Heavy Arab-Israeli Battle Rages on El Auja Border

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian military spokesman said today that in a successful counterattack Egyptian forces have recaptured the El Sabha post in the El Auja demilitarized zone.

The spokesman said 200 Israeli soldiers were killed in the battle which started last night and "some others taken prisoner."

The fighting centered around El Sabha, a checkpoint which the Israelis previously had claimed was held by the Egyptians in the zone nine miles south of El Auma and within Israeli territory.

An Israeli military spokesman said an Israeli army unit "recaptured the territory" last night, killing 50 Egyptians and capturing more than 40.

Israeli casualties were put at 4 killed and 19 wounded. Military reports reaching official sources in Cairo said the Egyptians launched a counterattack in the Sabha Area. An Egyptian spokesman said the Egyptians have "considerable military strength" in the region, but declined to give details on the counterattack.

The spokesman said that while the battle was raging in the demilitarized zone, Israeli forces opened fire with automatic weapons on an Egyptian outpost near Maghazi, a camp for Palestine Arab refugees south of Gaza. Gaza is about 50 miles north of El Auja.

Broomfield did tack on $45,000 more to an original $60,000 item for placing children in private hospitals under contract.

"If the House approves and Oakland County officials agree, this extra money could be used to lease the TB annex where about 75 youngsters could be housed immediately."

"Over 100 county mentally retarded youngsters have been committed for care, but remain in their homes for lack of institutional space."

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, formally ordered Pontiac today to tighten controls on its sewer system to prevent harmful wastes from reaching the Clinton River.

The order results from two incidents in the past four months in which poisonous wastes from Pontiac contaminated the water supply at Utica, downstream from Pontiac.

The commissioners order said the Pontiac sewage system and sewage treatment works "has not been and is not presently being operated in such a manner as to adequately protect the public health and to prevent the unlawful pollution of the waters of this state."

As well as placing restrictions on the use of sewers, drains and the treatment works, the order told Pontiac to run sewage tests on its discharge at least every hour and to deny the use of the sewer system to any user whose wastes might be damaging.

City Manager Walter K. Willman confirmed the state action.

"This may be a help to us, we have not been getting too much cooperation from some of the smaller manufacturing plants."

"They've been slow in complying with an order we issued two months ago," he added.

55 to 65 M.P.H. Measure OK'd in 30 to 3 Ballot

Curb Would Be Felt Only in Area South of Bay City

By International News Service
The State Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill calling for a day and night speed limit in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula.

The 65-mile-an-hour daytime and 55 nighttime approved last night by a vote of 30 to 3, was restricted to the lower part of the state apparently because some northern senators insisted traffic north of Bay City is comparatively light. They said the limit was necessary only in heavily populated areas.

The dividing mark would be an imaginary line known as "town line 16" running from Lake Michigan north of Muskegon to Bay City and from Bayport to Harbor Beach in the Thumb area.

Other highway measures approved by the Senate provide:

1. Rigid tests for drivers when they renew their licenses every three years.

2. Drivers' training school that habitual offenders would be compelled to attend by court order.

3. An increase in the renewal cost of the drivers license from $1.50 to $3.

4. Issuance of new licenses only by local officials who have been certified by the state police commissioner as qualified examiners.

5. Creation of an accident research center at Michigan State University.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed and sent Houseward an emergency bill providing for 1,475 beds for mentally retarded children as a stop-gap until new permanent hospitals can be built.

It includes appropriations of $262,000 to remodel the Ft. Custer Hospital, which would house 800 children.

However, the Senate action does not include purchase of the Children's Hospital at Farmington, as recommended by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The House got a bill that would provide $13.5 million to increase the salaries of teachers and non-teaching school employees.

'La Bise' Sick List Grows

West May Demand Soviet Act on Germany Free Vote

GENEVA (INS)—The three Western foreign ministers were expected to demand that Russia's V. M. Molotov announce today whether the Soviet Union was ready to agree to free elections throughout Germany.

Molotov has shown no inclination that the Kremlin would accept such a move which would result in the liquidation of the Communist East German regime.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Antoine Pinay were lunching at the Briton's villa to work out their strategy for this afternoon's four-power session.

The Soviet delegate yesterday offered a plan for unifying Germany as a neutral nation but with no provisions for free elections.

The plan was based on East German proposals made public the day before. It was rejected immediately by the Allied ministers.

91.4 Per Cent of Goal Netted; Deadline Nears

Total Pushed Higher by Industrial Division Going Over Quota

The Pontiac Area United Fund drive raced into the home stretch today after yesterday's returns raised the total collected to $514,070—91.4 per cent of the $562,175 goal.

The Industrial Division swelled the total by going over its quota.

Campaign leaders hope a continued rush of returns bring in the remaining 8.6 per cent needed before tonight's deadline.

A report and awards luncheon is set for noon tomorrow in the Anyone Missed?

Although volunteer workers have been doing an excellent job, United Fund leaders feel many persons wishing to give have not been contacted because of the wide area included in the drive. All those who wish to contribute and have not been contacted are urged to phone Mrs. A. W. Gault at FE 5-5088 and a solicitor will be sent.

The 11 plants in the Pontiac Manufacturer's Assn. pledged 113 per cent of their quota. A portion of their contributions had been included in totals announced earlier.

Bell Telephone Co. employees gave $5,647.40—37 per cent above last year. Bell District Manager E. J. Novak said, "This amount represents the combined gifts of members of CWA-CIO Local 4012 plus management employees and all other employees." The firm gave $3,100.

Strict Rationing Regulations Hurt Chinese Customs

HONG KONG (INS)—Instead of "R.S.V.P." invitation cards to weddings and other celebrations in some parts of Communist China carry the request, "Bring Your Own Rice."

This is the spreading fashion in Kwangtung Province—a result of the rigid control on the country's grain.

Rationed rice is so meager that the people have none left for feeding guests and visiting relatives. So, whenever one goes visiting one must carry along one's own supply of rice—or go hungry.

If the rendezvous is some distance away, a recipe coupon must be obtained from the local authorities. This coupon is then exchanged for a specified quantity of rice at one's destination. This applies also to travelers who must produce their coupons at hotels and restaurants.

First Snow Downs Lines, Brings Warning of Winter

Sharing in Southern Michigan's first real snow of the season, the Pontiac area today suffered from downed power and telephone lines and muddled roads.

Otherwise people suffered only from wet feet. Police and Sheriff's Departments reported that though driving conditions were bad, no serious accidents or traffic snarls occurred because of snow this morning and heavy rain last night.

Consumers Power Company reported that three primary lines were downed between 5:30 a.m. and 6 a.m. this morning, leaving about 1,000 customers in the city without power.

Gordon Low, electric superintendent, said that service to all except 25 or 30 customers was resumed by 8 a.m.

Sheriff's deputies assisted when one of the lines was downed at Sashabaw Rd. and Woodmere in Waterford Township.

About 200 persons living along Hatchery road in the Township were without power in their homes when one of the power lines was downed.

Police directed traffic for over an hour this morning along Oakland Ave. and at the intersection of Telegraph Rd. and Elizabeth Lake Rd. when traffic lights failed to work because of downed lines.

No accidents were reported in either area.

Police also blocked off West Blvd., when fallen lines covered the street. Lines fallen in other parts of the city caused no injuries, the Traffic Safety Bureau reported.

Another 250 persons in the Greater Pontiac area were without telephone service because of some nine cases of cable breaks.

Bell Telephone Company, working to restore the lines, expects all service to be resumed this afternoon, Robert A. Sutton, Pontiac manager said.

Down 18 Per Cent in First Six Months

City's Crime Shows Big Drop This Year

After a 12 per cent increase in Pontiac's crime rate in 1954, the city has dropped 18 per cent in the first six months of 1955.

Police Chief Herbert Straley reported the decrease today and added that there has been a four per cent increase in number of crimes cleared by arrests since 1954.

The figures cover the first six months of 1955, compared with the same period of 1954. There were 761 crimes reported to police last year, and only 624 this year.

In addition, 29 per cent of reported crimes were cleared by arrests in 1955, compared with 25 per cent last year.

In 1954, the year's total reported crimes rose to an all-time high of 1,550. If the rate for the second six months of 1955 follows the first six months, there will be 1,248, a decrease of nearly 20 per cent.

CHIEF H. W. STRALEY

And if this year's pattern follows last year's, chances of the record drop are good. Only 28 more crimes were reported in the last six months of 1954 than in the first six months—a negligible increase of less than four per cent.

From January 1 to June 1, 1954, police records showed three murders, two negligent manslaughter, six rapes, 15 cases of robbery, 30 cases of aggravated assault, 244 burglaries, 63 cases of grand larceny, 323 cases of petty larceny, and 73 auto thefts.

There were sharp drops this year in every category except rape, grand larceny and auto theft.

There were no murders or negligent manslaughter. Rape cases remained at six. Robberies dropped from 15 to five; aggravated assaults from 30 to 24.

Burglaries declined exactly 50 per cent, from 244 to 122. Petty larcenies fell from 325 to 317.

Auto thefts rose slightly from 73 to 75, and grand larcenies from 63 to 75.

All six rape cases this year were cleared by arrests, as were three of the five robberies. Twenty-three arrests were made in 24 cases of aggravated assault.

Sixty-six of 122 burglaries were cleared, and 50 of 75 auto thefts. Nine arrests were made for 75 grand larcenies, and 22 for 317 petty larcenies.

Last year, all three murders and both negligent manslaughter were cleared by arrests. Five of the six rapes were also cleared.

Police also solved 8 of 15 robberies, 26 of 30 aggravated assaults, 70 of 244 burglaries, eight of 63 grand larcenies, 36 of 325 petty larcenies, and 36 of 75 auto thefts.

This year's big increases in cases solved came in auto thefts (16 per cent) and burglaries (25 per cent). The major decreases in crimes were 50 per cent in burglaries and 67 per cent in robberies.

Turnpike Head Hits New Bill

Higgins Opposes Move to Stop Gas Tax Use on North-South Roads

The Michigan Turnpike Authority chairman said today he "strongly opposes" a bill to stop the State Highway Department from using the recent 1 1/2-cent gas tax hike to improve about 12 north-south roads within 25 miles on either side of the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw toll road.

George N. Higgins said, "The authority had no knowledge of this bill and I would vote against it myself if I had the chance."

"We have been watching Ziegler's efforts to undermine the turnpike and know he has told a few legislators the Turnpike Authority is opposed to plans for the improvement of all of these north-south routes."

"This is not true. He showed them parts of our traffic and earnings report, in which so-called 'competitive' highways were listed on a traffic survey map, and led them to believe we opposed improvement of all of them."

"He forgot to show them another section of the report showing the small portion of traffic diverted to the turnpike from most of those routes."

"The financial success of the turnpike only requires that a parallel freeway, immediately adjacent to the turnpike route, not be built in the early years of the turnpike operation."

"It is true we will have trouble financing the Rockwood to Saginaw project if Ziegler insists on concentrating on a freeway immediately parallel to the proposed route. It is not true that we oppose other highway building within a 50 mile band."

"All that will be required for cooperation from the Highway Commissioner is that he improve these other routes in a normal manner, without forgetting western Michigan, northern Michigan, and the Upper Peninsula."

Police Hunting 6 in Tot's Kidnap

Witnesses Say 2 Men, 4 Women Snatched Boy Near New York Store

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (INS)—Four women and two men were hunted today as suspects in the kidnaping of the two-year-old son of an Air Force sergeant.

Two women told Nassau County police yesterday they saw the six persons, all Negroes, abduct the baby Monday. The names of the two informants were withheld by police.

Nassau Detective Chief Stuyvesant Pinnell assigned 100 detectives to the hunt for the suspects.

Pinnell said the witness related that she was sitting outside the supermarket when Stephen Damman was picked up by a man in the group and carried off.

Stephen's mother was shopping in the store when he disappeared. The witness said that moments before the child was carried off, one of the women in the group stationed herself at the market door, as if acting as a lookout.

Another woman wheeled the carriage and all six rounded a nearby corner. The carriage later was found around that corner.

The witness said she assumed the six were domestics and that one of the group was employed at the child's home.

When informed of the new evidence Sgt. Jerry Damman, 28, broke down. He had hoped that the child would be found somewhere in the neighborhood.

The Day in Birmingham Torch Drive Fund Now $57,000 Under '55 Quota

BIRMINGHAM — Spelling the difference between success or failure for Birmingham, Bloomfield and Franklin Torch Drive volunteers are eight days and $57,000.

They have that much time to collect that much money if they are to reach the area quota in the 1955 Detroit United Foundation campaign, aiding 150 community agencies.

It was estimated by Irving B. Babcock, general chairman, that slightly over $143,000 would be tallied by this morning. "Judging from past experience, the 1955 drive is slightly behind schedule, and the final week is always the question mark," he said.

"After 16 days of effort, the volunteers have reported about 71 per cent of the $200,485 quota. That means," said Babcock, "we've passed the three-quarter mark in the campaign without quite three-quarters of our goal achieved."

DOUBLE GIFTS
Mrs. J. Rowland Quinn, campaign director, urged all volunteers to turn in reports promptly and said high points in the local drive include "tremendous support in the schools." Vaughan, Wing Lake and Bloomfield Hills High School have registered 100 per cent teacher contribution participation, she noted.

Vaughan's final report was nearly eight times greater than last year, she said, and city employees more than doubled their gifts. Another 100 per cent participation record was shown by Dearborn Motors Credit Corp. and Detroit Waback Bank and Trust Co.

Mrs. Quinn said the biggest business total, $18,484, was turned in by MacManus, John & Adams, who took that same honor last year.

A business meeting will follow tonight's 6:30 Business Women's Club dinner at the Community House.

Mrs. David D. Baker of New York city, editor of the magazine, "The Church Woman," will speak at tomorrow's World Community Day program, again sponsored by local United Church Women.

Mrs. Baker will talk on "Building Lasting Peace" at 10 a.m. at the Congregational Church on North Woodward avenue, with all women in the area urged to attend.

Mrs. Newell Allen, president, who recently heard Mrs. Baker lecture, commented that "She is a very forceful speaker and we are fortunate in having her."

Contributions of clothing, money or materials will aid villagers in Greece, Austria, Korea and Japan. Cash contributions will buy seed, household equipment and clothing, and a spokesman said they will be especially grateful for children's or men's used wearing apparel.

Cochairmen of tomorrow's Harvest Dinner at Embury Methodist Church, open to the public, will be Mrs. Lee Weldon and Mrs. Roy Smith. The roast beef meal will be served from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and tickets may still be secured from Mrs. William Lomas.

"We have just let the general contract to Llew Larson of Detroit," said Carl Barton yesterday with reference to the four new stores which will be erected on his East Maple property near Hunter and immediately west of the Kroger store.

Work will begin immediately, he said, and the stores leased in time for a probable February opening date. Other contracts went to Lloyd S. Thornton & Co., local plumbing contractor, and to Duesske & Heckinger, who will handle electrical installations.

Cancer Society Spurs Research

Name Three Committees to Investigate Methods of Speeding Controls

NEW YORK (INS)—The American Cancer Society has announced the appointment of three committees of scientists to ascertain where cancer research stands and to speed control of the disease.

Mefford Runyon, executive vice-president of the Society, said the committees are to reappraise three specific areas of research in relation to the advances made over the past 10 years since the society went to the public for funds.

The areas to be covered in the reappraisal are:

1. Where does medical science in its search for more effective control of cancer stand today?

2. Are forms of research support to scientists and institutions from funds contributed by the public sufficiently broad and flexible to assure maximum progress? Also, does this support provide for enlistment and maintaining the most most imaginative and creative brains in the cancer field?

3. An advisory committee to do research in lung cancer, whose single purpose will be to concentrate its scientific knowledge on this one site alone.

Triple Killing Suspect to Undergo Lie Test

CHICAGO (INS)—A 30-year-old man will be given a lie test today in connection with the slaying of three Chicago boys.

He is Ed Kline who was seized Monday in a deserted Wisconsin farm house along with Charles Driscoll, 19, for investigation in the slayings of Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11.

Driscoll was cleared after taking a lie test yesterday. Kline, too nervous to be given the polygraph test, will undergo more questioning before taking a test.

Few clues have turned up for the slayers of the boys who vanished Oct. 16. Two days later their nude and battered bodies were found in Robinson's Woods, a forest preserve west of Chicago.

Dog Proves Impartial in Row Over Custody

NEW YORK (INS)—Myra Glick and Alfred Donofrio both claimed the little fox terrier as their own. So Brooklyn Municipal Justice Murray Feiden let the dog decide for himself.

The dog, known either as King Boots or Heshy, trotted into court, licked the hands of Mrs. Glick, Donofrio, a few total strangers and then started for Justice Feiden.

The judge awarded the dog to Mrs. Glick on the basis of other evidence.

Detroit Fagin Convicted of Mail Theft Charges

DETROIT (AP)—A man described by police as a "Fagin who taught boys how to steal and cash checks taken from postal boxes" was found guilty of mail theft yesterday by a federal court jury.

Pat R. Rose, 27, of Detroit, was convicted after two boys, Stanley Wendell, 18, and a 16-year-old testified they gave most of the proceeds from checks to Rose after he coached them in forgery lessons.

Sentencing, which carries a maximum of five years imprisonment, was not set.

Middle East War Threat Worries Big 3 at Geneva

Although not on the Geneva agenda, the threat of war in the Middle East is insistent in its demand for attention of the Big Four Foreign Ministers.

The new crisis overshadows momentarily at least, such agenda items as European security. It is born of repeated border clashes between Egyptian and Israeli forces and the willingness of the Communist world to supply arms to the Arab states.

From the start it was clear that when Egypt's Premier Nasser made the deal to get arms from Czechoslovakia, peace in the Middle East was threatened. Obviously, the Egyptians and Arabs couldn't see that they were starting an arms race or that for the first time they were letting Russia get its foot in the Middle East door.

Incidentally, the manner in which the U.S.S.R. has been stirring up trouble in the Middle East is the most flagrant violation yet of the so-called Geneva spirit. If the Kremlin really desired relaxation of tension, it never would have permitted the Czech-Egyptian arms deal.

Back in May 1950, the Western Big Three jointly declared their unalterable opposition to the use or threat of force between any of the states in the Middle East. Should the Big Three governments find any of these states preparing to violate the territory of another, they, under the terms of the 1950 declaration, would take immediate action both inside and outside the United Nations to prevent such violation.

Latest report is that the Western Foreign Ministers are ready to reaffirm the 1950 declaration. Repeated violations and threats of force suggest they also must be ready to implement it.

Progress in Philippines

Not all news from Asia is bad, as witness the fine progress being made by the government of President MAGSAYSAY in the Philippines.

When he took office he was faced by many difficult problems, including bitter dissension, defeatism and corruption. It is good to know that as a result of the manner in which he approached those problems, his administration has gained in prestige and public support.

An important milestone was the passage of MAGSAYSAY's land reform law. This enabled him to break up large estates and distribute the land to tenant farmers and landless workers. In 1954 the Congress had enacted the Agricultural Tenancy Act under which greater protection was extended to tenants.

In another important federal operation the government has pursued a policy of easier credit and expert assistance for farmers. The objective is rescue of agriculture from poverty and hopelessness.

Other things reflecting credit on the Magaysay administration include its support of measures to build schools and improve public health and social welfare. He also has encouraged collective bargaining and expansion of industrial production.

By his support of the people's interest, MAGSAYSAY has given the Filipinos new hope and confidence in their ability to solve their own problems in a democratic way. This is a truly noteworthy achievement in so young a nation.

One cause of a great deal of dissatisfaction in the world is not liking to work and not being able to avoid it.

New Hope for La Prensa

From Argentina, so recently torn by revolt, have come indications that there is hope for the return of the newspaper La Prensa to its rightful owner.

Ever since this famous newspaper was seized by the ousted Dictator PERON it has been Argentina's symbol of press freedom destroyed. Immediately after the revolt Provisional President LONARDI said he would not take the newspaper out of the hands of the General Confederation of Labor on which PERON had bestowed it.

But now a more detailed and hopeful statement has come from the Inter-American Press Association. It quotes President LONARDI as telling reporters that the attitude of Publisher ALBERTO GAINZA PAZ was identical with that of the government.

Dr. GAINZA PAZ' attitude is that the courts should be allowed to rule on ownership. This means the new government will not stand in the way of an independent decision.

PERON's seizure of this influential daily because it rightly opposed his policies was approved by his rubber stamp Congress with a lot of legalistic hokum. The Argentine courts now can and we hope soon will clear the way for restoration of La Prensa to its proper owner, the distinguished and widely respected Dr. GAINZA PAZ.

It seems Los Angeles is trying to rob Philadelphia of the distinction of being the country's third largest city, and to steal Pittsburgh's reputation for being its murkiest city.

The Man About Town

Though in Macomb County, New City Only 9 Miles Away

Napkin: Nudist colony problem—where to tuck it.

The new city of Warren surely is our close neighbor. Its western limits are at Dequindre Road, the line between Oakland and Macomb counties. It will be the largest city in population in Macomb County, even larger than Mt. Clemens. Besides Detroit and Livonia, it is the only outside city that touches our borders. Northville and Fenton are the only villages that do likewise, one subdivision of the former even coming into our county. The city limits of Warren and Pontiac are only nine miles apart, which makes it closer geographically than many of the 17 other cities and 12 villages in Oakland County. Warren's area of 33½ square miles makes it the third largest in area in the state, topped only by Detroit and Livonia.

Sugar beets were formerly raised to a considerable extent in the Pontiac area, and Bernard Larrabee of Huron Gardens still produces them in king sizes, one weighing 21 pounds.

Finding a puffball in a woods near his home at Pontiac Lake, Horton McIlwain tells me it measured a yard wide and 18 inches high. He visualized a mushroom feast, but it was so old that the inside had spoiled.

Garden irrigation and fertilization surely paid out for Henry Lincoln of Birmingham, who raised a squash that weighed 63 pounds. It is 30 inches long and 58 inches round.

Again local chairman for the national safe driving day, Clyde R. Haskell feels that every day between now and its observance on Dec. 1 should be a "rehearsal" day.

Supervisor of Troy Township, Norman R. Barnard, feels that his area is getting a lot of publicity, most of which is good.

The magnificent appearance of the fresh lawn in front of our new city hall is attracting the admiration of everybody who goes that way. Pontiac's director of Parks and Recreation, David R. Ewalt, and his helpers surely know how to make grass grow in a hurry.

Local Republicans seem quite unanimous in their approval of the "Stick With Ike" slogan that was the keynote of many dinners honoring his birthday.

Pontiac baseball fans feel happy that Freddie Hutchinson

For Once the Grass Doesn't Look Greener

Can Congressional Committees Force Press to Tell Where It Gets the News?

WASHINGTON—Does a congressional committee have the right to conduct a hearing on what information the press gets from the government?

If so, then hasn't the committee also the right to ask the press how and where it gets its information about the government?

These questions become pertinent now because a subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations is about to begin hearings to find out how the government is issuing information to the press. Many prominent newspapermen have agreed to testify. Presumably they are willing to submit themselves to interrogation.

The same issue was discussed in 1953 when a New York newspaper editor was summoned before Sen. McCarthy's committee on government operations and was asked questions about the editorial he had written on public questions.

It was argued then by some observers that Congress had no right to interrogate newspapermen about what they write. The editor could, of course, have refused to answer and would have been within his rights, but he chose to answer all the questions. This, however, didn't end the controversy.

ISSUES EXAMINED

A special committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors was appointed to examine the issues. While its report did not find that freedom of the press had been infringed, some of the signers implied that it was bad practice for members of congressional committees to interrogate newspapermen on what they had written because such questions could lead to intimidation.

The American Civil Liberties Union, on the other hand, went further and in its annual report in 1953 said:

"No legislature has any right even to 'expose' anything which is not pertinent to constitutionally permissible legislation, just as the executive and the judiciary have no right to exceed their respective constitutional powers."

This correspondent pointed out at the time that Congress had a right to consider even the repeal of the Bill of Rights if it liked, as it would be within the legislative function of either house to seek information designed to assist members in deciding whether repeal or amendments were necessary. The Constitution says Congress "shall make no law abridging the freedom of the press," but the truth is, Congress has made several laws curtailing the rights of the press and the Supreme Court has upheld those laws.

DATA FORCED OUT

Thus newspapermen are periodically forced to disclose their ownership data and presumably could be forced to disclose other pertinent facts such as the sources from which they get information if the Supreme Court decided it that way.

Likewise a newspaper plant can be shut down altogether, as happened in the New York strike a couple years ago. It was a federal law which permitted various unions then to band together to boycott the operations and shut down the newspaper. Though freedom of the press was abridged, the Department of Justice held that no civil liberties were involved.

Tragic, that our youngsters prefer the cocktail-bar to the badminton-court. Are we nationally psychopathic, that we urge our young people to watch the game rather than joyously play it? For this is what public schools do today. Even if "varsity" football is good training for some of the growing high school boys who play the game, it is not good, indeed I

So, when Congress starts out to ask questions about how the government furnishes information to the press, it has the correlative right to ask the press to disclose their news relationships with the government.

Not long ago a New York newspaper scooped everybody by printing Gen. Ridgway's letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson about the problems of the Army. This letter leaked out somehow and the criticism now is that the other papers weren't given the information at the same time and that it was classified by the Defense Department as undesirable for release. But a newspaperman's enterprise did get it. This is one of the items under study by the House committee.

CRITICISM EXPECTED

The hearings' before the house subcommittee will see many prominent newspapermen testifying about how news is denied them. The criticism is that the present and past administrations have not opened up enough. Of course they don't release everything the newspapers would like to get. Most officials like to give out the good news, and withhold the bad when it damages the incumbent administration politically. But an alert and energetic press feels no such inhibitions.

The newspaper editors who decided to testify have done so with the commendable idea that they will be helping to get more information out of the government. They also, however, are establishing a precedent which says a congressional committee has a right to investigate what the press does with the information handed to the press—whether it is presented fairly or unfairly in the newspapers, and a lot of related questions.

Those who feel, on the other hand, that Congress has always had that right will be glad to see the editors testifying because it tends to confirm the right of congressional committees at any time to investigate the operations of the press.

You Must Prepare Early for Vigorous Life Past 40

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Aging is a part of living. It is as difficult to grow from maturity to senescence as it was to grow from childhood through adolescence. "Member the pains?"

The process of growing old must be just that—growing. Not just getting old. The seeds you plant in your garden will grow only if you tend them, giving space, food, water, cultivation, daily care. Now the garden will continue changing without this care; it will get older, dryer, rank, shriveled, overcome with weeds, and finally wither into decay. And so will you.

The individual who hopes to reap a harvest in his second forty years—and this is the hope he should have—will prepare for it accordingly. Here we are speaking of physical, emotional, spiritual harvests. Financial harvests we'll leave to the experts.

Growing older productively calls first for maintaining physical vigor. You will accordingly develop a physical sport, skill, which you can practice daily throughout your later years. This game, skill, should be one that takes you out of doors and among friends. This is the first obligation of the aging. (Second forty years).

NATION OF FANS

Since we are a nation of spectators rather than players, most of us have neglected this vital need. We have been so occupied following our favorite team, rooting for the varsity, betting on the all-stars, cheering in the grandstand, we have all but lost our national health in the process.

The blame, perhaps, should go to the educators. For only recently are they beginning to admit what a fine mess we have got ourselves into because of our hysterical devotion to the stadium.

Fatigue enough that the senior citizen must do nothing better than sit watching life go by, fearful to move lest death overtake him.

Tragic, that our youngsters prefer the cocktail-bar to the badminton-court. Are we nationally psychopathic, that we urge our young people to watch the game rather than joyously play it? For this is what public schools do today. Even if "varsity" football is good training for some of the growing high school boys who play the game, it is not good, indeed I

Support Press Article on Reformation Sunday

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The article in the Press Oct. 29 about Reformation Sunday is excellent, and one that our churches today might give heed to.

Outwardly we honor the day as Reformation Sunday, but inwardly it doesn't mean much with Gospel preaching churches doing all they can to keep in fellowship with Modernism and Apostasy.

We need the 20th century house-cleaning today to stop this covering up the Satanic fellowship with Modernism and tell people the truth.

The American Council of Christian Churches takes the Scriptural position on separation, and when men like Dr. Carl McIntyre and Dr. T. T. Ketchum stand up and fight for separation from foul church practices and Apostasy, they can always look for character assassins to use smear tactics in any form along with lies, to avoid the truth that is being uncovered. Dr. Charles Spurgeon said, "As soon as I saw or thought I saw, what error had become firmly established, I did not deliberate, but quit the body at once. I have felt that no protest could be equal to that of distinct separation."

This is the position of the A.C.C.C. and the reason for the present mud slinging on the part of individuals and churches who do not belong to the council.

Such trash belongs to children retarded mentally, and not to people who are supposed to have common sense to look on both sides of a question, not just what some denomination thinks about it.

New King of the Giveaway Suffers With Contestants

NEW YORK (U)—Giving away money can be almost as exciting as winning it.

Jack Barry says he gets all stirred up inside when he dishes out the big dough, even though it comes out of a sponsor's pocket and not his own.

