Hospital Reply Expected to Bronson Report Today

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital officials were expected today to reply to findings issued Friday by Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson in the ether-injected deaths late last month of three patients.

Hospital Administrator Harry H. Whitlow scheduled a meeting for noon today of the hospital's board of directors.

Object of the meeting was to review the three-page report issued by Bronson following a week-and-a-half investigation, which began Nov. 22 after the three surgery patients died from accidental injections of ether.

Man Dies; 4 Flee Fire in Dwelling

A 33-year-old Pontiac man died early yesterday in a fire which gutted the upstairs of a two-story frame house on 262 State.

Dead is Luther Falin, whose body was found lying in a hallway after he apparently lost his way in trying to escape the blaze.

A brother of the victim, Elmer Falin, 29, made his way outside after being rescued by a downstairs occupant of the multiple dwelling.

Three other persons also escaped.

Fire Marshall Charles Metz said the victim apparently fell asleep on a couch while smoking, starting the blaze.

Metz estimated damage to the building at about $1,000 and placed loss of contents at $500.

Interest Hike Plunges Mart

Opening Hour Trade Highest Since 1933

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overriding the President's economic policy, the Federal Reserve Board increased interest rates to their highest level in 35 years today and the stock market reacted by plunging.

A total of 3.94 million shares changed hands during the first hour of the New York Stock Exchange was open, the largest total for an opening hour since the exchange began listing hourly transaction figures in 1933.

Bronson concluded that no criminal charges were warranted in the tragedy.

But, the prosecutor charged there is abundant evidence of inexcusable laxity and delinquency in the use and control of anesthetic procedures as well as in other related hospital procedures.

Bronson said his report did not direct attention to any one individual because it would be "unfair." He said there was no "cumulative responsibility."

A supplemental report, issued by Bronson's office, stated, however, that Dr. Stanley E. Abrams, 42, of 7127 Brookridge, West Bloomfield Township, was seen draining ether into a bottle, later discovered to have contained a small amount of Surital, another anesthetic.

LEFT ROOM

"It is apparent that Dr. Abrams left operating room No. 1 without properly disposing of the Surital with the ether content," the report stated.

The operating room privileges of Dr. Abrams and Dr. Lloyd Goodwin, 58, of 48 Oxford, Pleasant Ridge, were suspended soon after the investigation opened.

Dr. Goodwin, chairman of the anesthesiology department, reportedly injected two of the patients with the fatal anesthetic.

Bronson said that evidence gathered in the investigation "reflects serious and reprehensible derelictions on the parts of several of the professional staff personnel as well as the hospital administration itself which in its composite effect resulted in these tragic deaths."

FAILURE ON RULES

The deaths, he said, resulted primarily from failure to observe usual hospital rules.

The prosecutor said that if the results of an autopsy performed on the first victim had been followed up with proper communication with appropriate personnel there would not have been the loss of the two additional lives.

Eight-year-old Kimberly Ann Brunel of 2599 Ivanhoe, West Bloomfield Township, died Thursday, Nov. 18. Her death followed the next day by that of William M. Ketchum, 12, of 250 W. Webster, Ferndale, and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 24, of 226 Roland.

In the event of such a tragedy as that which happened at the local osteopathic hospital, Bronson said an immediate and complete investigation is the best protection against repetition.

Earmuff Weather for Pontiac Today

Earmuffs and nose warmers will be the accessories of the day as the weatherman predicts cloudy, cold and windy weather. Skies will be partially clear, and 15 to 30 mile winds will diminish to 5 to 15 miles by this evening.

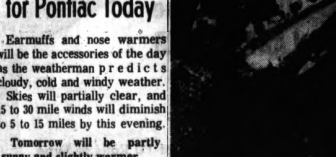

Tomorrow will be partly sunny and slightly warmer.

Accompanied by fair skies, the warming trend will continue through Wednesday.

The lowest reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today was 32. By 2 p.m. the mercury had inched to a freezing 32.

De Gaulle Is Forced Into Election Runoff

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle maintained silence today after French voters handed a stinging rebuff to his bid for first-round victory in the presidential election.

With a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of the voters, de Gaulle polled only 43.96 per cent of the vote in the first round of the voting yesterday.

This forced him into a run-off Dec. 19 with left-winger Francois Mitterrand, the No. 2 man in the six-man race.

Some Gaullist officials had predicted before the election that if de Gaulle did not get the massive endorsement he wanted, he would refuse to run in the second round. Other officials differed.

"The general is a fighter," said one supporter, "and he will not abandon the combat now."

IN THE BAG

A second-round victory was considered in the bag for de Gaulle if he runs.

Although his image was bruised by the outcome yesterday, it is not likely that he will change his attitudes and ways.

In department after department where he had shown strength in other electoral tests, de Gaulle polled less than 50 per cent of the votes.

His pride must have suffered additionally from the knowledge that election of the president by direct vote was the result of a constitutional change he had inaugurated.

ONCE BEFORE

Only once before, in 1848, did French voters have a direct say about who would be elected president.

These were the results from nearly 24 million valid ballots in metropolitan France:

- Charles de Gaulle 10,504,007 for 43.96 per cent.
- Francois Mitterrand 7,655,942 for 32.04 per cent.
- Jean Lecanuet 3,770,771 for 15.78 per cent.
- Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancour 1,269,095 for 5.31 per cent.
- Pierre Mariechal 414,056 for 1.73 per cent.
- Marcel Barbu 278,420 for 1.16 per cent.

Still to be recorded were returns from about 446,000 voters in overseas territories.

TWO FACTORS

The record vote was probably caused by two important factors: it was the first time in more than a century that Frenchmen took part directly in choosing a president. And it was the first presidential campaign where the candidates entered millions of homes via television.

Mitterrand, 49, got his support from the Communists, the Socialists and some radicals, and his total was not surprising.

Pratt and Thornburn were appointed to office in late 1963 by Gov. Romney.

Several judges in Wayne County also had terms extended by the new law.

Judges to Test Legality of Act

Court Test Started of Law Extending Terms

Wheels were set in motion this morning by Oakland County Circuit Court Judges James S. Thornburn and Philip Pratt to test the legality of recent legislation extending terms of circuit judges.

In a joint statement, Thornburn and Pratt announced that a suit, entitled James S. Thornburn and Philip Pratt versus the secretary of state, the Oakland County clerk-registrar and the Oakland County Election Commission, has been filed.

The two are seeking a "declaratory judgment" from the Michigan Supreme Court. Their case must start in the Oakland County Circuit before the high court can consider it.

Pratt said the suit applies only to Oakland County and the effect the new law has on the circuit court. However, a Supreme Court ruling in favor of the judges could affect other circuit courts in the state.

The case was assigned to Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem who excused himself as an interested party. Ziem tentatively scheduled a hearing for next Monday in which the state and county officers being sued must show cause why the new law should not be declared unconstitutional.

Pratt said another judge must be assigned to hear the case.

Pratt and Thornburn originally were scheduled to seek reelection next year, when the county's four remaining circuit judges are scheduled to run and when two new judges will be elected.

However, the State Legislature in October passed a law extending Pratt and Thornburn's terms until 1970—this staggering the terms of the judges.

"We were appointed under a specific act," Pratt said. "We ran for a term of office set by that act. Can the legislature, after the election, extend that term?"

Action to Save $410 Million ---McNamara

Locations of Affected Facilities Won't Be Told Till Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today ordered 149 more bases closed, consolidated or substantially reduced.

McNamara told a news conference the actions, calculated to save $410 million a year, "will be completed without decreasing military effectiveness or limiting our current and future activities in Southeast Asia."

Coupled with 763 previous base closings and cutdowns ordered since March 1961, the new moves will bring total savings to $1.5 billion a year, McNamara said.

The affected bases are located in 39 states, the District of Columbia and 10 foreign countries.

McNamara told reporters that congressmen are being informed how their districts are affected but that formal announcement of the 149 bases in the new list will not be made until Wednesday.

READY RENDEZVOUS — A crane raises the Gemini 6 spacecraft into position yesterday atop a Titan II rocket at Cape Kennedy. Astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford are scheduled to be sent aloft into space from Cape Kennedy a week from today for a rendezvous with Gemini 7 with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aboard.

Astronaut Performs 1st Space 'Striptease'

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The first space "striptease" by a U.S. astronaut was performed successfully today and James A. Lovell Jr. rode comfortably through space in his "long john" underwear.

"Jim's all out of his suit and comfortable," command pilot Frank Borman reported to the Carnarvon, Australia, tracking station during the 29th orbit of the 14-day Gemini 7 endurance mission.

The experiment, treated humorously by the astronauts in their conversation with ground stations, was important because it was a step toward the time when spacemen on long flights will be able to perform their duties in a shirt-sleeve environment rather than in the cumbersome space suits.

As the Gemini 7 spacecraft sped smoothly along in the third day of its two-week marathon, preparations moved ahead at a rapid rate for the attempt by two manned craft to carry out the world's first rendezvous in space.

Paul Haney, the voice of mission control at Houston, reported pad crews were running 14 to 16 hours ahead of schedule in the race to launch astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in the Gemini 6 spacecraft from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The launch is scheduled for Dec. 13, in the ninth day of the scheduled Gemini 7 endurance mission, but flight director Christopher C. Kraft Jr. was "looking into that eight-day possibility."

Police put the toll from the accident at Soutouba Village, 180 miles from Lome, at 115 dead and more than 100 seriously injured.

In Washington, the Peace Corps confirmed it had received a telephone report from Togo indicating that more than 100 persons died and another 100 were injured.

It said James George Driscoll, 20, a Peace Corpsman from Buffalo, N.Y., was killed in the accident. Four other Peace Corpsmen were injured, none of them seriously.

Police said the accident occurred as more than 1,000 men, women and children sang and danced to the beat of tom-toms to celebrate an annual tribal feast.

'His and Her' Yule Gifts Are Plentiful and Varied

By JEANNE NELSON

Christmas and romance, long a twosome, seem to go especially well this year. The wide variety of "his and her" gifts seems plentiful in local stores.

One store offers matching sweaters of orlon and mohair in a pale yellow slipover and cardigan style for both men and women. Both are attractively trimmed with brown accents. They cost about $12 each.

Something definitely new this Christmas for the enamored set is identical fragrances.

These come in after-shave lotion and cologne for the men. Perfume, splash and cologne are available for the ladies.

Light beige is still the leader in color, but coming up fast is navy blue and black. For a really good quality, plan to spend about $35 to $40 each on these.

"His and her" raincoats aren't especially new but are just as popular as ever.

Identification bracelets that match proclaim romantic notions about couples. The bracelets can be engraved on the back with endearing messages. Prices on these run about $5.

One practical suggestion with romantic overtones is matching luggage sets. The color range includes blue, tweed, fawn and silver duck. Prices (depending on size) range from $27 to $95 per piece.

SKI TOGS

Look-alike ski togs are becoming more and more prevalent in the area. They include pants, jackets, jump suits, sweaters and all types of accessories. They make especially fun gifts for going-steady teens and engaged couples.

Complexities Snarl Osteopath College

By L. GARY THORNE

The tantalizingly complex question of the future of medicine in Michigan has become entangled in the quest for state assistance for Pontiac's proposed osteopathic college.

Proving the merits of the college, state legislators have decided they need an answer to amalgamation—the merging of medical doctors and doctors of osteopathy into a single profession.

The general need for more medical education facilities and more doctors does not appear to be in doubt.

In hearings earlier this week before the House State Affairs Committee, osteopaths offered a variety of statistics to support their arguments for the college.

The House committee is pondering a Senate-passed bill to establish a 10-man authority to govern the projected school.

CONSIDERATION

Later consideration is expected of state aid to operate the college. Osteopaths plan to build the school with private funds matched on a 2-1 basis by the federal government.

The head of the Michigan Osteopathic Hospital Association testified that the college was needed to bolster the staffs of the 33 osteopathic hospitals in Michigan.

He said osteopathic hospitals in the state have grown from 2,000 beds in 1960 to 4,200 currently.

The total payroll of D.O. hospitals is $27 million per year. The hospitals purchase another $20 million worth of supplies.

PATIENT DAYS

It was estimated that 160,000 patients would stay a total of 1 1/2 million patient days in osteopathic hospitals this year.

Osteopathy, it was contended, has too long waited for others to provide medical education. The implication, naturally was that the college was the only answer to meet osteopathic hospital needs.

Osteopaths testified the college would go ahead without state aid, although it was admitted the project would take longer and be more difficult.

The college, which already has a 164-acre site at Auburn and Opdyke, is slated to open in 1970.

CONVICTIONS

In hearings this week and during other legislative considerations earlier this year, the college's opponents have attempted to convince the legislature that:

- Osteopathy is no longer "separate and distinct," meaning D.O.'s practice much in the same manner as M.D.'s.
- A merger of the two doctor professions is the only answer.
- Existing medical education facilities should be expanded.

The Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS) has formed the main opposition to the proposed osteopathic school, centering the discussions when the osteopaths sought state financial support.

MSMS spokesmen claim unity of the two professions is the only course. The M.D.'s cite their groundwork to accomplish this over the past four years.

Meantime, the M.D. contention is based on the belief that the past differences between the D.O. and M.D. no longer exist or are disappearing.

HEALING METHOD

Osteopaths counter that their healing method is different. They firmly state that the 73-year-old practice of osteopathy will continue.

Somewhat, confused by the conflicting testimony, the 13-member House committee is slated to journey to California for answers.

California is the only state that has merged M.D.'s and D.O.'s. Michigan legislators have received conflicting views on the success of the merger.

The trip, which is to comprise to the January session of the legislature, along with a poll of Michigan's physicians, is to help answer the far-reaching unity question.

LBJ Given Report on Blackout

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was told today the massive Northeast power blackout didn't have to happen — yet could happen again.

Experts urged new precautions and perhaps new legislation. Johnson got a 95-page printed report on preliminary findings by the Federal Power Commission.

CONROE, Tex. (UPI) — A power failure, the third major "blackout" in the nation in less than a month, shut off electric power in at least six Southeast Texas counties today.

A spokesman for Gulf States Utility Co. said the failure occurred somewhere near Beaumont, Tex.

tion in a Johnson-ordered investigation of the Nov. 9 power failure that affected 30 million people in the United States and Canada.

To discuss the report, the President summoned retiring FPC Chairman Joseph C. Swidler to the LBJ Ranch here.

According to the report, the chain reaction that plunged 80,000 square miles into darkness could have been avoided had employees at Canada's Sir Adam Beck hydroelectric plant on the Niagara River reset an electric relay to handle power loads that had increased significantly since the device was last set in 1963.

Allegations of man-failure were not limited, however, to the Beck plant. The report also said:

- Employees of the Consolidated Edison Co. perhaps could have prevented the blackout from enveloping all of New York City had they acted quickly to shut down parts of their system at the first warning of trouble.
- The complete collapse of the interconnected power system in the Northeast might have been avoided had employees of many individual utility firms taken similar action.
- The chief operating engineer of Consolidated Edison told the FPC that, with benefit of hindsight, power might have been restored in New York City twice or even four times faster.

The blackout there lasted from 8 to 13 hours, depending on the section of the city.

A third 16-year-old, who fled the scene, was apprehended nearby in a field.

Valentine was to be arraigned today. He was held for investigation of breaking and entering.

The four youths reportedly admitted to sheriff's deputies the burglary of a second store, Union Lake Market, 775 Cooley Lake, West Bloomfield Township, the same night.

BIG LOOT

When caught near the front door of the department store, the youths had seven bags of merchandise, a portable television and a basket of goods, police said.

The market, according to police, reported $104 stolen and an undetermined amount of beer, wine, packaged meat and cigarettes. The store was ransacked.

Police said a front door window was smashed to gain entry to the department store.

U.S. Infantrymen Hold Off Waves of Attacking Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Caught in a murderous maelstrom Saturday, U.S. infantrymen stood off wave after wave of attacks by a communist regiment with help from the U.S. Air Force and Navy jets.

The battle 40 miles northwest of Saigon raged yesterday near the bloodied rubber plantation where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have been hunting the communists for days following the army destruction of the Vietnamese army 7th Regiment Nov. 27.

Sporadic firing continued today.

The communists repeatedly probed another U.S. battalion in the area during the night.

Reports from the scene said U.S. casualties were heavy, although spokesmen in Saigon described them as moderate.

Estimates of Communist dead ranged up to more than 200, although only 40 to 50 bodies were left behind by the Communists.

The battle involved the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in its heaviest fighting since the Big Red One arrived in Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong warned of "punishing new blows" against Saigon, similar to the terrorist ing for $93 million in savings will not be disclosed until after discussions with the countries involved.

McNamara said there was no political significance in the foreign base closings which he said will not affect any U.S. troop dispositions.

As required by law, McNamara said, the Defense Department will file reports with the Senate and House Armed Services committees on Jan. 10 on bases which are being eliminated and at which more than 250 persons are employed or stationed.

ANOTHER 30 DAYS

No base closings, will take place for at least another 30 days beyond that.

McNamara said in response to questions that in such base closings he is required only to notify the appropriate committees and to give them 30 days notice, but may go ahead after that.

The latest base actions will eliminate more than 53,000 military and civilian jobs, most of them military.

McNamara contended there is a very real manpower saving in the elimination of the military jobs, even though the men are shifted to other posts.

WILL REDUCE

The action, he said, will reduce by a like number the military servicemen due to be added to the armed forces under a buildup to nearly three million by next September.

He said he did not have a breakdown of the military and civilian personnel involved in the 53,000 positions.

