PRO AND CON ON FARM BILL — Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM), right, and Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) pose outside the Senate chamber last night after Anderson's key amendment to the omnibus farm bill was passed 54-41. Ellender opposed the amendment to knock out highly pegged supports for cotton, corn and peanuts. The vote was a victory for President Eisenhower.

Senate Rejects High Supports

Set Construction of Parking Lots for Late April

Canvass City Election Held Monday Which Approved Two Issues

Construction should begin around the last two weeks in April on the recently approved four new municipal parking lots, City Manager Walter K. Willman reported yesterday.

The results of Monday's primary balloting, at which 7,468 approved the $600,000 bond issue, were canvassed officially last night by the City Commission.

The certificate of canvass will be forwarded to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission with a request of approval.

Willman estimated it would be 20 days between approval by the Lansing group and the public advertisement of the revenue bonds to finance three of the four lots. The fourth lot is being financed by funds from the off-street parking fund.

Willman is presently negotiating for seven parcels of land to complete the acquisition of property for the project. The city has options on or owns 14 pieces of land included in the program.

"We are trying to negotiate for these parcels and avoid legal condemnation," Willman said. "It is a tremendous amount of work after we acquire the property because we have to get rid of the homes, take care of drainage and make adjustments for the people living in the homes."

WILL ADVERTISE BONDS

After approval by the Finance Commission, the city advertises the bonds and takes bids toward the best interest rate and any possible premiums.

The original ordinance states the interest rate on the 600 $1,000 bonds will not exceed four per cent. "It looks now as if it might run around three per cent or a little higher," Willman added.

"It will take approximately four weeks to receive the money on the bonds and before we can proceed with construction on the lots we should have at least the bulk of the money in the treasury."

Based on past sales of municipal bonds in other cities, Willman said he does not expect any difficulty in selling the revenue bonds.

9 Die, Hundreds Homeless

Blizzards Follow Floods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The northeast fought back today a late winter punch of torrential rains, floods, blizzards and chilling winds.

Flood waters were receding and snow had ceased falling but many persons still were homeless. Many homes were flooded or without heat in the blizzard area where the storm disrupted power lines.

The strange range of weather of a dying winter caused at least nine deaths, two in New York State and seven in Canada.

The rampaging Alleghany River, which threatened Salamanca, N.Y., southwestern New York industrial city, and Warren, Pa., yesterday, was dropping from record heights.

TEMPERATURES DROP

In Salamanca the river was down almost a foot from the crest of 14 feet 11 inches—nine inches above the previous high water mark set in a disastrous flood of 1942. During the night the temperature dropped to 20 degrees and four inches of snow fell under blizzard conditions.

At Warren daylight found the river a foot below yesterday's record mark of 18.4 feet. But reports of higher water upstream in northwestern Pennsylvania and southern New York State indicated it would be days before many of the 500 evacuated families could get back into their homes.

The Warren General Hospital, completely surrounded by water, functioned as usual. Nurses on duty during the night were taken from the hospital aboard trucks that crawled slowly through nearly three feet of water. The trucks brought in new shifts of nurses to take over the work. The basement was flooded.

Towns along the Allegheny to Pittsburgh were expecting flood conditions today, but the Weather Bureau said serious damage was not expected.

The Bureau said, however, communities below Pittsburgh along the Ohio River "can expect trouble" late tonight and tomorrow. Communities were alerted as far south as Wheeling, W.Va., and East Liverpool, Ohio.

CANADA ALSO HIT

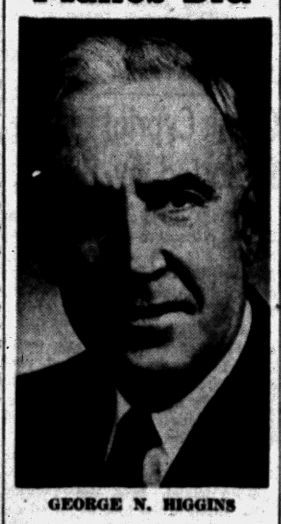

Eastern Canada was digging itself out of a blizzard while the weatherman warned of possible new storms. Sixteen inches of snow blanketed Quebec. There were four-foot drifts in Montreal. Ontario was beset by power failures.

Nineteen inches of snow fell in Greenville, Maine, making an over-all ground covering of 45 inches. Throughout northern Maine racing winds whipped up traffic-impeding drifts.

Power failures troubled the Berkshire area of Massachusetts because of a heavy snowstorm. Freezing rains and sleet covered other parts of Massachusetts, and southern New Hampshire and Vermont with a treacherous coating of ice up to three inches thick.

Maple syrup gatherers in northern New England feared a heavy loss because of the severe weather. Balmy weather in Vermont in recent days had started the sap to flowing before the heavy snow. Ideal weather for syrup is warm days and cold nights with no snow.

GEORGE N. HIGGINS

Turnpike Head Will Seek Post

George Higgins After GOP's Nomination for U.S. Representative

Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority George N. Higgins, a former state senator, said today he will seek the Republican nomination to run for U. S. representative from Oakland County in the Nov. 6 election.

George A. Dondero, Oakland's present congressman, announced yesterday he will retire when his term expires this year.

If elected, Higgins said he has agreed with Gov. G. Mennen Williams to continue as turnpike authority head until installed in the federal post early next year.

"I told the governor, when named to the authority last July, I would run for Congress if Mr. Dondero retired," said Higgins, "and the appointment was made on that basis."

Higgins, 55, of Ferndale, served six years as a state representative and six years as a state senator prior to his MTA appointment.

While in Lansing, Higgins was recognized as an expert in government financing and served as chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee.

He served as a city commissioner and supervisor in Ferndale before seeking state office. Higgins, who has a farm in Springfield Township, is married and has three daughters and a son.

Woman Rescued From Sinking Car After Icy Swim

The heroism of a Lake Orion man was credited with saving the life of a woman trapped in her sinking car in a water-filled hole off M24 near Lake Orion yesterday afternoon.

Witnesses reported that Dean Ranville, 34, a Baldwin Rubber Co. employe from Lake Orion, swam through icy water to the rescue of Mrs. G. L. Coleman of Rochester after Mrs. Coleman's car skidded into the hole.

Treading the muddy water, Ranville reportedly persuaded Mrs. Coleman to roll down a window and crawl onto the top of the car with him. Bystanders then threw the pair a rope and pulled them to safety.

The car then submerged completely, witnesses said.

Ike Victorious in 54 to 41 Vote on Farm Plan

Democrats Lose Out in Effort to Restore Rigid 90 Per Cent Props

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower won a decisive victory in the Senate late yesterday when a Democratic move to restore 90 per cent farm price supports was beaten 54 to 41.

The 13-vote margin came as a surprise and the President was reported delighted with the verdict on the crucial election year issue.

Incidentally, every member of the Senate voted on the farm issue —and that is the first time in 20 years that every senator has been present and voting on an issue.

The vote knocked out a crucial provision of the Senate's election year bill to raise dwindling farm income.

The provision would have restored for two years rigid government supports on cotton, corn, rice and peanuts. A move to defeat the same fixed supports for wheat is expected later.

* * *

Senate Democrats still hope to save the day for 90 per cent supports by an amendment restoring them for one year only. Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), leader of the administration's battle to retain flexible price supports, said the fight on this will be even hotter.

ALL-OUT CAMPAIGN

The White House has waged an all-out campaign for retention of flexible props that slide between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. This included phone calls and sending emissaries to senators.

* * *

Senate Agriculture Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La), pointed out that farm income dropped one billion dollars last year. Ellender said rigid supports would pump 850 million dollars into farmers' pockets. He asked: "How far must the economic status of our farmers drop before they receive relief?"

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), a former agriculture secretary who fought on the GOP side of the issue, asked: "How far down do you drive farm income before you are satisfied?"

Anderson blamed 90 per cent supports, in effect until last year's harvests, for the fact that farm income has dropped about one-third since the 1951 peak.

* * *

Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky) charged that continuation of the GOP flexible price system would "scuttle the entire farm bill" including the proposed soil bank.

But Anderson said one billion dollars in the soil bank would be "wasted" under rigid supports

Earmark Funds for City Airport

Aeronautics Commission Gives Tentative Okay to Improvements

The State Aeronautics Commission has given tentative approval of several public improvement projects planned for the Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Approved for the Pontiac Field were power lines, lighting, and landing and taxi strips.

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, state aeronautics director, said the state could be assured of at least $1,600,000 in matching federal funds for the next federal year for such projects.

The sum will be used to finance projects at airports located near 23 other Michigan cities in addition to Pontiac.

"Just how much we will be able to do depends on what extra discretionary funds we get," he said.

Early last month, a federal grant of $91,500 was approved for the airport. This was in addition to another federal grant of $30,000 to start the improvement work on the local field which was announced last summer.

Contemplated in the newest phase of the expansion work is acquisition of some 80 acres west of the present airport for further extension of the east-west runway to accommodate large planes.

A graduate of the University of Arkansas, he was staff physician at Pontiac State Hospital from 1921 to 1923.

Oddsmakers' Terms in Weather Report?

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—If Fresno meteorologists have their way, you soon may be able to get a "morning line" on the weather.

Chief Forecaster A. A. Lothman has proposed that the Weather Bureau be permitted to use oddsmakers' terminology in making predictions.

Lothman's forecasts would go something like this: "There's a 50-50 chance of light showers today." Or "It's 6 to 5 there'll be rain before nightfall."

The odds would replace such familiar — and indefinite — terms as "probable, possible and likely."

Doctor Says You Eat More Fats if Income High

DETROIT (AP)—Heart expert Dr. Ancel Keys of the University of Minnesota says that generally speaking the higher your income the more fat you eat.

"But after you're earning $200 a week, you probably can't do any more harm," he declared. "You probably just couldn't eat any more fat."

Dr. Keys spoke last night to the Michigan State Medical Society. He said surveys throughout the world have shown that the more fat there is in the diet, the more coronary heart disease will be found in the population.

Admits Holdup of Loan Office

Flint Resident Confesses Pontiac Crime, 3 Others to Saginaw Police

A Flint man, 29, has confessed holding up a loan office here Jan. 5.

Saginaw Police said Warren Burton admitted the mid-afternoon $150 stickup of the Beneficial Finance Company, 7 W. Lawrence St.

Detective Capt. Melvin Austin said Burton was arrested after a super market robbery Monday night. The license plate of Burton's escape car was spotted and police traced him to Flint, Austin said.

Besides the $800 holdup Monday, Burton also confessed a $584 finance company robbery Jan. 18, similar to the Pontiac crime, Austin said.

In all three cases, Austin said, Burton was alone, armed with a nickel-plated revolver and wearing a slouch hat and tan raincoat He will be prosecuted on an armed robbery charge, Austin said.

Pontiac Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said a "hold" will be placed on the man for the local robbery.

Roaming Deer Appears Happy in Home-Zoo

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The Traverse City Zoo had a new deer today, and even the deer appeared happy about it.

The deer roamed into town Wednesday, apparently in search of food. Dogs and townspeople quickly took up the chase. The deer swam a frigid river twice to escape his tormentors.

Finally, all but falling from weariness the deer made its way to the back door of a restaurant, only a block from the town's main intersection.

When the door was opened the deer walked in, apparently welcoming both warmth and escape. Fed and warmed, he later was added to the zoo herd, behind a protective fence.

Curtice Says 'Nonsense'

Study of Auto Industry Urged by Justice Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes says action will have to be taken "someday soon" if what he termed "economic concentration in the automobile industry" should continue "as in the recent past."

To this, Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., had a quick reply—"nonsense."

Curtice, chief witness today at a Senate Commerce subcommittee's investigation into the auto industry's relations with its dealers, declined to enlarge his one word comment. He told a reporter:

"Nonsense — that's all. Just nonsense."

Barnes told a newsman yesterday the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, which he heads, still is studying the entire automobile industry, along with "other basic industries of the nation."

Repeatedly in the past, Barnes has voiced concern over concentration of automobile sales among the Big Three of the industry—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

He said the status of several smaller automobile firms had been improved somewhat by their government - sanctioned merger two years ago. But, he added, this had not changed the over-all sales situation to any great degree. He said Big Three sales continue heavy.

He said "a very live matter" before the Antitrust Division is General Motors' position in the production of passenger buses. Testifying before the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee last June, he said GM had 70 per cent of that business at that time. He promised the senators his office would keep an eye on the situation.

He declined to say whether any action against GM may be imminent.

When It Happens, It's Only as a Last Resort

Spanking Rare in Modern Schools, Says Educator

By PETE LOCHBILER

In Pontiac, it's up to the individual teacher whether a naughty child is to be spanked at school.

But corporal punishment happens "rarely and only as a last resort" in grade school and "almost never" in junior high school, said Dana P. Whitmer, Pontiac Superintendent of Schools.

The policy has not been set down in written form by the Board of Education, at least not in recent years, Whitmer said, but that's the way it works out in practice.

In crowded Pontiac High School reason rather than force is used to appeal to troublemakers, according to Principal Francis Staley.

Most disciplinary problems usually are caused by pupils who want to quit school to work, he pointed out.

"If the student is 16 years old and not interested in what we have to offer, we cooperate with his parents in letting him leave school," Staley said.

He admitted that force sometimes is necessary in restraining pupils. "But we haven't had recourse to corporal punishment in at least five years," he added.

He pointed out that high school students are old enough to understand the need for discipline in running the school. "If they understand reasons for restrictions," he stated, "they'll cooperate."

Before spanking is used in grade school, Whitmer emphasized, other methods are tried first. "We look at misbehavior not necessarily as something to punish, but as something to correct," he explained.

"If a child has a problem—and this is what causes bad conduct—we want to help solve his problem, not hurt him."

Sometimes, though, for the general welfare of class and school, a child is spanked, Whitmer said.

"When this happens, we insist on four things:

"The teacher must be acting reasonably; the discipline must not take place in 'the heat of anger'; the principal must be informed beforehand, and a witness must be present."

The last condition protects both child and teacher, he pointed out.

New City Agency to Aid Alcoholics

Grant of $3,251 Speeds Project

Proposed Department to Serve as Information Center for Area

The State Board of Alcoholism this week approved a grant of $3,251 for the establishment of a Alcoholism Information Center in Pontiac.

The center will be part of the City Health Dept., located in the basement of the City Hall. It will be headed by Mrs. Mary M. Burrell, for four years supervising nurse for the health department.

At an informal meeting of the City Commission Feb. 2, the commissioners agreed upon the establishment of the center based upon the findings of an Organizational Committee on Alcoholism appointed by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

Mrs. Burrell will continue in her nursing capacity and fill her new director-field worker position on a half-time basis.

Although the center will be available for information soon, she said full operations would probably be delayed until May when a contract will be drawn up.

The center will serve primarily as an information center for alcoholics and persons with similar, but lesser, problems, Dr. John D. Monroe, acting director of public health, stated.

He added that residence in Pontiac will not be required to receive service at the center.

The $3,251 grant by the state will be matched by the city to finance the new branch. Other such centers are in Jackson, Detroit and Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Burrell said the service rendered will be free. "We will attempt to direct people to the proper source of help whether it be their family doctor or to a clinic," she said.

In 1954 Mrs. Burrell attended the Nursing Institute on Alcoholism at Yale on a State Board of Alcoholism scholarship.

Chrysler to Call Back 4,700 to 2 Divisions

DETROIT (AP)—The Plymouth and Automotive Body Divisions of Chrysler Corp. in Detroit will call back about 4,700 hourly workers next week to handle increased production schedules at the Plymouth Division, the company said yesterday.

Chrysler said increased production schedules go into effect March 14 at Plymouth. The workers were temporarily laid off Feb. 13.

Part of the 3,700 Automotive Body Division employes being recalled were to report March 12 and the rest the following day. Recalled Plymouth workers are to report March 14.

Ice Jam Pushing Dirt in Filtration System

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Water described as being "seven times as dirty as it was three days ago" piled new worries today on already weather-plagued residents of Algonac on the St. Clair River.

* * *

And the same old ice jam is causing the new trouble, too. The deepening jam has scraped dirt from the river bed into the filtration system. Frank Beatty, night operator at the filtration plant, said workers were having a "terrible time" keeping the water clean without spoiling its taste with chlorine.

* * *

Forecasts of near-freezing temperatures promised little change. The ice jam is located at Roberts Landing. Yesterday's freeze gave some relief along the Belle and Black rivers.

BRIDE AT 12 — Minnie Goode, 12, is shown in an unposed shot just 9 days after her marriage to 21-year-old Robert Goode. Robert says, "She doesn't act like a 12-year-old, more like a 17 or 18-year-old girl." They were married in Spartanburg, S. C., with her mother's consent, on Feb. 28.

Kidnap Hoax Brings Jail Sentence to 4 Teen Girls

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP) — Four Newton, Iowa, high school students, who concocted a story of being kidnaped, were given jail sentences today by a judge who told them they "appear to be very spoiled little girls."

* * *

Quiet and appearing to be in deep thought, the four pleaded guilty before Judge Walter McVey Jr., to charges of disturbing the peace and were sentenced to 30 days in jail here. One wiped her eyes.

Before sentence was pronounced County Atty. Tom Crossan told the court that if the question of a parole arises he would recommend that it be taken under advisement "for a few days."

* * *

"Several thousand dollars was spent because of the foolishness of these girls and more than $200 in telephone bills alone were made on calls to Newton and other places," he said.

After passing sentence, Judge McVey said:

"In view of the seriousness of the offenses, I am not going to consider a parole at this time."

The girls then were returned to jail in custody of a matron.

The girls were not represented by counsel. Each entered her plea separately. Three of their parents were in the courtroom—Mrs. George Damman, Mrs. Edward Jensma and Homer L. Davis.

Mrs. Damman cried during the proceedings.

Committee Investigating Campaign Contributions Gets Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to extend until March 31 the life of its four-member special committee named to investigate a $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) during the gas bill debate.

* * *

Action was by voice vote and with no debate. Sen. George (D-Ga) has explained that the committee needed extra time to draft its report. The original deadline was March 1. Then it was extended until March 10.

In today's vote, the Senate also doubled the funds given the committee, increasing them from $10,000 to $20,000. The group conducted more extensive hearings than it originally planned, and costs of printing the hearing record will be greater than anticipated.

The extension also may afford more time for efforts by Democratic and Republican leaders to resolve a dispute over rules among members of the eight-member special committee named to conduct a broad lobbying investigation.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnston of Texas, said yesterday it seemed inappropriate to him for two select committees to be operating at the same time in the same field.

* * *

Thus there might be restraint on the eight-member group not to get started until the George committee expires. In effect, its assignment is to take up where the George committee leaves off in looking into any efforts to influence senators' votes.

Johnson told newsmen this morning that "we are pursuing" the matter of an agreement between the Democratic and Republican members of the lobbying committee.

* * *

Republican Leader Knowland of California, said he thinks there is "ample room" for negotiation of an agreement.

French Police Quell Algerian Mob Riot

PARIS (AP)—Helmeted riot police cordoned off the French National Assembly today against Algerian nationalist demonstrators. The Algerians smashed shop windows and shouted against the government's request for strong powers to quell the revolt in Algeria.

* * *

Two French truck drivers were knifed.

About 3,000 Algerians had gathered at the Moselm mosque on the city's Left Bank and then began drifting over to the opposite bank of the Seine River near the City Hall, about a mile from the Assembly. On the march, a small group smashed automobiles and broke store windows.

Strong forces of police and troops gave strategic sectors of the city the appearance of an armed camp.

Within an hour of the opening of the Assembly debate, some 50 Algerians had been arrested. Thousands flocked into the city from the suburbs—their numbers swelled by a strike called this morning by the Algerian nationalist movement.

State Faces Growing Problem

Venereal Disease Rate Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan faces a growing problem in the rising venereal disease rate, the State Health Department said today.

The department said the state had 4,858 new cases of syphilis in 1955, a four per cent increase over the previous year. There were 9,710 new cases of gonorrhea, up slightly from the 1954 total.

Dr. John Cowan, health department specialist, said venereal disease among teen-agers still poses a serious problem. He said 16 per cent of the acute cases of syphilis and gonorrhea last year were in the 15 to 19 year age group.

"Little can be accomplished against venereal disease by simply saying that we need to crack down on promiscuity," Dr. Cowan said. "The best ways to safeguard young people from these severe diseases are offered through education and through giving them every opportunity for good times in good company."

Dulles Arrives in New Delhi

500 Security Guards, Bitter Criticism Greets Secretary of State

NEW DELHI (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew into New Delhi today and was greeted by a 500-man security guard and bitter criticism in two leading newspapers.

Dulles told newsmen on his arrival from Karachi that while India and America may have their differences, "basically there is far more agreement than disagreement between our countries."

Th secretary was to begin his talks with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru within 90 minutes of his arrival.

There is no formal agenda for the conversations the two men will hold today and tomorrow, but their discussion almost certainly will touch on these subjects:

1. The Southeast Asia Treaty Council meeting which Dulles just attended in Pakistan.

2. The U. S. attitude towards GOA, the Portuguese territory on India's west coast, and towards Kashmir, which both Pakistan and India claim.

3. The Baghdad Middle East Defense Pact.

Greek Cypriot Leader Deported by British

NICOSIA, Cyprus (INS) — The British colonial government, determined to end Nationalist insurrections against British rule, today deported Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots.

An announcement by the governor-general said Makarios, orthodox Bishop Kyprianos and two other Nationalist leaders had already left Cyprus by air. The British did not say what their destination was.

Makarios, the most influential Greek on this Eastern Mediterranean island, was the Cypriot spokesman in the long negotiations with Britain to obtain a measure of self-rule for Cyprus. But the Greek Nationalists demanded full independence and Britain finally ended the negotiations last week.

Mrs. William Siavrakas and Baby Girl

Mrs. William (Anastacia) Siavrakas, 42, of 57½ Cherry Ct. died suddenly in Pontiac General Hospital early this morning when her baby daughter was born. The baby died at birth.

On Nov. 21, 1913, Mrs. Siavrakas was born in Korinthos, Greece. Her parents were Simeon and Anna Koumatou Pinoruievov. She was married in Athens, Greece, July 18, 1937.

She came to Pontiac from Greece about 18 months ago, and was a member of the St. George Greek Orthodox Church and the Philoptohos Group of her church.

She is survived by her husband and three children, Peter, Simon and Nickolas, all at home.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Monday in her church with the Rev. Father Achilles A. Siagris officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Siavrakas and baby girl are at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Kenneth P. Trimm

Kenneth P. Trimm, 61, of Belding road, Rockford, a former resident of Pontiac, died Tuesday in Butterworth after a three year illness.

Born in Imlay City Aug. 28, 1894, he was the son of Ebnesser and Malinda Hennesy Trimm, and was married in Indiana to Sophia Mercer.

REV. EDWARD F. DUNLAVY

Former City Pastor Succumbs in Florida

The Rev. Edward F. Dunlavy, former assistant pastor of Central Methodist Church, died yesterday at his home in Lakeland, Fla.

A graduate of the University of New Mexico, he was assistant here to the Rev. Weldon Crossland in 1919. Later, he was pastor at Methodist churches in Franklin, St. Clair, Farmington, Detroit and Bay City. About 10 years ago, he retired.

He leaves his wife, Louella; three daughters, Mrs. Harry A. Grow of Romeo, Mrs. James A. Bowden and Mrs. Herbert T. McCreedy, both of Franklin; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Monday from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., 820 E. Maple Rd., Birmingham. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

32-Hour Week, 3-Day Weekend Seen by 1961

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — A 32-hour work week and a three-day week end will be the rule rather than the exception in America in 1961, according to Dr. David Wendt, former Science Education Director for UNESCO.

The noted author and nuclear scientist predicts the shorter work week will result from automation in the office and factory.

Dr. Wendt believes the increased amount of leisure will cause a new boom in recreation, with more Americans spending more money for sporting goods, automobiles and real estate.

"The age of materialism is about over," he adds, and the new interest in leisure activities will be creative.

* * *

The scientist also predicts that life expectancy in this country will be 80 years by 1966. Today's children, he adds, "must be educated to live part of their lives in the 21st Century."

Recent English Fad for Men — Is No Hats

LONDON (INS)—Britain's hatmaking industry is facing a crisis because of an increasing tendency among British manhood to go hatless.

One hatmaking center at Atherstone, Warwick County, reported hundreds of workers idled by the current trend while many craftsmen are leaving the industry for more remunerative work.

Advertising campaigns are being stepped up but even in places like Atherstone there is ample evidence of the new cult.

Hatters and their associated industries are retaliating wherever they can.

Traveling salesmen, for instance, are often warned not to call unless they are wearing a hat. Some salesmen, unwilling to do so, carry precautionary headgear in their automobiles.

Business, however, is brisk in feminine headgear.

Atom Aircraft Plans

WASHINGTON (INS)—An executive of the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp., has revealed his company is working on designs "leading to the development of atomic - powered aircraft."

The Library of Congress here contains the first draft and the reading copy of Abraham Lincoln's famous Gettysburg address.

GM Wins Top Safety Award

1955 Record Was Best of Any Auto Producer in the Country

General Motors was the safest automobile production firm in the U.S. during 1955, according to the National Safety Council, officials of which revealed today that the corporation has been cited as a recipient of the "Award of Honor."

Presentation of the council's highest award marks the 11th time during the past 14 years that GM has received such recognition for its safety practices, an NSC spokesman said.

