Pontiac Voters Still Awaiting Hospital Start

What is happening at the Pontiac City Hospital?

Approximately a year and a half ago the taxpayers voted a three million dollar bond issue for needed additions.

The voters were assured the addition was desperately needed and needed immediately.

Not a brick has been laid.

What's wrong?

Taxpayers are asking The Press frequently.

We don't know.

Anyway, we have dug up a list of the futile activities which have taken place thus far with their dates.

As a General Motors official pointed out to us yesterday (and GM pays more than half the three million dollars in taxes), costs are slowly moving upward.

Mr. Babcock, you are chairman of the hospital board. We will be happy to assign you and the board this space Monday for an explanation of a year and a half's delay.

1. Nov. 2, 1954—Voters approved $3,000,000 bond issue for addition by 9,689 to 5,908 which was more than the 60 per cent of majority needed.

★ ★ ★ ★

2. At the time of the vote, Chairman Maybury said the plans drawn up by Leo J. Heenan March 20, 1945 for the addition were too expensive and that they were "going to start from scratch and also get a new architect." They estimated the old plans would cost around $4,000,000. City Manager Willman said at this time also that construction would begin early in 1955. Heenan supposedly received $24,000 for the 1945 plans.

★ ★ ★ ★

3. Nov. 19, 1954—City Attorney Ewart assigned task of determining if Heenan's nine-year-old contract was still in effect. Board assigned him.

★ ★ ★ ★

4. Nov. 23, 1954—By resolution of the City Commission, old contract of Heenan's canceled and new contract authorized to be drawn up assigning him as architect. This same resolution called for hiring of consultant. Press account said hospital board didn't hear of resolution until Jan. 23, 1955.

Why?

★ ★ ★ ★

Chairman Maybury said Heenan was to wait until consultant was hired before beginning new plans or revising old plans. Board desired change in resolution giving city power to hire consultant and not Heenan.

★ ★ ★ ★

5. Feb. 11, 1955—City Commission, by resolution, authorized the engagement of consultant to work with Heenan upon the recommendation of board and at a fee of not more than $20,000 of which not more than $6,200 would be subtracted from Heenan's architectural fee.

★ ★ ★ ★

6. Feb. 19, 1955—Adolph H. Roessling hired as consultant.

7. March 3, 1955—Architects given the "green light" to go ahead and proceed with preliminary plans. Five months have now gone by with no action. At this time the following timetable was set:

a. Architects said construction of the wing will not be completed for about 31 months.

b. Two weeks later tentative plans were supposed to be returned.

c. Supposed to have preliminary plans done in eight weeks.

d. Eight months later, according to architect, finished plans should be ready for bids.

e. Six to eight weeks was contemplated for bid submission and construction to start 30 days after contracts were let.

f. Construction to take 18 months.

8. June 16, 1955—Board set Sept. 1 as deadline for completed plans.

★ ★ ★ ★

9. Aug. 30, 1955 — City Commission approved preliminary plans and urged "the advancement of project to the construction stage as rapidly as possible."

★ ★ ★ ★

10. Heenan asserted around Sept. 30 that "there have been no delays and that drawings aren't made in a day." Heenan's son, George, who was assisting him, said three sets of plans had been drawn up since his father was awarded contract.

★ ★ ★ ★

11. Oct. 14, 1955 — May 1, 1956 set as tentative date of construction with the blueprints to be completed May 1, 1956. Nearly one solid year has now gone by with no sign of work on the hospital.

★ ★ ★ ★

12. Feb. 14, 1956—City Commission approved final plans with bids to be received April 19 upon the recom-

Israel Charges Another Attack by the Egyptians

46 Deaths Caused by Fight Yesterday Near Gaza Strip

JERUSALEM (INS)—An Israeli military spokesman announced the Egyptians had opened fire today on Israeli positions near the Gaza Strip.

He said the shooting began at 8 a.m. near Kissufim, one of the towns shelled in yesterday's 10-hour battle that took 46 lives.

The new outbreak ended a cease-fire that had been arranged last night at 6 o'clock by United Nations officials.

Egypt claimed that 42 Arab civilians were killed and 115 wounded yesterday in the series of artillery, mortar and machine gun battles.

The Israeli Press Division issued a statement which said:

"Today's firing by the Egyptians constitutes a flagrant breach of the cease-fire arrangements made only yesterday evening.

"It appears the Egyptians are determined to keep the situation at a boil.

"We are back again at the state of affairs of the last four months during which Egyptian dictator Nasser (President Gamal Abdel Nasser) persistently refused to instruct his troops to observe United Nations cease-fire orders."

Israel said four of her soldiers were killed and two civilians wounded in yesterday's fight. Egypt admitted nine of her soldiers were wounded.

Yesterday's fighting was described as the worst between Israelis and Egyptians since February 1955. It was the first time in more than two years that both sides had used heavy artillery.

Despite the dangerous outbreak, most observers believed there would be no war between Israel and the Arab states in the immediate future.

The new Gaza fighting began

Kyes to Receive Service Award From Air Force

Former Deputy Secretary of Defense, Roger M. Kyes will be given the Air Force's Exceptional Service Award at ceremonies to be held at the annual dinner meeting of the Aero Club of Michigan on April 23, it was announced by the Air Force today.

The highest Air Force civilian award will be presented by the Secretary of the Air Force, Donald A. Quarles.

It was during Kyes' tenure with the Department of Defense from 1953 to 1954 that the Air Force 137 wing authorization was adopted. He became known as an advocate of a strong Air Force to maintain national security. He returned to General Motors in 1954 in his present post as vice president and a director. The Kyes' make their home in Bloomfield Hills.

Sun Brightens Play at Masters Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The sun played peek-a-boo through threatening clouds today as the talented masters field started chasing amateur Ken Venturi, the first round leader.

A 23-mile per hour wind, with gusts up to 32 m.p.h., swept the Augusta national course.

Less than half the field had teed off at noon. Jerry Barber, whose 71 made him one of the 10 who broke par yesterday, played the first nine in par 36 today.

Brunette Smashes 4-Year Tradition by Capturing Boys Club Queen Title

By PETE LOCHBILER

A smile full of mischief, framed by tossing brown ringlets and a set of deep dimples, last night broke a four-year tradition at the Pontiac Boys Club and paved the comeback trail for an ecstatic five-year-old.

Little Donna May Carr proved that gentlemen of any age prefer a brunette, however young, when irresistable charm is attached.

Donna won in a field of 35 in the annual crowning of the Boys Club Queen, an event limited to fair relatives under the age of six.

It was the first time in five years that a blonde wasn't chosen.

A heart-winner even in the initial parade, Donna was entered by her brother, Earl "Butch" Jr., an 11-year-old club member who was the first to claim a kiss of congratulation. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Carr Sr., of 54 N. Jessie St.

Mother attended the contest while father was working at Pontiac Motor Division, and took the victor home to receive acclaim from three sisters, and another brother, 3. Bonnie, 12, was baby sitting with Juday, 9; Carolyn, 8, and little Sammy. Fingers were crossed.

As a contestant last year, Donna was the victim of stage fright and nervous exhaustion. Donna was sick, after a week's excitement over the contest.

Not so last night. Mrs. Carr didn't reveal the contest until 3 p.m., and even then pretended it would occur the next day. Not until settled in the car on the way to the club did Donna learn the truth.

On stage, her smile was exhilarated but natural, her poise at a peak. Hearts melted without restraint.

The new queen stands three feet eight and weighs 38 pounds. She has hazel eyes and wore a light blue dress flounced over a hoop skirt. There were flowers at her wrist and lace on her dress.

She was crowned by executive director William V. Coulacos, as boys' cheers subsided into that silly look saved for little sisters. The victor told her brother, "Now I can come to the Boys Club anytime I want to, can't I."

Donna won a doll and immediately loved it. She named it "Jewel," after the pretty stones set in her tiny golden crown.

TO THE VICTOR — A crown, a ribbon, and a big kiss from her brother, "Butch," were won by Donna May Carr, 5, who was crowned Miss Pontiac Boys Club in a contest last night. The little brunette also was presented a doll.

Pontiac Prediction: Showers, Storms

The predicted high for tomorrow will be 53-57 degrees.

Sunday and Monday will be somewhat warmer, but Tuesday will be cooler.

The thermometer will register a low tonight of 40-44 degrees. The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 37 degrees. The mercury rose to 66 at 2 p.m.

Members of County 4-H to Hold Achievement Day

Approximately 1,800 county youths will take part in tomorrow's 4-H Spring Achievement Day at Lincoln Junior High School.

The all day exhibition will show woodworking, plastic and ceramic handicraft, food preparation, clothing, conservation practices, health and safety and many other displays.

The displays were created by 4-H members throughout the county for achievement day.

Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4-H Club agent, has announced times of various events scheduled tomorrow:

Judging of displays will begin at 9; leaders meeting, 1 p.m.; open to public, 1:30 p.m.; model business meeting contest, 2:30; achievement booth interviews, 3; and the evening program will begin at 8 o'clock.

The evening program will feature a Dress Revue Style Show with 4-H girls participating. The girls will model clothing they have made.

The 10 best garments will be chosen on basis of quality of the work and suitability of color.

Winners will represent Oakland County in statewide competition held during 4-H Club Week at Michigan State University in July. The best of the other exhibits will also be chosen to be exhibited in the state show competition, Worthington said.

Superintendents of the various exhibits include Mrs. Eula Abbey, Mrs. Marjorie Booth, Mrs. Alfred Smithling, Mrs. Emiel Bouckaert, Dan Abbey, Mrs. R. H. Dudley, Mrs. Emerson Terry, Keith Middleton, Mrs. Stanley Kipp, Suzanne Schulte, Stuart Hutchins and Mrs. John Lessiter.

Detroit Poet Eddie Guest Suffers Heart Attack

Dag Flies Today to Middle East

Plans Urgent Action to Prevent Arab-Israeli All-Out War

FROM AP AND INS WIRES

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —Dag Hammarskjold flies to the Middle East today in the face of growing urgency for U. N. action to prevent current Arab-Israeli clashes from turning into all-out war.

DAG HAMMARSKJOLD

The Secretary General is scheduled to leave at 5 p.m. (EST) on the first leg of his peace mission to capitals in the strife-torn area.

In Washington, President Eisenhower confers with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today in the wake of the furious new clash between Egypt and Israel along the Gaza strip.

Presumably the fresh Middle East explosion will be high on the agenda.

Hammarskjold will confer in Rome with high U. N. officials, including Palestine Truce Chief Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, before continuing on to the Arab states and Israel.

The Secretary General called on all sides in the dispute — Arabs, Israelis, the western powers and Russia — for "restraint" pending conclusion of his 30-day fact-finding survey.

In his dual capacity as peace emissary of the Security Council and secretary general, Hammarskjold is empowered to carry his investigations to any part or spot in the troubled area.

Thus, he may decide to make a personal visit to the blood-soaked Gaza strip and make certain that both Arabs and Israelis are complying with the latest cease-fire agreement arranged by Burns.

The U. N. chief's itinerary will include talks with government leaders in Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel.

Lack of Major Achievements Marks Conclave

Important Measures, Proposals by Williams Snubbed by Solons

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature today sputtered toward the end of its 1956 session, a session comparatively short on major battles or major accomplishments.

Veteran lawmakers agreed by all standards it was one of the dullest stints of lawmaking in years—a polite, parliamentary tea party compared to the turbulent sessions of last year.

In the waning hours of the session, many of the major items remained unsettled.

These included a 220 million dollar school aid bill, a measure converting Wayne University into a state university, a bill stepping up training for psychiatrists to staff state institutions and major appropriation bills, including a 25 million dollar capital improvement bill and airport improvement funds.

The dispute over the school aid bill revolved around the distribution of funds between "rich" and "poor" districts.

Gov. Williams' introductory message to the Legislature on Jan. 12 had legislative leaders expecting another of the 1955 free-for-alls, full of political thunder.

The governor's program, the most ambitious, sweeping in his eight years of office, charged the lawmakers to prepare Michigan for a future "so vast, almost so incalculable as to challenge credulity."

WASHED DOWN DRAIN

Three months later, most of his program had been washed down the drain.

Political observers said it was the approach of the November election which shifted the business of lawmaking into low gear.

In money matters, the governor came out of the session with less than he sought but fared better than he had in previous years.

4 Gunmen Rob Bank at Flint

Area Police Assisting in Hunt for Bandits Who Got $75,000

Pontiac area police have been alerted for four gunmen who held up the East Side branch of the Citizens' Bank of Flint shortly before noon today, escaping with an estimated $75,000.

Bank officials said the loot might run heavier because the bank had an unusually heavy amount of money on hand today since it is payday in many businesses.

There was no shooting as the four bandits, wearing stocking masks, took less than five minutes for the robbery. Two of them stood guard at the door of the bank as the other two climbed over a teller's cage and began stuffing the money into a bag.

The robbery was staged less than four hours after Joseph Posey of Cleveland, a suspected bank robber, broke loose from the Flint City Jail but State Police expressed doubt that Posey was involved in today's robbery.

Police roadblocks were set up locally, and at Bridgeport, Bay City and Lansing while sheriffs of neighboring counties also joined in efforts to trap the gunmen.

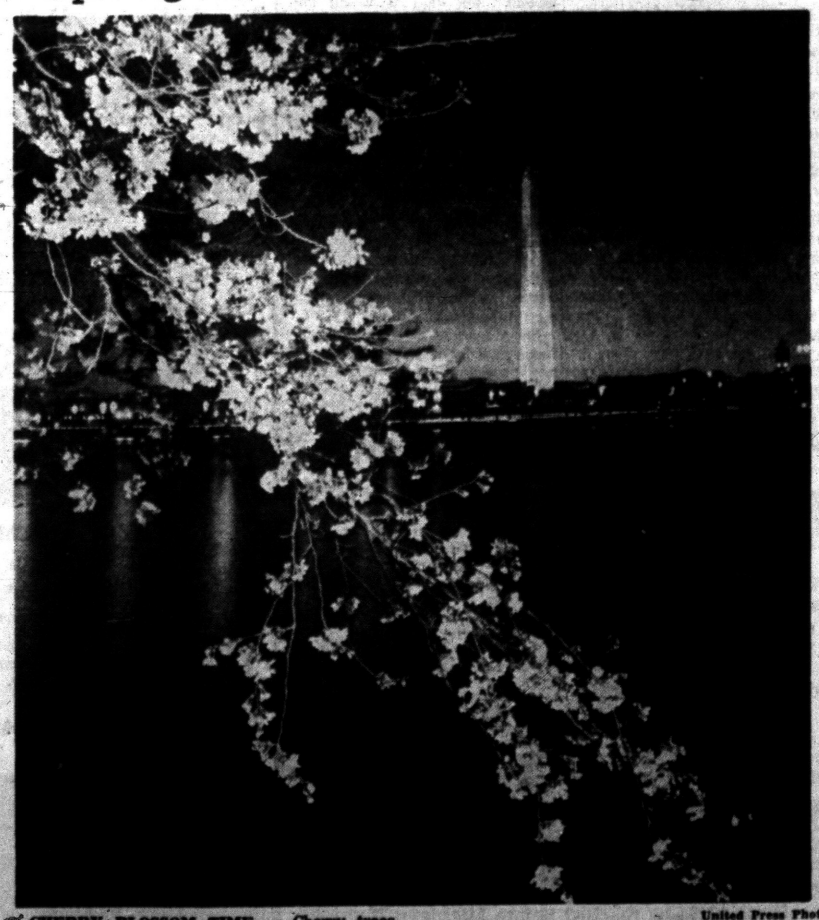

Flint police recovered the getaway car a mile from the branch bank. It was stolen earlier from a plant parking lot. Witnesses said they saw three or four men get into a light colored late model sedan.

The robbery occurred less than four hours after Joseph Posey of Cleveland, a suspected bank robber, broke loose from the Flint City Jail but police expressed doubt that Posey was involved.

Canvass Results of City Election

Error of Ten Votes in Charter Balloting Only Change

The 1954-56 City Commission met last night to canvass the results of Monday's general election.

The only change resulting from the canvass was the addition of five votes to both the "for" and "against" vote of the charter amendment voted on Monday.

The official tally for the amendment was 6,453 for and 1,647 against.

No change resulted in any of the votes for seven city commissioners and these returns will be certified as official to the county by City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

The new commission, composed of all incumbents except newly-elected District 7 Commissioner Gilbert W. Long, will have an organization meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. The mayor and mayor pro-tem will be elected at this time.

Legislators Near End of Dull '56 Session

cal year 1956-57, it appeared, would total better than 325 million dollars. Williams asked for 339 million, an increase over 1955-56 of nearly 60 million.

The lawmakers defeated the governor's proposal for an Atomic Energy Commission to promote, control and study the peaceful use of nuclear power.

It killed his plan for a new state commission to study problems of automation at a cost of $100,000 a year.

And his proposal to pay the travel expenses of unemployed workers moving to areas where they can get jobs never saw the light of day.

But some of Williams' less spectacular ideas received better treatment.

The Republican-dominated Legislature passed his proposal for establishment of development credit corporations to facilitate loans to small businesses and industries which can't get them through normal channels.

It okayed a 20 per cent increase in operating funds for state colleges and universities.

It chopped his request to improve state parks from three million dollars to one and one half million dollars, but that was nearly twice the amount it appropriated for the same purpose last year.

The lawmakers increased maximum payments of state old age benefits from $70 to $80, and from $80 to $90 for hositalized patents.

For the most part, the fate of Williams' proposals was decided in the House, where proposals to hike unemployment compensation and set up new state agencies withered on the committee vines.

As the session drew to a close, leaders of the upper chamber charged that backers of the pension plan on the House Ways and Means Committee delayed action on other critical issues in an attempt to force Senate passage of their pension bill.

Auditor Charges Forms Missing

Sheriff Irons Answers License Applications Are Accounted For

State Auditor General Victor M. Targonski charged today there are 184 driver's license applications missing from the files of Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons.

Sheriff Irons said there are no applications missing.

Targonski originally said Wednesday there were 5,184 applications missing. Irons said at that time they were all in his office.

Targonski said today 4,000 forms "turned up without any reasonable explanation" in Irons' office. Irons said they were there all the time, and that Targonski's investigators "didn't know where to look for them."

Targonski said another 1,000 "turned up" at the Royal Oak Township office, the only township office in the county authorized to issue licenses. He said there is no record of their transfer from Irons' office.

Irons said he told Targonski the forms had been sent to the township office.

Targonski uncovered the alleged losses in an investigation following the resigation of policewoman Barbar Riely, who says admitted delying transmission of completed forms and pocketing at least $55.

The auditor general said today Miss Riley had refunded proceeds from 19 application forms, but that investigation has revealed that not all of the 19 were processed by her.

Targonski said he "hopes" that some citizens of the county may turn up with temporary driver's permits older than 30 days. This, he says, would indicate that forms were "lost" after completion, and that between $276 and $552 was missing.

"If the citizens come forward, it will open the way to legal action," he said.

Israel Charging New Egypt Attack

two days ago, when three Israeli soldiers and an Egyptian were killed.

The fighting was renewed yesterday and today with both sides charging the other with aggression.

The Egyptians charged the Israelis with shelling three Gaza Strip towns crowded with Arab refugees from Israel. A spokesman in Cairo said three Israeli towns were shelled in retaliation.

Israel claimed the fighting broke out when the Egyptians twice crossed the border to attack Israeli patrols. Egypt said Israeli units first opened fire on Egyptian positions.

Reports of Ambassadors May Soothe Mideast Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials looked today to in-person reports from two U. S. ambassadors for help in evolving a "capacity to spend wisely" in a foreign aid struggle with Russia.

The announcement yesterday that they are coming here for consultations expected to last a week to 10 days was a signal that a general review of U. S. policy toward Russia and the Middle East was in the making.

As regards foreign aid, these are understood to be the prime questions their first-hand reports are expected to help answer:

1. Can the Soviet bloc deliver on its profuse and generous offers of grants and easy-pay loans to underdeveloped countries?

2. Are these underdeveloped countries likely to grab for the Communists' promises in preference to those of the United States, with a decade of foreign aid spending on the record?

2 Persons Hit by Automobiles

Pontiac Youngster, 4, Waterford Girl, 19, Struck Down

A city boy, 4, struck by his father's car, and a Waterford Township girl, 19, injured in another traffic accident, were admitted for treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at noon today.

Hospital authorities have not determined the extent of injuries suffered by Rickey V. Grimes, 670 Cortwright St. and by Donna G. Spurbeck, of 4852 Mary Sue St.

According to Orval J. Grimes, 25, of the Cortwright address, the boy dashed out in front of his car as Grimes pulled away from his mother's home on Colgate avenue near University avenue, Pontiac police said.

The girl was injured running across the corner of Sashabaw road and Walton boulevard, according to township police. It is still not determined whether she dashed into the side of the car driven by William R. Walls, 17, of 666 Second Ave., or whether Walls' car struck her, police added.

Delay in Selling Parking Bonds Hits Construction

The sale of $600,000 worth of revenue bonds to construct the off-street parking program approved by voters in March, has been scheduled for May 1, City Manager Walter K. Willman said today.

A correction in the notice of sale of the bonds has caused the delay in the program. Originally, the construction on the lots was to begin in late April.

After the sale, Willman said, the money should be available in three to four weeks, after which the property can be acquired by the city and construction can begin.

He said negotiations are continuing for the property the city requires for the program.

Education Board Gives Budget OK

The County Board of Education yesterday approved the Special Education budget for the 1956-57 school year.

The $1,990,000 budget will cover expansion of certain facilities and the hiring of 78 additional teachers throughout the county.

This number includes 25 new visitation teachers, one new home bound teacher, 14 new speech correctionists, two new teachers of the blind, two new teachers of the deaf, 27 new teachers of mentally handicapped and seven new teachers of the crippled.

This budget also makes plans for the construction of 35 classrooms.

Kenneth Brown, deputy county superintendent of schools, reports that the county board in other action authorized an investment schedule. "If and when the school board has money over and above their operating expenses, they will invest through a county agency," Brown said.

Board members discussed the salary schedule for the next school year but took no action on it. Members requested more information from local districts before they make a decision.

In other action, the county board authorized the purchase of an all risk insurance policy for equipment being transported by county personnel.

Evangelist Preacher Dies in Seattle

The Rev. J. S. Woods, a citizen of Pontiac for 32 years, died in Seattle, Wash., Sunday.

REV. WOODS

He was born in Bonnyville, Ky., June 6, 1880, the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. Shelby Woods, and married here to his wife, Mary.

The Rev. Mr. Woods was an evangelist and traveled throughout the country preaching.

Of his 16 children, nine survive, Victor, Lawrence, Aumon and Velgreet, all of Pontiac; Mrs. Margaret Longua of Detroit, Plate of Pittsburgh, Pa., Esmo of Nashville, Tenn., and three grandchildren.

Michigan's Baby Crop Hits New High in '55

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's baby crop hit a new high last year, the State Health Department reported today.

There were 195,999 births reported in Michigan in 1955, 3,895 more than the total of 192,104 in 1954.

Would Sell Citizenry Before Fluoridation

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan public health official says a thorough community survey of attitudes should be made, before trying to sell fluoridation of city water to the citizenry.

Dr. Charles A. Metzner told 65 dental public health officers yesterday that this would avoid much of the adverse publicity to fluoridation proposals.

"The effectiveness and safety of fluoridation is not the question. In addition to endorsement by professional groups, the surgeon-general of the United States has stated that no other water usage program has been so thoroughly tested," he stated.

The survey should include, Metzner said, what are the attitudes and where and what is the opposition toward fluoridation.

"A survey to secure an objective understanding of the public's reaction to fluoridation is long overdue," he said. He spoke before the fourth workshop for public health dentists.

ROBERT W. EMERICK

Fund Organizes Advisory Group

Name Nine to Advise UF on Public Relations in Pontiac Area

Formation of a Pontiac Area United Fund public relations advisory committee was announced today by UF President William B. Hartman.

The new committee will advise the United Fund in the development of its year-around program of public education and information.

Hartman has appointed Robert W. Emerick, public relations director of the Pontiac Motor Division, chairman of the new committee. Emerick served as chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund's campaign publicity committee during last fall's campaign.

Named as committee members were Bernard W. Crandell, public relations director of General Motors Truck and Coach Division; John Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press; Fred Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, and John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Others are Larry Payne, of radio station WPON; Ray Ulseth, of the Walker Sign Co.; John Vivian, of MacManus, John & Adams; and Miss Mary Ellen Wyngarden, executive director of the Camp Fire Girls, Pontiac Council.

The public relations advisory committee will be responsible directly to the Board of Trustees of the Pontiac Area United Fund. It will hold its first meeting at noon Monday in the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Gotham Hunting Riesel Attacker

All-Out Search Joined by FBI and Long Island Authorities for Thug

NEW YORK (INS)—An all-out drive to track down the thug who threw blinding sulfuric acid into the face of crusading labor columnist Victor Riesel was pressed on three fronts today.

The FBI, New York Police and Nassau and Suffolk county authorities joined the hunt for the man who partially blinded Riesel hours after he had made a radio broadcast blasting labor racketeering on Long Island.

One eye specialist said the condition of Riesel's eyes was "quite serious" but that it would take about a week before final determination of the damage could be made.

Meanwhile, as outraged news organizations posted $14,000 in rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the assault, the main witness was placed in "protective custody."

Betty Nevins, 23, of Englewood, N. J., who was with Riesel when he was assaulted early yesterday near a Broadway restaurant, was questioned at length last night and then taken into hiding.

Labor leaders and racket figures mentioned by Riesel in recent columns and broadcasts were expected to be interrogated.

13. Feb. 23, 1956—Four go to Lansing to appeal for federal aid.

14. March 2, 1956—Request for federal aid denied because "the priority of Pontiac Hospital area was not high enough to receive a grant for assistance."

15. March 13, 1956—City Commission approved the issuance of $2,900,000 worth of general obligation bonds. ($100,000 in bonds made void because retirement date was expected to be reached before Michigan Municipal Finance Commission gives its approval of issuance of bonds. This was compensated for by funds set aside in 1955 budget according to city manager.)

The Day in Birmingham

Special School Meeting to Review Final Plans

BIRMINGHAM — Final plans for three building projects and sketches for another will be studied at a special Board of Education meeting called for next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The meeting, according to Ernest W. Seaholm, Board of Education president, will be at 8 p. m. in the board room at Hill School.

Peter Tarapata of Eberle M. Smith Associates, Detroit architectural firm, will go over details of the final plans for the elementary school on Greenfield at 13 Mile road, the swimming pool at Birmingham High School, and the Walnut Lake school addition.

He will present the preliminary sketches for Valley Woods School, planned for the Lahser and 14 Mile road site.

Other business will include reviewing and acting on bids for laboratory equipment for Barnum Junior High School.

Paving the street beside the YMCA will cost about $1,800, and women of the "Y" have taken up the financial problem not covered in the operating budget.

They plan a benefit dessert bridge party to be held in sessions at 1 and 8 p.m. on April 16 and at 1 p.m. on April 18. Planning the three-way event are Mrs. Charles Richards and Mrs. Charles Thurston and their committees.

Girls of the Troy Tri-Hi-Y Club attending the state conference at Battle Creek on April 13 and 14 are planning to share in discussion of segregation, moral standards on dates, and future education for women. Edwin F. Kirbert of the local Y will lead one panel.

