Hospital

OPELOUSAS, La. (UPI) — Twenty persons were recovering in a hospital today from food poisoning frcm chicken salad sandwiches they ate at a church fund-raising project.

The sandwiches were prepared by the ladies auxiliary of our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church.

Pontiac Notes Mixture in September Business

September ended with some city business indicators showing strong. But others reflected little or no gain from the same month a year ago.

Bus and air transportation statistics record declines.

Pontiac banks reported that transactions through customer accounts were up a healthy $16.3 million from September 1962 but slipped about $6.7 million from August.

The total amount of industrial payrolls—$14,300,436—inched upward from the $13,883,835 mark of August and is about $1 million stronger than a year ago. This industrial payroll increase reflects the end of model changeover at General Motors plants.

While there were fewer building permits issued during the month, the total value of construction they represent, $501,241, was a $47,167 increase over August's total. It was also at nearly the same level of September 1962.

At the same time, there were only 15 new dwelling permits issued, half of August's, but three more than a year ago. They represent a construction value of $103,500.

Bus patronage rose with the opening of schools, to 66,408, a welcome 13,000 increase over August. Yet this is 2,127 fewer passengers than carried in September 1962.

AIR PATRONAGE

Outbound passengers on North Central Airlines flights leaving Pontiac Municipal Airport declined to 23. This compares with 48 passengers during August and 37 the same month a year ago.

Postal receipts moved upward to $148,121, an improvement over August's $131,785 and up $26,500 from the identical period one year ago.

Water, gas and electrical utilities all report higher consumption rates during September.

Statistics indicating business trends for September were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, city water and inspection departments, Pontiac post office, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Communists Pursue Two-Pronged Strategy in Brazil

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A Communist book on the newsstands here begins with this attack on the United States:

"The cost of living is always climbing. Why?

"Is it because of increasing salaries?

"No.

"It is because of imperialist exploitation."

The book is dedicated to Luis Carlos Prestes, leader of the Communist party in Brazil, and to Leonel Brizola, brother-in-law of President Joao Goulart. Brizola has the reputation of being an ultranationalist leftist, but not an actual member of the Communist party.

The leftists and the Communists work hand-in-hand to attack and discredit the United States in this key South American country. The leftists evidently intend to get a foot in both camps in the great world struggle by pulling Brazil apart from the United States and toward the Soviet Union. One highly placed U.S. authority said they seek to play Washington and Moscow against each other and get more aid for Brazil.

COMMIE TAKE-OVER

The Communist purpose, however, is different. Allied diplomats and a few Brazilian leaders, Gov. Carlos Lacerda foremost among them, feel the Communists are following a carefully developed strategy to take over the country.

These authorities see the strategy as a two-stage affair.

First, they reason, Prestes aims at alienating Brazil from the United States by hammering home the charge of "Imperialist exploitation."

Second, he aims at creating closer ties between Brazil and the Soviet Union, perhaps through Cuba, and then moving to seize power peacefully through Communists infiltrated in the government.

Although it is obvious that Brazilians generally are quite friendly to individuals from the United States—and there are many thousands in this country—it is also obvious that in politics the United States has few public defenders here.

FURTHER CHILLING

That includes President Joao Goulart. Goulart's relations with American officials are further chilled by the fact that he spends his time playing Brazilian politics while the country burns with the fever of inflation and other problems go unsolved.

The Alliance for Progress is under constant Communist attack in South America, and in Brazil is tied in with the charge of U.S. imperialism. The attack is made by word of mouth through university students and other intellectuals who carry high prestige here as elsewhere in Latin countries.

The Brazilian's reaction to the Communist line is reinforced by his own political experience. He has found that while his leaders talk a lot about the interests of the people, road building, power development and such political pawns as agrarian reform, what they are actually interested in is personal power and opportunity for enrichment.

U.S. INVESTMENTS

U.S. investments in Brazil total about a billion dollars, less than one-third the size of U.S. investments in Venezuela. Investors have been discouraged by fears of government expropriation of foreign business. The inflation also discourages foreign capital.

The foreign aid program, which is now all embraced under the name Alliance for Progress, is committed to build roads and schools and teach better agricultural methods, thereby helping eliminate the conditions on which the Communists thrive.

Lacerda, who is governor of the state of Guanabara that includes the city of Rio de Janeiro, has built roads, parks, schools and waged a bitter battle with Goulart. Lacerda has a rasping political tongue. His denunciations have triggered more than one political crisis.

RECENT ATTACK

Most recently, he assailed Goulart in a newspaper interview and predicted that the Goulart government may not last out the year. The attack coincided with a wave of demands for wage increases to balance inflationary price rises.

Goulart's armed forces ministers proposed that he ask for a state of siege—virtual martial law—which would have given him power to use force to deal with any uprising or crippling strike.

The proposal met opposition from all political quarters, including Goulart's own Brazilian Labor party.

Three days after Goulart introduced the measure as a necessary step to save the country from chaos, he asked Congress to withdraw it and forget the whole thing. It was enough to set off an uprising or trigger a military coup in many Latin-American countries, but in Brazil everybody went to the beach for the weekend and when they got back the crisis had eased.

PATIENT PEOPLE

The Brazilian people are noted for patience and forebearance unlike some of their neighbors. In Rio for months now they have put up with inflation, an electric power shortage with periodic evening blackouts to save current, a water shortage acute in some areas, a milk shortage due to the drought, and occasional shortages in basic foods such as bread, rice and beans, due to the inflation.

Traditionally, politics have been played by the relatively few wealthy families at the top of the social structure. This may be beginning to change with the slow advance of education and the arrival of radio and television. Battery - operated transistor radios are beginning to penetrate the far interior.

In foreign policy, Brazil is following a line derived directly from the "leftist nationalism" of internal politics. This line is that while retaining inter-American ties with the United States, Brazil is not a member of any bloc and wants to be friends with all.

PARLIAMENT BLOCK

Foreign Minister Jaoa Augusto de Araujo has been playing with the idea of a parliamentary bloc in the United Nations composed of Latin-American, African and Asian countries which need help from the big industrial nations. He would like to see the industrial nations—the United States and the Soviet Union alike—maneuvered into giving substantial aid for industrial development through the United Nations.

The Brazilian army is understood to be divided in its attitude toward the United States. On the whole, the officer corps is pro-American. But noncommissioned officers for the most part follow the leftist line.

STANDS APART

The Brazilian army, nevertheless, has a reputation of standing apart from politics most of the time except that it traditionally upholds the legal government. Thus, the armed forces ministers backed Goulart against Lacerda in the recent crisis.

Political observers believe the army will continue to back Goulart, especially if he develops the middle-of-the-road line in politics he has recently indicated. This is the chief reason why, despite all the problems of inflation and underdevelopment, observers believe Goulart has at least an even chance to stay in power through the 1965 national elections.

Under the constitution, Goulart cannot succeed himself. There is speculation he might back his brother-in-law, Brizola. Lacerda is already a contender for the job. Also in the race, though out of partisan fighting at the moment, is former President Juscelino Kubitschek, who led the country from 1956 through 1961. He is still an extremely popular figure in Brazil.

Patient Is Grateful for Doctor's Advice

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"I have taken the iodine ration faithfully for the past year," reports a Minnesota reader. "This was the first year of my life—I am 51—that I have had no respiratory troubles whatsoever. From early childhood, bouts with bronchitis and sometimes pneumonia have been my usual winter-time fate.

"Taking the iodine ration was the only different thing I did. I have had 'candy' (calcium and D) daily for about six years.

"It has been a wonderful relief to be free from coughing. My coughing seems to originate in my toes, jar my joints and rattle my brains—I never could sound like a lady.

"Thank you, Dr. Brady, for giving us one piece of solid common sense to look forward to when we open our daily newspaper. You must never underestimate the value of your life's work.

"There are many, many of us who were raised according to your teachings and passed the benefits on to our children, who, in turn, are now raising their own little ones a la Dr. Brady. If you have moments of discouragement, I hope the thought of the incalculable good you have accomplished during these years will give you comfort." (Mrs. F. K.)

"Four years ago we moved to Wyoming and started reading your column in the 'State Tribune' writes Mrs. W. H. I am a housewife and the mother of two boys. I sent for your Cyclopedia of Health and would like to report the results of following your teachings.

"We have very few colds and have been well when all the neighbors have flu. Each member of the family takes the iodine ration and drinks lots of milk. I do part of my cooking with home ground fresh wheat.

"Our boys, 11 and 13, are never overburdened with extra clothing, even though the temperature gets down to 38 below zero here. The older boy walks two miles to school every day. At the age of 10 he was chubby and grouchy.

"We started him on the iodine ration, one tablet a day. In three months' time he was a changed boy, inches taller and happy disposition. Both boys are happy, healthy youths.

"I started taking 10 iodine ration tablets a day the first three months after reading your column and three a day since. I had been taking thyroid medicine under doctor's care for years. I stopped the thyroid two years ago, and my doctor, after tests four months ago, said I didn't need thyroid any more.

"Some of my friends borrow your books to read. Some then order copies for themselves, and others are content to follow their old ways of living and continue to suffer headaches and aches and pains of all descriptions.

"Thank you for your wonderful health column. You are what I call a real doctor with your preventive measures!"

Sincerely,
(Mrs. W. H.)

"I'm afraid some of our friends think we are eccentric," writes a New York reader. "If we invite or think of inviting people to our home, especially if they have young children, we first ask whether any of the children have colds or the like. If the answer is 'only a little case of sniffles,' the invitation is off.

"The last time we let a little one come in who had the sniffles, we paid plenty. The sniffles turned out to be the measles. Our little boy was so ill with measles he spent a week in the hospital.

"We keep on drilling our children to stay away from the thoughtless sneezers.

"Some time ago my husband came down with what the doctor called a bronchial virus. He was ill for ten days. He stayed in his room away from the children. I kept my distance during conversation. No one else got it. What a blessing it would if your teachings could reach the entire population!"

Sincerely Yours,

I thank you, one and all.

That you three ladies went to the trouble of writing just to express your thanks restores my flagging spirit as nothing else could.

Rochester Zoning Nearing Climax

ROCHESTER—There's a good chance that several of Rochester's residents will be living in a business zone Monday and an office area Tuesday, depending upon the outcome of the next Village Council meeting.

At Monday's session, the council has scheduled a public hearing, second reading and possible adoption of the controversial new zoning ordinance here.

After more than a year's study of the code and the revision of several portions of it, the council has kept the clause which calls for rezoning of Walnut to office use. It is presently zoned for business.

Throughout the lengthy consideration of the ordinance, Walnut residents have argued that the street should not be reclassified for offices.

AREA NEWS

can-Leman & Associates of Southfeild, maintains that Walnut as an office area would serve as a buffer between housing and the central business district.

Ultimately, plans call for Walnut to be part of the central business district. The consultants have indicated the street, if zoned for offices, would be more appealing financially to developers.

POOLS, THEATERS

The new ordinance also provides for locating of swimming pools, drive-in theaters, trailer parks and other such businesses which cannot legally be prohibited from any community.

Another portion of the proposal outlaws combined residential uses in a business uses district. It also prohibits business uses in a residential district.

If accepted, the ordinance would prohibit construction of additional "front-yard" business establishments such as the ones presently on Main.

However, continuance of all nonconforming uses would be allowed in all the rezoning proposed in the resolution.

U. N. Fete Set in Farmington

Will Dedicate Tree Representing Finland

FARMINGTON — A tree representing Finland will be dedicated in the city park Saturday during the annual United Nations celebration here.

The tree will join two others from foreign countries, thus marking the third year of the custom.

Ceremonies in the park will be preceded by a parade starting at 10 a.m. at Farmington Junior High School.

COLOR GUARDS

In the parade will be color guards of boy scouts and members of Groves-Walker American Legion Post No. 345, cosponsors of the observance with the city.

The young guests are Lila Fawzy of Egypt, Almut Walter of Germany, Giovani Zibetti of Italy and Hannu Raikkala of Finland.

Rev. George Tweed, pastor of the Evangelical Free Church, will deliver the invocation and benediction.

Pageant Set in Clarkston

Clarkston's winner will compete for the state crown next January in Pontiac.

Contest chairman Ted Jackson said any senior high school girl in the Clarkston area may compete. Intelligence, fitness and talent are stressed rather than beauty, he added.

Tax Group, Romney in Futile Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Representatives of the Vigilance Tax Committee returned from Lansing last night with their 40,000 petition signatures — and no promises from Gov. George Romney.

Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn, chairman, said the group had a "friendly but unprofitable" meeting with the governor.

Romney reportedly refused to agree with a committee demand for voter approval of any state or local income tax and also stuck by his proposed one-half of 1 per cent income tax on community nonresidents in event of any community income tax.

MORE CORDIAL

Kuhn said the meeting with Romney was "more cordial" than the prior session at Warren, when hot words were exchanged. But he said the group failed to convince Romney he ought to change his position.

The 240,000 petition signatures are to be stored in Royal Oak pending their referral to county clerks as ordered by the attorney general. The attorney general said their original presentation to the secretary of state was improper.

The petitions ask the legislature to require voter approval of any income tax and to forbid community income taxes on nonresidents.

With Kuhn at Lansing were Mayors Robert J. Huber of Troy, Harvey W. Moelke of Livonia, William Hayward of Royal Oak and Edward Bonoir of East Detroit.

Edwards Tactics Hit

DETROIT (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union of Michigan yesterday accused Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards of McCarthy-like tactics for his recent testimony before the McClellan committee in Washington.

The ACLU challenged Edwards to "put up or shut up" on his action naming alleged members of Detroit's Mafia before the Senate committee.

"The use by the commissioner of the cloak of congressional immunity for this purpose is reminiscent of the days of Joe McCarthy," the statement by the ACLU's executive board said.

Last nght, Edwards defended his testimony and his support of the wiretap measure in a speech to the Detroit chapter of Sigma Delta Chi (SDX), professional journalism fraternity.

"I am not surprised about their (ACLU) stand. It is in line with long-standing ACLU policy, with which I respectfully disagree," Edwards said.

Edwards, at the SDX meeting held at the Detroit Press Club, gave a two-hour presentation of the 81 alleged local Mafia members. He repeated many of the charges he made before the McClellan committee.

TOOK SLAP

Speaking of the raid on the Gotham Hotel in 1962, which Edwards claimed "cracked the numbers racket in Detroit," he said "more could have been done about it before we finally found out and acted. In the previous 19 years, there is no record that anyone had applied for a search warrant."

Rochester Contest Calls All Beauties

ROCHESTER — Girls! Do you have aspirations of some day reigning as a queen?

Of having a whole town at your feet—ready to do homage to your beauty and charm?

If you do, you have only a week left to enter the Miss Holiday Contest sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce—and realize your dreams.

To date, some 15 area lovelies have filed applications to compete for the coveted crown.

To be eligible, girls must be single, be between 17½ and 21 years of age and reside in the Rochester Community School District.

Those vying for the title will be feted at a qualifying tea Nov. 13, and the finalists will ride in the chamber-sponsored Christmas parade Dec. 7.

After their first public appearance as contest finalists in the parade, the queen candidates will begin "prettying-up" for the holiday pageant that night in which the winner and two maids of honor will be chosen.

All of the girls in the formal competition will appear on stage twice in the Rochester Senior High School lounge. First they will be wearing bathing suits, to return later in formal long, gowns.

$500 IN GIFTS

The queen will receive $500 in gifts and serve as the royal representative of Rochester not only in the pre-Christmas festivities but throughout the coming year.

Her first official duty will be to reign over the coronation ball that will follow the pageant.

Next year, her majesty will be Rochester's candidate for Romeo Peach Queen of 1964 and other state titles.

Mrs. John Levick, chamber of commerce secretary, is contest chairman. She said applications will be accepted at her office through Oct. 30.

Walled Lake Eyes New City Hall Site

WALLED LAKE — The City Council is now eyeing a parcel of property on West Maple as a potential city hall site.

The council, long seeking a new city hall, has offered $13,750 to the Bender estate for the property. Negotiations are now being conducted with the heirs.

The property, near Decker, has 350 feet of frontage. It is the first choice of the city's land and building advisory committee. Second choice would be property on Pontiac Trail.

Also backing the purchase is the planning commission which, with the advisory committee, studied the 10 parcels in all.

Husbands Rendezvous With Tank

Three south Oakland County engineers have been keeping secrets from their wives for the past several months and getting away with it — for good reason.

But now they're talking.

The two Oak Park residents and Huntington Woods man no longer have reason to refuse to answer the question, "What have you been doing?"

And it's because the U. S. Army has unveiled the "secret" missile-firing tank the men have been working on at the U. S. Army Tank-Automotive Center (ATAC) in Warren.

The engineers are Charles B. Salter and Leon Hoffman, both 38-year-old Oak Parkers, and Conrad E. Heiderer, 29, of Huntington Woods.

DEVELOPMENT STAGE

Although their product is still in the development stages, it has some almost astounding traits that have proved to be dependable.

Weighing in at about 16 tons, the tank is light enough to be dropped from planes and to cross rivers. It is constructed of a new aluminum armor which combines lightness with strength.

In addition to traveling in water, the missile-packing assault vehicle can vault over a 3-foot-high vertical obstacle on land.

The main punch packed by the tank, called the General Sheridan, is its 152 mm gun.

The speedy armored vehicle carries a weapon capable of firing a 6-inch conventional shell or a long distance Shillelagh missile.

Area Mishaps Kill One Man, Hurt 2nd

A young Oakland County man was killed in an automobile accident last night and another seriously injured in an earlier mishap.

Richard M. Langforth, 28, of Commerce Township was killed when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a semitruck on I-96 in Wixom.

Donald P. Piggott of West Bloomfield Township was in serious condition this morning following an automobile accident in Orchard Lake yesterday.

Langforth of 1702 Birchton, Commerce Township, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital last night.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Walter R. Meadows, 30, of Greenbriar, Tenn., according to Wixom police.

VEHICLE APPROACH

Both vehicles were approaching the Wixom Road ramp from the west when the accident occurred, they reported.

The truck driver, Edward W. Markey of Detroit, told police he felt the truck sway and when he stopped on the shoulder he saw the car on the median.

Piggott, 26, of 6455 Hermana, West Bloomfield Township, sustained a broken leg and arm and facial cuts in the accident on Old Orchard Trail south of Elmgate.

Orchard Lake police said Piggott's northwest-bound car swerved across the road and hit a tree when he failed to negotiate a curve.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF

TROY—Youngsters from four churches here will be working for others Halloween night instead of filling their bags with the usual assortment of treats.

Giving up the traditional fun of Halloween begging, the boys and girls will be requesting money for UNICEF, to provide food and medical care for needy children throughout the world.

Last year children across the country gathered $30 million for this purpose. They all carried the officially marked canisters.

Troy churches participating are the American Baptist, First Presbyterian and Troy Methodist Church. One penny contributed will provide five glasses of milk or a tuberculosis vaccination for a suffering child.

Keego Harbor Will Meet on City Planning

KEEGO HARBOR — A meeting to spark interest in community planning has been scheduled for Tuesday night.

City planners will explain their work to residents and hope, in turn, to receive suggestions on the course of Keego Harbor's future.

