President's Heart Attack Leads All by Wide Margin

By PAUL R. MICKELSON
AP General News Editor

President Eisenhower's heart attack was the landslide choice of editors as the biggest news story of 1955.

Never has there been such unanimity of opinion on the year's top story in the 23 years the nation's top newsmen have been voting in the annual Associated Press poll. At year's end reports and speculation of the President's condition still was the biggest news, leaving to be answered the single question that is sure to produce the momentous story of 1956:

Can and will Ike run for and win re-election? The ten best stories of the year as rated by Associated Press editors were:

1. The President's heart attack.
2. Polio immunization tests and disputes about vaccine.
3. The Weather: Hurricanes, floods, tornadoes and drought.
4. Big Four talks in Geneva.
5. Princess Margaret of Britain gives up romance with Capt. Peter Townsend.
6. Argentine revolts, Peron ouster.
7. Malenkov resignation and Soviet shakeup.
8. Gilbert Graham accused of killing mother and 43 others with bomb in airliner.
9. Desegregation developments.
10. Americans freed by Red China.

Bruin Offense, Knox Pose Questions for Rose Battle

By GEORGE TRUMBULL
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES—Two big questions still remain unanswered here today as the Pacific Coast champion UCLA Bruins and the invaders from Michigan State begin their tapering-off drills in preparation for the Rose Bowl classic Monday.

Foremost question is whether the Bruins can muster enough offensive strength to overcome the highly talented Spartans' passing and running game which brought them to this Jan. 2 football spectacle.

Whether Bruin coach Red Sanders' eleven can do this seems to hinge heavily upon one Ronnie Knox.

Will he get into the game? Is he the 2nd big question.

At a Rose Bowl kickoff luncheon yesterday Sanders said Knox "might play but would not be at peak efficiency."

At the same luncheon, in a poll of 17 sports writers from all parts of the country, two favored MSU to post their 2nd Rose Bowl win in three years while eight believed the Bruins would register the 2nd win for the PCC.

Southern California did the trick in 1953 when Trojans shut out Wisconsin, 7-0. There is a strong feeling out here, mostly on the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

GM Car, Truck Output for '55 Hits 4,649,799

DETROIT — General Motors reported today that it produced a record 4,649,799 cars and trucks in the U. S. and Canada in 1955. GM president Harlow H. Curtice said output of each of the firm's passenger car divisions was at new peaks.

GM's previous high production year was 1950 when 3,818,033 passenger cars and trucks were turned out.

Significantly, GM's U. S. passenger car and truck output reached a new high in December (371,019), topping the record set in December 1954 (366,477).

The auto industry as a whole fell short of its production goal of 8 million units, largely because of holiday cutbacks. Ward's Automotive Reports said.

The trade journal predicted that total output would reach 7,940,863 by year's end, making 1955 the best year in automotive history.

Local traffic accident figures for the holiday weekend are reflecting low national totals this morning, as traffic deaths are now about 50 per cent below the heavy toll in the first part of the long Christmas holiday.

Since the national count started at 6 p.m. yesterday, first reports show 20 dead in the U. S. Last week at this time the toll was 43. There have been no local traffic deaths as yet this week.

Nationally, the first count showed three deaths in Ohio; two each in California, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan and Washington; and one each in Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey and South Dakota.

Since 6 p.m. yesterday, five persons have been injured in two Pontiac accidents, with another property damage accident also reported. Last week at this time 13 accidents had been reported, with no injuries.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies have reported only three accidents since the count began, with two injuries. Last week the total was 15 accidents for the same period.

The National Safety Council has estimated that by midnight Monday, the end of this long holiday weekend, 420 persons will have been killed in motor vehicle accidents. The previous record, set in 1953, is 407.

Paper Shortage Tightens

Press Observes a Holiday

There will be no Pontiac Press Monday. This is our one hundred and fourteenth year of existence and we don't believe we've missed a New Year's edition since we became a daily. But 1956 is different.

Print paper is dangerously short. All the other newspapers in the United States are reduced to extremities, also. Some are worse off than we are.

Some have been forced into rationing advertising. Some are skipping Saturday editions. Some are omitting classified, save in home editions.

The Press will resume Tuesday and we hope to continue as nearly normal as possible.

In the meantime, Happy New Year to you all and thanks for exercising a little patience and forbearance with us over Monday's omission.

Prosperity Boom Seen in State '55 Economy Report

Motors, Utilities, Banks, Building, Employment Enjoyed Record Gains

LANSING (AP)—The State Economic Development Commission said almost every aspect of Michigan economy reached or approached a new high in 1955.

These were the markers of prosperity cited by the agency:

For each of the first 11 months of 1955 commercial and industrial construction hit new highs, totaling $498,785,000—or 20 per cent above last year.

Residential construction rose seven per cent, despite a national decrease, to $1,216,159,000.

Non-agricultural employment rose 8,000 jobs above the June, 1953, record to 2,616,000, leaving only 2.4 per cent of the state's work force idle.

Twenty-four manufacturing companies moved to or established branches in Michigan, while only eight plants were being moved out of the state. A total of 125 companies announced important expansions.

BANK DEBITS RISE

Electric power consumption, reversing declines in 1953 and 1954, hit a record of nearly 700 million kilowatt hours consumed in August.

Michigan bank debt debits rose so that Detroit led the nation in percentage increase, 23.5 per cent in 11 months. Detroit, the nation's sixth banking center in 1946, now ranks below only New York and Chicago.

The auto industry produced 9,200,000 cars and trucks, a record and 40 per cent over 1954.

Consumers Power Co., serving the largest portion of the Lower Peninsula outside of Detroit, started a 75 million dollar expansion program and announced plans to lay a cable to carry power to the Upper Peninsula. Detroit Edison Co., the main power source of the Detroit area, began an 85 million dollar expansion program.

General Motors announced a $500 million dollar expansion at Plymouth, Michigan, and Chrysler Corp. planned a multi-million dollar expansion at Plymouth, Highland Park and Detroit.

"I'm a temperate gorilla myself," said Maximo, "and one of the best chest beaters in the business." Trainer Tom Brun stated that Jim-Jim performs eating towels to turkey any day. But Jim-Jim said, "Max and I join in wishing everyone a happy New Year and hope to see you out here in 1956."

Pontiac Builds 581,853 Cars in Biggest Year

Employment, Production Figures Set New Marks for Area in 1955

By JAMES BINDER
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

Pontiac area residents earned higher wages, helped produce more goods and probably spent more money in 1955 than during any other year in local history, year-end figures indicated this week.

Industrial prosperity was reflected in a $32 million increase in total wages paid to employees of 11 area factories and utility companies, while business reported a 5 to 10 per cent rise in retail sales.

Employment in the area also reached a peak during the year, although the average monthly industrial labor force of 27,233 was only slightly higher than in 1954.

The most spectacular production achievement was made by the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors where the 1955 output of new cars was 56.9 per cent higher than 1954's record.

Production of its 581,853rd car Friday gave Pontiac the best year in its history and bettered the top previous mark (set in 1950) by 23.8 per cent.

Payrolls totaled $200,290,133.81 among the 11 firms which make up the Pontiac Manufacturers' Assn., Manager James F. Spence said, yesterday, compared with $166 million in 1954.

The average monthly total, Spence said, was $16,600,344.48 in 1955, a substantial increase over 1954's monthly average of $13,546,000.

Spence attributes the overall gain to stepped-up production schedules and wage increases among hourly and salaried employees.

Firms which belong to the association include the American Forging & Socket Co., Baldwin Rubber Co., Consumers Power Co., Dostal Foundry & Machine Co., Fisher Body Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division, Jig Bushing Co., Nelson Manufacturing Corp., Pontiac Motor Division, Pontiac Varnish Co. and Universal Oil-Seal Co.

The boom resulted in a sharp decrease in the number of unemployed and a rise in the total placed in jobs, according to James Dudley, manager of the local Employment Security Commission office.

Dudley revealed yesterday that only $1,547,338 was paid out in unemployment claims compared with $3,342,563 in 1954. A total of 5,573 were placed in jobs, 2,267 more than in the previous year.

Employment in motor vehicle manufacturing, the area's dominant industry, currently stands at 34,400. Total employment, exclusive of farm work, is presently 82,400 for the area, a figure higher by 600 than the previous peak.

The unemployed presently number about 2.9 per cent of the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

'55's Biggest Lie: 100 Lbs. of Flour Hangs on 2 Nails

BURLINGTON, Wis. (U)—Bagging the Burlington Liars' Club top award for 1955 was a breeze for a Westerner and his story of a Big Montana blow and a sack of flour. Judges of the world-famous phony tale club, long accustomed to big winds, gave the nod, and temporary possession of a "diamond-studded, gold-plated medal" to Claude T. Yerkes, of Box 122, Kallispell, Mont.

O. C. Hulett, the organization's founder and president, says Yerkes told about a sheep herder who lived in a small trailer house, and had his provisions brought out by the owner of the sheep.

"On this particular occasion," Yerkes said, "the provisions included a 100-pound sack of flour for which there was no room in the trailer, so the herder drove a couple of stout nails in the wall and hung the sack of flour on them, just outside the trailer door. During the night one of Montana's justly-famous winds swooped down on him. Next morning the sheep herder stepped out of his trailer to find that the wind had blown away the sack and left the flour hanging on the nails."

Here's Solid Rules for Zany Drivers

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Here's some revved-up resolutions for drink-it-yourself motorists whose tool kit is a corkscrew and a cocktail shaker.

I will not drive like every green and red light was in a drugstore window.

I will permit any car to pass me even if it's going in the opposite direction.

I will not take that extra drink for the road. I may meet the driver who has taken that extra drink for the cross-road.

The next time I celebrate I will leave my front wheels in the parking lot and call up a good reliable derrick.

I will not drink by the side of the road unless I get an all-night license for my glove compartment.

I will not weave in and out of traffic like I was stitching an extra star on the flag. Neither will I go shopping for lanes.

I will not tip my paper hat to iron policemen at crossings, especially after I find those people who are waving at me are my windshield wipers.

When the motorcycle cop asks for my papers I will not hand him my party hat, dinner menu and a yard of confetti.

And last, but not loose, I will never take another drink in 1955.

New Year Weather Will Be Dry, Crisp

It looks like a dry New Year—meaning the weather.

And lack of icy streets may be a boon to New Year's Eve traffic. It was hoped after the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted only scattered snow flurries tonight and tomorrow.

The low tonight will range from 15 to 20 degrees. Tomorrow's high will be from 20 to 25 degrees. The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 20 degrees. The thermometer in downtown Pontiac registered 27 at 1 p.m.

Safety Belt Wins Out

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—A local man who installed a safety belt in his wife's car reports that when she stopped for a red light a young man yanked the door open and tried to drag her out but the safety belt kept her securely strapped in the car. The young man was left in a cloud of exhaust fumes when the light changed.

At $30 Per Person

New York Night Clubs Set for Tonight's Revelry

NEW YORK (U)—New Yorkers by the millions are going to live it up at an accelerated pace tonight.

Most of the big clubs in town are sold out or will be before the first glass is raised this evening.

Prices are about the same as last year with a top of $30 per person at the Embassy Club and the Knight Box, both in the Ambassador Hotel on Park Avenue.

Reservations generally are running ahead of last year. Some of the little fellows may be hurt, however. State law sets a 3 a.m. closing time on Sunday morning, regardless of whether or not it's New Year's.

Last year, spots could stay open around the clock, if they obtained a special all-night license. No such privilege is available this year.

The city's three big night clubs, the Chateau Madrid, the Copacabana and the Latin Quarter are sold out. Requests for reservations at $25 a head ran ahead of last year when prices were the same.

The Versailles, a theater-type supper club on East 50th Street, sold out in midweek at a top of $35 a person, a $2.50 boost over 1954.

A spokesman there said the 3 a.m. closing won't affect the big boys, since the reservations cushion any minor drop in bar business as the result of the early closing. The Stork Club on East 52nd Street is booked solid with no increase in its regular price scale. It expects to equal or top last year's take.

Rag" in Dixieland jazz style, a Paul Whiteman type of selection, one in Benny Goodman style, a sweet and mellow arrangement and a finale in the West Coast jazz style.

The "Fight Song" and the traditional "MSU Shadows" will end the halftime performance.

The band also has its Rose Bowl returnees, as 32 of the players made the first trip two years ago. On the return trip to Michigan, the band will play in Dallas, Tex., Tucson, Ariz., and St. Louis, Mo., arriving back on the campus Jan. 7 in time for second quarter registration.

MSU Tournament of Roses Float 6th in Parade

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—Michigan's float in the Tournament of Roses parade prior to the football game will be the sixth in the 60 float parade Monday.

The parade will start at 12:10 p.m. Michigan time and the MSU float, preceded by the Michigan State marching band, will pass in front of the reviewing stand and the cameras between 12:30 and 12:45. The TV program will also be in color.

Sole rider on the float will be Rhosan Dobben, 21, of Jackson, selected as an outstanding scholar and student leader.

MSU will observe its century of educational service as the theme of the float.

It originally was planned for the state to enter another float in the parade but the Legislature turned down a request for the appropriation.

FLOATS MADE IT
The MSU entry was constructed by Floats, Inc., of Los Angeles.

Clear, Dry and Chilly

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—The weatherman here says it's going to be clear, dry and chilly for New Year's weekend.

Rhosan will be enthroned on the float in front of a large Michigan State medalion in gold, which will be flanked by two Grecian columns wrapped in ivy and mounted with a floral display of roses, anthurium, ginger and carnations.

She will carry a huge bouquet of roses. Five thousand vari-colored chrysanthemums will decorate the base and sides of the float.

On the front, lettered out in flowers, will be the legend—"1855-MSU-1955—a century of Educational Service."

Along the sides, in mums, the lettering will read "Land Grant Pioneer."

business education and is now practice teaching.

She will wear a white mortar board hat, symbolizing her presidency of the school's Mortar Board Society, top scholastic organization for coeds.

The 120-piece MSU marching band, directed by Prof. Leonard V. Falcone and led by drum major Dick Morsches and twirlers Archie Patton and Barry Christy, will precede the float, playing the rousing "Fight Song" familiar to all in Michigan.

