They'll Chat After Debate
Jack to Phone Local Democrats

Eighty million Americans will watch round two in the Nixon-Kennedy debate Friday night on their television screens, but only 600 Democrats in Pontiac will get an exclusive first-hand critique of it from Sen. John F. Kennedy.

This will be possible by a Washington-to-Pontiac telephone hookup immediately after the hour-long debate. By means of an amplifier the Democratic presidential candidate will speak to those attending the sixth annual 18th Congressional District dinner at the Elks Temple.

And the $10-a-plate diners won't miss the historic debate from Washington. A large 9-by-12-foot television screen will be erected over the speaker's platform to assure Democrats a king-size ring-side seat for the battle over issues.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 and the debate at 7:30.

TO FOLLOW DEBATE

"Not in the least," exclaimed Allen Zemmel, chairman of county Democrats' biggest event of the year, "Sen. McCarthy will give a fighting speech at around 9 o'clock following the debate and telephone call."

The special call was arranged by Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey, alternate national Michigan committeewoman.

Who will be at the Pontiac end of the call is not known now. It could be James M. Ginn, county chairman. Questions for Sen. Kennedy, if any, probably will come from the press and not the audience, according to John Grubba, press aide for the party here.

Zemmel, Detroit attorney from Oak Park, urges those without tickets for the dinner to call county headquarters immediately. "It will start promptly at 6:30 so it will be completed before the debate begins at 7:30," he said.

WILLIAMS EXPECTED

Gov. Williams will lead a host of state party leaders and candidates into Pontiac for the dinner billed on a 1960 theme of "Paths to Peace." Lt. Gov. John R. Swainson, gubernatorial candidate, will attend with incumbent state officers.

Oakland Democrats will hear the second senatorial voice representing Minnesota in two years. Sen. Hubert Humphrey spoke at the 1959 congressional dinner.

Observers credit Sen. McCarthy, 44, with having given one of the greatest speeches at the national convention in Los Angeles. The senator nominated Adlai Stevenson.

Yanks Lead Bucs, 15-1; Mantle Homers Twice

PITTSBURGH—It was easy sailing for the New York Yankees in the second game of the 1960 World Series at Forbes Field.

Bob Turley was coasting along on a whipping 13-1 lead as the Yankees looked like a cinch to even the Series at one victory apiece.

Five Pittsburgh hurlers pitched to the mound in an effort to silence the booming Yankee bats.

New York put the game on ice with seven runs in the sixth inning as 12 men came to the plate. Mickey Mantle was the big gun in the Yankee attack with two homers, one a two-run blast and the other with two aboard.

FIRST INNING

Yankees — Kubek singled, Kubek thrown out trying to steal second. McDougald struck out. Mantle singled. Mantle struck out. No runs, two hits.

Pirates — Virion flied out. Groat grounded out. Groat grounded out. No runs, one hit.

SECOND INNING

Yankees — Berra grounded out. Skowron struck out. Howard struck out. No runs, no hits.

Pirates — Cimoli walked. Burgess popped out. Hoak flied out. Mazeroski doubled. Friend popped out. No runs, one hit.

THIRD INNING

Yankees — Richardson walked. Turley sacrificed Richardson to second. Kubek singled, scoring Richardson. McDougald doubled, scoring Kubek. Marks grounded out. Mantle walked. Berra flied out. Two runs, two hits.

Pirates — Virion grounded out. Groat grounded out. Groat grounded out. Nelson flied out. No runs, one hit.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees — Skowron struck out. Howard struck out. Richardson singled. Richardson took second on passed ball. Turley singled, scoring Richardson. McDougald flied out. One run, two hits.

Pirates — Cimoli singled. Burgess singled. Hoak doubled, scoring Cimoli. Mazeroski flied out. Baker batted for Friend and popped out. Virion grounded out. One run, three hits.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees — Green came in to pitch for Pittsburgh. McDougald walked. Marks forced McDougald at second. Mantle homered, scoring Marks ahead of him.

Pirates — Berra grounded out. Skowron flied out. Kubek flied out. No runs, no hits.

Pirates — Burgess walked. Hoak flied out. Skowron flied out. Skowfield walked. Virion grounded out. No runs, no hits.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees — Skowron grounded out. Turley struck out. Kubek flied out. No runs, no hits.

DEWITT ON WAY OUT?

DETROIT — Growing reports of the possible firing of Detroit Tiger president Bill DeWitt circulated freely today, both here and in Pittsburgh where the club owners are gathered informally for the World Series.

Look for Quick Start in Area
Let Xway Link Contracts Dec. 7

$6 Million Leg Due to Extend Past Clarkston

Completion Expected by at Least '62; U.S. 10 to Be Relocated

Contracts for the first Oakland County link in the Detroit-Sault Ste. Marie limited access highway will be let Dec. 7, the State Highway Department said today.

Preliminary work could start immediately, a spokesman said.

The first leg to be put under construction in the county will stretch from Walton boulevard, northeast of Pontiac, in a northwesterly direction to the into M15 north of Clarkston.

Completion date for this estimated $6 million section will be 1962, and possibly a year earlier with favorable weather conditions.

RELOCATION OF WOODWARD

The road through Oakland County is the relocation of U.S. 10 (Woodward Avenue). It will be four-lane divided highway with two 12-foot lanes in each direction and 300 feet of right-of-way on both sides.

The road was included in State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's five-year, $1.25 billion road building program for the state as proposed in 1957. It includes work from then through the middle of 1962.

This section of the highway to be undertaken initially was chosen, Mackie said, because property right-of-way acquisition is easier in this less-populated area. The route from Walton south through the more-populated cities of South and Eastland counties will be constructed last.

The 15-mile section from M15 northwest to the Oakland-Genesee County line is scheduled to be let in the first quarter of 1961, Mackie said.

The highway will be constructed on a 90-10 basis, with the federal government absorbing the larger share and the state the balance.

The three-mile section from Walton Boulevard to Baldwin Road needed 40 parcels of land for right-of-way. The commissioner said. Options on 25 have been acquired.

TO JOIN U.S. 25

From Baldwin Road to M15 — a distance of 6.7 miles — 73 parcels are needed and 57 have been optioned as of Saturday, Mackie reported.

After it leaves Oakland County, the expressway will continue for 8.3 miles until it ties into the Pontiac-Clio (U.S. 25) expressway west of Grand Blanc.

Mackie said the route from Eight Mile to Clarkston, Mich., is agreed with Wayne County. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Discuss Care for Emotionally Disturbed

Judge Moore Urges Mentally Ill Children Be Cared for First

When it comes to the hospitalization of the mentally ill, "children should come first," Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore testified in Pontiac today before a Senate committee studying the problem.

Moore also accused the Mental Health Commission and its director, Charles F. Wagge, with not providing leadership toward taking senile patients out of Michigan's mental hospitals and placing them in custodial homes, thus making room for the emotionally-disturbed children.

Thirteenth Judge Moore said he agreed with Wayne County Probate Judge Moore. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

After today, there are only three more days in which registration places will be open before the deadline for registering for the Nov. 8 election.

Friday, Saturday and Monday — that's all the time that's left.

To spur registrations before the deadline of 8 p.m. Monday, Gov. Williams proclaimed this "Voter Registration Week," and urged all eligible citizens to sign up to vote.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the latest count totals 4,477 new registrations since the Aug. 2 primary.

The Saginaw-Huron Street board will accept registrations from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

So far Kennedy has been critical of the way the Republican administration has dealt with Cuba, but he hasn't spelled out what he will do if he is elected president.

His formal program called for nothing until late this afternoon, when he crosses the Ohio River for a rally in Covington, Ky.

After tonight's speech he will fly to Washington to prepare for the second round of his television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday night.

But in the Kennedy camp the talk is almost exclusively devoted to the crowds the Democratic presidential nominee has been drawing, especially in Louisville Wednesday.

As is his custom, he tried to work in far more than there was time for, and he arrived late and after dark. Furthermore, it had rained.

Yet as he drove down Louisville's Fourth Street, he drew as happy and bouncy a crowd as a rock 'n' roll king.

Girls squealed. Boys yelled. And everybody ran every which way, for the object seems to be this: Let's get close enough to touch him.

Huge Crowds Going Wild Over Both Kennedy, Nixon

CINCINNATI, Ohio — Sen. John F. Kennedy, obviously cheered by the crowds he has been drawing, turns today to a subject on which there has been precious little cheering in this country lately: Fidel Castro and Cuba.

Kennedy was expected to spend most of the day working on the speech he will make at a fund-raising dinner tonight.

He couldn't say whether he considers this a major address or whether he will offer his solution to one of this nation's most troubling problems.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, heading into the South today, displayed new confidence after attracting the presidential campaign's biggest turnout in Philadelphia Wednesday night.

In the doubtful border state of Tennessee, he had a date at Memorial Square before taking off for Cleveland, Ohio.

The quarter of a million street crowds which turned out in Cleveland for Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, had been tops until Nixon drew somewhere around 200,000, as estimated by police, to see him in Philadelphia. That city used to be Republican but in late years has been Democratic.

A crowd which left about 3,000 empty seats in the 14,000-seat convention hall in Philadelphia — the scene of many national conventions — may be in stamping enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers.

There is no denying, however, that Nixon had scored a 10-strike in Pennsylvania, with its all-important 22 electoral votes.

On the 12-mile ride from the airport, where he landed in the late afternoon, the Republican presidential nominee was seen by more people than have turned out any time previously in the campaign.

Not all were supporters. There were many Kennedy-Johnson signs and many shouts for the opposition ticket.

But when his motorcade reached a square in the heart of the University of Pennsylvania campus, surging students stopped it by main force.

Sukarno Still Wants Ike to Meet Nikita

From Our News Wires

Indonesian President Sukarno said today after a talk with President Eisenhower in Washington that he still believes Eisenhower should meet with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Sukarno, who met with the President for 35 minutes, said Eisenhower explained why he does not wish to see the Russian leader at this time.

"He explained his answer to me and now I have a clearer picture of the situation," Sukarno told reporters.

Then, bringing his index fingers together to illustrate his thoughts, he said:

"I still stick to the idea that Eisenhower and Khrushchev should meet."

Sukarno was one of five neutralist leaders who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations proposing an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting. The resolution was withdrawn after it appeared certain to be defeated.

OAS Studies Moves Against Dominicans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Organization of American States (OAS) has set up a committee to consider economic sanctions against the Dominican regime of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo.

amid reports that the United States, of possible economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic to draft a punitive program against the Trujillo government.

The new seven-member committee, which has scheduled a meeting for Friday, is an outgrowth of the American foreign minister's role in a plot to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela.

S-P Chief, Ford VP Elected to Auto Board

DETROIT (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, vice president of the car and truck group of Ford Motor Co., and Clarence Francis, chairman of the board of Studebaker-Packard Corp. have joined the board of directors of the Automobile Manufacturers association.

Observers said McNamara's election to the AMA could indicate that he now is second in command at Ford to president Henry Ford II.

McNamara filled a vacancy on the AMA board created when Ernest R. Breech recently resigned after going into "semi-retirement" and resigning as chairman of the board at Ford.

AMA board members generally are the top executive officers of their companies.

Francis was elected to fill a long-time vacancy on the AMA board.

Print-Size Force Lands in Cuba

Invaders Head for Mountains

Leader Killed in Brief Skirmish With Castro's Militiamen

HAVANA (AP)—A platoon-sized invasion force from the United States has landed in east Cuba and headed into the mountains after suffering three casualties in a brief skirmish with the Armed Forces Ministry announced today.

A military communique said the landing was made by 27 men, including three Americans, "at dawn yesterday" on a bay midway between the towns of Baracoa and Moa, the site of a nationalized American mining company.

The area is in Oriente Province, the revolutionary stamping grounds of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The communique was undated and it was not specified whether the reported landing was Tuesday or Wednesday. The battle apparently occurred a few hours after the force reached shore.

The commander of the invasion force was killed and two of the men—two wounded—were captured, the ministry said.

The commander was identified as Armentio Fera, a follower of Cuban ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer. Masferrer, a wealthy hacendado, was the alleged father of Fulgencio Batista, a refugee in the United States.

TAKE HOSTAGES

The remainder of the invading group, with 50 Cuban farmers as hostages, was reported to have reached an area called Nuevo Mundo with Castro forces, including militiamen and local supporters, in pursuit.

The invaders landed at dawn, the communique said. It reported they carried with them a large American flag, three packs of rifles, a machine gun, and various documents, all of which were seized by the militiamen.

The remainder of the group cannot escape the revolutionary army and loyal militiamen," the communique said.

INVASION FORESEEN

For months Castro has been predicting an invasion. This incident, as outlined by the Armed Forces Ministry, appears to be the first confirmation that opposition forces are ready to move men into Cuba to assist in the insurgents already fighting in the Escambray Mountains in the center of the island.

Turner D. Masferrer's supporters planned a landing have circulated here for weeks. One version said 50 well-armed men had succeeded in landing in central Cuba and joined the other insurgents—estimated up to 1,000 men—in the mountains.

Took Beer to Prison Is Charge

A 27-year-old ex-convict faced new charges today because of a visit he paid a friend at Camp Pontiac.

Pontiac state police say that he took six bottles of beer along to the minimum security prison in White Lake Township Sunday.

Robert T. Johnson, 27, of 170 Oplyke St., is charged with transporting alcoholic beverages into a prison. He waived extradition last night before White Lake Township Justice Joseph F. Rynda yesterday, and will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

Bond was set at $2,000.

The charge, a felony, carries a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment.

Johnson apparently walked into camp unnoticed Sunday, according to state police, who spotted him near the camp. When he left, Troopers Stanley Doubleday and Gary Powell stopped him.

Johnson had no driver's license. Meanwhile, five unopened bottles of beer were found outside near the camp barracks and a broken beer bottle was found inside the prisoners' quarters.

Johnson told troopers he had been drinking and had taken the beer to his cell in the event he was stopped by police, Det. Al Strickley said.

Johnson is presently on parole after serving a prison term on a bad check charge.

State Judge James H. Lincoln that the state administration is "entirely inefficient" in not making plans for hundreds of such children awaiting care.

"We cannot expect the State Legislature to appropriate money until a sensible, working plan is first adopted," Moore said.

"This means that the Commission and the state administration must spell out a plan to take care of children first before it can even ask the Legislature for further money."

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge is chairman of the committee.

Judge Moore urged the committee to follow a bill proposed last session by Sen. Lodge designating that "children must be treated first."

Miriani Names Schimmel to Detroit Water Board

Louis H. Schimmel, Pontiac municipal financing consultant, today was appointed Oakland County representative on the Detroit Water Board by Mayor Louis Miriani.

Schimmel was sworn in as a commissioner by Thomas D. Ledbetter, Detroit city clerk, along with two other newcomers representing Wayne and Macomb counties.

They are Frank Bielski of Roseville, chairman of the Macomb County Board of Supervisors' finance committee, and Clarence L. Lichtenberg, mayor of Allen Park.

A charter amendment, approved by Detroit voters, required the four-member water board to take on three additional members, one each from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, to represent the suburbs that use Detroit water.

Pontiac, which is slated to become the biggest single user of Detroit water, will be represented by Schimmel.

Bielski and Lichtenberg have been advisory members on the water board for the past three months, but Schimmel wasn't. Oakland's advisory representative was Fred L. Yockey, manager of Huntington Woods in southern Oakland County.

Representatives of southern Oakland County had opposed Schimmel's appointment by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. They contended that the permanent representative should come from south Oakland, where most communities have been using Detroit water for years.

Broomfield Rips Medicare Plans

Greater Burden Would Wreck Social Security, He Says, Hitting Dems

Speaking at the October meeting of the Oakland County Medical Society, called Democrat-sponsored plans for medical care under Medicare "unrealistic" and "repulsive."

Speaking of the recently scrapped Forand Bill, which would scrap the responsibility of paying for such medical care under social security, Broomfield said that "the greatest issue in the nation today is the question: What do you expect of the Federal Government?"

"The Democrats would like to see everything in Washington. They cry that they will help the aged and the aged won't have to pay for it."

"Social Security and the federal treasury will take care of the bill, they tell us," Broomfield said. "A greater financial burden would destroy the Social Security system," he claimed.

QUESTION OF AIMS

Broomfield spoke last night before area doctors gathered at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

"The Republicans are not concerned with who is under social security, but with who needs aid the most," he asserted.

In his closing session, Congress passed the Mills Bill, a more moderate plan than the Forand Bill, which never reached the floor.

The present bill is designed to give senior citizens freedom instead of compulsion and to fit the needs of a particular area, Broomfield said.

Both Eisenhower and Khrushchev had made clear they did not want to meet, but the Communists, standing by and abstained from voting while the United States led the strategy to defeat the neutralists' bid.

The neutralists finally gave up the struggle for their five-nation U.S.-Soviet summit proposal after the assembly, at U.S. urging, voted to delete specific reference to the two government heads, and call merely for resumption of Russian-American diplomatic contacts. But there was no one-sided majority such as the United States had enjoyed on other issues.

Ex-Policeman Loses $1,200

Gunman Also Takes Bailey's Clothes During Holdup Behind Store

A former Pontiac policeman was robbed of $1,200 and his clothes at gunpoint last night as he entered his car after leaving a drug store.

The robbery victim was William K. Bailey, 38, of 12 Mariva St., who resigned from the police department in the summer of 1959 after serving nearly nine years.

Bailey, who now runs an auto repair shop, told Pontiac police he was getting into his car at the rear of Daniel's Drug Store, 455 Perry St., when the gunman walked up, stuck a revolver into his head, and threatened to shoot if Bailey turned around.

The robber ordered him to take off all his clothes and hand out his wallet containing $1,070 cash and checks totaling $130, Bailey said.

Then the gunman reached into his car and grabbed a suburban jacket which contained Bailey's 25-caliber pistol.

Bailey caught a glimpse of the fleeing bandit. He was described as running stopped over and wearing blue jeans.

Bailey reported the robbery at the Public Safety Building after driving home from clothing.

Assault Charge Dropped Against Pontiac Man

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday dismissed a felony assault charge against a 20-year-old man stemming from a fracas at a drive-in restaurant Sept. 24.

Cleared in the case was James H. Hudson, 20, of 999 Northfield Ave.

Still charged with felonious assault in the fight is Charles Theobald, 21, of 272 S. Park St. His examination was postponed to Oct. 12.

George W. Hall, 25, of 3580 Overton St., charged that he was set upon by the pair with tire irons and knives.

He required hospital treatment for facial cuts and bruises following the scuffle at the Buttercup Drive-In, 910 Oakland Ave.

Car Registrations Second Only to '55

DETROIT (UPI)—New car registrations, totaled 4,483,104 for the first eight months of this year—the second highest such period in the post-war years and only 7 per cent behind the record set in 1955, it was reported today.

R. L. Palk & Co. said the total included 325,400 new cars registered in the month of August.

The August total included 138,359 domestic compact cars, or 26.3 per cent of the market.

The Day in Birmingham

Guidance Council Adopts Standard School Tests

BIRMINGHAM—Thinking caps and sharpened pencils are in order again for most Birmingham pupils.

The schedule of standardized tests as established by the Birmingham Guidance Council had been released by Daniel A. Nesbitt, director of curriculum.

Only third, seventh and ninth graders will escape some form of comprehensive, system-wide test this year.

Five tests are scheduled for primary grades 1 and 2. Kindergarten pupils will be introduced to the program in the spring when they take a test designed to help determine their readiness for first grade work.

Four tests will be given the intermediate grades, 4, 5 and 6. A mental ability test will be given to all fourth and sixth grade students. Fifth and sixth graders will take achievement tests. These tests will be completed by Oct. 14.

At the junior high level, eighth graders will take both an achievement and an ability test. Senior high students have begun their annual achievement tests in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. These will be supplemented with a vocational preference test in the 10th grade. A vocational aptitude test will follow for 11th grade students.

Vocational tests will be administered this month and in November.

"Careful consideration has been given by the Guidance Council to the kinds of information that teachers, counselors, parents and pupils need to make realistic decisions about school," Nesbitt said.

"These tests, along with observations, conferences and teacher-prepared tests supplemented with other special tests in curriculum areas, help to provide the necessary balance of information required."

The Baldwin Public Library addition will be dedicated Sunday.

Master of ceremonies at the 20-p.m. ceremony and open house will be James Tobin, president of the library board.

Principal speaker at the dedication will be Dr. Otto M. Dickey, new Birmingham school superintendent.

An informal open house will follow the ceremony, with visitors invited to inspect the new addition, as well as the remodeled original building.

Gov. Williams will be a special guest Saturday at a tea sponsored by the Birmingham Democratic Club to honor all Democratic club workers.

The tea will be held in the home of Mrs. Blythe Jones of 883 Southfield Road from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m.

11-Mile Road up to Walton "is in varying stages of planning and development." Although not included in Mackie's first five-year program, the Eight Mile to 11-Mile leg is in the field survey stage. It will be undertaken in the next five-year plan.

The section from 11-Mile Road to Walton, a distance of nearly 18 miles, is in the design stage, Mackie said.

Estimated cost of the road through Oakland County is $34 million.

Olds Flood Lansing

LANING (U)—Downtown Lansing was turned into an outdoor showroom for new Oldsmobiles today. More than 100 new models were parked on downtown streets as Lansing opened a three-day salute to the Capital City's principal industry.

Iran Sticks by West

TEHRAN, Iran (U)—Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi opened the 11th session of the Senate today and promised Iran "will remain completely in NATO," which is a defensive organization and conforms to the United Nations Charter and principles.

Khrushchev Challenged on Russian Colonialism

In replying to Premier KHRUSHCHEV's charges of colonial bondage, exploitation and foreign yokes and his hypocritical call for "the complete and final elimination of colonial regimes," Canada's prime Minister DIEBENBACHER emphasized the fact that Mr. KHRUSHCHEV is the master of the major colonial power in the world today.

The Russian colonial empire consists of nine satellite states—Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, North Korea, Outer Mongolia, Poland and Romania. Sixteen other peoples including the Armenians, Estonians, Latvians and Ukrainians, first conquered by the Czar, then liberated and later subjugated by the Soviet Union, are still slaves of Moscow.

Since the last war 17 colonial areas with a population of more than 40 million have been given complete freedom by France. Fourteen former colonies and territories of Britain with over 500 million people have achieved independence. The Commonwealth, said Mr. DIEBENBACHER, now consists of ten nations, including the United Kingdom. "All of them free... comprising one-fifth of the world's population and representing virtually every race, color and creed."

"How many human beings have been liberated by the U.S.S.R.?" continued the Prime Minister. "Do we forget how one of the postwar colonies (Hungary) sought to liberate itself four years ago and with what result?"

Challenging KHRUSHCHEV Mr. DIEBENBACHER said, "I ask the Chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R. to give to those nations under his domination the right of free elections—to give them the opportunity to determine the kind of government they want under genuinely free conditions..."

But Mr. Khrushchev has told the United Nations that he has no colonies and that he is an enemy of colonialism.

That is the Big Lie technic.

Germany Is Considering More Development Aid

Prosperous West Germany is reluctantly considering the advisability of contributing more aid to underdeveloped countries.

Criticized by PER JACOBSON, managing director of the International Monetary Fund, the Germans are beginning to realize that they ought to help others as they themselves were helped by their former enemies after the war. Mr. JACOBSON's address to the fiscal experts meeting in Washington also could be applied in a lesser degree to other Continental countries.

Europeans who were saved by the Marshall Plan and are now prosperous should understand that the time has come for them to assume their share of the cost of building a stable world economy. This not only would create new markets, but is a moral obligation as well.

It's not charity.
It's an investment.

Communist 'Education' No Match for Western

Much has been written and said about the superiority of Russia's Communist education over Western and the greater number of graduates particularly in the scientific field.

Now comes a British novelist, John

WAIN, who has just returned from a trip to the Soviet Union. In an open letter to the Russians he writes:

"More people gain a detailed knowledge of more things in Russia than in England. Of 'education' in the traditional, central sense, of course 'the concept does not exist among you. Education is the process whereby the mind is freed... Your 'education' is neither ahead of ours, nor behind it, nor to one side of it. You have no education."

Putting it another way, what the Russians mean by education is technical knowledge only. The real meaning of education—freeing of the mind—is completely lost.

Let's remember this when speaking of the achievements of the Russians in the field of education.

At the present rate, how long will it be before the country is knee-deep in trading stamps?

The Man About Town

Poll of the Kennedys and Nixons Who Are Localities

1960: A great year, even if election does come on its latest possible date.

This column has made a poll among Pontiac residents who have the same names as the presidential candidates. If you're a Nixon or a Kennedy and are not included, it is because you were not at home, or I was otherwise unable to contact you.

Sticking to the family name in its entirety are:

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kennedy of 955 South Jessie St., who will vote for the Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kennedy of 690 Joslyn Ave., feeling that Dick's the man.

Sticking by the family name, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Nixon of 1034 Boston St., will cast their ballots for Dick.

A widow, living at 233 South Jessie St. Mrs. Ethel M. Kennedy says there's nothing in a name and will vote for Nixon.

But, holding true to the name Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kennedy

Another widow, living at 169 Green St. Mrs. Louise W. Kennedy feels that Nixon should have the biggest office in the world.

Democrats, and with a feeling that they will vote for Kennedy are:

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Kennedy of 83 East Chicago Ave.

Solidly in his column are Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Nixon of 56 West Rutgers St., who will vote for that other Nixon.

In the 989 Canterbury Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy

there's a possible division. Ralph will stick by the family name, but his wife hasn't quite made up her mind.

But there's absolute unanimity in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kennedy of 2908 Voorhees Road, where both will vote for Nixon.