A progress report on the city's master plan will be the focal point of the meeting.

Maps and charts indicating proposed improvements will be explained by representatives from Parkins, Rogers and Associates, Inc., planning consultants for Keego Harbor.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Roosevelt School.

In Border War With Algeria

Waiting Game for Moroccans

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — Morocco's frontier conflict with Algeria stretches from sandy Sahara outposts to lush green gardens of luxurious hotels.

Observation planes land on the parched surface of the dried-out salt lake Daya Arhbaro while green-bereted officers in jeeps speed by in clouds of dust.

In the cities of north Morocco, newspapers proclaim loyalty to the ancient Alaouite throne and to young King Hassan II. In frontier villages tribesmen roar, "Give us arms!"

In the oasis of M'hamid, weary troops pour water over their faces and a field radio monotonously calls for contact with a company deployed along one of the countless barren brown ridges.

WAR VETERANS

Many of their commanders are veterans of World War II fighting in France's famous Moroccan sharpshooter regiments. Many fought in Indochina and are proud of the French military tradition. Some have come from the tough Moroccan regiments of the Spanish army.

It is mainly a war of patrols, tension, expectation and uncertainty.

In the south the Moroccans feel superior. They control most of the water points along the contested frontier and they have solid bases.

In the north, they feel more vulnerable. The 35,000-man royal Moroccan army, backed up by 20,000 auxiliaries, is not sufficient to operate on a wide front.

Behind the snowy peaks of the Atlas Mountains, 300 miles from the desert front, the 34-year-old king has established his temporary headquarters in the ancient city of Marrakech.

Here messages from field commanders are received, and news of the frontier fighting is released to newsmen in the lobbies and gardens of plush hotels.

Waterford Official to Retire–Again

H.E. (Mac) McCulloch will retire tomorrow after 14 years as electrical inspector for Waterford Township.

For Mac, it will be a second retirement.

He retired from Fisher Body in 1949, but took the township job later that year on a part-time basis. The position became a full-time post by the end of 1950.

Starlings destroy fruit and are noted for fighting songbirds. They were introduced to this country in 1890 because they consume large quantities of insects and grubs, but in many areas they have come to be regarded more as pests and nuisances than as assets.

Glamour Dish Easily Made

Convenience foods have eliminated much of the tedious preparation of cooking, but they haven't done away with recipes. In fact, recipes are more exciting than ever! This recipe for Halibut Divan is a perfect example.

Halibut Divan

1½ pounds halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon whole black peppercorns
1 cup milk
1 envelope white sauce mix
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons sherry
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 bottle prepared Hollandaise Sauce
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
2 packages frozen broccoli, cooked

If halibut is frozen, let thaw at room temperature or on refrigerator shelf for 30 minutes. Place halibut in large skillet. Cover with boiling water; add salt and peppercorns. Simmer gently 10 to 15 minutes until halibut flakes easily. Remove fish and flake gently with a fork, discarding bones.

Meanwhile, add milk to white sauce as directed on the envelope. Add cheese, sherry and Worcestershire. Lightly fold in Hollandaise Sauce and whipped cream.

Arrange cooked broccoli in a single layer in shallow casserole. Top with flaked halibut and spoon sauce over. Place under broiler briefly to brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Meat Cookery Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef Blade Pot-Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the chuck section of beef and contains portions of rib and blade bones. It is usually cut about 2 inches thick.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. The meat is browned in a little added fat; then the drippings are poured off. The meat is seasoned and a small amount of liquid added. The utensil is covered tightly and the meat is allowed to cook slowly until tender, about 3 to 3½ hours.

Rich Canned Milk Betters Eggs

Milky Way Eggs

3 large eggs
¼ teaspoon celery salt
Dash of white pepper
½ cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 tablespoon butter

Beat the eggs just enough to blend yolks and whites. Add celery salt, pepper and undiluted evaporated milk; beat to blend.

Melt the butter in an 8-inch skillet; add egg mixture; cover and cook over very low heat for several minutes; with a large spoon, stir up egg from bottom and sides of skillet. Cover and continue cooking for a minute more over very low heat or until eggs are as firm as you like. Makes 2 servings.

Free Book on Cloves Is Offered

Want to know how to make an old-fashioned pomander — a clove-stuck orange or lemon — to give as a gift or to perfume your own closet? Or perhaps you'd like a tested recipe for a festive Honey Fruit Cake or a delicately spiced Plum Pudding for Holiday entertaining?

These and 23 other spicy-good recipes appear in a new booklet, "A Hint of Cloves," which may be had free by sending a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to The American Spice Trade Association, Empire State Building, New York 1, N.Y.

The booklet was sponsored by the growers of cloves in Zanzibar and Madagascar, where most of the world's clove production is located. There are literally millions of trees in these clove forests, which is amazing when you realize that clove trees came to the East African coastal area less than 150 years ago.

Cloves had grown exclusively — since the beginning of recorded history — in the Moluccas. Spice traders and botanists, such as 17th Century Rumphius, were positive that cloves would grow only on these Indonesian islands.

However, in Zanzibar and later Madagascar, they found the Equatorial climate they love and islands where they were able to grow so that they "could see the sea." Today clove-growing is the major industry in Zanzibar and extremely important to Madagascar, now the Malagasy Republic.

Creamed Sardines Are Broiled First

A Norwegian homemaker suggests broiled sardines with cream sauce as a quick lunch eon dish. To regular cream sauce, add quarter cup of bread crumbs and two chopped hard cooked eggs.

Broil contents of can of Norway sardines and arrange on buttered whole wheat toast.

Cake Masterpiece on View at OU

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When did you last make a cake five feet long, four feet wide and a foot high? Do you ever intend to make such a cake?

If you want to see what one looks like, take a trip out to the Student Center at Oakland University. Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson's birthday cake will be on display until Nov. 8; hours are 7 a.m. to midnight.

We mentioned this cake in our birthday story on Mrs. Wilson Saturday. Now we can go into more detail.

Ed Goodwin, manager of University Food Service at OU, created his replica of Mrs. Wilson's Meadow Brook Hall as a labor of love.

"Mrs. Wilson's close association with everyone at Oakland has endeared her to all of us and I'm no exception."

Meadow Brook Hall has been the scene of a number of gala occasions for OU students, including a dinner dance for the first graduating class last April.

GREAT DETAIL

Working with photographs and a floor plan drawing, Goodwin produced a remarkably detailed replica of the English Tudor mansion. He duplicated 37 chimneys, 134 window areas, family crests and emblems over doorways and windows and 24 variations in the pitch of the roof.

All this was made with a gum paste combination of confectioners sugar, cornstarch and gelatin. Trim was various colors of icing.

One end portion was duplicated in cake so that Mrs. Wilson could cut and serve it. This has been replaced with the paste section.

Goodwin is used to doing unusual things in his job at OU. That's why he likes it. His hobbies of sugar-paste replicas and cake decorating are self taught. But he has never attempted anything on such a grand scale before.

LOVES FOOD

A native Detroiter, Goodwin has been interested in cooking and food services since ninth grade. At 15 he was cook's assistant at a boy scout ranch.

Three years in the commercial foods department at Chadsey High School and four years at Michigan State and Kellogg Center in East Lansing gave him his professional training.

Before coming to OU he was student union director at Defiance College in Ohio.

At home Goodwin lets his wife preside in the kitchen. He has no complaints about her cooking. The Goodwins who live in Rochester have three children.

Although he admits that thinking up anything to top this year's cake will be difficult, we're sure that Ed Goodwin will find some new masterpiece to achieve for Mrs. Wilson's 81st birthday.

Ed Goodwin, manager of OU food services, whistles happily to himself as he puts a tile roof on his replica of Meadow Brook Hall. Except for blue paper in the windows, the entire edifice is gum paste and icing. The section at the extreme left was replaced by a cake one for Mrs. Wilson's birthday party. This sugar mansion is on view at OU until Nov. 8.

Licorice Makes Witch Out of Cookie

Halloween is the spookiest night of the year, and you can ask any child for confirmation of the fact. Even if witches, hobgoblins and elves are not actually seen, their eerie presence is felt.

When the neighborhood youngsters, thinly disguised, knock on your door demanding "Trick or Treat," provide them with Molasses Witch Cookies. These definitely fall into the category of treat—and are so simple there is no trick at all to making them.

Once the cookies are formed, strips of licorice define the base of the hat, hair, and features of the face.

With the Molasses Witch Cookies, serve the youngsters (and grownups, too) a wonderful Witches' Brew. The punch is also based on unsulphured molasses, this time combined with lemon juice, spices, and a garnish of orange slices studded with whole cloves.

Which cookie is witch? Each cookie is a witch, and each has the same marvelous molasses flavor that ensures a treat with each bite.

TRICK OR TREAT COOKIES . . . are definitely treats. When neighborhood youngsters knock on your door, provide them with Molasses Witch Cookies and a cup of Witches' Brew.

Molasses Witch Cookies

½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
½ cup unsulphured molasses
1 egg yolk
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon ginger
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Cream together shortening, sugar and molasses. Add egg yolk; mix well. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, baking powder and spices. Stir in flour mixture; mix well. Chill.

Roll out dough ¼-inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut out dough with a 2½-inch round cutter. Cut out large triangles; press into top edge of rounds to resemble witches' hats.

Cut out strips of licorice for base of hat and facial features. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Cool. Yield: Approximately 2 dozen cookies.

Witches' Brew

1 cup lemon juice
⅔ cup unsulphured molasses
⅓ cup sugar
2 quarts water
2 sticks cinnamon
10 whole cloves
Orange slices

Additional cloves for garnish

Combine lemon juice, unsulphured molasses, sugar and water. Add stick cinnamon and cloves; simmer 10 minutes. Strain; pour into punch bowl. Float orange slices which have been studded with additional whole cloves. Yield: 20 ½-cup servings.

Herb-Dusted Fowl Goes Into Skillet

The seasonings for this chicken may be added with a light or heavy hand, according to your taste!

Skillet Chicken

1 broiler-fryer, cut up
Salt and pepper
Rosemary seasoning powder
Dried crushed thyme
¼ cup butter or margarine

Wash and dry chicken; sprinkle with salt, pepper, rosemary seasoning powder and crushed thyme. Melt butter in a large skillet; add chicken and brown on all sides. Cover tightly and cook gently, turning as necessary, until tender — 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

SCHAFER'S ROUND N' GOOD PUTS SANDWICHES IN GREAT SHAPE

"Say! Looks like the bread and meat were made for each other. When did white bread get round?"

Schafer's Round n' good fits all your favorite fillings—meats, cheeses, and any spread—without empty corners or mis-matched slices. Round bread makes sandwiches look different to begin with—and cuts into half-moons and pie-shaped wedges. Gives a new look to toast and French Toast, too. Tastes delicious because it's baked in closed double pans that lock in freshness and flavor. Put variety on your table . . . serve Schafer's.

1964 New York Fair Will Feature Restaurants

When the World's Fair opens in New York City on April 22, 1964 for its two-year run, visitors will find some 75 restaurants with a combined seating capacity of approximately 20,000 ready to cater to the broadest range of appetites and income.

Meals will be priced as modestly as 99 cents for a complete 7-course oriental dinner served in an oriental garden setting of Chinese tea houses by the Chun King Corporation.

For food excitement, even the most commonplace of menu items will be romanticized with "international hamburgers" and foot-long hot dogs to be served by Century Grill.

Within the Federal and States Area, New England's Pavilion will serve the regional cooking and sea-food for which it has become famous.

West Virginia's restaurant, a futuristic mountain lodge surrounded on three sides by water stocked with live fish, will feature Golden Trout and Virginia Ham.

SHORE DINNER

The restaurant in the Maryland Pavilion, which will afford a sweeping view of the Fair, will serve its famous Eastern Shore dinners and will also offer visitors a raw sea-food bar.

Texas, in keeping with its "biggest" image, is planning a series of air-conditioned, roofed, pavilion-type restaurants with a 2,000 seat capacity in the Fair's Lake Amusement Area.

Louisiana's restaurant will offer the food for which New Orleans has become famous in the re-creation of the city's old French Quarter.

The Hawaiian Pavilion, built partially over Meadow Lake, under a transparent plastic covering, will feature the Restaurant of Five Volcanoes. Exotic Hawaiian delicacies — blending the best from each of the ethnic groups of the Islands will be served here.

Middle priced meals will be supplemented by more expensive outdoor luaus where Tahitian and Polynesian dances and rituals will accompany a three-hour, twelve-course meal.

The foods of four continents will be available in the International Pavilions where the Fair guest will be able to eat his way around the world in either tourist or first class accommodations.

Chile will feature its local sea foods and wines. Belgian type waffles or "goufres" and Belgian pastries will be served in a large outdoor terrace of the BFE Waffle Restaurant, located at the base of the Aerial Ride in the Lake Amusement Area.

In elaborate and exotic settings, Japan's restaurant will offer dishes like Yakitori and Tempura, prepared at the table and served by Geisha girls.

Included in the medium price range facilities planned for the International Area are Sweden's famed Smorgasbord and a rustic Swiss chalet restaurant, where masters of culinary art will prepare such specialties as Cheese Fondu and Raclette.

Spain's Pavilion will house two restaurants — a moderate priced one with entertainment, and a luxury dining room. Most of the restaurants will be moderately priced.

BARBECUES

Patrons will be able to watch chefs at work with huge spits as they prepare Asado, the Argentine version of barbecue. Barbecues will also be featured in the tree-house restaurant proposed as part of an exhibit by the OAMCE, a group of the 13 French-speaking new nations of Africa.

A "Long House" in the Polynesian Pavilion will serve Hawaiian foods. Chinese food will be available in the restaurant of the Hong Kong Pavilion which will also offer Oriental entertainment and a "Bar of Dragons."

MAKE THIS COFFEE-NUT PUDDING WITH ITS "BUILT-IN" SAUCE! — Perfect flavors for this time of year — coffee and walnuts, especially when they are in a baked pudding with a time-saving "built-in" coffee sauce. Serve this one after steaming decaffeinated coffee as the beverage . . . a real plus in flavor.

Make a New Treat, Coffee Nut Pudding

Something new and different in the way of recipes is always fun to try, and you'll find them in this excellent Coffee Pudding. The trick is to make the pudding first and half fill the prepared custard cups. Then make the sauce . . . add about 3 tablespoonfuls to the pudding in the cups . . . and bake.

Lo! Out of the oven the delectable little puddings come with their own sauce! Invert onto serving plates, and if you want to gild the lily, so to speak, serve them with whipped cream or your pet whipped topping mix.

Make decaffeinated coffee your specialty for after-dinner beverages. Guests, as well as the family, will appreciate its rich flavor. If you use the instant, it's so easy to make, either by cup or the potful.

To make a cup, simply measure 1 rounded teaspoon of decaffeinated coffee into a serving cup and add boiling water. Stir and serve, with cream and sugar, if desired.

Decaffeinated instant coffee by the potful is just as easy to make: just measure the coffee into the preheated pot, allowing a rounded teaspoon for each cup; then add boiling water, stir and steep for a few minutes to bring out the rich flavor.

Baked Coffee Pudding

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup boiling water
½ cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons instant decaffeinated coffee
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
Cream (optional)

Sift together flour, ½ cup sugar, baking powder, and salt. Add milk, butter, and vanilla, mixing only until smooth. Add nuts. Spoon into greased custard cups, filling each about half full.

Combine boiling water, corn syrup, instant coffee, and 2 tablespoons sugar in saucepan; mix well. Simmer 2 minutes. Pour over the batter in custard cups, allowing about 3 tablespoonfuls for each. (This makes a coffee sauce in bottom of cup when pudding is baked.)

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until tops are firm. Cool 2 or 3 minutes. Loosen around edges with tip of knife; invert into serving dishes so that the sauce will be on top. Serve warm, plain or, with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cheese Salad Tidbits

Blend together 3 ounces of package cream cheese, 1 tablespoon of pineapple juice and 3 tablespoons of toasted wheat germ. Shape into six balls. Roll in additional wheat germ. Serve atop a fruit salad.

Fill Apples for Halloween

Top on the list of good things to serve at Halloween parties are apples. Serve them in a large wooden bowl; or cook them in any of your favorite apple desserts. Or make a deep-dish pie, or a French apple torte — delicious!

Or try this new, easy apple dessert which is so simple the teen-age cooks of the family will probably make it up for their friends and your grown-up supper, too.

Halloween Apple Dessert

6 large baking apples
¾ cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger
1-3 cup seedless raisins
1½ teaspoons cinnamon

Core apples, being careful not to cut all the way through. Cut a thin slice from stem end; scoop out pulp, leaving thin shell. Scallop the edges of the shells; brush inside with lemon juice or ascorbic-citric mixture, to prevent excessive discoloration.

Cook pulp until soft; drain; put through food mill or sieve; sweeten to taste; stir in remaining ingredients. Fill shells; chill. Just before serving top with spoonful of whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Avoid Food Fads Stay Healthy

Extreme statements by advertisers are a pet peeve of independent nutritionists and physicians. Dr. Margaret A. Ohlson, Department of Internal Medicine, State University of Iowa, points out that too many foods are sold on the argument that if a little is good, more must be better.

She suggests that milk and eggs — which in small amounts improve the balance of nutrients in a mixed diet — have been over-sold. Now the public, on the contrary, is being over-sold on polyunsaturated fats to the point where many will eat no eggs or milk. She urges more of a "middle-of-the-road" philosophy about eating, moving away from any kind of faddism.

Cheeseburger Casserole

For Autumn Appetites

Casserole cookery is at its best as the colorful fall months roll past the pages of the calendar. The smell of burning leaves and a nip of frost seem to invigorate appetites. —And what could be more hunger appeasing than a casserole crusty brown and bubbly hot from the oven?

This type of fix-and-forget cookery is a time saver in the kitchen, too, for dishes like Cheeseburger Casserole are almost a meal in one. Meaty ground beef provides the protein; golden kernals of vacuum-packed corn add color as well as flavor. The crusty top is always-popular mashed potatoes.

Cheeseburger Casserole

1 pound lean ground beef
1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons vegetable shortening, melted
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
One 12-oz. can vacuum-pack golden whole kernal corn, drained
1 cup shredded American cheese
¾ cup catsup
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1½ cups seasoned mashed potatoes

Brown ground beef and onion in melted shortening in large heavy frying pan. Drain off meat drippings. Stir in seasonings, drained canned corn, cheese and catsup. Spoon mixture into well-greased 1½-quart casserole.

Blend egg yolks into mashed potatoes. Spread over meat mixture. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. For more crispy topping, place under broiler several minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

Makes Self at Home

Mme. Nhu on Range

BEEVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu of South Viet Nam roamed a real Texas cattle ranch today but balked on horseback riding and other cowboy sports.

Mme. Nhu, the sister-in-law of the South Viet Nam premier Ngo Dinh Diem and wife of that country's military leader, spent the night at the plush ranch home of millionaire cattleman-oilman Dudley Dougherty.

BEEVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Le Thuy, chic 18-year-old daughter of Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, received 50 date offers from University of Texas men for tonight. "I would prefer her to go with the 50 rather than the one," Mme. Nhu said.

Dougherty was scheduled to fly her to Austin today for a speaking engagement at the University of Texas.

