'Could Start Prior to ABM Debate'

Arms Talks Eyed by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore says it is "entirely possible" U.S. arms control talks with the Soviet Union will begin before the Senate opens debate on the hotly contested anti-ballistic missile (ABM) defense program.

The Senate showdown is expected to start late in June — and it could run most of the summer.

Gore, the Tennessee Democrat who heads the Senate disarmament subcommittee, indicated in an interview he had heard new reports on administration plans for the long-awaited arms talks.

But he said there was nothing he could publicly disclose.

'NO REASON NOT TO TALK'

"There's no reason that I know of why the talks shouldn't get started," said

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Gore, like other critics of President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense plan, wants it dropped while the United States seeks to negotiate an arms control agreement with the Soviet Union.

Senate foes of the Safeguard plan insist it would impede arms control efforts.

LENGTHY DEBATE SEEN

Mansfield, also an ABM critic, said debate and decision on the administration plan could dominate the Senate calendar from late June until Aug. 13, when Congress is to begin a three-week recess.

Mansfield said in an interview he still hopes some compromise can avert a long, bitter Senate contest. But he acknowledged he does not know what its terms might be.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader, has repeatedly declared the administration has no intention of altering its program.

Mansfield has no firm timetable yet for beginning Senate debate on the military authorization bill which includes the $900 million President Nixon seeks to begin building a missile defense system.

ANOTHER ISSUE

Another major foreign policy issue is due up before Safeguard. A resolution which would have the Senate declare that Congress, as well as the executive branch of government, must act on any

U.S. commitment to a foreign government.

The Nixon administration, while promising frequent and full consultation with Congress, is opposed to the resolution.

The measure is due before the Senate on June 16.

Dirksen maintains the administration will win Senate approval of a start on the ABM system.

Mansfield acknowledges supporters of the system may win a narrow victory — no more than three votes.

The Montana Democrat said a full-scale go-ahead on the basis of that kind of Senate support could put the administration in a difficult position.

Black Extremist Unit Blamed in Cleveland Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small and well-equipped army of black extremists was responsible for the bloodshed during the Cleveland riots last July, the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence reported today.

Entitled "Shoot-out in Cleveland," the report was released without comment.

The commission's report said the violence in Cleveland may have marked the beginning of a new pattern in civil disorders.

"Though it soon fell into the established pattern of Negroes destroying property in the ghetto, it began as violence aimed at personal injury. Black-dominated throughout, it ended in more white casualties than black," the report stated.

SIGNIFICANT STEP

"Though the white victims were policemen, attacked as symbols of the white society rather than as men, the mode of vengeance had taken a significant step beyond damage to white-owned businesses. A small, well-equipped army of black extremists was responsible for the bloodshed whether or not they fired the first shot."

Shots rang out on a narrow street in Cleveland's racially troubled East Side the evening of July 23, 1968. Within minutes, the report stated, a full-scale gun battle was raging between Cleveland police and black snipers. An hour and a half later seven people lay dead and 15 others were wounded. Fifteen of the casualties were policemen.

Violence continued in Glenview and other East Side neighborhoods for the next five days.

In the smoldering aftermath, 63 business establishments were counted destroyed or damaged. Property losses exceeded $2 million.

The commission, headed by Milton Eisenhower, said the Cleveland outbreak was not the most serious in the United States tide of racial violence, in human and dollar costs.

"But it differed sharply from the current pattern of violence in significant, instructive ways," the report said. "Indeed, it established a new theme and an apparent escalation in the level of racial conflict in America."

The weatherman is keeping Pontiac residents on the griddle today, duplicating the sizzling temperatures of yesterday, when the mercury climbed swiftly from the overnight low of 70 degrees to reach a record 90 by 4 p.m., four degrees hotter than any mark achieved during this month last year.

TODAY—Continued hot, with chance of thundershowers this afternoon. The low tonight is expected to be in the mid-50s.

TOMORROW—Partly sunny and cooler with the high reaching only 70 to 75.

SATURDAY—Increasing cloudiness and warmer with chance of showers.

The moisture index shows a 20 per cent chance of rain today; 10 per cent tonight and Friday.

In downtown Pontiac, the low recording before 8 a.m. was 70. The indicator rose by degrees to 92 at 2 p.m.

Crofoot Site Is Eyed for New High School

Alternatives to the selected Pontiac State Hospital site for a new high school have been narrowed to one by the Pontiac Board of Education. That site, now occupied by Crofoot Elementary School, adjacent to Central High School.

There are two building plans under study for that site, however — one a seven-story high rise for 3,300 students and the other a three-story for 2,300 students. Both plans call for expansion at Northern High School, and both are tagged with an estimated cost of about $20 million.

The board will decide between the two building plans for the Crofoot site, and then between that site and the hospital site next Thursday night.

If the hospital site is selected, the board will go ahead with the original super-high school building plan for 4,500 students.

In the first building plan alternate for the Crofoot site, the first two levels of the high-rise school would be below ground level, with two levels above it. Two three-story separate schools would then extend above the first four levels.

The first four levels of the proposed high school would contain common facilities for the two smaller schools, housing 1,650 students each. Physical education facilities would be in the first two levels, and all vocational educational spaces, auditorium and student commons would be in the third and fourth floors.

COMMON LIBRARY

The two separate schools would contain academic classrooms. A common library would connect them.

The roof above the vocational center would serve as an outdoor plaza for the two schools.

In combination with this 3,300-student school would be enlargement of Pontiac

Northern High School to 2,300 students. The capacity of Northern is presently about 1,800.

Projected completion date of the new school under this plan is about December 1972. Architects estimate that the addition to Northern could be completed by December 1971.

The $20-million estimate would include the $19 million set aside in the March 1968 bond issue for a new high school, plus the $1 million in accumulated interest. Parking facilities and recreational areas are not included in the cost estimates for this plan.

The second alternative would be a three-story, 2,300-student high school built on the same location, in combination with enlargement of Pontiac Northern High School to 3,300 students.

This school would be two separate buildings connected by an enclosed mall and court. Academic classes for the two schools of 1,500 students each would be in the west unit. The east unit of the school would include all of the common facilities which would be included in the first four levels of the high-rise school.

The $20-million cost estimate for the second alternative includes parking and some recreational area. Completion date for this combination is September 1972.

CROFOOT DEMOLITION

Either of these alternatives would call for the demolition of the 63-year-old Crofoot School, which would be relocated in the same general neighborhood, according to Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

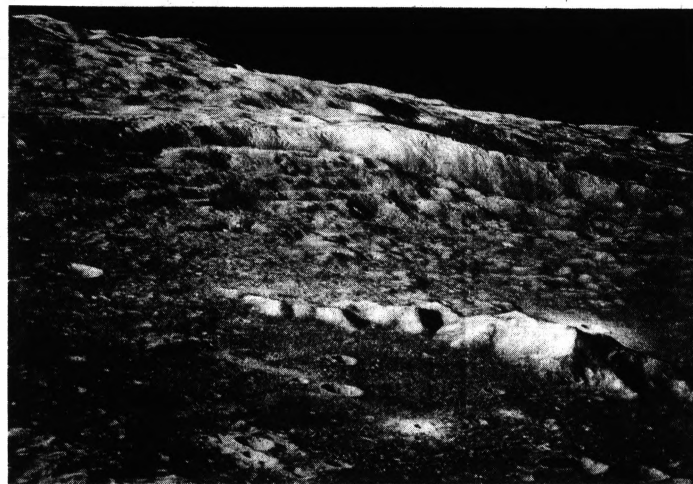

The board has been studying alternate plans and site since March 20, when community dissent over the selection of the hospital site forced them into a 90-day reevaluation period.

Luncheon Ticket Sale Sites Set

Announcement is made today of the locations of ticket sales for the Tuesday luncheon honoring F. J. McDonald, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division. The meeting will be held at the Elks Temple and starts at 12:10 p.m.

There will be no sale at the door, but tickets can be secured from luncheon clubs; from Connolly's store downtown; from Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin at the Mall; from Osburn's store at Tel-Huron; and from the Perry Street branch of the Community National Bank. They are also available at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Riker Building.

All new general managers of the two big automotive plants have been thus honored in the past.

MOON MOUNTAINS — This photo taken from the Apollo 10 lunar module during its exploratory flight to within 10 miles of the moon shows mountain ridges on the surface. At right center is a peak rising out of the center of a giant crater. NASA, which released the photo today, provided no identifying material.

Lunar-Module Camera Jarred

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Low-level sequence camera views of the prime moon landing site were lost on Apollo 10 when the camera was suddenly jarred off its proper aiming point, officials said today.

The pictures, taken by Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan, came when they dipped the lunar module to within 49,000 feet of the moon and passed over the prime landing site.

Officials said the motion picture camera gave excellent views of the approach to the landing site but that just before passing over the landing area the camera was jarred out of position and pointed too far south.

The sequence camera was mounted and aimed out a window of the lunar module and worked automatically.

NO SERIOUS BLOW

Officials said loss of the low-level sequence views of the landing site will not hurt seriously the training of the Apollo 11 moon-landing crew. They said the more important films were the good views of the approach to the landing site.

Apollo 10 film made public today by the space agency included a still photo of the ascent stage of the lunar module as it came in for a rendezvous with the command module.

Navy Cmdr. John W. Young, who stayed aboard the command module

SHOWN TO NEWSMEN

Cernan and Stafford took motion pictures of the silver-colored command module.

The space agency also showed motion film to newsmen of the earth rising over the backside of the moon. In the short but spectacular sequence, the earth is seen as a blue and mottled white half ball rising over a twilight lunar surface.

Other low level views of the moon show the surface to have a lustrous quality at high sun angles which makes it difficult to pick out features.

City Holiday Parade 'Bigger Than Ever'

"The Pontiac Memorial Day Parade will be bigger than ever this year, with bands, colorful uniforms, 76 trombones and all the rest," promises Samuel Dow, president of the Pontiac Memorial Day Association.

Some 44 marching units with four bands will be entered in tomorrow's holiday event.

Dow said last year 4,000 persons saw the parade and about 1,000 marched. "We're getting bigger each year," Dow has arranged the proceedings for the third straight year.

The bands will be those from Pontiac Northern and Central high schools plus the junior high honor band and junior high combined band.

RESERVE UNITS

The military will be represented by local Army and Navy reserve units.

Twenty veterans' organizations will take part with units from local organizations such as the Amvets, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion and North Side GI Forum.

Christian Service Brigade and Pontiac Jaycees.

The proceedings will start at 10 a.m. at Saginaw and Oakland. The parade trek down Saginaw to Auburn, then up Wide Track to the front of City Hall where Memorial Day ceremonies will be held.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker will be Rev. F. William Palmer of United Presbyterian Church of Auburn Heights. Also as part of the ceremony will be readings by the three winners in the literary contest sponsored by the association on the theme "What Memorial Day means to me."

Following these observances a motorcade will proceed to Perry Mount Park Cemetery for a wreath-laying ceremony.

Almost all city, county and federal agencies will be closed for the entire weekend. All major operations at local auto plants also are to shut down, but most area stores, though closed for the holiday, reopen Saturday.

Budget Bills Feel Legislative Heat

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature rushed to wind up action on major budget bills today before the holiday weekend. The measures would boost Gov. William G. Milliken's proposed $1.51-billion package by nearly $2 million.

Major action was expected to occur in the House where lawmakers Wednesday unexpectedly turned down two bills calling for expenditures of nearly $301 million.

Republicans and dissident Democrats teamed to defeat passage of the $278.9-million public welfare appropriation and a $221 million allocation for the departments of commerce, labor and licensing and regulation.

Stunned by the unexpected defeat, leaders finally won approval to reconsider the bills today.

LITTLE SENATE DISSENT

In the Senate, the major bills were expected to be passed without much dissent. The upper chamber thrashed out its differences on major bills during a late night session.

The Senate bills followed committee recommendations very closely. Only two amendments were approved. They called for a $150,000 allocation for a Port Huron National Guard armory and a $163,000 expenditure to permit Lake Superior State College to become autonomous.

The public welfare appropriation bill was defeated on its first try in the House primarily because it called for a $278.9 million appropriation — nearly $19.2 million more than recommended by Milliken.

A Republican proposal to cut welfare funds to the social services department by about $10 million was earlier rejected.

BURIED TAXES

The $221 million allocation for the departments of commerce, labor and licensing and regulation was turned down after debate about taxes buried in the bill.

It was estimated that about $9 million would be raised by the taxes on aviation fuel, private trucks and intrastate railroad revenue.

Opponents said the aviation fuel tax would cost the airlines $5.3 million yearly and would drive them out of Michigan. They also said a tax plan shouldn't be written into an appropriations bill.

Two other funding bills passed smoothly through the House, however.

NO DISCUSSION

A $414.8-million restricted funds measure was approved without a word of discussion. All but $26 million of it was earmarked for highway construction maintenance projects.

The House Appropriations Committee, in revising the measure, cut $191,700 from Milliken's proposals. That action apparently met with bipartisan approval.

House Speaker William A. Ryan was disgruntled at defeat of the welfare budget which he backed personally.

Passage of the appropriations bills is needed by the end of the fiscal year to insure a smooth transition. Should the state find itself without funds on July 1, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley could order department chiefs to continue existing programs.

The noted scientist said priority attention also must be given air pollution from auto exhaust fumes and raised the question of eventual replacement of the internal combustion engine by some other type of auto power plant.

DIDN'T SUPPLY ANSWER

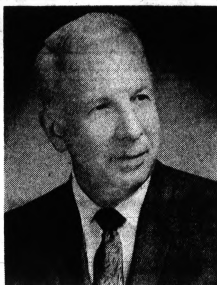

"Can we still tolerate the internal combustion engine or can it be improved?" he asked rhetorically, without attempting to give an answer.

DeBridge would serve as executive secretary of the new council, which the Florida White House said will parallel in some respects the structure of the National Security Council and the Urban Affairs Council.

Nixon said in a statement that he wants the group "to review existing policies and programs and to suggest ways of improving them." He said it "must anticipate new problems even as it focuses on present ones."

The chief executive, saying deterioration of the environment largely results from inability to keep pace with progress, declared, "We have become victims of our own technological genius."

In a companion move, Nixon also set up a citizens' advisory committee on environmental quality. It will be headed by Laurence S. Rockefeller, who worked closely with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her beautification program.

R. R. ELDRD

Bank President to Leave Post

The board of directors of Community National Bank of Pontiac has approved the request of R. R. Eldred, president, to be relieved of his duties as chief administrative officer, effective in December of this year, according to A. C. Girard, chairman of the board.

At that time, Eldred will assume the duties of vice chairman of the board of directors with the responsibility of directing and coordinating the bank's various responsibilities in civic affairs.

Bank spokesmen did not indicate when a new bank president would be named.

Eldred, 61, has been active in civic affairs in the past. He has headed fund drives for the Red Cross, United Fund and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He serves on the lay advisory board of the hospital and recently was named by the City Commission to the City Stadium Authority which is transacting for construction of a domed professional sports stadium in the city.

He has held many executive posts with the bank, starting with his appointment as auditor in January 1954.

Nixon Creates Pollution Panel

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—President Nixon created today a Cabinet-level Environmental Quality Council to coordinate a federal attack on pollution.

Nixon signed an executive order establishing the panel after conferring at his waterfront home off Miami with Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, his science adviser and the former head of the prestigious California Institute of Technology.

DuBridge later told newsmen initial concerns of the council will be to deal with such matters as possible harmful effects from DDT insecticide.

The noted scientist said priority attention also must be given air pollution from auto exhaust fumes and raised the question of eventual replacement of the internal combustion engine by some other type of auto power plant.

"Can we still tolerate the internal combustion engine or can it be improved?" he asked rhetorically, without attempting to give an answer.

DeBridge would serve as executive secretary of the new council, which the Florida White House said will parallel in some respects the structure of the National Security Council and the Urban Affairs Council.

Nixon said in a statement that he wants the group "to review existing policies and programs and to suggest ways of improving them." He said it "must anticipate new problems even as it focuses on present ones."

The chief executive, saying deterioration of the environment largely results from inability to keep pace with progress, declared, "We have become victims of our own technological genius."

In a companion move, Nixon also set up a citizens' advisory committee on environmental quality. It will be headed by Laurence S. Rockefeller, who worked closely with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her beautification program.

Senate Due to Act on School-Aid Bill

LANSING (AP) — The Senate today prepared to take quick action on a record $847.4 million school aid bill that was hammered out in a joint House-Senate conference committee.

The appropriation represents an increase of $97.8 million over public education assistance for the current fiscal year.

Educators and some legislators have been clamoring for quick action on the measure for weeks, charging that the state's school systems could be hit by widespread teacher strikes unless prompt action was taken.

The compromise version represents a $2.8 million increase over Gov. William G. Milliken's recommended appropriation of $844.6 million.

The basic aid formula approved by the conference committee calls for a gross allowance of $377.50 per child for each child backed by a state equalized valuation of $14,333 or more with deductible millage of 7.5.

For state equalized valuation less than $14,333 the per child gross allowance is $349.50 with a deductible millage of 20.

The compromise committee also set a $13 million limit on higher tax levy funds used to balance unequal differences between millage rates and equalized valuation.

The compromise bill also calls for total transportation expenditures of $13 million.

The intermediate school district appropriation was set at $4 million, the amount recommended by the governor.

In addition, the compromise bills calls for a limit of 40 per cent state aid for total per child operating costs in culturally and economically deprived school districts.

A penalty section requiring reorganization of districts which adopt deficit budgets was deleted along with language stipulating mandatory suspension of state aid to district which do not adopt rules for suspending or expelling unruly students.

'No Germ Hazard' at Utah Test Site

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Desert Test center commander says it is true a plot of ground in Utah was sown with deadly anthrax germs in a 1954 biochemical warfare test, but denies the site is hazardous to animals or men.

A statement that the area is a continuing peril by a New York congressman was described by the commander, Brig. Gen. John G. Appel, as "a case of making a big thing out of nothing."

"The only way a person could possibly contract pulmonary anthrax at the site would be to dig into the dirt and eat it," said Appel.

Police to Hike Holiday Patrols

Local law enforcement authorities will patrol county roads in extra numbers this Memorial Day weekend.

About 85 per cent of auto accidents involve people near their home, police figures show. Law officials warn motorists to be cautious.

Col. Frederick E. Davis, director of the State Police, is reportedly concerned about the fatality toll in southeastern Michigan.

