Don't Look Now... but We're 100 Years Old

Making plans for a gala centennial celebration June 17-24, the city of Pontiac today passed its 100th birthday, quietly.

It was on March 15, 1861 that the community was incorporated as a city.

There was no special observance planned to commemorate the anniversary date itself.

Rather, several score of people were busy laying the foundation for an all-out birthday party during the third week of June.

The warmer month ties in with plans to highlight the celebration with an outdoor pageant involving 2,500 or so persons in Wisner Stadium for six nights, beginning Sunday, June 18.

KICKOFF PARADE

The pageant, depicting Pontiac's past, present and future, will be preceded by a kickoff parade in downtown Pontiac on Saturday, June 17.

★ ★ ★

As centennial time draws near, more than 200 persons are expected to be enlisted in the four-dozen committees working under the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission.

★ ★ ★

A review of the centennial so far shows the centennial commission is operating on a $50,000 advance promised from city hall, with the John B. Rogers Producing Co. of Fostoria, Ohio, as professional consultants in the giant undertaking.

With Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank, as general chairman, centennial headquarters in the basement of the Civic Center library is the hub of increasing activity.

Beards have been encouraged among the men and bonnets will soon be the official regalia for women.

FUN AND MONEY

Such centennial paraphernalia as beard permits and shaving permits, centennial hats and centennial bow ties, are aimed at producing revenue as well as fun.

All revenues, even the proceeds from the pageant, will go into the general fund to reimburse the $50,000 advance.

★ ★ ★

Many features of the centennial have yet to be announced. Among the highlights, though, will be some serious moments, including the dedication of the new library and the airport terminal.

City Commissioners for the most part have responded to the Brothers of the Brush movement. Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Commissioners John A. Dugan and Robert A. Landry are sporting Van Dyke beards, while Commissioner Winford E. Bottom is growing a full beard.

Commissioner Wesley F. Wood is growing a mustache. As of today, Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. is the only one of the six active commissioners without a mustache or beard.

ALL DOLLED UP—An enthusiastic centennial fan, Floyd E. Short, 12 Niagara St., is in the swing of centennial fun, wearing the traditional top hat and bow tie and sporting the beginnings of a centennial beard. The lapel button shows Short has signed up for the Brothers of the Brush beard contest during the June 17-24 centennial observance.

JFK Calls for Religious Harmony

Asks Reopening of Arms Talks This August

Suggestion of a Later Date Reportedly Had Irritated Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy disclosed today the United States has suggested that East-West negotiations on general disarmament be resumed in August. Originally Kennedy is reported to have sent word to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that Broad-scale disarmament talks should not be started until Sept. 11.

That report was carried in today's New York Times.

The Times Washington dispatch said Khrushchev objected "with some vigor."

Kennedy did not answer a question as to whether he would "be willing to meet with Khrushchev face-to-face if you felt this was necessary to reach a truly genuine agreement."

Kennedy said at his news conference today that "we have suggested we will be prepared" to start up general disarmament negotiations again in August, after first suggesting a new start in September.

Meanwhile, Kennedy said, U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson is trying at the United Nations to work out detailed arrangements for the proposed new disarmament exchange.

One critical issue is the size of the negotiating group.

Khrushchev, the Times story said, contended a six-month delay would be unreasonable.

The President said that now that Arthur Dean, chief U.S. delegate to the nuclear test ban talks in Geneva, has left for the discussions which resume next week, the administration is "going to concentrate our attention" on general disarmament and "we hope progress can be made."

The 26-minute sound-and-color film, produced by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce to boost Pontiac locally, statewide and nationally, will be preceded by a brief talk by Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Ask Court Test for Private Aid

Senators Suggest Step to Accompany Move for Parochial Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators suggested today any legislation enacted by Congress to authorize federal loans to parochial schools should carry a provision to speed a court test of its constitutionality.

John C. Hayes, a leading Roman Catholic layman, welcomed the idea. He said the legislation could authorize any taxpayer to initiate a suit.

The proposals were voiced at the senate education subcommittee's hearing on the Kennedy administration's $2.3-billion federal public school aid bill, which would provide nothing for parochial and other private schools.

Hayes urged that the bill be amended to provide at "the very minimum" authority for federal loans to parochial and private schools at interest rates which would cost the government nothing, and earn it no profit.

Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the subcommittee chairman, and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., both said such legislation should carry language authorizing an immediate Supreme Court suit to test its con-

GOVERNOR IN CONFERENCE—Governor John B. Swainson (left) of Michigan talks with Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in Freeman's Washington office Tuesday. Michigan Leader Testifies About Federal School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan said Tuesday he would favor federal loans to private and parochial schools if such a program is constitutional.

Swainson, in winding up a day's testimony before the Senate and House subcommittees on education, said he supported President Kennedy's view that the problem should be dealt with in a separate bill, however.

★ ★ ★

He testified earlier that federal aid to Michigan's educational system had not resulted in federal control of school programs.

Swainson stopped off for a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman before emplaning for Detroit.

He said they discussed the extension of the President's food stamp plan to the Detroit suburbs of Hamtramck and Highland Park.

★ ★ ★

The governor said upon arrival in Detroit that he was "very encouraged" by his talk with Freeman and hoped to have the two suburbs, which are completely surrounded by their bigger neighbor, included in the plan "in a month or so."

Says Division Over Schools Would Hurt U.S.

Seeks Enactment of Present Plan, Pledges Later Parochial Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for religious harmony, warning that if the country divides on the school aid issue "our national strength" will be sapped.

In a two-point proposal to solve what he termed "this sensitive issue," he:

1. Urged Congress, as he has done before, to pass his $2.3 billion public school assistance bill without proposed amendments calling for loans to parochial and other private schools below the college level.

2. Pledged that his administration would then cooperate with Congress in studies of the question whether loans to church schools, or tax exemptions for the parents of their students, would be constitutional.

The President discussed the matter at a news conference.

On another matter, Kennedy said he is opposed to a shorter work week. He told the news conference he is unhappy because the declining economy has reduced the work week for many below 40 hours.

The President was asked if he agreed with some labor union proposals that shorter hours might be one of the solutions to the present level of unemployment.

'NEEDED FOR GROWTH'

Kennedy replied that he hopes the 5-day, 40 hour week can be continued. He said it is necessary if the United States is going to continue economic growth.

"I would be opposed to any arbitrary reduction of the work week," Kennedy said, "and I am unhappy when I see the work week reduced artificially, in the sense that the pressures of a declining economy reduce it so that we get averages of 38.5 hours a

Asks $12 Million in Electrical Fix

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Justice Department, which Tuesday joined the Tennessee Valley Authority in suing five electrical equipment firms for nearly $12 million for alleged overcharges, says other damage suits are contemplated.

But in making the statement neither Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy nor William Maher, chief of the antitrust division here, elaborated.

Maher earlier this year headed the successful prosecution of 29 big electrical firms and 44 of their executives on charges of bid rigging and price fixing which led to Tuesday's action here.

The suit was the first such filed by the federal government. States, cities and private utilities also are planning multimillion-dollar actions against the firms.

★ ★ ★

The General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp., America's two biggest manufacturers who were among the five named in the suit Tuesday, said they would vigorously defend themselves against the latest action.

★ ★ ★

The two firms, both of which pleaded guilty or no defense along with 27 other companies in the huge antitrust case which Maher prosecuted, said their customers were neither cheated nor victimized.

★ ★ ★

Echoing their sentiments was the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. of West Allis, Wis., which also was named in the civil action and earlier had pleaded guilty or no defense on the antitrust charges.

★ ★ ★

The two other firms named in the joint civil action filed in U.S. District Court here were the Federal Electric Co. of Newark, N.J.; and I-T-E Circuit Breaker Co. of Philadelphia. They, too, had pleaded guilty or no defense on the antitrust charges.

OKs Modified Idle Pay Bill

Senate Group's Move Almost Kills Hopes of Beginning Plan April 1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved a sharply modified version of President Kennedy's emergency $1 billion program of extended jobless pay benefits.

★ ★ ★

The committee, in its second day of closed-door deliberations adopted four amendments to the House-passed bill. This all but killed administration hopes of getting the program into operation by April 1.

Any changes approved by the Senate would mean a return trip to the house for concurrence in the Senate amendments and raise barriers to speedy final congressional action.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., announced that the bill—one of the administration's key antirecession proposals—would be ready for Senate floor action by Friday if the leadership desires to call it up then.

Weatherman Says Mercury Will Climb

★ ★ ★

West to northwest morning winds at 13 to 18 miles per hour will diminish tonight, and become gentle and variable Thursday.

Chrysler, S-P Report Sales Rise

DETROIT (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. and Studebaker-Packard, both feeling the effects of recession, today reported an encouraging upswing in new car sales in March.

L. A. Townsend, Chrysler administrative vice president, said the company will increase passenger car production schedules 25 per cent for the rest of the month because of "continued improvement in retail deliveries and dealer orders."

"This increase represents a week's work for Plymouth, Hamtramck and Jefferson assembly plants in Detroit and the Newark, Del., plant," Townsend said.

Chrysler indicated it will build 44,000 passenger cars this month compared with 37,290 in February and 36,921 in January. March programs at Chrysler had called for only 35,200 assemblies.

Six of seven Chrysler assembly plants were closed this week, with 11,500 men laid off.

Lewis E. Minkel, vice president of marketing for Studebaker-Packard, said S-P has decided to maintain scheduled passenger car and truck production through March because of a steady increase of new orders received from company dealers.

Expect JFK Plan to Let Farmers Set Own Props

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress Thursday to approve a farm setup under which growers would write their own crop programs, subject to legislative veto.

This would be radically different from existing farm programs, although the idea is not new. Legislation along these lines was defeated last year after being introduced by a group headed by Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex.

Similar proposals also have been made in the Senate.

Congressional sources said the President will seek a broad delegation of powers to him and to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to deal directly with farmers in forming programs embracing kindred and competing commodities.

★ ★ ★

The farmers themselves would be asked to agree on the type of federal controls, price supports and other government props they believe are workable for the particular group of growers involved.

$175,000 Quarters for Chief Pontiac

Credit Union to Put Up Building

By PETE LOCHBILER

Expansion plans, disclosed today by Chief Pontiac Federal Credit Union, call for a $175,000 headquarters building on a new site on Joslyn Avenue.

The one-story brick structure, featuring a 1½-story public area mostly of glass, should get under construction in May, according to James T. Harrington, treasurer-manager of the credit union.

Expansion will double the credit union's existing facilities to 12,000 square feet, said Harrington. The new building will be sold enough to support a second floor if more expansion is called for in the future, he said.

The new site includes all the frontage on the east side of Joslyn between Rascob and Markle streets near the Pontiac Motor Division plant, about three blocks south of the present headquarters at 850 Joslyn Ave.

Holding funds for 10,000 employes at Pontiac Motor Division, the credit union is the second largest in Pontiac. It's assets of $4,789,572 at the end of the year represented $1 million increase in 12 months, said Harrington.

Blueprints are being completed by the Detroit architectural firm of Neubrecht & Neubrecht. Harrington said the expansion would be financed out of accumulated cash reserves.

City commissioners, informed of the expansion plans last night, agreed to move speedily on zoning changes for the expansion.

The credit union wants the alley on the site vacated and rezoning to commercial of two lots on Joslyn, one on Rascob and two on Markle. Homes on the lots are to be removed to make way for the new building and a 90-car parking lot.

Commissioners approved the vacating and the rezoning without first submitting the matters to the Planning Commission, a move that will save about a month of red tape.

The planning commission is now asked to pass on ordinances for vacating and rezoning, both of which will be subjects of public hearings before the commission April 11, the date of adoption.

Petitions circulated by the credit union showed that at least 75 per cent of the affected property owners favored the changes.

U.S. Airlifting Indian Reinforcements to Congo

Ileo Opposed to Move; Bloodshed Is Threatened

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI)—U. S. Air Force planes winged toward Leopoldville from India today with tough Gurkha reinforcements for the United Nations command in the Congo despite warnings from the Congolese government and threats of "bloodshed."

Leopoldville Premier Joseph Ileo said the Congo is "categorically opposed" to the sending of any more U.N. troops here, including the Indian brigade due to start arriving Thursday aboard U.S. Rir Force Globemasters.

"It is for the Congolese to settle their own problems," he said.

He also warned that the Congo will oppose the United Nations by force if it attempts to apply the Security Council resolution of Feb. 21.

The resolution authorizes the U.N. to use force if necessary to preserve peace in the Congo. But the Congolese fear it means the world organization will try to disarm their troops.

"In case the United Nations tried to apply (such) measures there would be bloodshed and the United Nations would have to bear the responsibility," Ileo said. "We have decided to react by force."

Ileo also told newsmen that pro-Lumumba officials in Stanleyville will meet with Leopoldville authorities to try to weld the Congo into a united nation.

WHERE'S GIZENGA?

He said the meeting was proposed by Gen. Victor Lundula, commander of the army in Stanleyville, and accepted by leaders in the anti-Lumumba provinces.

★ ★ ★

Ileo's statement indicated that Lundula, and not former Lumumba Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga, may be running things in Stanleyville, capital of Oriental Province and center of support for slain expremier Patrice Lumumba.

Michigan Missionary Kin Remain

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — An American missionary family has decided to stick to its post in a Kivu region where savage Congolese soldiers have raped and beaten other missionaries, it was learned here today.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Terpstra of Grand Rapids, Mich. They are operating the only secondary school in the Maniema area in Kivu, where antiwhite violence has been reported in the past weeks.

They have three children —Benjamin 6, Kathryn 5, and James 3.

A Malayan patrol, sent out to bring back an American woman missionary raped by four Congolese soldiers at Kama, called on the Terpstra family at Kakumbu. But the family elected to remain at its post.

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — "It is natural for our family to stick to the job." That's the way Benjamin Terpstra described today the decision of his missionary son to stay at his post in the Congo despite the turbulent atmosphere in the infant African nation.

In Washington the United States said it is helpless to guarantee protection to Americans who refuse to leave the Congo as long as it backs the United Nations effort to prevent military intervention in the country.

The State Department said it has been taking "all possible measures" to protect Americans, primarily missionaries, in the country.

(But it appears that this country can do little but appeal to its citizens to leave the Congo — which it already has done — and urge the United Nations to protect those who insist on remaining.)

Latest reports arriving here said rampaging Congolese soldiers apparently have moved out of the area. The Malayan patrol was said to have met only friendly natives.

The Congolese soldiers were said to have been inflamed by pro-Lumumba youths.

ROUNDUP TIME FOR WHALES — It was roundup time for whales off the coast of Japan last week as fishermen and townspeople from Karadomari village in Hakata Bay combined to bring in 100 of the 15-foot blackfish variety. Fishermen drove whales toward the shore in the bay, where villagers roped the tails and hauled them ashore. The fishermen worked like seagoing cowboys, upsetting the "Moby Dick" whaling boat tradition.

UAW Gets $30 Million in SUB

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union reported today that its members collected an estimated $30 million in supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) in 1960 under the terms of UAW contracts with the auto industry and other firms.

★ ★ ★

The SUB program, negotiated by the union in 1955, pays benefits in addition to regular unemployment compensation.

The UAW said the "big three" auto companies, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, accounted for more than $19.5 million of the total.

General Motors employes collected $8,852,995; Ford, $5,531,901; and Chrysler, $5,224,497.

In addition, Studebaker-Packard employes got $1,749,231 and American Motors $168,025.

U.N. Assembly Moves Slowly

Committee Quits and Hope Glimmers to Hold Short Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The General Assembly's faltering attempt to get down to work sputtered out today when its special political committee adjourned indefinately.

Failure to achieve agreement to curtail the disarmament debate and drop cold war items from the agenda brought strong pressure from several sides Tuesday to get the Assembly session under way.

Since it reconvened March 7 after an 11-week recess, only its trusteeship committee has held sessions.

The 99-nation special political committee was convened this morning, ostensibly to discuss a Czech-sponsored item dealing with colonialism. But no delegation was ready to go ahead and committee Chairman Carlet R. Auguste of Haiti adjourned the session.

There was only forlorn hope that agreement yet might be reached on shortening the Assembly session, although negotiating contacts between the United States and Russia were kept alive.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co., a Detroit-based pharmaceutical manufacturer, announced today it plans to spend $48 million over the next five years in a capital expansion program.

Supervisors Not Bound on Clinic

City Won't Direct Vote

City commissioners last night held firm in their refusal to put seven votes into the pocket of supporters of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

Without taking a vote, they indicated there would be no order to the city's seven representatives on the board of supervisors to vote for a bigger county subsidy of the clinic.

Officers and sympathizers of the clinic have asked a number of Oakland County cities for such support, winning votes in four of them so far.

There still is a possibility that the commission in two weeks will pass a weak resolution, favoring the clinic, but not ordering a specific vote.

"We want only your moral support, your recommendation that we get favorable consideration from the county," said Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, 831 Glendale St., a member of the clinic's board of directors and one of three clinic supporters who appeared before the commission last night in a second bid for aid.

The clinic says that without more money it will be forced to close its Birmingham branch. Other branches are in Pontiac and Royal Oak.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said the commission won't be in position to take any step until a report on the clinic's financial history is received from the county March 28.

AGAINST ORDERING

Several commissioners, including Rowston, who is a representative on the board of supervisors, said they no more wanted to order the county around than have the county order them around.

In response to this, Mrs. Farrell E. Roberts, 2486 LaFay St., West Bloomfield Township, wife of the Oakland County state senator, called for clarification.

"It would appear from your statements that the people of Pontiac have no place to go to have a voice in their county government," she said. "If they can't come to you for help, where can they go?"

Replying, Rowston said, "They can appeal personally to their supervisors."

The representatives said they will renew their bid for help in two weeks.

JFK Hits Short Work Week

week instead of the 40 hours a week."

In expressing hope the school controversy won't divide the country, Kennedy said:

"I am hopeful that when the smoke is cleared there will continue to be harmony among the various religious groups of the country.

"I am going to do everything that I can to make sure that harmony exists, because it reaches far beyond the question of education and goes, in a very difficult time of our country, to an important ingredient of our national strength.

"So I am confident that the people who are involved outside the government, and members of Congress and the administration, will attempt to conduct the discussion on this sensitive issue in such a way as to maintain the strength of the country and not divide it."

A reporter told Kennedy that his election has been regarded in some quarters as a victory over religious prejudice.

The newsman asked whether the President feels the current controversy over the education bill is provoking religious prejudice.

Kennedy replied that he hopes it will not do so.

The reporter had spoken of what he called the inflexible stand of some Roman Catholic Church officials in seeking federal aid for parochial schools.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said both Catholics and Protestants are entitled to their view and have a right to express them.

The President said it is quite appropriate that these groups should "not change their view because of the religion of the occupant of the White House."

MENTIONS STATE PLANT

Kennedy said he hopes an arrangement can be worked out so that a surplus Air Force metal extrusion plant at Adrian, Mich., can be retained to provide employment.

The President said he hoped he would get a decision this week from John L. Moore, general services administrator, on a satisfactory transfer.

Kennedy predicted that Congress will act favorably on his New Frontier program despite what he called "important and powerful and well-organized" opposition.

★ ★ ★

A reporter told Kennedy that the President's legislative program seemed to be "in considerable trouble in Congress."

The newsman asked what steps the President plans to translate what appears to be favorable public opinion into congressional support.

Kennedy replied he thinks the people are interested in the passage of minimum wage, school, medical care for the aged, highway and farm legislation.

Kennedy drew a laugh from reporters when he said that personally he would prefer a shorter work week, but he was opposed to curtailing work time in industry.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Twp. to Name New Attorney March 27

BIRMINGHAM — A successor to A. Floyd Blakeslee, who resigned as Bloomfield Township attorney after 36 years, will be named in two weeks.

Supervisor Arno Hulet said today that the Township Board of Trustees is presently considering a successor but it will be March 27 before the appointment is confirmed.

Blakeslee, of 382 W. Iroquois Rd., Pontiac, submitted his letter of resignation to the Township Board Monday.

He stated that he wanted to devote more time to his own law firm, Blakeslee and Roeser, and have more time for travel.

The attorney was legal counsel for West Bloomfield Township for many years but resigned from that position in December.

Bloomfield Township Trustees have approved a $15,000 paving program for Long Lake Shore Drive. The cost of the project will be assessed some 36 property owners benefiting from the improvement.

The Birmingham City Commission has approved a 30-year contract with the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

The contract, which will give Birmingham rubbish disposal facilities for the next three decades, is subject, however, to the approval of 12 communities participating in the program.

To date, only Birmingham and Troy have signed the long-term pact.

The authority's incinerator is in Madison Heights.

Men to Have British Look

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The fashionable American man, beginning this spring, will dress in clothes with the "British Look." If this calls forth a mental image of rawther seedy herringbone trousers, two layers of sweaters, an ascot and bowler — perish the backward thought.

The "British Look," as we saw it modeled today, has a modified hour-glass shape with a small waist twixt broad chest and hips, and the accent on long, slender legs.

It's sort of a masculine Marilyn Monroe silhouette.

"It's replacing the 'Continental Look' this year, apparently," observed John Taylor, amused. Taylor is editor of Britain's leading custom tailoring paper ("The Tailor and Cutter") and was called to New York for consultations with magazine fashion editors on the matter.

"The whole thing was started in the American clothing industry—they've got to dodge around and get a little obsolescence going—and of course when we heard about it we were happy to help, in any way we can," he explained amiably.

"It's good to know that if we send over some of our clothes and fabrics, they won't be tossed in Boston Harbor, at least."

He stood up to show off the "look," explaining that U.S. men probably would wear slightly modified versions of his suit . . . which was a brown and black striped worsted, with peaked double-breasted lapels tapering to a high waistline that was single-breasted ("We are working up, you see, to a double-breasted suit by next year)." The trousers were cuffless and narrow, tapered to a 16½-inch circumference at the ankle, making them about two inches skinnier than today's trousers.

* * *

The picture is completed with a white shirt with wide-spread collar, and a four-in-hand tie which seemed quite broad compared with the "Continental's" skimpy silk models.

"It's a rather lively look, don't you think?" remarked Taylor, unbuttoning his cinched-in waist and seating himself. "Not at all what most Americans think of the British."

U. S. Fire Toll High, Association Reports

BOSTON (AP)—More than 100 families were virtually wiped out last year by fires in their homes, the National Fire Protection Association reports.

Eighty-nine fires in dwellings and apartments in the United States and 15 more in Canada took the lives of four or more persons simultaneously—a total of 501 lives, 80 per cent of them children.

Another 349 died in 47 hotel, industrial, mercantile and transportation fires and explosions which took four or more lives.

"More than 80 per cent of the victims died because they were trapped by fire, in many instances through failure to plan and practice escape routes from their homes," the international fire safety organization said.

Flushing Votes to Pay Levies Over 20 Years

FLUSHING (AP)—Flushing voters approved Monday a charter amendment under which the village may spread special assessments for sewer, water, street and sidewalk improvements over a 20-year period.

The village also voted to abolish the caucus system of nominating village officers and replaced it with a petition-and-primary system.

4 Burglaries Reported in Pontiac

Four burglaries are being investigated by Pontiac police.

A break-in of Rogers Sales & Service, 1153 N. Perry St., netted intruders $118.75.

The cash, in a money bag, was taken from a desk drawer after the burglars entered by breaking a window early today, police said.

Romilta Gardner, 441 Howard McNeill St., reported burglars took some foodstuffs from a refrigerator, but didn't touch a wallet containing $48 which was in the open.

William H. McKnight, 324 Judson St., reported burglars entered his home but nothing was stolen.

Ilean Nelson, 60 W. Pike St., reported a bedspread and electric vibrator stolen from her apartment yesterday.

Plan Would Split County's Congressional District

A plan which would split the 18th Congressional District — Oakland County — among three different districts will be introduced by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

It would be the first of many blueprints for remapping Michigan's congressional districts to be offered by an Oakland County legislator.

Rep. Edward H. Jeffries, D-Detroit, had another one ready to toss into the hopper.

Anderson's and Jeffries' proposals will join six other plans already submitted, all in the House and all but one by Democrats.

The number and variety of the offerings probably foretell a lively dispute over reshaping of the districts to accommodate the 19th picked up as a result of population gains since 1950.

Under Anderson's bill one new district would be comprised of Macomb County south of 14-Mile road, excluding Fraser, plus Royal Oak Township, Hazel Park, and Madison Heights.

Another would cover Oakland County North of 20-Mile road plus Lapeer County, Fraser and the portion north of 14-Mile road in Macomb County.

A third district would be made up of the portion of Oakland County south of 20-Mile road as well as Plymouth and Northville and Northville and Plymouth townships in Wayne County.

Genesee and Shiawassee Counties would be joined into a district as would Huron, Saginaw, Sanilac, St. Clair and Tuscola counties. Kent and Montcalm counties would be joined into one district with Ottawa county being shifted elsewhere.

Jeffries proposed that Kent, Macomb and Genesee counties each be made single districts. Ingham, Livingston and Jackson counties would be merged into a new district.

Ottawa County would be added to the fourth district; Bay and Midland counties would be joined with all counties in the present seventh district but Macomb; the entire Upper Peninsula plus eight Northern Lower Peninsula counties would form a single district and a new district would be mapped out from parts of the ninth and 11th across the Northern Lower Peninsula.

The 19th congressman will be elected in 1962. Unless the legislature comes to terms on the boundaries and Gov. Swainson approves them, the new congressman will be chosen from the state at large.

★ ★ ★

Over in the Senate Tuesday Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, introduced two bills. One would shorten from four years to two the frequency of voter re-registration required of those who have not voted during the period, and the second would require the installation in new autos of brackets for safety belts for the driver and one other front-seat passenger.

Bible Group Told to Quit 31 Schools

LANSING (AP)—The Rural Bible Mission of Kalamazoo was told today that its religious instruction program in public schools is contrary to the state and federal constitutions.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, in effect, ordered the Protestant church group to abandon its long-standing program, which extends into 31 Michigan counties, mostly rural areas.

He advised the local school boards to take "immediate steps" to halt any programs that are operating in their districts.

The attorney general's decision climaxed a dispute brought to a head when four parents of elementary school pupils in nearby Williamston asked the state to compel the mission to end its instruction program in the Williamston Memorial School.

Elmer Deal of Gull Lake, head of the organization, immediately complied.

Adams' opinion, asked by the Jackson Council of Churches, held illegal any religious training "conducted on public school property either during the normal school day or anytime when the authority of the school is applied to the pupils through its teachers or other officials."

Six Openings Left for Cake Instruction

Six openings remain in one of Waterford Township's popular recreational activities — cake decorating — according to Audry Hines, instructor.

★ ★ ★

Fourteen women have enrolled thus far, to learn the fine art of making delicious cakes look beautiful. Three categories — fall flowers, Christmas and Halloween decorations — will be featured in the classes.

★ ★ ★

Those interested have been asked to attend the first class lesson from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road. A $5 fee will be charged for the self-supporting activity, sponsored by the recreation department.

Red Offensive Looms in Laos

Early Settlement of Civil War Grows Dim as Leaders Disagree

From Our News Wires

American intelligence sources have warned against a possible new Communist offensive in tension-ridden Southeast Asia, most probably in Laos, dispatches from Taipei, Formosa, reported today.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodia, a sharp difference between the pro-Western government in Laos and former Premier Souvanna Phouma emerged, dimming chances for an early settlement of the Laotian civil war.