The civilians affected will be guaranteed an opportunity to shift to another government job.

If necessary, they will be retrained at government expense and their moving costs paid for them.

Plane's Pilot Gave Life

NORTH SALEM, N.Y. (AP) — Eastern Airlines pilot Charles J. White apparently sacrificed his life while helping to evacuate passengers after crash-landing his propeller-driven plane following a collision Saturday with a Trans World Airlines jet.

Three other persons lost their lives and 50 were injured. The two planes carried 112 persons.

Survivors and investigators alike praised the flying skill of White and the TWA pilot, Capt. Thomas H. Carroll, who guided his craft — minus a 30-foot section of wing — to a safe landing at Kennedy International Airport.

Federal investigators are probing the cause of the crash.

The body of Capt. White, 42, a World War II bomber pilot, was found yesterday midway down the smashed and charred cabin of his four-engine C-119.

Standing beside the wreckage, Oscar Bakke, regional director of the Federal Aviation Agency, said: "All I can say is it is fantastic that people walked away. The pilot must have done a wonderful job."

The planes collided about two miles above northeastern Westchester County, flying at a combined speed of perhaps 1,000 miles an hour.

White was piloting his ship on a shuttle run from Boston to Newark, N.J. The TWA jet was en route nonstop to New York from San Francisco.

Arthur D. Lewis, Eastern's senior vice president and general manager, issued a statement in New York last night praising the "superb airman" of White. Lewis said White apparently died while trying to help passengers from the flaming wreckage.

COULD'NT CONTROL CRAFT

After the collision, Lewis said, White "found he could no longer control his aircraft through normal systems" and made the emergency landing.

Lewis added, "That he was able to bring his aircraft into the small field under twilight visibility conditions is little short of miraculous."

"After the impact, Capt. White went all to insure the safe evacuation of his passengers and this performance of duty apparently cost him his life."

George Rhoads, 38, of Cranford, N.J., a passenger aboard the Eastern plane, said: "He flew us right into that hill. He panicked it right into the hill. He was fighting it all the way down."

JUST SINGED

Rhoads suffered only singed eyebrows and lashes.

With the tail section of the plane gone, another Eastern official said, White "could use only engine power" and made a "very accurate approach" to the field by manipulating the throttle.

Fred Trencher of Danbury, Conn., was flying his small private plane and saw the crash.

Trailing the Eastern plane down, Trencher said, he saw "a terrific burst of flame. It didn't appear as if anyone could get out alive."

Ambulances responded from hospitals in Mount Kisco and Carmel, N.Y., and Danbury. White apparently died while and two 16-year-old companions at the W. T. Grant Store, 3800 Cooley Lake, White Lake Township.

A third 16-year-old, who fled the scene, was apprehended nearby in a field.

Valentine was to be arraigned today. He was held for investigation of breaking and entering.

The four youths reportedly admitted to sheriff's deputies the burglary of a second store, Union Lake Market, 775 Cooley Lake, West Bloomfield Township, the same night.

BIG LOOT

When caught near the front door of the department store, the youths had seven bags of merchandise, a portable television and a basket of goods, police said.

The market, according to police, reported $104 stolen and an undetermined amount of beer, wine, packaged meat and cigarettes. The store was ransacked.

Police said a front door window was smashed to gain entry to the department store.

Jones industrial average was down 14.98 to 831.12.

Boosting of the interest rate brought immediate disapproval from the President.

The board announced its decision last night, saying higher rates will help prevent inflation and aid in overcoming the persistent U.S. balance of payments deficit.

It ordered: — An increase in the discount rate from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent, its highest level since 1930.

This is the interest the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks charge on loans made to member commercial banks.

Any upward movement generally spreads throughout the entire credit structure — applying to consumers who buy houses, cars and other goods on the installment plan.

Teacher Tells of Flying Fun

By JANICE KLOUSER

Have a hard day at work? Tensions mounting? Relax with a trip into the wild, blue yonder. That's the advice of Nancy Wilkinson, a student teacher at Wylie E. Groves High School, Birmingham, who has been taking flying lessons since last spring.

"I can have a horrible day at school," she said, "but when I get into that plane, I forget all about it."

"It's really beautiful up there and very relaxing."

The 22-year-old blonde from Oakland Township also works at Berz Airport in Troy on week-ends doing secretarial work and running the unicom which is used to advise pilots on such things as runway conditions.

FULL-TIME DUTIES

Nancy will be graduated from Michigan State University Saturday and start her full-time teaching duties at Pierce Junior High School in Waterford Township the following Monday.

An enthusiastic flier, Nancy's interest was whetted last spring after a trip with friends to the Bahamas in a single-engine plane.

It was her first trip in a plane, but she says it did not bother her.

"In fact I felt safer up there than I would have driving on the ground," she said.

SUMMER JOB

This summer she got a job at Capital City Airport in Lansing, doing about what she does at Berz. She started work at Berz when she came to Birmingham in September.

"It's really a very busy airport," she said of Berz. "In fact, I think it's busier than Lansing. On nice days, there's a steady stream of private planes in and out."

The money Nancy earns at Berz is applied to an account which pays for her flying lessons. She takes lessons after school and on Saturday mornings and has about 15 flying hours to go before getting her private license.

She has a student license which enables her to fly solo but not to carry passengers.

PRACTICE ROUTINE

The lessons entail takeoffs and landings, practicing stalls, turns and maneuvers in a practice area cross-country flights which are trips over 25 miles away, and practiced forced landings.

On cross-country flights, the pilot must learn to navigate visually. Although he is taught a little of instrument flying, he is not allowed to use it unless necessary.

Nancy has so far flown to Battle Creek and Lansing, One-hundred-mile trips are required before a pilot gets his license.

Nancy first soloed in Lansing and described it as "very exciting."

'SO PROUD'

"You're so proud of yourself that when you land, you expect everyone to be standing around cheering, which of course they aren't," she said.

Nancy is also enrolled in a 13-week ground school after which she must take a written exam covering areas such as navigation, weather, meteorology and radio procedure.

Only two women are enrolled in the school, which Nancy says is "a shame."

"Very few women fly," she said, "and it's too bad because they make good pilots." She predicts that more women will be flying in the next 20 years.

WAITING LISTS

She says private plane flying is increasing in popularity as evidenced by the waiting lists to get into the hangars at Berz.

"It's almost getting to be a traffic problem," she said.

Nancy sounds like a true flying buff when she says that flying is safer than driving.

"Almost every accident in a small plane is the pilot's fault," she said, "rarely is it the fault of the plane."

She says she had never had any troubles in her flying experience.

BRUCE TOWNSHIP—A Richmond man, George Loba Jr., 35, was struck by a car and killed last night while walking along the southbound lane of M53 north of 35 Mile.

The driver of the car was a Gerald Boynton, 33, of 7320 37 Mile, Romeo. Police said he stated he did not see Loba because of oncoming traffic.

Area Rights Group Hears State Official

TROY—Oakland County human relations leaders yesterday were urged to confront systematically real estate brokers who oppose integration.

Burton I. Gordin, executive director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, encouraged the action at a leadership conference sponsored by the Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council.

The gathering, held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, attracted some 120 persons.

Gordin noted that local councils can establish "a climate of welcome and openness" that encourages integration.

Forum at Troy to Stress History of Christianity

Scheduled for 8 p.m. the meeting will be held in St. Thomas More Hall, 4880 Adams.

The program will feature Rev. Maurice Geary, chaplain and counselor at Marian High School, Birmingham, speaking on the subject, "Traveling Through the Scriptures."

He will discuss the Scriptures in terms of geography, relics, and early artifacts.

Tuesday Forum, sponsored by the Adult Education Committee of St. Thomas More Church, is held the first Tuesday of each month. The meetings are open to the public.

"Too many real estate brokers in the suburbs say that the community is not ready, that the people don't want racial integration," he said.

'LET THEM KNOW'

"Well, you're the community, and you've got to let them know, time and time again — by direct confrontation as well as every other means of communication—that the respected leadership of your community welcomes good residents regardless of their race, religion, color or national origin."

Gordin urged the suburbanites to involve the committed and uncommitted leaders of their communities, including public officials, the clergy, educators, businessmen and labor leaders.

"People in the all-white suburbs say, 'We don't have any problems here,'" he said. "This merely means 'We don't have any Negro citizens here.'"

"If that's not a problem for your unconcerned neighbors, you can be assured that it's a serious problem for Negro citizens who seek to move into and live peacefully in your community."

SECOND GOAL

Cited as a second goal for the councils was their acting as a vehicle for social action.

"What I am talking about is the process of organization, communication and action," Gordin said. "It means getting the facts, analyzing the facts, making the facts known, arousing the people's interest and mobilizing support for your position."

Among those attending the conference yesterday afternoon were representatives of 11 human relations groups and officials from the Advancement of Colored People and the Urban League.

They exchanged experiences and ideas in workshops dealing with housing, employment, education, interfaith problems and organizational techniques.

SIX RECOMMENDATIONS

Six recommendations were made by the conferees.

They proposed:

- A countywide campaign to get signatures on covenant cards stating a belief in open occupancy.
- A study of the Negro's role in history as described in textbooks used in county schools.

• A countywide effort to solicit applications for teaching positions for Negroes.

• A day-long countywide conference on race relations and education.

• The establishment of a real estate office that would buy and sell homes without regard to race.

• An attempt to get local governmental units to deal only with suppliers and contractors which are equal-opportunity employers.

The proposals were presented to the coordinating council for further study.

Guesswork on Mathematics Is Example

Survey of How Students 'Get By' Has Surprising Results

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

A survey of how some students "get by" in school brings out some surprising facts.

Jane, a graduate student in college preparing for elementary school teaching, had no conception of the real meaning of a fraction. She knew the word.

She said that in any problem she always multiplied by the numerator or divided by the denominator to get the answer. Her method of approach to all word problems was some form of guessing.

Jane had gotten by through all of her grade school, high school and four years of college without anyone discovering that she did not really understand fractions.

It is not that Jane could not understand. Fifteen minutes of careful explanation was all that was required. She was forced to think about what fractions actually are and not rush off into some pattern of thought that might by chance get the answer.

The new mathematics in vogue in elementary schools is putting the spotlight on the haphazard manner in which too many students have guessed their way through basic mathematics.

MUST KNOW MATH

Prospective elementary school teachers must necessarily take a course in modern mathematics and understand it well enough to explain it to the children. Knowing this, many of them struggle for complete understanding of mathematics the first time in their careers.

A surprising number of these young men and women voluntarily are taking a course in remedial arithmetic as preparation for the course in modern mathematics.

Too many pupils give up the struggle for understanding as they work their way through

NEEDED HELP

Pat is such a pupil. In the eighth grade, asked to list some personal pronouns, he included several verbs and adjectives. It developed that he had no clear idea what a pronoun really is. Neither did he know how to find out by looking in his English book.

For some reason, Pat had never discovered the usefulness of the index! Once he found it was possible to understand things exactly and find them through the index, his progress in his English class was so rapid as to be called amazing. All he needed was a little direction in solving his specific problems of learning.

It Seems to Me....

GM Corporation President Sees Bright Business Trend

This entire area was stimulated and heartened anew by the appearance and remarks here Thursday of JAMES M. ROCHE, President of General Motors Corporation.

His talk was heard by an attentive audience of 700 business men who jam-packed the Elks and the vital message was spread throughout the area by The Pontiac Press. Mr. Roche scored a personal triumph in his appearance and laudatory comments were heard on all sides at the conclusion of the luncheon.

He was given a rousing and spontaneous reception when he was presented and was later rewarded by even greater applause at the conclusion of his forecasts for business in general and in our own area in particular. Everyone can rejoice at having our economy resting in the capable and perceptive hands of good administrators like JAMES M. ROCHE.

The biggest corporation in the world is lucky to have a top man possessing a definite flair for public speaking and the ability to "get his message across" to an audience that remains attentive and thoughtful. And quite simultaneously with this happy event, Calvin Werner lands another fine contract for the GMC Truck and Coach while "Long John" DeLoach is building Pontiac and Tempests almost as fast as an eager and expectant public demands them.

How can we better say: "Merry Christmas?"

We Sympathize....

Periodically, a "news" weekly takes a blast at the newspapers. Newsweek is the current "champion" of the divine right of self-expression.

Newspapers leave the weekly "news" magazines alone. Daily publications throw no bricks and hurt no rocks in their pathways. We really sympathize with the enormous problems confronting a publication that only comes out every seven days and which struggles to present current happenings. We imagine it must be a rather discouraging task as Newsweek seems to be increasingly aware.

But why pick on us? Since we issue daily, we propose to print the facts simply—as they happen. We don't have to falter under a weekly hodgepodge of past-due miscellany. Newsweek, you go your way. We'll go ours. And pax vobiscum, chums.

Just a 'Pushover'....

Certainly the United States ranks as the all-time, international pushover. No one grovels like we do. And the world yells: "go home."

A year ago we announced that we would cancel our annual pledge of $60 million unless the United Nations enforced its charter and made those in arrears "pay up." Russia giggled openly and the other free loaders guffawed in unison. Did they pay? They did not.

Did we cancel our $60 million as we "threatened"? We capitulated—weekly.

And now JAMES ROOSEVELT has the barefaced gall to suggest we advance an additional $5 million for technical assistance in certain countries. And you know who would pay the bill.

You—and you—and you.

Forecast: Education...

NEIL McELROY, chairman of Procter and Gamble, believes the American economy should lay definite plans to double its current annual investment in education between now and 1970. This comes from another one of the hardheaded bosses of one of the nation's biggest industries.

Mr. McElroy says U. S. business will need that many more highly trained men and women. He declares all businesses—large and small—will require administrators and executives with a sounder, rounder and more comprehensive background.

This forecast emanates from a man of wide experience and a comprehensive knowledge of world affairs.

And in Conclusion....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Fish dealers are aghast at the suggestion Catholics may not have to adhere to the traditional Friday diet. It could be serious for many who've specialized.

PAT COLLINS, Hollywood, and one-time Detroit girl, is currently considered the greatest hypnotist in the world. She's only thirty.

Overheard: "Everybody loves a lover, especially drive-in theater owners." "Green Acres" and "Hogan's Heroes" have made the biggest hit of the new TV shows.

Trusted scouts advise me Candace Ronk rates as one of the prettiest girls in the area. U. S. restaurants were jammed Thanksgiving but you may be amazed to learn the biggest "eat out" day of the year is—Mother's Day.

Overheard: "Any smart girl can refuse a kiss and still not lose it." Name on the rear of a pleasure boat: "Sin or Swim." Just recently, Chicago traffic was backed up four miles at O'Hare airport. Many, many missed flights.

ALEX KARRAS has the recipe for stopping JIMMY BROWN of Cleveland: a pistol and an ax. The "no-deposit" bottles may be on the way out. They've littered so much property, authorities are considering a right smart tax. The paratrooper looked out the airplane window anxiously. "I'm nervous," he confided to a seat mate. "This is only my second straight landing."

Queen ELIZABETH's salary and perquisites amount to $1.3 million a year. Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the white jurors who convicted those Klansmen; the J's—the first jury that didn't.

For Every Action—A Reaction!

David Lawrence Says:

Viet War Sure to Be Intensified

WASHINGTON — The war in Viet Nam is bound to be intensified soon, even if it means American bombardment of Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam.

The brutal bombing of a hotel in the heart of Saigon, the capital of South Viet Nam, has emphasized the need for a major decision.

It is not this incident alone, however, which will cause the change in tactics and strategy. It is rather the growing belief here that what the Communists want is a protracted war.

Unfortunately, the American government's spokesmen have accepted the idea of a long war. Defense Secretary McNamara said recently that the conflict may last "for years."

But why should American soldiers continue to be killed during an indefinite period of warfare when the enemy can be subdued and subjugated by using the full powers of the Army, Navy and Air Force, with their wide variety of bombs and missiles in the nonnuclear category?

BECOMING WORRIED Military men are becoming worried. Their hands are tied. They feel that when American troops are being killed, there is an obligation to use whatever weapons are available and in any quantity necessary to force an end to the war.

There is, to be sure, the usual answer about "escalating" the war. But already Red China has escalated it considerably by supplying planes and other weapons as well as advisers and trained military men.

If the United States refrains from drastic measures, the Red Chinese will certainly send in ground troops in large numbers, just as they did in Korea. It is suspected already that steps of this kind are in the making.

Unquestionably the next several days will see some high-level conferences to determine the military policy that should be followed in Viet Nam.

IMMEDIATE INSTRUCTIONS The top officers now in Saigon believe that the war should be fought vigorously. They want to be given immediate instructions to follow their own judgment in prosecuting the war.

Otherwise, American losses will grow heavier and heavier over a period of years and it will be more and more difficult to persuade them to stop.

Although their intention to degrade American officials had the opposite effect, overage Commie "students" tried it once again with Bobby Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Perhaps their nauseating performance did have one temporary gain, in that Kennedy aides persuaded the youthful senator to cut his Venezuelan visit from two-and-a-half days to one; but since the first barrage of eggs greeted Bobby in Chile, he has been hailed on his sue the North Vietnamese and caution and delay but the American people, when fully informed will want to see the war terminated quickly.

It isn't enough to "stop losing the war," as Secretary McNamara used the phrase the other day. It is essential that the determination to win shall permeate the entire government here as the alternative to ignominious defeat by Communist aggressors.

Capital Letter:

Latin Spit Bath Proving Baptism for U.S. Leaders

By RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON — Among the more obnoxious highway signs in the decade before "beautication" was one which read: "Spit is an Ugly Word. Especially on the End of a Cigar."