For its later Rose Bowl appearance, the band will tell the story of American dance music during the halves.

Kavanagh Gives Hospital Ruling

Commission's Opinion Concerning Sanatorium Prices Requested

LANSING (U-P) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held yesterday, in effect, that the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission should increase the rate charged to counties having no county sanatorium and sending their TB patients to state hospitals.

The opinion said that the commission must fix a rate for the treatment of county patients which will absorb the actual expense per patient, minus the $4 per diem state subsidy.

The opinion was requested by the Ingham County Chest Hospital and Clinic.

This institution objected that if a patient from a county without its own hospital sends a patient to a state hospital, the state pays $4 and the county pays $4 with the state making up the difference between the $8 and the actual cost of $10.75.

The Ingham institution said that in its case it must bill a county without a hospital the difference between the state subsidy and the actual cost, thus encouraging counties without their own hospitals to send patients to state institutions.

This discourages the use of existing county hospitals and makes counties with hospitals bear part of the cost of patient care for counties without hospitals.

The opinion said that the intent of the Legislature to limit the subsidy to $4 would be defeated if counties without hospitals did not absorb the differential in the cost of patient care.

Papers Continuing Talks With Unions

DETROIT (U-P) — Mailers, who followed the lead of stereotypers in a strike against Detroit's three metropolitan newspapers, continue negotiations with publishers today after reportedly narrowing issues to wages and contract expiration date.

A source close to the bargaining talks said yesterday the mailers had reached agreement with the Detroit News, Times and Free Press on all other areas of dispute.

Max Burns, president of the mailers local, said the two remaining issues haven't yet been discussed.

New contracts have been settled with the pressmen and the paper and plate handlers providing a $3.75 weekly wage increase with a March 1, 1957, contract expiration date.

The publishers have sought to get all unions involved to agree to the March 1 date.

Stereotypers, whose walkout Dec. 1 closed down the three papers, are holding out for the old Nov. 30 contract expiration and a $3.75 weekly pay boost.

A settlement with stereotypers and mailers, however, would not necessarily mean immediate resumption of publication as printers also are on strike.

Contracts with teamsters, photo engravers and the guild also have expired. None of these three groups are officially on strike.

Police Arrest Man as Stabbing Suspect

Suspected of stabbing a neighbor who complained of a party noise, a 27-year-old man was arrested yesterday as he reportedly was trying to flee the city.

Big Leon Delivers to Art Houtteman and - It's a Boy!

A young fellow kicked up his heels in William Beaumont Hospital today. There was some doubt whether he was preparing to throw a forward pass or a slider.

A 7-pound 2-ounce, he was born Thursday night to Mr. and Mrs. Art Houtteman, with the assistance of Leon Hart, star end-fullback of the Detroit Lions and a neighbor of the Cleveland Indian pitcher in suburban Birmingham.

The Houttemans haven't decided on a name yet, but "Dr. Leon" is among those under consideration.

Mrs. Houtteman, who had been expecting sometime soon, suddenly yelled in distress from the kitchen Thursday night. Art and Leon rushed out.

By the time the doctor got there Art and Leon were arguing whether "the hands" were made for a quarterback or a pitcher.

The boy was the Houttemans' first. They have a 2-year-old daughter. Their first child was killed in an automobile accident in 1952.

State Plans Big '56 Tourist Year

160 Events for Visitors on Michigan Vacation Calendar, Says Council

A gala year is planned for Michigan visitors during 1956. One hundred and sixty special events already fill the state's vacation calendar, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Heading the list are 35 winter sports events from February through March. They include skiing, jumping tournaments, downhill and slalom races, winter carnivals, ice fishing festivals and ice-skating races.

Michigan's spring vacation season will be ushered in with 29 events during April, May and June. Maple syrup festivals, blossom celebrations, smelt and perch runs, and trout festivals are scheduled.

Then highlighting the summer season, 66 events are packed into the three-month calendar from June through August. They will point up all of Michigan's water attractions — boating, water-skiing, fishing and swimming.

Thirty events in the fall will round off the year's calendar in a blaze of color. Special color tours of Michigan's lavishly painted countryside, hunters' celebrations, canoe races and rodeos will be featured.

Copies of Michigan's 1956 Calendar of Coming Events may be obtained free of charge by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing 4.

Industrial Payrolls Pass $200 Million area's total labor force, Dudley pointed out.

Final 1955 production figures have not yet been released by the majority of area manufacturing plants, but observers believe that nearly all experienced increases during the year.

Although a number of local industrial and business leaders agree that 1955 was the most prosperous period in history, most have reserved judgment about activity in 1956.

One local authority, however, summed up sentiments expressed by many national experts by saying, "It's too early to tell. The boom is bound to carry over into next year. The prospects are good that it will go all the way through."

John Hurlinger, assistant manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, believes that, businesswise, the coming year will be at least as prosperous as 1955.

Dudley declined to make any long-range predictions about employment, but said that employment in manufacturing industries is expected to remain at the current level until mid-January.

Aims to Restrict Non-Vote Stock

O'Mahoney to Propose Bill After Reading Ford Prospectus

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Legislation to restrict the issuance of non-voting stock by corporations will be offered in the forthcoming session of Congress by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

The senator said his interest in such legislation had been renewed by a reading of the Ford Motor Co.'s prospectus for its stock sale next month.

If hearings are held on the bill he plans to offer, details of the Ford stock sale undoubtedly will be one of the items covered in testimony, O'Mahoney said.

O'Mahoney said his reading of the Ford prospectus convinced him the stock sale next month offers "a dramatic illustration of how management power over the modern giant corporations is concentrated in a few hands while the majority of the stockholders who own only a few shares in most cases or in their cases have no effective voice in the control of the corporation."

The senator said the Ford prospectus showed that 12.1 per cent of the stock equity in the auto company would be held by the Ford family and associates but with 49 per cent of the voting power.

The new small stockholders will have 40 per cent of the equity and 60 per cent of the voting power. But these votes, he said, will be so widely scattered the Ford family will retain control.

The family would be able to sell some of its non-voting stock and reduce its equity as low as five per cent but still keep its 40 per cent voting power, O'Mahoney said.

part of UCLA backers, that this will be a repeat of the 1953 result. After a two-hour practice session Friday afternoon, head coach Duffy Daugherty scheduled a one and a half-hour drill for this afternoon, with emphasis on polishing signals, kickoff plays, and running through pass patterns.

The last social affair involving the Spartan team was held last night as the Big Ten club of Southern California fete the Green and White squad.

Before today's drill, players and coaches will go to the Rose Bowl in the morning, for a 30 minute inspection of the stadium to get the feel of the ground.

A brief limbering-up session will be held Sunday for 30 minutes for the concluding day of 14 days of drills for the squad on the West Coast.

Fred Stables, MSU sports publicist, reported most of the Spartans in good physical condition. Seniors Embury Robinson and Gerry Musetti definitely will not play, and sophomore and Bob Jewett still remains a doubtful starter because of a badly twisted ankle.

Those out here that believe MSU has the edge in the game give Michigan State only a scant six point winning margin while most Bruin partisans figure the score to go around 21-14 and 28-21 for their team.

Pair Stands Mute on Larceny Charge

Charged with larceny from a building Jose Salinas, 32, of 1426 Michigan Ave., Detroit, and Pedro Garcia, 30, of Flint, stood mute before Justice Elmer S. Holman, Lapeer, Friday afternoon. They are in jail after failing to produce $1,000 bond each.

Examination is set for Jan. 9. Another of the trio escaped, but has been identified as Salvador Medina, 24, (address unknown).

Flint police reported they found a quantity of stolen goods, some from Lapeer and Flint stores, in the Garcia home. State Police said the three may be a part of a gang which has been operating a $60,000 a year theft ring in the state.

Newsprint Output Gains; Demand Goes Up Faster

MONTREAL (U-P) — Total production of Canada's newsprint was estimated at 6,200,000 tons, compared with 5,964,000 tons in 1954. Newsprint exports rose by 3 1/2 per cent.

R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Assn. said, "a startling situation arose in the market for newsprint in the U.S., where the increase in the demand was far, far greater than that expected by anyone, including the publishers."

"Consumption in 1955 increased by over 8 per cent; moreover, this sharp increase was accompanied by a 10 per cent increase in consumption in markets overseas," he stated.

"Thus, as the year came to a close a spot market for newsprint developed in the U.S. in which U.S. publishers paid very much more per ton than regular contract prices."

ADA Man Says Ike Could Lose

Disgruntled Farmers, Nixon Seen as Losses in Votes for GOP

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Robert R. Nathan, speaking as an ADA official, said today President Eisenhower "can be defeated" if he runs again. He said farmers are disgruntled and that Vice President Nixon as a running mate would cost Eisenhower votes.

Nathan, chairman of the Executive Committee of Americans for Democratic Action, offered these political opinions at a news conference called to outline ADA's legislative hopes for the new session of Congress.

ADA describes itself as an anti-Communist, nonpartisan organization of liberals. In the national field, it has always supported presidential nominees of the Democratic party.

Nathan is a Washington consulting economist.

Topping his list of ADA legislative aims were increased funds for national defense and foreign aid.

He also listed broad federal aid programs for housing, health, education and farmers, and said these must include antisegregation provisions if they are to win ADA support. Another proposal was a rise in the minimum wage to $12.25 an hour.

Nathan attacked a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) to remove federal controls on natural gas.

Nathan said it is his personal opinion that President Eisenhower "for health reasons," will not run. Nathan criticized Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, who has announced as a favorite son entry for the Democratic presidential nomination as well as candidate for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Bender (R-Ohio).

He said ADA chapters in Ohio are opposed to Lausche and that if Lausche and Bender should be finalists in the Ohio Senate race "we'd probably sit it out."

Nathan said ADA probably would "sit it out" if Nixon and Lausche were opposing presidential entries.

Headon Car Collision Claims Driver's Life

Fred Brzuszek, 62, of 12567 15 Mile Rd., Warren Township, was killed instantly yesterday afternoon in a headon collision with another car on Van Dyke, at the intersection of State Park Street, Center Line.

According to Center Line Police, Brzuszek was driving north when he pulled into the path of a car going south, driven by William D. Oswald, 20, of 2475 Stotter St., Detroit. Oswald is in Van Dyke Memorial Hospital for observation.

Center Line Police before the accident had only to midnight to night to complete five years without a fatal accident in the area. They would have received a plaque from the Michigan National Safety Council.

Farmington Man Served as a City Commissioner for 25 Years

Farmington, Conn. — E. O. Hatton, 70, died yesterday at his home at 3219 Shawnee St. Funeral services for Emory O. Hatton will be at 2 p.m. Monday in the Farmington Methodist Church, with Masonic graveside service and burial at Oakwood Cemetery.

The Day in Birmingham

Largest Wrigleys' Market Slated to Open in City

BIRMINGHAM — The new, largest in-the-chain, Wrigley's super-market will open on January 10, according to officials of the company that recently merged with Big Bear.

The new market will replace the former Wrigley's market, across the street on Hunter boulevard. The old market will close Jan. 7 with the weekend for final moving of merchandise.

It will share Wrigley's business with the Big Bear further south.

All Big Bear markets are being renamed Wrigley's in the near future, officials say.

Square feet in the new building total 20,000, with 12,000 of that to be utilized for sales. Customers will find six-foot, three-inch aisles, eight checkout stands, and 72 feet of frozen food display in pastel colors. This is the first time Wrigley has used the colored refrigerated cases, and new frozen meats are being promoted.

Manager of the local Wrigley's will remain the same, with Herman Zolowski's staff including Sai Merlino, produce manager coming from the old store, and Edward White, meat manager coming from the Pontiac Auburn Avenue store.

Parking space, a problem in the early location, now includes room for 175 cars around the 120 by 150 foot building. Awrey's bakery is combined with the store.

Police here are seeking the owner of a 1955 car, which a patrol car was chasing after midnight last night, intending to ticket the driver for reckless driving. The driver parked the car and escaped before police could stop him.

Searching for a young man, 21 to 36 years, who did top duty for his Birmingham community are the Junior Chamber of Commerce members. Nominees are being taken by Don Twining, 459 South Adams. Deadline is Feb. 1, and judges from the town's business and professional retinue will select the winner.

He will receive the Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award at a banquet set for Feb. 16 at Devon Gables, in a program emceed by Warren Michael Kelly local resident who has had long television and radio experience.

Retiring Kiwanis president Clarence Nichols summarized his year's activities and new president Gilbert Schrock talked of the coming year's plans at the last meeting. Installation is set for the Ladies' Night program on Jan. 10, with Lt. Governor Elect Richard Scribner of Pontiac present.

Kiwanians netted nearly $400 in their recent Christmas tree sale, and are considering the total good because of so many groups selling this year.

Mrs. Clarence H. Booth

News of the death of Mrs. Clarence H. Booth, 82, who with her husband lived in Bloomfield Hills for 35 years, has been received here. She is the mother of George Coleman Booth, Birmingham, and was an honorary member of Bloomfield Farm and Garden Association. Mass Weddings Slated in Vegas

Nation's First Such Rite Will Usher in New Year - If Couples Appear

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) — An undetermined number of starry-eyed lovers will make marital history in Las Vegas at the stroke of midnight, New Year's Eve when Justice of the Peace John Mendoza will perform the nation's first mass wedding—if the brides and grooms are willing.

Mendoza, a former prosecutor for Clark County and one-time college football star, will be setting another new record of sorts on the fateful moment.

Before the new year is a minute old, the world's busiest marrying Sam will have tied his 8,000th marital knot this year—a record which no one yet has disputed.

There is no waiting period to get married in Nevada and blood tests are not required.

144 HOURS A WEEK

The marriage business has made an "old veteran" out of Mendoza. He works 144 hours a week, and admits it is probably the most exhausting job on earth.

Mendoza is available around the clock every Friday from 8 a.m., through Monday at 2 a.m. Marriage, however, only is a part of Mendoza's busy official duties of the two-year elective post which Las Vegas usually awards to a deserving favorite son on a non-partisan basis.

Add to handling the bumper crop of marital-bound folk, he clears 8,000 civil and criminal cases through his chambers each year, ranging from deciding a traffic violation or small claims dispute to holding a preliminary hearing in a murder case.