Before leaving for a tour of foreign governments, Souvanna said a 14-nation conference should be held on Laos as soon as possible.

★ ★ ★

The neutralist former premier said it would bring all factions together to set up a commission to stop the fighting. Thus the war would continue until the conference reached agreement.

But Ngon Sananikone, a cabinet minister representing Vientiane, said his government feels a commission of neutral nations should be chosen quickly to stop the fighting.

This would be followed by detailed discussions in an international conference.

★ ★ ★

The intelligence reports coincided with a full-scale practice alert which began Tuesday for all U.S. forces in the Pacific. The Pentagon has called the practice alert "routine."

The Communists already had proclaimed Wednesday "Laos Day" and ordered their forces to exterminate loyal Laotian government forces reported fleeing to Vientiane from captured Sala Phou Khoun.

Party's Disconnected

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Telephone operator Marcella Wainscott, 30, won a divorce Tuesday from accountant Lester Wainscott, 40, on testimony she married "a wrong number."

Man Bound to Court in Driving Death

A 46-year-old Royal Oak man, charged with negligent homicide in the Feb. 24 auto death in Bloomfield Township, of Vernon M. Libstaff of Berkley was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for a March 20 hearing at his examination yesterday.

★ ★ ★

LeRoy F. Edgerly of 607 Knowles St. stood mute to the charge before Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle. He released Edgerly on a $1,000 bond.

The charge was brought against Edgerly following the death of Libstaff, of 4227 Tyler St., in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after he collided with Edgerly's car on Square Lake Road near Franklin Road.

Libstaff's wife, Thelma, was seriously injured in the crash and remains in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Bloomfield Township police said that Edgerly was attempting to make a left hand turn off Square Lake Road into a driveway when Libstaff, traveling east, collided with the turning car.

GOP Doubts Dick Knows What He Wants

Nixon Told He Must Fight for Any Political Future

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The only thing clear about Richard M. Nixon's political future is that it isn't clear at all, even to him.

The former vice president made a statement to Republicans which has been interpreted as meaning he won't run for governor in California in 1962.

There is one simple rule for deciding when a politician will not run for office. That's when he says: "I will not be a candidate under any circumstances."

Nixon's didn't go that far in telling California Republicans he will not be Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's opponent in 1962.

★ ★ ★

What he said was: "I am not a candidate. I have no intention to be a candidate or institute a draft."

COULD BE PERSUADED?

Having no intention now and being persuaded later to run are not the same thing. And, while he said he would not start a move to draft him, he didn't say he would turn down a draft if someone else started it.

And he was even less precise about his ideas on running for the presidency again in 1964 or 1968, and understandably so.

The New York Times reported he told confidants he had no plans at present to run for the White House again.

But he conceded, the Times said, that his making a second try was not beyond the realm of possibility.

There is a simple interpretation for this: Right now he's not sure of his prospects in 1964, so he's not sticking his neck out.

It's questionable that he will be in a position to do any picking or choosing in 1964 for he may be in the political discard by then.

AN EMPTY TITLE!

He indicated in California he may take an active leadership role in the party. As the 1960 defeated presidential candidate he is the so-called titular head of the party anyway. That could and may become an empty title.

When he spoke of his leadership he qualified it by saying he'd lead only "to the extent that fellow members of my party may desire me to do so."

Already there's some question about how welcome his leadership is.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, most vigorous spokesman for the Republicans' extreme right wing, apparently isn't willing to let Nixon call the shots just because he's supposed to be the leader.

★ ★ ★

He said if Nixon wants to be a power in the party he should run for something. Goldwater added: "Until he gets elected to some position, he's just going to be a Republican lawyer.

ROCKY IN RUNNING

"If Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is re-elected next year he will be in a much better position to win the presidential nomination in 1964."

So, before Nixon has had time to look around, he's been told in effect: "Anything you get, you'll have to fight for."

Rockefeller, Nixon's only real rival in 1960, will, if re-elected governor of New York next year, be in a prime spot to grab for the big prize in 1964.

★ ★ ★

In one election after another, with only a couple of exceptions in the past two decades, voters have rejected the Republicans' conservatism.

Judging from this past experience the Democrats figure to win again in 1962 and 1964 unless the Kennedy administration turns out dismally or unless the Republicans get more progressive.

And Rockefeller, not Nixon, represents the progressive wing of the party.

Pontiac Completes One Hundred Years as City

Today our home town attains its centennial status.

A whole century has passed since it was a village.

It was on March 15, 1861, that we dropped our swaddling clothes.

★ ★ ★

On that day the Michigan Legislature became convinced that we were growing up.

The Civil War was impending, and most everybody was first thinking about that.

There was but little local interest in any proposed change in municipal affairs.

★ ★ ★

Many good Pontiac people felt that it should be put over until after the war closed.

A local historian wrote: "Perhaps never could a more trying time be chosen for a new city government to be organized."

The settlement in the wilderness had officially become a village 24 years before, when it had 270 population.

This was done by one of the first acts of the first Michigan State Legislature, on March 20, 1837.

★ ★ ★

Our State had been admitted to the Union only a few weeks before.

So, in an official way, Pontiac really started with Michigan.

By 1861 we had grown into what was primarily a farmer's town.

A few hundred men worked in the knitting mills, buggy shops, saw mills and grist mills, mostly driven by water power, furnished by impounding the waters of the Clinton River, but the principal business of local merchants came from the surrounding farmers.

The new city's first years were principally given over to doing more than its share in supplying the brains, blood and sinew for the Union Army.

★ ★ ★

For many years Pontiac remained somewhat static in growth. It even had some census decreases in population.

But when farsighted local employers so keenly visioned the possibilities in the manufacture of means of transportation, Pontiac commenced to arrive.

In the building of horse-drawn vehicles it grew to second place in the entire nation, exceeded only by its sister city of Flint.

★ ★ ★

When the horseless carriage was only an experiment, Pontiac industry was not found wanting.

It was among the first cities to show that the odor of ammonia was destined to be succeeded by the smell of gasoline.

It has played a stellar role in putting the world on wheels.

★ ★ ★

Today it stands in third place in the Nation in the manufacture of automobiles, trucks and buses, exceeded only by Flint and Dearborn.

So, Pontiac quite pridefully starts to celebrate its centennial year as a city.

Even in Baseball Game Castro Makes the Rules

Baseball a la CASTRO is a classic example of sportsmanship the way he understands it. To show what a right guy he is, occasionally he climbs off his throne and participates in a game of baseball.

Such was the case recently when an ill-advised runner stole second base from the Cuban dictator who was pitching. Castro would have no part of this, and ordered the runner back to first base. He explained it this way, "In the revolution" he said, "no one can steal, even in baseball."

★ ★ ★

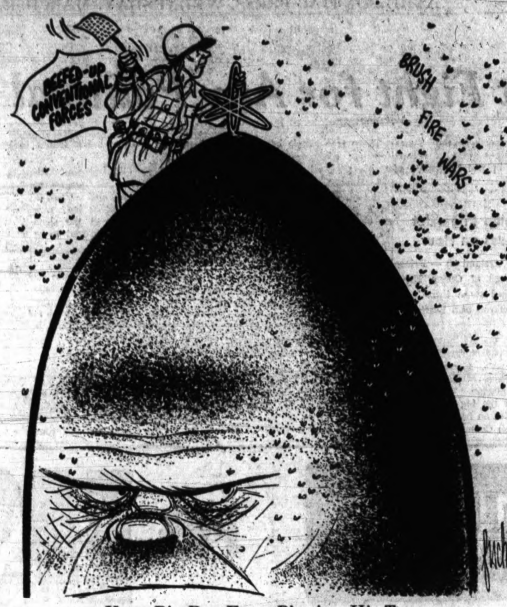
Actually what he was saying is that no one can play against CASTRO if he is trying to win. He figures a baseball game is like Cuba, he always umpires.

This is a dandy illustration of Castro's character. This is the fun loving savior that was out to free Cuba. No one can cross him, and he makes all the rules.

★ ★ ★

Give him time and he'll pitch himself into a hole, and get batted out of the box. The desire for freedom from his enslaved people will eventually win out.

"RUNNING a business without advertising is like making love to a girl in the dark," says an advertising agency official. He's mistaken. Making love to a girl in the dark often gets results.



Keep Big Boy From Blowing His Top

The Man About Town

Pinch Is Coming

Financial Loss for Big City and a Gain for Us

Century: An age that Pontiac surely doesn't feel.

The final official federal census figures show that Detroit lost more in population between 1950 and 1960 than any other city in the entire nation.

The exact figures are 1,849,568 and 1,670,144, a net loss of 179,424, quite comparable to the total population of a city like Flint or Grand Rapids. Many of these good people moved out to our Oakland County.

Now our declining big sister to the south is beginning to feel the pinch of the situation in a financial way. It discovers that it will get $8,200,000 less each year from the State as its part of the sales, gas, weight and intangible taxes.

Much of this will come to Pontiac and other Oakland County cities, villages and townships, on account of their growth. And Detroit, unless it finds a way of cutting its budget, taxpayers must make it up.

All of which is just another of the numerous ways of proving where's the best place to live, work and do business.

'Americans Must Prepare for Thermonuclear Bomb'

It is immoral, illogical and uncivilized to take a fatalistic position as regards the destruction and radiation of thermonuclear bombs. Our nation must survive a holocaust despite the appalling madness of another world conflict.

With only 15 to 25 minutes warning it would be totally futile to evacuate, let alone get home from during 5:00 o'clock traffic. We must hide and that means where we are.

Machines, factories, homes and material facilities can be replaced but fifty million people cannot. The creation of deep underground community shelters each housing 1,000 people is a must. Actually the cost would be only 10 per cent of the defense budget or about $5 billion.

Our government should consider a crash program now to insure the survival of its only real resources — people. Let's put the unemployed to work in the greatest defense project of our heritage. Our civil defense is a flop.

Europeans knew the devastation of war and they made some plans to protect its citizens, but we have nothing! I doubt if the continent sees one atom bomb — the Communists have only one target and that's America.

'Who Will Buy When We're on Welfare?'

I worked in a plant for 27 years on a skilled trade. I have seen many workers displaced because we discovered automation.

One thing has puzzled me and it's something to think about. If they displace all workers to a welfare level, who is going to buy the products? If anyone doesn't believe that automation throws the worker out look what the dial telephone has done to thousands upon thousands of the girls that once asked for number, please.

In reply to "Fed Up" there is only one Sunday a year on which a small collection is taken up for the Holy Father to be used for his charities or any way that he deems necessary.

If it were not for Catholics paying school taxes your children would not have the extra frills of swimming pools, tennis courts, bowling lanes, etc., that we do not think necessary for the education of our children.

If all Catholics were exempt from school taxes we would be able to provide more rooms for our children so that our sisters would not have to teach 56 pupils in a classroom.

'Paid for Both Public, Parochial Schools'

If it were not for the Catholic people, public schools would not be so well-off. I am 65 years old and all my life I have paid to keep up public schools and also paid for parochial schools. As far as our money going to Rome, maybe if people would spend a little on the poor starving children in this country and Rome, China and other parts of the world, perhaps you would not be so fed up.

QUESTION:

My daughter was married in December, 1960. Her husband works and they are filing a joint return. Could I claim her as a dependent, since I contributed her entire support for the year?

ANSWER:

Since your daughter elected to file a joint return with her husband, you cannot claim her as a dependent. If you contributed over 50% to her support during the year and her husband filed a separate return, you could have claimed her as a dependent.

David Lawrence Says:

Professor Defends Parochial Aid

WASHINGTON — Government by presidential press conference already has had some unfortunate consequences. Impromptu answers to a grave question involving the Constitution of the United States have stirred up widespread antagonisms.

LAWRENCE

Orderly government would seem, for instance, to require that, when so important an issue as the constitutionality of federal laws to provide funds for educational institutions is up for discussion, a formal opinion from the attorney general of the United States would first be forthcoming.

★ ★ ★

Rumor has it that President Kennedy was given such an informal opinion before he said that financial aid to denominational colleges is constitutional but that similar aid to sectarian elementary schools is not.

No such opinion, formal or informal, however, was made public, though a brief is said to have been in preparation at the Department of Justice.

The President at his press conferences referred in passing to one Supreme Court case, but there are several other cases that also bear on the subject which he did not mention.

The American people are entitled to know the legal grounds on which the President is opposing loans to build sectarian schools, though other forms of federal aid for sectarian institutions are not barred by him.

The other day, Arthur E. Sutherland Jr., professor of constitutional law at Harvard Law School and himself an Episcopalian, was quoted in the Boston Globe as saying that there is no clear constitutional barrier against federal aid of certain kinds to parochial schools. To give them aid does not, in his opinion, necessarily "prohibit the free exercise of anyone's religion."

Prof. Sutherland dealt exhaustively with this whole controversy in a comprehensive article in the Harvard Law Review in June 1949 when he reviewed many decades of discussion in the courts.

He wrote that a court decision on this point is an "embarrassing one to make, because some governmental recognition of and backing for religion has been customary for many years and continues with surprising vigor."

HIS ARGUMENT

He added:

"The United States, by the expenditure of public funds, trains young men for the ministry in the doctrines of their chosen sects (the GI Bill of Rights).

"The states provide tax advantages for religious organizations. New York commands that school buses carry Catholic children to parochial schools.

"The coins and postage stamps bear reminders of the Divinity. The government prints copies of the Declaration of Independence with its assertion as a self-evident truth that man's creator endowed him with an inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"The governors of the states and the President of the United States issue proclamations urging that the people give thanks to God for many beneficences.

"Short of declaring all these to be unconstitutional, or to take refuge in the practical inability of enthusiastic adversaries to raise the question, the Supreme Court can only determine by some sort of rough justice which of these and many other like activities, state and federal, must stop because of the First Amendment and the Fourteenth. . . .

"There is a great deal of lip-service paid to the principle of the complete severance of religion from education; there is a surprisingly persistent and widespread practice to the contrary.

★ ★ ★

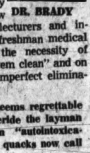
"Bible reading in public schools continues to be required by statute in many states. School sessions are opened with prayers in a number of places.

"The invocation of a local minister is an important part of most graduation exercises, and despite an occasional flurry of protests, songs with religious motifs are sung in public schools at such festivals as Thanksgiving and Christmas."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Charlatans Cashing In on Elimination Worry

Correspondent who is the mother of two fine lads says she enjoys perfect health, but has a bone to pick with me on another score. First she points out, she had completed the first year of her course in medicine when she married and gave up the intention of becoming a physician. That was 20 years ago, but she distinctly remembers how several of the lecturers and instructors of the freshman medical class dwelt in the necessity of "keeping the system clean" and on the danger of "imperfect elimination."



DR. BRADY

Therefore it seems regrettable that I should deride the layman who believes in "autointoxication" or, as the quacks now call it, "autotoxicosis."

Shall the pupil be wiser than the teacher, she asks, and two or three pages more than she would have written had she completed her medical course, even 20 years ago.

This business of correcting "imperfect elimination" and "keeping the system clean" is a highly profitable business for the nostrum and quackery people.

★ ★ ★

With apologies to the whippersnappers who instructed and lectured to the freshman medical student 20 years ago, I must reiterate that there is no ground in our present knowledge of physiology or pathology for the morbid notion that "imperfect elimination" has anything to do with the many disturbances of health which charlatans ascribe to "autointoxication" or "autotoxicosis."

★ ★ ★

Note carefully, if you are not too dumb, that I do not deny that many individuals suffer in health by reason of their introspection, anxiety and worry over this imaginary "imperfect elimination" and equally imaginary "autointoxication" which the nostrum vendors and the charlatans constantly feed to the gullible wiseacre laity. I tell you there are millions in it, and that's all there is in it.

No. 25 in the Little Lessons in the Ways of Health series is a booklet entitled "The Constipation Habit." Copy available to any correspondent who (1) asks for it, (2) encloses 25 cents in coin (not stamps) and (3) encloses a stamped envelope bearing his correct address.

A fair share of those who con this booklet carefully get the idea, try it out and become permanently freed from slavery to physic. But too many of them are just too dumb, or perhaps too thoroughly hypnotized by the interests which profit on the obsession.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Artists Should Use Psychology

BY GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-433: Morgan D., aged 38, is manager of a book company that publishes illustrated volumes of Bible stories.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, we have over 50 full page color plates in that volume," he remarked, as I was thumbing through one of the books on his display counter.

"Besides, we have hundreds of pen sketches along the margin or at the bottom of the pages.

"The artist spent ten years getting the exact details so they would be historically accurate.

"Don't you think this is a very wonderful book for children?"

NO SUSPENSE

Please notice the effort and energy spent in trying to get the costumes or furniture technically accurate, to fit the age in which the characters lived.

The artist is to be commended for such diligence in minor details.

But the book lacked suspense and dramatic conflict. The artist had not placed the characters in interesting situations.

★ ★ ★

For example, one color plate of an old man, showed him standing just looking at the cloudless sky. That was all. A motionless, unfamiliar old man! The human interest value was almost nil!

Why wasn't a lion shown stalking the man, or a snake hissing at him?

That artist wasn't wise to applied psychology! He didn't realize that a cartoon sketch with some dramatic or suspense value, is far more intriguing than a costly color plate on which he spent ten years of research to depict the needlecraft or picayune details of the scene.

WHY ARTISTS FAIL

Many artists are like the typical college professor today. They get lost in uninteresting details, failing to realize that the public reacts with snap judgments to the total effect.

What child cares, for example, whether Samson was dressed in a Roman tunic or a Jewish Shepherd's garb?

Besides, modern Americans can't recognize either, so what's the difference?

But children do know that Samson wrestled a lion with his bare hands and tore the jaws apart. There's the human interest scene to depict!

Many artists and professors are so myopic as regards applied psychology that they'll muff their golden opportunity to interest and further motivate children favorably.

Instead they boast of maybe 10 years of exhaustive research on a hemstitch or sandal, when the children think "So what!"

We have hundreds of technically trained artists and thousands of professors of English composition in this country, yet few of either group can sell anything, for they don't understand people.

They waste their time on hemstitches instead of selecting truly major conflicts. Or, as English professors, they quibble over split infinitives, but don't see the love and strife and self sacrifice in human lives.

TEST FOR ARTISTS

Your children and mine don't get much of a thrill viewing static scenes, such as Rebekah posing with a brown water jar on her head.

Why isn't she depicted as swept off her feet and melting in the impassioned embrace of Isaac?

Kisses are far more intriguing than clay pottery. Who cares for a water jar on a woman's head, unless a bumblebee is buzzing around the latter and threatening some excitement?

To pick a great artist, send him forth with a camera. See if he can bring home photographs of general human interest.

If not, he can't paint pictures of human interest, either, for rich hues can't take the place of dramatic conflict and suspense.

Send 20 cents and a stamped return envelope for my bulletin on "Psychology of Advertising and Selling." It shows the same psychological methods that Michelangelo also used to gain the spotlight and sell his product.

To Offer Names for 2 Schools

Waterford Board to Hear Suggestions for Elementary Buildings

The names committee of the Waterford Township Board of Education is expected to make recommendations for the naming of two new elementary school buildings, now under construction, at tomorrow's 7:30 p.m. board meeting.

One of the schools is located in the Williams Lake-Elizabeth Lake roads area, and the other in the Lotus Lake area on Harper Street. Both are expected to be ready for occupancy by September.

The board will also consider wording of a plaque to be installed on the new Waterford Kettering senior high school, also under construction.

* * *

Further consideration will be given to appointing a member at large to the recreation board. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Irwin Greer two months ago.

Supt. William A. Shunck will present recommendations relative to the insurance of school district buildings, and the board will discuss the informational brochure recently mailed to taxpayers in the school district.

A memorandum relative to a proposed traffic signal at Highland and Cass Lake Roads will also be up for discussion, and the board will be asked to authorize the reinvestment of school building and site funds in U.S. treasury bills.

Condemnation OK'd for Land

Price Wrigley Asks for Right-of-Way Sliver Is Deemed Too High

Condemnation proceedings were authorized last night against the Wrigley supermarket chain for the small sliver of privately owned land across which Glenwood Avenue was extended during the Perry Street widening project of 1958.

City Attorney William A. Ewart won permission to go to court last night after reporting to city commissioners that more than a year of negotiations has failed to produce a purchase price satisfactory to the city.

Ewart said bluntly, "They're trying to gouge us."

Without revealing any figures, Ewart suggested that a condemnation jury would settle on a "more realistic" price than the owners are demanding.

In September 1959, almost a year after the paving was laid, the city learned it had inadvertantly failed to acquire all the necessary right of way. Ewart was then asked to negotiate for its purchase.

★ ★ ★

Lewis M. Wrenn, city engineer at the time of the paving, said the oversight probably occurred because two agencies — the city and the State Highway Department — were involved in right of way purchases instead of only one.

To Mull Over Urban Renewal

City Staffers to Meet With Realtors About Procedures

The city's urban renewal staff is scheduled to meet Tuesday with the urban renewal committee of the Pontiac Board of Realtors to mull over mutual problems.

★ ★ ★

"We want to review the urban renewal program, work out procedures for improved cooperation and discuss listings for possible relocation housings," reported Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

Stierer reported that the city now has 46 properties under option or purchased in the renewal area with a total option value of $301,300.

On a related subject, City Engineer James N. Carlisle conferred with State Highway Department officials yesterday in Lansing over details of the segment of the downtown loop highway to be designed and constructed by the city under the forthcoming agreement on financing and time schedules.

★ ★ ★

The segment, running from West Huron Street to South Saginaw Street, is within the second urban renewal project and will be financed, in part, through federal aid.

To Arraign Youth in Dairy Break-In

Accused of breaking into the Maple Leaf Dairy, 20 E. Howard St., a 19-year-old Pontiac youth will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

Alan J. Lavergne, 16 W. Howard St., waived examination yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Detectives arrested him on a tip. He is being held in the Oakland County Jail, unable to furnish bond of $500 set by Judge Finnegan.

Meats and groceries were stolen in the break-in early Tuesday.

69-Year-Old Granny Given Life Sentence

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Myrtle Veronica Barber, a 69-year-old grandmother, was assessed a life term in prison Tuesday as a habitual criminal.

She was found guilty of forging a $38 check and had two previous convictions on similar offenses. Thre convictions made her eligible for the life sentence.

35 Hear Speech by Deaf Student on Training Plan

Some 35 teachers and parents of acoustically handicapped pupils at Willis School gathered last night to hear a deaf area high school student tell of the value of special training.

★ ★ ★

Cathy Sturgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sturgeon of 3309 Erie Drive, Orchard Lake, was featured speaker.

She spoke on her past and present training in the county's acoustically handicapped program and told parents that she now is able to follow a normal curriculum.

A question-and-answer period followed, and refreshments were served.

There are three rooms for acoustically handicapped pupils at Willis School for preschool; primary and intermediate classes.

To Hear Speakers on Rehabilitation

Rehabilitation programs at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor and the Rehabilitation Institute of Metropolitan Detroit will be discussed at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

Speakers will be Dean Rinek, supervisor of the department of public instruction of the hospital, and Mrs. Rhea Williams, supervisor of vocation rehabilitation at the institute.

The public program is the fifth in a six-program series cosponsored by CIO Council and the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The six leading coal producing states — West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio have yielded more than 22 billion tons since the year 1900.

2 Merged Units Meet First Time

Detroit Planned Parenthood board members joined Oakland County members for an open meeting Tuesday at Devon Gables. The lunch, marked the first meeting in Oakland County since the two groups merged.

Mrs. James McEvoy, honorary member of the league, talked to members and their guests on "Planned Parenthood — its Accomplishments and its Goals."

★ ★ ★

She spoke briefly of the league's history and quoted the American Public Health Association policy which states in part:

"Full freedom should be extended to all population groups for the selection and use of such methods of the regulation of family size as are consistent with the creed and more of the individuals concerned."

★ ★ ★

"Hungry people seem remote," said Mrs. McEvoy, but ". . . in Detroit we learned there are people struggling along with less than enough food for health . . . yet these parents are kept from getting birth-space information from many city departments."

The group has completed plans for a white elephant sale April 20 in the undercroft of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, with Mrs. Theodore R. Butdrick as chairman.

★ ★ ★

Arrangements also were completed for the May 3 Bloomfield - Birmingham - Royal Oak house tour. Mrs. Merrill O. Bates, tour chairman, said the houses ". . . run a gamut from the stark brilliance of one contemporary interior to the impressive grace of an old and formal home."

Tickets for the tour will be available in the Planned Parenthood League office.

Proceeds from the white elephant sale and the house tour will be used by the nine clinics which the league operates in Oakland and Wayne counties.

An amateur explores a professional's tools and the two worlds meet to assess equipment needs for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. With Mrs. Forrest Rorabaugh, (seated) of Bloomfield Hills is research chemist Dr. Emanuel Epstein and surgical nurse Mrs. Gillette Miller.

Tuesday Musicale Re-Elects Officers

Mrs. J. B. Forman was re-elected president of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale when the club held its annual election Tuesday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church. Also re-elected were Mrs. G. H. Putnam, first vice president; Mrs. R. M. Todd, second vice president; and Mrs. L. H. Schimmel, historian.

New officers named were Mrs. O. W. Schmidt, recording secretary; Mrs. A. D. Esler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. M. Hathaway, treasurer and Mrs. W. D. Lefurgy, assistant treasurer.

A program of musical Americana received enthusiastic audience response. Presented by members of the club chorus, the selections set a lively mood, climaxed by the demi-opera "Monette" where eight pretty hat designers claimed that the answer to all women's moods was a new hat.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. J. B. Nicolls portrayed Monette; Mrs. Putnam, who directed the chorus, the store manager; and Mrs. O. L. Smith, the buyer. Others in the cast were Mrs. Charles Buck, Mrs. Robert L'Huillier, Mrs. Vigor Lindquist, Mrs. John LeMont, Mrs. Aubrey Roberts, Mrs. Fred Stimpert and Mrs. J. K. Helvey. Headache Results in Brush-Off

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last evening some friends of ours dropped in unexpectedly to pay us a visit. I had a very bad headache and felt too miserable to entertain guests.

I had planned to take some pills and go to bed early. These friends usually stay quite late. When they arrived I explained that I had a terrible headache and was planning to go to bed early.

They said they were sorry and left immediately.

My husband thinks that I was very rude to them and that I should call and apologize. I would like to know if you think I was rude.

A: Telling these unexpected visitors of your terrible headache and plans to go to bed was not rude, but I agree with your husband that you should telephone to say how sorry telephone to say how sorry you were not to have been able to see them and ask them please to come again soon.

Q. Will you please tell me how a married woman signs her name in a funeral register? Does she sign Mary Jones or Mrs. John Jones?

A: She writes her name Mary Blank if that is the way the family knows her. But if Mary Blank would only be confusing to them whereas Mrs. John Blank would identify her, then she writes the latter.

A name signed in a register is not the same as signing a message, in which case it would be wrong to prefix Mrs. to her signature.

Soviets Favor 'Hail Victors'

KIEVE, Russia (UPI)—The University of Michigan Concert Band was to present the first of five concerts in Kiev today, with the U. of M. fight song, "Hail to the Victors" still No. 1 on the Russian hit parade.

