Blizzard Threatens Part of State

B-R-R, IT'S COLD — Icicles hanging from the Charles Buhler home, 1425 Cedar Bend Drive, Bloomfield Hills, typify the frigid conditions throughout the area. Today's reading of 0 is a new all-time record low for this date in Pontiac.

Scholle Invites Romney to Talk at Conference

Next Governor Hopes to Accept for February Labor Meeting

LANSING (AP)—Gov.-elect George Romney, who was opposed during the election campaign by most Michigan labor leaders, has been invited to speak at the biennial legislative conference of the state AFL-CIO.

A spokesman for Romney said that if it is possible for the new governor to attend, "he will make every effort to be there."

Romney was invited to speak Feb. 15 at the opening luncheon meeting of the two-day conference. The invitation was extended in a letter by August Scholle, president of the labor organization.

Scholle said the AFL-CIO has a tradition of asking the governor of the state to address the conference.

Romney, who takes office Jan. 1, will be the first Republican to occupy the governor's chair in Michigan in 14 years.

In his letter, Scholle pointed out that speakers at the legislative conferences customarily are requested to place special emphasis on the topics under discussion by the various panels.

Scholle said the topics to be discussed at the conference ranged from unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation to civil rights and problems of the aged.

Scholle said, however, that the labor organization was not suggesting limitations on Romney's address.

The labor leader said the invitation to Romney was in keeping with what he said was an AFL-CIO custom of asking chief spokesmen for both major political parties to appear before the state labor organization's conventions, conferences, institutes and other functions.

During the campaign, Romney was refused permission to speak at some labor meetings, including Labor Day observances in Detroit.

Warning Covers Western Region

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Grand Rapids today issued a severe blizzard warning for all of western lower Michigan, predicting drifting and gusty winds up to 35 miles an hour would "add to an already critical situation" in many areas.

Whether the winds, ranging southwesterly at 15 to 35 miles an hour, will be severe enough for that part of the state to be declared a disaster area remains in the hands of civil defense officials.

Weather men urged rural schools to dismiss students at noon and suggested cancellation of all public meetings.

The weather bureau warning said snow of two to four inches or more will be added to the heavy accumulation already on the ground there today, tonight and tomorrow.

Frigid temperatures continue to plague the entire state with snow predicted through tomorrow in most areas.

The temperature plunged to zero this morning in Pontiac, the lowest reading for this date in the 90 years such records have been maintained.

With the record reading came snow that began falling about 8:30 a.m. and accumulated to over an inch by early this afternoon.

More of the same is forecast until this evening. The snow will turn to flurries tonight and tomorrow.

A predicted warming trend with temperatures rising to 22 this afternoon seems to have been disrupted by fresh blasts of frigid Arctic air.

PELLSTON FOOLS US

An ironic twist to the state's weather picture is the turnabout traditional icebox city.

Pellston reported the warmest overnight temperature in Michigan with a reading of 11 above zero.

Readings of zero were recorded in Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and Ypsilanti while the thermometer stood at 1 above in Detroit early this morning.

★ ★

More snow fell during the night in the western and southeastern regions of the state which already were virtually isolated by the deluge of snow that began last Thursday.

At Holland schools were closed for the third consecutive day, a record for that Ottawa County city.

WHERE TO DUMP IT!

In South Haven, Muskegon, Ludington, Benton Harbor and other communities in the area, officials were hard-pressed to

Icy Air Sends Florida Reeling

Citrus Industry Badly Hurt by Subzero Blast

By United Press International

One of the greatest cold waves on record dealt a crippling blow to Florida's citrus, vegetable and tourist industries today and froze the southland with temperatures far below zero.

★ ★ ★

The death count from more than a week of arctic blasts and driving snows in the nation's eastern half soared past 130.

Subzero temperatures ranged northward to the Great Lakes, although Chicago's low temperature of 6 above was warmer than the 1 above at Atlanta.

Relief in the north, such as it was, was shortlived.

A fresh tide of arctic air was pouring southward from Canada and blizzard-like snows swirled over Great Lakes states with depths of more than a foot.

The cold wave was the worst of the century in Florida and the most severe ever for December in many parts of Dixie. Records which had stood for decades tumbled along with the temperature.

The heart of the cold wave was centered smack over Kentucky and Tennessee, plunging the temperature to 18 below at Crossville, Tenn., and 17 below at London, Ky. The two Dixie communities ranked as the coldest in the nation.

NEW RECORDS

New cold records included 10 at Tallahassee, 18 at Tampa, 12 at Jacksonville, 35 at Miami, 7 below at Nashville, Tenn., 1 at Atlanta, 9 at Charleston, S.C., 1 below at Windsor Locks, Conn., 5 below at Pittsburgh, 9 at Savannah, Ga., 8 at Richmond, Va., 10 at Mobile, Ala., 5 at Montgomery, Ala., 8 at Jackson, Miss., 1 at Birmingham, Ala., 6 at Ashville, N.C., 10 at Wilmington, N.C. Georgia's unofficial low was 9 below zero at Blairsville.

The weather news was grim for Florida farmers. Most of the state's $500 million citrus crop was frozen by temperatures which fell as low as 10° above.

Both tender and hardy winter vegetable crops had been wiped out in all areas except along the lower east coast.

Final estimates of the damage depended on how long the cold lasts and how much of the frozen fruit can still be salvaged.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Florida Citrus Mutual, a producers organization, said a preliminary estimate indicated damage was greater than in the disastrous winter of 1957-58, when the citrus industry suffered a blow from which it took years to recover.

The chilly prediction was for another night of hard freeze and

Tito OKs Nikita's Policy in Handling Cuba Crisis

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia addressed the Soviet parliament today and approved Premier Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis. This seemed certain to increase Communist Chinese anger at the Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslav leader, expelled from the Communist fold as a "deviationist" by Stalin in 1948, told the Supreme Soviet that Kremlin and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

Tito's appearance followed an address by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in which, echoing Khrushchev's major policy speech of yesterday, he suggested the U.S.S.R. wanted to negotiate a settlement of the West Berlin issue. He said Moscow is setting no deadline.

The 1,443-member Supreme Soviet wound up its four-day session by applying its stamp of approval to a sweeping reorganization of the Soviet economic structure and accepting the U.S.S.R.'s 86.6 billion-ruble budget for the ensuing year.

The parliament approved Khrushchev's moves to consolidate economic controls in a newly created national economic council.

Avon Twp. School Children Give Toys to Less Fortunate

By ROGER SRIGLEY

Children in the care of three county agencies will have a brighter Christmas because of the students at Stiles Elementary School, Avon Township.

And the 400 children at Stiles School will find Christmas more enjoyable because they have shared.

Each child selected a toy that he liked especially well and offered it to a child not as fortunate as himself.

★ ★ ★

The unique aspect of the drive is that it is not sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association, the school or the room mothers.

It began last year as a result of one child's idea. That youngster was 3rd grader Kurtis Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kendall, 6415 Livernois Road, Troy.

The children in one of the second grade classes participated then. This year the event mushroomed to include the entire school.

★ ★ ★

"Many more items were turned in," Principal Maurice Pelton said, "but after a screening process, 200 were found to be in excellent condition and suitable for gifts."

He pointed out that the children decided to sacrifice one of their better toys, realizing the appreciation with which it would be received.

Dolls, books, puzzles and toys were to be taken today to the Oakland County Children's Home, Crippled Children's Society and the children's ward of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

"The children seem to enjoy it so much that I wouldn't be surprised if it became an annual event," Pelton said. "But that will be up to them."

Blast Delays Balloon Trip to Look at Stars

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. — An electrical explosion today delaped a scheduled manned-balloon launch to get a look at the stars from above the earth's atmosphere.

The electrical malfunction discharged all batteries on the gondola and opened the electrically controlled snaps on ballast bags, sending the fine steel dust to the ground, just a couple of hours before the scheduled 10:30 a.m. (Pontiac time) launch time.

Officials then aimed at a 12:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) launch time but said there was a possibility the launch might be postponed another day. It originally had been set for yesterday morning but bad weather intervened.

Project stargazer already had been plagued by bursting balloons, gondola problems and bad weather.

Bowlerama Deadline Extended to Sunday

Faced with a record number of entries for the final weekend of qualifying, the sixth annual Pontiac Press Bowlerama has extended its final deadline to Sunday.

Bowlers have until 10:45 a.m., 15 minutes before the first squad rolls at either 300 Bowl or North Hill Lanes, to enter. (See sports pages for details.)

Traffic Fatalities 1,463

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,463 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,466.

Child Facilities Shortage Will Last at Least Year

A shortage of facilities for children placed in the county's care will exist for at least another year.

It will take that long to raise funds for construction of additional facilities, according to David Levinson, chairman of the committee in control of county spending.

★ ★ ★

He made the statement following today's meeting of the County Board of Supervisors. The board met to study juvenile needs and to consider a recommended solution —a children's village.

The board unanimously adopted a resolution by its juvenile committee aimed at making the village a reality.

The committee has recommended initial construction of three cottages in the proposed village to meet an existing need for more space for the youngsters.

OK SEEKING GRANT

The board approved seeking a federal grant under the Public Works Acceleration Act for $323,000 next year when a new national appropriation of some $500 million is expected in Washington.

The grant, if approved by the federal government, would cover half the anticipated cost of the three cottages.

The remaining half could be allocated in the county's 1964 budget at the earliest, according to Levinson.

However, construction could begin next year with completion scheduled for early 1964, he said.

To overcome the present lack of funds for the project, juvenile

'You Can Have Skybolt,' Says U.S. to England

PARIS (AP) — The United States has offered to turn over the entire controversial Skybolt rocket program to Britain free of charge, qualified sources reported tonight.

They said the British have been told they can take over the highly complicated project either in the United States or in their own country if they feel they can successfully develop it.

The British government accepted the American suggestion for study along with other alternative proposals advanced as replacements for the 1,100-mile, air-launched rocket, according to a British informant.

Skybolt, a rocket designed to be fired from the swift-moving platform of American and British bombers, thus far has cost the United States nearly $500 million for development.

* * *

The British informant said it would be quite feasible for his country to take over the Skybolt program despite American warnings that failure might lie ahead.

EARLIER TODAY . . .

Earlier in the day, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to take the initiative in the Cold War and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously opimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

LET EAST WORRY

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured America's NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

He proposed wide-ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

* * *

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treaty to ban nuclear tests.

scattered frost in most areas. Farmers near Tampa reported their fields were solid sheets of ice.

* * *

Miami resort owners were no happier. The temperature stayed above freezing at Miami Beach, but it was a chilly 37 degrees and vacationers sported warm sweaters and topcoats instead of bikinis.

* * *

Resort officials said it could have been worse, since the big tourist rush at Miami does not begin until after the first of the year.

Facilities Shortage Will Last for Year

committee chairman Abraham Brickner said earlier he was going to recommend that the board approve a building authority and a tenth of a mill vote in April.

* * *

Instead, his committee recommended that the matter of financing be referred to Levinson's ways and means committee for study and recommendation.

STUDY COMPLETED

The study already had been completed "in an effort to immediately cope with the present emergency situation," Levinson said.

With no funds presently available, ways and means recommended seeking the federal grant next year, as the earliest possible solution.

The village, as planned would provide adequate facilities for 370 children, which is the number projected to be in the county's care by 1980.

* * *

The existing problem is that the county is housing 250 children at peak periods in quarters intended to handle only 180 youngsters.

A 17-year-old Detroit youth died early this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital from injuries suffered in a two-car crash in Avon Township Sunday.

Last Year To Date 90

Fatally injured was Jeffrey N. White, a driver of one of the cars that collided at Dequindre Road and South Boulevard.

Nine persons were injured in the accident, including five other teenagers in the car White was driving.

The driver of the other car, Walter Keller, 55, of 1960 Maham St., Hazel Park, told Sheriff deputies that White entered the intersection without stopping.

Police said that a stop sign that would have warned White had been knocked down earlier.

Keller suffered a fractured spine in the accident. His two passengers also were injured.

TWA Averts Grounding

NEW YORK (UPI)—A nationwide strike, scheduled to begin at noon today, was averted yesterday when Trans World Airlines and the Transport Workers Union (TWU) reached a tentative agreement on a new contract for 1,600 hostesses and pursers.

Kennedy Tries to End Adlai-Cuban Matter

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

* * *

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

* * *

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

* * *

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as urging appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

The President said "it is my judgment that this statement or interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on that. I never heard anyone characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did."

* * *

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters—"A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

The snow belt was heaviest in Berrien, Cass, Ottawa and Van Buren counties in the extreme southwest corner of the state.

In Paw Paw 48 inches was on the ground.

* * *

Also hit hard by falling snow was an area on the extreme southern border of the state running parallel to Indiana.

The central and eastern portions of the state, including the Pontiac area, experienced relatively little snow until today, although temperatures have remained near zero for several days.

A two-to-three-inch layer of ice has formed on parts of Lake St. Clair, slowing lake traffic. The Coast Guard Cutter Bramble went into action to break the cap.

No appreciable icing was reported on Lake Michigan, but icing has started in Marquette Harbor on Lake Michigan.

White House Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House completed its gay holiday decorations yesterday in a white Christmas setting of snow-covered grounds.

Tourists visiting the executive mansion found it decked with the traditional trees and boughs of greenery.

A special feature this year was a beautifully - lighted Nativity scene, flanked by two tall cedar trees at the east wall of the East Ballroom.

The religious tableau of 18th century Neapolitan figures was arranged and loaned to the White House by Mrs. Howell Howard of New York.

The formal north portico entrance to the White House is flanked with two tall green Christmas trees with hundreds of tiny white candles. Greens are entwined around the heavy chains that hold the portico lantern.

In the marble-columned north foyer is a delightful toy-trimmed Christmas tree done in the style of the "Nutcracker" ballet. When it first appeared in the White House last Christmastime, the unique tree, with its branches hung with miniature toys, musical instruments and Santas, was the delight of the President's little daughter, Caroline, now 5.

College enrollments are expected to rise by more than one million in the next five years, an increase of about 30 per cent.

Mariner 2 Is Ready for First Close Look at Venus

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner 2 now approaches its magic moment in space. The frail, bug-like explorer—seared by the nearness of the sun—is ready for a first close look at a neighbor planet, earth's cloud-veiled sister Venus.

At 3:10 p.m. (EST) Friday Mariner is to pass some 20,000 miles from Venus—give or take a few thousand miles.

For half an hour its instruments will measure radio and heat radiations from below the dense clouds that hide the planet from sight.

It is an historic moment in man's probing farther and farther into his solar system. Even now a Soviet space probe is pushing toward Mars for a closer look at that planet.

Mariner has weathered a series of troubles, but with one of its solar panels out of operation, it is about to complete its mission.

Mariner is already holder of all records for long distance radio communication through space. When it reports back from Venus, it will set a new record—radio signals from a man-made device 36 million miles away.

BEGAN AUG. 27

This all began on Aug. 27 when an Atlas-Agena B rocket complex boosted Mariner into space.

Its predecessor Mariner I had failed little more than a month before when the range safety officer destroyed it 290 seconds after blast-off because of an erratic flight path.

Mariner 2 got off as planned, but when the time came for it to fire its mid-course motor and get a better aim on Venus, the rocket ran into trouble.

Mariner's eyes seemed to get too dim a view of earth. Data radioed back indicated earth was appearing 1-150th as bright as it should have been. Scientists worried that Mariner's eyes were really seeing the moon.

CHECKED

They checked and checked again, finally decided, despite the dim-light report, that Mariner was locked on to the earth. On Sept. 4 they fired the mid-course motor.

On Sept. 8, the gyroscopes went on—indicating that Mariner had lost its view of the earth and sun. Then the gyros went off again. Space technicians chalked it up to mystery, nearly two million miles from earth.

On Sept. 29, the same thing happened. Again no good explanation. Suddenly the eyes of Mariner reported the earth was now as bright as it should have been. This too is unexplained, more than five million miles from earth.

On Oct. 31, almost 12 million miles from earth, Mariner radioed that its power production had dropped. Technicians guessed that convert sunlight into electricity, had developed a short circuit. They commanded Mariner to cease its electricity-consuming science experiments while they pondered the problem.

RESUME EXPERIMENTS

On Nov. 7, they decided to renew the experiments, since they seemed to be getting enough power from the remaining solar panel. Suddenly the short-solar panel began operating again, and technicians decided the short-circuit had corrected itself. The next day they turned the experiments on again.

On Nov. 15, a solar panel went out again. Mariner continues on one solar panel.

Toward the end of November, temperatures on the sunward face of the solar panels were up to 200 degrees Fahrenheit, with spacecraft temperatures 100 degrees on the shady side. By Friday, experts estimate temperatures on the solar panels will reach 250 degrees.

In spite of all the troubles, Mariner has already earned its keep. It has measured the climate of space on its 182-million mile journey.

PARTICLES MOVE

Instruments showed that there is a continual wind of sparse, but fast-moving, particles blowing from the sun. Most of the solar particles were traveling between 850,000 and 1,550,000 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

A few particles were found to be traveling nearly three million miles an hour.

The solar wind, a sort of thin gas by our earth-notion of things, is still dense enough and fast enough to push around the magnetic fields that exist between the planets.

Mariner's trip comes at a time when the sun's activity is low. There are times when the sun's activity rises and great solar hurricanes blow through space. Mariner found out something about this too.

It discovered that some of the magnetic fields in interplanetary space are so arranged that they will act as a fence to retard the solar hurricane winds.

This is all important to the men who will design the craft which one day will carry men between the planets.

Chasing Borneo Rebels

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—British troops pushed out from regained towns in Brunei and northwest Sarawak today chasing rebel bands seeking refuge in dense jungles and swamps.

Local British commanders were concerned that the rebels, whose strength still is unknown, would attempt to organize a long guerrilla war from swampland hideouts.

Several hundred tribesmen from the interior of Sarawak, responding to an ancient hostility to the rebel coastal dwellers, were reported prowling the Brunei-Sarawak border areas in an effort to cut off rebel bands.

★ ★ ★

However, Lt. Gen. Sir Nigel Poett, commander of British Far East land forces, declared after a visit to operations areas that the possibility of rebel guerrilla resistance already was remote after only six days of revolt.

"We have broken the back of the rebellion," he said.

POORLY ARMED

He pointed out that the rebels, who wanted to set up an independent state composed of the Brunei sultanate and the two neighboring crown colonies of Sarawak and North Borneo, were armed only with shotguns and a few rifles.

The lack of fierce fighting anywhere indicated the rebels wanted no showdown with British troops.

Rebel dead so far are believed to total about 50. The British have lost 10 dead. A number of civilians and police also have been killed.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Britain's Far East command in Singapore said 3,500 troops have been flown to Brunei and "the airlift continues at high pressure."

Confesses Shooting Wife, Her Parents

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)— A young husband confessed to police that he shot and killed his estranged wife and her parents in Arizona and then fled to California.

He left his year-old baby alive with the bodies.

"I was going to shoot myself in front of them," Raymond J. Hudgens, 22, recounted slowly after his capture here yesterday. "Then I thought, 'Why not take them with me?'"

Hudgens unfolded the grisly tale for detectives of how he fired at his wife Grace Mary, 20, and her parents Myron Young, 47, and Mrs. Dorothy Young, 55, until his 22-caliber pistol was empty.

Then he grabbed a 32-pistol and began firing again.

Switch On the Lights for Detroit Yule Tree

DETROIT (AP) — The lights of Detroit's 65-foot official Christmas tree were switched on last night by a 4-year-old cerebral palsy victim, Julie Ann Gipprich, of Warren.

Some 3,000 youngsters from children's homes, schools and neighborhood centers were on hand for a stage show following the ceremony.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and Ralph McElvenny, president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. were also present at Civic Center Park.

Tito Tours Museum

MOSCOW (UPI) — Visiting Yugoslav President Tito and his wife toured the Marx-Engels museum here yesterday.

KEARNY, N. J. (UPI) — Two thieves stole 30 bundles of Christmas trees worth $300 yesterday from St. Anthony's Orphanage.

Since bird songs can now be recorded and played back at a fraction of their normal speed, it has been established that the winter wren sings 130 notes in a song lasting just over seven seconds.

Watches TV While Driving

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Miami man has been charged with watching television while driving on the Florida Turnpike.

Jack S. Minstzer, 28, was arrested by state trooper Joe Bowen, who said he gave chase when Minstzer's car ran off the highway, pulled back on, then continued, astride the center lane.

Bowen said he found a portable television set, in operation, on Minstzer's dashboard. A 1951 law outlaws television which distracts an automobile driver, and carries a possible penalty of six months in jail or a $500 fine.

Italian Senate to Probe

ROME (UPI) — The chamber of deputies voted 478-35 yesterday to hold an investigation of the Mafia.

A joint investigation was approved by the Italian senate last April, but observers said next spring's general elections probably will cut it short.

It costs the United Nations about $120 million annually to maintain 18,000 troops from 18 nations in the Congo.

London Telephone Girl Selected to Be T-I-M

LONDON (UPI) — Pat Simmons, 42, was chosen from 9,000 applicants last night to be "Tim," the voice giving the exact time to persons dialing T-I-M on the telephone.

Miss Simmons will replace Jane Cain, 50, who recorded the original time announcements 27 years ago. That recording has been played an estimated 800 million times.

White House Given Set of Presidential Signatures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thanks to a New Jersey collector, the White House now has its first complete set of original signatures of the 34 presidents from George Washington to John F. Kennedy.

The gift came from Martin Weiner, a Clifton, N. J., real estate investor, who collects historical manuscripts and presidential signatures as a hobby.

He's been combing the markets for 20 years for presidents' autographs and says their price depends on supply and demand and the importance of the document to which it was affixed.

Presidents officially sign their names thousands of times and some early presidents, he notes, even signed ship's manifests.

Right now, Weiner says a legible George Washington signature on an unimportant or mutilated document can be bought for about $200.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

There was some difference of opinion over what a John A. Kennedy might be worth. Such a signature on an autograph card might bring about $50, Weiner estimated. A local Washington dealer thought about $4 or $5 might be closer.

★ ★ ★

At the White House, a source said that a New York columnist recently wrote Kennedy telling him his signature was bringing about $75 on the autograph market.

Kennedy is said to have written back a note, but refrained from affixing his signature, explaining he didn't want to deflate the market.

Weiner's gift officially was accepted for the permanent White House collection recently by Salinger.

In return, Weiner got six more Kennedy signatures he needs to complete nine additional sets he is collecting. So far, he has collected nine full sets of presidential signatures which he has given to institutions and historical groups. One reposes with the state of New Jersey.

Weiner can't recall where he got the Kennedy signature that is now part of the White House collection, but he thinks it was either purchased from a dealer or obtained from a letter Kennedy sent to one of Weiner's friends, who aids him in his hobby.

Weiner says he's thrilled that his hobby won a place in the White House.

★ ★ ★

And, he sent Salinger a $1,000 check to boost a Kennedy hobby—the National Cultural Center project to promote the performing arts in the capital.

Sen. Ellender Upsets Africans With Speech

Candor rather than tact is the word one might first associate with Sen. ALLEN J. ELLENDER, D-La. It is his custom to make regular trips abroad to see how the taxpayers' money is being squandered, and upon his return to make lengthy reports to his colleagues on his travels.

★ ★ ★

He told the Senate last year: "It has been my privilege as a U. S. senator to go abroad many times during the past 14 years. I have now visited every country in the world except one — Albania." This year his itinerary listed 37 African nations.

★ ★ ★

It is nothing new for the senator to deliver judgments that embarrass the U.S. State Department. So no one in Washington was surprised when ELLENDER said in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, on Dec. 1: "If there is any part of Africa where the natives have built up a community on their own and made progress on their own, I have yet to see that area. . . . What I mean simply is that the average African is incapable of leadership except through assistance of Europeans."

On Dec. 5 Ellender formally denied making these remarks which had been attributed to him.

The trouble is not so much with what Ellender said (he has said almost the same thing before) as with where he said it—in Africa. This was too bad; he should have waited until he got home.

He has been widely criticized, and, of course, the State Department virtually has had to apologize for him.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, what he said may prove largely true. This was dramatized recently when Premier BEN BELLA asked economic aid from abroad to ease Algeria's "unbelievable problems." One of the causes of these was that 70 per cent of Algeria's small businessmen had fled to France, and with them their payrolls and capital.

★ ★ ★

The wise old senator is not so far off base; its just that he speaks from the wrong rostrum.

Events at Ole Miss No Longer Acute

Repercussions of the JAMES H. MEREDITH issue centering around racial integration at the University of Mississippi, at Oxford, continue to be heard.

The latest incidence of conflict is aired in the action of the school's student governing body in condemning the university's newspaper editor, Miss SIDNA BOWER.

And the campus senate urges correction of Miss Bower's failure, in its opinion, to represent her fellow students properly during the riots touched off by the admission of Meredith.

Specifically, the senate censured the editor for "failure to counter the distortion of the image of the student body, and to protest the unnecessary firing of tear gas into FAULKNER Dormitory" — though commending her position deploring the violence that has taken place on the campus.

★ ★ ★

But the university's faculty two days later adopted a resolution praising Miss BOWER'S position and lauding her "constructive editorial policy."

Meanwhile, reports are that Meredith, about whom swirled all the fury at Ole Miss, is having academic troubles, with doubt expressed about his ability to continue as a student.

★ ★ ★

But out of it all and despite the continued precautionary presence of U.S. marshals, it appears that calmness is slowly superseding the rampant hatred of a short time ago. As time passes, integration at Mississippi undoubtedly will be philosophically recognized in fact as well as principle and regarded in the light of history as just another step forward toward national racial equality.

Hoffa Using Attack to His Advantage

Swashbuckling JIMMY HOFFA, who fought his way to the top of the Teamsters from a job loading produce, has always appeared quite proud of his toughness.

★ ★ ★

When he floored the demented laborer who tried to end his conspiracy trial with a few pellets, JIMMY made sure everyone knew he was the first man to strike his assailant.

Now, suddenly, Jimmy is quaking, oh cue, we feel. His attorneys see the courtroom attack as a possible way out of a trial which seemed to bode evil for the diminutive Teamster boss.

★ ★ ★

It would be ironic that the first time the Government was close to getting the goods on the leader of the scandal and payoff-ridden Teamsters, some unpredictable event would upset the apple cart.

Taking off from her home base a few mornings ago on some business not confided to anyone—probably on a secret sniffing mission—she failed to return.

Alarmed, the family organized a dog hunt. Her usual routes of investigation were traversed, without trace. Workmen who usually shared lunch with their canine friend hadn't seen her.

Happiness quickly returned to the household. The cause of all the ruckus is convinced there's no place like home—and stays there. Also she has become a firm believer in the old adage, "Everything comes to him who waits."

Silence Isn't Necessarily Golden

David Lawrence Asks:

Who's the Big Loser in NY Strike?

WASHINGTON — "Human welfare" — the boasted slogan of the "liberal" and the proclaimed objective of the politically minded in public office — has a strange and ironic sound today.

LAWRENCE

For in the biggest city of the nation, 20,000 human beings are forced out of work and tens of thousands of others are idle because of a shutdown of the newspapers. Millions of persons are deprived of their primary source of daily information.

Stores which depend on large advertisements to attract business during the Christmas season are being badly hurt in two cities — New York and Cleveland.

Commercial losses run up to millions of dollars a day — all this because of the stoppage of nine daily newspapers in New York City and vicinity and of the daily papers in Cleveland.

Who is to blame? The answer is that human beings themselves are to blame.

The labor union's goal is to get what it demands, irrespective of whether the jobs of the strikers themselves become imperiled just as similar jobs have, indeed, been ended for all time in many cities in the country.

High production expenses — due chiefly to rising labor costs—have deprived four-fifths of the cities of the United States of a rival newspaper in the afternoon and morning fields.

The principle that nobody could interfere with a free press in America has been repeatedly violated, and countless numbers of workers have paid the penalty of an irresponsible unionism.

★ ★ ★

In New York City, for instance, the leaders of the 3,000 members of the International Typographical Union there have precipitated a strike.

All the other unions — also composed of human beings with an obligation to judge their fellow men fairly — are schooled to be indifferent to the merits of the dispute by agreeing not to cross the picket lines of a striking union.

The employers are compelled to negotiate contract after contract with the individual unions — teamsters, news handlers, delivery men, reporters and others. Any one of the unions thus can bring about a tie-up of the whole plant.

'UNDERPAID' PRINTERS?

Are the printers underpaid? Everyone naturally wants more wages. The newspaper publishers in New York City announced their willingness to pay $7,500 a year to their printers. The union demands over $8,000 a year. The present salary is $7,330, apart from fringe benefits.

These are relatively big salary figures. But granting that it is a desirable scale, is a war the only way to achieve such an objective? Do the employers hold out just because they are selfish?

Or are they perhaps right when they say some of them will go bankrupt if they have to pay higher wages?

Many newspapers are generally known to be operating at a deficit. One of the bigger publishing companies in New York operates at a narrower margin of profit than most newspapers in other big cities.

But the union insists on uniformity of wage scales. Wages must be the same for all newspapers in New York City, no matter what the financial condition of one or more of the publishing companies happens to be — that's the prevailing concept among the unions.

Hal Boyle Says:

It Would Be Great to Get News Like THIS in Mail

NEW YORK (AP) —Excerpts from letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"Through a clerical error, our billing department undercharged you $87.63 on your last month's credit card account. But since it was our fault, and in consideration of the fact Christmas is near, we'd just like you to forget the whole matter."