Young people and adults here are being invited to join the "Y" tour to Washington, D. C., May 3-6. Details of the airborne trip may be secured at the Y.

Mrs. Bertha Shattuck Blair

Service for Mrs. Bertha Shattuck Blair, 84, who died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Orrin F. Pearson, 951 Mohegan, will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial arrangements are incomplete.

A resident here for 15 years, she was a member of St. James Episcopal Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. John W. Haley of Madison, Wis., a son, Donald, of Webster Groves, Mo., 7 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Karl Brenkert

Funeral arrangements for Karl Brenkert, 63, of 1147 Hillside, are pending at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. He died suddenly today.

Born in Detroit, he lived in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills for 15 years. Former president of Brenkert Light Projection Co. of Detroit, he became president of the Brenkert Division of the RCA Corporation when it purchased his firm. He retired in 1950.

Surviving are his son, Karl Jr., a University of Alabama professor; a daughter, Mrs. Paul T. Tiefel of Birmingham; five grandchildren, two brothers, Neal of Grosse Pointe, and Wayne of Royal Oak, three sisters, Mrs. Robert Weir, and the Misses Bertha and Grace, all of Detroit.

Funeral is tentatively planned for Monday.

Smelt Catches Made on St. Clair River

Good catches of smelt are being made from the St. Clair river just south of Port Huron.

A big run is expected in about two weeks as streams father north have shown no signs of smelt.

Elderly Couple Hurt in Bloomfield Crash

A Cass Lake couple, both 74, was hospitalized last night for injuries suffered in a two-car accident at a West Bloomfield Township intersection.

Frank Zirnsack, 5405 Recreation Ct., and his wife, Leopoldine, are reported in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital. Each received concussions and cuts, authorities said, and Mrs. Zirnsack also suffered a fractured rib.

The other driver, John Weber, 20, of Walled Lake, was released after treatment for scalp lacerations.

Zirnsack told township police he was going east on W. Maple road and started to cross Orchard Lake road with the green light when his car was hit by Weber's auto going north on Orchard Lake.

Millions of U.S. Citizens Rely on Government Relief

WASHINGTON (INS) — Official statistics showed today that in a period of unparalleled prosperity millions of Americans are dependent on government relief.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that nearly six million persons—its figure is 5,843,912—in the U. S. are receiving aid from the federal government.

This total does not include the 7,900,000 drawing benefits from social security, old age and survivors' insurance program. These payments are considered a pension rather than relief doles.

LETTERS REVEAL HUNGER

Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan (D-Mo), commenting on the persons dependent on direct federal aid, said "many of them are actually hungry." She added that letters she received from some "tear at your heart."

* * *

The congresswoman declared the U. S. is distributing more food to the needy overseas than it is to its own citizens.

She said: "There is no reason for anyone to go hungry . . . let us end it once and for all."

Mrs. Sullivan is sponsoring a food stamp plan under which the Agriculture Department would distribute surplus foods directly to individuals rather than through state or local agencies.

WELFARE DEPT. FIGURES:

The Welfare Department gave this break down on recipients of government aid: Elderly persons, 2,552,832; mothers with dependent children, 2,193,215; blind persons, 104,858; permanently and totally disabled, 244,007; those on general assistance, 740,000.

Rep. Craig Hosmer (R-Calif), added that more than two and one-half million "needy individuals" received free food regularly last year from the government's vast surplus holdings. Hosmer said the food included dry beans, butter, cheese, dried milk, shortening, rice, prunes, sweet potatoes, flour, corn meal and meat.

The Californian added that another one million in charitable institutions and 100,000 Indians also benefited from this program.

37 STATES RECEIVING AID

Mrs. Sullivan told a Senate committee recently the Agriculture Department is distributing free food in 37 states. The number of recipients range from 462 in Wyoming to a high of 877,512 in Pennsylvania. She said that in her state of Missouri, there are 173,000 on the welfare rolls.

The congresswoman stressed that there are many others in need who do not receive any help from either state or federal governments.

In Missouri, during 1954 Mrs. Sullivan said, "many persons who were quite destitute" failed to qualify for help because they are not eligible if employable, even if they cannot find work.

Peiping Greets Arrival of Red Deputy Premier

Expand Ore Fields

STOCKHOLM—A sizable expansion and modernization program has just been completed at the ore fields in the porthern part of the province of Lapland, which account for about one tenth of the value of Sweden's exports of iron ore. About three quarters of the Lapland ore is eshipped from the port of Narvik, Norway, which is always free of ice.

Financial Executives to Gather at U. of M.

Two hundred executives of finance institutions and other interested persons will meet Sunday through Tuesday at the University of Michigan to exchange ideas about the national economy.

Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. will be a registration period followed by an informal buffet dinner at the Michigan Union. Sessions will begin Monday (April 9) at 2:30 a.m. in the Rackham Amphitheater.

At 3:30 p.m. a panel will consider "Implications for Business."

On Tuesday the morning session, beginning at 9 a.m. will be devoted to discussion of "Monetary Policy and Consumer Credit" and "Institutional Credit Restraints." At 10:45 p.m. Jessie V. Coles, head, Department of Home Economics, University of California, will talk on "A Home Economist's view of Consumer Credit and the American Family."

State and national sponsors of the meeting represent credit bureaus, sales finance companies, banking, credit unions, consumer finance companies, retailing, manufacturing and education.

There are still some 800 master thatchers working in Britain, mostly in the southern counties and East Anglia.

Detroit Neighbors Win Out in Battle Against Indian Policeman and Family

DETROIT (AP)—The white people on Robson street won a battle against John W. Rouse, 70, and his family — a wife, a daughter and two small grandchildren.

Rouse agreed last night after a near race riot to sell his home and leave the pleasant, normally quiet street in northwest Detroit and move elsewhere.

The rumor in the all-white neighborhood which set off the racial demonstration was that Rouse was a Negro.

Rouse, a retired private policeman, said the rumors were false. "We are not Negroes," he said."

Settlement was announced after a meeting between Rouse and members of the neighborhood association, known as the Belmont Subdivision Association.

Detective Sgt. Thomas Jickerson and Detective Ed Boggs of the Special Investigation Bureau, which handles all racial matters, said they had attempted to trace the rumor which set off the demonstration.

"As near as we can determine," said Boggs, "it started with the movers. One of the workmen moving furniture into the house told a boy, 'you ought to tell your folks there is a Negro moving sin? It lice dispersed the crowd and apparently started from there."

The mob of some 500 people which assembled before the Rouse house Wednesday night hurled bricks through two windows. Posted a guard around the modest brick home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rouse and their daughter, Mrs. Merle Evelyn Hickman, who is separated from her husband, were buying the house jointly. The original price was $16,500. Rouse has two months in which to move.

Rouse said he was part Cherokee Indian and that his wife was of Scotch Irish and French-Canadian ancestry. They moved into the neighborhood from a white-Negro neighborhood some distance away.

Young Republicans Form District Club

Formation of an 18th Congressional District Young Republican Club was announced yesterday by County GOP Chairman Chad Ritchie. Edward Lawrence of Madison Heights will be chairman of the group.

The club's purpose, Ritchie said, will be to work in the coming elections for federal, state and county offices, and to provide social activities.

Election work will be coordinated with activities of other Republican organizations in the county.

Officers of the club are Betty Ellis of Birmingham, vice-chairman; Helen Lawrence of Madison Heights, recording secretary; Dorothy Randall of Huntington Woods, corresponding secretary; and Edward Williams of Ferndale, treasurer.

Ferguson Takes Oath for Judge Post Monday

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former Michigan Sen. Homer Ferguson will be sworn in as a judge of the U. S. Court of Military Appeals Monday in Washington.

Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren will administer the oath.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson arrived in New York yesterday from Manila where the former senator was serving as ambassador to the Philippine government.

State Bus Companies Seek Rider Fare Hike

LANSING (AP)—A hearing will be held April 23 by the State Public Service Commission on a request by several Michigan bus companies for an approximate six per cent passenger fare increase.

Indian Trails, Inc., and Valley Coach Lines, Inc., are asking for the fare hike effective May 1. Indian Trails serves most of the Lower Peninsula and Valley Coach Lines serves the Flint and lower Thumb area.

Great Lakes Greyhound Bus Lines, Inc., also is expected to ask for a similar passenger fare increase.

Hammarskjold Asked to Seek Mideast Peace

Top international news of the week is the action of the United Nations Security Council in asking Secretary General HAMMARSKJOLD to undertake a peace mission to the Middle East.

That action was based on a resolution submitted by U. S. Asbassador LODGE some days ago. As forecast at that time, the resolution not only had the support of Britain and France, but of Soviet Russia. The final vote, however, was delayed by the request of Arab countries for clarification of the resolution.

Also, as promised, Mr. HAMMARSKJOLD immediately after the Security Council's unanimous vote, began preparing for his trip. As set forth in the resolution, he is authorized to arrange with leaders of Arab States and Israel "for adoption of any measures which he considers would reduce existing tensions."

Mr. Hammarskjold's mission has taken on new urgency within the last few days and hours. Another series of incidents culminating in a four hour border artillery battle and two clashes in the Gaza strip has increased Arab-Israel tension to the breaking point.

Difficult though the situation is, there should be room for hope that the Secretary General will be able to get the opposing factions to listen to reason. There will be hope if the Arab and Israeli leaders heed his counsel to remain calm.

For New Home Ideas Visit Builders Show

Beyond all question this week's top rating as a local attraction is the third annual Home and Builders Show in Pontiac Armory.

There, again under Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsorship, more than 40 companies have arranged attractive displays of their products and services. No matter in what direction your interests lie, you will find many things to attract your attention at this five-day event.

Among highlights of the show are a modern house trailer and a seven-foot model home. Besides electric space heaters, there also will be that surprising device known as a heat pump which can heat without fuel and cool without using water. Other displays include everything for the home from the lumber needed for building to furniture and interior decorating.

Take time to see the show at the Armory on Water Street. You'll not only enjoy it but get a lot of new ideas on home building and improvements.

Greedy Whaler Punished

To a West German court belongs credit for confiscating the $2,000,000 cargo of a whaling ship owned by ARISTOTLE ONASSIS, the Greek shipping magnate.

The vessel, Olympic Sun, and its cargo were confiscated at Hamburg. According to the Norwegian government, ONASSIS, during the past season had violated all of the rules governing international whaling.

In contrast, the 21 signatories to the world whaling agreement make every effort to observe the regulations. If they didn't, it would not be long before these great mammals would be as extinct as the dodo. Whaling today has little in common with that industry in the last century.

Now it is a scientifically operated industry using radar, sonar, helicopters, diesel chaser boats, harpoons fired from guns and huge factory ships. That is why international agreement is so important and why it is good to learn that a violator of it has been made to pay a heavy penalty.

Brazil's Blow at Autos

In its desperate attempt to save foreign exchange, the government of Brazil has evolved what appears to be a sure fire way of stopping the importation of automobiles.

The device adopted was revision of the old law covering the storage of automobiles on docks. Under it every imported car had to be stored for 30 days at a cost of about $35. As amended, the law ups the rate to $1.18 for every 2.2 pounds of car.

This means that the cost of storing a medium priced American car would approximate $3,500 for a month. After that tax is added to the original cost and freight, it is easy to see that from now on only a very few Brazilians will be riding in 1956 models.

In the interests of Brazil as well as of our own automotive industry we hope the condition which impelled this drastic action soon will right themselves. Any circumstances which choke off the normal flow of trade hurt everybody.

David Lawrence Asks:

Why Is Daily Worker Allowed to Print Subversive News and Flee Punishment?

WASHINGTON—For several days now the news dispatches have told about the troubles of the "Daily Worker" with the tax collectors of the federal government but nowhere has there appeared any explanation as to why a newspaper in New York City which is the official organ of the Communist party is permitted to to publish at all.

Inquiry here of government officials discloses that the subject has never been given the study that it deserves. Likewise, some officials seem to think that the "Daily Worker" has been permitted to publish largely as a gesture to prove that even unfriendly and dissenting publications can be issued in free America.

But the Supreme Court is on record in a historic decision declaring that the Constitution doesn't protect a newspaper engaged in propaganda hostile to the United States. The high court said in 1921:

"Freedom of the press may protect criticism and agitation for modification or repeal of laws, but it does not extend to protection of him who counsels and encourages the violation of the law as it exists. The Constitution was adopted to preserve our government, not to serve as a protecting screen for those who, while claiming its privileges, seeks to destroy it.

LOSES MAILING PRIVILEGES

"While written more adroitly than the usual pro-German propaganda of that time, they nevertheless prove clearly that the publisher of these articles was deliberately and persistently doing all in his power to deter his readers from supporting the war in which our government was engaged, and to induce them to lend aid and comfort to its enemies. The order of the postmaster general not only finds reasonable support in this record, but is amply justified by it."

Today a more specific power of law is directed at those who would carry on the work of the Communist party in this country. The Smith Act of 1940, under which about 16 convictions recently have been obtained by the Department of Justice, makes it a crime to teach or advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence of any kind or to disseminate any propaganda by means of printed matter or otherwise seeking the same purpose.

The statute says, moreover, that "it shall be unlawful for any persons . . . to organize or help to organize any society, group, or assembly of persons who teach, advocate, or encourage the overthrow or destruction of any government in the United States by force or violence; or to be or become a member of, or affiliate with, any such society, group, or assembly of persons, knowing the purposes thereof."

PARADOXICAL SITUATION

If, therefore, individuals may not engage in propaganda which is a part of the Communist apparatus, how can the "Daily Worker" maintain editors or staff writers or other employes when their chief occupation is to participate in the making of a propaganda that has often been described in court evidence as an essential part of the Communist party's work in America?

There are some who say America should permit the "Daily Worker" to continue in order to dramatize abroad the "free press" idea of the United States. But no group of Americans could get a reciprocal privilege to publish in Moscow a newspaper which day in and day out would sneer at, ridicule, denounce and attack the government in the Kremlin. Nor would any Americans be permitted even to travel where they pleased in Soviet Russia to gather news for such a newspaper.

If Moscow permitted a subversive operation directed by Americans to be conducted inside the Soviet Union, there might be some sense in agreeing to reciprocity. But, as it is, the personnel of the "Daily Worker" apparently can continue to be part of the Communist party's organized effort to destroy the foreign policy of the United States and give aid and comfort to the enemies of this country in the "Cold War" and yet escape any punishment whatsoever.

The big unanswered question today is: How does the "Daily Worker" get away with it while dozens of individuals are tried under the Smith Act for "teaching" and "advocating" measures designed to bring about the overthrow of the government of the United States?

Milk Is Best Food Source for Calcium Deficiencies

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Whenever calcium "deposits" occur in arteries, joints or other parts of the body it is as a consequence of disease—inflammation, infection, degeneration, injury or strain. If there is any scientific evidence that the deposit of calcium in any organ or tissue of the body is the cause of arteriosclerosis, hardening of the arteries, joint disability, arthritis, rheumatiz or other ailment, this statement of what I believe to be the truth should be challenged by a reputable physician or scientific investigator who thinks he or she knows better.

Now S.H.K., age 70, says her doctor ordered her to cut down on the amount of milk she drank—she was drinking two glasses a day—because she was getting too much calcium, as shown by her lame knees! (Punctuation is her own.)

Obviously the lady's doctor does not know that the body of a healthy person contains 2¼ pounds of calcium, over 99 per cent of it in the bones and teeth, a relatively small fraction of it in the nerves, muscles, organs and tissues (the blood is a tissue).

Obviously the doctor doesn't know that a healthy person needs not less than 12 to 15 grains of calcium daily to avoid manifestations of nutritional deficiency.

Milk is the best food source of calcium. Two glasses of milk a day would supply nearly two thirds of the calcium requirement, but the basic health diet, the pattern on which to build your own diet to suit your requirements, includes at least three glasses of milk daily, as well as other good sources of calcium, such as cheese, eggs, greens, nuts.

The bones become depleted of their store of calcium (1) in advancing age, (2) when a person is confined to bed for weeks or months, or (3) when for any reason a person does not get enough exercise, the equivalent of walking three to six miles daily. When the bones are depleted of calcium they are more likely to be broken by minor accidents. This is the scientifically determined truth.

Sunshine vitamin D is essential for good assimilation and utilization of calcium. D is one of the vitamins present in whole milk, cream or butter, but in order to get the minimum daily requirement of vitamin D from this source one would have to consume not less than 1½ pints of whole milk (3 glasses) or the cream or butter equivalent.

By exposure of as much skin as possible, short of scandal, to the ultraviolet of vertical mid - day mid - summer sunlight, one can manufacture enough vitamin D to maintain good metabolism.

All of this applies to the prevention of chronic joint disability, but, please, knucklehead, don't infer that I am suggesting a remedy or treatment for arthritis.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Questions Building Code, Health Laws for Pontiac

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Not too long ago I bought a house located in East Walton Heights. Recently the septic tank stopped working. We reported this to the builder and were told it would be fixed right away.

The builder's idea of "fixing" consisted of sending two men with a pump and length of hose, who pumped the contents of the septic tank out onto the front lawn! Imagine the odor and threat of disease caused by this.

What kind of health laws does Oakland County have? What kind of building code does Pontiac Township have that a builder is permitted to construct and sell a house as having a septic tank which stops working in less than a year with only two people?.

'Prosperity Is Golden Calf Worshiped by All People'

Business wears the cloak of respectability, as all the world admires the prosperity and all peoples try to copy its activity.

This temple where all the world worships is ever filled with those who see no better god to admire and serve. She who sits on that throne draws all flesh, for she is the desire of all men, for that which she has is what the world strives to attain by right or might, and she smiles at her lovers as they fight for her favors.

The price all pay is their very life, but none knows of it until it is too late, when, as slaves who have lost their usefulness, they are cast aside, that those who can serve better fill their place.

Thus is properity the golden calf, the idol around which people danced and made merry as the Law was given descended the mount and cast the tablets at his feet in despair and disgust, for he, too, was but human, trying to instruct the flesh and lead them out of ignorance into the light of reason.

Russian Anti-Stalin Drive May Disillusion Chinese

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Marshal Chu Teh, No. 2 Chinese Red, has returned home after a four-month trip to explain to his fellow revolutionaries what is going on inside Soviet Russia.

The marshal, who is vice chairman of the Chinese Communist government and its army commander, represented Peiping at the Soviet congress in Moscow where the debunking of dictator Stalin began.

Most Communist parties abroad dutifully sent their leaders to the congress. But "strong man" Mao Tse-tung sent his official deputy.

As early as last January there was speculation that Mao was ill or on vacation because Liu Shao-chi, No. 3 in the Peiping hierarchy, was given special powers to act as head of state in the absence of Mao. At that time Chu Teh was visiting East Germany.

Western observers will watch for any indication that the anti-Stalin campaign is causing repercussions in Red China. Mao always has rated as the No. 1 ruler in Peiping but officially there has been "collective leadership."

DOUBTS MAY GROW

Peiping can quietly discard some Stalinist economics and discreetly rewrite Soviet history as the Moscow historians are doing.

But one wonders how much longer Peiping will regard Moscow as the sole fount of doctrine under the impact of the anti-Stalin drive.

Peiping and Moscow are linked by obvious strategic, economic and political interests. This, in turn, calls for keeping in step ideologically against the Western world.

One difference between the Soviet and Chinese Communist parties is the emphasis that the Chinese put on doctrine. The Peiping Reds are imbued with a fanatic fervor in their criticism and self-criticism that is probably more intense than it ever was in the Soviet Union.

The Chinese Communist revolution is an infant in comparison with that of the Soviet Union. Peiping still has the Formosan and other problems to face in its "struggle."

HAILED CONGRESS

Peiping's "People's Daily" hailed the Moscow congress as one that charted "the road of struggle for the Soviet people in the coming months and years."

Kremlin leaders may be thinking more about steel than the doctrinal emphasis on "struggle," but for Peiping Reds "struggle" is applied to all things. Especially in a vast land where the Reds admit they have executed more than 7,000,000 people.

Moscow and Peiping may have some varying outlooks, but most observers do not expect a parting of the ways.

Soviet speakers at the Moscow congress paid enough attention to China to emphasize their continuing mutual interests.

Immorality Is Old as Time, So Don't Be Stampeded by 'Modern' Pressure

Parents who smoke or drink have no right to criticize modern youth for stampeding like sheep into immorality. If you adults let yourselves be intimidated by the advertising Goliath of liquor and tobacco, why blame your youth? We need more moral Davids in America and you parents should be rearing them!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-323: Judy, aged 21, is our only daughter, sandwiched midway between four brothers.

"Daddy, sometimes I wonder if you really know what modern young people are like," she began at the dinner table recently.

UP-TO-DATE

But I am more up-to-date than they realize. Drinking and smoking are worse now than ever before because of the fact that their constant advertising hits youth from more sides.

A generation ago, the ads were on billboards, in magazines and newspapers.

To that group have now been added radio and TV. So the eyes and ears of youth are bombarded by five instead of three mediums for swaying public opinion.

Furthermore, the pressure is of a dual-sex nature. Formerly, women did not smoke or drink, except in houses of prostitution.

Now that the clever advertising has made cocktail hours and taverns out of the former male saloons, girls are more easily seduced thereby.

But liquor drinking is not a new, up-to-date custom. It is as old-fashioned as Noah, who got drunk in a spree following the landing of the Ark.

Smoking is likewise centuries old. And the use of little clay pipes by women was common 50 to 75 years ago.

Immorality in sexual matters is likewise not new. The Bible is full of accounts of this sordid nature, including the seduction of Dinah and Tamar.

In the mail input to me via this column, I obtain 1,000 letters per day, outlining all sorts of human behavior problems.

My daughter Judy doesn't see this mail or she'd learn a lot of additional variations of immorality that she doesn't yet dream of.

Aristotle was the most remarkable scientist of the pre-Christian era, for he had the 2,000 leading scientists of the world sending him their observations and raw data.

But we modern psychologists and physicians constantly share the mutual experiences of 200,000 fellow scientists via our textbooks and technical journals.

DAVID VS. GOLIATH

You teen-agers with courage and gumption must not be stampeded by the advertising Goliath that tries to intimidate every youth.

Instead, stand up bravely like David and buck the mob psychology that New York advertising agencies try to turn loose upon you.

"Always look a mob in the face," stated John Wesley.

You know that there is not a single logical scientific reason in support of the use of tobacco or liquor or sexual immorality.

Medically, psychologically, economically and morally, such behavior is stupid.

So call your shots. Don't meekly surrender to the cowardly sheep who try to seek the anonymity of the mob.

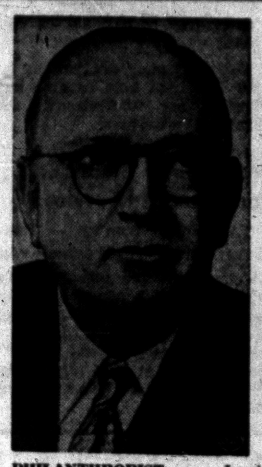

The test of social courage vs. social cowardice is seen everywhere. Those afraid to stand on their feet, meekly smoke and drink, even though they are aware of their folly.

The smart people with David's audacity, look the advertising Goliath in the face and will be bloody but unbowed even when twice as much dough is spent trying to stampede teen-agers into the cigarette and liquor habits.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Restaurateurs to Tour Europe

Midwestern Chefs to Learn About Elaborate Foreign Cuisine

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — There may be less steak and french fries and fried chicken and more exotic dishes in restaurants of the Midwest this summer.

Some 40 restaurant owners of the Midwest will fly to Europe this spring to learn in 23 days about the elaborate cuisine of famous chefs.

They will leave from Chicago April 14, under auspices of the Indiana Restaurant Association, but many restauranteurs from other states will go along.

They will pay $1,658 each and the tour will take them to the finest cooking schools, wine cellars and restaurants in France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and even Monaco, where they may even catch a glimpse of gorgeous Grace Kelly.

Norman E. Bess, executive vice-president of the Indiana Restaurant Association said:

"Europeans have been known for centuries for their ability to display food in an appetizing and appealing manner."

WINE CELLARS

The Americans will visit wine cellars in France and Germany, chocolate and cheese makers in Switzerland, the famed Alfredo's Restaurant in Rome and the Vienna Trade School.

Bess said:

"They will see the European approach to the very difficult problem of training personnel. In Europe, you start out doing things unrelated to food altogether and gradually work up until you thoroughly know everything in the back of the house, the kitchen and food preparing areas."

Perhaps the voyaging restaurant owners may make their home cities rivals to New York, San Francisco and New Orleans when they return on May 8.

Newest Microscope Joins Cancer Battle

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—A new type of microscope—giving researchers an additional tool in the fight against cancer—has been described at a meeting of the Optical Society of America at Philadelphia.

The instrument provides a means of observing parts of living cells which cannot be seen by any other method.

The inventors, Dr. Shinya Inoue, an American Cancer Society scholar at the University of Rochester, and Dr. W. Lewis Hyde, of the American Optical Co., said the key of the new instrument is a rectifier.

The rectifier, used in conjunction with a polarizing microscope of highest quality, increases the sensitivity of the miscroscope 20 times without reducing its ability to see the very smallest objects.

The polarizing microscope is important to the study of cells because it shows the way in which molecules are lined up and gives clues to the forces acting within the cell.

Leukemia, a leading cause of death among children, is a type of cancer that involves the blood-forming organs. Cancer kills more children in the United States than any other disease, the American Cancer Society says.

'Lost' Tot, 2, Injured Seriously by Twister

GRAND RAPIDS (INS)—Little Sandra Kay Peplau, labeled "little miss nobody" because of lack of identification after the tornado disaster, was reported in critical condition today in Grand Rapids hospital.

Doctors said the two-year-old has never regained consciousness since the vicious twister smashed her trailer home. However, they term her condition "slightly improved."

Tragic news awaits the tot when she regains consciousness. Her mother was killed and her father and two brothers are in the hospital with serious injuries.

Olympic Enthusiasts Bailed Out of Icy River

DETROIT (INS) — Two rowing enthusiasts training for the Olympics got an icy dunking yesterday when their shell overturned in the Detroit River near Belle Isle.

A passerby called police and a harbormaster boat went to their rescue. Dunked were James Tyler, 17, and Roger Lindland, both of Detroit.

The police boat towed the two-man shell into port and the rowers were taken to receiving hospital to be thawed out.

Seek Singer's Sister for Billy Daniels' Trial

District Attorndy Frank A. Hogan, who requested the search is "vital" to the trial of Daniels, scheduled for April 16.

The charges resulted from an incident in the Harlem "Bottle Club" where James (Chink) Jackson, 33, was wounded. Miss Davis was a barmaid in the club.

Neither Sammy Jr., nor his father has been able to give any clues to her whereabouts, the district attorney said.

Mean Thief Steals Bell for Memorial Service

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — There was silence when the master of ceremonies called for the tolling of the bell at a memorial service near Taipei, for Chinese slain on the mainland by the Reds.

Drop 'Revenge Murder' Charge Against Mother, Three Others

DETROIT (AP)—The mother of a slain policeman and three others were free today of charges they conspired to have the policeman's widow killed to avenge his death.

Charges were dropped yesterday against Mrs. Agnes Astasauskas, 58; her daughter, Bertha Levon, 38; Bertha's husband, John, 43, and a skid row habitue, Thomas Bunch, 50.

