

Vicious Twisters Hammer State Killing 42

Midwest Toll Stands at 216

By The Associated Press
The nation counted today at least 216 killed in the Palm Sunday tornado bombardment.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said

37 twisters raked six Midwest states. Injuries numbered in the thousands. Property damage estimates added to millions of dollars.

While search of the debris from shattered and scattered homes continued today in some sections. Indiana counted 110 dead, Ohio 54, and Michigan 42. Illinois deaths were 7, and Wisconsin had 3 dead. Iowa reported extensive damage but no deaths.

The rampant weather front which spun the twisters through the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley diminished today in its spread into the East and Southeast.

Sunday's storms were deadlier than those the night of March 21-22, 1962 when twisters killed 208 in Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee.

WORST DAY

The worst single day in terms of tornado death toll was in 1925 when a March 18 barrage of twisters took 689 lives in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

Indiana authorities had no estimate of the number of injured or the cost in property damage. There were three twister paths across the state's northern and central area.

Power and communication failures hampered any assessment. Some highways were blocked by wreckage.

At least 22 towns had fatalities. Dunlap, southeast of Elkhart, had many dead in a crushed and scattered trailer home community. One hundred houses were destroyed in Greentown near Kokomo.

DESTRUCTION

One hundred cottages were flattened at Kootz Lake northwest of Knox, Lapaz and Wyatt near South Bend were lashed.

In Ohio, the metropolitan Toledo section took the hardest beating, with 13 deaths listed and searchers seeking other victims.

The Red Cross reported 178 injured were admitted to hospitals.

Near Lima, in the Cairo-Bluff area, 12 were killed; 18 died in Lorain county near Cleveland. Gov. James A. Rhodes declared the tornado-smashed communities a disaster area. Fifty-three cars of a freight train were derailed by the wind south of Lima.

Wind Causes Little Damage in Area

Heavily pounded by wind and rain, the Pontiac area escaped major damage in the storm that rumbled through Oakland County last night and early today.

Downed power lines, snapped tree limbs and shattered windows were reported across the county.

The western end of the county appeared to be hit hardest by the storm with most of the damage coming about daybreak today.

Wind gusts reached 65 miles per hour at 6 a.m., according to officials at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Peak winds last night were clocked at 48 mph about 10 p.m.

TAPERING WINDS

The winds, however, were to taper off today with the return of milder weather.

Tomorrow's weather will be fair with the high ranging from 50 to 57. West to northwesterly winds will slow to 10-18 miles.

Increasing cloudiness and warmer temperatures are forecast for Wednesday.

Low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 43. By 2 p.m. it had climbed to 55.

FORCE OF STORM — This car was blown into the front of a Grand Rapids motel last night showing intensity of a tornado which struck the area. The twister killed at least five people and injured more than 100 in the Grand Rapids locale.

Troops Guard Wreckage in Grand Rapids Area

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Street signs still swung, clanking noisily, in the winds left over from tornadoes which had raked over 25 miles of Grand Rapids' outskirts.

Red flares, backed up by rifle-toting National Guardsmen, blocked off the roads in the blackness before dawn.

Ambulance drivers and sheriff's deputies kept warm in buses set up as a "command post" — next door to a two-story motel which suddenly had become a one-story shambles.

In downtown Grand Rapids, men slept on couches in the lobby of Butterworth Hospital, next to huge blackboards which listed some 60 names of tornado victims who had come for treatment.

It was the long, long night in which anxious relatives, tired deputy sheriffs and cold Guardsmen waited for daylight, and the beginning of a search through the devastated area.

"We're just securing the area," one civil defense official explained.

QUESTION OFFICIAL

"What are your men finding out there?" he was asked.

"Nothing right now—except looters," he replied.

Steps were being taken to stop that, though. A car approaching one hard-hit area was met by two soldiers.

"We're not even allowed to let the people who live in here pass through," the motorist was told.

Many Missing Feared Dead

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A black string of tornadoes stabbed like knives into Lower Michigan last night, killing at least 42 persons, injuring and leaving homeless hundreds of others and causing widespread property damage.

The tornadoes struck hardest in the counties bordering Indiana and Ohio, taking at least 17 lives in Branch County, 10 in Hillsdale County, 6 in Lenawee County and 2 in Monroe County.

They also claimed at least five lives in Kent County, 1 in Clinton County and 1 in Allegan County.

However, state and local police said they feared the death toll would rise. They said they feared that many persons reported missing were buried under the rubble left by the powerful winds and were dead.

The twisters were part of a chain which blasted a large portion of the Midwest and hit especially hard in Michigan's neighboring states of Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin.

State Police said the powerful winds which accompanied the twisters on their shattering journey across Lower Michigan hit at widely scattered points causing great property damage through a large part of the state.

FLYING TOUR

So widespread was the damage that Gov. George Romney had to make a flying tour to view the shattered areas.

Four Michigan National Guard units were called up for patrol and relief work. Two were at Grand Rapids, one in Adrian and one in Coldwater. Their main objective was to prevent looting in the ravaged areas.

Romney called the battering by the tornadoes "certainly worse" than the tornado which hit the Anchor Bay area last May 8 and killed 13 persons and caused $1.5 million in damage.

The tornadoes that mauled Michigan came in camouflaged in a squall line and sudden lived in earth, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Grand Rapids.

Fred Baughman, head of the bureau, said his group had been tracking the squall line across Wisconsin and issued a warning of damaging winds about 5 p.m. But it wasn't until the first twister came roaring down on Grand Rapids about 7 p.m. that the bureau realized fully what the storm held, he said. A tornado warning for the rest of the state was issued immediately.

Johnson Signs School Aid Bill

'Will Bring Quality, Equality to Education'

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, sitting in the shadow of "this little school of my childhood," has signed into law a $1.3-billion education aid bill he says will bring "quality and equality" to schooling.

At a simple ceremony Sunday two miles from his ranch home, Johnson reached the high point of a busy weekend that saw him pay his respects to Houston's futuristic baseball stadium, select retired Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. as new chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, and sound a fresh warning of American determination in Viet Nam.

Johnson, with his first teacher sitting by his side, said of the education bill:

"As President of the United States, I believe deeply no law I have signed or will ever sign means more to the future of America."

Behind him was the tin-shed home which 53 years ago was a one-room schoolhouse where, as he told several hundred spectators as well as his old teacher, Kate Dedrick Loney, 72, of Rough and Ready, Calif.:

"I started school when I was 4 years old, and they tell me, Miss Kate, that I recited my first lessons while sitting on your lap."

Scores of old friends and schoolmates assembled for the occasion from all parts of Texas were ready to testify this was true.

Thus it was fitting that, in setting a precedent by using only one pen to sign the bill, Johnson handed the writing instrument to Miss Kate.

Of the new law, Johnson said: "It represents a major new commitment of the federal government to quality and equality in the schooling that we offer our young people."

By passing this bill, we bridge the gap between helplessness and hope for more than five million."

Say New Evidence in Macomb Killing

On the basis of undisclosed "new evidence," a 39-year-old Detroit man has been brought back to Macomb County Jail to face a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of his former sister-in-law.

Theodore F. Wilson was returned to the jail today on a warrant issued by Macomb County Prosecutor George Parry yesterday, charging him with the slaying of Raven Shilling, 29, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Shilling's half-nude body was found last Monday afternoon in a Macomb Township field, off Hayes Road north of 23 Mile Road.

Post-mortem examination showed that she died of stab wounds in the chest.

Wilson was held at Macomb County Jail Friday for investigation of first-degree murder.

He was released to Detroit police Saturday for undisclosed reasons and was returned to the Macomb jail at 12:05 this morning.

A Prevailing Despair Followed Crucifixion

(EDITOR'S NOTE — At Easter time, most attention centers on the Crucifixion and the Resurrection of Christ. To the supporters of Jesus, it seemed that the whole cause had terminated in cruel, degrading defeat. Following is the first of five articles based on Biblical accounts and supplementary sources, dealing with the ensuing period.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
Two men strode along the road winding across the ridge northwest out of Jerusalem. Their dark faces bore the stamp of despair.

"My hope is pulled up like a tree," said the older one, Cleopas. "They dashed him to pieces!" Grief, rage and shame mingled in his voice. "My soul is poured out within me. My eyes see no good."

The younger man, Simon, tightened the grip on his father's trembling hand, but still threw stonily ahead toward the red-dawning western horizon. "Alas, we are plunged into the pit. His house did not stand."

It was about 35 Roman stadia (four miles) to the town of Emmaus. Even though it had a century of about 100 legionnaires garrisoned there, it would be safer than Jerusalem, feverish with fears, tale-bearing, incendiary plots and arrests.

The whole country, from the uplands of rustic, defiant Galilee to the southern deserts of occupied Judea, smoldered with unrest and sparks of revolt against the alien, pagan oppressor.

STILLNESS

But along the rocky road to Emmaus, in the hush of declining day, the two desolate footmen moved in a landscape of stillness.

It was the 17th of the spring month of Nisan, and only two days before, on the eve of the Sabbath, their adored and commanding champion, Jesus of Nazareth, had been crucified along with two insurgent brigands.

He, too, had been branded a would-be insurrectionist. A titulus, slung about his neck at orders of Rome's ruler, Pontius Pilate, charged he had sought to recapture the national throne, as "King of the Jews."

Cleopas recalled puzzling things which Jesus had foretold to the Apostles many weeks ago around a campfire in Galilee, but which none had understood.

WORDS RETURN

The words had been thrust aside then as meaningless, but now, stabbingly, they came back. "Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything that is written of the Son of Man by the prophets will be accomplished. For He will be delivered to the Gentiles, and they will scourge Him and kill Him."

Cleopas and Simon had been among the 70 disciples sent (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Tornado Toll in Six States

By the Associated Press
MICHIGAN

Forty-two persons died in aftermath of twisters. Bouncing and skipping tornadoes slammed into many areas in southern part of state, causing extensive property damage.

ILLINOIS

Tornadoes and high winds killed seven persons in northern Illinois and caused estimated $6 million damage. Cities along western edge of state brace for expected floods as Mississippi River continues to rise.

INDIANA

Of six states hit by the tornadoes, Indiana suffered the worst. At least 110 persons reported dead and many more missing. Toll is worst disaster in state's history.

IOWA

More than 350,000 residents went without electricity as tornadoes swept state. No deaths reported. Mississippi River expected to crest twice today below Burlington.

OHIO

Twisters bouncing through state took at least 54 lives. Most of deaths were in Toledo area, including eight persons who died when a bus in which they were riding was blown off highway.

WISCONSIN

Tornadoes claimed three lives and inflicted heavy property damage in several towns in southern part of state. La Crosse prepared to battle floodwaters expected to crest at more than 17 feet by April 21.

STRONG WINDS — Gusts battering the Pontiac area downed this huge tree early today at Robbin's Mobile Village, 3300 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township. The tree landed on top of a trailer owned by Roland Barnard, 28 Shady Lane, Waterford Township. No one was injured.

Red Artillery Discovered in S. Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — American intelligence officials said today they have "proof positive" that North Viet Nam has laboriously transported significant numbers of mountain artillery guns into South Viet Nam over the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Military authorities are also studying evidence that limited numbers of regular army units from the Communist north have accomplished a small scale invasion of South Viet Nam.

The Hanoi regime's moves appear to be in response to continued U.S. air attacks on North Vietnamese territory and the landing of American marines in South Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese have long been infiltrating selected North Vietnamese regular soldiers into the south, but there is evidence in the testimony of captured Communist troops that the Hanoi regime is no longer bothering to select individual soldiers and is sending them in roughly hundred-man company units.

The change in the pattern of infiltration has not caused undue alarm among American military men. They figure the Communist infiltrators pose no greater threat as small units than equal numbers of selected individuals.

DANGEROUS MOVE
But to those who recall the bloody French defeat at Dien Bien Phu, the interest in Communist artillery is a new and dangerous development.

In the closing days of the Indochina war, the French underestimation of the Vietnamese Communist's prowess with artillery cost them the battle of Dien Bien Phu and eventually the war.

The Americans are not underestimating the Communist Viet Cong, and their possession of artillery has many worried.

The first hint that the Communists had sent in artillery was noted by a sharp-eyed American leatherneck, who spotted, and reported, a pack train of elephants just north of the U.S. Marine-protected missile and bomber base at Da Nang.

FLYING SCOUT
The Marine was a gunner on a Marine Corps helicopter flying aerial surveillance over the jungled mountains beyond the Marine perimeter.

The elephants had cumbersome packs on their backs and their khaki-clad attendants fled into the jungle when the Marine chopper whipped over.

Intelligence officials immediately became suspicious that the elephants might have been transporting artillery pieces.

Confirming evidence came only a few days later.

During a visit to a district capital in western Kontum Province, an American general was met by a young Vietnamese officer who excitedly produced some documents taken from the body of a Viet Cong.

DEAD SOLDIER
The Communist soldier had been killed earlier that same day by a squad of militia troops on the outskirts of the district town.

Neatly wrapped in waterproof paper was a tabular firing table and a U.S. military aiming device. The packet also included range tables and translucent map overlays showing the defensive emplacement of the government-held town.

The American general immediately recognized the range tables as those of any one of a variety of 75mm or 76.2mm mountain or pack howitzers.

DUD FOUND
To the east, and closer to Da Nang, government troops picked up a dud 75mm artillery projectile that failed to explode when it was fired at an outpost during a Communist attack.

Vietnamese and American intelligence officers have taken this as conclusive evidence that the men were forward observers for a newly introduced artillery unit which they believe was moved into South Viet Nam through neighboring neutral Laos.

Strengthening this belief was the fact that the two Communist artillery observers were killed on the ridges overlooking the Dak Son River valley, stretching from southwestern Kontum Province to communist-threatened Atteup in southern Laos.

Control of this winding river valley has been so important to the Communists that the North Vietnamese have sent fit to station regular troops there for years to protect their infiltration operations from any probes of the Laotian right-wing army.

SIMMS BROTHERS

NO CUSTOMERS — The chairs from Poddy's Barber Shop on Nepessing Street in LaPeer made a forlorn picture yesterday morning after they were "rescued" from a fire which nearly wiped out a downtown business block. Owned by LaVern Carter, the barber shop and adjoining tavern, as well as two landmark hotels, were a total loss. Damage was tentatively estimated at $300,000. (See story on page 1.)

Household Conservation Subject at Two Classes

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Labor-saving practices for homemakers will be explained at two classes here this week and next.

Scheduled for Thursday and April 22, the classes are co-sponsored by the Farmington Jayvettes, the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service and the Michigan Heart Association.

The "Heart of the Home" classes are free to all homemakers.

Sponsors note the class is of particular value to those with heart or blood vessel ailments.

Reservations can be made by telephoning Mrs. Carol Kurth of the cooperative extension office, Pontiac, or the Michigan Heart Association, Detroit.

The two sessions will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the 10 Mile Elementary School, 32789 10 Mile.

Instructions and demonstrations will be given by Mrs. Alice Epple of Ann Arbor, heart association consultant in homemaker rehabilitation.

She will demonstrate practical ways to conserve time and energy in preparation of meals, cleaning, ironing and other household tasks.

School Consultant to Give PTA Talk

LAKE ORION — Philip G. Hilaire, reading consultant for Oakland County Schools, will be the speaker at this evening's meeting of the Blanche Sims Elementary School PTA.

Election of officers will also be conducted at the meeting, which will begin at 8 p.m. at the school, Florence and Jackson streets.

Hilaire will discuss the advantages of the Initial Teaching Alphabet (ITA), which uses 44 symbols instead of the usual 26 to represent various sounds in our language.

To Pick Mayor in Farmington

FARMINGTON — Election of a mayor, consideration of a proposed new zoning ordinance and presentation of a tentative 1965-66 operating budget will highlight the Farmington City Council meeting tonight.

To attend their first session as councilmen are Ralph D. Yoder and John A. Allen, who won council seats last week in the election which saw Wilbur V. Brotherton returned to office.

From their own ranks, councilmen will elect a mayor and mayor pro tem.

They must choose a man to head the unit as replacement for former Mayor Robert B. Lindbert, who did not run for reelection to the council seat he had held for 12 years.

Swearing in of the new councilmen will create at least two organizational problems for the unit.

Church Unit Sets Study of Teen Behavior

ROCHESTER — The education commission of St. Paul's Methodist Church, concerned with the "growing complexity of helping teen-agers adjust to modern life," has announced a study class series, entitled "Understanding Our Teen-agers."

Beginning Tuesday, the class will run for 10 consecutive weeks, meeting from 9 to 11 a.m.

Rev. Horace James, associate pastor of the church, will be the course coordinator.

The first session will feature John Vanderlind, Birmingham psychologist, as the resource consultant.

Vanderlind will discuss "Emotional Changes of the Adolescent."

Subsequent class sessions will cover various aspects of dealing with teen-agers, including dating, sex information, discipline, spiritual and moral development and vocational counseling.