The back-busting JP's job has more than spiritual rewards for the judge.

While he does not receive a salary, he will have earned about $80,000 in 1955, based on traditional gratuities he receives at an average $10-per-wedding clip.

That makes him about the highest-earning official (aside from the President of the U. S.) in the nation, with a take-home pay of almost six times the salary of the Governor of Nevada.

Investigate Shooting of Father and Son

Warren Township detectives today are investigating the death of 40-year-old Ernest J. Duffney, who apparently turned a rifle on himself last night after wounding his 11-year-old son with a shotgun in a family brawl.

Det. Lt. Anthony Winters, in charge of the case, said this morning the boy, Davis, is in good condition in Saratoga General Hospital.

Duffney was found lying in his home after his wife, Alice, 39, and David had gone to the hospital for treatment. Winters said Mrs. Duffney suffered cuts in the fight preceding the shooting.

In a statement early this morning, David told Winters his father had shot him three times with a shotgun as David was running to a neighbor for help in stopping the fight.

Driver Treated After Automobile Overtakes

David Plowman, 25, of Milford, who suffered minor injuries when he drove his car off M59 near Milford Rd. last night, was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Plowman told Sheriff's deputies he had suddenly "gone blind." His car rolled over beside the road.

Argentine Paper Publishes Again

'Intransigente' Resumes Daily Editions After Six Years of Suppression

BUENOS AIRES (U-P) — Silenced for six years, the newspaper El Intransigente is once again bringing the world's news to the 70,000 residents of Salta in Northern Argentina.

It has been a long struggle by Michel Torin, the newspaper's owner and publisher.

Dictator Juan D. Peron closed down Torin's newspaper Dec. 23, 1949. That was the only way Peron could silence its fiercely independent voice of opposition to strong-arm rule.

After Peron was overthrown the Inter-American Press Assn. came to Torin's aid. The newspapers El Pais and El Dia in Montevideo, Uruguay, rushed equipment needed for minimum operation to Salta.

Torin's first editorial on resuming publication declared that press freedom is the mother of all liberties. He rededicated his paper to the service of "the nation, the cause of democracy, and the freedom of the press."

Fire Destroys Interior of House in Waterford

The interior of a $14,000 home owned by Charles Tuson, 5857 Rowley, Waterford Township, was gutted yesterday morning, when a fire started near the family Christmas tree.

Mrs. Tuson called the Waterford Township Fire Department which put out the blaze after $3,000 damage to the home and $2,500 to the house contents. Both house and contents were covered by insurance, firemen said.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Here's to the best a New Year can bring. To me a New Year is no more nor less than tearing off a sheet from my calendar; each and every morning I think of the day ahead as New. In it I can plot my course to a haven of isolation or to one where I can touch my neighbor's hand; I can wrap my dollars in unbreakable steel or I can make them bring joy and happiness to a fellow-man. I can look at him, scowl or make a nasty noise with my lips or I can smile, say a few words of cheer.

I watched a speeding train, windows were yellow jewels, as they flashed past me; on that train were people who have a destination. They'll greet friends or loved ones and the air will be turbulent with their happy words. They planned that journey; we, too, should plan our New Year, or New Day to arrive at the destination of Unselfishness.

Happy New Year and a prosperous one to all of you.

A New Year's Prayer

—From all of us in the SIMMS Family.

"May I be no man's enemy, and may I be the friend of that which is eternal and abides.

May I never quarrel with those nearest to me, and if I do, may I be reconciled quickly.

May I never devise evil against any man. If any devises evil against me, may I escape uninjured and without the need of hurting him.

May I love, seek and obtain only that which is good.

May I wish for all men's happiness and envy none.

May I never rejoice in the ill fortune of one who has wronged me.

When I have done or said what is wrong may I never wait for the rebuke of others but always rebuke myself until I make amends.

May I win no victory that harms my opponent.

May I reconcile friends who are wrath with one another. May I, to the extent of my power, give all needful help to my friends and to all who are in want. May I never fail a friend in danger.

When visiting those in grief may I be able by gentle and healing words to soften their pain.

May I respect myself.

May I always keep tame that which rages within me. May I accustom myself to be gentle and never be angry with people because of circumstance.

May I never discuss who is wicked and what wicked things he has done but know good men and follow in their footsteps."

And Balanced Budget in Sight

Borrowing Treasury Aids Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury borrowed about 21 billion dollars this year.

In addition, it reborrowed some 36½ billions of public debt that matured during the year, and it paid off about 21½ billions of the debt.

In the interests of keeping its elephantine operations from squashing the economic boom just getting under way as the year opened, the Treasury backed down temporarily from its goal of transferring more of the public debt into longer term issues.

In February the Treasury put out a 40-year bond. It was the longest term Treasury security since the Panama Canal bond of 1911.

The Treasury acted with extreme caution, however, including the four-decade bond as an 13-month and a 2½ year note, in refinancing 15 billion dollars of debt that matured early in the year. Holders of the maturing debt took nearly two billion dollars of the bond, and it settled well into the bond market.

The Treasury in July reopened the issue for cash subscription. It got another 500 million dollars of public debt tucked away for 40 years, at the rate of three per cent—the same interest paid 44 years earlier on the Panama Canal bonds.

But aside from this, the Treasury hewed during the year to short term financing and refinancing. Any other course would have run head-on into the rapidly swelling demand for long term investment in business—which during the year stepped up its expansion plans from around 27 billion dollars to 29 billions. Long term Treasury borrowing would have cut across, also, the demand for ever more mortgage money to help the public buy new homes.

BECAME ALARMED

As the business boom picked up speed, the Federal Reserve Board became alarmed by the clamor for credit that arose from all sides. It ended its policy of monetary ease in the spring, and thereafter clamped ever tighter restrictions on the expansion of credit. By fall, the Reserve Board had the money market so tight that interest rates were in some cases at 20-year highs.

The rising trend of interest rates would have made long term borrowing by the Treasury in most of the last half of the year prohibitively expensive. In early December it paid 2½ per cent for one-year money—more than twice what it paid to borrow for a year just one year earlier.

Ex-Gotham Bookie Boss Held in $50,000 Bail

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn authorities say they hope to make former boss bookie Harry Gross tell why he refused to testify against policemen whom he admitted took bribes to protect his book-making empire.

Gross was brought back from New Orleans yesterday and held in $50,000 bail on complaint of Mrs. Celia Cooperman Giddings, a divorcee, who charges he swindled her out of $13,850 by promising to marry her.

row for a year just one year earlier.

Also, the squeeze the reserve system applied to credit expansion forced commercial banks to sell big blocks of their government securities in order to increase their lendable reserves. This narrowed the Treasury's market for its new issues.

SHORT TERMS

The Treasury gritted its teeth under these conditions and went into strictly short term financing, with issues of one year, 2½ years and the like. It raised 1 billion dollars by upping the 13 issues of 19-day treasury bills, one of which falls due each week and is refinanced, by 100 million dollars each.

As a result, according to best estimates as the year ended, the average maturity of the debt at the end of the year was about 4½ years, just about where it was a year before. In 1954, Treasury operations stretched the debt's average maturity by eight months.

Also as a result of the credit squeeze, the average interest on the marketable debt, which was down to 1.963 per cent at the end of 1954, an easy money year, was up to about 2½ per cent at the end of 1955.

With a balanced budget now in prospect for the current fiscal year ending next June 30, and for the year following, Treasury operations in 1956 will probably be about the same in size as they were in 1955. But the Treasury is looking forward to a resumption of longer term debt issues, and lower interest rates. Both these developments will depend on how the business situation develops.

HAPPY NEW YEAR—4 New Year Elves

At midnight on New Year's Eve whistles blow and everyone makes all the noise he can with noisemakers. High above the din, church bells ring out the Old Year and ring in the New.

Here are two New Year Elves, swinging on a big bell. The Old Year Elf has grown a long white beard during his time of service. His clothes have become worn and patched. The New Year Elf is young and eager to take over the job for a year.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. The bell is a golden yellow. The elves wear green suits, brown shoes and red caps. Cut out the parts carefully. Cut out the opening at the top of the bell (marked with X) or poke a hole through it, and put a string through the opening, making a loop. Now the elves will be able to swing back and forth on the bell.

The calendar panels at the bottom, and the panel joining them can be folded on the dotted lines and set up under the bell.

Chinese Reds Claim U. S. Holding Student

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist China has accused the United States of preventing a former Chinese student at the University of Missouri from leaving this country by confining him to a mental hospital.

This is the first time the Chinese Red regime has presented a specific case of alleged detention. Heretofore it has made general complaints of restriction of Chinese in this country.

By contrast, the United States has charged the Chinese Reds with holding a number of Americans prisoner—the total is now 13—despite a pledge they made Sept. 10 to let all Americans leave Red China "expeditiously."

The State Department said the former student, a man named Liu Yung-ming, is a patient in Missouri State Hospital No. 4 at Farmington.

Liu was a student at the University of Missouri in May, 1949, when he was committed to the hospital through court procedure instituted by the foreign student adviser of the university.

SAM BENSON Says:

HERE'S A STORY WORTH READING IN THE INTEREST OF SAFE DRIVING

JACKIE

"THE SON OF A HARD-BOILED COP"

"Jackie", adopted from an authentic police record, relates the true experience of a California police officer who answered an ambulance follow-up call to find his five-year old son the victim of a speeding motorist.

You think I'm a hard-boiled copper
For writing a mere "forty-three";
Well perhaps I'm thinking of Jackie
And all that the lad meant to me.

How's that? Tell you all about it?

Well, stranger, the boy was my son.
God! What I'd give to hear "Daddy",
Once more when the day's work is done.

The driver was just in a hurry.

He didn't intend any harm,
But the sun and stars quit shining,
When I pick up my boy's lifeless form.

Well, Mister, I'll tear up this ticket;

I don't want to "pinch" anyone,
But I'd ride this motor through hell-fires,
To protect another man's son.

So the next time you feel like speeding

Or passing a boulevard stop,
Just pause and remember my Jackie—
The son of a hard-boiled cop.

Confident Living

Courage, Mental Alertness Lifted Father Above Ills

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One of the greatest experts in starting a new year was my own father. Every year was new and thrilling to him.

Just a few weeks ago my father died. He was 85 years old. I never knew anyone who loved life more than he did or got more out of living. Shortly after his death I received a letter from an old friend of the family, a retired physician who now lives in California but who once practiced in New York. His name is Dr. Clarence C. Lieb and, twenty years ago, I had taken my father to him because of his critical physical condition.

"I am saddened," the doctor wrote, "by the news of your father's death. He lived much longer than his physical condition of twenty years ago promised. I am confident that it was his fine mind and superb spirit which added greatly to his longevity. It was a privilege to have served him professionally. I bless his memory."

Charles Clifford Peale was not only a minister, he was also a physician. His intellectual curiosity and his mental vitality were tremendous. He read prodigiously and was able to master and explain books which other people, including his son, had great difficulty in comprehending. Fulton Oursler once told me that it had taken him four readings to write his condensation of du Nooy's "Human Destiny." Of course, Fulton did a masterful job as always. He said my father helped him greatly, as he had mastered the difficult book so thoroughly that his explanations were amazingly clear.

HE NEVER GAVE UP EASILY

My father didn't give up very easily and he didn't permit his sons to give up. He always told us, "The Peales never quit." When I was writing my book, "A Guide to Confident Living," which became a best seller, I became discouraged with my work and literally threw it away. He rescued the manuscript and found a publisher for it.

He loved to speculate about the world and everything in it, the stars, and man, and God: He reveled in philosophy. He loved all of nature and, strangely enough, became one of the greatest amateur authorities on snakes. Even after arthritis crippled him so that he could hardly use his hands, and a series of strokes confined him to a wheel chair, he could always think, and think he did. He became interested in astronomy and studied the heavens from his chair. He was one of the finest conversationalists I ever knew and discussed the greatest questions with charming wit and inspiration. People loved to sit at his feet and listen. He put the touch of glory on everything he handled intellectually.

Finally, the day came when a new stroke took away his speech and he could no longer form words. The last thing he ever said to me, and I had to get right down with my ear to his mouth to hear it, was: "I am studying heaven. Scientists say, 'It's in the Milky Way...' To-night look at the Milky Way."

HAPPINESS WELLED INSIDE HIM

When he died the doctor came from the room and said, "The light of reason was in his eyes until I closed them." How my father would like that statement.

Charles Clifford Peale lifted himself above his physical difficulties by a mighty upthrust of courage and spirit and mental alertness and faith. And it was that which kept him alive twenty years past his time. Crippling limitations and pain could not dim the happiness that welled up in him in each of those twenty years that followed his first desperate illness. He lived in the mind and spirit and in the soul, and so life never lost its fascination for him.

A distinguished English physician once said, "There is no tissue in the body that is not governed to one degree or another by spirit." That is why the body that contains an active and a curious mind and a spirit that is in touch with spiritual greatness is not — and cannot be — defeated by disease or illness.

So as you move out into this New Year of 1956, put yourself in touch with God's greatness. Live in the mind and spirit. Love life and people and the world and so gain a source of energy and power that will last for many happy new years. The Scriptures give the formula for vitality and joy. "For in Him we live, and move, and have our being." Keep in touch with Him, Love His glorious world and all your New Years will be happy ones.

Harvard Divinity School

Nears $7 Million Goal

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (RNS) —

Nearly $1,000,000 given to Harvard

Divinity School in December by individuals, corporations and foundations brought the seminary within sight of its goal of a total endowment of $7,000,000.

A committee of leading clergymen and laymen appointed by the university in 1946 reported early in 1952 that the latter sum was needed to make the school a "scholarly center where leading religious thinkers from all parts of the world might exchange ideas."

College students, home for the holidays, will be honored at the morning worship service of the Oakland Park Methodist Church, 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The service will be conducted entirely by the students, including the sermon. High school and college students have formed a choir for the occasion.

Brief talks, centering around the theme, "The Church and Its Student Witness" will be given by the following students: "What My College Offers Religiously," Charlyne Deeg; "What I Expect from My Church," Hugh Parks; "Christian Ethics Applied at College," Robert Stasiuk and Joan Wagley will speak on "What My Church Expects of Me in the Future."