For the first time in several years, he is sending an airplane into Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties to time motorists on highways and radio ahead to a State Police car if the car is speeding.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies are expecting a busy weekend patrolling the county's lakes and roads.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons advises drivers to drive defensively, while Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger urges drivers not to drive if fatigued.

Jeep-Trucks' Safety Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is making an unprecedented inquiry into the performance of one of the Army's best-known vehicles which statistics show has killed or injured thousands of American soldiers.

The investigation of the familiar, jeep-type M151 truck will be conducted by the National Highway Safety Bureau.

A spokesman said it is the first time the bureau has looked into the safety of vehicles purchased by the armed services.

The Army has purchased 123,017 of the M151s from Ford Motor Co. since 1960, at an aggregate cost of nearly $400 million.

SMOOTHER RIDE, BUT . . .

Because of its independent rear-wheel suspension, the M151 rides more smoothly than its predecessors.

But it also tends to tip over. Incomplete Army statistics show hundreds of soldiers have been killed and thousands disabled since the vehicle came into service.

The Army Materiel Command says no major modifications have ever been made on the M151.

The M151's problem is called "over-steer," the same situation that made Chevrolet's Corvair a national issue several years ago. Because of the suspension system, the Army tells its drivers, the rear wheels tend to slide away from the direction of a turn, even at low speeds.

In fiscal year 1967, the Army totaled 3,338 accidents involving the M151, with 104 GIs killed, 1,838 injured.

Burroughs VP Elected to Post With Society

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Richard O. Baily, Burroughs Corp. vice president and group executive, has been elected 1969-70 president of sales and marketing for Executives — International (SME-I), a professional society with 28,000 members in 48 nations.

Baily, 45, Echo, was elected to SME-I's leadership at the 34th Marketing Congress in Cleveland. He has been active in SME-I affairs for the past 18 years, serving as area director, association vice president, secretary-treasurer and director of service for corporate support.

In his Burroughs position, Baily directs engineering, manufacturing and marketing of data processing equipment in the United States.

BIRMINGHAM — The observance of Memorial Day again shifts in the semi-annual exhibit of gift and memorial books at the Baldwin Public Library.

A special table will be filled with the latest of these books, chosen as lasting tributes by individual as well as groups.

Representing the hobbies and interests of those being honored, the books are, in many cases, expensive volumes which the library might not otherwise be able to afford to add to its collection, according to a library official.

The display will begin Monday and will continue through June 7 in the Adult Reading Room.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Henry M. Hogan, 36, of 400 Dunston has been appointed to the Grand Valley State College Board of Control by Gov. William Milliken.

Hogan is publisher of the Birmingham Eclectic. His term will extend through Dec. 31, 1976.

The show, "Migration of Birds," will continue through July at the Cranbrook Institute of Science. Free guided tours will be available at 1:30 p.m. weekdays. The museum will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Special planetarium shows are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. weekdays and 8 p.m. Wednesday.

County Officials Satisfied With Jail-Setup Bids

County officials expressed satisfaction yesterday with bids on the four contracts necessary for construction of the county's law enforcement complex and jail.

Estimated at a total cost of $9 million, the complex is to be erected on the North Telegraph Service Center site.

The low bids on building construction, security equipment, relocation of the Service Center Drive and construction of a steam tunnel to join the jail with the courthouse, were just $3,000 over the estimated total.

The bid opening, conducted yesterday by the County Building Authority and the Board of Supervisors Planning, Building and Zoning and Finance committees, revealed the following apparent low bidders:

GENERAL CONTRACT

General contract for the law enforcement complex, Sorenson-Gross Construction Co. of Flint, $7,181,000 plus $147,000 for the alternate bid on an emergency operating center. The estimate was $7,026,000.

Security equipment contract, Southern Steel Co., San Antonio, Tex., $472,000. The estimate had been $776,500.

Road relocation, Ajax Asphalt Paving Inc. of Madison Heights, $124,967. The estimate had been $126,000.

Steam tunnel construction, George McIntosh Inc. of Ferndale, $71,300. The estimate had been $62,500.

BIDS REFERRED

All bids were referred to the architectural firm of Giffels and Rosetti of Detroit for review. The county has 45 days in which to award the bids. During that time the county will have to receive Michigan Municipal Finance Commission approval for the sale of bonds.

Not included in the contract prices were costs of furnishing and landscaping the building plus the fees for architects, and legal and financial advisers.

Dizziness Cited in Fatal Fall by Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police say actor Jeffrey Hunter probably suffered a dizzy spell, tripped and fell to his death down a short flight of stairs.

Hunter, 42, was found unconscious at the foot of the stairs Monday in his Van Nuys home. He died after brain surgery Tuesday.

Detective Sgt. Jesse A. Tubbs said Wednesday Hunter suffered recurring dizzy spells after he was thrown against a train compartment last month while making a movie in Spain.

Tubbs said the actor apparently lost his balance at the top of a three-step stairway, knocking over a planter and fell, fracturing his skull.

Funeral services will be Saturday at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Van Nuys.

Divers Added in Body Hunt

More divers have been called in to search for a man believed to have drowned in a Millford Township lake Sunday.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department divers have been looking for Arthur MacGilvrey, 39, of Detroit since Sunday in Kent Lake at Kensington Park.

Additional divers from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department were called in yesterday.

Six to eight divers have been combing the southeastern part of the lake almost continuously since Sunday. MacGilvrey reportedly drowned while swimming.

Tree stumps on the man-made lake's bottom have hampered divers' visibility, a deputy said.

Town's Low-Cost Street Sweeper Really a 'Steal'

AURORA, Colo. (AP) — Purchasing agent Doug McAvoy bought the city a six-ton street sweeper in March because it was "such a good deal we couldn't afford to pass it up."

Part of the reason for the low $11,000 price tag turned up when he sent the serial number to request a manual from the manufacturer: the sweeper was reported stolen in 1967 from the City of Los Angeles.

McAvoy said the man who sold it to them got it with other assets of a defunct California firm.

Now the seller will give back the $11,000 to Aurora, Aurora will return the sweeper to Los Angeles, and Aurora will buy another one—at $16,000.

4 MSU Alumni Will Be Honored

EAST LANSING (AP) — A college president, two businessmen and a landscape architect will be named distinguished alumni of Michigan State University at commencement exercises June 8.

They are: Dr. Robert Kramm, former MSU professor and president of California State Polytechnic College; Sheldon Moyer, president of D. P. Brother & Co., Detroit advertising firm; Leonard Osterink, president of Osterink Construction Co., Grand Rapids; and Genevieve Gillette, Ann Arbor landscape architect and a leader in parks and recreation movements in Michigan.

Director Appraises Progress

OCCEO Is 'On Course'

The Oakland County anti-poverty program is on course. At last night's meeting of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OC-

The Outstanding Problem Is Transportation

CEO), Director Edward P. Revis said a U.S. Senate check of the county program found it in nearly 100 per cent in compliance with federal guidelines.

"We feel we have proven ourselves as far as value to the community," he said. However, new emphasis and more complicated procedures are required he said.

STATUS REPORT

Most of last night's meeting was devoted to a status report by Revis and Thomas Fowler Jr., the elected OCCEO chairman. They stressed the renewed importance of community involvement. Much of the meeting's meetings, Revis said, "Sometimes we meet ourselves coming out of another meeting."

Statistically, the OCCEO reportedly conducted 543 meetings with poverty groups in the three-month period ending in May.

From the meetings have been garnered such information as what the poor want, where and why, Revis said. The outstanding complaint in this county is transportation, Revis said.

"What good does it do for the OCCEO to have an education or training program if the people can't get there?" he asked. Revis complained that his community aides (those OCCEO workers dealing most directly with the poor) "have been drivers rather than doing the job they were trained in college to do."

Right to Legal Aid Affirmed

LANSING (AP) — The State Appeals Court has ruled that a motorist charged with reckless driving has the right to an attorney at his trial.

Jesus Armando Mendoza was charged with reckless driving on April 15, 1968, in Detroit. He appeared in Recorder's Court less than four hours after his arrest and asked to see an attorney, the Appeals Court said. The request was denied.

Rep. Riegle Sees President on Strife

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Rep. Donald W. Riegle, R-Mich., was one of six congressmen who met Wednesday with President Nixon to discuss their recent tour of 50 college campuses in a search for more information about student unrest.

The Flint Republican and five GOP colleagues spent about an hour and 15 minutes with the President.

Also attending the meeting was former University of Michigan Prof. Paul McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

Severe Flooding Hits British City

WORCESTER, England (AP) — The worst floods in 35 years have hit the ancient city of Worcester, on the banks of the Severn River, after torrential rains.

The county cricket ground was six feet under water Wednesday night and the race track resembled a lake with only the tops of the rails showing. Three roads in the city center were submerged.

guidelines. "We must tap the reserves of our own community," he said.

SEVEN PRIORITIES

Fowler said a list of seven priorities has been determined through extensive interviews with the poor of the county. He said the OCCEO has been active in all and will continue to be so.

Besides the prime concern of transportation, the list of priorities includes continued and increased senior citizen programs; more community involvement; housing; school programs; job training; and day-care facilities.

CRC Halts Advice on Hiring

LANSING (UPI) — The Civil firms are asked to sign after term 'minority news media' be Rights Commission (CRC) has discontinued its practice of advising businesses to recruit workers from private, profit-making employment agencies to comply with antidiscrimination rules.

"While I think you will agree Gordin said suggestions that the Michigan Chronicle is businesses use the services of the principal black newspaper specified private, profit-making in the Detroit metropolitan 'questionable and have been area, I have proposed that the dropped."

The action was taken by Burton I. Gordin, executive director of the CRC, and announced yesterday by House Republican Floor Leader William P. Hampton of Bloomfield Hills, who last week complained about the practice to Gov. William G. Milliken.

Hampton, a lawyer, questioned if the CRC, or any state agency, could compel anyone to do business with a particular private corporation.

He also charged the CRC was forcing businessmen to advertise in the Michigan Chronicle, a weekly Detroit newspaper which circulates chiefly in the Negro community.

Social Studies Changes Coming in County Districts

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of a three-part series on Oakland County school districts' attitudes and programs concerning revitalization and upgrading of social studies courses in light of contemporary society.)

By NED ADAMSON

The learning climate might be a little different in the county's secondary school classrooms next fall — particularly in rural area schools far removed from today's social ills.

The schools and colleges — which feed people into society's so-called "system" — have lately done extensive soul-searching, some by force, and are now reassessing teaching methods and curriculum.

The need for change is seemingly self-evident.

Most of the school districts in Oakland County are accomplishing this revision phase with varying degrees of attitude and interest.

INSTANT COURSES

No one is attempting a crash program, one superintendent says. "We are not going to get any place by setting up instant required courses in Afro-American history and the like. This would only alienate and anger even more persons."

When Birmingham public school officials first considered the need for more attention to studies of present-day social significance, curriculum administrator Edwin Tarras asked an official of New Detroit Inc., Napoleon Jordan: "How should this matter of black history be handled?"

Jordan's advice: "Do it cautiously and not brashly. Don't make it look like a fad or it won't last." That seems to be the guideline set by most nonurban school districts.

Most area school administrations are attempting to revise social studies curriculums and intensify attention to the black man's role in history on a gradual basis. The object is to minimize the potential protest.

Superintendents, principals, teachers and curriculum heads — have already received their share of bitter phone calls and "grapevine disenchantment" about plans to attempt to correct today's problems by simply exposing students to a well-rounded view of contemporary society through a broad spectrum of literature, discussion, guest speakers and visual aids.

Thus far, there is little evidence of organized protest. And, educators hope to permanently avoid it by doing things on the gradual "no st'ing" basis.

The change for several years has been from the traditional "this is the way it is" textbook approach to the humanities approach to evaluation and analysis at all levels, from fifth grade up.

Said Maranus Vandame, assistant superintendent for instruction in the Farmington Community schools: "We can no longer let our graduates leave our all-white school district and contend with today's society and its problems without knowing something about the origin of those problems and perhaps how to correct them."

"We have found that our students want to learn more about their environment with a critical as well as traditional approach. Our learning program has to be placed in a perspective that gives attention to all sides of opinion and is varied enough to encourage a flexible and receptive mind to further thought," he adds.

Advising Birmingham's Tarras, "I see no way we can guarantee to change the attitude of today's youngsters for hope of a better tomorrow."

"But our district will provide as much material in the area of social and minority group studies as the student has the time and mental ability to comprehend."

"A plane has to be reached where we feel we have at least done our job — and most of the schools have clearly not done this," he contended.

"Instead of learning that Columbus discovered America in three different history courses, it's time to let the kids read something like Michael Harrington's 'The Other America,' — the classic study on poverty in the United States."

Rochester Schools Supt. Douglas Lund believes students today are not "color-blind" when they begin attending school.

"Their vision, obviously, becomes distorted via the home environment through the years. It is the responsibility of our schools to see to it that the student at least has the chance to study and evaluate things for himself through a broader presentation of source materials," Lund explained.

The revision trend is something that is not being solely confined to the upper middle-class suburbs. Most all of the districts including ones in the more conservative rural areas are giving a hard look at their existing programs.

The need for curriculum revampment has been prompted by increased parents, human relations councils, clergymen, school administrators and some board of education members.

Most of these groups are attempting to work closely together in an attempt to develop a reasonable course of action while trying to avoid conflict from the school district constituency and board of education members who must evaluate and decide on any changes in curriculum or procedure.

Administrators report little difficulty in generating enthusiasm among the students for a "look at the other side" and a more penetrating view of today's status quo.

"We never really expected any discontent among the students toward more critical revised approaches to learning. The problem doesn't lie there," said one curriculum head.

(Note: Programs under way, programs planned and problems encountered in attempting change in the classroom.)

Avondale Chief to Join Activism, Curriculum Parley

John Dickey, superintendent of Avondale Schools, will be among the 400 school administrators invited to participate in a weeklong national institute July 6-12 dealing with the issue of student activism and curriculum relevancy.

The school officials will be guests of the Institute for Development of Educational Activities Inc. (IDEA).

Special reports and papers on curriculum and activism gathered by IDEA will be distributed to the school officials to stimulate discussion. Administrators who have experienced confrontations with militants, along with the nation's leading curriculum developers, will explore causes and legality of the new mood among junior and senior high students.

Institute fellows are selected from educators who submit formal applications. Location of the institute will be announced later.

Police Officers in Rochester Vote for Union

ROCHESTER — Police officers yesterday voted 9-1 to join the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME-AFL-CIO) Local 1445.

The 10 officers became the first group of city employees to unionize. The Department of Public Works employees voted against affiliating with the Teamsters two years ago.

Excluded from the union were command officers — the chief, detectives and sergeants.

Howard Draft, northern Oakland County AFSCME representative, said that negotiations with the city would begin in a week to 10 days, just as soon as final recognition by the State Department of Labor.

The voting was conducted by secret ballot, supervised by Ernest Frey of the State Labor Mediation Board, and witnessed by Clarence Cramer, city electrical inspector.

3 New Buildings Opened at Park on Pontiac Lake

New clothes changing areas, showers and toilet facilities and a new concession building have been opened at the state's Pontiac Lake recreation area.

The park, which has a 1½-mile-long beach on Pontiac Lake, is in White Lake and Waterford townships.

The three new buildings cost some $300,000. The concession and changing facilities are in the center of the park. A new toilet facility also was built at the east end.

The park can hold up to 30,000 people a day with parking for 1,200 cars. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day. The entrance is off Gale Road.

The cost of the new buildings will be paid for by the motor entrance vehicle permits. A daily permit for parking a car is $1 while an annual permit is $3. Pedestrians enter free.

Riding facilities, a playground and baseball diamonds are in the park.

Dusty Residents Wait for Chloride

Rural residents residing on dirt roads have run into a few days' delay with the Oakland County Road Commission's chloride program.

Commission officials said the supply ran out Saturday and again Tuesday. The material is purchased from Dow Chemical Co., Midland, and the company reportedly is reorganizing its shipping procedures to meet the demand.

There is no shortage of chloride, used on dirt roads to cut dust, commission spokesmen said.

"We're only a few days behind. We had to wait for drier weather before we could begin application," the spokesmen said.

Ortonville-Brandon Alumni Banquet Set

ORTONVILLE — The 78th annual Ortonville-Brandon alumni banquet will be held June 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Brandon High School cafeteria.

Reservations can be made with Mrs. Ellis Jencks in Ortonville, or tickets may be purchased at the Village Dry Goods Store in Ortonville.

'Flotilla' to Be Launched Friday for the First Paint Creek 'Regatta'

ROCHESTER — The first "Floatable, Boatable Regatta" gets under way tomorrow at 12:30 over a Paint Creek course from the Tienken Road bridge north of the city ending 1½ miles downstream at Rochester Municipal Park on Ludlow Street.

More than 100 contestants have registered for the race in craft ranging from inner tubes to customized "yachts." A10-foot sailboat and several prams (flat-bow rowboats) will also be in the running.

Regatta headquarters has been "Commodore" Tom Hunter's Main Street pharmacy.

Full of rocks and low-hanging limbs, Paint Creek water conditions range from shoulder-deep to barely moist with a bank width alternating from 10 to 20 feet.

FIRST OF SERIES

The race is the first of a series of events marking Rochester's Centennial year. Tomorrow's event ends with a picnic in the park.

First- and second-prize trophies will be awarded in four categories — fastest time, most unique craft and the least likely to make it.

In addition, Hunter is offering the coveted Commodore's Trophy. "I don't know what it's for yet or what it will look like, but I'll think of something," Hunter quipped.

2 Hurt as Plane Crashes in Troy

TROY — Two men were injured in a small-plane crash at Big Beaver Airport. Big Beaver and John R at 5:45 p.m. yesterday.

Arnold Dunbar, 26, of 1859 Cole, Birmingham, who was a passenger in the plane suffered a concussion and is listed in satisfactory condition at William Beaumont Hospital this morning.

Treated for facial cuts and released from the hospital was the plane's pilot, Thomas A. Greer, 39, of 2500 Columbia, Berkeley.

Troy police said witnesses saw the plane stall just after takeoff and crash.

Jet Set May Buckle Up

Belt Rockets to a Success

A man can strap on a new rocket belt, with an engine developed by Williams Research Corp. of Wall Lake, and sail for miles without wings.

