Fatalities Rise as Homeward Rush Begins

Shot Storeowner, Abducted Wife

Royal Oak Chemist Held for Murder, Kidnap Ride

A 30-year-old Royal Oak man was being held in Midland today for investigation in the fatal shooting of a gasoline station manager and the kidnaping of his wife.

Midland County prosecutor James R. Rood, said he would ask a murder warrant against Edward Graham, in the slaying of Eugene Duncan, 44. Duncan operated a service station in a rural area about 17 miles west of Midland.

He died early today at Midland Hospital where he was taken yesterday after being shot in an attempted robbery that followed the abduction of his wife, Emma, 42.

State Police Sgt. Guy Babcock said Graham told him he shot Duncan when the latter argued with him in a holdup attempt.

Babcock gave this account of events leading to the shooting:

Graham first appeared at the station about 6:45 a.m. yesterday and found it closed. He pounded on the door and Mrs. Duncan answered. After she had put $1.50 worth of gasoline in his car, Graham said:

"This is a stickup and I'm not fooling." Graham forced the woman back into the station, which also serves as a store. The Duncans lived in quarters in the rear.

Duncan was hard of hearing and the couple's son, Robert, 15, is a sound sleeper so neither heard the disturbance.

FORCED INTO CAR

After Mrs. Duncan convinced Graham she had no money he forced her to accompany him on a ride through the countryside and into Midland. Mrs. Duncan said her abductor made several advances but left her alone when he learned she was expecting a child.

Graham then drove back to the grocery and went into the store with Mrs. Duncan. As they entered Duncan came out to investigate. Graham forced Duncan into the living quarters and the shooting followed.

Babcock quoted Graham as saying he thought Duncan had a gun behind his back.

Duncan was struck by three bullets. One shot went wild.

Graham then forced Mrs. Duncan into the Duncan car and drove off.

Police were called by Robert Duncan who had been awakened by the shooting.

NABBED AT ROADBLOCK

Graham offered no explanation for his actions except that he "was confused after busting up with my girl friend at Mt. Pleasant Saturday night."

He said he had been visiting his mother Mrs. Charles Moore, near Midland.

FBI Joins Hunt for Kidnaper

Suspect Baby Abducted From Buggy at Store by 'Would-Be Mother'

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Police officials pored over detail after detail of the kidnaping of 6-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo, but they admitted frankly today: "We have nothing solid."

State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman said investigators pinned their hopes on the conscience of the woman they believe snatched the baby from her carriage outside a crowded department store Saturday.

The FBI made its official step into the case yesterday afternoon, exactly 24 hours after the kidnaping.

For six hours, 600 volunteer searchers—from off-duty milkmen to Boy Scouts—plodded through swamps, fields and gullys in a fine rain. Small ponds were drained, rivers dragged. Police reported no clues from the search.

The parents of the baby, meanwhile, sat close to a telephone after going to mass at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Roman Catholic church. They continued to make television and radio appeals for the safe return of their baby.

Their two other children, an 8-year-old boy and a 19-month-old child, stayed in the house with them.

Two previous children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ruotolo—he's an $80-a-week salesman — had died. One infant was dropped by a neighbor boy and died of a head injury. The other died of pneumonia.

Police ran down leads of all kinds. One came from Pittsburgh, where a baby girl about 4 to 6 weeks old was found dead on the banks of the river. The infant's fingerprints and foot prints were rushed here and matched with Cynthia's. Police said they didn't jibe.

State's Atty. Ullman said he was convinced more than ever this was not a kidnaping for ransom. He said that left two possibilities:

"One, that the baby was kidnaped by a frustrated woman who had a deep need for a baby; two, that the baby was stolen for sale, a possibility which was remote, and one I wouldn't stress."

Ullman said he was urging that appeals to the abductor be continued in the hope that it will stir her conscience.

Nixon Maintains Vigil as Father Grows Weaker

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon's ailing father grew weaker yesterday but the family physician said he still was "alert and sharp as a tack."

Dr. I. N. Kraushaar said 77-year-old Frank A. Nixon's respiration was labored and shallow. Oxygen was administered almost continuously, the physician reported.

The elderly man has been critically ill since Aug. 22 from the effects of a ruptured abdominal artery, a hemorrhaging stomach ulcer, severe arthritis and arteriosclerosis.

After a visit last night, Dr. Kraushaar declined to predict whether his patient would live through the night.

The doctor said Nixon suffers from severe spasms of pain that have weakened his heart.

Warrens in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—U. S. Chief Justice Earl Warren and his wife arrived here today after an 18-day visit to India. He leaves for Manila tomorrow.

Buryin's Called Off— Pot-o-Gold to Go On

A buryin' has been called off—thanks to the thousands of Press readers who every week take pencils in hand and become word detectives.

The funeral was set for today: a few words, a sigh or two, and our Pot-O-Gold would have been as dead as last month's news. But we reckoned not with reader interest when we set the date some 14 puzzles ago.

And so we've granted our word contest a reprieve—how many weeks or months it will last will depend on your response.

Be sure of one thing, though: before it's over someone or two will have all of the money in our Pot, including the $700 at stake as of last Friday.

But even if the Pot's current contents should go to a winner this week, you'll win at least $100 if you solve Puzzle No. 14, starting in today's Press. Study the clues on Page 16, and then pick 16 words from the following list of 34:

Acre, alert, area, blond, brown, brush, cab, car, cat, catch, diver, drive, gin, gun, halt, haul, knit, later, lapse, match, mink, noble, pink, pleas, pose, raw, robin, shrub, soap, suit, ties, visit, vista, war.

Don't forget — if you entered last week's contest (No. 13), your entries must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday to be eligible for a $700 prize. The results will be announced in the Press on Friday.

Traffic Officials Await Tonight's Clogged Roads

Extra Caution Urged on Nation's Drivers by Safety Head

Traffic was rolling smoothly throughout Oakland County early today but the worst hours of the Labor Day weekend were expected from this afternoon through midnight when the holiday travelers head for home.

One person has already died and another remains on the critical list from county accidents. Twelve traffic fatalities had been reported in Michigan and a total of 302 across the nation up to this morning.

The Labor Day toll is threatening to break the 1951 record of 461 and match or even surpass the National Safety Council's prediction of 480.

Traffic officials throughout the county reported everything under control this morning but were making preparations for the expected jam tonight.

"We expect very heavy traffic in the lake area today and tonight," commented Det. Charles Leaf of the Pontiac State Police.

ROUGH NIGHT AHEAD

"It will be rough tonight around the county when they start heading for home," a spokesman for the Sheriff's Department told the Press.

Traffic safety groups everywhere are urging motorists to plan motor trips early in order to get ahead of the rush when traffic tie-ups are expected on all major highways.

Locally, the Red Cross' Highway Holiday Patrol will be back out on duty from 4 to 10 p.m. today to aid police in keeping the cars moving and handling injured persons.

An estimated three million cars will have traveled on state highways before the weekend is concluded as an indication of residents everywhere taking advantage of the only long weekend of the year.

An idea of things to come tonight was indicated last night at St. Ignace when motorists were forced to wait four hours for Straits of Mackinac ferries.

Ned H. Dearborn, President of the National Safety Council, is requesting that every driver meet this extra danger with extra care.

"The remaining hours are the most dangerous," he said today. "Every motorist must become aware that every mile of highway and every street corner is a potential danger point."

Grab That Raincoat, Showers for Tonight

The forecast for the Pontiac area tonight will be partly cloudy, becoming windy and warmer. The temperature will be a low of 64 to 68 degrees.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms is the prediction for late tonight and tomorrow with a high of 82 to 86 degrees.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 59 degrees. At 1 p.m. the thermometer reached 82 degrees.

Holiday Scenes at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area

LABOR DAY FROLICS — Scenes like these were typical in Oakland County during the Labor Day holiday, as sunny skies and fair weather drew thousands to the highways and beaches. At Pontiac Lake Recreation, both picnicking and a cooling dip were the order of the day, before the long trek home over clogged highways. Pontiac Press Photos

10,000 to Hear Adlai at Picnic

Democratic Candidate Expected to Spell Out 'New America' Plans

Clear and warm weather is expected to greet some 10,000 Labor Day celebrants at Murphy Park to hear Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai E. Stevenson speak at the Oakland County CIO celebration.

Stevenson and many thousands can well remember the sudden thunderstorm that drenched the crowd in 1952 when he made his last appearance here.

The festivities, sponsored by the Oakland County CIO Council, are to begin at 12:30 with flag-raising ceremonies. Stevenson is expected to speak around 4 p.m., arriving here after a Detroit rally.

Besides Stevenson, the council has invited Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, UAW President Walter P. Reuther, Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the International UAW; William McAuley, director of Region 1-B; August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, and Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

ENTERTAINMENT

The afternoon and evening program will include music by the Pontiac High School Band, an amateur contest (anyone can enter at the park until 6 p.m.), a baton twirling contest, refreshments, softball and other games.

In his Detroit speech, Stevenson is expected to call again for a program for a "new America" and also accuse the Republicans of "blindness" toward depression on the farm, unemployment in factories and a cost of living "rising to an all-time record high point."

He promised to spell out in detail during his grass-roots campaign, which began last week, his plans for the "new America" based on "expanded programs of unemployment insurance, worker retaining, guaranteed annual wage" and other programs.

Stevenson also was expected to pledge to fight the "ugly patches of poverty and insecurity" which he said still deny dignity and even decency to "almost one-fifth of all American families."

He was expected to endorse a proposal of Gov. Williams to raise the minimum wage above the recently enacted $1 an hour and provide higher unemployment benefits.

Speaking at the same rally, Williams is expected to give his "assurance" to Stevenson there will be no labor swing to the Republican Party in Michigan.

But Williams was expected to deny his party is a "labor party." "Neither you nor I want a labor party in America," he said in a prepared speech to the press. "The Democratic party is not a labor party. The Democratic party is a people's party because it is a party of the people."

Yule Music Points Up Traffic Danger

KINSTON, N. C. (AP)—Disc Jockey Nick Royes of radio station WFTC here is playing Christmas records throughout the long Labor Day weekend as a traffic safety measure.

Royes says he is playing the records for "those of you who will not be with us next Christmas.

Give Dulles Plan for Suez to Nasser at Cairo Talks

CAIRO (AP)—The five-nation mission to Cairo handed the Dulles plan for international operation of the Suez Canal to President Nasser today during a half-hour meeting.

The fateful talks opened in an air of relaxed good humor. But Nasser has said he will never agree to the international control that is the heart of the plan proposed by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and backed by 18 maritime nations.

Nasser only last night threatened to fight and seek Soviet aid "if attacked." And his commander in chief, Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, was quoted by the newspaper Al Akbar today as saying Egyptian Army mobilization is completed and "our forces are strategically deployed to meet any situation."

Nasser was smiling as he welcomed the mission, headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies. Chiefs of delegations and aides made up a party of 15.

With Nasser were Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, a foreign affairs adviser who was Egypt's observer at the 22-nation Suez Conference in London last month.

The Dulles plan gained backing of the 18 nations at that conference. A minority proposal introduced by India was that Egypt keep running the canal she took over July 26, with backseat advice from an international group.

Participating in the meeting are Australia, the United States, Sweden, Iran and Ethiopia.

They were chosen by the majority at the recent Suez confernce in London to seek a peaceful solution to the crisis caused five weeks ago by Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal Co.

BOTH SIDES HOPING

Hope the talks would not end in utter stalemate was voiced by both Egyptians and foreigners.

Makes Convention Bid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boston has invited the American Legion to hold its 1958 or 1960 national convention in that city. The invitation was presented yesterday to the Legion's National Convention Commission.

Press Series to Tell How Nasser Ticks

Is he the world's most dangerous man?

Some European political leaders describe President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt that way. They all agree he's one of the least-known, most controversial figures on the world stage today.

What does Nasser want? What are his goals and ambitions? How did he prepare for the important role he now plays at the age of 38?

Answers to these and other vital questions are provided in a fascinating, timely series—"Egypt's Nasser—The World He Wants"—Starting tomorrow in The Pontiac Press. Don't miss it.

More Jobs in '56 Than Ever, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration trumpeted a new high in employment today, Labor Day 1956—but declared more must be done to provide jobs and security.

Eisenhower and Labor Secretary James Mitchell laid emphasis on high employment figures. Mitchell revealed 66,800,000 Americans had jobs in August. He forecast auto industry employment will increase in September.

Eisenhower, in his annual Labor Day message, said despite the job record, some still are unable to find work.

"As long as this is so," he declared, "a government must seek to perfect its ways of helping people find jobs and providing security for those who are unemployed through no fault of their own."

Suez Pilots Plan Strike

PORT SAID, Egypt (INS) — All European Suez Canal pilots, numbering about 150, were reliably reported today to be forcing a showdown by threatening a mass walkout unless Egypt accepts international control of the waterway.

County Has 3; State Total: 20, Nationally—377

Crash Claims Soldier, Detroit Boy Drowns; Fire Kills Area Man

Three accidental deaths marred the first two days of the Labor Day weekend in Oakland County and traffic officials were fearing the worst, with the going home hours of the holiday yet to come.

At 1 a.m. Pontiac time, Associated Press figures for the nation showed at least 296 traffic deaths, 40 drownings, and 41 deaths from miscellaneous causes for an overall total of 377.

For statistical purposes the 78-hour holiday period began at 6 p.m. (Local Time) and ends at midnight tonight.

Twenty deaths had occurred in Michigan. These include 12 by traffic accidents, six drownings, and two in fires. The National Safety Council has estimated some 480 will die in the nation before the weekend is ended.

A traffic accident, a drowning, and a fire resulted in the county deaths with a fourth person on the critical list after being hit by a car.

Dead are: Weldon Wolf, 20, of the U. S. Army stationed in Ferndale; James C. Gilreath Jr., 3, of Detroit; and Marlow J. Heintz, 72, of 75 Hadsell St., Bloomfield Township.

Wolf, a specialist third class, died Sunday at St. Joseph Hospital as the result of injuries suffered early Saturday morning when his car went off the road on Golf Drive and struck a tree at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course. Death was reportedly caused by a fractured skull and internal injuries.

The Gilreath child was a drowning victim at Pleasant Lake in West Bloomfield Township last night. Oakland County Sheriff Department skin diver Bill Jackson began diving for the boy's body today. All dragging efforts failed last night following the incident.

BOAT FLIPS

According to a Sheriff Department report, James was riding in a 14-foot boat powered by a 40 horsepower motor when the boat flipped over 200 feet off shore in 25 feet of water.

Deputies said the boy's father, James Sr., was driving the boat which overturned when he attempted to make a sharp turn to return to shore. Five other occupants were recovered by nearby boaters.

Heintz was found dead near the front door of his home by Bloomfield Township firemen just before noon Sunday as they answered a fire call.

The small four-room home was completely destroyed by flames. Firemen have been unable to determine the cause of the fire. The dead man's wife was in Pontiac working at the time of the fatal blaze.

Remaining on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital Lester P. Daigleish, 39, of 3747 Lakeville Rd., Oxford. He suffered severe

Outstaters Irked by Emphasis on City Candidates

GOP Puts Van Dusen, Martin on Ticket

State Rep. Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, won the attorney general nomination with little opposition Saturday, as Michigan Republicans picked their state ticket for the November election.

Van Dusen, at 31, is the youngest man on the ticket for what both parties agree will be the toughest campaign in years.

The dispute revolved around the nomination of Frank B. Padzieski, a Dearborn insurance man and political unknown, for state treasurer.

ON COBO TEAM

Padzieski was the hand-picked choice of Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, who felt the ticket needed someone sure to draw the Polish-Catholic vote.

Padzieski's nomination gave the Detroit area four of the six Republican nominees on the Nov. 6 ballot. Two Supreme Court nominees, both from outstate, will appear on a nonpartisan ballot.

Indicative of outstate discontent were the remarks of George Van Koevering, publisher of the weekly newspaper at Zeeland and chairman of the Ottawa County delegation.

"They figure we will thrust into the Wayne County vote this fall, but I don't think so and a lot of other party workers feel the same way," Van Koevering said.

He added he had talked to some outstate delegates who are disgusted enough at the convention outcome to stay home from the polls.

DEAL WITH BAGWELL

The fight for treasurer was the only one carried to the floor. But an all-night battle between John B. Martin Jr. and Paul D. Bagwell for secretary of state almost spilled over to Saturday's formal session.

Bagwell, a Michigan State University professor, who had the support of younger party elements, capitualted at a dawn meeting with Cobo and agreed to run for auditor general.

His withdrawal provided the key to the rest of the ticket. It gave Martin the secretary of state nomination and Bagwell went on to win the auditor general spot.

The convention chose Circuit Judge John Simpson of Jackson, and Michael J. O'Hara of Menominee, as nonpartisan candidates for the State Supreme Court.

British Still Hunt Russian Hatlifter

Woman Athlete Hiding Somewhere in Country, Reds Tell Police

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard pushed a dogged search for Nina Ponomareva today but some of the British press voiced a plaintive hope that the police never catch her.

Immigration officials at all sea and air terminals were ordered to be on the lookout for the fugitive Soviet discus thrower who is accused of shoplifting five hats and jumping bail.

The Soviet Embassy, which denounced the whole thing as a "dirty provocation," said Nina was still in hiding in Britain but declined to tell where.

Meanwhile, the boss of the store where the allegedly light-fingered Nina was arrested said he personally was willing to drop the shoplifting charge but would have to consult his board of directors.

Said store manager Bernard Brenninkmeyer, "I do not think we should upset the world for 30 shillings."

The value of the hats was 32 shillings 11 pence or about $4.60.

The Russians called off a field meet Saturday between the Soviet team, of which Nina was a member, and an all-star British squad.

The Soviet team boarded a chartered plane and flew home today. Nina's name was scratched from the passenger list only 30 minutes before the athletes arrived at the airfield. Two Scotland Yard security men were on hand and peered closely at the women passengers.

Authorities pointed out Nina would still be in trouble even if the store withdrew the shoplifting charge.

Magistrate Clyde T. Wilson issued a warrant for her arrest last Thursday when she failed to appear in court and it is doubtful whether under British law the magistrate could withdraw his own warrant even if he wanted to.

The Daily Sketch, which normally supports the Conservative government, denounced the continuing police search for Nina as a major diplomatic blunder.

"We would all be heartily glad" the Sketch declared, "to hear she was safely out of the country. We most certainly do not want to hear that she has been picked up by police. There has been more than enough trouble about five cheap hats."

Holiday Accidents Claim 41 in Canada

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Police blotters across Canada today showed 41 persons dead in accidents, 36 of them in traffic mishaps, as the Labor Day weekend entered its last day.

In last year's Labor Day weekend, traffic accidents claimed 55 victims out of a total of 81.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to 2:30 a.m. today showed Ontario with 17 fatalities, Quebec with 15 and Nova Scotia with 5, all in traffic.

British Columbia and Manitoba recorded two traffic deaths each.

None Hurt as California Streamliner Is Derailed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The engine of a San Diego-bound Santa Fe streamliner train derailed and a baggage car being switched in the yard was overturned last night in a collision at Union Station.

There were no injuries.

The San Diegan, carrying about 200 passengers, was just leaving the station at 9 p.m. when, the engineer reported, the wheels of the diesel engine unit were diverted to the wrong track.

V. M. Serna, terminal car foreman, said it would take about eight hours to right the baggage car and get the diesel engine back on the track. A second train was made up to take the passengers on to San Diego.

Plan Platform Where President Will Take Oath

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big stage where Dwight D. Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson will stand next January to repeat the presidential oath is already being planned.

Bids will be opened tomorrow for construction of the platform on the steps of the Capitol. Work on it is expected to get under way in two weeks, to assure completion before winter weather arrives.

The law says Jan. 20 is the date for a president to take office. However, Jan. 20, 1957, falls on Sunday. So present prospects are that a private oath-taking ceremony will be held on that day with the big show——the one that the public will get to see—slated for the following day on the Capitol grounds.