At 7 p.m., an informal reception will be held by the Methodist Youth Fellowship groups for the students and their parents. Refreshments will be served. This is the annual program of Student Recognition.

The Oakland Park Church will also be participating in the nationwide Church Attendance Crusade from Jan. 1 through Easter. Special emphasis will be on every member in church every Sunday, stewardship and tithing. A Tithing Fellowship will be formed for a study of tithing as a way of life.

Nasser Orders Religion Taught in Arab Schools

CAIRO (RNS)—Private schools in Egypt, including foreign educational and religious missions, were brought under the control and inspection of the Ministry of Education in a government decree issued here.

Instruction in religion and ethics is made compulsory for Egyptian students in private schools. However, the law specifies that pupils may not be taught a religion other than their own or be required to observe the rites of another creed.

The decree obligates private schools to hire a Moslem or a Jew to give religious instruction to members of these creeds. Leaders of Christian schools have objected to this provision.

Holy Baptism Planned

A service of Holy Baptism will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in the First Open Bible Church, The Rev. Fred Peter, a former pastor, will assist the Rev. Trenton R. Staton with the service.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — The Rev. Hoover T. Grimsby, 35-year-old pastor of Ascension Lutheran Church here, was given the Milwaukee Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award for 1955.

A committee of eight judges, including a Roman Catholic priest, voted Mr. Grimsby the honor of the basis of achievement, community leadership and service, character and ability. He is the first minister ever to win the award.

He is vice-president of the Milwaukee metropolitan crime prevention commission. Under his leadership, the congregation has conducted a strong community and youth program.

Mr. Grimsby has promoted inter-racial understanding and cooperation by taking members of his confirmation classes to Jewish synagogues and Catholic churches, the YMCA, YWCA and other centers where they are given an insight into the activities and beliefs of others.

Is The Catholic Church Out of Place in America?

Some critics say "yes" and assert as one of their reasons that the Church is not democratic.

They say it is undemocratic for example, for the Church to oppose birth control and divorce with remarriage. It is undemocratic for Catholics to maintain their own schools ... to campaign against obscene literature, books and films ... to promulgate a distinctive Catholic culture.

What, we ask could be more undemocratic than to deny Catholics the rights to do these very things if they choose?

Christ's Church was not intended, of course, to be Canadian, or British, French or German. It was to be Catholic, not national ... as home everywhere, alien nowhere. Nor was Christ's church designed to be democratic. It was established on a hierarchical system, with authority vested in the Apostles ... not in the Congregation. That is the nature and design of the Catholic Church.

To assert that the Catholic Church is undemocratic implies that it is anti-democratic and antagonistic to a "democratic" political and social system.

Nothing could be further from the truth. No firmer dedication to democratic principles could be made than that voiced by the Catholic Bishops of the United States at their Third Plenary Council, in Baltimore, in 1884. The present Pope, Pius XII, supplementing similar somnits by earlier Popes, declared in 1944 that the member of a true democracy is "A citizen of honor, of personal activity and of dignity."

In 1576—just 200 years before America's Declaration of Independence—Robert Cardinal Bellarmine, a famed member of the Catholic Hierarchy—wrote that, "all men are equal" ... "that political right is from God" ... "that man must be governed by someone" ... that government "must depend on the consent of the multitude" ... and that "for legitimate reasons the people can change the government" ...

In a genuine democracy, it must be recognized as the right of the Catholic Hierarchy to expound Catholic doctrine, to instruct the Catholic people, to legislate and regulate in matters concerning the Catholic Church. To do so infringes in no way on the rights or liberties of non-Catholics.

If you would like to have a better understanding of the Catholic Hierarchy to expound Catholic doctrine, to instruct the Catholic people, to legislate and regulate in matters concerning the Catholic Church. To do so infringes in no way on the rights or liberties of non-Catholics.

If you would like to have a better understanding of the Catholic Church and its attitudes and activities, write today for our free pamphlet. It will be sent in a plain wrapper ... nobody will call on you. Fill in coupon ... mail today! Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-49.

1956 Prospects Bright for Greater Pontiac

Once again as for several years past, it is possible on this last day of the Old Year to predict a prosperous New Year for Pontiac.

Even casual reading of the various economic predictions sustains this view. Despite foreseen slight declines in some lines, the business picture for the next 12 months appears promising.

An example is the automotive industry which appears to have just missed by a few thousand units its first 8,000,000 car year. General Motors' President HARLOW H. CURTICE, a forecaster with a record of high accuracy, expects a 12 per cent production decrease. But the industry still would be headed for an excellent year even if that estimate should prove low.

Moreover, there are compensating factors at all three local divisions of General Motors. Outstanding, of course, is the record production program in 1956 now well under way at Pontiac Motor Division. Prospects for continued high production also are good at the GM Truck & Coach and Fisher Body Divisions.

Similarly, the outlook is for a five to eight per cent decline in local business activity, according to the BABSON report. But there are important moderating factors with advances expected in some non-automotive manufacturing lines and in certain retail businesses.

Generally speaking, employment locally and nationally is at record levels with wages continuing high. Nothing so far has slowed the tempo of the construction boom. The only weak spot is the decline in farm income.

With all this evidence that our economy is sound and expanding, 1956 should be a happy and productive year for everybody.

1954 Anti-Red Statute Invoked Against U. E.

Attorney General BROWNELL should have overwhelming public support for his action against the United Electrical Workers Union under the Communist control act.

In explaining this procedure Mr. BROWNELL emphasized that it in no sense is aimed against the union itself which was expelled in 1949 by the CIO for Communist activities. Instead, invocation of the 1954 act is aimed at the organization's leaders who long have been accused of pro-Communist leanings.

Under provisions of this law the Justice Department has filed a petition with the Subversive Activities Control Board. If the board decides that the union is Communist dominated, the leaders lose their rights to represent the union in bargaining procedures under the National Labor Relations Act.

Thereafter, 20 per cent of the rank and file can ask for an NLRB order for an election to replace the union's officers and representatives.

The Justice Department's case in this matter is well and extensively documented. It is a reminder that some members of this union are employed in defense plants where much of the work still is top secret. Certainly no one of doubtful loyalty has any business working in such plants.

The Attorney General is to be commended for invoking this statute in the EISENHOWER Administration's arsenal of legal weapons against subversion.

George to Run in 1956

Announcement that Sen. WALTER F. GEORGE, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will seek re-election in 1956, is hot political news down in Georgia.

The announcement by the 77-year-old Senate veteran who has been in the Upper House since 1922, is expected to bring an early statement from former Gov. HERMAN TALMADGE that he wants the same seat. For weeks the two rivals have been busy making speeches and maneuvering for position.

As Democratic Foreign Relations Chairman, Sen. GEORGE has served with distinction. Not only is he a believer in bipartisan foreign policy but he has given President EISENHOWER notable support on more than a few occasions.

Next year's expected GEORGE-TALMADGE political contest will be a strictly private Democratic fight. As outsiders, we have no intention of taking sides. But we won't be heartbroken if former Gov. TALMADGE loses.

"ANCIENT Inca drawings recently discovered closely resemble modernistic paintings," says an archeologist. It is possible, then, that our modernistic painters are little more than 400 years behind the times.

The People's Business

Politics Clouded Williams' Position Keeps Dems, GOP Guessing

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING—A New Year's preview of what 1956 holds for Michigan government must be even more clouded than usual.

The usual uncertainty is heightened this year by the presence of the presidential campaign smack in the middle of the year and all that this holds for the first Michigan man to gain stature as a possible presidential candidate in this decade.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams is the enigma which confuses the rest of the political picture for Republicans and Democrats alike.

The year will hardly get under way when the Legislature will return on Jan. 11 for what is normally regarded as the "short" session.

If the lawmakers follow the accelerated schedule, packed with "sudden-death" dealings, which they used two years ago they will be out of Lansing again on April 6.

GIFT PACKAGE

Until Williams unlimbers his legislative program in full it is impossible to estimate the type of session 1956 will be.

Williams has already come out with a farm program of sorts and says he will add to it later. He has returned with more plans for highway safety.

We may be sure he will seek again to put the Republican Party in the political hole as much as possible with requests for a massive package of pleasant and probably costly gifts for the people.

He probably will ask a lot of money for new hospitals and college buildings and the expansion of a lot of state service he always does.

It would indeed be news if the governor did not once again urge the passage of a corporation profits tax. He always does.

It is expected that Williams will demand higher pay for teachers, and probably a minimum wage for them.

ACTING CAGIER

If the Republican leadership is cagey, and it has been acting cagey as the years go by, it will refuse to be drawn down all the controversial byways the governor suggests because down each is a scrap and scraps are bad medicine in any election year.

The Republicans probably will seek to keep the budget fairly close to balance without the addition of new taxes and to whip through a reasonably progressive program in short order so that the possibility of a public row is reduced in an election year.

Nonetheless, it is not going to be easy for the Republican Legislature to solve the financial problem this year. Although present tax collections are booming along, the cost of day-to-day government is inevitably rising and the demands for institutional expansion are almost inescapable.

This year the 60 million dollar hospital construction bond issue will be virtually gone and the Legislature must split its construction money even thinner to cover all the demands.

There They Are, Son. They Expect Big Things of You!

Days of All Faiths

It Wasn't Until 1752 That New Year's Began to Be Celebrated on January 1

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The first day of January has not always been New Year's Day. In fact, it became so in Protestant England, and therefore in the American colonies, as recently as 1752, when the British world finally accepted the Gregorian calendar. Before that, the new year had been considered as beginning on March 25, a carry-over from the Jewish tradition which starts the year at approximately that time.

But as early as the fourth century Jan. 1 had acquired a religious significance as the end of the Christmas "octave" (an octave is the eight days including and following a great Church festival) and as the anniversary of the Baby Lord's circumcision.

In Genesis, chapter 17, verses 9 to 14, God issued a command to Abraham and his descendants that every male child should be circumcised on the eighth day, after his birth, as "a token of the covenant between me and thee."

This custom, still followed by Jews and Mohammedans, has been replaced by the sacrament of Baptism in the Christian church, but it is recorded in Luke, chapter 2, verse 21, that the parents of Jesus conformed to the ancient practice and even took their child to the temple at Jerusalem for the rite, although it could as well have been performed at home.

The festival of the circumcision was first celebrated in the eastern part of the church in the fourth century, and was adopted in the West three or four centuries later.

MARTYRS FOR SCRIPTURES

In the year 303 the Emperor Diocletian, worst of all persecutors of Christianity, ordered that all existing copies of the Holy Scriptures be seized and burned. Hundreds of devout men and women throughout the Empire suffered torture and death rather than surrender their copies of the sacred writings. Jan. 2 is set apart in the Roman Catholic calendar in honor of these Martyrs for the Holy Scriptures.

In medieval times this was the biggest day of the year in the town of Lichfield, England, and the reason is interesting. "Lich" means "corpse." Lichfield means a field strewn with corpses. According to local tradition the town got its name from the fact that almost the entire population was slaughtered on this day for its refusal to give up the Scriptures—the field was covered with martyrs.

THREE WISE MEN

The Three Wise Men, traditional symbols of the Feast of the Epiphany which is celebrated Friday by both Protestants and Catholics, were for many years also known as the Three Kings of Cologne, because it is in the Cathedral at Cologne that their remains are said to be interred.

Although the three kings are not named, or even called kings, in the New Testament account, legend has long supplied such details about them. One is said to have been King Caspar of Tarsus, land of myrrh, another King Melchior of Arabia, land of gold, and the third, King Balthazar of Saba, where frankincense flows from the trees.

Each of the presents they brought to the Baby Lord had its own significance. They gave him gold to show that He was King, frankincense to show that He was God, and myrrh, a burial spice, to show that as a man He was doomed as all men are to death.

In return, the legend says, Jesus gave them even greater gifts. For the gold He gave them spiritual riches, for the incense He gave them faith, and for the myrrh He gave them truth and meekness.

Mary also had a gift for the visitors. She gave them part of the "swaddling clothes," one of the linen bands in which she had wrapped the Baby, and they reverently laid it among their treasures and departed.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Learn How to Sparkle if You Want Personality That Will Attract Others

Geraldine wants to know how a girl can "sparkle" or "glow" with vitality and charm. Well, you must learn the proper technique and practice it. Charming personalities are "made," not "born," so even if you have no dates now, you can soon be popular if you are willing to work at it. But you can't lazily "wish" your way to a wedding ring!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case Q-336: Geraldine G., aged 19, came to my office sadly.

"Dr. Crane, I dress well and am certainly not bad looking, would you say?" she began.

"Yet boys don't show much interest in me. Other coeds with no peppy they turn a handspring or flipflop in the air as they come out of the wing upon the stage.

And they bounce on the soles of their feet and twirl their baton as if they were bundles of energy.

Yet it may be turned on as a deliberate act, for unless a leader seems exuberant and peppy, his audience will not become sufficiently animated to applaud loudly.

For "sparkle" and enthusiasm are contagious. That's why salesmen and public speakers, as well as orchestra leaders, learn to act animated regardless of their true inner feelings.

Oddly enough, after you act animated you will begin to feel that way, too, for we have this famous adage in psychology.

"Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act!"

HOW TO BE POPULAR

Girls, if you want to raise your appeal as "date bait," then affect enthusiasm.

more looks and not even as pretty clothes as mine, have plenty of dates.

"So what is wrong with me? It isn't 'B.O.' or dandruff or the many advertised faults of girls, for I have guarded against such things.

"But I'm just a flat, colorless personality. I don't sparkle like other girls."

LEARN TO SPARKLE

Geraldine was correct in diagnosing herself. She had about everything needed to be attractive except for "sparkle."

But that "sparkle" or enthusiasm for life, is something you must cultivate. You can turn it on by sheer will power.

For example, observe a salesman when he is at home. He may be quiet and almost colorless.

But the moment he starts his sales talk, what happens? He affects animation, whether he feels it or not.

He acts peppy and interested in his product. He may ultimately become so enthusiastic that his personal magnetism overpowers his prospect and thus produces the signature along the dotted line.