The band will open in Odessa March 21, Kharkov March 26 and the resort town of Sukumi March 30, according to business manager Frederick E. Moncrieff.

During the first three weeks of an eight-week tour through the Soviet Union, the 94-member band has traveled 7,600 miles inside Russia and has played before 40,000 people, Moncrieff said.

The fight song has been popular right from the start, he said, adding that the Russians like to clap along with the music.

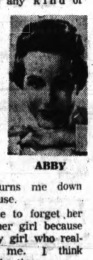
Look Elsewhere — Abby

You're Just Not Wanted

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in a restaurant who refuses to have any kind of date with me.



ABBY

She is not married (I have checked) and has no steady boy friend. I have had other people intercede on my behalf, and I have asked her myself several times, but she always turns me down with some excuse.

Don't tell me to forget her and find another girl because she is the only girl who really appeals to me. I think about her all the time.

I have written letters to her and have even sent her presents, but she sends them back. How can I get a date with her?

WON'T GIVE UP

DEAR WON'T: Quit forcing your attentions on the girl before she asks someone to intercede on HER behalf. It is apparent that she is not interested in dating you. Look elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend has lost my ring. It was solid gold and I got it for my Bar Mitzvah.

I am afraid my mother will slaughter me when she finds out because she doesn't even know I let this girl wear it. Please tell me what to do.

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Perhaps it was insured, in which case you are in luck. 'Fess up and take your punishment like the man you are supposed to be.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My father was a brilliant business executive who married a beautiful, bird-brained woman who "yessed" him all his life and made him feel like a big man.

I am their 6-foot son who inherited his mother's looks and, unfortunately, her brains.

I do not have college-level mentality and my father is crucifying me because I can't get into a good college and follow in his royal footsteps.

Please tell college boys not to pick the cute little bird-brained dolls for dating purposes because, even though they have no intention of marrying the dummies, they usually wind up married to them.

Then their handsome bird-brained sons can't get into college and they are sick with disappointments. Tell those guys to marry coeds who have good mental equipment and can bear them children who will be able to handle their fortunes. Let idiots marry idiots.

Couple Repeats Vows at First Presbyterian

Candlelight nuptials of Janet Lee Wilson and F. Richard Harrison of Oxford were solemnized by the Rev. Galen E. Hershey Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church.

Vows and rings were exchanged before an altar background of white hyacinths and gladioli.

Daughter of the Elmer R. Wilsons of Mary Day Avenue, the bride appeared in white silk bombazine styled with bodice of Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. Lace medallions were appliqued on the bouffant skirt which swept into a circular cathedral train.

MRS. F. RICHARD HARRISON

She wore the bridegroom's gift of pearls and a veil of silk illusion attached to a scalloped crown of lace and pearls. White roses, hyacinths and ivy comprised her cathedral bouquet.

Attending their sister as bridesmaids were Mrs. Don L. Bailey and Mrs. William Boose Jr. of Troy. Luana Mehlberg was honor maid.

A Dior bow accented the back waistline of their dresses of aqua nylon organza over taffeta, styled with round necklines and short sleeves. They carried aqua plumes centered with violets.

Kristen Boose, niece of the bride, wearing white lace sashed in aqua taffeta, carried violets in an aqua feather basket.

Robert Harrison of Oxford stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Floyd R. Harrisons of Oxford. Guests were seated by William Boose Jr. of Troy and Don L. Bailey.

Assisting at the church reception for some 250 were Mrs. Richard Fillingham, Mrs. Larry Dorow, Mrs. George Felice and Mrs. S. L. Bailey.

For the Florida honeymoon, the new Mrs. Harrison donned a navy sheer wool suit with white linen collar and matching accessories. The couple will reside on Lakeview Avenue.

Pink cymbidium orchids complemented Mrs. Wilson's sheath dress of Dior blue Italian silk shantung worn with matching flower hat.

The mother of the bridegroom, in a lavender silk sheath dress, wore orchid gloves, flower hat and a purple orchid.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. George E. Bentley of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's grandmother. The John McKays of Lansing and the L. O. Beehlers of Saginaw also attended their neice's wedding.

Try These Exercises

Flabby Arms . . . Oh, No!

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fashions of the past season have been kind to women in many ways. For instance, there have been some lovely, long-sleeved evening gowns.

However, spring styles are shot through with dresses which have no sleeves at all, with or without a matching jacket.

Then comes summer! I am sure you can guess what I am thinking about. Upper arms!

The upper arm and the inner thighline are the two spots which seem to lose their firmness first. Unless a woman exercises to prevent this flabbiness or to decrease it she will look older than she should. Today I will give you a couple of exercises for the upper arms.

1. Stand tall. Raise your arms sideward, shoulder height, with your palms facing forward. Slowly and tensely (as though moving the arms against resistance) lower the arms. As you do so, turn the palms upward slightly. This is done very slowly. Relax. Raise the arms to starting position and continue.

2. Stand tall, arms at sides. Bend the elbows and as you do so clench the fists hard and place the fists on top of the shoulders. Keeping the fist on the shoulders, raise the elbows up as far as possible. Lower elbows, unclench fists and return arms to starting position. Continue.

Many sports are beautifying to the upper arms, among them golf and tennis and swimming. These also are healthful exercises. Swimming especially is a magic normalizer of the figure.

Also remember that your upper arms would appreciate a little lotion of cream and some make-up.

Women often neglect them in these ways. They are apt to use a hand lotion or cream and take it part way up the lower arm and let it go at that. Your upper arms are going to be very much on display this spring and summer.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Armfuls of Beauty" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

By the way, if you would like to get ready for spring and summer clothes, you may want my nine-day diet which gives you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days. If so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the nine-day diet booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

"And in this corner ——," a sweet young thing doing her arm exercises. Remember, too, that your upper arms appreciate a little lotion of cream and some make-up, especially during summer.

Folk-Song Duo Charms Receptive Area Audience

BY MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

If Waterford Civic Music concert-goers were not confirmed folk-song enthusiasts before Tuesday evening's concert, they were charmed to this state by two internationally famous balladeers.

Husband and wife team, Marais and Miranda were heard in a score of folk songs on the stage of Pierce Junior High School Tuesday evening. Their relaxed performance was nonetheless artistically satisfying.

Using a deliberately intimate low-keyed projection, the singers displayed exquisite timing and polish.

Josef Marais provided accompaniment on the classic guitar with finesse that no doubt evolved from his training as a concert violinist. His easy relaxed baritone balanced well with his wife's light soprano. Obviously they enjoy one another as well as making an appearance.

★ ★

They are at their best in presenting the South African folk songs native to Marais. Using contrapuntal effects and native percussion instruments, a group of five African songs was offered in the second half of the program.

"A Bunch of Feathers" in which the two sang with just the proper note of unsophistication was well-received by the audience.

Another outstanding number was the plaintive Scottish ballad of Barbara Allen.

Sung at the program's outset, the piece evoked a mood of haunting intimacy for the audience, linking them with the players at song's end by a moment of complete silence.

Miranda's a cappella street cries from France and Holland were comic relief. Her wit and humor are additions to the performance.

A French number "Cool Running Water" captured onomatopoetically the sounds of a rippling stream. And the French heritage of Miranda was vividly displayed in the 11th century Gallic battle hymn "Wine of Gaul." Singing this, she managed to look like the patriotic Marianne of France.

The audience demanded two encores, "The Cat Came Back" and "Go Tell Aunt Rhody."

★ ★ ★

Josef Marais did all the translations and musical adaptations of the evening. His conversational manner of providing program notes to the audience and his gay repartee with his wife were non-musical bonuses for concert-goers.

Be Proud of Work, Madam Housewife

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most full-time housewives today seem to share one bad fault. They constantly low-rate themselves.

Maybe it is because as wives and mothers they have come in for so much criticism in the last few years that they have so little confidence in their ability.

★ ★ ★

Maybe it is because they have used that phrase "just a housewife" so long that they have come to feel their job is no more important than the phrase makes it seem.

Maybe hearing all the time what an easy life they have makes them feel guilty for not accomplishing more than they do . . . however busy they seem to stay.

Maybe it is because combining a job and homemaking has become so common that full-time homemakers have become shy about giving themselves credit for doing just one job well.

★ ★ ★

More than likely it is a combination of all these things that accounts for the full-time homemaker's obvious lack of satisfaction with the job she is doing.

The truth is that most full-time homemakers today deserve to be proud of themselves for the job they are doing.

Day in and day out they make more important decisions, handle more emergencies, turn out more work, and come more nearly being indispensable than any other group of women.

But instead of thinking of themselves as being important and of accomplishing important things they call themselves "just housewives" . . . and constantly low-rate themselves.

SHE WAS DELIGHTED

What started me thinking about this was hearing a housewife the other day say without any false modesty "I'm so proud of myself."

She had tackled and finished a hard job and she was so pleased with herself she didn't care who knew it. The pride in her voice had a cheerful, happy ring and suddenly I realized what a rare thing it has become to hear a housewife give herself a well deserved pat on the back.

HAIR COLOR

Finding a flattering shade for your hair can easily be done by trying rinses until you find your complexion and your personality. Keeping it that shade is your next step. It can be done simply with common sense and a little caution. Do not be a mad chemist, mixing home concoctions. The results can be disastrous and costly. If you decide on a drastic and permanent color change, DON'T do it yourself.

Ex-City Woman Feted at Shower

A stork shower Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Clayton Gillies of Michigan Avenue honored former Pontiac resident, Mrs. Kenward Pearce of Big Rapids. Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. John Lamont and Mrs. John Wethy.

Among the 26 guests from the Pontiac area were Mrs. Bert Weddle and Mrs. Irl Williams of Waterford Township; Mrs. John Ritter and Mrs. John Ostrander of Sylvan Lake; Mrs. Floyd Parks of Clarkston and Mrs. Lewis Jilbert of Clawson.

A Flavor Booster

Try using prune juice instead of water for braising Swiss steak. Prune juice is a real flavor booster. Good in pot roast, too.

Time Needed to Let Bygones Be Bygones

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

A parent should never give the silent treatment to a child she's punished or scolded, should she?

My upstairs neighbor clams up with her kids after she's punished or bawled them out for doing something wrong.

★ ★ ★

I told her I'd heard a PTA psychologist say how bad this was — that parents should always let bygones be bygones when punishment is over. But she said she didn't care what the psychologist said . . . .

ANSWER: You care, though, don't you?

Tell me something. Does the psychologist's statement worry you? Do you sometimes find it hard to give your children the same easy acceptance after punishment that you gave them before they offended or frightened you?

Why should this reserve make you a bad mother?

NEED TO WITHDRAW

Some of us need time to let bygones be bygones with anyone who has hurt us. We need to withdraw into the privacy of ourselves to think or feel more deeply about has happened to us.

★ ★ ★

If we pretend we're not this kind of person; if fear of what some psychologist thinks compels us to put on an act of total forgiveness before we've accomplished it, our dishonesty not only damages our genuine affection for the child but confuses his trust of us.

It is impossible to love anyone for whom we have to falsify our true feelings.

So, if you find it hard to always let bygones be bygones when your children's punishments are over, let it be. Don't pretend you find it easy. Tell the children the truth, saying,

★ ★ ★

"Look, I'm not ready to be cozy and talkative yet. I still have things I have to think about."

'SILENT TREATMENT'

In their professional experience, psychologists meet parents who give youngsters the "silent treatment" after punishment, not because they need time for true forgiveness but to add to the punishment.

But all of us are not so malevolent. We can want to hold our peace for many reasons: to contemplate God, to absorb the beauty of new leaves, to look inward to ourselves.

It's up to each of us to begin with a respect for our need for silence so that we can begin to understand its meaning to us.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Thanks and thanks again to all of you who came to the rescue of Mrs. E.W.G. who wanted a zipper for a reversible skirt. Through your letters and further research on my part, we have found that there are many places where this type zipper can be obtained. Most dressmaker supply companies have them available on special order.

Any unique zipper construction or special colors may be ordered through your local department store. With the increased popularity of reversible skirts, this information should be of great value to all of you.

★ ★ ★

"Dear Eunice,

"I made a winter coat this year which I like very much except that it has only one button at the neckline and the fronts fly open all the time instead of lapping each other. Can you tell me what to do to make it stay closed?"

Mrs. A. McV.

Fashion details change constantly, consequently you will find a variation in the number of buttons used on all garments. Sometimes the style of the coat would be spoiled by adding extra buttons.

You may add one or two additional buttons to the inside of your coat so they won't show from the right side. This is done by making additional buttonholes on the coat FACING only. Use a flat button matching the color of your coat. Your coat will stay closed and still not affect the one button style.

★ ★ ★

"Dear Eunice"

"Is it all right for me to use the selvage edge for the lower edge of the skirt lining? This would use less material than if I have to cut it the same as the skirt."

Mrs. R. F.

One of the details I can't stress enough is the correct Grain-Line of your fabric. The lining should be cut with the same grain line as the skirt itself. The lower edge of the lining should be machine stitched about ¼" from the edge and then pinked to prevent ravelling. To not machine stitch hem, the hem might show a ridge in your skirt.

★ ★ ★

"Dear Eunice,

"Should I use silk thread for sewing on wool or silk?"

Mrs. N.E.S.

I would recommend mercerized thread for sewing on all fabrics except nylon. It is more refined and stronger than cotton thread and has the elasticity of silk thread.

★ ★ ★

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY

Selvage: The woven border on the lengthwise edges of your fabric. This is seldom used because it is woven a little tighter than the fabric and would have a tendency to pull.

In this limited space, it is impossible to answer all of your letters immediately. Questions of the most general interest will be answered first. If your answer does not appear in time for your current sewing project, save them for future reference. Send all your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of this newspaper.

If you plan to use bound buttonholes any time in the future, send now for my free leaflet, Bound Buttonholes. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Waterford PTAs

Music, debates, educational talks, panel discussions and plays will predominate at eight Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Association meetings Thursday evening.

WILLIAM BURT

Beginning at 8 p.m., there will be an election of officers for the coming year at the Burt school, according to President Donald E. Vantine.

"Child and Parent Relationships" will be the topic to be presented by Virginia Mills, social worker with the Child Care Division, Methodist Children's Village, Detroit. The subject deals with normal family relationships.

LEGGETT

From 7:30 to 8 p.m. there will be an open house for parents of Leggett School children, followed by a short business meeting and election of officers. The PTA also will discuss plans for a pancake supper April 22.

Following a musical presentation by Mrs. J. E. Montgomery's Leggett School chorus, Judge Arthur Moore will be featured guest speaker. A social hour will conclude the meetings activities.

HUDSON COVERT

"I'll See You After School," a one-act play, will be presented by Covert School parents at the 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday evening.

Written to emphasize the need to revive the waning art of communication between parent and teacher, the characters bring out the real value of this type of communication.

Following the play, the association will divide into small groups each with a discussion leader. After a short period, a representative from each group will direct questions to Freida Huggett, director of the visiting teacher department.

WATERFORD CENTER

A round-table discussion on water safety will be held at the 7:30 p.m. Waterford Center PTA meeting, following a talk by guest speaker James Stewart, of the Oakland County Water Safety Department.

There will be an election of new officers preceding the meeting with refreshments and coffee following.

SCHOOLCRAFT

Open nominations for next year's Schoolcraft PTA officers will be taken at the 8 p.m. meeting, and members will also consider a slate of officers to be presented.

"What Every Child Needs for Good Mental Health" is the topic Mrs. Edgar Phympton will present as guest speaker and moderator.

DONELSON

The featured attraction at the Donelson School PTA meeting will be the Waterford Township High School debate team. The subject will be, "Should the United Nations Be Strengthened." Debators include Robert Gaebee, Joseph Stodgee, Jerry Goff and Ted Irish.

Several musical selections will be presented by the school chorus under the direction of Mrs. R. D. Proud, accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Lyle.

There also will be an election of officers.

FOUR TOWNS

A talk on reading problems of elementary school children will be presented by Dr. D. W. Roberts of the Oakland County reading clinic at the 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Four Towns School PTA.

A question and answer session will conclude the evening.

JAYNO ADAMS

The Waterford Township Elementary Girl's Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Helen Glenn will be the guest performer at the Jayno Adams PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Emily Beckett will accompany the group.

There will be a short business meeting conducted by Mrs. David MacLaren, PTA vice president, and refreshments will be served by mothers of third grade pupils.

Church Class Hears Message

Forty-two members of the Berean Fellowship Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church attended a Saturday evening meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bee on Eileen Drive.

The Lovely Group presented the program and Mrs. Robert MacCormack led devotions with an Easter message. The Williams Group served refreshments.

The Rev. and Mrs. Theodore F. Allebach were guests for the evening.

About 71 per cent of all U. S. families own a car; 13 per cent own two or more.

On Oscar Comment

Lancaster and Tracy Loyal to Each Other

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some days you just can't make a buck in this town.

Hear me out. There is this Oscar race, see, and a couple of guys in it named Burt Lancaster and Spencer Tracy. The gimmick is that they're both working on the same picture right now, "Judgment at Nuremberg."

THOMAS

So what would be more natural than a feud between these two hot contenders? I tried it out with Lancaster.

"Pretty hammy guy, this Tracy, huh?" I said insinuatingly.

"What's that?" Lancaster inquired. I confessed my mission and he said sadly, "Things are pretty tough in your racket, huh, kid?"

Failure. Okay, I tried it with Tracy, who can be counted on to growl or grouse on any topic. "Quite a ham, that Lancaster," I commented offhandedly.

★ ★ ★

"He's a fine actor," Tracy corrected. "I think he might walk off with the Oscar this year. Either him or Jack Lemmon. Me? I ain't got a chance. They wouldn't give it to me again. I've had it."

TALKED WITH TRACY

Double failure. Well, you can't win them all. Anyway, I got a chance to sit in Tracy's dressing room.

As every film historian knows, Tracy has a couple of Oscars, dating back to 1937 ("Captains Courageous") and 1938 ("Boys Town.") He could be the first star to hit a triple, since he's up for "Inherit the Wind."

★ ★ ★

"I'll never make it again," he insisted. "I don't really care. Not about the final award, anyway; it doesn't matter to me what the 2,400 members of the academy think. But I am pleased with the nomination, because that is voted by the actors only. That means something."

Will he attend the festivities this year?

"Hell, no, I didn't even go when I won," he replied. "Well, I did go one time. The other time I was in the hospital having a hernia operation."

Bills, Bills; 800 Flood Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Bills, bills and more bills—including the seal of quality measure so often promoted by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams—poured into the legislature today.

Friday's deadline for introduction of all but tax and appropriation measures brought hundreds of bills out of lawmakers' desks where they have been held while sponsors waited for the "right" moment for introduction.

Nearly 800 have been submitted so far and another 200 or more will be tossed into the hopper before the week is out.

The seal of quality bill, sponsored by Rep. Patrick Doyle, D-Dearborn, is designed to promote Michigan's prime agriculture products.

Williams tried every year during his 12 years in office to get it passed. Several times it cleared the House only to die in the Republican-controlled Senate.

Rep. Robert E. Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, submitted a measure that would permit counties, with voter approval, to impose other than property taxes if they are not the same as or similar to state taxes.

Named House Clerk

LANSING (AP)—Daniel W. Mitchell, instructor of political science and law at Cleary College, Ypsilanti, has been appointed assistant clerk of the House of Representatives.

A SMALL LEGAL POINT — A pair of midgets, Stanley Janus, 38, (left) and his brother Lester, 40, look up at the desk in a New York City police station Tuesday after their arrest on charges of slipping under a subway turnstile to beat the 15-cent fare. The two said they were pushed under by heavy crowds and were given a suspended sentence on the promise they wouldn't do it again.

Set Registration for Boat Course

First Lecture to Follow Sign-In Period Tonight at Pontiac Central

Registration for the free boating course being offered by the U.S. Coast Guard at Pontiac Central High School for the next eight weeks will be held at 7 tonight at the school.

★ ★ ★

The first lecture will immediately follow registrations, and will last until 9:30 p.m. Classes will be held the next eight Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The course will include instruction in basic seamanship, proper handling of outboard motor boats, rules of the waterways, correct usage of nautical terms, navigation, and the reading of compasses and charts.

Teachers are qualified Coast Guard Auxiliary members from the Pontiac Flotilla.

While the course itself is free, a $3.50 charge will cover the cost of materials and equipment. The single cost can be applied to more than one member of a family.

Hits Bartlett's Stand on Aid to Education

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Hugh H. Holloway of Sault Ste. Marie, Republican candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, has criticized the stand of his Democratic opponent favoring federal aid to education.

★ ★ ★

Holloway, speaking here Tuesday, said he also regretted that Democrat Lynn M. Bartlett, running for re-election, has refused to meet him in a series of public debates on education.

"The state superintendent of public instruction in Michigan should be fighting for equal treatment of our children and our taxpayers," Holloway said, "not throwing his support to a program under which we would be shortchanged."

Fluoridation Successful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An eight-year water fluoridation program in Washington has reduced dental troubles among children by as much as 60 per cent, according to the Health Department.

The name of Nebraska comes from an Indian word meaning "flat water."

5-Star Rank Bill for Ike Goes to JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has passed with one dissenting vote a bill to restore former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to his former five-star general rank.

Democrats and Republicans praised Eisenhower for an hour Tuesday, and then it came time to vote.

Everybody figured it was just a formality, but when it came turn for the congressman from Little Rock to vote, he voted "no" loud and clear.

Rep. Dale Alfred, D-Ark., refused to pay tribute to the former president because Eisenhower sent troops to Little Rock in the 1957 integration crisis, the issue which put Alford in Congress.

The House vote sent the bill to the White House for the signature of President Kennedy, who had requested it. It has already been passed by the Senate.

About 108 miles of cable must be laid for every 100 miles of actual distance for under-the-sea service to provide the necessary slack.

Canada Threatens to Sue U.S. Airlines

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Canadian Transport Department has given 10 American and European airlines until the end of March to pay more than a million dollars in unpaid "overflight" fees or face possible legal action. Deputy Transport Minister J. R. Baldwin says.

He said the warning was issued to airlines, including major U.S. carriers Pan American World Airways and Trans World, in messages last week to the foreign governments involved.

★ ★ ★

He said the unpaid fees dated back to Jan. 1, 1960, when Canada raised the payment for each non-military flight through its air traffic control zone over the Atlantic Ocean from $20 to $84.

Guidepost for Lent—The Future's Mercifully Veiled

ALFRED HITCHCOCK

Would you like to be able to predict the future? A movie director can, you know. In making a film, he takes an imitation slice of life in his hands and arranges it just the way he wants it. He knows, in the first scene, just what is going to happen in the last.

HITCHCOCK

Now, this is a godlike quality. It gives the directors a great sense of power. But there's just one small trouble with it. The stuff the movie director is working with isn't real. It's synthetic. It's not life itself. It's only an imitation of life.

★ ★ ★

In real life, we can plan, and take precautions, and hope that things will happen in a certain way. But we can never be sure.

I ran up against this hard fact quite early in my movie career. It was in London when I was still in my twenties, young, unknown, but very knowing—or so I thought.

HIS FIRST PICTURE

When I got my first opportunity to pick a story and direct it for one of the major British studios, I was certain I had the future right in my hand.

The story I chose was "The Lodger," a quiet yarn in which one of the occupants of a rooming house is suspected of having a secret hobby—homicide.

Films were still silent in those days, and I used every trick I could think of to build the suspense visually and hide the outcome. It was full of innovations; I was very proud of the result.

When the day came for the bigwigs at the studio to see it, my wife Alma and I remained at home, excited but unworried. We knew they'd like it.

A FAILURE

We timed our arrival at the studio to coincide with the ending of the screening. When Alma and I walked in, we knew instantly we hadn't convinced anyone of the superlative merits of Alfred Hitchcock, director.

"It could be patched up," one of the executives said hopefully.

"No," I said stubbornly.

"There's a lot of money tied up in this," another executive said.

"I won't change it," I persisted.

Then the big boss uttered the final doom: "It's unshowable. We'll shelve it."

Alma and I stumbled out of the studio. We walked. And we prayed. For what? For another chance.

I was like a new captain given his first ship and running it on the rocks. Finished.

A TRIAL SHOWING

For months the film sat in a can on shelves. But one day one of the executives, the one who said there was an awful lot of money tied up in it, suggested that it be shown quietly to a few distributors, with the explanation—and apology—that the studio didn't think much of it, just wanted expert reaction.

The few distributors watched it, and that magic ingredient, unpredictability, began working. They liked it. The studio decided to release it. All the distributors wanted it. "The Lodger" became a great movie hit from the very start.

It was almost as if God deliberately delayed success to show me that my efforts at controlling the future was not in His scheme of things.

GOD'S RULE

This was an amazing thought. But over the years I've been forced to the conclusion that a blind future is one of God's most strictly enforced rules and that scientific effort to see into the future also is doomed to failure. There are two main reasons.

The first reason is simple. In life, if we knew the outcome of everything, most of the zest would go out of living. What fun would it be to go to a baseball game if you knew which team was going to win?

So when God keeps the future hidden, He is saying that things would be very dull without suspense.

But I think He has a deeper reason. I think He also is being merciful. Because, if life would be dull knowing about tomorrow, it also would be terrible.

GOOD AND BAD

Do you remember the story of the king who befriended a wizard and was granted two wishes? His first wish was to see the future completely. But when the king saw the pain, the misery, the death, along with the beautiful things ahead, he immediately asked for his second wish: that the future be hidden again.

"I did not know that I already had the greatest gift of all," he explained. "The gift of a blind future."

And so, I've come to believe that a hidden future is one of God's most merciful and exciting gifts. Without it there would be nothing to wait for, worse, nothing to hope for.

Give Russia Edge in Space

Japs Favor U.S. Living

BY RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet space accomplishments place the Russians first scientifically in the minds of many Japanese. But the United States is given the edge when it comes to standard of living—for the time being at least.

★ ★ ★

While Socialist leaders and labor organizations denounce "U.S. imperialism" and "American warmongering," few individual Japanese can be heard privately running down America or Americans.

For example, none of the persons questioned in a series of random interviews felt the United States is more interested in preparations for war than in a search for peace.

"There are many problems to be overcome within America to attain world peace," said Goro Saeki, 40, a writer for the big Tokyo newspaper, "but it seems to me the United States is ultimately seeking peace."

Saeki added: "I think America is still the dominant country in the world because the number of free nations still exceeds those of the Communist bloc."

What is the first thing that comes to the mind of a Japanese when the United States is mentioned?

"The cold war," said the newspaperman.

"Abraham Lincoln," said Masao Nakamura, a 24-year-old factory worker.

"President Kennedy," said Mari Sawada, 17, a high school student.

"Its richness," said truck driver Tsuyoshi Nakano, 27.

"I think of America as the leader of the Western allies," said Tsutomu Kameda, a 46-year-old physician.

MOVIES MIRROR U.S.

"I think it is a wonderful country—but I only know it through the movies," smiled Kudo Kiadoaka, 21, a shoe sales lady.

What places would they most like to see in America?

"The Empire State Building or Niagara Falls," replied a 36-year-old taxi driver, Noboru Sawada.

"Hollywood," said a bright-eyed girl student. Other choices included the Grand Canyon, a typical farm and the road system.

Hisayo Miki, 26, a pale, serious-looking office worker stopped on a busy Tokyo street, summed up her feeling about America in this way:

"I am most interested in the rational way of life in American families. I am most impressed by the frank and open human relations among peoples in America.