Unless she exercises that woman's great prerogative before Nov. 8.

Mrs. Ruth Kennedy of 177 North Mill St., will make a crack at the top of the ticket headed by Jack.

In Nixon's column will be found Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Kennedy

of 3101 West Huron St. A widow, living at 267 Ferry St., Mrs. John H. Kennedy

"You Were Great!"

David Lawrence Says:

2 Key Points Pull Presidential Vote

WASHINGTON—Lots of people are writing to this correspondent asking about the outcome of the election.

In nine out of the last 11 presidential elections, the prediction made in these dispatches in the last week before election day has turned out to be right.

What has been the formula used in making the pre-election analysis each time?

It disregards altogether personalities and personal preferences.

It takes into account popularity of a candidate only if he becomes the symbol of an issue that is fundamental. It relies solely on the public reaction to basic issues.

There are two basic categories of issues in every presidential campaign. One is emotional, and the other is economic.

The emotional issues include the question of whether the nation is likely to go into war or be kept out of it, whether there is corruption in government, or whether there is some other factor that sharply violates tradition.

The economic issues relate to the pocketbook of the voter—whether times are good or bad, whether unemployment is widespread, whether the cost of living is high, or whether a recession or depression is present or in prospect.

AFILIATION OVERCOME

The tendency of the voters is to cast their ballots, irrespective of party affiliation, according to the party likely to maintain peace.

Thus, when an administration can boast of "peace and prosperity" and the people feel that these are valid claims, then the party in power will be upheld at the polls.

How will these factors apply in 1960? On the emotional side—the peace issue—the argument for upholding the party in power at present favors the Republicans.

The protest vote on the economic side favors the Democrats, since there is considerable unemployment.

The question is where these areas are, how populous they are, and what sections will shift their votes from one party to the other because of "bad times."

The history of the last 11 presidential contests bears out the formula. In 1916 the eastern states were in an economic depression due to the disruption of world trade during World War I.

WILSON WINNER

But the western and southern states were riding high, with wheat, for instance, selling at a record price.

The Country Parson

Is there anything one can do to remedy extremely old hair? (K.W.)

Ans.—Sulfur is the most satisfactory remedy applied to scalp (not to the hair) as directed in Little Lesson No. 24. The Hair and Scalp, for which send me the coupon, and the envelope bearing your address.

If the odor of sulfur in the dandruff pomade suggested in the Little Lesson is disagreeable, the next best remedy is salicylic acid or resorcin applied to the scalp in a lotion by atomizer as described Woodrow Wilson, as the candidate of the party in power, won by a narrow margin.

In 1920 the vote against the party in power was overwhelming, though James M. Cox, Democrat, was the better candidate, the more effective speaker, the better campaigner, while Warren Harding sat on his front porch at Marion, Ohio, made few speeches and was a colorless candidate.

The people voted, in effect, to repudiate our entry into the war under the Wilson administration and to protest the high prices that resulted in the immediate postwar period.

In 1928 the Midwest and West were prosperous, particularly the farm areas, and Harry Truman benefited.

This writer in 1947 and through the summer of 1948 thought Truman was a sure winner but in the autumn misused on the appraisal of the economic situation.

The protest against the cost of living turned out to be not as serious for the Democrats in the urban centers as he had believed.

In 1952 the people voted against the Truman administration on the emotional issue involved in the Korean War, and they took seriously the charges of communism and corruption in government.

Economic issues were secondary.

ECONOMY OK IN '56

In 1956 the people voted to continue the Eisenhower administration in power not only because of the highly debated international situation, especially since the Suez crisis was on, but because the economic situation was satisfactory.

It is too early to say whether the emotional or the economic issue will be more powerful this time.

Much depends on what is brought out by the speakers on these issues during the last two weeks of the campaign.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Schoolgirl Complexion Can't Be Improved On

"Should a 14-year-old junior high school girl be permitted to wear lipstick in school? Please do print my name if you answer this in the paper." (Signed)

First, I never reveal the identity of a correspondent without his or her written consent.

Speaking only as a health expert, I say a girl should not be permitted to wear lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil or other make-up in school.

Not because these cosmetics are harmful to health but because the use of them to counteract the appearance of youth encourages the demerit to neglect care of her health at the time of life when good health is a girl's most precious asset.

After all, no chemist or no sales agent as yet has produced a cosmetic that even approaches "that schoolgirl complexion."

In a Maryland town not long ago the parents of high school girls demanded that the high school authorities give girls the same privilege they give high school boys to smoke in school.

The outcome of the battle, if there was a battle, was not reported. I imagine tobacco is important in the economies of the community, and by this time the school not only sanctions smoking by girls but offers cocktails and highballs in the cafeteria.

An intelligent woman uses cosmetics so artistically that one scarcely notices her make-up. The one with a low IQ slaps it on with a lavish hand, as for a cigarette or beer commercial. If I were king, any boy or girl caught smoking or wearing make-up would be expelled from school.

For example, in the ages 9 to 12, boys ridicule their pals who carry the school books of girl classmates. They hoot and jeer such precocious boys.

They even draw hearts on trees or wooden fences and thus link the initials of the couple. Or they scrawl "Johnny loves Mary," thinking this is the height of sissiness.

Case Records of a Psychologist.

Mama-Fixated Bachelor Isn't Free

Edith is frustrated by an old bachelor who is skittish about marriage. Scrapbook this case, for it exposes some of the little known facts about bachelors. They overtly worship the idea of their freedom because they usually are dominated by "mamma" and hence have no little real freedom they exaggerate its importance.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F - 488: Edith G., aged 32, is the attractive school teacher who can't get bachelor Paul to pop the question.

They have been dating for 5 years and have many mutual hobbies.

But Paul is a "mamma's apron-stringer." His widowed mother has lived with him all his life, even when he attended college.

Paul has thus grown so accustomed to taking orders from mamma that he hesitates to assert his own independence in picking a wife.

Bachelors, any DR. CRANE way, are likely to be emotionally immature. Not only are they often fixated at the "parental stage" in their emotional growth, but they may even show a few juvenile ideas typical of the "gang" stage.

For example, in the ages 9 to 12, boys ridicule their pals who carry the school books of girl classmates. They hoot and jeer such precocious boys.

They even draw hearts on trees or wooden fences and thus link the initials of the couple. Or they scrawl "Johnny loves Mary," thinking this is the height of sissiness.

Voice of the People

'Qualifications Don't Count With Truman and Eleanor'

Is Sen. Kennedy too young and inexperienced to be president? Eleanor Roosevelt said he was. That was before the Los Angeles Democratic convention when she was pulling for Stevenson. Shortly after Kennedy's nomination, he made a flying pilgrimage to Hyde Park, N. Y., to see her. After a lovefest he made his peace with her and now she is singing his praises from the house top.

Before the convention Harry Truman also said Kennedy was too young and inexperienced for the presidency. That was when he was bowing for Symington. He was emphatic about Kennedy claiming that too much money was being spent on the Wisconsin and West Virginia primaries in his behalf and that the convention was being rigged for him.

On August 20 Kennedy made another flying trip; this time to Independence, Mo. to see Mr. Truman. There they met privately in the Truman library, "kissed and made up" and now Harry is for him 100 per cent.

Why all these sudden changes? How can they conscientiously endorse Sen. Kennedy's candidacy today after branding him immature and inexperienced for the presidency?

It is evident they are out to elect a Democrat for president regardless of his qualifications.

'Khrushchev Is Not a True Butcher'

I strongly resent Khrushchev's being referred to as a butcher. Murderer? Yes. Assassin? Yes. SOB? More than likely. However, 250,000 loyal Americans proudly wear the title of butcher, an honored name in an honored industry.

Harry Mumford, Local 464 Amalgamated Meat Cutters, New Jersey

'Get Out Khrushchev We Don't Need You'

The first sensible thing I've heard out of Mr. K. is his threat to get out of the U.N. The Com-mies have never been any good in the U.N. Every proposal tending to peace with justice they have vetoed.

If the U.N. yields to his ball-dodging demands to depose Dag and or admit China the end of the U.N. is not far off. That would definitely be appeasement of the worst kind. We all know where appeasement got England and the world preceding World War II.

Let Mr. K get out and if he doesn't do it quickly, kick him out.

Let Mr. K form his disunited nations of Commie states. It's time nations stood up to be counted as we will know where they stand on world problems.

Get Russian Nikita and Chinese Chan in the same union and see who will come out on top. Get these two mad dogs together and the rest of the world will see the biggest, dirtiest, dogfight in history.

'McCarthy Would've Straightened Out K'

What this country needs is about two months of the late Sen. McCarthy to straighten out Khrushchev's thinking and wise him up to what we think about the Russian rat.

'Republicans Voted for War Also'

I'm tired of reading letters and hearing speeches about "the Democrats are the war party." The GOP members in Congress voted to declare war just as much as the Democrats did.

It's not fair to say that the Democrats are the war party. The GOP members in Congress voted to declare war just as much as the Democrats did.

The garden of my heart... With silent inward wish that we... No longer stay apart... The perfume of these fragile blooms... That rises in the air... With all my longing dreams of you... I hope you will compare... And when the leaves and petals fall... Within the coming days... It is to spread a carpet for... Your tender loving ways... And if you smile and think of me... If you do date an old bachelor, be sure you tactfully let it be known that you are NOT going to marry, ever!

For this reassures him! He then will relax and be of guard so he will enjoy himself fully in your company. Thus, you can deftly become indispensable to his happiness without his stealing himself against your charms from the start.

Soon he will try to sell you on marriage, for males are perverse. If you let them think you don't want marriage, then they try to marry you!

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our cocker spaniel's ears are full of wax. How can we clear this up? Mrs. Irene C. of Chicago.

A. Sometimes I think I could stay fully occupied just cleaning and treating the ears of cockers and other long-eared dogs. The drooping ears block air from reaching the canals, and this causes wax to form. If this goes unattended too long, infection and odor follow.

Clip the hair on the undersides of the ears. Then soften the wax by putting baby or mineral oil into the ears, using cotton-tipped applicators. Leave the oil in overnight and clean the ears in the morning.

It may take a week of daily applications for complete softening. Continue this treatment about every three days until the ears look completely clear. If your pet's ears are raw or inflamed, I'd advise you to get professional advice.

To prevent this condition from forming in healthy-eared dogs, administer the same oil treatment once every two weeks.

U.S. to Harness Strontium 90

Will Power 'Sentry' to Relay Readings From Remote Spots

WASHINGTON — Radioactive strontium 90, perhaps the most feared product of atomic fission, is going to work as a harmless source of electric power.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has contracted—with a Baltimore firm to devise an electronic "sentry" to relay readings from instruments set up in remote places to scientific headquarters. The isolated sentry cannot depend on normal sources of electric power, so strontium 90 is being pressed into service.

Strontium 90 disintegrates into stable zirconium by releasing atomic particles, the National Geographic Society says. Heat given off in the process can power a generator. With the resulting electricity, the sentry can record and transmit data for at least two years without refueling or servicing.

Theoretically, strontium 90 could provide power as many as eight years without losing efficiency. At the end of 28 years, it would still retain half of its radioactive power.

The revolutionary sentry will first be linked with weather instruments measuring temperature, wind speed, wind direction, and barometric pressure. Meteorologists have immediate need of the device, since their instruments are often located in high mountains or other places that cannot be reached easily.

The sentry will use a compound of strontium that is insoluble and thus cannot be absorbed by living organisms.

Strontium was unknown less than 200 years ago. About 1787 a rare mineral was brought to Edinburgh, Scotland, from a lead mine at Strontian, Argyllshire. At first chemists believed it was barium chloride, but Dr. Adam Crawford found it had some different properties.

"It is probable that the Scotch mineral is a new species of earth which has not hitherto been sufficiently examined," he said.

A year later Thomas Charles Hope, a dapper Edinburgh chemist famous for conducting his experiments in full dress, proved that the spar at Strontian contained a new earth that came to be known as "strontite" or "strontia." This opened the way for research by England's great Sir Humphrey Davy, who isolated the metal.

Detroit Named Head of Women's Group

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Mrs. Otterbein Dresser of Detroit took office Tuesday as president of the Michigan Women's Osteopathic Auxiliary Officers for the coming year. She succeeds retiring President Mrs. Z. W. Killgore of Michigan Center.

Mrs. Roy Bubeck Jr., of Grand Rapids was named president-elect and takes office in 1961.

The auxiliary is meeting in conjunction with the 62nd annual convention and post graduate sessions of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Other auxiliary officers are Mrs. William Athens of Trinton, vice president; Mrs. H. H. Keaton of Flint, secretary; and Mrs. W. C. Andreen of Wyandotte, treasurer.

Jack Considers Utilizing Youth

to Aid New Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John
F. Kennedy said today that if he is elected president, he will examine the possibility of forming a Youth Peace Corps of trained young Americans to help new nations.

"Such service would be considered service in the national interest," Kennedy said. "Might it not make the normal military obligation unnecessary?"

Kennedy raised the possibility of the peace corps in a long statement issued here urging young people who have become of voting age to register and vote in next month's elections.

Kennedy said reports indicate success in the drive to locate and register as many as possible of the almost eight million young men and women who are eligible to vote for the first time in a presidential election.

"Casting your first vote in a presidential election is a great and memorable experience," Kennedy said. "See to it that your decision is made to count. Make your vote your investment in your future by registering now and voting on election day."

S-P Completes Move to Full-Year Auto Warranties

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. today completed the industry switch to full-year or 12,000-mile new car warranties.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors had announced within the past 30 days they would abandon the old 4,000-mile or 90-day warranties on new cars in favor of the full-year or 12,000-mile plan.

Roy B. Bender, vice president of parts and servicing for Studebaker-Packard, said the extended warranty will apply not only to 1961 models, but also to 1960 cars and trucks which are still within the warranty period.

GEORGE'S

74 N. Saginaw St.
Main Floor Shoe Dept.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Spurred by the belief that many of the deaths in air crashes are unnecessary, a small group of scientists here are working to reduce the toll.

They staff the Federal Aviation Agency's new aero-medical research center.

"At least 80 per cent of aircraft fatalities are in survivable accidents — accidents where the fuselage of the aircraft remains intact," says John J. Swearingen, who has studied the impact of

"We've got to start catching up with the aircraft engineers in our research or the engineers won't be able to go any further."

Swearingen, a physiologist, is assistant to Dr. Robert Clark, acting director of the research center.

Clark says the first task of the 176-man staff, which began research last March, is a study of age in air crews.

"The way we consider age doesn't necessarily mean years," he says. "It means reactions and reserves."

The center's staff will try to determine the point of diminishing returns in the pilot's reactions and reserves.

There are other cockpit problems that will be studied. "We need to know just how many knobs and buttons a pilot can operate under certain conditions and where those objects should be located," says Clark.

The center also will study the role of the air traffic controller. In a time of dwindling airspace and crowded airways, his role is becoming increasingly vital and nerve racking. Clark and his staff want to know the limits of men directing jet-paced traffic from the control towers.

Most aero-medical research so far has been conducted by the military. There is a touch of irony in this, as Dr. Clark suggests:

"In the military the person is expendable. He has to be if the machine is to carry out its mission. But civilian aviation's mission is to get the passenger to his destination safely."

There has been limited civilian research in the medical aspects of flight, most of it on crash survival. Swearingen and his 13-man staff have played a major part in this. They have made break-throughs. Consider the airline passenger's seat.

"Experiments have shown the human body can withstand a tremendous force if that force is spread over the body and not concentrated at one point," says Swearingen.

OPERATION SURVIVAL. — J. J. Swearingen (right), chief of the protection and survival branch of the FAA's Aero-Medical Research Center, handles controls of the center's pressure chamber. With him are E. B. McFadden (left), physiologist, and J. G. Blith-rum, human biologist.

"If we could engineer a seat that would hold to the fuselage under the impact of a crash, then face the seat to the rear, there would be a definite increase in crash survival."

"Instead of absorbing the impact with a seat belt, the passenger would absorb it over the entire area of his body."

The crash of a burning airliner in Tulsa, Okla., led to another discovery. "The passengers were apparently unhurt by the crash, but it took a lot of urging by stewardesses to get them to leave their seats," says Swearingen. "It was puzzling."

The reason for this curious behavior, he now believes, is vertical impact. The passengers were stunned when the plane sat down. Swearingen says research has shown that four inches of plastic foam placed under the passenger's seat would triple his tolerance to vertical impact.

The center will move into a new multimillion-dollar building next July.

Sammy Davis, May Britt Postpone Their Wedding

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bypassing "legal complications," Sammy Davis Jr. and actress May Britt have postponed their wedding.

The Negro entertainer and the blonde Swedish girl had set their wedding for Oct. 16. The new date is Nov. 12.

Miss Britt was divorced Sept. 30, 1959, from law student Edwin Gregson of Los Angeles. She did not disclose what complications had forced postponement of the forthcoming ceremony.

Miss Britt is 25; Davis is 34.

Field Day Due for Astronomers

Two Meteor Showers Forecast for October; Planets to Be Bright

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The month of October promises a celestial circus for amateur astronomers, according to experts at the University of Michigan.

It will feature meteor showers on Oct. 9 and Oct. 20, and most of the planets in the solar system will appear bright in the sky during the month.

Hazel M. Losh, U. of M. astronomer, said the first meteor shower—the dracoids—will be best seen in the early morning of Oct. 9 in the northern sky.

"The second, the orionids, will continue for about eight days but the best viewing time is expected to be during sunrise hours on Oct. 20, in the eastern sky."

Mercury, always difficult to see, will be seen as an "evening star" in the southwest just after sunset on Oct. 15, a few degrees west of Venus, the brightest star in the sky.

Mars, Jupiter and Saturn will also be clearly visible during October, Prof. Losh reported.

Mars, reddish appearing, will rise in the constellation Gemini, in the northeast about 9 p.m. each night near the end of the month.

Jupiter, showing bright in the southwest near the horizon, can be seen now and by the end of the month will be getting about three hours after the sun.

Saturn, not nearly as bright, will follow Jupiter by about an hour.

Laos King Approves Relations With Russ

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The neutralist government of Laos says King Savang Vathana has approved establishing diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

They are scheduled to go into effect in a week or two on a nonresident ambassadorial level. Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said, with the Soviet ambassador to neighboring Cambodia serving as envoy to Laos as well.

One of the chief demands of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels for ending the six-year civil war is government recognition of the Soviet Union, Red China and North Viet Nam.

Souvanna Phouma said on Tuesday, however, that it would be "premature" to establish diplomatic relations with the Peiping and North Vietnamese regimes at this time.

Champ's Mother on Hunger Strike for Chess Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother of young Bobby Fisher, three-time United States chess champion, went on a hunger strike to persuade the American Chess Foundation to finance a U. S. team in the 1960 Chess Olympics.

The games begin in Leipzig, East Germany, Oct. 14. Regina Fisher, mother of Bobby, said she is running out for the U. S. if it is going to send a team.

She said her hunger strike will dramatize the need for U. S. participation. She has been picketing the foundation at 1372 Broadway up an attempt to have it provide about $6,300 for the team's expenses.

Son Bobby currently is playing in a tournament in Iceland.

Thirteen presidents of the United States were elected to office with less than 50 per cent of the popular vote.

Burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Oakwood.

Mrs. Crane died Tuesday after a long illness. Surviving besides her son Verne A. Barrett of Kenndale, Tex. are three grandchildren.

Science Nears Block of Kidney Stones

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A urologist said Wednesday that medical science is on the verge of discovering a way to prevent kidney stones, a form of kidney trouble which can produce agonizing pain.

Dr. William H. Boyce of Winston-Salem, N. C., said kidney stones are made up primarily of calcium crystals, a normal ingredient of urine.

He said the stones form when these calcium crystals stick together on a large molecule made out of protein and carbohydrate.

Researchers are on the verge of developing a drug which will keep the calcium from joining up with the calcium bits, Dr. Boyce said.

Skull in Tanganyika Is 600,000 Years Old; Rested With Fossils

WASHINGTON — A remote, sun-baked gorge in East Africa has yielded a 600,000-year-old skull, the remains of the earliest man ever found.

The discovery climaxed a search of nearly three decades by Dr. L. S. B. Leakey, the noted British archeologist and curator of the Coryndon Museum in Nairobi, Kenya.

Dr. Leakey's work in the Olduvai Gorge of Tanganyika is sponsored by the National Geographic Society of Washington.

The world's earliest known human, who has been named Zinjanthropus, or "East Africa Man," was a youth of about 18. In the context of time he was a thousand centuries older than two other famous primitives — Peking Man and Java Man.

East Africa Man's remains lay buried in a unique fossil museum where Dr. Leakey and his wife Mary have uncovered many ancient tools and the bones of more than a hundred extinct animals, some of them nightmarish in size and makeup. The skull came to light as two immense teeth shining from stone.

"We soon discovered that the nearly complete skull — minus only the lower jaw — was imbedded in soft rock, although expansion and contraction of the rock had cracked the fossil into more than 400 fragments," Dr. Leakey announced in the September National Geographic.

The Leakeys learned much about the life of the primitive toolmakers. But fossil evidence evaded them until July 17, 1959, when Mrs. Leakey spied the two teeth as Dr. Leakey lay ill in camp.

She sped back to fetch him in their Land-Rover, shouting, "I've got him! I've got him! I've got him!" The discovery at about 600,000 years, Dr. Leakey says. Archeologists know the era of giant fossils found near by a prehistoric pig as big as a rhinoceros; a sheep that towered six feet at the shoulder; a fantastically huge baboon; and a bird possibly larger than the extinct, 12-foot-high moa of New Zealand.

East Coast Jaunt in Store for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will campaign up and down the East Coast from Miami, Fla., to Connecticut during the week starting Oct. 17.

The 4,000-mile tour includes a television appearance in New York City and an address before the American Legion convention in Miami.

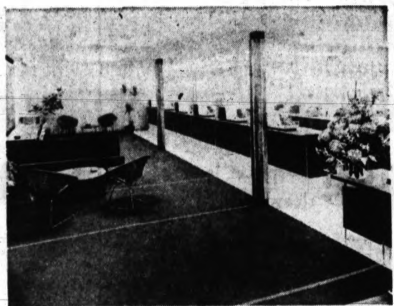

The campaign swing begins in New Haven, Conn., one other Connecticut city and Buffalo, N.Y., on Oct. 17.

Nixon then will fly South and appear in Jacksonville, Miami, Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Prisoners Gain Attention by Slashing Themselves

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ten convicts in isolation at Alcatraz Island Prison slashed at their ankles Wednesday.

Warden Paul J. Madigan said he did not know why or how the convicts inflicted their wounds but surmised they merely were trying to gain attention. He said they made no demands.

Still Confident of Labor Party Rule

Gaitskell Defies Attack of Pro-NATO Defense Idea

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell today defied reputation of his defense policy by the party conference, confident of still holding the support of the party's members of Parliament.

Left-wing trade union delegates led the revolt Wednesday to override Gaitskell and put the party on record in favor of Britain's complete nuclear disarmament and neutrality in the Cold War.

Gaitskell, 54, refused to resign despite the conference vote against his "pro-NATO" policy. While the convention lays down party policy, the selection of the party leader rests with the Labor delegation in Parliament, and Gaitskell and his supporters succeeded Tuesday in beating down a move to make party conference decisions binding on the Laborite deputies.

By clinging to the party reins, Gaitskell headed into another storm today on home-front policy and the prospects of another defeat.

REJECTION LOOMS
The delegates appear certain to reject his efforts to modify the party's hard-line, old-socialist doctrines, and to demand instead more socialism—the "nationalization of the means of transportation, distribution and exchange."

The row inside the opposition Labor party will have no immediate effect on Britain's foreign or domestic policy. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government has a comfortable 100-seat majority in Parliament and more than four years still in office. And the sharp split in the Labor party made its previously slim prospects of supplanting the Conservatives appear even more remote.

Gaitskell told the rebellious convention delegates that he would "fight and fight and fight again" to reverse their decisions on foreign policy.

"I stand by the policy of collective security and membership in NATO," he declared in an unsuccessful last-minute appeal to stave off the revolt.

But the conference voted that Britain should renounce her nuclear weapons, pull out of the North Atlantic Alliance and cut her ties with the United States.

"Only pacifists, neutralists and fellow travelers" could take comfort in such a policy, Gaitskell told the 1,501 delegates.

Prince Looks in Vain for Wild Flower Seeds

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito of Japan bought three books on fish raising but looked in vain at two stores for wild flower seeds Wednesday. The prince slipped away from his hotel for the unscheduled morning shopping trip just before he and Princess Michiko began a round of activities here on the final day of their American tour.

Hartke to Ike: Fire Quesada

Indiana Senator Says FAA Chief's Attitude
on Electra Poor

MUNCIE, Ind. (UPI) — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., suggested Wednesday President Eisenhower consider firing Federal Aviation Administrator Elwood R. Quesada for allowing continued flights of Electra airliners despite a series of fatal crashes.

The Indiana Democrat made public a telegram he sent Eisenhower in which he said that although the cause of the latest crash which took 61 lives at Boston late Tuesday is uncertain, Quesada's attitude "suggests callous preferal to let them fly now and risk further deaths."

"This, in light of his past statements and actions, leads me to respectfully suggest you consider whether Gen. Quesada merits your further confidence in this post," Hartke's wire to Eisenhower said.

The senator, a member of the Senate Commerce Committee which has jurisdiction over aviation, was grounded after one of the craft disintegrated over Tell City, Ind., in March, killing all 65 persons on board.

Nab Big Daddies Raising Antes Instead of Babies

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Police found that not all baby carriages in a city park were carrying babies. They held packs of playing cards, rented at 35 cents a time. Marked packs also were available — at considerably higher prices.