Strangely enough, this "ugly word" in recent years has been becoming as valuable as a Purple Heart to U. S. politicians who have encountered its active ingredient in rowdy Latin American mobs.

Two who can attest to this are Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, both of whom harbor White House aspirations, and have been the target for spit baths in South America.

Vice President Nixon did not really capture the imagination of voting Americans and backroom kingmakers until, during his "goodwill" trip to South America in 1958, he was spat upon in Lima and Caracas.

By his cool handling of a dangerously eruptive situation, he evoked such admiration that, on his return, President and Mrs. Eisenhower headed a bipartisan congressional delegation together with 15,000 other Americans who gathered at National Airport to welcome "Dick and Pat" as conquering heroes.

NEVER LEARN The Communist bumptkins in Latin America seem never to learn by experience.

Although their intention to degrade American officials had the opposite effect, overage Commie "students" tried it once again with Bobby Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Perhaps their nauseating performance did have one temporary gain, in that Kennedy aides persuaded the youthful senator to cut his Venezuelan visit from two-and-a-half days to one; but since the first barrage of eggs greeted Bobby in Chile, he has been hailed on his Latin American visit as "half-saint, half-folk hero," according to one U. S. newsmen covering the trip.

A spit bath is becoming the modern baptism in fire for U. S. presidential hopefuls, south of the Caribbean.

It is a universal language that can be understood even by monolingual Americans, but back here on the home front, a politician who survives the onslaught with honor seems to reap the same harvest as a struggling nation which is unable to grab off much of our foreign aid until it suddenly "discovers" a Communist threat.

Voice of the People:

'Let's Support Our Men in Fight for Freedom'

I am a United States soldier stationed in Germany. I'm just one of many thousands who are proud of being American. I plan on making the Army my career. I chose it myself. I feel I owe my country whatever I can give, even if it's my life, and I'm not the only American serviceman that feels this way. It really disturbs us to read about some of the stuff that is going on in our own country—protesters and persons who burn themselves to death. Why should people like that be allowed to exercise the rights of an American—those same rights our fathers and loved ones died for in the past Wars? How can these people who are feeding, and aiding the enemy and trying to knock down our morale call themselves Americans?

If I'm called to go to Viet Nam, I'll be more than happy to go serve my country. Thousands in Europe have put in requests for Viet Nam. Our men in Viet Nam need backing for sure with Christmas nearing. They'd love to be at home with their loved ones as much as anyone else but they're giving their lives to protect us so we can enjoy our freedom. What's the use of living a life if you're going to let someone run it for you, tell you where to work and how long, what school you're going to, and what you can or can't do. I say if you trust in God and your country, trust in the men that are fighting to protect it. They need all the support the people in the States can give them.

Comments on Efficiency of Pontiac Police

Through their alertness, the Pontiac Police Department apprehended the two men responsible for the robbery of our drug store. We feel this efficiency was due to the checking of our drug store at frequent intervals during the past weeks. We as citizens should all realize that our police department has a big job and responsibility.

Discusses Selection of Deputy Treasurer

I heartily agree with the stand of the Pontiac Press editorial on the selection of the County Deputy Treasurer. If Treasurer Seeterlin wishes to give a bright young man a start, why not try a bright young man with the educational qualifications? Unless Shane Murphy has more qualifications than those already printed, the people of Oakland County should give serious consideration to not returning both Treasurer Seeterlin and Clerk-Register Murphy to office for another term.

The Press could render a great service to the Oakland electorate by running feature articles on the extent of the opportunities for a "spoils system" in Oakland County government. Perhaps there is more opportunity for this than is desirable.

AN INTERESTED CITIZEN

'Are Citizens Fighting Communism?'

I wonder at times if we as Americans are fighting for or against communism. Newspapers have run series of articles on the situation in Viet Nam, draft-card burners and human torches. A Voice of the People letter stated the general freedom of one of our local youths would not give the father of a G. I. the day off unless he produced the travel papers showing that he was headed for Viet Nam. If this is true, why should our American boys be willing to sacrifice their lives to maintain a free country? In my opinion the general freedom should have been more than willing to give the time off, along with a hearty well wish from him to the son.

Free Thought

The Brazil Herald

One of the matters submitted to delegates to the Second Inter-American Special Conference here is a draft on freedom of expression, information and investigation, the original of which was approved in 1953 by the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights.

First submitted to OAS members and slightly revised after being commented on by the governments of Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, the U. S. and Venezuela, the draft is emphatically rejected by nearly all.

Denunciation came from hemisphere publishers at the Inter-American Press Association meeting, who again unanimously voted a resolution calling attention to its dangers.

Chairman of the committee which wrote the IAPA resolution is a distinguished Latin American publisher and statesman: Manuel Cisneros, publisher of La Cronica of Lima and former prime minister and foreign minister of Peru and the repeated executive has followed exhaustive studies by the IAPA's Committee on Freedom of the Press. The publishers are aware that "such a resolution would expose the press to these risks implied by state intervention, no matter how protective its purpose."

The publishers suggest that the conference confine itself to approving a text by the press in many countries of the hemisphere.

In effect, the IAPA is saying "no contract guaranteeing freedom of expression is better than a poor one."

The draft is open to extreme degrees of interpretation, misinterpretation—and even demagoguery, in that the very words of the document could be used to rationalize and justify suppression of the freedom of expression to proclaim Article XI states that exercise of freedom implies responsibilities and may therefore be subject to certain restrictions necessary, among other things, "to prevent incitement to racial or religious strife, to protect the health, morals, reputation or rights of others, to prevent the disclosure of confidential information..."

"But when we know that the Communist Party throughout the world is the sworn enemy of our Nation and is dedicated to the destruction of our Government and our way of life, to grant them a license for sedition is, in my opinion, insane... I do not believe that our forefathers ever intended that the Fifth Amendment be stretched to the point where today it is a haven for hoodlums, crooks, gangsters, and organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan and the Communist Party."

Wilson Rebuff: 'Will Not Start Rhodesian War'

BACKACHE & TENSION SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson today repeated his determination to end the Rhodesian rebellion without bloodshed and rebuffed the Organization of African Unity.

"The responsibility is ours," Wilson said in an interview with the London Daily Mirror, "and whatever the cost, we shall not be pressured into starting a war which we believe to be wrong."

"We have made it clear time and time again that we shall not invade Rhodesia or get into a military clash on or over Rhodesia with forces controlled by the illegal regime" of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

The OAU warned on Friday that its 36 members would break off diplomatic relations with the United Kingdom if it did not crush Smith's white minority government by Dec. 15.

Meeting in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, the OAU also agreed in principle to declare war on Rhodesia if Britain failed to meet the OAU deadline.

Britain's Rhodesia policy has avoided direct military threats and emphasized economic and diplomatic sanctions instead.

Last week Britain tightened economic pressures against Rhodesia and stationed Royal Air Force planes in neighboring Zambia to beef up Zambia's air defense.

British officials say the OAU threat, while serious, is weakened by the fact that nine of the Commonwealth members stand to lose their trading preferences if they break diplomatic relations.

LIMITED OPERATION
Wilson told the Mirror's political editor, John Beavan, that his previous mention of a possibly "limited operation" against Rhodesia did not mean an armed clash.

Wilson had told the House of Commons last Wednesday that Britain would not stand idly by if Smith should cut off electric power to Zambia from the Kariba Dam, on the Zambia-Rhodesia border.

"There would be more than one way open to us of dealing with the situation without bloodshed," Wilson told Beavan. Britain has pledged to safeguard Zambia against attack from Rhodesia and to protect the dam, which provides power for Zambia's rich copper mines.

Britain has stopped short of meeting Zambia's demand that it seize the power station on the Rhodesian side.

Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley returned from Africa and told newsmen Rhodesia may have mined the Kariba Dam to keep it from falling into the hands of its foes.

IN NICK OF TIME — A major grooming gift — and one that would be much appreciated — might well be a new electric shaver. This one, a cord model, comes in its own travel case.

Tax Saving Is Ready For Santa

Santa can give pleasure to the whole family, with TV sets, stereo phonographs, stereo components, AM-FM and stereo radios.

Or, he can make his gift personal, for one or more members of the family, with portable TV sets, radios and even stereo portable components.

There's a thrifty difference in the prices Santa will pay for these appreciated gifts.

Formerly, manufacturers paid a 10 per cent tax on the price of every TV set, radio or phonograph. Now, with the federal excise tax off, many have announced lower "suggested retail prices" well in advance of Christmas.

Lower prices generally are causing excitement in the world of color TV. This Christmas sees an increasing variety of color sets, with many priced substantially lower than was formerly possible.

One company presents in its new color TV line, a table model color set at about $350, plus 11 different color sets under $300.

WIDE SELECTION
In color or black and white, new TV sets feature a wide selection of screen sizes, from as small as a five-inch screen, up to 25 inches. Of course, all new sets are equipped for UHF reception as well as regular channels.

Portability gets attention. For instance, there's a new personal portable color TV receiver at a suggested price of under $250.

Fine furniture styling, to fit practically any decor, is a feature of many TV sets, radios, record players and complete "home entertainment centers," with color TV and stereo radio-phonographs.

Santa's entertainment gifts choice is as wide as the family's interests.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Boyle Brews Up Tempest in a Teapot

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It used to be easier in America to rob a bank in daylight than it was to get a decent cup of tea in a public place.

Things are looking up now. You can almost get a decent cup of tea in a bank while robbing it — banks do so much for one today.

BOYLE

One of the signs of maturity in a civilization is its ability to muster the service of a drinkable tea.

Although America is regarded as a youthful land, it is now 345 years from that distant day when the Pilgrims first stepped ashore here in 1620.

ALMOST LICKED

Ever since then we have tried to perfect a proper cup of tea, and it seems to me that we've almost got the problem licked. Essentially, the solution is simple. You put tea leaves in a porcelain enclosure that has a spout. Then you pour absolutely boiling water over it, pause and decide from memory the varieties of Ireland including the still still under British rule, and pour.

Then you sugar to taste, put in a little warm milk, and drink. You have all the liquid happiness that can be found under heaven.

Purists may insist upon refinements of this technique. They may say, for example, that good tea can only be made from free tea leaves, and they may criticize tea bags.

BEWHISKERED JOKE

One of their bewhiskered jokes: "We mailed some tea bags to our cousins in County Mayo and, not knowing what else to do with them, they hung them as decorations on their Christmas tree."

Actually, of course, all you need to do to make good tea is the mutual association of boiling water, tea leaves — bagged or free — and porcelain.

Waitresses now know this in murky Java and it says to them like a four-alarm bell: "Go, Joe, go! Go go, go!"

FOR PHILOSOPHERS

Tea is for the philosophers of purpose. Slowly imbibed in the morning, preferably served in bed by a dutiful wife, tea reaches down and pats the turbulent stomach and says in a warm, quiet voice:

"Everything's going to be all right. Let us put on our socks one at a time — and don't be rushed into anything. What is eternally, after all, except one day after another?"

Getting a decent cup of tea used to be a complex problem in America. Now is not. A good cup of tea tastes the same anywhere. It is cosmopolitan.

Today coffee is complex. Making it is a ritual and a mystery. It has become parochial. It takes a man half a lifetime to find a place that serves decent coffee, and if he adventures more than 100 miles in any direction he grumbles:

"What's the matter with this place? How can they be happy drinking warm mud?"

There's a difference between tea and coffee beyond the mere matter of taste.

Coffee is for eager beavers who wake up with a guilt complex. They gulp down a cup of

Diamond Rings Still Popular Item With the Young Couples

Amid the toys, sweaters, ties and other packages on Santa's sleigh this year will be many small jewelry boxes containing diamond engagement rings.

Christmas is a popular time for young couples to announce engagements and to seal their pledges of betrothal with diamonds — the very symbol of love and devotion.

Whether the diamond engagement ring is a surprise or not depends entirely on the couple.

Some girls like to be surprised — but statistics show most couples prefer to shop together for the ring, letting the girl make her own choice.

If the boy is concerned about prices (and most are), he can go to the jeweler in advance to select several rings within his budget.

SELECTED SHOWN

When he returns with his fiancée, the jeweler will show only those rings selected earlier, and the girl can still make her own choice.

How is the price of a diamond determined? It is based on the four Cs — carat weight, cut, clarity and color of the individual stone.

No two diamonds are alike — they are as different as fingerprints.

Even two diamonds of the same weight will vary in brilliance, color and clarity, and will be priced accordingly.

UNIT OF MEASURE

Carat is the unit of measure used in weighing diamonds. A carat is divided into 100 points, like the cents in a dollar bill.

If a diamond is 50 points (popular size for engagement rings), it weighs half a carat.

Out refers to the shape of the diamond and the arrangement of the facets. "The little planes that catch the light and make the diamond sparkle."

The shape of the diamond has little effect on its price.

CLARITY DEFINED

Clarity means the absence of carbon spots, bubbles or other natural imperfections.

The only diamonds that can be rated flawless are those which show no imperfections to an expert, using a glass that magnifies ten times and working under good light.

Most imperfections are so small that they cannot be seen and other packages on Santa's sleigh this year will be many small jewelry boxes containing diamond engagement rings.

Color of a diamond affects its price. The traditional bridal diamond is clear and colorless. The whiter a diamond is, the rarer it is and the more expensive.

STILL BEAUTIFUL

Off-white diamonds are still beautiful and valuable.

Diamonds come in several shapes. Select the one most flattering to the hand.

The round diamond, often called a brilliant, is used most often in engagement rings.

The marquise is pointed at each end like a small boat; the pear-shape is wide at one end and tapers to a point at the other; an emerald-cut has straight sides and comes in square or oblong contours.

Many Adults Turning to Bicycling, Too

For a spin around the block, a quick trip to the grocery store, that long-planned trip through the State Park, or for regular transportation across the campus — there's nothing like a bike. And Santa knows it!

If all the American-made two-wheelers that will be given as Christmas presents this year were laid end to end, they would stretch over 950 miles — roughly, from New York to Chicago.

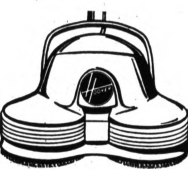

Industry estimates indicate that, in the United States alone, more than one million bicycles will find their way under Christmas trees this Yuletide.

Not only children, but collegians, young adults, parents and even grandparents are on Santa's list to receive a bike for Christmas. Nowadays, people of all ages are finding the bike the ideal vehicle for pleasant, healthful outdoor activity.

Many a youngster can thank Grandmother and Granddad for starting him on the road to bicycling enjoyment, with the gift of his first sidewalk bike.

This might be the year to return the favor, by giving the grandparents a bike.

Australians 'Hopping' Mad

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Citizens of this west Australian capital got hopping mad when they learned that kangaroo meat is going into sausages without their knowledge.

Health authorities disclosed that 8 of 18 butcher shops inspected were found to have kangaroo meat in sausages displayed for sale.

This is not illegal as long as the animals are killed under supervised conditions and the product is labeled kangaroo-meat sausages.

But inspectors say kangaroos are too often killed in the dusty bush under a blazing sun, flung into an open truck and carried around for a day or two before being processed.

Says Some Inmates Want Walls Around

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP) — Lt. Gov. John J. Daley says walls around a prison "give a sense of security to some inmates."

In supporting Gov. Phillip H. Hoff's proposal for additional medium security prison space, Daley said some prisoners transferred to the state prison farm get "itchy feet" and ask to be put back behind walls again.

BANDAGES INSTEAD OF BULLETS — Pfc. Robert Fass of Long Island, N.Y., dresses sores on the arm of a four-year-old Vietnamese boy at a dispensary set up for civilians at Vo Dat, 60 miles northeast of Saigon. The medical treatment of civilians is part of an over-all psychological war-fare program to win the allegiance of the South Vietnamese and counteract the propaganda programs of the Viet Cong. Pfc. Fass is part of a medical team of the 172d Airborne Brigade which had moved into the previously Cong-controlled village in late November.

Russian Moon Shot on Course

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Russian spaceship Luna 8 raced toward the moon today for an intended soft landing shortly after midnight Moscow time (4:50 p.m. EST).

It is the fourth Soviet attempt to place a package of instruments on the lunar surface and pave the way for a manned flight to the moon.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, announced the anticipated landing time last night and said Luna 8 would hit the moon in the area of the Sea of Storms.

Tass gave few details, but it appeared that Luna 8 was equipped with cameras and other instruments designed to survey the lunar landscape, determine its characteristics and record the temperature.

A successful soft touchdown would give the Russians a lead in the race to get a man on the moon.

RIGHT MANEUVER

Russian scientists communicated with Luna 8 twice yesterday. Telemetry information was received. Trajectory measurements were made to confirm that a correction maneuver made Saturday night was keeping the rocket on target.

"The correcting engine facilities were working during the correcting period in conformity with the calculated regime," Tass said.

Luna 8, launched May 9, missed the moon because its correction equipment failed to function properly.

Luna 7 and Luna 5 both landed too fast and crashed, destroying their precious cargo of instruments.

The Sea of Storms is the same spot where Luna 7 crash-landed Oct. 8.

The scheduled landing of Luna 8 will fall just before the opening session tomorrow of the Supreme Soviet, the Russian parliament.

Coed Gets Call to Duty

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — A Rutgers University Coed received a letter from her local draft board Saturday, asking which branch of the service she would prefer.