Congress earlier this year adopted a resolution authorizing the public ceremony, but turned aside a suggestion by Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of a Senate-House committee handling inauguration plans, that it be mandatory.

In front of the stage will be seats for some 15,000 spectators. The cost of building and taking down the stage and seats is estimated at about $300,000.

County Has Three Holiday Fatalities

injuries early Saturday when he was struck by a car and thrown against another vehicle in Orion Township.

Deaths include:

RIVER CLAIMS 2

Robert Wuebben, 45, and his son, Robert Jr., 11, of Detroit, drowned Sunday when a boat upset on the Manistee river near Cadillac.

Mike Sewak, 432, of Hamtramck, Joseph Tawlak, 62, of Detroit, and Mrs. Eleanor Krezosheyft, 31, of Allen Park, died in a two-car collision Saturday night on a road 10 miles southeast of Cass City.

Donald Johnson, 23, of Plymouth, was killed Sunday when his car collided with another at Warren and Ford Roads in Wayne County.

Virginia Warren, 38, of Mt. Clemens was fatally injured Sunday in a two car collision at 23 Mile Road and North Ave., Macomb Township, Macomb County.

CAR IGNITES

Mrs. Herman Mariani, 56, of Iron River, was killed Saturday when a car in which she was riding was hit by another car and then caught fire near Iron River.

George Dunbar, 71, of Port Huron was struck and killed by a car Saturday as he walked across a bridge near his home.

Benjamin Dumilier, 60, of Monroe, was struck and killed by a car near Monroe Saturday night.

Walter E. Bond, 69, and his wife, Ivy, 68, of Port Huron, drowned Saturday while on a canoe trip in the Au Sable river three miles east of Mio.

MOTORBOAT OVERTURNS

Joseph Washington, 40, of Detroit, drowned Friday night when a motorboat in which he was a passenger overturned in the Detroit river off Belle Isle.

Ernest Joe Hartway, 75, of Richmond, was killed in a two-car collision Sunday near Mt. Clemens.

Asa W. Green, 70, of West Branch was fatally injured Sunday in a two-car collision at the intersection of M33 and M55 east of West Branch.

Mrs. Vera Kiken, 53, of Detroit, died Sunday when a chair in her apartment caught fire. Police said she apparently fell asleep while smoking.

Mrs. Barbara Neihiff, 20, of Detroit, was fatally injured Sunday when the motorcycle on which she was riding collided with another in downtown West Branch.

In Lansing, Mrs. Alice Snow, 73, of Ann Arbor, who was injured in an accident Thursday on U.S. 16 in Williamston Township, died yesterday in Burrows Hospital. Her death is not included in the Labor Day totals.

CROWNING PEACH QUEEN — Queen Ann Zemke of Armada yesterday rode in a golden carriage to her station, accompanied by two tiny train bearers. After welcome by Emcee Donald B. Chubb, Governor G. Mennen Williams placed the jeweled crown upon the head of the 1956 Romeo Peach Festival Queen. He also crowned five little future queens with floral tiaras.

Williams Crowns Peach Queen

ROMEO — A reproduction of a medieval throne room provided the setting for a ceremony yesterday, in which Ann Zemke of Armada received her crown as "Romeo Peach Queen" from Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

More than 1,000 spectators filled the stands and lined the hill on the west side of Romeo's Memorial Stadium to witness the event, high point of Sunday's Peach Festival program.

Amid pomp and ceremony the governor led the processional with Lt. Gov. Philip L. Hart, followed by festival officials, 11 members of the queen's court, five future queens and their escorts.

GIVEN PLANE RIDE

Earlier in the day, 278 Michigan pilots and guests were served breakfast in the hangar at Romeo Airport. Queen Ann and members of her court were present to distribute gifts and to take a plane ride and a spin around the field in the village fire engine.

Over 70 planes were registered, and R. J. Gehrke of Hubbard Lake, was honored for piloting his plane from the farthest point.

Today's festival activities opened with the children's parade at 10 a.m.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, more than 50 participants were to line up for the floral parade at the Crosewell street School. Thirty floats and ten bands were numbered among the entries.

The celebration closes tonight at 9, with a fireworks display at the Lions Community Field. About 40,000 persons are expected to witness today's events.

'Million Dollar' Idea

Rochester Man Develops Coin About Traffic Safety

John L. Slocum of Rochester has a unique half-dollar piece and what he thinks is a million dollar idea.

The coin Slocum made with his own hands and he's going to take it to Washington, D. C. to see if it will save lives.

It's a model for a commemorative coin calling attention to traffic safety. Slocum hopes to interest the Federal government into minting regular coins like it.

"It struck me that traffic accidents cost thousands of lives and dollars every year. This might be just one more way we could help cut down on the toll," Slocum explained.

It would be a reminder in every driver's pocket or purse that highways are dangerous because motorists make them so, he said.

DONDERO SUPPORT

Slocum is a co-owner of L. and S. Furniture Store near Auburn Heights and lives at 518 Parkdale St.

He said retiring Rep. George A. Dondero had seen the coin in Royal Oak and had suggested the Washington trip.

Slocum's model has the words, "Think while you drive," on one side with a depiction of the results of careless driving — a smashed auto.

On the other side are the words, "Make Every Day S-D Day," referring to President Eisenhower's annual campaign for safe driving, and the words, "Obey all traffic signs."

There is a cluster of typical highway signs in the middle of this side of the coin.

"You could buy more than a good cigar with this kind of coin," Slocum remarked. "You could buy life for someone who might otherwise die because of carelessness in traffic."

More Radar Traps

WASHINGTON — The Federal government has licensed 1,398 "radar" speed - determining sets to state and city police and highway departments to check on motor-vehicle speed. The current total represents a gain of 146.1 per cent from the 568 sets licensed for speed-law enforcement in April, 1954.

Most of Nation Enjoying Ideal Holiday Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain marred Labor Day observances in only a few areas today as most of the nation enjoyed generally fair weather.

Scattered showers fell over the Southeast section of the country and in isolated areas along the Atlantic Coast. Some moisture also was reported in the northern and central plains.

Clear skies extended from the Rocky Mountains westward and throughout the Southwest. Fair weather prevailed over most of the East, the Great Lakes area and the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys.

It was much warmer in the western Great Lakes section and Mississippi Valley. The mercury also took a considerable jump in the Central Plains overnight with increases as much as 22 degrees reported.

Cooler air moved into the Northern Plains and the Rockies. Temperatures in those areas dipped into the low 40s overnight.

Strong winds were reported in some Rocky Mountain areas and snow fell in the mountains of Montana.

Typhoon Misses Taipei, Heads for Mainland

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Dinah sideswiped Taipei, raged through southern Formosa and headed toward the Red China mainland today. Dinah was expected to strike the Foochow area of Fukien Province tonight.

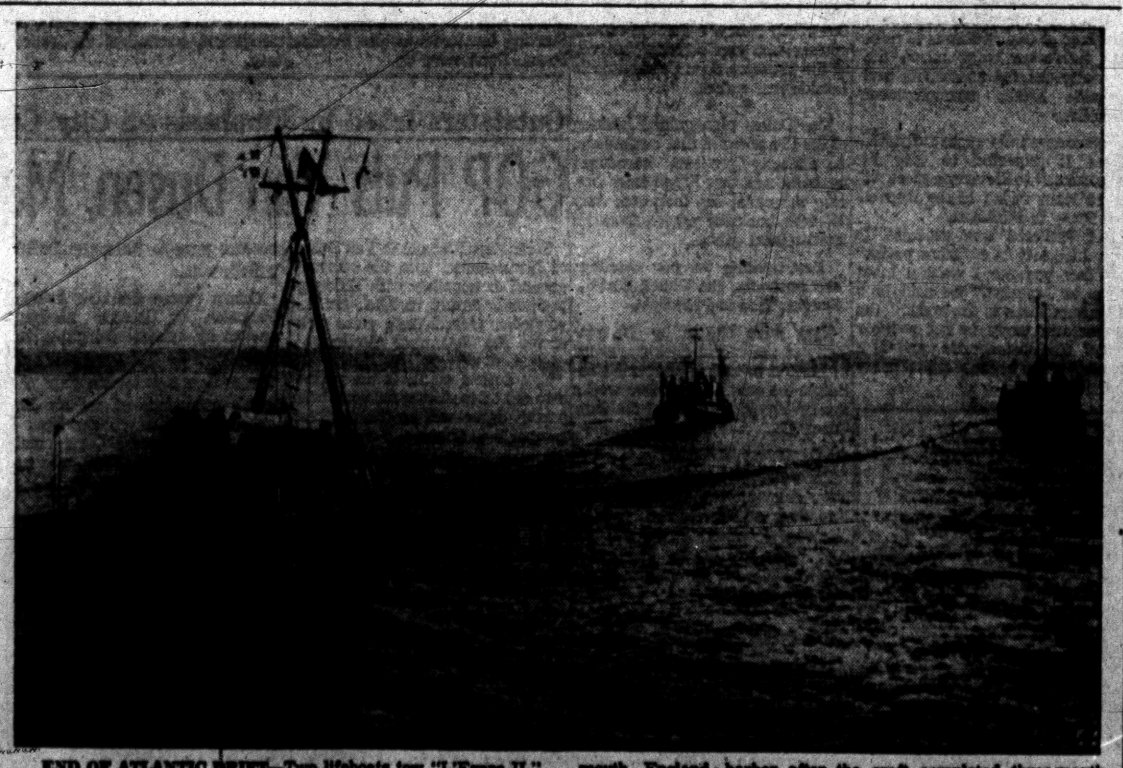

Several dozen people were injured but there was no reported death. Dinah's 115-mile-an-hour violence was blunted by the high mountain spine of the island, but it gathered fresh fury as it spun toward the Formosa strait.

National Urban League Opens Conference

CINCINNATI, (AP)—The National Urban League started its annual conference here today with 600 delegates slated to study Negro problems in America.

Theme of the five-day meeting is the relationship of the Negro family to the modern urban community.

Convention work starts tomorrow with the first of a series of speakers and workshop discussion groups for delegates.

END OF ATLANTIC DRIFT—Two lifeboats tow "L'Egare II," a ten-ton log raft manned by three French Canadians, into Falmouth, England, harbor after the craft completed three-month journey across Atlantic Ocean from Canada.

Admits Downing Navy Mercator

Red China Says Attack 'Justified,' Refuses U.S. Compensation Demand

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today admitted shooting down a U.S. Navy Mercator plane and its 16 crewmen off the China coast last month, but declared the attack was justified because it occurred in a "combat area."

A Foreign Ministry statement broadcast from Peiping dismissed as "groundless and unjustified" a U. S. demand for compensation for the loss of the four-engine patrol plane and its men and demanded that the United States halt "provocative activities" off China's coast.

American officials announced the plane was lost early Aug. 23 while engaged in a routine patrol over international waters. In a subsequent search, wreckage was sighted 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. Only two bodies, and no survivors, were recovered.

Three days ago the U. S. State and Defense Departments announced they were demanding damages for the attack, which they said was made without warning.

The Mercator radioed early Aug. 23 that it was under attack and that was the last heard from it. Less than 24 hours later, Peiping broadcasts reported an attack on a "Chiang Kai-shek" plane.

The U S. Navy has said that Nationalist Chinese forces have no planes of the Mercator type.

In the reply to demands for damages, relayed through Britain by the United States, the Red Chinese ministry replied: "Before this military aircraft was damaged by our air force it had already carried out activities for scores of minutes over the coastal islands of China."

The statement expressed "great regret" that the down plane turned out to be an American craft. But it called the massive search for survivors by the U. S. 7th Fleet a "planned provocation."

The Day in Birmingham

Groups of Community to Plan Youth Activities

BIRMINGHAM — Planning for the youth of the community is slated for meetings this month of the Recreation Board, the Youth Council of the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin Council of Community Services, and by police officials.

A surplus fund of several thousand dollars will be discussed by Recreation Board members and may mean another ball diamond and development of other park facilities.

Mrs. William Jackson, chairman of the board, said Saturday, "There's a possibility the funds will be used to develop the ski and sled runs on 14 Mile Rd. "We had voted at our last meeting to use operating funds for that, and if we switched that budget item, it would free some more funds for operating," she continued.

"A review of the whole budget is planned for the Sept. 20 board meeting," says Mrs. Jackson. "By then, our director will have had four months in the city, and may also have some of the results of the survey being taken of residential desires for recreation."

The Youth Council will check over finally its report on its year's activities and on recommendations for the future at its Sept. 12 meeting.

The report will be given to the Community Service group at a succeeding meeting, according to Mrs. Harvey Greene, Youth Council chairman.

Continuance of the program battling dangers to small children by strangers seems likely for the police department. The movies, including "Dangerous Stranger," still will be available, although most schools and PTA groups viewed the movies last spring.

Details of planning are to be discussed when Det. Sgt. Robert Schaule returns from vacation and Lt. Henry S. Timm, who specialized in juvenile cases, returns from sick leave.

Forest Fire Perils Tiny Wyoming Town

DOUGLAS, Wyo. (AP)—A rapidly spreading forest fire periled the tiny mountain community of Esterbrook in southeastern Wyoming today.

Flames ate through pipe trees three-quarters of a mile from the town as the blaze, suspected by U. S. Forest Service officials to have been set by an arsonist, mushroomed over a 600-acre area.

Esterbrook, about 28 miles south of here, has a year-round population of 96 persons. The fire is south of the town, about eight miles northeast of Laramie Peak in the Medicine Bow National Forest.

Hurriedly summoned National Guardsmen from throughout Wyoming joined begrimed firefighters on the lines, sending the entire force to in excess of 200 men.

Bulldozers chewed out huge firelines and crews widened them with hand tools in a frenzied effort to check the blaze. It died down somewhat during the night, giving supervisory officials hope it might be controlled.

Dairy Imports Up

MEXICO CITY — Mexico's imports of dairy products in 1955 climbed 12 per cent over 1954. Evaporated-milk imports of 14 million pounds, nearly all from the United States, scored a 39 per cent increase, largest of all dairy items.

Scientists to Celebrate Date of Neanderthal Man

WASHINGTON — In August the world of science will celebrate the 100th "birthday" of a low-browed, hairy-chested great uncle of the human race—Neanderthal Man, Europe's Ice-Age cave dweller.

Best known of all prehistoric humans, Neanderthal Man actually had a life span not of 100 years but of some 150,000. He roamed three continents, was among the first to live in shelter and wear clothing, and gave the world the use of fire.

His bones first were found in Germany in 1856. In marking the centennial of that discovery, science looks back over a century in which the first clear picture of human prehistory has gradually been pieced together, the National Geographic Society says.

In August of 1856, workers in a limestone quarry near Dusseldorf dug into the floor of a cave 60 feet above the Dussel River and uncovered the fragments of a human skeleton. They paid little heed, but when the quarry owner learned of the find he ordered the bones collected. Eventually they reached a Bonn University scientist.

UPROAR CONTINUES

His report that the skull represented a human unknown "even in the most barbarous races" stirred up controversy and a flood of counter explanations by other scientists. One passed off the long-dead mystery man as "an individual affected with idiocy and rickets." Another authority proclaimed that the skull was "one of the Cossacks who came from Russia in 1814."

The uproar was to continue for decades. The Neanderthal find (named for the Neander Valley in which the quarry lay) was followed by others in Europe and later in Asia and Africa.

What sort of fellow was Neanderthal Man—the "Cave Man" of popular imagination, usually depicted as carrying a club and dragging a lady by her hair?

From more than a hundred skulls and skeletons, anatomists have reconstructed him as squat, with powerful physique, an enormous head of low sloping shape, massive bony ridges above the eyes, and almost no chin.

ACROSS EUROPE

Though slow-moving and clumsy by modern standards, he survived by being one of the best big-game hunters of all time. He went after fearsome cave bears and wooly mammoths, armed only with a wooden spear tipped in his later days by a flint point.

As the third great advance of ice moved down across Europe, he took to living in the caves of limestone hillsides, learned to drape skins about him to keep warm, and discovered how to make and tend a fire. He first developed the art of "flaking" stones to achieve a sharp edge for weapons or tools.

In his caves, he buried his dead with their implements, indicating a dim awareness of life after death. His thinking, however savage, developed the first stirrings of religion in human history.

Neanderthal Man lived from perhaps 170,000 B. C. to about 30,000 B. C., finally to disappear and be succeeded by Cro-Magnon Man—the first true Homo sapiens sapiens, or modern man. Most scientists today tend to place Neanderthal not in the direct line of human descent, but in a branch that died out. Even as an uncle, however, he was quite a man.

Cavities Cut 64 Pct. by Fluoride in Water

Fluoridation has been credited with a 64 per cent reduction in tooth decay among children in Evanston, Ill., according to a report in a recent copy of The Journal of the American Dental Assn.

The study was made among youngsters from six to eight. Researchers compared the group drinking fluoridated water with children the same age who had not received such water.

Evanston has fluoridated its drinking water since 1947.

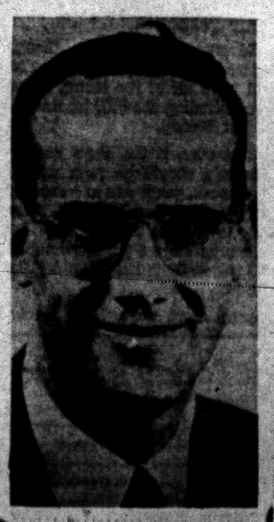

Commenting on the safety of the program, dental investigators from the University of Chicago said in their report:

"The pedlatricians of Evanston have seen no physical changes or differences between their young patients of Evanston receiving fluoridated water and those from nearby communities where the water is free of fluorine."

City Administrative Aide to Start Duties Tomorrow

The appointment of Robert A. Stierer, 35, as administrative assistant for the city of Pontiac, has been announced by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Stierer, whose new position becomes effective tomorrow, served five years as administrative assistant to Chicago Alderman Robert E. Merriam. He is presently employed by the Science Research Associates of Chicago.

ROBERT A. STIERER

He was appointed by Willman to the $6,500 position which has been vacant for six years.

While working under Willman, Stierer's primary responsibilities will be studies on urban rehabilitation, public relations for Pontiac, budget preparation, assist in city planning, and the analysis of departmental activities.

DEALT WITH PUBLIC

Willman said he selected his assistant because of his "wide range of experience with dealing with the public, which is of tremendous interest to us."

For three years, from 1949 to 1952, the appointee worked for the state of Illinois, as research analyst in the finance department, assistant to the state purchasing agent, and commodities buyer.

Stierer received a bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago in Social Sciences in 1942 and graduate degree in International Relations from the university in 1947.

Pontiac Deaths

Milo John Heintz

Service for Milo John Hentz, 73, of 75 Hadsell St. will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday from the Pursley Funeral Home. The Rev. Paul Hart of the First Methodist Church will officiate with burial at 11 a.m. Wednesday in Greenwood Cemetery, Petoskey.

An employe of the Wilson Foundry & Machine Co., he had been a resident of the Pontiac area for 16 years, coming here from Petoskey where he was born on June 1, 1883. His parents were John and Sophia Kreger Heintz.

He is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Kurksi whom he married in Petoskey in 1932, and a sister, Mrs. Clara Fisk of Jackson.

Mr. Heintz was found dead at his home when the house was destroyed by fire Sunday.

Lee A. Hulett

Lee O. Hulett, 66, of 2415 Crane St., died early this morning in Bloomfield Hospital after several years illness.

He was born in Grand Traverse County on Aug. 3, 1890, the son of Samuel and Sara Hulett. He was married to the former Florence Holman.

Mr. Hulett leaves eight children, Harold of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Mabel Marion of Holland, Robert, Howard, James, Lyle and Lee Hulett Jr., all of Pontiac, and Miss Florence A. Hulett of Dearborn.