Mrs. Marian Austin, 34, the policeman's widow, was acquitted in 1952 in his slaying. She admitted shooting him. A jury cleared her on grounds of temporary insanity.

The policeman, Vincent Austin, was Mrs. Astasauskas' son. She and the others were arrested after Donald Russell, a skid row pal of Bunch, went to police and Mrs. Austin and told of an alleged plot against her life.

Mrs. Astasauskas and the Levons were accused of offering to pay Bunch $2,500 to kill Mrs. Austin to avenge the policeman's death. Assistant Prosecutor Edwin L. Davenport, however, moved for dismissal of the conspiracy charge saying no proof existed of an agreement between the four.

The Levons testified they had pretended to plot with Bunch to pacify Mrs. Astasauskas' desire for revenge, but never had intended to go through with the plot.

Alleged Vice Leader Mute at Arraignment

DETROIT (INS) — An alleged vice lord and 11 other persons, including six reputed $100 to $300-a-night "call girls," were free on bond today.

Charles (Chilli) Winters, 27, alleged leader of an extensive vice ring, stood mute at his arraignment in Record's Court yesterday and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf.

Police inspectors who led raids against the ring earlier this week said Winters' operations permitted him to spend lavish vacations in Canada and Acapulco, Mex.

Study of Planets East in April, Says Professor

If you are interested in gazing at the stars, then April is a month for stargazers who prefer looking at planets, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh. Professor Losh says that five bright planets will be visible.

The planet Venus, which is the brightest object in the heaven with the exception of the sun and moon, now appears high above the western horizon after sunset, and by April 12, it will set about four hours after the sun, says Professor Losh.

Jupiter, visible toward the east after dark, rides high across the heaven throughout most of the night, she added.

The ringed planet, Saturn, which rises around 10 p.m. just preceding the rising of Scorpius, is located at the extreme western tip of this constellation and can be picked out easily enough because it shines with a steady light—as do all planets—while nearby stars will be twinkling, Professor Losh said.

By the end of the month the red planet, Mars, following Saturn, will rise at about 2 a.m. Mercury, closest planet to the Sun and hardest of the naked-eye planets to see for this reason, will be visible during the last week in April when it reaches its greatest angular distance from the Sun, and will set more than an hour after the body, astronomer Losh states.

He Lands Unhurt in Jump From Jet

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Lt. Joseph Rude, 25, of Harrisburg, Ill., parachuted from his flaming F88D Sabrejejt fighter plane last night and landed unhurt. The plane, from which he jumped at 1,500 feet, crashed in an open field five miles west of Mount Clemens.

Rude, carrying his parachute, walked to a nearby road and hitchhiked a ride to nearby Selfridge Air Force Base, where he is stationed and from which he had just taken off on a tactical mission.

Rude said he head a "boom" and saw fire in the aft section of his plane. A wingman radioed him to bail out.

Confused British Man Curtsies, Bows, Reddens

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Kenneth Roscoe, a teacher, got somewhat carried away by the occasion at a presentation ceremony held by Queen Mother Elizabeth.

Roscoe was the first man to step forward after a long line of women teachers had been presented. He got halfway through a curtsy, then remembered the male routine, tried to bow and nearly fell over backward.

The Queen Mother smiled.

A red-faced Roscoe retreated.

MSU Students Approve Group Insurance Plan

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University students have voted in favor of a comprehensive group insurance plan for the student body—believed to be the first of its kind in an American university.

A special referendum during spring registration resulted in 69 per cent of the students voting in favor of the plan.

The plan, to go into effect this fall, will cost subscribing students $10.50 a year for a $500 blanket accident medical expense benefit, up to $150 in surgical fees and life insurance of $2,000.

Dixie Legislators Balk Mandate

Tennessee Legislature Faced With Dissolution if Court Order Nixed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—When a legislature refuses to obey a constitutional mandate to reapportion itself every 10 years, it poses one of the toughest problems in Republican government.

The Tennessee Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the courts can't force a solution by throwing out the last apportionment law on the books when there's no valid one to fall back on.

The court, citing previous decisions in courts of other states, said that kind of action would throw out the Legislature with the act, leaving the state with no way to elect a new one.

The problem is that in Tennessee, as in many another state, rural population has thinned out and urban population has grown rapidly in the 50 years since the last apportionment.

* * *

The process for amending the Constitution depends upon action of the Legislature, or a constitutional convention elected by the same formula, so the same factors block constitutional remedy.

Dog Begins Repaying Debt; Becomes Woman's Eyes

Back in June 1952, Spats was a hungry, whimpering puppy, abandoned by his mother in a pasture near Pittsburgh. Today he's the proud pilot dog for his blind mistress, the same woman who had 20-20 vision when she found the stranded pup.

Today Mrs. Christine McMaster of Pittsburgh, and Spats strolled through downtown Columbus as part of their "graduation" from Pilot Dogs, Inc.

A pretty brunette, Mrs. McMaster said:

Mrs. McMaster told the following tale of her dog:

Four years ago she was in the unlikely profession of dog-trimmer, with French poodles a specialty. She liked to swim, play golf and ride horseback. One day her horse became ill, and she turned him out to pasture.

While doctoring the horse she heard a whimper. She had heard of a stray, half-wild mother dog which had fled with a litter of pups after an encounter with a piece of machinery.

"I couldn't find the noise, and sat down under an apple tree to rest", she said. "Then I saw a little ball of black fur peeking at me around the tree trunk. His mother had abandoned him, I guess."

It was Spats, and she took him home.

Two months after she found Spats her eyes began to fail because of a diabetic condition. Spats was still growing when the dim-out became total. Her last moments of sight came five days after her marriage to Joseph McMaster.

"When I realized my sight would never return, I began to think of getting a guide dog," Mrs. McMaster said. "They told me they'd never trained a Labrador Retriever, which was what Spats turned out to be.

But the Columbus guide-dog school decided to give it a try, and five months ago Spats came here to start training. Mrs. McMaster came a month ago, and together they began the intricate business of traveling together.

Today they graduated.

Horse Buggies Still in Demand

Indiana Company Does Sales With Amish Sect, Movie Firms, Indians

HUNTINGBURG, Ind. (INS) — The horse and buggy days are still with us, according to F. G. Blessinger, president of the Huntingburg Wagonworks.

The company was founded in 1874 and has outlasted all the competitors except the Hackney Wagon Co., of Wilson, N. C. in the manufacture of buggies and wagons.

Members of the Amish sect are the major customers for buggies. Their religion forbids ownership of automobiles. Members will ride in a car, but won't own or drive one. The Amish live principally in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio and most of them are farmers.

Indians of the Southwest are good customers for wagons, according to Blessinger, who said: "Indians buy wagons just like most people buy cars."

Blessinger said the wagon is of especial value in rugged country and on rocky roads of the frontier which probably would wreck the stoutest automobile.

During World War II, the entire production was devoted to shaping of escort wagons for the Army.

Former UM Psychiatrists Offered Directors' Posts

LANSING (AP)—The man and wife child psychiatrist team who resigned from their top posts at the University of Michigan Children's Hospital may become directors of a similar state institution.

They said the acceptance of the posts would depend on whether the legislature appropriates some $60,000 to make needed improvements at the still uncompleted center.

The two psychiatrists had the biggest voice in designing the University of Michigan Hospital for mentally disturbed children.

It has since become a model for similar institutions throughout the country.

Williams said many of the professional workers on its staff intend to resign from the University and follow the couple to whatever new posts they accept.

20 PLAN MOVE

Dr. Rabinovitch said about 20 of his former staff intend to make the move.

"Our feeling is that our roots are here and we would like to remain in the state," Dr. Rabinovitch said.

"We have visited Hawthorn Center and we are very much impressed with it. It has a decided advantage over the university center in that it has a central building for the seriously disturbed and cottage units for the convalescent."

Dr. Rabinovitch said he is interested to see how such an arrangement will work in curing mentally disturbed children.

"If it is found successful, it might serve as a pilot model for similar establishments in the rest of the state," he said.

The two said neither salary nor other money matters were factors in their resignation from the university center.

2-Hour Tie-Up Delays License for Eva Gabor

NEW YORK (AP)—After a two-hour wait yesterday for routine checks on her marital record, blonde actress Eva Gabor and Dr. John E. Williams obtained a license to wed.

A city official said Miss Gabor, married twice previously, at first did not have enough evidence of legal divorce. Telephone calls to Hollywood turned up the needed information.

Miss Gabor and Williams, who was married once before, plan to be wed this Sunday at the Gabor family home on Fifth Avenue.

Rail Freight Rate Hikes of 6 Pct. OK'd

LANSING (AP)—The State Public Service Commission today authorized an approximate six per cent railroad freight rate increase for intra-state shipments.

The hike for shipments within the state followed a similar increase on a nation-wide scale authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The state commission suspended the increase within Michigan on March 6 until hearings could be held. Representatives of the railroad appeared March 19 and 28 and contended the increase was needed to meet added shipping costs.

The new rates will be effective April 10.

Excepted from the general increase were coal in movement from lake port docks and sugar beets. Additional hearings will be held on rates for these items.

Meat Output at Peak

CHICAGO — The nation's meat production soared to a record 26.8 billion pounds during 1955, some 1½ billion pounds over 1954's output. Per capita consumption of 161 pounds was second only to the 163.3 pounds in 1908.

Pilot Survives 220 Degrees in Experiment

WASHINGTON (AP)—An engineer for the Bell X2 research airplane says one of his associates has survived a momentary temperature eight degrees above the water boiling point.

He said test pilot Bill Smith withstood a temperature of 220 degrees, applied for a few seconds and experimentally in a pressure chamber.

Stanley Smith said this indicated that a pilot in the rocket-powered X2 could be taken safely without refrigeration on flights where friction generated heat above the 212 degree boiling point of water.

Smith said temperatures in the cockpit of the X2 probably will not exceed 150 degrees Fahrenheit, and since the flights would be exceedingly short, the pilot would have to tolerate such heat for only a few minutes.

Five Hours at Zero Is Limit for Work

BOSTON—There is a time limit to working in subfreezing temperatures, no matter how warmly dressed a person is, before he begins to shiver violently and his finger or toe temperatures drop below 55 degrees, a new study shows.

If a man is dressed in heavy arctic clothing, boots, and mittens, he can last 6 hours at 10 degrees above zero before beginning to shiver; 5 hours at zero, 4 hours at 10 below, and 2 hours at 30 below.

Grace Kelly Takes Part in Ship's Lifeboat Drill

ABOARD S. S. CONSTITUTION (AP) — Fortunately Grace Kelly's wedding boat is sailing south away from the icebergs that might make great ships go down.

Because yesterday the Constitution had its first lifeboat drill—and Miss Kelly and 250 persons showed up at her lifeboat station. There were places for 150.

The deck captain took a despairing look at the milling throng and gave up. Drill dismissed.

Bob Considine Says:

Williams Feels Bold Policies Will Beat Ike

NEW YORK (INS)—Michigan's bow-tied Gov. G. Mennen Williams was a late starter in our recent special series of interviews with leading Democrats on how they would go about beating President Eisenhower next November.

But he has just made a strong finish with a strong statement, and we feel it deserves an airing. We asked for it.

The youthful governor's point is that the Democrats can beat Ike only if the party put forward a man of vigor and a wielder of bold policies.

"If the voters are presented with a choice between Tweedledum and Tweedledee they may well choose to bear the ills they now have," he wired this reporter

"The Eisenhower administration can be beaten—but only by a militant Democratic Party offering the people an opportunity for a better future.

MORE DEMOCRATS

"There are more Democrats in this country than Republicans. The Republicans can sometimes win by pretending to be like Democrats, which they successfully did in 1952.

"But I don't think the Democrats can win by pretending to be like Republicans. That's why I've been critical of so-called moderation and compromise on issues."

Williams, who would have strong labor backing if the nomination drops in his lap at Chicago in August, feels that the Republicans' "one great strength" is the personal popularity of the President.

"But I don't believe that popularity will be the determining factor, in view of the fact that the presidency already has been made a parttime job under Mr. Eisenhower, and a vote for him will be a vote to continue that dangerous condition," Williams states.

"The voters may like him personally as much as they ever did, but it is quite another thing, in the privacy of the polling booth, to turn over the nation's destiny to the crew of presidential subordinates who will continue to run the country if he is re-elected."

HITS FARM POLICY

Williams, like the other Democratic hopefuls, sounds off on the Eisenhower-Benson farm program, calls the present administration one devoted to big business, and predicts that the small businessman and labor will be "given the same treatment the farmers got" if the President is returned to the White House.

* * *

He touches one point not noted by Kefauver, Stevenson, Harriman, Truman, Meyner and Butler in the aforementioned series.

"Unquestionably the strongest Republican argument in 1952 was the claim that Democrats were the party of war," Williams states.

"People were wearied and shocked by the sacrifices of the Korean War—the first war the United States has fought simply to keep its commitments to other nations and preserve international order—and it was easy for the Republicans to exploit the nation's desire for peace.

"But this is beginning to wear thin as the public reads daily of increased tension in the Near East, the Far East, North Africa, and the other danger spots. It is becoming apparent that we have escaped war not because of, but in spite of, the blundering administration foreign policy.

"The spectacle of a so-called 'peace party' boasting of the occasions on which it has led an unsuspecting nation to the brink of war is not a spectacle which will impress those who want a lasting peace."

'AN OLD MAN'

Williams called Ike "an old man" and publicly doubted that he'd run again, before the September heart attack. He blasted Adlai Stevenson, titular head of his party, for the 1952 candidate's "moderation."

He said, "Moderation is good for drunks but no good in politics." He wants a fighter to carry the party's banner and would not decline the role if offered.

"The considerations I mention will be sufficient, I believe, to outweigh the personal popularity of the President, provided the Democrats stand for vigorous and bold policies," Williams concludes.

"If the party presents a solid, progressive program to restore government to all the people, to give the voters an opportunity to work for real peace for themselves and the world and for a more abundant life for all of our people—that, I believe, will result in the election of the Democratic ticket."

Tall Women Marry Into Higher Classes

LONDON (INS)—Cupid favors tall women and they usually marry into a higher social class.

This was the conclusion reached by gynecologist Robert Ilisley, of the Obstetric Medicine Research Unit at Aberdeen University, Scotland, after an investigation into first confinements.

Ilisley's findings, published in the British Medical Journal, showed that the girl who marries her boss is often a tall girl. She tends to be of superior intelligence and education and shows great skill at work.

Ilisley said:

"It is not so easy to see why tallness should be associated with marriage into the upper occupational level.

Antibiotic in Sow's Diet Produces More Pigs

WASHINGTON—Agriculture Department pork researchers have found that an extra pig or two per litter result when the diet of the mother sow is supplemented with an antibiotic during her gestation. The department said the extra pigs are due to the birth of more live pigs and their better ability to survive until weaned. The tests showed, however, that the inclusion of the antibiotic neither increased the embryos nor the birth weight of the pigs.

Great Smokies Range Tops European Trees

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Great Smoky Mountains National Park, embracing an area 54 miles long and 19 miles wide, has 29 peaks more than a mile high and 16 above 6,000 feet.

On the slopes are forests containing 152 kinds of trees (all Europe has only 85) and more than 4,000 different types of plant life, the greatest variety found in any one area in the temperate zone.

Asians to Visit Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders from south and southeast Asia will visit Detroit and Ann Arbor, Mich., May 8-12 on a tour aimed at bringing about better understanding between their people and Americans.

Kefauver Begins Five-Day Tour

Senator Launches Hand Shaking Jaunt Through New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver launched a five-day hand-shaking tour of New Jersey today as Adlai Stevenson backers started rounding up support for a rival slate of unpledged delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Kefauver, arriving from a day of appearances in Nebraska, was to hold a 10 a.m. press conference here in his first on-the-spot bid for votes for a list of delegates pledged to him in the April 17 primary.

Word came from the Stevenson camp, meanwhile, that it will campaign to have Democrats vote for the slate proposed by the regular Democratic organization. This slate, headed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner, is unpledged.

Harold C. Hoffman, state treasurer of the Stevenson for President Committee, said yesterday that supporters of the former Illinois governor also will try to get Democrats to ignore the separate presidential preference poll on April 17.

The preference poll amounts to a popularity contest since it does not bind delegates. Kefauver's is the only name to appear on the Democratic side in the poll. President Eisenhower's name is the only one entered on the Republican side.

The line-up was the same in the 1952 preferential balloting. Kefauver got 154,964 votes and Eisenhower 390,591.

Primary voters may write in names of their favorites in the poll, but Hoffman said there will be no write-in campaign for Stevenson.

Girl Scouts Launching Their Cookie Sale Today

Pontiac Press Photos

Here's proof of cookie goodness. Lynn Johnston of Drayton Plains, Brownie Kathleen Stratton of Beachland street, Nancy Redmond of Fortress street and Suanne Armstrong of Drayton Plains (left to right) sample Girl Scout cookies on sale beginning today. Proceeds will go to the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout camp near Lapeer.

John Hirlinger of West Huron street, executive director of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, purchases the first box of Girl Scout cookies from Brownie Linda Austin of West Iroquois road. The annual cookie drive, to raise funds for Girl Scout Camp Sherwood, opened today and will continue through April 16.

Proceeds to Be Used for Camping

Northern Oakland Drive to Continue Until April 16

How good is your sales resistance? Ever have a cute freckle-faced Brownie or smiling Girl Scout tempt you with fresh, delicious cookies . . . we'll bet odds that whatever she had to sell, her smile could melt the lock on your purse.

Today through April 16 more than 4,000 Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts all over northern Oakland County will be ringing doorbells in the annual Girl Scout Cookie Drive.

In addition to this council-wide canvass, cookie cupboards will be set up in downtown areas and neighborhood stores. Adult supervisors will be on hand at all times during this public sale.

The girls have set up a big project for themselves and a tremendous goal . . . but they believe in their organization. And its purpose, and are sold on their own product.

Mrs. Donald Redmond, general chairman for the cookie sale, has been lining up details and paper work since October for this week's event. She has announced that no advance orders are necessary in this year's setup, this eliminating many hours of paper work formerly done by adult volunteers.

All proceeds go to the Girl Scout camping program and camp scholarships. Camp Sherwood receives the largest share, for annual camp improvements, replacements and equipment.

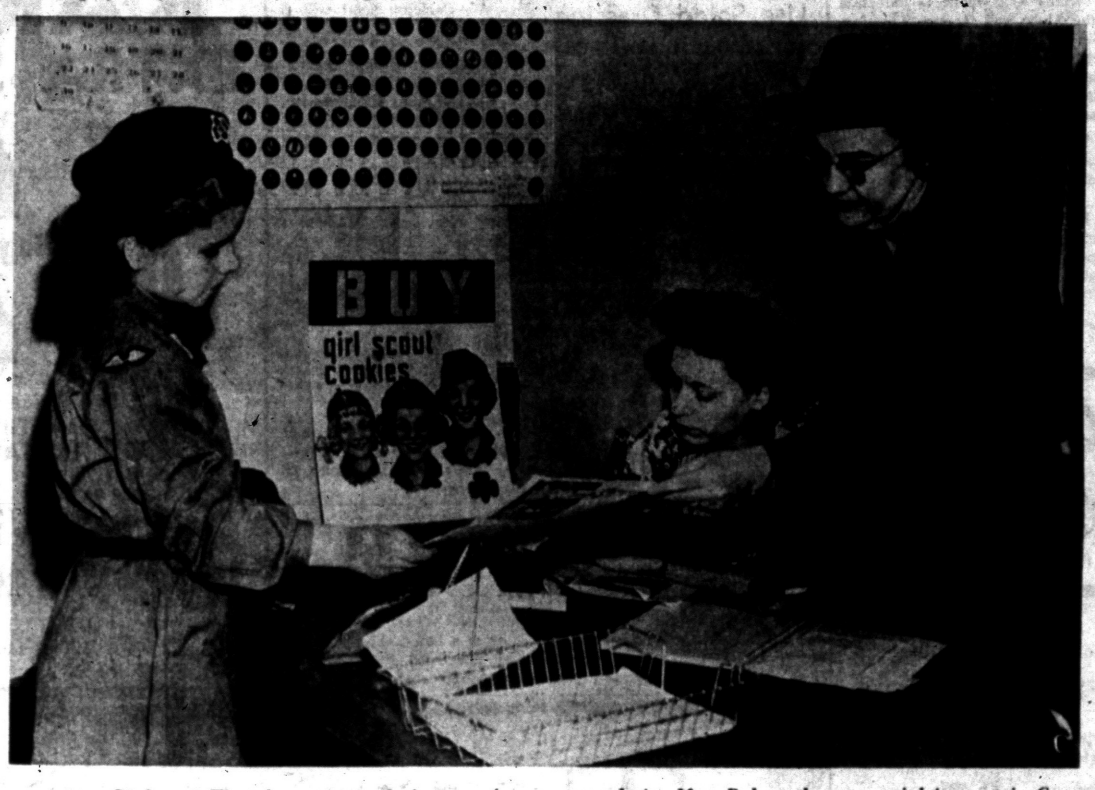

A lesser share of the profits is used for troop camping equipment which is accessible to all troops.

This year the board of directors announces the purchase of the 80-acre site adjacent to the west boundry of Camp Sherwood. It is to be developed and used by both troops and the established camp, and will be paid for by the sale of Girl Scout cookies.

This completes the search for a scout-owned troop campsite and gives Girl Scouts assurance of Davis Lake remaining as is instead of being developed commercially.

The money you give this smiling irresistible sales force for cookies will do a great job in your own community.

Jane Bigler of West Iroquois road signs up for a summer session at the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout camp. Mrs. Richard Balmer (right) of Chadwick drive checks her application and Mrs. William Hoose (center) of Ypsilanti avenue, Girl Scout registrar, records it. Mrs. Balmer has a special interest in Camp Sherwood registration, which opened this week, and the annual cookie drive, as she is resident camp chairman. All resources and camp improvements come from the sale of cookies.

Speaks to Zonta Club

Priest Warns About Soviet Tactics

"Spring Fashions in Communism" was the topic discussed by the Rev. Joseph J. Kubic, professor of social history and economics at St. Mary College, Orchard Lake.

"The Russians have put on a new dress and have begun to smile," Father Kubik told 35 members of the Zonta Club of Pontiac at a meeting held Thursday at Hotel Waldron.

"And," he continued, "Americans have been taken in." Russia, he said, is wooing the West. However, the speaker warned, Americans must remember that a change in tactics is not a change in objective. The objective, he said, is still world domination.

"Repression of a desire is not a suppression of a desire," Father Kubik pointed out, and he said that this desire on the part of Russia for world domination is being repressed because that country needs more time.

While gaining this time they are willing to direct their thoughts to other pursuits such as helping their allies build up their industries, he stated.

GAINING PRESTIGE

During this interval the Russians are strengthening their economy, gaining prestige and learning all they can about the West so that they can match the West.

All the while they are attempting to lull this country into false security, Russia's war industry is out-producing its consumer industry 7 to 3.

Communists, said Father Kubik, are not upset over the condemnation of Stalin. They feel he did not push enough, that he would have been happy to have Russia and its "colonies" as they are today.

Khrushchev wants more than Stalin wanted—his goal is world domination, the speaker said. Father Kubik warned the audience that a change in personality does not indicate a change of policy. Regardless of who is in power, the policy of the Communist Party will remain the same.

Club Completes 3rd Anniversary Dinner Plans

Plans were completed for the third anniversary dinner of the Fashion Your Figure Club when the group met Thursday evening at the Adah Shelley Library. The 7:00 o'clock dinner will be held on April 12 at China City and an invitation has been extended to all former members to attend.

Mrs. Joseph McLeod is serving as general chairman of the event assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Nichols, Mrs. S. Royal Gammage and Mrs. Carl Rehm.

The weekly trophy for losing the most weight was won by Mrs. Park Nique with Mrs. Nichols winning the monthly prize.

Does Chewing Gum Cut Down on Appetite?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "If I chew gum constantly it seems to cut down on my appetite. Is this a good way to reduce?"

A. Chewing gum occasionally might well be an aid to weight reduction. This would be helpful when others are eating candy and so forth. However, I do not recommend chewing gum constantly or a large part of the time.

Q. "Does the bust still increase in size after the age of 25 without exercising?"

A. No. The average girl has reached full maturity before that.

Q. "Is mineral oil all right to use as a lubricating cream?"

A. Many believe that mineral oil actually is drying to the skin. At least I do not think that it takes the place of one of the splendid creams on the market or can match the fine night oils.

Q. "I am 13 years old and am 5 feet 8 inches tall. Have I reached my full growth or will I get taller?"

A. It is hard to say. Some girls and boys reach their full growth early while others may grow in height even up to the age of 25. You probably will get a little taller. Do not let it worry you. Tall gals are stunning looking if they hold themselves well.

Q. "Will olive oil enlarge my legs if I rub it on every day?"

A. No, but it will make them smooth.

Q. "I have a permanent goose-pimply look on my legs. What could cause this?"

A. This could come from a vitamin deficiency. Talk to your doctor about this.

Chewing gum occasionally might well be an aid to weight reduction.

Q. "What kind of a doctor should I see to have some moles removed?"

A. See a skin specialist, or a dermatologist.

Q. "What is a bone doctor called?"

A. An orthopedic physician.

Q. "Will you give instructions for learning to swim in your column again later this spring?"

A. Yes. I probably will write about swimming when it gets warmer. In the meantime if you would like to have my leaflet "Learn to Swim" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 22 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Let's Take a Look at That Head—From a Beauty Angle."

Beta Chapter Has Meeting

Mrs. Ida Hiltz entertained members of Beta Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority at her home on Fairgrove avenue Thursday evening. Mrs. Joseph Burgdorf assisted the hostess.

Mrs. M. C. Worster, president, announced the committees for the Beta Ball to be held May 18 at the Elks Temple. Mrs. George Zannoth will serve as general chairman.

Others serving on committees are Mrs. Robert Tedcastle, chairman of decorations assisted by Mrs. Joseph Burgdorf and Mrs. Don Kaiser; Mrs. John Sinclair, Mrs. Don White and Mrs. Ralph Bergemann, orchestra; Mrs. Ward Cummings, Mrs. Norman Mack and Mrse. Kenneth Madsen, tickets; Mrs. Duane Hamilton and Mrs. Walter Terry, hall; and Mrs. Bergemann, publicity.

Plans were made to entertain the Alpha and Gamma Chapters on April 19. Acting as a committee on arrangements for this event are Mrs. William Hutchinson, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Hiltz and Mrs. Kaiser.

Mrs. Robert Tedcastle was appointed to serve on the advisory board.

Mrs. Schlicht Shares Her Cake Recipe

Use Salad Dressing for Delicious Loaf

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

No shortening in the house? You can always use salad dressing to make a cake. And a mighty delicious one, we might add. We have made this type of cake several times when we were short on shortening.

Today's cook is Mrs. Duane Schlicht. As a homemaker with a year-old baby, plus an outside job, she is a busy woman.

SALAD DRESSING CAKE
By Mrs. Duane D. Schlicht

1 cup dates, chopped
1 cup walnut meats, chopped
1 cup boiling water
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup salad dressing
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups sifted flour

Pour boiling water over dates and nuts. Add soda and vanilla. Let cool. Add rest of ingredients. Beat well. Bake in greased pan about 30-40 minutes in a 375 degree oven.