"And at the same time, life in the Untied States is too mechanized."

Jaguar Offers Cars to Do 150 Miles Per

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jaguar Cars, Inc., today announced it will offer for sale to the general public two types production-line sports cars each capable of speeds of 150 miles per hour.

Jaguar said the XK-E roadster and XK-E coupe, both two-door, two-seaters, were "two of the fastest production sports cars ever offered for public sale."

The cars, each of which will be priced at under $6,000 port of entry, will have their first public showing in this country at the International Automobile Show here April 1.

Jaguar said both of the cars had a stressed shell, all-steel body developed in the "D" type Jaguar racing cars which won the Le Mans Grand Prix three times.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. We have inherited a parrot from my grandmother. This bird has been in our family for at least 20 years. How much longer can I expect her to live? Mrs. Jane Thompson, Kansas City.

A. One of the nicest things about parrots is their longevity. I've known parrots to live 40 to 60 years with one family. When the parakeet—the modern, compact parrot—was introduced, the parrot went out of vogue because he was harder to handle.

Many people are now choosing parrots again, preferring his long life span to the seven years of the budgie. A parrot is no smarter than a parakeet, but he has the advantage of time in acquiring a large vocabulary.

He keeps on learning, and doesn't forget. One ex-seafaring man I know sometimes regrets it. In his fancy drawing room, his pet's language smacks more of Barnacle Bill than Emily Post and it's difficult to explain.

'Fair Lady' Fat With Gold

NEW YORK (AP) — There is nothing like a dame — named "My Fair Lady."

In celebration of the anniversary of the musical's debut five years ago tonight, the sponsors disclose formidable evidence of her unfading charms.

The still-running Broadway production and others around the globe have amassed a gross of $48 million. This has returned a $7 million profit on a 400-thousand buck investment.

The biggest chunk of coin has come in at the Hellinger Theater original, where three million spectators thus far have paid $17 million. An equal number have witnessed the national touring company.

Piling up the revenue, London has contributed $6.33 million. The Scandinavian take is $4 million. Two Australian companies add another $4.6 million.

Foreign language versions, controlled by Lars R. Schmidt, the husband of Ingrid Bergman, have carried "My Fair Lady" across Europe.

The Stockholm version is in its third year, and the Amsterdam incarnation is the first for an American musical in Dutch. Additionally the show has exhibited in Mexico City and visited Moscow.

ALBUMS ADD

The box office receipts aren't all of the musical's swag. Other revenue has come in from the sale of 3.2 million original cast albums (an all-time record) and from license fees for commercial tieups with the show's title and sheet music sales.

The Columbia Broadcasting System financed the show and shares the profits with Broadway producer Herman Levin; Frederick Loewe and Alan Jay Lerner, composers of the score; and the estate of Bernard Shaw, sire of the play "Pygmalion" upon which the work is based.

Already the biggest Broadway moneymaker of all time, "My Fair Lady" is shooting now for the performance champion.

Come June 13, the musical will click off its 2,117th performance.

According to Richard Maney, the golden girl's rugged publicist, this will break the record of "Oklahoma!" — a point disputed by the supporters of the Rodgers-Hamerstein classic.

In the record books "Oklahoma!" stands at 2,249 performances. This, replies the champion of Broadway's golden girl, includes 73 free benefit performances for soldiers on leave during the World War II years and they shouldn't be counted.

But if "My Fair Lady" rolls on for another nine weeks and two days past that June 13 date, there will be no more worlds for her to conquer.

Man in Space

Astronaut Will Depend on 'Banished' Men

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — When the first U.S. astronaut is rocketed toward an orbit around earth, his safety will depend heavily on a dozen little groups of men living in a unique technological austerity between three continents.

These are scientists and technicians who banished themselves, in the interests of science, to some of the most remote, barren spots of land the Atlantic Ocean has to offer.

Their homes are the islands that make up the Atlantic missile range, a string of 13 stations running from Cape Canaveral to South America and Africa.

This is a 7,000-mile space-age "shooting gallery." Cape Canaveral pulls the trigger on the rockets—and the task of the downrange stations is to find out where the multiton bullets go.

★ ★ ★

When the first man is launched into orbit, the downrange stations will train radar, cameras and optical instruments on the rocket, gleaning information which computers can digest to give the spaceman his exact speed and orbit—data essential if he is to return alive.

EXTENSIVE TRAINING

Hundreds of hours of tracking military missiles to their precise targets and satellites into orbit have gone into training the men-and-machinery teams from the cape to Praetoria, South Africa. Man-into-space will be more important, but hardly anything new.

If ever there was a spot where a man eats, sleeps and breathes his job, the average range station is it—primarily because there is little else to do. To some who have spent months at these points, even the additional money—the prime lure—seemed hardly worth it.

Cape Canaveral is "Station No. 1" on the range, and Jupiter, Fla., is the second. Third in line is Grand Bahama Island, about 153 miles southeast of the Cape and one of the more pleasant stations. The instrumentation at GBI is a complex of radars, radio receivers and transmitters, cameras, computers and tape recorders that are standard equipment at all downrange stations.

CHAIN OF STATIONS

"You've seen one, you've seen them all," said one Air Force official.

After GBI comes Eleuthera Island, a hot little strip of land subjected to bad weather; then San Salvador, about like Eleuthera only less of it; Mayaguana, a swampy island almost devastated by Hurricane Donna last year; Grand Turk, where salt-raking is the prime industry.

Two more liveable stations are those at the Dominican Republic—still operating despite the lapse in U.S.-Dominican relations—and Puerto Rico. After that is dry, picturesque St. Lucia Island and volcano-born Fernando de Noronha, off the coast of South America.

Near the tail-end of the chain is Ascension Island, a barren, rocky patch of land that has been called "the most God-forsaken spot on earth." Its population consists of about 200 natives and a considerable number of sea turtles.

Last on the range is a newly established station in Praetoria, South Africa—a facility which the Air Force has publicized very little on orders of the State Department, because of the current African crises.

RIGOROUS EXAMS

The men for these stations undergo a rigorous physical and psychological examination to see whether they can take the monotonous existence. Some come back after only a few weeks; others have stayed for months and years.

★ ★

They have found unique diversions, despite the austere surroundings. In the Puerto Rico area, the world's first sizeable number of calypso-dancing, bongo-playing scientists have evolved. On Ascension, a radio station has been set up and records are flown in from the U.S. mainland—a four-day flight.

But the business of tracking America's missile and space efforts is still a demanding one—so much so that few of the volunteer scientific "exiles" take their families downrange with them. Trips home are infrequent, but few are ever turned down.

Urges Colleges to Use Caution in Speaker Bans

Michigan's colleges and universities should exercise caution in banning speakers from their campuses "simply because we may consider their ideas radical," a GOP nominee for Wayne State University Board of Governors declared in Huntington Woods Tuesday.

Thomas B. Adams of Bloomfield Hills told a meeting of the Huntington Woods Republican Women's club the American philosophy of government "can stand up to anything in the ideological marketplace."

"Ban a true communist who is interested solely in advancing an ideology that undermines the American way of life? Yes," Adams said.

"Ban an educator from a foreign country who comes with a sincere desire for useful exchange of ideas? No," he asserted.

Wheat Income Varies Greatly in N. Dakota

BISMARCK, N.D. (UPI) — The largest income ever received from wheat in North Dakota was $319,974,000.

That was in 1947, the smallest in recent years was in 1931 when it was only $19,476,000.

Charges JFK Ups Aggression

Cuban Cites Barrage by Unidentified Ship in Note to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Cuba charged today that the administration of President Kennedy has openly stepped up what it called aggression against the Castro regime.

In a note to the United Nations, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa linked the United States with Monday's incident in which an unidentified craft entered Santiago Bay and fired on an oil refinery. Roa called the attack "a typical act of modern piracy."

The Cuban foreign minister cited the incident as a further justification for full U.N. debate on a pending Cuban charge that the United States is planning military aggression in an attempt to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Roa implied that the hit-and-run vessel had taken refuge at the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo Bay. This has been denied by U.S. officials.

★ ★ ★

Roa charged that the Guantanamo base "has been an active center of conspiracy, subversion and espionage against the Cuban government and people."

Probably Won't Expel S. Africa

But Commonwealth Is Said to Be Drafting a Formal Condemnation

LONDON (UPI)—South Africa will remain a member of the British Commonwealth despite a bitter dispute over that nation's total segregation policies, authoritative sources said today.

The sources said a compromise has been worked out under which the Commonwealth prime ministers meeting here will formally condemn South Africa's racial policies but permit it to remain in the loosely-knit association.

South African Prime Minister Dr. Hendrix Verwoerd was reported at first to oppose acceptance of such a condemnation but the sources indicated he has changed his mind and will accept a compromise.

The 11 commonwealth prime ministers discussed South Africa for an hour today.

They issued no formal announcement but it was understood they have appointed a team of experts to draft the final compromise solution for formal action later.

Cleopatra Film Being Dropped for Time Being

LONDON (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor's studio today abandoned plans to film the jinxed multi-million-dollar epic "Cleopatra" in Britain.

★ ★ ★

But Joseph Mankiewicz, who replaced Rouben Mamoulian as director of the film, and Sid Rogell, chief of European productions for 20th Century-Fox, emphatically denied that the ill-fated picture is being abandoned.

"We shall definitely make it," said Mankiewicz, "probably in Egypt, Italy or California."

★ ★ ★

He indicated Miss Taylor would still be the star, although her personal physician has said it may take as much as a year for her to recuperate from the double pneumonia that last week brought her near death.

Plan Distribution of Booklet on Improving Home

The city's substandard housing committee, in co-operation with the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, is preparing a home improvement booklet to be distributed during the Jaycees' Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week this spring.

The guide will summarize city building codes, offer helpful hints and list sources of further information.

★ ★ ★

"It was felt that this 1961 centennial year would be an excellent time to encourage home improvements and modernization," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and committee chairman.

OK Appraisals of Urban Land

Contracts to Bear on Property's Resale for Private Development

Two contracts were approved by the City Commission last night, bearing on the eventual resale of land for private development in the urban renewal areas.

★ ★ ★

The agreements are with the Real Estate Research Corp. of Chicago for appraisals of property to be acquired in the 145-acre residential project now under way and the 20-acre commercial project contracted for planning under a $70,000 federal advance.

The appraisals are not for the purchase of property, but bear eventual resale of lands acquired and cleared by the city.

It is the second such appraisal for the residential project and the first for the commercial.

★ ★ ★

The minimum asking price must fall between two different re-use appraisals, according to federal regulations. The second re-use appraisal in the commercial project will take place after it has won full federal approval.

★ ★ ★

The contracts, provided for in the urban renewal budget, allow up to $2,500 for re-use appraisals on the residential project and $1,750 in the commercial.

To Eject Man From Capsule at 850 M.P.H.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Air Force and Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. today announced plans to eject a man in the escape capsule of a B58 Hustler bomber flying at speeds of more than 850 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

This would be the fastest controlled ejection ever made from an airplane, a Convair spokesman said. But before man is ejected, dummies will be used to prove out the system.

Plans call for the manned ejection over Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., some time this summer.

Subcommittee OKs Basic Wage Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate labor subcommittee approved without change today President Kennedy's proposal to boost the federal minimum wage to $1.25 an hour over a two-year period and extend coverage to 4.3 million additional workers.

★ ★ ★

Action on the measure was unanimous. Chairman Pat McNamara, D-Mich., said major revisions will be considered later when the bill is taken up by the full committee.

★ ★ ★

McNamara said the Senate would mark time on the legislation until the House completes work on its own bill. The House is scheduled to bring the measure up for floor debate Monday or Tuesday.

Victim of Beating Still Lies in Coma

Still in a deep coma three days after being brutally beaten with a chair, 47-year-old Floyd Rowley of Independence Township remained on the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's detectives are uncertain as to who beat Rowley on the head and face with a wooden kitchen chair early Sunday morning in his home at 7035 Andersonville Road.

★ ★ ★

When deputies arrived at the scene they found Rowley and 22-year-old Robert Young of 4174 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township, stretched out on the floor both unconscious. Young was revived but Rowley never has regained consciousness.

★ ★ ★

Young has refused to say what happened, according to the detectives. He was being held at the county jail today for investigation of felonious assault. He could possibly be booked for murder if Rowley succumbs to his injuries.

★ ★ ★

Deputies were summoned by Mrs. Young who said she did not see any struggle between the two men who had been drinking together earlier.

Would Drop Child Labor Age to 17

LANSING (AP)—A bill to exempt 17-year-olds from Michigan's child labor law moved into the Senate today after clearing the House.

The measure, approved 60-44 Tuesday in the lower chamber, would reduce from 18 to 17 the minimum age at which a boy or girl could go to work without obtaining a permit from his school superintendent or other designated authority.

★ ★ ★

The so-called Hittle Juvenile Employment Act would be similarly altered to allow 17-year-olds to take jobs considered hazardous.

Rep. Roy H. Brigham, R-Battle Creek, the sponsor, said it was designed to ease the way for youngsters graduating from high school to obtain work. No judge or school authority has objected to it, he said.

Rep. Albert R. Horrigan, D-Flint, protested that it would swell the state's labor force at a time when unemployment is high and would encourage youngsters to quit school.

Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, contended it would enable many young people to earn money for their college educations. As it is, he said, many youngsters are forced into idleness for a year

Broiler to Rescue When Cook Is Late

Quick and easy, but delectable is the menu we recommend for you to try when you get home late and start dinner practically "cooking with your hat on". This is the time to let the broiler come to your rescue . . . plan a complete dinner-on-the-broiler.

Start lobster tails cooking while you put the French fries cheese broil together. Turn a package of those everybody's favorites frozen French fries . . . into a shallow foil pan — we used one which was saved from another frozen food. Brush them with tart, spicy Italian salad dressing and sprinkle with onion and parsley. Add them to the broiler pan and cook with the lobster.

When the potatoes are toasty brown and sizzling hot, sprinkle cheese over the top and broil until cheese softens. For a vegetable, we broiled tomato cases filled with frozen green peas. And for dessert we had apple crisp made the quick and easy way shown here . . . canned apple pie mix with sugar and spices added to a corn flake topping.

With a tray of crunchy relishes which we prepared while keeping one eye on the broiler, we turned out this flavorful dinner in "jig" time. And . . . we doubt that the family knew that we had arrived home just before they did!

French Fries Cheese Broil

1 package (9 oz.) frozen French fries
½ cup commercial Italian dressing
½ teaspoon dried minced onion (or chopped fresh onion)
½ teaspoon dried parsley flakes or minced fresh parsley
1 cup shredded process American cheese (about ¼ pound)

★ ★ ★

Empty frozen French fries into a very shallow aluminum foil pan. Brush potatoes with Italian dressing. Sprinkle with onion and parsley. Place in medium broiler 4 to 6 inches from heat source. Heat. Sprinkle cheese over potatoes and and brown, about 8 to 12 minutes. broil just until cheese softens. Serve at once. Yield: 2 servings.

Apple Crisp

1 can (1 pound, 6 oz.) apple pie-filling mix, plain or spiced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup corn flakes, crushed slightly

Spread pie filling mix into shallow aluminum foil pan. Heat in moderate broiler 4 to 5 inches below heat source. Combine butter or margarine, sugar, salt and cinnamon in frying pan. Heat slowly until butter or margarine melts. Remove from heat and add cereal flakes; stir until flakes are evenly coated. Spread over heated apple mixture. Return to broiler to brown lightly, 1 to 2 minutes. Serve hot or cold, plain or with cream. Yield: 4 servings.

Lemon Juice Does Good Things to Soup

For Lenten-time or anytime, serve Lemon Gourmet Soup as a tangy extra to your meal.

★ ★ ★

The addition of lemon juice, as in so many other foods, adds sparkle, at the same time bringing out the flavor of the shrimp.

Lemon Gourmet Soup

1 can frozen cream of shrimp soup
1 soup can water
½ cup lemon juice
½ cup packaged pre-cooked rice
¼ teaspoon salt

Heat the soup, water and lemon juice to boiling. Stir in the rice. Cover and remove from heat; let stand about 5 minutes. Stir and serve. Yield: 4 servings.

Sweet and Sour Sauce Adds Zip to Fish Fillets

Fish fillets are boneless — easy to prepare — and pleasant to eat. They may be the less expensive cod or haddock or the rather special fillet of sole. Near oceans or lakes, they may be available fresh but everywhere they are on display in frozen food cases, quick-frozen directly at the source of supply — compact and symmetrical in shape and fresh in flavor.

Fish fillets are delicious just pan-fried briefly in butter or salad oil but why not try this sweet and sour recipe for broiled fish with a savory sauce. With it you will want some colorful vegetables — for color contrast and lots of vitamins, why not serve broccoli and carrots. And for a spring touch, perhaps a tossed green salad as well. For dessert — a minted apple sauce and plain cake or cookies.

Sweet And Sour Broiled Fillets

2 lbs. fish fillets
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Place fish fillets in a shallow pan. Combine remaining ingredients, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Pour over fish. Broil about 3 inches from moderate heat until golden brown, about 10 minutes. Turn fish and brown second side, about 10 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Flavor Vegetable Salad With Curry Oil Dressing

For a hearty and flavorful vegetable salad, toss 2 cooked cubed potatoes, 1 cup of cooked string beans, 1 teaspoon grated onion, and ¼ cup of celery in ¼ cup Spanish olive oil. Add ½ teaspoon of salt, a pinch of powdered fennel or Tarragon, a pinch of curry powder and freshly-ground black pepper.

★ ★ ★

Marinate vegetables until dinner-time, then add 1½ tablespoons vinegar and serve salad on crisp greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cake Mixes Lead New Food Products List

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cake mixes and package puddings are as cheap to buy in the easy-to-prepare form as they are to make from the raw ingredients. There are a couple of new flavors on the market that might appeal to you.

★ ★ ★

We'll have to amend that last sentence a little. The pudding is not a new flavor, just a new size. You can now get vanilla and chocolate pudding in the large family size package. In the interests of economy, use nonfat dry milk to make up the 3 cupfuls called for in the recipe.

Both of the new cake mixes have coconut in them. One—the only one we have eaten—is a Fudge Coconut Cake. The other is called Coconut Surprise cake.

The chocolate flavored coconut cake has a nice chewy texture. You can bake it in a jelly roll pan, cut it in small squares or rounds and decorate the little pieces as pretty tea cakes.

Teacakes

1 package fudge coconut cake mix
1¼ cups water
2 eggs, unbeaten
Butter Cream Frosting
½ square unsweetened chocolate
½ teaspoon butter
Red food coloring
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract
1½ cups (about) flaked coconut, tinted pink
Silver dragees, candied cherries, and spearmint leaves

Empty cake mix into bowl. Add water and eggs. Beat 3 minutes until batter is smooth and creamy. Pour batter into a 15x10x1-inch pan which has been lined on bottom with paper or greased and floured on bottom and sides. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. (If pan has been lined with paper, remove cake before frosting. If pan has been greased and floured, cake may be frosted in the pan.) Mark cake off in 3 sections.

★ ★ ★

Prepare the frosting. Melt chocolate and butter over hot water; cool slightly. Measure 1 cup frosting. Blend in a few drops red food coloring and the extract. Spread over one section of the cake. Drizzle chocolate over frosting. Cut in desired shapes.

Spread remaining frosting over unfrosted two-thirds of cake. Sprinkle half with pink coconut. Mark pink-frosted cake into 5 sections on the long side and 4 sections on the shortside. Cut into finger shapes with a sharp knife.

Mark white-frosted cake into 6 sections on each side. Cut into squares. Then decorate squares with dragees, cherries, and spearmint leaves. Makes 36 teacakes.

Butter Cream Frosting

⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 whole egg or 2 egg yolks
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2 tablespoons milk (about)
½ teaspoon food coloring (optional)

Cream butter until soft. Add salt and part of the sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add egg and vanilla; blend well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with milk until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Add food coloring. Makes 3 cups frosting.

The Suprise Coconut cake has flecks of red, yellow, orange and green coconut running through the golden cake. Just the cake for a gala affair.

Be on the watch for frozen whole green beans. While they don't have any new flavor, they do add one more way of serving this popular vegetable. Whole bean salad with an oil and vinegar dressing is always good.

Let's briefly mention two more new products. One is a margarine made chiefly of corn oil and non hydrogenated. The other is an improved instant coffee of the caffeine-less type.

★ ★ ★

There's always something new to look for when you go shopping for groceries.

New Hamburgers

Hamburger and onions have gone together for years. Here's a dress-up for the old-time favorites: Combine 1 pound ground lean beef with ½ cup commercial sour cream, 1 tablespoon instant minced onion, a dash EACH bottled steak sauce and soy sauce. Crush 1 cup potato chips and stir into meat mixture. Shape into patties and broil to desired doneness.

Fold Blue Cheese Into Egg Omelet

A plain omelet is a good standby for meatless lunches and suppers. But when you want to serve it as a main course for dinner, make it more substantial by preparing a cheese omelet.

Tasty American blue cheese is an ideal choice for the popular egg dish, not only because of its zesty taste but due to its protein and calcium content. It'll help provide that "stick-to-the-ribs" quality you want.

To make a creamy blue cheese omelet use one egg per serving. Beat in one tablespoon milk or coffee cream, a dash of salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture into a buttered skillet set over low heat. Cook eggs slowly. As the underside becomes set, tip pan slightly, lifting cooked eggs so that uncooked portion can flow underneath and cook.

When mixture seems barely set, sprinkle about two tablespoons coarsely crumbled American blue cheese in center, then fold or roll omelet. Serve at once.

Need for Water

The importance to human beings of an adequate intake of water as a means of preventing fatigue has been stressed by O. Mickelsen (U.S. Department of Agriculture Yearbook, page 168, 1950). He points out that fatigue is the first symptom of even a mild dehydration resulting from the loss of sweat during work. The fatigue may become so severe, if the water loss is great, that the individual is unable to work.

Start Evening Meal with Peppy Beef Broth

With plans for spring cleaning and gardening stirring, even the most imaginative and loving cooks lean to menus that are quicker to prepare. One way is to count on the oven for dishes that can be prepared and tucked in to bake, leaving time for a more pleasant relaxed pre-dinner period.

★ ★ ★

Soup's easy, too — easy as opening a can and heating. And beef broth is a perfect before-dinner beverage. It's warming, soothing and suggestive of the good things to come.

★ ★ ★

Try sipping your soup from a demitasse cup and old-fashioned chocolate cup — or let your imagination choose some other interesting shipping container. Add a dash of cloves to each serving and float apple cubes in the cups and let this zestful soup share the stage with the main dish.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Apricot Custard Delight

⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2-⅔ cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Apricot halves

Combine eggs, sugar and salt; beat slightly. Add milk and vanilla; mix well. Pour into buttered 1 quart casserole. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about one hour or until knife inserted in center, comes out clean. Cool. Serve chilled with apricot halves spooned on top. Makes 6 servings.

Plump Raisins

Plump California raisins are wonderful in molded salads. Here is a trick of the experts for you to try. Heat the raisins slowly in the amount of water or other liquid being used in the gelatin base. This way the raisins plump up fat and juicy so you can enjoy the full benefit of their taste surprise.

Grease the bottom of the skillet in which you are going to poach eggs and the eggs won't stick.

Fix Egg Salad Rolls for Supper or Lunch

Serve pancakes for breakfast, eggs for supper!

⅓ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup tartar sauce
2 teaspoons cider vinegar

Car Dealers Turn Optimistic but Wish for Sales on Time

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The nation's new car dealers — confronted with a stockpile of 1 million units—see increasing signs of a pickup during March and April, it was reported today.

★ ★

A survey by the trade paper "Automotive News" found the dealers cautiously optimistic over the sales outlook for the next two months, but less hopeful for the rest of the year.

★ ★

A similar sampling by "Business Week" also detected a rising mood among dealers, but found a "disquieting note" in the large number of cash sales.

The magazine said the increased business being done for cash "means that the vast horde of budget-minded buyers haven't enough confidence in the immediate future to go back into hock for a long term."

"Automotive News" said most dealers contacted in the metropolitan centers agreed that a slow but continued improvement should characterize the remaining months of the year.

Dealers in medium-sized cities seemed most pessimistic about the rest of 1961, while small town dealers were most hopeful, the trade paper said.

★ ★ ★

A Jacksonville, Fla., Dodge dealer told "Business Week" he thought "we've broken the back of the recession in auto sales. We've been hurt, but the January-February pickup has encouraged us to believe that improvement in sales will be progressive."

A Minneapolis dealer said, "We'll have a good pickup in 60 days even if the economic level doesn't get better. But give us better economic conditions and we'll go to town."

As for the customers themselves, shopping seems as fierce as ever, "Business Week" said.

An Akron, Ohio, dealer reported, "The average customer who comes in doesn't come in to buy a car, doesn't even want to ride in a demonstrator. All they want is your lowest price and they'll warn you they'll shop five other dealers."

A Louisville, Ky., dealer complained that "we spend a million dollars setting up a dealership in order that we can buy at the factory price. Now, every character that walks off the street with a downpayment in his hands wants to buy the factory price too."

★ ★

"Automotive News" said a mortician who doubled as a new car salesman in a small Eastern town took a macabre view of the situation.

He said, "I used to think it was a tough business at the undertaking parlor when a widow came in—with the necessary papers for me to sign so she could collect a big insurance policy—and ask for three years of installments to pay for the funeral.

"In the new car business, we just open our veins and compare blood."

Ease Regulations on U. S. Loans for Farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has eased the regulations which apply to government farm operating loans for small farmers.

The effect of the move is to make loans available to a number of farmers who could not qualify for this type of government credit in the past.

The loans involved are made by the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) to pay farm operating expenses.

They can be used to buy livestock and equipment, fertilizer, tractor fuel, and other farm and home operating needs.

The loans are approved only for farmers who can't get credit from normal commercial or co-operative agencies.

Passes Appeal to Ax Auto Tax

Michigan Senate Votes for Resolution to Ask Federal Levy Repeal

LANSING (AP) — A resolution urging repeal of the federal excise tax on automobiles has been passed by the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, asks Congress to hold public hearings on the matter. It still must pass the House.

"The automotive industry has experienced a serious sales depression," the resolution said.

This, it added, "has created a grave situation of consequent curtailment of production, unemployment, economic hardship and exploding demands on tax-supported public services.

★ ★ ★

"It has been disruptive of Michigan's and the nation's economy."

The measure said repeal of the federal excise tax on automobiles was urgently needed to reverese this trend and regain state and national prosperity.

1,596 Perish on Michigan Roads in '60

EAST LANSING (AP) — A final count of highway deaths last year shows 1,596 persons killed and 91,026 injured in 209,724 accidents, state police report.

The death toll was 123 more than during 1959, an increase of eight per cent. The death rate of five per 100 million miles of driving was four per cent higher than the previous year.

There were 26,155 more injuries, a jump of 40 per cent from 1959. Most of the increase, state police said, was caused by a broader use of the injury definition in accident reporting. This now includes complaint of pain without visible sign of injury and momentary unconsciousness.

Accidents increased 10,953, a 6 per cent gain from the previous year.

Rural areas accounted for 69 per cent and urban areas for 31 per cent of the deaths, state police said.

Reuther Lauds JFK Over Latin America

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther says President Kennedy's Latin American aid bill "will contribute effectively in dispelling the Communist propaganda that America is the staunch defender of the status quo in Latin America."