Surviving brothers are Evlin of Buckley, Arthur of Summit City, Ervin and Emmett, both of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Hulett's body is being taken today from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home to the Smith's Funeral Home in Kingsley for service and burial Thursday.

Driver Misses Curve, Rider Dislocates Elbow

Grover P. Stone, 26, of Keego Harbor, suffered a dislocated elbow yesterday in an accident at Portland and Owens in Pontiac.

He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver of the car, Talmadge J. E. Lester, 20, also of Keego Harbor, told Pontiac Police he didn't see a curve in the road.

Soldiers, Police Break Up Anti-Negro Mobs in South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bayonet-armed Tennessee National Guardsmen wearing gas masks and determined Texas police broke up angry prosegregation crowds in two widely separated incidents last night less than 48 hours before most public schools open in the racially troubled South.

Abouth 300 of the 633 guardsmen stationed in strife-torn Clinton, Tenn., staged a show of force which gradually dispersed a mob of about 1,500 persons before the Anderson County Courthouse.

The tension reached its highest pitch when appearance of a Negro sailor on the street brought a third of the crowd surging after him with hoots and threats.

They followed him to a service station a block from the courthouse square, where a lone military policeman stood off the mob until fellow militiamen came to his aid.

The guardmen fanned out in two columns ready to use tear gas and fire hoses if sound truck appeals for order failed to take effect. But the crowd apparently realized they meant business and slowly departed.

The boisterous mob assembled after dark at the scene of anti-integration disorders which followed opening of the newly integrated Clinton High School last Monday. The presence of guardsmen with tanks and helicopter support did not prevent the people from gathering.

The guardsmen were sent into the east Tennessee town of 4,000 by order of Gov. Frank Clement. They relieved highway patrolmen rushed to the area Saturday night.

Clinton High, where 12 Negroes began attending classes with some 800 white pupils, will reopen tomorrow. But the Tennessee Federation for Constitutional Government plans to ask the State Supreme Court today for immediate action to halt integration at the school.

At Fort Worth, Tex., Police Chief Cato Hightower and nearly a dozen officers cleared a threatening mob of 150 white persons from the street in front of the home of a Negro who had moved into the previously all-white block Saturday.

First Lady Arranges Care for Stricken Child

Craig is stricken with cystic fibrosis—a disease that physicians fear may cut short his life.

Craig and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wooten of nearby Edgefield, will leave from Columbia tonight for Washington. The child will then be placed under a specialist's care at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.

The arrangements were made by the president's wife, who read news stories of Craig and his parents' efforts to finance such a trip.

Record Number to Go to School

One Out of Every Four Likely to Finish College Education

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—For the 12th year in a row, the U.S. Office of Education forecast today that record numbers of Americans—one out of every four this year—will attend school from kindergarten to college.

Education Commissioner S. M. Brownell estimated enrollment in the coming school year at an all-time high of 41,553,000.

This would be 1,754,300 more than enolled last year in public and private schools, colleges and covered enrollments for the entire school year, not fall enrollments alone.

Brownell said that although shortages of classrooms and qualified teachers will still be serious they will be somewhat reduced His estimates of this year's enrollments were:

Kindergarten-grade 8, 29,618,000; grades 9-12 8,111,600; colleges, universities 3,232,000; other schools 591,400.

Other schools include private training schools not connected with a college or university.

Brownell reported that 87 per cent of young people of the high school age group are now actually enrolled in high school, compared to 78 per cent 10 years ago. He added that 55 per cent of high school students now stay on to graduate against 40 per cent 10 years ago.

Half of today's high school graduates go on to college, he said.

The Office of Education estimated 36,800 additional school rooms will be needed for this year's increased elementary enrollment and 14,600 for increased high school enrollment, a total of 51,400.

Needs are based on an assumption of 30 pupils per elementary classroom and 25 per high school classroom.

The office estimated this year's shortage of qualified teachers (qualified according to standards of their states) at 120,700. Last year it was 141,300.

But He Isn't Telling Any of His Flying Secrets

Superman Admires the Wisdom of Kiddies

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "Superman" — the real, cape-riding TV McCoy — was seated at a romantically dim lighted table. He was ravenously eating clams.

* * *

"Ordinarily," he said in a guilty voice, "I would be eating cornflakes to keep my strength up. But during interviews, somebody always wants to know how I learned to fly without wings, and at those times, I feel it is necessary to clam up."

After all, he said, how super can a man be if a kid gets savvy to him?

"Kids make you feel humble, they're so wise. I wish more parents would appreciate that," said Superman.

"I hate to sound presumptuous, since I'm not a parent, but I'm in contact with 45 million children through this show of mine and I think they deserve more respect than most adults.

SINCERELY GRIPPED

"When they shake your hand, you know you've been sincerely gripped." He nursed his right hand briefly, explaining he'd just returned from a three-week personal appearance stint. "And when they tell you they're going to do something, they do it."

That's why Superman isn't revealing any of his flying secrets. There would be youngsters leaping from windows all over the country.

Superman is a giant of a fellow, with tortoise-shell-rimmed eyes and an Irish grin. Before WABC-TV five years ago changed his personality to that of Clark Kent, alias Superman, he was a gregarious actor named George Reeves.

He played in many movies, from the role of a red-haired Tarleton twin in "Gone With the Wind" to that of Sgt. Stark in "From Here to Eternity," and was Hopalong Cassidy's sidekick in a series of well-known Westerns.

"But until I got my cape and badge of courage," he admits modestly, "I was never the height of success."

Reeves' right to the role of Superman was established well over a quarter of a century ago when, at the age of 5, he decided to fly.

His parents did not care to stake him to an airplane ride at that time, so George borrowed an umbrella, opened it, and climbed to the roof of a barn.

From there he soared.

The umbrella was demolished, and George was not much better, but as soon as he was mended he resolved someday to be the best flier in the land.

He took up the arduous art of judo and has studied it for years, to keep himself from repeating the barn episode which made a deep impression on him, mentally as well as physically.

He became so proficient that he now teaches at the National Judo Academy in Los Angeles, when he's not hurtling out of second-story windows for the entertainment of millions.

MIGHT GET HURT

"You know," he says seriously, "anybody who drops from a height of more than two stories, especially if he's head first, is liable to get hurt. But judo teaches you how to fall without feeling it."

* * *

George "Superman" Reeves' income has risen sharply since he began falling properly, so it's undoubtedly good advice.

He is a versatile young actor, known in Hollywood as a guy who can do virtually anything except—because he's half-man, half-bird — do any kissin' of girls.

"This isn't always easy," he says cryptically.

State Files Complaint

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Michigan Water Resources Commission has filed a bill of complaint with the Chippewa County clerk charging the city of Sault Ste. Marie with failing to build a sewage disposal plant as ordered. The commission charged the city with polluting the St. Marys River. The city, earlier denied this, blaming sewage from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., across the river.

Urges Christian Attitude on Race

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Alan Walker of Sydney, Australia, yesterday called on delegates to the World Federation of Methodist Women here to show Christian attitudes on questions of race, peace and war.

Mrs. Walker said, "No Christian worthy of the name merely echoes politicians' judgments on national and world issues."

And she added, "The Christian attitude on racial questions is clear. Christ condemned all forms of racial injustict and inequality."

Mrs. Ernst Scholz of Berlin, Germany, was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Ottilia Chavez of Brazil.

OTHER OFFICERS

Also elected were Mrs. Paul Arrington of Jackson, Miss, re-elected vice president; Miss Muriel Stinnet tof London, secretary, and Miss Henrietta Gibson of New York, treasurer.

Win Cash Prize for 16 Answers to Puzzle No. 14

You'll find out things about your mind you never knew before when you send it through the maze of clues and words that make up Pot-O-Gold, conducted weekly by the Pontiac Press. It's exciting, often perplexing, but never dull. And Pot-O-Gold can be profitable, too. For example, if you're successful with the clues below you can win at least $100, plus another $25 if you happen to be a Press subscriber of record.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 14 must bear a Tuesday, Sept. 11, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

A series of projections by the bureau indicated that the number of households will increase from about 48 million at the present time to about 67 million in 1975.

School Takes Precaution About Students' Attire

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Parents of Mount Pleasant High School students have been told to check clothing their children wear to school this year for conventionality.

The letter, from the office of principal Carle Barberi, told the parents that "shorts, bermuda shorts, toreador pants and other unconventional clothing cannot be worn during school hours."

"This is in keeping," the letter said, "with the elimination of any disturbing factors that interrupt regular functions of school activities."

Safety of Monroe A-Plant Not Worrying Williams

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams says he is "not too worried" about the safety of Michigan's first atomic power plant now being built near Monroe, according to a Detroit paper.

Williams was quoted as saying he had reports "from my own people to the effect that the plant is safe, but actually no one knows whether the plant is safe because it hasn't been built yet."

He repeated what already has been said by Power Reactor Development Co., the builders, and the Atomic Energy Commission: that the government has issued only a construction permit and that after the plant is built tests will be conducted as to safety before a permit is granted to operate.

The plant is scheduled for 1960 completion.

The governor's safety study was conducted by a committee headed by John McCarthy, chairman of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission.

* * *

Williams said he was advised that a pilot plant was to be constructed on a much smaller scale to test safety features of the Monroe installation.

PUBLIC MUSEUM

Asked what would happen if these tests showed the plant unsafe, Williams quipped that he supposed the plant "would become a public museum.

In addition to his committee, the governor said he also had talked to Walker Cisler, president of Power Reactor and the Detroit Edison Co.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, announced he would ask the AEC for a public hearing on its permit for the Monroe plant.

Reuther said the permit was for what he termed "an unproved and exceptionally hazardous type of reactor." He said the AEC acted without assurance from its reactor safeguards committee that the plant can be operated without public hazard.

Cisler countered that opposition to the proposed 40 million dollar plant is part of a campaign of "subterfuge" aimed at squeezing private industry out of the nuclear power field.

Cisler said that if plans of Power Reactor Development Co., made up of 21 private firms, were sidetracked in favor of all-out government development, it would mean "we are headed down the road to a socialist state, even unwittingly."

Ex-Wife Charges Actor With Alimony Arrears

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Edmund Purdom has been ordered to appear in court Sept. 14 to answer his ex-wife's charge that he is $2,625 in arrears on his alimony payments.

Tita Purdom's attorney told the court yesterday that she is in "dire financial straits" as a result of Purdom's failure to pay the $750 a month alimony and $300 a month child support ordered by the court last March, when the divorce was granted.

New Water Supply Well

FLINT (AP)—A new well for reserve use has been dug in suburban Beecher to add 300 gallons of water a minute to the community's potential water supply. The well will bring the district's output to 1,580,000 gallons a day, but officials say two million gallons will be necessary to meet requirements of the district when development projects now under way are completed.

Pontiac Students to Be Tested

Will Take Intelligence Test as Part of National Research Project

A group of Pontiac junior and senior high school students are going to help find out how smart pupils are all over the country.

They're going to be given some intelligence tests which have never been used before.

Their scores, and scores from several hundred other schools which are cooperating in a nation-wide research project, will help determine just how well the average student should do on the tests.

A class of eighth graders at Madison Junior High School and a class of tenth graders at the senior high school will be tested, according to Russell W. Curtis, who is in charge.

Curtis is coordinator of secondary education here. By participating, he said, the school system is helping to develop improved standardized tests for pupils from Maine to California, Curtis said.

The two schools were chosen, he said, because they are representative of their size, type and area.

The tests will be given about a month after school starts and are devised by the California Test Bureau, a nationally-known organization which will pay the cost of the testing, Curtis said.

Mailed Kitten Stamps Around in Delivery Box

Officers received a call that teen-agers were tampering with a letter box.

No vandals were found—but the officers heard a noise inside.

They called the post office, and postman Henry T. Pierce Jr. drove over in his truck. He opened the letterbox.

Inside: One calm, faun-colored kitten.

First Battle Flag

WILMINGTON, Del—The Stars and Stripes was first raised as the standard of American troops at the Battle of Cooch's Bridge September 5, 1777, southwest of Wilmington. General William Maxwell, leading a detachment of American troops, met advanced regiments of the British as they tried to cross the Christina River at Cooch's Bridge. In the 2-hour fightthat ensued, the British got their first glimpse of the new nation's Flag under fire.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Bumper advertising reached a peak of some sort here. Familiar old standbys are bumper strips pleading "Little Rock Needs a Drag Strip" and "North Little Rock Needs a New Hospital." Added to those, on a car in this city on the Arkansas River, was: "Little Rock Needs a Submarine Base."

Roxy Theater in Gotham Sold for $6,200,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Roxy Theater in New York City has been sold for $6,200,000 to a subsidiary of Rockefeller Center, Inc., and leased right back by its present operators, Roxy Theater, Inc.

The transaction was announced here yesterday by National Theatres, Inc., parent company of the Roxy operating firm, which will continue to run the motion picture house.

National Theatres President E. C. Rhoden said the sale of the property to Westprop, Inc., will mean a long-term capital gain after taxes of about $2,370,000. The transaction was in line with the company's policy of reducing its real estate holdings, he said.

"How Many Pounds Would YOU Like to Lose?"

easy reducing

Do you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why . . .

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories, yet expands when it absorbs water, thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact, these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes fast

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

This Is Labor Day; Cause for Celebration

The first Monday in September has become one of our nation's most universally observed holidays, which all will agree is surely in the proper spirit of true Americanism.

Regardless of what our statesmen may legislate or our politicians argue, the brains and brawn of labor play a tremendous role in making our country what it is.

It is with pride that our nation points to the fact that we were the first to complete the transition from vassal to the highest honor and adequate compensation for the working man. It was not until 1882 that a concerted movement was started to remedy the old ills and put labor in a position so it felt that it had a day of its own, and something to celebrate on that day.

The Knights of Labor started the agitation in New York, and a modest parade wended its course up Broadway. But the strait jacketed old city fathers frowned on the alleged affront, and managed to stifle the next year's attempt. In 1884 a parade and demonstration was put on that showed that labor was coming into its own, and the Tammany big wigs read the handwriting on the wall.

But it was 2,000 miles westward that Colorado on March 15, 1887, was the first state to take official action to make Labor Day a legal holiday. Other states gradually followed suit. Our Canadian neighbors have followed us, and every province has made it a legal holiday.

There was tougher going in Europe, and it was not until comparatively recent years that a holiday for labor was set aside. Just to be different, they picked another date, May 1 in most countries.

In Latin America, South America, and through most of the higher civilized nations on the other continents, a day is set aside for the same purpose.

Hence, this is among the many other evidences of advanced enlightenment that our nation pioneered a movement that immeasurably makes for a better world: a world that labor has had a big hand in making. We can pridefully point out that this is another phase in life in which we have lifted the laboring man far above his status in any other country in the world.

There are few cities where labor is as it is in Pontiac. And there are no cities where it commands a greater respect. Our industries are our life blood, and we know it. And the labor that makes them possible is fortunate that its great contribution is so generally recognized.

Starting away back many years before that event of 1882 in New York, here in Pontiac we had each year an "after-harvest day," in which our laboring men were invited to participate.

It was in the nature of a picnic and first held on the court house lawn. But it soon grew so large that it became an accessory of the annual Oakland County Fair on its grounds between North Saginaw and Perry Streets, and north of the present Fairgrove Ave.

In 1871 its announcement invited "all employes of our buggy factories, woolen mills, officials, merchants, farmers and their families." That really was the start of a substantial recognition of labor in Pontiac. That "after-harvest day" was really Pontiac's first Labor Day.

Its celebration has grown with the years, fully as fast as our population and industrial growth, but the same homey spirit has been preserved.

Now Labor Day in Pontiac is an occasion which beats all others in the get together spirit, both in numbers and otherwise, an event that is the magnet for speakers of state and national importance. And we all are happy that such is the case, whether we labor in a factory or earn our livelihood by other means.

New Gold Rush On

There was romance enough in the California and Klondike gold rushes, when adventurous men from all over the United States traveled thousands of miles to seek wealth in the ground. But there is even more romance in the new search for gold that is being planned by a group of Hamilton, Ont. skin divers.

They are going to go the early day ore-panners one better. They will look for their gold on the bottom of the Great Lakes. Many a ship has gone down in Lake Erie and the other Great Lakes, say the Hamilton skin divers. Some carried cargoes of gold, they claim. They are going to try to find it. Their first effort will be directed at locating the wreck of the packet Clarion which sank nearly forty-seven years ago near Point Pelee, Ont. Her gold cargo was reputed to be worth $120,000.

It requires courage as well as skill to descend to great depths beneath the surface of Lake Erie. And if the initial search is successful, and a valuable cargo is located, its recovery still may prove to be a difficult and costly operation.

So the young men from Hamilton are facing big odds in their search for sunken treasure. Lack of water often proved the undoing of the hardy prospectors who sought gold in California. Too much of it may checkmate the best efforts of these modern day prospectors. The quest of gold in coin and bullion form has intrigued men for centuries. "Treasure maps" are as old as the treasures themselves.

Adlai Says Dems Confident as Ever

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson says Democratic leaders around the country "are not swallowing the myth of Eisenhower's invincibility, and disillusion is spreading among the people fast."

Stevenson and his running mate, Sen Estes Kefauver, concluded a series of five regional meetings with Democratic leaders from 34 states yesterday, and the campaign caravan returned to Chicago with glowing reports.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, told a conference of Midwest leaders he had "never seen such enthusiasm in the Democratic party in the last 20 years."

Stevenson told a news conference "the people are not swallowing the Republican complacency line," and added that "our lopsided prosperity is a primary issue of this campaign." He said the campaign also will stress what he called administration "blunders" in international affairs.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate GOP leader, yesterday blasted an earlier Stevenson proposal, made in April, that the United States halt H-bomb tests and challenge Russia to do the same.

Such a move, Knowland said, "would permit the Communists to get ahead of us in developing nuclear arms and thus endanger the life of every man, woman and child in the United States." He added:

"I hope the atomic weapon will be taken out of partisan politics. The security and perhaps survival of our nation is involved."

Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa), chairman of the House GOP Campaign Committee, snapped back at criticism of Vice President Nixon by Americans for Democratic Action. Simpson said ADA is a "collection of political fakers."

Earlier yesterday, ADA had announced its "enthusiastic support" for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. It added that the possibility of Nixon succeeding to the presidency "is an affront to millions of Americans who still believe morality and integrity are political virtues of the highest order."

Simpson said ADA "has the gall to talk about morality and integrity in politics . . . after having endorsed the corrupt, Communist-ridden, tax fixing administration of Harry Truman." He defended Nixon as a superior vice president and a "top notch administrator."

However brilliant human minds . . . That guide us on our way . . . Without the hands of labor, there . . . Would be no world today . . . For how could any bridge design . . . Or plan for aviation . . . Mean anything without the work . . . Of actual creation? . . . How could atomic energy . . . Be used in peace or war . . . Unless we had the workers who . . . Deserve that final score? . . . The ones who labor are the ones . . . Who turn on the ignition . . . And on this day we honor them . . . For their superb transmission . . . There are no thanks sufficient now . . . That we could ever say . . . But may God bless them—every one . . . On this their Labor Day.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ragweed Pollen Is Cause of Most Hay Fever Cases

A woman writes:

Please send me your pamphlet on Hay Fever, in the enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope.

For the past five years I have lived near a lumber yard where ragweed grows. I have suffered with hay fever only since living here. Do you think moving would help?

It comes on about the middle of August, with itching of the eyes, sneezing, and blocking of nose. It lasts about eight weeks.

I have not taken any shots this year because they have not helped in previous years.

I am 48. Could it be that at my age I would get hay fever anywhere?

(Signed, L. E.——)

Forty-eight, eh? That's just too bad. Not that you are forty-eight, but that a woman with obviously high I. Q. can ask such a question. Have the fishwives in your neighborhood ganged up on you?