Barry, master of ceremonies on the new NBC $100,000 giveaway show, "The Big Surprise," on occasion has found that a question can become as big an ordeal to him as it is to the contestant.

"The tension builds up in you," he remarked, "because you sometimes get as deeply involved emotionally with the contestants in the 20 minutes you deal with them as you would if you had known them for 20 years."

"When they win, a wave of excitement hits you, too; a feeling which lasts until you suddenly realize it is really somebody else who won the money and not you."

However, Barry can console himself with the thought that after all he doesn't have to borrow money to meet his grocery bill. TV emcees aren't paid off in peanuts. And right now, Barry is riding high financially as the new king of the giveaway, a position he seems likely to hold until someone dreams up a program on which the sponsor will reward the winning contestant with the key to Ft. Knox.

In addition to acting as little shepherd of the $100,000 prize, Jack also serves as producer and emcee for three other programs—"Life Begins at 80," "Juvenile Jury," and "Winky Dink and You." Whether you're just learning to talk or are living on borrowed time, Jack has a question to ask you on a program tailored to your age level.

Barry is typical of the new type of television emcee, who is brightly eager to shower you with cash if you can show your head holds even the smallest nugget of knowledge.

The old-style emcee often had a different aim—to see that only a certain amount of the sponsor's money was given away. Sometimes they had it neatly figured out just how often they wanted the jackpot won. And if a particularly bright contestant threatened to upset their financial schedule they had a number of sure-fire ways to see he didn't hit the jackpot.

One was the filibuster technique. The emcee would confuse a contestant by rapid-fire chatter until the gong rang ending his time to answer the question.

There was also the "soft-death" approach. "Remember you have just 30 seconds. You now have just 15 seconds. Oooh, there's the gong. Sorry, your time is up."

And, of course, the emcee always had one final ace up his sleeve—the impossible question, one that would stump even a Greek oracle.

Barry says the attitude on the new huge giveaway program is just the opposite.

"They've found out that the money is less important than the good will of the audience," he said. "The more money we give away, the happier people will be, the more they'll watch the show and the more they'll buy the sponsor's product."

Barry also pointed out that the method of picking contestants also has changed.

"Instead of grabbing anybody who wanders into the studio with an out-of-town accent," he said, "an effort is made to find people who are both deserving and interesting. And the questions they are asked are questions they can answer with luck, brains and memory."

He didn't explain why anybody who had luck, brains and memory needed to appear on a giveaway program to make a fortune.

Pedometer Method May Prod Oldsters Into Getting Enough Walking Exercise

Mrs. Crane's father will soon be 93, but we have had to prod him into more walking. For he spent too much time in front of his TV set, so his muscles began to get weaker. If you are past 65, then use the pedometer method outlined below to keep your muscles stronger. It is fun, too. And you can develop some friendly rivalry comparing scores.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case P-338: Eli Miller, aged almost 93, is my father-in-law.

He lives alone, except for his bird dog, in the farmhouse on our little farm in Indiana.

Previously I have described his having cancer of the bowels when he was 72, but it was burned out by electric fulguration while he lived in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

"Dr. Crane, I appreciate your mentioning your father-in-law," a prominent surgeon of Beaver, Pennsylvania, recently told me after I had addressed the Beaver County Medical Society.

"For I cite his case to my own patients who are unduly terrified about cancer."

"The fact that he is still well and fairly active more than 20 years after the diagnosis of cancer, greatly reassures my cancer patients. So I want to thank you for mentioning his case in your psychology column."

BEWARE ATROPHY

But my chief reason for again calling attention to Mrs. Crane's father, is to warn you elderly folks against too much sitting in easy chairs.

Mrs. Crane and I decided it would brighten his days if we gave him a TV set on his 90th birthday, and it did.

But it also caused him to grow more wobbly on his feet, for we found that he sat in front of the TV set most of the day and half the night.

That cut down on his walking. His muscles then began to atrophy. They grew smaller in size and thus weaker.

For, if you don't exercise as much today as you did yesterday, you will actually become feeble. And if you continue sitting still most of the time, you will be more wobbly and uncertain on your feet.

Ultimately, you will not only need a cane or crutch, but you may be too weak to rise out of a chair. You no longer can get upon your unaided feet.

PROD YOUR WALKING

Walking is good exercise for elderly folks, but they must either prod themselves or be prodded by relatives and nurses. Otherwise, they take the line of least resistance and sit still.

So I suggested to Mrs. Crane that we prod her dad into more walking.

"We can do that in summer when he goes fishing with you," she added, "for then he walks a couple of city blocks around the lake.

"But what can we do when he is alone in the winter and nobody is here to prod him?"

We debated the problem for a time, then hit upon this idea. In fact, I got it from seeing an advertisement for a pedometer on the side of a box of cereal.

For the ad on the box stated that with the box cap and 50 cents you could send in to this cereal manufacturer and get a pedometer. A pedometer is a little gadget that registers how far you walk. You can fasten it to the body and each time you step, it records that fact.

By adjusting it to the length of your usual step, you will then cause it to record whether you walk a half mile per day or maybe five miles.

"Let's get that for Dad," I suggested to her. "Then we'll tell him he must walk around the house or around the driveway outside until the pedometer registers at least half a mile per day. And maybe we can get him up to a full mile of hobbling each day."

So we have adopted this strategy, for the pedometer is a better index than his own statement. Often he tells us he walks, but he doesn't do as much of it as he thinks—unless he is prodded. So we are prodding him. In fact, most of us have to be prodded all our lives to do what is good for ourselves.

So try this pedometer idea and see if it doesn't add more zest to your daily walking.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send him your psychological charts and pamphlets.

Do You Have Any 'G' Sense?

Inertia—The Killer in Car Crashes

The following article by a Nebraska traffic expert does not present a pretty picture of what can happen to you behind the wheel of an auto driven carelessly. But a better understanding of the forces involved in speeding on a highway may save your life.

By HARRY HATCHER

OMAHA, Neb. (INS)—It is a felony, as we all know, to bang our own children's heads against a brick wall. Yet, for many years, parents have been throwing their kids against the hard dashboards and windshields of autos.

Not many people realize that this force which jerks them forward is partly generated within their own bodies . . . a force called inertia. And the law of physics says it is the force which keeps an object still when it is still, and moving when it is moving.

Now we can see the reason why a driver sometimes lives through an accident and the passenger doesn't.

The driver can partly control the inertia by being ready for it and bracing himself. The seat beside the driver is as deadly as the electric chair . . . the difference being that those criminally condemned can die easily by electrical or chemical means. Those who die in traffic, die the hard way . . . mechanically.

ALL INJURIES

Injuries in crash stops result in broken necks, crushed skulls, ruptured kidneys, livers, lungs, and hearts, with intestines shoved through the diaphragm into the lung cavity . . . and even decapitations.

Sometimes in this mechanical cyclone which develops in a high speed, head-on crash, the driver's spine is not crushed, but the driver is dead. Why? He beat himself to death against the wheel and windshield. No inertia control. Let's take a closer look at the forces which are generated in such a crash.

"G" is a symbol representing a certain amount of weight, or force. It is the pull of gravity on any object, and one "G" is equal to the weight of the object lying still.

KNOW THE "G'S"

When you sit in a chair, the pull holding you in the chair is one G . . . 150 pounds, if that is your weight; 200 pounds, if that is your weight. And you must use that much force to get out of the chair . . . to equalize the pull force.

When you crash into another auto you decelerate rapidly and develop more than the usual one-G force. You can develop 5 or 10 G's and if you weigh 150 pounds, 5-G's means you have to use a force of 750 pounds to stay in the seat. At 10-G's, this becomes 1,500 pounds of force yanking you into the windshield. A 10-G crash means a force 10 times greater than your weight against you.

Under these conditions all car structures and all persons inside are subjected to this stress. The 100 pound seat is yanked loose by a force of 1,000 pounds. Safety Belts are made to hold a 3,000 pound pull . . . or 20-G's for a person weighing 150 pounds.

Of course, if you're going to insist on 20-G crashes, you better get a safety belt, shoulder harness, crash helmet and a specially built car.

G forces also develop by circular motion . . . when a car turns a corner centrifugal force pulls on both the car and the occupants. The direction of this pull is along the radius of the turn and if, in a crash you turn in a partial circle with a radius of 5 feet at 30 miles per hour, the force will be 12 G's. This means 1,800 pounds pull against a 150 pound person. Can you resist a pull of nearly one ton?

This is the one thing the ordinary motorist finds hard to believe. A strong man can't visualize this invisible force which can pull him from behind his wheel. Ask him . . . can he lift a one-ton weight?

FOR EXAMPLE

We don't have this G sense because we have been sitting so long under a one-G pull, we can't be-

Back in Clothes Again

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Eugene Stone returned to his home to find that thieves had stolen all his clothing — didn't even leave a change of socks. Friends gave him a shower of clothing—enough ready to wear for a change and money to select some others.

Never Saw a Spring?

ENNIS, Tex. (AP)—R. L. Sparkman, 99, says times have changed. When he went to college, students had to bring along their own feather beds.

Nagging Backache Sleepless Nights

Nagging backache, headache, or shoulder aches and pains may come on with one common cause: tension. It's a day-to-day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation, and by their midlife crisis, they're suffering from it. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Don't's Pills often help by their pain relieving effect. They're soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys, they're tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel tired and worn out, with restless, sleepless nights—don't wait—try Don't's Pills. You'll get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 10 years. Get Don't's Pills today!

believe that a similar pull is possible in the other direction, out of your seat. These G's are figured by the speed, the weight of the object, and the speed with which all this decelerates.

Let's assume when the body strikes the dash, it stops within 2 inches . . . due to the crushing of the dash and the head. This means a change from 30 miles per hour to zero miles per hour in just 2 inches. This terrific deceleration means a force of 178 G's or 26,700 pounds. Can you survive a force of five tons against your skull?

As a passenger, it is your business if you want to commit mechanical suicide by taking an overdose of G's. The same cannot be said of you as a driver. When you sit at the controls of a car, your business is everybody's business. What you do is of great concern to your passengers, other motorists and pedestrians.

Once you permit yourself to be tossed about by too many G's, their lives are in jeopardy, as well as your own. Get some G sense . . . and live.

Patients Use Profits of Own Sundry Store

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Patients at the Southwest Florida Tuberculosis Hospital operate their own sundry store and get the benefit of all the profits.

The profits have been used to buy two television sets and a movie screen for the wards, to set up an emergency fund for needy patients, to provide fare home for some discharged patients, and to supply items from the store to patients who can't pay and can't work.

Those who have no resources but can work operate the store, handle the mobile cart used for the convenience of the bedridden, and care for vending machines. They get enough to be able to get necessities and some luxuries from the store.

The store is a project of the Patients Executive Council, backed by hospital authorities.

Didn't Get the Word

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Failure to keep his two juvenile partners in crime informed caused the downfall of a modern Fagin. He did not tell the youngsters where he stole the tires he wanted them to sell for him. Police were called in when the boys tried to sell the tires to the same firm from which they were stolen.

AMERICAN FOLK LORE—4

Tufty Top — A Farm Legend

You know what a scarecrow is — the straw man standing in the fields wearing a ragged suit, battered hat and big shapeless gloves. His job is to stand guard on the farm and wave his arms at the passing crows who want to sweep down into the corn rows and carry away the freshly planted grain.

When the last crops are in and it is Harvest Home Time, Tufty Top — as the scarecrow is sometimes called — is more ragged than ever.

The tale is told that this is the time the tall fellow hops down from his supporting pole, fishes a pipe out of a ragged pocket, sticks it in his mouth and begins to puff. Then, by the light of the moon, he capers and dances about the empty fields until dawn.

Next morning he is standing in his usual place, his rags flopping in the autumn wind.

Paste this picture on cereal box cardboard. Cut out the separate parts and put them together with brass fasteners or bent pins. Then you can bend him into all sorts of funny poses. Cut a slit in his mouth and insert the pipe. How do you like Mr. Tufty Top now?

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (INS)—Trouble with these blinkin' Americans is they don't understand their own blinkin' language.

Dem Candidate Has Farm Date

Nominee to Speak at Plowing Contest Next September; Invite GOP

NEWTON, Iowa (U)—One of the major farm speeches of the 1956 Democratic candidate for the presidency has already been set up.

It will be at the National Field Days and National Plowing Matches to be held near Newton Sept. 20-22 next year.

The Republican Party also has been invited to send its 1956 nominee and prospects are good for an acceptance.

The word came today from J. Merrill Anderson, Newton, Chairman of the 1956 Field Days and National Plowing Matches.

The event annually draws crowd of 100,000 or more. In 1952 President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson, the Democrat nominee, both made major farm speeches at the National Plowing Match at Kasson, Minn. In 1948 President Truman addressed the event at Dexter, Iowa.

Anderson said he had received definite confirmation from Jake More, Iowa Democratic chairman, that the Democratic nominee will be scheduled for the event with a definite day and time to be fixed as soon as the national convention is over. The plowing match itself will be held Saturday, Sept. 22, 1956.

Don Pierson, Iowa Republican chairman, said he has talked to National GOP Chairman Leonard Hall about the Republican candidate's appearance and expects confirmation soon.

Identical invitations were sent to both major political parties.

Detroit Polio Cut in Half

DETROIT (U)—Polio cases reported in Detroit in the first 10 months of the year were less than half the number reported in the similar 1954 period, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner, reported Tuesday. Through Oct. 30 there were 246 cases and three deaths reported to the Health Department, he said.

The total compares with 503 cases and 23 deaths for the same period last year. Twenty-one per cent of the 1955 victims suffered paralysis, Dr. Molner said.

Nocturnal Thieves Steal $25,000 Worth of Coffee

DETROIT (U)—If they can find somewhere to hide it, the habits of Detroit's underworld should have enough coffee on hand to supply them with hot java this winter — and for several more to come.

Thieves stole a truck-trailer from a cartage firm's loading dock last night. It contained 1,000 cases of instant and ground coffee valued at $25,000.

McCarthy Asks NLRB Probe

Tells Senate Committee He Has Uncovered Red Cell in Federal Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) wants the Senate Investigations subcommittee he once headed to undertake an immediate probe of the National Labor Relations Board, already under study by a House group.

"I have succeeded in uncovering facts which, if true, establish the existence of a currently functioning Communist cell" in the NLRB, McCarthy wrote Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), present head of the subcommittee.

McCarthy made his letter public late yesterday. McClellan was out of the city, and there was no indication what stand he would take.

Acting NLRB Chairman Philip Ray Rodgers declined immediate comment.

McCarthy referred only indirectly to long-pending plans of the House Committee on Un-American Activities for a January hearing on alleged Communist infiltration in government, which Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) has said would include the NLRB.

But McCarthy added: "The present situation appears to be so critical that, in my opinion, the Senate investigations subcommittee must immediately undertake an inquiry of the facts I am prepared to present."

He named no names. McCarthy said the evidence he had obtained "reflects not only upon the past Democrat administrations of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman but also upon the present administration of Mr. Eisenhower."

"Both parties stand to be embarrassed by an expose of the NLRB situation," he wrote McClellan.

Dad Loses Stork Race

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Birchfield, 24, jammed on his car brakes, told two rookie policemen his wife Opal, 22, was about to become a mother, and asked for help. One patrolman slid behind the wheel of his car, the other Birchfield's wife to assist her and hopped into the back seat with the three sped away, leaving the expectant father standing on the street. Mrs. Birchfield beat the stork to the hospital, but papa didn't. He arrived later via police scout car just in time to see his new daughter.

Michigan and Ohio at Odds on Axle Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michigan and Ohio, seeking to negotiate a new reciprocity pact for motor vehicles, were wide apart on a possible settlement today. Robert L. Moulton, chairman of the Ohio Reciprocity Board, said he had seen Michigan's latest proposal to exempt that state's trucks from Ohio's axle mile tax. The Michigan proposal was "diametrically opposed" to Ohio's, he said. Ohio wants out-of-state truckers as well as its own to pay the axle tax for use of Ohio's highways. John H. McCarthy, who was in Columbus yesterday, did not show up for a meeting of the Ohio Reciprocity Board. McCarthy is chairman of the Michigan Reciprocity Board. Moulton quoted McCarthy as saying he understood Ohio's position, and Ohio understood his, so there was no reason to meet.

That's Just Waste

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Judge Denny ruled pouring a bottle of beer over your wife's head isn't enough grounds for divorce. He told a complaining witness she'd have to produce better evidence of cruelty.

Taffy Tuttle's Witticisms Saved for "Prosperity"

About the only female who can tell you everything that's in her bag is a lady kangaroo.—Louis L'Amour.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Taffy Tuttle, a gal we invented some years ago, suddenly finds herself in literature—"preserved for prosperity," as Taffy puts it.

"You mean 'posterity,' don't you, Taffy?" somebody said. "I mean 'prosperity,'" Taffy snorted, wiggling her waggle prettily. "Somebody's getting dough out of it."

That author of the common people, Joey Adams, has put some Taffisms in his book, "Strictly for Laughs." Taffy's the kind of girl who thinks money grows on he's, and if she writes a book, she'll call it her men-oira. Taffy, you see, isn't dumb. As she puts it, "I'm a girl with a lot of bride ideas," but, according to her, most men are dull—"They're about as exciting as one wrestler."

Taffy's a combination model and showgal. Her philosophies are chunks of wisdom we've picked up and pilfered.

But Taffy's no moron. Joey Adams has captured her when he reports how she was asked whether she knew a certain playgal.

"Not too well," Taffy admitted. "Only to talk about."

It's her conviction that, "Just because a fellow prefers blondes, doesn't make him a gentleman."

"What's that you have in your hand?" Taffy asked her roommate one night.

"I sleeping pill," was the answer. "Well don't wake it up," replied Taffy.

From all this you'll see that I have high regard for the girls who come to New York to make their fortunes. Taffy's quite appreciative of being elevated to fame in Joey's book and tried to show it recently when she met Adams and his wife. During a tete-a-tete, Taffy congratulated Mrs. Adams on her new gown.

"Thank you," said Mrs. Adams modestly.

"Between your gown and my new one, which one would you say is the prettier?" asked Taffy.

"Well," answered Mrs. Adams, "I prefer yours." After a decent pause, Mrs. Adams said, expectantly, "And which one would you prefer?"

"You're so much wiser than I am about it," answered Taffy, "so I prefer mine, too!"

Discarded Iceboxes Disappear in Hurry

HELENA, Mont. (U. S. M. A.)—Montana University inherited 300 iceboxes with a housing project and things got hot for several persons. The residents found it cheaper to use electric refrigeration and the boxes were junked. Montana law required junked iceboxes to be stripped of locks and catches. Parents got so hot about the boxes on the junk heap that MU President Carl McFarland posted a 24-hour guard over them. The problem melted away after the iceboxes were offered free to all takers. Within a couple days they were carted away. Hunters and fishermen wanted them to convert into meat smokers. Do-it-yourself addicts liked them for tool boxes.

Maine Pokey Converted Into Historical Museum

WISCASSET, Maine (U. S. M. A.)—Massive, granite-walled Lincoln County Jail, full of years but long empty of prisoners, has been converted from cooler to cultural shrine. The Lincoln County Cultural and Historical Assn. obtained the 1809 pokey for $1 by consent of this year's State Legislature, and fitted it up as a museum and repository of local historical material.

Sign Deceives Buyers: Mail Box or Dwelling

CORSICANA, Tex. (U. S. M. A.)—Kerr Cowan tells of a neighbor who decided to sell her house and hung a for sale sign on the mail box.

When Cowan saw her taking down the sign, he asked if she made a deal. "No," said the woman. "I'm just moving the sign. Seven people have stopped and wanted to buy the mail box."

Few Important Jobs

TOKYO—The number of women in responsible positions in Japan is still low compared with men. In the textile and weaving industries, for instance, it is only 5.6 per cent, and in the wholesale and retail industries 3.4 per cent. In the medical and welfare fields and in the service industry the figure is 12.8 per cent. Forty-one rivers in the United States serve as state boundaries.

Who's Loitering

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (U. S. M. A.)—Oklahoma City police arrested a 16-year-old youth for loitering—then got caught loitering themselves. Officers took the youth to the fingerprinting room, then momentarily forgot about him.

LEADING THE WAY—Footprints painted on sidewalks of New York's Times Square remind everyone it's cleanup time in the big city. The prints direct residents like this girl to the litter baskets for deposit of trash.

U.S. Breeding 'Gray Ghosts'

Pure-Bred Weimaraner Dog Ranks 12th, AKC Lists 6,193 in 1954

WASHINGTON—The silver-toned Weimaraner, called the "Gray Ghost" for the silent way it slips through a hunting field, now ranks 12th among America's purebred dogs. One Weimaraner guards the famed presidential farm at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The Gray Ghost last year produced 6,193 new registries with the American Kennel Club, thus jumping from 14th to 12th place.

It has been so rigidly controlled that it did not appear in the United States until 1929, the National Geographic Society says. Most American Weimaraners (pronounced vime-are-honors) descend from four brought over in 1898.

Until recently, puppies were bought even before they were born, by long lists of waiting customers. As a condition of sale, purchasers joined the Weimaraner Club of America and agreed to strict rules for safeguarding pure blood lines. Today many breeders still keep a tight lead on customers.

Where does such popularity lead? Straight to ruin, say the German breeders. For almost a century the band of Weimar Province noblemen who developed the Weimaraner held ownership to their own elite group.

Today in Germany no Weimaraner can be bred without permission from the national club. A special warden visits puppies at birth and selects the best half dozen. Six months later he returns and weeds out any others that show imperfections.

Much less severe, Americans nevertheless try hard to maintain the traits which the Germans bred into the dog. They aim for a dog that stalks big game, hunts birds, retrieves from water and withal serves as a loyal companion.

So far the Weimaraner has not distinguished itself in field trials with other hunters. Its defenders say this is because it hunts differently—close to the gunman. It has, however, begun to win honors against other breeds in obedience trials and bench shows.

About the size of English pointers, Weimaraners attract attention on the bench as much for their color as anything else. A few look definitely blue. Most appear gray.

Best Buick yet

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

IT COMES upon the heels of the most successful Buick in history—and beats it on every score.

In shimmering steel and solid sinew, it's Buick for 1956—and there's never been anything like it for pure automobile.

You get a good hint of what we mean when you take in the sweep-ahead styling of it—from the air-splitting prow of its V-front grille to the robust rake of its canted rear profile.

You get an even better hint when you open the doors and see the dazzle there—in the decorator fabrics and décors—in the jewel-like finish of the fittings—in the precisely shaped steering wheel and controls—in the rich new instrument panel with soft-padded top and glowing dials that detail your progress in changing colors.

But it's when you put this beauty to the city streets and the open highways that you learn the best of it.

Performance Without Parallel

A new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo* goes airplanes one better—steps up your getaway in normal driving without flooring the pedal to switch the pitch. But when you need that extra surge, it's there, instantly—and in extra abundance:

The might of big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines in every Series brings new record high power to all Buicks—ROADMASTER, SUPER, CENTURY, and the bedrock-priced SPECIAL. Yet this is such high-compression power, such dynamic driving power, such completely usable power at the rear wheels—the whole rear end has been endowed with extra brawn and heft and solidity to handle it.

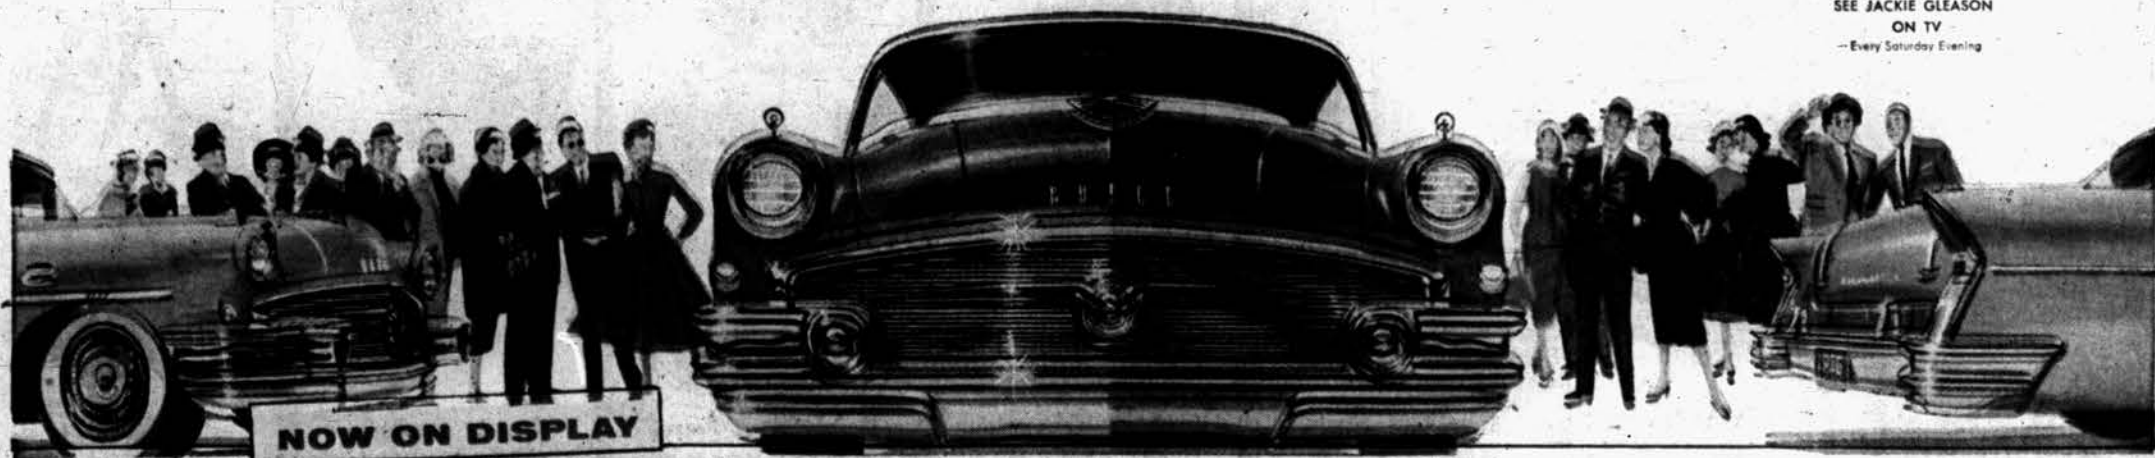

We could spread before you an acre of blueprints on the engineering gems that spark the spectacular performance, ride, handling and roadability of these great Buicks for 1956.

We could tell you about a new double-Y manifolding of the engine for more usable power. And about a brilliant new front-end geometry that adds a whole new "sense of direction" to the car's travel. And about massive new direct-action shock absorbers that move three times more oil to cushion your all-coil-spring ride that much more buoyantly.

But you can get the full and magnificent story right now, at our showroom, in a face-to-face meeting with the best Buicks yet—now on display, and setting a dazzling new pattern for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Bob Considine Says:

Now the World Knows 'Dave Is a---nsdfgb'

NEW YORK (INS) — Lovers of good prose, poetry fans, psychologists, psychiatrists, collectors of Rabelaisian phrasing and bad spelling, and ordinary busy-bodies have discovered a new outdoor library at 560 Fifth Ave. in this here city now.

This is the address of the Olivetti people, the Italian business machine and typewriter company that has made a bold and colorful invasion of the American market.

Mounted on a graceful green marble column, outside the show windows, is one of those light little Olivetti portables. It is exposed at waist-height to tens of thousands of daily passersby. An astounding number of people pause to tap out the thoughts, loves and rages possessing them at the moment.

First order of business around the Olivetti place each morning is to put the portable out and roll a fresh piece of paper into it. The man from Olivetti then disappears into his den of marble, poised machines and what-not, and the public takes over.

By some alchemy I haven't cracked he then learns when the paper has been filled. He quickly slips out, harvests the sometimes demented words, rolls in a fresh bit of paper and scurries off with the filled sheet to an officer of the company who will not say just what he is going to do with this strange crop.

THE BIG HEIST

I hope Signor Olivetti will pardon me. If it is indeed he who harbors this cache, but I stole the 11 a.m. sheet yesterday. Just walked up to the machine, pushed aside a poet who was looking heavenward in search of a time lambic, tore the paper out of the machine and headed north in a 1923 Pierce Arrow with drawn blinds and muffled oars.

I didn't trust myself to look at the sheet until we passed Yonkers. Then I ordered the foot-ped at the wheel to turn into De Russy's lane, and slowly scanned the page. Here goes, and please Mr. Printer, let it run as the peepul wrote it:

"Bernard Strauss, Brooklyn. Love is a many splendored thing. In the morning mist two lover's kissed and the world stood still. Love is nature's way of giving. Today is sort of windy and cool but I like it fine. Do You like this cool wether? Oop's I spelled wether wrong!"

Above this tender thought was, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid for te for the firsttime is has never been tis too late now." Might be at that.

On the other side of the sheet a girl named Madeline had tapped out her name and given her address as "000 Nothing Street, West Pacific Ocean." Then she wrote, "Now is the tie for allgi." Discouraged, she shifted gears into the red portion of the portable's ribbon and began "No is ty..." and apparently returned home. She may well have been a mermaid.

