Joint Committee Urges Approval of Huge Tax Cut

Compromise Bill Would Allow Payers to Deduct First $50 in Dividends

WASHINGTON (U P)—A Senate-House Conference Committee has recommended approval of a 900-page tax reform bill calling for $1,363,000,000 in tax relief for individuals and corporations.

Most of the individual tax relief would go to taxpayers with income from dividends, to taxpayers with high medical expenses, to elderly persons living on retirement income, and to working widows, widowers, divorced persons or low-income couples who hire a baby sitter or nursemaid to care for children while they work.

Corporations would benefit through more liberal depreciation allowances and through numerous changes in the laws on the methods required for computing and filing tax returns.

On the other side of the ledger, corporations would have to continue to pay for another year a maximum income tax rate of 52 per cent, compared with the 47 per cent rate which became effective April 1.

The compromise bill, which failed to win the unanimous support of the entire Conference Committee, will be considered by the House early next week and probably by the Senate late next week. Debate is expected to be heavy.

Reps. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn) and John D. Dingell (D-Mich), House Democratic members of the Conference Committee, did not approve the bill. They may ask the House to reject it, although they are not given much chance of success.

A move also may be made in the Senate to reject the Conference Committee's recommendations, primarily because of the provision put into the bill calling for tax relief for persons receiving income from dividends.

On this politically touchy issue, the Conference Committee

Evacuated Patients Back in Fire-Damaged Hospital

The 42 patients evacuated yesterday from flaming Bloomfield Hospital were back in undamaged wards today in a speedy reoccupation of the fire-charred structure.

While hospital employes continued clean-up chores, Michigan State Police pushed an investigation of the fire's origin.

Detective Glen Tanner of the Redford State Police Post said the fire "definitely was not a case of arson," but pointed out that he will continue the probe today.

The hospital's appearance of normalcy contrasted sharply with the excitement and nervous tension during yesterday's mass evacuation of patients.

Patients, some still lying on beds, were rushed outside when flames spurted from the roof of the hospital about 9 a.m. The hospital is at Woodward Ave. and Square Lake Rd., about three miles south of Pontiac.

Thirty-two of the sick were cared for in emergency quarters on the hospital grounds, while the other 10 were shuttled to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Pontiac General Hospital.

Hospital Director Clyde Marshbanks said the last patient was returned to the hospital at 9 o'clock last night. They are being quar-

Girl Scouts Plan National Roundup in Highland Area

Oakland County will be host to some 4,000 Girl Scouts from all parts of the nation in the summer of 1956. The occasion will be the national encampment of the organization.

Verification of plans to meet at the Highland State Recreation, published in the Press some months ago when preliminary plans were being discussed, has been made by the national office of the organization. The dates are June 29 to July 11.

Because of the extensive preparations required for such an event, dates and location are selected two years in advance.

Purpose of the Roundup is to give Senior Scout troops and patrols of the U.S. an opportunity to know each other and to enjoy and use on a large scale the skills and techniques of living democracy which they have learned in Scouting.

Miss U.S. Title Won by Coed From Dixieland

South Carolina Victor Will Battle 32 Beauties for 'Universe' Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss South Carolina, a Dixie coed who is all woman, today is the new Miss U. S. A.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old college senior from Winnsboro, S. C., won last night over 46 other entrants for the title which will pit her against 32 foreign beauties for the Miss Universe crown.

Miss Stevenson's first words to newspapermen after she won were:

"I cain't believe it."

Asked if she knew she would have to lose her southern accent now that she has won a movie contract with Universal-International Studio, she answered: "Sho nuff."

Of voluptuous build, the wholesome looking winner has perfect measurements: 36 inch bust and hips and 24 inch waist. Her 120 pounds are well distributed over a 5 foot 6 frame.

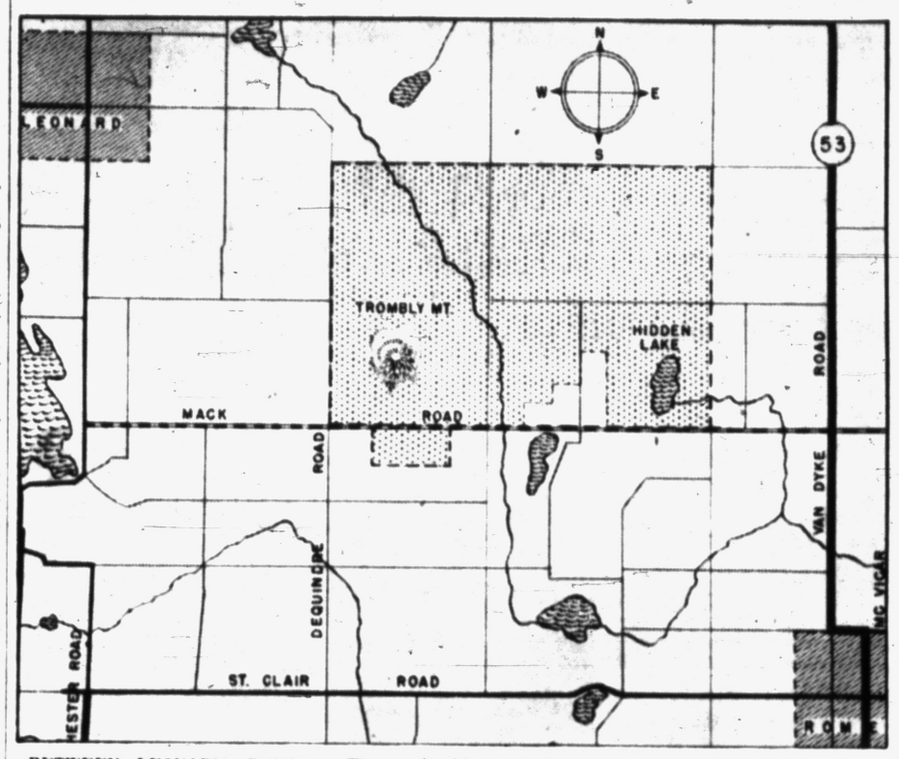

She had come here without luggage except for an evening gown which she had designed herself and a bathing suit which contest officials gave her. That was all she needed.

Her luggage, lost on an airliner that brought her here last week hasn't caught up with her yet.

She scored heavily in the bathing suit and evening gown competitions but it was her naturalness and humor in the poise and personality talk that won her the judges' nod.

Runners-up in the contest were in this order: Miss Virginia, Ellen Whitehead, an 18-year-old Chatham, Va., brunette; Miss New York State, Karin Huitman, 22, of Rochester; Miss New York City, Renee Roy, 23-year-old actress, and Miss Texas, 20-year-old Betty Lee of Austin, one of the tallest girls in the contest.

Proving Ground Site Borders County

BETWEEN LEONARD, ROMEO — The center shaded area on the map above locates the nearly 4,000 acres purchased by Ford Motor Co. as the site of its Michigan Proving Ground. The location is between Romeo and Leonard, bordering on Oakland County, approximately 15 miles northeast of Pontiac. Surveying of the area is scheduled to begin this summer and completion of the proving ground is expected by 1956. Announcement was made by E. S. MacPherson, Ford vice president.

Proving Ground Will Be Built on 4,000 Acres

Work to Start Within Few Weeks, Completion Scheduled in 1956

Fact replaces rumor today on the 4,000 acre land deal between Leonard and Romeo with the announcement that Ford Motor Company has purchased the site for one of the world's largest vehicle proving grounds.

Earle S. MacPherson, vice president in charge of engineering, made the official announcement and he said it would be known as the Michigan Proving Ground.

It was predicted by the Pontiac Press on June 5 that the Ford Motor Company will develop the rolling countryside area which is located in Bruce Township in northwest Macomb County for proving ground purposes.

Surveying of the area will begin this summer and construction work is scheduled to start next year. The proving ground is expected to be in operation in 1956, he said.

Speculation has been rife on what is claimed to be the largest single land deal negotiated in this area in history since around April 1 when Roy Annett, Inc., Pontiac realty firm, began optioning 6700 acres of land between Leonard and Romeo for an "unidentified principal."

Rumors were circulated claiming that the land was being purchased for General Motors or for the federal government to be used as an atomic development site.

Many believed that the land was intended for the location of the next World's Fair.

Largest single purchase and in the center of the proposed proving ground development is the Edward F. Fisher Farm covering 2,500 acres of hills, valleys, lakes and fertile pastureland.

The Fisher farm, known as Hi-Point farm and internationally famous for its fine breed of Hereford cattle, was the first to be sold. Twelve tenant farmers on the land were told they would be given until March 1 of 1955 to vacate and auctions were scheduled for the Herefords and the dairy cattle in October and late this month.

In making the announcement, MacPherson said that the new site would give the Ford Engineering staff more than 8,000 acres of vehicle testing area.

The new site is ten times larger than the present Dearborn test area and about the same size as a huge Ford desert proving ground near Kingman, Arizona. He said the company also operates a test base at Jennerstown, Pa.

"The new proving ground will give us added facilities for testing of present products and for the

Critics of Ike's Atomic Bill Argue Doggedly All Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of the administration's atomic legislation fought on doggedly today though worn by an all-night session.

They had been beaten badly on a test vote which upheld President Eisenhower's order for a new private power plant in Arkansas.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) served notice he would keep the session—which began at 10 a. m. (EDT) yesterday — going right on into Sunday if necessary to pass the bill.

Knowland spoke of the long debate as a filibuster, but opponents denied they were trying to talk the measure to death.

They were plainly out, however, to dramatize the issue and build

Mundt Enters Row Over Aide

Supports McCarthy in Asking Explanation of Lavenia Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today the Senate Investigations subcommittee is "trying for an elemental factor in American justice" in seeking an explanation for the denial of security clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia.

The Defense Department has refused to clear Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel to the subcommittee, to handle secret documents. It has declined to say why on grounds that to do so would require disclosure of confidential information.

"Somebody's got to say this boy is guilty of something," Mundt said in an interview. He is ranking Republican member of the subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

McCarthy accused the Defense Department last night of having "improperly maligned" Lavenia. He made public letters demanding that representatives of the Defense and Justice Departments appear at a closed session tomorrow to explain the denial of clearance.

McCarthy said he had written Secretary of Defense Wilson:

"The department's refusal to supply us information in this case leaves a cloud upon both the department and Mr. Lavenia . . . To hide behind a technicality that the information is of a 'confidential nature' helps neither Mr. Lavenia nor your department in what appears to be much more than merely an unfortunate situation."

The New York Times reported in a Washington dispatch, meanwhile, that administration and congressional sources said they expected the "early resignation" of John G. Adams as counselor of the Army.

Draft Calls Ease Off as Youths Volunteer

LANSING (AP) — The military draft pressure in Michigan is light now and should not become heavy during the next 12 months, Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state draft director, said today.

Col. Holmes said it appears now that Detroit will be able to meet its August and September draft calls entirely with volunteers. The remainder of the state will fill its calls for those two months 85 to 90 per cent with volunteers, he said.

Safety Commission Cites City Traffic Improvements

The Michigan Safety Commission Wednesday highly commended the Pontiac Police Department and the Chamber of Commerce Safety Commission for making decisive improvements in the city's overall traffic record since 1951.

Twenty-five city and county officials, attending an annual meeting in the Hotel Waldron, heard Harry Porter Jr., commission representative, quote a 1953 summary by the National Safety Council which shows the city has climbed from 70th place in 1951 to become the 21st safest community of 95 municipalities in the nation.

However, Pontiac, which rose to its present position from 25th place in 1952, was criticized for its police manpower shortage and low traffic conviction ratings.

Similar to the council's report last year, the national organization again stressed the urgency for a full-time traffic engineer and a traffic court in Pontiac.

A mild controversy during the two-hour meeting on the reported low conviction rating led Mayor William W. Donaldson to recommend that a special committee be assigned to find out from Supreme Court decisions whether patrolmen can sign complaints on the basis of "information and belief."

Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan said that in the past such charges made by police were dismissed in courts because actual witnesses to violations were lacking.

Finnegan said he had conducted private investigations on the signing of such complaints and "went so far as to recommend it to the Legislature in 1950, but the matter died somewhere along the line."

Approval of Courthouse Building Plan Is Given by Oakland Citizens League

Qualified approval of a proposal for a new county courthouse and office building to be voted on by Oakland County on Aug. 3, has been given by the Oakland Citizens League, after a study of the proposal.

The non-partisan citizens group based its findings on reports by two allied organizations, Civic Research, Inc., of Pontiac, and the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, both of whom examined ballot proposals voters are asked to authorize.

The qualification came in the nature of a cautionary warning against over-expansion. Necessity for the construction, however, appears well substantiated, the league said.

"Acquisition of the full amount of money proposed by the ballot will not be immediately required," the Citizens League statement said. "This means that caution and good judgment will be essential by the Board of Supervisors to prevent over-borrowing and over-building."

Voters will be asked to authorize a levy of 50 cents per $1,000 of the assessed valuation of county property to pay the principal and interest on bonds not to exceed $4,500,000 for the project.

A second ballot proposal asks voters to authorize borrowing the money. The authorization is required because the levy would be one-half mill in excess of the 15-mill property tax limitation. All Oakland County voters may vote on the proposition, but only property owners may vote on the bond issue itself.

Need for expansion is indicated by continued growth of the county, with an expected population of 700,000 by 1970. The county population is now in excess of 400,000. (1950 census was 396,001.)

It is proposed to build the new courthouse and office building on land now owned by the county at West Boulevard and Telegraph road.

This would transfer county government activities from a "midtown" location but would provide better accessibility from main highways as well as ample parking space, the Citizens League

'54 School Census Shows Increase of 1,606 Among Birmingham's Youngsters

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—This city's present and potential school population has registered an increase of 1,606 persons over 1953, according to the 1954 school census figures revealed this week.

There are now 13,677 Birmingham residents between 0 and 20 years of age, compared to 12,069 record last year.

The school census is taken yearly to help school authorities determine future building needs and also forms the basis for the per-pupil amount of financial aid received from the state each year.

A breakdown of the figures shows 4,522 in the birth-five-year-old category, with 9,155 in the range between 5 and 20 years of age.

Of the latter group, 7,017 were enrolled in Birmingham public schools at the close of the school year last month.

The remaining 2,138 youngsters are in other public schools, private or parochial schools, college, the armed forces or are employed, a school spokesman said.

Boys outnumbered girls in the first age group, 2,404 to 2,118. There were more boys in the upper age level, too—4,763 to 4,392.

it up to importance in the election campaigns. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) told newsmen he would stump the nation to call "the people's attention to the capture of the Eisenhower administration by the private power trust."

At 10 a.m. (EDT)—the 24-hour mark of the session—Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) was in the midst of a speech he had begun at 5:16 a.m. Fewer than half a dozen senators were in their seats and one of the Senate's two women members, Sen. Bowring (R-Neb), was presiding.

Many senators had remained close by through the night, however, napping on cots set up in cloakrooms or on couches in their offices. And through the night, there were always a few spectators in the public galleries.

The big test vote, taken before midnight, defeated 55-36 an attempt to block Eisenhower's order for a new private power plant in Arkansas. A second vote, 56-35, then clinched it by giving affirmative approval for the plan.

Opposing leaders agreed today the Senate battle over farm legislation may be settled in two or three days of debate.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) has tagged the farm bill as the next major item of business for the adjournment-bound Senate, following action on a bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act.

"I'm pretty certain we can finish it in three days or less unless some one decides to filibuster," Knowland said in an interview.

Aiken, who is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said the Democratic leaders had served notice they would not agree to action on the bill until after the July 27 primary election involving Sen. Ellender (D-La). Ellender is former chairman and ranking Democrat on the committee.

Kevern is married and the father of twin boys, one in college and one in the service.

At the same meeting, Fire Chief B. B. Bartholomew was reappointed for another year.

New Zoning Law Cuts Multiple Units

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A new zoning ordinance eliminating most of the old multiple-dwelling district along Woodward Avenue from the city's north to south boundaries was passed this week by the City Commission.

The land in the present Cranbrook Manor development remains a multiple-dwelling district, and other scattered sections of land remain either multiple-dwlling or commercial districts.

Under the new ordinance, the number of families per acre in the multiple-dwelling district in the Woodward-Long Lake road section was reduced from five to three.

Also affected was the minimum size of lots. Formerly at a mimimum of 0.69 acres, they are now placed at three-quarter acre, one acre, one-and-a-half acre, and two acres, depending on location.

study of experimental and advance vehicle designs," said MacPherson.

Ford Motor Company said it would be a multi-million dollar facility when completed with offices, maintenance and storage garage, a fueling structure, special testing obstacles and a network of test roads including a five-mile high speed track.

Some of the buildings now on the property may be retained for storage purposes, they said.

At the time Annett was in the optioning process, he said the deal would range from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. The Ford Motor Company said today it would not divulge the exact purchase price.

Twenty-two hundred acres of the original option area was in Oakland County, but the land finally selected is entirely in Macomb County, bordering on Dequindre Road, Oakland's easterly limit.

The Michigan Proving ground is bounded on the west by Dequindre road with the other boundary roads, Dewey on the north, Gould and Hipp on the east and Mack on the south. One small parcel of land included in the purchase is located south of Mack road.

MacPherson said the new proving ground would require 100 employes at the start of the operation.

The Ford Michigan Proving Ground will be the third major testing facility of the automotive industry in this area. General Motors Milford Proving Ground comprises 3,863 acres and Packard operates a proving ground near Utica.

Service for Seaman Will Be Held Friday

agreed to permit taxpayers to deduct their first $50 of dividend income.

In addition, they could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends directly from the tax bill they otherwise would pay. A man with $10,000 income from dividends could get a tax cut of slightly more than $400.

This was a compromise between a more liberal House plan which would have allowed a deduction of $100 and a tax credit of 10 per cent on dividend income; and a more restricted Senate provision which would have permitted only the $50 exclusion.

The compromise version is expected to cost the Treasury about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 millions annually when it takes full effect.

Most of the tax cuts would be effective for the tax year which began last Jan. 1. They would show up in returns filed next March. The 4 per cent tax credit for dividends applies to dividends received after July 1, 1954.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said the conference agreement "does not sound too good to me." But he added he is not inclined at the moment to wage a fight against it.

The Democratic argument has been that dividend tax relief amounts to a windfall for the rich. Republicans, with some Democratic support, contend that dividend income is already taxable to the corporation that earns it, and is taxed again when paid out to the individual.

Surviving him are five sons, Arty of El Paso, Tex., Verniee of Houston, Tex., Thomas, Reader and Marvin all of Pontiac; and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Berry, Mrs. Arthur Buttrey and Dorothy Thrower all of Pontiac.

Also surviving are 13 grandchilden, ten great grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Dollie Haynes of Wardell, Mo.

Service will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. from Pilgrim Holiness Church, with burial following in the Drayton Plains cemetery. The body is at the Sparks - Griffin Funeral Home.

Mrs. Robert M. Todd

After a prolonged illness, Mrs. Robert M. (Maggie M.) Todd, 81, of 63 S. Parke St. died at her home Wednesday morning.

Born in Napanee, Ont. Jan. 23, 1873 she was the daughter of Richard W. and Mary Treadway Bennett and the widow of Mr. Todd, whom she married in Toronto in 1890.

Mr. Todd operated a plumbing and heating business in Pontiac for many years.

Mrs. Todd had lived here since her marriage and was a member of the First Methodist Church and the Eunice Circle of the church.

Surviving are three sons, R. Vern, Winton F. and Norman W. all of Pontiac.

points out in its recommendation.

The proposed building will be adjacent to other county bulidings. A central heating plant will make possible a worthwhile savings in construction costs.

The County Welfare Office, Children's Home, Infirmary, Contagious Hospital, Agricultural Extension Service, Store House and central heating plant already are located at the proposed bulding site.

Addition of a building to house the circuit and probate courts and other county offices, and relocation of facilities of the County Road Commission would create a concentration of county activities in a single area. Construction of a new county jail is not contemplated in the plan.

Size and extent of structure to be built has not been determined. A need exists for about 125,000 square feet, although by 1970 the need could be 220,000 square feet. The amount of money for which the county seeks authorization, plus money to be realized from sale of property to be vacated (expected to produce from $750,000 to $1,000,000) is estimated to be enough to provide the maximum eventually necessary.

The 1954 equalized assessed valuation of Oakland County is $966,608,734. A levy of ½ mill would yield $483,000 annually, sufficient to retire the bonds in less than 20 years.

Traffic Improvement in City Wins Praise

explained that the Detroit office of the attorney general has interpreted Supreme Court decisions on the matter as qualifying an officer to sign complaints on information and belief. He added that several Michigan municipalities are following the practice.

Judge Cecil McCallum, upholding Finnegan's decision, said "It is proper for policemen to sign these complaints and have them recognized in courts only if the violation is witnessed by a second person."

Both judges disagreed with the report that traffic violations resulting in convictions with penalty were "substantially lower than the 95 per cent recommended."

The council report showed a 77 per cent conviction rate for 1953, a gain over the previous year when 68 per cent was reported.

The rating is based on the percentage of arrests for hazardous traffic violations resulting in convictions.

Both Finnegan and McCallum noted that an estimated 98 per cent of traffic violations coming into court resulted in convictions.

The report states:

"Compared to the 148 reported, 355 convictions on specific driver intoxication charges would be required to rank Pontiac favorably on 'intoxication enforcement' proportionate to the number of drinking drivers involved in accidents."

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley explained that the department's accident prevention work has been hampered by the court's interpretation of the citation ruling.

He said patrolmen have been forced to discontinue issuing tickets at accident scenes when the mishap is not witnessed by the officer. In many instances, Straley explained, officers were unable to issue tickets to "drunk drivers" following accidents.

Police Lt. William Crisp added that witnesses involved in accidents in many cases refused to sign complaints against violators after agreements were reached by the motorists in an auto accident.

The group agreed that such practices have caused the conviction rating in Pontiac to drop below the recommended standard.

Porter told the group that Pontiac should add at least 29 more policemen to its force on the basis of 1.5 policemen per 1,000 persons. Pontiac, with a present population of about 75,000, supports a department consisting of 104 officers.

"Judging from the report," Porter said, "your police force is doing an enormous amount of work."

He cited from the report that recommended traffic contacts for each of the department's patrolmen were set at four a week.

He said records show that an average of 5.1 contacts for every officer in the department indicates more policemen are needed to cover accidents "adequately and efficiently."

He said the need for more policemen also is pointed up by the fact that Pontiac serves more than 100,000 persons each day in the highly industrial area.

City Manager Walter K. Willman explained that the force has increased to its present strength from only 80 in 1950. He said he expects the force will continually increase in the future.

The city placed 27th in 1953 traffic deaths, dropping from 24th place in 1952. The report shows 460 persons injured last year, as compared with 522 in 1952 and 494 in 1951.

Eight persons were killed in traffic here in the past two years. In 1951 the city suffered the high toll of 16 deaths due to traffic accidents.

In the accident records performance, Pontiac progressed from 58th place last year to 28 and for traffic engineering (by the police department) it was rated 34 over last year's 48th.

The Municipal Court in its traffic performance was handed a drop from 9th to 40th place.

In school safety, the city was pushed up the ladder to 42nd place from 51st.

Among the council's recommendations are:

"Consideration should be given to the expansion of off-street parking facilities: about 110 spaces per 1,000 registered vehicles are needed.

"Crosswalks at 315 intersections should be indicated.

"In order to meet the appraised measure, 36.5 miles of paved streets should have modern type lighting.

"Expansion of one-way street operations.

"More accidents should be investigated at the scenes of accidents.

"The driver education program should be expanded to all eligible high school students in classrooms before graduation."

The council further recommends that Pontiac's city manager "take prompt steps to provide" a group consisting of members from various organizations to formulate traffic safety programs.

The report shows that the C. of C. Safety Committee has had the responsibility for achieving such objectives in the past.

"The chamber is highly commended for accepting this responsibility and for the activities carried on during 1953," the council states.

Sportswriter Leaves Estate of $30,500

NEW YORK (AP) — Sportswriter Grantland Rice left an estate of more than $30,500, most of it willed to his widow and a daughter.

Terms of his will were made public yesterday during the filing of a probate application in Surrogate's Court. Rice died July 13.

His widow, Mrs. Katherine N. Rice, was given life use of a summer home in East Hampton, N.Y. estimated to be worth more than $25,000, and shares in a 5th Avenue cooperative apartment.

Florence R. Butler, a daughter of Venice, Calif., will receive the residue of the estate, except for a $3,000 bequest to a nephew, Grantland Rice.

Drowning Takes Lives of Men in Fishing Family

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Once there were five in the fishing Smith family.

Then in the early 1930s Mrs. Mary Smith's husband drowned at the family fishing site near Tyonek, 60 miles west of Anchorage. His body never was recovered.

The widow, with three sons to rear, continued to go annually to the fishing grounds, superintending operations during the season until the boys were able to take over.

Three years ago one of the sons, Roland, drowned at the same spot his father had perished.

Last year, another son, Byrne, drowned on a hunting trip on the Olympic Peninsula in the state of Washington.

Gerard, 26, the last of the sons, carried on. Monday, his dory, its bow stove in like it had struck a barge or scow, was found at the spot where father and brother had died. His body has not been recovered.

Now Mrs. Smith, almost totally blind, alone remains.

Witness Says Nowak Was Commie Instructor

DETROIT (AP) — A witness has testified that former state Sen. Stanley Nowak was one of three instructors at a Communist party school in Detroit.

The witness, Charles Baxter, testified before federal Judge Frank A. Picard at a hearing in which the government seeks to deport Nowak to his native Poland. The government claims the former Michigan lawmaker fraudulently obtained his citizenship in 1938 by concealing his membership in the Communist party.

Baxter testified he taught Communist doctrine for 18 years, joining the party in 1927 and quitting in 1945. He said that Nowak also taught the party line in 1937.

Korea Unification Unlikely, Rhee May Be Told Here

SEOUL (AP) — Stubborn old President Syngman Rhee leaves Sunday for Washington, probably to be told that there is almost no hope of realizing his fondest dream — a Republic of Korea embracing the Communist-ruled north.

Ostensibly the 79-year-old President is going to Washington to discuss a new unification policy with President Eisenhower, since the Geneva conference failed. And publicly he still rallies South Korea's 22 million people with the cry "go north."

But an informed government source says privately Rhee has all but abandoned hope of seeing this divided and war-shattered peninsula reunited before he dies.

President Eisenhower's Far East advisers almost certainly have told him that North Korea must be written off as a loss to the Communists, observers here say.

Intelligence reports from North Korea indicate Red China has turned the area into a vassal state, tied tightly to Peiping both politically and economically.

If unification is all but a dead issue, the agenda for the top level Washington talks slated to open Monday will include the urgent need of pumping more vigor into South Korea's economy and strengthening its army.

Rhee is expected to demand a greater voice in the spending of U.S. millions on Korean rehabilitation. And there have been reports that Eisenhower would approve a buildup of the 20-division ROK Army.

Eisenhower has called in some of his top experts on Korea for conferences before Rhee's arrival.

Eisenhower is expected to seek additional advice from Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who just completed a three-month survey of U.S. military assistance programs in Korea, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, is known as the father of the modern ROK Army.

No one here will predict the outcome of the important talks in Washington, but all agree that Eisenhower will go into the sessions thoroughly briefed on South Korea's varied and troublesome problems.

20-Ton Crane Careens 7 Blocks Through Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 20-ton crane rolled madly down 15th Street for seven blocks yesterday before it smashed into a car and then backed to a stop four feet inside of a drugstore.

The crane's operator, E. J. McKenzie, stayed with his vehicle. He said the brakes failed. He passed about 20 cars.

He maneuvered through traffic but couldn't avoid hitting a car owned by M. L. Stirling, who suffered a concussion and bruises.

The automobile was demolished.

When the human eye is at rest it normally is focused on objects 20 feet or more away.

Democrat Women Stage Fund Raising Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic women all over the country with hatbox in hand will ring doorbells on Democratic Women's Day, Sept. 22, in a fund-raising campaign for Democratic candidates in the November election.

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities of the Democratic National Committee, announcing the drive yesterday, said it will have as its slogan "Drop a dollar in the hat — help elect a Democrat."

Autobahns to Be Extended by West Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — Bustling West Germany is preparing to complete a job Hitler left unfinished 13 years ago. It will finish the famed autobahn—superhighway—network in a seven-year construction program costing $304,640,000.

Hitler started the road-building project in 1933 as a military invasion route to Poland, Austria and France. He built 2,100 miles of autobahns. West Germany inherited 1,450 miles. Now in an effort to spur trade and travel, it will extend the system to Swiss and Belgian frontiers, and fill gaps in the route linking the North Sea with the Alps.

Seven main stretches totaling 368 miles will be built. Construction will be financed in part by heavier taxes on large trucks and on gasoline and diesel oil.

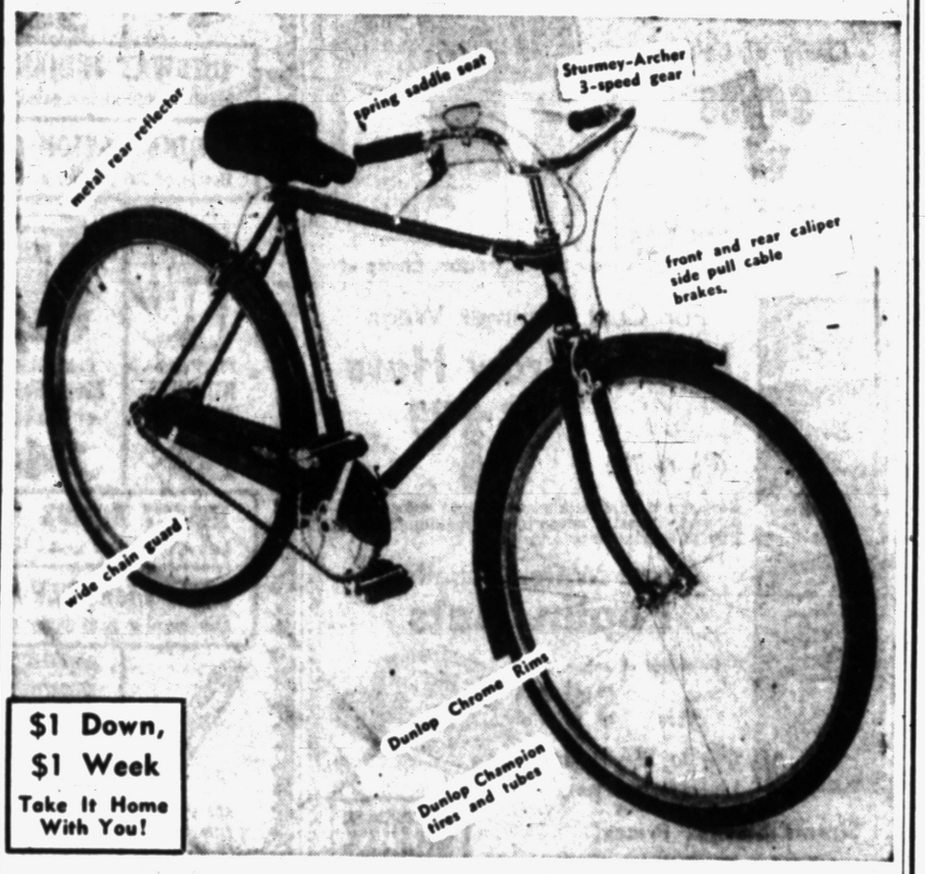

The autobahns are Europe's finest roads. A 14-foot strip of grass separates the double lanes. There are no telephone or telegraph lines or billboards. The autobahns bypass cities. There are no intersections and no speed limits except those established by the military for occupation personnel.