Moving to another neighborhood might prove satisfactory, but it would be well to test the environment first by spending a few days there to see whether you get relief.

Maybe the lumber company would clean up the fringes around the yard if you and other hay fever sufferers would ask the company to do so. If not, then you should complain about the nuisance and see whether your local health department is serving the public or just favored interests.

Most people know little or nothing about ragweed. Reprint No. 610 from Public Health Reports, available at 5c, gives excellent information on the geographical distribution of the various varieties of ragweed in the United States. Procure it from Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Ragweed pollen is the cause of most cases of hay fever, although other pollens cause many cases.

What the woman correspondent says of "shots" (injections of homeopathic doses of pollen extract) in advance of the season, seems to be the experience of most persons who receive such treatment. In a fair share of cases, however, a considerable degree of immunity seems to develop under this treatment, immunity that lasts through the season and gives the victim a comparatively comfortable season.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Greatest Right Is Voting So Don't Fail to Use It'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Mr. Citizen, you are living in a great nation. Yours is the heritage of wonderful freedoms: of speech, of press, of worship and of many others.

An army of you answered the call to colors to protect these sacred rights and many you knew or loved gave their lives for the cause.

Now we ask, are you exercising one of your greatest rights, your right to vote? To vote is more than a right; it is both a privileges and a duty.

We know that many of you are investing in this right, but unfortunately a great, great number are not. Friends, we urge you, if you are not registered, then do so. Take that neighbor with you. Feel proud, get on the honor roll.

Serve yourself and your country. Vote, it's your greatest right. Vote for the candidate of your choice, but vote.

'Was Killer's Choice He Deserves to Die'

Those who want capital punishment do have faith in the Great Creator, but have you not read that faith without works is dead.

Is it just simply to say about Howard Moore, God forgive him because he overindulged in drink by his own choice and subsequently killed a little child? No indeed, it isn't that simple. Not when lives of innocent and good citizens are to be claimed by such an outrageous individual, who by these deeds has disclaimed a right to live according to Divine Law.

Besides, Michigan aw provides only real punishment for citizens rather than for criminals. First, the citizens must maintain the institution to keep these warped persons through taxation. Secondly, they, by this law, will be released among the people again to plague them with fear and horror and undoubtedly another crime.

The fact that H. Moore had too much to drink or that he is sick mentally or that the child's mother wasn't there did not cause the crime to be committed. It was the man who chose this way of life, so deserving of death.

My appeal to the citizens of this state is that we begin to punish such criminals and thus remove the plague from the people. We also have faith in judges we chose, that they will consider and try the evidence so no innocent person will be put to death or persons with only circumstantial evidence to convict them.

'Reader' Declares Moore Isn't Guilty

I want to thank all the people who have written expressing their kind thoughts toward the case of Howard Moore. I know there is a lot of public opinion on any case of this kind.

But who are we to say who is or is not guilty of this crime. Do we know? Indeed not. True, Christianity is the most precious gift of God. Without it we are all doomed. I ask you, Mr. and Mrs. America, would you stand to accuse this boy if he were your son?

There is so much hate and greed in the world, why, actually if we all had more love and understanding in our hearts, it would be a wonderful blessing on our children.

And so, my friends and neighbors, give this boy your blessing and pray to God he is innocent. Give him a chance. Remember it could be your son. Hasty minds make sorry hearts. And I want to say to all who know this boy that he is no killer.

Mansfield Says It Is Time for New Summit Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) claims the time "is here or near" for another summit conference to explore prospects for peace and an end of the atomic arms race.

Mansfield, an influential member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he hopes "someone" among the major powers will take the initiative in exploratory talks at the ambassadorial level.

He told a reporter Russia's two most recent atomic tests, the latest one announced only Saturday by President Eisenhower, point up his contention that the time is ripe or nearly so for further face to face talks among chiefs of state similar to last year's summit talks at Geneva.

"I don't look upon the Geneva talks as a failure," Mansfield said "although I also believe they did not live up to our hopes and expectations."

"If we keep up this thermo-nuclear weapons race, something is going to slip and then God help us," he said. "The people are aware of this, and I sincerely hope that those who have the responsibility of governing nations are as fully aware."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said Saturday any halt in U.S. nuclear testing would "endanger the life of every man, woman and child in the United States" by permitting Russia to forge ahead in development of nuclear weapons.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, referred to an April 21 speech by Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, in which Stevenson urged a halt to U.S. H-bomb tests.

"Adlai Stevenson's course of action, if carried out," Knowland said, "would permit the Communists to get ahead of us in developing nuclear arms." Knowland made no reference to the latest announcement of the last Russian test.

Stevenson, in his speech, urged H-bomb tests be stopped to demonstrate the U.S. desire for peace and to recapture the world initiative he said the Eisenhower administration had lost. He added that the United States could "reconsider" its policy if other nations did not follow suit in stopping tests.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teachers, Don't Become a 'Justa'

"Don't be a Justa," warns Prof. Lester Buford, President of the NEA. And he is certainly wise to make such a suggestion. Scrapbook this Case Record for use in your Sunday school class. And many business firms can pass along the ideas given below. Be sure you don't fall into the category of the nine selfish lepers;

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-355: Prof. Lester Buford, President of the National Educational Association, has spent much of the past year traveling all over America making speeches to teachers.

Recently he visited in Chicago and attended the Bible Class which I teach at St. John's Church.

"Dr. Crane," he informed me after class, "the favorite topic for my address is 'Don't Be a Justa'."

When I looked puzzled, he smiled and explained:

"Many teachers, when asked what work they are engaged in, will then answer, perhaps deprecatingly, 'I'm just a teacher.'

"So I urge them to take pride in the wonderful profession to which they are devoting their lives.

"For they deal with children and have unlimited opportunities for molding human character and implanting ideals."

DON'T BE A JUSTA

Professor Buford is certainly wise to make this type of address, for teaching is really the most wonderful branch of sculpturing that this world has ever seen.

* * *

Our greatest natural asset is not even the rich topsoil which we are nowadays treasuring and hoarding via contour farming.

No, it is the youth of America.

And conscientious teachers, with the true missionary zeal to enthuse their pupils about educational topics, wield a power far greater than that of any Atom or Hydrogen-bomb. They deal with personality.

A good teacher can thus take a maladjusted youngster from the other side of the tracks, whose parents may be delinquents, themselves.

That teacher may then infuse the youngster with ambition and the aspiration to amount to something.

Even if the youngster is already started on the wrong road and seems sure to end in prison, a good teacher can often discover the core of the youngster's maladjustment and help unravel his snarled life.

COMPLIMENT TEACHERS

Most of us can look back to a time in our youth when some good teacher, either of the public school or Sunday school type, helped us over a particularly crucial period in our lives.

In fact, many youngsters of broken homes, who may be humiliated by the sensational divorce allegations carried in the newspaper, may find that their school teacher becomes an understanding foster parent in such a crisis.

Perhaps Abraham Lincoln's country school teacher may have patted him on the back and urged him to go on to lofty attainment.

"Abe, you're a smart lad," such a teacher may have said, "so you ought to study and make something out of your life."

That type of casual praise from a good teacher may change a child's entire life!

So you teachers should follow Prof. Buford's wise advice and be proud of your profession. Don't be guilty henceforth of ever saying you're a "Justa".

And it would be well for most of us adults to sit down and write a few letters of appreciation to the patient teachers and other wise counselors of our youth who have helped steer us to our present happy positions of life.

Include the Scout leaders and Camp Fire Girl directors. Drop a line of belated gratitude to some retired clergyman, or even to a kindly employer who helped encourage you to study for bigger jobs ahead.

Most of us human beings are like the lepers whom Christ cured. Only one of the 10 lepers ever returned to say "Thank you, Master."

The other nine selfishly accepted their cure. Let's be more unselfish and follow the advice in tomorrow's Case Record. Watch for it.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Stage Animals Smart

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Animals in theatrical performances must know how to act, says C. Y. Jones, who contracted to provide 50 head of horses and oxygen for a "California Story" pageant. Jones, Hollywood animal agent, said that one of his horses once fell down on the stage in Hollywood bowl during the pageant production. Sealskin Supple

ANCHORAGE — Genuine sealskin is so supple that an entire pelt can pass through a napkin ring. Six to 10 skins go into the average fur coat, which costs from $1,500 to $2,500. Three months' labor is required to process each skin, says the National Geographic Society. Vegetable dyes brushed into the fur produce three standard hues—black, Safari brown, and Matara brown.

Sharpest Since 1954

Farm Prices Take Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm prices, always a lively political issue in a presidential election year, have taken their sharpest dip since June 1954.

A 3 per cent decline between mid-July and mid-August was reported by the Agriculture Department late yesterday. This followed a 1 per cent decline between mid-June and mid-July.

Farm prices, much to the satisfaction of Republican politicians, began a steady climb in mid-January from the 14-year low reached in mid-December. This boosted average prices received by farmers by 11 per cent, but more than one - third of the gain has been whittled away in the past two months.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson promptly got out a statement saying that despite the 3 per cent decline between mid-July and mid-August, the average level of prices received by farmers still was 2 per cent higher than a year earlier.

"It should be noted," Benson said, "that the decline reported today was in crops and, except for potatoes, was largely of a seasonal nature. Seasonal declines or crops are usual at this time of the year when the nation's harvests are coming to market in large seasonal volume.

"Over the past ten years, for example, averages prices received by farmers for crops have been lower in August than in July for every year except 1950 when the Korean inflation was in full swing."

The 3 per cent decline was attributed to sharply lower prices for potatoes and commercial vegetables, coupled with moderate declines in average prices received for cotton, fruit, and poultry.

Prices for cattle and hogs, milk, wheat and some other commodities increased, but not enough to offset the declines.

The mid-August index of prices received stood at 237 per cent of its 1910-14 average, compared with 244 in July and 232 in August 1955. The record high is 313 in February 1951.

The parity ratio, another yardstick for measuring how farmers are doing financially, dropped to 82 on Aug. 11, four points under the 1956 high reached in June, and 1 per cent below August last year. The record high is 123 in October 1946.

One in Five Vehicles Found to Need Repair

WASHINGTON — The 1955 National Vehicle Safety Check program found that one out of every five vehicles checked needed repair or replacement of one or more parts necessary for safe operation compared with one in four in the 1954 check.

Rear lights for the first time led the list of items most often in need of repair. Faulty rear lights were found on one of every 13 vehicles and bad brakes on one of every 16.

Meany Appeals for Progress

President of AFL-CIO Asks Political Action in Labor Day Message

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—President George Meany of the AFL-CIO today issued a Labor Day message appealing for union political action to achieve "more progressive" government.

Without alluding to this week's top-level AFL-CIO endorsement of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, Meany said the big labor organization is convinced "America needs more progressive and forward-looking government."

Similarly, William F. Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO said labor will "put the greatest individual weapon of free men—the ballot—to its proper use and select as our public officials men of vision, dedicated to the public welfare." He added:

"Our efforts, we are confident, will result in victory."

A Labor Day statement also was issued by John S. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. But this made no reference to politics.

Speaking of the workman, Coleman said:

"As we continue to prosper, we come to understand more and more fully that his freedom, his enterprise, his superb technical skill, are basic to all our economic blessings."

The progress of the American worker, he said, is "convincing all men, still free to think for themselves, that economic freedom can break the chains of want."

In still another holiday message, President Al Hayes of the International Assn. of Machinists, called for strenuous union efforts to root out "wrongdoing" wherever it is found in union ranks.

"Our internal enemies are no less dangerous than those who attack labor from outside," he said. "Both can destroy us if we do not defeat them."

Meany and Schnitzler outlined the political goals of the AFL-CIO and declared that many of them can be achieved only through political action.

"In order to obtain favorable action on its legislative program," Meany said, "the AFL-CIO has been compelled to enter the field of political action." He added:

"We are not trying to run either political party, nor will we permit either to dominat us. Our policy is strictly non-partisan, in the best American tradition."

He listed as AFL-CIO goals the enactment of federal school aid legislation, a large-scale federal housing program, an "adequate program to cover the costs of medical care" and a new labor-management relations law to replace the present Taft-Hartley Act.

He and Schnitzler also emphasized union demands for higher wages, saying that—in Meany's words—"higher mass purchasing power is the key to a dynamic economy and an expanding prosperity."

He said "the American standard of living cannot be frozen without bringing the wheels of its productive machine to a standstill."

Schnitzler said "America must never be satisfied with 'second-best' economic years," and added:

"We cannnot achieve our potentially high peak of prosperity if we ignore the weak spots in our economy or pretend that 'all is well' while millions of Americans suffer."

Deserts Hemmed Africa

CAIRO — A band of deserts, nowhere less than 1,000 miles wide, marches across Africa south of the narrow coastal strip along the Mediterranean, says the National Geographic Society. A formidable barrier to travel, these deserts kept much of Africa out of the main stream of history until the 19th century. Their spectacular waves of sand, popularly believed to be characteristic of the region, actually are rather limited. Most of the Sahara surface is loose gravel or wind-swept rock.

Jailer in Real Lather

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP)—To the motorist, Montgomery County Jailer E. H. Swope looked like a madman on the loose. White foam fell from the jailer's chin as he hopped the passing car to chase two fleeing prisoners. The escape occurred while the jailer was shaving and he went after them in a real lather. He caught 'em too.

Production of B52 Bomber Shows Substantial Gain

WASHINGTON (INS) — America's powerful fleet of B52 intercontinental bombers is reported to have grown substantially in August and to be approaching the point where all of the big planes will be flying.

In contrast to last March and April—when only 11 of the 650-mile-per-hour planes were built and rejected by the Air Force because of a persisting mechanical defect — the number of acceptances in August alone was said to have totaled 13.

While the Air Force refused official comment, informed sources reported that by late September all of the previously rejected 31 B52's will be ready for service. This apparently would assure a fleet of more than 100 B52's by the year's end.

47 OUT OF 78

Gen Curtis LeMay, strategic bombing commander, testified on May 2 that 78 of the 8-million-dollar H-bomb carriers had been completed, but only 47 accepted because of the mechanical flaw that caused a fatal crash. The trouble was identified as a defective flywheel in an electrical alternafor.

LeMay described the defect as "serious," but said it could be remedied. At one time, the Air Force expected to have all of the planes ready for service by Sept. 1.

Actually about half of them were said to have met with LeMay's approval after replacement of the defective part, and the remainder are ready for final testing.

Air Force sources explained that the number of acceptances in August was higher than actual production because they included some of the planes previously rejected.

Production of B52's is scheduled to reach 20 a month, to provide an eventual fleet of more than 500 planes, but the peak rate is not expected to be attained until late in 1957.

LeMay gave the number completed for March as six and completions in April as five.

Hong Kong Shuts Door to Refugees From Red China B

HONG KONG (AP) — Crowded Hong Kong shut its borders today to the daily exodus of refugees from Red China.

The British government announced that henceforth one person must leave the colony for each admitted.

It said the refugees who have poured into the 391-square mile territory since the Communists seized the China mainland in 1949 have stretched water, medical and educational facilities to the limit and that housing is wholly inadequate.

Hong Kong was a city of 1,850,000 in 1949. It's population now is at least three million.

The government said it appealed to the Communist government to halt the exodus but the Reds said they would do nothing to stop it.

Conquistadores Retraced

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—A group of Explorer Scouts has just completed a retracing of the route of the early Spanish conquistadores from the border of Mexico north through the Rio Grande Valley of New Mexico. The group ended its trek yesterday at Santa Fe.

OLD WHALING DAYS — 1

Here Comes a Whaler

A hundred years ago, ship building and whaling were big businesses along the New England coast. From the seaport towns, locally built ships sailed to distant seas to hunt whales.

This week we are going to tell you about life in one of these towns and about a whaler's life. Save the pictures and set them up in a group to give you an idea of old whaling days.

One sperm whale might yield 80 barrels of oil for lamps, much spermacetti for ointment and candles, and perhaps as much as $60,000 worth of ambergris for use in perfume making. Spermacetti and ambergris are special substances from a whale's body.

A voyage usually lasted three years, and many a lad who shipped as a cabin boy came back a bearded man. The return of a ship was a great event for the town. All the crew shared in the profits, and there were celebrations.

Color this picture with your crayons, paste it on cardboard, and cut out the parts. Fold the wharf forward at the dotted line and use the triangular easel as extra support. Fasten the ship at the back of the waves with a brass fastener or bent pin. Then the ship can rock gently as she comes into port.

If you have an idea for Junior Editors send it in care of this newspaper and it may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

What a Vacation! Family Goes Off Hunting Sharks

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Hiser, their two daughters Daryce Adair, 12, and Judy Anne, 9, will consist of hunting for sharks in shallow areas of the Gulf of Mexico.

Hiser and a companion, Randolph Young, 20, tow their cruiser to New Orleans from Decatur. Equipment includes hand harpoons, a harpoon launcher and a .30-caliber rifle, plus one inflated truck inner tube painted orange.

Bob Considine Says:

Mac, Hawaii Ain't Like You Remembered

HONOLULU (INS) — Dear Mac: Just a note from Honolulu, which is a honey of a place to bring the kids, as well as a lulu, to tell you that you almost ruined our trip, bless your sweet helpful soul.

* * *

You've been loose in the world a long time, Mac, and I guess you'll always be around. But if you can break yourself of the habit of writing letters of introduction, and telling traveling people to give so and so a call when on Madagascar, please do.

We called your bosom pal Pete Glook here as soon as we got to our room at the Royal Hawaiian, like you said to.

It was pretty early in the morning to have hula girls stroking my hair and rolling their big brown eyes and hips but, like I promised, I was game for whatever your old pal Pete had in mind, wild as you promised Pete would be.

Well, the phone operator told us that your pal Pete had moved from the address you gave us. Moved in 1939, she said. But she finally tracked down his number, and Mrs. Glook answered the phone.

* * *

Remember, you told us that Myrtle was more fun than one bbl. of monkeys and mixed the best Ramos gin fizz in the whole T. of H.? Well, this Mrs. Glook we talked to said, "Don't call me Myrtle." She snarled it with a voice fit to drive moths away from flames.

HER NAME IS TABOO

"We haven't mentioned her name since she left Pete for that mind-reading yeoman second class in 1943. Then he married that marine sergeant who kept beating him up, and then he was lucky enough to wed me, a girl of hardly 49." the new Mrs. Glook wheezed.

* * *

"Mac sends regards," we said to the new Mrs. Glook, and the new Mrs. Glook says 'Mac Kriendler? Mac Duff? Mac Arthur? Pete never mentioned no Mac to me.

"'If you're one of his free-loading friends we're fed up with same—at least I am—and if he says different he knows it won't be healthy.'"

I said, when the line was clear, "Where's Pete now? If you can tear him away from eating them lotus blossoms, leave me talk to him."

Mrs. Glook said, "What makes you think that bum is lying around the house with my wahini bridge club coming in for my special dish of four-finger poi and anchovy paste? He's been at work since 8:30 this morning."

'MAC WHO?'

Well, Mac, I finally got your dearest chum at 11:30 ayem on the morning we arrived and instead of sending the Hawaiian babes over to the hotel right away he said, "Mac who?" I said, "Mac, your pal, from Scranton, Pa. Who else?"

But he wanted a description. I described just what you looked like and there was a long silence on the other end of the phone. The silence was broken by a loud snort.

He asked our address and I told him what it was: 1313 Dudgeon Heights, West Pegbrook, and he said, "That bum owes me 20 clams from one night in Elmer Rocco's in N.Y.C. when we agreed in advance to split the check and he got a long distance call just when the grunt fell on the table like an anvil from on high."

Anyway, we got together, so's I could extend your best wishes, etc., and it sure was lively. The rest of my family went out on the outrigger, had lunch at a lanai at the Moana, had a sail on a cat', and things.