BOYLE

"As your landlord we wish to express our appreciation of you as a tenant these last 15 years. So we are installing a new refrigerator and stove in your apartment immediately, and beginning next month your rent will be reduced $35. Anytime your wife would like to have the place repainted—at our expense naturally—please let us know."

OL' ST. NIKITA

"It is my pleasure to inform you that Premier Khrushchev was deeply impressed by the letter you wrote to your newspaper outlining the 10 basic errors of the Kremlin. He has asked me if you and your family would consent to be his guests for a two-month winter vacation in Switzerland, where he would like to meet you to discuss questions of international policy more fully. It will not be necessary to bring skis or overshoes, as they will be provided by the Soviet government."

"Our publishing firm was sent a copy of your last talk to your local Rotary Club. It is our wish to include it in a new volume we are issuing to be called, 'Great Inspirational Messages of the 20th Century.' We are enclosing a check for $500 against advance royalties."

WHAT A GIRL!

"I found the wallet you lost in a taxi. In going through it for identification papers I came across the photo of a girl with a fresh and exciting face—a girl I take to be your daughter. As a motion picture talent scout, I wonder if she would be interested in a film career? Although we could offer her only $750 a week to start, her future earnings would be—"

★ ★ ★

"Sir, you don't know me, but I know you. I am a bus driver. Last July 19 at 8:03 a.m. on Swampshore Drive you got on my bus and gave me a $5 bill. I gave you back 100 nickels in change. My conscience has been bothering me ever since. It was a mean thing to do, and I want you to know it will never, never happen again."

"We realize, lady, it wasn't your fault you tore your stocking on the shopping cart in our supermarket, so we are herewith sending you a brand new pair—plus three free cans of a new dog food we are introducing this week."

"Our zoo has received a letter from your young son asking if we could lend him a baby walrus so he could play with it in his bathtub. Would you mind telling him that the zoo must regretfully turn down his request as we at present have no walruses that would fit in a home bathtub?"

"My wife, Jacqueline, and I are both delighted with your patriotic gift to the government of the golden oak chiffonier, circa 1904, left to you by your late Aunt Milly, and we will be glad to find a place for it in the White House. In going through one of the drawers, I stumbled across 37 old shares of AT&T stock which your aunt apparently had hidden there. I return it to you herewith."

In Washington:

NATO Meet Nuclear-Minded?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The talk in the corridors at the mid-December NATO meeting in Paris is expected to be heavily charged with arguments over the deployment and use of nuclear force.

And looming over this three-day session of foreign defense and finance ministers will be the puzzling shadow of French President Charles de Gaulle, a presence made more commanding by his recent triumphant election sweep.

The general is believed capable of surprises. His support of this country in the Cuba crisis outdid our other chief allies. Yet observers feel his strengthened personal independence is likely to make him more, rather than less, intractable in NATO affairs.

★ ★ ★

Officially, the Paris meeting shapes up as a stocktaking interlude. Barring last minute changes, the nuclear problem is not to be on the agenda — though on the minds of all.

Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara will make the principal United States talks. Secretary of the Treasury Dillon is not billed.

The United States, as it has so often in recent times, will urge again a marked set-up of NATO's conventional forces, toward the established NATO goals.

The Cuban crisis will be offered to underscore this need. Undersecretary of State George Ball struck this note before NATO parliamentarians a month ago in Paris. He suggested that our blockade-plus-negotiation demonstrated the wisdom of the "measured response" possible only through use of effective conventional force.

This government plans also to urge upon its NATO partners wider and fuller political consultation within the NATO framework.

The United States sees this as implementing the Atlantic partnership idea advanced by President Kennedy in Philadelphia on July 4.

Furthermore, American officials are pleased at the results of the freer transmission of nuclear and other information to other members. This practice was initiated after the spring NATO meeting in Athens, where McNamara laid out relative East-West capabilities in the bluntest terms.

★ ★ ★

The Paris meeting will hear a triennial review of members' financial contributions and defense capabilities, with candid talk on relative burdens and ability to pay. We believe a prospering Western European can carry a bigger load.

Also due for presentation is a major report on the co-ordination for research and development efforts in support of NATO's military functions.

France, with its present woefully insufficient NATO ground force, and Britain, with inadequate conscription, hold main keys to any conventional arms build-up.

In the corridor chatter on nuclear force, these two countries as nuclear nations likewise will figure large.

The United States position is generally clear. We disapprove independent national nuclear deterrents. McNamara has called them "dangerous, expensive, prone to obsolescence, and lacking in credibility." In all-out war, he suggests, they would be the first to be wiped out.

We believe our own great nuclear force, matched against all conceivable enemy targets, is wholly sufficient. But we would not oppose genuinely desired multilateral medium-range nuclear force, provided it could be harmonized with our own major deterrent.

Part and parcel of this notion, say United States officials, is our insistence that any multilateral force should not discriminate for or against any individual member countries, and should be so integrated that no nation can pull out and re-establish a purely national deterrent.

★ ★ ★

Though we neither advocate nor actively discourage the medium range force, this country presently is advising other NATO lands on possible costs, problems of manning, and so on.

And United States authorities say they believe the thorny question of a NATO nuclear chain of command could truly be solved, though no one right now is publicly saying just how.

'Music World Celebrates Birthday of Beethoven'

This month the world celebrates the birthday of a great man whose love was spurned for being a commoner. Significant enough, his birthday coincides with "The Prince of Peace, Freedom and Love for all mankind." The music world has set aside three days for this celebration and justly so. You cannot enjoy his work in one day or even three days, no more than you can express your admiration for such greatness or enough gratitude to God for having given us a Beethoven.

'Can't Afford Loss of Monroe Doctrine'

The Monroe Doctrine is on the line. Its principles are violated; its purpose of guaranteeing the safety and independence of the United States is being nullified. With the situations in Cuba, British Guiana and other trouble spots in Latin America before us, we must fight for the principles of the Monroe Doctrine or else face the probability of a complete sweep of communism through those lands that lie south. If this happens, we shall have only ourselves to blame, for we have the might and the right to prevent it.

'What of Deprived in This City?'

We are constantly reminded of people driven from their homes by war, invasion and other evil forces and asked by various agencies to help. What of the people right here being deprived of their homes by urban renewal, without adequate compensation? Why does no one come forward and ask us to help these victims?

★ ★ ★

It's time people wake up and ask themselves what is behind all this. Our churches and other organizations should take up the fight against this injustice.

Central Michigan Students Adopt Korean Orphans

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — It isn't unusual to hear unmarried young men and young women at Central Michigan University discussing "our children."

The children are 62 Korean orphans, "Central's chosen children," semiadopted by the University's 6,000 students.

And they're finding it such a rewarding experience, that Central students are recommending other universities and colleges adopt similar projects to give "hope and help" to what they describe as "thousands of unwanted children now roaming the streets and alleys of the world."

In soliciting other colleges, chairman Ric Cooper of Central's Korean Orphanage Committee wrote he was sure most American students would find this idea more gratifying than phone-booth-stuffing or marathon telephone gabbing.

* * *

In its newest campus drive for "Central's Chosen Children," the orphanage committee raised $1,430. It expects to expand its spring drive into downtown Mount Pleasant.

Before the latest drive, Central donations had provided the Youngsaing-Won orphanage at Mun San, 40 miles north of Seoul, with a $1,500 building for sleeping quarters, $345 worth of CARE packages, 75 new blankets, three acres of land, an ox and a plow and cash for food and operating expenses.

Now the students are working to bring about an adequate medical facility, a small crafts program, perhaps a school and possibly expansion "so we can give more children a chance."

CHILD 'STARTED' DRIVE

A Korean child standing at a crossroads in a threadbare dress, cold and crying, in affect, was the founder of Central's project. An American soldier who drove the orphan to town, fed her and found her a place to sleep in an abandoned boxcar never forgot that experience.

That soldier was Neil Kirwan, who enrolled at Central Michigan a few months after his discharge in 1957. Two years later, as a member of the student senate, he proposed that the senate adopt an orphanage.

The senate voted to do it. When they heard of the project, the Inter Faith Council, the Vets Club and the International Relations Club asked to participate.

Others since have volunteered and the project now is campus-wide and under the direction of the Korean Orphanage Committee.

* * *

Kirwan obtained a list of orphanages needing help in Korea. From this, and after investigation, the Mun San Orphanage was chosen. It had 46 children then, but Central donations have permitted it to add 16 more.

The orphanage was founded in 1951 on Kangwah Island by Mrs. Sa Nyo Kang, but was moved in 1956 to Mun San. Central funnels its funds through the American-Korean foundation of New York, and they go with no strings attached.

The foundation sends back reports. The Korean Ministry of Public information sent an eight-minute movie of the "Chosen Children," and U.S. Army officials were invited to the ground breaking for the new sleeping quarters building.

'GRAD WRITES'

Reports come back, too, from Corn Sow Song, a "graduate" of the orphanage who Mrs. Sa Nyo Kang helped through high school and a two year agricultural school.

Although a Korean marine for the last two years, Corn Sow Song spends his leaves at Mun San, helps Mrs. Kang and writes reports back to Central, carefully noting expenditures.

On last Oct. 28, he reported that the October allotment of $350 had arrived on the 11th and had gone to purchase, among other things, six pigs, food and field-day school uniforms. About half the money, he said, was set aside toward a library building fund.

* * *

Central Korean Orphanage Committee encourages students to pass up an occasional soft drink and see that the dime goes to feed an orphan. But it does much more than that.

Closing out Korean Orphanage Weekend last month, the Vets Club put up a $10 prize for a greased-pig chasing contest on the football practice field, charging students 50 cents for a chance to catch the pig and 10 cents to watch.

The Interfraternity Council collected paperback books and sold them in the university center's patio. Canisters were placed in the lobby for donations from those who viewed the Franco-Japanese award-winning movie, "Hiroshima, Mon Amour."

The Flying Chips, a group of student fliers, and the Interfaith council jointly sponsored airplane rides. When gymnastics coach Anthony Miele asked for some volunteers to put on a demonstration for a (20 cents a head) benefit for the orphanage, the whole team turned out.

The Panhellenic Council sponsored a "stag or drag" dance in the university gymnasium. The fee was 20 cents stag; 40 cents drag.

In letters to 400 college newspaper editors, suggesting their schools might like to adopt somewhat similar orphanage projects, Cooper wrote:

"Let it be said that this enjoyable work is rich in satisfaction, and the students of Central wouldn't miss it for the world! It's work, but it's good work."

Demand High for Electricity

Some 900,000 Consumers Power Co. electricity customers in Michigan set a new record Monday when they demanded two million kilowatts of electric power in a one-hour period.

* * *

It was the first time in the company's history that the demand hit the two million figure in an hour.

The peak load of 2,035,000 kilowatts came between 10 and 11 a.m.

Pontiac area customers contributed roughly 100,000 kilowatts to the demand during that hour.

* * *

It was 11 years ago, on Dec. 17, 1951, between 5 and 6 p.m. that the company first recorded a one-hour demand of a million kilowatts.

Peak periods are common in December when it is colder and daylight hours are fewer, company officials explained.

Courtrooms Are Invaded by Recorders

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new kind of witness has been cropping up increasingly in courtrooms these days.

★ ★ ★

This witness has no tongue, but it talks. And what it says is helping make the course of justice swifter and less fallible.

The witness is a machine and it signifies the extension of electronics into the field of jurisprudence.

Courts in many American states, Puerto Rico, the Bahamas, Canada, New Zealand and Israel now use electronic equipment to record every word uttered during important trials.

★ ★ ★

Outside interviews for possible court use also are being taken on the machines on an increasing scale.

Judges, other court officials and lawyers favor the automatic recorders because they provide an unchangeable, verbatim log of testimony, with no chance of misquotation.

Plastic recording belts recorded in court or at other sites may be played back to impeach a witness or refresh his memory.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the manner or tone in which testimony was given also is recorded was cited by legal experts as important in that the inflection often is a key factor in evaluating testimony.

Discontinue Buses on W. Michigan Run

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Citing declining patronage and revenues, the 12-bus Grandville-Wyoming Transit Co. yesterday announced it will end its service Dec. 31.

Paul Gezon, company president and a Wyoming city commissioner, said Grand Rapids City Coach Lines, Inc., will be asked to take over the suburban company's routes.

City Coach spokesmen said their firm will file an application this week asking the Michigan Public Service Commission for authority to operate buies between Grand Rapids, Grandville and Wyoming over routes to be determined.

★ ★ ★

Gezon said no decision has been made on disposal of his company's assets but indicated that about 5 of the 14 employes will be retained to operate a school bus service.

Los Angeles Said New Way of Life

WASHINGTON — California's City of the Angels, so the saying goes, is 40 suburbs looking for a city. An outdoor circus. A fine place to live — if you're an orange.

★ ★ ★

Not so, says Robert de Roos in his article, "Los Angeles," in the National Geographic. Mr. de Roos takes the measure of the city and concludes that Los Angeles is, in fact, the Colossus of the West.

Los Angeles surrounds the independent cities of San Fernando, Culver City, and Beverly Hills, and almost pushes Santa Monica and Long Beach into the Pacific. There are 82 other incorporated cities in Greater Los Angeles.

"Los Angeles has always been running too fast to observe itself," Mr. de Roos says. "Neither residents nor visitors seem to realize that this biggest city of the southwest is a new phenomenon in the nation."

John Anson Ford, who served for 24 years on the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, told Mr. de Roos: "I think we may be evolving a modification of the American way of living.

"There is an intensity of drive here. Along with creative work, there is an almost frantic attempt to capture leasure. The exodus each weekend is terrific — to Palm Springs, to the beaches, to the mountains."

Another Angeleno expressed the same idea on a personal basis: "Every morning I get into my 12-cylinder Ferrari and drive to work. It takes me 20 minutes.

"Every weekend I spend on the beach. If the weather at the beach is not good, I drive to Palm Springs, where the weather is always good. That's why I live in Los Angeles."

In a century, Los Angeles has grown from a village into the Nation's third city with a population of 2.5 million; it is exceeded only by New York and Chicago. Greater Los Angeles embraces all of Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Some seven million people live and work in an 85-by-125-mile sweep of coastal plain and mountains.

More Americans moved into metropolitan Los Angeles in the past two years than trekked west along the Oregon Trail. The population of the area grows by nearly 5,000 a week, 30 new citizens every hour.

Peace Corps Readies Africa Lawyer Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Peace Corps is preparing a pilot project to supply urgently needed lawyers in at least six African countries.

The pay will be low, no private practice will be allowed, and special precautions are being taken to keep the American attorneys out of politically sensitive positions.

The only "fees" will be $75 a month plus living expenses.

But already Peace Corps officials report a "tremendous response" to their informal soundings among the U.S. law community.

Tentative plans call for a total of 40 or 50 lawyers to be sent to Nigeria, Cameroon, Ethiopia, Nyasaland, Liberia and Sierra Leone. Tanganyika was said to be a doubtful possibility.

The need was said to be critical in some of the countries, especially in government ministries.

Nyasaland, one of three territories in the largely self-governing federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, was said to have "only a handful of lawyers."

★ ★ ★

Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver has fully endorsed the idea and one Midwestern university and several in the East have expressed an interest in preparing lawyers for African positions.

The prisoner was not permitted to pose so it is chief warden Tom Heaney standing beside Rice's work.

Pair Try to Learn About Life in Space

HOUSTON (UPI)—Two University of Houston scientists are now working on a project that may determine if life once existed in space.

★ ★ ★

The pair, Dr. John Oro, a biochemist, and Dr. Albert Zlatkis, a chemical engineer, have received a $71,250 grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on the three-year research project.

Both scientists are associate professors of chemistry at the university.

The NASA grant came in hopes that their work will help the development of simple miniature instruments with which the chemical composition of the moon and the planets may be analyzed by future manned and unmanned space probes.

★ ★ ★

The scientists are starting their study with pieces of two meteorites, in which other scientists have already reported finding what appears to be life of a primitive type.

The fragments are from the Murray Meteorite which fell near Murray, Ky., in September 1950, and from the Mokoia Meteorite, discovered near Wanganui, New Zealand, Nov. 26, 1908.

★ ★ ★

The scientists believe that these two meteorites came from a parent body that possessed an atmosphere and an ocean of some type and was at least lunar size.

Most astronomers believe that meteorites are chunks of matter which come from the orbital belt of asteroids between Mars and Jupiter.

The asteroids are small planetary bodies. There are thousands of them revolving around the sun between Mars and Jupiter.

Cottons Improved by Formaldehyde

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Formaldehyde, that chemical so much in evidence around biology laboratories, is bringing improved wash-and-wear qualities to cotton fabrics, the Texas A & M College extension service says.

A new process being studied by the textile finishing industry uses formaldehyde to bind together cotton's cellulose molecules to give a more durable finish to cotton used in wash-and-wear clothing.

The formaldehyde-treated fabrics showed no tendency to yellow in tests, the extension service said, and did not discolor when subjected to chloride bleach.

The Dutch annexed New Guinea in 1828.

If You Can't Beat 'Em

NEOSHO, Mo. (UPI) — City manager Andy O'Rourke received city council permission to have a special sign painted on Neosho's largest water tower.

The sign will read:

"Neosho

"Dedicated to all seniors of Neosho High School."

The idea behind it is to keep enterprising youngsters from redecorating the tower to their own tastes each year.

Nobody Roars Louder Than That Democrat Cannon

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP) — They may come tougher than Clarence Cannon, but it's hard to find them.

He's the cantankerous Democrat who lambasted his own House leadership in the closing hours of the last session so bitterly that the Republican leader took the floor to say some kind words about Speaker John McCormack.

The 83-year-old Missouri Congressman, who heads the House Appropriations Committee, is a man of many facets. Depending on his mood and the occasion, he can be as tenacious as a bulldog, as stubborn as a Missouri mule, or as gentle as the doting grandpa that he is.

A small man physically — he weighs around 140 pounds—Cannon makes up in grit for what he lacks in heft. His physical encounters during a span of almost 40 years in the House include minor fisticuffs with such colleagues as former Rep. John Phillips of California and Rep. John Taber of New York, Republicans, and former Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, a Democrat.

These sparring matches occurred over differences on government money bills, all of which clear through Cannon's hands.

During his more than 30 years on the Appropriations Committee, Cannon has helped shell out billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, and has cut billions from recommended appropriations. He warns continuously of the dangers of overspending and the evils of deficit financing.

TIGHT ON THE JOB

As tight as he is with the public's money, Cannon is somewhat loose with his own, especially with silver dollars. He has shelled out hundreds of them to children whom he encounters in the course of his official meanderings.

With each silver dollar goes the admonition that if the recipient holds on to it "you will never go broke."

Cannon is mentally as well as physically agile—and he can hold a grudge or forget it.

At the end of the recent session of Congress he unleashed a tirade against the Democratic House leadership in general and Speaker McCormack in particular. He described the leadership as the most "biased and inept" he had seen during his long years of service.

Only a few minutes later, he stood and applauded as the House adopted a resolution praising McCormack's "able, impartial and dignified" handling of the speakership.

'BULLHEADED'

Cannon was personally close to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, although Rayburn privately conceded that at times he found Cannon extremely difficult to get along with legislatively.

"Stubborn" and "bullheaded" were words Rayburn used on occasion to described Cannon's attitude.

But when the chips were down during Democratic national conventions, Rayburn at times found in Cannon a real friend in need.

As chairman of many conventions Rayburn always insisted that Cannon serve as parliamentarian. Conventions can get out of hand without a presiding officer and a shrewd parliamentarian with a working knowledge of precedents and the procedural "ropes".

On more than one occasion Cannon dipped into his bag of parliamentary gimmicks when the going got rough. He could somehow manage to cite a precedent for almost anything Rayburn wanted to do as chairman.

Rayburn once confessed after a turbulent convention session that he didn't know where Cannon found the precedents and doubted if they actually existed.

"If he can't find them, he'll make them," the late speaker commented.

Probably no one is more experienced in legislative precedent than is Cannon. He wrote many of the House rules—and "Cannon's Procedure in the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

Cannon started out to be a lawyer but got into local Missouri politics to widen his field of contacts. In 1911, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House, persuaded Cannon to come to Washington as a clerk in the speaker's office.

"I wanted to see the wheels go around" for a few weeks and took the job, Cannon recalls. He never got back to Missouri to stay. In 1917 he was named parliamentarian of the House, a post he held until he was elected as a member in 1922. Only one present member, Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, outranks Cannon in years of service.

In private life, Cannon is a gentle, home-loving man. His devotion to his wife, the former Ida Dawson Wigginton, to whom he has been married 56 years, is cited as a model of domesticity by colleagues.

The Cannons have two married daughters and five grandchildren.

"She runs the place, but she doesn't fool me," Cannon says of the only grandaughter, "but I doubt if I fool her, either."

Cannon's hobbies are few. He tinkers at the piano and operates a diversified 750-acre farm on the Mississippi River. He is an avid student of history.

He is a Baptist by birth and by choice and has never moved his home from his native town of Elsberry, Mo., which was founded in 1879, the year Cannon was born.

* * *

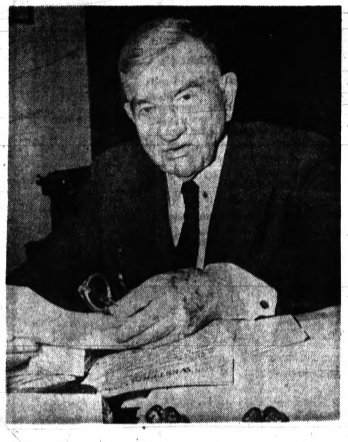
This year Cannon lead a prestige battle with the Senate over the Senate's insistence that it be allowed to originate some appropriation bills, a privilege the House claims as its own.

"Like the Berlin crisis, the dispute between the Senate and the House is not negotiable," Cannon asserts with finality. "We are right and they are wrong."

One of Cannon's final legislative moves in the 87th Congress was to have the House fire back to the Senate a temporary appropriation bill that originated in the Senate. The Senate countered with a resolution insisting it has the right to launch money bills.

There the matter stood at adjournment. But the battle will be renewed in 1963, and those who know Cannon are betting he'll win.

Dry yeast dissolves more readily in water than it does in milk.



REP. CLARENCE CANNON

Rochester Hearing Tonight

Citizens to Ask About Cityhood

Incorporation Plans Will Be Explained

ROCHESTER — Both sides of the question on proposed cityhood for Rochester will be aired at a public hearing at 8 tonight at Central Junior High School.

The boundaries committee of the County Board of Supervisors has set the meeting to assure that property owners in the affected area are aware of village plans for incorporation.

Both the township and village will be allowed two representatives each to present their respective views.

Questions from the floor will be entertained following the prepared speeches, but each person will be limited to one question and five minutes, according to ground rules of the meeting.

The boundaries committee can only recommend that the board of supervisors set an election date to decide the issue if petitioners have complied with state law governing pre-election procedures.

Incorporation is then decided by popular vote.

PEOPLE TO DECIDE

When the proposal is presented to the people in the areas concerned they will decide whether or not to incorporate the village and increase its size from 1 9/16 square miles to 4⅛ square miles.

The proposed boundaries include a portion of Avon Township and Parke Davis & Co.'s 635-acre Parkedale Farms, east of town.

The present western and southern boundaries of the village are retained in the proposed city plan. The new northern boundary would be Tienken Road, and Dequindre Road would enclose the city on the east.

Goodfellows' Christmas Spirit to Benefit Needy in Oakland

The crippled, the hungry and the poorly clothed will have a happier Christmas this year because hundreds of Oakland County men are willing to stand on cold, slippery street corners this weekend.

The men, members of Goodfellow organizations from six area communities, will sell special editions of The Pontiac Press to aid needy neighbors.

★ ★ ★

The once-a-year newsboys will hawk Goodfellow papers in Sylvan Lake, Keego Harbor, Oxford, Lake Orion, Milford, and White Lake, Highland and West Bloomfield townships.

The "Old Newsboys" will accept all donations for their papers.

Members of the Oxford Lions Club will hold their 14th annual Goodfellow sale 3 to 9 p.m. tomorrow and 5 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

OXFORD SALE

Oxford Goodfellow chairman J. C. Webster said his group has set a goal of $1,400 to buy children's clothing. The papers will be on sale throughout the village.

West Bloomfield Township firemen will be stationed at major intersections in Sylvan Lake, Keego Harbor and the township from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Proceeds from their sale will be used to purchase Christmas baskets for needy families, shoes and overshoes for underprivileged children and for their year-around Goodfellow emergency fund.

★ ★ ★

On Main Street in Milford, members of the village's Rotary Club will sell Goodfellow editions 2 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday to help support the Oakland County Crippled Children's Society.

The White Lake Township Metropolitan Club, Spirit 58, hopes to collect $1,000 for the purchase of Christmas food baskets and clothing, according to chairman Andrew Piano.

Piano said fellow Metropolitan Club members will be on street corners throughout the township and Union Lake from 8 a.m. until dark Saturday.

FIREMEN HELP

Starting at 1 p.m. Saturday, Highland Township firemen will sell papers at major intersections along M59 and in the village of Clyde. The sale will continue throughout the evening hours.

George Volkert, local Goodfellow chairman, said proceeds will be used for Christmas baskets, clothing, food and toys.

Members of Lake Orion's Lions Club are aiming for $1,000 from the sale of Goodfellow papers, to provide fuel oil, clothing, groceries and toys for 40 needy families in the area.

James Sheldon, spokesman for the club, said Goodfellow salesmen will be hawking papers throughout the community both tomorrow and Saturday.

Family Flees Burning Home

Belongings Destroyed but All 5 Reach Safety

NOVI — A Novi couple and their three small children lost practically everything but the clothes on their backs today when fire destroyed their rented home at 1157 E. Lake Drive.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boggs and their preschool-age youngsters were forced to evacuate the home in near-zero weather when the blaze broke out this morning.

No one was injured, however.

The Boggs family took refuge at a neighbor's house.

Mrs. Boggs spotted the fire as she was cooking breakfast about 5:30 a.m. and told her husband. He called the Novi Fire Department from a nearby telephone.

The Novi department, assisted by firemen from Walled Lake, were unable to save the two-story frame structure, a barn which had been remodeled into a house. It is owned by John Edwards and Dan McVety, both of Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Robert Skellenger, training officer for the Novi Fire Department, said the blaze apparently was caused by improper heating equipment, an oil space heater attached to an overheated chimney. Skellenger tentatively estimated damages to the home and contents at $10,000. The loss was not covered by insurance, he said.

Firemen Set Yule Fetes for Pontiac Twp. Young

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Children in three sections of the township will be treated to Christmas parties in their own localities next week thanks to the money-raising efforts of the township fire department.

Firemen of Opdyke Station No. 3 will stage their annual party Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the fire hall. A program of songs and movies is planned.

The same afternoon, at 1 p.m., a similar party will be held at Joslyn Station No. 2. Songs and dancing will be featured.

The Yuletide celebration at Station No. 1 next Wednesday will be jointly sponsored by the fire department, Hill-Gazette Post No. 143 of the American Legion and the Auburn Heights Lions Club.

The party will start at 7:30 p.m. with the lighting of a huge Christmas tree in the Community Park, adjacent to the fire hall.

Entertainment will include vocal music by local girl scouts. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the adults in attendance.

Santa Claus is slated to visit each party to greet the youngsters and hand out candy.

Money for the parties was raised by the township firemen through their annual Goodfellow paper sales last weekend. The remainder of the proceeds will be used to provide Christmas baskets for needy families.

Plan Supper, Bazaar Friday at Thomas Hall

THOMAS — A ham supper and bazaar previously scheduled for last Thursday will be held tomorrow at the Thomas Community Hall. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The event was postponed because of inclement weather. Proceeds will go into the Thomas Methodist Church building fund.

Huron Valley Hospital Unit

Group to Elect Directors

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Community Hospital Association, which currently is organizing a building fund campaign, will elect a permanent board of directors Jan. 17.

The present board members were appointed when plans for a 100-bed community hospital were still in the discussion stage earlier this year.

Since then, the nonprofit association has obtained a lease on a site for the proposed hospital on Atlantic Avenue here. The association also has acquired the services of an architect, a coordinator and a professional fund-raising firm.

In the latest development, board chairman Stephen Garrard has organized the building fund campaign into industrial, commercial and special gifts division.

★ ★ ★

Campaign captains and workers are being instructed and recruited now to cover the 10-township area to be served by the hospital in West Oakland County and the eastern edge of Livingston County.

TAX DEDUCTION

An association spokesman pointed out that officials of business and industry who start contributing now on their 37-month pledges can spread the donations so they may be used as tax deductions for five years.

Campaign coordinator John Ripplinger of Professional Facilities Corp., Hazel Park, said association membership still is open to anyone who contributes a dollar.

Membership cards and the agenda of the Jan. 17 annual meeting will be mailed to those who contribute. The association's mailing address is Post Office Box 383, Milford.

★ ★ ★

A nominating committee which includes White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz, Mrs. Florence Harris of Novi and Clarence Johnson of Milford will draw up a slate of two representatives from each township for election to the board.

★ ★ ★

These will be presented at the annual meeting in addition to further nominations which will be provided from the floor. No location has been set for the meeting.

Suspect Waits for Extradition

WALLED LAKE—Police Chief James A. Decker was to leave for California today to bring back a pharmacist charged with taking $2,500 from a Walled Lake drugstore.