U.S. Criticism Gets Rebuttals

Censure of Cease-Fire Brings Angry Retorts From British Press

LONDON (AP) — U.S. criticism of the Indochina cease-fire terms touched off bristling editorials and bitter cartoons in a wide cross section of the British press.

The angry reaction extended even to some conservative newspapers which up to now had strongly defended America against British fault-finding.

One of these, the arch-Conservative Daily Mail, said British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden singlehandedly kept the Geneva conference going amid "cries of 'appeaser' " and added:

"Only yesterday American senators referred again to 'another Munich'—showing they have no idea what Munich was.

"What, anyway, is their policy?"

"Do they want another 100,000 American boys killed and maimed for another Panmunjom?"

The big-circulation Daily Mirror published a vitriolic cartoon depicting U.S. Secretary of State Dulles seated glumly under a calendar dated "July 21, 1954" as two gaudily dressed businessmen burst in, shouting indignantly, "peace has broken out!"

The Laborite Daily Herald quoted a writer in the New York Times as saying, "the Communists have scored another major victory in the strugle for the world," and commented:

"That is his judgment on the cease-fire in Indochina, and his view is widely shared on the other side of the Atlantic.

"But Mr. Anthony Eden is no Communist. Nor is Monsieur Mendes-France. Nor is Mr. Nehru.

"Yet all these and multitudes of other people of every race hail the sanity of the settlement as a triumph for the art of negotiation. The contrast between these two viewpoints is stark and shattering.

"Was it really wrong to stop the fighting?"

Chicagoan Totes Pistol to Ward Off Big Catfish

CHICAGO (INS) — A 20-year-old Chicagoan has come up with the fish story of the season — he told a police court he was carrying a .32 caliber pistol for protection because he was going catfishing.

Asked by the judge where the savage catfish were found, Wilmer Turner replied:

"In the Mississippi River, judge. They run 30 or 40 pounds and my boss told me I'd better take along a gun."

The judge thought it was a whopper of a story — he fined Turner $100 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

Legislation Influenced by Public Pressure

EAST LANSING (AP)—The general public and local pressure have a lot to do with influencing welfare legislation, members of the Government Workshop at Michigan State College agreed yesterday.

Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) said the legislature has to rely heavily on certain state agencies in welfare matters.

"But the minute news of a bill is published in the newspapers, people start reading about it and we get a good deal of reaction toward it," she said.

Listings to Continue

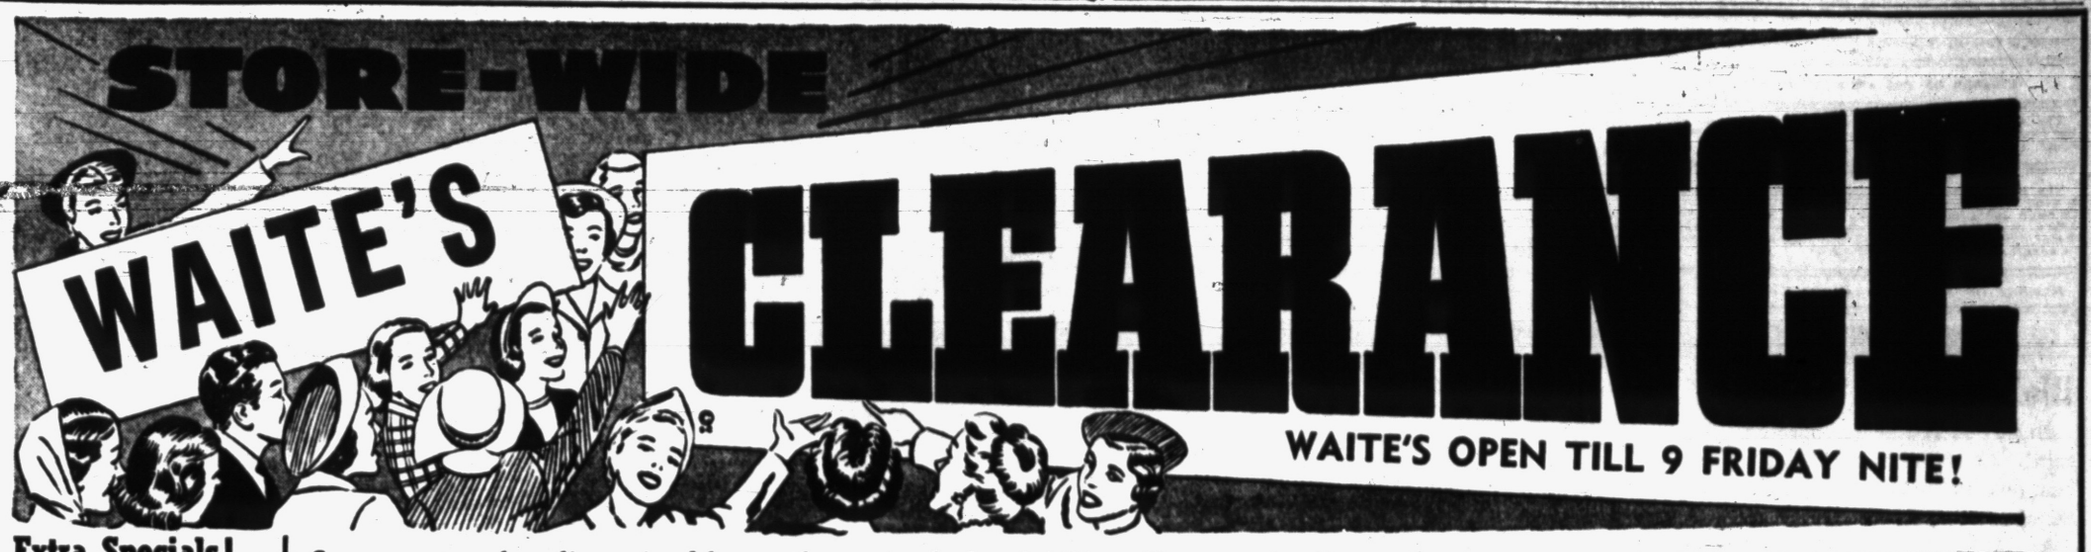

LANSING (AP)— Lists of conservation law violators will continue to be provided to qualified members of the press "indefinitely," the State Conservation Commission has decided. For the past nine months, the lists have been provided under three three-month trial periods.

Trotsky Assassin Quizzed

MEXICO CITY (INS) — Mexico City prison officials investigated today the report that Jacques Mornard, assassin of Leon Trotsky had stabbed a fellow prisoner. Mornard became eligible for parole earlier this year, but has remained in the prison where he conducts a profitable business.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Blair Moody

BLAIR MOODY'S unexpected death came as a shock to Michigan, as previous reports had indicated the former Senator was progressing nicely.

The ardent Democrat had a wide circle of friends all over the State and his loss places a heavy drag on his party in the coming race. While MOODY was still a candidate for the nomination and was not assured of entering the winner's circle, his chances for the nomination were excellent.

The EX-Senator bore an unofficial stamp of approval from Governor WILLIAMS as he and the chief executive were close personal friends and had fought together in the national convention four years ago. In fact some political observers believe that MOODY was so overly active before the television cameras that he actually injured his chances somewhat with Michigan voters.

Be that as it may, he gave Senator POTTER a terrific battle and the result was in doubt right up to the finish wire. Experience gained in that campaign might have stood him in good stead this year, although he was pitted against a much more seasoned campaigner in Senator HOMER FERGUSON, and of course he faced the formidable MCNAMARA in the primary.

Senator MOODY was long in the newspaper business and was associated with the Detroit News in their Washington office for 18 years. When Senator ARTHUR VANDENBERG died, the power of appointment rested in Governor WILLIAMS' hands and he named MOODY without any hesitation.

The Pontiac Press was in disagreement with many of Senator Moody's policies and beliefs but no one ever challenged the sincerity of his personal convictions. Michigan political circles lose a vibrant, active and assertive figure, while his family and intimates have lost a compelling personality.

More Aid for Disabled

Though still in conference, the Vocational Rehabilitation Bill already has been called one of the finest pieces of legislation to come out of the present Congress.

It deserves its expected approval on both humanitarian and economic grounds. Besides eliminating much human frustration and misery, it will boster the economy by restoring many disabled men and women to productive work.

Because of its limitations, the existing rehabilitation law has been reclaiming only 60,000 disabled persons a year. The new act awaiting final approval will accomplish much more. In 1955 it is expected 70,000 will receive the necessary training. That total will grow to 100,000 in 1956 and 200,000 by 1959.

Other important features of the bill include provision for grants to the States on the basis of need and aid will be given voluntary as well as State agencies. Discarded by the Senate was a provision in the present law which restricted Federal aid for hospitalization to 90 days. This had penalized persons who needed help most and they now can be brought within the program.

President EISENHOWER, a strong backer of this bill, will lose no time in signing it when it reaches his desk.

Guarding Our Freedoms

Kiwanis International is doing an excellent job of spreading the message of its 1954 Miami convention with the aid of its 3,800 clubs.

Already more than 750,000 pamphlets stressing the advantages of the American way of life have been distributed to workers and students through the local clubs.

Wisely, the organization has aimed in these pamphlets to discourage the trend toward socialism in this country, a trend which has gone much farther in England.

Unfortunately, too few persons realize the danger in such a development. Its deceptive attractiveness blinds many to the fact that socializing a country is only the first step toward weakening it financially and spiritually. The next step is Communism.

We endorse Kiwanis' efforts to make everyone realize that the freedoms won for us by our early patriots must be "re-earned every generation or they may be forever lost."

Chance remark: Any statement by the only man in a threesome.

In connection with some historical data that is being prepared, a picture of a Pontiac toll gate is desired. These gates held back traffic on most of the streets entering our city until a few cents were paid for each vehicle. Most of them were in use until after the turn of the century. They were located on South Saginaw St. near the present South Boulevard, on Auburn Ave. near the present East Boulevard, on Mt. Clemens St., east of Paddock St., on Orchard Lake Ave. near Voorheis Road, and on Perry St. near the present city limits. If you have a picture of any of them please contact Man About Town.

"I wish that pipe smoking doctor at St. Joe's would park his down draft furnace outside the door when he enters the room," writes "Hospitalized," who continues, "About three of us suffer a relapse every time this menace appears."

A New Federal and State Highway System Would Create Most Prosperous of Eras

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

A greater system of highways is necessary for the growth and expansion of the nation. The President's desire is to allocate 50 billion dollars for a new Federal and State highway system.

Such a system would give us the one great opportunity to put a national system of traffic laws into effect which would greatly lessen our national death toll. These roads could criss-cross the nation thus reaching into new areas and opening them up for development.

Industries would spring up everywhere. Growth and expansion would take place. Our population would be spread more evenly and the congestion in the cities could be broken up.

It would mean helping Americans to help America. It would mean building a new America, a greater America. Long have we needed truck freight lines separate from the regular passenger lines.

If this desire of the President's materializes, we will have a chance to see what billions spent on Americans at home can do. Barring all wars, it would bring the greatest period of prosperity this nation has ever known.

Driver Suggests Solution to Dixie Hwy. Accidents

I have read the letter which Mary L. Johnson wrote pertaining to the recent accident which took a youngster's life on the Dixie highway. I too, believe that our law enforcing officers have been too lax. If they would patrol the Dixie and ticket the drivers exceeding the speed limit it would help keep the accident rate down.

Must we continue to fear the Dixie? I'll go six blocks out of my way to by-pass it and I'm not the only driver who has made that same statement.

The following suggestions, I believe, would help solve the problem. 1. Have a left turn signal light at the Walton-Dixie intersection and do not permit a left turn from the Dixie at any other point in Drayton and Waterford. The signal I give reference to is similar to the one at Telegraph-Square Lake Roads. 2. More frequent patrol of police cars to ticket drivers exceeding a speed of 35 mph.

The Dixie is referred to as a "speedway." Let's dissolve this word, at least in Drayton and Waterford, before the next accident involves you.

Progress in Human Medicine Beneficial to All Mankind's Smaller Animals, Pets

Dr. Merrick says advances in human medicine have been spread to all those domestic animals and household pets with which mankind is surrounded. Thus, the dog's lifespan is increasing, just as is that of us human beings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-346: Dr. A. C. Merrick, aged about 52, is one of America's best known Veterinarians.

"Dr. Crane, there has been a big change in Veterinary Medicine in the last 30 years," he told.

"Why, 30 years ago when I was just out of school, there were only 5 or 6 hospitals for small animals in this country.

"Most of the Veterinarians seemed somewhat disdainful of small animals and concentrated chiefly on testing cattle or hogs, horses and other major farm animals.

"Now, however, there are about 5,000 hospitals for small animals, such as dogs, cats, birds, goldfish and other pets.

"And the manufacturing of dog food, cat food and bird food has reached mammoth proportions. Such concerns are now gigantic.

"Furthermore, age of the average dog in America has been lengthening in a close parallel to that of human longevity.

"For our modern medical drugs and emphasis on scientific feeding, have benefited not only mankind but all of his pets and domestic animals."

Dr. Merrick also informed me that there are more dogs in this country than human children in grammar school!

Dogs, as well as other pets, are often purchased to help socialize lonely "only" children.

For a puppy functions much as a baby brother or sister. It helps stimulate the youngster to run and romp.

But many childless couples likewise have dogs to furnish an outlet for the normal human craving to cuddle and care for some defenseless creature.

You are familiar with the typical spinster's cat. But many childless wives now cherish dogs as child substitutes.

Their hubands may protest irritably at so much attention to the canine pets. But those dogs often spell the difference between happy marriage and divorce.

For it is a normal female characteristic to want to feed and care for a small, cuddly creature.

If modern husbands deprive their wives of children, then the wives become frustrated and either become neurotic or else they develop an affair with some other man.

Or, and this is often a compromise result, they get themselves a dog or some cats, goldfish or other child substitutes.

And with the rapid rise in the dog population of our large cities, has come the need for proper medical care of these pets.

That's why the small-animal hospitals have zoomed from 5 to 5,000 in 30 years.

Many people spend literally hundreds of dollars in medical attention to a beloved pet. For these creatures become almost like a human member of the family.

Why, when our collie Wolfe died of old age, I interrupted a speaking tour so Mrs. Crane and I could take him by car the 150 miles to our farm home to bury him on the hill in our front lawn.

It was January and icy driving, but we wanted him placed amid his home surroundings.

We gave him a considerate funeral, two, and our two new dogs have never taken his place, for he was a distinctive personality, and had grown up with our 5 youngsters as a member of the family.

So doctors of Veterinary Medicine are spreading medical benefits to cattle and horses, sheep, chickens and hogs, as well as to man's most devoted animal friend, the dog.

David Lawrence Says:

France Loses U. S. Faith by Debacle in Indochina

WASHINGTON — Maybe the government and the French people will not realize for some time to come what they have truly lost by the debacle in Indo-China.

For one thing they have lost in America some of that wholehearted faith which has prompted the Congress to spend nearly a billion dollars a year to help the French hold out in Indo-China. They may have lost also a reliance by this country on the will of France to fight if the Communist invader marches across Europe.

In either case, it's a damaging blow to the prestige of France. For never before has the weakness of the French as an American ally been so dramatically demonstrated, and it cannot but hasten the "agonizing reappraisal" which America will be asked to make now in order to concentrate her money and her manpower on the defense of this country.

It is an open secret that American military men have grown increasingly skeptical about the wisdom of maintaining large American forces in Europe which could be faced with the necessity of an emergency evacuation if some future French Cabinet suddenly decided to appease the Communist aggressor, as has just been done with Indo-China.

For several months now the French government has dillydallied with the European Defense Community plan. It is well known that the principal opposition inside France to the continuance of the Laniel Cabinet was not its inability to liquidate the Indo-China war but its sponsorship of the EDC plan.

Now, with the Indo-China truce a matter of history, the question is whether the cabinet of Mendes-France will dare to go ahead with the ratification of the EDC agreement. The prospect is a doubtful one and, while not rejecting the EDC plan out of hand, an evasive maneuver may be begun to amend the plan. This could amount to the same thing as scuttling it.

The 100 Communists in the French Parliament, plus the left-wing groups there, are bitterly opposed to EDC and with the rising tide of Moscow's prestige—manifested dramatically by her domination of the Indo-China settlement—the real undercover campaign of the Soviet government now will be to try to kill EDC.

If this happens, a movement here to have American forces brought back home can be expected. This would be a tragic alternative because then the Communists would have a free hand in Europe, and West Germany would be sacrificed. There are French officials, therefore, who think that, no matter what they do about EDC, the United States will continue her economic and military aid to France. They may be guessing right on this, though at the same time it is apparent that the drive to get a "new look" on the military side will not be slowed down.

The main criticism of what has happened in Indo-China is coming from Air Force circles, where it is insisted that America is investing too much money on uncertain partners—countries where bases may be lost at any moment. This makes a case for intercontinental bombers and for a stepping up of Naval air power as well, so that America's defense against atomic attack will not be dependent on uncertain allies.

America has an important air base in Morocco. The Communists are fomenting more trouble there, as they are in Tunisia. The northern borders of Africa are infested with Communist saboteurs who are bent on stirring up friction.

The present cabinet in Paris is well aware of the danger of more revolutionary disturbances in Tunisia and Morocco and is inclined to adopt a conciliatory course and to try giving the nationalistic elements some important concessions. These probably will not satisfy them, or at least the Communist mischief-makers will see that they do not end the trouble.

It is ironical to go back now and read how ready some members of Congress were to condemn Secretary Dulles a few weeks ago as responsible for what was happening in Geneva. It is now apparent that the French and British were pulling out. He was well aware that the French planned to scuttle Indo-China. As it turns out, Mr. Dulles was wisely striving to disassociate America from the appeasement plot. He has managed to keep America's moral position free. Hence the United States is in a strong position now to question the good faith of the Communists, who have been claiming they were interested in the fulfillment of the aspirations of the people of the Indo-China states for full independence. Those people now will get the Communist kind of "independence" so well known to the enslaved populations of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Dr. Brady's Fool Proof Heart Tonic May Not Help, Certainly Will Not Harm

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Indiana reader sent for Little Lesson 2, CVD, about heart and artery troubles, two months ago.

Her husband has been taking the fool proof heart tonic I recommended therein, and he is so much improved that she had to tell me how thankful she and her husband feel.

The fool proof heart tonic is a combination of the main B-complex vitamins with iron and manganese, in liquid or tablet form, and when I say heart tonic I mean that it improves the functional efficiency of the heart — which in my opinion is the purpose of a tonic.

By fool proof I mean that no matter what kind of heart trouble you have, indeed, no matter whether you have heart trouble or not, this tonic can do no harm.

For a copy of the CVD booklet send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

And please, thoughtless ones, remember that in handling a great volume of mail we can't take time out to search through the waste baskets when an unsigned request, or a clipping without address or an envelope addressed "City" turns up here.

North Dakota lady says her mother dieted for many years to reduce her weight and finally developed beri beri.

The woman herself has done a lot of the same idiotic (the adjective, as you may suspect, is mine) dieting, for what purpose she doesn't indicate, perhaps because all the others do it, at least in their conversation.

She takes a slice of bread and butter and a cup of coffee to sustain her till noon. If that means white bread the poor soul could hardly choose a better way to cultivate beri beri.

A good many poor souls here in the land of plenty, where the scale of living, about which we boast so much, is actually no higher than the general IQ, worry along with just such an inadequate breakfast as this North Dakota reader describes.

Then they resort to aspirin, barbiturate, acetanilid and other dope to benumb or dull their consciousness of great weakness.

The first glaring fault with the bread and coffee or toast and tea or roll and cocoa breakfast is lack of fresh fruit or freshly expressed fruit juice.

The second serious fault with it is lack of vitamin B complex, that is, if the bread is made of refined white flour.

To correct this shortcoming of the diet, which is largely responsible for the national malnutrition, it would be well to restore plain wheat to the diet, in place of refined white flour, for wheat, not refined white flour, is the staff of life, the best food source of vitamin B complex.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Cornell Professor Debunks New Milk

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Dr. L. A. Maynard, professor of biochemistry at Cornell University, says the addition of vitamins to milk tends to obscure its basic values.

"This country's food supplies already offer more than enough of the nutrients to keep our population healthy," he said.

He added that since most people who suffer from deficiencies in vitamins are in the low-income bracket, the higher cost of fortified milk "might lead to their consuming less of it."

He also criticized processors who want to add vitamins to their milk because they think it will increase their market, inasmuch as the public is now very "vitamin-conscious."

Court Order Misleads, Makes Everyone Stand

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Bailiff George Elder is going to talk in whispers from now on when he has something to say to court reporter Stan Chavez.

Elder, who calls the court to order as the judge enters the room, was miffed because Chavez had not arrived at his desk.

"Stan!" he shouted to the clerk who was busy across the room. Everyone in the courtroom stood up, thinking the judge had entered. Elder made like things were in order, finally sighed in relief when hizzoner walked in.

Elder called the court to order.

Office Has Dairy Bar

ST. PAUL (UP) — Gov. C. Elmer Anderson has a milk dispenser in his office as a boost to the state's dairy industry.

U.S. Spends Billions on Indochina War

PARIS (UP) — The Indochina war cost France, the United States and the associated states a total o of 2,853,300,000,000 francs ($8,152,000,000) according to official French figures.

American aid, as counted by the French, amounted to $2,997,000,000. Official U. S. figures on aid actually allocated were slightly lower since they ran only through fiscal 1954, or to July 1. According to the U.S. embassy, the total was $2,635,000,000 — $1,285,000,000 in financial aid earmarked for Indochina and $1,350,000,000 in military end-item assistance.

Cost to France alone was 1,669,800,000,000 francs $4,771,000,000.

Mammoth New Prawn Discovered in Chile

ROME (UP) — A giant new prawn has been dredged up near Santiago, Chile. The Food Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, with headquarteds in Rome, says it's succulent and mysterious.

An FAO biologists recommended that fisherman try some deep trawling along the edge of Chile's continental shelf.

Some of the fishermen made hauls of half a ton of the new species. The new prawns have not been named, a fact which is causing practically no concern in Chile. Fishermen continue to haul them up, the markets are buying them at high prices and local prawn patrons are eating them with relish.

Only about one-half of the U. S. area believed to contain oil has been explored for it.

Plan DeLuxe Resort on Atlantic Coast

BOGUE, N. C. (UP) — A new exclusive resort isle may be developed soon along the Atlantic coast.

This remote western half of Bogue Island has been bought by seven businessmen for an estimated $350,000. Plans are to develop the 4,000-acre tract of beaches and rename it Emerald Island by the Sea.

This was envisioned three decades ago by the late Henry K. Fort of Philadelphia who bought the property. Fort's plans fell through because of the depression of 1929. The property was bought early this year from Fort's daughter, Mrs. Anita Fort Maulick.

The buyers indicated they plan to build a bridge connecting the island with the mainland across Bogue Sound.

Bogue Island has some of the very few Atlantic coast beaches which run east and west, facing south into the ocean.

Rural Milk Cans Bow From Scene

ITHACA N. Y. (UP) — The milk can, long a familiar sight at country crossroads, is being pushed out of the farm secne by stainless steel tanks.

The tanks can be refrigerated, and milk is pumped from them directly into trucks, making less work for the farmer and cleaner handling of the product.

Prof. R. P. March, of the Cornell University dairy industry department, said the new system is basically sound and he predicted a bright future for the tanks. There are upwards of 8,000 such installations in the country and more than 300 in New York state, he added.

"The tanks will pay for themselves, with the saving in labor in handling the 110-pound, 40-quart cans, and in waste of fluid," he pointed out. "Even milk quality can be improved through use of tanks."

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Edward Regula demanded that the City Democratic administration pay for damage to his sidewalk. Regula said the damage was done by the Democrats going to a nearby school to vote in a primary.

Modern Method Cures Building Blocks Faster

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — A new "pressure cooker" method introduced by Anchor Concrete Products Inc. cut the time for curing building blocks to 12 hours from a matter of months under older methods.

The new method is called the "autoclave process." Blocks are cured in a 10-foot-diameter cylinder 90 feet long and weighing 60 tons. When removed, they are ready for immediate delivery.

President Frederick W. Reinghold pointed out that under the previous method, the blocks were placed in kilns for 24 hours and then put in yards to cure for a month or more.

More material is handled in mining coal each year in the United States than was moved in the construction of the Panama Canal.

"RAISED" ROOF TUMBLES—The 600,000-pound concrete roof of the new Sierra High School in San Mateo, Calif., is shown being hoisted into position by powerful jacks mounted on supporting poles. To save time, the slab was poured on the ground and lifted into place. Moments later, the roof swayed and crashed to the ground injuring seven workers. Officials drill through 10-inch slab, bottom, to make sure no one is trapped beneath it.

Bob Considine Says:

Boeing's 707 Jet Airliner Overcomes British Lead

NEW YORK (INS — The successful test of Boeing's prototype of America's first jet airliner, and the continued grounding of Britain's Comet, would seem to indicate that this country has now overcome the lead which the British held in the jet world for ten years.

It will not be a clear - cut leadership until more of Boeing's 707s are in the air. Indeed Capital Airlines has placed an order for a fleet of British prop - jet airliners to replace the Connies, DC4s and DC3s now used. They are faster than conventional propeller driven planes and thus, though more expensive to operate, can give more service.

But the race against the Comet, a pure jet, apparently has been won. Boeing's four-jet 707 is twice as powerful as the Comet I, cruises 60 m.p.h. faster (550 m.p.h.) has a much longer range and can carry up to 130 passengers as compared to the Comet I's 38.

Looks as if we're ahead in the military field, too, now that the RAF has grounded its scimitar-wing bomber and one of the two interceptors on which it banked heavily.

Boeing put the engines of the 707 in pods extending down (and out in front) of the thin, swept-back wing. The British put their jet engines inside the wing. If something flies loose in a 707 jet it will snip off a bit of the outthrust engine covering. If something flies loose in a Comet engine there is some likelihood that the wing will go, though I must say I never had a better or smoother ride in the air than in a Comet.

The Boeing method, first introduced in the B47 and continued in the B52, has another advantage. Service crews don't have to skin a wing to work on the engines.

Incidentally, Boeing engineers were treated with royal cooperation when they toured the British jet industry last year. But when a prominent British jet authority returned the visit, on invitation, the Pentagon instructed Boeing, "show him nothing."

Just think, there isn't any organized war going on in the world! The close-down of the conflict in Indochina, after shooting that began in December 1946, gave the battered and bruised old earth its first respite in the lifetime of millions of its growing inhabitants.

Gives one an almost uneasy feeling, not to have a war going on. From 1931 until Tuesday night the big guns were never really silent.

The winner of the last one? The Reds, all the way.

Maybe the tools of war are getting too impressive. To Wit: (From "Air Force," the magazine of American airpower) "an F86 Saber jet, will soon be able to carry the equivalent of 500,000 tons of TNT beneath its wing. The megaton fighter, carrying the equal of a million tons of TNT, is now becoming a distinct possibility. Even a baby H-bomb can be expected."

Woman Works With Truckers

Red-Head Dispatcher Daily Moves About 365 Rooms of Furniture

NEW YORK (UP) — You can't tell a woman's occupation by her looks any more than you can tell a book by its cover.

Janne Mullen, a small red-haired and thoroughly feminine woman is proof of that.

Her career is in the robust, male-dominated world of the moving business. She has moved everything from airports and whole communities, including the buildings, to priceless antique glassware.

She's known as a dispatcher, and says he is the first woman and still one of the only two women ever to handle such a job. Miss Mullen, in her 50's, controls routes for 187 trucks involved in interstate commerce from North Carolina to Canada, from the Atlantic coastline to Ohio.

She estimates the space and tonnage required for cargoes scattered in her territory, and juggles them into some section of her 90,000 cubic feet of mobile truck space. Every day, she moves the equivalent of 355 rooms crammed full of furniture or other cargo.

"It's like playing a mass game of chess," she said.

For she also must route drivers on their pick-up and delivery runs. If a truck breaks down on a lonely road, Miss Mullen sees that it is repaired. If there's a family emergency and a driver's wife wants to get in touch with her husband, a call to Miss Mullen will establish contact.

Miss Mullen's tools are telephone, telegraph, order forms, and exceptional knowledge of the territory. Trucks, drivers, loads and loading areas are recorded in a swivel card file book on her desk. Different colored cards mean different things to her.

Twenty-five years ago, Miss Mullin, a native of Philadelphia, left her job as an assistant chief telephone operator to take a temporary one as dispatcher in the then newly founded Allied Van Lines' Philadelphia office. Now she is the company's oldest employe in length of service.

Tough Gang Leader, 12, Won't Squeal on His Boys

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Mexican police have arrested the leader of a widely sought gang of robbers. He's 12 years old.

The boy, Carlos Vizuet Reyes, confessed to leading a ring which has been burglarizing jewels and other valuable articles from homes, police said.

The young gangster refused to name his accomplices, saying, "I am the leader and I will not squeal on them."

Air Force Crewmen Evacuate Indochina

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Air Force technicians sent to Indochina to help service planes used by French Union forces are out of Indochina and back at their home bases, the Air Force said tonight.

The first group of technicians was flown to Indochina last February to maintain U.S.-built B26 bombers and C47 cargo planes.

The only U.S. airmen still in Indochina are crews and support personnel for Giant C119 Flying Boxcars of the Far East Air Forces Cargo Command, the Air Force said.

Thirsty Plane 'Drops In' for Informal Fill-Up

DALLAS (AP)—A customer really dropped in on a Dallas filling station yesterday.

Woody Taylor was startled to see a small plane swoop over his station several times, then land on the roadway. The pilot taxied up to the station and asked for five gallons of gasoline, said he was running low after a crop dusting job. He asked directions to an airport and flew away.