The rancher flew Mme. Nhu to Beeville yesterday after her arrival in Dallas, where she was greeted by pickets and a 15-year-old girl who gave her a bouquet of roses.

Her stay at the ranch is the only social visit of her U.S. has lashed out at U.S. newsmen speaking tour, during which she in Viet Nam, Harvard University, and what she called U.S. betrayal of President Kennedy's word.

NEWS CONFERENCE

The latter statement was made in Dallas as she waited for the plane to Beeville. She was referring to a State Department order which cut off the $3 million annual allowance for aid to her husband's special forces.

Mme. Nhu held a 12-minute news conference upon her arrival at Beeville and said "The people with whom I have had personal contact everywhere in America have been friendly —except at Harvard."

She also criticized American newsmen in Viet Nam who she said "are motivated not by ill will but by emotion."

Following the news conference, the South Vietnamese first lady was guest of honor at a lavish dinner for 250 guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty.

Yesterday, Mme. Nhu charged in a chat with a college student that the U.S. State Department asked the South Vietnamese army to rebel against the government Aug. 24, the Daily Northwestern reported today.

Philip Schmidt, Sheboygan, Wis., chairman of a Northwestern University student senate subcommittee charged with obtaining "controversial" speakers for the Evanston, Ill., campus, interviewed South Viet Nam's first lady at her hotel last night.

Schmidt attempted to arrange a speaking engagement for Mme. Nhu at Northwestern. When she declined, he sent her a dozen roses. She again declined to speak but granted him the interview.

VOICE OF AMERICA

She charged in the interview that the State Department's call for a rebellion by the South Vietnamese army was relayed by the Voice of America.

"Viet Nam is Kennedy's best card. I don't know why he wants to throw it away," she told Schmidt.

Schmidt said Mme. Nhu told him that "certain people" in the Kennedy administration "seem to think they can do anything because they have the money, but we need more than money, we need the confidence of the people."

He quoted Mme. Nhu as saying Viet Nam wants democracy but "we want real democracy, not one that will blow up in our faces." She said Viet Nam's democracy is "personalism," which gives the people "more freedom that way."

Tallulah Is New Star of Revised Production

NEW YORK (AP) — Tallulah Bankhead will be the new leading lady in a new production of Tennessee Williams' play, "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Any More," which flopped on Broadway last season.

Producer David Merrick said in New York the revised version of the play was scheduled for arrival in mid-December. The play will be Miss Bankhead's first on Broadway since "Midgie Purvis" in February 1961.

SHOPPING TOUR — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu and her daughter, Le Thuy, made a surprise visit and a whirlwind shopping tour at Neiman-Marcus' store in Dallas, Tex., yesterday before going to Austin for a speaking engagement. Besides shopping in the cosmetic department, they looked at men's shirts and little girls' dresses.

Brigitte Bardot Hides From London Reporters

LONDON (AP) — Blonde actress Brigitte Bardot took refuge in the kitchen of a London hotel upon her arrival in the British capital. She was a fugitive from about 200 photographers and newsmen.

After her arrival from Paris, Miss Bardot started to grant interviews, but she said she became frightened and fled as the horde of lensmen and reporters headed toward her.

Alcoholism Researcher Expires in California

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Dr. E. M. Jellinek, 73, who believed alcoholism was a disease that should be treated, died in his university office here Tuesday.

Jellinek was an internationally recognized expert in alcohol research. A fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he was awarded the gold key of the National Council on Alcoholism in 1959.

N-Blast to Compare With Quake

FALLON, Nev. (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to explode an underground nuclear device about 30 miles east of here Saturday as part of a program to distinguish underground nuclear blasts from earthquake waves.

The AEC announced yesterday that a one-mile section of U.S. highway 50 would be closed for about 15 minutes during the detonation. It is scheduled for 10 a.m. PDT (12 p.m. Pontiac time), but the commission said delays and postponements were possible.

The highway is about five miles north of the proposed detonation point in the Sands Springs area.

The AEC said the road was being closed because the blast may loosen rocks and gravel on a steep slope near the highway, and there may be enough ground motion at the distance of the roadway to startle motorists if they are not forewarned.

The public has been invited to watch the test, but the AEC said there "will probably not be anything to see since the explosion will be 1,200 feet underground in granite."

Tell Fellows to Go Hunting Without You This Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having an argument and have agreed to let you settle it.

I made plans to go deer hunting from Dec. 13 through Dec. 22.

My wife is expecting her second baby on Dec. 14th, and she wants me to be home to take her to the hospital.

ABBY

Our first baby came two weeks late, and I have a hunch this one will, too. My wife says she has a hunch this one will be on time.

If I am needed, I can get back home in 12 hours.

I can't change the date of the trip because I am going with two other men and all the plans are set. Don't you think I should plan to go?

DEER HUNTER

DEAR DEER HUNTER: Tell your friends to go without you. A dear in the cradle is worth two on the fender.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine has two different colored eyes. One is brown and the other is blue.

I once knew a bull dog with the same thing. Does it mean anything?

DEAR CURIOUS: Having two different colored eyes occurs only occasionally in man and beast — and in birds, too. (Not fish — their eyes are colorless.)

It's a freak of nature, indicating that the color chromosomes went a little wild.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and my husband is 26. We have three lovely children who mean the world to us.

Yesterday while my husband was sleeping, I went into his wallet to get some snapshots of our children to show a neighbor.

On the back in my husband's handwriting, was a phone number, so I called her up. She said she didn't know any "Wally" and she hung up on me.

When I asked my husband about it, he admitted he had been seeing her at a bar every Friday night for a few months, but that was all there was to it.

He swore he loved me and said if I forgave him, he'd never see her again. What should I do? I am all broken up.

ALL BROKEN UP

DEAR BROKEN: Double your efforts to be everything a man wants in a wife.

Nagging, recrimination and coolness will only give him good reason to turn his attentions elsewhere again.

Tell him you forgive him and then really forgive him and put it out of your mind.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. AND H.: You could live on a lot less if you had a little more to live for.

Coffee Cup No Place for Ashes

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My wife and I had dinner with friends the other evening. After dessert was served I lit a cigarette.

There were no ash trays on the table so I put the ashes in my empty coffee cup. My wife took me to task later for doing this.

She said it was not good manners. What is your opinion on this?

A: When no ash trays are provided, one should not smoke unless certain that the hostess has no objection to smoking at table.

In this case, one should ask the hostess for an ash tray and not put ashes in the coffee cup.

Q: My fiance and I are going to be married quietly in a small chapel with just our immediate families in attendance.

We are going to have a rather large reception afterward for our many friends and relatives.

Will you please tell me how the invitations to this reception should be worded?

A: The wording is:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones request the pleasure of your company
at the wedding reception of their daughter
Mary Elizabeth
and
Mr. Henry Blake
on Saturday, the second of November
at four o'clock
Riverside Country Club

Q: If a widow calls herself Mrs. Mary Jones, should she still be addressed as Mrs. John Jones when writing to her? In other words, should others ignore her preference and follow correct form?

A: If she prefers being known as Mrs. Mary Jones, that is the way she should be addressed, even though it is incorrect.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

It's Cruel to Ridicule a Child's Mistakes

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

He came upon the tortoise soon after finishing Sunday dinner. It was plodding its way over the grass beside the garage, but when he squatted down beside it, it stopped moving.

It withdrew its head, its feet, all of itself back into the safety of its shell and just sat there, motionless, a black, yellow-veined hump shut in on its hidden mysterious life.

He had to share his feeling of wonder. Running into the house to where his parents and assorted relatives were, he rushed up to his father, crying breathlessly, "Come out with me! I've found a thing! It's funner than here! Come and see . . ."

Everybody laughed. Then an uncle said jovially, "What's that, kid? 'Funner,' huh? Well, that's a new one on me."

So he ran away to the downstairs bathroom and he locked himself in.

Notice it when the child you have laughed at runs away. Otherwise, you may laugh at him once too often. And you as well as other people will become to him what they are to the tortoise — things to withdraw from, enemies from which to hide the vulnerable self.

It is not for nothing that psychiatrists invariably cite ridicule of little children as a prime cause of adult maladjustment.

You can always spot the person who has been laughed at as a child. You must never ask him for anything.

His need to maintain distance between himself and other people is understandable. Ridicule has destroyed his capacity to believe that he has anything of value to offer us.

Ridicule of little children produces distance-keepers because ridicule itself is a distance-maker. No matter how kindly we imagine we laugh at the small boy or girl, our laughter cuts their connection with us.

It makes absurd their clumsy, eager efforts to show us their vulnerable, enthusiastic, saddened or angry selves into entertainment. It cracks the human expectation of human response.

Returning to Mrs. Lewis' home, the group held a short business meeting.

Mrs. Ray Allen, Mrs. Glenn Hickson, Mrs. Elvin McCarty and Mrs. Robert Smith will attend the fall council meeting in Grosse Pointe Wednesday.

Children Learn Well

An Experience With the Blind

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Shaking hands with those who cannot see, can be a somewhat moving experience!

The four teenagers being tutored by Mrs. George Carhart of Hadsell Drive were born prematurely and are blind. Life for them began in an incubator.

The 14-year-old twins, Morris and Maurice Falls, live with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Falls on Shimmons Road. They attended the State School for the Blind in Lansing for four years and then were able to go to the Braille room at Alcott Elementary School for a year.

To supplement private tutoring in Braille for the boys Mr. Falls learned Braille so he could help his sons with their reading. Now they read, Braille-write, work arithmetic problems and type. They are learning to play the accordion.

"SEES" MOUNTAINS

"Come see the Andes Mountains on my physical map of South America" suggested Maurice, when not complaining of a loose tooth 'sure to drop out before lunchtime.'

Turning toward a sunny window, Morris assured us that he could sense the brightness and also had a nodding acquaintance with the moon and stars. He could see lightning and had studied its causes.

He bubbled over with talk about molecules, atmospheric pressure and static electricity. "Oh, where are our science books?"

QUIZ KID

His brother was proud to know the capital of India and who was the emperor of China. This he learned from his 'political' map. Geography is taught on 'physical' maps of various continents which are in relief.

June Holt who is 14, lives with her father William Holt and an aunt on Greenshield Road, Orion Township. Her mother died two years ago.

When June was six and seven, she attended school in Lansing but found it difficult to adjust to the school and to being away from home.

Mrs. Carhart has been teaching her to read Braille. She writes on the Braille writer, gift of the Lake Orion Lions' Club, is working on arithmetic, types, and plans to continue to study script-writing.

Trudy Mermelstein, age 13 who comes from Detroit, is the daughter of the Bence Mermelsteins. She weighed in at one pound, 11 ounces, the smallest infant born in a Pontiac hospital at that time.

June and the boys had swimming each week all last year at the Derby Junior High School in Birmingham. This recreation was made possible through a Birmingham Girl Scout troop who provided a scout for each of the swimmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks offered the group the use of their private pool on the grounds of the Bloomfield Hospital. Two outings were held here each week in summer.

Mrs. Carhart, a former nursery school teacher, dedicated to her work, regrets that her students are unable to indulge in active sports. She takes them on walks in a wooded section near her home and longs for the day when someone will donate a bicycle-type exerciser.

She became interested in helping the blind through her pastor at the Oakland Park Methodist Church, who knew she had studied Braille.

Bleach When Made

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I made a sweater out of nylon stockings a la Polly's Pointers of some time ago.

But instead of dyeing the stockings first, I used them as they came, then bleached the completed sweater and dyed it. That way I was sure the sweater would be colored evenly. —MRS. W. W. M.

As far as I know there is no book that has such directions. You could use any pattern you like but I do think it would be well to choose a style that uses either the garter or stockinette stitch as patterns might be a bit tricky to do with the nylon strips.

Use any size needle you like. It all depends on whether you wish it to look loose and lacy or be more closely knit. I have found that, for me, wooden or plastic needles are best; nylon slips badly on aluminum needles.

Make a sample swatch as you would for any other knitting to see how many stitches you are doing to an inch and then adapt it to the number called for in the pattern.

As to the number of stockings required—that, too, is impossible to answer as it would be determined by the size of the needles, the sweater pattern, size and the condition of the stockings.

I have been discarding all those that have wide "ladders" and only using the ones with runs not more than two stitches wide, I had about a hundred single stockings when I started the cardigan I am now making in a size 14 on No. 8 needles. It will have three-quarter-length sleeves.

I feel sure all of the stockings at hand will be used and perhaps more. However this is not as bad as it sounds for with Mrs. W. W. M.'s idea, a sweater can be started with any number and others added as the work progresses.

Pumpkin Spice Cake Is Moist and Rich

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you are planning refreshments for Halloween, why not try a pumpkin spice cake? You are in for a pleasant surprise. Pumpkin cake is a lovely gold color. It is similar in texture to an applesauce cake.

Mrs. Harold J. Ball of Ortonville is our cook today.

PUMPKIN SPICE CAKE
By Mrs. Harold J. Ball

1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
1 egg
2 cups pumpkin
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
4 tablespoons grated bitter chocolate
1 teaspoon baking powder (to be added last)

Bake in 8x8 pan for 60 minutes at 350 degrees.

Mrs. Ball says a butter icing is good on this cake, although it is satisfying and rich without any icing.

Church Unit Works on Annual Fair

Party Will Help Club's Charities

The North Suburban Alumnae Club of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will sponsor a dessert-bridge party Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Lynn Townsend.

Mrs. James Theodoroff and Mrs. Townsend who are cochairmen of the fund-raising affair are being assisted by Mrs. Alvin Clark.

A portion of the proceeds will aid the group's international projects, assisting cerebral palsy and cleft palate patients.

On the local level, contributions are made to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and funds are made available to friends and relatives of the South Oakland County handicapped to send a child to camp.

Program Features Ceramist

John Cushion, an authority on ceramics from the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, England, will speak at the Village Women's club at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. The lecture is open to the public.

Mr. Cushion will talk on the major English porcelain factories such as Bow, Derby, Chelsea and Worchester, with particular emphasis on identification.

He is a research assistant in the ceramic department of the museum. In this country he would be called a curator.

AUTHOR

Authority on "markings," he has written three books on ceramics.

For three years Mr. Cushion has been a tutor at the Attingham Park Summer School, an annual three weeks school attended by some 45 American collectors and students. It was organized by the National Trust and Shropshire Adult College.

Moose Chapter Slates Dance and Bazaar

Women of the Moose, Pontiac Chapter 360, will sponsor a Halloween dance Saturday in Moose Hall on Mt. Clemens Street.

Mrs. James Shaffor Jr., graduate regent of the chapter, will receive her green beanie at the Moose Women's convocation, Sunday, in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Ferman Huston, star recorder of Pontiac chapter, will also participate.

At the business meeting Monday evening, plans were made for the annual bazaar on Nov. 23.

No Relief to Autumn Drought

Dry Weather Continues to Plague Nation

CHICAGO (AP) — Autumn's severe prolonged drought held a vise-like grip on broad areas of the nation from the southern Plains to New England today.

Drought conditions, forest fires and water shortages continued to plague many sections. Losses to crops and property mounted into the millions of dollars.

There appeared no prospect of an immediate, general break in autumn's extended dry and unseasonably warm weather. Record high temperatures in the 80s in many parts of the dry belt heightened the fire danger in many of the parched woodlands.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington said drought conditions continued unabated in most of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, the southern third of Missouri and across most of the country east of the Mississippi River except for parts of Illinois.

NO MEASURABLE RAIN

Ohio has not had measurable rain for 42 days. Many other sections in the drought region have reported rainless days and summer-like temperatures for the past several weeks. Rain fell across scattered sections in the central states the past few days, bringing a measure of relief to the farm lands.

But the Weather Bureau predicted that rainfall in the eastern quarter of the nation—where the forest fires are the most critical—will be below normal for the next 30 days.

State forest lands in New York, New England and in areas in the South and Midwest have been closed to lessen the fire hazard. Officials have halted hunting and fishing in some states.

Millions of people, including residents in New York City, were urged to conserve water. New York city officials mapped a program they hope will cut the city's water consumption by 25 per cent. The city's six upstate reservoirs were at 31.4 per cent of capacity.

In Flemingsburg, a town of about 2,000 population in northeastern Kentucky, water was being hauled to the filtration plant from nearby Maysville on the Ohio River. City officials were to consider rationing water.

DRY RIVER

The Susquehanna River at Wilkes Barre, Pa., was officially classified as dry Wednesday. There is a little water in the river but it is below measuring instruments.

Although farmers in many parts of the drought belt have suffered heavy losses, the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington said conditions have been nearly ideal for the maturity, drying and rapid harvesting of crops, principally corn, soybeans, cotton and peanuts.

But the Weather Bureau said that the lack of rain and the increased evaporation due to dry air, sunny skies and high daytime temperatures have created an intensified soil moisture deficiency.

Hit by the dry weather are fall-seeded small grains for 1964 harvest, pastures and stock ponds, wells, streams and forests.

British Guiana Is One Big Headache

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As Britain step by step has gone about the business of dismantling its empire and giving independence to former colonies, among the most persistent of its headaches has been the crown colony of British Guiana.

NEWSOM

Although on the way for more than 10 years, independence still is a goal to be realized by British Guiana, which is situated on the north coast of South America and is about the size of Kansas.

Now the British are making another try at setting a date.

British Guiana has been described as a small country with big problems, poor, racially divided and isolated by mountains and jungle.

As well as being a problem to itself and to Britain, it also is a problem for the United States.

At the center of the problem is Guiana's Prime Minister, Dr. Cheddi Jagan, an American-trained dentist of East Indian descent, and his wife, Janet, who once called Chicago home and who doubles as Minister for Home Affairs with responsibility for internal security.

In London. Jagan has been making dire predictions of an "explosion" if British Guiana does not achieve its independence now.

The country, he said, could be the signpost, whether the whole of Latin America is to proceed through peaceful evolution or bloody revolt.

Jagan derives his strength from the East Indians who make up nearly half of British Guiana's population, living most in rural areas and working on the big plantations.

Last April the two forces locked in a bloody struggle which began with a general strike and lasted 11 weeks. Fourteen persons were killed in ensuing Negro-Indian race riots and about 40 buildings were bombed or burned.

Before british troops restored order, losses in property and wages ran to millions of dollars.

Jagan used the period to strengthen his ties both with the Soviet Union and Cuba. He seized Shell Oil storage facilities and used them to store Russian gasoline.

Cuba shipped in oil and flour and the Soviet Union offered long-term loans and cheap prices for fertilizers and agricultural machinery.

Jagan also offered landing rights to Cuban planes next door to both Venezuela and Brazil.

The United States sees an independent Guiana under Jagan as another Cuba and its suspicions are confirmed by Jagan's own words.

It brought pressure upon Britain to see that such does not occur. On the other hand, there have been British complaints that the U.S. position destroys any chance of racial peace or national unity.

In federal property in the United States, the Army, Navy and Air Force have the largest investment in dollars. The Department of Justice has the least of all.

Calcium Allays Ills Caused by Allergy

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"My doctor says I have a bad allergy. I break out with giant hives and have spasms in stomach and chest, which the doctor says are all part of my allergy. Also in winter I suffer a great deal from bronchial trouble and severe throat.