David H. Leach, 27, a former employe of Anderson's Pharmacy, 1192 W. Maple Road, has waived extradition in Los Angeles, Calif., according to local authorities.

Leach, who also is wanted for questioning in the shortage of another $400 from a Northville drugstore where he was employed, was arrested by FBI agents in Long Beach, Calif., last weekend.

Police say Leach, the father of six children, left notes at the two drugstores, admitting that he took the money and asking the owners not to notify police. He had been sought by police since the shortages were discovered last August.

Rochester School Study

Residents Asked to Help

ROCHESTER—Residents of the school district here are being requested to assist the recently formed Citizen's School Study Committee in its examination of possible school district improvements, it was announced today.

The committee is inviting all district taxpayers to forward their comments, suggestions and criticisms of school operations for study and consideration.

It is requested that this be done in letters, which should be mailed to Citizen's School Study Committee, 461 Orchardale St., before Jan. 3.

The committee feels that a more effective and thorough analysis would be possible if members were better informed on all aspects of public opinion regarding school affairs, according to Chairman David A. Wilder.

Wilder said that committee members have expressed underlying reasons for voting "yes" or "no" on proposals of increased tax revenue for school operation.

"But," he added, "it is the consensus of opinion that we should hear from all citizens in every sector of the school district on this matter."

He added that letters may be sent anonymously, and that information or opinions would not be made public if the writer so desires.

Dance Is Set to Aid Patients

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Proceeds from a benefit square dance to be held here Saturday will be used to purchase Christmas gifts for patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

The event, sponsored by the Dudes and Dolls Square Dance Club, will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Cedar Crest School, 9255 Southeastern Road.

Items such as cosmetics, toothpaste, tobacco, cookies and clothing also will be accepted for presentation to the hospital, according to Mrs. James Howard of 1566 Wilmot St., cochairman of the dance.

6 to Get OES Degrees at Bird Chapter Event

Time for JFK to Get Rough With Tax-Cut Foes Mills, Byrd?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Here's President Kennedy, getting set for his Florida holidays and maybe hoping Santa Claus will be nice to him, when up pop Rep. Wilbur Mills and Sen. Harry Byrd, both of them anti-Santa Claus.

Just a few months ago Kennedy promised a 1963 tax cut for people and corporations to perk up the economy. This week Mills said he can't see any excuse for it and doesn't think the economy has been deteriorating.

For Mills to say this was almost like shooting the old gentleman in the red suit just as he got one foot down the chimney. It also created a problem for Kennedy which he didn't solve in 1962 and may not solve next year.

MARLOW

Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation.

STOPPED MEDICARE

It was this group, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10, which this year bottled up Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. Mills was against it. He, more than any man, frustrated Kennedy on this one.

And Byrd, Virginia Democrat and chairman of the Senate's finance committee, say he is against a tax cut so long as government spending exceeds its income. A tax cut might make the deficit greater, at least for a while.

Byrd, who didn't support Kennedy in the 1960 presidential campaign, has opposed many of his programs. Because of his position as chairman of the Finance Committee he is a formidable opponent.

Yet, Kennedy has treated both Mills and Byrd very gently. His gentleness, however, has not been particularly persuasive, although Mills did help him out on other programs.

GOT OTHER HELP

Kennedy has received a lot of support for his tax-cut proposal, inside and outside his administration. He was backed quickly by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Walter Heller, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The AFL-CIO wants a tax cut next year, just as it did this year. And the highly conservative U.S. Chamber of Commerce wants a cut. So did Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, unless he decides on an entirely new political strategy, will probably handle Mills and Byrd next year just as he did in the past: no visible arm twisting, no name calling.

This all seems to fit in with either the President's way of life or his idea of running the presidency: Avoid making individual enemies or group enemies, if at all possible.

THERE'S A LIMIT

There is a limit to how much this nice and delicate approach to politics will pay off if pursued indefinitely. Kennedy, from all appearances, plans to run for re-election in 1964.

He's going to have to go to the voters with some solid legislative performances, particularly those he made the most to-do about, like medical care and a tax cut. If he gets neither before the 1964 elections he can't complain to the voters that the Republicans blocked him. His Democrats so outnumber the Republicans in Congress they could push anything through if they stuck together.

★ ★ ★

But they haven't stuck together. Mills and Byrd are prime examples of that. If Kennedy does not get rough with either of them in 1963 or 1964, he probably can expect from them what he got in 1962.

There is no evidence that he'd get more if he did get rough. Yet, since the gentle touch hasn't worked, the rough one might. So far Kennedy has shown no inclination to try it.

Collegiates to Defy Ban, Visit Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI) — A pro-Castro U.S. student group is planning to defy the government's ban on travel to Cuba and slip out of the country to visit Havana over the Christmas holidays, it was learned here yesterday.

Reliable sources said the group might comprise as many as 80 students, from City College of New York as well as other institutions in the New York City area, Boston, Buffalo and other U.S. cities.

Present plans call for the students to make their own way to Montreal and there pick up a free Castro government plane ride to Havana. In Cuba, the students would be state guests.

The sources identified the expedition leader as Anatol Isaac Schlosser, 25, of New York, a graduate student of New York University.

Schlosser told UPI he was "only a spokesman" for the group, identified as the self-styled "Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba." He said the group was making the trip "cognizant of the fact that the government has denied us permission and does not want us to go."

Schlosser said he expected "80 or more" students to make the trip. He said they would come from Buffalo, the University of Wisconsin at Madison, University of Chicago, Boston University, Harvard, Oberlin, University of Toronto, University of North Carolina and the University of California at Berkeley.

He said the trip was "less of a protest than a matter of exercising our rights to travel . . . we're just exercising our rights."

UPI sources identified Schlosser as a long-time Castro sympathizer who attended the recent Communist - dominated World Youth Festival in Helsinki. Of the Helsinki festival, Schlosser said "I just happened to be there . . . I was one of the tourists who went there to watch."

Coach Fare Still Heads Air Market

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coach traffic is continuing its domination of the domestic air travel market, the Air Transport Association (ATA) reported yesterday.

Coach service accounted for 66.6 per cent of total revenue and for the first 11 months of 1962 was responsible for 65.1 per cent.

In November, 1961, coach traffic accounted for 58.9 per cent and 57.3 per cent over the first 11 months of last year.

Load factors (percentage of available seats occupied by paying passengers) in November dropped from 51.5 per cent in the same month of 1961 to 49.5 per cent.

The over-all load factor for the major domestic airlines in the January - November period was 53.6 per cent, compared to 56.3 per cent a year ago.

The load factor dip came despite a gain of more than 8 per cent in revenue passenger miles flown — 29.26 billion compared with 27 billion in the first 11 months of last year.

Chile President Assails Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chile's President Jorge Alessandri said yesterday the American republics "cannot look with indifference or indecision" on any attempts to undermine inter-American principles.

Addressing a special session of the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS), he referred to such principles as free, periodic elections, or respect for human rights and liberties.

He did not refer by name to the Communist dictatorship in Cuba, but made it clear he was talking about the Fidel Castro government.

★ ★ ★

He departed from his prepared text to refer to events of Oct. 23 when the OAS demanded removal of nuclear missiles from Cuban territory saying they violated the inter-American treaty of mutual defense.

The Chilean president is in this country for two days as a guest of President Kennedy. The OAS meeting was called especially to hear him.

Air Pollution Hit as Contributor to Disease

New Statistics Tie Smog to Lung Cancer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Coinciding with the recent "killing smog" over London is new statistical proof that being born and brought up in the polluted atmosphere of Great Britain predisposes some people to lung cancer in later life.

★ ★ ★

What holds for Britain's polluted atmosphere would apply to all similarly polluted atmospheres. Air pollution scientists contend the quick lethal effects of any given smog period on aged, debilitated persons are as nothing compared to the long-range effect of an accumulation of such periods.

Dr. Geoffrey Dean is one of these scientists. He contends "the contribution of air pollution to lung cancer has been seriously underestimated."

In support of this, he has his newest statitical comparisons of people who immigrated from Great Britain with the people who remained there.

These were British immigrants to Australia where they are a sizable part of the population. Dean's statistics showed their death rate from lung cancer after the age of 40 was higher than that of native Australians but smaller than the people they left behind in Britain.

RESULTS AGREE

Dean previously made an identical study of British immigrants to South Africa. Others have made the same comparisons with British immigrants to New Zealand and to the United States. Basically the Australian results agreed with the others.

He compared lung cancer mortality rates between 1950 and 1958. For Britain-born Australian males the rate was 67 per cent higher than for Australian - born males but 39 per cent lower than for men in England and Wales.

With women, the immigrant rate was 33 per cent higher than that of the native but 34 per cent lower than the rate of women in England and Wales.

★ ★ ★

"These differences," Dean said, "suggests that British immigrants, men and women, bring some of their higher liability to lung cancer with them as the result of conitions experienced in Britain and yet, by ceasing to reside in Britain, lose much of a still greater liability than they would otherwise have had."

In the Australian study, as in the others, comparisons were made between the smoking habits of immigrants, natives, and residents of Britain.

These were admittedly inexact and hence not conclusive statistically, but they indicated immigrants smoke no more and no less than the natives of their new countries or the people they left behind.

NOTHING TO DO

"Frequently, one man's lung cancer is to an unknown extent due to his neighbor's pollution of the air and there is little or nothing that he as an individual can do about it," Dean said in reporting his study to the Australian medical literature.

★ ★ ★

"Smoking is essentially a personal habit and responsibility, but atmospheric pollution, which is imposed upon us, can be brought under public control and ultimately prevented by suitable legislation."

★ ★ ★

Dean's scientific base in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, where he organized the South African statistical studies which attracted much scientific interest throughout the world. He undertook the Australian studies as a means of testing his South African results.

Drayton Plains Boy, 9, Improving at Hospital

Ronald Reed, 9, of 4047 Letart St., Drayton Plains, who suffered a broken arm when hit by a car yesterday, is reported in good condition today at St. Joseph Hospital.

Letha Mae Tilson, 26, of 4018 Woodmere St., Drayton Plains, driver of the car that hit the boy at Midland Street and Sashabaw Road, Drayton Plains, told police she was temporarily blinded by the bright sun.

Gets His Money Back, Was Taken to Cleaners

BELLEVILLE, N. J. (UPI) — Anthony B. Cielsielski recouped $230 when he went to the cleaners last week.

The money was in the pocket of a topcoat he had left to be cleaned. When he returned to the store and asked if Mrs. Elva Wilson had found the money, she said yes and returned it to him.

Cielsielski gave her $10 and wished her a Merry Christmas.

U.S. Retirees Spending Pension Checks Abroad

DETROIT (AP) — Some 279 retirees from Ford plants in the United States are drawing their monthly pension checks in 27 foreign countries ranging from Albania to Turkey, a United Auto Workers pension study has revealed.

★ ★ ★

Leading the list was Italy with 109 retirees, followed by Canada 25, Lebanon 19, England 11, and Spain and Ireland with 10 each. Some 21,000 UAW members are currently drawing pensions from Ford.

Khyber Pass Now Just Tourist Attraction

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (AP) — The clang of ancient battle seems to echo still from the limestone cliffs of this historic invasion route where Alexander the Great's soldiers marched into India and generations of British troops fought the Pathan tribesmen.

But now you can drive comfortably through Khyber Pass in a taxi and buy a porcelain bust of Abraham Lincoln or a bag of fresh popcorn on the way.

Silence hangs over the great mud fort of Jamrud. The squat stone picket forts guarding the hilltops are empty of riflemen.

Tribesmen, with guns clutched in their hands and chests lopped with bandoliers of cartridges, smile and pose for pictures. The road that twists along 21 miles of Khyber Pass is a tourist route.

Under the colorfully calm exterior, however, tribal passions still boil and the pass is once again a point of tension. American aid, which poured through the famous mountain valley until last year, is affected.

Cut through great brown shale and limestone walls, Khyber Pass joins West Pakistan and Afghanistan. Over the centuries foreign invaders have used it to conquer India—Greeks, Tartars, Moguls and Persians.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy made a one-woman invasion of it this year, and villagers reminisce hungrily about the feast given in her honor.

British solders of the Indian army used to lead expedition after expedition through it for wars against Afghanistan and to subdue rifle-wielding tribesmen who created havoc on the frontier. In nearby Jagdalik Pass the Pathans wiped out a retreating British army of 16,000 men in 1841.

The Khyber is a restricted and loosely administered tribal area still. Visitors need a special entry pass from the Pakistan government. Tribal justice rules and shooting feuds are common.

Garishly colored buses and bulging with passengers, baggage geese and chickens grind up the pass road. Hooded women in baggy trousers trek to their fortified mud villages with bundles of firewood on their heads.

Alongside runs a railway built with many tunnels in 1925. The tribesmen ride it free. A few years ago they shot a conductor who insisted on collecting fares.

In the nearby hamlet of Dera, villagers do a thriving business in tribal handicrafts—such as a hand-made rifle tooled from torn-up railway tracks.

DIPLOMATIC SPLIT

The political trouble that swirls around the pass today is another tribal affair. Pakistan and Afghanistan broke off diplomatic relations 15 months ago when Afghan diplomats were accused of fomenting strife and subversion among tribesmen in the frontier area.

Like most inhabitants along the Afghanistan border, the tribes speak the Pushtoo language. King Zahir's all-family government at Kabul claims the entire frontier area is "Free Pushtoonistan." More than that, Kabul claims most of West Pakistan is "occupied Pushtoonistan."

* * *

Kabul traditionally has brought its imports through Pakistan — many of them through Khyber Pass. It stopped when the dispute arose. Pakistan lost a lucrative transport business, but Afghanistan may have cut off its nose to spite its face.

Now the country has no practical way of importing anything. Some goods still come in through the Soviet Union or follow an almost prohibitively expensive roundabout route through Iran.

The United States has virtually suspended aid since materials cannot be brought in.

CUTS DOWN TRAFFIC

The dispute has not had much effect on life along the pass, except to cut down traffic.

The railway ends at the village of Landi Kotal, a smugglers' paradise.

In the crowded bazaar, richly fragrant from bright mounds of curry and spices, illicit transistor radios blare oriental music.

Vendors sell popcorn, sugar cane and birds in wooden cages — or Japanese fountain pens, Swiss watches and English brushes.

Pakistan ends at Torkham, a few miles farther on with snow-wrapped peaks thrusting up in the distance.

Next to a shop that sells brassware and little heads of Buddha —and Abraham Lincoln — troops from the Khyber Rifles guard a gate bearing the green and white crescent of Pakistan.

From public loudspeakers both sides send propaganda blaring across the border and echoing up the pass.

'Black Christ' Painting Displayed in St. Paul's

LONDON (UPI)—The controversial "Black Christ" painting, brought here last month from South Africa, was displayed in St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday.

It shows Christ on the cross with the face of former Zulu chief Albert Luthuli and South African Premier Hendrik Verwoerd and Justice Minister B. J. Vorster as Roman soldiers beneath him.

America has placed its need for new engineers at 72,000 annually. The nation's schools, however, are graduating only 45,000 each year.

Put Picture Window in X15

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—They've put a picture window in one of the three X15 rocket planes. Object: high-altitude scientific research.

The window, located on the underside of the fuselage, will permit a camera to take pictures of such things as the optical distortion due to shock waves created by the X15 at high speeds.

First flights are due either late next month or early in February. Modification of the ship took four months. It was returned to the North American factory for the work.

The other two X15s are continuing the primary mission of the X15 program — high speed and high altitude aerodynamic research.

34 Africans Dead in S. Africa Cave-In

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Thirty-four Africans were killed and 20 injured in a huge earth cave-in that swallowed a three-story plant Wednesday at the world's richest gold mine, West Driefontein.

Bodies of five workers were recovered. The mine management announced that attempts to recover any of the other 29 from the huge flooded sinkhole had been abandoned.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has heard comic Vaughn Meader's recorded spoof of the Kennedys, and offers this judgment:

"It sounded more like Teddy than it did me . . ."

A reporter asked the President yesterday whether the best-selling record "The First Family," and other fun poked at the Kennedys in books and photo albums produces "annoyment or enjoyment" at the White House.

The smiling President said he has read some of the books, and listened to the record. He said it sounded like his brother, Sen.-elect Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass. — "So he's annoyed."

Kennedy's news conference remark was the first word that the President had listened to the record.

CAREFUL, THERE — Maybe a bicyle isn't the wisest way to deliver this, Donald Geeck (right), manager of the Pontiac Western Union office, declares as he grabs frantically to save the cherry pie tottering on the hand of messenger Charles Stevens of 485 Second St.

Ask Us to Do Your Errands, Says Proud Western Union

BY JIM DYGERT

So you think Western Union is only for telegrams?

When a Western Union messenger appears at your door, you naturally expect him to hand you a wire. But don't be surprised if he asks for your gasoline credit card.

Or your Playboy Club key.

That is, if you haven't been paying your bill.

Retrieving canceled charge plates for unhappy oil firms and other credit-offering firms is one of Western Union's "other services."

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Western Union office picks up two or three credit cards a week, according to manager Donald Geeck.

Furthermore, it was called upon once to repossess a Playboy Club key from a member whose ability to pay apparently failed to match his willingness to play.

If you refuse to surrender your passcard to easy living, the messenger will not fight you for it, however. His office merely reports your intransigence to the creditor.

BIRTHDAY GIFT?

Want to send Aunt Sophie in Memphis a cherry pie for her birthday? Western Union will take care of it — for a charge, of course.

The 110-year-old telegraph firm advertises that it will deliver "most anything" with or without an accompanying telegram. They will buy it for you, too, although not necessarily at wholesale.

The Pontiac office once delivered a corset to a woman who wanted the messenger boy to help her try it on.

This sort of thing is not included in the service, however, and he declined.

That boy who thrust at you a sample box of cough drops on a downtown street corner may have been a temporary employe of Western Union performing another of the "other services."

★ ★ ★

Money orders and candy-grams are well-known, but did you know that Western Union will wake you in the morning with a phone call, distribute catalogs or other materials to the homes or offices of sales prospects, and accept your monthly car payments on behalf of certain finance companies?

SURVEY SERVICE

Western Union will get information as well as send it — through its survey and market opinion service or by checking and inspecting inventories.

For many years, Western Union offices throughout the nation — they now total about 6,500 — regularly purchased several bottles of a popular soft drink from retailers and shipped them to the beverage maker's home office for a quality-control check on local bottlers.

One boy who was sent out for some bottles from the Port Huron office returned empty-handed. "I could only drink three," he explained.

★ ★ ★

Although "other services" account for only about four per cent of Western Union's $280-million annual revenue, they are still considered essential to a complete service for modern times.

★ ★ ★

The company's new direct customer - to - customer automatic teleprinter (or teletype), its telephone-like system for both voice and printed communication and other advanced developments may be keeping pace with the electronic and space age, but none of them can deliver a cherry pie to Aunt Sophie.

UAW to Help Union Drives

To Aid Financing of Enlistment Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP) —Walter Reuther said last night industrial unions will launch their own member enlistment drive in early 1963 because they feel AFL-CIO organizing efforts are not broad enough.

★ ★ ★

Reuther, president of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, said the department's executive board unanimously approved the drive and his own auto workers union has decided to contribute an amount of more than $1 million.

Declining to name areas or firms that will be organizing targets, Reuther said many projects will be started in the new year.

★ ★ ★

He said he had suggested the AFL-CIO stage comprehensive, coordinated campaigns by many unions in a number of areas but the AFL-CIO had accepted only one in the Los Angeles area.

Reuther said the Los Angeles drive, due to start Jan. 3, is fine, but he and other industrial union leaders felt more areas and industries should be taken on and the industrial unions were going ahead in hopes the rest of the AFL-CIO will join in.

Reuther commented on two resolutions adopted by his department's board, one calling for a prompt and substantial tax cut to help buoy the economy and reduce unemployment, the other calling for easing congressional rules the unions claim are used to retard action on liberal legislative proposals.

Reuther earlier had accompanied AFL-CIO President George Meany to the White House for a conference with President Kennedy on the economy and on tax cut proposals.

The union leader predicted to newsmen that business will join with labor in seeking a tax slash in the neighborhood of $10 billion a year.

★ ★ ★

He said they may differ on where the cuts will be concentrated but "responsible businessmen" agree there should be a quick and substantial tax reduction.

Probe Charge Hurt Firemen Unattended

DETROIT (AP) — Charges that eight firemen injured in a four-alarm fire were left unattended "a long time" at Receiving Hospital were ordered investigated yesterday by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

The charges were made by officers of the Detroit Firefighters Association. They were denied by Dr. Ralph Piper, medical superintendent at the hospital.

Cavanagh called Dr. Charles Anderson, city health commissioner, to a conference on the dispute and Anderson was sent to the hospital to make a separate investigation.

The firemen were injured in battling a blaze yesterday that destroyed an apartment building. The building was situated in an area scheduled for redevelopment and had been marked for demolition.

Robert Hurst, 42, the apartment caretaker, died in the blaze and the other occupants fled into the subfreezing weather in their nightclothes.

None of the firemen was injured. Flying bricks from a collapsing wall struck several. One was struck by a falling beam and another fell from a 35-foot ground ladder.

Cold Weather Puts Chill on Plans of Car Thieves

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Lt. Richard Mahoney of the Auto Recovery Bureau reports that the city's cold weather has resulted in slim pickings for car thieves.

He said the bureau reports car thefts dropped from the usual 45 to only 20 Tuesday night and early Wednesday. "Even the thieves couldn't start them," Mahoney said.

2 Underground N-Blasts Triggered in Nevada

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission yesterday triggered two low-yield underground nuclear explosions at its Nevada testing grounds.

Equal to less than 20,000 tons of TNT, the explosions were numbers 58 and 59 in the current series of tests.

Ex-Police Inspector Seeks Detroit Office

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit Police Inspector Philip Van Antwerp, 51, announced yesterday he will file as a candidate for the Detroit Common Council in the Feb. 18 primary election.

Twelve candidates have filed for the council vacancy created by the death of Van Antwerp's cousin, Eugene Van Antwerp, on Aug. 5.

U.S. Space Switchboard Planned for Orbit Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) Keeping a weather eye on the winds six to eight miles above the earth, the space agency today prepared to install an intercontinental switchboard out in space.

Barring trouble from high winds above or the unseasonably cold weather down here below, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will send the Relay communications satellite aloft sometime between 6:30 and 8:18 (EST) tonight.

Relay, a more sophisticated brother of the highly successful Telstar, was designed as another step in the process of developing a spatial communications network to take the load off overtaxed land lines and ocean cables.

It is equipped to relay telephone, teletype, radio and television signals between the United States, Europe and—except for television—South America. Officials emphasize that it is purely experimental.

RELIABLE ROCKET

Relay will be carried aloft on the nose of a Thor-Delta rocket. Robert Gray, project manager for NASA said the rocket has chalked up 13 straight successes.

He said the only problem that had officials concerned were winds 30,000 to 40,000 feet above the earth in the area where the Thor-Delta undergoes its most severe structural strain.

If all goes well, the experiments will begin Friday morning, 13½ hours after launch, as Relay swings through an egg-shaped orbit reaching from 700 to 4,000 miles above the earth.

Wideband radio frequency and television test pattern transmissions will be relayed through the satellite. Two days after launching news stories will be transmitted between the United States and Europe, and two days later between the United States and South America.

Romanoff's to Close Doors at Month's End

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Romanoff's, for more than two decades a sartorial showplace for movie stars dining out, is closing its doors for good Dec. 31.

Proprietor Mike Romanoff admits it's no coincidence that the famed restaurant is going out of business on the eve of the Internal Revenue Service crackdown on expense account living.

"It's the end of an era," he said yesterday.

Mike, once famous as a bogus prince, gave the sad news to his staff yesterday.

He has invited his old customers, a virtual who's who of Hollywood, to his restaurant for a farewell party next Tuesday, the 23rd anniversary of his restaurant's founding.

Prince Mike, 69, said the restaurant has lost money the last year, and future prospects looked dim — what with stricter expense account accounting now in the offing.

Americans at Moscow U. Now Appreciate U.S. More

By BOB CONSIDINE

MOSCOW — George Demko and his pretty wife Jeanette live in two tiny rooms in a dormitory wing of the 720-foot tall University of Moscow.

Demko, who comes from Allentown, Pa., and graduated from Penn State, is taking a course in the migration of populations.

His wife, who was a Philadelphia schoolmarm, keeps CONSIDINE house. She is learning Russian from a Russian schoolmarm, to whom she's teaching English.

The Demkos are two of the 27 Americans, including 10 wives, now in residence at the university on an exchange basis.

Their way is paid by the Interuniversity Committee on Travel Grants, in turn underwritten jointly by their respective universities, the U.S. Government and the Ford Fund for Adult Education.

Each payday, the 23rd of the month, the students receive 150 rubles ($160) plus a largely hypothetical $80 dollars from home. This monthly stipend was paid in advance in a lump sum for their full 9-month stay in Moscow.

★ ★ ★

"Most of us spent it to get out of debt before coming over," Demko told us with a shy grin. He resembles a handsome Jack Palance and Jeanette an intellectual blonde drum-majorette.

He would like to stay another full term, studying the changing geography of the world population.

She is getting a little homesick, particularly now that Christmas is near. So they'll return to the U.S. in the spring and take teaching jobs next fall. They'll have a great experience under their belts.

NOW APPRECIATE U.S.

"We're going to be better Americans when we get home," Jeanette told us warmly. "If I ever hear a woman complain again in a well-stocked supermarket, I'll give her a piece of my mind. We never really appreciated our privileges until we came here to live."

As far as the Demkos know, the university faculty and the students who supervise the everyday life in classes and on the campus ("16 times the size of your Columbia University campus," an Intourist guide once told us) make no attempt to convert the American students to Communism.

"On the whole, the Russians have treated us magnificently," Demko told us. "My instructor is a great teacher. We live on what is called the lawyers' floor. Five or six are cool to us because we are Americans, but the others treat us fine.

"One came in from a Young Communist meeting not long ago, all excited and indignant, and said, 'George, did you know that you Americans have hanged Negroes in your southland? This we were told about tonight, and it is shocking!'

"I let him rave on for a while, then I told him that he had been told the truth; but that the truth had first been printed in the American press and great reforms had come of it.

★ ★ ★

"On the other hand, I pointed out, he had no means of knowing all of the cruelties committed by Communists in Russia's past because there is no free press here. That stopped him."

BETTER QUARTERS

The Demkos and other young American couples living at the university each have twice as much living space — which is always measured in square meters —as their Russian counterparts.

They have their own shower and toilet. Rent is $8 a month. The others must share conveniences and exist on a much meaner allowance.

It is against university rules, but a number of Russian students have moved wives, children and even parents into their cubicles.

"It's the world's largest chicken house," laughs Phil Stewart, late of the University of Indiana. Phil and his pretty young wife Nancy are part of the American community as is a granddaughter of left wing artist Rockwell Kent.

The American students must take care of their rooms and are scolded if they fail to observe curfew. The men stand six hours of telephone answering duty in their dorm areas twice a month.

Demko has classes every Tuesday and Friday, spends much of the rest of his time in the colossal library that runs through the core of the skyscraper. He is fascinated by the wealth of learning on its shelves, and by the Russian mind at work.

"One of the Russians came to me the other day puzzled by a story that the British are having trouble inducing urban populations to move into suburbs.

He wondered why there should be any trouble. I told him the people just didn't want to move.

He looked stunned, then asked, 'But why doesn't the government just order them?' —

"I'm working on him," George said.

Insurers Get OK to Raise Rates

LANSING (AP) — An average 10 per cent boost in auto insurance rates for bodily injury and property damage liability coverage has been approved for some 100 companies, insurance commissioner Sherwood Colburn announced yesterday.

At the same time, Colburn said that rates for comprehensive and deductible collision insurance have been reduced by an average of more than 8 per cent for private autos and 3 per cent for commercial vehicles.

The approval was given to affiliated companies of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association, which write about 15 per cent of the Michigan auto insurance business.

Colburn said the reduction on collision and comprehensive policies offsets the liability rate increase so that the average change for full coverage is relatively small.

Policyholders' present premiums will not be affected until existing policies are renewed, he said.

Colburn added that other companies are expected to file for rate revisions in the next few months because of high losses generally sustained last year.

Dies of Raid Wounds

FLINT (AP) — A car-truck collision claimed the life of Herschel Britton, 59, of Flint, yesterday. Leonard Merritt, 33, also of Flint, said Britton's car made a U-turn in front of his truck on U. S. 54 in southeast Flint.

Asks JFK to Extend Public Works Plan

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac Mayor Robert Landry has appealed to President John F. Kennedy to push for an extension of the current public works acceleration program.

★ ★ ★

In a telegram to Kennedy, Landry asked the president to "support authorization to extend the accelerated public works program beyond the 1963 termination date."

Pontiac has been caught in a situation that stems largely from too much good administrative planning, city officials explained.

"Our trouble is that we don't pay for plans and drawings of a project until we have the funds to complete the job," said City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

"That means simply that while we may hope to build something five years from now, we don't have plans already prepared that we can take from a shelf, dust off and send to the federal agency with a grant application."

2 PROJECTS

Currently Pontiac has applied for a grant under the acceleration act for two projects: a community recreation center on the South Side and a sewer on the North Side.

★ ★ ★

Faced with a tight budget and probable tax rate increase next year, commissioners and administrators would like to see the program deadline extended.

Federal aid on some local sewage, street and other public improvement projects next year could do much to ease budget tensions.