Of the approximately 525,000 hourly-rated and salaried employes in the country, 99.70 worked through the year without losing time because of occupational illness or injuries received at work. The record was the best in GM history.

In receiving the award, Harry W. Anderson, vice president in charge of GM's personnel staff, said:

"General Motors employes once more have proved the value of intensive plant-wide safety programs. The personal interest displayed by our employes and their supervisors in making GM plants safer places to work and their desire to help sustain the earning power of their fellow employes is reflected in this excellent record.

"The accomplishment is even more noteworthy in view of the fact that it was attained during a year of record production and hours worked."

Senate Votes Down High Farm Props

which he said would spur production. The bank is proposed to reduce production.

* * *

Ailing Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) arrived in a wheel chair to vote with the administration.

In Chicago, President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation said the action if sustained would increase farmers' markets and help them "earn higher net incomes."

But. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said it "will mean a billion-dollar reduction in farm income, if the 90 per cent supports on wheat go out too." He conceded that was likely.

* * *

The Democrats sought to restore price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent of parity, and to scrap Eisenhower's plan, adopted in 1954, for a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent. Parity is a standard fixed by law as fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The soil bank plan, over which there is no major controversy, would provide government payments to farmers who voluntarily reduce planting of basic crops already in surplus.

* * *

An amendment by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to let corn farmers share in the soil bank payments without cutting production awaited action when the Senate quit last night.

ROKs Must Enlist

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Discharged veterans of South Korea's Army will be required to enlist in the 10 reserve divisions which the Republic plans to activate in 1956. The Defense Ministry said the veterans would be given the regular training program and those who fail to respond to calls without proper reasons will be punished under the conscription laws.

The Day in Birmingham

Take Survey Tomorrow for Parking Lot Plans

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic and parking statistics will be tallied today in the southeast quadrant, with an eye to needs for parking lots in that area.

Asking questions of all motorists going past a certain point within the central business district skirted by Hunter, East Maple and Woodward will be two police and two engineer department men.

Questions compiled by City Planner Herbert Herzberg will include whether the driver intends to stop in the downtown area, where he will park, and how long he will stay.

Such a survey was taken last Saturday in the northeast quadrant, where the city plans to develop Parking Lot No. 3. Another survey, made Tuesday on Eton road, was for information concerning flow of traffic. Eton plans now call for a four-lane roadway, to provide one lane for parking, one to facilitate turning for trucks going to industries, and to help traffic congested by people driving to the train.

The commission recently postponed decision on the four lanes for three weeks, pending study.

Still another survey is planned for next week, to determine weekday parking requirements in the southeast quadrant. Good weather will determine the date.

Yough Work projects for 1956 will be mapped out by the Y Men's club of the local YMCA on Monday night in the Dr. Ormond lounge of the "Y" building.

Physical education is to be included when George Darsie, Del Ingram, and Bill Gordon set up the program with George Ewing and the youth work committee.

Present projects sponsored by the club are a swim group at the Pontiac YMCA on Saturdays, maintenance of the "Y" bus, upkeep of the craft shop, 100 scholarship memberships for boys and girls, aid for boys and girls going to camp, and some building maintenance. Others are to be added Monday.

Social workers from Pontiac State Hospital will lead a mental health program for the Monday meeting of Walnut Lake PTA at 8 p.m. at the school.

Mr. Goodwillie had lived in Royal Oak 20 years, having come from Detroit. He was assistant director of taxes at General Motors Corp. before he went into business for himself as a tax consultant. He was a BPOE member.

Promise Repairs on Lake's Dikes

Controls in Flood Area to Be Reinforced, Says County Official

Repairs of flood controls are scheduled for this spring at Pontiac Lake, where disaster was narrowly averted yesterday.

Specifically, dikes along the western and southern portions of the lake will be reinforced and heightened, according to Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph Main.

Main, who supervised emergency sandbagging of the dike Wednesday night, said the Michigan Department of Conservation will cooperate in the repairs.

No more flooding was reported since a mile-square area was swamped by water which swept over a 75-feet long stretch of the dike in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

A water control dam at the mouth of the Huron River was opened and allowed the water level to sink considerably, Main said.

Commission workers are closely watching the lake for any new sign of danger, Main said; further emergency repairs will be made on dikes along the southeastern side of the lake.

Main pointed out that dikes had not received major repairs since the artificial lake was created some 32 years ago.

Treasurer Sparks to Seek New Term

Oakland County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks has announced he will seek a 13th two-year term in office at the November election.

Sparks, 66, is a Republican. He has held the office continuously since his election in 1932.

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., he is a resident of Williams Lake. Petitions for his nomination are in circulation, he said.

Sparks is a past exalted president of the Elks Club and was the first president of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

School Children to Join in Warm Clothing Drive

Pontiac school children will join others in the state who have enlisted in a war against the age old enemy . . .cold weather.

Ten public schools in the city will observe Bundle Week beginning March 19. They will collect good, clean clothing for needy youngsters in isolated rural mountains of the southern United States and on the Navajo Indian Reservation.

Dr. Clair Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, has asked cooperation in this 14th annual Clothing Crusade of Save the Children Federation.

"In the last two years," Dr. Taylor said, "Michigan children have collected some 400,000 pounds of used clothing for youngsters less fortunate than themselves."

Much of the clothing collected in this year's drive will be used here in this country, Dr. Taylor said. The remainder is either sent to the poor in Europe or Korea or stockpiled for use during emergencies. Over the past three years, SCF has shipped more than two million pounds to Korea alone, he continued.

Local schools participating, according to J. Cecil Cox assistant superintendent of schools, include Eastern, Lincoln, Madison, Baldwin, Central, Crofoot, Linda Vista, Longfellow, Webster and Whittfield.

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—Mrs. Marcus Gardner started to walk into her home. She heard a voice say, "Don't come in here." She thought it was the TV set. She walked in. The voice repeated, "Don't come in here." It was a prowler. She fled. So did the prowler.

Whittling Since 1923

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The fine old pastime of whittling still has an ardent advocate in Aaron Jouan, a native of Sweden who came here in 1912. On a visit to his native land in 1923, Jouan went to the World's Fair at Gothenburg, saw some displays of wood carving and whittling, and decided to give it a try. He's been going ever since on letter openers, paperweights, birds, dogs, book ends and other ornaments.

Ho-Hum, It's Just That Time of Year Again

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—All about us—like flies flipping their drunken lids after a hard summer—the people of these United States are falling off and fading away. To make the picture more ironic, they are smiling as they succumb.

* * *

What they are suffering from is premature epidemic of vernal febris (Lat.). Or, as we homo saps would put it, spring fever.

"There is not much to be done for it," said the first physician we consulted on the problem. "Medical tests, if there ever were any, offered no cure."

"But doctor," we said, "how you gonna get your income tax done, sittin' in the noonday sun?"

"Oh, go take a walk," the good man said.

* * *

This being what the doctor ordered, we strolled across town and up Park Avenue, becoming more alarmed with every shop window. Not with the shop windows, per se, but with the mindless bodies standing before them, raptly watching the stationary drama with glazed eyes.

VIOLET FANCIERS

Besides a florist's display of African violets—a pretty enough but scarcely absorbing flower—were five men with nothing in common but aimlessness and an occassional low clearing of the throat.

* * *

In front of the Waldorf-Astoria ladies' wear shop was a cluster of men who could not ordinarily have a remote interest in white pique hats, simply pausing and staring for the lack of energy to do anything else.

* * *

On the steps of St. Bathlomew Church were boys and girls, silent, with hands locked round their knees and noses pointed toward heaven and the hot March sun. Ah, if this were love. But no, it was lassitude.

Down the avenue, taxis lazed, their drivers stricken by the fever and their passengers swilling in the perfumed, infectious air. Dogs sluggishly roamed the gutters on guilded leashes, scarcely noticing the funny people and eternally whimpering, instead of snarling, at competitive dogs.

* * *

We gradually wove back toward the office, picking up a bunch of sweetpeas and an exorbitant pint of strawberries on the way, for there was this column to write.

There being no special hurry about it, a couple more doctors were approached. But they expressed disinterest in the epidemic.

'MOSTLY MENTAL'

"It's mostly mental, although a sudden change in temperature may cause some physiological change in certain people," said one M.D. who shall remain nameless because he so requested. "For some reason, these abrupt changes in weather predispose persons to the common cold, you know."

* * *

"Spring fever is purely an emotional problem," said another doctor. "Comes from long months of mental activity with little physical activity.

"When suddenly the weather inspires a longing for physical participation again, the mental processes refuse to function properly—a sort of frustration-and-compensation thing, if you know what I mean."

Meantime throughout the country, wherever cold has been crippling and warmth has come suddenly and deceivingly soon, there are people who cannot work—and employers who couldn't care less. It's a frightful thing.

"Oh," says our little gray brain cell, "yeah?"

ROK General States Rhee Will Run Again

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A South Korean general predicted that Syngman Rhee will run again for president despite his announcement that he would not seek another term.

"We need such brilliant and wonderful leaders in Korea," Lt. Gen. Chung Yu Kim, South Korean air chief, said. "His health is fine, as far as I know, and I believe he will be president again."

Cars Found Unsafe

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP)—A safety drive at Ft. Knox produced evidence that nearly a third of the automobiles operated by its personnel had no business on the highways.

Plane Fire Lessens Chance of Survival

CHICAGO (AP)—You have about two chances in five of surviving if you are a passenger in a plane that crash and doesn't catch fire.

* * *

But if there's a fire, the chances are greater than four out of five that you will be killed.

These odds were cited yesterday in prepared talks to the Air Line Pilots Assn.'s fourth annual Safety Forum—a gathering of 150 pilots seeking ways to make flying safer—by Charles V. Bennett and Robert J. Schroers of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. They reported that international and domestic air line crashes between January 1938 and June 1951 killed 60.8 per cent of the planes' occupants when there was no fire, and 84.6 per cent when fire followed the crashes.

They told of tests at the CAA's Technical Development and Evaluation Center in Indianapolis which they hope will reduce the danger of fire following crashes.

Death Plunge Details Probed by Officers

An element of mystery still obscures the death of a milkman, 43, who apparently leaped from the roof of the 14-story Pontiac State Bank Building early Wednesday night.

No further clue has turned up to explain the motive of Roy W. Racine, of Ortonville, Pontiac Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said today. But there is no reason to suspect foul play, Wheaton added.

Police learned from the victim's brother, a Rochester pastor, that Racine recently had been "troubled" and had recently become interested in religion.

The Rev. Franklin Racine added that his brother may have suffered nervous shock from Army experiences during World War II.

Tranquilizing Drug Shows Good Results

DETROIT (AP) — A University of Michigan pediatrics specialist said today early reports on new tranquilizing drugs indicate they may help emotionally unstable and uncooperative children.

Dr. Ernest H. Watson, medical director of the pediatric out-patient department at University Hospital, told of "very favorable" initial reports on the use of reserpine in home treatment of children who are aggressive or easily upset because of brain injury or severe emotional disturbances.

He noted that further reports would be necessary. His remakrs were included in a report presented at the Michigan Clinical Institute.

George Dondero Leaves Post After 24 Years

After nearly a quarter of a century in the Congress of the United States, George A. Dondero announces that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself.

As a matter of fact, Congressman Dondero has actually been in public life for half a century and now at the age of 72 he feels that he will step aside and turn the problems over to a younger man.

In his announcement, Congressman Dondero stresses the strength and virility of the two Houses in Washington and the devotion to duty that inspires the members.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County has been exceptionally well and capably represented. Dondero has never temporized with people or situations. He has faced every issue squarely and voted in accordance with his best convictions. He has always been cold to "pressure" and has never been stampeded into precipitate action.

★ ★ ★

From the outset of his career, the Oakland County representative threw himself into the St. Lawrence seaway project with sincere enthusiasm. Throughout his long term, he fought unceasingly for this measure. In fact, he was identified throughout Washington as a leading exponent of the measure and when it was finally signed and enacted into law, President Eisenhower presented him with the pen with which he attached his signature.

★ ★ ★

Also, Dondero has been an unremitting opponent of communism. The Russians have faced no more implacable foe than our own Representative. His aversion for everything that smacked of the Russians is common knowledge.

Congressman Dondero stood exceptionally well with his colleagues in both parties. Because of his long residence in Washington, he became one of the veterans of Congress and was one of the best known Representatives in the District of Columbia.

Men like Dondero who have devoted so generous a portion of their lives to public service, deserve the heartfelt thanks of the people, not only in their own district, but from all sections of the country as well.

★ ★ ★

Congressman Dondero possesses the remarkable record of twelve successive campaigns for Congress with twelve successive victories. No one ever challenged him sucoessfully. His withdrawal leaves the field open. George Higgins, well known Oakland County Senator in Lansing for many years is a candidate for the vacancy. Higgins is a veteran campaigner and an experienced legislator. Once before he announced himself, but graciously withdrew when he learned that Dondero planned to run again.

★ ★ ★

The 1956 race promises to be fraught with interest. The Democrats may take new hope for they found Dondero an insurmountable barrier to hurdle.

Senate Votes to End State Liquor Stores

In a surprise move Michigan's Senate has voted to take the State out of the retail liquor business.

That is the meaning of a bill sponsored by Sen. Broomfield of Royal Oak, which was given upper House approval 20 to 11. The vote on the measure with its provision for turning over this business to private enterprise, followed party lines.

Prospects are that the bill will face a tough fight in the House. Democrats there are said to be strongly opposed. There also is a report that if the bill reaches his desk, Gov. Williams would veto it.

The truth is that the strongest argument for the State's 99 retail liquor stores is the amount of political patronage they provide. It is estimated the Broomfield bill would save the State $2,000,000 a year in rent and salaries. At present the retail stores are handling about five per cent and the Specially Designated Dealers, 95 per cent of the total liquor sales.

We favor this bill. The House not only should approve it but by a margin so wide that a veto would be futile.

A college professor says the average man can tell all he knows in two hours. Lamentably, though, the a.m. doesn't put any such limitation upon his conversational output.

Thaw and Following Freeze Make Bad Condition

Cocktail party: A glass reunion.

In response to several requests, and a couple of narrow escapes, we call attention to the present unsafe condition of the ice on many of the lakes in the Pontiac area. The warm weather early this week honeycombed the ice and created a thin layer of water on its surface. This now has been frozen solid, giving it a safe appearance. But the main mass of ice still is quite porous and often unsafe. This is particularly true of lakes that have streams flowing through them.

Twice Blessed—Give!

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Splitting Party by Still Discussing His Health to Press, Doubt of Nixon

WASHINGTON—Defeat of President Eisenhower for re-election has become a distinct possibility.

The press conference remarks of the President on Wednesday of this week have made inevitable a bitter fight inside the Republican party. It may not be settled at the national convention in August and could definitely influence enough votes in November to cause a serious disaffection among regular Republicans and hence a large "stay-at-home" vote.

If Eisenhower had repeated what he said a week ago—namely, that he would not discuss the vice presidency because as yet he himself has not been nominated—he would have been on solid ground. But when the President revealed that he had told Vice President Nixon that he must "chart his own course," he was, in effect, opening up the whole subject for controversial discussion. This now will be intensified by the backers of the rival candidates.

For it is plain to see that the people around the President who have his ear have overestimated Eisenhower's political strength. They forget that in 1952, while the President carried many states, the margin was very close in several of them. This margin of victory was made possible in many cases by the indefatigable efforts of the Taft wing led by the late senator from Ohio himself. There will be no such force of harmony to pull the party together again if it splits on the Nixon issue.

In an effort to persuade the President to run, many of his advisers took the line that he was "sure to win." Then, however, when he made the decision to run, they permitted a serious doubt to be raised as to whether Nixon should or should not be on the ticket. They argued that he was a "liability." What isn't generally known is that in the 1954 congressional contests Nixon saved the Republican party from a humiliating defeat in several western states. He did so by vigorous campaigning that earned for him the undying enmity of his political opponents.

BREAK FOR DEMOCRATS

It would be the biggest break the Democrats could get if Nixon is eliminated from the ticket in 1956. Once he is kept out of the vice-presidential nomination, of course, he will not draw crowds or produce a fraction of the political effect that he has heretofore.

The disaffection inside the Republican party is difficult to measure. High up in the political councils of the Republican party they know more about these disaffections than they let on. The White House, which sometimes seems insulated against the political facts of life, appears to be unaware of it.

Politically speaking, Eisenhower is often revealed as naive. This is sometimes a virtue, but in campaign strategy it can be fatal. Thus, the President gave the Democrats plenty of help on the health issue at this week's press conference by continuing to talk about it.

Obviously, the reporters will bait him on the health question if he affords them the least opportunity. Whatever definitive effect the President may have created by his television speech on March 1 was swept away by nation-wide headlines telling of his feelings of doubt and unsureness concerning his future health as reflected in answers to questions at the press conference.

Eisenhower's move should have been to keep silent about such a personal question, leaving it to the day-by-day dispatches to reveal whether he is able to do his job. Time is a great healer and, in the many months elapsing before the November election, an impression of normal handling of the presidential job could have been created by the news dispatches telling of his activities.

If Eisenhower, on the other hand, is going to put the matter into the headlines each week with doubts and misgivings of his own, the American people will begin to believe the Democratic whispers and its gloomy arguments about the health issue.

From a sure thing—based on a united party and intensive organization activity—the race now has shifted to one of grave doubt. As of today, the chances of re-election for President Eisenhower are probably only 50-50, which is not too comfortable an outlook, especially with the many adverse breaks in politics that can come in the field of economic and international affairs between now and November.

Physic Cascara Sagrada Is No Better Than Others

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

As a laxative or physic cascara sagrada (sacred bark), the bark of Rhamnus purshiana, a shrub of the Pacific states of the United States, is no better and no worse than a dozen other popular physics, in my opinion. But for once I'll go along with recognized medical authorities who assert, for instance, that if very small doses are taken two or three times a day, the general effect is better than one large dose daily.

Furthermore, the authorities say, cascara used in this way does not lose its efficiency, but on the contrary, may be gradually reduced until colon function is restored to normal and there is no further need for cascara.

That I gotta see.

Whatever I may have said in Lesson 25 in '53, I now believe cascara should be used as a tonic to the colon, not a laxative, and in this way it is a help to anyone who wants to break the constipation habit.

So, if you are serious about it, I suggest that you begin two weeks before you go on strike, taking each morning, noon, and evening a tablet containing about 3½ grains of extract of cascara sagrada, a milligram of thiamin and a grain of yeast concentrate. Continue this for a week after you have quit taking physics, provided it does not produce any apparent laxative effect. If it does, cut the daily intake to two tablets, and, in any case, for several months after you have stopped taking the cascara-yeast-thiamin tonic it is essential for success that you get an optimal daily ration of B-complex, either from an improved diet or from a suitable supplement.

COMMON IN CHILDREN

Yankee wiseacres may not take my notions about this seriously, since I am not a specialist nor a member of a clinic, so I'll just quote a famous nutrition authority who wasn't, either:

Mucous Disease—This disorder is very common among children who are fed largely on sterilized milk, artificial foods, white bread, polished rice, poor butter (*), overcooked vegetables and excessive quantities of sugar . . .

One of the most constant results of food deficient in vitamins is colitis . . .

I have myself no doubt that a proportion of cases of colitis have resulted from the long-continued use of deficient foods from childhood onwards.

(*) "Poor butter" means that vitamin content—A and D—is low because the cows are poorly fed.

(The quotation is from Studies in Deficiency Disease by Robert McCarrison, M. D.)

It's something to think about when your young hopeful demands Yum-Yummy for breakfast, so he can send the box top with a few pennies—say 59 of 'em—for a space gun.

* * *

Ideal way to increase daily vitamin B complex intake is by restoring plain wheat to your diet. Practical ways to do so are described in the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, for which send stamped self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Why Subsidize Farmer? Good One Makes It Pay'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When are we going to realize that the "problem" of the farmer can never be solved by political manipulations? The Democratic party and our own local Democratic committee and its chairman know it, but feel that if they are to return to power, they must win the farm vote. The Republicans are no better with their soil bank, parity and what have you?

If the working man were subsidized as the farmer is, and if he could operate his home and job in the way the farmer does, he'd be in the same boat . . . working for 46 cents an hour.

If the worker could buy tax-free gasoline and charge it to "expense," depreciate his home and car, deduct the expenses of making a living and maintaining a home as the farmer does, he wouldn't "net" $2,000 either.

If he's a good farmer and businessman he'll make his business pay. If he's not, he'll flounder just as anyone else who can't operate his own business.

On the other hand, if we're going to hand him his living, let's treat others the same. Though I don't approve, let's have the government buy all the cars that can be built, all the surplus television sets, all the furniture, and let's don't forget Joe Doe. Let's pay him so much a week not to go to work so he doesn't produce so much.

Israeli Ben-Gurion Bears Big Burden in Near East

BY JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Swift-moving events and threats of war in the Middle East toss a tremendous burden on a 70-year-old man who has studied guns, butter, science and philosophy.

* * *

This man on the spot in Israel is Premier David Ben-Gurion. He is the man who holds Israeli hotheads on leash and who at times has turned loose troops for heavy retaliatory raids on Egyptian, Syrian and Jordanian positions.

This gentle yet somewhat aloof man has been attacked as one who is incautious and impulsive. Some believe him to be a querulous old man who is reluctant to accept the usual consequences of age, including the virture of wisdom.

But others say this is distinctly an unfair evaluation of the white-haired Israeli leader who has fought for Israel for a half-century.

* * *

Those devoted to Ben-Gurion say he earnestly desires peace and hopes to end his political career with achievement of the precious accolade of peace.

STRONG LEADER

There is no doubt that he is a strong leader of the infant nation. He still is looked up to by the majority of Israelis as their natural and faithful leader.

Ben-Gurion makes parliamentary speeches that ring like sermons. He is a Premier that makes tea in the kitchen of his official residence while chatting with visitors.

* * *

He came out of the Polish ghettos as a Socialist agitator 50 years ago in 1906, accepted the Zionist vision and arrived in Palestine to become a farm laborer.

He wrote home to his anxious father from what then was the most neglected part of the Turkish empire and said: "We will make something of this land," a prophecy that came true in May 1948 when the independent Israeli state was proclaimed.

Five Arab states in 1948 tried to drive the then 650,000 Jews of Palestine into the sea. But Ben-Gurion, who evolved an army from scratch through the years, knocked out his enemies in 61 days.

THEN RETIREMENT

After five years of constructive work, always with fear of renewed Arab onslaught, Ben-Gurion retired to a communal village.

There were reports that he suffered a slight stroke. But whatever happened he returned to the tough, official life a year ago, first as defense minister and then Premier again. And his nimbleness has belied reports of ill health.

The big preoccupation of the moment for this white-haired, redcheeked man with the tight-pressed lips, is the Soviet arms flow to Egypt.

He has tried, to obtain more arms from the United States and failed. When he does obtain such arms the pressure will mount for him to unleash his troops in a preventive war, especially since the Egyptians are getting swift jet planes capable of bombing the huge population centers of Israel.

Portraits

By JAMES J. METCALFE

I dream of you with weary hands . . . And with my tired feet . . . As I keep looking for your face . . . On every lonely street . . . I walk upon the wharves at night . . . I watch the sails at dawn . . . And in the dim horizon, dear . . . I know that you are gone . . . I cannot find you in the woods . . . Or on the prairies wide . . . Or any other place on earth . . . Where you may choose to hide . . . Yes, you have disappeared from me . . . Completely out of sight . . . And we may never meet again . . . In darkness or in light . . . But always I shall search for you . . . Wherever you may be . . . Because no other creature, dear . . . Can mean so much to me.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Woman's Fears Stem From Complex Over Unsatisfactory Marital Situation

Mary thought God was stalking her. That's why she was living like Damocles, under a medical sword that she thought would snuff out her life at any moment. To comprehend this case fully, study the facts below. And scrapbook these articles for future use. Other members of your family may need them later on.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-395: Mary M., aged 50, is the neurotic housewife with an abnormal fear of dying.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I am afraid I'll have a blood clot and die of a heart attack," she had said.

"At other times I worry lest I may lose my mind. What is wrong?"

GOD'S PUNISHMENT

When people violate man-made laws, they usually fear men; not God. Thus, if they renege on their income tax, they dread the collector of Internal Revenue.

If they drive too fast, they are afraid of our state highway police.

If they are pickpockets or burglarize homes, they avoid the patrolman on his beat.

But if they commit abortion or adultery or engage in self sex practices or otherwise transgress rules that are regarded as pertaining to Divinity, then they don't dread the police but fear God's dramatic punishments.

And these are usually a sudden type of death, as from lightning, a stroke of apoplexy, a heart attack or insanity.

Curiously enough, these sudden, dramatic afflictions are associated with God's displeasure among all nations of mankind.

So what do you suppose had caused Mary to develop a guilt complex which would lead her to worry lest God strike her down suddenly?

PSYCHOSOMATIC ILLS

Such ills that are generated by conscience or develop from a vivid imagination that is focused on one's "innards" are nowadays termed "psychosomatic."

This is a zooming field of medicine, usually requiring psychology rather than drugs and surgery.

* * *

After a confidential interview with Mary, I learned that she had been quite frustrated in the erotic realm.

Her husband had been quite obese and also a heavy cigarette smoker, both of which characteristics often are linked with prematurely impotent men.

So Mary had been deprived of normal marital affection for several years. Then, as she passed the age of 40, she got scared about the menopause. So she dwelt on sexual problems more often in her imagination.