Frosting

1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter

Bring to a boil and let cool. Add enough powdered sugar to make of spreading consistency.

Birmingham News Stars Party Plans and Wedding

BIRMINGHAM — At a family wedding Wednesday Beth Berridge Colwell was married to James Gorman McKenzie by the Rev. Glen W. Harris of the First Presbyterian Church. James is the son of Mrs. M. Kelly McKenzie.

Mrs. Franklin Butler and Mrs. Arthur Simpson are rounding up properties and Mrs. Michael Remondino is designing costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Redfield will give a cocktail party cohosted by the Joseph Irwins on Saturday.

The party will honor bride-elect Josephine Scherer and her fiance, William G. Beardslee of Grosse Pointe.

Birmingham Country Club has invited new members to a cocktail and supper party Thursday.

B'nai Sisterhood Chooses Queen During Meeting

Mrs. Daniel Foxman presided at the recent meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation B'Nai Israel held at the temple. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Morris Bletstein.

During the meeting members elected Mrs. Bletstein "Queen for the Evening," from a group of contestants including Mrs. Stanley Elbling, Mrs. Leonard Cain, Mrs. Sam Toby, and Mrs. Dora Bletstein. Selection was made on the contestants' ability to answer the most questions presented by Mrs. Irving Koper, program chairman.

Mrs. Elbling closed the meeting with prayer.

Church, School Present Gifts to Departing Prelate

The Rt. Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church for the past 6½ years, leaves today to accept his new post at St. Alphonsus Church, Dearborn. Parishioners honored him at a farewell party Thursday evening in the Parish Hall.

Bishop Zaleski came to Pontiac in October 1949 as a monsignor from his appointment as vice chancellor of the Detroit Archdiocese. A native of Laurel, N. Y., he was graduated from SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary in 1927 and ordained in 1931.

He returned to his alma mater in 1935 as a professor and spent two years in that capacity. A graduate of the American College of Louvain, Belgium, he has also studied in Rome. He served as curate of Resurrection and St. Thomas the Apostle Churches in Detroit. He was named Rt. Rev. Msgr. Zaleski in March 1946.

Pope Pius XII elevated him to his present position as auxiliary bishop of Detroit in April 1950. He is presently titular bishop of Lyrbe and auxiliary bishop to Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit.

Taking part in the program were Susan Cosgrove, Michael Carry and Harold Brady. Miss Cosgrove spoke and presented a farewell gift on behalf of the grade school children of St. Frederick School.

Michael, president of the senior class, gave a short talk and presented a gift from St. Frederick High School. Harold Brady bid farewell in the name of all parishioners and also presented a gift.

Bishop Zaleski spoke briefly thanking the parishioners for the gifts presented him, for their cooperation in parish work and in work for the church during his pastorate here.

Members of the farewell committee for the parish were Dr. E. J. Bauer, John Decker, Roy Crawford and Warren Hughes, from the church committee.

Mrs. W. B. Dean represented the women's guilds on the committee; J. J. McCarthy, the St. Vincent de Paul Society; Russell Morrow, Moms and Dads Club; Edward Schendt, ushers; R. G. Shearer, Holy Name Society, and Mrs. Joseph Spadafore, the Altar Society.

Check Rules Before Seeking Help

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Most Americans, at one time or another in their lives, seek some kind of counselor—a psychiatrist, psychologist, vocational counselor, minister.

Sometimes they get the help they need and are delighted with the whole thing.

But they may also feel cheated, disappointed and very angry because they paid their money and got no help at all.

In a few rare cases, perhaps the counselor to whom they went was really not very good. But in an overwhelming number of cases, the fault lay not with the counselor, but with the counselee.

In short, some people are just not counselable and they are not able to get help from anyone.

If this is a problem of yours, or of someone near to you, perhaps this check list might be of help to you. Before going to a counselor, it will pay to look it over.

1. Have you honestly tried to do something about solving your problem yourself?

If you haven't, you will always feel, in the back of your mind, that it wasn't such a big problem after all.

You'll be convinced you could probably have solved it with a flick of the wrist and will fume over that highway robber who charged you that kind of money for nothing at all.

2. Are you ready to cooperate to the hilt and really do your share?

If you think of a psychiatrist as a man who will wave his wand and make you happy, you're in for a big letdown.

Psychiatry isn't something that is done to you, like a shampoo. It's a rigorous job. The psychiatrist can guide you, but you must do most of the work yourself.

3. Can you afford the help you need?

IT WON'T WORK

If getting the help is going to mean living on the verge of starvation, it won't work. The under nourished body affects the mind and emotions and keeps you tense and hard to help.

Also, resentment builds up when you are doing without necessities. You will get impatient and demand a miracle.

So, if you can't afford it, check with your community social workers and see if there isn't some clinic or low-priced agency which can serve you.

4. Are you prepared to stick with it until you find the solution, or are you convinced that everything will be crystal clear after one or two appointments?

After all, chances are you were many years getting into this state. Don't expect to get out of it in nothing flat.

5. Are you prepared to have a preliminary interview with several counselors if necessary (and pay for it) before you find the right one?

Ex-Star Blanche Sweet Greets Public as Saleslady

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Blanche Sweet, one-time queen of the silent films, is greeting her public today from behind a gown rack in a Los Angeles department store.

The only difference is she's a saleslady instead of a movie star and she's signing sales slips instead of autograph books.

"People don't bother me much any more," the old D. W. Griffith lovely declared. "Once in a while somebody will come up to me and say, 'You look familiar, or tell me I remind them of Blanche Sweet.

"It was different in the old days. I couldn't go out on the street then without being recognized everywhere."

Blanche, a doll - sized woman with gray hair and wide blue-gray eyes, still has plenty of sparkle and is so adept at her job that she was adroitly handling three customers at the same time.

SHUNS PUBLICITY

"I'd really rather be left alone," she protested, "I've worked here for quite a while now and very few people know who I am—or was. I'd like to keep it that way if I can. I don't want any publicity."

The former actress, who once lived in luxury as a big star and the wife of film director Marshall Neilan, got more than her share of publicity when she was starring in major films opposite such eminent actors as Carlyle Blackwell and Tom Moore.

She was moviedom's first "Anna Christie" and was known in the 20s as "the shopgirl's delight," A former child actress, Blanche returned to the stage when her film career dimmed and appeared in important Broadway plays including "The Petrified Forest" with Leslie Howard and Humphrey Bogart.

After a stormy seven-year marriage to Neilan, whom she wed in 1922, she divorced him declaring he was "abusive" and "objectionable" and brought guests to their home at 6 o'clock in the morning.

CAREER FADED

Miss Sweet's career dimmed in the early 30s and in 1933 she filed a bankruptcy petition listing her liabilities as $13,819 and her assets as $200 worth of furniture and two life insurance policies.

More than $16,000 worth of jewelry belonging to the actress had been sold to pay her debts.

Although she is selling dresses to her one-time public, Miss Sweet is not bitter about her present status and reserves little nostalgia for the good old days when she was living in a mansion in Beverly Hills and dripping diamonds and expensive furs.

As for acting, she said:

"Sure, I'd do it again — if the right role happens to come along!"

Pontiac Rebekah Lodge 450 will sponsor a card party Saturday evening with Mrs. Sam Cooley, 2944 Glenbrook at 8 p.m.

Why We Back College Marriages

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Writes Mrs. G., "Our daughter, a sophomore at a women's college wants to get married this June. Next fall, she plans to transfer to her husband's university where he's studying under the GI bill.

"She wants a larger allowance. Though we can't afford it, both young people seem to feel we owe them support of this marriage as well as Betty's education. They say that it's the modern version of the old-fashioned dowry . . ."

They are mistaken. The dowry did not represent parents' support of a bride. Instead, it signaled the transfer of their support of her to her husband. If he could not show that he had made satisfactory arrangements to support her, he got neither the bride nor the dowry.

Not that it matters. Betty doesn't have to refer to past custom to try and justify her demand for a parent-supported marriage.

It's a present custom so widespread that the G's are bound to feel pretty defensive as they protest to these young people, "If you want to take this adult responsibility, don't depend on us to pay for it."

ANOTHER REASON

But there's another, more powerful reason behind our fear of saying "No" to Betty.

As parents of today's college students, we were ourselves impressionable youngsters during the sexual revolution of the 20s. We have not forgotten its slogan, "Down with self-control! Up with unrestricted sexual expression — the only Road to Mental Health!" We remember the fighting word of the revolution—"inhibition."

We may think we have outgrown the implanted suspicion that sexual patience equals neurosis. But the probability is excellent that this fear is the blackmailer which has been extorting marriage subsidies for our college-age children.

Dr. Viktor E. Frankl, president of the Austrian Society of Medical Psychotherapy and professor of neurology and psychiatry at the University of Vienna, puts it this way, in his brilliant book "The Doctor and the Soul."

"The harmfulness of sexual abstinence preached to youth has done a good deal of injury. Where happiness in love is lacking, the lack must be compensated by quantity of sexual pleasure, the less joy a man has out of a relationship, the more gratification he must get. Youth must explore, seek for the right partner and find one. Youth must also learn in good time to be faithful."

Bridal Flowers for Mother

Flowers for the mother of the bride is another of the many things a woman has on her mind when she starts planning her daughter's wedding.

Tradition differs from community to community about whether this is an expense borne by the groom or by the bride's family. But in any case, the flowers are something the mother of the bride selects herself and not something that arrives as a ghastly surprise on the morning of the ceremony.

Size is a very important consideration. No woman, however, large, should wear flowers that look like a floral tribute in a horse race. They should be scaled to a woman's height and weight.

The colors should be appropriate to her dress and to the colors of the wedding party in general.

Bridesmaids may carry seasonal flowers in a December wedding, but the mother of the bride would do better to pick up the green of the leaves than the red of the bouquets for her own flowers.

The flowers should be designed by the florist to go on the costume properly. If it's a single flower to be worn on a clutch bag, it should be scaled to the bag. If the flowers have to be worn on an organza dress, for instance, they should not be so heavy they pull the fabric down.

The flowers should always be worn the way they grow—facing upwards.

They should be pinned on securely with two or three stout pins, by someone other than one's self, to be sure they are on well.

The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother may want to select flowers together for harmony.

Put Her Meddling to Good Use

Turn Your Wife Into Real Business Asset

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The Rodgers and Hammerstain tune of many June moons ago, "Girls Were Made to Take Care of Boys," packs more sense in its title than most songs pack in their total.

Females have indeed been taking care of males, in one way or another, since Eve. (Some folks credit the snake, but it was actually Eve who took care of Adam.)

The problem, however, is that more and more women—particularly wives who are supposed to love, honor and promote their husbands — are misinterpreting that phrase "take care of."

With a growing sense of her female importance in the world of business, today's missus wants to be more than a homemaker to her man. She wants to be confidante, consultant, secretary and treasurer of her husband's business, whether she is qualified or not.

"Women have read too many stories about how they should take an interest in their husbands' affairs, and they've got 'little helpmeet' complexes," sighed one accountant I know.

"My wife used to drive the kids to school," he added. "Now she drives me nuts."

HOME LIFE HURT

The principle, he conceded, is a good one. But the principle gets fouled up, and the home life bogs down, when the wife takes on the role of eager administrator—advising on matters she knows nothing about.

There is a business executive from Jackson, Miss., who recently came to New York and offered a couple of solutions. Howard Cohoon's theory was that man's best potential counselor is his wife, but she must be trained deftly and in small doses for the job.

"Step one," said Cohoon, "is to prepare this female junior partner to help with her husband's problems by giving her a small taste of office atmosphere. This is not easy, because no man wants the people at his office or plant to feel that there is a snooping female around."

Ask her to meet you at the office occasionally for a luncheon date, or to pick you up at the office before going out to dinner, he suggests. That way she gradually sees the physical layout, gets to know associates, and so forth.

"Next, dream up actual assignments for your wife, that is, if you're a manufacturer of something, have your wife snoop out competitive products and keep you posted.

If you're a professional man, have her sort out the good literature that is being written in your particular field, and report on it.

CHALLENGE WIFE

"No matter what your profession, there are side jobs an intelligent wife would be really capable of doing," said Cohoon.

As she does a better and better job, challenge your wife to come up with ideas that will save your firm money, or get you a raise, or solve a personnel problem at the office.

"And if she comes through as keenly as she should by that time," urged Cohoon, "for heaven's sake—don't forget to give her a bonus. And make it more substantial than a kiss, too."

For the wife who wants sincerely to be an unofficial business partner, this easy-going apprentice training program may be the solution.

It will make her feel useful from the beginning. And she will be useful at the end.

Directors of parks in East London and Queenstown, South Africa, agreed in an unusual swap — trees for geese.

Congress to Re-Consider Atomic Peace Ship Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress, unenthusiastic so far about President Eisenhower's proposal for an atomic peace ship, seemed certain to consider it at least once more.

Newer plans for an atomic-powered tanker may bring it to the fore in budget action if not on specific legislation.

Eisenhower has included in his budget proposals for the year beginning July 1 funds to start work on an atomic tanker. He also has announced he will seek an earlier supplemental appropriation for an atomic exhibit ship.

These money items must be disposed of one way or the other. The nuclear ship's chances, such as they are, apparently ride with the budget discussions.

A half dozen bills were inspired by Eisenhower's recommendations last April 25 that the United States build an unarmed nuclear-driven ship. Eisenhower wanted to stock it with examples of U. S. peaceable accomplishments in technology and send it on tour of the world's ports.

The measures have lain dormant for months.

NEW CONTROVERSY

Now a new controversy is developing over the atomic tanker proposal, with Chairman Bonner (D-NC) of the House Merchant Marine Committee contending Congress has not authorized such a ship.

Bonner wrote to maritime administrator Clarnece G. Morse that the administration apparently felt the Merchant Marine Act empowers it to build such a ship without further congressional authorization, if the money is provided.

Bonner said he disagreed, was certain such an appropriation could be blocked by a point of order and "I personally intend to raise such a point of order." He referred to regular House rules which prohibit general legislation in appropriations bills. These rules are sometimes waived under special provisions.

Ask 2nd Confab on Education

White House Session on Higher School Levels Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second White House conference on education—this one on problems of higher education—was recommended today by the committee which ran the first conference last winter.

The first conference covered the needs of elementary and secondary schools. In its final report, the committee told President Eisenhower:

"We recommend that a White House conference on higher education, similar in scope to the program just concluded . . . be held promptly to consider the many complex problems facing, or soon to face, the nation's colleges and universities."

Eisenhower has named Devereux Josephs, New York insurance executive, as chairman of a new committee on Education Beyond High School. One of the committee's jobs will be to decide whether a national conference is called for.

The first conference committee said it "believes there is yet time to acquaint the American people with their imminent needs in higher education, but the time grows shorter and shorter."

"The flood of students now in the elementary and secondary schools is not far away from the colleges," it said. "If the people of the United States expect to attract more and more students into college, they must begin preparing for them now."

Maple Syrup Lags

EAST LANSING (AP)—Maple syrup production for the central Michigan area has been far below average for the past three years, a Michigan State University researcher reported. P. W. Robbins of the MSU forestry department, checked the sap flow in an experimental project and said production has been 54 per cent of the 1953 total, 36 per cent of 1954 and 55 per cent of last year's output.

Named Fishery Official

LANSING (AP)—Dr. Paul H. Eschmeyer, with the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service since 1950, has been named assistant director of the Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor, the State Conservation Department announced. Dr. Eschmeyer previously did research work with the State Department and won a national award for his study of the life history of walleyes.

Hal Boyle Says:

President's Word Can Plunge Us Into War

NEW YORK (AP)—Most of the 165 to 170 million Americans do not quite realize that one man among them can by one word plunge them all into war.

* * *

FORGOTTEN POWER

The power of the president as commander in chief of the nation's armed forces is sometimes forgotten or overlooked by the voters who elect a president.

The U. S. Senate may have to approve a foreign treaty to make it legal, and only Congress can declare war. But it is the president who can order at any time when the Navy, the Army or the Air Force should go into action—naturally on an emergency basis. This means you can have a war before it's voted.

* * *

All big wars usually start from military pimples. There is a border. Each side complains the other violates the border. There is a period of mutual blame and mutual hollers of innocence. It's the other fellow who is wrong.

* * *

Finally one of the fellows crosses the border in real power—and doesn't stop. The reaction has to come, at once, or, later, when he is stretched out and more vulnerable. But he has lit a small match and set a big world on fire, and in time the flames at great cost will consume him, his empire and his dreams. Sometimes even his relatives.

This is the history of war.

GREATEST DECISION

No man in history could be more aware of the effect of a military decision than a former artillery captain called Harry Truman who made the greatest single military decision in the long story of the human race.

In the year 1945 by his orders an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima on Aug. 6 and—by a quirk of fate and weather—another was exploded over Nagasaki on Aug. 9.

The immortal statistics remain. Without the shedding of one more drop of American blood a stunned Japan, then an enemy, ceased fighting.

No other man since the morning of time had shouldered the responsibility of creating so many deaths in two crisp days.

HIS MOVE ALONE

As architect of the first entrance of American arms into Korea, Truman first won U. S. and then half the world's applause. But, though Congress quickly backed him up, it was he alone who said when the first planes should fly.

The other night, in addressing the Overseas Press Club here, Truman made an interesting off-the-cuff addition to his prepared text.

"Only the President of the United States," he said, "can give us the facts about foreign policy because the President of the United States makes the foreign policy and no one else does."

While such a remark has current political overtones, of course, and reflects perhaps what his critics often say is a tendency by Truman toward overstatement, the stern truth is that the authority of an American president in a real emergency cannot easily be checked.

CHIEF LEADER

While we have the Congress and the courts, too, it is the president who is the chief delegated leader of the United States. It is he who, in a hurry, can order the Navy to sail, the Marines to land, the Army to march, the Air Force to fly and bomb.

Many Americans are unaware of the full national power and world prestige of the presidency, the tremendous dignity of the office, the critical role a White House decision can at any moment play in their own lives.

But it is important that they should know.

To Ban Publication of Postal Qualifiers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has reluctantly reversed its policy against making public the names of persons who qualify for appointment as postmasters.

This was disclosed in an April 2 letter from Abe McGregor Goff, Post Office Department solicitor, to Rep. Moss (D-Calif), chairman of a House subcommittee pushing for greater release of government information. Moss made the letter public.

Goff noted that names of applicants who qualify for other government career positions are not made public.

In the case of postmaster applicants who qualify after taking examinations, he said, the department felt that a secrecy policy guarded the applicants from "possible stigma in the eyes of the public either through a failure to get the appointment or with publication of a relative standing in other than top position."

Aesop's Fables — 5

THE KID AND THE WOLF

One day an adventurous baby goat ran away from the flock.

He was enjoying himself when suddenly he saw a wolf. The kid ran but the wolf ran faster, and was about to catch up when the kid stopped short and exclaimed "I know I can't escape being eaten but since my life is going to be so short please let it be merry. Won't you please play a tune and let me have a last dance?"

Amused at the request and wishing to have some pre-dinner music, the wolf played a lively tune on his horn and the kid danced gaily. Meanwhile the shepherds looking for the lost kid heard the music, ran to the scene and chased away the wolf.

As he ran the wolf snarled at the kid and shouted "It served me right. When was a wolf supposed to be so obliging?"

Moral: Don't put things off.

Color this picture and paste down on cardboard. Cut out around the heavy outside lines. Fold on the dotted center line. Then the figures will stand up.

'Tornado Aid' Urged by Ike

Asks for Contributions to Help Stricken Areas in State, Elsewhere

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—President Eisenhower has appealed for contributions to the American Red Cross to help tornado-stricken areas in Michigan and elsewhere.

The president also has declared wind-wrecked Michigan regions Major disaster areas, qualifying them for federal aid.

The appeal for contributions to the Red Cross came from the White House in Washington shortly after Roland Harriman, National Red Cross chairman, advised that the agency's relief funds were "just about wiped out recently in helping flood victims.

recently in helping flood victims."

Harriman said the current annual drive of the Red Cross for new funds is meeting a generous response, "but not sufficiently so as yet."

The president said he is "confident the American people as always will respond to this new appeal so they (The Red Cross) can aid people in the distressed areas."

The President made immediate allocation of money, but directed the Federal Civil Defense Administration to get in touch with Michigan authorities to survey needs of the stricken areas.

OK Child Specialists for Pontiac Hospital

Following a request by Representative Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac, the State House Ways and Means Committee has placed a line item insertion in its mental hospitals budget to provide six child therapists and two special edusation instructors at Pontiac State Hospital, Hudson said today.

He said the additional staff wou provide for 38 teenagers now in the hospital without educational facilities.

The hospital budget, providing for a state-wide $9,000,000 increase over last year's appropriation, now is being debated in the House.

Beaver Island Ferry Makes 1st Spring Run

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—The mtorship Emerald Isle opened navigation yesterday, carrying a cargo of supplies to Beaver Island which is located more than 30 miles to the northwest in Lake Michigan.

The Coast Guard cutter Woodbine broke the ice at St. James Harbor so the vessel could enter its Beaver Island berth.

The Emerald Isle was scheduled to make its first run of the season April 1 but drift ice fields caused a delay. The boat will make three trips a week until May 1 when it goes on a schedule of daily runs, except Sundays.

Parking Need Causes Concern at Champaign

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Prof. Charles H. Bowman, chairman of the University of Illinois Traffic and Parking Board, says the campus needs 2,000 more parking spaces.

He figures that cost per space is about $750 which would amount to $1½ millions and no such funds are available, he says.

Among suggestions are: charge for parking, prohibit students from operating cars, or impose a partial ban whereby student cars would be prohibited from parking on University-owned streets.

Kennison Autopsy, Confession Differs

MEXICO CITY (INS) — An autopsy report today supported an earlier theory that Detroit industrialist Everett Kennison and his wife, Pauline, were bludgeoned to death.

The report contradicts a confession given Mexican plice by William Shelton, an Americanoperator ofa Victoria, Mex. motel where the couple stayed during ahunting trip.

Shelton said he accidentally shot Kennison and then killed Mrs. Kennison when she attacked him.

Sheton, 25, and his partner, Joseph T. O'Brien, 30, were arrested last Saturday as "prime suspects" in the murder case.

* * *

O'Brien admitted he helped rob and strip the dead couple of valuables and clothing "to help cover up" the shooting.

* * *

Two clerks at the motel operated by the men told authorities that O'Brien stayed behind while Shelton went hunting with the Kennisons the day of their murders.

Ike Resumes Tradition Greeting Ambassadors

WASHINGTON, (INS)—President Eisenhower is resuming the tradition of personally greeting new foreign ambassadors to the United States.

The practice was disconinued for a time after Eisenhower's heart attack last summer.

However, he held a luncheon last month for twelve ambassadors who presented their credentials to the State Department during that period and, the White House said, from now on he will receive the credentials himself.

$4.40 Sylvan Tax Increase Shown in Budget for '56

A proposed 1956 budget of $114,290 with a $4.40 per thousand tax boost will be presented to the Sylvan Lake City Council April 11 in a public hearing meeting.

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said he expects adoption of the new budget at the meeting.

The proposal shows an increase of $20,785 over the 1955 budget, Ethier said.

The total millage under the budget will be $26.40 per thousand of assessed value, compared to $22 last year. This was necessitated because of taxes to be levied for the city's new water system and garbage disposal.

The $26.40 rate will be made up of $20 per thousand for general operating expense, $2.20 for sewage debt, $2.80 for water debt, and $1.40 for garbage disposal.

Taxation is expected to provide $50,132, garbage tax $3,428.74, revenue and license fees, $53,575, while the balance of $7,154.26 will be derived from surplus funds.

Included in the general operating funds will be $3,120 for the rental of 60 hydrants for the city at $60 per year.

Also included is $2,500 in the capital improvement funds for the future addition to the council chambers and the expansion of the basement of the City Hall to accommodate trucks.

Ethier explained that the 2.8 mill assessment for the water system provides principal and interest towards the retirement of the bonds that financed the construction of the $275,000 system.

Accused Sheriff Urges Change

Violator of Regulations for Driver Licensing Says Revision Needed

LANSING (AP)—A sheriff who violated a state regulation on driver licensing says he did nothing wrong and that the regulations should be changed.

"As far as intent to defraud or do anything morally wrong — it wasn't there," asserted Sheriff Willard Barnes of Ingham County at a hearing before Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Hare a few weeks ago suspended the drivers licensing authority of Barnes after a justice of the peace reported that a defendant in his court produced a temporary driver's permit with a false address.

The address was that of the County jail in Mason, where county-owned residence quarters are provided for the sheriff.

Barnes readily admitted to Hare Thursday that the permit was issued at his instruction to Walter Munyon of Lansing, and that he intended, when Munyon's permanent license was mailed there, to forward it to him.

"I was trying to accommodate someone," he testified. "In my estimation there was nothing done that was wrong. Contrary to regulations, yes."

Under state regulations, a sheriff may issue a driver's license only to residents of his county who do not reside within cities with police forces that have been designated as licensing authorities.

Hare took the case under advisement, and will rule later on whether to lift the suspension or make it permanent.

Mack and Tony Upset Hudson Co. 1881 Celebration

DETROIT (AP)—The J. L. Hudson Co., celebrating its 75th anniversary, rigged out a horse-drawn delivery wagon to bring back memories of 1881, when the city's 14-story, block-square department store was founded.

It found Mack and Tony, the horses hitched to the wagon, got just as frightened of horseless carriages as did teams when the automobile made its advent in what was to become the Motor City.

Tony and Mack ran away. Driver George McEwen, 60, said "some kids in a hot rod kept roaring by" in an effort to rattle the animals.

Galloping the wrong way down a one-way street, the horses met a car head-on. Neither horse suffered serious injury and the four occupants of the car escaped unhurt.

Auto Hits, Kills Boy, 10, Trying to Retrieve Ball

SAGINAW (AP)—Paul Denton, 10 of Saginaw, was injured fatally yesterday when hit by a car as he ran into a street to retrieve a ball. The accident occurred in front of the boy's home.

Driver Robert Wesener, 21, of Saginaw, told police the child darted into the path of his car. Wesener was not held.

Rebel Terrorists Crippling North African Countryside

By PRESTON GROVER

ALGIERS, French North Africa (AP)—Bit by bit, Algerian rebels are crowding the French out of the countryside into the big towns and cities by an appeal to patriotism combined with terror that is traced by cut throats and missing noses throughout the whole country.

To learn just how this is done, this correspondent went into territory "jointly" operated by the French and the Fellagha, or rebels. The plight of an Arab farmer on the frontier is grim. In fear and trembling he pays taxes to both sides, twice as much to the Fellagha as to the French. In some sections the French have left, and the rebels are the bosses.

From official records we traced out how the country districts in the Collo Penirisula were taken over. The Collo is a little bump of a peninsula in eastern Algeria where the French have been working what is probably the richest cork forest in the country.

PRINCIPAL DOLLAR CROP

The port of Collo has 6,400 population and is the center of a mixed district settlement, mostly Moslem, of about 87,000.

Early last summer the rebels began sending propaganda crews through this area trying to persuade the cork workers to quit their jobs. They didn't have much luck. Then came the big blowup of last Aug. 20 when the whole of Algeria, especially in the east, seemed to explode. Major trouble came in the Collo early in September when a well-organized crew moved in, evidently commanded by a rebel leader named Zirout.