Erica Gaetano, 20, of Belleville, N.J., said she'd gladly serve in the military "if I were a man." Being a woman, she said, she'd prefer to finish her education and become a teacher.

Rutgers blamed the error on a computer, which, it said, processed information on its male students for the selective service system.

WIVES OF SPACEMEN — The wives of America's two current spacemen, Mrs. Frank Borman (left) and Mrs. James A. Lovell, are shown together at Mrs. Lovell's home in Timber Cove, Tex., yesterday. Mrs. Borman, who had just returned from Cape Kennedy, gave Mrs. Lovell a firsthand report on the successful launch of Gemini 7.

Detroit Group Hears AF Chief

DETROIT (AP) — Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, said today the United States has the military capability of destroying North Viet Nam and forcing its surrender "virtually overnight."

But American policy is to keep the Viet Nam war at the lowest possible level of intensity for humanitarian and political reasons, he said.

In an address prepared for the Detroit Economic Club, McConnell said the strikes by South Vietnamese and American aircraft against targets in North Viet Nam have a dual purpose.

"First," he said, "they are designed to assist our aerial interdiction effort in impeding the flow of supplies and reinforcements to the Viet Cong from the North because that is where the supplies are coming from."

ONLY HOPE

"Second, our only hope of stopping these supplies is to discourage the North Vietnamese from supporting the Viet Cong by making such support too costly to them. This strategy, which is best described as 'strategic persuasion,' gives the President a highly flexible tool in inducing North Viet Nam eventually to accept his offer of unconditional discussions."

It is true that we could achieve this objective, virtually overnight, by destroying North Viet Nam and forcing its surrender. We certainly have the military capability to do so.

But President Johnson has emphasized that it is our national policy to keep this conflict at the lowest possible level of intensity, for humanitarian as well as for political reasons.

As both our commander-in-chief and head of our government, he has the final decision on the exact level, and scope of our bombing effort in North Viet Nam, and that decision must be guided not only by military considerations and recommendations but by many other and possibly more compelling factors.

The general also told the Detroit audience: —Some B52 bombers of the kind which are making massive strikes from a Guam base against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are being changed to increase their load of conventional bombs by more than half.

—The "true" heroes of the battle against the Viet Cong has shifted to air power.

GI Missing; Urged Drive to Aid Viets

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) —

A month ago, Army Capt. Ronald F. Rod, father of five children, appealed for 10,000 bars of soap and clothing for a Vietnamese village where he was stationed.

A letter from Capt. Rod, whose home is in Kenner, a New Orleans suburb, was printed in the Clarion-Herald, the weekly newspaper of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New Orleans.

The request launched a campaign to collect soap and clothing which spread to other cities in the South, including Baton Rouge and Humboldt, Tenn.

A large shipment of donated goods is scheduled to be sent from New Orleans Tuesday for the villagers in the Duc Pho area.

MISSING IN ACTION

Capt. Rod may not be there to see that it is distributed. The Pentagon reported Sunday that the 31-year-old career soldier was missing in action.

Father Elmo Romagosa, executive editor of the Clarion-Herald, recalled that Rod wrote that his greatest problem in dealing with some 10,000 villagers, including refugees from the Viet Cong, was sanitation.

"His role was as a civil administrator," said Father Romagosa. "He wrote that children kept breaking out in boils because they had no soap to wash themselves and no clothing to wear."

Within two weeks after Rod's request was printed in the Nov. 4 issue of the Catholic newspaper, 4,500 pounds of clothing and 2,900 bars of soap had been collected by New Orleans children.

Findings of LA Riot Study Will Be Released Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The McCone Commission's post-mortem on last summer's Negro riot in Watts, the worst in America this century, was being released today with a forewarning "not to expect a miracle."

John A. McCone, former head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) was appointed by Gov. Edmund M. Brown to preside over the eight-member blue-ribbon commission, which included two Negroes.

Brown ordered the commission to investigate the cause of the riot and suggest ways of preventing a recurrence.

The five-day August riot in the predominantly Negro Watts District of south Los Angeles left 37 dead, more than 900 injured, some 4,200 persons arrested and nearly $50 million in financial losses.

The McCone Commission heard 43 witnesses, visited the 46-square-mile riot area and in 16 weeks had ready for distribution a 101-page book with color and black and white photographs of the riot along with a map of the area.

COST OF ANALYSIS

Somewhat akin to the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of former President John F. Kennedy, the McCone Commission's analysis was reported to have cost $250,000.

Last weekend, McCone cautioned the public "not to expect a miracle" from the report.

"You can't wave a wand or make recommendations that will relieve a disadvantaged area overnight," said the 63-year-old McCone.

"The best we can do is to present recommendations for relieving the situation causing the greatest amount of frustration and anger."

CITED CIRCUMSTANCES

Various authorities have cited circumstances and conditions that they believed figured prominently in the rioting, which began Aug. 11. These included:

- Unusually high humidity and temperatures.
- Poor housing facilities in the Watts District.
- Negro frustrations over poverty and the lack of jobs.
- Asserted police brutality, not necessarily physical in nature.

Store Shot Up; Parrot Killed

WARREN (AP) — Vandals invaded a discount store Sunday, shooting up television sets with stolen rifles and killing a talking parrot valued at $149.

Police estimated damage at $10,000 to $15,000, but a spokesman for Arian's Department Store said it was closer to $20,000. An 18-year-old boy is being held for questioning, police said.

The vandals left a monkey, taken from the pet department, tied outside in freezing temperatures.

Police said the burglars broke into a gun display, took rifles and ammunition, and began shooting up the television and appliance departments. The store spokesman said he could not immediately determine what had been taken.

Trial Tuesday for 3 Whites Accused in Minister's Death

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Three white men go on trial Tuesday on charges of murdering the Rev. James J. Reeb, a Boston minister who came south to join the civil rights movement.

The trial is the third in Alabama in recent days involving civil rights or racial slayings. The other two, both before white juries, ended in convictions.

BEATEN SEVERELY

The minister was severely clubbed, lapsed into a coma from which he never regained consciousness and died two days later in University Hospital in Birmingham.

His death was the second of the racially connected killings since the Southern Christian Leadership Conference under the direction of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. initiated an intensive campaign for voting rights for Negroes. Jimmy Lee Jackson, 26, of Marion was fatally shot during a demonstration Feb. 18 shortly after the campaign began.

Three members of the Ku Klux Klan were convicted in federal court in Montgomery, Ala., and sentenced to 10 years in prison on charges of violating the rights of a Detroit civil rights worker, Viola Gregg Struggle, and other Americans.

Mrs. Luizzo was one of thousands of demonstrators who participated in a four-day march from Selma to Montgomery in March after the Rev. Mr. Reeb's death. The Detroit housewife was shot as she drove demonstrators back to Selma after the march.

STATION ATTENDANT

A white service station attendant, Hubert Damon Struggle, 25, was convicted in the death of a Negro foundry worker, Willie Brewster. Struggle was sentenced to 10 years in prison on the second-degree murder conviction.

Brewster, who had not been involved in the civil rights struggle, was shot to death as he drove home from work in the wake of a series of militantly anti-integration rallies in Anniston.

President Johnson, commenting on the Klansmen's conviction, said, "the whole nation can take heart."

'Indonesia Red Leader Alive'

Jakarta Reports Say He's Held by Army

SINGAPORE (AP) — D. N. Aidit, the Indonesian Communist party chief, is alive and in the hands of anti-Communist leaders of the Indonesian army, diplomatic travelers from Jakarta reported today.

These informants said Aidit, who had been reported killed last month, was seen being taken under guard recently from a military aircraft at the Jakarta airport.

Intelligence sources in Singapore described the reports as "very likely."

The intelligence men expressed belief the Indonesian army is holding Aidit for possible use as a weapon against President Sukarno and First Deputy Premier Subandrio.

DON'T PLAY ALONG

"If Sukarno — or more especially Subandrio — doesn't play along with the army's scheme of things," one intelligence man said, "they could always threaten to produce Aidit and have him tell publicly all he knows."

"And you can be sure that what he tells would incriminate not only Subandrio but Sukarno as well in the whole Oct. 1 coup affair." The Communist-inspired coup failed.

The intelligence sources discounted Indonesian and Japanese paper reports that Aidit was killed in central Java Nov. 22 trying to escape from a prison in Solo, central Java.

The intelligence sources said the reports of Aidit's death probably were circulated by the Indonesian army to persuade Communist rebels still free in various parts of Java that "there is no point in resisting any more."

Chilean Soldiers Fly to Disputed Argentine Border

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Five Chilean soldiers were reported en route to a disputed border area today while Chile and Argentina completed plans to hold high-level ministers' talks to ease the border tension.

Chile's largest paper, El Mercurio, said the troops were flown to Puerto Montt, about 750 miles south of Santiago, and would continue further south to the remote border area when weather permits.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Francisco Negro de Lima became the new governor of Guanabara State Sunday despite a military request for his arrest for alleged Communist connections.

The inauguration went off as scheduled after Brazil's military tribunal postponed action on the request, made last week by a colonel investigating the illegal Communist party.

Informal sources said the court deferred to President Humberto Castello Branco's promise that all winners of the Oct. 3 gubernatorial elections would be installed.

Negro de Lima said in his inaugural speech he would fight against communism.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno challenged the Indonesian Parliament today to relieve him if it is dissatisfied with the way he is running the country.

There was no indication that the 600-member assembly would take up the challenge. It elected Sukarno president for life in 1963.

The president once more demanded that his full powers, which the army curtailed in the wake of the attempted coup on Oct. 1, be returned to him.

The identification of a significant number of unexpected, medically important abnormalities in hospital patients through tests of their blood was reported recently.

Mormon President Raps Fad Dancing

PROVO, Utah (AP) — President David O. McKay of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has crushed any hopes to return the swim, twist, turg or money to Brigham Young University.

In a letter printed in the student newspaper, Daily Universe, the 82-year-old leader of the world's 2.5 million Mormons went on record opposed to fad dancing.

BAMBOO PREFERRED — Steel may be the material for heavy-duty construction in the West, but in the Orient the ancient bamboo is still preferred even for many modern tasks. This new building rising in Hong Kong is festooned with scaffolding built completely of bamboo. Instead of the mass of steel pipes usual in the West, Experience has shown that bamboo scaffolding, constructed without nails or metal support, is actually stronger and more stable than similar steel structures.

Off-Track Betting Said Damaging British Economy

LONDON (AP) — Legalized off-track betting in Britain an annual $2.8-billion business, has failed to keep gambling within reasonable bounds and is seriously hurting the economy, a member of a New York survey team said today.

Henry D. Paley said the report found that the poorest British gambled the most. This hurts the economy because it diverts money from normal consumer goods purchases by the working class, he said.

Paley made a similar study two years ago for New York State Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carino. This year's report was prepared with Samuel Roman, representing New York's eight harness race tracks. They sought information in connection with a proposal to set up state-run, off-track betting shops in New York.

'We've Only Got 11 Months to Go'

Gls Live War Constantly in Viet Nam

By TOM TIEDE

LAI KHE, Viet Nam (NEA)—The day after combat. Full bellies, clean clothes, a night's rest.

The men of A Company, 2 Infantry, rose early, these who slept at all, and complained anew how hot it was, how the cook had watered the coffee again, how their faces burned from cold razor blades.

The fear was gone now. But the memory would never be. "Gimme a cigarette, somebody," growled a sergeant.

"I thought you quit smoking," a man replied. "Did."

'STARTED AGAIN'

"Whatta ya want one for, then?"

"I started again during the fight," the sergeant sighed. "I was lying there shooting and wishing I had a smoke. Then I said 'Fer crying out loud, what have I got to lose?' So I lit up."

"It's bad for your health, Sarge."

MEN LAUGHED

"So? I hope I live long enough to die of cancer."

The men laughed. Everybody stared at his hands.

A guy with a fragment wound was tracing the outline of the hole with a finger. A lieutenant cleaned his weapon. A medic cut his fingernails.

"I never figured we'd get hit so hard this soon," a man said.

ONE MONTH

"Yeah. Lord, only one month we been here," another answered.

"The worst was when we got cut off."

"You said it."

"I felt like Custer's Last Stand all over again."

"You said it."

"You know what really was funny?" a noncom asked.

CAN OPENER

"Right in the middle of the whole thing, when the slugs were popping all over, a guy turned to me and asked for a P-38."

"A can opener?"

"So help me, he did. Said he was hungry."

A jeep drove up a nearby road and the men swore at the dust.

A young boy labored a pencil over a piece of wrinkled stationery. Another rubbed the tips of his fingers lightly over the prickly sprouts of his freshly trimmed crew cut.

ALWAYS THE WORST

"They say the first big fight's always the worst," a guy mumbled.

"Bull," someone snorted. "All big fights are the same."

"Well, anyway," said a third, "we gave 'em hell."

"And they us," answered the sergeant.

"You said it."

EIGHT OR NINE

"Eight or nine guys got it in this company alone."

"One guy had his arm blown off right next to me."

"He live?"

"No. I tried to help him, but it wasn't any use. I tied something around the stump, but he bled to death right there in my lap."

"Jeez."

"What could you do for him? Nothing. I felt sick."

KICKED AT DIRT

"They kicked at the dirt with the heels of their boots."

TIEDE

'STARTED AGAIN'

"Whatta ya want one for, then?"

"I started again during the fight," the sergeant sighed. "I was lying there shooting and wishing I had a smoke. Then I said 'Fer crying out loud, what have I got to lose?' So I lit up."

"It's bad for your health, Sarge."

MEN LAUGHED

"So? I hope I live long enough to die of cancer."

The men laughed. Everybody stared at his hands.

A guy with a fragment wound was tracing the outline of the hole with a finger. A lieutenant cleaned his weapon. A medic cut his fingernails.

"I never figured we'd get hit so hard this soon," a man said.

ONE MONTH

"Yeah. Lord, only one month we been here," another answered.

"The worst was when we got cut off."

"You said it."

"I felt like Custer's Last Stand all over again."

"You said it."

"You know what really was funny?" a noncom asked.

CAN OPENER

"Right in the middle of the whole thing, when the slugs were popping all over, a guy turned to me and asked for a P-38."

"A can opener?"

"So help me, he did. Said he was hungry."

A jeep drove up a nearby road and the men swore at the dust.

A young boy labored a pencil over a piece of wrinkled stationery. Another rubbed the tips of his fingers lightly over the prickly sprouts of his freshly trimmed crew cut.

ALWAYS THE WORST

"They say the first big fight's always the worst," a guy mumbled.

"Bull," someone snorted. "All big fights are the same."

"Well, anyway," said a third, "we gave 'em hell."

"And they us," answered the sergeant.

"You said it."

EIGHT OR NINE

"Eight or nine guys got it in this company alone."

"One guy had his arm blown off right next to me."

"He live?"

"No. I tried to help him, but it wasn't any use. I tied something around the stump, but he bled to death right there in my lap."

"Jeez."

KICKED AT DIRT

"Please, just one cookie?"

Not long ago, Mrs. Barbara Saylor, Michigan Bell telephone operator in Flint, heard the hesitant voice of a small boy asking her if it was all right if he ate a cookie.

"But it's so near dinner," was her reply.

"Mommy's not here to make dinner, and I'm hungry."

"Where is your mommy?" Barbara inquired.

"She called... the car broke... she'll be late. I sure would like a cookie."

Barbara hesitated a moment.

"Please, just one cookie?" pleaded the boy.

"Instead," suggested Barbara, "why don't you spread yourself a nice slice of bread and butter? I'm sure Mommy will give you a cookie after dinner. Will you be a good boy and do that for me?"

"Okay," replied the youngster, disappointed but reassured that—somewhere—a nice woman was at hand to offer a bit of motherly advice until his own mother arrived home.

Nothing unusual about this little incident. Just another example of how telephone people are naturally friendly and thoughtful. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Surgery Only Answer to Gallstone Woes

Q — I am a 60-year-old man. A recent X-ray revealed a large stone in my gallbladder.

By avoiding greasy foods I have been fairly comfortable except for a continuous nagging pain at the base of my right shoulder blade.

Is surgery the only cure for this? If I don't have an operation will it get worse?

A — There is no way to dissolve the stone. Some persons with proved stones in the gallbladder survive without operation but this is an unjustifiable gamble.

With modern surgical techniques and antibiotics the operation is safe but postponing it greatly increases the danger of infection in the gallbladder spreading to the liver or pancreas.

It also increases the danger reveal ulcers in the stomach or of agonizing gallstone colic and of cancer of the gallbladder.

Living without a gallbladder is no handicap but may eliminate one source of worry for you.

Q — Does X-ray always show whether there are stones in the gallbladder and whether the gallbladder is diseased?

A — Would a gallbladder X-ray show whether you have an ulcer?

A — X-rays made after you have taken the opaque dye that concentrates in the gallbladder will reveal stones if any are present.

In addition to this, X-rays may show that your gallbladder does not empty after a fatty meal (one type of gallbladder disease or malfunction).

Other types of gallbladder disease must be found by other methods.

A gallbladder X-ray will not reveal ulcers in the stomach or the duodenum, which lies just beyond the stomach.

Q — What is acute cholelithiasis? Is it curable? What medication should be taken for it?

A — Cholelithiasis refers to stones in the gallbladder.

I presume the "acute" refers to the gallstone colic that occurs when a stone passes through the bile duct into the intestine.

The only cure is surgical removal.

The only drugs of any value would be pain killers to tide you over the worst of the attack.

Q — What diet do you recommend for gallbladder disease?

A — Most persons with gallbladder disease are overweight and should reduce.