For women have universally held a wrong notion about the womb, erroneously believing that it is a primary sex organ, which it is not.

Its influence is insignificant as regards happy marriage, unless and until a wife develops the faulty notion that she is on the shelf and no longer attractive to her mate because of the menopause.

* * *

Younger women, who have had their wombs surgically removed (hysterectomy) as from fibroids, also develop the typical menopause complex, though they may be only 18 or 20 years old.

So the menopausal complex is largely a matter of a woman's faulty imagination, rather than of loss of uterine function.

AUTO EROTICISM

In her desperation, Mary had resorted to auto erotic practices. But her girlhood taboo on this type of sexual expression was still so potent, that she feared God would punish her.

And she felt that God punished her indirectly by killing her husband with a sudden heart attack. Since then Mary has lived under the Sword of Damocles, waiting for a similar bloodclot, heart attack or insanity.

That's why the repeated medical attention from experts like the Mayo doctors, left her relatively unimproved. For it was her mind that needed the tonic of facts.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It stabilized Mary's neurotic personality.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hal Boyle Says:

Let's All Give Cheer for the Common Bore

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato:

The unsung hero of civilization is not the common man but the common bore.

* * *

The common man has had so much praise in this generation that everybody wants to be one. How often do you hear someone remark: "Well, looking at it from the viewpoint of the common man I'd say—"?

BORES UNSUNG

But nobody ever hymns the common bore, and no one will publicly admit he is one. This is unfair. We give even the devil his due. Why deny the common bore the credit he deserves?

* * *

The truth is that if the common man is the backbone of civilization the common bore is the social glue of civilization. He forces us to stick together to escape him.

I asked a famous hostess once what was the secret of a successful party.

* * *

FILLS THE GAP

"Why?" I inquired, surprised.

"Well," she said, "a bore fills that critical gap between the arrival of the guests and the time the second martini takes hold. He may not have a single thing worth saying—but he always has something to say.

* * *

"No matter how strange the other guests may have felt at first, by the end of the second martini they know at least they aren't as boring as the one who has done all the talking up until then. He has knit them together—as a common annoyance always does.

"They have a fine time for the rest of the party enjoying each other, and ducking him."

* * *

While this may seem like cruelty toward the bore, the saving feature is that if he is a real, true-born bore, he goes home from the party more satisfied than anybody. He is flattered to have held so many ears for so long.

VIRTUES VARY

Naturally, there are different types of bores, and their virtues vary. Here are the two general classes:

* * *

The galloping, or strident bore. He is usually an agile, loud-mouthed spokesman for an obscure cause. "Why," he demands, "do firemen only collect Christmas toys for poor children in their own neighborhood? Why don't they ship them to the Mau Mau kiddies as a goodwill gesture?" He not only wants your attention. He expects you to contribute funds. Very little can be said of this kind of bore. He is a public nuisance.

* * *

The sedentary, or slow-moving bore—this is merely a simple-hearted fellow on a verbal rocker whose mind is in his vocal cords, and whose nature endlessly craves an audience. He is actually the salt of the earth. But you know how it is with salt. Enough's enough.

NOTHING WORSE

What is the very worst bore of all? Historians of the bore say there is really very little difference between male and female bores of the common, or sedentary variety. But they likewise agree that nothing is more impossible than a galloping lady bore under full head of steam and with her throttle open.

No sensible hostess will invite a strident, petticoat bore to two shindigs in a row. She'll shrill any party to death.

* * *

But, generally speaking, haven't some of the most unforgettabe characters you've ever known been bores? They live on in memory long after those of greater charm and sense fade away.

The ordinary bore is a social catalyst who restores our sense of humor and helps keep our own problems in perspective.

AWFUL THOUGHT

We have to like him a bit secretly, because who, in his own heart, can dodge the knowledge that sometimes he is a bit of a bore himself?

Hail to the common bore, keystone of modern society!

Bob Considine Says:

Briton Skeptical About U. S. Jet Airliners

NEW YORK (INS)—The air correspondent of The Manchester Guardian suggests that all the recent publicity about the expected performances of the Boeing 707 and the Douglas DC8 should be classed under the subhead of "The Great Jet Hoax."

At first blush the strongly worded article carries about it the delicate odor of sour grapes. The two American firms (with only one prototype and some blueprints between them) have taken orders for upwards of a billion dollars worth of these planes-to-be.

The British, who had such a great start with the Comet, have been left far behind in the pure jet field.

But a deeper penetration of the article shows what appears to be many valid points. A president of one U. S. line is quoted as follows:

"We are buying airplanes that haven't yet been fully designed, with millions of dollars we don't have, and are going to operate them off airports that are too small, in an air traffic control system that is too slow, and we must fill them with more passengers than we have ever carried before."

SCOFFS AT ABILITY

The author concedes that the 707 and the DC8 as presently designed could fly across the U. S. nonstop but he scoffs at their ability to fly the Atlantic. He selects the 3,500 mile London-New York route for an example.

* * *

"When the high prevailing headwinds, uncertain terminal conditions, navigational inaccuracies, diversion allowances are taken into account, a still-air range of 6,000 miles is required to fly nonstop westward with regularity.

"To stretch the range of a piston-engined aircraft all that is necessary is to increase the tankage, but with a jet the additional amount of fuel required is so great that the all-up weight of the aeroplane increases so much that structural modifications are probably needed.

"In any case it calls for bigger or additional engines and these in turn have higher fuel consumption, and so on in a vicious spiral.

"The 707 started life as a coast-to-coast airliner with an all-up weight of 190,000 pounds (lower weights were talked of initially) and four J57 engines.

"Over the last few months as the spree of buying has continued, the weight has goneup by a series of not-so-small leaps to 295,000 pounds with four J75 engines, and now there is talk of a 330,000-pound version for the Atlantic route with six J75s. The DC8 has a similar history.

SIGHT UNSEEN

"With changes of this sort taking place it must be virtually impossible for the airlines to have any accurate knowledge of what it is they will get or even when they will get it. The full details of the J75 cannot be revealed to civil buyers, and in fact the engines is only now in the experimental stage.

* * *

"It is apparent that at these weights the aircraft will need runways of between 9,500 and 15,000 feet. The existing main runway at Idlewild is under 9,000 feet and London Airport's longest runway is only 10,000."

The author predicts that when/if the American companies build a plane for Transatlantic jet travel the operators then will be faced with increasing the ticket price prohibitively on a run that has become 70 per cent tourist in recent years.

He tells his own government to stop bawling over Britain's defeat in the pure jet field. To wit:

"The government ought to be congratulating themselves on the wisdom (or good fortune) of their turboprop policy.

"Instead of concentrating every civil aviation resource in the country on making Britannias, Viscounts, and Vanguards (Ed. note: British jet-engined propellor planes of various ranges and sizes) they are frittering time and effort on a multiplicity of other projects of doubtful commercial wisdom. . . . Given single-mindedness of purpose the world markets are at our feet."

Seek to Curb Calls About Tax Refunds

A warning that inquiries about income tax refunds can result in delays in their receipt was issued this week by D.L. Olsen, regional commissioner for the Internal Revenue Service.

The official pointed out that written or telephoned queries about the checks should be avoided until after July 31.

He stated that refund checks are being processed daily. Approximately 450,000 have already been issued in the region, comprising Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. About eight million will be handled before April 15, he said.

U. S. Has Big Edge in Atomic-Powered Ships Race

WASHINGTON (INS) — America appears today to be far ahead in atomic powered shipbuilding despite congressional failure to approve President Eisenhower's nuclear "peace ship" proposed in 1955.

* * *

Rear Adm. William K. Mendenhall, sharp-eyed Texan who heads the Navy's fleet development and maintenance division, says the atomic engine's conquest of the undersea arm is so complete that the U.S. probably never will build another conventional submarine.

Fifteen nuclear subs are built, building or in the active planning stage.

Specifications, meanwhile, have been drawn up for an atomic powered cruiser and for a nu, clear aircraft carrier that will rank as the largest warship ever built.

The latter, a flattop which may displace 80,000 tons, is scheduled to float in about 1960 and to be the successor of the 60,000 ton Forrestal-class super carriers. Funds for "advance procurement" are sought in the budget now before Congress.

* * *

By contrast, the Navy reports that Russia is still building conventional submarines at the terrific rate of 75 to 85 vessels a year. No evidence has leaked through the Iron Curtain that the Soviets have a sea-going reactor.

BRITISH TRAILING

The British, considered third in the race, concede that they cannot produce their first atomic powered sub in less than 4 or 5 years without American aid. Such aid is barred by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954.

Mendenhall told INS in an interview that the atom's benefits for surface ships will not be as revolutionary as those for submarines, but that fission as the principal source of power is assured in both cases. He made these points:

* * *

1. The nuclear sub's principal advantage—greatly increased underwater speed—stems from the fact that the atomic reaction requires no oxygen. This feature is of no interest on the surface.

2. Atomic reactors will apply more horsepower than ever before to the shafts of surface warships, but as now designed they also will increase the weight of the vessels, and top speed may be about the same as for the fastest conventional ships.

3. The ability to sustain top speed indefinitely, and to go for months or years without re-fueling, assures the nuclear surface fleet. Aircraft carriers get a special advantage because they will store more aviation fuel and bombs. Fewer auxiliary ships will be needed.

How long ships of the future may operate on their original fuel is a question. Mendenhall said reactor technology is still in such an early, fast-moving stage that major improvements are almost day-to-day commonplaces.

NAUTILUS TO BE REFUELED

The atomic submarine Nautilus has operated more than a year on its original fuel. Its speed has not been reduced, although warm-up time is slightly longer than when the fuel was fresh. A new "core" (fuel load) is ready to be inserted when needed.

* * *

Mendenhall said that added weight may not be necessary in atomic merchant ships such as the President has proposed—that this feature stems chiefly from the much greater power requirements of warships.

He explained that where a merchant ship would use atomic reactor for a speed of about 20 knots an hour, a warship would require four reactors for a speed of 34 knots.

The second reactor would increase speed to about 28 knots, the third would advance this to about 32 knots and the fourth would add the final two knots.

* * *

The law of diminishing returns would then increase power requirements so steeply that a fifth reactor, if installed, would scarcely increase speed at all.

Five types of atomic reactors ranging from 3,000 to 50,000 horsepower are being developed by the U.S. for surface ships.

Since a super carrier designed for a speed of 40 knots would require at least 200,000 horsepower, plans must allow for a minimum of four reactors. But it is expected that eight actually will be installed.

Even the 11,000 ton guided missile cruiser is expected to use at least four reactors. Partly for defensive reasons, the Navy opposed to concentrating all of a warship's power in a single plant.

* * *

Mendenhall said it is almost certain that full authorization for the nuclear carrier will be sought next year—funds sought in the present of the project, including the completion of a prototype engine.

* * *

Since the six Forrestal-class carriers already built or begun since 1950 are designed for a life of 30 years, they may survive as the warships.

The U. S. Army's first aviation school opened at College Park, Md., in 1911.

Switch the Pitch
THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB

THAT's the initiation. And it's the tip-off on the excitement served up in every Buick for 1956.

To make it easy for anyone to taste that excitement for himself we've set up the Buick Thrill-a-Minute Club. You join just by driving.

So get aboard — and feel the first of the thrills — the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Instant Dynaflow — you might call it. It whisks the terrific torque and thrust of that 322-cubic-inch V8 to the rear wheels instantly — letting you take off like a scalded cat without even floor-boarding the accelerator to switch the pitch. (That saves gas, too.)

Get aboard — and find out how smooth an automatic transmission can be. Ice-cream smooth. Not the slightest suggestion of bump or lag — even when you heavy-foot the pedal to switch the pitch for instant safety-surge passing.

Get aboard — and feel how comfortable a ride can be. With the comfort of 4-coil springing. With the comfort of triple-oil shock absorbers. With the comfort of a ride-steadying torque-tube drive.

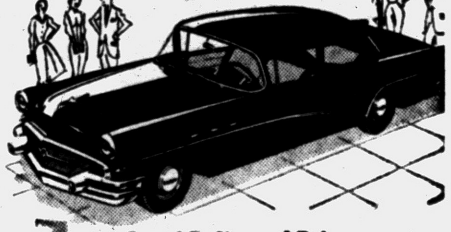

And look around, when you have a chance — with a buyer's eye on the furnishings. Take in the luxury of the appointments; the new color and texture in the designs and fabrics. Nothing's obvious — except good taste.

So join Buick's Thrill-a-Minute Club and you'll find so many stirring thrills, so many quiet pleasures—you'll want to sign up for life.

And one of the nicest thrills of all is finding out how low those first year's dues are. May we show you?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

'Foremost Physician' Chosen in Michigan

DETROIT (UP) — Dr. Walter H. Winchester, who began his medical practice 54 years and 4,000 babies ago, today had been named "Michigan's Foremost Family Physician" by colleagues of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Selection of the 81-year-old Dr. Winchester was announced at the society's annual clinical institute last night.

Despite his age, Dr. Winchester is a member of three Flint hospital staffs and attended more than a thousand hospital patients last year. He also maintains a private practice at a downtown office.

He was a Medical Corps Major in World War I and was decorated for bravery.

Foreign Aid Label Probe Begins in April

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) says the Senate Commerce Committee, of which he is a member, is going to check up on labeling of foreign aid shipments to see if the recipients know who the sender is.

Potter said hearings would open April 10 and that there is evidence that some Communist countries have changed the letters U. S. A. on shipments to U. S. S. R.

Heads Heart Group

DETROIT (UP)—Dr. Earle A. Irvin, medical director of the Ford Motor Co., is new president of the Michigan Heart Assn. Dr. M. S. Chambers of Flint is president-elect.

SKI DOLL—Even the dolls take to water skiing in Nuernberg, Germany. This one has just slid down the ramp in background into the tank. The toy tot is wearing water skis that come in sizes to float dolls of almost any weight.

Plans Changed on Disarmament

Revision Made to Meet H-Bomb Needs and to Be Acceptable to Reds

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Eisenhower administration has drastically revised U.S. disarmament policy to meet what officials conceive to be the needs of the hydrogen bomb age.

Presidential Asst. Harold Stassen told a news conference yesterday he believes the new program will be more acceptable to Russia than was President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection of the two big powers when it stood alone.

In this respect, Stassen made clear, the United States has modified its position from that which drew Soviet criticism after it was presented by Eisenhower at the summit conference last July.

Stassen will fly to London tomorrow to coordinate new U. S. disarmament proposals with representatives of Britain, France and Canada in advance of a new round of negotiations with the Soviet Union there March 19.

The new policy, elements of which have been disclosed at various times, abandons the idea that substantial cuts in military manpower must be a primary aim of any effective disarmament agreement.

It concentrates instead on bringing under control nuclear weapons —A-bombs and H-bombs—and on cutting back such things as bombers and missiles.

Better After Surgery

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of U. S. Postmaster General Summerfield of Flint, was reported feeling good today in University Hospital after undergoing surgery Tuesday to correct a stomach ailment.

The diplomatic term "de factso" means that full diplomatic recognition has been given to a state.

Crash Hospitalizes 2; Four Others Treated

A head-on collision on M24 at Brown Road yesterday afternoon seriously injured two Lapeer men and inflicted minor injuries on four more.

In poor condition with a concussion and possible fractured ankle in Pontiac General Hospital is Eldred Thornton, 45, a passenger in a car driven by Arnold F. Bullis, 44, of North Branch.

Cecil E. VanHorn, 30, is in satisfactory condition with multiple lacerations. VanHorn was also a passenger with Bullis.

Herman Kreger, 52, of Silverwood, and Orel D. Carson Jr., 20, of Lapeer, both passengers with Bullis, were treated for minor injuries.

Bullis and the driver of the second car, 23-year-old Clifford E. Morris of 518 Orchard Lake Rd., were treated and released.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Bullis' car was out of control and had crossed the yellow line when the crash occurred.

City Employes in Civil Defense

Ten - Hour Refresher in Rescue Training Has 30 Attending

Thirty city employes from the Parks and Recreation and Cemetery Departments are presently undergoing a 10-hour civil defense rescue training refresher course.

Assistant Civil Defense Director William L. Collins said the course would include classes on the local civil defense program, purpose of rescue operations and the refresher course. Also scheduled are classes on first aid review, knot tying, and the use of stretchers.

In the final three days, the group will go through practical rescue problems similar to what would be experienced in case of enemy attack or natural disaster.

"The purpose of the course is to teach the men to get trapped victims out as fast as possible with the equipment available in order to save lives," Collins said.

Last year the same group completed a similar 40-hour course.

Study Addition to City Hospital

Deadline of April 19 Set to Receive Bids on $3 Million Job

Plans and specifications for the $3,000,000 addition to Pontiac General Hospital are presently being studied by potential bidders on the proposed project, it was announced yesterday.

On Feb. 14, the City Commission, upon the recommendation of Architect Leo J. Heenan, set April 19 as the deadline for these bids.

The commission is expected to hear the results of the bids at their April 24 meeting.

Willis M. Brewer, property chairman of the Board of Trustees, said yesterday he had received no answer from Lansing on a request for federal aid for the expansion program.

Brewer and three other hospital officials met with Jordan Popkin, director of the state hospital survey and construction department, on Feb. 23 to seek aid from the Hill-Burton federal program.

This was necessitated because of increased building costs since Pontiac voters approved the $3,000,000 bond issue in November 1954.

The expansion program will bring a total of 346 beds and 90 bassinets. The hospital presently has 148 beds.

Weeks Faces More Quizzing

Solons Ask Questions About Easing Curbs on Trade With Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks faces more critical questioning by senators today about this country's stand on the easing of curbs on free world trade with Russia.

* * *

Weeks testified yesterday before the Senate Investigations subcommittee the United States agreed reluctantly to the easing of the curbs under pressure from free world allies, and made "the best bargain we could" in doing so.

The alternative, he said, would have been to let the whole control system collapse and thus open the way for even more sales to Russia by trade-hungry Western nations whose economy depends more heavily on export trade than does that of the United States.

* * *

John C. Borton, an aide of Weeks, testified that unless agreements on any single item were unanimous in the Paris talks, it automatically would have gone off the embargo list.

The prairie dog is not a dog, but a rodent.

Denies Embezzling Funds of Loan Firm

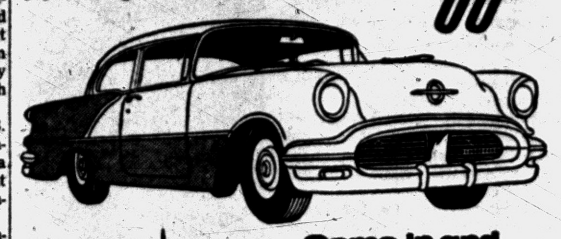

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—In a response filed to charges leveled against her in a Federal District Court suit, Miss Minnie Mangum has denied she embezzled money from the defunct Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn.

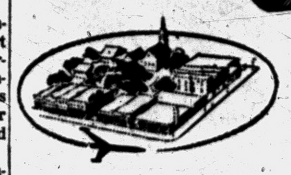

State Prosecutor Linwood B. Tabb Jr. says he does not "consider the answer filed . . . as a denial of the criminal charges but merely a denial of allegations contained in one specific suit."

Miss Mangum, 52-year-old spinster, has waived a police court hearing on a charge of grand larceny of $174,000 from Commonwealth, wrecked by shortages auditors say total $2,919,000. Her case will be presented to a grand jury in April or May.

Miss Mangum's denial was contained in an answer to charges made in a suit filed Feb. 16 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Cor. It was her first public statement on guilt or innocence.

Medic Film to Show Birth by Caesarean

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An actual birth by Caesarean section will be shown on film next Monday on NBC's television program Medic. An unidentified mother and father gave permission for the filming of the operation, which lasted about five minutes, and it will be shown from beginning to end, NBC said. The parents will watch the show. It's the first Caesarean to be shown on TV, NBC said.

Are Viruses the Answer to Cancerous Life?

(This is the fifth of six articles describing up-to-date developments in a massive and dramatic research attack on cancer.)

By JOHN GEIGER

NEW YORK (INS)—Of the several hundred thousand billion cells in the human body, one suddenly becomes malignant or cancerous.

* * *

Why?

Trying to find the answer to this problem—the core of the cancer puzzle—poses some of the same sort of difficulties as understanding the social problem of juvenile delinquency.

A cancer cell is much like a delinquent. It's young and tough and lawless. In a population of body cells that perform useful functions, like citizens with regular jobs, the cancer cell refuses to grow up, refuses to do any useful work, and — by dividing and growing without control — eventually breaks down law and order.

People are likely to wonder what gets into a boy to make him a delinquent, or to theorize that the cause is something external — a change in his environment. Biologists wonder what gets into a cell to make it cancerous, and try to see if some change in its environment — some alteration in body chemistry—is the real cause.

* * *

A few scientists think they have the answer to "what gets into a cell." They think it's a virus.

CAUSE ANIMAL CANCER

These infinitely small organisms have been proved to cause many types of cancer in chickens and other fowl. In excitingly important new findings of the last few years, they have been shown to cause leukemia and some gland cancers in mice. But no one can be sure about cancer-viruses in humans.

And viruses, it seems, are nothing but little shells of protein—filled with nucleic acid. Could there be cancer viruses invading human cells—like little packets of extra nucleic acid—and changing the cell's nucleic acids into a cancerous type?

Or could a virus be found that might invade cancer cells, destroy their nucleic acids—and thus kill the cancer?

At Sloan-Kettering Institute, Dr. Alice E. Moore has been busy training viruses to do just that kind of job against human tumors.

Dr. Moore started with some obscure viruses that were found to attack cancer in mice. They routed the cancers — but they also caused infections that killed the mice, too.

* * *

"I wasn't doing anything," she told one visitor unhappily, "that I couldn't have done better with a mousetrap."

HORMONES — The powerful juices of body glands (hormones) have been found to be of utmost importance in the cancer fight. Hormone irregularities are associated with some cancers, and hormone treatments can restrain some others. At New York's Sloan-Kettering Institute, researchers must use complex chemical equipment to isolate and identify tiny quantities of hormones.

But by using the viruses against one tumor after another, over and over again, she managed to increase their appetitite for cancer and decrease their appetite for mouse.

When it became possible to grow human cancer cells in test tubes or implanted in laboratory animals, Dr. Moore started training viruses to attack human tumors.

Now, on the research wards at Memorial Center's James Ewing Hospital, her viruses are being tried in volunteer patients with hopeless human cancer.

It is much too early to tell what the results will be, or whether the body will treat the friendly viruses like foreign invaders and find some way to block their effects. But win or lose, the knowledge gained will be useful in finding new and perhaps better ways to help future patients.

HORMONE INFLUENCE

One of the most potent influences is the amount and type of hormones—chemical juices poured into the blood by glands like the adrenal, the pituitary, the thyroid and others.

Hormones are like chemical traffic lights for the life processes within each cell. Some say "go"—and accelerate its growth or activity. Others say "stop" — and slow or check cell functions. Some are like direction signals, steering the cell's activities in a particular pathway.

* * *

Could some change in hormone production help turn a normal cell into a cancer cell?

To learn some of the answers, Dr. Thomas F. Gallagher of Memorial Center's Sloan-Kettering Institute has been tracing out the patterns of hormone production in health and in a variety of diseases, including cancer.

The task is extremely difficult. Some hormones accelerate growth, others act like brakes. A rise in the output of one hormone may cause a fall in the production of a second, which in turn affects a third, yet somehow the whole system remains in balance.

Even more important, there are hints of hormone abnormalities in patients with pre-cancerous conditions. That could lead to early diagnosis of cancer — while there is still time to treat it effectively.

And that could mean an enormous saving in lives, for quick diagnosis is one of the best weapons now available to stem cancer's tide. American Cancer Society figures show that if all cancers were diagnosed as promptly as possible with present techniques the number of cures would be doubled.

* * *

There have been practical, down-to-earth results of the hormone research. Understanding of the thyroid gland and the fact that its hormone accelerates bodily activity led to temporary cancer control (and many extra months of life) for patients with thyroid tumors. Studies of the pituitary, the body's amazing "boss gland" at the base of the brain, showed that its hormones acted powerfully to promote the growth of breast tumors, one of the greatest cancer threats in women.

This opened a whole new field for investigation. As a result, surgeons today can remove the pituitary gland and bring marked, though temporary, benefit to some patients with breast cancer. The pituitary's output is replaced safely by controlled injections of hormones.

No one can foretell what uses the knowledge gained by fundamental studies of this type will have. It seems sure that it will not be limited to cancer treatment.

* * *

For the hormone studies are typical of much research in cancer, and demonstrate the strangest irony of all. The study of cancer—the great killer—is in many ways the study of life itself.

Solo, Ensemble Festival Scheduled for Saturday

The District IV Vocal Solo and Ensemble Festival sponsored by the Michigan School Vocal Assn., will be held at Pontiac High School all day Saturday.

"The purpose of the festival is to provide encouragement and vocal improvement to young singers and also to stimulate small ensemble work at the high school level," said George Putnam, supervisor of secondary music in the Pontiac schools.

He estimates that several hundred students will participate in the festival. Schools of all sizes in the area will be represented.

The public has been invited to attend any of the performances. There will be soloists and ensembles performing in the clinic from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the vocal music room, the radio workshop and rooms 127, 316 and 216.

Pontiac High students singing in the solo division will be Jane Austin, mezzo soprano singing "Birds' Song at Eventide"; Phyllis Smith, soprano, with "I Hear a Thrush at Eve"; and Don Hardy, bass, singing "Nomad."