All classes will be held in the parlor of the church, at no charge, and are open to the public.

Orion Boy Drowns in Paint Creek

A four-year-old Orion Township boy drowned Saturday evening when he fell into a stream near his home.

The body of Wayne Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster G. Gibson of 710 E. Flint, was recovered at 7:40 p.m. a half-mile downstream from his home.

Mrs. Gibson called Lake Orion police at 6:15 p.m. asking for help in rescuing her son after he fell into Paint Creek at the back of the Gibson property.

An older brother and the parents tried unsuccessfully to save the youngster, but the creek was swollen by spring rains and he was carried swiftly downstream.

Discovery of the body came at the end of an all-out search by police and firemen from Lake Orion and Oxford.

New Addison Budget Differs Little From Old

ADDITION TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved a budget for 1965-66 totaling about $23,000, practically unchanged from the 1964-65 budget.

Township Clerk Robert McCallum said the budget reflects no significant changes in this year's expenditures.

Traffic Sanity Restored on South Saginaw Street

Now that the State Highway Department's correction of South Saginaw street traffic has had reasonable usage, comment becomes pertinent.

Certainly 80 per cent of the former mess at the east and west exits handling traffic at the southerly end of downtown Pontiac has been corrected. City officials, merchants, residents and The Pontiac Press readily unite in this voluntary statement. Conditions are vastly improved by opening this one southern exit.

Also, MAX N. CLYDE, Commissioner HILL's official representative, made it plain that the State is willing and anxious to give further attention to the general situation if it can be further improved. We ask no more. The Commissioner's attitude is appreciated by the 200,000 residents of this area. We were all becoming fearful that downtown Pontiac was becoming bound and gagged.

The east and west exits that really raised the hackles on local necks remain as they did before. However, the one south end change has eliminated the bulk of the pressure from these two sore spots.

Both can be studied further. We aren't hamstringing now.

Another sector that deserves further consideration is the portion of Huron between Mill and Wide Track Drive. This must obviously be widened appreciably to carry the ultimate traffic as a link of M-59. The narrow street of the moment is merely an inconvenience now, but it will be an absolute bottleneck when it has to handle the projected volume of the future.

Also, the north end of Wide Track drive will merit further study and attention.

The major part of the worst jams have been eased appreciably and the bulk of the pressure removed. Further modifications can await a contemplative study. Perhaps the one correction just made will take away the pressure from all these sources. We can all give the current arrangement a thorough workout.

We thank Highway Commissioner Howard Hill for helping restore traffic sanity where it simply didn't exist before.

Labor Predicament

Who will solve this "stoop labor" predicament?

Mexican imports were blocked by Sec. of Labor, W. WILLARD WIRTZ who said the jobs would go to U. S. citizens. Some did. But more didn't go anywhere and fruit rotted.

One load of northern laborers taken to the citrus country, decamped to the race tracks as soon as the bus stopped. Others didn't like the work. Some were simply incapable.

Michigan's cherries and other fruit may feel this pinch in the fall. What's the answer?

Government Acreage

This may amaze you.

One acre out of every three in the United States belongs to the Federal Government.

This seems incredible. Think of the huge tax loss.

Our Federal Government

owns 769 million acres in the 50 states. This is considerably more than the combined area of:

Washington
Oregon
California
Idaho
Montana
Utah
Wyoming
Colorado
Arizona
Nevada
New Mexico

In Michigan, the Federal Government claims nine per cent, but in Alaska the "official records" show it owns more land than there is in all of Alaska. Here's one for the boys who have their hands and feet in the Federal trough to straighten out. In their own copyrighted, leisurely fashion it ought to be good for years of "study" with on-site committee investigations every few months (in the summer).

These statistics make that 50-foot lot that you own yourself pretty important.

These facts come through the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

And in Conclusion...

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Sign in a delicatessen window: "Swiss cheese with 22 per cent fewer cavities." Political soothsayers in New York say Governor ROCKEFELLER and Mayor WAGNER face rough roads to reelection. I hear Mississippi is losing $30 million a year in Federal educational grants because of her refusal to integrate. If you have a piggy bank full of coins, take it to the bank. The nation is still short of change. There's a movement afoot to make Memorial Day the last Monday in May so the nation can always enjoy a three-day weekend.

Trusted scouts advise me Connie Everett deserves mention as one of the very lovely looking girls in the area. Playing the fiddle at a benefit Jack Benny said: "This isn't my violin. Mine's a Stradivarius. If it isn't, I'm cheated out of $110." Deepening the depth of the dimples on a golf ball can increase the carry 75 yards. Pontiac's water is currently the coldest I ever drank without benefit of ice cubes. Candid Camera is tottering on TV. It dropped into a dismal rut of repetition and hum-drum.

Overheard: "Ambassador MAXWELL TAYLOR came home to get his report card signed." The most filmed story of all time is "Les Miserables." The Victor Huvo classic has been done 22 times—four times by Americans. Overheard: "I sat right across from him (LBJ) but I didn't know what to say. Should I have asked: 'what's new in Viet Nam?' or, 'how's every little thing in Selma?' Who could refuse to buy a batch of those grand cookies from our wonderful Girl Scouts?

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

TV & Sports

The increasing influence of television on sports through outright ownership or purchase of broadcast rights has most newspaper sports columnists fighting mad. And, we think, rightly so.

Managers and players are so hypnotized by multiple dollar signs they forget it has been, and always will be, the newspaper advance buildup that has filled the stadium with cheering (or booing) customers. Can you imagine how dull a game would be if it were played for television before an empty house?

Leo Fischer, sports editor of the Chicago American, shuddered when "the staid old United States Golf Association changed its title meformats to make them more attractive to television offers."

The U.S. Amateur, which for 18 years has been decided by match play, was changed to a medal play tournament; and the U.S. Open whose 36-hole final day was rated as golf's toughest test, was split into two full days.

"The governors ruling the U.S.G.A. didn't come right out and declare that this is being done to attract television offers, but they didn't rush in with denials. Fischer took off in his column: 'The manner in which TV people are beginning to dictate to certain sports makes one wonder if it'll wind up with the tail wagging the dog.'"

"A broadcasting company was among the bidders for the Denver team of the American Football league. CBS already controls the New York Yankees. Last fall the Orange Bowl was made a night game to accommodate TV. CBS sought to promote a Christmas Day bowl game. The Liberty Bowl was played indoors in Atlantic City so that weather would be no factor in the telecast."

"I don't ever recall a single hockey, baseball, football or basketball game, boxing match or any other sport event being asked to change its schedule to accommodate a newspaper deadline. We've always felt our job was to report sports—not run them."

"In rebuttal, someone will point out how much money television is pouring into the treasuries of various sports."

"Well, how many hundreds of millions do you think we give them every year in free space? If golf, baseball, football, basketball and other sports which are catering to the TV directors had to pay advertising rates for the newspaper coverage, the money would make the millions tossed around for TV rights look like a sack of spoiled peanuts."

Mr. Fischer estimated the amount of free space devoted to baseball alone, including spring training, would amount to about $127,500,000 at average ad rates. The amount spent for broadcast rights to major league baseball games this year will come to $23,300,000.

"We'll agree that sport news helps sell daily newspapers. But it also helps sell TV advertisers who sponsor the telecasts, and gives networks a chance to boast of their viewing audiences."

"Does TV help a sport? It will stir interest but boxing has started to make a comeback since it went off the air. Not too long ago more people were watching boxing than at any time in history—but most of them were non-paying TV viewers. Wrestling, which once saturated TV, still battling to regain its box-office lure."

"Suppose the newspapers, still content to report and not direct the operation of sports, dropped all sports news. Do you think that radio and TV could sell it as well as the press has done?"

Wells Twombly of the Houston Chronicle had a column recalling the furor that arose at a televised bowl game when a newspaperman went to one of the benches to get a comment from the quarterback.

There was hysterical screaming from the TV crew because the camera was at that time televising the same scene including the newspaperman. After trying to eject the newsman forcibly a policeman was called to do the job, but he saw the reporter's badge and said he had a right to be there.

Mr. Twombly continued: "After the game, a producer or some kind of flunky came puffing up to the writer, shaking his head and sweating profusely. 'Boobie, you were really rocking the boat back there,' he said. 'Don't you know the network paid $125,000 for the rights to televise this game?'"

"Well," said the writer, "wasn't the network aware that the newspapers had been plugging the game for nearly a month? Consequently, some 50,000 customers showed up, paying an average of $6 a head. That figured out to $300,000."

"What opens this old wound again is a slightly sophomoric editorial in this week's edition of TV Guide."

"You can't blame sports-writers for resenting television," it begins. "Television helped kick boxing—a justifiable homicide if there ever was one, but still a blow to boxing specialists."

"Television helped popularize professional football, bringing the games themselves into homes that once depended upon sportswriters."

"Television made national heroes out of golf teachers. Television announcers were lionized while writers were asked to step back and stop blocking the camera's view."

"The writers weren't too bitter—not until the games started changing to accommodate the competition. The grueling 36-hole finals of the National Open championship were split into two days of 18 holes each with the networks in mind. The writers burred. But we're sure they agree that it's worth changing if it means that millions—rather than just a few—can enjoy watching sports events."

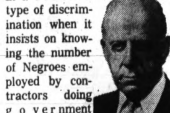

"Most of these charges are so remarkably silly that they require only a brief answer. It should be pointed out that a writer of some class named Grantland Rice did as much to popularize golf as any TV double-dome. Without free weekly television, boxing is beginning to stir to life again. Thanks to TV-style progress, the Open is just another dull gray tournament, as exciting as the Saturday afternoon Tarzan movie."

"And the only sporting event that television ever popularized all by itself was the (ugh!) roller derby. You can look it up."

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Form Has Pro-Negro Bias

WASHINGTON — "Discrimination" is being widely condemned nowadays. Yet the federal government itself engages in a certain type of discrimination when it insists on knowing the number of Negroes employed by contractors doing government work but does not ask for information LAWR-NCE which might reveal whether any other form of racial or religious discrimination in employment is being practiced.

When a contractor, for example, performs street improvement work which is subsidized by the federal government, it is necessary for the contractor to submit a weekly payroll form which not only itemizes the total number of his employees separated into categories of the skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled, but also has a special column to show how many of the total in each group are Negroes.

An executive order issued on March 6, 1961, and subsequently amended by the Democratic administration here, requires the contractor to agree that he "will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color or national origin."

The federal government does not, however, require any report on how many Catholics, Protestants or Jewish persons are employed, nor does it ask

'Citizens Should Obtain General Pistol Permits'

If more honest citizens could get a general pistol permit, I think the crime rate would drop. The present law does not help the honest people as the hoodlums know they cannot get a permit to carry a gun and their victims are unarmed.

If you apply for a general permit you will end up with a hunting and target permit—I know from experience.

Reply to Pontiac Sunday School Teacher

Our firm received a letter from a Pontiac lady in which she stated that she would ask every child she could reach not to buy our Alabama products until the stars and stripes flew over Alabama. She has contacts with many organizations, including a Sunday School class of which she is a teacher. The signature was "Onward Christian Soldiers"—a white woman who dares not sign her name in this century.

The majority in Alabama are good, fine, decent people. Boycott will hurt our State. But our products are made from materials from many states. If our product cannot be sold, then we cannot buy; so your state will be hurt. Is this the solution? Is putting into the hearts of children to "return evil for evil" the answer?

I am a white woman, a Sunday School teacher, and my name and address are signed. I am asking the Pontiac lady to have her class pray a special prayer for me and my group. Pray our lives will be used to further the concepts of Christ. My class did this for her group last Sunday. JUANITA GODFREY

Discuss Sleeping Bear National Park

Being property owners in the Sleeping Bear area we agree that the conservation commissioner's amendments for Senate Bill 836 help correct a poor piece of legislation. We do not feel that the commission should support the bill until the amendments can be studied. We question whether the conservation commission is the proper body to pass on the acceptability of such a bill. It gives entirely too much power and authority to the Secretary of Interior. He is empowered to administer and develop the lakeshore and is authorized to acquire the land and impose restrictions.

There is provision for the property owner to sell at a fair market value to the Secretary within a reasonable time provided the owner can prove hardship. There is no provision that requires the government to buy private property. We would suggest all private, improved property be removed from the bill with the provision that it must be offered to the Federal Government at fair market value. While the bill has been cut down in acreage we still feel that the original 1959 study was ample. On March 27, 1963, the Michigan Legislature passed a resolution that the proposed national recreation area be confined to the terms of the 1959 report, approximately 30,000 acres.

The bill states that any property owned by the State may be acquired only with the concurrence of such owner. Since Michigan owns 21,000 acres we would like to know what procedure is followed in turning this land over to the Federal Government? On what legal basis is the State empowered to dispose of land belonging to the people?

These points require further consideration. MRS. JOHN L. THOMS

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Form Has Pro-Negro Bias

WASHINGTON — "Discrimination" is being widely condemned nowadays. Yet the federal government itself engages in a certain type of discrimination when it insists on knowing the number of Negroes employed by contractors doing government work but does not ask for information LAWR-NCE which might reveal whether any other form of racial or religious discrimination in employment is being practiced.

When a contractor, for example, performs street improvement work which is subsidized by the federal government, it is necessary for the contractor to submit a weekly payroll form which not only itemizes the total number of his employees separated into categories of the skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled, but also has a special column to show how many of the total in each group are Negroes.

An executive order issued on March 6, 1961, and subsequently amended by the Democratic administration here, requires the contractor to agree that he "will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color or national origin."

The federal government does not, however, require any report on how many Catholics, Protestants or Jewish persons are employed, nor does it ask

Naturally, when there are complaints about discrimination on grounds other than race, the government looks into the matter. But the chief concern of many contractors today is whether, when seeking to do work on any project in which government funds are used, they will be granted or denied contracts on the basis of how many Negro employees are actually on their payrolls.

'Big Meal,' Fresh Clothes, Clean Quarters'

Reporter Gets the Inside Story on Life in Job Corps

By LAWRENCE LEE

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (UPI) — The Job Corps trainees who come to this central Texas town to learn a paying trade are greeted by a pretty girl a few minutes after they arrive.

She asks for their names and Social Security numbers and tells them, "Welcome to the Gary Job Corps Training Center." Her speech is rehearsed, but the sentiment is genuine.

The people leading the fight at the Texas front in the war on poverty will spend up to two years convincing the boys that they are wanted and can make themselves useful.

The odds against these youth are huge. No boy's family makes more than $50 a week, and many have squadrons of brothers and sisters. The Corps men are 16 to 21 years old, but more than two-thirds left school after the ninth grade. Few ever ate or dressed well.

FIRST THING

A big meal, fresh clothes and a clean place to live are the first thing the job corps gives the boys.

Two months ago, the Gary center was Camp Gary, a dilapidated Army base mobilized in the 1950's.

President Johnson, who went to college in San Marcos, surprised the town last fall by announcing that the base would be one of the first Job Corps camps.

In six weeks, Gary was scrubbed and painted and staffed.

TWO-MAN ROOMS

The young trainees live in buildings formerly BOQ's—bachelor officers' quarters.

The two-man rooms are spartan: Army cots, lockers, a desk and two chairs. But they are clean and for many boys the closest thing they have had to a room of their own.

A science teacher at the Gary center, 22-year-old Robert Smith, took custody of a dozen recently-arrived trainees. I was among them, posing as a "trainee."

Smith's group, like all others, loudly voiced their indifference and disgust for Gary, yearning out loud for Connecticut, Delaware, Arkansas, Ohio and their other home states. Privately, they told me they were pleased with what was happening.

'GIVE US A CHANCE'

"You'll like it. Give us a chance," Smith said. Later, he turned them over to Maurice Owens, the young minister and college student who will supervise their dorm at night.

Owens led our group to one of the rooms for a bed-making lesson.

"This is the only thing we do military," Owens said. "This is how you make a hospital corner with your sheet."

Then Owens explained the other rules. Lights-out at 10 p.m. In bed by 11 p.m. Up at 6 a.m. for breakfast and house-keeping duties.

NO COMPLAINTS

No one complained about breakfast. Like all the meals, it was well-prepared and the servings were generous.

We were given all the food we wanted. There is no limit on the milk, the turkey and dressing, the pork chops, the piles of apples and grapes.

On the morning of the second day, Smith took the group out for a clothing issue: an assortment of Army khaki shirts, Navy jackets and trousers and white dress shirts for weekend wear into San Marcos.

The insignia is a shield with a blue arrow pointing up a bold black ladder.

PULL ON BOOTS

The boys can wear what they bring with them, but most quickly pulled on their combat boots, floppy blue pants and the field jacket with the corps patch.

A gangling Arkansas boy whose buddies called him "Hillbill" tried on the bell-bottomed trousers and a Navy stocking cap.

