'MUST CONTINUE'—French President Charles de Gaulle is shown during his speech to his nation over television and radio from Paris last night. He said he is convinced he must continue to serve and therefore will run for a new seven-year term in the Dec. 5 election.

De Gaulle to Spark NATO Crisis---U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles de Gaulle's announcement that he will stand for reelection as president of France is regarded by U.S. officials as assuring a severe crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

These officials believe a major foreign policy objective of the 74-year-old French leader in a new term as president would be to reduce progressively U.S. military and political influence in Europe.

They expect him to attempt this primarily through a radical recasting of the alliance.

The belief here is that he probably would focus first on French proposals for reorganizing the NATO military structure in such a way as to do away with the integration of allied forces under a top American commander.

U.S. strategy and tactics for dealing with de Gaulle's anticipated move are still undetermined.

Conferences on this country's European policy are under way. In general, the dominant view of administration officials is that if worst came to worst the United States would work with other European allies to maintain a military system within the alliance and without France, if necessary.

FIRST OBJECTIVE

Washington considers integration of NATO military forces under a supreme commander — now U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer — an essential arrangement for the defense of the West against Communist power.

In the American view, which has wide allied support outside France, destruction of the integrated system would weaken the West.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle told a news conference Sept. 9 that so far as France is concerned integration will have to come to an end by 1969 at the latest.

WASHINGTON VIEW

In official Washington's view de Gaulle, if elected as expected, would pursue the following major foreign policy objectives, practically all of which run counter to long established U.S. purposes:

● Rearrangement of French international commitments to give the French government full freedom of action. It is be-

GMC Truck Has Biggest October Ever

Domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses built by GMC Truck and Coach Division totaled 10,124 units in October, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and division general manager.

Werner said that the figure is the highest for any October in the division's history.

He added that it topped by 45.7 per cent the 6,947 units sold the previous October when the division was hampered by a strike.

The division has delivered domestically a record 102,394 vehicles the first 10 months this year.

This is 16.4 per cent higher than the same period last year when 87,962 units were delivered.

Say Dems Stall on Redistricting

LANSING (AP) — Charging Democrats with a deliberate stall, the Republican members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission planned to report for duty by themselves today.

They will be a full week ahead of the Democratic half of the eight-member commission, "but we're going to keep our originally appointed meeting with the secretary of state," said Republican Cochairman Wilber Brucker.

The commission is under orders from the Michigan Supreme Court to try again to redistrict the Legislature. The court gave the commission 60 days to complete the job.

Secretary of State James Hare, who just obtained jurisdiction over the commission under governmental reorganization last month, originally had scheduled its first meeting last Friday.

It was postponed a week when Grand Rapids Attorney A. Robert Kleiner, "speaking for the four Democrats, told me the advance notice was too short and that all of them have interfering commitments of some moment," Hare said.

"If the secretary of state wants to buy their story he can go ahead, but we don't like the delay," Brucker said. "The brushwood should be cleared out and we should get down to work."

PHONY CHARGES

In a recorded comment on a radio program today, Kleiner called the Republican charges "phony."

He said " . . . the Republicans know that we have not yet had a chance to digest the Supreme Court opinions . . . but if we ever hope to get together on plans that all the commissioners can agree on, long distance political charges of this type will not help us in the slightest."

Kleiner also said he felt "the Republicans were going to be in Lansing for a caucus anyway and would drop up to Hare's office just to make the Democrats look bad."

The High Court's opinion did not strike down the state's present districting — drawn up by Kleiner and Detroit accountant Richard Austin.

DA Says Keep Ruby Alive

Would Recommend Commuting Sentence

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, condemned to death for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy, should be kept alive, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said yesterday. He said he was willing to recommend the death sentence be commuted to life.

If he got a commutation, Ruby would be eligible for parole with 15 years' prison time credit, Wade said. That might be in as few as eight years behind bars.

Ruby shot and killed Oswald as millions watched on national television Nov. 24, 1963. He has been in the Dallas County Jail since while his case was being appealed.

Wade said if Ruby were an exemplary convict, he could get 15 years' credit in eight or nine years actually spent in prison with time off for good conduct or other reasons.

But Ruby's lawyers do not want a commutation. They have the case in the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and are holding out for a maximum five-year sentence for murder without malice.

Wade said yesterday at a news conference that there were several reasons he has changed his mind about wanting Ruby electrocuted.

OTHER CASES

"One reason is that we have plenty else (cases) to work on," Wade said. "Another reason is that we have spent $75,000-$100,000 on the case already and Jack

PERFORM DELICATE FEAT — U. S. surgeons Col. Daniel Campbell (left) and Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. appear elated today in Saigon after successfully removing a live grenade from the back of a Vietnamese farmer. They display the probe and scalpel affixed to 6-foot-long poles they used in working through a small hole in a wall of sandbags in the operation behind a Saigon hospital. The operation took less than four minutes. Col. Campbell is from Inlet Beach, Fla., and Gen. Humphreys is from Richmond, Va. Both are chest surgeons.

Two Surgeons Successfully Remove Bomb

American Physicians Operate Behind Wall of Sandbags in Shed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Working through a small hole in a wall of sandbags, two U.S. surgeons successfully removed a live grenade from a Vietnamese farmer's back today.

"It's in the box," Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. shouted as he released the grenade into a wooden case half filled with sand after pulling it from the back of frail, Nguyen Van Chinh, 52.

The operation in a shed behind a Saigon hospital took less than four minutes.

Chinh became a walking explosive Sunday when a Viet Cong fired the 40mm grenade into his back. The missile, 6 inches long and 2 inches wide, lodged in his lower back beneath the 12th rib.

★ ★ ★

BEHIND SAND BAGS

The doctors, who volunteered for the job, operated from behind a 10-foot high stack of sandbags. They were about four feet away from the patient.

Inserting their instruments through an opening below a large pane of bulletproof glass, they made an incision with a scalpel attached to a 6-foot-long steel arm.

Then Humphreys picked out the grenade with a 6-foot pair of tweezers and placed it gently in the box of sand. It was about 2 feet from the wound to the box.

"If I had dropped it, the whole show would have been over," Humphreys said.

A U.S. army demolition expert, Maj. Daniel Doty of Marina, Calif., carried the box to a sandbagged jeep. It was to be detonated outside Saigon.

The grenade can kill at five yards and cause serious injury far beyond that distance.

Chinh sat up and smiled as he was helped to a stretcher. Blood was running down his back from the long incision.

"I've longed to come to this country for ages," she said on her arrival from London Thursday, "and I'm so glad it's become a reality."

Accompanied by her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, she said at her first news conference: "We both look forward to seeing as much as we can of the United States and meeting all people in all walks of life."

Her husband, photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, before their marriage, stood in the background at the conference in the San Francisco Press Club.

Tirrell Overruled

OCC Land Deals Rejected

Members of the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees last night rejected two major property acquisitions recommended by OCC President John E. Tirrell.

Rejected were a 15-acre site near Opdyke and Hickory Grove, eyed as a continuing education center, and a 20-acre parcel in Royal Oak with an existing building considered for a full-scale campus.

Now, after nearly two months of constant negotiations for facilities needed by next fall, the search will begin anew — from scratch.

The rejection of the continuing education site, the lesser of the two under consideration, led Tirrell to subtly question whether citizen pressure had influenced the board's decision.

Located mainly in Bloomfield Hills and partially in Bloomfield Township, the property contained an 11-year-old vacant building formerly used by the Palmer-Bee Co.

FASHIONABLE AREA

Residents of the fashionable area Tuesday night had registered strong protest to the college's purchase of the property at a Bloomfield Hills Planning Commission meeting.

They had even threatened legal action to halt or at least delay establishment of a college branch.

The property had been on the market for $480,000 and OCC had offered $325,000. Negotiations had placed the price at $375,000 when the question was put to the board last night and unanimously rejected.

Trustees David W. Hackett and Frederick A. Chapman cited what they felt was an excessive cost as the main reasons for their negative votes.

Rusk Cites Viet Progress ---Cautiously

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the U.S. struggle against Communist conquest of Viet Nam "has been progressing well" but "severe fighting" still lies ahead.

Rusk told a news conference "we do not yet see," in the behavior of the Communist North Vietnamese, evidence "of the crucial point that they are ready for peace."

On the contrary, Rusk noted they said yesterday that a pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam would not bring peace talks. He also said Communists recruiting of guerrilla fighters in South Viet Nam and heavy infiltration of troops from North Viet Nam continue.

"Our efforts there have been progressing well," Rusk declared, reflecting the official view that the massive buildup of American forces is turning the tide against the Communists.

"They will not succeed, but there will be difficult times ahead. Severe fighting lies in front of us."

Million Dollars Worth

Good News at UF Fete

Good news — a million dollars worth — was given United Fund volunteers and guests yesterday at a victory luncheon celebrating the conclusion of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Calvin J. Werner, campaign chairman, tallied final figures reported by UF division chairmen and told those assembled at the Elks Temple that a record $1,000,107 was contributed this year.

The 22-day campaign exceeded its goal — highest in local UF history — by $125,000 or 14 per cent.

Late UF contributions may push the total even higher.

Sponsored by GM in behalf of Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck and Coach Division and the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant, the victory luncheon was attended by an estimated 350 persons.

Keep Ruby Alive, Says Dallas DA

Ruby is not worth that much more.

"Not all the questions about the assassination have been answered. Some people are still asking about it and I think it better to have him available.

"Finally, although he is sane, there is no question that Ruby has some neurotic tendencies that can be treated in the penitentiary."

Wade said he did not mean he doubted that Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy, or that Ruby was acting alone.

He said he meant, rather, that people would ask questions about the case, whether there was any basis for them or not, and it would be a good thing if Ruby were alive to answer them.

But Wade said the defense's holding out for five years was "ridiculous."

Ruby is in no danger of being executed for months or perhaps years because his lawyers are involved in so many legal actions.

Alcoa Joins Price Boosts

Acts Despite Likely Johnson Displeasure

NEW YORK (AP) — Aluminum Co. of America, biggest U.S. aluminum producer, joined other major companies today in raising prices

The action came in the face of what some industry observers interpreted as displeasure by President Johnson over the price boosts.

* * *

The increases were initiated a week ago by Olin Mathieson Co. on ingot — or basic metal — and fabricated metal. Reynolds Metals Co. and Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. followed on ingots.

Alcoa increased the price of basic ingots by half a cent a pound to 25 cents and the price of fabricated metal by an average of a cent a pound.

The company described its raise as "selective price adjustments." However, it was apparent that few items were excluded.

FOLLOWS SUIT

Reynolds followed suit today when it announced at Richmond it will raise prices of many of its fabricated products an average of about 1 cent a pound effective Nov. 8.

* * *

Orders booked prior to Nov. 8 and shipped prior to Dec. 9 will be filled at the old prices.

In Washington, a General Services Administration spokesman said the agency had no comment on the Alcoa price action.

* * *

Earlier this week the GSA called representatives of Alcoa, Olin Mathieson, Reynolds and Kaiser to a meeting in Washington to discuss additional sales of aluminum from the government stockpile.

Industry circles viewed this as an indication that the government might take steps to overthrow the price increases.

OK Bond Sale for Area Water

Sale of $1,470,000 in bonds to finance construction of the four-section Pontiac Township water system was authorized yesterday by the Oakland County Department of Public Works Board.

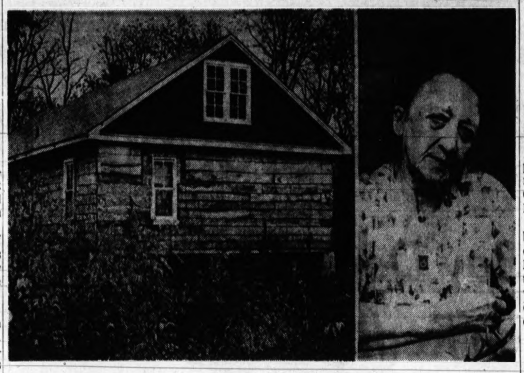

The bond sale contract went to Halsey Stewart and Co., whose bid of 3.574 in interest was the lowest of four submitted.

Bids ranged to a high interest rate of 3.608, according to R. J. Alexander, director of the DPW.

Equipment is on the job sites and work will begin immediately Alexander said. Completion is expected by June 1 next year.

The water system, which will feed Detroit water into the township, will include about 125,000 feet of water main varying in size from six to 16 inches.

Construction contracts for the project were awarded last July.

Construction officials say Miss Dorris rightfully owns two lots, but they say that the covenant prohibits moving a house on subdivision land.

Board OKs Learning Aid Plan

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved a plan to be financed by a $122,963 federal grant under the elementary and secondary education act.

* * *

The funds, made available through Title I of the act, would be used to create a learning improvement center to establish a program for children experiencing a problem in learning and adjusting to school.

The administration hopes to submit the proposal to Lansing by next Thursday.

An open meeting will be held at 3:45 p. m. Monday at the Instructional Materials Center at Waterford Township High School.

* * *

The administrative council and central staff will review the proposal Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

KEY EMPHASIS

Major emphasis of the program would be placed on problems in reading and the language arts.

The program is designed to help the 516 students who show the greatest educational, physiological, sociological and psychological needs in accordance with the funding of the Title I program.

Available funds for the program are based on the 1960 census when 516 school children in the township were from families with annual incomes of less than $2,000.

* * *

First attention would be given to sixth grade pupils more than one full year below their grade level, as well as to deficient children in other grades.

Ex-Cemetery Exec Tells How Fake Burials Held

DETROIT (AP)—The former superintendent of a suburban Livonia cemetery told a public hearing Thursday how he buried 222 caskets in unmarked graves.

Saying he was reluctant to testify because "I know I'm going to hurt a lot of people," Harvey Grode, 41, said he buried the bodies of 35 infants at one time in three communal graves.

* * *

The 222 caskets, including those of the 35 babies, had been stored in a shed at Brookdale Memorial Park Cemetery for as long as five months, Grode told the State Senate Corporations Committee.

When Grode told of burying caskets which had been battered and broken, two women spectators fled the hearing room in tears.

"It's a disgrace," one of them shouted.

* * *

A committee staff member identified the women as having complained of inability to find the graves of their parents.

The committee has been investigating operation of the Livonia cemetery after scores of persons complained they could not locate the graves of relatives.

"There are some graves in the cemetery with as many as 18 infants in them," Grode said.

Grode testified he was a part-time gravedigger before his hiring as superintendent of the cemetery last March.

A "dummy set-up" often was used by cemetery employes "to lead people to believe there was a grave dug when there was none," he testified.

* * *

This consisted of a wooden frame built above the ground and covered with greenery, into which a casket would be lowered by a lowering device, he said.

After mourners had left, the casket would be taken to a shed for later burial, he said.

OWNS STOCK

Grode said he was hired as superintendent by Sydney List. List is president of Brookdale Inc., holding company which owns the stock of Brookdale Cemetery Association.

The cemetery has been under receivership since 1958.

The committee chairman, Senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said changes in state laws governing cemetery operations may result from the two-day hearing into the Brookdale Park operations.

OCC Land Deals Rejected

sher and Treasurer Vernon M. Fitch, both attorneys, admittedly were impressed by the possibility of litigation which might defeat the main purpose of the acquisition — to have a new facility ready by next fall to meet an expanding enrollment.

Board Treasurer Mrs. Lila R. Johnson, who offered the motion to reject the owner's counteroffer, said she felt use of the property was limited.

Before the vote, several residents of the area repeated their objections to having upwards of 500 students "practically in our back yards."

Henry L. Woolfenden, attorney for the Bee site, termed the opposition of residents emotional. "From a neighborhood standpoint, college use of the property would be ideal," he said.

BEE PROPOSAL

After defeating the Bee property proposal, the board began deliberating on the purchase of a 20-acre site in Royal Oak with an existing 118,200-square-foot building as a full-scale campus to serve the south end of the county.

Trustee Earl M. Anderson immediately called for rejection of a negotiated price of $1.7 million for the Morley Brothers property.

"Being located on 14 Mile, it isn't suitable to serve the great population mass in the southern part of the county," Anderson said.

* * *

He suggested the board begin working with planning commissions of communities further south to find a better location.

Mrs. Johnson favored the purchase.

"The need is urgent and we can accommodate from 2,000 to 2,500 students at half the cost of buying a new facility," she said.

Hackett also favored the acquisition to assure that no students will be turned away next fall.

* * *

At this point Tirrell turned over the president's chair to administrative aide Dr. Alfred A. Canfield and sat at the meeting as a citizen of Oakland County.

Apparently referring to residents of the area near the Bee property, he speculated how the "little people" near the Morley property might feel about a college in their back yards.

"As a citizen, I suggest you be consistent and reject the Morley proposal and spend much more for a new facility," he said.

The purchase proposal lost, 4-2.

3 Accused of Thefts, Damage at Seaholm

Three Birmingham teen-agers demanded a preliminary court examination when they were arraigned yesterday on charges of breaking and entering the press box at Seaholm High School.

* *

The boys, all Seaholm pupils, are accused by Birmingham police of stealing $750 worth of electronic equipment, and then setting fire to the press box, causing an estimated $700 damage.

Released on $500 bond each by Municipal Judge Edward Emery were William McMillen, 18, of 1125 Birmingham; Ronald Graine, 18, and his brother, Donald, 17, both of 457 Catalpa.

The three had been taken into custody by police Wednesday at their homes following a month-long investigation into the Oct. 1 incident.

* * *

Police said that a search of the Graine home turned up more than 260 books taken by Ronald Graine from Seaholm over a three-year period.

VALUE PLACED

A value of $1,500-$2,000 was placed on the books, most of which were found hidden in the attic, police said.

The examination is scheduled for Nov. 26.

Police said that a 15-year-old juvenile was also involved but was released to his parents pending action by juvenile court authorities.

* * *

The arrests, according to police, may have cleared up several other breaking and entering and thefts from schools in Birmingham recently.

Some items taken from other Schools were found hidden in the Graine home, according to police.

Treaty Protesters, Tokyo Police Scuffle

TOKYO (AP)—Nearly 7,000 left-wingers opposing ratification of the Japan-South Korea Normalization Treaty scuffled for about 20 minutes today with 1,000 blue helmeted police near the entrance to the compound of the Parliament Building. At least five students were injured as were 10 policemen.

Police said they arrested 29 demonstrators.

The demonstrators, including 1,200 students flying left-wing banners and shouting slogans opposing Japan-South Korea normalization and U.S. action in Viet Nam, approached the area leading to the Parliament Building compound.

They handed written petitions to Socialist and Communist members of Parliament who stood outside encouraging the demonstrators. Police ordered the demonstrators to pull back but they refused, shouting and breaking into a snake dance.

★ ★ ★

Police, using loudspeakers, then announced they would use force to make the demonstrators withdraw. When this had no effect, police met them head-on and used truncheons.

The left-wingers retaliated with their bamboo flag poles, and they threw stones and rocks at the police.

$30,000 Parcel in West Bloomfield

Waterford Board Okays Purchase of School Site

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved purchase of a 12-acre elementary school site in West Bloomfield Township.

Cost of the parcel of land is $30,000 or $2,500 per acre.

The plot is located in Section 5 of the township south of Cooley Lake Road, but situated in the Waterford Township School District.

Also last night, the board accepted Wakely-Kushner Associates as architect-designate for the proposed new senior high school.

The projected completion date for the proposed structure is September 1968. However, a building site has not been determined.

PARKING PROGRAM

In other business, the board authorized an experimental program of parking lot control at Waterford-Kettering and Waterford Township high schools.

The program, due to begin in two or three weeks, will require student drivers to pay 10 cents a day to park.

There will be a gate attendant and a parking lot supervisor.

* * *

It was reported at the meeting that more than 20 schools in the state are presently conducting similar parking lot control programs.

WHITE LAKE

Residents from a portion of White Lake Township told of their desire last night to remain part of the Waterford Township School District.

The Walled Lake Board of Education seeks to annex the 160 acres, along with the Dublin School District, to straighten present school system boundary lines.

The land is in the southeastern corner of White Lake Township west of Williams Lake Road.

The board gave the green light to proposed out-of-state education trips for ninth graders and seniors.

In still other business, Mason Junior High School dedication was set Dec. 12, three teachers were hired and a report was given on the elementary physical education program.

Navy Fishing for Big Game

By Science Service

PASADENA, Calif.—The U.S. Navy is going fishing, using a 2,000-pound "hook" that can see underwater.

The hook is actually an aluminum framework called CURV (Cable - controlled Underwater Research Vehicle), fitted out with four ballast tanks, three motors, a depthometer, sonar, a marker buoy, a 35mm still camera, and even a transistorized television camera (complete with two mercury vapor lamps).

The missile branch of the Navy's Underwater Weapons Laboratory here has given CURV a set of interchangeable hands, including a grasping claw, a clamshell scoop and a snare like a lasso.

What the Navy is fishing for is several hundred thousand dollars worth of torpedoes and other hardware that is accumulating on the ocean floor as a result of various weapons test programs.

At a going rate of $75,000 or more per torpedo, there are considerable savings rusting away beneath the sea.

* * *

GOES WAY BELOW

CURV, however, attached to 2,300 feet of one-inch cable, has already plumbed depths below 2,000 feet.

This cable, the Navy's fishing line, is really an "umbilical cord" similar to the ones that connect spacecraft with their launch towers.

OK Plastic Windows

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The State Board of Education has revised the school construction code to permit the installation of plastic windows in new school buildings to cut down on smashing or breaking. The cost of replacing broken glass windows runs into several hundred thousands of dollars annually, a spokesman said.

Parents End School Protest; Three Mothers Given Heave-Ho

WASCO, Ore. (AP) — The parent sit-in at Wasco School ended abruptly when three mothers were removed from their protest posts in a first-grade classroom with a ladylike heave-ho.

* * *

Mrs. Lavoir Hale said she and two other mothers were "thrown out" yesterday.

The three began the demonstration Wednesday at the school 80 miles east of Portland, in opposition to Mrs. Jessie Duncan's teaching methods.

Mrs. Duncan divides her class of 21 students into groups called Bluebirds, Canaries and Robins.

The mothers charged that the Bluebirds, the top scholastic group, get most of Mrs. Duncan's attention, and the Robins and Canaries get the bird.

* * *

They planned to sit in until something was changed, but Principal Bill Hockett intervened.

ORDERED OUT

"I don't think it is right to disturb the teacher and the students with people running in and out," he said. He ordered the mothers run out.

"They didn't throw me out physically," Mrs. Hale said, "but one opened the door and the other put a hand to my back."

* * *

Mrs. Duncan held the door. School secretary Mrs. Lavelle Dormaier gave Mrs. Hale a hand.

Loud and Clear Came the Voice of Voters

Seldom in U. S. history have scattered "odd"-year elections been as penetratingly eyed as those of Tuesday.

As in most elections, interpretation of the results are many — depending upon the socio-political orientation of observers.

But despite the interplay of state or municipal issues, racial emphasis and candidate personality, one fact of political life stands alone:

Conservatism is a dead duck.

Thus we saw an underdog Liberal, former Congressman JOHN V. LINDSAY wrest New York's mayoralty from two opponents — one an arch-conservative, the other a lackluster symbol of the entrenched Democratic machine that had held the city's government captive for two decades.

Across the Hudson, liberal Democratic incumbent Gov. RICHARD J. HUGHES was kept in office by the largest majority in New Jersey's history. His Republican opponent sought to build a central campaign issue around a controversial college professor whose Marxist-Socialist views the defeated candidate held were cause for dismissal of the teacher.

To the voters it had the familiar witch-hunting ring of the emotional McCarthy era of ten years ago, and they thumbed it down.

Philadelphia was the scene of another upset, one that bolstered GOP hopes, when a former Democrat turned Republican, running with the blessing of Pennsylvania's liberal Gov. WILLIAM W. SCRANTON, won election as District Attorney.

Perhaps Virginia offered most significant evidence that the old order had changed in the sputtering of the Democratic state machine, long dominated by ultraconservative U. S. Sen. HARRY F. BYRD. Although the state elected its 21st consecutive Democratic governor, the Governor-elect ran a poor race in the northern and southern precincts of the commonwealth—areas in which the BYRD organization had theretofore been invincible.

Closer to home, Detroit's Council election deposed two incumbent conservatives in favor of those more liberally inclined.

From the national standpoint, no pronounced party trend emerged. On balance, the Republicans may have gained, as the elections showed that there is no place in the party for the Goldwater conservatism that has kept the ranks split between rightist and moderate factions.

The GOP's sadly in need of unity if it is to make any congressional gains in next year's elections, and the divided leadership may just get the message of the writing on the political wall.

British Slow to Drop Plot That Was a Flop

GUY FAWKES, a conspirator of long ago, is ceremonially burned in effigy throughout the United Kingdom every year on Nov. 5. A soldier who had served in Flanders, FAWKES was arrested as he entered a cellar under the House of Lords on that date in 1605.

With a group of other English Catholics, including THOMAS PERCY, who had rented the cellar where 36 barrels of powder were secretly stored, FAWKES was accused of attempting to blow up the British houses of Parliament and King JAMES I on the day set for the king to open Parliament. The plot was the work of a small number of men, but it damaged all English Catholics and led to an unfortunate increase in the harshness of laws against them.

After more than three and a half centuries, Guy Fawkes Day is not a very solemn observance, and it's in no sense a legal holiday. Otherwise it's a kind of combination of the U. S. Fourth of July and Halloween and the French Bastille Day.

Some years ago, for example, the celebrations got out of hand, and three persons were killed and scores of children and some adults treated for burns, contusions and shock. London's fire brigade answered more than 500 calls and in other cities firemen were busy until after midnight.

From all of this, it would appear that our English cousins do not soon forget the rotters who turned plotters.

Voting Failed to Boost GOP

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Tuesday's elections didn't prove a thing about the chances of a comeback for the Republicans as a national party whose history for most of a generation has been a succession of disasters.

MARLOW

Even the Republican national chairman, Ray C. Bliss, was guarded in his optimism and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon refrained from calling a Republican's victory in the New York mayoralty race a Republican victory.

Besides New York, Republicans won major city elections in Philadelphia, Louisville, Ky., and Akron, Ohio, but they lost two governorship races: in New Jersey and Virginia.

Bliss, looking at the city victories, said they would have "a great effect on the party." Good candidates would be encouraged to seek places on the party ticket, he said.

★ ★ ★

But an examination of the biggest of those victories—by Rep. John V. Lindsay who beat a Democrat, Abraham D. Beame for the New York mayor's job — is a good explanation of why Bliss and Nixon didn't get overexcited.

FUSION TICKET

Lindsay, playing down his Republicanism and running on what he called a fusion ticket, barred GOP leaders like Nixon and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower from jumping in to help him.

And while Lindsay, who refused to support Barry Goldwater in 1964, had Republican party support, he was also backed by New York's Liberal party. On the ticket with him, he had a Liberal and a Democrat.

One wanted to be president of the City Council, the other comptroller. Both lost to regular Democrats. Against this background, the whole business looks like something less than a party contest.

★ ★ ★

It was more like a personality contest between the lively Lindsay and his colorless opponent, Beame, who bought full-page newspaper ads to remind voters Lindsay was a Republican.

NOT A CHANCE

In the Virginia governorship race, Republicans never had a chance against the Democratic machine. The Democrats haven't lost the governorship there in generations.

In New Jersey, Gov. Richard J. Hughes seemed sure to win reelection over his Republican rival, and he did, with a record 318,000 vote margin.

And his victory swept Democrats into control of both houses of the state Legislature, the first time the Democrats have had the governorship and the Legislature since before World War I.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere on the state level, Republicans in New York got control of the Senate, Democrats retained control of the House. In Virginia, Republicans made one-man gains in both House and Senate where, however, both houses are overwhelmingly Democratic. And in Kentucky, Democrats strengthened their grip on the Legislature.

There's not much in all this to indicate a Republican resurgence.

The Happy Schizophrenic!

David Lawrence Says:

Lindsay Didn't Heal GOP Rift

WASHINGTON — Judging by some of the comments one reads about the victory of John Lindsay in his election as mayor of New York City, it might seem as if Barry Goldwater had been presiding over the affairs of the metropolis for the last four years and now has been dramatically repudiated.

LAWRENCE

It is equally illusory to say the Republican party has a good chance of reuniting just because someone who ran on a fusion ticket in a city election and played down the fact that he was also the Republican nominee turned out to be the winner, though he was actually the choice of a 46 per cent minority of the voters. Indeed, the majority — about 54 per cent — didn't vote for Lindsay.

★ ★ ★

The acclaim accorded the victor as a possible gubernatorial or presidential nominee of the Republican party in the future—though he hasn't uttered a word of apology for his desertion of the party's presidential candidate in 1964 — is not likely to be ignored. Factional feelings have by no means been erased.

Nor will the practical question — how to reconcile the blocs in the Republican party — be answered merely by claiming that conservative doctrines are no longer valid because of Lindsay's victory in New York, even though his voting record in Congress was 84 per cent approved by the radical organization known as "Americans for Democratic Action."

The dissension goes deeper, and the sooner it is objectively examined, the quicker will the problem be solved.

★ ★ ★

First of all, it is necessary to study the underlying resentments. Goldwater was denounced from one end of the country to the other in 1964 as a "right-wing extremist." He was characterized as being "trigger happy." Such characterizations came first from fellow Republicans of prominence and then from Democrats.

Goldwater favored a firm stand in Viet Nam as against any appearance of a wavering policy that could be misinterpreted by the enemy as weakness and thus drag the American people into a major war by reason of the Communists' miscalculation.

The Republican nominee urged that American forces bomb North Viet Nam's supply lines. His advice—scorned during the campaign last year —was accepted soon after the election of President Johnson. The war in Viet Nam is today much bigger than it was last year.

The false statement was made, too, that Goldwater wanted to tear up Social Security cards, though he called primarily for improvements in the system. The Johnson administration now has increased Social Security taxes.

★ ★ ★

But what does all this mean? Is there such a vast difference between the policies advocated by Goldwater in 1964 and what the leading Republicans in Congress are saying now as they support the administration's expansion of the war in Viet Nam? They are expressing, moreover, the same concern about the administration's fiscal policies as the Republican presidential candidate did a year ago.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Nothing is to be gained by endeavoring to excoriate Goldwater for his conscientious belief that the war in Viet Nam should be fought vigorously or for his convictions that civil rights will never be assured unless constitutional methods are used to attain desirable objectives.

★ ★ ★

The Republican party is not going to win just by finding a glamorous personality to run in 1968. It is what he stands for that will count.