Other performers and their selections are: Douglas Brown, bass, singing "Trumpeter"; Jack Hutchins, tenor, "The Beaming Eyes"; Joe Giglie, baritone, "Sylvai"; Dick Hartman, bass, "Luna"; and David Lugg, tenor, "Sorrento."

Concluding the list of performers are Ruth Ann Tower, soprano, "Let All My Life Be Music"; Vickie Vandecar, soprano, "I Love Thee"; Sandra Summerville, soprano, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

How Now? Brown Cow?

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — Mrs. Janet Callaghan, librarian at Richwood High School, had an original excuse when she was late for school. She said the family cow, "Bucky," followed her to school and she had to take it back.

When chartered in 1746, Prince-ton university was known as the College of New Jersey and was located at Elizabethtown.

Attorney Gains Delay in Court

Sexton's Examination on Shooting Charges Postponed 1 Month

Examination of James B. Sexton, 29, yesterday adjourned one month at the request of the ex-Pontiac patrolman's lawyer.

Sexton, 686 E. Tennyson Ave., is charged with assault with intent to kill.

Defense counsel Clarence Smith asked Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan for time to show Sexton was without malice when he admittedly shot two companions the night of Jan. 27.

The victims, James Robert Stephens, 30, of 208 State St., and Sexton's cousin, Archie McCowen, 24, of 180 Norton Ave., both appeared as prosecution witnesses.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, who completed the people's case in the 3-hour session yesterday, agreed to the adjournment.

He said Smith wanted the delay to conduct legal research.

Air Force Searching for Jet Pilot in Pacific

TOKYO (AP)—A second U. S. Air Force jet pilot went into the Pacific off Okinawa today.

An Air Force spokesman said the pilot radioed he was bailing out of his crippled plane. Rescue boats and planes began combing the area.

The Air Force announced meanwhile the search had been stopped for a thunderjet pilot who disappeared off Okinawa yesterday.

Asks Funds to Aid Bus Boycott Losses

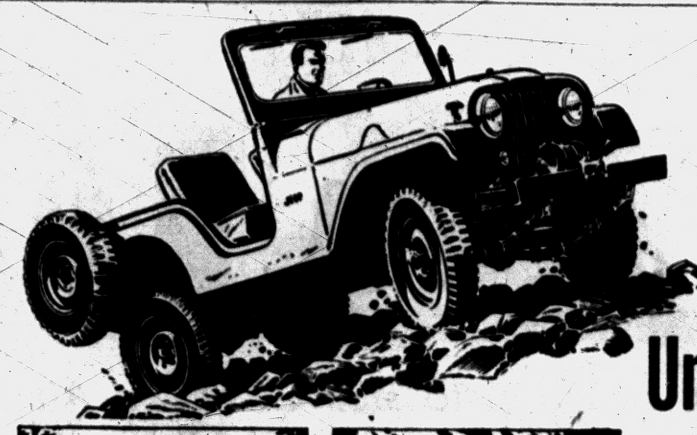

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Mayor W. A. Gayle says any contributions would be welcomed to help city buses out of a financial problem brought on by a Negro boycott over segregated seating.

* * *

He made the statement after announcing that Sunday service will be discontinued this Sunday on 12 of the 14 city bus routes because the passenger load hasn't warranted continued operations.

* * *

Gayle said he received a $55 money order from an anonymous group of 53 persons in Atlanta to be used in the "valiant struggle to maintain segregation in city buses."

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 3-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-6. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

Mud Forces Cut in Mail Service

Soft Shoulders Prevent Carriers From Driving Close to Some Boxes

Muddy conditions on unpaved streets and roads may force a temporary interruption in mail service to residents living along such routes, Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr., said today.

Although Dean said carriers will do "everything possible" to deliver letters and parcels, he stated that soft, muddy shoulders often make it impossible to approach mail boxes by car.

Delivery at these points, Dean said, will be discontinued until roads are passable or the areas around boxes become firm enough to drive upon.

Affected residents may pick up their mail at the general delivery windows of local post offices, Dean said. Persons living west of Johnson street may receive their mail at the Huron Gardens Branch while those living east of Johnson will find it at the main office.

"While we realize patrons cannot repair the roads," the postmaster pointed out, "in some cases it is their responsibility to keep the approaches to their boxes passable by repairing holes and such.

"As for the roads themselves, the city and county road commissions are doing their best to grade and keep passable the roads in their respective areas, but they cannot possibly do them all at once."

Are You Sleeping While on the Job?

EAST LANSING (INS)—A Michigan State University professor belives a person engaged in a lengthly, monotonus task "gets into a state somewhere between wakefulness and sleep."

Dr. Paul Bakan, assistant professor of psychology at MSU, expressed the belief after experiments dealing with sight and sound vigilance.

Part of Dr. Bakan's work was done for the U. S. Air Force which wants to learn more about vigilance as it applies to such things as radar, requiring long sessions of alert wacthing.

The tests suggested that women genearally are better than men in doing prolonged, monotonous work.

Find Animal Fats Is Big Villain in Heart Disease

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A diet high in animal fats is the villain in the mounting rate of heart and blood vessel diseases in the opinion of an Omaha researcher. Carbohydrates—sugars and starches—used to get the blame.

Dr. Charles M. Wilhelmj of the Creighton University School of Medicine said five years of diet research on dogs indicate that a diet high in animal fats–50 per cent of the calories in fats–gave the dogs high diastolic blood pressure—the serious kind–and left them with hypertension even after their diet was changed.

And he commented, the normal diet of the well-to-do family today is from 50 to 68 per cent fat. Our diets have been going higher in fat content the last 10 to 15 years and so has our rate of heart and blood vessel diseases, he said.

When he began his study of the effects of diet on hypertensive cardiovascular disease, Dr. Wilhelmj said, nearly all suspicion pointed to a high meat diet as the cause of high blood pressure. But he fed dogs lean meat diets and their blood pressure lowered.

Magsaysay Treated to Naval Maneuver

MANILA (AP)—A U. S. Navy task force took Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay to sea today to witness a naval demonstration off the southern coast of Luzon island.

The force was made up of three aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser, and seven destroyers, most of them veterans of the Korean War.

Magsaysay saw the exercises from the carrier Shangri-La.

Ike's Reaction to His Cardiac Attack to Affect Personal Life of Older Men

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

A new portrait of a he-man's view of personal care and sensible living has been created by President Eisenhower's reaction to his cardiac attack.

* * *

The president's decision that healed scarred tissue in the heart area is good enough for the gruelling test of five more years in the White House will have a profound effect—apart from politics—on the philosophy of life of older men.

His momentous calculated risk with his own future will have a subsidiary effect on the extraordinary national delusion that it is fitting to scrap know-how and fitness automatically at age 65. (If the President is renominated and reelected, he will be past 70 when he quits his job.)

In the business of living, Mr. Eisenhower is setting new standards for mature men. If the nation's foremost military hero thinks it prudent to listen to medical advice, other men will no longer have to fear the label of "sissy" if they show respect in caring for the human body. One of the strange maladjustments of otherwise strong personalities has centered around the superstition that it was unmanly to be respectful to the well known principles of biology and hygiene.

* * *

Irrespective of this, the leader of the famous Normandy invasion recently said:

"Readiness to obey the doctors is, out of respect for my present duties and responsibilities, mandatory in my case. I am now doing so; and I intend to continue to do so for the remainder of my life, no matter in what capacity I may be living or serving."

* * *

The foregoing words should be inscribed on Mr. Eisenhower's monument, for the moral inherent in them is a fine heritage for those with family, business and public responsibilities. The President in effect is saying: "It's smart to be sensible," with apologies to the world's largest department store.

In setting up his manual for selfhelp, President Eisenhower was following the precepts of the philosopher Socrates, who taught "Know Thyself." Part of widsom is to be aware of your liabilities as well as your personal assets. The President, in referring to his plans for future travel, said, "This kind of activity I shall continue, but not on such an intensive basis that I must violate the restrictions within which I must work."

The sophists appear to demand physical, mental and moral perfection in their specifications for public men. But the public must choose among human beings. And, as the years roll by, men are gradually, in various degrees, partially impaired by the ravages of time, of viruses, and of germs.

* * *

But the impact of the Eisenhower example is that men, after setbacks, are capable of carrying on.

This example will give inspiration to millions of older persons, who are questioning themselves as to their ability to live with their own defects.

The store phone rings when he dials PI 4 plus "B-E-E-R."

Sights Amaze Muscovites

Soviets Flocking to See Color Film of U. S. Cities

MOSCOW (AP) — Muscovites are flocking to three movie theaters to see a color travelogue picturing sights of America in a favorable light.

The film is entitled "San Francisco, Chicago and New York" and was shot in those three cities last summer by a Soviet photographer identified only by his last name, Kalitsin.

It opens with shots of San Francisco used car lots while the commentator tells about the American custom of trading in old cars for new. It presents shots of San Francisco's Chinatown and Negro district. The commentator explains that 10 per cent of the American population is colored but he makes no disparaging remarks about race prejudice.

The film also shows Harlem as seen from the elevated New York Central Railway tracks—but again no unfavorable remarks are made.

* * *

Russian spectators who saw the film were chary about expressing their views but several said: "There ought to have been more. We want to see more."

The audience gasped with amazement at color shots of Broadway at night — especially at a view of the smoke rings emerging from the giant cigarette advertisement there.

The motion picture had shots of the lakefront in Chicago. There were views of State Street all accompanied by flattering commentary. The spectators were particularly interested in pictures of Wall Street which they've heard denounced so often for years. This time the comment was impersonal.

There was a view of the Empire State Building and another of Rockefeller Center. The motion picture was released by the ministry of culture which runs the Soviet cinema industry.

* * *

Its presentation represents a policy change. A few years ago the only cinema depictions of the United States shown in the Soviet Union were those presenting America and Americans in the most unfavorable light.

Under a charter of King Charles II, spaniels are allowed in all courts and must not be turned away from any royal palace in England.

2 Hospitals Too Crowded to Take Patient

Jammed Pontiac hospitals were "too crowded" early Wednesday to admit an emergency patient whom police found beaten, semi-conscious and complaining of "terrible pain."

"We regret no beds were available" was the answer at both Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals, where for months an overflow of patients have been bedded in halls.

The victim, Arthur Sofian, 40, finally was admitted to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. He suffered head injuries in an attempted robbery of a south-end bar. A bartender there, Sofian lives in Waterford.

There was nothing new about a patient being turned away, according to hospital authorities.

"Emergency treatment is available at all times," said Miss Loretta Paul, director of Pontiac General. "But only patients in really critical condition will be admitted on emergency priority. "What few beds we have left, we have to save for those who might really need them," she explained.

At midnight Tuesday, according to hospital records, there were 249 patients in Pontiac General although the hospital was built to accommodate 155 patients, Miss Paul said. At least two dozen patients, she said, slept in halls Tuesday night.

She said eight more "strictly emergency" patients were admitted by 7 a.m. Wednesday.

"This is the situation every night of the week. During 1955, we were filled to at least 110 per cent of our capacity all the time," Miss Paul stated.

Sister Mary William, director of St. Joseph hospital agreed.

"We suggested that the man could be given a cot in the emergency room, although there were three people bedded there already," she said.

"We've had beds in the halls for nine months. During February there were almost 400 patients waiting for the 310 beds here.

"When our new addition is completed, we will have 500 beds, but there still will be a shortage," she said.

Waterford Girl Burned as Nightgown Blazes

A Waterford girl who suffered first and second degree burns when her flannel nightgown caught fire yesterday afternoon is reported in satisfactory condition today in Pontiac General Hospital.

Pontiac post State Police said 14-year-old Lila Liimatta was leaning against an oil stove in her home at 6080 Dixie Highway when the gown blazed up.

Her mother, Elaine, 43, ripped the gown off, burning her hands. She was treated and released from the hospital.

To Receive Bids on City Homes

5 Houses Along Pike, Parke Streets Located on Civic Center Site

Bids will be taken March 26 for wrecking or moving five city-owned homes situated on the Civic Center property across from the City Hall.

The City Commission authorized the city clerk to advertise the bids for the dwellings at a meeting held last night.

The homes are located at: 66 and 78 E. Pike St. and 8-10, 14, and 26 S. Parke St.

The Civic Center property is bounded by the Clinton River, Parke, Pike and Water streets.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said this morning that the city now owns all the property on this site with the exception of three parcels. Negotiations are continuing on these three, he added.

No official action has been taken as to what future city building will occupy this site, Willman said.

Recreation Hall Looted of Watches in Burglary

A breakin last night of a recreation hall at 887 Baldwin Ave. nettde thieves three wrist watches valued at $104, according to police reports.

Thieves broke in through the front door, police said. The owner, Gus Perazzo, said the watches were taken from a glass show case which was smashed open.

Election of new board members and reports of special committees are on the evening's agenda. Executive director, Estella M. Martin, will present highlights of the year's work.

Van Dusen Protests Proposed Ballot Law

The State Senate is now considering a bill which would permit incumbent legislators to print their titles on primary ballots.

It passed the House by a 56-44 vote over the objections of Rep. Richard C. Van Dusen (R-Birmingham). Under present law, only incumbent judges can use their names on ballots.

"The Legislature should be wary of adopting laws designed to perpetuate themselves in office at expense of possible worthy opponents," Van Dusen said.

The lawmaker maintained that "state representative" or "state senator" under a man's name on a ballot would give him a considerable advantage.

Proposed Red Visit Protested in Britain

LONDON (INS)—Trucks bearing placards with the slogan "Keep the Redbreasts Out" toured central London today as part of a protest against the visit next month of Russia's two top men.

The protest has been organized by a newly formed "League of Empire Loyalists."

The trucks were equipped with loudspeakers over which were played anti-Communist slogans and Chopin's funeral march.

The demonstration came the same day that a London newspaper reported Russia's Nikolai A. Bulganin and Nikita S. Khrushchev had asked if they might might make their stay in Britain longer by arriving ten days earlier than planned.

Annual bituminous coal output in Pennsylvania averages 100 million tons, and the state also produces about 30 million tons of anthracite.

Israel, Oil Wells at Stake in Mid East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Air raid sirens wail once again in the cities of the tormented Middle East. Mock attacks drive civilians to cover. More and more on both sides of the line, fears of war are heard.

Since World War II the Middle East has been on the edge of a volcano. It erupted in fury in 1948, subsided in 1949, and now once again rumbles even more ominously because so much more seems to be at stake.

* * *

Not only the future of the eight-year-old state of Israel and her Arab neighbors hangs in the balance. The area has the greatest oil reserves in the world and other valuable raw materials.

It is also the gateway from the West to the Orient, a potential bulwark against invasion or a jumping-off place for conquest.

The Western Powers have tried to keep a balance between the Israelis and their Arab neighbors. But recently a new element was injected. Communist arms have been shipped to Egypt and other Arab states, threatening to tip the balance and set off a war neither responsible Arabs nor responsible Israelis really want.

BRITISH MANDATE IN 1923

In 1923, the League of Nations granted Britain a mandate over Palestine. In Britain's mandate was a declaration by Foreign Secretary Lord Balfour that Britain looked with favor on a national Jewish home in Palestine. It was slow in coming.

Underground violence broke out after World War II. Britain threw the whole Palestine issue into the lap of the United Nations in 1947. The U.N. came up with a plan for partition of Palestine between Arabs and Jews—two independent states—with Jerusalem an international city.

* * *

Britain announced plans to surrender her mandate May 15, 1948. Just one day before that deadline, David Ben-Gurion, now Israel's premier, proclaimed the birth of the state of Israel.

Haganah, the steeled underground organization which fought the British, burst from its hiding places and was transformed overnight into an efficient army which brought to a standstill the troops of five surrounding Arab states. U.N. efforts brought about an armistice in 1949.

Under the 1947 U.N. partition plan, Israel would have had about 5,500 square miles. At the end of the hostilities, Israeli forces had overrun territory, including the Negev Desert, totaling 7,800 square miles with a population of almost 800,000.

ARABS DEMAND PARTITION

There was no peace, however. The Arabs soon were to demand what they had rejected before the war broke out—partition of Palestine more or less on the lines of the 1947 U.N. line. Israel would make no territorial concession.

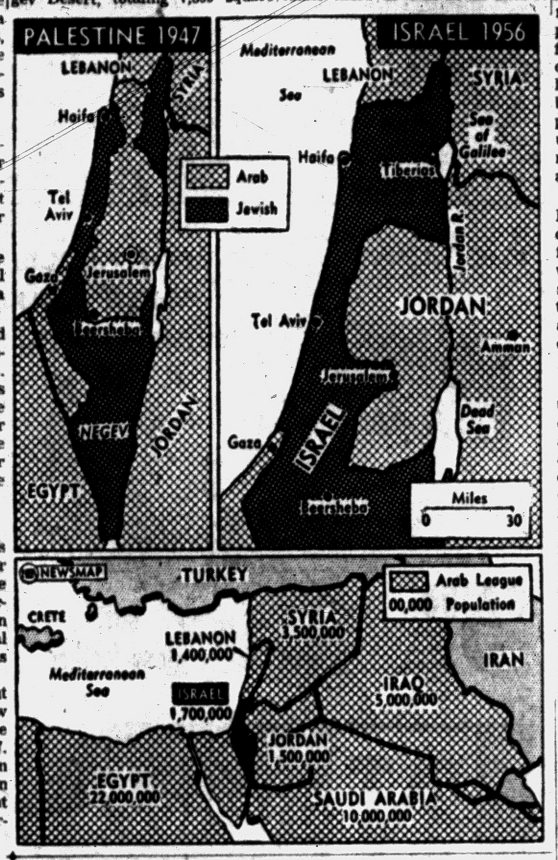

* * *

Meanwhile, a cancer was growing in the Middle East. As many as 900,000 refugees, driven by the war from their homes in Palestine, are camped in hovels in Arab states. The Arab states do not want to assimilate these people, on the ground this would be final recognition of the Israeli conquest of the land where they once lived. Israel, once willing to take back a token number of them—perhaps about 100,000—by now is unwilling to take any at all. The refugees have created an emotional issue.

The United States, Britain and France are standing by a 1950 declaration intended to stem the flow of arms to both sides and warning of action against aggression. The idea was to maintain the balance of arms in the area and preserve the slender thread of peace.

* * *

Late in 1955 the Communist bloc upset the balance. Egypt negotiated a deal with Czechoslovakia for arms, and shipments soon arrived at Alexandria. Syria too got an offer of arms. The Kremlin leadership seemed bent on fomenting, at the least, a high degree of tension, or at the worst a local war. Such a war would do much to cut off the West from the entire area. But even the Kremlin would be cautious about all-out war in the Middle East. It carries the danger of World War III—the war for which the Communist world is not yet ready.

Official Tells Capac Farmers

Fair Share Renews Threat to Strike for Milk Boost

"If we have to fight, we will," Homer L. Martin told 300 dairymen meeting at Capac High School last night.

The former labor organizer was speaking as the chief adviser for the recently-organized Fair Share Bargaining Assn. for the Michigan dairy farmer.

He described his group's efforts to present an acceptable program to the sales committee of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn.

The Fair Share group want a farm labor committee and a strategy board from the Detroit milk marketing area to study the overall milk price situation.

"We have talked to 8,700 farmers, urging them to organize and bargain collectively, and make their voices heard," Martin said.

"Six thousand dairymen say, 'collective bargain for us'," Martin reported. "Next time we ask the dealers to be there to bargain, they'd better be there," he added, pointing out that some 900 farmers in Ovid have voted to strike for higher milk prices.

"We're shooting for $6 per hundredweight," he said.

Sam Balow, Salem committeeman, stressed that MMPA can handle milk, guarantee paychecks, and manufacture surplus, but it cannot bargain. "We will be a militant organization with the farmers' problems at heart," he said.

"If we have to, let's walk the picket lines from Bad Axe to Detroit, and from Richmond to Ovid. Farmers have said they will join the picket lines," Martin told his audience.

First announcement of the establishment of a Fair Share office at 14609 W. Eight Mile Rd., Detroit was made at last night's meeting.

Paper Stops Hiccups

HONOLULU—In some parts of Hawaii, mothers "cure" a child of hiccups by sticking a piece of paper on the youngster's temple. Similarly, a piece of paper plastered to a child's temple supposedly guards him from getting hiccups in the first place.

Women Prisons Overcrowded

State Corrections Unit Will Meet in April to Discuss Acute Problem

LANSING (AP)—The State Corrections Commission will meet next month with officials for the Detroit House of Corrections to discuss the problem of finding space for the state's women prisoners.

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, said the Detroit penal institution is badly overcrowded.

The state houses about 360 women prisoners in Detroit and pays board to the Detroit House of Corrections. About 80 of the women prisoners now are sleeping in the corridors, he said.

"We're agreed we need some place to house the women prisoners," Harrison said, "but the question is who is going to pay for it."

The commission agreed to restudy a proposal to put about 100 prisoners at the state prison of Southern Michigan to work repairing books after the Senate asked that the proposal be reconsidered.

It originally was planned to use the prisoners to repair books from the state's schools and libraries but some opposition to the plan developed in the Senate.

Prefabs on Rise

CHICAGO—Prefabricated houses account for 7 per cent of the new single-family homes being built in the United States, but in some communities, mainly in the Midwest, prefabs comprise more than 50 per cent of the new homes.

The tree toad, like the chameleon, can change it color to blend with tree bark or the bright green of new leaves.

UF's Volunteer Bureau Welcomes New Director

Mrs. Ralph Bump of West Walton boulevard (right), president of the Central Volunteer Bureau, welcomes Mrs. William Shunck of Maceday Lake as a new member of the organization. The bureau is a United Fund agency.

Pontiac Press Photos

During the coffee break at the board meeting held by the Central Volunteer Bureau Thursday at the YWCA, Mrs. David MacLaren was photographed as she poured for Marguerite Parrish, director of the Social Service Department at Pontiac State Hospital.

Central Unit Finds Aides for Agencies

Locates Personnel to Donate Services to Help Others

The Central Volunteer Bureau, a Pontiac Area United Fund service, met Thursday for the first time with its new executive director, Simon O'Shea. A former newspaperman from Mount Clemens, Mr. O'Shea is UF public relations director.

Now in its second year, the Central Volunteer Bureau was formed to find volunteers for agencies and institutions and also to place those volunteers who wish to be of service to their fellow men. It covers the Pontiac-Waterford-Birmingham area and other communities by request.

There are some 100 of these bureaus throughout the United States, supplying an estimated 20 million volunteers where they are needed. Seventy-five per cent of this number are women.

President Eisenhower recently described volunteers as "the greatest glory of our society." Few social service projects can afford enough paid personnel to carry on their immense works, and these works, where volunteers outnumber professionals 250 to 1, are a source of constant amazement to peoples of other countries.

Agencies and services are not requested to register their present volunteers with the bureau, but are asked to keep their own count and categorize them in case of disaster or other emergency.

THOSE NEEDED

Currently the bureau has requests for persons skilled in handicrafts, those who have had office experience or are willing to learn in this capacity, teachers or nurses to take a 5-day training course this summer so that they in turn can teach others first aid.

A young mother of three children needs a capable person to stay with those children one day a week while she visits her husband, who is in the tuberculosis sanatorium, and does her weekly shopping.

A person trained in home economics is needed to direct a course for mass feeding during times of disaster. Adults of various ages are needed to teach handicrafts and games at the Oakland County Children's Home.

Since agencies are expected to take time to orient their volunteers, volunteers in turn are expected to display loyalty and perseverance.

As a public education project, the bureau will honor a volunteer of the month. This will be done with the assistance of the agency which he or she serves.

Board members include Mrs. Ralph G. Bump, president; Mrs. Whitney Murphey, secretary; Marguerite Parrish, representative from Pontiac State Hosiptal, and Mrs. Mildred Bennett, representing the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Others are Mrs. Jack S. Allen and Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, public relations chairmen, assisted by Mrs. H. Guy Moats, Mrs. David D. MacLaren, Mrs. A. W. Gault and Mrs. M. D. Shelton.

Birmingham representatives include Mrs. William Rosso, Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. Robert Groves and Mrs. Stanley Carter.

Further information may be obtained by calling the United Fund office in the National Building.

Last Dance of Season Set Tonight

Cotillion Members Will Gather at Hills Country Club

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Members of the Cotillion Club for high school students have received invitations for the fourth and final party of the year this evening at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Boys and girls from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills High Schools, Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools are asked to an "Evening in the Caribbean," on the SS Cotillion. Summer formals may be worn.

Palm trees and mermaids will be used in decoration and a gangplank at the head of the stairs leading to the ballrooom will provide true shipboard atmosphere. A wandering musician, Cuban Pete, will be on hand to play with calypso music on the bongo drums.

In winding up the season, sponsors of the group are voted a deep bow, as is Miss Florence Young, dancing teacher who directed the parties of the Cotillion Club.

Styles Bring Spring to Wintry Pontiac

Spring appeared just around the corner Thursday evening when Arthur's presented its collection of finery for milady. You forgot the blustery winds outside as the organ played "The Easter Parade" for the lovely models.

* * *

And there was another reason for the fashion show. It will benefit the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra which has meant so much to this community. The Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony was sponsor for the event.

Throughout the collection there was elegance of fabric in the suits and costume dresses for spring. The flattering, feminine and fashionable long slender line, which has been one of the most popular silhouettes, was presented to perfection by the taller, very slim models.