Local officials plan to apply for grants on these local projects in the near future but fear they couldn't be acted on by federal officials before the program's termination date.

The program requires that plans be submitted for projects along with applications for aid.

Its major purpose is to speed construction, making completion of projects possible sooner than originally planned.

Most projects for which Pontiac officials already have plans drawn, are to be started in the near future and could not be accelerated to any degree.

TIME PROBLEM

Another problem facing Pontiac is that projects must begin within 120 days from the time federal officials approve grant applications.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac is currently in the midst of a rebuilding program and nearly all of next year's capital improvement funds are committed for projects already completed, under way or soon to begin.

"Even with the federal government paying half the cost, there isn't much room in our 1963 budget for additional expenditures," Stierer pointed out recently.

In order to accelerate a project still a year or more away in the city's long range planning, city officials would have to put up at least half the estimated cost in 1963.

If local funds were available or the federal program extended, city officials had considered asking for aid on a proposed $1-million northeast trunk sewer, a $1-million southeast trunk sewer, and a $290,000 extension of East Boulevard.

Also considered were a proposed $125,000 neighborhood fire station, some $136,800 in storm and sanitary sewers and construction of an interior loop road downtown estimated to cost about $151,600.

HELP FOR NEEDY — Sale of the Salvation Army magazine, "War Cry," from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday night by the Pontiac Exhange Club will buy Christmas baskets for needy families. Pontiac Motor Division Manager E. M. Estes (left) makes an early purchase from Club President Floyd Temple. Sales spots will be downtown streets, the Tel-Huron Shopping Center and the Pontiac Mall.

3 Youths Due in Court Jan. 11

Three youths accused of breaking some $4,000 worth of windows in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Township area Monday night face examination in Birmingham Municipal Court Jan. 11.

★ ★ ★

The trio, stopped by Bloomfield Hills police with a pellet gun and bricks in a car about midnight Monday, demanded examination yesterday before Municipal Judge John C. Emery Jr.

They are charged with malicious destruction to real property, a felony.

Free on $100 personal bonds are David A. Staudt, 20, 5339 Kellen Lane, Bloomfield Township, and two 19-year-old Birmingham residents, Walter H. Riley, 573 Westchester Way, and Robert K. Ross, 599 Merritt Lane.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham police said there were 36 complaints of windows being smashed by pellets and bricks on homes, cars and business places in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township Monday.

Will Interview U.S. Families on Finances

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Researchers for the University of Michigan Survey Research Center will interview more than 2,000 American families in the center's 18th annual Survey of Consumer Finances, next January and February.

★ ★ ★

The families represent a carefully chosen sample of Americans across the country, the center said, and will exclude those interviewed last year.

★ ★ ★

Interviewers will repeat perennial questions on income, financial position and major family purchases in the previous year, as well as each family's evaluation of its current financial situation and its prospects for the following year.

Statistical reports on the survey are prepared for the use of business, labor and government economists and teachers.

The surveys also have been helpful in appraising the influence of consumers on the general business outlook, the center said.

★ ★ ★

Major cities to be covered include Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, St. Louis and Washington and their suburbs. Scores of smaller cities and rural areas will be covered, the center said.

Roof Cave-In Kills 5, Hurts 9

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Fourteen men plummeted 60 feet to the ground when a partly completed reservoir roof collapsed last night. Five were killed.

★ ★ ★

The other nine were injured and one of them was in serious condition.

The men were only a half-hour from pouring the last concrete on the roof of the reservoir when scaffolding supports gave way.

J. Duane Cox, a city building inspector, was on the roof but didn't fall.

"I felt a blast of air," he said. "I looked and saw chunks of concrete flying into the air . . . all I remember was a whoosh, and there it was on the bottom, a big mess of concrete and timbers."

★ ★ ★

The reservoir is being built to store six million gallons of water for Hillsboro, 20 miles west of Portland.

Cause of the collapse has not been determined.

Negroes' Admission to Tulane Praised

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —An attorney for the first two Negroes accepted to enter Tulane University has hailed the school's decision as "a courageous step forward."

The 128-year-old university took the action voluntarily yesterday after a federal court declined to order enrollment of the Negroes, Barbara Marie Guillory and Mrs. Pearlie Hardin Elloie.

Both sought admission as graduate students. They now are eligible for spring term enrollment.

★ ★ ★

"The coercive force of a court order will never be a substitute for this type of voluntary recognition of the rights of others," their attorney, John P. Nelson Jr., said.

Waterford Goodfellows Raise $2,300 in Sale

Waterford Township's Goodfellows raised $2,300 in Saturday's annual newspaper sale, according to Goodfellow President Clayton Soncrainte.

Though $700 short of the $3,000 goal, Soncrainte said the Goodfellows will have sufficient funds to assure a brighter Christmas for the needy families in the community.

Picks His Own Poison

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—James F. Woodward, 42, put insecticide in an empty rum bottle several months ago and placed it under the kitchen sink, his roommate said. Woodward died yesterday shortly after drinking a dose of the poison.

Labor Board Dismisses Union-Hospital Dispute

A dispute between a union trying to organize at Bloomfield Hospital and the hospital has been dismissed, the State Labor Mediation Board announced.

A board spokesman, mediator Hyman Parker, said today the case was closed after the union failed to appear before a governor's committee appointed to probe the dispute.

The dispute was over recognition of the union by the hospital. The labor group, called Hospital and Sanitarium Employes Guild, Chapter No. 5, claimed it represented a majority of the hospital's nonprofessional employes. The hospital denied this.

★ ★ ★

The dispute began in spring, and a representation election was conducted by the mediation board in July.

NEVER COUNTED

However, the votes never were counted.

The union claimed irregularities in the votes cast. The ballots were kept under seal by the board while arguments were presented before Parker.

★ ★ ★

The matter was referred to a governor's committee, when Parker said no decision could be reached by the board and the parties.

The union failed to attend sessions held by the governor's committee, claiming the matter had been referred to it erroneously.

The Pontiac Chapter 5 president, Harold Russell, said no union representatives had appeared before the panel because the union was challenging the panel's jurisdiction.

★ ★ ★

Russell said the dispute actually centered around the validity of the votes cast which was a matter which could have been decided by the mediation board.

The panel, headed by Birmingham attorney Thomas G. Kavanagh, cited the union's nonappearance as the reason for dismissal of the dispute. The opinion was unanimous.

Area Residents on Dem Bodies

3 Named Chairmen of County Committees

Three Pontiac and Waterford Township residents are among chairmen of 10 committees of the Oakland County Democratic party organization appointed by county chairman Sander Levin.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George Googasian, 105 E. Iroquois St., was named cochairman of the precinct organization and training committee, along with Harold Julian of Berkley.

Louis Golden, 2025 N. Lake Angelus Road, Waterford Township, was appointed chairman of the finance committee.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Luther Olson, 4990 Shelbourne St., Waterford Township, is cochairman of the newly formed party expansion committee. She is assisted by cochairman Howard Arnold of Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Betty H. McKay, 1678 Yosemite St., Birmingham, Democratic candidate for county treasurer in the Nov. 6 election, was renamed chairman of the membership committee.

Martin Doctoroff of Royal Oak was reappointed chairman of the business and professional committee.

Mrs. Morris Weiss, 23141 Parklawn St., Oak Park, again was named cochairman of the issues and research committee. Assisting her is cochairman Archie Bailey of Berkley.

★ ★ ★

Other Committee appointments were Mrs. Donald Beck, 25203 Inkster Road, Farmington Township, publicity; Mrs. William Clark, 540 S. Cranbrook Cross Road, Bloomfield Township, women's activities; Gail Fredericks of Clawson, candidates; and John Dewan of Madison Heights, bylaws.

★ ★ ★

Pope Gets Set for Christmas at the Vatican

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII worked in his Vatican apartments today preparing for a Christmas he says may be his last.

No one would say whether the 81-year-old pontiff was referring to his illness or merely the normal toll of time when he alluded to death in a public audience yesterday.

However, Vatican sources said his remarks should not be taken to mean he has taken a turn for the worse.

It was the Pope's first public audience since he became ill two weeks ago with what was said to be stomach trouble and anemia.

He told the group he hoped the Ecumenical Council could finish its work by Christmas 1963.

★ ★ ★

"I may not be here but if I'm not, there certainly will be another pope," he said.

★ ★ ★

While the words were serious and his face was deeply lined, he spoke with a smile and in a lighthearted manner.

Sen. Roberts Predicts Big Push

Local Mental Clinics Sought Again

Backers of easy-aceess, county-operated community mental clinics will try again next year to obtain enabling legislation, State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts predicted yesterday.

Roberts, R-Pontiac, made the statement following a report on such local clinics before a meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society of Mental Health.

The session was held yesterday at Devon Gables with high-ranking county officials and several state legislators in attendance.

The community clinics, Roberts said, would encourage people "to think of their problem as they would of a physical illness, to go to the local hospital and be helped, and then to go home."

In the long run, he added, the present state hospitals would "wither away."

The local clinic plan, said Roberts, would provide easily accessible clinics which would diagnose and treat mental troubles in the early stages.

This, he said, would prevent a progression of the illness and would cut down the number of people who must go to state hospitals.

The plan is based on voluntary treatment and the theory that patients adjust more rapidly to treatment closest to their home environment, he said.

DIED IN COMMITTEE

A proposal for the clinics was kept in a Senate committee last year, in view of opposition from State Mental Health Director Charles F. Wagg.

Roberts is chairman of the committee, the Senate Interim Study Committee on Mental Health.

He said the proposed legislation would have a better chance of passing next year with Gov.-Elect George W. Romney "sympathetic" to the plan.

In their next attempt, backers of the plan expect the proposal to be launched by the governor's office, not the interim committee.

"I think around the state there is bipartisan support for this plan, Roberts told the meeting.

Ranking county officials present yesterday expressed their support for the community mental health services legislation.

Queried on the subject, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, said that "those supervisors who are informed about the plan are in favor of it."

Sam Levinson, chairman of the supervisors' ways and means committee, said his committee was in favor of the legislation "in principle."

He added the warning that, "of course, you never know what kind of legislation will finally come out that may make you want to back away from it."

★ ★ ★

He said he believed the county was already paying a half million dollars a year for mental health and that the new plan "won't cost us any more and will provide better services."

Cy Miller, chairman of the supervisors' health committee, also said he believed his committee favored the community mental health clinics.

Roberts explained that such clinics could be financed on a matching basis. Half the money would be provided by the county and the other half by the state.

The state would set minimum standards of care, personnel and facilities.

The money could be raised in one of two ways, he added:

1—By having voters agree to a one-mill extra levy in property tax.

★ ★ ★

2—By funneling back to the county part of a statewide income tax, which, he said, "would take some load off the property owners."

★ ★ ★

Among those attending were Probate Judges Donald E. Adams and Arthur E. Moore; state representatives Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, Henry Hogan, R-Bloomfield Township, and Bill S. Huffman, D-Madison Heights; Arnold Hulet, supervisors' chairman pro tem; County Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward.

Hits Litterbugs of Lake Erie

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Lakeside litterbugs have turned the western end of Lake Erie into something resembling a "glorified cesspool," says Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the University of Michigan Department of Fisheries.

Water pollution is potentially a problem on all the Great Lakes but it stands out in Lake Erie because of its shallowness and the shape of the basin, he said.

Experts think that one of the major causes is the increasing disposal of industrial wastes in the Detroit River and on the western end of the basin, he said.

Fertilizer and soil washing into the lake from farm lands and oil pollution caused by shipping contribute to the problem.

Public education is essential to to end the problem, he said. Other steps include:

— Requiring all communities to give fullest treatment to domestic sewage;

* * *

— Encouraging the use of short-lived detergent materials;

— Preventing ships from emptying their refuse into the water;

— Encouraging industrial reforms in waste disposal.

China-India Clash Forces Kashmir Move

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

It was on Nov. 2, 1947, that Prime Minister Nehru of India announced that "we have declared that the fate of Kashmir is ultimately to be decided by the people . . . we are prepared when peace, law and order have been established, to have a referendum held under international auspices like the United Nations."

NEWSOM

It was a high-sounding pronouncement but it was not to be.

Indian troops already were in Kashmir, sent there to put down a pro-Pakistan uprising.

At first clandestinely, then openly, the troops of Pakistan also were moving up and soon Kashmir was divided, about one-third to Pakistan in the west and north and the remaining two-thirds to India.

And that way it has remained for the last 15 years, with the threat of a major clash between Pakistan and India always a possibility.

United Nations and Pakistani demands that Nehru permit the plebiscite he promised were ignored and finally Nehru's own pledge renounced.

* * *

Had a plebiscite been possible, Moslem Kashmir almost certainly would have gone to Pakistan.

But when the Red Chinese lunged across the McMahon Line in a major attack on India, they did more than upset Nehru's long-cherished ideal of the five principles of coexistence.

They also brought Nehru face-to-face with the Kashmir problem again for thousands of his best troops were tied up guarding the cease-fire line with Pakistan.

A negotiated settlement began to look more attractive.

Pakistan, uneasy and angered at the flow of Western arms coming to the assistance of Nehru against Red Chinese, also became more amenable to negotiations for in the end both face the possibility of a common enemy.

EASY FOR NEHRU

Kashmir is bounded by India, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Communist China, and Tibet, and is separated from the Soviet Union by only a few miles of Chinese and Afghan territory.

For Nehru to agree, under United States and British pressures, to the negotiations was a reasonably simple decision.

At the worst, the situation would be unchanged. At the best he would free important forces for his defenses against China.

For Pakistani President Mohammad Ayub Khan the decision was more complicated.

Since the lifting of martial law in Pakistan last spring and the revival of political parties, Ayub's opponents have become increasingly vocal.

* * *

They have used the shipment of U.S. arms to India as a springboard to demand that Pakistan abandon its western treaties and they have attacked Ayub for agreeing to the negotiations with advance assurances that Pakistan would receive at least a part of the two-thirds of Kashmir now held by India.

In Karachi and Pakistan's new capital of Rwalpindi there is a mounting opinion that Ayub now has put his career on the line. And that failure in these negotiations could bring about his downfall.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and out of the Chinese attack on India may at last come a settlement of the Kashmir question.

Order Execution of Red Food Thief

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet court has ordered the execution of a government grain elevator operator who stole $105,000 worth of foodstuffs and sold them privately, Tass reported yesterday.

The Soviet news agency said the culprit, A. I. Karnaukov, had 12 accomplices and operated in the monastery town of Zagorsk, near Moscow.

The report said he made off with 95,240 rubles worth of flour, rice, wheat and other state property.

Two accomplices were sentenced to 15 years in prison, and the other 10 were given terms which were not disclosed.

$100-a-Ticket Habit Haunts Washington

AP Photofax

DACHSHUND ON WHEELS — A pony named Merry Christmas checks over his friend Fritzy, a 6-year-old dachshund. The dog uses a special three-wheeled walker for locomotion. Its hind legs have been paralyzed since last month because of a slipped disc and the contraption enables it to get around.

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—To be perfectly frank about it, Washingtonians are being hundred-dollared to death lately.

The current rash of $100-a-ticket arm-twisting began in September, when the Kennedy clan put the bee on foreign ambassadors, government officials, business executives and local cave-dwellers to kick in for the opening night of the Irving Berlin musical, "Mr. President."

RUTH MONTGOMERY

* * *

All proceeds went to the Kennedy Foundation, a family controlled enterprise that gives grants for work with the mentally retarded.

This is a laudable enterprise, but since the usual admittance fee for charitable enterprises is $10 to $25, the hook was baited with some extraordinary come-ons.

President Kennedy's sister, Jean Smith and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, served as cochairmen.

In that capacity they persuaded a number of ambassadors and high-ranking officials to give free buffet parties before or after the play for the $100 ticket-holders.

The lure proved irresistible, and the theater was a sell-out.

Next came the $100-a-plate dinner for the benefit of a national cultural center. The same officials, foreign envoys and socialites anted up again, but since the armory seats a colossal 5,000, less than half the tickets were sold, despite the fact that First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy was the cochairman, and her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, the Washington chairman.

JFK GETS INTO ACT

The President then moved into the act. By telegram he invited several hundred Washington representatives of defense contractors to a cocktail party at the White House.

The "message" was obvious, and the previously wised-up gentlemen quickly bought the remaining tickets at a thousand-dollars-a-table. Thanks to this eleventh-hour pressure, the armory was filled.

Now comes the third batch of "invitations." This time they are signed by the Democratic National Committee, bidding the unlucky recipients to come to a $100-a-plate dinner for President Kennedy to "celebrate" the second anniversary of his inauguration, but more importantly, to raise dough for the party coffers.

There is nothing new about such slush-fund dinners. What gives this one a unique twist is that, having pretty well worked over the defense contractors, and scarcely daring to ask the embassies to support this one, the committee has created a furor by putting the bite on civil service employes of the government.

* * *

The career employes are in somewhat of a panic over the "invitation" to buy hundred-dollar tickets. Their jobs are supposed to be strictly nonpolitical, but many of them fear that their failure to cough up will jeopardize their careers.

'HOPE' EXPRESSED

Some of their bosses, who owe their own appointments to the Kennedy administration, have followed up the "invitations" by expressing the "hope" that they will comply.

If they fail to do so, will they miss a promotion? Or discover that their job has unfortunately been abolished by the agency? The inference is clear that they are expected to contribute.

The head of the Civil Service Commission, a Kennedy appointee, has ruled that the $100-a-plate "invitations" do not violate the Hatch Act forbidding political pressure on civil servants because they were mailed to their homes.

Most of the recipients can read whether at home or at their office, however, and some feel that the bids read like "the handwriting on the wall."

* * *

New Frontier appointees who have felt the political necessity to bite on all three invitations, at $200-per-couple, lament that grub was never this dear along the old frontier.

* * *

But who knows, maybe this is the way to get American money moving again.

Steel Medians Prevent Head-On X-Way Mishaps

NEW YORK (UPI) — Head-on collisions on major highways could be practically eliminated by use of dividers to separate traffic moving in opposite directions, according to highway authorities.

Statistics compiled by safety account for about 4,000 of the estimated 38,000 lives lost annually in motor vehicle accidents.

High-speed toll road authorities, notably those operating the state turnpikes in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, are turning increasingly to steel median beam type guard rails to prevent head-on collisions.

The New Jersey Turnpike, most heavily traveled toll road in the nation, has not experienced one fatality due to head-on collisions since installation of a metal guard rail over its 118-mile course, according to Joseph Morecraft, Jr., chairman of the Turnpike Authority.

The 22 - year-old Pennsylvania Turnpike, oldest of all toll roads in the United States, recently passed the half-way mark in a program to install steel guard rails on its 470-mile route.

Oakland Educator to Give Data Talk

The use of electronic computers to solve problems of teaching children will be the subject of a talk by an Oakland County educator before the Jan. 8-9 winter conference of the Michigan Association of Intermediate School Administrators.

* * *

The speaker will be Rex Wood, director of administration for the Oakland County Board of Education. The title of his talk will be "Data Processing Applications to Instructional Problems."

* * *

He will address an estimated 80 county school superintendents during the conference at the Pantlind Hotel, Grand Rapids.

* * *

Among those attending the session will be Dr. William Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools, who is vice president of the sponsoring group, the Michigan Association of Intermediate School Administrators, a department of the Michigan Education Association.

4-Cent Stamp, Last of Kind, to Go On Sale

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP) — This old fishing port will be a mecca for philatelists Saturday when the last four-cent American stamp issue goes on sale for the first time.

* * *

The stamp, commemorative of Marine artist Winslow Homer's painting "Breezing Up," will become available at ceremonies headed by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

* * *

New rates, calling for five cents postage, go into effect Jan. 7.

The Winslow painting depicts a catboat heading homeward under leaden skies and is considered by some postal officials to be one of the most striking American stamps ever issued.

Day will speak at Gloucester High School at morning ceremonies.

Judge Alters Advice on Complaint at Fine

ROMFORD, England (UPI) — Judge John Lockwood yesterday told a man who complained he could not afford a $2.80 fine, "you had better go out and beg, borrow or steal a pound."

"On second thought," the judge said quickly, "you had better not steal it."

German Exchange Student Brings WW II Memories

By JOE MULLEN

Fred Feekart of Waterford Township became aware of a startling coincidence last summer. He is reminded of it daily in his home.

The Feekart family of 3616 Meadowleigh Lane asked to take an exchange student for a year.

Last July a letter told them all about the German girl who would live with them.

A quick glance at the resume sent Feekart rummaging through mementos collected as an infantryman in Germany.

The girl was born April 2, 1945 in the small village of Wernigerode in East Germany, the report stated. He was in that very town with his army unit, Feekart recalled. And, it was in the spring of 1945.

* * *

Further checking revealed that the former soldier arrived in Wernigerode a few days before Gabriele Schwarz was born. He was still there the day of her birth.

RECALLS MEMORIES

To Feekart, the tiny village where his guest first saw day recalled memories of a huge concentration camp. The GIs liberated prisoners and broke up the Nazi facility.

When Gabriele was only a few weeks old, her parents fled with her to West Germany and made their home in Lueneburg in the northern part of the country, just eight miles from Communist territory.

Another coincidence concerning the two families came to light when 17-year-old Gabriele arrived in Waterford in August.

Her father, an English professor at the university in Lueneburg, studied in the States during the mid-thirties at Amherst College in Massachusetts.

* * *

Feekart was a student in Germany prior to the war, about the same period the exchange student's father was in this country.

Gabriele's adopted father for a year completed his education at General Motors Institute and is now director of assembly research for the Chevrolet Division.

Having studied in Germany and later serving as an interpreter with his military unit, Feekart developed a good command of the German language and retains much of this ability.

He enjoys testing his verbal prowess on Gabriele.

But she prefers to converse in English.

"After all," the bright-eyed senior at Waterford Kettering High School explained, "I'm more interested in practicing my English."

Terry Feekart, 15, and her sister for a year from Germany have become close friends. Both girls enjoy dancing and swimming and are enthusiastic boosters of Kettering athletic teams. Terry is a sophomore at WKHS.

SPORTS THRILLING

"Sports events in this country are so thrilling," Gabriele marveled. "In Germany schools have soccer teams but the students show little interest. Professional teams command all the attention."

* * *

As for school, Gabriele feels the education program in her native land is somewhat more demanding than here despite the shorter classroom schedule in Germany.

* * *

"We have a great deal of homework and mathematics and the sciences are emphasized more in the curriculum," she explained.

Gabriele is enjoying her stay in this country. She has been impressed by many things, ranging from the friendliness of the people to our food.

"Maybe the food is too good," she observed. "It's difficult to keep from gaining weight."

Bids to Be Opened on New Freeway

LANSING (AP) — Bids will be opened Dec. 19 on four contracts for some $13 million in engineering and construction of more than four miles of Grand Rapids' East-West Freeway, the Highway Department has announced.

The department said the four projects are the first of a series which will place most of the 12-mile $40-million freeway under contract by next spring.

The four projects will extend the freeway 4.3 miles from Fuller Avenue to the Grand River south of Butterworth Avenue, the department said.

Handy Around House

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Among those in the state earning $10,000 to $25,000 a year were the heads of 12 families who listed occupations as "private household workers," the State Civil Rights Commission said today.

About $91 a year is spent for meat for each American.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRIC LIGHTS

QUESTION: How do neon lights work?

ANSWER: An ordinary electric light bulb (A) glows because it has a filament inside which resists the passage of electricity and gets white hot in doing so. But this is not the only way in which electricity can give us light.

In 1898 Sir William Ramsey and Morris W. Travers discovered a rare gas in the air and named it "neon" which means "new." Later, it was found that a current of electricity passed through a tube filled with neon gas (B) would give off a very intense, fire-red glow.

The electric current knocks electrons away from the neon atoms, and when these fly back to their atoms again energy is released which makes the red glow. Since it was possible to bend the tubes into different shapes, neon lights were ideal for road signs and by the 1920's were to be seen all over America.

Soon other colors besides red began to be used. A few drops of mercury put into the tube makes the color brilliant blue. Sodium vapor was found to produce a brilliant yellow light.

Then "fluorescent" tube lights arrived in which an inner coating of "phosphor" is made to glow by the electric current passing through the tube.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Tube lights are extremely useful but a simple experiment will show you that the good old incandescent bulb light has its place, too.

Find a magazine illustration with bright colors. Look at these colors under a fluorescent light. Then take the magazine under a bulb light and notice how much more brilliant and sparkling the colors look.

City Building Shows Decline

Seasonal Drop Not as Much as 1961

New construction in Pontiac last month showed its normal decline as winter approached, but still remained ahead of figures for the same month a year ago.

There were 93 building permits issued for some $290,385 in construction in November, said Carl F. Ali, city building inspector.

In November 1961, only 69 permits were issued for construction valued at $191,200.

There were 113 permits issued for $636,336 in new construction the month before last.

Home building was greater last month than in October or in November 1961. There were 29 permits issued for new family dwellings last month accounting for $132,600 of the total construction value.

In October, eight permits were issued for family dwellings valued at $63,400, while figures for November 1961 show 15 permits issued for $97,690 worth of new homes.

The largest single permit issued last month was for a $56,350 addition to Memorial Baptist Church.

Saturday Proclaimed Human Rights Day

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has proclaimed Saturday as Human Rights and Bill of Rights Day.

Swainson urged all citizens to observe this period and to foster maintenance and reinforcement of the Bill of Rights, "the core of our national strength and the symbol to all the world of American freedom."

Famous Flying Family Made Saginaw Known to World

SAGINAW (AP)—When Mrs. Jane Thomas celebrated her 76th birthday in October, it would have been appropriate had she marked the event upside-down, looking at the world from a trapeze bar.

For almost a half century Mrs. Thomas — better known throughout the circus world as Jane or Mom Melzora — has made the pedestal and trapeze rigging her home.

With her sons, Raymond and Melzer, and daughter-in-law, Anne, the flying Melzoras have lived the life of the circus, carrying the name of Saginaw to every part of the country.

★ ★ ★

At an age when most people would be content to sit back in their rocking chairs, mom has gathered the family together and begun rehearsals leading — she hopes—to the thin wire rigging beneath the big top.

For Melzer and mom, it means the end of a 14-year layoff. For Ray and Anne, the return ends seven years of idleness.

New rigging was strung last summer behind the family home, and the troupe busied itself working up a new act and training fresh recruits.

At 76, mom is still the top attraction, but she does get tired. Melzer has kept the style and form which won him the coveted flyer's crown at the age of 16.

But at 54 he's too much of a realist to believe that somersaults and pirouettes which made him the best in the business at the end of a flying trapeze can last forever.

Besides, he vowed long ago to retire at the top. He did.

1-LEGGED CLOWN

For Ray Melzora—billed as the world's only one-legged aerial clown—the return to the big top is not such a big step. He's never left the circus—not really.

★ ★ ★

He was slowed in 1932 when a toe infection suffered in a rigging mishap cost him his left leg, just below the knee. After one long year and thousands of hours of torturous practice, he was back at the same old stand.

Ray was too good. No one believed he had only one leg. Ray complains that some of the more "I'm-from-Missouri", kind of circus fans would kick at his leg in disbelief.

"The tragedy of it all," he says with a grin, "is that they'd usually kick the wrong leg."

This situation was remedied when Ray—with the aid of a specially constructed steering gear part — built an artificial limb which he can spin like a slow-moving propeller as he arcs through the air.

In 1912 the team joined the Walter L. Main circus.

Like other circus acts, the troupe wintered in Saginaw, where huge sawdust piles could be used to break the fall of an entertainer trying a new trick.

★ ★ ★

Sawdust, the Melzoras declared, lay behind Saginaw's claim to being home for more circus people than any other city.

As the sawdust pile disappeared, so did the performers.

The flying Melzoras continued to make Saginaw their home. They trained scores of the best catchers and flyers in the business.

Raised in the traditional circus trunk, Ray and Melzer joined the act when they were ready—that means when they could walk.

As members of a "mud show," the Silver family circus, the Melzoras traveled over all of Michigan and much of the Midwest by horse and wagon, mom and dad in a trapeze act, Ray and Melzer banging out a tune with the clown band.

And the boys practiced, hard and long. They learned the handstands and somersaults, the falls and rolls every circus kid knows.

Ray and Melzer put on the tight shirts and pulled pants—the mark of the aerial performer—when they turned seven.

★ ★ ★

Ray perfected his comedy routines. Melzer experimented with the swinging trapeze, polishing first a double somersault, then a triple.

He originated a hawk double, a feat in which the flyer—the person leaping from the trapeze to the hands of the catcher, then back — does a backward somersault and grabs a bar slipped into his reach by the catcher.

A split-second mistake in timing and the heavy bar could crack open the flyer's head, sending him spinning and bouncing onto the ground below.

Mom Melzora never missed when she caught her sons, nor did Anne after she joined the troupe.

★ ★ ★

Mom always made a home for her family, a home which was always the center of activity for everyone in the circus. When mom and Melzer separated some years ago, most of the troupe remained with her.

PROSPEROUS '20s

The Melzoras prospered during the 1920s and '30s. They starred with all the big ones, including Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey.

In 1933, Anne and Ray were married.

In 1934 Melzer perfected "the majestic leap," a feat never duplicated. The leap was a spectacular "high dive somersault over a returning flyer passing beneath from the hands of the catcher to a trapeze bar."

Mom retired from the act in 1938 and a Fort Wayne, Ind., lad, Paul Garee, was summoned to do the heavy work. Paul joined the seabees in 1944 and mom happily returned to the act.