Wedding Bells Stolen by Some Good People

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The wedding chimes disappeared from the Church of the Immaculate Conception and it was assumed that somebody had stolen them.

Police were notified by the Rev. Victor Bazzanella and a search was started.

But the priest himself solved the mystery a few hours later.

He said he was informed his own parishioners had the chimes taken out for repairs and had forgotten to tell him.

71 Chicks on Menu for Raccoon Nancy

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP)—Nancy a pet raccoon really hated to eat and run — but that's the way it had to be.

Clarence Cowgill told sheriff's deputies he spotted Nancy making a bee-line from his chicken coop without stopping to apologize for breakfasting on 71 of his 2-month-old chicks.

Nancy rushed down the road to her home with the Earle Blanchans. But instead of going to her pen, she apparently thought the attic would be a safer place for a chicken-stuffed raccoon.

In trying to get her down, deputies awoke 13-year-old Alice Brock who said: "I could have gotten Nancy down if you hadn't scared her. She's afraid of strangers."

Nancy was put back in her pen.

Companion Found Alive in Gas-Filled Apartment in New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—The family of 19-year-old Helene Jacobs kept a vigil today as the shapely brunette remained unconscious following a mystery suicide pact with another girl.

Her companion, Madeline Jean Sommer, also 19 and a beautiful blonde, was found dead yesterday in the East Side art gallery-apartment where the girls turned on gas after a night of wine drinking.

Both girls, clad only in scanty night clothes, left farewell notes.

Miss Jacobs still groaned when the building superintendent broke into the apartment. She was taken to Roosevelt Hospital where her condition apeared improving.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobs of Chicago, and an uncle, Philip Goodman, flew to New York late in the day after police notified them.

Two days ago the missing persons bureau here had been alerted to look for Madeline, who was described as having had "suicidal tendencies."

Mrs. Irene Sommer, heer widowed mother; Miss Judy Sommer, a sister, and another relative, Frank J. Vagish, of Scarsdale, N.Y., were questioned by police.

Madeline did not explain why she wanted to kill herself. All she left was a terse note asking that her mother be notified.

Helene, however, left a lengthy letter, which said in part:

"Today I die. Not as casually as I should, but then I've always been spasmodically violent anyway. I died simply enough because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years. Be as kind to yourselves as you have ever been to me and be as kind to yourselves as I have been cruel. Love Mark and listen to him."

Mrs. Jacobs, who was given the note, explained tearfully that "Mark" was the girl's brother, who was in Chicago and "all right."

Insomnia No Problem for Wisconsin Family

PRAIRIE du CHIEN, Wis. (UP)—The Frank Scheibel family has no trouble with insomnia.

A car crashed into the front porch of the Scheibel home recently, smashing a hole in the wall of the living room. Later a tow truck removed the wreckage of the auto.

Police say the Scheibels slept through the commotion, and were unaware of the accident, until they were notified by investigating officers.

Wounded Vets Need Stamps for Collections

SAN DIEGO (UP) — Recovery of veterans wounded in Korea is being speeded here by the "hobby of kings" — stamp collecting.

Military doctors place stamp-collecting high on the list of occupational therapy activities which take wounded men's minds off their troubles and speed their recovery, officials say.

A stamp club at the U. S. Naval Hospital here is spearheaded by a retired college professor, J. L. Zerbe, FRPS, who devotes all of his spare time to working with wounded veteran collectors.

The club depends to a great extent on stamps sent in by the public, but, since peace has come in Korea, public contributions of stamps and materials have fallen off greatly, Zerbe said.

"War may be over but the wounded still are with us," he added. "We need good, collectable stamps now more than ever. We cannot use any common ones, two or three-cent stamps, such as come on ordinary mail, but any good foreign material or United States commemoratives are more than welcome."

The Red Cross provides albums for the men and the club meets once weekly in the hospital. The club's address is: San Diego Naval Hospital Stamp Club, Building 7, U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego 34, Calif.

The Caine Mutiny

Copyright

Synopsis: Willie is in the Navy, the decoding officer on board a filthy, dirty, old, converted ship, a minesweeper called the Caine. He is a college man, and he left a girl behind him in New York, named Mae Wynn. He is uncertain of his feelings toward her, for her standards don't quite measure up to his. Capt. Queeg is the commanding officer on the Caine and most of the men dislike him, feel that he is incompetent. He does such queer things, such as planning to search each man on ship to find keys, and make a test to determine who stole the strawberries. Mr. Maryk, his first officer, reads Navy Regulations late into the night, and finds that under certain circumstances, a subordinate can take over command of the ship.

CHAPTER 20

By seven o'clock that morning Willie Keith had interviewed all the men in his department. On his bunk was a large cardboard carton which contained a tangle of some four hundred tagged keys.

He hefted the box, wobbled through the wardroom with it, backed up the rolling ladder to the main deck, and inched along the rainy, slippery passageway to the captain's cabin. He kicked at the door; it rang hollowly. "Open, please, sir. Both arms full."

There were four people in the room: the captain, Ensign Voles, Jellybelly, the yeoman, and Chief Bellison.

The captain's bunk was a sea of keys — there seemed to be a hundred thousand of them, brass keys, steel keys, iron keys, of all shapes, tangled and knotted in each other and in the cords of the white tags.

The deck was piled with cardboard cartons. Jellybelly and Bellison were clinking the keys into two separate heaps. Ensign Voles was passing the keys from the smaller heap one by one to the captain.

Queeg, sitting at his desk, white-faced and red-eyed, but full of enthusiasm, plunged the keys one by one into the padlock, tried to turn them, and discarded them into a box between his feet.

He glanced up at Willie, snapped, "Don't stand there gawking, dump 'em and run along," and resumed the regular smothered clank of key into lock, key into lock, key into lock. The air was fetid and smoky. Willie dumped his keys on the captain's bed and hastened from the room.

It was still raining next morning when the Caine entered Apra Harbor in Guam, and the craggy hills of the island were misty gray. The ship tied up at a mooring buoy, alongside a new 2200-ton destroyer, the Harte.

As soon as the lines were secured, Queeg ordered armed guards posted every twenty feet along the port side, to prevent anybody from passing the key across to some friend on the destroyer.

He also sent Jorgensen over to the Harte, requesting the chief censor to notify the Caine's captain if any keys appeared in the mail on the Harte.

The censor, a skinny lieutenant with black-rimmed hollow eyes, looked at Jorgensen as though he suspected him of being insane, and made him repeat the request twice. Then he reluctantly nodded.

That evening the Captain called a meeting in the wardroom. When Willie came in the room was crowded with officers, chiefs, and first-class petty officers ranged around the table, most of them standing.

Queeg, at the head, was rolling the balls, smoking, and silently studying several red crayon diagrams spread before him on the table. He began to outline his search plan.

He had worked up a scheme for herding the men topside, stripping and searching them by groups, and returning them below to spaces that had meantime been searched.

The point of the arrangement was that at no time could the missing key be moved from an unsearched to a searched space; and in this respect, Willie perceived, the plan was ingenious and effective.

He felt a little sorry for Queeg. The captain was transformed with pleasant excitement; he seemed genuinely happy for the first time in many months.

When the meeting was adjourned Maryk said, "Bear a hand, Willie. What's your assignment?"

"Personal searches aft. Ch—, in this weather, too — well —"

"The new ensigns Farrington and Voles aren't assigned. Pick one of them up to help you if you want —"

Willie made his way aft. The rocking, pitching main deck was all confusion. Sailors in dripping rain gear or soaked dungarees milled on the well deck around Harding and Paynter.

Two men stood naked, strangely pink and white in the drab crowd, their faces expressing embarrassment, defiance, and amused scorn. The officers fumbled through their clothes. The guards spaced along the starboard side slouched, leaning on their rifles, and joked with the other sailors.

"Farrington," Willie called, crossing the well deck, "You come along with me. You'll assist me."

"Aye aye, sir," the ensign said, and fell into step behind Willie. Walking down the port passageway, the lieutenant observed over his shoulder, "This strikes you as queer business, no doubt."

"Well, Mr. Keith, I was feeling outside of things, and pretty useless. I'm glad of a chance to help

Willie couldn't see his face, but the tone of sober deference was unmistakable. It was the tone in which Willie had addressed Lt. Maryk and Lt. Gordon fifteen months ago, when they had seemed to him infinitely senior, battle-wise men of the sea.

For an instant he was flattered; and he reflected that the Caine itself was perhaps so bewildering and odd to Farrington that the search scarcely surprised him, after all. It was becoming hard for Willie to picture the effect of the Caine on newcomers, and to reconstruct the emotions of fresh ensigns.

They emerged from the passageway into another crowd of wet, sullen sailors, drifting here and there in the rain. Willie herded the men into places of shelter, and organized an alphabetical sequence for the stripping.

The men came in pairs into the shower room to take off their clothes. Farrington went to work systematically and unsmilingly, helping Willie rummage through the dank garments. Willie had the grateful feeling that another officer had at last come aboard the Caine.

One of the first men to be stripped was Meatball. Naked, hairy, and squat, he stood grinning, while Willie felt through the dungarees and in the shoes, wrinkling his nose at the powerful animal smell. He handed them back hastily. "Okay, Meatball, get dressed."

"Aye aye, sir," said the coxswain. The process of stripping the sailors rasped Willie's nerves; it seemed to him an almost German rape of their personal rights; and the fact that they were submitting so tamely was an indication of the way the Queeg regime had weakened the crew's spirit. Their only remonstrance was obscene and impudent joking.

The head of Queeg polked around the doorway into the shower room. "Well, well, well. Everything getting under way nicely?"

"Yes, sir," said Willie.

"Fine, fine. Put Farrington to work, hey? Fine, fine." The head grinned, and nodded, and disappeared.

"Who's got a cigarette?" said Willie, a little shakily.

Red Paper Calls for New Talks

Korean Negotiations, Red China U. N. Seat Are Listed

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda called today for new Korean negotiations and U.N. membership for Communist China as a follow-up to the Geneva agreement on Indochina.

The Soviet Communist party organ hailed the Indochina settlement as a great Communist victory and declared that Geneva had exposed the "bankruptcy" of American foreign policy.

The paper said in a three-column front-page editorial that "the U.S. delegation prevented" a peaceful solution in the earlier Geneva talks on reuniting Korea but public opinion "demands the governments concerned continue their efforts to revive the discussion."

As a result of Geneva, Pravda said, "it is now clear to all how bankrupt are attempts by American diplomacy to prevent the Chinese people from entering the international arena and taking the place due them among the great powers."

"The peoples demand that China should take its lawful place in the United Nations," the paper declared, "and it will take it however much certain thick-skulled material interest to Chiang Kai-shek, fight against it. If this does not take place, the United Nations will be unable to fulfill the tasks assigned it by its charter."

Holland Lady Loses Weight Praises Tonic In Rennel

"Rennel Concentrate to me is a health promoter," writes Mrs. C. W. Starr, 141 Coolidge Ave. "I am 52 years old and weigh 120 lbs. In the past I have reduced at least three lbs. per week with Rennel, but at present I am using it as a health builder. I am recuperating from major surgery and on arriving home from the hospital had to take enemas every day. It sure was a relief to start taking Rennel again. It insures good elimination and gives me a satisfied feeling of well being. I keep my weight under control eating quite normally, less on sweets and starches. I take Rennel after meals, in fact it takes the place of dessert with me. I eat what I like, only less of it, and am never hungry after taking Rennel."

Just another satisfied user of Rennel Concentrate who has made it do for her what she wanted it to do. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.40.

City Plans $3,500,000 Park Expansion Program

Press Cameras Record Action at Hospital Fire

Pontiac Press Photos

GETTING WATER—Tank trucks from two of the seven fire departments that fought Wednesday's fire at the Bloomfield Hospital are shown getting water from a nearby pond. Firemen battled the flames for more than an hour before bringing them under control.

DAMAGED SECTION—Shown above is part of the estimated $80,000 damage caused by the fire, which authorities believe was started by a workman who was burning paint off the hospital with a blow torch. Damage was confined to the upper portion of the 2½-story building. Quick action on the part of hospital attendants led to the rescue of all patients without fatality.

PATIENTS HELPED OUT—In the top photo, an elderly patient is lifted into an ambulance for transfer to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where nine were taken. One was taken to Pontiac General. The remaining patients were taken to two nearby houses. In the bottom picture, attendants place one of the patients on the lawn of the flaming hospital. Most of the sick were carried out in their beds.

FIRE TRUCK IN ACTION—One of the host of fire trucks which answered the alarm is shown pumping water into the flaming building. About 45 firemen joined forces to combat the blaze.

Need Donations for Realization

Project Would Develop 13 Present, Proposed Recreation Centers

A ten-year, $3,500,000 public park expansion program for Pontiac was outlined yesterday by City Parks and Recreation Department Director David R. Ewalt who said the plan could only be realized through generous endowments from industry and private individuals.

City park atendance is up 60 per cent over last year, said Ewalt, with parks crammed full of recreation seekers every weekend and holiday this summer.

Speeking at a Pontiac Kiwanis Club luncheon at Hotel Waldron, Ewalt presented a plan for developing 13 present and proposed recreation centers in Pontiac.

"The plan is designed to meet demand," he explained, "people are starting to use parks for fun near home at low cost rather than traveling miles through heavy traffic to reach a recreation area.

"If our facilities aren't developed in line with demand we'll soon be turning people away.

"Only a small portion of the necessary funds can come from tax money. Industry and private individuals must provide the bulk of funds as memorials and good-will gestures."

He cited the example of Muskegon, which, he said, has spent $3,500,000 in the last six years for recreational facilities with most of the cash coming from private sources.

In Kalamazoo, the recreation director stated, parks have been donated by local industry, while in Flint the Mott Foundation has provided funds.

"We must have funds to build and equip facilities and then maintain them," he explained.

Many of the parks here would be developed in cooperation with the Board of Education and on school-owned land, the director stated.

Ewalt's expansion proposals included:

1. A park on land surrounding the Hawthorne School at 1400 N. Telegraph Rd. to include an outdoor swimming pool, picnic grounds, a playground and other athletic facilities.

2. Completion of the park being laid at the Milkim School at 1425 Joslyn Rd. including baseball and softball diamonds, a picnic area and playground.

3. A park at Washington Junior High School at 710 Menominee Rd. to include picnic and playgrounds, shuffleboard and horseshoe courts.

4. More picnic and parking space at Murphy Park plus constructing an outdoor amphitheater and swimming pool.

5. New tennis courts, picnic grounds, shuffleboard courts and comfort station at Oakland Park.

6. Dividing Aaron Perry Park into an athletic area and a beauty spot for rest and relaxation. The area bounded by Edison, Saginaw and Montcalm Sts. would be developed for archery, bicycle riding, baseball, tennis plus constructing an outdoor swimming pool and an artificial ice rink.

The section bounded by Edison, Marquette and Rundell would be landscaped to provide a place where persons could read and enjoy a relaxed atmosphere.

7. Picnic and play grounds plus a fishing pier would be installed at Terry and Osmun Lakes between Kennett road and Oakland avenue.

8. The baseball diamond would be lighted at Wisner Field in cooperation with the Board of Education.

9. Pontiac Municipal Golf Course would be fenced, a new watering system installed and a service building constructed.

10. At Oriole Field a small recreation building and comfort station would be erected plus the addition of shuffleboard and horseshoe courts and other facilities.

11. Beaudette Park would be the site of a third outdoor swimming pool, a new comfort station, new roads and other expansion.

12. New picnic facilities would be added at Indian Village Park plus childrens' swings.

13. At Wilson Park picnic and playground areas would be added plus constructing a fishing pier and boat dock.

Ewalt explained that his proposals included no indoor facilities because they are adequate at present and should expand with the school building program.

"The proposed Civic Auditorium sponsored by the Pontiac Foundation would make an ideal meeting place for groups involved in the recreation program," he added.

Dems Seen Supporting McNamara

LANSING (AP) — In the sad wake of Blair Moody's death, Michigan Democrats scrambled today to put together their shattered hopes of defeating U.S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) at the November polls.

While the politicians speculated, the state and Moody's friends went ahead with plans for a solemn official funeral.

Blair Moody's body will lie in state at the Detroit City Hall from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday. Funeral service will be held at the Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit at 11 a.m. Friday.

Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery. The Michigan National Guard will provide a guard of honor.

Most party leaders said privately the Democrats will stand or fall with the only other member of their party in the senatorial primary: Patrick V. McNamara of Detroit, an officer of the AFL Steamfitters' Union, member of the Detroit School Board and former Detroit City councilman.

But still there was a no public statement from the men who could summon the stunned party to McNamara's side: Gov. Williams and Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman.

Staebler remained unavailable and Williams failed to return on schedule from a fishing trip to Beaver Island in mid-Lake Michigan.

The other leaders really looked to Williams to scotch a proposal that the Democratic State Central Committee choose a "sticker" candidate to substitute for Moody on the Aug. 3 primary ballot.

The party recalled that McNamara had attacked Staebler for allegedly showing a preference for Moody in the primary race. Traditionally, party leaders keep their hands out of primary contests.

Williams' aides said that McNa- known preference for Moody in the senatorial race. They said Williams and McNamara breakfasted together within the past few weeks.

Re-assessing McNamara's potential in the light of Moody's death, Democratic strategists recalled that he had been a loyal and working Democrat for many years, that he was a labor union officer, and that he was an able campaigner.

They did not discount, however, reports that at least a splinter of the party was determined to find a replacement for Moody—and not McNamara.

Some Detroit Democrats, almost irretrievably committed to Moody, reportedly found it hard to switch suddenly to McNamara and booned the "sticker" replacement plan.

Under this proposal, the central committee would select an official substitute, whose name would be pasted over Moody's on the already-printed ballots.

However, Albert B. Fitt, the governor's legal adviser, said he did not think that was legally possible.

Conceding he was giving an informal opinion only, Fitt said he thought the state law permitting "sticker" substitutes was intended for use only when death removed a political party's only primary candidate for an office.

Fitt said there have been no court decisions on the point and he conceded the law was confused.

Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, said the 1954 election law revision, which takes effect next year, specifies that the "sticker" replacement may be chosen only if no other party candidate is left on the ballot. He said the present law is not so limited.

Some Republicans speculated on the thought that Moody might win the nomination posthumously, such as occasionally has happened in local elections. They speculated that Moody's death might be unknown to many voters, or that anti-McNamara Democrats might use that method of rejecting him.

In this case, it is agreed, the central committee can pick a nominee to represent the party on the general election ballot.

This talk was not taken seriously at the capitol.

Victorious Mendes-France Returns to Paris Smiling

PARIS (AP) — Smiling and looking relaxed, Premier Pierre Mendes-France returned home from Geneva today to present to the French Assembly the Indochina cease-fire he promised a month ago to win from the Communists.

His DC3 military plane touched down at Villa Coublay Airport and a few minutes later Mendes-France stepped out jauntily to greet about 150 persons, including members of his cabinet, his family and a corps of newsmen and photographers crowded about the ramp.

The Premier first kissed his attractive wife, then moved on to greet other members of his family and Finance Minister Edgar Faure acting Premier during his weeks of bargaining with the Communists at Geneva.

Mendes-France made no statement before pushing through the crowd to his car and heading for a Cabinet meeting.

The group about the plane had applauded politely as he stepped down but there was no other demonstration.

Leaving Geneva earlier today, Mendes-France said he believed the results of the conference were "worth the efforts we had made."

"I have read," he said, "that yesterday was the first day of total peace in the world in many years."

Governor to Attend Dem Meeting Here

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will attend the monthly meeting of Pontiac's Democratic Club Sunday in Fisher Body Local 596 Hall at 821 Baldwin Ave., according to president Norman Bolton.

Bolton said the meeting will start at 2 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. Plans for the group's annual picnic, Labor Day parade participation and membership drive will be discussed, Bolton said.

Publicity Chairman Mrs. George Hicks said refreshments will be served and urges a large turnout.

Special Court-Martial Will Try Officers for Forcing Trainees to Stand in Heat

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—Lt. Robert S. Morgan of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., goes on trial by a special court-martial today on a charge of forcing a company of trainees to stand at attention in 90-degree heat. The charges against Morgan, 28, and a sergeant followed an Army investigation into the June 21 incident.

As soon as Morgan's case is concluded, a new panel will sit to consider the charges against Sgt. Richard J. Witbeck, 24, of Wellington, Ohio.

Both have been accused of taking mass disciplinary action against Co. L of the 272nd Infantry Regiment. Several of the trainees were said to have fainted.

Morgan and Witbeck were relieved of their duties after the incident.

A special five-man court-martial board, headed by Lt. Col. Lawrence E. Johnson, will hear Morgan's case.

Capt. Harry Lapham, post public information officer, said Morgan would be tried on negligence charges, and Witbeck for allegedly maltreating personnel.

After Morgan's case is finished, five men will be picked from an entire new panel of 11 members to hear Witbeck's case.

The order for court-martial proceedings against Morgan and Witbeck came from Col. Earl R. Ringler, commanding officer of the regiment.

Ringler is the officer who Roy M. Cohn said he would never forget for the way he treated Pvt. G. David Schine. Ringler's name cropped up in the recent Army-McCarthy hearings in Washington in connection with Schine, who had been an aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis). He was Schine's commanding officer.

Dr. Small Petitions for Sanity Hearing

ALLEGAN (UP) — A petition seeking a sanity commission hearing for Dr. Kenneth B. Small was filed in Allegan County Circuit Court yesterday. But it may take at least a week before a ruling is obtained.

Leo W. Hoffman, attorney for the handsome Detroit society dentist, directed the petition to Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith.

However, the judge, who presided at the dentist's murder trial, is now vacationing and is not expected to return for at least a week.

The petition fololwed the jury dict ast week that Dr. Small, 31, was innocent by reason of insanity in the fatal shooting of his wife's suitor, Jules M. Lack, 45-year-old New York business man.

Allegan County Prosecutor Dwight M. Cheever said he would fight the petition. He said it was his belief that Dr. Small should be committed to a mental hospital for psychiatric examination.

U.S. Taxpayer's Dollars Are Rehabilitating Korea

By ROBERT EUNSON
(Second in Series)

SEOUL (AP) — Despite Korean criticism, the Americans responsible for overseeing aid to Korea in the last year say the taxpayer at home can take pride in the job his dollars have done.

The fighting halted a year ago next Tuesday. Since then United States and United Nations aid have cost 700 million dollars. Plans are to spend a billion more for civilian aid during the next three or four years and at least 250 million dollars a year for military aid so long as there is a threat of war in the Far East.

Here are a few samples of what has been done:

In the past 12 months, 175 freighters, each carrying 10,000 tons of food, clothing and other supplies, docked at Korean ports.

Doctors and nurses operating 96 hospitals and 569 dispensaries under the supervision of the Army's Korea Civil Assistance Command have been treating an average of 850,000 out-patients per month.

These dispensaries have inoculated practically the whole Korean population, and contagious disease has just about been eliminated.

American bombs and shells as well as Communist explosives knocked out about three fourths of the factories in South Korea, as well as crippling the electric and steam generated power systems to run them. Since the dismal days of 1950-1951 the average monthly power output has increased from 10-15 million kilowatt hours to 70 millions. Contracts were signed last month to spend 30 million dollars for three large steam plants which will double this output by 1956.

Milk cow and swine totals have nearly doubled since 1950. Grain production has increased six and seven times. Transportation and communications are being restored as rapidly as possible.

C. Tyler Wood came to Korea last August to head FOA and coordinate the other programs. He had authority to spend 50 millions immediately. Meanwhile, the Eisenhower administration was getting a billion dollars earmarked for Korea relief, to be spread over three to five years.

"Achievements are evident," says Wood. "You can walk down the streets and see there is no sign of starvation. Neither is there any lack of clothing. There have been no epidemics. Inflation has been retarded by pumping in an adequate supply of consumer goods and raw materials."

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs says:

"Eventually we may be able to put Korea on her feet economically, but for the rest of our lives we probably will have to help Korea support her army. Remember, however, that this is a country which hates communism and wants to halt its spread in Asia. We should consider ourselves fortunate in having such a friend with the manpower to form a 20-division army. Think how much it would cost to support that many American divisions in Korea."

Korean critics of the aid program agree there is a surplus of rice and barley this year because of the import of fertilizer; farmers are being resettled everywhere and most of the schools in South Korea have reopened.

But they still want to see factories built and operated by Korean workers.

Perfect Corn Bread Sought in Tests

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP) — Hybrids are the rule with sweet corn growers, with mid-season and main season varieties favored over early and late types.

Dr. Donald W. Barton, in reviewing tests at the Cornell University Experiment Station here, said sweet corn breeders are trying to combine in one hybrid the characteristics most wanted by growers, processors and consumers.

Seneca Arrow and Tendergold are mid-season types rated well for processing. They mature a week to 10 days ahead of Golden Cross.

For deeper, narrower kernels, breeders have developed Tendermost and Iochief. They produce heavy yields of cut corn, but their quality is not as good as that of Golden Cross.

Seneca Chief is proving popular and produces good-quality corn over a long period. It is also a heavy yielder in terms of number of ears. Victory Golden is a late main season variety which yields heavily and cuts well. It resembles Golden Cross in type of kernel, but the ears average heavier and are easier to harvest.

Leg of Lamb Leads List of Top Weekend Bargains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'll find a wide variety of featured meats in your local stores this weekend, a survey of food markets across the nation indicates.

Leg of lamb will be a favorite. But you may find your market offering lower prices on small turkeys, smoked hams, steaks, prime ribs, chuck roast and chickens.

Stores featuring leg of lamb will trim prices by as much as eight cents a pound. On other items, reductions of four to six cents a pound will be the rule.

Meat men say you may see some price reductions on pork by the end of this week or early next. That meat has been dropping at wholesale, and some stores are planning to pass on the savings shortly. Some cuts of beef are off at wholesale.

For cool, tasty summer eating, some stores are offering shrimp and crabmeat at reduced prices.

Eggs may cost you more. One chain plans increases in the price of a dozen top grade large whites.

Lettuce, celery and cucumbers are the bargain counter. Produce men call them outstanding buys along with green beans.

Good buys include cabbage, eggplant, radishes, tomatoes and beets.

Prices of eastern potatoes advanced a bit this week, but the popular long white Californias remained unchanged.

There are lots of peaches for sale, and supplies of cherries from the northwest are beginning to reach markets in volume.

Citrus fruits are a little higher at wholesale this week. The same goes for small fruits—plums, apricots and nectarines.

Road Program Told by Cleary

State Candidate Wants Detroit-Muskegon Toll Expressway

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Owen J. Cleary, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Wednesday night that study should be undertaken on a Detroit-Muskegon toll expressway to supplement a widened U.S. 16 highway now linking the two cities.

Cleary also advocated widening U.S. 131 from the Indiana state line to the straits through Petoskey.

Speaking at a meeting of the American Business Club, the Secretary of State said U.S. 16 should be made a four-lane route for its entire distance and indicated a similar type of highway for U.S. 131.

"The legislature committee which is now studying Michigan's road needs will, in all probability, recommend that a proposal for a highway construction bond issue be placed on the ballot for the 1955 spring election," Cleary said.

"It seems to me that this is a wise policy, that passage by the people of the bond issue proposal will enable Michigan to build the roads from which critical need exists . . . build them now, when we need them most, and repay the bond issues from increased revenue which the better highway system will produce."

Human beings usually are best able to focus their eyes on nearby objects at the age of 10, such focusing becoming more difficult as a person gets older.

Funeral Parlors Foiled in Creating Business

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—A Little Rock funeral director says the public doesn't understand that a major problem of a mortician's business is that he can't create a demand for his services.

"We can't put on a big selling campaign," said Paul Y. Griffin in a speech. We just stay open 24 hours a day to help those who need us."

5 County Youths Are Arrested

Two Held on Charges of Breaking, Entering, 3 on Car Theft

Five Oakland County juveniles were arrested in the past 24 hours, two for breaking and entering, and the three others on auto theft charges.

Two Pontiac boys, 12 and 14, were arrested in a service station at 425 Osmun St., by Patrolmen Marvin Blum and Guy White Jr. early today.

The owner, George H. Harlow of 33 Cross St., said nothing was missing, but the youths admitted attempting two other breakins at Twins Restaurant, 338 S. Saginaw St., and a service station at 180 Orchard Lake Ave., as well as a breakin at Greg's Restaurant at 505 E. Blvd. S., according to police.

The owner of the latter restaurant, Edwin Gregerson of 491 E. South Blvd. said four quarts of liquor and $15 in change from coin machines were taken.

The other three juveniles, 12, 13, and 16, from Pontiac and Royal Oak, walked away from the Oakland County Children's Home Tuesday night, took a car owned by Leo J. Wasserberger of 91 Illinois Ave., and drove to Huntington, Ind. before being stopped by police, according to William Multon Jr., children's home superintendent.

Special auto taxes including registration fees, tolls and excise taxes on cars, parts, gasoline and oil now produce more than 5¼ billion dollars a year.

Housing Profits Cutback Urged

Sen. Maybank Presses for Rent Reductions; Board Hears Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said today federal housing officials should act at once to "cut back on windfall profits and reduce the inflated rents of tenants who are paying for them."

Maybank, senior Democrat on the Senate Banking Committee, said in an interview:

"Everybody's made money in these housing project deals except the tenant. He's the guy who's been paying for it."

He declared housing officials have been slow to act on alleged abuses under various apartment project programs involving government-insured mortgages.

The committee, headed by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), summoned several more builders to testify today in its investigation of reported irregularities in federal housing programs. They included Alexander Muss of New York, whose brother David Muss already has been heard Alexander Korman of New Orleans, and Edward Carmach of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Capehart said all would be questioned on big apartments built with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Maybank said that up to a half-billion dollars in profits have come "right out of the pockets of the people who now occupy those apartments."

In speaking of "windfall" profits, he referred to those where builders or promoters pocketed the difference between an FHA-insured mortage loan and actual construction costs. In some cases aired before the banking committee, these differences have amounted to a million dollars or more.

Princess Leaves All-Night Dance After 5 o'Clock

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret came home with the milkmen and the chars gave her a cheer this morning after an all-night dance at the Savoy.

It was just after 5 a. m. when the fun-loving Princess called it quits at Lord Hambleden's party and drove home to Clarence House. She had wound up the all-night do by dancing the Charleston.

Charwomen on their way to cleaning jobs in London homes and office buildings recognized the Royal car waiting outside the hotel. Margaret smiled at the daybreak reception when she emerged and drove off.

The party at the Savoy was a coming-of-age outing for Katherine Smith, Hambleden's sister. The host entertained his royal and ordinary guests with calypso songs and Cossack dancing.

He has served as postmaster for about eight years, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Jessie Stackhouse in 1945.