CONSCIENCE HURTS

A person who dozed through typing classes in school must have been struck with the knout of conscience. He or she wrote passionately:

"I wish to egin to practice all o er again wh ch means that I hav to start from the very beginning and practice exercises and all the very fir t things to require ac curicy my typing has been a farce, because I didn't c ncentrate on ac curicy instead of speed. This machine orks very good but I need a lot more practice in order to be come half way decent in myMr. & Mrs John J.S. Adfgattdur 7."

One sensed a lost romance elsewhere on the page. Lost romance and maybe not a clement parting:

Pooch Is a Big Help

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Dr. J.P. McDonough, a veterinarian, may be considering a course of treatment to make his own dog, Buffle, a bit more alert. Buffle snoozed soundly in the McDonough kitchen while four armed men broke in the house, roused McDonough and his wife and made off with cash, jewelry and four pistols.

And That's No Bull

BRADLEY, W.Va. (AP) — Mrs. Ruby Wilites, a nurse, spotted a doe in labor, and in the same field a Brahman bull coming on the run. Grabbing a board, the nurse fended off the bull until help arrived. The doe delivered two fawns.

Twitchy Chief Gives Speech From Ant Hill

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Elmer Jansen never made so many gestures during a speech before.

He was standing under a hot sun before a microphone at the police range speaking prior to issuing certificates to 51 police recruits who had finished their training.

He began swatting at his legs with his speech script. Then he batted his arms. Then his neck. His shoulder started itching. Finally he finished his talk and sat down.

Then he discovered he had been standing on top of a good sized ant hill.

Synthetic rubber plants built in the United States in World War II were capable of producing upwards of one million tons of rubber per year.

Board Refuses to Free Money for Planning of 2 State Structures

LANSING (P)—A legislative committee today called for an end run to get around a blockade erected by the State Administrative Board in the construction of two new state office buildings.

The State Office Building Committee, headed by Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), charged the Administrative Board's Finance Committee with an "unjustified" refusal to release funds for planning a new Supreme Court building and a skyscraper state office building behind the Capitol.

The Legislature previously had provided $20,000 to plan the court building and $85,000 to plan the office building. The lawmakers followed the usual procedure of leaving the money for the board to release when details were completed.

The Administrative Board refused to release money for the court building because one of its members, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, and the court are feuding over who shall occupy the building. The court wants the building to itself and the state law library and Kavanagh refuses to let the law library be moved away from proximity to his office.

State Treas. Sanford A. Brown and Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski said the board held up money for the office building because it thought its planning should be "synchronized" with the court building.

Hittle asked the Legislature to authorize his committee to go ahead and start the planning without the board's action.

Men's Hearts Broken as Liquor Is Smashed

NORWALK, Conn. (INS)—It's enough to break some men's hearts the way liquor is being destroyed in Norwalk.

Authorities said yesterday the recent flood may have contaminated the outside of the bottles so they have condemned great lots of liquor. So far a bulldozer has smashed $250,000 worth of the stuff and the total may reach $304,000 before the job is through.

Allegan 'Oil' Farm Sold by Ex-Actress Garbo

ALLEGAN (INS)—Former film star Greta Garbo may have missed out on a fortune when she sold a farm near Allegan to Louis Zellman.

Zellman said a test well on the land is bringing in 25 barrels of oil an hour and may touch off an oil boom.

The farm was willed to Miss Garbo by Edgar Donne, a 70-year-old immigrant, who had never seen her. Zellman bought the property in 1948.

OLA B. HILLER

Ex-School Official Given Radio Position

Former assistant principal at Pontiac High School, Miss Ola B. Hiller of Flint, was named regional director of the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters at a recent meeting in Chicago.

Miss Hiller taught mathematics at Eastern Junior High School from 1926 to 1928, when she went to Pontiac High to develop the radio workshop there. In 1942 she became assistant principal and held that position until 1947 when she went to Flint to become radio supervisor of the school system there.

Miss Hiller came to Pontiac from Almont. Previously she had taught in schools at East Tawas and Yale.

95 Pct. of State Pupils Get Federal Milk Plan

EAST LANSING (P)—More than twice as many Michigan schools as last year are participating today in the special federal milk program for schools.

Prof. Dale E. Butz of Michigan State University reported to the dairy manufacturers conference at MSU that Michigan now has more than 3,100 schools enrolled in the program, covering 90 to 95 per cent of the eligible children.

Prof. Butz said the students get the milk at a nominal fee and the schools receive substantial aid through the program.

"This project helps increase milk consumption and reduces the current surplus and also helps create future markets by giving children the milk habit early," he said.

Son Runs for Justice

GRAND LEDGE (P)—John Fitzgerald, son of the late Gov. Frank Fitzgerald, entered the race for justice of the peace at Grand Ledge Wednesday. The lawyer will face Russell Brunette, a local businessman, in a special election Dec. 13 to fill out a term expiring July 4, 1937. The vacancy was created when Justice E. E. Allen resigned for health reasons.

In addition to the special program of liturgical and Israeli folk songs, the congregation has invited Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of the Pontiac School System, to speak on "The Child—The Responsibility of Parents and Teachers."

Punctured Pants Attorney Wanting $75 in Restitution

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—In this corner, ladies and gentlemen, is petite, blonde capital secretary Geraldine Beers, needle and thread in hand. In that corner is Bureau of Revenue Attorney Louis Lujan, a pair of torn trousers in hand.

Lujan is seconded by Asst. Atty. Gen. Walter Kegal, acting as a private lawyer. Geraldine is seconded by her womanly prerogative to stand firm. And that's the setting for the case of the busted britches.

It began when Lujan was walking along a capital sidewalk one day recently and snagged his suit on the broken door handle of Geraldine's parked auto. He asked restitution. Geraldine stood pat. He called in Kegal who suggested Geraldine pay $75 and mentioned court action as a possible alternative.

Geraldine says she'll wield a needle and thread to patch the punctured pants but that's all. Lujan declined comment, saying he considered it a private matter which he had turned over to Kegal.

Motorists Save Girl

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A four-year-old girl owes her life today to two quick-acting motorists. State Police said yesterday when Linda Louise Rodgers fell into the 18-foot well at her nearby home, her mother hailed Charles Oliver and Juett Tackett. Oliver lowered Tackett into the well, where he pulled the unconscious child from the water. Then Oliver revived her with artificial respiration.

Flyer Cochran Seeks GOP Congress Post

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Alycia Jacqueline Cochran Odum, wife of financier Floyd Odum, will seek the Republican nomination for Congress from the 20th District next year.

Mrs. Odum authorized friends to announce her candidacy yesterday. She will seek the post now held by Rep. John Phillips of Banning, Republican, who announced last week he will not seek another term. He has served since 1942.

The 20th District comprises Riverside and Imperial Counties.

Drinking Test Losers Play With Their Lives

MANILA (AP)—It was All Saints' Day.

In the Tubod village store south of Manila, Nivaldo Hernandez ran into the Aure brothers, Valencia, 24, and Ciraco, 20. An old feud flared anew.

They agreed to settle it by a drinking bout—the stake, their lives.

The drink was rum. In time, the Aure brothers slumped to the floor.

Then, witnesses said, Hernandez shot Valencia dead, stabbed Ciraco to death, and escaped.

Oklahoma Sees No School Rift

Integration of Students Presents Little Trouble to Supervisors

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—Integration is just a big word in the dictionary for children of a half dozen races and nationalities at the Lincoln Grade School.

The youngsters who frolic on the playground and walk arm-in-arm through the corridors apparently have shown no interest in the historic end this fall of segregation.

The school was one of those desegregating last month and Mrs. Nina Birkhead, the principal, said she was "almost disappointed" at the smoothness of integration.

LITTLE TROUBLE
"I had expected surely there would be a number of problems to work out," she commented today. The school has 48 Negro children among its 500 pupils. There are nearly 50 Indian and Mexican children, 3 German-born youngsters, 3 from the Philippines and one whose mother was a Japanese war bride.

Mrs. Birkhead said the Negro children have brought sunny spirits to the school. Original Lincoln School students, she said, "just opened up their arms and took everybody in." The children's acceptance of integration has been reflected in the school's parent teacher association. Five Negro mothers attended the first meeting and one was named hospitality chairman.

Suburbs Show Fastest Growth, Bureau Claims

WASHINGTON (U)—The Census Bureau said today that most of the nation's rapid population growth is taking place in suburban areas around big cities, and within metropolitan areas composed of smaller cities.

The report said that in the five years following the last general census taken in April, 1950, the nation's population grew by 11,800,000 and that 11,500,000 of this increase took place in the 168 metropolitan areas across the country.

Within the metropolitan areas, the rate of growth in the suburbs was 27.8 per cent—seven times as rapid as population growth within the central cities at the heart of the metropolitan areas. This continued a trend toward population growth in the suburbs going on since 1940, the Census Bureau said.

The population of metropolitan areas rose during the five years from 83,786,000 to 95,304,000. This was an increase of 13.7 per cent, while the population of the whole country increased by 7.9 per cent to 161,461,000. These figures took into only civilian population.

Automation Now in Auto-Making

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U)—Automation is moving in on that symbol of American manpower efficiency—the man.

Other huge machines that can dig and load six to eight tons of coal a minute are helping to revive the once ailing coal industry but they are cutting working crews in half.

Makers of electrical equipment and aircraft are eyeing automated machines like those Chrysler has installed in its semiautomated engine assembly line in Detroit.

MACHINES KEEP COMING
Labor, management and politicians argue whether automation will mean the loss of present jobs or, instead, creation of more jobs through a higher standard of living. And while they argue new marvels of automatic and semiautomated machines keep coming.

The Cross Co. of Detroit which installed the new machines on the Chrysler line estimates they save up to 25 per cent in assembly costs of engines. There are 150 workmen on the quarter-mile long line now turning out 150 V-8 engines an hour. On the old assembly lines it took 200 men to turn out that automobile assembly line.

The new Chrysler engine line has 280 operating stations—and at many stands there's a machine instead of a man. Cylinder blocks are fed into one end of the line by a machine, right cylinder heads at another point, left cylinder heads at a third. As these castings move along automatically, one engine part after another is added. At the end of the line completely assembled engines are removed for installation in new cars.

FORD HAS LINE
The Ford Motor Co.'s plant at Cleveland has a 500-foot automated production line for making engine blocks.

In some coal mines new monsters are moving in to replace older forms of mechanization. They are reported cutting work crews from 17 men to seven or eight.

Thanks in part to the steady trend toward mechanization in recent years which has held down the once fast-rising price of coal, the coal industry is pulling out of a bad slump.

In 1948 nearly 600 million tons of bituminous coal was mined, but this dropped to less than 400 million last year. The revival this year is putting output about 21 per cent above last year.

One of the big factors this year has been the growing demand of Europe for American coal to keep its steel mills going at a record pace.

L. C. Campbell, president of the National Coal Assn., hails production strides attending mechanization in the past 20 years and adds, "and the end is not in sight."

Nab Jackson Parole Violator, 3 Still Out

JACKSON (U)—Edward R. Mercer, 21, a Southern Michigan Prison inmate who escaped from a Springfield, Ky., County jail Thursday while being returned to Jackson by police, was recaptured yesterday.

Three who escaped with Mercer still are at large. They are Willie Asbury, Norman Britt and William Fields. All were parole violators. Prison officials said police at Jonesville, Pa., notified them Mercer had been picked up in that city on a charge of loitering.

The four, who had been placed in the Springfield jail overnight for safekeeping, worked a hole in the jail wall and carved their way out.

Two prison guards bringing the men to Jackson arrived at the prison yesterday with Earl Gregory, 31, another parole violator who refused to flee.

Grosse Pointe Named Head of Counselors

EAST LANSING (U)—Kenneth Cary of Pierce Junior High, Grosse Pointe, was elected head of the Michigan Counselors Association at the annual conference at Michigan State University.

Named as directors for the coming year were: Joan Brieve, Holland; Paul DeWitt, Niles; Ruth Boot, Paw Paw; John Storey, Wayne University, and Valdean Roth, Bay City.

U. of M. Doctor Says:

Teenagers Not Mature Enough for 'Steady Date'

ANN ARBOR (U)—A University of Michigan psychiatrist says most of today's teenagers not only are not ready for steady dating, but receive a "phony sophistication" from it which pushes them "into maturity long before they are ready for it."

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, chief of the children's service, Neuro-psychiatric Institute, told a parent education institute yesterday that the practice of dating early is a growing one.

"Many adolescents today require more direction than they are now receiving," said Dr. Rabinovitch. "It's evident in our clinical work."

Speaking of teenagers going steady, the doctor said "these 15 and 16 year olds, and sometimes younger, are in no sense mature enough for steady dating and there is a phony sophistication about many of their relationships."

ORGANIZATION AT FAULT
Pushing children into maturity is quite often the fault of parent organizations forcing "such activities as social dancing, steady dating and sophisticated parties into the school program," said the doctor.

"It would seem that old-fashioned moral values can stand re-stressing even at the price of appearing unsophisticated," said Dr. Rabinovitch. "To do less today is to offer our children a delinquent heritage."

Tracing the psychological needs of children from infancy to adolescence, Dr. Rabinovitch outlined them as follows:

"1. From birth to a year old... gratifying the one to one mother relationship... will allow the infant to develop a sense of relationship and trust."

"2. From 1 to 3 years old... opportunity for motor play and spontaneity in the second and third years will allow the child to develop a feeling of joy in his accomplishment in reaching out for life... the child should be curbed from doing some things, but not absolutely stopped from testing his new found powers."

"3. From 3 to 6 years old... opportunity for participation in warm family living, permeated by love, respect and integrity. Experiencing such a meaningful living situation within the family is the major ingredient of the child's sex education."

"4. During the elementary school years, the child must experience success and a feeling of accomplishment regardless of his level of intelligence or talent."

"5. In adolescence he needs stability with which to identify himself; clarity about his sexual role; job opportunities and the adult social world into which he had grown."

Urban and rural non-farm households jumped a million a year while down on the farm there was a drop of around 150,000 a year.

Bentley Staying in State Race

Gubernatorial Hopeful Won't Step Aside 'for Just Anybody'

MUSKEGON (U.P.)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley says he won't step aside "for just anybody," seeking the 1956 Republican nomination in the Michigan governor's race.

Bentley, Rep. Gerald Ford Jr. and Sen. Charles E. Potter attended a "Congress Report to You" meeting, sponsored by the Young Republicans of Muskegon County. About 150 persons heard their report Tuesday night.

"I will step aside if Mayor (Albert E.) Cobo (of Detroit) or Gerry Ford is a candidate for the nomination, but that doesn't mean I would step aside for just anybody. The Republican Party cannot afford the luxury of a primary fight," Bentley said in an interview.

Cobo, Bentley and Ford have been mentioned prominently as Republican candidates for Michigan governor. Rep. Ford insisted his nomination was "more of a possibility than a probability."

CITES SENTIMENT
"The possibility would become a probability if there were a unanimity of opinion among the Republicans and if there were a solidification of support behind me," he said. Ford added that sentiment in his district mostly favors his remaining in Congress.

Sen. Potter, commenting on other matters, predicted that Congress next year will pass the highway construction program proposed by President Eisenhower. Rep. Ruth Thompson of the Ninth District was unable to attend the meeting. Spokesman said she had just arrived in New York from a European tour as a member of a subcommittee.

Parents to Visit Hope

Interest on Loans Up

Afghanistan Seeking Western Weapons to Arm Borders Touching on Pakistan

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Egypt's political play between East and West is spreading. It has now reached the "crossroads of Asia," the primitive land of Afghanistan.

The Afghan ambassador in Egypt has told reporters that his country has asked the United States and Britain to sell it modern arms.

"If our application is turned down," he said, "we shall seek arms from Russia. We are free to buy arms anywhere we like to defend our country, particularly as neighbor Pakistan is threatening us constantly."

The Afghan blast against Pakistan is highly pleasing to the Egyptian military regime because of its own bitter objections to Moslem-Pakistan's joining the Baghdad Pact with Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Britain.

QUARREL OVER BORDER

The Afghan quarrel with Pakistan is over the bordering north-west frontier province of 39,239 square miles. The Kabul government wants a plebiscite held there and if possible a separate state of Pushtoonistan created in this famous area of the Khyber Pass and centuries of tribal wars.

Afghanistan itself lies between the Soviet Union and Pakistan, and also literally is on top of the world. About the size of the state of Texas and a population of some 12,000,000, its 250,000 square miles stretch across the lowering mountains ranges of central Asia, a vast land-locked plateau.

Ancient routes of commerce and conquest leading from the north and west converge there on the way to the Indian sub-continent. Over these routes through the centuries invading armies and tribes have forced their way into the rich lands farther south. Over those routes went Alexander the Great, Genghis Khan and Tamerlane.

Despite its geographic and economic isolation Afghanistan slowly has been emerging from its primitive state.

VISITORS WELCOME

Foreigners no longer are excluded, nor the modern inventions and techniques they had to offer.

The United States has gone to some pains to try to make friends in Kabul, or at least to counter the influence there of the neighboring Soviet Union.

But American support of Pakistan, with whom Afghanistan has been feuding for many months, has caused some coolness, although Washington has not taken any sides in the quarrel over the border.

It will be interesting to see how the United States policy-makers so committed to so many peoples, react to the Afghan request for arms.

Jack Webb Addresses Detroit's UF Officials

DETROIT (INS)—Television star Jack Webb and his wife were in Detroit Tuesday to address workers and officials of the city's 1953 United Foundation Torch Drive.

Webb, also an independent Hollywood producer, lauded the United Fund as a "blueprint for social action that no other city of any size can touch."

Three American Scientists Awarded Coveted Nobel Peace Prizes for 1953

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Three American scientists have won the 1953 Nobel Prizes in chemistry and physics.

Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud of Cornell Medical College will receive the $36,720 chemistry award for work on two hormones that help in childbirth and keep a check on vital organs like the kidneys.

The physics award goes jointly to Dr. Willis E. Lamb of Stanford University and Dr. Polykarp Kusch of Columbia University. They will split $36,720 for work in connection with atomic measurements. Their work corrected an error made by a Briton who previously won the Nobel prize.

The prizes, announced by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science, will be presented by King Gustaf Adolf here Dec. 10. The awards were created by the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

SPLIT HORMONE

Dr. du Vigneaud, born in Chicago 54 years ago, was the first scientist to take apart and put together a hormone produced by the pituitary gland. Nobel authorities described his work on the two substances — oxytocin and vasopressin — as "a historic feat in biochemistry."

Dr. du Vigneaud was a front runner for the 1953 Nobel Prize in medicine, awarded last month to Dr. Hugo Theorell, a Swedish authority on enzyme chemistry. Both these scientists have been among top candidates for many years. Their field of biochemistry borders between medicine and chemistry. Informants said the prize awarders decided to give the 1953 chemistry award to the American because 44 years had passed since a Swede received the medicine prize.

The work that won the physics prize for Dr. Lamb, 42, and Dr. Kusch, 44, was described by the academy as a major advance toward learning what goes on inside the atom. It enabled scientists to calculate correctly the properties of some of its component parts.

Expressing his pleasure in sharing the award with Dr. Kusch, Dr. Lamb said at Palo Alto, Calif.: "Polykarp Kusch is one of my oldest and dearest friends and it couldn't have happened to a nicer man." Dr. Lamb is a Los Angeles native.

Dr. Kusch was born in Blankenburg, Germany, and was taken to the United States when a year old. He became a U. S. citizen in 1922.

In 1947 the two scientists, after attacking the same problem from different angles, published papers proving that the energy level calculations for hydrogen atoms made by the 1933 physics winner, Dr. P. A. M. Dirac, did not agree with the experimental evidence.

Dr. Dirac won his prize "for the discovery of new fruitful forms of atomic theory." The theory known as Dirac Relativistic Wave Mechanics furnished directly a numerical value for the magnetic moment of the electron.

Dr. Kusch showed an inaccuracy of 0.1 per cent in the value. Dr. Lamb proved errors of about one ten-thousandth of the effect measured in the calculations of the spectral details of hydrogen on the basis of Dirac's formula.

What first appeared to be an onslaught on Dr. Dirac's theory came in the end to serve as its necessary complement in accurate calculation of central phenomena in the atom.

Experts say the rewarded results can properly be explained only in complicated mathematical symbols.

Dr. Lamb won his half of the prize "for his discoveries regarding the hyperfine structure of the hydrogen spectrum." Dr. Kusch got the other half "for the precision determination of the magnetic moment of the electron."

The Nobel Peace Prize will be awarded soon by the Norwegian Parliament.

Business Interest in Foreign Trade Subject of Government's Research

Two federal government researchers are conducting a survey on how interested Michigan business is in foreign trade.

They pointed out that with the St. Lawrence Seaway nearing completion it is becoming increasingly important that detailed facts are gathered.

Dr. Howard S. Piquet and Edward E. Martin, both of Washington, D. C., said here yesterday that results of the survey will be used by legislators in deciding how they will vote in Congress.

Both Michigan Senators and 12 Representatives asked the Library of Congress to make such a survey, the first state-wide inquiry of its kind, said Dr. Piquet, who is directing the fact-gathering.

He is a member of the legislative reference section of the Library of Congress, and Mr. Martin is a private consultant with the U. S. Tariff Commission.

Both men emphasized that the survey is an impartial one.

The Library of Congress is acting only as a research agency to help legislators, and its survey will favor neither those who are for foreign trade or those who oppose it, Dr. Piquet stated.

"Mr. Martin and I will only gather the factual material. It is up to businessmen to indicate their interest in foreign trade, and up to Congressmen to follow through in whatever way they see fit," he said.

Results of the survey will be compiled by means of questionnaires, Dr. Piquet said.

The questions seek to determine to what degree each company is affected by export or import trade, either directly or indirectly, favorably or unfavorably.

It also is asked what effect the St. Lawrence Seaway will have on each business in regard to imports, exports and competition with import goods.

Another question the survey seeks to answer is how many people in Michigan are employed in business that are affected by export-import trade.

Meeting with Rep. George S. Howes, a sufficient number of manufacturers answer the survey's questions.

Having made visits to Detroit and Saginaw for the same reason, Dr. Piquet plans meetings this week in Muskegon and Lansing before returning to Washington. He said this is the third trip he has made to Michigan since the survey was requested late in the spring.

Martin plans to remain in Michigan longer, making field trips to discuss the survey with leaders of mining and agriculture. He also intends to meet with a few representatives of retail business.

Mother Awaits Shooting Inquest

Texas Brunette Notifies Police She Shot Spouse to Save Daughter

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A striking brunette who declared she killed her new husband because he threatened to shoot her 5-year-old daughter and burn the body, awaited a preliminary hearing today.

She was Mrs. Canales Worden, 42, San Antonio, recently divorced from a Texas millionaire oilman-cattleman.

Texas rangers and other officers said she related that she dragged the body of Don Worden, 45, into the grave he had forced her to dig, then kept vigil the remainder of the day and all night.

TOLD THE RANGERS

She hunted up a Texas ranger, Zeno Smith, to tell her story. Smith, other rangers and Kingsville and San Antonio local officers said she told them:

She was divorced from Presides Canales, 52, of Premont, Tex., Aug. 3.

Already she and Worden had visited Bend, Ore., and bought an $87,000 motel there, making a down payment of $45,000.

About a month ago they were married, she first related. Then she said perhaps the marriage wasn't legal.

Between the time they met — he showed her and Canales a $40,000 San Antonio home which they bought — he got $30,000 cash, a $45,000 home and jewelry from her.

Oct. 22, he suggested a fishing trip to Padre Island. At an isolated spot, he produced a spade and at pistol point forced her to dig a grave.

REPORTS VARY

At this point, reports of officers vary somewhat.

Most reported he then announced he was going to kill Maria Teresa, 5, burn the body with some kerosene he had purchased en route, and bury whatever didn't burn.

The child screamed and ran. Worden turned to catch her and Mrs. Worden, an expert huntswoman, grabbed a second pistol from his belt and shot him. He fell to his knees and she shot him again. Then she dragged the body into the grave and covered it.

Bexar County (San Antonio) Chief Criminal Investigator Oscar Warnke said she told him Worden forced her to sign a will in his favor at the graveside, then announced he was going to kill both his wife and her daughter.

The morning after the shooting she drove to San Antonio, stopping en route to bury both pistols. Officers later recovered them.

The body was found last Saturday by two fishermen and was not identified until Mrs. Worden told her story.

Warnke said he found correspondence at the Worden home indicating Worden had taken out insurance on the child naming himself as beneficiary. He also quoted Mrs. Worden as saying Worden had asked her to make him the beneficiary of life insurance policies on her and her three children. In the divorce, she gained custody of the daughter, while Canales was awarded custody of two sons.

'Bandits' Broken Up

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The last of 666 slot machines, valued at $200,000, was reduced to rubble yesterday and sold to a scrap dealer for $332.50. City jail prisoners hammered the machines into junk after a court ordered them destroyed as gambling devices. The prisoners found $85.54 inside the "one-armed bandits."

Crofoot Playground Plan Explained by Co-ordinator

A plan for providing a hard-surfaced, all-weather, play and parking area on the Crofoot School grounds, approved last Sunday by the Pontiac Board of Education, was explained in detail today by Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, building co-ordinator.

A 112-by-290 foot area next to the school's retaining wall will be surfaced with asphalt and double gates put in leading from West Huron and Washington streets. The surfaced area will hold 92 cars for public parking during evening school activities.

"If the weather's right and more space is needed we could let cars park off the surfaced area," said Hutziger. (Only about a third of the playground area will be asphalted.) This would allow 255 to 250 cars in the whole area.

The asphalt will be lined to include four standard-size basketball courts and four elementary courts plus six volleyball courts and eight badminton courts. Some of them will overlap. Both Crofoot

3 Ex-Cell-O Plants Settle Local Issues

DETROIT (AP)—Local issues have been resolved between the Ex-Cell-O Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers at Traverse City and Lima and Fostoria, Ohio, the Federal Labor Conciliation Service announced last night.

But a walkout of 3,200 UAW members at the company's Detroit plant continued today.

The company and union reached a national agreement Oct. 14. It was reported to carry a layoff pay plan similar to that signed in recent months by the big three in the auto industry—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

However, the strike at the four plants continued pending settlement of local issues. The general walkout began Sept. 13 over a union demand for a contract clause covering work transferring from the plants.

Workers at the two Ohio plants are to vote on ratification today. Neither company nor union would comment on proposed wage rates.

Big Brother Organization Opening Offices Locally

An organization designed to aid and guide troubled boys has opened its first office at 15½ W. Lawrence St. here.

The Big Brother—of Oakland County, Inc., raised money in a campaign last summer to hire William L. Clark as executive director and rent the office, said president Jack P. White, of Birmingham.

Clark will work on a part time basis for the time being. He will be available at the office Tuesday and Thursday evenings plus Saturday afternoons. Clark, an experienced counselor and social worker, is employed regularly by the Family Service of Oakland County.

"We expect Clark to provide direction to what has been a concentrated, but not fully coordinated effort by our volunteer group," White explained.

The organization hopes to recruit more men "with common sense and a big heart who will take over the guidance of a troubled youth by becoming that boy's friend," he added.

Indict Five Los Angeles Policemen for Burglary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The county grand jury has indicted five west Los Angeles policemen on burglary charges.

Indicted were Lester M. Friday, 34, Encino; Charles H. Farnell, 32, El Segundo; Charles F. Brock, 31, Los Angeles; Elmer Bolsters, 30, Woodland Hills, and Frank Grossman, 32, Canoga Park. All are patrolmen except Grossman, a member of the vice squad.

They were arrested last Wednesday. Officers said thousands of dollars worth of articles were seized from them, including power mowers, cameras, movie projectors and sports clothes.

Albino Squirrel Has Owners Up a Tree

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A rare snow-white female squirrel has Albert Britt up a tree. He doesn't know what to name her.

"My wife is trying to name it 'Snowball,' like a cat or something," Britt said with a bit of scorn.

While the Britt's are trying to settle on a name, the bushy-tailed albino is living it up in a bird cage, dining on bread and nuts. She is released occasionally for a romp around the room with her master.

The white squirrel literally fell into this good fortune about five weeks ago. Britt was hunting when the animal, then a baby, fell from a tree.

He plans to keep her, reasoning she wouldn't survive long in the wilds with her tameness and conspicuous coat.

Doorbell Saves Family From Burning Home

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. David L. Francis and their three children, 18 months to eight years old, escaped from their burning home early yesterday, thanks to a freak short circuit which caused the door bell to ring and awaken them.

A faulty transformer was blamed for the blaze which caused damage estimated at "thousands of dollars."

UM Makes Bid for Safety Job

Asks Legislature to Foot Bill for Expanded Road Research Work

ANN ARBOR, U. S. — The University of Michigan, describing itself as "eminently qualified" to handle the job, has asked the Legislature to finance stepped-up research in highway safety and traffic control.

In a 20-page booklet released by the Engineering College Transportation Institute, the university said "common sense" dictates that the Legislature utilize its unique resources fully in solving transportation problems.

The Legislature now has before it a proposal to establish a traffic safety center at Michigan State University at a cost of $311,000 for the first year of operation.