Later that same customer may say, "Why did I ever buy this thing? I have no need for it."

But the sparkle and glow of the animated salesman had hypnotized the prospect.

Well, salesmen learn to turn on their animation, regardless of their personal feelings. And so do public performers.

PLATFORM STRATEGY

The orchestra leader may be dead tired or even about sick with the flu, but when it is his cue to go on the stage, he deliberately turns on vigor and vitality for the sake of his audience.

Some leaders seem to be so

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It's no wonder children turn out wrong. With examples some parents set, it's surprising they're not worse.

The other day while driving down West Huron, I saw a couple of young mothers, each with two small children, start across the street in the middle of the block. Although cars were coming from both directions, neither woman made any effort whatsoever to hurry.

I saw them from half a block away (at 20 m.p.h.), but they were walking so slowly I had to bring the car to a complete stop to let them cross. They seemed to be enjoying themselves, though, carrying on quite an animated conversation as they sauntered across. One of the children, about six years old, dragged behind and made faces at drivers who had to stop and wait.

With mothers who have so little respect for traffic laws, the children have slim hope of ever learning anything about safety. Yet I'd be willing to bet that when one of their children is hit while following such an example, those mothers will be the first to blame it on the driver.

Final Yalta Papers Reveal Soviet's Slave Labor Aim

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES
WASHINGTON — Publication of the final Yalta papers showed today that Soviet Russia included use of German slave labor as one of its war aims as early as January 1945.

The release of 40 previously secret notes and messages added to evidence that U.S. officials were growing fearful of Soviet motives even while the nations were fighting a common enemy.

One document disclosed that Gov. Averell Harriman, of New York, then ambassador to Moscow, wrote the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt on Jan. 21, 1945, that the Russians were talking of taking two or three million Germans into their country as forced labor for a period of 10 years.

The ambassador wrote that he was told by Assistant Foreign Minister I. M. Maiski that the slave labor would be considered reparations.

Further suspicions of Soviet objectives were sharply expressed in April 1945—a month before the end of the war against Germany—when Harriman wrote:

"Aside from the major questions which are causing concern in our relations with the Soviet Union there has been an accumulation of minor incidents which started some six weeks ago."

He cited failure to make any progress in getting Soviet approval for U.S. air teams to visit Russian-controlled territory for appraisal of bomb damage or for an American naval team to visit the Baltic port of Gdynia.

Harriman added significantly: "Both proposals were agreed to at Yalta."

Other highlights of the supplementary documents:

1. China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek attempted without success to arrange a 1945 meeting with Roosevelt and Churchill in India to build up morale in his country.

2. Prime Minister Tomaz Arizewski of the Polish government in exile, sent a fervent plea to Roosevelt to protect Poland from Communist seizure. Written while the Yalta Conference was underway, and while Russian troops had taken over Poland, the prime minister warned that "If peace in Europe is to be durable, it must be based on principles of justice, on respect of law, on good neighborly relations as well as honesty in international life."

3. The Russians, shortly after the Yalta Conference, asked the U.S. for a six billion dollar credit for 30 years at two and one-quarter per cent interest. They sought it to pay for industrial equipment the Soviets wanted from America.

Doctor Criticizes 'Fast Buck' Stores; Says to Use Chamomile Tea on Leg Ulcer

Some went all over the city searching for calimale flowers but the druggists didn't know anything about them, so he tried the florists. I wanted to make the tea for the ulcer on my leg. (F.A.V.)

Answer—It is chamomile flowers, dried, English, German, Roman, Hungarian, all same. Real druggists have such herbal medicines, fast buck department stores scorn such low-profit items. Instructions for using chamomile tea on painful leg ulcer in pamphlet on Varicose Veins, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Some of the boys at the plant eat ground raw beef on bread, with onion and lots of salt and pepper. Could it cause any ill effect? (L.R.E.)

Answer—Not the beef, bread and onion, but the less salt and pepper the better.

Instead of berating you, the . . . dentist should honor you for what you have done to benefit the profession. (....., D.D.S.)

Answer—Thank you, doctor. I received another friendly note from a dentist back in 1950, if I recollect.

Thank God for your baby book. Instead of giving my baby laxatives I give her B-Nutrin and my troubles are solved. (Mrs. P. T.)

Answer—Yahbut, how about the baby's troubles? And be sure to give the baby plenty of ripe bananas. For The New Baby Book send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Is Pontiac a salubrious climate for a person with bursitis? (F.B.R.)

Answer—As salubrious as any other climate. To the best of my knowledge any climate or place or season of year one can enjoy outdoor life is salubrious. Perhaps I should explain that in my judgment climate, season or weather has nothing to do with bursitis, neuritis, arthritis, nephritis, brachitis, sinusitis or the rheumatis.

Ben Told the use of saccharin as sweetener in place of sugar will cause high blood pressure. (F.E.S.)

Answer—The proper use of saccharin, sucaryl as sweetener in place of sugar is harmless.

An adult rests in a bed a good nine hours each day, but sleeps only about four hours. Is that sufficient to maintain health? (T.H.R.)

Answer—You mean the bum just tells there and vegetates five hours? Don't do him with a pall of cold water—or maybe he has Yankee beri beri, pellagra, hookworm or iodine deficiency. On the other hand, he may be composing a song, developing the plot for a novel or a play or going over his plan for a perfect murder. When I lie awake I write a few articles for this column, or invent names to call readers. Watch for pieces about relaxation, rest and sleep to appear here soon.

Much impressed by your articles on having baby at home . . . however, we can't find—can you give us names of doctors willing to deliver outside of a hospital? (Mrs. L. R.)

Answer—I'm sorry, I can't afford to compile and maintain a nationwide directory service. I don't even know the names of the doctors who attended childbirth at the homes of Coleen Gray, Betty (Mrs. Buck) Rodgers and Jan Sterling—although I published here an interview with Mrs. Douglas (Jan Sterling) shortly before the arrival of her baby. It's being done, and the doctors who still insist that childbirth is safe only in a hospital are going to learn a good lesson in obstetrics.

I had such wonderful results from terpin hydrate that I don't cough any more. How would it be for my 6-year-old granddaughter who coughs a good deal at night? (M. B.)

Answer—Not advisable. It is for the cough of chronic bronchitis, the "winter cough" of elderly or feeble persons. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Call It Crl.

Report of a man losing 125 pounds started argument in this office. Please settle it so we can resume work. How much of the body weight is water? (J.W.J.)

Answer—From 60 to 70 per cent of the weight of the body is water.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 10 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Crop Threat in Country

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Agriculture Department said today the European corn borer continues as a crop threat in many of the corn-producing areas of the country.

AREA GAS LINE—Workers put in a gas line from Milford to Willow Run to supply the area with natural gas. Heavy equipment and 60 skilled men are required to lay the 25 mile stretch. In the upper left picture is the drag line operation. The land is cleared and the trench dug. In the upper right picture the machine sets the pipe down in the ditch where the sprayer and wrapper machine protect it from rust and corrosion. The pipe bending machine is shown in the lower left picture. This piece of equipment fits the pipe to the contours of the ground, the corners and hills in the Milford area. The last picture shows the huge digger going to a five foot depth and piling tons of dirt on the side. It is a one-man operation. Railroads and highways create no problems. Burrowing machines can go underneath nearly any obstacle. A bulldozer finishes the job by leveling the landscape just as it was before the men and machines began the operation.

Gas Pipeline From Milford to Willow Run Progress a Mile a Day

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—A pipe line of heavy gauge steel is being laid from Milford to Willow Run to supply the Metropolitan area with natural gas.

A crew of 60 skilled workers is laying the 25-mile stretch at a rate of a mile a day, according to Julius Beerant, construction superintendent of the R. L. Coolidge Co. which has the contract.

The main natural gas line comes from Louisiana and the new line taps into the Austin station, situated north of Milford on Rowe Road. It will tie in with another main line west of Willow Run.

Before any ground is broken, trained men go ahead and buy the right-of-ways from property owners. Engineers begin clearing the way, then the heavy machinery is brought in for the task of laying the pipe.

A digger machine pounds through the 18 inches of frozen ground, down five feet, the required depth for laying the pipe.

HEAVY MATS
When it is necessary to go through swamp land, heavy mats are laid and three draglines swing into action. Another necessary piece of equipment for this operation is the big "swamp cat"—cat-erpillar tractor.

During the present digging operation in the state park near Buno Road, the crew has run into many artesian wells. When this happens, river weights are put on the pipe to keep it from floating.

Railroads and highways are no problem to the workers. There are burrowing machines to go underneath the obstacle, and extra heavy duty casing for the steel pipe is used at these points.

The newest and most important operation in the whole project according to Erwin Knoop, chief inspector for Michigan Consolidated Gas, is the spraying and wrapping machine.

This contraption has a boom on each side to support the rig, and a new plastic covering is applied after the hot Trenton dope has been sprayed on. The coating is "tougher than a whalebone," said Knoop.

Going through the Proud Lake State Park has had some restrictions. The state requires half-inch thick steel pipe instead of the usual quarter-inch, and the crew had to dig down more than 30 feet at one point because of the proposed extension of Northwestern Highway.

All of the steel pipe is shipped from headquarters in Louisiana and Knoop said that freight shipping cost runs close to $1,200 for one carload.

PLAN NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH — The holiday congregation of St. Alfred's Episcopal Church (between Oxford and Lake Orion on M 24), has had its first look at the architect's plans for a permanent structure on its five-acre site opposite Indian Lake Road. Submitted by Birmingham architect Joseph Dworski, plans call for the inclusion of a large hall, offices, kitchen, several church school rooms and boiler room. The proposed building would be the first unit of a plant which eventually will include parish house, classroom building and a rectory, in addition to the church. The assembly hall of the parish house will be used for worship and parish activities until the permanent building is erected. St. Alfred's was organized in July, 1954, by the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, to serve Oxford and Lake Orion. The land for the new building was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson and by Frances Hall. It is hoped that construction may begin in the summer of 1956. The Rev. Canon Charles Braidwood is the vicar of St. Alfred's and the Rev. Raymond Bierlein is the curate.

French Fashions in 1955 Influenced Figure Changes

By NORA W. MARTIN
PARIS (INS)—Fashionable ladies may have to become quick change artists in 1956 if Monsieur Christian Dior perseveres with his alphabet soup style tendencies.

It's not merely a question of quick shifts from dress to dress. It's the problem of switching whole wardrobes, and more than that, the entire shape of the basic feminine figure.

from the Chinese ballets performing dresses and painting our eyes on a slant.

As a result we are wearing mandarin coats, Chinese looking peasant) worn over several lingerie petticoats?

Even peasant head-kerchiefs may become the latest 1956 "deluxe" style if some top-notch Paris designer takes a sudden fancy to them.

To keep the "Haute Couture touch," the "Russian Look" may well be scented with perfume, trimmed with diamonds and be presented in Paris.

MRS. WILLIAM R. JAMES

Newlyweds Honeymoon Three Weeks in Florida

At a 4:30 o'clock ceremony at Christ Church Cranbrook Thursday afternoon, Jane Courtney Mehrer became the bride of William Ramsay James. The Rev. Perry R. Williams performed the service in the presence of 300 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold George Mehrer of Bloomfield Hills and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stubbs James of Bloomfield Hills.

For the candlelight ceremony, the bride chose an empire style gown of ivory peau de soie. A

A Juliet cap of heirloom lace secured a finger-tip veil of ivory illusion which was applied with the same lace. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids with lilies of the valley.

Martha Mehrer, sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor. Her gown was of jade green velvet with a square neckline and a headband of matching velvet. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of gardenias.

Dressed identical to the maid of honor were the other bridesmaids Nancy Holmes of Birmingham, Barbara Mason, and Mrs. Royce Benjamin of Detroit and Audrey Braun of Birmingham.

Sports Car Cap Takes Over Male Fancy as 'Must'

NEW YORK (INS) — Remember the pink shirt fad that swept men's fashions? Here comes another for the boys — the sports car cap.

You can't cross New York's Madison Avenue, where the men are fashion-conscious, without bumping a man in a sports cap these days.

It's a cap that fits very closely to the head and has a small visor. More than anything else, it looks like the little cap gentlemen of four and five wear to Sunday school. It's usually got a buckled strap in back to hold it on as the man wearing it goes zoom in his sports car, and it comes in all colors and patterns, including plaids and checks.

Schoeffler, predicts "it's another pink shirt as far as sudden acceptance and fashion impact are concerned."

Two Plead Guilty to Assault Count

Pair Admit Accosting Local Driver in Front of Police Station

Two Flint men pleaded guilty yesterday to a citizen's charge that they knocked down and kicked him in front of the Pontiac Police station when he tried to report them.

The pair, Edward A. Estep, 23, and Carl J. Hough, 28, were jailed under $300 bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, who suspended sentence after arraignment for assault and battery.

They are to appear before McCallum again this morning.

McCallum has signed warrants after Fred Barnfather, 6040 Loretta St., claimed the pair had driven behind him on Saginaw St. Dec. 20, repeatedly ramming the rear end of his car.

He said the men drove after him when he headed for the police station. Inspector Clark M. Wheaton stated the pair could give no good explanation of their actions, since both agreed they had never seen Barnfather before.

Wheaton said the two were arrested by Genesee County Sheriff's Deputies, after their car was traced by the license number.

Hollywood Headlines:

Bergen Finally Gives In to Regular TV Program

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Edgar Bergen, who confesses "I'm the fellow who said comedians should not be on TV every week," starts a weekly TV show next Tuesday. Thus ends the longest and oddest holdout against regular TV by a top radio star. While his fellow comedians all leaped into the new medium, Bergen had steadfastly refused to follow. This was strange since Bergen was:

The first president of the Television Academy;
The first star of a coast-to-coast network (before transcontinental TV he appeared on film on 43 stations for Thanksgiving and Christmas);
The first comedian to put his show on film.

The first producer to film before an audience in bleachers.

Despite his early foray into TV, Bergen declined to do anything but an occasional guesting. But his new show "Do You Trust Your Wife?" starts Tuesday on CBS after the $64,000 Question. He told the reasons for his succumbing: "I had two ideas about television. For one thing, I didn't want to be on more than once a month. And my idea for a show was to take Charlie and Mortimer to foreign lands. But sponsors didn't want a monthly show, and they said my idea was a travelogue."