300 Seminary Alumni Meet at Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE—Over 300 former clerical and lay students of the Polish Seminary gathered for their 14th bi-annual convention at Orchard Lake. First order of business at the convention was to lodge a strong protest against the arrest by the Communists of Cardinal Wyszynski, Primate of Poland.

The alumni group has also resolved to further the beatification cause of Archbishop John Cieplak, who was persecuted by the Russians in the early 1920's.

THRESHERS AT WORK—Getting down to the serious side of threshing, members of Novi Township IOOF down a hefty meal in the middle of the wheat threshing operations. The group planted 20 acres of wheat last fall as a fund raising move, and spent most of Saturday harvesting their crop. They netted a good sized profit on the venture, including $240 from members unable to personally help in the hot work.

IOOF at Novi Reaps $691 From Wheat Fund Project

NOVI TOWNSHIP—Members of the IOOF No. 487 of Novi last fall began casting around for some sort of fund raising project to help support their lodge.

Last week they literally "reaped" the benefits of taking money "raising" seriously.

The group decided the safest way they knew of raising the funds was to plant some wheat, and leave the rest to Mother Nature and fertilizer.

Farmer Glenn Salow donated 15 acres of land at the corner of 10 Mile Road and Taft Road, just southwest of Novi, for the experiment.

His son Glenn Jr., also came through with five adjoining acres. Members turned out in force for the planting last September, and then the waiting began.

Saturday 22 members assembled alongside the clanking 1922 thresher of farmer William Mairs, for a day of threshing and bagging their product. An equally old grain binder was used to cut and shock the waving wheat.

Pausing for a hearty noon-day meal prepared by the Rebekah's Club of Novi, they returned to the field and, following the actual physical labor, the books were balanced.

Trucked to South Lyon, the yield grossed the part time farmers $691. From this was subtracted approximately $200 for expenses such as wheat and fertilizer, still leaving a tidy profit.

In addition, members unable to participate in the work contributed $240 as their part in one of the most unusual and yet age-old methods of bringing in the financial bacon.

KNOTTY JOB—Charles Bassett, one of 20 members of the Novi Township IOOF, who spent a day recently harvesting the club's 20 acres of wheat, ties a knot in another sack prior to trucking the wheat to South Lon for sale. The land was donated for the project by farmers Glenn Salow and Glenn Salow Jr.

Rochester Finds Business Heavy

Leonard Harding Gets 3rd Term as President by Unanimous Vote

ROCHESTER — Pressure of increasing school business prompted the Rochester Community School district board of education this week to designate semi - monthly meeting dates for the future.

Setting aside the first and third Wednesday nights of the month for regular meetings, the board resolved to earmark the first Wednesday strictly for policy matters.

School business will be handled at the second meeting of the month.

Leonard H. Harding was again named president of the board by unanimous trustee approval. This is his third term as head of the board.

Named to serve his sixth term in the secretary's post was Lewis Arscott. Alpha Musson will perform the duties of treasurer for the coming year.

Other members of the board are Dr. Eve Schlecte, re-elected for a three-year term last week and Wallace Hodges, also endorsed by the electorate for a three-year term.

Extra time, said the board, is needed to consider the growing demands brought about by the school building program which is now under way. Construction has already started for additions to Goodison and Hamlin schools and final plans for the new North Hill Elementary school are being reviewed by the architect today.

The board this week approved the coming year's budget of $779,875 and was told that the several one-room country school sites would undoubtedly revert to the original owners, heirs or assignees because of the way the original deeds were set up.

Superintendent Donald Baldwin was instructed by the board to find two more rooms for temporary classrooms for either elementary students or high school students for the coming year, and he was also requested by the board to review the situation at the Brooklands playground and come up with definite recommendations for its improvement before school opening in September.

Don Lew, member of the Michigan State College bureau of school services, was hired by the board as a school planning consultant to help on the proposed high school development.

With extensive experience in metropolitan area school planning, Lew will devote 15 days to the Rochester school program.

Work on the site development of the high school was authorized by the board. This is necessary before preliminary architectural plans can be drawn for the school.

Named by the judge to the newly created commission are Charles R. Harris, Donald P. Cavin, Percy Stowe, Frank Ruggles, and J. Russell Thompson.

The township has had a building code for the past seven years, but recently the township board decided to come under the township rural zoning act.

First work of the board will be drawing up a zoning ordinance for the area.

Since this will take some time, it is expected that the zoning board may be requested by the township board to submit an interim ordinance for use during the time the more permanent law is being drafted.

French Deplore Dividing Land

Viet Nam People Told Geneva Cease-Fire Is 'Anguished Peace'

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — The French and Vietnamese military commanders in Indochina issued orders of the day today deploring the partitioning of Viet Nam but they declared the fight for freedom was not lost.

Gen. Paul Ely, commander-in-chief and French commissioner general, told his troops and the people of Viet Nam the Geneva cease-fire was an "anguished peace." He added, however, that it was the solution "which safeguards best the major interests and the future of the state, the Army and Vietnamese nation."

The French High Command revealed that fighting raged near Tourane, halfway between Hanoi and Saigon, a few hours before the Geneva conferees put their signatures to the cease-fire accord. The Vietminh threw two battalions against a post 11 miles south of Tourane late Tuesday night and wrested it from the French and Vietnamese defenders. After five hours of hard fighting, the rebels were driven out. Losses were described as severe on both sides.

Twenty-four hours after the signing of the cease-fire, the Viet Nam government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem had failed to make an official declaration. There were reports the 53-year-old Nationalist leader might shake up his Cabinet to bring in more South Vienamese.

Though there is no immediate danger to the score or so of Americans in Hanoi, the embassy here plans to move out most of its personnel and all other Americans who wish to join them.

Happy Airmen Welcome Civilians; They'll Do KP

ENID, Okla. (AP) — A popular bunch of civilians arrived at Vance Air Force Base yesterday.

They are the advance guard of Nationwide Food Services Inc., a Chicago catering firm, which will do KP at Vance on an experimental basis for 11 months beginning Aug 1.

Nationwide, under the contract, will furnish all kitchen police and cooks while the Air Force furnishes the food and equipment.

This is the Defense Department's first such experiment to determine whether private contractors can do the job cheaper than the military.

Linemen Pals Parted by Death

Thirty-Year Partnership Ends High on Electric Utility Pole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Death, high on a utility pole on a storm-swept country road, has ended the 30-year partnership of two veteran electric linemen.

Sixty - eight - year - old Rober Brown lost his last fight to save his buddy, Harry Finks, 69.

Finks was on a pole near Reese Station early yesterday, repairing broken lines during a thunderstorm, when a swinging wire sent 6,900 volts of electricity through his body.

Brown called for help on the repair truck radio. Then he climbed the slippery, wind-tossed pole to his partner's dangling body and tried to give him artificial respiration. When help arrived Finks was taken to a hospital. He was dead when he got there.

Finks and Brown were well known as team of linemen in Central Ohio where they worked for the Ohio Midland Light and Power Co.—Finks for nearly half a century, Brown for 30 years.

They both were eligible for retirement and had "planned to quit but somehow never quite got around to it."

They had had their brushes with death before. About a year ago, Finks got some "pretty bad burns." Brown was hurt last month when his spurs slipped and drove his shoulder against a pole.

Both times, one helped the other to safety.

But now that Finks is gone, Brown says he is retiring.

"That was my last day," he says. "I'm not going back any more."

Drought Produces Ducks That Drown in Water

DENTON, Ga. (AP) — A pair of ducks that can't swim are living evidence of the drought in this area.

When they had reached the age of eight weeks without ever seeing a puddle big enough to paddle in, their owner, Eddie Williams, 6, decided it was high time they got a chance to do what's supposed to come naturally to all ducks.

He filled a tub with water, tossed them in and stood by to watch. And a good thing he did, too. Eddie barely saved them from drowning.

Now they apparently consider water a death-trap for dryland ducks and won't go near the dangerous stuff.

Book to Shock State Motorists

Troopers Will Hand Violators a Collection of Accident Pictures

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police are going to see if they can't shock drivers into reducing the toll of the dead and maimed in Michigan highway accidents.

State Police patrol cars throughout the state now are stocked with a new booklet called "Death on the Highways." It shows in 18 pages of gruesome pictures the various ways a motorist can die on the highway.

Tom Masterson, police public relations director, said the department has an initial order of 15,000 copies of the booklet. Police will present the booklet to drivers who are stopped for violations of the law.

The hope is that the shock of seeing the pictures will slow many motorists down and make them safer drivers.

"The officers are instructed to use tact and diplomacy in distributing the booklets, but to get them distributed," Masterson said. "The officer will ask each motorist to look the booklet over and pass it on to a friend."

"The pictures in this booklet aren't pretty," says an introduction to the booklet. "They're gruesome—they're horrible—but they are true. No one likes to look at bones sticking through flesh from compound fractures or faces smashed beyond recognition by windshields or heads and arms severed from the body—but that's what happened 105 times a day last year."

Gotham Schooling Chronic Violators

NEW YORK (AP) — From now on, the city's problem drivers are going to get "the works" the scientific way.

Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh said yesterday that all persistent traffic violators will be given a choice — six sessions of a night driving school and a sentence based on their performance there—or a heavy sentence on the spot.

Murtagh said the new school, scheduled to open Oct. 1, will give the drivers "everything," including psychiatric examinations, driving lessons and safety lectures.

The problem drivers, Murtagh explained, are "the ones who keep having accidents, who are chronic speeders, who keep running through red lights."

WEDS FORMER SECRETARY—Everett W. Lord, 83, retired dean of the Boston University School of Business Administration, and his former secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Flanders, 40, are shown at city hall in Boston as they filed marriage intentions. They later received a waiver of five-day law and were married in Boston U. Chapel.

Rare Music Collection Purchased by UM

ANN ARBOR (UP) — A Belgian jurist's music collection was purchased yesterday by the University of Michigan for $100,000.

The University announced it had acquired the Stellfeld music library, a collection of rare original manuscripts, books and musical scores amassed over 50 years by Dr. Jean-August Stellfeld, Belgian jurist and musicologist.

The University said the collection includes works done by both famous and little known composers and critics, some dating back to the 18th century.

NEW DELI, India (UP)—India reportedly got her formal invitation today to serve on the international commission supervising the Indochina cease-fire.

Rub-a-Dub-Dub, There's Nothing Like a Tubbing for All-Over Beauty

By ANITA COLBY

America's No. 1 Cover Girl

Today we will take up Caring For Your Body. Don't forget it is covered with "complexion" too. During this course, we're going to peel off a whole layer of tired you . . . find that smoother, better functioning skin that lives beneath your present one.

Whether your tub is an old claw-and-ball affair or one of those new-fangled glassed - in shower and tub concoctions — the idea i to use it.

Tub or shower? Whichever you like — or both. Just don't use extremes of heat or cold. In winter, towel briskly afterward to bring up circulation; in summer, pat, don't rub and overheat yourself.

Get Under Water

Get into all the corners, pay attention to the parts that, as you grow older, will tell your age—or worse, your bad habits. Please use a body brush plus the nail brush.

Back and shoulders: Here's where an oily skin advertises itself, in pimples, blotches, blackheads.

If these danger signals are showing, use your pure soap with the aid of the bath brush, every single day, gently, faithfully. Don't be drastic — you can't chop off that blemished layer. Slow, patient lathering, lots of rinsing.

Elbows, knees, heels: If dry, flaky and wrinkly, rub with oil before your bath, and again use the body brush. Remember, daily and slowly, oil and soap and water. Pumice stone used with your soap will speed removal of dried, horny skin.

Hands: Here's one place where even the oily - skinned girl can go lush if she likes. Neglected hands beg for the oils that leave them faster than any other place on the body.

Give palms, back, fingers — especially joints and nails — a good daily dose. Rub slices of lemon on stains — your pumice again if they're stubborn — or diluted Clorox IF you'll promise to oil well afterward. Wear gloves for gardening, dusting, rubber ones for hot water and strong soaps.

Toes and toenails: Every single day, scrub between toes with nail brush, and all around nails. Here's where little infections start, where fungus grows.

Clean all around nails with orange stick wrapped in oiled cotton. Dry very thoroughly, and in summer dust with foot powder. This can be boric acid just as well — from any drugstore.

Spend this course really "purging" yourself, inside and out! Sleep enough — no facial can replace rest. And scrub, scrub, scrub. As I said before — I believe in soap and water beauty.

ANITA COLBY

Flight From Reality

Well, your bath it ought to be. It's not only the sheer dutiful business of getting yourself scrubbed. It's freedom from the world — it's a sign that says "Private — Keep Out."

It's defiance of gravity as your arms and legs float in that warm, loving, lovely water. It's a sweet-scented ivory tower, where you are a queen, a child, an actress — always the heroine, never a walk-on part.

Make your bath this kind of luxurious delight. It's a healer-water — doctors and psychiatrists use it as such. And every day it can mend up a little of the frazzled edge of your nerves . . . sooth your tired body, restore you to peace with yourself and the world.

The delicious feeling of soap, the lukewarm water, can bring a tense body to the point of sleep. Learn how to use different kinds of baths.

Someone who gets more fun out of living than almost anyone I know — busy Cornelia Otis Skinner —says certainly she makes her tubs fancy as can be.

She uses all kinds of sweet-smelling oils. She lets the oils fume up from the warm water and sprays herself afterward with toilet water. In winter, she rubs her whole body with hand lotion to prevent chapping.

Inner Cleansing

A bath that opens pores and makes your body perspire heavily will carry off wastes and poisons that build up in the skin. This is a doctor's prescription for toxic body conditions. I know it acts as a kind of inside - out facial too, if you'll put on plenty of lubricating cream.

First you drink a big glass of water because you're going to perspire away a lot. Then dissolve two pounds of commercial epsom salts in tub two-thirds full of warm water.

Don't use soap — rub body all over with coarse cloth or sponge, to work off the waste crystals that don't dissolve in water. Stay in about 20 minutes — dry with a rough towel, then bundle up in plenty of blankets.

You will probably perspire freely, so wrap in an old robe or bath sheet. Stay there 30 minutes, then out and rub body down with witch hazel. Now dry off, and go to bed and to sleep.

After Your Bath

Dry off with clean fluffy towels. Then — cologne, powder, oils — what will you? Dry skins keep away from colognes — alcohol is a drier itself, not for you. But lots of lovely cream colognes are, or — my favorite trick — bath oil.

Just a film of it, put on while the body's still damp, seems to saturate the skin, and those lovely fumes stay with you. Of course, normal to oily-girls can spray all they like, or powder, or — one more trick — use sachet powder, which is stronger than bath types.

Ideal Measurements

For example, a young Hollywood star's ideal measurements are:

Height—5 feet 6 inches.
Wrist—6¼ inches.
Bust—35 inches.
Waist—10 inches smaller (25, not over 26).
Hips—35 (not over 36).
Ankles—8¼ inches.
Calf—is 4 or 5 inches larger than ankle.

Now measure your wrist to compute your type frame — small, medium or large — as shown on the chart below.

Small Frame
Wrist	Height
Less than 5½"	4' 11"—5' 2"
Less than 6"	5' 3"—5' 4"
Less than 6¼"	5' 5"—5' 11"
Medium Frame
5½" thru 5¾"	4' 11"—5' 2"
6" thru 6¼"	5' 3"—5' 4"
6¼" thru 6½"	5' 5"—5' 11"
Large Frame
Over 5¾"	4' 1"—5' 2"
Over 6¼"	5' 3"—5' 4"
Over 6½"	5' 5"—5' 11"

MALING SHOES

We're doing this with tears in our eyes

Sure it hurts! After all, it's heart-breaking to "give away" fresh new shoes that just a few weeks ago were selling from $2.99 to $6.99 for $1.97 and $2.97, but what else can we do? It's against Maling's policy to carry shoes over to the next season—over! So we're knocking our sale prices down even further (literally thousands of pairs, now only $1.97) And boy, can you save dough!

Stay Cool When Your Car Gets Hot and Balky

By CAROL LANE
Women's Travel Authority

There's no reason for temperature and terrain to trouble you on your summer trip.

When summertime's main car ailments . . . blowouts, stalling and overheating . . . occur, just apply a little roadside "first aid."

It's always wise to keep your tires properly inflated. It's also a good way to minimize blowouts.

Have them checked regularly for damage or unusual wear. Rotate them regularly, but don't try to squeeze extra milage out of tires that need replacing.

In case of a blowout, stay calm, keep a firm hand on the wheel, maintain a safe course and bring your car to a stop.

On very hot days, a vapor lock may occur and cause your engine to stall. If this happens, keep cool and remember that vapor lock is only temporary.

Get off the road, lift the hood to aid the circulation of air, put a damp cloth over the fuel pump, if one is available, and wait for a few minutes.

Tweed takes on glamorous evening sparkle at the hands of Pauline Trigere. She dots the sporty fabric with a shower of amber jewels and softens the loose tailored line with gently puffed half-sleeves.

Banker Cites Business Discrimination

Consider Women Underprivileged

Editor's Note: One of the nation's topmost women executives, Claire Giannini Hoffman, believes something should be done to get rid of the continuing 'double standard' in many of America's business and industries. Mrs. Hoffman, daughter of the late great financier, A. P. Giannini, and herself a director of his giant Bank of America, points out that able women still are being denied oppoftunities and promotions just because of their sex. Her penetrating ideas and the story of her own rise as a career woman are told in a series of three articles by San Francisco Call-Bulletin staff writer Jane Eshleman Conant. This is the first.

By JANE ESHLEMAN CONANT

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Clair Giannini Hoffman hopes this won't start a new war between the sexes, but she took that calculated risk today.

The daughter of the late, famed A. P. Giannini, and a director of his huge Bank of America, said women aren't really emancipated.

All that happy talk about freedom and equality sounds good, but it's not necessarily true.

And you're wrong if you think the term "double standard" went out with the coal oil lamp.

Mrs. Hoffman has bright brown eyes, a friendly and forthright disposition, and a deep conviction that something should be done on behalf of the fairer, but underprivileged, sex.

Women are not treated as equals in many businesses and industries, she said.

They lose out on promotions "just because they're women."

And though a girl can often wear a brass hat as becomingly as can a man, too many times she is denied it through discrimination and not because of lack of ability.

Mrs. Hoffman's indictment is a broad one.

The women, she said, have it hard in merchandising, business offices, industry, insurance, banking and many other fields.

And she did not exclude her own Bank of America, the biggest bank in the world, founded and built by her father and part of her own life since she was a child.

Mrs. Hoffman thinks that men can be nice as anybody.

She doesn't want to hurt their feelings or engage in bitter combat.

But she pulled no punches when asked why it's so that the able, talented career girl can be so downtrodden.

"Why? Because, unless a woman is particularly tactful and nice about it, a man by his very nature is reluctant to accept her orders. He'd rather give them!"

Mrs. Hoffman has no personal gain at stake as she takes up the cudgels for the girls.

She is one of the nation's few women who occupy high places in banking, as the only feminine member of the Bank of America board and executive committee, and one who really works hard at her job.

It's the rank and file she's thinking of—the "wonderful, capable" women employed not only in her bank but in thousands of other places all over the country.

"We are as progressive as any other bank in California—perhaps a little bit ahead," she said.

"But we still aren't doing enough to satisfy the women—or to satisfy me!"

Until just a few years ago, Mrs. Hoffman said, many banks would "make up some stupid title for a woman to avoid making her an officer."

It's a little better now. The barrier seems to be crumbling in a way that heartens Mrs. Hoffman and those who feel as she does.

Bank of America itself has some women in encouragingly high positions—like Dolly Gee, manager of the Chinatown branch, an eminently responsible job.

But there aren't enough, said Mrs. Hoffman.

Although women may have achieved such notable gains as voting and wearing trousers, she said they are still denied the even more important privilege of competing on even terms with men for promotion and executive jobs.

"They don't get the titles, and they don't get the pay," she declared.

"There are too many cases where a man and a woman are doing exactly the same job, but the man gets a bigger salary.

"A woman can go just so far, and then, because she's a woman, she stops.

"It's not right. It's not good. It's horribly unfair."

She was speaking from the heart. The bank is part of her life.

Her father, the famed "A. P.," started it in 1904, and it is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

Mrs. Hoffman cannot boast that chronological record, but she can say that, in effect, she and the bank grew up together.

When she was still a child, her father took her to executive council meetings and conventions of bank groups. She heard the behind-closed-doors talk of the men who were helping him make the institution one of the world's great financial giants.

He told her constantly of his problems and ideals, and bequethed her the conviction that running a bank is not only a public trust, but a trust for its own employes as well.

And this is what underlies her own mild-mannered but vigorous drive for the career girls. Claire Giannini Hoffman is bent on getting results, and gentlemen, hang onto your hats because she probably will.

(Next:—Claire Giannini Hoffman tells of career girls who have brains, too.)

Husband-Hunting Woman Is Rudely Jolted by Masculine Viewpoints

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

No One Even Mentioned a Preference for Blondes

Thoroughly discouraged is Jean, my husband-hunting friend in the mid-30s who had been trying to improve her matrimonial chances by dedicating hours to self-improvement measures recommended by the how-to-catch-a-man authorities.

Thus, she read reams of improving books and took such an interest in her clothes that saleswomen and fitters hid in stockrooms at her approach. She initiated, too, the tedious drudgery of maintaining a head of synthetic blonde hair, enrolled in a charm school and underwent a thorough course in home economics.

Miss McBride

Then, lo and behold, all the things she thought she knew about what men want in a life partner went glimmering when she heard a dinner-table discussion involving a tycoon who had just celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary, two eligible widowers and three determined bachelors.

The hostess, hoping to get some spirited discussion going, had tossed out the stock question, "What are the qualities that men look for in women?"

"A woman," said the tycoon, with a bow to his quiet, white-haired wife, "should be clean, a good sport, smell nice and never nag."

Then, says Jean dolefully, every man at the table voiced enthusiastic agreement. Nobody said a word about allure or beauty, nothing at all about good taste, ability to talk, to cook or to manage. And not a man so much as mentioned blondes!

I got the story when I ran into Jean with an armful of detective stories and about half an inch of mouse-brown showing at the roots of her pseudo-golden hair.

She wanted to know what is the use of knocking yourself out to try to be attractive when, according to the men themselves, all you have to do to get a husband is bathe frequently, anoint yourself heavily with scent and put up with anything that happens without complaint.

I don't know though. Except for the bathing and the scent, that rule sounds about as difficult to follow as any I ever heard. So, as a possible alternative, I told Jean about Kitty Carlisle's confession of the way she won Moss Hart, playwright, a bachelor who successfully sidestepped marriage for years.

"I'd had my eye on him for a long time," related Kitty, a pretty, intelligent brunette actress. "He had never seemed particularly interested in me, though. Then, during the war, he went to the South Pacific and came back so full of experiences that he talked and talked.

"Just when he was running out of listeners, I came along, looked at him with rapturous interest and breathed, 'Tell me ALL about your trip to the South Pacific! Two hours later I was still listening. Pretty soon we got married."

It's the oldest technique there is, but it still works.

Retired Man Builds Frames for Old Prints

Wife's Artistic Interest Provides Hobby for Husband

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I've always been a frustrated artist," Mrs. J. told me.

"All my life I wanted to be able to do painting and sketching, but I've always been awful at it.

"Years ago I studied art appreciation, and finally came to the conclusion that, so far as art was concerned, appreciating it was about all I could count on.

"Through the years I've read up about old hunting prints and all kinds of art subjects, and I've haunted the museums.

"I can tell a good reproduction from a bad one, and pretty soon I got into the habit of browsing through old junk shops.

"Many times I'd find good old prints — nothing to set the world on fire, but charming things that I could buy for pennies.

"They were unframed, but I kept them in big boxes and use to look at them from time to time.

"Last year," she went on, "John was retired from business. We never forgot how unhappy he was those first few months.

"He just stalked around the house and his whole appearance began to alter. He felt useless, and he had no hobbies that really meant anything to him.

"The doctor and I both got worried, and the doctor said he would have to find something to work at, some hobby.

"That rang a bell in my mind, and I suggested that he learn how to frame some of my old prints.

Now, John had no particular interest in art, but he did fancy himself as a pretty good amateur carpenter.

"At first he would just buy old cheap frames and refinish them for my pictures.

"But after a while, he began to make frames himself, have the glass cut to size, and experiment with mats and interesting woods for the frames. He got awfully good at it, too.

"Now," this happy woman concluded, "it has become a very absorbing hobby for both of us, and we work at it together about four hours a day.

"We've shown some of our things at the local hoby shows, and have even gotten a few orders for frames, and have sold a few of our framed prints.

"John is a new man, and the doctor is delighted. Also, we're so much happier than our other retired friends.

"Maybe it was a good thing that I was a frustrated artist. I'm not frustrated now, and neither is John!"

It's Difficult to Find Leak in the Roof

By HUBBARD COBB

You never realize just how much water can flow through a hole about the size of the point of a needle until you have a leak in your roof.

Most roof leaks are awfully small and yet they can let in enough water to darn near flood you out of house and home.

Needless to say, before you can do much in the way of repairing the leak you've first got to locate it.

The best time to locate the leak is when it's raining. Go up into the attic with a few pieces of stiff wire and look around for signs of water.

Follow the course of the water to the source and then stick one of the pieces of wire up through the roof sheathing and roofing and the point of the leak. This will enable you to find the exact spot when you go up onto the roof.

Locating leaks in dry weather is a lot more difficult. One way is to check over the underside of the roof sheathing carefully. Chances are that there will be some sort of water stain on the boards at the point of the leak.

Another method is to shut off all light to the attic and then examine the underside of the roof carefully trying to spot little pinpoints of light. Not all these pinpoints will necessarily be leaks but if they are all closed up, it certainly won't hurt things.

Once you've found the leaks, the rest is easy. Tiny holes can be closed off with a dab of roofing cement.

Leaky wood or asphalt shingles can be repaired by slipping a piece of heavy roofing paper or a sheet of non-corrosive metal up under the offending shingle.

The 23-room home, Sagamore Hill, built by Theodore Roosevelt in 1884, has been opened to the public as a shrine for the former President.

Mrs. Royal Pazik Gives Recipe for Pudding

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When summer nights turn a little cool, a warm fruit dessert hits the spot. Mrs. Royal Pazik's Blueberry Pudding is just such a dessert. It is a recipe she got from her Canadian mother.

Mrs. Pazik is well known locally for her fine club work. Among the clubs to which she belongs are the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Waterford Business and Professional Women, the Pontiac Woman's Club and the Pythian Sisters. We think she's an expert homemaker too; when we talked with her recently she was putting the last of some 50 quarts of raspberries in her freezer.

BLUEBERRY PUDDING
By Mrs. Royal Pazik

½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups blueberries
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons melted shortening or cooking oil
1 cup water
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon mace

Cream sugar, oil and egg together, add water. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and blueberries. Turn into greased mold. Cover tightly and steam 2½ hours. Serve with cream or a plain vanilla sauce.

Who Needs Reassurance, Beau - - - or Girl Herself?

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Even though I say I'm in love, is it right for me to go on proving it to myself?

"When my boy friend does something I don't especially like, I get angry and say to myself I'm going to stay mad at him for a day or so. But within the next hour I find myself talking to him.

"Everyone says I am too possessive. I know I'm all mixed up. He is very much in love with me and has not only said so often but has also shown it in many ways.

"Please tell me whether or not I have the wrong attitude. And also tell me how a girl can show and tell her boy friend that she trusts him."

First—this business of getting mad at your boy friend. Some people get annoyed very easily. They boil over, flip the lid—then it's all over. Other people seethe and churn inwardly with bitter resentment forever and ever.

You're apparently the type that gets mad quickly—but you can't stay mad. However, making up quickly isn't proving your love—it merely proves that it's your nature to rationalize with yourself, and to forgive and forget.

But what does your boy friend do to make you so annoyed? You casually mention being possessive and ask how you can show him you trust him.

Apparently you're more jealous than you like to admit—jealous perhaps of the attention he gives, in passing, to other girls—resentful when he doesn't do exactly as you wish, when he crosses you up or acts indifferent.

Snapping out of your annoyance is assurance that you like him very much, no matter what; and it proves that you give him credit for having ways of his own.

It proves that you know he doesn't really intend to hurt you or to vex you. It proves that you can be detached and understanding—that you can talk sensibly to yourself.

Demonstrating your trust in him is a question of keeping your balance and holding that lid down tight. When whatever he does is all right with you, it will show in you attitude and your conversation.

When you talk and act as though he has a right to behave as he does, you're showing him that you feel sure he'll do the right thing. When you take time to try to understand without making snap judgments you show that you want to approve of everything he does.

When you give him the benefit of the doubt, and accept his explanations sincerely, you show him you have nothing to fear.

But really and actually, is all of this to prove that you're in love with him? Or to reassure yourself that he's in love with you?

Use Quotes to Designate Foster Child

Send Conventional Nuptial Invitations for 'Daughter'

By EMILY POST

Another wedding question is asked today: "Our 'daughter' is to be married soon. She is not our real daughter, but a foster daughter. She has made her home with my husband and me ever since she was a small child but was never legally adopted by us.

"The problem now arises as to how the wedding invitations should be worded. Her name is not the same as ours, which she has been using, and very few people know her real name. Will you please tell me what is proper in a situation of this kind."

Answer: I think the best thing to do would be to send out the conventional wording and put "daughter" in quotes. For example:

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their "daughter"
Mary Jane
to etc.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a member of one's family dies, would it be improper for those at home to turn on the television the day after the funeral or would this be lacking in respect? I have heard that it should not be turned on for at last a month.

Answer: To turn on television for the news or anything serious would be entirely proper, but to turn on gay or humorous programs or dance music would be shocking.

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently while dining in a restaurant, I noticed the woman seated at the next table cutting a lobster tail, which had already been removed from the shell, with a knife.

I always thought that lobster should be cut with the cocktail fork alone. Will you please tell me what is correct?

Answer: There is no impropriety in using a knife.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

When traveling across country the Smiths saw a restaurant that looked all right from the outside, but the moment they walked through the door, they noticed the floors weren't clean and there were flies. Mr. Smith took Mrs. Smith's arm and walked out—much to her embarrassment.

She shouldn't have been embarrassed. The proprietor of the restaurant should have been, for the lack of cleanliness.

First Home Should Suit Your Taste

In planning your home, the trick for you, the bride and bridegroom-to-be, is to narrow the yawning gap between your dreams and your bank account. It can be done if you avoid impulse buying and do a little hard-headed thinking before you start to shop for anything.

The first thing you both must decide is what your home is going to do for you—outside of providing shelter for happiness.