Noted Writer Urges Jews to Hold Own 'Unity' Talks

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

Harry Golden, writing in his "Carolina Israelite," urges world Jewish leaders to hold an ecumenical council and issue a "Jewish Schema on the Christians." Excerpt:

CONSIDINE

"I propose that we forgive the Christians for the Inquisition, the Crusades, the ghettos, and the expulsions.

"I think we can also include forgiveness for the usurpation of property which continued unabated for 1,600 years . . . the world-wide discrimination; and we may also waive our annoyances at the barriers that guard country, city and fraternal clubs.

★ ★ ★

"The Christians have been nice. Now we can be nice.

'NO REASON'

"There is no reason for us to hold bitterness in our hearts because Crusader Godfrey of Bouillon drove the Jews of Jerusalem into the synagogue and set it on fire.

"There is no reason in the world why our Christian neighbors today should be held responsible for the wholesale slaughter of the Jews in the cities on the Rhine by the Christians of the Second Crusade.

"Nor should they be held responsible for the murders perpetrated by Peter the Hermit and Peter of Clugny . . . Why should we let the memory of Torquemada haunt us?"

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller called "21" Tuesday and asked Bob Kriendler to tell six Rockefeller guests, when they arrived, that he, Rocky, would be late.

"Get them seated and serve them a drink," the governor asked.

"If I serve them a drink I'll blow the license," Bob said.

"Really? Why?"

Bob sighed.

"It's election day, governor," he said.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Stop to Think . . .

The Tulsa Tribune

It will be a sad day for the American south if it is ever established that a kind of murder may be committed with impunity.

★ ★ ★

The moment a man is acquitted of murder his innocence is established by law and wisely, he cannot be tried again under our ancient prohibition of double jeopardy. But some of the acquittals which have recently taken place in the south where the accused was charged with killing Negroes or white civil rights workers were astonishing in the light of the evidence presented.

★ ★ ★★

No doubt the south has been goaded. No doubt carpetbagging writers from national magazines and eastern newspapers have gone far beyond the limits of objectivity in depicting most white southerners as subhuman. No doubt many civil rights demonstrations were staged in a manner designed to be most irritating to the local community. Indeed, one wonders if murder were not almost invited.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, bad manners is not a capital crime and the principle that no man may unlawfully take the life of another without severe punishment is precious to any community. The alternative is a return to night-riders and eventually to a reign of terror that will be dangerous to all citizens.

★ ★ ★

The south has got to swallow its anger, forget its wounded pride, and enforce the laws. This is not a matter of doing favors for the N.A.A.C.P. or C.O.R.E. or any group of white agitators from the north. It is simply a matter of common justice and, incidentally, of doing the south, itself, a favor.

Without restraint of law impartially applied the violent and the irresponsible will seize control of any community, city or state. The majority of southerners, who are decent people, had better think it thru.

Secret Record

The Decatur Herald

Recently a Texas congressman made a routine request to the Library of Congress, in the usual form, for the voting record of a former Texas congressman and United States Senator, one Lyndon B. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

He was told that the library could not give out that information. Why? Direct orders from the White House, the present residence of that former Texas congressman.

The ban applies, also, to texts of speeches made by Congressman and Senator Johnson on the House and Senate floor.

All that material is, of course, a matter of record and, after a fashion, history. But it will be difficult to assemble that material when the Library of Congress, the official depository and usual source, denies access.

Voice of the People:

Proper Turn Procedure Outlined by Lieutenant

Motorists should plan their routes, know well in advance where they want to turn, signal to get into their proper lane, then be sure they are in the proper lane to turn. This must be diligently practiced when driving on expressways, freeways and multiple-lane highways in all cities or rural areas. Michigan Motor Vehicle Code states that all motorists, when changing lanes or direction, must signal.

RANDOLPH

★ ★ ★

If a motorist misses his turn at the desired exit or intersection he should not turn or stop in travel portion or change lanes suddenly without first signaling his intentions. He should continue on to the next exit, roadway or street, make his proper signal (either by hand or mechanically, as both are legal), see that the way is clear, and then make the desired turn.

★ ★ ★

At the present time improper turns are No. 8 in the ten leading causes of accidents in the City of Pontiac. Remember, good drivers will always make sure that other drivers are well informed of their intentions.

Suggests Possible Ways to Cut Our Taxes

Our taxes could be cut if money was used wisely. First, we should stop the birth rate in slum areas and welfare cases with pills and operations. Then, instead of spending millions to care for the Cubans, we should spend it on our slum areas and hire enough police to stop 'hoods' and killers. Let the Cubans look to their relatives for help or stay in Cuba. President Johnson should have to foot the bill for them himself.

Junior Editors Quiz on STEEL

QUESTION: What is the difference between iron and steel?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Iron ore is taken from vast deposits west of Lake Superior. The ore is carried by steamer to various plants where iron is extracted from it.

This is done in a blast furnace. Ore is loaded in from the top, then coke and limestone are added.

A blast of hot air makes the coke burn, which melts the ore while the limestone carries off many impurities.

Molten or liquid iron trickles down to the bottom and is drawn off. This may be allowed to harden into bars of pig iron, some of which may be melted down again as cast iron, or, in the process of using silicate or melted sand, made into wrought iron.

But most of the molten iron is used in the great steel-making plants to produce the tremendous important material steel, which is iron with more impurities taken out and certain substances added.

The main picture shows molten iron poured into a "Bessemer converter," and, after having its final impurities burned out under high pressure, being poured out in the form of molten steel.

This is cooled into ingots, which later will be reheated and rolled into various shapes for manufacturing.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Steel is harder and stronger than iron, and looks smoother and more glossy. Look around your house and try to decide which metal objects are steel and which iron. Light, silvery-looking metal usually is aluminum.

Study Altitude and Pregnancy

By Science Service

BISHOP, Calif. — Research at 12,500 feet is attempting to answer important questions of how oxygen deficiency in pregnancy may lead to brain and heart damage in offspring.

Abnormal development of some of the main arteries of the brain has appeared in offspring of laboratory mice and rats subjected to reduced oxygen supply during pregnancy.

This was seen in animals whose mothers had been exposed to oxygen deficiency in a pneumatic chamber during pregnancy or to the rarified air of the mountain-top laboratory.

The problem is being studied at the University of California's Barcroft High Altitude Research Laboratory on White Mountain near Bishop.

★ ★ ★

Using controlled oxygen deficiency during pregnancy as a precise research tool, anatomist Dr. Bernard Baird plans to study further the circulatory supply to the fetal brain. Thus he hopes to determine whether relationships exist between observable brain changes and such clinical conditions as mental retardation, cerebral palsy and epilepsy.

SUBJECT TO VARIATION

Even in normal animals at sea level, the major brain arteries appear to be subject to a great deal of variation, in contrast to the relatively standardized arrangement of the arteries leaving the heart.

Standards were set up to define a normal range of patterns. Departures from these were then divided into significant malformations and less serious structural variations.

Young animals from oxygen-deficient mothers showed a much wider range of variation than animals with mothers that had adequate oxygen supply during pregnancy, and they included the only outright malformations.

Variations occurred chiefly in vessels to the front of the brain. Less frequently variations occurred in vessels to the spinal cord and base of the brain.

In the current series of experiments Dr. Baird has found that a high proportion of the animals with significantly affected brain vessels also had defects of the inner walls, or septa, of the heart or of an artery leading from the heart or both.

Church Accessories Play Role in Theft

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A burglar who broke into the African Methodist Episcopal church used a 30-pound bronze cross stolen from the communion altar as a hammer and church candles for light in completing his theft.

The Rev. Donald Newberry told police the thief took the altar cross and used it to smash an office door lock. The candles apparently were lit while the thief ransacked a filing cabinet. The Rev. Mr. Newberry estimated the loss at $40.

Water Lacks Enough Iron for Body Need

Q — Our well water has a hardness of 17.6 grains per gallon and an iron content of 1.44 parts per million.

Is this the same iron that is essential for good nutrition? Would the use of a water softener cause hardening of the arteries?

BRANDSTADT

A — Iron in the form found in water is readily absorbed into your blood but you will not get enough in what you drink to meet your daily requirements.

The best dietary source is red meat, especially liver.

Although some reports have indicated that drinking soft water favors hardening of the arteries, the latest studies disprove this theory.

★ ★ ★

You can, therefore, drink softened water without damage to your health.

Q — Until a few years ago I drank very little water and I developed a bladder infection.

Since then I drink three or four quarts a day and I feel fine.

My friends tell me that the fluorine and chlorine now being put into the water will cause kidney trouble.

★ ★ ★

What do you think?

★ ★ ★

A —When chlorinated water reaches your table it contains less than 0.2 parts per million of chlorine and about 0.7 ppm of fluorine. Both are volatile gases.

The concentration is carefully controlled by your health department as well as by the waterworks.

Keep up your water drinking and you may outlive your pessimistic friends.

Q — What are the side effects of Paranate?

A — Tranylcypromine (Parnate, not Paranate) was withdrawn from the market in 1964 but it has been released again, subject certain precautions.

The side effects from too large a dosage include dizziness, insomnia, weakness, drowsiness, nervous agitation, vomiting, diarrhea or constipation, abdominal pain, dry mouth, blurred vision, palpitation and headache.

The drug should not be taken by anyone who is over 60 or anyone with high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, stroke, epilepsy or liver disease.

Severe poisoning can result in persons who are taking this drug if they eat pickled herring or cheese, drink alcohol or take any of a great variety of other drugs.

Q — I was told in March that I was going blind and that nothing could be done.

★ ★ ★

The blood doesn't get to my optic nerve. What is this disease?

A — This could be a form of optic neuritis.

In either case the outlook is bad, especially if a competent eye doctor has determined that the damage is irreversible.

LIGHTWEIGHT SUIT — Fred Spross, manned spacecraft center space suit engineer, models the new, streamlined lightweight space suit astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell will wear on the upcoming Gemini 7 flight. The suit is lighter, less bulky and more comfortable than suits used on previous U. S. space flights. Cost for one suit is $17,000.

Next Space Walk Due in '66

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (UPI) — The next "walk in space" by an American astronaut will be delayed until next year, according to U. S. space officials.

The space agency revealed yesterday it had killed a proposal to permit astronaut Thomas P. Stafford to take such a walk during the four-man "Spirit of 76" Gemini flights now set for December.

The honors, instead, will go apparently to astronaut David Scott, copilot of the Gemini 8 orbital voyage expected next February or March.

Scott will stroll outside his capsule for at least one complete orbit around earth, space chiefs said.

Stafford is copilot of Gemini 6, the second of a pair of two-man spaceships the United States hopes to put in orbit in December.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell first will take Gemini 7 aloft to begin a 14-day record excursion in space. Their blast-off date tentatively has been set for around Dec. 8.

Then, if all goes well, Walter M. Schirra and Stafford will fly Gemini 6 into orbit about eight days later to try to chase down Gemini 7 somewhere 185 miles above earth.

The proposal for Stafford to take a space walk from his ship to Gemini 7 — experts call it "Extravehicular Activity" or EVA — was made last week.

The suggestion gained strong backing from a number of astronauts. However, a lack of time and the problems of getting the necessary equipment ready in time apparently doomed the idea.

'NO DOCKING'

At any rate, a spokesman for the space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston said yesterday that "there will be no docking and no EVA period," during the "Spirit of '76" flights.

"Docking" is the technique of linking two objects in orbit. This, too, apparently must wait until the flight of Gemini 8, when Scott and command pilot Neil Armstrong will try to connect their ship to an unmanned Agena target satellite.

Schirra and Stafford were supposed to have chased and linked up with an Agena last Oct. 25. But the mission had to be canceled when the Agena evidently blew up at the edge of space and plunged into the South Atlantic Ocean.

Wave of Terror Hits in Nigeria

Follows Bitter Election for House of Assembly

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — A bitterly fought election for western Nigeria's regional House of Assembly has unleashed a wave of terror.

Small-scale vandalism in the weeks before the Oct. 11 balloting has grown into widespread arson, looting and rioting by roving gangs.

* * *

Seven thousand police — nearly half Nigeria's force — and army units equipped with heavy armor, have been trying to quell disturbances.

About 25 persons have been killed. At least 15 persons died Monday in one fracas at Igbara-Odo. At least 35 have been arrested in connection with it.

PALM FRONDS

Motorists driving through the troubled region to or from the federal capital of Lagos are forced to attach palm fronds to their vehicles as a sign of peaceful intent and also that they agree with the losing party's claim that voting was rigged.

Police and federal authorities have enforced a dusk-to-dawn curfew, prohibited possession of arms in certain areas, and banned all public gatherings except religious services. Vehicles and passengers undergo thorough search at checkpoints.

* * *

Balloting was never completed in several polling places, including one in Mushin, near Lagos, where 50 homes were burned on election day.

Violence has centered mostly in areas occupied by followers of the losing United Progressive Grand Alliance — UPGA.

PRIVATE ARMIES

Much of it has been caused by private armies termed "party stalwarts" and financed by various politicians.

UPGA leaders charged the victorious Nigerian National Democratic party with padding voter lists, refusing to register their candidates, stuffing ballot boxes, blocking their supporters from the polls and claiming victory in constituencies where no voting took place.

* * *

The Democratic party denied these accusations and blames UPGA for the violence.

Partisan arguments aside, events have made the election of the 94-seat regional legislature seem a travesty.

PUT BEHIND BARS

When the UPGA leader, D. S. Adebgbenro, announced formation of an "interim government" he was put behind bars for "false assumption of office." He has since been freed.

The reelected regional premier, Samuel L. Akintola, announced more than 50 of the 74 elected Democatic party members would form a Cabinet.

* * *

UPGA controls eastern and midwestern regions. The eastern region leaders talked earlier this year of breaking up the Nigerian federation and making the area a separate nation. It has 14 million people and deposits of oil.

Nigeria consists of four semi-autonomous regions and the federal territory of Lagos. Regional divisions are tribal as well as political boundaries.

Men can see only the tiniest portion of the light that reaches their eyes. The rest is not detected.

Social Security Changes in Effect

Thousands of Students Missing Out on Benefits

By JOHN TROAN
Newspaper Enterprise Association

WASHINGTON — Thousands of students have failed to enroll for the new Social Security "student benefit" which Congress put on the books three months ago.

The Social Security Administration estimates 295,000 students throughout the U. S. are eligible for this monthly benefit. But the latest check of its rolls shows fewer than 235,000 have applied for it.

The benefit ranges from $22 to $102 a month and is retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Eligible is any unmarried student aged 18 through 21 with a parent who retired, died or became disabled after working long enough under Social Security to rate monthly benefits.

Previously, such children stopped getting Social Security checks when they reached 18. Now they may continue drawing benefits until they reach 22 — provided they are attending school full-time.

The amount the student receives depends on the parent's basic monthly benefit — which, in turn, is determined by average earnings under Social Security.

If the parent is retired or disabled, the student is entitled to half of the basic benefit. This could range now from $22 to $68 a month.

If the parent is dead, the student is entitled to three-fourths of the basic benefit. This could range now from $33 to $102 a month.

In some cases, a student may not be able to draw the full amount because other members in his family also are receiving Social Security payments — and their total cannot exceed the "family maximum" specified by law.

This maximum now runs from $66 to $309.20 a month, depending on average earnings under Social Security.

Social Security says payment of the student benefit will be "almost automatic" in the future. Shortly before a child on the Social Security rolls reaches 18, the parent will be alerted to submit evidence of school attendance so checks can continue.

However, if you are now 18 or older such benefit payments aren't automatic. You — or your parent — must apply at a Socil Secuarity office.

If you were getting checks but they stopped when you reached 18, you need to prove only that you are a full-time student.

This usually can be done by having your school fill out a form which it will get from the Government when you file your Social Security claim.

If you have never received Social Security benefits, you must establish your age and your relationship as well as your school status.

According to Social Security, "you are a full-time student if you are enrolled in a day or evening school for a course of study which will take at least three months and you are carrying a subject load sufficient to complete the course in the time normally required by a day student."

All state universities, state colleges, community colleges, public high schools and public vocational schools are covered. So are "private schools or colleges accredited by a state or national accrediting agency." Also, "unaccredited schools or colleges" whose credits are honored by at least three accredited institutions.

Benefits continue during summer vacation or "any similar between-term period of four months or less."

If you happen to earn more than $1,200 this year, your student benefit may be reduced for any month in which you made more than $100. Next year, however, you'll be able to earn up to $1,500 a year and $125 a month without penalty.

Incidentally, the mother of a student beneficiary doesn't qualify for an extra Social Security check for herself just because she has a child in school.

This differs from the case of a woman with a child under 18 or an older child incapable of self-support due to a disability incurred before age 18. In such instances, the mother is entitled to a benefit as well as the child.

Accent on Individual Student

PNH to Hold Open House

By ALICE TURNER

Pontiac Northern will hold its annual open house Monday.

In the past, the purpose of the open house has been to acquaint parents of PN students with the faculty, classes and other facilities available to their children.

However, this year the main objective will be to give parents and teachers the opportunity to discuss problems of the individual student.

In the past, it has been only the parents of the better students who have taken the time and interest to participate in and attend these open houses.

This year, letters were sent to the parents of those students who failed one or more classes the first marking period.

AWARE OF IMPORTANCE

This was done in hopes that these parents, for whom this program is especially designed, would become aware of the importance of their attendance.

Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. Parents are invited to see any of their child's teachers and, if necessary, make an appointment for further consultation.

Audrey McShan, a senior at PN, has been named as one of the finalists in the National Achievement Scholarship Program.

* * *

Audrey is one of twenty-five students from Michigan to receive this award.

PROVIDED FUNDS

Each finalist will be provided, within the limits of the program, the funds necessary for them to attend the college of his choice for four years.

Audrey has maintained an A average at Northern and plans to attend the University of Michigan to become a psychiatrist.

Members of PN civics classes recently held a mock election for president and vice president of the United States.

4 PARTIES

The four classes of Fern Kerr, John Osler and Dave Schmidt organized themselves into four separate parties: Future Voters of America, Peoples' Republic, Northern Individualists and the National Advancement of Women.

* * *

Each party decided upon and organized its own platform.

The election campaigns included a rally as well as demonstrations. Students were required to register as if in a real national election.

Girl Gridders to Take Field in Kettering Powder Puff Tilt

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Weeks of practice will be put to use tomorrow when girls display their acquired skills in passing, blocking and punting in Waterford Kettering's first Powder Puff football game.

The senior girls' squad will face the junior girls tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. on the Kettering football field.

The game, sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association Letter Club, will be played under modified flag football rules.

Each of the girls will wear cut-offs with a flag in the back pocket, and the football will be considered dead when the flag is pulled out of the pocket.

* * *

The athletic department has given the girl squads permission to wear the boys' football jerseys, helmets and shoulder pads.

Coaching the teams are Carol Skillman and Judith Ver Hock, seniors, and Kay Stoney, juniors.

Girls on the Powder Puff football teams Wednesday wore green paper footballs with cotton, to represent the "powder puff" and publicize the activity.

Willing boys will serve as yell leaders and referees for the game. Leading the cheers for the senior girls will be Eric Mobey, Mark Harrington, Richard McPartlin and Don Hook.

* * *

Robert Van Bargen, John McCloud, Gary West and Joseph Raczyinski will cheer for the junior girls squad.

GAME OFFICIALS

Officiating will be referees Danny Giroux, junior; and Lyle Cooper, William Guthrie and John Kampsen, seniors.

Proceeds will go toward purchase of new equipment for the physical education department.

Members of Kettering's music department attended a choral Workshop today in Warren.

Student volunteers met this week at the Pontiac State Hospital. These students donate the first Tuesday evening of each month to attend a joint recreation night with teen-age patients at the hospital.

Refreshments are often supplied by the volunteers, and served after activities such as ping-pong, cards, pool and dancing.

The group is sponsored by counselors Mrs. William Long and Mrs. Joan Nickman.

Swim club will meet for the first time this year for swimming at Oakland University's pool.

The new play has been taken from the novel "The Turn of the Screw" by Henry James.

Anne Hobart, faculty director, said the play involves four characters; two children, a governess, and a housekeeper. It will have a double cast.

Scheduled to be presented in early January, casting for the play will be held Monday.

Is Life Outer Space Import?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Life on earth may be an import from outer space — an organic compound that rode onto the barren planet on a meteorite.

So says a scientist who became intrigued with the distribution of chemical elements in meteorites 27 years ago and has been studying meteorites since.

"We have found meteorites that contain organic compounds," said Dr. Brian Mason, 48, of the United States National Museum in Washington said in an interview. "Are these evidence that there is living matter in outer space?"

"I believe that they are nonbiological in origin and that they are not the product of life — but that they may be the precursors of life on earth: It may be a meteorite that brought the material by which life could start."

* * *

Dr. Mason gave the presidential address last night at the meeting of the Geochemical Society in conjunction with the annual convention of the Geological Society of America attended by some 3,000 geologists and geology-related scientists.

HARVARD BOTANIST

In a paper yesterday, a Harvard University botanist — Dr. Elso Barghoorn — disclosed recently-proven findings showing that bacterialike organism existed on earth more than three billion years ago. That's the earliest date ever placed on living matter on our 4½-billion-year-old planet.

Another scientist, from Dartmouth College, told of proving that animal remains found earlier this year are at least 720 million years old—120 million years older than any previously proven findings.

Most of the meteorites that pelt the earth at the rate of 500 or more a year may be space wanderers that never got together to form a planet, Dr. Mason said. They come from the astroid belt between Mars and Jupiter.

* * *

"The astroid belt, rather than being a broken-up planet as some believe, contains pieces that never joined," Dr. Mason said.

NICKEL IRON

"The meteorites aren't very different from what we have on earth. The main difference is that they contain free nickel iron which just doesn't exist in earth rock.

* * *

"We found a chemical — silicon oxynitride — which shows there must be nitrogen in some form in space. Some meteorites are formed under conditions similar to a blast furnace. Others show compounds containing water and I think there is a lot of water in the solar system."

* * *

Meteorites show what can be found in outer space "if we can learn to interpret everything correctly," Dr. Mason said.

Station Break Lasts 4 Hours

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Station KFOG-FM had a four-hour unintentional "station break" one night recently.

All-night disc jockey Frank Frey heard a noise outside the studio. He stepped outside to investigate. The studio door slammed shut and locked behind him.

He operates the station alone all night, but had no key. Listeners, worried at not hearing the station, phoned police but they could not force the door of the station.

Four hours later, Gill Barr, the early-moring announcer, arrived with a key, and the station was back "on the air."

French Canada Said Strongly for Liberals

By MAX HARRELSON

OTTAWA (AP) —Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal party seems to be in a strong position in French Canada despite an intensive bid by Conservative leader John G. Diefenbaker for support in Monday's election.

Several political experts predict the Liberals will do at least as well in Quebec as they did in 1963 when they took 48 of the big province's 75 seats in the House of Commons. Some predict the Liberals may even pick up a few of the 13 seats held by Real Caouette's Creditistes, a minor party in Parliament.

* * *

Conservative leaders have predicted their men will win as many as 25 seats in Quebec, but the experts say they will be lucky to hold the 7 seats they now have.

Liberal strength is expected to stem mainly from two major steps taken by the Pearson government over Diefenbaker's opposition. These were:

—Establishment of a royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism to study ways of improving relations between French-speaking Canada and the remainder of the country.

—Adoption of a new maple leaf flag to replace the red ensign, which many French Canadians regarded as a symbol of English Canada.

CANADIAN UNITY

Both Pearson and Diefenbaker have insisted that Canadian unity is the major issue facing the country, but there has been no genuine debate on it in the sense that new plans or proposals were advanced. The debate has consisted mainly of charges that each candidate is dividing the country.

Diefenbker, for example has charged that Pearson stands for two Canadas. "A Liberal vote," he says, "would mean the end of a Canada in which citizens of all origins would stand as equals."

One of Quebec's leading Liberals, Jean Marchand, has accused Diefenbaker of trying to set English and French Canada against each other.

"It is obvious," he said, "that for Mr. Diefenbaker, national unity would consist of a federal government which crushed the provinces, and a country with only one language."

The only concrete suggestion advanced during the campaign was a suggestion by Diefenbaker for a nationwide conference of constitutional changes. But Quebec's Liberal premier, Jean Lesage, declared the time was not ripe for such a conference because of a widespread feeling in English Canada that the French should be assimilated as part of an English-speaking Canada.

Granddad Gets Degree, Plans to Start New Job

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Zuzman has finally finished college — 35 years after he started.

Zusman, 56, was graduated this spring from the University of Dayton with a bachelor of arts degree and a brand new career in view.

Now a grandfather and the president of a furniture company, Zuzman's education was interrupted in 1930 because of the depression.

He now plans to leave the running of the furniture store to his family and become a full-time social worker.

"I hope to spend the rest of my life contributing something to my fellowman," he says.

Judge to Anti-Bircher: Do Theme or Time

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — A judge ordered 18-year-old Craig Hardy yesterday to write a 300-word essay on "The Rights of Minority Groups" or spend five days in jail.

Hardy was sentenced for trying to chop down a John Birch Society poster that called for impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court.

Peking Keeps Tripping Up India's Pro-Chinese Communists

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The funniest political vaudeville act in India these days is being staged by the nation's hapless pro-China Communists.

These Indian Reds are great ideological contortionists but every time they start performing, their Peking comrades trip them up.

* * *

Things are so discouraging that E. M. S. Nanboodiripad, leader of the pro-China Reds, has started addressing what he calls "farewell meetings." He figures he'll be out of circulation soon, perhaps at a government rest house — with bars.

In 1962, India and Communist China were great friends and the pro-Peking Reds were busily constructing a political empire under the Indian government's nose. The future looked bright.

MADE OUTCASTS

Then the China-India border war erupted and overnight the local Reds became political outcasts.

The pro-Peking Communists had internal discipline, however, and methodically rebuilt their organization. When the Indian party split in 1963, along lines of the Moscow-Peking quarrel, the pro-Chinese faction claimed about 100,000 of the 175,000 card-carrying members.

* * *

Slowly, things got better and by last March, the pro-Peking faction almost had overcome China's 1962 performance and the poor reviews that followed. Pro-Chinese candidates won important elections in Kerala State and Calcutta city.

Less than two months later, Peking stuck out its foot again and the act collapsed.

This time, Peking was wooing neighboring Pakistan and, in the heat of its courtship, forgot its lovers in India. Peking supported Pakistan in its territorial dispute with India over the Rann of Kutch. It charged India with "big nation chauvinism and expansionism."

Indians were furious at this Chinese intervention and again the national reputation of the pro-China Communists plummeted.

* * *

China shouldered into the India-Pakistan quarrel in September, waving ultimatums at India and shuffling troops along the northern frontier.

This leaves Indian Communists with the problem of appearing nationalistic enough to survive in India's almost jingoistic political atmosphere — and still be true to Peking.

MAKE PEACE?

They try to suggest quietly that India make peace with China but that is denounced as treason. They claim China isn't India's enemy but that doesn't go over well, either.

In utter frustration, they spend much time in harmless debate with pro-Russian Communists whose stock, ironically, has gone up.

* * *

The whole affair makes Home Minister G. L. Nanda's job much easier. He's the government's Communist watcher and jails them in batches when they appear to be making headway among India's 480 millions.

At the moment, they don't look as if they are going anywhere — thanks to their Peking comrades.

Terrorism Campaign in Uganda Believed Communist-Inspired

MBALE, Uganda (AP) — African chiefs and officials believe a campaign of Communist-inspired terrorism is being tried out on the forest-clad slopes of Mt. Elgon near Uganda's eastern border.

Gangs of political bully boys have attacked the homes of chiefs, destroyed their crops and burned their fences. The leaders preach civil disobedience, a boycott of schools and nonpayment of taxes as first steps toward overthrowing the government.

* * *

Legislator Daniel Kimaswa claims a Communist organization is training young Ugandans to take over the government.

He said three mysterious white men teach techniques of guerrilla warfare.

SPEARS READY

"Up here on the mountain the chiefs sleep with spears beside their beds," said county chief Fenekani Wakabala of Manjiya.

He reported he wrote to the police Sept. 6 giving them the names of 99 Communist henchmen led by a an ex-criminal who studied political science for six months in Moscow.

* * *

He said the gangs drill with dummy wooden rifles but are suspected of having secret stores of arms.

The chief, who served with British forces in North Africa during World War II, pointed out the tangled forest climbing toward Mt. Elgon's 14,000-foot summit.

TRAINING CAMPS

"We haven't found any secret training camps, but a whole army could hide itself away up there," he said.

Wakabala said the government took no action until last month, when police made a night raid on the homes of some of the gang, seized documents but found no arms.

In Mbale, a modern little town prosperous on cotton and coffee, lawyer Dan Nabudere said reports of a Communist underground are ridiculous. Sitting at his desk below a sketch of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, he claimed it was a move by politicians to stifle opposition.

Nabudere, a British-trained attorney, was expelled with eight others from the ruling Uganda People's Congress last February because of Communist leanings.

STATE OWNERSHIP

"I'm a Socialist and a Marxist," he declared. "I believe in state ownership of all major enterprises."

In a bar a few blocks away, a local official of the People's Congress boasted he and four other party men will go to Moscow next January for a year's course in party organization.

* * *

"We'll be ready to take over by 1967," he predicted.

Race Car Driver Pays for Speeding

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Race driver Roger McCluskey, 35, has paid a $20 fine in Yuma justice court for speeding.

Justice of the Peace Ersel C. Byrd said Thursday that McCluskey, a veteran of several Indianapolis 500 races, paid the fine for driving 75 miles per hour in a 60 m.p.h. zone Oct. 21 on U.S. 80 east of Yuma.

McCluskey ranks among the top 10 racers in U.S. Auto Club point standings this year.

The letter from the Whig party notifying Zachary Taylor of his nomination for the presidency in 1848 was marked "postage due."

THICK SMOKE — Firemen face a raging fire in oil and gas tanks at Toccoa, Ga., yesterday as billowing black smoke blankets the town downwind. A close watch was being kept today as further explosions and fire were a threat.

Jobless Rate Hits 8-Year Low

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON — The nation's jobless rate dipped to an eight-year low of 4.3 per cent in October, but you'd almost think the Labor Department was trying to hide the good news.

Usually trumped at the start of the monthly job report — and sometimes even announced from the White House — the favorable figure was buried Thursday in the midst of a mass of other facts and figures.

* * *

Actually, the government is launching a major effort to switch the nation's attention on its oft-criticized unemployment figures from percentages to people.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, under new management, emphasized instead that the number of jobless men, women and teen-agers totaled 2.8 million. It also reported total employment at an all-time October high of 73.2 million.

NOISE LEVEL

"Unemployment rates have become part of the noise level of society," and nobody pays much attention, said Arthur M. Ross in his first news conference as commissioner of the bureau.