"What they were buying were comedy shows and quizzes. So I'm giving them a comedy quiz."

It's a filmed show, made at NBC of all places, in the same studio that Groucho Marx uses. The format is not dissimilar from "You Bet Your Life," but the stakes are higher.

Edgar will interview married couples with the aid of Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and the bachelor girl, Effie Klinker. This allows the dummies to insult the contestants, and Bergen can make them apologize. It seems a more graceful gimmick than that employed by Groucho, whose rough treatment of contestants sometimes riles viewers.

The ultimate prize in the Bergen show is $100 a week for a year. Winners can continue trying until they lose. Unlike the $64,000 show, none of their gains is taken from them.

"If the contestants are smart enough, they can end up with a pension for life," Bergen explained.

Volunteers to Begin Army Reserve Stints

Four area youths will be among Michigan Army Reserve volunteers leaving for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., to begin basic training Jan. 7.

They will spend six months on active duty with the army, after which they will serve for 7½ years in the active reserves.

Local volunteers are: Louis C. Scull, 17, of Farmington, who joins the 307th Ordnance Battalion; Ronald C. Marsh, 17, of Farmington, who joins the 703rd Tank Battalion; Gary L. Gardner, 17, of New Baltimore, 307th Ordnance; and Raymond J. Winkel, 17, of Washington, 703rd Tank Battalion.

U. S. to End Tax Aid on Firms' New Items

WASHINGTON (U)—At midnight tonight the government will cut off special tax benefits which have stimulated a multi-million dollar rush this fall for new freight cars, commercial aircraft and electric power plants.

The Office of Defense Mobilization said that after this deadline it will consider no more applications from railroads, airlines and electric utility companies for permission to write off in five years, for tax purposes, a substantial part of the cost of new equipment.

The cutoff results from an Eisenhower administration decision to curtail drastically the "rapid write off" tax program which has aided $32,870,000,000 of expansion in defense essential industries since 1951, when the Korean war was in progress.

The list of industries eligible for ODM "certificates of necessity" has been dwindling ever since the Korean fighting ended. But there still were 75 industries on the eligible list last summer when Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey pressed for curtailment.

Columbia Films to Appear on TV Via Package Deal

NEW YORK (U)—Columbia Pictures has announced it will rent out 104 of its old feature films to television.

This is believed to be the first time a major movie producer is making its feature pictures available to TV while retaining title.

The Columbia announcement yesterday did not say which films are involved or give financial arrangements. The full-length pictures are being released by a Columbia-owned subsidiary, Screen Gems.

The company stressed the deal "does not constitute a sale," adding: "We will maintain our title to the pictures and to all residual rights."

Several days ago, RKO-Radio pictures sold outright a 740-film library to the C. & C. Super Corp., a TV distributor, for $15,200,000.

Leo Gorrey to Divorce

LOS ANGELES (U)—Actor Leo Gorrey, 38, is suing to divorce his third wife, actress Amelia Ward. He charged cruelty and asked custody of two children, Leo Jr., 6, and Jan, 4. They were married in Ensenada, Mex., Feb. 19, 1949 and separated last Dec. 12. Gorrey was formerly married to actresses Kay Marvis and Evalene Bankston.

Disloyal-Suspect Vet Feels He'll Win Case

WASHINGTON (U)—James Kutcher said today "I think I will win" in his fight to keep his $329-a-month government compensation for loss of his legs in World War II.

Kutcher spoke to a newsman following a Veterans Administration hearing yesterday to determine whether he should be stripped of his veterans benefits because of allegedly disloyal activities.

Peyton H. Moss, chairman of the VA's Committee on Waivers and Forfeitures, said it would be next week or later before that group can reach a decision.

Kutcher said he will not give up his membership in the Socialist Workers Party even if the VA does end his benefits. He said neither he nor the party advocated violent overthrow of the government.

Earl Wilson Presents: 'The Bests During 1955'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—And so here they are, coming right at you—our 1955 "Broadway Bests."
Jaye P. Morgan was the Top Girl Singer, Al Hibbler the Top Boy Singer and Frank Sinatra the Top Everything—actor, crooner, money-maker, lover and all-around sensational guy. The Comeback of the Year was undoubtedly Paul Muni's, for he didn't allow the loss of an eye to prevent him from returning to "Inherit the Wind."
The Mirage of the Year was color TV. Whatever happened to that?

MEN OF THE YEAR: Ike, Hopalong Cassidy of Ohio State, Johnny Podres of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Sugar Ray Robinson, Sinatra and Ike's press chief, James C. Hagerly Jr. Also that fellow who was about to marry Princess Margaret, Group Captain Peter Townsend.

TV COMEDIAN OF THE YEAR: Phil Silvers. Biggest-Selling Songs: Tennessee Ernie's "Sixteen Tons" and Bill Hayes' "Davy Crockett."

MOST FORGOTTEN MURDER: Serge Rubinstein's. Biggest Bustup: Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes.

BIGGEST DEAL: Jackie Gleason's for $11,000,000. Biggest TV Upsurge: Perry Como's. Femme Fatale of the Year: Bella Darvi. Year's TV Sensations: "The $64,000 Question" and Lover Boy Hal March.

MOST OUTSTANDING JEWEL COLLECTOR: Linda Christian. Celebrity Who Was Firing on ALL Cylinders: Arthur Godfrey. Biggest Upset: The Dodgers winning the series, Phil Silvers passing Milton Berle. The Romantic Flop of the Year: Liberace and Sonja Henie.

MOST OVERWORKED JOKES: About the Davy Crockett caps and the wife who bawled out a man for bringing home a Cadillac saying, "So you missed the $64,000 Question!"

BEST B'WAY ACTRESS: Susan Strasberg. Gwen Verdon. Kim Stanley. Best New B'way Actor: Burl Ives and Andy Griffith. All-Around Nicest Guy: Don Ameche.

Most Promising New B'way Gal: Judy Tyler of "Pipe Dream." Best New Movie Star: Kim Novak. Best Movie: "Marty," with Ernest Borgnine and Betsy Blair.

This was the year, too, of Grace Kelly, Eva Marie Saint, Marlon Brando and Budd Schulberg—and the year that Brando's French doll, Josiane, dropped out of the Brando sweepstakes.

BEST NEW CAFE ACT: The McGuire Sisters. Phenom of the Year: An actor who claimed to be the son of a Personality and was quietly exposed. Animal of the Year: Rin Tin Tin. TV Spectacle of the Year: "Peter Pan." Best Giveaway Performance: The Ford Foundation's $500,000,000 charity donations.

"NECESSITY" OF THE YEAR: Air Conditioning. Somebody said every place was now air-conditioned but Hades.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT." A famed singer, whose previous Christmas gifts have been cheap key rings, has switched to ballpoint pens (value, 11c) . . . A H'wood star nabbed in a dope raid was released after "explaining" he was "doing research for a play I'm writing."

Gina Lollobrigida tells young Italian actresses, "Don't go to Hollywood. I was there five years ago—the biggest mistake I ever made" . . . George Burns' and Gracie Allen's son Ronnie was signed for a Jackie Gleason "Honeymooners" skit . . . Lou Walters asked Larry (Beauty City) Mathews to give the Latin 1/2 gals multi-color hairdos.

Dr. Ralph Bunche sighs he's being worn out by an average of three U.N. receptions a day . . . Hicks jokingly offers a gift "for the man who has nothing"—a loaf of bread . . . Imogene Coca's dramatic TV'er for U.S. Steel may become a B'way show . . . South Africa has banned Davy Crockett comic books.

Art Baker, the host of "You Asked for It" started as a guide at Forest Lawn cemetery . . . The musical, "Mr. Wonderful," auditioned 1,200 dancers for 40 chorus jobs.

Eyde Grome heard of a man who took his life's savings out of the bank for a Miami holiday. When he saw the prices he realized he hadn't lived long enough . . . That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1955, the Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

'Dollar a Year' Men Slow to Open Books

WASHINGTON (INS)—Government consultants and "dollar a year" men are moving slowly in making a public accounting of their private financial interests as ordered by President Eisenhower.

This was disclosed by a check of the Federal Register in which the specialists were to publish their stockholdings and bank accounts. The order was issued by the President in Gettysburg late last month following attacks by Democrats in Congress on alleged "conflicts of interest" involving businessmen in government.

Although Eisenhower set Dec. 28 as the deadline for the reports, only 40 of the 554 persons concerned had published their statements by that date.

India is expanding its tea trade with countries of the Middle East, New Delhi reports.

Capitol Ready for Lawmakers

Building Undergoes Big Clean-Up Job for 2nd Congress Tuesday

WASHINGTON, (INS)—Much has been done to prepare the Capitol for the second session of the 84th Congress which convenes next Tuesday.

Under Supervising Engineer Thomas F. Clancy, the whole building has undergone a massive clean-up job which began two weeks after Congress adjourned in August and wasn't completed until two nights before Christmas.

All ceilings and walls were washed down; 110 offices, 165 paintings, 64 marble and bronze busts, 26 statues, 23 marble relief portraits and one sculptured marble portrait monument also had to be cleaned.

In addition paint was applied to 40 offices, the walls of six main corridors and to all the panelwork in the Senate Chamber.

Sixty-seven huge chandeliers were scrubbed, refrigerators were overhauled, air-conditioning equipment was oiled, ventilation ducts were dusted.

The maintenance staff of about 150 workers also replaced several sections of roof, 20,000 feet of elevator cables and every single light bulb in the building.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FLOOD RESCUE BY AIR — Mrs. Joseph Hungerbuler swings from U. S. Air Force helicopter above her flood-lashed home at Scranton, Pa., last August as another person awaits rescue from window. Nearly 100 were saved by 'copters in this crisis-stricken area.

SMILING PRESIDENT — President Eisenhower whose heart attack cast shadow over nation sits up at Denver hospital in October for the first picture since his illness.

DOUBLE HAVOC — Flood waters of Quinebaug and French Rivers reached this magnesium plant's boilers at Putnam, Conn., last August, causing fire and preventing firemen from reaching scene. It was first of two New England floods which followed in the wake of hurricanes.

WEeping WIDOW — Mrs. Ann Woodward, who admitted shooting sportsman-socialite husband, weeps as she enters Mineola, N. Y., court in November to face grand jury.

DEMOCRATS ALL — Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, who is again seeking nomination, finds party symbol during September visit to Jamaica, West Indies.

'HER MAJESTY'S SERVANT' — Sir Winston Churchill, wearing decoration of Order of the Garter, held door for Queen Elizabeth as she left 10 Downing Street after dinner marking his retirement as Prime Minister last April.

MOTHER'S CONCERN — Mrs. Leon Berchard, Framington, Conn., holding baby, had just watched older daughter drown when boat capsized during rescue try in August flood.

MAN OF HOPE — Dr. Jonas E. Salk, examining specimen in Pittsburgh lab in April, produced vaccine that gave the world a boost in fight against dreaded polio.

WHEN WALL CRUMBLED — A Philadelphia fireman dashes to safety under crumbling wall which fell on spot where he had stood during October fire at lacquer plant.

LOVE LOST — Group Capt. Peter Townsend, shown in France earlier in year, lost hope of marrying Princess Margaret who, dutiful to church and state, ended the romance.

TIME WAS TELLING — Red China's Chou En-Lai, left, and India's Jawaharlal Nehru note time running out at final session of April African-Asian conference at Bandung.

DUTIFUL MAID — Britain's Princess Margaret, whose choice of duty ended romance with Capt. Peter Townsend, wears low-cut gown at February dinner in Trinidad.

DEATH WINS RACE — Able look for injured after race car at Le Mans, France, exploded in June and rained wreckage and gasoline on spectators. Seventy-nine were killed.

WHEN HOPES WERE HIGH — Soviet Premier Bulganin, President Eisenhower, France's Premier Faure and Britain's Prime Minister Eden, left to right, met at "summit" conference in Geneva, Switzerland, in July. High hopes raised there were lowered by later developments.

FLOODS HIT WEST COAST — Late in December floods described as worst in West Coast history hit three states, causing loss of life and extensive property damage. Above, a farmer stands atop his flood-marooned home south of Eureka, Calif.

ATOM SUB MAKES DEBUT — The Nautilus, first atomic-powered submarine, whipped up surface of Long Island Sound off New London, Conn., in trial runs last January. More nuclear-driven undersea craft were ordered by Navy after she passed tests with flying colors.

INFLATABLE GLOBE — A new, large and low-cost world globe, mapped in brilliant colors, is made of plastic and inflates to a full 18-inch diameter. Accurately printed with the latest map information, this durable and practical globe costs about $20, including an attractive wrought iron stand. If dropped, the inflated globe simply bounces but does not shatter, split, dent, or lose its shape. Lung power or a hand pump inflates the globe to full size in a few minutes. Deflated, the globe folds up in a small, flat package for space-saving storage or easy shipment. This globe weighs less than two pounds with its stand.

Make Counter Scale Attractive for Display

For many merchants, a counter scale for weighing is an important piece of equipment. Where goods are bought and sold by weight, the weighing scale is closely watched. Because it is in full view as long as it is in service, its finish must be attractive as well as durable. Such a finish must protect the metal surfaces beneath from rust and must be able to withstand abrasion and frequent washing.

Nellie Tayloe Ross was the first woman to be governor of any state of the Union, succeeding her husband, William Bradford Ross, as governor of Wyoming.

Washing Can Result in Soiled Clothing

Did you know that when you wash clothes with soap in hard water, you're actually defeating your purpose by creating a new form of soil?

Before soap can work up a lather in hard water to cut dirt, it has to neutralize the hardness. It does this in a most objectionable manner, as far as washing results are concerned.

The hardness minerals combine with soap in the washer—sometimes with as much as half you use—to form a sticky, clinging curd, which stays with clothing right through the drying cycle.

Later, when you do the ironing, the curd is set and hardened, to form ugly looking blotches. Fabrics lose their pliancy and feel rough to the touch. White things take on a dingy gray look. Colored garments lose their bright luster. The only way curd stains can be removed, short of vigorous and repeated spot washing and scrubbing, is with excessive use of bleach or blueing. This ultimately weakens textile fibres, shortening the useful life of clothing and linens.