"Well, about three months ago I read your article telling how important it is for people with allergies to have a high calcium diet and/or an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D.

"Since that wonderful day I've been drinking a quart or more of skim milk a day. Before that the only milk I drank was a little in my coffee.

"Dr. Brady, like a miracle from heaven I am feeling so much better, the spasms are not nearly so hard and some days there are none at all. I am now able to do my housework without stopping to lie down to calm the spasms."

(Mrs. F.D.L.)

CALCIUM SHORTAGE

In Little Lesson 26, "The Calcium Shortage" (35 cents and stamped, self - addressed envelope), I say that supplementing the ordinary diet with extra calcium and vitamin D lessens allergic sensitivity regardless of the form or character of the allergic manifestation. It is not a cure, however.

The "spasms in stomach and chest," which Mrs. F.D.L.'s doctor considered manifestations of allergy, perhaps of the same character as painful muscle cramps which many mature adults have in legs or feet in the middle of the night or early morning.

These cramps constitute adult tetany, which calls for high calcium diet and/or supplementing the ordinary diet with Ca & D. Again this is not a cure. It is prophylaxis or prevention.

Young children with tetany usually do not have painful cramps but just leg ache after they go to bed, which makes them cry. Popular name for this is "growing pains." Of course it doesn't hurt to grow, but in a way it is true that rapid growth does use up most of the limited supply of calcium and D in the children's namby-pamby refined diet and thus predisposes to tetany.

Anyway tetany in young children or mature adults is a manifestation of nutritional deficiency — the victim consumes less than an optimal daily ration (a quart) of milk or the equivalent in skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk, dry milk powder and cheese.

SPECIAL DIET

Other manifestations of allergy which call for high calcium diet (as described in the calcium booklet) and extra calcium and D are hay fever, spasmodic asthma, hot flashes, eczema and recurring hives.

For a pamphlet on any one of these conditions or on relief for Allergy, or on Tetany and Growing Pains, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you want more than one of these, enclose with the stamped, self-addressed envelope 25c for each two.

A quart of milk contains nearly 15 grains of calcium. A healthy person who gets enough exercise uses up about 15 grains of calcium daily. This is elementary physiology.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Former Dictator Ordered Arrested

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Colombian government has ordered the arrest for 20 days of former Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla for making a speech Sunday.

Police searched the ex - dictator's home in Bogota, but he was believed to be at his ranch 60 miles west of the capital.

After Rojas Pinilla's overthrow in 1957, the Senate convicted him of abusing his authority while president and revoked his civil and political rights. The revocation included a ban on speaking in public.

Anti-Castro Exiles Taken in Gun Sale

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two anti-Castro revolutionaries complained to police that $2,000 worth of arms they bought turned out to be concrete blocks and grass when they opened the box.

Police tracked down the sellers Wednesday. They returned the money.

Chairmen Introduced by Goldwater Backer

PORT HURON (UPI)—Creighton D. Holden, Michigan chairman of the Goldwater for President Committee, last night introduced 12 district chairmen who will be working with him for the election of the Arizona Senator.

Holden took exception to remarks made earlier this week by Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., that the election of Sen. Goldwater will lead this nation to war. "Congressman Staebler's remarks were irresponsible," Holden said.

International Meal U. N. Day Highlight

An international dinner, featuring 30 foreign exchange students, will be held tonight at Oakland University.

Sponsored by the Rochester chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN), the dinner will climax observance of United Nations Day.

Charles A. Hogan, 57, secretary of the U.N. Technical Assistance Committee, will be the principal speaker at the dinner.

Earlier today, Hogan spoke to student assemblies at Rochester and Romeo high schools. He also discussed U. N. activities with OU students.

About 30 foreign exchange students, including three from Pontiac, will attend the dinner.

Senate Committee Votes Probe of Aide's Interests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee has voted a full investigation of Robert G. Baker and any other present or former Senate employe who may have been involved in a conflict of interest.

Baker was secretary to the Democratic majority when he quit his $19,600 a year post on Oct. 7, shortly after it was disclosed that the FBI was looking into his outside business transactions.

That investigation, in turn, apparently was triggered by a $300,000 damage suit filed by a vending machine company alleging Baker had used his Senate position to obtain contracts for another vending firm.

Rules Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., said yesterday the committee by unanimous vote gave him broad authority to seek information from the FBI, Senate payroll records and income tax records, bearing on possible conflicts of interest. And the committee didn't limit the study to Baker.

The committee said in a statement that before the hearings are opened to the public, "every witness and all matters shall be first heard in executive session through sworn testimony."

The closed sessions begin next Tuesday. Sen. John Williams, R-Del., who proposed the investigation, was invited to appear then with any information he has as well as a list of suggested witnesses.

Jordan would not comment on reports in The Washington Post concerning Baker's business transactions, saying "as for the present we have no charges or evidence before us."

GETS DOCUMENTS

He said, however, that Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had provided him with documents dealing with payments to four or five Senate employes, including pages—some of them allegedly concerning payments for periods in which no work was performed.

Mansfield has said one case the committee will study is that of Edward E. Horgan Jr., a former member of Baker's staff. In a statement to the committee Horgan said he was paid part of his $5,800 annual salary while attending Montana State University in four months in 1961.

The Washington Post said today that Baker at one time was a partner with Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges in ownership of a Charlotte, N.C., motel, and that Hodges also was a partner with Sen. Jordan in another motel at Durham, N.C.

Hodges is a former governor of North Carolina. A spokesman for his office confirmed both transactions yesterday, but noted that Hodges had sold his interest in both motels after joining the Kennedy administration.

Jordan told the Post "as far as I know I have never had an interest in any business in which Baker had an interest either directly or indirectly."

Risks Life for Loot

CADEBY, England (UPI) — A thief risked his life to steal half a mile of copper wire strung below 33,000-volt overhead cables, police said.

"One mistake in the dark could have killed him," an official said.

Dinner With Friends

Ava a 'Shy,' Charming Gypsy

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico — A famous face appeared out of the night, just outside the restaurant window. It was Ava Gardner's.

THOMAS

"Is this place respectable, or can any bum come in?" she asked in her throaty voice.

"Do join us, my dear," responded Tennessee Williams. "You're absolutely welcome."

Ava joined the playwright and some fellow diners at the open-air restaurant that overlooked the tropical Pacific. She wore a voluminous white serape-like robe with a bathing suit underneath. The famous Gardner legs were visible and handsome, and she was barefoot.

"I've been waterskiing," she said, pinning up her tousled hair. "Great fun, but I have a devil of a time getting my seat up out of the water."

STAYS AWHILE

Said she: "I would like to have homes in two places—London and Spain. Those would be my bases, and the rest of the time I would travel. I'm a gypsy."

Williams mentioned his fondness for New Orleans, and she admitted it was one of the two American cities that fascinated her. "New Orleans — and San Francisco," she said.

An old acquaintance from Hollywood asked if she had lost her taste for the movie town.

"Did I ever have any?" she replied, not without a note of bitterness.

DISCUSS ROLE

She and Williams discussed her role in "Night of the Iguana," which is filming here. He said that he was writing a new scene especially for her.

"It is something in which you will have to get your juices up, my dear," he instructed. "You can't hold back. You must give them hell."

"I will, I will," she vowed.

The talk continued into the night. Ava told of her life in Spain, where she has spent her recent years. Her Spanish is still not readily understood by the natives, she said.

"I had a wonderful teacher," she remarked, "but he liked martinis and we would spend the time drinking them and telling stories—in English."

SHY GIRL

Shy is a word that recurs in her conversation, and it is significant in her present life. She shuns photographers and interviewers and sees only close and longstanding friends.

Yet for an evening she was gay and charming at a table in a Puerto Vallarta restaurant.

Labor Makes First Attack on New Tory Government

LONDON (UPI)—The opposition Labor party today launched its first attack on the new government of Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, criticizing his decision to delay the next session of Parliament for two weeks.

Douglas - Home, who resigned his seat in the House of Lords yesterday so he can appear in Commons, was not present when Labor leader Harold Wilson opened the attack.

Douglas-Home is not yet a member of Commons but could have attended in the distinguished visitors' gallery.

TO WIN SEAT

The prime minister brought about the delay to give himself time to win a seat in the lower house in a by-election Nov. 7. He was leaving tonight for the district, Kinross, Scotland, to campaign.

Wilson, who will oppose Home in national elections to be held within the year, used the last session of the old Parliament as his platform.

"Because of the extraordinary and unique procedure with which this government has been formed we are now told that this house shall be sent packing for two weeks," Wilson said.

Home was the first peer to become prime minister since 1902, but to govern effectively he must have a seat in Commons.

NEITHER HOUSE

Wilson said this means that Britain today has a prime minister "who is a member of neither house of Parliament."

"For this reason and this reason only, the House is told that it cannot do its duty as it conceives its duty," he added in a reference to the postponement.

Wilson also lashed out at the way Home had been chosen by the Conservative party after a series of bitter intraparty fights.

"We have seen democracy at work in the Tory party," he said. "Nature in the raw, red in tooth and claw."

Wilson earlier had called the postponement an act "verging on the unconstitutional." But he admitted there was nothing Labor could do about it.

Tito Protected, Adlai Asserts

N. Y. Police Are Lax, Says Yugoslav Chief

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yugoslav President Tito got little sympathy from Adlai Stevenson yesterday with his complaint of inadequate police protection.

"The police have given maximum security necessary for their protection," the U.S. representative to the United Nations said in commenting on the reason given by Tito's aides for cancellation of a reception originally set for tonight.

"They were wise to cancel it," Stevenson said. "But I don't like the way they did it, saying they could not get security protection from the city police."

Tito, in canceling the dinner for 1,100 guests, said New York police failed to "undertake adequate security measures," a charge which Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy termed "sheer, unadulterated nonsense."

WAS A SURPRISE

The decision for the motor ride took State Department officers by surprise, and they asked the aid of city police who provided a dozen cars, six motorcycle patrolmen and a helicopter.

Tito originally asked to see a farm but was told there was none of any reasonable size within an hour and a half of the city.

The party wound up driving 60 miles along the Hudson River north of the city, then northwest to Sterlin Forest, a 30-square mile privately owned community near Tuxedo.

More than 100 spectators were present when Tito arrived at the forest, and security forces held them back from the party. After a picture-taking session, Tito and his wife had lunch at a cafeteria in the forest.

Local Optometrist Gets State Position

A Pontiac doctor was one of two appointed yesterday to the State Board of Examiners in Optometry by Gov. George Romney, contingent on Senate confirmation.

Also appointed was Dr. Chauncey J. Howe Sr., of Hillsdale, to a new term. Dr. Howe has been on the board since 1927 and is now secretary-treasurer.

Both men's terms expire in 1969.

The federal gas tax in effect now costs the taxpayers more each year than the total tax receipts of the national government from all sources about 40 years ago.

Festival Founder Dies

President's Father Visits His Business

The elder Kennedy, still suffering from the effects of a paralytic stroke, smiled warmly as aides wheeled him through the building, the world's largest commercial structure. Kennedy flew to Chicago from Hyannis Port, Mass.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP

QUESTION: How does soap make you clean?

ANSWER: Our bodies are covered with several million sweat glands which are tiny tubes opening through the skin. As the sweat evaporates, it cools the skin, regulating body heat.

Dirt can clog up these pores, making us uncomfortable because the sweat glands can't do their work.

But a good soaping breaks up the dirt into minute pieces so it can be flushed out with the water—then we feel fine again!

Just by itself, water doesn't penetrate a dirty or greasy surface, because its surface molecules pull together and try not to get separated.

Soap breaks this "surface tension" so the water can work through and get at the dirt. Soap also breaks grease and oil into little droplets which can be rinsed away. Certain kinds of dirt are absorbed into the suds.

To make soap, huge quantities of fats, oils and soda are piped into kettles rising up to 80 feet high. Steam is used to heat this; then tons of salt go in and the mixture separates; the top part or soap curd is poured off and mixed with other materials to make soap.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try soap carving! Get a large bar of soft white soap, make a design and draw it on both sides. Then cut carefully down. Use an orange stick for scraping out small details. You can smooth it to an attractive polish with your fingers.

Gov. Romney Proclaims Special Industry Week

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed the period from Dec. 1 through Dec. 8 as "Michigan for Industry Week".

In his proclaimation, Romney said "Michigan's economic expansion depends on the broading of our industrial base." He said this can be accomplished by the full utilization of Michigan's manufacturing capabilities and facilities.

All Are Insured in Texas, Even 102-Year-Old

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When the state-sponsored Texas 65 Insurance Association was recently launched, it announced that all elderly Texans would have a chance to get health insurance regardless of age or health.

This week Eunice Oliver, 102, who lives near Belton, got her policy.

Mrs. Oliver lost her hearing 50 years ago and is almost blind. Her family and friends communicate with her through large plastic letters arranged on a board.

It is the first health policy she has ever owned. After it was explained to her she agreed, "It might be good to take out the insurance because I just might get sick one of these day."

Bases used in the major leagues are 15 inches square.

Cattle Smell Nice Down Arizona Way

PHOENIX (UPI) — Pioneer ranchers in the area may be shuddering in their graves, but today feedlots and cattle are beginning to smell like orange blossoms in Arizona.

A new business in the state concerns the spraying of cattle feedlots by low flying helicopters.

Grid Wolves in Showdown With Lakers

N'ville at Brighton, Hills' 11 Will Meet Holly in Afternoon

West Bloomfield and Clarkston will risk their Wayne - Oakland League title hopes Friday night in an 8 p.m. showdown at the latter's gridiron.

Both will have one more league game and could tie for crown by winning the last one, but it would require an upset of this week's victor to produce that result.

THREE-WAY TIE

Northville, which is tied with Clarkston and the Lakers at 4-1, will play at Brighton this week. Other league games Friday have Clarenceville at Milford and Holly at Bloomfield Hills for the latter's afternoon Homecoming game.

West Bloomfield coach Art Paddy must build his attack around injuries, again. The Lakers have been bothered by key players in and out of the lineup all season and this week will be no different.

Talented end Rick Hecht will probably miss this week's contest with a bad ankle. Guard Bob Mannor is out for the season.

But Paddy is not worried about the squad's spirit and determination.

"Our players know we're going to be in a ball game," he said yesterday.

"I think they're a real good team," he said. "We must stop their running game."

Clarkston is sound physically and well aware of the importance of the clash. Coach Ralph Kenyon will not permit the wolves to ease up this week in practice.

"I always have respect for any of Art Paddy's teams. They like to hit," Kenyon warned Wednesday.

A big factor will probably be the line play. The home team is bigger, but the Lakers will be faster starting their blocks.

Student tickets are on sale at both schools. Adult ducats will be available at the game. At least 3,000 fans are expected, with maybe 4,000 if the good weather holds up.

Seating is limited but there is ample standing room and parking available.

Huskies in Homecoming Tilt

Farmington's Falcons will be looking to do some celebrating at Pontiac Northern's Homecoming game at 8 p.m. Friday at Wisner Stadium.

The two Inter-Lakes League teams will be battling for second place in the loop finale for both.

A victory for Farmington would be particularly sweet since the Falcons won only one of their first five starts this year. Clinching the loop runner-up spot would salvage some honor for them.

Despite its slow start, Farmington currently holds the loop's No. 2 position with a 2-1-1 record after last week's surprise win over Berkley.

Pontiac Northern and the Bears are knotted in third place with 2-2 marks. Walled Lake has already clinched the title with a 4-0 log.

Second place in the I-L will not mean much to the Northern Huskies who started the season very strong. But it will be better than fourth which is where another defeat could place them.

PNH PICKED

The Huskies will be favored Friday night although the possibility of a letdown after last week's spanking by Walled Lake is likely.

Against common foes, PNH has toppled Southfield, 16-12, and Waterford, 34-6, while losing to Berkley, 21-13, and Walled Lake, 27-6.

The Falcons' only league loss was a 39-6 pasting from Walled Lake; they beat Southfield, 6-0, and Berkley, 25-18, and were tied, 6-6, by Waterford.

Bruce Charles, son of the Southfield head football coach, leads the Farmington offense. Ironically, he scored the only six points in the Falcons' victory over his father's squad.

AIR ATTACK

Farmington has used a 7-2-2 often this year and the Huskies' Jim Kimmel may find this easy pickings for his aerials.

If Don Weyer and Mike Samuilow can loosen up the defense with their outside runs, fullback Steve Daniels, also, may continue to show his talent for breaking loose with his inside power thrusts.

The Huskies visited Farmington last year for the latter's Homecoming game and proved popular with Falcon fans by dropping a 13-7 decision.

Now the Falcons can return the favor; but they cannot be expected to give it away.

TICKET RUSH — Pro football fans in Cleveland jammed the stadium ticket windows yesterday for the remaining 10,000 general admission tickets which were put on sale for the Browns-Giants game Sunday. Some were in line for seven hours, others were taken to the hospital when trampled in the rush.

Mad Rush in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two men were taken to a hospital Wednesday when a crush developed among nearly 5,000 pro football fans seeking tickets to Sunday's game between the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns.

Some of the fans had been in line as long as seven hours before the ticket windows opened at Cleveland Stadium with 10,000 tickets on sale.

The fans, who had stood in line quietly, surged toward the windows in a momentous crush. The two men taken to a hospital were trampled in the rush toward the windows.

Julian Wilson, a photographer for The Associated Press, said some people fainted and others became sick in the crush.

The Browns had offered 10,000 general admission and standing room tickets, which were to be sold from 5 to 9 p.m., with unsold tickets being offered Thursday. The supply ran out Wednesday.

All reserved seats had been sold out 10 days ago.

Swami Vogel pulled the big shocker by calling the tie between Southfield and Waterford, but he has one more miss than Swami Craig and finds himself a half game behind, which could turn out to be a big factor when the season ends.

Our tears go out to Slippery Rock, a 9-7 loser to Westminster last week. Only Swami Craig isn't crying, he picked up the winner, and can thank the pick for being in first place right now.

Pistons Foul to Defeat by L. A. Lakers

Detroit Quint Holds Big Early Lead Then Folds, 124-110

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, after racing off to a 28-9 lead, fouled up their National Basketball Association game against the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night.

Not counting free shots the Lakers got because of Detroit's 38 fouls, the Pistons would have won by six points. Counting them, the Lakers won, 124-116. The Lakers committed 26 fouls.

EARLY LEAD

The Pistons took their 28-9 lead by making 12 of their first 14 shots, with Bob Ferry tossing in five field goals.

Jerry West contributed 11 points, Dick Barnett 10 and Elgin Baylor 7 to the second quarter rally that put the Lakers ahead, 57-54, at half time.

In other NBA action, the league's leading scorer, Walt Bellamy, scored 45 points as he paced the Baltimore Bullets to a 115-106 victory over the New York Knickerbockers at Baltimore. It was the Knicks' fourth straight loss. Baltimore is 2-2.

The San Francisco Warriors came from 10 points behind in the second half and beat the St. Louis Hawks 99-95 at St. Louis. San Francisco now is 2-1. St. Louis is 1-2.

Chances Good in Bowlerama

Bowlerama qualifying will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday morning at Huron Bowl and noon Sunday at Airway Lanes with each house still looking for its first big scorer.