I listened to your old pal's description of his ulcer all during lunch, but he said two other things—one, send that $20 you owe him, and two—for me not to bother to call him the rest of the trip, he'd call me. Yrs. in sport, Elmer.

Boy Suffers Attack at State Fair Rodeo

DES MOINES (AP)—Merrill Still, 6, of Mount Ayr, loves popcorn and cowboy Roy Rogers.

He went to the state fair yesterday with his parents to see Rogers at the rodeo but he got sick and had to leave before the show started. Merrill suffered an attack of acute indigestion while in the grandstand and was removed to a hospital.

"Probably too much popcorn," his mother said. The boy's condition was not serious.

RECKLESS DRIVING — Christie D. Burneff, 47, escaped with only a scratched neck when his car plunged 75 feet into the Black River in Lorain, O., but he'll still have his day in court. Police charged Burneff, a railroad conductor, with reckless driving when the car skidded 200 feet through a field, crashed through the bridge rail and plunged into the water. His smashed auto was recovered from four feet of water.

The buffet table for the noon luncheon was under the supervision of Francis W. Staley, principal at Pontiac Senior High School. He is shown here with Margaret Luther, principal of Whitfield School. They served as cochairmen of the New Teacher Orientation Day program planned by the Professional Growth Committee.

Additional Teachers Welcomed

Meeting, Luncheon, Tours Held Friday by School System

Margaret Luther, principal of Whitfield School and Francis W. Staley, principal at Pontiac Senior High School, served as cochairmen of the New Teacher Orientation Program held Friday. The all-day program began with a meeting at the High School.

The Pre-School Program for teachers was planned by the Professional Growth Committee, composed of teachers and administrators in the Pontiac School System.

The theme for the 9:30 a.m. program was "A Preview of Our Community and Its Schools", an orientation for teachers new to Pontiac. J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools presided at the meeting held in the vocal music room at the high school.

Others speaking briefly were the Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson, president of the Pontiac Ministerial Association for the city's Religious Organizations and Mrs. Ann Galbraith, president of the Administrators and Supervisors Association.

Teachers and administrators then were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DuFrain of Cass Lake at a picnic luncheon held on the lawn of their home on Erie drive. Mr. DuFrain is former superintendent of schools.

Friday's program was culminated by a visit to their schools with their respective principals. This afforded the teachers an opportunity to tour their buildings and to discuss their new positions with their principals.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DuFrain of Erie drive (right) are shown as they talked with Paride Ninatti, who will be working at Willis and Walton boulevard schools as an administrative intern. Mr. DuFrain is former superintendent of schools.

New teachers at the coffee table Friday noon were (left to right) Mrs. Charles Hagenbuch, Pontiac High School; Mrs. Ted Miller, Pontiac High School; Mrs. Don Fenn, Webster school and Mrs. A. H. Stauffacher of Eastern Junior High School. The noon luncheon was preceded by an orientation meeting at Pontiac High School.

Sweaters, Skirts Still Favorites

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — Southern colleges will feature matching sweaters and skirts as the main item in "Betty Co. Ed's" wardrobe when she returns to the campus this fall.

This fashion forecast was made by a buyer for one of New Orleans' leading clothing stores.

She points out that sweaters and skirts have been a perennial favorite with college women since the days of the raccoon coat and the Charleston dance craze.

"But instead of sweaters and skirts of mixed materials and color," the fashion expert said, "this fall's styles dictate that they be of the same color and material, giving the appearance of a dress."

Cashmere wool, also a long-time favorite, will be the top material for the new outfits, which will feature solid colors in the pastel hues.

When the weather turns chilly, she predicted a high popularity for loose-fitting, hip-length jackets and pullovers.

Charles S. Hutchins Claims Bride

Ann Louise Strong became the bride of Charles Sanborn Hutchins at a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church. The Rev. Kenneth C. Morris and the Rev. George Widdifield were the officiating clergymen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Strong of Oxford are parents of the bride. Charles is the son of Mrs. C. Sanborn Hutchins of West Long Lake road and the late Mr. Hutchins.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For the double ring service, she chose a silk taffeta and Chantilly lace gown ending in a chapel train. The lace bodice featured long sleeves pointed at the wrists and a Dior square neckline.

Bridal attendants were Susan Strong of Oxford, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor and Sarah Colwell of Birmingham, Isobel Mathieson of Grosse Pointe, Julie Hutchins, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary Murrish of Oxford.

They were gowned identically in aqua ballerina-length dresses fashioned with bouffant skirts. They carried rust and yellow chrysanthemums with matching floral headpieces.

Best man for the ceremony was Byron B. Webb Jr., of Los Angeles, Calif. Others assisting the bridegroom were Richard Zimmerman, Payson Chapman of Birmingham, Peter Hatt of Bloomfield Hills and William Whitfield.

The couple will honeymoon in New York and Bermuda. For traveling the bride changed to a pink linen sheath dress with a lace covered bodice and short jacket. Her accessories were a dark brown.

Chandeliers Popular

Coming Events

Group 2, OES, will meet Tuesday noon for a cooperative luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred P. Johnston, 833 Sarasota.

Cora M. Eves Tent Hive 247 of Maccabees will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at VFW Hall, 300 S. Saginaw St.

The Pontiac Coin Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

Outside Insecticide

EAST LANSING, Mich. (INS)—Want to get rid of ants and spid from around your house?

Ray Janes, Michigan State University entomologist, says you should put insecticide powder in an inch band around the house foundation to keep pests out.

He recommends a wettable powder form of benzene hexachloride at six per cent strength, or the 25 per cent lindane, or even 40 per cent chlordane. They should be applied heavily enough to whiten the soil.

What Becomes of the Nation's Fairest Girls?

First Miss Americas Now Live in Wifely Retirement

(It was 35 years ago that an enterprising press agent decided that pretty girls parading in the sun in search of the title "Miss America" would help business at a seaside resort in New Jersey. Twenty-seven winners later what started out as a beauty contest is now virtually an institution, and the title is the door to small-sized fortune. To find out what it means to be—and to have been—a "Miss America," INS conducted a nationwide survey of the past winners. How fame—in most cases fleeting—and time have dealt with them is told here, in the first of four articles.)

By PHILLIS BATTELLE
International News Service

America didn't know what was being hatched, exactly, on the September evening in 1921 when they crowned the first "Miss America" beauty queen.

They put a high pearl-studded crown on her ringleted 16-year-old head, and they swathed her in a red-and-white striped silk cloak and they posed her on the boardwalk of Atlantic City for all the cameras to see.

Within 24 hours she was the most famous young woman in the country, and the "Miss America" contest was an established institution.

With the cooperation of newspaper editors, the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce and any number of publicity-seeking industries, a great new gimmick for selling papers, products and pretty girls had been put into motion.

BACK IN SCHOOL

A few days later, Margaret Gorman was back in high school in Washington, D. C., finishing her studies.

"When high school was over, I went to Georgetown Visitation Convent, and when I got out I was married," remembers Margaret. "That, in those days, was it."

The first "Miss America" received only publicity—where today's winners get from $50,000 to $60,000 in prizes, and scholarships for training them to do jobs other than looking pretty—but she is rather glad of it.

It helped her forget the foolishness and fun quickly, and get on to the business of living without a big head.

"There were no cash prizes in those days," she said. "I did receive a 'Golden Mermaid' (a small statuette, presented to early winners), but I don't even know where it is now. It might be out in the garden."

MARRIED AT 20 ... ...

Margaret, now the wife of Victor Cahill, a prosperous real estate broker in Washington, was married in 1925 when she was 20. They have no children.

"I never wanted to go on the stage or anything like that, and my husband thinks it's all a lot of foolishness and should be forgotten. It's a wife's duty to bow to her husband's wishes."

Only 5-feet-2, Mrs. Cahill realizes standards of beauty have changed since her triumphal day, and she admires the girls who in recent years have become Miss Americas. "They're tall and willowy. I would love to have been tall."

The annual competition was still fresh and awesome to the public when a raven-haired lass from Columbus, Ohio, Mary Katherine Campbell, came to Atlantic City in 1922. Wearing a black swim suit that reached halfway down her shapely thighs to her knees, she won in a breeze.

The age for entering competition was 16, and Miss Campbell was a year short of it. But with the support of her mother, she claimed to be 16, and the officials—overcome by her beauty and the desire to keep the contest from scandal—overlooked the petty problem.

SECOND VICTORY

"I was stunned, because I didn't expect to win," she remembers now. "Especially the second time."

Miss Campbell returned to the contest in 1923, when she was of legal age, and swept it again, becoming the only two-time "Miss America."

Now wed to F. S. Townley Jr., an employe of the Du Pont Co. in New York, Mary Katherine tries to keep her glamorous past a secret.

"You know the reaction people have when they find out someone has won a beauty contest," she says. "They say behind your back, 'Well I know someone on the block who's prettier than she is'. I'd just rather keep it hidden, that's all."

In line with that reasoning, Mrs. Townley refuses now to have any photographs taken, though she still is an attractive woman.

SUPREMELY SEXY

The 1924 "Miss America" was Ruth Malcolmson, 18, whose bathing suit was white and supremely sexy for her day. (It was clipped off fully 8 inches from the knee!)

She is now Mrs. Carl A. Schnaubel, wife of the president of a Philadelphia printing firm, and aunt of another 18-year-old named Lorna Ringler who is entered in this year's contest as "Miss Pennsylvania."

"It was a great thrill, but I had a greater thrill when I celebrated my 25th wedding anniversary this June in Germany, with my husband and son, Carl Jr., a lieutenant in the Army."

Miss Malcolmson received not only the "Golden Mermaid", but also a Rickenbacker auto and offers to go into the Ziegfeld Follies.

The "Miss America" stakes were beginning to go up.

Faye Lamphier of 1925, a tousle-haired blonde who expects to be a grandma in October, took full advantage of the new policy in "Miss America" prize-winning. She estimates her benefits totaled "about $40,000" including the salaries she made from theatrical engagements.

APPEARED IN FILM

She made personal appearances, appeared in one Laurel and Hardy movie and did a 16-week touring stint for the Underwood Typewriter Company, demonstrating her streamlined hunt-and-peck at $100 a week.

* * *

She can't remember the name of the movie: "I wish I did, because I'd love to see it again."

Faye is married to W. J. Daniels of Oakland, Calif., her childhood sweetheart.

He owns a bookstore, and she has spent the years since the wedding raising two children, aged 23 and 15. It's been a lovely life, she says.

(Tomorrow: A Life Less Than Lovely.)

Varsity Blue Making Fall Color News

No. 8255 is in sizes 6 months, 1, 2, 3 years. Size 1, dress, 1½ yards of 35-inch; slip ¾ yard; bonnet, ⅝ yard; romper, ⅞ yard.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired, and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy Street, Chicago 6, Ill.

Send an extra 25 cents now for your copy of the Fall & Winter '56 issue of our complete pattern book. Basic Fashion—a complete sewing guide for every woman who sews for herself and her family.

You'll find this crocheted 'circle' ideal to wear on those chilly days and evenings ahead as a cape or headcovering. It's not only quick and easy to make, but also inexpensive. (So nice to keep or gift-give!)

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Ann Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy Street, Chicago 6, Ill.

Now available—the colorful 1956 Needlework album containing dozens of lovely designs from which to choose more patterns in crochet, embroidery and knit—plus 3 gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25c a copy!

Baby's Travel Kit

A kit is now on the market for the traveling baby. It holds baby oil, baby cream, powder, lotion, soap and cotton dabs in a yellow and white plaid, plastic container that is washable.

A woman in Milan, Italy, is suging for divorce because, since his plastic surgery, her husband is too good looking and "an impossible flirt."

Velveteen for Dates

Velveteen remains the top "date" dress material for college girls—in black, in electric blue and honey beige and usually in "directoire" designs with high riding waistlines.

Shorter suit and coat sleeves call for the fur muff. Statesque women can wear them really big. Petites need a smaller muff.

Bride-elect Is Honored at Miscellaneous Shower

Patricia Butler, bride-elect of Stanley Swierczynski, has asked Mary Jo Chapin to serve as her maid of honor. Mrs. Richard Schwab and Diana Butler will serve as bridesmaids and Barbara Butler will be junior bridesmaid.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Butler of Henry Clay avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swierczynski of Lansing. A Sept. 15 wedding date has been set.

The announcement was made at a miscellaneous bridal shower given Thursday by Kay Elliott and Rose Seibert. The affair was held at the Elliott home on Chippewa road.

Invited guests were Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Lewis Egerer, Mrs. Harold Gamester, Mrs. John Gallagher, Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Tom Riley, Mrs. Russell Evans, Mrs. Olga Barkeley and Mrs. Helen Brosted.

Others attending were Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. Garland Burgess, Mrs. Richard Schwab, Barbara Butler, Diana Butler, Mrs. Lewis H. Butler, Mrs. Fanny Salzman and Kay Norden.

Gail Kandt, Mrs.. Arnold Denison, Mrs. Edward Luscumb, Rita Schneider, Mrs. Bert Colbert, Mrs. Daniel Bailey, Christine Cunningham, Mrs. Fran Kessler, Mrs. Norman Winter and Mrs. Mary Burrell also attended.

Mrs. Donald Finney, Kathy McClelland, Ruby Lawrence, Jean Sheridan and Mrs. Margaret Churchill completed the guest list.

Skillful Knitting Can Be Profitable

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Whenever people say, "Things aren't like they used to be," I am always tempted to reply, "Thank heavens!"

I thought of that the other day after meeting a woman from the Midwest who has a very successful home business. In her early 60's, she is a widow and has four grandchildren.

Specializing in knitting charming cardigans to match dinner dresses, she works not only with individual customers, but also with several small shops in her city. And she makes nothing except these particular cardigans.

"It's more fun," she told me. "I can now work out the design myself and do the most intricate trimmings and I have unlimited outlet for all the creative ideas I can come up with.

PRETTY PATHETIC

Years ago, the little grandma who went in for knitting was not this type at all.

She was apt to be a pretty pathetic figure, turning out reams and reams of busy-work — shapeless scarves and shawls, uninspired baby blankets and badly - fitting, Christmas present sweaters.

Many times they would show me samples of their pathetic busy-work and ask advice about finding a market.

It was heart-breaking because all too often the products were so lacking in style and so dreary in design that they not only couldn't be sold, but could hardly be given away.

Fortunately, all that has changed. Today, the woman knitter can get all kinds of help with designs and patterns.

ADVICE AVAILABLE

The yarn shop proprietors and the department store salespeople are equipped to give advice and help, and nobody needs to turn out knitted things with that just-to-keep-me-busy look.

Miss McKinley showed me booklets galore which gave instructions and patterns for beautifully designed, hand - knitted articles.

In short, things aren't like they used to be in the knitting field.

If you like to knit — for your own needs or for a money-making home project—write, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I will send you a list of good books in the field.

Top Layer of Cookies Is Chewy

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cookies that taste almost like candy—that's the recipe we have for you today. They are made in two layers, but are easy to do. Make up a batch for the children's lunch boxes.

Mrs. Gordon Robertson of Birmingham is today's cook. She was reluctant to give us information about herself and her hobbies. We do know she has two children out of college.

BUTTERSCOTCH COCONUT CHEWS
By Mrs. Gordon Robertson

½ cup brown sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sifted flour
Pinch of salt

Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add flour and salt. Pack into a pan 8x8x2. Bake 15 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from oven.

2 eggs
1 cup brown sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
Salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1½ cups coconut

Beat eggs, add rest of ingredients and pour over baked mixture. Bake 20 minutes more. Cut into squares while warm.

Married Saturday evening in Birmingham were Marjorie Edna Crook and Marvin Lester Wilkie. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Ralph Crook of Birmingham and Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wilkie of Royal Oak.

MRS. MARVIN L. WILKIE

Marjorie Crook Speaks Vows in Birmingham Rite

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham, Marjorie Edna Crook became the bride of Marvin Lester Wilkie. The Rev. Theodore Wuggaer performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. Ralph Crook of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wilkie of Royal Oak.

The skirt was fashioned with alternating panels of lace and nylon plisse. It extended into a chapel train. A lace crown trimmed with mother-of-pearl sequins held her fingertip veil.

ATTEND BRIDE

Lynn Hannaum of Bloomfield Hills, maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles W. Donelson of Royal Oak, matron of honor, wore maize nylon chiffon gowns with V necklines, shirred bodices and full skirts.

Their headpieces were toast-colored flower wreaths with maize veiling, and they carried yellow Fugi chrysanthemums and bronze pompons.

Bridesmaids Mary Ann Grady and Diane Miller of Pontiac were gowned in toast-colored nylon chiffon gowns styled like the honor attendants'.

Edward Anderson of Detroit served as best man. Also assisting the bridegroom were Jack Castor of Pontiac, Charles W. Donelson of Royal Oak and Albert Franklin of Leonard.

GOWNED IN PINK

Mrs. Wilkie chose a pink peau de soie dress with a lace bodice and a pink flowered hat. Her flowers were also cymbidium orchids.

When the newlyweds left on their wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride was wearing a black wool sheath dress with matching coat and a feathered hat. They will make their home in Royal Oak.

Mom Asks if Writing Is Required

She Should Take Daughter's Advice in the Matter

By EMILY POST

"My daughter is going to be married shortly. Her fiance's family lives in another city but will come here for the wedding, arriving a day or so before.

"I would like to know if I should write to his mother beforehand telling her of the wedding plans and also what I am wearing. My daughter thinks I should but I don't think it is at all necessary. Will you please tell me who is right?"

Answer: You are both right—there is no rule governing this. But if I were you, I would take your daughter's advice—perhaps she knows that her future mother-in-law would appreciate such a letter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I belong to a group of six women who play canasta once a week. Two of these women talk throughout the entire game, half of the time making mistakes because they are not concentrating.

"It is most wearing on one's nerves, but how to tell them about this very annoying habit without hurting their feelings is a problem that I would very much like your help on."

Answer: If there are four of you who feel this same way, why not get together and play without these two? Then if they inquire why, you will have to be frank and tell them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to lunch at a friend's house, is it proper for a guest to go into the dining room wearing her hat, or does she leave it with her coat (if she is wearing a coat). To me it seems strange to sit at the dining table in a private house wearing a hat. What is your opinion?"

Answer: In a formal house she keeps it on at luncheon. In an informal house, if she feels more comfortable without it, she may take it off.

Hit Fashion Bullseye With Buttons

PARIS (INS)—This season you can hit the fashion bullseye with buttons.

Clock-faces, "caviar," tassled disks and female hands are the latest devices used in Paris to fasten garments. Top Paris designers are using buttons as conversation pieces as well as functional ornaments.

The most interesting buttons look like period treasures from the Paris flea-market. They represent the faces of small antique pocket watches minus hands, encircled with glittering rhinestones.

Maggy Rouff shows such buttons on a simple styled tweed suit as eye-catching trimming.

MATCH FUR

A new idea on suits is to match button colors to the fur trimming. Pierre Balmain uses mink-brown buttons on a mink-trimmed, black suit.

Another novelty is carved wood buttons on tweed suits by Dior and Heim. Gunmetal also has entered a woman's world in the shape of large, rimmed or flat buttons.

Bright Future Seen in Mexico

President Says National Product Has Risen 10 Per Cent in Year

MEXICO CITY (AP) — —President held today for Mrs. Frances sented an optimistic economic picture in his annual state of the nation address to Congress. He said Mexico's national product increased an "unprecendented" 10 per cent from 1954 to 1955 and the rate of growth had continued during the present year.

The President said the public debt had been cut, while the dollar reserve stood at 410 million dollars, about 25 per cent above a year ago. He credited increased export activity for this trend, saying imports increased by 16 per cent during the first five months of this year while exports climbed by 27 per cent.

Ruiz Cortines said his government's cotton barter program was a "temporary" expedient designed to counteract the U.S. disposal of its surplus on the world market.