In the week from Sept. 10 to Sept. 17, four Frenchmen were killed; the president of a local djemma, or district Moslem council, was kidnaped, as were the son of a local caid, or Moslem judge, and a Franco-Moslem—a Moslem friendly to the French. Kidnaping in this country is virtually the equivalent of assassination, for the bodies usually are found later — throats cut.

CONTROL COUNTRYSIDE

Terrorist attacks went on until rebels gained almost complete control in the peninsula outside the town of Collo. They never did get complete control of the town. But in the country districts they appointed their own mayors, judges and tax collectors.

The rebels held full control until in December the French were able to spare enough battalions to go in and attempt to restore their authority.

The official report says that "order and confidence" were restored with the operation of the troops. It is far from the truth. Order there is, by day, enforced by the troops. Disorder continues at night.

Thus French operations in Algeria are being made wholly unprofitable. Even the big farms are having difficulty keeping Algerian workers with them for planting and harvesting.

Frenchmen on isolated farms are abandoning them in ever-increasing numbers to escape being killed. Many were too late and have been killed.

Life in the capital city of Algiers is relatively normal. A "European" can walk in the bazaar area without any real risk, although it gives you a slightly queasy feeling. Somebody might come at you with a knife.

"All the important Moslems have received warning letters from the terrorists," a French editor told me. "Our Moslem friends don't talk to us much any more."

Travel by night is unsafe in all parts of Algeria, even by train. It is slowly throttling commerce. So many telephone poles have been cut down that whole areas have been isolated except for army radio.

The repeated successes of the Fellagha are making many Arabs proud of them who never thought much of them before. It was the same in Indochina after Dien Bien Phu, where the "little brown men" beat a Western army. The same pride is taking hold down here. It not only makes the Arabs tougher to deal with, but increases the support offered on all sides to the fighters.

But the big factor throughout is the conviction among the Arabs and the French here that the government in Paris never will persist in the kind of decisive action, in any direction, that will settle the question.

Chinese educators will simplify the Chinese language from 10,000 to 512 written characters, Peking reports.

Bar Patrons Pick Winners in New Drinks

DUBLIN — A cocktail called "Fixer" and a long drink named "Ancient Mariner" were the winners in the 1955 All-Ireland Cocktail championship. Judges were 300 regular customers of different bars and lounges in Eire, who sipped all day to find the champs.

J. O'Farrell, of Jammet's Restaurant, Dublin, authored the Fixer: ½ brandy, ¼ Creme de Noyaux, ⅛ Prunelle, ⅛ fresh cream. (Shake well). J. Carvill, of Royal Marine Hotel, Dun Loaghaire, made his Ancient Mariner with one bottle Club lemon, ¼ glass Creme de Banane, ¼ glass Irish Mist. (Ice, garnish and serve).

Merchandise moving through Antwerp, Netherlands, on Rhine River barges has totaled 440,000 tons in 12 months for a gain of 164 per cent.

Now, Cut It Out!

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has warned students it will get tough with those who break the smoking ban in the brand new MSU library. Those caught smoking outside the special lounges will be hauled into court and assessed fines up to $5.

Walleyes Transferred

NEWAYGO (AP)—The State Conservation Department reported it has started transferring walleyes over the Newaygo Dam on to Muskegon River to permit the fish to continue upstream to spawn. The fish lift will be continued for 15 nights or until 10,000 walleyes are helped over the dam, whichever maximum is reached first.

$752,980 More Needed to Complete New Milford High

Rising Prices Created Lack

$1,250,000 Raised by Vote Would Not Build Gym, Grade Additions

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — Nearly 100 builders and contractors were present yesterday at the Baker School when bids for construction of the new Milford High School were opened.

Weary Huron Valley School Board members adjourned at 10:30 last night after almost nine hours of discussion on contract revisions and acceptance of bids.

Contractors were asked to submit bids on two separate projects.

Proposal "A" included construction of the main building, less gymnasium and locker facilities, industrial arts and band room.

Proposal "B", to finish building the gymnasium wing, included the locker facilities and industrial arts and band room.

Sorenson Gross of Flint, who submitted a low base bid of $830,600, will be the general contractor for the new building. Mechanical construction award was given to the lowest bidder, J. A. Dart Co. of Mason. Their bid was $232,212.

The electrical engineering contract was awarded to Schultz Electric of Pontiac. The firm's low bid was $138,225.

Biggest problem facing the school board at the present time is how to raise $752,980, which is needed to complete both A and B proposals on the new high school.

If the board can raise the money within 90 days, members agreed they will be protected against further raise in prices and labor costs.

The low base bid accepted by the board last night, does not include the gymnasium wing and furnishings, a shop or band room, food service equipment or the two elementary school additions at Brooks which are in the original plans.

All of the contractors at yesterday's meeting agreed that since the $1,250,000 bond issue was voted on by the school a year ago, prices of material and labor have increased considerably — hence the lack of funds.

The road leading into the school site is now under construction and a 68-foot well has been drilled. Present plans include 36 classrooms and administrative offices.

A special meeting at Highland School has been called for Wednesday night by the PTA Council. The School Board will be on hand to present plans along with the architects, who will explain and answer any questions that may arise.

Harold Hansen, superintendent of Huron Valley Schools, said "Ever since the vote of 1955, it is increasingly evident that all of the facilities in the original plans are needed."

Chicken Dinner Tonight

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — St. Martha Guild of St. Andrew Episcopal Church will hold a community Spring Chicken Dinner tonight. Serving will be from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the church building, 4386 Dixie Hwy. There will be a special price for children.

LEONARD FALCONE

Band Festival Set Tomorrow

3 Cities to Take Part in Clinic, Mass Concert at Brandon High School

Bands from Goodrich, Imlay City and Brandon High Schools will take part in the festival, which will include sectional and mass rehearsals in the afternoon and a public concert at 8 in the evening.

At 1 p.m. the sectional rehearsals and clinics will begin. Guest clinicians will be Gerald Bartlett, Caro High School music director, on brass instruments; Charles Hills of Fowlerville High School, woodwind instruments; and a member of the Flint Symphony Orchestra directing percussion instruments.

Guest conductor for the 8 p.m. massed bands concert will be Leonard Falcone, band director of the Michigan State University. He also will conduct the massed bands at 3 p.m.

LOCAL DIRECTORS

The portion of the concert presented by Imlay City will be directed by Morgan O'Dell. The Goodrich band will be directed by Henry Wood, and the Brandon Township band by Gerald Irish.

An impressive number of overtures and marches by the great master composers is aimed at providing the audience with an eventful evening.

An interlude between the afternoon program and evening performance will be provided in a banquet for all who take part in the festival. This will be put on by the band parents of the Tri-City clubs, and will begin at 5 p.m. in the gymnasium of Brandon High School.

Scouts to Hold Fish Fry Tonight at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Boy Scout Troop 31 is sponsoring a fish fry at the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd., today. Serving begins at 5:30 p.m.

Proceeds will be used to repair tents and purchase additional camping equipment. Children under 6 accompanied by parents will be admitted free.

Romeo Election Set Tomorrow

School District to Vote on Raising Tax Limit, $750,000 Bond Issue

ROMEO—Voters of the Romeo Community School District will be faced with the question of supporting a $750,000 bond issue for a new high school when they go to the polls tomorrow.

They also will vote on whether to continue the four-mill operating tax for another 10 years.

Three questions will appear on the ballot, The first will seek permission to raise the property tax limitation to eight mills from 1956 through 1975.

The second is the question of extension of the four-mill operating tax levy, and the third asks authorization to issue $750,000 worth of bonds to cover construction of the high school, purchase of the 22½ acre site and possible remodeling of existing buildings.

The bond retirement tables prepared by the board of education show that although voters will be asked to vote on a maximum tax levy of 8 mills, only 2.5 mills will actually be levied the first year and 6.3 mills in subsequent years.

Current plans of the board reveal that some $600,000 of the total $750,000 bond issue will be used for actual construction of a 16-18 room high school complete with gymnasium. The remainder would be earmarked for purchase of the Mt. View site, architectural fees and other pertinent costs.

The Elementary Schools Club of Romeo and the Washington Parents Club plan a get-out-the-vote campaign on election day. Mothers from each school will call parents in their areas to remind them of the election, and transportation for voters will be furnished in both communities. Those who need rides to the polls are requested to phone PL 2-2984 in Romeo and ST 1-9911 in Washington.

The three precincts in the district are located in the Washington Township Hall in Romeo, the Washington Township Hall in Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A major in English, history and mathematics, Barbara holds a perfect attendance record for all four years. She has participated in the Junior and Senior plays, and is a member of the Math Club and the staff of the student annual. She also has been a cheerleader and a majorette in senior band, and served on the staff of the school librarians.

Plan Community Meal to School Foreign Youth

WEST BLOOMFIELD —The student council of West Bloomfield High School plans to raise funds to bring a foreign student to the school by putting on a community dinner Wednesday.

Serving for the dinner will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria, and the menu will include chicken pie, vegetable, salad and pie for dessert among other items.

Students will prepare the dinner and provide musical entertainment. The West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club will donate food items.

Proceeds will pay for the fare of a foreign student, expected to arrive in August and make his or her home with a family within the school districts.

Tickets should be purchased in advance, and may be had from any council member or at the Cass Lake Pharmacy in Keego Harbor.

Parisienne Ball Set Tomorrow at St. Patricks

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A touch of Paris will provide the setting for the Parisienne Ball to be held from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Saturday in the parish hall of St. Patrick's Church, Union and Round Lake Rds.

County GOC Coordinator Visits Air Defense Center

"There is an urgent need to get volunteers to man Ground Observer posts across the country," according to Mrs. Melvina Eberle, coordinator of Oakland County's 13 posts.

Mrs. Eberle of Milford, returned this week from a six-week trip to the west during which she visited 10 GOC filter centers and observer posts in most every town she and her husband visited.

Highlight of her trip which covered 17 states and 10,000 miles, was a visit to Colorado Springs, Colo. home of the Continental Air Defense Command.

Mrs. Eberle was assigned by the Air Force to coordinate Oakland County's posts on Jan. 1 last year. She has been active in GOC work since 1952 and Civil Defense for six years.

During her visit to Colorado she was invited to return by the commanding officer of the Civil Defense Command to give seminars to air force personnel explaining the role of civilian forces in air defense.

"During my trip I attempted to get information and material so Michigan posts could know what was going on elsewhere," she added.

There are 29,800 posts in the country and 516 in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan.

"I discovered on my trips that more people are beginning to comprehend the need of posts and that the threat of air attack is greater than ever," the coordinator stated.

After assisting in the construction of posts at Milford, South Lyon and Commerce, she is presently building one in Birmingham.

Band Concert Thursday at PHS

By VICKY MICU

Wednesday Pontiac High School students returned from Easter vacation to face a whirl of work and activity.

The Band Concert slated for next Thursday night is top news as band members rehearse vigorously and frequently to ready themselves for this annual presentation. Dale C. Harris is directing the 90 odd instrumentalists in their tribute to the late Dr. Edwin Frank Goldman.

For seniors, this time of the semester means much work before many spring activities. Senior preliminary exams will take place in a few weeks prior to the senior boat trip May 17, 18, and 19.

In between the boat trip and June, seniors will be preparing for the annual senior prom, held this year on June 2.

Following the prom, seniors will be working on class day plans, announcements, caps and gowns, and the final big day, commencement at Wisner Stadium the middle part of June.

Biggest news at PHS outside of coming activities is the 12th annual magazine drive starting Wednesday, April 18. Students will be out to earn money for school projects and for personal prizes. Some things that magazine drive money has bought in the past are trophy cases, electric organ, athletic equipments and so on.

The second annual school Science Fair sponsored by John Youngpeter and the Linnean Society will be held April 13-14 in the PHS girls' gymnasium. Juniors took little time out during the Easter vacation for play. They worked fast and furious on J-hop decorations—playing up the theme, "Manhattan Mood." It will be held April 21.

Journalism students are planning for the annual Michigan Interscholastic Press Association convention which will be held April 20 at the University of Michigan. Tomahawk, Quiver and journalism class members will attend this statewide convention.

Dolphin club members, the girls' synchronized swimming group and swimming club at PHS will present their annual water show April 25, 26, 27, 28. Theme of this year's gala affair is "Aqua Myths," based on Greek mythology.

The vocal department is busy rehearsing for the forthcoming vocal concert May 8, 10, and 11. Theme is the annual "Say It With Music."

Pontiac High School students learned Wednesday that the trophy cases will hold another PHS team trophy, as the girls' fencing team brought back the high school revolving trophy for girls' team play.

A combined boys and girls meet was held at Lapeer Saturday for individual medals and for team trophies. The PHS boys' team lost the trophy to Lapeer which they won last year.

Bob MacDonald, Pontiac senior, captured second place in the boys' individuals, and Mary Ann Saghy of St. Frederick's, Pontiac, took second in the girls' division.

St. Fred Names Honor Students

Spinsters Spin Called Success by Juniors Sponsoring Dance

By BETTY BADER

The halls of St. Frederick High School were silent this past week as students were enjoying their 11 day Easter vacation. Student activity continued despite the holiday.

Juniors making top marks include Marie Lewandowski, James Mayworm, William Mitz, Michael Moloney, Donna Pudwan, Walter Quaries, Carol Shell, Nancy Tray, Margaret Drake, Karen Kergan, Mary Charlotte Kidd, Beverly Malinowski, Marjorie McHugh, Donna Moody, Geraldine Paddock, Mary Parle and Genevieve Zaha.

Juniors passed the word along that their dance "Spinsters' Spin" held last Tuesday was a big success. The boys have voted for more of that sort of dance as they paid no expenses.

A farewell party was given for our pastor, the Bishop Alixander Zaleski Thursday night. The Choral Club presented two numbers and a farewell speech marked the occasion.

Newsgatherer at SMH Relates Semester Events

By JANET ENGLISH

It's spring vacation at SMH, and time to review the previous activities that have taken place during the second semester.

The first major social event of 1956 was the "Sweater Swing" held Jan. 15. The juniors worked hard to make this dance, which benefited our athletic association, the success it was.

About the same time, the cast for the senior play was chosen and practice for the production, "Cradle Troubadour" which was presented to the public on Feb. 5-6, began.

Other red letter days for the "elite class" were those when the senior pictures were taken and when the caps and gowns, and cards and invitations were ordered.

Along with the simultaneous ending of the second marking period and first semester came the announcement that 6 seniors, 4 juniors, 18 sophomores, and 8 freshmen merited an honor roll rating.

NEW UNIFORMS

Junior varsity cheerleaders made history on Feb. 3, when they sported for the first time their new blue-grey V-neck sweaters which are decidedly different from the grey turtle neck sweaters that are distinctive of the varsity squad.

Slated for Feb. 13 was the senior sponsored "Bow and Arrow Ball" which netted for the CSMC $120. Highlight of this affair was the crowning of the king and queen, Bill Hall and Marge Bateman. They were chosen by the student body in a penny-a-vote campaign.

Paulist Fathers James E. Dixon and John Ritzuis conducted missions from Feb. 19 to March 4. The first week was set aside as instruction for the girls while the boys took part in the last week.

Our varsity cagers had a successful season. The boys copped co-championship in the Catholic Suburban League and also Class C District Championship.

Speakers at various assemblies have included Father. Frederic Gehring, C.M., an authority on conditions in China, and first class petty officer Cary who spoke on "The Armed Forces and My Life Plans."

Our pastor Father Michael J. O'Reilly's return after his long illness was a welcome event this semester. The celebration of the Sister M. Imelda rounds out the list of past important events.

Many activities are lined up at SMH for this spring to be accounted for in this column.

Fan Club Compiles Area Top Ten Tunes

The Teresa Brewer Fan Club and Arts Music Co., South Saginaw, compiled the ten top tunes in Pontiac this week.

1. Long Tall Sally, Little Richard
2. Mumbles Blues, Bobby Lewis
3. Magic Touch, Platters
4. Rock Island Line, Lonnie Donnigan
5. Little Girl of Mine, Cleftones
6. Crazy Little Places, Billy Williams
7. Heartbreak Hotel, Elvis Presley
8. Blue Suede Shoes, Carl Perkins
9. Lovely Lies, Manhattan Brothers
10. Boll Weevil, Teresa Brewer

Top five predictions of the group include:

1. We All Need Love, Percy Faith
2. We Go Together, Moonglows
3. Saints Rock 'n' Roll, Bill Haley
4. I'll Never Know, Four Ladds
5. Charlie Was a Boxer, Four Aces.

Merchants, Faculty to Vie at Lake Orion

Next Friday, April 13, the Lake Orion faculty will battle the merchants in a basketball game at 8 p.m. in the Lake Orion High School gymnasium.

Proceeds will go to the scholarship fund. Refreshments will be available and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Activity Swamps Area Highs After Spring Vacation

A little sorry to come back so soon from vacation, area high students are nevertheless planning many activities to make this the best spring ever.

Avondale High School juniors will present their class play "Caught in the Villain's Web" Thursday at 8 p.m.

Tomorrow the set will be put up and painted under the supervision of student producers, Wilbur Janoschka. Sunday will find Bruce Forbush and his properties committee bringing all the props to school.

AT WALLED LAKE

Walled Lake's senior high had seven students on the honor roll with all A's. They are Kathleen Dunne, Art Howland, and Shirley Wooden, seniors; and Peggy Emmert, Angelina Perani, John Muth, and Carol Lumsden, sophomores.

The varsity club is sponsoring a carnival Saturday to raise funds for a whirlpool. Activities will begin at 4:30 p.m. in the senior high gym and end at 11 p.m. The public is invited. Entertainment will be provided for all ages. Included in the various activities, are a bake sale, a showing of "kiddie movies," a white elephant sale, and games for all ages with a variety of prizes.

Spring has brought baseball, track and golf, now under way in Clarkston. Reports have it that there's quite a bit of interest on the part of everyone in these sports and this is a good indication of a promising season.

An oriental theme is being planned for the junior-senior program taking place in the latter part of this month.

AT LAKE ORION

Student Council members have decided on pins which they are ordering. The group is also securing health posters presented in amusing cartoons to help students remember such things as posture, eating and sleeping habits, etc.

The Honor Committee is on its last step in preparing a brochure for the student body considering participation in the National Honor Society.

Tonight a gym exhibition will be presented by physical education teachers, Ted Seal, Charles Baynton, Harold Carlin, Miss Pauline Kroneck and James Hoag. The public is invited to the event scheduled to start at 8. Proceeds will go toward the athletic scoreboard.

Juniors are sponsoring a "Spring Hop" tomorrow night under the guiding hand of James Egnor, class advisor. Barbara Allen is general chairman. The dance which starts at 8 will be held at Al Hanoute's showroom with tickets available at the door. The public is invited.

Play to Open at WTHS

BY JEAN LIIMATTA

Spring vacation ended early for Waterford Township High School Dramatic Club members, who resumed rehearsals early this week for "Strange Boarders," which opens tonight.

This three-act comedy, under the direction of Patty Looman, will be presented both tonight and tomorrow evening in the high school auditorium at 8.

The play takes place back in the "roaring twenties," Virginia Valentine holds the role of Cordelia Tuttle, an optimistic and plain woman in her thirites. Candy Fenway is played by Carole Tynan; Professor Harriman, Dunstan Smith; Lou Dagger, R. D. Bisbner; Captain Winkle, Dick Dexter; Joey, Bob Coonfield; and Smiley, Roger Bennett.

FOILED AGAIN — Avondale High juniors have entered the final week of rehearsal for their class play, "Caught in the Villain's Web." Here in a scene from the old time "mellerdramer" are (left to right) Amy Carol Cooper, Ken Sheehy, Jackie Pyle and Linda Burt. The play will be presented by the group at 8 p. m. next Thursday.

DAHLIAS FROM SEED — Almost every color except blue is represented in the assortment of flowers coming from a single packet of Coltness Hybrid Dahlia Seeds. Gardeners generally regard dahlias as specimen plant subjects that require staking and special winter care. These are dahlias that are remarkably fine bedding or border subjects, growing only a foot and a half to two feet tall and that you can grow readily from seed instead of tubers.

Garden Group Hears Speaker

Detroit Woman Covers Planting of Perennials at Waterford Meeting

The Waterford Township branch of the National Farm and Garden Association heard Mrs. Herbert Dyer of Detroit speak yesterday on Perennials for Successive Bloom at their meeting at the Maceday Lake home of Mrs. Gil Every.

Mrs. Dyer has been gardening for several years and has taken numerous courses in gardening beside much practical digging in the soil.

"A person needs to develop a sculptor's sensitivity of line, form and mass," Mrs. Dyer said, "the feeling for the architect's line and the feeling for the color of a painter."

Mr. Dyer told her audience of 20 members that rhythm and accent are two important rules to remember with the perennial garden.

She stressed the use of a background to show the perennial garden off best. If space is large, use trees and shrubs, she said, but if your space is small, stick to smaller shrubs and walls or fences. A green background shows off the flowers best, she said.

Some of the shrubs good ofr backgound include the vibrium for hardiness and fragrance, the new hybrid lilacs and mock orange and kerris for year round beauty Mrs. Dyer advised.

She gave plans for making and shaping a perennial garden best and stressed having good soil. "If it isn't good, make it good," Mrs. Dyer said. "It's far better to put a 10c plant in a $1 hole than vice versa."

For color in a garden, Mrs. Dyer said, use one dominant hue and two harmonizing colors. These a gardener should select by seasons. Mrs. Dyer also told the Farm and Garden members what to plant in different rows of the perennial garden and were such a garden will be shown off to the best advantages.

From the Garden Editor

The smell of spring is here and it's aroused quite a few of our local gardeners. Clipping, pruning and getting the earth ready for an influx of seeds, has been a major occupation this week.

Mrs. William L. Miller, 4205 Elizabeth Lake Rd., plans to have a border of red and white geraniums and rose geraniums all around her patio. Mrs. Miller took her plants in last fall, kept them in a breezeway room and started slips this spring. She plans to set them out as soon as the ground is safe.

An interesting bit of information comes from Mrs. Miller. She says her rose geranium leaves are fragrant, but she has a better purpose for them than their pleasant odor. "When I make jelly in the fall, I add one rose geranium leaf to each jelly glass. It gives such a nice flavor," she said.

There's an idea for you!

Selection of a proper site for your rosebed is your first consideration this year. Remember, roses favor full sunshine except in the hottest months. Four to six hours of full sun are sufficient to produce excellent results and plants which catch the morning sun will be ideally located.

In removing the last of the winter mulch and debris which has blown into the garden, work carefully so that growing tips of emerging plants will not be damaged by metal tools.

Word from Mrs. Daniel Lutey of Baldwin avenue tells us that any men interested in belonging to the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michiman Horticultural Society, should contact her husband. Gardening with organics was the topic of last night's meeting, Mrs. Lutey said, and something of vital interest to men who take their gardening seriously.

Use Plants for Color

Some plants are so reliable, so spectacular, they're worth using over and over to provide color in the most important parts of the garden. Azaleas are in this category, as well as day lilies, geraniums and petunias. Handled skillfully, they deserve great credit as garden mainstays.

Corkbark Softest Tree

The softest American tree is the Corkbark fir, found in parts of Arizona and New Mexico. It has a specific gravity of 0.28.

Garden Club to Meet Monday in Farmington

The Farmington Garden Club will hold its April meeting at 1 p.m. Monday at Knox House, Farmington Road at Eleven Mile. This will be guest meeting.

Care Makes Good Lawn

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks Supervisor
Parks and Recreation Department

This is an opportune time of the year to talk about the basic principles involved in lawn maintenance. This means the constant care of the lawn throughout the growing season to keep it healthy and pleasing to the eye.

The first step in lawn maintenance starts with a general clean-up. Rake your lawn to remove any debris, to scratch up the surface soil and to remove old loose grass that is matted about the grass roots.

During the fall and winter months continuous thawing and freezing goes on. This action does some good, but it loosens the grass roots from the soil. Rolling the established lawn should be done once in the spring to bring the roots of the grass in contact with the soil. Rolling the lawn is not to flatten out the raised areas as some people think.

Lawns need to be aerified to allow air and plant foods to enter the region of the grass roots which are essential for good growth. There are many new aerifiers on the market for aeriating the soil or one can use the old spiking method.

Established lawns needs to be fertilized at least each spring. If your soil is poor or your lawn is in shaded areas, summer and fall applications may be needed. A complete fertilizer should be used, which consists of nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium; these elements leave the soil more rapidly than several of the others.

NEED FERTILIZER

A fertilizer such as 10-6-4 seems to answer the needs of most lawns. The rate of application depends on the soil condition, but generally speaking, two to four pounds per 100 square feet will suffice. After fertilizing, water the lawn area thoroughly; never apply fertilizer when the grass is wet.

If you have low depressions in your lawn, apply top dressing using top soil with a more sandy nature to facilitate spreading and to do away with caking. Spread your top soil evenly to a depth of about ½ inch and rake into the lawn. Do a little each year until the proper level is reached.

It is a good idea to sow seed after top dressing on established lawns at a rate of three to four pounds per 1000 square feet. To establish new lawns, sow seed at a rate of four to six pounds per 1000 square feet. In sowing grass seed divide the seed equally, sowing one half of the amount one way and the other half perpendicular to the first. This insures a more uniform distribution of seed.

Grass needs approximately one inch of water per week for good growth. When it becomes necessary to water your lawn in periods of drought, water it about two times per week. Light watering should be avoided because a moist surface favors crab grass growth and does not get down to the root area.

Mowing is a must as we all know. In cooler weather set your mower to a height of one and one-half inches and two to two and one-half inches in hot weather. If too much of the leaf surface is removed it cannot manufacture food to produce a good healthy growth of grass with a deep root system.

Quizzing the Gardener

A—Yes. Results are better if the case is ventilated by maintaining openings large enough to prevent moisture from fogging the glass. Either slide the glass covering to allow an inch opening at one end or raise it by placing three or four wedges between case and glass. The amount of ventilation is determined by the room temperature and the weather.

Q—Have potted many tulips for early flowering indoors. Can they be planted out of doors when they have finished blooming?

A—Tulips and daffodils and similar bulbous plants may be kept and planted in the garden in spring. However, since it often takes three to four years to come back into bloom it does not seem wise to bother with them. While indoors keep the plants in active growth, remove flowers as soon as they fade, place in a cool light room and don't let the soil get dry. Plant out of doors in mid-spring six inches apart and four inches deep, choosing a well-drained soil in a sunny location.

Q—What are the cultural requirements for the night-blooming cereus?

A—The night-blooming cereus should be kept in a light place at all times, an east window, with a room temperature of about 65 degrees. The plant is grown like most cactus; that is, potted up in rich soil but one very well drained with sand and kept on the alkaline side by means of lime. Water very little in winter and reasonably well in spring and summer, when it is in active growth. Keep dry rather than wet and be certain that no drainage collects in the saucer.

Q—Please tell us what can be done to improve the size and color of the blooms on a seven sisters climbing rose.

A—Seven sisters is a variety of the common multiflora rose, and it is doubtful if any treatment would improve the quality of the blooms. This old gardener suggests replacing it with a real climber such as blaze, silver moon, Dr. Van Fleet, or new dawn.