Neither the 612 at Huron nor the 613 at Airway posted last week seem likely to qualify for this year's finals.

The door is open also at 300 Bowl, Cooley Lanes, Maple Lanes, Wonderland Lanes, Howe's Lanes and Montcalm Bowling Center where there have not been any exceptionally high scores.

Qualifiers will be selected on the basis of total entries at each house. The top 12½ per cent of the scores at each establishment will make the Dec. 1st finals.

In addition to the houses mentioned, Collier's Lanes, Lakewood Lanes and West Side Lanes will have qualifying squads Saturday and North Hill Lanes Sunday.

Those four had good results last weekend and expect to continue their high scoring this weekend.

All participating houses will continue their qualifying squads each afternoon as long as there are entrants and lanes available.

NOW TO REPEAT — Chuck LaBarge led all scores in the opening weekend of Bowlerama qualifying by firing a 723 series (with handicap) Sunday at West Side Lanes. The score undoubtedly will qualify him for the finals Dec. 1st at 300 Bowl. LaBarge now hopes he can repeat his performance in the finals and maybe walk off with the $700 first prize. Meanwhile, other local bowlers will be firing away this weekend hoping to come close to his score.

N'western Entertains Spartans

By The Associated Press

Another battle for one of football's oldest trophies and the tough task of beating Northwestern in its homecoming game are in store for Michigan and Michigan State this Saturday.

Michigan, winless since an opening victory over Southern Methodist, travels to Minneapolis for a game with Minnesota. The game marks the 48th renewal of the famed little Brown Jug series, with Michigan holding a 30-16-1 margin.

GOPHER STREAK

The Wolverines, however have not been able to beat Minnesota since 1959.

Michigan State, meanwhile, must beat Northwestern to remain in the thick of the battle for the Big Ten title. MSU carries a 1-0-1 conference record into the game. Northwestern is 2-1.

In the Michigan-Minnesota clash, each team will be looking for its first Big Ten triumph. Michigan has a loss and a tie to show in two league games, while Minnesota has lost both of its games.

Ohio State, clobbered by Southern California in a non-conference match last Saturday, doesn't have a pushover this week, either. The Buckeyes, 1-0-1 in the conference, meet league-leading Wisconsin at Madison.

Iowa is at Purdue in the other Big Ten game. Indiana is host to Cincinnati and Illinois is at UCLA in non-conference games.

INJURIES

Michigan expects to be in top shape when coach Bump Elliott takes a 38-man traveling squad to Minneapolis. Brian Patchen will take over at center for Tom Cecchini, who is lost for the season with a knee injury suffered in the Purdue game last Saturday.

Michigan State has been cheered by the return to form of back Dewey Lincoln and Ron Rubick. These two speedsters should give the Wildcats something to think about — when they're not watching their own quarterback, Tommy Myers, in action.

MSU holds a 4-3 edge in the series between the two schools and has won four straight since 1959.

Wisconsin puts its perfect 4-0 record on the line against OSU with all front line players ready to go.

Indiana also is in fine fettle as it looks for its first victory in the Cincinnati game.

Iowa suffered no serious injuries in losing to Wisconsin last week and will be trying to better its 1-1 record against Purdue.

Purdue, meanwhile, recorded a number of minor injuries against Michigan and went through light drills during the early part of the week. Saturday's game will be Purdue's homecoming.

Lemm Expects Browns to Lose

Cardinals Coach Retains Title Hopes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Coach Wally Lemm saw the breaks desert his St. Louis Cardinals in a 30-7 loss to Green Bay last Sunday, but he hasn't given up hope of catching the powerful Cleveland Browns in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

The surprising Cardinals, tied for second place with New York at 4-2 and two games behind Cleveland, meet the Redskins Sunday in Washington.

"There's still a long way to go," Lemm said today. "It takes a helluva ball club to win all 14 games."

HISTORY PROVES IT

The Browns, led by the amazing Jimmy Brown, are almost halfway after six straight victories, but history echoes Lemm's thoughts. The last team to go undefeated was the Chicago Bears 21 years ago and they only played 11 games.

"Pittsburgh and New York are both capable of stopping Cleveland," Lemm said, although the Browns already have beaten each of them once. And he forgot to mention his upstart Cardinals, who still must face J. Brown and Co. twice.

"The Redskins were very, very fortunate last year when they had that winning streak," Lemm said of Washington's 4-0-2 start last season. "They got all the breaks.

"It was just like our last five minutes against Pittsburgh," he said, referring to the two late touchdowns the Cardinals scored two weeks ago to beat the Steelers 24-23.

But the Redskins ran out of breaks last year, losing seven of their last eight and currently are only 2-4.

STOP MITCHELL

The big job Sunday will be to stop Bobby Mitchell.

"He's dangerous on the long one," Lemm said, "and he's probably the fastest man in the league outside of our Bob Paremore and Mitchell's own teammate Frank Budd." Budd plays behind Mitchell.

While Lemm was talking about the Washington game, he didn't mention a clash of words between him and Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi concerning Packer fullback Jim Taylor.

Lemm had accused Taylor of unnecessary crawling after he was tackled during the Cardinal loss to Green Bay 30-7 last Sunday at St. Louis. Lemm told reporters he agreed with a column written by Bob Burnes, sports editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, in which Burnes said "a team as great as the Packers doesn't need a player like that."

Birmingham: the city of champions.

Well, not quite yet, but there is a good possibility. Birmingham's two public high schools are on the verge of copping grid championships.

Groves has already clinched a share of the Northwest Suburban League title and can wrap it up Saturday with a victory over second place Livonia Franklin.

Seaholm still has a tough road to travel. The Maples must get by East Detroit Friday and then meet strong Roseville in the league finale.

Seaholm's problem is a tie. The Maples are 4-0-1 in Eastern Michigan League play while three other teams have but one loss. Should one of the pursuing trio go unbeaten the rest of the season, and Seaholm lose once, the Maples title hopes would go out the window.

Local sports enthusiast Charlie Irish visited with former Pontiac Northern football coach Ed Heikkinen during a recent visit to the Chicago area.

"Ed likes it in the New Trier system," said Irish, "and more important they like Ed."

Heikkinen is an assistant coach and teacher. There is a possibility he may earn a head coaching post if a proposed new school is constructed.

HE CALLED IT

Don Hoff, athletic director and football coach at Bloomfield Hills, decided to watch last Satauraday's Waterford - Southfield skirmish.

The coach commented early in the first period that he came to "see how defense is played—we've been having our problems this season."

He saw plenty of defense. The game was scoreless.

Waterford coach Stu Thorell, who has been feeling some outside Pressure—all of it unjustified — lately because of the Skippers less than average showing, must be wondering what has to be done to get a victory.

In the last three games, the Skippers have been playing like the Detroit Lions of 1962. The defense has been outstanding. But unlike those Lions of a year ago, the offense has been unable to scrape together enough points for a victory.

0-1-2 MARK

They lost to Berkley 9-6, tied Farmington 6-6 and the deadlocked Southfield.

"If we can hold them to two touchdowns we may do something," said Thorell. "But that will be a difficult task."

Before the season opened, football coach Walt Braun of Oxford shuttered at the thought of the Wildcats meeting Kettering, Lapeer and L'Anse Creuse.

"I'm afraid those schools are just too large for us," he lamented. This wasn't the usual preseason chatter. It looked like the Wildcats had taken too big a bite when they joined the Tri-County.

Today Oxford is on the verge of tying and possibility winning the football crown.

They must get by Romeo Friday to clinch a tie. The only way Oxford can win outright is if Kettering and L'Anse tie Saturday.

Oxford lost to Kettering 34-0, but took the measure of Lapeer in a close battle. Then came last week's unexpected and resounding sack of L'Anse.

Touch League Has Shakeup

They shuffled the standings in the Waterford Township Men's Touch Football League Wednesday night.

The big reason for the shakeup was the Minute Men's 21-0 upset of the defending champion Red Raiders. The loss knocked the previously unbeaten champs into third place.

Bob Casteel ran for one and passed twice to Walt Poe for scores to spark his team's victory. The Minute Men moved into second place with the triumph.

The Zilches took over first place as a Tom Moran to Don Johnston fourth - period touchdown pass gave them a 6-0 win over the winless Rough Riders.

* * * *

In the High School Flag Football League, the Conbrios went into second place with a 12-0 decision over the Fast-Backs as Ron Tarlton scored twice.

Tonight Tim's Barber Shop will play the Dusters at 8:45 p.m. in the Men's League at the Drayton Plains Park.

Oxford Makes Title Bid

A week end of championship play in on tap in the Tri-County loop with three teams having a shot at all or a piece of the crown.

Bidding for the league's top position are Kettering, Oxford and L'Anse Creuse. All own 2-1 records in loop competition.

Oxford will open the championship action by entertaining Romeo Friday evening, and Ketteirng travels to L'Anse for a Saturday night tilt.

DEFENDING CHAMP

Romeo, the 1962 league champ has knocked off Oxford the past three years, but the Bulldogs are out of the race with a 1-2 league mark.

Should Oxford top the Bulldogs, the squad would gain at least a share of the title and take all the marbles if Kettering and L'Anse battle to a tie.

"We're looking for revenge," admitted Braun, a 1952 graduate of Romeo High School.

"It's my old home town and we haven't beat them in three years," he added.

4-2 RECORD

The Wildcats have fashioned a 4-2 mark in an up-and-down season.

They were upended by Kettering two weeks ago, 34-0, but rebounded to knot the league race with a 33-14 decision over L'Anse last week.

"We made a poor showing at Waterford," Braun admitted, adding that "the team played about one-fourth of its ability."

The Oxford squad is in good shape, physically, leaving Braun with the task of getting the Cats into mental condition.

Braun was forced to make two adjustments in his starting lineup two weeks back when tackles Jeff Ruff and Rick Feldmann were injured.

Filling those slots are Jerry Sowels, who replaced Feldmann at defensive tackle, and Roger Fox who was switched from center. Senior Larry Dullack moved into the center spot.

The Captains have also had their share of ups and downs.

WOES MOUNT

Adding to the Captains' woes is the possible loss of halfback Jim Haviland, the team's leading scorer and runner.

Haviland suffered a back injury catching a pass in the first quarter against Lapeer last week and has been held out of practice this week.

Coach Jim Larkin said Haviland's status is doubtful. "We expect the doctor's decision soon," he added.

On the brighter side, the game offers Kettering an opportunity to bring the first football championship to Waterford Township in 15 years.

"Waterford Township has never had one, and I hope Kettering can do it this year," Larkin said.

The 1911 Tigers won 21 of their first 23 games but they finished the season 13½ games out of first place.

Long Season Can 'Shorten' With Victory

Skippers' Defense Hopes to Put Stop to Viking Power

The season is growing very long for the Waterford Skippers, but it would be a lot more enjoyable should they surprise a powerful Walled Lake team Friday night.

The Skippers will play host to the Inter-Lakes League football champions while still looking for their first loop victory.

The other I-L games Friday night will find Farmington at Pontiac Northern and Berkley visiting Southfield.

Waterford has beaten only non-league foe Rochester this season while losing three times and tying twice. The Skippers' attack has produced only three touchdowns in their last four games.

Walled Lake's defense, meanwhile, has yielded only five six-pointers in four league games.

FACE LETDOWN

The Vikings, however, are due for a letdown after soundly whipping Pontiac Northern in the championship game last Friday.

While the Skippers will be definite underdogs this week, their chances look better in the final two games. Thus, an upset win this week followed by closing victories over Lapeer and arch-rival Kettering would give coach Stu Thorell and the Skippers a winning record.

A victory over Walled Lake, unbeaten in six starts, would also assure the home team of avoiding the league cellar.

Waterford's defense has tightened noticeably since the 34-8 loss to PNH. It has permitted only two touchdowns in the last three contests.

The defensive crew will meet a sound test in Walled Lake, however. The Vikings are averaging better than 25 points a game behind the passing arms of John Thomas and Rick Trudeau.

Eagles Grab Guglielmi to Bolster Backfield

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles hope to bolster their quarterback crops by picking up Ralph Guglielmi on waivers, according to officials of the National Football League team.

The Eagles may need an extra quarterback in their game Sunday with the Chicago Bears. Regular quarterback Sonny Jurgensen will miss that game, maybe more, with a shoulder injury. King Hill, the No. 2 quarterback may need relief—hence the interest in Guglielmi.

Meredith Gets QB Nod

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don Meredith, the former Southern Methodist star who has spent most of his professional football career on the Dallas Cowboys' bench, was named the team's No. 1 quarterback today.

Coach Tom Landry of the National Football League entry said Meredith would be the starting quarterback the rest of the season. Landry called it accent on youth.

"Meredith will start at Pittsburgh Sunday," he said, "and he'll be in there most of the rest of the year.

"Eddie Lebaron is a solid quarterback and we knew he can do a good job, but the future of the club is with the young quarterback.

"It's time for Meredith to get the chance."

Against the New York Giants last Sunday, Meredith completed six of 10 passes for 126 yards but played only a few minutes in the final period.

Pro Golfers Favored, but Not Very Warmly

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Rosburg and Joe Campbell established themselves as lukewarm favorites in the $25,000 Fresno Open Golf Tournament when they fired low professional scores of two-under-par 70 in Wednesday's pro-amateur prelude.

The four-day, 72-hole tourney opens Thursday over the 7,181-yard San Joaquin Country Club, a course constructed on grazing and orchard land only two years ago.

Clawson Ace Continues to Pace Scoring Race

Clawson's Brodie Burton continues to lead the pack in the heated Oakland County scoring race and the game schedule may give the Trojan ace an edge over his closest competitor.

Burton, a place-kicking specialist, has 11 TDs included in his point total along with a field goal and 14 extra points and he has two games to play.

Don Wells of Royal Oak St. Mary holds down the runnerup spot with 80 markers, but the speedy halfback has one game to play — this Sunday against St. Michael.

Ron Rice of Northville, the early-season leader, is only eight points back of Burton and he has two games remaining.

Ferndale's George Morey scored 17 points in the Eagles' 42-13 decision over Port Huron last week and moved into the 14th position in the scoring race.

Another new face in the lineup is Mel Patterson, Waterford Kettering's quarterback, who moved into a tie for 19th.

AREA SCORING

Dwight Lee of New Haven held his margin in the area scoring race with a 12-point output against Memphis last week that upped his point total to 93.

Doug Bowerman of Deckerville widened his margin over third-place John Mack last Friday in boosting his scoring total to 73 points. Mack has 60.

Moving into the top twenty for the first time were Dennis Smith (9th) of North Branch, along with Dennis Hilliker of Dryden and Ray Schluentz of Armada, tied for 17th.

Arnie, Jack Picked by Oddsmakers

PARIS (AP) — The United States pair of Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were made 2-1 favorites today to sweep the board in the 72-hole Canada Cup golf tournament.

As players from 33 countries prepared to tee off in the first round today, the men laying odds made the United States favorites for the team competition followed by Australia and South Africa 6-1, and Spain and Japan 10-1.

LONG SHOTS

Other countries in the field were the long shots and there were no takers for countries like Austria, Chile, China and Colombia.

Nicklaus, the 23-year-old Masters and U.S. Professional Golfers' Association champion, was a 3-1 favorite for the individual competition. Then came Palmer and Gary Player, of South Africa, at 4-1.

Bob Charles, the New Zealand left-hander who won the British Open, Brian Huggett of Wales, Stan Leonard of Canada, Bernard Hunt of England, and Sebastian Miguel of Spain were bracketed at 6-1.

NEWEST CAUSE

The Saint-nom-la-Breteche course, 11 miles from Paris, is France's newest course. It was laid out only about five years ago and stretches 6,834 yards with a par of 36-36—72.

The ground over which the golfers play was formerly a farm of Louis XIV in the 18th century.

The Canada Cup is decided over 72 holes. The team and individual tournaments are played simultaneously.

The tournament was first held in 1953. The United States has won the team title five times, Argentina, Japan, and Ireland each have won once with Australia taking the title twice.

Nicklaus, after taking a good look at the lush layout, predicted that a total of 560 would win the team prize and a total of 275 the individual competition.

Eaglet Harriers Lose

Orchard Lake St. Mary's cross country squad was halted by Ann Arbor Wednesday, 22-33, and the loss dropped the Eaglets to a 4-3 season mark.

Dennis Hackett paced the OLSM team with a second-place clocking of 11:06, followed by Bill Nonahoe, fourth, John Dzibua, eighth, Tom Pilch, ninth, and Emil Caon, 10th.

Baseball Probe Planned by Hart

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major league baseball faces some pointed questioning on Capitol Hill next winter about its "generosity" toward newcomers and perennial weak sisters in the American and National Leagues.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee and a former baseball man himself, told a reporter today he plans a "low pressure" inquiry, but he said he hoped it would drive home some points and be helpful.

EXEMPT STATUS

The subject will arise during a usually active baseball player trading period—sometime after the first of January—when his subcommittee takes a look at baseball's exempt status under the antitrust laws.

The business affairs of all other professional team sports are subject to antitrust regulation, but not baseball's. The subcommittee plans to inquire whether Congress should treat them all alike.

The antitrust problem will be the focal point of the inquiry, he said, but it also will be a good opportunity to look at the rest of the picture, too.

There has been grumbling by fans and some club managements that strong teams tend to stay strong, while weak ones tend to stay weak, because something always seems to block the perennial losers' attempts to acquire enough better players.

Paul Richards, general manager of the National League's Houston Colts, has spoken bitterly about the quality of players the established clubs made available for new teams of the National League.

HOARDING

Allegations of player hoarding by the stronger clubs have been frequent over the years, despite rules intended to prevent this.

Hart said he believes the weaker clubs do face a problem, but that it would be better for the solution to come through self-policing by the league than through the enactment of laws.

Hart has disposed of his holdings in professional sports, which he knows from the management side.

His 'Alma Mater'

HST in 2nd Day at College

He was scheduled to take part in a class on international politics and then close his "residency" with a lunch with students at noon.

It was at Grinnell in 1944 that Truman, who never went to college, received his first honorary degree. At the time he was a senator from Missouri best known for his investigation of wartime contracts.

QUIP-FILLED TALK

"These students today know more before graduation than I did after 40 years experience," Truman said in a quip-filled address to 2,500 persons packed into Darby Gymnasium last night.

He departed from his prepared text on the American presidency to relate little anecdotes from his experience and occasionally let slip a characteristic "hell" and "damn."

Gov. Harold Hughes, also a Democrat, introduced Truman as "one of the great presidents of all times."

SAT AND CHATTED

Before his address, Truman sat on a wooden bench in the gymnasium locker room and chatted with college officials, student leaders and Democratic party bigwigs.

He appeared somewhat tired after a long day of campus life, but when he took the rostrum he was again the old Harry Truman with the "Give 'em hell" vigor occasionally bursting through despite the large number of grade school and high school youngsters in his audience.

Truman told the crowd the presidency actually was six jobs, although only four of them were provided in the Constitution.

He listed leadership of his political party and social head of the country, executor of laws, commander-in-chief, development of foreign policy and developer of legislative programs.

COMES FORWARD

"Great presidents usually have been followed by those not so great," Truman said, "but when the country needs leadership, it always comes forward."