The United Auto Workers union president wired congratulations to Kennedy Tuesday for what he called "your proposal for a vast alliance of progress to complete the revolution of the Americas."

18 Are Injured as Train Collides With Engine

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — A Southern Railway passenger train bound for New Orleans collided here last night with a switch engine, causing minor injuries to 18 persons.

The train, the Southerner, misrouted onto a yard siding in this Washington suburb, rammed a Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac yard engine.

Latin Americans Laud JFK's Progress Plan

By United Press International

Latin American officialdom with the exception of Cuba's Fidel Castro reacted enthusiastically today to President Kennedy's proposal of an "Alliance for Progress" to improve the lot of the people of the Western Hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

Sample comments:

Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo—"The ambitious plan which you (Kennedy) propose . . . makes it clear that you have a profound understanding of the relationship that must exist among the nations of this hemisphere.

"The cooperation which you suggest has been for many years the aspiration of Latin America."

Peruvian President Manuel Prado—"Peru will cooperate unflaggingly in the common battle against misery, injustice and despotism . . . the only battle worth fighting in this century is the war against hunger, misery, illness and ignorance."

★ ★ ★

Uruguayan President Eduardo V. Haedo—"It is remarkable to propose to all of the peoples of the hemisphere a combined force of magnitude and nobility for the happiness and the material and spiritual progress of the common man."

★ ★ ★

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro—who is not included in the Kennedy plan—"It is an attempt to buy the Latin-American countries with usury dollars."

State Senators Vote No

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both Michigan senators, Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara, Democrats, voted no Tuesday as the Senate rejected 49-45 an amendment by Sen. Robertson, D-Va., to knock out of the depressed areas bill direct treasury financing for the $300 million of loan funds.

France and Algeria Ready to Talk Peace

PARIS (UPI) — France and Algerian Moslem rebels have reached virtual agreement on arrangements for opening formal peace negotiations to end the 6-year-old Algerian war, it was reported today.

Reliable sources predicted the negotiations would begin before next weekend.

French and rebel emissaries also were said to have agreed to an informal "cease fire" once the talks began. Both sides would end military operations under a purely "gentleman's agreement."

Beware All Knaves of Oakland Forest

Hear Ye Bowmen . . . It's Sir Robin Kearns

Hear Ye, Hear Ye, all ye noble bowmen.

This is Robin Tell Kearns whose deadly aim of the bow shall now and ever protect the great Oakland Forest from knaves, villains and certain sportswriters.

To achieve this great mastery of the bow there were many long hours spent at the Sportsmen's Lair of Oakland Forest under the tutorship of the king's great archer Dave Keaggy.

Oh, but it is a sad tale me laddies for Keaggy, now the ex-greatest archer and hunter, for now Robin Tell Kearns rules the Forest.

★ ★ ★

Yes, it was a woeful tale of misfortune for Sir Keaggy whose words of wisdom sharpened my arrows to their true aim.

"Extend thy bow arm fully with locked elbow," Sir Keaggy suggested, "and roll thy elbow under or ye will hit it with the string."

"Bah," I thought, "what words are these which are being offered to Robin Kearns?"

★ ★ ★

Without arrow or target, I quickly drew back the string and released it. I felt a burning sensation crease my arm.

"The elbow wasn't rolled under," Sir Keaggy noted.

"Now in shooting, the hand holding arrow and string should be drawn clear back and the hand should be anchored to the side of the face, keeping the elbow higher than the shoulder," Sir Keaggy offered his next point of instruction.

Again I failed to heed the directions. I pulled the string back in front of my face. The hand slipped and I felt my nose flatten to pancake proportions.

"The stance should be firmly balanced with weight evenly distributed on both feet. The knees are slightly bent with the toes in an even line parallel to the target," said Sir Keaggy.

Of course being bowlegged and slightly pigeon toed it made the position of the toes and the parallel line somewhat difficult, but finally it was time to go for the target with a real honest to goodness arrow.

I drew back the string and aimed at the target center which looked a hemisphere away.

★ ★ ★

Swish the arrow raced toward the striped white and black circle.

★ ★ ★

I calmly walked up to the target, pulled the arrow out of the target right on the outer edge of the bullseye. Much to Sir Keaggy's amazement my first shot was just a thumb's joint distance from dead center.

★ ★ ★

That great success with the first arrow apparently produced a flow of over-confidence.

Of the next 9 arrows, only one made a hole anywhere in the target area. This was quite disturbing, because I certainly felt I was abusing my welcome. Four of the arrows pierced the magnificent "welcome sign" five feet above the target area.

There were several old arrow holes in the long sign and I later learned that the culprits who desecrated that sign with his unruly arrows was automatically made a human target of his fellow bowmen.

★ ★ ★

Sir Keaggy and young master Keaggy, Jr., then proceeded to display their talents of trick archery from sitting position, from piggy-back position, by bending over and firing through the legs.

It wasn't long before I was able to master the prime trick of the day, that is, firing an arrow while sitting on a chair, smoking a pipe and reading my paper at the same time.

But, ho, the challenge was now to be made. There could be only one master of Oakland Forest.

We agreed to match our wits in a Chicago round match. This consisted of 96 arrows at 20 yards. The bullseye was gold in color.

★ ★ ★

The result was as expected. Sir Keaggy hit the target 96 times. I missed it 96 times.

Maybe I should have agreed to a Flint round match, which permits shooting four arrows each from varying distances from seven up to 30 yards.

It was best however, as it would have been more embarrassing to missed every shot at 7 yards distance.

I thus realized that to be the head of Oakland Forest I must remove my biggest threat—Sir Keaggy.

With fierce insult I challenged his courage and bravery.

We agreed to split the apple off each other's head. A flip of my two-headed coin put Sir Keaggy in the target area first.

I fired.

Then I knew for sure Sir Keaggy could challenge me no more. But alas, there was master Keaggy, Jr., his heir, whose great accuracy at the age of 13 would pierce the pride of many great archers.

Again, my two headed coin won me the right to fire first.

Again, the big red apple stood unscathed.

★ ★ ★

It was decided thereafter that such a game as a test of courage should be outlawed.

Sir Robin Tell Kearns is now the ruler of bow of Oakland Forest, true, a lousy marksman, but a real president for the prevention of shooting apples off the heads.

It is now generally agreed that Sir Robin Tell Kearns must not be the descendant of the great William Tell, most outstanding of apple shooters, but of Tale Tell, the lousiest archer of the Tell clan.

Notes on Dave Keaggy

In four years, from his interest in bow and arrow hunting, Dave Keaggy has become one of the outstanding competitors in archery tournaments.

He supervises the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club archery training program and enters competitively in various state and national tourneys.

He was 5th in the field championships at Allegan last year and took 4th place in the state target championships. In the Midwest regional last year at Allegan, he placed second only to national champion Jim Caspers and thus qualified him for the Chicago tryouts which will determine who will make up the team for the World meet at Brussels. The Chicago meet is in June and four men will be chosen for the trip to Brussels.

Young Dave Keaggy, Jr., has been in archery two years and he already owns the state junior championships in both field and target tournaments and he placed 4th in the national juniors last year.

The entire Keaggy family including Dave Sr., Dave Jr., 13; Doug, 7 and Mrs. Keaggy (Connie) all take part in the family archery program at OCSC.

Rams, Chiefs Enter Regional Action Tonight

St. Fred Plays Ann Arbor Five at Ypsi Court

Locals Open 'C' Meet; Ortonville, Millington Tangle; Capac Loses

By CHUCK ABAIR

St. Frederick becomes the first local team to swing into regional basketball tournament competition when the Rams match hoops with Ann Arbor University School tonight at 6 at the Eastern Michigan University court.

The game will open Class C play at Ypsilanti. Two games will follow tonight. A victory would send the Pontiac cagers against Whiteford Friday night. Whiteford drew a bye. The championship will be decided Saturday.

St. Fred, 15-4 for the season counting District and Catholic tourney play, will be meeting a team which has won 14 and lost 6. Ann Arbor was only 4th in the Washtenaw Conference but the Cubs came back to upset league champ Saline in the tourney finals.

University High will have the edge on height led by 6-3 rebound ace Dennis Stevens. The other starters average around the six-foot mark with 5-11 southpaw Stu Bradley the top scorer.

Ted Dobski is the biggest Ram at 6-3. He should be ready to give Stevens a battle on the boards along with 6-1 Jim Kennedy. Rudy Yapo, 6-2, has looked good in drills and may see action to help around the baskets.

Mike Reed, Dave Lufkin and Pete Vasquez will team with Dobski and Kennedy in the St. Fred starting lineup. Little Reed has been the big gun all year but team balance and depth have been the key factors for Coach Gene Wright's contingent.

Reed scored 49, Dobski 36, Vasquez 30, Kennedy 28, Lufkin 24, and Charley Dean 21 in the three district triumphs at PNH. Dean has been hindered by a cold but should be ready to play along with other key reserves Jim Schachern and Craig Thomson.

★ ★ ★

Wright feels this team "has a better chance" than the 1959-60 Whittemore Street quintet which bowed out in the regional opener. Ann Arbor went to the regional finals before losing at Eastern Michigan a year ago.

Ortonville and Millington, the only other "C" teams remaining tangle tonight at 7 at Bay City Junior College. They divided two season contests and were part of a three-way South Central title tie.

Southern Thumb champ Capac put up a strong battle before bowing out of "C" play at Ferndale last night. The Chiefs lost to Grosse Pointe St. Paul 43-38 after cutting an eight-point deficit to 36-35 with two minutes to play. It was 17-17 at halftime. Ken Adamski and John Scheuer scored 9 apiece in defeat.

'Mongoose' Shatters Cuban Redleg Players

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — The Cuban members of the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Redlegs got together for a "mongoose" party prior to yesterday's game at Henley Field.

★ ★ ★

Tiger players Chico Fernandez and Ossie Virgil invited Redlegs Leo Cardenas, Elio Chacon and Regelio Alvarez over to see their pet mongoose.

The five Spanish-speaking players shouted a few foreign phrases to see if they could bring the captive animal out of the wooden box.

Fernandez very seriously placed some lettuce into the wire meshing to see if he could lure the mongoose out of the box. He gave Alvarez the lettuce to try his luck.

Suddenly the top of the box flipped open and out jumped the mongoose. The three Cuban Redlegs scattered in fright. They looked back amid laughter to see the animal—just a fur tailpiece hooked to a spring.

★ ★ ★

The credit for the trickery is attributed to Tiger trainer Jack Homel, who manages to come up with some gimmick every spring. And the fact remains—he always finds a few suckers who fall for his gags, as this writer has found out twice.

PCH, Rochester Face Each Other at Southfield

Catholic Central Meets Winner Friday Evening for 'A' Title

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central basketball coach Art Van Ryzin never likes his team to be favored, but he evening.

It's an escapable fact that Van Ryzin's cagers will be prohibitive favorites to conquer Rochester when the two schools square off at 8 p.m. on the Southfield court in the Class A regional tournament.

No matter how you look at it, the Falcons of Gene Konley just don't appear to have enough "horses" to compete with PCH on even terms.

★ ★ ★

Whoever wins tonight's encounter will have a man-sized task lying ahead. It's now an established fact that the PCH-Rochester survivor must face mighty Detroit Catholic Central Friday evening for the regional title.

The powerful Shamrocks, Detroit's Catholic League champions, earned their berth in the regional finals last night by defeating stubborn Livonia Bentley, 64-50.

Bill Foley's Shamrocks hiked their over-all record to 16-1 with the conquest of Bentley, which was trying its best to upset them for the 2nd straight year.

Catholic Central, using its superior height to great advantage, forged into a 34-17 halftime lead and the tenacious Bulldogs never could catch up, although they did pull within nine points, 53-44, in the early moments of the 4th quarter.

Bill Downs, the Shamrocks' diminutive guard, fired 23 points to pace the victory. John Hawkins scored 13 points for Bentley.

Harper Woods Notre Dame, Catholic Central's strongest rival for parochial honors this season, eliminated East Detroit yesterday, 58-57, in the East Detroit regional tourney.

Dan Dinunzio's three-point play in the final six seconds provided Notre Dame with its margin of victory. Dinunzio's 31-point effort topped all scorers.

The Chiefs of PCH would seem to have too much backboard strength and too many scoring weapons for Rochester in this evening's Southfield feature. Central enters the game with a 12-5 record while Rochester stands 7-9.

What could develop into a sizzling Class A regional at the Flint IMA gets under way tonight at 9 o'clock when Flint Central meets Flint Southwestern. Saginaw High and Arthur Hill clash Thursday on the IMA floor with the winners colliding Saturday for the crown.

The Ferndale regional begins tonight with the host Eagles battling Royal Oak Dondero at 7:30 and Highland Park facing Royal Oak Kimball in the 9 o'clock nightcap.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston Opens Regional Play

Clarkston makes its regional debut tonight against Redford St. Mary in a Class B game at Birmingham Seaholm starting at 7:30.

★ ★ ★

The winner will advance to the regional championship game Saturday. Royal Oak Shrine plays Fenton Thursday for the other final game berth.

Fenton posted a 45-42 overtime win over Marysville last night at Seaholm. In the other B game involving an area team, Northville was bounced from the tornament, 81-57, by powerful River Rouge.

A pair of free thows by Bob Bruder and another by Harold Huff produced Fenton's three points in the extra period. Marysville was held scoreless.

Bruder took game scoring honors with 21 points.

River Rouge blew its game with Northville wide open in the second quarter and then continued to pull away in the third period. The winners held a 38-27 halftime lead.

Park Richardson poured in 23 points for Rouge, 19 in the first half. Dan Brown scored 18 and Steve Juday 15 for Northville.

Ullman Wears Helmet, Rangers Pay Penalty

DETROIT (UPI) — Red Wing coach Sid Abel might be tempted to issue this order for tonight's scuffle with the Chicago Black Hawks: "Everybody must wear helmets."

The peculiar edict would be in deference to Norm Ullman's sparkling efforts in a 5-2 victory over the New York Rangers here last night.

Ullman donned the protective headgear because of an injury he received Sunday and proceeded to erupt with the greatest scoring performance of his six-year career in the National Hockey League.

He connected for a three-goal "hat trick" in the first 14 minutes of play and as if that was not enough to satisfy any man, he pumped in a fourth goal in the closing stages of the game.

★ ★ ★

The flurry of payoff shots made him the top goal-getter on the Detroit team for the 1960-61 season with a total of 28. And it surpassed by one his finest performance prior to last night, a hat trick against the Boston Bruins on Jan. 21, 1960.

Ullman laughed off any suggestions that his helmet was a contributing factor in last night's feat. "I just got a little hot, that's all," he said.

Ullman launched the barrage shortly after the opening faceoff when he steered in a hard shot by Warren Godfrey from the point.

He added his second goal at 11:36 and it was something of a fluke inasmuch as he just happened to be standing in the right place at the right time. Vic Stasiuk lofted a fine backhander from the far right side and the puck caromed off Ullman's stick and into the cage.

With the hat trick in sight, Ullman stormed in for goal number three two minutes later. It turned out to be the easiest of all as he slapped Allan Johnson's rebound into a virtually open net.

His fourth goal, coming with 1:08 left in the game, added frosting to both his cake and the Red Wings.

★ ★ ★

Detroit dominated the play throughout and outshot the Rangers, 44-19. But New York still managed to make a contest of it by narrowing the gap to 3-2 on Pat Hannigan's second-period goal and a marker by Andy Hebenton early in the final session.

But Alex Delvecchio settled the issue for the Red Wings with a goal, his 26th, at 17:52 of the third period and Ullman followed a minute late with his fourth.

Cincinnati Power Shows in 7-4 Win Over Tigers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Cincinnati Redleg manager Freddie Hutchinson admits his team has good hitting power and feels that his pitching, although not great, should be adequate.

But Hutchinson is unhappy over what he calls, "not very smart baseball."

The Redlegs showed their power at the plate by blasting four homers to beat the Tigers, 7-4, yesterday at Henley Field, but they also showed some of the baseball that has caused Hutchinson to hold night classes in fundamentals.

"Our pitchers hold guys on base who can't run, and they pay no attention to those who can. Our infielders have been playing terrible defensive ball," Hutchinson commented.

★ ★ ★

The first example came in the first inning when the Tigers scored two runs. Jake Wood started off with a double, Bill Bruton walked and Al Kaline blasted a long double to center. Wood scored and as Bruton raced toward home, Cincinnati third baseman Cook cut off the throw from the outfield and tried to catch Kaline at second.

If he had let the throw go toward the plate there might have been a chance of getting Bruton, but as a result the Tiger centerfielder easily crossed home.

In the second inning the Tigers scored when catcher Mike Roarke got on by way of an error. Pitcher Doug Gallagher singled past short, just as the shortstop was heading for second when he saw Rourke going on the pitch.

Rourke got to third and scored when Wood grounded to short. Again, it was questioned whether shortstop Leo Cardanes shouldn't have tried to get Rourke at home.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati tied it 3-3 in the third on a double by Cardanes, a homer by Elio Chacon and another blast by Gus Bell.

In the 6th inning the Redlegs got to Bill Fischer for two runs when Jerry Lynch singled and Gordon Coleman homered. They added another in the 7th off Terry Fox when Frank Robinson homered and in the 9th a double by Cardenas and an error by Fox on a pickoff attempt scored the final Redleg run.

Detroit's final run came in the 9th when Wood walked and scored on Kaline's second double of the game.

The Redlegs hit Tiger pitchers Gallagher, Fischer and Fox quite hard. They got 10 hits and many of them were solidly blasted.

★ ★ ★

Wood continued his hitting with two for four, giving him seven for 13 in the three games he has played.

Manager Bob Scheffing, who obviously wants very much to have Chuck Cottier in the lineup, used Cottier at short yesterday. He failed to get a hit and struck out twice.

As in the previous games, the upper half of the batting order is doing most of the hitting for the Tigers. Steve Boros, Cottier and shortstop Dick McAuliffe, and the catching department, except for Dick Brown in one game, aren't coming through.

Boros has had only a scratch hit Sunday against Minnesota in four games.

★ ★ ★

The three lame-armed pitchers of last season, Don Mossi, Ray Narleski and Paul Foytack, are on the mound in St. Petersburg against the Cardinals today.

Thursday the Cardinals are back for a game in Lakeland and Bob Bruce, Phil Regan and Hank Aguirre will share the duties.

Uncle Sam Attempts to Floor Ingo

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, belted by a $1 million tax claim, was scheduled to battle another round with the U. S. government today while Floyd Patterson headed home to figure out whom he is going to slug next.

The heavyweight champion, a knockout conquerer of the big Swede in the sixth round Monday night, probably will face England's Henry Cooper in New York next June or September.

Sonny Liston of Philadelphia, Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and other contenders have been mentioned as possibilities. But Cooper, unbeaten in his last seven fights, is understood to have the inside track if he gets by Welshman Joe Erskine in London next Tuesday night.

Johansson had hardly recovered from his kayo defeat when Uncle Sam tossed another financial haymaker at him. This time the man with the beard demanded another $411,620 for 1961 to go with a back tax claim of $598,181 for 1959 and 1960.

In addition, the U. S. Immigration Service handed Ingo an order temporarily banning his departure from this country. He probably will lounge around in the sun at Palm Beach for a week or so.

The 28-year-old businessman-fighter was subpoenaed for a U. S. courthouse appearance at Miami today. The government action was aimed at tieing up any funds Ingo may have received in advance as well as money promised him by Feature Sports Inc., and TelePrompTer. TPT handled the television, movies and radio rights on the Patterson-Johansson fight.

Johansson already has received $550,000, including $300,000 for 1959-60 and $250,000 for the third fight. This has been transferred to a Swiss bank. Johansson claims Swiss residence and says he is an employe of Scanart, a Swiss corporation.

Johansson's lawyer, Matthew Manners of New York, contends Ingo does not have to pay U. S. taxes because he pays Swiss taxes—a light bite of about 10 per cent compared to the 87 per cent bracket he falls into here.

Manners claims that under a treaty with Switzerland, the United States is not entitled to taxes on money earned by the Swiss corporation.

Johansson earned about $715,000 Monday while Patterson grossed close to $1 million.

Patterson said he wanted to fight more often "despite the government." He was referring to the imposing tax he will have to pay.

Floyd again belittled his Monday night victory performance as "terrible. I showed no skill at all, only determination. I must fight more often," he said.

He praised Cooper as "a very worthy contender" and once more gave the brushoff to Liston because, he said, "Of the people around" the hard-hitting Philadelphian.

Pontiac Elks Post I-C Tourney Win

Pontiac Elks advanced in the Inter-City Class D basketball tournament by defeating Livonia, 48-38, at Garden City last night.

The Pontiac quintet had to rally from a 23-20 halftime deficit. Abie McLarahmore paced the comeback by dropping in 13 of his 16 points in the last two quarters. Howard Cole scored 12 for the winners, seven in the last half.

Buckner Finance was successful Monday night in I-C Class B play at Detroit. With five players hitting in double figures, Buckner rolled over Forest Avenue Baptist Church, 74-23.

Art Larson scored 14 points, Nick Niera 13, Larry Hummel 12, Don Krupp 11 and Chuck Gillis 10 for the winners.

Multi-Lake Plans Special Open House

By DON VOGEL
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

National Wildlife Week will be observed by the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association with an open house on March 24.

* * *

The dates for the special week, designated by the National Wildlife Federation, are March 19-25.

Al Massini, manager of the Proud Lake recreation area, will show a movie and discuss multiple uses of recreation areas as a highlight of the open house program.

Exhibits and displays at the club house will be built around the theme of Wildlife Week, "Multiple Use—Balanced Conservation Planning for the Future." The program is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

COON TRIAL SUNDAY

The annual Pioneer Coon Club field trial will be Sunday in the Highland recreation area.

* * *

About 25 entries, many from several states, are expected for the field event which gets under way at 10 a.m. at the Oakland County Beagle Club grounds on Duck Lake Road.

Harold Smith of Pontiac will have his world champion coon dog, Sparky, a Walker hound, in the trial.

MORE SEASONS CLOSE

Anyone catching a northern pike, musky or walleye after today had better have it well hidden if a game warden appears on the scene. The season on these fish ends today and will not reopen until April 30.

The closing affects all inland lakes and streams except experimental waters and a portion of the Muskegon River.

RECORD SAILFISH

Al Crawford, Pontiac Press printer, recently set a season record for sailfish taken in Florida waters.

The fish weighed 53¾ pounds and was 7 feet 4 inches long. Crawford took the sail on 15-pound test line while fishing out of Boynton Beach. He was using spinning equipment.

"It took me 30 minutes to land the fish," said Crawford. "One time it took out 200 yards of line before I could turn it."

MIGRATION STARTS

Birds and waterfowl are beginning to make their yearly trek north.

Large flocks of blackbirds, many of them red wings, have been seen in Oakland County. Each day brings more robins on the scene.

* * *

Geese are winging toward their Hudson Bay breeding grounds. Many stop in Michigan and raise their families. Others continue north as the weather warms.

The spring migration of geese has arrived at Jack Miner's sanctuary near Kingsville, Ont. Whistling swans will be there soon. Many were reported resting in small lakes along the Ohio turnpike last weekend.

ILLEGAL HUNT

There are always people who attempt to spoil things for others.

* * *

A flight of Canada geese was spending an afternoon on Cemetery Lake recently when two young men showed up.

Witnesses said the men stopped the car they were riding in at the bridge on White Lake Road between Deer and Cemetery Lakes. A window was rolled down, a small bore rifle appeared, and a shot rang out.

The geese and violators both fled, with one goose acting as if it had been hit in the body. Unfortunately, the witnesses were not close enough to get the license number of the car.

Baylor's 40 Points Lead Los Angeles Past Pistons

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor scored 40 points Tuesday night and led Los Angeles to a 120-102 victory over Detroit in the first game of the Western Division National Basketball Association playoffs.

The same teams meet again Wednesday night in the second game of the best-of-five series.

A crowd of only 3,549 saw the Lakers lead from the outset and hold a 59-53 halftime edge. It was the tenth Laker win in 14 games against the Piston this season.

Although the Lakers held the edge in every period, they actually wrapped the game in the third quarter, outscoring Detroit 34-23.

It was a hotly contested battle. Detroit assistant coach Earl Lloyd and Laker Center Jim Krebs were ejected from the game in the second half. Both argued too loud and long over foul calls.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus also was pinned with a technical but stayed on the bench.

Baylor was instrumental on both backboards as well as leading all scorers. Teammates Rudy LaRusso with 21 and Jerry West with 17 helped the Los Angeles cause.

Gene Shue had 20 points for Detroit but was held to four points in the second half. Jackie Moreland got 17 for the Pistons.

In Tuesday's other NBA playoff opener, towering Wilt Chamberlain scored 46 points in a losing cause as the Philadelphia Warriors bowed to the hustling Syracuse Nationals, 115-107, in Eastern Division action at Philadelphia.

With the score deadlocked at 86-86 in the 4th quarter, Syracuse sewed up the decision by scoring nine straight points. Larry Costello and Hal Greer paced the Nats with 28 and 25 points, respectively.

Birmingham Booster Team Fifth

Last Chance for ABC Title

DETROIT (AP)—The Budweisers get their last chance to win an American Bowling Congress tournament title in a two-day Classic division stand opening tonight.

The St. Louis team, labeled by most experts as the greatest tenpin unit ever assembled, will make a seventh attempt to win the only major championship which has eluded it since its organization in 1954. The Buds' sponsor is dropping them after this season.

In six previous ABC appearances the Buds averaged 1008 per team game, finishing 3rd in 1959 with 3185, 4th in 1958 with 3198 and 6th in 1957 with 3077.

Members of the team — Don Carter, Dick Weber, Ray Bluth, Tom Hennessey and Bill Lillard — have won every major individual and doubles title.

Horace Walker, Ardmore, Pa., Tuesday took first place in the Classic singles with 663, replacing Whitey Harris f St. Louis one day after his 650 set. Walker, 46-year-old bowling pro shop operator, rolled games of 202, 225 and 236.

* * *

Ed Page and Ervin Bridges, Springfield, Ill., combined for 1277 and first place in the regular doubles. Bridges, 35, a filling station operator, set the pace with 650.

Pasquale's Pizzeria of Lake Orion rolled 2557 and Birmingham's Oven King Cookies 2471 last night. The latter team finished fifth on its booster squad. Al Pietz hit 577 and Marcus Bowers 535 to spark Pasquale's. Dan DeLong rolled 542 and Bob Burton Sr. 517 heading Oven King. Members of both teams were scheduled in doubles and singles today.

Charles Ahnen of Waterford High School had a 491 handicap score on the final squad of the American Junior Bowling Congress part of the tourney.

They are members of the Detroit All-Stars. The Stars will take on 300 Lounge of the Pontiac Class A Recreation League. Proceeds will benefit the Auburn Heights Boys' junior baseball league.

A preliminary game will have Buckner Finance, Pontiac Class B champ, against an opponent yet to be named.

Oxford Village Manager Named —Sworn In at Council Meeting

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

OXFORD—Robert W. Smalley, 37, former manager of the downriver city of Riverview, was appointed village manager of Oxford and sworn in at last night's council meeting.

He succeeds Ralph Precious who resigned Jan. 21 to become city manager of St. Johns near Lansing.