"We say the unemployment rate among adult men was 'only' 2.6 per cent, but it's a million people," Ross said.

* * *

One million adult women and 800,000 teen-agers made up the rest of the jobless.

Ross said too much emphasis in the past on the monthly jobless percentage rate had created a lack of understanding around the country about what the figure really shows.

REAL MEANING

The real meaning, he said, is "Who are the unemployed, what are their numbers and what are their circumstances?"

Critics say many people the government lists as unemployed don't really need jobs, especially housewives and teen-agers seeking part-time work.

* * *

But, Ross said, a job may be vital to a student to stay in school and may determine his future role in the economy.

"A mother with kids might need that job very much but can take only part-time work because she has children to raise," he said.

ECONOMIC DISTRESS

The figures are designed not only to measure economic distress but to show those not participating in the economy as fully as they wish, he said.

The unemployment rate means that 4.3 per cent of the total civilian labor force of 75.9 million were unemployed.

But don't grab a pencil and try to see if 4.3 per cent of 75.9 million equals the 2.8 million unemployed reported by the bureau. It doesn't.

The bureau adjusts the unemployment rate in line with seasonal job trends. So expected changes in farm work, construction and other seasonal occupations won't appear to reflect sudden fluctuations in the economy.

Lakes Issue to Be Topic of Hearing

A legislative public hearing on the restoration and preservation of inland lakes will be held Wednesday in the Supervisors' Auditorium of the Oakland County Court House.

Rep. W. Scott Ensign, D-Battle Creek, chairman of the special House Conservation subcommittee said that lake property owners and all interested citizens are invited to attend the 8 p.m. hearing.

Rep. Robert Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion, a subcommittee member, has estimated that 20 per cent of Oakland County's 435 lakes are in trouble and that Highland and Murray lakes are nearly extinct.

The hearing will give special attention to Public Acts 140 and 146 of 1961 and House Bill 2978, a bill introduced by State Rep. Clifford A. Smart, R-Walled Lake, to provide for inland lake improvements and apportionment of costs.

* * *

The subcommittee will hold meetings in Battle Creek Monday and Ludington Tuesday.

Georgia Town Is Threatened by Lingering Oil Fire Danger

TOCCOA, Ga. (AP) — Pungent odors drifted through this northeast Georgia town today as an aftermath of explosions and fires which wrecked three oil company compounds.

Worried city officials and tired fire fighters kept a close eye on smouldering flames from the ruins of the compounds leveled by petroleum-fed blazes yesterday.

The fires erupted within a few blocks of downtown Toccoa, indirectly killing one man and hospitalizing three firemen.

Firemen from 11 Georgia and South Carolina towns pumped thousands of gallons of water onto the blazes until early today.

* * *

As the loose petroleum products from storage tanks trickled into drains and sewers, firemen dumped in water to dilute the explosive and flammable potential.

ACRID FUMES

Acrid fumes from burning gasoline, motor oil, diesel fuel and auto batteries clung to the area.

More than a dozen firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke inhalation. They were treated at a hospital and then taken back to continue fighting the fires.

The cause of the first explosion was not immediately determined, but the fires stemmed from a tanker truck which had pulled into a compound to unload.

* * *

A damage estimate was unavailable.

An employe at a nearby thread concern's warehouse, R. P. McCollum, 59, was helping to hose the warehouse down when he felt ill. McCollum was being taken to Stephens Hospital when he died of a heart attack.

* * *

The fire was contained within the oil companies' compounds.

City Police Vote on Bargaining Unit

Members of the Pontiac Police Department were scheduled to vote today in an election to select an organization to act as their collective bargaining agent.

The election, scheduled by the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board, was petitioned by the Pontiac Police Officers Association.

All sworn police personnel, except certain officers, were slated to vote.

Residents Not for Annexation

Bruce Group Mostly Opposed at Hearing

ROMEO — A group of Bruce Township residents made it plain last night that they do not want their land annexed to the village, even as a means of solving their sewer problems.

In a straw vote taken at a public hearing on the matter, the residents voted 73 to 35 against annexation.

The outcome will be used as a guide by a special committee of the Macomb County Board of Supervisors to determine if 1,000 acres of the township should be annexed to the village.

The committee is not obligated to abide by the vote, but officials of the village and township feel it will go along with the wishes of the residents.

* *

The committee is to make a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors prior to its Nov. 29 meeting.

SEWAGE PROBLEM

The annexation question arose when several residents of thet township were told to correct their sewage disposal situation.

Unable to obtain sewer service by other means, they appealed to the village for annexation in order to get village service.

The Village Council then petitioned the Board of Supervisors for annexation, saying it needed 1,000 acres to properly service the area and to provide for future growth.

* * *

Numerous township residents opposed annexation, however, as was indicated at last night's meeting.

FUTURE PLAN

Village Clerk Norman Engle said the Council will probably formulate some plan to help solve the problem.

"This is a health problem that is just as dangerous to us as it is to them," he said, "and something is going to have to be done about it."

Township Clerk Edward Sutherland said the township has no definite plans at the moment. He said he felt after the meeting that corrective measures taken by some of the residents may be the solution, at least temporarily.

* * *

He said there are nine violations now and four or five suspected violations, which he believes the owners will now take steps to correct.

FUTURE SERVICE

"Maybe this will have to do until sanitary sewer service can be bought," he said.

"Perhaps the village is missing a bet by not selling the service to the area," Sutherland noted.

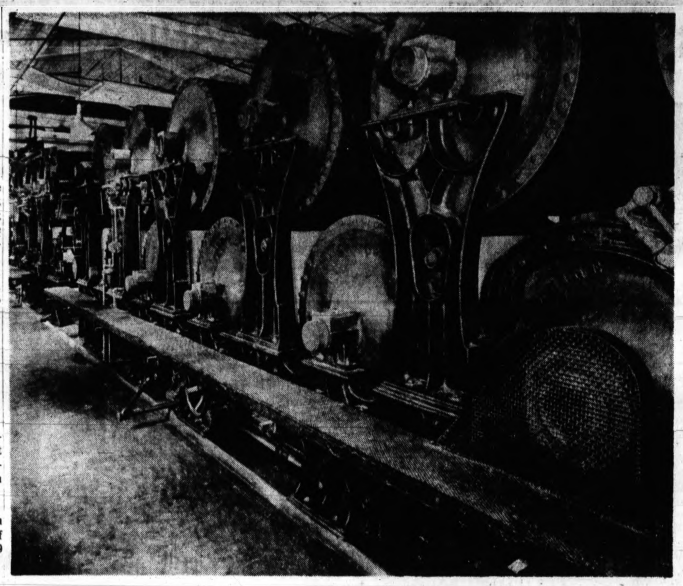

"So any places that do sell their service find it is a money-making venture. Once the service is sold and the area is built up, perhaps then the people will want to annex," he said.

* * *

A sanitary sewer system does not head the township's list of priorities, according to Sutherland.

* * *

The township has asked for a federal grant for preliminary planning for a water system, which Sutherland says is the biggest need at the moment.

PAPER DRIERS—It is on these drying drums and in the presses prior to this step that paper at the Rochester Paper Co. begins to take on a recognizable form. Before entering the driers and presses, the paper, in a liquid form, has been passed over a forming wire where fibers have been meshed together. After being dried, the paper is wound onto reels or cut into sheets for further processing.

Proposal OK'd on Novi District

NOVI — The Novi School District will remain intact if a ruling made yesterday afternoon by the Oakland County School District Reorganization Committee stands up.

The committee accepted unanimously a proposal that no action be taken to attach the Novi School District to an adjoining system.

Committee member Monroe Osmun of Pontiac expressed the feelings of the others at a meeting with Novi school officials here.

"I recommend that we do not consider attaching this district to any other. Novi has a good tax base and good prospects for the future.

* * *

"I feel they should be permitted to go ahead on their own."

However, Dr. William J. Emerson observed that the action taken yesterday was an exception to the state reorganization directive calling for abolition of school districts without kindergarten through 12th grade programs.

The Oakland Schools superintendent asserted that the county committee would have to defend the action before the State Reorganization Committee.

* * *

Annexation of school districts with incomplete programs to larger districts stems from a 1964 state statute.

* * *

Two other systems in Oakland County — Dublin and North Oxford — are affected by the law.

WEIGH ANNEXATION

North Oxford and Dublin currently are weighing annexation to the Oxford and Walled Lake districts, respectively.

Novi, however, is in the process of developing a high school program, adding a year at a time.

If a $735,000-bond issue for a secondary school addition passes in a Dec. 13 vote, Novi will be able to provide a full 13-year curriculum in the near future.

William MacDermaid, president of the Novi Board of Education, anticipated no organized opposition to the issue.

* * *

Novi's 11th and 12th graders presently attend classes at nearby Northville. However, Northville reportedly has refused to accept any more students from Novi.

Tentative plans call for these students to complete high school at Northville, but for no other Novi pupils to be sent there.

AREA NEWS

2 Area Men Sentenced for Burglary

Two Oakland County men were sentenced yesterday in Circuit Court for breaking into the office of a Highland Township doctor.

Richard L. Balenger, 27, of 13901 Ratalee Lake, Springfield Township, was sentenced to 1½-10 years in the state prison at Jackson, and Irvin L. Kearnery, 26, of 2730 Hickory Ridge, Highland Township, was placed on two years probation.

Balenger had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering, and Kearnery to simple larceny.

They were arrested by Michigan State Police from the Brighton Post and charged with burglarizing the office of Dr. Dennis Kenny, 211 Livingston, on June 17.

A television set and a cash box containing $20 were stolen.

The pair was sentenced by Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

Barn Burner Being Hunted in Holly Area

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — An arsonist was being hunted today after an early morning fire destroyed a barn, the fourth in the area in the last two weeks.

* * *

"The pattern seems to be the same in all cases," said Holly Fire Chief Maynard Lowe. "Each has occured about the same time."

Leveled this morning by flames was a barn at 7049 E. Holly, owned by Ernest Martin. He reported the blaze at 4:08 a.m., two minutes after a neighbor had telephoned the fire department.

The contents of the barn also were destroyed, including a 1951 pickup truck, 500 bushels of oats and 4,000 bales of hay.

* * *

No estimate of the damage has been made by fire officials.

* * *

Lowe said no tangible evidence of arson has been found at the scene of any of the fires, but added "the similarities are more than coincidental."

Site of State's First Mill

Rochester Firm Makes Paper Products

By JANICE KLOUSER

ROCHESTER — If you have a blotter on your desk or your child's picture in a photomount folder, chances are good that both products came from a local firm, the Rochester Paper Co.

The firm, located on the site of the first paper mill in Michigan, deals mainly in paper stock —paper sent out in large quantities to other firms which convert it into consumer items.

It does, however, have a large converting department which makes desk blotters, products for automotive packaging and filters for automatic coffee brewing equipment used in restaurants.

Blotting papers, industrial filter paper and packaging papers are the company's main products.

* * *

The filter paper is used for filtering liquids such as cider, beer, wine, oils, either edible or lubricant, varnishes and pharmaceuticals.

OTHER WORK

The company is also equipped to die-cut paper and paperboard, laminate, print and emboss patterns on paper.

The firm has grown considerably since it was organized as the Rochester Paper Company in 1925. At that time it made only blotting paper.

The site of the company had its beginnings in 1823 when the Mack flour mill was built. In 1867 it was remodeled and paper-making machinery installed.

* * *

The mill had to be rebuilt in 1875 after it was destroyed by fire. At that time print or book paper was made from pulpwood transported from Utica in sleighs and wagons.

In 1879, the Grand Trunk Western Railroad built tracks near the plant, providing rapid shipment of pulp and paper. At that time it made wrapping paper, cigaret paper and newsprint.

The present mill was purchased in 1941 by Paul H. Travis, who is now president. He started a large expansion program and added buildings and equipment.

The company employs about 300 persons at its main plant and two subsidiaries in Marshall and Utica. The Rochester plant employs about 125.

* * *

The two subsidiaries supply the automotive industry with filter and packaging paper.

The main plant serves paper merchants in both the United States and canada.

$12-MILLION BUSINESS

The company does about a $12-million business annually, according to Mrs. Marge Arnold, vice president and office manager. She said it is also one of the largest taxpayers within the village limits.

Paper is such a common commodity that the user rarely stops to consider where it came from or what went into the manufacturing process.

At the Rochester plant pulp arrives in large sheets which are put into a hydro-pulper where chemicals, color and fillers are added.

It is then ground up and mixed with water before going through several refining processes.

TURNED INTO PAPER

Then it is ready to be turned into paper. It is passed over a forming wire where the fibers are meshed together.

From there it is pressed into sheets then passed through dryers. Several other processes are used, depending on the grade of paper desired.

The paper is then wound on reels or cut into sheets before being taken to the converting area to be die-cut, embossed or laminated.

It is then packaged and the finished product shipped to the customer.

Fire Damages Farmhouse

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — A fire which started from a faulty chimney yesterday caused an undetermined amount of damage to the upper story of a house located at 460 Jossman.

According to Fire Chief William Buckingham, the house was owned by Lewis Wrenn of Pontiac, and occupied by Mrs. Beatrice Kenyon.

Buckingham said the fire was discovered about 6:30 p.m., and was extinguished about two hours later. He said the fire was confined to the upper story of one wing of the farmhouse.

Oxford High School Plans Open House

OXFORD—An open house for parents of Oxford High School pupils will be held 7:30 p.m. Monday at the school.

Abbreviated 10 minute-classes will give parents an opportunity to follow the schedule of their children.

* * *

Teachers will explain the fundamentals of each course. Refreshments will be served by the Parent Planning Committee.

Hours Listed for Book Fair

ORION TOWNSHIP — A new book fair will be held at Weber School, 3191 Clarkston, Monday through Nov. 12.

A wide variety of new paperback books from kindergarten through sixth grade level will be displayed for sale during school hours, and from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The proceeds from the fair will benefit the PTA-sponsored central library now being set up by a group of Weber School mothers.

Convention Director to Speak at Church

WALLED LAKE — Dr. Francis Whiting, director of spiritual life for the Michigan Baptist Convention, will be the guest speaker at a 7 p.m. service Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

Whiting is a former editor of Baptist Leader, a magazine used in Christian church school education. Recently, the Saturday Evening Post carried Whiting's views of religious concerns in America.

5 Big Road Projects in County Future

Five major road projects in Oakland County are among those announced this week by the Michigan State Highway Department to get under way during a five-year period beginning July 1, 1967.

Director Howard E. Hill said that they are included in the $430-million building program scheduled for that time.

Following is a list of those projects planned for Oakland County.

- M59 — 1.9 miles of five lanes from Williams to the airport and 3.5 miles of freeway from the M59 extension to the east county line.
- Northwestern Highway — 15.3 miles of freeway from U.S. 24 through Southfield to M59, and six miles of freeway from M59 to I-75.

* * *

- I-696 — 10.8 miles of freeway from Lahser east to Dequindre.
- M150 — Five-tenths of a mile of widening south of relocated M59.
- I-96 — 2.7 miles of freeway from the I-96 and I-696 interchange south to Eight Mile Road.

The schedule is part of a road building program that will boost Michigan's total construction to $2.75 billion for the 15-year period ending in 1972, according to Hill.

The four-man State Highway Commission approved the 1967-72 program recommended by Hill to meet increasing needs throughout the state.

"The ever-increasing population and the ever-increasing number of automobiles on our roads make obvious the fact that we must maintain our road building program," Hill added.

"Our state's economy is at stake. We must continue to provide the arteries to keep our industrial and commercial enterprises strong.

"The safety of our people is at stake. We must do everything in our power to offset congestion on our streets and highways."

TURNCOAT RETURNS — Korean War turncoat Morris Wills, 32, his Chinese wife, Li Kai-Yen, and their 15-month-old daughter arrived yesterday from Hong Kong. Wills, a native of Fort Ann, N.Y., spent 11½ years in China where he chose to stay rather than return to the U. S. He said he was "glad to be back."

Communist Party Trial Bogs Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barely off the ground after its first week, the trial of the Communist party has bogged down over the testimony of a California housewife who said she was a Communist for the FBI.

U.S. District Judge William B. Jones recessed the trial until Monday after the government tried several times Thursday but failed to question Lula Mae Thompson about her alleged willingness four years ago to register the party as a Soviet agent.

★ ★ ★

The party is charged in 23 counts of failure to register with the attorney general and could face fines up to $230,000 if convicted.

Mrs. Thompson testified she joined the party in 1953 and left it in 1962. The French Camp, Calif., woman testified for the government before the Subversive Activities Control Board, which originally ordered the party to register.

Prosecutor Joseph Lowther is trying to prove that Mrs. Thompson — had she been asked — would have signed the registration forms for the party in November 1961. But party lawyer John J. Abt successfully objected several times as Lowther attempted to get Mrs. Thompson to assert her willingness. The one time she did say, "Yes, I would," Jones ordered the jury to ignore the answer.

★ ★ ★

Because a 1962 conviction of the party was reversed on appeal on grounds the government failed to prove a volunteer was available to perform the registration without incriminating himself, the government has set out to prove the existence of such volunteers during this trial.

Sees Racial Election Issue

Ferency Raps Nixon, Romney Statements

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency says today "Michigan faces the prospect of having the civil rights issue injected into next year's political campaign."

Ferency said signs of the civil rights issue becoming a part of the campaign were made evident in recent remarks by former Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney.

He said both men have claimed there has been "real progress made in the area of civil rights."

★ ★ ★

Ferency quoted Nixon as saying "'we've gone through a revolution for the Negro'" and "'the objectives have been reached.'"

FAR FROM OVER

The Democratic party leader said "the struggle for freedom and racial and religious discrimination in community life is far from over" in Michigan.

"If Gov. Romney has information or facts that lead him to believe that Michigan has found solutions to the pressing problems of racial and religious discrimination in housing, employment, schools and public accommodations, the Republican governor has a duty to make those facts public," he said.

★ ★ ★

However, he said, "If . . . Nixon and Romney are merely playing fast and loose with the critical and highly sensitive issue of civil rights, they can expect a public challenge . . ."

Clock Has Quite A Past

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (AP) — Father Time hasn't stopped in Miss Barbara Wilklow's family for more than 400 years.

She said she has records showing the solid cherry timekeeper was first repaired in 1803 after her family carried it from its homeland to Pennsylvania where they settled.

Prices Were Slashed ---So Was the Furniture

CLOVIS, N. M. (UPI) — A Clovis furniture store advertised "slashed prices." When it opened its doors for the sale, it discovered that vandals had broken into the store during the night and slashed some $2,000 worth of new sofas and chairs, apparently with a razor blade.

The store now is planning a truly "slashed" furniture sale.

Iodine May Be Used to Disinfect Water

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A University of Florida professor says iodine may one day be used to disinfect the world's drinking water.

★ ★ ★

"Tests show iodine costs half as much in treating swimming pool water as chlorine," said Dr. A. P. Black, professor of sanitary science. He told the Florida section of the American Water Workers Association that more than 800 convicts in Florida prison have been drinking iodine-treated water for two years without ill effects.

WARM HEARTS — Frank McRee (left), a Madison, Ga., furniture salesman, turns over to Lamar Thomas some of the checks that have been sent to the farmer following nationwide publication of an Associated Press picture showing Thomas watching helplessly as his home burned. McRee rescued one child, held by Mrs. Thomas, another died in the flames. Thomas said most of the contributions of money and household items have come from white persons. "This showed us that white folks don't hate Negroes," he said.

Foreign News Commentary

Ben Gurion Loss Was Passing of Era

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Turks still ruled Palestine when a young man named Green arrived from Poland and took on the name Ben Gurion—son of the lion.

NEWSOM

It was a name that fitted David Ben Gurion, for he was to go on from there, through the battle for an independent Israel, finally to gain the honorary title, "father of his country."

It had to be with a feeling of regret, therefore, as it must be with the passing of any era of high adventure that political commentators this week were writing an end to the career of the round-faced man with the halo of white hair who until 1963 dominated the political life of Israel.

He had, it was said, become vain and cantankerous and, like many an old man used to power, convinced that there was no other to take his place.

In 1948, Ben Gurion became Israel's first premier and he led his country successfully against the Arab invasion that followed and again in 1956 when Israel's army marched into the Sinai against Egypt.

SEEMS UNFORTUNATE

And if, at the age of 79, Ben Gurion now is to retire permanently to his Negev Desert kibbutz, it seems unfortunate that he chose as the grounds for his last great battle an issue neither well known nor understood to most Israelis.

This was "the Lavon affair" and over it he broke with his one-time protege, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol, broke with the party he helped to found, the Mapai, and went against his own political principles to found another party which was to fragment still further the already-confusing political picture of Israel.

In Tuesday's elections, Ben Gurion's new Rafi party ended far down in the lists with no more than eight or nine members of Israel's 120-member Knesset or parliament.

★ ★

The Mapai, now headed by Eshkol, gained strength and once again emerged as Israel's strongest single political party.

CLOUDED BY CENSORSHIP

"The Lavon affair" goes back 10 years, and its exact nature always has been clouded by Israeli censorship.

But in general it involved a James Bond-type of espionage against Egypt, clumsily handled and ending with the Egyptian arrest of 13 persons and the execution of two.

As result of it, the then-defense minister of Israel, Pinhas Lavon, was forced to resign.

A later cabinet inquiry found that Lavon had been found guilty on the basis of forged evidence, with implications reaching into Ben Gurion's own office.

Ben Gurion fought the ruling and this year turned against Eshkol and his party rather than accept the former's refusal to reopen the old case.

★ ★ ★

As Ben Gurion crisscrossed the countryside in this fall's campaign, he proclaimed it was time to get Israel back on the dynamic road. Eshkol, for his part, told Israelis they had never had it so good.

Woman Lives in 'Dolls' House'

Women's Section

By JEANNE NELSON

"Oriental dolls have such exquisite detail," says Mrs. G. Harmon Gillen of Watkins Lake. She is one who should know. The lady has been collecting dolls for the past 30 years and is the proud possessor of more than 200.

She will be showing a large portion of the collection at the St. Andrew's Episcopal Churchwomen's luncheon next Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Outstanding among the group is one papier mache doll well over 100 years old. The story behind this one is romantic.

Before the couple was married her husband's aunt prettied up an old shoe box. Mr. Gillen attached the engagement ring to the doll and presented this gift to the newly engaged young woman.

Most of the dolls have a story and Mrs. Gillen has researched many years to secure the correct background information on each.

TREASURE HOLDERS

Some of the Madame Lenci dolls of Italy, made during World War II under Mussolini's orders, contained diamonds and other jewels to be sent to Japanese officials as good-will gestures.

★ ★ ★

Dolls in her collection are made of china, bisque, celluloid, metal, wood, crude rubber, silk, papier mache, corn husks and leather.

In the Japanese group, there is a doll with six different wigs. Each one determines the doll's age.

A Japanese boy doll comes equipped with six masks of the type used by the Kabuki Players.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gillen has named each doll with its country and origin in mind.

There wasn't an English word for doll until the middle of the 18th century. Up until then, dolls were called "babe," "little lady," or simply "puppet."

WORD ORIGIN

Mrs. Gillen's opinion is that the word "doll" might have come from the Latin or Greek words for idol.

Most of the Russian-made dolls have a mongolian facial appearance. And many of these dolls have extremely large feet, not at all in proportion to the rest of their bodies.

★ ★ ★

Another unusual doll is made from silk with the facial features formed by minute stitching. This one is an old French peasant and was displayed at Cobo Hall where the collector purchased it.

One from Switzerland has ball and socket joints at the shoulders, elbows, wrists, knees and ankles and takes almost as many positions as a human.

★ ★ ★

Not one to do things half-heartedly, Mrs. Gillen, displays flags and travel folders and plays music when lecturing on her collection.

This busy mother whose daughter, Betsy, is a junior at Michigan State University has lectured to over 5,000 people about her dolls.

Stevenson of Lanark Street, who has charge of decorations for the St. Andrew's Episcopal Churchwomen's salad tasters' luncheon Thursday when Mrs. Gillen will display her dolls.

Churchwomen Tell of Luncheon

The women of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church are making plans for their salad tasters' luncheon next Thursday in the church on Hatchery Road.

Mrs. Carl Hoffman is the general chairman and assisting her on committees are Mrs. R. F. McIntyre, Mrs. Darrel Delley, Mrs. Richard Daubner and Mrs. L. E. Murray.

Others are Mrs. Ian Stevenson, Mrs. Donald Jacobs, Mrs. Edward A. Lowry, Mrs. Karl Dale and Mrs. R. F. Morgan.

The affair which starts at 11:45 a.m. is open to the public.

Give Money to Kids

Gift Horse for Sale

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's parents shipped our children a pony. The children have been begging us for a horse for a long time, but we didn't get them one because neither my husband nor I have the time or energy to take care of it.

ABBY

The children said they would, but they are much too young, and it became apparent that they wouldn't care for it after it was here two weeks. This pony came as a complete surprise to all of us. We weren't even prepared for it.

If the grandparents had asked our permission first, we'd never have allowed them to send it. Keeping that pony is out, so our question is, do we need their permission to sell it? Who gets the money?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: The grandparents didn't ask your permission to ship it, and you don't need their permission to sell it. The money from the sale of the pony should go to your children since it was a gift to them.

DEAR ABBY: When I met Dolly, she was wearing Vic's engagement ring. I plead guilty to stealing another man's girl, but it was just one of those things.

I'm glad we found out we were meant for each other before it was too late. Dolly just called me and told me that when she tried to give Vic back the diamond ring he acted like a real gentleman.

★ ★ ★

He didn't fall apart or blame me or anything. But he said that since Dolly had picked the ring out herself, she should ask me to give him what he paid down on it, take over the rest of the payments, and Dolly could keep the ring.

Dolly says she thinks it's a good idea. I can't see anything wrong with it, either. I told this to a buddy of mine and he said I must be nuts. Tell me, Abby, what's wrong with that deal?

I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: Look, friend, if you're happy, Dolly's happy and Vic is happy, what your buddy says doesn't cut any ice with me.

Spring Look by Trigere 'Womanly'

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK — Pauline Trigere, a fashion feminist if there ever was one, made a tacit pitch for womanhood Thursday with a spring collection that was sexy in a very subtle way.

There were flowers and pearl buttons and silken bows, and ruffles and ribbons and flounces, too. But with these Miss Trigere was careful not to overdo.

STRAPS

Take the necklines. Tubular dresses long or short wore shoestring straps, or bathing suit straps that criss crossed in back, or jumper straps, or no straps at all.

There were U-cut and cowl necklines that traveled low, but not immodestly so.

★ ★ ★

What helped to round out pretty bosom lines were bits of shearing at about the breastbones in the otherwise shapeless wool or silken shifts.

In chiffon dinner dresses the Trigere models figured plenty. But over their vivid floral printed sheaths were shadowy tubes of black or gray chiffon.

SHIRT TAIL

Instead of open side seams, Miss Trigere borrowed a man's night shirt.

She used the rounded shirttail theme over and over again as torso length jackets, tunics and blouses. Out from under the shirttails flashed flounces of pleats, or swirls of chiffon.

Long sleeved dresses with soft bows at the neckline were bias cut with flared skirts.

Altar Guild Has Annual Style Show

Oakland Hills Country Club was the scene of the annual St. Hugo of the Hills Altar Guild luncheon and fashion show Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Margie Franzel dressed the models and Geon's fashioned the hair styles.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. David Kelton and Mrs. Richard Wilson were the co-chairmen of the event which is staged each year to raise funds for the proposed convent for the Sisters of St. Hugo of the Hills School.

★ ★ ★

Heading committees were Mrs. Michael J. Lonergan, Mrs. Wesley D. Carbary, Mrs. Richard Flannery, Mrs. Dean Wartchow and Mrs. Robert J. Martin.

★ ★ ★

Among the Guild members modeling were Mrs. Donald Weldon, Mrs. John Raymond, Mrs. John E. Murtagh Jr., Mrs. Albert Bergel, Mrs. David Comeau and Mrs. Ralph Conlon.

★ ★ ★

Completing the list are Mrs. Robert Harwath, Mrs. Andrew Kozyck, Mrs. Thomas Sansone, Mrs. Patrick Smith, and Mrs. Wayne Klein.

This fashion conscious trio arrived early at Oakland Hills Country Club Thursday for the annual St. Hugo of the Hills Altar Guild luncheon and fashion show. From the left are Mrs. George Baldwin of Birmingham, Mrs. Harwood Bacon and Mrs. James P. Cummiskey, both of Bloomfield Hills.

AP Wirephoto

Prior to announcement of new officers, an installation ceremony was conducted for new member, Mrs. Gerald McLarty.

As one of her final duties Julia O'Brien, 1965 president and delegate to the recent national convention in San Francisco, presented the national citation and plaque awards made at the convention to Mrs. Charles A. Stark.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stark received the special award for being among the Top Ten Women of the Year chosen from among the 585 ABWA chapters in the United States.

Yule Party for Spirit 6

Plans for a Dec. 7 Christmas party at the South Edith Street home of Mrs. Harold Wright were made when Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club Spirit 6 met Tuesday in the club rooms on Yale Avenue.

Ralph Bogart, 18th District commander, and Mrs. Bogart were guests of the post and auxiliary.

Dislikes Smoking at Table

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: Does a hostess have the right to ask her guests to refrain from smoking at the dinner table? So many people have a habit of lighting cigarettes between courses.

I have no objection to smoking, but I do object to it while others are eating.

A: The only thing you can do is not put cigarettes, ash trays or lighters on your dining table, indicating that you prefer guests not to smoke at table.

However, if your guests ignore this and take out their own cigarettes and smoke, there is really nothing you can do about it.

★ ★ ★

Q: Will you please tell me if there is any rule, when setting the table, as to how much space should be left between each place setting?

A: The distance between places at the table should never be so short that guests have no elbow room nor so far apart that conversation has to be shouted.

About 24 inches from plate center to plate center is ideal.

★ ★ ★

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

★ ★ ★

Miss Larson and Mr. Mott Speak Vows

A recent candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Farmington marked the vows of Sharon Lynn Larson to William Wilford Mott of Dearborn.

The couple left for a wedding-trip to San Francisco and Acapulco, Mexico, after a dinner reception in the American Legion Hall, Detroit.

A gown of white silk organza over taffeta with cathedral train was chosen by the bride, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Larson of Farmington Road, Farmington Township.

She wore an illusion veil and carried white ranunculus and variegated dieffenbachia, for the ceremony performed by Rev. Richard Markham.

With Marilyn Larson, her sister's honor maid, were bridesmaids Marlene Coe, Caroline Dunkle and Mrs. R. A. Cayetano. Leslie Rupp was flower-girl and Charles Campbell, ring-bearer.