If both you and your husband-to-be are working, streamline your home so you can keep it in order with a minimum of time and fuss.

If you have hobbies like music, painting or needlework, make room for them as you plan so they become an accessible and enjoyable part of your daily living.

Once you've organized your thinking and have a plan that fits the kind of life you are going to lead, then work out color schemes. Look at magazines and model rooms. See how color and pattern affect the looks of a room.

Strong colors make a small room seem smaller; subdued colors and a monochromatic scheme make a room seem larger and tend to camouflage architectural oddities.

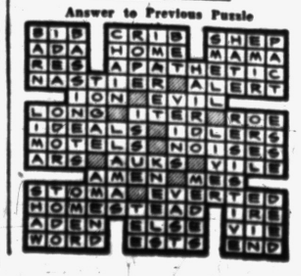

When it comes to buying home furnishings, the biggest thing you need is self-confidence. You don't have to come from a long line of decorators to shop intelligently. So get used to relying on your own taste. It's a lot better than you realize.

Don't try to shop according to period. You are going to start a style all your own. You are going to buy the things that fit your plan, your color scheme, your pocketbook and your taste. Cover the market well. Go to all the leading stores and compare prices.

Remember if you plan carefully and shop wisely, you will come up with a home you will enjoy — one that suits your budget and taste.

Feel Free to Indulge

Summer is the season when any girl can feel free to indulge her fashion whims. Since fashions are least expensive in this season, she can do so without feeling terribly extravagant. To do so definitely puts her in stride with the gayest of seasons.

Fort Riley's Fun-Facilities Give It Ritzy Appearance

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

FORT RILEY, Kansas (INS) — I've heard this old army post called "the Waldorf of the camps," and though I'm an ignoramus about most other army set - ups, I'll say, "to an outsider, Riley did seem pretty ritzy."

Not just for officers and visitors —for everybody.

You walk or drive around the tree-shaded streets, with barracks and old houses of bumpy, buff-colored Kansas sandstone, and you see five large swimming pools winking at you. They're for everybody.

You pass tennis courts—they're for everybody. You see a baseball field, with bleachers and huge night lights that tell their own story of action beyond the call of duty.

Movie theaters are all over the place, with new movies, the ones you're seeing in your home town right now. Also all over the place are cars. Not just staff cars, but the same red and blue and yellow and green cars you see on Main street at home every day.

For private cars are permitted at Fort Riley, and about 3,000 men have them, from rawest draftee up through non-coms, lieutenants, majors to the top brass.

Getting indoors, the post has six huge "service clubs," and I went into two of them, wondering how they stood up to the attractive "officers' club." I've got news for any parents or relatives of the boys at Fort Riley —they stood up just great.

I'm not saying everything is even - steven, or that rank hasn't the usual privileges. At the officers' club, for instance, the dining room is air - conditioned, and so was the officers' mess we went to once.

The one golf course is for officers only, though I couldn't help noticing that every officer who mentioned either club or golf, always got over to you the fact that both were paid for by the officers themselves through club dues and greens fees — just as at any golf course or club at home.

But niblicks and thermometers aside, the "service clubs" for "e.m.'s" were honeys. The one I spent most time in was newly decorated and bright as paint, its high ceiling a brick red, its dance floor vast and waxy.

Bright new chintzes were at the windows, and deep leather lounge chairs stood around in clusters of green, grey or salmon pink leather. Giant fans were shooting the breeze, and down in one corner, below the big stage, stood a 21-inch screen television set.

Behind glass partitions at one side was a cafeteria, and I went in to toss a couple of housewifely looks at the food and the prices. Coffee was 5c, doughnuts, 5c, bar B Q steak, 40c and so on down a solid list of what it takes to keep a guy from starving to death till mess call.

It was about four in the afternoon, but at lots of tables sat boys in green fatigues, wolfing it down as boys always have and always will, talking, laughing, noisy.

There was no caviar around, true, no Welsh rarebit, no squab. I didn't see any damask tablecloths or silver candlesticks — or even very ritzy table-manners.

But at the Waldorf, green fatigues are off limits, and lots of the wolfing is done by fatigued characters a real pretty young girl wouldn't toss even a housewifely look at.

As stated above, I'm an ignoramus about other posts and camps, but if this is the army, Mr. Jones, I don't have to be a Pollyanna either, to pin a couple of decorations on it.

Most of the important insect pests in the United States came from other parts of the world.

Japanese Patriots Seek Flag Respect

TOKYO (UP) — Some Japanese patriots are becoming incensed over the alleged lack of respect the public as a whole shows the Japanese flag, the display of which was banned until the peace treaty came into effect.

One typical comment appeared in the Chubu Nippon newspaper of Nagoya.

"Haven't our senses become a little too blunted regarding the national flag?" one reader asked.

"The flag is the emblem of the race and nation. People who treat it carelessly, it seems to me, are looking down upon their own country and consequently are holding themselves in contempt.

"With flags in the street in a beautiful line, it can be taken as a sign of the progress of the rehabilitation of Japan. Let us who are to reconstruct Japan treat the flag of the Rising Sun with more respect and more care."

Cities Aid Duffers, Par Busters Alike

CHICAGO (UP)—Cities are catering to the growing number of golf fans and some are showing a profit on city-owned golf courses, the American Municipal Association reports.

The association said that, according to the National Golf Foundation, there are now more than 750 municipally owned courses in the country.

Every state has at least one city-owned course. Texas last year had the most, 55; Illinois had 52, California 43, New York 42, and Minnesota 36.

Fourteen new city courses opened last year, one course was extended, and six others had improvements under way, the association said.

Fifty-five more courses were in the planning stage.

In surveying 62 municipally owned courses, the association said the golf foundation found that green fees at least paid for maintenance and some cities showed a clear profit.

Before World War I, Russia exported large quantities of eggs.

Quill pens were in common use well into the 19th Century.

Hot Shortbread Is Picnic Fare

Whole Wheat Recipe of Mrs. Fred Wiest Is Dessert Favorite

You can go to the beach — to a park — to the country and a roadside table — or just out in the yard. If it rains, you can even have your picnic indoors. But summertime calls for informal eating, preferably out of doors.

The Fred Wiest family of 2018 Woodland Avenue has a picnic table in the backyard and another on the front porch. Whatever the weather, they can have their picnic.

According to their mother, Mrs. Fred N. Wiest, picnic menus are not limited to the hamburger, potato salad classification. One of their favorite picnic desserts is Whole Wheat Shortcake topped with whatever berries are in season.

If the picnic is away from home, Mrs. Wiest fixes the berries and carries them in a glass jar. By making the shortcake just before leaving and wrapping it well, she has it still warm by serving time.

If you're an accomplished outdoor cook, you might like to bake your shortcake at the picnic site.

Whole Wheat Shortcake
By Mrs. Fred N. Wiest

1½ cups whole wheat flour
½ cup wheat germ
1½ teaspoons salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup nonfat dry milk
4 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
⅞ cup fresh milk

Mix dry ingredients together. Cut in the shortening. Add the milk all at once and mix until thoroughly blended. Knead briefly.

Roll out on floured board, cut with round cutter and bake 12-15 minutes in a 450 oven.

Seasoning Adds Flavor to Fried Chicken Crust

If fried chicken seems the answer to a summer meal, here's a trick that will give you a crisp, crunchy crust with no work at all, thanks to those little bottles of seasoning salts.

Put one cup prepared biscuit mix in a paper bag. Add 1 teaspoon onion salt, one teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper. Shake well. Shake the chicken—two or three pieces at a time—in this mixture. The result will be the tastiest, most flavorful chicken you ever fried!

Celery, Onion, Garlic Salts Ideal in Outdoor Cookery

When you leave the kitchen for the great outdoors of cookery this summer, you'll find it handy to remember three things — garlic salt, onion salt and celery salt.

This fragrant trio is tailor-made for fresh air meals. At a flick of a shaker, they supply seasonings that once took too much precious summer time to prepare. They save time, but keep the flavor of outdoor meals on a par with the most carefully prepared indoor meals.

Remember these salts when you prepare a marinade for a backyard barbecue or a sauce for a shish kabob. Use them singly or in combination in salads, salad dressings and vegetable juice drinks. Blend them into hamburger meat as you shape the patties.

Sprinkle them on your next charcoal broiled steak as it sizzles over the white coals. And, if your "provider" is a rod and reeler, remember to rub some garlic or onion salt into the fishy fare he brings home for you to cook.

Coming as they do, in neat little glass jars with salt shaker tops, the seasoning salts take up a minimum of room in picnic hamper or camping knapsack. They save steps, too, when you're carting the "fixings" of a backyard meal from kitchen to the outside fireplace.

Incidentally, seasoning salts are just what their names imply. Onion and garlic salts are made only of the pure, dehydrated and pulverized seasoning (garlic, onion or celery seed), blended carefully and uniformly with ordinary table salt. Celery salt is a blend of ground celery seeds and salt.

Barbecued Fish

Place fish steaks — sword fish, salmon or halibut — cut ½ to ¾-inch thick over a greased grill or in a folding wire broiler. Baste with warm garlic salt water (1 teaspoon garlic salt and 2 teaspoons salt to 1 cup water) at 3 to 4 minute intervals or as often as fish looks dry. Cook 20 minutes or until fish is flaky when tested with a fork, turning frequently. Then turn and brush with the following Barbecue Sauce at 3 to 4 minute intervals. Cook 10 minutes or until brown.

Barbecue Sauce

½ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup water
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons catsup
1 tablespoon salad oil
½ teaspoon ground red pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon onion salt

Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Heat to boiling point. If desired, pass additional sauce in a cruet or pitcher when serving. Yield: 1 cup.

Thaw Cake in Wrapper

To thaw frozen cake, place the cake on a cake rack in its freezer wrapping and at room temperature. An eight-inch, two - layer, frosted cake will thaw in 3½ to 4 hours at average room temperature.

Use a soft brush to remove the crumbs from your toaster.

Steam Haddock Cape Cod Style

Anyone who is in the market for a hostess gift this summer will welcome "Peter Hunt's Cape Cod Cookbook." Not only are the recipes interesting, but the illustrations, the work of the noted illustrator-author himself, add gaiety and charm.

For the person who has a library of cook books, the greatest value of this is in its collection of Portuguese recipes, handed down by the fishermen who brought them from their native land generations ago. In fact, the first chapter is headed "The Portuguese Are Wonderful Cooks." It's no surprise, then, to find an abundance of Portuguese fish recipes.

Here's one for Steamed Haddock with Sweet Sour Sauce, adapted for preparing in a pressure cooker, ideal for summer meal planning. It's a hearty dish, just right for appetites whetted by living and playing outdoors.

Other fish may be substituted for the haddock, such as ocean perch, cod, or sole.

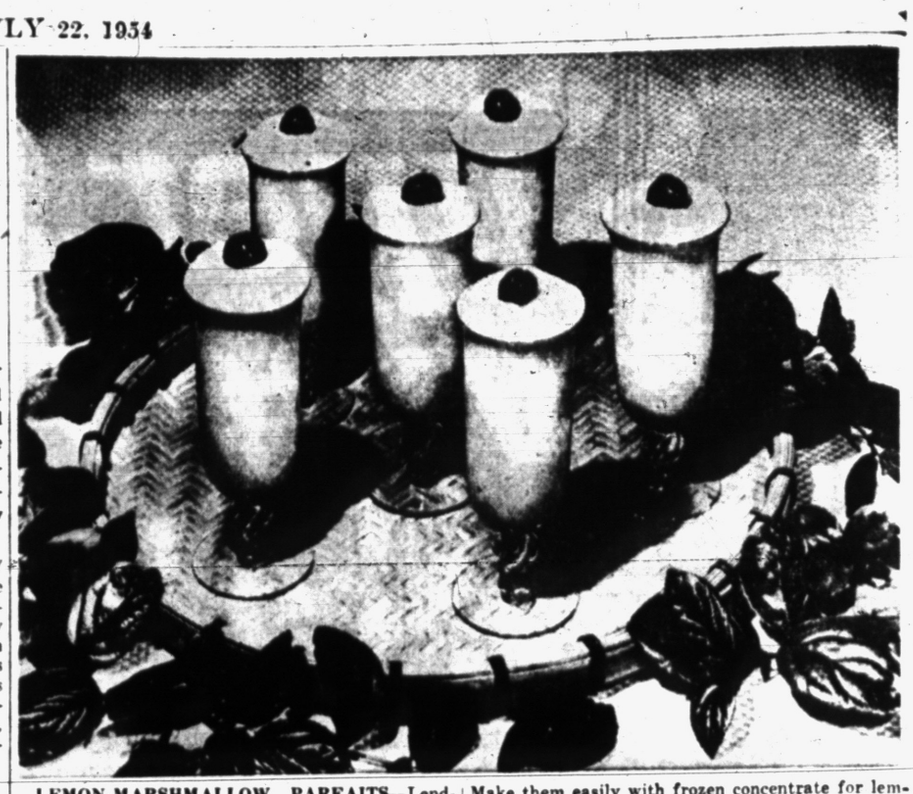

Steamed Haddock With Sweet Sour Sauce

1 onion
1 bay leaf
1 sprig parsley
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 carrots
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Place fish on trivet in pressure cooker. Add 1 cup water, onion, bay leaf, parsley sprig, salt, pepper and carrots. Cover and cook under 10 pounds pressure for 5 minutes.

Reduce pressure by cooling pressure cooker under running water. Place fish on hot platter. Force onion and carrots through a coarse sieve. Add to strained broth in cooker.

Brown the butter in another pan, add flour. Gradually add broth and stir until blended. Add vinegar, chopped parsley and a little salt. Pour over fish. Serves four.

LEMON-MARSHMALLOW PARFAITS—Lending cool perfection to a dinner's end, or as an ideal afternoon snack are these luscious frozen parfaits. Make them easily with frozen concentrate for lemonade, marshmallow whip and ice cream; keep in freezing unit 'til time to serve.

Parfaits Please Everyone; Lemon Concentrate Easy

Cool perfection for a summer dessert is a Lemonade-Marshmallow Parfait! Make it with frozen concentrate for lemonade, marshmallow whip, and ice cream, and store in your freezing compartment until ready to serve.

Here's a dessert to please guests, family, and you — for the preparation time is almost none, and the parfaits are delicious.

Frozen concentrate for lemonade — pure California lemon juice aready sweetened—is a handy aid in making all sorts of summer desserts. It combines with fruits or with jam to make other parfaits; is delicious in seasoning berries.

Keeping a supply of the handy 6-ounce cans in your freezing unit will help you turn out special desserts in no time at all. But a favorite will be Lemonade-Marshmallow Parfaits, and here's the recipe:

Lemonade-Marshmallow Parfaits

1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 cup marshmallow topping
1 quart strawberry ice cream
½ cup cream, whipped
Maraschino cherries for garnish

Mix the concentrate for lemonade, just as it comes from the can, with the marshmallow topping. In a parfait glass, place a spoonful of the lemonade-marshmallow mixture and top with a scoop of ice cream.

Repeat layers until glass is filled. Top with whipped cream and garnish with a maraschino cherry. Keep parfaits in the freezing compartment until ready to serve. Makes 8 parfaits, served in 6-ounce parfait glasses.

Luscious Fruit Dessert

Want a luscious fruit dessert? Bake bananas and rhubarb together with sugar and orange juice; serve with softened cream cheese topping.

Berries, Grapefruit Combined in Jelly

Now's the time to make this rosy-red jelly with its refreshing flavor.

Raspberry and Grapefruit Jelly

One 3½-ounce package powdered fruit pectin
One No. 2 can (2¼ cups) unsweetened grapefruit juice
2 cups whole fresh raspberries*
4 cups beet or cane sugar

Stir powdered fruit pectin into grapefruit juice in preserving kettle until well dissolved. Add raspberries and bring to rolling boil on high heat. Mix in sugar; boil hard for 2 minutes, then remove from heat.

Put through fine sieve, pressing pulp through with back of spoon—no seeds should go through. Stir well. Pour into hot sterilized jelly glasses; paraffin at once. Makes about five 8-ounce glasses.

When a recipe tells you to scald milk, it means that the liquid should be heated to a point just below boiling.

POTATO SALAD — Your family will love this zesty potato salad for your next picnic. You can prepare it so easily and pack it in your covered cake pan. Sour cream adds a tang to the salad dressing. Keep it cold, and the salad will arrive at the picnic safe, sound and fresh.

Make Sure Spoiled Food Doesn't Spoil Your Picnic

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Pack safety in your picnic basket. During this month of July, which is picnic month, you will have many occasions to pack a picnic lunch and head for the beach, the park or just the wide open spaces. Be sure safety goes with you.

We don't want to be a spoilsport. We just want you to remember that certain combinations of foods left too long in a warm atmosphere will make you ill. In fact, these foods have been known to kill.

What are the dangerous foods? Any combination of milk and eggs, mayonnaise and chopped meat, poultry that has been previously cooked, custard - filled pastries.

It is really easy to keep your food safe. If you have a picnic icebox, fill it early with ice, then transfer the food from your own refrigerator to it just before leaving. If you have no traveling icebox, you can buy metal containers full of a liquid you can freeze and put in with the food.

As a last resort, pack your food in jars in a large kettle, surround the jars with ice cubes and wrap the whole thing in newspapers. This will work if you have chilled the food beforehand.

We think the best plan of all is to take food that doesn't develop poisonous "bugs." Frozen chicken is ideal for that. You can take the frozen poultry in a solid state and by the time you want to cook it, it will have thawed just enough.

Make your meat salad sandwiches ahead of time, freeze them and they will be safe for several hours after removing from the freezer.

Keep your thermos bottle clean and sweet - smelling. Leave it open while you store it. We cover the top of ours with a sandwich bag that allows circulation of air without dust. If the thermos does develop a musty odor, rinse it out with a baking soda and water solution. Shake the bottle a few times and rinse with plain water.

Ice cream is good safe picnic food. Have it wrapped for keeping with dry ice when you buy it; it will keep for from two to eight hours.

Remove the dry ice from the package a short time before you want to eat the ice cream so that it can soften a bit. Cover your hands before touching the dry ice —it burns.

Another solution to the problem is to take the makings for your sandwiches or salads to the picnic site in iced safety and to mix them just before eating. Get the chicken salad all ready except for the mayonnaise — mix it with french dressing to marinate if you like — and add the mayonnaise at the last minute.

The addition of vinegar or lemon juice in appreciable amounts helps stave off harmful bacterial action in foods.

Perfect picnic travelers are breads, cakes, cookies and fruit pies. Most fruits travel well, but oranges and bananas are especially good. Peanut butter, most cheese, pickled or smoked meats and jams and jellies are safe sandwich fillers.

Good planning is essential to a good picnic. That is never more apparent than when you are planning safe foods.

Doctor Reports Smiling Relaxes Weary Drivers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Smile as you drive—it may be the answer to your road weariness and traffic sign jitters.

That is the advice of Dr. Herman S. Schwartz of Elmhurst, N.Y., who spoke today at the convention of the National Chiropractic Association.

He said motorists should make smiling a habit.

"A smile relaxes the eye and facial muscles. When they are relaxed, our brains are more relaxed," Dr. Schwartz said.

"When your eyes become strained, tension sets in, and that brings fatigue. Then good sense and sportsmanship fly out the window, road courtesy is forgotten, and irritability is heightened," he said.

Schwartz said traffic signal stops are really a good chance to relax.

"Just put on your hand brake, stretch your entire body and yawn," he said.

No Task to Pack Picnic Treats

Just mention the word "picnic" and you have the enthusiastic cooperation of the children. Perhaps having a picnic hasn't been quite the same treat for you, because packing a baked dish or salad and sandwiches has always been a rather tiresome chore.

Now with the extra deep covered cake pan, you can feel the same undampened enthusiasm as the children because it's no trick at all to pack and carry your picnic treats.

Best of all, beans, spaghetti, or any hot dish you choose can be baked in the extra deep cake pan. Then when you're ready to go, slip on the self-locking cover. You don't have to worry about foods spilling and they're just as attractive when you arrive at your favorite picnic site as they were when lifted from the oven.

Of course, the covered cake pan is just as useful when you're preparing potato salad or jello molds, or if you've baked the family's favorite cake for the occasion. For a new twist to an old favorite, use thick sour cream with prepared mustard for potato salad.

Potato Salad

6 cups cold potatoes, diced
1½ cups cucumbers, diced
3 tablespoons onion, minced
Salt and pepper to taste
1½-2 cups sour cream mixed with prepared mustard to color
3-4 hard cooked eggs
1 cup tomatoes (2 medium size) diced
¼ cup radishes (optional)

Mix potatoes, cucumbers, onion, tomatoes, radishes, seasoning and 1½-2 cups sour cream mixed with prepared mustard. Garnish with sliced eggs and parsley. Serves 6-8.

Blueberry Muffins Tasty, Nutritious

These muffins are as delicious as they are nutritious.

Blueberry Health Muffins

1½ cups sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup wheat germ
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 cup blueberries (washed and drained)

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together; cut in butter with pastry blender until blended; stir in wheat germ. Beat egg with rotary beater until thick and ivory colored; add milk and beat enough to combine.

Add egg-milk to flour mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in blueberries with a few light strokes. Spoon into 12 buttered muffin cups (1-3 cup size).

Bake in 400 oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center of a muffin comes out clean. Serve at once.

New Dressing for Potato Salad

Here's an old-fashioned combination that's sure to make your meal a success. It's so downright delicious and different, you'll want to make it your very own specialty.

It's that popular combination, franks and potato salad. But the potato salad is made a new-fashioned way with commercially soured cream dressing to give it extra zip. You'll find this salad delightful served either piping hot or well chilled.

Let the picnickers roast the franks over an open fire; or heat them in a kettle of boiling water. Just pop them into the water, cover with a lid, and remove the pan from the heat. In 7 to 8 minutes the franks will be steaming hot.

Remove franks from water with tongs or tablespoons to prevent pricking the skins.

To make the potato salad, follow these directions:

Sour Cream Potato Salad

1 cup commercially soured cream
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
1 quart cubed cooked potatoes
2 tablespoons chopped green onion

Combine the cream, mustard, salt and pepper and heat. Pour this mixture over the diced hot potatoes mixed with the onion. Serve either hot or well chilled.

On Hot Day, Serve Bacon and Egg Salad

Here's a delightful salad to serve on a warm summer day.

Bacon and Egg Salad

6 hard-cooked eggs
6 slices crisply cooked bacon
¼ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon sweet pickle liquid
Salt, pepper
Celery salt
Salad greens.

Dice eggs into mixing bowl; crumble bacon and add with celery, pickle relish and onion; mix lightly but thoroughly. Chill.

Just before serving, blend mayonnaise and pickle liquid; pour over salad and toss lightly. Season to taste with salt, pepper and celery salt. Serve on crisp salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Dream Up a Super Sauce to Glamorize Ice Cream

"M-m-m-m—Ice Cream! This exclamation comes from little children, teen-agers, and adults alike when America's favorite is served in any one of an infinite variety of ways. Someone venturing to suggest a food more versatile and universally well-liked than ice cream would have a real problem.

To go with the numerous flavors are an intriguing variety of colors, so that it's easy to find just the right one to provide the proper accent to your meal and enhance your color scheme.

Vanilla, the favorite of so many, is amenable to being dressed up in colorful "sundae" fashions. Either fresh or frozen fruits are very suitable companions both colorwise and tastewise.

For a sweet topping, there is a wonderland of sauces that can be made at home or bought ready-prepared and kept on hand to please individual whims. Chocolate peanut butter sauce is a new variation of the ever-popular chocolate sauce that will be applauded for its two-in-one flavor.

Date-nut sauce is another that takes little effort in the kitchen for the zest it adds to ice cream. These sauces probably will inspire you to dream up other super concoctions for your home ice cream sundaes.

Any of these sauces are delicious too on that deluxe delight—an ice cream parfait. Your favorite flavors of ice cream placed layer upon layer in a parfait glass add up to this colorful dessert. For variety, sauce may be put between layers as well as on top.

Chocolate Peanut Butter Sundae Sauce

1 8 oz. package semi sweet chocolate bits
¼ cup peanut butter, cream or chunk style
¼ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons cream

Melt chocolate in double boiler over hot water. Add peanut butter and stir until blended. Remove from heat and add corn syrup and cream. Serve warm over vanilla ice cream.

This sauce may be stored in the refrigerator, but should be heated before using. If it becomes too thick, add a small amount of cream to thin it down. Makes 1½ cups sauce.

Date Nut Sundae Sauce

½ cup chopped pitted dates
½ cup dark corn syrup
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup chopped pecans

Combine dates, corn syrup, brown sugar, water, and salt in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook 2 minutes over medium heat, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and add vanilla and pecans. Cool and serve over vanilla ice cream. Makes 1½ cups sauce.

Noodle Surprise Sure to Become Family Favorite

Hungry youngsters love a nutritious noodle or macaroni dish especially when it's fixed in an eye-appealing way. Easy to prepare and truly economical, these fine foods can be combined with any meat so you can be sure of satisfying your children's tastes.

Whether you serve them a hearty lunch or simple supper you can be sure this appetizing main-course recipe will become your family's favorite.

Noodle Star Surprise Casserole

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
2-10½-ounce cans condensed tomato soup
½ cup milk
1 cup grated processed American cheese (about ¼ pound cheese)
1 small head cauliflower, broken into flowerets and cooked
6 frankfurters, cut into quarters

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine cooked noodles, soup, milk and cheese; mix well. Turn half of noodle mixture into greased 2-quart casserole; place cauliflower in center of noodles. Add half of frankfurters. Cover with remaining noodle mixture. Place remaining frankfurters on top in star arrangement. Bake in 350 oven 30-40 minutes, or until frankfurters are done. Makes 4-6 servings.

Use poached eggs for summer luncheons. They may be served many ways: on hash, flat chicken croquettes or slices of baked or boiled ham. They may be topped with tomato, cheese, hollandaise or celery sauce.

Add a dash of curry powder to a cream of chicken soup, then sprinkle each bowl or cup of the soup with minced chives.

Hot Chicken Salad Tarts 'Are Delicious Surprise

When is a salad not a salad? When it appears as hot chicken salad tarts, of course and a handsome dish to serve it is. The chicken may come from a can or be fresh-cooked. For pastry you'll find a packaged pie crust mix as good as if you'd made it yourself and twice as fast to mix.

The news is the mayonnaise baked with the chicken mixture, prepared as you would a salad. Be sure to include plenty of MSG6 in order to get all the chicken flavor. MSG will enhance the flavors of vegetables, meat and fish too, bringing out their natural flavors.

Complement the hot chicken tarts with a bowl of salad greens tossed in a good dressing, and a relish tray.

Roll and bake any pastry scraps right along with the tarts, and you'll have a tasty tidbit for coffee and tea munching.

Hot Chicken Salad Tarts

2 packages pie crust mix
1 green pepper, finely diced
1½ cups diced celery
2 cups diced chicken, cooked or canned
1½ cups mayonnaise
¾ teaspoon salt
Few drops Tabasco
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package. Chill. Meanwhile combine remaining ingredients.

Roll half of pastry ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut in 4 circles 7-inches in diameter. Fit loosely into 4 6-inch pie pans. Trim edges. Fill pans with chicken salad mixture.

Roll out remaining pastry ⅛-inch thick. Cut in 4 circles 6-inches in diameter. Cut out center of these circles with a 3-inch cookie cutter. Scallop by hand, if desired.

Place pastry rings on pies; press edges together with floured fork. Bake in hot oven, 425 minutes, or until pastry is golden brown. Serve hot. Makes 4 tarts.

"Lambs Tails"

Roll out remaining pastry scraps in oblong sheet ⅛-inch thick. With knife or pastry wheel cut in strips 4 inches long and about 1½ inches wide. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake with the tarts till golden brown.

Convert Flat Paint

You can make ordinary flat paint into a semi-gloss paint by adding a small amount of varnish—about ½ pint to each quart. It will also give the paint a hard surface. Be sure that the varnish and paint are well mixed.

Tasty Meat Turnovers Make Appetizing Tidbit

Turnovers make delightful tidbits to serve with a vegetable juice cocktail or a cold soup on a summer supper menu. Roll out your best pie dough, cut in squares, put a spoonful of filling in the center of each square and then fold into small triangles. Bake in a hot oven until lightly browned.

Finely chopped cooked chicken or ham, mixed with a little mayonnaise and prepared mustard, making delicious fillings. Or fill with coarsely grated cheese or a liver spread.

Season a couple of cups of cooked rice with a half teaspoon of chili powder and a half teaspoon of garlic salt. Serve with hamburgers or meat loaf.

Yummy Broil-wiches Leave the Cook Cool

Summer broiling may sound like fighting fire with fire, but actually it's an ideal way to prepare hot weather meals. It's the quickest method of cooking meats to begin with; and in this case, your meats themselves are already cooked — cutting the time down to the bare bone.

A broil-wich such as this made on toasted enriched yeast-raised bread is one answer for a substantial hot main dish that will leave the cook as cool as a cucumber. Add a green salad tossed with fresh garden vegatables for fine summer fare.

Ham and Chicken Broil-wiches

1 cup minced chicken
1 cup minced ham
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup thick white sauce
6 slices yeast-raised white bread
2 tablespoons bread crumbs
1 tablespoon melted butter
3 tablespoons grated American cheese

Combine chicken, ham, curry powder and salt with white sauce. Toast slices of bread on one side. Place toasted side down on a baking sheet. Spread generously with the curry filling. Mix bread crumbs with melted butter and grated cheese and sprinkle over the top. Broil 5 to 8 minutes until the crumbs are brown. Makes 6 servings.

If you do not have cookie sheets at your summer cottage, use inverted baking pans for baking cookies.

Diced Fruit Tangy Dessert

For a novel dessert to enhance a summer meal, try this recipe for tangy frozen fruit treat. Made beforehand and stored in a home freezer, the dessert may be served at any time.

For 12 servings, drain two pounds of diced fruits. The following combination of fresh or frozen fruits is suggested, but other combinations will prove satisfactory: pineapple, bing cherries, apples, blueberries, peaches, oranges, and maraschino cherries.

Heat ¼ cup lemon juice in quart sauce pan, with medium heat setting.

Mix thoroughly 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup honey, ¼ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ginger.

When lemon juice boils, turn off heat. Slowly pour hot juice into honey mixture, stirring vigorously. Immediately pour mixed sauce into sauce pan over lower heat. Beat vigorously with wire beater or whisk. Keep entire mixture in motion until it bubbles all over the pan bottom. Remove and chill thoroughly.

Fold in ½ cup cream, whipped. Add drained fruits.

Pack in two quart-size freezer containers, with ½-inch layers divided by two pieces of freezer cellophane to permit easy separation of individual slices for serving. Seal and freeze in home freezer.