The gambling tables were park benches. An old gentleman left money, at 50 per cent.

Police said several people will stand trial.

INSIDE THE TAIL SECTION — This is the inside of the tail section of the Eastern Airlines turboprop Electra that crashed at Boston Tuesday with loss of 61 lives. The southbound plane crashed moments after takeoff. Elwood R. Quada, federal aviation administrator, said the plane may have drawn a flock of starlings into the four jet engines, causing loss of power and leading to a stall.

To Make White House a Home

It'll Take a Heap o' Money

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, goodness knows, is an orderly type and has no intention of leaving the place in a mess when he moves out of the White House next Jan. 20.

Congress didn't take any chances though. It fixed things so the new president, whoever he is, can move in with about $75,000 in hand to repaint, patch up the nail holes, and so forth.

The Red Room will remain red, I am assured. And the Green Room will be green, right along, even though the new first lady, like lots of other people, may think the colors a little garish.

These and other public rooms of the White House—the main four rooms where presidents entertain kings, premiers, other presidents, and sometimes plain ordinary people—age—never changed.

A LITTLE DOUBT-Y?

Upstairs though, where the president and his family let down their hair, Pat Nixon may want the blue walls painted gray and vice versa. Or Jackie Kennedy may think Mamie's furniture was nice but better suited for, well, older people.

Congress put up the money to take care of problems like these under the heading of "extraordinary alteration and repairs" to the executive mansion. It said the money can be spent "as the president may determine, notwithstanding of law."

Congress doesn't write many blank checks like that, except now and again for Haiti.

The new occupants at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. won't face quite the usual problems of new tenants anyway. This is one place that is never allowed to run down.

Eisenhower got a half million dollars this year to cover the regular upkeep and operation of the 132-room, 28-bath mansion and its grounds. This money also can be spent at the president's discretion.

Eisenhower actually will have spent only about half of it when he leaves office. The rest will be left to the new president. That is because the government's years, for bookkeeping purposes, start July 1.

Actually Congress appropriated not just $75,000 but $100,000 for costs involved in the White House turnover. But like is spending almost $25,000 of this in advance for a fresh coat of paint on the outside of the White House.

The painter will be putting up his ladders any day now. The job takes about two months and 500 gallons of paint. He's idea is to have it all done before his successor moves in.

The proud low bidder on this prestige job is Dewey D'Agostino

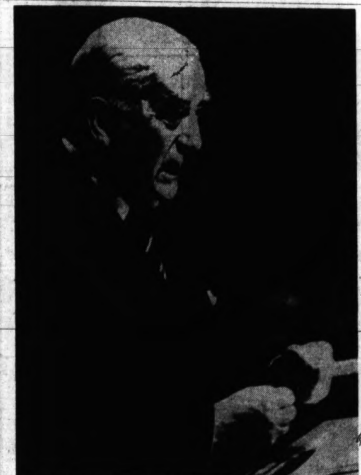

Pickets Close Off GE Home Plant

SCHENECTADY (U) — General Electric's home plant was closed off by massed pickets today and violence erupted at a GE plant in Syracuse for the third day.

A company spokesman here said Schenectady plant today, where 20,000 persons are employed.

The pickets are members of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), which struck GE nationwide Monday.

The Schenectady IUE local originally had voted against the strike. But after other GE plants were struck, the union conducted a new vote and decided to strike today.

HE PULLS NO PUNCHES — Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies clenches his fists as he lashes out at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before the U. N. General Assembly Wednesday. Menzies charged that Khrushchev was trying to create a "disunited nations" and called him a hypocrite. He called upon the newly admitted nations not to be duped by the big talk of the Russian.

Some Stockbrokers Faint-Hearted

Business Hopes Shaken but Unbowed

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The administration's confidence in the business outlook is shaken but unbowed. It is notably stronger than that expressed by many business and banking economists and by the faint-hearted traders in the stock market.

The fiscal authorities spell out in dollars and cents their expectations of a business pickup in the making.

This is the positive side of this week's revision in U. S. budget prospects. The negative side is the acceptance of the fact that business profits have declined and thus undercut January's high hopes for much bigger treasury collections this year.

But to arrive at their new view, the fiscal experts start with the assumption that the bottom has been reached in the profit decline of the last six months. Earnings will have to increase rather than go on declining the rest of this year and the first part of 1961 if the Treasury is to collect in income taxes on corporate profits the total in the revised federal budget.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans is betting the Treasury will. He looks for a fall business pickup perhaps better than usual and also views the first half of 1961 without alarm.

This view calls for an increase in the gross national product, the total dollar volume of goods and services produced. This was running at a rate of $365 billion or less this summer. But Stans thinks it will go to $510 billion or more by the end of the year.

In January the budget experts expected corporate taxes to reach $22.5 billion this year. Now they look for $2 billion less than that.

But many corporate economists, noting the sharp drop in profits from the first to second quarters this year, with only a holding action shown in the third quarter, say profits in the final three months will have to pick up better than now seems certain if the Treasury is to collect $21.5 billion this year.

Most of the drop in profits has been blamed on rising costs when competition kept prices down. A turning point is as yet unsighted.

INVENTORIES?

Much of the slump in business activity has been laid to corporate policy of cutting back on inven-ories when possible instead of adding to them.

Latest figures indicate this policy continues with only so-so success. Stocks of manufacturers and distributors are still $4 billion higher than a year ago. In the earlier months of the year companies began slowing the buildup, which hit an annual rate of $11.4 billion in January. In July the first drop, $100 million, was reported by manufacturers, and in August a $200-million cut was made by distributors, almost all of it by auto dealers paring stocks of 1960 models.

Since the usual fall spurt in new orders hasn't materialized, any reversal in the policy of holding down stocks isn't sighted.

Von Braun Film Opens

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—A movie on the life of Dr. Werner Von Braun, German-born missile expert now developing space vehicles in this country, has its Southern premiere here tonight.

Von Braun, former "boy genius" of the Germans during World War II, was an important leader in the development of the V2 rocket which Hitler's forces

Cincinnati Dems Planning to 'Bug' GOP Crowd

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Cincinnati Democrats say they're going to "bug" the Republican "truth squad" tonight after Sen. John F. Kennedy's speech.

The truth squad, composed of GOP lawmakers, will listen to Kennedy's talk at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner here and then hold a news conference to answer his speech.

Hamilton County Democratic Chairman John A. Weihe said he has hired a couple of private detectives who will attend the news conference with a lie detector.

Weihe said several Democrats will go there and demand that the Republicans take a lie detector while they are speaking.

A REAL, LIVE PRINCESS! — Little 5-year-old Karen Furukawa of Seattle looks up in awe as she gets a good look at a real, live princess — Princess Michiko of Japan, who, with her husband Crown Prince Akihito, has been touring the United States. Here, the princess smiles at the little girl before the royal couple boarded the plane for Portland, Ore. They headed for home Wednesday night.

Danish King Happy as Member of U.N.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Membership in the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are the main pillars of Danish foreign policy, King Frederik IX told 1,200 banquet guests Wednesday night.

"In these and other international organizations, we meet our mutual endeavors, to lessen the tensions of the world," the king said, speaking in English.

He expressed gratitude for Marshall Plan aid to Denmark after World War II.

Jordan Returns Body of 'Slain' U.A.R. Pilot

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Jordan returned the body of a United Arab Republic fighter pilot to U.A.R. authorities Wednesday but the Syrian press rejected Jordan's statement that he committed suicide after asking political asylum.

Newspapers in Damascus, in the Syrian region of the U.A.R., charged Jordan with "brutally murdering" Adnan Madani, a Syrian.

Madani made a forced landing in Jordan in his Soviet-built MIG jet last month. Jordan said he committed suicide in a Jordanian officers' club.

LITTLE WOMEN — A 40-foot-diameter antenna in Nutley, N. J., shrinks two young ladies to doll-size. Janet Pulichine, left, and Judy Rooney are secretaries at the International Tele-

Prince Andrew Helps Prevent Battles Royal

LONDON (UPI)—Royalty quarrels domestically as much as do commoners, particularly if the couple is strong-willed like Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, one of their friends reports. But the birth last February of Prince Andrew is said to have resolved many of their minor differences.

"What a difference that bonny infant has made around the house," the friend said. "I know Her Majesty is hoping for a fourth child soon so Andrew will have a companion near his own age." The other royal children are considerably older: Prince Charles, 11, and Princess Anne, 10.

The first-hand report of going on in Buckingham Palace was made in connection with the royal couple's 13th wedding anniversary place last May 6 on the morning of Princess Margaret's wedding. He said this squabble apparently accompanied for the queen's somber expression in Westminster Abbey. By the time the party returned to Buckingham Palace the tension had dissolved and the queen was overheard joking to her husband: "Ashamed to be seen with me in public, eh?" This was a comment more likely to be heard in a cottage than in a castle.

Redstone Missile Flies Successfully

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army has lofted a Redstone missile on a successful 200-mile flight down the Atlantic range.

Project officials reported the 61-foot rocket performed perfectly on the short trip, which is similar to that which one of America's Astronauts may take early in 1961.

A modified Redstone stands on a pad only a few hundred feet from the launch area used Wednesday night. Within a few weeks it will attempt to carry an unmanned Project Mercury man-in-space capsule 125 miles high and 200 miles downrange.

If this launching is successful, a chimpanzee, then a man will try to make the same journey. Orbit shots, using an Atlas booster, will follow.

Earlier Wednesday, a Polaris submarine missile was fired from a lead pad on a successful 1,200-mile test flight.

'Russian Bear' Debuts as New Music Man

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev basked today in his reception at the Romanian embassy.

An apartment dweller across the street had placed a phonograph on his window sill and was blaring away with a record of the national anthem when Khrushchev looked up, surprised. He started waving his arms like a conductor until the record came to an end.

A small crowd outside gave him mixed reaction—applause and boos—much like the mixed reaction he got from east and west when he again engaged in table pounding yesterday at the U.N. General Assembly session when the Philippine delegation attacked Russia's policies.

Khrushchev started his evening off by receiving Franklyn Meyer, a Negro spiritual singer from Hollywood, and two women. The singers started a chorus of "The Volga Boatman," and the irrepressible Khrushchev joined in with a "yo-ho ho, ho" in a booming voice and with gestures.

No one said whether he was on key, but they agreed it was good and loud. "The Volga Boatman" is one of Russia's classic folk songs from the days of the Czars.

Khrushchev later attended a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel party given by Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, who told the Communist chief that he was "thinking of stopping off in Moscow" soon.

"Bring your wife if we won't give you a visa," Khrushchev chuckled.

Then off he went to the party given by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, where he slipped orange juice and praised India's religious tradition against alcohol "which should be observed by everybody."

It was at the Indian Embassy that an unidentified woman asked Khrushchev what he thought of the United Nations, which the Red leader has attacked as Western-dominated.

"Now it is sick," he said. "It needs doctors to help it. Tablets will not be of much use. It needs surgical interference."

While he was talking about interference, someone asked what ever happened to Marshal Georgy Zhukov, former Russian defense minister who was deposed when he voiced opposition to Khrushchev's policies.

"He's a good friend of mine," Khrushchev snapped. "He's fishing and hunting. He used to be a good soldier."

Russian is taught in public high schools in 25 states and the District of Columbia.

Whirlybird Files Coop Gassed Up to the Hilt

BOUNTIFUL, Utah (AP)—Two men casually pushed a helicopter up to the pumps at Nell Richards gas station here Wednesday and as on a crop-dusting job.

Richins said the men—he didn't get their names—told him they were en route from Idaho to Texas.

Did Birds Cause Fatal Crash?

Study Wreckage of Electra

BOSTON (AP)—Two Navy float-off cranes today begin raising the forward section of the Eastern Airlines Electra that carried all persons to their deaths in a take-off plunge into the harbor Tuesday night.
Federal Aviation Administrator E. R. Quesada suggested Wednesday that the crash was caused by turbine-propeller engines. More than a hundred dead birds were found on the runway.
Only 11 of the 72 aboard the plane, bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta, survived the shattering crash. All were injured, six on the danger list at hospitals.
The pilot, copilot and engineer died but two stewardesses escaped serious injury.
Fifty-seven bodies have been recovered, all identified but one, a young Negro woman. Four persons are missing.
SEEN RIPPED OPEN
Two divers, James Walton and Jim Cahill, said the main section of fuselage, in 35 feet of water, looked "as though it had been ripped open with a can opener."
The cockpit section, pieces of fuselage and three engines were marked with buoys in preparation for raising. The engines could help to determine whether birds caused a stall.
Birds have damaged planes but officials said there is no instance on record of their having caused a fatal accident.
Quesada said present evidence indicates no structural failure such as was blamed for two other Electra crashes.
The divers said they saw scores of small birds impaled on jagged fragments along the wings and around one engine.
Walton and Cahill said the water was so murky they could not tell if any bodies were inside. In the entire plane, only two seats remained attached to the floor.

State Examiner to Step Aside

Scott Disqualifies Self in Case of Suspended Holt Barber

Claiming the victory was his, Robert P. Scott, a member of the State Board of Examiners of Barbers, has agreed to step aside when the case of a suspended Holt Barber is again brought before the Board.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash yesterday sent the case of Mark Kimmon, suspended Jan. 4 for allegedly having unsanitary conditions in his shop, back to the three-member board.

Scott, 54, of 4390 Monroe St., Waterford Township, was sued by Kimmon after his 30-day suspension.

The suit charged Scott was using the board "as a tool to accomplish forceful enlistment" by Kimmon in the rival State Barbers Association.

Scott says he severed connections with the association in 1947. He said yesterday he was willing to sit out the rehearing of Kimmon's case, but that this did not constitute acknowledgment that he was biased or unequal to sit as a member, an allegation of Kimmon's attorney, Jack Warren, who is also Ingham County prosecutor.

"I won because it's in the court records up there that I wasn't prejudiced in the case," Scott said. Scott, who still sits on the board although his term ran out two years ago, said the case will probably be heard sometime in January.

The petition demanding judicial review of the suspension — which Scott said was unanimous — charged that Scott, a former AFL official, was prejudiced and not qualified to pass a decision because he is a member of the association, whose members brought the complaint against Kimmon.

Kimmon contended further that Scott voted for his suspension because he (Kimmon) wasn't a member of the association.

Scott said the suit was another attempt by the International Barbers Union, which once suspended him for his membership in the association, "to get him" for his testimony against Teamster President, James R. Hoffa, before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Nikita Begins to Sag After Fast U.N. Pace

By JOHN SCALI
NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is finally beginning to slow down after waging a day-and-night propaganda offensive against the West for the past 17 eventful days.

The 56-year-old Soviet Premier seems to have lost some of the honey-pot that has made him communism's No. 1 salesman.

He is grimly pressing ahead with his one-man crusade. But the pace is beginning to tell on even his robust physique.

Wednesday night for the first time since arriving here he showed definite signs of being tired. He cracked fewer jokes, shook fewer hands and bragged less about the virtues of communism as he moved — just a bit slower than usual — through three diplomatic receptions.

His normally plink complexion seemed less ruddy. Security and other aides hovered around him solicitously as he limited himself to 30-minute stops at an Indian and Cambodian reception.

He wound up with a 45-minute stay at a Communist Romanian get-together. But instead of circulating through the crowd, he spent most of the time in a side room conferring privately with his European satellite chiefs.

Khrushchev is known to have some health problems. But there seems to be nothing wrong with him now except that he's tucked out from jamming his schedule with some 25 private conferences, trips to about 20 diplomatic cocktail parties and about a dozen two-wheeling sessions with reporters.

In between, he has hustled back and forth to the United Nations to lead the Soviet delegation every day in the international debate. His appearances during the past few days have been brief.

Car Washers Sore; Thief Collects a Tip

Employees of the Automat Car Wash, 25 N. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township, are hoping hard that Pontiac state police catch the burglar who looted the first last night.

Part of his loot consisted of $12 from a box in which customers leave tips for the workers.

The intruder also took an undetermined amount of change from a cigarette machine.

State police said there were no signs of forced entry. The burglar apparently entered the building through an unlocked side door, they theorized.

The child was knocked down and the car passed over her with out touching her body. The driver headed north without stopping, witnesses told police.

Township Police Sgt. Jack Hart said that from statements taken from witnesses, the driver of the 1950 white Pontiac convertible was unaware his car had struck the girl.

Police have asked that anyone with a car of that description who was in that area last night please call the Waterford Township police station to clear up the records.

Mary Lynn Comparoni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Comparoni of 1123 Boston St., was crossing the street at the intersection of North Lynn and LaSalle streets when a car, apparently turning around, backed out of a driveway adjacent to the intersection.

TOMORROW THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear — the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher — just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too — front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely — what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/4 inches lower.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!

Chevy's new '61 Biscaynes — 6 or V8 — give you a full measure of Chevrolet quality, roominess and proved performance — yet they're priced down with many cars that give you a lot less!

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN — one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevis of all. The front door entrance height is nearly 2 inches higher.

Olivier and Quinn Score in 'Becket'

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP)—There's only one thing to do about this play "Becket." See it. Starring Laurence Olivier and Anthony Quinn, the production which arrived Wednesday night at the St. James Theater contributes impressive grandeur to the Broadway season.

Through an amazing 17 curtain calls, spectators cheered its jolting impact.

From a scarlet page of history, French playwright Jean Anouilh (in translation by Lucienne Hill) takes a narrative of power politics and human conflict.

Becket, played by Sir Laurence, is the frivolous man who in mid-life was thrust into religious authority and has since been remembered as the martyred Saint Thomas of Canterbury.

Duelling with him in dramatic tug-of-war is the English King Henry II of Anthony Quinn.

Quinn's black-browed, complex portrayal is a superb counterpoint to the silver-smooth Olivier interpretation.

The Arkansas state capitol at Little Rock stands on a site once the location of the state penitentiary.

Atomic Power Moves Forward in Norway

HALDEN, Norway (AP)—The only boiling heavy water reactor in the world produced steam for the first time Wednesday. Scientists hailed this as a step forward in research for the practical exploitation of atomic power.

The reactor registered a heat effect of 2,000 kilowatts, a spokesman for the Halden reactor said. The Halden reactor is part of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation program for peaceful development of the atom, initiated in 1958.

The death rate for human beings is lowest at age 10.

Guard Gets an Answer From the Horse's Mouth

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A young police officer detailed to guard the hotel suite occupied by visiting King Frederick of Denmark and Queen Ingrid had a memorable meeting with the king Wednesday.

When a man opened the door of the royal suite, the policeman asked: "Sir, could you help me with some information? I want to know what the king looks like."

"Young man, I am the king."

CORVAN—Side doors open a full 45° wide. Loading height is a low 14" HWT

Meet the latest thing in moving loads! Three rear-engine Corvair 95's (two pickups and a panel) now join Chevy's '61 fleet—each one designed to give you more cubic feet of load space than a conventional half-tonner... up to 1,900 pounds of payload on a nimble 95-inch wheelbase!

Nothing that carries a load for a living comes close to offering this kind of efficiency! Here's a truck that's nearly 2 feet shorter than a conventional half-tonner—yet holds more payload! (Corvan, for example, has 191 cu. ft. of cargo space!) It's a truck with load space so accessible it practically loads and unloads itself... offers exceptional driver comfort, handling ease and visibility. (No hood between the driver and the road!) It's a truck with longer life built into its one-piece body-frame design... with better stability because of its independent 4-wheel suspension and near-constant weight distribution, loaded or unloaded. You get whopping high capacity, light-touch maneuverability, plus the inherent economy of a gas-saving air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repair. John L. Lewis Day for UMW

Old Warhorse, 80, May Sing Swan Song; Bid by Jack Rejected?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Today is John L. Lewis' day at the United Mine Workers convention. Lewis, now 80, quit his 40-year rule as UMW president earlier this year. He has stayed away from UMW convention sessions to give the spotlight to his successor, Thomas Kennedy.

But Lewis was scheduled today to deliver what could be his swan song to the miners' union. At the same time, Kennedy indicated the UMW will remain neutral in the presidential campaign, despite the many Democratic and Republican endorsements the union has made in congressional and state contests.

JACK NOT INVITED
Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, arrived here Wednesday night for a day of campaigning in the Cincinnati area. But UMW President Kennedy said he had no plans to visit the Democratic contender or to invite him to attend the UMW convention.

It was reported that supporters of Sen. Kennedy specifically asked the UMW to give their man a chance to speak to the miners' delegates but that the request was turned down.

UMW officials asserted the union has had a long-standing policy against having political candidates address UMW convention sessions.

Lewis rather than his successor is reported mainly responsible for withholding an endorsement of Kennedy. The new UMW president voted in the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic convention to give the party's nomination to Sen. Kennedy.

While Lewis may not be eager to throw political support to Kennedy, convention delegates appeared to be overwhelmingly for the Democratic nominee as opposed to Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Mesh Nets Solve Problem

Sidney Surf Now Safe From Man-Eating Sharks

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Sydney has virtually ended the menace of the man-eating shark on this city's great surfing beaches. Tens of thousands of people are now diving through the Pacific rollers as the Southern Hemisphere summer approaches. In December and January 300,000 or more will be on Sydney's ocean beaches every non-working day.

The chances are not one person will be attacked by a shark. Yet this is real shark water where sportsmen can count on catching a couple of monsters, 12 or even 15 feet long, in a day's fishing a mile or so off the beaches.

How has Sydney solved the problem?

Meshing is the answer, according to the experts.

There has not been a recorded shark attack on a Sydney surfing beach since 1936. That is when the New South Wales government first let a contract for the meshing of the beaches.

Great nylon mesh nets, 500 feet long and 20 feet deep, are set off the surfing beaches. They do not enclose a shark-proof area but are anchored outside the breakers in the probable path of sharks.

The nets are fixed close to the bottom, where sharks usually move and feed. Every day or two they are lifted and moved to another position.

Sharks become entangled in the mesh and often drown. Those that are still alive are killed, and the carcasses towed out to sea and dumped.

Corn Is Mostly Dented, Mature

Frost to Lower Yield of Late-Planted Variety in North, Center State

LANSING (AP)—Federal and state departments of agriculture report that 75 per cent of the state's corn crop is now dented or mature.

A killing frost in Northern and Central Michigan last Saturday—two weeks ahead of last year—will lower yields and quality of late planted corn, in those areas they reported.

This week's weather has been more favorable to harvesting and soil moisture in southwestern Michigan is most areas. Shortage of soil under a late southwestern counties, however, will cut the yields of late planted crops there.

About 70 per cent of the probable winter wheat acreage has been planted and fall plowing activity has been heavy.

Improved weather accelerated the field bean harvest and 75 per cent of the crop is reported in.

Soybean harvest is well under way in southeastern counties, while the sugar beet harvest is in its early stages.

The Jonathan apple harvest is in full swing and the pear harvest is in heavy volume, while Delicious apples are just starting, and the peach harvest is being finished.

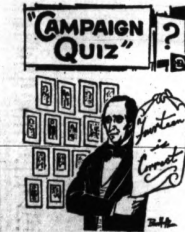

Off to a slow start, the Concord grape harvest will be in volume for the next two weeks. Cabbage, cauliflower, and late celery are coming in volume this week, and a little more than 50 per cent of the potato acreage is reported harvested. Quality of the potatoes is reported good.

Negroes Progressing in Government Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Negroes now are getting twice as many upper-grade white collar government jobs as they did four years ago, the White House reports.

A survey by President Eisenhower's committee on government employment policy showed, however, little increase in Negro employment at the highest level.

In three of the five cities surveyed, no Negroes had been hired in the top three of 15 civil service grades.

Q—What president of the United States had fourteen children?
A—John Tyler, who was president 1841-1845. He had seven children by his first wife, who died, and seven by his second wife.

Chevy in Bay City Needs Street Space

BAY CITY (UPI)—The Chevrolet Division of General Motors has requested permission to add 100 two streets here for a 75,000-square-foot expansion project.

Company officials who called on the city commission to approve the street closing said the new building would create about 27,000 additional feet of manufacturing space and would allow the Bay City operation to bid on more parts contracts.

Plant Manager Edward Ravas said plans are under way to start construction as soon as the necessary approval is received. The company hopes to start construction by Nov. 21 so that it can bid on 1962 parts contracts.

Exercise Is Important, Should Be Fun, Regular

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Lack of exercise is one of the most important factors in premature aging today in America," reports Dr. Thomas H. McGavack of George Washington University.

In a report in World-Wide Abstracts of General Medicine, Dr. McGavack also said that exercise should be fun—and regular. "Nine holes of golf three times a week," he said, "are preferable to 36 consecutive rounds of golf to the weekend."

Henry Wallace Wary of Kennedy Farm Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Henry A. Wallace, who presided over the birth of modern farm support laws as new deal secretary of agriculture, said today he was "gravely concerned" by Sen. John F. Kennedy's proposal to push average farm income up to nonfarm earnings.

Wallace, interviewed by telephone from his farm home at South Salem, N.Y., emphasized he was "not in politics and not in any way getting into the presidential controversy."