You have been hearing that "clothes are more pretty than ever" this year—and it's not an exaggeration. Colors flourish, in many new combinations, but navy continues in its own way to highlight suits and many dresses.

* * *

There was the ladylike look in the collection seen last night, and every costume has its own hat whether its one of the new bulky hats, a toque, deep cloche or a tiny Breton.

PARTY CLOTHES

No fashion show is complete without the party clothes. A real show-stopper was a white cotton lace over black and white checked gingham.

When the model removed the jacket, a strapless empire sheath was revealed. There will be many uses for this costume during spring and summer days.

Commentator for the show was Mrs. Betty Roberts. Cochairmen of the event were Mrs. Charles Uligian and Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson. Mrs. Fred Coleman handled publicity.

Models were Mrs. James Aldrich, Shirley Booth, Anne Gillies, Mrs. Allan W. Hawke, Mrs. Kay Poulos, Mrs. Robert Skibowski, Mrs. Sally Puertas, Mrs. Charles Stark and Mrs. John Sloan.

Others were Mrs. George Wyman, Mary Ellen Wyngarden, Betty Reed, Jean Thompson, Mrs. Bengt Pulls and Charlotte Stark.

Extra Value Pancakes Good Eating

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Every mother wants to give her children the most nutritious food she can get. When extra nourishment is provided in a food children like, the problem is solved. Mrs. W. L. Godsell has a recipe for pancakes that are fortified with molasses and extra milk.

Mrs. Godsell's days are busy with the activities of two preschool youngsters and a part-time job. A former teacher, Mrs. Godsell now helps her husband in his profession.

The whole family enjoys making and seeing home movies. Mrs. Godsell likes to sew for her home. She likes also to ski. She gives time each week to working with a girls' group in her church.

1 tablespoon blackstrap molasses
1 cup unsifted whole wheat flour
1 heaping tablespoon powdered milk
1½ tablespoons baking powder

The addition of ½ cup dates, nuts or raisins makes these pancakes even more delicious.

Lad Ignores and Then Abandons His Date

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I went to a dance with a boy I like very much, and the minute we got in the door he left me and I didn't see him again until the dance was almost over.

* * *

"What's more, he took another girl home and left me to walk home by myself. (I managed to get a ride, however.) Do you think I should break up with him, or should I let him worry?"

Answer: Insult was added to injury on that fateful night—and don't think your erstwhile boy friend isn't as much aware of it as you are.

His rudeness, chilling lack of consideration and very bad manners can be spelled in big red letters. He acted like a boor, and he owes you an apology. But whether you'll get it is something else again.

* * *

Unless he's the sort of boy who feels he can do no wrong, he's likely to avoid you. You're not going to get a chance to break up with him, 'cause he's not going to get near you to talk it over.

Though you'd undoubtedly dearly love to tear him apart, you probably won't get to do it. There won't be any more dates.

And you, unfortunately, are left with some very bitter memories. You like him, except when he's behaving badly. You hope he'll see the error of his ways.

But if he should, don't fall all over yourself making up with him. Be very reluctant to take a chance on a repeat letdown.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I asked a boy I like very much, and who liked me, if he would take me to my junior prom. He said he would.

"But sometime later he told me he liked another girl and he wasn't going to the prom with me. I found out that the girl doesn't like him and told him so.

"I'd like to know what I should now do about the prom because I'm still very fond of him and want to go with him.

"Another thing—I bought him an expensive identification bracelet for his birthday and had his name engraved on it. He has invited me to his party, so should I give it to him since it's of no use to me?"

Answer: Could someone find out for you if he has agreed to go to the prom with that other girl or any other girl? You could then swallow your pride and ask him again. If it's still no, ask someone else.

You can always have the engraving erased from the bracelet, so you could give it to someone else some time. An inexpensive little birthday remembrance is all that's necessary under the present circumstances.

But, of course, if he agrees to go to the prom with you, the circumstances will be different, won't they?

You'll Have to Look Twice for Stripes

NEW YORK (INS)—You'll have to look twice before you realize that some of the newest fabric patterns are striped.

The stripes have been disguised in some of the latest designs.

For example, columns form the up-and-down effect on one new fabric, but the vertical look has been softened by the intertwining of leaves and fruit around the columns.

Guest May Read Cards on Display

Recipient Ought to Put Them Away if They're Private

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "My nephew had a birthday recently and received many birthday cards. His wife had them displayed across the top of the fireplace. They looked very gay and attractive.

'I had been invited to their house that evening to dinner and I remarked about all the lovely cards received and went over to the fireplace to read them. I was criticized for doing this.

"My contention is that since the cards were on display it was perfectly all right to read them, and that if he didn't want anyone to do this, they should have been put away. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: My opinion is the same as yours.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I went to a dinner and dance given by my husband's firm. There were about 200 guests at this dinner, all of whom were strangers to me. Of course, my husband did introduce me to the people sitting at our table who were very nice.

"During the course of the evening my husband went around to different tables greeting his business friends and left me at the table with people I hardly knew. Wasn't he wrong to leave me alone?"

Answer: I don't understand why your husband did not take you with him to introduce you to his friends, and in my opinion it was a missed opportunity not to do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to give a bridal shower for a widow in her early 50s who is to be married soon for the second time? There have been many pros and cons on the subject and we would like to know what is correct."

Answer: It is not an accepted custom but neither is it considered incorrect for those who care to give one.

Lines, Color of Coat Decide Dress Wear

The lines and color of your winter coat pretty well dictate the lines of the other clothes in your wardrobe.

Nothing looks sillier than a bouffant red taffeta party dress peeping out from under a straight-lined brown wool coat. If the lines of your coat are simple and straight, keep all other clothes (even party dresses) simple and straight, too.

Lots of cotton-knit fashions for spring wear. Dresses, blouses jackets, skirts. They offer a low price and easy upkeep.

Toy Makers Are Cool to Amateur

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I am constantly thinking up wonderful ideas for children's games," a woman told me the other day.

"But every time I write to a manufacturer, tell him something about them and ask if I could have an interview or an assurance of a percentage, he'll return my letter with something about 'no ideas from outside'.

"I don't think it's fair and certainly not very intelligent to be so close-minded.

"I know my ideas are good—I've tested them on my children and their friends and they love them."

* * *

There are many reasons why manufacturers have such a rule.

MIGHT BE SUED

First, there is always a chance that the idea you submit may be one they have already thought of, in which case you would try to sue them when they launch the game they have been working on, possibly for years.

* * *

Then, the blunt truth is that most ideas from outside are not really very good.

The fact that you've tried them out on your children doesn't necessarily mean that they're good ideas.

Because your children are yours and because you're their mommy, they naturally think the game you invented is just swell. Other people's children probably wouldn't feel that way.

* * *

Moreover, many things which you think are fine may have specific angles which would limit their appeal in other geographical areas.

Scarlet flannel in full swirling lines and a double row of bright brass buttons, the perfect robe for Sunday brunch and TV viewing. The robe of Sanforlan is washable.

Manufacturers have to think of the country as a whole.

DIFFICULT TO MAKE

Also, many times the items may be too difficult to manufacture or too expensive for a mass market.

* * *

My experience has been that the woman who wants to dream up new games, and sell the ideas, has only one chance in a million.

The best thing she can do is to get a job in a toy department of her local department store, or with a small toy shop, and sell games over the counter to the people who actually play them.

After doing this for a while, she will know a lot more about what will sell and what won't.

* * *

Furthermore, if she presents her ideas to the manufacturer, and can say that she thought of it while selling games at Blank's Shop, he might possibly listen to her.

And, if the store isn't too large, she may meet and get acquainted with the salesman from the toy manufacturer who calls on the shop, and get an "in" through him.

Prayer Therapy Aids Cure of Stuttering for Young Boy

By W. R. PARKER
Speech Clinic, Univ. of Redlands

"When did Johnny begin to stutter, Mrs. Jones?"

"When he was three. He began to repeat words over and over."

"Did you do anything about this?"

PARKER

"Yes. We asked him to slow down, and often we would help by saying the word for him."

"I'm sure you realize it is normal for a child just beginning to form sentences to hesitate and repeat."

"No, I didn't. I felt something was wrong, and I became concerned."

* * *

Mrs. Jones is one of several hundred parents who come each year to our speech clinic at the University of Redlands. Her son Johnny is five and a severe stutterer.

Stuttering, we explained to Mrs. Jones, is a functional disorder; that is, it is emotional, or arising out of the personality. She had possibly overstressed obedience, neatness, discipline and stuttering was Johnny's way of expressing hostility to his parents.

Before Johnny and his mother left, we discussed the special "prayer therapy" classes we conduct here at Redlands University to help people better to understand themselves emotionally.

She asked a few questions, then turned to Johnny. "We will ask God to take away your stuttering," she said.

I didn't tell the mother this, but by the phrasing of this statement she was actually shifting the blame for Johnny's stuttering from herself to her son. Children somehow sense when parents avoid responsibility.

Counseling sessions once a week for a period of four to six months are needed to cure most cases of stuttering in the pre-school child. To effect a cure, we suggest the following.

THINGS TO AVOID

1. Do not insist that the child eat at regular times. Do not prescribe the kind of foods or the amount he should eat.

2. Stop making the child wash his hands before every meal. Stutterers, as a group, are kept too clean.

3. Stop sending to bed at a regular appointed hour. When he adjusts, he will start going to bed at a fairly regular time, if it is a pleasant experience for him.

4. Be extremely careful of disciplines. Especially verbal ones. Adults forget that harsh words are more lasting in effect than spankings and restrictions.

5. Probably most important, let the child express hostility. This one took time, Mrs. Jones was able to see gradually that children, as well as adults, often need to rid themselves of hostile or resentful feelings.

The stuttering child, primarily because of fear, will hold these feelings inside. He needs to know we understand how he feels.

* * *

When Johnny first entered our play room, where the toys are purposely arranged about the room, he looked it over carefully. "Can I break things in here?" he asked.

"Do what you feel like doing," I replied. This answer is important. We neither want to restrain the child or recommend any unbridled acts. Finding that he can break the toys is usually satisfaction enough, and the child plays normally.

As Johnny relieved himself of his pent-up feelings, he slowly became more fluent in his speech.

It was touchy, but gradually we helped Johnny's mother realize she was too domineering. Almost without exception, stuttering boys have domineering mothers.

The turning point came after three months of counseling sessions. Mrs. Jones discovered by this time that she was not being judged or condemned, that our job was primarily to help her get insight into her own emotions.

COMPLETE CURE

Mrs. Jones dropped us a note recently to say that Johnny's stuttering is completely cured.

She ended by saying: "Weeks ago I had Johnny pray to God to take away his stuttering. I have learned a lot about myself, and prayer, since then."

The change in the mother was the key to the whole problem.

Fare Hiked as Buses in Baltimore Running

BALTIMORE (AP) — Foot-weary transit riders boarded buses and trolleys today for the first time in 40 days and found it cost more to ride with the state operating the system.

The first bus left the garage at 3:30 a.m. ending, by gubernatorial decree, the longest transit strike in the city's history.

Last Monday, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin invoked authority voted him by the State Legislature and seized the Baltimore Transit Co. Joseph Allen, chairman of the State Tax Commission, was named to supervise operations.

BANG! TAKE THAT . . . ! — Miss Cordelia Tuttle takes a swat at the deacon (Charles Williams) as Priscilla Haines played by Judy Lauckner looks on in a scene from Pontiac High's spring play to be presented next week. Tickets are being reserved now.

Spring Play, Latin Publication, News at Pontiac High

Cast and committees for Pontiac High's spring play, "Strange Boarders" are now in final rehearsal for presentations this coming Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights at 8:15 p.m. in the Pontiac High school auditorium.

Hardest working group at PHS this week is Miss Iama C. Hook's Latin students, as they put out the 33rd edition of the bi-annual Latin paper, the Epistolae Scholae.

* * *

Co-editing the paper are Lynne Beneter and Delores Gustavson, assisted by junior high school editors Florence Nyman, Lincoln; Rex Harris, Madison; Mary Inman, Washington; and Claudia Wasik, Eastern. Publicity is being handled by Bob Thompson. Darlene Humphrey and Doris Reed are working on the cover design.

All profits from the paper will go to various charitable institutions.

TRAVEL TO FLINT

With the regular season of basketball over, attention is now focused on the district and regional games. Pontiac High will travel to Flint and go directly to the regionals. This week the PHS gym was the scene of district games for class B and class C teams.

Juniors have been working on their forthcoming J-hop which will take place next month. Miss Elma Waterman is working with the junior class in preparing for this annual affair.

Work, Program, Play Highlight St. Fred Week

By ANN SCHACHERN

School work, a program in honor of the Holy Father, the senior play, basketball, and a new math class were the highlights of the week at St. Frederick High School.

Wednesday afternoon Paul Grosse acted as master of ceremonies for the program in honor of the Holy Father, Pope Pius XII. Kathleen Kinch and Judy Bailey, co-quizmasters, asked the questions on the life of the pope. Bob Ashby explained his code-of-arms and the first grade recited a prayer to him.

George Dailey, Sodality prefect, gave a talk on Our Blessed Mother and the Senior class sang a hymn in honor of Our Lady. Paul closed the program with the singing of another hymn in which the whole student body joined in.

Mary Bieri drew the background for the stage—a picture of the pope's code-of-arms. Those who by various processes of elimination took part in the quizdown were:

First grade—Cathryn Fournier and Jean Nichols, 2nd, Tom Leahy and Paul Grogan, 3rd, Mary Lou Lyrell and Catherine Carry, 4th, George Henretty, 5th, Shiela Lane and Donna Serra, 6th, George Bailey, 7th, Priscella Getzan, 8th, Richard Szermet, 9th, Larry Crake and Kathleen Donley, 10th, Mary Duerr and Chuck Moloney, 11th, Frances Kline and Jim Mayworm, 12th, Elaine Hahnefeld.

Last Sunday afternoon, the Senior class chose Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" for their Senior Play. It will be presented Saturday and Sunday, April 28th and 29th. The cast will be chosen this coming Sunday at 1:30.

PICTURES TO ARRIVE

The Seniors are also awaiting the arrival of their senior pictures which have been finished and will arrive any minute.

* * *

Last Wednesday, a real live transmission system was brought into the physics class. Everybody now professes to know what makes the "gears go."

St. Fred's Rams played Almont in their first tournament game last night at Pontiac High School gym.

Practice for the girl's intramurals started this past week with games to take place next week.

Boy's intramurals will take place sometime soon, probably next week also. Senior boys are going to add their bit to glamorize the games. They plan on sporting monogrammed tee shirts in their class colors—Kelly green and white.

PHYLLIS SMITH

On April 16 Phyllis Smith, Pontiac High School senior, will sing in a Golden Anniversary High School Chorus at St. Louis, Mo. at the fiftieth anniversary observance of the Music Educators National Conference. Phyllis was selected to go as one of twelve girls representing Michigan. Phyllis is an active member of the Pontiac High School vocal department. She has participated in Glee Clubs and A Capella Choir and the Senior Girls Ensemble. She was a winner in the Pontiac Stars of Tomorrow program last year and a finalist in the Search for a Star contest in Detroit.

Plan Support for Relief Fund

St. Michael Students Also Tour Bank for Class Project

By JANET ENGLISH

The scope of activities here at St. Michael High this past week has been one of considerable diversity.

Tuesday, the CSMC (Catholic Students Mission Crusade) representatives conducted mission meetings in their repective homerooms. Plans for ways to support the Bishop's Relief Fund were the proposals of foremost interest in the majority of the rooms.

The Bishop's Relief Fund Situation was the topic discussed by a panel of seniors on Thursday. Students taking part in the presentation included Michael Clever, Elizabeth Taylor, Frances Hayes, Judy Marantette, and Ronald Mead with Gerard Steinhelper acting as chairman.

The juniors and seniors of the Economics Club embarked upon a field trip to a local bank Tuesday afternoon. This tour provided a fitting conclusion to their study of the functions of banks. Jim Brucker acted as the leader and spokesman for the group.

The members of the Michaelite Staff were on their customary beats again this week as they began the work for the quarterly publication of the paper. According to reports made by the co-editors Frances Hayes and Colleen McEnery, the issue should be in the hands of the student body by Tuesday, Mar. 16.

The Krazy Kroud Klub met recently at the home of junior, Loretta Lauinger. The girls are completing plans for their Easter charity baskets.

Jim Barnowski, one of the active members of the junior class is working hard to complete a weekly report of the ten top tunes. These findings can be found on this page.

Area's 10 Top Tunes Compiled by Group

The week's top ten tunes were compiled by members of the Teresa Brewer Fan Club in cooperation with Art's Music, 81 S. Saginaw St.

1. Why Do Fools Fall in Love, Teenagers.
2. Blue Suede Shoes, Carl Perkins.
3. Tutti Fruitti, Little Richard.
4. Eddie, My Love, Teen Queens.
5. A Tear Fell, Teresa Brewer.
6. Lisbon Antiqua, Nelson Riddle.
7. Poor People of Paris, Les Baxter.
8. Grape Vine, Billy Eckstine.
9. Heartbreak Hotel, Elvis Presley.
10. Rock and Roll Waltz, Kay Starr.

Area Plays in Rehearsal

In their original class-made wigs and costumes, Speech II Class of Waterford Township High School presented their two-act "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" for adults last night in the high school auditorium.

A matinee performance was given Wednesday afternoon. The final showing will be tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Adult tickets are 50 cents; children's, 25 cents; and the activity card admits high school students. This project in children's theater is under the direction of Patty Looman.

Spirit around WTHS campus this week was the most. Everyone could feel the excitement of the Skippers first 1956 tournament game, which will be against Flint Northern next Tuesday evening (Mar. 13) in Flint.

A Sports Banquet at 7 tonight in the WTHS gymnasium will honor 103 boys who have participated in six different sports. Carl Nystrom, captain of the 1955 Michigan State University football team, will show slides of the past Rose Bowl game.

The cast for the April dramatic production, "Harvey," was recently announced. Some of the cast are Jerry Perna, Sandersan; Jerry Hickman, Edward; Jim Wager, Chumley; Jerry Harnack, Wilson; and Bob Lippert, Lofgren.

AT AVONDALE

May Han is Avondale High's "Homemaker of Tomorrow." May finished first among the school's senior girls on a 60 minute test given earlier this winter.

Aside from a pin of recognition, May will also receive a cook book and have her paper placed in state competition. Sponsored by General Mills, the contest's top prize is a $1500 scholarship.

Avondale's yearbook staff has had a busy week readying their final shipment of copy. Editor June Doan states that the staff completed their job today. Remaining talks include subscription collections, book distribution, and compilation of a yearbook supplement to cover the spring activities.

Tournament basketball is very much on the mind of the Avondale team and rooters today. After the most successful regular season action in the school's history, the Yellow Jackets open their tournament play at Pontiac High at 7 p.m. this evening.

Builder's Suit Hits City of Troy

Clare Construction Co. Asks Action on Permits, Refund of $8,000

The Clare Construction Co. is asking Oakland County Circuit Court to force the City of Troy to do three things:

Issue building permits for homes the firm plans to build in Supervisors Plat 27 inside the city; issue occupancy permits for houses already completed, and refund to the company $8,000.

In a bill of complaint, the firm alleges it began building homes equipped with septic tanks on the 74-lot site. The city, it claims, said it was not satisfied with the tanks and would stop issuing permits until another system of sewage disposal was worked out.

Troy, the firm states, said the subdivision would be served by the northeast arm of the Evergreen Interceptor Drain planned to run from Birmingham through Bloomfield Township to the Troy west limits.

The city then began assessing the builders $500 with each permit issued to pay a share of the interceptor costs. These payments amount to $8,000, the company alleges.

The permits were stopped again, the firm claims, with Troy asking it to reach an agreement with two adjoining subdividers on a joint drainage assessment. The city has refused to approve occupancy permits for four completed homes, the company says. No hearing date has been set.

Senate Quizzers Praise GM's New Dealer Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Motors Corp. won praise from Senate investigators today for "very important" recent changes in its dealers' contracts. At the same time the company was criticized for alleged inadequate efforts to curb "gyp" advertising and new-car bootlegging.

GM president Harlow H. Curtice, testifying before a Senate Commerce subcommittee, said both dealers and customers will benefit from the "revolutionary" improvements. He said GM favors legislation to help block bootlegging.

Chairman Monroney (D-Okla) said the new franchise form "establishes a policy of actual partnership in the industry."

* * *

But simultaneously Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. (NADA), issued a statement declaring NADA still demands legislation to safeguard dealers' rights, so they can be enforced in court.

CITES CASE

Monroney chose the case of Luther Massey, a Buick dealer for a quarter century in Beaumont, Tex., whose franchise was canceled last fall for failure to meet sales quotas, with which to belabor Curtice with questions on GM sales and advertising policies.

* * *

He read from a newspaper advertisement of the dealer who succeeded Massey such enticements as a promise that the dealer — identified as Hubert Little — would sell "wild, high, fancy and zany."

Monroney expressed hope that sales pressure would not be exerted by letters of the type he said were sent to lagging dealers in late 1954, notifying them they must bring sales up to company-fixed standards to be sure of contract renewal.

Such "broadside notices of pending execution," Monroney said, stimulated bootlegging to unfranchised dealers.

* * *

Curtice testified that he had cancelled all these "deficiency letters" which were outstanding at the time when GM offered its dealer organization five-year contracts.

"I gather that Gov. Stratton has entered the spring tryouts for that important post, in case Mr. Nixon falters now that he is officially on his own."

President Eisenhower has said vice president Nixon is on his own regarding renomination.

Stratton attacked Stevenson's administration as governor at a news conference in New York. The Republican chief executive blamed Stevenson for Illinois prison riots, a mine disaster at West Frankfort and a breakdown in food inspection during the Democrat's four years as governor.

In reply, Stevenson criticized his Republican gubernatorial successor for "excessive cost and mismanagement of his toll road program, his undoing of the reforms I initiated in the state police system, his shocking maladministration of the Liquor Control Commission and the State Insurance Department, and the failures in his education and public welfare programs."

Traveling Papoose — 5

Indians usually did not build permanent homes. Instead they roamed about the country, following the food supply. When the crops failed or the game was not plentiful they moved elsewhere.

Pulling up their tents, the Indians carried their belongings on drags pulled by ponies. Much of the household equipment was carried by the women.

The small babies, called papooses, were carried in leather bags with board supports on the mothers' back. When not traveling, the mothers hung these bed boards on the branch of a tree.

If you would like a traveling papoose, color this picture brightly. Then paste down on thin cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully.

Paste the extra flaps behind the papoose at either side as indicated and fold forward over the baby. Punch holes in the ends of the bed and thread a string through them. If you hang the papoose on a hook you can help swing him gently to sleep.

Legion Head Seeks Liberal Vet Pensions

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — The national commander of the American Legion says "the country's aged and needy war veterans are entitled to a pension" and the Legion firmly intends to see that they get it.

* * *

J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, Mich., said last night that while the last Legion convention declined to sponsor a general pension for all veterans at age 60, it is strongly behind a three-point bill now before Congress liberalizing present pension laws.

House resolution 7886 would direct the Veterans Administration to consider a veteran unemployable at age 65 — a matter over which the VA now has discretionary power — Wagner said in a speech prepared for a state Legion dinner here.

* * *

The 42-year-old Legion commander said the bill also calls for increasing the present pension scale rates and hiking annual income limitations.

Can See Sea Floor

JERUSALEM—Now being built in the Gulf of Eilat, at Israel's southern tip, a concrete caisson will enable tourists to view the reefs and sea life at the bottom of the Red Sea. The structure will protrude from the sea and provide visitors with a dry descent to the ocean floor.

11 in One Family Killed in Blaze

Fire Razes 3-Room Tarpaper Home While Victims Asleep

OXFORD, Pa. (AP) — Eleven members of one family were burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed their three-room tarpaper house in this southeastern Pennsylvania community.

* * *

The victims were the wife and children of John Twyman, 36, and those of his daughter Eleanor Twyman, 20.

The house was razed in a few minutes. Police said the fire was caused by a coal heater.

* * *

All the victims apparently were asleep when it broke out. Patrolman Claude Swift said, "They didn't stand a chance."

Twyman, a truck driver, was out of town. He returned as the last of the bodies was being taken from the debris.

* * *

The blaze was first noticed by a neighbor in the "bottoms" section of town. He ran and telephoned firemen. When the first units arrived, the fire had enveloped the home.

Three dogs owned by the Twymans escaped from the building but one ran back in and was burned to death.

* * *

The victims were Mrs. Twyman, 35; Eleanor, 20; Claudette, 16; John Jr., 13; Josephone, 9; Stephen, 8; Dorcas, 6; Louis, 4 Janet, 2 and Eleanor's children, Andrew 3, and an 8-month-old boy, name unknown.

Reds Cut Work Week From 48 to 46 Hours

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Russia announced today the 48-hour week of Russian workers has been cut to 46 hours, effective this weekend.

Moscow radio announced a government decree making six hours instead of the normal eight effective for everyone the day preceding their one day off per week and the day before holidays.

First deputy premier Maxim Saburov predicted in January that under the new Soviet five-year plan the work day wuld be cut from eight hours to seven. Party boss Nikita Khrushchev told the recent party congress the seven-hour day would come after 1957.