The proposal is part of Gov. Williams' broad program of highway safety.

The institute's booklet indicated clearly the university feels it is better equipped to carry on research in highway safety than Michigan State.

"At no other university does there exist a superior facility for study, research and public service in the field of traffic and transportation," the booklet said.

"Other educational groups can play similar roles in the areas in which they are genuinely qualified," the institute said.

Dies an Odd Death

RICHMOND, Ky. — An Eastern Kentucky State College student, working on a float for the school's homecoming program Saturday, fell in the dark and drowned in a one-foot-deep creek last night. The body of Byron Brooks Hall, 20, Brookhead, was found in Dreaming Creek near the rear entrance of a garage where he had been working. Coroner Jack Turpin said a mark on the youth's head indicated he was knocked unconscious when he fell.

Worker Injured

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Crit Dameron, 62, was injured seriously yesterday when thrown from a city work truck while helping deliver equipment for a school safety demonstration.

Consider the Poor Mailmen

Summerfield Gives Hints to Ease Christmas Rush

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Chief Mailman Arthur E. Summerfield is offering a set of tips on how to mail your Christmas packages.

And he topped his advice with a "shop early-mail early" plea.

The Postmaster General says he expects to see the largest Christmas mail load in history this year. He announced last night that the nation's railroads have joined the department in the annual drive for early mailing, to promote speedier deliveries, through use of railroad station loud speakers, and through inclusion of this theme in railroad advertising copy and on dining car menus.

Postmasters throughout the country have been asked to work with their local newspapers and broadcasting outlets to push the idea.

Summerfield noted that all post-offices are giving free on request an illustrated pamphlet titled "packaging and wrapping and parcels for mailing." He said that right packing, right wrapping and right addressing are the three keys to easy and trouble-free Christmas mail.

He offered these suggestions:

1. Don't use flimsy, light cardboard and paper boxes for your Christmas mailings.
 2. Pick strong containers in good condition, of a size appropriate to the contents. Use cushioning material of two or more inches around your gift.
 3. Wrap the package properly, preferably in heavy brown paper, and tie with strong twine.
 4. Don't mark the wrapping with unnecessary wording such as "do not delay," or "rush."
 5. Address plainly and properly, using postal zone numbers whenever possible, with return information in the upper left hand corner.
- Summerfield noted that as a general rule, firearms, liquors, poisons, explosives and animals are taboo in the mails.
- He suggested that valuable items be registered.

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
LONDON (INS) — American tourists abroad—a breed of goggle eyes, of which I make up two—are not likely to visit staid old Parliament when they come to London.

First off, it's a bit stuffy, even with 'andsome Anthony Eden in the No. 1 pew. Also it is difficult to get a "stranger's pass" to the gallery. And, most important, they do not sell bone china or tweeds there. Where's the fun if you can't spend money, eh Mabel?

Bucking all these drawbacks, however, I have just attended one of the pre-treatise sessions at the House of Commons and found it delightful.

Compared with the sessions of the U. S. Senate I have sat (and occasionally dozed) through, this is the stuff that Broadway is made of. In fact, if they brought the House of Commons to Broadway, I can see the reviews now:

"A good-humored performance by a company of 525 competent men and 39 effectively quiet gentlemen was previewed tonight. It was an earnest, forthright show, bogged down only slightly by the fact that the dialogue was in a foreign tongue referred to as pure English, making it incoherent in spots."

THOSE CRAZY WIGS

"The costumes were generally conservative, although this reviewer did not dig the skimpy shoulders and those crazy curly wigs. The stars, veterans Clement Attlee and Anthony Eden, were superb."

"Even the cast enjoyed them, frequently bellowing 'Hyar, Hyar!' affectionately as they performed. Altogether, a lively show."

As you can see from this visu-alized viewpoint of American critics, the cultured parliamentary procedure at the House of Commons is a combination of panoply and good clean fun.

To get in I was forced to pose as a "Lady Quist," who was indisposed the day I arrived, because you can hardly get into Parliament unless you're a lady. By title, that is. Not necessarily habit.

speaker of the House and his reverent coattail-bearer into an oak-paneled room, where he sat on a genuine throne and I on a hard bench in the balcony.

Before him was a large rectangular table which separated the two parties in the House: On the Buckingham Palace side of the table were the government members, headed by Prime Minister Eden, and on the side facing the Thames were the members of the opposition, led by the gnome-shaped man named Attlee.

LIVELY DEBATE

Following a period of prayer, the action began with a lively discussion on the shortage of water supplies in the village of Arley in the county of Warwick, and on the number of unemployed registered in the county of Warwick.

It gradually progressed into the more absorbing problem of what to do about two new members of Parliament who were elected while serving lengthy prison terms in Ireland.

Whether it was water supplies or criminal Commons members, the House attitude was pleasant, not to say jovial. One argument did arise, when one member accused another member of attacking his argument on some question or other.

But this temporary tension was quickly relieved. "I am surprised, honorable opponent," said the member in a hurt voice, "that you could describe my gentle words as an attack . . ."

Following the session, I had a spot of tea with two American congressmen, the Hon. Prince Preston of Georgia and the Hon. William Hull Jr. of Missouri, who flew to London at the invitation of Trans-World Airlines, in honor of its inaugural one-stop California-to-Europe service.

Preston and Hull admitted they were most impressed by parliamentary procedure, the old Parliamentary way. They declined to comment, however, on whether the U. S. Congress should behave more politely.

Or wear wigs.

Oakland County Results Lauded

Savings Bond Groups Commended for Record Sales in 1955

DETROIT — Noble D. Travis, state chairman of the Treasury Department's U. S. Savings Bonds Division, commends bankers and county savings bond committee chairmen in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties for the outstanding work they have done to step up savings bonds sales in 1955.

Travis said 1955 savings bonds sales for the three counties totaled $168,207,138, equivalent to 100.8 per cent of the area's quota for the first nine months of this year. This is the highest nine-month total in more than 10 years. Sales for the January-

September 1954 period were $147,700,718.

Savings bond sales in Oakland County were $13,897,501 in the first nine months against $11,524,873 for the corresponding nine months a year ago. A. C. Girard, president of the Pontiac Community National Bank is bond sales committee chairman for Oakland County.

Less than 2 per cent of the babies born in Sweden in 1954 died during their first year.

PREPARES FOR COLLEGE—Kindergartner Carol
Susan Base, 3 believes in starting young to save for a college education—especially when savings are free. The booklet which she is accepting from clerk
Mary Giglio at the Three Sisters Market on West
Huron street contains four 10-cent U. S. Savings Stamps, given as an extra premium with the purchase of groceries. When the book has 187 stamps,
Maple Rd., West Bloomfield Township, will exchange them at any post office or bank for a Series E Savings Bond with maturity value of $25. The market is giving a 10-cent stamp with each $5 purchase. Little Carol plans to fill her book faster by buying extra stamps at Scotch School where she attends. Pontiac's acting postmaster Leslie H. Dean, Sr. has commended the store on its unique premium plan. "By using the savings stamps as premiums, the merchant offers an opportunity for thrift to its patrons and at the same time aids his government in the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds," Dean said.

Serve Tiny California Pancakes

SILVER DOLLAR PANCAKES — Silver Dollar Pancakes are a California specialty for a brunch menu. Your guests will enjoy devouring these stacks of miniature hotcakes, served with an orange sauce. Hot grilled ham or Canadian bacon is good to serve with them.

Orange Sauce Provides Tang

Grilled Canadian Bacon or Ham Is Good With Dainty Hotcakes

How long has it been since your family has gathered together for an old-fashioned breakfast? Too long, you say. Why not plan a Sunday morning breakfast party right now? Make it a late morning affair and call it brunch.

Make your menu one that is popular in California. Center the table with a tray of assorted fruit. Serve stacks of dainty Silver Dollar Pancakes with grilled Canadian bacon and a tangy orange sauce.

Silver Dollar Pancakes

2 cups pancake mix
2 1/2 cups milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted shortening
Add milk, eggs and shortening to pancake mix, stirring lightly. (Somewhat lumpy, batter makes light, fluffy pancakes.)

Pour 1 teaspoon batter for each pancake onto a hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Serve with orange sauce. Makes six servings.

Orange Sauce
Combine one-half cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Add 1 cup orange juice; bring to boil. Add 1 orange, sectioned; simmer about 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Thickened apple cider, with raisins added, makes a fine sauce for baked ham.

Add Special Touch to Clam Chowder

Special Clam Chowder

1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed clam chowder (New England Style)
1 can (7 ounces) minced sea clams
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon minced fresh dill or chives

A few hours before serving put undiluted clam chowder, clams (including liquid in can), cream and milk in a container or saucepan; cover tightly and refrigerate.

At serving time, heat thoroughly but do not boil; stir several times.

Sprinkle bowls of soup with minced fresh dill or chives; if these are not available use a little dried crushed dill weed or minced green onion tops. Makes four servings.

Exciting Flavors Teamed in Make-Ahead Casserole

For homecoming fare to satisfy those hearty appetites here's a very special make-ahead casserole. Fixed in the morning, it's all ready to pop in the oven when mealtime rolls around.

Chili and tamales team up with eggplant and melty cheese for a winning quick-treat combination from the test kitchens of American Can Co. Serve with a generous tossed salad and plenty of crusty bread.

Chili-Eggplant Parmigiana

2 cans (1 pound each) chili con carne
Small eggplant, peeled and thinly sliced
1 package (8 ounces) Mozzarella cheese, finely sliced
1 can (15 ounces) tomatoes, drained
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Spread half the chili in bottom of 13x9x2-inch baking dish. Arrange eggplant and half the Mozzarella cheese slices over chili. Spread with remaining chili; arrange remaining Mozzarella cheese over top.

Bake in moderate oven (375°)

45 to 50 minutes, or until eggplant is tender; remove from oven, top with tomatoes and Parmesan cheese. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Makes eight servings.

(Note: Or you can substitute sliced processed American cheese for the Mozzarella cheese, if desired.)

Try Some New Versions of Favorite Waldorf Salad

At this time of year almost everyone enjoys Waldorf Salad. In many families there's a special version that's been voted the favorite, to be repeated frequently while the luscious fall apples are at their best and juiciest.

However, there's no law that says you can't ring a few changes on the basic combination of apples and celery and walnuts, mixed together with mayonnaise.

For instance, some people like a few little white grapes added to the mixture, or even halves of rich, dark grapes that have been seeded. Some like large chunks of English walnuts mixed through while others prefer a generous sprinkling of ground nuts as a top garnish.

Some uncalorie-conscious homemakers mix whipped cream liberally with the mayonnaise, while the weight-watchers add lemon juice.

Perhaps you definitely favor the nutty bits included in most good Waldorf Salads, but would like to provide them in a new way. Do this: Hold out about two well-formed stalks of crisp celery (not the very large outside ones) and stuff them with chunk-style peanut butter.

With a sharp knife slice the stuffed stalks crosswise into quarter-inch-thick crescents. Salt these well, after slicing, and garnish your salad with them. Takes the place of chopped or ground walnuts very nicely.

Stuffed Apples
Or how about a different way of serving the favorite salad of the fall? Instead of peeling four or six apples and then dicing them, first remove centers with a corer and then, with a sharp grapefruit knife, take most of the apple out of the shells. Then dice or chop it to mix with the celery and nuts and pile it lightly into the apple cases.

Set each on a salad plate in a delicate bed of lettuce or other greens. Garnish each apple cup with a dollop of real mayonnaise, a bright grape or cherry and three walnut or pecan halves.

When preparing a large platter or chop plate of Waldorf Salad, for buffet service, there is almost no end to the pictures the artist can paint, using color in both content and garnish.

Begin with unpeeled red apples, cutting the circles across several times, so that each small bit of apple flaunts a tiny flag of bright peel.

In short, there's nothing easier to make or more delicious to eat than a good Waldorf Salad. But yours doesn't have to be exactly like the one you had yesterday at your best friend's house. Surprise her when she tries your version!

Hot Potato Salad Fights the Chill of Late Autumn

With the weather getting brisker, old-fashioned hot German potato salad is a welcome warming treat. Its hearty taste goes well with almost any meat dish.

1/2 medium size onion
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon flour
1 hard-boiled egg
Parsley, chopped
Salt, to taste

Cook the potatoes; do not allow to get mushy. Slice potatoes while still warm, adding chopped onion and salt. Set in warm place.

Cut up bacon and fry it. When crisp, take it off fire and add a mixture of vinegar, sugar, water and flour. Return to fire and cook until it thickens.

Add this to potatoes. Sprinkle top with chopped egg and parsley and serve warm. Yield: About six servings.

Cheese Omitted in Cheese Cake

This is an easy, can't-fail cheese-cake which uses lots of milk but no cheese! It's so very easy to make, you'll be including it in your weekly baking regularly!

Cheeseless Cheesecake

1 cup milk
1/2 cup uncooked white rice
1 1/2 cups fine zwieback crumbs
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup beet or cane sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup beet or cane sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put the milk and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Stir well. When bubbles appear around the edge of the saucepan, turn the heat as low as possible. Stir well.

Cover and leave over this low heat, for 45 minutes or until the milk cooks into the rice. Stir frequently during the cooking.

While the rice cooks, place the zwieback crumbs, melted butter or margarine, one fourth cup sugar and cinnamon in a round baking pan or deep 8-inch pie plate which will hold at least 6 cups of liquid. Mix together well. Pack firmly into the bottom and the sides of the pan or pie plate.

Stir into the cooked rice, the 1 cup of sugar, eggs, cream, salt, lemon juice, lemon rind and vanilla. Pour over the zwieback crumbs.

Bake in a 300-degree oven 1 1/2 hours or until firm in the center. Remove from the oven and allow to cool before serving. This recipe makes eight servings.

Serve Stewed Apples

Ever serve stewed apples? Cut the peeled and cored apples in eighths and cook them in hot syrup until just tender. Flavor with vanilla. Wonderful served over vanilla ice cream.

CORNMEAL APPETIZERS—For your next cocktail party try serving these delicious little Cornmeal Appetizers. Small blankets of cornmeal pastry—en-

Rarebit Boasts Luxury Touch

Looking for a recipe that is suitable for brunch, lunch, dinner, supper or a small party?

Difficult as that sounds, here's one that fills the bill... a really luxurious rarebit... add a little or a lot for the rest of the menu, depending on the meal in question.

As for feeding the crowd when it gathers at your house, this recipe is easy to double or treble, and more than quick and easy to prepare.

Tuna-Mushroom Rarebit
3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms
2 tablespoons ketchup
1-ounce jar sliced sharp American cheese
2-ounce can solid pack tuna
Place contents of can of mushrooms and sherry in top of double boiler. Heat over hot water. Add cheese, which has been finely diced, and stir until melted.

Stir in drained tuna, which has been cut into chunks, and let heat thoroughly. Serve over toasted split hamburger buns. Yield: four to six servings.

Cheese Sauce Handy
Keep a jar of cheese sauce in the refrigerator. Serve over hard-boiled eggs and top with crispy cooked bacon for lunch, or pour over a can of drained boiled onions and heat for a supper vegetable to serve with meat, poultry or fish.

Cornmeal Pastry Enfolds Delicious Tidbits of Meat

Now here's something even more than just good—a hot cornmeal pastry wrapped around ham, chicken livers or bacon, then served as a piping hot appetizer for your party.

Try a variety of different fillings with the same cornmeal pastry as a base. Wrap thinly sliced Prosciutto or boiled ham in the pastry or substitute bits of shredded dried beef, chopped cooled bacon or cooked chicken livers.

Cornmeal Appetizers
Cornmeal Dough
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup water

Sift together flour, cornmeal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a little at a time until mixture will just hold together. Divide dough in half.

Prosciutto Ham Appetizers
Roll one-half dough into rectangle 10 x 12 inches. Cut into 15 pieces, each 2x4 inches; spread with prepared mustard.

Cut Prosciutto ham (about one-fourth pound) into pieces a little smaller than each piece of dough; place ham on each; roll up and cut each in half.

Place cut side down on greased cookie sheet. Cut slits in top. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. This makes 20 small appetizers.

Chicken Liver Snacks
Roll one-half dough into 12-inch square. Cook 2 tablespoons finely chopped uncooked chicken livers and cook about five minutes, stirring often; add one-fourth cup finely chopped mushrooms, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Cook a few minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in 1 slightly beaten egg and remove from heat. Cover half of the dough with this filling; fold other half over filling, pressing together slightly.

Using floured tiny cookie cutter, cut out "sandwiches." Place on greased cookie sheets; bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 30 little "sandwiches." ("Odds and ends" may be baked on cookie sheet for family nibbling.)

Savory Seasoning Mix
Glorifies Food Flavors

Handy to have in the refrigerator to glorify the flavor of every-day foods—a savory seasoning mix. Easy to make, too.

Just cream together 1 family-size can (4 1/2 ounce) deviled ham, 1 stick (one-fourth pound) butter and a few pinches of your favorite herb—basil, for instance. Use generously as a tangy seasoning to stir into mashed or baked potatoes, sauces, soups, stews, or as an extra-special topping for vegetables.

Plentiful Pork Goes Easy on Your Family Finances

As pork is very plentiful again, this recipe fits into family menus that don't overstrain the budget.

Oriental Pork on Spaghetti
1/2 pound salt pork, dried
1 pound boneless pork shoulder, cut in 1/2-inch cubes
All-purpose flour
1 1/2 cups diced celery
1 cup chopped onions
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1 cup water
1/2 cup ketchup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon soy sauce
Salt to taste
1 tablespoon oil
2 quarts boiling water
2 ounces spaghetti

Fry salt pork until crisp; remove. Dredge pork in flour and brown well in salt pork drippings. Add celery, onions, mushrooms, sauce and soy sauce; mix well.

Cover and cook over low heat one hour, stirring occasionally. Season with salt.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Pork Timbales
1 1/2 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups dried cooked pork
1 tablespoon finely diced onion
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1/2 cup meat broth or milk
1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper

Mix all ingredients together. Divide mixture among custard cups or individual baking dishes. Place cups in pan of very hot water and bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) about 30 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center of timbale comes out clean.

For variety: Cooked ham, chicken, turkey, fish, or rabbit may be used in place of the pork. For a company meal, add mushrooms, fresh or canned. Mushroom sauce may be served on the timbales. Makes four servings.

Try Orange Eggnog

Any of your small fry need building up? Then serve the youngster an orange eggnog for a mid-morning or mid-afternoon snack. To make it, beat together an egg, a cup each of orange juice and milk, a tablespoon or two of honey and a dash of salt. This makes enough for mother to have a taste, too.

Long Cooking Adds to Mushroom Flavor

Don't let anyone tell you that fresh mushrooms are always supposed to be cooked only a few minutes and that they should be kept white looking.

The longer the cooking the more flavor they seem to have. And if your food market offers a bargain because a basket of mushrooms look darkened and a bit wrinkled, grab it.

Flavorwise, those withered-looking blackened mushrooms are all to the good. We've often been thanked by cooks whom we advised to seek them out!

If your refrigerator temperature is 38 to 40 degrees, you can keep milk fresh from 4 to 10 days.

You can work these wonders right before your guests' very eyes, and tickle their noses with fascinating fragrance from your oven when these muffins are broiling.

Add:
2 tablespoons pecans, chopped
Coffee mixtures

PENNYWISE CHICKEN — Here's a dish that's both thrifty and delicious. Cabbage and apples are combined with chicken in a casserole. It's a penny-saver that will rate cheers from your family when you serve it.

Pennywise Dish Includes Apple, Cabbage, Chicken

From Chicago, Katherine B. Niles, distinguished poultry recipe expert, sends enthusiastic reports on her newest recipe, Pennywise Chicken Casserole. It will save pennies, she says, and it tastes wonderful.

Spread Stuffing on Pork Steak

With plentiful supplies of pork on the market, all the many different cuts of pork present an excellent buy in your retailer's display case.

Suggests Reba Staggs, meat expert, purchase thrifty shoulder-cut arm steaks and prepare them as tempting Golden Filled Pork Rolls.

Golden Filled Pork Rolls

2 pork arm steaks, cut 1/2 inch thick
Salt
Pepper
1/2 cup, 200 can cream-style corn
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon dry basil
1/2 teaspoon sage

Remove bones from pork steaks. Season with salt and pepper. Combine remaining ingredients, mix lightly and spread on steaks.

Roll each steak like a jelly roll and tie or fasten with a skewer.

Place rolls in a baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for one hour. Eight servings.

Pork Provides Vital Nutrients for New Moms

The mother-to-be and the new mother nursing her baby require larger than usual amounts of certain vital nutrients. Pork, low in cost, supplies unusually high amounts of many essentials.

During pregnancy, the mother's body may store up to 5 1/2 pounds of protein in addition to the protein contributed to the fetus. She stores enough iron to equal the entire amount in breast milk during nine months of breast feeding, in addition to the iron needed by the unborn baby.

After the infant is born, mother's milk must supply the large amounts of protein, lactose, minerals and other essentials the infant needs each day.

Pork meat, an excellent source of high quality protein, of thiamine, niacin and iron, also supplies valuable amounts of other B vitamins, as well as phosphorus, magnesium and potassium.

The high thiamine content of pork is especially important because not many other foods contain as much. And the fat of pork contains fatty acids so necessary for normal growth and normal skin.

Coffee-Sauce Enlivens Waffles and Pancakes

It's waffle and pancake weather. A new syrup to serve over these old-fashioned treats is a coffee sauce that you can make at home. Served hot, this sauce has real zing.

To make, combine 2 teaspoons instant coffee, one-half cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup water gradually, stirring until smooth.

Bring to a full boil, over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Cook three minutes, stirring constantly. Add 1 tablespoon butter. Serve hot over pancakes or waffles. Yield: 1 cup.

Next time you prepare meat patties from ground lamb, add a little ground allspice along with the salt and pepper.

Almonds, Butter Glorify Shrimp

The modern shelling and de-veining by machines of a high percentage of canned and frozen shrimp takes a lot of kitchen labor out of home shrimp preparation. Those tender shrimp are far more welcome with shells off and that black digestive line down the back gone.

Here is a wonderful way to serve them:

Shrimp Amandine

1/2 pound butter
1 cup blanched, shelled almonds
2 boxes frozen fully-peeled, de-veined shrimp
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Melt half the butter in a table-worthy skillet (a pretty one if you have it.) Add almonds and saute over medium heat until a golden brown. Remove almonds. Add remaining butter, then the shrimp.

Fry gently 3 to 10 minutes, turning them over and over until each is golden brown. Season lightly. Return almonds and mix well with shrimp. Sprinkle with parsley and serve hot over toast points.

Butter with the almonds makes the "sauce" for the shrimp. (Margarine may be used.)

SHRIMP DELUXE — Shrimp cooked with almonds is a kitchen triumph which would suit a gourmet. For easiest fixing use the frozen, peeled and de-veined shrimp. Serve this elegant seafood dish over toast points.

Mushroom Pork Crown Sure to Win 'Rah-Rahs'

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, pork and rice are two plentiful foods for the autumn months. Combine them with the hearty appetites stimulated by an afternoon of football and you have the answer to Saturday evening's dinner menu.

Here's a new idea for dressing up the succulent crown roast of pork with appropriate crown jewels — canned mushrooms, of course!

The Spanish Rice mixture that fills the center is also right off the pantry shelf, guaranteeing a hearty centerpiece that's sure to please the hungry grandstand quarterbacks in the family. Just add a green salad, dessert and beverage and let the team line up around the table!

Mushroom Pork Crown
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 green pepper, sliced
1 medium onion, sliced
1 tomato package pre-cooked rice
1 can mushrooms, buttons or slices, drained
Juice drained from mushrooms plus enough hot water to make 1 1/2 cups of liquid
1/2 cup cats tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
7 or 8 pound crown roast of pork (ask butcher to grind meat from center)
Melt butter in saucepan. Add green pepper, onion and rice. Cook and stir over high heat until lightly browned. Add mushrooms, liquid mixture, tomato sauce, salt, pepper and mustard. Mix well. Bring quickly to a boil. Cover tightly and simmer 10 minutes.

Remove ground meat from center of crown roast. Crumble into rice mixture. Place roast in baking pan and return rice mixture to center of crown. Cover top of crown with sheet of aluminum foil.

Bake in 350 degree oven for about four hours — allowing 30-35 minutes per pound. Makes 10 servings.

Racy Hamburgers Highly Seasoned

Racy Hamburgers
2 small onions
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Pepper
1 pound ground chuck beef
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Peel onions; on waxed paper, grate onions fine; there should be about 3 tablespoons pulp and juice. Add salt, mustard and pepper to taste to onion; mix well.

Work onion mixture into ground beef with fork or fingers; shape into four patties.

Melt butter in 9-inch skillet until it begins to hiss. Add hamburgers and brown each side over high heat.

If meat is liked pink inside or well-done, turn heat low and finish cooking to desired doneness, turning to cook evenly. Makes four servings.

Try Fruit and Custard

Ever serve sliced bananas and diced oranges with a soft custard? Flavor the custard with just a suspicion of nutmeg or mace.

For Savory Tomatoes

Slice tomatoes, sprinkle with salt and minced fresh basil; douse with French dressing and refrigerate until serving time. Use about 2 tablespoons of dressing for each medium-sized tomato.

Vary Carrots and Peas

Your family tired of the same old carrots-and-green-peas combination? Then try serving them in a well-seasoned thin cream sauce and sprinkling with crumbled, crisply cooked bacon.

Pretty garnish for tomato aspic: Cauliflowerets (cooked and chilled or raw) sprinkled with minced parsley.

Gadgets Make Cooking Easier, More Fun

Kitchen gadgets don't make a cook any more than clothes make the man, but they surely help to make cooking easier and more fun. For instance, those individual measuring cups.

It's so easy to fill them with flour, sugar or shortening in the amount called for by your recipe, whisk a spatula across the top, and know your measurement is level.

In grandma's day level measurements weren't as important as they are today. Recipes called for a heaping measure of this, and a scant measure of that. And the results were just as indefinite as the measurements.

Nowadays, we're more scientific. All recipes call for definite level measurements, exact oven temperatures and baking times, and modern cooking equipment makes it easy to follow these rules, so you can be sure of good results each time.

Unit measuring spoons are a kitchen necessity, too, and a rubber spatula for keeping the sides of your mixing bowl clean while your electric mixer does the work of mixing a cake or a pudding. Use it, too, when emptying sauces or gravies into a serving dish. Then there'll be no waste.

Housewares departments are getting more and more exciting with newly designed cooking aids in colors to match almost any kitchen decor, and pretty enough to leave out in plain sight. Many of them make you wonder how you ever lived without them in the years before they were invented.

But if you are a serious cook, one who likes to try old recipes, you've probably found that many of these oldies call for weighing ingredients, instead of measuring them.

This doesn't mean that you have to rush out to buy kitchen scales. You can translate the weights into amounts that can be measured with your modern equipment.

For instance, 1 pound of confectioners sugar measures approximately 3 1/2 cups; 1 pound of raisins measures about 2 1/2 cups; 1 pound of all-purpose flour measures approximately 4 cups; 1 pound of cake flour measures about 5 cups; 3 to 4 eggs measure 1 cup, while 8 to 10 eggs measure 1 cup; 1 pound of shredded cheese measures about 4 cups; 1 pound of ground cooked meat measures about 5 cups.

1 pound of diced cooked meat equals about 5 cups; 1 pound of granulated sugar measures 2 cups; 1 pound of brown sugar measures approximately 2 1/2 cups; 1 medium lemon yields about 2 to 3 tablespoons of juice. We don't know how to measure a pinch of salt or other condiments.

But it's easier to use modern recipes that tell you exact amounts that can be measured accurately by pretty, colorful gadgets that make cooking easy and fun.

Leftover cooked vegetables may be diced fine and added to a cheese omelet for a luncheon dish. To glaze the lily, serve with tomato sauce.

Tapioca Souffle Gains Flavor of Marmalade

Here's a basic tapioca souffle that is always popular. And it's a fine way to use up leftover egg whites.

Orange Marmalade Souffle

1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups water
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup orange marmalade
Heavy cream
Salt
Blended maple syrup

Put the tapioca, sugar and 1 cup of the water in a 1-quart saucepan. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Mix in butter, remaining three-fourths cup water and orange marmalade thoroughly. Allow to cool slightly while beating egg whites.

Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in cooled tapioca mixture. Pour into 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 60 minutes or until souffle is firm.

Serve hot at once with cream whipped with a dash of salt and sweetened with maple syrup. Makes six servings.

If desired, the souffle may be baked in a 2-quart baking dish for 50 to 55 minutes or until firm.

Put Candles in Icebox

Store the candles you are going to use on a party table in the refrigerator overnight. This cold treatment may help to prevent excessive dripping!

Dressings Designed for Tomato Aspic

Each of the following combinations of ingredients makes a good dressing to accompany canned Tomato Aspic served as salad.

Cheese-Olive Dressing

3 ounces package cream cheese
1/2 cup cream
1/4 cup chopped ripe olives
Goldenrod

Combine finely chopped egg whites with mayonnaise, top with egg yolk which has been pressed through a sieve.