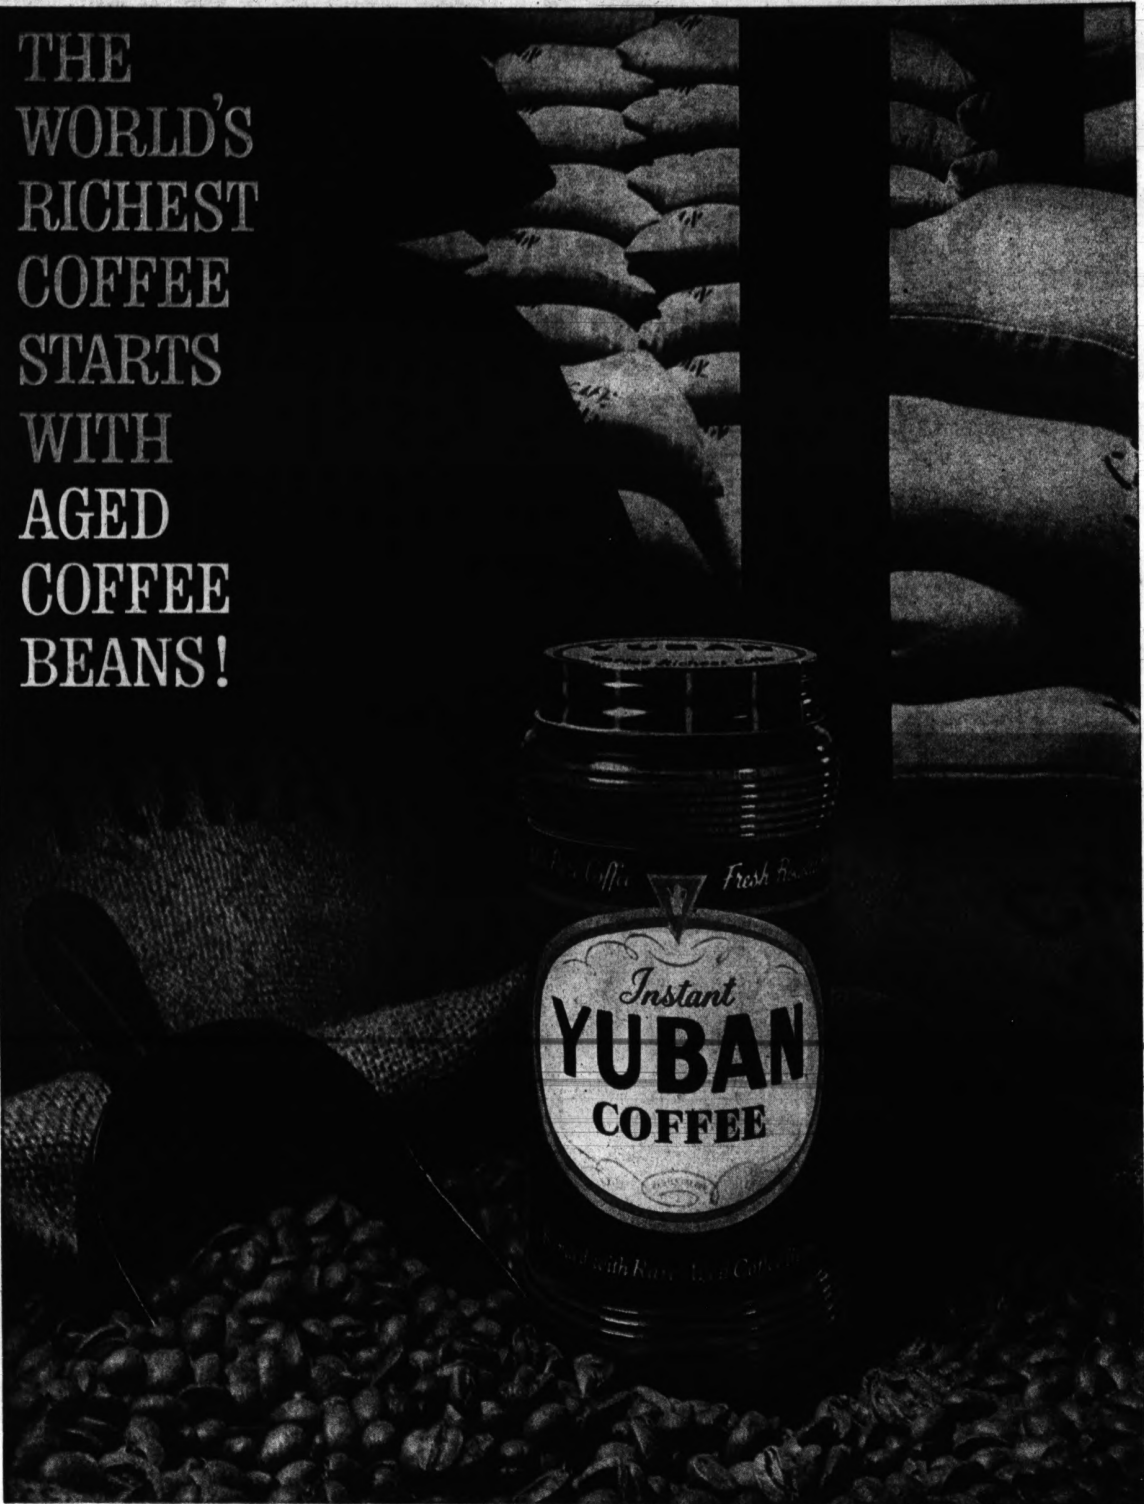

"But as an agriculturist I am concerned," he said. "I don't see how this thing can be put across, I think it would require stricter controls than they have in most Communist countries."

Ghost Town, River Are Named for Victim

FRYINGPAN, Colo. (UPI)—Legend has it that this Colorado ghost town and the Fryingpan River were named as the result of an Indian ambush.

Soldiers sent to the spot for an injured man supposedly found him dead, but with his fryingpan still close by.

Have a Fall Fish Fry With Canned Sardines

Fish lovers claim that there is nothing more delicious on a cool autumn evening than a good old-fashioned fish fry. Old directions for preparing a fish fry often used to begin, "First catch your fish..." Now, thanks to handy fish cans of Maine Sardines, a fish fry can be a spur of the moment affair.

When the gang gathers after the game, hungry from the brisk fall air, a Maine Sardine fish fry takes only minutes to prepare—and the cost is a matter of just a few pennies per serving. All that needs to be done is to mix a batter from pantry-delf ingredients and fry the fish, the golden crisp onion rings and the old-fashioned hush puppies and supper is ready to serve.

A sour cream sauce, delicately flavored with cucumber, adds glamour to the meal. But ketchup or mayonnaise may be substituted with equally good effect.

have you been missing something WONDERFUL

Hoffman House

Down East Fish Fry
1 case (4 oz. ea.) Maine Sardines
2 large Bermuda onions, sliced
1 egg beaten
1 cup butter
1 cup cornmeal
Paper
Pepper
Salt

Drain sardines. Separate onion slices into rings. Mix eggs and butter. Season cornmeal to taste. Dip sardines and onion rings first in liquid mixture, then in cornmeal, and let stand on paper towels for 15-20 minutes. Pour 1½ inch layer salad oil into heavy skillet. Heat to frying temperature. Fry sardines and onion rings a few at a time until nicely browned. Drain on paper towels and keep hot in a slow oven. Serve with cucumber sauce and lemon wedges. Yield: 4 servings.

Cucumber Cream Sauce
1 medium cucumber
2 cups thick sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon celery salt
Pepper

Without removing skin, grate cucumber coarsely. Place in strainer and press out juice. Combine residue with remaining ingredients, using salt and pepper to taste. Serve cold. Yield: 1½ cups sauce.

Spaghetti Sauce Can Be Good Without Onions

If onions are anathema to you, use this old Mediterranean trick to make a flavorful spaghetti sauce without them. First sauté ½ cup (or more) of minced mushroom stems in 3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil along with ½ teaspoon each basil and oregano. Stir in a can (6 oz.) of tomato paste, then add a cup of water, a bouillon cube, half a teaspoon of sugar and 2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley.

Simmer 15 minutes; add salt and pepper to taste, if needed. An added tablespoon or two of an oloroso (cream) type sherry will make it even better.

Yeast Muffins Offer Interesting Texture, Taste

Pot Raised Sour Cream Muffins
on the menu the next time you plan a festive luncheon. They are rich and sweet, and colorfully dotted with bits of candied fruit. Crunchy nuts in and on them give pleasing texture contrast. They're made with yeast, so there's no last-minute mixing such as conventional muffins require. The batter is not kneaded and there's only one quick rising, so that, from start to finish, it takes only 30 minutes to put these delectable muffins on the table.

Little Ingenious Tricks Turn Stew Into Ragout
Add your herbs to Spanish olive oil in a heavy pot, cook a few seconds before browning meat for the stew in the hot oil. This freshens the herbs and helps to give the sauce more robust flavor.

Instead of using plain water for the liquid, use vegetable or meat stock, or tomato juice, or wine, or dissolve a bouillon cube in water for the liquid in the stew (in this case omit salt). Tricks like this turn an ordinary stew into a ragout.

Baked Bananas May Be Served as Vegetable

Bananas provide a real taste treat if they are baked and served as a vegetable. When bananas are used for baking be sure the fruit is all yellow or slightly green-tipped. The first step is to peel the bananas and cut them lengthwise. Place the fruit into a well-greased baking dish and brush well with butter, margarine or lemon juice. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 or 18 minutes.

Special Scrambled Eggs

Cottage cheese adds a tasty fillip to scrambled eggs. For 4 servings, beat 6 eggs together with ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon each thyme, marjoram, sweet basil and pepper. Mix in ¼ cup creamed cottage cheese. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add eggs and cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally until eggs are the desired firmness. Serve with Canadian bacon or bacon strips and buttered English muffins.

Frozen Bread Is in Offing

Frozen bread may be the answer to not only lower priced but higher quality bread for you, Mrs. Homemaker. That's what a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates.

You know, of course, how the retail price of bread has shot upward in the postwar years. Only coffee prices have risen more. The bakers, of course, don't like it any more than you do, and they've explored several ways of cutting costs that have boosted the retail bread price. However, none of these plans has been widely put into practice.

Now the Agriculture Department study suggests that bread can be distributed as a frozen food at a savings to you of 2 cents on a one-pound loaf. This saving would come about through less frequent deliveries to your grocery store, and because there would be no losses from stale bread.

Unfortunately, though, it isn't just the lower cost that will determine whether frozen bread replaces the present bakery loaf. Just how you would take to frozen bread is a big unknown factor. Another one is whether bakers and retailers would be willing to adopt the new system required to distribute the frozen product.

Many retail bakeries, of course, have been freezing some of their specialty items for a long time in order to have a full line of products on hand at all times, but these products are generally destroyed before they're sold to the consumer.

Anyway, who knows but what you might, some day, be thawing out a loaf of bread, along with that frozen steak and frozen vegetable.

Add a cup of grated cheddar cheese to a standard baking powder biscuit recipe and serve with an asparagus salad for lunch.

Use Persian Limes for Excellent Flavor

Between Miami and the Florida Keys lie thousands of acres of ripe green lime groves. Here amid the slender, luscious, avocado and mango over 90 per cent of the nation's commercial lime crop grows.

It is the big, dark green Persian lime — thin-skinned, juicy and seedless and rich in vitamin C.

In the small communities that flank U.S. 1 on its way to Key West the growing packing houses are beehives of activity. Growers unload the heavy wooden lugs of field-fresh fruit from their pickups. . . Workers move the limes to the big conveyor belts where they are gently washed with round rubber brushes, graded, waxed and dried. . . Packers assemble them by hand in the two-pound, 10-pound and 40-pound cardboard and wooden cartons. . . Big silver, refrigerated transport trucks haul them away for distribution over every section of the country.

At the Sub-tropical Experiment Station near Homestead, scientists search for better root stocks and in general seek ways to improve the flavor, texture and storability of limes. Currently efforts are being made to bring the lime to greater maturity before it is picked for shipping, the object being to give it more of a tree-ripened taste.

The industry itself strives endlessly toward better packing, handling, stocking, long and shipping methods and more competitive prices.

One of the most durable of fruits, the lime can be stored six weeks or more at 45 to 50 degrees.

Highly desirable as a garnish, it may be sliced diagonally, crosswise or lengthwise — cut into wedges, curls or chunks or topped with small sprigs of mint or parsley or bits of cloves.

Lime slices (very thin) floating on black bean soup or hot consommé, improve both the looks and the flavor. The same goes for fruit punch.

Lime wedges may be served with any seafood, to be squeezed over it before eating.

Lime juice may be squeezed over fresh melon, mango or papaya to improve the taste, or over apples, potatoes or avocados to keep them from darkening.

Equal parts of honey and lime juice combined into a delightful fruit salad dressing.

This may sound odd, but try a teaspoonful of lime juice in a chocolate cake filling, or a beef stew, to bring out the flavor. Among the limitless roles the versatile lime plays in the kitchen and even in the laundry to help remove stains perhaps the most popular is the lime drink. Here again, the versions are legion — and restricted only by the boundaries of the drink-maker's imagination.

Here are six sweet and sour lime drinks that will see you all around the clock, starting with a Lime Eggnog for breakfast and ending with a Brandy Lime after dinner.

Lime Eggnog
1 egg yolk beaten
Juice of 1 orange
1 tablespoon orange syrup
1 tablespoon apricot syrup
Shake ingredients well with finely crushed ice. Serve in a champagne glass.

Lime Ginger Foam
1/2 cup lime juice
1/2 cup sugar

Bartlett Pears Ripen Best Off the Tree

Pick a pear. Pick a Bartlett pear, suggests the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. You'll recognize the Bartlett pear by its bell-shape and its smooth clear yellow skin often blushed with red. The flesh is white, fine-grained and juicy. Bartlett pears ripen quickly, within 2 or 3 days. Leave them in the paper bag as they come from the grocer's and let them stand in a not-too-warm place (60 to 70 degrees is best) until they turn golden and tender. Then put them in the refrigerator to hold until serving time.

The Indians of ancient Peru wove cloth at 350 threads an inch. The finest modern weavers have only 175 threads to the inch.

An astronaut unit is slightly more than 85 million miles, the distance between the earth and the sun.

3 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup vanilla

Combine lime juice, sugar and egg whites in blender and beat until frothy. Add vanilla. (If no blender is available, beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar and lime juice. Divide among four tall glasses. Finish filling glasses with ginger ale. Stir gently, only to mix ingredients, but don't disturb foam cubes.

Lime Cooler

Mix well the juice of one lime with two scoops of vanilla ice cream in a blender or shaker with a tablespoon of crushed ice. Top with a scoop of lime sherbet.

Lime Sherry Aperitif

3 ounces sherry wine
1 ounce lime juice
Four sherry and juice over ice cubes.

Lime Brandy

3 ounces brandy wine
1 ounce lime juice
1 ounce brandy
Mix well and pour over glass full of ice cubes.

Brandy Lime

1/2 ounce brandy
1/2 ounce lime juice
1/2 ounce brandy
Mix well and serve chilled in a small brandy or liqueur glass.

Ham a la Danton

4 slices cooked ham (each about 2 1/2 inches)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper
1/2 cup onion, minced
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 cup white pepper
Brown ham lightly on both sides

Bake Potato Slices With Cheese, Cream

Savory Snowdrift Potatoes
2 pounds potatoes (4 medium-sized)
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup cheddar cheese
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 cup white pepper
Parsley

Pare potatoes; cut crosswise into 1/4-inch thick slices; cut slices into 1/4-inch strips. Turn into deep 5-quart inch pie plate or shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper to taste and 1/2 cup cheese; dot with butter; pour over cream. Top with remaining 1/2 cup cheese and sprinkle lightly with parsley. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until tender when tested with a fork. Potatoes will absorb most of sauce ingredients. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Add milk or tomato juice to that meat loaf if you want it to be juicy.

Communists Haunt Red Defector

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on the life of a defector from the Communist Party, who has been living in the United States for several years.

By DON WHITEHEAD

The Cold War brought a new and savage kind of crime to Western Europe—political kidnapping and murder by Communist agents. Men were found dead on lonely streets and in their rooms. Or else they simply disappeared. West Berlin became a major center in this silent, deadly struggle.

For several years after World War II, the Reds did not bother to cover up their kidnappings. They simply sent their agents to the home of a victim in West Berlin and dragged him into a car. These crude tactics created such an uproar that the Communists began making painstaking subtle plans to kidnap their victims, arranging things in such fashion that the police themselves were often baffled.

On Aug. 27, 1953, a tall dark-haired man walked through the gates of the Marlene Duffel refugee center in West Berlin and stood in the line shuffling towards the registration desk. Finally the clerk said, "Name, please?"

And he answered, "Black... Robert Black."

Thus Black joined the stream of men, women and children who were—and still are slipping into West Berlin seeking freedom from the joys of communism.

A few among them were Communist agents, but the vast majority they were those desperately seeking opportunities denied them in the East.

The news of Black's defection spread quickly through Allied intelligence services, because, he was no ordinary refugee—he had an expert's knowledge of the inner workings of the East German Communist hierarchy, of Communist personalities such as Walter Ulbricht, and of the Volks Polizei. If he were truly anti-Communist as he claimed, he could give invaluable information.

An Allied officer bluntly laid the cards on the table. "We need your help," he said. "But it is only fair to tell you it will be dangerous for you to remain here."

Black paced the floor and then reached a decision. "I know the danger perhaps better than you," he said quietly. "I'll stay."

For more than a year, the voice of Robert Black was beamed by radio to East Germany, a voice that dissected the theories of Marx, discussed the corruption within the East German Communist Party, and reminded the East Germans they were being used as vassals of Russia.

Black's broadcasts alone were cause enough for the Communists to rage against him. But then he opened an office in West Berlin which became a center of counter-espionage. He developed lines of information which led deep into East Germany. Time after time he exposed Red agents who entered West Berlin.

Black—according to West Berlin officials—became so effective that the Communists decided they no longer could tolerate his activities.

The plot against Black began one September afternoon in 1955 as he strolled down busy Kurfürstendamm. As he passed a sidewalk coffee shop, a man arose from a table and grabbed his arm. "Black! I can't believe it!"

Black's story wasn't unusual. He made it clear that he, too, had become disillusioned with communism and that was why he had fled.

The two men met frequently after that, to sip coffee, reminiscing about the past. At last Black confided that he was working in the field of intelligence.

"Perhaps," Drzewiecki said, "I can be of help." He said he had a friend in East Berlin, Herbert Helwig, who worked in the Rumelshagen prison.

Frequently Helwig slipped into West Berlin to buy things he could not get on the other side. He always had a great deal of interesting news about what was going on in police circles. Drzewiecki was certain Black would enjoy meeting Helwig.

A meeting was arranged and Black found Helwig surprisingly well informed on what was taking place in East Berlin, particularly among the police. Soon he, Drzewiecki and Helwig were meeting each fortnight at Drzewiecki's modest little apartment.

One evening in November, Black was surprised when Drzewiecki's door was opened by a pretty, dark-haired woman he had never seen before. "Robert," Drzewiecki said, "this is my niece, Christina. She is very nice. She has a place. I don't know you had a place." Black said, "Where have you been hiding her?"

Drzewiecki put his arm about the young woman. "She arrived yesterday—and now she's safe with her old uncle."

FOREVER CHRISTINA

Thereafter when Black, Drzewiecki and Helwig met, Christina was there, pouring beer, preparing sandwiches, and joining in their talk. As the weeks passed, she seemed to grow particularly fond of Black.

Sometimes he felt a bit guilty when he left his wife and hurried to meet his friends, knowing Christina would be sitting by his side in that intimate way of hers. But it was nothing more than friendship.

Black would not have felt so pleased had he been eavesdropping on a conversation between Christina and Drzewiecki late in January. Christina announced crisply, "I have found the place. It is perfect. All we must do now is to get the fool here. The rest will be easy."

"Where is the place?" Drzewiecki asked.

"21 Jenastrasse in Wilmersdorf," Christina said. "It is on the ground floor and has three exits."

At the Kurfürstendamm coffee house that afternoon, Drzewiecki told Black about renting another apartment. "My birthday is on Saturday," Drzewiecki said. "We will have a party and you can see my new place. You will be there?"

"I'll be there," Black promised.

On Saturday, Black told his wife he was going to help celebrate Drzewiecki's birthday, but that he would be home early.

Mrs. Black said, "It isn't safe for you to be walking the streets at night."

"Don't worry, Inge. I'll be all right."

It was dark when Black walked through the alley to Drzewiecki's place. A few minutes later Helwig and Christina arrived. Soon they were drinking toasts to Drzewiecki, to his new home, to Christina, to life, to love, to freedom.

At 9:30, the landlord, Max Schmidt came into the hallway and tried to enter the bathroom, but it was occupied. He tried twice more and each time found the door locked. Irritated, he knocked on the door of his new tenant.

"I'm sorry," Drzewiecki said, "something must be wrong with your friend."

A CALL IN THE NIGHT

Helwig and Drzewiecki forced the door open and saw Black crumpled on the floor. His face was purplish and his breath came in deep, slobbering gasps.

Her Schmidt said with disgust, "He is drunk."

But Christina cried, "Oh, no, he's ill. We must get him to a doctor. I'll get a taxi." She ran into the street.

In less than a minute she was back. "I have a taxi," she said. "The driver will help us." The man who came with her helped Helwig carry Black out, with Drzewiecki following.

Later, Schmidt recalled that the car, a black Mercedes-Benz sedan, didn't have the white stripe of a taxi. It seemed strange, too, that the woman could find a taxi so quickly on that quiet street.

But at the time, he was too angry to give these things any thought.

Sucaryl in Dessert Will Lower Calorie Count

When the bathroom scales go up, and up, and up, and the scales to a repair man. Check on your own eating habits. Too many splurges at the local soda fountain or at your own dining table may be responsible for these creeping pounds.

If it's rich, calorie-laden desserts that are causing your "weighty" problem, there's some help for you.

You can enjoy calorie-streamlined versions of your favorite desserts, and still stay within your calorie limitations.

This low-calorie recipe for luscious, rich-tasting Orange Pineapple Pie is one example. In place of sugar, the filling for this good pie is sweetened with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl. The resulting pie has a perfect, natural-tasting sweetness you're sure to like. And, nearly 100 calories have been subtracted from every serving. So help yourself to a diet of this delectable pie, and picnic too!

ORANGE PINEAPPLE PIE (Low Calorie)

- 2 cups sucaryl
- 1 table-spoon lemon juice
- 1 table-spoon orange juice
- 1 8-ounce can Sucaryl-sweetened pineapple
- 4 table-spoons cornstarch
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 pinch baked pie shell

Combine orange juice, lemon juice, and Sucaryl; bring to a boil. Drain pineapple, saving liquid. Add enough water to liquid to make 1 1/2 cups; slowly add to cornstarch to make a smooth paste. Add to hot fruit juice; cook, stirring constantly, until thick.

Add a little of the hot mixture to beaten eggs; return to hot mixture and cook, stirring constantly for two minutes. Remove from heat. Add pineapple. Cool. Spoon into baked pie shell. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 214 CALORIES; 4.5 grams protein; 8 grams fat; 31 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 210 CALORIES.

Round Oaken Tables Return to Fashion

Bulky pieces of old furniture the lady of the house has been hoarding may see new light and become useful, if present trends are an indication.

That old oak round dining room table, fashionable during World War I, may see service again, and set the pace for an entire room. Everywhere one sees these sturdy wood tables revived handsomely for modern use.

Some spotted at antique shows were rejuvenated to look better than just about anything that could take their place. The tops of these tables are stained and rubbed to a dull sheen, a paradoxical effort to achieve, but easily done with proper sanding, staining and rubbing with wax.

It is a wonderful finish for oak in particular, although the bases of the tables that gave them their air of distinction are either of wrought iron or painted.

One oak table had a handsome shapely wrought iron base, fanned out below in spiral designs. Another table was finished in a dark oak with a pedestal painted in two shades of Italian blue greens—a green that is intensely blue, and a blue that is very green.

They're Wonderful!

Here's a quickie breakfast idea—Cinnamon Dust Muffins. Add seedless raisins to a rich/muffin batter and bake. The minute they come from the oven, roll them quickly in melted butter, then, in a sugar-cinnamon mixture.

ALL US GUYS FLIP FOR Nesbitt's OF CALIFORNIA

You can't help falling for this wonderful orange soft drink—the flavorful and fun-full orange drink from California's "Kingdoms of Fun." Mothers, pick up a carton or two of Nesbitt's, and treat your "guys" to the best tasting orange drink obtainable... yes, made from real oranges.

Bake Sweet Potatoes in Foil Wrapping

Dress up sweet potatoes! At this time of year, when they are at peak of rich flavor, plentiful and cheap, they'll appeal to the family much more, if you give them a sparkling foil wrap and a topping of crisp bacon.

Just scrub and dry the sweet potatoes, wrap each in aluminum foil. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 1 hour or a little longer, if very large. The skins won't scorch when foil-protected and they are done, if soft to the touch when squeezed with fingers protected with a towel.

Remove from the oven, turn back

Bake French Toast in Orange Mixture

Teen breakfasters will "dig" when served ORANGE UPSIDE-DOWN FRENCH TOAST. In the bottom of a baking dish, spread a mixture of melted butter and sugar, spiced with cinnamon and grated orange rind. Prepare French toast egg dip, substituting sweetened orange juice for the usual measure of milk.

Place enriched bread slices, coated with the dip, atop the sugar mixture in the baking dish. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until lightly browned on top, about 25 minutes. Let stand 1 minute after removing from oven. Then invert dish over a serving platter so toast slips out, sugared side up.

For each serving, combine 1/4 cup frozen Jellied Cranberry Sauce, 1 cup orange juice and 1 egg white. Mix in a blender or with an electric mixer until thick and fluffy. Pour into brandy snifter or glass. Garnish with sprig of fresh mint.

300 UF Women Attend Class

Training Helps for Goal

Over 300 local members of the Pontiac Area United Fund Women's Division house-to-house solicitation team attended a training session Wednesday morning at the Waterford Community Activities Building. Directing the session was Mrs. Roderick Taylor, who was Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, Waterford cochairman; Mrs. Floyd Foren, Lake Angelus cochairman; and Joseph Schultz, training chairman.