James Hruby was best man, with ushers Thomas Aspenleiter, Lee Johnson and Donald Killing.

The bride was graduated from Cleary College.

'Park Across the Hall, Sir'

"You can park your car across the hall, sir," the French landlord will say as he rents you an apartment.

Sound odd? An apartment building now under construction actually will have across-the-hall parking for residents. Engineering News-Record says a tenant will be able to drive through the building, park on his own floor, and go across the hall to his apartment.

★ ★ ★

If you've already thought about exhaust fumes, etc. — don't worry, they'll be taken care of, too. Each parking floor will be separated from the apartments by a fireproof and specially ventilated corridor.

'Regular' Coffee Contains Cream

When you order a cup of coffee in New York you have to be careful. When the waitress asks if you want it regular, don't mumble "yes" if you like your coffee black and you don't really know what she means by regular. In New York, regular means with cream. So you'll have to send that first creamy cup back and wait for an irregular black one and that will waste your time. Apparently there are facts to back up the decision as to what "regular" coffee should be. Some 85 per cent of the New York coffee drinkers take cream, says Today's Secretary. So it seems that the waitress knows what she's talking about.

Just be cautious when you order if you are a Westerner who belongs to the 54 per cent group who prefers black coffee. And, try not to get too upset at your waitress.

Juniors Have Wide Choice of Jewelry

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Better-than-ever is the word for the selection available to the nation's youngest — and among its most avid — jewelry buyers.

This is the first season that the juniors will experience the joy of buying jewels without paying federal tax.

* * *

With so many articles of jewelry not really complete until monogrammed, the added depth in the new gold filled pins, friendship rings, I.D. and remembrance bracelets, tells the teen that she is important to the jeweler.

ONLY FOR YOUNG

The strict or Courreges look is effective only on the extremely young. For most of us, it needs modification. Just too much are the rigid seaming, welting, above-the-knee skirts and slit goggles, not to mention the boots.

The tempering of this strict look for daytime or sportswear is up to you and the way you wear your jewels.

* * *

Pins and more pins are demanded for the shaft, successor to the shift. Deliberately kept simple, it calls for individuality in a selection of tailored pins.

Crescents, wheels, leaves and bowknots, all have the super-modern feeling that makes them the perfect accessory to be worn, where you will, on a shaft.

Whimsical for teen-agers are the new 'petite pins' and imaginative 'fun pins'. All are dainty, charming, often fanciful.

ANIMAL COLLECTION

A group of animal pins includes a bashful bushy-tailed bunny whose head is turned away; a Cheshire cat, a colorful turtle and a winsome puppy.

Baroque simulated pearls form the bodies of a fish, dragon, bird, a butterfly with folded wings, and a plump duck with a pearl head. Some are adorned with gleaming black enamel and ruby-like stones.

Exciting, too, is a pinwheel pin in a gorgeous burst of color. Cherries, on a tiny green enamel leaf and a pineapple spray are delicate and pretty for the young woman.

* * *

More and more teen-agers are piercing their ears. For those who like the look, but alas, are leery, (chicken ears) there are more and more earrings designed - to - look - designed for pierced ears.

Whether the hair is worn in the short, new curly fashion or in a long ponytail, wedding-band hoop earrings are fabulously young and fresh.

Either way, earrings are preferred small and dainty, with pearl or shiny gold ball or butter-type leading in popularity.

Glamorize the simple shaft dress with hand-forged link chains, or rectangular or oval links in lengths of from 18 to 60 inches.

These are featherweight but look like the heaviest gold. They give you multi strands of pseudo golden angel chains with pinwheel clasps of "pop art."

The choker has had an important fashion revival. One of Trifari's newest is graduated golden ribbing, simulating a solid fringe.

"Beau Bangle" bracelets by Trifari come in 10 fascinating styles in shiny and textured gold-tone including lattice work, golden lace, candy stripe and swirls. The more you wear, the better you look. On the dress pin "the three little fishes that swam over the dam."

Window Wonder

If an old damask tablecloth has a hole in it, but there is still plenty of good material, use the good part for making kitchen cafe-style curtains.

Don't wash your kitchen range while it is still hot, as this may cause the porcelain to crack.

Americans are always on the go, and it appears that more and more people are taking their homes with them from place to place. One out of every six new single-family dwellings will be mobile this year, says a well-known magazine. That's a big chunk of the home market.

Why so popular? Mobile homes are as nice as regular houses — they come with air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpet; the whole works. The price is reasonable. And, it's much easier to carry your family to the site of your new job in a portable house.

Use several small, flat boxes as drawer dividers. They cost nothing but do a lot toward helping you to keep the drawers neat.

Word Power to Success—23

Rules Help You Avoid Grammar Errors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 23rd in a 30-part series entitled "The Word Power Way to Success." The series is designed to help bring improvement in spelling, grammar and vocabulary.)

By The Reading Laboratory, Inc.
Written for NEA Special Services

Fewer rules of English grammar.
Mean less reason for us to stammer.

With this article we shall complete the treatment of the most common grammatical errors of formal speech and writing. Our next article will be a general review and the one after that a final test in these rules of grammar.

FEWER—LESS

Our rhyme explains the difference. When we are referring to number, we use fewer, not less. "There are fewer soldiers here than in other camps." Not, "There are less soldiers here, etc." And "Fewer students failed this year than last" is correct, while "Less students failed etc." is wrong.

Less, on the other hand, refers to quantity. "There is less time than you think"; "Less excitement was caused than we expected." In a sentence like this, you may use less also: "Women are wearing less clothes this year."

Since we are talking about the quantity of clothes women are wearing, not the number of their garments, use less. If, however, you are referring to the number of clothing items, then you must use fewer.

* * *

"Women are wearing fewer clothes this year." Since we are talking about the quantity of clothes women are wearing, not the number of their garments, use less. If, however, you are referring to the number of clothing items, then you must use fewer. "Women are wearing fewer clothes this year" means there is at least one item of apparel missing this year.

The classic modern violation of the rule regarding the use of like and as is: "Winstons taste good like a cigarette should." Whenever a phrase or clause follows (as with the commercial above), use as.

Therefore, "Winstons taste good as a cigarette should." "Books are not read as in pre-TV days." "There is no spirit here as in Shea Stadium." "Do as your parents tell you."

Like is used, on the other hand, when it precedes a noun or pronoun. "Walk like him." "Think like pop." "This smells like tobacco."

LIE—LAY

Lie or lay? This decision still stops the best of us, no matter how clearly we know the difference between the two words. Lay means simply "to place down, to put down;" lie means "to recline, to be at rest," and similar such ideas.

"I lie on the bed while the nurse lays a coverlet over me" "He lays the book close to where I am lying." The difference is clear enough, and most people know the difference.

The real nuisance comes, however, in the other forms of these words. The word lay (to put down) in the present tense (action going on now) has the same form as the past tense (action completed already) of the verb lie. "I now lay the book on the desk" has the same form as "I lay down for a nap yesterday."

This clearly causes confusion. The only really successful way to master these two words is practice. The following sentences will cover all the forms of each word:

* * *

Lie. 1. May I lie on your couch? 2. I was lying on his couch. 3. I lay on his couch yesterday. 4. I had lain on his couch for four hours. The four froms of lie are, therefore: lie, lying, lay, lain.

* * *

Lay. 1. I shall lay the book on the desk. 2. I was laying the book on the desk when he walked in. 3. I laid the book on the desk yesterday. 4. I had laid the book on the desk before he came in. The four forms of lay, then, are: lay, laying, laid, laid.

A QUIZ

Choose the correct word within the parentheses in the following sentences:

1. There are (less, fewer) pages in the book than I thought. 2. (Lay down, lie down) and rest.
3. Pennsylvania (lays, lies) to the east of Ohio.
4. Do (like, as) I do, not (like, as) I say.
5. (Like, As) you sow, so shall you reap.
6. I had (lain, laid) there for ten minutes before she saw me.
7. Are there (less, fewer) pavilions at this World's Fair than last?
8. Who (lay, laid) this bottle on my paper?

ANSWERS
1. fewer. 2. lie down. 3. lies. 4. as; as. 5. as. 6. lain. 7. fewer. 8. laid.

College Students Launch Programs to Aid Yanks in Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP) — College students are playing Santa's helper in growing campus support for American servicemen in Viet Nam.

Hundreds of students are packing gift boxes to meet the Nov. 17 deadline for mailing Christmas packages to Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of others are donating blood, writing letters, signing petitions and organizing demonstrations in support of U.S. policy.

It's part of the reaction of college students and others to organized demonstrations last month protesting U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war. Since then the show of support for American fighting men has mushroomed.

CHEESECAKE

One coed at Ohio State University at Columbus has decided that cheesecake may be just the thing for the boys. With the help of her dormitory mates, Jane Sault of Scarsdale, N.Y., collected more than 200 posters showing the college's homecoming queen candidates.

She is sending the pictures to units in Viet Nam through the USO. Jane is also sparking a drive to collect baked goods and other items for the troops.

★ ★ ★

At Washington College in Chestertown, Md., the girls have organized "Project Cheer John."

The project, sponsored by the Women's Residence Association, is aimed at cheering up servicemen by sending them Christmas gift packages.

SUPPORT NOTES

"We want to show the servicemen in Viet Nam that not all college students are against them," said one of the organizers. The college said notes of encouragement and support will be included in the packages.

Carroll College at Helena, Mont., began a two-week program Thursday in support of the nation's position in Southeast Asia. The Roman Catholic campus program includes offering of Masses and communions, sending Christmas cards, signing resolutions backing the servicemen, and a torchlight parade.

The parade will be on Mt. Helena, overlooking the city. Lighted torches will spell out "Win in Viet Nam" and form a huge American flag.

In San Francisco, the deputy regional director of the post office, Ed Mayfield said, "There has been a tremendous increase of mail to Viet Nam in recent days, but it is all being efficiently expedited."

AIR MAIL

He said most of the mail was being sent out by air.

Headed south from San Francisco is a truck loaded with $50,000 in drugs for the South Vietnamese people. The drugs, collected in a three-month drive by the Jaycees in Oregon, are en route to Navy supply ships in San Diego.

★ ★ ★

Samuel Duncan and William Winter Jr. of the Portland Jaycees are in charge of the shipment.

The Post Office said in Washington that the deadline for mailing Christmas packages to military personnel in Viet Nam had been extended from Nov. 10 to Nov. 17.

NEW LAW

The extension was made possible by a new law signed by President Johnson this week, providing for the airlifting of packages from the U.S. port of embarkation.

Two weeks ago at Michigan State University in East Lansing the Veterans Association collected 16,000 signatures — roughly half the student body — in support of U.S. action.

Chemical attractants and repellents for honeybees are being tested in the expectation that the bees may be brought to crops that require pollinization and kept away from poisoned areas.

Fireworks as Candy

WATERTOWN, S.D. (AP) — Police are trying to find out who put crackerball fireworks into children's Halloween trick-or-treat bags. A 6-year-old boy bit into one of the devices and suffered severe burns of the mouth when it exploded. Parents of four other youngsters also discovered the fireworks.

Natchez Seeks to End Boycott

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Business leaders who say a civil rights boycott has brought "possible stagnation" to Natchez today consider an ultimatum which may cost Negroes their jobs.

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors meets to ponder a plan to have employers "lay off" as many Negro workers as possible unless the boycott ends by Nov. 10.

"Maybe this will put the pressure on local Negroes and force them to react against outside agitators," a store manager said.

"Of course, it might make things worse," he added. "But we've got to do something."

★ ★ ★

Many downtown stores have been hit hard by the most dramatically effective economic boycott ever organized in the South by civil rights forces.

Store executive along Franklin Street — after stipulating that they must not be identified — estimate sales losses at more than 50 per cent in many cases.

"I have seen Saturdays when it was a struggle to get through the crowd on the sidewalk," said one. "Last Saturday you could have fired off a cannon down Franklin and not hit a human or a car."

Franklin is mainly a street of stores catering to lower income bracket customers — white or Negro.

★ ★ ★

Natchez has about 11,000 Negro residents, 12,000 whites.

However, stores on Main Street which parallel Franklin one block over, also suffer — depending on the amount of Negro trade they once enjoyed.

In addition, store managers say many whites of the surrounding area now shop elsewhere for fear they might be involved in a demonstration or even in a clash with Negroes or the Ku Klux Klan.

Three Franklin stores, small bargain houses, have folded in the past two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The boycott backs demands for, among other things, six Negro policemen, better job opportunity, a Negro member on the school board, and the use of "courtesy titles" — Mr., Mrs., or Miss.

STAGNATION

The counterboycott proposal was drawn up Thursday by the chamber's retail merchants section, which said: "The unreasonable boycott has resulted in what amounts to possible stagnation in the community."

If the boycott continues, the proposal calls for employers "to begin laying off Negro employes and to encourage all businesses in Natchez and Adams County to cooperate, and to urge housewives to lay off domestic help."

There was no firm estimate on how many workers would be involved.

★ ★ ★

In Jackson, Negro leader Charles Evers, said the reaction to such a move would be the formation of "breadbasket committees" and direct aid to Negroes thrown out of work.

"We'll get the money for it," he said, "don't worry about that."

Evers is state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He helped the Natchez chapter organize the boycott which was triggered by the booby trap bombing of the chapter president's car last summer.

The injured official, George Metcalfe, remains in the hospital. Evers, back in Jackson for the state NAACP convention, said Metcalfe was possibly paralyzed.

Tensions arising from the bombing led Gov. Paul Johnson to order out the National Guard over the Labor Day weekend.

Things are not as tense now but the boycott shows no signs of weakening.

"Enforcers" patrol the sidewalk watching for any Negro shoppers.

A Negro who emerges from a boycotted store with a purchase is subject to denunciation and possible harassment.

Car pools have been organized to transport Negro shoppers to outlying stores not under boycott, or to Vidalia, La., just across the Mississippi River bridge.

U.S. Court Will Look at Nudists' Law

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A three-judge U.S. District Court panel hears argument today on a new Tennessee law outlawing nudist colonies and nudism.

Donald L. Dennison of Washington, D.C., attorney for the American Sunbathing Association, Inc., and the Tennessee Outdoor Club, Inc., called the lawsuit a test case to get the U.S. Supreme Court to rule on whether nudity is legal.

Dennison and his clients claim the antinudism statute, passed by the Tennessee General Assembly last March, violates their rights under the 1st, 5th, 9th and 15th amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The sate disagreed and asked dismissal of the suit.

The court hears arguments on the motion to dismiss today and if it is denied, a full trial will be held.

Briefly, the facts are:

State Rep. Gaines Morton, Knoxville, a helicopter pilot, spotted some persons frolicking in the nude as he flew over a wooded area north of here in the summer of 1964.

Morton sponsored a bill in the Legislature last winter banning nudists camps. His colleagues laughingly approved the measure and Gov. Frank Clement signed it.

Said Morton: "Nudism is not a wholesome situation. Those who live around nudist camps have children and should be protected."

Significance Felt

Probers Pleased With Klan Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — With three weeks of Ku Klux Klan hearings behind them, several members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities feel they've accomplished something significant.

"Nobody knew how big this Klan was, or where it was located," said Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., the original spark-plug behind the investigation. "They know that now. They know the front names of all those klaverns."

★ ★ ★

Weltner said in an interview the best estimate of present total Klan membership committee investigators have been able to make is 50,000, give or take 5,000. This estimate has not yet been brought out in the hearings.

"We had thought it was about 12,000 back in February when we started the investigation," Weltner said.

NEW KNOWLEDGE

Weltner said the hearings so far have shown "the kind of stewardship of funds by Klan leaders. In Georgia, we have shown that one bailiff and a former sheriff were Klansmen. We didn't know that before.

"In New Hanover County, N.C., we have shown that the whole sheriff's department was in the Klan. The people of that state ought to know that. Here are people sworn to uphold the law who uphold the Klan instead."

He referred to New Hanover Sheriff Marion Millis, who had testified that he and six of his deputies — in a force of 20 men — had joined the local klavern. He said he later ordered them to quit, but conceded one of them stayed on and was elected to state Klan office.

★ ★ ★

Weltner pointed to Police Chief Howard W. Smith of Clayton County, Georgia, who told the committee he agreed that a law officer could not be faithful to both a Klan oath and his oath as an officer to uphold the law.

POLICE IN KLAN

"I think it is valuable to have a police officer say it is irreconcilable for a police officer to be in the Klan," Weltner said.

In a separate interview, Rep. John H. Buchanan Jr., R-Ala., said "I think we have made a sound beginning. We have a pretty clear picture now of the organizational structure of the Klan.

"We've had a pretty good look at the caliber of the Klan leaders. They are people on the average with very little education. They apparently filed no income tax returns, or failed to report all their income.

"We found the imperial wizard (Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala.) having Klan checks countersigned by his wife, and cashing many of them and buying a diamond."

LATER PROTESTS

Shelton, who would answer no questions in the hearing room, protested to newsmen outside that the diamond ring he wore was a present paid for by his wife. Klan checks endorsed to a Tuscaloosa diamond shop were introduced in evidence by the committee.

★ ★ ★

Buchanan added: "We have seen that individual klaverns have been instructed on how to make bombs and on judo and karate. We have seen overtones of violence in the work of the Klan."

★ ★ ★

Buchanan said the real purpose of the hearings is to provide information for possible legislation in connection with the Klan.

The committee questioned three more no-answers Klansmen Thursday before it recessed until next Tuesday. It is expected to continue with the Georgia Klan next week.

Beautification Share

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan will receive $2,274,830 as its share of $60 million appropriated by Congress for beautification of highways in fiscal 1965-66, the Bureau of Public Roads said Thursday. The bureau also alloted Michigan $77,689 for control of advertising and $74,918 for control of junk yards.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey's skill as a surgeon was shown on British television last night, highlighted by a tribute from the Duke of Windsor.

The British Broadcasting Corp. filmed the program at the Methodist Hospital at Houston, Tex., where DeBakey is doing pioneer work in spare-part surgery of the heart.

Where there, the BBC found the duke — once King Edward VIII of England—and he paid tribute to Dr. DeBakey as the "maestro." The duke, operated on by DeBakey last December, was back at the hospital for a checkup.

Jackie Feeling Better After Flu Bout

MRS. KENNEDY

Mrs. John F. Kennedy is reported "feeling better" after a three-day bout with the flu.

A spokesman for the former First Lady said in New York yesterday, "She had a touch of the flu for the last few days. She remained indoors today, but she is feeling better."

Soft Whiskey doesn't pack a wallop. It packs a love tap.

If you so much as bat an eyelash when you take a drink of Soft Whiskey, you're a lightweight.

Soft Whiskey's very gentle going down. It sort of carries you for a few rounds. But not for too many rounds. It's 86 proof and does anything any 86 proof does. It just does it softer.

How do we soften it? All we can tell you is that we do distill some in small batches as opposed to large. And not another word more.

Other distillers have been dreaming of a Soft Whiskey for a long time. And it was a long long time before we even had it. After all our work, we take a kind of selfish pride in being the only Soft Whiskey.

We're not about to give anyone a crack at the title.

No. 2 Man to Take 'Tour'

Indonesia Expected to Exile Subandrio

JAKARTA (UPI) — Foreign Minister Subandrio will be sent on an extended tour abroad as part of the continuing drive against Communist influences in Indonesia, informed sources said today.

The sources said the move will amount to temporary exile for the pro-Communist foreign minister, considered the architect of Indonesia's policy of alignment with Red China.

The army has been cracking down on Communists in Indonesia since the failure early last month of an anti-government coup backed by the country's Reds.

Radio Jakarta today quoted Subandrio as saying that Indonesia's campaign against Malysia will continue, although he claimed Indonesia has no territorial ambitions on Borneo. Both countries share the island.

★ ★ ★

But informed sources said that in fact Subandrio already has become a casualty of the army-led purge of Indonesian Communists and sympathizers.

DENY REPORT

Meanwhile, the armed forces issued an official denial of reports that troops were being withdrawn from the Borneo frontier to cope with rebel elements in central Java.

Earlier reports had stated that the commander of forces in Central Java, where Communist youth and front groups are engaged in a campaign of terror and sabotage, had welcomed back Javanese troops returning from Borneo.

The official Armed Forces Bulletin issued the denial. It said fresh troops were sent to Borneo from Jakarta only last week.

★ ★ ★

Reports in Singapore said British troops clashed with Indonesian infiltrators along the Sarawak border today and chased them back to Indonesian territory. The reports said one British soldier was killed and two others wounded in the battle.

TROOPS SHIFTED

Informed sources in Jakarta explained that the armed forces in Central Java have undergone a series of shifts and troop rotations recently.

They said the moves apparently were aimed at breaking up concentrations of units whose attitude toward the Communist attempt to grab power was uncertain.

The radio also reported a change of command in the Borneo region. It said Maj. Gen. Sumartono replaced Maj. Gen. Parngabean in the area.

No reason for the change was specified, but the army has been carrying out a purge of Communist officers within its own ranks.

PURGE TO GROW

The sources predicted the purge would extend all the way up to Subandrio, No. 2 man behind President Sukarno in the government.

Subandrio has denied complicity in the abortive Oct. 1 coup, but the army is convinced he participated in the plot.

In still another development Maj. Gen. Achmadi, the country's information minister, told the Indonesian Association of Journalists it was their duty to help destroy the coup movement.

He called on the association to expel members who participated in the Communist grab for power.

★ ★ ★

The radio also quoted Achmadi as saying he already had taken unspecified "security measures" against newspapers which refused to comply with government orders to create a calm atmosphere in Indonesia.

Sonic Booms Termed Another Annoyance

St. Louis, Mo. (AP) — "Sonic booms are an environmental annoyance like pollution of air or water," says an acoustical scientist.

Henning von Gierhke, of the Air Force Aerospace Medical Research Laboratory, told a meeting of acoustical scientists that "Americans will have to learn to live with them" (sonic booms).

Store Owner Seeks Tree-Chopping Culprit

FARMINGTON, N. M. (UP) — When Bill Purvis showed up for work at his grocery store, he found a 50-foot cottonwood tree stretched across the ground in front of the building. A day later, he found a 70-foot tree sprawled across the top of the store. Residents in the area had seen the culprit at work. It was a beaver living along a nearby irrigation ditch.

Cash Bequest Stirs Benefactor Mystery

TUSCOLA, Ill. (UP)—For years, the 145-member congregation of the little Cartwright Church has been accepting matter-of-factly the generosity of an anonymous benefactor who paid church bills.

But the news that a former Chicago schoolteacher has left $1 million to build a chapel in the Garrett Township country cemetery five miles west of Tuscola in east central Illinois has caused considerable excitement.

The money was left by Joseph Lloyd Bache, who died three weeks ago in Chicago at the age of 94. His $1.8 million estate was amassed through investments. He was a Chicago schoolteacher and administrator.

"There's considerable excitement around here — much talk and speculation," the Rev. L. P. Myers, Methodist minister from Monticello who conducts services in the church, said in an interview last night, "No one seems to know much about the man."

★ ★ ★

He said neither he nor members of the congregation know whether Bache was the anonymous benefactor who paid many of the churches large bills. "If we had a bill, like for insurance, painting, a new roof, the first thing you knew it was paid," he said.

WOODEN CHAPEL

He described the 62-year-old wooden chapel, which seats about 150 persons, as "in good condition, nice-looking but not ornate."

The remaining third of Bache's estate was left to build a chapel in a cemetery near Van Orin, in Bureau County, where his mother, Mary, is buried.

On the tombstone above the graves of Bache and his wife, Josephine, in the Garrett Township Cemetery is inscribed:

'Tiger Lady' Dies in Spat

Famed Viet Fighter Angered at Husband

SAIGON (UPI) — Mme. Ho Thi Que, the pistol-packing "Tiger Lady" of the South Vietnamese army, was shot and killed yesterday during a jealous argument with her husband, it was reported today.

A high - ranking Vietnamese army official, who asked not to be identified, said Mme. Que, 38, became infuriated with her husband, Maj. Nguyen Van Dan, for paying too much attention to another woman.

Mme. Que, the official said, pulled a pistol on Dan while the other woman looked on in horror. Dan struggled with Mme. Que for the pistol and it went off, fatally wounding her.

A full investigation was ordered to determine if any charges would be filed against Dan.

★ ★ ★

The shooting happened in Can Tho, a town in the Mekong River Delta, about 75 miles southwest of Saigon.

WITH RANGERS

Mme. Que was known as "Big Sister" to the men of the 44th Vietnamese Rangers, a delta unit her husband formerly commanded.

Wearing a polished steel helmet emblazoned with the tigers of her nickname, Mme. Que marched and fought beside her husband's men.

She carried a pair of 45-caliber automatics strapped to her hips and became a symbol of courage in the Vietnamese army.

The Tiger Lady shaved her head after the battle, a sign of mourning for the victims.

'BLACK TIGER'

Officially, she was a noncommissioned officer of the 44th, nicknamed the "Black Tiger" battalion. But unofficially, she marched beside her husband and played a key role in the unit's operations.

Mme. Que held many decorations for bravery. She saw more combat, death and suffering than many who consider themselves hardened veterans of the war.

Kremlin Boosts Its Magazine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kremlin has launched a Madison Avenue - style advertising campaign to win more American readers for Soviet Life, its glossy English language magazine.

Editors of the monthly, formerly called USSR, this week began mailing promotion letters and cut-rate introductory offers to about 100,000 prospective subscribers.

The picture magazine, which generally runs about 64 pages, is prepared in Moscow and edited by Soviet Embassy officials in Washington.

It is distributed in this country under an exchange agreement with the United States; the Soviets get the Russian language magazine Amerika.

* * *

Soviet Life is printed by Fawcett-Haynes Printing Corp. of Rockville, Md., a Washington suburb.

DIRECT MAIL

A local direct mail service supplied the Russians with mailing lists for the promotion drive, aimed at educators, college and senior high school students and professional people.

The advertisnig package consists of: a 9-by-12-inch color reproduction of a painting of Old St. Nicholas and sleigh which was used as last New Year's cover; a postage-paid return envelope offering a subscription at $1.50 (normally $1.90); and a "Dear Friend" letter.

The letter describes Soviet Life as "an indispensable and authoritative guide to a country you should know more about."

* * *

The editors of the publication are optimistic about the drive. Managing Editor Alexander Makarov told United Press International he expects at least a 2 or 3 per cent return from the mailings.

He added, however, that 2,000 or 3,000 additional subscribers would not surpass the circulation limit of 62,000, fixed by a 1956 U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange agreement.

New subscriptions — if they exceed the goal anticipated — would be accounted for by cutting the number of copies ticketed for newsstand sale, Makarov said.

Soviet Life how has about 25,000 mail subscribers with 19,000 copies sold through newsstands. The remaining 18,000 are distributed free by the embassy.

Makarov said the advertising campaign was inspired by the success of a similar but smaller effort last June. Soviet Life sent introductory offers to about 15,000 persons, he said, resulting in a 3 per cent subscription increase.

Bureau of the Census projections shows the U.S. population increasing by 7.5 million per year between 2000 and 2010.

STUDENT MARCHERS — Perth Amboy High School students, part of a group of about 500 boys and girls, marched toward City Hall yesterday to present a petition imploring city leaders to settle a four-day-old teachers' strike. The petition was signed by about 1,400 of the school's 1,770 students and asked that the strike be settled or the school closed.

Sympathizes With Luci

Margaret Recalls White House Woes

NEW YORK (AP)—The problem of a president's daughter carrying on a girl-dates-boy relationship without everyone butting in isn't unique with Luci Baines Johnson.

Margaret Truman had to deal with the same thing when she lived in the White House, too.

"If I were observed eating a hamburger with a man and a month later I happened to speak to him, romance was in the air," Miss Truman wrote in a series of articles for Good Housekeeping magazine in 1956.

Miss Truman was 21 when she moved into the White House.

"The press yearned to get me married or at least engaged," she said. "There were times when I may have felt wistful to go along with this program, if only because it offered the chance of becoming a private citizen again."

MARGARET TRUMAN

It was rumored this past weekend that Luci, 18, was seeking her father's permission to marry Patrick J. Nugent. Luci has refused to comment on the reports, saying she would not discuss her private life.

Miss Truman, now married to New York Times Managing Editor Clifton Daniel, said she "made up my mind early in the game that I would not marry while I lived in the White House." She and Daniel were married in 1956.

Although it was difficult, Miss Truman said she "never brooded over my restrictions or sacrifices as a daughter of the president.

* * *

"I tried not to think about it at all. If I had let myself think about it, the enormity of it would have swamped me."

She admitted she did miss the "spur-of-the-moment dates, the icebox raiding, the phone calls, the boys who just dropped by."

"While I'm not silly enough to suppose that being watched over by the Secret Service had any real effect on romance," Miss Truman said, "I ask you to consider the effect of saying goodnight to a boy at the door of the White House in a blaze of floodlights with Secret Service men in attendance.

"There is not much you can do except shake hands and that's no way to get engaged."

* * *

Miss Truman considered herself at an awkward age for living in the White House.

* *

"If I had been older or younger, I might have taken it in my stride," she said. "But I was of an age where fantasy and fact were already intermingled and already impressions fell so thick and fast it was difficult to settle on one or the other.

* * *

"I did what I could. I kept my head."

Detroit UF Record

DETROIT (AP)—The United Foundation collected $25,778,441 in this year's Torch Drive, the highest amount ever collected in a Detroit community service drive, president Max M. Fisher said Thursday. The collection surpassed the drive's goal of $21,802,500 by 17.8 per cent, he said.

9 Men Killed in Libya Blast

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — Nine men — three of them Americans — were killed in a pipeline explosion at the Samah oil field in southeast Libya yesterday, the government announced today.

The victims also included four Libyans, a Lebanese and a Briton, the announcement said.

None was identified.

The blast at the Arabian Bechtel Corporation field about 155 miles south of the Mediterranean port of Marsa Brega happened while pipes were being welded, it was reported.

Oil firm and government security forces flew representatives to the field for an investigation of possible sabotage.

Phony CIA Agent Winds Up in Jail

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Charles Botean, 33, a former sergeant in the Air Force, had looked for a channel in Loch Ness, Scotland, that the Russians were building for their submarines, or so he said.

* * *

He had traveled halfway around the world to rescue two important people held by the Viet Cong, or so he said.

He went to a laboratory in Brazil where Communists caught him and were giving him a royal going over when his boys turned up just in time and machine-gunned his tormentors, or so he said.

In fact, Botean told the winsome blonde he was an agent for the top U.S. spy group, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), and showed her a ring he said was sensitized to let him know when "the boss" wanted him.

* * *

Mrs. Dolly Ann Fairchild believed him for nearly five years.