Stop Excessive Moisture

Damp basements, crawl spaces, porous foundation walls and floors may all be substantial sources of water vapor which finds its way into exterior walls or into living quarters to increase the indoor relative humidity in winter. Excessive humidity can cause expensive damage to a structure. It's important to take every possible measure to block the entrance of excessive moisture from outside and to keep a house adequately ventilated.

The world's largest log cabin, built in Portland, Oregon in 1905 for the Columbia Exposition World's fair, has become a popular tourist attraction with an estimated 150,000 visitors annually.

Ceramic-on-Steel Tile Made for Building's Life

A corporation in Waltham, Mass. is making a new ceramic-on-steel wall tile guaranteed for the life of the building. The tile which is completely washable and resists all stains comes in 11 colors finished like polished granite.

It can be installed directly on dry wall construction without additional sheeting or backing, a cost saving feature of the tile.

It is fixed to the wall with a waterproof and mildewproof white adhesive. The tile is designed for installation by either the professional workman or the homeowner himself.

Remember the Fido!

Don't forget to include household pets in the Christmas spirit. A bright red bow, a sprig of holly or some bells and baubles around the neck will give Fido or Pussy the proper look.

Quarry Tile Is Tough

Don't worry about the ice or snow on your new quarry tile terrace. Extreme weather conditions won't in the least affect it. Quarry will neither crack nor undergo changes in appearance no matter how harsh the weather wets. Its color, which pervades throughout the entire body of the tile, will never fade nor change. You'll find that next spring your handsome quarry terrace will be just as attractive and serviceable as when it was first installed.

Area Rugs Keynote Decor in 1956 Home Interiors

The imaginatively designed area rug which will be used to keynote the decoration of a room will be an important development in floor coverings in 1956.

Elliott Petersen, vice president of operations of Alexander Smith, Inc., says this type of rug rather than wall-to-wall carpeting is the practical solution to floor treatments for the modern home.

Reason for the decline in popularity of wall-to-wall carpeting, says Petersen, is the changed pattern of postwar American life.

The mobility of present-day living, Petersen continues, makes it necessary for homeowners to have possessions which transfer easily from one home to another.

ATTRACTIVE FLOORING
Today, too, flooring materials are so attractive that many homeowners prefer to complement them with a rug rather than cover them altogether.

The area rug also attunes itself to modern architecture with its open-plan design and the more informal atmosphere in the home created by contemporary decoration.

Petersen expresses the belief

Hi-Fi Radio Set Needs Engineer

If Santa Claus put a high fidelity set under your Christmas tree you may have some questions about where to put it in your living room to get the best sound results.

Don't worry too much about it. Many sets today are so expertly designed to create well-diffused realistic sound that they require no special room placement to get true tone and volume or re-arranging of furniture.

One of these is the Panoramic sound system, an arrangement of loudspeakers at different angles so that practically all parts of any room are filled with the same quality of sound. James M. Toney, vice president of RCA, says such sets may be placed according to the most advantageous arrangements without any worries about sound quality.

Toney dispelled another misconception about high fidelity—namely that it is "too technical" to be operated by the average housewife. Many of the new models have only four controls, he says, the usual knobs for volume of sound and changing the speed of the record player and one knob each for treble and bass adjustment. It is, he says, merely a matter of the individual taste of the music lover how these two are adjusted.

The cabinets for the new Panoramic models have been designed for traditional and modern settings so there is sure to be one that will be harmonious with any type of room.

Enamel Inside First

When you're refinishing a cupboard, enamel the inside first. Start with the back, next do the shelves and then the insides of the doors. In some cases it's easier if you remove the doors. If this is not feasible, delay the painting of the outside surface of the doors until after the inside surfaces are dry.

Color Dictates Rug Selections

"Color, texture, and size are the contributing factors to an ever changing floor coverings scene," so stated Onnik Tashjian, a noted carpet expert.

"A celebrated trend in today's carpet fashions that will greatly affect the carpet story for 1956 is the increased use of rugs to cover areas of interest. A decorative contribution to meet this demand is a group of area rugs with abstract designs.

This year also saw the innovation of panel rugs, which are an adaptation of area rugs carried to the most literal definition. Panel rugs are 12" wide and as long as desired. They are designed to protect and decorate the area directly in front of sofas, club chairs, hearths, or even bedsides. Since the designs and sizes are special ordered, panel rugs can also be colored related with any room, and can be used most effectively over broadloom.

Color this year tells a soft pleasant story which will continue as the tale for 1956. Predominant were shades of brown in warm tones, with blue-greens a subtle second. Yellow-greens gained some popularity. In the texture department, twist and velvets were most in demand with tweedy textures showing more and more acceptance. 1955 has also been a year of further acceptance and finer usage of synthetics in carpeting.

"We look to 1956 with anticipation of new strides in carpet areas," says Tashjian. "From domestic products to those Schumacher will import from India, France, Sweden, Japan, Spain, and many other foreign lands, to bring beauty to American homes."

Yule Tree a Bird Haven

When the holidays are over and you are about to discard the tree, set the tree up, well-braced, if you are lucky enough to have a yard, and make it a home for the birds. Tie on it pieces of suet, dried bread, popcorn or kernels of corn, cranberries and grain. Install a few cans of water where they will be easily accessible.

Moths Always Survive Weather in Your Closets

Freezing weather, snowdrifts, blizzards, all mean nothing to moths, living comfortably indoors and feeling no great change in weather.

For complete moth control always keep on hand a well-rated "de-moth," preferably one which can be applied with a vacuum cleaner sprayer or blower as often as is necessary. According to directions — closets, storerooms, chests, drawers, rugs, upholstery, — all should be carefully protected.

Nail length—For 25-32-inch hardwood flooring, which is the popular thickness used in residences, a 7d nail is of sufficient length to penetrate the subflooring and joists.

COUNTRY CLUB CONTEMPORARY—Here is a house planned to exploit distant vistas from all rooms. Notice the clerestory windows at the ridge of the roof. They provide a smart accent both indoors and out.

House of the Week Blends With Rural Life Location

Homes planned to exploit magnificent views have been made possible by the trend toward larger building sites—hilltop acres, lake frontages, mountain valleys and open plains. Faster motor travel on modern highways makes living beyond crowded areas attractive and economical.

Architects have been inspired to meet this trend with house designs adaptable to country luxuries—to carefree life with elbow room. Restrictions of conventional city houses are thrown off in favor of contemporary styling to blend a house with its setting—to fit today's living habits without straining your family budget.

Such a house is shown here in Design T-303.

Planned by Caleb Hornbostel & Associates, architects, this house is economical to build. Although 60 feet wide, it is laid out in simple rectangular lines and covers only 1,383 square feet, exclusive of terrace and garage. It is appropriate to any climate and flexible in scheme to conform with a flat or sloping site.

Excavation and foundation costs are shaved when this house is built over a crawl space, or merely with a small basement under kitchen and dining room to provide for indoor play space downstairs.

ELIMINATE ROOM

If this house is built on land sloping away behind the garage, the lower level play room can be built virtually on grade and equipped with broad picture windows.

On the other hand, elimination of this play room is feasible because of the abundance of storage space which can be further enlarged by using the area devoted to cellar stairs. A place for a boiler or furnace is no problem because of the compact modern horizontal types of heating plants which can be accommodated in the crawl space adjacent to the fireplace chimney.

Three major features of this plan are its front garage placed at an angle, its spacious and sheltered terrace, and the use of clerestory windows to heighten, light and ventilate the large living room.

EASY ROAD ACCESS

The two-car garage is planned for easy access with a straight driveway from the road. It is connected to the house with a long covered breezeway across the front terrace. It is ample in size to allow for outdoor storage.

The terrace, envisioned with varicolored flag pavement can be left partly open above, with shadow line framing easily oriented to break direct sunlight. Both the front door and the kitchen door open from this terrace. It provides a secluded outdoor dining place.

The clerestory windows at the top of the living room create a smart break in the long line of the roof which is pitched just enough for the use of asphalt strip shingles.

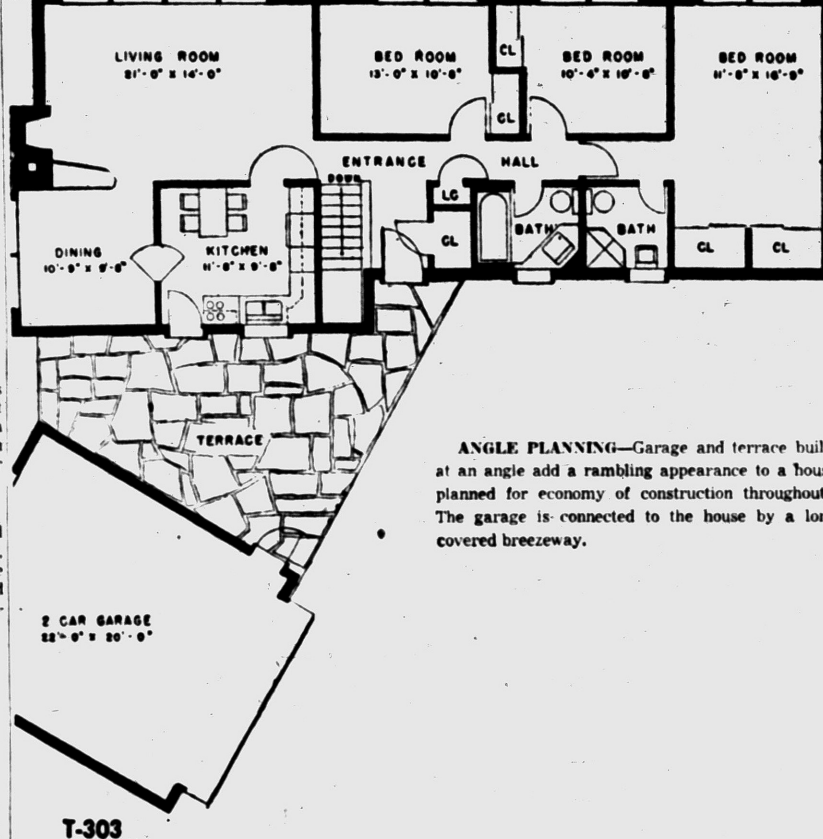

Broad roof overhangs to shade all sides of the house make orientation to your location relatively simple. As shown in the drawing, this house is planned to command the best view toward the rear.

Large windows in all rooms on that side of the house are planned to make the most of such a view. Reversing the plan could maintain this advantage in almost any location.

Privacy is insured for the sleeping rooms. The bathrooms, in addition to being conveniently located in relation to all three bedrooms, are side by side to economize on plumbing lines. All plumbing connections are at the front of the house, eliminating long pipes.

Room sizes are generous throughout, the kitchen having breakfast space for four.

ANGLE PLANNING—Garage and terrace built at an angle add a rambling appearance to a house planned for economy of construction throughout. The garage is connected to the house by a long covered breezeway.

That Cellar Playroom Won't Cost Too Much

Modern families are again realizing the advantages of roomy basements for family recreation activities as well as extra storage space. A basement can greatly increase the usable space of a house with as little as 10 per cent increase in building cost.

When surfaced with a durable and colorful material like ceramic or quarry tile, the basement readily becomes suitable for any sort of recreational use.

For Town Improvement

Redevelopment, like long range planning and zoning, must be considered a continuous project. Blighted or decadent areas should be wiped out and used for the purpose judged most sound—whether it be for light industry, heavy industry, warehouses, apartments or private homes. This statement is from the City Fights Back a handbook published by the Urban Land Institute of Washington, D.C.

Lumbermen See Booming Trade Year Repeat in '56

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—If yours is one of the 1,300,000 families that moved into a new house in the United States this year, you had a share in keeping the lumber industry prosperous.

You had a share, too, if you were one of the millions of others who stayed in their old homes but bought new furniture, or did some remodeling or attended a new church or sent their children to a new school.

For nearly 10 years now new buildings—homes and schools and barns and churches—have been part of the annual change in the face of America.

And as long as that change continues at the pace it has been, the lumber industry expects to remain prosperous.

This year, 1955, has been typical of those since World War II. It was the seventh year in a row with more than a million new homes started. Lumber prices stayed fairly level. And mills and factories all over the country hired extra shifts part of the time to keep up with demand.

LUMBER'S FINE YEAR

The two lumbers used for framing and other construction—Southern pine and Douglas fir—both ran ahead of last year in production and had one of their best seasons. The same is true for Western pine, a finishing lumber, which had the best year it ever had.

And both northern and southern hardwoods had a fine year as demand was high for their flooring and furniture-making lumber.

Most industry leaders say next year should be just as good as this—or even better if credit restrictions are eased. The money for home mortgages tightened up late in 1955 but some easing came before the end of the year.

SEES BOOM YEAR

H. V. Simpson, executive vice president of the west Coast Lumbermen's Assn., says the construction industry—both light and heavy—will do 44 billion dollars worth of business next year, a two-billion-dollar increase. And, he adds, "our industry is healthy when the light construction industry prospers."

Spokesmen for both the Southern Pine Assn. and the West Coast Lumbermen's Assn. call growth of tree farms one of the year's bright spots. There now are 7,182 tree farms covering 37 million acres, pledged to management for perpetual yield.

The Western Pine Assn. estimates that when all its records are in, 1955 production will be just about 8½ billion board feet, a new record six per cent greater than the old mark set in 1954.

At the rate Southern pine was being produced in the first nine months of the year, 1955, production was expected to total around 8½ billion feet, up nine per cent from the year before.

And Douglas fir was pointing close to 10 billion feet for the year, up strongly from strike-plagued 1954 and even with or slightly above 1953.

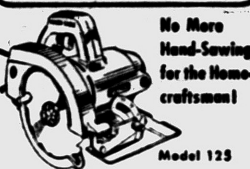

The Redwood industry of California was producing nine per cent over last year and heading for around a billion board feet for this year.

Handy Extinguisher

A push-button fire extinguisher for home use utilizes a chemical that the maker says is non-toxic and non-corrosive. The extinguisher fits in the hand and discharges its entire contents under the pressure of freon gas when the button on top is pressed.