"If my old lady could see me now, she'd say, 'Son, you look real respectable,'" Hillbill said.

"Your head looks like a fried egg," a kid from Ohio said.

The boys are given $15 in cash; part of the $30 a month they earn for their chores. Later, they can try for weekend jobs in town.

$50 A MONTH

They also earn $50 for each month they stay at Gary—money they will get when they have learned their trade and leave.

Half a day was devoted to testing the group.

"It took me 15 tests to get in here," one boy said. "I guess it'll take me a thousand to get out."

As we waited for a manual skill test, a matter of rearranging pegs, a counselor told us, "This is the most important test you'll take here."

NEED RHYTHM

"This is to see how well you can use your hands. You need to develop a rhythm when you work. You're here to learn to use your hands. This is how you're going to earn anywhere from $3 to $6 an hour when you get out."

Several boys whistled.

They eagerly looked over the list of courses — mechanics, machine shop, auto repair, landscaping, commercial art, office work. Each boy marked three choices.

Smith told them that they would learn what courses they would take on the following day.

City Engineer Says

Capital Improvement Trend Downhill

By L. GARY THORNE
"The trend in capital improvements is toward retraction," according to Pontiac City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling.
The city administrator offered the observation with release of his department's annual report, which details the city's capital improvement program during the past year.

Neippling cited examples to support his "retraction" statement.

He said that recapping of streets came to a halt in 1964 and no recapping funds are provided for this year.

In addition, Neippling contended that the amount expended last year for the paving of streets was "insignificant" and would be reduced even further in 1965.

NO INDICATION

Figures for 1964 capital improvement activity fail to point out the trend, said the city engineer.

Pontiac's improvement program rose to $1.6 million last year, up more than $2.4 million over 1963, according to the city engineer's annual report.

Despite the sharp increase, the output of construction projects actually was curtailed in 1964.

The figures fail to show the reduced output because the annual report lists the total estimated cost of major projects in the year the job was completed. LESS WORK

Thus, some city departments did less work in 1964 over 1963, but received credit last year for projects started the year before.

While last year's total program reached $1.6 million, final figures for 1963 showed only $1.8 million worth of capital improvements.

Neippling singled out another trend from his department's annual statistics.

The building inspection division, he said, has figures to show that the trend is toward multiple dwellings.

2,100 UNITS

If all the units are built in 1965 that are currently proposed, Neippling said the city would have 2,100 units available by the close of the year.

"The multiple dwelling concept has come to Pontiac," he added.

The biggest capital improvement last year was the construction of 2.8 miles of a sanitary trunk sewer. The city expended $446,500 on the Murphy Park relief sewer.

Last year's total investment in capital improvements includes city, state and federal funds, special assessments paid by property owners and expenditures by developers and private citizens.

The following is a breakdown of work and cost estimates. Work done by city crews is separated from work contracted out.

For example, the Department of Public Works constructed $216,515 worth of public improvements, as compared to $210,301 in 1963.

The work last year took in 1.7 miles of sidewalk construction, compared to .13 miles in 1963; 1.6 miles of curb and gutter, compared to 1.88 miles in 1963; and .65 miles of combined sewers, compared to .03 miles in 1963.

Also, 21 miles of sanitary sewer were constructed in 1964 to .77 miles in 1963; .31 miles of storm sewer, compared to .39 miles in 1963; and .53 miles of grade and gravel to .22 miles in 1963.

CONTRACTS

Contracted projects totaled $2.9 million in 1964 for paving, recapping and related construction, compared to a total of $667,673 in 1963.

Paving and recapping totaled 2.45 miles last year, compared to 2.37 miles in 1963; storm sewer work reached 1.51 miles in 1964 and 1.23 miles in 1963; while curb and gutter work totaled 4.42 miles last year and 2.79 miles in 1963.

Sidewalk construction on a contract basis totaled 1.81 miles last year. In 1963, there were no contracts.

Of the total "contracted" $2.9 million, $41,356 was in the urban renewal areas. This compares to $70,228 of urban renewal work in 1963.

BLACKTOP

Blacktopping last year totaled 1.11 miles at a total cost of $28,763, compared to 4.34 miles and $232,338 in 1963.

Water mains constructed in urban renewal totaled .32 miles at $20,606 in 1964, down from .64 miles at $66,881 in 1963.

Fees collected for building inspections and building permits totaled $57,024 last year, up slightly from the 1963 total of $51,517.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Success of 'Adjusted Study' Classes Results in Requests for Doubling of Program

Special classes for boys — classified as destructive, disruptive and abusive — have been successful enough in Oakland County to warrant requests that the Adjusted Study program be doubled in the next few years.

Thirteen classes in eight school districts now handle boys who could not behave well enough to learn or let others learn in a regular classroom.

Classes are limited to 10 pupils, lessons geared to individual needs of each boy.

School superintendents in the county have requested nine additional Adjusted Study classes.

rooms as soon as more special education funds are available.

By 1968, school officials hope to have 29 classrooms where 290 boys can be helped to work out adjustment difficulties.

RELATED

Dr. Leon Hall, coordinator of psychological services for Oakland schools, said the program is based on the assumption that the behavior of the pupil is related to his lack of achievement.

"We try to identify these children early," Dr. Hall said. "We put them into a situation in which they can begin to achieve and acquire respect for themselves as learners rather than as the roughest and toughest guys on the playground."

Boys participating in the program are between the ages of 8½ and 14. Dr. Hall pointed out that the program is not for the mentally handicapped, but rather for the normally intelligent youngster who needs help to resume a respectable place in the world."

Objective of the program is to return the boy to a regular classroom as soon as improvement in study habits and behavior permits.

Since the program began five years ago, 221 pupils have participated and 78 have returned to regular classes.

Dr. Hall said Adjusted Study classes were operated for two years as a pilot program financed entirely by Oakland schools.

State recognition of the needs of the emotionally disturbed came in 1962 and the Adjusted Study program was then included with other state-reimbursed special education programs.

LOCATIONS

This year, classrooms are operating in Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Waterford, Farmington, Walled Lake, Oak Park and Royal Oak.

Classes are supervised by the districts in which they are located with cost of the rooms borne by Oakland schools and salary costs for teachers shared by the county school system and the state.

Teen Hospitalized After Area Crash

Marion Carter, 19, of 804 St. Clair is in fair condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following an auto accident last night in Waterford Township.

State Police said Carter was traveling west on Pontiac Lake Road when he apparently lost control of his car which left the road and struck a sign.

The accident occurred at 7:25 p.m. near Watkins Lake Road.

All-car average: 20.34 miles per gallon, at average speed of 51.6 mph

In America's mileage classic — the Mobil Economy Run — 48 different makes and models of American cars, traveling at an average speed of 51.6 mph, crossed the continent from Los Angeles to New York, under the strict supervision of the United States Auto Club (USAC). Look what they averaged on Mobil's High Energy Gasoline!

What does this mean to you?

Simply this: while other gasolines talk about good mileage, Mobil's High Energy Gasoline proves its mileage potential in public!

The cars that compete in the Mobil Economy Run are not "specials" or "doctored" in any way. They're selected at random from dealer showrooms all across the country. The gasoline is the same gasoline you can buy at any Mobil station. Proof of its mileage potential is offered—not on a test track—but in public, over all kinds of roads from city streets to superhighways, through all kinds of conditions from deserts to 11,000-foot mountain passes.

It's America's toughest test of gasoline. Check the results above—certified by the United States Auto Club. Then try Mobil's High Energy Gasoline in your car—Premium or Regular.

The gasoline that proves its performance in public.

Neckerchief Goes Hunting

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The scout neckerchief, already possessed of a proud heritage of usefulness, recently was adapted for a whole new range of life-saving jobs.

According to "Steel Facts," published by American Iron and Steel Institute, a scout-style triangular neckerchief — with a difference — is now recommended wearing apparel for hunters and sportsmen.

The safety department of a steel company in eastern Pennsylvania, to promote employee safety, compiled a list of emergency first-aid tips which were imprinted on highly visible yellow or red squares of cloth.

Park Rangers in Africa Learn Animal Talk

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Noah would have wished this had come sooner.

Rangers of South Africa's Kruger Park game reserve are learning to speak Liosene, some Zebra, and for advanced students—Hippopotamish.

The rangers are taking small tape recorders into the bush to study what animals say to each other and how and when.

If the new scheme is successful, a version of the ultrasonic machine will be used to send out sounds which, for instance, will draw lions away from water holes so that a timid gazelle can come along and have one for the road in safety.

The rangers have already had an SOS from Salisbury, Rhodesia, airport officials.

Twister Belts' Arkansas City

Six Killed, 94 Hurt With 600 Homeless

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Residents of this central Arkansas city worked today to clear acres of debris left by a tornado that killed six persons and made more than 600 homeless.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus toured the area and said that he would ask that Conway be declared a disaster area.

The long, twisting white funnel swept through two sections of the town Saturday, wrecking an estimated 60 to 70 homes and partially damaging 150 others.

Ed Nabholz, chairman of the Faulkner County Red Cross chapter, estimated damages at more than $10 million. A state insurance investigation team put the amount at approximately $5 million.

94 INJURED

A Red Cross check showed 94 persons were injured, with 69 of those treated and released from the city's only hospital — an 80-bed facility. Ten others were taken to hospitals at Little Rock, 30 miles south of here. Fifteen remained hospitalized here.

The homeless who spent Saturday night in churches, gymnasiums, motels and the homes of friends began returning Sunday to salvage what they could.

The storm forced evacuation of 500 youths from the Arkansas Children's Colony, a state institution for the mentally retarded. Most were taken to Arkansas State College and Hendrix College, a private school.

Parents began picking up the children Sunday to take them home until an estimated $1 to $2 million check to the colony could be repaired.

LIMIT TRAFFIC

Conway was sealed to all but through traffic, rescue vehicles and persons living in the city.

State troopers, civil defense workers and volunteers patrolled streets to direct traffic and prevent looting, and check ruptured fuel tanks and gas lines.

To Air Zone Appeal in Waterford

Waterford Township Board members tonight will consider an appeal from proponents of a trailer park development whose property was denied rezoning for the park by the township's planning commission.

The commission denied the rezoning from Residential-1A (single family dwellings) to Residential-4 (trailer parks) at its March meeting due to lack of a majority vote. The vote was 4 to 4.

Sought for rezoning is a 33-acre parcel west of the cemetery on the southwest corner of Pontiac Lake and Airport roads.

In other business tonight, the board will consider rezoning two other parcels previously recommended for rezoning by the planning commission.

These include a lot on Elizabeth Lake Road near Stringham School from agricultural to multiple dwelling and a parcel behind the Pontiac Mall from agricultural to commercial parking for a parking lot addition.

POLICE REQUEST

Also slated for board attention is a request from the police department for an appropriation of $5,000 to remodel the police headquarters building.

Township Supervisor James E. Seetler has been requested by the Greater Waterford Community Council to proclaim April 13, May 11 as Clean-up, Fix-up Month in the township.

The board will also consider action to close the township offices at noon Good Friday.

Gets Her Vaccination in Face-to-Face Way

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Four-year-old Susan Booth won't need to go to the doctor for a smallpox vaccination. She has the vaccine in her older sister.

U.S. Commissioner H. Arnold Morgan of Chattanooga suspended the jail terms, but required the men to pay for replacing the damaged sections. The sign cost $102.

Worker Had 'Wild' Excuse

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An African storeman at Uganda's Murchison Falls game park in East Africa was late for work.

"Sorry, sir," he told Warden Roger Wheatley who wanted to know why he was late on duty. Then he explained: "I was cycling home last night when I saw a cow elephant with a very young calf on the track ahead."

I got off and began to push my bicycle through the bush to go around them, but I pushed it into a rhino.

"I dropped the bicycle and ran for the nearest tree, but after I'd climbed it I saw two lions below in the grass."

"So I thought it would be better to stay there for the night until the lions went away — and I'm sorry I'm late for work."

He was forgiven.

Pair Shoot Up Smokey Bear

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP) — Two McMinn County, Tenn., men have received 90-day jail sentences and a year's probation for shooting Smokey the Bear twice with a shotgun.

District Ranger Dinnie F. Lambert said the men shot Smokey in the face on both sides of a D.S. Forest Service sign newly installed on Tennessee Highway 68.

Smokey is the agency's fire prevention symbol.

The sign had been set up only three hours. The shots went all the way through and burst the plywood on the opposite side, Lambert said.

Submerged Iron May Be Cannon off Man o' War

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Skin divers found a heap of submerged iron off a city beach in Perth and thought it was old drapings. Now they have been told it is a cannon from an 18th Century man o' war.

Maritime experts and historians at the state museum in Perth are trying to determine what man o' war carried them.

Records of ships lost off the West Australian coastline indicate it could be one of two Dutch vessels—the Fortyn or the Atekerke. Both were owned by the Dutch East India Company and were lost around 1720.

The wreck lies a mile off shore, and skindivers already have recovered part of a telescope, a jar and a saucer buried in the Dutch East India Company's design.

These ships usually carried a fortune in silver coins, and the search for these is continuing.

MANY WRECKED

Many Dutch ships were wrecked on the West Australian coast while on their way to the East Indies (now Indonesia).

Construction projects at the airport totaled $146,000 in 1964.

Major work consisted of widening the southbound taxiway from 40 to 75 feet and widening and paving of additional parking space.

NEW FENCE

A five-foot high chain-link fence was installed to prevent the general public from driving onto the active landing area.

The city contributed 25 percent or $36,500 toward the 1964 improvements, the rest of the funds coming from federal and state sources.

Other 1964 improvements included the building of a new hanger. The 60 by 70 foot hanger was built by a private firm.

'Odor File' May Foster a New Procedure in Future Sleuthing

CHICAGO (AP) — Sleuths of the future may find a super-sensitive sniffer more helpful than Sherlock Holmes' magnifying glass.

They may be able to smell out a criminal by means of his "chemical signature," research at the Illinois Institute of Technology indicates.

"It is possible that each person has a distinctive odor," Dr. Robert Krotocynski, one of three chemists conducting the research, said in an interview.

This suggests the possibility of establishing an "odor file" — individual olfactory fingerprints — to help catch criminals.

Dr. Krotocynski and his colleagues began a "bottled people" project about a year ago.

Here is how it works:

A person is sealed in a glass cell, resembling a glass iron lung, and purified air is piped into it. Air from the glass cell then is collected and analyzed as to its chemical components.

"Five characteristic chemical signatures have been detected so far which are pertinent to those tested," all of whom have been young, healthy, white persons, Dr. Krotocynski said.

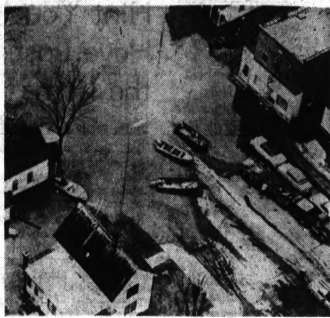

He says he expects there will be differences in the chemical compounds of these signatures due to such factors as age, diet, race and health.

Another possibility of utilizing such research may be in medical diagnosis, he said. Certain diseases produce characteristic odors and analysis of these odors may aid physicians in detecting disease, he said.

VIEW FROM THE AIR — The boats take over where cars can no longer travel in Chaska, Minn. Many families in the area have taken to water transportation due to the flooding of the Minnesota River.

Costliest for State

Minnesota Flood Is Grim

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — A flood is peaceful from the air.

Up close, it's a muddy, sweaty, wearying disaster. It's chaos, with dozens of officials issuing orders, no one quite sure who is in charge.

And it is people — especially kids.

It was all of these things in the Chaska area Sunday as Gov. Karl Rolvaag took another first-hand look at the costliest flood in the state's history.

VIEW FROM AIR

Flying in two National Guard planes, the governor's party saw how the swollen Minnesota River had leaped its banks to spread in the lowlands south of the airfield.

From the air, the picture of water as far as the eye can see is a serene one. Highways disappear abruptly under water. A grain elevator stands surrounded by water. Lines of trees are the only guidepost to an old river channel.

It is close up on the ground that reality becomes grim. In Chaska water stands up to the eaves on some houses, halfway up on front doors of others. It was the same in Mankato, and it may be the same along the southern reaches of Minneapolis-St. Paul this week as the relentless Minnesota pours out its destructive torrent.

GOOD FEELING

Yet, among the grimness there is a warmth — an aura of good feeling, generated by hundreds of strangers standing shoulder to shoulder in the mud of a levee, or making sandwiches in a Red Cross kitchen.

Rolvaag stopped again and again to shake hands with the levee workers and the teen-agers handing sandbags along in bucket brigade fashion.

He estimated 90 per cent of the volunteers he has seen are under 21 years of age.

"There's a lesson in this," he said as he met with city and county officials. The lesson, he said, is that local communities must get busy planning flood control projects to prevent further onslaughts by the raging river.