It was the same year that the Melzoras performing individually with Ringling Bros. escaped serious injury in a circus fire.

In 1952, mom—then 64—again retired. Buster, 42, at the time—had promised himself to quit at 40—also put away his trapeze and tights.

★ ★ ★

Ray and Anne, with William Lake and Barry Miller, both of Saginaw, as replacements, kept the show on the road.

Anne dropped out in 1955 when she was hurt in a fall and Ray put together a single comedy routine. Then he, too retired.

TURNS TO WRITING

During the long layoff, Melzer set himself the task of writing about the circus and, of course, the trapeze aerialists.

He began a poem, portions of which have been printed in the Circus Review, and completed a novel.

He studied the history of trapeze as ardently as he had studied the trapeze itself when he was a performer.

Melzer claims that Saginaw gave the world the first real aerialist, William Hulme, known to audiences the world over as Sport Zeno.

★ ★ ★

Zeno was born in Saginaw in 1865. At 15, he ran away with a circus that had played in Saginaw.

In time, he organized a troupe of acrobats, specializing in horizontal bar work.

Experimenting and creating, Zeno hung a cradle from the end of the bar and as a finale to his act, caught his partner as they swung from the bar to the cradle and back to the bar.

In England, Zeno joined Dennis Turk. Together they created the flying trapeze, much as it is known today. His troupe was decimated by age and accidents.

He borrowed Ray and Buster to fill the engagement and the Melzoras went from that engagement to become the most widely imitated flying act in the circus—a business in which imitation is not only the sincerest form of flattery, but also a goal to continued self-improvement.

The best performers were those who could do something no one else had yet done. And at 16, Melzer became the world's best flyer. He had arrived.

Melzer's knowledge of the trapeze, Ray's inimitable comedy, Anne's charm and beauty and mom's courage and endurance may lead the flying Melzoras back to the top.

★ ★ ★

November's inbound flights carried 782 pounds of air mail, 2,223 pounds air freight and no air express.

Rich Lemmon Squeezed Out Film Career

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

HOLLYWOOD — His name was John Uhler Lemmon, III, when he went to Andover and Harvard. Came from Boston. Father, vice president of a large corporation.

Boy like that — you'd think he'd go into banking or law. But no. He dropped the Uhler and the III went to Hollywood, where they call him Jack Lemmon. He's an actor.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

His impressive credentials didn't keep Jack from (says his biography) "Nearly starving to death" in the pursuit of a career his parents disapproved. He admits it, but adds:

"No kid really starves, you know, even if he doesn't eat. That's the wonderful thing about being young. You can live on nothing, materially and physically, because it never occurs to you that you won't have plenty in just another day or two. You never dream of the possibility you won't 'make it.'"

Jack shrugs. Happily. "I didn't eat so well for a couple of years and today I say to myself, 'God, I'd never do it again.' But at the same time, I know I would do it again — if I were young."

Lemmon, perched handsomely on a stool in the middle of a Paris thoroughfare (the set for his new film, "Irma la Douce"), has the happy faculty of looking like an amiable social registerite and talking like a man of common sense. Whatever he smokes, he is a thinking man.

"I'm always nervous when I start a picture," he says, "and anybody with an ounce of sense probably is the same way. That first day you're in a sweat, and you don't completely dry out for usually, a couple of weeks — until finally you 'feel' the character you're playing.

"I never take a role, in the first place, if I can see — on reading the script — exactly how the role should be played. If it's that simple, if it's that black-and-white, then it's a 3B script. There should be an acre of interpretation between every line of dialogue; that's the way a good writer writes it. So when I take a role, I always have to admit to myself, 'I don't know how to play this — now.' And pray I'll discover how, after a lot of analytical homework."

Lemmon describes his homework as sitting down and "breaking down the character, inside and out, and letting him sort of mellow in my mind. You stand back, and think — how would this character behave, legitimately and honestly? Then, bending the character to the greatest legitimate dramatic impact, you start acting . . .

* * *

"But however hard you try," he smiles, "there is always more to be gotten out of good writing than you've got to give. Each time an actor sees himself, he sees something more he doesn't like. But you go on trying."

He won the academy award as best supporting actor of '55 for "Mister Roberts;" his performances in "Some Like It Hot" and "The Apartment" both won him best-actor nominations.

His subtle comedy role as the policeman in love with a prostitute in "Irma" will doubtless win him even more fans because he is wildly funny in the role.

While refusing to admit such immodesty, Lemmon agrees the picture should draw crowds.

"It will shock people, this movie," he says, "and that's good. I don't think any important movie should be made unless it's provocative enough to get people out of the house and into the theater.

"This movie, because of its theme, will bring in the people. But it's done on such a level of great taste, they'll find it's funny instead of terrible. And I don't care how prudish my fictional aunt is — she'll laugh!"

John Uhler Lemmon III obviously has no intention of returning to Boston.

THAT FINISHING TOUCH

The little something extra which is added at the last minute often makes the difference between a big success and something very ordinary.

This is especially true at Christmas time. The trouble is that usually the idea for that "extra finishing touch" occurs after your budget is already strained, and the money you need is hard to find.

This is where Pontiac Press Want Ads enter to help you bolster your sagging holiday finances. Use a Pontiac Press Want Ad to sell clothing . . . appliances . . . sporting goods . . . radios . . . record players . . . furniture . . . bicycles and toys. It's quick, it's easy, and it's inexpensive. It's the Want Ad way to add the finishing touch. Call FEderal 2-8181 for friendly assistance of our Ad-Visors who will help you in wording and placing your ad.

Shape Ham Dip Into Tree Form

Serve a snacking "tree" this holiday season that's both spicy and satisfying to all members of the family and the myriad of guests that drop in.

★ ★ ★

It's shaped festively like a Christmas tree and full of savory ingredients such as zesty deviled ham, a little onion, chopped hard-cooked eggs, and worcestershire. Smooth cream cheese decorates the edge, sprinkled with colorful chopped chives, and bright pimiento literally tops the tree as a "star" and the bottom as the "trunk."

★ ★ ★

Serve with assorted crackers and toast rounds anytime family and friends gather. It's a real conversation piece and tastes as good as it looks!

Spicy Snacking Tree

3 hard-cooked eggs
2 4½-oz. cans deviled ham
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon tabasco
1 teaspoon worcestershire
3 oz. package cream cheese, softened.
chopped chives
pimiento

Chop hard-cooked eggs. Combine with deviled ham, grated onion, tabasco and worcestershire. Chill. Shape into tree form. Decorate around the edge of the tree with softened creamed cheese, then top edging with chopped chives. Cover "tree trunk" with pimiento.

Serve with assorted crackers, and toast rounds. Serves 20-30.

Add Bit of Curry to Rarebit Recipe

Serve this savory rarebit for lunch or supper when you're in a hurry—it's quick to fix.

Jane Street Rarebit

1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 can (11 ounces) condensed cheddar cheese soup
½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon curry powder

Drain tomatoes and add to cheese soup turned into a saucepan just as it comes from can. Add sugar, mustard and curry powder. Heat gently, stirring occasionally, until serving temperature; do not boil. Serve over crisp toast.

If you like, you may dilute the rarebit with a little of the juice drained from the tomatoes. Makes 3 large servings.

Christmas Breakfast

Hot coffee cake, sizzling sausages, pan-fried Canadian-style bacon and sauteed lamb kidneys will bring the family to the Christmas breakfast table without a second call. A platter of meat is guaranteed to spark breakfast appetites, make the meal festive and capture fussy eaters from Christmas morning distractions.

Try Scandinavian Christmas Food

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

In Scandinavia the people make much of Christmas. Their traditions embrace the food they eat as well as the activities they pursue during the holiday season.

Extension groups throughout the county are discussing Scandinavian Christmas customs and foods this month. Yesterday the leaders met for a training session with Mrs. Mary Hardy, county Extension agent in home economics.

After a discussion of the food habits of the different nationality groups — Swedish; Danish, Norwegian, Finnish — the leaders prepared and served a Christmas Smorgasbord.

One dish common to Christmas feasts in Finland, Denmark and Sweden is risengrot, a sweet rice porridge containing one lone almond. Whoever finds the almond will marry or have other good luck within the next year.

CHRISTMAS PORRIDGE

6 cups milk
1 cup rice
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Put into top of double boiler. Cover and cook over simmering water 2½ to 3 hours, or until rice is completely soft when pressed between fingers.

Just before serving mix in 1 whole blanched almond. Serve with milk, sugar and cinnamon or a fruit sauce. Serves 6.

Berlinerkranser are typical Norwegian cookies — always made in the shape of little wreaths, they are served with coffee at the end of Christmas dinner.

BERLINERKRANSER

3 eggs, hard cooked
1 cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks
2 cups sifted flour

Cream butter or margarine, vanilla and sugar together until fluffy.

Cut hard-cooked eggs into halves; remove yolks to a bowl and mash with a fork. Add raw egg yolks one at a time, blending in thoroughly. Add egg mixture in thirds to creamed mixture, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Add sifted flour in fourths, beating thoroughly after each addition. Chill dough in refrigerator.

Cut off a small amount of dough and roll with hands into a strip about 4 inches long and ¾ inch thick. The ends of the strip should be slightly pointed. Overlap ends about ¼ inch, forming a wreath.

Brush with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle lightly with sugar. Bake 10-12 minutes at 350 degrees, or until cookies are golden yellow. Remove carefully to cooling racks. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Glog, the spicy hot wine drink from Sweden, wins more friends in this country every year. For good reason. It's a lively beverage, both in temperature and flavor. What's more, it is easy to make.

SWEDISH GLOG

¾ cup golden or dark raisins
1 tablespoon whole cardamom
2 teaspoons whole cloves
1 (3-inch) stick cinnamon
1½ cups water
½ cup sugar
1 (4/5-qt.) bottle Burgundy, Claret or other red dinner wine
¼ cup blanched almonds

Rinse and drain raisins. Peel cardamom and crush seeds using mortar and pestle or chop finely with a knife. Combine spices, ½ cup of raisins, water and sugar. Simmer about 15 minutes. Strain and add the liquid to wine in a sauce pan. Heat to simmering. Serve hot in punch cups with almonds and raisins in each cup.

Pontiac Press Photo

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT — Members of the food committee for the Extension leaders' training session on Scandinavian Christmas customs carry in more dishes for an already laden smorgasbord table. From the left are Mrs. Kenneth C. Butterfield, Ranch Lane; Mrs. Robert Ebbert, Rochester; and Mrs. Alvin DeLisle, Sherwill Road. Eighty-two leaders attended the meeting Wednesday at Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

Gingersnap Crumbs Contrast With Filling

A frozen dessert to please the most discriminating palates, "Fruited Lemon Cream" makes an ideal climax for a festive party dinner. Gay-looking, flavorsome canned fruit cocktail in many other such desserts as well as in salads and meat sauces sets them apart as menu specialties.

Fruited Lemon Cream

3 eggs
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
1½ cups canned fruit cocktail, drained
¾ cup gingersnap crumbs

Separate eggs and beat yolks lightly. Combine with ¼ cup sugar, lemon rind and lemon and orange juices. Cook over very low heat stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat and cool.

Beat egg whites with salt until stiff, then gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. With same beater, whip cream. Fold egg whites and cream into egg yolk mixture. Fold in well-drained fruit cocktail.

Sprinkle ½ cup crumbs in bottom of deep freezing pan, and sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Freeze in refrigerator with control at lowest temperature, or in freezer.

★ ★ ★

Remove from freezing compartment to shelf of refrigerator about 10 minutes before serving. Cut in squares or rectangles to serve.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Quick Supper Dish Has Mexican Touch

The flavors of corn, tomatoes and beef appeal to Americans as well as to our neighbors south of the border. This recipe calls for a pound of ground beef, a teaspoon of salt, an onion chopped fine, and a sprinkling of chili peppers, cumin and oregano. Saute over medium heat, then add a cup of whole kernel corn and 1½ cups tomato juice. Simmer until thick.

Butter a shallow baking dish and alternate the meat mixture with tortillas. Bake in a preheated oven at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Garnish with grated cheese and onions.

Preserves Glaze Boneless Pork

There will be meat leftover for sandwiches, to serve with eggs, or for a "made" dish.

Apricot-Glazed Pork Butt

1 boneless smoked pork shoulder butt
Whole cloves
½ cup apricot preserves
Juice from one-half of a lemon (1½ to 2 tablespoons)

Cook the butt according to wrapper directions for simmering in water; drain. Insert whole cloves over surface of butt at about 1-inch intervals. Place butt on turned-up foil in a small shallow pan; mix together the apricot preserves and lemon juice; spoon over top of butt.

★ ★ ★

Place in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 20 minutes. Serve slices of the butt with some of the glaze-sauce.

Fruit-Nut Stuffing Fills Lamb Shoulder

A heavily laden table dominated by a magnificent roast is one of the traditions of grand holiday entertaining. And it is a custom well suited to the casual ways of our American living, for there is no cooking method simpler than roasting. Plan a Sunday dinner featuring the young American Golden Harvest Lamb now in your markets.

Most homemakers think only of leg of lamb or loin chops. They aren't familiar with the numerous thrifty cuts, nor the outstanding delicious dishes that can be made from them.

The cushion-style shoulder roast, for example, is one of the most economical lambs cuts; yet as perfect for elegant dinners as for family fare. Your marketman will remove the shoulder blade bone leaving a pocket for stuffing. This roast, being boneless, will be exceptionally easy to carve at the dinner table.

When purchasing the lamb roast be sure to allow enough meat per serving for each guest . . . the American Lamb Council recommends one-third to one-half pound per person. Place the roast on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and always roast at a low oven temperature of 325 degrees to bring out the best in juiciness and superb flavor.

Holiday Lamb Cushion-Style Roast

½ package (8-ounce size) prepared stuffing mix
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup mixed candied fruit
1 vegetable bouillon cube
1 cup hot water
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
3½ to 4 pounds lamb shoulder, prepared cushion style
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups cold water

Combine in mixing bowl the stuffing mix, walnuts and half the candied fruit. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water and lightly stir half the bouillon and the butter into mixture. Fill lamb pocket with stuffing and sew edges or skewer to hold edges tightly. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper.

★ ★ ★

Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) about 2½ hours or until meat thermometer reads 180 degrees. Baste occasionally with remaining bouillon and pan drippings.

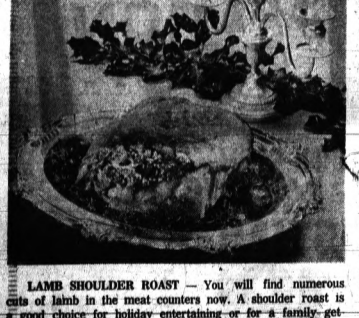
To prepare gravy, blend flour and salt into pan drippings and brown over low heat, stirring constantly. Add cold water; cook and stir until gravy is thickened. Add rest of candied fruit and serve with holiday lamb. Makes 6 servings.



LAMB SHOULDER ROAST — You will find numerous cuts of lamb in the meat counters now. A shoulder roast is a good choice for holiday entertaining or for a family get together. Stuff the pocket with a fruit and nut mixture.

Chop Pimiento for Gala Salad

What is more popular than delicious, colorful Christmas fare? Only Santa Claus. However, serving beautiful and flavorful dishes doesn't mean that we have to be isolated in the kitchen during the festivities.

★ ★ ★

There are many new convenience items on the grocers' shelves which can be served with a minimum of preparation. By thoughtfully combining these with "fix ahead" recipes you will find holiday entertaining a delightfully rewarding adventure.

Pimiento and Cheese Salad

1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 package (3 oz.) lemon flavored gelatin
2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese
1 can (4 oz.) pimientos, finely chopped
¼ cup celery, chopped
⅔ cup walnuts or pecans, chopped
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Drain the crushed pineapple. Heat the juice and dissolve the gelatin in it. Cool until slightly thickened.

Fold in softened cream cheese and crushed pineapple. Beat with electric mixer until cheese is in small lumps. Add pimientos, celery, nuts and salt. Fold in whipped cream.

Pour into 8 individual salad molds or a 5 cup salad mold. Chill until firm.

Storing lettuce in a plastic bag in the refrigerator helps keep in the vitamins and minerals, as well as keeping the lettuce crisp.

Fruit Cocktail Muffins Grace Early Meal

A delightful sweet quick bread . . . so good to taste when you linger over coffee.

Fruit Gems

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 egg (slightly beaten)
¾ cup milk
1 cup well-drained canned fruit cocktail
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon mace

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and ¼ cup sugar; cut in butter until it is in fine particles. Blend slightly beaten egg and milk; add to flour mixture with fruit cocktail. Stir only until flour mixture is moistened.

Turn into buttered muffin pans, filling ⅔ to ¾ full. Mix together the remaining 1 tablespoon sugar, lemon rind and mace; sprinkle over batter.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted comes out clean. Serve hot. Makes 12 gems if muffin-pan wells are ½ cup size.

All in a Day's Work

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Mounting 9,000 automobile tires is all in a day's work for Marion Campane, of Hamden, Conn. Moreover, Miss Campane disdains wearing overalls, or using a tire-iron. The tires are one-inch jobs, mounted on five-inch long Autorama remote-controlled cars at the A. C. Gilbert Company.

Candy Strips of Orange Peel Before Dipping Ends in Chocolate

Know any devotees of candied orange peel? Then make this interesting confection to serve with other sweet snacks during the holidays — or any time.

★ ★ ★

Like to give economical gifts from your kitchen? The candied peel is a perfect offering because its making takes more time than money. Only ingredients needed: oranges and a syrup made of sugar, corn syrup and water. For a glamorous flavor addition, the ends of the candied peel are dipped in melted chocolate.

Florentine Orange Peel

4 to 6 medium sized oranges — (not juice oranges)
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Choose thick-skinned oranges of a good color and free from blemishes. Wash oranges; make lengthwise cuts on peel down to pulp membrane so there are 4 to 6 sections; with fingers pull off peel.

Cover peel with cold water; add salt; bring to a boil; boil 10 minutes; drain. Repeat boiling and draining 2 more times, each time covering with fresh cold water and omitting salt.

★ ★ ★

If white membrane is extra thick, with bowl of spoon gently remove some of it; peel should be about ¾ inch thick. Cut peel into strips with scissors.

★ ★ ★

Mix 2 cups sugar, corn syrup and water in a 3-quart saucepan. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved.

Add orange peel; bring to a boil. Reduce heat and boil gently 45 minutes. Drain in coarse strainer or colander, reserving syrup.

Roll peel, a few pieces at a time, in extra sugar. Arrange in a single layer on trays; let dry about 24 hours.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot water. Dip ends of peel in melted chocolate; place on waxed paper until chocolate hardens.

Wrap tightly in transparent plastic wrapping; store in covered container. Makes about 10 ounces.

★ ★ ★

To use reserved syrup: After draining peel, bring syrup to a full rolling boil; cool; refrigerate covered. Use as a sauce for a dessert, waffles or pancakes.

Use for Cheese Rinds

Save cheese rinds and when you make soup stock boil them with the other ingredients for an added touch of flavor. They will also help "tone up" commercially canned soups.

Color Your Sugar

The youngsters will enjoy making colored sugar to sprinkle over frosting on cookies. Just sprinkle a few drops of food coloring on some granulated sugar, then let your small fry have the fun of spreading the color with their fingers.

HOSPITALITY — A glass of wine, a cooky or two — what a pleasant way to greet friends. Dessert wine, such as a California Port or Sherry, keeps very well after opening. It can be poured into a handsome decanter, and kept at room temperature or in a cool place if you prefer, throughout the holiday season. Cookies to go with wine may be rich, but should not be too sweet. Those using wine as the liquid ingredient are especially good companions.

Simple Cookies Best With Wine

For instant holiday hospitality, there is nothing simpler — or more enjoyable — than an assortment of distinctive cookies and a glass of dessert wine. The cookies may be freshly made or baked in advance and carefully stored. Port or Sherry, like those produced so abundantly in California, keeps well and needs no chilling.

★ ★ ★

Cookies to accompany wine should not be very sweet. These Sherry Pecan Rounds have the added advantage of being flavored with wine, so that there is an affinity between them and the accompanying beverage.

Sherry-Pecan Rounds

½ cup soft butter
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon anise extract
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 egg yolks
1 to 1¼ cups very finely chopped pecans
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup Sherry

Cream butter and sugar with anise and lemon rind until very light and fluffy. Beat in egg yolks thoroughly. Add ½ cup of the pecans. Resift flour with salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with Sherry.

Drop dough, a tablespoon at a time, into remaining chopped nuts. Toss or roll lightly until coated; shape into balls about ½ inch thick and 1½ inches in diameter. Place on lightly greased cooky sheets.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 10 minutes or just until delicately browned. Cool thoroughly before storing in an airtight container. Makes about 2 dozen.

Pink Fruit Cup Pleasing Way to Start Dinner

A "pink" fruit cup will start off the holiday dinner with a cheerful rosy glow!

Thanksgiving Fruit Cup

3 pink grapefruit
1¼ cups halved seeded Tokay grapes
½ cup bottled cranberry juice cocktail
Sugar to taste

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; cut each section in half.

Mix grapefruit and any juice with grapes and cranberry juice cocktail; add sugar to taste. Chill.

Serve in sherbet cups. Makes 6 servings; increase quantitites as needed.

Greek Tradition

Beloved custom in Greece is to bake special loaves of bread for Christmas. Each loaf is marked with a cross on top, and a coin is hidden inside the loaf. Tradition says that the finder will be prosperous and lucky throughout the coming year.

Put Vegetables Into New Dip

Be ready for the party way ahead of time by preparing this dip a day in advance.

Vegetable Zest Dip

1 cup mayonnaise
1-3 cup chili sauce
¼ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons drained horseradish
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 drops Tabasco sauce
⅛ teaspoon chili powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons carrot chutney

Combine all ingredients using a blender or mixer. Chill 2 hours before serving. Keep in tightly closed container in refrigerator. Makes 1½ cups.

Corned Beef and Eggs

Spread corned beef (fairly thick) in a baking pan and make some depressions with the back of a large spoon. Break an egg into each depression; sprinkle the eggs with shredded cheese and bake in a hot oven. Good brunch fare!

Basic Recipe for Stuffing Is Useful to Have

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's a basic dressing recipe for your holiday turkey:

Melt butter in deep skillet over medium flame. Add celery and onion. Add bread crumbs and hot broth or water.

Thermometer Tells the Truth

According to a report delivered before members of the Institute of Food Technologists meeting millions of harassed housewives haven't done right by the holiday turkey.

The key to producing a tender, easy to carve turkey lies not in the hours of roasting or the oven heat, but in what Dr. Gladys E. Vail called the "end point temperature," which is detected by the use of a meat thermometer.

Ideally, according to Dr. Vail, your 18-20 pound bird should be cooked until a thermometer inserted to a depth of ¾ of an inch at the thickest portion of the breast muscle registers between 170 and 180 degrees. The lower the end point temperature — say between 130-150 degrees results in higher shear values — which is scientific talk meaning harder to carve and tough.

And if the bird is cooked to an end point temperature of 190 degrees or more it will be drier than is desirable and tend to crumble and fall apart.

In short, Dr. Vail and the associates who collaborated with her in the study, T. L. Goodwin, V. D. Bramblett and W. J. Stadelman, suggest you forget all about the oven setting and your calculations about the length of time required for each pound of the festive fowl.

Get a thermometer and watch that end point temperature!

Cranberry Dressing

Creamy cranberry dressing is delicious on fruit, chicken or ham salad. Whip ½ cup of heavy cream. Blend with ½ cup of mayonnaise and ½ cup of fresh cranberry sauce. Makes 1½ cups.

Bit of Sweden Comes With Saffron Buns

In Sweden, the Christmas holidays begin officially on December 13 with the Feast of Lights. On that day at dawn, the oldest girl in the family awakens the household with coffee and saffron buns. She wears a hat of lighted candles and is known as Lucia, Queen of Lights. In small villages, Lucia is selected as a beauty queen and parades through the streets, where all the houses have lights in the windows.

Even though our Christmas preparations and shopping seem to begin shortly after Labor Day, let's celebrate the Feast of Lights by serving Saffron Buns and coffee to the neighborhood ladies. They'll appreciate a break in the frantic holiday preparations and will be thoroughly delighted with the spicy yellow buns.

* * *

The recipe makes four dozen small buns. Don't forget to freeze some to serve the family on Christmas morning. Who knows? They may even think they're as nice as stollen.

Saffron Buns

1 cup milk
¾ cup instant or regular whole wheat cereal
½ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons ground cardamom seed
⅛ teaspoon saffron
2 packages active dry yeast
OR 2 cakes compressed yeast
½ cup warm water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
2 eggs and 1 egg, slightly beaten
4½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped blanched almonds
¾ cup mixed candied fruit

Heat milk to boiling. Pour over cereal, sugar, shortening, salt, cardamon and saffron. Cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in water. Add 2 eggs and yeast to cereal mixture. Beat in half of flour, raisins, almonds and fruit. Stir in remaining flour, more if necessary, to form a soft dough.

Knead on floured board until smooth and elastic. Butter bowl and two large cookie sheets. Place dough in bowl. Turn to butter all sides. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double (about 1½ hours).

* * *

Punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a 10-inch square. Cut into 24 five-inch strips. Roll each strip until about 12 inches long. Wind strips into small round buns.

Place on cookie sheets. Let rise until double. Brush with beaten egg. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 15-18 minutes or until browned. Yield: 4 dozen 3-inch buns.

Ale and Wine Used to Give Sausage Flavor

Buy a package of small smokee link sausages or the large frankfurter size smokees and put them in a medium sized sauce pan and pour ½ cup of ale over them to cover.

Put the top on the pan and simmer over low heat for 30 minutes.

Place the sausages on a plate, skim the fat from the pan juices and add one cup each of consomme and brown bread crumbs. Add ½ cup of claret or any other light red wine, ½ cup of vinegar, 1 teaspoon of carraway seeds, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar and the grated rind of ½ lemon.

Cook the sauce, stirring constantly until it is smooth and thick. Return the sausages to the pan, heat thoroughly and serve.

CRUST-ENCASED — Meat loaf showcased in a golden crust, stuffed with crisp green and yellow vegetables will rate raves from family and friends during the holiday season. Here is how to save time, money and effort in this busy season while giving the family all it deserves.

Plant Grooming Pays

NEW YORK (UPI) — A good thing to remember when entering plants in garden club competitions is that good grooming gets them better recognition. Select plants that have enough buds to last two or three days and are free of unsightly leaves. Use new or freshly scrubbed clay pots that have been set in water for several hours so they can store extra moisture.

Ginger Men Carolers Serve as Centerpiece

Ginger Cooky Carolers — poised and ready to sing the first Noel—herald the coming of the holiday season.

Fill the house with the aroma of the baking Ginger Cooky Carolers and you'll catch the Christmas spirit fast. They are fun to make and, oh, so easy! You will be amazed with the simplicity of this attractive centerpiece.

* * *

These ginger cookies are good keepers — thanks to instant powdered cream — so make them early and avoid the last minute Christmas rush. Since everyone loves to see and eat Christmas cookies, be sure to make extras — for the holiday cooky tray, for tree ornaments, and for gift-giving.

To make the centerpiece — just stand the ginger cookies in a circle or square of styrofoam —making quarter-inch slits in the foam to fit the cooky feet. Place in a basket or on a tray. Add drifts of sugar for the snow, a bit of evergreen or holly, and don't forget the song sheet for the director.

Ginger Cooky Carolers

½ cup instant powdered cream
5 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup dark molasses
2 tablespoons vinegar
Easy Decorating Icing

Sift together powdered cream, flour, salt, soda, ginger, cinnamon, and cloves. Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add egg, molasses, and vinegar, beating well. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients gradually, mixing until well blended. Chill thoroughly (about 3 hours or overnight).

On floured pastry cloth or board, roll to about ⅛-inch thickness. Cut in gingerbread boy shape with an 8-inch cutter or cut around cardboard pattern traced from a child's coloring book. Place about 1 inch apart on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F. about 6 minutes.

Cool slightly; remove from cookie sheet. Decorate with Easy Decorating Icing. Makes about 24 8x5½-inch gingerbread boys.

Easy Decorating Icing

1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons powdered cream
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
2 to 3 teaspoons hot water

Combine confectioner's sugar, powdered cream, and salt. Add shortening, vanilla extract, and water. Mix until smooth. You may need to add a little more hot water, ½ teaspoon at a time, to make icing easy to force through pastry tube—yet hold its shape.

ALL TOGETHER NOW — Let there be music in your home this Christmas — Ginger Cooky Carolers are all poised to start it off — and don't they make a pretty table centerpiece?

Texture of Molded Salad Is Different

Double apple flavor, wine and spices distinguish a molded salad that's wonderfully complimentary to ham, roast pork or other rich meat. Without the usual salad garnishes, the same flavorful mixture can be served right on the dinner plate as a relish.

* * *

A good concentration of flavor is achieved in this recipe by using bottled apple juice and wine as the liquid. In addition, apple sauce (homemade or canned) is added to make up the rest of the liquid. Because it is actually only about half liquid, the proportion is a little different than usual for a gelatin salad, but the result is entirely satisfactory.

* * *

For the wine ingredient, choose a dry red wine, such as a Burgundy or Claret. It will tint the mixture a little, but a drop or two of red coloring heightens the rosy color, and is especially pretty during the holiday season.