Besides managing, Smalley will be village assessor, street administrator and a member of the planning commission. His salary is $8,500 a year.

The new Oxford manager worked up through the ranks in Riverview, having been the city assessor, deputy clerk, treasurer and assistant manager before being named manager. He held that position for two years.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

He belonged to the Lions Club and was on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce there. He also was on the board of the Wyandotte branch of United Community Services.

A native of River Rouge, Smalley attended the University of Detroit and the University of Illinois. He is an Army veteran of World War II and an amateur radio operator.

Married and the father of five children, Leonard 10, Robert 8, Mary 6, James 4 and Jill 2, he plans to move his family to Oxford as soon as he finds a home.

The council had narrowed the field of 14 applicants to six before picking Smalley for the manager's job.

Clerk Mrs. Patricia Tyrrell administered the oath of office last night.

Letters of resignation from two members of the board of review, Edward J. Bossardet Jr. and Marvin C. Stevens, were read and action was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The council also learned that the State Department of Health has approved in principal the location of sewage treatment facilities in the Orion-Oxford area. Now the Oakland County Department of Public Works will study the exact location, size and slope of the trunk sewers and other factors entering into the project.

An estimate of cost should be completed in about 30 to 45 days, according to Donald L. Ringler, deputy DPW director.

Upon completion of the trunk sewer study, another joint meeting of the Oxford Township Board, Oxford Village Council, Lake Orion Council and Orion Township Board will be called.

Representatives of the DPW and Johnson and Anderson, Inc., consulting engineers, will be present to answer questions and discuss future procedures.

According to initial plans, the sewage treatment plant will be constructed south of Lake Orion to prevent sewage or plant outflow from entering the lakes within the corporate limits of the village.

* * *

Last summer Lake Orion and Oxford officials first agreed on the need for sanitary sewage disposal facilities for the two communities before the Clinton River Sewage Disposal System is developed.

Because the entire Clinton River system, which would serve 13 municipalities in northeast Oakland County, is a long-range project, Ringler had advised the construction of interim plants to serve the municipalities for 10 years.

During or at the end of that time the proposed plant and lines could be connected with the larger system, he said.

Elected Fourth Time

BREEDSVILLE (AP) — William Frude, Breedsville village president for the past 39 years, was re-elected for the 40th term Monday.

Aids U.S.-Foreign Relations

Retired Teacher Boosts Magazines as Envoys

By JIM LONG

WALLED LAKE — An already successful plan to promote good will between the U.S. and foreign nations is gaining momentum here through the efforts of a retired school teacher.

Enthusiastically propagating the "Magazines for Friendship" program with letters and talks is Mrs. Paul Shankin of 2251 Shankin Drive.

The magazine program was founded 14 years ago by Occidental College Prof. Albert Croissant to create better understanding between free countries.

Since then the program has reached such proportions that individuals and groups have taken up the idea to spread information about the U.S., its people and their habits through magazines.

* * *

The plan is an easy one, according to Mrs. Shankin, a former teacher at Cooley High School in Detroit. All that is needed is a magazine, a wrapper and stamps.

CARRY MESSAGE

"Magazines are the most inexpensive ambassadors of good will that I know," said Mrs. Shankin. "With words and pictures they can tell our friends abroad how we live."

"And language doesn't seem a barrier since most persons in foreign countries receiving the magazines are being taught English," she said.

She explained that each magazine sent overseas bears a sticker with the name of the sender and a short message of good will. In many cases the sender winds up with a pen pal.

Detailed information about the program and where foreign addressee can be obtained will be sent by Mrs. Shankin to civic or church groups interested in the program which send her a large self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Shankin said she decided to promote the magazine program in the area after reading about its success in the Business and Professional Women's Club magazine.

* * *

Mrs. Shankin is international relations chairman of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Women's Club. All 20 members of the club have taken an active interest in the "Magazines for Friendship" idea.

In order for the club to raise funds for postage, a two-hour film of a tour around the world taken by Mr. and Mrs. Shankin in 1958 will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Walled Lake Methodist Church.

Label of Judge on April Ballot Denied Perinoff

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem Tuesday denied a writ of mandamus which would have ordered the Southfield Election Commission to put the ballot designation "municipal judge" under the name of Alexander C. Perinoff on the April 3 ballots.

Perinoff filed suit for the writ, claiming he had just as much right as Municipal Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr. for the designation. Perinoff is an associate municipal judge in Southfield.

Judge Ziem ruled the city can't have two incumbents running for one office — Reid's. Perinoff is running for the municipal judgeship next month.

Pianists Top Talent Show

Detroit Boy, 14, Wins First in Benefit Contest at Romeo High

ROMEO—Piano soloists topped the fields as winners in both the junior and senior divisions of last night's talent show at Romeo Community High School.

* * *

Fourteen-year-old David Furguson of Detroit won the first place cash award in the senior division which was open to contestants 14 years old and older. He played "Leibestraum" by Lizst.

Junior division winner was Bob Haskell, 13, of 296 Townsend Road, Addison Township. His selection was "Grand Valse Brillante" by Chopin.

Other talent in the older group included Dale Marsh, 17, and Tom Trott, 14, both of Almont. Dale did a rope trick and Tom played the accordion. They placed second.

* * *

Third place honors went to piano player Bonnie Lowrie, 17, of 74000 Kanie Road, Romeo.

HONORABLE MENTION

Honorable mention was awarded to the "Chanteens," a girls' vocal trio from Fitzgerald High School, Warren, and to a boys' vocal quartet from Romeo High School, which did a calypso number.

* * *

Second place in the junior division went to another piano soloist, Howard Falker, 13, of 72730 McKay Road. Annette Plagens, 13, of Richmond, who also played the piano, placed third.

There were 10 acts in the junior division and 13 in the older group's contest, which also featured novelty dances, a monologue, vocal and instrumental numbers.

Judges were Mrs. James Campbell, Melvin Keranen, Mrs. C. Harold Wills and Mrs. Helen Kimmel.

* * *

The talent show followed a "Pop Concert" by the Romeo High School concert band led by E. C. Ojala. Band members themselves selected the music which ranged from Duke Ellington favorites to marches and popular show tunes.

Money raised from the annual event goes into the school band fund.

Church Circle Offers Saturday Night Film

CLARKSTON — Another Saturday night movie for the entire family has been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church sanctuary. It is sponsored by the Martha Richards Circle.

"Kathy O," starring Patty McCormack and Dan Duryea deals with the kidnaping of a spoiled Hollywood "brat" and of a press agent who foils a writer intent on making a vicious expose.

Once a month, the church circle clears the sanctuary of religious symbols, and presents highly selective color movies which appeal to young and old alike.

People of all denominations are invited to attend.

Heinkes Live in California

Married by Candlelight

WALLED LAKE — Residing in Walled Lake following their recent exchange of nuptial vows in Santa Susana, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. Roc L. Heinke. Officiating at the candlelight ceremony in Christ Community Church was the Rev. Paul Bayles of Conoga Park, Calif.

* *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pederson of Santa Susana, Calif. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heinke of 2940 Crumb Road, Walled Lake.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of white taffeta featuring a draped skirt decorated with rose appliques, a chapel train in a sunburst effect and long sleeves ending in points over her hands.

Matching rose appliques outlined with seed pearls bordered the high scalloped neckline, and a crown of pearls held her fingertip veil.

* * *

She carried white orchids and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. LeRoy Pederson, sister-in-law of the bride. Jack Marlowe, the bridegroom's uncle, served as best man.

Mrs. Edward Pederson, another sister-in-law of the bride, and Judy Valent were bridesmaids. The guests were seated by LeRoy and Edward Pederson, the bride's brothers, and Ronald Birdsall and Neil Hamill.

Becky Birdsall, the bride's cousin, was the flower girl.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. The couple traveled from California to Michigan by automobile for their honeymoon trip.

The Lyon Board of Education advertised for the bids last month. It is seeking approximately 40 acres in the vicinity of South Lyon for a school site.

The bids received range from $450 to $1,600 an acre.

Sports, Builders Show Readied

More than 6,000 Oakland County people are expected to swarm through the Waterford Township Community Center this weekend to see the seventh annual Sports and Builders Show.

All 56 booths have been sold. Music companies are now hauling in electric organs, pianos and other instruments. Builders are erecting garages, family rooms and pool houses.

Interior decorators are arranging furniture in imaginary homes, offices and club houses. Stereo equipment is being installed in booth-rooms, and steel awnings, siding and heating equipment is displayed.

Outside, space has been allotted for car displays. Trailers also will be open to inspection.

★ ★ ★

The show has been made available through the efforts of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, and all the profit will be used for community benefit, according to General Chairman Jack Cooper.

Entertainment will be in progress from the time the show opens at 7 p.m. Friday with the music of the Waterford Township High School Band.

At 10 p.m. Friday there will be an archery demonstration.

On Saturday the Jackie Rae Dancers will open the show at 1 p.m.; they will perform again at 3 p.m. A demonstration of what can be accomplished with correct dog training will be presented at 5 p.m. by the Southern Oakland County Dog Obedience Club, and another archery performance will be held at 7 p.m.

Twelve Waterford girls will parade across the CAI auditorium stage in formal evening gowns Saturday at 9 p.m. The five finalists will appear at the 9 p.m. Sunday performance when Miss Waterford Township will be chosen.

The Rae dancers will perform again at 1:30 p.m. to open the show Sunday, along with a baton-twirling demonstration. At 3:30 p.m. the Pierce Junior High School Band will present a concert, and at 7 p.m. another dog obedience demonstration will get under way. This will be followed by the crowning of the beauty queen.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Defense auxiliary police will work with the township police in keeping cars moving in and out of the three-acre parking lot.

So far as the Waterford Jaycees know, this is the only Sports and Builder's show to be presented in the Northern Oakland County area this year.

No Sneak Violations

U.S. to Ask Tight Atom Test Watch

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will insist on a substantial and effective control system in any pact with the Soviets to outlaw nuclear tests, officials said today.

While no control system can be 100 per cent foolproof, authorities said, U. S. negotiators will insist on a system strong enough to be a potent deterrent against any sneak violations of a nuclear test ban.

★ ★ ★

Controls have been the key issue in the Geneva test ban talks which have been going on among the United States, Britain and Russia at Geneva since November 1958.

While much progress has been made at the lengthy conference, East and West still are split on major points involving how many policing inspections should be made to sites of suspected explosions and who should be on the inspection teams.

EFFECTIVE CONTROLS

U. S. experts figure that if a treaty is agreed on, remaining gaps in the controls can be narrowed through further research and technical advances will enable the controls to become more simplified and more effective.

Arthur H. Dean, new head of the U. S. negotiating team at Geneva, gave a secret 2½-hour briefing to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday. He leaves for Geneva from New York tonight. The talks resume next Tuesday after a postponement giving the new Kennedy Administration a chance to review.

President Kennedy issued a statement Tuesday saying the United States is ready to present proposals which would be "fair to all" joining the test ban.

★ ★ ★

Dean said "we are going to use all of our powers of ingenuity and persuasion" to arrive at an agreement.

Whites and Negroes Battle at Protest

By The Associated Press

A stand-in demonstration protesting segregation in theaters turned into a rock-throwing melee between Negroes and white youths in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Only two persons were arrested but police broke up clashes involving as many as 50 white persons and 50 Negroes before order was restored late Tuesday night.

In other demonstrations, 175 Negroes were arrested during a singing, clapping protest against segregation at downtown stores in Louisville, Ky.; five pickets were jailed at Rock Hill, S.C. and six sit-in demonstrators were arrested at Rutherfordton, N.C.

Pickets who paraded in front of lunch counters at Columbia, S.C., carried signs reading, "If we cook for them, why can't we eat with them"

Grain Prices Hold Almost Stationary

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices in the grain futures pits held almost stationary today in early activity on the Board of Trade while soybeans spread over a fairly broad mixed range.

★ ★ ★

During the first few minutes, old crop soybeans extended their 10-cent limit gain of Tuesday by two cents or more while the new crop months lost about two cents.

Trade continued draggy in the grains as dealers awaited action in Washington on the feed grain legislation. Commercial business was very slow.

The early demand for old crop soybeans was described as additional establishment or reinstatement of long positions.

Market Mills in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market milled irregularly in active trading early this afternoon.

Interest continued to be focused on specially situated stocks and these provided the wider moves, to the upside or downside.

Despite predictions of a business upturn, the cyclical stocks moved very narrowly. Fractional changes were the rule for most steels, rails, motors, chemicals and oils.

Electronics showed a softer tendency. Electrical equipments were down moderately. Tobaccos, airlines and rubbers were mixed.

★ ★ ★

The list was mixed at the start and the ticker tape was late upon occasion. Turnover was slightly more than Tuesday in the early hours.

Gains of about 2 points by Armour and National Dairy were ascribed by brokers to a breakout on the upside of their chart patterns.

Lockheed, which spurted Tuesday on news of a billion-dollar Air Force contract, met profit taking and sold more than a point lower.

American Machine & Foundry rose about 3 and Brunswick more than 2, these favored issues having shrugged off their setback last week.

Sperry Rand backed away from an approach to a four-year high and dropped a fraction. Ampex ran out of gas, temporarily, at least, and dropped close to a point after posting an initial gain.

Avco eased and Fairchild Engine was unchanged after trading on a 20,000-share opening.

Holdup Victim Mistakes Trio

Robbery Suspects Are Freed

Three young men, who could have spent the rest of their lives in prison because a Southfield store owner was "positive" they robbed her of $53, were free today.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem signed an order today dismissing armed robbery charges against Ernest Stocker Jr., 33, 34725 Fendt St., Farmington, Norman C. Cogan, 22 23863 Berg Road, Southfield, and James McCallion, 20, of Detroit.

They had been spotted Feb. 28 standing in line for their new automobile license tabs at the Northland Shopping Center by Mrs. Bertha Robert, owner along with her husband Edmund of a grocery store at 27000 Northwestern Highway.

She was sure they were the men who robbed the store Jan. 27 and struck her husband over the head with a 15-inch iron bar.

But she was wrong.

REVERSE PROCEDURE

In what police call a "reverse showup," where the witnesses are put in a line-up instead of the suspects, held at Southfield last night, a 22-year-old Detroit welder, Leonard Stephens, 12650 Hartwell St., picked out — "without hesitation" — Mrs. Robert as the woman he and three other Detroit men robbed Jan. 27, according to Detective David J. Bourgeois of the Southfield Police.

At the March 3 preliminary examination before Southfield Municipal Court Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr. Mrs. Robert testified "I am positive" Stocker, Cogan and McCallion robbed her and assaulted her husband.

She said several times under questioning by attorneys she was "sure" they were the holdup men.

★ ★ ★

"Everything about this alleged offense centers on the ability to remember," said defense attorney James P. Lawson at the examination. He was right. It was proven there was such a thing as mistaken identity.

★ ★ ★

Bourgeois said Stephens, who'll be arraigned on an armed robbery charge before Judge Ziem Monday, closely resembles McCallion as far as facial features. Mrs. Robert identified McCallion in Judge Reid's court as the one holding the gun.

The other three men are being held by Detroit police for a series of robberies there, Bourgeois said. Southfield police came across them after interrogation by Detroit officers revealed that several of the "jobs" were in Southfield — one at 27000 Northwestern Highway.

A fourth original suspect had been released earlier for lack of evidence, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long said.

Sets Target Date for 12-Town Drain

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry has done something he hasn't dared to do for some time. He's set the date construction is expected to start on the 12-town storm drain.

Yesterday Barry said he was looking toward Sept. 1 to begin work on the huge $47-million drain to serve southern Oakland County. It has been delayed for years due to litigation.

Barry issued the date estimate after the Madison Heights City Council agreed Monday night to accept Barry's compromise offer, which would chop the city's original apportionment for the drain in half, if the other 13 participating communities agree also in writing to the compromise.

Barry has agreed to knock out 552 acres out of the city's drainage district to be served. This would slice its $2.8-million assessment to around $1.1 million, Barry said.

City councilmen said if the other communities would submit resolutions agreeing with the compromise within 60 days that it would drop its scheduled appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court of a State Supreme Court ruling against the city.

The resolutions, Barry said, would "be irrevocable bonds outlining terms of apportionment and territory from which no appeal will be necessary."

He said he expected most of the cities, which had been waiting impatiently for Madison Heights to clear its law entaglements so the drain could be built, to hurry delivery of the resolutions within about two weeks time.

Policeman Giving Stork Real Run for His Money

Everything happens to Richard (Moose) Beckman, Waterford Township patrolman, who for the second time in less than a year has helped a distraught mother deliver her baby.

At 3:30 a.m. today a frantic call came into the township police station from William Velzy, of 6208 Adams Drive, that his wife was in the process of having a baby.

Beckman, on regular duty, jumped into a waiting patrol car and headed for the Velzy home. On the way, the lights on his car failed, and he slid into a ditch at Wilson and Airport roads.

Another patrolman, Raymond Wilhelm, who had heard the same broadcast, and was also answering the call, came upon the 200-pound 6-foot-4 Beckman, and helped him get the car out of the ditch.

★ ★ ★

The two sped to the Velzy home and found Mrs. Velzy in the bathroom giving birth to her baby. The patrolmen assisted in the delivery, and when Leonard Coates arrived with his ambulance, he found big "Moose" sitting on the floor holding an 8-pound baby boy in a warm towel.

The mother and baby were rushed to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital where both are doing fine.

The first week that Beckman was on the township police force, he had the same type of experience, and was left in the position of holding the new baby until medical help arrived.

"A few more of these calls and I'll be real used to this type of thing," Beckman said.

Arms 'Dropped by U.S.' Exhibited by Cubans

HAVANA (AP)—The Fidel Castro regime Tuesday night opened an exhibition of American-made arms and ammunition it claims the United States air-dropped for antigovernment insurgents in the Escambray Mountains.

★ ★ ★

The large display, guarded by armed militiamen, attracted a big turnout. Viewers were lined up three abreast for a distance of two blocks from the hall.

Wants Smaller Firms to Get Defense Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy announced today he has issued instructions that small businesses—particularly in depressed areas — be given a greater share of the government's defense spending.

He told his news conference that the administration will try to increase by at least 10 per cent the $3.44 billion in military contracts which small firms were allotted in fiscal 1960.

Lloyd Motors, 232 S. Saginaw St., has announced that two Pontiac area men have joined its staff of mechanics.

★ ★ ★

William D. Harding, 28, of 570 S. Telegraph Road and Wesley V. Papple, 31, of 2986 Pridham St., Keego Harbor, were mechanics at Eddie Steele Ford Agency in Keego Harbor before coming to Lloyd's, a Lincoln-Mercury dealership.

★ ★ ★

Harding, a native of Pontiac, formerly spent three years at GMC Truck & Coach Division and a year at Jerome Olds-Cadillac.

Papple formerly spent four years at Central Lincoln-Mercury. He is married and has four children.

Oakland Police Officers Attending Traffic Course

Fifteen Oakland County police officers are attending a traffic law enforcement course on the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

Michigan State University's School of Police Administration, Continuing Education Service and Highway Traffic Safety Center are jointly conducting the program for policemen from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

Twenty-five officers, representing 20 different departments, are registered.

Attending from the Pontiac Police Department is Patrolman Wilbur Carrier, while the representative of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department is Deputy Henry Hansen.

Other Oakland officers and their departments are: Patrolman James Cochran, Birmingham; Patrolman Henry Juntunen, Bloomfield Hills; Patrolman John Butters, Farmington; Patrolman William A. Lawler, Huntington Woods; and Patrolmen John Eidt, Maurice Foltz, Chester Hartline, and Donald Perliski, Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

Also attending from the county are: Patrolman Harold Dehnke, Pleasant Ridge; Patrolmen Gerald Gliwa, John Pelto and Victor Bolf, Royal Oak; and Patrolman Ronald Freeman, Waterford Township.

Gordon H. Sheehe, director of MSU's Highway Traffic Safety Center, told the officers today that through good traffic enforcement police protect the lives of their own townsfolk, neighbors and members of their own families.

And violators, regardless of their esteem in the community, should expect not only probability of arrest but certainty of penalty when apprehended, Sheehe said.

Sheehe pointed out that Oakland with an increase of 32 deaths, and Wayne, with an increase of 27, accounted for about half of Michigan's total increase in traffic fatalities in 1960 as compared with 1959.

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, MSUO continuing education director, told the officers such training courses are provided to answer one of today's great needs — keeping up with the "geometrically expanding" problems of today.

MUST MODERNIZE

"Our accelerated technology has made obsolete many of our old methods," Eklund said, "like using horse-and-buggy techniques in a jet age. By such courses we modernize these techniques."

★ ★ ★

Sponsoring the five-day course are the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, Michigan State Police, Michigan Sheriffs Association, Michigan Department of Public Instruction, Michigan Municipal League and MSUO.

★ ★ ★

Classes are meeting Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and next. The final class will be on Tuesday, March 28.

★ ★ ★

The course is designed to give both the broad philosophy and technical skills for improving traffic law enforcement to officers selected by their own departments.

Pontiac General Hospital officials today announced they were pleased with the results of the 1961 National Intern-Matching Program.

★ ★ ★

The matching plan for the internship of graduating doctors is operated by the American Hospital Association, American Medical Association and several other groups.

★ ★ ★

Figures in Pontiac Banks Show Dip of $10 Million

Commercial transactions through Pontiac banks in February dipped $10 million from January's level and industrial payrolls fell nearly $3 million.

The levels were the lowest since the steel strike of late 1959. In November of that year, commercial debits stood at $78,476,335 and industrial payrolls at $9,138,759.

Layoffs in the automotive plants, slowness in new construction and economic conditions generally were factors in last month's lull.

Figures indicating business trends in Pontiac during February were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn. (approximate figures), the post office, the city inspection and water departments, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp., and North Central Airlines.

Study Sewage Problem as Home Owner 'Waits'

The $16,000 home of Frank L. Jones at 979 Emerson St., is a showplace in all respects but one.

★ ★ ★

The three-year-old ranch-style dwelling is condemned by the Health Department for lack of sewage facilities.

Situated on a lot just a little too low to tie in with the gravity-flow sewer serving the rest of the area, the home was built in 1957 with a permit for a septic tank.

Initial information indicated the lot could handle a septic tank. A later — and apparently more thorough — test proved it wouldn't. Actual practice showed it couldn't.

★ ★ ★

Through his attorney last night, Jones, a carpenter, asked the City Commission for a special arrangement under which he could install a pump and his own 90-foot line to the city sewer.

★ ★ ★

Until the home is livable, it was stated, Jones' financial investment in the dwelling is jeopardized and he stands to lose his equity.

City Engineer James N. Carlisle said he wouldn't approve the pump arrangement on his own for fear of setting a precedent "for unusual installations."

★ ★ ★

Sympathetic with Jones, the City Commission, on Carlisle's recommendation, asked the administration for a report on the possibility of granting Jones' request "on a hardship basis."

★ ★ ★

Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer said he would make a recommendation next week and Jones, who has lived in the home two years, said he could wait until then.

Tempest Drivers Prefer Automatic Transmissions

Since the introduction of Pontiac's unique family-size Tempest series last fall, nearly 70 per cent of these new cars have been ordered with automatic transmissions. Known as Tempestorque, it is the first automatic transmission to be mounted at the rear in a front-engine car.

A conventional synchromesh transmission with the shift lever located on the floor for driver convenience, is standard equipment on Tempest sedans and station wagons.

The Tempest transmission, either automatic or synchromesh, is an integral part of the differential and axle. Power is transmitted from the front-mounted engine to the transmission by means of a curved, flexible drive shaft.

This Pontiac innovation results in a perfectly balanced automobile for better performance, safety, riding comfort and handling.

CHOSEN — Walter P. McConaughy, 53, currently ambassador to Korea, was chosen by President Kennedy Tuesday to be assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Plant at Adrian Big Headache for Agency Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Moore, the general service administrator, says the problems involved in disposing of a surplus plant at Adrian have taken more of his time than anything else since he assumed office.

★ ★ ★

Moore told reporters Tuesday that the Adrian situation is a many-sided problem and he has no idea when it will be resolved.

"I'll never name a child of mine Adrian," he laughingly commented at one point.

★ ★ ★

The situation at Adrian involves GSA efforts to dispose of a surplus Air Force metal extrusion plant.

Move to Save Absentee Votes

Officials Act Quickly to Protect Rights From Ballot Amendment

LANSING (AP) — Election officials around the state moved quickly today to keep absentee voters from being disenfranchised on a constitutional amendment on the April 3 ballot.

The proposal would allow the legislature to pledge up to $5 million of the state's credit to finance industrial, manufacturing and municipal development projects.

The amendment is part of Gov. Swainson's plan to stimulate business to locate or expand in Michigan. It was rushed through the House and Senate with unusual speed.

Robert Montgomery, state elections director, said it appeared that very few absentee voters would lose their right to vote on the issue. Officials had indicated earlier that many of the estimated 75,000 absentee voters would be disenfranchised.

Montgomery said many county clerks apparently had ordered absentee ballots printed, but had held back on mailings pending a decision by the legislature.

Some have indicated they will have the amendment printed separately and mail them together, others will simply throw out the original ballots and order a reprinting, he explained.

★ ★ ★

Most of those who already have mailed out absentee ballots said they would order a second mailing for the amendment.

'Untouchables' to Be Back on TV in Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Untouchables," television gangster show under fire from several Italian-American organizations, "definitely will be back next year," the American Broadcasting Co. says.

★ ★ ★

The network announcement came Tuesday night after the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. announced it was withdrawing as the program's main sponsor.

★ ★ ★

A network spokesman said three new sponsors had immediately placed orders for the program and it "is completely sold out" for next fall.

Actress Prowse Under Suspension

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Juliet Prowse is under suspension at 20th Century-Fox for insubordination while on loanout to Hal Wallis Productions.

★ ★ ★

The home studio announced Miss Prowse's suspension Tuesday, noting that she refused to play the lead role opposite Elvis Presley in Wallis' "Blue Hawaii."

★ ★ ★

The actress notified Wallis last week she would play the role only under certain conditions. These included a change in billing, payment of her passage to the Hawaiian location and obtaining the services of her make-up man, Roy Stork, from Fox.

Warn of New Strikes

Comedians Joke About Airline Stewardesses

By EARL WILSON

ISRAELI-BOUND—We should be jetting into Tel Aviv about the time you're reading this after being served and shepherded on the 11-hour hop from Idlewild by three shapely young stewardesses who aren't at all motherly.

WILSON

Fact is, they should sue a couple of comedians for slander.

Comedians Milt Kamen and Alan King have been kidding the Israeli line. They claim the stewardesses are oldish women who turn on signs reading, "Please Fasten Seat Belts and Take a Piece of Fruit."

"Then they spy on you to make sure you're eating. They walk down the aisle shouting, 'What do you mean, you're not hungry? We cooked, you'll eat!'"

The comics claim one plane turned back—the pilot forgot the horseradish and pickles.

Once they couldn't land—the stewardesses had washed the runway and had newspapers spread out on it.

"They don't sell tickets," the jokes continued. "The passengers give donations. A man runs up the plane steps, yelling, 'I give $300 anonymous.'"

Local 49 Helping Salvation Army

Members of Pontiac Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) are joining with the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center in an effort to help unemployed and needy families this month.