African Violets Show Slated Monday, Tuesday

The Borders Cities African Violet Club is presenting its fourth annual African Violet Show Monday and Tuesday in the Ernst Kern Auditorium in Detroit.

On Monday from 12:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. exhibitors will show violets from every color of single blossom varieties to double blossom, multiple crown, novel plantings and artistic displays.

Violets will be judged in 20 classes and judging will take place Monday morning. Mrs. J. B. Gray is director of the show committee.

MSU Tests Reveal

Tomato plants that have been "chilled" in a cold frame probably will produce more early tomatoes than those pampered seedlings from the greenhouse according to MSU tests.

House plants should be watered when the surface of the soil is dry.

'Grass Roots' Farming Talk Set for Tonight

A "grass roots' 'discussion of the national farm program will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Attending the public forum will be Congressman George Dondero of Royal Oak, and Charles F. Figy, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture in Washington.

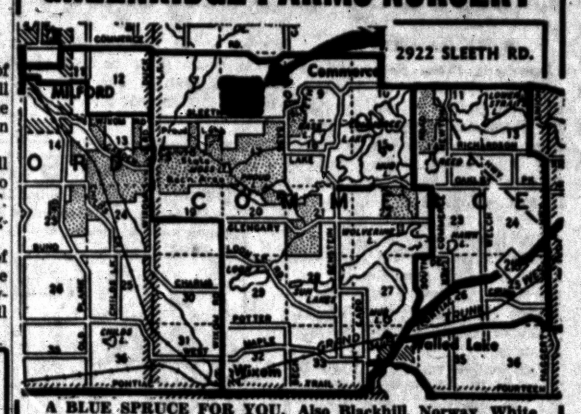

Chairman Fred J. Beckman of Milford has emphasized that the meeting is non-political, and anyone interested in agriculture will be welcome.

Dulles Obliquely Complimenting Truman?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Secretary of State Dulles, in talking about the Russians' switch to a softer line, sometimes sounds as if he had just been reading George Kennan, it is an oblique tribute to former President Truman.

Dulles seldom pays any direct tribute to Truman. He almost never mentions him. But he says the Russians have been forced to change their tactics by the U.S. policy of foreign aid and military alliances.

This policy was laid down by Truman. It is largely followed by the Eisenhower administration. This is flattering to Truman, as he acknowledged this week, and it might seem enough to make him content.

But it doesn't. What he prefers, he said, is for the Eisenhower administration to come up with some new program to meet changing conditions because the times call for it.

Kennan was the State Department's top expert on Russia and director of its policy planning staff when the cold war was starting in 1947. That was the year Truman began the foreign aid program which President Eisenhower continues.

Kennan has been credited with thinking up the idea which became U.S. policy. It's been called "containment." The idea was simple enough: stop Russian expansion by building a ring of military alliances around the Soviets. Eisenhower and Dulles have continued and increased the military alliances begun by Truman.

Writing in the magazine Foreign Affairs in 1947, Kennan stated the policy:

"The main element of any United States policy toward the Soviet Union must be that of atial vigilant containment . . ."

Although in the 1952 presidential campaign Dulles criticized long-term, patient but firm andmere "containment" as futile, the day after election he reassured "our friends abroad who will fear lest our foreign policies change."

Dulles not only didn't change those policies, he pursued them.

Kennan, predicting in his 1947 magazine piece what containment would accomplish, said: ". . . The United States has it in its power to increase enormously the strains under which Soviet policy must operate, to force upon the Kremlin a far greater degree of moderation and circumspection. . ."

Last Feb. 20 Dulles said there had been a "notable" shift in Soviet foreign policy because the Russians "have been thwarted by the free world." He called the military alliances heavy pressure on the Soviets.

On Feb. 24 he said Russian policies of intolerance and violence "have gradually ceased to produce results. . . The free nations have banded together. . . The result is that they (the Russians) have got to revamp their whole creed from A to Z."

At times Dulles doesn't seem sure whether the Russians are revamping "their whole creed from A to Z" or whether they are just shifting their tactics because they think they can catch more flies with molasses than with Stalin's vinegar.

On April 3 Dulles said: ". . . Insofar as I am aware, the Soviets, while they have attempted to disavow much of Stalin's program and many of his acts, have not themselves come up with any substitute . . .

"The downgrading of Stalin does not of itself demonstrate that the Soviet regime has basically changed its foreign or domestic policies."

Anglers Hit Paradise as Fishing Bans Lifted

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—While the fish — and the water — last in Orange Lake, it's paradise for fishermen. All restrictions are off.

Jim Reed, education officer of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said fish are dying from lack of oxygen in the diminishing waters of the lake in north-central Florida. It is eight feet below normal level.

In two weeks since the bag limit was taken off 100,000 pounds have been caught with hook and line Ninety per cent of it was blue gill bream.

Freed of 2 Slayings Committed in 1940

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — On the ground he was insane at the time, Karl Solberg, 56, has been acquitted of slaying two shipmates 15 years ago.

Texas Gordon, third mate of the freighter Lena Luckenbach, and deck engineer William Koepp were shot to death Dec. 8, 1940. Police said Solberg, Norwegian quartermaster, apparently was driven into a rage by taunts of crew members of German extraction over the Nazi invasion of Norway early in World War II.

Without being tried on the murder charge, Solberg was adjudged insane and committed to Mendocino State Hospital at Talmage, Calif. Recently released, he was brought yesterday before Superior Judge Beach Vasey, who acquitted him of the murder charge, held that he apparently is sane now, but remanded him to the sheriff's custody pending a formal sanity ruling.

Father, 84, Keeps Vigil at Bedside of Son, 15

STANTON, Ky. (AP)—A constant bedside vigil was kept today by an 84-year-old father whose son is feared to be a victim of rabies.

Roy Dunn, 15, became ill a week ago and has been subject to violent seizures. The family said he told of being bitten by mad dogs.

Menifee Dunn, father of 24 children, also is worried about five others. A representative of the state health dept. will use tests on Roy to decide whether four brothers and a sister should take antirabies treatments. All were bitten by the boy while caring for him, they said.

Goes Down Punching

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Frank Kohler recently reported a tussle with robbers—for the fourth time in his 80 years of life.

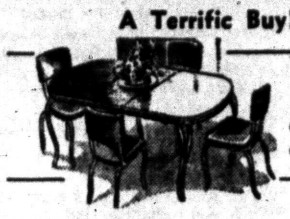

He said he was set upon by two young men and was thrown to the ground. They got only 12 cents but Kohler lost his glasses and a ring of keys in the scuffle.

But, he added, "I got in a few good punches."

Many Newsmen Have Risked Lives for Truth

By International News Service

Crusades against racketeering, crime and vice spell "public service" as well as "good copy" to newsmen across the nation.

And sometimes they spell death or permanent injury to the reporter, editor, broadcaster or publisher who sparked the fight.

Early Thursday morning in New York, labor columnist Victor Riesel, faced with possible blindness from acid thrown in his face, joined a long list of newsmen who suffered for their determination to write and speak the truth as they knew it.

It was shortly after midnight on July 16, 1926 that Don Mellett, editor and publisher of the Canton, Ohio Daily News, stepped out the side door of his house to put his car in the garage.

Then—four shots, and Mellett fell. He died a few minutes later, his head cradled in his wife's arms.

The 36-year-old crusading editor had pulled no punches in his news and editorial columns. He had identified speakeasies were prohibition "booze" and drugs were sold and where prostitution flourished.

More than that, Mellett named Police Chief Seranus A. Lengel and Detective Chief Floyd Steitenberger as protectors of the vice ring.

DEATH CLEANED UP

But while Mellett's stories and editorials had failed to clean up his city, his death did.

A new mayor special prosecutors for the county and state and a private detective solved the murder and broke up the vice ring.

A paid underworld killer, Patrick McDermott of Pittsburgh, was convicted and sentenced to life for the slaying. He escaped from prison twice, but was recaptured both times.

The two police offficers and an outwardly respectable hardware dealer in the town, who was the financial backer of the vice ring, also were sentenced to life terms.

A similar case of law officer and vice spot led to the killing of W. H. (Bill) Mason, a veteran newspaper man and broadcaster, in Alice, Texas, on July 29, 1949.

ACCUSED SHERIFF

In a broadcast, Mason had accused the county sheriff of not interfering with an alleged disorderly house because the building was owned by a deputy sheriff.

The next day the deputy shot Mason on a city street, and then turned himself in.

Minneapolis police records still list as "unsolved" the murders of the publishers of two weekly newspapers over a 15-month period that began Sept. 7, 1934.

On that date Howard Guilford, of The Saturday Press and Pink Sheet, fell under a blast from a shotgun. He had charged Minneapolis was a wide-open town for vice and gambling.

Liggett launched a heavy attack at the then Minnesota governor, the late Floyd Olson, and his powerful political machine, accusing the politicians of protecting the rackets.

On Dec. 8, 1935, the publisher was shot before the horrified eyes of his wife and daughter.

Giant Radiotelescope Will Explore Planets

SYDNEY—The Australian Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization is building a giant radiotelescope in the form of a cross with arms nearly a mile long. It hopes the scope may help solve mysteries connected with the two planets nearest earth—Venus and Mars. The organization's radio astronomers hope to pick up radio waves from these planets and to "bounce" radar signals back from their surfaces to the earth.

Gadget That Chews Developed at MIT

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A contrivance that "chews by electricity" and imitates all the movements of the human jaw has been devised at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Officially labeled a "strain gauge," the device includes an ordinary set of teeth placed in movable jaws, denture style. The gadget is expected to chart new paths in food texture that will lead to quality controls never before believed possible.

Austria Gets Arms

VIENNA (INS) — Heavy arms and equipment, originally destined for American troops, are being shipped from the NATO port of Leghorn to Austria for the new Austrian army. American officers are co-operating with Austrian officials in the transfer operations.

Paintings Again Take Big Jump in Values

NEW YORK — For the second consecutive year, works of art rose sensationally in value in 1955. French postimpressionist paintings scored the widest advances. Paintings by Braque, Dufy, Gauguin, Matisse, Modigliani, Pascon, Rouault, Seurat, Soutine, and others, which jumped 150 to 200 per cent in value in 1954, added another 100 per cent to their value in 1955.

Canal Biggest Asset

PANAMA—The Panama Canal is Panama's biggest economic asset. About one-third of the country's income is derived from the wages of Panamanians working in the Canal Zone, from cash spent by United States personnel there, and from U.S. annuity payments for the canal.

Shag-Lovers, Arise! Bolger Neglects You

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — You mustn't point—but Ray Bolger, the Hollywood dahnce genius, can't do "the Shag."

Back in 1936—when Alf Landon was about to be elected President—I was a pretty keen kid with "the Shag," which was kind of a Statue of Liberty with the St. Vitus.

RAY

Bolger—aiming to go back on TV—opened at the Waldorf Empire Room the other night saying Yogi Berra'd wished him good luck at "the Umpire Room."

Though glorious and inspiring, Bolger, a man of 51, was cruelly unfair in not recognizing us Shag-lovers. Shag-lovers, arise; let's demand equal time.

I was once an American yout' myself. 'Twas the Shag that expressed my yout'. I dunno about his yout', but I know about my yout'.

★ ★ ★ ★

Limber-legged, shoulder-shaking Ray made a concert out of "the Old Soft Shoe," and I loved his Black Bottom, Charleston, etc., but can a man who ignores such a beautiful dance as "the Shag" really be a genius?

"You laughed when I danced, now YOU dance—" he said at the end.

Bolger's wondrous performance made me realize that the best dancers today—Tony DeMarco, Gene Kelly, even Donald O'Connor—are getting up there. The older they get, the better they dance.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jackie Gleason moved his vacation to Mexico City . . . Gale Storm's "Cruise Ship" TV show'll replace the Dorseys' "Stage Show" next year . . . Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier invited 125 friends each to the wedding, but aren't giving out the full list.

Jayne Mansfield—off the April 15 TV spec (a tribute to baseball) because Bob Hope won't be on it (they were to do a sketch)—gets paid anyway and will do another later.

Countess Franchetti dated Franchot Tone at El Borracho before leaving for Italy to try acting . . . Gina Lollobrigida'll come to the U. S. around June 1 to plug "Trapeze."

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Discretion is the art of closing your eyes to an embarrassing situation before someone closes 'em for you.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Tony Pettito tells of the penniless couple who got married. They were so poor the bride had to go on the honeymoon alone.

Reece Says T-Men to Investigate Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS) — Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn), said today the Treasury Department is investigating the Fund for the Republic to see if its tax-exempt privileges should be revoked.

He said the department is looking into charges that the Fund—established by the Ford Foundation—is dominated by Communist sympathizers.

* * *

In a speech before the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons at Columbus, the Tennessean also said that the huge Rockefeller, Carnegie and Ford fortunes are being used by tax-exempt foundations to discredit the American system of government and to "promote socialism."

Stalin Portraits Still Selling as May Day Nears

MOSCOW (INS)—Portraits of Stalin were selling today at about the same rate as at this time a year ago as Moscow prepared to decorate itself for the annual May Day celebration.

The agency for the Union of Soviet Artists noted that the big flood of commission orders are not due until next week.

But it said that from first indications the Kremlin's De-Stalinization campaign has not affected early orders for campaign-size portraits of the old Georgian which have adorned every public building and shop window on May Day.

The agency added, however, that the demand for double portraits of Lenin and Marx was more brisk than usual. Most popular decoration of all for Communism's biggest holiday may be the twin medallion of Lenin and Stalin.

Meanwhile, a visit to the Lenin-Stalin Mausoleum in Moscow's Red Square reveals no change in the underground crypt where the embalmed bodies of Lenin and Stalin lie in glass-sided coffins side by side.

Stalin still wears the resplendent uniform of the "generalissimo" and two gold star medals of a "Hero of the Soviet Union."

The familiar portraits and his unchanged position in the great mausoleum reflect the Kremlin's policy of carrying out De-Stalanization by slow steps.

Over 4,000,000 visitors and 12,800 exhibitors are expected at Paris' 1956 Trade Fair.

Circuit Court Jury Ends Term Today

A circuit court jury which has been in continuous session since Feb. 15 ends its term today, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said. Jury cases have been tried before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Next jury will be called April 17, Ziem said, to try cases before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Old Form, New Life in Red Wings' 3-1 Victory

DETROIT (AP)—A skinny, bespectacled rookie fresh from the bush leagues and a grizzled general manager have herded the Detroit Red Wings back into contention for the Stanley Cup Hockey title.

The Wings showed their old-time fire and spirit last night in subduing the Montreal Canadiens 3-1. It was their first win against two losses in the best-of-seven series, but it was an important win and one that may have revived the defending cup kingpins.

Last night's contest was deadlocked 1-1 in the final period when 23-year-old Al Arbour came up with the puck after a scramble on the boards in the Detroit end.

A pass to Marty Pavelich, who outran Montreal's Bob Turner to sweep the puck over to veteran Ted Lindsay, and Detroit was off and running to victory. Lindsay got the puck in front of the Candiens' net and drove it past goalie Jacques Plante for the tie-breaker.

Obviously stung by the open criticism of general manager Jack Adams, the Wings clearly had all the best of it and beat the Canadiens at their own game—close checking and dare-devil offensive bursts.

Adams made no attempt to hide his disgust after Tuesday's 5-1 pasting in Montreal that sent the Wings two games down in their drive for a 3rd straight victory in the cup finals. "Some of our guys have lost their desire," he said.

Adams said he wondered, too, if "they have any pride left." He told newsmen the players "just quit hustling." He went so far as to say that some of the players seemed to be more interested in outside businesses than in hockey, and suggested they might as well quit the game altogether.

But the Wings didn't quist last night. They got the first goal at 14:27 of the first period when Red Kelly took a long pass from Gordie Howe and shoveled a hard shot that Plante missed with his skate.

Montreal's Jean Beliveau, the National Hockey League's leading scorer this season, tied it up at 19:20 of the period with a fine individual effort. He took a pass from Provost, beat a Detroit defenseman and then outmaneuvered Detroit goalie Glenn Hall.

It was all even until midway through the final period when Arbour refused to be shut out of the play on the boards.

Pavelich caught his pass at about mid-ice, outskated Turner and gave the puck to Lindsay. the goal came at 11:36. Howe sewed it up with an easy score at 18:12 when he beat Doug Harvey and blasted in a 15-footer that Plante never saw. The Montreal goalie didn't even move as the puck whistled into the nets to make it 3-1.

And Adams, who has often said this season that "this club can be just as great as it wants to be," told reporters: "This club did the job that it is capable of doing."

There was no celebration in the Wing dressing room. Howe was reminded that he had said after the two losses in Montreal that "we can keep going if we win the first one at home." The big Red Wing veteran said simply: "Now we have just three more to go."

Detroit coach Jimmy Skinner said "we're not giving the Cup away. We've shown them we can beat them. We took their Sunday punch. We were the more threatening club and we played three periods of good, sound hockey."

And Skinner felt he had found a new defenseman in the young rookie. Arbour had been off skates for nine days when the injury-riddled Wings called him up from Edmonton for Tuesdays game in Montreal. Last night's game was his first full contest in the NHL.

In the Red Wing training camp in 1953, Arbour was hailed as one of the most promising defensemen ever to hit camp.

But although he was with the Wings part of two seasons, he never had a real opportunity to show what he could do. But he got it last night, and Skinner said "we must definitely consider him for a regular job next season."

The series resumes Sunday night at Detroit's Olympia, and the people who had been talking about a Montreal sweep were thinking that the series might develop into another down-to-the-wire battle. In both 1954 and 1955, the same two clubs went seven games before the Wings took it all.

The series switches back to Montreal after Sunday's affair.

RECEPTION FOR LINDSAY — Ted Lindsay (center) was smothered by his Detroit Red Wing teammates after he scored what proved to be the winning goal in the third period against Montreal last night. His tally made it 2-1. Howe scored later in the period to make it 3-1 for Detroit.

UM in Finals of Dixie Classic; Upset Colgate

DURHAM N. C. (AP) — Coach Ray Fisher and his Michigan baseball club found themselves in the finals of the Dixie Baseball Classic much to the surprise of every one including Ray and his gang. The Wolverines will oppose Wake Forest, NCAA champions of last year in the title game here tonight.

Playing under the lights at Durham Athletic park last night, the Wolverines knocked off the favored Red Raiders from Colgate, 13-6.

None of the Wolverines had ever player under the arcs before, but it certainly didn't dim their batting eyes as they pounded 18 hits, including two doubles, four triples and two home runs.

The two homers were hit by Bob Sealby, sophomore from Grosse Pointe, who drove in six of the Wolverine runs. Steve Boros from Flint continued his heavy sticking with two triples and a single in five times at bat driving in two more runs.

Don Poloskey, Dearborn junior, let the Red Raiders down with seven scattered hits, keeping the good work which he started against the Quantico Marines last Sunday when he allowed only five hits in winning by a score of 5-1.

Michigan slugged its way to victory over Colgate by taking a 5-2 lead after three innings and continuing the assault against three opposing pitchers.

A triple by Steve Boros and a sacrifice fly by Al Sigman in the second inning produced the first Wolverine counter and Bruce Fox drove in Sealby with the second run.

In the third frame triples by Ken Tippery, Steve Boros and Sealby's first home run added three more counters to the Wolverine total.

Boros walked in the 5th and strolled home on Sealby's second homerun of the contest.

The Wolverines then subsided until the eighth inning when they grouped six hits for five more runs.

Venturi Leads Masters

Ken Venturi is the young man's name and he showed the veteran pros a thing or two about golf with his opening round 66.

The 24-year-old San Francisco stylist's six-under-par was only two shots over the record for the tough Augusta National course and it gave him a one-stroke lead over defending champion Cary Middlecoff going into today's second round.

Tied for third with 68s were a pair of regular circuit riders, Shelley Mayfield and Tommy Bolt.

Ben Hogan, the two-time Masters winner who holds the tournament record of 274, was next with a 69. Patton, amateur sensation here two years ago, shot 70 for a tie with Doug Ford, the PGA champion, and Bob Rosburg, who tied for fourth here last year.

Showers fell intermittently.

Not everyone found the course, with its par of 36-36—72 stretched through 6,950 yards of woodlands, easy to master. Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret, the only three-time winners of this tournament, had to settle for 73s.

Playing with Patton, the North Carolina lumberman who came within a whisker of winning the 1954 Masters, Venturi used an eagle and five birdies in fashioning his brilliant round.

No amateur ever has won a Masters, to the chagrin of founding father Bobby Jones, the greatest amateur of them all. Perhaps Venturi will fall back into the pack. But for one day, at least, the pros were looking at the heels of a Simon Pure.

Sharp iron play marked Middlecoff's game. He was particularly proud of his birdies on four of Augusta National's tougher holes where his longest putt was 16 feet.

Venturi's 66 is the best ever posted by an amateur in the Masters. But Middlecoff had a 65 last year and Lloyd Mangrum set the all agreed the Augusta National played easier than they had ever known it. The sprawling greens, usually fast, were slow.

"You could make chip shots and go for putts you usually wouldn't dare try," said Hogan. He added that he felt conditions were right for someone to better his 274 of 1950.

Venturi got his eagle on No. 13, the "graveyard of the Masters." He laced a four-wood shot to the green 18 feet from the cup. His putt carried up a rise in the big green, broke slightly to the left, and plopped in for an eagle three.

"I owe this round to Byron Nelson," Venturi said. Nelson, a former Masters champion has spent considerable time working with the West Coast whiz and the youngster seems to have learned his lessons well.

MY PRETTY PUTTER — Joyous Ken Venturi plants a kiss on his putter and gets a handshake from his partner Bill Patton after his first round low score of 66 in the Masters tourney at Augusta. Patton shot a 70, two under par yesterday. Venturi is a car salesman from San Francisco.

Huge Pitcher Stops Cranes

The touring Cranbrook baseball team went down to its 6th defeat in seven starts on the Southern trip by dropping a 6-2 decision to the University of Virginia freshmen yesterday at Charlottesville, Va.

The Cranes failed to reach third after this, with only a pair of doubles by Dave Cooper as the lone marks in the hit column.

Herb Bush the Virginia pitcher, who stood 6-7 and weighed 250 pounds, was never in trouble in the final 6 frames.

PWBA to Hold Final Meeting of Year Sunday

The final open meeting of the season for all members of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association will be held Sunday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall, Voorheis and Telegraph roads. Starting time is 1:30 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded to winners of the recent city tournament and the 1957 tourney site is scheduled for selection. The election of officers and other important business matters are also on the agenda.

Coach Blasts Violations in Recruiting

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Missouri University's basketball coach says there are more recruiting violations now in college athletics than at any time since he started coaching in 1932.

Wilbur (Sparky) Stalcup said the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. ought to spend some of its money smoking out the evil.

"The time has come for a test case," he declared. "The time has come when some boy should be declared ineligible and some school should have its schedule suspended.

"If you're caught in a violation now, you get a little slap on the wrist and go right on winning."

Stalcup unleashed his last as principal speaker last night at Topeka's annual All-Sports Banquet, which honors letter winners from Topeka high schools and Washburn University.

He declared:

"It's time to decide whether we want college sports or professional sports. It's tough now to be honest and win.

"Alumni and friends of some institutions are over-emphasizing sports and doing everything it takes to win.

"I'm not pointing the finger at anybody, but I think I could.

"Big boys are expensive and the guy who gets them has the big advantage.

"It's no secret how it's done. Alumni make under-the-table deals and they're hard to trace. Some institutions lack the integrity to make the alumni do the right thing. They hide behind a screen by saying other schools do it.

"A coach can't say he doesn't know what's going on. Some coaches just lack the integrity to abide by the rules. We coaches know what's going on. We know the asking price and the bidding level for the big boys. It's a disgrace.

"The parents and the boy know it's wrong, too. Some parents will sell their kids down the river."

Stalcup didn't say anything directly about it, but his basketball team next season will go up against Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, a 7-foot sensation from Philadelphia who starred this year as a freshman at the University of Kansas.

Stalcup said his own conference, the Big 7, might well spend some money on an investigation, too.

Giambra Faces British Boxer

Sullivan Opponent in TV Battle Tonight as Joey Shoots for Top

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Determined to fight his way to the top of the middleweight division, Joey Giambra battles rugged Johnny Sullivan of England in a nationally televised (NBC) 10-rounder at War Memorial Auditorium tonight.

Giambra, a 24-year-old Buffalo N.Y. youth, was a high-ranking 160-pounder until he went into the Army for a two-year hitch that ended last December. He was an overnight 7-5 favorite.

Giambra fought five times while in the Army. One was with Bobo Olson last summer, while Olson still was champion. Joe made a good showing and got a contract with Bobo for a title fight. That went out the window when Sugar Ray Robinson upset Olson to regain the crown.

Giambra has 42 victories, 4 defeats and a draw. Sullivan, 23, has won 63, lost 18 and 3 draws. Sullivan has 35 and Giambra has 24 knockout victories.

Joey's last fight was a decision over Al Andrews in January at Norfolk. John L. Won a split decision here March 7 against Jackie LaBua.

The bout will be judged on a rounds basis.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

It was 31 years ago that Bill Cane's doctor thumped him thoroughly, checked his blood pressure, listened to his heart and then gave Bill a lot of tch-tch-tching. . . . "You're killing yourself with work. Keep this up and you won't be around much longer."

Bill then had lived a half century. He was a contractor with many big jobs to his credit. He was up early with his crews and he worked late. He had the drive of a dynamo. At first he pooh-poohed the suggestion he retire . . . "I'm too young to sit on the shelf and listen to my arteries harden," he told the doctor.

But the more earnestly the medic talked the more Bill listened. He ended up with a typical generous gesture. He turned over his thriving construction business to his partner and turned to the love of his youth—harness racing.

★ ★ ★ ★

I don't profess to know much about this psychosomatic business but there must be something to the theory you live longer if you enjoy the things you do from sunrise to sunset.

BELIEVED IN LIVING A FULL LIFE

Because I worked so closely with Bill Cane for so many years I learned a lot about his philosophy. Told by his doctor 31 years ago he was all washed up, he lived to be 81 and, believe me, Bill didn't pass up many pleasures of the men's bar or the buffet table.

"I don't believe in hoarding my days like a miser," he said one night when a friend remonstrated with him as he donned a yellow slicker to plough out through a driving cloudburst and inspect his track . . . "I've got alcohol in the old radiator."

He took over the promotion of the Hambletonian in 1930 and soon had crowds packing his rickety, roofless tracks at Goshen. He sold them atmosphere.

He encouraged the tag Corn Tassel Derby. He insisted city people enjoyed the change of scenery. Later he quickly switched to "comfort and convenience."

As president of Yonkers Raceway he soon had the turnstiles clicking as millions poured through. It is too bad Bill could not have hung on another season or two to see the dream track that today is on his own drafting boards.

★ ★ ★ ★

He lived 81 full years mainly because he was smart enough to heed a doctor who brusquely told him work was killing him at 50 and it was time to play—or perish.

It's Chiefs Against Field Tonight at Indoor Relays

Five Saginaw Valley Conference foes and half a dozen other Class A. high schools hope to harness Pontiac High's runaway track horses tonight in the Saginaw-Saginaw Arthur Hill Invitational Relays at the Central Michigan College fieldhouse in Mt. Pleasant.