The most important consideration, both for the gallbladder disease and the weight problem, is the avoidance of fats — no chocolate, nuts, pie crust, avocados or whole milk.

In almost everyone with this disease the gallbladder must eventually come out, after which a return to a liberal diet is possible.

There are many advantages to not delaying this operation.

Says Heart Murmur No Reason to Curtail a Child's Exercise

Science Service

PHILADELPHIA — Do not condemn your elementary school child to the sidelines because he has a heart murmur.

Most children can exercise in spite of this common cardiac condition, provided the murmur is not caused by a heart-valve weakness, the National Conference on the Medical Aspects of Sports here was told.

"It should be said at the very beginning," explained Dr. Albert S. Hyman of New York, "that every athlete has cardiac problems."

An imbalance of oxygen is produced in the system by vigorous exercise, whether or not the person has a normal heart. Any athlete experiences labored breathing, palpitation and "heart pain" as a result of a physiologic oxygen debt.

A simple test is based on the percentage of recovery of normal breathing and heartbeat.

after exercise, Dr. Hyman said. Those who have a low recovery rate are usually poor candidates for any athletic program.

EIGHT TYPES

Eight types of cardiovascular disabilities have been found among school and college students.

Cardiac murmurs are said to occur in about 60 per cent of all youngsters, but have no clinical significance in many cases.

The well-conditioned athlete with a cardiac condition may be better able to tolerate oxygen debt than a person who has a normal heart but is in poor physical condition, said Dr. Hyman, who is associate clinical professor of medicine-meritus, New York Medical College.

Dr. Hyman is founder and honorary trustee of the American College of Cardiology.

This optimistic outlook was in contrast to another report, showing that one of every nine boys will have either a concussion, a jammed neck or a pinched nerve during a football season at University of California at Los Angeles.

Refrigerator Car Fire Causes $12,000 Loss

LANSING (AP)—A refrigerated railroad car caught fire Sunday, causing some $12,000 damage to a cargo of 1,000 cases of lemons. Fire officials said if the Public Health Department condemns the balance of the shipment damages could exceed $20,000. A defective refrigeration unit caused the blaze, firemen said. There were no injuries.

U.S. Rights Unit, Katzenbach at Odds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach and the U.S. Civil Rights Commission are at odds over whether the Justice Department is dragging its feet in implementing the historic Voting Rights Act.

In a report made public during the weekend, the commission, an independent agency which advises and informs the President and Congress, suggested that Katzenbach and the Justice Department are moving too slowly under the Act.

Katzenbach replied sharply, branding the Commission's allegation as "neither literally correct nor cognizant of the requirements of enforcing the act."

It was the second time in less than a month that the commission had criticized the Justice Department. Three weeks ago it accused the department of "reluctance" to protect civil rights workers from violence.

But the latest criticism, contained in a report on early implementation of the four-month-old Voting Rights Act, was the sharpest yet and the first to bring a reply from Katzenbach.

ANSWERS ATTACKS

The reply, a 3,000-word letter to the Commission's staff director, William L. Taylor, was also seen as an answer to attacks on the department by civil rights leaders.

Some Johnson administration officials feared the exchange would lead to further open conflict between the Department and the Commission, both of which are being given additional authority under a governmental reorganization plan.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has said the plan should end "confusion and duplication" in the civil rights field.

Although the President is not likely to take sides publicly, there is little doubt he approves of the course followed by Katzenbach.

The Commission's chief complaint against Katzenbach was that he has failed to send enough federal voting examiners into the South. Katzenbach replied that he has ordered, and will continue to order, examiners into any county where they are warranted.

The federal government owns 769,900,000 acres of land in 50 states, or more than one out of every three acres.

THE 'RED' SPECIAL — A soviet-made hydrofoil speeds along in test run on the Elbe river near Hamburg, West Germany. The craft can carry 120 passengers and has a top speed of about 40 miles an hour. It will operate between Cuxhaven and Heligoland.

Arraignment Due in Brutal State Killings

LANSING (AP) — Authorities planned an arraignment today for Donald Basinger, 32, held in connection with Saturday's bludgeoning slaying of his wife and two children.

Officers said Basinger was held on an open charge of murder after the discovery of the bodies of Mr. Joann Basinger, 26, and her children, Dennis, 2, and Charmaine, 7.

Ingham County Coroner Jack Holmes said the three died of repeated blows, apparently from a bludgeoning hammer.

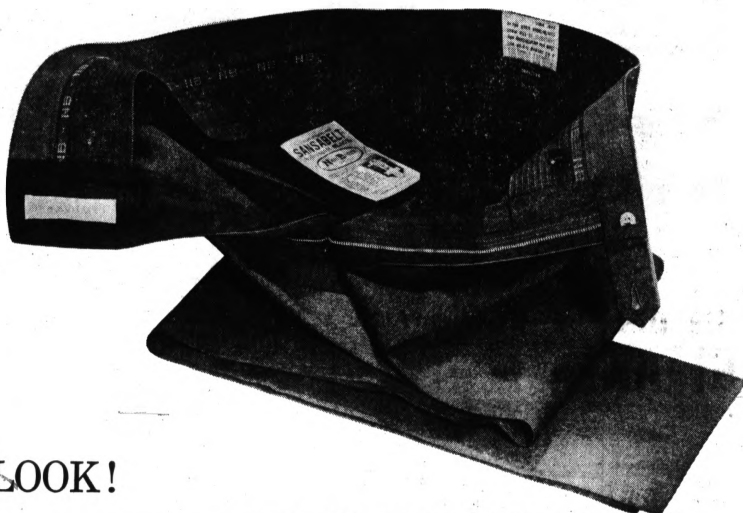

Two other children, who reportedly were outside playing, were uninjured. The family dog also was beaten to death.

According to Det. Fred Wilkins officers were called to the Basinger home by neighbors to investigate a disturbance. Dennis was dead at the scene and Mrs. Basinger and Charmaine died at a hospital.

Wilkins said Basinger was treated at the hospital for self-inflicted head wounds, apparently from the same hammer.

"The 'War of Jenkins' Ear" was the popular name given to a war between Spain and Great Britain in 1739. It was occasioned partly by the tortures undergone by Robert Jenkins, a ship captain, at the hands of the Spaniards.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Is She Too Friendly?

Gives Wrong Impression

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Just what is the difference between "flirting" and being friendly with a man? I have been accused of flirting when I have only meant to be "nice" to a fellow.

I am single and people tell me I'm the type they feel like they've known all their lives only a few minutes after meeting me. Men DO ask me out as soon as they meet me, but I have trouble with them after that. They try to take liberties with me and I'm not that kind of girl.

ABBY

How can I be friendly enough to capture a man's interest, without giving him the idea that anything goes?

JUST FRIENDLY: "Flirting" constitutes encouragement above and beyond the platonic plateau. The girl who is constantly being misunderstood is a little TOO friendly.

Don't be a tease. The man who mistakes the dating call for the mating call needs his hearing tested. Start by saying "NO" very clearly.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was selected to be one of a few for a big honor in her school. She had a lot of competition but, Abby, she won it fairly and squarely.

We later heard through the grapevine that the reason our daughter won was because we were friendly with some of the people who had a big say in picking the winner. I swear on a stack of Bibles that we never once mentioned our daughter or anything about that "honor" to these people.

This sure does take the joy out of it for us. How can we let folks know that the won with no help from anybody?

HURT: DEAR ABBY: Don't waste your time or energy. Your friends don't need to be assured and your enemies wouldn't believe the truth anyway. Credit it to the sour grapevine and forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Please be a pal and discourage people from sending out those boring five-page Christmas newsletters that seem to have replaced the lovely traditional Christmas card. I realize that some people don't have time to write letters to their friends all year and their annual Christmas letter helps bring folks up to date on what has happened to all the members of the family since last Christmas. However, if Cousin Ned was appointed to the Supreme Court, they will read it in the papers.

And who cares if Susie placed

LAKELANDER

DEAR LAKELANDER: Speak for yourself. I've seen some annual Christmas newsletters that were interesting, amusing and tastefully done. And those five-page duds make wonderful kindling.

DEAR ABBY: I was delighted with the way you answered that young woman who wanted to know what was wrong with discussing people. You said, "Intelligent people talk about ideas, —not people." How true. And what a joy it is to be around them.

One of the loveliest qualities found in all truly great ladies is their reluctance to talk about absent parties in a manner which is uncomplimentary to them.

This kind of behavior reflects good breeding and inspires trust and affection. It is something we all "know" but should be reminded of from time to time. Thank you for reminding us.

Old Silver Is on Display for Program

Mrs. James Youngblood gave a program on Sheffield silver at the Christmas party for the Heritage Society in her Bloomfield Hills home.

She displayed several pieces of silver from the late 1700s and told of the methods of silver-plating used in England from 1750 to 1838.

Wassail was served preceding the program in the Victorian room of the Youngblood home which is furnished in the Williamsburg period.

After an exchange of antique gifts, the traditional English plum pudding was served. Mrs. Robert Boyce and Mrs. John Napley assisted with the coffee.

Carol Sing for Patients by Group

Holidays Entertaining Begins for Hills Folk

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Strouse of New York City returned to our community this weekend. With Mr. and Mrs. William D. Laurie Jr. of Grosse Pointe and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas they entertained 250 guests for a holiday brunch, Saturday at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

It was one of those parties for which the Strouses are noted. Their guests had a happy time recalling past events when Mr. and Mrs. Strouse resided in Birmingham and also catching up on the latest news.

FOR CHRISTMAS

At Christmas time, Mr. and Mrs. Strouse, together with her mother, Mrs. L. B. Auger will visit the Strouses' youngest daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Strouse anticipates a wonderful time playing Santa Claus to her six grandchildren. Another large party at Bloomfield Hills Country Club Saturday was the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Colombo gave for some 150 friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Hitt recently returned home after one month of traveling in Florida and Jamaica.

NEW HOME

The John Cannons have moved into their new home on Woodale Court, Bloomfield Hills. With their children, Jill and John junior, they spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Cannon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Lang of Rathmore Road. Joining the family was Mr. Lang's elderly aunt, Mrs. E. E. Domm who arrived by plane from Chicago.

The project, "Knight Before Christmas" planned by the Women's Council of Holy Name Church in Birmingham will be supported by Mesdames Harry L. Winston Jr., Judge W. B. Bearden, Leon E. Briggs, Donald E. Scriven and many others.

Sorority Has Dinner Party

Twenty members of Zeta chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa sorority, gathered recently for a holiday dinner-meeting in Fortino's Steak House.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. Marjorie Cotterman and Mrs. Francis Schell.

Christmas plans include gifts for a number of children in foster homes, also a gift of money to the ADK scholarship student in this area.

She Wishes to Add Their Son

By The Emily Post Institute Q: When signing birthday or anniversary cards to our friends, I always include the name of our 19-month-old son along with my husband's and mine.

My husband thinks it is foolish to include our child's name on the card as he could not possibly be aware of the birthday or anniversary.

I'm sure this is not a very important matter but I would, nevertheless, like to have your opinion on this.

A: I'm inclined to agree with your husband, but as you say, it is not an important matter and if you wish to include your small son's name on these greeting cards, there is certainly no reason why you may not do so.

CAN'T GO TO THE PARTY

Q: I received an invitation to a friend's birthday party. I will be unable to go as I have another engagement for that evening. The invitation did not mention anything about a reply.

Must I, nevertheless, write a note to my friend telling her that I will not be able to go to her party?

A: As no reply was asked for, strictly speaking, none is necessary.

However, it would be polite and thoughtful to write a note or telephone your friend to say how sorry you are that you will not be able to go to her party and give her your best wishes for a happy birthday.

TOAST TO HER HUSBAND

Q: The other evening I was at a dinner given in honor of my husband. A toast was proposed and he and everyone stood to drink it.

I stood along with the others and drank the toast. However, I felt somewhat uncomfortable because I really didn't know whether I, as his wife, should have done so. Will you please advise me?

A: If the toast had been proposed to you as well as to your husband, you should have remained seated; but as you were not included in the toast you were quite right in rising and drinking with the others.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Formal Wedding Procedure" includes details on the wedding procession, the receiving line and other helpful information.

DIANE LYNN DARBY

June vows are planned by Diane Lynn Darby of Swartz Creek, daughter of the Carl Darbys of Ridge Road, and David Allen Corns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Corns of Kalamazoo. She is an alumna of Michigan State University where her fiancé is a senior.

Traditional Tunes Sung by Magi

In each Belgian Village, three men chosen for their outstanding virtue, are appointed to walk through the streets at Christmas dressed as the Magi. Attired in colorful raiment, they sing two songs at the door of each house.

One describes the journey of the Three Kings, the other is a Flemish version of "O Tannenbaum." Their singing is always rewarded by an invitation to tea and pancakes.

Button Earrings

When putting pretty buttons on a dress that you are making, use two extra ones to cement to earring backs for matching accessories.

Brock-Hampton Vows in Afternoon Ceremony

A four o'clock ceremony and reception Saturday in the First Social Brethren Church, marked the vows of Billie Jean Hampton and Elmer Brock Jr. of Pingree Street.

Their parents are the Thomas Brights of Putnam Street and the senior Mr. and Mrs. Brock of Kettle Island, Ky.

The bride's floor-length gown of white taffeta was styled with bodice and overskirt of Chantilly lace.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a jeweled tiara and ivory accented her bouquet of white Sweetheart roses.

Any Hampton and Diane Bright attended their sister at the rite performed by Rev. Loy Barger. On the esquire side were William Daniels, best man, and the bride's brothers, Robert Hampton and Charles Bright, as ushers.

Quiet Time in New York

In sharp contrast, in the bustling, crowded metropolis of New York, at Amster Yard, a quadrangle of renovated 19th Century brownstones and gardens, friends of the 46th Street Association gather on the Monday evening before Christmas to light a stately spruce in the center of the Yard.

At that same moment, Christmas lights and candles are turned on in the windows of the surrounding houses.

Then, carrying lanterns and lighted torches, and dressed in colorful caps and mufflers, the carollers walk through the neighboring streets singing the beloved Christmas carols to the enjoyment of their friends and neighbors, returning later to the Yard for a Wassail bowl and fruit cake.

It's a Pair

Twin daughters were born Dec. 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Morrison L. LaPratt (Marilyn Miller) of Walled Lake. The girls have been named Michele Ann and Marcia Sue. Grandparents are the Raymond La Pratts of Keego Harbor and the Vincent Millers of Warren.

The Glenn M. Lockharts of Eastwood Street, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Brenda Irene, to James Grigg Pote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig M. Pote, also of Eastwood Street.

Sing on Mountain

To mark the midnight when Christmas Eve becomes Christmas Day, in the Austrian village of Kitzbühl, villagers and skiers, carrying long, lighted tapers, slowly climb up a snow-covered mountain. They gather in the churchyard of a mountainside church to sing Christmas carols into a still and starry night as Mozart's music sounds on twin trumpets from the two church towers on high.

Kappa Delts to Celebrate at Parties

Both afternoon and evening groups of Kappa Delta sorority, South Oakland Alumnae, will hold Christmas parties on Dec. 14.

The afternoon group will have luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William P. Shaver of Birmingham.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Walter Dennis, Mrs. William R. Niesen and Mrs. Myron R. Zbudowski.

Members will sample Christmas cookies and exchange recipes. A box will also be donated to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

EVENING GROUP

The evening group will meet in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Paul Pentecost. Cohostesses will be Mrs. Raymond Graziani and Abigail Sweeney.

Members will bring can goods to fill baskets for the needy. There will also be a Christmas tree ornament exchange.

Terry Is Tops

Terry cloth is a perfect bathroom accessory. Pretty poncho robes are comfortable and water absorbent to wear while shampooing the hair or giving yourself a pedicure on stepping out of the tub.

Set Greens Market for This Friday

The annual Greens Market, presented by the Waterford Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, in cooperation with the Holiday Farms, Lake Angelus and Sylvan Lake branches, is slated for Friday.
Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Waterford CAI Building.
Specializing in greens, the Waterford Branch will have swags, roping, trees and a variety of fresh greens. Members also will be selling Della Robbia wreaths and Christmas arrangements for home and hospital.
KITS
The Holiday Farms women are featuring do-it-yourself kits which include kissing balls, door swags, log candle holders and spaghnum tree forms.
A delectable display of holiday breads will be used for counters operated by Sylvan Lake branch members, specializing in baked goods.

Lake Angelus members will have a vast variety of sale items, including door knockers and decorated hangers, hand-knit articles, mobiles, tree ornaments, candles and Christmas cards. Their food items will include baked goods, stuffed dates and preserves.
VARIETY
Waterford's bazaar table will offer jewelry, Madonna wall hangings, felt birds and personalized ornaments for the tree, bookmarks, homemade candy and specialty foods.
A smorgasbord luncheon is planned from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. E. L. Windeler and Mrs. William A. Shunck, Waterford branch. Mrs. James C. Raison is chairman for the Holiday Farms branch; Mrs. Charles Mortenson, Lake Angelus; and Mrs. Sam Warwick, Sylvan Lake.

WATERFORD BRANCH
Mrs. J. P. Carritte of Royal Oak talked to members of the Waterford branch recently. Curiosity about geraniums began a pursuit which has become an integral part of Mrs. Carritte's life.
The speaker related that some 3500 varieties of flowering plants, 400 trees and nearly 400 greens are now known to have existed at the time the Bible was being written. Many are listed in its pages.
Most of the herbs we are familiar with were known centuries ago, according to Mrs. Carritte, as were lentils, garlic, onions (67 varieties), watermelon, cantaloupe and cucumbers. The grains barley, corn and wheat also were common then, and the list of fruits included the apple, apricot and pomegranate. The grape and olive were measure of a man's wealth.
Mrs. Carritte also told of recent experiences in Morocco where she went for the wedding of her daughter to a French scientist.