The belt has carried a man aloft for minutes and miles at an altitude of 25 feet and speeds up to 30 miles an hour in tests, Texton's Bell Aerosystems Co., the jet-belt developer, announced today.

The time and distance the man was aloft at the tests at Niagara Falls Airport are secret.

The Wall Lake firm is at 2280 W. Maple.

The new belt replaces one introduced in 1961 by Bell — a hydrogen-peroxide system capable of flying a man for 21 seconds at up to 60 miles an hour, covering more than 800 feet.

FAN-JET ENGINE

The new belt is powered by a fan-jet engine about two feet long and a foot in diameter. It burns standard kerosene-type jet fuel.

The engine is mounted vertically with twin ducts just behind and outside of the pilot's shoulders. The ducts, pointed down, provide the upward thrust and can be turned to permit maneuvering in the air.

Robert J. May, Bell's jet belt project manager, said, "The scope of military and civilian applications is limited only by the imagination and ingenuity of its potential users."

He listed such things as riot control, rescue operations and soldiers crossing rivers or minefields.

The pilot will have a battery-powered radio to maintain communications with the ground.

Sept. 16 Vote Set in Avon on Charter Unit

AVON TOWNSHIP — A special election for charter commission members of the proposed Rochester Hills city incorporation will be Sept. 16, it was reported last night by Township Clerk Thelma Spencer.

Mrs. Spencer told Township Board trustees that the County Elections Commission had certified the special election. Former charter commission members elected to write a charter for city incorporations that failed in subsequent votes will be ineligible for candidacy, Mrs. Spencer said.

In other action, the board voted to petition the Oakland County Drain Commission to establish a drain district in the northwest section of the township for a proposed $170,000 drain pipe enclosure and open ditch improvement program.

Residents of Lechmoor Subdivision petitioned the board to erect a traffic light at the Walton-Shagbark intersection. The board took no action on the request, tabling the matter for further consideration of the precedent-setting request, since traffic lights as a practice here are not erected in residential areas.

Several property owners abutting the Graham Johnson residence, 1608 Walton, complained of Johnson's practice of parking, and allegedly repairing and revving motors of heavy construction equipment. The board took no action on the petition, pointing out that the Johnson property was presently zoned non-conforming. The matter was assigned to the planning commission and building inspector for investigation of possible violations.

JETTING ALOFT — Soaring high over the Niagara Falls airport is a test pilot using a new jet-flying belt. The belt features an engine made by Williams Research Corp. of Wall Lake.

Ex-Senator Potter Will Get VA Post

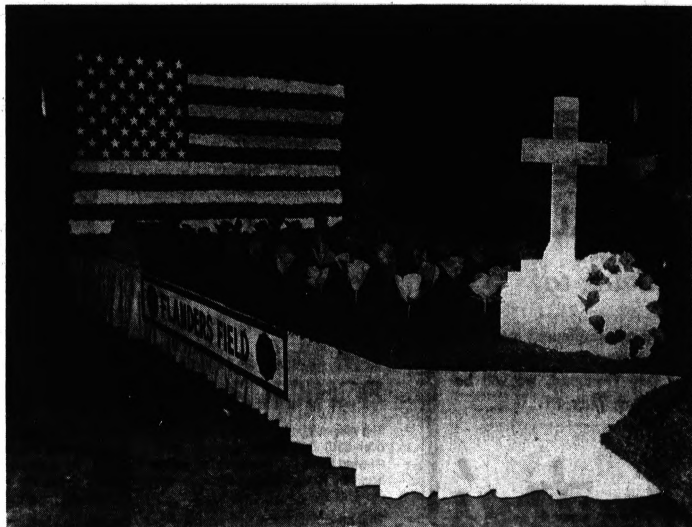

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The appointment of former Michigan Sen. Charles E. Potter, a legless World War II veteran and native of Lapeer, to head the Veterans Administration is expected to be announced by President Nixon in the next week.

Potter, a Republican who has the backing of Michigan's junior senator Robert P. Griffin — served in the Senate from 1952 to 1958 when he was defeated by Democrat Philip A. Hart.

Potter, 52, had been active in fundraising campaigns for both Griffin and Nixon.

Service in Europe during World War II led to injuries that cost Potter both legs. He was first elected to Congress in 1947 and was elected to the Senate in 1952 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg.

One other candidate had been mentioned as a possible appointment, but dropped out of the running, sources said.

beginning at Blanche Intermediate School at Jackson and Florence streets, proceeding to Evergreen Cemetery for a memorial service, then to the village park where the parade will disband.

School Officials Will Address Grads in Utica

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. William J. Early, general superintendent of the Flint Community Schools, will be commencement speakers for 795 graduating students from the Utica Community Schools' Stevenson and Utica high schools in June.

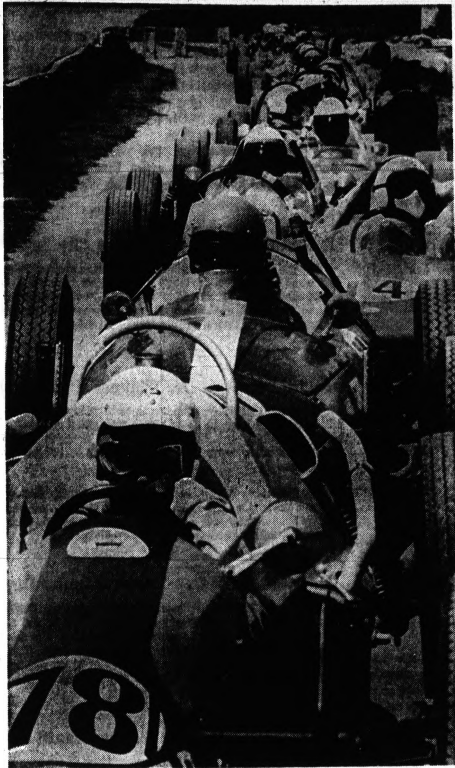

Dr. Polley will speak at the Stevenson graduation exercises, June 12. Utica seniors will hear Dr. Early at graduation exercises, June 11.

The graduates list, 406 from Stevenson and 389 from Utica, including 48 persons from the two schools' Adult High School Completion Programs, was approved by the board of education this week.

The valedictorian of the Stevenson senior class is Beverly Misch and the salutatorian is Barbara Burnham. Utica High's valedictorian is Judy Vornelker and the salutatorians are Robert Davis and Sharon Oliver.

An estimated 15 per cent of the graduates have already qualified for scholarships, and more are expected to be announced throughout the summer, according to senior class faculty sponsors.

Sports Car Buffs Test Area Track

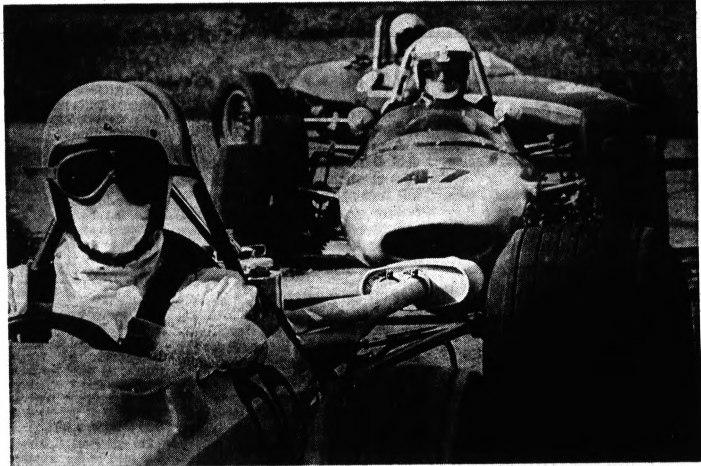

While 250,000 people packed the Indianapolis Speedway each day last weekend for the "500" qualifying, a much smaller, enthusiastic crowd of racing buffs took over at Waterford Hills.

Located on the grounds of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, the 1.5-mile road course is the only auto racing plant in Oakland County.

Production sedans and formula models were on the track for the first of five weekends of sports car racing. Unlike Indy which has specially trained pit crews and highly publicized drivers for each car, many of the drivers at Waterford Hills are their own chief mechanics. Members of the family, neighbors and friends often help in the pit area.

And, like any race, those at Waterford Hills have their thrills and occasional spills. Next racing dates are June 28-29.

GINZBURG AND STORY — An article by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is displayed in the March Avant Garde magazine by the publisher Ralph Ginzburg in New York City yesterday. Ginzburg was

Serve as Ambulance on Holiday in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — A helicopter ambulance service will be used for the first time over the long Memorial Day weekend to speed victims of traffic accidents to Chicago area hospitals for treatment.

Planners estimate this service —employed on a large scale in ferrying battle casualties to hospitals in Vietnam—can get accident victims into hospitals in as little as one-third the time required by surface transportation.

A spokesman for Lutheran General Hospital in suburban Park Ridge, one of five hospitals cooperating in the program, said Wednesday the sheriff's police will operate three helicopters and they will land on hospital grounds. The victims then will be treated at the hospital. The helicopters will be coordinated by a command post set up in a bus, Sheriff Joseph Woods said.

DAYLIGHT OPERATIONS

Woods said the helicopters will go into operation today and will operate only during the daylight hours.

The Lutheran General spokesman said a patient recently was flown by helicopter from a hospital in downtown Chicago for special treatment in Lutheran General in 10 minutes.

The flight took place during the morning traffic, and ordinarily an ambulance would have taken an hour in reaching the suburban hospital.

Camp Vacation Sought for 50

The Pontiac Summer Camp Committee, which has received about 130 applications for summer camps this year, has been successful in financially sponsoring and placing only 80 of these children.

The committee is seeking funds with which to send the other 50 youngsters to a summer camp.

The Pontiac Summer Camp Committee is a subcommittee of the Pontiac Citizen's Committee on Youth. It was formed in 1967 to coordinate and provide as many camp experiences as possible for needy children and their families.

The committee receives referrals from the Pontiac social service agencies, schools, churches and interested citizens.

Those interested in contributing to help send the 50 children to a summer camp may contact Paul Talagrand at the Oakland County Protective Service Office, or Mrs. Sivia Ellender at the Pontiac Public Schools Social Work Department.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Unterhahner

Bill Olsen (left) and his father, Merritt Olsen, presented several numbers at the annual dinner Wednesday of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society at Central United Methodist Church. Mrs. Wright was chairman of the dinner.

Lifetime Residents Are Honored

Two lifetime residents of Pontiac were honored Wednesday evening by the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society. John E. Linabury and Damaris Cole Prall received certificates of appreciation in absentia for "contributions to the cause of local history and especially for friendship and assistance to the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society."

Mrs. Donald Adams prepared some material on the two honorees who have been lifelong friends. Excerpts from her notes follow:

"Both have been long standing members of the Society and have served for a number of years on its board of directors."

"... Mr. Linabury who lived on Pike Street across from All Saints rectory remembers when Mrs. Prall was born."

The Cole home stood where the church parking lot is located on Williams Street. "On that special day, John noticed that the curtains in the Cole home were drawn. His mother cautioned him to be quiet when playing as the Coles had a new baby."

EARLY YEARS

"Damaris Cole's father, Sylvester Cole, was born in 1850 on a farm near Rochester, attended Rochester schools and the University of Michigan Law School. He practiced law in Pontiac for 25 years."

"Damaris married a childhood friend, William J. Bigler, and moved to Baltimore. They continued to come back to their Watkins Lake cottage in the summers. After Bigler's death, she returned to Pontiac."

"Later, she married Whitney Prall, another childhood friend and returned to live permanently in Pontiac."

Both the Pralls helped in the restoration of the Moses Wisner home.

JOHN LINABURY

John E. Linabury was born in Pontiac Aug. 17, 1878, the son of Henry Linabury a local druggist. After graduating from the University of Michigan School of Engineering and a brief stay away from Michigan, he came to the Oakland Motor Car Company in Pontiac.

"He designed the first four cylinder car built by Pontiac and the first sliding gear transmission for Pontiac Motor. He modernized the Saginaw Malleable Division, the Chevrolet Gray Iron Division and the Cadillac Motor Division Foundry, all GM companies. The first official to move into the GM Building in Detroit, he also supervised construction of the Buick and Pontiac foundries."

Since retirement in 1947, Linabury has participated in civic affairs, serving on the Pontiac Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Friends of long standing were honored in absentia Wednesday evening at the annual dinner of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society. Certificates of appreciation, read to dinner guests, will be delivered to the recipients, John E. Linabury, East Iroquois Road and Mrs. Whitney Prall, Henderson Street. This picture was taken earlier at Mr. Linabury's home.

Salesman Just Can't Sell His Wife on Idea of Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Not only does my salesman husband fly to exotic places for conventions, he is also expected (when in town) to wine and dine prospects nearly every evening until the wee hours.

Weekends are a nightmare. He's exhausted and sleeps every Saturday morning, plus all afternoon on Sunday. Meanwhile I'm supposed to keep our four hyperactive youngsters quiet and out of sight.

Closed Until Tuesday

Cranbrook Galleries will not be open during the holiday weekend. They closed tonight at 5 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday at 1 p.m. The galleries are always closed on Monday.

Sex has long been forgotten. He hasn't time for me.

I'll stay until the youngsters are old enough, so I can get out with a clear conscience, and leave him alone to the "death of a salesman."

Sincerely, WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Have you tried to make your husband aware of what is happening to your marriage? If not, you must accept part of the blame for its failure.

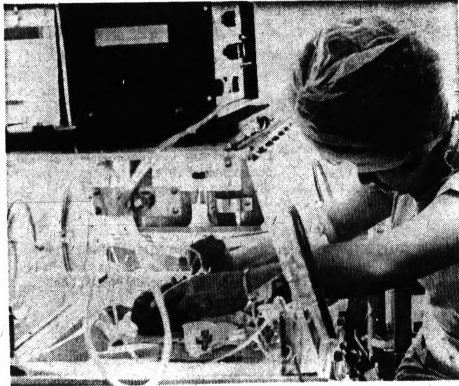

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wedding Information

Planning your wedding? We want to help you.

Beginning June 9, we must have information about your wedding in our office five days in advance of the ceremony. Information blanks are available in the women's department, or the material may be printed clearly on any large sheet of paper.

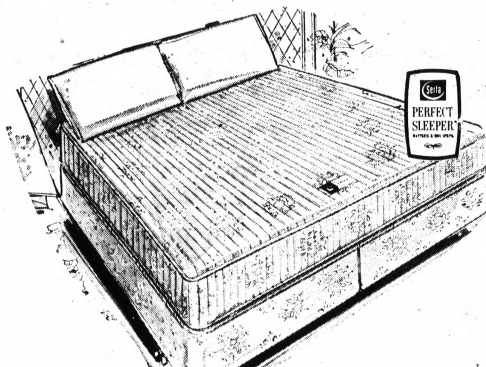

Pictures will still be accepted up to three days after the ceremony, but the information must be in our hands ahead of time.

New Respirator Eases Breathing of Newborn

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — what physicians call the "res-Virginia Polytechnic Institute piratory distress syndrome," announced today development approximately half now suffer of a respirator for infants who brain damage because of insuf-have trouble breathing—an ailment that now claims the lives of about 25,000 babies yearly in the United States.

Tech spokesmen said physicians evaluating the performance of the highly sensitive respirator reported it has brought a significant reduction in infant mortality.

The respirator, developed by
Dr. Leon J. Arp of the Virginia Tech faculty after one of his own infants fell ill, was said to have increased the survival re-ate of newborn babies afflicted with respiratory distress from 50 per cent to 85 per cent.

Of the infants who survive

RESEARCH
Arp, head of Tech's engineering fundamentals division, developed the respirator in eight years of self-supported research. Only developmental models of the respirator are available now. Commercial production is to start next year.

Several respirators are at Roanoke Memorial Hospital, where the equipment was first tested in February 1967. One each is in use at the Medical College of Virginia Hospital in Richmond and the Harvard Children's Hospital Medical Center in Cambridge, Mass.

Equipment already exists for treatment of infants with respiratory distress. The superiority of the Arp respirator, doctors said, lies in its sensitive and rapid response to the needs of the infant struggling for breath, without great interference with his circulatory system.

The respirator is designed to help keep the infant well supplied with oxygen and in this way can prevent brain damage from oxygen deficiency. Arp began work on the respirator in the summer of 1961, when one of his own newborn twins began showing symptoms of respiratory distress.

"We were lucky," Arp said.
"The child lived and appears to be normal."

Arp then a professor at Iowa State University started work on the respirator there.

The respirator measures about 23 inches long by 10 inches high by 12 inches wide. Models have been built in Tech's industrial engineering laboratory — eight prototypes thus far.

Details of the respirator's development are contained in a two-part article written by Arp and three associates for the May and June issues of the medical journal, "Anesthesia and Analgesia."

Bad Dental Health Can Be Contributor

By DR. HOWARD E. KESSLER

Bad teeth can make you fat. This may be a rather startling statement to many readers, but we dentists see this over and over again in the course of our professional lives.

A few years ago, I saw a 27-year-old girl who was a perfect example of a mouth leading to an overweight return for weight control help.

Because of her inability to chew properly, she was existing on foods that practically melted in her mouth.

The excessive amount of this type of food gave her a tremendously high daily caloric intake. In addition to her unattractive obesity, she was in ill health due to poor nutrition.

DENTIST FIRST

Her physician saw her problem clearly and insisted that she visit her dentist and not until her mouth was completely rehabilitated. In the past, she had been in the habit of going of her physician, it was no trouble for her to limit her daily caloric intake since she was now able to eat a balanced diet.

This girl turned out to be healthy and attractive. She now has beautiful teeth and a slim figure. Having worked as a team, her dentist and her physician are proud of the result.

Cheese-Beef Dish High in Protein

Looking for a main dish that is tasty, economical, and nutritious? Cottage Beef Bake is all three, plus even more! Preparation in advance is another happy feature in casserole cookery.

Cottage cheese, a protein rich food, brings new flavor goodness to ground beef. A tomato sauce and herb seasoning make the casserole similar to many Italian favorites. Yet, cottage cheese makes the recipe extra economical.

If you haven't as yet discovered cottage cheese as a main dish ingredient, do try this recipe. You'll find that this versatile dairy food offers unending variety. In addition, cottage cheese is a low calorie food that offers nearly the same amount of protein in a ½ cup serving as a medium serving of fish, poultry or lean meat.