A wine bottle of the usual size (four-fifths of a quart) holds slightly more than three cups of wine. There will be enough, after the wine is used in this recipe, to serve about four or five persons as the dinner beverage. Red wine, like applesauce, is especially compatible with pork.

Spiced Applesauce Salad Mold

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1¼ cups bottled apple juice
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ cup Burgundy or other red dinner wine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup canned applesauce
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Red food coloring

Soften gelatin in the cold water 5 minutes. Heat apple juice to simmering; add softened gelatin, sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Add wine and lemon juice. Cool, then chill until mixture begins to thicken.

* * *

Mix applesauce and spices; stir into partially thickened gelatin mixture. Add enough red food coloring to give mixture a nice rosy hue. Turn into a 1-quart mold or 5 or 6 individual molds that have been rinsed with cold water; chill until firm.

Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with any desired fruit salad dressing. Or, serve without dressing as a relish with ham or roast pork. Makes 5-6 servings.

Gentle Cooking Gives Rutabagas Mild Flavor

Braised rutabagas are savory. Place 2 pounds of rutabagas, peeled and sliced, in a saucepan with 1-inch of chicken stock and 1 teaspoon of salt. Cover. Cook 20 minutes or until almost tender, lifting cover 2 to 3 times. Remove cover and cook until stock evaporates.

Add 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine and saute 3 minutes, being careful not to break slices. Sprinkle with ¼ teaspoon of ground black pepper and chopped fresh parsley. Serves 6.

Serve Thick Cream With Bananas

If you're not concerned about calories, baked bananas and cream makes a luscious dessert. Peel 6 firm ripe bananas and arrange, whole, in buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of lemon juice and ½ cup of brown sugar. Dot with 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine.

Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 25 minutes or until bananas are hot and sugar, melted. Baste twice during baking. Serve hot, with heavy cream. Or serve on slices of pound cake or gingerbread and top with whipped cream. Serves 6.

Parboiling Brazil Nuts Makes Them Slice-able

To make Toasted Brazil Nuts, cover 1½ cups shelled nuts with cold water, bring to boil, and simmer for 5 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices.

Spread on shallow pan, dot with 2 tablespoons butter, and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes 2 cups.

Codfish Balls Go Modern

New Englanders have always associated a certain food with days of the week. Baked beans and brown bread are the accepted Saturday fare; chicken fricassee is a must on Sunday. Friday's menu is naturally fish—or "Cape Cod Turkey," as Down Easterners call it. In the Northeast, where fish and cod are synonymous, Friday's menu usually takes the form of boiled salt codfish served with potatoes and beets and drawn butter on the side. Cod also takes the menu spotlight on Sunday, when breakfast is traditionally codfish balls.

Although many cooks like to prepare their own codfish balls, canned and frozen codfish cakes are growing increasingly popular. The National Fisheries Institute finds that the addition of cheese and a pinch of nutmeg makes an intriguing luncheon variation of this Yankee breakfast favorite.

Cheese-Puff Codfish Balls

1 egg
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 can (10½ oz.) codfish cakes or 1 package frozen codfish cakes
½ cup processed American cheese, cut in small cubes
Butter or margarine for shallow fat frying, or oil for deep fat frying

Beat egg lightly with nutmeg. Blend in codfish mixture. Fold in cheese cubes. Divide mixture into four parts. From each, shape three small balls to make twelve in all. If you choose to use butter, melt a stick in a skillet and heat until bubbling but not browning. Add about one-third of the balls and fry, turning once until well browned. Repeat until all are browned.

For deep fat frying, heat oil to 376 degrees. Add codfish balls a few at a time and fry until browned well. Drain the puffs on absorbent paper. Serve hot with seafood sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Play It Safe and Store It Promptly, Properly

Here is a trick that will make the storage of leftovers easier and safer. Immediately after dinner, remove all of the stuffing from the turkey, and store it in the refrigerator. Bone the bird and refrigerate or freeze it in meal-size portions.

* * *

Don't forget that the gravy and drippings need to be refrigerated, too. Then second or third meals will be tasty and will seem more like encores than leftovers.

Former Red Tells About N-Detector

CHICAGO (UPI) — A scientist who escaped from behind the Iron Curtain revealed yesterday he was the creator of a detecting system so sensitive that it led to a Russian moratorium on nuclear testing.

Dr. Cristjo Cristofv told reporters the device could even detect an explosion in an automobile engine.

He said he told an American Air Force officer of his system in 1947 and escaped Bulgaria three years later. The Russians in 1959, he said, were told that the United States had such a system and thereupon agreed to the nuclear test ban.

★ ★ ★

"It was clear from the beginning," Cristofv said, "that the system could be successfully used as a control against secret atomic tests.

"It is foolproof, virtually jam proof, and can also be used to detect missile launchings," Cristofv said.

Cristofv, 59, now a resident of Evanston, Ill., became a citizen here Nov. 20. He was sponsored by the Air Force.

Newsmen, he said, began investigating his role with the Air Force and were so close to finding out what it was he decided to hold a news conference.

He said his system measures sudden emission of energy which is released from explosions in the form of electric energy or electromagnetic waves.

★ ★ ★

It will work, he said, to guarantee nuclear test inspection, and the only reason it isn't used worldwide is "Russian politics."

Shovel Snow at Ceremony Opening I-96

LANSING (AP) — Ribbon-cutting and snow-shoveling ceremonies marked the opening of the final link of the Detroit to Muskegon I-96 Freeway yesterday.

Ribbons were snipped at Howell, Fowlerville, Webberville and Williamson as a troupe of officials traveled in zero weather over the new section from a point between Brighton and Howell to a point five miles northwest of Lansing.

The ceremonies were completed when five officials shoveled through a 2-foot mound of snow at the U.S. 27 interchange.

Shoveling were State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, Lansing Mayor Willard I. Bowerman Jr., Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, East Lansing Mayor Gordon L. Thomas and Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, commanding officer of the Michigan National Guard.

At the bottom of the pile of snow was a stripe of green paint designating Michigan's 1,000th mile of freeway.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

AP Feature — By LUCRECE BEALE — Copyright, 1962

Chapter 10

Mr. Shnoo watched in astonishment as Herbert and Louise came toward him. The giraffes swung their long necks to and fro and dipped their heads.

The enormous straw hats between their ears tilted over their eyes and they looked like ladies of fashion strolling on the beach.

The keeper who had charge of the large animals cried out and started away to head off the giraffes but Mr. Shnoo said, "Wait!" and held up his hand.

He saw a short round man walking between Herbert's front legs and he knew suddenly just who it was. "Thank goodness!" he exclaimed. He went up to the little round man and said, "I was afraid you wouldn't come!"

"Of course I came," said Santa, for that is who it was. "But it took me a few minutes to work out a plan."

NEEDS LADDER

"What is the plan?" asked Mr. Shnoo. "What can we do?"

"Bring a ladder," said Santa.

Mr. Shnoo brought a ladder and Santa propped it up against Herbert's neck. Santa climbed up to the basket on Herbert's back and took out a big brown bucket and a paint brush.

Santa climbed the ladder propped against Herbert's neck.

He hooked the bucket over his arm and climbed up to Herbert's chin. He dipped the brush in the bucket and began to paint Herbert's neck.

"What kind of paint is that?" asked Mr. Shnoo.

"Isn't paint," replied Santa. 'It's honey."

When he had finished painting Herbert's neck with honey he went over and did the same thing to Louise.

★ ★ ★

"Now," he said. "We'll see what happens." He led Herbert under the nearest tree. The giraffe pushed his neck up, up through the branches until the hat on his head was at the very tip top of the tree.

Then Mr. Shnoo exclaimed, "Why, it's not a hat at all!"

★ ★ ★

It was a nest of straw. As soon as the birds saw it they fluttered from the branches and settled in the nest. Other birds found the honey and they gathered on Herbert's neck like flies on sticky paper.

JICE NEST

Many of them slid or were pushed off and as they fell they landed in the basket on Herbert's back which was filled with straw and made the nicest kind of nest.

Then Louise took her place under another tree and Herbert was led to the bird cage where the birds were gently coaxed off Herbert and into their old nests.

Herbert made three trips and Louise made three trips and when they finished there wasn't a single bird left out in the cold.

Mr. Shnoo turned up the heat in the cages and the zoo doctor rushed around filling hot water bottles to put in the nests and arranging steam kettles to moisten the air.

But it was clear the birds were ailing. They shivered and their feathers drooped and their eyes were dull.

★ ★ ★

Blue Lady, the parakeet, was the sickest of all. Her eyelids fluttered, then closed, and she lay on her back with her tiny legs straight up in the air.

Mr. Shnoo put his finger on her breast. Her heart was beating very faintly.

"Poor Blue Lady," murmured Mr. Shnoo. Tears gathered in his eyes and rolled down his cheeks.

GIRAFFES CRY

Herbert and Louise, whom no one had had time to take back to the giraffe house, leaned over his shoulder and cried, too.

It was very sad because everyone knew that Blue Lady and all the other birds were going to die.

But Santa wasn't sad. He was busy at a stove in the corner. He was cooking a strange concoction made from pills and powders and drops of oil taken from the little bag on his back. He stirred and tasted and sniffed until finally he was satisfied.

★ ★ ★

He took the pan from the stove and set fire to its contents. It did not flame up but gently smoldered.

As wisps of smoke drifted up, the bird cage filled with the most wonderful fragrance and suddenly a marvelous thing happened: all the birds began to sing!

JFK Favors 'Hot Line' to Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy hopes a White House-to-Kremlin "hot line" — probably a teletype — can be set up to avoid delays that held up for hours some Cuban crisis messages.

"In a nuclear age, speed is very desirable," Kennedy told his news conference yesterday. He said he believed a teletype link would have made the crisis "a safer situation."

At the Geneva disarmament talks yesterday, the United States proposed a program designed to prevent surprise attack and war by accident. Among the ideas was a direct line connecting Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The Soviet Union was urged to give careful consideration to the program.

"We are hoping that out of this present conversation (in Geneva) we can get instantaneous communications or at least relatively instantaneous communications," Kennedy said when asked about the proposal.

Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

In this rush of Christmas shopping, parties and whatnot, it's a good idea to take some time to discover new ideas to give your Christmas celebration a lift.

One way to get completely new ideas for Christmas is from people of other countries.

★ ★ ★

In Greece, according to 17-year-old Antigoni Karali who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hawkins Jr. of Mohawk Road, Santa (or Saint Basil as he is known) comes on New Year's and not Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Groups of young carolers take their triangles from house to house serenading the day before Christmas. The people usually reward the serenaders with small gifts of a cookie, candy, or perhaps a small amount of money.

Christmas day every member of the family puts on his best clothes and goes to church for an extra long holiday service. The remainder of the day is spent at home with the family. The remaining days between Christmas and New Year's are spent visiting friends, who always have sweet snacks waiting.

A BIG TIME

New Year's Eve is a big time for the children. After putting their shoes in front of the fireplace, they are rushed off to bed, being assured that their elders will keep a fire in the fireplace all night so "Saint Basil" will be warm when he brings the presents.

Promptly at midnight on New Year's Eve all the lights are extinguished and the windows are thrown open (it's much warmer in Greece) to let the new year come in.

Songs are sung to the new year and the lights are again turned on. The adults then exchange gifts and settle down for a night of cards.

A FRIED CAKE

Mother has already baked a fried cake (much like a pie). Now each member of the family cuts himself a piece of the new year fried cake with the first piece reserved for Saint Basil.

★ ★ ★

Inside the fried cake is a lucky coin. The person who receives the lucky coin in his piece is supposed to be blessed with a most prosperous new year.

Jan. 6, the first of the Epiphany, commemorates the baptism of Christ. In every town and village in Greece the priest finds the largest body of water nearby. In a deeply religious ceremony the priest will drop a wooden cross into the water.

The town divers will then dive to recover it. The one lucky enough to recover the cross is the hero of the day.

★ ★ ★

Since there is very little snow in Greece, Antigoni is looking forward to our white Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins plan a traditional American Christmas celebration.

In Germany, Santa comes on Dec. 6 with Father Christmas following him up on Christmas Eve, according to Gabriele Schwarz who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feekart of Meadowleigh Street. On Dec. 6 Santa goes from house to house visiting the children and leaving small gifts.

A shoe instead of a stocking is used by German children for their presents. A plate is left out on Christmas Eve with bread, salt and water on it. Santa rides down a moonbeam on a donkey to deliver his gifts.

On Christmas morning the bread and salt are gone from the plate and the water has been spilled on the floor. This is supposed to signify that Santa has been there during the night with his donkey.

One complete Sunday before Christmas is spent by the family making Christmas cookies. These, along with apples tied together with red ribbon, will eventually be used to decorate the Christmas tree. The Christmas tree is set up in one room of the house and the children are allowed to string the apples on the tree. From that time until Christmas morning, no one is allowed into the room where the tree is being decorated.

TREE IS SECRET

Father alone is the one who does the remainder of the decorating in secret. When the family is allowed to see the tree on Christmas morning, it may be decorated with cookies, apples, candy, stars made from drinking straws, lights (only white lights are used) and many other things.

★ ★ ★

Christmas decorations and advertising do not start in Germany until the first Sunday of Advent.

Gabriele was surprised to hear that Christmas carols are used as part of some of the commercials. Nothing like this is done in Germany. People would not think of using Christmas carols to try to sell merchandise.

Christine Hawkins (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hawkins Jr. of Mohawk Road, admires some of the gifts which Antigoni Karali of Greece brought as a foreign exchange student for this school year. Lying on a handmade table runner are a set of wall plaques and several Greek vases.

Around the Local Area

The Lewis C. Dibbles of Birmingham have returned from a week's stay in Montreal where they attended the Museum of Fine Arts' annual ball.

Several parties were held in honor of the Dibbles, house guests of her sister and brother-in-law, the Ross Hutchisons of Montreal.

★ ★ ★

The J. Patrick Kanes of Ogden Drive will attend an open house Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lee of Flint and on Saturday will be at the Detroit Country Club, Grosse Pointe, for a formal dinner party preceded by cocktails.

They have invited some 20 couples to brunch Dec. 23, and that evening will be guests of the William Thompsons of Grosse Pointe for cocktails.

★ ★ ★

Major and Mrs. H. B. Dickie of Sawyer Air Force Base, Marquette, are spending the holidays with their parents, the H. B. Dickies of West Huron Street and the Carl Hunters of West Walton Boulevard.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Hansen of East Iroquois Road will be with their daughter and son-in-law, the Richard DeWitts, in Riverside, Calif., for the holidays. The young DeWitts are Rickey, Gerry and Katie.

Bride-Elect 'Showered'

Karen Allyne Denham, December bride-elect of Joseph K. Haddad, was honored at a shower Tuesday evening in the home of Judith Elwell on Second Avenue.

Among some 20 guests were Mrs. Allan J. Denham of Oriole Road, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Joseph K. Haddad of Detroit, mother of the future bridegroom.

A buffet supper for 20 guests followed a personal shower for Miss Denham Friday evening in the Detroit home of Mrs. Katherine Hall.

Garden Unit Sows Plans for Event

Mrs. Richard B. Gould of Lake Angelus Shores will be hostess at the ingathering of Lake Angelus Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Dec. 18.

Plans for this affair, which goes toward providing Christmas gifts for children at Ypsilanti State Hospital, were announced during Tuesday's luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr. of Lake Angelus Shores.

Social chairman Mrs. Ray E. Hayes, together with her committee, Mrs. Clayton B. Leach, Mrs. Donald Shultz, Mrs. Max E. Kerns and Mrs. William Wilmot, served the holiday luncheon.

Rub Toast Spots

Use a hand grater to scrape burned toast. The burned spots will rub off.

A paint-mixing pail, obtainable for a quarter at any hardware store, becomes an attractive ice bucket for New Year's parties when decorated with these worldwide design cut-outs. An empty soup can, covered with foil inside and out, makes a decorative pencil caddy; penny match boxes take on international glamour. The heavy foil cuts easily, is durable and easily molded to any contour.

Gal Pays for Her Own Hotel

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: While glancing through a magazine recently, I came across an article on the subject of a girl's weekend dates away from home.

It said: "The boy provides your room and all regular expenses of your visit." When I was a young man I was taught that for a man to pay for a lady's sleeping quarters was highly compromising and most improper.

Will you please tell me if this rule has changed and if it is now considered proper for a man to pay for a woman's lodging?

A: It is most improper for a man, as an individual, to pay for a woman's lodging.

A group of men, such as the members of a college fraternity may, however, quite properly take several rooms in a hotel for the young women they have invited to their annual weekend, and pay for these rooms.

Q: Just recently my son became engaged and his fiancee's parents had an engagement party for her. I was invited indirectly (through my son) to the party. I felt that an invitation should have come from the girl's mother and therefore did not go to the party.

I understand the girl's parents are quite put out with me for taking this attitude. I would like to know if I was wrong to do as I did, or should I have gone to the party on my son's invitation?

A: You should have received an invitation from the girl's mother, but in view of your future relations with her, and for the sake of your son, you should have waived ceremony and gone to the party.

Q: I broke my engagement to a young woman because I realized it would be a grave mistake to go through with it. I expected her to return the engagement ring and when she did not do so, I asked her for it.

She refused to return it on the ground that as I broke the engagement she is entitled to keep the ring. Will you please tell me if this is true?

A: Even though you broke the engagement, she should return the ring. Her wishing to keep a ring with such unhappy memories solely because of its monetary value shows lack of breeding.

Inaugerate Tea

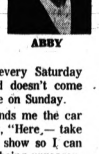
South Oakland County Kappa Delta Alumnae Association inaugurated an annual Christmas tea Tuesday at the Birmingham home of Mrs. Myron R. Zbudowski. Cohostess for the affair was Mrs. Donald W. Fleser of Birmingham.

Soon It May Be Too Late to Build Family Memories

DEAR ABBY: I am married to an outdoor man. In the summer it's fishing and in the winter it's hunting.

Don't get me wrong. I want him to enjoy life, but is it asking too much of him to spend one Sunday a month with me and the children?



ABBY

I would like him to take us to a movie and have dinner out once a month.

He leaves every Saturday at sun-up and doesn't come back until late on Sunday.

Then he hands me the car keys and says, "Here,— take the kids to a show so I can sleep." Am I being unreasonable?

SPORTSMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not in my opinion. How about this approach: "Look, Dear, if you don't want to waste any of your spare time on me, that's OK. I'll always be around, both wiser and sadder. But the kids are growing up and away from you.

Soon they'll be gone.

"You'll have memories of hunting and fishing, but none of your family. That'll be an open space in your life that you won't like. Think it over before it's too late."

★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a woman who works out when she has 4 children at home under the age of 5?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She is either desperately and unfortunately eager to get out of the house, or she desperately and unfortunately needs the income.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A few years after my marriage I came down with polio. I was left with a slight disability which slowed me down a little. I can still do my own housework, although somewhat awkwardly. For years my mother-in-law (who was a fast worker) would come in and, if I was sweeping, she would take the broom from my hands and say, "Let's get this done!" Not wanting to hurt her feelings because I knew she meant well, I said nothing but I felt like crying.

Now I see the same thing happening to a friend who has another kind of crippling disease. Only it's her mother who tries to help her.

My friend was drying her dishes and broke a cup. Her mother sat her down, took the towel and said, "Let me do it or you won't have any dishes left!" I knew how it must have hurt. Please print this, Abby. There are so many who mean well but don't know better.

SLOW WORKER

DEAR ABBY: We have a 7-year-old daughter who is a very lonely and quiet child. She has no friends. I am unable to have any more children and want to adopt a little girl the same age as our own.

My husband thinks it would be better to adopt a child a few years younger. And a boy! I can't see where this would provide our daughter with the companionship she needs. Can you advise me? Or perhaps some of your readers have some helpful opinions on the subject.

MRS. F.

DEAR MRS. F.: I agree with your husband. To force a "twin" on your daughter at her age could create problems of jealousy, rivalry and continual competition for both girls. Try for a younger child. And a boy might be just what the doctor ordered.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

Americanism Medals Presented to Three

Piety Hill Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, honored three Birmingham residents with the Americanism medal Tuesday afternoon in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Alvin S. McEvoy.

In recognition of their "outstanding trustworthiness, service, leadership and patriotism," Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom, Ernest Seaholm and Peter C. Kalinke received medals.

★ ★ ★

A member of "Who's Who of American Women," Mrs. Karlstrom is active on the civic relations committee of the Cathedral of St. Paul in Detroit, the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Detroit Grand Opera Association and is founder of the Jenny Lind Club of Detroit.

She is also secretary and public affairs chairman of the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham, a member of the National Cathedral Association in Washington D. C., Michigan region board, and a member of the American Cancer Society.

Mr. Seaholm, a member of the board of education of Birmingham public schools for 19 years, was president of the board for nine years. Birmingham Seaholm School was named for his contributions to the community.

Mr. Seaholm was deacon of his church, First Presbyterian of Birmingham and chairman of its building committee.

He has also been an active supporter of the YMCA board, Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See at Hale, and is on the advisory board of the Detroit Bank and Trust Company.

★ ★ ★

After escaping from East Germany in 1950, Peter Kalinke wrote for a West German newspaper. He later returned to the University of Frankfurt, am Main, where he was on the faculty for the Institute for Social Research.

The institute loaned Mr. Kalinke to an American survey group which conducted studies of Soviet escapees for the U.S. State Department.

★ ★ ★

In 1953, Mr. Kalinke studied at the University of Michigan under a Fulbright scholarship.

The University's extension service now sends him on lecture tours.

Club Holds Its Annual Yule Party

The home of Mrs. Walter Obenauf, Pontiac State Hospital grounds, provided the scene for the annual Christmas party of the Pontiac Newcomers Club. Cohostesses were Mrs. Loren Gerlinger, Mrs. Franklin Voight, and Mrs. Francis McDowell.

Mrs. Robert Larson narrated the filmstrip "Emmanuel." Carol singing and the exchange of gifts were also part of the evening's program.

Mrs. Feyyaz Salman was a guest.

The next meeting will be a dessert bridge at the Oneida Street home of Mrs. Edward Mallonen on Jan. 9.

Dirt Gardeners Shown How to Make Wreaths

Wreath-making, using pine cones and branches, was demonstrated during the Dirt Gardeners' annual Christmas party Tuesday.

Mrs. Rene Guellac and Mrs. Everette Labadie constructed the wreaths. Members also stuffed a huge Christmas stocking with gifts, which was presented Pontiac State Hospital Wednesday.

Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Ray O'Neil of West Walton Boulevard. Assisting her were Mrs. Clark Bartenbaker and Mrs. James Weaver. Mrs. John Kukawski was a guest.

Film Slated for Church

"Marvels of Nature," a wild life film, will be presented by Walter Frederiksen Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Evangelical United Brethren Church on Baldwin Avenue. The program is being sponsored by the Co-Workers Bible Class and the Eunice Circle of the Women's Society for World Service.

Proceeds will go toward the building fund of the new educational unit. Refreshments will be served at the social hour following the movie.

U. of M. Students in Yule Mood

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

With the Burton Tower carillon playing Christmas carols and the campus decorated with colored lights, bells and snowmen, University of Michigan students are beginning to catch the Christmas spirit in spite of the bluebook exams and term papers that must be completed before vacation begins next Thursday afternoon.

HANGING OF THE GREENS

The traditional "Hanging of the Greens" was completed Monday evening in Stockwell Hall with each corridor decorating a certain area of the dorm. Helping to transform Stockwell for the holiday season were freshmen Carmen Williams of Bald Mountain Road and Helen Ramsdell of Draper Street.

Juniors Sue Koprince of West Iroquois Road, Sheila Goldberg of Oneida Road and Valerie Vasbinder of Spokane Drive also participated in this traditional event.

The Stockwell girls are planning their annual Christmas dance Friday evening and are practicing for their caroling party with Gomberg House of South Quad Thursday night at the University Hospital. Chris Lauckner of Telegraph Road will be among the men of Gomberg House who will accompany the Stockwell girls in this songfest.

HOLLY HOP DANCE

Rich Gould, a sophomore of Lake Angelus Shores, and Bill Graves, a freshman of Dick Street, have been working hard this week decorating West Quad for their Christmas dance, "Holly Hop" to be presented Saturday evening.

Attending "Noel Moderne," the annual semiformal dance at South Quad, this weekend, will be freshmen Mark Berg of Middlebelt Road, Roger Tallman of Waterford Township and sophomore Clark Lefurgy of Colrain Drive. Clark is serving as vice president of Kelsey House of South Quad this year.

Tuesday evening the girls of Jordan Hall put up their Christmas lights at an informal tree trimming party after closing hours; then cocoa and cookies were served. Laying aside their nursing books to help in the dorm effore were sophomore Carol Ann Riley of Illinois Avenue and Diana Rigotti of Spokane Drive.

December is also the month of fraternity pledge formals. These are semiformal dances held each semester by the active chapter to honor their new pledge class before they become active membrs of the fraternity.

★ ★ ★

Dick Jackson of James K Boulevard and his date will attend the Chi Psi Fraternity pledge formal Saturday evening, with dinner at the house preceding this semiformal affair. Dick, a junior in aeronautical engineering, has been elected treasurer for the Chi Psi house this year.

WINTER FORMAL

The Phi Gamma Deltas are also planning their winter formal Saturday evening. Ted Gaensbauer, a junior of North Hammond Lake Drive, and his date will be one of the many couples enjoying themselves at this Phi Gam pledge dance.

Attending pledge formals last Saturday were freshmen Helen Ramsdell and Mary Lou McLaughlin. Helen was a guest at the Pershing Rifles dance and Mary Lou enjoyed herself with her date at the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity formal.

Fisher House of Mary Markley Hall will give their annual Christmas party Thursday night in their house lounge around the Christmas tree.

Participating in a skit for this party is freshman Martha Foren of Lake Angelus. Martha is also a member of the business staff of the student newspaper, the Michigan Daily.

A door decorating contest is traditionally held in Markley in preparation for the annual Christmas open - house, held Sunday afternoon. At this time Markley girls could invite male guests to the dorm for informal parties in their rooms with refreshments being served in the corridor lounges.

During this time Mary Lou McLaughlin of Mohawk Road and Sally Hamilton of Oakwood Drive entertained.

The Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority Christmas party was called "Backstage Broadway" as the girls and their dates came dressed as characters from any Broadway play. Karen Kessler of Waterford Township and Judy Haroutunian of Douglas Drive enjoyed dressing up for this party held last Friday evening at the sorority house.

Soak Dishes

Unless they are kept entirely separate from dishes used by the rest of the family, a home patient's dishes should be soaked in hot suds, then rinsed with hot water.

The commonest name in the world probably is Mahommed, which can be spelled many ways.

This curly copper scouring pad snowman makes an easy and fun Christmas decoration project. All it takes to hold him together is a pencil and glue. Use your imagination in creating his perky smile and fancy waistcoat.

Curly Scouring Pads Make Snowman

Ingredients for the curly copper scouring pad snowman: two styrofoam balls, each four inches in diameter; four styrofoam balls, each 1½ inches in diameter; two styrofoam balls, each two inches in diameter; two pencils; three curly pot cleaners; a piece of black glossy paper; one small red ball; pieces of colored felt, and glue.

★ ★

Use two four-inch styrofoam balls, held together with a pencil and glue for the head and body. Attach the 1½-inch balls with pencil and glue to the body for arms and legs. Glue the two-inch balls to the legs for feet.

To decorate the arms and legs, cut three curly copper pot cleaners in half and stretch them around the ends of the arms and legs and ankles. Cut a top hat out of black glossy paper and glue it to the top of the head.

Glue a small red ball on the head for the snowman's nose and glue on buttons, a bow tie and facial features cut out of colored felt.

Shrimp Hint for Crowds

When shrimp is plentiful, cook it often and cook it fast. For a big crowd, add a package of mixed pickling spice to the water. For fast cooking, use the giant burner on the range. When the shrimp turns pink, it is done. Serve it steaming hot on a platter lined with colorful towels. It's permissible to let guests shell the shrimp as they eat it.

Pluck Leaves

Fresh flowers keep longer if the leaves that are under water are removed from the stem. These leaves usually decay first and poison the water.

New Insole for Airy Steppers

There is now a foam rubber insole on the market that is curved to conform with the bottom of the foot. It cushions the soles to protect them from "pavement burn" and eases aching muscles in the instep during long hours of walking or standing.

Doctors' Overhead High

'Go Slow Criticizing Bills

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE O-404: Rudolph Kachman, aged 26, is a recent medical school graduate.

DR. CRANE

Earlier this year he attended a meeting of labor union men who were clamoring for President Kennedy's medicare bill, which involves increasing social security taxes to offer government medical services.

Rudy is a militant defender of the "free enterprise" system so he soon got into a heated debate with a labor leader.

"We want government medicine," demanded the labor leader, "for you doctors are robbing us blind.

★ ★ ★

"Why, I paid $40 just for an X ray of my son's little finger when he broke it recently. And that $40 is excessive.

"We'd get free medicine from the government's bill."

★ ★ ★

Well, Rudy challenged him immediately to prove that the $40 was for a single X ray of the little finger.

And later Rudy contacted the orthopedic surgeon who had treated this labor leader's son.

That $40 covered these items, which were glibly ignored by the father who paid the bill:

ITEMIZED LIST

(1) X ray of hand and finger, which showed the broken finger.

(2) Routine X ray of wrist, since many falls produce a Colles fracture that may otherwise be ignored at the moment unless X-rayed.