The mother of four told authorities Botean was so convincing that she planned to marry him after she divorced her husband. The former nightclub singer did divorce her husband "after several years of difficulty," but wedding bells failed to peal.

BORROWED MONEY

In the meantime, however, Botean borrowed $1,100 from Mrs. Fairchild's brother and four other relatives entrusted him with $700 to invest, she said.

She said she learned more of Botean's exploits whenever she asked him about the money. Whenever the subject came up, he would tell of another exploit or go to a telephone to "call his boss" or nod to a stranger he labeled a fellow CIA agent.

Mrs. Fairchild even traveled to the Maine home of Botean to seek return of the money but failed.

It was then she grabbed the string that was to unravel Botean's yarns.

WRITE BOSS

Mrs. Fairchild reasoned that since all other avenues had failed she would write Botean's boss, John McCone, then head of the CIA and ask for the money.

* * *

Botean was sentenced this week in federal court to four months in jail and three years probation for impersonating an agent of the CIA.

"It sounds silly now, but we thought he was an agent," the disillusioned woman said.

'Lasers Can Treat Some With Cancer'

BOSTON (AP)—Lasers, powerful concentrated bursts of light, can treat some cancer patients more safely and effectively than X-ray radiation or electro-surgery, a Cincinnati, Ohio, research physician reports.

* * *

The high-energy laser can be made to seek out the cancerous tissue for destruction and leave surrounding tissues virtually unaffected, said Dr. Leon Goldman. By contrast, X-ray radiation destroys not only the cancerous tissues but other tissues in its path, he said.

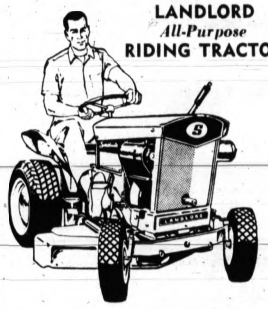

* * *

Dr. Goldman, a member of the John A. Hartford Laser Laboratory Hospital Research Foundation of Cincinnati, described the work yesterday at the Northeast Electronics Research and Engineering Meeting.

Leroy Riethmeier, Oliver Buick Sales Manager is welcomed into the Kinney system by Jim Davidow, Kinney Midwest District Manager.

Local Auto Dealer Becomes A Kinney Leasing Licensee

NEW YORK — The appointment of Oliver Buick of Pontiac, as a car leasing licensee of Kinney System Rent A Car, has been announced by James A. Van Duesen, vice president of Kinney System.

Oliver Buick, which is at 210 Orchard Lake is headed by Bob Oliver. LeRoy Riethmeier will be in charge of the leasing operation.

Kinney System Rent A Car, with headquarters in New York, is a leader in auto rental and leasing. It's fleet numbered more than 6,000 vehicles last year and is claimed to be the biggest in long-term leases to individuals.

Mr. Riethmeier said that under the Kinney license he can arrange to lease cars of any manufacture, not just the Buick line he handles. Long-term leases generally run from a year to 24 months, he said, but individually tailored arrangements can be made.

"The arrangement with Kinney offers many advantages to our customers," Mr. Riethmeier said. "Kinney has tremendous purchasing power which enables it to save on the cost of vehicles, financing and insurance. Therefore Kinney cars can be leased by individuals often for less than the cost of ownership."

Kinney leases for individuals, he explained, include the cost of license plates and maintenance as well as financing and insurance, a plan that, up to now, was mainly available only to large fleet users.

Oliver Buick has been in business in this city since 1932.

"Now we're truly a 'supercarmarket', Mr. Riethmeier said.

"It has been estimated that there are more than 700,000 leased cars on the road today, and the number is growing swiftly. We expect to make our contribution to the increase."

LBJ Uses 'You Are There' Technique

Washington (AP) — President Johnson has established a new trend in ceremonies such as bill signings and swearing in.

No longer does he just sit there, or stand there, in his office and affix his name to "Great Society" measures, or witness the oath-takings of new officeholders.

He goes places. He goes to the Statue of Liberty for the enactment of the immigration reform bill, to the Harry S. Truman Library in Independence, Mo., to sign Medicare, to the Capitol to sign voting rights on an Abraham Lincoln desk and to Hye, Tex., — population 198 — to see Lawrence F. O'Brien become the nation's new postmaster general.

Who's responsible for this new trend? You guessed right — it's LBJ.

Not that the President doesn't have help — even he couldn't do this all by himself. He gets suggestions from White House aides and on occasion from newsmen alert to what is known in their work as the human interest angle.

FAMILY MAIL

The thought that the President should take O'Brien to the combination post office and general store at Hye — to which Johnson used to trudge as a boy to get the family mail — occurred like a bolt out of the blue to William H. Lawrence, ABC correspondent.

Lawrence said he had passed it along to White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers as a gag. But Lawrence added that the more he thought, the better he thought of it. And the President evidently thought it was just fine.

Sad to relate, LBJ's yearning for the good old days could not be completely satisifed at Hye.

He would have liked old-fashioned cheese to serve on crackers to the new postmaster general.

* * *

But Mrs. Levi A. Deike, wife of the local postmaster and storekeeper, said apologetically she didn't have any of those big rings of cheese Johnson knew as a boy.

DIFFERENT TASTES

Explaining that people seem to have got out of the habit of eating that kind of cheese, she served up a loaf of processed cheese in a fancy, brand-name wrapper.

The idea of signing Medicare in Independence was Johnson's own, key aides said. The President took the view that ceremonies, if carried on always at the White House can become a routine, meaningless ritual.

He said in effect: "People hear and read about government, but it doesn't seem close to them; we've got to do more to carry government to them."

* * *

Now while a new trend has been established in presidential comings and goings, a theory that presidential speeches have hit a new high in lyricism is disputed.

The theory is based on a speech the President gave when he signed the highway beautification bill.

In that speech the President asked how to put a value on the "view of the night that is caught in a boy's eyes while he's stretched out in thick grass, watching the million stars that are never seen in our crowded cities, breathing pure, fresh air, while in his ears are the sounds of the night, the birds, the cricket and the winds."

Southfield Sergeant Awarded Silver Star

WARREN (AP) — Staff Sgt. Clement McGee, 34, of Southfield was awarded a Silver Star for gallantry in the Viet Nam war Thursday at the U.S. Army Mobility Command here.

The decoration was presented by Maj. Gen. William W. Lapsley, commander.

10 U.S. Governors Tour Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — A delegation of 10 U. S. governors arrived in Saigon today to begin a four-day tour of Viet Nam.

* * *

The group was met at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport by U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of all American forces in Viet Nam.

The delegation, representing the National Governors Conference, will get a close-up look at the war effort.

Before leaving Hong Kong earlier today, the governors said they wanted to tell American servicemen that most people back home appreciate the job they are doing and want them to stay and see it through.

The group is composed of the governors of Georgia, Rhode Island, Vermont, Michigan, Iowa, Maine, Montana, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Hawaii.

IN AGREEMENT

"I agree one hundred per cent with President Johnson and his policy for Viet Nam," declared Hawaii Gov. John A. Burns.

"Americans are aware that in order to retain freedom and hopes for future peace we must when necessary use maximum force."

Burns said the United States wants to get out of Viet Nam militarily as soon as possible. But he emphasized that it cannot until that country is safe and secure from Communist aggression.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island said the administration policy in Viet Nam was "right" and had wide support.

EXACTLY RIGHT

Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders said the United States was doing exactly what it should in Viet Nam.

Sanders, like most of the other governors, indicated he would seek out servicemen from his home state to let them know of the deep concern and wide support back home for the job they are doing.

ROY ROGERS GRIEVES — Actress Dale Evans comforts her grieving husband, cowboy actor Roy Rogers, at the funeral service in Hollywood yesterday for his 18-year-old adopted son, Pfc. John David Rogers. The youth died in Germany where he was serving.

Movie Finished Using Craft From Fatal Accident

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Filming of the flight of the plane in which movie stunt pilot Paul Mantz was killed last July 8 has been completed successfully.

* * *

When the scene was attempted in July, the craft struck the ground, somersaulted and came apart, killing Mantz and seriously injuring stunt man Bobby Rose.

Rose was aboard again Thursday with pilot Wally McDonnell.

The only mishap Thursday was when the plane lost part of its tail.

Colors Gain Popularity at Funerals

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pastel-colored caskets and air-conditioned hearses are the coming thing in the funeral industry, delegates to the National Funeral Directors Convention said yesterday.

"A casket has a personality all of its own," said Richard A. La Vigne of the Boyertown, Pa., Burial Casket Co.

Where once caskets were always black or somber gray, today muted pastel shades are becoming popular. "In that respect, it is much like a piece of furniture or an automobile," La Vigne declared.

Casket interiors use velvet, silk or velour and shades of blues, greens, yellows and whites now are common. But the trend toward color is spreading to exteriors as well.

Chrome, nickel and copper are the most common materials from which caskets are made but hardwood is gaining in popularity.

"Hardwood now has about 17 per cent of the market," La Vigne said, "and these can be polished or stained in any wood shade. Lighter shades are becoming more popular."

Hearses once were almost always black but they, too, now have moved into color.

Light grey, blue, pale yellow and even dull white are popular among funeral directors, William Manley, an official of Miller Metor Division, Divco-Wayne Corp., Piqua, Ohio, said.

Part of the reason for this is that 60 per cent of all hearses also are used as ambulances, he said.

Air-conditioning has become standard for almost all hearses used in the South and is becoming more popular in the North as well, Manley said. His company features electrically operated casket handlers which allow the casket to be removed from either side or the rear of the hearse.

HOME FOR PRINCESS — The Beverly Hills Hotel in Hollywood, which combines tradition with elegance, will be home for Britain's Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon during their four days and three nights in the Los Angeles area next week. The hotel's preparations for the visit began six months ago.

'NY Win Boosts GOP'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Republican party got a "major lift" out of the election of John V. Linsay as mayor of New York City, says U. S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y.

★ ★ ★

"The Democrats did not make the kind of effort in certain areas of the city that should have been made," said Kennedy on arriving here last night.

Kennedy, accompanied by his wife, Ethel, is visiting Los Angeles to address the University of Southern California student body today and speak at a town hall luncheon.

In remarks prepared for delivery at USC, Kennedy told students the present era is "a time when the young people of our country are playing a greater role in issues of national importance — both domestic and foreign — than ever before in our history."

"We may not approve of every student movement or agree with every expression of concern," said Kennedy. "But the important thing is that our young people now care, and care deeply, and will be better citizens tomorrow for their involvement today."

DEFENDS RIGHT

Kennedy added:

"I defend the right to dissent, the right to criticize. . ."

"But we must be careful not to let disagreement with national policy jeopardize the success of the efforts in which student participation has been so important. . ."

★ ★ ★

"An atmosphere of partial dissent could all too easily become an atmosphere of total disaffection — and with that could come serious damage to those programs which depend upon student involvement for their success. . ."

Beverly Hills Hotel Readies for Royalty

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The Beverly Hills Hotel, which prides itself on coddling its guests, faces its greatest challenge beginning at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

THOMAS

That's the scheduled arrival time of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon, who will be spending four days and three nights in the Los Angeles area. They will rest their royal heads at the Beverly Hills Hotel, which is quite ready for them.

★ ★ ★

Preparations began six months ago, when it was learned that the pair would be coming to California to appear at the annual ball for the World Adoption International Fund. All of the major hotels in town made a pitch to house the visitors. The Beverly Hills found a friend at court, Sharman Douglas, the former ambassador's daughter who is helping to shepherd the princess and her husband through Hollywood society.

Word came through six weeks ago that the Beverly Hills had won out over its competitors. Then the tentative plans had to be converted into an operational scheme.

3 MAJOR MEETINGS

"We've had three major meetings plus numerous departmental meetings," reported Burton Slatkin, vice president of the hotel. "The amount of detail is truly magnificent. After all, when you are dealing with creature comforts, the smallest detail can be crucial."

The hotel's red carpet, reserved for only the most auspicious events, will be rolled out, of course. A large Union Jack has been purchased to hang at the porte-cochere (carriage entrance).

★ ★ ★

The Beverly Hills has already provided shelter for such guests as Queen Juliana of The Netherlands, King Albert of Belgium, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, the Shah of Iran, crown prince of Morocco, President Sukarno, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a scattering of Kennedys (Jack, Bobby, Teddy), Rockefellers and Astors, plus Elizabeth Taylor, Joe DiMaggio and Commander Whitehead.

"But this is the largest and most delicate operation we have ever faced," said Slatkin.

4TH-FLOOR WING

The party is taking over the entire fourth-floor wing of the hotel. Employes have been instructed to stand at least five feet distant from Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon and to bow with heads when given orders. The pair will be eating out at all meals except breakfast, and the kitchen has been instructed that his breakfast is hearty, hers light.

Who is picking up the tab?

★ ★ ★

"The British government for the English visitors, the State Department for Americans," reported Slatkin. "There also has to be a room for escorting motorcyclists, and I suppose we'll take care of that."

Jail Ordered for Uninvited Detroit Pair

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit youths were sentenced to 10 days in jail Thursday by a Recorder's Court judge for trying to force their way into a party at which Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit was a guest.

★ ★ ★

George Washington Carver Jones, 20, and George A. Forman, 19, were found guilty of entering a home without the owner's permission.

★ ★ ★

Damon J. Keith, cochairman of the State Civil Rights Commission, and host for a preelection party Saturday night, told the court he found four youths in the hallway of his home. Keith said the youths were ejected by himself and two aides without Cavanagh's knowledge.

★ ★ ★

Two were arrested by police passing by in a car assigned to protect the mayor. The others fled.

N. J. Chemical Industry Shows Rapid Growth

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The State Department of Conservation says that New Jersey's chemical industry has nearly doubled in the last 10 years.

More than 86,000 workers are employed in the industry which has an annual payroll of about $611 million. There are 1,100 chemical research and development laboratories and plants in the state. The state is the leading chemical producer in the nation.

One hundred and thirty million years ago sharks may have infested what is now known as the Negev desert. Fossils of four species of sharks have been found in this region, indicating that it was once covered with a warm sea.

SEND LINDA'S LETTER TO A COMBAT GI

Give a combat GI in Viet Nam your personal vote of confidence.

Tell the simple, unpretentious sentiments of an unsophisticated Midwestern teen-ager into a groundswell of support for the troops on the line.

Readers of The Pontiac Press are invited to send Linda's letter reproduced here—along with any postscript of encouraging comments of their own—to "Any GI in Viet Nam."

Address them to:

Any GI in Viet Nam

Air mail postage will require 8 cents.

If you know a GI by name send it to him.

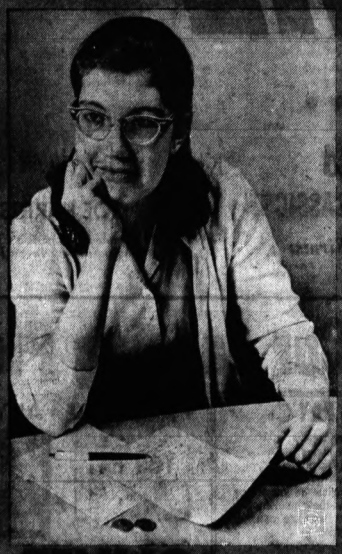

Linda's letter was prompted by NEA correspondent Tom Tiede's article which appeared in The Pontiac Press. In the story he interviewed Pvt. Harold Pruitt, the son of a man killed in "The Bulge."

"I didn't have to come here," Pruitt told Tiede. "As a divinity student, I could have skipped this fight. But corny as it may sound, I feel this fight is an obligation."

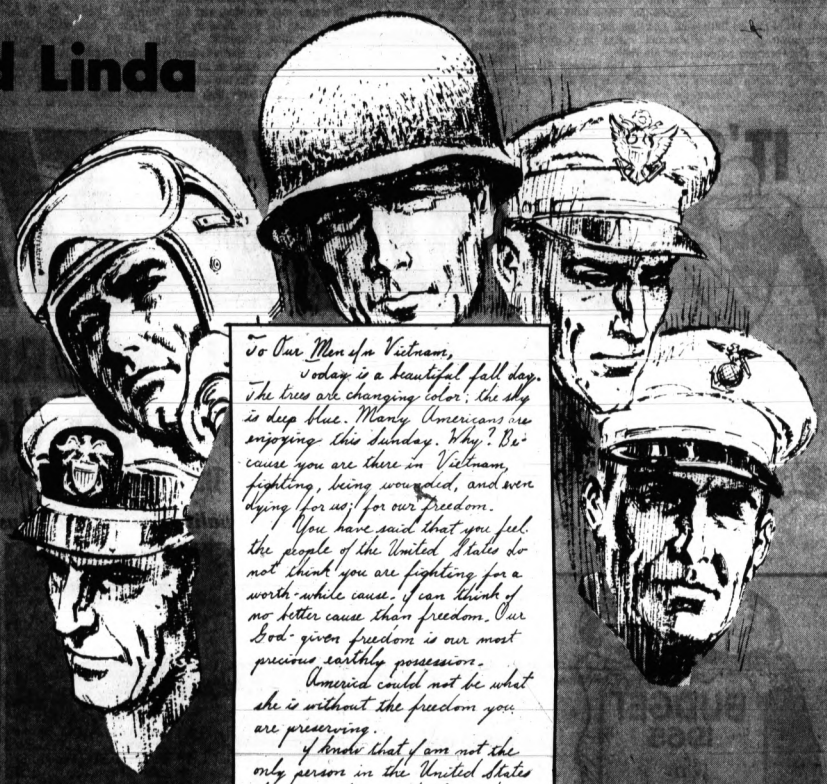

Louis B. Seltzer, editor of The Cleveland Press, has turned Linda's original letter over to NEA. Tom Tiede will present it to Private Pruitt in the presence of General William C. Westmore and in Saigon.

Just clip out Linda's letter, add a postscript if you care to. Readers' letters will be delivered by Tom and the Army Information Office to the thousands of others like Private Pruitt—doing their simple duty in a faraway place called Viet Nam.

A Girl Named Linda Speaks Out for America

Linda Samples, a 16-year-old Kansas City, high school girl [illegible] our combat troops in Viet Nam to [illegible] the, and many others, felt about American boys fighting far from home. Her touching letter, at right, was inspired by a [illegible] by NEA's [illegible] in Viet Nam, Tom Tiede.

To Our Men in Vietnam,

Today is a beautiful fall day. The trees are changing color; the sky is deep blue. Many Americans are enjoying this Sunday. Why? Because you are there in Vietnam, fighting, being wounded, and even dying for us; for our freedom.

You have said that you feel the people of the United States do not think you are fighting for a worth-while cause. I can think of no better cause than freedom. Our God-given freedom is our most precious earthly possession.

America could not be what she is without the freedom you are preserving.

I know that I am not the only person in the United States who prays for you daily and gives thanks that you are there protecting, with your lives, our freedom, our nation, and our existence.

I thank you every one, and may God keep and bless you all.

Sincerely yours,
Linda Samples

S. Viet Marines Heed Call, Actions of Yank Adviser

HIEP BINH XA, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong counterattack exploded with savage fury as the line of Vietnamese marines surged across the rice paddies toward Objective Delta.

A rugged American Marine lieutenant, adviser to the commander of the lead assault company, raised his submachine gun and shouted. "Okay, marines, let's go get them."

* * *

Minutes later, Lt. Paul S. Marcani lay in the bottom of a foxhole, blood flowing through his bullet-ripped camouflaged fatigues. Dead and dying Vietnamese marines littered the field.

The marines of the 3rd Battalion were in disarray and one of the biggest government retreats of the war was under way. Two regiments of Saigon soldiers and an armored column streamed back toward the coast.

EASTER SUNDAY

The day was Easter Sunday.

Three months later, Marcani was crouched in a trench as the Viet Cong launched night-long human-wave attacks against his surrounded battalion.

* * *

The camouflaged cover on his steel helmet was ripped by a Viet Cong bullet as the 650-man battalion withstood the onslaughts. A nearby government ranger battalion was overrun and wiped out.

CIRCLED ZONE

When an observation plane circled the battle zone to find out how bad the situation was, Marcani called in cheerfully over his radio:

"This is Leatherneck Three. We got hurt, but you should see the other side."

AP SPECIAL REPORT

More than 200 Viet Cong died in their attempt to kill the 3rd Battalion.

His neck and upper back still stiff from his Easter wound, Marcani then turned to the battalion commander, Maj. Nguyen Thi Luiong, and the two began figuring out a helicopter landing zone for evacuation of the dead and wounded marines.

Marcani is 27 and from Hellertown, Pa. He is one of 4,200 U.S. advisers working with Vietnamese army, navy, air force and marine units under combat conditions.

VIET EFFORT

Despite the massive buildup of American combat troops in Viet Nam, the war essentially remains one of Vietnamese troops against the Viet Cong, as weekly casualty figures show.

In one week, Vietnamese casualties were 10 times those of American units. The Vietnamese launched 112 battalion-size or larger operations while U.S. units kicked off 19.

* * *

In the battles of Viet An, when Marcani was wounded, and Ba Gia, when his unit stood up to multibattalion assaults, the Vietnamese 3rd Marines took 150 casualties, equal to 20 per cent of the unit. The two actions were the battalion's high and low points in the war. Scores more died or were wounded in other engagements during the past year.

In the same period, the marines killed more than 1,000 of the enemy in actions that ranged from the southern delta to the North Viet Nam border.

HIS DECORATIONS

Marcani won three Vietnamese decorations for valor together with the American Bronze Star, Air Medal and Purple Heart. The Air Medal was for flights in liaison planes over Viet Cong territory looking for helicopter landing zones and enemy strongpoints prior to operations.

Marcani, "Chiky" to his fellow Marines, has walked more than 1,000 miles through swamps, steaming jungle, blistering coastal wasteland and mountains in search of the elusive Viet Cong.

As an adviser, the 6-foot-1, 180-pound lieutenant must be much more than a courageous and skilled fighting man. He must be a diplomat as well, able to carry on a basic conversation in the difficult tonal Vietnamese language.

One of the quickest ways for an adviser to lose his effectiveness is to commit some unwitting affront to Vietnamese sensibilities or to cause his counterpart to lose face.

FULL MONTHS

Marcani's battalion has averaged about 29 days per month in the field.

The Vietnamese marines and airborne brigades form the country's strategic reserve and are thrown repeatedly into the worst battles.

* * *

"Morale has really jumped since American troops arrived," Marcani says. "When we were committed before, things looked pretty bad and we knew we were the last troops available.

"Now these little guys know that if there is a big one, American troops can be thrown in. It makes a lot of difference to know that help can come."

Jamaican Help OK'd for Florida Harvest

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — About 4,000 Jamaican farm workers are to be flown to Florida to help harvest the sugar crop by Nov. 29, a spokesman for the Labor Ministry says.

Certification for entry of workers came from U.S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz last week due to a shortage of American labor. The Jamaican ministry expects to have 9,000 workers on Florida farms by the end of the year.

Soviet Machines to Boost Cuba's Sugar Production

HAVANA (AP) —Cuba's efforts to mechanize its sugar harvest for greater production will take a giant step this coming year with the use of 750 Soviet-made tractor combines.

Cuban and Russian technicians are also at work on design and production of a new type of vehicle to transport the harvested sugar from the field. Cubans will test a new Cuban-Czechoslovak cane-cutting machine.

* * *

Russia maintains a staff of technicians here to help Cuban technical people in the mechanization process.

Cuba hopes to produce 10 million metric tons of sugar by 1970 and Russia is its best customer. This year's production was six million tons.

PCH on Spot in Flint Before Facing No. 1 Foe

AN EDUCATED GRRrrr — The masked wrestler known as "The Student," whose identity is known by very few, holds a Master's Degree from a major state university, and is a former professional football player. He will be playing defensive tackle Saturday night when the Pontiac Arrows, bidding for the Midwest Football League championship playoff, meet Lansing in their regular season finale.

Did you ever talk to a person with a master's degree whose only spoken vocabulary is—GRRrrrr?

Fans attending the football game between the Pontiac Arrows and Lansing Saturday night may not get a chance to talk with him but they can watch him playing defensive tackle for the Arrows.

* * *

Faced with personnel troubles because of the injury to starter and captain Chico Johnson, plus the loss of other key players, Paul Parks, president of the Arrows told coach Lyle Wells at practice yesterday he had the solution to his problem.

Parks, who also promotes wrestling in the city, remembered that one of the wrestlers on the weekly card was a former football player who weighed 295 pounds. This could hardly be ignored by any coach, especially when the Midwest Football League title was involved and when he had half of his defensive line out with injuries.

We didn't know who this new defensive tackle was except that he was known as "The Student."

WEARS MASK

He wore a bright red mask which made him popular in wrestling arenas around the state and Midwest and when he changed from dress shirt to a jersey and answered every question with a GRrrrr, one might wonder if this was still the Neanderthal age or a late trick-or-treater.

* * *

We learned from the manager of this masked marvel that he was 28 years old, standing 6-2 and weighing 295 pounds and recently completed his master's degree at a major institution.

* * *

We also learned from his "manager's" interpretation of the long and short GRRrrrrs, that he played professional football for five years, including a term with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League plus a few seasons in Canada and some minor league American teams.

Coach Wells, who really appeared to be more stunned than pleased about his new tackle prospect, turned to Parks and with reservation asked, "Is this . . . this guy supposed to be on my football team?"

"The Student" as he is called in wrestling circles is on three to five wrestling programs a week, including the weekly TV bouts from Cobo Arena.

Parks has him scheduled for an appearance at the Pontiac Armory, Saturday night, Nov. 20, and "This is what gave me the idea that he might be able to help you," Parks said.

"Don't worry he'll help you," noted the miniature manager of "The Student" as Wells stood flabbergasted over the proceedings.

"Why does he wear the mask," we inquired.

"For personal and professional reasons," the manager replied, "he is really a well known figure in his field and feels other people in his profession would frown on his being a wrestler. Some people like golf or tennis or swimming, he loves to wrestle."

What would happen if the mask was removed?

"Well," replied the manager, "I think he would quit wrestling, but first of all I think I'd feel sorry for the one who dared take it off."

At 295 pounds and the only pair of hands we've seen coming close to match those of Ernie Clark's of the Detroit Lions, we certainly weren't going to remove the mask even if the only answer we could get was GRRrrrr.

It really sounded pretty silly, but if he can play football as we are told he can, then coach Wells ought to be happy if he can help beat Lansing at Wisner Saturday night and help the Arrows into the title playoff against Dayton here next week—that is, if Lansing or Dayton don't arrange to have Dick "The Bruiser" who once played for the Packers play opposite "The Student."

Bridesmaid Role Ends for Al Lopez

CHICAGO (AP) — The greatest baseball bridesmaid in history has turned in his uniform.

Al Lopez, 57, is through as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

He piloted two pennant winners in 15 years as a major league manager — in 1954 with the Cleveland Indians and in 1959 with the White Sox. His teams finished second 10 times.

* * *

Lopez, who guided the Sox for nine seasons, has talked about retirement since 1960. He made his decision finally to do it Thursday at a hastily called news conference.

For the last month, the Sox brass had contended that Lopez was "making up his mind." Owner Art Allyn and General Manager Ed Short apparently had hoped he would stay as field boss.

STAY WITH SOX

Lopez will remain with the organization as a vice president, serving as an adviser to Short. As such, his decisions will carry weight in all areas, including the choice of a new manager.

Short said he has a working list of as many as 22 names but conceded it would be easy to screen it down to five or six. He would not identify any.

Most frequently mentioned is Mayo Smith, a top scout of the New York Yankees and one of Lopez' gin-rummy and wintertime golfing buddies in Florida. He previously managed the Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Reds.

Another is Charlie Metro, White Sox coach.

Lopez said Metro and his long-time friend, coach Tony Cuccinello, could do a good job but that was as far as talk went about his replacement.

Short said that whether Metro, Cuccinello and two other veteran aides of Lopez — Ray Berres and Don Gutteridge — will remain is a decision to be made by the new manager. At any rate, he added, they will stay in the organization which is headed for an expanded minor league instruction program.

"I'll be on 24-hour call and I'll go wherever Eddie (Short) wants," said Lopez. "If he wants me to spend some time at Indianapolis, or Lynchburg, or Portsmouth, or wherever we have some of our players, I'll drop in."

Short said Lopez had expressed a desire to quit the last few seasons.

"There's no doubt it was a letdown for him when we failed to win the pennant this year and finished second," said Short. "When Mr. Allyn and I talked to him at the end of the season, we told him to go home, think it over, and let us know."

Flint Central Stands in Way of Title Game

The veteran football prediction experts learned very early that when in doubt, put your money on the team with better defense.

That would make Pontiac Central's Chiefs a pretty good bet almost any weekend.

The Central eleven will invade Flint Central tomorrow night having allowed only two touchdowns all season in the very rough Saginaw Valley Conference.

This gives the unbeaten (5-0-1), seventh-ranked Chiefs as low a points-against mark as probably any team in the state at any level, but Flint Central will challenge this.

No. 1-rated Bay City Central, PCH foe next week, has permitted only five touchdowns in swamping seven foes, and has held the opposition scoreless in three of its last four games.

The one team that dented the SVC leader's defense to any degree was Flint Central. That was in the second game of the campaign when Bay City prevailed, 32-19, at Atwood Stadium.

SAME FIELD

That same gridiron will be used for the 8 p. m. contest tomorrow. Indications are it will be a different team that tries to waylay the PCH grid team.

In quarterback Rod Jones, the Indians feel they have one of the best in the league. Unfortunately, a PCH scout voiced an opinion to the contrary while watching Jones against Saginaw last week.

His comments have reached the Flint locker room and the word is that Jones is readying a passing blitz for the Pontiac secondary.

Entry blanks will be available starting Monday at Huron Bowl and 300 Bowl.

Lombardi Inks New Contract With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Maybe it's just a coincidence, but every time there's word that someone else would like to have Vince Lombardi coach his football team, the Green Bay Packers extend his contract another five years. The one he signed Thursday carries him to 1974.

Thursday's action, which Packer President Dominic Olejniczak observed "assures Packer fans of good and sound fundamental football at least another eight years," leaves the new Atlanta entry in the National Football League with only one magic name, that of Paul Brow, to wish upon for a coach and general manager when the franchise fields a team a year hence.

* * *

Technically, Lombardi's new pact is his fourth five-year contract since 1959, when he took on, as his first head coaching assignment, a hapless crew of somewhat confused athletes who had managed to win a single game in the 1958 NFL season.

Spahn Offered Pact

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Warren Spahn, 44, considered the top southpaw in major league history, has been offered a contract as playing coach with the Mexico City Red Devils of the Mexican Baseball League, local team source said Thursday.

Red Wings 'Build Confidence'

DETROIT (AP) — "That's the kind of game we needed to build our confidence," Detroit Red Wings Manager-Coach Sid Abel said with a broad smile Thursday night.