Many Ways of Cooking Make Pheasant Fine Eating

Pontiac Press Home Editor

One of the guests at the Publicity Tea last week asked me about the best way of cooking pheasant. I promised to do some research on the matter and let her know in the Market Basket today.

Pheasant may be treated much the same way as chicken. It is apt to be a bit dry, so it is wise to lay a strip of bacon across the breast while roasting. Roast at 325 degrees for 15-20 minutes per pound.

One pheasant will feed three or four persons. It is so good that seldom is there too much to be eaten at one sitting; at least, that has been my experience.

4 slices bacon
4 tablespoons butter
Lemon slices

Stuff pheasant with butter and wrap with bacon slices. Roast in oven (325 degrees) until well browned and serve with lemon slices.

On the other hand, you may do an elaborate job of roasting.

Hungarian Roast Pheasant

2 young pheasants
Salt and pepper
1 clove garlic
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons coarsely chopped green celery leaves
1 thin slice lemon—seeded and chopped

14 onion slices
2 tablespoons chopped mushrooms
1 cup Tokay wine
1 cup chicken stock
¼ teaspoon salt

Rub birds, inside and out, with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with wine and place garlic, parsley, celery leaves and lemon inside each bird.

Cover each with thin sheet of fat pork. Add sliced onion and mushrooms to wine and chicken stock. Roast in moderate oven 375 degrees for 45 minutes, basting birds frequently. Strain pan gravy and add 2 tablespoons red currant jelly. Serve in sauceboat. Serves 6.

Cream may be used in place of butter or bacon to give pheasant the needed fat. This recipe tells how.

1 pheasant
2 teaspoons salt
1 pint sour cream
Rub in the salt and bake for 1 hour in sour cream, basting frequently. Be careful about using too much salt, as it will have a tendency to curdle the cream. More may be added after it has cooked. Thicken the gravy and serve with wild rice.

One last way of preparing pheasant follows:

Smothered Pheasant

Clean and cut pheasant in serving pieces. Roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown slowly on both sides in ½ cup hot fat, turning only once.

Add 1 cup water, milk or cream to pheasant; cover tightly and cook slowly or bake in slow oven (325 degrees) until tender, about 1 hour. Serve with gravy made from the drippings. Old pheasants are best prepared in this manner.

Complement Roast With Herb Biscuits

Parsley and celery and caraway seeds make these light, fluffy Herb Biscuits an ideal accompaniment to a dinner that stars a juicy beef or pork roast.

Herb Biscuits
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced parsley
½ teaspoon celery seeds
¼ teaspoon caraway seeds
½ cup shortening
¾ to 1 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add parsley, celery seeds and caraway seeds. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out one-half-inch thick. Cut with floured biscuit cutter or sharp knife.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 12 1½-inch biscuits.

Make Carrot Curls

If you have a swivel-blade vegetable parer that is razor-sharp, you can make attractive carrot fancies for a salad garnish. Pare the carrots and cut paper-thin lengthwise slices from them; refrigerate the slices, covered with iced water. The carrot slices will curl up into attractive shapes after a while and may be drained and used. Besides being used atop a salad, they are also attractive perched over black olives in a glass bowl.

Extension Leaders Learn About Meat

One-hundred Oakland County extension members learned to know cuts and grades of meat at a workshop and tour at Northland Center recently.

Jean Allen of the Kroger Food Foundation and Rad Scott explained that meat prices vary during the year due to seasonal supply and demand. Scott also showed that the proportion of tender cuts in any meat animal is small, making them more costly than the less tender cuts.

Hints on the selection of all kinds of meat and poultry were given. Women were cautioned to buy government graded meat from stores carrying top grades.

Leaders who attended the workshop will teach other extension group members the facts of quality meat selection at a series of local meetings.

Delicious Jam Made Without Cooking, Heating

Now you can make jam from frozen or fresh berries without cooking or even heating. Besides the convenience of this new and easy way it also has the advantage of keeping all the fresh fruit flavor. According to the instructions in the current issue of a home magazine, all you have to do is: Stir manufactured pectin, liquid or powdered, into the raw crushed and sweetened berries. Then put the mixture into jelly glasses. That's all there is to it. Stored in refrigerators, the jam holds its appetizing appeal for months, and the consistency is just right for easy spreading.

Another plus feature of this new method is that you only need to make as much as you can use.

Home Madrilene soup: Heat equal amounts of tomato juice and rich chicken stock.

Stuffed Cabbage Bolsters Budget

You'll find there's more to cabbage than coleslaw or corned beef and cabbage — if you borrow recipes from other countries where this vegetable is popular.

The Dutch make a stuffed cabbage that's a splendid one-dish meal and gives a big boost to the budget, too. Seasoned ground pork and beef and enriched yeast-raised bread makes the zesty stuffing.

Stuffed Cabbage

1 small head cabbage
2 slices enriched yeast-raised bread
1/2 pound ground pork
1/2 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Dash of nutmeg
2 tablespoons butter

Remove 8 to 10 outer leaves boiling salted water 10 minutes from the cabbage. Cook them in (Use remainder of cabbage for salads.) Soak bread in water; squeeze dry and combine with meat and seasonings.

Drain cooked cabbage. Place one or two leaves on a piece of double-folded cheesecloth. Cover with some of the meat mixture. Repeat layers to use all leaves and meat, finishing with leaves.

Gather four corners of the cloth and tie. Lower into boiling salted water and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Remove cabbage from cloth; place in a greased baking dish. Dot with butter and bake at 400 until lightly browned. Serves four.

HAM CROQUETTES — Ham Croquettes are more attractive and flavorful because they are coated with crumbs made from bite-size shredded rice biscuits. The crumbs make a covering that browns well and is deliciously crisp.

Spark Meat Loaf With Spanish Sauce

Dress up old-standby meat loaf this way.

Spanish Sauce

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 large onion (cut in thin strips)
2 ribs celery (cut in thin crescents)

2 tablespoons diced green pepper
1 can (15 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup (undiluted)
1/4 cup (about) drained or canned green peas
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon sugar

Melt butter in saucepan; add onion, celery and green pepper; cook over low heat until softened, stirring often.

Stir in tomato soup, peas and sugar; heat. Makes enough sauce for eight servings of meat loaf.

Cottage Cheese Offers Protein at Budget Price

Cottage cheese stands out as an inexpensive source of protein. A serving of this fine dairy food costs one-fourth to one-half less than most meat.

Cottage cheese added to French dressing and used for lettuce or other vegetable salads makes a salad dressing that is tasty.

An excellent lunch can be prepared quickly for the busy homemaker by using cottage cheese and fruit for a salad. Crisp toast or crackers with butter, a glass of milk and you will find renewed energy for the afternoon tasks.

Combine creamed cottage cheese with Roquefort or blue cheese in desired proportions; season with a bit of finely chopped onion and a dash of Tabasco sauce and use for stuffing celery, or as a spread for open-face sandwiches or canapés.

Cottage cheese is easily digested and readily assimilated. Therefore, it is an ideal food for the older folks who may have digestive or dental difficulties.

PINK APPLE DESSERT—A delight to the eye is the bright, pretty pink color of this apple dessert. Apples give good flavor, and whipped evaporated milk lends a glamor touch. Serve it in your nicest dessert dishes and watch the family make short work of it.

Apple-Gelatin Combination Boasts Pretty Pink Color

Ever know anyone, either an Adam or an Eve, who didn't have a special fondness for apples? They're probably as universally well liked as any fruit could be.

At this season, take advantage of the plentiful supply of apples on the market. While applesauce and apple pie are de-lish, don't stop there.

Maybe you never thought about using apples in gelatin. Then it's time to try this pink apple gelatin dessert.

Crunchy pieces of apples give a pleasant change from the usual soft fruit found in gelatin. Tart cooking apples are the kind to use. Their sharp taste contrasts well with the sweeter flavor of pineapple.

Although strawberry gelatin is a red color, this dessert comes out a pretty bright pink. The color change evolves when whipped evaporated milk is folded into the fruit mixture. Whipped evaporated milk lends a creamy, smooth consistency that makes for choice eating.

You're missing a good cooking trick if you never whipped up evaporated milk for use in desserts and salads.

It whips splendidly. Chill the milk, bowl and beater thoroughly before you start whipping.

Pink Apple Dessert
1 No. 3 can crushed pineapple
1 cup liquid (pineapple juice plus water)
1 package strawberry gelatin
2 large tart apples, cut up
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup evaporated milk, chilled
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Drain crushed pineapple. Heat pineapple juice and water to boiling. Dissolve gelatin in this and let cool until partially set.

Chill small bowl and beater. Chill evaporated milk in ice cube tray until icy cold. Fold pineapple, apples and walnuts into gelatin mixture.

Whip chilled evaporated milk until thick. Add lemon juice and continue to beat. Fold whipped evaporated milk into the fruit mixture.

Pile into eight individual dessert dishes or use one large bowl. Chill until set. Makes eight servings.

English-Style Kidney Beans Are Fit for King

A casserole of richly seasoned kidney beans is a dish fit to set before a king.

Baked Kidney Beans, English Style
2 cans (16 ounces each) kidney beans
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 teaspoon onion powder
1/4 cup dried green pepper
2-ounce package sharp cheddar
1 cup tomato juice
4 strips bacon

Heat first six ingredients together. Cut cheese into one-half-inch pieces and add with tomato juice to the bean mixture. Turn into a 5x10x3-inch baking dish. Fry bacon until half done to remove some of the fat.

Discard fat and arrange bacon over beans. Place under broiler, 4 inches from the source of heat to brown (five-six minutes). Serve a strip of bacon with each serving. Makes six servings.

STUFFED FISH FILLETS — Pimiento-stuffed. The contrast in colors is nice. Serve the fish with green olives are delicious in a stuffing for fish fillets. French-fried potatoes and apple-pear salads.

Olives and Fish Are Good Team

There are many ways pimiento-stuffed green olives can be used deliciously as a recipe ingredient and garnish. One of the best suggestions along this line is the combination of green olive and fish.

Stuffed Fish Fillets
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 cup sifted bread crumbs
1 teaspoon sage
1/2 cup onion salt
1/2 cup light cream or top milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup dry white wine or lemon juice
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives

Melt two tablespoons butter or margarine over low heat. Add celery, onion and parsley and saute until tender. Add bread crumbs, sage, and onion salt, continue cooking until crumbs are browned. Remove from heat and add cream or milk, egg, one-half teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper; mix well.

Place stuffing mixture on fillets and roll up jelly-roll fashion. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and arrange in shallow baking pan.

Combine one-quarter cup butter or margarine, wine or lemon juice and olives. Pour over fillets. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 30 minutes, or until fish is tender.

From Range to Table

It takes 12 to 18 months to produce a steak. For the first 6 to 12 months a beef steer is at home on the range and grows up to 400 to 500 pounds. Then he spends three to six months in a feedlot and grows some more—up to 800 to 1,200 pounds. Out of a 1,000-pound beef steer, there are only 140 pounds of steak: Porterhouse, T-bone and club, 35 pounds; sirloin, 35, and round 50.

Arroz Con Pollo Recipe Comes From Sunny Cuba

Arroz Con Pollo is a prized recipe which comes from Cuba. It's simply a casserole combination featuring chicken with rice made yellow by the addition of saffron.

Each family has a favorite version, adding or omitting such ingredients as stuffed green olives, tomatoes, mushrooms and pimiento.

Whatever the combination, Arroz Con Pollo is an excellent choice for buffet meals and needs only the accompaniment of a big green salad, crusty Cuban or French bread and a refreshing fruit dessert.

Shoppers Will Find Bargains in Pork

The 1935 spring pig crop now coming to market is about 10 per cent larger than last year. This has resulted in lower pork prices, and shoppers will find several good choices at the pork counter this week.

Hams weighing between 12 and 16 pounds are about 50 to 65 cents per pound. Other smoked cuts very reasonably priced include sausage, bacon, and picnic shoulders. Heartier meals for cooler weather can be economical when pork loin roast is chosen.

Ham Ring
3 cups ground ham
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 eggs

Combine all ingredients with well-beaten eggs. Pour into well-oiled ring mold. Place in pan of hot water and bake 350 degrees for one hour. Then into hot chop plate and fill with vegetables. Serves eight.

Unusual Pear Treat

Arrange chilled canned pear halves (one or two halves per person) in dessert dishes; sprinkle each serving with 2 tablespoons red wine or grape juice. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream and a dusting of nutmeg.

'High Fever Follies' Captures Glitter of Broadway

Dr. Normand E. Durocher of Old Orchard drive escorted his daughter, Nancy, to the opening performance of "High Fever Follies" Wednesday night at Pontiac High School. Mrs. Durocher was a member of the cast as well as a behind-the-scenes worker. Escorting them is head usher Nathan Rosen of Mark avenue.

Photographed as they arrived to see "High Fever Follies" were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Yaeger of Wisner street. Mr. Yaeger is a member of the board of Pontiac General Hospital.

'Heat Wave' Hits Pontiac Wednesday

Local Talent Wins Warm Praise for Superb Show

In spite of Wednesday evening's falling temperature, the tempo continued to climb at the "High Fever Follies of '35" on opening night.

Directed by Gregg Mooney, a New York producer, the cast of all local talent responded to the enthusiasm and expectations of the audience by presenting a superb performance.

Wearing colorful costumes, some of which were originals from the Broadway production of "Rio Rita," inspired the chorus. The ensembles gave cast members an incentive to display the finesse of Broadway performers and imaginatively carried the audience to an opening night on the Great White Way.

"A Little March Time" received a large ovation from the responsive audience. The band was composed of several members of the medical profession and businessmen of the city. Keeping step to their lively numbers was the baton twirler.

A take-off on a bridal shower, enacted by an all-male cast, kept the audience chuckling. The usual greetings, conversation and remarks of the guests delighted their listeners.

QUEEN PRESENTED

The gossip operator of "Sunshine Inn" starred as commentator for a fashion preview. This was climaxed by a solo number and the presentation of the Queen of the "High Fever Follies."

A highlight of the evening was the announcement of the queen. Winner of the title was Margaret Mitchell, representing General Motors Girls' Club.

The president of the Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, Mrs. F. Eugene Miller, presented Miss Mitchell with a $50 bond. This was turned back to the auxiliary by the winner to further the hospital nursery project.

"What Shall I Say to the Moon," "The Busy Bees," "Down on the Farm," "Black Bottom" and an interview with a "Lady From Hollywood" were but a few of the other scenes which displayed the versatility of the actors.

In the hush following the second curtain call, one heard the remarks "Wonderful," "A grand performance" and "Real entertainment" from the audience.

Proceeds from the benefit show will be used by members of the Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital to purchase nursery equipment for the hospital.

The Follies will be presented again at 8 o'clock tonight in Pontiac High School auditorium.

Model's Life: Nice Clothes and Big Money

This is the fourth article by a famous reporter on the professional and private lives of America's most successful models.

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service

Being a successful model is "wonderful," according to beautiful, ash-blond "Sunny" Harnett, one of the most photographed girls in the world.

"All I do is wear nice clothes and get paid big money for doing it," said Sunny, flashing a toothpaste smile.

Miss Harnett, who today is one of America's top-flight models, was dubious that she'd ever make the grade as a model when she broke away from stenography six years ago to try out in the profession. She made it—big.

She is "a model's model"—a real "pro." She is 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall, very slim, weighs 114 pounds and doesn't have to diet. She has Marlene Dietrichish features and is exceedingly photogenic.

Other models admire Sunny not only for her sunny disposition and talent but because her private life typifies the clean-living code adopted by the successful 1935 model.

"If I had stayed as a secretary," says Sunny, "I'd still be moping around New York and have gotten no further than the Brooklyn Bridge."

SEES THE WORLD
She pointed out that, as a result of her profession, she has been able to leave New York behind from time to time and visit such interesting places as Rome, Paris, Venice and Chile.

I interviewed Sunny in her dressing room in the Madison avenue penthouse studio of Bill Helburn, New York photographer who does a $250,000-a-year business glorifying top models for advertisements. As she applied her makeup, Sunny said:

"I can't give you any scandal about myself. I'm afraid I'm poor newspaper copy."

"I'm happily married and I don't play the nightclubs."

"I take no pills. I don't go to any psychiatrists. I have no inner conflicts. I'm healthy even though I'm skinny. I love my work and I just go my merry way, hoping people will continue to make use of me as a model."

The gay, friendly Miss Harnett said she was born in Brooklyn and went to work as a stenographer for the Schenley Distilling Co. in the Empire State Building, Manhattan, after she was graduated from the Julia Richman High School in New York.

DARED HERSELF
"I had looks and thought maybe I might be able to become a model," she related. "I dared myself to make a try. I went to Mainbocher, the famous designer. That was back in 1929."

"They asked me if I had any experience. With my tongue in my cheek, I said yes. They had me try on a dress. They liked it, and I was hired."

"Vogue started using me, and I built up clients," she added. "And so here I am!"

It was time for Sunny to begin posing for photographer Helburn. She left the dressing room and was soon before the lights in the air-conditioned studio. She stood in front of a large white screen, back of which was an array of about 40 dimmed lights.

"What shall it be—funny faces, wisecracks, or what have you?" the experienced Sunny inquired as she took her stance.

"Make it pensive," suggested Helburn.

LUCK FOR NANCY
Lady Luck can play a key role in the modeling world.

Take the case of 21-year-old Nancy Woodruff. Until last December she was climbing slowly up the ladder to success. Then she was propelled onto the top rung overnight—she was selected "Miss Rheingold of 1935."

The New York brewery producing Rheingold beer annually selects one model to be featured in its extensive advertising program.

This stroke of good fortune "made" Nancy and opened a brand new world for her as a career girl.

"1935 has been the most exciting year of my life," Nancy said. In winning the title, I was awarded a $15,000 prize, given a $20,000 wardrobe and a trip to Europe.

"I'd never been abroad. The trip was made more thrilling because Douglas Fairbanks Jr. (who had been doing Rheingold TV commercials) went along with me and my chaperon. I saw Rome, Paris, London—and other glamorous places. What memories!"

CHANGED LIFE
"Winning that title transformed my life. All this year has been filled with a variety of unexpected pleasures. I met so many interesting people!"

Miss Woodruff is a strawberry blonde with blue eyes, a slightly tilted nose and dimples. She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds.

She is ladylike, smokes an occasional cigarette and likes a glass of beer. ("I was never much for beer until I won the title," she says. "You should see me now.") She is watching her diet because she has gained a few pounds. ("Dieting is the bane of my existence.")

Miss Woodruff was born in Detroit on Dec. 18, 1913. Her family moved to California when she was very young and she spent most of her life there.

She became a professional model at 13 when a commercial photographer hired her to pose for a series of ads. Modeling jobs poured in. She did modeling while attending San Leandro High School in San Francisco.

GOES TO GOTHAM
Three years later she was elected "Miss Hudson Car" in San Francisco and her prize was a trip to the magic city of New York. She brought her mother along.

Two months after she arrived in New York, in April 1932, the Huntington Hartford model agency persuaded her to enter the Rheingold contest. She became one of the six finalists but in the end lost to Mary Austin, never dreaming that a couple of years later she would be the winner.

Nancy's New York career as a model picked up impetus when Arthur Godfrey gave her a chance on TV. He hired her as a model to do the Toni commercials. This job lasted 2 1/2 years.

She also did pen and pencil commercials for a year on the Jackie Gleason show. She was making $15,000 a year—good money, but far below the top—when she entered the Rheingold contest last fall.

When Nancy emerged the winner her life was transformed at once. She was besieged by the press for interviews. Her picture appeared in newspapers and magazines all over the nation. She suddenly found she had achieved a degree of fame.

Lulu Buchanan Repeats Vows in Baptist Service

A ballerina-length gown of nylon tulle over satin was worn by Lulu Buchanan for her marriage to Kenneth Wilson Saturday evening at Silvercrest Baptist Church. The couple was married by the Rev. James Luther in the presence of 130 guests.

The bride, of East Colgate avenue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kestner Buchanan of Gogonsa, Ill. Kenneth is the son of Mrs. Grace A. Willson of Drayton Plains.

A V-neckline accented the bridal gown's bodice of lace. The full hooped skirt was fashioned with lace inserts. Lulu's headpiece of tulle was pleated to form a head-bugging band centered with lace sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. Her veil of pure silk French illusion was fingertip length. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white carnations.

Kay Nelson served as maid of honor wearing a crystal silk gown of aqua with a full hooped skirt and a halter-style neckline with tucked bodice. Her velvet headpiece featured a tiny noseveil sprinkled with seed pearls.

The other attendants, Carol Bolton and Mrs. Martin Kaput of Hazel Park, wore gowns of shrimp and burnt orange, respectively.

Vern C. Raines was best man. Seating the guests were Richard DeKousse, Gilbert McCallum and Donald Carroll of Drayton Plains.

The reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. The bride changed to a knit suit for their honeymoon trip. On their return, the newlyweds will reside in Pontiac.

Fur Chapeau Set to Create Fashion News

NEW YORK (INS)—The fur hat will be a best seller this fall, predicts fashionable milliner Sally Victor.

Mrs. Victor, noting the style trend toward "little furs," thinks that fur hats in gay colors will be extremely popular.

"They won't all be mink," the milliner said, "and they won't necessarily match coats."

By way of demonstration, Mrs. Victor has many fur hats in her own fall collection. She shows expensive fur hats of white mink, dark mink and black broadtail, but also offers gay little leopard pillboxes, and both big and little hats in vivid blue, yellow and red-dyed lapin—which is a fancy name for rabbit.

Brick-Like Vinyl

A new vinyl wall covering which can be installed by the home handyman has been designed to duplicate brick or stone in form, color and texture. It is available in light-weight, fire-resistant rigid plastic in six types of textured surface. It can be cleaned with a damp cloth and the dead air pockets behind it offer insulating properties, says the manufacturer.

Don't Demoralize Cardiac Victim

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In the past month, no fewer than six women have consulted me, by letter or in person, about getting a job "because my husband has a heart condition and probably won't be able to return to work."

In many cases it is a good idea for the woman to have a job, to keep her busy when her children are grown. But very often her husband's condition is not nearly as disastrous as she thinks.

In all such cases, I have urged her to find out the facts about heart disease, because if she is full of anxiety and thinks her husband's useful and productive years are over, it will do him no good.

WORK FULL TIME

The truth is that many people with a cardiac condition can and do work full time.

For example, the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania has a cardiac work evaluation unit which has helped several hundred men and women to remain in useful jobs, even though they have a heart condition.

And many companies have found that it pays to keep valuable and productive workers on the payroll and do all they can to cooperate.

The wife, in a case like this, can be a powerful influence for good or for ill.

If your husband has a heart condition, don't automatically assume that his active life is over and that from now on you must be the breadwinner. It will demoralize him and, anyway, chances are it isn't true.

LEARN PROGRAM

Check with your local branch of the American Heart Association and learn what their program is. Much is being done in this field and you owe it to your husband and to yourself to find out.

Do get a job if you like, but don't do it because of your husband's illness. Do it for its own sake.

It will develop you as a person and keep your mind off the frequently unjustified fears which any heart condition in the family is apt to cause.

Don't discuss your husband's illness with him and his.

If he has to make changes in his schedule, get more rest, for example, don't turn down the bridge date by saying, "Harry has to go to bed at 10—his heart, you know." Just say that neither of you feels like playing bridge.

Remember, in any illness, that the point of view of the wife may be all-important.

Avoid the new bulky-top look. Soft fullness at the bustline and this will minimize bosom and balance top-heavy figure.

Dior gives some new skirts real latitude; shows some hemline fullness which is essential to counterbalance the heavy upper figure. Dior also showed great simplicity in bodice cuts, another feature to avoid a top-heavy look.

For those who have trouble with spilled powder on the dressing table; try using a decorative salt shaker to hold powder. The right amount of powder can be put right on the puff.

Popular Vogue With Teeners

Back-to-school time calls for new clothes, and new clothes for young school set cottons, and the high French look is everywhere in schoolset cottons, and the high fashion themes from Paris have been cut down to school-size versions.

The overblouse, the tunic and the A-line are as bright and shiny as an apple in separates, jumpers, and dresses, reports the National Cotton Council.

The overblouse is the fashion favorite with the ABC crowd. Pleated skirts are popular companions, featuring the long-torso look.

Leading candidates for a straight "A" fashion are a red overblouse and gray jumper in cotton broadcloth. The outfit looks like a blouse and box-pleated skirt, but the sleeveless jumper can be worn alone making it a double-duty outfit. To give it a French flair, there's a red beret in cotton.

Making fashion news on the playground are the Scotch tartans in cotton broadcloth and corduroy. Black Watch plaid, a top scorer is featured in blazers, jumpers, dresses and pedal pushers.

The efficient way my Amy whizzes through her housework leaves me dizzy, but proud! Take wood floors, for instance. Some gals spend a backbreaking day scrubbing and waxing. But not Amy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and Bruce does practically all the work. And Amy's friends just rave about our beautiful wood floors. My Amy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure outsmart tough floor care problems. And I can't help crowing about them.

Truman Autograph Party Highlights 'Author' Debut

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman made his formal debut as an author today against a background of flowers, television cameras and strains of the Missouri Waltz.

More than 500 persons were in the grand ballroom of the Muehlebach Hotel when the former President — seven minutes late — came in for the autographing party for the first edition of his memoirs, "Year of Decisions."

Wearing a dark blue suit with red carnation in his lapel and smiling broadly, Truman was escorted to a temporary stage. Then, with little fanfare, the first buyer stepped up to have her book autographed. She was 5-year-old Jane

Jessie, daughter of Randall Jesse WDAF-TV program director.

SIGNS FLYLEAVES
From there on the book owners moved rapidly in front of Truman's desk.

Inscribing only his name on the flyleaf, he was able to handle a customer every six seconds for the first hour.

Through the day, however, Truman will receive some relief from his strenuous penmanship duties through ceremonies arranged by various organizations. These include the Ararat Shrine, members of Battery D, his World War I outfit, Lions Club of Kansas City, and the National League of American Penwomen.

Even with the rush, signing his name in rapid fire succession was nothing new to Truman who, as a county judge, once signed 6,000 bonds in two hours.

Three lines of customers wound around the big ballroom and far out into the lobby. Some of them were carrying as many as five and six books saying they were giving them as Christmas presents.

Heart Funds Allotted

DETROIT (INS) — The Michigan Heart Association has allotted $142,000 for heart disease research in the state. The announcement was made yesterday by the association president, Dr. L. Paul Ralph.

Named Police Chief

MONROE (INS) — The Monroe City Commission has promoted Lt. Harris W. Lapp to the post of police chief, replacing Jesse Fisher, who recently retired.

Ferris Field Started

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Work has started on a new athletic field at Ferris Institute where the school's football teams have been without a home field since new campus construction in 1946. The Legislature has allocated $25,000 for the project and the Ferris budget for 1956-57 asks $35,000 more for its completion.

Flint Ups Bus Fares

FLINT (AP) — Higher bus fares for the Flint City Coach Lines have been approved by a 5-3 vote of the City Commission. New rates go up five cents for adults, from 15 cents a ride to 20 cents, or six tickets for $1. The company said the increase will permit a changeover from trolley coaches to 100 per cent diesel operations.

'That Other End' Gets Lineman of Week Award

ANN ARBOR (U)—Tom Maentz, whom they called "that other end" when Michigan's football season started, finds himself The Associated Press Lineman of the Week today—an honor he modestly says belongs to the whole squad.

The 20-year-old junior from Holland, Mich., was voted the week's best lineman by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters for his blazing performance last Saturday against Iowa. His pair of touchdown catches literally pulled Michigan out of defeat.

"It sure is an honor," said Maentz. "But the team really earned it."

Little was heard of Maentz when the season started. He was overshadowed by big Ron Kramer, Michigan's other versatile end who himself snagged two passes for 79 yards and a touchdown Saturday for a high rating in this week's lineman poll.

It was Maentz who grabbed 5 passes for 169 yards and two scores, including the one that gave Michigan its first lead over the Hawkeyes in the last three minutes.

Maentz, who practiced his lightning speed last summer by running wind sprints in the Holland High School yard, teamed with Kramer for the devastating air attack that broke Iowa's back in the last crucial minutes.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, who won All-America rating as a Michigan end himself, said "Maentz is a very fine lad, a deserving boy—they're the two finest ends in the country."

When Maentz came back this season after working on his running at home, Oosterbaan asked, "have you ever seen anyone improve their speed like that? He's at least a couple of steps faster than he was."

Maentz said speed is what he was after in the summer workouts. I'd run in 20 or 30-yard stretches, and I know it helped."

He had every opportunity to show it when he went out for a pass against Iowa. He hooked and got by the Iowa defender, took the pass on the dead run and bolted for the end zone. The play covered 60 yards. It gave Michigan a 27-21 lead with less than 3 minutes left.

Earlier, Kramer had pulled in another touchdown pass for 66 yards that brought Michigan within one point of the Hawkeyes—21-20.

The 20-year-old junior who came off the bench to throw Michigan to its 6th straight victory, 33-21, was quarterback Jimmy Maddock.

Maddock completed five of six passes, including the two caught by Maentz and Kramer with the clock clipping the seconds away.