FOR HAND TOOLS—Here is a cabinet that will hold all those wonderful hand tools that weekend craftsmen would like to get for Christmas. The beginner in wood-working with a growing stock of tools should start with the center panel and the first pair of wings which form the doors. As more tools are acquired the second pair of wings may be added. Both pairs of wings are then folded in so that the cabinet when closed and locked requires no more wall space, as shown at the lower left in the sketch. The tool cabinet and the bench pattern are 25 cents each and should be ordered by number. Write to Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

A Lot of TV Sets

Two thirds of the households in this country have television sets, says the Census Bureau. Back in 1950 one in eight households were twirling their knobs. The recent survey showed that about 32 million sets . . . Tv set production may hit 8,200,000 this year. Previous peak was five years ago when 7,500,000 sets cascaded down the production lines.

New Cleanser Removes Oil Stains on Wallpaper

Grease or oil stains on wallpaper can be removed without rubbing with a new cleanser that is applied in a paste-like form from a metal tube. The remover is spread with a knife to form a layer one-eighth of an inch thick over the stained area. After allowing it to dry thoroughly for about 45 minutes, the powder can be removed by wiping gently with a soft clean cloth.

Unlike paint, varnish should not be shaken or stirred before using. Disturbing the liquid tends to create bubbles which remain in the finish when the varnish film dries.

American Furniture Sales Surpass All-Time Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Americans spent more this year on furniture than ever before, furniture makers report.

Almost nobody today buys "Borax"—the plush and imitation wood veneer furniture that was popular a few years ago. Prices are higher than last year, and may rise more in 1956.

The National Assn. of Furniture Manufacturers estimates the household furniture industry's 1955 sales volume of $2,275,000,000—a 15 per cent gain over 1954.

The huge sales volume doesn't necessarily mean Americans bought more pieces of furniture in 1955, since prices are higher. Some manufacturers marked up their lines of furniture three per cent in June and another three per cent in November, at the American furniture mart's summer and fall shows.

Whiting said the increases are not arbitrary, but result from spiraling costs of wood, other raw materials and labor. He predicted an average price increase for all furniture makers of five per cent by January.

Everyone agrees that modern furniture remains the choice of most homemakers. Opinions about what is next most popular vary in the industry.

Here's a Gimmick for Home Handyman

A versatile new liquid rubber that spreads from a fold-up metal tube and dries to a tough elastic rubber is now available for the home handyman.

The new product, which can be thinned with water to waterproof fabrics, dries soft and elastic and will not dry out or chip off, it is claimed. The maker recommends that the nozzle of the metal tube be used as a spreading tool to achieve the thickness of coat desired. Drying time varies from ten minutes for thin coats to overnight for thick coats.

For the hobbyist and the "do-it-yourselfer" the liquid rubber is said to have a great variety of uses about the house. Some of the suggested uses are for repairing insulation on electric wires, mending rips in rugs, linoleum, upholstery, convertible auto tops and baby carriage tops, mending torn clothing, leather jackets, gloves and umbrellas, halting windshield leaks and auto body rattles and squeaks, repairing raincoats and rubber boots, and waterproofing leather shoes.

Give Kitchen Floors Attractive Coloring

Open floor plan designing which is growing in popularity in new home construction, is partially responsible for bringing color to the kitchen. As the home opens up, drawing the kitchen into the fold rather than alienating it from the other rooms, the need for harmonious, warm decoration throughout becomes imperative.

In response to this modern decorating challenge, many steel kitchen cabinet makers now offer durable baked enamel finishes on their wall and base units in a variety of shades including white. Today, you can select steel cabinets in a tone that blends or contrasts effectively with literally any color scheme prevailing in the dining and living quarters of the home.

Satchmo Seeks Moscow Visit

Jazz Artist Completes European Tour; Wants Russian Engagement

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong wound up a three-month tour of Europe on a high key tonight — and with one blue note.

"I'd still like to blow my horn for those cats in Russia," the veteran jazz trumpeter, now 55, said before departing by plane for New York. "I'd go in a minute if I could. My trumpet don't know nuthin' about politics. And I wouldn't do anything there in Russia but blow my horn for those kids."

Armstrong made his first bid for a Moscow engagement while playing in Geneva during the Big Four foreign ministers conference in November. Although his pitch got wide attention in the world press, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave no indication that he read the papers.

Armstrong was exuberant over his reception throughout Europe. "We had to take encores on everything we played, and that doubled all our shows," he said. Asked if any country on the continent was more hep to jazz than others, Satchmo replied:

"They're all just like New Orleans. The fans came in like they were coming to a football game — relaxed at all times. We enjoyed playing for them. They're just like a bunch of kids. They know what you're doing all the time. They're all up on their jazz."

Satchmo had a diplomatic reply in comparing European musicians with American jazz artists.

"They play about the same," he said. "If your soul's right and your mind's right, the music comes out the same. A note's a note."

Armstrong toured Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, France, Germany, Spain and Italy.

Armstrong said he will get "vacation" in New York — one day. Then he goes to Hollywood to make a movie with Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra called "High Society."

Dog Falls Into Pit, Meets Another; Both Are Rescued

ST. NICHOLAS AT WADE, England (AP)—A mongrel named Bella fell into a hole 40 feet deep yesterday.

This was a lucky thing for a thoroughbred boxer named Woo Woo, who had been sitting at the bottom for four days hoping somebody would turn up.

Bella's master Ross Baldock descended the abandoned sewer shaft with a rope ladder and was astonished to find not only Bella but Woo Woo as well. He rescued both dogs unharmed.

Woo Woo was restored to his mistress, Miss Triston Jones. She said he vanished Christmas Day.

"Except for Bella," she declared, "he would have starved to death."

Pentagon to Pour Cash Into Industry

Aircraft, Missile Production Earmarked for Lion's Share From Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, biggest spender in government, will continue to pour money into industry during 1956 at about the same pace as in 1955.

As the year ended, defense expenditures for weapons, equipment, food, clothing, pay and all the other things needed to keep the Armed Forces going, was approaching a monthly rate of about $3.2 billion dollars.

A large part of defense spending goes directly to industry and labor, for the production of "hard goods."

As an example, during the current fiscal year the Defense Department probably will pay out about 10 billions for Air Force, Navy and Army planes. Guided missile expenditures may total about 1 1/2 billion.

During the past year there have been cut-backs in some areas of defense spending, like the decision to reduce the production rate of medium tanks. But these reductions in some items are offset by other factors. Among them were orders to step up production of the Air Force B52 jet heavy bombers and a Navy preliminary letter of intent to go into production of the big jet-powered Seamaster sea-based patrol plane.

The Air Force will continue to get the biggest share of defense spending money. This is accounted for not only by the modernization program but by the expansion of the Air Force.

UM Student, 75, Attends College to Keep on Living

FRANK W. PLUNKETT
ANN ARBOR (AP)—"I won't suffer a living death in a rocking chair on a porch watching the world go by."

With that, Frank W. Plunkett gives you a very candid reason why he is studying at the University of Michigan. You see, Plunkett is 75, a former professor at Arkansas State College.

Further says Prof. Plunkett, "I'm not going to admit I'm dead until they send the hearse after me."

In the whirl of over 20,000 students, Prof. Plunkett, a former English professor, is going to lead any such vehicle on a merry chase. He's an avid student of creative writing and goes to class four days a week.

The fourth day is probably the best. He goes to a coffee conference with his professor, Robert F. Waugh, and his roommate and former student John F. Kerr.

BEGAN SCHOOL IN 1902
But it's all enjoyment for the man who first entered college at the University of Missouri in 1902 and finally retired in 1952. He's also master cook of the trailer home he shares with Kerr.

Why does a professor of English decide to study creative writing? "I got started in it after some friends suggested the idea when I felt so terribly lost after my retirement. Since then I've become deeply interested in writing."

"Though I feel I might have some talent along this line I have no illusion about carving a big name for myself in the field of writing," Plunkett said.

Like most writers, he admits his moods vary from happiness to despair, but his work for his class is beginning to take the shape of a novel, which is more than younger writers like to tackle right off.

"I do know I'll probably never be another Steinbeck or Hemingway," he said, "but I also know that I'm doing something I'm deeply interested in."

Show Biz Celebrates Helen Hayes' Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Show business personalities turned out practically en masse last night to celebrate actress Helen Hayes' 50 years before the footlights.

The affair in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel also was attended by numerous socialites.

Many stage notables re-enacted highlights of roles in which Miss Hayes starred during her career.

Miss Hayes watched the proceedings from a stage box in the ballroom.

All receipts from the affair—the charge was $50 per person—went to the American Theatre Wing, a professional organization currently headed by Miss Hayes.

Snow Menacing 2 Alaska Cities

Anchorage, Cordova Hit With Worst Winter in Twenty Years

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Two Alaska cities were in a "state of emergency" today as snow continued to pile up in the worst winter storm in two decades.

From Cordova on Prince William Sound to Fairbanks in central Alaska, roads and highways were blocked, traffic was snarled, rail travel restricted and airports closed.

The Weather Bureau predicted more snow accompanied by a cold wave which could send temperatures to 50 below zero in some areas.

With 40 inches on the ground and more snow falling, Mayor Ken Hinchey of Anchorage, Alaska's largest city, called on its 50,000 residents to shut down their businesses and remain in their homes.

Ty Clark of the Anchorage Times said the situation was "real bad." He said 28 inches of snow had fallen since the storm started Monday, "and it's still falling."

The temperature was 15 above and winds with gusts up to 20 miles an hour were drifting the snow.

Abandoned autos, blocked city streets and alleyways.

An earthquake added to Anchorage's woes. A tremor rattled dishes and shook windows at 6:05 a.m. yesterday but caused no serious damage.

India has about 170,000,000 cattle, or one-third of the world's cattle production.

Navy Extends Study of Diseases to Orient

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The U. S. Navy has extended its study of infectious diseases to Formosa. A research unit will study the diseases and the animals and insects that carry the germs.

There are similar research groups at Cairo, Egypt, Berkeley, Calif., and Great Lakes, Ill. Such studies are expensive but, as the Navy has learned, cheap in the long run.

In World War II, for example, elephantiasis in Samoa caused the equivalent of a marine battalion to become ineffective for four years at a total estimated cost to the U. S. government of 50 million dollars.

Automotive Industry May See Drop in Trade at the Beginning

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Asso. Press Automotive Editor

Detroit (AP)—A wide difference of opinion prevails in automotive trade sources as to how many new cars will be sold in 1956.

It is no secret that sales volume since the introduction of 1956 models was somewhat lower than most experts expected. Some sections report buyers continue to expect price concession comparable to those offered on outgoing 1955 models.

The manufacturers generally are saying next year's retail deliveries may top the indicated 1955 total of around 7 1/4 million. That obviously would mean another high production mark.

The inventories are heavy; they moved up 140,000 units from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1, when they stood at nearly 710,000.

POLLS DISAGREE
Some agencies that make a business of surveying the new car market potential do not go along with the car makers' optimism. They say a decline is indicated in the 1956 total.

One of the agencies, the Value Line Investment Survey, forecasts a 17 per cent decrease in sales next year. The Crowell-Collier Survey, made in mid-year and announced a few weeks ago, put next year's indicated retail sales at 5,480,000 cars.

The experts say the immediate reaction to new model presentations is not a good barometer of a year's overall demand for new cars. They point to what happened in December, 1954. In that first month of 1955 model introductions retail deliveries were at an annual rate of 6,840,000. They gained enough momentum during the ensuing 12 months to boost this to an indicated 7 1/4 million.

It is one of the oddities of the automotive industry that its prosperity more often than not is judged on the basis of factory output. The true barometer, of course, is retail deliveries. But, while the factory heads will tell you their production schedules are based on indicated demand, it is virtually impossible to maintain an exact balance between output and retail deliveries.

Throughout the postwar era to date there has been either a shortage or a surplus of cars. Shortages means high retail prices. A surplus brings keener competition and price concessions.

The period of actual shortage ended almost the instant government restrictions on production were lifted. Barring another war or serious threat of war that would limit material availability to the car makers, there will be no shortage in the future.

Ford to Hike Production Schedule of Continentals
DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co.'s Continental division today reported a backlog of customer orders equivalent to three months of production.

William C. Ford, general manager of the division, said the December schedule of 16 cars a day will be increased to 20 a day in January. He said production schedules are determined by anticipated demand.

"We expect by the end of 1956 there will be some 4,000 Continentals on the road," Ford said.

CLIFFORD E. MAISON

The promotion of Clifford E. Maison to the position of Pontiac district manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. will go into effect Monday, firm officials announced yesterday.

Maison, assistant manager here for 23 years, succeeds Arthur L. Norris who retired recently after 35 years with Prudential.

Associated with the firm for 27 years, the new manager is credited with being responsible for a group sales record which has been the highest in a 7-state area for nearly two years.

The office also recently led the company in U.S. sales for a brief period.

Active in civic affairs for many years, Maison is a past exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge in Pontiac, and is a member of the Pontiac Underwriters Assn.

He is the father of two children.

Key Employees Get Ford Plan

Exchange Commission Gets 2 Statements on Stock for Officials Only

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. filed two registration statements with the Securities and Exchange Commission yesterday covering the sale of stock available only to its key employees.

The filing, essentially a formality, covers plans outlined last week in the Ford prospectus covering the public offering next month of 10,000,000 shares now held by the Ford Foundation Inc. The filing was required in view of Ford's pending shift from family to partial public ownership.

One of the statements seeks the registration of 2,160,000 shares of common stock which "have been issued or may be issued" to officers and key employees under options granted in a 1953 plan.

This stock may be bought by 107 top Ford executives at the price fixed in 1953, of $21 a share. This is only about one-third of the probable price at which the new public offering will be made on about Jan. 18.

These executives already have purchased the equivalent of 647,100 shares under these options. They are eligible to buy 1,513,500 more costing some $31,783,500 at $21 a share.

The second registration covers a new plan to issue options on 900,000 shares at any time up to Jan. 5, 1961, to "officers and other salaried employees of the company and its subsidiaries."

Each option will provide that it may not be exercised until two years after the date it is granted, but thereafter may be exercised over the next eight years.