The meeting was at the Walton Boulevard home of Mrs. Lloyd Thornton. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. A. W. Emery and Mrs. Arthur Arnold.
Her husband of 21 years is president of the National Association of Manufacturers.
He also is president of Fluor Co. Ltd. of Los Angeles, a firm with 6,000 employees that does a $100-million to $200-million a year business building oil, chemical, and petrochemical plants around the world.
PARTNERS
"We have the perfect husband-wife relationship," said Fluor. "I get the work, and she gets the ulcer."
Less than three months after he was elected last year to a one-year term as president of the NAM, Mrs. Fluor came down with an ulcer.
"I take things quite seriously," she said. "But that ulcer — it wasn't all NAM. It was part Fluor."
She is quite serious about her role as a corporate wife.
"You should be a good listener and a good conversationalist," she said in an interview. "That's one of the biggest things for a good wife."

Carols Began As a Device to Teach

The word carol, meaning "to dance and sing in a ring," was said to have been popularized by St. Francis of Assisi.
Wanting to bring the Christmas message vividly to the villagers of Assisi, who could not read, he arranged a manger scene using real people as animals. When the villagers came to see it, he led them in joyous song, or caroling, for which he composed a series of nativity hymns expressing faith, tenderness and a happy enjoyment of Christmas.
At first part of religious liturgical drama, carol singing dates back well before 1501, when the first-known collection of Christmas carols was published.
Today, carollers walk through the streets in many countries, and on Christmas Eve in many homes, families gather around the tree and lift their hearts in joyous song.

Don't Be Sexy, She Says

NEW YORK — If you want to help your husband get ahead, you'd better not be too sexy, too beautiful or too smart. If you succeed, though, you could end up with an ulcer.

That is the word from Mrs. J. Robert Fluor of Pasadena, Calif., wife of a business executive and beautiful mother of two sons, aged 18 and 20.

She's so attractive you think she did not take her own advice.

Her husband of 21 years is president of the National Association of Manufacturers.
He also is president of Fluor Co. Ltd. of Los Angeles, a firm with 6,000 employees that does a $100-million to $200-million a year business building oil, chemical, and petrochemical plants around the world.

"I like a personal feeling," she said.

Colorful and glittering Madonna wall hangings also will be available at Friday's Greens Market in Waterford's CAI Building. Mrs. Arthur C. Arnold of Williams Lake considers purchasing one for the holidays at her home while helping to gather articles for the 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. event.

New Laces Have Stretch

Entirely new versions of traditional cotton laces result from applying a new chemical treatment called "slack mercerization" to lightweight flat laces, as well as to Chumy and heavy Venice types.

This process, which causes the fibers to swell and crimp, gives the fabric stretchability and a rich 3-dimensional effect.
This type of no-elastic-yarn stretch lace, destined for dresses and lingerie, has the same washability factor for which cotton is noted.
In fact, suding and rinsing help to tighten up and restore any "sprung" spots caused by normal wear.

Gives Advice To First-Time Father

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My first child is due in 2 1/2 months. My mother was coming to stay with us after it is born but has written to say I can't count on her as my stepfather may have to re-enter the hospital. She sent a check to help pay a helper.

My husband wants to send it back. He says that his mother will be hurt if we hire a stranger instead of asking her to stay with us. I like her but do not want her with me right away. I don't know how to tell my husband this as he will be hurt, too.

ANSWER: Ask your obstetrician to tell him. He knows that helpers whose feelings get easily hurt are not the kind for first-time mothers to have around them. Your husband, a first-time father, needs to know this.

If we're a first-time mother, our emotional comfort is the prime essential because the baby's depends on ours. So we can't have helpers around us whose sensitive feelings we have to soothe in addition to soothing our own naturally uncertain feelings as we go about learning to give the baby his bath, dress him, superintend his feedings and do all the other new chores which at first seem so overwhelming. We need all our soothing energies for ourselves and the baby.

Our relatives are not always suitable helpers at this time. Unless we feel free to be honest with them, old tensions between us can develop a strained but secret competition about whose concern for the baby is the better concern. Into disagreements over the right way to hold him in his bath, over what his crying indicates.

Unless we feel free to say, "I have to do it my way because I have to learn if it's the wrong way," fear of our inferior competence can make us so anxious that we allow ourselves to get pushed away from the baby. Sometimes we never quite recover our confidence as mothers.

Babies are very sensitive to tensions in the grownups around them. So the first rule of baby care is our own emotional quietness.

I do hope that your obstetrician (or the pediatrician you have chosen) makes this rule's priority clear to your husband.

As a first-time father, he's feel inadequate or self-bellitting.

got some new things to learn, too. He's got to learn that all the bigger experience and knowledge of baby care possessed by his mother or any other helper are going to be liabilities to the baby if they are used in any way to make the mother feel inadequate or self-bellitting.

Pill Won't Dry Milk In Mom

LONDON, England — If nursing mothers start taking the birth control pill five to eight weeks after giving birth, it will have no effect on the mother's ability to breast-feed her baby.

This is what the British Medical Journal told its readers in answer to a query it received on whether "the pill" taken while nursing suppresses lactation or shortens the period over which a woman can breastfeed her baby. The answer is no, "the pill" does neither when taken as prescribed.

Soda Cleans It

If the job of washing glass bottles, jugs or jars that have held buttermilk is a lot of trouble, put one teaspoon of baking soda in each container and fill up with water. Let set a little while and see how easily the bottle comes clean.

It's so easy to put on a gay party for teenagers during the holiday season, and a "snowman" cut out of snowy latex foam rubber provides a lively theme. All that is needed is 3/4" thick latex foam rubber cut in two larger and smaller connected circles to form the head and body. The "hat" is cut from red blotting paper with "eyes," "mouth" and "bow tie" cut from black paper and pasted on to the rubber. The entire "snowman" is attached to the wall with double faced masking tape which leaves no mark when it is removed. A place mat of the same latex foam rubber encircled with holly leaves holds the punch bowl.

Britain's Radio Pirates May Come Ashore Legally

LONDON (AP) — Britain's radio pirates may weigh anchor soon, haul down the Jolly Roger and pound out their pop music on land with the government's approval.

Postmaster-General Anthony Wedgwood Benn during the weekend threatened legislation against the untaxed, unlicensed stations broadcasting from ships anchored outside British territorial waters.

"There is no future for pirate radio stations," Benn said. He is believed, however, to favor local commercial broadcasting in Britain.

The Labor government, hopeful of boosting its tiny House of Commons majority by reducing the voting age to 18, cannot afford to alienate millions of teenagers by driving the pirates off the air.

COMMERCIAL BAN

Britain's only legal radio is the state's British Broadcasting Corp. Commercial radio is illegal.

There are four main pirate stations — Radio Caroline, Radio London, Radio City and Radio 350 — and several smaller ones. Some operate from abandoned army forts and rocky islands.

They hope that if commercial broadcasting is legalized, they will have a head start.

The BBC is reported to have little objection to the pirates coming ashore. The BBC feels it would not compete directly with them since the amount of time heard by devotees to records is restricted by agreements with the musicians' union.

BOOST OUTLAY

On land, the pirates' operating costs would fall from around $42,000 a month to an estimated $11,200 and Philip Birch, head of Radio London, says advertising would hike their outlay on commercial radio from $5.6 million a year to $28 to $42 million if the pirates were legalized.

Newspaper owners are building a determined lobby, opposed to legalizing commercial broadcasting. They fear their advertising revenue would be jeopardized.

On the other hand, legal commercial radio companies would station is liable to a fine of $300. Anyone tuning in to a pirate station is liable for taxes, license fees and record royalties.

Comedian Gets Ohio College's Award
Comedian Joe E. Brown has been awarded the Fovarelli Medal, the highest nonacademic award of the College of Steubenville (Ohio).

Brown, Ohio-born 45-year-old veteran of the stage and screen, is the first actor to receive the award. He was cited last night in Steubenville for his "great personal sacrifices in World War II in entertaining servicemen all over the world, many times in the front lines."

"Just a nanosecond, Joe, you've got chads on your sleeve," is typical of the fast-developing language of computers. A glossary of terms used in the automatic data processing field defines a nanosecond as a billionth of one second. A chad is a small bit of paper punched from a card when it is perforated to record information.

CANADIAN WHISKY. A BLEND. 80 PROOF. IMPORTED BY McMASTER IMPORT COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?

Big tax savings on every bottle!

Instead of bottling McMaster's in Canada, where most Canadian Whiskys are bottled, we import it direct and bottle it here. By doing it this way, we save handsomely on taxes and other charges.

You would expect to pay $6.50 for this smooth, mellow Canadian Whisky. McMaster's is distilled, aged in the barrel, and blended in Canada.

You can't buy a finer Canadian Whisky than McMaster's. Why pay more than $4.80 a fifth (tax included)?

(P.S. McMaster's also comes in a big 1/2 gallon or handy pint. Just $11.95 and $3.06.)

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY, 80 PROOF. IMPORTED IN ORIGINAL CASKS BY McMASTER IMPORT CO., DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

Bulky Devices No Longer Set Industry's Pattern

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the age of microelectronics, a new technology of the ultra-small which is having a revolutionary impact in such fields as space exploration, communications, medicine, industry generally, and the household. Following is the first of four dispatches dealing with present and potential future applications of "microminiature electronics.")

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Remote control of human behavior by radio may one day be commonplace.

Even now, in at least one hospital, a cancer victim can shut off intolerable pain by pushing a button on a tiny box in his pajama pocket.

Technological forecasters say the time is coming when you will be able to talk to anybody anywhere by means of a wireless telephone worn on your wrist and powered by the heat of your body.

Already it is theoretically feasible to build a complete computer on a thin slice of silicon no larger than a four-cent postage stamp.

How is all this possible? The answer is "microminiaturization," a jaw-breaking word which stands for a revolution which began four or five years ago in the electronics industry.

SMALL CIRCUITS
The bulky electronics devices of yesterday are giving way to the microscopically small "integrated circuits" of today.

These circuits are built on tiny wafers of silicon called chips.

It is now possible, as a result of breakthroughs in photoengraving and etching techniques, to create a complex circuit with nearly 1,000 components on a single chip about the size of a little finger nail.

The new technology is called microelectronics. It already is transforming many space and military activities, and promises to have an immense effect on medicine, industry, communications, and everybody's life.

CHILD OF CENTURY
Electronics — the harnessing of the electron for man's service in a host of devices including radio, television, sensors of many kinds, computers, and automatic factories — is a child of this century.

It got its start with the invention of the vacuum tube, like all of its successors, is an amplifier of energy. It also is a valve by means of which energy can be precisely controlled and transformed.

It made radio and television possible by amplifying extremely faint signals from distant transmitters into powerful sounds and vivid pictures.

It also made possible the electronic computer which performs a bewildering variety of jobs in mathematics and logic at practically the speed of light.

STRIKING SHOW
Nowhere is the rapid evolution of electronic technology more striking than in the development of computers.

A couple of decades ago, a computer with its thousands of tubes and miles of wired connections filled a large room and weighed tons.

Now you can buy a standard computer weighing only 10 pounds and taking up no more space on an office desk than a portable typewriter. It performs 166,000 operations a second.

NO FRAGILITY
The transistor as eventually perfected had none of the tube's fragility. It worked cold and so did not burn out. It started from scratch without any warming-up period.

FAILURE RATE
Moreover, the connections between them had what the engineers call a high failure rate.

They were costly and time-consuming — valuable milliseconds were lost in every operation by the necessity of waiting until the filaments got hot enough to work.

Vacuum tubes gradually shrank in size and grew in dependability. But the first real breakthrough toward miniaturization came in 1948 with invention of the transistor.

This was a solid metal device which could perform all the amplifying and valving tasks of the tube at only a small fraction of the power required.

In today's "integrated circuits," scores of elements with hundreds of "valve gates" are combined in one chip or "monolithic block" so tiny it can be seen in all its complexity only under a microscope.

Arrays of such blocks may add up to a desktop computer, say, or to a lightweight device for guiding men to the moon and back.

Science Service
WASHINGTON — More money and increased effort in all fields of chemistry will bring "unforeseen major discoveries," the National Academy of Sciences has reported here.

The discoveries could range from synthesis of new drugs and improved insecticides and fertilizers to better methods of preventing corrosion and the development of chemicals for war and riot use that disable temporarily without causing permanent injury.

To achieve such "significant progress" in the many fields of chemistry, a 15-member committee of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council called for a 25 per cent increase in support of chemical research during the next three to four years.

This would bring the total from today's $50 million per year to $120 million by 1968.

Junior Editors Quiz on SIAMESE CATS

QUESTION: I have heard that a Siamese cat is a cross between a monkey and a wild cat. Is this true?

ANSWER: It is true that Siamese cats seem different from other cats, but this is not because they are related to monkeys and wild cats. Monkeys and apes—such as the gibbon we show in our picture—belong to a different order of animals than do the cats.

Exactly when Siamese cats appeared is unknown, although it is thought that they were a variation or "mutation" of the ordinary cat.

They were highly regarded by the nobility of Siam, now Thailand, and were spoken of as royal cats. In 1884, the British General in Bangkok was given a cat which had lived in the Royal Palace, and he took it to England. Siamese appeared in the United States in 1885 and became popular almost at once. These cats seem to need more human companionship than others.

They fret if left alone. They seem to want to talk to their human friends. They meow more than other cats, in a louder, more persistent way. As one Siamese owner expressed it, "They think they are people."

With their china-blue eyes, their light cream-colored bodies and striking dark "points," they are among the most beautiful of animals.

FOR YOU TO DO: Siamese cats are said to resemble the cat statues of the ancient Egyptians. Look up Egyptian art and see if you can find a cat statue; compare it with a picture of a Siamese. Do you find a certain "royal look" about both.

Chess Expert Here Sunday

Billed as a chess and checker wizard, Newell Banks of Detroit will visit Pontiac Sunday, appearing at the Hayes Jones Recreation Center. Banks, who will appear between 2 and 5 p.m., will give some interesting highlights of the history of chess and checker games.

He also will meet the challenge of players from the beginner to the experienced.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Club, the event will allow players, for a fee, to challenge Banks to as many games as can be played during the three-hour period.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER ONE AP Newsfeatures

This is the story of the Zabbazara bus, how it came to go to Santaland, and how Santa happened to ride in it, and how it came to Zabbazara which is a land where the sun always shines and no grown-ups are allowed.

The Zabbazara bus was not always the Zabbazara bus. It used to be the Main Street bus.

Mr. Diefenderfer was the driver. He had such a long name no one ever bothered to say it. Not even Mr. Diefenderfer.

Everyone called him Mr. D, and that's what he called himself.

He was a little fellow with big ears and long feet and crossed eyes.

33 TIMES
For as long as anyone could remember he had been the driver of the Main Street bus, which never went anywhere at all except up and down Main Street 33 times a day.

As soon as the sun rose each morning Mr. D got on his bus and put on his special driving glasses.

He put on the glasses the very first thing because without them he saw two of everything, and seeing even one Main Street was almost more than he could bear.

As soon as he put on his glasses he took off his shoes.

30 BIG!
His feet were so big he could never get shoes that fit, and his feet always hurt.

He tucked his shoes under the seat. Then he put on his driver's hat.

It was an official cap and very smart. At least on anyone else it would have looked smart.

Mr. D Drove The Main Street Bus

But the way Mr. D's big ears curled up around the hat it looked like a flying saucer with wings that had just happened to land on Mr. D's head by mistake.

NOT MUCH
He didn't look like much of a driver. But then the bus he drove didn't look like much of a bus either.

It looked like a beaten up old picnic basket on wheels.

People said it was a hundred years old at least, and how it held together no one knew.

Yet Mr. D loved the bus. It was Main Street he just couldn't stand any more. And the people who rode the Main Street bus. They were very rude to Mr. D.

JOKED ABOUT EARS
"Pull in your ears," they said to him. "They're shutting out the view."

They looked at his big shoes tucked under the seat and said, "Do you have permission to carry BOATS on this bus?"

Mr. D was tired of it all. He kept wondering, "What lies beyond Main Street?"

One day, right in the middle of the Christmas rush, Mr. D decided he had had enough.

GOT A SIGNBOARD
He got a signboard and he painted on it in big red letters ZABBAZARA.

He took down the sign on the side of the bus that said "Main Street" and he put up the new sign saying "ZABBAZARA."

Then he got on the bus and drove straight through the town, never stopping once for all the people waiting for the Main Street bus.

Only one of them would fit in the garage, and the elder Demoss was forced to call neighbors to see if they could put up some of the ponies.

Demoss said he had no idea where the ponies had come from. He added, "I'd sure like to find their owners."

His sisters, Debbie, 10 and Dorrie, 8, not to be outdone, went out and rounded up six other ponies.

Sight Gets Dim, but Not Spirit

Bernard Walters' vision is growing dimmer — but not his spirit.

The 42-year-old former physical education director of the Pontiac YMCA, who lives at 525 Lakeside, faces total blindness in three or four years. It holds no terror for him.

He lost his right eye in an accident when he was 13. The vision in his left eye was always poor.