Prepare Meals Ahead; Store in Home Freezer

For days when the homemaker must be away from home, she can prepare dishes and whole meals in advance for the rest of the family and leave the food in a home freezer. The foods can be heated and served by any amateur cook in the family.

To prepare such a meal, wrap and seal eadh of the foods separately and then assemble everything in a large bag to provide a complete meal unit. Home economists advise the homemaker to be sure to enclose preparation instructions in th food package.

Stuff Cucumbers With Crab Meat

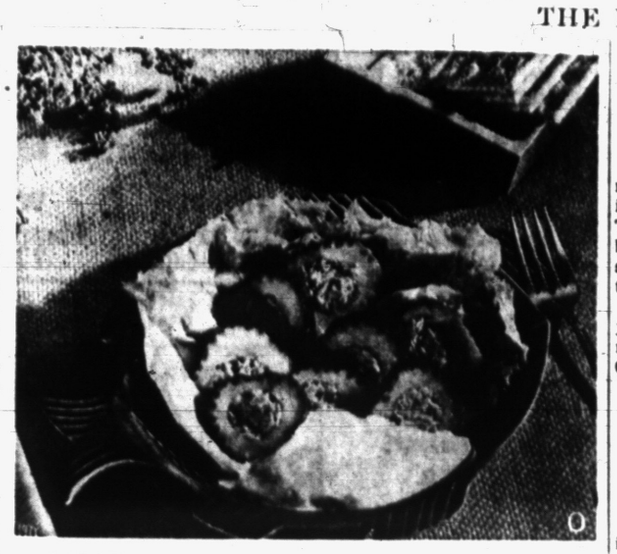

Here's a unique way of combining a popular seafood with a plentiful vegetable—cucumbers stuffed with crab meat. This recipe comes to us from the National Fisheries Institute, who suggests it for making either a plate of appetizers or three or four individual salads. It would also make an attractive and delicious garnish for a main course.

Crab-Stuffed Cucumbers

3 tender young cucumbers
1 can crab meat
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper

Slice off ends of cucumbers. Remove centers with an apple corer. (Reserve centers and chop and mix with canned tomato soup for a quick, unusual soup.) Pick over crab meat and remove any hard fibers. Mix with mayonnaise and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stuff crab meat into hollowed-out cucumbers. Score cucumber skins with a fork.

Wrap stuffed cucumbers in wax paper or aluminum foil and chill thoroughly. Slice and serve on crisp lettuce with a teaspoonful or two of sour cream.

CRAB-STUFFED CUCUMBERS—Here is canned crab meat used in an entirely new way. Cucumbers are hollowed out, filled with crabmeat salad and sliced. They may be the whole salad, appetizers or the garnish on a main dish.

Top Angel Food Cake With Favorite Sauce

Pack an angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department into your picnic basket for dessert. With it, put a can of chocolate sauce, butterscotch sauce, or any other favorite flavor.

At your picnic, slice this good cook book quality cake onto picnic plates, cover with sauce, as Angel Sundaes. You can make them as rich as you please, by adding marshmallow cream and chopped nuts.

Homogenized Milk Affects the Recipe

URBANA, Ill. (UP)—Homemakers are discovering they have to make special allowances for homogenized milk or cream in cooking.

Custards made with homogenized milk are thicker but take twice as long to bake, they reported. Mrs. Pearl Janssen, foods specialist of the University of Illinois said this happens because heat penetrates more slowly through homogenized than unhomogenized milk.

This specially treated milk and cream mixture also curdles more rapidly, she cautioned. The tendency becomes apparent in making creamed soups, scalloped potatoes, caramels, or creamed vegetables.

Mrs. Janssen warned, "don't try to whip homogenized cream, because it's next to impossible." She said that during homogenization the protein surrounds the fat globules, leaving too little protein to surround the air bubbles during whipping.

Here's a Zippy Dressing for Tossed Green Salad

Olive oil, lemon juice, salt, freshly-ground pepper and grated Parmesan cheese make a different and delicious dressing for salad greens. Toss the greens with the dressing just before serving.

If you like garlic, rub the salad bowl with a cut clove of it before adding the greens and dressing.

Give Them New Dessert for National Peach Week

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Although Michigan peaches will not be ripe for a month or more, it is now National Peach Week. The southern and western peaches have been coming to market for several weeks so that we can use them in meal planning.

The weather this year has been just right for the best development of the golden fruit, "The Queen of Fruits, Fit for a King."

Peaches have lots of good points. Not only are they one of our most delicious fruits, but they supply many essential vitamins and minerals, while adding few calories to the diet.

So weight watchers can indulge in peaches often. There are only 46 calories in a medium sized peach.

The origin of the peach is lost in antiquity. It is mentioned in writings of ten centuries before the Christian era. Early Spanish settlers brought it to America where it liked our soil so well that it ran wild. Now more than two thousand varieties of peaches are grown.

Peaches and ice cream are a wonderful combination. Some manufacturers are making peach ice cream which lends itself well to ice cream sandwiches, sundaes and sodas, or for the "a la mode" on pie.

Try this peach sundae with Melba sauce. Peel and halve fresh peaches. Put a scoop of ice cream in each peach half and pour over Melba Sauce.

Melba Sauce

1 cup fresh raspberries, crushed
¼ cup currant jelly
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon water

Combine crushed raspberries, jelly and sugar and bring to a boil. Blend cornstarch and water; mix with small amount of hot mixture. Stir into raspberry mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Strain and cool.

Fresh Peach Pie is another luscious dish. You may take your choice of regular or chiffon pie. We're printing both recipes.

Fresh Peach Pie

4 cups sliced peaches
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Pastry for one 9-inch double crust pie

Mix pie dough and roll out lower crust. Fit into 9-inch pie pan. Wash, peel and slice peaches into a large bowl and sprinkle with lemon juice.

Stir together sugar, flour, salt and cinnamon and pour over peaches. Toss together, coating each peach slice with the sugar mixture.

Fill pie pan with peach slices and sprinkle remaining sugar mixture over the top. Dot with butter. Cover with top crust and seal.

Bake in 425 oven, 35to 40 minutes or until done. Cool. Will serve 6 to 8.

Chiffon Filling, Crushed Peaches

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs separated
½ cup sugar
1½ cups slightly crushed fresh peaches
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon almond flavoring

Soften gelatin in water. Beat egg yolks slightly; stir in ¼ cup sugar, peaches, salt and lemon juice. Cook over boiling water until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat; stir in softened gelatin. Cool until mixture begins to set.

Beat egg whites with remaining ¼ cup sugar until stiff but not dry. Fold into peach mixture together with flavoring. Pour into chilled Corn Flakes Crumb Crust. Chill until firm. Serve garnished with additional peaches if desired.

Bake Muffin Surprise

The next time you make muffins, give the family a surprise. Put a chunk of pineapple on top of batter in each muffin cup. Sprinkle with sugar and bake as usual.

Coffee Dessert Really Delicious

Clever cooks beat a path to their refrigerators to help in meal preparation. This is one of the recipes you make ahead of time to let it chill under the cooling compartment in a serving dish or refrigerator tray. Coffee Charlotte Squares are especially appropriate when warmer days demand a cool dessert to counteract the weather.

To make Coffee Charlotte Squares, spoon a mixture of instant coffee, melted marshmallows and whipped cream over a layer of ladyfingers. Let it chill in the refrigerator, then slice generous servings that do justice to its delicious pure coffee flavor.

Coffee Charlotte Squares make this a time when it's impossible to say no to dessert.

Coffee Charlotte Squares

3 tablespoons instant coffee
¾ cup hot water
30 marshmallows, cut in small pieces (10-ounce package)
1 cup whipping cream
12 double ladyfingers

Dissolve instant coffee in hot water. Add marshmallows. Place over low heat and stir until marshmallows are completely melted. Chill until slightly thickened. Whip cream and fold into coffee mixture.

Separate ladyfingers and line bottom of 10x6-inch or 8x8-inch baking dish, serving dish, or 4½x11-inch refrigerator tray. Top with half of the coffee mixture. Cover with another layer of ladyfingers and top with remaining coffee mixture.

Chill 8 hours or overnight. Cut into squares to serve. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Coconut Sticks, Bread Fritters Easy, Delicious

Hot breads from cold — and in a twinkling. Both of these recipes start with slices of enriched yeast-raised bread; it's as simple as that. All the rest of the "fixings" are ready at hand on your kitchen shelf. In just a few minutes, you can have a choice of piping hot sweet breads to serve with long frosty summer drinks.

Whether it's iced coffee for a late morning pickup, or a fruit cooler for the girls at afternoon cards, or iced tea for your husband and youngsters after a long hard day, you'll find that one or both of these recipes provoke applause. "How do you do it?" they'll ask you. And the reply — "It was nothing, really" — is almost so.

Toasted Coconut Sticks

1 egg slightly beaten
½ cup milk
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
4 slices enriched yeast-raised bread
½ cup shredded coconut

Combine egg, milk, sugar and almond extract in a shallow bowl. Trim crusts from bread. Cut into ½" strips. Dip bread strips in egg and milk mixture, then place on greased baking sheet. Top with coconut and bake in 375 degree oven 10 to 15 minutes or until coconut is lightly browned. Makes about 12.

Bread Fritters

1 egg, well beaten
2 tablespoons sifted flour
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon rum flavoring
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
¼ cup melted margarine or butter
6 slices enriched yeast-raised bread

Combine egg, flour, sugar, rum flavoring and salt. Gradually blend in milk. Stir in 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter. Trim crusts from bread. Cut bread in quarters. Dip bread into milk mixture and fry in remaining margarine or butter until brown on both sides. Serve hot sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Makes 24.

U.S. Officer Is Holder of German Iron Cross

MEUNCHWILER, Germany (UP) — Lt. Col. Kurt Katzman of the U. S. Army Medical Corps is one of the few American officers who has been decorated with the German Iron Cross.

Born in Hannover, Katzman fought for the Germans in World War I and, in addition to the Iron Cross, received the German equivalent of the American Purple Heart decoration for wounds in action.

Katzman, emigrated to the United States in 1938 and joined the U. S. Army in 1943.

He presently is stationed at the 804th U. S. Army hospital here as an ear, nose and throat specialist.

Policy Racketeers Run Right Into a Warrant

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Police Major James F. Thompson outfoxed some policy racket operators.

Knocking on the front door of the operators' lair, he announced, "It's Thompson of the gambling squad with a search warrant."

Three men later charged with common gaming made the expected dash out the back door where Thompson had stationed two officers. Thompson had armed them with the search warrant.

Use Twin Countertops

Twin countertop lavatories are a wise investment for homeowners who want to relieve some of the bathroom congestion during morning and evening rush hours. Twin lavatories permit two people to wash at the same time, and the countertop area provides plenty of space for convenient placement of toilet articles while the fixtures are in use.

Spiced Iced Tea Tangy, Cooling

There's nothing more refreshing, with a promise of relief from the sweltering heat, than iced tea —glistening cold and glittering through the transparent walls of a frosty glass pitcher.

Just plain iced tea is always welcome at the table or between meals because of all summertime beverages, iced tea holds up its promise to quench your thirst and cool you off.

But iced tea can also be the base of many other summer drinks such as mixed fruit drinks and punches to serve between meals, with meals or for large groups for special occasion parties. Here is one that will come in handy.

Frosty Spiced Tea

¾ cup cold water
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ teaspoon whole cloves
6 2-inch cinnamon sticks
Dash of nutmeg
4 cups boiling water
3 tablespoons tea
6 lemon wedges
Ice cubes

To make syrup, combine and simmer water, sugar, salt and spices over low heat for 20 minutes. Strain and set aside.

To make tea base, bring 4 cups water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. Immediately add 3 tablespoons tea. Brew three to five minutes. Stir and strain into spiced syrup.

Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses. Serve with lemon wedge and stick of cinnamon in each glass. Makes about six servings.

Cut Franks Lengthwise

Cut steaming hot frankfurters in half lengthwise and serve with hot cole slaw for a summer supper. A fruit cup of melon and pineapple will make a refreshing dessert on this menu.

Next time you make chocolate cream pie, try topping it with a thin layer of whipped cream that has been sweetened with brown sugar and spiced with a dash of cinnamon.

AMERICA'S LARGEST SELLING SUGARS

Booklet Gives Tips on Canning

Modern homemakers no longer depend upon hearsay methods for preserving foods. They want the very latest information backed by scientific research.

Since you are getting your equipment ready for canning—before the rush of summer work—why not check up on the direction book?

We refer to the "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" publication by the United States Department of Agriculture. It is number AIS-64.

Call or write your local home demonstration agent, Mrs. Frieda Bennett, 1260 West Boulevard, for your copy. If her supply of the bulletin is exhausted, write directly to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College. This bulletin not only answers your canning questions but gives you pictures showing each step in the canning process.

Before you ever buy jars or assemble your canning equipment you will want to review this illustrated bulletin.

The timetable is most important. Insufficient processing could defeat all other efforts.

You may wonder how many quarts of apples you can get from a bushel. Or how many strawberries from a crate. This information is given in concise form.

If you already know the steps in successful canning, be a good citizen and help an inexperienced homemaker to get started. These four points should be emphasized:

Can only fresh food, in tiptop condition.

Use boiling water bath for fruits and tomatoes. Use steam-pressure canner for all other vegetables.

Have equipment in good working order.

Follow up-to-date directions backed by research.

Raspberry Torte Made With Angel Food Cake

Raspberries are ripe — bright and plump. And angel food cake is at bargain prices. Put the two together with rich whipped cream and you've made a delectable summer dessert — raspberry torte.

When you shop for raspberries, look for rich colorful ones. And if you aren't going to use them immediately, spread the raspberries out in a shallow pan and store them in the refrigerator. Just before using, wash gently by lifting the berries in and out of a bowl of cold water.

You'll find the bargain angel food cake at your local bakery. Along with this welcomed bargain price, there's something else good about angel food cakes from your baker this summer. They're lighter and tenderer — really heavenly angel food cakes.

Now for the recipe for Raspberry STorte.

Raspberry Torte

1 pint raspberries
¼ cup sugar
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
1 baker's angel food cake

Reserve about 30 whole raspberries for garnishing top of torte. Crush remaining raspberries and sprinkle with sugar. Whip cream. Using a very sharp knife, cut angel food cake into 4 layers. Fill each layer with crushed raspberries and whipped cream. Top with whipped cram and whole raspberries. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

SPICY BARBECUED CHICKEN—Package Frozen Chicken is ideal to carry on picnics. Hours later it's still cold and fresh, ready to cook over a glowing fire. Here individual parts are brushed with a spicy barbecue sauce and slowly cooked over coals.

Frozen Chicken Best Bet to Cook on Outdoor Grill

Our early American forefathers made a great event of outdoor cookery. They were great for all-day affairs, usually with political overtones. So you see we have inherited our love of cooking in the open.

Frozen chicken is especially right for on-the-spot barbecuing in the backyard or at picnics. You can take along packages of frozen chicken and still be confident that two or three hours later your chicken will still be cold and fresh. In fact this will be just enough time to allow the chicken to thaw.

You will find frozen chicken in cut-up-to-order styles, grill-ready and pan - ready, too.

Take your choice of split broilers, cut-up fryers, or packages of individual parts. Any and all will barbecue splendidly and here are the details to give you the necessary know-how.

Spicy Barbecued Chicken

Thaw cut-up frying chicken according to package directions.

Let fire burn down to a glowing bed of coals, no higher than 2 to 3 inches. Low even heat is essential to keep chicken from browning too fast.

Place chicken on grill, skin side up, using long handled forks or tongs. Avoid piercing the meat as this will dry it out. Brush with Spicy Barbecue Sauce.

Turn chicken every five minutes; brush with barbecue sauce. Watch closely so chicken does not cook too fast. Save some sauce to sprinkle over chicken before serving.

Barbecuing time varies from 45 minutes to 1 hour. When bird is done, knife cuts easily into thickest part of drumstick and no pinkness is visible at the bone.

Spicy Barbecue Sauce

½ cup butter or margarine, melted
1½ teaspoons salt
1 large clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup catsup
¼ cup diced onion

Before going on picnic, melt fat and combine with salt, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, catsup, and onion. Place in tightly sealed jar in refrigerator until picnic time. Brush over chicken during barbecuing. Makes 1¼ cups.

Macaroon Crumbs Make Taffy Dessert

You'll like Taffy Macaroon Chiffon right now. It's cool and luscious, in honor of the hot weather still with us. Yet it looks ahead — energy rich and strength building to help the family through the next hot day, and the week to come.

Taffy Macaroon Chiffon

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ cup New Orleans molasses
¼ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
3 eggs, separated
3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup dried macaroon crumbs

Soften gelatine in ¼ cup cold water. Stir cream of tartar into molasses. Add sugar, vanilla, salt and water. Beat egg yolks in top of double boiler, and add molasses mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Add gelatine; stir until dissolved. Chill until syrupy. Beat egg whites stiff; fold in sugar; fold into gelatine mixture. Whip cream until stiff, fold into gelatine mixture with macaroon crumbs. Pour into 8" ring mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 8 servings.

Ham-Egg Mold Is Zesty Fare

Deviled ham or one of the canned meat spreads mixed with hard cooked eggs and crisp vegetables and molded in unflavored gelatine is an excellent addition for summer food platters.

This jellied meat dish goes well with potato salad. The recipe may be doubled for a company buffet.

Deviled Ham and Egg Molds

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 2¼-ounce cans deviled ham
1½ teaspoons grated onion
½ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
¼ cup diced pimiento
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped

Soften gelatine in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in salt, lemon juice and Tabasco; cool.

Stir gelatine mixture into mayonnaise; blend in deviled ham. Mix in remaining ingredients. Turn into 6 individual molds or a 3-cup mold; chill until firm.

Unmold and garnish with tomato wedges. Yield: 6 servings.

Stuffing Tomatoes?

When you are stuffing tomatoes for summer salad plates cut a slice off the stem end of the tomatoes, then scoop out the seeds and pulp with a teaspoon. Now sprinkle the insides of the tomatoes with salt and invert while you are preparing the filling.

Paint Without Drafts

Try to avoid painting with water-thinned interior paints on hot dry days for the paint will dry so quickly that it's difficult to avoid getting seams between sections of paint.

If you must paint during these conditions, keep doors and windows closed so there won't be any drafts to speed up the drying time of the paint.

When you are frying chicken in lard, have enough fat in the skillet so that when melted it will be atoub one-half inch deep.

Make Citrus Ice Cubes

Golden Citrus Ice Cubes add charm to tall, icy glasses of lemonade. Combine 1 cup fresh orange juice, 1 cup fresh lemon juice, 1 cup corn syrup and 2 cups water. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze. Truly a colorful and delicious addition to any of your favorite coolers.

MAPLE LEAF DAIRY

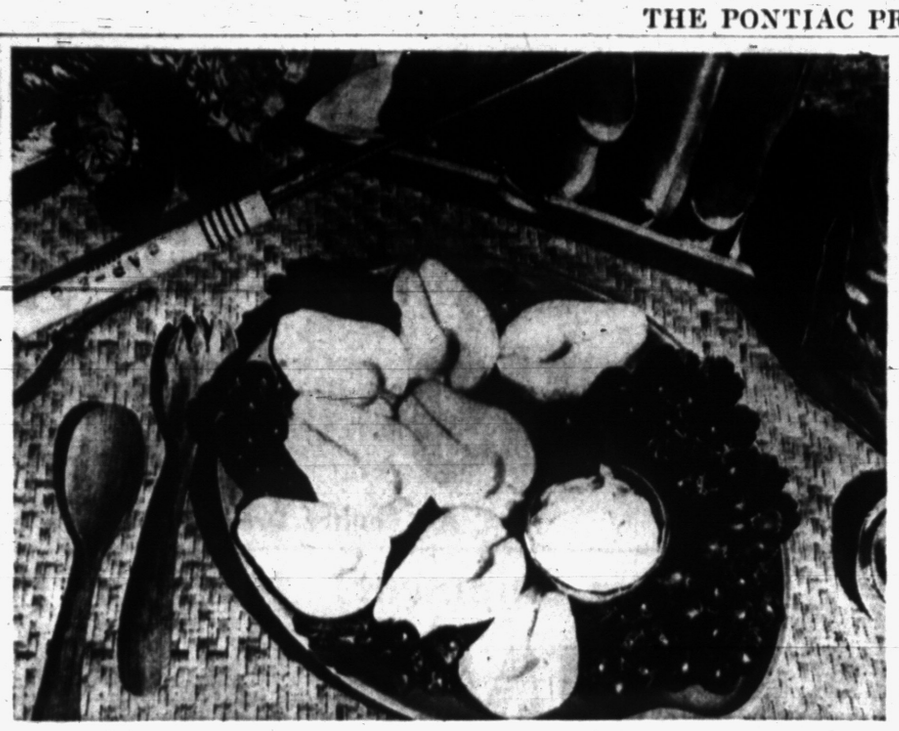

Feature Pears in Patio Salad

Fresh pears add to summertime's wonderful fresh food supply. This recipe for Patio Salad comes to us from California.

Patio Pear Salad

Four ripe Bartlett pears
2 pounds red and green grapes
Mayonnaise
Washed garden leaves

Wash, halve and core pears. Brush cut surfaces with fruit juice to prevent discoloration. Wash grapes and garden leaves. Arrange pears and grapes on large platter or chop plate. Garnish with garden leaves and serve with dish of mayonnaise. Makes 8 servings.

PATIO SALAD — For your backyard picnic plan an eye-appealing fruit salad. Bartlett pears halved, small bunches of grapes and light mayonnaise make a delicious and vitamin-packed combination. The makings for this salad can be carried to any picnic without too much trouble.

Try Deviled Ham in That Lunch for Backyard

With a sigh of relief and even a tinge of envy, you're "packing" your family off for a bike-hike or a day at the shore—or perhaps it's just to the back yard.

No matter what the reason or occasion, it is important that they have a nourishing, appetizing meal in the open—so make sure you put-up a hearty pack.

Start with a tasty deviled ham sandwich, made with a zestful combination of deviled ham and other sandwich favorites.

Deviled Jumbo

Combine 1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham with 1 chopped hard-cooked egg, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise and a little minced onion. Spread on white or rye bread and top with paper-thin slices tomato and green pepper. Spread another slice bread with prepared mustard and put together to make sandwich. Makes 2-3 cup filling, enough for 4 sandwiches.

Set Out Melon, Fruits for Luncheon 'Makings'

Fill a large bowl with chilled melon balls or cubes. Surround with smaller bowls containing fresh fruits in season to use as toppings on the melon balls.

Suggested fruits: banana slices sprinkled with toasted coconut or chopped nuts; sliced, sweetened strawberries; whole raspberries; tiny bunches of Thompson seedless grapes.

This is a wonderful menu idea for a help-yourself patio or porch meal.

Outdoor Chef Discovered New Way to Grill Steaks

The growing popularity of outdoor cooking has brought with it a whole new school of food preparation—as well as an array of backyard chefs. Just moving the cooking locale from the kitchen range to the barbecue releases a daring and willingness to experiment with food which doesn't exist indoors.

More often than not it is the man of the house who takes over. The sight of a thick steak and a bed of gleaming coals puts his ingenuity to work. His innovations become a success story to be passed on to his business associates the next day.

It was the venturesomeness of an outdoor amateur cook which resulted in the newest recipe now being exchanged by collectors of pit recipes.

The originator of this recipe wanted to preserve the tenderness of a choice steak by slow-even cooking. At the same time he wanted to seal in the rich meat juices with their healthful minerals.

He accomplished this by packing the steak with a thick coating of moistened salt. Presto, the hot coals formed a shell-like crust which drew the heat and steadied the cooking temperature. At the same time the heavy salt crust prevented the juices from dripping away into the fire.

Before serving, the salt coating is scraped off to reveal a seasoned, tender, juicy just-right steak.

The recipe for cooking a salt-packed steak on a barbecue grill follows:

Use steak about 2 inches thick. Trim off surplus fat. Make a paste of 1 cup of salt and 5 tablespoons of water. Spread a ¼ inch layer of the paste on both sides of the steak. Cooking time depends on the depth and heat of the coals.

For camp cooking, try tossing the salt-packed steak in the live coals. The intense heat forms a crust which roasts the meat evenly, while preserving all the natural juices. Peel off the crust when serving.

A salt-packed steak can be broiled with equally satisfying results in an oven range. With controlled temperatures, the broiling time for a rare steak is 5 minutes on each side; for medium rare, 8 minutes on each side; and for well done, 10 minutes on each side.

Decorating a cake with a special design? Frost the cake first, of course, then with a toothpick draw your design lightly on the frosting; fill in with a decorating tube.

Use Double Boiler to Scramble Eggs

If you like your scrambled eggs creamy, try this method of cooking them.

Double-Boiler Eggs With Cheese

4 eggs
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup medium-fine grated cheddar cheese

Put eggs, milk and salt in mixing bowl, beat only enough to combine yolks and whites so there will be as little foaminess as possible.

Melt butter in top of double boiler; place over hot (not boiling) water, being sure that wafer does not touch bottom of pan in which you have eggs. Add egg mixture. As eggs begin to chicken, draw large spoon across bottom of pan so as to keep eggs in fairly large pieces. (Do not cover.)

Continue to cook and stir in this way until most of egg is set, adding cheese with last stirring. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

North America has about 225 million people.

Put Post-Vacation Meal in Freezer

When you and your family return home from vacation, wouldn't it be a pleasant change to find that someone had prepared a complete appetizing meal, waiting for you merely to heat and serve?

That would avoid the sort of post-vacation meal that is "thrown together" or the one that can't be served until after a hurried shopping trip to the food store.

The way to arrange for some thoughtful person to precook this meal is to act the part yourself and take advantage of a home freezer, suggests the home economics institute of a freezer company. Long before you leave on vacation, you can prepare the future meal, put the various dishes together and freeze them in your home freezer.

A great variety of cooked main dishes, as well as salads, desserts and beverages, can be frozen successfully.

Each American consumes an average of 164 quarts of milk a year.

Asian Defense Parley Planned

U.S. Proposed That 10 Nations Make Up SATO —British Want More

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States, Britain and other friendly nations have agreed to call an international conference late next month to write a defensive alliance designed to protect the non-Communist lands of Southeast Asia against Communist conquest.

Highly placed diplomatic authorities said an announcement of the meeting is expected shortly.

The agreement was reached, these officials said, among Secretary of State Dulles, Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, British Foreign Secretary Eden and others at Geneva after it became certain that the fighting in Indochina would be ended by negotiated peace with the Communists.

Some officials told a reporter the meeting probably will be held some place in the Asian area and that the level of representation—Foreign Ministers or persons of lesser rank—is yet to be determined.

The United States originally proposed that 10 nations make up the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. They were the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and the Indochinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The British wanted to bring in as many additional Asian nations as possible.

Modest Charlie Costigan Happy Fitting Vault Doors

By CHARLES MERCER for HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—My frivolous thought for the day recently cast a feeble ray of optimism on the effects of an atomic bombing. It could, I thought, just happen to do a little good for a very few survivors by destroying (1) birth certificate records and (2) marriage license records.

The boon would be great to women in their 40s who long to be 31. Who could deny their claim to eternal youth if the record were destroyed? To some women the claim of youth appears so precious that apparently they would gladly forfeit their stocks, bonds and bank accounts to a holacaust.

Then there is the case of some married couples. Imagine John and Mary wandering back to the wreckage, and suppose that Mary has been tired of married life with John for some time. As they approach each other in the smoking ruins, John cries, "Darling!" Mary scowls at him and says, "Get away from me. Who are you anyway?" John, aghast, exclaims, "Your beloved husband." Smiling triumphantly, Mary says, "Prove it, you heel." And there goes another marriage.

This frivolous thought occurred to me as I was strolling down the west bank of Fifth Avenue on my way to chat with a fellow named Charlie Costigan.

Costigan, who lives in Oradell, N.J., was preoccupied at the time installing a 30-ton door on a massive vault in the new Manufacturers Trust Co. building. This vault, by the way, sits right up front in the building behind what will be one of the world's biggest sheets of plate glass. Thus if a burglar ever starts tampering with Charlie Costigan's big door he'll attract quite an audience on Fifth Avenue.

Costigan is a lean, limber, quick man who looks 50 and is 60 years old. The Mosler Safe Co., which employs him and his crew of men to go around the country installing vaults, says there are only a half-dozen men in the nation who can do the job that Charlie does.

This hasn't gone to Costigan's head. He is, in fact, remarkably modest. When confronted by the statement he "flips vault doors like pancakes," he smiles helplessly at the floor.

"I am," he says, "a traveling mechanic."

The obvious fact about a vault is that it's no safer than its door. If you've ever put on a screen door you know it's a tricky operation. And when you visualize a 30-ton door that must fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch and swing at the pressure of a finger you can imagine the highly exacting nature of Costigan's work.

"It is," he says, "all a matter of balance."

While we talked, his crew was jacking up the 30-ton door and cribbing it preparatory to the big moment when they'd swing it across the opening and Costigan would delicately set it in place.

Finally I put the big question to Costigan. "This vault would withstand an atomic bombing—wouldn't it?"

"Why, yes," said Costigan thoughtfully. "Yes, I think it would."

Then, I told Costigan about my frivolous thought, my Fifth Avenue fantasy. He listened politely, but gradually he took on the expression of a man who feared another was putting words in his mouth.

Slowly he backed away. "Well," he said, "I've got to get back to the job."

He was happy to get his hands on something solid like a 30-ton door that had to fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch.

Playing With Dynamite When Teaching on 13th

TUPPER LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—You can't call the Northeastern Loggers Assn. superstitious.

The cirriculum: the handling of dynamite for blasting.

Student Pastors Cover Much Ground

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—The Garrett Biblical Institute reports that one of its students traveled the equivalent of twice around the world while attending school and serving as minister in two Minnesota towns each week for two years.

The student is Hartlen Boche, South St. Paul, Minn., a graduate of Hamline University who is studying for the ministry at Garrett. He made weekly round trips to Jordan and Lydia, Minn.

The Institute said that 40 per cent of its students are combining studying with experience in the pulpit. The school usually assigns them within a radius of 250 miles in the seven states from Ohio to Minnesota. The program calls for the student to serve full-time during one quarter and half-time the next.

The students earned a total of $400,000 and ministered to more than 30,000 communicants in 31 denominations last year, the Institute added.

Aircraft Constructon Goal Is More Speed

WASHINGTON (UP) — The aircraft industry is constantly developing ways and means to produce planes faster.

The Aircraft Industries Association reports that one manufacturer cut more than 3,000 man-hours per month off production of a single jet plane by installing a U-shaped assembly line instead of the customary straight row.