Abel couldn't help but smile. The Red Wings, held to an average of two goals per game in their first five outings, exploded for five in the second period and trounced the hapless Boston Bruins 8-1.

Montreal climbed into a first place tie with Chicago with a 5-1 verdict over Toronto in the only other National Hockey League game played.

The Bruins, obviously tired after holding Chicago to a 2-2 tie Wednesday night, were never in the game after Detroit goalie Roger Crozier made brilliant saves on Leo Boivin and Ron Stewart in the first minutes of play.

The Red Wings held off a Boston power play, then went to work with Ron Murphy scoring at 6:51 and Pit Martin getting his first goal of the season with less than three minutes remaining in the first period.

Three goals — two of them by the Red Wings — were scored in a 39-second span in the second period.

Prep Charges Libel

Principal Sued by QB

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va. (AP) — The first-string quarterback of the Harpers Ferry High School football team, denying he was drunk during a game, has filed a $10,000 libel suit against his principal.

The suit was filed Thursday against Principal Norman Mullins in Jefferson County Circuit Court on behalf of Lee Ballanger by his father, Calvin Ballanger.

Young Ballanger, a senior, was one of seven regulars suspended by the principal after the Oct. 24 game against Shepherdstown.

The suit says Mullins falsely and maliciously stated in a letter to Ballanger's parents and board of education officials that Ballanger played the game under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Harpers Ferry won 14-13.

Lion 'Ills' Ready for Green Bay

The Green Bay Packers are healthy, but Sunday's opponent, the Detoit Lions, are preparing some genuine "ills" for the rematch at Lambeau Field.

The "ills" are the Lions' Gail Cogdill and Pat Studstill.

Cogdill received a swollen elbow in last Sunday's 31-7 victory over Los Angeles, but he still ranks as one of the most adept pass catchers in the National Football League.

Studstill has been a jack-of-all-trades for the Lions this year, and will replace the injured Terry Barr at flanker. Barr hurt his knee against the Rams.

Studstill is the second best punter in the NFL with a 45.5 yard average in 37 kicks. He has returned two kickoffs 48 yards, ran back two punts, carried the ball from scrimmage and has snagged eight passes for 148 yards and a touchdown.

Coach Harry Gilmer said the Los Angeles victory was one the Lions needed, "but we sure paid a lot for it." It gave the Lions a 4-3 record.

★ ★ ★

Packer Coach Vince Lombardi Thursday pronouced the Packers ready for the Lions, whom they beat 31-21 on a second half comeback Oct. 17 at Detroit. The Packers were down 21-3 at the intermission.

STARR RECOVERS

Quarterback Bart Starr has recovered from the bruising collision with the Chicago Bears' Roosevelt Taylor last Sunday.

"Starr has been throwing real well in practice this week," Lombardi said. He also said tight end Marv Fleming could have played against the Bears, but was kept out until an ankle injury healed completely.

Gilmer is alternating Milt Plum and George Izo at quarterback this week, but Izo replaced Plum last week and hurled a 61-yard scoring strike to Barr. Izo was expected to start against the Packers.

The Lions looked for help from defensive back Bob Felts who was placed on waivers by the Baltimore Colts Thursday.

He was claimed by the Detroit Lions.

★ ★ ★

The Colts said they will receive a player, to be named later by the Lions, in exchange for Felts.

Felts, a rookie from Florida A&M, was a sixth-round draft choice of the Colts. He was used on the special teams, returning 10 kickoffs for 193 yards.

Holly's Phalen Leading Scorer With 98 Points

Holly's gallopin' Mark Phalen has trotted into the lead in the Oakland County scoring race.

The 175-pound halfback collected six touchdowns last week as Holly dumped Clarenceville, 40-32, to run his season point total to 98.

Holding down the No. 2 spot in the race is fullback Bob French of St. Michael with 71 points.

In the Saginaw Valley Conference, league-leading Bay City Central runners occupy five of the top 10 spots in the scoring column.

LA Coach Fined $1,000 by NFL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Harland Svare of the Los Angeles Rams, said he has been fined $1,000 by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle for criticizing officials.

Svare said he got the word Wednesday. Rozel's office is New York, following policy, declined to discuss it.

On Oct. 25 Svare told football writers here that in his opinion officials "are being intimidated in large stadiums away from Los Angeles," He cited Baltimore, where the Rams lost 35-30, and Chicago. He said he didn't question officials' integrity but felt they were being subconsciously influenced by the crowds.

State Eleven Scores Twice

By the Associated Press

Northern Michigan received acknowledgment in two college football polls today.

Northern placed eighth in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NIAA) poll and received mention in The Associated Press small college poll.

Findlay of Ohio, last week's NAIA poll leader, dropped to ninth place as a result of its 21-19 loss to Northern Michigan. Unbeaten St. John's of Minnesota was ranked No. 1. North Dakota State was No. 1 in the AP poll.

Little Bob Hill Leads Scoring

Lansing 11 Will Try to Stop Sweetan

Although he's the smallest player in the league, Armada's Bob Hill stands pretty tall with the Pontiac Arrows who are seeking their third Midwestern Football League championship.

★ ★ ★

Hill, a 165-pounder who starred at Alma College, will be in the starting lineup tomorrow night when the Arrows take on the Lansing All-Stars at Wisner Stadium. Kickoff is 8 o'clock.

The game is a big one for both the Arrows and Hill.

The team will be trying to sew up at least a share of the MFL crown while Hill will be tyring to add to his already impressive individual statistics.

★ ★ ★

The Arrows are 5-2 in league play and share first place with Dayton's Colts. If the Arrows dump Lansing tomorrow, and Dayton trims Flint Sunday at noon, then the Colts and Pontiac would meet in a championship game next Saturday (Nov. 13) at Wisner Stadium.

DECEIVING

Hill is 5-6 and weighs 165 pounds and even in a uniform he doesn't look like an offensive threat. But he is.

★ ★ ★

In seven league outings, Hill has scored 36 points to lead the Arrows in that department. Four of his TDs have come through the air lanes.

He ranks third in rushing with 173 yards in 32 trips with the ball, and he is tied with split end Bill Leonard with 25 pass receptions.

Leonard has gained 326 yards with his 25 catches while Hill has picked up 310 yards.

★ ★ ★

Karl Sweetan, the league's top passer, has completed 72 of 134 tosses for 915 yards and 11 touchdowns and he leads the league in punting with an average of 41.0 on 24 attempts.

The Imp Leads Open Jumping at International

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Imp and his professional rider, Sonny Brooks, lead the jumpers after two opening events in the six-day Washington International Horse Show.

With first and second places, they racked up eight points Thursday for owner A.B.S. Farms, Morristown, N.J.

Kathy Kusner, 25, of Arlington, Va., an outstanding U.S. Equestrian team rider, was next with five points won by coming in first Thursday night in the tough fault-and-out contest for the Ringmaster Challenge Trophy.

It was a race with the clock as well as a test over the fences and Kathy, riding Fire One, took a spill on the soggy ring turf just as her time ran out. Despite the fall, she had the best round of the field of 26 entries, scoring 28 points in 64.1 seconds.

Jets' Signal Calls to Be Loud . . . Clear

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new microphone-rigged football helmet may be used by the New York Jets against the Kansas City Chiefs Sunday.

The helmet, worn by the New York quarterback, would amplify his voice so he may be heard at the line of scrimmage over crowd noises.

Pontiac 10-Year-Old in PPK Finals Again

Two titles in three years is a good record in any sport.

Peter Guillean of 224 Mechanic street, Pontiac, has that record and he's only 10 years old.

Peter won the district championship last weekend at U. of D. Stadium in the annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest sponsored by the Ford Dealers and the National Football League.

He was among 800 boys who started out on the local level, winning his age bracket on a 73½ foot punt, 67 foot pass and 73½ foot kick.

At U. of D. stadium his 3-event total was 217 feet, bettering his local total by three feet.

Among other winners who will compete against the Northern and Western Michigan boys at halftime of the Lions-49ers game, Nov. 14th, are Fred Trosko Jr., of Ypsilanti, son of former Eastern Michigan football coach, in the 11 year old bracket; Dava Smaha of Grosse Pointe in the 8 year old division; Tim Thomas of Lima, Ohio, the 9-year-old; Mike Johnson of Ypsilanti, 12 years of age and Dave Branton of Plymouth, age 13.

'Audacious' Yacht Expected to Win

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Audacious, holder of a 40-mile lead in the Gulf of California, is expected to win the Long Beach-to-La Paz, Mexico, International Yacht Race.

Baldwin M. Baldwin's 73-foot sloop was about 100 miles from the finish Thursday night and about 40 miles ahead of her nearest challengers.

★ ★ ★

In second place was Grant Hoag's 55-foot sloop Vixen and Ken DeMeuse's 83-foot schooner Serena was third.

The rest of the 14-yacht fleet was well back, near the tip of Baja California.

Four Small College 11s Play Final Contests

By The Associated Press

Three MIAA schools and Michigan Tech close out their 1965 football campaigns this weekend with all but three others in their next-to-last tussles of the season.

MIAA champion Albion is at Adrian to help the Bulldogs close out their season, while Alma plays host to Anderson, Ind., and Hope to Bluffton in other season-ending games.

Michigan Tech, N C champions, travels to Superior State to end its season tonight.

Case Tech is at Eastern Michigan, Eastern Illinois at Central Michigan, Findlay at Hillsdale for a night game, Earlham, Ind., at Kalamazoo, Thiel at Wayne State and Ashland, Ohio, at Northwood in the other games in the state.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere, Northern Michigan is at Southern Illinois for a night contest, Olivet at Indiana Central and Ferris State at Ohio Northern.

★ ★ ★

Albion clinched its 16th MIAA title last week and can conclude a perfect league season with a triumph over Adrian. The Bulldogs can climb into a tie for fourth in the league if it can upset the Britons.

Western Michigan can improve its standing in the Mid-American conference with a triumph over winless Ohio U. The Broncos are 2-2-1 and can finish no worse than a tie for third with a victory.

★ ★ ★

Quarterback Ron Seifert continues to be the top passer in the conference with 34 completions in 74 attempts for 455 yards.

Central Michigan, a winner in two of its three IIAC contests, closes out its league schedule against Eastern Illinois.

"The Chippewas share second place in the league and could gain a share of the title should they win Saturday and league-leader Northern Illinois drop one of its two remaining games.

Northern Michigan, whose victory over Findlay last week enabled it to climb to the No. 8 spot in this week's NAIA ratings, will be up against a rugged Southern Illinois team which reportedly is a lot better than its 1-6 record.

★ ★ ★

Southern, in attempting to gain major college stature, has played and lost to Louisville, Tulsa and Wichita as well as three of the usually tough small college teams — Youngstown, Lincoln and Drake.

Michigan Tech has lost its last two outings and will be looking for its fifth victory in 14 meetings with Superior State. Tech won last year, 7-0.

Bradley Paces Italian Quintet in Cup Contest

GIESSEN, Germany (AP) — Bill Bradley, last season's college basketball player of the year, scored 31 points Thursday night in leading Simmenthal of Milan to an 88-77 victory over Giessen in an opening European Champions Cup game.

Bradley, an All-America from Princeton now attending Oxford in England, starred in his first appearance for the Italian team.

★ ★ ★

Following the game, he said he hadn't even practiced with the team. He added that he would play for Simmenthal in eight international games.

Skip Thoren, former star at Illinois, scored 16 points for Simmenthal.

MSU Seeks Share of Big Ten Title

Iowa Players Dedicate Tilt

Hawkeye Star Mourns Death of Father

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michigan State will try to clinch a share of the Big Ten title Saturday against an Iowa team led by a quarterback mourning the death of his father.

Hawkeye signal-caller Gary Snook, whose season has been a bitter disappointment, said he would stay in Iowa City for the Michigan State game because he was sure his father would have wanted it that way.

"The team will be dedicated to winning for Gary and his dad and we will come up with a top performance for the game," Iowa Coach Jerry Burns said.

Snook's father, Charles H. Snook, 65, died in Seal Beach, Calif., Wednesday.

The Michigan State match at Iowa takes top billing on a full slate of Big Ten games, although the Hawkeyes were not expected to do more than cause the Spartans to breathe heavily.

HEAVY CHANCE

Michigan State, with a 7-0 record for all games compared to 1-6 for Iowa, was a three touchdown favorite.

The Hawkeyes have lost 10 straight conference games compared to Michigan State's five straight wins over Big Ten opponents this season.

★ ★ ★

Another victory for the Spartans would make their worst possible Big Ten finish 6-1 and no other school could better that. The Spartans close their conference season against Indiana Nov. 13.

It will be only the fifth game in history between the Hawkeyes and the Spartans. Michigan State won the first, in 1953, but since then Iowa won three straight, including their last meeting, in 1960.

Domed Stadium Planned

New Orleans' NFL Bid Boosted

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — This city's stock as the National Football League's 16th member soared today after the announcement of plans to build a $24 million super dome stadium.

But promoter Dave Dixon, who has been angling for a pro football franchise for years, has even greater visions such as the Pan-American track games, the NCAA basketball championship tourney, and world championship prizefights.

Dixon even sees the Sugar Bowl switching from 82,500-seat Tulane University Stadium to the 60,000 super dome "and getting $8 a ticket for air-conditioned comfort on Jan. 1."

★ ★ ★

And Marvin E. Kratter, the New York financier who recently set up shop in New Orleans to build a billion-dollar real estate development, predicts the city could land the Olympics.

Kratter is donating a 100-acre tract of land valued at $2 million for the proposed stadium on the shore of Lake Ponchartrain.

In New York, an NFL spokesman said the availability of the proposed stadium would weigh heavily in New Orleans' favor in the granting of a franchise.

★ ★ ★

"Currently, we are having research conducted by an independent firm in seven cities, one of which is New Orleans," said the spokesman. "And certainly, one of the major considerations in its study will be the availability of suitable stadiums.

"Certainly construction of such a stadium in New Orleans would be in its favor, as it would in any of the other six."

The NFL says it will grant a franchise for a 16th team — to begin playing in the 1967 season — sometime next spring. Other cities in the running are Houston, which has the Astrodome, Portland, Seattle, Boston, Cincinnati and Phoenix.

Dixon said the target date for completion of the super dome is 1968. He said he planned to talk with Tulane University officials shortly about a New Orleans pro team playing in Sugar Bowl Stadium until the super dome is built.

Schiro said present plans call for private financing of the structure. He said, "We have been able to obtain a commitment of at least 50 per cent of the financing from a group of outside investors."

Dixon sees the stadium as "revolutionizing sports. It will be an all-purpose stadium for use by the community, not just a pro football team."

The facility would have parking space for 20,000 cars.

"We think we can get a major league baseball team here, too," said Dixon.

The design Dixon released Thursday calls for movable stands on one side of the super dome. Development of a synthetic playing field, made of an all-weather resilient plastic, will allow consecutive events in the super dome, said Dixon.

Dixon admitted that acquisition of a pro franchise is the key to private financing of the project.

Progress Time for 'M', Illini

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — A pair of rapidly improving football teams will clash here Saturday when the Michigan Wolverines go to meet the Fighting Illini, with an inter-family rivalry riding in the balance.

The Wolverines are hot on the comeback trail after their 50-14 walloping of Wisconsin last Saturday. That win climaxed steady improvement of Bump Elliott's team which had showed up everywhere except in the won column, while they were losing four straight ball games, including three in the Big Ten.

★ ★ ★

Illinois is headed in the same direction as Michigan—straight up. Pete Elliott, brother of Michigan's Bump, says of his team, "these men are playing better now than we ever had a right to expect them to. Today, our players were great."

Pete made his comment after the Illini had proven they had the stuff to whip a good Purdue team, 29-0 last Saturday.

Illinois has won its last three games in a row. They have tipped Indiana 34-13 and downed Duke, 28-13 before meeting the Boilermakers.

★ ★ ★

Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski ranks as one of the top running threats in the conference. Last week he picked up 163 yards and brought his three-year total to 2,275 yards, breaking a record set by Minnesota's Paul Giel in 1951-1953.

BEST GAME

Michigan put on its strongest performance of the year against the stunned Badgers last week. Wally Gabler, a senior quarterback, has emerged to handle the Wolverine offense and last week uncovered an effective weapon in the option play.

★ ★ ★

The dangerous option play, along with Gabler's passing threat, with end Jack Clancy as a favorite target, and the running of halfback Carl Ward and fullback Dave Fisher have given the Wolverines hope for turning the season into at least a .500 year after the frustrating beginning.

This will be the seventh renewal of the rivalry between the Elliott brothers which began When Pete took over the coaching job at Illinois in 1960. Bump has won each of the first six games but will take an underdog role into this contest as the odds-makers have put Illinois in a three-point favorite position.

Giants Win Japan Series

TOKYO (AP) — The Yomiuri Giants captured the Japan World Series, edging the Nankai Hawks 3-2 today. The victory gave the Giants the Japanese championship 4 games to 1 in the best-of-7 series.

Joe Stanka, a former Chicago White Sox pitcher, worked the first six innings for Nankai before being removed for a pinch hitter. He gave up two runs in the sixth after holding Yomiuri hitless for the first five innings.

The Japan series championship was the Giants' seventh.

Captains Edge WTHS Team

First and eighth places proved very important for Kettering's cross country team yesterday.

Fred Liimatta finished ahead of the field to lead the Captains to a 27-28 win over Waterford at Kettering's course. But it was an eighth place finish by Joe Pendergrass that clinched the victory.

★ ★ ★

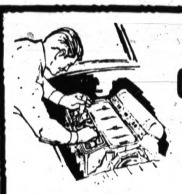

Had Tom Webster of Waterford beat out Pendergrass for eighth, the Skippers would have won.

The victory gives Kettering a 100-0 lead in the battle for the all-sports trophy between the two schools.

Tom Grahl, Dave Galloway and Terry Gilmore placed 2-3-4 for Waterford and Denny Griffin was 10th. Fifth through seventh places were taken by Kettering's Dave Arcand, Frank Liimatta and Dave Chambers, in that order.

Needs One Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy (Cowboy) Moore of Albuquerque, N. M., moved within one match of winning the national invitation pocket billiard championship by defeating Cicero Murphy of Brooklyn 150-96 in six innings Thursday night. Moore had a high run of 71.

Assistant at Tam Qualifies for Tour

Special to the Pontiac Press

Stan Brion, 23 year old Pontiac golfer, who is the assistant pro to Warren Orlick at Tam O'Shanter Country Club was among 17 who qualified after 144 holes to earn the right to play on the PGA tour.

The tournament held at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. was the first of its kind in the new PGA method to select the players who will be permitted to play on the tour.

John Schlee of Phoenix, Arizona, led the 17 qualifiers with a total of 583 for the eight rounds of golf for the past week. This was seven over par for the distance.

★ ★ ★

Included in the weeklong tournament schedule was a daily session in the class room on PGA golf rules and etiquette.

Schlee finished three strokes ahead of John Josephson of Asheville, N.C. an assistant pro at Echo Lake Country Club in Westfield, N.J.

Brion's best round was a 2-under 70 in the opening 18 holes and he then added a par-72 in the second round. He finished yesterday with 73-74 and a 601 total for 144 holes.

Dave Marad, a former tour player from Milton, Mass., was the only golfer to break par on the final round as he finished 7th, with a 77-71—597 total.

Plan Tours for Cagers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to send an all-star amateur basketball team to Soviet Russia in the summer of 1966 despite the current chill in cultural relations with that country, State Department officials said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The same team would also tour the Eastern European Communist countries, if everything goes according to tentative plans.

In addition, three collegiate champion teams will be touring different parts of the world. One will go to the Far East another to Africa, and the third to the Near East.

PASS RECEIVER BLOCKED — Boston defenseman Leo Boivin (20) lunges to cut off Detroit's Norm Ullman (7) and a pass intended for the Red Wing player during the first period last night. Boston's goalie Bernie Parent was dented for eight goals as the Wings won with ease.

through the first five games, picked up assists on goals by Andy Bathgate, Norm Ullman and Floyd Smith.

★ ★ ★

Gordie Howe and Bill Gadsy also scored for the Red Wings in the second period while Ullman notched his second marker of the game in the final period.

Gadsby's goal was his first in 130 games, dating back to Jan. 4, 1964.

★ ★ ★

Tom Williams spoiled Crozier's bid for a shutout when he banged in his own rebound just 25 seconds after Smith had given Detroit a 4-0 lead.

"We have had a couple of players who have been a little discouraged with their starts," Abel said. "Howe's goal was his first of the year but I know he wasn't worried.

"But a few of the newer players were beginning to wonder when they were going to start helping the team," he added.

Five Red Wings picked up their first points of the season in the rout.

★ ★ ★

The Bruins started rookie Bernie Parent in goal for the second straight night. Parent turned aside 42 shots by the Black Hawks the night before but made only 25 saves against the Red Wings.

Parent was pressed into action because of injuries to Ed Johnston and Gerry Cheevers.

TWO FOR RICHARD

Henri Richard scored twice to lead the Montreal victory.

His second goal came just seven seconds after Bobby Rousseau scored his fourth goal of the season early in the second period.

Ralph Backstrom and Gil Tremblay added the other Canadiens' markers while Tim Horton tallied for Toronto.

Boston is at Montreal and New York at Toronto Saturday. The Red Wings do not return to action until Sunday when they play the Rangers at New York.

Lee Breedlove Drives Sonic I to New Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Mrs. Craig Breedlove's husband became the fastest man on wheels last Tuesday. And a woman has got to keep up with her man at least that's the way she puts it.

★ ★ ★

So Thursday she did something about it.

Lee —Breedlove jumped in her husband's Spirit of America Sonic I jet car and streaked across these western Utah Salt Flats to establish a world land speed mark for women — 308.56 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

Of course, it wasn't quite keeping up — Breedlove roared to the 555.127 m.p.h. mark Tuesday to shatter Art Arfons' 536.71 mark set last year.

But it gave her the same title fastest.

★ ★ ★

The pretty, dark-haired Lee's new mark shattered the 277.15 m.p.h. record set last September by Betty Skelton of Detroit, who drove Arfons' Green Monster Cyclops.

2 Prep Teams After Ratings

Utica, N. Farmington Have Key Games

Utica and North Farmington, two of the area's few remaining unbeaten class A teams, have important games this weekend as they struggle for prestige.

Utica, winner of seven straight and without a loss since Center Line blanked it 14 games ago, will visit the Panthers Friday night in a bid to win the Bi-County League title.

Both teams will enter the game unbeaten but the host Center Line squad does have two ties on its league mark. Since the league is run on a point basis, the Panthers need a win just to tie Utica for the crown.

The Chieftains haven't defeated Center Line since the early 1950's. Coach Bob Dilday and the 18th-ranked class A squad are confident of ending that domination this week.

North Farmington, rated the 10th best "A" team in the weekly Associated Press prep poll, will entertain fourth-ranked Detroit Denby Saturday afternoon in search of its eighth win in a row.

Imlay City will be host to North Branch Friday with the South Central League title at stake.

BOWLING

The Bill Bull team swept eight points from Westside Mobil last Friday and now leads the Huron Bowl Classic by that margin over the service station squad and Felice Quality Market.

The individual scoring was paced by Howard Menzies' 256 (651) and Al Pietz's 665; and the Greensdale Screw Products entry posted a 3119.

★ ★ ★

North Hill Lanes' team now leads the Oakland County Traveling Classic with a slim lead over the Cooley, West Side and Sylvan Lanes teams. The leaders averaged 207 per man per game paced by Art Pearson's 653 as they gave the league's top performance of the season in their last outing.

Gary Hintz had 676 for Sylvan and Arley Sheffer 659 for Huron in other action. The league will visit Sylvan next week.

West Side Lanes Classic activity Monday saw five teams post eight-point triumphs. Pace-setting Oakland Vending stayed four points in front of the pack with one of the sweeps.

Others were Coca-Cola, Oakland Loan, Fairgrounds Bowl and North Hill (one of three runners-up). Cliff McBride scored 233-215—657, Neil Ricketts 244-222—641 and Ray Giroux a 246.

"How come my score didn't get in the paper last week?"

Sound familiar? Undoubtedly, there are more than a few counter personnel and team captains who have heard this query since the winter bowling season started two months ago.

Whether or not the question received a satisfactory answer is hard to say.

The key to the problem is simple: were the league scores reported to the Press sports department?

More than 90 per cent of the leagues reporting their weekly scores do receive some publicity.

Occasionally, a report will be set aside if it is more than a week late, or the scores are so low that only the individual thinks they are worth mentioning, or so many others from the same league or establishment have been used.

However, the breakdown normally comes because the team captains, league secretary and counter worker at the house haven't coordinated efforts.

The captains should be responsible for declaring his or her team's top efforts to the secretary. Let the latter decide what ones should be reported.

★ ★ ★

Each local establishment has formal Press Bowling Report forms available to the secretary. The form is self - explanatory concerning the desired information and format, and where to send it. Some sites will mail them for the leagues.

If the form isn't available, more can be obtained by contacting the Press sports department. It isn't necessary to use the forms, but the information required thereon should be submitted, if available, for best results.

Telephone reports of the scores aren't being accepted due to the volume of local leagues and the time required. However, the exceptional feats — such as 300 games, 800 series — should be phoned in as soon as possible.

The normal reporting guides are 500 series for women, 600 for men, 200 games and unusual accomplishments. For some leagues of younger or handicapped bowlers, these are lowered.

★ ★ ★

The Saginaw paper this week noted it was raising the guides above those just mentioned so as to limit the number being submitted.

While the quantity being mailed to the Press each week is growing steadily, this is encouraged. The more names and leagues being publicized are good for the sport and the paper.

SPARE PINS

The American Junior Bowling Congress will have an Instructors' Clinic next weekend for area bowlers interested in becoming certified.

Bob Mason will conduct the two-day, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. clinic at Frontier Lanes, 37370 Gratiot in Mount Clemens next Saturday and Sunday.

There's no advance registration required. Those attending must stay for the entire period to become certified. There's no charge to those attending.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan State Proprietors' Association new Invitational Singles Tournament will begin tomorrow at Huron Bowl.

Tuesday night open bowling is available at Lakewood Lanes.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY AND SON

The bidding of today's hand does not represent a series of misprints. It is the actual way we handle the forcing major suit raise in the Jacoby system.

JACOBY

North's two-no-trump response shows a hand with which he would bid three spades if he were not playing limit raises. He has 13 high card points and 14 points in support of spades.

The bid has nothing to do with no-trump and South must rebid and continue to rebid until a contract of four spades is reached. His immediate four spade rebid in this instance shows an absolute minimum spade opening and tells partner that he, South, has no slam interest at all."

This particular hand is one which would be bid one spade, three spades, four spades if North and South were not playing limit raises and it will take you a little while to get accustomed to this unusual two no-trump bid.

It will also take you a little while to get used to not bidding two no-trump when you have a natural two no-trump response, but once you do you will find that you will have improved your bidding considerably because it has been our experience that the standard book two no-trump response to show 13 to 15 high card points with stoppers in all unbid suits and a no-trump pattern is just about as useless a bid as there is.

True everyone likes to jump in no-trump because everyone likes to play no-trump contracts, but you will find that you can give up this two no-trump response by an unpassed hand and lose nothing.

'Sweater Girl' Sweats Out Demands for Ball Tickets

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jane Russell's suddenly came into a whole new kind of popularity which has nothing to do with sweaters. It's because she's founder of WAIF, the world adoption organization which honors Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon with a ball at the Los Angeles Palladium next Monday. With Bob Hope m.c.'ing and Frank Sinatra singing, thousands are clamoring for tickets. Jane's one of their targets. One indignant citizen told her, "I paid $250 for a new dress for my wife, and if she doesn't get to show it off, somebody's going to get sued."

WILSON.

Sophie Tucker's been taking it easy for the first time in her life. She's had about five doctors treating her virus and inflammation that sent her to Mt. Sinai for a checkup. She's been so occupied with the checkup, and with giving the medics some laughs, that there's been no time for visitors. However, Sophie's been finding time to address her Christmas cards.

Gwen Cafritz at Perle Mesta's party! That's how it was at Perle's "wedding reception" in her Washington home for TV stars Inger Stevens and William Windom. The characters they play are getting married on "The Farmer's Daughter" program. Miss Cafritz, often thought of as Perle's rival for the hostess crown, was among the 300 guests including 40 TV editors, Vice President Jackie Cooper of Screen Gems, senators and governors. Anyway, Society peace seems to reign on the Potomac.

Caterina Valente's singing, dancing, guitaring and clowning with her brother Silvio Francesco, and with Trigger Alpert, bass player, brought screams of "Bravo!" from folks like Angie Dickinson and husband Bert Bacharach, Joe E. Lewis and Long John Nebel when she opened at the Americana Royal Box. A great, great entertainer who appears to be unspoiled and unconceited—a nice change.

Case May Aid to Clarify Law

Automatic Appeals Will Be Contested

ALLEGAN (AP)—An attempt to clarify the matter of automatic appeals for convicted felons as prescribed by the new State Constitution appeared to be evolving Thursday in Allegan County Circuit Court.

Judge Raymond L. Smith asked Prosecutor Ervin L. Andrews to prepare an order to be signed by the judge directing Allegan attorney Leo W. Hoffman to "show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court."

★ ★ ★

Hoffman declined recently to serve under court appointment as counsel for Ernest B. Sandefur, 47, convicted in 1962 on a charge of second degree murder in the fatal shooting here of his son, Gaylon, 21.

★ ★ ★

Sandefur was sentenced to a 20-year prison term. He recently petitioned Circuit Court to appoint an attorney for him to seek a new trial or appeal his case to a higher court in accordance with provisions of the new Constitution that the "accused shall have appeal as a matter of right."

NO GROUNDS

Hoffman contended Sandefur had no grounds for appeal or retrial. He said, in declining to accept appointment as counsel, he could see "no reason for further burdening taxpayers with costs in such cases."

★ ★ ★

Smith said he asked preparation of the contempt citation in order to initiate court proceedings which he hoped would result in Michigan Supreme Court guidelines in such cases.

★ ★ ★

"Actually," said the judge, "Mr. Hoffman has done the bar a favor by his actions. Perhaps it will help resolve many questions in our minds."

★ ★ ★

Andrews said he would delay the show cause order preparation for Smith's signature until Hoffman has had an opportunity to file supplemental findings to his original report. Meanwhile, Smith has appointed Lester J. Tooman of Allegan to represent Sandefur in any further legal proceedings that might come before the court.

Many College Courses Are Available to Adults

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: I do not have a high school diploma, having left school in my junior year. I am 54 years old. In your column, I note you encourage oldsters to get more education.