During the day yesterday, Truman, 79, took time out twice for brief naps, one following a tiring news conference in which both newsmen and students fired questions at him.

Despite a general jovial attitude, Truman at times was obviously irritated by long, detailed hypothetical questions and occasionally urged that he be asked "sensible questions and you'll get sensible answers."

Then he would smile, "I'm enjoying this more than you are."

JACOBY

West's jump to three diamonds crowded North. He didn't have enough for a three-heart bid, but he certainly did not want to pass so he bid three hearts anyway. Of course, South went on to game.

West opened the king of diamonds and East signaled vociferously with the nine, but West did not feel that he had to follow that signal. East had overcalled with a suit that did not have much at the head of it. Obviously East held a five-card suit and South would be able to ruff that second diamond.

There is usually no great loss in letting declarer use one of his trumps, but in this situation there would be considerable waste of time. West was looking at four spades to the king-queen-jack in dummy and he did not want to give South time to set up the suit for a potential discard.

Therefore, West shifted to the jack of clubs. North's queen lost to East's ace. East studied a while. He really wanted to try to cash a second diamond, but finally he decided that his partner knew what he was doing. East led back a club to his partner.

South drew trumps and started after the spades, but he was not in time. West took his ace and set the hand with a club.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Friday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Now you have a chance to put across programs, ideas. You can fulfill desires if you move quickly, with confidence. Obstacles easily allayed. LEO individual may be helpful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Bring desires into line with reality. Time to formulate plans, but don't shirk previous responsibilities. Agree to do "your part." Results will be in your favor. Key is COOPERATION.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Surprise opportunity indicated. Circumstances turning to your advantage. Be creative. Take a chance on your abilities. Give romance a chance, too. Good evening for enjoyment.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Save time and money now by being THOROUGH. Don't waste time speculating. Situation calls for direct, sure and conservative action. Clear away all details before pausing for relaxation.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Avoid committing yourself to any one course. Day to exercise caution, judgment. Key question is whether to delay or rush. DELAY. Better solution could be forthcoming . . . soon!

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Your talent for methodical research comes into play. You are able to help associates prepare and plan. Give of your abilities. Gratitude will be shown in substantial manner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Good lunar aspect highlights ability to win your way. Especially good for social contacts tonight. You are able to captivate listeners, including members of opposite sex.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Much "power" on your side. Be confident. Avoid needless worry. Financial picture due to brighten. Opportunity will come your way, but it may include ADDED RESPONSIBILITY.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be aware, alert, prepared for surprises. No time to hold back. Give your all in form of SHARING KNOWLEDGE. Excellent time for short journeys, visits, research.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Time to complete unfinished business! Take initiative in getting action. Read ARIES message. Remember, experience is best guide. But don't hold back your own original ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Cycle moves in spotlight on your abilities, potential. Be at your best. Valuable contacts possible now. Watch personal appearance. Be diplomatic, but firm.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Key is EXPANSION and progressive attitude. Steer clear of petty methods of persons. Your knowledge, common sense serve as reliable guide. Don't be "taken in" by smooth talker.

Selling Scare Over

Steels, Motors Pace Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors advanced as the stock market rose in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Trading was suspended in Chrysler due to an accumulation of orders in advance of news that directors proposed a 2-for-1 stocks split and a doubled dividend. The stock was up more than 2 before the news.

Gains by steels were moderate as the financial community seemed to have lost its nervousness about the grand jury investigation of steel industry pricing.

ORDERS SPURTED

Investment sentiment was reinforced by news that machine tool orders—an important barometer of business plans — had spurted in September.

The advance of stocks, although irregular, looked like the best this week. Gains of key stocks ranged from fractions to a point or so. Wider moves occurred among the "glamour" issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 280.0 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .2 and utilities off .2.

Stocks improved following tabulation of the averages.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of around a point or better were made by Philips Electronics, Barnes Engineering and Aerojet-General.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed. Some U.S. Government bonds were slightly higher.

Berra Heads NY Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra, who rose from the sandlots of St. Louis to become one of the greatest catchers in baseball history, was named officially today as the new manager of the New York Yankees and immediately announced his retirement as a player.

The squat, 38-year-old Berra succeeds Ralph Houk, who was appointed general manager of the Yankees on Tuesday after leading the team to three American League championships and two world titles in three years.

The official announcement of Berra's appointment was made by the club's president, Dan Topping, at a press conference in the Savoy-Hilton Hotel.

Topping announced that Berra's contract is for one year. He did not reveal the terms, but it was believed Berra signed for $50,000 a year.

The naming of Berra has been an open secret for two days.

Commodity Prices Start Off Firmly

CHICAGO (AP) — All commodities started off in a firm price range today with early transactions somewhat more active on the board of trade.

Advances reached about a cent or more in wheat, corn and soybeans during the first several minutes but met a little resistance at those levels on offerings which dealers said may have included profit cashing.

Commercial demand again was moderately heavy for wheat and corn. Speculators bought soybeans after a report circulated in the pit that Hungary had bought a substantial quantity of soybean meal in addition to more than a million bushels of corn.

'Tools for Freedom'

Industry's Aid Plan

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — A little known organization of businessmen is providing underdeveloped countries with the means for industrial progress.

It is called "Tools for Freedom."

The movement got its start in 1960 and has been picking up momentum ever since.

At that time four Connecticut firms shipped metalworking shapers, lathes, a drill press, a grinding machine and machine tools to St. Joseph's School of Industrial Trades in Dacca, East Pakistan.

This was the beginning of industry's first formal effort to supplement the United States' tax-supported foreign aid program with one of its own operated and supported by private enterprise.

1ST SHIPMENT

That first shipment enabled student enrollment at the school to more than double. Now St. Joseph's reports that it has become the second best-equipped technical school in East Pakistan, second only to a school sponsored by the Ford Foundation at a cost of nearly a million dollars.

"Tools for Freedom is an action program organized, sponsored and administered by the U.S. business community to foster both self-help development overseas and to give a boost to the U.S. business community here and abroad," he said.

"Its essence is the contribution by American industry of both new or used, outdated machinery, equipment and inventory to qualified technical and vocational schools in the developing countries of Africa, South Asia and Latin America.

ONLY FOR SCHOOLS

"The equipment is only for schools. It is tax deductible at full market value. There is no government involvement."

Sprague became interested in Tools for Freedom in 1961 and as a result his company contributed $20,000 of used equipment to another technical school in East Pakistan and is in the process of shipping generators to two research institutes in India.

Sprague says the program can become a two-way street. American Machine & Foundry signed a contract with the Pakistan atomic commission for construction of a nuclear research reactor.

Tools for Freedom has nearly 400 contributing companies and has on hand requests for equipment from 480 schools.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

Sprague recently told the International Economic Affairs Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers that American equipment of every kind and description is needed to teach young men the skills that will make them self-sufficient—a self-sufficiency that in time could slash any need for foreign aid from the United States government.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a single girl in my mid-twenties with an annuity life-insurance policy plus employer life insurance. In Savings & Loan, I now have more than a year's salary. Should some of my savings be invested in common stocks? Would my investment be affected in any way by the fact that my money may be needed in the future for marriage or household expenses?"
N. A.

A) You sound like a very nice young person. My answer to you depends entirely on whether you have any plans for marriage within a year or two, or whether, like many young girls, you are simply regarding it as something that is bound to happen in the future.

If the former is true, your money should remain in the savings institution, where your principal will remain intact if you need it reasonably soon.

If you belong in the latter category, I think you might safely buy ten shares of Sears, Roebuck — the world's greatest general merchandiser.

Q) "We have $20,000 invested in farm land. This land has netted us a 7 per cent return on the investment, which has also appreciated in value. Why(then, isn't good farm land equally as sound an investment as other marketable securities you mention in your column? Personally, I think it is most difficult to pick up elsewhere a low risk 7 per cent yield." E. W.

A) I'm inclined to agree fully with your statements.

I have specifically mentioned here well-located land and real-estate — in addition to growth stocks — as sound investments and a good hedge against inflation. I have not before, however, received such a cogent statement as to yield and profit possibilities in good farm land.

The difficulty, of course, is that few people indeed can appraise good farm land. There are no statistical analyses available.

Your letter is extremely interesting, but I think the average uninformed person will do better to stick to stocks.

Captain Describes Attack on His Ship Near Cuba

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Capt. Gerhard Krause declared today, "We looked right into their guns" as he described the sneak strafing of his ore ship off the coast of Cuba for 61 minutes early Tuesday.

"We laid on the floor but it wouldn't have helped, really. We were lucky — just plain lucky — not to be wounded," said Capt. Krause in English with a heavy German accent.

Krause emphasized that none of the crewmen saw planes during the attack because of darkness. But they saw flashes of the guns as they fired.

"It sounded like there was more than one (plane) because the attacks came one after the other," the captain said.

SAW FLARES

Krause was on the bridge with the junior third officer and a helmsman when they saw flares lighting up the sky an estimated 20 miles to his starboard (right) lighting up the Cuban coast.

The J. Louis at that time was about 16 miles off the Cuban coast, he said.

"The sky was lighted with flares a long time before we got to the place where we were attacked. The flares were about 10 or 15 miles from the ship then and in a large semi-circle.

"Two flares then were dropped directly overhead," said the captain.

He was asked if he felt the pilots knew what type of ship they were firing on. He answered, "I think they knew what they were doing; they were shooting up the ship."

An official of Reynolds Metal Co. asked the U.S. Navy tonight to protect another company ship approaching the area where the freighter J. Louis was strafed early Tuesday by unidentified aircraft.

Rice said the S. S. Inger, owned by Reynolds, is now approaching the area where the J. Louis was strafed. He said he was concerned about its safety and notified the Navy and the State Department about his conversation with Krause.

Auto Strike Is Favored by Pontiac Local

Members of Pontiac Motor Division UAW Local 653 yesterday voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike unless agreement can be reached on some 151 grievances.

Local President John B. Maye said results of the vote, in which about 4,000 of the local's 13,000 membership took part, will now be forwarded to the UAW International for strike authorization.

The vote was 92 per cent in favor of a strike, Maye said.

But he said a series of union-management meetings will continue, with the next scheduled for this afternoon.

Maye charged that Pontiac's current record production contributed to many of the grievances. He said 101 complaints refer to "speedup" conditions at the plant.

"We don't feel that the assembly lines are properly manned to cover the necessary operations," Maye stated. He reported there is also a list of 50 safety condition grievances.

VOTING CONTINUED

Strike voting began Tuesday and continued through yesterday. Maye said this was the first such vote since 1961. At that time a walkout was averted through union-management negotiations.

If authorized by the UAW, a five-day period remains for negotiation before a strike actually begins, according to Maye. He said authorization could come within 48 hours.

Tax Expert Says Cityhood Has Financial Advantages

Louis Schimmel, tax and bonding expert, told a group of Waterford Township citizens last night that cities have an advantage over townships or charter townships in long term general obligation bonding.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the Waterford Citizen Action Committee for Incorporation (WCAC) at Pierce Junior High School, Schimmel also said that a city generally could command a better interest rate in short term bonding.

"Bonds sold by a city have more favorable acceptance because the image of a city is better than that of a township," he said.

He also pointed out that a charter township, such as Waterford, with a full time administrative staff, has a better image in borrowing circles than a rural or ordinary township.

PROTECTIVE MEASURE

Schimmel said an affirmative vote in the Nov. 5 cityhood election would serve as a protective measure to prevent fragmentation of the community.

He suggested that the area should remain intact if it is to operate with a maximum of efficiency. He noted that the former Royal Oak Township's split into over a dozen communities resulted in expensive duplication of services.

Attorney Calvin Patterson, another of the four panel discussion speakers, said that the threat of fragmentation is very real.

"Pontiac recently lost $28 million in tax base," he said. "And they are looking around for new tax base to avoid shifting the load on home owners."

MORE SERVICES

Patterson emphasized that the mere act of incorporation will not raise taxes. Taxes will raise only if more services are demanded," he said.

Another panelist, Dr. Everette Gustafson dramatized the threat of fragmentation by recalling the attack on Pearl Harbor.

"It happened because someone wanted what we had," he said.

* * *

Dr. Gustafson suggested that Waterford could become a model community in the state, provided it withstands a split into several small municipalities.

CHANGE IMMINENT

Panelist William Shunck, superintendent of Wayne County Schools, said that a change in the governmental structure is imminent in the next ten years.

He also pointed out that a single large city would be far more efficient than many small governmental units.

* * *

Shunck, a township resident for 17 years, praised both present and past township administrators for doing a competent job. He indicated, however, that, considering the growth rate of the community, the township government lacks the needed flexibility.

Man Bound Over in Shooting Case

A 40-year-old Pontiac man charged with shooting a Detroiter Oct. 2 will be arraigned in Circuit Court Nov. 4.

Willie Clay of 34 Iowa was bound over at his preliminary examination yesterday before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum. Clay was released on $200 bond.

Clay is accused of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of John Wilkerson Jr., 29.

Wilkerson, shot five times, was released from Pontiac General Hospital Oct. 9. Pontiac police said the shooting occurred at 1 a.m. in a home at 33 Iowa during an argument.

Man Admits to Gambling

Eddie J. Beasley, 45, of 653 Alton pleaded guilty yesterday in Municipal Court to obtaining winnings by gambling and will be sentenced on the misdemeanor charge Nov. 6.

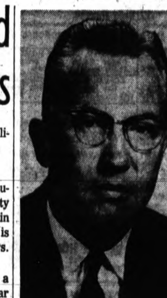
Charges of aiding and abetting against two other men arrested at the same time were dismissed yesterday. They are Hobart Betts, 42, of Flint and Hayward Beasley, 40, of 399 Prospect.



GLENN H. GRIFFIN

City Director on TV Show, 'The Funeral'

A Pontiac funeral director appeared last night on a network television show "The Great American Funeral," one of the CBS Reports series.

Glenn H. Griffin, owner of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, is newly elected first vice president of the National Funeral Directors Association.

He was elected at the annual convention in Dallas, Tex. Previously, he had served as second vice president of the organization.

Fire Kills Kin of Joan Davis

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —The mother, daughter and two grandchildren of late comedienne Joan Davis was killed in a fire early today, the fire department said.

Officials said the blaze broke out in the master bedroom of the home of the comedienne's daughter, Beverly Colbert, 29. The bedroom and an adjoining bedroom were completely destroyed but the rest of the house suffered only smoke damage.

Also killed were Nina Mae Davis, 70, and Mrs. Colbert's two children, Guy, 7, and Larry, 4.

The coroner's office listed the cause of the fire as smoking in bed.

Churchill Kin Took Own Life

Coroner Says Death Due to Pill Overdose

The nude body of Mrs. Churchill, 54, ex-wife of Duncan Sandys, Commonwealth secretary, was found on the floor of her bathroom early last Sunday.

Coroner Gavin Thurston did not specifically call the death suicide, a legal term. He listed the cause of death as acute barbiturate poisoning, self-administered, and said she took her own life.

Keith Simpson, a pathologist, testified that he had recovered the equivalent of 17 sleeping pills from Mrs. Churchill's body. He said she probably took half again as many in one dose. He also found she had drunk about one-third of a bottle of whisky.

SAMARITAN WORK

Ironically, for the past 18 months Mrs. Churchill's main interest in life had been working for an organization called the Samaritans, which seeks to dissuade people with a suicidal urge from killing themselves.

* * *

Mrs. Churchill's doctor told the inquest she had been in a nervous state in recent months and during August had been kept in bed under sedation for five days. He described her condition then as "tense, an anxiety state."

But he said Mrs. Churchill had called him about 1 a.m. Sunday and sounded quite ratonal. He said she told him she was worried about the effectiveness of her work with the Samaritans.

Miss Jean Burt, an associate in the Samaritans, told the inquest Mrs. Churchill had called her earlier Saturday night and talked about future plans for their work with the group.

Pair Robs Grocer of $500 in Pontiac

A Pontiac grocer was robbed in his store of about $500 by two armed men last night.

Paul Felice, 33, owner of the Stop and Shop Market, 469 Orchard Lake, told police one of the bandits wore a handkerchief mask and the other, sunglasses.

Felice's mother, Concetta, and a customer, Michael Prince, were in the store during the robbery, which occurred at 10:30 p.m.

In Memorium 2

IN MEMORY OF OUR BELOVED son, Jack Cline, who passed away October 24, 1953.

After the worst has happened,
There is nothing left to fear.
The sun continues rising
With undiminished cheer.
And winds continue blowing;
And skies continue fair.
As hearts continue bearing,
The thing they could not bear.
Forever in our hearts, Mom and Pop.

'Cancer-Finding Wand' Causes Trial of Owner

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Aloys Antone Dieteman, accused of using an "electronic wand" to diagnose cancer, must stand trial next month on charges of violating the state business and professional code.

Dieteman, 63, and his assistant, Ruth Backlund, 31, pleaded innocent to the charge yesterday. They were arrested Oct. 15 after two undercover agents submitted to Dieteman's diagnostic technique, which officials termed useless.

Caution Is Advised

OPORTO, Portugal (UPI)—Antonio Martins, 41 complained to police yesterday that he lost 105 escudos ($4) in a card game. Police refused to help and told him to play more carefully the next time.

'Dust Blamed for New Ranger Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DELAYED AGAIN: The threat of loose gold dust floating inside sensitive electronic parts has forced another postponement in the trouble-beset Ranger moon rocket program.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Wednesday that because the loose flakes were found inside the glass casing of some tiny diodes, devices which function as miniature vacuum tubes, the planned launch of Ranger VI within the next month or two has been postponed until early next year.

The vibration from a powerful launching rocket or the weightless condition of a Ranger spacecraft beyond the pull of the earth's gravity could cause a malfunction in flight, the space agency said. All diodes in the craft will be replaced.

The Ranger project has been something less than a smashing success. Two Rangers missed the moon, a third landed on target but failed to send signals. Ranger VI originally was to have been launched last January.

RERUN? William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, says it is not impossible that Richard E. Nixon will be the GOP presidential nominee in 1964, but "it is not probable."

Miller made this comment Wednesday at a news conference when asked if he thought Nixon, who narrowly lost to President Kennedy in 1960, was a candidate.

TAKEN TO TASK: Nobel Prize winner Linus Pauling's use of the centennial meeting of the National Academy of Sciences as a platform for criticizing the U.S. man-to-the-moon program did not sit well with Frederick Seitz, academy president.

And so Seitz called Pauling into conference Wednesday and told him the centennial was "a birthday party and not a forum for a political discussion." Seitz told newsmen he had advised Pauling "how most of the academy members felt about it — that it's a birthday party — and he said, on reflection, that he agreed."

WON'T WITHDRAW

Pauling, twice winner of Nobel Prizes, had said in his speech Tuesday that the amount of money being spent on the moon project would provide answers to "1,000 interesting questions about the human body for every one question answered about the moon."

Pauling told newsmen "I see no reason for me to withdraw the statements I made." But the famed chemist said he would make no further statements on the project until he returns to the California Institute of Technology, where he is a faculty member.

ASKS PROBE: Rep. Bill Stinson, R-Wash., has called for a complete FBI investigation into whether outgoing Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth violated the conflict of interest laws.