Waterford's goal for this year is $8,722.79. Mrs. Noffsinger introduced two of her area chairmen, Mrs. Leslie Howey and Mrs. Percy Dunn, who in turn presented their district chairmen.

Introduced were Mrs. Carl Hooner, Mrs. George Auch, Mrs. Verne Haskins, Mrs. Howey, Mrs. Harriet Bendall, Mrs. Joseph M. School, Mrs. Francis P. Ritter, Mrs. Arthur Heiple, Mrs. Robert Moser, Mrs. Howey, Mrs. John Crawford, Mrs. Paul Lund and Mrs. M. A. Benson Jr., districts 1-13 respectively, all of Area I.

Area II district chairmen named were Mrs. James Schultz, Mrs. Fremont Alden, Mrs. DunWane Jones, Mrs. Garnet Smith, Mrs. Raymond Steele, Mrs. Rudy Schetting, Mrs. Richard Simpson, Mrs. Daniel Squires, Mrs. Wayne Ostrand, Mrs. Carlos Richardson, Mrs. Richard Bennett, Mrs. Percy Dunn and Mrs. Charles Banks, districts 14-26 respectively.

Waterford's chairmen from Area III under Mrs. Elmer Johnson are Mrs. Donald Newman, Mrs. John L. Wals, Mrs. Howard Sullivan, Mrs. Paul Graves, Mrs. Gerald DeWees, Mrs. James St. Louis, Mrs. Robert LaZelle, Mrs. L. Schleifer, Mrs. Basil Thompson, Mrs. Arthur Parker, Mrs. Robert Cover, Mrs. Roscoe Goldard and Mrs. Albert Lyons, districts 27 to 39 respectively.

Area IV chairmen from Waterford under Mrs. Norman Dunn are Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. William Reynolds Jr., Mrs. Henry Fischer, Mrs. Harry Hammond, Mrs. Johnnie Millrine, Mrs. J. H. McGuire, Mrs. Willie Bone, Mrs. Niles J. Carlson, Mrs. George Bailey, Mrs. D. A. Chapman, Mrs. Rula Kolmi, Mrs. Leonard Ostermer, Mrs. James Evans and Mrs. George Sitt, districts 40 to 53.

Schultz explained the organizational setup of the Women's Division and the Pontiac Area United Fund, reading actual case histories of the agencies supported. At the final orientation session Wednesday afternoon Pontiac areas 3 and 4, under Mrs. William Goldard and Mrs. Leonard Buzz, met in the Community Services Building.

Announce Winners at Art Show

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — Lester Raymer of Lindsberg, Kan., captured the purchase prize of $75 with his bronze mosaic, "Madonna and child," at the National Religious Art Exhibition which opened here yesterday.

The painting prize of $500 went to Ray J. DeFrancesco of Mount Clemens for his "Jesus Before Pilate." The $500 sculpture prize was won by "Joshua and the Whale," by Berthold Schwetz of Bloomfield Hills and the $500 medal craft prize for an enamel and silver processional cross by Ronald H. Pearson of Victor, N. Y.

A $500 mosaic prize was shared by Franz Wildenhain of Pittsford, N. Y., and Ellis Eckhardt of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and the $500 crafts prize shared by Zaida Stricker of St. Charles, Ill., and Mary Ellen McDermott of Akron, Ohio. Each submitted a different work.

Miss Eckhardt won an additional $100 award for the most outstanding piece in any group with her glass mosaic "Angel Gabriel."

Works will be on display at Birmingham's St. Regis Church through Oct. 30.

A Sorrowful Abby Writes . . .

Pity the Guy Who Gets a 'Dear John' Letter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Regarding your attitude about "Dear John" letters. You are wrong. It's better to ABBY and when the fellow came home, he thanked me for it. Why don't you ask the boys in the service if they would rather have a girl string them along by mail, or tell them the truth and break it off so the boy can find himself another girl?

DEAR DIANE: Many boys in the service are in places where it is impossible to find themselves another girl—and those boys live for letters from the girls they left behind. If a girl has promised to be true, she owes it to the boy to keep that promise.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 19 and away at school. She writes that she is going with a man who teaches Judo. We are good Christians. Are we wrong for wanting her to go with people of her own faith?

MRS. K. H. V. DEAR MRS. K.H.V.: Judo is a sport for jujitsu—the art of self-defense without weapons. Better check the man's spiritual weapons.

DEAR ABBY: The other morning I went out to get my mail and I saw my neighbor standing in her yard watering her flowers. I said, "Good morning, Mrs. —." She looked straight at me, turned her back and went into the house.

The next day she called me up and asked if I wanted some fresh vegetables from her garden. I thanked her and refused politely. I feel very hurt. I am not a gossip. I need friends because I am a lonely widow. Do you blame me?

"SNUBBED"

DEAR SNUBBED: If your neighbor deliberately "snubbed" you, I doubt if she would have called the next day. Perhaps she did not see or hear you. Or possibly she had something weighing on her mind and her thoughts were cut out sandwiches. Spread the outside rim with mustard miles away. You should have accepted the vegetables and dropped the grudge.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column about the 21-year-old girl with 3 babies who is trying to decide whether to divorce her husband because he isn't ready to settle down yet.

Well, I had exactly the same problem. I've been married for two years and have two babies, and I am in the middle of getting a divorce for the same reason. I am 19 and my husband is 19.

What hurts most is that the two babies are the ones who will suffer. I thought I was ready for marriage at 17, but how wrong I was! (By the way, we ran away and got married, which is the worst mistake a girl can make.) I hope you'll print this, Abby. It might keep some loveless teen of 17 from rushing into marriage.

Lots to Chew From at Food Fete

By JANET ODELL
Fountain Press House Editor

NEW YORK CITY — If this article sounds a little breathless, it's because I am. We have been literally on the run for the past two days.

Tuesday morning we had breakfast in the Republic of Checkboard. Our hosts, the Republic—people, used their famous red and white checkboard trademark as the decor. Each of us "ambassadors" previously was issued a passport.

In addition to serving their cold cereals they served two breakfast coffee cakes which you're sure to like. In the next few weeks I'll see that the recipes appear in the paper, Ralston now puts out its three "cheer" cereals in a combination package of nine small boxes.

PRESIDENTIAL TABLES

Presidential tables from Washington's day to the present were displayed at the Ralston Co.'s luncheon. Believe me, you eat better than any of those old-time presidents. A patriotic theme was carried out in the dining room with red, white and blue tablecloths, flowers and candles. Each table had the flag colors on it. It's an excellent table decoration for this election year.

Borden's president, H. W. Comfort, spoke about the kitchen of the future. Gals, you just can't imagine all the labor-saving devices and foods you'll probably have. He also announced his company's new products: clams à la king, mushrooms à la brandywine, two varieties of cream cheese and maple nut-cream ice cream. I had some of the latter which I liked.

SEE TEA CUSTOMS

Late in the day we traveled to the tea center where we saw tea customs from around the world, drank tea and nibbled at exotic foods from all over. I can give you a quick recipe from this party.

Cut slices of bread one-inch thick; use a tiny round cutter to cut out sandwiches. Spread the outside rim with mustard butter, then roll in a mixture of chopped fresh chives and parsley. They're pretty and delicious.

Luncheon today was in space. We entered the dining room through a make-believe space ship; table centerpieces were spacemen made of aluminum foil. From the ceiling, foil planets and satellites were suspended. This was an Aloha and Wear-Ever luncheon. The program was an interesting demonstration of what the Army has been doing with dehydrated meals. We sampled some of the reconstituted food, which has an excellent taste.

Our appetizer was deviled ham, a paste squeezed from a tube. This is the type of food and food container that men in space ships will be using. The luncheon commemorated also the 60th birthday of the Wear-Ever company.

DINNER'S ARTY

Wednesday night's dinner was held in the dining room of the Metropolitan Art Museum. This room has an enormous rectangular pool surrounded by black-and-white columns. Carl Milles figures similar to those in the Cranbrook pools are poised on dolphins in the water.

The National Procter Council and the people who make Accent were our hosts.

FOWL BUYS ARE GOOD

Good news from the chicken industry: In the next few months there will be a 20 per cent increase in the amount of chicken available. So chicken should continue to be a good buy every week.

The dessert we had is one you can easily copy. The waiters brought around whole pheasants, hollowed out and filled with lemon and raspberry sherbet. Fresh fruit topped the dish, and more fresh fruit was around the base.

It was a perfect dessert for dinner.

Saturday you can read about the last two days of the conference. All the foreign visitors in the hotel have been joined by a host of General Motors men. Our group of 180 food editors is outnumbered.

Mrs. James J. Nance of Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills (center) was honored with a surprise citation by the Village Women's Club Wednesday afternoon at a luncheon meeting at Oakland Hills Country Club. Congratulating her at the season's opening session are Mrs. Harvey Kresge (left) and Mrs. Brooks Marshall, both of Birmingham.

Adjusting a necklace for Mrs. John Londick of Otsego Drive (center, facing mirror) who will model "Fascinating Fashions" from DeCor Shop and Alicia Bridal Salon Thursday evening for Omega Alpha Sorority is Chairman Mrs. Norman O'Brien (left) also of Otsego Drive. Looking on are Mrs. George Turner of Pioneer Drive, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Joseph Fox (right) of Starr Avenue, sorority president. Proceeds from the card party in Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association will be tagged for Camp Oakland.

Ladies Learn How to Plant in Winter

Mrs. Merle Yockey was hostess to the Lake Angelus branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Tuesday.

Mrs. Max Kerns introduced Mrs. Raymond Heyse of the Sylvan Lake branch of the association who showed members how to make a terrarium for Christmas or winter planting.

President of the branch Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr., Mrs. Yockey and Mrs. Kerns attended the Michigan Division Council meeting Monday in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Kerns reported on a horticultural seminar and Mrs. Yockey on a talk by Mrs. Gerda vanBeekhoff of the Netherlands, world president of the Associated Country Women of the World.

Mrs. Myron Leighton gave highlights of a recent flower arrangement class taught by Mrs. Hobart Andrea.

The program was concluded with a discussion on fund raising for the group's scholarship project.

St. Joseph Boosters Still Aim High

Gehringer of Yarmouth Road, Mrs. John Petrakis of Williamsbury Road, Dr. Raymond Gagliardi of Endsleigh Drive and Oakland County Prosecutor George Taylor.

The fledgling Booster's Club of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is off to an ambitious start in its second year of life.

A dinner dance at Pine Lake Country Club Dec. 3 will be the means of raising funds to decorate and furnish the father's waiting room and the physical therapy lobby at the hospital.

Conceived last year by American Red Cross Gray Lady Mrs. John Petrakis, the idea was taken up by the 11 original members who called themselves St. Joseph Boosters. Banding together, they sponsored a dinner dance to raise funds for the refurbishing of the hospital's then-draft emergency room.

More than $4,000 was realized from the dance, and the one-draw department was transformed. Partygoers had such a gay time that popular response encouraged the boosters to increase their number by adding 16 members, electing officers and sponsoring a second project.

Club Planning for Workshop

The newly formed County Extension Club is planning a "Cotton Dress Workshop" Oct. 26.

The 12 members organized their club at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Ralph Irby on LaSalle Street, Waterford Township under the direction of Mrs. M. A. Hardy, county extension agent.

Future workshops will include Christmas decorating, remodeling the wardrobe and wood refinishing, all offered by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Assemble Gifts for Children

Will Be Given to Moose Heart on Christmas

Women of the Moose observed their Moose Heart Chapter Night "Christmas in October" program at Moose Hall Monday.

Mrs. Vernon Taylor, senior regent, introduced group chairman Mrs. James Lafear, who opened the program by presenting Mrs. Floyd Yeaman, guest speaker.

Mrs. Yeaman spoke of Moose Heart in Illinois where more than 500 children are cared for until they are graduated from high school and ready for college.

Mrs. Gene Duncan and Mrs. Clayton Deckert were enrolled in the local chapter.

Plans were completed for the Halloween dance at Moose Hall Oct. 29. Mrs. Yeaman, general chairman, announced her committee chairman Mrs. Ferman Huston, tickets; Mrs. Charles McCandless, orchestra and mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Michael Blau, decorations; and Mrs. Clarence Cavalier, prizes.

At the luncheon which closed the meeting tables were decorated with Christmas candles, pine cones and boughs, centered by a Christmas tree and gifts brought by the 34 members present for Moose Heart. The presents will be sorted and given to the children at Christmas time.

The next meeting will be Oct. 17. Plans are under way for the annual bazaar in November.

And Out of Cookie Box

Keep Hands Busy Knitting

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN, Dr. William Weiss of New York City believes that nervous eating has been responsible for many weight gains. For those who find that a case of nerves increases their calorie intake beyond the normal daily requirements, resulting in a problem of overweight, he suggests a handy tranquilizer such as knitting. He says, "This will be a calming influence which is what nervous, compulsive eaters need to keep them away from the cookie box."

Most dietitians can use psychology.

real help in carrying out their reducing programs, especially if they are compulsive eaters because of nervousness or emotional upsets. Often such suggestions are as important as a calorie chart.

I have given you many suggestions in this column such as: "Buy a dress you like very much which is a size too small for you;" "Don't look at the long haul, weigh only once a week;" "Look at a picture of yourself taken 10 years ago. The main difference may be a gain in weight;" "Measure before beginning your reducing routine and then once a week from then on."

Dr. Weiss also points out that many nervous women have an opposite weight problem—that of underweight. Knitting will help them also because it is relaxing.

This is valuable to the woman who wishes to gain because the thin woman usually uses up lots of nervous energy needlessly through tension, nervous mannerisms, and constant motion.

Weight watchers will be in good company this coming week if they pick up their knitting needles and stop nibbling, for the week of Oct. 8-13 has been set aside as National Knit-It-Yourself Week by the National Hand Knitting-Yarn Association, an educational group to increase interest in this age-old hand-craft hobby.

Teen-Agers Want a Strong and Decisive Leader

Future Voters Express Desires in President

By EUGENE GILBERT
PRESIDENT, GILBERT YOUTH RESEARCH CO.

If the teen-agers of the nation could go to the polls this fall, they'd vote overwhelmingly for the presidential candidate showing the out leadership ability, the President who delegates authority. Forty-one most outstanding leadership qualities, would be no more than a per cent of the boys, and 33 per cent of the girls so voted.

The findings show strongly that As Elaine Dautenhake, 17, of American youth wants a firm and decisive president, rather than one who delegates authority.

The youthful commentators were asked this week to put 15 attributes for a presidential candidate—in order of importance, and then comment on their first choice.

The scoreboard was heavily tilted in favor of two characteristics and then the percentages dropped nearly to nothing.

Honesty was given second importance, with 25 per cent of the boys and 26 per cent of the girls calling it the "essential characteristic. (We doubt if the youngsters want a dishonest president, and its possible some assume that honesty is an integral virtue of a leader.)

PRESSURE GROUPS

The ten per cent who selected ability for dealing with special pressure groups put this attribute in third place. Wisely Larry Kosowsky, 18, of Brooklyn, N.Y., comments: "These groups make up our country."

Four per cent of those polled chose "ability to organize an important issue" as the number one quality for presidential success.

Two per cent thought quick thinking most important. A 17-year-old from Detroit, Mich., said: "A quick-thinking person can usually grasp any issue and take intelligent action at once."

"A sound economic and tax system makes a country grow," says Arnold Friedman, 17, of New York, one of the two per cent group that put "ability to frame sound economic and tax policies" at the top of their list.

Surprisingly enough, religion seems relatively unimportant in the thinking of these teen-agers. It rated first place with only 2 per cent of the youngsters polled. But Jane Manning, 16, of Clark Summit, Pa., feels faith most necessary. "Religion is the basis for a person's way of life," she says. And Marcia Klomparsen, 16, of Grand Haven, Mich., thinks a religious person would have a better character.

LESSER MATTERS

Such matters as "strategic ability" and "family life" all rated less than 2 per cent.

Sometimes it may have been a bit difficult for those polled to choose among the qualities suggested. But Lisa Bourkard, 17, of Tampa, Fla., wants her candidate to have everything—or nearly everything. She comments: "I think all but appearance are equally important."

The global travels of President Eisenhower are undoubtedly in Gary Weaver's mind when he puts good health at the top of his list. It's important to the 17-year-old from South Bend, Ind., because a President must "travel around the world and meet with respective leaders."

And though most youngsters dropped oratorical ability to a lowly position, S. Ross Perry, 17, of Miami Beach, Fla., thinks the "freedom chat" important. He says, "A President must be able to put across his thoughts to the nation."

Those who made leadership their number one choice feel that in the last analysis, it is only the President who can make the ultimate decision for the country. "He can't depend on someone else to tell him what to do," says Marian Tyson, 13, of White Plains, N.Y.

The uneasy state of international relations is probably in Michele Guherman's mind when she says, "In case of war the President must be able to lead the country."

Six Bridesmaids Attend Joanne Todd at Nuptials

Six bridesmaids in raspberry pink chiffon and net with chiffon cummerbunds, attended Joanne Lee Todd who exchanged vows with Paul Franklin Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. C. J. Johnson of the First General Baptist Church officiated at the candlelight nuptials before a background of white chrysanthemums, carnations and palms.

Hosts at the church reception for 150 guests were the Horace M. Todd of East Yale Avenue, parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elsie R. Franklin of Chamberlain Street and James Franklin of Truist.

The bride gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle featured a molded bodice with roll collar and bouffant skirt of tiered lace ruffles ending in a chapel sweep. Silk illusion veiling fell to fingertip length from a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

A corsage of pink rosebuds centered the bride's cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Misses attending her sister as bridesmaids were Rita Cox, Patricia Priest, Linda Smith, Mrs. Bobbie Haman and Linda Adams. They held cascades of asalea pink and white carnations.

MRS. PAUL FRANKLIN

Otto and James Teeling. Donald Edholm of Royal Oak and Herbert Otto ushered.

After a honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

A jacket dress of ivory beige brocade tulle and a corsage of rose pink cymbidium orchids was Mrs. Todd's selection for her daughter's wedding. Yellow cymbidium orchids complemented Mrs. Franklin's green wool jersey, worn with brown accessories.

Hadassah Units Convene

Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah was host to over 150 women at Temple Beth Jacob Monday for the Central States Regional Meeting.

Coffee followed registration taken by Mrs. Sam Stolorow and Mrs. Morris Kampano.

Mrs. Irving Schlytestone, president of the local group, extended greetings and announced the meeting's theme as "Hadassah Keys to Fund Raising." Projects of the organization include support of Aliyah (rehabilitation of Jewish youth), Hadassah Medical Organization (promoting medical care and education), vocational education (training men and women for a place in Israel's expanding economy) and the Jewish National Fund (land reclamation).

Mrs. Carl Schiller and Mrs. Morris Adler, both of Detroit, were guest speakers.

Zeta Eta Chapter Gets Together on Winkelman Drive

Mrs. Pearson Wood of Winkelman Drive was hostess for the regular monthly meeting of Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Tuesday evening.

After a brief business session, Mrs. Joe Galardi, president, introduced Mrs. Maurice Clevering of a local beauty shop who demonstrated the application and use of cosmetics, assisted by her son Charles.

Guests were Mrs. Leslie Marzac and Mrs. Roberta Demino. Mrs. Thomas Bickley of Elizabeth Lake Road will be hostess for the next meeting.

Area Agricultural Unit to Vote Wednesday on New Directors

Lapeer City — The election of three directors of the Lapeer County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Eastern Michigan Fair, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday. All persons who purchased season tickets for the 1960 fair are eligible to vote at the meeting, which will be held in the community room of the town hall here.

Those whose terms expire next week are Al Pierce, secretary; manager; Vernon Gifford and Carl Hauff.

Members of the nine-man board of directors whose terms continue are Burt Sisson, president; Robert Mignery, first vice president; Dr. M. C. Van Conant, second vice president; Dr. Charles Renshaw; Harold McKillen; and Irvine Welton, treasurer.

Pierce and Welton will report on the profits and operation of the fair. A discussion of next year's air also is scheduled.

Rochester Bond Vote Approved by State

ROCHESTER — The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved the Rochester Community School District's $1.6 million bond issue for new construction.

This is the portion of the $2.1 million bond issue passed May 9 that will be used for the first phase of the current building program.

It covers cost of construction of the three elementary school projects. They are the new Howard L. McGregory Elementary School and additions to both the Meadowbrook and Hamlin schools.

The remaining funds will be used for the junior and senior high projects.

Township Board Discusses Fees of Civic Center

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Rules governing operation of the community center buildings here were reviewed last night at a special meeting of the township board. There had been some question as to which groups or individuals could use the library and two other buildings without paying a service charge.

The regulations state that any closed group, with the exception of teen-agers, must pay for use of the rooms.

The township board hopes for clarification of the rental rates for use of the buildings.

some financial aid and complete maintenance of the building department by the Independence Township Board.

With the population growth of the area surrounding Clarkston (Independence Township has tripled its population in the last 10 years) more books, funds, assistance and official regulations have become a necessity, board members said.

With the new rules in effect, books will be loaned for a period of not more than two weeks unless a request for an additional two weeks is granted. A penalty fee of 2 cents for each day a book is overdue will be charged.

A fee of $1 for each initial family registration or 50 cents for individual registrations will be charged.

All books marked "R" or "reference" will customarily not be loaned. The librarian, Mrs. Philip Smith, may make occasional exceptions for material not in active use, to be loaned for a short period.

A book which is more than two months overdue shall be presumed lost, and a uniform fee of $2 will be assessed, regardless of age, condition or original cost of the item. The same charge will apply to books damaged beyond repair.

New hours have been established for the library which will be open 24 hours a week. They are from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

The building will be closed on Wednesdays for a repair workshop session by members of the women's club.

A honeymoon trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania followed the reception held in the town recently at the First Congregational Church here.

The bride is the former Nancy L. Ojala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ojala of 1225 E. 31 Mile Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mervyn Maxon of Detroit and the late Harry Reagle.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white bridal satin with a fitted bodice of Alton lace and full sweeping skirt ending in a chapel train.

Her finger ring of illusion was held by a crown of crystals. She carried a colonial bouquet of white butterfly rose, gardenias and ivy.

Her only jewelry was a heart-shaped gold locket, centered with a diamond, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. William St. Diaco was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary Carver of Warren, Mrs. E. C. Ojala of 1225 E. 31 Mile Road, and Suzanne Lyons of Romeo.

Airman 2. C. Gerald Black of Clinton, Oida., was best man. Seating the guests were the bride's brother, Airman L. C. Richard Ojala, from McCord Air Force Base, Washington, Gary Carver of Warren and Peter Burt of Romeo.

The award, which includes a gold ring, certificate and $100 travel check from the National FFA Foundation, is given for outstanding achievement in farming and rural leadership.

Approximately 200 Michigan members of the FFA will attend the three-day FFA convention which starts Wednesday at the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City.

Goings Make and Display Candles in Dixie Hill Shop

By JIM LONG
 SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — Charlie Going has a mission in life, a self-imposed challenge, a search for an unusual goal.

And that is to make the world's best candles. There are many who already think Going has attained his long-hoped-for position.

His sales reflect the quality of his product. Most of Going's customers are either directly or indirectly connected with the automobile industry.

His candles are given by the auto firms to clients of the industry or used for display purposes in the plant offices.

Going and his wife, Paula, are the owners of Going Enterprises, Inc., here. Their small display room and workshop, with six employees, sits atop a hill at the intersection of the Dixie Highway and M87.

Candles are not the only products in which the Goings deal. Both are fond of unusual gifts and realize others are appreciative of the finest in arts and crafts.

The year around the couple searches the country for artists and craftsmen who turn out superior products that can express the individuality of the gift giver.

"We want to give something different to the customer. We realize that some executives receive upwards of several hundred gifts a year from clients.

"Our gifts can express originality. I bet there are some executives who receive every year at Christmas time at least a hundred dressed chickens or hams."

SHOP YEAR OLD
 The Goings set up their shop a year ago, and just recently opened the doors to the public.

Both originally area residents, the Goings have spent the last 14 years in Ohio, Cleveland, Akron and Dover.

They became interested in candles five years ago, and the candle business eight years later.

Going said that a representative of an automobile firm first suggested candles to him as a gift present while on a buying trip to his store in Dover.

"We tried it, found it reasonably successful and have been constantly perfecting all sizes and shapes of candles."

In three years' time, he said, he had developed 60 new candles. Going, who shies away from talking about the process used in making his rolled candles, said for material for his product, but discovered an out-state firm that can supply all that is needed.

The material used in the candles is 100 per cent beeswax, he said, the same that comes from beehives.

"The only difference is the honey-combed wax is bleached and then dyed," explained Going.

IN SOLID COLORS
 Next year the wax will be available in 16 solid colors, he said.

Recently a large Detroit department store placed an order with Going, and should it be a successful proving ground for his candles, he expects to expand his operation.

While waiting Going said he would continue experimenting. The largest candle made to date by Going is five feet tall.

"It might be the largest rolled candle ever made," the proud candlemaker said. Cost of the tower of wax is $50.

CANDLEMAKERS — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Going of Springfield Township inspect a few of many specially designed candles turned out by their small firm, Going Enterprises, Inc., Dixie Highway and M87. In the candle business only three years, Going has developed 60 new type candles, and admits he wants to make the best candles available.

Fun Costs So Little for Young in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — It cost only nine cents an hour to maintain an eight-week recreation program for hundreds of boys and girls in the township this summer.

The cost seems slight, but it's even less than the average spent in the previous year, according to a report issued by the Avon Youth Service and Recreation Association Inc.