"The guys gave me real good protection," Maddock said. "I had all the time in the world to throw. Passing to guys like we have makes it easy too."

Maddock had had news from his close friends and teammate, Ed Shannon.

Shannon lost his mother Monday at University Hospital after a long illness. His father, Edward J. Shannon, of River Forest, Ill., took the body home for service this morning at St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church.

OHIO STATE—Buckeyes worked out for 90 minutes in the rain after coaches heard Tom Miller, Indiana publicist tell a quarterback club that "somebody we are going to beat the pants off somebody."

ILLINOIS—Reserve center Clem Ryan is out of the Michigan contest because of an injured knee, but all other Illini are expected to play.

Georgia Tech's Bowl Ambitions Seen at Stake

Outcome of Tennessee Clash May Determine Engineers' Future

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (U)—Bowl-ambitious Georgia Tech meets a greatly improved Tennessee football team here Saturday and the outcome of the game may decide where the Engineers will spend New Year's Day.

Georgia Tech, the nation's eighth-ranking team in the weekly Associated Press poll, is a virtual cinch to wind up with a bid either to New Orleans' Sugar Bowl, Dallas' Cotton Bowl or Jacksonville's Gator Bowl.

A victory over Tennessee would greatly enhance Tech's chances of winning the Southeastern Conference title and going to the Sugar Bowl. Although the New Orleans classic has no official tie-up with the SEC, the league champion normally plays host in the Bayou battle.

But even if Tennessee should defeat the Engineers, they could not be counted out of consideration for the Cotton and Gator Bowls. Tech's remaining opponents are winless Alabama and in-and-out Georgia.

Coach Bobby Dodd has taken his boys to four successive New Year's Day games and they've won them all.

Last Jan. 1, he piloted Tech to a 14-6 decision over Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl. His coaching adversary that day was Bowden Wyatt, now the ringmaster at Tennessee.

Dodd, taking cognizance of the fact Tennessee has won four in a row since early season losses to Mississippi State and Duke, said:

"We're not underestimating the Vols. Bowden Wyatt has done a fine job bringing his young players along. If our team plays the same kind of game it did against Duke, however, I think our chances of winning are very good."

Tech mauled Duke, 27-0, last Saturday for its sixth victory of the season against a lone 12-14 setback by Auburn.

"To beat Tech, we'll have to stop the finest set of running backs in the country," Wyatt declared. "Bobby Dodd's got a great team—perhaps the finest in the South."

Japanese Stars Fall to N.Y. 7-3

OSAKA (U)—The New York Yankees clubbed the All-Stars, picked from Japan's professional baseball leagues 7-3 today in an exhibition game played before a capacity crowd of 70,000 fans at Koshien Stadium.

The American League champion got three runs in the first inning on a double by Hank Bauer, a single by Billy Martin, a double by shortstop Gil McDougald and Bill Skowron's infield hit.

In the third Martin hit a home run into the left field seats. The Yanks got three more runs in the inning on two walks and three hits, one a triple by McDougald.

Railsplitters and Braves Battle to Scoreless Tie

Lincoln Junior High School's football team battled Washington's Braves to a scoreless tie Wednesday afternoon on the muddy Wisner Stadium turf in a Pontiac Junior High League game.

A good Railsplitter team fought Em Gilmann's Braves to a standstill, but the deadlock failed to prevent Washington from winning its 4th straight Junior High League title. Stalemate extended Washington's unbeaten string to 19 games, which now includes 17 wins and two ties. The previous tie was a 6-6 knot with Eastern.

Yesterday's contest ended the regular Junior High League schedule. Lincoln will meet Weaver next Tuesday, Nov. 8, in a re-scheduled contest. Washington finished its season with a 4-0-1 record.

Larry Sherwood's gridders threatened to score twice yesterday, reaching the Braves' three as the half ended and moving to the five in the 3rd quarter before losing the ball on downs. Lincoln nearly scored a safety in the 3rd when Charles Barge was tackled on the Braves' one-foot line.

Aussies to Withdraw

CANBERRA (U)—Australia will withdraw her troops from Malaya and recognize Communist China if the Labor party is returned at the Dec. 12 elections, Labor leaders said today. They said this policy was decided on at a party meeting.

Ryff Beats Paddy DeMarco; Says He Needs More Fights

BALTIMORE (U)—"Frankie Ryff needs more fights before challenging Bud Smith for the lightweight title," said Frankie Ryff.

Contrary to the customary

"Bring on the champ" bellow of a winner, Ryff took a calm outlook last night after he whipped former title holder Paddy DeMarco in a 10-rounder.

"That Smith is tough and you shouldn't fight the 'big' man until you're ready," said the 22-year-old Bronx, N.Y., flash.

"I need to fight often and more to be good enough," said the winner of 19 out of 30 bouts since 1951. His only loss was a split decision to Ralph Dupas, also one of his victims.

Two physical attributes more or less beyond his control may bar any lightweight title aspirations too. He continues to be susceptible to bleeding easily from around the eyes, both of them streaming from the fourth round on last night.

Also, he weighed 139½, and admitted he didn't like to train down to less which indicates he may have to become a welterweight. DeMarco also weighed 139½.

A sixth round knockdown of DeMarco was the big punch in Ryff's conquest of the 27-year-old titleholder of last year. It was the only round in which any of the three officials separated the two fighters by as much as two points. Two of them gave Ryff the round 10-8.

Otherwise, all the rounds were scored 10-9 or even with the widest total margin appearing on Referee Eddie Leonard's card, 98-92.

9-Week Homecoming 'M' Grad of 1906 Lives at Union Entire Season

ANN ARBOR (INS)—University of Michigan is proud of the fact that most of its old grads return each year for the homecoming football game.

However, for Karl Zollner, U. of M. '06, homecoming is a nine week affair.

Zollner takes over at the Michigan Union before opening game each year and leaves only to take in home and away games.

Zollner is a retired Portsmouth, O., jeweler who hardly leaves the Union building even though Wolverine coach Bennie Oosterbaan has given him a practice pass.

The old grad says he is probably the only person who has seen every yearly Michigan grid team since 1902.

Speaking of this year's team, now ranked No. 1 in the nation in the INS poll, he declared: "I'm an eternal optimist. We'll Iowa swept ahead of Michigan by eight points last week, I said we'll score twice more. But they didn't—they scored three more times."

The former jeweler retired 10 years ago against the better judgment of his friends who claimed he would become bored.

He says today: "I've had more fun in the last 10 years than ever before."

Finnish Runners in Japanese Marathon

TOKYO (U)—Two Finnish runners, V. Karvonen and E. Pulkkinen, are expected to compete in Japan's second Asahi Marathon Dec. 11, the Japan Athletic Federation announced today.

Finland is the first country formally to accept an invitation to compete.

Tournament officials picked the unveiling of the two 17-year-old kids as the major accomplishment of the competition at the Mexican Golf Club course.

Palacio, a Laredo, Tex., high school student, gave in to Sanders 3 and 1 in the title match yesterday, despite a rally to start the final 18 holes.

Miss Clifford, daughter of the British bro at the host club, defeated Nan Hervey of Mexico 3 and 1. Sanders, who's been playing golf 32 months, got going in the tournament by upsetting Mrs. Jack Munger of Dallas.

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Elusive flyweight Tanny Campo of Manila will meet Luke Sandoval of Wilmington, Calif., tonight in a 10-round fight.

Campo, No. 6 contender, is expected to be too slick for Sandoval, who is having to reduce from his normal 124 pounds to 115. Sandoval holds a height and reach advantage.

Two weeks ago Campo, 118, trounced Johnny Ortega here.

Winless Lions Prep for Colts Clash Saturday

Still Seek 1st Win; Will Have to Bottle Up Ameche, Shaw

DETROIT (INS)—The winless and somewhat disheartened Detroit Lions worked out today in preparation for Saturday night's game at Briggs Stadium with the Baltimore Colts, currently tied with the Los Angeles Rams for the Western Division lead.

The Lions, losers of all six games played to date, could scramble the race with a win over the surprising Colts.

Despite the Lions' dismal record, a crowd of nearly 50,000 is expected to be on hand at 8 p.m. kickoff time. The team sold more than 35,000 season tickets this year.

The Colts will be led by former Wisconsin great, Alan (The Horse) Ameche and quarterback George Shaw, both of whom have been outstanding this year.

Coach Buddy Parker will work on the Lions' defensive team this week after the 35-21 loss to the San Francisco 49ers on the West Coast, Sunday.

One bright spot showed up, however, in the loss. Dave Middleton, the rookie speedster from Auburn, caught nine passes for 144 yards after being switched to an end post.

Oakland County to Get More Lakes, Marshes

LANSING (U)—A system of 20 to 35 small lakes and marshes will be created in the Holly, Orionville and Bald Mountain recreation areas within the next few months, the state conservation department said today.

The ponds will be from one to 20 acres in size, they are being developed for ducks, turkeys and other wildlife.

Winter Racing Season

Annual Horse Migration Gets Moving as 3,200 Thoroughbreds Head South

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—The annual horse migration is under way, with 3,200 thoroughbreds headed for Florida and another winter racing season.

Gulfstream Park bedded down 47 head yesterday, and first arrivals are expected at Hialeah and Tropical later this week to await the season's opening Nov. 28.

Transporting these spirited animals from Northern tracks is a risky and expensive business. The ordinary horse car provides 18 stalls. Fifteen of the stalls are for the horses themselves; the remaining stalls are used for feed, water and other supplies.

The horses stand three abreast on fresh beds of shavings. They are fed hay and plenty of water, but oats are taboo. Being a heavy food with body heating qualities, oats bring the horse's temperature up and induce shipping fever.

Men must accompany the horses, and six are allowed in each car. They get a free ride. The horses are given generous doses of raw linseed oil, repeated frequently during the trip South.

Overfeeding and drafts, two of the dangers facing thoroughbreds in transit, must be warded off by alert stablehands who sleep with one eye open.

They must watch for the first

'Most Tackled Back' Still Likes His Job

HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—Charlie Sticka is perhaps the most tackled fullback in college football.

Actually, the jarring, 195-pound line bucker who sparks the Trinity College attack carries the ball about once in every three plays, but he gets tackled on almost every play.

That's the price he pays for the fearsome reputation he enjoys among Trinity's small college opponents and for the slick ball handling of his quarterback, Bobby Alexander. Time and again he takes Sticka into the line while handing off to a halfback for a slant outside tackle or around end.

Trinity's opponents know that if Sticka gets rolling he's about as easy to stop as a runaway diesel. When he heads for the line, they don't wait to look for the ball; they lay violent hands on him. Three of them usually can stop him, after five yards or so.

That's all right with Sticka, his teammates and his coach, Dan Jessee. The feint and fake attack, together with the impressive yardage Sticka gains when he does carry the ball, has made Trinity (enrollment 900) the only undefeated, untied team in New England. It has 13 straight wins to its credit and needs two more, against Amherst Saturday and Wesleyan next week, to complete its second consecutive perfect season.

Sticka, who will graduate next June, maybe into pro football, though well known in New England small college circles, suffers the usual fate of the small college luminary among viewers of the national football scene. They just don't know him. He's never played before more than 7,000 people. That's all Trinity field can hold, with standees.

Had he gone to Notre Dame, as he almost did, or to some other big school, many say he'd be a sure shot for the All-America first team.

Sticka doesn't seem to regret the opportunities for fame he may be missing, although it's almost impossible to get him to express an opinion on this or any other subject relating to himself.

"He's shy almost to the point of embarrassment," says a Hartford sports writer who has been watching him for three years, "but he's a wonderful kid. You can't say anything good enough about him. They all like him on the campus, his coach likes him and the other players on the team like him."

The board, consisting of sports writers and broadcasters of the area, again recommended numerous Oklahoma Sooners for both regional and All-America honors. Guard Bo Bolinger and Jerry Tubbs, center, got the applause for the third straight week, while a tackle, Cal Woodworth, made the grade for the first time.

The big question is whether Oklahoma City Capitol Hill can break the amazing 46-game winning streak of Douglass, this city's Negro high school.

A crowd of more than 7,000 will be on hand at the kickoff.

For years, Capitol Hill and Douglass have scrimmaged each other. With the end of race segregation in the public schools this fall, the teams decided to play a regularly scheduled game.

Men must accompany the horses, and six are allowed in each car. They get a free ride. The horses are given generous doses of raw linseed oil, repeated frequently during the trip South.

Overfeeding and drafts, two of the dangers facing thoroughbreds in transit, must be warded off by alert stablehands who sleep with one eye open.

They must watch for the first signs of drooping and fatigue that might foretell sickness. They take temperatures frequently by putting a finger in the horse's mouth or feeling the pulse. Normally, a horse's pulse ranges between 32 and 48; that of young colts, fillies and mares is faster than older stallions and geldings.

If the weather is cold, the horses are wrapped in blankets but these are removed at Jacksonville, Fla.

Horsemen consider the 350-mile trip from Jacksonville to Miami the most dangerous of the entire journey. It is here that horses take chills and from these may come shipping fever, a form of virulent pneumonia.

'SNO RULE AGAINST IT'—Could be Pontiac High School's football Chiefs working out in the snow, above. But it wasn't. The five players are members of the Holderness School team, Plymouth, N. H., who decided to combine football with skiing. After all, basketball is often played on muleback and roller skates!

State to Host Hockey Tryouts

Houghton, Ann Arbor Scene of Olympic Rink Tests This Month

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Two Michigan locations are among five places named for open tryouts for the 1956 Olympics hockey team.

Robert B. Rieder, Olympic team manager, said the tryouts will be held at Houghton, Nov. 10-12; Ann Arbor, Nov. 10-17; Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 16-20; Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 21-23; and Minneapolis, Nov. 23-26.

Players will be certified from the open tryouts to the Midwest sectional tryout at Williams Arena, Minneapolis, Dec. 1-13.

In the final selection, not less than 17 nor more than 20 players will be chosen on the basis of the sectional tryouts at Minneapolis and Boston, Mass. These players then will assemble in Duluth, Minn., Dec. 15 as the U. S. Olympic hockey team.

Also, he weighed 139½, and admitted he didn't like to train down to less which indicates he may have to become a welterweight. DeMarco also weighed 139½.

It was Kerwin's ninth consecutive win and his first professional fight in his home town. Kerwin weighed 138½ and Connors 139.

MSU's Daugherty Scoffs at 'Purdue Jinx'

EAST LANSING 48—"Don't believe in jinxes," said Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty. There had been some talk about the "Purdue jinx." Two years ago Purdue spoiled an otherwise unbeaten season for the team that went to the Rose Bowl game.

Last year, Lenny Dawson tossed three touchdown passes to lead the Boilermakers a 27-13 victory. "We never beat Stanford or Illinois before this season," Daugherty said. "But I know Purdue will be tough," he added.

He cited the passing of Lenny Dawson, the running of fullback Bill Murakowski—who has 411 yards so far this season—and the solid Boilermaker line.

Both teams have eight carriers with a better than four yards a try average.

In the passing department, Dawson has completed 38 of 102 for 553 yards and four touchdowns. MSU's Earl Morrall passed less than half as much but has a better completion average with 25 of 39 safely, caught for 488 yards and also four touchdowns.

"We've got to contain Dawson," said Daugherty, "and if our ground game won't get us there, we'll have to step up our own passing."

A steady downpour all yesterday afternoon limited the work-out once again to the tight indoor quarters of Jonson Fieldhouse.

Queried, Dr. James Feurig said that left half Clarence Peaks should be able to go at full tilt for the game. Peaks was in for only one play two weeks ago and last Saturday was slowed by his still tender ankle and a sinus infection he picked up on the plane trip to Wisconsin.

If the Spartans follow the pattern of recent games, Peaks should have his day against Purdue.

First, fullback Jerry Planulis led the way against Notre Dame. Then Morrall became a passing magician against Illinois. And last week right half Walt Kowalczyk ran like a souped-up tank against Wisconsin.

Peaks, now at a physical peak again, should be just about due to continue the rotation of back-field honors.

"I still think he's the best all-around player in the backfield," Daugherty said. "he can pass and kick as well as run and is steady and dependable on defense."

Bragan New Pirate Pilot Under One-Year Contract

PITTSBURGH 48—Bobby Bragan, a 37-year-old veteran of eight years as a minor league manager, who makes no secret of his admiration for Branch Rickey, is the new field manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rickey, who became chairman of the board after resigning as general manager, wasn't at the news conference when Bragan was handed a one-year contract for an undisclosed salary yesterday.

Bragan, apparently referring to the help Rickey has given him, made it clear he owes a lot to the Mahatma and will try to exploit the youth movement which Rickey began in his five-year reign. Rickey was succeeded by 37-year-old Joe L. Brown, one of his front office assistants.

"I am definitely a Rickey man," Bragan said. "If I am a pretty good manager today, it is due to his counsel."

Brown, who has said he is making his own decisions, quickly declared that Bragan is a "Brown man." He said he knew that many people believe choice of Bragan was dictated by someone else—obviously Rickey, adding:

"I rise or fall on this selection. I am totally confident that he is the best man available."

Just as he did in becoming manager of the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League, Bragan follows Fred Haney as manager of the Pirates. Haney was let out by Rickey at the end of last season after three years.

In Hollywood, Haney—who has recently signed as a coach with the Milwaukee Braves—said he is glad the Pirates signed Bragan, adding:

NEW MANAGER—Bobby Bragan, playing manager of the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League the past three seasons, (right) wears a broad grin after being signed to a one-year contract yesterday as field manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates to succeed Fred Haney. Joe L. Brown, (left) who was named general manager only nine days ago, made the announcement of Bragan's appointment with this terse comment: "This man is a Brown man."

Counter-Offensive Planned for 'Cats

CHICAGO (INS)—Northwestern University, for many years an also-ran on the national football scene, will launch a counter-offensive to revive success on the grid-iron.

The athletic department, under fire since Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, last successful Wildcat football coach, left for the University of California in 1947, is expected to undergo a complete reorganization before spring.

The situation came to a head when an article calling for the Wildcats' withdrawal from playing football in the Big Ten appeared in the Daily Northwestern—the student newspaper.

In his 1st game at an end position for the Detroit Lions, Dave Middleton of Auburn caught nine passes for 144 yards.

Ryder Cuppers Rest Up Prior to 1st Round

Begin Tourney Saturday at Thunderbird CC in Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. 48—Members of the British and United States Ryder Cup golf teams planned to take things easy today and get in one final day of serious practice before going into the international matches Saturday and Sunday at the Thunderbird Country Club.

Capt. Dai Rees of the British said he planned to give his players a final round of play tomorrow and delay until after the play before naming his pairings for the match play encounter.

Capt. Chick Harbert may hold back his decision until the same time.

Par 71 proved no mystery to most of the players yesterday. Only two Britishers and three Yankees failed to shoot under 71.

Low scores were turned in by Sydney Scott and Johnny Brown of the visitors, a pair of 67s, and Jack Burke Jr. and Chandler Harper registered 66s.

Most of the players did not plan to play a complete round today.

Conservation Group to Close 2 Camps

LANSING 48—State conservation department said today it will close two state park group camps because they are too expensive to operate.

Department officials said the Muskegon State Park camp with a capacity of 120 would be closed this fall.

Burns Lodge, a small group camp at the Waterloo Recreation area, will be closed after February, the department said.

Pontiac Mentor Says Upstarters 'Really Are Gunning for Us'

Two very venerable and respected opponents in Saginaw Valley Conference football get together Friday night on the Saginaw High gridiron and most anything can happen.

This is one of the rivalries that almost always produces some exceptionally interesting results. And, if it snows, or rains, tomorrow night, it will be a "typical" Chief-Trojan engagement. Weather always seems to be in a tantrum on dates for these clubs' meeting.

Chiefs seek their 3rd straight victory over the Trojans.

They won last year's engagement at Washtenaw Stadium, 32-21 in a wild scoring battle. Coach, Ed Graybell, sees another similar scrap Friday night.

As for starting lineups, Graybell, back on the job again after a "tour" in Pontiac General Hospital during which he missed the Royal Oak game, says, "I don't know from day to day what boys will be in there." He meant that injuries, ineligibility, and illness had taken a hefty toll of his squad.

Saginaw was co-favorite with Bay City at the start of the season. However, the Trojans have fallen on evil days. Their last engagement was a 46-19 loss to Flint Central, which also gave Pontiac an earlier licking.

Trojans are pegged as the Valley's biggest team. They average 260-280 on the line, are heavy in the backfield, too. But with all this weight, they lack speed and maneuverability, observers report, lending hopes for a Pontiac victory. Chiefs' speedy backs should function well against such a club.

Friday's game is set for 8 p.m. on the Trojan's field.

Over 7 Miles by Air

In his eight seasons in the National Football League, quarterback Bobby Layne has gained more than seven miles with his passes.

Chiefs' Hopes Rise

Return of Williams, Barge Bolsters PHS Status in MHSAA Cross-Country Test

Bolstered by the return of their No. 1 stalwart, Perry Williams, Pontiac Chiefs' cross country team today rated a top spot in the Class A Michigan High School Athletic Association's state meet at Ypsilanti, Saturday.

Williams, along with No. 7 man Alex Barge, were ineligible for last Saturday's MHSAA regional at Birmingham. According to Pontiac coach Wally Schloerke, both have made up deficiencies.

Other strong contenders for the Class A title are Lansing Eastern, Battle Creek, Jackson, Kalamazoo and Birmingham.

Pre-meet opinion is that a return match between Williams and Kalamazoo's Bob Lake is in the offing. Lake defeated Perry by two seconds at the Albion Invitational Oct. 22.

Scene of the harrier finale of the 1955 season is scheduled for the 2-mile Washtenaw Country Club golf course with the state's Class C-D schools slated to start at 10:30 a.m. Class B will run immediately after the C-D race. Class A run is the finale.

Chiefs team will include: Williams, Bill Douglas, Gene Cretal, Rodney Treals, Pete Cox, Don Evans and Barge. Schloerke looks for a tough battle for top honors "with a lot hinging on our 5th man. If he runs a good race we should do well," the coach said.

Birmingham will attempt to continue its success in Class A, after capturing the regionals last week. Maple team will include undefeated Doug Waggasser (No. 1 in the regionals), Bob Brown, Lynn Bena, John Emmerling, Tom Fontaine, Bob Benson and Gary Schack.

Maples finished 6th last year when Kalamazoo won. Course record is 10:41, held by Jackson's Carl Parrish.

Hawk Defenseman Undergoes Surgery

BOSTON (U.S.)—Chicago Capt. Gus Morton, veteran National Hockey League defenseman, was reported in good condition today after undergoing emergency surgery for removal of an intestinal abscess.

Dr. Edward R. Browne, Boston Bruins team physician, said after the operation last night that Morton will be hospitalized for two weeks and will be lost to the Black Hawks for an additional two to four weeks.

Morton was stricken shortly after his arrival in Boston for tonight's game with the Bruins at the Boston Garden.

Dates Announced Today

BOSTON (U.S.)—Harry Cleverly, chairman of the selection committee for the U.S. Olympic hockey team, announced today preliminary tryouts will open next Monday at Boston Arena and run for six weeks.

Cleverly, hockey coach at Boston University, said the final tryout sessions will be held in Duluth, Minn., next month. The top 17 amateur skaters will be chosen to represent the United States in the Olympic Hockey Tournament in Italy in January.

Navy Prepares 'The Monster' for Blue Devils

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (U.S.)—Vince Monto, 200-pound fullback nicknamed "The Monster," is being readied by Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz for Saturday's game with Duke in case Dick Guest isn't able to play.

Guest has rib injuries which make him a questionable starter. Monto has carried the ball 29 times for 152 yards, an average of 5.2 which is the best on the Navy team. He has scored twice and caught six passes, doing part-time duty.

Coach Erdelatz explained that Guest has been playing regularly only by virtue of the fact that he has the all around edge on blocking and defense. He also does the punting.

Monto could put a spark in the Navy offense which so far has been overshadowed by the passing of quarterback George Welsh.

Skippers, 'Jays in JV Deadlock

Junior Varsity football teams from Waterford and Southfield fought to a 13-13 tie Wednesday afternoon on Southfield's rain-soaked field.

Leroy Vogt scrambled 36 yards for one Skipper TD and Jerry Nelson scored the other with a 16-yard run. Henry Kopet tallied both Southfield TD's on runs of 53 and six yards.

Crary Junior High dropped a 20 decision to Southfield on Waterford's rain-drenched gridiron when a Crary runner was downed in the end zone for a 2nd-period safety. Crary ended its season with a 1-5 mark.

Charleston Now Top Bengal Farm Club

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—Charleston of the American Assn. today is officially the top farm club of the Detroit Tigers.

John McHale, Detroit farm director, signed a five-year contract yesterday leasing Watt Powell Park for operation of the Charleston franchise. The club itself was purchased Oct. 12 from owner Danny Mendez.

Don't use flagstones of varying thicknesses unless you want a lot of extra trouble in setting them properly.

U. S. Jumping Team Holds Philosophical View Although Shut Out, So Far, in National Event

NEW YORK (U)—Billy Steinkraus captain of the U.S. international jumping team philosophized today that maybe it's a blessing in disguise that the Americans have drawn a big, round zero so far in the National Horse Show.

"We certainly haven't been covering ourselves with glory," said the Westport, Conn., squire. "But by losing, at least people come to the realization that we do need help for the Olympics next year."

"We did fine at the Harrisburg show last week, winning four events, so everyone probably figured that we were doing fine with what we had and why give us any help."

The show went into the third day today and three of the 13 international tests have been completed. They've been divided among Mexico, Ireland and Canada. The closest the Yanks have come was Charlie Denney's second in last night's event won by Bob Ballard of Canada.

"I don't want to paint a black picture," said Steinkraus, "because we are not as bad as we've looked here. For one thing, Nautical, one of our best horses is laid up, and I gave my own mount,

Night Owl, a rest. He's a good horse but he couldn't keep going. Steinkraus and Co. did well in the European shows last summer and upset the dope by taking third in the Olympics in '52, which was perhaps the biggest surprise of the games. The Yanks were supposed to be far down the list.

Meanwhile, heads were waging over the performance of Riviera Wonder, owned by Bernie Mann of Fort Washington, N.Y.

This 4-year-old grey gelding has two firsts for his efforts and currently leads the race for the open jumping championship. He never saw a jump until three months ago. He won one of yesterday's events while Starfire, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. George Sadler of Indianapolis, took the other.

With three classes out of the way and three more to go in the green hunter division, Shamdale, the Harrisburg champion from the Ithaca, N.Y., stables of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Smith, and Duke of Paconian, owned by John S. Pettibone of Middlebury, Va., are tied for the lead, each with a first and a second.

Jazz Session, entered by Mrs. Morton W. Smith of Cobham, Va., has piled up 13 points to lead the conformation hunters. He won the Richard Gambrill Trophy yesterday.

Major Leaguers in Barnstorming Game

LOS ANGELES (U)—Baseball players Willie Mays, Ernie Banks, Don Newcombe and their barnstorming All-Star team are due in tonight for exhibition games at Wrigley Field Friday night and Sunday afternoon.

Gus Zernial, Hank Bauer, Gene Mauch, Del Crandall and others are slated to oppose the touring players.

Marquette Next on Titan Card

Fromhart and Company Hope to Stop Toppers 1st Time in 7 Years

DETROIT (INS)—Coach Wally Fromhart and the Detroit Titans try to stop the Marquette Hilltoppers for the 1st time in seven years Saturday and at the same time reach the .500 mark for season's play.

Detroit has been unable to defeat Marquette since 1948 and the Titans have managed only one touchdown in its last four starts.

Since routing Wichita, 41-0, Sept. 30, Detroit has dropped 7-0 and 23-0 tilts to Houston and Boston College. Cled out a 7-0 decision over Oklahoma A & M and deadlocked with Cincinnati.

Fromhart is counting on sophomore flash Billy Russell to break loose Saturday. The fleet scabbard holds the only U. of D. score in the last four games, that coming in the win over Oklahoma A & M.

Major Leaguers Lone Salvation Is Farm System

Roy Hamey Says Clubs Will Have to Develop Their Own Talent

PHILADELPHIA (U)—The salvation of a major league baseball operation is down on the farm, says General Manager Roy Hamey of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Hamey said he doubted if any big deals would be made in the National League this winter. "If you want to catch the clubs in front you'll have to develop your own talent," he said.

The Phillies G. M. said that not even Frank Lane, "Trader Frank" late of the Chicago White Sox and now general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has anything to offer for a real deal.

"Lane was in to see me last week, but he has too many untouchables to make a major deal," Hamey said.

Hamey spoke at a press conference yesterday called to introduce Eugene Martin, the club's new farm director. Martin will coordinate all minor league activities under Hamey and Bob Carpenter, Phillies owner and president.

The Phillies' policy now is to push vigorously its minor league program. Hamey said his objective is to stock the farms so well that the talent is in excess, so that like the New York Yankees of the American League, when a club needs players they'll have to look to the Phillies as the National League club with the mostest.

Hamey announced that the Phillies would operate a pre-season rookie school next spring. Some 30 or 35 of the club's top farm prospects—from Class D to Class AAA—will be given three weeks of intensive instruction in Philadelphia baseball techniques.