DR. NASON

I have been working as a medical secretary for 10 years and expect to work for five years longer. I should like to be able to express myself intelligently because, although I read and am familiar with current events and have opinions, I am fairly inarticulate.

I should like to take some college courses. How should I go about this? What courses shall I take?

T.J.H., Caldwell, N.J.

Colleges will in many cases accept adults without high school diplomas. This is especially true for evening or extension courses. For example, in California, adults are eligible to take courses in junior colleges regardless of the amount of their previous schooling.

Make inquiry of the extension division of your state university and also of your local superintendent of schools as to college courses given in your area. You can usually judge the appropriateness of a course by its description. In many cases, counseling service for the selection of courses is available.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am a housewife, 40, and the mother of seven children. The youngest is 8 and the oldest is 19. I have always had an insatiable desire to learn, but because of financial problems I was unable to continue my formal education after the tenth grade. Through the years while rearing my children I have, by borrowing and buying books, acquired considerable knowledge in journalism and math.

Recently I successfully passed examinations given by the state education agency and received a high school equivalency diploma. The examining agent informed me that according to my test scores my IQ was estimated at above 130. He encouraged me to go on to college, something that means very much to me and which will soon be possible, financially and otherwise.

This much is certain: I am going to college. But from a practical point of view I don't know whether I should go in for journalism or for math. Can you help me?

Mrs. S.A.B.,
Houston, Tex.

★ ★ ★

At the start of your college work, you will carry subjects in more than one field. I suggest you take subjects in both journalism and math. As your work progresses, your interest may take a definite turn to one or the other. In any event you should inquire at your state employment agency as well as your local newspapers regarding employment opportunities in your area.

Quality Water Units Planned

By Science Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The entire United States will be blanketed by 1972 with water quality management systems to control cleanliness and supply of the nation's vital resources, a water expert told a special symposium on land and water resources.

Proper management of the quantity and quality of water is urgently needed throughout the growing nation, said Dr. Keith S. Krause, division of water supply and pollution control, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Water systems are now being planned and coordinated by HEW and other federal and state agencies for water resources and pollution, he told members of the 57th annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy.

"A stream functions very much like a freight train or truck," Dr. Krause said.

"Its waters can carry a variety of things or a single commodity. If the load is too heavy, something breaks down. If only one water user has a monopoly on it, its general usefulness is greatly curtailed.

"The efficient stream system is one where the waters accommodate a large number of uses, can be unloaded rapidly and and made ready for the next user."

In 1900, the population of the United States was 75 million, 39 per cent of whom lived in urban areas and used about 35 gallons of water per person per day. Today about 70 per cent of our 192 million people are urban dwellers, each of whom use about 150 gallons a day.

By the year 2000 the U.S. population may reach nearly twice what it was even at the last census. At this point the water systems could break down, unless necessary measures are taken, said Dr. Krause.

'MUST CONTINUE'—French President Charles de Gaulle is shown during his speech to his nation over television and radio from Paris last night. He said he is convinced he must continue to serve and therefore will run for a new seven-year term in the Dec. 5 election.

De Gaulle to Spark NATO Crisis---U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles de Gaulle's announcement that he will stand for reelection as president of France is regarded by U. S. officials as assuring a severe crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

These officials believe a major foreign policy objective of the 74-year-old French leader in a new term as president would be to reduce progressively U.S. military and political influence in Europe.

They expect him to attempt this primarily through a radical recasting of the alliance.

The belief here is that he probably would focus first on French proposals for reorganizing the NATO military structure in such a way as to do away with the integration of allied forces under a top American commander.

U.S. strategy and tactics for dealing with de Gaulle's anticipated move are still undetermined.

★ ★ ★

Conferences on this country's European policy are under way. In general, the dominant view of administration officials is that if worst came to worst the United States would work with other European allies to maintain a military system within the alliance and without France, if necessary.

FIRST OBJECTIVE

Say Dems Stall on Redistricting

LANSING (AP) — Charging Democrats with a deliberate stall, the Republican members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission planned to report for duty by themselves today.

They will be a full week ahead of the Democratic half of the eight-member commission, "but we're going to keep our originally appointed meeting with the secretary of state," said Republican Cochairman Wilber Brucker.

The commission is under orders from the Michigan Supreme Court to try again to redistrict the Legislature. The court gave the commission 60 days to complete the job.

Secretary of State James Hare, who just obtained jurisdiction over the commission under governmental reorganization last month, originally had scheduled its first meeting last Friday.

It was postponed a week when Grand Rapids Attorney A. Robert Kleiner, "speaking for the four Democrats, told me the advance notice was too short and that all of them have interfering commitments of some moment," Hare said.

★ ★ ★

"If the secretary of state wants to buy their story he can go ahead, but we don't like the delay," Brucker said. "The brushwood should be cleared out and we should get down to work."

PHONY CHARGES

In a recorded comment on a radio program today, Kleiner called the Republican charges "phony."

He said " . . . the Republicans know that we have not yet had a chance to digest the Supreme Court opinions . . . but if we ever hope to get together on plans that all the commissioners can agree on, long distance political charges of this type will not help us in the slightest."

Kleiner also said he felt "the Republicans were going to be in Lansing for a caucus anyway and would drop up to Hare's office just to make the Democrats look bad."

★ ★ ★

The High Court's opinion did not strike down the state's present districting — drawn up by Kleiner and Detroit accountant Richard Austin.

HELPED SWEEP

The plan, which contributed to a Democratic sweep in the Legislature for the first time in 30 years, would remain in effect if no new plan were adopted.

Brucker complained the 10-day delay, coupled with four holidays, eight Sundays, and eight Saturdays, "cut our working time in half.

"Those who want to maintain the status quo want to delay the proceedings and prevent an agreement," he added.

Boosts Price of Aluminum

Alcoa Acts Despite Johnson 'Opposition'

NEW YORK (AP)—Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 domestic aluminum producer, today boosted prices. The action came despite what has been interpreted as opposition from President Johnson's administration.

Alcoa raised the price of basic ingots a half-cent a pound to 25 cents and the price of fabricated metal by an average of a cent a pound.

Alcoa's price move follows a week of controversy between the Johnson administration and the aluminum industry which began when Olin Mathieson Corp. raised prices last week.

The administration has called meetings in Washington to review the price actions. The Alcoa increase is somewhat lower than the increase by Olin Mathieson and other smaller aluminum producers.

Alcoa said the increases were needed to achieve a level of earnings adequate to finance a plant expansion program, sponsor new product research and development, to attain an adequate return on its investment, and to compensate for increased labor costs.

The government has been trying to get aluminum producers to buy from the government stockpiles. Stockpile officials contended that if the aluminum market was strong enough to absorb a price boost it was sufficiently strong to absorb more government surplus aluminum.

No Death Sentence?

Keep Ruby Alive---DA

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby, condemned to death for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy, should be kept alive, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said yesterday. He said he was willing to recommend the death sentence be commuted to life.

If he got a commutation, Ruby would be eligible for parole with 15 years' prison time credit, Wade said. That might be in as few as eight years behind bars.

Ruby shot and killed Oswald as millions watched on national television Nov. 24, 1963. He has been in the Dallas County Jail since while his case was being appealed.

Wade said if Ruby were an exemplary convict, he could get 15 years' credit in eight or nine years actually spent in prison with time off for good conduct or other reasons.

But Ruby's lawyers do not want a commutation. They have the case in the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and are holding out for a maximum five-year sentence for murder without malice.

Wade said yesterday at a news conference that there were several reasons he has changed his mind about wanting Ruby electrocuted.

OTHER CASES

"One reason is that we have plenty else (cases) to work on," Wade said. "Another reason is that we have spent $75,000-$100,000 on the case already and Jack Ruby is not worth that much more.

Some Edison Customers to Get Rate Cut

A reduction in electric power rates was granted yesterday for industrial and some residential customers of Detroit Edison Co.

The Michigan Public Service Commission approved the rate reduction totaling $4.5 million per year.

There would be a $400,000 savings for Detroit Edison's 260,000 domestic residential customers who use more than 400 kilowatt hours per month.

An Edison spokesman explained that residential customers on the average exceed 400 kilowatt hours per month during the one or two coldest months of the year.

INDUSTRIAL CUSTOMERS

The bulk of the reduction, $4 million per year, would primarily benefit Edison's industrial customers.

The latest rate reduction follows a $4 - million reduction granted 11 months ago to domestic and commercial (non-industrial) Edison customers.

Doctors Take Live Grenade Out of Farmer

U. S. Team Removes Cong Explosive Using Sandbag Wall Shield

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Working through a small hole in a wall of sandbags, two U.S. surgeons successfully removed a live grenade from a Vietnamese farmer's back today.

"It's in the box," Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. shouted as he released the grenade into a wooden case half filled with sand after pulling it from the back of frail, Nguyen Tran Chinh, 52.

The operation in a shed behind a Saigon hospital took less than four minutes.

Chinh became a walking explosive Sunday when a Viet Cong fired the 40mm grenade into his back. The missile, 6 inches long and 2 inches wide, lodged in his lower back beneath the 12th rib.

★ ★ ★

Humphreys, a chest surgeon from Richmond, Va., was assisted by another chest surgeon, Air Force Col. Daniel Campbell of Inlet Beach, Fla. a British anesthetist, Dr. Tony Brown, gave Chinh a local anesthetic. Brown is attached to the U.S. aid mission.

BEHIND SAND BAGS

The doctors, who volunteered for the job, operated from behind a 10-foot high stack of sandbags. They were about four feet away from the patient.

Inserting their instruments through an opening below a large pane of bulletproof glass, they made an incision with a scalpel attached to a 6-foot-long steel arm.

Then Humphreys picked out the grenade with a 6-foot pair of tweezers and placed it gently in the box of sand. It was about 2 feet from the wound to the box.

★ ★ ★

"If I had dropped it, the whole show would have been over," Humphreys said.

CARRIED AWAY

A U.S. army demolition expert, Maj. Daniel Doty of Marina, Calif., carried the box to a sandbagged jeep. It was to be detonated outside Saigon.

The grenade can kill at five yards and cause serious injury far beyond that distance.

Chinh sat up and smiled as he was helped to a stretcher. Blood was running down his back from the long incision.

★ ★ ★

Before the operation, Chinh, a frail man with a wispy beard, showed newsmen the bulge where the grenade had lodged.

Trustees David W. Hackett and Frederick A. Chapman cited what they felt was an excessive cost as the main reasons for their negative votes.

MAIN PURPOSE

Board Chairman George Mosher and Treasurer Vernor M. Fitch, both attorneys, admittedly were impressed by the possibility of litigation which might defeat the main purpose of the acquisition — to have a new facility ready by next fall to meet an expanding enrollment.

Board Treasurer Mrs. Lila R. Johnson, who offered the motion to reject the owner's counteroffer, said she felt use of the property was limited.

Before the vote, several residents of the area repeated their objections to having upwards of 500 students "practically in our back yards."

Henry L. Woolfenden, attorney for the Bee site, termed the opposition of residents emotional. "From a neighborhood standpoint, college use of the property would be ideal," he said.

BEE PROPOSAL

After defeating the Bee property proposal, the board began deliberating on the purchase of a 20-acre site in Royal Oak with an existing 118,200-square-foot building as a full-scale campus to serve the south end of the county.

Trustee Earl M. Anderson immediately called for rejection of a negotiated price of $1.7 million for the Morley Brothers property.

Good News at UF Fete

Good news — a million dollars worth — was given United Fund volunteers and guests yesterday at victory luncheon celebrating the conclusion of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Calvin J. Werner, campaign chairman, tallied final figures reported by UF division chairmen and told those assembled at the Elks Temple that a record $1,000,107 was contributed this year.

The 22-day campaign exceeded its goal — highest in local UF history — by $125,000 or 14 per cent.

Late UF contributions may push the total even higher.

Wade said he did not mean he doubted that Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy, or that Ruby was acting alone.

He said he meant, rather, that people would ask questions about the case, whether there was any basis for them or not, and it would be a good thing if Ruby were alive to answer them.

But Wade said the defense's holding out for five years was "ridiculous."

Ruby is in no danger of being executed for months or perhaps years because his lawyers are involved in so many legal actions.

New Fighting Rocks Cyprus

Port on East Coast Latest Battle Site

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting broke out again today between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the east coast port of Famagusta.

One Greek and one Turk were wounded. This brought the casualties since the fighting resumed Thursday to three Greeks and five Turks wounded.

* * *

An uneasy calm returned by noon. Traffic resumed along the main highway to the east of the island passing through Sacharia, a suburb where most of the firing occurred.

Armed Greek Cypriot National Guardsmen and Turkish Cypriot fighters manned fortified positions on either side of the road. White painted armored cars from the Swedish battalion of the U.N. peace force patrolled the road to avert r newed incidents.

U.N. headquarters in Nicosia reported the fighting was "believed to have been started from Turkish Cypriot positions."

The Greek Cypriot government said the Turks opened fire on Greek Cypriots in half a dozen incidents and also fired at a marine police station.

Fighting, punctuated by machine-gun bursts, was reported in the tense suburb of Sacharia as well as around the old walled city.

* * *

Turkey requested an urgent session of the U.N. Security Council to consider what its ambassador to the United Nations, Erhan Eralp, called "an extremely dangerous and explosive situation."

Eralp said the fighting was started by Greek Cypriots, "reinforced by armed personnel and armor dispatched from other parts of the island."

He claimed the incident was part of a planned full-scale attack on the Turkish community throughout Cyprus.

Equipment is on the job sites and work will begin immediately Alexander said. Completion is expected by June 1 next year.

The water system, which will feed Detroit water into the township, will include about 125,000 feet of water main varying in size from six to 16 inches.

STILL IN JAIL — Miss Sarah Elizabeth Dorris, red-haired and 65, began her 10th month in jail today for contempt of court. She was jailed because she violated an injunction and moved her house. The home bears witness to 10 months of neglect.

Board OKs Learning Aid Plan

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved a plan to be financed by a $122,983 federal grant under the elementary and secondary education act.

* * *

The funds, made available through Title I of the act, would be used to create a learning improvement center to establish a program for children experiencing a problem in learning and adjusting to school.

The administration hopes to submit the proposal to Lansing by next Thursday.

An open meeting will be held at 3:45 p.m. Monday at the Instructional Materials Center at Waterford Township High School.

* * *

The administrative council and central staff will review the proposal Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

KEY EMPHASIS

Major emphasis of the program would be placed on problems in reading and the language arts.

The program is designed to help the 516 students who show the greatest educational, physiological, sociological, sociological and psychological needs in accordance with the funding of the Title I program.

Available funds for the program are based on the 1960 census when 516 school children in the township were from families with annual incomes of less than $2,000.

* * *

First attention would be given to sixth grade pupils more than one full year below their grade level, as well as to deficient children in other grades.

9 Months in Jail

Her House Not a Home

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A 65-year-old woman began her 10th month in jail today because she refuses to remove her $40,000 house from a restricted subdivision.

"I will stay in jail until the day I die if that's what it takes," said Miss Sara Elizabeth Dorris, a small, red-haired woman described as "very determined" by the chancellor who jailed her last Feb. 4 for contempt of court.

* * *

Miss Dorris' problems began more than two years ago when she sold 23 acres of land to a construction company.

"When I sold the 23 acres, however, I reserved the right to buy two lots when they were developed," she said. "I did purchase the lots and intended to move my house to one of them."

HAD A COVENANT

But the construction company's deed had a covenant that prohibited moving any structure onto the property. In addition, company attorneys contended, Miss Dorris' fieldstone house would "diminish the value of adjacent lots and houses."

The fieldstone exterior of the house was stripped from the dwelling, leaving only the frame shell, when it was moved from its former location to the spot on which it now stands.

"The house is solid oak and will have pretty fieldstone as the outside wall," she said. "It is furnished with costly antiques, many of them made by my great-grandfather. But I was never given a chance to explain this in court."

The other houses in the subdivision are in the $25,000 price bracket.

COMPANY SPEAKS

Asked about Miss Dorris' contention that her house will be worth $40,000 when it is completed, a construction company spokesman said:

"Well, you can take a barn and spend enough on it to make it look good. This is a speculative thing. No one had the faintest idea what she planned to do about the house." If Miss Dorris were permitted to violate the restrictive covenant, he asked, "then what's the use of having them?"

* * *

Chancellor Ned Lentz ruled in favor of the company and ordered Miss Dorris not to move her house.

She did it anyway, last January.

"She would not comply with my order, so I had no choice but to send her to jail," Lentz said. "As long as she refuses to remove the house from the property, she remains in contempt of court."

Lentz agreed that she may very well stay in jail for the rest of her life.

* * *

"She is a very determined, stubborn woman," he added. "She says it's her property and that she'll do exactly what she pleases with it."

Officials of the construction company call it "a bad situation" but said they had no choice but to enforce the covenants.

Miss Dorris said she's used "a little applied psychology" in adjusting to life in a 16-bunk cell.

"I've never shed any tears and I always smile," she said. "All the matrons here are in love with me. They treat me nice and I love them.

"The food is good and I get along with the other prisoners — I learned to get along with anybody."

Board Rejects Two Proposals

population mass in the southern part of the county," Anderson said.

* * *

He suggested the board begin working with planning commissions of communities further south to find a better location.

Mrs. Johnson favored the purchase.

"The need is urgent and we can accommodate from 2,000 to 2,500 students at half the cost of buying a new facility," she said.

Hackett also favored the acquisition to assure that no students will be turned away next fall.

* * *

At this point Tirrell turned over the president's chair to administrative aide Dr. Alfred A. Canfield and sat at the meeting as a citizen of Oakland County.

Apparently referring to residents of the area near the Bee property, he speculated how the "little people" near the Morley property might feel about a college in their back yards.

"As a citizen, I suggest you be consistent and reject the Morley proposal and spend much more for a new facility," he said.

The purchase proposal lost, 4-2.

Cranbrook Foundation Plans More Integration

At the annual meeting of the Cranbrook Foundation Thursday, plans were laid for a much more complete integration of the Brookside, Cranbrook and Kingswood schools, and the Art Academy and the Institute of Science.

The following officers were continued for the ensuing year: Chairman Henry S. Booth; Vice chairman Harold A. Fitzgerald; Treasurer Warren S. Booth; Secretary Arthur B. Wittliff.

Ex-Cemetery Exec Tells How Fake Burials Held

DETROIT (AP)—The former superintendent of a suburban Livonia cemetery told a public hearing Thursday how he buried 222 caskets in unmarked graves.

Saying he was reluctant to testify because "I know I'm going to hurt a lot of people," Harvey Grode, 41, said he buried the bodies of 35 infants at one time in three communal graves.

* * *

The 222 caskets, including those of the 35 babies, had been stored in a shed at Brookdale Memorial Park Cemetery for as long as five months, Grode told the State Senate Corporations Committee.

When Grode told of burying caskets which had been battered and broken, two women spectators fled the hearing room in tears.

"It's a disgrace," one of them shouted.

* * *

A committee staff member identified the women as having complained of inability to find the graves of their parents.

The committee has been investigating operation of the Livonia cemetery after scores of persons complained they could not locate the graves of relatives.

"There are some graves in the cemetery with as many as 18 infants in them," Grode said.

Grode testified he was a part-time gravedigger before his hiring as superintendent of the cemetery last March.

A "dummy set-up" often was used by cemetery employes "to lead people to believe there was a grave dug when there was none," he testified.

* * *

This consisted of a wooden frame built above the ground and covered with greenery, into which a casket would be lowered by a lowering device, he said.

After mourners had left, the casket would be taken to a shed for later burial, he said.

OWNS STOCK

Grode said he was hired as superintendent by Sydney List. List is president of Brookdale Inc., holding company which owns the stock of Brookdale Cemetery Association.

The cemetery has been under receivership since 1958.

The committee chairman, Senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said changes in state laws governing cemetery operations may result from the two-day hearing into the Brookdale Park operations.

De Gaulle May Spark Crisis

mander — now U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer — an essential arrangement for the defense of the West against Communist power.

In the American view, which has wide allied support outside France, destruction of the integrated system would weaken the West.

* * *

De Gaulle told a news conference Sept. 9 that so far as France is concerned integration will have to come to an end by 1969 at the latest.

WASHINGTON VIEW

In official Washington's view de Gaulle, if elected as expected, would pursue the following major foreign policy objectives, practically all of which run counter to long established U.S. purposes:

- Rearrangement of French international commitments to give the French government full freedom of action. It is believed here this means reducing the Atlantic alliance to the status of a traditional allied relationship in which countries promise aid to each other in event of war but do not coordinate forces or strategies beforehand.
- Whittling down American influence in Europe while increasing French influence. In this connection de Gaulle is considered to regard France's independent nuclear force, which soon will be operational, as evidence of France's status as a first class power on the continent west of Russia.
- Denial to Britain of an effective role in continental politics. Several years ago de Gaulle blocked Britain's U.S.-supported bid for membership in the European Common Market and made clear that if Britain ever joined in the future it would have to be pretty much on French terms.
- Denial to West Germany of any participation in any kind of NATO nuclear force such as the United States has urged on the European allies for several years.
- Formation of closer ties with the Soviet Union wherever Moscow and Paris can discover common interests as a basis for cooperation. De Gaulle has spoken in the past of a European system of nations stretching from the Atlantic to the Ural Mountains.

GMC Truck Has Biggest October Ever

Domestic retail deliveries of trucks and buses built by GMC Truck and Coach Division totaled 10,124 units in October, according to Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and division general manager.

Werner said that the figure is the highest for any October in the division's history.

He added that it topped by 45.7 per cent the 6,947 units sold the previous October when the division was hampered by a strike.

The division has delivered domestically a record 102,384 vehicles the first 10 months this year.

This is 16.4 per cent higher than the same period last year when 87,962 units were delivered.

Next Space Walk Due in '66

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (UPI) — The next "walk in space" by an American astronaut will be delayed until next year, according to U. S. space officials.

The space agency revealed yesterday it had killed a proposal to permit astronaut Thomas P. Stafford to take such a walk during the four-man "Spirit of 76" Gemini flights now set for December.

The honors, instead, will go apparently to astronaut David Scott, copilot of the Gemini 8 orbital voyage expected next February or March.

Scott will stroll outside his capsule for at least one complete orbit around earth, space chiefs said.

Stafford is copilot of Gemini 6, the second of a pair of two-man spaceships the United States hopes to put in orbit in December.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell first will take Gemini 7 aloft to begin a 14-day record excursion in space. Their blast-off date tentatively has been set for around Dec. 8.

Then, if all goes well, Walter M. Schirra and Stafford will fly Gemini 6 into orbit about eight days later to try to chase down Gemini 7 somewhere 185 miles above earth.

The proposal for Stafford to take a space walk from his ship to Gemini 7 — experts call it "Extravehicular Activity" or EVA — was made last week.

The suggestion gained strong backing from a number of astronauts. However, a lack of time and the problems of getting the necessary equipment ready in time apparently doomed the idea.

'NO DOCKING'

At any rate, a spokesman for the space agency's Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston said yesterday that "there will be no docking and no EVA, period," during the "Spirit of '76" flights.

"Docking" is the technique of linking two objects in orbit. This, too, apparently must wait until the flight of Gemini 8, when Scott and command pilot Neil Armstrong will try to connect their ship to an unmanned Agena target satellite.

Schirra and Stafford were supposed to have chased and linked up with an Agena last Oct. 25. But the mission had to be canceled when the Agena evidently blew up at the edge of space and plunged into the South Atlantic Ocean.

LIGHTWEIGHT SUIT — Fred Sprose, manned spacecraft center space suit engineer, models the new, streamlined lightweight space suit astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell will wear on the upcoming Gemini 7 flight. The suit is lighter, less bulky and more comfortable than suits used on previous U. S. space flights. Cost for one suit is $17,000.

Wave of Terror Hits in Nigeria

Follows Bitter Election for House of Assembly

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP) — A bitterly fought election for western Nigeria's regional House of Assembly has unleashed a wave of terror.

Small-scale vandalism in the weeks before the Oct. 11 balloting has grown into widespread arson, looting and rioting by roving gangs.

★ ★ ★

Seven thousand police — nearly half Nigeria's force — and army units equipped with heavy armor, have been trying to quell disturbances.

About 25 persons have been killed. At least 15 persons died Monday in one fracas at Igbara-Odo. At least 35 have been arrested in connection with it.

PALM FRONDS

Motorists driving through the troubled region to or from the federal capital of Lagos are forced to attach palm fronds to their vehicles as a sign of peaceful intent and also that they agree with the losing party's claim that voting was rigged.

Police and federal authorities have enforced a dusk-to-dawn curfew, prohibited possession of arms in certain areas, and banned all public gatherings except religious services. Vehicles and passengers undergo thorough search at checkpoints.

★ ★ ★

Balloting was never completed in several polling places, including one in Mushin, near Lagos, where 50 homes were burned on election day.

Violence has centered mostly in areas occupied by followers of the losing United Progressive Grand Alliance — UPGA.

PRIVATE ARMIES

Much of it has been caused by private armies termed "party stalwarts" and financed by various politicians.

UPGA leaders charged the victorious Nigerian National Democratic party with padding voter lists, refusing to register their candidates, stuffing ballot boxes, blocking their supporters from the polls and claiming victory in constituencies where no voting took place.

★ ★ ★

The Democratic party denied these accusations and blames UPGA for the violence.

Partisan arguments aside, events have made the election of the 94-seat regional legislature seem a travesty.

PUT BEHIND BARS

When the UPGA leader, D. S. Adebgbenro, announced formation of an "interim government" he was put behind bars for "false assumption of office." He has since been freed.

The reelected regional premier, Samuel L. Akintola, announced more than 50 of the 74 elected Democatic party members would form a Cabinet.

★ ★ ★

UPGA controls eastern and midwestern regions. The eastern region leaders talked earlier this year of breaking up the Nigerian federation and making the area a separate nation. It has 14 million people and deposits of oil.

Nigeria consists of four semi-autonomous regions and the federal territory of Lagos. Regional divisions are tribal as well as political boundaries.

Men can see only the tiniest portion of the light that reaches their eyes. The rest is not detected.

Social Security Changes in Effect

Thousands of Students Missing Out on Benefits

By JOHN TROAN
Newspaper Enterprise Association

WASHINGTON — Thousands of students have failed to enroll for the new Social Security "student benefit" which Congress put on the books three months ago.

The Social Security Administration estimates 295,000 students throughout the U. S. are eligible for this monthly benefit. But the latest check of its rolls shows fewer than 235,000 have applied for it.

The benefit ranges from $22 to $102 a month and is retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Eligible is any unmarried student aged 18 through 21 with a parent who retired, died or became disabled after working long enough under Social Security to rate monthly benefits.

Previously, such children stopped getting Social Security checks when they reached 18. Now they may continue drawing benefits until they reach 22 — provided they are attending school full-time.

The amount the student receives depends on the parent's basic monthly benefit — which, in turn, is determined by average earnings under Social Security.

If the parent is retired or disabled, the student is entitled to half of the basic benefit. This could range now from $22 to $68 a month.

If the parent is dead, the student is entitled to three-fourths of the basic benefit. This could range now from $33 to $102 a month.

In some cases, a student may not be able to draw the full amount because other members in his family also are receiving Social Security payments — and their total cannot exceed the "family maximum" specified by law.

This maximum now runs from $66 to $309.20 a month, depending on average earnings under Social Security.

Social Security says payment of the student benefit will be "almost automatic" in the future. Shortly before a child on the Social Security rolls reaches 18, the parent will be alerted to submit evidence of school attendance so checks can continue.

However, if you are now 18 or older such benefit payments aren't automatic. You — or your parent — must apply at a Socil Secuarity office.

If you were getting checks but they stopped when you reached 18, you need to prove only that you are a full-time student.

This usually can be done by having your school fill out a form which it will get from the Government when you file your Social Security claim.

If you have never received Social Security benefits, you must establish your age and your relationship as well as your school status.

According to Social Security, "you are a full-time student if you are enrolled in a day or evening school for a course of study which will take at least three months and you are carrying a subject load sufficient to complete the course in the time normally required by a day student."

All state universities, state colleges, community colleges, public high schools and public vocational schools are covered. So are "private schools or colleges accredited by a state or national accrediting agency." Also, "unaccredited schools or colleges" whose credits are honored by at least three accredited institutions.

Benefits continue during summer vacation or "any similar between-term period of four months or less."

If you happen to earn more than $1,200 this year, your student benefit may be reduced for any month in which you made more than $100. Next year, however, you'll be able to earn up to $1,500 a year and $125 a month without penalty.

Incidentally, the mother of a student beneficiary doesn't qualify for an extra Social Security check for herself just because she has a child in school.

This differs from the case of a woman with a child under 18 or an older child incapable of self-support due to a disability incurred before age 18. In such instances, the mother is entitled to a benefit as well as the child.

The bonds will be issued in bearer form with a single coupon attached payable to bearer for each installment of interest thereon, and will be of the denomination of $5,000.00 each and will be numbered from one consecutively upwards in order of maturity, and will be registerable as to principal only.

The $6,250,000.00 principal amount of said bonds maturing on or before July 1, 1979 will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. The $4,750,000.00 principal amount of said bonds maturing subsequent to July 1, 1979 will be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the community college district, in whole or in part in inverse order of their numbers, on July 1, 1977 or on any interest payment date thereafter, upon notice of redemption given by the community college district by publication at least once at least thirty (30) days prior to date of redemption in a newspaper or in a publication printed in the English language and carrying municipal bond or financial news, published or circulating in the City of Detroit, Michigan, or in the City of New York, New York, at a redemption price for each bond to be redeemed equal to the principal amount thereof plus, as to any bond redeemed in any of the years shown in the following table, the redemption premium (if any) expressed as a percentage of such principal amount, set opposite such years:

Years (inclusive)	Redemption Premium
1977 to 1979	3 %
1980 to 1982	2½ %
1983 to 1985	2 %
1986 to 1988	1½ %
1989 to 1991	1 %
1992 to 1994	None

Together with interest accrued and unpaid at date of redemption in each instance.

The bonds will be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at the principal office of such bank, trust company or national banking association qualified to serve as paying agent with respect to said bonds and doing business and having its principal office in the State of Michigan and at such other or additional banks or trust companies or national banking associations (if any), as co-paying agents, doing business and having principal offices in the City of New York, New York, or in the City of Chicago, Illinois, and qualified to serve as such paying agent with respect to said bonds under the laws of the State of Michigan or the United States of America, and as (1) is named to said Board of Trustees by the successful bidder for the bonds at the time such bid is accepted, or (2) is named by said Board of Trustees for the purpose on reasonable and customary terms and is acceptable to said Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees may name any one or more of such paying agents in absence of any designation or acceptable designation thereof by such successful bidder.