COTTAGE BEEF BAKE
1 pkg. (7 oz.) elbow macaroni
2 cups (1 pint) creamed cottage cheese
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter
1 pound lean ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 ½ tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons Italian seasoning
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 cups (½ lb.) process American cheese, shredded
Buttered bread crumbs.

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain well. Combine with cottage cheese, set aside. Sauté onion in butter until transparent. Add ground beef and cook until lightly brown. Stir in salt, flour, Italian seasoning and tomato sauce. Cook 1 minute.

Pour ½ of meat mixture into buttered 2-quart casserole. Top with ½ of macaroni mixture, then ½ of shredded cheese. Repeat use last ½ of sauce on top. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top.

Bake uncovered in a slow oven 325 degrees 45 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Team Lobster, Fresh Fruits

Spanish cooks have a way with salads. They have discovered for example how delicious a combination is seafood and fruit. One Spanish restaurant in New York features a lobster-and-fruit salad that is superb.

Some of the fruits vary with the seasons, but one is never absent — apples! And we can understand why. The crisp, tart, tang of apples is a perfect foil for the delicately bland flavor of lobster and therefore must always be present.

Here is a less expensive version of this salad, using frozen lobster tails — and apples. But of course!

SPANISH SALAD

3 packages (8-oz. each) frozen lobster tails
3 red apples
½ cup French dressing
2 bananas
1 can (1-lb.) pineapple chunks
1 cup sliced celery
Salad greens

Cook lobster in boiling salted water according to package directions. Cool. Remove meat from shells; slice.

Core apples; dice (do not peel); drop at once into French dressing; stir to coat. Peel bananas; score with lines of fork; slice; add to apples. Drain pineapple chunks. Drain apples and bananas.

Combine fruits and celery with lobster. Arrange on salad greens. Serve with additional French dressing. Makes 6 generous servings.

Don't Believe

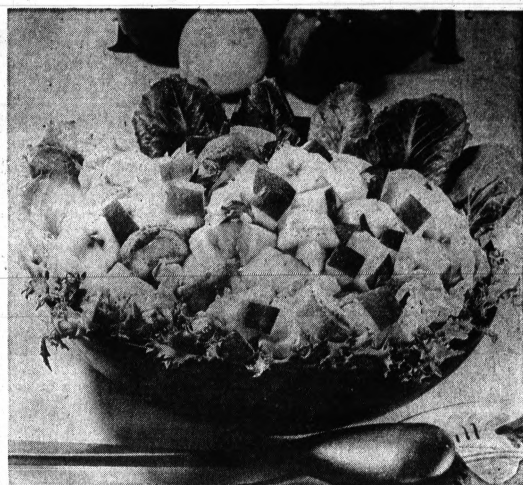

All Those Tales

Montezuma, the first chocolate connoisseur, never knew the delights of hot chocolate made with milk or topped with whipped cream. According to a Mexican historian, dairy cattle didn't exist in Mexico during the Aztec emperor's day.

The same authority casts some doubt on the legend that Montezuma always drank his chocolate from golden mugs; he claims that any metal would have spoiled the flavor of Mexican chocolate.

Never the Same

Pork was originally the meat used for making sausage, but during the last 700 years all kinds of meat, alone or blended, have been used for sausage and other ready-to-serve meats.

SPANISH SALAD — Here's a delightful blend of seafood and fruit. Fresh cooked lobster tails, apples, bananas and pineapple are blended with French dressing into a super salad. Fine for the buffet table or for a luncheon.

COTTAGE-BEEF BAKE — Cottage and American cheeses are combined with ground beef in this tasty main dish.

Why do we take the finest cuts of plump white Albacore tuna and call it skinny tuna?

Because of the way we pack it. Most tuna comes packed in oil. Fatty oil. You can pour off the oil but not the calories.

We pack Empress the natural way. In water. Non-fattening, no-calorie water. That gives Empress less than half the calories of oil-packed tuna. And with no oil to disguise the taste, Empress has a fresher, more natural flavor.

NEW YORK — "Johnny, finish your spinach before we go out to play."

"Mary, eat your carrots or you won't get any dessert."

How many mothers over the centuries have begged, threatened or cajoled their children in an attempt to get them to eat the proper foods?

But modern educators have shown that there are other and better methods for motivating youngsters.

As a way of helping parents to instill good eating habits in their youngsters, the Vitamin Information Bureau is making available a free, colorful folder called, "Vitamins in Your Growing Years."

This illustrated, easy-to-read booklet opens up into a chart for pinning on the wall.

The chart is in the form of a scorecard that lists the major food sources of vitamins and provides boxes so the child can, with the help of the parent, check off the foods eaten each day. In this way, by the end of the week, both the youngster and the parent can see if Johnny or Mary scores a joining mark in eating habits.

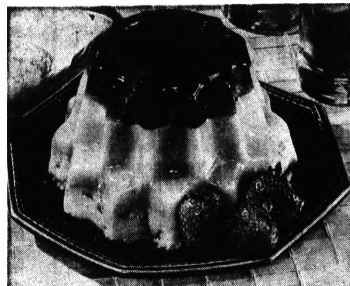

The free booklet is available by writing to the Vitamin Information Bureau, 575 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

Tomatoes and Corn Good Combination

Simmer equal amounts of canned tomatoes and whole kernel corn. Add finely chopped onion, salt, pepper and margarine to taste. Cook slowly about 15 minutes.

Alternate layers of vegetables and homemade dry bread crumbs in well-greased baking dish, ending with crumbs. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake at 400 degrees F. about 20 minutes or until top is browned.

(To make bread crumbs, put extra bread on baking sheet in turned off oven. When dry, put into paper bag and crush with rolling pin or pop bottle.)

MICHIGAN STRAWBERRY MOLD—Dissolve 1 package family size (6 oz.) strawberry flavor gelatin in 1½ cups boiling water. Arrange 6-8 whole strawberries in 4-cup size tall gelatin mold and pour in about ½ cup warm gelatin mixture. Place mold in refrigerator while mixing 1 pint strawberry ice cream in remaining gelatin; stir until well dissolved. Fold in 1 cup fresh berries, washed, hulled and quartered and pour this mixture into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on chilled plate and serve as salad or dessert. Serves 6-8.

Homemade Petit Fours a Challenge

You can make petit fours at home. They look difficult, but they aren't—only fussy. These directions come from the Culinary Arts Institute Encyclopedic Cookbook.

Bake white or true sponge-cake in shallow pans. When cool, cut into tiny squares, diamonds, circles or other fancy shapes. You may split the cake, hollow the center and fill with custard filling or whipped cream. Or, for a simpler version, use just the cake.

Remove any loose crumbs and place on cake rack with wax paper underneath. Allow plenty of space between cakes.

POUR FROSTING

Pour Fondant Frosting slowly over cakes, allowing surplus to run onto paper beneath. Lift cake rack gently, move to a second sheet of paper. Decorated frosted cakes as desired and let stand until frosting is firm.

Remove cake with spatula and trim bottom edges with sharp knife. Scrape frosting from papers, repeat use for other cakes.

For decorations: Make design with colored icing, using pastry

Scallop Potatoes With Cheese, but Without Milk

Alan Rains, who cooks as a hobby, says his scalloped potato recipe is a family favorite.

Pare and thinly slice 6 cups (about 2½ pounds) potatoes. Arrange approximately ¼ of potatoes in 2-quart casserole which has been generously buttered on bottom. Sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper and part of 1 cup of chopped fresh onions. Repeat layers ending with potatoes. Pour enough boiling water into casserole to reach ½ up side of casserole. Sprinkle 1 cup of grated cheddar cheese on potatoes.

Cover and bake in 375-degree oven about 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. Uncover and bake about 10 minutes more or until cheese is lightly browned. Makes about 6 servings.

Melt fondant in small amounts, over hot (not boiling) water. This frosting may be colored delicately.

Fondant Frosting

2 cups sugar
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar

Heat ingredients slowly and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cover pan and cook without stirring to 240 degrees, or until a small amount forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water.

Pour onto lightly greased 11-tablespoons honey, ½ cup platter or marble slab and cool brown sugar and a dash of salt until firm enough to handle. In a saucepan. Stir constantly. Knead until smooth and creamy, over low heat until mixture about 15 minutes. Form into a ball, wrap in wax paper and evaporated milk. Boil gently 2 place in covered jar 24 hours. minutes. Pour over pears and serve warm.

Dress Up Pears With Good Sauce

Dip canned pear halves in lemon juice. Chill. Drain the pears and roll in crunchy, toasted coconut.

Combine ¼ cup butter, 3 tablespoons honey, ½ cup brown sugar and a dash of salt in a saucepan. Stir constantly. Knead until smooth and creamy, over low heat until mixture about 15 minutes. Form into a ball, wrap in wax paper and evaporated milk. Boil gently 2 place in covered jar 24 hours. minutes. Pour over pears and serve warm.

Toast Graduates in Cool Punch

By JANET ODELL,
Food Editor
The Pontiac Press

This is the time of year when I start getting calls for punch recipes. Graduation receptions are in the offing.

Don't let the absence of a punchbowl stop you. You can borrow one from your best friend, rent one, or invent one. Any enormous bowl will do. If you don't like the color, cover it with aluminum foil. Or for a teenage party, buy a bright plastic pail and serve from that.

For the really formal affair, you'll want the beauty of glass, of course. Graduation glass punch cups are lovely; but you can serve punch in the delightful paper or plastic punch cups available in many stores.

HOW MUCH?

Now for quantities: one gallon of punch will serve approximately 40 punch cups (¾ to 4 oz.). Figure on at least two servings for each guest, more if the guests are younger and more if the day is unusually hot.

To keep your punch at full strength, freeze lemonade or some other fruit juice in a ring mold or in your ice cube trays. You may freeze bits of fruit, even flowers in the cubes for added decoration.

Have everything well chilled before you put the punch together.

GRADUATION PUNCH
3 cans (6 ounces each) frozen concentrated lemonade
4 quarts water
1 quart grapefruit juice, chilled
2 quarts gingerale, chilled
Sugar
Green coloring
Ice cubes, lime slices and strawberries
Pour limeade and lemonade into punch bowl. Stir in water. Add grapefruit juice and gingerale. Add sugar to taste. Add a few drops of green coloring until right shade of green.

Ice cubes, lime slices and strawberries
Pour limeade and lemonade into punch bowl. Stir in water. Add grapefruit juice and gingerale. Add sugar to taste. Add a few drops of green coloring until right shade of green.

Add ice cubes, lime slices and strawberries. Serve at once. (Makes 8 quarts or 32 one-cup servings.)

TROPICAL COOLER
3 envelopes instant soft drink mix (any red flavor)

Salami Wedges Start of Casserole

Here's mix-up magic for menus: cut 12 ounces of salami in wedges and combine with two packages (10 ounces each) of frozen mixed vegetables, one can (4 ounces) sliced water chestnuts. Add to this one can (10½ ounces) condensed celery soup mixed with one cup of milk.

Mix lightly and turn into a two-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Top with one can (3 ounces) Chinese noodles. This casserole gives four to six servings.

1 cup sugar
3 quarts ice water with ice
1 can (46 oz.) chilled fruit juice
4 fully ripe bananas
1 bottle (28-29 oz.) chilled ginger ale
Dissolve instant soft drink mix and sugar in water. Add fruit juice and mashed bananas. Stir or whip until frothy and well blended. Add ginger ale. Pour into punch bowl. If desired, garnish with fresh fruit, such as banana, orange or lemon slices. Makes about 50 portions.

THE GIRAFFE
3 fresh limes
2 quarts chilled apple juice
5 8-ounce bottles lemon or lime-flavored soda.

Cut one lime into thin slices, then in half circles or quarters. Place one piece in each compartment of ice-making tray. Fill tray with apple juice and freeze. Cut peel from other two limes into long strips; reserve. Squeeze juice from 1 lime; measure ¼-cup.

When apple juice is frozen into cubes, remove from tray and place several cubes in each beverage glass. Combine remaining apple juice (about 5 cups), carbonated beverage and lime juice in tall pitcher.

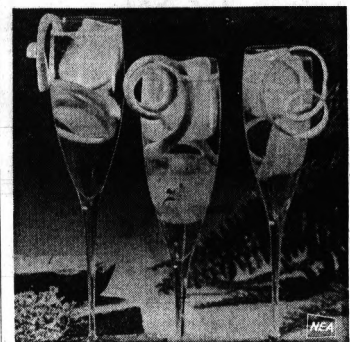

Pour over cubes in glasses. Garnish with strips of lime peel. Makes 15-20 punch cup servings.

Filled Biscuits Are Real Treat

Little buns filled with California seedless raisins are breakfast or brunch treat. Flatten 1 (8-ounce) package oven-ready refrigerated biscuits with fingers.

Mix softened cream cheese with seedless raisins and place spoonful in center of each biscuit. Fold dough up around filling. Bake in 400 degree F. oven 10 minutes until golden. Makes 10 buns.

TONGUE IN BEER — Tender, delicious, all-meat tongue makes an excellent entree for family or company meals. Simmered in beer for a subtle undertone of flavor, the meat takes well to sweet-sour raisin sauce. Chilled glasses of sparkling beer are an ideal adult beverage.

Tongue Is Simmered in Beer

Some meats are far more popular than others. The overwhelming majority of American homemakers prefer beef in one of the simple forms such as steaks, roasts or chops.

Even all-time favorite beef is ignored in more unusual or complex forms. Tender, nutritious, flavorful beef tongue is one of those cuts. Tongue is an excellent choice for family meals but many families have never enjoyed it.

Could it be that many cooks simply don't know how to prepare tongue? Or don't know what to serve it with, once they've cooked it? If that includes you, this is a good time of year to try a "new" meat.

For your first try at tongue, adopt a classic chef's trick for imparting extra flavor and additional tenderness to this long-simmered dish — use beer in the cooking pot. Water alone will stew the tongue, but the rich, malty flavorings in beer will penetrate the meat fibers and bring out all the inherent meaty qualities.

RAISIN SAUCE
Although many people prefer cold sliced tongue, for your first attempt, serve a lovely sauce smoothed out with beer and sweetly spiced with raisins. Because of the excellence of the sauce, try serving the fork-tender, piping hot tongue slices over fluffy rice to absorb the extra sauce.

TONGUE IN BEER
1 smoked tongue (about 4 pounds)
2 cups beer
Water
1 tablespoon whole pickling spice
Place tongue in a deep kettle. Pour on beer and add enough cold water to cover tongue. Add pickling spice. Cover and bring to a boil; lower heat and simmer for 2 to 3 hours or until fork-tender.
Remove tongue and cool slightly. Trim off bone and gristle at thick end. To remove skin, split on underside and then loosen all skin around thick end with a paring knife. Turn tongue and grasp skin at

Butter Is All Fish Needs

Below is such an easy way to prepare fish for your family!

SWORDFISH STEAKS
2 swordfish steaks (each about 1 pound and 1 inch thick)
¼ teaspoon salt
Paprika
½ cup butter
Place the swordfish steaks in a buttered shallow pan into which they just fit — an oblong glass baking dish (11½ by 7½ by 1½ inches). Sprinkle top surface of fish with the salt and some paprika; dot with the butter.
Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until fish flakes easily with a fork and is opaque through — about 20 minutes. Serve fish with the good buttery juices in the pan. Makes 4 servings.

High School's Closing Is Sign of Nationwide Parochial Crisis

HELENA, Mont. (P) — The seniors of Helena Catholic Central High School have one thing in common: They'll be without an alma mater come graduation. The school is closing with graduation today, the victim of a nationwide crisis that has hit parochial schools.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press showed that many parochial schools are being forced to close because of rising costs and a diminishing supply of teachers from religious orders. Helena Catholic's 74 seniors simultaneously will say "thanks" and "goodbye" upon graduation.

'WON'T BE HAPPY'
As one senior put it: "It won't be happy. I can already see the tears."

All but the seniors will have to transfer loyalties to Helena Senior — once an archrival, now a refuge. No use having a lingering sign of the past, school officials thought.

"I couldn't believe it — we were doing so well, building from nothing to something in sports and everything," said Shaun Donovan, 17, the senior class president. Donovan said he was shocked, stunned when the closure was announced.

So were 73 other graduates, who barely four years earlier were the first pupils entering the $1.7-million building.

IMPRESSIVE BUILDING
The building even belies its closing. The walls are richly paneled. The floors are terrazo. The lawn has only a good start. Administrative offices are elegant, even plush. Lack of finances apparently wasn't evident when Central was built.

The quality and need for parochial school teaching has been questioned, in Montana and elsewhere.

"I'll just have to go out and show I'm a product of the school and prove people have made a mistake," said Donovan. "The school is not just a physical plant — it is an idea that will be carried on," he said.

The Rev. John J. McCoy, school principal, commended Donovan and the other pupils for their unwillingness to sit back and accept the judgement.

democratic whiz who plans to attend Seattle University and a study nursing. "When we have our class reunion," she said, "we may not have a building, but we'll have the spirit — that's something you don't turn on at 3 o'clock and off at 3."

SOME LET DOWN
There was some adverse let-down at first. Manion said some sporting equipment disappeared, the thought being "it won't be needed next year."

The Helena public school system hopes to buy the modern facility. The church hopes to in Maryland, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio, Colorado.

SURVEY ORDERED
Boston's Richard Cardinal Cushing has ordered a survey of the diocesan school problems and even said it might be necessary to consider phasing out "the whole parochial schools systems."

There will be problems other than just relocating pupils and placing further burdens on public schools systems.

"In a small school there's all classes into the spacious auditorium and announced the final plans."

50 Reds Killed as GIs Crash Enemy Truce Meeting

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces crashed an enemy strategy meeting 28 miles northwest of Saigon today during a 46-hour cease-fire the Vietcong had proclaimed in honor of Buddha's birthday.

The enemy cease-fire began at 7 a.m. Allied forces were to start a 24-hour truce period at 6 a.m. Friday (6 p.m. EST Thursday). Meanwhile, more than 50 allied operations of battalion size or larger continued without letup.

At least 50 Vietcong were reported killed in the action northwest of Saigon. Initial reports said one American was killed and seven wounded.

"They were congregating in there for their stand-down period," said a U.S. military spokesman. "We had intelligence information they were going to be in there for a meeting to plan actions for their summer campaign next month. We weren't standing down."

SPARSELY SETTLED

It was a sparsely settled farm area of scattered houses, rice paddies and bamboo hedgerows. Military spokesmen said an American plane with a loudspeaker flew over, urging the Vietcong to surrender and call for the rest of the people to move out.