Another manufacturer installed an automatic assembly line which increased his capacity 250 per cent and cut floor space to 42 per cent of the original area.

Steam Heat Abolished

YORK, Neb. (UP)—Hot weather note:

Steam heating service for the business district will be discontinued in October 1955.

Company Manager Harold Bochned told the city council that the cost of repairing mains and the distribution system could not be covered by income from the heating system.

Educators Return to Old Writing Form

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — One of the "three R's" has a new look in this city's public schools, but educators said it actually is an old look.

Youngsters are now being taught manuscript writing instead of cursive script. Manuscript writing is made up of single, compact letters, whereas script calls for flowing letters joined to form words.

School officials admitted manuscript writing looks like printing. But it's not, they said. Manuscript writing dates back to the time when writing was considered an art and was known only to monks and scribes.

Pupils today are generally taught manuscript writing in the first to third grades. Then they are shifted to cursive script.

Educators said the shift is difficult for many children. They hope to improve the quality of students' writing by continuing to teach manuscript writing. It's easier to read, they said, and is just as fast to write.

Snead's 'Tree-Shot', Porky's Putts Mark PGA

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

ST. PAUL (AP)—Sam Snead, maneuvering with a sharp list to the starboard and a grouchy look that was the natural result of a stiff neck, had to climb a tree on the 15th hole to make a reasonably good score in the first qualifying round of the 36th PGA championship.

Ed "Porky" Oliver, suffering from a painful kidney ailment that has forced him to drop out of several recent tournaments, holed putts from all over the course for a five-under-par 66.

And 28 players shot 71 or better over the barren, sun-hardened Keller Course to turn the opening round of the nation's toughest test of professional golf into a race against par for the 64 available places in the match play bracket.

That was the story as 135 of America's leading pro golfers headed into today's qualifying second round of the PGA tournament with the prospect that a 36-hole total of 146 or better would be needed to get into the showdown stage of match play, starting tomorrow.

Snead's "shot" from a tree along side the 15th hole was the high spot of the opening round in which the pros took Keller's par of 36-35—71 to pieces, as had been predicted.

The West Virginia walloper, suffering from a recurrence of the stiffness in his neck that plagued him all through the Open championship, almost pulled out of the tournament. But he decided to give it a try and until he hit the 225-yard 15th, Snead was doing very well.

There his tee shot was caught by the wind which gave the contestants troublesome moments all day. The ball lodged in the fork of a tree, some 15 feet above the ground, and Sammy, stiff neck and all, had to go up after it. He knocked it out and got a five on the par 3 hole for a creditable score of 35-38—73.

That was close to the edge of the qualifying limit heading into the second round. And Snead, in spite of being a three-time winner of the PGA title and the best gate attraction in sight, had to qualify just like everybody else except defending champion Wally Burkemo.

Oliver, a 37-year-old tournament veteran with a Falstaffian appearance and unfailing good nature, bounced back from a frustrating series of tournament failures to shoot the best round of the day—34-32—66.

The real business of the tournament begins tomorrow when Burkemo and 63 others buckle down in head-to-head matches. There'll be two rounds of 18-hole duels Friday—the day that usually finds many of the "name" players shunted to the sidelines.

Two strokes behind Oliver were a trio of tournament toughened players. They were Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 U.S. Open champion; gnarled Johnny Revolta, a 43-year-old veteran who is rated as one of the nation's top teaching pros; and 47-year-old Orville White of Aiken, S.C., who has been out of tournament competition for eight years because of his health.

Bracketed at 69 were Ed Furgol, the lame-armed Open champion; Marty (no relation) Furgol, Jack Burke, Tony Holguin, Fred Haas and an "unknown" club pro, Len Wagner of Cincinnati.

Ringers Galore

World Horseshoe Test Qualifying Set Today

MURRAY, Utah (AP)—Feel lucky when you toss a ringer in that backyard game of horseshoes? Here are more than 50 men who feel definitely unlucky if they miss.

They are the entrants in the world horseshoe pitching tournament who play through the qualifying round today to determine the lineup for competitive matches which follow.

Take Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., for example. He's the defending champion, the winner of last year's meet which also was held in this little Utah community a few miles south of Salt Lake City.

Allen got the title by winning all but one of the 35 games he played in a round-robin meet. He scored ringers 83.2 per cent of his throws—that's better than eight in every 10 tries.

There is Guy Zimmerman of Danville, Calif. He pitched a perfect game in the 1948 tournament in Milwaukee, 44 ringers in 44 tries.

Each entrant throws 200 shoes in today's qualifying round. He scores three points for each ringer and one point for each non-ringer that lands within six inches of the stake. The 36 men with the highest scores go on into the match play, competing first in groups of sixes.

Top four men in each group continue in further eliminations, narrowing the ranks to six. Two highest in that group then will tangle July 28 in a best three of five series for the championship.

'Comeback Kids'

Polo Chiefs Become Darlings of Fans for Ability to Win Under Pressure

Pontiac Chiefs were up to their old tricks in the early season indoor polo doubleheader at the Ivory Polo Club. They were picked to lose to Strawberry Hill in the first place. The judgment was confirmed when Strawberry Hill bounced into an early 5-2 lead.

At that point, the Chiefs started the kind of comeback that has made them the darlings of the fans in the regular Wednesday night polo games at the Lahser and Eight Mile Road grounds in Detroit. With less than two minutes left, Chiefs laced in the tying goal and that's the way the game ended.

Chief reason the Pontiac polo team has earned such a reputation for coming through strong against odds is Capt. Roy Pulver, Pontiac businessman and a fiery competitor. He sets the tempo for the team. It's a fast tempo.

Since the team was organized almost 10 years ago, it has never had a losing season. Capt Pulver modestly concedes that it has been "pretty successful," actually, the trio is one of the midwest's better low-goal combinations.

Teammates have come and gone over the years, but Pulver thinks his present Birmingham cohorts—Rich Gibson, (2914 Leon?) and Bob Sarber (4510 Beach Road)—are better than most. This is the second year that Pulver, Gibson and Sarber have ridden together for the Chiefs. They get better as they go along.

Pulver, who lives at 2360 Greenlawn Drive in Pontiac, is a one-time basketball and football star in South Dakota. A horseman all his life, he tried his hand at polo a dozen years ago at the suggestion of John F. Ivory, one of the livelist promoters the sport has ever known. Pulver has been a poloist ever since.

Gibson and Sarber are Pulver's kind of players. Both are letter-perfect riders. They are new to the game, but they have come along fast. And they always play to win.

Gibson comes from a polo-playing family. His older brother Fred once captained the Michigan State College polo team. Big brother Arthur played on the Spartan aggregation, too. His dad, Jack, is an outstanding horse trainer with a fondness for any sport involving horses.

Sarber's background is similar. His father was a professional huntsman for 20 years a Bloomfield Hills Hunt Club and Metamora. Sarber had a fine background as a rider of hunters and jumpers before he elected to try his hand at polo.

Cubs' Bob Rush Is Top Hitter Among Pitchers

Chicago Hurler Posts .370 Average; Boston's Brewer Leads AL

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — National League pitchers are in no great hurry to throw to Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs this season.

Rush, husky righthander, is the top batter among major league pitchers with a .370 average Associated Press figures show.

Bob has produced 17 hits, including three doubles, in 46 times at bat. He had one of four hits the Cubs were able to tap Sal Maglie of the Giants for yesterday in their 2-1 losing effort.

In the American League, rookie Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox has the highest percentage, .297 on 11 hits in 37 trips. He has a double and a triple and has driven in five runs.

In six previous seasons in the National League, Rush was able to compile a lifetime batting average of only .168 and finished with a .111 mark last year. Rush has one big league home run to his credit.

Johnny Podres, who is expected to rejoin the Brooklyn Dodgers today after recovering from an appendectomy, and Don Newcombe, another Dodger pitcher, are the only others with .300 batting marks, Podres is at .313 with 10 hits in 32 at bats and Newcombe is .310 with nine safeties in 29 trips.

Behind Brewer in the American League come Bob Feller of Cleveland with .280, Billy Pierce of the White Sox, .273 and Harry Byrd of the Yankees, .269.

Johnny Antonelli of the Giants, Paul Minner of the Cubs and Joe Coleman of Baltimore are the home run leaders among pitchers with two apiece.

Remember?

This smartly attired golfer was Pontiac's champion in the late 1920s and still is a fine, low-handicap player at an Oakland County club. He formerly held the course record for Pontiac's Municipal links. His identity will be found on today's final sport page.

WEDNESDAY'S HOME RUNS

Borkowski, Reds; Ennis, Phillies; Mathews, Braves; Moon, Cards; Regan, Doby, Rosen, Indians; Williams, Red Sox; Limmer, DeMaestri, Finigan, Athletics.

FRIENDS CALL—Tennis champion Maureen Connolly, injured in a horse-truck accident, receives a call from a friend in a hospital in San Diego yesterday. "Little Mo" suffered a broken and seriously cut leg when the horse she was riding shied and tossed her against a cement truck Tuesday.

Wayne Golfer Leads Michigan Open Field

By H. GUY MOATS

Firing two rounds of golf over the Lakepointe Country Club's layout, site for the 1954 Michigan Open championship that begins next week, at an even par clip, stocky Dave Mendelson, Wayne University student topped the field of 187 hopefuls.

Nine professionals and 28 amateurs made the grade for the big state tourney July 30-Aug. 1 at Lakepointe. In the other half of the qualifying test, played over Forest Lake's rolling terrain, Tommy Tyson and Jerry Beck, a pair of young professionals held top spot, with 71s. Ninety players made the tour at Forest Lake and 15 pros and 16 amateurs got into the tourney's first round. Altogether the qualifying field totaled 69.

The battle between Tyson and Beck was the real highlight of the qualifying test. Tommy apparently began to click and he reeled off five birdies on the last six holes. But his bid for the medal was lost when he bogied the final hole while Tyson holed out in par. Tyson is from Franklin Hills, Beck from Port Huron's Black River club.

Forest Lake's qualifiers included five from the Pontiac area.

They were led by Pontiac Country Club's Ken Martin with 74.

Midge Cova fired 76, Lloyd Syron, son of Frank Syron of Pontiac Country Club had 77, the same total turned in by Frank Wilson, former PHS all-around sports star. Al Moreau carded a 78.

Nearly 100 others are exempt from the preliminary rounds of the event, and this list includes most of the top pros and amateurs in the state.

Four others had 71s at Lakepointe, including amateurs Milt Leitz, John Tomes and Bob Nonamaker (one of the Birmingham invitational aces), and pro Benny Davis. Frank Connolly, a top district amateur, had 72.

Ron Hannon and Dave Gibson, at Forest Lake had 73s, while five others finished in 74. There were also a 75, seven 76s, eight at 77 and seven at 78.

Homers Blast Tiger Hopes as A's Snap Losing String

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' hopes of sweeping the four-game series from the lowly Philadelphia Athletics went over the walls with gopher balls last night.

Normally a sinker is a tough pitch to hit. It comes up at you like an ordinary fast ball. But the bottom drops out as the ball gets to the plate. And there you are swinging at the breeze, or hitting an easy out.

For much of last night's game George Zuverink's sinker was working. At one span he put down 17 of 18 hitters.

But the big Dutchman's sinkers rose three times and sailed off the bats of Philadelphia hitters over the walls to account for all the runs as Detroit went down to a 4-1 defeat.

Tigers, who had swept a doubleheader from the last-place Philadelphians only 24 hours earlier, had been hoping to win all four games in a battle to keep either Washington or Boston from knocking them out of 4th place. Instead, the Tigers take the field in the Philadelphia finale tonight only one game ahead of both clubs.

The Philadelphia victory broke a 10-game losing streak. It was achieved by John Dixon, a huge North Carolina pitcher who hadn't started a game this season, and the home run hitting of Lou Limmer, Joe De Maestri and Jim Finigan.

Limmer hit his with a man on in the 1st inning. Actually they were the only runs needed but De Maestri pounded a four-bagger in the 5th and Finigan followed with a solo but so long blast in the 7th.

The home runs — making it 79 off Tiger pitchers this season — were too much for George. Although he held the A's to only six hits, Zuverink left the ball park at the end of the game with a 5-5 record.

Tigers scored their lone run when Wayne Belardi opende the 4th inning with a double. He moved to 3rd on Al Kaline's single and eventually scored on Frank Bolling's infield out.

Southpaw Al Aber (3-3) was nominated to take the mound tonight for the Tigers. Charlie Bishop (0-1) will handle the pitching chores for Philadelphia.

Amateur Tests Set for Today

Fifty-Eight Play for Places in Nationals, at Two Sites

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty-eight golfers, first of an army of 1,294, take to the fairways today and fire the opening salvo in a five-week campaign to determine the 1954 U. S. Amateur champion.

Thirty-six of the hopefuls will be shooting for five qualifying berths at Boston. The remaining 22 will try for three spots at Milwaukee.

The 1,294 total entry is the 2nd largest. The record number was 1,416 in 1951.

Of the huge field, 1,267 players will try for 173 qualifiers' places at 37 sectional sites of which the Boston and Milwaukee trials are the 1st. Salt Lake City and Seattle will hold their trials on Monday with all others scheduled for Tuesday.

Twenty-seven players of the original list are exempt and have been certified directly to the tournament proper, which will be held at the Country Club of Detroit course, Aug. 23-28. Gene Littler, who won the 1953 title, has turned pro and a new king will be crowned.

The exempt players include the members of the Canadian, Mexican and U. S. teams competing in Americas Cup matches in London, Ont., Hunt and Country Club Aug. 12-13, plus various champions.

Senator Bonus Rookie Won't Start Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harmon Killebrew, the 18-year-old Idaho infielder who cost the Washington Senators a reputed $30,000 bonus, won't play his first major league game this Sunday after all.

Clark Griffith, club president, made the announcement after reading stories saying the Senators were interested in a fresh attraction to stimulate gate receipts. The club had said yesterday Killebrew, a find of Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho), would start at second base against Detroit here Sunday.

Officials professed uncertainty as to when Killebrew would make his big-league bow. Griffith said it would be up to Manager Bucky Harris and no one else.

"I'm not attempting to make any money by exploiting a young, untried ballplayer," Griffith said.

Ed Listopad Returns to Chicago Cards

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Veteran guard Ed Listopad returned to the Chicago Cardinals after nearly two years in the Armed Forces.

The Cardinals consider the one-time Wake Forest star sort of a luck charm. He was a starting guard with the 1952 team which won three out of its first four games. Then Listopad left and the Cardinals dropped six while winning two.

Also reporting as the team held its first scrimmage of the year was Jim Sears, former University of Southern California halfback. Sears was obtained by the Cardinals in a deal with the Baltimore Colts.

The average running horse today stands 16.2 hands and weighs about 1,100 pounds, the track records show.

Detroiter Ward Upsets British Champ Pompey

CHICAGO (AP)—Upset by tank-like Moses Ward of Detroit in his American debut, British Empire middleweight and light heavyweight champion Yolande Pompey still feels he's the new blood this country's televised boxing is seeking.

"I just couldn't get started," said the powerful but somewhat slow puncher from Trinidad after dropping the 10-round split-decision before national TV cameras in Chicago Stadium last night.

"I've fought better fighters and I can do better."

It was only the second defeat in 31 pro starts for Pompey who went into the fight the favorite.

Ward, who posted his 19th victory in 26 fights, came out of the free-swinging scrap with ample respect for the West Indian.

"He's a very good puncher," Ward declared. "His left jab is as hard as the rights of a lot of fighters. It hurt me in the seventh round when he drove me to the ropes in the corner."

Pompey weighed 163½, Ward 162.

The low-slung Detroiter piled up his winning margin early and withstood Pompey's determined bid in the last three rounds.

Ward made Yolande wince with a right to the head in the second, and brought blood to the British champion's nose with a flurry of left hooks and rights in the third.

In the sixth Ward worked Pompey into a corner and scored with a punishing series of blows to the head.

"I thought I had him then," the Detroit slugger said later. "But he rolled out of there. He's plenty clever."

Landy-Bannister Race Set for TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The initial meeting of John Landy of Australia, and Roger Bannister of England, since they became the first runners to do a mile in less than four minutes will be televised over the NBC network on Saturday, Aug. 7, it was announced today.

They will meet in the final of the British Empre Games mile if both survive the trials on Aug. 5. The telecast will be "live" from Vancouver, site of the games.

NY Giants Set Record for Pinch-Hit Homers

NEW YORK (AP) — By smacking two pinch - hit homers in the same inning, the Giants set a major league record against the Cardinals.

Bobby Hoffman and Dusty Rhodes were the pinch swingers who did the trick.

They didn't come in succession because Wes Westrum came to bat between the pair. He also hit a four - bagger. The Giants won 7-6.

Motors Clinch Share in Title on Shutout Win

Blank 1953 Champion Stadium Inn Club; End Season Friday

General Motors last night clinched at least a share of the City Men's Softball League regular-season championship, blanking defending champion Stadium Inn, 5-0.

GMC winds up its season Friday night against CIO in the makeup of an earlier rained-out contest. A victory Friday would, of course, clinch an undisputed title.

GMC wrapped up the victory in the opening frame, when shortstop J. C. Jenkins slammed a homer with one man on.

Douglas Hall hurled a 2-hitter as Louie's Tavern drove Drive-In Cleaners deeper into the cellar, 9-5. Champagne-Velvet took an 11-2 triumph over Forster Tool in another Men's League game.

In Girls' League play, Giles Realty won its 13th victory in a row, 25-13, over Avondale. A total of six home runs were hit, with the winners collecting five.

Leach Horses Win on Track, in Show

Mark Leach, Detroit auto dealer who owns the Green Acres Stock Farm near Pontiac, yesterday watched his thoroughbreds sweep nearly every honor in the Michigan yearling show and $5,000 MRA Futurity Stakes at the Detroit Race Course.

An unnamed filly by Royal Blood won 1st prize in the show, while Deedee O and Dancing Marjie, both bred at Green Acres, finished 1st and 3rd in the Futurity. Leach doesn't own the latter two horses, but bred them both.

Sal Yvars, Who Instigated Phillies-Cardinals Row, Regards as Foes All Who Irritate Him on Field

By JIMMY CANNON

During a season's tournament ballplayers often come piling out of the dugouts to drift around the field in snarling disputes. They generally do less punching than chorus kids mixed up in a dressing-room insurgence and their rages seem feigned because, as a class, they are crabbed pacifists who believe all conflict may be settled by debate.

They usually rough up the opposition with ridicule and profanity and assume menacing postures that a wrestler would consider too ludicrous to inflict upon the dumbest public in all the entertainment business.

But the scrimmage between the Phillies and the Cardinals in St. Louis last Sunday must be respected as an historic occasion because Eddie Stanky and Terry Moore, the managers, who loathe one another, were bruised.

The pandemonium was instigated by Sal Yvars who fought a return match with Earl Torgeson in the semifinal before the Moore-Stanky tussle. Yvars is a hawk flying with a flock of parrots. There are some scholars of the sport who, after watching him scratch, have decided he has more talent as a pug than a ballplayer.

All those who irritate Yvars on a ball field are his foes. The enemies may take shape on Yvars' own bench.

A couple of seasons ago I sat with Horace Stoneham, the president of the Giants, in his box at Ebbets Field. The only catcher the Giants had was Yvars. It was made clear to him that he must suffer any humiliation imposed upon him by either umpire or Dodger.

The catcher was advised not to glance over his shoulder at the umpire or to entertain the Dodger bench with any repartee. He promised to act with silent humility during the ball game.

The gentle mood lasted until the first inning. There was a call on a pitch to Jackie Robinson. The catcher turned slowly and pressed his hands to his temples in the gesture of a man squeezing an immense orange. He begged the summer sky for justice. Then he ran at the umpire and jostled him with his paunch.

"He's out of there," mourned Stoneham, but the umpires were shocked into leniency. After that, Yvars, skipping with fury, hastened to tell Sal Maglie, the pitcher, his troubles.

He turned and was about to engage the umpire in further banter when Durocher and a couple of coaches grabbed him and subdued him with soothing praise. He muttered all during the game but lasted it out without further demonstrations.

The decision Sal took over his temper that humid afternoon should be put in the baseball guides. It was one of the sport's great feats, comparable to Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in a season.

Davey Jones Fires No-Hitter

By BILL MARTIN

No-hitters are becoming almost commonplace in Pontiac's Junior Baseball Leagues.

Another hitless feat was turned in yesterday in the American Division of the Knothole League. Boys' Club hurler David Jones turned the trick, retiring 12 batters in a row as his team blanked Whitfield Cubs 18-0 in an abbreviated 4-inning contest.

Jones struck out six of the 12 men he faced, and got the other six to ground out to his infielders. Catcher Isaac Jones homered for the 2nd straight game, with one on in the 4th.

In another Knothole game, Avondale's Tom Selhost and Darrell Thorpe shared a 1-hitter but still lost a 2-1 decision to Dick & Wes. Vollmar's blew a chance to wrap up the Knothole's National Division regular-season title when they dropped their 1st loss of the season to Senators, 10-5. Senators pushed across eight runs in the 6th inning to clinch the victory.

Another upset was posted in Class E, where Rosebud Market was handed its 1st loss, 8-6, by 4th-place Cass Ponts.

Lunsford's Jerry Orr twirled a 1-hitter as his team routed Welden's 11-1 in Class F. Orr struck out 10, but gave up eight bases on balls. Williams Lake Specs downed Majestic 10-6 in another "F" contest.

Veteran Turf Man Observes 80th Birthday

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons Has Been in Racing for 70 Years

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — If you get out to the race track any morning — say, about 6 o'clock—you will find a little bent old man with the keenest bright blue eyes you ever saw directing operations.

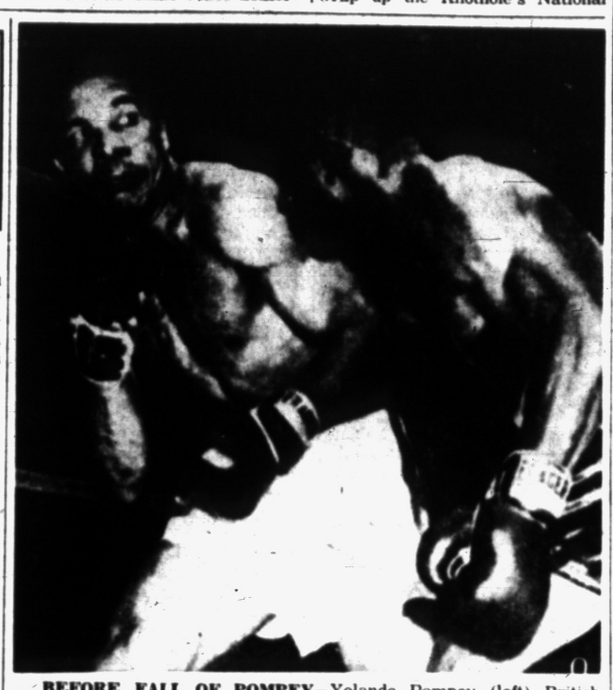

That will be trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons who will celebrate his 80th birthday Friday.

Mr. Fitz, as everybody calls him, has been in racing 70 years. In that time he has been jockey, trainer and owner and has saddled more than 2,000 winners whose earnings crowded the five million dollar mark.

He has raced on all the major and most of the bush tracks in the U. S. and has won virtually every big stake, including the Saratoga Cup nine times. He has had two triple-crown winners — Omaha and Gallant Fox and a Kentucky Derby winner, Johnstown.

Mr. Fitz considers Man O'War the greatest horse of all time and says the best he ever trained was Gallant Fox, "although Earl Sande, his jockey, always had to watch him because the Fox always thought the race was over whenever he got to the front."

Mr. Fitz is going to retire real soon — say along about 1965. After all, there's no reason for a young fellow to quit in his prime.

Little Mo Doing Okeh, but Will Miss National Tests

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 22 (AP)—Plucky tennis queen Maureen Connolly, hospitalized with injuries suffered in a horseback riding accident, was reported in good spirits and "doing very well" today.

Dr. Bruce Kimball, her physician, said Miss Connolly, who will be unable to compete next month at Forest Hills, N. Y. for her fourth straight U. S. singles title, said she was under mild sedatives after a long night under the influence of pain-easing drugs.

The 19-year-old "Little Mo" smiled through the pain of a right leg torn and broken yesterday in the accident.

Able to joke with newsmen and photographers, she said:

"I am in great shape except for my leg. This is the first time I have been photographed lying on my back."

She said she will not go to Forest Hills as a spectator, even though she may be up and around by then.

Her doctor said that, with luck, the broken bone and lacerated leg muscles will mend so that she can return to the courts in a month and be playing championship tennis in two months.

"Personally I have no feat about it," said Kimball. "She's such a young and vigorous kid."

With Miss Connolly out of the U. S. singles tournament, there is no young player in sight to take her place. She won last year's event with the loss of only one set—to Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, in the semifinals — and eliminated Doris Hart in the finals.

Phils' Manager Doubts Reform Will Last Long

Points Out That Card Boss Said Same Thing Back in 1952

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—There seemed to be some doubt in the Philadelphia Phillies' dugout last night about the sincerity of the sugar-and-cream apology made the other day by Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"He said the same thing in 1952, right after he got the job, but the reform didn't last long," said Terry Moore, new manager of the Phillies who was involved in the fracas last Sunday at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Moore, a Cardinal coach in '52, was released a short time later by Stanky and the two haven't been exactly friendly since then.

Moore chuckled when someone mentioned that the Cardinals had beaten the Phillies, 5-1, Monday night under the direction of Coach Johnny Riddle while Stanky was under suspension.

"Yeh," said Moore, "and things were a lot different in the dugout the boys tell me. Why, they said some of the Cardinals were even smiling and I heard somebody say it was too bad Stanky didn't get the whole season off."

Moore went on to explain that under Stanky there is strict discipline in the Cardinal dugout during games, with no conversation permitted and players ordered to look straight ahead at the field at all times.

"He used to have a system of fines," Moore went on. "I think it cost you a dollar if you took your cap off like this," and he put his cap on his knee. "There were a lot of others, too."

"Who'd he think he was, Caesar?" someone asked.

"Napoleon," replied Moore.

The altercation at St. Louis was described by Moore as "the real thing."

"I got hit by somebody," he said, "and when I was down on the ground I could hear thumps up above me. Boy, everybody was swinging. It wasn't just one of those things where everybody stands around and talks."

Stanky and catcher Sal Yvars, along with Earl Torgeson, Philadelphia first baseman, drew suspensions after a hearing before Warren Giles, National League president. It was at the hearing that Stanky made his apology and promise to reform.

Jones will be director of health and physical education and athletic director at the Toledo school.

The move was announced jointly by Dr. C. L. Anspach, president of Central Michigan College and Dr. E. L. Bowsher, Toledo schools superintendent. Jones had been a member of the Central Michigan staff since 1950.

Meanwhile, the college announced the signing of Jack Weisenburger, former University of Michigan football and baseball ace, as instructor and assistant coach in football and baseball.

NY Giants Offer Branca Job on Minneapolis Nine

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn fans who cried when Ralph Branca threw the never-to-be forgotten pitch that Bobby Thomson whacked for a pennant-winning home run three years ago, may see their former idol wearing the hated uniform of the New York Giants.

The former Dodger fireballer, who recently was released by the Detroit Tigers, has received a bid from the Giants to pitch for their Minneapolis farm club in the American Assn. Branca is holding the offer under advisement with the hope that he can catch on with a big league club.

Branca currently is working out with the New York Yankees. Only 28, the native New Yorker hopes to convince either the Yankees' or Giants' brass that he still can pitch winning baseball in the major leagues.

"The Giants were kind enough to offer me a spot with Minneapolis," the big righthander said, "and believe me, I appreciate their offer. But I hope to convince them that I can still pitch in the majors. I'd like an opportunity to pitch for one of the New York clubs.

"I'm still young and my arm is as strong as it ever was. All I lack right now is control. I'm sure I can correct that with enough work."

Summer Jobs Claim Spartan Grid Squadmen

Army Drills, Work on Construction, Mowing Lawns Keep 'em Busy

EAST LANSING (AP)—Army drill, construction work and manicuring lawns on the campus are among the jobs busying Michigan State College football players this summer.

Henry Bullough, guard from Canton, Ohio; fullback Jim Bigelow of Lansing, and halfback Ray Eggleston of Jackson all have jobs with construction gangs.

Co-captain and star halfback Leroy Bolden of Flint is getting a workout with the Army at Fort Riley, Va.

At Fort Campbell, Ky., are tackles Randy Schrecengost, Ford City, Pa.; and Ted Kepple, Jeanette, Pa.; halfback Johnny Matsock of Detroit, and center Dale Foltz of Flint.

End Ellis Duckett of Flint and guard Al Lee of Gary, Ind., are pushing lawnmowers on the MSC campus.

Embry Robinson, tackle from Pittsburgh, and John Lewis, end from Fremont, Ohio, are working in industrial plants.

Carl Diener, end from Saginaw, is inspecting boats for the state this summer. Quarterback Pat Wilson of Lapeer is a counselor at Camp Algonquin. End and co-captain Don Kauth of Paducah, Ky., is a handyman at a swank resort in the Thousand Islands.

8 Chicago Fans Fined for Betting on Game

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP) — Eight baseball fans were fined $100 and costs yesterday for betting during a game at Comiskey Park July 1.

But Municipal Court Judge Oscar S. Caplan, a baseball fan himself, continued the case until Sept. 30 and said:

"You will pay this fine if you are brought in again. If you behave, you won't pay it."

A ninth defendant, Samuel Loman, 39, demanded and was granted a jury trial. It was set for Aug. 9.

Mrs. Fox Paces WMGA

A half dozen others also broke 100 for the round.

Drayton Drug pulled to within a few percentage points of 2nd place in Waterford Township Men's Softball League standings last night after edging Gidley Electric, 3-2.

Paul Atkins homered with the bases empty in the 3rd inning to account for the winning run.

In Junior League play, Mickey Ambler rapped a 2-run single in the 5th to give White Brothers an 8-6 victory over Day's Sanitary.

Collegians Face Golf Favorites

SEATTLE (AP) — A couple of collegians drew the chore of challenging the favorites today in the 2nd match-play round of the Western Amateur Golf tournament, one taking on medalist Maj. Harley Williams of Seattle while the other tangled with colorful Dale Morey of Indianapolis, defending titlist.