Young Peter Fredericks, Bloomfield Hills, occupies a seat every five-year-old boy dreams of. With Mrs. Edward V. Ott, Fairmont Hill Court (center), he's up in a backhoe. Mrs. George R. Cheadle, Darcy Drive, (left) examines the machine that is helping to break ground for the gymnasium at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills. Peter is a kindergartner at the school. During Sunday ceremonies, Oct. 13 was announced as the date for the ninth annual fashion show to benefit the building fund.

Convent Group Works on Fall Fashion Show

Sunday, there were ground breaking ceremonies at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills. A new gymnasium will adjoin the present building.

Some of the funds for the new structure have come from the Alumnae and the Janet Stuart Associations (mothers of students).

To raise these funds, members of the two organizations are producing their ninth annual fashion show. The date is Oct. 13, but the sponsors want the public to have a long time for anticipation.

Mrs. John B. Abbink, general chairman, says that 1966 models of Chrysler, Ford, General Motors and American Motors passenger cars will be on display.

The gowns will come from Walton-Pierce of Grosse Pointe; furs from Robert; hair styles by Geon's; children's fashions from Ethel M. Pollock and tea tables by the Charles W. Warren Company.

Some of the many women working on arrangements at this early date are Mrs. Joseph E. Risdon (fashions); Mrs. Don E. Ahrens (invitations); Mrs. Edward V. Ott (patrons); Mrs. Don J. Stein (publicity); Mrs. George R. Cheadle (tea table hostesses); Mrs. James A. Rowe (tickets); and Mrs. J. R. Slavsky (Pontiac area chairman).

MARILYN SQUIBB

The George R. Squibbs of Bloomfield Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Marilyn of New York City to John Sinclair Bell, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Bell, Urbana, Ill. They are alumni of Hillsdale College and Williams College, respectively.

Hint You Have Lost the Items

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I share an apartment with a young woman. She is very neat and pleasant and we get on well together.

However, I have discovered lately that some of my things are disappearing.

Two weeks ago I missed a pair of good black gloves which I had worn only once. Thinking that I had lost them, I let it go at that.

But several days later I missed a pair of nylons and just today, a slip.

I hate to accuse anyone of being dishonest, but I can't help thinking that she is taking my things.

This is a very awkward situation and I really don't know what to do about it without openly accusing her of pilfering my things.

Is there any way I can tactfully handle this situation?

A: You might say to her, "I was sure I had another pair of nylons," or "I can't find my black gloves anywhere."

"I hope I haven't lost them." In other words, let her know that you are aware of your things disappearing.

If this doesn't stop further losses, keep your drawers locked.

FAMILY INVITATION

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to address a wedding invitation to a married couple and their three young children?

I have been told that "and Family" is not good form.

A: Address the mailing envelope to Mr. and Mrs. John Jones followed by their address and on the inside envelope, write:

Mr. and Mrs. Jones

Mary, Jane and Timothy

Q: I would like to know if it is necessary to have a dinner for the wedding party after the rehearsal, and if so, who gives it — the bride's or the groom's parents?

A: A dinner following the wedding rehearsal is not at all necessary.

If one is given, it may be given by either the bride's or groom's parents or even a relative.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have the booklet entitled "The Bride's Trouseau," send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Heritage Branch

Garden Club Forms New Branch

Twenty-eight area women signed the charter of the newly-organized Heritage branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association recently in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Thomas O. Mayberry.

Sponsored by the Cranbrook branch of which Mrs. Edwin O. George is president, the group was directed through the organization process by Mrs. Arthur Hyde of Birmingham.

She is Michigan extension chairman for WNF&GA.

The branch name "Heritage" was inspired by "America's Garden Book" authors, James and Louise Bush-Brown.

They define gardening as one of the oldest of the arts, hence, an important part of our heritage.

OFFICERS

Mrs. Mayberry is president; Mrs. Ronald H. Pepin, vice president; Mrs. Robert M. Beattie, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd C. Sherwood Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Y. Nose, treasurer; Mrs. Robert P. Leonard, historian.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carleton W. Bemis of Ecorse and the ushers, Mrs. John E. O'Connor of Leach Road, Avon Township.

For the ceremony performed by Rev. Jack Lancaster, followed by informal church reception, the bride chose a street-length dress of aquamarine lace over silk.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965? We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details. Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both. No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings).

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

MRS. ARTHUR W. THOMAS

Country Club Reception for Recently Wed Pair

A reception in the Warren Valley Golf Club, Dearborn Heights, followed the marriage of Madeline Marie McConnell to Arthur William Thomas, Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Berkley.

The bride, recently of Pontiac, is the daughter of the Melvin McConnells of Berkley. The Arthur Thomases of Dearborn Heights are the bridegroom's parents.

A deep yoke and elbow sleeves of Alencon lace and detachable chapel-length train detailed the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza over tulle.

Completing her ensemble

Wed Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Berkley were Madeline Marie McConnell, recently of Pontiac, daughter of the Melvin McConnells of Berkley, and Arthur William Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas of Dearborn Heights.

1965 Easter Eggs Reflect Spirit of Times

BY JANET ODELL This is probably the eggiest week in the year. All over the country families color and decorate Easter eggs.

Then comes the chore of thinking up ways to use all those hardcooked eggs. We'll try to deal with that problem on the food pages.

Time was, when all you did was dye the eggs in various colors. Now, you're just not "with it" unless you decorate them or make them into something fancy.

EGGS IN ORBIT

Let your youngster make them from hard cooked eggs that have been lightly scrubbed with scouring powder. This helps the paint stick to the surface.

Use poster paint, tempera, watercolors or Easter egg dyes.

At far left, Horace Happybird has two cotton swab antennae, polka dot wings and a smile dabbed on with paint-dipped cotton swabs. If he looks a little cross-eyed, it's only because he forgot to fasten his seat belt.

Near left, Leo Leerybird sports blue paper wings, a handsome design and a cotton swab antenna. Cardboard and cotton swabs form his second-stage rocket.

Center right, Norbert Nightflyer boasts tall cardboard feathers, cotton swab radar gear and a brightly striped body. He's so frightened his stripes are shaking, but he needn't be — he's solidly glued to his cardboard launching pad.

Right, Randolph Rooster is feathered with orange paper and flies on flat red wings that match his beak. Notice his feet, painted neatly with cotton swabs, and pointed toward terra firma.

In the foreground, Samson Spacebird has narrow cardboard wings, a paintdipped swab antenna and a blue-eyed nose cone. He's sad because Project Apollo rejected him, but he'll try extra hard to grace your Easter table.

If you want to make an Easter egg tree, you'll need a few thin graceful branches, a vase, ribbon, water base paint and some mucilage.

The mucilage mixed with the paint gives the eggs a high gloss coating. Try two coatings of different colors.

Pour some mucilage into a shallow dish. Into this, stir as many of the water base colors as you want. Add just enough water to keep the paint a good heavy color.

The mucilage will keep the different colors separated.

Dip or paint the eggs and set aside to dry. Tie with ribbon, water base paint and some mucilage.

Jumpin' Gemini Easter eggs are in orbit. No self-respecting egg wants to sit around in a basket. The ones shown here can be made with simple items found in most households — colored construction paper, shirt cardboard, cotton swabs and paint.

Michigan Cancer Association

Help Is Close at Hand

By JEANNE NELSON

To the many cancer patients in this area, the Michigan Cancer Association can mean the difference between real hardship and moderate medical costs.

Free services to patients is just one of the many benefits provided by this organization.

Of great assistance are the cancer pads supplied to patients by the foundation. Once or twice weekly a member of the family goes to the foundation office to pick these up.

Dressings are only one of the many services supplied.

NURSE VISITS

Through an annual grant provided by the Michigan Cancer Foundation (a United Fund organization), the Visiting Nurse Association makes a visit to the home of the cancer patient to determine the extent of nursing care and services needed.

If it is found that the patient is without transportation for visits to medical treatment centers, volunteer drivers, donating their time and use of their cars, are made available.

Sickroom supplies such as wheelchairs, hospital beds, bedside tables, stork beds, aspirators and other items are provided on loan.

Expendable items such as adhesive tape, rubber sheeting, and orthopedic appliances are also made available to the patient.

COUNSELING

Another service offered is professional counseling. A service director at the cancer center, assisted by volunteers, works with the patient, the family and the physician to help meet emotional, social and other needs caused by the illness.

All interviews are conducted in strict confidence.

Still another service are the daily classes in esophageal speech for persons who have lost their larynxes through cancer.

A colostomy clinic, also conducted at the center, offers expert medical counseling for persons having undergone colostomy surgery.

Short bed robes, called "Johnnie coats" and made by volunteers from men's white shirts are distributed at no cost to patients.

The principal objective of the Michigan Cancer Foundation is to save lives from cancer and to offer its free services to those already afflicted with the disease.

Pontiac Press Photo

Volunteer worker, Mrs. Henry Perry of Oakland Avenue, is kept busy cutting cancer pads for the Michigan Cancer Association. She is one of the many volunteers who donate much of their time and efforts to this important program.

Long Distance Barber Service

WAUWATOSA, Wis. (AP) — Confined to his home after a recent illness, 5-year-old Scott Klug received a phone call from his uncle Russ Jung, from New York.

Scott reported that he was feeling fine but was upset because he couldn't go out for a haircut.

About an hour later the door bell rang.

"You won't believe this," the man standing there with a little case in his hand told Mrs. Klug; "but I just got a call at my barber shop from New York to come over here and cut the hair of an ailing little fellow, Scott Klug."

Adoption of Child Laudable Objective

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

We are planning to adopt a child soon, and we need a budget to show the agency that we have sufficient means to care for a child.

I have been working some of our six and one-half years of marriage, so with this extra income we have not been living on a strict budget.

My salary made it possible to enjoy what we couldn't when we were an Army family.

Also, we have bought a home. The prospect of my giving up work and our living on one income again — $400 a month — doesn't worry me.

But we now have the house payments of $127 a month, and utilities, $35. Also gas for the car, $25, which is necessary for suburban living and city work.

Other regular monthly expenses are insurance, $25.30; church donations, $15; my husband's spending money, including cigars, haircuts, books, $40; newspapers and magazines (our chief pleasure, as we don't "night club") $10.

Please tell us how we can set up the rest of our budget—food, clothing, drugs and medical costs, savings, emergency "extras," etc.

B.B., Northfield, Ohio

Dear B.B.: When you put your income versus your necessary expenses down on paper, the picture isn't going to look too optimistic, I'm afraid.

However, in talking to adoption agencies about just such situations as yours, I find that each has its own standard about finances.

Generally speaking, they are more concerned with tender, loving care than with actual income.

The expenses you mention total about $277 a month, leaving $123 to cover a number of vital items.

Say you trim all these to a minimum, you still have about $150 worth of living to squeeze out of that $123.

Food, $75; clothing, $35; medical expenses, $25; gifts, miscellaneous, $15. Total, $150 a month.

You will note that there's nothing allowable, on this basis, for savings or emergencies.

So that means you'll have to revamp those allowances for clothing and gifts and miscellaneous.

You can, of course, cut down on the recreation fund. But you probably won't — simply because most of it is spent for reading material; and active, interested minds just can't — and really shouldn't — do without this kind of intellectual food.

You'll not be able to dodge the fact that the cost of raising a child increases from year to year — starting with a basic estimate of about $970 the first year.

In a family of three, the figure goes up to $1,113.84 a year for the next five years.

As I say, these costs are estimates based on many actual histories.

While your own costs will vary to some extent, you need some basic figures in order to plan realistically.

Even though your present financial picture doesn't look too strong, there might be some solutions to offer the agency.

Can you show any indication that your husband's income may logically increase? This can have an important bearing on their decision. Also you might consider refinancing your home in order to arrange lower monthly payments.

This is something you would have to figure out with those now handling your mortgage. So I hope with all my heart that your plans will materialize.

Pointed toe shoes constitute... CRUELTY TO CHILDREN

"The barbaric custom of infant foot-binding died out in China some 50 years ago but now the Western world is fast practicing deformation of children's growing feet," according to shoe expert John C. Batte.

We cited the resolution adopted by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons at its annual meeting in which pointed toe shoes were condemned as "harmful to the development of children's feet."

"It is ironic," he continued, "that the same women who complain about the discomfort caused by their own pointed toe shoes often actively seek the same styles for their children."

Mr. Batte, who is Manager of the HACK SHOE STORE at 235 Pierce Street, Birmingham, cautions, "Rather than losing business because of our strong resistance to this unhealthy fad, so many responsible, intelligent parents have been happy to find a store that carries shoes shaped correctly for growing feet, that we are continuing to build our business."

There are other HACK SHOE stores, all in Detroit: at 19360 Livernois; on the 5th floor of the Mutual Building at 28 W. Adams; and at 14432 E. Warren Ave.

DiChiera Concludes Oakland's Series

By JOHN C. TOUTLEY
A concert of works by David DiChiera concluded the Oakland University Concert-Lecture Series for this season.

The concert, held Sunday afternoon in the Gold Room at Oakland University drew a capacity audience.
For the first selection Mary Patricia Race joined the composer in a two-piano composition entitled "Lament."

Both artists played exceptionally well, and the number itself, while somewhat repetitious, was interesting and well-received.

Mezzo-soprano Alice Dutcher presented three songs entitled "Black Beads."
Miss Dutcher displayed a wide vocal range, beautiful voice quality, and excellent musicianship in the performance of these fresh new songs.

COMPOSER PLAYED

Dr. DiChiera concluded the first half of the program with his Piano Sonata, which was composed and premiered in Naples in 1959.

The three movements showed pleasing contrast, with the second movement serving as a calm interlude between the heavy, dramatic first and third movements.

The selection was ably performed, and the audience responded enthusiastically.

Four sonnets, by Edna St. Vincent Millay, were performed by soprano Roma Riddell to open the second half of the program. The songs were dramatic and sensitive.

Miss Riddell captivated the audience with a combination of flawless technique, sincerity, and beautiful voice quality.

The next selection on the program was Fantasy for violin and piano, during which Dr. DiChiera was ably assisted ed by the masterful touch of violinist Vartan Manougian.

The A Capella Choir, a group of selected singers, with featured soloist Doraleen McNelly, concluded the concert with Psalm 13 — a brilliant and inspiring piece of choral music.

The choir showed its mastery of the difficult selection, both rhythmically and harmonically.

The entire program was a tribute to Dr. DiChiera's outstanding talent, ability, and versatility.

MRS. CHARLIE RITCHIE

Saturday Ceremony for Pair

A candlelight ceremony in the Church of God, East Pike Street, marked the Saturday vows of Colene Mae Brewer and Charlie Ritchie of Menominee Road.

Parents of the couple are the William J. Brewers of Brooks Avenue and the late Mr. and Mrs. Doug Ritchie of Fisty, Ky.

ORCHID CENTER

A white orchid centered a bouquet of Stephanotis for the bride, gowned in white organza over layers of sequined lace. A jeweled crown held her bouffant illusion veil.

Wearing rainbow-hued rayon sheath gowns with lace bodices were the bride's sister Carolyn Brewer of Cleveland, Tenn., and bridesmaids, Mrs. Lynn L. Hopkins, Shirley Rea and Karen King.

Karen Baker attended as flower-girl at the rite performed by Rev. Cheslie N. Collins.

Vone Barger was best man and Glynn L. Hopkins, Jay Green and Roger Hoppe were groomsmen. Seating guests were the bride's uncles, Rubert Harrison and Roy Harrison.

After a reception in the First Federal Savings of Oakland, the couple left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. They will live in Pontiac.

These Young Speak Out

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Youngsters at the University of Michigan Hospital, asked to give their impressions of life in sick bay, reported they like the food and nurses.

They dislike shots, blood tests, X rays, and staying in bed.

Asked what they would have more of if they were running a hospital for children, they indicated a preference for more television, candy and going outside.

One boy, 9, said his hospital would have "more guns."

Georgia Fox Is Bride of E. D. King

Georgia Lee Fox became the bride of Everett Dwight King, Saturday, in St. Luke's Methodist Church, Rochester.

Reception at Maurice's followed the evening rite performed by Rev. Wayne Brookshear.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Floyd Caldwell of Emerson Avenue, George Fox of Wayne, and the Harry E. Kings of Manhattan Avenue.

CHAPEL TRAIN

With her gown and chapel train of white Chantilly lace over satin, the bride wore a bubble veil of silk illusion with organza petal headpiece.

She carried white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Larry Cowell, wearing aquamarine taffeta brocade, attended as honor matron. The bridesmaids, Mrs. George Davis and Norma King appeared in pink brocade.

On the esquire side, were Richard Bushey of Detroit, best man, with Larry Uhlir and George Davis who seated the guests.

Pierced Ears Cause Teen Infections

NEW YORK — Physicians have been warning teen-age girls not to try to pierce their own ears ever since a rumor began that President Johnson's daughter Luci had her own done at the White House.