In 1959, an average of 91 cents per recreation hour was spent for the program.

Total expenditures for the 1960 summer activities amounted to $4,400, including both costs of equipment and staff salaries.

BASEBALL COSTLIEST
 Baseball was the costliest item offered in the AYSA's program. However, more boys — 435 of them — to be exact — took part in this sport than in any other activity offered by the association.

$5.00 BUDGET
 Seasonal sports offered are football, skiing, basketball, golf and fishing instruction.

The association's operating budget for the year is $5,300. Of that sum, $4,500 is contributed by the Avon Community Chest and $800 is given by Avon Township. The village of Rochester donated $200.

Activities Director Robert Jereau said the annual nomination of association officers will be held Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Rochester Junior High School.

Elections will be held at the December meeting. The meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month. Jereau invited all those to attend who are interested in working with the youth of the community.

Clarkston Bridge Club to Hold First Tourney
 CLARKSTON — The Campbell-Richmond Post 63 of the American Legion has re-elected Floyd J. Towers of 6709 Transparent St. to a one-year term as commander.

Other new officers are Fred Yeager, senior vice commander; Robert Wertenman, junior vice commander; Warren Temple, adjutant; Art Kelley, finance officer; William Appleton, assistant professor of Water-area studies at Michigan State University Oakland.

PTA Looks for Members
 TROY — The Colerain School Parent-Teacher Association will hold membership night at 8 p.m. Wednesday. All members have been invited to bring guests who are interested in joining the group.

The largest candle made to date by Going is five feet tall. "It might be the largest rolled candle ever made," the proud candlemaker said. Cost of the tower of wax is $50.

In Lake Orion Church

Evelyn Ballagh Is Wed

LAKE ORION — Evelyn Louise Ballagh became the bride of Clayton Patrick Carter in a candlelight ceremony at First Baptist Church performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Walter C. Ballagh.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ballagh live at 336 N. Broadway St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carter of 4625 Baldwin Road, Orion Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported silk taffeta with a lace bodice, long sleeves and a full bouffant skirt with wing-back bow and rosettes of taffeta at the waistline.

The portrait neckline was accented with seed pearls and sequins.

A matching crown of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion. The bride bouquet was made up of white gladioli.

Norma Ballagh of Lake Orion was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Fayanne Badger and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Joseph Hayward.

To Cruise Seas for Sake of Peace

Goodwill N-Power Ship Soon Ready for Ocean

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A $2.5-million experiment in ocean-going nuclear propulsion is slowly nearing completion in a shipyard here.

Workers at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. are getting out the N. S. Savannah. It will be the first nonmilitary ship to have an atomic engine. The keel was put down May 22, 1958, and the hull was launched July 21, 1959.

Taxpayers are footing the design and construction cost, and probably the ship never will repay that cost in dollars. But some observers feel the United States will be amply repaid in prestige and the good will it should produce.

After it is commissioned, early next year, the Savannah will make a world cruise. The cruise will demonstrate how the atom can be used peacefully. It also will provide valuable knowledge needed for construction of future nuclear-powered ships.

The Savannah is named for the first steamship to cross the Atlantic.

306 FEET LONG
The new Savannah is 306 feet long and will be powered by a nuclear reactor using U235 as fuel. The reactor, built by Babcock and Wilcox, has been installed. The reactor will be used to heat water and steam to 520 prior warning.

This fall Mexico will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the birth of the Mexican War of Independence, the 100th anniversary of the Mexican Revolution.

Jackie Kennedy to Get Into the Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has announced a new block-by-block doorbell-ringing effort by women campaign workers to line up votes for her husband, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Mrs. Kennedy announced the Oct. 17-24 program, known as "Calling for Kennedy," during a tea for women reporters in her Georgetown home Wednesday. "They'll ring doorbells and find out if the people are for Jack," she explained.

"What if they're not?" a reporter asked.

"Then we leave them a folder and fact sheet," she replied.

That Noise Is the Sound of Red Propaganda

BY BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — The current issue of "U.S.S.R.," the Soviet Union's English language picture magazine features a haunting article by Boris Leonidov entitled "Visit of Peace and Friends — First Anniversary of Nikita Khrushchev's Tour of the United States."

Its picture layout shows acres of thrilled Americans, waving and blowing kisses at a benevolently smiling Nikita in Pittsburgh.

The article concludes: Khrushchev's visit to the United States in many ways promoted the creation of favorable conditions for our present and future contacts and businesslike cooperation."

What's that thumping noise I hear?

More Dominican Sugar 'Would Not Help' Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has denied that increased sugar imports from the Dominican Republic would give that country and undesired wealth.

Instead, it said yesterday, the Dominican Republic would be penalized as $13 million by a two cents a pound fee on Dominican sales.

The department made the statements in reply to a Venezuelan protest against U.S. plans to buy sugar from the Dominican Republic to make up part of the 700,000 tons formerly imported from Cuba.

Which of these two whiskies is insured for One Million Dollars?

Answer:

The whiskey in the bottle on the left. It is drawn from the limited stock of Calvert Reserve's precious "Standard of Excellence." This limited stock, insured by a world famous insurance company for one million dollars, is never sold.

The Calvert Reserve on the right, and every bottle you buy, must match this "Standard of Excellence" for superb flavor, aroma and smoothness.

Excellence like this is attained by combining as many as 35 great straight whiskies with rare grain neutral spirits. The reason: All straight whiskies vary from distillation to distillation. They are never the same.

Thanks to this priceless "Standard of Excellence" you are assured that Calvert Reserve's magnificent taste and character never vary from bottle to bottle. That's why your first sip will say...

'They Sure Surprised Us'—Stengel

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—The strategy of the Pittsburgh Pirates is to come up with the element of surprise and catch the New York Yankees napping if they are going to win the 1960 World Series.

"They sure surprised us a few times. In fact they caught us sleeping," said the old professor, Casey Stengel, after the National League champions used speed and good defense to beat the Yankees, 6-4, in the opener at Forbes Field yesterday.

"I'm not going to say which of our players weren't alert but we better wake up in the next game," Stengel added after naming Bob Turley to hurl today against the Pirates.

Bob Friend, long the bread and butter pitcher of the Pirates, went to the mound today in hopes of completing the home sweep against the Bombers.

The Pirates were daring on the base paths. They forced Yankee pitchers to keep a close watch on them on first and they dared catcher Yogi Berra to throw.

Twice in the first inning, when the Pirates scored three runs, Berra made two bad throws to second.

Speedy Bill Virdon walked to start the Pirates' first frame and he immediately stole second. Berra's throw was right over the bag but very high. Both Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson headed for the bag but neither one of them made an effort to reach for the ball.

Captain Dick Groat made his first World Series appearance by smashing a double down the right field line. Bob Skinner lined a single over second to score Groat.

Skinner wasted no time in heading for second and as Berra again threw high he slid in safely. After Dick Stuart filed out, Roberto Clemente singled and Skinner scored.

Casey Stengel made his second appearance of the inning to the mound and Art Ditmar gave way to Jim Coates.

It was the first time in two World Series that anyone had scored on Ditmar. In 1957 and 1958, Ditmar pitched a total of 9½ innings and did not give up a run.

The last time a pitcher had been knocked out in the first inning was in 1958 when the Braves got Bob Turley out of there after only ½ of an inning.

The Bucs also made several fine defensive plays to stop the Yanks from getting too bold in running the bases. A fine play came in the second inning when Skinner took Richardson's low liner in left field. A perfect peg to Bill Mazeroski at second got Berra who tried to get back to the bag.

Of the two big Yankee guns, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle, Pirate pitchers Vernon Law and Elroy Face were able to bring Mantle to a point of frustration.

Mantle homered in the first inning and also picked up two singles but Mantle was able to gain only a walk for his efforts. Twice Mantle watched three strikes go by him.

Homers played a big part in the opener and the Yankees threatened with the long ball down to the double play which ended the game.

Mazeroski gave the Pirates a 5-2 lead with a 370 foot blast over the left field scoreboard scoring Don Hoak ahead of him. Mazeroski scored the final Pirate run in the 6th inning. He singled and came home on Verdón's double.

Elroy Face, the fireman of the Pirate bullpen snuffed out the Yankee in the 8th inning but was on shaky ground in the final stanza.

Law left the mound after singles by Hector Lopez and Maris. Face came in and proceeded to strike out Mantle and Bill Skowron and forcing Berra to fly out. Gil McDougald started the 9th with a single, and after Richardson bounced out Elton Howard, batting for Ryne Duren, parked the ball over the right field screen.

Kubek then got his third single of the game and with only one out Pirate fans started buzzing about the awesome Yankee power which was to follow.

Lopez however prevented Maris or Mantle from getting another crack at the ball by bouncing a grounder to Mazeroski who started the double play to Stuart via shortstop Groat.

When the final putout was made, the public address system immediately broke loose with the record which holds the top-line of the day ranking in Pittsburgh—"Real 'Em Bucs".

The prominent line of the record which is repeated, goes: "The Bucs are going all the way, all the way, all the way." (It is sung to the melody of Camptown Races).

In the locker room the Pirates have taken the song to heart. There is no doubt in manager Danny Murtough's mind that the Bucs won't go all the way.

A crowd of 36,676 paid a net gate of $233,360.24 for the opener. It was only the 12th game victory in history for the Pirates. They have lost 15 games in World Series play.

The Yanks in the meantime are the Major League kings having won 85 games lost 50 and tied one in World Series history.

Yanks Like Any Other Club, Bucs Find

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, confident but not cocky after winning the opening game of the World Series, found out a couple of things about the New York Yankees that they suspected all along.

"They're like any other club," said Elroy Face. "They can be pitched to."

"And they can scare you," said Dick Groat.

It was Face, the scrappy reliever, who helped the Bucs get fat after 33 years between pennants, who saved the victory for starting pitcher Vernon Law.

"We knew they had power," said Groat, pivot man at short on the wrapup doubleplay, "but they strike so fast!"

"You go into the ninth inning and you figure you've got it made. And then bang, bang, bang! You're in trouble."

The Pirates also were in trouble in the fourth inning, when Bill Virdon's running catch of Berra's long drive to right center saved a 3-1 lead. That catch, with Virdon reaching over Roberto Clemente as they bumped slightly, was the turning point.

"I guess we both were calling for it," said Virdon, "but the crowd was yelling so much neither one of us could hear. I didn't even see him."

Hardly any of the Yankees saw Virdon in the first inning, when he pulled a delayed steal of second base.

Pitching was the Yankees' problem. "It was the type of game, I figure, where it was just the kind of pitching we win if because we got four runs," said Manager Casey Stengel.

"I pinch hit for (Clete) Boyer in the second inning because I'm trying to get even. How the hell do you know in the eighth or ninth inning you're going to get a man on base?"

"The best thing that club did was get my left fielder (Lopez) out and you know he's the best left to right field. But they get him out."

"I thought at first it was a line drive to (Gil) McDougald (Yankee third baseman). I started to turn back. That delay did it."

Law, who gave up a first-inning home run by Roger Maris, also admitted to some mistakes. "I think I made more mistakes in the first two innings than I did all season," he said. "I only walked one batter, but it wasn't my game. I was behind on a lot of hitters. I couldn't keep my pitches low."

"It wasn't because of my sprained ankle, or the fact it was a World Series game. The ankle hurt when I tried to put something extra on the ball, but I think it was just the fact that I hadn't pitched much during the last two weeks."

From The PRESS BOX

Northern Michigan ranks 17th in the United Press International poll of small college football teams. Hillsdale is in a tie for 19th. Western Michigan also got some votes.

Former Wisconsin star Dale Hackbart has been added to the roster of the Green Bay Packers and will probably be a defensive back. Baltimore has given up a search for a guard due to some outstanding play by placekicker Steve Myhr.

Former All-American Jim Swink has quit the Dallas Texans.

Pepper Martin, former St. Louis Cardinal center, will become athletic director at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary Nov. 1.

Bill Voss of Hardin-Simmons also has caught 21 passes in three games, but has gained only 195 yards and scored once.

Never before since the NCAA Service Bureau has been compiling statistics have two players had as many as 42 catches between them at this stage. And only once has a player caught more than 21 in three games—Ken Buck, College of Pacific, with 22 in 1953.

Four of the previous week's individual major college leaders managed to hang onto first place and four new ones, including Campbell, turned up, the NCAA statistics show.

Dave Hoppman of Iowa State continued to lead in total offense and rushing. In three games, Hoppman has gained 551 yards total to 549 for Jim Wright of Memphis State, and has picked up 63 yards on the ground, 40 more than Bob Galters of New Mexico State.

Galters was idle last week but continued to lead in scoring with 18 points. Glen Adams of Army held first in punt returns with 177 yards and Georgia Tech's Tommy Wrens retained the lead in kicking lead with five in three games—just two short of a college record for a full season.

Hoosier Gets PCC Ace

Holes-in-one have been scarce this year at Pontiac Country Club and it took an out-of-state golfer to notch PCC's 2nd ace of the season.

Paul Penn of Goslen, Ind., visiting in the city, ached the 135-yard hole at PCC with a 5-iron under the watchful eyes of Ken Keefe and Bob Merritt. Penn shot 41-42-83.

Buc Fans Take Win in Stride

'I Have Seen Livelier Sunday Nights,' Claims Pittsburgh Policeman

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh, Pirate fans didn't get too worked up Wednesday over the Pirate's 6-4 victory over New York in the World Series opener. At least outwardly, they took the victory in stride.

"I've seen livelier Sunday nights," one policeman remarked Wednesday night.

Down town streets were no busier than usual. Most of the celebration seemed confined to private parties at hotels and night clubs.

The atmosphere was a great deal different than that of a week or so ago when the Pirates rolled into town after clinching the National League flag. Some 300,000 Pittsburghers flocked downtown to give the Bucs a rip-roaring welcome.

The game itself even failed to produce great jubilation among Pirate rosters. The left field bleachers, usually the scene of some of the wildest cheering, was described this way by one Pittsburgh reporter.

"Men and women in the left field bleachers were so quiet you'd have thought they were attending an outdoor PTA meeting."

No Courts for Kromer

MELBOURNE (AP)—The Australian Lawn Tennis Association voted Wednesday night to deny the use of courts owned by amateur organizations to Jack Kramer's pro tour.

Off The Grape Vine GAME

As veterans of The Pontiac Press sports department, it hurts our pride to admit that the new member of our staff, Don Vogel, is the leading Grapevine picker as the 1960 football season enters the 4th week.

Swami Vogel, heretofore known as the Guest, holds a three-game edge over Swamis Chuck Abair and Bill Cornwell and leads Swami Bruno Kearns by a whopping nine games.

Last weekend was a rough one for the association of crystal ball gazers. Birmingham Seaholm's loss stumped everybody as did defeats for Wayne State, Notre Dame, St. Michael, Southfield and Mt. Clemens.

There are some real toughies again this week for the Grapevine pickers.

Wings Tie Hawks in Opener

DETROIT — It appears the Detroit Red Wings aren't going to miss Gordie Howe as much as they thought — not with Parker MacDonald around.

The Red Wings opened their National Hockey League season at Chicago last night and it looked as if the Blackhawks were going to collect a 1-0 victory. But new-comer MacDonald blasted in a tally midway in the final period which enabled Detroit to tie Chicago 1-1.

The tie left Detroit and Chicago knotted for second place in the NHL standings. New York leads the field with one victory.

The Red Wings get a chance to snap the tie tonight when the Black Hawks visit Olympia Stadium.

Chicago was favored to take last night's game when the Red Wings revealed they would be without the services of Howe, their ace forward. Howe injured his knee in the recent All-Star game and will miss tonight's game and possibly one more.

MacDonald's tally came at 11:33 of the final frame. Each team had a man in the penalty box at the time. Suddenly Norm Ullman centered a short pass and MacDonald fired a high shot which zoomed in over goalie Glenn Hall's leg.

MacDonald was secured from New York in last summer's draft. He scored only 23 goals in five previous tries at Toronto and New York.

Northern Coach in Hospital, May Miss Friday Tilt

The Pontiac Northern Hawks may be minus head football coach Ed Heikkinen when they face Farmington Friday afternoon on the Falcon gridiron.

He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital Monday after being bothered by severe leg pains.

Dr. Ralph Wigant has described Heikkinen's condition as "poor" but says he is still having trouble standing. He stated that the symptoms are of a back injury he suffered while in the Army.

If the head man is unable to go with the team for the game, assistant Arnie Wilson will be in charge for FNLH.

Matmen Back in City Friday

Baseball Old-Timers Association to Benefit From Show

The fall wrestling season opens in Pontiac Friday night with a stellar card at the Pontiac Armory. Eight top heavyweight matmen will appear on the program, with Louie Larry Chene going against Percival E. Pringle in the main event.

Proceeds from the show will benefit the Pontiac Baseball Oldtimers Association.

Luis Martinez, the flashy Mexican sensation, will take on Fearless Frank Shields in the other single match.

Louis Papineau and Abner Jacobs will team up to meet Red Donovan and Dynamite Johnny Gates in an Australian tag-team bout.

Duffy May Use Soccer Player Against Iowa

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University football coach Duffy Daugherty is considering the possibility of using an All-American soccer player to boot kickoffs and field goals when the Spartans meet Iowa Saturday.

A pair of booters from Michigan State's top flight soccer squad worked out with the gridirers in a secret session yesterday.

One of them, Cecil Heron, a native of the Bahamas by way of Detroit, was All-American last year and scored all six goals for the Spartan soccer squad in a romp over Earham College last Saturday.

Heron, who is 31 and a slight 5-8, 160 pounds, repeatedly put the football into the end zone in kickoff tries yesterday.

Reinier "Dutch" Kemmeling, 24, of Racine, Wis., was the other booter under consideration as a football player. A sophomore, he played some football while in service, according to soccer coach Gene Kenney.

Not Saved by THIS Bell

MANSFIELD, England (UPI) — Mrs. B. L. Bagley received a letter Wednesday advising her it was time to immunize her baby. The postmark was dated Nov. 4, 1949. The baby now is 11 years old.

Trade Talks Involving Jensen Boggling Down

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Boston Red Sox trade talks designed to acquire a shortstop bogged down today in the subject of Jackie Jensen.

Manager Mike Higgins said his talks to date at the World Series gathering of baseball men have included Jensen, who recently announced he will end his one year retirement and return to the Sox. Higgins has discovered the other teams all want Jensen as part of a trade.

FACES FALCONS — Top ground gainer Phil Schoof will lead the Romeo Bulldogs as they go after a big upset at Rochester Friday night.

Skippers Duel Walled Lake

By CHUCK ABRAIR
The high-riding Walled Lake Vikings face what may be their biggest obstacle towards a repeat as Inter-Lakes League champions and a possible perfect season tomorrow night as host to Waterford.

A game which could have a great bearing on the final Oakland B standings will match Troy and Fitzgerald, Madison goes to Clawson.

Ortonville is favored to stay in the running for South Central honors by beating North Branch while Imlay City travels to Millington for a duel of scoring powers.

A full Southern Thumb slate has Anchor Bay guest of New Haven, Almost attempting to bounce back at Memphis, Brown City vs. Capac and Dryden at Ann Arbor.

Emmanuel Christian takes to the road for the 4th straight Friday for an afternoon game at Dearborn Haxton still seeking expected to stay in the thick of things by winning at Millford. An afternoon contest will actually start the day in the WFO as Bloomington goes after Clawsonville and a possible perfect season tomorrow night as host to Waterford.

Major Hoople Makes Wild Card Choices

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

The Wildcard of Odds
EGAD! My mail has been heavy the past fortnight with requests that I explain the recently adopted wild card substitution rule.
First, gentle readers, I wish to say the story making the rounds that the wild card originated in the Owls Club is a base canard.

In fact, since Smully became the self-appointed head of the House Committee on Rules, no wild card games are permitted during the Owls' nightly social sessions. Nothing but straight stud — or — ahem — I mean — contract bridge is allowed.

In a few words (Ed. Note: For Hoople that's an impossible task) the rule was installed to permit the use of specialists at the whim of the coaches.

One wild-carder may be sent in after every play. But more of that later after a look at this Saturday's card. After several wild and woolly weekends we are in for some serene sailing. Dr. I. M. Inorbits, just back from a special mission to Coape Canaveral, reports that his studies show all of the chalk — or — ah — favored elevens will emerge victorious.

Several contests will be close, to be sure, but the results will be as predicted by the Hoople System. Har-rumph!

Among the more closely contested engagements will be Penn State's triumph over Army. Yale's conquest of Columbia, Georgia Tech's defeat of Louisiana State.

and Minnesota's victory over Northwestern.

'Stop Iowa' Theme Continues at MSU

EAST LANSING (U.P.) — "Stop Iowa" continues the watchword in the Michigan State football camp.

Danny Boutsure, Spartan defensive backfield coach, scouted the two early Iowa games — a clue to the Michigan State emphasis on defense.

"The Iowa team is very much like Michigan," Boutsure reported. "Except," he added, "they block and tackle harder and run faster."

The resemblance partly comes because Michigan's Bump Elliott formerly was an assistant under Iowa coach Forest Evashevski.

Emphasis has been mostly on the defense on the practice field, the top units, becoming accustomed to the Iowa-type attack, are doing a steadily improving job of stopping a scouting team using Hawkeye plays.

As against Michigan, coach Duffy Daugherty will take full advantage of the manpower allowed by the home game. Daugherty will alter the front line and substitute freely for the sake of freshness.

Iowa is limited to a 38-man traveling squad under Big Ten rules.

MSU should be even stronger manpower-wise than last week.

Gary Ballman, bothered by a knee injury early in the season, has not reached his full potential.

Either he or Herb Adderley are overdue for a hot Saturday.

Tommy Wilson will continue in his iron man role as offensive quarterback with Daugherty calling all the plays from the bench.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan's football team will step outside of the Big Ten again this Saturday in face unbeaten Duke University for the first grid game in the history of the two institutions.

The contest also will be highlighted by the annual High School Band Day show with more than 13,500 high school bandmen representing 189 organizations gathering from all parts of the state to participate in cooperation with the Michigan Marching Band.

Still feeling the effects of the hardfought Michigan State game which they lost 24-17 in one of the Northern Michigan at Ypsi

United Press International

Northern Michigan, jarred from the unbeaten ranks by Youngstown, Ohio, last week, invades the camp of winless Eastern Michigan to tomorrow night kicking off the fourth weekend of small college football.

The Wildcats, who scored impressive victories over Hillsdale and Central Michigan, are picked as solid favorites against the twice-defeated Hurons.

Three unbeaten teams — Ferris Institute, Michigan Tech and Albion — will put their perfect records on the line Saturday.

Ferris, which rolled to a 33-0 triumph over Alma last week for its third win, will entertain Lakeland College of Wisconsin.

The Huskies will be seeking their fourth victory when they play host to Winona State while Albion journeys to Kalamazoo for a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association battle.

Two other MIAA games are also scheduled for Saturday. Albion plays at Adrian and Alma will be clinch that quarterbacks Bob Lusk and Jerry Gross will be ready to throw against the Bearcats.

Lusk, in particular, was a standout in the Xavier game. The senior signal-caller connected on two touchdown passes and hit on eight out of 10 tosses for 153 yards.

Prior to the Xavier meeting, the Titans had been regarded as primarily a running team.

Coch Jim Miller's charges will have to be tough if they expect to hand Cincinnati its first setback.

The Bearcats have been, in their first three outings, an amazing second-half team. Their finest comeback was against Dayton two weeks ago. Cincinnati trailed 21-0 at the half but rallied for four touchdowns in the final two periods to claim a 27-21 victory.

They defeated North Texas State last week, 21-0.

U-D 11 Awaits Cincinnati Invasion

DETROIT (UPI) — The University of Detroit, revitalized by its three-touchdown romp over Xavier last weekend, returns home to host a unbeaten Cincinnati tomorrow night.

The Titans displayed unexpected strength in the passing department against Xavier and it's a clinch that quarterbacks Bob Lusk and Jerry Gross will be ready to throw against the Bearcats.

Lusk, in particular, was a standout in the Xavier game. The senior signal-caller connected on two touchdown passes and hit on eight out of 10 tosses for 153 yards.

Penn State Team Hears Cadet Yell in Grid Practice

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)

The cheers of Army parsons and Army fight songs blared through the evening chill Wednesday as Penn State's football team practiced for Saturday's meeting with the Cadets.

The alien sounds were not presented "live," however, but by recording. Penn State Coach Rip Engle played the records through loudspeakers ringing the practice field.

He explained the psychological gimmick was designed to acquaint his players with the off-field diversions with which they will have to contend at Army's stadium.

Engle introduced this pre-game training last year and State upset Army, 17-11.

Don't Say 'Down South' When It Should Be 'Up'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The Nashville Banner, in an editorial Wednesday, noted that Atlanta is 150 feet above sea level while Detroit has an elevation of only 565 and Elizabeth, N. J., only 21. In view of this, the newspaper suggested, the phrase "Down South" should be changed to "Up South."

Head Injury Is Fatal to High School Griddler

KINGSPOINT, Tenn. (AP) — A 20-year-old Negro high school athlete is dead of injuries received in a football game.

Elmer Richard Battle Jr., playing for Jefferson City's Nelson-Merry high against Swift high of Rogersville, died here Monday.

A physician indicated that a head injury suffered in the game last Thursday caused his death.

Bowles Blames GOP for Cuban Eruption

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Chatter Bowles, foreign policy adviser for Sen. John F. Kennedy, today charged that Republican administration short-sightedness caused the present situation in Cuba.