Lansing Eastern, Alpena, Traverse City, Muskegon, Midland, and Dearborn Fordson will join the remainder of the SVC in attempting to gain team honors and at the same time throttle the talent-laden Chiefs, who have launched another "mow 'em down" campaign.

State Class A champions last season by a wide margin, Wally Schloerke's thinclads got off to an auspicious beginning this spring by dominating the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti two weeks ago.

Defending champion of tonight's meet, Pontiac will be favored to repeat. The Chiefs rolled up 69½ points in these same relays at CMC last year while runner - up Flint Northern was scoring 30.

Twelve events are scheduled tonight, starting at 6-o'clock and the PHS cindermen will enter all but the pole vault. The versatile Hyes Jones, who starred in the Ypsi meet, will lead the contingent of speedy Chiefs into the indoor competition.

Sorry, Press Only Usher Tells Prexy

DETROIT (INS) — A determined young usher at the Detroit - Montreal Hockey playoff last night in Detroit took a well-dressed man by the arm and demanded credentials as he tried to enter the press box.

The usher, who did his best to turn the man back to the stands blushed a very deep red when the fan in question turned out to be Clarence Campbell, President of the National Hockey League.

AAU Seeking Site for Swimming Championship

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) is seeking a site for its outdoor swimming championships "somewhere in the Midwest, near Detroit, where the Olympic trials are scheduled."

This was revealed yesterday by Ray Daughters, chairman of the AAU men's swimming committee. He admitted, however, his committee was "having trouble" finding a sponsor.

Doug Harvey Faces Arrest

DETROIT (INS)—Montreal Canadien defenseman Doug Harvey was threatened with arrest in Detroit today as the result of an injury to a Detroit Red Wing fan with whom he fought near the end of last night's Stanley Cup playoff hockey game.

Harvey left his seat on the Montreal bench during the contest, which Detroit won 3-1, and inflicted a three-inch cut below the eye of Steve Kemeny, 37, of Detroit. Kemeny told police his only offense had been to taunt the Montreal player for being on the ice for all three of the Detroit goals.

Kemeny said he would appear today to ask for a warrant charging Harvey with assault.

Sports Briefs

Of 103,000 seats in the Rose bowl, only about 34,000 are located within the limits of the two end zones.

Long Island's 1936 basketball team that won 39 straight had only one player who was taller than 6 feet one inch.

Majors Interested

Four Cities Interested in Rookie League Teams

SEAFORD, Del. (AP)—Four cities were ready and at least four more willing today to set up baseball's first organized "rookie league."

At a meeting with Jake Flowers, spokesman for seven major league clubs interested in the idea, this picture was drawn last night by municipal representatives:

Ready to operate this year—Milford, Del., and Salisbury, Cambridge and Pocomoke City, Md.

Willing to spend money on park facilities if the majors assure them of long-range support — Laurel, Del., and Centreville, Crisfield, and Easton, Md.

"It looks highly favorable that something will jell this year," said Flowers after the meeting. A former National League infielder and coach, Flowers has been mentioned for the post of director of the new league — if it becomes reality.

He said the proposal was based on the desire of major league clubs to perpetuate the minors as a training ground for new hands and the desire of baseball fans in this area to see local teams in action. The colorful, old Eastern Shore League (Class D), like so many minor leagues unable to withstand further financial losses after World War II, folded in 1950.

* * *

Under the rookie league proposal the parent team would foot the bill for the entire operation of a farm club whose town provided a park with adequate lighting and other facilities. The league would be only for players with no previous professional baseball experience.

Herb Score Has Indian Sign on Don Mueller

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians' strikeout artist, has made quite an impression on Don Mueller, New York Giants' outfielder.

Mueller says that if the Indians and Giants meet in the World Series again this year the Giants will win in five games instead of four as they did against the Tribe in 1954. He concedes one victory to Score.

FIREBALLER — The spring showing made by Herb Score has experts predicting that the Cleveland sophomore lefthander will blaze through the American League in 20-game strikeout style.

Harris Ready to Gamble With Bertoia

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Manager Bucky Harris appeared ready to gamble today that Reno Bertoia and Wayne Belardi have the respective answers to his second base and left field problems.

While both are new at their current positions, they have come closer to showing Harris what he considers a major league performance at second and in left than any others.

Bertoia, a 20-year-old converted shortstop, has played about a dozen games at second.

Belardi, 26 and a first baseman by trade, asked a chance in left and got it, after it appeared he had been shut out at first by Earl Torgeson and Jack Phillips.

Bertoia, a former bonus baby signed off Windsor, Ont., sandlots, was ticketed for the minors until Detroit became desperate for a second baseman.

A shortstop all his brief career, Bertoia was called back by the Tigers after being sent to the Charleston (W. Va.) farm club and playing a dozen games or so at second. He showed splendidly in Detroit's last four exhibition games in Florida.

In 16 times at bat, Bertoia came up with five hits, giving him a .313 average.

Harris, however, was a little surprised there wasn't a really long wallop among the hits.

"Reno is one of our strongest hitters," the manager said. "If he can hold up his end of the hitting and not hurt us too much in the field, we may have something."

Backstopping Bertoia in case he falters will be switch-hitting Buddy Hicks, a 29-year-old veteran with 10 minor league seasons behind him, and Fred Hatfield, who secondbased for the Tigers last season but hit only .232.

Belardi, purchased from Brooklyn in 1954, is a lefthander all the way. And Harris has been looking all spring for a long-ball hitting lefthander to team in left with Bill Tuttle in center and Al Kaline in right field.

Belardi hit 13 homers in 51 games with San Francisco and 10 in 74 games with Buffalo last season, but hasn't been able to belt one out of the park in spring training.

Belardi in 12 games has collected only eight hits and is batting an anemic .222, but his fielding in the outfield has been little short of sensational.

The Tigers broke spring training camp at Lakeland, Fla., yesterday and flew to Houston to begin a 7-game swing home.

Harris hoped to give his 31-man squad, the size of which permits plenty of experimenting, some work in the Houston baseball park today. The Tigers meet the Houston Buffaloes of the Texas League in games Saturday and Sunday, then go to New Orleans.

The Detroit Crisis Club announced last night it was planning a big "welcome home" for the Tigers April 16. It will include a downtown parade and a public luncheon.

Detroit opens the American League season April 17 in Briggs Stadium with the Kansas City Athletics.

Nashua Entered in Excelsior Running

NEW YORK (INS) — Nashua, champion three-year-old of 1955, will run in the mile-and-a-sixteenth Excelsior Handicap at Jamaica on April 14.

Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons disclosed yesterday that he will bring Nashua back to the races much earlier than anyone expected after his stunning fifth-place finish in the recent Gulfstream Handicap.

Warren Spahn Gets Call in Starting Role

Spahn, with a 3-0 spring record, held the Brooks at bay in an earlier spring meeting. Grimm indicated then the veteran hurler may see regular season work against the defending champions.

Middies Uphold 'Principle' Over Use of Colt Stadium

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Naval Academy, standing on its "principle" has refused to take up an offer by Carroll Rosenbloom, wealthy Baltimore Colts owner, to underwrite a sellout of the Navy-Notre Dame game here Nov. 3.

The Colts, who have scheduled a professional football game with the Washington Redskins in the same Stadium Nov. 4 despite wording in the Navy contract forbidding it, say they will leave settlement of the dispute up to the Baltimore Park Board.

The Park Board will meet today to decide the issue.

Navy's contract for Baltimore Memorial Stadium forbids any stadium event five days before or one day after a scheduled Navy game.

Rosenbloom said he did not want to discuss "at this time the right and wrong of the matter," but was making his offer because "what we need now is a solution to our immediate problem."

The Navy-Notre Dame game was a 60,000 sellout the last time it was played here in 1954. The academy said its contract guarantee on use of Memorial Stadium—in effect for years—is to protect its ticket sale from any conflict.

Shortly after Rosenbloom made his offer, Capt. Elliott Loughlin, Naval Academy athletic director conferred with Rear Adm. William R. Smedberg III, academy superintendent, then issued a lengthy reply.

Brushing aside Rosenbloom's offer with the comment it had been given careful consideration, Capt. Loughlin said "The main issue is a matter of principle . . ."

He said the Colts knew of the Navyd guarantee and schedule the Nov. 4 game despite it.

"We are confident that the (Park) Board will continue to act in the best interest of the Naval Academy and the City of Baltimore," Loughlin said.

Skipper Linksmen Bow to Royal Oak

Despite an even par 74 round by Jack Reynolds, Waterford High School's golf team bowed to Royal Oak Thursday afternoon at the Pontiac Country Club in the opening match of the season for both schools. The Acorns won by three strokes, 330-327.

Reynolds' effort, good for medalist honors, failed to offset better-balanced shooting by the Royal Oak foursome. John Wettlaufer fired 79 for the Skippers, Dale Wheeler carded 81, and Cleland Charboneau had 96. Dallas White led the Acorns with an 80.

The Indians' top hitter in the 1955 season was Al Smith who had a mark of .306, sixth best in the league.

$100,000 Handicap

Sailor Favored at Bowie

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Trainer Preston Burch might be smart if he leaves the saddle a little loose on Sailor in the $100,000-added Campbell Handicap tomorrow.

The Brookmeade Stable colt has scored two of his most important racing victories while the jockeys rode virtually bareback.

The saddle slipped around under jockey Hedley Woodhouse during the Pimlico Special last fall. He was hanging on to Sailor's neck while the colt finished first.

The same thing happened March 17 to jockey Willie Hartack aboard Sailor in the Gulfstream Park Handicap. Again Sailor won. Back in fifth place was the great Nashua.

That victory is expected to make Sailor the favorite among a probable field of eight in the Campbell Handicap.

Sunny Skies for Alpine Ski Meet

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Winter sports enthusiasts preview 1960 winter Olympic courses today with the start of the three-way National Alpine Championships at this Sierra ski area.

The weatherman promised sunny skies and there was an abundance of powder snow for the two-mile downhill, first event.

The course, starting from the top of 9,600-foot Squaw Peak, drops 2,500 feet. Several built-in obstacles are expected to toss competitors up to 100 feet through the air.

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Young Herb Score apparently has put blinkers on his fast ball, and this could provide just the impetus, needed to carry the Cleveland Indians to the American League pennant.

If the rival New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox have been looking hopefully for signs that the 22-year-old southpaw fireballer may be stricken by the "sophomore jinx," they can find no comfort in spring developments to date.

Score, the American League's "Rookie of the Year" and leading strikeout specialist in 1955, continues to live up to his appellation as the "new Lefty Grove" and to Manager Al Lopez' prediction that he'll be baseball's greatest pitcher in two years.

The towering young lefthander from Lake Worth, Fla., pitched five scoreless innings against the New York Giants yesterday at Corpus Christi, Tex., in helping the Indians to their second straight 2-0 shutout. His steaming fast ball under full control, he gave up only two hits and fanned seven.

This marked the second shutout of the spring season for the Cleveland sophomore, who was credited with a 10-0 decision over the Giants March 17, and his fourth victory against no defeats.

Except in this game, and the night contest at Houston in which the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Kansas City Athletics 6-1, the games yesterday showed the hitters—as is quite normal at this stage—well ahead of the pitchers.

A total of 21 home runs were hit in the six games, with the biggest explosion at Albany, Ga., where the Chicago White Sox beat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-7, with each team getting four homers. The White Sox home runs were by George Kell, Luis Aparicio, Sherm Lollar and Minnie Minoso, snapping a four-game losing streak. Joe Frazier, Solly Hemus, Bill Sarni and Red Schoendienst homered for St. Louis.

The Chicago Cubs collected five home runs — two each by Ernie Banks and Clyde McCullough and another by Don Hoak—in blasting Baltimore 16-4, at Alpine, Tex. Milwaukee socked Brooklyn's world champions 8-6 at New Orleans while the feeling between the two teams remained sensitive as a result of Wednesday's near brawl. Hank Aaron and Bobby Thomson homered for the Braves, Charlie Neal and Roy Campanella did it for the Dodgers.

* * *

There were two home runs—by Washington's Whitey Herzog and Cincinnati's Bob Thurman—in the Redlegs' ninth inning 4-3 comeback victory over the Senators at Camp Gordon, Ga. Harry Simpson hit a fifth-inning home run for Kansas City's lone run and one of the team's two hits at Houston where Pittsburgh won on the sharp pitching of Dick Littlefield, who was relieved by Nelson King in the ninth.

Warriors Take 3-1 NBA Lead

Philadelphians Outlast Fort Wayne, 107-105, in Best-of-7 Playoffs

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors need only a home-court victory tomorrow night to wrap up the National Basketball Assn. playoff championship.

The steady Warrior forward scored 30 points last night as Philadelphia outlasted the Fort Wayne Pistons, 107-105, to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 series. His previous totals for the series were 28, 27 and 27.

In winning, the Warriors broke a four-year jinx. They hadn't beaten the Pistons here since February, 1952.

It also was their first road victory in this season's playoffs. They beat Syracuse in the Eastern Division series by trading home victories, the schedule giving them the odd game at Philadelphia.

* * *

The Warriors have the same edge if this set goes the distance but if their home floor magic holds tomorrow night it won't go any further. A Fort Wayne victory would send the series back here Sunday afternoon.

Teen-Agers Capture Five Women's Swim Events

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teenagers won all five events in yesterday's opening program of the women's National AAU indoor swimming championships, and the most sensational winner was the youngest, 13-year-old Sylvia Ruuska.

Competing in her first national meet and representing the Berkley, Calif., YWCA, Miss Ruuska set a new AAU and American record of 5 minutes 14.9 seconds in wresting the 400-yard individual medley title from Shelley Mann.

Miss Mann is 18 and swims for the Walter Reed Hospital Swim Club of Washington, D.C. She dominated the meet a year ago with three titles and set 400-yard medley record of 5:18.6. Miss Ruuska, who set an American record of 5:16.8 last week at Miami, shattered that and Miss Mann's AAU mark.

The other teen-age champions crowned opening day are Wanda Werner, 15, of Walter Reed, 100-yard freestyle; Carin Cone, 15, Ridgewood, N. J., High School sophomore, 200-yard backstroke; Mary Jane Sears, 16, Walter Reed, 250-yard breaststroke; and Ann Cooper, 17, Los Angeles Athletic Club, 1-meter diving.

Miss Sears repeated her 1955 championship and wiped out the old record for the 250-yard breaststroke—lowering it to 3 minutes 22.1 seconds. Gail Peters held the old mark of 3:27.4.

Duffy Smiles Over Spartan Prospects

MSU Gridmen Begin Spring Drills Monday

25 Lettermen Returning From Last Year's Rose Bowl Team

Daugherty, who has a habit of grinning cheerfully while he talks sad about his football talent, was reviewing MSU prospects.

The Spartans open spring drill Monday and will work for four weeks with the windup an intersquad game in Macklin Stadium May 5.

Daugherty was reminded that he has 25 lettermen returning, lost only 12 players of the 44-man squad that went west to win the Rose Bowl game from UCLA and is missing only nine of the 26 who saw action in the big bowl.

"They do look more promising than a year ago," Daugherty said, "but of course they might not go as well. We have a good nucleus to work from. But we have to find replacements at five or six important spots. Six of our regular starters in the first 11 are missing."

All-American quarterback Earl Morrall, full back Gerry Planutis, center John Badaczewski, tackle Norm Masters, guard Buck Nystrom and end John Lewis are the first stringers gone.

Other senior lettermen who have played their last college game include halfback Gerry Musetti, full back Gary Lowe, tackle Leo Haidys, guard Dale Hollern and guard Embry Robinson, who was hurt in mid-season.

Michigan State has one of its greatest halfback potentials in recent football history in the one-two punch of Walt Kowalczyk and Clarence Peaks — a power-packed pair of bruisers.

Behind Peaks and Kowalczyk there are a bunch of fast, pony-type halfbacks striving for recognition in Dennis Mendyk, Billy Kane, Don Zysm, Jim Wulff and Rudy Gaddini.

Tanker Seeks 'Grand Slam'

Four Champs Trying to Defend Titles in AAU Swim Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (AP)—Four champs, determined to defend their titles, and Jiro Nagasawa of Japan, who recently lowered the world's 220-yard butterfly stroke record, compete today in the National AAU men's indoor swimming meet.

Three of the champs — Ford Konno, 220-yard freestyle; Yoshi Oyakawa, 100-yard backstroke, both of Hawaii; and Gerry Harrison, ex-Ohio State diver, were favored. There was some question whether Bob Gawboy, former Minnesota star, could repeat in the 220-yard breaststroke, however, based mainly on lack of competition this season.

Gawboy, the most colorful performer a year ago faces a serious challenge from Dick Fadgen, North Carolina State sensation, who has won the Eastern and NCAA, and is shooting for a "grand slam."

Eliminations in all seven events were scheduled for this afternoon with the finals tonight, the midway mark in the three-day program.

'56 Football Rules on Way to Colleges

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—The National Assn. of Collegiate Commissioners opened a four-day meeting here yesterday with an announcement by Chairman Fritz Crisler of the NCAA Football Rules Committee that the 1956 rules were being mailed in printed form to colleges this week.

The Michigan University athletic director made the announcement at a session devoted to a general discussion of football rules changes.

Crisler noted that there were few changes to effect the game itself. "A greater attendance at college games all over the nation is the best testimony to this fact that the college game is the paramount event in the fall," he added.

Gets the Job—Maybe

Segura Meets Gonzales

2 Panchos in Net Finals

CLEVELAND (AP)—For the third time in seven years, the finals of the pro tennis tournament here tonight will match Dick Gonzales of Los Angeles against Francisco Segura of Ecuador.

Gonzales, who lost to Segura in 1952 but defeated him the following year, is after his fourth straight championship. Segura also won the crown in 1950, when the event was inaugurated.

In last night's semifinal matches Gonzales defeated Rex Hartwig of Australia 23-21, 21-18, 21-18, and Segura easily trimmed Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, 21-13, 21-10 21-16.

The one-service limit and 21-point scoring drew blasts from both Gonzales and Trabert. They said this would be their last year of participation in the pro tournament unless these innovations of last year are dropped.

Tournament Promoter Jack March contends the one-service rule and the 21-point scoring make the competition more pleasing to the spectators and produce closer matches by offsetting somewhat the advantage of the men with powerful services.

Segura and Gonzales will team up as partners after their singles championship match tomorrow night and oppose Trabert and Hartwig. In last night's doubles semifinals, the Segura-Gonzales twosome eliminated Carl Earn of Los Angeles and Frank Parker of Milwaukee 21-16, 21-9, 21-14, and Hartwig and Trabert defeated Frank Kovacs and Don Budge of California 21-19, 21-19, 21-16.

Redskins and Vikings Meet on Track Today

By BILL CORNWELL

Track teams from Milford and Walled Lake High Schools lift the lid on their 1956 spring sports activities today when they clash in a dual meet at Milford. The meet begins at 4 p.m.

Russ Gabler's Redskins, defending Wayne-Oakland champions and league winners twice in the past three years, appear to have another powerhouse in the making, despite a recent automobile accident which injured Jim Green and Jim Davidson, two of last season's top point-makers.

Green, star high and broad jumper and shot performer, suffered a slight fracture of the left leg and will be out of action until mid-season. Davidson will compete today in the high jump and high hurdles, but at reduced effectiveness.

Sprinter Lee Averill, quarter-miler Del Munson, miler Jim Cook, and pole vaulter Jerry Van Rossen are among the seasoned veterans back in the fold and newcomer Andre Lavoy, a freshman, has been impressive in the high jump and quarter-mile. Another top prospect, miler Larry Ridgeway, is ineligible.

Walled Lake, coached by a new face this season in the person of John Koczman, finished 2nd in the Inter-Lakes League a year ago behind Southfield. The new mentor was reluctant to discuss this season's possibilities, but a handful of returning lettermen won't hurt.

Quarter-miler Dick Woodworth, Larry Hughes in the hurdles and high jump, pole vaulter Jerry Revitzer, high jumper Dave Bratton, Ed Bode in the dashes, and distance runners Joel Bailey and Gerald Avery head the list of seasoned competitors. Newcomer Jim Wilson has also impressed in distance runs.

Other promising newcomers are Dick Barnett in the dashes, Bill Hosely in distance events, and Laurrie Passmore, a quarter-miler.

Koczman, a 1953 graduate of Michigan Normal where he put the shot for the Hurons, previously coached track squads at Rochester and Quincy. At Quincy last season his team won the Little "C" League title.

Birmingham Bowlers Roll Thursday's High Doubles

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Efforts by 214 bowlers in the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress Tournament failed to dislodge any of the division leaders yesterday.

The day's best single total was fired by Walter Lerminiaux of Hamburg, N. Y., who recorded a 642 series on games of 233, 184, and 225.

Thursday's leaders in doubles were Frank Lopresti and William Gillespie of Birmingham, Mich., with a total of 1,197. Lopresti had 569 and Gillespie 628. They were 137 pins behind leading Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago who have 1,331 points.

Lerminiaux bowled the day's best all events score with 578 in the team event, 597 in doubles, and 642 in singles for 1,817. The division is led by Lillard with 2,018.

Muscarello's Cleaners of Niagara Falls, N. Y., had a 2,861 series rolling the best team score. They are far below leading Falstaff Beer of Chicago which has 3,092 pins.

Jack Ciresi of Buffalo, rolling in the team event, shot a third game 277, the tourney's fourth highest game, as he hit 10 strikes before leaving the 2-5 pins on a light hit.

Deer Control Bill Appears Dead in State Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Despite all the sound and fury, the 1956 legislature turned out little in the way of important conservation legislation.

As this was written, the most significant piece of lawmaking this year—the deer control bill—appeared dead.

If nothing comes out of the capitol on this subject in the final hours of the current session, there is still a remote—very remote chance for action before the legislature's final adjournment May 10.

The bill, which would give the conservation commission power to set special deer seasons throughout the state, is tied up in a House-Senate conference committee. Even after the legislature goes home, the committee can still try to end the deadlock over the bill.

The legislature passed bills to:

1. Extend provisions of the Horton tresspass act to roads. This bill makes it illegal to hunt or carry loaded firearms on roads unless the hunter has permission of farmers owning adjacent land.

2. Ban the importation of San Jaun Rabbits, a hardy breed used to train beagles. Farmers feared the rabbits would get out of hand and destory their crops.

4. Give the conservation commission $5,000 to study the establishment of new fish hatcheries to restock the Great Lakes with pickerel, trout and whitefish. Commercial fishing of these species has been virtually wiped out by the sea lamprey.

In the matter of appropriations the legislature gave the conservation department more money than it has in past years, but not as much as the department asked.

Appropriations for state park improvment totaled some $1,500,000, nearly twice the amount appropriated last year but about half the sum requested by the commission.

"The capital outlay appropriations won't meet the need but the department fared pretty well in appropriations for operations," said Wayland S. Osgood, deputy director.

The legislature appropriated about nine million dollars in hunting and fishing license money and seven million dollars in general fund for conservation operations.

The list of conservation bills defeated by the legislature is much longer than the list bills passed. These included:

1. A measure allowing the department to set up six experimental game areas of up to 40,000 acres each. The department would have used these areas to test different hunting regulations before trying them out throughout the State.

2. Various bills dealing with the regulation of motor boats, including one to give local units power to set speed limits and one providing for registration of motor boats.

3. A bill making it illegal for owners of duck blinds fixed to the bottom of Great Lakes waters to prevent anyone from using their blinds.

4. A bill to require a license for fishing on the Great Lakes.

5. A measure tightening state control over grazing of livestock on state-owned lands.

Badminton Champion Has Task in Defending Title

Alston faces Hammergaard Tansen, Copenhagen, Denmark, who defeated him in a recent match in London. In the quarterfinals last night, Alston defeated Mike Hartgrove, Pasadena, 15-2, 15-3, and Hansen eliminated Donald Davis, Seattle, Wash., 15-3, 15-6.

In the other semi-final match, Vic Mitchell, San Diego, meets Finn Kobbero, 1955 Danish titleholder from Copenhagen. Second-seeded Mitchell eliminated Canadian champion David McTaggart, Vancouver, last night, 9-15, 15-13, 15-13. Kobbero halted third-seeded Bill Berry, San Diego, 15-5, 15-10.

In the ladies semifinals, Lee Chadbourne, Baltimore, will be striving for her third straight upset against defending champion Margaret Varner of Boston. In the other match, Lois Alston, wife of the men's defending champion, meets Judy Devlin of Baltimore.

Texas Relays Attract 1,200

Many Records Expected With Kansas Teams as Favorites

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Relays emphasize the Olympic season as they swing open today with a flock of records possible in a bristling round of preliminaries.

Hurdler Bill Curtis of Texas Christian, sprinter Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian, big Bill Nieder of Kansas, who puts the shot into the next county, and his weightman teammate, Les Bitner, who throws the javelin like a rocket, are on the program in trials that will lead up to a big batch of finals tonight.

Records, too, may come in some of the relays, particularly the 440-yard event where Baylor and Texas are aiming at a fine 40.6 clocking, and where Abilene Christian College appears destined to eclipse a 41.4 in the college division.

The 29th edition of the Texas Relays lasts two days and one night, winding up tomorrow afternoon with 23 championships. Fifteen are to be determined tonight.

Kansas, with its great individuals and three outstanding distance relay teams, should win the most honors but Oklahoma A&M has a power-packed team, host Texas is potent with crack sprinters and Abilene Christian College is expected to sweep the college class.

Five harness race drivers earned $100,000 or more in 1955.

Benson Takes 'Pot Shots' at Rigid Farm Supports

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson stuck to his guns last night, taking pot shots at high, rigid farm price supports and calling for flexible supports and a soil bank program.

Then he flew to Washington, in an unplanned move, as House-Senate conferees announced that the election-year farm bill would probably be out of the committee today and ready for House debate Monday.

Benson had come to Salt Lake City to attend the annual conference of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church. He is a member of the church's Council of Twelve Apostles.

It's the first time he has missed the church conference since he became a member of the Cabinet in 1953. But he said he had to do it "in response to an official call to duty."

He left shortly after giving an address on farm policy, sponsored by farm group organization in Utah and Idaho.

In his talk he attacked "some political opportunists who have capitalized on the popularity of the soil bank and propose to tie to its coat tails a variety of unsound measures which, in calmer times, would never be enacted."

Some of these measures, he said, were mandatory 90 per cent of the parity supports, dual parity for wheat, corn, cotton and peanuts, multiple price plan for wheat, mandatory price support for feed grains and a boost in price supports for dairy products.

He strongly urged Congress to enact a flexible price support program along with the soi. bank plan.

Flexible supports, he said, have been endorsed in the past by both Republicans and Democrats and "every secretary of agriculture for 20 years."

He said that in 1948, President Truman and the National Farmers Union both favored the "principles" of flexible supports and "modernized" parity.

"If President Truman and the Farmers Union thought that way in 1948," he said, "Why don't they feel that way today?

But from Denver, the president of the National Farmers Union, James G. Patton, challenged Benson to prove the NFU "once supported the sliding scale system of price supports."

Patton said the "National Farmers Union has never stood for an 'economy of scarcity' which is what the sliding scale means when you boil it down. The delegates to our national conventions have always called for 100 per cent of parity incomes . . . the secretary doesn't have the facts on his side."