In a letter to the Justice Department, made public by Stinson Wednesday, the congressman said recent new evidence might help "change your determination that Korth did not violate" the laws.

The new evidence was correspondence made public by Korth last weekend after he resigned, effective Nov. 1. Some of the correspondence discussed deposits made in the Continental National Bank of Fort Worth, Tex.

Korth quit as president of the bank when he became secretary. One of the bank's customers is the General Dynamics Corp., which received the TFX warplane contract award. Stinson represents the Seattle area, home base of the Boeing Co., which lost a bid for the contract.

'Lovable' Wilson Stands Travel Trials Unmarked

By EARL WILSON

ZURICH — I just don't believe the stories that there's a hate-America wave sweeping Europe.

True, I've only been in seven countries on this two-week tour. But I've an "American popularity yardstick."

WILSON

"You are a real nasty, snarling, discourteous traveler when schedules get fouled up," a friend once told me. Well, we had a lot of fog delays in the Alps . . . I was my lovable self . . . still, I didn't get punched in the nose once . . . so, it must be the Europeans must love us dearly. (It's sort of a Wallop Poll.)

How can they hate us when they all want to go to America? I had two cab drivers who'd actually been to the U.S. A Paris cabbie who drove me to the Edith Piaf burial service showed me a picture of the French restaurant he helped operate at the Seattle World's Fair. A Vienna cabbie knew New York so well, he told me that the West Side section I live in isn't as good as it used to be!

"If she is an American, her sit-me-down could be false, too. These are on sale in the States, specially made with built-in wiggles."

Now what American girl would ever stoop to such deceits?

State Fishery Will Reopen

Inspectors Give Firm Clean Bill of Health

GRAND HAVEN (UPI)—With a clean bill of health from both state and federal inspectors, H. J. Dornbos & Bros. Fisheries will resume processing of smoked chub fish on Monday.

Plant manager Dave Price said yesterday, "We are in the process of notifying our consumers that we will have fish ready for them at the start of next week. We also are sending out a new price list."

Dornbos voluntarily shut down plant operations Oct. 7 when two Tennessee persons died after eating smoked fish with the Dornbos label. Laboratory tests by the Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDS) disclosed they died from the deadly poison botulism E.

A total of seven deaths were reported among 14 persons stricken after eating the Dornbos-processed fish.

RESUME OPERATTON

Both the FDA and the Food and Standards Division of the State Agriculture Department told Dornbos late last week he could resume smoking and distribution of his fish. Tests revealed that none of his products distributed in Michigan were tainted.

A Kalamazoo couple died from botulism E after eating smoked whitefish but the product was not from the Dornbos plant.

Price said the firm already has received orders for fish but he added, "We're not going to build up our inventory until we find out how great a demand there is for the product."

State officials earlier had told Dornbos he could process fish but could not let them outside the plant. However, Dornbos decided against resuming operations until "this thing is cleared up for good."

Army Censors News on Okinawa Epidemic

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — U.S. Army Hospital authorities today clamped a news blackout on what Okinawan health officials termed the worst encephalitis epidemic here since 1956.

At least 21 persons have died here this year of the disease, commonly called "sleeping sickness," one of them an American serviceman who became the army's first reported fatality on Tuesday.

Poetic Justice Is Off Base

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Marianne Moore is one or America's best-known poets. Which means that most Americans never heard of her.

In this country, alas, the names of poets rarely become household words, even in their own households. And that is a pity.

WEST

I'm not terribly fond of poetry myself, but the poets I've met have all been grade A human beings. It's too bad there isn't some way to give them recognition, short of reading their poetry.

Miss Moore, who will soon be 76, has been in the public eye more than most major poets on account of her association with two enterprises that have since become extinct.

In 1955, Miss Moore, an ardent baseball fan, summoned the Muses from the bull pen and batted out an ode to the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was called "Hometown Piece for Messrs. Alston and Reese."

Considering the kind of teams that Brooklyn used to have, this salute from a Pulitzer Prize poet was a rare tribute. So what did the Dodgers do to show their appreciation? They moved to Los Angeles, that's what.

I had a chat with Miss Moore this week when she came down from Brooklyn to give a poetry reading at the Library of Congress. She it plain that she still loves the made it plain that she still loves the Dodgers, despite their infidelity.

Yet all the Dodgers who read Miss Moore's poems probably could stand on third base at the same time. Which sometimes happens.

CAR-RUMBA!

It also was in the 1950's that Miss Moore was commissioned by the Ford Motor Co. to think up names for a new car it was planning to produce.

The Ford people, after considering her nomination of such poetic names as Silver Sword, Aeroterre and Andante on Moto, christened their car Edsel. It didn't last as long as the Dodgers did in Brooklyn.

I asked Miss Moore if she felt the car might have succeeded under one of her names. She replied to the effect that an Edsel by any other name probably would still have been a lemon.

She pointed out, however, that her list included the names Impala and Valiant, which subsequently were adopted by a couple of other auto companies.

So what do poets, baseball clubs and auto makers have in common? Each knows that you can't win 'em all.

Tax Aid Story Denied

Lodge to Report on Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will return from Saigon in 10 days to report to President Kennedy on the situation in Viet Nam. No new emergency is involved, officials said.

The State Department, in announcing yesterday that Lodge will return for consultations Nov. 3, said one of the matters to be reviewed is the U.S. backed strategic hamlet program.

The department said there are indications it may have been overextended.

But, officials said, Lodge's trip home does not mean a new crisis has arisen in the troubled Southeast Asian nation.

Lodge will return to Washington less than three months after becoming ambassador at the height of the Diem's crackdown on Buddhist leaders demonstrating against the government.

SOME CHANGES

Since then there have been some changes in U.S. policy, including the announcement earlier this week that U.S. aid has been cut off to special Vietnamese military forces not actively engaged in battling the Viet Cong. Also, shipments of U.S. surplus food to Viet Nam are to be reduced.

In announcing that one of the matters to be reviewed by Lodge and Kennedy is the strategic hamlet program, Robert McCloskey, State Department press officer, said:

"We have had indications for some time that the strategic hamlet program may have been somewhat overextended in the delta area south of Saigon. We understand that wherever necessary corrective measures are being taken."

Russia Offers Relief to Cuba

No Strings Attached, Says Khrushchev

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has offered massive no-strings-attached aid to Cuba to alleviate hardships caused by recent flood and hurricane damage, the official Tass News Agency reported today.

The offer, in a letter from Khrushchev to Premier Fidel Castro, said some of the aid will come from Soviet supplies already stockpiled in Cuba.

The letter said Soviet experts also will be dispatched to Cuba to assist in reconstruction work —fully at the expense of Russia.

There had been speculation in Western capitals that the Soviet Union was "going slow" in offering aid to Castro because of Cuba's refusal to sign the Moscow partial nuclear test-ban agreement.

Some diplomatic sources had said Castro appeared to be playing one side against the other in Moscow's dispute with Peking where the test-ban agreement has been denounced.

Last night, the Soviet Union denied reports that it had ordered Cuba to undertake sweeping economic and political reforms and improve relations with the United States.

Tass said the report, pubished in the Financial Times of London and the West German news magazine Der Spiegel, was "an invention from beginning to end, a crude fabrication."

The report said Comecon, the Soviet bloc economic organization, had told Cuba the bloc would cut off aid to the Castro regime unless it complied with its demands.

Supervisors to Consider Strong Rule

By DICK HANSON

A large group of county supervisors is scheduled to meet Monday morning in the courthouse auditorium to further consider strengthening the day-to-day administration of county government.

The issue became controversial when the County Board of Supervisors Ways and Means Committee proposed making County Clerk Register Daniel Murphy chief county administrator by appointing him chairman of the board of auditors at an increased salary.

Monday's meeting has been called by ways and means chairman David Levinson and salaries committee chairman Curtis Hall.

The two committees are expected to meet with the chairmen of the other 27 county committees.

NEW DUTIES

The ways and means and salaries committees are proposing to give the chairman of the county board of auditors additional responsibilities which would make him chief administrator of the county.

The chairman's salary

GOV. GEORGE W. ROMNEY

JOHN B. SWAINSON

Romney Out to Get Control of Program

By JIM DYGERT

Yesterday's agreement by Gov. George Romney to work out "minimum modifications" of his tax reform program appeared to be aimed at loosening a Democratic grip on the program's fate.

If two special GOP committees successfully reshape the program to win additional votes they may reduce Romney's need for support from Democrats.

"We'll still need some Democratic support," said State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who earlier admitted help from Democrats would be essential for Senate passage.

He said Romney's latest move to incorporate changes in an effort to build more Republican support might win a few more GOP votes, but they would presumably be in the House.

"Things are pretty well set in the Senate," he said.

"We will eventually need Democratic support," Roberts said, "unless we decide on only a partial tax reform program."

This, he indicated, could be without a state income tax.

But, he said, Democrats, despite earlier praise for the program, are giving it no support.

They even jumped all over

Pontiacs Sell at Record Rate

Pontiac Motor Division continues to shatter new model sales records as the entire auto industry reports increased October sales.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, today said 50,861 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold in the first 20 days of the month, a 17 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Pontiac sales in the 10 days ending Monday, were 18,387, an all-time high.

Chevrolet Division announced 10-day sales of 59,622 cars and 12,618 trucks, an increase over this time last year but about 5,000 auto units less than the 1961 record.

CHRYSLER SALES UP

Chrysler Corp. reported 25,506 car sales for the mid-October period, up 14 per cent from last year. Dodges accounted for 10,659 sales, while 14,847 were Plymouths and Chryslers, up 9 per cent.

Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., said mid-month sales hit a new high of 47,322.

American Motors Corp. reported 13,132 car sales during Oct. 11-20, capping a 20-day record peak of 26,902.

Report Claims Appeal Made to Swainson

Says Thayer Urged Ex-Governor to Rally Dem Support for Plan

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Columnist Drew Pearson has reported that Gov. George Romney appealed "in desperation" to former Gov. John Swainson for Democratic help in overcoming Republican opposition to his tax reform program in the legislature.

Romney, when informed of Pearson's column, denied he sought Swainson's help.

The Pearson column will appear in newspapers throughout the nation tomorrow. The syndicated Washington reporter wrote his story after visiting Detroit last week.

Swainson said he answered a Republican plea for help on fiscal reform but would not say from whom the appeal came or what role he played as a result.

MET SECRETLY

Romney, in denying the report, said he knew, however, that Senate majority leader, Stanley G. Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, had met secretly with Swainson.

"I did not approve of Thayer going to Swainson," Romney said.

Pearson reported: "In desperation, Romney has appealed to his Democratic predecessor, ex-Gov. John Swainson, for help.

SWAINSON ASKED

"Does the governor know you are here?" Swainson asked, referring to Romney.

"I told him I was coming," Thayer replied, according to Pearson.

Pearson said Thayer asked Swainson to get Romney's program passed by the legislature, and that, in return,

Firm Cited by State for Contract Default

The State Highway Department has cited the perimeter road contractor for default of contract specifications and will turn the paving of intersections over to a bonding firm Nov. 1.

The contractor, Oak Construction Co., of Royal Oak, has until the end of the 1963 construction season to complete and open perimeter road intersections, but the contract cut-off date is Nov. 1.

After that date, the highway department can place the supervision of intersection paving in the hands of the bonding company if progress has been unsatisfactory.

John A. Wills, senior district engineer, said at a meeting at city hall yesterday that the highway department was not satisfied with construction progress "and we will invoke the maximum penalties we can under the contract."

At the same time, Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck ordered East Pike Street closed to through traffic from Paddock to Mill until a detour around the Pike Street intersection with the perimeter road is widened.

Problems at the controversial detour grew early yesterday afternoon when construction workers hit a gas line near the main library and ruptured a water main in front of Central Elementary School.

Water went 60 feet into the air like a geyser when the main broke, according to witnesses, and continued at lower levels for nearly an hour before the break was repaired.

The detour had been harshly criticized at the City Commission meeting Tuesday because it was too narrow for fire trucks and considered unsafe.

ORDERS WORK

Wills said yesterday that the highway department "has ordered the Pike Street excavation backfilled immediately and at the earliest possible date.

"The work on West Huron is four weeks behind schedule. This delay is due entirely to the delinquency of Oak Construction Company.

"The contract is covered by a performance bond and as of Nov. 1, completion of the intersections will be turned over to the bonding company."

ALTERNATIVES

Wills and city engineers said the bonding company would either put a management team on the job, with Oak continuing to work, or hire a new force to finish intersections using equipment already on the construction sites.

Intersections involved are on West Huron, Oakland, Saginaw, Mount Clemens, Perry, East Pike and Auburn.

Wills said that construction crews began final paving operations at the West Huron-Cass intersection yesterday and "it should be open to traffic in about 10 days."

City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling said today that he wasn't sure if the Perimeter Road would be paved from South Saginaw to Oakland this year, as previously hoped.

'NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC'

"My current appraisal is not too optimistic, judging from events of the last two days," Neipling said.

"However, we are still all ready to go on a temporary culvert and paving over the Clinton River north of East Huron if it appears that section can be paved before winter."

Earlier yesterday, Reineck had threatened to stop work on

JFK Intercedes in Try to Soften Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The full weight of President Kennedy's personal prestige and powers of persuasion have been brought to bear in an effort to mellow a civil rights bill that the administration fears is too tough for the House to swallow.

House Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., today expressed cautious confidence that the President's personal intercession would win enough support for the administration in the committee to head off a move to send to the floor what Celler calls a "drastic bill."

"The President can persuade a bird to come out of a tree," Celler said in an interview.

A motion to report out the tough bill — going well beyond what Kennedy asked — is the first order of business when the committee next meets.

But Celler today called off for a second time a meeting at which the showdown will come. He said the session, postponed from yesterday until today, had been re-set for Tuesday.

This indicated that Celler, leader of administration civil rights forces in the House, still had not been able to line up enough votes to head off the effort of militant pro-civil righters to approve the tougher bill.

HE'S HOPEFUL

Celler said, "I am hopeful that the power and prestige" of the President will be sufficient during the weekend to change enough votes in the committee to defeat the motion to report out the stronger bill drawn up by a subcommittee.

Kennedy conferred for an hour with Celler and other House leaders of both parties last night in an effort to convince them of the necessity of approving a bill he feels could pass the House.

County Exec, C. A. Sparks, Suffers Attack

County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital this morning when he appeared to be suffering a heart attack at his office.

His physician, Dr. Clifford T. Ekelund said the 71-year-old Sparks "possibly had a slight heart attack." His condition was described as satisfactory by the doctor.

Sparks, who has been referred to as "the iron man" of elected county officials here, was admitted to the hospital for further tests and treatment.

He suffered a heart attack about three years ago, according to Dr. Ekelund.

Sparks had been at his desk at the County Service Center about five minutes when he was stricken today.

He summoned an aide, who telephoned the doctor shortly after 8 a.m.

Sparks, a Republican, has been county treasurer since 1932.

Shed Those Coats, It Will Be Near 80

October's bright blue skies will be dotted with a few clouds tonight and Friday, but temperatures will be as balmy as in mid-July.

The weatherman predicts a high near 80 tomorrow and a low of 60 tonight. The outlook for Saturday is partly cloudy and a little cooler.

Today's southerly winds will continue at 15 to 22 miles per hour.

Fifty-nine was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. this morning. The thermometer registered 75 at 1 p.m.

Ra[illegible] Hobble Wheat Deal

MAKE OVER PAGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has cleared the way for sale of 1.2 million bushels of corn to Communist Hungary. But the larger issue of wheat sales to the Soviet bloc remains confused.

Cabinet officers huddled Wednesday with a Soviet trade delegation and failed to iron out the chief obstacle to completion of the wheat deal—the higher shipping rates charged by American ship owners.

There is a growing feeling here that the problem can be resolved only by a White House decision, not through negotiation.

The corn sale to Hungary was resolved smoothly because corn and other grains are exempted from the condition that wheat sold to the Soviet bloc must be carried in American ships where available.

The Commerce Department Wednesday approved the $1,929,384-shipment by issuing a license for its export, and a spokesman for Cargill, Inc., big Minneapolis grain processing and shipping firm, said the corn will be shipped soon, probably from an East Coast port.

Involved are 30,000 long tons of corn—about one-third the amount the Communists are expected to buy and a mere trickle when compared to the $250-million worth of wheat whose sale now appears clouded.

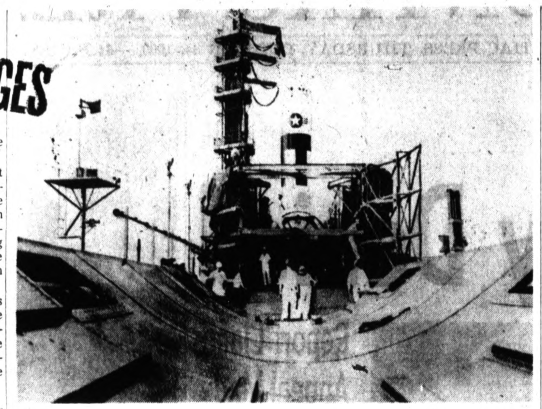
In giving advance approval of grain sales to the Soviet bloc President Kennedy stipulated that shipments be made on American ships when they were available. Last Friday the Commerce Department exempted grains other than wheat from the requirement.

Soviet officials are balking at the higher rates charged by American shippers—about 20 to 30 cents a bushel higher than foreign rates. This led to Wednesday's luncheon at the State Department, although the United States had advised Moscow that the wheat deal ceased being a government matter once Kennedy had cleared the way for the sales.

ATTEND SESSION

The session was attended on the American side by George W. Ball, undersecretary of state, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. A four-man trade delegation headed by Sergei A. Borisov, first Soviet deputy minister of foreign trade, represented the Soviet Union.

One official said "it is possible that the whole shipping rate problem may go away." His reasoning was that "rates charged by foreign ships are rising and may in time come up to the level of the American rate."



TITAN DISMANTLED — Workmen at Cape Canaveral yesterday dismantled a Titan II rocket on the launching pad to protect it from possible high winds from Hurricane Ginny, churning 105 miles off shore. A hurricane watch was extended northward from Daytona Beach, Fla., to Myrtle Beach, S.C., as Ginny drifted slowly up the Atlantic.

Berra Heads NY Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra, who rose from the sandlots of St. Louis to become one of the greatest catchers in baseball history, was named officially today as the new manager of the New York Yankees and immediately announced his retirement as a player.

The squat, 38-year-old Berra succeeds Ralph Houk, who was appointed general manager of the Yankees on Tuesday after leading the team to three American League championships and two world titles in three years.

The official announcement of Berra's appointment was made by the club's president, Dan Topping, at a press conference in the Savoy-Hilton Hotel.

Topping announced that Berra's contract is for one year. He did not reveal the terms, but it was believed Berra signed for $50,000 a year.

Teacher Drive Goes On Despite Board's Rebuff

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education's refusal to endorse teacher tenure will have little effect on the current Michigan Education Association drive for a mandatory teacher-protection law.

Charles Lemke, president of MEA Region 7 and principal of the James B. Conant Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills, expressed this opinion today in discussing the decision the board made Tuesday.