The spokesmen said about 200 women and children moved out, but the Vietcong started shooting with machine guns and rocket grenades. The enemy troops were entrenched in fighting holes.

More than 700 infantrymen from the U.S. 25th Division, some riding tanks and maneuvered personnel carriers, maneuvered to seal off the enemy force. Two personnel carriers were reported damaged.

Air Force fighter-bombers, helicopter gun-ships and artillery pummeled the dug-in Vietcong until dusk, when the fighting tapered off. Twenty-seven AK47 assault rifles and nine rocket launchers were captured.

One prisoner was taken and told interrogators the Vietcong heard the loudspeaker warning. But he said they figured only a small force—perhaps a platoon of 40 men—were going to be sent in, and the Vietcong planned to ambush them.

South Vietnamese headquarters said it had received no reports of major Vietcong violations of their cease-fire by mid-afternoon, but a spokesman emphasized that he expected there would be some. During the last cease-fire for Buddha's birthday in 1967, the U.S. Command accused the Vietcong of 17 violations in which 12 Americans were killed and 57 wounded.

There was no cease-fire in 1968 because the Communist command was waging an offensive.

The allied command also announced that casualties last week receded from the high level of the week before, with 265 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese government troops and 3,968 Vietcong and North Vietnamese reported killed in action. The totals the week before were 430 Americans, 527 South Vietnamese and 5,715 enemy.

A total of 1,863 Americans were reported wounded last week, compared with 2,185 the week before.

Woman Goes on FBI Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP) — A soft-spoken woman who escaped from prison after being sentenced to die for a revenge murder was placed today on the FBI list of 10 Most Wanted Fugitives.

Marie Dean Arrington, 35, described in the FBI wanted flyer as "a cold-blooded killer," is the second woman named to the list of desperados since it was started in 1950.

She succeeds Richard Lee Tingle, charged with murdering six people in Ohio, who was captured May 19 in Oklahoma. Mrs. Arrington was sentenced to electrocution in Florida for the murder of Vivian June Ritter, secretary to the public defender who unsuccessfully represented two of Mrs. Arrington's children on felony charges. Both children, a boy and a girl, are in Florida prisons.

20-YEAR SENTENCE
She also has been sentenced to 20 years for manslaughter in the shooting death of her former husband.

In the Ritter murder, the victim was kidnapped from her office and the body was found riddled with bullets and run over several times with an automobile.

Mrs. Arrington usually carries a gun in her handbag, has cleverly concealed escape implements and weapons on her person and has made violent efforts to escape," the FBI said in announcing addition of her name to the list of 10 most wanted. "She should be considered armed and extremely dangerous."

The FBI described her as a dark-complexioned Negro, 5-foot-2, about 119 to 126 pounds, black hair, brown eyes and a small build. She has a cut scar on the left side of her chin, her left forearm and the center of her chest, a bite scar on the left wrist and two large vaccination scars on her upper left arm.

"Mrs. Arrington has been described by associates as a soft-spoken, smooth-talking 'confidence' woman who is cool, cunning and deceptive," the FBI said. "She is considered an expert forger, known to always work with an accomplice, and she reportedly dresses neatly in colorful clothes of the latest fashion. She is said to frequent nightclubs, drink alcoholic beverages heavily and a chain smoker. Mrs. Arrington reportedly enjoys fishing and usually wears a wig."

She escaped March 1 from the women's prison facility at Lowell, Fla., where she had been awaiting outcome of appeals.

The only other woman on the list was Ruth Eisemann-Schier, charged with kidnapping Barbara Mackle. Miss Schier was arrested recently in Oklahoma.

Local Participants Set for Math Project

Thirteen junior high and high school students and six teachers from Pontiac schools have been selected to attend the Michigan State University Inner City Mathematics Project this summer by the MSU Mathematics Department.

The U.S. Office of Education will support the institute from June 16 to Aug. 1 on the MSU campus, East Lansing. The institute is designed to help teachers effectively educate the inner city student in mathematics, and to help the students improve their competence in the mathematics field and to communicate their feelings to peers, professors and teachers.

Mrs. Ellis Petherbridge

Mrs. Ellis E. (Dorothy H.) Petherbridge, 49, of 535 Hillcliff, died Tuesday.

Three men were apprehended by police and a tracking dog early this morning after an officer reported that he saw them run from the Pontiac Laundromat, 691 Orchard Lake.

An unknown amount of money was taken from a cigarette machine at the laundromat, police said. Two washing machine coin boxes were also pried open, and an office was ransacked. Entry was gained by a hole in the roof, police said.

Three men arrested by police near the laundromat were identified as Paul Smith, 31, of Louisville, Ky.; Gerald F. Strandell, 23, of 59 Williams; and Charles W. Kester, 25, of 89 Oakhill. They have not been charged.

In another burglary, police said they arrested John Breeze, 17, of 49 Lincoln three hours after a break-in at Dick Wolfe Distributing Co., 762 Orchard Lake. Six bottles of wine were reported missing. Breeze has not been charged.

they're presenting to Mrs. Nancy Ramsey, executive director of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, is no joke. The money will be used to help purchase a new station wagon for the society.

White Lake GI Killed in Viet

Spec. 4 Joseph C. Chisholm, 24, of 9174 Gladys, White Lake Township, died May 12 from wounds received in action in Da Nang, Vietnam, the Defense Department has reported. Chisholm enlisted in April 1968, took both basic and advanced training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and went to Vietnam in September. He was with the 39th Engineering Battalion dismantling mines.

JOSEPH C. CHISHOLM

In February 1969, he received the Army Commendation medal for heroism. While manning an outpost bunker under heavy attack, he engaged the enemy with fire meanwhile providing the landing zone with early warnings of probes in his area. He also halted initial attempts to penetrate the defensive line by eliminating two of the enemy preparing to breach the defensive wire.

Chisholm was a graduate of Leonard and Mrs. Robert Fink Walley Lake High School, he of Pontiac; two sons, Lee Jr., was last employed as a tool and die maker and was a member of the Mandon Lake Community Church prior to entering the Army.

Surviving besides his wife, Delos of Union Lake; his father, Delos of Union Lake; his mother, Mrs. John Ellison of Highland Township; two brothers, John and Donald, both of Union Lake; and three sisters, Mrs. Larry Collier, Mrs. Billy Burnham and Mrs. John Percival, all of Union Lake, and a stepister, Mrs. Michael Bowman of Union Lake.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Elton Black Funeral Home, Union Lake.

Protect Yourself and Family Against Insecticide Poisoning

The problem with poisoning cans before tossing them in the long period of time, wear a respirator mask. Never mind the ads in which a girl in a bathing suit or a man in a Bermuda shorts is spraying or dusting insecticides. Keep covered. Wear clothes that cover you completely. Wear rubber gloves. If working in close quarters or for a spraying.

Many advocate not using them at all. If you feel you must use an insecticide, use it properly and with precautions. Even the safest of bug killers can be dangerous if not used as directed.

First, read the label. Those that are labeled "nontoxic to humans" are the safest but must still be handled carefully. Even though exposure to the substance once may not be dangerous, there is a growing concern about cumulative toxicity, the effect of a long-term build-up. So use even the mild insecticides carefully.

Use of the word "caution" also indicates a relatively mild insecticide.

When you get to the word "Warning," you know you have a more dangerous product. Follow directions to the letter.

If you see the word "poison" and the old skull and crossbones symbol, skip it and pick another product. Leave that stuff to the professionals and stay out of their way.

The ingredients might give you a clue, but most of the names are tongue twisters and new ones come out all the time.

Perthane is less toxic than malathion, which is less toxic than chlordane, which is less toxic than DDT — to name some of the common ones. And if you see sodium selenate, or parathion or TEEPEE listed, then stay clear, since these are among the most toxic of all.

READ INSTRUCTIONS

Read the instructions carefully. Never mix different insecticides together.

Never mix an insecticide in greater strength than directed — it's only the bugs you want to kill, not pets or children or yourself.

Determine what you need it for. If it is one type of bug, you are concerned about, then pick the least toxic insecticide that will kill that bug.

Keep the kids and the pets away when you dust or spray, and for a good length of time afterward.

WATCH CHILDREN

Keep insecticides out of reach of children. Such dangerous material should be kept under lock and key. Don't store them with food products. Never use garden insecticides inside the house.

Keep the insecticides in their original containers and keep the label clean and intact. When the containers are empty, get rid of them. Wash out bottles and

Woodcuts Set Book Mood

"The Happy Gardener" will appeal to all who derive pleasure from cultivating the seeds of flowers or those of love. H. L. V. Fletcher's volume is a collection of prose and poetry paying homage to gardens and the activities which take place therein.

The mood of each of the five sections of the anthology is set by woodcuts from the works of the English artist Thomas Bewick (1753-1858).

What is a "ha-ha" (Look that up in your Funk and Wagnalls)? Which tree was cultivated about London by order of King James I? Who said that "there is no ancient gentlemen but gardeners, ditchers, and grave-makers"? Discover the answers in the leaves of this arbor.

BIBLE

Beginning with Biblical references to gardens in Part One, The Ancient Gardener, the selections continue in praise of greenery in The Medical Gardener, and a Little Magic, The Practical Gardener, The Poetical Gardener, to the final part — The Smiling Gardener, Weather, and a Couple of Recipes.

All of the pieces, with the exception of Fletcher's comments, were written in an era when seed catalogs were unknown. The delight in this book lies in perceiving the relevance of the ancient odes, receipts and advice to contemporary gardeners, and the joys they offer.

Watch out that some products plant or in a crevice, then don't spray on yourself. If you have a compressed-air sprayer, be careful when you refill it.

ADJUSTMENT

Adjust your equipment for the smallest spray pattern possible. Fogging apparatus is blowing away from you. Then, if there is any insecticide left in the container, it will not spray in your face. Check your equipment. If it leaks, you may get the dust or

Gas Light Glow

Gas lights on the patio, front lawn and along the driveway are decorative and practical. The friendly glow welcomes guests and provides illumination for night-time cookouts and parties.

Take cuttings from indoor impatiens in March for setting outdoors as soon as the danger of frost is passed.

Clean Clay Pots With Stiff Brush

To remove accumulated salts that have leached out of porous walls and sides of clay pots, wash them in warm soapy water with a stiff brush.

The clean-up also will remove possible accumulations of insects or bacteria and improve plant growth.

Draw Up Full 'Floor Plan' Before Starting Multiuse Garden

Planning a garden is an exciting job. But a lot of homeowners hang up in the initial stages, when they try to figure out what goes where and how. And when it comes to garden structures, the project can bog down in a hurry.

offer this suggestion: Draw a "floor plan" of the entire property, showing the location of house, garage, driveway and all existing walks and trees.

Then separate the remaining area into "rooms," assigning a specific function to each. It's a bit like working on a jigsaw puzzle, but a good floor plan is as vital to a garden as it is to a house interior. Basics are similar, too, for the garden needs a utility area, tool storage, living space, children's play yard, and perhaps a purely garden, designed as a hideaway for teenagers.

But that doesn't mean the yard will be compartmented by works is illustrated in a full-

Earl Wilson Ready for Tigers' Long Haul

Bengal Pitcher Gets Big Single in 3-2 Victory

OAKLAND (AP) — At 32, Earl Wilson began the season like a venerable Model T. He was slow to start, but warmed up. He's good for the long haul.

A member of Detroit's Big Three, the 6-foot-3 righthander drove in the deciding run with a seventh-inning single Wednesday night as the torrid Detroit Tigers nipped the slumping Oakland Athletics, 3-2.

Wilson won his third game in a row, boosting his season's record to 4-4. He's got an earned run average of 3.30, compared to 2.70 for Denny McLain and 3.42 for Mickey Lolich to round out Detroit's pitching triumvirate.

McLain, with a 7-4 record, had the starting assignment today as Detroit goes against Oakland in their third and last game of a series.

MAY MISS TURN

Lolich, sporting a 6-1 mark, is expected to be sidelined for one starting assignment after being struck on his pitching arm by a ball Tuesday. The arm was bruised, but no bones were broken.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith's headache, is to find a pitcher he can count on to complete the four-member starting rotation team. He'll have to get one fast, as the Tigers have baseball games in 12 of the next 14 days.

Wilson, a 29-game winner in 1967 but only a 13-12 mark last season, gave the Tigers their eighth win in the last 10 games. The A's have dropped seven of their last eight.

The Tigers bunched singles off loser Jim "Blue Moon" Odom for a run in the seventh that gave them a 3-1 lead.

Wilson was clipped for a bases-empty homer by Rick Monday in the bottom of the seventh and needed relief help in the eighth. The victory was his 19th in 25 lifetime decisions against the A's.

LONG DRIVE

Tigers scored twice in the first against Odom, now 7-3, with the help of a disputed error by centerfielder Monday.

With one out, Dick McAuliffe walked and Al Kaline drove a long drive which Monday gloved, and then dropped.

Monday and A's Manager Hank Bauer argued that the ball had been held long enough, but to no avail.

Norm Cash moved the runners to second and third with a ground out, but McAuliffe scored on a wild pitch and Northrup doubled Kaline home.

Reggie Jackson's double and a single by Danny Cater gave the A's a run in the fourth.

In the protest, Monday said "How can I glove the ball after I take it out of my glove with my bare hand."

Dick Stuart May Have Struck Out in Major Leagues

ANAHEIM (AP) — Baseball's Dick Stuart, who could hit or strike out with tremendous velocity, is a free agent today.

The California Angels gave the 36-year-old first baseman his unconditional release.

The Angels' decision was not unexpected. Stuart, who came to the Anaheim League club as a free agent, had hoped to give the team needed batting power. But in 22 games and 51 times at bat, he was hitting .157.

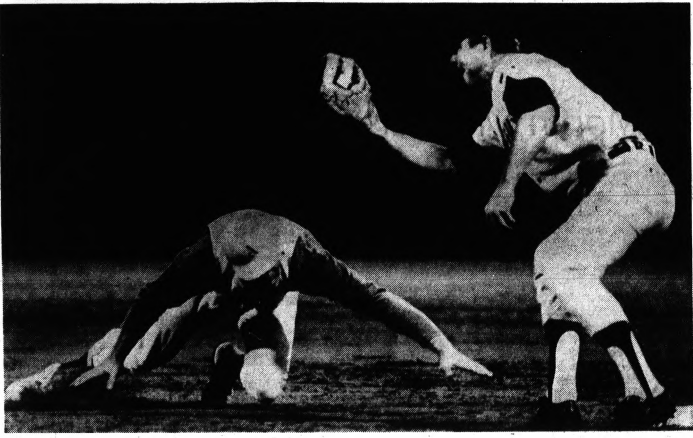

California's new manager, Lefty Phillips, in one of his first moves after replacing Bill Rigney on Tuesday, switched Rick Reichardt from the outfield to first base, a position he had never played.

ONE HOMER

Stuart collected eight hits this season, including one home run, two doubles and drove in four. He walked four times and struck out 21.

Stuart broke into organized ball in Modesto, Calif., in 1951. His best years were with Pittsburgh in 1958-62. His other major league stops were in Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Los Angeles.

In 1960, after two years in Japan with the Taiyo Whales, he asked for his release to return to the U.S.

FIRST PICKING — Dick Green of the Oakland A's slips as he tries to dive back to first base on a pickoff play by pitcher Earl Wilson in the 5th inning of their game last night. Tiger first baseman Norm Cash took the throw and tagged Green for the out. The Bengals won the game, 3-2.

Pontiac Invitational Games

PNH Seeks 100th Baseball Victory

When Pontiac Northern's Huskies step to the plate tomorrow night at Jaycee Park in defense of their Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament title, they will be seeking the 100th victory in coach Arnie Wilson's career with them.

Moreover, it will be their only opportunity at achieving the coveted goal. Northern has completed its regular season with an 11-5 mark and the tournament is single elimination.

One defeat eliminates a team, and Wilson has announced this is his final season in charge of the PNH baseball forces. For 10 seasons the hard-working strategist has a 99-60-1 log.

Only in his second season (1961) have the Huskies failed to register a winning mark and they won the Inter-Lakes League crown in 1960, and 1964-65-66. They were second in '63, '67 and this past spring.

THIRD PLACE

The path won't be smooth in defense of their journey title which they won after last year's third-place 1-L finish, their worst effort since 1962!

Tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. they will meet Oak Kimball (7-7) who won the tourney in 1963 and 1964. The first North Oakland county entry to win the title, PNH has been in the finals two of the past three seasons.

In the same bracket with Northern and Kimball are Southfield (7-7) and South Lyon (14-1) who open the tournament at 5 p.m. today.

Following that game Birmingham Groves (9-5) will tangle with cohost Pontiac Central (16-5) in the 7:30 p.m. archlight contest. The Chiefs and Groves are bracketed with Milford (16-2) and either Madison (7-4) or Clawson (9-8).

DECISION TODAY

They are concluding their battle for the Oakland A League runner-up spot and final tournament berth this afternoon. The qualifier has a 5 p.m. date with Milford Friday.

The other pairings tomorrow have Kettering playing Oak Park and Rochester meeting Birmingham Brother Rice, both at noon, and winners returning for a noon Saturday encounter.

Waterford Matt will tangle with Hazel Park, and Waterford Township (the county's top-seeded squad with a 22-3 record) will collide with Novi in the 2:30 p.m. games. The winners will meet at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets are $1 per adult and 50 cents per student each day, or $4 for an all-tournament ticket. They are on sale at Jaycee Park where all the games are played.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department sponsors the popular tournament with The Press. Previous champions include Northville, Kimball twice, Southfield three times and PNH.

Orioles Keep Winning

Pilots Grounded, 9-5

SEATTLE (AP) — The menu at Sicks' Stadium Wednesday night could have been Pilot Potpourri during the Baltimore Orioles' American League 9-5 victory over Seattle's expansion club.

The bill of fare for the 21,679 fans—largest crowd in the Pilots' 42-game big league history—included six home runs, four by the Orioles; a line-up card shuffle that lost two runs for Seattle, and continuation of streaks by the Orioles' Boog Powell and the Pilots' Tommy Harper.

The Orioles got three homers in the fourth inning—by Don Buford and Brooks Robinson, who hit solos, and Powell, who lofted one into the left field stands with one aboard—after Dave Johnson's third-inning solo roundtripper.