Despite his handicap, he earned a master's degree in physical education at the University of Iowa, took third place in Big Ten swimming competition in 1946, and became a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills school system.

In 1961, he suffered a retinal detachment in his left eye. Eleven operations followed, but his vision has grown progressively worse.

TROUBLE PREDICTED
This trouble did not come unexpectedly. A doctor had predicted it in 1957.

Mrs. Walters started college the day when her husband would no longer be able to earn a living for their family. She is now teaching at Booth Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills and completing work on her master's degree in education at the University of Michigan.

The couple has two children, Stacy, 16, and Holly Dianne, 13. Walters can't see printed words any more. He even has trouble maneuvering around his house. But the husky six-footer still leads an active life.

With the help of a friend, he is completing construction of a garage at his home. He also helps his wife with the household.

WIN TRIP
The story of the Walter's triumph over adversity came to light when the couple won an all-expense-paid weekend at Detroit's new Hotel Pontchartrain in a drawing sponsored by the Pontiac Mail Association.

The weekend just ended. They enjoyed it immensely.

Walters says he especially enjoyed the view from their room on the 14th floor of the hotel. "It was able to make out both the skyline and the river."

Another highlight was a performance of "Kismet," to which they were chauffeured by limousine Saturday night. "I thought the score and dialogue were beautiful," he said.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — President Hilar Hatcher and a second University of Michigan official say Selective Service should not be used for "an instrument in punishing dissent" or as "reprisal for political activity."

The Michigan Daily, student newspaper, so quoted Dr. Hatcher and Dr. Richard Cutler, vice president for student affairs, in continuing discussion Saturday about the Draft Act.

The Daily said Hatcher and Cutler commented on reclassification of draft status for four students who had taken part in a recent sit-in at the Ann Arbor draft board office in protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Selective Service administrators have said the reclassification of the students from student-deferments to 1A status was the result of their interference with the law, not because of their political beliefs. Their 1A status makes them immediately available to the draft.

Hatcher said persons should be drafted only on "clear necessity." Cutler said Selective Service "is treating dangerous ground" if it uses the act as a "tool of reprisal for political activity."

About 120 persons, headed by party Chairman Victor Watkins of Allen, adopted a platform and heard a denunciation of the Republican and Democratic parties by Californian Karl Prussion, anti-Communist lecturer.

Prussion said there is a "dangerous trend" of the Republicans and Democrats to "become appendages of communism."

Harold Snyder of Watervliet, program chairman for the meeting, identified himself as a member of the John Birch Society. He said he was attending the session as an "American citizen," not as a society representative.

SPRIT UNDIMMED—Bernard R. Walters, 525 Lakeside, is losing his eyesight. But the former director of the Pontiac YMCA physical education program is still active. He is seen here working on his garage, which he and a friend are building.

Goulet Views the Switch to TV

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some time you wonder about actors. Take a fellow like Robert Goulet.

The robust Canadian can pull down a thousand a year merely by singing his ringing voice in nightclubs, concerts and television. So why would he chuck it for the precariousness of a spy television series?

"For two reasons," he explained during a brief stopover here. "One is that a series will give me a chance to stay in one place for six months, something I haven't been able to do for the past three years."

"To afford the show, I had to build up a backlog of releases. The other reason is that a television series might convince movie producers that I can act. They may be in doubt after my first two pictures."

LITTLE PROMISE
His films were "Honeycomb Hotel" and "I'd Rather Be Rich." To put it kindly, they did not fulfill the promise he displayed as Lancelot with Richard Burton and Julie Andrews in "Camelot" on Broadway.

Goulet has canceled a flock of munificent singing dates to begin production in Munich next week on "Blue Light," which will debut on ABC Jan. 12. He reported that his take per week will be $5,000, out of which he must pay his manager and company expenses. Thus he'll end up with just about what he could earn in one night in Las Vegas.

Dawson Hopes To Regain Health

Legendary Viet Searcher III, on Farm

LEGENDARY VIET — 42 E.

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Donald Dawson, weakened by malaria during months spent searching for his brother in Viet Nam, is trying farm life in Oregon to give his body a chance to catch up with a will still strong.

The 28-year-old seaman's only reservation: "I've never worked on the beach — the land — before."

He took time out from packing to sit and talk with a newsman before taking his wife and four children to Astoria, Ore., a trip he planned to complete today.

He weighs 20 pounds less than he did when he left this country more than a year ago to tackle a mission that was to become one of the legends of the jungle war.

Don's search for Daniel Dawson, 27-year-old U.S. Army lieutenant who disappeared while flying his spotter plane over the jungles Nov. 6, 1964, led him for five months through South Viet Nam and finally to a Viet Cong prison camp.

There, after four months, he eventually was told his brother was dead and promised a guide to the grave when the war was over. He also was given his freedom.

"I'm going back, but it might not be before another 15 years," he said. "They're not going to get the Viet Cong out of there so damned easily."

Before he returns, he has to recover his strength. "I'm up to eating one meal a day now," he said. "If I eat much more I can't keep it down." For the first 40 days he was home his fare consisted of baby foods and liquids.

He hopes all will be different on the farm — 30 acres he is charged with caring for 15 miles from Astoria. "We can live off the land," he said. "I know I can open up the season on deer and elk, and we'll live on that."

He has no job and no immediate chance, he fears, of getting one on the seas. If he suffered a malaria attack while captaining a ship he probably would be put ashore and never given another ship, he said.

"But it's been a month since I've had an attack," he said, "and the doctors say now I may not have another one."

The sea has been Dawson's life.

"I knew he was a wanderer when I married him," said his wife, Jeanne. She hopes to keep him home until he gets well, but realizes he'll probably go to sea again.

"This will be the first Christmas we'll have had together since we've been married," she said.

Thailand Likely Spot for Next Red Chinese Move in SE Asia

By WILLIAM M. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Exactly a year ago, Red China set in motion machinery for a new "people's war" in South-east Asia, in the style of Viet Nam.

Today, anti-Communist leaders scent danger, seeing in Peking's activities a new stage in a nibbling process by which the Chinese may eventually dominate the whole Southeast Asian mainland.

To these leaders, the peril seems more acute in view of Red China's quarrel with Moscow and its setbacks elsewhere. Frustration in the India subcontinent, failure of the Peking-orientated Communist-party of Indonesia.

Apart from Viet Nam, Chinese communism has had little luck in the non-Communist Orient. Before the calamity which befell Indonesia's Reds following an abortive Oct. 1 coup, there were signs they were trying to reactivate the Hukbalahap Communist insurgency in the Philippines, but that movement, which collapsed 10 years ago apparently, has been ideologically in squabbling hands of ideologically in squabbling hands.

NATURAL TARGET

Thus Thailand, a pro-American bastion in the Far East, is a natural target. In Bangkok last week, the Thai deputy defense minister, Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chulassap, said "We have reliable information that there is a Chou En-lai plan against Thailand." While no real guerrilla warfare has started, he said, Communists were becoming "seriously active" now in Thailand's impoverished northeast, forming small groups to carry out a first phase of the plan.

Whether it is named for the Red Chinese premier, there evidently is a plan which was set in motion early last December. Peking then announced the formation of a "Thailand Independence Movement." In January, it announced organization of a "Patriotic Front for Thailand."

This is the Viet Nam pattern: guerrilla forces backed by a front. The Viet Cong's "National Liberation Front" was set up in December 1960, just in advance of the all-out Viet Cong effort which eventually escalated the war there to its present stage.

Soon after the organizations were set up in Peking, a European diplomat returning from China quoted Marshal Chen Yi, the deputy premier, as saying "We may have a guerrilla war going in Thailand before the year is out."

EXILES PROMINENT

Thai revolutionaries and politicians in exile in Peking man the fronts. The Thailand Independence Movement delegate in Peking is a man named Mon Non Nanakon. The Patriotic Front leader is Phayom Chulalongkorn.

Some reports say the plotters hope to use Pridi Phanomyong, 65, wartime Thai regent and 1946 premier, as a figurehead. Apparently he has been in Peking since 1951. His name was connected in 1957 with a Peking-sponsored "Thai free state," and his appeals have been broadcast to Thailand to overthrow governments.

Nanon, in a Peking broadcast to his countrymen in March, said the situation in Thailand was critical, and begged them to join with Communists in a struggle against "the U.S. imperialists and their lackeys," using "every possible means of struggle."

The means include terrorism. It already has been in operation in the northeast, the bowl of Thailand, home for a third of the nation's 30 million people.

SIMILAR TACTICS

The tactics are strikingly similar to those used by the Viet Cong when their big effort in Viet Nam began in 1961; assassinations of village chiefs and persons collaborating with the government. Bangkok officials claim the Communists killed 50 such persons this year.

Thailand has no frontier with China, but has an 800-mile border with Laos. The northeast largest area people are of Lao stock. Infiltration from the Communist-held Pathet Lao area would be no problem.

In addition, there are 30,000 or more North Vietnamese in the northeast, there since the end of the French war in Indochina and openly loyal to North Viet Nam. In the south near Malaysia, 700 terrorists, mostly Chinese remnants of the Malaya insurgency of a decade ago, are reported to have infiltrated into Thailand and reorganized.

The Thais for the most part have a traditional dislike and distrust toward Chinese. There are close to five million overseas Chinese in Thailand, all subject to pressures from Red China's agents.

NOT POPULAR

Communism is not popular in Thailand. A Communist party was formed in 1946, mostly of Chinese, and outlawed in 1952. Its hard-core leadership now may be only 500 with about 10,000 sympathizers. Up to now, the government has appeared to have them in hand. But the situation could change. Experience of the postwar years has shown it takes only small forces to sustain a guerrilla war.

Armed Communists roam mountain areas of the northeast on terror missions. Earlier this year, the U.S. State Department said Red terrorism and recruitment were being stepped up, coincident with heavily increased propaganda from "The Voice of Free Thailand," a radio evidently located in North Viet Nam. At the same time, Hong Kong reports told of big Chinese purchases of Thai currency there.

A U.S. special forces group from Okinawa has worked with Thai special forces, training them for antiguerrilla war. The United States, with an already heavy military commitment in Thailand, is financing construction of a new airfield which could be part of a massive military complex to counter Red expansion.

Peking's threats have become more menacing in recent months in view of the unofficially acknowledged role Thailand plays in the Viet Nam war, permitting use of Thai bases for air missions against Red strongholds in Viet Nam and Laos.

Sharp-Shooting Red Wings Climb to Third With Surge

5-1 Conquest of Maple Leafs 4th Straight

Gordie Howe Tallies Twice in 18 Seconds to Decide Outcome

DETROIT (AP) — It didn't take much — luck, marksmanship and a surprising performance at defense — to move the Detroit Red Wings back into contention in the National Hockey League.

Gordie Howe scored twice within an 18-second span of the third period Sunday to highlight the Red Wings' fourth straight victory, a 5-1 verdict over Toronto.

Detroit downed the Maple Leafs 5-1 in Toronto Saturday and has scored 25 goals in its winning streak. The surge has moved the Red Wings into third place.

Stan Mikita scored his second three-goal hat trick in as many nights to lead Chicago past New York 6-2, and Montreal and Boston played a 4-4 tie in other games.

The results moved Chicago into sole possession of first place.

HITTING NET

"We're just having a little more luck around the net," Manager Coach Sid Abel said in explaining the Red Wings' winning streak.

"At the start of the season we couldn't find the net. Now we're getting the good bounces and shooting better," he continued.

Abel added a note of caution, however, saying he didn't know how long his team could keep things going with the defense in its present situation.

It was goalie Roger Crozier and not the defense which kept the Maple Leafs at bay Sunday.

Crozier turned aside 33 Toronto shots, 16 of them in the second period, in his best performance of the season.

Eddie Shack got the lone Toronto goal late in the first period to tie the game at 1-1.

"Even though our defense isn't as good as I'd like it to be, I can't help but be amazed at the play of young Bert Marshall," Abel said.

LONG TRAIL

Marshall, 22, was called up for a trial from the Red Wings' farm team at Memphis and has played in 10 games. He has three assists and has spent but two minutes in the penalty box.

"Right now, he's the biggest surprise on the team," Abel said. "When I called him up to have a look at him, I never thought he'd be around as long as this."

"He has a lot of poise for a player who is only in his third season as a pro and covers up well when he does make a mistake which he doesn't happen often," he added.

Norm Ullman scored on a power play in the first period and Alex Delvecchio put the Red Wings ahead to stay early in the second period.

FINAL TALLY

Ab McDonald added the Red Wings final marker in the third period.

Bobby Hull, Doug Mohns and Phil Esposito scored Chicago's other goals as the Black Hawks won their sixth game in their last seven starts and extended the Rangers' winless streak to six.

Arnie Brown and Lou Angolillo for the Rangers.

Ron Stene's goal at 7:55 of the third period gave Boston the tie with Montreal after the Canadiens had taken the lead with three goals in a two-minute span.

Johnny Bucyk scored in the first period and scored Red Wing Bill Dillabough tallied twice in the second period for Boston. The goals were the first in the NHL for Dillabough.

Pontiac St. Michael will play Detroit St. Rose at Kennedy Junior High School; Fennelle St. James will visit Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows; and St. Augustine will tackle New Baltimore St. Mary in other parochial contests.

Oxford will visit Avondale, Milford will go to Waterford Kettering, Capac will travel to Im- lay City, Berkley will be host to Birmingham Groves and Hol- ly will entertain Fenton in non- league starts.

One important Saginaw Valley Conference clash will be played at Saginaw where Ar- thur Hill is host to Bay City Central.

Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central's basketballers are idle tomorrow, but the two will bat- tle in swimming for the lead in the annual All Sports Trophy competition.

Each has 100 points after their football and cross country en- counters, and will seek 50 in the Northern portion of their home- and-home tank series.

MATMEN

The Huskies wrestling team will action, also, meeting War- ren Fitzgerald on the PNH mat.

Other grappling activity will have Groves at Cranbrook, Mad- ison at Seaholm, Redford Union at Farmington, Hazel Park at Berkley, Dossiero at Oak Park, Southfield at Fo Kimball, Ypsi- lanti at Walled Lake and North Farmington at Livonia Clarence- ville.

Milford and Kettering started their cage seasons with a victory during what could be a rough portion of their hoop campaign.

Each will be seeking to develop valuable momentum with a victory. Milford is still looking for its first win in the brief series with the Captains, having lost three times.

St. Fred wants to keep the Macomb Catholic League lead in its meeting with Waterford OLL. The Rams have two quick league wins already. St. Michael is 1-0 as are the Lakers (though losing two nonleague encount- ers).

Groves has been the sur- prise team with three fast im- pressive wins to date. Berkley is making its first start.

The Bears' play will be watched with interest by other Southeastern Michigan Associa- tion members since Kimball and Groves already have lost to the Seahawks' quintet.

Pontiac Northern's basketball squad will see action Wednesday night against Highland Park at Detroit's Cobo Hall court. The game is the preliminary to the professional Detroit Pistons-San Francisco Warriors contest.

The PNH main office has $1 tickets for the double-header.

Farmington '5' Rolls, Seaholm Wins 2nd

Farmington's Falcons came outplayed the Raiders in the final frame.

In other games Saturday, Birmingham Seaholm downed Cranbrook, 64-54 for its second win in a row; Mount Clemens topped Warren, 45-49, South- field trimmed Royal Oak Dossiero, 77-59, Detroit Country Day outlasted Grosse Pointe University School, 85-79, and Clarenceville dumped Crest- wood, 61-47.

The victory Farmington evened the squad's record at 1-1. The Falcons dropped a 66-50 decision to Bentley Friday evening.

Sparking the Falcons attack were Mike Wilson and Greg Dorow.

Wilson tossed in 26 points and Dorow collected 25. Both came through with 10 field goals apiece.

Facing North Farmington, which dropped its second in a row, were Rick Lorenz (18) and Rich Schultz (12).

Seaholm's Maples, who trimmed Port Huron Central Friday night, evened their season record at 2-2 with the victory over Cranbrook.

Chris Hawkins poured in 19 points and Fred Neil added 16 to spark Clarenceville to victory.

UP AND OVER — Detroit Lions fullback Amos Marsh (31) leaps over the San Francisco line in the first quarter yesterday on the West Coast but wound up with only one yard gained as the 49er linemen closed the gap. Stopping Marsh are defensive back Jim Johnson (37) and tackle Charlie Sieminski (65).

Wary Carlton's wife is in for a tough week. He's had another good game.

It was so good, as a matter of fact, that the Buffalo running back undoubtedly will cut off the daily newspaper, pull down the window shades and become a recluse in the Carlton household.

Carlton, normally a halfback, ran from the halfback position — and all over the defensive positions — as the Eastern Division champion Bills experimented with a new backfield en route to a 29-18 American Football League victory over Houston.

Carlton took over for Billy Joe at fullback, while Bobby Smith ran from the halfback position, and rambled for 148 yards in 11 carries including an 89-yard touchdown run. He was so effective there's no doubt his name will be in the newspapers — the last thing he wants.

"Everytime I get my name in the paper, something happens to me — a bad game or an injury," said Carlton recently. And Three practice games are listed tonight for recreation teams in Waterford Township. All will be played at Cray Junior High School.

Lynne and Heaton will scrimmage Joe's Bar at 7 p.m.; Cal Bell's squad meets Zilka Heating at 8 and Buckner Finance and Pontiac Lake Inn will take the floor at 10 o'clock.

Program director Bill Woods said the deadline for entering teams in the league is Monday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

Persons interested in entering a team may call Woods at 674-0556. The league will open season play after the first of the year.