In a speech prepared for delivery to a Citizens for Kennedy lunch here, he asked "Why did we allow six years to go by while Cuba was run by one of the most ruthless dictators in Latin American history?"

"Why did we not press for elections that would have diverted the bitter resentment of the Cuban people over poverty and repression into democratic channels?"

"Why did we continue to ship American munitions to the Batista government . . . ?"

Mission Hill—UP Resort Plus

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP)—A brand new star has been added to Michigan's growing galaxy of resorts.

This one is Mission Hill, 24 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie on Whitefish Bay. It is owned by the Troquois Corp., which is 200,000 acres men who have invested $300,000—and aren't through yet.

They hope to make Mission Hill a model for others to copy as a year-around playground. It will cater to skiers in winter, vacationists and nature lovers in spring and summer and hunters in fall.

Mission Hill's No. 1 mission, however, is to attract the skier.

A skier is like a fisherman—let him hear of a new spot and he's bound to try it.

The Mackinac Bridge, in a way, made Mission Hill possible. With the elimination of long ferry waits at the Straits of Mackinac, the big bridge brought the North Country closer to Michigan's dense downstate population.

With the bridge up, Mission Hill was started as something of a civic undertaking to lure vacationists and sportsmen north from the Peninsula.

FOR YEAR-AROUND

Mission Hill lends itself to year-around use, and into it sponsors are attempting to blend something for almost everyone. It is just west of the little town of Brimley, set in a forest of birch off Whitefish Bay, easternmost extremity of Lake Superior.

It is the only one of its kind in the Upper Peninsula. It is open to everyone.

Mission Hill's centerpiece is a luxurious lodge, with richly furnished sleeping rooms for 50. The lodge's combination lounge and dining room runs more than 100 feet, with picture windows overlooking a spectacularly steep slope. It looks as if skiers might slip right through the glass, but of course they don't.

On the lounge-dining room floor is a carpet especially loomed for it. Into the carpet are woven Lakes Superior and Michigan, plus the Straits of Mackinac and the northern tip of Lake Huron.

Across the top of Lake Superior, a shapely girl sails on water skis; to the south a nautically clad male jumps on snow skis, trailing flakes of fluff. There are sailboats here and there in the pattern and also spruce trees and deer and bears.

Hal Smith, a Sault Ste. Marie furniture dealer and Troquois Corp. president, says "that carpet is our biggest conversation piece."

The ceiling of the lounge-dining room is of western cedar, supported by huge laminated beams of southern yellow pine. Both beams and ceiling overhang 26 four-by-six picture windows by eight feet.

"The dining room can serve 750 in three hours, and below it is a cafeteria with a capacity of 600 hourly."

Off the cafeteria there is a ski shop, and off the lounge there is a bar.

Mission Hill has six ski areas, a double-chair lift and two rope tows. Its ski areas range from gently sloping ones for beginners to one for the experts.

The most spectacular slope is that running on a 45 per cent grade from the 370-foot top of Mission Hill straight toward the lodge.

Hans Standtner, a 30-year-old ski professional from Austria, described it as "probably the most challenging hill in the Midwest."

"It is one," he said, "that when a skier sees it he must try it."

But skiing now is only a part of Mission Hill's plans.

It is set in a countryside rich in deer, bear and grouse. And in the bay there are ducks and geese, and, of course, fish. Powered snowblades are being rigged for ice fishermen.

The chair lift will be used in spring, summer and fall as a sightseeing conveyance.

On the construction schedule are a children's playground and a concreted area that will serve a combination of sports—archery, volleyball, badminton, tennis and shuffleboard in the seasons and ice skating in winter.

Swainson Pins His Hopes on the Civil Rights Peg

By The Associated Press

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson pinned much of his pitch for the governorship on civil rights Wednesday, claiming the Democrats are ahead in that field.

His Republican opponent Paul D. Bagwell claimed the same thing for his party.

Swainson, who seeks to succeed Democratic Gov. Williams, began his day at a Grand Rapids plant gate, went on to Kalamazoo and finished up in Detroit.

Bagwell campaigned in Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

At Kalamazoo, Swainson told 35 Negro leaders that "it's a sad commentary that we have some physical disabilities related to the color of the skin."

Swainson was accompanied on part of his tour by Sault Ste. Marie General Otis M. Smith, a Negro.

While he was walking through Kalamazoo's downtown mall, Swainson was told by Mrs. Estelle Hensley of Battle Creek that "you're too young, you're all too young." The 35-year-old Swainson smiled, shook her hand and moved on. Mrs. Hensley is 83.

At Detroit, Swainson spoke to the Greater Detroit Committee for Fair Housing Practices and employees of the Detroit Edison Co.

Swainson told the fair housing committee that "the political party I represent and your group are on common ground. We're not interested in just talking about human rights, we're interested in doing something about it."

The Democratic party is proud of its record in Michigan in enlarging opportunities in employment, in education, in medical care, housing and public accommodations.

"Our party platform specifically endorses rule 9 which forbids real estate brokers and salesmen licensed by the state from discriminating in sales on the basis of race, religion, color or national ancestry. Our platform endorses it, and I endorse it."

INCOME AND OUTGO — Personal income in the United States is currently running at the rate of about 407 billion dollars a year, reports the Commerce Dept. This is 24 billions higher than the same time in 1959. Retail sales are at about 18 billion dollars, slightly higher than the same period last year.

Now Brazil's President May Journey to U.N.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—President Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil may go to New York later this month to address the U.N. General Assembly, according to official sources.

The sources said the Kubitschek appearance was recommended by Foreign Minister Horacio Lator, who returned from New York Sunday.

It is set in a countryside rich in deer, bear and grouse. And in the bay there are ducks and geese, and, of course, fish. Powered snowblades are being rigged for ice fishermen.

Hillsdale College Paper Starting Its 83rd Year

HILLSDALE (UPI)—Michigan's oldest campus weekly, "The Collegian," resumed publication at Hillsdale College this week for the 83rd consecutive year.

John Middleworth of Fendale is editor and Sue Stoner of DeFiance, Ohio, is managing editor.

A simple soul is the fellow who starts to build a $12,000 house with only $12,000. . . . Suburban homeowners will tell you that when it comes to drawing property lines, a lawnmower is a lot more accurate than a surveying instrument. —Earl Wilson.

Parents a Hindrance?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. Education Commissioner Lawrence G. Derthick says some bright children fail to do as well as they could in school because their parents overemphasize "emotional stability and social skill."

The Dutch astronomer Huygens and the Danish astronomer Roemer built a planetarium to represent the workings of the solar system during the last of the 16th century.

'Sundae Punch' Works for Nixon With Ice Cream

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has unloaded a "sundae punch" on Sen. John F. Kennedy in Southern Michigan.

In a presidential ice cream poll conducted recently by an Eaton Rapids ice cream parlor, the vice president topped Kennedy by 713 to 603 during a sale of "Dick" and "Jack" sundaes.

The sundae featured two dips of vanilla ice cream, a ladle of chocolate and marshmallow topping, crushed nuts, whipped cream and sliced bananas—all capped with a cherry.

President Thomas W. Wilson was better known by his middle name—Woodrow.

U.S. Space Triumphs Bread-and-Butter Type

NEW YORK (AP)—Down of meteoritic space dust, and other conditions in space. The United States leading in bread-and-butter space science. The Soviet Union ahead in spectacular desserts.

U.S. satellites have pioneered the way to use space for better weather forecasts, global communications, precise ship navigation. They have gleaned vast basic knowledge—more than the Soviets have disclosed from their probes at least—about radiations.

Williams Picks College Board

Proposed Grand Valley School Would Serve an Eight-County Area

LANSING (AP)—A nine-member board of control was named Wednesday by Gov. Williams for the proposed Grand Valley college which is to serve an eight-county area around Grand Rapids.

The action leaves only selection of a campus site and completion of a one-million-dollar fund campaign before a state charter is granted and construction is started.

Named to the board were: L. William Seidman of Grand Rapids, chairman of the citizens advisory committee for the college; Mrs. John Kistler of Grand Haven, secretary of the committee; Kenneth Robinson of Grand Rapids, regional director of the AFL-CIO; Dale Stafford of Greenville, publisher of the Greenville Daily News.

Also James Copleland of Greenville, a bank executive; Mrs. Icie Hooley of Ann Arbor, research officer at the University of Michigan; Arnold Ott, owner of William Kistler; president of the Kalamazoo Paper Box Co.; and Edward H. Frey, Grand Rapids bank executive and president of the Greater Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

Authority for the state-supported college was created in a bill signed last April 23 by the governor. State Senate confirmation of the appointments is expected next year.

Osteopaths Pick Harry R. Willet Doctor of Year

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Dr. Harry R. Willet of Marion has been named "General Practitioner of the Year" by the Michigan Society of the American College of Osteopathic Practitioners in Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery.

He is a member of the staff of Clare General Hospital at Clare.

The selection was announced in Grand Rapids at the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Willet, 62, practiced in Ludington, Nashville, Fowlerville and Howell before locating at Marion in 1934. He is a 1926 graduate of the Chicago College of Osteopathy.

A community leader at Marion, he is a former member of its village council, a past president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

Parents and Teachers to Meet at Stringham

There will be an open house at 7:30 tonight at the Stringham School in Waterford Township. Parents may meet their children's teachers in their respective grade rooms.

As new Parent Teachers Association president, Mrs. A. R. Dahl will conduct the business meeting at 8 p.m. and State Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Waterford Township, will present a talk on Can-Con, which will appear on the November election ballot.

New voters in the community may register from 7 to 8 p.m. at the school.

Greenberg 8 Over Fox

DETROIT (UP)—Hank Greenberg had no competition when he won the American League home run title in 1938. The former Detroit Tiger first baseman hit 56 homers that season—eight better than the 50 poked by Jimmy Fox.

DONALD DUCK

Like to Appear on TV for Nixon and Lodge

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will appear Monday night with a group of Republican women campaign workers on a televised program sponsored by Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge.

The President may make an opening statement in support of the Republican ticket, and then will reply to questions asked by the women volunteers. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the questions and answers will be unrehearsed.

NBC-TV will televise the program 7:30-8:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

NEW YORK (UPI)—They fell for Perry Como is going to spend more money than ever this season to get guest stars for his show. But if last night's season opener on NBC-TV is an indication of what's to come, I'd say that Perry's guests should pay to get in.
Perry's crew, led by Goodman Ace, director Dwight Hemion, choreographer Ray Charles, photographer Hugh Lampert, set designer Gary Smith and Michel, the costume girl, gave all of last night's guests excellent material and they all were shown to best advantage.
This applies even to Frankie Avalon and Fabian, who suddenly seemed like mature, seasoned performers when mixed into a "big beat" college football song medley that had them singing fresh-sounding tunes and doing some of the rudimentary football without tripping themselves or the other dancers.
It was an attractive idea, neatly executed. Too bad the boys retrogressed at the end of the hour by offering samples of their latest records. The samples surprised the show's newest musical act, Shelley Berman, a fine comedian and no singer, was presented in a production number that allowed him to do a medley of his hits.
The hits were all famous tag lines from his comedy vignettes and they were integrated into a special song-and-dance number that could have bombed but instead succeeded in excellent style.
Special guest star Ethel Merman never shone more brightly on TV than she did last night. First, she came on cold to sing "Everything's Coming Up Roses" and put it into the bleachers.

Later, Merman sang Como's big hit, "My Little Buttercup," and we had a relaxed, charming, appealing interlude.

I also liked the little electronic tricks with which Como opened the show. They were nicely placed, handsomely mounted and apt. It was a premiere that gave us forward-moving TV.

Bub-Bub-Bing Crosby sort of moved in last night and held a few warm notes around our little old earlobe-bub-bub-bub and patted our memories gently under the chin and treated our eyebub-bub-bub-balls to some crisp-looking sets.

I suppose we can say Bing's ABC-TV special made for a nice relaxing special.

Bing teamed with Rosemary Clooney, Carol Lawrence, Johnny Mercer and three of the Crosby's—Doris, Phil and Lindsay—to re-act familiar old standards with his usual ease of humor.

Miss Lawrence's big moment was a "Radio Ballad" that evoked memories of "Little Orphan Annie" and "Gangbusters" and then flared into ordinary musical repertory. Her promising idea never got off the ground.

Pleasant sounds came way in a number of medleys that saluted our best-known composers, including Mr. Mercer, but the mounting of these segments didn't display much ingenuity.

The Crosby ladies tried to teach dear old dad how to update his rendition of "Please" with the aforementioned big beat. If the trio had more spirit, rhythm and drive, the idea might have caught fire.

S. Korea Asks U.S. for $400 Million

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean government has asked the United States to provide $400 million during the next five years in special economic aid to help tide it over economic difficulties, Seoul newspapers reported today.

A government note requesting the extra aid was handed to the pro-director of the American aid mission here last week, the reports said, quoting government officials.

Little Doggies Must Move Along in Dearborn

DEARBORN (UPI)—Dogs in Dearborn have two weeks to learn to quit lingering on lawns and at trees and fireplugs.

The City Council passed an ordinance Tuesday night making dog owners liable to a $50 fine or 30 days in jail for allowing their pets to pause on public or private property.

It just stops them from stopping on someone else's property, and destroying lawns and things like that.

September Rate Drops for State Road Deaths

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan had 111 traffic deaths in September, State police said, this was a sharp drop of 44 from the 155 in the same month a year ago.

Police said the final death toll for this year probably will exceed the 1,467 deaths in 1959 by 3 to 5 per cent despite the September reduction.

Sukarno Still Believes Ike, K Should Meet

Indonesian Chief Talks Over Impossibility at U.N. With President

From Our News Wires
Indonesian President Sukarno said today after a talk with President Eisenhower in Washington that he still believes Eisenhower should meet with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Sukarno, who met with the President for 35 minutes, said Eisenhower explained why he does not wish to see the Russian leader at this time.

"He explained his answer to me and now I have a clear picture of the situation," Sukarno told reporters.

Then, bringing his index fingers together to illustrate his thoughts, he said:

"It will stick to the idea that Eisenhower and Khrushchev should meet."

Sukarno was one of five neutralist leaders who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations proposing an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting. The resolution was withdrawn after it appeared certain to be defeated.

Embittered by defeat of the resolution to produce a Soviet-United States summit meeting, Asian-African neutrals pushed a campaign at the United Nations today to build a peace bridge between the world's two greatest powers.

The Communist bloc in the U.N. General Assembly, at the same time, reacted exuberantly to the developments, hailing the neutralist clash with the United States as a clear victory for Premier Khrushchev. As one Communist representative put it, the Soviet premier "did not even have to lift a finger" to achieve it.

U.S. maneuvers succeeded early this morning in heading off the neutralist proposal urging a conference of Eisenhower and Khrushchev. But American diplomats conceded the United States may have sustained damage as a result of the neutralist struggle.

K STOOD BY
Both Eisenhower and Khrushchev had made clear they did not want to meet but the Communist bloc simply stood by and abstained from voting while the United States led the strategy to defeat the neutralists' bid.

A Fair Friday With Mild 65 Coming Our Way

Friday will be fair with a mild high of 65 the weatherman says. Tonight's low will be near 45.

Partly cloudy and warmer is the outlook for Saturday. Northwest morning winds at 15 to 20 miles an hour will diminish tonight.

Fair and warm is the forecast for all of Michigan for Friday with a chance of frost in Northern Lower Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

Lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 47. The reading at 1 p.m. was 67.

Discuss Care for Mentally Ill

AT COMMITTEE HEARING—Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (right), Oakland County chairman of a State Senate committee studying facilities and care of the mentally ill which is meeting in Pontiac today, confers with Sen. Arthur Delmel, R-Ann Arbor, a member of the committee, and Mrs. Edwin Schimke of Birmingham, and Mrs. Edward Latulipe, representatives of the American Association of University Women.

Jack to Phone Dems Here After Debate

Eighty million Americans will watch round two in the Nixon-Kennedy debates Friday night on their television screens, but only 600 Democrats in Pontiac will get an exclusive first-hand critique of it from Sen. John F. Kennedy.

This will be made possible by a Washington-to-Pontiac telephone hookup immediately after the hour-long debate. By means of an amplifier the Democratic presidential candidate will speak to those attending the sixth annual 18th Congressional District dinner at the Elks Temple.

And the $10-a-plate diners won't miss the historic "debate from Washington." A large 32-by-12-foot television screen will be erected over the speaker's platform to assure Democrats a king-size ring-side seat for the battle over issues.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 and the debate at 7:30.

It would appear that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, junior senator from Minnesota, is sliding into the background with his scheduled speech at the fund-raising affair because of the debate.

"Not in the least," exclaimed Allen Zemmel, chairman of county Democrats' biggest event of the year. "Sen. McCarthy will give a fighting speech at around 9 o'clock following the debate and telephone call."

The special call was arranged by Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey, alternate national Michigan committeewoman.

Who will be at the Pontiac end of the call is not known now. It could be James M. Ginn, county chairman. Questions for Sen. Kennedy, if any, probably will come from the press and not the audience, according to John Grubbs, press aide for the party here.

Zemmel, Detroit attorney from Oak Park, urges those without tickets for the dinner to call county headquarters immediately. "It will start promptly at 6:30 so it must be completed before the debate begins at 7:30," he said.

S. Africa Vote Hints Republic

Trend Swings Toward Break From Britain as Tally Passes Midpoint
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A diminishing antirepublican lead indicated today that South Africans have voted to cut their country loose from the British crown.

The forces opposing Nationalist Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's plan to turn the British Commonwealth nation into a republic still cling to a lead of 102,000 votes with 86 of the 136 districts reported. But many heavily Nationalist rural districts were yet to be heard from.

Prof. Arthur Vlekys, running an electrical campaign, predicted the margin in favor of a republic would approach 50,000 when all the votes were in from Wednesday's referendum.

Dutch-born Verwoerd has declared that he will consider a majority of only one vote a mandate to submit to the Nation's self-controlled Parliament legislation to turn South Africa into a republic, substituting an elected president for Queen Elizabeth II as chief of state and recognizing the British sovereign only as head of the commonwealth.

FAVORS INDIA STATUS
Verwoerd says he hopes to keep South Africa in the Commonwealth as a republic, as India, Pakistan and Ghana have remained.

But this will require the unanimous consent of the other 10 member governments, and Asian and African members have shown strong signs of wanting to expel South Africa in retaliation for the Nationalist government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

A recent outpouring of nearly 1.5 million votes apparently was cast from an all-white electorate of about 1.8 million. South Africa's 12 million nonwhites could only stand by and watch the plebiscite.

'Leg Will Extend Out Walton Past Clarkston

Completion of Section Seen in '62; Woodward to Be Relocated

Contracts for the first Oakland County link in the Detroit-Sault Ste. Marie limited access highway will be let Dec. 7, the State Highway Department said today.

Preliminary work could start immediately, a spokesman said.

The first leg to be put under construction in the county will stretch from Walton boulevard, northeast of Pontiac, in a northwesterly direction to the M15 north of Clarkston.

Completion date for this estimated $6 million section will be 1962, and possibly a year earlier with favorable weather conditions.

RELOCATION OF WOODWARD
The road through Oakland County is the relocation of U.S.-30 (Woodward Avenue). It will be four-lane divided highway with two 12-foot lanes in each direction and 20 feet of right-of-way on both sides.

The road was included in State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's five-year, $1.25 million road building program for the state as proposed in 1957. It includes work from then through the middle of 1962.

This section of the highway to be undertaken initially was chosen, Mackie said, because property right-of-way acquisition is easier in this less-populated area. The route from Walton south through the more-populated cities of South-Eastern Oakland County will be constructed last.

The 15-mile section from M15 northwest to the Oakland-Geneseo County line is scheduled to be let (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Testifies Before Senate Group

Judge Moore Urges Mentally Ill Children Be Cared for First

When it comes to the hospitalization of the mental ill, "children should come first," Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore testified in Pontiac today before a Senate committee studying the problem.

Moore also accused the Mental Health Commission and its director, Charles F. Wang, with not providing leadership toward taking senile patients out of Michigan's mental hospitals and placing them in custodial homes, thus making room for the emotionally disturbed children.

Thirdly, Judge Moore said he agreed with Wayne County Probate Judge James H. Lincoln that the state administration "is entirely inefficient" in not making plans for hundreds of such children awaiting care.

"We cannot expect the State Legislature to appropriate money until a sensible, working plan is first adopted," Moore said.

"This means that the Commission and the state administration which knows this difficulty, must spell out a plan to take care of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

News Flash

DETROIT (AP)—Growing reports of the possible firing of Detroit Tiger president Bill D. Witt circulated freely today, both here and in Pittsburgh where the club owners are gathered informally for the World Series.

Friday, Saturday and Monday—that's all the time that's left.

To spur registrations before the deadline of 8 p.m. Monday, Gov. Williams proclaimed this "Voter Registration Week," and asked all eligible citizens to sign up to vote.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the latest count totals 4,777 new registrations since the Aug. 2 primary.

Bucs' Bob Opposes Turley

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The brash star he used to be, in hopes of winning the second game of the series and going home to New York for the next three games all even.

Turley was the man who saved the Yankees' World Series hopes in 1958 when he won two of the last three games and saved the other as the Yankees came from behind to beat the Milwaukee Braves.

But Turley has only a 9-3 record this year and isn't firing the bullets of 1958.

SECOND TO LAW
Friend, with an 18-12 record, was the Pirates' second best pitcher this year behind Vern Law, who was the winning hurler in the 6-1 Pittsburgh victory Wednesday.

That win changed the betting odds on the series from 7-5 favoring the Yankees to 6-5 favoring the Pirates. Today's game was even money.

The weather forecast for the second game was "partly cloudy and mild" with possible late afternoon showers or thunderstorms.

"I've gotta go with Turley because I want (Whitey) Ford for the third game when we play in New York on Saturday," Stengel explained.

Manager Danny Murtagh, who led the Pirates to their first National League pennant in 33 years and ended a 35-year World Series drought for them with Wednesday's victory, did not agree with most of his players who figured that they have the Yankees on the run.

"They'll take a lot of beating," Murtagh predicted.

"If it hadn't been for that catch by Bill Virdon they might have beaten us yesterday."

Registered? You've Got Only 3 Days

After today, there are only three more days in which registration places will be open before the deadline for registering for the Nov. 8 election.

Fine Feathered Friend — or Foe

CLUE TO TRAGEDY?—Leonard Charvon of the Boston Airport authority holds one of many dead starlings that littered the runway from which a turboprop Electra took off late Tuesday, only to crash seconds later. Sixty-one persons were killed. The plane's wreckage is being lifted from the harbor today.

Study Wreckage of Electra

BOSTON (AP)—Two Navy floatplanes today began raising the forward section of the Eastern Airlines Electra that carried 61 persons to their deaths in a take-off plunge into the harbor Tuesday night.

Federal Aviation Administrator E. R. Quesada suggested Wednesday starlings sucked into the air intakes may have disabled one or more of the four turbine-propeller engines. More than a hundred dead birds were found on the runway.

Only 11 of the 72 aboard the plane, bound for Philadelphia, survived the crash. All were injured, six on the danger list at hospitals.

The pilot, captain and engineer died but two stewardesses escaped serious injury.

Fifty-seven bodies have been recovered, all identified but one, a young Negro woman. Four persons are missing.

Two divers, James Walton and Jim Cahill, said the main section of fuselage, in 35 feet of water, looked "as though it had been ripped open, with a can opener."

The cockpit section, pieces of fuselage and three engines were marked with logs in preparation for raising. The engines could help to determine whether birds caused a stall.

Birds have damaged planes but officials said there is no instance on record of their having caused a fatal accident.

Quesada said present evidence indicates no structural failure such as was blamed for two other Electra crashes.

The divers said they saw scores of small birds impaled on jagged fragments along the wings and around one engine.

Walton and Cahill said the water was so murky they could not tell if any bodies were inside. In the deluge—the scene of many national conventions—made up in stamping enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers.

There is no denying, however, that Nixon had scored a 10-strike in Pennsylvania, with its all-important 23 electoral votes.

On the 12-mile ride from the airport, where he landed in the late afternoon, the Republican presidential nominee was seen by more people than have turned out any time previously in the campaign.

Not all were supporters. There were many Kennedy-Johnson signs and many shouts for the opposition ticket.

But when his motorcade reached a square in the heart of the University of Pennsylvania area, surging students stopped it by main force.

While a cheer leader swung precariously from atop a traffic signal alternately flashing red and green, Nixon talked some of the language the students seemed to understand.

Huge Crowds Going Wild Over Both Kennedy, Nixon

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, obviously cheered by the crowds he has been drawing, turns today to a subject on which there has been precious little chatter in this country lately: Fidel-Castro and Cuba.

Kennedy was expected to spend most of the day working on the speech he will make at a fund-raising dinner tonight.

But members of his staff couldn't say whether he considers this a major address or whether he will offer his solution to one of the nation's most troubling problems.

So far Kennedy has been critical of the way the Republican administration has dealt with Cuba, but he hasn't spelled out what he will do if he is elected president.

"It looked like an exceptionally quiet day, by Kennedy standards."

OFF TO WASHINGTON
After tonight's speech he will fly to Washington to prepare for the second round of his television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday night.

But in the Kennedy camp the talk is almost exclusively devoted to the crowds the Democratic presidential nominee has been drawing, especially in Louisville Wednesday.

Rarely has the setting been poorer for enthusiasm.

As is his custom, he tried to work in far more than there was time for, and he arrived late and after dark. Furthermore, it had rained.

Yet as he drove down Louisville's Fourth Street, he drew as happy and hoarse a crowd as a rock 'n' roll king.

Two Meteor Showers Forecast for October; Planets to Be Bright

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The month of October promises a celestial circus for amateur astronomers, according to experts at the University of Michigan.