Ray Oyler slammed a two-run homer for Seattle in the second, and McNetney added a solo blast in the sixth.

Baltimore starter Dave McNally recorded his seventh victory without a loss, giving up eight hits and four runs before retiring with one out in the seventh. Eddie Watt earned a save in relief.

Seattle lost two runs in the fifth when Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver pointed out to the umpires that the Pilots batting order was anything but orderly.

"I made out two sets of lineup cards before the game," said Pilot skipper Joe Schultz.

"I gave copies of the original lineup to both Weaver and the umpire—but I kept the copy of the lineup I really intended to play, and that's the one we used as a batting order."

"Earl knew about it right away, I'm sure, but he saved it for when he needed it most—in the middle of our rally—then he used it. I'd have done the same thing to him."

"We made a lot of mistakes out there tonight, but I can't say much about them because I made the biggest one myself," Schultz said.

lesson—if you change your line-up, tear up the old one right away." Weaver said.

Powell hit in his 17th consecutive game with a homer and a single in five trips to the batter's box.

Pilot speedster Harper stole his 27th base of the season. His pace is four games ahead of Ty Cobb's league record record and seven up on Maury Wills' record major league pace.

Golfers Scurry by Land, Water

MIAMI (AP) — Kings Bay Country Club members won't forget Bruce Fleisher Day.

More than 100 golfers turned out Wednesday to honor the U.S. amateur champion from nearby Hialeah. After a few holes, a deluge halted play.

In the scramble for shelter, one golf cart driver misjudged his vehicle into Biscayne Bay. Another drove through a large plate glass door of the dining room.

Most disappointed golfer, however, was George Mira. The San Francisco 49ers quarterback was two under par for seven holes and leading the field.

Rules' Interpretation Has 500 Cars in Controversy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — With the start of the 53rd Indianapolis 500 only 24 hours away, controversy raged at the Speedway today over a rules interpretation that affects at least two of the top contending cars.

Mario Andretti, who qualified his Brawner Hawk-Ford in the No. 2 spot in the 33-car line-up for Friday's 11 a.m. (EST) start, threatened to pull out of the race unless a decision affecting him is rescinded.

Andretti was ordered Wednesday by Chief Stewart Harlan Fenger to remove a special radiator that was installed on the car after it was qualified last weekend.

Fenger also ordered a new oil cooler removed from the Wynn's Mongoose-Ol-fenhauer to be driven by veteran Texan Lloyd Ruby.

Fenger said the installations on the Andretti and Ruby cars violated a U.S. Auto Club rule that prohibits any change in the configuration of a car after it has been qualified.

SAYS OTHERWISE

A spokesman for the STP Corp., which sponsors Andretti's car, retorted that Fenger had told Andretti Tuesday addition of the radiator would be permissible.

The STP spokesman said Fenger changed his mind after the crew had worked most of Tuesday night installing the device.

Andretti and the other drivers were to meet with Fenger today in the annual pre-race session at which rules for the race are laid down.

Most observers predicted that cooler heads would prevail and that Andretti would be in the race.

STILL MOUNTED

Ruby's crew removed the special oil cooler from the Texan's car after the final practice session Wednesday, but Andretti's new radiator, installed on the top of the car just behind the driver's head, was still on the machine Wednesday night.

Fenger admitted he gave Clint Brawner, Andretti's chief mechanic, permission to install the device. But he said he had to change the ruling after a meeting of USAC officials Tuesday night.

He said it was decided that use of the radiator would change the body configuration.

A. J. Foyt, whose Coyote-Ford has the pole spot for Friday's race, said he had asked Fenger last week for permission to install a similar radiator after his car was qualified. He was told he couldn't.

Brawner said the radiator was added to help with a cooling and fuel consumption problem that has affected the turbocharged Ford engines in practice. And this excessive fuel use was expected to lead to new emphasis on still another USAC regulation at today's drivers meeting.

Fenger said he will go over carefully a rule which forbids a driver from taking fuel from a teammate's reserve tank in the pits.

Stock Car Racer Could Be Threat in 500 Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Lee Roy Yarborough, the hottest name on the stock car circuit, may be a real threat at the Indianapolis 500.

"I came here to win," said the soft-spoken Florida native who has already banked $100,000 with four wins in eight starts on the stock car circuit this year.

Yarborough says he has three things going for him when the green flag goes down at the Indy Speedway at noon Friday: the fact he starts in the middle of the third row, an ability to easily transfer from the 4,000 pound stock cars to the lighter, low-slung Indy racers, and topnotch mechanics.

Although this will be his first and only Indy-type race this year, Yarborough, who qualified eighth in the field of 33, says he has a good shot at taking home the first prize.

"I'm so happy, so confident, I feel like dancing," he said today.

And for good reason.

He started the year winning the Permatex 300 and the Daytona 500 back to back in February, won the Rebel 400 at Darlington May 10 and came back to win the World 600 at Charlotte two weeks later—the day after he qualified for Indy.

Milford Takes W-O Title From Andover

The Redskins of Milford came up with a balanced effort last night in dethroning West Bloomfield as track champions of the Wayne-Oakland League. Milford picked up only four of firsts but added many points for lesser positions in totaling 61 points. Bloomfield Hills Andover finished second (43) and West Bloomfield third (39).

THREE MARKS FALL

Three records were cracked during the evening activity, two by sophomores.

Boat Racing Set for Sylvan Lake Annual Regatta

Drivers will have their eyes on $1,000 in prizes when they hop in the boats Sunday, June 8, for a day of racing in the 53rd Annual Regatta of the Oakland County Boat Club on Sylvan Lake.

The races are expected to get under way at noon and competition is slated in six different classes. The hydros in action are second only to the unlimited Gold Cup class and can attain speeds in excess of 135 miles an hour.

The event signals the opening of the season for the American Power Boat Association's Region Six (Michigan and Ohio). A breakfast from 8:30 until 11 a.m. is slated on the day of the races. The Boat Club will be open to the public.

Vet Parachutist in Tecumseh Event

A parachutist with some 1,700 jumps behind him heads a lineup of competitors who'll be on hand for the Seventh Annual Memorial Day Parachuting meet opening tomorrow in Tecumseh. David Sauve of East Lansing, who won a gold medal and a silver medal in the World Meet last August in Austria in the accuracy competition, will display his skill during the three-day event. Activity concludes on Sunday. Other top jumpers slated to enter are Gordon Collins, the 1968 Michigan parachuting champion, along with Gerald Marklin of Detroit and Jim Kunard of Jackson. All have more than 500 jumps to their credit.

Publisher Is Retiring

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Walt Paulson retires Sunday after 43 years, as sports information director at Northwestern University.

Champions Meet at Kalamazoo

Several Oakland County athletes will be bidding for honors when the 14th annual Champions of Champions track meet opens tomorrow afternoon at Kalamazoo.

Sponsored by the Kalamazoo Jaycees, the action is slated to get under way at 3:30 at Waldo Stadium on the Western Michigan University campus.

HEADING LIST

Heading the list is Birmingham Groves' speedster Dave Anderson who is competing in the 100, 220 and 440. Craig Huber, also of Groves, is among the 880 contestants.

Mike Oviatt and Jim Stewart in the 880 and Rich Craig in the mile will represent Bloomfield Hills Lahser who is also sending its mile relay team.

One of the area's top two-milers, Keith Wattles of Rochester, is making the trip. Among the shotputters will be David Payne of North Farmington and John Wallace of Cranbrook.

Entered in the high jump are Dave Ewald of Southfield and Bob Hartwick of Royal Oak Kimball.

Many other area athletes received invitations to the event but were unable to make the date due to scheduling conflicts.

Denver Signs No. 10 Choice

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the American Football League announced Wednesday the signing of their 10th-round draft choice, Jimmy Smith of Utah State, who will be tried at cornerback. Smith, a 6-foot-3, 190-pounder from Stockton, Calif., played only one season of football at Utah State but was an outstanding basketball player.

State Track One of 11 Can-Am Stops

The new Michigan International Speedway at Irish Hills is one of the 11 stops that a 'gypsy caravan' of international racing stars will make during their 14,000-mile tour of North American tracks this season.

The 'gypsies' launch their Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of road races Sunday in Labatt's Blue Can-Am, which is set for Mosport Park in Bowmanville, Ont.

During the 23-week tour, the caravan will visit New York, California, Texas, Wisconsin, Ohio, and make their stop at the Michigan track Sept. 28 where they'll battle for a purse of $60,000.

Wolves End 17-3 Season

Clarkston's tennis team completed its dual meet season yesterday with a 4-2 victory over Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Winner of the Flint Class A regional last week, Clarkston will carry a 17-3 mark into the state finals.

Help us move
We can't get out until we move these cars!
Moving day is just around the corner here at John McAuliffe Ford. And our entire inventory of 250 brand new 1969 Fords must be sold before we move to our beautiful new quarters on the other side of town.
In other words, our problem is certainly your opportunity to get a real, honest, low-deal on the car of your choice. We have no choice. These cars must go before we move. So come in today and help us move.

Three Share League Lead
Three teams share the top spot after two rounds of action in the Milford Softball League. Perched atop the pack are Jones Transfer, Milford Merchants and Oxbow Window, all with 3-0 records.
The teams are playing on the new, lighted diamond made possible by the Milford Jaycees, who worked on the lighting system along with General Telephone Company and Farley Electric Company.

School Records Set
Groves Outslugs Cranbrook, 12-11
A couple of batters put their names in the record books yesterday as Cranbrook outslugged Birmingham Groves, 12-11.
Dirk Dietters knocked in three runs to tie his RBI total for the season to 19—a school record—and Sandy Heaverlich knocked in two runs with his fifth triple of the campaign, also a school mark.
HELP WITH BATS
Jerry Iwanski and Bob Mosher backed Dietters and Heaverlich with two hits apiece. The Cranbrook, now 10-9, scored three times in the third, five in the fourth and three more in the fifth.
Groves managed 14 hits off five Cranbrook hurlers and the Falcons had the tying run on third with one out in the top of the seventh but ran out of steam. Dietters went to the mound in that situation and retired the side on an infield popup and a fly to the outfield.
LEADS GROVES
Jeff Holmes led the Groves (9-6) attack with four hits and a couple of RBIs. Also checking in with two hits apiece were Jack Lamb, Scott Roller, Kevin Burke and Mark Shada.
In another game, Southfield played giveaway and wound up on the short end of a 5-4 score at Lincoln Park.
Southfield (7-8) pitchers gave up only three hits, but eight walks and several hit batsmen spelled the difference.

U.S. May Mint 'Clunky' Dollar

By National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — If Congress agrees, silver dollars will go
"clunk" instead of "clink" across the Nation.

Most Americans won't care and vending machines won't know the difference, but the new silver dollars will be absolutely silverless. The old "cartwheels" were nine-tenths silver and one-tenth copper.

Like silverless quarters and dimes now produced, the new dollar coin will consist of a copper-nickel "sandwich" that, if dropped on the pavement,
resounds with a dull thud.

The design of the proposed coin hasn't been selected yet. It has been suggested that the coin honor the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the National Geographic Society reports.

The Treasury Department, under pressure to produce a dollar coin for use by Western resorts' hotels, has suggested the silverless dollar.

The Treasury also proposed removing silver from the "Kennedy" half dollar, the only coin still partially made of the metal.

Kennedy coins have been scarce in much of the country, but silver dollars have become virtually extinct. Many citizens, especially in Eastern states, never have seen one.

Some Easterners even question the validity of the coin. A few years ago, for example, a Brooklyn gas station attendant called the police when a Wyoming visitor tried to pay him with silver dollars.

MORE POPULAR

Out West, where silver is mined, the cartwheel traditionally has been more popular than paper.

"Throwing down a dollar bill on the counter is like dropping dirty paper on the street," said a silver booster in Montana.

Even Montanans, however, have found the coin scarce since its silver content became worth more than its face value.

Earl Covers Part of World, Thinks About Other Places

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I cover the world... so there I was talking to Vladimir Nabokov in Montreux, Switzerland... Vanessa Redgrave in Cannes... Jané Fonda, Mayor Lindsay and Jacqueline Susann in New York... and wondering how things are at the Fontainebleau, the Ambassador East, the Beverly Hills and in Rockford, O.

Vanessa wasn't mad at me for printing the story of her pregnancy and plans not to marry Franco Nero. In fact, she had her Nero with her.
— I didn't know when talking to Nabokov there in the Alps that his new book, "Ada, or Ardor," and Miss Susann's "The Love Machine," are 7th and 8th in the best-seller lists. In the Battle of the Books, Miss Susann's is due to leap to 3rd in a week and challenge "Portnoy's Confession."

Miss Susann was excited about who might play "The Love Machine" in the movie. She told Merv Griffin she likes Charlton Heston "because he has such a cute derriere." Remember when male authors used to choose leading ladies that way? Times have changed but areas haven't.

The jokes flowed at the Mayor Lindsay rally at Felt Forum:
"Rockefeller is 100 per cent for Lindsay — 50 per cent now, 50
with his own tongue."

President Nixon was saying: "The presidency is just a stepping stone for me, I'll make governor of California yet" in an impersonation by David Frye.

Waldorf grand ballroom," went another one. "It'll be held in the third phone booth at the right."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Charles Boasberg, longtime v.p. and gen. sales mgr. of Paramount Pictures, is resigning to become president of Nat'l.
General Pictures in charge of worldwide distribution... Ray Middletown, recovered from a torn knee cartilage, returned to "Man of La Mancha." His bride Patti's recovering from major surgery at Roosevelt Hospital.

Jackie Onassis took dr. Caroline to see the ballet (starring Nureyev)... Sandy Dennis and Gerry Mulligan bought a farm near Dublin; it'll be "home base" for them... "Midnight Cowboy" got great word-of-mouth reviews at the party at Wednesday's which drew Lynn Redgrave, Jane Fonda with Roger Vadim, and Monique Van Vooren (whose skimpy costume had guests guessing if she wore anything under that tiny vest).

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Art Paul insists on traveling by bus or train: "If the Lord had intended man to fly, they'd show better movies on planes."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A man grumbled about his luck:
number."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I have discovered the art of fooling diplomats. I speak the truth, and they never believe me."
— Count Cavour.

EARL'S PEARLS: The fad for nude shows on B-way worries some actors and actresses. They know a career can be ruined by an appendectomy.

Joan Rivers, says she tries, even after four years, to keep some romance in her marriage: "Every night, before going to bed, I put exotic perfumes over my cold cream and curlers."
That's earl, brother.

Modesty Is Habit, Not Instinct---Author

LONDON (UPI) — The women wearing ties, which Laver says are virility symbols. So, according to his theory, we are beginning to approach a matriarchy and the unisex fashion — boys and girls wearing the same things — is a pointer in that direction.

Laver says that without clothing, humans might have made love a seasonal rather than an all-year-round pastime. Modesty, says James Laver, an expert in the "science" of fashion, is a habit, not an instinct. And man began to cover his midriff not because he was modest but because he feared someone might render him sterile with a curse.

Laver qualifies as one of the few experts in the history of fashion who have probed the underlying reasons for what men and women wear and do not wear. And he has just embodied his conclusions in a new book, "Modesty in Dress" which has particular relevance to our times.

WEARING LESS
The science of fashion important to Britain if it succeeds, Laver says, that women in entering the Common market, where all the member are the dominant sex. Right countries use metric measurements. Britain is also changing to decimal currency, with the cent.

And at the same time many version due to take place in men have significantly stopped February 1971.

The naked body can become covered the point of the shoulder or as familiar as the der. In 1900 a glimpse of ankle was the exciter. Nowadays, Laver says, the modern young man hardly reacts to a long expanse of legs and a generous display of torso.

AN ATTRACTION
In ancient times, for example, the bare bosom was an attraction, as statutory of the era proves. In the 18th century reject the sex appeal of clothes when cleavage was at its low and dress all alike — like the est, well-bred women carefully drab legions of China.

1975 British Target for Metric Switch

LONDON (AP) — Britain's plan to convert to the metric system moved into high gear Wednesday as the newly created metrication board set a target date of 1975 for completion of the change.

The board, a part of the Ministry of Technology, said the conversion will be particularly important to Britain if it succeeds, Laver says, that women in entering the Common market, where all the member are the dominant sex. Right countries use metric measurements.

Britain is also changing to decimal currency, with the cent.

Blue Cross Seeks 5 Pct. Hike

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Bureau for permission to hike Blue Cross-Blue Shield today their base rate for health insurance contracts renewable in October by an average 3.49 per cent.

The proposed hike, if approved, would affect 31 per cent of about 1.5 million of the company's nearly 5 million members.

A Blue Cross-Blue Shield spokesman said the increase would amount to about $1 per month, depending on the holders' contract. Blue Cross, the hospital insurance carrier, asked for a 5.36 per cent hike. Blue Shield, which provides medical insurance, did not ask for a base rate increase. The 3.49 per cent figure is an average computed proportionately from the Blue Cross-Blue Shield components in the contract rate.

TWO-THIRDS OF RATE

About two-thirds of the rate for a standard Blue Cross-Blue Shield contract is for hospital insurance.

Last year, the company sought and won another rate hike for same section of its membership. The base rate increases that went into effect last October were 2.18 per cent for Blue Cross, averaging to a combined hike of 1.4 per cent.

The company said the proposed rate hikes for Blue Cross include a 5.7 per cent adjustment for 1.5 million members in group and group conversion categories and a 2.4 per cent increase for 38,000 nongroup members.

The proposals would not affect another 390,000 members who hold special contracts to supplement Medicare.

Blue Cross President Bennett J. McCarthy said the fourth-quarter filing was made under the merit rating system, under which each group's rates are guaranteed for one year.

State Firm Moves

MUSKEGON (AP) — Clarke Floor Machine Co., established in Muskegon in 1929, is pulling out of the city and opening offices at Norton Shores, a small community in Muskegon County. Company officials said the move was necessitated due to requirements for improved plant facilities. Clarke, which manufactures floorcleaning equipment, employs 35 persons.

Of the 24,000 fire departments in this country, 22,000 are staffed by volunteers.

Nixon, Brothers Get Balance of Inheritance

President Nixon and his brothers Edward and Francis have received the balance of the $24,671.91 apiece which they inherited from the estate of their mother, Hannah M. Nixon.