"It will affect the campaign to the point that teachers will be discouraged to circulate petitions in school buildings," Lemke said. "This is not possible without endorsement — it would not be professional."

However, Lemke said he was not certain that petitions were being circulated in schools throughout the state. If they are not, Bloomfield Hills teachers will be at no disadvantage, he noted.

The board of education refused to endorse the statewide campaign when requested by members of the Bloomfield Hills Education Association.

In doing so, the board maintained its position on tenure, having denied requests in the past.

HAVE THE RIGHT

But board members told Robert Mehoke and Ted Cavin, BHEA representatives, that the teachers have every right to support the proposal and to attempt to gain backers for it.

"As citizens, the teachers have the right to circulate the petitions from house to house," Lemke said. "Any registered voter can sign or circulate the petitions."

Of the 299,910 signatures needed throughout the state, the quota for Bloomfield Hills is between 900-1,200.

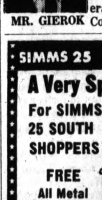
Parking on a section of Hunter (U.S.-10) in Birmingham will be prohibited soon because parked cars are interfering with the vision of motorists approaching intersections, the State Highway Department said today.

No parking will be allowed on the east side of Hunter between a point 168 feet south of Ridgedale and the northern city limit and on the west side of Hunter between Maple and Woodward.

The restriction will become effective as soon as signs can be put up, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Henry T. Gierok

Requiem Mass for Henry T. Gierok, 55, of 465 Lone Pine will be 10 a.m. Saturday at the Holy Name Catholic Church Southfield. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.



MR. GIEROK

Mr. Gierok, a veteran member of the General Motors Corp. labor relations staff, died yesterday after a long illness.

Surviving are his wife, Rose; two sons, Edward F. of Ann Arbor and Karl, at home; a daughter, Gretchen, at home; four sisters, four brothers; and a grandson.

Memorial contributions can be made to Leader Dogs for the Blind, near Rochester, or Pontiac Chapter of Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan, care of Dr. Julius Rutzky, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Police Awaiting Arson Report in Bedell's Blast

Bloomfield Township police were awaiting an arson report today from the Michigan State Police crime laboratory in the bombing last week of Bedell's Restaurant, 2395 Woodward.

Police expected a report late this week or early next week on the four bags of rubble sent to the state crime laboratory.

A hole was ripped in the front wall of the Bloomfield Township restaurant when a bomb — equal to five sticks of dynamite — exploded early Wednesday morning last week.

Pressmen at News Continue on Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Pressmen of the Detroit News voted today against a return to work, halting publication of the newspaper for a fourth straight day.

Pressmen's Union Local 13 also contacted federal and state labor mediation services. The union sent telegrams to both agencies saying it would "welcome your assistance."

The pressmen's vote at a 5 a.m. closed meeting was reportedly unanimous. Pressmen appeared at the News afterwards, but did not put the presses into motion.

Fear 4 GIs, Natives Dead

Plane Down in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane crashed and burned today about 65 miles south of Saigon, apparently killing all four American crewmen and four Vietnamese airmen aboard.

It was the second major air accident in little more than two weeks involving Americans in South Viet Nam. On Oct. 7 two U.S. Marine Corps helicopters crashed north of Saigon, killing 12 Americans.

The transport plane, a C123, was taking part in a flare drop mission in Vinh Binh Province in the Mekong River delta area, American military spokesmen said.

It carried two American officers and two enlisted airmen as well as four Vietnamese. The spokesmen said search parties on the ground had reached the wreckage and found it scattered over a wide area with no evidence of survivors.

Investigation is under way, spokesmen said, but so far no reason has been learned. They said the plane had been assigned to support 9th Division operations in the delta.

The division only recently had been moved from the north into the Delta, now the scene of the sharpest fighting against the Communist Viet Cong.

If all four Americans aboard the plane are dead, it will bring to 134 the number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

Swainson asked only that the Republicans agree that all tax bills be voted out of the Senate Taxation Committee where they had been stalled.

Swainson, Pearson reported, agreed to use his influence with Sen. Charles S. Blondy, Senate Democratic leader from Detroit and a member of the Senate Taxation Committee, to get Romney's tax program out of committee.

"It's absolutely untrue," bristled Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, when questioned about the story.

"I didnt' ask him for help, and it is also untrue that he ever promised anything," Thayer said. "By making political hay out of a general discussion, Swainson has cut himself off from even having things discussed with him."

Thayer, angry at seeing Swainson's statement in print, said Swainson "has made an inference of having some effect on this Senate.

Romney Out to Get Control

Senate Minority Leader Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, for furnishing a key vote last week. His vote brought 61 tax bills out of the taxation committee headed by income tax foe Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland.

Democrats and conservative Republicans opposed to an income tax Tuesday succeeded in sending key portions of the program, including the income tax, to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

There its fate is in the hands of four Republican supporters, one GOP opponent, two GOP question marks and three Democrats.

Roberts accused Democrats of being "purely partisan" and "very negative."

"They're not saying why they're against it," he said. "They apparently are just trying to embarrass the governor."

HIGH PRICE

Establishment of the special committees could lessen any need to face a high price for Democratic support if their work results in enough new Republican votes for the program.

Romney hinted that similar meetings with Democrats may be held after agreement is achieved among most Republicans.

Key figure in the program's fate may now be State Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, chairman of the appropriations committee who last year, in the post Thayer now holds, precipitated a GOP rift by backing former Gov. John B. Swainson's tax reform package.

Beadle, who says he still favors tax reform based on an income tax, declined to speculate on what will happen to the bills in his committee.

But he said, "I think we should be able to work out some sort of package with an income tax — but I don't know how much adjustment it will take."

Holding the uncertain votes in his committee are Senators Arthur Dehmel, R-Unionville, and Lloyd Stephens, R-Scottville. Both votes are expected to be needed to bring the bills out.

However, whether the program's backers can round up the 18 votes needed for passage may be more crucial.

Roberts indicated efforts to bring the bills out of Beadle's committee may not be pushed unless 18 votes are certain or almost certain.

Stronger Rule Eyed

would be raised from $14,500 to $20,000 annually to reimburse him for the bigger job.

Levinson said the added responsibilities being proposed will be spelled out in detail at Monday's meeting.

Support of the committee chairmen is sought in an effort to have the proposal approved by the full board of supervisors early next month.

Action on the proposal was deferred at the last meeting of the board when it became apparent the issue would fail for lack of information.

METHOD CRITICIZED

Since then, many supervisors have criticized the ways and means and salaries committees for supposedly trying to railroad the issue through.

The chairmanship of the board of auditors will become vacant Jan. 1, the same day longtime board member Robert Moore plans to retire.

The two committees have pegged Murphy to succeed Moore. He then would be appointed chairman and thus chief county administrator to complete the plan.

Robert Lilly, secretary-member of the board of auditors, has also announced his candidacy for the chairmanship.

THIRD MEMBER

John Austin, third member of the board of auditors, has announced he is not a candidate for reappointment.

He will, however, remain a member of the board at least until his term ends in 1965.

Austin said he wishes to step down from the chair so that a younger man might take the post.

Since then, several supervisors have started a countermovement. They are proposing that a separate job of chief county administrator be established.

Huntington Woods Supervisor Fred Yockey introduced the idea at a meeting Friday of the same group scheduled to gather Monday.

JOB CANDIDATE

He reportedly is a candidate for the job if it is made separate from the board of auditors.

Board of auditors members traditionally are the county's chief administrators. They exercise this authority through control of the budget.

This control has been passed on largely to the ways and means committee during recent years.

Levinson said the present situation has resulted from a "laxity on the part of the board of auditors."

CORRECT SITUATION

Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller said if there is any laxity, it is up to the board of supervisors to correct the situation.

This is why Murphy has been pegged for the job, according to Levinson.

He said he doesn't believe one member of the board of auditors should be paid more than the other two. "This will only create more conflict," he said.

ADVANTAGE CITED

Oak Park Supervisor Abraham Brickner said the supervisors would have the advantage of being able to fire a separate chief administrator at any time a majority felt it was necessary. Auditors are appointed for three-year terms.

The chairman of the board of auditors is then appointed from among the three members for a one-year term.

From Driftwood to Old Pumps

Driftwood Reaches Skyward

PHOTO-STORY
By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Ever wonder what kind of people live behind the hundreds of unusual mailboxes that dot rural Oakland County?

More often than not these individuals are creative and have a tremendous sense of humor.

Ask the mailman who pushes magazines, letters, cards and bills into all sorts of odd boxes.

WRITE A BOOK

He could probably write a book on what he sees along the roadside, and invariably these "different" mailboxes are more accessible than the conventional type sitting on posts.

For instance, the most commonly seen is the welded chain-link mailboxes. Some are shaped like iron serpents twisting upward, and others just seem to be reaching out toward the roadway.

Old pumps made into mailbox bases also are popular, and while some were in use 15 years ago, others go back to the early 1900's—elaborate, and individualistic.

However, all mailboxes, no matter what their shape or size, must meet United States Postal regulations, according to Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson.

They must be the right distance from the road and the right height, to keep from slowing down deliveries, he explained.

SHEER NECESSITY

There's probably a story behind the reason for people having unusual mailboxes, but Hans Erting's old barn mailbox was made out of sheer necessity.

When the Ertings moved out to their home on Orchard Lake 14 years ago, the roads were muddy, gutted and almost inaccessible. The mail carriers complained that they couldn't get to the house to deliver packages.

So the ingenious country gentleman designed and built a miniature barn, one of the largest mailboxes in the area, to accommodate the mail.

In order that passing motorists would not knock down his brain - child, Erting installed three little warning lights.

It's made of aluminum and has time-weathered brass numerals and lettering.

ANCHOR CHAIN

Then there's the J. J. Garsteckis of 26656 Carol Lane in Franklin, with their welded chain-link mailbox. The unique base was once part of a heavy anchor chain on a boat sailing the Great Lakes.

Originator of the chain base, Lloyd Earp, said he wouldn't attempt to make another chain base like the Garsteckis, for less than $50.

It took plenty of time and patience for the welder to put those chains together and cement them down in the ground.

One day when Leonard Damphouse of 6351 Alden Drive, Union Lake was wandering around his neighbor's backyard, he came upon an old rusted water pump—the kind used 60 years ago.

His neighbor was glad to get the "monstrosity" out of the way, and promptly helped Damphouse take it home.

Today, the old pump stands as a useful thing of beauty. After a good sanding job, a bright coat of paint and a little pipe work, the pump handle reaches out holding a turquoise mailbox in the back and a brilliant matching milkpail with flowers in the front.

Take a drive through Lake Sherwood near Milford, and every mailbox on Driftwood or Triwood has a driftwood base.

It all began years ago, when originator of Lake Sherwood, James Cole, collected driftwood as a hobby.

Soon, his big empty haybarn was filled with driftwood collected from all over the country. So that's where all the residents acquired their unique and decorative mailbox bases.

Fairly Active Trading

Steels, Motors Nudge Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors posted moderate gains as the stock market moved irregularly higher in fairly active trading early today.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional.

Traders seemed to have lost much of their nervousness about the grand jury investigation of steel industry pricing, and business news remained encouraging. A spurt in machine tool orders in September was regarded as bullish for the market.

Chrysler, whose directors report on dividend action today rose nearly a point at the start.

Most other major automakers added fractions. Retail auto sales set a record in the mid-October period.

Leading steelmakers advanced consistently but gains were limited. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem, which report next week on quarterly results, added fractions.

Yesterday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .4 to 279.6.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Most changes were narrow. Gainers include Pyle National, Molybdenum, Kawecki Chemical, Reliance Insurance and Paddington "A."

U. S. Big Lift Almost Over

Division Takes Field After Europe Flight

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — American Air Force planes neared the end of their massive troop-carrying "Operation Big Lift" from Texas to Germany today hours ahead of schedule.

The historic air test of U.S. global striking power was expected to be completed this afternoon, 8 hours and 20 minutes under the 72 hours that had been allotted for the airlift of the entire 14,500-men of the 2nd Armored Division.

The final plane of Big Lift's aerial troop ferry was scheduled to land at Sembach Air Force Base about 30 miles south of Frankfurt. The big C130 transport is now on the 5,600 mile transocean flight from Bergstrom Air Force Base, Texas, a spokesman said.

Earlier, the Air Force issued an even more optimistic forecast. A spokesman said the airlift phase was expected to end with the arrival of a C135 jet at Rhein-Main four hours earlier.

The Air Force later corrected the estimate, admitting that an over-eager officer had forgotten to include the slower-moving C130 heading for Sembach.

The Air Force was optimistic it would complete the job in less than 72 hours despite sporadic bad weather that caused diversion of 11 transports last night and early today.

PLANES SHUNTED

Rain or fog at Rhein-Main, primary terminal of big lift, and at Chaumont, Toul and Etain in France, cause the planes to be shunted at Mildenhall and Prestwick in England and Chambley and Evreux in France.

The diverted planes were expected to reach bases in Germany before the last plane from Texas arrived tonight.

Commodity Prices Start Off Firmly

CHICAGO (AP) — All commodities started off in a firm price range today with early transactions somewhat more active on the board of trade.

Advances reached about a cent or more in wheat, corn and soybeans during the first several minutes but met a little resistance at those levels on offerings which dealers said may have included profit cashing.

Commercial demand again was moderately heavy for wheat and corn. Speculators bought soybeans after a report circulated in the pit that Hungary had bought a substantial quantity of soybean meal in addition to more than a million bushels of corn.

'Tools for Freedom'

Industry's Aid Plan

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — A little known organization of businessmen is providing underdeveloped countries with the means for industrial progress.

It is called "Tools for Freedom."

The movement got its start in 1960 and has been picking up momentum ever since.

At that time four Connecticut firms shipped metalworking shapers, lathes, a drill press, a grinding machine and machine tools to St. Joseph's School of Industrial Trades in Dacca, East Pakistan.

This was the beginning of industry's first formal effort to supplement the United States' tax-supported foreign aid program with one of its own operated and supported by private enterprise.

1ST SHIPMENT

That first shipment enabled student enrollment at the school to more than double. Now St. Joseph's reports that it has become the second best-equipped technical school in East Pakistan, second only to a school sponsored by the Ford Foundation at a cost of nearly a million dollars.

"Tools for Freedom is an action program organized, sponsored and administered by the U.S. business community to foster both self-help development overseas and to give a boost to the U.S. business community here and abroad," he said.

"Its essence is the contribution by American industry of both new or used, outdated machinery, equipment and inventory to qualified technical and vocational schools in the developing countries of Africa, South Asia and Latin America.

ONLY FOR SCHOOLS

"The equipment is only for schools. It is tax deductible at full market value. There is no government involvement."

Sprague became interested in Tools for Freedom in 1961 and as a result his company contributed $20,000 of used equipment to another technical school in East Pakistan and is in the process of shipping generators to two research institutes in India.

Sprague says the program can become a two-way street. American Machine & Foundry signed a contract with the Pakistan atomic commission for construction of a nuclear research reactor.

Tools for Freedom has nearly 400 contributing companies and has on hand requests for equipment from 480 schools.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

Sprague recently told the International Economic Affairs Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers that American equipment of every kind and description is needed to teach young men the skills that will make them self-sufficient—a self-sufficiency that in time could slash any need for foreign aid from the United States government.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a single girl in my mid-twenties with an annuity life-insurance policy plus employer life insurance. In Savings & Loan, I now have more than a year's salary. Should some of my savings be invested in common stocks? Would my investment be affected in any way by the fact that my money may be needed in the future for marriage or household expenses?"
N. A.

A) You sound like a very nice young person. My answer to you depends entirely on whether you have any plans for marriage within a year or two, or whether, like many young girls, you are simply regarding it as something that is bound to happen in the future.

If the former is true, your money should remain in the savings institution, where your principal will remain intact if you need it reasonably soon.

If you belong in the latter category, I think you might safely buy ten shares of Sears, Roebuck — the world's greatest general merchandiser.

Q) "We have $20,000 invested in farm land. This land has netted us a 7 per cent return on the investment, which has also appreciated in value. Why(then, isn't good farm land equally as sound an investment as other marketable securities you mention in your column? Personally, I think it is most difficult to pick up elsewhere a low risk 7 per cent yield." E. W.

A) I'm inclined to agree fully with your statements.

I have specifically mentioned here well-located land and real-estate — in addition to growth stocks — as sound investments and a good hedge against inflation. I have not before, however, received such a cogent statement as to yield and profit possibilities in good farm land.

The difficulty, of course, is that few people indeed can appraise good farm land. There are no statistical analyses available.

Your letter is extremely interesting, but I think the average uninformed person will do better to stick to stocks.

Captain Describes Attack on His Ship Near Cuba

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Capt. Gerhard Krause declared today, "We looked right into their guns" as he described the sneak strafing of his ore ship off the coast of Cuba for 61 minutes early Tuesday.

"We laid on the floor but it wouldn't have helped, really. We were lucky — just plain lucky — not to be wounded," said Capt. Krause in English with a heavy German accent.

Krause emphasized that none of the crewmen saw planes during the attack because of darkness. But they saw flashes of the guns as they fired.

"It sounded like there was more than one (plane) because the attacks came one after the other," the captain said.

SAW FLARES

Krause was on the bridge with the junior third officer and a helmsman when they saw flares lighting up the sky an estimated 20 miles to his starboard (right) lighting up the Cuban coast.

The J. Louis at that time was about 16 miles off the Cuban coast, he said.

"The sky was lighted with flares a long time before we got to the place where we were attacked. The flares were about 10 or 15 miles from the ship then and in a large semi-circle.

"Two flares then were dropped directly overhead," said the captain.

He was asked if he felt the pilots knew what type of ship they were firing on. He answered, "I think they knew what they were doing; they were shooting up the ship."

An official of Reynolds Metal Co. asked the U.S. Navy tonight to protect another company ship approaching the area where the freighter J. Louis was strafed early Tuesday by unidentified aircraft.

Rice said the S. S. Inger, owned by Reynolds, is now approaching the area where the J. Louis was strafed. He said he was concerned about its safety and notified the Navy and the State Department about his conversation with Krause.

Auto Strike Is Favored by Pontiac Local

Members of Pontiac Motor Division UAW Local 653 yesterday voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike unless agreement can be reached on some 151 grievances.

Local President John B. Maye said results of the vote, in which about 4,000 of the local's 13,000 membership took part, will now be forwarded to the UAW International for strike authorization.

The vote was 92 per cent in favor of a strike, Maye said.

But he said a series of union-management meetings will continue, with the next scheduled for this afternoon.

Maye charged that Pontiac's current record production contributed to many of the grievances. He said 101 complaints refer to "speedup" conditions at the plant.

"We don't feel that the assembly lines are properly manned to cover the necessary operations," Maye stated. He reported there is also a list of 50 safety condition grievances.

VOTING CONTINUED

Strike voting began Tuesday and continued through yesterday. Maye said this was the first such vote since 1961. At that time a walkout was averted through union-management negotiations.

If authorized by the UAW, a five-day period remains for negotiation before a strike actually begins, according to Maye. He said authorization could come within 48 hours.

News in Brief

A vent motor and six flood lamps valued at $80 were reported stolen yesterday from the Lotus Lake School, 6455 Harper, Waterford Township.