The Insider's Newsletter reports that girls from coast to coast have been frantically anaesthetizing their ear lobes with ice cubes and having a girl friend pierce them with sterilized darning needles.

One of the problems of the operation is seeing that both holes match.

Many physicians are said to be complaining about being called upon to square up ragged jobs done by do-it-yourselfers.

More important, doctors caution that the dangers of infection are greatly increased by amateurs who may not know how to sterilize properly.

Plastic Bags Become a Bunny, Nest

This year add Easter decorations to the myriad uses for clear plastic food wrap and bags. Here is an easy-to-make Easter Bunny centerpiece and chick-nest party favors:

EASTER BUNNY CENTERPIECE

Use one storage-size bag for the head.

Form ears by first placing a small amount of Easter basket grass in seamed corners of bag and pinching into a "V" shape; fasten with a twist tie or cellophane tape. Fill the rest of the bag with grass and fasten.

Button eyes and nose can be attached with hair pins. Insert four plastic straws as whiskers.

For the body, stuff another bag with basket grass and fasten. Join head with base by inserting another straw for support and tie a bright ribbon bow at the neck. Small artificial flowers add a colorful note.

To complete centerpiece, form a circle by gathering a strip of plastic wrap to give a basket effect. Place bunny in center and surround with dyed eggs.

The Savage Cell—VII

Cancer's Grim Style Traced Around World

(EDITOR'S NOTE—A veteran science editor traces the grim pattern of cancer around the world in this sixth article from his important new book.)

By PAT MCGRADY

Cancer probably affects every animal species that walks, crawls, flies, swims, or burrows under the earth. But its most tragic victim is man.

Insurance company figures indicate that in hours lost from work and other financial effects, cancer costs Americans each year more than $12 billion.

This is, of course, the least of its costs. The truly extortionate price is in human beings — in mothers, fathers, wives, husbands, sons and daughters.

The American Cancer Society offers these figures for last year: Stricken by cancer—540,000 people in the United States. Within five years some 360,000 of these will be dead, almost all of them from cancer.

In 1964, some 290,000 Americans died of cancer — 155,000 men, 130,000 women and almost 5,000 children.

TREND REVERSES

Until 1949, more women than men died of cancer. At that point, two potent factors reversed the trend: 1. The rocketing rise in lung cancer among men, doubling every decade, and 2. The decreasing death rate in women.

About 2.6 million people die of cancer each year throughout the world. At any given time, more than six million have cancer.

Cancer is a "disease of civilization." As a curious sidelight, until 1935 there was very little cancer among animals in the Philadelphia Zoo.

Then, the zoo improved the diet. All walking, crawling and flying creatures which earlier had been dying of malnutrition and related diseases began to live much longer — an the cancer rate in all species promptly soared to normal.

PREVALENT

Cancer is most prevalent in areas of good eating, good housing and good medical care. In regions where people die early of malnutrition, infections, warfare, cannibalism, addictions, poor medical attention or filth, the cancer death rate is very low.

The U. S. cancer death rate is only slightly above the average for all modern nations. The World Health Organization calculated these age-standardized statistics showing the cancer fatalities per 100,000 population:

Austria 177, Scotland 176, Finland 171, Switzerland 164, England and Wales 161, West Germany 158, Netherlands 156, Chile 153, United States 141, Northern Ireland 140, France and Canada 139, Israel (Jewish population only) 138, Norway 134, Australia and New Zealand 130, Sweden 127, Italy 121, Japan and Puerto Rico 119, Trinidad and Tobago 103, Guatemala 95, Portugal 85 and Ceylon 28.

Only in the body site it attacks does cancer discriminate between races, nationalities, religions and socioeconomic groups.

One of the more reasonable explanations is for skin cancer. The fairer the skin the more susceptible it is to cancer induced by weather and the rays of the sun.

CANCER RARITY

One of the more marked phenomena is the rarity of cancer of the uterus servix among Jewish women throughout the world. One study indicates these tumors are nine times as common among non-Jews as among Jews. The reason most often given — and sometimes disputed — is circumcision among Jewish males.

In southern and western parts of Africa, liver cancer comes early in life and is very common. Ninety per cent of all cancer in some Bantu tribes is of the liver. (Due to inadequate diet?)

Something in poverty (would it be early marriage?) brings cervical cancer to the poor, according to a dozen surveys from Bombay, India, to New York City.

And something in riches (could it be late maturity and marriage?) makes breast cancer prevalent among the well-to-do.

PATTERNS VARY

Hawaii, a mosaic of ethnic groups, offers a mosaic of cancer patterns. Hawaii's Japanese have a high stomach cancer rate (possibly due to their low socioeconomic status and typical Japanese diet).

These are other variables among Hawaii's polyglot people: Liver cancer — high among Filipinos (who subsist on a diet high in carbohydrates, low in Vitamin B1); lung cancer — low among Japanese and Filipino men who are relatively light smokers.

Breast cancer — five times as low among Japanese women as among other Hawaiian females (Japanese women nurse their infants and have an early menopause); cancer of the large intestine — most frequent among Caucasian women (due possibly to their diet and bowel habits).

Prostate cancer — nine times as frequent among Caucasians as Japanese men (attributed by one source to more regularity in sexual intercourse and early mating by the Japanese); nose and throat cancers — high among Chinese who drink often and copiously of hot teas; uterine cervix cancer — most common among Hawaiian and part Hawaiian women who have poor medical care during and after pregnancy.

PREDICTIONS

Such unusual predictions of some cancers raise many questions. For instance: Is stomach cancer a dietary affair? This disease is 50 per cent more frequent in Newfoundland, where salt food is a favorite dish, than in neighboring Canada in general.

One study in Buffalo, N.Y., showed this: The poorer the man, the more susceptible he is to diseases of the stomach, liver, esophagus, lung and larynx.

The poorer the woman, the more prone she was to cancers of the stomach, liver and cervix. Indeed poverty seemed to have only one virtue — it protected to some degree against cancer of the female breast.

Cancer death rates, generally, are on the rise. In one area of the world, however, one kind of cancer will relent while the same cancer pursues its upward trend-everywhere else.

DECREASE

During the past 30 years, American and British deaths from cancer of the uterus, liver and stomach have dropped 50 per cent.

In the same 30 years, mortality from cancer of the breast has remained remarkably steady, while leukemia and cancer of the pancreas have risen in males and females almost everywhere. Intestinal cancer deaths have risen rapidly in American Negroes, slowly in American whites.

Nobody knows why. These articles do not express the official policies, suggestions or recommendations of the American Cancer Society.

Crash Kills Brighton Girl
BEDFORD, Ind. (AP) — Two sailors were killed and 30 persons were hurt Saturday when a car slammed into a Greyhound bus on U.S. 50 west of here. Killed were James Franklin Snider, 20, of Brighton, Mich., and William Bachman, 18, of Wadsworth, Ohio.

When Bill Hartack rode Royal Orbit to victory in the 1969 Preakness it was the jockey's first appearance in the Pimlico.

"All I said was:
Show me a filter that delivers the taste and I'll eat my hat."

Chutists Leap Into Marriage

PISA, Italy (AP) — Tino Feola, 24, and his bride Clara 23, literally plunged into matrimony.

They are members of a parachutists' club. After their wedding Sunday, they bailed out of a C19 Flying Boxcar over a big meadow outside Pisa to start their honeymoon.

Wishing them well were 243 fellow chutists, enthusiasts from Milan, Bergamo and Brescia. A few went up with them and took the leap.

Believing that a wife should always follow her husband, Tino went down first. Clara came right after him. Then they drove off — in a car — for the rest of the honeymoon.

New CIA Chief to Take Over

Former Navy Officer Picked Agency Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. headed back for Washington today, this time to become the new chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Raborn, 59, was tabbed for the spot Sunday by President Johnson. He succeeds John A. McCone, the West Coast industrialist who became head of the supersecret agency in 1961.

There have been reports since last December that McCone wanted to return to private life.

The selection of his successor was announced shortly after the President signed the $1.3-billion school aid bill while weekend at his Johnson City, Tex., ranch.

RABORN AT RANCH

Raborn, like the President a native of Texas, was on hand.

Asked when the job switch would take place, the President replied that Raborn would return with him to Washington today.

Raborn will leave the vice presidency of Aerojet General Corp. of Pasadena, Calif., to take over his new post. He retired from the Navy in September 1963, after serving as chief of naval operations for research, a job in which he also was based in Washington.

Johnson chose Richard G. Helms, 52, a onetime newspaperman, as Raborn's deputy director. Helms has been deputy director for plans since the CIA was created in 1947. He succeeds L. Gen. Marshall S. Carter.

Helms, a native of Saint Davids, Pa., is a 1935 graduate of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

McCone, 62, has served under the last four presidents. He was deputy to the undersecretary of defense in 1948, undersecretary of the Air Force in 1950-51. He became chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1958, leaving that spot for the CIA assignment.

Cherry Blossoms 'Monsters' This Year

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON — By and large, there are two ways to have a cherry blossom festival—with or without cherry blossoms.

This year's National Cherry Blossom Festival, which ended last weekend, was pretty much of the blossomless variety. They didn't plan it that way, but that's the way it worked out.

The famous Japanese cherry trees that ring the Tidal Basin in front of the Jefferson Memorial didn't get around to blooming profusely in time for the festivities.

So, we had to make do with monsters.

In lieu of cherry blossoms, the festival's star attraction was "The Addams Family," an assortment of warm-hearted, fun-loving ogres who have been a big hit on television this season.

Offhand, inviting a family of ogres to a cherry blossom festival might appear a bit incongruous, but it was a good idea. Monsters are considerably more reliable than cherry blossoms.

At a press luncheon, the Addamses were asked if they had exercised evil powers to keep the trees from blooming.

LEAVE TREES

"We would never harm a normal tree," replied John Astin, who plays the part of " Gomez" on the show. "We would take a weird tree and make it grow."

But Jackie Coogan, who plays the role of "Uncle Fester," took a more sinister approach.

"We would throw away the blossoms and eat the trees," Coogan said. Someone expressed disapproval.

pointment that the family didn't bring along "Cleopatra," their carnivorous plant.

"Cleo didn't feel well enough to make the trip," Coogan explained. "She ate someone that didn't agree with her."

Polio Vaccine Debut Recalled

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ann Arbor was the medical news center of the nation 10 years ago today.

A major breakthrough in medical science came with the announcement from the University of Michigan School of Public Health that the Salk polio vaccine worked.

It was the beginning of the end of paralytic polio.

Within days of the announcement, Michigan's first and second graders—those in the greatest danger of contracting the crippling disease—were lining up for shots of the new vaccine.

More than 430,000 children were immunized with vaccine flown to Lansing, Grand Rapids, Houghton and Powers for distribution.

DROP IN CASES

The number of reported cases of polio dropped from 1,060 in 1954 to less than 400 in 1955.

Late that year, the State Legislature voted funds to provide Salk vaccine to protect all Michigan children.

Since then, the polio cases have declined yearly except for an outbreak in the Detroit area in 1958, when the state had a total of 557 cases.

In the three years prior to 1955, Michigan had 4,141 cases of paralytic polio and 410 deaths. In the past 10 years there have been 1,682 cases and 131 deaths. There have been only 170 cases and seven deaths in the last five years.

Last year, there were three proven cases and no deaths.

Astin, incidentally, is the son of Allen V. Astin, director of the National Bureau of Standards. Since it didn't seem likely that the elder Astin would have raised his boy to be a monster, I asked John how he strayed from the academic fold.

"I tried that for awhile," he said, "and wound up as the best educated soda jerk in New York."

In view of the fickleness of cherry trees, I think sponsors of the event might be wise to invite the Addams family back again next year.

Then, if the cherry trees finked out again, they could call it the National Monster Festival.

Twisters Deal
Deathly Blow to the Midwest

WISCONSIN — A tornado hit Monroe yesterday afternoon and overturned this trailer and many others in a trailer park, on the west side of the Green County community. Scores of persons were injured in Monroe, but no deaths were reported. In the southern part of Wisconsin, tornadoes claimed at least three lives and inflicted heavy property damage.

INDIANA — This is all that is left of a church in Lapaz after a tornado ripped through the town 15 miles south of South Bend yesterday. A youth peers at a piano that sits among the debris in the church basement. At least 102 persons were reported killed in Indiana. Unofficial estimates say the toll may climb to as many as 150 dead in the state.

MICHIGAN — A farmhouse near Coldwater was torn in half from top to bottom by a twister last night. Tornadoes slammed into many areas in the southern part of the state, causing extensive property damage and killing at least 34 persons. Hundreds of residents were injured. Authorities feared many more reported missing were buried under rubble. Civil defense workers, sheriff's deputies, state and local police and others joined forces in the rescue work.

ILLINOIS — Broken trees, shattered homes and debris littering the ground mark the path of a tornado that hit on the southeast side of Crystal Lake late yesterday. Twisters and high winds killed at least seven persons in northern Illinois and caused an estimated $6 million damage. Cities along the western edge of the state are bracing for expected floods as the Mississippi River continues to rise.

Marine Artillery, Tanks Beef Up Muscle at S. Viet Air Base

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine artillery and tanks were landed at Da Nang today as part of a buildup. One Marine source said the move would give the U.S. one of the most powerful groupings of artillery under one command since World War II, to protect the Da Nang air base.

One platoon of 8-inch howitzers and a battery of 105mm artillery were put ashore in connection with the landing of the third American Marine Battalion to land in South Viet Nam since March 8.

A fourth battalion is due shortly.

ATOMIC PROJECTILES

The howitzers can fire atomic projectiles, but an authoritative Marine source said, no such atomic weapons are in the country. He said the Marines do not have any nuclear artillery.

The source said the artillery could rain eight tons of high explosive shells on a given area within one minute. Some reports have said the Viet Cong is missing for an attack on Da Nang.

Besides the artillery, there are more than 10 tanks mounting 90mm cannon and 20 antitank vehicles mounting six recoilless rifles.

The remainder of an 18-plane Marine squadron of Phantom jet interceptors landed at Da Nang. Their commander said they were ready for missions. The Phantoms were brought to Da Nang after MIG fighters began intercepting American planes on missions to North Viet Nam.

U.S. officials denied a Communist claim that American planes attacked North Viet Nam Sunday, but they admitted the loss of a plane which took part in a raid Friday.

A U.S. spokesman said the missing plane was a Navy Phantom which with three others battled Communist MIGs near Hainan Island. He said the plane had radioed that it was low on fuel and was returning to the carrier Ranger. Search for the two crewmen had been abandoned.

One MIG was believed shot down during the dogfight. It was believed the missing American jet shot down the MIG, then was hit itself.

Radio Hanoi claimed a U.S. plane was shot down Sunday while attacking Con Co Island in North Viet Nam.

RICE HIDDEN

South Vietnamese troops on a weekend search operation north of Saigon found 10,000 tons of rice hidden by the Viet Cong. American jets flew sorties against Viet Cong targets today in the southern Ca Mau peninsula in South Viet Nam, destroying 79 structures, a spokesman said.

Military activity was reported comparatively quiet in other parts of the country.

In Saigon, South Viet Nam's armed forces command was still boiling with crisis four days after a naval mutiny.

POWER PLAY

A number of officers had disappeared and there were rumors of some arrests. The multistaged power play seemed to be gaining the kind of momentum that in the past has led to coups.

No announcements of any of the developments have been made by the government. Local papers attempting to run stories on the subject were censored.

Both the Vietnamese Navy and the Saigon special military district were without commanders.

U.S. officials were furious at the developments.

Legion Confab Is Set

LANSING (AP) — An attendance of more than 5,000 delegates is expected for the 46th annual convention of the American Legion in Michigan here July 15-18.

Washington News Briefs

IRS: Tough to Get Payment Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says it is going to be tough in determining whether income tax payments can be deferred.

Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen said Sunday those who do prove extreme hardship in meeting the April 15 deadline probably would be expected to make full payment within a month or two.

Appearing on Radio Press International's "From the People" program, Cohen also downgraded reports that many people were being hard hit this year because of underwithholding.

In most cases, he said, the underwithholding has meant tax due bills of only a few dollars. He said the average married man with two children and a $100-a-year income is facing an added bit of $80.

"It's not hundreds of dollars as we've been hearing in the press, over the radio and from irate taxpayers," he asserted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell says the administration's war on poverty has sputtered dismally during its first six months.

The New York Democrat issued his statement Sunday. His Labor and Education Committee opens hearings today on administration requests to enlarge the program next year.

Powell said the program thus far has been marked by wildly unrealistic salaries for its leaders, by excessive planning and little action and "giant fiestas of political patronage."

Nonetheless, Powell supports the program. President Johnson has asked a $1.5-billion authorization for the coming fiscal year, and Powell has talked of doubling that.