Each proposal for the bonds must state the amount and bid for the bonds, which amount must not be less than $7,000,000.00, and must state in a multiple of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1% the single rate of interest per annum (not exceeding 6%) which the bonds maturing in each year are to bear. Bidders may state a single rate of interest or several rates of interest for the bonds (without limit as to the number of such rates), provided that only one rate of interest is stated for bonds having like maturity, and provided that no such rate of interest shall exceed 6% per annum, and provided further that the highest rate of interest stated in any proposal for the bonds shall not be more than twice the lowest rate of interest per annum named therein. In addition to the amount and the rate of interest bid for the bonds, the successful bidder must pay an amount equal to the interest on the bonds accrued from October 1, 1965 to the date of delivery thereof. As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must enclose with his proposal, as a good faith deposit, a certified or cashier's or treasurer's check payable to the order of the Community College District of Parts of the Counties of Oakland, Washtenaw, Livingston and Lapeer, Michigan, in the amount of $140,000.00, being an amount equal to two per centum (2%) of the par amount thereof of the bonds.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice will be rejected. Unless all bids are rejected, the bonds will be awarded to the bidder (herein called the "successful bidder") offering such interest rate or interest rates as will produce the lowest cost of loan to the community college district over the life of the bonds. Such lowest cost of loan will be computed by aggregating the interest payable on the bonds from December 1, 1965 to the respective maturity dates, and by deducting from the sum so ascertained the amount of premium (if any) bid for the bonds. In case of a tie and unless all bids are rejected, the successful bidder may be selected by lot, in such manner as said Board of Trustees may determine. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a computation of such cost of loan to the community college district under the terms of the proposal but such computation is not to be considered as a part of the proposal.

Bids will be accepted or rejected promptly after opening, and upon determination of the successful bid, the successful bidder will be notified of the acceptance of such bid and the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be thereupon returned. The check of the successful bidder will be retained to be applied in part payment for the bonds or to secure the community college district from any loss resulting from the failure of the successful bidder to comply with the terms of his proposal. No interest will be allowed on the amount of any good faith deposit.

Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds" and addressed to the Board of Trustees of the Community College District of parts of the Counties of Oakland, Washtenaw, Livingston and Lapeer, 7350 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake, Michigan, and if submitted by mail directed to Mr. Lloyd H. Vanbuskirk, Director of Campus Development, Oakland Community College, 7350 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake, Michigan.

The successful bidder will have the option to refuse to accept the bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest on the bonds is taxable, or shall be taxable at a future date, for Federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by him will be returned and he will be relieved of all obligations arising from the acceptance of his proposal.

The community college district was created and established pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 188 of the Public Acts of 1955 of the State of Michigan, as amended and supplemented. The bonds are issued for the purpose of meeting the costs of acquiring and equipping buildings and structures and making other permanent improvements necessary for the purposes of said community college district of the Orchard Ridge Campus, including various buildings, structures and improvements for its college building program of said campus and providing required classroom, laboratory, library, lecture hall, student center, administration and other facilities, and including also necessary access roads, motor vehicle parking areas and site improvements.

The bonds will be delivered at the offices of the Signature Company, 30 South Williams Street, New York, New York, approximately 30 days after date of bond sale, or at such other time and place in the City of Detroit, Michigan, or in the City of Chicago, Illinois as shall be acceptable to the Board of Trustees and the successful bidder, at which time the successful bidder shall be required to make payment therefor, to pay (by certified or cashier's or treasurer's check) the balance of the purchase price of the bonds, and the successful bidder will be given seventy-two (72) hours' notice of the time of delivery. The bonds will be printed, executed and delivered at the expense of the community college district and each bond will have a copy of the approving legal opinion hereinafter referred to printed on the reverse thereof.

It shall be a condition of the successful bidder's obligation to accept the bonds that such bidder be furnished, without cost, with (a) the approving legal opinion of the firm of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood in the form that the bonds are valid and legally binding obligations of the Community College District of parts of the Counties of Oakland, Washtenaw, Livingston and Lapeer, Michigan, and that all the taxable property therein will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon without limitation of rate or amount, and (b) certificates in form satisfactory to said firm evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the bonds and receipt of payment therefor, including a statement, dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or to the knowledge of the signers thereof threatened affecting the validity of the bonds.

Additional copies of this notice of sale and form for submission of proposals for the bonds, and further information concerning the community college district may be secured upon request addressed to Mr. Lloyd H. VanBuskirk, Director of Campus Development, Oakland Community College, 7350 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake, Michigan.

Report N. Viet Troop Buildup in South

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military authorities said today that five regiments of the North Vietnamese army—normally a total of 7,500 men — are now fighting in South Viet Nam.

The announcement confirmed the presence in the country of two new regiments. In July, military authorities said one regiment was known to be in South Viet Nam, probably a second was present and possibly a third.

★ ★ ★

Word of the North Vietnamese buildup came as a lull was reported in ground action across the country. But the growing U.S. military forces continued their patrols and sweeps, some of them in areas where the North Vietnamese units are believed operating.

Nine persons, all of them believed to be Americans, were killed when two U.S. Army helicopters collided in the air 250 miles northeast of Saigon, near the headquarters at An Khe of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

DECLINE COMMENT

Military officials declined to say whether they thought more North Vietnamese were moving into the country in response to the buildup of American forces.

It had been reported earlier that military men in the central highlands felt the number of North Vietnamese regiments had increased from three to four and possibly five. One new regiment was reported to have taken part in the recent fighting around the Special Forces camp at Plei Me.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the regiments now in the country are the 18th, the 95th and the 101st, all of the 325th division, and the 32nd and 250th regiments.

The 32nd and the 250th are the new arrivals.

Military authorities would not comment on how these two regiments came into the country. They said they had come in since midsummer and were operating in the western part of the 2nd corps area, in the central highlands near the borders of Cambodia and Laos.

A U.S. spokesman said the presence of the North Vietnamese units had been confirmed through interrogation of prisoners and captured documents and from persons who had come over to the government side. He said there was no evidence that the North Vietnamese regiments are operating together.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen said little significant contact with the Viet Cong had been reported throughout the country in the past 24 hours.

Officers said they had few details of the helicopter collision. The two helicopters were en route to An Khe from the Plei Me area, where troops of the 1st Cavalry have been hunting down Communist troops since the siege of the Plei Me camp was lifted 11 days ago.

ROUTE UNKNOWN

It was not known whether the helicopters were returning troops from the operation zone.

An eyewitness said one of the helicopters caught fire, in the tail of the second and both then crashed and burned.

★ ★

Vietnamese army troops swept an area of the Boi Loi Forest about 35 miles northwest of Saigon, following up three bombing attacks by U.S. B52 bombers. They reported finding a prisoner camp where they released 10 Vietnamese soldiers and killed one Viet Cong.

They said they also found a workshop containing a generator and a store of mines, grenades, ammunition and several Viet Cong uniforms.

LIGHT CONTACT

Light contact with the enemy was reported during the sweep.

Near Chu Lai, in the northernmost region of the country, a joint operation by U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops was in its third day. Some equipment, uniforms and documents were picked up but there was little contact. Two Viet Cong have been killed so far in the operation, spokesmen said.

★ ★ ★

Ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet pounded Viet Cong targets near the coasts and observers reported extensive damage to buildings and trench systems.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered at targets inside the country and in North Viet Nam. Nineteen missions were flown over North Viet Nam Thursday. Among the targets was the Ron Naval Base, 25 miles north of Dong Hoi. Four buildings were reported destroyed and five damaged.

RETURN SAFELY

All planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

Informed sources reported that a U.S. Air Force B57 jet accidentally dropped a bomb north of Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one South Korean Marine on patrol and wounding five others.

U.S. military authorities declined to confirm the report.

Six U.S. paratroopers were killed last week by artillery rounds reportedly fired by a Korean unit near Qui Nhon, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

Step to Independence?

Rhodesia Declares State of Emergency

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — A countrywide state of emergency was proclaimed in Rhodesia today.

The action sparked speculation in the Rhodesian capital that Prime Minister Ian Smith was paving the way to seize independence from Britain.

★ ★ ★

A surprised government official, who first heard of the emergency when handed a press statement by a newsman, said: "You don't have to read between the lines too closely to guess what is going on."

Rhodesia's minister of justice, law and order, Desmond Lardner-Burke, who ordered the state of emergency for three months, said it was necessary because of a threat to security in Rhodesia. He said trained African saboteurs were either at large in Rhodesia or poised in territories to the north.

PUBLIC AWARE

"The public is, of course, well aware of incidents of arson, violence, intimidation and other subversive activities taking place in this country at present," said Lardner-Burke.

Newsmen, however, could not recall immediately any incidents of this nature in the last few weeks.

★ ★ ★

A government spokesman said there were "numerous trained saboteurs sponsored by both proscribed African nationalist organizations" — the Zimbabwe African Peoples Union and the Zimbabwe African National Union. The leaders of both have been confined to remote areas of the country.

The spokesman said some of the saboteurs were at large in Rhodesia and in neighboring countries.

Lardner-Burke said saboteurs in Rhodesia's northern neighbors were awaiting orders and the opportunity to return.

★ ★ ★

"Many more are presently undergoing training in sabotage in countries hostile to us," he said.

"Caches of arms, ammunition and explosives are known to exist in such hostile countries.

THREAT TO SECURITY

"Statements recently made by African racists in this country and by a spokesman for certain African states to the north of us clearly indicate a threat to our security and to the maintenance of a calm and peaceful atmosphere."

He said persons restricted by the government were circulating instructions by various means to their followers to engage in illegal activities.

★ ★ ★

Lardner-Burke said the commissioner of police had appointed officers in the provinces. He said they would issue orders necessary to control the movement of people, weapons, gatherings and public statements.

Lardner-Burke said the forces of law and order are quite capable of containing the situation and any developments. Certain measures already have been taken, he said, but he did not explain.

The government's action was precautionary to a degree, he added.

He appealed to all Rhodesians to cooperate fully with the authorities and to go about their business as usual.

The leaders of the two banned African nationalist organizations are Joshua Nkomo of Zapu and the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole of anu. They are bitter rivals.

Prime Minister Ian Smith met with his Cabinet today amid reports he might decide to declare independence for the colony in the next 48 hours.

In London, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his advisers conferred in special session today on the state of emergency declared by Rhodesia.

Cabinet members on defense and overseas policy exchanged ideas with Wilson over the import of the move.

LBJ Uses 'You Are There' Technique

Washington (AP)— President Johnson has established a new trend in ceremonies such as bill signings and swearing in.

No longer does he just sit there, or stand there, in his office and affix his name to "Great Society" measures, or witness the oath-takings of new officeholders.

He goes places. He goes to the Statue of Liberty for the enactment of the immigration reform bill, to the Harry S. Truman Library in Independence, Mo., to sign Medicare, to the Capitol to sign voting rights on an Abraham Lincoln desk and to Hye, Tex., — population 198 — to see Lawrence F. O'Brien become the nation's new postmaster general.

Who's responsible for this new trend? You guessed right — it's LBJ.

Not that the President doesn't have help — even he couldn't do this all by himself. He gets suggestions from White House aides and on occasion from newsmen alert to what is known in their work as the human interest angle.

FAMILY MAIL

The thought that the President should take O'Brien to the combination post office and general store at Hye — to which Johnson used to trudge as a boy to get the family mail — occurred like a bolt out of the blue to William H. Lawrence, ABC correspondent.

Lawrence said he had passed it along to White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers as a gag. But Lawrence added that the more he thought, the better he thought of it. And the President evidently thought it was just fine.

Sad to relate, LBJ's yearning for the good old days could not be completely satisfied at Hye.

He would have liked old-fashioned cheese to serve on crackers to the new postmaster general.

★ ★ ★

But Mrs. Levi A. Deike, wife of the local postmaster and storekeeper, said apologetically she didn't have any of those big rings of cheese Johnson knew as a boy.

DIFFERENT TASTES

Explaining that people seem to have got out of the habit of eating that kind of cheese, she served up a loaf of processed cheese in a fancy, brand-name wrapper.

The idea of signing Medicare in Independence was Johnson's own, key aides said. The President took the view that ceremonies, if carried on always at the White House can become a routine, meaningless ritual.

He said in effect: "People hear and read about government, but it doesn't seem close to them; we've got to do more to carry government to them."

★ ★ ★

Now while a new trend has been established in presidential comings and goings, a theory that presidential speeches have hit a new high in lyricism is disputed.

The theory is based on a speech the President gave when he signed the highway beautification bill.

In that speech the President asked how to put a value on the "view of the night that is caught in a boy's eyes while he's stretched out in thick grass, watching the million stars that are never seen in our crowded cities, breathing pure, fresh air, while in his ears are the sounds of the night, the birds, the cricket and the winds."

Southfield Sergeant Awarded Silver Star

WARREN (AP) — Staff Sgt. Clement McGee, 34, of Southfield was awarded a Silver Star for gallantry in the Viet Nam war Thursday at the U.S. Army Mobility Command here.

The decoration was presented by Maj. Gen. William W. Lapsley, commander.

She learned from books and her father, who was once an entertainer.

10 U.S. Governors Tour Viet

SAIGON (UPI) — A delegation of 10 U. S. governors arrived in Saigon today to begin a four-day tour of Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The group was met at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport by U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of all American forces in Viet Nam.

The delegation, representing the National Governors Conference, will get a close-up look at the war effort.

Before leaving Hong Kong earlier today, the governors said they wanted to tell American servicemen that most people back home appreciate the job they are doing and want them to stay and see it through.

The group is composed of the governors of Georgia, Rhode Island, Vermont, Michigan, Iowa, Maine, Montana, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Hawaii.

IN AGREEMENT

"I agree one hundred per cent with President Johnson and his policy for Viet Nam," declared Hawaii Gov. John A. Burns.

"Americans are aware that in order to retain freedom and hopes for future peace we must when necessary use maximum force."

Burns said the United States wants to get out of Viet Nam militarily as soon as possible. But he emphasized that it cannot until that country is safe and secure from Communist aggression.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island said the administration policy in Viet Nam was "right" and had wide support.

EXACTLY RIGHT

Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders said the United States was doing exactly what it should in Viet Nam.

Sanders, like most of the other governors, indicated he would seek out servicemen from his home state to let them know of the deep concern and wide support back home for the job they are doing.

ROY ROGERS GRIEVES — Actress Dale Evans comforts her grieving husband, cowboy actor Roy Rogers, at the funeral service in Hollywood yesterday for his 18-year-old adopted son, Pfc. John David Rogers. The youth died in Germany where he was serving.

Colors Gain Popularity at Funerals

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pastel-colored caskets and air - conditioned hearses are the coming thing in the funeral industry, delegates to the National Funeral Directors Convention said yesterday.

"A casket has a personality all of its own," said Richard A. La Vigne of the Boyertown, Pa., Burial Casket Co.

Where once caskets were always black or somber gray, today muted pastel shades are becoming popular. "In that respect, it is much like a piece of furniture or an automobile," La Vigne declared.

Casket interiors use velvet, silk or velour and shades of blues, greens, yellows and whites now are common. But the trend toward color is spreading to exteriors as well.

Chrome, nickel and copper are the most common materials from which caskets are made but hardwood is gaining in popularity.

"Hardwood now has about 17 per cent of the market," La Vigne said, "and these can be polished or stained in any wood shade. Lighter shades are becoming more popular."

Hearses once were almost always black but they, too, now have moved into color.

Light grey, blue, pale yellow and even dull white are popular among funeral directors, William Manley, an official of Miller Metor Division, Divco-Wayne Corp., Piqua, Ohio, said.

Part of the reason for this is that 60 per cent of all hearses also are used as ambulances, he said.

Air-conditioning has become standard for almost all hearses used in the South and is becoming more popular in the North as well, Manley said. His company features electrically operated casket handlers which allow the casket to be removed from either side or the rear of the hearse.

Movie Finished Using Craft From Fatal Accident

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Filming of the flight of the plane in which movie stunt pilot Paul Mantz was killed last July 8 has been completed successfully.

★ ★ ★

When the scene was attempted in July, the craft struck the ground, somersaulted and came apart, killing Mantz and seriously injuring stunt man Bobby Rose.

Rose was aboard again Thursday with pilot Wally McDonnell.

The only mishap Thursday was when the plane lost part of its tail.

HOME FOR PRINCESS — The Beverly Hills Hotel in Hollywood, which combines tradition with elegance, will be home for Britain's Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon during their four days and three nights in the Los Angeles area next week. The hotel's preparations for the visit began six months ago.

'NY Win Boosts GOP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Republican party got a "major lift" out of the election of John V. Linsay as mayor of New York City, says U. S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y.

* * *

"The Democrats did not make the kind of effort in certain areas of the city that should have been made," said Kennedy on arriving here last night.

Kennedy, accompanied by his wife, Ethel, is visiting Los Angeles to address the University of Southern California student body today and speak at a town hall luncheon.

In remarks prepared for delivery at USC, Kennedy told students the present era is "a time when the young people of our country are playing a greater role in issues of national importance — both domestic and foreign — than ever before in our history."

"We may not approve of every student movement or agree with every expression of concern," said Kennedy. "But the important thing is that our young people now care, and care deeply, and will be better citizens tomorrow for their involvement of today."

DEFENDS RIGHT

Kennedy added:

"I defend the right to dissent, the right to criticize. . ."

"But we must be careful not to let disagreement with national policy jeopardize the success of the efforts in which student participation has been so important. . ."

* * *

"An atmosphere of partial dissent could all too easily become an atmosphere of total disaffection — and with that could come serious damage to those programs which depend upon student involvement for their success. . ."

Jail Ordered for Uninvited Detroit Pair

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit youths were sentenced to 10 days in jail Thursday by a Recorder's Court judge for trying to force their way into a party at which Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit was a guest.

* * *

George Washington Carver Jones, 20, and George A. Forman, 19, were found guilty of entering a home without the owner's permission.

* * *

Damon J. Keith, cochairman of the State Civil Rights Commission, and host for a preelection party Saturday night, told the court he found four youths in the hallway of his home. Keith said the youths were ejected by himself and two aides without Cavanagh's knowledge.

Two were arrested by police passing by in a car assigned to protect the mayor. The others fled.

Beverly Hills Hotel Readies for Royalty

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The Beverly Hills Hotel, which prides itself on coddling its guests, faces its greatest challenge beginning at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

THOMAS

That's the scheduled arrival time of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon, who will be spending four days and three nights in the Los Angeles area. They will rest their royal heads at the Beverly Hills Hotel, which is quite ready for them.

* * *

Preparations began six months ago, when it was learned that the pair would be coming to California to appear at the annual ball for the World Adoption International Fund. All of the major hotels in town made a pitch to house the visitors. The Beverly Hills found a friend at court, Sharman Douglas, the former ambassador's daughter who is helping to shepherd the princess and her husband through Hollywood society.

Word came through six weeks ago that the Beverly Hills had won out over its competitors. Then the tentative plans had to be converted into an operational scheme.

3 MAJOR MEETINGS

"We've had three major meetings plus numerous departmental meetings," reported Burton Slatkin, vice president of the hotel. "The amount of detail is truly magnificent. After all, when you are dealing with creature comforts, the smallest detail can be crucial."

The hotel's red carpet, reserved for only the most auspicious events, will be rolled out, of course. A large Union Jack has been purchased to hang at the porte-cochere (carriage entrance).

* * *

The Beverly Hills has already provided shelter for such guests as Queen Juliana of The Netherlands, King Albert of Belgium, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, the Shah of Iran, crown prince of Morocco, President Sukarno, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a scattering of Kennedys (Jack, Bobby, Teddy), Rockefellers and Astors, plus Elizabeth Taylor, Joe DiMaggio and Commander Whitehead.

"But this is the largest and most delicate operation we have ever faced," said Slatkin.

4TH-FLOOR WING

The party is taking over the entire fourth-floor wing of the hotel. Employes have been instructed to stand at least five feet distant from Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon and to bow with heads when given orders. The pair will be eating out at all meals except breakfast, and the kitchen has been instructed that his breakfast is hearty, hers light.

Who is picking up the tab?

* * *

"The British government for the English visitors, the State Department for Americans," reported Slatkin. "There also has to be a room for escorting motorcyclists, and I suppose we'll take care of that."

N. J. Chemical Industry Shows Rapid Growth

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The State Department of Conservation says that New Jersey's chemical industry has nearly doubled in the last 10 years.

More than 86,000 workers are employed in the industry which has an annual payroll of about $611 million. There are 1,100 chemical research and development laboratories and plants in the state. The state is the leading chemical producer in the nation.

One hundred and thirty million years ago sharks may have infested what is now known as the Negev desert. Fossils of four species of sharks have been found in this region, indicating that it was once covered with a warm sea.

Price Boost Shot in Arm

Aluminums Rise on Market

NEW YORK (AP) —Aluminums, along with aerospace issues, airlines and electronics showed strength in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

The aluminums got a renewed shot-in-the-arm from news that Alcoa, the largest American producer, had joined some other producers in an aluminum price boost.

★ ★ ★

Alcoa advanced a full point as it opened shortly after the news, and widened its gains in later dealings. Reynolds Metals added almost a point. Aluminum Ltd. rose ⅛ to 30⅛ on an opener of 5,600 shares and increased its rise fractionally. Kaiser Aluminum rose about 1.

Boeing spurted about 2 points while gains of a point or better were made by United Aircraft, Polaroid, United Air Lines and Eastern Air Lines.

OTHER SIDE

The market average was dampened, however, by declines in the Dow Jones Industrial Average of about 2, and General Motors, GM, selling ex dividend $2.25, opened on slightly-delayed blocks of 6,200 and 4,000 shares, down 1½ at 105.

Some of the fast-stepping color television and other electronics continued to spurt. Fairchild Camera resumed its strong rebound, rising 3 to 120¾ on 10,000 shares at the opening. Zenith tacked on nearly 2.

Thursday, The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose 1.0 to 355.8, a new high.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Ruling Sought in Pope Trial

May Decide if Killing Suspect Faces Death

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Attorneys today pressed a federal judge for a ruling on a legal question which could decide whether Duane Earl Pope, on trial for the slaying of three persons in a bank holdup, could be sentenced to death.

At issue is whether U.S. District Court Judge Robert E. Van Pelt would accept Pope's "judicial admission," a document filed yesterday by his attorneys.

In it, Pope admits shooting in the back four employes of the isolated Big Springs, Neb., Farmers State Bank on June 4. About $1,500 was taken in the robbery. Three bank employes died; a fourth is paralyzed from the waist down.

If Van Pelt accepts the admission Pope committed the crime, the trial would center on his mental condition at the time.

* * *

Defense attorneys thus hoped to halt a parade of prosecution witnesses and keep Pope from facing a possible death penalty, if convicted.

WITNESSES ALLOWED

Yesterday Judge Van Pelt overruled objections by defense attorney Robert Crosby and allowed several witnesses to testify against Pope.

In the "judicial admission," Pope confessed to robbing the bank and shooting Andreas Kjeldgaard, 77, the bank president; cashier Glenn Hendrickson, 59; and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, a bookkeeper.

Franklin Kjeldgaard, 25, assistant cashier and nephew of the bank president, was paralyzed from the waist down.

* * *

U.S. Dist. Atty. Theodore Richling indicated Franklin Kjeldgaard would testify next week.

OTHER EVDENCE

Also expected next week is the attempted introduction of a confession by Pope following his surrender in Kansas City, Mo.

U.S. Is Urged to Stop Milk Price Drop

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Milk Producers Association said today it has asked the government to take "immediate emergency action" to prevent a drop in December milk prices paid to Upper Peninsula dairy farmers.

Association general manager Jack W. Barnes sought the action in a telegram to Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture.

* * *

"We would hope that (Freeman) will act in such a way as to prevent an economic hardship from being imposed upon milk producers in the Upper Peninsula," Barnes said.

He said such action could take the form of "emergency administrative action that would ensure steady prices, or to call an emergency hearing on the matter."

FEDERAL ORDERS

Federal milk marketing orders which regulate the price paid to Upper Peninsula milk producers specify a decrease of 20 cents per hundredweight (46½ quarts) effective Dec. 1, Barnes said.

Similar seasonal price adjustments are called for in marketing orders for Chicago and 11 other Midwestern milk markets outside Michigan, Barnes said.

Record Sales Likely

Variety in Yule Cards

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — The lamb is lying down with the lion on Christmas cards this year.

There is everything from the usual medieval Madonnas to OP art Christmas stars, with a sprinkling of partridges in pear trees. But peace is the favorite theme shown by greeting card manufacturers.

* * *

In the next two months, the manufacturers, museums, photographic supply houses and charity groups expect to sell a record number of cards.

The Greeting Card Association, made up of manufacturers, predicts sales of over three billion cards in the United States.

50,000 DESIGNS

Shoppers will find selection more difficult than ever, with more than 50,000 designs available.

The 1965 cards are three-dimensional, encrusted with gold foil. They are orange, pink, beige, purple, and sometimes even the traditional red or green.

* * *

There are special cards "From Our Parakeet to Yours."

There are cards for the milkman, mailman, doctor, priest, boss, nun, baby sitter and those in mourning. There is Santa on water skiis and Santa driving a golf cart instead of a sleigh.

AVERAGE CUSTOMER

"We figure the average customer is a housewife, about 35, with two children, living in the suburbs," said Steve Shannon, executive director of the Greeting Cards Association.

"She orders about 200 personalized cards for 15 to 35 cents apiece, and then spends another $10-$12 on special cards for mother and the mailman. Then on impulse, she buys two or three boxes at the last minute."

The association takes what Shannon calls "a discreetly neutral policy" to its chief sales rivals: museums and charity organizations, such as UNICEF, which publishes its own cards to raise funds for the United Nations Children's Fund.

"Who's going to fight a glass of milk for a child in Zanzibar?" he asked, referring to UNICEF, which expects to sell 40 million cards this year.

$2.3 MILLION

Last year UNICEF's Christmas card net proceeds were $2.3 million.

Museum sales have been inching up, too, but the museums are close-mouthed about the figures. Many of the museums sell their cards throughout the country.

* * *

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York has offered Chistmas cards since 1914, but most of the museums have entered the business only in the last 15 years.

The Museum of the City of New York, however, is considering dropping cards.

PRIMARY BUSINESS

"We feel, after all, that this is not our primary kind of business," a spokesman said.

Sales of photographic cards have skyrocketed since they were introduced in the 1920s. Sales were 110 million in 1962, 125 million in 1963 and 150 million last year.

Thomas Ward, photo Christmas cards supervisor for Eastman Kodak, estimates the gross on black and white cards this year will be up 10 to 15 per cent and on color, 15 to 20.

Variety is unlimited.

$2 EACH

Cartier, a New York jewelry store, has hand-painted designs by Walton, Poucette, Dickens and Noka costing up to $2 apiece. Abercrombie - Fitch, a New York, Chicago and San Francisco firm which caters to sportsmen, offers cards with a fishermen's creel, pink-jacketed fox hunters and Santa feeding deer.

From the Pierpont Morgan Library, there is cupid in a cart drawn by peacocks and the Holy Family at Supper, an illumination from the Book of Hours of Catherine of Cleves.

* * *

Kachina and Apache dancers, warriors and running deer are reproduced on the Museum of the American Indian cards.

A red, black and white box which may be used as a tree ornament is offered by the Museum of Modern Art, which also offers a yellow and black star design in diecut slideboard.

* * *

The all-encompassing Metropolitan Museum has everything from Friar Filippo Lippi's "Annunciation," to a circus painting from the lid of a gold and enamel snuff box.

Reconsideration Is Sought on Denial of Drought Aid

LANSING (UPI) — Acting Gov. William Milliken has asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to reconsider a decision denying emergency livestock feed help in 31 Michigan counties.

Milliken today said he received a telegram earlier in the week from Freeman stating the U. S. Agriculture Department did not find conditions "sufficiently acute to warrant the program at this time."

"While the feed crop will be less than the farmers had hoped for in many of these counties, pasture conditions are noted as fair to excellent. In the Upper Peninsula feed crop conditions appear normal for the area," Freeman's telegram to Milliken said.

"We recognize pasture conditions are fair to excellent; however, the need is for grain to feed the livestock during the cold months," Milliken replied to Freeman in asking the agriculture secretary to reconsider his decision.

Milliken said "The decision from Washington is very disappointing."

SNOW COVER

"Freeman . . . should realize from his experience in Minnesota that our pastures are covered with snow during the winter months," he said.

The state U.S. Department of Agriculture Disaster Committee and the Department of Agriculture in Michigan had recommended Michigan qualify for the purchase of government-owned grain for feed.

The request was made for Alger, Antrim, Arenac, Baraga, Bay, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Clare, Clinton, Delta, Dickinson, Emmet, Genesee, Gogebic, Gratiot, Ingham, Ionia, Isabella, Kalkaska, Lapeer, Mackinac, Mecosta, Menomin e, Midland, Montcalm, Ogemaw, Ontonagon, Oscoda, Saginaw, Schoolcraft, and Shiawassee counties.

* * *

Milliken said several of the counties were also affected by a short hay crop due to lack of rain.

* * *

Oats were not harvested in the Upper Peninsula because of excess rain at harvesting time, Milliken added. He also said oats in the Upper Peninsula and the central lower portions of the state are reported at about 50 per cent of normal.

Q) "I hold Pittston shares. They seem to do nothing in my favor. I bought this stock with the idea of a quick advancement. What do you suggest I do — hold or sell it and take a loss, which I can really not afford?" E.C.

A; I'm sorry you have had to learn the hard way that buying a stock for quick advancement frequently brings you just the reverse. Pittston is a good stock, representing a holding company in such areas as bituminous coal, storage and distribution of oil and trucking and warehousing. The company's operations do not make for growth and the shares have never attracted strong investor interest.

In each of the past six years, they have sold at higher levels. Pittston offers a good yield on a well-covered dividend, but no great prospects for appreciation. I cannot give you a stock for quick advancement, but if you have patience and a willingness to accept the loss, I would switch to American Hospital Supply.

Q) "We need something to protect us against inflation. We have $100,000 in bonds, $100,000 in savings. Why do you recommend Avon Products? I know of no one who buys from them. We would like to put $20,000-$30,000 into stocks, but the only one we feel safe with is Safeway Stores." M.J.

A) I recommend Avon Products because it has had one of the best and most consistent growth records of any company. Many people you don't know buy their products, sending revenues from about $69 million in 1955 to around $300 million last year. In the past decade, the shares have increased in value over 20-fold.

By all means, buy Safeway, and also Winn-Dixie Stores, Corn Products; American Telephone; J. C. Penney. These are sound stocks which have not shared strongly in the current advance and look relatively cheap.