Final total team points in the Flint relay behind PNH and Northeastern were Lansing Everett 55, Flint Southwestern 51, Flint Northern 48, Flint Central 43.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's continued success in basketball this season will hinge on how well Craig Dill performs as the replacement for Bill Buntin.

If last Saturday's performance against Bowling Green is any indication, coach Dave Strack will have nothing to worry about.

Dill scored 16 of his 21 points in the first half, pulled down nine rebounds and made a number of standout defensive plays as the Wolverines thumped the inexperienced Falcons, 108-65.

Michigan plays host to Ball State tonight, then plays at Wichita Wednesday and against San Francisco at Chicago Stadium Saturday.

"Dill is not as strong as Buntin but he can run like the devil and is a good shooter," Strack said.

EX-LUMBERJACK

The former Saginaw Arthur Hill All-Stater missed but five shots in 13 tries from the floor.

Bowling Green, with three sophomores in the starting lineup, kept things close for a short while. But a three-point effort by Dill put the Wolverines ahead to stay and they put the game out of reach with a 13-point spurt late in the first half.

Strack said his game plan was to dominate the defense and set the early pace. The Falcons scored but 12 field goals in the first half, six of them after Strack took out of the first team in the final four minutes.

Cazzie Russell and John Clawson shared scoring honors for Michigan with 22 points each.

John Plattkowski topped all scorers with 24. Sam Mims of Highland Park, one of two Michigan men in the Falcons' lineup, added 12.

Spartans, Titans Lose Saturday Cage Games

By The Associated Press
Western Michigan, getting scoring punch from Bradley Lacedfield, spoiled John Benning's debut as Michigan State coach, and Detroit blew a 12-point halftime lead in bowing to Purdue in highlights of Saturday's full slate of college basketball.

Western defeated MSU 85-82 and Purdue trimmed Detroit 85-75.

In other games Bradley whipped Northern Michigan 90-78, Xavier of Ohio dumped Aquinas 115-83, Case Tech bounced Wayne State 79-57, Indiana State outlasted Detroit Tech 98-79, Northwood beat Ohio Northern 97-84, and Olivet defeated Kalamazoo 84-73.

Also, Hope trimmed Concordia 91-84, Hillsdale outlasted Davenport 107-103 in overtime, Central Michigan dumped Illinois State 78-61, Wabash trounced Albion 91-76, Eastern Michigan edged Western Reserve 77-73 and Adrian clobbered Alma 99-73.

ICED GAME
Lacedfield dumped in 28 points in lifting Western past MSU. The Spartans, who trailed 51-40 at the half, came back to within a point of the Broncos, but Lacedfield led the game with a field goal in the final two minutes of play. Bill Curtis and Matt Aitch led MSU with 20 points each.

Purdue chopped away at Detroit's lead until the Boilermakers finally took the lead on a jump shot by seven-foot George Grams. Dave Schellhaus led Purdue with 35 points. Lou Hyatt had 22 for the Titans.

Joe Allen, a 6-foot-7 center from Chicago Carver, Cazzie Russell's prep alma mater, dumped in 28 points in Bradley's win over Northern. Gene Summers had 26 for the losers.

Boyd Hosapple's 20 points gave Case Tech a Presidents' Athletic Conference victory over Wayne State.

Jerry Pettway and Tom Rathburn accounted for 56 points in Northern's triumph over Ohio Northern. Rathburn had 34, and Pettway 22.

PAID VICTORY
Gordon Loft netted 34 points in Olivet's victory over Kalamazoo. Jim Peters had 23 for the Hornets. Clare Van Wieren netted 25 points as Hope trimmed Concordia.

Hamm's Finishes 1st in Qualifying Round

HIGHLAND, Ind. (AP) — Hamm's of Chicago withstood a late rush by Edmond's of Detroit Sunday night and topped qualifying for the National Men's Team Match Game Bowling Championship.

Edmond's fought from 21st place after two rounds to second which it kept for the third and final rounds. Hamm's finished with 12,204 for 12 games, while Edmond's hit 11,865.

The top six finishers among the 36 qualifying teams complete Monday and Tuesday in round robin match play, based on total pins and bonus points. The first prize is $2,000 in the tourney sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

Behind Hamm's and Edmond's were Shaw's of Cleveland, 11,744; Heileman's of Minneapolis, 11,721; Stroh's of Detroit, 11,580, and Calumet of Hammond, Ind., 11,578.

Don McCune, who fired his high individual series with 740 in the third round, paced Hamm's.

Michigan Tech Six Continues to Win

By The Associated Press

The Huskies racked up their fourth straight Western College Hockey Association victory without a loss Saturday in dumping Minnesota 4-2.

In another league match North Dakota upended Michigan State 5-3. Waterloo, Ont., nipped Michigan 2-1 in a nonleague match.

Gary Milroy's hat trick helped the Huskies past Minnesota. The Gophers now are 1-3 in WCHA action.

Roy Davidson and Terry Casey split four goals between them as North Dakota whipped MSU, the rebounders with 16. The Fal-Waterloo's Norm Allen scored the winning goal in the victory field goal attempts while making the Wolverines, now 2-2, ling 63 field goals.

Browns, Giants, Cowboys Post NFL Victories

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns came from behind in the fourth quarter, with Frank Ryan throwing a touchdown pass and Jim Brown cracking four yards for another, to defeat the Washington Redskins 24-16 Sunday in a National Football League game.

Brown's touchdown was his 28th this season tying the NFL record set last year by Lenny Moore of the Baltimore Colts.

An interception and fumble set up Cleveland's fourth-period scores. Linebacker Vince Costello picked off a pass by Sonny Jurgensen, setting up Ryan's 14-yard TD toss to Tom Hutchinson.

On the next series, defensive ends Paul Wiggins and Bill Glass slammed Jurgensen, shaking the ball loose. Jim Houston picked it up on the 18, and Brown slammed over from the four.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tucker Frederickson, the New York Giants' top draft pick of a year ago, came into his own Sunday in a three-touchdown effort against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Jethro Pugh is his name. He's 6-foot-7 and tips the scale at 250 pounds. A defensive end, Pugh's field goal attempt in the third period makes a career of running over called Elizabeth City, N.C., Col. offensive linemen, especially on legs, trampled over a few Eagles Sunday to block a 58-yard field goal effort in the third period.

Killing Suspect Is Due in Court

TORONTO (AP)—Najeb Kadri, 31, of Detroit, wanted in connection with a Detroit slaying, was due in court here today for a hearing on an application for extradition. He was arrested in Calgary Friday night.

Kadri faces charges in the death of Julie Pasanen, 18, of Highland Park, Mich., whose nude body was found Nov. 1 at the Detroit home of Kadri's estranged wife, Ellen.

The girl had been baby sitting for Mrs. Kadri's 13-month-old son, who was found unharmed near Miss Pasanen's body.

Calgary police said officers acting on information from Toronto police arrested Kadri in a rooming house. He had arrived in Calgary a few days before and was seeking employment.

Kind Words, Gifts Warm a Family's Day

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A paratrooper bound for Viet Nam and his mother, headed for surgery, shared today the memory of a warm family gathering in a hospital room.

The paratrooper, Tom Dougherty, 20, was off for Viet Nam today, while his sister, Marge, observed her 18th birthday, and their mother, Margaret Dougherty, of Tonawanda, was scheduled for major surgery.

The family, including Frederick Dougherty, the father and his band, swapped gifts and brightened Mrs. Dougherty's hospital room Sunday night.

For Tom, who will spend Christmas somewhere in Viet Nam, there were Christmas gifts.

The father sat on a hospital bed and beamed his son, who trained at Ft. Bragg, N.C., will depart from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., for duty with the 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division in Viet Nam.

"I'm a little nervous, but I'm anxious to go," he said. "My son wasn't drafted—he enlisted. That should explain the way he feels," the father said. And his mother added: "Come back safe, that's all I care about."

Neither Crash, Quake Still Voice of 'Gypsy'

By EARL WILSON

San Juan, Puerto Rico—There she was up on the stage playing the squeezebox and singing... Gypsy Markoff... "The Indestructible Gypsy," Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur called her when he found her in a hospital in Japan, having survived an earthquake.

Gypsy Markoff here at Jose Delema's fashion safari at the Hotel Americana... well, now, anyway, that was something different for Gypsy.

I felt suddenly sorry for these beautiful, brittle young people sitting around me here at the fashion show... sorry that they were too young to have known Gypsy's golden years.

Sitting here at Jose's show is glittering Christina Palaozi and her Pomeranian pup and her husband, Maggie McNellis is "commenting" the beautiful fashions and Vera Swift, the millionaire-marrier, is busy hearing with some vodka. And it is true and chic... and not one has heard about Gypsy Markoff.

It was Feb. 22, 1945, that Gypsy Markoff and Jane Frohman were pulled out of the Tagus River in Portugal... crippled... after a plane crash that killed 33.

The singer Yvette she credits with saving her life. Yvette kept calling to her as she was floating around in the river. "Hold on, hold on, somebody'll come... but don't come near me, you'll pull me down."

Now it's 22 years later, and Gypsy, still with an injured wrist—"But I make it work," she says—has just organized one more combo and is ready to entertain. I was seeing and hearing her on the new combo's first date.

Gypsy, a study in courage, had gone to Africa... or started for Africa... to entertain the troops, in 1943. Unable to use her hands for a long time after the disaster, she had gone to Japan to sing, and that's when Gen. MacArthur found her after the earthquake.

THE MIGHTY EARL IN N.Y. ... Merle Oberon and her husband, Bruno Paglia, moved from one Acapulco mansion to a larger one, giving them three Mexico homes (in Mexico City, Cuernavaca, and Acapulco)... Teddy Stauffer, of the Perla night club in Acapulco, is celebrating his 16th year with the "canyon divers," and none was ever hurt (except in a battle with a girl friend).

Frank Sinatra Jr. quit the set of the "Adam" film here—viral... Tony Curtis' new movie got its seventh title change; it's now "My Last Duchess" (at the moment, anyway) ... Jack E. Leonard said at Danny's Hideaway he'll fly to London for one day, to do a TV'er.

EARL'S PEARLS: "A book about Fred Allen—'Funny Men Don't Laugh'—makes me miss radio. Another thing that makes me miss radio is television."—Arthur Solomon.

Max Asnas of the Stage Deli told Del Marino he once hated a waiter so much he fired him: "But first I gave him a raise—so he would be losing a better job!" ... That's earl, brother. (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Johnson Discontent Over Reserve Board Interest Rate Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board increased interest rates today to their highest level in 35 years, overriding Johnson administration economic policy and drawing immediate presidential disapproval.

The board announced its decision last night, saying higher rates will help prevent inflation and aid in overcoming the persistent U. S. balance of payments deficit.

It ordered: — An increase in the discount rate from 4 to 4.5 per cent, its highest level since 1930.

This is the interest the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks charge on loans made to member commercial banks.

Any upward movement generally spreads throughout the entire credit structure — applying to consumers who buy houses, cars and other goods on the installment plan.

An increase in the maximum interest banks may pay on specified time deposits of more than 30 days from 4.5 to 5.5 per cent, its highest level ever.

ATTRACT MONEY This might tend to attract money from other areas — the stock market, savings and loan associations, for example — into the bonds.

The board left unchanged the 4 per cent interest charged on regular savings accounts.

The administration is powerless to alter the action. Although board members are appointed by the President, they compose an independent agency, subordinate to no one.

In Johnson City, Tex., President Johnson said: "I regret, as do most Americans, any action that raises the cost of credit, particularly for homes, schools, hospitals and factories."

FIRST REACTION The first reaction in banking circles generally was favorable, although some expressed surprise over the time savings deposit interest rate.

In New York, Robert V. Roosa, partner in Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co. and former undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs under President John F. Kennedy and Johnson, said: "They were right to do it, the time is right."

READY RENDEZVOUS — A crane raises the Gemini 6 spacecraft into position yesterday atop a Titan II rocket at Cape Kennedy. Astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford are scheduled to be sent aloft into space from Cape Kennedy a week from today for a rendezvous with Gemini 7 with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aboard.

Plans Move Ahead for Gemini 6 Launch

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. sped around the world today, and preparations moved ahead for the attempt by two manned Gemini spacecraft to carry out the world's first rendezvous in space.

Paul Haney, the voice of mission control at Houston, reported pad crews were running 14 to 16 hours ahead of schedule in the race to launch astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in the Gemini 6 spacecraft from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The launch is scheduled for Dec. 13, in the ninth day of the scheduled Gemini 7 endurance mission, but flight director Christopher C. Kraft Jr. was "looking into that eight-day possibility."

At Cape Kennedy, Fla., however, a space agency spokesman said the crew was that far ahead in only one phase of the operation — the electrical mating of the spacecraft to the Titan 2 booster rocket.

A spokesman for the Martin Co., prime rocket contractor, said the booster phase of the preparations was only about four hours ahead.

He added that the possibility of a Dec. 12 launch was rather slim.

The Gemini 6 spacecraft will fly at 17,500 miles an hour in pursuit of the Gemini 7.

Pilots of the two ships will attempt to rendezvous with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

U.S. Infantrymen Hold Off Waves of Attacking Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Caught in a murderous machine-gun crossfire, U.S. infantrymen stood off wave after wave of attacks by a communist regiment with help from the sky by U.S. Air Force and Navy jets.

The battle 40 miles northwest of Saigon raged yesterday near the bloodied rubber plantation where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have been hunting the Communists for days following the near destruction of the Vietnamese army 7th Regiment Nov. 27.

Sporadic firing continued today. The Communists repeatedly probed another U.S. battalion in the area during the night.

Reports from the scene said U.S. casualties were heavy, although spokesmen in Saigon described them as moderate.

Report to LBJ on Blackout Man, 33, Dies; 4 Flee Fire in Apartment

'Failure in Northeast Could Happen Again'

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was told today the massive Northeast power blackout didn't have to happen — yet could happen again. Experts urged new precautions and perhaps new legislation.

Johnson got a 95-page printed report on preliminary findings by the Federal Power Commission in a Johnson-order investigation of the Nov. 9 power failure that affected 30 million people in the United States and Canada.

To discuss the report, the President summoned retiring FPC Chairman Joseph C. Swidler to the LBJ Ranch here.

According to the report, the chain reaction that plunged 80,000 square miles into darkness could have been avoided had employees at Canada's Sir Adam Beck hydroelectric plant on the Niagara River reset an electric relay to handle power loads that had increased significantly since the device was last set in 1963.

GM Truck Builds 10,987 Units for Best November

November deliveries of trucks and buses built by GMC Truck and Coach Division totaled 10,987 units, making last month the best in the Division's history.

Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, reported last month's domestic retail deliveries topped by 38.8 per cent the 7,918 sold by GMC Truck and Coach in November 1964.

During the past 11 months, deliveries have increased 18.4 per cent over the comparable period in 1964.

Judges to Test Legality of Act

Wheels were set in motion this morning by Oakland County Circuit Court Judges James S. Thorburn and Philip Pratt to test the legality of recent legislation extending terms of circuit judges.

In a joint statement, Thorburn and Pratt announced that a suit, entitled James S. Thorburn and Philip Pratt versus the Secretary of State, the Oakland County Clerk-Register and the Oakland County Election Commission, has been filed.

"The recent legislation extending terms of circuit judges contains language which, in its application to Oakland County, creates some confusion and uncertainty," stated Thorburn and Pratt.

"The orderly administration of justice dictates that certain provisions be clarified and any doubts as to extension of terms be resolved."

"It is necessary that the Supreme Court of Michigan consider and decide the constitutional issues involved and that this be done while the legislature is in session so that corrective legislation may be enacted if any is indicated," their statement continued.

TO TEST LEGALITY "Therefore, we have instituted this suit in the Circuit Court for eventual appeal to the Supreme Court in order to test, in advance of any election, the legality of Act 179 as it affects Oakland County."

"Our only purpose is to assure that the people of this county will not later be subjected to the expense and inconvenience of litigation attacking the jurisdiction of their courts or of the necessity of additional elections if the act is unconstitutional," the judges said.

43 Pct. Total Forces Runoff With Leftist

Second-Round Victory Is Said in the Bag for General if He Runs

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle maintained silence today after French voters handed a stinging rebuff to his bid for first-round victory in the presidential election.

With a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of the voters, de Gaulle polled only 43.96 per cent of the vote in the first round of voting yesterday.

This forced him into a runoff Dec. 18 with left-winger Francois Mitterrand, the No. 2 man in the six-man race.

Some Gaullist officials had predicted before the election that if de Gaulle did not get the massive endorsement he wanted, he would refuse to run in the second round. Other officials differed.

"The general is a fighter," said one supporter, "and he will not abandon the combat now."

IN THE BAG A second-round victory was considered in the bag for de Gaulle if he runs.

Although his image was bruised by the outcome yesterday, it is not likely that he will change his attitudes and ways.

In department after department where he had shown strength in other electoral tests, de Gaulle polled less than 50 per cent of the votes.

His pride must have suffered additionally from the knowledge that election of the president by direct vote was the result of a constitutional change he had inaugurated.

ONCE BEFORE Only once before, in 1848, did French voters have a direct say about who would be elected president.

These were the results from nearly 24 million valid ballots in metropolitan France:

- Charles de Gaulle 10,504,007 for 43.96 per cent.
- Francois Mitterrand 7,853,042 for 32.04 per cent.
- Jean Lecanuet 3,770,771 for 15.78 per cent.
- Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt 1,100,000 for 4.51 per cent.