He said the problems of the program are common to any new project, and "no idea can fulfill its intended mission without exposure to searching and honest criticism."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department says it isn't relaxing its surveillance on Cuba, despite increasing attention on Viet Nam.

A spokesman said Sunday that the Cuban situation is still much the same as last fall when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara replied to a question that he had no information that there was another buildup of Soviet missiles and other weapons in the island nation.

McNamara also said he was certain such a buildup hadn't occurred.

Detroit Pilot Escapes Injury in Plane Crash

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—A Detroit man out for a flight to log hours for a flying instructor's license escaped injury Sunday when he crash-landed in a farm field.

The pilot, Ernest Booth Jr., 23, said the plane's single engine failed as he was nearing the Warsaw airport. The plane nosed into a field near a row of houses and a National Guard armory.

Life insurance for each family averaged $12,200 at the end of 1963.

Faces Trial in Brother's Death

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Wealthy Timothy Nicholson goes on trial today for the fatal shooting of his twin brother, Todd, in the $400,000 apartment building they owned.

Nicholson, 22, pleaded innocent last Jan. 29 after Superior Judge H. Burton Noble denied a defense motion for acquittal on grounds the Dec. 7 shooting was accidental.

Judge Noble said malice was indicated by testimony at Nicholson's preliminary hearing.

He permitted Nicholson to remain free on $27,500 bail, but this was revoked last March 31, when the district attorney's office claimed it had enough evidence to warrant an attempt at a first-degree murder conviction.

Authorities also claimed at that time Nicholson had tried to intimidate a witness.

Warren G. Harding was beaten in his 1910 bid to become governor of Ohio. He later won election to the U.S. Senate and became the 29th President in 1921.

Foreign News Commentary

Indonesia-U.S. Talks of Little Effect?

The personal diplomacy of U.S. presidential envoy Ellsworth Bunker may have helped smooth President Sukarno's ruffled features, but few observers in Jakarta believe it can have any major effect on basic policy trends in Indonesia.

Government controls slapped on American firms follow a pattern established earlier. Dutch capital was seized in the late 1950's, and British interests followed last year.

The increasingly powerful Indonesian Communist party can be depended upon to try to embarrass Americans and the U.S. government at every opportunity.

BERLIN AGAIN: Now that the Bundestag, lower house of the West German parliament, has held its meeting in Berlin, the Bundesrat, the upper house, also wants to meet there before the summer recess.

The Bundestag meeting sparked Communist harassment of Western land and air access routes to the isolated city, and whether the Bundesrat also is permitted to meet there will furnish a clue as to just how seriously the western allies regard Communist needling tactics.

At any rate, Berlin will continue to be in the news. Britain's Queen Elizabeth is scheduled to visit there in May. The West Germans also would like a Berlin visit from President Johnson.

ALL FOR ONE: Top-ranking French officials are citing French support for the allied position in Berlin as an indication of the way France would react if another major Berlin crisis exploded.

These officials say President de Gaulle would at once forget his past disagreements with the United States and Britain and present a solid front with them against the Russians.

PEACE STRATEGY: British Prime Minister Harold Wilson will discuss with President Johnson in Washington this week Britain's peace strategy on Viet Nam.

Wilson is sending his former foreign secretary, Patrick Gordon Walker, on a fact-finding mission to the Far East next week which is to include — if he is granted entry visas — Red China and North Viet Nam.

After the talk with Johnson, Wilson will cable Gordon Walker fresh instructions on the scope of his mission, which might be expanded.

The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., addressed a Harlem, N.Y., congregation yesterday after becoming godfather of a member's child.

Dr. Blake became the spiritual sponsor of Roland K. Fortune Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland K. Fortune, of the Church of the Master.

In his sermon, Dr. Blake praised President Johnson's concept of the Great Society as "a vision of what is possible as never before."

Khrushchev Called Forgotten Man in Moscow

Russians just don't talk about Nikita Khrushchev any more, says former U. S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon told reporters at London Airport yesterday that he tried to look up the former Russian premier during a visit to Moscow Saturday.

"I didn't try to see him at embassy level," he said. "About the only person to mention him was a cabdriver. All references to him have been removed and people refuse to talk about Mr. K."

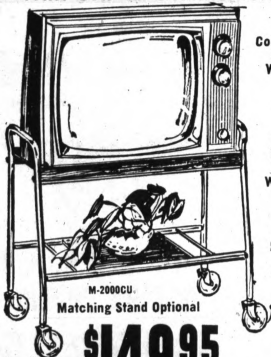

Aviatrix Ends Long Solo Flight to Europe

State Guard Hearing Near End

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney hoped to conclude his 47-hour-old National Guard hearing today by hearing the testimony of Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert—the second of two generals accused of gross neglect of duty.

Neifert's attorney Russell Noble, said attorneys on both sides already have agreed that "a substantial portion" of points in the charges involved in the hearing do not apply to Neifert.

State attorneys, said those points are listed in a stipulation signed by both sides, and ready for presentation to Romney.

The hearing goes into its 19th day today, but the governor said he did not intend to set any limitations on time needed to present the case fully. He scheduled 6½ hours for today's session.

DEFENSE ACTIONS

Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald completed 10½ hours on the witness stand last Friday. He defended actions which led to his dismissal, and contended the State Military Board knew fully what was going on when it approved the actions.

McDonald's attorneys asked for recall of two witnesses—Capt. Robert Fraser and Maj. Harold Clingsmith.

He said he had heard reports that the hearings' file on one land deal amounted to only about one-quarter of the actual file and suggested Fraser and Clingsmith could testify on this point.

Student May Not Be Trying to Understand

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Talk about baseball and Johnny hears every word you say. Not only that, he understands the most complicated rules of football. But when the teacher quizzes the class at the end of a session on general science, he discovers that Johnny didn't understand the ideas discussed.

On the surface there seems to be no explanation. Johnny's IQ is above average. His hearing tests okay. He appears to pay attention in class.

Johnny gives lip service to the idea of wanting to do better. Certainly his teacher and his parents have given him plenty of urging. But the problem boils down to the fact that Johnny is not trying to understand as he listens.

Early in his school career he might have been able to get by without making an effort to understand. Now, superficial listening has become a fixed habit.

Another possibility is that Johnny has made no attempt to master the vocabulary of the course; consequently, he does not understand the words used by the teacher. Regardless of how it developed, Johnny does not recognize the basis for his failure.

It is no help to Johnny to merely point out the source of his difficulty and to suggest that he try for understanding as he listens in class. He needs specific suggestions.

Here are some steps which have been used successfully by many such students.

Step One. Have the student study ahead. He should carefully study any new words, repeating them aloud as he thinks of their meanings. This preparation for listening often solves the problem.

Step Two. If suggestion one fails to bring about real improvement, the student should study ahead in greater depth. He should try to follow the developments of his mathematics text before they come up in class.

Or try to understand his upcoming lessons paragraph by paragraph. He must listen carefully for complete understanding during class periods.

Step Three. If a student has given steps one and two a sincere trial and still is unsuccessful in understanding the teacher, he needs outside help.

Someone perhaps another student or a tutor, must work with him for a few days, making sure that he not only grasps the previous day's work but that he has a fairly clear understanding of the material to be covered in the following day or two. This needs to be continued until Johnny DOES understand in class.

As he builds up background in the subject, he is forming what to him is a new habit—learning in class. As Johnny gains mastery of the course, preparation for listening will become easier.

NOT SIMPLE MATTER

Helping a student who "doesn't understand" is seldom a simple matter. There are so many things that could be contributing to this difficulty.

However, unless teachers and counselors recognize the problem and bend their efforts toward its solution, the fact that Johnny doesn't understand will continue to baffle them.

A rather plaintive letter reads: "Will you please write a column on when to double an opening bidder."

I play with a group which insists that one must double any time he holds as good an opening bid so that his partner will know

JACOBY about.

His strength. Please advise."

This will require several columns since it runs into the whole question of what to do when your opponents open the bidding. I will devote today's column to a horrible example.

North has 13 high card points and a good hand. It is surely worth an opening bid, and it is surely worth a take-out double of an opposing heart bid. Unfortunately for this particular North he chose to make a takeout double of an opposing spade bid.

This led his partner into a doubled two heart contract and the result was a North-South tragedy. West opened the six of clubs and East signaled come-on with the seven. This held declarer to one club trick. He also managed to lose two diamonds and three trumps and was minus 1,100 when the hand was over.

Strangely enough, North blamed his partner. He said that if South had only passed West would have been set at one spade. North's analysis was on a par with his bidding. Assuming that West played reasonably correct he would have made at least one spade and probably two.

Had North simply passed one spade, chances are that East and West would have gotten too high in no-trump and North and South would have shown a profit.

♥CARDSENSE♦♦♦

Q—The bidding has been:

North East South West

1♥ 1♠ 2♥ Pass

2♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:

♠ 4 3 2 ♥ K 8 7 ♦ K 6 5 4 ♣ K 3 2

What do you do?

A—Bid four hearts. Your hand has improved because it appears that all your three kings will be valuable.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid four hearts and your partner bids five clubs. What do you do now?

Ex-PCH Student Wins Women's Diving Crown

Victory Scored by Micki King in AAU Meet

Championship First on National Scene for 21-Year-Old

Special to the Press
COMMERCIAL, Calif. — Former Pontiac Central student Micki King reached a milestone in her swimming career over the weekend by grabbing the platform diving title in the National AAU Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

The victory was the first for 21-year-old Micki in national competition.

Micki piled up 304.55 points in claiming the crown. Shirley Teeple of Commerce was second with 300.55.

Third in the diving competition was Joel O'Connell of Santa Clara, Calif., who defeated Micki in the one-meter diving preliminaries Thursday.

Micki is a student at the University of Michigan. Her swimming coach, Michigan mentor Dick Kimball, was at the meet.

Miss King was fifth in the U.S. Olympic trials last year and took part in the 1960 diving trials as a 16-year-old.

Micki's trip here was financed from funds raised in a drive in Pontiac, a drive headed by her former coach at Pontiac Central, Ed Dauw, who now is swimming coach at Pontiac Northern.

News of Miss King's accomplishment cheered Dauw.

LOOKS AHEAD

"Her spirits were high when she left. She thought she could win the three-meter title, too. If she can keep her enthusiasm, she should be a gold medal winner in the 1968 Olympics."

Records aptly were shattered in the four events that climaxed the championships.

Teen-age misses swam to record American times Sunday in the 200-yard butterfly, the 200-yard freestyle, the 100-yard backstroke and the 400-yard relay. The host swim club took the last event and the meet away from last year's victor, Santa Clara, Calif. Swim Club.

The U.S. records piled up like this:

— In the 200-yard butterfly, Sue Pitt, 16, of the Scarlet Jets Swim Club, East Brunswick, N.J., finished in 2:06.8—9th of a second under the old U.S. mark set last year by Donna De Varona of Santa Clara.

— In the 200-yard freestyle, Penny Estes, 15, of the Alapaha YWCA of Miami, Fla., touched in 1:58.2—a full second under the previous record set by Terri Stickle, Santa Clara, in 1962.

— In the 100-yard backstroke Cathy Ferguson of the Los Angeles Athletic Club topped her record of last year by 6-10th of a second in a 1:09.3 finish.

— In the 400-yard medley relay, four Commerce misses—Mary Campbell, Sandy Nitta, Sharon Stouder and Jeanne Hallock—combined for a 4:06.8 mark, besting Santa Clara's 1964 time of 4:07.3.

3rd in Jr. Olympics

Pontiac Tankers Shine

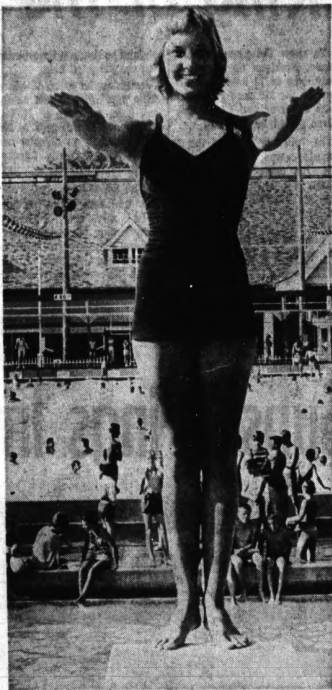

Pontiac Swim Club's out-manned but talented swimmers splashed in fine form over the weekend during the Junior Olympic Meets at Birmingham Seashore High School.

Several Junior National men's events were also held.

The Pontiac boys' team finished third behind the numerically superior Patton and Maple Swim clubs.

Leading the way was the record 1:40.6 victory in the 200-yard freestyle relay by Dave Pennybacker, Jeff Blasz, John Mason and Steve Yedin, all 13-14 years old.

Yedin took first place in the 100-yard freestyle and 200-yard

Panch, Foyt Team to Win '500' Race

ATLANTA (AP) — Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla., had to come from behind three times and then find a substitute driver, but in the end his plum-colored 1965 Ford was declared the winner in the Atlanta 500 stock car race.

Two-time Indianapolis 500 winner A. J. Foyt of Houston took over for Panch at the 212-lap mark and led the remaining

Harvard Crew 1st in Kennedy Race

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Trophies from the first John Kennedy Memorial Regatta will be displayed by his alma mater, Harvard University.

A Harvard crew skipped by Ned Butler staged a strong finish Sunday to win the two-day event sailed in 44-foot Ladders yaws on Chesapeake Bay by crews from 10 colleges. It was the first national intercollegiate race in big boats.

Harvard out-sailed Wayne State of Detroit on the last leg of the final race for a first place to go with its third-place and fourth-place finishes on Saturday.

The two schools tied with 28 points in the over-all standings, but the victory went to Harvard because of its higher finishes in two of the races. Wayne had two seconds and a fourth.

The 14-year-old bettered his 53.6 winning time in 100 with a 52.7 clocking in the men's Junior National's event, but finished fifth.

Mason had firsts in the 50-yard freestyle (1:34.5), the 100-yard butterfly (1:07.7) and 100-yard backstroke (1:02.8).

The 11-12 year olds from Pontiac had a second in the 200 freestyle relay. Bruce Featherstone, Rick Rykowski, Andy Eiler and Chris Schriedel swam 2:02.9. Featherstone also had third place finished in the 200 freestyle and 50 butterfly.

Kearney, Haviland Win at Mansfield

Bloomfield Hills still has the top miler in the state and Waterford Kettering may have the best pole vaulter.

This became clear Saturday at the Mansfield (Ohio) Relays. Tom Kearney of Bloomfield Hills served notice on the remainder of Michigan's Class A milers at last week's Spartan Relays that he was taking over where state champion Bob Richards of the Barons left off when he graduated last spring.

Kearney convinced any disbelievers by winning the mile in 4:19.6 at Mansfield. In accomplishing the feat, he broke the record of 4:20.2 set by Richards last year.

Kettering's Jim Haviland started slowly in the pole vault this year because poor weather kept him cooped inside. But on the outside facilities at Mansfield he cleared 13-7 to take first place.

Two other vaulters made the same height but Haviland was declared the winner because of fewer misses.

Birmingham Groves' shuttle hurdle relay team of Frank McCracken, Floyd Cosmi, Dave Frink and Jeff Schubel also won.

Pontiac Central was in the 100-school field for the first time in a couple of years. The Chiefs, former Mansfield champions, withdrew from competing because of a Saginaw Valley Conference rule. The rule was rescinded this year.

Bill Tipton picked up the Chiefs only points by placing fifth in the high hurdles in 15.2. Dan Lavalais cleared 6-4, but had to settle for sixth place. Two others who made the same height had fewer misses and tied for fifth.

"It was the first time we've had an opportunity to run outside," said PCH coach Dean Wilson, "and I thought the boys did well considering this fact."

He said the Ohio teams "were ahead of us" because of warmer weather.

"I thought the Michigan entries did very good considering the poor weather here has kept them from getting outside."

Kearney was pushed hard in the mile, but ran a good strong race, according to observers.

City Table Tennis Champ Keeps Title

Ron Beckman's table tennis championship form is getting to be a habit, and what's more, it is spreading.

Not only did the University of Michigan student repeat as the Pontiac men's champion Sunday, but he also teamed with John Wettlaufer for the men's doubles title.

Beckman's brother, furthermore, was the city singles crown. Gary, 16, defeated Manfred Herscher in the novice finals. Ron topped Royal Oak's Bob Quinn for the men's title.

Steady Kathy Harty mowed down her opposition for women's singles laurels, beating Sharon Choler in the four-game finals at Pontiac Central High School.

The mixed doubles championship went to Pontiac Table Tennis Association president Terry Fraser and Marilyn Feldman, who swept through their competition without losing a game.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Wichita, Kan., bowlers from the Wichita Proprietor line-up led in doubles, singles and the team event of Division 1 as the Women's International Bowling Congress entered its fifth day today.

The team gained a lead Saturday night with a 2741, and saw it go unchallenged Sunday night. Earlier in the day Carol Brosius and Nadine Oppinger combined for 1136 to lead the doubles.