(3) X ray of the forearm involved.

(4) Applying a cast to the hand.

(5) Later removal of the plaster cast.

(6) Several medical visits for check-ups.

★ ★ ★

So the $40 bill was certainly not excessive for the surgical time and skill required, do you think?

★ ★ ★

Please remember, too, that you readers often forget the matter of "overhead."

Earlier this week I showed you the Dartnell findings that the average dictated letter that the usual business firm sends out costs $1.97, though most people would guess it at probably a dime or not over 25 cents at most.

OVERHEAD OF $20

Well, do you know that many doctors have an overhead that runs $20 per hour, before they get any of the fee for themselves.

For example, the physician or dental surgeon pays rent and hires one or two nurses, whose salaries must be met.

★ ★ ★

In addition, he may have thousands of dollars invested in expensive equipment, including X-ray machine, office furniture, dental operative chairs, etc.

★ ★ ★

But in Chicago a report earlier this year showed that pipe fitters and electricians were getting around $5 per hour!

Yet they have no overhead! That is their own take-home pay.

EQUIVALENT SALARY

A lot of clergymen likewise attack doctors and business leaders, forgetting entirely that a $6,000 clerical salary is the equivalent of the average doctor's gross income of $16,000.

★ ★ ★

For the doctors must pay for light and typewriters, rent, telephone, secretary or nurse, plus surgical equipment, and their own house rent, all of which are free to clergymen.

So please apply the Golden Rule, plus a little American business gumption before you join the rabble rousers who attack our "free enterprise" system.

★ ★ ★

Unless you have actually operated a business of your own, be chary about comparing your teacher's or clergyman's or working man's wages with the gross of doctors, merchants, farmers and other small business men.

And all doctors should itemize their bills to illuminate the patient's mind on business expenses nowadays!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Polly's Pointers

Mice Sniff, Run Off

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a funny one but it works. I live in an old house with mice. They chewed a hole into an upper kitchen wall cabinet.

It was too high and narrow for my cat to catch them. So I combed the cat and got a handful of cat hair and taped it into the mouse hole.

It scared the living daylights out of the mice and they never came back. About once a year I renew the cat hair.

DEAR POLLY — Take along a shopping bag when going to the movies with the children. In it can go all the mittens, hats, scarves and what have you and there is no danger of losing anything. It also ends the juggling of things on your lap.

MRS. N. T.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — Sew a loop of elastic inside the cuffs of your small child's sweaters. To keep sweater sleeves from pushing up when putting on his coat, slip loops (U) over the thumbs.

HELEN

DEAR POLLY — We make homemade candies for Christmas gifts. By packing a small piece of bread in each box, our delights stay as fresh for Christmas delivery as if we made them the night before. The bread may be cut in cute shapes with small cookie cutters.

VERNA

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — The binding on the top edge of an electric blanket gets pretty soiled before the end of the season. To protect it, I take a worn sheet, fold it in half, top to bottom, and sew just the sides together. This slips perfectly over the top half of the blanket and can be slipped off and washed as often as needed.

MRS. V. M. McG.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I think the idea about protecting garden tools by keeping in a bucket of sand is good. The writer should have added: "If oil is mixed with the sand, not only will it clean the tools but it will also leave a film of oil which will help prevent rust."

C. S. B.

Count Your Blessings

Breathe...and Be Happy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's easy to take our blessings for granted, small as well as big. On a hot day we turn on the fan or the air conditioning. On a cold day we flip on the furnace.

We take our electric refrigerators and washing machines, our radios and televisions, our telephones and telegraph, our cars, frozen vegetables and a thousand other items which make life easy for granted.

We seldom stop to think of the imagination and work which made them possible.

We take all of our wonderful and varied cosmetic aids for granted. We take powder and cold cream and rouge and lipstick, mascara and eye shadow and all of the other new and magic improvers for granted.

We take the moon and the sun, the flowers and the seasons for granted. I often think what a shock it would be if we had never seen a moon before and it suddenly appeared in the sky or if we had never seen a flower and it suddenly sprang from the ground! We take the wonders of nature all for granted.

We are even apt to take friendship and love and health for granted until we are about to lose them. Most of all we take the wondrous working of our body for granted. It works night and day to keep us alive and to protect us.

We go along taking in great gulps of pleasant living just as though we had earned them. Much of the time we do not appreciate our joys and pleasures because we take them for granted. Even worse, we don't even enjoy life to the fullest.

Breathing is one of the miracles our body performs for us without any thought on our part. Truly, our breath is the very essence of life. With our first breath we inherit the gift of life and we are not dead until we take our last one.

Since our breathing is involuntary we are apt to breathe shallowly. Deep breathing is beneficial to health and is also most relaxing. Try the following exercise:

★ ★ ★

Stand tall. Take a deep breath and exhale completely. Place your hands on your ribs with the fingertips of one hand touching the fingertips of the other. Breathe in very deeply, expanding the diaphram and lifting the ribs as the lungs fill with air. See how wide you can make the space between the fingertips when you inhale. Exhale and continue slowly.

Yule Musical Set by School

Our Lady of the Lakes choral department will present its third annual Christmas musical 8 p.m. Dec. 23 in the school auditorium.

Participating will be the men's chhoir, mixed chorus and glee club. Al Mayworm will direct the program.

★ ★ ★

Elsa's Fund Helping Protect Other Lions

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — A lioness named Elsa brought fame to Joy Adamson. Now, Mrs. Adamson, who wrote of the family pet, hopes that earnings because of that fame will help preserve Elsa's cousins and other animals of the African jungles and bush country.

"In three years, at the rate things are going, there won't be any lion population," she said. "Poaching, land developments without moving the animal population to new country, a shortage of male lions . . . all are taking their toll.

"Yet jungle creatures have a right to live . . . must live, if we are to keep the balance of nature."

Mrs. Adamson is on a lecture tour of England, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries and a limited series of appearances in the United States to talk about Elsa and the animal and plant life in Kenya.

WAS GAME WARDEN

Her husband, George, for nearly 30 years was game warden in the preserve along Kenya's northern frontier. Now, he has retired to help promote large-scale projects to protect Africa's wild life.

Elsa was a cub with her eyes still closed when she came to the Adamsons. Mrs. Adamson recalled that her husband in self-defense shot the mother when she charged.

Later, when he found three cubs (the two others eventually went to zoos), he knew why the lioness had charged . . . she thought her infants were in danger.

Elsa became a pet — "more than that," said Mrs. Adamson, in an interview. "She was a member of the family. She shared in everything with us."

She also became the heroine of a best-selling book called "Born Free." In it, Mrs. Adamson chronicled in words and pictures Elsa's growing up and Elsa's mating.

THREE CUBS

Elsa produced three cubs—Jespah, Gopa and Little Elsa — who have been moved to Serengiti National Park in Tanganyika. The Adamsons hoped that there, in a preserve, Elsa's progeny would be safe, but they are not sure—they haven't seen the cubs in more than a year although they often are on safari hoping to sight them.

Elsa died not too long after the book about her was published. Mrs. Adamson said a postmortem showed she was a victim of a tick-borne parasite which destroyed red corpuscles. "So animal scientists discovered another enemy of the lion population," she said.

The story of the cubs' early months was told in a sequel called "Living Free," and now in more detail, a third book soon is to be published (by Harcourt Brace & World) called "Forever Free."

"We didn't want to make the cubs part of the family," said Mrs. Adamson. "We wanted them wild, as they should be. This always caused a conflict with Elsa. She was caught being part of our family and seeing us then trying not to adopt her children. But the cubs themselves established a 'buffer zone.' No matter how Elsa tried to encourage them, they kept their three feet distance."

* * *

Mrs. Adamson said that all money—"Elsa's fund," she called it—from the books, television, movie rights and the lecture tours is going into conservation of animals in the Kenya colony.

"Kenya now has three preserves," she said, "with about 50 per cent of the species of the colony represented. There just isn't living space for the other 50 per cent."

Mrs. Adamson, 52, is a tall, slim, dark blonde woman with bright blue eyes. She also is an artist whose paintings are in Nairobi museums.

She has written eight books on Africa's flora. A rabid conversationalist, she said her writing is produced "in a study hardly typical of most authors." All writing has been done on safari, with the typewriter parked on a trunk.

Jackie Goes Backstage at Ballet

WASHINGTON (AP) — British ballerina Margot Fonteyn has the personal thanks of President and Mrs. Kennedy for coming to the aid of an American ballet company in distress.

Not only did the President turn up unexpectedly to see her perform at the Capital Theater last night, but Mrs. Kennedy went backstage to greet the visiting star.

And Dame Margot's dashing dancing partner, Hungarian Victor Rona, making his American debut, came in for Kennedy applause as well.

* * *

Just a month ago, the President and his wife watched the visiting Russian Bolshoi Ballet perform in the same theater.

Last night, they turned their attention to a U.S. product — the American Ballet Theater, which is now making its home in Washington as a resident company.

Even 5-year-old Caroline Kennedy went to yesterday's matinee at which the famous Prokofeiff orchestral fairy tale "Peter and the Wolf" was performed.

HAPPY ENDING

It was a happy ending for the troupe, which ran into difficulties as it prepared to open its first Washington season this week. The featured star, American ballerina Maria Tallchief, had to be hospitalized for an operation.

* * *

The ballet sent out appeals for help. And, in London, Dame Margot agreed to pinch-hit and dance here before going on to Panama with her husband, Roberto Arias, a former Panamanian ambassador to England.

"Thank you for coming over," Mrs. Kennedy told Dame Margot as they shook hands backstage surrounded by ballerinas in costume at the first intermission.

Dame Fonteyn had not yet danced when the First Lady came to say hello — an unusual procedure. Such introductions traditionally take place after a performance.

ENTRANCE APPLAUDED

The First Lady, accompanied by the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and her brother and sister-in-law, Peace Corps Director and Mrs. Sargent Shriver, had arrived just minutes before the 8:30 p.m. curtain to take seats in a mezzanine box. Their entrance was applauded.

The surprise came, when the President showed up just at 10 p.m. as Dame Margot was about to make her only appearance of the evening in "Gayane," a pas de deaux danced with Rona.

Kennedy was spotted quickly as he took his place beside Mrs. Kennedy in the box and was applauded, too.

Actress Gives Rare Interview

O'Neill Play Thrills Katherine Hepburn

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Ideas shoot from Katharine Hepburn like sparks from a grinding wheel. So when she is talking it's best merely to sit back and listen.

★ ★ ★

That Tepburn wanted to talk was not unusual. That she would talk for publication was extraordinary, since she has been elusive for reporters in recent years.

THOMAS

The reason for talking was to help along "Long Day's Journey into Night," the much-heralded film from Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical play.

"I think it deserves a hearing," she said resolutely. "It's a fine piece of work, a truly great play. I think it's encouraging that such a serious film can be done at a reasonable figure and that its commercial prospects are good.

"I was delighted to do it. It was a real challenge, making use a range of dramatics that I have never shown on the screen before. O'Neill had a depth that is simply marvelous."

CLIFF HANGER

The actress lives in a curious aerie amid the high rent district in upper Beverly Hills. It is a cliff-hanging apartment adjacent to an estate. She explained:

"It used to be Jack Barrymore's. Dear Jack, he was so kind to me. I did my first picture with him—'Bill of Divorcement.' The lower part of this place used to be his projection room." She showed me a stained-glass door leading to what is now her bedroom. Pictured in it were Barrymore and his second wife, Dolores Costello.

★ ★ ★

Hepburn settled in one of the chairs she had made herself in the upstairs sitting room, a marvelously lighted room with large windows and skylights. And she talked. Here in abbreviated form are some of the things she said:

"I must say that we had a great era in films. There were real stars in those days, and real characters. We were expected to be a bit wayward, and that added to the aura.

"There were great stars in the group before me, too. I think they and we had something that the actors lack today: vitality. Everything seemed tremendously important to us, and we worked like dogs at our jobs.

WOMEN MALIGNED

"I don't believe in all this confessing in public. It seems to me that the public appreciates a certain mystery. The producers did that in the old days. Take Maude Adams, for example. The public was never allowed to know what she was really like.

"I don't like the way women are portrayed by the new dramatists. I can't believe they are the pinched, lecherous, scheming females they seem to be in those plays.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe it's because my mother was an ardent feminist. Anyway, I've always had a great admiration for women. They've brought a lot of softness and beauty into the world. For hundreds of years they have made unattractive men think that they are appealing, and that's an act of kindness. . . ."

North Korea Making Machinery for Cuba

A Peking broadcast said the equipment is stamped with the slogan, "Long live the militant friendship between the Korean and Cuban peoples!"

BETSEY BARTON

Cripple's Death Eyed as Suicide

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police listed as a possible suicide today the death of Betsey Alice Barton, 45, paraplegic daughter of author and advertising executive Bruce Barton.

She drowned yesterday in the swimming pool of her Bel Air home. Detectives said that she had been despondent, and that she had told friends and her doctor she was "tired of life."

No note was found.

★ ★ ★

Her death ended a 28-year fight for a creative life despite the paralysis that resulted from a shattering automobile accident. She had been confined to a wheel chair much of her life.

Despite her disability, Miss Barton had written inspirational books and articles encouraging others similarly afflicted.

She had gained literary acclaim with her books, "And Now to Live Again," and "The Long Walk."

★ ★ ★

The first she based on the long and arduous adjustment of a person badly maimed. She wrote it, she said, in the hope it would inspire wounded war veterans. Later books included "As Love Is Deep."

Family of Five Dies in Zero-Weather Fire

DALTON, Ga. (AP)—Sheriff's officers said a family of five, including a 3-day-old baby, died in a fire that leveled a home in zero weather Wednesday night near this north Georgia town.

To Penalize Non-Reds Shipping to Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to impose penalties on non-Communist shipping engaged in trade with Cuba, chiefly by denying American cargoes to the vessels.

New regulations are expected to be put into effect in about two weeks.

The President's HIGHTOWER move, disclosed Wednesday at a news conference, involves reviving plans that were shelved when the Cuban crisis broke in October.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the United States is reverting to its precrisis policy of putting an increasingly tight economic squeeze on the Castro regime in Cuba and, at the same time, making the cost of Soviet support for that regime as high as possible.

2 OTHER POINTS

Kennedy also made two other major points about the Cuban situation:

★ ★ ★

1. He hopes that negotiations going on between U.S. and Soviet representatives in New York "will come to some conclusion in the not too distant future." Meanwhile the United States intends to maintain its vigilance against the reintroduction of Soviet offensive weapons into the Island. This was the substance of the President's reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech in Moscow Wednesday claiming Soviet policy had been victorious in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

2. It is the "best judgment" of the U.S. government that Soviet nuclear missiles and jet bombers "have been removed from Cuba" but "these things are never 100 per cent" certain. The United States is still insisting on direct verification of the removal of the weapons and on safeguards against their re-introduction.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev suggested in his Moscow speech that the conditions exist for clearing up the differences between the United States and the Soviet Union on Cuba. He emphasized that he expects the President to live up to his offer of a no-invasion pledge.

AVOIDS COMMENT

The President said he had not analyzed and did not wish to comment specifically on Khrushchev's statements.

★ ★ ★

As for Cuba, he said, U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and his associate in the negotiations, John J. McCloy, had been discussing Cuban problems with Soviet representatives in New York for some weeks, covering such questions as weapons, inspection, aerial observance and invasion.

Lacking an inspection arrangement in Cuba, the United States, Kennedy made clear, will continue its reconnaissance flights over the island and use any other available means to make sure Soviet nuclear weapons do not show up there again. The Soviet Union has pulled out 42 big missiles and 42 jet bombers, stating that those were all of both categories of weapons in Cuba. Thousands of Soviet troops or other military personnel remain on the island.

★ ★ ★

With respect to shipping, the President said the United States has used its influence with some North Atlantic Treaty allies and with other countries "to discourage shipping" to Cuba. Some countries have responded, he said, and the United States is going ahead with its work on regulations.

Several U.S. allies, particularly Britain and Norway, registered strenuous objections to the proposed U.S. regulations when they were first advanced.

★ ★ ★

A report released by the Maritime Administration of the Commerce Department in early October showed that non-Communist ship operations in the Cuban trade were about double those of the Soviet bloc.

JFK Maps Strategy on Tax Slice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy mapped strategy today for forcing Congress to cut income taxes next year despite go-slow warnings by powerful Democrats alarmed at the specter of huge budget deficits.

Preparing for the impending battle, Kennedy will attempt to woo broad support of the business community in a speech before the Economic Club of New York tomorrow night.

"We intend to go ahead with our (tax-cutting) program. Then, of course, it will be up to the ways and means committee and the Congress to make a judgment as to whether they will accept it," Kennedy told a news conference yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy later conferred for 45 minutes at the White House with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the committee's powerful chairman, who has challenged the wisdom of the administrations' approach to 1963 tax legislation.

There was no immediate indication as to whether the talk had narrowed the gaps between the views of the two men.

Earlier this week Mills said publicly what he told Treasury officials some weeks ago — he could see no economic justification for enacting a tax cut retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963, as Kennedy has promised; and any tax bill enacted next year should contain revenue-producing reform provisions that would not fall too short of balancing the revenue loss that would occur through reduction of tax rates.

★ ★ ★

Although Kennedy is committed to proposing tax "reforms," White House strategists are fearful that any extensive package of revenue-boosting provisions would stir such strong opposition that the bill could not be passed in one congressional session.

Bowlerama Deadline Extended to Sunday 1st Squad Time

Wilson 5th in Voting

Sherman NFL Coach-of-Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Allie Sherman, winner of a second term as coach of the year in the National Football League, rates his 1962 New York Giants a better club than last year's Eastern Conference champs.

Sherman outpointed four contenders in the voting of an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities today.

The committee gave Sherman 13 votes to 10 for Bill McPeak of Washington, seven each for Vince Lombardi of Green Bay and Tom Landry of Dallas and four for George Wilson of Detroit. One member of the 42-man panel did not vote in this category.

Sherman said one big reason for the club's improvement was the fact that Y. A. Tittle and the players had grown to know one another better. He pointed out that Tittle, acquired last year from San Francisco, had been injured in the 1961 training season and missed the opening game.

"Tittle had to learn the whole club last year," he said. "Now he knows what they can do and we know what to expect from him.

ALLIE SHERMAN

Bowlers Can Make Entries Until Sunday

Record Tourney Field Is Expected to Fatten Total Purse

Hoping to set a new record in entries and also increase the big Bowlerama "pot of prizes," the deadline for the 6th annual tournament's final weekend of qualifying has been extended to Sunday, one-half hour prior to first squad time.

The qualifying to be held at North Hill in Rochester and 300 Bowl on Cass Lake Road will begin at 11:00 a.m. Bowlers will be permitted to fill up any vacant times on existing squads by registering at either house by 10:45 a.m.

After this time no bowler will be permitted to enter.

The purpose of extending the deadline is also to fill any squad openings and to serve as experiment for the 1963 Bowlerama which will be conducted on an open qualifying basis at designated houses in the county.

All additional entries will fatten up the Bowlerama purse and make it possible for a greater percentage of handicap bowlers to get into the finals December 23rd at Airway Lanes.

All post-deadline entries should enter either at 300 Bowl or at North Hill or turn their entries in to The Press sports department.

This weekend's pairings to be announced in Friday's Press will include all entries through Thursday with open times on the various squads listed.

It is hoped that the total entry list will reach 1,500 and this would push the first prize close to $700 with a bigger percentage breakdown for all qualifiers.

All bowlers who wish to be eligible for the Actual's Invitational phase of the tournament must be bona-fide Bowlerama entries. Last year 74 actuals bowlers participated in the Invitational with the cutoff of invitations being 189 average and 626 actual score in the Bowlerama.

This total of invitations may be increased this year but the average and actual scores may be higher in view of the great number of high average bowlers entered.

AAU, Federation Agree to Arbitration

NEW YORK (AP) —Soundly spanked by President Kennedy for "continued bickering" that threatened U.S. participation in the Olympics, both the Amateur Athletic Union and the new college-dominated U.S. Track and Field Federation agreed today to submit their differences to an arbitration panel.

The President called for such arbitration at his news conference Wednesday, "on behalf of the country and on behalf of sports."

Kennedy had warned that if the organizations refused, "we will not have an Olympic team in 1964."

★ ★ ★

"We will submit to the panel suggested by the President," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU.

"I think the President is absolutely right," said Chick Werner, long time Penn State track coach who heads the federation.

"The Federation has stood willing to work out a solution with the AAU and I am sure federation officials continue to hold that position," said Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which spawned the federation.

The dispute between the two organizations over the control of amateur sports in the country has raged for 2½ years. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, the President's brother, sat in on a meeting last month between the two groups in New York at which a solution apparently was reached.

But the agreement quickly fell apart.

The NCAA, through federations set up in track, gymnastics, basketball and baseball, has challenged the right of the AAU to certify athletes as eligible for international competition. The AAU holds the right under international rules.

As a result of the dispute, participation in the Olympics and the Pan-American Games in Brazil next year is threatened.

The President used sharp words at his press conference in Washington.

"For the past 2½ years, the Amateur Athletic Union and other athletic groups organized as federations have engaged in a dispute which now threatens proper representation for the United States in international competition," he said.

Kennedy referred to agreements to form a coalition reached last month, and added:

"Now, however, even that coalition has been tangled by a whole group of conflicting interpretations. The governing bodies of these groups apparently put their own interests before the interests of our athletes, our traditions of sport and our country.

"The time has come for these groups to put the national interest first. Their continued bickering is grossly unfair."

Kennedy said, "on behalf of the country and on behalf of sport, I call on these organizations to submit their differences to an arbitration panel immediately."

He added he hoped the groups "will quickly abandon their concern with victory for themselves at the conference table and focus on their more proper concern, victory for sportsmanship."

STUDY MESSAGE

Both organizations studied the President's words carefully before issuing statements.

Byers claimed the AAU had rejected the agreement reached last month.

"The rejection of these principles by the AAU marks the second consecutive occasion within a five-week period that the AAU has repudiated the principles of agreement worked out by its own negotiating committee," he said.

Hull said Byers' understanding of the agreement, "now appears to be different from our understanding."

He added, "we can—we must—settle this thing for the good of the athletes, and so we can field the best possible Olympic team."

Hull also repeated the AAU's call for a "full and complete Congressional investigation of the amateur athletic picture in the country," including both feuding organizations.

At the heart of the dispute is the fact that the colleges turn out most of the amateur athletes in the sports in which they have formed federations, but the AAU controls their participation in international sport.

The federation has demanded a large voice in international affairs. A coalition of the two groups was agreed upon but fell apart quickly.

The AAU moved recently to declare ineligible athletes who competed in an open cross country meets sponsored by the federation. More than 400 athletes were affected, most of them from high schools.

The Eastern College Athletic Conference, largest college group in the country and a nearly supporter of the federations, will discuss the situation at its annual meeting in New York Friday.

The ECAC represents 134 colleges.

Lions' Choice Not Theirs

Stakes Big in Sunday NFL Final

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Go to Miami for $20,000 or to New York for $350,000!

This isn't the choice the Detroit Lions can actually make, but its the fact which they will have to accept depending on Sunday's final NFL results.

★ ★ ★

Should the Lions beat the Bears and the Packers take care of the Rams, the Miami trip for the Runnerup Bowl against the Pittsburgh Steelers is the lone choice and the $20,000 will have to be split up by all the Lions concerned.

MIRACLE NEEDED

Now if the "Miracle of the Day" should happen and the Rams shock the Packers into defeat and the Lions defeat the rough Bears in the Windy City, then Sunday December 23rd will feature the half-million dollar game in Tiger Stadium.

A playoff would result between the Lions and Packers. This game would be worth a couple hundred thousand dollars and the winner here would finally earn the trip to New York and the $350,000 take from game proceeds and TV for the two divisional champions.

The meeting to discuss the split of money and elect a captain was scheduled for today. The last four years, Joe Schmidt has captained the team.

★ ★ ★

Of course the split of the $20,000 has taken priority over the $350,000 pot and the reasons are obvious. No one is expecting the Packers to lose.

CAREFUL

The Lions won't be safe in Chicago, with or without a Green Bay loss. The Bears have an 8-5 record and past records show some of the most bruising games ever played were witnessed at Wrigley Field.

Coach Papa Halas needs the victory to give him the best record (9-5) since the division title year of 1956 and he also wants revenge for the 11-3 loss in Detroit earlier in the season.

The Bears have come alive in the late stages of the season after many of their injuries and ailments returned to full physical form. It is recalled that when they played the Packers, nine starting players from the offensive and defensive units were out of action.

Everyone was in tip top shape when they posted the overwhelming 57-0 win over the Colts three weeks ago. Chicago has won four of its last five, the lone defeat at the hands of the Eastern Division champions, the Giants, 26-24.

The Lions, disheartened by the 49ers failure to hold their lead against the Packers will be aiming for a few records. Milt Plum needs only 115 yards for a new season passing record, erasing Bobby Layne's mark of 2403 set in 1951.

★ ★ ★

Gail Cogdill, "Mr. Fantasy", needs 64 yards to tie Bob Mann's 1949 mark of 1,014 yards.

The game will be televised back to Detroit.

Bears to Celebrate Alumni Homecoming

CHICAGO (AP) — George S. Halas, the National Football League's venerable and battlewise Papa Bear, will conduct his annual Chicago Bear "Alumni homecoming" party Sunday after the Bear finale with the Detroit Lions.

The unique reunion, started in the 1930's, perhaps stresses a prime reason the 67-year-old Halas, who intends to tackle still another coaching season—his 36th—next year, must rank one of the pro sports world's seven wonders.

Loyalty, if not championships lately, is a Bear hallmark and it applies to fans who grumble but continue to pack Wrigley Field.

OLD BEARS RETURN

They will come, some 85 of these Old Bears, from all sections and all walks of business life, to tease and toast the pioneer who rode a lead horse in the NFL's march from early famine to present bursting prosperity.

Beyond Red Grange, who helped Halas draw a then phenomental pro crowd of 36,000 against the Chicago Cardinals on Thanksgiving Day in 1925, young pro fans probably will recall few of Papa Bear's patriarchal guests Sunday night.

They will include such members of Halas' original Bear casts in the early 1920's as Hunk Anderson, Bert Ingwerson, Ed Healey, Jim McMillen, Leo Johnson, Larry Walquist, Tarzan Taylor and Ernie Vick.

There will be others, like Dr. Danny Fortmann, coming from California; Dr. Joe Kopcha; dentist Bill Osmanski; George Musso, a downstate sheriff badly hurt recently in an auto accident; Jack Manders; Joe Stydahar; Pug Renter; Carl Brumbaugh; Johnny Sisk; Hugh Gallarneau and Ed Sprinkle, now an assistant to former Bear Bulldog Turner of the New York Titans of the rival American Football League.

★ ★ ★

McMillen, former Illinois star, is a little publicized Bear vice president. You don't hear much, either of Ralph Brizzolara, Bear secretary, who also will be at Sunday night's party in McCormick Place on Chicago's lake front.

But Brizzolara, who was top brass for the Bears when Halas served in World War II in his second Navy stint, and McMillen helped George over a big financial hump in 1933.

It was then Halas had to raise $38,000 in dour depression days to buy out Dutch Sternaman, his partner and a charter member of George's original Bear club, the 1920 Staley's of Decatur, Ill.

In that 1933 year of decision, Halas also heeded financial help from his mother, who bought $5,000 worth of Bear stock from her savings, and from the late Charlie (Blue Shirt) Bidwill, former owner of the Chicago Cardinals who bought $5,000 stock and arranged a $5,000 bank loan.

IRA Officials Alter Regatta

NEW YORK (AP)—The Intercollegiate Rowing Association has taken the first step toward rectifying the poor showing made by U.S. oarsmen in the 1960 Olympics.

Making the first moves in a program they hope will aid U.S. rowers at the 1964 Tokyo Olympics, the IRA Wednesday changed the distance of the annual IRA Regatta to the Olympic course of 2,000 meters (1¼ miles).

The IRA Regatta, now rechristened the Syracuse Regatta, also will be held as a two-day event on Onondaga Lake in Syracuse, June 19 and 20. The 1963 edition remains a 3-mile event on one day, June 15.

The drastic shift from the 3-mile to 2,000-meter course was voted by the IRA's Board of Stewards, meeting at the 26th annual convention of the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The meeting continues today and Friday.

Clubmen Score in City Ball

Southwest Community Club continued its fast paced scoring in recreational basketball last night with a 76-50 verdict over Local No. 653.

Other adult leagues' games saw Columbia Avenue Baptist take Town & Country Lounge, 39-34, and Colonial Lumber walloped the Pontiac Police team, 50-22.

In Class D League action, the Spartans took The Chiefs, 51-36, and New Hope held on for a 46-40 triumph over Victor Paint.

In the Waterford Recreation League, Lakeland Pharmacy romped to a 59-38 victory over Drayton Inn and Hoyt Realty welcomed manager Chuck Goff's 20 points in winning over A&W Root Bee, 53-43. Bill Ryan led the losers with 16.

19 Pins Up in Charlotte

Brunt Leads PBA Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Ralph Brunt of Atlanta took a 19-pin margin over Jim St. John of Chicago Wednesday at the halfway mark in the Professional Bowlers Association's $20,400 Charlotte Open Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Brunt, whose best finish in a PBA tourney was a second place in the Chicago Open last December, shot six blocks of 1,325 and 1,301, a 218-pin average to pace the 96-man field for the $4,000 first prize.