Commies Claim Victory in Ceylon

First Round in General Election Shows Setback for Pro-West Party

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A Communist-backed coalition claimed victory today in Ceylon's general election as the first round of balloting spelled a sharp setback for Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala's pro-Western party.

Seven of Kotelawala's nine Cabinet ministers went down in defeat in the first of three days' balloting. The Premier himself was re-elected to Parliament by a much smaller vote than last time.

Of the 32 parliamentary seats decided the first day, 21 went to the Red-supported Peoples United Front coalition. It is pledged to oust British naval and air bases from this strategic island in the Indian Ocean and sever Ceylon's ties with the British Crown.

Only five of the first seats decided went to Kotelawala's United National party which controlled 54 seats in the last Legislature.

Opposition leader Solomon West Ridgway Dias Bandaranaike, whose coalition includes Trotskyites and fellow travelers, told newsmen he felt confident he would be Ceylon's next Premier.

Kotelawala's reverses resulted in part from opposition by Ceylon's Buddhist monks. They campaigned against him because he refused to postpone the election until after a May observance of the 2500th anniversary of Buddha's death.

The island's 3½ million voters will ballot for the remainder of the 95 seats at stake on Saturday and next Tuesday.

Banqueting Hazardous, but There're Rewards

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The occupational hazards of the civic club and banquet circuit had some compensations yesterday for Franklin Pierce (Chris) Whitcraft III, business editor of the Waco News-Tribune.

Machines Used to Count Acres

University of Wyoming Discovers New Method to Tally Farm Land

LARAMIE, Wyo. (INS) — The University of Wyoming has come up with a sure-fire rapid caculation method of determining how much ground implements cover.

The University says to get the acreage covered in a 10-hour day working with a plow, disk, or other equipment, measure the width of the implement in feet.

Multiply the width by the speed the equipment moves in miles per hour.

The answer allows time for turning, moving from one part of the field to another, and maintenance.

For example, take an implement with a working width of 10 feet operated at three miles an hour. To get the acreage covered, the system results in an answer of 30 acres a day.

To figure out how fast a piece of equipment is going, walk along beside it for 20 seconds at an equal speed. Count the number of normal steps taken and divide by 10. The answer is the approximate speed of the implement in miles per hour.

Rehearsal Uncovers Something Shattering

A large firecracker used as part of the sound effects was touched off, and the explosion blew out 35 windows of the Cody Municipal Auditorium.

Club officials said the firecracker either would be eliminated or its size reduced for the shows tonight and tomorrow night.

Pigeon That Can't Fly Hikes All Way Home

VISTA, Calif. (AP) — A homing pigeon that couldn't fly walked home, says a boy who had traded him off.

Dale clipped the bird's wing, to keep him around until he adjusted.

He arrived back at Rickie's three days later, footsore and bedraggled from the three-mile hike.

Nuclear Project Planned in Dixie

Paper Reports of New A-Powered Airplane Plant for Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—A 50 to 100 million dollar project to develop nuclear-powered aircraft in Georgia will be announced jointly Monday by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and the U.S. Air Force, the Atlanta Constitution said today.

The newspaper reported the huge project may result in development of "the most important step in aircraft history since man first flew."

Details of the cost were learned in Washington, the paper said, and the project will be financed jointly by Lockheed and the Air Force.

Site of the development will be a 10,000 acre tract of land near Dawsonville, Ga., about 60 miles north of Atlanta and 40 miles northeast of the Lockheed plant in Marietta. It is a farming section.

Lockheed officials declined comment on the project. The paper said reports indicate the experiments will include the use of atomic reactors and possibly an underground railroad.

Lockheed announced last December that it was moving its preliminary design studies of nuclear-powered aircraft for Burbank, Calif., to its Georgia plant.

Single Cigarette Costs Longshoreman $100

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — One cigarette has cost longshoreman Herbert Bollinger $100.

He was fined that amount yesterday after Harbor Department guards reported:

Bollinger was smoking in a no-smoking zone, inside a transit shed.

Moored alongside the shed was the Grace Line's Santa Adela, with a cargo of dynamite in its holds.

The red grouse is native only to Great Britain although it is related to the willow grouse, found from Scandinaivia to Siberia, and also to the ptarmigan.

Ray Milland to Produce, Direct, Act in 'Stockade'

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Ray Milland goes into the hospital Monday for minor surgery, but he goes knowing that Papa Yates, head of Republic, thinks that Ray is just about the best thing Republic has as a producer, director and actor.

Said Papa Yates, "Ray is one of the finest young producers in this industry." And so saying, he handed him his third Republic picture, "Stockade," by Franklin Coen.

When Ray gets out of the hospital he and Mal (Mrs. Milland) will go to Honolulu for a vacation and then when he returns he'll do the three jobs in one — act, direct and produce "Stockade."

The movies get the popular "Wild Bill Hickok" TV series with Guy Madison and Andy Devine. Guy says all Bill's romances will be incorporated in the feature including "Calamity Jane."

"We plan to spend $2,000,000 — and Columbia will release our picture. We have William Broidy as our producer and George Sherman will direct," said Guy. "The script is written and we are ready to go."

I said, "I suppose you want a boy since your first child is a girl." He and Sheilah (Mrs. Madison) expect their second child this summer.

ANITA WANTED

"By no means is Anita Ekberg out of 'Hollywood or Bust,' the Martin and Lewis epic," said Hal Wallis.

"She owes us one picture a year and all this amounts to is a personal appearance — she'd play herself. She believes she can work it out and I certainly hope she can, because if she turns this down it would mean a whole rewriting of the script."

Anita's fiance, Anthony Steel, planed out for England and Anita took the day off to spend it with him. They won't see each other for six weeks. He makes a picture in his native England.

If "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" turns out to be Darryl Zanuck's swan song as production head of 20th Century Fox — he bids farewell to his Alma Mater with perhaps the greatest picture he has ever produced.

Sloan Wilson's best seller of the average American wage earner, "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," and his desperate battle in the world of big business is brought alive magnificently by the wonderful performances of Gregory Peck and Frederic March.

GARY EYES FILM

Sharman Douglas beaued by Gig Young dined at the Bantam Cock.

This I have to hear — Joe Frisco on the Sunday Comedy Hour with a half hour of his life and wisecracks.

Dorothy and Bob Mitchum are giving their first Hollywood party, dancing and supper at Romanoff's, on April 27.

Leave it to Portland Mason, now she's going to modeling school! She's as cute as a button in "Man in the Gray Flannel Suit."

Marilyn Maxwell has been told by her doctor it will be still another month before her baby is born. Seems to me she's been waiting for that baby for years!

It will cost Janis Paige about $6,000 to keep a promise she made to Eddie's Nightclub in Kansas City. She was appearing there when she was paged for "Pajama Game," and promised to play a return engagement at the same salary. She will.

Maureen O'Sullivan returned today after 10 days in New York. She appeared on a TV show and presented the Togetherness Award to Mrs. Herbert Brownell, Mrs. Alben Barkley and other prominent Washington women.

Gee, It's Hot!

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—A 19-day heat wave with temperatures over 90 convinced the weatherman at Fort Wayne to do something about the weather instead of just talking about it. He got an air-conditiong unit for the Weather Bureau!

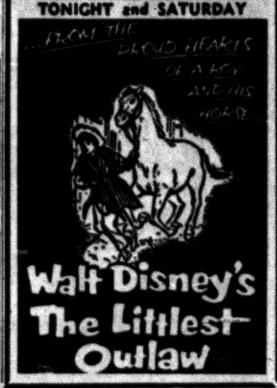

Counter Alarms French

PARIS (INS)—American military police in the area of the tiny French village of Seilhac were warned of a friendly appearing "man from Mars" who wore a peculiar helmet and carried a murderous-looking black box. The "spaceman" turned out to be an American of Chinese extraction on leave from his German-stationed military unit. The black box? The "Martian" was uranium-hunting, complete with geiger counter.

Population on Farm Down, Yields Rise

WASHINGTON — The nation's farm population has dropped 10,000,000 since 1910, but the national population has climbed from 92,000,000 to more than 165,000,000, an increase of 78 per cent. In the same period, however, farm production increased 75 per cent although acreage remained about the same and there are about 5,000,000 fewer farm workers. This means that farm output per worker has increased 174 per cent during the period.

U. S. Buys German Packaging Machines

Marshall Boden to Head New Assembly Facilities on West Coast

Marshall H. Boden, veteran GM production official, has been named manager of the future Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant at Sunnyvale, Calif., corporation officials announced today.

Prior to his new appointment, Boden was manager of the B-O-P plant at Linden, N.J., where he will be succeeded by Cornelius P. Blay of Detroit, director of standards for the three divisions.

A native of Detroit, Boden joined General Motors in 1933 and later held various supervisory positions in the Fisher Body Division. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

R. G. Middlesworth has been named resident comptroller of the new plant.

First announced last month by GM President Harlow H. Curtice, the Sunnyvale installation will ultimately turn out 100,000 Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs a year. Construction is expected to be completed in time to produce 1958 models.

Grain Futures Shift Nervously

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices shifted nervously in early dealings on the Board of Trade today with some contracts losing ground and others improving slightly.

Uncertainty as to the outcome of farm bill deliberations and the relatively high levels of some deliveries were among influences which prompted caution.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $2.35; corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, May $1.45⅝; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May 65⅞; rye ¼ to ½ higher, May $1.32⅝; soybeans ¼ to 1¾ higher, May $2.80 and lard 7 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.72-70.

Traders watched for news from the Senate-House conference committee putting in final work on a compromise price and soil bank bill. The committee was expected to wind up its efforts today with a bill ready for consideration of both houses when they reconvene Monday.

Identify Missing Plane, Report No Survivors

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Air Force reported tonight parachutists dropped on a Shikoku Island mountain peak had "positively identified" a missing American Flying Box Car and found no survivors.

Five Americans were aboard the C119 four-engine plane when it disappeared last Tuesday on a flight from an air base near Tokyo to south Japan.

Wildcat Strike Ceases

DETROIT (INS) — A wildcat strike which idled more than 6,000 Chrysler workers ended today when day shift employes returned to their jobs at the Jefferson and Kercheval plants in Detroit.

About 650 employes of the trim department at Kercheval plant struck yesterday, protesting the discharge of an employe. Employes in the other plants were sent home a half-hour later.

Amphibious, No Doubt

The applicant was a ship captain.

Stocks Advance in Moderation

Trading was slightly under yesterday's total of 2,950,000 shares.

Best performing major divisions were the chemicals, aircraft, oils and steels. Airlines were lower. Others were mixed.

Among advancing stocks were Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Philco, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Babcock & Wilcox, General Foods, New York Central, Gulf Oil (up around 5 points) and Johns-Manville.

A block of 20,000 shares of Columbia Broadcasting "A" traded at 26¼ unchanged.

Fruehauf Trailer, active and strong in the last two sessions, ran into profit-taking today. It opened on 4,200 shares off ⅛ at 36 and later extended its loss a little.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $190.80. Yesterday's average dropped back 80 cents after having established a record high mark the previous day.

GEORGE L. STAUDT

Area Man Promoted to Post at Hudson

The promotion of George L. Staudt to director of advertising and merchandising for the Hudson Motors Division has been announced by officials of the American Motors Corp.

Staudt lives at 611 Westwood Dr., Birmingham.

Formerly advertising manager, he succeeds George R. Browder who recently was appointed assistant sales manager for the division.

The new director joined Hudson in January of this year after serving as advertising manager of the Harnischfeger Corp. of Milwaukee, Wis. He formerly served in the same capacity at the Standard Register Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

He entered the advertising field in 1935 after graduation from the University of Illinois.

Stuart Haddrill Dies at Age 71

LAKE ORION — Stuart James Haddrill, prominent Lake Orion banker and a former village and township official, died late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Haddrill suffered a heart attack while working on a ladder outside his home at 272 S. Broadway.

S. HADDRILL

A vice president and director of Orion State Bank, the 71-year-old civic leader had been village postmaster from 1934 to 1945, and had served terms as a village councilman and as Orion Township treasurer and supervisor between 1923 and 1934.

A lifelong resident of the township, he was the son of James T. Haddrill, a pioneer of Orion Township. He was a life member of Pontiac BPOE No. 810 and member of Lake Orion Masonic Lodge No. 46.

He leaves his wife, Grace; a son, James of Lake Orion; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Turnbull of Detroit; and three grandchildren.

An Elks Lodge of Sorrow will be conducted at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Flumerfelt Funeral Home. Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. Sunday from Flumerfelt Funeral Home, and burial will be in East Lawn Cemetery.

Floyd E. Dalgleish

LAKE ORION—Service for Floyd E. Dalgleish, 67, of 604 Buena Vista, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from Bossardet Mabley Funeral Home, with burial in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery. He died yesterday.

Government Lets Reds Operate Detroit Office

DETROIT (AP)—The padlock was off the door to the Michigan headquarters of the Communist party today.

The one-room office at 2419 Grand River had been padlocked March 27 after a tax lien for $389,000 was filed in Federal Court here. Similar action was taken in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco.

Saul Wellman, Communist party leader in Michigan, began using the office as soon as it was opened.

Gas Station Entered, $46 Reported Taken

A gas station at 117 N. Cass Ave. was reported entered Wednesday night and $46 stolen from the cash register, Pontiac police said.

The owner, Austin Terry, of 439 Orchard Lake Ave. said that at least 80 cents and cigarettes were stolen from vending machines. A small hole was found broken in the front door glass, police said.

Place $1,077,300 Order

FLINT (INS) — The AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors today announced a $1,077,300 order from North American Aviation, Inc., for aircraft sights and computers. The new instruments, to be built in Flint, will be used on F-86-D Sabrejets.

To Act Formally on Farm Bill

Senate - House Group Meets on Compromise Election-Year Issue

A 10-member Senate-House conference committee meets to act formally on the tentative agreements it reached during two weeks of efforts to combine the differing programs of the two houses.

All the earlier decisions were open to revision in the final voting, but leaders of the conferees said they expected only minor changes, if any.

* * *

"We'll stay in session until we wind this up," said Sen. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the conference group. He expressed hope of approval by late afternoon.

Representatives and senators are due back Monday from a 10-day Easter recess. The House will act first, possibly Wednesday.

Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and head of its conferees, told newsmen he is confident the compromise will clear the House by a safe margin.

The conferees voted yesterday for a 51 million acre national corn allotment, eight million more than the acreage fixed by the Agriculture Department as the maximum needed. The bill would require farmers to comply with their individual planting allotments to qualify for either price supports or soil bank payments.

Frightened Horse Rears Into Auto, Injures Rider, 15

A dog ran out to Rochester road yesterday afternooon and nipped a horse, the horse reared into an automobile, and a 15-year-old girl rider, thrown to the pavement, was taken to Avon Center Hospital for treatment of head and neck injuries, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Hospital authorities said Janet Miller, of Rochester, is in good condition and will be released this afternoon.

The driver, Mrs. Mildred Edward, 55, of Lake Orion told deputies she was about to pass the horse and rider when the dog suddenly came from a field to nip at its flank.

Frightened, the horse jumped about five feet sideways into her car, she said. The horse apparently was not injured, according to deputies.

Family Dishes Depart With Wedding Guests

It read: "Mrs. Cilliers kindly asks those who took away the plates and crockery from the double wedding of her daughters last week to return same, especially the cake and dinner plates as they are a part of a dinner service given to one of the brides as a present.

"Also especially would I like to get back my bread knife, which is a family heirloom."

Mrs. Cilliers said that hundreds of plates and tumblers had either disappeared or been broken.

Adlai Backs Integration

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today that integration "is the law of the land" and he "would only ask that law-abiding citizens comply with it in a lawful manner and as the courts find reasonable and feasible."

There are about 100 volcanoes known in the area of Iceland.

News in Brief

A $15 tricycle was reported stolen last night from the home of Mrs. Ray Burhans, 79 Pine Grove St., Pontiac police said.

Chief Pontiac Site Becomes Museum Now

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — On the site where Chief Pontiac gathered his Ottawa braves almost 200 years ago to attack Detroit, a distillery company has established Windsor's first historical museum.

The collection of local antiques, housed in two rooms at the east-side headquarters of the firm, (Hiram Walker and Sons) includes items ranging from a silver sundial brought to Essex County more than two centuries ago to a collection of old spectacles.

The museum is the result of several years' work by a group of local historians many of whom donated items from their own collections.

A piece of the world's first carborundum; a spoon which belonged to Benedict Arnold, leader and traitor in the American revolution; a deed signed by Maj. Gen. Isaac Brock, British commander in the war of 1812; and a rare 1812 cannon are among exhibits.

Also on show is a 1740 French fowling piece with extra-long barrel constructed specially for trade with Indians who paid for firearms in furs piled to the full length of the gun.

Among items of more recent local historical interest is the chair used at council sessions for more than half a century by mayors of Walkerville. The town now is incorporated in the city of Windsor.

Business Notes

DEARBORN (INS)—Ford Motor Co. announced today that three Ford division executives have been appointed to new management positions in the general sales office.

The appointments announced by General Sales Manager C. R. Beecham were Chase Morsey, Jr. to car marketing manager; J. S. Snyder to truck marketing manager, and H. D. Hubbs to parts and service operations manager.

NEW YORK (AP)—The election of W. W. Lowe as president of Wolverine Pipe Line Co., jointly owned by Cities Service, Shell Oil and the Texas Co. was announced today. He succeeds C. S. Gentry, who is retiring. Lowe was formerly vice president and a director of Cities Service Petroleum, Inc. Wolverine transports petroleum products from Chicago to Detroit and Toledo.

Free Beer Attracts Crowd to New Pub

AUKLAND — At Kawerau, where New Zealand's newest industry is making its first paper, a much older industry has held a gala opening. The town's first pub opened up with free beer and the noise could be heard half a mile away.

Over 600 overflowed the medium-sized bar and some who could not find standing room inside quaffed their ale on the footpath. So great was the rush that no man could claim the honor of being the first in — although queues had waited for an hour and a half when the doors opened at 10 a. m.

Poultry Slump Is Eased With Record Player

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — For two years Martin Lobby, Corvallis poultryman, treated his flock to radio music to boost egg production. Then the music went bad and egg-laying fell off.

Lobby called Robert Brownell, power company service man. He determined that electric tools being used on plumbing repairs at a nearby school was causing interference with the radio waves. He solved the problem neatly and quickly by loaning Lobby his record player until the plumbing repairs could be completed.

Motorcyclist Hurt as He Strikes Auto

A motorcyclist, 22, was released after treatment for possible injuries suffered when he rammed into the rear of a car yesterday at the corner of E. Montcalm avenue and N. Saginaw street, authorities in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said.

Frederick K. Smith, of 805 St. Clair St. told Pontiac police he couldn't swerve in time to avoid striking the car of George W. Hammitt, 26, of Detroit, who was making a left turn.

Irate Victim, Screams Pursue House Burglar

A housewife's screams last night scared away a housebreaker from her bedroom at 510 S. Paddock St., but not until the intruder had stolen $5 from a billfold, Pontiac police said.

The woman's husband, George Ewing, told police he chased the culprit out the rear door after his wife's screams awakened him.

Coming and Going Inn

HAMILTON, Berumda—A little tavern on Front street, just a little to the west of the city limits, proudly displays the name, Coming and Going. It derived its name from the fact that you have to pass it going or coming into Hamilton. A former small hotel, it now has the old-fashioned swinging doors of the pub, and inside, the beer is cold.

WW II Pilot Seeks British Dream Girl

STUTTGART — A German pilot, Ernst Poschenrieder went back to England, the other day, hoping to find the dream girl who ministered to him 15 years ago.

He found the spot where his Messerschmitt crashed, near Chatham, after a dogfight but not the beautiful girl who tended him when he was injured.

Poschenrieder, now a Stuttgart businessman, said, "I just want to thank her and buy her the largest bunch of flowers my arms will hold. My plane, crippled over London, lost altitude and I crashed on this hill. There was a house on the hill and a girl — she was beautiful — came out, helped me out of the wreckage and tended me until an ambulance arrived.

* * *

"She protected me against an angry crowd. She was about 20." Though he wandered around the hills he had to leave without finding her.

State Will Award Separation Contract

A grade separation to carry Drake road over the Brighton-Farmington Expressway will be among $10,000,000 in highway construction contracts to be let Wednesday, Michigan Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has announced.

The contract letting will be the largest ever held by the department, he said, with 16 state trunkline construction projects coming up for bids.

Nine other structures on the Oakland County Expressway and all the contracts for grading and dual lane, concrete pavement from Kent Lake east to Grand River avenue east of Farmington already have been let, Ziegler said.

Southfield Man Released After Death Accident

SOUTHFIELD (INS) — Charles Belanger, 25, of 25335 W. 12 Mile road, Southfield, was released today after telling Detroit police details of an accident that killed Erie Hallstrom, 70, of Detroit. He said Hallstrom walked into the path of his car on East Jefferson at Ashland.

Boys Attending Club, Thieves Steal Bikes

Two bicycles were reported stolen from outside racks at the Pontiac Boys Club last night, Pontiac police said.

The boys, who were attending a club event, said the bikes are worth $40 and $15. There are no suspects as yet, police said.

Enters Guilty Plea to Lesser Charge

A Warren Township man charged with manslaughter in the death Dec. 2 of a pedestrian he ran down with his car agreed to plead guilty to a lesser offense Wednesday afternoon.

John H. Bader, of 1999 Goulson St., pleaded guilty to negligent homicide. The manslaughter warrant had charged he was driving under the influence of liquor when his car hit William Edge at Dequindre road near Milton street Dec. 2.

Bader had pleaded innocent to the manslaughter count before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams Feb. 6. He will be sentenced April 16.

Acceleration Boosted

FLINT — Increased horsepower has resulted in stepped-up acceleration for today's automobiles. In 1946 the average time needed to accelerate from 10 to 60 miles an hour was 24 seconds; today the average is a bit less than 15 seconds.

Dave Displays Wide Interests

Keeps 'Today' Moving Along in Cheerful and Intelligent Pattern

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The field of masters of ceremonies always has been full of ham, ego and noisy jokes.

They included brilliantly amiable gentlemen who worked best after dinner, such as Jimmy Walker, and story tellers like Walter C. Kelly, vaudeville's "Virginia judge."

Vaudeville sent many "classy" masters of ceremonies into the public's affections. Frank Fay was about as smooth and stylish as anyone you could remember from the old days.

But television has changed it from the field of jokes and japes to a more polished profession. Now it's our task to try and pick out the best TV master of ceremonies.

NOT SULLIVAN

Slyly, and don't look to the end of the column, we know our candidate. He's not Ed Sullivan, who has attained a tremendous audience by introducing acts that keep the TV public diverted, if not enchanted.

He busts rules of syntax, thoughtfulness and manners. He can't ever quite learn how to get a performer off the stage. He is a real mystery to many experts, who have analyzed his attraction as stemming not from him but from his surrounding acts.

Well, Sullivan has fooled us all, and still is on. But we don't have to hand him any aureis.

Perry Como doesn't enter into contention here, though he does introduce the acts and performers on his variety show; for Perry is first and foremost a singer surrounded by other talent.

SMOOTH LADS

More nearly TV's smoothest are such lads as Alistair Cooke, of "Omnibus," an airy intellectual who does a good job of tying in the too often pretentious parts of his Sunday cultural jukebox. Charles Collingwood on "Adventure" is one of the best in his conversational field.

Jack Paar, Robert Q. Lewis, Bob Crosby, Steve Allen, Ernie Kovacs, Will Rogers Jr., Garry Moore, all do well in their spheres. John Daly is a very good moderator or emcee but tends lately to a bit grawnd.

Garroway has been talking away every morning for three hours as star of "Today." Dave is modern, hip musically and intellectually, calm in the face of all TV catastrophes.

He has chugged effortlessly along making intelligent small talk, asking interesting and intelligent questions in interviews, never in our memory showing the jagged edge of irksomeness, always considerate to guests and viewers, and with a fine fresh "feel" of the city he lives in, New York.

He seems to have "joined in" with the community of television without ignoring the rest of the world.

His interests, reflected in his conversation on the air, do not narrow into the concentric circle of inside TV talk and TV problems and TV technical slang afflicting most of his compatriots in the confining field of television.

Czechs Present Plane to India for Friendship

NEW DELHI — In a spectacular display of aerobatics, a blond Czech pilot proved the air-worthiness of a new plane which Czechoslovakia has presented to India as a symbol of friendship.

At an airport near here the pilot made loops, steep turns, and rolls and then flew upside down a few feet above the ground. The Czechs claim their Aero 45 is the only plane that can do this for any length of time.

Alerted Texas City Saved by Radar Tornado Spotter

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—Residents of this central Texas city of 20,000, alerted by a radar tornado-spotter, escaped without a single cut or scratch yesterday as a major twister destroyed or damaged more than 200 homes and half a dozen commercial buildings.

A broadcast 15-minute warning from the Texas A&M college radar tornado-spotter, gave citizens a chance to take safety measures. A&M was a pioneer in development of tornado warnings by radar.

The college itself escaped. The tornado passed between this city and the institution.

The warning possibly prevented mass injuries at the Stephen F. Austin high school, only a short distance from the main path of the tornado.

School authorities kept the children in the building although it was time for school to end for the day. They ordered all windows in the building to be opened — to prevent the suction of the tornado from blasting shattered glass around the building. Children were herded into halls.

Another set of tornadoes skipped around the area near Taylor, Tex. about 65 miles to the west, damaging the roof of the Walter Blaha farm home. Tornado-like winds also damaged some roofs near Hare, Tex., in the same vicinity.

* * *

The Bryan tornado was a story of near-misses. It missed the school. It first dipped down near Bryan Air Force Base but missed it, and missed A&M College with its 7,000 students.

Damage was estimated as high as a million dollars by Vick Lindley of the Bryan Daily Eagle and as low as a half million by City Manager Casey Fannin.

All electric power and communication lines were knocked out and full restoration is not expected until some time this afternoon. Natural gas supplies were shut off for a time because of the danger of fire but were restored last night.

The tornado cut a path six miles long and up to three-quarters of a mile wide.

WASHINGTON (AP) —There were seven million more boys and girls enrolled in the nation's schools last year than in 1950, the Census Bureau says.

The increases ranged from kindergarten through high school, the bureau said in a report yesterday, with only colleges remaining about the same for the two years.

Total enrollment last year was given as 37,200,000, a gain of 23 per cent over the 30,200,000 of 1950.

MSU Enrolls 15,907

EAST LANSING (AP)—Spring enrollments at Michigan State University totaled 15,907, an increase of more than 11 per cent over spring of last year, Registrar Robert S. Linton reported today.

LA Official Protests Two-Toned Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—City Councilman Charles Navarro says Easterners believe that Los Angeles has two kinds of smog—red and green.

"Also they're beginning to call us 'Smog-Angeles,'" Navarro said yesterday. The council promptly asked the Air Pollution Control District to quit labeling smog-free days as "smog green."

But they didn't mention "smog red" forecasts which mean, "don't complain, my eyes are smarting too."

"If the air is clear," said Navarro, "why not just say so . . . ?"

Oil companies are keenly interested in Peru's "jungle" region and the area under concession for oil is nearing 40,000,000 acres.

Wardens Are Busy

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department reported that 21 persons convicted of Conservation Law violations during the past week were assessed a total of $419 in fines and court costs and 90 days in jail sentences.