Mrs. Oppinger, a bowling instructor, then added 599 for the top in singles.

A MATTER OF LINKAGE

1. STARTED IN GOLF WITH THE GAME GRIP. I USE TODAY... THE INTERLOCKING GRIP. BUT OF THE THREE TYPES IN GENERAL USE, I DEEM IT BEST FOR THE BEGINNER, AND NO NOVICE GOLFER WOULD WANT IT IS LITTLE TAUGHT TODAY...

2. I PREFER IT BECAUSE IT IS THE EASIEST TO LEARN AND 3. BECAUSE IT LINKS THE HANDS TOGETHER AND NATURALLY JUST TRY TO PULL THE HANDS APART.

THE OVERLAPPING (MOST COMMON) REQUIRES AN ARTIFICIAL MEANS OF KNUITING THE HANDS TOGETHER SINCE YOU MUST SHAPE RIGHT FINGER OVER THE KNUCKLES OF THE FOREFINGER...

THE INTERLOCKING

BASICALLY, HOWEVER, ALL 3 GRIPS ARE EQUAL. THE ONLY DIFFERENCE IS IN LINKAGE.

Team Nearing Lead in ABC Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Don Wray of Detroit fired a 278 game Sunday to help the Mike Schmid team of St. Paul roll a 2,951 series, the best opening block by a classic team in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Wray opened his third game with eight straight strikes before he was stopped by a reluctant two-pin. He rolled two more strikes and then left nine pins on his final ball. Wray compiled a 628.

Pete Schaefer led the Schmid team with 629.

The Schmid team had 3,063 in their second block Monday night to overtake the California All-Stars of Los Angeles, who have dominated the professional division since April 6 with 6,013.

SLOW START

Lakepointe Chrysler of Detroit, current national match game team champions, got off to a slow start in the classic division when they shot 2,880 in their first block.

Brodey's Lanes of Indianapolis took fourth place in the regular team division Sunday with 2,964. Jack Staimbrook led the Hoosiers with 636.

Bump Finds Some Holes as Wolverines Scrimmage

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan football coach Bump Elliott will have to fill gaping holes at defensive end and quarterback before the defending Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions open their 1965 campaign in September.

But it was obvious in Saturday's spring practice-ending scrimmage that the Wolverines would again be deep in running power.

The Blues crushed the out-manned Whites, 50-8, in the annual squad game which attracted more than 3,000 fans to Michigan Stadium.

It marked only the eighth day — of the 20 allowed for spring drills — of outdoor workouts for the team.

"There's no doubt that we are behind last year," Elliott said. "We need work on execution, finesse and detail. But I did like the hitting and enthusiasm out there today."

NO LETDOWN

Elliott said at a pre-game luncheon that he expects no letdown because this year's team will not be able to repeat as the Rose Bowl entrant.

"There has been the slightest indication of a letdown because of the lack of an opportunity to go to the Rose Bowl," Elliott said. "If anything, I noticed more enthusiasm and desire."

"We lost some leadership that will be hard to replace. But some of the players are coming along and are giving us some idea of their leadership qualities."

Speedster Carl Ward, Dick Wells, Rick Sygar and Rick Volk were among the backs who did not participate in spring drills because they are taking part in other sports.

LEAKY DEFENSE

The Blues ripped through the leaky White defense for 308 yards on the ground. Quarterback Walby Gabler, who along with Dick Vidmer is hoping to gain the No. 1 quarterback job vacated by the graduation of Bob Timberlake, paced the attack with 64 yards.

Dave Fisher and Jim Detwiler added 48 and 47 yards, respectively.

Fisher, Barry Dehlin and soph quarterback Terry Salmi each tallied twice for the winners. Widmer got the other Blues touchdowns, while Dennis Morgan, a sophomore fullback candidate, scored the only TD for the Whites.

Hard-to-Find Boxer Grabs Ortiz' Crown

PANAMA CITY (AP)—"He doesn't stick around to get hit," Ortiz said after the fight. And that's the reason 21-year-old Ismael Laguna now is lightweight champion of the world, according to the beaten favorite, Carlos Ortiz.

The elusive young Panamanian won the title with a split 15-round decision over Ortiz Saturday night before an ecstatic crowd of 18,000 at Olympic Stadium.

"Laguna is not a strong puncher, but I couldn't get to him," Ortiz said after the fight. The 28-year-old Puerto Rican won the crown from Joe Brown three years ago, defended it successfully four times, and was narrowly favored to win again.

Actually, Laguna — a pro for four years and making his first start as a lightweight — had a puncher's record, scoring knockouts in 25 of his 38 victories going into Saturday night's bout.

RAGING ATTACK

But against Ortiz, the young fighter used speed of hand and foot, raking hooks and rapier jabs. Ortiz repeatedly tried to storm in, but just as repeatedly the swift Laguna danced out of reach.

Jersey Joe Walcott, former world heavyweight champion, refereed and voted for Laguna 143-132. Judge Ramon Mouynes of Panama also had the Laguna ahead, 149-137, but the other judge, Ben Greene of New York, called it a 145-145 draw.

3 Pontiac Cyclists Score in Scrambles

Three Pontiac cyclists placed in Motorcycle scrambles races yesterday on the Brighton course.

Art (Butch) Bentley grabbed a third place in the expert heavyweight class and Warren Watson also placed third in the Class B heavyweight division. Dennis Atherton came in second in the expert lightweight class.

Mickey Wright Calls It Quits on Pro Tour

DALLAS (AP)—Mickey Wright, one of the greatest woman golfers, has made her decision — this will be her last full year on the tour.

After 1965 she will be playing only a few tournaments a year.

Miss Wright said, after winning the Baton Rouge Open a week ago, that she would decide whether to retire in the ensuing two weeks while the woman's tour was idle.

But she needed only half the time to make up her mind. She won't be back in 1966, she said from her home here Sunday night.

In the fall she will enroll at Southern Methodist University, majoring in business administration. Among her ambitions, upon giving up golf, is the stock market.

"I'll enter Southern Methodist if I can pass the entrance exams," she said cautiously.

Reds Top Exhibition Team

By The Associated Press
Baseball's exhibition season has ended with the Cincinnati Reds on top in the Grapefruit Cactus standings and Sandy Koufax' priceless pitching arm on ice.

Despite an 8-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox Sunday, the Reds paced major league clubs with a 19-9 record in pre-season play, which wound up Sunday night with Baltimore's 5-0 victory over Houston at the Astros' $31.6 million domed stadium.

Regular season races in the American and National leagues began today with openers in nine cities.

Koufax, the ailing Los Angeles Dodgers ace, tested his arthritic elbow for the first time in two weeks, working three scoreless innings in a 2-1 victory over Washington, and then had the elbow encased in ice.

FIVE STRAIGHT

Sandy, who struck out the last five Senators he faced, said his arm felt great but added that he didn't know what the reaction would be. "It usually takes 24 hours before any reaction sets in," the 29-year-old southpaw said.

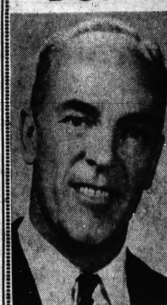

Houston's Nelson Fox set a Texas indoor record for breaking up extra inning games when he singled home a 10th inning run that gave the Astros a 3-2 afternoon nod over the New York Yankees. Fox beat the Yankees Friday night with a 12th inning single.

The Milwaukee Braves completed a three-game sweep at Atlanta, their 1966 home, by nipping Detroit 3-2. The St. Louis Cardinals edged host Kansas City 6-5 on a three-run eighth-inning rally.

Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 5-1 at Birmingham, Ala., on the four-hit pitching of Don Cardwell, Don Schwall and Al

McBean. At Wichita, home runs by Harry Bright, Leo Burke and cago Cubs past Boston 10-3.

FDR Memorial Is Dedicated

Harriman Gives Talk on Death Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador W. Averell Harriman dedicated a small memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt today and said, "The only monument that mattered to him was the continuing commitment to his ideals and purposes — to his vision of a just society and a peaceful world."

Harriman joined with friends of Roosevelt and members of his family for the ceremony — held on the 20th anniversary of the wartime president's death.

The monument is small and simple, like he wanted it. It is located where he wanted it — on a little triangle of land near the National Archives Building on Bush Pennsylvania Avenue.

"Today we execute his own expressed desire," Harriman said in his prepared speech, "and we do so knowing that we serve his memory best as we carry forward the ideals and purposes to which he gave his life."

PLEASING MOMENT

"This is the monument which would please him most," said Harriman, who served Roosevelt in various posts and recently became ambassador-at-large after a period as undersecretary of state.

Harriman said of Roosevelt: "His greatness lay in the strength of his passion for plain people everywhere. He spoke for the 'forgotten man' not only in his own country but throughout the world."

Harriman recalled that when Roosevelt died he was ambassador to Moscow, "and even in Communist Russia people felt they had lost a friend. They felt they had lost the man who could lead the world to the peace they craved."

Mitchum Finds

Filmdom Tours a Weary Road

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD — "Would you like some ketchup?" asked the waitress as she delivered the battered eggs and hamburger patty.

"Honey," replied Robert Mitchum, "I am in no condition to make any decision."

THOMAS

His hooded eyes at half-mast, the actor was suffering through breakfast in a restaurant near Hollywood and Vine. He had just come from Bob Crane's radio show on KNX; a full schedule of interviews and appearances faced him through the day and into the evening.

Mitchum was in the first throes of that peculiar institution known as the personal appearance. Some performers consider it a form of exquisite torture; film companies deem it a necessary adjunct to the merchandizing of movies.

"Mr. Moses," a film he made in Africa with Carroll Baker last year, is the beneficiary of Mitchum's travels. It is the first tour he has made in a dozen years.

He explained the lapse: "No body asked me."

On the last tour he accompanied Jane Russell and Vincent Price to publicize one of the dogs he made during service to Howard Hughes at RKO.

"Jane was with us all the way until we got to Pittsburgh," Mitchum said. "Then she folded up; she needs 12 or 14 hours of sleep. I remember I had to get up on the stage of a big theater in Pittsburgh and announce: 'Miss Russell is unable to appear because she has collapsed.'"

"The trouble is, you get a different guy to handle you in each city," the actor remarked. "He doesn't realize what you've been through in the previous city, and he books you around the clock. He also wastes a lot of time because he figures I'll be late. When I show up every five minutes early, he gets shook up."

"Then there's the booze. You see 40 people in a day and each one wants to have a drink with you. That sorta adds up, you know."

IMPROVEMENT

His outlook improved as he staked at the battered eggs and thought of home at the end of the trail. Home for the past few years has been a horse-breeding farm on Chesapeake Bay 75 miles from Baltimore.

He claims that he doesn't see enough of the place because he has to keep making films to pay for it. His reported salary: $400,000 per film.

"We won't start getting any income until next year, when our first foals will mature," he said. "By that time, we'll probably be back in Brentwood."

Mitchum did have some kind words for "Mr. Moses," which he said turned out well in spite of everything.

"They put me on the plane in Nairobi with 72 pages of the wrong script," he said. "I arrived at the location to find there was no script at all. Carroll Baker was all agog and the director, Ronald Neame, was in tears. But we rolled it out, getting new pages of script every day."

Apportionment Upset Closer?

Report 60 Senators Support Amendment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate supporters of a constitutional amendment to upset the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" apportionment ruling appeared today to be within striking distance of victory.

To realize the needed two-thirds majority required for a constitutional amendment, they must hold the votes they have and convince more than one-half of a small group of undecided senators to go their way.

A poll by United Press International showed that, as of now, 60 senators endorse or are leaning toward such a constitutional amendment.

It would allow one House of a state legislature to be apportioned on a basis other than population, if approved by the voters of the state. The Supreme Court said both Houses should be apportioned on the basis of population.

With every member of the Senate voting, it would take 67 votes to pass the constitutional amendment upsetting the court's ruling.

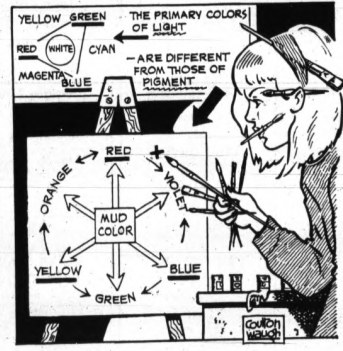

The poll showed that 27 senators, some more adamant than others, are opposed to any effort to tinker with the Supreme Court ruling. This group includes hard-core liberals who would stage a filibuster if it appeared that the amendment could pass.

UNDECIDED

The rest of the Senate — 13 members, including Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont. — are undecided or uncommitted.

The leaders of the two factions are the senators from Illinois — Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen in support of the amendment and Democrat Paul H. Douglas in opposition.

Junior Editors Quiz on PRIMARY COLORS

QUESTION: Why are the main colors called "primaries?"

ANSWER: Primary colors, in light and also in pigment, mean a group of colors from which all the others may be made. But colors, in light rays and in pigment, work differently, as our illustration shows.

Suppose that you go into a darkened lightproof room with three flashlights, one covered with red cellophane, one with green and one with blue, these being the three primary colors of light.

Flash green light on a white-screen and cover it with red; the combination would be a lighter yellow.

Cover the green with blue and you'll get a blue-green called cyan; cover the red with blue and you get magenta. All the colors together give white, for white contains all colors.

Now look at the main part of our picture where Phyllis demonstrates the primaries of paint, or pigment.

These are red, yellow and blue and the drawing shows what other colors they make. Just opposite to the light-ray colors, these pigment colors get darker as they are mixed; together they give, not white, but a dark mud color.

The colors opposite each other on this pigment color wheel are "complementaries." Put complementaries beside each other and they sparkle like jewels.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get some poster paint and make a color wheel as Phyllis has done. What is the cross she's pointing to? It's the mix between red and violet, or red violet.

Try the other in-between mixes and find their complementaries. When you mix a little of one complementary into another, you get a beautiful soft tone; but mix them half and half and you'll have an ugly mud.

Service Today for Linda Darnell

CHICAGO (UPI) — Memorial service was to be held today for actress Linda Darnell, who died from burns suffered in a suburban Glenview apartment fire. Her body was to be cremated.

Miss Darnell was visiting the apartment of her former agent Richard Curtis, away in California at the time. Fire broke out in the downstairs of the Curtis Townhouse Friday morning.

Mrs. Curtis and her daughter, Patricia, 16, escaped. But Miss Darnell, clad in a nightgown, went downstairs apparently thinking Patricia was still down there. Firemen found her body near a sofa.

Communists
Open Wall to
W. Berliners

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists opened the Berlin wall today for West Berliners to visit their relatives in the Soviet sector for the fourth time since the concrete and barbed wire barrier was built in 1961.

Armed border guards at five crossing points lifted the red and white striped steel barriers or unlocked steel gates at 7 a.m.

Only a few West Berliners were waiting to cross to East Berlin today. The big rush will come next weekend, the East German holidays. More than 400,000 persons have received Red passes good for one-day visits. The visiting period ends April 25.

The periodic opening of the wall for one-way traffic began in 1963, when the West Berlin city government and the East German regime signed an agreement.

The agreement was renewed last fall and now calls for four visiting periods — over All Saints' Day in November, Christmas, Easter and over Whitsun.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—What's the ugliest of all the 4-letter word? That's easy. W-O-R-K.

The Waldorf's famous Peacock Alley switched to a discotheque policy at an elegant soiree flung by Maggi & Clyde Newhouse — where, it was explained, "Carol Channing will drop in on the way to bed." (Carol lives in the Waldorf Tower).

The new disco-dancing area was a brokerage office which the Waldorf opened in 1959. That was back in the Crash days when anybody asking for a room was queried, "Yes, sir, for sleeping or for leaping?"

A discotheque, as you might not know, since it isn't in the dictionaries, is a club where you can dance, usually not to live music, but to records (discs). It's of French derivation. Sometimes the records are on tapes, and one Waldorf executive said, "I'm going from a brokerage office to a discotheque, we go from reading the tapes to playing the tapes."

Otto Preminger — he's so talented — is now able to pronounce a girl movie critic's name so that it sounds like an epithet! Hundreds of us justified each other at a PAL reception at Grace Mansion after Otto's premier of "In Harm's Way."

That Jill Haworth, not yet 20 but WOW, was with George Maharis.
Tom Tyron who'd been telling me he hates skinny girls 'cause their skinny knees scratch him, was with Sybil Burton, who's just died off of her wounds. . . . Most lionized: Sammy Davis, with came. . . . Maynard Wagner was upstairs strike negotiating. Barbara Cavanagh was co-hostessing. . . . A GREAT PARTY, except they ran out of vodka.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra told the Publicists Guild Awards luncheon in Hollywood: "If I'd had as many love affairs as you, I would now be speaking to you from a jar at Harvard Medical School." . . . George C. Scott will return to Broadway in "Royal Hunt of the Sun" . . . Comic Jack E. Leonard's in an L.A. hospital for treatment of a cyst.