Mrs. Nixon died Sept. 30, 1967, at 82. Her will divided her estate equally among her five sons, but two of them, Arthur and Harold, preceded her in death. The President and his other two brothers already had received $20,666.67 of their shares. A court approved distribution of the balance yesterday in Los Angeles.

Former 'M' Prof Is Georgia Tech President

Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, dean of the college of engineering at Georgia Tech, has succeeded Dr. Edwin D. Harrison as president of the university.

Harrison has resigned effective June 30. Hansen's appointment was announced yesterday. He came to Georgia Tech from the faculty of the University of Michigan in 1966. Hansen was educated at Case Western Reserve University and Purdue.

Evers Loses Fight for Negro Draft Board Members

Charles Evers, Negro civil rights leader, has been turned down by a federal district court on his bid to force the appointment of members of his race to Mississippi draft boards.

The court held yesterday it lacked jurisdiction to require Gov. John Bell Williams to nominate Negroes for service on such boards.

Goldberg Urges Reagan to Spare Sirhan Life

Arthur J. Goldberg, a former associate justice of the Supreme Court, says he has urged Gov. Ronald Reagan of California to commute the death sentence of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, assassin of Robert F. Kennedy.

"The taking of his life by the state would not accomplish anything," Goldberg said yesterday in Baltimore, Md.

The former justice came to Baltimore to accept the national leadership award of the Baltimore Talmudical Academy.

'Flying Wedge' Soars at Record Speed, Altitude

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) - Dropped from the wings of a B52 bomber, an HL10 lifting body vehicle soared at 825 miles an hour on its own to a record altitude—64,500 feet.

"Boy, this baby really climbs now," space agency pilot John A. Manke radioed as he opened all four barrels of the HL10's rocket engine Wednesday. On May 9, the HL10 set a record speed of 725 m.p.h. at 54,000 feet.

The wedge-shaped craft, a prototype of future space plane, is expected to reach 1,100 m.p.h. in later flights. Space agency planners hope vehicles like it will be able to ferry men and equipment between space-craft and ground bases.

The HL10 is called a lifting body because it gets its boosting power from the shape of its fuselage instead of the wings.

Sheriff's New Helicopter Ready For Rescues

JACKETS REQUIRED—Every passenger in any boat or canoe must have a life jacket, a new state law says. Using life jackets at Dodge Park No. 4 in Waterford Township are Michael and Donna Corey, both 16, of Garden City in the canoe.

In the rowboat are (from left) Donald Murphy and Larry Stewart, both 18, of Redford Township, and Mary Janette, 16, and Nancy Janette, 17, both of Berkley.

Water Safety Unit Set for Summer

Thousands of boaters and bathers are expected to jam Oakland County's 1,168 lakes this holiday weekend.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department Water Safety Division is prepared for the crowd and those throughout the summer as it never has before, says division head Lt. Donald Kratt.

Forty-three deputies — six of which are full-time — will patrol 30 of the county's larger lakes, he said.

Some of them will use the division's six new inboard boats at Lake Orion and at Cass, Pontiac, Orchard, and Lakeville lakes. Others will patrol in the division's four "runabouts" or in their own boats.

COPTER AVAILABLE

The sheriff's new helicopter is available for rescue operations. It arrived this week and has already been put to use in the search for a drowning victim in Kent Lake in Milford Township.

Sheriff's divers also had the opportunity to test their equipment during the search.

Along with the division's new boats and sheriff's helicopter goes a new headquarters for the water division. The division recently moved from the sheriff's department in downtown Pontiac to an existing storage building at 1200 N. Telegraph in the County Service Center.

Two new boat regulations are now in effect for the boating season, Kratt said. One requires that a life jacket must be available for each person on any type of boat, including sail and rowboats and canoes.

Secondly, every motorboat must bear an identification number and numbering renewal decal.

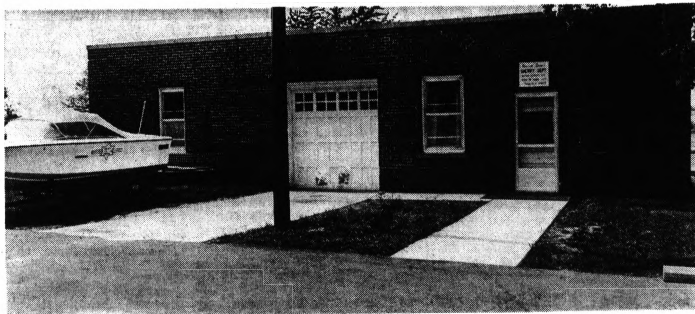

Information on water safety laws may be obtained by calling the sheriff's water division.

'Could Start Prior to ABM Debate'

Arms Talks Eyed by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore says it is "entirely possible" U.S. arms control talks with the Soviet Union will begin before the Senate opens debate on the hotly contested antiballistic missile (ABM) defense program.

The Senate showdown is expected to start late in June — and it could run most of the summer.

Gore, the Tennessee Democrat who heads the Senate disarmament subcommittee, indicated in an interview he had heard new reports on administration plans for the long-awaited arms talks.

But he said there was nothing he could publicly disclose.

NO REASON NOT TO TALK

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Gore, like other critics of President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense plan, wants it dropped while the United States seeks to negotiate an arms control agreement with the Soviet Union.

Senate foes of the safeguard plan insist it would impede arms control efforts. Military officials have been reported urging a delay in the start of arms control talks.

LENGTHY DEBATE SEEN

Mansfield, also an ABM critic, said debate and decision on the administration plan could dominate the Senate calendar from late June until Aug. 13, when Congress is to begin a three-week recess.

Mansfield said in an interview he still hopes some compromise can avert a long, bitter Senate contest. But he acknowledged he does not know what its terms might be.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader, has repeatedly declared the administration has no intention of altering its program.

Mansfield has no firm timetable yet for beginning Senate debate on the military authorization bill which includes the $900 million President Nixon seeks to begin building a missile defense system.

ANOTHER ISSUE

Another major foreign policy issue is due up before Safeguard. A resolution which would have the Senate declare that Congress, as well as the executive branch of government, must act on any

U.S. commitment to a foreign government.

The Nixon administration, while promising frequent and full consultation with Congress, is opposed to the resolution.

The measure is due before the Senate on June 16.

Dirksen maintains the administration will win Senate approval of a start on the ABM system.

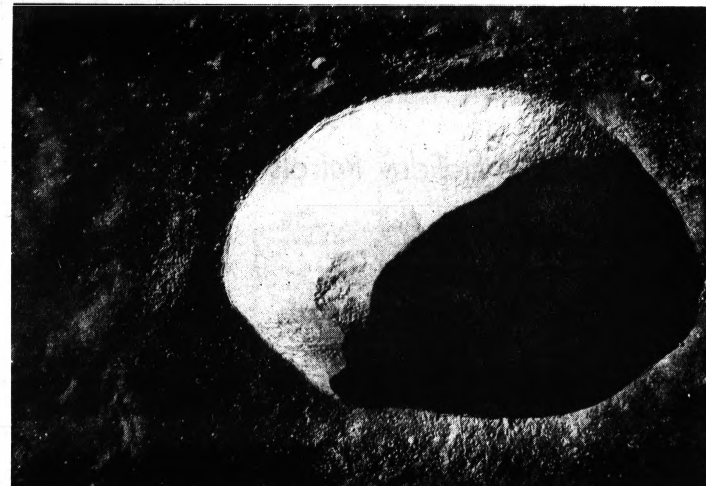

Mansfield acknowledges supporter of the system may win a narrow victory, not more than three votes.

The Montana Democrat said a full-scale go-ahead on the basis of that kind of Senate support could put the administration in a difficult position.

It would indicate the probability of annual battles over future requests for the program.

CLOSE-UP OF MOON CRATER—This is one of the deep craters on the surface of the moon as photographed by astronauts Tom Stafford and Eugene Cernan from the Apollo 10 lunar module during its exploratory flight to within 10 miles of the lunar surface. NASA furnished the film without caption material and there is no identification available as to the name of the crater or what section of the moon it is located on.

Prime Lunar-Landing Site Best

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The site planned for man's first landing attempt on the moon is pocked with small craters and borders a ravine, but there is still room to park a spacecraft, Apollo 10 photographs show.

The photos, taken during the moon orbit flight of Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan and released yesterday, show the prime landing area to be smoother than other areas of the rugged lunar surface.

The landing point is located less than a degree north of the lunar equator and 24.2 degrees east of the vertical center line on the earth-side of the moon.

Small craters are sprinkled throughout the landings site, but there are also broad patches of smooth, even areas.

A photograph of a secondary landing site shows it to be rougher than the primary site.

Dr. John Dietrich, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration geologist, said the pictures studied so far present few surprises about the landing site, but give new views of the approach to the site selected for a landing attempt by Apollo 11 in July.

All the still photographs in moon orbit were taken by the Apollo 10 astronauts while they were 69 miles above the surface. They used 70 mm cameras.

The space agency also showed newsmen 16 mm motion film taken by the Apollo 10 crew.

Germ-Test Land Not Hazardous, Says Site Chief

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Desert test center commander says it is true a plot of ground in Utah was sown with deadly anthrax germs in a 1954 biochemical warfare test, but denies the site is hazardous to animals or men.

A statement that the area is a continuing peril by a New York congressman was described by the commander, Brig. Gen. John G. Appel, as "a case of making a big thing out of nothing."

"The only way a person could possibly contract pulmonary anthrax at the site would be to dig into the dirt and eat it," said Appel.

Anthrax, most commonly found in cattle or sheep, is caused by a persistent bacterium which reproduces through the development of spores. The disease may be contracted by human beings who handle parts of infected animals or breathe in spores from the animals' hair, and can attack the lungs with fatal effect.

Appel said anthrax germs cause the fatal lung disease only when a massive dose is inhaled and "this is very rare."

He said the test site at the Dugway Proving Ground in Western Utah was deliberately contaminated 15 years ago by spreading about a teaspoon full of bacteria over an area 100 yards square.

Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., asserted Wednesday "this anthrax-ridden area in Utah poses hazards to wildlife and to humans moving in and out of the area."

McCarthy said British biochemical experts planted anthrax germs on the Scottish island of Gruinard early in World War II and in 1966 reported the island was still contaminated "and probably will remain contaminated for 100 years."

Appel said tests show the organisms penetrate deeper into the ground each year and while the soil remains contaminated the danger of contracting anthrax from it decreases.

Disclose Talks—Hoffa

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Jailed Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa asked U.S. District Court here yesterday to allow disclosure of conversations heard by the Justice Department during his trial.

Hoffa's attorneys said restrictions placed on the information supplied by the government for a determination of whether Hoffa's rights were violated in his jury-tampering trial were "unreasonable, unwarranted and in violation of the rights" of the union leader.

The weatherman is keeping Pontiac residents on the griddle today, duplicating the sizzling temperatures of yesterday, when the mercury climbed swiftly from the overnight low of 10 degrees to reach a record 90 by 4 p.m., four degrees hotter than any mark achieved during this month last year.

Today — Continued hot, with chance of thundershowers this afternoon. The low tonight is expected to be in the mid-50s.

Tomorrow — Partly sunny and cooler with the high reaching only 70 to 75.

Saturday — Increasing cloudiness and warmer with chance of showers.

Winds from the south are expected to continue until late this afternoon when they will swing to the west, becoming northwesterly tonight and through Friday.

The moisture index shows a 20 per cent chance of rain today; 10 per cent tonight and Friday.

In downtown Pontiac, the low recording before 8 a.m. was 70. The indicator rose by degrees to 86 at 1 p.m.

Crofoot Site Is Eyed for New High School

Alternatives to the selected Pontiac State Hospital site for a new high school have been narrowed to two by the Pontiac Board of Education, which will decide where to build the new school next Thursday night.

The first alternative is a seven-story high school to be built on property now occupied by Crofoot Elementary School, adjacent to the present Central High School and facing West Huron, Washington and Prall.

The first two levels of the high-rise school would be below ground level, with two levels above it. Two three-story separate schools would then extend above the first four levels.

The first four levels of the proposed high school would contain common facilities for the two smaller schools, housing 1,650 students each. Physical education facilities would be in the first two levels, and all vocational educational spaces, auditorium and student commons would be in the third and fourth floors.

COMMON LIBRARY

The two separate schools would contain academic classrooms. A common library would connect them.

The roof above the vocational center would serve as an outdoor plaza for the two schools.

In combination with this 3,300-student school would be enlargement of Pontiac Northern High School to 2,300 students. The capacity of Northern is presently about 1,800.

Projected completion date of the new school is about December 1972.

Architects estimate that the addition to Northern could be completed by December 1972. Estimated cost for the combination is $20 million.

This would include the $19 million set aside in the March 1968 bond issue for a new high school, plus the $1 million in accumulated interest. Parking facilities and recreational areas are not included in the cost estimates.

The second alternative would be a three-story, 2,300-student high school built on the same location, in combination with enlargement of Pontiac Northern High School to 3,300 students.

This school would be two separate buildings connected by an enclosed mall and court. Academic classes for the two schools of 1,500 students each would be in the west unit. The east unit of the school would include all of the common facilities which would be included in the first four levels of the high-rise school.

Cost estimate for the second alternative is also about $20 million, including parking and some recreational area. Completion date for this combination is September 1972.

CROFOOT DEMOLITION

Either of these alternatives would call for the demolition of the 63-year-old Crofoot School, which would be relocated in the same general neighborhood, according to Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

The board has been studying alternate plans and site since March 29, when community dissent over the selection of the hospital site forced them into a 90-day-re-evaluation period.

Luncheon Ticket Sale Sites Set

Announcement is made today of the locations of ticket sales for the Tuesday luncheon honoring F. J. McDonald, new general manager of Pontiac Motor Division. The meeting will be held at the Elks Temple and starts at 12:10 p.m.

There will be no sale at the door, but tickets can be secured from luncheon clubs: from Connolly's store downtown; from Hughes-Hatcher-Sullivan at the Mall; from Osman's store at Tel-Huron; and from the Perry Street branch of the Community National Bank. They are also available at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Riker building.

All new general managers of the two big automotive plants have been thus honored in the past.

City Holiday Parade 'Bigger Than Ever'

"The Pontiac Memorial Day Parade will be bigger than ever this year, with bands, colorful uniforms, 76 trombones and all the rest," promises Samuel Dow, president of the Pontiac Memorial Day Association.

Some 44 marching units with four bands will be entered in tomorrow's holiday event.

Dow said last year 4,000 persons saw the parade and about 1,000 marched. "We're getting bigger each year," Dow has arranged the proceedings for the third straight year.

The bands will be those from Pontiac Northern and Central high schools plus the junior high honor band and junior high combined band.

RESERVE UNITS

The military will be represented by local Army and Navy reserve units.

Twenty veterans' organizations will take part with units from local organizations such as the Armvets, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion and North Side GI Forum.

Youth groups will include Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire and Pioneer girls, Christian Service Brigade and Pontiac Jaycees.

The proceedings will start at 10 a.m. at Saginaw and Oakland. The parade trek down Saginaw to Auburn, then up Wide Track to the front of City Hall where Memorial Day ceremonies will be held.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker will be Rev. F. William Palmer of United Presbyterian Church of Auburn Heights. Also as part of the ceremony will be readings by the three winners in the literary contest sponsored by the association on the theme "What Memorial Day means to me."

Following these observances, a motorcade will proceed to Perry Mount Park Cemetery for a wreath-laying ceremony.

Almost all city, county and federal agencies will be closed for the entire weekend. All major operations at local auto plants also are to shut down, but most area stores, though closed for the holiday, reopen Saturday.

Budget Bills Feel Legislative Heat

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature rushed to wind up action on major budget bills today before the holiday weekend. The measures would boost Gov. William G. Milliken's proposed $1.51 billion package by nearly $2 million.

Major action was expected to occur in the House where lawmakers Wednesday unexpectedly turned down two bills calling for expenditures of nearly $301 million.

Republicans and dissenting Democrats teamed to defeat passage of the $278.9-million public welfare appropriation and a $22.1 million allocation for the departments of commerce, labor and licensing and regulation.

Stunned by the unexpected defeat, leaders finally won approval to reconsider the bills today.

LITTLE SENATE DISSENT

In the Senate, the major bills were expected to be passed without much dissent. The upper chamber thrashed out its differences on major bills during a late night session.

The Senate bills followed committee recommendations very closely. Only two amendments were approved. They called for a $150,000 allocation for a Port Huron National Guard armory and a $15,000 expenditure to permit Lake Superior State College to become autonomous.

The public welfare appropriation bill was defeated on its first try in the House primarily because it called for a $278.9 million appropriation — nearly $19.2 million more than recommended by Milliken.

A Republican proposal to cut welfare funds to the social services department by about $10 million was earlier rejected.

BURIED TAXES

The $22.1 million allocation for the departments of commerce, labor and licensing and regulation was turned down after debate about taxes buried in the bill.

It was estimated that about $9 million would be raised by the taxes on aviation fuel, private trucks and interstate railroad revenue.

Opponents said the aviation fuel tax would cost the airlines $5.3 million yearly and would drive them out of Michigan. They also said a tax plan shouldn't be written into an appropriations bill.

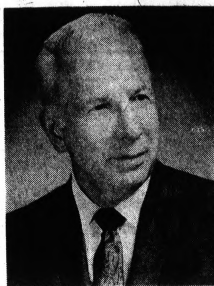

Two other funding bills passed smoothly through the House, however.

A $14.8-million restricted funds measure was approved without a word of discussion. All but $26 million of it was earmarked for highway construction maintenance projects.

The House Appropriations Committee, in revising the measure, cut $191,700 from Milliken's proposals. That action apparently met with bipartisan approval.

House Speaker William A. Ryan was disgruntled at defeat of the welfare budget which he backed personally.

Passage of the appropriations bills is needed by the end of the fiscal year to insure a smooth transition. Should the state find itself without funds on July 1, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley could order department chiefs to continue existing programs.

Bank President to Leave Post

The board of directors of Community National Bank of Pontiac has approved the request of R. R. Eldred, president, to be relieved of his duties as chief administrative officer, effective in December of this year, according to A. C. Girard, chairman of the board.

At that time, Eldred will assume the duties of vice chairman of the board of directors with the responsibility of directing and coordinating the bank's various responsibilities in civic affairs.

Bank spokesmen did not indicate when a new bank president would be named.

Eldred, 61, has been active in civic affairs in the past. He has headed fund drives for the Red Cross, United Fund and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He serves on the advisory board of the hospital and recently was named by the City Commission to the City Stadium Authority which is transacting for construction of a domed professional sports stadium in the city.