"This measure," he said, "does not mean that Mexico is abandoning its policy of multilateral trade which is basic to its foreign commerce."

Truckers Steal Boat

SPORT THE POWERHOUSE

All resemblance between Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber and Dark Destroyer of yesteryear, and the Joe Louis of today—beset with thousands of tax problems, a damaged heart and memories of lustier days, may be purely coincidental.

There is one quality in the great heavyweight's character which remains steadfast, and that is his innate honesty.

Whether it is childhood training from a strict and understanding mother or the discipline of ring training, Louis still answers questions with his inimitable frankness and candor.

"I'm in tax trouble," Joe readily admits. "I want to pay back Uncle Sam. I ain't looking for charity. People have sent dollars and even pennies to help me out. This ain't the way. I want to meet my obligations."

Louis' earnings today are at the lowest ebb of his career, and with a strained heart, his physical activity has been limited to light walks and a daily glance at the newspapers.

Mrs. Louis wrote a letter to Dennis James, and asked that her husband appear on his TV show. This was grabbed up quickly and Joe made his first appearance Saturday night.

Whether this is the surest method of settling as grave a problem as his tax indebtedness, remains questionable, but it emphasizes the man's honest approach. This phase of his character apparently will never change.

Only recently, he was asked about wrestling. "How can you, a great heavyweight champion, engage in an exhibition like wrestling?" Louis shook his head and sardonically replied: "It ain't stealing."

JOE COULDN'T GO EASY ON HIS OPPONENTS

Back in 1946, Louis was appearing in a four round exhibition in Sacramento, California. The manager of his opponent approached him in the dressing room, "Joe, I've invested a fortune in my heavyweight. Will you take it easy with him? After all, my investment can be wiped out with one punch."

Louis stared in space, and spoke in his drawling manner: "If my mom were in the ring, I wouldn't take it easy with her. That's how I fight." He knocked the heavyweight out in two rounds.

To a fellow who earns a salary and pays his taxes via withholding, the problem of Joe Louis remains enigmatic. His financial structure is as complex as the small print on a lease, but the obvious conclusion is that athletes with shorter careers than businessmen, pay the same rate of tax.

Rosburg Edges Furgol in MCO Playoff

BY H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

For the fourth time in six Motor City Open golf tournaments, this nationally-rated invitational affair has wound up in a tie, with a "sudden death" playoff settling the winner.

Bob Rosburg, San Francisco ex-collegian, took down the title, and the rich top award of $4,000, when he ran his 1st putt within inches of the cup on the first hole of the playoff, while Ed Furgol of St. Louis, Mo. was unable to sink his 10 footer after pitching on. Furgol's 2nd missed the green to the right. Ed's runup was too fast. Rosburg was on 10 feet from the pin with his 2nd. Both had even par 284s for the tourney proper.

Early in the afternoon of Sunday's final round at Western Golf and Country club, it began to look like a real battle for the top spot was shaping up. There were at least a half dozen with chances of getting in the No. 1 berth. But one by one they slipped back, leaving four solid hopes in Rosburg, Furgol, Jack Fleck and Bo Wininger.

Rosburg and Furgol had finished, knotted at 284. Wininger was also home, with 286 after missing his chance on the last two holes. Fleck, former National Open champ, needed a birdie on 18 to tie for the lead. His 8-footer was close, but failed to drop, leaving him with 285.

Wally Burkemo leader of the pack for two of the four days, skidded to a 287, not far off the pace. But, as Wally put it, "I didn't play too well, and I got all I deserved." Dow Finsterwald, who shared Friday's lead finished at 288.

Battle for the top place between Furgal and Rosburg began at the turn where Ed went one-under to Bob's par figures. They were in the same threesome with Ernie Vossler the third member. Beginning the final swing Bob and Ed were tied at 248 along with Fleck. Rosburg moved ahead a stroke on the 13th with a birdie 3 to Furgol's par 4.

Ed squared the score with a birdie (4) on the 15th where Bob took 5. They played even rest of the way.

At the close of the playoff Rosburg was presented with a check for $4,000. He announced to writers just before the final ceremony that he would head for Akron, Ohio today to play in the big Akron Open, starting Thursday. Furgol also a former National Open king, who received a check for $2,700, expected to play in an exhibition today, probably at Battle Creek.

Par out	443	454	453	—36
Rosburg, out	443	454	444	—36
Furgol out	343	553	543	—38
Par in	443	445	444	—36—72
Rosburg in	443	345	454	—36—72
Furgol in	443	444	454	—36—71

Par for 72 holes 288.
Rosburg for 72 holes 284.
Furgol for 72 holes 284.

Third place and $1,700 went to Jack Fleck.

Amateur leader was Chuck Kocsis, with 296, a stroke under his brother Sam, 1954 National publinx champion. Nick Weslock of Windsor was 3rd with 300. Pontiac's state publinx king, Mike Andonian had 304, sharing the spot with husky Tom Draper of Red Run.

Big galleries crowded the fairways and greens, but was one of the best-behaved golf crowds the MCO has ever had. Western officials estimated that more than 12,000 witnessed Sunday's show.

Early prediction that Western's narrow fairways, small greens and unusual character of the terrain would prove difficult was more than borne out by the scores of the week. In Sunday's round alone, only eight bettered par.

Committee Stands By Ruling in Gold Cup

DETROIT (AP)—The U.S. Inboard Racing Commission today withheld the 1956 Gold Cup title, ending temporarily a tug of war over the trophy between Detroit and Seattle speedboat racers.

The Gold Cup committee yesterday stood by its decision to disqualify Seattle's Miss Thriftway and give victory to Detroit's Miss Pepsi. The Seattle boat had appeared the winner before judges ruled it destroyed a buoy on the final heat of the 90-mile race.

The commission will decide the official winner of the race after receiving reports from two appointed investigators, Melvin Crook of Montclair, N.J., and Lou Eppel of Cedar Grove, N.J., both experienced boatmen.

Rhodes said the films proved that his boat did not strike and destroy a buoy during the race as had been ruled by officials.

Race Committee Chairman John Carter said, "After viewing the film, the race committee stands by its original decision."

After the committee decision giving the Gold Cup to Miss Pepsi, Rhodes lodged his official protest.

The race committee went to its headquarters where a protest meeting was called.

After the hearing, Carter handed the protest to Frank Foulke of Essex, Md., chairman of the inboard commission. Foulke said a final decision on the protest might take 60 days.

Golf a Sideline

Rosburg Liked Baseball

Soft-spoken, studious-looking Bob Rosburg wasn't too keen on golf as a major sports activity during his college days at Stanford University. But he parlayed a steady game into a major championship Sunday at the Motor City Open.

In college Rosburg was a baseball player with enough talent to attract the attention of big time scouts. But he finally decided to try the links business and has been a member of the touring pro troupe for three years.

Sunday's $4,000 win at Western Golf and Country club was only his 2nd big-time victory. He won the Miami Open in 1954. The Motor City win boosted his earnings for this year, he said, to $14,611.

A close student of the game, the 29-year-old Rosburg is particularly strong around the greens. His approach shots were seldom far off the pin and he displayed a keen putting eye.

Tigers Face Chisox

Sweep Series With A's

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Kaline and the Detroit Tigers, winners of three straight over the Kansas City Athletics, moved into Chicago for a Labor Day double header today against the third place White Sox.

Kaline completed a run-scoring batting surge yesterday against the Kansas City with a two-run single in the 8th inning to give Detroit a 3-1 victory over the last place Athletics.

It was the third straight day Kaline powered the Tigers to victory. He knocked in five runs Friday night and two Saturday.

Kaline's nine runs pushed his RBI total to 111—seven behind New York's Mickey Mantle's 118 league leading mark.

The win was number 16 for Billy Hoeft. Hoeft gave up four hits in the first three innings and four more in the final six innings.

Art Dittmar lost his 19th game against 10 wins. He held the Tigers in check until the 8th, when with one out, he walked Harvey Kuenn and Wayne Belardi. Charley Maxwell singled to fill the bases and Kaline followed with his game winning hit.

Kansas City scored in the second inning and Dittmar held the one-run lead until the 7th when Detroit tied it with an unearned run, on Maxwell's single, a throwing error by first baseman Vic Power and Jim Small's single.

Steve Gromek (8-5) and Jim Bunning (4-1) will oppose Jim Wilson (12-12) and Bob Keegan (4-3) in today's doubleheader.

Detroit's season record now stands at 64 win and 65 losses, the closest Detroit has been to the .500 mark since June 18.

Veteran Net Coach Says Hoad Is Not Unbeatable

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The man who coached three players to the U.S. tennis championship, 74-year-old Mercer Beasley, thinks Australia's Lew Hoad is anything but unbeatable.

"All our players think of is blast, blast, blast," said the white-haired Beasley today. "I wish they'd try a little science once in a while. Hoad can be beaten, but they've got to play to his weakness, which is the backhand, right at his feet near the net."

Beasley, who has been a coach for 33 years, tutored Ellsworth Vines (1931-32), Wilmer Allison (1935) and Frank Parker (1944-45) to the national title.

Hoad has won the three biggest titles this year so far, the French, Australian and Wimbledon. If he wins the U.S. title, he'll become the first player since Don Budge did in '38 to turn in a grand slam.

Beasley singled out Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson and Ken Rosewall, his Davis Cup mate, as the three players in the current Nationals who might have the equipment to stop Hoad.

While Hoad waited to match strokes with Leslie Dodson of Kalamazoo, Mich., in the second round, he must have wondered where his opposition had disappeared.

Seixas and Dick Savitt, two of the Americans rated most likely to give him a tussle, had to fight for their lives to survive the first round yesterday.

Seixas finally pulled out a 6-3, 3-6, 8-10, 6-3, 7-5 triumph over 20-year-old Mike Davies of England after a violent thunderstorm delayed the match for almost an hour in the middle of the final set.

Western Clubs Rated Strongest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The strength of the National Football League lies in the Western Conference on the basis of exhibition games played against each other by the 12 members of the play-for-pay circuit.

With the opening of the regular season still four weeks away, the only unbeaten teams are the San Francisco 49ers, Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears, all members of the Western Conference. Each has won three games.

Two other members of the same division, the Baltimore Colts and the Detroit Lions, are next in line along with the New York Giants of the Eastern Conference. They each have 2-1 records. Los Angeles, Washington and the Chicago Cardinals have dropped two of three games while the champion Cleveland Browns are 0-3 and the Philadelphia Eagles 0-4.

Over the weekend the Bears, Packers and 49ers each came up with their third victories. The Bears downed Washington 17-3 Saturday while the 49ers edged the Cards 14-13 yesterday when defensive halfback George Maderos blocked Pat Summerall's conversion attempt with 80 seconds remaining.

The Packers turned back the Browns 21-20 while the Giants came through with a 21-10 decision over the Rams.

Motors' Club Loses State Title Effort

Pontiac General Motors' 27-game winning streak was rudely snapped over the weekend and so was its hope for a state championship in the Michigan Amateur Baseball Association tournament at Battle Creek.

Previously undefeated GMC was ousted from the 16-team double-elimination finals in back-to-back slugfests by Drewry's of Jackson and Hargrave's of Wayne.

Jackson scored three runs in the 9th inning to edge the Coachers, 11-10, in Saturday's 2nd round game. Wayne led all the way to whip Pontiac, 13-10, in yesterday's encounter. GMC used five pitchers in each contest.

Five teams remain in the state tourney — Kalamazoo, Wyandotte, Lansing, Jackson and host Battle Creek.

Ypsi Gets 55 Tuesday

YPSILANTI (AP)—Eastern Michigan College will hold its first football workout Tuesday. Some 55 candidates, including 13 lettermen are expected to report. Eastern Michigan is the co-champion of the IIAC conference. Its first game is Sept. 22 against Hillsdale.

Strikeout Mark Held by Lemon

WASHINGTON (INS)—Washington outfielder Jim Lemon held a new American League record today—122 strikeouts.

Lemon, honored yesterday by a group from his hometown of Covington, Va., who gave him a $1,500 savings bond, fanned twice. Thus he surpassed the previous league record of Larry Doby, who struck out 121 times while playing for Cleveland in 1953.

Ironically, it was last Friday that Lemon became the first Washington player ever to hit three homeruns in a game at Griffith Stadium—and he hit them at consecutive times at bat. But that night, the Yankees won, 6 to 4.

Idyl Wyld, Sunnybrook Meet in MGA Playoff

With Plymouth's defeat, 14 to 7½, Sunday at the hands of Idyl Wyld's team for the West Side MGA title, final playoff for the Metropolitan circuit has been set at Bald Mountain course, Sept. 30.

Sunnybrook, winner of the East section title will provide opposition for Idyl Wyld. Sunnybrook swamped Beverly Hills, 18 to 4, for the top spot, and finished its season unbeaten.

Local Softballers Bow

Victorios beginnings proved fruitless for Pulver Tire and North Side Auto Parts, Pontiac's hopefuls in the girls' Michigan Softball Association tournaments.

After winning 1st round tests, the two local squads bowed out of the state finals over the weekend. The Zeeland Bon-Tons eliminated Pulver Tire Sunday in Class A at Port Huron while North Side was ousted yesterday by the Albion Merchants in Class B at Kalamazoo.

Each city entry did manager to claim one more triumph in the double-knockout tourney before falling by the wayside.

Pulver walloped Zeeland in Saturday's 2nd round, 15-3. The winners collected a dozen hits, four by Joyce Bone, and Jackie Thrasher was on the mound. Family Market of Kalamazoo, which eventually annexed the Class A state title, handed Pulver an 8-2 licking Saturday. Zeeland dumped Pontiac, 10-2, in a return match Sunday.

Kalamazoo took the crown by whipping Zeeland, 10-2, after the Bon-Tons had drawn 1st blood with a 3-1 verdict in their extended windup.

The Auto Parts dropped a 4-1 decision to Midland in Saturday's 2nd round, then bounced back with a 12-8 conquest of the Port Huron Sinclairettes yesterday. Barbara Heflin made four hits and Margaret Liddy slammed a 2-run homer.

Drayton Drug Stays Alive in Tournament

Drayton Drug, Waterfort Township's hope for a Class C championship in the men's Michigan Softball Association tournament at Coldwater, is still alive today. But the "chips are down" in the double-elimination finals.

The Drug nine was scheduled to see action this morning at 11 o'clock, with victory in its remaining games an absolute necessity after bowing to Albion Sunday. Drayton defeated Ludington in Saturday's 2nd round test before losing to Albion.

Oscoda Team Sets New Mark in Canoe Race

OSCODA (AP) — Tom Gildersleeve, 22, and Ralph Sawyer, 19, both of Oscoda posted a new record yesterday for the 240-mile Grayling-to-Oscoda canoe race on the Au Sable River.

The Oscoda youths covered the distance in 16 hours and 58 minutes to finish 12 minutes ahead of Bernie Fowler and John Stephen of Grayling.

Fowler, racing with a different partner last year, held the old record of 17 hours and 33 minutes.

Giovanelli, Poirier Promise Hot Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Danny Giovanelli and Gene Poirier come close to duplicating their first fight at St. Nicholas Arena tonight a lot of dynamite will be exploded in the small New York club.

In their initial clash at St.Nicks July 23, the 24-year-old Giovanelli picked himself up off the floor in the eighth round and rallied to stop the hard-hitting ex-soldier in the same round.

Giovanelli, a New Yorker, is a slight favorite to repeat over the 24-year-old Niagara Falls, N.Y., slugger in the television 10-rounder (DuMont-TV, 9 p.m., EST). Danny's record is 30-6-1, Gene's 15-6-3.

Brooks Lose 2, Braves Pad Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The front-running Milwaukee Braves, enjoying their biggest lead in more than a month today, 3½ games, have hit upon a sure-fire formula for pennant success—a different hero each day.

It was Bill Bruton's turn yesterday. The fleet-footed centerfielder smashed a two-run single to highlight a five-run first inning, got another single later, stole a base and threw out a base runner as the Braves defeated St. Louis 6-3 for a sweep of the four-game series.

While Milwaukee extended its winning streak to five straight, the New York Giants dealt Brooklyn a severe jolt by sweeping both ends of their doubleheader 2-1 and 4-1 to drop the Dodgers into a second-place tie with Cincinnati, which made it three in a row over Chicago with a 3-2 victory.

The Braves haven't been more than three games in front since July 28 when they led the Redlegs by 4½ and the Dodgers by 5½ games.

Pittsburgh walloped Philadelphia twice 10-6 and 5-1 to round out the activities in the National League.

Washington handed New York its second straight 4-3 licking but the Yankees maintained their 7½-game lead over Cleveland, which bowed to the third-place Chicago White Sox by the same 4-3 margin. Baltimore, trailing 8-0 after two innings, fought back to finally nip the Boston Red Sox 11-10 and Detroit made it three straight over Kansas City with a 3-1 triumph.

During the past two weeks, beginning Monday, Aug. 21, the Braves have won 10, lost four and tied one. During that stretch, eight different players delivered the key blow in support of brilliant pitching by Milwaukee's mound staff.

Braves Meet Redlegs

Big Series in NL Race

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The front-running Milwaukee Braves figure that if they can take three out of four games from Cincinnati in a series starting with today's Labor Day doubleheader, the Redlegs would be candidates for the 10-count.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn, which dropped a twin-bill to the Giants yesterday, were deadlocked for second place before the holiday action, 3½ games off the pace.

"At this late stage of the season," said second baseman Danny O'Connell, "three losses here could be near fatal, if not fatal to Cincinnati."

Lefthander Warren Spahn, the only regular who played on the '48 pennant-winning Braves' team of Boston vintage, agreed, but added a note of caution.

"Sure, it would be nice to pad our lead," he said, "but what if they take three out of four from us? If we keep playing 'em one at a time, we'll be all right. The only time I'll be happy about this race is when Brooklyn and Cincinnati are mathematically eliminated.

Most of the Braves dressed slowly yesterday after beating the St. Louis Cardinals for the fourth straight time, 6-3. They kept asking for the results of the Brooklyn-New York second game.

There was no big show of elation over the Dodgers' plight. The Braves were happy, but most of them still feel Brooklyn, not Cincinnati, is the team they must beat.

They don't take seriously the recent statements attributed to Carl Furillo et al that the Dodgers fear the Redlegs more than the Braves.

"They're just trying to pull more of that psychology baloney," said Del Rice. "They know just like everybody else who's in first place. Let them talk. They're not used to having somebody above them."

O'Connell said he thought Furillo and the rest of the Brooks were trying to pull someone's leg, "but if they're serious about it, that's okay with us.

Nation's Top Milers Meet Bailey Today

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—This country's best milers take on Australia's Jim Bailey today in a meet that brings together most of the U.S. Olympic track team for the first time since the qualifying trials in June.

Bailey is the University of Oregon student who cracked the 4-minute mile for the first time in this country and upset world record-holder John Landy at Los Angeles last spring. Bailey is expected to compete for his native Australia in the Olympic Games.

Pitted against him in the 1500-meter run will be this country's four crack distance runners, Jerome Walters of Pepperdine, Don Bowden of California, Ted Wheeler of Iowa and Fred Dwyer of New York.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Tight at top.

DIAGNOSIS: Back-Stretch too short.

TREATMENT: It's quite natural that beginners find it difficult to extend the arms fully from the ball in the backswing. The course of least resistance is to lift the clubhead straight up, break the elbow, and flail away, hoping for a good shot.

But it will soon pay off if you'll work on swinging the club back in one piece, keeping the head absolutely still. Concentrate on a straight line as far as it is comfortably possible in swinging the clubhead straight back in a low sweep from the ball.

In no time at all you'll get yourself into the perfectly balanced position shown in the sketch. Notice that the left arm is fully stretched to produce a wide, powerful arc. More than that, though, it's a simple, certain way to get pivot or body turn. And that, of course, grooves the swing; keeps it constant.