MGM will quickly release Oscar-winner Julie Andrews' "Americanization of Emily" . . . Joe E. Lewis attended pianist Bill Selden's premiere at Charlie Bette's Salon and announced, "Some of the college girls here are younger than the Scotch" . . . Hottest romance in London: Film star Angie Dickinson and composer Burt Bacharach. . . . Porfirio Rubirosa'll play his first movie role in a French film, "Sulad Mafia."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Today's typical successful man is one who earns so much that he has to borrow money to pay his income taxes.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "An appeaser is one who feeds a crocodile, hoping it will eat him last." — Sir Winston Churchill.
EARL'S PEARLS: "Let's welcome the Mets to town with a typical Mets parade," suggests Eli Wallach. "We'll march the wrong way down a one-way street."

Gina 'Naked'
Without Gems

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida, de-jeweled by tax agents, is bejeweled again — in borrowed rocks — thanks to comedian Bob Hope.

The Italian actress' jewelry box was seized from her hotel safe Friday by California tax men who said she owes more than $1 million in state taxes.

"I feel naked," was her disconsolate response to being stripped of the gems.

The Hope, hearing of her plight, called Beverly Hills jeweler Marvin Hime, who lent Miss Lollobrigida about $750,000 in jewels Sunday "to bolster her morale" while she taped the Bob Hope television show for which she came to this country.

The California Franchise Tax Board said Miss Lollobrigida's debt dates from 1959, when she made a film here with Frank Sinatra. Officials said they had tried many times to collect the money, and in 1964 filed liens against any personal property she might have in California.

The jewels were seized under the lien; they said.

Miss Lollobrigida commented, "Even the Mafia gives at least one warning." She said she didn't know she owed any California taxes.

She said she offered, after the jewels were seized, to pay the back taxes by check, but that the agents wouldn't accept it until her Swiss bank okayed the check. By the time she got a call through to her bank, she said, it was past closing hours and "there wasn't even a scrub woman there to answer the phone."

FIERCE FLAMES — Flames light the sky of Lapeer early yesterday morning as firemen battle a blaze that destroyed the Shorthorn Hotel. An adjoining hotel, bar and restaurant were also destroyed. No one was injured.

Fire Officials Probe Cause of $300,000 Lapeer Blaze

Fire officials in Lapeer are still seeking the cause of a predawn fire which whipped through that city yesterday, destroying two hotels, a tavern and a barbershop.

Flames from the $300,000 fire shot skyward, sending sparks across the city, at one point threatening the entire business district.

New Evidence Brings Macomb Murder Charge

On the basis of undisclosed "new evidence," a 39-year-old Detroit man has been brought back to Macomb County Jail to face a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of his former sister-in-law.

Theodore F. Wilson was returned to the jail today on a warrant issued by Macomb County Prosecutor George Paris yesterday, charging him with the slaying of Raven Shilling, 29, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Shilling's half-nude body was found last Monday afternoon in a Macomb Township field, off Hayes Road north of 23 Mile Road.

Post-mortem examination showed that she died of stab wounds in the chest.

Wilson was held at Macomb County Jail Friday for investigation of first-degree murder.

He was released to Detroit police Saturday for undisclosed reasons and was returned to the Macomb jail at 12:05 this morning.

Johnson Signs $1.3-Billion Bill for School Aid

Predicts It Will Bring Quality and Equality to U.S. Education

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, sitting in the shadow of "this little school of my childhood," has signed into law a $1.3-billion education aid bill he says will bring "quality and equality" to schooling.

At a simple ceremony Sunday two miles from his ranch home, Johnson reached the high point of a busy weekend that saw him pay his respects to Houston's futuristic baseball stadium, select retired Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. as new chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, and sound a fresh warning of American determination in Viet Nam.

Johnson, with his first teacher sitting by his side, said of the education bill:

"As President of the United States, I believe deeply no law I have signed or will ever sign means more to the future of America."

Behind him was the tin-shedded home which 35 years ago was a one-room schoolhouse where, as he told several hundred spectators as well as his old teacher, Kate Dedrich Loney, 72, of Rough and Ready, Calif.:

STARTED AT 4 "I started school when I was 4 years old, and they tell me, Miss Kate, that I recited my first lessons while sitting on your lap."

Scores of old friends and schoolmates assembled for the occasion from all parts of Texas were ready to testify this was true.

Thus it was fitting that, in setting a precedent by using only one pen to sign the bill, Johnson handed the writing instrument to Miss Kate.

Of the new law, Johnson said: "It represents a major new commitment of the federal government to quality and equality in the schooling that we offer our young people."

By passing this bill, we bridge the gap between helplessness and hope for more than five million educationally deprived children in America."

A Prevailing Despair Followed Crucifixion

(EDITOR'S NOTE — At Eastertide, most attention centers on the Crucifixion and the Resurrection of Christ. To the supporters of Jesus, it seemed that the whole cause had terminated in cruel, degrading defeat. Following is the first of five articles based on Biblical accounts and supplementary sources, dealing with the ensuing period.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
Two men strode along the road winding across the ridge northwest out of Jerusalem. Their dark faces bore the stamp of despair.

"My hope is pulled up like a tree," said the older one, Cleopas. "They dashed him to pieces!" Grief and shame mingled in his voice. "My soul is poured out within me. My eyes see no good."

The younger man, Simon, tightened the grip on his father's trembling hand, but still stared stonily ahead toward the reddening western horizon. "Alas, we are plunged into the pit. His house did not stand."

It was about 35 Roman stadia (four miles) to the town of Emmaus. Even though it had a century of about 100 legionnaires garrisoned there, it would be safer than Jerusalem, feverish with fears, tale-bearing, incendiary plots and arrests.

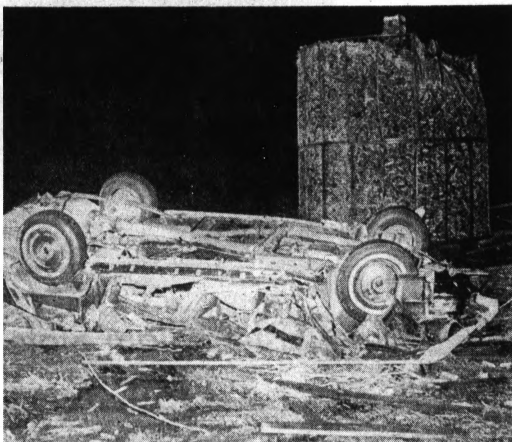

The whole country, from the uplands of rustic, defiant Galilee to the southern deserts of occupied Judea, smoldered with unrest and sparks of revolt against the alien, pagan oppressor.

STILLNESS

But along the rocky road to Emmaus, in the lull of declining day, the two desolate figures moved in a landscape of stillness.

It was the 17th of the spring month of Nisan, and only two days before, on the eve of the Sabbath, their adored and commanding champion, Jesus of Nazareth, had been crucified along with two insurgent brigands.

He, too, had been branded a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Midwest Toll Now at 205 After Barrage of Tornadoes

By The Associated Press
A terrifying barrage of tornadoes raged through a six-state area in the Midwest Sunday, killing at least 205 persons and injuring thousands more. Officials expected the toll to climb much higher. Hundreds were missing. Property was devastated, homes flattened, shopping centers demolished and churches crumpled as the twisters struck from Iowa to Ohio.

The western end of the county appeared to be hit hardest by the storm with most of the damage coming about daybreak today.

Peak gusts reached 65 miles per hour at 6 a.m., according to officials at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Hardest hit was central and northern Indiana, where 20 cities were slashed and at least 102 persons killed. Officials said 1,000 persons were injured.

"HAULED AWAY" "They're just hauling them away, load after load," one bewildered Indiana state policeman told The Associated Press.

The new violence came only hours after President Johnson declared 39 Minnesota counties a disaster area in the wake of the state's worst flood.

The deadly tornadoes struck first in eastern Iowa in the middle of what had been a pleasant Sunday afternoon. By late evening, twisters had raged through Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, hopping and skipping as they moved to the east.

The twisters claimed at least 50 victims in Ohio, 34 more died in Michigan, 7 in Illinois and 3 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Hundreds Hurt; Damage Heavy

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vicious, black tornadoes ripped through southern Michigan last night, killing at least 34 persons, injuring hundreds of others and causing heavy property damage.

Several units of the Michigan National Guard were called up for relief and patrol work, and Gov. George Romney planned to make a flying tour of the shattered areas.

High Winds Cause a Few Disturbances

Heavily pounded by wind and rain, the Pontiac area escaped major damage in the storm that rumbled through Oakland County last night and early today.

Downed power lines, snapped tree limbs and shattered windows were reported across the county.

Troops Guard Shambles

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Street signs still swung, clanking noisily, in the winds left over from tornadoes which had raked over 25 miles of Grand Rapids' outskirts.

Red flares, backed up by rifle-toting National Guardsmen, blocked off the roads in the blackness before dawn.

Ambulance drivers and sheriff's deputies kept warm in buses set up as a "command post" — next door to a two-story motel which suddenly had become a one-story shambles.

In downtown Grand Rapids, men slept on couches in the lobby of Butterworth Hospital, next to huge blackboards which listed some 60 names of tornado victims who had come for treatment.

It was the long, long night in which anxious relatives, tired deputy sheriffs and cold Guardsmen waited for daylight, and the

Pierced Ears Cause Teen Infections

NEW YORK — Physicians have been warning teen-age girls not to try to pierce their own ears ever since a rumor began that President Johnson's daughter Luci had her own done at the White House.

The Insider's Newsletter reports that girls from coast to coast have been frantically anesthetizing their ear lobes with ice cubes and having a girl friend pierce them with sterilized darning needles.

One of the problems of the operation is seeing that both holes match.

Many physicians are said to be complaining about being called upon to square up ragged jobs done by do-it-yourselfers.

Plastic Bags Become a Bunny, Nest

This year add Easter decorations to the myriad uses for clear plastic food wrap and bags. Here is an easy-to-make Easter Bunny centerpiece and chick-nest party favors:

EASTER BUNNY CENTERPIECE

Use one storage-size bag for the head.

Form ears by first placing a small amount of Easter basket grass in seamed corners of bag and pinching into a "V" shape; fasten with a twist tie or cellophane tape. Fill the rest of the bag with grass and fasten.

Button eyes and nose can be attached with hair pins. Insert four plastic straws as whiskers.

For the body, stuff another bag with basket grass and fasten. Join head with base by inserting another straw for support and tie a bright ribbon bow at the neck. Small artificial flowers add a colorful note.

To complete centerpiece, form a circle by gathering a strip of plastic wrap to give a basket effect. Place bunny in center and surround with dyed eggs.

State Guard Hearing Near End

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney hoped to conclude his 67-hour-old National Guard hearing today by hearing the testimony of Brig Gen. Carson Neffert—the second of two generals accused of gross neglect of duty.

Neffert's attorney Russell Noble, said attorneys on both sides already have agreed that "a substantial portion" of points in the charges involved in the hearing do not apply to Neffert.

State attorneys said those points are listed in a stipulation signed by both sides and ready for presentation to Romney.

The hearing goes into its 19th day today, but the governor said he did not intend to set any limitations on time needed to present the case fully. He scheduled 6 1/2 hours for today's session.

DEFENDS ACTIONS

Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald completed 10 1/2 hours on the witness stand last Friday. He defended actions which led to his dismissal, and contended the State Military Board knew fully what was going on when it approved the actions.

McDonald's attorneys asked for recall of two witnesses — Capt. Robert Fraser and Maj. Harold Clingensmith.

He said he had heard reports that the hearings' file on one land deal amounted to only about one-quarter of the actual file and suggested Fansler and Clingensmith could testify on this point.

Communists

Open Wall to W. Berliners

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists opened the Berlin wall today for West Berliners to visit their relatives in the Soviet sector for the fourth time since the concrete and barbed wire barrier was built in 1961.

Armed border guards at five crossing points lifted the red and white striped steel barriers or unlocked steel gates at 7 a.m.

Only a few West Berliners were waiting to cross to East Berlin today. The big rush will come next weekend, the Easter holidays. More than 400,000 persons have received red passes good for one-day visits. The visiting period ends April 25.

The periodic opening of the wall for one-way traffic began in 1963, when the West Berlin city government and the East German regime signed an agreement.

The agreement was renewed last fall and now calls for four visiting periods a year. All Saints' Day in November, Christmas, Easter and over Whitsun.

Status of Word W-O-R-K Offered Without Labor

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—What's the ugliest of all the 4-letter word? That's easy. W-O-R-K.

The Waldorf's famous Peacock Alley switched to a discotheque policy at an elegant soiree flung by Maggi & Clyde Newhouse — where, it was explained, "Carol Channing will drop in on the way to bed." (Carol lives in the Waldorf Tower).

The new disco-dancing area was a brokerage office when the Waldorf opened in 1930. That was back in the Crash days when anybody asking for a room was queried, "Yes, sir, for sleeping or for leaping?"

A discotheque, as you might not know, since it isn't in the dictionaries, is a club where you can dance, usually not to live music, but to records (disco). It's of French derivation. Sometimes the records are on tapes, and one Waldorf executive said, "I'm going from a brokerage office to a discotheque, we go from reading the tapes to playing the tapes."

Oldie Premier — he's so talented — is now able to pronounce a Otto movie critic's name so that it sounds like an epithet! Hundreds of us jostled each other at a PAL reception at Grace Mansion after Otto's premiere of "In Harm's Way" . . . That Jill Haworth, not yet 20 but WOW, was with George Maharis.

Tom Tryon who'd been telling me he hates skinny girls 'cause their skinny knees scratch him, was with Sybil Burton, who's just dieted off 10 pounds. . . Most honored: Sammy Davis, with cane. . . Mayor Wagner was upstairs strike-negotiating, Barbara Cavanaugh was co-hostessing. . . A GREAT PARTY, except they ran out of vodka.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Frank Sinatra told the Publicists Guild Awards luncheon in Hollywood: "If I'd had as many love affairs as you, I would now be speaking to you from a jar at Harvard Medical School." . . . George C. Scott will return to Broadway in "Royal Hunt of the Sun" . . . Comic Jack E. Leonard's in an L.A. hospital for treatment of a cyst.

MGM will quickly reissue Oscar-winner Julie Andrews' "Americanization of Emily" . . . Joe E. Lewis attended pianist Bill Selden's premiere at Charlie Bates' Salon and announced, "Some of the college girls here are younger than the Scotch" . . . Hottest romance in London: Film star Angie Dickinson and composer Burt Bacharach . . . Porfirio Rubens'll play his first movie role in a French film, "Salut, Maria!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Today's successful man is one who earns so much that he has to borrow money to pay his income taxes.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "An appeaser is one who feeds a crocodile, hoping it will eat him last." — Sir Winston Churchill.

EARL'S PEARLS: "Let's welcome the Mets to town with a typical Mets parade," suggests Ed Wallace. "We'll march the wrong way down a one-way street." (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Gina 'Naked' Without Gems

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida, de-jewelled by tax agents, is jewelled again — in borrowed rags — thanks to comedian Bob Hope.

The Italian actress' jewelry box was seized from her hotel safe Friday by California tax men who said she owes more than $13,000 in state taxes. "I feel naked," was her disconsolate response to being stripped of the gems.

Hope, hearing of her plight, called Beverly Hills jeweler Marvin Hime, who lent Miss Lollobrigida about $750,000 in jewels Sunday to bolster her morale "while she taped the Bob Hope television show for which she came to this country."

The California Franchise Tax Board said Miss Lollobrigida's debt dates from 1959, when she made a film here with Frank Sinatra. Officials said they had tried many times to collect the money, and in 1964 filed liens against any personal property she might have in California. The jewels were seized under the lien, they said.

Miss Lollobrigida commented, "Even the Mafia gives at least one warning." She said she didn't know she owed any California taxes.

She said she offered, after the jewels were seized, to pay the back taxes by check, but that the agents wouldn't accept it until her Swiss bank okayed the check. By the time she got a call through to her bank, she said, it was past closing hours, and "there wasn't even a scrub-woman there to answer the phone."

Indians, Pakistanis

Carry on Border Battle

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Shelling and small arms fire broke out again today on the India-Pakistan border at the Rann of Kutch, Home Minister G. L. Nanda told parliament. He claimed the Pakistanis are increasing offensive actions and said Indian army troops are moving to meet any threat.

Nanda's report said five Pakistanis were killed. The Rann of Kutch, on the ill-defined western border, is where the Indians say the Pakistanis are using American arms.

Fishermen Catch Mines and Fish Get Away

BRIDLINGTON, England (UPI) — Two trawlers each caught a World War II mine while fishing off Flamborough Head, Yorkshire.

The nets were cut to let the mines sink. And with the mines went all the fish taken on the trawl.