Union officials feel that a helping hand to the Salvation Army in its yearly drive to collect used articles and make them usable will be a helping hand to families of unemployed persons.

"The Salvation Army retail outlets on W. Lawrence and W. Pike Streets are excellent sources of good reconditioned clothing, furniture and toys," said Fred G. Henry, chairman of the drive.

"With unemployment as high as it is, our local decided that any effort to keep the stores well stocked would help ease the situation for many people."

★ ★ ★

The drive, already under way, is called "Operation Needy."

Assisting Henry is Denzil L. C. Goodwin, president of the union local.

Goodwin, of 12930 Ratalee Lake Road, Davisburg, and Henry, of 10 S. Shirley St., are both psychiatric attendants at Pontiac State Hospital.

They have set 20,000 pounds of clothing and other needed items as their goal.

"Our success depends on the generosity of the public," Henry asserted.

The drive may continue indefinitely until the goal is reached.

CLEAN OUT ATTIC

"It is being timed to catch articles which might otherwise be burned or thrown away during spring housecleaning," added Goodwin.

"All we need is clothing that is clean and wearable and furniture and toys that are repairable," Henry said.

Any groups or individuals desiring to help are asked by the union to drop a car to "Operation Needy," P.O. Box 261, Pontiac.

Persons with outgrown items they wish to donate can call Henry at home.

Salvation Army trucks will pick up items.

What a Difference a Day Makes, Right Jack?

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — I've dug into a pile of dusty newspaper clippings to find some dialogue that recalls an era when all we had to worry about was something like the H-bomb.

Said one clipping, "This is strictly a business position. No personal animosity is involved." Another said, "I will never forget how Sullivan helped me when I really needed it."

The speakers: Ed Sullivan and Jack Paar, respectively.

The date: last Thursday.

But one week can be a lifetime in TV and the dialogue between these charmers has, in the interim, deteriorated to a personalized level of invective that is downright embarrassing to overhear.

Too bad we'll never get Paar and Sullivan back to those carefree hours of last week, because a serious, formal discussion of their differences — despite the intramural nature — could have given all of us more insight into the ledgers and legends of TV.

Productive discussion has been choked off by bitterness and now, as they say in show biz, they belong to the agents.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of agents, if any portion of Monday's monologue by Paar deserved amplification, it was the mention of the role played in this feud by the Music Corp. of America, agents for both Paar and Sullivan.

But the most chilling speech in this matter came as Paar wagged a finger at the public and intoned, "Somebody who claims to be honest has lied to you. You must find out who lied to you.

"You must in some dramatic manner find out who lied to you and then that person who lied must suffer publicly for it."

Let us give thanks that Paar, for all his advantages in this dispute, went into show business and stayed out of politics.

Incidentally, Jack got carried away when he referred to Red Skelton as being ready to risk his life following surgery to come to Paar's aid. I'm assured by a Skelton spokesman that Red is not and was not as sick as Jack suggested. And after seeing Skelton on his CBS-TV show last night, I'm inclined to believe Skelton.

Don't Look Now . . . but We're 100 Years Old

ALL DOLLED UP—An enthusiastic centennial fan, Floyd E. Short, 12 Niagara St., is in the swing of centennial fun, wearing the traditional top hat and bow tie and sporting the beginnings of a centennial beard. The lapel button shows Short has signed up for the Brothers of the Brush beard contest during the June 17-24 centennial observance.

Making plans for a gala centennial celebration June 17-24, the city of Pontiac today passed its 100th birthday, quietly.

It was on March 15, 1861 that the community was incorporated as a city.

There was no special observance planned to commemorate the anniversary date itself.

Rather, several score of people were busy laying the foundation for an all-out birthday party during the third week of June.

★ ★ ★

The warmer month ties in with plans to highlight the celebration with an outdoor pageant involving 2,500 or so persons in Wisner Stadium for six nights, beginning Sunday, June 18.

KICKOFF PARADE

The pageant, depicting Pontiac's past, present and future, will be preceded by a kickoff parade in downtown Pontiac on Saturday, June 17.

★ ★ ★

As centennial time draws nearer, more than 200 persons are expected to be enlisted in the four-dozen committees working under the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission.

A review of the centennial so far shows the centennial commission is operating on a $50,000 advance promised from city hall, with the John B. Rogers Producing Co. of Fostoria, Ohio, as professional consultants in the giant undertaking.

With Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank, as general chairman, centennial headquarters in the basement of the Civic Center library is the hub of increasing activity.

Beards have been encouraged among the men and bonnets will soon be the official regalia for women.

FUN AND MONEY

Such centennial paraphernalia as beard permits and shaving permits, centennial hats and centennial bow ties, are aimed at producing revenue as well as fun.

All revenues, even the proceeds from the pageant, will go into the general fund to reimburse the $50,000 advance.

★ ★ ★

Many features of the centennial have yet to be announced. Among the highlights, though, will be some serious moments, including the dedication of the new library and the airport terminal.

JFK Hits Work-Week Cut

To Back Study of Parochial Aid Feasibility

Hopes Congress Will Act First, Separately, on Public School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today he is opposed to a shorter work week. Kennedy told his news conference he is unhappy because the declining economy has reduced the work week for many below 40 hours.

The President said his administration would be glad to cooperate with Congress in a study of whether federal loans to private secondary schools can be made under the Constitution.

But he declared he hopes Congress will act first and separately on a pending measure for federal aid to public secondary schools.

★ ★ ★

The President was asked if he agreed with some labor union proposals that shorter hours might be one of the solutions to the present level of unemployment.

'NEEDED FOR GROWTH'

Kennedy replied that he hopes the 5-day, 40 hour week can be continued. He said it is necessary if the United States is going to continue economic growth.

"I would be opposed to any arbitrary reduction of the work week," Kennedy said, "and I am unhappy when I see the work week reduced artificially, in the sense that the pressures of a decling economy reduce it so that we get averages of 38.5 hours a week instead of the 40 hours a week."

Kennedy promised that the administration will cooperate with Congress, after action on the school bill, in studying whether tax exemptions could be granted to parents of children in private schools — in lieu of direct federal aid.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Kennedy expressed the hope that controversy over the aid-to-education bill and the related religious issue will not weaken the country in any way.

A reporter told Kennedy that his election has been regarded in some quarters as a victory over religious prejudice.

The newsman asked whether the President feels the current contro-

Wants A-Talks to Be Reopened in August

Earlier Suggestion of September Date Had Irked Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy disclosed today the United States has suggested that East-West negotiations on general disarmament be resumed in August. Originally Kennedy is reported to have sent word to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that Broad-scale disarmament talks should not be started until Sept. 11.

That report was carried in today's New York Times.

The Times Washington dispatch said Khrushchev objected "with some vigor."

Kennedy said at his news conference today that "we have suggested we will be prepared" to start up general disarmament negotiations again in August, after first suggesting a new start in September.

Meanwhile, Kennedy said, U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson is trying at the United Nations to work out detailed arrangements for the proposed new disarmament exchange.

One critical issue is the size of the negotiating group.

Khrushchev, the Times story said, contended a six-month delay would be unreasonable.

The President said that now that Arthur Dean, chief U.S. delegate to the nuclear test ban talks in Geneva, has left for the discussions which resume next week, the administation is "going to concentrate our attention" on general disarmament and "we hope progress can be made."

Peace Corps Plot: Reds

LONDON (AP) — After waiting two weeks to assess President Kennedy's Peace Corps, the Soviets today denounced it as a "crafty plot."

Pontiac Movie Will Be Shown to State House

The House of Representatives in Lansing will be shown the "Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise" Monday evening.

The 26-minute sound-and-color film, produced by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce to boost Pontiac locally, statewide and nationally, will be preceded by a brief talk by Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

John W. Hirlinger, chamber manager, will accompany the mayor. He said the film has been shown 73 times in 42 days.

Aid Reduction to Schools Hit

JFK Would Cut Funds That Ease Strain From Federal Employes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration came under growing pressure today to abandon or soften its proposal to reduce the government's payments to federally impacted school districts.

★ ★ ★

The proposed reductions, which would approximate 50 per cent, are tied to the administration's controversial school aid bill. The over-all school bill calls for a three year, $2.3-billion program of federal assistance to the public schools only.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the Senate Education subcommittee conducting hearings on the bill, said Tuesday he has asked the administration to reconsider the provisions which would reduce the impact payments.

These are payments provided by law to reimburse school districts for part of the cost of educating the children of families who live or work at federal installations.

Morse told a reporter the legislative history of the impact-aid program indicates Congress nev-

GOVERNOR IN CONFERENCE—Governor John B. Swainson (left) of Michigan talks with Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in Freeman's Washington office Tuesday. But the governor was in Washington primarily to discuss federal loans to private and parochial schools. With Freeman, he discussed extending the proposed food stamp plan to Hamtramck and Highland Park.

Michigan Leader Testifies About Federal School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. John B. Swainson of Michigan said Tuesday he would favor federal loans to private and parochial schools if such a program is constitutional.

Swainson, in winding up a day's testimony before the Senate and House subcommittees on education, said he supported President Kennedy's view that the problem should be dealt with in a separate bill, however.

He testified earlier that federal aid to Michigan's educational system had not resulted in federal control of school programs.

Swainson stopped off for a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman before emplaning for Detroit.

He said they discussed the extension of the President's food stamp plan to the Detroit suburbs of Hamtramck and Highland Park.

The governor said upon arrival in Detroit that he was "very encouraged" by his talk with Freeman and hoped to have the two suburbs, which are completely surrounded by their bigger neighbor, included in the plan "in a month or so."

Weatherman Says Mercury Will Climb

Fair and a little colder with the low about 30 is the forecast for tonight in the Pontiac area. Thursday will be mostly sunny and warmer the mercury climbing to a high of 50.

The weatherman says temperatures for the rest of the week will be 5 to 10 degrees above the normal high of 40 to 45 and normal low of 21 to 28. Thursday and Friday will be warmer with only minor day to day changes thereafter.

Three to five-tenths of an inch of rain will fall Saturday and Sunday.

West to northwest morning winds at 13 to 18 miles per hour will diminish tonight, and become gentle and variable Thursday.

Thirty-three was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 43.

Bible Group Told to Quit 31 Schools

LANSING (AP)—The Rural Bible Mission of Kalamazoo was told today that its religious instruction program in public schools is contrary to the state and federal constitutions.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, in effect, ordered the Protestant church group to abandon its long-standing program, which extends into 31 Michigan counties, mostly rural areas.

He advised the local school boards to take "immediate steps" to halt any programs that are operating in their districts.

The attorney general's decision climaxed a dispute brought to a head when four parents of elementary school pupils in nearby Williamston asked the state to compel the mission to end its instruction program in the Williamston Memorial School.

Elmer Deal of Gull Lake, head of the organization, immediately complied.

Adams' opinion, asked by the Jackson Council of Churches, held illegal any religious training "conducted on public school property either during the normal school day or anytime when the authority of the school is applied to the pupils through its teachers or other officials."

Asks $12 Million in Electrical Fix

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Justice Department, which Tuesday joined the Tennessee Valley Authority in suing five electrical equipment firms for nearly $12 million for alleged overcharges, says other damage suits are contemplated.

But in making the statement neither Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy nor William Maher, chief of the antitrust division here, elaborated.

Maher earlier this year headed the successful prosecution of 29 big electrical firms and 44 of their executives on charges of bid rigging and price fixing which led to Tuesday's action here.

The suit was the first such filed by the federal government. States, cities and private utilities also are planning multimillion-dollar actions against the firms.

The General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp., America's two biggest manufacturers who were among the five named in the suit Tuesday, said they would vigorously defend themselves against the latest action.

Red Offensive Looms in Laos

Early Settlement of Civil War Grows Dim as Leaders Disagree

From Our News Wires

American intelligence sources have warned against a possible new Communist offensive in tension-ridden Southeast Asia, most probably in Laos, dispatches from Taipei, Formosa, reported today.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodia, a sharp difference between the pro-Western government in Laos and former Premier Souvanna Phouma emerged, dimming chances for an early settlement of the Laotian civil war.

Before leaving for a tour of foreign governments, Souvanna said a 14-nation conference should be held on Laos as soon as possible.

★ ★ ★

The neutralist former premier said it would bring all factions together to set up a commission to stop the fighting. Thus the war would continue until the conference reached agreement.

But Ngon Sananikone, a cabinet minister representing Vientiane, said his government feels a commission of neutral nations should be chosen quickly to stop the fighting.

This would be followed by detailed discussions in an international conference.

★ ★ ★

The intelligence reports coincided with a full-scale practice alert which began Tuesday for all U.S. forces in the Pacific. The Pentagon has called the practice alert "routine."

The Communists already had proclaimed Wednesday "Laos Day" and ordered their forces to exterminate loyal Laotian government forces reported fleeing to Vientiane from captured Sala Phou Khoun.

$175,000 Quarters for Chief Pontiac

Credit Union to Put Up Building

By PETE LOCHBILER

Expansion plans, disclosed today by Chief Pontiac Federal Credit Union, call for a $175,000 headquarters building on a new site on Joslyn Avenue.

★ ★ ★

The one-story brick structure, featuring a 1½-story public area mostly of glass, should get under construction in May, according to James T. Harrington, treasurer-manager of the credit union.

Expansion will double the credit union's existing facilities to 13,000 square feet, said Harrington. The new building will be solid enough to support a second floor if more expansion is called for in the future, he said.

The new site includes all the frontage on the east side of Joslyn between Rascob and Markle streets near the Pontiac Motor Division plant, about three blocks south of the present headquarters at 850 Joslyn Ave.

★ ★ ★

Holding funds for 10,000 employes at Pontiac Motor Division, the credit union is the second largest in Pontiac. It's assets of $4,789,572 at the end of the year represented $1 million increase in 12 months, said Harrington.

Blueprints are being completed by the Detroit architectural firm of Neubrecht & Neubrecht. Harrington said the expansion would be financed out of accumulated cash reserves.

City commissioners, informed of the expansion plans last night, agreed to move speedily on zoning changes for the expansion.

The credit union wants the alley on the site vacated and rezoning to commercial of two lots on Joslyn, one on Rascob and two on Markle. Homes on the lots are to be removed to make way for the new building and a 90-car parking lot.

Commissioners approved the vacating and the rezoning without first submitting the matters to the Planning Commission, a move that will save about a month of red tape.

The planning commission is now asked to pass on ordinances for vacating and rezoning, both of which will be subjects of public hearings before the commission April 11, the date of adoption.

Petitions circulated by the credit union showed that at least 75 per cent of the affected property owners favored the changes.

Expect JFK Plan to Let Farmers Set Own Props

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress Thursday to approve a farm setup under which growers would write their own crop programs, subject to legislative veto.

★ ★ ★

This would be radically different from existing farm programs, although the idea is not new. Legislation along these lines was defeated last year after being introduced by a group headed by Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex.

Similar proposals also have been made in the Senate.

Congressional sources said the President will seek a broad delegation of powers to him and to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to deal directly with farmers in forming programs embracing kindred and competing commodities.

★ ★ ★

The farmers themselves would be asked to agree on the type of federal controls, price supports and other government props they believe are workable for the particular group of growers involved.

U.S. to Defy Kasavubu, Fly Indians to Congo

Soldiers Will Try to Rout Native Troops if Needed

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — The U.S. Air Force today proceeded with plans to fly the first tough Gurkha warriors from India into the Congo over the bitter protests of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu.

The Gurkhas, scheduled to arrive Thursday, are the vanguard of 4,700 combat-ready Indian troops ordered into the Congo by the United Nations Security Council to carry out military action against rampaging Congolese soldiers, if necessary.

Kasavubu, president of the newly formed Federation of Congo States, charged Tuesday night that the United Nations' decision to send Indian troop reinforcements constituted "unacceptable interference" in the Congo's internal affairs.

In two cables to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, Kasavubu said the federation "energetically rejects the sending of troops to the Congo of countries whose sole presence is dangerous to the peace and order achieved at the Tananarive conference."

Kasavubu, Katanga President Moise Tshombe and other Congolese leaders recently completed a week-long conference on the island of Madagascar and decided to set up the loose confederation of Congolese states.

Congolese leaders were confident that the federation would restore stability and bring peace to their strife-torn nation.

Kasavubu called on Hammarskjold to obtain advice from the International Court of Justice on the legality of the U.N. Security Council's resolution Feb. 21 which authorized the use of force to end the fighting in the Congo.

Michigan Missionary Kin Remain

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — An American missionary family has decided to stick to its post in a Kivu region where savage Congolese soldiers have raped and beaten other missionaries, it was learned here today.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Terpstra of Grand Rapids, Mich. They are operating the only secondary school in the Maniema area in Kivu, where antiwhite violence has been reported in the past weeks.

* * *

They have three children —Benjamin 6, Kathryn 5, and James 3.

A Malayan patrol, sent out to bring back an American woman missionary raped by four Congolese soldiers at Kama, called on the Terpstra family at Kakumbu. But the family elected to remain at its post.

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — "It is natural for our family to stick to the job." That's the way Benjamin Terpstra described today the decision of his missionary son to stay at his post in the Congo despite the turbulent atmosphere in the infant African nation.

In Washington the United States said it is helpless to guarantee protection to Americans who refuse to leave the Congo as long as it backs the United Nations effort to prevent military intervention in the country.

The State Department said it has been taking "all possible measures" to protect Americans, primarily missionaries, in the country.

(But it appears that this country can do little but appeal to its citizens to leave the Congo — which it already has done — and urge the United Nations to protect those who insist on remaining.)

Latest reports arriving here said rampaging Congolese soldiers apparently have moved out of the area. The Malayan patrol was said to have met only friendly natives.

The Congolese soldiers were said to have been inflamed by pro-Lumumba youths.

ROUNDUP TIME FOR WHALES — It was roundup time for whales off the coast of Japan last week as fishermen and townspeople from Karadomari village in Hakata Bay combined to bring in 100 of the 15-foot blackfish variety. Fishermen drove whales toward the shore in the bay, where villagers roped the tails and hauled them ashore. The fishermen worked like seagoing cowboys, upsetting the "Moby Dick" whaling boat tradition.

Snow in East, Rain in West, Sun Between

By The Associated Press

The remnants of a storm that dropped between 3 to 6 inches of snow on New England Tuesday continued to lay a white blanket over parts of Maine today as it blew out into the Atlantic Ocean.

In the storm's wake snows turned to flurries and rains mostly to drizzle from New England through the Great Lakes. Much of the white cover melted under a combination of warming temperatures and rain.

Rains also peppered the West Coast with the heaviest falls along the central California coast and lesser amounts northward. San Francisco reported 1.21 inches of rain in six hours.

U.N. Must Face Touchy Debate

Czechs Bring Up Topic of Western Colonialism (Cold War Issue)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Hopes of avoiding months-long wrangling over Cold War issues faded today as the United Nations turned to the touchy subject of colonialism under prodding by Communist Czechoslovakia.

The 99-nation special political committee called a morning meeting to begin debate on Czechoslovakia's "appeal for maximum support to efforts of newly emerging states for strengthening their independence."

This itself was only a borderline Cold War issue but it was considered certain to bring heated Communist attacks against so-called Western colonialism and perhaps set the mood for even more vigorous Cold War debates later.

The powerful main political committee, which must handle disarmament and the major Cold War questions in the 38-item agenda left over from the first part of the Assembly session last fall, did not plan a meeting before next Tuesday.

Few diplomats retained any hope of agreement on shortening this session.

er viewed it as a temporary measure, but as a continuing program.

Dr. Charles H. Beehm, Pennsylvania superintendent of public instruction, raised one of the few voices at the hearings from outside the administraton defending the impact-aid cuts.

He said they are justified "although I would prefer that the reductions not apply to the 1961-62 fiscal year but to the following year."

Boehm also suggested it might be more equitable to substitute some system of federal tuition payments.

UAW Gets $30 Million in SUB

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union reported today that its members collected an estimated $30 million in supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) in 1960 under the terms of UAW contracts with the auto industry and other firms.

The SUB program, negotiated by the union in 1955, pays benefits in addition to regular unemployment compensation.

The UAW said the "big three" auto companies, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, accounted for more than $19.5 million of the total.

General Motors employes collected $8,852,995; Ford, $5,531,901; and Chrysler, $5,224,497.

In addition, Studebaker-Packard employes got $1,749,231 and American Motors $168,025.

Supervisors Not Bound on Clinic

City Won't Direct Vote

City commissioners last night held firm in their refusal to put seven votes into the pocket of supporters of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

Without taking a vote, they indicated there would be no order to the city's seven representatives on the board of supervisors to vote for a bigger county subsidy of the clinic.

Officers and sympathizers of the clinic have asked a number of Oakland County cities for such support, winning votes in four of them so far.

There still is a possibility that the commission in two weeks will pass a weak resolution, favoring the clinic, but not ordering a specific vote.

* * *

"We want only your moral support, your recommendation that we get favorable consideration from the county," said Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, 831 Glendale St., a member of the clinic's board of directors and one of three clinic supporters who appeared before the commission last night in a second bid for aid.

The clinic says that without more money it will be forced to close its Birmingham branch. Other branches are in Pontiac and Royal Oak.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said the commission won't be in position to take any step until a report on the clinic's financial history is received from the county March 28.

AGAINST ORDERING

Several commissioners, including Rowston, who is a representative on the board of supervisors, said they no more wanted to order the county around than have the county order them around.

In response to this, Mrs. Farrell E. Roberts, 2486 LaFay St., West Bloomfield Township, wife of the Oakland County state senator, called for clarification.

"It would appear from your statements that the people of Pontiac have no place to go to have a voice in their county government," she said. "If they can't come to you for help, where can they go?"

Replying, Rowston said, "They can appeal personally to their supervisors."

* * *

Mrs. Roberts is on the board of directors of the clinic. Also in the audience was F. Robert Wollaeger, clinic director.

The representatives said they will renew their bid for help in two weeks.

JFK Hits Short Work Week

versy over the education bill is provoking religious prejudice.

Kennedy replied that he hopes it will not do so.

The reporter had spoken of what he called the inflexible stand of some Roman Catholic Church officials in seeking federal aid for parochial schools.

* * *

Kennedy said both Catholics and Protestants are entitled to their view and have a right to express them.

The President said it is quite appropriate that these groups should "not change their view because of the religion of the occupant of the White House."

MENTIONS STATE PLANT

Kennedy said he hopes an arrangement can be worked out so that a surplus Air Force metal extrusion plant at Adrian, Mich., can be retained to provide employment.

The President said he hoped he would get a decision this week from John L. Moore, general services administrator, on a satisfactory transfer.

Kennedy predicted that Congress will act favorably on his New Frontier program despite what he called "important and powerful and well-organized" opposition.

* * *

A reporter told Kennedy that the President's legislative program seemed to be "in considerable trouble in Congress."

The newsman asked what steps the President plans to translate what appears to be favorable public opinion into congressional support.

Kennedy replied he thinks the people are interested in the passage of minimum wage, school, medical care for the aged, highway and farm legislation.

Kennedy drew a laugh from reporters when he said that personally he would prefer a shorter work week, but he was opposed to curtailing work time in industry.

Parke, Davis Plans $48-Million in Expansion

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co., a Detroit-based pharmaceutical manufacturer, announced today it plans to spend $48 million over the next five years in a capital expansion program.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Twp. to Name New Attorney March 27

BIRMINGHAM — A successor to A. Floyd Blakeslee, who resigned as Bloomfield Township attorney after 36 years, will be named in two weeks.

Supervisor Arno Hulet said today that the Township Board of Trustees is presently considering a successor but it will be March 27 before the appointment is confirmed.

Blakeslee, of 382 W. Iroquois Rd., Pontiac, submitted his letter of resignation to the Township Board Monday.

He stated that he wanted to devote more time to his own law firm, Blakeslee and Roeser, and have more time for travel.

The attorney was legal counsel for West Bloomfield Township for many years but resigned from that position in December.

Bloomfield Township Trustees have approved a $15,000 paving program for Long Lake Shore Drive. The cost of the project will be assessed some 36 property owners benefiting from the improvement.

The Birmingham City Commission has approved a 30-year contract with the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

The contract, which will give Birmingham rubbish disposal facilities for the next three decades, is subject, however, to the approval of 12 communities participating in the program.

To date, only Birmingham and Troy have signed the long-term pact.

The authority's incinerator is in Madison Heights.

Mysterious Woman Found Dead in Car

DETROIT (UPI) — A mysterious "woman in red" was found dead in an automobile on Detroit's West Side early today, apparently beaten to death.

* * *

The woman was identified through fingerprints as Gladys Duck, 35. Police said she had a minor record for drunkenness and soliciting.

An autopsy showed she died around midnight from a ruptured spleen. Police said she was probably beaten to death, though they admitted that she could have suffered the injury in a fall.

Burglar Alarm Catches Bank Red-Faced

Customers and bank employes were surprised and baffled when the officers walked through the front door with guns drawn. No one in the bank branch knew anything was amiss.

The trouble was found to be in the lines and was quickly repaired.

Michigan and New York to Benefit

Senate Sees Jobless Pay Bill Unfair

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's key antirecession proposal to extend unemployment benefits faced a new hurdle today in the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee met behind closed doors for the second straight day to work out a final version, but threats of a delay were raised by a dispute over financing the $1 billion program.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., declined to predict when the committee would complete action on the House-passed measure.

He expressed concern that it might lead to "federalizing the whole unemployment compensation system," which the individual states now administer.

Fresh data supplied to the committee by Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg showed that 40 states would pay more into the program than they would receive from the federal government in extra jobless pay benefits.

New York state would get back $59.1 million more than it paid into the program, and Michigan would receive $46.4 million more than it contributed.

These two states were the largest beneficiaries among nine states of high long-term unemployment which would get back more than they paid in.

The nation's job picture grew worse in February but there are some signs that the recession may have hit bottom, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

The department reported a drop of $75,000 in the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls last month, about triple the usual decline.

The nonfarm job total fell to 51,320,000 with 70 per cent of the decrease in the hard-hit steel, auto and machinery industries.

* * *

Secretary Goldberg announced last Tuesday that total unemployment climbed 320,000 in February to 5,705,000, a postwar high. He said employment rose 203,000 to 64,655,000, a peak for any February.

Will Finch Be a 2nd Chessman

Endless Case Looms as Doctor Battles to Avoid Gas Chamber

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Will Dr. R. Bernard Finch become the Caryl Chessman of the 1960's as a courtroom "cause celebre"?

Will his fight to avoid the gas chamber continue endlessly?

That possibility loomed today as the surgeon's third murder trial with Carole Tregoff approached its verdict—which probably will come next week.

Unlike Chessman, a convicted rapist who was executed last year after more than a decade of legal delays, Finch, 43, has not yet been found guilty of a crime.

* * *

But like the "red light bandit," the surgeon has become fascinated by the legal aspects of his case and daily takes copious notes which he submits to his lawyer.

And a warning of an endless case came Tuesday from Deputy District Atty. Joseph Powers, who said he would prosecute Finch a "dozen more times" if necessary to get a conviction.

This backed up a statement by coprosecutor Clifford Crail Monday that he would ask for another trial if the jury again reaches no verdict.

Brazil Strengthening Ties With Africans

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—President Janio Quadros is extending a hand of friendship to Africa.

* * *

Brazil has millions of citizens with African blood ties and geographically is closer to the dark continent than any nation in this hemisphere. It is less than 2,000 miles from Brazil's northeastern bulge to the westernmost edge of Africa.