Propose Legislative Study to Cut Divorce

LANSING (AP)—A legislative study for ways of cutting the divorce rate and reducing consequent disruption of families has been proposed in the Senate.

A resolution filed Thursday by Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) called for creation of a special committee of three House and three Senate members to look into the problem and make recommendations to the 1957 legislature.

Ryan said the increasing incidence of divorce and its impact on society constitutes a "serious threat" to the public welfare and morals.

He said existing laws provide insufficient safeguards and procedures to "insure the utmost security in marriage and family relationships."

Of 24,538 divorces awarded by circuit courts in Michigan in 1954, Ryan said, nearly two thirds involved children.

Cut 2 Sections of School Bill

Senate Strikes Items Called 'Steps' Toward Centralized Control

LANSING (AP)—The Senate has stricken from its School Aid Bill two sections criticized by an education committee member as steps toward centralized school control from Lansing.

"We have gone a long way down that road already," said Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) told the Senate Thursday in supporting a committee recommendation for the deletions and 19 other committee amendments.

One of the sections removed would have jumped the sum allotted for payments of county school $442,500 provided last year to $750,000.

The other spelled out a basis of "monetary inducement" for consolidation of relatively small school units into what Hutchinson called "regional districts."

Hutchinson said there has been no change since a year ago in the county superintendents salaries and that the increase in funds originally proposed amounted to partial subsidization by the State of the Office of County Superintendent.

"The committee disagreed with the philosophy of to what extent freeing the county superintendent of schools from control of the county board of supervisors," he said.

The bill in its original form embodied the recommendations of the Department of Public Instruction headed by Dr. Clair L. Taylor.

In all, it was amended 24 times and left in its place on the calendar for discussion of probable additional amendments next week.

Pumpkin and squash are of Western Hempishere orgin, unknown in Europe prior to 1570.

We Back the Biggest Difference in Cars Today With a Total of

$25,000 PERSONAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT Insurance

Divided Equally Between Husband and Wife
At No Extra Cost To You With Your New

Rambler · Hudson · Nash · Metropolitan

Here's the Big Difference That Makes It Possible

REVOLUTIONARY "SINGLE UNIT" CONSTRUCTION, PIONEERED BY AMERICAN MOTORS, MAKES RAMBLER, HUDSON, NASH AND METROPOLITAN THE STRONGEST, SAFEST, BEST ALL-AROUND CARS ON THE ROAD

PRIMITIVE OXCARTS WERE BUILT WITH FLAT WOODEN-BEAM FRAMES. AXLES AND WHEELS WERE MOUNTED BELOW. A FLOOR OR BOX WAS PUT ON TOP. THE BUGGY, WAGON AND "HORSELESS CARRIAGE" USED SIMILAR FLAT FRAMES AND ATTACHED BODIES

EVEN TODAY, MOST CARS HAVE SEPARATE FLAT FRAMES WITH SEPARATE BODIES BOLTED TO THEM

ONLY AMERICAN MOTORS BUILDS CARS ON THE "SINGLE UNIT" PRINCIPLE. BODY AND FRAME ARE WELDED INTO A TOUGH, SUPER-STRONG "SINGLE UNIT". RESULT: PERFORMANCE AT LESS COST...GREATER COMFORT...MORE INSIDE ROOM...EASIER PARKING...SUPERIOR HANDLING AND CORNERING...ELIMINATION OF BODY SQUEAKS AND RATTLES...DOUBLE SAFETY...TOP RESALE VALUE

Why a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance is given at No Extra Cost!

We back our confidence that American Motors cars are stronger, safer, more modern than others by giving each buyer of a new Rambler, Nash, Hudson or Metropolitan a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance at no extra cost—divided equally between husband and wife.

This insurance provides for the payment of $12,500 to beneficiary or estate of either you or your spouse (if a member of your household at time of purchase)—thus providing the total of $25,000—if either or both should be fatally injured while driving or riding (either separately or together) in your new private passenger American Motors car anywhere in the world. Both are insured for the entire first year of ownership.

Covers fatality resulting within 100 days after date of accident. Applies to privately-owned cars purchased in the continental United States and Alaska where state insurance regulations permit.

Don't buy any new car until you get the facts about the priceless protection only American Motors cars can give you! See your Nash dealer! See your Hudson dealer!

Bennett Cerf Interviews George Romney

Noted publisher, columnist and television personality gets inside story of revolutionary advance in car construction from the President of American Motors.

CERF: Mr. Romney, why do you offer a total of $25,000 insurance with your new cars?

ROMNEY: It backs our claim that "single unit" construction makes the strongest, safest, most modern cars.

CERF: Is there really that much difference between the way you and other manufacturers make cars?

ROMNEY: All the difference between yesterday's railway coach and today's streamliner. Other cars still use a principle old as the oxcart: A flat frame bolted under a separate body. In our cars, frame and body are welded as a "single unit". It's the biggest stride since the all-steel body.

CERF: And this makes a safer car?

ROMNEY: Twice as safe. Instead of a flat frame underfoot, our frame is a steel, box-girder enclosure as big as the car. It gives you "wrap-around" protection in front, rear, sides and top.

CERF: That sounds like real protection.

ROMNEY: That's not all. Flat frames others use are stiff, so they transmit collision force throughout the car. Our big steel box-girders up front absorb most of the impact. They take the brunt of the punishment instead of passengers.

CERF: What about performance?

ROMNEY: That's a real plus. "Single unit" construction gives a better power-weight ratio. It's stronger and safer, but eliminates useless weight and bulk. Our cars have set many racing records.

CERF: And economy?

ROMNEY: They're tops. Rambler holds the gas mileage record in Mobilgas Economy Runs. Again, because our "hard-muscled" single unit avoids dead weight.

CERF: I like room and comfort.

ROMNEY: Nash and Hudson have more room inside than any high-priced car. Rambler equals medium-priced big cars. As for ride, the greater strength of our "single unit" lets us use larger springs, and superior front suspension.

CERF: Isn't resale value important?

ROMNEY: You bet. Rambler has top resale value in the low price field. In addition to other advantages, welded single unit cars last longer, make better used cars.

CERF: If all you say is true, why don't the Big Three make cars your way?

ROMNEY: You see, mere "bigness" can be a handicap in advanced automobile engineering. One of the biggest of the "Big 3" was years behind others in adopting the all-steel body. The bigger you are, the more factories you have—the more it costs to change.

CERF: I can understand that.

ROMNEY: Beginning in 1940, we spent over $50,000,000 to develop the "single unit" car. Today, it will cost the biggest companies billions to re-tool for our method.

CERF: Do you think they will follow you?

ROMNEY: No doubt about it. Our major competitors will probably make the change gradually—piecemeal—or one model at a time. Frankly, we will be happy to see our "single unit" construction adopted, because it will mean better, safer cars on American highways.

CERF: Well, I'm about ready for another car. I'm going down to look at American Motors cars.

ROMNEY: All I ask anyone to do is see and drive our modern "single unit" cars at a Nash or Hudson dealer's. The rest is up to you.

Garden Gives Satisfaction

BLOSSOM TIME'S COMING—Pontiac weather may not cooperate for another month, but gardens like this aren't too far away. This beautiful setting is enhanced by the flowering crab tree that arches over the walk lined with spring flowers. Supporters of this type garden say that it's not just something to look at but a "room" to live in.

Earth Workers Find Large Task

Neighbors' Chickens Insects Wage Battles on Your Efforts

By JOE HAAS

With no intention of discouraging anybody who may be accumulating an interest in gardening, take it from somebody who has gone through the works, it is no picnic.

* * *

While a garden will return rich dividends for every hour spent upon it, you must not expect to reap a harvest in accordance with the beautiful pictures in the catalogs or on the seed envelopes.

There's a lot of wholesome satisfaction and good health in the vitamins passed your way in the delicious form of sass from your own garden. And the family food budget will show a shrinkage that may make possible the purchase of things for the home that you've long coveted, but were unable to secure on account of the lack of funds.

Also there's the great exhilaration of communing with the outdoors at a season when the very air exudes joy and a convincing atmosphere that makes you think the long winter months can be forgotten when you realize that they were only a buildup for the spring and summer.

* * *

The odor of freshly agitated earth should recompense you for that unpleasant feeling you encounter when you get your hands in it.

Your patience may be somewhat stretched when you realize that the neighbors' hens do not agree with your system of carefully planted rows, and show a determination to do some dirt mixing of their own.

Then you must wonder why all the bugs, worms and other crawling and flying things in the whole world have heard about your gardening ambitions and wage battle on what you're growing. You feel that the life you've led surely does not merit such a nefarious attack.

* * *

And then there's the lame back, joints that creak where they never did before, and late frosts and blistering sun that seem to single you out.

In spite of all this, if you stick to the job and don't take the advice of people who never held a hoe handle or turned a sod, you'll soon be sticking your feet under your table and enjoying a meal that your whole family will say is the best ever.

You can win the battle with the weeds, but it will require a continual fight and blistered hands. And, even if your efforts do not produce results like those pictured in the catalogs and on the seed envelopes, you will think it was worth all that you put into it. And next spring you again will be decoyed by the same pictures.

Sheep Farmers Plan Barn Day

Latest Developments to Be Studied by Group From County

To keep Oakland County sheep farmers abreast of the latest developments in sheep management, a sheep barn day has been scheduled for Tuesday starting at 10 a.m. states John K. Trocke, assistant county agricultural agent.

Sheep are a good way to convert roughage into dollars, Trocke says, and they are ideally adapted to Oakland County in many ways. They fit into a program where hilly land and pasture are the best crop. They are also an ideal type of livestock for the part-time farmer.

To help those already raising sheep and those interested in starting, a Sheep Barn Day Tour has been arranged as follows:

10 a.m.—Harry Jones farm located at 61144 W. 8-Mile road, corner of Pontiac Trail. About 100 head purebred Shropshire ewes on late lambing program. Jones records show nearly $20 return above feed costs per ewe.

11a.m.—Bernard Carver farm located just north of South Lyon at 26566 Pontiac Trail. A flock of grades, some registered Suffolk bred for early lambing.

1 p.m.—George Mann farm, about one mile west of Clarkston at 7400 Holcomb road. A real show flock that George has developed through 4—H Club work. Early lambing program.

2 30 p.m.—H. C. Brooks farm located at 8890 N. Milford Road, Holly near Rose Center. A nice flock of mostly purebred Cheviots usually crossed with Suffolk ram. 160 per cent lamb crop last year. Feeds some sheep and has records to prove he made money at it.

8 p.m for part-time farmers at Arthur Charlick's farm, 2165 Clyde Rd., Milford, located just about two miles west of Clyde Road from the village of Clyde. A nice flock of ewes bred for early lambing. He will demonstrate docking and castrating methods.

Graydon Blank, Michigan State University sheep specialist, and known as "Mr. Sheepman," will be present. Materials to be covered will be diseases, parasite control, what crosses for best lambs, corn and grass silage for sheep feed, new ways of docking and castrating, foot rot, and sheep management for the future.

Transplant Shrubs Before Buds Open

Ornamental shrubs may be transplanted anytime before their buds open this spring, recommends John K. Bray, assistant county agricultural agent. Spring is probably the best time for transplanting in Michigan and gives the plants a chance to start growing right after the frost is out of the ground.

Plants shipped from long distances may have lower vigor, too For this reason, it is better to purchase plants locally.

Joseph T. Cox, Extension Specialist in Landscape Architecture, Michigan State University, passes along these suggestions in planting shrubs:

Cut back all dried and broken roots cleanly and thin branches to reduce the leaf surface by about one-third, depending on the amount of roots lost in digging and pruning. Dig the hole deep enough and large enough to allow the roots to spread, but in their natural position, at the same depth as the shrub grew in the nursery. Also, work mellow soil around the roots.

When all the roots have been covered, firm the soil by light tamping. Then fill the remainder of the hole with water and allow it to soak in before raking the dirt loosely to complete the planting. Spread a two to three inch mulch around the newly planted shrubs. Later, scatter a couple of handfuls of a readily available plant food around each shrub.

Survey Crew Now Working Out of Lapeer

A forest survey crew from the U S. Forest Experimental Station at St. Paul, is now working out of Lapeer. The work involves both office and field checking. Aerial photographs are used.

Thirteen counties remain to be completed in southeast Michigan. Oakland, Lapeer, Sanilac, St. Clair and Macomb are included.

Surveys of this kind are important to industrial concerns and government agencies working with our timber resources.

Camera Sales Up

TOKYO — Japan, whose camera industry is only 25 years old, raised her exports to the United States from 80,000 cameras in 1952 to more than 300,000 in 1954. In the more lucrative business of exporting lenses, Japan raised sales from $18,000 in 1952 to $450,000 in 1954.

From the Garden Editor

Don't let the snow bother you. It'll go away soon! Just relax and start thinking about the balmy spring breezes on the way. Get your mind on growing things because even though the weather's calling us a liar right now, spring is about two jumps away.

It's time for you area gardeners to dust off the working tools, sharpen the lawnmowers and get your bending joints limbered up. Your lawn is going to need a lot of work to get it in shape for summer.

It's also time right now to decide what flowers you want to plant and to make plans for your vegetable garden.

The Farm and Garden Page will appear every Friday from now on through the spring and summer in the Press. We hope to keep you informed in this column about hints to help you in your lawn and garden work and tell you what your fellow gardeners are doing throughout the area.

It's time to order your lawn fertilizer so you'll be ready to give that spring feeding as soon as the land is dry enough to be walked on without injury.

Vines and shrubs that bloom in midsummer may be pruned now.

Ladies around the area have advised us that with spring coming, pests on houseplants may become a problem. Particular attention should be paid to the under side of leaves.

Still on houseplants, ivy grown in water indoors does better in earthenware containers which exclude light from the growing roots.

* * *

Get fresh seed now to start indoors — dahlias, delphinum and other slow to germinate and mature plants.

Theodore Burck, 1228 N. Main St. has giant lilies "growing like blazes." They are an unusual, almost tropical, type of lily and one of the larger ones is due to bloom soon. We're assured that as soon as that giant flower is about to bloom, Mr. Burck will let us know so we can get a picture for you.

Beautiful Trees Near Your Home Demand Care

Proper maintenance of trees on the home property should be an integral part of any home property improvement program, says the National Arborist Association, just as much as the house itself if property values are to be kept from depreciating more than necessary.

Here are steps outlined to keep your trees in top condition:

First, an annual inspection by a local tree expert at least once each year for his advice on proper treatment of existing trees.

Second, pruning and shaping of all trees including removal of all broken or dying branches and painting of the cuts with a good tree preservative. Such activity helps keep the trees in healthy condition and helps prevent the development of diseases. Disease often develops first on dead wood and then spreads to health limbs.

Third, periodical spraying of all trees.

Fourth, fertilization of trees. The best way to accomplish this is by boring a series of holes in the ground outward from the tree as far as the roots spread and filling the holes with a good balanced fertilizer containing nitrogen, potash and phosphorus. Since different species of trees may require different fertilizers, it is best to consult a tree expert on this.

A diseased tree detracts considerably from the value of property, while healthy trees can add greatly to its value.

It's home improvement time, and time should be taken to care for trees around your home.

Ambitious Bunny Thief Loots Papers for Nest

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—R. L. Blomberg complained that his paper, delivered by a carrier boy, was missing at the rate of 2 or 3 a week.

The carrier was dependable, and neighbors said they hadn't seen it. One neighbor watched for several days before he saw a rabbit seize the rolled newspaper in its mouth and scuttle off. Neighbors and the Blombergs found a neatly constructed rabbit's nest built from all the missing newspapers under a porch.

Don't Plant Seed Deep

One of the principal reasons for fact that they are often planted too fact that they are often planted too deep. A good rule to follow is to plant the seed no more than three times as deep as the seed is thick. For extremely fine seed the merest sprinkle of sand on top is enough to hold it in place and keep it moist.

Spring Means Big Business for Geology Profs at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Geologists at Michigan State University don't need a calendar to inform them of the start of spring.

* * *

As soon as the plowing and gardening season gets under way, business starts booming for the MSU geology professors.

Each spring they receive a flood of packages of all shapes and sizes containing discoveries unearthed in the back yard or in the back 40 acres of the farm plot.

Every year the postman carts in packages containing chunks of stone imbedded with mica or iron pyrite commonly called "fool's gold." The packages are accompanied by excited letters asking analysis from local prospectors dreaming of riches.

* * *

Requests for analysis also are received from farmers and gardeners who think they have found iron ore, uranium, precious stones and even meteorites.

LAKES MISLEAD OWNERS

Michigan's many lakes mislead landowners into thinking they have struck a large deposit of iron ore.

When farmers plow near lake shores, they often turn up "bog iron," a type of hard pan. The hard pan, formed by water seepage, might contain from 25 to 30 per cent iron oxide. At first glance, it resembles the iron ore found in the Upper Peninsula but is of no commercial value.

* * *

Dr. Standard G. Berquist, head of the geology department, says the most unpleasant part of his job is breaking the news that the sample submitted isn't worth the postage spent on it.

"Only rarely do we receive materials that have marketing or mining possibilities," Dr. Berquist said, "but we are always glad to be of service."

Meteorites seem to hold a particular fascination for amateur prospectors since parcels containing pieces of alleged meteorites come in from all sections of the state.

Sometimes the sender goes so far as to swear he saw the fragment fall blazing from the sky.

* * *

One central Michigan resident recently led MSU geologists to a large rock partially sumberged a bog, insisting it was a meteorite he saw fall years ago.

Examination showed that the rock was what geologists term a 'glacial erratic,' a rock not native to Michigan carried along by one of the several glaciers that once moved over the state.

These erratics, carried down from the Upper Peninsula or Canada, often contain large amounts of iron and acquire the pitted, lusterous character of a meteorite through weathering, oxidation and friction, Dr. Berquist said.

* * *

To date, the MSU geologists said, only three known meteorists have been discovered in Michigan. The geology department has pieces of all three.

One, weighing 125 pounds, was found near Grand Rapids in 1883. The second, weighing only 229 grams, was located in Allegan County at the time it fell in 1899. The third, weighing 44 pounds, was picked up near Reed City, the date of discovery unknown.

As a means of identification, Dr. Berquist said that most meteorites contain about 90 per cent iron and 10 per cent nickel, although the percentages may vary. A cross section of a meteorite reveals a cross-hatch pattern of crystals, perhaps formed by high heat generated while passing through the atmosphere.

* * *

Occasionally, a non-metalic meteorite is found, as represented by the discovery in Allegan County.

Kay Starr Charged in Traffic Accident

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Kay Starr has been mailed a police traffic citation charging that she ran a boulevard stop Wednesday. Miss Starr was injured when, officers say, her auto struck another at an intersection and knocked it into an orange grove.

* * *

Police quoted her as saying she became confused when a passenger in her car suggested she continue straight ahead after she had started to make a turn at the intersection. She said she braked the car but it skidded through the stop signal and hit the auto of Augustine Sierra and his wife Francisco. They suffered minor injuries.

Miss Starr was ordered to appear before Judge W. S. Caudill in Corona Justice Court. She is now in Beverly Hills Doctors Hospital.

* * *

The hospital today continued to report her condition as fair. Her manager Hal Stanley said her injuries were much less severe than at first indicated. He said she had bruises on her arms, legs and neck and some scratches and would be released from the hospital in a day or two.

Chief Takes the Cake for Birthday Kindness

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Clarence H. Morris received a letter from Mrs. Mabel Switzer, Flint, Mich., saying, "Will you please see that my sister receives a nice surprise cake for her birthday." Five dollars was enclosed. Yesterday Morris obligingly delivered a cake to Mrs. Josephine Jewett, 61.

Tiger Rookies Start Grapefruit Play

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers went through their final day of intensive spring drills today and prepared to start playing regulation games for the next 6½ months.

The first scheduled exhibition game will be staged tomorrow against the Washington Senators. From now until the end of September, off days will be a rare thing.

Manager Bucky Harris has picked a rookie lineup for his first exhibition series and will open with only Al Kaline from among his regulars. Several of the other listed starters hope to have started berths clinched, however, by the time the American League season starts April 17.

These include outfielder Charlie Maxwell, catcher J. W. Porter and pitcher Jim Bunning. All three have Major League experience—Maxwell has several seasons of it. Porter was up and down twice last year and Bunning came to the Tigers from the minors for the last third of the campaign.

* * *

Maxwell will be starting in left field, a position held most of last season by Jim Delsing. Chick King, a speedster from Buffalo, will be in center field. He's been around before, too, but never has proved he can hit big league pitching. Kaline will be in right field as usual.

Around the infield Harris will have Tom Sarna at third, Reno Bertoia at short, Buddy Hicks at second and Wayne Belardi or Jack Phillips at first.

Phillips was with the club all of last season. So was Bertoia. Hicks is listed on the Charleston, W. Va., roster but looked good enough in Tiger rookie camp to warrant another look. Sarna is a heavy hitting, poor fielding prospect from Augusta.

* * *

Both Hicks and Bertoia are second base prospects along with Francis Oneto, another Minor League holdover. All will be fighting for the job held last season by Fred Hatfield.

Harris always has been a believer in using his second stringers for spring games and this season he has strong backing from general manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel.

Ruel reportedly has asked Harris to use the reserves even more than usual so that an accurate line can be obtained on them for trading purposes.

* * *

The club, of course, still would like to deal for an experienced second baseman and a long hitting outfielder. No immediate deals are on the fire, however.

TEE PEE STARLET — Nine-year-old Abigail Hoffman had officials of the Toronto Little Hockey League fooled. They didn't discover she was a girl until she was chosen to the league's all-star team and was forced to produce a birth certificate. Her team-mates at St. Catharines didn't know that the nickname "Abi" belonged to a girl.

A basketball game between Stone Front and General Motors will precede the district playoff involving Shaw's Jewelers and Corey's Food Market of Lansing at the PHS gym Monday night. Stone Front was a finalist and GMC a semi-finalist in the city Class A tournament. The preliminary starts at 6:45.

When Robert W. Osgood's office people saw a published photograph of the new Michigan Forestry and Park Association officers, they wondered "how come" Mr. Osgood was labelled "Wilfred R. Browell" in the cutlines. Osgood is correctly identified as the MFPA prexy, they reported today. Photo and lines came from the Lansing Conservation Department offices. Mr. Osgood is attached to Oakland County Road Commission as an engineer.

THE POWERHOUSE By JIMMY POWERS

The baker's little daughter, who started her career on roller skates in the cellar of her modest home in Ozone Park, came home with the women's world figure skating title, won in a stunning upset in the Christmas postcard town of Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

She is a hazel-eyed blonde, a real Miss Cup Cake of 1956, named Carol Heiss.

At sweet 16 she is the second youngest ever to win the highly-prized crown. Sonja Henie won it 25 years back when she was 15. (Sorry, Sonja, old girl, but statistics are statistics. Our record books just sit there in ungentlemanly fashion and reveal all.)

Carol Heiss well deserves the figurative shower of rose petals we are herewith tossing in her direction. She came up the hard way, putting in long weary hours on our local rinks, Iceland, the Garden, Central Park, anywhere she could find space on a patch of ice. She had the usual scraps with officials, the feuds, the spark-flying entrances and exits.

★ ★ ★ ★

Her coach, Pierre Brunet, was likewise involved in feuds and flareups of temperament around the globe. Reporters covering the long-time competition with Tenley Albright invariably sided with the more mature and possibly more gracious Miss Albright.

When the Winter Olympics came and went with Miss Albright on top, despite an injury, it looked mighty discouraging for our little sweetie-pie. Then Tenley's pain grew worse, but she gallantly carried on.

She was nosed out by her perennial "pigeon" amid wildly cheering spectators in the Bavarian Alps.

CAROL TOOK THE PLACE BY STORM

But girls will be girls. Miss Albright choked down a few sobs, gulped and congratulated the victor with sweet smiles and a little peck of a kiss on the cheek.

Carol burst into tears. A dispatch related how Carol, wearing an emerald green dress that emphasized her honey-blonde hair, took the place by storm: "For four minutes she jumped so high and spun so fast her pony tail cut the air like a whip. It stood out horizontally behind her as she completed her routine. The crowd, which braved sub-zero weather, rose and cheered hysterically."

Winds Baffle LPGA Entries

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A record field of the nation's top women golfers today faced the smooth play of four veteran professionals in the second round of the $5,000 Titleholders Golf Championship at the Augusta Country Club course.

* * *

Frigid gusts up to 50 m.p.h. yesterday sent scores soaring for many of the 45 entries.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., who has won two of the 16 titleholders tournaments, and Marlene Bauer Hagge, 5 - foot - 3 brunette from Asheville, N.C., shared the first-round lead with 68s. It was the highest score for the opening-round lead since 1946.

One stroke back were Betsy Rawls, former National Open chamuion from Spartanburg, S.C., and Patty Berg, defending champion and six-time titleholders winner.

Five more pros were tied for fourth place at 80.

A warming note was the appearance of Babe Zaharias, member of the Ladies' Professional Golfers Assn., who was flown to Augusta from her Tampa, Fla., home last night. Mrs. Zaharias is convalescing from a second battle with cancer.

Miss Suggs, leading money winner of the LPGA tour with prizes totaling $3,021 this year, was out in a windy 43, but covered the back nine in 35. Mrs. Hagge had 39-39—78 for the 6,270-yard layout.

* * *

Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla. who shot an 80, was the only player matching the 23-year-old Mrs. Hagge's front nine score.