Hamey admitted the idea is a copy of the Yankees' school. "I don't mean to be a copy cat, but the school has been successful for the Yankees. It's the best of its kind I've seen. I think it will help us," Hamey is a former Yankee official.

The school will be conducted Feb. 5-25, and will be held at the club's Clearwater, Fla., training site. The faculty will be headed by Manager Mayo Smith of the Phillies and will include all Philadelphia coaches and minor league farm managers.

Cotton Bowl Eyes Jan. 2 Prospects

DALLAS (U-P)—Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Mississippi State and Auburn will get the eye this week as the Cotton Bowl starts looking over prospects for its Jan. 2 football game.

Kowalczyk 3rd in Conference Ground Gaining

Illini's Jefferson No. 1, Cassidy 2nd, Walt Tops in Rushing Average

CHICAGO (U-P)—Sophomore Walter Kowalczyk, Michigan State half, is giving the veterans a run for it in Big Ten football statistics.

The 6-foot, 190-pounder, who held the state prep 100-yard dash title two years when at Westfield, Mass., High School, has vaulted to 3rd on the conference ground gaining list, according to official statistics today.

Kowalczyk's feat of barreling through Wisconsin for 172 yards last week gave him a net of 256 in four league games on 38 carries and the No. 1 average of 7.1. Illinois' Harry Jefferson tops the rushing department with 296 in 35 trips for 5.3. Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy of Ohio State, who has played on less conference game, is 2nd with 272 in 45 for 6.0.

Len Dawson of Purdue and Michigan State's Earl Morrall top the passers. Dawson has hit on 47 out of 81 for 449 yards. Morrall has 16 strikes in 27 attempts for 291. Each has pitched for only one touchdown. Dawson has had nine interceptions and Morrall three.

Dawson ranks 1st in total offense even with a minus 21 yards rushing. Subtracting this from his passing yardage he has a net of 43 and an average per play of 4.5. Jerry Reichow of Iowa is 2nd with 141 yards rushing and 251 passing for 382. Morrall and Wisconsin's Jim Haluska are close behind with totals of 389 and 386, respectively. Morrall's average per play is tops.

games. Thus the Cotton Bowl's attention will be centered on them for the time being. Also, these are the only instances of Cotton Bowl prospects meeting each other.

With the announcement by Cotton Bowl President Felix McKnight yesterday that representatives would be present for those games came the revelation that Tennessee had moved into the picture.

The Volunteers got off to a poor start, losing their first two games, but winning the next four, and a victory over Georgia Tech would make them good prospects for the bowl in which they already have twice appeared. Should Tennessee get the bid it would mean that Bowden Wyatt would be sending a team into the Cotton Bowl two years in a row. He had his Arkansas team here last Jan. 1 before going to Tennessee as coach. McKnight already has seen Auburn. He was in New Orleans attending a newspaper meeting Saturday and went out to watch Auburn lose to a Tulane team McKnight described as "inspired." He said he was impressed with Auburn despite its loss.

McKnight explained that no offers would be made at this time but that all the prospects would merely be looked over to get a line on which is the best bet for visiting team in the Cotton Bowl. He pointed out that some of the most important games of the season were coming up in the next two or three weeks. He has indicated that the Army-Navy game may become a guiding point in the selection but cited Mississippi State and West Virginia-Pittsburgh and West Virginia-Syracuse as other important games to be watched.

Host team in the Cotton Bowl is supposed to be the Southwest Conference champion but right now Texas A&M is leading the race and if it wins the title can not play in the game because it is under probation for recruiting violations. Some other conference team would have to be selected, probably the runner-up.

Nevertheless, the teams that play in the Cotton Bowl are going to take down a pile of cash. Secretary Howard Grubbs estimated that each would receive $180,000. They'll have to divide up with their conferences but should come off with a sizable jack pot.

Madison Shoots for First Oakland-B League Crown

Madison High School can write the final chapter to its most successful gridiron season Friday night when they do battle with a winless Troy aggregation at Troy. Oakland-B is the prize Madison shoots for.

The encounter will also close the 1955 campaign in which Madison has a spotless record, and the best defensive mark in the conference.

In seven contests Eagles have allowed a total 27 points while accounting for 94 themselves. Nearest approach to this record is held by 2nd running Clawson which has chalked up 114 points in winning five, losing one in league competition and giving up 48.

Clawson Trojans who gave the Eagles a rough race until Madison tagged them with a 7-0 loss on Oct. 14, have only a faint hope of grabbing a share of the flag if the Colts can pull their 1st win of the year over Madison.

Clawson's loop play was completed last Friday with a win over 1954 champion Avondale. Result left a three-way tie for 3rd place. Trojans clash with Oxford this week which boasts a 1-5-1 mark. In other Oakland-B contests, deadlock for 3rd place will be broken as Fitzgerald plays Avondale, one of those involved in the tie. Lake Orion and Roseville meet at Roseville.

TANDEM SHOTS—Of the wide variety of spare leaves there are only three tandems, and they are all tough. With one pin directly behind the other, in shooting the 1-5, 2-8 or 3-9, a straight-on, drive shot has to be dead center. That's why the big timers, knowing their angles, prefer to play tandems from the outside. To cover tandems best, use the widest angles possible. Doing so, you'll open up the pocket between the pins. As sketch shows, shoot the 3-9 from the extreme left side, and angle for the 1-5 and the 2-8 from the right side, with normal speed. (Copyright 1955, John F. Dille Co.)

Maples Point for Acorn Tilt

Birmingham High's newly crowned Eastern Michigan League football champions are, like this week, taking a well-deserved rest after last Friday's title-winning 14-6 verdict over Port Huron.

With the school's 1st league championship safely tucked away, the Maples will resume action Friday, Nov. 11 (Armistice Day), against invading Berkley. The hapless Bears should serve as a good warm-up for Birmingham's traditional Thanksgiving Day finale with the strong Acorns from Royal Oak.

Howard Bailey's winless Bears stand little or no chance against the power-laden Maples. The defending Inter-Lakes League champions have dropped seven straight decisions this season, allowing 207 points while scoring only one touchdown.

But Royal Oak poses a "horse of another color." The Acorns loom as the Maples' lone remaining obstacle to a flawless year. The Birmingham-Royal Oak clash promises to be a real thriller in the true tradition of the annual series.

Jim Manilla's Acorns have two opponents prior to Birmingham. They face EML member Ferndale this Friday night at Ferndale, then tackle Highland Park at home in a Border Cities League tilt the following week.

Four other Eastern loop schools will see action tomorrow night against non-league teams. Hazel Park will invade Van Dyke Lincoln, East Detroit visits Hamtramck, Port Huron entertains Grosse Pointe, and Mt. Clemens concludes its season at home against Owosso.

Cranbrook shoots for the Inter-State Prep League championship this Saturday afternoon in its own gridiron against Shady Side Pittsburgh. The surprising Cranbrook held a 3-1 conference mark and a 4-1 overall record.

A victory over Shady Side will give Fred Campbell's gridirers an undisputed title. Their only setback was a respectable 22-13 loss to Birmingham's Maples, currently ranked 5th in the state.

Jet Action 1st Entry in 19th Pimlico Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—The first formal acceptance of an invitation to run a horse in the Nov. 26 Pimlico Special arrived yesterday from Maine Chance Farm.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham said she would enter Jet Action, recent winner of the Washington Park Handicap and the Olympic Handicap, in the 19th edition of the Pimlico race.

Twenty-five of the Detroit Lions' players are married.

Area Coaches, Players Guests at Cage Clinic

Birmingham High School basketball coach John Petrakis has sent invitations to all prep cage coaches and players in this area, for a basketball clinic Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The event will be held in the Maples' big gymnasium at Cranbrook and Lincoln roads, Birmingham, and its big drawing card will be George Mikan, NBA star.

Mikan, known as "Mr. Basketball," will conduct the clinic, with a talk and demonstration of the game he has so greatly enhanced. He also will answer questions about the game. Coaches may take any of their players they desire to this affair, Petrakis says.

Richards Sets Date for Spring Program

BALTIMORE (AP)—General Manager Paul Richards has ordered his pitchers and catchers—veterans, promising rookies from the farm organization—to report to Scottsdale, Ariz., on Feb. 15 to launch the Baltimore Orioles spring training program.

Rookie infielders and outfielders will report five days later, Feb. 20, for intensive specialized instruction, and the older hands will report on March 1.

Full-scale workouts will begin March 2, Richards said, and the first exhibition game will be played March 10 against the Chicago Cubs. Other exhibition opponents will be the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians.

Toronto Pushes Detroit Deeper Into NHL 'Pi'

Leafs Hand Red Wings 3-1 Loss Wednesday; Back Home Today

TORONTO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings are experiencing a sensation they haven't felt in a long, long time in the game of hockey.

Simply, it's that fact that Detroit doesn't have a worry in the world about a team overtaking them in the standings because there isn't a team below them to do any overtaking.

Meanwhile, the Wings sank lower into their doldrums last night as the Toronto Maple Leafs shoved them even deeper into last place with a 3-1 victory which in turn lifted Toronto over three teams into third place in the National Hockey League standings.

It was Detroit's 6th loss against two victories and three ties while Toronto holds a 5-5-1 record. The Wings are back on home ice tonight against the New York Rangers who already hold two victories over the defending NHL champions.

Toronto's veteran center Ted Stoen led the way last night with two goals. Rookie leftwinger Earl Balfour started Toronto off in the 2nd period as he took defenseman Tim Horton's pass and shot it through the legs of Wing goalie Glenn Hall.

Detroit's Johnny Bucyk was serving time during the 2nd period when Sloan made it 2-0, sinking Sid Smith's rebounder.

Detroit's Bill Dineen cut the margin to one goal in the 3rd period when he sank Red Kelly's pass, but Sloan tallied near the end of the period to widen the margin again.

Initiated Forward Pass

Former Wesleyan Coach to Be Honored Saturday

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (INS)—Howard R. (Bosey) Reiter, the coach whose Wesleyan team was the first to employ the modern forward pass in football, will be honored Saturday at the Williams-Wesleyan game in Middletown.

With the 84-year-old former coach will be the seven living members of the Wesleyan team that took to the air on Oct. 3, 1906, and added a new dimension to the game.

Reiter, a Princeton alumnus and later coach at Lehigh for 30 years, coached Wesleyan from 1905 to '11 and taught the overhand spiral pass to his squad the year it was made legal for the college game.

He had perfected the maneuver while player-coach of Connie Mack's old Philadelphia Athletics, one of the early professional grid games. Sammy Moore threw the 1st pass to Irvin Van Tassel. The play was good for 18 yards but it didn't help much. Yale won, 21-0.

France to Have New Elections

Assembly Vote Favors
Endorsement of Early
January Ballots

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly early today voted 330-211 in favor of holding new general elections next month, but a cloud of parliamentary confusion hung over the future of the plan.

Endorsement of the government's bill to end the present Assembly Jan. 2 — thus, advancing the elections from June — came on a vote of confidence for Premier Edgar Faure. The support of 38 members of the 94-member Communist group gave the government its victory.

But what happens now was anything but clear.

The fate of the bill is up to the Council of the Republic or Senate. If the upper House does not act within the next two weeks the whole early election project may have to be tossed out the window.

The Assembly debated the bill under a government demand for urgent consideration. Under this procedure debate must be concluded within three days. It also requires urgent treatment from the Senate.

When Faure asked for the confidence vote at Tuesday night's session, he suggested that the ballot be held Thursday. Andre-Jean Godin, an Assembly vice president who was presiding, said such a timetable would put the measure outside the limit for urgent treatment.

The confusion became compounded at the start of last night's session when Assembly President Pierre Schneider promised liberal application of the Assembly rule limiting speakers to five minutes. The first two spoke more than half an hour.

West May Ask Reds Act on German Vote

DISCUSS OTHER ITEMS

While the unification issue still was considered the dominant one of the conference, the ministers will turn to item two of the agenda — disarmament — next week.

The Allies were to discuss today their common determination to refuse to be drawn into a protracted discussion by Molotov on this issue.

They felt there was nothing to suggest the conference could go beyond the positions reached by the U. N. Disarmament Subcommittee, whose membership includes Canada along with the Big Four.

The famous Swiss north wind "La Bise" has made these Geneva diplomats into sneezers, sniffers, coughers, nose blowers and pill takers.

Molotov has caught some sort of illness, although Soviet officials were unwilling to give the Swiss wind the credit. He spent yesterday in bed with stomach cramps and under a doctor's care.

Geneva drugstores do a land-office business selling patent medicines and cold cures during this season of the north wind.

If a man goes berserk while the wind is blowing, the courts are inclined to take favorably any defense statement that "it was caused by the wind."

Thar She Blows! Whales Ashore on Florida Beach

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP)—The beach 11 miles south of Melbourne was no place to go swimming today. It was littered with 53 small whales weighing from 100 pounds to about a ton.

The mammals, known as pilot whales or blackfish, came ashore yesterday. One of the calves was placed back in the water four times but refused to stay there.

The leader of the school apparently was a 14-foot bull.

Pilot whales usually travel in schools and follow the largest male even when he leads them ashore. They are known to migrate from Greenland and the Norwegian coast to the Cape of Good Hope and are believed to go ashore because they dislike warm water.

Charlotte Woman Killed

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Mrs. Emma Britten, 57, of rural Charlotte was killed Wednesday night when a car struck her on M50, a mile north of Charlotte.

Re-enactment of Slaying Depends on Grand Jury

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Nassau County Dist. Atty. Frank A. Golotta says the November grand jury must decide whether Mrs. William Woodward Jr. should be required to re-enact the shotgun killing of her husband.

Woodward, 35-year-old socialite and turfman, was shot to death early Sunday in the dark hallway of his Oyster Bay home by a blast from a shotgun wielded by his blonde wife, Ann, 39.

The November grand jury is to be sworn in next Wednesday at Mineola.

The district attorney said that if Mrs. Woodward volunteers to go before the panel the request must be granted and she must waive immunity.

Golotta said he had no present intention of subpoenaing Mrs. Woodward to appear before the jury.

On Saturday night the Woodward parents of two sons — William III, 11 years old, and James, 8 — had attended a party in near-by Lacus Valley in honor of the Duchess of Windsor.

Last night a spokesman for the Duchess of Windsor said she had noticed "nothing out of the ordinary in the conduct of the Woodward at the party."

"Crews are out and troubles there are expected to be fixed soon," the spokesman said.

The City Airport said that winds were variable this morning, coming from the west at an average speed of 15 miles per hour. Gusts up to 25 miles per hour were recorded.

The Airport weather department had a bright note this morning. It was reported that it's a clear day in Chicago, and that's where the wind is coming from.

But clear weather won't reach here until late tomorrow night, the Weather Department in Detroit said.

Before the weather cleared in Chicago, five traffic deaths occurred during a seven-hour snowfall.

Elsewhere in the State, Capen, 35 miles west of Port Huron, was reported isolated by a white storm, filled with snow, which swept across the Michigan Thumb this morning.

Lansing was also hard hit, with an estimated two to three-inch snowfall. Temperatures edged to near zero in some northern Midwest areas. The freezing line covered sections from the eastern part of Lake Superior southward to northwest Indiana and southwest into central Oklahoma. Winds were reported in many areas.

Another storm, from the Pacific, spread rain and snow over Northwest states.

The forecast for southeast Lower Michigan was cloudy and colder with diminishing snow flurries today. Tonight is expected to be much colder with partly cloudy skies, continuing through Friday. Winds of 20-30 miles per hour are expected to diminish tonight.

Grosse Ile Recipe Writer 'Lucy' Corbett, 55, Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Corbett, the "Lucy" of the cooking column "Pot Shots from a Grosse Ile Kitchen," died yesterday after undergoing surgery. She was 55.

Mrs. Corbett was co-author with her husband, Sid, of the column and several cook books that mixed recipes with tales of old Detroit with the couple's philosophy.

The couple wrote their column from their huge, three-story kitchen at their Grosse Ile home.

Kaline First Tiger to Sign Up for 1956

DETROIT (AP)—Outfielder Al Kaline dropped into the Detroit Tigers office today and, after a one-hour chat with president Spillie Briggs, signed his 1956 contract.

While no salary terms were announced, Kaline, the American League batting champion, reportedly will receive $30,000. He hit .340 last season.

Kaline is the 1st Tiger to sign for 1956.

College Girls Lose Man

BRONXVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The girls at Sarah Lawrence College finally lost a man but they were glad to get rid of him. Nine-teen terrified girls said the man was a burglar who took $20 and two dresses from them yesterday, before fleeing.

Asks Merchants to Improve Area

City Commissioner John A. Dugan today challenged local merchants to make the downtown area "a better and more attractive shopping district."

Dugan's statement was issued in connection with an announced shopping center planned for Bloomfield Township, just beyond the Pontiac city limits at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds.

"The downtown merchants opposed very vigorously the announcement of this proposed shopping center which would have netted the city a fine income of taxes," the District 5 representative said.

"Now the downtown merchants still have this shopping center competition and the city will experience a loss of several thousands of dollars of tax money annually. 'I believe the downtown merchants are now obligated to the people of this city and should remodel and rejuvenate present buildings where needed and encourage other business to come to downtown Pontiac.'

"If these merchants would work as hard to make our downtown attractive and adequate as they worked to discourage the proposed shopping center, Pontiac would have one of the finest shopping areas in the state."

Dugan added that the City Commission "has and will continue to supply ample parking for the downtown area."

Loving Husband Finally Pays Off on Lay-Away Gift

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—At long last, Mary Kelly had time on her hands today—the jeweled cocktail watch her husband selected as a Christmas gift for her 11 years ago.

Willie Kelly, a truck driver, saw the $395 watch in a downtown jewelry store in September, 1944, and made a $2 down payment. He wasn't able to pay it out by Christmas, however—not by the next Christmas nor the next.

The store agreed to hold the watch indefinitely, and little by little Willie paid in $283.91.

The granddaddy of layaways was brought to light recently by columnist Lydel Sims of the Commercial Appeal. Readers from as far away as King Salmon, Alaska, chipped in $105.50.

Watchdogs in the Sky

FIDO Fliers Stand Guard Over American Airways

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The next time you buy air insurance before taking off on a flight, think about FIDO, too—it's an insurance policy you already have.

FIDO, which stands for the Civil Aeronautics Administration's Flight Inspection District Office, is a protector of the airways.

Typical is the FIDO office at nearby Kellogg Field. Assigned to it are William H. Ingram and Robert Luebke.

Their job, which amounts to a battle against inaccuracy and error, consists of fighting such things as bent radio beams, weak radio range signals, interference and even human errors.

For tools, they use two planes loaded with almost everything electronic. They even have one instrument which costs $30,000.

Their job is to make sure the countless number of air navigation and landing aids maintain high levels of accuracy and dependability.

FLY IN PAIRS

Ingram and Luebke are among 32 pilots scattered across the country who check the airways. Usually, they fly in pairs in their airplane laboratories.

This FIDO team uses two planes—a DC-3 and a twin-engine Beechcraft. Sometimes, when they use the DC-3, they utilize a third man to aid them.

Flight checking must be performed on a rigid schedule. The 327 very high frequency radio ranges are flight-checked at least three times a year. The 154 instrument landing systems are flight-checked six times a year, to say nothing of the many other pieces of equipment which come under their watch.

For example, the glide path of an instrument landing system must not be off more than one-tenth of a degree. If the error exceeds this, the facility is closed until it is corrected.

These pilots flying in circles around a facility sometimes get buzzed from inquisitive military jets who want to know just what they're up to. Sometimes Ingram and Luebke circle over a facility dozens of times as they make all the necessary checks.

But this is only part of their job. When a plane goes down or is missing, they're required to make an immediate flight check if there is even a remote possibility that their work is involved.

The president of the Mannequins' Association, Jany (Lucky) Fourman, has written to Minister of Justice Robert Schuman to register a protest on behalf of all her colleagues.

"Fifty per cent of the members of our association are married women and mothers," wrote Lucky (who has a daughter of 12). "While the job carries some prestige, it is poorly paid in return for hours of exhausting and strenuous work incompatible with a dissipated life."

"For this reason I beg to register a protest against an attitude which tends to discredit our profession."

There are some 200 young women employed by the top-ranking fashion creators who officiate as the short-lived priestesses of the goddess Fashion. Twice yearly, when they present the new spring and fall styles, they are envied by women the world over. Few realize what has gone on behind the scenes before the velvet curtain is raised.

For the girls who show the clothes and on whom depends the bread and butter of hundreds of obscure midnights, it represents hours of grueling work.

It is nothing for a mannequin to stand as long as 10 hours with scarcely a break while a creator tries out his new ideas. Then fitters in their turn spend as many hours completing the creation.

Mannequins are, in fact, the "speed-up" girls of High Fashion. Yet the basic salary is only from $100 to $150 a month. Star mannequins can double, even triple this sum by posing for fashion pictures, but this represents only 10 weeks in the year.

In between they are in great demand to appear at balls, galas and exhibitions, for which they receive a fee ranging from $15 to $30. Then there are visits to the larger provincial cities and, since the war, trips to the four corners of the world.

Finally, a mannequin gets a small percentage on the sale of every dress she models, but this rarely represents more than another $20 a month. Most of the houses give their mannequins two dresses a year, but they can wear any one of the creations they model if they are invited to a private party.

It is no wonder therefore that only about 10 of these glamour girls own a car. Neither do they think in terms of mink—many wear ready-to-wear clothes outside of business hours.

Besides the 200 mannequins at the top, there are more than 1,000 pretty girls employed by the ready-to-wear trade or specialty shops who live for the day when they will be singled out by a Dior or a Balmain.

In a category all their own are about a dozen free-lance models, the aristocrats of the profession,

Paris (four hours' work) to $120 for an out-of-town job, all expenses paid.

Years ago a mannequin was content to remain a mannequin until she married or became too old for the job. Often she became a saleswoman in the same house.

Today modeling is considered by many as a stepping-stone to another profession. In recent years two have graduated to well-paid jobs on fashion magazines. Bettina, once Jacques Fath's top model, is now designing pullovers. Sylvie, who made her debut with great deal of stamina," says Lucky. "Next comes pose, personality and of course, the right silhouette, all three much more important than a pretty face."

Nobel Prize Winner Sees Aid for Mentally Retarded

DETROIT (AP)—A Nobel prize-winning scientist predicts studies of the human body's molecular structure in the next 10 years will result in discoveries that will greatly reduce the number of persons born mentally retarded.

Dr. Linus Pauling, the scientist, said he believes new knowledge about enzymes, the catalysts of the body's chemistry, also will permit great strides in treatment of muscular dystrophy.

Dr. Pauling, head of California Institute of Technology's chemistry department, told an international symposium of bio-chemists last night.

"When you discover what makes enzymes work, then we will know the secrets of life."

He added that bio-chemistry today is at the stage that organic chemistry was 100 years ago.

Dr. Pauling won the 1954 Nobel prize in chemistry for his work on protein structure and is one of five Nobel winners attending the symposium, sponsored by Henry Ford Hospital and Edsel B. Ford Institute for Medical Research.

"It is not unlikely," he said, "that diseases such as arthritis, rheumatic fever and possibly arterial sclerosis have a significant enzyme factor in them."

"About every 80th person is a carrier of abnormal genes. That is truly a molecular disease. If two such persons marry, there results the abnormality of mental deficiencies" (in a child).

But he forecast that in 10 years medical science will understand the role of enzymes and genes so much better that it will be possible to treat parents or infants and assure a normal youngster.

Penguins Will Have Company for Three Years

11 Nations Plan 36 Research Bases in Antarctic

BY BEN PRICE
Associated Press News Features
Writer

For the next three years penguins are going to have to share the bleak white continent of Antarctica with people.

By mid-1957 11 nations will have established 36 bases in or around this land of ice, snow and the most persistent low pressure area known to the world's weathermen. From these bases, shown on the accompanying map, scientists will conduct studies in meteorology, ionospheric physics, aurora and air-glow (optical phenomena in the upper atmosphere known to affect radio communications), gravity, magnetism and cosmic rays. They also will undertake several transcontinental trips to make geological and astronomical observations to determine the extent of the ice and land masses in Antarctica.

The United States intends to have six bases on the continent itself, more than any other nation, including one smack atop the South Pole. The first units of a task force to begin preparation for establishing the bases head south at the end of this month.

Just how many people finally will be assembled around the huge land mass at the bottom of the world no one has yet figured out, but it is a clutch the continent will be populated as never before.

All 11 nations have planned their expeditions as part of the International Geophysical Year—really two years, 1957-58.

During this period beginning Jan. 1, 1957, some 5,000 scientists from pole to pole and way stations in between will pool their investigative efforts to seek further information on what makes the world tick.

It is the greatest single coordinated quest for knowledge the world has ever seen and, in fact, the South Polar expeditions are only part of the huge scientific enterprise.

The total effort involves 48 nations, including the big Western powers, Russia, and three Iron Curtain countries.

The idea of a worldwide scitific push against the barriers of ignorance originated in 1950 at a meeting of the Joint Commission on the Ionosphere at Brussels. The proposal for an International Geophysical Year was presented next to the International Council of Scientific Unions and in 1951 the scientific planning began.

In the 3-year period the scientists plan to establish man-made satellites to orbit through space as automatic laboratories, broadcasting factual data back to the earth where it will be assembled and pooled.

Outside of the satellite proposal, though, the most dramatic part of the scientific study will be the South Pole research. By the middle of 1957 the U.S. plans to have 100 scientists on the ice cap, including a 15-man station at the pole.

Three icebreakers, the forerunners of a 7-ship U.S. Navy task force, shove off from three separate U.S. ports late next October. Other ships will follow in November. The 2,200 man task force will spend 5½ months in the Ross Sea setting up two bases, one at Little America and the other at McMurdo Sound, as a preliminary to the establishment of other bases deep in the continent when the scientists arrive.

About 120 men will stay over the long Southern Hemisphere winter as caretakers for the two bases, connected to the outside world only by radio.

The 11 nations which eventually will have bases on the continent or the islands around it are, besides the U.S., Russia, Australia, New Zealand, France, Japan, Norway, South Africa, Argentina, Chile and the United Kingdom.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Registrations for the current fall furniture market are expected to increase by about 100 today when the National Wholesale Furniture Assn. moves to Grand Rapids for a two-day conference. Officials of the Grand Rapids Furniture Exposition Assn. reported about 295 buyers on hand Tuesday, second day of the fall showings.

Change Festival Dates

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Directors of the National Cherry Festival Corp. stated the 1956 Traverse City cherry festival for July 11-13. Until this year the celebration had been held immediately following the Fourth of July, but directors said a later date placed the festival closer to the peak of the cherry harvest.

Traveling Salesmen Aided by Their Mates

SEATTLE (INS) — There's usually a woman behind each successful man, and that includes traveling salesmen.

A luggage concern has made it a practice to invite wives to a week of sales meetings each year so that the little woman knows and can help in hubby's business problems.

The women are asked to select fashions, colors and help decide on new items for the line.

Each salesman's territory is so arranged so that he is never on the road more than one weekend, and in most cases is home every week.

Wives are instructed how to answer business calls and letters, as well as to keep records while their husbands are away.

Wives can be an added help by checking on competition lines sold in their home towns and surrounding areas.

Veteran Attempts to Scale the Washington Monument

BALTIMORE (AP) — George Washington nearly had company Tuesday night when a 22-year-old former mental patient, clinging to a small lightning rod cable, climbed two-thirds of the way up the 204-foot Washington Monument here.

But firemen, unable to reach the youth with a 100-foot extension ladder, finally persuaded him to climb down, then took him to a hospital for observation.

A taxicab driver first noticed the youth, identified as Kenneth Reiblich, former patient at nearby Perry Point Veterans Hospital, on the roof of the monument's base, 24 feet above the ground. He called police and firemen.

But when the youth saw a fire truck, he started his tortuous climb, hand-over-hand, up the smooth, marble side of the cylindrical shaft erected 140 years ago as the first municipal monument in the country to George Washington.

ALMOST ON TOP
He was two-thirds of the way up, or about 140 feet above the ground and only about 48 feet below the pedestal on which the 16-foot-tall statue of Washington stands, when he stopped.

Firemen ran up a 100-foot extension ladder and Fireman Carol Hanley, 44, climbed to the end, shouting encouragement to Reiblich all the way.

Finally, the youth started down, slowly, as he had climbed the cable stapled to the side of the monument.

CROWD GASPS
Several times the crowd of some 500 who gathered to watch gasped in unison as Reiblich slipped several feet, swaying from one side of the cable to the other.

Within 20 feet of the bottom he paused, then dropped into a life net held by firemen standing on the roof of the monument's base.

They strapped him to a stretcher and carried him the remaining 24 feet down a ladder to the ground. At Mercy Hospital, Reiblich was treated for abrasions of the hands and legs and held for observation.

Flint Physician Invents Stretcher

Detachable Top Allows
Patient to Remain Inert
During Travel

FLINT (AP)—A physician inventor has described a new kind of stretcher that ends the painful and even harmful juggling of injured people in hospitals.

The improved stretcher is the invention of Dr. David Limbach, radiologist of Hurley Hospital here.