* * *

In line with his announced intention of strengthening ties with Africa's nations, Quandros has ordered Foreign Minister Afonso Arinos to attend independence ceremonies in Senegal April 3-4. He also ordered Arinos to enter into talks with Senegal leaders for setting up a Brazilian embassy in Dakar.

* * *

Quadros also has set up a program of scholarships to African students. Twenty will come this year, 40 next until the quota reaches 100 by 1965.

Ike Still Fishing in Pacific Off Baja California

LA PAZ, Baja California, Mexico (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower is fishing to his heart's delight in this secluded sports-fishing resort.

* * *

Eisenhower and his party who arrived here Saturday had lunch Tuesday with Baja California Gov. Bonifacio Salinas Leal and then got in some more fishing from a chartered boat inside the bay of La Paz.

* * *

Like his golfing scores, the former president's catch was not being made public.

MIGHTY DUCK — Dwarfing the troops pouring from it (top) is a huge amphibious truck-duck, recently delivered to the Army. The craft is 62 feet long and is the first of six on order. The vessel cost $300,000, holds 100 tons of men and supplies and each wheel is powered by a 200-horsepower diesel engine.

Didn't Neglect Child, Parents Tell Court

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Kensinger, accused of making a virtual prisoner of their daughter for seven years, pleaded innocent Tuesday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and child neglect.

* * *

Municipal Judge James Scoppettone set next Tuesday for preliminary hearing on the delinquency charge and continued the child neglect count for setting of jury trial.

* * *

The charges resulted from a statement to police by their daughter Joyce Elaine, 13, that she was locked in her bedroom for seven years—except during school hours.

Goldberg Heads for Minnesota Miner Confabs

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg carried his unemployment inspection tour into Minnesota today for talks with state officials and money pinched miners.

* * *

Goldberg planned to follow up his swing through iron mining country north of Duluth by conferring with Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., and officials here before his return to Washington tonight.

* * *

He left behind him in Wisconsin a charge that the Eisenhower administration swept economic problems "under the rug" and a bitter employers' group who said the secretary ignored them.

RED PICK — The American Communist party Monday announced the election of Elizabeth Curley Flynn as national chairman. She succeeds the late Eugene Dennis.

Senate Split Over Signs of the Times

LANSING (AP) — Tempers cooled and blood pressures fell back to normal in the Senate today after one of the lengthiest arguments of the session was staged over the issue of some orange-and-black signs.

The lawmakers engaged in a quarrel for nearly an hour Tuesday on the question of whether the dignity of the upper chamber was being violated by the signs plastered on several desks.

Most of the stickers — designed originally for automobile bumpers — urged "Vote no on con-con" (constitutional convention). A couple called for a "yes" vote on the April 3 ballot proposal.

The dispute started when Sen. Patrick J. Doyle, D-Dearborn, protested that the signs on the desks were making a billboard out of the Senate.

"Just as billboards along highways mar the beauty of the state," he said, "so do these signs mar the dignity and decor of the Senate. I move that the sergeant-at-arms remove the signs."

After some bantering discussion and a consultatin of the rule books, Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski ordered that the signs be removed.

This touched off the fireworks.

Says He Got Cable From Pope: 'Pack'

Kennedy's Scalpel-Sharp Wit Has Gridiron Club in Stitches

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—George (Presidents Who Have Known Me) Allen won national renown as a pal of presidents, because Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower liked to have George around to tell them funny stories.

President John F. Kennedy tells his own jokes, and frequently makes himself the butt of them. The vigorous young prexy is delighting this hard-to-impress town by the sparkle of his wit and the deftness of his phraseology.

The Gridiron Club was founded by fifty Washington newsmen, who many years ago decided that they needed an outlet for lampooning the officials they daily covered in their work.

Recently, the members of the exclusive society have become so gentle with the needle that Kennedy, as guest of honor the other evening, apparently decided to spoof himself, to make up for their timidity.

★ ★ ★

The speech of the President is delivered off-the-record to an all-male audience, but a member of Kennedy's Cabinet was so proud of his boss' performance that he has put it on the record by repeating the gags all over town.

To the top editors, publishers and correspondents of the nation, Kennedy said in so many words: You all remember the famous joke about Al Smith, who after losing his bid for the presidency supposedly sent the Pope a one-word cable: "Unpack."

Well, after my stand against federal aid to parochial schools last week, I received a one-word cable from the Pope: "Pack."

The unexpected sally brought down the house, as did his lively ribbing of his brother Bobby, who at 35 is the youngest attorney general in history.

GOOD-HUMORED CLAN

JFK referred to the well-publicized visit of his 7-year-old nephew, Robert Jr., to deliver a salamander. Then, with a broad grin, he claimed the youngster hit him for a job and "I had to tell him that the post of attorney general was already filled."

The vigorous, sports-loving Kennedys and their clan spirit has inspired a freshet of jokes that are wholesome and good-humored, in contrast to the type that some previous administrations have prompted.

Shortly before the outbreak of World War II, the editor of a weekly news magazine reported in print that he had had to rescind instructions given regional reporters to collect FDR jokes.

★ ★ ★

The editor said Roosevelt jokes were as numerous as tin-lizzy jokes had once been; but whereas the stories about Model-T Fords had been affectionate and teasing, the FDR ones were "virulent and off-color."

The Kennedy-inspired jokes for the most part resemble the Model-T type. Some naturally involve religion, since JFK is the first Catholic President to serve in the White House, but the ribbing is of a gentle, inoffensive nature.

Kennedy's new frontiersmen laugh and relax easily. One of the jokes the White House is currently chuckling about goes like this; Jack Kennedy has decided to add a fifty-first state, by dividing his own State of Massachusetts into two parts: High Mass and Low Mass.

★ ★ ★

Another is that JFK is about to be excommunicated, because a bishop had caught him drinking Manischewitz wine out of a Mason jar.

President Kennedy topped them all, however, when he told Gridironers he had received a request from G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams to extend his State Department tour of Africa another two weeks.

JFK said he cabled back to Soapy: "Come home. Africa for the Africans."

SMOLDERING RUINS — A B52 jet bomber from Mather Air Force crashed Tuesday in a barley field 3 miles east of Meridan, Calif. — this is all that's left. All eight crewmen parachuted to safety. It is reported that the plane was carrying an unarmed nuclear weapon.

Probably Won't Expel S. Africa

But Commonwealth Is Said to Be Drafting a Formal Condemnation

LONDON (UPI)—South Africa will remain a member of the British Commonwealth despite a bitter dispute over that nation's total segregation policies, authoritative sources said today.

The sources said a compromise has been worked out under which the Commonwealth prime ministers meeting here will formally condemn South Africa's racial policies but permit it to remain in the loosely-knit association.

★ ★ ★

South African Prime Minister Dr. Hendrix Verwoerd was reported at first to oppose acceptance of such a condemnation but the sources indicated he has changed his mind and will accept a compromise.

★ ★ ★

The 11 commonwealth prime ministers discussed South Africa for an hour today.

They issued no formal announcement but it was understood they have appointed a team of experts to draft the final compromise solution for formal action later.

Yes, Compact Autos Decrease Gas Tax Take

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you wonder whether compact cars are costing the government much gasoline tax money, the answer is yes.

Federal highway chief Rex M. Whitton told a House committee Tuesday that by 1972, the net effect will be a loss of 6 to 8 per cent in taxes each year.

Six Openings Left for Cake Instruction

Six openings remain in one of Waterford Township's popular recreational activities — cake decorating — according to Audry Hines, instructor.

★ ★ ★

Fourteen women have enrolled thus far, to learn the fine art of making delicious cakes look beautiful. Three categories — fall flowers, Christmas and Halloween decorations — will be featured in the classes.

★ ★ ★

Those interested have been asked to attend the first class lesson from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road. A $5 fee will be charged for the self-supporting activity, sponsored by the recreation department.

Eunice Kennedy Doing Well After Surgery

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Eunice Shriver of Chicago, was reported doing well Tuesday night following an appendectomy in St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Her surgeon, Dr. Roy J. Heffernan of Brookline, said the president's 38-year-old sister "came through it well. She was in the operating room about an hour. I expect she will remain in the hospital about a week."

Italian College Named Secretary of Consistory

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII Tuesday named Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, an Italian prelate, secretary of the Vatican Consistorial Congregation.

The 68-year-old Cardinal succeeds Marcello Cardinal Mimmi, another Italian cardinal, who died March 6.

Multi-Lake Plans Special Open House

By DON VOGEL
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

National Wildlife Week will be observed by the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association with an open house on March 24.

★ ★ ★

The dates for the special week, designated by the National Wildlife Federation, are March 19-25.

Al Massini, manager of the Proud Lake recreation area, will show a movie and discuss multiple uses of recreation areas as a highlight of the open house program.

Exhibits and displays at the club house will be built around the theme of Wildlife Week, "Multiple Use—Balanced Conservation Planning for the Future." The program is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

COON TRIAL SUNDAY

The annual Pioneer Coon Club field trial will be Sunday in the Highland recreation area.

★ ★ ★

About 25 entries, many from several states, are expected for the field event which gets under way at 10 a.m. at the Oakland County Beagle Club grounds on Duck Lake Road.

Harold Smith of Pontiac will have his world champion coon dog, Sparky, a Walker hound, in the trial.

MORE SEASONS CLOSE

Anyone catching a northern pike, musky or walleye after today had better have it well hidden if a game warden appears on the scene. The season on these fish ends today and will not reopen until April 30.

The closing affects all inland lakes and streams except experimental waters and a portion of the Muskegon River.

RECORD SAILFISH

Al Crawford, Pontiac Press printer, recently set a season record for sailfish taken in Florida waters.

The fish weighed 53¾ pounds and was 7 feet 4 inches long. Crawford took the sail on 15-pound test line while fishing out of Boynton Beach. He was using spinning equipment.

"It took me 30 minutes to land the fish," said Crawford. "One time it took out 200 yards of line before I could turn it."

MIGRATION STARTS

Birds and waterfowl are beginning to make their yearly trek north.

Large flocks of blackbirds, many of them red wings, have been seen in Oakland County. Each day brings more robins on the scene.

★ ★ ★

Geese are winging toward their Hudson Bay breeding grounds. Many stop in Michigan and raise their families. Others continue north as the weather warms.

The spring migration of geese has arrived at Jack Miner's sanctuary near Kingsville, Ont. Whistling swans will be there soon. Many were reported resting in small lakes along the Ohio turnpike last weekend.

ILLEGAL HUNT

There are always people who attempt to spoil things for others.

★ ★ ★

A flight of Canada geese was spending an afternoon on Cemetery Lake recently when two young men showed up.

Witnesses said the men stopped the car they were riding in at the bridge on White Lake Road between Deer and Cemetery Lakes. A window was rolled down, a small bore rifle appeared, and a shot rang out.

The geese and violators both fled, with one goose acting as if it had been hit in the body. Unfortunately, the witnesses were not close enough to get the license number of the car.

Baylor's 40 Points Lead Los Angeles Past Pistons

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor scored 40 points Tuesday night and led Los Angeles to a 120-102 victory over Detroit in the first game of the Western Division National Basketball Association playoffs.

The same teams meet again Wednesday night in the second game of the best-of-five series.

A crowd of only 3,549 saw the Lakers lead from the outset and hold a 59-53 halftime edge. It was the tenth Laker win in 14 games against the Piston this season.

Although the Lakers held the edge in every period, they actually wrapped the game in the third quarter, outscoring Detroit 34-23.

It was a hotly contested battle. Detroit assistant coach Earl Lloyd and Laker Center Jim Krebs were ejected from the game in the second half. Both argued too loud and long over foul calls.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus also was pinned with a technical but stayed on the bench.

Baylor was instrumental on both backboards as well as leading all scorers. Teammates Rudy LaRusso with 21 and Jerry West with 17 helped the Los Angeles cause.

Gene Shue had 20 points for Detroit but was held to four points in the second half. Jackie Moreland got 17 for the Pistons.

In Tuesday's other NBA playoff opener, towering Wilt Chamberlain scored 46 points in a losing cause as the Philadelphia Warriors bowed to the hustling Syracuse Nationals, 115-107, in Eastern Division action at Philadelphia.

With the score deadlocked at 86-86 in the 4th quarter, Syracuse sewed up the decision by scoring nine straight points. Larry Costello and Hal Greer paced the Nats with 28 and 25 points, respectively.

Birmingham Booster Team Fifth

Last Chance for ABC Title

DETROIT (AP)—The Budweisers get their last chance to win an American Bowling Congress tournament title in a two-day Classic division stand opening tonight.

The St. Louis team, labeled by most experts as the greatest tenpin unit ever assembled, will make a seventh attempt to win the only major championship which has eluded it since its organization in 1954. The Buds' sponsor is dropping them after this season.

In six previous ABC appearances the Buds averaged 1008 per team game, finishing 3rd in 1959 with 3185, 4th in 1958 with 3198 and 6th in 1957 with 3077.

Members of the team — Don Carter, Dick Weber, Ray Bluth, Tom Hennessey and Bill Lillard — have won every major individual and doubles title.

Horace Walker, Ardmore, Pa., Tuesday took first place in the Classic singles with 663, replacing Whitey Harris f St. Louis one day after his 650 set. Walker, 46-year-old bowling pro shop operator, rolled games of 202, 225 and 236.

★ ★ ★

Ed Page and Ervin Bridges, Springfield, Ill., combined for 1277 and first place in the regular doubles. Bridges, 35, a filling station operator, set the pace with 650.

Pasquale's Pizzeria of Lake Orion rolled 2557 and Birmingham's Oven King Cookies 2471 last night. The latter team finished fifth on its booster squad. Al Pietz hit 577 and Marcus Bowers 535 to spark Pasquale's. Dan DeLong rolled 542 and Bob Burton Sr. 517 heading Oven King. Members of both teams were scheduled in doubles and singles today.

Charles Ahnen of Waterford High School had a 491 handicap score on the final squad of the American Junior Bowling Congress part of the tourney.

Oxford Village Manager Named —Sworn In at Council Meeting

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

OXFORD—Robert W. Smalley, 37, former manager of the downriver city of Riverview, was appointed village manager of Oxford and sworn in at last night's council meeting.

He succeeds Ralph Precious who resigned Jan. 21 to become city manager of St. Johns near Lansing.

Besides managing, Smalley will be village assessor, street administrator and a member of the planning commission. His salary is $6,500 a year.

The new Oxford manager worked up through the ranks in Riverview, having been the city assessor, deputy clerk, treasurer and assistant manager before being named manager. He held that position for two years.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

He belonged to the Lions Club and was on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce there. He also was on the board of the Wyandotte branch of United Community Services.

A native of River Rouge, Smalley attended the University of Detroit and the University of Illinois. He is an Army veteran of World War II and an amateur radio operator.

Married and the father of five children, Leonard 10, Robert 8, Mary 6, James 4 and Jill 2, he plans to move his family to Oxford as soon as he finds a home.

The council had narrowed the field of 14 applicants to six before picking Smalley for the manager's job.

Clerk Mrs. Patricia Tyrrell administered the oath of office last night.

Letters of resignation from two members of the board of review, Edward J. Bossardet Jr. and Marvin C. Stevens, were read and action was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The council also learned that the State Department of Health has approved in principal the location of sewage treatment facilities in the Orion-Oxford area. Now the Oakland County Department of Public Works will study the exact location, size and slope of the trunk sewers and other factors entering into the project.

An estimate of cost should be completed in about 30 to 45 days, according to Donald L. Ringler, deputy DPW director.

Upon completion of the trunk sewer study, another joint meeting of the Oxford Township Board, Oxford Village Council, Lake Orion Council and Orion Township Board will be called.

Representatives of the DPW and Johnson and Anderson, Inc., consulting engineers, will be present to answer questions and discuss future procedures.

According to initial plans, the sewage treatment plant will be constructed south of Lake Orion to prevent sewage or plant outflow from entering the lakes within the corporate limits of the village.

★ ★ ★

Last summer Lake Orion and Oxford officials first agreed on the need for sanitary sewage disposal facilities for the two communities before the Clinton River Sewage Disposal System is developed.

Because the entire Clinton River system, which would serve 13 municipalities in northeast Oakland County, is a long-range project, Ringler had advised the construction of interim plants to serve the municipalities for 10 years.

During or at the end of that time the proposed plant and lines could be connected with the larger system, he said.

Aids U.S.-Foreign Relations

Retired Teacher Boosts Magazines as Envoys

By JIM LONG

WALLED LAKE — An already successful plan to promote good will between the U.S. and foreign nations is gaining momentum here through the efforts of a retired school teacher.

Enthusiastically propagating the "Magazines for Friendship" program with letters and talks is Mrs. Paul Shankin of 2251 Shankin Drive.

The magazine program was founded 14 years ago by Occidental College Prof. Albert Croissant to create better understanding between free countries.

Since then the program has reached such proportions that individuals and groups have taken up the idea to spread information about the U.S., its people and their habits through magazines.

★ ★ ★

The plan is an easy one, according to Mrs. Shankin, a former teacher at Cooley High School in Detroit. All that is needed is a magazine, a wrapper and stamps.

CARRY MESSAGE

"Magazines are the most inexpensive ambassadors of good will that I know," said Mrs. Shankin. "With words and pictures they can tell our friends abroad how we live."

"And language doesn't seem a barrier since most persons in foreign countries receiving the magazines are being taught English," she said.

She explained that each magazine sent overseas bears a sticker with the name of the sender and a short message of good will. In many cases the sender winds up with a pen pal.

Detailed information about the program and where foreign addresses can be obtained will be sent by Mrs. Shankin to civic or church groups interested in the program which send her a large self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Shankin said she decided to promote the magazine program in the area after reading about its success in the Business and Professional Women's Club magazine.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Shankin is international relations chairman of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Women's Club. All 20 members of the club have taken an active interest in the "Magazines for Friendship" idea.

In order for the club to raise funds for postage, a two-hour film of a tour around the world taken by Mr. and Mrs. Shankin in 1958 will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Walled Lake Methodist Church.

Label of Judge on April Ballot Denied Perinoff

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem Tuesday denied a writ of mandamus which would have ordered the Southfield Election Commission to put the ballot designation "municipal judge" under the name of Alexander C. Perinoff on the April 3 ballots.

Perinoff filed suit for the writ, claiming he had just as much right as Municipal Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr. for the designation. Perinoff is an associate municipal judge in Southfield.

Judge Ziem ruled the city can't have two incumbents running for one office — Reid's. Perinoff is running for the municipal judgeship next month.

Victim of Beating Still Lies in Coma

Still in a deep coma three days after being brutally beaten with a chair, 47-year-old Floyd Rowley of Independence Township remained on the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's detectives are uncertain as to who beat Rowley on the head and face with a wooden kitchen chair early Sunday morning in his home at 7035 Andersonville Road.

When deputies arrived at the scene they found Rowley and 22-year-old Robert Young of 4174 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township, stretched out on the floor both unconscious. Young was revived but Rowley never has regained consciousness.

Young has refused to say what happened, according to the detectives. He was being held at the county jail today for investigation of felonious assault. He could possibly be booked for murder if Rowley succumbs to his injuries.

Deputies were summoned by Mrs. Young who said she did not see any struggle between the two men who had been drinking together earlier.

Pontiac General Pleased With Intern Program

Pontiac General Hospital officials today announced they were pleased with the results of the 1961 National Intern Matching Program.

★ ★ ★

Although the hospital sought 17 interns and was provided only with nine, more than 50 per cent of the goal was a better record than usual and "better than most hospitals in Michigan and throughout the country," said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

★ ★ ★

Many hospitals iin the area were provided only with 25 per cent of their goals, he observed.

★ ★ ★

The matching plan for the internship of graduating doctors is operated by the American Hospital Association, American Medical Association and several other groups.

★ ★ ★

A 10th intern has signed up outside of the matching plan, said Euler.

Holdup Victim Mistakes Trio

Robbery Suspects Are Freed

Three young men, who could have spent the rest of their lives in prison because a Southfield store owner was "positive" they robbed her of $53, were free today.

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem signed an order today dismissing armed robbery charges against Ernest Stocker Jr., 33, 34725 Fendt St., Farmington, Norman C. Cogan, 22 23863 Berg Road, Southfield, and James McCallion, 20, of Detroit.

They had been spotted Feb. 28 standing in line for their new automobile license tabs at the Northland Shopping Center by Mrs. Bertha Robert, owner along with her husband Edmund of a grocery store at 27000 Northwestern Highway.

She was sure they were the men who robbed the store Jan. 27 and struck her husband over the head with a 15-inch iron bar.

But she was wrong.

REVERSE PROCEDURE

In what police call a "reverse showup," where the witnesses are put in a line-up instead of the suspects, held at Southfield last night, a 22-year-old Detroit welder, Leonard Stephens, 12650 Hartwell St., picked out — "without hesitation" — Mrs. Robert as the woman he and three other Detroit men robbed Jan. 27, according to Detective David J. Bourgeois of the Southfield Police.

At the March 3 preliminary examination before Southfield Municipal Court Judge Clarence A. Reid Jr. Mrs. Robert testified "I am positive" Stocker, Cogan and McCallion robbed her and assaulted her husband.

She said several times under questioning by attorneys she was "sure" they were the holdup men.

"Everything about this alleged offense centers on the ability to remember," said defense attorney James P. Lawson at the examination. He was right. It was proven there was such a thing as mistaken identity.

Bourgeois said Stephens, who'll be arraigned on an armed robbery charge before Judge Ziem Monday, closely resembles McCallion as far as facial features. Mrs. Robert identified McCallion in Judge Reid's court as the one holding the gun.

The other three men are being held by Detroit police for a series of robberies there, Bourgeois said. Southfield police came across them after interrogation by Detroit officers revealed that several of the "jobs" were in Southfield — one at 27000 Northwestern Highway.

A fourth original suspect had been released earlier for lack of evidence, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long said.

Judge Ziem, a former prosecutor, commended Long and police officers for carrying out one of the principal functions of American courts today — protection of the innocent.

Oakland Police Officers Attending Traffic Course

Fifteen Oakland County police officers are attending a traffic law enforcement course on the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

Michigan State University's School of Police Administration, Continuing Education Service and Highway Traffic Safety Center are jointly conducting the program for policemen from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

Twenty-five officers, representing 20 different departments, are registered.

Attending from the Pontiac Police Department is Patrolman Wilbur Carrier, while the representative of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department is Deputy Henry Hansen.

Other Oakland officers and their departments are: Patrolman James Cochran, Birmingham; Patrolman Henry Juntunen, Bloomfield Hills; Patrolman John Butters, Farmington; Patrolman William A. Lawler, Huntington Woods; and Patrolmen John Eidt, Maurice Foltz, Chester Hartline, and Donald Perliski, Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

Also attending from the county are: Patrolman Harold Dehnke, Pleasant Ridge; Patrolmen Gerald Gliwa, John Pelto and Victor Bolf, Royal Oak; and Patrolman Ronald Freeman, Waterford Township.

Gordon H. Sheehe, director of MSU's Highway Traffic Safety Center, told the officers today that through good traffic enforcement police protect the lives of their own townsfolk, neighbors and members of their own families.

And violators, regardless of their esteem in the community, should expect not only probability of arrest but certainty of penalty when apprehended, Sheehe said.

Sheehe pointed out that Oakland with an increase of 32 deaths, and Wayne, with an increase of 27, accounted for about half of Michigan's total increase in traffic fatalities in 1960 as compared with 1959.

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, MSUO continuing education director, told the officers such training courses are provided to answer one of today's great needs — keeping up with the "geometrically expanding" problems of today.

MUST MODERNIZE

"Our accelerated technology has made obsolete many of our old methods," Eklund said, "like using horse-and-buggy techniques in a jet age. By such courses we modernize these techniques."

★ ★ ★

Sponsoring the five-day course are the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, Michigan State Police, Michigan Sheriffs Association, Michigan Department of Public Instruction, Michigan Municipal League and MSUO.

★ ★ ★

Classes are meeting Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and next. The final class will be on Tuesday, March 28.

★ ★ ★

The course is designed to give both the broad philosophy and technical skills for improving traffic law enforcement to officers selected by their own departments.

Already Jammed, Pontiac General Hits New Peak

The high occupancy rate at Pontiac General Hospital last week hit a new peak for the year.

★ ★ ★

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported that the rate was slightly over 100 per cent, meaning that all normal bed spaces were filled and some hallway beds were in use.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night the 12-bed intensive care unit was filled to capacity for the first time since it was opened a year ago.

Occupancy has been over 95 per cent at the hospital since the first of the year.

Sets Target Date for 12-Town Drain

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry has done something he hasn't dared to do for some time. He's set the date construction is expected to start on the 12-town storm drain.

Yesterday Barry said he was looking toward Sept. 1 to begin work on the huge $47-million drain to serve southern Oakland County. It has been delayed for years due to litigation.

Barry issued the date estimate after the Madison Heights City Council agreed Monday night to accept Barry's compromise offer, which would chop the city's original apportionment for the drain in half, if the other 13 participating communities agree also in writing to the compromise.

Barry has agreed to knock out 552 acres out of the city's drainage district to be served. This would slice its $2.8-million assessment to around $1.1 million, Barry said.

City councilmen said if the other communities would submit resolutions agreeing with the compromise within 60 days that it would drop its scheduled appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court of a State Supreme Court ruling against the city.

The resolutions, Barry said, would "be irrevocable bonds outlining terms of apportionment and territory from which no appeal will be necessary."

He said he expected most of the cities, which had been waiting impatiently for Madison Heights to clear its law entaglements so the drain could be built, to hurry delivery of the resolutions within about two weeks time.

Policeman Giving Stork Real Run for His Money

Everything happens to Richard (Moose) Beckman, Waterford Township patrolman, who for the second time in less than a year has helped a distraught mother deliver her baby.

At 3:30 a.m. today a frantic call came into the township police station from William Velzy, of 6208 Adams Drive, that his wife was in the process of having a baby.

Beckman, on regular duty, jumped into a waiting patrol car and headed for the Velzy home. On the way, the lights on his car failed, and he slid into a ditch at Wilson and Airport roads.

Another patrolman, Raymond Wilhelm, who had heard the same broadcast, and was also answering the call, came upon the 200-pound 6-foot-4 Beckman, and helped him get the car out of the ditch.

★ ★ ★

The two sped to the Velzy home and found Mrs. Velzy in the bathroom giving birth to her baby. The patrolmen assisted in the delivery, and when Leonard Coates arrived with his ambulance, he found big "Moose" sitting on the floor holding an 8-pound baby boy in a warm towel.

The mother and baby were rushed to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital where both are doing fine.

The first week that Beckman was on the township police force, he had the same type of experience, and was left in the position of holding the new baby until medical help arrived.

"A few more of these calls and I'll be real use to this type of thing," Beckman said.

HAVANA (AP)—The Fidel Castro regime Tuesday night opened an exhibition of American-made arms and ammunition it claims the United States air-dropped for antigovernment insurgents in the Escambray Mountains.

★ ★ ★

The large display, guarded by armed militiamen, attracted a big turnout. Viewers were lined up three abreast for a distance of two blocks from the hall.

★ ★ ★

"It was felt that this 1961 centennial year would be an excellent time to encourage home improvements and modernization," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and committee chairman.