Miss Ralws, runner-up to Miss Suggs in the money winnings this season, came in with a 36 after going out in 43. Miss Berg's card was 41-38—79.

Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, in third place among the money winners and one notch ahead of Miss Berg, couldn't cope with the wind. The 1955 National Open champion was in a tie for 35th place with a 47-45—92.

Atlanta's Dot Kirby, who won this tournament in 1941 and 1952, took the amateur lead with an 81.

Amateur Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., had an 82 together with pros Bonnie Randolph of Columbus, Ohio; Peggy Kirk Bell of Southern Pines, N.C.; and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.

Eastern Bowler Hits Third Spot

John Wilson's 651 Series Is 42 Behind Current ABC Leader

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — John Wilson, Pulaski, N.Y., bowler, was in third place today as the 53rd American Bowling Congress began its seventh day of its scheduled 79-day tournament.

* * *

Starting slowly, Wilson, who bowls with two leagues in Pulaski and averages 170, bowled a 200 game first. But with scores of 236 and 215, he rolled up a 651 series, 42 pins behind singles leader Robert Rotherberger of Louisville, Ky.

* * *

Action last night, as for the past three nights, was confined to booster teams, those averaging 850 or less. Eighty teams, mostly from this area rolled in Rochester's Community War Memorial.

* * *

The open division leaders are Singles, Robert Rotherberger, Louisville, Ky., 693; doubles, Rudy Hausler (642) and Robert South (638) of Auburn, Ind. 1,280; all-events, Don Krause, Milwaukee, Wis., 1,857.

17 Race Horses Killed in Fire at Tampa Track

Second Blaze in 27 Months Does $62,500 Damage

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Seventeen horses died in a fire at Sunshine Park Race Track last night—the second such fire in 27 months—with a total loss estimated at $62,500.

* * *

The fire broke out about 8 p.m. (EST) and quickly destroyed a 300-foot barn which houses 30 to 35 horses. Fifteen carcasses were found in the ashes and two others were so badly burned they had to be destroyed.

W. Frank Hobbs, Tampa attorney and race track president, said the fire apparently started in a tack room. He estimated the thoroughbreds were worth $2,500 each and the barn was worth $20,000.

A similar fire broke out at the track on Dec. 18, 1953, when 17 horses were destroyed. Twice in recent months dynamite blasts have damaged the plant but it was not in operation either time.

Sunshine Park ends a 52-day race meeting Tuesday.

Honduran Aims for 7th in Row

Lightburn Favorite in TV Garden Bout Over Algerian Khalfi

NEW YORK (AP)—Ludwig (Luddy) Lightburn, one of the bright hopes of the stagnant lightweight division, goes after his seventh straight victory tonight.

* * *

The 21-year-old contended from British Honduras is a 2-1 choice to get it at Algerian Hoacine Khalfi's expense in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 10 p.m., EST) Coast to Coast.

Khalfi represents one of the notches on Luddy's belt now. The rangy youngster with the picture-punching style and fast hands trounced the 28-year-old Algerian five months ago. Khalfi is subbing this time for L. C. Morgan, Dayton, Ohio, prospect. Morgan was replaced because the Cleveland Commission suspended him due to a managerial snarl.

Top 'Defenseman'

Canadian Icers Fine All-Star Is 'Starlet'

TORONTO (AP) — Officials of the Toronto Little Hockey League did a double take last night when they selected their 1955-56 all-star team. They discovered one all-star, a rough, tough defenseman, is an eight-year-old girl.

Red-faced officials said last night they had been fooled by Abi Hoffman, considered "his" team's top defensive star and one of the best players in the league.

Abi was chosen to play in a league All-Star Game March 31 but when officials checked "his" birth certificate they found Abi is short for Abigail.

Her father, Samuel Hoffman, said he had not revealed Abi's sex to officials because "she liked playing, and hockey is a good healthy sport.

She played more than a dozen games during the last four months with her team, St. Catharines Teepees, without arousing the suspicions of league officials, her coach, manager or 15 teammates. Little League teams are named after Ontario Hockey Association junior "A" teams.

Helped by the 3rd grade pupil, the Teepees are in 2nd place in the four-team group.

Hoffman said his daughter was never interested in dolls and has played with hockey sticks since she learned to stand. She got into the league by herself.

Kramer Figures USLTA Will OK Open Tourneys

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Kramer, promoter of professional tennis tours, said today amateur tennis wasn't attracting the really good athletes, but he thought the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. would fix that by sanctioning open tournaments.

* * *

Here with his troupe of Pancho Gonzales, Tony Trabert, Pancho Segura and Rex Hartwig, Kramer declared that "the boys with the physical ability and the reflexes turn to the more glamorous sports now."

He took a dark view of the United States' prospects in Davis Cup play in the next few years.

Pairings have been announced for the Boys Club of America sectional basketball tournament, scheduled at the Pontiac Boys Club gym today and Saturday.

Pontiac's 1st round foe is Dearborn, which compiled a 10-3 season record. The Pontiac squad, which finished in a tie for 2nd place in the Class D city leagues this season with an 8-4 mark, is the tourney favorite.

This tournament is 1 of 25 conducted throughout the nation. A total of 60 trophies and medals will be awarded to players and teams in the Pontiac event. Today's opening game is slated at 5 p.m.

Other 1st round pairings are Highland Park vs. Bloomer Branch of Detroit, Ypsilanti vs. Eddie Guest Club of Detroit, and Philadelphia Branch of Detroit vs. the Motor City's Quincy Avenue Branch.

DETROIT (AP)—The Walter Reed Swim Club of Washington, D. C., bettered its own women's world record for the 400-yard medley relay in a swimming exhibition at the Detroit Athletic Club yesterday.

Shelley Mann, backstroke; Mary Jane Sears, breaststroke; Betty Mullen, butterfly, and Wanda Werner, freestyle, did the 400 yards in 4:23 flat. They set the recognized world mark of 4:33.5 last April at Daytona Beach.

Basilio and Saxton Get Pre-Fight Exams

CHICAGO (INS) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and challenger Johnny Saxton are scheduled for preliminary physical examinations today at the Illinois Athletic Commission's offices in Chicago.

The two meet next Wednesday night at the stadium in a 15-round bout, with Basilio's title at stake.

GI Aiming for Gloves Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Pete Rademacher, who threw off the effects of rheumatic fever in 1945 to make his mark in the Army and athletics, has an Olympic boxing berth in mind tonight as he aims for the Golden Gloves heavyweight crown.

Pete is a 27-year-old infantry lieutenant at Ft. Benning, Ga., who fights on the Nashville, Tenn., team.

In a tournament that has been dominated by servicemen since the war, only eight are among the 32 top fighters from west of the Alleghenies who enter the semi-final and title competition in Chicago Stadium.

* * *

He played defensive guard at Washington State in 1950 and 1951. He won Golden Gloves titles in the Seattle area, but missed in the 1952 Olympic trials at San Francisco when a broken hand cost him his bout with Jack Scheberries, National AAU champion.

But the next year, Rademacher defeated the same Scheberries to win the AAU title.

Rademacher faces some stiff competition tonight as officials watch the 32 semifinalists shoot for tournament titles in bids to win places on the Chicago squad that invades New York March 21 for the 29th annual intercity bouts.

Other heavyweights in the running are Terry Lewis, Sioux City, Iowa, student; Osee Groom, unemployed Detroiter, and Solomon McTier of the Montgomery, Ala., squad, a student at Alabama Teachers College.

Virginia Bird Dog Does Well in Trial

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Home Again Mike had his troubles with nervous birds in the National Amateur Quail Championship today but still managed to turn in one of the top hunts of the stake.

Mike, owned by Willie C. Jones of Franklin, Va., pointed five times and on three occasions quail were flushed.

* * *

The two unproductives were attributed to jumpy birds and didn't take too much away from Mike.

Merry Apple Jack, a bitch owned by G. W. Crews of Oklahoma City, was also on game three times but had only one clearly defined piece of birdwork.

Thirty-two dogs have now made their bids and the winner should be named next Monday.

Michigan, Tech in Title Series

Meet Tonight in Ann Arbor for First of 2 Final WIHL Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan and Michigan Tech meet at Ann Arbor tonight in the 1st of two games that will determine the championship of the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

Currently they are tied for the league lead with 17 points. All other members have finished play for the season.

Michigan cut down Tech twice on Houghton ice last weekend and now is favored, since it will have the advantage of playing on its home ice. Until they met, Tech had a 2-point lead.

Both Michigan and Michigan Tech, unless precedent is broken, will compete in the NCAA hockey tournament at Colorado Springs next weekend. Traditionally the No. 1 and No. 2 Western League teams are invited. Michigan will be the defending NCAA champion.

The Wolverine-Husky finish has created excitement on both campuses.

The Houghton arena was packed to overflowing last weekend. And in a biting, sub-freezing wind 11 students lined up at 9:30 last night to be sure they'd get tickets when 1,100 unreserved seats for tonight's game went on sale at 8:30 a.m. Six hundred reserved seats were sold out two weeks ago.

Florida E. Coast Tourney Moves Into Semifinals

Miss Sanches, from Baton Rouge, La., yesterday defeated Mrs. Phyllis Semple of Sewickley, Pa., 5 and 3.

Mrs. Glick eliminated Kathy Newton of Cleveland, Ohio, 5 and 4; Miss Moss ousted Beverly Gammon of St. Paul, Minn., 4 and 3; and Miss Janssen defeated Margaret Craker of Amsterdam, N.Y. 6 and 4.

Louis Turns Wrestler; 1st Pro Bout March 16

WASHINGTON (INS)—Former world's heavyweight champion Joe Louis, beset with income tax troubles, returns to the ring March 16—as a wrestler.

With Jersey Joe Wolcott, another ex-champ, as referee, the 42-year-old Louis will meet Cowboy Rocky Lee in an Australian-style match at Uline arena in Washington.

Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox struck out only 15 times in 154 games in 1955.

It's St. Michael against Almont Saturday night for the Class C district basketball championship.

St. Mike fought its way into the finals with a hard-earned 60-45 victory over a tall and capable Mt. Clemens St. Mary team in Thursday night's opening 'C' attraction at Pontiac High.

Almont was extended to the limit by a battling St. Frederick quintet before eking out a 47-45 win to reach the title go of the MHSAA tournament.

The Shamrocks of Bob Mineweaser turned in one of their finest showings of the season against the Mountaineers. Outgunned in height, the northsiders made up for this deficiency with an abundance of fight and aggressiveness.

Sparked by John Keller, who gave a brilliant performance, the Mikes forged into an unsafe 32-30 edge at halftime. They went to work on the slim advantage in the 2nd half and gradually pulled away, especially in the late stages of the last quarter when the opponent began to tire visibly.

Keller, whose rebounding and floor play were outstanding, paced St. Mike's well-balanced assault on the basket with 18 points. Three other Shamrock cagers hit double figures, Dan Dropps and Chuck Brown each scoring 12 and Duane Priebe 11.

Forward Fred Schwark led the St. Mary Mountaineers with 16 points, 10 on foul shots. Teammate Frank Gatz added 13.

Jim Ostrander's only field goal of the evening came as the final buzzer sounded to hand St. Fred a heartbreaking setback in a wild and wooly nightcap that had the spectators on the verge of losing their sanity.

Ostrander's bucket climaxed a rapid exchange of field goals during the final two minutes and spoiled an anticipated intra-city rematch between Gene Wright's Rams and St. Mike in the final.

The underdog Rams were even at intermission, 20-20, and trailed by a narrow 32-30 margin entering the 4th period. Three one-handed sets by John Bradley and Tom Derocher's free throw kept St. Fred alive in the dying moments and Wally Quarles' two-pointers with 10 seconds left tied the score at 45-all. Then Ostrander furnished the heroics.

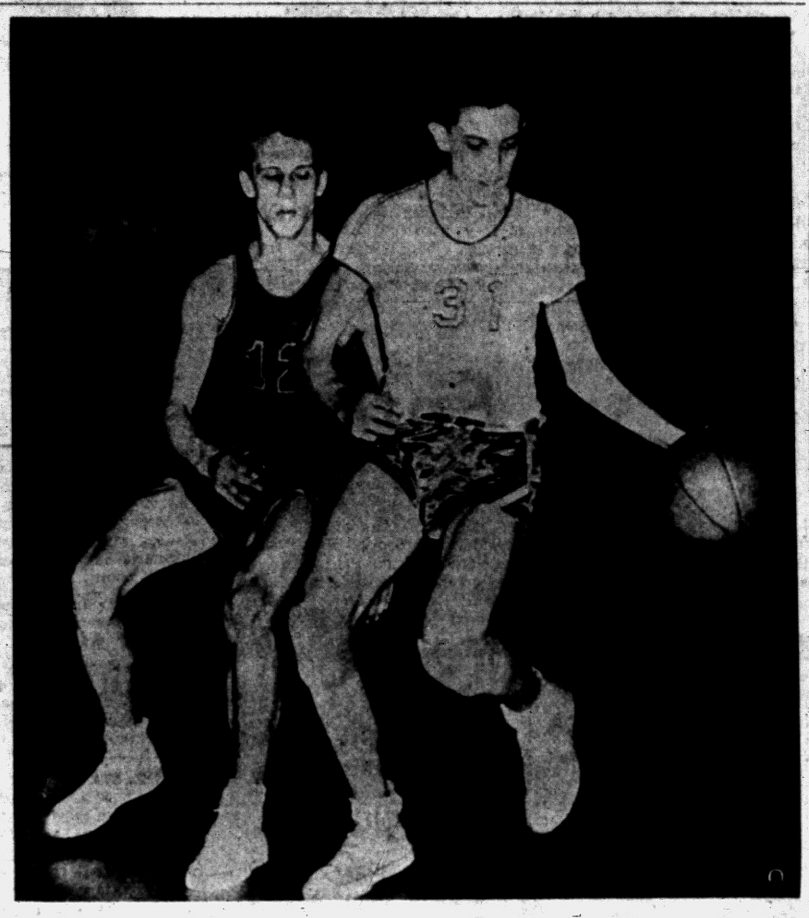

St. Fred outshot Almont from the floor, 21 to 17, but lost at the foul line. The Rams netted only three charity tosses while the winners were making 13.

Lanky Larry Kersten was almost a one-man gang for the Southern Thumb Raiders with 10 fielders and eight gift shots for 28 points. Derocher headed St. Fred's attack with 17 points. Dick Doyon, who departed via personals with 2:47 remaining, and Bradley tallied 10 apiece.

Class B squads battle for final berths tonight at PHS. Avondale makes its tourney debut against Romeo at 7 o'clock and Rochester meets Clarkston at 8:15. The winners square off Saturday for the district crown.

Youth in Spotlight

27-Year-Old Canadian Tops at Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—The spotlight was on the younger pros, and especially on Kerry Kesselring, in the second round of the $12,500 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament today.

* * *

Kesselring, a wiry 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, parlayed a hot putter into a two-stroke lead over the "old pros" in yesterday's opening round. His four-under-par 68 was one of 20 sub-par or par rounds turned in by the 153-man field over the 6,627-yard Pensacola Country Club course.

* * *

The field will be trimmed to the low 60 pros and 10 amateurs after today's round. Those still in the fold will play 18 holes and another 18 Sunday.

* * *

Kesselring dropped a 15-footer on the first hole and 10-footers on the third and fifth to march to a four-under-par 32 on the out-going nine. He was one under par on five of the holes on the first nine and two on the back nine, which he finished in a regulation 36.

Most of the low 20 scores were turned in by the more youthful pros. Virtually all were accomplished by late starters. Those teeing off during the morning were harassed by cold winds up to 35 m.p.h.

* * *

The veteran Buck White of Memphis, Tenn., came home with a two-under-par 70, together with George Bigham of Kansas City, Mo.; Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio; Don January of Abilene, Tex.; and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

Three were bracketed at 71 — Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; John Serafin of Fox Hill, Pa.; and Joe Back of Abilene.

Ed Furgol, 1954 U. S. Open champion, was among 11 entrants who had par 72.

* * *

Harold Ridgley, Eglin Air Force Base Fla., and Jack Colter of Pensacola, tied for low amateur in the opening round with 73s.

None of the winners of the eight preceding tournaments on the winter pro circuit entered the Pensacola Open, first here since 1946.

AAU Presses Fight

Santee Is Back in Court

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wes Santee case gets another run in the courts today with the State Supreme Court scheduled to rule on the validity of the Amateur Athletic Union's lifetime suspension of the speedy Kansas miler.

* * *

Santee's lawyer, Charles P. Grimes, will ask the court to strengthen the temporary injunction he obtained last week against the ban. If Grimes is successful, Santee likely will run in the mile in Milwaukee tomorrow night.

The AAU, on the other hand, will request to have the restraining order lifted thereby enforcing the lifetime suspension of America's top miler on charges of "flagrant violations" of the amateur code.

* * *

Whatever decision the court hands down today, the controversial battle still will have several laps to go.

* * *

Grimes has promised to take the case to the highest courts, challenging the AAU authority. He also has threatened to to force a Congressional hearing. The AAU, arguing that action taken within the framework of its constitution is not subject to court action, also has announced that it intends to fight to the finish.

* * *

"It would be a rather sad situation," said Dan Ferris, AAU secretary-treasurer, "if we had to go through a court procedure every time we wanted to take action against an athlete. And that's what this situation could lead to unless we can prove our right to control amateur sports in this country."

* * *

Grimes would not say what his next step would be in case of denial of his plea for staying the ban.

Charley Ane of the Detroit Lions in the National Football League is attending Wayne University to complete work on his degree started at the University of Southern California.

Insecticides Destroy Mosquito Water Larva

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department reports its researchers have learned that water-soluble insecticides can effectively destroy mosquito larva in irrigation water even when used in the proportion of one ounce of insecticide to 1,000,000 gallons of water.

Parathion was the most effective of four chemicals tested. Although not normally soluble in water, it was "solubilized" by mixing it with a chemical emulsifier. It then readily diffused throughout the irrigation water.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Washington Senators have picked four pitchers for duty in Saturday's game with the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland.

They are Ted Abernathy, Bob Chakales, Dick Brodowski and Pedro Ramos. Ramos will be held in reserve.

Meanwhile, an end of Roy Sievers' holdout appeared to be in sight. The veteran slugger and the Washington front office were believed only $250 apart.

* * *

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Lemon, Cleveland Indian right-hander, allowed only one hit in three innings of intrasquad play yesterday. He faced only 11 batters in his first pitching duty.

"My arm felt pretty good — didn't tire at all," Lemon said. "My legs felt good, too, and that's more important."

The one hit was a line single by Mike Garcia. Mike allowed four runs in three innings in his first appearance of the year.

The Kresses won the game on Earl Averill's grand slam homer.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City Athletics was wondering whether yesterday's 1-0 intrasquad game was the result of good pitching or weak hitting but conceded the pitchers would have been hard to hit under any circumstance.

"From the way things went you'd have to say that the pitchers were still ahead of the hitters," Boudreau said, "but with the kind of control most of them had they would have been hard to hit any way."

Only four hits were registered off the hurling of Ed Burtschy, Bill Herriage, Art Ceccarelli, Bill Harrington, Gus Keriazakos and Walt Craddock.

Burtschy, up for another trial after being sent down to the minors last season, was the most impressive. The big righthander worked three innings, retired nine men in a row and struck out four.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings remained tied with the New York Rangers for 2nd place in the National Hockey League standings today.

The Wings held off contending New York with a 4-2 victory over the 5th-place Boston Bruins at Olympia Stadium last night. The Rangers outlasted the Chicago Black Hawks to take a 6-4 victory at St. Louis.

The Wings and the Rangers each have 71 points with five games to go in their schedules.

Detroit fired in three goals in the 1st period before Boston's Cal Gardner scored his 12th and 13th goals of the season in the second and final periods. Gordie Howe added the clincher for Detroit in the last stanza.

* * *

It was Boston's 20th straight game at Detroit without victory.

Lorne Ferguson, Marcel Pronovost and Ted Lindsay fashioned Detroit's early lead in the first 10 minutes. Ferguson got his 14th marker on a freak play. Boston Goalie Terry Sawchuk had saved on Ferguson's breakaway attempt but onrushing Leo Labine, Boston forward, crashed into the cage and carried Sawchuk and the puck over the goal line.

Pronovost shammed in a 60-foot screened shot for his 4th goal of the season and Lindsay added his 27th with a goal-mouth deflection of Howe's 20 footer.

Gardner scored with a short breakaway attempt in the second period and again when his 40-footer trickled through goalie Glenn Hall's pads midway in the third.

A minute later Howe converted his 36th goal after he and defenseman Warren Godfrey exchanged passes four times on a rink-long two-man rush.

Detroit's Dutch Reibel suffered a possible shoulder dislocation and Boston's Jerry Toppazzini twisted his knee in separate accidents.

Drug Decisions Plymouth, Clarkston Is Eliminated

Drayton Drug's basketball team, runner-up in the Waterford Township Recreation League this season, edged Plymouth, 47-45, in the Inter-City Recreation tournament Thursday night at Hackett Fieldhouse in Highland Park.

Three points by Marshall O'Shaughnessy in the last minute of play gave Drug the decision. Clarence Beers scored 22 points for the winners. Drayton enters the 2nd round tonight at 8:30.

The league champion Clarkston Merchants bowed to Monroe, 65-61, in the Michigan Recreation Association Class B tourney at Plymouth. The Merchants led until the last quarter. Clarkston's Bob Mills notched 14 points.

Chuck Seats tallied 24 points, but the Outcasts, Waterford High School representatives, were still eliminated by Allen Park, 44-30, in the Inter-City Junior tourney at Detroit's Lasky Recreation Center.

The Waterford League playoffs begin Monday night at Isaac Crary gym and end March 20.

Pistons Take NBA Western Div. Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Fort Wayne Pistons joined the record-making Philadelphia Warriors as regular-season champions in the National Basketball Assn. today and interest centered on the divisional battles for the remaining post-season playoff positions.

The Pistons clinched the Western Division title last night by beating the Minneapolis Lakers 100-82 while the St. Louis Hawks, tied with the Lakers for second place, were edged by the Syracuse Nationals 92-88.

The Warriors, meanwhile, playing their first game since clinching the Eastern Division crown, set a league scoring record by clobbering the Boston Celtics 142-120. Neil Johnston's hook shot in the final second smashed the team mark of 141 points established by Sheboygan against Denver in 1950.

Frank Bowman, trainer for the New York Giants, and Bob Bauman, who holds down the same job for the St. Louis Cardinals, are brothers.

Deer Starving in State

LANSING (AP) — Numberous deer in the Northern Lower Peninula and the Upper Peninsula are starving because of the hard winter, the State Conservation Department reported today.

The department said weather conditions which have restricted movement of deer herds has been a contributing factor.

Upper Peninsula starvation reports during last week included two deer in Ontonagon county, three fawns in northern Dickinson county and two fawns in marquette county.

Department biologists said each discovered deer death usually represents numerous undetected fatalities in more remote and snow-covered areas.

Retirement Bill for Legislators Meets Opposition

LANSING (AP)—A bill setting up a retirement system for legislators has run into trouble in the House.

* * *

The bill, intorduced by Rep. Joseph Kowalski (D-Detroit), was advance Thursday. But there are signs it will encounter still opposition when it comes up for a final vote.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), spokesman for Republican "Young Turks," asked Kowalski how much the retirement system will cost taxpayers.

"Read the bill," Kowalski answered. "It's all in the bill."

Sallade insisted the bill does not contain the annual cost of the program to the state. He said the system might be a "giveaway."

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee said privately actuaries have estimated the cost of the program at between $150,000 and $200,000 a year.

* * *

Under the plan a lawmaker will be eligible for a $2,000-a-year pension when he completes 16 years' service and is 60 years old. A legislator could get a $400-a-year pension after four years' service.

Not Keeping Pace

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Public schools in Montana have had to look for additional revenue this year to keep pace with enrollment increases. State financial aid was sufficient in the past two fiscal years. But this year all counties have been compelled to impose deficiency levies on local property. Montana's school enrollment jumped 5 per cent in the two-year period.

Dispute Delays Highway Group

House Unit Disagrees on Reimbursing Issue for Roads Already Built

WASHINGTON (INS)—A dispute over reimbursing states for superhighways already built has held up committee action on the multi-billion-dollar highway legislation.

The House Roads subcommittee voted down a provision in the Democratic-sponsored highway bill to allow states full credit for thruways and turnpikes that are to be part of the 40,000-mile superhighway system authorized yesterday.

* * *

Then the public works unit adjourned until Tuesday afternoon when it will consider various substitutes. Members opposing the provision in the original bill called it "unworkable." They said they wanted time to look over other suggested plans.

Despite the controversy, subcommittee chairman George Fallon (D-Md) said he does not believe the 27 billion-dollar superhighway program is in any danger.

Rep. Charles Buckley (D-NY) chairman of the Full Public Works Committee, has a substitute ready calling fo rthe federal government to reimburse states at one-tenth of the cost per year for ten years. Reimbursement would cover only the cost of building the highways themselves and not of other expenses involved in construction.

Italy's Gronchi Ends San Francisco Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Italian President Giovanni Gronchi leaves San Francisco today after one of the city's greatest shows of hospitality.

* * *

The bespectacled chief executive leaves Alameda Naval Air Station this afternoon only five hours short of a full three-day visit.

His departure was preceded by a tour of the University of California radiation laboratory and luncheon with University President Robert Gordon Sproul.