He has held many executive posts with the bank, starting with his appointment as auditor in January 1934.

Director Appraises Progress

OCCEO Is 'On Course'

The Oakland County anti-poverty program is on course.

At last night's meeting of the Oakland County Economic Opportunity Commission (OCCEO), Director Edward P. Revis said a U.S. Senate check of the county program found it in nearly 100 per cent in compliance with federal guidelines.

"We feel we have proven ourselves as far as value to the community," he said.

However, new emphasis and more complicated procedures are required he said.

STATUS REPORT

Most of last night's meeting was devoted to a status report by Revis and Thomas Fowler Jr., the elected OCCEO chairman. They stressed the renewed importance of community involvement. Much of this involves meetings. Revis said, "Sometimes, we meet ourselves coming out of another meeting."

The Outstanding Problem Is Transportation

—Edward P. Revis

Statistically, the OCCEO reportedly conducted 543 meetings with poverty groups in the three-month period ending in May.

From the meetings have been garnered such information as what the poor want, where and why, Revis said.

The outstanding complaint in this county is transportation, Revis said.

"What good does it do for the OCCEO to have an education or training program if the people can't get there?" he asked. Revis complained that his community aides (those OCCEO workers dealing most directly with the poor) "have been jitney drivers rather than doing the job they were trained in college to do."

Revis said that, in spite of efforts to work with such organizations as the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), no early solution to the county's public transportation problem was in sight.

"People are talking about transportation systems that can be put in effect 10 years from now. But our problems are today," he said.

$2 MILLION YEARLY

The OCCEO operates on a budget of about 2 million yearly, offering such wide-ranging services to the poor as job-training, education, legal aid, health care and financial planning. The emphasis is on cooperation with existing social agencies.

Revis, Fowler and other OCCEO officials are faced with an education program in regards to the commission itself. About two-thirds of the 51-member body are newly appointed since January.

Requirements for membership in the OCCEO were drastically changed during the last year of the Johnson administration, and a far-greater proportion of public officials has been called for.

Fowler delivered a "state of the program" message to the commission, stressing both original objectives and new

SEVEN PRIORITIES

Fowler said a list of seven priorities has been determined through extensive interviews with the poor of the county. He said the OCCEO has been active in all and will continue to be so.

Besides the prime concern of transportation, the list of priorities includes continued and increased senior citizen programs; more community involvement; housing; school programs; job training; and day-care facilities.

In other reports, a request was submitted that the OCCEO work with the County Health Department to provide a health-care center at the building at Dixie Highway and Grange Hall Township School Board. The Road in Groveland Township Troy schools decided not to, recently occupied by the County for a summer program, of the Sheriff's Department.

radio relay point, but the former private medical clinic has adequate room for a health facility, the report stated.

The OCCEO also approved the transfer of a Head Start program funded for $3,800 for 15 children from the Troy School District to the West Bloomfield District to the West Bloomfield Township School Board. The transfer allows the program to be carried on in the Keego Harbor area.

CRC Halts Advice on Hiring

LANSING (UPI) — The Civil Rights Commission (CRC) has discontinued its practice of advising businesses to recruit workers from private, profit-making employment agencies to comply with antidiscrimination rules.

The action was taken by Burton I. Gordin, executive director of the CRC, and announced yesterday by House Republican Floor Leader William P. Hampton of Bloomfield Hills, who last week complained about the practice to Gov. William G. Milliken.

Hampton, a lawyer, questioned if the CRC, or any state agency, could compel anyone to do business with a particular private corporation.

He also charged the CRC was forcing businessmen to advertise in the Michigan Chronicle, a weekly Detroit newspaper which circulates chiefly in the Negro community.

City Wage Pack Inked

Settlement of the protracted wage dispute between the City of Pontiac and four employe unions is welcome news for those directly involved and the citizenry at large.

The four-month period of negotiations that was regrettably punctuated by outbursts of rancor, recourse to court action and a flare-up of disorder did nothing for a desirable state of accord between City workers and City Hall. It is to be hoped that acrimony in that area is now a thing of the past and that a renewed spirit of conciliation will succeed it.

As ratified, the wage agreements seem generous. Rates for policemen and firemen are now at a statewide level second only to Detroit's.

One of the stickiest issues of the negotiations was the firemen's demand for salary parity with policemen. In the over-all settlement, annual pay for the former was set at $10,150, $150 less than for the latter. The differential, we think, is reasonable, since there is little logic in one category of municipal workers evaluating its services in terms of another's.

The total wage increase covered by the new employe contracts will cost the City $800,000 and will necessitate revision of the 1969 budget already drawn. In this respect, however, Pontiac is fortunate that its fiscal position permits such added expense when so many other municipalities are writing their budgets in red ink not knowing where their next tax dollar is coming from.

Collegians Pull a Switch

Kalamazoo Valley Community College opened its doors only last fall. Already its students have been involved with petitions and demonstrations.

Administration eyebrows were lifted some weeks ago when a flyer began circulating on the campus, which began:

"When a college has a poor administration it is the right of the students to protest."

Eye brows rose even higher at the next sentence:

"Further—if a college has a good administration and faculty it is the DUTY of the students to show their appreciation!"

It seemed that the 1,500 students in the pioneer class of KVCC actually wanted to show their gratitude to the school for giving them an education. A petition was circulated thanking—of all people—the board of trustees for the many hours they had devoted to the development of the college.

A second petition thanked President DALE LAKE and the deans for "the creation of a student-oriented, full student participation college," a feature of which are regular "talk-ins" where faculty members, trustees and students informally exchange gripes, praises and opinions.

A collection was started among the students to purchase some plaques for the administration and trustees. On the day of the big "confrontation," during which the check for the plaques was presented, signs were displayed. One of them read: "Thank you for a fine first year."

Not a building was occupied, not an office ransacked, not a single negotiable demand was made.

All in all, a pretty square bunch of students and teachers at KVCC—square, that is, in the original meaning of the word.

Robots to Smash Baggage

One of technology's latest triumphs is an automatic airport baggage transporter that can be programmed to take luggage from incoming flights to the claims counter or transfer it between planes.

The rolling robot is said to be able to travel over any kind of flat surface, open and pass through doors, stop for pedestrians, sound warning signals and return to its point of origin. For many stops, it can tow individual baggage carts that automatically drop off at programmed points.

It is not clear, however, if engineers have licked the complexities in making sure that a Paris-bound traveler's luggage winds up in Tokyo, or vice versa! For that, human supervision may still be required.

Blacks Are Tiny Minority on Campuses

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Black faces amid the swirling ranks of college protesters sometimes seem so numerous as to suggest they are the dominant element in much campus unrest.

The impression is misleading, for their numbers are still relatively small. In the 80 largest white state universities affiliated with the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, a survey disclosed that on the average less than two of every 100 students and only one of every 100 graduates is a Negro.

The nation's black population today represents 11 percent of the U.S. grand total, but not one of the 80 surveyed schools has a black enrollment that high. The closest is Wayne State University in Detroit, with a 10 percent black enrollment.

In the previous school year, there were actually more foreign students than American Negroes in U.S. colleges and universities. Furthermore, figures indicating that nearly half the Negroes in the U.S. schools are freshmen. This reflects the great recruitment push of the last year or two.

HIGH RISKS

Negro totals in the colleges are swollen, too, by so-called "high risk" programs under which certain schools undertake to admit a limited proportion of blacks who cannot meet the institutions' regular admission standards.

While these programs have wide approval and are growing in number, they have serious negative aspects which contribute to campus unrest rather than ease it.

John Egerton's survey report on the 100 member schools (including almost all of the 100 Negro schools) in the national association says of the "high risk" entrants:

"The unpreparedness of these students has frequently been noted in institutional studies and press reports. In some instances, too, are often unprepared; not only to deal with the so-called 'high risk' students but with black students generally."

TWO-SIDED COIN

"High risk" is a two-sided coin. The institutions take a risk on the students, but the reverse is also true, and the risk any black student takes when he enters a white-oriented institution is substantial."

In a recent interview, the scholarly president of a prominent university privately told this reporter that he and many of his fellow presidents see black college students generally as living under "severe psychological strain."

Their fear of whites in predominantly white schools, he said, often borders on the paranoid.

Negro leader Bayard Rustin says this phenomenon results from the "shock of integration." Negro students' call for separate black dormitories, for black studies and attended and managed exclusively by blacks, and for other similar separatism is put down by Rustin as a perhaps understandable but nevertheless unwise recoil from shock.

The Egerton report makes plain that black students militantly pressing for a larger and often separatist role in the colleges do not much on white radical support for their demands.

They may not accept the view of President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College that white radicals see them as "cannon fodder" in a white-managed "revolution." But they are very wary.

WASHINGTON—When Congress starts tinkering with laws affecting charitable contributions, the emphasis is always on the rich man who gets big tax deductions. But the harm that can be done to the poor and disadvantaged people of America could conceivably be extensive.

LAWRENCE

It is all right to stop the manipulation of nonprofit foundations which get tax exemptions, and it certainly is wise to spell out what they may or may not do in the field of public affairs.

The fact remains, however, that most of the foundations and other tax-exempt organizations are doing worthwhile things for millions of human beings.

To curtail the flow of money into charity would do serious injury, and would in the end result in all citizens having to pay higher taxes in order to finance more and more government programs to help the needy.

It is unquestionably desirable for Congress to pass what the House Ways and Means Committee has just recommended with respect to improper activities of some nonprofit, tax-exempt foundations or organizations.

SOUND RECOMMENDATION

Thus, the ending of tax exemptions for money that is spent directly or indirectly to influence elections or to affect the decisions of any governmental agencies is a sound recommendation, and deductions should be defined carefully so that donors would not be involved in investments in stocks or bonds held by a foundation which might have a bearing on the value of their own securities.

What would prove harmful, however, is any limitations on the incentives which today cause very large contributions to be made to religious, educational or charitable institutions.

Thus, for instance, one of the proposals before the House Ways and Means Committee would repeal the special provision which gives certain donors a tax deduction beyond the normal 30 percent of taxable income.

This has heretofore permitted big contributions of property, for example, which had appreciated in value.

GIVEN ARTICLES

Many churches and other worthy charities have been given various articles which can be immediately sold at a higher value than they cost the donors.

Gifts of works of art and other properties, including stocks and bonds, have hitherto been received by charitable organizations, and deductions have been allowed the donor.

If some of the proposals announced by the House Ways and Means Committee should become law, it will be the first time that Congress will have passed legislation that actually discourages some of the large donations for humanitarian purposes.

The House committee has not yet made final proposals, but has outlined in technical terms certain recommendations it has under consideration.

Many of them are meritorious. But if the operations of charitable institutions are in any way hurt, the expenditures by government for social welfare would have to be substantially increased. All taxpayers then would have to shoulder a heavier burden.

Schools Plan Summer Social Studies

By DICK SAUNDERS

The Pontiac Junior High School District is going to try something different this summer, and it sounds like a worthwhile endeavor.

The Pontiac Junior High Summer School Program will include two courses dealing with American minorities.

The first course will be an introduction to Afro-American history. The second will be aimed at giving students a better understanding of the problems of Spanish speaking minorities.

What's different about them is that they've never been offered before at the junior high level and their prime purpose is to prepare students for more detailed courses of this nature in high school.

"Basically, they're enrichment courses," said Paul Gehman, assistant principal at Washington Junior High and summer school principal for the junior high program.

It's time more credit and less guff is given to school bus drivers. Most important, they must do these things while driving and obeying all the traffic and safety rules.

Stop looking down your nose at school bus drivers and thank them every time they deliver your children home safe and sound. It's never easy.

Commend Music Department at Junior High

I commend the music department of Washington Junior High for two wonderful evenings of music on May 21 and 22. If more teachers in other areas were as dedicated, I'm sure parents would feel they are getting their money's worth. Many extra hours before and after school were spent to put this program together. Bouquets to Miss Hartouanian and the other music teachers at Washington Junior High.

Efforts for Changes Called Communist Plot

I have noticed a lot of reports in newspapers of Communist activities. If anything comes up that might change our ideas about morals or politics or social concerns, it's a "Communist plot." I suppose that if you didn't like your mother-in-law, she decided that she wanted to move in with you, that would be a "Communist plot," too. Let's look for the real reasons why things are changing instead of chalking everything up to some imaginary threat.

Question and Answer

Where can I write for information on family lineage? I can't afford to have a genealogist do this for me. Besides, it's more interesting on my own. I'd appreciate help from anyone.

Try the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research. They can probably give you any information you need. Write them at Burton Historical Collection, Detroit Public Library, Detroit 48202.

Question and Answer

There's an old, overgrown cemetery on Perry Lake Road in Brandon Township that I'd like to clean up before Memorial Day. How would I get permission to do this?

ROGER BANE

REPLY

Go to Brandon Township offices at the fire hall in Orionville. The Township clerk or supervisor can tell you how to go about it. They've arranged to have the cemeteries cleaned up, but just haven't gotten to all of them yet.

(Editor's Note: After an extensive search, we found a recording of the old song "George T. Scott was looking for Turns out Van Bein was the composer, not the artist, but his "Broken Melody" played by violinist Zimbalist is available at Merit Music Shop, 57 W. 46th St., NYC, 10036. The price is $10 plus $1.50 handling.)

"We are making available a new area of study at this level."

For my money, it's a much needed area of study—something of immense value. It's not a second chance, as so many summer school courses are. This is a first chance for students.

The more our kids can come in contact with factual matter about the triumphs and tragedies of minorities, the better equipped they will be to enter this world as understanding citizens.

Unfortunately, the initial success of the program depends entirely on whether or not enough students enroll. A minimum of 20 is needed for each course, or there will be no course.

Included in the first course will be such areas as African background, slave trade, colonial slavery, slavery and the westward movement, the Negro and the Civil War, the present nonviolent movement.

The second course will deal in much the same manner with problems of Spanish speaking Americans — people often overlooked in the civil rights movement.

Mrs. James Grant to teach the courses," Gehman added. "She has a double major in social studies."

While students don't have to register until just prior to the first class, June 20, administrators must get a good idea of anticipated enrollment by June 6. Interested parties should contact Gehman at Washington Junior High.

The classes are open to students in grades 7-9 both inside and outside the school district.

It sounds like a great step in the right direction. I wonder if there are enough people around who are big enough to take that step for their kids.

White Lake GI Killed in Viet

Spec. 4 Joseph C. Chisholm, 24, of 9174 Gladys, White Lake Township, died May 12 from wounds received in action in Da Nang, Vietnam, the Defense Department has reported.
Chisholm enlisted in April 1968, took both basic and advanced training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and went to Vietnam in September. He was with the 39th Engineering Battalion dismantling mines.
In February 1969, he received the Army Commendation medal for heroism. While manning an outpost bunker under heavy attack, he engaged the enemy with fire meanwhile providing the landing zone with early warnings of probes in his area. He also halted initial attempts to penetrate the defensive line by eliminating two of the enemy preparing to breach the defensive wire.

Man Found Dead

A Pontiac man was found dead in the driveway of his home early this morning, police said. A corner told police that Floyd E. Watts, 47, of 310 Central died in his car of carbon monoxide poisoning. A hose was found leading into the car from its exhaust pipe.

Death Probed

Waterford Township Police are investigating the death of Mrs. Dorothy Petherbridge, 43, of 535 Hillcreek, found dead in her car at 7:36 last night.

Sheriff's New Helicopter Ready For Rescues

Lt. Don Kratt Heads Water Division

JACKETS REQUIRED—Every passenger in any boat or canoe must have a life jacket, a new state law says. Using life jackets at Dodge Park No. 4 in Waterford Township are Michael and Donna Corey, both 18, of Garden City in the canoe.

In the rowboat are (from left) Donald Murphy and Larry Stewart, both 18, of Redford Township, and Mary Janette, 16, and Nancy Janette, 17, both of Berkley.

Water Safety Unit Set for Summer

Thousands of boaters and bathers are expected to jam Oakland County's 1,168 lakes this holiday weekend.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department Water Safety Division is prepared for the crowd and those throughout the summer as it never has been before, says division head Lt. Donald Kratt.

county's larger lakes, he said.

Some of them will use the division's six new inboard boats at Lake Orion and at Cass, Pontiac, Orchard, and Lakeville lakes. Others will patrol in the division's four "runabouts" or in their own boats.

COPTER AVAILABLE

The sheriff's new helicopter is available for rescue operations. It arrived this week and has already been put to use in the search for a drowning victim in Kent Lake in Milford Township.

Sheriff's divers also had the opportunity to test their equipment during the search.

Along with the division's new boats and sheriff's helicopter goes a new headquarters for the water division. The division recently moved from the sheriff's department in downtown Pontiac to an existing storage building at 1200 N. Telegraph in the County Service Center.

Two new boat regulations are now in effect for this boating season, Kratt said.

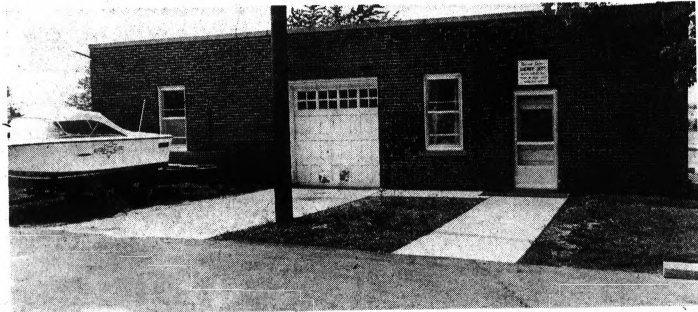

One requires that a life jacket must be available for each person on any type of boat, including sail and rowboats and canoes.

Secondly, every motorboat must bear an identification number and numbering renewal decal.

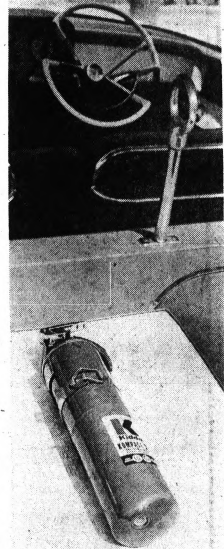

Information on water safety laws may be obtained by calling the sheriff's water division.

SAFETY DEVICE — Motorboats are required to be equipped with fire extinguishers. Larger boats require more than one extinguisher.