He developed it after a study found that the average injured person is physically lifted and moved 18 times—on and off stretchers and tables or beds—from the moment of injury until finally ready for his hospital bed.

"Every time you move a person this way, you increase his shock or make him sicker," Dr. Limbach told the American College of Surgeons.

PATIENT STAYS

Ambulances carry the detachable top. An auto victim is put upon it, stays on it from then on through all phases of transporting and care. That detachable top can even be a comfortable temporary bed, placed right on the floor.

Dr. Limbach estimates use of this stretcher saves the hospital more than $50,000 a year in employees' time. It takes three persons several minutes to physically lift a patient each time from stretcher to operating table or bed and back again.

The quicker, safer moving of the whole stretcher top made it possible to X-ray 1,600 persons in nine hours after the Flint tornado, he said. Usually an X-ray department does well if it can X-ray 150 persons a day when patients have to be lifted from stretcher onto the table and back.

Injuries in automobile accidents should be reduced 50 to 60 per cent in the next 10 years as new cars are equipped with new safety devices, predicted John O. Moore, director, automotive crash injury research, Cornell University Medical College.

He said safety belts and new door locks are two important steps so far. More safety devices will come as research on types of injuries and causes give more information for engineers to use, Moore said.

Reverse Twist Used

CHICAGO (AP)—A gunman carefully placed a small padlock on the door of Mrs. Bernice Olish's cleaning shop after robbing her of $11. Unable to break the lock, Mrs. Olish phoned the police who forced the door.

JUKE BOX OF GAY NINETIES—Music for the ice cream parlors of 60 years ago tinkled from this coin-operated mechanism shown by its owner, James Conley of Marshall, Michigan. Large plate in upper position rotated, with points plinking vibration reeds. Conley maintains a stack of ancient metal "discs" for easy listening. The music box has a deep, resonant tone and still turns out songs like "My Old New Hampshire Home."

'Juke Box' of Gay Nineties Still Fractures the Cats

MARSHALL (AP)—Hepcats of the gay nineties also had juke boxes for playing their favorite tunes.

One of these venerable music makers still operates in merry style at the home of collector James Conley.

Featuring the original unbreakable, long-playing record, Conley's music box stands six feet high, is more than three feet wide, and has none of the garish coloring of today's coin-operated machines.

In dignified oak with fancy hand-carving around the door and top, it plinks out on metal cylinders such melodies as "America," the "Zenda Waltzes," "He's Done Lost His Baby," or "Get Your Money's Worth."

A coin slot in the side of the machine, used by patrons at ice cream parlors of 60 years ago, doesn't work any more. But the winding mechanism operates perfectly, lifting the big "records" automatically into playing position.

Conley says "nothing worked" on the machine when he inherited it from an uncle. But he restored its parts and it's back in operation.

The machine, copyrighted in 1896 by the Regina Music Box Co. of Chicago and New York, has springs and gears made of solid brass.

One spring runs the driving mechanism; another operates the raising and lowering of records. A crank at the side winds the springs to set the whole thing going.

The music box gives out with a deep throated, resonant tone when its large upper plate rotates with metal points plinking vibrating reeds.

When Conley wants to relax with a nostalgic tune, he winds up his regina box, settles back and listens to his choice of the "Bride Elect March," "My Old New Hampshire Home" or "Just as the Sun Went Down."

Ex-Deputy Named to New Army Post

A veteran of World War II, Major Keelan re-entered the Army in 1951 and served in Korea. He and his wife, Mrs. Esther Keelan, and their four children live in Tacoma.

Major Keelan's mother, Mrs. Duncan McVean, is a Pontiac resident.

Pork Steals Show Again Among Weekend Bargains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
You'll find bargains aplenty in food stores this week in beef, lamb, pork and poultry.

Once again, pork is the star attraction. Pork prices, on the down-grade since summer, have taken one of their biggest tumbles yet—in some cities you'll find prices of center cut pork chops down as much as 14 cents a pound from a week ago.

Roast lion of pork is a heavily featured weekend "special" in supermarkets from coast to coast. Prices start at 25 cents a pound. There's some indication, though, that pork prices may have finally hit rock bottom. Wholesale quotations are up about two cents a pound this week—a hint that retail prices may soon go higher.

Frying chickens are lower in many parts of the country. Price cuts average about 4 or 5 cents a pound. Turkeys are on the weekend special list in some eastern cities, but it's doubtful if prices will be as low as they were at Thanksgiving time last year. The big birds are fetching about a nickel a pound more at wholesale than a year ago, mainly because farmers aren't raising quite so many gobblers this year.

Beef fanciers are likely to find slightly lower prices this week on porterhouse and sirloin steaks, rib roasts, chuck, and top and bottom round. Wholesale prices are down a shade, too.

LAMB PLENTIFUL

Lamb is plentiful. Roast leg of lamb is moderately priced; lamb chops although still relatively high, are down a few cents a pound from last week in some cities. There are plenty of good buys in ham, whether of the smoked, picnic, or fresh varieties. Veal prices in several cities are a little higher. Leafy vegetables head the bargain parade in produce this week. Iceberg lettuce from California is being prominently featured all over the country; prices in the east start at around 16 to 17 cents a head. Outstanding buys among these vitamin-rich greens are endive, escarole, collard and kale.

Slate Travelogue at Waterford

Robert Davis to Present 'Capri of the North' on Nov. 9

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Ice-land, "Capri of the North," a color film presented in person by Robert Davis, photographer-adventurer, will be shown at the Waterford Township High School at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 9th.

The only travelogue to be shown at the high school this year, the other five are to be presented at the junior high auditorium. "Ice-land, Capri of the North," features travel on a new road, one of adventures, beauty and thrills, as described by one of the competent guides to this "Nice Land."

During the war the adventurer spent two and a half years on this distant island in the North Atlantic. He became so intrigued with the varied countryside, the modern atmosphere, the industry of its people and their culture that he returned recently to capture the life of the hardy Ice-lander in an informative, adventuresome and enjoyable film presentation.

In Reykjavik, the capital city, lives over one third (30,000) of the population of Iceland. Here the well-stocked stores, outdoor cafes, modern homes and schools amaze the traveler.

Hot water from thermal springs is piped 15 miles to this city to heat homes, swimming pools and green houses. By this method many varieties of flowers and vegetables can be grown in hot houses the year around. Harvesting on some of the remote farms is still done by hand, but in other areas is found the contrast of the modern mechanized farms.

Family season tickets for this northern adventure, the second of six travelogues scheduled by the Waterford Township Recreation department are on sale at all township drug stores and can also be purchased at the door.

Safety Promise Given Parents of Dead Youth

FERDALE (IN) — Ferndale City Council Wednesday night promised the parents of a 10-year-old boy, killed last June by a truck on a city playground, that every possible safety measure would be taken to prevent recurrence of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers of Pleasant Ridge has sought a special council hearing to investigate the boy's death and to seek future preventatives against a similar accident.

The boy, Robert Jr., was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck last June 27 at a recreation area in Ferndale's Roosevelt Park.

Count Petition Signatures in Anticipation of Meeting

ROME — Signatures on petitions protesting the leadership and certain bylaws of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. have been counted in anticipation of the annual meeting to be held in East Lansing today.

Dairymen throughout the state have been signing the petitions in an effort to secure "democratic rule" in the MMPA.

It is the contention of rebelling locals that the membership at large does not control its own organization. They further testify that there is no means by which delegates may receive instructions from the membership on how to vote prior to the annual meeting.

"Enough signatures appear on the petitions," according to Mrs. A. E. Lloyd, secretary to Harold Fritz, head of the Romeo local, "to assure members the right to vote at the annual meeting, according to state law."

Bomber Crash Kills 2 Crewmen

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force bomber crashed in a thickly populated residential district yesterday, killing the two airman aboard and causing heavy fire damage to one of a compact row of small homes.

Returning after a routine training flight, the pilot, Capt. Clayton S. Elwood, had radioed the Mitchell Air Force Base tower that he was having propeller trouble. Killed with Elwood, 39, was Staff Sgt. Charles R. Slater, 23.

Elwood lived in Fairfield, Conn., with his wife and young daughter. Slater lived at Camp Santini, a housing development for Mitchell Field personnel, with his wife and two sons.

The plane was about a mile and a half east of the field when it crashed in the front yard of a home owned by Paul Koroluk, a newspaper compositor who was at work. His wife, Susan, and their 2-year-old daughter were strolling homeward. They were not hurt.

LONGMONT, Colo. (AP)—United Air Lines has hired an explosives expert to delve into circumstances surrounding the crash of one of its DC8s near here Tuesday night with the loss of 44 lives.

The air line said yesterday there was no connection between a strike of United's flight engineers and the crash.

A number of UAL flight engineers struck a week ago over a demand they be guaranteed assignment on any type aircraft the company might operate in the future. The line recently ordered some jet airliners, but the company contends it cannot commit itself on the staff of the new aircraft now.

To Present Nov. 17-18 'Time Out for Ginger' Readied at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The cast has been announced for "Time Out for Ginger," a three-act comedy to be presented in the Rochester High School gymnasium, at 8 p. m. Nov. 17 and 18.

"Jed" Miller, a new-comer to the Rochester High School Senior class will star as Howard Carol, a rather reserved banker who is constantly harassed by the antics of his teen-age daughter, Ginger.

Playing the attractive and gracious Agnes Carol is Myrna Maass, whose performance will be her first on the high school stage. Other members of the Carol family are Joan, the eldest daughter, played by Judy Watts; Jeannie, a girl of 16, portrayed by Nancy Day; and the four-teen-year-old Ginger, Mary Rowell.

Jack Mathews has been cast as Eddie Davis, Joan's boy friend and an egotistical football captain.

Stephen Seiffert will appear in the role of Tommy Green, Ginger's boy friend. Other members of the cast are Jim Frink as Ed Hoffman, the bank president; and Roy Koski as Mr. Wilson, the high school principal.

STUDENT DIRECTOR

To assist the directors in producing this comedy, the cast chose Bob Powell as student director.

The comedy opens on a rather staid banker who preys some sort of creative release and finds it in lecturing to local high school classes about the need for self-fulfillment.

Eloise Tallant and Ray H. Lawson will direct the production.

Representatives Try to Revive Romeo GOC

ROME — A further attempt to reactivate Romeo's Ground Observer Corps will be undertaken by representatives of community organizations Thursday evening.

The group will meet in the Civil Defense office above the Fire Hall at 7 p. m. Each club or church delegate has been asked to bring a list of volunteers to man the local observer post and the hours which they will serve. If members of local groups are unable to act as "spotters" during their organization's designated 24-hour period, they may serve at open times during the week.

GOC officials announced the post spotter schedule has lagged since the opening of school in September. A meeting was held recently to establish a means by which the post could be brought up to its maximum efficiency. It was decided to seek the assistance of the village organizations, and to ask each group to maintain a 24-hour watch at the local post. The tower is located near the southeast corner of Sisson and Crowell streets.

Patrol Units Doubled on Telegraph Today

LANSING (AP)—State Police patrols were ordered doubled today on Telegraph road, southeastern Michigan's famous "Death Road."

State Police Commr. Joseph A. Childs said he would transfer 10 troopers to three posts in the area from seven other posts to permit six around-the-clock patrols on the deadly 45-mile stretch between Dearborn and the Ohio border. This will average about one patrol every 7.5 miles.

Childs said the increased patrols will be made possible by the Nov. 14 graduation of troopers from a recruit school. The transfers will be made that day, with the new recruits taking over posts vacated by men being shifted to the Telegraph patrol.

Childs said he had been planning tighter enforcement on the route for some time but lacked sufficient manpower until the current recruit class was graduated.

Her illness at first was diagnosed as a heart attack but later was described by doctors as exhaustion brought on by overwork.

Her husband declined to elaborate on the nature of her illness but he said she is resting comfortably and will remain in the hospital until a diagnosis is complete.

An understudy took over Miss Lake's role in the play which has since continued its tour West.

The Oakland County Juvenile Department will move Nov. 9 from the courthouse in downtown Pontiac to larger quarters at 1280 West Boulevard in the service center off North Telegraph road.

The department's present basement location will be made over into a courtroom for Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, who takes office Jan. 1.

The new juvenile quarters will be known as the Oakland County Service Center Courthouse Annex.

It will house the whole 29-person juvenile staff, said Director of Juvenile Service James W. Hunt. Services include neglect and dependency, probation, adoption foster care and psychological testing and treatment.

The new quarters have about 5,000 square feet of space, compared to 2700 in the old. Office hours will continue to be 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore will hold Juvenile Court in the new offices, but all probate functions will remain at the courthouse.

"We hope the increased space will allow us to provide better service," said Hunt.

The present courthouse offices will be remodeled to include a courtroom, judge's chambers and offices for his staff, said Auditor John C. Austin. It will be ready by the first of the year.

Lauded Russian Pianist Praises U. S. Musicians

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—A four-square, chunky fellow, not fat but thick through, with chubby fingers and hands that are pale, round backed and almost puffy—that's the new piano sensation.

He's a Russian. He came to America because the Iron Curtain lifted to allow cultural exchanges. And like every deserving artist out in front of a curtain, iron or gold, he's taken a lot of bows and heard many cries of "encore."

His name is Emil Gilels. Critics have called him very great, great, near great and not so great. But the public, at least in this city which has heard him three times in Carnegie Hall and once at the U.N., has not been of four minds about him.

It has stood to clap and cheer as it does for only the very great. Prokofiev visited this country in 1921. Shostakovich, here on a cultural mission, played a quarter-hour in Madison Square Garden in the late 1940s. Gilels, 39, is only the third outstanding Soviet artist in the history of his country to play for American music-lovers.

What does he think of us? "I visited both Curtis (in Philadelphia) and Juilliard (New York) Music Schools, and heard piano pupils play," he says. "They are being taught very well. I heard talented young people at Curtis, for instance, and they made a very good impression. I wish them great success in their work."

His only English was a couple of words probably the same in both languages, like "recital" and "symphony." His interpreter was better, though less than perfect. To paraphrase, then, Gilels said: "I was born in Odessa, of parents not musicians but yet who wanted their children to play. My sister won the Bruxelles international violin prize in 1937, the year before I won it as a pianist."

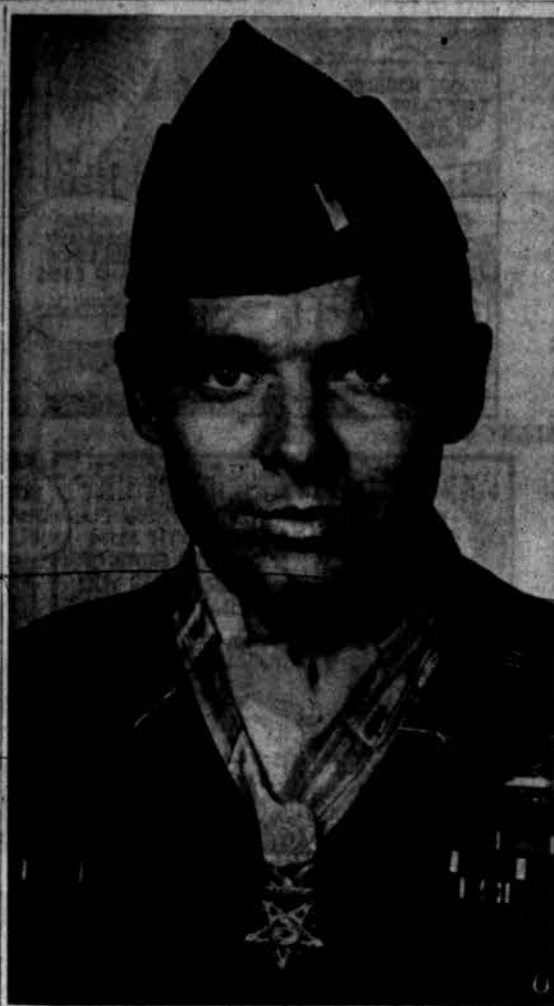

"Odessa is a very musical city; you'd find a musical instrument in almost every home; the opera house, one of the best in Russia, seats 2,000; I heard Horowitz, Rubinstein and others play when I was a boy."

"But Russia, like the United States, has one music center, our Moscow. To compare with your New York. Moscow has seven concert halls, three of them holding 2,000 persons apiece, and there's music every day."

Gilels is making one recording here with Fritz Reiner and the Chicago Symphony.

Hollywood Headlines:

Gail Russell Credits God for Her Movie Comeback

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Everyone has been very kind to me, but it's the Man upstairs who pulled me through."

This was Gail Russell's comment on her return to screen acting after nearly five years of absence.

During that time, she suffered about as much as any human being could. Her marriage to Guy Madison was shattered. She was ill with hepatitis, a liver ailment that affects the nerves. Her name was plastered in the papers during the John Wayne divorce trial. She made the courts on drunk and hit-run charges.

Gail was always a deep and quiet girl when she starred at Paramount. But on the set of "Seven Men from Now," which she has made opposite Randolph Scott, she seemed gay and cheerful, with only a hint of her former sadness.

She attributed her new attitude to help from God.

"I had always been close to him before," she said. "But my eyes had to be opened."

Gail's last picture was "Air Cadet," made at Universal in 1939.

The deal for the Scott picture was instigated by John Wayne, whose company is making it. Wayne felt the actress had been wronged in the divorce mess. He sent the script to her agents.

"They argued that it was a good script, that I would be working with people I knew," she said. "I decided to give it a try."

Budd Boetticher, who is directing the picture, said Gail is doing a fine job. "She's not as pretty as she was before, but she's better looking," he observed. "Her face has more character, and she's bound to be a better actress, after what she has gone through."

Gail said she feels she has conquered the emotional problems that troubled her.

"The one who is happiest about it is my dad," she remarked. "He has had three heart attacks and has been very unhappy. When I phoned him to say I was working again, he had to hand the phone to my mother because he was crying."

Young Crosby Scores Big Hit at Ciro Debut

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gary Crosby made a smash night club debut last night at Ciro's.

The husky, eldest son of Bing played the small role of "Darryl Hump," Hollywood musical comedy star, in a revue. The show spoofs the recent Doris Day-James Cagney movie, "Love Me or Leave Me," the story of singer Ruth Etting.

Any similarity between the MGM movie and the night club revue was intended to be hilarious. Crosby's brief comedy appearance with Huntz (dead end kid) Hill was easily the show's stand-out. The two also duetted on a rock 'n' roll number called "The Samurai Sword Blues."

The Crosby debut was before a hard-to-please show-business audience, most of whom paid Ciro's going price of $28 per fifth of scotch. Ringliners included Milton Berle, Sammy Davis Jr., Sherree North and Ray Bolger, all of whom joined in the crowd's lusty applause for Crosby's performance.

Bing was not there. A friend explained the father was afraid he'd make his 22-year-old son too nervous on opening night.

Seaway-Inland Channel Begun

$188 Million Project Started to Widen Link for Chicago Shipping

CHICAGO (AP)—Widening of the Cal-Sag, a ship channel linking the St. Lawrence Seaway and the inland waterway, began yesterday.

A dynamite blast lifted the first earth from the bank, marking the official start of the 188-million dollar project.

Expansion of three miles of the channel from 60 to 255 feet in width will be completed first under a four-million dollar appropriation by Congress.

The entire 23.8 mile channel eventually will be widened from Lake Calumet, on Chicago's south side, to the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal near Lemont, north of Joliet, Ill.

The narrow channel is the principal waterway link between the south port area of Chicago and the 1,000-mile water route to New Orleans along the Illinois and Missouri Rivers.

Concurrent construction of the St. Lawrence deep waterway to eastern Canada and the Atlantic Ocean may give greater significance to the Cal-Sag project.

The project will necessitate replacing a number of railroad and highway bridges and the construction of a lock at the Calumet River near Indiana's northwest corner. The lock will permit deeper water in the channel without an outflow into Lake Michigan.

Chevrolet Die Men Vote on UAW Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Skilled die craftsmen at the Detroit Chevrolet forge plant of General Motors Corp. voted today on whether to withdraw from the CIO United Auto Workers and join an independent union.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) conducted the election on the petition of Detroit Die Sinkers Lodge 110, International Die Sinkers Conference. The election involved 275 employees.

The UAW lost out yesterday in an election conducted by the NLRB among 55 die and special tool men at GM's Oldsmobile forge plant in Lansing. The die sinkers defeated the UAW by a vote of 48 to 6.

In the past six months, in Michigan alone, the UAW has lost more than 500 skilled-worker members to craft unions in NLRB elections.

Colombia Collegians Finish Degree in U.S.

BOGOTA, N. — The University of the Andes arranges to have some of its 600 students divide their studies between the university here and the universities of Texas, Illinois and Pittsburgh in the United States.

President of the University of the Andes is Alberto Lleras Camargo who was president of Colombia from 1945 to 1946.

"It's almost impossible to study technical courses here," Lleras said, "particularly engineering. By sending our students to the United States we give them the advantage of advanced technical facilities and a splendid academic atmosphere."

Railroad in N.Y. Hauls Wine Only on 9 Mile Route

NEW YORK — The Bath and Hammondsport Railroad, only nine miles long, has the nickname The Champagne Trail.

This tiny railroad, strictly a local enterprise, is located in the heart of the Finger Lakes region of New York state.

The title, Champagne Trail, is no misnomer. The line serves chiefly the wine and grape industry in and around Hammondsport and the Keuka Lake grape belt. It hauls glass bottles into the area and takes them out filled with wine.

The Bath line was originally built in 1875 as a narrow gauge with the six-foot gauge Erie at Bath. Today it is standard gauge and has 10 full-time employees with road and equipment investment of $160,000.

Virginia Arrest Warrant Wanting Daniel Boone

RADFORD, Va. — There is a warrant out for Daniel Boone's arrest in Montgomery County, Virginia, dated August 4, 1935.

Boone and a fellow named William Cowan, owed Alexander Baine, a Finca merchant, 45 pounds, 18 shillings and 10 pence plus 50 shillings damages. The legend is that this debt was for supplies used by Boone in his westward trek.

The warrant was never served and it explains why on the back, "Gone to Kentucky," it says, Judge C. W. Crush has a photostat of the warrant.

Grains Sinking in Quiet Trade

CHICAGO (U)—Grains sank quietly on the Board of Trade today as the buying power dried up in the past few sessions dried up. Losses weren't large in any pit and trading became very slow. There wasn't any new incentive for the market as the cold weather being experienced in the Midwest was thoroughly discounted in the previous session.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 3/4 to 1 1/4 lower, December $2.04 1/2, corn 1/4 to 3/4 lower, December $1.29 1/2, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, November $2.35 1/2, and 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $11.50.

Fruehauf Predicts Truck Fleet Growth

CHICAGO (U)—A truck manufacturer predicted today that the nation's trucking fleet will increase to more than 10 million vehicles in 1956 and 12 million by 1960.

Roy Fruehauf, 46-year-old president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., offered this forecast in an address prepared for a meeting of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago.

He said 8,715,000 trucks now are in use on the nation's highways hauling freight.

"Truck-trailers, which carry a steadily growing share of the country's freight of all kinds, will total nearly 800,000 next year, for an increase of 100,000 over the 1955 total," Fruehauf said.

Solons May Probe Newspaper Cost Hike

WASHINGTON (INS)—A $5 a ton increase in newspaper prices, recently ordered by Canadian producers and denounced by American publishers, will be looked into by the Federal Government.

The Senate Banking Committee asked the Commerce Department and the Office of Defense Mobilization to prepare reports on the production-price situation to determine if congressional hearings are necessary.

Stocks Higher in Key Areas

NEW YORK (U)—A good forward push today took the stock market up substantially in several key areas in early dealings.

Gains ran to around 2 points at the outside. Losses were fractional. Most major divisions had a hand in the rise.

Fairchild Engine with a higher cash dividend and a 5 per cent stock dividend opened on 4,000 shares up 1/4 at 15 1/2 and then added a little more.

Westinghouse Electric, the most active issue of the past two days with a total gain of 1 1/2, was up 1/4 at 56 1/2 on an opening block of 3,000 shares, and then it quickly pushed its gain to 2 points.

Among other gainers were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, International Paper, Pullman, New York Central, Houston Oil, Paramount Pictures, Chrysler Corp. and International Nickel.

Located at 5 N. Saginaw St., near Pike, the store will be managed by Harry R. Malloy, Malloy managed the Union Store, which was at the same location, for the past 10 years.

"The store will carry a comprehensive line of men's and women's apparel and some children's wear," said Malloy. Included will be nationally advertised brands, he added.

Free gifts will be given with purchases during the grand opening celebration, Malloy said, and flowers will be presented to all women who visit the newly remodeled establishment.

The manager said Malloy's will carry a larger inventory and a wider range of goods than the Union Store. Merchandise will be available on credit terms, he said.

NEW YORK (U)—The Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices fell this week to its lowest level since before the Korean War.

At $6.02, the Dun & Bradstreet yardstick of wholesale food costs was lower than at any time since the week of June 20, 1950. It was down nearly 11 per cent from a year ago.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 basic food items. Last week it stood at $6.05 and a year ago at $6.74. In the week before the outbreak of the Korean War it stood at $5.36.

Lower this week were rye, barley, hams, butter, milk, coffee, cocoa, eggs, steers and lambs. Higher were wheat, corn, oats, cheese, raisins, currants, prunes and hops.

Also announced were plans to purchase about 60 acres of land adjoining the Martin-Pary plant, to be used largely for parking facilities.

In full operation the new facility is expected to employ from 2,000 to 2,500 persons. Chevrolet recently employs about 1,000 in Toledo.

Automotive News said this week's output of an estimated 173,282 cars will be the highest weekly production since May 28.

Manufacturers, the paper added, are expected to build nearly two million cars during the October-December period with General Motors and Ford continuing at a record-breaking pace. Chrysler is working on a goal of 400,000 cars in the final quarter.

Highest final quarter output to date was 1,666,406 cars built in 1950.

AEC Director Addresses UM

Disposal of Peacetime Radioactive Waste Big Problem, Says Official

ANN ARBOR (U)—Dr. Charles W. Shilling, an Atomic Energy Commission official, told a University of Michigan audience last night the disposal of peacetime radioactive waste is as much a problem as wartime atomic bomb fallout.

Atomic reactors will generate 41 tons of fission products a year by the year 2000, said Shilling, deputy director of the AEC's division of biology and medicine.

Addressing a three-day radioactive liquid wastes training course, the director said anywhere from 20,000 to 300,000 gallons of waste will have to be flushed down the drain each day.

"The question is, 'what drain?'" he said.

He said rivers and streams can only be used for low level radioactive materials. Some of the hotter isotopes may take as long as 600 years to decay or weaken enough to dump into a drinking source, he said.

Shilling said the AEC is considering several types of atomic dumps, including caves, abandoned mines, and underground caverns.

He said the AEC also is considering burying the materials in sealed containers at the bottom of the sea. He said high radioactivity in gas forms would have to be stored first before releasing it to the atmosphere.

Highly radioactive liquids, said Shilling, could be evaporated for more convenient storage until they could be dumped safely into streams and rivers. Some solids contaminated by radiation might be burned and the ashes stored until radioactivity decays.

Shilling also said some secondary uses might be found for radioactive materials such as heating homes, sterilizing foods and drugs, for medical radiation therapy.

Chevrolet Buys Ohio Plant for Transmissions

DETROIT (U)—Chevrolet Motors announced today the purchase of the Martin-Pary Corp. factory northwest of Toledo, Ohio. The plant will be used as an added facility for automatic transmission production.

The 1-story plant will provide about half a million square feet of manufacturing space. Production of 4-speed truck transmissions will continue at Chevrolet's present Toledo plant.

Also announced were plans to purchase about 60 acres of land adjoining the Martin-Pary plant, to be used largely for parking facilities.

In full operation the new facility is expected to employ from 2,000 to 2,500 persons. Chevrolet recently employs about 1,000 in Toledo.

Sears Opens Annex for Display of Toys

Sears, Roebuck & Co. has opened what it terms the largest toy display in the city for Christmas shoppers.

The 3,000-square-foot display is located in a building adjacent to the main building at 154 N. Saginaw St.

Frank S. Lyndall, Sears manager, said the annex enables the company to offer twice the number of toys it usually displays.

"It also allows us to offer a much larger assortment," he added.

Milton Harrington is managing the annex, which will be open through the Christmas holidays.

Earnings

DETROIT (U)—Burroughs Corp. reported net earnings Wednesday of $8,255,002, or $1.49 per share for the nine month period ending Sept. 30. Last year during that period netted $6,922,436 or $1.25 a share. The firm said its total revenue from its world wide operations for the period were $154,759,539 compared to $144,814,868 for the same period last year.

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Electric Storage Battery Co. reported net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 of $1,440,508, equal to $1.60 a common share. This compared with a net loss of $795,752 in the same period last year.

NEW YORK (INS)—Trans World Airlines reported today net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 of $5,135,000, equal to $1.54 a common share. This compared with $5,599,000 or $2.58 a common share, in the same period last year. Operating revenues set a new high at $163,433,000 as against $155,267,000 in the 1954 period. President Ralph S. Damon, said the drop in earnings was due largely to a decrease in mail revenues of over $2,500,000.