Last night some 1,100 San Franciscans from socialites to owners of small stores turned out for a $12.50 per plate testimonial dinner.

Hollywood Headlines:

James Cagney Intrigued With 'The Last Hurrah'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—"The Last Hurrah," Edward O'Connor's book reported to be the life story of the controversial Mayor Curley of Boston, has gone from 16th place to No. 2 in some of the book polls.

At Columbia they're trying to persuade academy nominee James Cagney to play the lead and he's very intrigued with the idea.

Curley said when asked to review the book for one of the magazines, "No, I won't review it. If there's anything I think isn't true they may have a lawsuit."

Pretty little Eurasian actress Anna Kashfi moves to Universal-International to play a Korean welfare worker with Rock Hudson and Martha Hyer in "Battle Hymn."

Anna, whose first picture was "The Mountain" with Spencer Tracy, was lunching in the Paramount commissary when Marlon Brando saw her and at once asked to be introduced. They had several dates.

But it isn't Brando who has the little East Indian actress' heart. Her love is really a jet pilot in Italy, but she isn't telling his name.

She is under contract to MGM and was borrowed for her role with Rock and Martha.

GOING TO CARMEL

Feeling in great spirits, Doris Day says that she goes to Carmel a week from Saturday for her independent picture, "Julie."

I asked Doris if there is anything new about her appearing in "Pajama Game" at Warners, which has been rumored as being tied up with her name on it. She said she hadn't heard a thing, but added, "I'd like to go back to Warners for a picture."

As I understand it, it will not be necessary for Warners to cancel their contract with starlet Rena Clark, the unfortunate girl taken into custody last week in connection with her musician husband's arrest on alleged possession of narcotics.

At the time she signed the contract, the girl did not reveal to Warners that she is only 16 years old and therefore not legally of age to sign a binding deal.

Another thing the studio was not aware of is that Rena is an expectant mother and the baby is due in May.

Proposed Jet Air Base Keeps Moving, This Time From Kalkaska to Manistee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Gerald Ford (R-Mich) says that a House Armed Services Committee vote to move a proposed air force base from Kalkaska, Mich. to Manistee, Mich. "likely means no jet base will be constructed in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula."

* * *

Ford is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and a member of its subcommittee that passes on military funds.

It was the House Appropriations Committee that blocked Cadillac as a proposed site for the base. That was one of four sites proposed before Manistee by either congressional committees or the Air force for the multi-million dollar fighter installation.

The Armed Service Committee's vote to switch from Kalkaska to Manistee was 21-5, and Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) said: "I'm glad it's settled. I hope it's settled once and for all." Manistee is in her district. Kalkaska is in that of Rep. Victor Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

SHOCKED BY ACTION

Knox said he was "amazed and shocked" by the Armed Services Committee action, adding that "a half million dollars of the taxpayers' money already has been spent at Kalkaska" and that a move to Manistee would cause a year's delay in start of construction.

In predicting that the action "likely means no jet base" at all in the northern Lower Peninsula, Ford declared:

"It is impossible to understand why the (Armed Services) Committee took action which would waste $500,000 of the taxpayers' money already committeed by the Air Force at Kalkaska."

In indicating possible trouble when the question of appropriating money for a Manistee base comes before his committee, Ford said that his appropriations subcommittee had been told by the Air Force that Manistee would cost $500,000 a year more to operate than Kalkaska.

* * *

Miss Thompson reported, however, that a top member of the House Appropriations Committee told her he "doubted" it would move to block the switch to Manistee.

KALKASKA FAVORED

The Air Force had favored Kalkaska. The Armed Services Committee vote was a victory for Miss Thompson, who once reported a $1,000 campaign "bribe" offer in connection with jockeying over the site of the proposed base.

Miss Thompson originally backed a Benzie County site chosen by the Air Force. But it finally was ruled out by the House Armed Services Committee on grounds that it was too close to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Benzie County, incidentally adjoins Manistee County on the north and is directly west of Kalkaska, with Grand Traverse intervening.

The Armed Service Committee then selected Cadillac as a site, but the Appropriations Committee, with Miss Thompson's blessing, blocked funds for use there. Switching the base to a site outside her district, Miss Thompson contended, amounted to doublecrossing her constituents.

* * *

The Air Force, after Congress adjourned last August, selected Kalkaska. And that's how the newest hassle got started.

Democrats Fail to Retrieve Bill

Score Zero in Attempt to Get Williams' Labor Measures From GOP

LANSING (AP)—Democratic legislators are scoring zero in their efforts to retrieve Gov. Williams' labor bills from the House labor committee.

Party members failed by six votes yesterday in a move to discharge the Republican-dominated committee from consideration of a bill setting up new industrial safety standards.

"We're operating under a safety code adopted when Michigan was in the wagon business," said Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority floor leader.

"The motion to discharge the committee is so much twaddle," said Rep. Richard Van Dusen (R-Birmingham). Other Republicans called the bill "completely unworkable."

The motion, made by Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville), lost by a 50-54 vote.

Carey said Democrats plan about 10 more such motions on other labor bills tied up in the committee. They failed in a first try on Tuesday.

Scientists Meet for Symposium

Physicians Also Among Gathering to Discuss Leukemia Problem

DETROIT (AP) — About 450 of the world's leading scientists and physicians gathered in Detroit yesterday for a three-day symposium on Leukemia.

* * *

Dr. Robin C. Buerki, executive director of Ford Hospital which is sponsoring the symposium, said the purpose of the meeting is to "bring all groups working in different lines on Leukemia together to consolidate all available findings and to provide a free exchange of ideas."

Leukemia is a malignant disease of the blood and blood forming organs, principally the bone marrow and the lymph nodes.

Dr. Frank H. Bethell of the Thomas Henry Simpson Memorial Institute of Medical Research at Ann Arbor, said that while the exact cause of the disease is not fully understood, medical science is "trying to understand its problems and find a method of treatment."

* * *

The symposium is the fifth of a series held at the hospital on subjects which represent current problems of medical investigation.

Wyandotte Firm Submits Low Bid on Road Project

Low bidders on 12 state trunkline construction projects, including one in Oakland County, were announced yesterday by the State Highway Department.

Loselle Construction Co. of Wyandotte, was low at $932,802 for a contract to pave 5.4 miles of the U.S. 16 relocation from Ten Mile road west to Twelve Mile Road.

Warns British About Dismissal

Glubb Cautions Against Get-Tough Policy in Middle East Issue

LONDON (AP)—Jordan's ousted British military chief warned Britain today not to let his dismissal provoke a get-touch policy toward the strategic Middle East kingdom. He said that might drive Jordan into the arms of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syraia.

* * *

Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb headed Jordan's Arab Legion until young King Hussein fired him last week.

Meanwhile, the government chiefs of Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Syria went into the fourth day of their summit conference in Cairo, promising that an important answere expected to offer formally to replace the British subsidy of some 30 million dollars a year which has been supporting the Arab Legion.

* * *

In a letter to the Times of London, Glubb told the British government it would "be a serious political error to get tough with Jordan at this stage."

* * *

Britain pulled 15 of its top officers out of Jordan after King Hussein fired Glubb. Members of Parliament also urged that the subsidy to the Arab Legion be cut off.

Deborah Kerr Reveals New Stunt for Singers

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—From lovely Deborah Kerr I've just heard how a lovely Hollywood and/or London movie actress can sing a lovely song without fully developing a—uh—lovely voice.

★ ★ ★ ★

The songs in "The King and I" taxed even the late Gertrude Lawrence when it was a Broadway hit and now we discover beautiful Miss Kerr confusing us by knocking them off expertly in the movie though she'd never before had a singing role.

DEBORAH

"She's a wonderful woman, this Marni Nixon," said Miss Kerr with striking honesty.

"But I'd heard they weren't dubbed," I retorted.

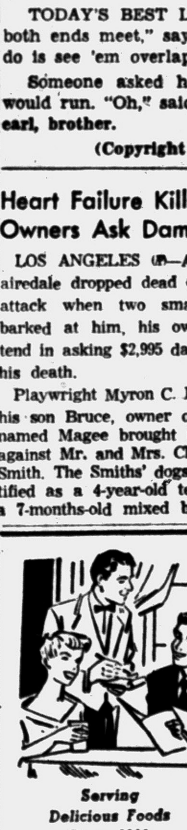

"Oh, no, they weren't! You see we split it.

"She was at one mike, and I was at another. She's a highly-respected California concert singer and we practically lived together for 7 weeks. She even looks a little like me and she got so she could do a wonderful imitation of me."

"But why didn't you sing the whole thing?" I asked. "I cahn't! I'm not steady enough. I do mean to try seriously now, though. I've never sung except in the days when I was in the repertory, when I did everything."

★ ★ ★ ★

Miss Kerr and Miss Nixon even have a little running joke about a contemplated opera career. Miss Kerr plans to stand at the mike on stage singing like mad while Miss Nixon belts the songs from behind the curtain.

Heart Failure Kills Dog; Owners Ask Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 60-pound airedale dropped dead of a heart attack when two smaller dogs barked at him, his owners contend in asking $2,995 damages for his death.

Playwright Myron C. Fagan and his son Bruce, owner of the dog named Magee brought the action against Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee Smith. The Smiths' dogs are identified as a 4-year-old terrier and a 7-months-old mixed breed.

Follows Son to Ministry

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Many a son has follower his father into the ministry but the Gannaways are out to reverse the procedure.

William Curtis Gannaway Sr., 53, Huntsville, Ala., has enrolled at the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, following the footsteps of his son, a second-year student.

The elder Gannaway sold his business. "It was a hard decision to make," he said, but studying, after all these years, "isn't so bad as I thought."

"When any medium, other than the newspaper, delivers all of the world and neighborhood news in detail; ballyhoos local charities and civic endeavors to successful conclusions; borns the babes, graduates them, marries them, and buries them; stands as watchdog of home, safety and liberty; fights for the rights of the people . . .

Say Ike Hosted Dinner for Key Political Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of President Eisenhower's key 1952 political advisers reportedly attended a private White House dinner last night.

* * *

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, confirmed that Eisenhower had "some friends" for dinner, but declined to name any of them.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was known to be among those present.

* * *

One official said he understood the others also were drawn from the "hard core" of Eisenhower's 1952 political strategy group. Among them he named Presidential Asst. Sherman Adams; Atty. Gen. Brownell; Thomas E. Stephens, formerly Eisenhower's appointments secretary; and Walter Williams, undersecretary of commerce.

Stocks Continue Upward Push

NEW YORK (AP)—A strong and active stock market today continued its push into record high ground.

* * *

Prices in the early afternoon were up between 1 and 3 points at the best in key areas. Losses were neither frequent nor large.

Trading was at a fast pace and hit a rate around 3,000,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,500,000 shares traded yesterday when the market hit a new high.

* * *

Most main divisions of the list were up decisively—steels, motors, farm implements, aircrafts, radio-televisions, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, airlines, oils and railroads. There wasn't a seriously backward division in the market.

L. S. Starrett was up around 3 points at nearly 50 after directors declared a dividend of 75 cents as against 60 cents paid in the previous quarter.

* * *

DuPont made a good showing in the chemical section as the company reported record high sales, earnings and dividends for 1955.

Westinghouse Electric, still crippled by its strike after quick settlement hopes were dashed, lost ⅞ at 61⅛ at the start on 2,500 shares, and buyers neglected it thereafter.

Grains Rally After Sharp Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains rallied after a sharp dip at the start on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were active in all pits.

* * *

Losses at the start ran to a couple of cents. New crop wheat being down most. On the subsequent rally a few contracts got above the previous close. Other futures had their losses reduced to fractions.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ lower to ½ higher, March $2.19⅝; corn ⅝ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.30½; oats unchanged to ½ lower, March 61; rye ¾ to 1¼ lower, March $1.29¼; soybeans ½ lower to ¾ higher, March $2.59¼, and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $11.85.

Brokers attributed the splurge of selling at the start to the action of the Senate late yesterday in defeating the proposal to restore 90 per cent of parity price supports to several basic crops.

Rather surprisingly to traders the amendment which knocked out the 90 per cent of parity provisions did not include wheat. Many traders thought wheat's prop would be knocked out today but some wondered why it was not included in yesterday's vote.

Titanium Used to Slash Costs in Plane Making

WASHINGTON — Titanium, virtually a precious metal, is being used by the aircraft industry to reduce cost. It resists heat better than aluminum and is lighter than steel.

By using a new $1.36 titanium screw of a certain type instead of a half-cent steel screw formerly used in making a new jet bomber the manufacturer is able to cut off 99 pounds from the plane's weight, representing a $4,950 saving in the aircraft's cost.

Using a $3.65 titanium bolt instead of a 45-cent stainless-steel one in the same plane led to a weight saving of 228 pounds and a saving in aircraft costs of about $11,400.

Police Department Repaid by Woman

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A 73-year-old woman with an income of only $30 a month called police to say she wanted to buy a ticket to the annual policemen's ball.

She explained that she lives alone, and that one night two years ago a stranger pounded at her door. She said she dialed the telephone operator and asked for the police.

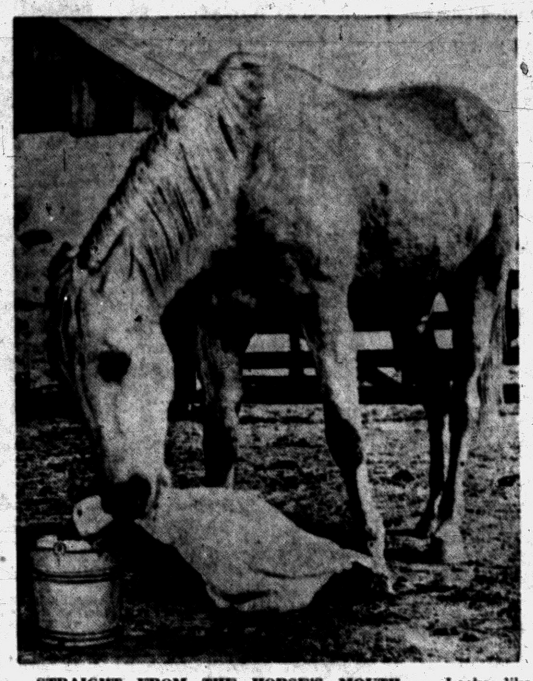

"Before I hung up the receiver two policemen were here taking the man away," she said.

Two policemen were sent to her home with a complimentary to the ball.

Old African Fortress Is Now Youth Center

GOLD COAST—Fort William, a high stone-walled fortress in the Gold Coast, built in 1756, has become a Youth Center. The former fort and trading post, at Anomabu is to be administered as a memorial to Britain's late King George VI, who took keen interest in young people and youth work.

When Duke of York, he promoted Duke of York Summer Camps for boys from all over England. In similar fashion, Gold Coast youths from all parts of the country will live, play and work together on old fortress.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH — Looks like "George," the goose, has stuck his neck out too far. But he's really in no danger, because he's a feathered friend of "Belle," a Palomino mare on the Thomas Graber farm in Wichita, Kan. When George tries to hog the oats in Belle's bucket, Belle grabs George by the neck as shown above and removes the goose gently from the scene.

Walled Lake Rotary Club Names Price Top Citizen

WALLED LAKE — Fire Chief Ray Price was named 'Outstanding Citizen" and presented with a plaque of mahogany with a bronze relief figure and the Rotary emblem, at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club this week.

Harvey Segnitz made the award after Ralston Calvert, chairman of community activities had told the group of Price's achievements.

These include many years of public service, as Price has been a member of the volunteer fire department for 15 years. Five years ago he became chief, and largely through his efforts the department has been organized in a highly efficient manner.

At one time Price was responsible for the station in Walled Lake as well as the Commerce Township Station. However, while still serving the city, he now has his headquarters in the Commerce Township station.

* * *

One of Price's proudest achievements, he told the Pontiac Press reporter was rescuing a young lad from drowning in Walled Lake a few years ago. He carried a ladder and rope 200 yards over breaking ice to bring in Charles Wilson who had been in the water 20 minutes.

Commenting on receiving the award Price said: "This is the biggest thrill of my life. It means more to me than if I had been elected President of the United States."

Among those witnessing the presentation were his wife, children, and twelve members of the volunteer fire department.

Other guests of the Rotary Club for the evening were 40 farmers in the area who had been invited to hear a talk on farm subsidies.

Teacher-Boxer Mixing It Well

Classroom, Ring Work Prove Successful for Welter Contender

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (INS)—Bob Rossie, 28-year-old school teacher who paid his way through college with his fists, is keeping one eye on a chance for welterweight prominence despite his classroom ties.

Rossie had a B-plus average while earning a bachelor's degree in economics at the University of Iowa. He also holds a master's degree in physical education, which he now teaches at Edison School in Council Bluffs.

When not hitting the books, Rossie was doing another kind of hitting in 90 amateur and 40 professional bouts. His pro record includes 29 ring victories and three draws. All his losses were by decision.

Rossie's late father, Robert A. Rossie of Aubudon, Ia., also was a professional fighter and served as manager for young Bob, who with a half-dozen state AAU and Golden Gloves titles behind him, began fighting for money in 1948.

Although he has had little time for sparring since his last bout, which he lost to Del Flanagan in June, Rossie hopes to "get some training done" so he can line up a re-match with Flanagan.

To prove that books and boxing can be mixed successfully, Rossie received his master's degree for a thesis entitled: "A Comparison of Forces By Means of Selected Types of Blows in Boxing."

New Crankshaft in Use at Pontiac Motor Division

Nearly-exclusive use of a new Armasteel shell molded cast crankshaft in the production of Pontiac automobiles was reported today by R. M. Critchfield, GM vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division.

More than 95 per cent of the shafts currently being put into cars is of the new material, Critchfield said. The division will change over completely to the cast type this month, he added.

Pontiac is the first General Motors division to use the shaft in regular production.

According to division engineers, the new crankshaft has proven itself the equivalent and in some ways superior to its forged counterpart. It is produced by GM's Central Foundry Division, and machined by Pontiac.

Especially adaptable to machining operaions, the cast model's high tensile strength permits greater freedom in grinding, drilling and turning. It also is said to make possible longer tool life.

In some cases, Critchfield said, high speed tools have quadrupled their life and the laistgqa luti their life and the lasting qualities of carbide tools have been extended nearly 10 times. The greater uniformity of the new shaft also lends itself to accurate balancing.

Of greater importance in influencing Pontiac's decision to switch to the cast shaft is its proven savings in useless weight and material cost, Critchfield said.

J. B. Wagstaff, DeSoto vice president in charge of sales, further stated the division's sales during the month were only two and a half per cent below the all-time for February, set in 1955.

DeSoto's February sales amounted to 9,937 cars as compared with 8,081 the previous month and 10,196 in February, 1955.

Flint Receives Cut in Gasoline Prices

FLINT (AP) — Eleven major oil companies have cut the wholesale price of gasoline 3.4 cents per gallon in the Flint area.

* *

Lower prices set by independent refineries was the reason given for the move, which brings down the price of regular gasoline to an average of 28.9 cents per gallon. The cut does not affect premium gasoline.

* * *

About 100 gasoline dealers, members of the Genesee County Branch of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn. of Michigan, agreed to pass 98 per cent of the savings along to consumers.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fireman Martin Horback, 27, has been waiting several years to go on one of those emergency calls where he could apply what he'd been taught about delivering a baby.

* * *

Result: a nine-pound girl.

Says Leisure Poses Problem

Shorter Working Hours Will Be Cause, Declares Recreational Expert

CHICAGO (INS) — An authority on recreational activities says shorter working hours will make the wholesome use of free time a major national problem.

John W. Fulton, executive vice president of the American Music Conference, said Americans already are "energetically pursuing leisure."

Reporting on various studies showing that the amount of money spent in recreational activities is rising faster than any other segment of American economy, he said:

"The country is changing from a society based on work to one based primarily on the utilization of leisure time. The American people, finding themselves with more leisure than working hours, and with money to spend enjoying them, have a problem that is new in mankind's history.

THEY'RE DETERMINED

The are determined to make use of their leisure time, but they are often at a loss in finding rewarding uses for it. They are energetically pursuing leisure."

* * *

The promised four-day week about 1965, he pointed out, will bring a "crisis" for many people unless they are prepared for a life in which leisure time is much more important than working time. Training for such conditions must begin now, Fulton said.

As a music industry executive, he suggested that music be taken up as leisure. He said there are more than 28,000,000 people in the country who play a musical instrument today.

"Music's ability to turn leisure into creativeness, beauty and self-expression," Fulton said, "is attracting many people who never before thought of learning to play. For them it is better late than never."

Albert Nitchie, 35, of Dearborn, was caught by two Oxford patrolmen and a citizen after a six-block chase across lots.

Escaping through the back door of a gas station he was rifling, Nitchie slogged through mud a foot deep, losing one shoe in the process.

He sped around the corner of a nearby house and ran into a fence post, shearing it off at ground level and injuring his face.

Arraigned yesterday before Oxford Justice Fred F. Stevens on breakin charges, Nitchie waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday. He failed to furnish bond of $1,000.

Refuses to Do Regular Show

Groaner Says Weekly Video Is Too Rough for 'Old Geezer' of 52

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Bing Crosby told us from Hollywood he thinks his TV spectacular "High Tor" (CBS-TV, Saturday), already completed on film, will be more to the public's TV taste.

"My first two were hurry-up jobs. 'High Tor' is a fine story and Maxwell Anderson and Arthur Schwartz added a very good musical score.

"I won't do a regular show under any circumstances, because I have too many other things going that need my time, such as movies—I'm making 'High Society' right now with Frank Sinatra, the Oscar boy, and her serene highness—and then there's my radio show, five a week (CBS) and a few other things like my family.

"TV on a regular basis is a little rough on an old geezer my age. I'm 52 you know, same as my old pal Frank Parker, and you know anyone Parker's age is getting right up there."

"That weekly stuff is for the new kids coming along. If TV came along, say, before I made 'College Humor' or back in my Whiteman days, probably I'd be on it more than Linkletter, but for now, I'll wait for each new good thing as it's offered.

"There's a new show, 'Benefit Performance,' I think might be my next one for TV. I've read the book and like it, and they're trying to lick it for TV. It's a murder mystery, like the ones Dick Powell does so well."

MILTIE TO FLY IN

Milton Berle, who's had trouble this season getting either laughs or a rating on a TV stage, tries to get both back on his next show, from Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada. He'll arrive on camera in a helicopter. One way of rising to his problems.

Johnny Carson is warming up in the CBS bullpen for an afternoon show next fall.

Mike Wallace gets "The Big Surprise" emcee job starting April 7 . . .

Barbara Britton, too busy to get home to North Hollywood, Calif., was elected honorary mayor of same . . .

Capt. Kangaroo is beating Garroway's "Today" in the 8 to 9 a.m. (EST) surveys.

CHAMP'S RACQUET

Ricky Nelson, Ozzie and Harriet's 15-year-old, is batting his tennis balls so niftily, Don Budge made him a gift of one of his championship racquets.

Hardy Burt's "Facts Forum" TV-radio panel will call it quits April 27.

Red Buttons is sinking his TV-gotten gains into Florida acreage . . .

Wendell Corey has never given a bad performance in our sight—stage, screen or TV . . .

Networks ride easily with automobiles, which pay for 32 per cent of TV commercials . . .

California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight now has his own TV show there . . .

Mark Stevens' TV firm will film Joan Davis' new series for ABC-TV . . .

"You Are There" took out a nice insurance policy—its insurance sponsor renewed the show through August, 1957.

Commission Canvasses Voting on 2 City Issues

The results of the two-issue special city election held in conjunction with Monday's primary were canvassed and made official last night by the City Commission.

The total vote was 10,341, which was called by City Clerk Ada R. Evans, one of the largest turn outs for a primary in recent years. The large number was probably the result of the added two issues, she added.

Official returns for the $600,000 municipal parking lot program were 7,468 for the issuance of the bonds and 2,540 against the issuance.

For the charter amendment for increased pay for members of the City Commission, 5,160 cast favorable ballots while 4,640 voted againste the pay hike.

The certificate of canvass now must be forwarded to the Oakland County Clerk certifying the canvass has been held.

Results of the primary balloting for candidates for nomination to the April 2 general election ballot were canvassed Tuesday and made official.

Results were: District 1—Dr. Roy V. Cooley, 768; Samuel J. Whiters, 432; David Simmons, 295; John B. Woodward, 192; and Andrew A. McCaskill, 116.

District 2—Philip E. Rowston, 812; Frank O'Brien, 408; and William G Spenece, 322.. District 4—Floyd P. Miles, 769; Norman R. Bolton, 436; Basil Toles, 109; and Louis H. Biles, 67.

Other official results were: District 7—Benjamin M. Gates, 353; Gilbert W. Long, 352; Robert Landry, 341; and Victor L. Smothers, 136.

Robert Landry yesterday filed a petition requesting a recount in District 7. It was announced this morning that the board, to be appointed today, will conduct the recount Monday afternoon at 1:30 in the City Clerk's office of the City Hall.

Two Lecturers Named for MSU Spring Term

EAST LANSING (AP) — The appointment of two well known scholars as visiting lecturers in the college of science and arts during the spring term was announced today at Michigan State University.

Sir Richard Livingstone, classical scholar from Oxford, England, will teach courses in "The Republic of Plato" and "Oedipus Rex." Dr. Arthur H. Compton, physicist and professor in natural philosophy at Washington University of St. Louis, will offer a seminar on "The Impact of Science on Man."

Both will also give one open lecture.