It will feature meteor showers on Oct. 9 and Oct. 20, and most of the planets in the solar system will appear bright in the sky during the month.

Hazel M. Losh, U. of M. astronomer, said the first meteor shower—the draconids—will be best seen in the early morning of Oct. 9 in the northern sky.

The second, the orionids, will continue for about eight days but the best viewing time is expected to be during sunrise hours on Oct. 20, in the eastern sky.

Mercury, always difficult to see, will be seen as an "evening star" in the southwest just after sunset on Oct. 15, a few degrees west of Venus, the brightest star in the sky.

Mars, Jupiter and Saturn will also be clearly visible during October, Prof. Losh reported.

Mars, reddish-appearing, will rise in the constellation Gemini, in the northeast about 9 p.m. each night near the end of the month.

Jupiter, showing bright in the southwest near the horizon, can be seen now and by the end of the month will be setting about three hours after the sun.

Saturn, not nearly as bright, will follow Jupiter by about an hour.

Laos King Approves Relations With Russ

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The neutralist government of Laos says King Savang Vatthana has approved establishing diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

They are scheduled to go into effect in a week or two on a nonresident ambassadorial level, Premier Souvanna Phouma said, with the Soviet ambassador to neighboring Cambodia serving as envoy to Laos as well.

One of the chief demands of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels for ending the six-year civil war is government recognition of the Soviet Union, Red China and North Viet Nam.

Souvanna Phouma said on Tuesday, however, that it would be "premature" to establish diplomatic relations with the Peking and North Vietnamese regimes at this time.

Champ's Mother on Hunger Strike for Chess Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother of young Bobby Fisher, three-time United States chess champion, went on a hunger strike to persuade the American Chess Foundation to finance a U. S. team in the 1960 Chess Olympics.

The games begin in Leipzig, East Germany, Oct. 14.

Regina Fisher, mother of Bobby, 17, said "time is running out for the U. S. if it is going to send a team."

She said her hunger strike will dramatize the need for U. S. participation. She has long picketed the foundation at 172 Broadway in an attempt to have it provide about $5,000 for the team's expenses.

Son Bobby currently is playing in a tournament in Iceland.

Thirteen presidents of the United States were elected to office with less than 50 per cent of the popular vote.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

TINA M. BAUER

Tina M. Bauer, three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Bauer of 76 Grandview Blvd., died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital.

Deaths Elsewhere

PARIS (AP)—Alfred Lewis Kroeber, 84, professor emeritus of anthropology at the University of California, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack. Kroeber and his wife were en route home from Vienna.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Dr. John Tipton Lonsdale, 64, director of the University of Texas board of economic geology for 15 years, died Wednesday.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Barnett Hart, 96, father of playwright Moss Hart, died Wednesday.

First City Manager of Holland Dies at 58

HOLLAND (AP)—Harold McClintock, 58, who served three years starting in 1931 as Holland's first city manager, died Wednesday at Webster Groves, Mo., where he had been city manager since 1954. McClintock had come to Holland from Boulder, Colo.

Surviving besides the parents are a sister and a brother, Debbie and George, both at home; and grandparents, Mrs. Edith Polson of Keego Harbor, Melvin Glover of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bauer of Pontiac.

Prayers will be offered at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

WILLIAM DURING

Service for William During, 71, of 86 Murphy St., will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Mr. During died Tuesday of a heart ailment at Veterans Hospital in Dearborn. He had been ill several months.

MRS. LUTHER SPURLOCK
Mrs. Luther (Artie L.) Spurlock, whose three sons live in the Pontiac area, died yesterday morning at a hospital in Pocahontas, Ark. after an illness of two years. She was 69.

A member of the Church of Christ at Ravenden, Ark. where she made her home, Mrs. Spurlock leaves sons, Dewey of Drapton Plains, Kenneth and Kermit, both of Pontiac; nine grandchildren; and two brothers.

Service will be held Friday at the Higginbotham Funeral Home in Hardy, Ark. with burial in the cemetery at Ravenden.

MRS. FRED CRANE

MILFORD — Service for Mrs. Fred (Nellie) Crane, 82, of 447 N. Main St., will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, Pontiac.

Burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Galtwood.

Mrs. Crane died Tuesday after a long illness. Surviving besides her son Verne A. Barrett of Kennebec, Tex. are three grandchildren.

Science Nears Block of Kidney Stones

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A urologist said Wednesday that medical science is on the verge of discovering a way to prevent kidney stones, a form of kidney trouble which can produce agonizing pain.

Dr. William H. Boyce of Winston-Salem, N. C., said kidney stones are made up primarily of calcium crystals, a normal ingredient of urine.

He said the stones form when these calcium crystals stick together on a large molecule made out of protein and carbohydrate.

Researchers are on the verge of developing a drug which will keep the molecule from joining up with the calcium bits, Dr. Boyce said.

Famous Sub Falls Victim to an Unglorious End

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — A famous submarine came up the Merrimack River Wednesday for an unglorious end. Winner of 11 battle stars and 4 presidential citations in World War II, she was USS Haddock before she was sold as surplus to Jacob Checkoway, Salem junk dealer for $62,222. He must scrap her within a year or forfeit $75 a day thereafter.

Red China, Rebels Rap NATO on Algerian Stand

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China and the rebel government of Algeria today said they "sternly condemn the governments of the NATO countries, principally that of the United States," for supporting France in Algeria. The joint communique, signed by visiting rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas and Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, was issued in Peiping.

Commerce Secretary Says U.S. in Fine Shape

MIAMI (UPI) — "Frederick W. Mueller, U. S. Secretary of Commerce, said Wednesday that the nation's economy "was never in a better position" and no recession was in sight. "I won't say that some areas are not having their difficulties," he said, "but the best indicators I know — personal income and retail sales — are both up. I'm in every bullish about the future."

Earliest Man Found in Africa

Skull in Tanganyika Is 600,000 Years Old; Rested With Fossils

WASHINGTON — A remote, sun-baked gorge in East Africa has yielded a 600,000-year-old skull, the remains of the earliest man ever found.

The discovery climaxed a search of nearly three decades by Dr. L. S. B. Leakey, the noted British archeologist and curator of the Coryndon Museum in Nairobi, Kenya.

Dr. Leakey's work in the Olduvai Gorge of Tanganyika is sponsored by the National Geographic Society of Washington.

The world's earliest known human, who has been named Zinjanthropus, or "East Africa Man," was a youth of about 13. In the context of time he was a thousand centuries older than two other famous primitives — Peking Man and Java Man.

East Africa Man's remains lay buried in a unique fossil museum where Dr. Leakey and his wife Mary have uncovered many ancient tools and the bones of more than a hundred extinct animals, some of them nightmarish in size and makeup. The skull came to light as two immense teeth shining from stone.

"We soon discovered that the pearly complete skull — minus only the lower jaw — was imbedded in soft rock, although expansion and contraction of the rock had cracked the fossil into more than 400 fragments," Dr. Leakey announced in the September National Geographic.

The Leakeys learned much about the life of the primitive toolmakers. But fossil evidence evaded them until July 17, 1959, when Mrs. Leakey spied the two teeth as Dr. Leakey lay ill in camp.

She sped back to fetch him in their Land-Rover, shouting, "I've got him! I've got him! I've got him!"

There was no riddle in dating the discovery at about 600,000 years, Dr. Leakey says. Archeologists know the era of giant fossils found near by: a prehistoric pig as big as a rhinoceros; a sheep that towered six feet at the shoulder; a fantastically huge baboon; and a bird possibly larger than the extinct, 12-foot-high moa of New Zealand.

East Coast Jaunt in Store for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will campaign up and down the East Coast from Miami, Fla., to Connecticut during the week starting Oct. 17.

The 4,000-mile tour includes a television appearance in New York City and an address before the American Legion convention in Miami.

The campaign swing begins in New Haven, Conn., one other Connecticut city and Buffalo, N.Y., on Oct. 17.

Nixon then will fly South and appear in Jacksonville, Miami, Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Prince Andrew Helps Prevent Battles Royal

LONDON (UPI)—Royalty quarrels next month. At the time of their marriage of the century in Westminster Abbey, there were rumors that the union was one of arrangement and not of love. "Time has given them the lie," said the friend. "The queen certainly chose exactly the kind of man everyone wanted her to marry—but she was in love with him as well. It is and has been a successful marriage."

"What a difference that bony infant has made around the house," the friend said. "I know Her Majesty is hoping for a fourth child soon so Andrew will have a companion near his own age." The other royal children are considerably older: Prince Charles, 11, and Princess Anne, 10.

The first-hand report of going on in Buckingham Palace was made in connection with the royal couple's 13th wedding anniversary.

place last May 6 on the morning had dissolved and the queen was overheard joking to her husband: "He said this squabble apparently accounted for the queen's somber expression in Westminster Abbey. By the time the party returned to Buckingham Palace the tension castle."

But U.S. Manages to Stop Resolution

Long-Night Fight at U.N. Left Bruises

By LEWIS GULICK
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States finally won. Disarmed U.S. diplomats today early this morning through a long and bitter fight in the U.N. General Assembly, pushed to a vote for an Assembly resolution urging a meeting between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

But the long night contest was nip and tuck, compared with the U.S. majority in other days, and it made hoping mad such neutralist chiefs as India's Prime Minister Nehru whose support the United States wants on its side in the expanding world organization.

The nine-vote Communist bloc could have swung the margin to the neutrals, but Khrushchev doesn't want to meet Eisenhower either. So instead the Reds abstained, while Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko watched in noticeable pleasure as the United States fought the neutrals.

Western officials, who had maneuvered vigorously all week to avoid Eisenhower's being put in the embarrassing position of saying "no" to a U.N. mandate, were surprised and displeased with the results of the showdown. Even among the 20 Latin-American neighbors the support was less than solid. Only 13 voted with the United States.

U.S. strategists hoped to repair the damage by sleeping up back stage efforts to win the neutrals and persuade them U.S. policy is not against theirs.

One initial move supporting this was Eisenhower's White House date today with Indonesian President Sukarno. Other contacts were planned by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other top U.S. delegates at the U.N.

The Americans had to do some calming of their own tempers before they could get on with the job.

U.S. officials were put out by the failure of the neutral leaders who had seen Eisenhower, including Nehru, to inform the United States about their resolution before they issued it.

Ex-Dem Farm Leaders Deny Nixon's Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Democratic secretaries Clinton P. Anderson and Claude Wickard deny Vice President Richard M. Nixon's charge that Sen. John F. Kennedy's farm program would boost food prices 25 per cent and hike the cost of living 6 per cent.

Anderson, a senator from New Mexico, said he was "shocked" by the GOP presidential nominee's "extreme" claims. He suggested Nixon get some new farm advisers. Wickard, head of the Democratic candidate's campaign farm group, called the Nixon charge "one of the cheapest, political tricks I have ever heard" and an "outrageous attempt to scare consumers."

From an engineering standpoint, air is more important than gasoline as a motor fuel because it is more difficult to get into cylinder chambers.

3 Coast Houses, All at Sea, Are Rescued by Boat

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard, which has rescued just about everything, has saved three houses from sinking in San Francisco Bay.

The houses had been removed for a freeway and were being taken by barge to the San Joaquin River city of Stockton, Calif. The unmanned barge broke loose from its mooring here Wednesday.

After the drifting barge was spotted, a Coast Guard cutter and helicopter slowly maneuvered it to a dock.

"If the owners want their houses, they can come and get them," commented a Coast Guardsman.

Peat Bogs May Prove Bonanza

Muskegs Are Costly but Modern Machines Can Beat 'Em

WASHINGTON — Muskegs, the treacherous peat bogs of North America, may some day prove a bonanza, instead of a bane.

Through sphagnum moss has long delighted gardeners, muskegs are detested as black, fly-breeding oozes of water and decomposing vegetation that seem to spread like cancers across great areas of Canada and the northern United States, the National Geographic Society says.

Muskegs are the despair of road builders. The bogs swallow thousands of tons of gravel, then yawn for more.

Speaking from bitter experience, an engineer declared that "the problems of road building through muskeg are numerous, the worries are endless, and the cost is astounding."

An aluminum company spent $2,000,000 blasting a channel through solid rock rather than fight a muskeg.

Muskegs may have done more than anything else to hinder the development of Northern Canada. Staying on top of a muskeg requires a favorable ratio of weight to surface area. A rabbit has little difficulty, for instance, but a man does.

Hopes are rising that modern techniques and machinery can defeat the bogs. British Columbia's Highway Department is testing new ways to build roads across muskeg, and all companies are experimenting with the Musk Ox, a new vehicle designed to carry drilling equipment over the muck.

The truck's 10-foot-wide tracks spread its 35 tons of weight out to about 2 pounds per square inch.

Though presently cursed as a nuisance, muskegs may prove a treasure of energy and raw material in years to come. Europeans have used peat as a fuel for centuries. North Americans have used it only sparingly, due to the abundance of coal, a more concentrated fuel.

New ways of processing peat might make it more economical, however, and lead to the exploitation of other potentialities. Peat can be used to make paper, though it is less economical than wood pulp.

Newfoundland has drained peatlands, ripped them open with swamp plows, and settled farmers on the reclaimed land. Muskeg soils can grow excellent crops when treated with lime and other agents.

Peat bogs also offers areas for agricultural expansion.

BIG BROTHER—Playing the role of a doting uncle or a big brother is Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. He hugs Sasha Seeshoff, 8, and then leads the son of a Russian delegation employee off for a walk. The incident took place as Nikita greeted 10 Russian delegation children as they returned from school Wednesday.

Reorganize State, Paper Boss Urges

DETROIT (AP)—A call for a change in Michigan's fiscal philosophy and executive organization was sounded Wednesday night by Dwight L. Stocker, president of KVP Sutherland Paper Co. of Kalamazoo.

Stocker told the 45th annual meeting of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan that "from 1948 to 1959, state government spent for all purposes over $150 million more than it received from all resources. We have not cut our expenditure cloth to fit our revenue pattern."

He added: "I must confess the idea that public money can be spent more constructively than private funds is one for which I have never found any conclusive or material evidence."

Of the state's executive organization, Stocker said "the question here, I believe, is whether our state government, as it is presently organized, can today best carry out the services and functions we expect of it. The best answer I can get from the governor on down is an unqualified 'no.'"

The CRC, meeting in suburban Bloomfield Hills, re-elected W. W. Whitehouse of Albion chairman of the board of trustees. H. R. Wickes of Saginaw was named vice chairman.

Red Chinese Protest U.S. Vessels in Baltic.

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China today protested the dispatch of a U. S. Navy cruiser and a nuclear-powered American submarine to the Baltic Sea.

The New China News Agency charged that the United States planned to set up a Baltic fleet similar to the U. S. 7th Fleet off the China mainland. The Baltic borders the Soviet Union and other Communist nations as well as Western countries.

The agency referred to reports was in the Baltic area and the submarine Triton visited West Germany.

Trouble Looms for the Anglers

Pretty Soon There'll Be No Safe Place for Fish in Lakes, Rivers

ANN ARBOR (AP)—America's ever-rising standard of living bodes trouble for the popular sport of fishing, according to a University of Michigan expert.

Just how much trouble depends on your point of view, says Kurt P. Sigafoos, chairman of the U. of M. department of fisheries.

If you're a fish, you may be dismayed to learn that increasing leisure time under the 40-hour week has spurred a greater interest and participation in fishing as a sport.

One in five Americans are fishermen—and the number is growing at twice the rate of the population, Lager says. In addition, the amount of natural water suited for the production of sport fish is shrinking as rapidly as the human consumer demand increases.

If you're a fisherman, consider that fish are suffering from the pollution of streams by sewage and industrial wastes under the expanding development of cities and industry.

Irrigation, dams for electric power and the opening of waterways to navigation are depriving fishermen of some good locations for the sport.

In addition, the increasing popularity of power boating as a sport has created a new conflict with fishing.

Five years ago, only a handful of Americans went water skiing. Last year, Lager said, there were six million water skiers on America's lakes and rivers.

When the U. S. military academy at West Point was opened July 1, 1802, there were 19 cadets enrolled. West Point has been a federal military post since January 20, 1778.

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its body by Fisher.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room for people and things as ordinary wagons (shown with optional extra-cost third seat in position).

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon... quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner... a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have nearly 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other U.S. wagon going!

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Dems Disagree Over Con-Con

Williams Gives Boost to Lesinski in State's No. 2 Spot

By United Press International
One of the top two men on the Democratic state ticket got a boost from Gov. G. Mennen Williams Wednesday.

The other—governor candidate John B. Swainson—saw Williams release the text of a radio tape made for the League of Women Voters which strongly backed constitutional convention, which is an action Swainson has adamantly opposed.

Williams called lieutenant-governor candidate T. John Lesinski a "worthy successor" to Swainson, currently in the state's No. 2 spot.

Williams said the current 1960 Constitution "contains a patchwork of provisions... as trumpy and bulging as the old style of the bottle."

He said Swainson agrees with Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul D. Bagwell that the Constitution should be revised but the Democratic candidate "believes that such reforms as are necessary should be accomplished by specific amendments while others, including myself, feel that the more effective way to proceed is through a constitutional convention."

The six-term Democratic governor lauded Lesinski for his stands on Medicare for the aged, "equitable, adequate and permanent" solutions to Michigan cash problems, and other programs.

He's Rough, Tough... Shy, Too

Johnson Loves to Ham It Up

By PHYLIS BAYTELLE

En route with Johnson
Sen. Lyndon Johnson is rugged, fun, occasionally courtly, tough, a ham and a good egg. He is also more than a little shy.

You want me to prove these points with examples? Nonsense. If a woman isn't intuitive enough to observe these facts about this particular man she doesn't merit being called a female. Or a bird lady as a newsman in Johnson's entourage should of course be dubbed.

The vice-presidential nominee has a face as transparent as it is fat.

When he jabs at his opposition—a smashing ab'il-give-em-hell jab—he appears perfectly at ease. That means he is accustomed to fighting for what he wants; since, as he says, he "swept my way through college after midnight" the senator has been strong competitor.

When he perks up his attack, leavens it with humor, he is fun and he is a ham. The audience laughs and he scintillates with an inner glow; it is as if he had written the gags.

He throws out the comedy with the straightest of faces and with a sense of timing that would win plaudits from Jack Benny. But when the audience breaks up with laughter the big Texan likewise breaks up with a gratified grin.

And when Johnson grins it is as though his mouth were a parathetical expression held in on either side by deep semicircular crevices.

An occasional unresponsive crowd causes the Texan to lower his voice, his eyes, his guard, but only temporarily.

Suddenly he seems to get a second wind psychologically and he lifts his hands, jolks a finger and smashes home a point. A cold crowd freezes Johnson momentarily and makes him look uncertain—just before he lights the fire.

On a plane hop between cities he takes off his fancy shirt and puts on checked silk.

He also drops—with a flourish—the political mask in all its peculiar and somber forms. He talks to newsmen and women, asks what they thought of certain harts-tugs in his speeches and certain hammerblows.

He talks frankly and amiably and in two-tisted language. He has a ball. It is an unwritten rule that the conversations on Johnson's press plane are "off the record." What a misfortune for a troubled world that could use a pick-up! Watching the senator converse with an odd assortment of political friends, but actual strangers, reveals his streak of shyness. He is modest, slightly worried, oddly humble, or so it appears from a seat below the dias.

Then he stands up to lambast the Republican Party and he is abruptly invigorated and invigorating. But even then he is two persons even if you close your eyes and just listen to the voice.

When he is reading a serious passage from a text, Johnson enunciates perfectly, speaks precisely. When he frequently, thank goodness, throws down the text and makes impassioned pleas for his party or tells amusing anecdotes he draws for all his heritage is worth, he drops his Gs, murders his grammar, relishes his "aunts" and "gonnas" and cherishes his "fellas" and "hogwashes." I must admit I enjoy watching Lyndon Johnson in whichever personality he adopts at the moment and although I approve of his well-lured politico more, I don't gonna turn my back on none of his funny stuff neither.

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/4 inches lower.

Warranty Extension Shows Confidence of Car Makers

By BEN FLEIGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—So what's new? The man asked of a friend who had seen all of the 1961 model cars.

It was a good question, especially since a year never goes by without every manufacturer loudly proclaiming that his particular buggy is 100 per cent "all new."

For the coming year, however, the most important development for the consumer appears to be not so much any specific innovation but a new willingness of the car makers to back up their confident claims of improved quality.

Every 1961 model American built car carries a manufacturer's warranty for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

This represents the first time in years that the car makers have told the buyers in writing that the major parts of their new cars will last longer than 90 days or 4,000 miles.

With rare exceptions, these parts have been lasting much longer than three months right along. But for some obscure reason the manufacturers have been unwilling to assure the customer of this fact.

It took one company to make the break and the rest rushed in.

Ford was the first. It announced the new, extended warranty for all Ford products at the same time it showed its new model to its dealers and the press.

FALL IN LINE

Then came American Motors. George Romney has long preached quality and in past years has told his dealers the company would stand behind the major parts of the Rambler for a period of 12,000 miles. But not every Rambler dealer passed this along to the buyer. Starting now it is being passed along.

General Motors hurriedly said "Us, too," and the rush was on. Chrysler came next and Studebaker-Packard completed the field.

The manufacturers are confident the new warranty policy won't cost them very much. For a long time they have been sure the major parts of a car would last considerably longer than one year.

In fact, most manufacturers could tell you quite precisely the lifetime expectancy of almost any part on your car. The parts are specifically engineered to last a certain period of time.

The question a manufacturer

TOLEDO (UPI)—In the event of an ICBM attack, the Army's Nike-Zeus antimissile system, now in development, could protect a large part of the nation's industry and the lives of millions.

Maj. Gen. J. S. Bigelow, deputy chief of Army Ordnance, said last night.

Addressing the Toledo Ordnance

Association, Gen. Bigelow added, "If the Nike III was deployed, no enemy could undertake a surprise attack on the United States because he would not be sure his weapons could destroy enough of our military industrial might to stamp out the fire resisting him."

Gen. Bigelow said Zeus technical developments to date have been "like putting a penny in a slot machine and getting a million dollars back."

Last week the Army committed $100 million for continued research in the Zeus program.

Gallant Kennedy Decides in Favor of His Jacqueline

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy ducked one issue here Wednesday night—that of whether girls were prettier in Massachusetts or Kentucky.

A gentleman from Eastern Kentucky's hills asked Kennedy to give his opinion following the Democratic presidential nominee's estate in Manhattan.

speech at a $50-a-plate fund-raising banquet here.

Kennedy appeared startled, then said, "I guess I'll take a leaf from the book on the life of the vice president." He refused to answer.

Then Kennedy added diplomatically that his wife was from New York and he guessed New York girls were the prettiest.

Oliver and Quinn Score in 'Becket'

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — There's only one thing to do about this play "Becket," See it.

Starring Laurence Olivier and Anthony Quinn, the production which arrived Wednesday night at the St. James Theater contributes impressive grandeur to the Broadway season.

Through an amazing 17 curtain calls, spectators cheered its jolting impact.

From a scarlet page of history, French playwright Jean Anouilh (in translation by Lucienne Hill) takes a narrative of power politics and human conflict.

Becket, played by Sir Laurence, is the frivolous man who in mid-life was thrust into religious authority and has since been remembered as the martyr Saint Thomas of Canterbury.

Duelling with him in dramatic tug-of-war is the English King Henry II of Anthony Quinn. Quinn's black-browed, complex portrayal is a superb counterpart to the silvery-smooth Olivier interpretation.

Atomic Power Moves Forward in Norway

HALDEN, Norway (AP)—The only boiling heavy water reactor in the world produced steam for the first time Wednesday. Scientists hailed this as a step forward in research for the practical exploitation of atomic power.

The reactor registered a heat effect of 2,000 kilowatts, a spokesman for the Halden reactor said. The Halden reactor is part of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation program for peaceful development of the atom, initiated in 1958.

The death rate for human beings is lowest at age 10.

Guard Gets an Answer From the Horse's Mouth

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A young police officer detailed to guard the hotel suite occupied by visiting King Frederick of Denmark and Queen Ingrid had a memorable meeting with the king Wednesday.

When a man opened the door of the royal suite, the policeman asked: "Sir, could you help me with some information? I want to know what the king looks like."

"Young man, I am the king."

RAMP—Roll out the heavy loads—nothing to it in this one!

LOOK CHEVY 95's CORVAIR 95's!!

WING-DING OF A TRUCK IDEAL! A TOTALLY NEW KIND OF TRUCK THAT'LL PRACTICALLY PAY FOR ITSELF IN SAVINGS!

CORVAN—Side doors open a full 45" wide. Loading height is a low 14" (H)

Meet the latest thing in moving loads! Three rear-engine Corvair 95's (two pickups and a panel) now join Chevy's '61 fleet—each one designed to give you more cubic feet of load space than a conventional half-tonner... up to 1,900 pounds of payload on a nimble 95-inch wheelbase!

Nothing that carries a load for a living comes close to offering this kind of efficiency! Here's a truck that's nearly 2 feet shorter than a conventional half-tonner—yet holds more payload! (Corvan, for example, has 191 cu. ft. of cargo space!) It's a truck with load space so accessible it practically loads and unloads itself... offers exceptional driver comfort, handling ease and visibility. (No hood between the driver and the road!) It's a truck with longer life built into its one-piece body-frame design... with better stability because of its independent 4-wheel suspension and near constant weight distribution, loaded or unloaded. You get whopping high capacity, light-touch maneuverability, plus the inherent economy of a gas-saving air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repairs. Your Chevrolet dealer will tell you more.