SMU Accuses Oklahoma

Bell charged that Oklahoma coaches "worked on" Boyd all summer although the Garland, Tex., all-state halfback, had signed a letter of intent to attend Southern Methodist.

"I think its a shame for a school to bother boys who have signed an agreement to attend another school," the former Texas Christian, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist coach declared. "I always have believed in standing up to an agreement."

Bell said Oklahoma did not violate any rule in contacting Boyd and getting him to change his mind and go to Oklahoma because the letter of intent is a Southwest Conference instrument only and no school outside the conference is bound by it. But he said he did question the ethics involved.

Chiefs Step Up Gridiron Drills

First stiff scrimmage of the season for Pontiac High School gridiron Chiefs showed improvement in team play and individual performances, head coach Ed Graybiel reported today. The squad, now totalling around 100, got a workout on both defense and plays.

"They looked good, for this early in the year," Graybiel said. "Our straight football, the dive plays, were tried and some pretty good results were produced. They worked better than the tricky stuff that obviously needs a lot of polishing."

Dick Whitmer was working at quarterback, and looked good particularly on one perfect pass that Graybiel liked very much. The pilot job is one of the big holes Graybiel has to fill this fall.

* * *

One session was held today, but two will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. A game-type scrimmage, marking a step-up in practice tempo, has been set for Saturday, to give a line on possible starters for the opening game.

Food Distribution Hits a New High

WASHINGTON — The Department of Agriculture reports that distribution of surplus foods reached heights during the last six months of 1955, with distribution in this country and overseas totaling 76,900,000 pounds, an increase of 71 per cent over the figure for the like period of 1954.

Ten more oil wells will be drilled at Egmanton, England, where 1,000 tons of oil a month now are being produced.

Plan Army Transfer as Second Honeymoon

Montomery estimated the trip would take 18 days from Colorado Spring to Anchorage. The 4,000 miles over the Alcan Highway includes 1,500 miles over dirt roads.

It's GOP Sen. Wiley vs. GOP in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (NEA) — Sen. Alexander Wiley, 72, staunch Eisenhower foreign policy backer who Wisconsin leaders dumped this spring, is locked in close combat for the 1956 senatorial nomination with Rep. Glenn R. Davis, 41, the bright hope of the conservatives.

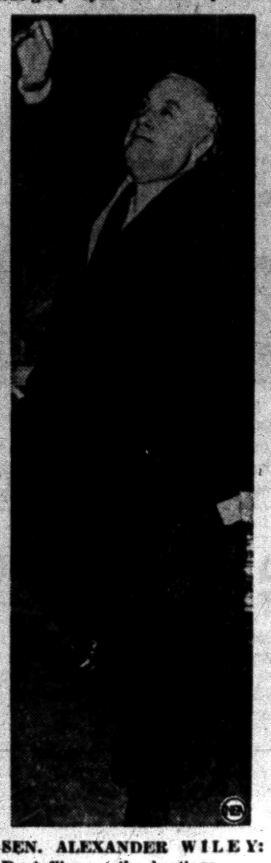

With the GOP primary on Sept. 11, seasoned heads caution against predictions. The factor pro and con seem tightly balanced.

Wiley, veteran of 18 Senate years, is stocky, big-chested, broad-faced, and given to wearing hats big enough to be tossed into rings. He fits the standard image of the old school senator. Critics say he sounds devastatingly like one.

Making speeches is as easy for him as eating. Last winter he pumped out 65 in 30 days. Once a regional Kiwanis official, he found the shift to politics a gentle glide.

LIKENED TO NIXON

Some liken him to Vice President Nixon in appearance and attitudes. He would accept this as warm praise, for Nixon is a personal friend. Davis has a snapping mind, commanding facts with precision.

As one-time chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Wiley long has been a line-plunger for President Eisenhower on foreign aid, opposition to the Bricker amendment curbing presidential treaty powers, and similar issues.

But his party adversaries in this state argue that in bucking that line he's kept his head so low he's lost sight of what they consider the real wishes of Wisconsin Republicans, and even of the President himself on domestic matters.

They do not, however, underestimate the job of beating Wiley. They give him all the usual advantages of the incumbent—well-known name, long record of performance, and so on. They know him for a pounding campaigner who can make the dust fly on the hustings.

PLAYED OUT?

They believe, too, that a "wave of sympathy" for him swept over the state after the GOP state convention shunted him aside and endorsed Davis on May 26. Their hope is that the wave has played out.

Yet Wiley has naturally done his best to lash it higher. He brands his opponents "kingmakers" who tried to boss him out of the picture.

The Davis camp denies it flatly. But Wiley has trumpeted the charge.

They note his votes for high farm price supports, for the St. Lawrence Seaway bill (favored), and against the gas bill (widely disapproved in Wisconsin).

They say further that what ever part of the labor vote falls to the GOP primary may well be Wiley's. But contests may hold most of it in the Democratic column.

Even Wiley's friends concede, nevertheless, that he has his handicaps. Some think of him as a kind of windy Claghorn who has just stumbled into the "right path." Some are as angry as the pro-McCarthyites because he ducked a Senate vote in 1954 on the issue of censuring Sen. McCarthy, his junior colleague.

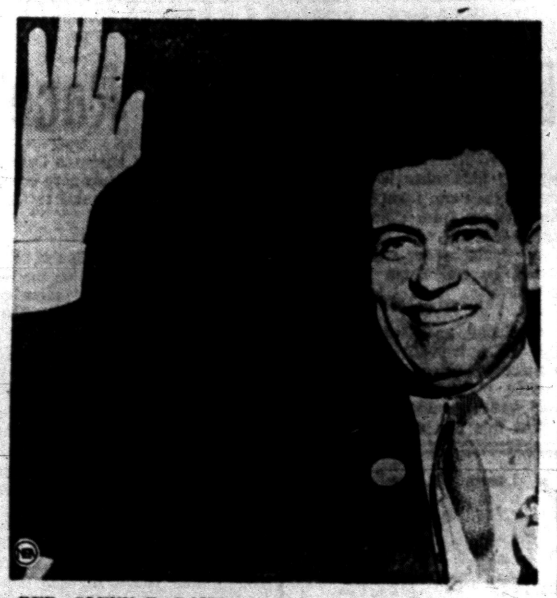

And it is clearly no small obstacle to have the full weight of the state GOP organization thrown against him. In Wisconsin, formal endorsement by a state convention automatically puts all organization resources at the winner's command.

MAKE HIM KNOWN

That effort is now being exerted to make Davis a known quantity. He has whistled around the state on an 8,000-mile tour.

Near-saturation campaigning is planned for him in Wisconsin's more populous eastern sectors in the weeks ahead.

Money is said to be tight for both candidates, but the odds favor Davis getting more than Wiley. The old pros are helping, and the Wisconsin endorsement system naturally favors him.

REP. GLENN R. DAVIS: A smile guaranteed by his wife.

In Davis' camp are such veteran leaders as Tom Coleman of Madison, 1952 floor manager for the late Sen. Taft of Ohio; Wayne Hood, wealthy LaCrosse industrialist and former state chairman, and William Grede, state party treasurer.

Wherever Davis goes he argues that on domestic matters he's a better "Ike" supporter than Wiley, and he defends his votes against foreign aid and his espousal of the "Bricker amendment idea."

He insists he is neither an isolationist nor against foreign aid in principle. His goal, he says, is a sweeping reappraisal and scaling down of foreign aid.

Observers point out, though, that he does have the full support of the most vigorous anti-internationalist elements in Wisconsin, and in addition is strongly backed by McCarthy's friends. On this latter point Davis says:

"It's no secret Wiley and McCarthy do not speak to each other and certainly I expect the support of McCarthy's friends.

"But that doesn't make me a McCarthy Republican any more than my expecting the support of Governor Kohler's friends, which I do, makes me a Kohler Republican."

The nation will be watching to see what luck this young bombardier has when he tries Sept. 11 to send the Battleship Wiley—old and gray but still churning up the waters—to the political graveyard.

Big Windstorm Blows Over Tank, Saves $150

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP) — The Santa Fe Railroad gave the City of Brownfield a water tank, no longer needed in the new age of diesels.

There was one condition to the gift—the city was to remove the cement-anchored tank.

A city crew laboriously dug out the cement but was baffled by the task of easing the big tank over on its side so that it could be dragged away.

That's when a Texas norther blew up, and tossed the tank on its side just where the crew wanted it. Saved the city $150.

Beware of Phony Promises From Mail Order Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't believe correspondence schools that promise draft exemption when you graduate, that approach you as "one of a select list," that offer a "partial scholarship" because of your record, that claim employers will be practically standing in line to hire you.

The FTC reports it has issued 10 cease and desist orders against gyp schools the past 16 months. Executive Director Alex Akerman Jr., said the FTC is intensifying efforts against them as stories of hastily signed contracts for tuition of $200 to $400 flood in.

Principal offenders, the FTC said, are schools offering training in civil service work, home handicraft and mechanical trades and courses in motel management, nursing, horticulture—even medicine and music.

DON'T LIKE PRESSURE

Akerman emphasized:

"We're after the high pressure outfits, not the reputable majority of correspondence schools, competent schools serve so useful a purpose it is not fair for over-zealous advertisers and salesmen to undermine public confidence in them."

Among outfits against which orders have been issued, the FTC listed:

An Oklahoma City "college"—with a one-man faculty—offering degrees in audiometry, the science of fitting hearing aids. It was ordered to drop the college designation and quit issuing degrees.

A Chicago school that promised to teach the art of reweaving to anyone regardless of his eyesight. It was ordered to stop making this promise.

Harry A. Babcock, FTC director of investigation, suggested these precautions:

"1. Read the written contract offered by the school. It may promise you far less than the salesman did, but its guarantees are the maximum you can expect for your money.

"2. Don't sign a contract until you have investigated the school's reputation. This can be done by a check with state educational authorities or, at the very least, with high school principals, local boards of education or better business bureaus."

KIDNAP HOAX — Mrs. Mary Poole holds her five-month-old son, Raymond, after the infant was found along a muddy country roadside near Charlotte, N. C. Police charged Mrs. Poole with abandoning her ailing son and then spinning a false kidnap tale which sent police of five states on a wild goose chase for a fictitious "narcotics ring." The infant was taken to a hospital where doctors said he was suffering from cancer of the brain. Mrs. Poole, 25-year-old Navy wife and mother of two other children, apparently knew of the child's illness.

Man's Psychological Attitudes on Death Offer Information on Human Behavior

By FRANK CAREY
AP SCIENCE REPORTER

CHICAGO (AP) Man's attitudes towards death offer a virtually untouched but potentially rich source of information on human behavior, a California phychologist said today.

Calling upon his colleagues to do more research in the study of such attitudes, Dr. Herman Feifel of the Veterans Administration's mental hygiene clinic at Los Angeles told the annual convention of the American Psychological Assn.:

"A person's ideas and his behavior may be influenced more than we recognize by his views, hopes and fears concerning the nature and meaning of death," Feifel said in a talk prepared for the meeting.

"We would indeed err greviously to consider death as a purely biological event. Its meaning for the individual can serve as an important organizing principle in determining how he conducts himself in life."

Yet up to now, he said, psychologists have done very little investigating in this field on a controlled, experimental basis.

Feifel told of studies he himself has been conducting on the subject among several groups of people including mentally ill patients "of average intelligence"; physically ill veterans of World War I in a VA domiciliary home; and two groups of "normals" comprised of a number of young Korean War veterans, and a group of professional people consisting of psychiatrists, psychologists, and social workers. All the groups add up to about 200 people.

Among the findings, which are still considered "tentative?"

1. On the question "What does death mean to you?" The primary view of all groups with the exception of the Korean veterans—the death in the "philosophic vein—as the natural end process of life." In contrast, the majority of the Korean veterans took a "religious" view — "perceiving death as the dissolution of bodily life only and, in reality, the beginning of a new life."

2. The mental patients and the older men among the domiciliary veterans selected the age period of the 70s and over" as the time of life when people are most afraid of death." Among reasons given: "You are at the end of the rope."

The age periods of the 40's and 50's, however, were the ones chosen by the young Korean veterans and the professional people whose average age is 39. Among their reasons: "Death now is a definite possibility and you can not brush it away."

'Soft' Drinks Potent

ABERDEEN, Idaho (AP) — The horney toads of the Southeastern Idaho desert are in for a soft touch as long as Chris and Mark Wride of Aberdeen are around. The youngsters caught one near their home and fixed up a cage for it. They claim it's the only toad in existence with a furnished home complete with electric lights.

Hal Boyle Says:

Even Giveaway Won't Solve Joe's Woes

NEW YORK (AP)—An awe-inspiring thing has happened to the television giveaway program. It has finally met a man whose financial woes it can't solve.

He is a 42-year-old public relations executive, who has simple tastes, neither smokes nor drinks, and is on a diet because of a heart condition.

The man is Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, whose flailing fists earned him $4,626,721.69 between 1934 and 1951, when he retired. Joe isn't quite sure where the $4,626,721 went—let alone the 69 cents.

Nor today does he have any idea where he'll ever get the $1,300,000 Uncle Sam says he owes in income taxes.

"If I hit a couple of oil wells that bring in 10 or 15 thousand barrels a day, I might get out of the red," he said the other day. "But do I own any oil land? No, sir, I don't own nothing."

This isn't quite true. A friend estimated Joe still earns about $50,000 a year from various activities but pointed out, "More than 50 per cent of that goes to pay his current taxes. Meanwhile government interest charges on his previous tax debt keep piling it higher."

Recently Joe and his wife, Rose, have been studying four hours daily hoping to hit the $75,000 jackpot on "High Finance," a CBS network giveaway show.

Even if he won, however, this would only be a drop in the bucket. A statistician estimated that if Louis wanted to wipe out all his past tax debts in a single year he'd have to earn 11 million dollars. No TV giveaway program producer has appeared on the horizon yet with a prize like that.

Joe, who was banned from further wrestling exhibitions in Illinois because of a heart condition that developed from a rib injury, has gone on a high-protein diet on his doctor's order.

"In a week I dropped from 246 pounds to 236," he said proudly. His best fighting weight used to be about 202 pounds.

Joe is now trying to boost his income as a public relations consultant in partnership with William L. Rowe, who was New York City's first Negro deputy police commissioner.

"We think a lot of business firms are overlooking the growing Negro market," said Joe. "Negroes have a lot more money than they used to. The income of the average Harlem family has tripled since 1940. Negroes in the United States now spend as much each year as the entire population of Canada. Last year 19 per cent of the money spent by Americans on European travel was spent by Negroes."

While Louis has received a lot of sympathy in his tax struggles, he hasn't let worry get him down. He retains the simple dignity that marked him in his ring days.

"I really don't know how much I owe exactly," he said. "Last May it was more than $1,200,000, and the last I heard it was more than $1,300,000.

"The government has been nice to me. The tax men don't hound me. But it does bother me. It bothers anybody to feel he's up against something almost impossible to do."

Louis said he hoped Rocky Marciano would never make a comeback attempt. He tried the comeback trail himself, and says he has no regrets. He had to do it. He needed the money.

"But losing a fight and losing your own respect," he said slowly, "is two different things."

Widow of Prominent Sons in State Dies

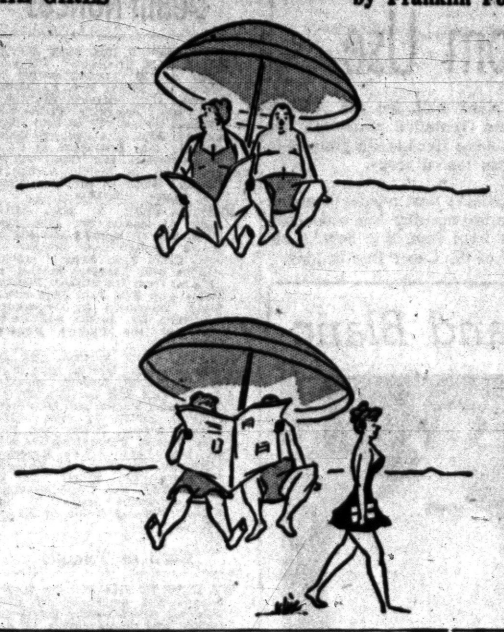

DETROIT (AP)—Service will be held Monday for Mrs. Frances Montgomery, 88, widow of a pioneer Methodist minister and mother of four prominent Michigan men. Burial will be at Chesaning.

Mrs. Montgomery, who died Thursday, was the mother of Henry A. Montgomery, former editor of the Detroit Times and past president of the Detroit Bar Assn.; Robert H. Montgomery, deputy administrator of the Federal Small Business Administration; Edmund B. Montgomery, chief clerk of Detroit's Recorder's Court; and Dr. Benjamin Montgomery, a Sault Ste. Marie surgeon.

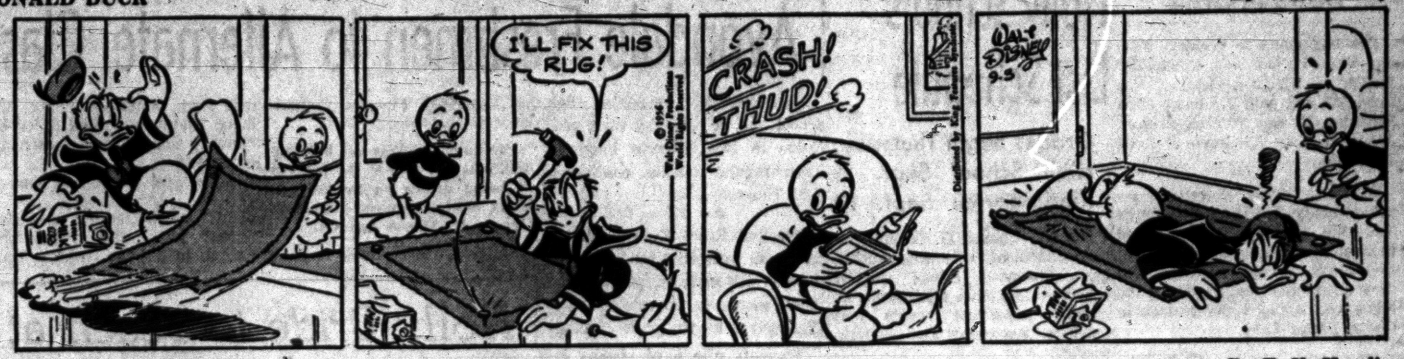

Among her 17 grandchildren are Harry T. Montgomery, assistant general manager of the Associated Press, and John Montgomery, his brother, public relations official at Chrysler Corp.

Holly Schools List Schedule

Grades Begin Thursday; High School Sept. 7; Kindergarten Sept. 10

HOLLY—Charles G. Coggins, superintendent of Holly area schools, has announced school starting schedules and other information including pre-school events for teachers, bus routes and cafeteria service:

1. Teachers report on Tuesday, Sept. 4. They will meet at 8:30 a.m. at the Davisburg Elementary School and breakfast will be served courtesy of Holly Area Teachers Club.

Following the breakfast, the regular organizational meeting will be held. At 1 o'clock teachers will report to their own schools and meet with their principals and go over building rules, supplies and all of the other details connected with the beginning of school.

On Wednesday, Sept. 5, teachers will spend their time getting the rooms in order, making the division of children into the various groups.

2. Students in grades one through nine will report Thursday, Sept. 6, at 8:45 a.m. All elementary students in the Holly Elementary unit will report to the Holly Elementary School. All students in the Davisburg Elementary unit will report to the Davisburg Elementary School. Grades 7, 8 and 9 will report for general assembly in the gym of the Holly High School. Grades 7, 8 and 9 do not go to school on Friday. They will report again on Monday.

Grades 10, 11 and 12 will report for general assembly in the gym of Holly High School Friday morning, Sept. 7.

In all cases, the cafeterias will be open, hot lunches and milk will be available to any students who want them.