Bruce Cudd of Portland university, the Oregon Open champion, goes against Williams, who had to win five of the last six holes to beat J. Edgar Green of Seattle yesterday, 3 and 1. Cudd whipped Richard Madsack of Olympia, Wash., 4 and 3. University of Washington's No. 1 player, Ernest Tullis Jr., of Seattle, bumped out Kenneth Morine of Burlinghame, Calif., 3 and 2 to get his whack at Morey. The Indianan breezed hrough 14 holes in even par to wallop John Wood, Seattle, 6 and 4.

Layne, Lions' 'Arm,' Signs for '54 Season

DETROIT (AP) — Bobby Layne, whose passing arm has paced the Detroit Lions to two straight National Football League titles, is ready to try for a 3rd successive championship.

The 27-year-old Texan signed a three-year pact with the Lions yesterday, cutting the Detroit squad's list of unsigned veterans to nine. The 200-pound quarterback was to report today at the Lions' Ypsilanti training camp for opening drills.

Although exact figures were not disclosed, the new pact was expected to make Layne the highest paid quarterback in team history.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Jive-talking boxing promoter Allen Lacombe put an ad in the Sunday Times-Picayune for the Ralph Dupas-Armand Savoie fight Tuesday night:

"Wanted: 10,000 fun-loving sports fans to see the Dupas-Savoie fight Tuesday night. Admission ranges from a buck and a half to four cats."

The fan got a ringside ticket.

Second-Division Teams Scrap for Series Cuts

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

By now only five teams have serious ideas about reaching the World Series this fall but a whole hatful of others in both leagues are still scrapping to see who will help cut up the swag.

Players on the first four teams in each league share in World Series receipts.

It's generally conceded among all but the diehards that either the New York Giants or Brooklyn will be the National League representative against Cleveland, the New York Yankees or the Chicago White Sox.

A check of the standings shows dog fights in both circuits immediately below these private pennant races.

In the National League four teams are bunched a game and a half apart from third through sixth places. Philadelphia holds third by a percentage point over Cincinnati and Milwaukee with St. Louis still a big factor.

The American League is running with a five-team "second division." Fourth place Detroit is a fat 22 lengths out of the lead and 17½ behind the third place White Sox. But the Tigers hold only a single game edge over Boston and Washington and just eight games separate them from the tailend Baltimore Orioles.

In the upper brackets yesterday Cleveland took a half-game lead over New York when the Yanks crumbled before Chicago 15-3 while the Indians were playing their second straight tie in Boston. Rain halted the 7-7 contest in the top of the ninth inning.

The Giants maintained their seven game advantage over Brooklyn with a 2-1 triumph at Chicago. The Dodgers tripped Cincinnati 5-1.

St. Louis outscored Pittsburgh 13-12, Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-1 and Washington shaded Baltimore 6-5 in other action.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine turned in the outstanding pitching performance, retiring the last 23 Cincinnati batters in order after Bob Borkowski homered off him in the second inning. He got plenty of support for a change with Carl Furillo's five-hit splurge leading the 15-hit attack. Erskine gave up two hits and struck out 10.

A pinch-hit single by Bill Taylor drove in the winning Giant run in the ninth inning at Chicago. Taylor's hit scored Hank Thompson who had singled and moved around on a sacrifice and an infield out. Sal Maglie checked the Cubs on four hits.

The White Sox scored early and often against the Yankees, opening with five runs in the first and closing with five in the ninth. Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth collected four hits each. Virgil Trucks stayed long enough to become the first American League pitcher to win 13 games.

Home runs by Jim Hegan, Al Rosen and Larry Doby lifted Cleveland from a 6-0 deficit into a 7-6 lead at Boston but the Red Sox pushed across the tying run in the sixth and kept it that way until rain intervened.

Only five Milwaukee batters got on base against Robin Roberts and the only run off the Phils' ace was Eddie Mathews' 22nd home run, hit with two out and the bases empty in the ninth. Roberts gave up three other hits, all singles, and walked one winning his 13th game.

Pitchers wore out the grass between the bullpens and the mound in Busch Stadium during the Cards-Pirates' 31-hit duel. St. Louis used eight, equalling the National League record.

Washington wasted an early lead against Baltimore, then won in the ninth when an easy roller dribbled through Jim Brideweser's legs with the bases loaded and one out.

Valuable Five-Iron Gives Both Distance and Height

By SAM SNEAD
5-iron Tips

The 5-iron used to be called the mid-iron, and that it is. You should position the ball midway between your feet, take a swing midway in length between that you would take with the driver and that you would take with the 9-iron, and you can expect a middlin'-long shot out of it.

This club is extremely valuable, for it will give you quite a bit of distance and at the same time will give you considerable height. Hit a full 5-iron to the green and the ball will have enough backspin to stop shortly after it lands — provided, of course, clubhead takes the ball on the downswing. Remember?

Note the stance of today's player. It's good for a 5-iron shot. The left foot (A) is drawn back about two inches further from the line of flight than the right, and the left toe is aimed a bit out toward the green. The right foot (B) is almost at right angles to the line of flight.

Don't take too long a backswing with the 5-iron, hit crisply and use your left hand. A perfect hit would take a slight divot after impact. But you don't have to hit down on this shot as much as you would on a more lofted iron.

New Courses Opened

A total of 52 new golf courses were opened in 1953, and 109 were scheduled to be opened this year.

Brief Reports From Majors

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Around the majors:

Bob Feller doesn't overpower them the way he used to when he was fresh off the Iowa farm. Nowadays, he gets his victories through control...He admits that getting the ball over the plate enabled him to shut out the A's last Sunday with two hits...Manager Eddie Joost of the A's has followed Walt Alston's lead in ordering post-game batting practice for his powderpuff hitters . . . Steve O'Neill, recently deposed manager of the Phillies, has the best record of any Phil pilot in the 20th century—182 victories and 140 losses ...Marv Grissom, Giants' ace relief pitcher who was waived out of the American League, had only one claim to fame before he joined Leo Durocher's outfit—he looked like Bob Elliott, a one-time slugger.

Could the trend be changing? Now the owners seem to be defending their managers when clubs hit the skids...First it was Walter O'Malley, boss of the Dodgers who sided with Manager Alston...Now Gussie Busch, Card owner, refuses to blame the Birds' woes on Eddie Stanky.

Word is that the Dallas interests would settle for Cincinnati if they can't get the A's or Pirates. Old-timer Larry Gilbert, now managing in the Southern Assn., won't make any friends with his contemporaries if they hear his observations..."The average player in baseball today is far better than the average player years ago," he says.

A week ago Wednesday the double paid $1,133.90 and last Friday it was worth $1,898.50.

Stiffer Regulations to Follow Coddling Probe

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army spokesman and Rep. Hess (R-Ohio) agreed today that some military regulations are going to see stiffer enforcement because of a Congressional probe of reported coddling of athletes in the Army.

But Brig. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, deputy director of Army personnel, disputed a finding by the House Armed Services subcommittee Hess heads that sports favoritism existed "upon a widespread basis."

"There were a few cases of overzealous commanders who made mistakes," Powell said, "but corrective measures were taken in each case."

The Hess committee report, based on the House group's hearings last May, was made public yesterday and listed types of "abuse" it said had been made of Army regulations. But it pointed the finger of blame at field commanders rather than at the big-name athletes in uniform.

Hess predicted in an interview today that, as a result of the probe, "there will be a lot more policing of the rules."

"No doubt there will continue to be a few cases of favoritism, however," he said. "Some post commanders are determined to make a good showing in their sports events."

Powell told a reporter "we are policing our regulations more heavily as a result of the hearings."

"But," he added, "we believe that by and large field commanders are doing an excellent job of managing personnel without favoritism."

The Congressional report singled out the case of Sandy Saddler, world featherweight champion, who got a 15-day "compassionate" leave after claiming his wife was sick and then took part in a fight.

Powell declined comment on the Saddler case but the fighter's manager, Charley Johnston, said in New York Saddler's wife and the couple's young baby "both were sick at the time and Mrs. Saddler was under a doctor's care" before they signed for the fight.

Hess said the matter is closed now as far as the committee is concerned. "We believe the hearing served a good purpose," he said. "Favoritism is going to cut down a great deal."

Only Saddler's name showed up in the committee findings, but Hess said he was also impressed by the hearing record in the case of Willie Mays, sensational outfielder for the New York Giants.

Testimony was developed at the hearings that Mays, while in the Army, was given a five-month reprieve from basic training so that he could play baseball at Ft. Eustis, Va., and that this kept him from an overseas assignment.

In an apparent reference to the camp commander in the Mays case, the subcommittee reported:

"These things resulted from the manipulation of 'overzealous' personnel. By so doing they have brought a discredit upon the service. Far from improving morale, they have created a justifiable suspicion of favoritism among a large bulk of troops."

Sixth Setback Given Olivers in City League

Auburn Club Victor Behind 3-Hit Hurling by Ken Campbell

Oliver Buick, which hit the skids after starting the City Class A Baseball League season with five consecutive victories, suffered its 6th setback in its last eight games yesterday.

Auburn Merchants handed the Buickmen the loss, 7-3, behind the 3-hit pitching of Ken Campbell. Victory evened Auburn's record at 7-7 for the season.

Merchants broke a 3-3 deadlock in the 6th inning, when four runs crossed the plate on a combination of two hits, a walk, an error and a hit batsman.

Don Sheffer sparked the Merchants' 10-hit attack with two singles and a double in four trips.

Sammy Snead Putt-Putted to 11th Place

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Sam Snead, who now has failed to win the U.S. Open golf title 14 times, sounded like an outboard motor after his third round 72 put him five strokes off the pace.

"If I could only take advantage of the greens," said the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro. "It's the same old story—putt, putt, putt, putt, putt.

"Of the tees I play like a machine. I missed he edge of the fairways only twice and when I get on the greens I can't see them. I just lost another Open."

Snead, finishing with a 290, tied for 11th place with Dr. Cary Middlecoff. As a result, Slammin' Sam must play in the sectional qualifying rounds if he hopes to shoot for the 1955 Open in San Francisco.

'Bums' Battled Through Three Ties in 1920

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox think they are having trouble reaching a decision after two straight ties, they might consider the plight of the 1920 Brooklyn Dodgers.

On May 1, 1920, the Dodgers and the old Boston Braves played a 26-inning 1-1 tie, longest tie game on record. The next day Brooklyn played a 13-inning tie with Philadelphia. And on May 3 Brooklyn and Boston battled 19 innings before Boston won 2-1.

Cleveland and the Red Sox played a 16-inning tie Tuesday night and an eight-inning tie yesterday.

Aggies Look Ahead for Grid Honors

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M's football prospects weren't very bright last winter when Paul (Bear) Bryant was hired as coach. And they seemed even dimmer when four top players were suspended from school.

But Bryant and his staff are responsible for bringing in some of the state's top schoolboy stars. This means good teams in 1955 or 1956.

Some of the bright prospects are Kenneth Hall who scored 395 points in his senior year; T - quarterback Carlos Esquival who was an all - state selection; Ed Durley, best schoolboy punter in the state; and Hubert Miller, all - state center.

French Feeling U.S. Influence

Countryside of France to Have Short Order 'Restoroutes'

PARIS (UP) — French gourmets, accustomed to a three-hour lunch, are raising their hands in honor the short-order house has come to France.

French resistance to American hurry-up eating had been giving ground slowly. The capitulation was completed when a group of promoters announced they intend to stud French highways with "short-order restaurants" where tourists can get a complete meal in 20 minutes.

Even the name is American-styled. The new eating places will be called "restoroutes." A chain of 30 is planned about 155 to 190 miles apart along most of France's main highways. They will accommodate 200 diners an hour at a counter, in a dining room or on an open air terrace, the promoters said. While the tourist is fed, his car can be serviced outside.

According to the backers, France's first "restoroute" will open at Rouvray, about 142 miles from Paris on the main Paris-Lyon highway leading to the Cote d'Azur.

Chosen as the site was an old stagecoach relay station where Napoleon once spent the night. Here, 200 tourists at a time can be fed a meal, averaging one dollar in price. If the tourist prefers, he can pick up a basket lunch and — when other stations are built — even order a picnic lunch to be prepared at the next "restoroute" along the way.

The Rouvray site also has been chosen by the touring club of France for its first telephone emergency station.

The sign of the "restoroute" which its backers hope will soon be as well known as those of American chin eateries U. S. highways will be — a fork, a glass and two "R's" on a round white highway sign.

If all goes well, motel type rooms eventually will be attached to these new restaurants.

Battle Creek Has Defeated Acute Postwar Problems

Here is another in the series on Michigan cities. This one on Battle Creek, written by Donald J. Rutherford of the Battle Creek Enquirer & News.

By DONALD J. RUTHERFORD

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Battle Creek, which thrived during World War II as Michigan's biggest military center, has had to make a lot of adjustments in the seven years since hostilities ended.

Its postwar achievements include expanded recreational and play facilities, addition of more than 100 schoolrooms to the city's school department, and establishment of 10 off-street parking lots with facilities for 1,200 cars to ease a critical parking problem.

The thousands of servicemen who manned four installations in and near Battle Creek during World War II left postwar Battle Creek with a number of acute problems.

Streets, which had been pounded by heavy military convoys from nearby Ft. Custer, were pock marked with holes. The water distribution and sanitary sewage systems were inaquate to meet the needs of the city. It had grown rapidly with the addition of hundreds of families of men stationed at the fort, Percy Jones Army Hospital, Kellogg Air Force Base, and the Battle Creek Coast Guard Training Station.

Battle Creek citizens quickly sensed the need for action, and in order to provide funds for the many projects, they voted to shake off the shackles of the 15-mill tax limitation before the state legislature acted to remove this limitation from other Michigan cities.

In order to finance the construction of new sanitary sewers, a $400,000 revenue bond issue was sold and the money used as a revolving fund to finance special assessments for sewers over a three year period.

Expansion and rehabilitation of the water distribution system was made possible by improvements costing a total of $1,500,000. New wells were drilled and old pumps replaced. New mains were built, and additional facilities constructed to assure the city an ample supply of water at all times.

New streets were developed to facilitate the flow of traffic and relieve congestion on the existing downtown business streets.

Another revenue bond issue—this time for $750,000—was sold to finance the parking lot program. The lots, near the heart of the business district, range in size from 15 spaces to 433 spaces.

A lighted baseball stadium has been constructed at Bailey Park, and here the American Baseball Congress' "Little World Series" for amateur champions is staged each September.

A new municipal park has been developed in the southwest section of the city and a new public bathhouse has been built at the municipal bathing beach at Goguac Lake.

Two new elementary schools, one with 16 rooms and the other with 18, now are being built and will be ready for use this fall, and another school is being considered for early construction.

In April, 1947, just as the city was beginning its post-war projects, Battle Creek was struck by the most devastating flood in 40 years. Since then flood control has been a major problem, and the city's flood control program is now before Congress for approval.

With the mainlines of the Grand Trunk and New York Central Railroads besecting the city—one to the north and the other south of the downtown business district—the railroad and grade crossing problem also is acute.

A slum clearance program also is being developed, and federal approval of this plan is anticipated by early fall.

Two Cows Help Increase Farmer's Dairy Herd

GREENWOOD, Neb. (UP) — John Griess had a real surprise from two cows of his herd.

He went to his pasture to pick up a new-born calf. While there, he noticed a calf had been born to another cow. Griess picked up the second calf.

When he turned, he saw the first cow had given birth to her second calf. Another quick check showed him the second cow had done likewise.

The double twin birth, raised Griess' herd by a third, from 12 to 16.

Only Soybeans Plunge Down

CHICAGO (AP) — A carry-over of the previous session's unfilled selling orders knocked soybeans down sharply on the Board of Trade today but the rest of the grain market displayed resistance to the pressure.

Two Questions Added to Federal Applications

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today it has added two new questions to the application form which persons must fill out when seeking federal jobs. They are:

"Have you ever had a nervous breakdown?"

"Have you ever had tuberculosis?"

Announcing the first major revision since 1947 of the application blank known as Form 57, the Civil Service Commission said the chief aim was improved clarity and appearance.

Charge Ex-Employe With Embezzlement

A Pontiac man is being held in Oakland County Jail today on a charge that he embezzled $654 in money orders from his employer.

Edward S. Harrell, 27, of 823 Blaine Ave., was arrested at his home by Pontiac Detective Sgt. John DePauw for cashing money orders in his and other names between October, 1953, and January, 1954.

Harrell was an employe of the Furtney Drug Store at 493 S. Sanford Ave. at the time he is accused of cashing fraudulent money orders. According to Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detective bureau, Harrell's signature matched that on the bad money orders.

Mass Meeting Set in Van Atta Firing

A mass meeting has been called by subdivision groups and clubs for 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Waterford Township Hall to discuss the firing of Police Chief Frank Van Atta by the township board.

Petitions for the reinstatement of the ousted chief also are being circulated through the township, it was reported today.

Van Atta was informed of his dismissal Tuesday. The reason given was Van Atta's political activities.

Van Atta has publicly supported Frank Irons for Oakland County sheriff in the Aug. 5 primary, which pits Irons and two other candidates against incumbent Clare L. Hubbell.

The regular township board meeting is scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday.

Patients Returned to Charred Hospital

tered in rooms in the institution's new, undamaged south wing.

But a huge clean-up operation was carried out before patients were returned.

The sunny hospital grounds, so neat a few hours before, were littered with rolls of bedding, furniture, and other odds and ends evacuated from the burning building. These had to be moved back, too.

The hospital's second floor was awash in sooty water that dripped through the sagging, fire-weakened ceilings. This had to be mopped up. Smoke and soot had dirtied much of the rest of the building.

Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross and National Guardsmen, who arrived about 11 a.m. with donated coffee, sandwiches and cookies for hungry firemen and volunteers, kept their outdoor canteen open all afternoon.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, hearing about Bloomfield's troubles, sent down 5 nurses, 15 practical nursing students and two nurses' aides to help care for patients. Three nuns also turned out to help.

St. Joseph's sent down the patients' noon meal by a soap truck driver who'd stopped to deliver a load of soap at St. Joseph's. The hospital chef rode along.

Some volunteers — Red Cross nurses' aides and 10 practical nursing students and an instructor from St. Joseph's—returned to help the Bloomfield staff this morning.

Pontiac General stood by Wednesday to give extra nursing help or supplies if needed. Several of General's maintenance men helped in Wednesday's mopping-up operations.

Other volunteers helped care for patients. Red Cross volunteers aided the Marshbanks family, friends and hospital workers in mopping up soot and water.

Volunteers helped hospital employes drive patients back to the hospital from Marshbanks' home by car. A tractor chugged along behind, towing beds and bedding.

Tired Bloomfield firemen stood by with two trucks just in case the fire should break out again. "We won't leave till we're sure," Fire Chief Ralph Hemmerly said.

The fire was the fifth blaze on the Collier estate at 2100 Woodward Ave. in the last 40-odd years.

Mrs. Stephen Collier says an old home on the property burned some 40 years ago, before the Colliers bought the estate. Since then, fire caused by a defective chimney swept a small house in the orchard; another set by an arsonist burned the Collier barns; and a third, a grass fire, destroyed a garage. Flames had never attacked the old Collier home, however — until Wednesday.

Waives Examination on Bad Check Charge

A Detroit man waived examination on a bad check charge yesterday and was freed on $500 bond by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, until his arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court July 26.

William A. Swailes, 35, is accused of passing a worthless check for $266.69, to the Shell Oil Co. at 590 S. Paddock St., April 5, according to Detective Sgt. John DePauw.

New Chrysler Strike Probable

10,000 Dodge Workers Walk Out Protesting Dismissal of 2

DETROIT (UP)—Chrysler Corp., with 36,000 of its employes already idled by a dispute involving two workers, faced a new strike threat today.

Local 869 of the CIO United Auto Workers Union said a strike vote would be taken today among 1,000 workers at the Nine Mile Press Plant. The local said the dispute involved production rates and relief times.

Paralysis started hitting Chrysler, the nation's third largest auto maker, when 10,000 workers at the Main Dodge Plant walked out Monday to protest the firing of two fellow employes.

The company said the two workers, members of UAW Local 3, were dismissed last week because they refused to do work assigned them.

Company truck drivers, also members of Local 3, soon joined the walkout, cutting off the vital supply of parts between plants and forcing additional shutdowns and layoffs.

By noon Wednesday, Chrysler was forced to halt its last auto assembly operations in the Detroit area.

Assembly of Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge, and Plymouth cars continued at Evansville, Ind., and Los Angeles, Calif. However, those plants normally account for only 20 per cent of the firm's assemblies.

Pat Quinn, vice president of Local 3, said the discharge of the two workers in the trim department of the Dodge Plant stemmed from a "speedup" on the part of the company. Company officials said "no employe has been asked to do more work than can be reasonably expected."

Dewey's Stepping Aside Anticipated in Washington

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—Backstairs at the White House:

The apparently authoritative stories from the recent national governor's conference that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would not seek re-election in New York came as no surprise to the White House.

President Eisenhower's staff believed for a long time that Dewey would not run again, even though Eisenhower would like to have him continue as the chief executive of New York state.

Robert Montgomery has not been seen around the White House for a number of weeks, leading to rumors in some sections of Washington that the actor and television producer had been eased out of his role as radio and television consultant on appearances by the President.

This, however, is not true. Montgomery has been on an extended visit to Europe, supervising the shooting of film material for his own TV show.

He'll be back on White House duty when President Eisenhower starts making television appearances on a national scale again, probably in the early autumn in connection with the congressional campaigns.

A writer for one of the top national magazines was somewhat shocked the other day when the White House flatly rejected his request to interview a member of the personal staff of the presidential household. Actually, this is no new policy.

For many years and several administrations, there has been a policy of discouraging publicity for the White House employes whose work is not in the political or administrative field—the cooks, the housekeeper, the ushers, the gardeners.

The Trumans raised the roof several years ago when a reporter ran into one of the cooks and started chatting to him with a view toward doing a story.

It is in his personal staff that a President has his last vestige of privacy. If the White House cooks and maids were subjected to interviews and other forms of publicity, it would amount to a President having to live with glass walls—and the shades up.

National Guard Jet Peels Off, Disappears

ALBUQUERQUE (UP) — An F86E Michigan Air National Guard jet plane peeled off from formation, went into a dive and disappeared into darkness 10 miles south of here last night.

The plane, en route from Detroit-Wayne Major Airport at Detroit to Ontario, Calif., was piloted by Capt. G. G. George of Lansing, Mich.

He was flying wing for Capt. L. A. Erickson of the Michigan Air National Guard as the two planes were making an instrument approach to Kirtland Field here.

Erickson said Capt. George, a veteran of the Korean war, had indicated he was having trouble of some kind, but neither knew exactly what it was.

Women Vital to Civil Defense

CD Official Declares Homemakers Should Prepare for Crises

WASHINGTON (UP) — Bigger and more destructive H-bombs won't require a "new look" in civil defense, just a longer look at the same old problem, says the woman who is second in command of the nation's Civil Defense program.

"The H-bomb is a bigger A-bomb," said Mrs. Katherine Howard, deputy administrator of the Civil Defense Administration. In short, defense is the same problem—increased.

After a year in the topflight post Mrs. Howard is an optimist. She said in an interview that she is sure Americans, women especially, will rise to the occasion if necessary.

"Women have a carry-on spirit even in the direst of circumstances," said Mrs. Howard. And since civil defense begins in the home, it's up to the women to bone up on the simple rudiments of self-protection and protection of the family in case of national emergency.

Women will be better off in "the age of peril," she said, "if they face up to the possibility of an H-bomb attack. Emotionally and psychologically it is better than an ostrich-like attitude of not wanting to think about it."

Mrs. Howard believes much can be done in preparation. She recommends that women take the free Red Cross home nursing courses.

If she hasn't time for outside classes, she at least can put her family through home protection exercises, recommended by the civil defense authorities. Booklets on all forms of emergency action are available at all local Civil Defense offices.

Mrs. Howard says that home shelters should be built and that home-makers should decide what goes in them.

Bee Hives Cleaned by New Wax Works

AUBURN, N. Y. (UP) — Robinson's Wax Works is a cleaning plant that services bees.

The plant purifies and remolds wax foundations on which bees build combs inside their hives. The bees aren't particular about the wax, but the sellers of honey are.

Robinson's provides beeswax for about 500 producers of honey. The re-worked foundations assure that a minimum of drones will be born and there will be a maximum of workers to produce honey.

Empty combs are received at the wax works and boiled, pressed and run through filters to remove impurities. The beeswax is usually cut into pieces 10 by 24 inches. Smaller foundations are made for producers who sell honey still in the combs.

All of Indiana has heavy rainfall, varying in different areas from 32 to 221 inches a year.

Betty Often Is Guest on Top Shows

Is a Native Kentuckian, Was Honored Recently With Colonel Title

NEW YORK — Betty Clooney, featured songstress on television's new Jack Paar Show, was all of three years old when she experienced the first setback that comes, as tradition has it, to all famous singers on their way up the ladder of success.

Betty's first professional singing appearances were political rallies for her grandfather who was running for mayor of Maysville, Ky. He was defeated. So Betty and her older sister Rosemary were forced to swallow their pride and return to the mundane existence of nursery school and kindergarten.

Neither Betty nor Rosemary did much about their careers until they reached the Western Hills School in Cincinnati. After a successful appearance in a school production, the girls decided to audition for a spot on a local radio station. They made it.

That was the start. Then they joined the Tony Pastor orchestra. Appearances in theaters, night clubs and motion pictures followed.

Betty and Rosemary eventually embarked on individual careers. Betty decided to remain in Cincinnati and work on television. She soon became one of the busiest performers in town, doing eight to ten shows weekly, including a teen-age interview program, as well as musical and dramatic shows.

Rosemary headed for New York and got started on her own career. She was well on her way when she became ill and asked Betty to fill in for her on New York television programs.

Betty then appeared weekly on television's Robert Q. Lewis Matinee, and many others.

No sooner had Betty returned to Cincinnati than she was besieged to do guest appearances on leading network shows, among them The Perry Como Show.

Her appearances as a regular on the Jack Paar Show will culminate a busy year of club engagements throughout the country.

Betty is five feet - four inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has black hair and blue eyes. She likes to ride, runs a breeding farm for race horses in the blue grass country of her native state where she was recently named a Kentucky Colonel.

2 Plead Guilty to Theft at Detroit Loan Company

DETROIT (UP)—Gordon E. Atkins, 26, and Daniel Galindo, 27, pleaded guilty Wednesday to their part in the recent $30,000 robbery of a Detroit loan association.

The two were part of a gang of seven implicated in the robbery. Federal Judge Frank A. Picard will sentence the seven at a later date.

Philippine Troops Take Communist Stronghold

MANILA (UP)—Government troops on Mount Arayat today captured the Communist-led Huks' "Stalin Line," a strong point bristling with pill boxes, sandbags and foxholes, field reports to army headquarters said.

Philippine Air Force planes earlier bombed and strafed the fortification on the southern slope of the jungle-clad mountain some 40 miles north of Manila.

Permanent Quarters for Prison Library

LANSING (UP)—Southern Michigan Prison soon will get its first permanent library quarters since the Jackson Prison riot in 1952, Corrections Director Gus Harrison said today.

Harrison said the prison library, which has been circulating from building to building, will be moved into the old prison laundry building in "a few weeks."

"We still have to replace thousands and thousands of books that were destroyed during the riot," Harrison declared. "We are continuing to use public donations."

Debbie Crowds Big Wardrobe Into Tiny Home

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you, young lady, were in Debbie Reynolds' shoes (any of her 142 pairs) you would have to have scads of clothes, too. You would keep them in closets too small, in boxes under all of the beds in your tiny house and in the garage made into a guest room.

You would have four very formal formals and at least 20 short formals. You would wear your formals about once a year, because as a movie starlet you couldn't let your admirers down by wearing the same outfit too often.

You'd wear a size five dress, but if you couldn't find fives you'd buy sevens and have your mother alter them. You'd watch for sales and buy in quantity. For instance, the other day you would have bought 20 pairs of shoes (sizes 4 and 4½) because they were on sale. You'd have taken only 45 minutes for this sizeable purchase.

If you were Debbie you'd have "oh, a whole mess of cocktail dresses and suits—maybe 15 in all." And you'd remember what you wore each time you went out with Eddie Fisher, because if you were Debbie you'd be dating Eddie.

You'd have drawers full of slacks and pedal pushers, of shorts and T-shirts, boxes of sweaters (some not yet out of their factory wrap pings) and a dozen swimming suits. "Funny thing," you'd say if you were this girl, "when I couldn't afford swimming suits I always had one faded one. Now that I can afford them, people give them to me."

In your wardrobe also would be 30 skirts and, I know because I counted them for you, 45 blouses. And an uncounted number of winter suits and jersey blouses which I couldn't count because they were in the cedar chest I was sitting on in Debbie's bedroom.

You wouldn't have too many furs because you don't like them too well. The demands of the business would require two: "a beaver coat for winter and a platinum mink stole are all I have." You'd have two dressy evening sweaters, both in white, one trimmed in white mink and one in gold leaf.

All of your $750 weekly salary wouldn't be spent on clothes, if you were Debbie. Only a very small portion of it, actually, because your mother would make more than half your dresses. And you'd keep on wearing things for years and years because your height and weight would stay the same.

Jewelry would be unimportant; a few pieces of costume jewelry. That's all that would be in your jewel box except an even dozen fraternity pins (no two alike) but "they're not jewelry—heck, they're—well, you know how fellas are."

You'd choose simple things in gay, happy colors. You wouldn't want stuff that is too frilly "because men don't like girls like me to be TOO feminine, do they? What I mean is, skip the ixy-poo."

(I know about this interpretive writing, boss, but I'm a square—can't dig that ixy-poo.)

Advocates Step-Up of Mental Program

MARSHALL (UP) — Construction of added institutional facilities and an intensified research program were advocated Wednesday night by D. Hale Brake, Republican gubernatorial aspirant, to meet mental health problems.

Speaking at a Republican women's picnic in the Marshall Community Building, Brake said 146 mentally ill persons are awaiting admission to state mental hospitals while the total waiting list for all institutions is 1,018.

"We must step up our program so as to eliminate that waiting list and materially reduce the overcrowding," Brake declared, observing that Michigan had 15,746 persons in mental hospitals on April 30. He said facilities then were overtaxed by 2,758 patients.

Army Post Attracting Herds of Mountain Deer

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP) — Invaders are causing consternation at this Army electronics proving ground.

Brig. Gen. Emil Lenzner, commanding officer, called in experts from the State Game and Fish Commission for help.

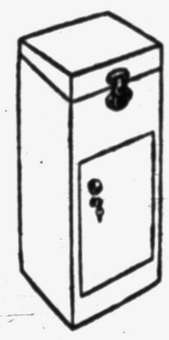

He told them herds of deer are coming down from the mountains each night to eat the newly planted shrubbery and lawns at the post.