Kindergarten will not report for school until Monday, Sept. 10. Parents will be notified by phone of the section, place and time of their child's attendance.

4. Bus routes the first and second day of school will be the same as last year. New students should come to last year's bus stops. Bus routes will be rearranged to accommodate everyone as quickly as we know the number and addresses of students riding.

Kindergarten parents will be notified of the bus routes at the time they are notified of the section that their child will enter.

On the first day of school, children are asked to be out for the bus early as there are quite a few new drivers and the buses will leave a little earlier than they will after the routes are established.

5. Student insurance will be available to all at a one-dollar fee.

NAPLES (INS)—Gaetano Anice, a postal clerk jailed for opening mail and removing money, lamented that he never stole money addressed to individuals, but only that addressed to charity.

Anice explained that he classified as "needy."

Avondale Freshmen to Alternate Classroom Use

Freshmen at Avondale High School will be pursuing their education in two different buildings when regular classes commence next Thursday.

Principal Rosco Crowell, anticipating an estimated record enrollment of 650 students, plans to use three rooms in Avondale Junior High School for 9th grade classes.

Students who have classes in the junior high building in the morning will take a bus to the high school daily for afternoon classes. Another group of 9th graders will be returned to the junior high for their afternoon session.

Crowell states that switching the students from building to building is the only way to give all freshmen an opportunity to take the regular 9th grade elective subjects, since there are no facilities in the junior high for shop, homemaking, etc.

RUSH PLANS

Avondale's Board of Education is hurrying plans to get the additional rooms built that were voted for in a June bond issue election, according to Supt. Raymond N. Baker. They are now waiting for approval of the bond sale from the Municipal Finance Commission.

Preliminary plans for building additions are also in the process of being drawn up by the districts newly acquired architects, George D. Mason and Co.

Additions will be made to Avondale High, Avondale Junior High, Stone Elementary, and Stiles Elementary schools when construction is started.

Baker also announced that the district will be renting three classrooms from the Presbyterian Church in Auburn Heights. Tentative plans call for the Auburn Heights 4th graders to use this rented space.

Avondale's next regular Board of Education meeting has been postponed from Sept. 3 to Sept. 6 because of the Labor Day holiday.

Accredit Kenny at Farmington

Polio Hospital Receives Full Accreditation in Minimum Period

FARMINGTON — Trustees and medical staff of Sister Kenny Polio Hospital today were advised by Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, Director of the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals, that the hospital has received full accreditation. This is the result of a survey conducted by Dr. Peter D. Ward, a representative of the Jont Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, whose headquarters are in Chicago.

Kenny Hospital has been located in Farmington for only three years (September, 1953) and the Commission does not consider any hospital until (1) it has been in operation for a year (2) it maintains a 25 bed hospital and (3) the hospital has appeared on the American Hospital Assn. official hospital guide list which is published only every 12 months.

Sister Kenny is also a member of the Detroit Area Hospital Council, Inc., the Michigan Hospital Assn., the American Hospital Assn. and is a member agency of the Michigan United Fund. The hospital is currently converting its facilities to enter broader fields of rehabilitation in adjunction with its important polio responsibilities.

A Sister Kenny hospital spokesman said:

"We are particularly pleased because in order to receive this accreditation a hospital has to set up and maintain the strictest standards. Basically, the major purpose of the Joint Commission is to improve the quality of patient care in hospitals. This is accomplished by setting standards and asking all hospitals to meet or surpass them."

2,600 to Enroll in Lapeer System

LAPEER—An enrollment of over 2,600 is expected when school opens tomorrow, with a total of 111 teachers in the Public School System.

The total of faculty includes 76 in the city schools and 35 outside the city, not including Supt. C. K. Schickler, and the business and custodial staffs.

Lapeer City schools list the high school and Third Ward school, the E. E. Irwin School, and Second Ward School. Other schools in the system include Bassett, Buckingham, Clover, Elba, Farmers Creek, Farnsworth, German, Gray, Greenwood, Hadley, Maple Grove, Merwin, Millis, Millville, Misener, Newark, Reamer, Red, Shaft, Stone, Slater, Thompson, Tucker, Valentine and Youngs.

Aerosol Spray Said to Lure Fish to Bait

PARK RIDGE, Ill.—An aerosol spray said to lure fish to the bait is being manufactured by a Park Ridge concern.

Varieties for trout, bass and pan fish, salt-water fish, catfish, and carp are available in the pushbutton "bombs." They're designed to stay on the bait or lures for several hours.

Clock-Watching Grocer Too Fast Locking Store

COMMERCE, Okla. (AP)—Grocer V. W. Minson hurried to church. Hardly had he arrived when Police Chief Aubert Sidewil entered and called him aside. In his haste to lock up, he had forgotten a group of customers were in the store and couldn't get out.

Holly Bride to Teach at Grand Blanc

HOLLY—A gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was chosen by Marjorie Doty for her recent marriage to Ronald Schram in First Presbyterian Church, Holly. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Lindsay. Marjorie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Doty of Holly and Mr. Schram is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Schram of Holly.

The bridal gown featured a fitted bodice with pleated tulle and lace applique with sequin trim. The skirt had peplum of the lace and lace side panels over skirt of nylon tulle, ending in a chapel sweep train. A crown of seeded pearls and sequins secured her illusion finger-tipped veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and gladioli centered with a white orchid.

Elaine Freeman of Holly was maid of honor in a turquoise crystalette gown. Identically styled coral-colored gowns were worn by the bridesmaids, Marilyn Voorheis of White Lake, Marilyn Doty, cousin of the bride of Clyde, and Janet Doty, sister of the bride.

Robert Van Auken of Bath was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Burgess, Jack Diehl, and Donald Schram, brother of the groom, all of Holly.

After the wedding trip to several Eastern states, the bride will live with her parents and teach in Grand Blanc School until her husband is out of the Navy in January.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD SCHRAM

Plan Welcome Event for New Hudson Pastor

NEW HUDSON—The Methodist Church here will hold a reception Wednesday evening at the church for the new pastor, the Rev. Elwyn Stringer and his wife. The evening will open with a cooperative supper at 6:30.

Lapeer Home Eyes School Use in 1957

LAPEER — Construction of the new school at the Lapeer State Home and Training School is progressing according to schedule according to Supt. Dr. A. T. Rehn. He states the new building will be ready for occupancy early in 1957.

The academic school year opened with the annual teachers workshop on last Monday.

Dr. Rehn reports that the faculty is complete with only several new teachers this year to replace those who moved away.

Oxford Schools Call Students Wednesday

OXFORD—Schools bells will ring at 8:30 Wednesday for Oxford youngsters. High school students who have not already registered may do so at that time.

Grade school students will report to their respective rooms also. Busses will make the usual morning routes and return children to their homes at noon. Regular classes will begin Thursday morning. The Daniel Axford School cafeteria will begin serving Monday, Sept. 13.

Teachers, reporting for faculty meetings on Thuesday morning, will be entertained later by the board of education at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Houck.

'Wildness Gone From West'

Western Style Cowboy Keeps Tradition in State

RICHLAND (AP)—A cowboy from western Michigan says they've taken all the wildness out of the wild, wild west. He's busy keeping the old cowboy trade alive at a Richland Ranch.

Sommers, 63, really pokes the cows on the Upjohn Richland farm. It bothers him that out in the traditional range country of the west, they're turning out automation.

"They've got mechanization out there now," he says. "They drive a calf into a pen, the pen collapses on him and holds the animal down while its branded or desexed."

Sommers, who once ran his own 150-head herd on the southwest Colorado range, likes the old way better. He and a Nebraska cowhand, Earl Clark, sort the calves from the Upjohn herd in real western fashion.

With some help, Sommers and Clark head into the patureland every summer. Their ponies wheel around in the tightly packed herd, cutting out calves and routing them to a sorting pen, and shunting the cows into a corral.

Sommers unlimbers his lariet and whips his rope over the head or the front legs of a bull calf. Then Clark ropes the hind legs of the 250-pound bellowing dogie, and both ropes are pulled tight to hold the creature still. A high school student, working for the summer, usually draws the job of wrestling the bull calf to the ground.

The bull is doctored by a veterinarian and then runs off to join its mother.

Sommers and Clark herd the pasturing cattle through the summer and into the feed lots for the winter. The steaks may just be steaks to a butcher, but they're the only ones raised western fashion in Michigan.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLISTA Campbell, who passed away Sept. 1, 1949.
She who suffered is at rest,
Gone to heaven with the Blessed.
Sadly missed by her Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Nettie May Wever, who passed away Sept. 1st, 1954.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by Daughter and Son.

IN MEMORY OF MY DEAR Mama, Betty Lou Wilson, who was called to heaven 2 years ago today.
Dear Jesus: They tell me You can do everything.
So please do this for me.
Take a message to someone; I will so thankful be.
There's someone in your great big house,
That means so much to me.
Please tell her that I love her,
'cause she's my Mama, see?
Dear Jesus if You will tell her,
I will so happy be.
And place a kiss upon her lips
To Mama dear, from me.

India Derailing Kills 112 So Far

Toll May Climb Higher; Flood-Weakened Span Blamed

BOMBAY, India (AP)—The official count of dead climbed to 112 in yesterday's train wreck in central India. Officials said the toll may be even higher.

* * *

The engine and two passenger cars of the train crashed through a bridge into a flooded river, hurling passengers from sleep to sudden death.

The train crew and 22 passengers in the two cars escaped alive, but were injured.

It was the second rail disaster in Hyderabad state in two years. The first wreck, on Sept. 28, 1954, killed 137 persons. It was the worst in the history of Indian railroad.

The first cars of the train plunged from a single span 120-foot bridge five miles from Mahbubnager, 55 miles southwest of the capital city of Hyderabad. A third car, carrying second and third class passengers, and a postal coach hung precariously on the broken bridge.

Early Bird Pays Off

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Robert Peters was afraid his mother wouldn't like his going fishing at 4:30 a. m., so he tied a rope around his waist, threw the end out of the window and went to sleep. Next morning, his fishing buddy tugged on the rope, Robert left the house without waking anyone, and the boys caught 20 fish.

Many Expenses Gobble Salaries

Fabulous Paychecks of Performers Are Split in All Directions

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—This is a lesson in the basic economics of stardom. The professor is Bill Cullen, he of "I've Got a Secret" and "Pulse" and "Down You Go" and all stops in between.

Cullen, for his many activities, makes what seems like a pile of money. His gross income is about what four cabinet members make, or six or seven governors, depending on what states they govern.

BILL CULLEN

Yet, look at these expenses:

1. His agent gets 10 per cent.
2. His financial manager, who handles all his money problems, gets 5 per cent.
3. His public relations adviser—alias press agent—gets 5 per cent.
4. His entertainment and promotion costs—such as 60 Christmas gifts he must give the staff of "Secret"—run to between 12 and 15 per cent.
5. His secretary gets around 3 per cent.

6. His costs for answering fan mail and sending pictures to fans come to another 3 per cent.

CLOTHING COSTS

7. His wardrobe—he can't wear the same suit on two successive SHOWS—averages between 4 and 5 per cent.

* * *

8. His rent—he must live well for appearance's sake—is about 2½ per cent.
9. He is in the 50-60 per cent income tax bracket.

Add all these together, taking the lowest percentage in cases where there are two, and you'll see that Bill Cullen's expenses come to 94½ per cent of his gross income. That's before eating.

And there are other expenses—he figures he spends $1,000 a year on things like ads in Variety and answering services; he had to have his teeth fixed and it cost him a whopping $4,800; he figures waiters expect him to be generous, so tips between 25 and 50 per cent of a check, against the normal 15 per cent; his special-for-TV shirts run $20 a copy and he has to have a dozen.

NO PAY IF ABSENT

Yet, if he misses a show, he doesn't get paid. Bill says, "If I had to leave work for any reason for three months, I'd be flat broke."

* * *

He admits he lives well—lovely apartment, good clothes—but he can't save any money.

"You want to see how I save?" He pulled out a neat tan attache case, which looked like it was stuffed with scripts or contracts.

Inside, there were 10 or 12 rolls of quarters. Every night, when he gets home, he empties his pockets and picks out any quarters from the change.

Finds Good Hunting Forty Miles at Sea

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It was the opening day of dove season but Pete Peters, skipper of a sport fishing boat, didn't expect to participate.

Peters said he was 40 miles at sea Saturday when a dove landed on a rail of his boat. Fisherman II. Peters shot it with a gun he keeps in the cabin, picked up the bird from the deck and brought it home.

Last year the skipper shot a rabbit about 15 miles at sea. The rabbit was on a kelp bed that apparently had floated away from shore.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Premier Achille van Acker and Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak have set Oct. 20 for their departure on a 10-day visit in the Soviet Union.

Wilson Gives His Idea About Patriotic Leisure

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—"What are you going to do with your leisure time?" one of those think-piece guys was asking the other day.

I always have to answer columnists back when they ask you a question like that, so I said to him:

"I was planning to read the Encyclopaedia Britannica all the way through, all 24 volumes of it. In fact, I've already licked the first 10 volumes of it while waiting for my wife to get dressed to go out. Why, what did you have in mind?"

This think-piece columnist didn't answer me back. So I kept talking to myself (an old habit of mine).

"I think," I said to me (in a confidential tone), "that I will take up the study of wine-drinking.

"It is so artistic, and so finer-things-of lifeish," I added.

"And so alcoholic," interjected a voice that had to be my Conscience.

"You have it all wrong," I replied heatedly. "I was riding through France one day last summer with my wife and son Slugger and we saw a sign on a barn. It said, 'A meal without wine is a day without sunshine.'"

"Don't you know about the wonderful Napa Valley wines in California—and the beautiful Lake Erie champagnes from around Sandusky, O.?" I inquired haughtily.

"It's just being patriotic to drink American wines, that's what it is!"

"No, seriously, can't you see? I'm becoming a connoisseur."

"You're becoming a wino, if you ask me."

Well, the good Lord knows I have tried to make my position clear on this matter, and I trust everybody will understand when they see me sitting at (or falling down over) a bar that I am motivated purely by patriotism. And that, furthermore, I am merely making profitable use of my leisure time.

Come to think of it, what leisure time?

I'm not the boss of anything but my son and our dog Cookie and, just once in a while, my wife. But just the other day I was reading that a boss is somebody who, by knocking his brains out for years working 8 hours a day, finally becomes entitled to work 16 hours a day. I figure that settles the whole problem. I don't have to become a wino, after all.

Use Headless Dummy to Frighten Motorists

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Motorists are brought up with a jolt when they view a Labor Day week end safe driving display outside Ft. Meade.

Ft. Meade Army officers said drivers proceed more cautiously even after a closer look shows it to be merely a headless dummy doused with make-believe blood.

Arrest Two Juveniles in Grocery Breakin

Pontiac Police have apprehended two juveniles suspected of taking $125 from the Gerzanics Grocery Store, 750 S. Saginaw St., sometime this weekend.

John Gerzanics, owner of the store, reported that someone entered his store by forcing a basement window open and then removing the money from a desk drawer.

According to police, the juveniles were apprehended prior to the complaint and later admitted the offense. Police confiscated $125.75 from the pair.

World's Fastest Navy, AF Jets Making Debut

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A streaking Navy jet fighter plane which has reportedly flown over 1,000 miles an hour and another new jet which the Air Force claims is as fast or faster are making their public debut at the National Aircraft Show here.

The Navy plane is the Chance Vought F8U Crusader, which last month sped over the Mojave Desert in California at a speed of "over 1,000" miles an hour.

"It's the fastest plane the Navy has, and it's performing for the first time for the public," said a naval spokesman today.

"Ladies and gentlemen, we believe this is the fastest plane anywhere," says the public address announcer as the Starfighter flits over air show spectators at Will Rogers Field.

Two other new Air Force planes, the McDonnell F101 Voodoo and the Convair F102 delta-wing interceptor, are jetting for the first time before the public.

Air Force Reserve Takes Younger Men

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Eisenhower has issued an executive order permitting men 17 to 18½ years of age to enlist in the Air Force ready reserve for eight years, the White House announced today.

The enlistment obligation includes six months of active training and 7½ years of reserve duty.

The White House described the order as similar to one of last May 9 extending the enlistment privilege to Navy and Coast Guard reserves. The Army also has a similar program.

Vaccinate Trees?

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Experts at the American national shade tree conference predicted householders will be able to vaccinate trees against disease and fungus attacks in about two years. Holes would be drilled in the trees and chemicals injected.

Wagner May Be the Key to Democrats Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner, 46, is known as the man who started the Democrats on the comeback trail.

The future probably never looked darker for the party than after Dwight Eisenhower's landslide victory in the 1952 presidential balloting.

Wagner's election as mayor of the nation's largest city in 1953 broke months of Democratic gloom and gave them hope that perhaps the tide was turning.

Now, he is seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate and is virtually assured of it.

Wagner's triumph, ousting an independent regime from City Hall, proved to be the forerunner of widespread Democratic victories in 1954, just as the party had hoped.

He is the son of the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-NY) who sponsored the famed Wagner Labor Relations Act, one of the keystones of the New Deal.

Like his father, he is a staunch believer in the New Deal and Fair Deal philosophies.

Wagner has had a fairly comfortable road to political prominence, unlike his father.

The elder Wagner came to the United States from Germany at the age of eight, ran errands for grocery stores to help support his Lutheran family and managed to obtain a law degree at the City College of New York.

He married Brooklyn-born Margaret Mary McTague, a Catholic, and "young Bob" or "Wag" was raised in the Catholic faith. The boy, an only child, was born in New York April 20, 1910.

The father, who had fared well with his law practice, sent the boy to public school, Loyola parochial school, Taft Academy, Yale University and Yale Law School.

Mayor Wagner's mother died when he was nine, and he grew up close to his father. Politicians frequently visited the Wagner home, giving the youth an early interest in public life.

Hardly out of law school in 1939, Wagner was elected to the New York State Assembly from his father's old district in the Yorkville section of Manhattan. He gave his father most of the credit.

Prior to World War II, Wagner headed an organization known as "Loyal Americans of German Descent."

He quit the State Assembly in 1941 and joined the Air Force as a lieutenant. He emerged in 1945 as a lieutenant colonel.

The same year he went into the service he married blonde Susan Edwards, sister of a college classmate and member of a well-to-do Greenwich, Conn., family. The Wagners have two sons, Robert III, 13, and Duncan, 10.

After the war, Wagner returned to politics and began an unspectacular but steady rise. He was appointed a member of the City Tax Commission in 1946.

Then on Sept. 15, 1953, he won the Democratic primary and went on to become mayor. In the primary he defeated Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, who had won the job by running as an independent Democrat and trouncing the regular organization.

Wagner's ambition was to succeed someday to the U.S. Senate seat once held by his father.

But when 78-year-old Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D - NY) announced that he would not seek re-election, Wagner did not jump at the opportunity. He said he liked his job as mayor.

It took the persuasion of Democratic leaders, including Adlai Stevenson and Harriman, to get Wagner to seek the Democratic nomination.

Left-Handers to Take Special School Plans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — Eleven per cent of the nation's school children are left-handed, the U.S. Office of Education reported today, and this will make a difference in future school house plans.

"School architects, designers and manufacturers of school furniture and equipment and school administrators are planning changes and improvements in school facilities," the office said in forecasting another record enrollment "... included in this planning are provisions for the 11 per cent of the nation's children who are left handed."

Hard to Appreciate

BOLOGNA, Italy, Sept. 1 (AP)—Postal Minister Giovannia Braschi says Italy will issue next month the world's first three-dimension stamps. But he added that special viewing glasses will be needed to appreciate the third dimension effect. The stamps will salute Europe's coal-steel pool and Italy's entry into the United Nations.

Those Busy Beavers

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Ah, the busy little beavers. Three put on display at an exhibition chewed up prop branches and started damming an artificial stream running through their cage. Work men tore the dam down to prevent flooding.