Billy Golembiewski of Detroit, who won this year's Master's tournament, posted the highest six-game series when he opened the afternoon session with a 1,416. He falted in the second block, however, coming up with a 2,600 total.

Monroe Moore of Pontiac finished second in the pro-am event and had blocks of 1176 and 1229 in his first day's bowling.

His game scores were 188-215-174-180-186-233-1176; 228-180 - 203-205-171-242 — 1229. He was still in the running at five over 200 average.

Five Starters Hot in Piston Triumph

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Potsons punctured a four-game winning streak for the New York Knicks, 115-106, last night to move within three percentage points of third place in the National Basketball Association Western Division.

The Pistons continued their own winning streak behind the double-figured scoring of their starting five.

Bailey Howell hit for 25 points, Bob Ferry had 24, Ray Scott 22, Don Ohl 16 and Dave Debusschere 10.

The halftime buzzer sounded with the Pitsons holding a 64-43 advantage after surging into a 34-26 lead in the final minutes of the first quarter.

Detroit increased the edge to 72-46 in the third period, but the Kincks turned on a final push to pull within 10 points of a tie in the first four minutes of the final quarter.

★ ★

However, the Pistons held on to their commanding advantage until the end of the game.

Top men for the Knickerbockers were Johnny Green with 21 points and Richie Guerin with 20.

It was the third straight victory for the Pistons and their seventh decision in their last nine starts.

In other games, Boston beat St. Louis 111-98, Los Angeles took Syracuse 126-120 and Chicago defeated Cincinnati 105-102.

ALL FOULED UP — New York Knickerbocker Gene Conley (5) winds up with his arms in the face of Detroit Piston Ray Scott (12) as he tried to block a shot in the first period of their game in Detroit last night. Conley was charged with a foul. The Pistons won, 115-106.

Taylor Leads NFL Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's fullback, and Lous Michaels, Pittsburgh's fine place kicker, are in a tight race for the National Football League scoring honors going into the final week of the season.

Neither will approach the all-time record of 176 points set by Paul Hornung of Green Bay in 1960. Hornung, also the leader in 1961 with 146 points dropped out of the race due to a knee injury after a fast start.

Hope, Adrian Post Wins

OLIVET (AP) — Jim Vanderhill dropped in 22 points in the first half in sparking Hope College to an 84-62 Michigan Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association basketball victory over Olivet last night.

Vanderhill, who has led MIAA scoring for the past two years, totaled 31 points to capture game scoring honors as a total of six men reached double figures.

Gary Nederveld sank 20 and Clare Van Wieren 11 for Hope as Ed Williamson dropped in 13, Doug Eveleth 12 and Mike Boyle 10 for Olivet.

Hope now has a 3-1 mark for the season, while Olivet has three losses in as many starts.

ADRIAN WINS

ADRIAN (AP) — Adrian picked up an early lead behind the shooting of John Johnson and Dave Drouhot to down Albion 80-71 last night in the season's first Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association Basketball game for both schools.

Johnson paced the Bulldogs with 20 points, followed closely by Drouhot with 19. Emil Detracia was high man for Albion with 14.

Adrian now stands at the 2-3 mark in season play while Albion has a 0-4 record.

Gotham Bowl Plans Progress—Maybe

NEW YORK (AP) — The off-again, on-again Gotham Bowl football game is — at least at last count — on again. Maybe.

There was considerable doubt about the status of the game most of the day and into the night Wednesday. The television situation still is up in the air.

Miami, which once or twice threatened to pull out of the troubled affair scheduled for Yankee Stadium Saturday, now says it's coming. The Hurricanes' opponent, Nebraska, is taking a wait and see attitude, meanwhile expecting to fly here Friday.

"Maybe we ought to change the name to 'The Suspense Bowl,'" Gotham Bowl executive director Bob Curran said Wednesday after a series of hastily-called conferences that lasted far into the night.

Ron Bull Is Named NFL Rookie-of-Year

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Bull, the Chicago Bears' bouncy halfback, received the hottest honor of his football career on the coldest day of his life Wednesday.

Ex-Baylor star Bull, 22, was named National Football League rookie-of-the-year by an Associated Press panel of experts just as Chicago was struck by a record 7 below zero cold wave.

"Even though I've never been colder in my life," said the handsome, slick galloper from Waco, Tex., "I haven't ever been more thrilled, either.

"I'll cherish this honor. It's something I hadn't really thought would be possible against all the fine new players in the league. This is like making All-America in college and All-State in high school—only in terrifically faster company. I have a lot of people to thank, especially all my coaches."

★ ★ ★

Bull, Chicago's No. 1 draft choice who started his Bear career this fall as a defensive back, carried the ball only nine times for 26 yards and didn't snag a pass in his first three games.

Yet through Sunday's 13th league game, the Baylor bomber has amassed 372 yards in 103 carries for a 3.6 average and caught 29 passes for 324 yards.

RAM TACKLE

Bull's closest rival for rookie honors, in the balloting of 39 NFL writers and broadcasters, was Merlin Olsen, the Los Angeles Rams' 6-foot-5, 265-pound tackle from Utah State.

Bull collected 17 votes and Olsen seven. Ten other NFL fledglings received votes, including Ed Pine, San Francisco linebacker, Louis offensive tackle, Gary Collins, Cleveland punter and flanker back, and George Andrie, Dallas defensive end, each with two ballots.

Winning one vote apiece were Joe Womack, Pittsburgh halfback Ed O'Bradovich, Chicago defensive end; Bill Winter, New York linebacker; Mick Tingelhoff, Minnesota center; Al Miller, Washington linebacker; and Mike Lucci, Cleveland linebacker.

The Bears' Mike Ditka, who was named second team tight end on The Associated Press 1962 All-League squad, was last year's AP rookie-of-the-year.

Dick Tiger Wins Writers' Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger, the rugged middleweight champion from Nigeria, was named the 1962 winner of the Edward J. Neil award as Fighter of the Year Wednesday.

The 33-year-old boxer-puncher was selected for the honor by the Boxing Writers Association. He will receive the Neil plaque at the BWA's annual dinner Jan. 13.

Tiger, a muscular 160-pounder who has won eight straight fights in the last two years, captured the World Boxing Association's middleweight crown by hammering out a decisive victory in 15 rounds over defender Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, at San Francisco, last Oct. 23.

PNH Swimmers Win 3rd

Pontiac Northern won its third swimming meet of the season and its first in the North Suburban Swim League by defeating Utica, 64-41.

Another NSSL member, Southfield opened its season on a losing note to Royal Oak Kimball, 74-31.

The Huskies took eight firsts including a double victory by Bob Basinger in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. PNH took both team events.

Southfield managed to win only in the breaststroke event with Wilson going 1:08.9, while Kimball took 10 other firsts.

Rangers Drop 6th Straight to Hawks, 4-3

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks were riding a four-point bulge atop the National Hockey League standings today, and they have the New York Rangers to thank for much of it.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers, who haven't beaten the Black Hawks all season, dropped their sixth straight to the Chicago club last night, 4-3, after taking a one-goal lead into the final period.

Ranger goalie Gump Worsley held off the league leaders until Ken Wharram tied the score at 2:32 of the third period. Then Bill Hay scored the winning goal at 9:30.

Stan Mikita and Pierre Pilote got earlier goals for the Hawks, while Dean Prentice, Andy Bathgate and Bronco Horvath picked up the Ranger goals.

Tonight, the second-place Detroit Red Wings get their crack at the Rangers, who occupy the fifth spot in the standings, and the cellar Boston Bruins face fourth-place Montreal.

Fans Favor Honey Bear

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—World middleweight contender Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore. outpointed Gene (Honey Bear) Bryant of Tucson, Ariz., in a 10-round bout Wednesday night.

Bryant weighed 161, Moyer 160.

Many in a crowd estimated at 2,300 booed the decision.

Contain Baker Job for Villanova '5'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I think the key is to keep Baker from throwing—if we can put pressure on him and also keep him from running."

Coach Alex Bell emphasized today what his Villanova Wildcats must do to defeat Oregon State in Saturday's fourth Liberty Bowl classic in Philadelphia Stadium.

And how did Bell propose to stop All-America quarterback Terry Baker, who is a dangerous runner as well as passer, and his favorite target, end Vern Burke?

"We don't reval what we're going to do," said Bell, then he revealed some of the strategy in broad terms.

The game, with the kickoff scheduled for 1:10 p.m. EST, will be nationally televised (NBC) with the Philadelphia area blacked out.

Bud Dudley, promoter of the game, said advance sales so far are around 25,000.

1963 Racing Dates Listed

Harness Tracks Given 187 Nights Next Year

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's four harness tracks will total 187 nights of racing in 1963 starting with the Hazel Park meet April 11.

State racing commissioner Edgar Hayes said today the harness season will run from April 11 through Nov. 16. The 187 nights of racing are an increase of five above 1962.

Hazel Park harness raceway will be in operation 50 nights through June 8. The trotters and pacers then will move to Northville June 10 for 45 nights of racing through July 31.

Wolverine will open a 50-night stand running from Aug. 2 through Sept. 28. Jackson's 42-night meeting will begin Sept. 30 and end Nov. 16.

With the previously announced thoroughbred dates, Michigan will have 231 days of racing next year.

Hayes reported that all four tracks showed an increase in business in 1962.

NASCAR Has 'Big' Year

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) The National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) enjoyed its greatest financial year in 1962 with more than $2.3 million being distributed in prize money.

NASCAR President Bill France said yesterday that there were 1,308 sanctioned races during the year on 103 tracks.

Machen Found With Gun, Put in Hospital

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Machen, top-ranked heavyweight contender, was detained in a mental hospital Wednesday after a highway patrolman said he found him apparently contemplating suicide.

The patrolman said Machen told him he planned to kill himself because he was broke, couldn't get any more fights and "everything was all wrong."

The 30-year-old boxer was admitted to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Patrol Traffic Officer Bill McCluskey said he found Machen parked off U.S. Highway 40 near Vallejo, Calif., "a loaded gun next to him on the seat. He was writing a farewell letter."

A physician at the hospital said Wednesday night Machen was in "satisfactory condition and has no apparent injuries."

Dr. B. J. Qhelan of the hospital staff would not discuss Machen's confinement but said he would be examined today.

MSU Tackle Likes NFL

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns of the National Football League announced the signing Wednesday of their second round draft choice, Jim Kanicki of Michigan State.

Kanicki was drafted also by Buffalo of the American Football League. He was the second draftee signed by the Browns.

Test for W. Bloomfield

Northville Set to Put Lakers on Title Trial

Clarkston, Bloomfield Favored to Improve Cage Marks

Northville's Mustangs are no longer running away from the opposition in the Wayne-Oakland League.

★ ★ ★

Instead of being front-runners, like all of last season, the Mustangs are now trial horses.

They will test another pretender to the crown Friday when the Mustangs invade West Bloomfield.

Clarkston, another heir apparent, travels to Milford, and Bloomfield Hills, also an aspirant to the throne room, entertains Brighton. Clarenceville goes to Holly for the other W-O game.

Northville has all but lost its crown in the first two league games, being defeated by Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield will be favored to knock it off completely. The Lakers have had little difficulty whipping three opponents.

BALANCE PAYS

Coach Art Paddy has come up with a balanced attack featuring Chuck Robison, Bill Eliason, Dan Grieg and Dan Armistead to go with the rebounding of Dave Helmreich.

Northville has a couple of potent scoring weapons in Craig Bell and Tom Swiss. The retrun of Jim Juday in the backcourt will be a steadying influence. This was proved in the 65-55 upset of Plymouth the last time out. This proved the Mustangs can still kick.

Ken Misken has blossomed into a scoring threat for Clarkston and this means added trouble for Milford. The Redskins will also give away some height.

Port Huron Poses Problem to Maples

A victory will be the order of the day for the Birmingham Seaholm cagers tomorrow as they swing into action at Port Huron.

It may prove to be a long trip for the Maples. The Big Reds already have indicated that they have serious thoughts concerning who will occupy the No. 1 spot when the warring Eastern Michigan League factions quit the courts the first of March.

Ferndale has already stopped the Huron and Seaholm quints in it's first two starts, 60-48 and 36-30 respectively.

The victor of the Port Huron-Maples' clash will still have top flight opponents in Hazel Park first in the EML standings presently with an overall 3-0 mark, and Royal Oak Kimball, 1-1, before any serious title plans can materialize.

The entire league will tipoff a full conference schedule Friday for the first time in the young prep cage season.

Besides the Maple - Port Huron tilt, Kimball will travel to Mt. Clemens (1-1), defending league champion East Detroit will play host to Ferndale and Hazel Park will entertain loop newcomer, Roseville.

'Tiger' Turns Kitten

Waterford at Farmington

PNH Faces Hungry Walled Lake

The basketball famine at Walled Lake is now in its second season. How long it will last is anyone's guess. But it is doubtful if the Vikings will feast at Pontiac Northern's expense this Friday at Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Since Walled Lake tied PNH for the Inter - Lakes cage crown in February of 1961, the Vikings have not won a game. The famine started with a defeat in the state tournament and continued through 18 contests last season.

They have lost their only two outings this season bringing the total to 21.

Waterford, likewise, faces a tough task when the Skippers invade Farmington. Berkley at Southfield will complete the opening night of I-L action.

Walled Lake's gym is the only advantage the Vikings will have against Northern. But it is not expected to be enough to contain the Huskies.

★ ★ ★

Coach Dick Hall has inserted more running into the PNH attack. This has produced an average of 75 points in the Huskier first two games. They hold an 83-61 decision over Rochester, but lost to Flint Southwestern, 79-67.

This averages out to 70 points a game for the opposition.

STARTING LINEUP

Hall appears settled on a starting lineup. Jerry Reese has earned a guard slot and will team with Mike Burklow in the backcourt.

Gary Hayward who has scored 47 points in two games, and his brother Roger will start in the front line. They will be joined by either Dean Souden or Wayne Daniels.

Walled Lake's attack is built around Bob Tuck. If he is successfully defensed the Vikings will be in trouble.

Farmington's veteran crew started fast as expected, posting a win over North Farmington, but then being ambushed by Livonia Bentley, 42-38.

★ ★ ★

Berkley and Farmington tied for the cage crown last season, but the Falcons are favored to take all the honors this time.

Walt Grimaila, a 6-6 center in his third year on the varsity; Chuck Gadde, 6-4; Dick Fusco; and Dale Pitcock, 6-1; all were regulars last season.

Two other experienced players are 6-4 Russ Cleveland and Paul Ghatzka. Lurking on the bench is 6-7 junior Neil Warriner.

★ ★ ★

Waterford got off on the wrong foot Tuesday night by losing to West Bloomfield.

Berkley and Southfield both lack experience. The Blue Jays will have a height advantage along with the home court.

Giants' Star Has Ulcer

NEW YORK (AP)—Del Shofner, All-Star end of the New York Football Giants, entered a hospital Wednesday for treatment of an ulcer. He is expected to miss the Giants' regular season final against Dallas Sunday.

The blond pass catching whiz, named the split end on The Associated Press National Football League squad for 1962, has had an ucler history since college days.

Kicking Specialist

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—West Virginia's freshman football team won three of its four games. Placekicker Chuck Kinder accounted for two of the victories. He kicked a field goal in the 3-0 victory over Pitt's freshmen and he kicked a point in the 15-14 win over Virginia Tech. The little Mountaineers opened with a 32-0 victory over Fairmont but ended the season with a 15-6 loss to Ohio University.

Chiefs Tangle With Wolves at Bay City

Pontiac Central Goes With Same Starting Lineup Friday

Whether deliberate or unintentional, Saginaw didn't do Pontiac Central any favors Friday night when it clobbered Bay City Central, 81-42.

★ ★ ★

The Bay City squad is an unknown quantity in the Saginaw Valley race and a PCH scout sat in the stands at Saginaw last week anticipating some indication of the Wolves' strength this season.

He got very little. The talented Saginaw team threw a zone press defense against the inexperienced Wolves and Bay City could not rally its forces all evening.

With Bob Meeth a new coach at BC, Art Van Ryzin, the erstwhile mentor at PCH, has no previous indication, either, as to what tricks the new Wolves' leader may produce from the proverbial bag.

NO CHANGES

Van Ryzin will stay with his starting lineup that fell one point short of overtaking Flint Central (45-44) last Friday. Team captain Ray Sain will start at one forward with Gerald Henry, who drives and jumps as well as anyone on this year's team, at the other front slot.

Ace rebounder McKinley Jones will be in the pivot and Mel DeWalt will team with Ernie Pickett in the backcourt.

Despite two losing endeavors on the home court, Van Ryzin and the PCH five feel confident they will bring back a victory in their second SVC outing. The Saginaw loss was the season's opener for BC Central.

The Valley's top game of the young season is slated for Friday night when Saginaw puts its 2-4 game victory string on the line at intracty rival, Arthur Hill. Both teams have won one league start.

★ ★ ★

Flint Southwestern will make its league debut for this season by invading the court of Flint Central. Two losing teams in the conference race will seek to step up in the title fight when Bay City Handy travels to Midland.

Cardinals Satisfied Wally's No Lemm-on

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Wally Lemm has been rehired as head coach of the St. Louis football Cardinals, William Bidwill, vice-president of the club, announced at the Cardinal Quarterback Club's award banquet Wednesday night.

Salary terms were not disclosed.

Flanker back Bobby Joe Conrad was named the team's most valuable player. Other team awards went to tackle Irv Goode as the outstanding rookie and tackle Frank Fuller as the old pro.

The Cardinal's "dream backfield" of 1947's championship team was honored at the dinner. They were Charley Trippi, Pat Harder, Elmer Angsman, Marshall Goldberg and Paul Christman.

The Pontiac Northern Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

Grappling on the prep level is enoying an ever-increasing popularity.

The PNH Tourney is a move to bring the ancient sport into the spotlight to give a host of area fans a chance to view a lot of hard, fast, action packed onto a 24-square foot mat while enjoying the man-to-man combat.

The appeal of amateur wrestling comes from the fact that it pits the entire mental and physical factors of the two competitors.

ENDURANCE

The winner usually is not only the most skilled but also the one with the best endurance and superior strength.

Approximately 450 boys will take part in the strenuous tests this Friday and Saturday and about 900 fans are expected to visit the Northern gym for the spectacle.

Five mats will pal the grapplers as they start the eliminations tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 and end that evening at 10:30 p.m.

Eighteen schools are registered to date with 24 entries apiece.

"The primary objective," according to tournament manager Harry Avesian, a biology and physical education teacher at Northern, "of this tournament is to give the largest number of boys the opportunity to compete."

★ ★ ★

"Only the best get the chance in the various schools' duel meet schedules."

A team trophy will be awarded to the winning group. It's the first itme in the three year history of the tourney that an award has been given.

Individual trophies are the prizes for the first place in each event and medals will be given to the 2nd, 3rd and 4th finishers in their weight classes.

Weight divisions include 95 pounds, 103, 112, 120, 127 and 133. Also 133, 138, 145, 165, 180 and heavyweight.

★ ★ ★

Defending champions Don Wilkinson at 103 Walled Lake and Charles Beavers, 133-pounder from Pontiac Central will be on hand to defend their hard won titles earned last year at Warren Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Featured in the mat marathon will be teams from Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern, Waterford Kettering and Waterford Township, plus three schools from the Farmington area; Farmington, North Farmington and Our Lady of Sorrows.

Alos included are Royal Oak Dondero and Kimball, Lake Orion, Hazetl Park, Warren Fitzgerald and Lincoln Warren.

Completing the group will be Southfield, L'Anse Creuse and Berkley.

Parochials Feature Twinbills

The Northwest Parochial League will unveil the first of its "doubleheaders" this weekend with six league contests scheduled for Friday and Saturday pights.

All seven teams will play at least once with St. Michael, St. Frederick, Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, Orchard Lake St. Mary and Detroit St. Agatha slated for back-to-back contests. Several more such weekends are listed this season.

St. Michael and St. Fred's will take turns using the Madison Junior High School court preceded by 6:45 p.m. reserve games. The Rams will play there Saturday night against St. Agatha following a road game at WOLL

St. Mike's will begin the two-game weekend at Madison JHS Friday when defending co-champion OLSM visit the Shamrocks. Then on Saturday night, the other defending co-champion, Royal Oak St. Mary will be host to the Mikemen.

UPSET WIN

The Shamrocks upset St. Fred's in their only league game so far and have won twice this season overall.

ROSM has won two circuit clashes this year and appears ready to make a strong defense of its crown. The OL St. Mary squad has split two starts but produced a 71-point outburst in defeating St. Agatha last Friday. The Eaglets have a career record of 19-8 with St. Mike's.

St. Fred's has to win both of its starts Friday and Saturday or its title aspirations will be gone like Pontiac's Indian summer. The Rams have the material and coach Gene Wright only needs to find the right combination.

WOLL won one of its two league games thus far and that is more than it has ever done before. If George Sharpe is hitting, the Lakers could cause some concern for the Rams and the Eaglets whom they play Saturday.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was surprised rudely by WOLL in its opener and then rudely rebuffed St. Fred's last week. A victory over St. Agatha this Friday will keep the Lancers in the title race.

Oakland-A Leaders After 4th Victory

Clawson returns home Friday to face Lake Orion in an Oakland A Conference game after posting three straight victories on the road.

★ ★ ★

Other league action Friday will have Oak Park playing at Troy, Madison going to Fitzgerald. Avondale has a nonleague date at Lamphere.

Two games are scheduled in the Tri-County. L'Anse Creuse will be at Rochester while Waterford Kettering is at Lapeer. Romeo steps outside of the league to play at Oxford.

Clawson is fast stamping itself a possible contender for state Class B honors.

The Trojans have brushed off the challenges of Lamphere, Troy, Madison and Warren Lincoln and are expected to make their league record 3-0 against winless Lake Orion.

SLOW FINISH

The Dragons have lost twice and in both games played well at the beginning only to run into trouble as the contests progressed.

Jon Cucksey and Tom Lipford are the mainstays of the Orion attack. Clawson's big scorer is John Miller, also a good defensive player. He is aided by top rebounder Tom McArthur.

Troy, expected to challenge for the crown, has lost to Clawson and been badly jolted by Fitzgerald. Oak Park has a tall front line to go along with the shooting of Dennis Pink and might keep the Colts on the run.

Avondale has a young team, but the Yellow Jackets are expected to get past Lamphere.

★ ★ ★

Kettering makes it league debut at Lapeer and the Captains may be sailing into more trouble than they can handle. Indications are that Lapeer is stronger than preseason forecasts indicated.

The Rochester - L'Anse Creuse game is rated a tossup. The Falcons have lost twice but may have found added scoring. Chuck Lepley was impressive while dropping in 22 points against Pontiac Northern.

Romeo is expected to have little trouble getting past winless Oxford.

Of the 19 baseball leagues which operated the last two years, 11 showed an overall increase in attendance.

Major Inter-League Trade Period Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—The neighborhood kid with the batch of baseball bubble gum cards stuffed into a pocket of his dungarees can put his pack in temporary flipping order this weekend when the majors' inter-league trading period ends.

Junior has been going through a trying period. Since the end of the World Series, 24 major transactions involving an exchange of 62 players have been concluded with 10 of the deals involving 23 players consummated during the inter-league session.

The inter-loop period, which began Nov. 21, ends its 23-day run at midnight Friday. By then Junior will at least be able to realign some of his favorites. If he's a Minnesota or Kansas City fan he's not going to have any trouble.

Every one of the 20 clubs in the majors—with the exception of the Twins and Athletics — has made at least one trade or purchase since the end of the 1962 season. And 15 teams have shifted personnel during the inter-league period.

The Boston Red Sox have been the most active in the inter-league session, completing three trades, while the world champion New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers completed one of the longest in history when they swapped Stan Williams for Bill Skowron.

★ ★ ★

With the exception of the conditional deal that sent pitcher Bob Turley to the Los Angeles Angels, the trade for Williams was the first and last for the Yanks. After obtaining the strong right-handed pitcher who posted a 14-12 record last season, General Manager Roy Hamey said:

"We got what we wanted and we won't make any more deals."

The Red Sox haven't stopped. In one transaction, they sent American League batting champion Pete Runnels to Houston for outfielder Roman Mejias. It marked only the fifth time in major league annals a batting king had been swapped right after winning the crown.

The Red Sox, looking for right-handed hitting power to take advantage of the short left field fence at Fenway Park, also acquired power-hitting first baseman Dick Stuart along with pitcher Jack Lamabe from Pittsburgh for pitcher Don Schwall and catcher Jim Pagliaroni.

Besides Minnesota and Kansas City, Chicago in the AL and champion San Francisco and St. Louis in the NL have not made a deal during the inter-league period.

Area Skiing Good, Lights Turned On

New Snowfall Covers Areas With Powder

Earliest Start Gets Skiers to Local Slopes With Rush

The earliest starting ski season in the seven-year history of Pontiac area ski resorts has all area rushing into full operation.

★ ★ ★

Mort Graddis at Mt. Holly, Joe Kosik of Alpine Valley and Grampian Mt. and Fred Molitor of Dryden all agreed that the sudden winter snows have caused their respective areas to rush their slopes into operation.

The additions to the lodges at Alpine and Holly are still in the process of being completed but this will not hinder skiing activities at the areas.

Mt. Holly reports skiing is good with chair lift and seven rope tows in operation. The slopes have been open since last weekend with eight inches of snow now forming a base and new snows laying powder. The T-Bar and two more slopes will be ready by Saturday.

The ski rental shop has 650 new sets of equipment available.

Alpine Valley opened the season this week with its new chair lift and slope and new beginner's slope operating along with all tows.

★ ★ ★

Alpine has changed its rental facilities, added a new ski shop and is completing a new dining area. New rentals direct from Austria will be available to skiers.

Grampian Mt. has all of its intermediate and beginner's tows operating under new manager John Grimes and the Grampian Mt. ski jumping club is already making plans for a jumping meet before the end of December.

Mt. Christie has its slopes and tows in operation for a good base and new powder.

Dryden is in full operation. A new tow on long run which has a plastic snow base under the present natural base, is in operation.

Mt. Brighton has three inches of good base and good skiing on all slopes with rope tows in operation.

The newest winter sports area, Pine Knob, will be in full operation Saturday, including chair lifts. Skiing is good and available this week.

★ ★ ★

All areas will have their lights turned on this weekend for skiing.

Packers Plans End With LA

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers today refused to look beyond Sunday's final regular season game with the Los Angeles Rams to a league championship encounter with the New York Giants.

Coach Vince Lombardi, refused even to talk about Green Bay's plans beyond the Rams game, declaring that the Packers couldn't think past Sunday's clash because only a victory would permit that.

The Packers were drilling with all the enthusiasm preliminary to a key game as they prepared for the meeting with the Rams whom they had little trouble defeating, 41-10, at Milwaukee two weeks ago.

Although he had not yet announced his starting lineup, Lombardi indicated that Paul Hornung would play as much as he feels able without risking reinjury. The star halfback played about half of his team's last two games since returning to the Packers lineup.

Lema's Record 64 Tops Mexico City Pro-am

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Defending champion Tony Lema, picking up where he left off last year, snapped the course record by four strokes Wednesday in a Pro-amateur tune-up for the Mexican Open. Play in the Open starts Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Lema, from San Leandro, Calif., shot the 7,552-yard Hacienda Country Club course in 32-32—64 with six birdies and an eagle.

The former mark was held by host pro Red Bost.

Oswaldo de Vicenzo was second in the Pro-am with 68. Stan Leonard of Canada and Phil Rodgers, of La Jolla, Calif., scored 69s.

Anchor Bay Comeback Snatches Win, 58-50

Dennis Folan sparked a fourth quarter surge by Anchor Bay last night that overcame visiting Brown City's lead and enabled the home team to record a 58-50 victory.

Folan sank four straight field goals to move Anchor Bay ahead after the winners had trailed by 10 points with three and a half minutes remaining.

Lary Teller scored 20 points and garnered 21 rebounds for the victors, while Don Halley had 15, Folan and Chuck Straight 10 each. Al Martus led the losers with 17, Larry Stephens and Ken Brown were good for 11 and 10, respectively.

Mountaineer Halfback Signs With Two Teams

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Halfback Tom Woodeshick of West Virginia, a double pro signer, said early today he signed first with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League but claimed it occurred a full week before both the AFL draft and the official end of the college football season.

The halfback said he had been told the contract was null and void and he wanted to play with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National League, who signed him Dec. 10 and announced the contract Wednesday. This drew a counter-announcement from the Bills that he already was under contract to them.

CLAIMS VIOLATION

If Woodeshick's contention is true, the contract with Buffalo violated professional football's agreement with the National Collegiate Athletic Association that no player will be signed prior to the end of the college season, which arbitrarily is set to coincide with the date of the Army-Navy game each year.

★ ★ ★

"I signed with Buffalo on Nov. 24 about 6 p.m. at the Hotel Syracuse after our game against Syracuse," Woodeshick said. "I was signed by two assistant coaches for the Bills, Jerry Smith and Joel Collier. I didn't know it would make any difference to be signed ahead of the draft but they told me they would date the contract after the draft."

The AFL draft was held Dec. 1 in Dallas, the NFL draft Dec. 3 in Chicago. Woodeshick was Buffalo's fifth draft choice, and Philadelphia's No. 8 pick.

Lou Saban, coach of the Bills, said Wednesday Woodeshick was signed the day after the AFL draft and added: "He has accepted our check, and as far as I'm concerned he's signed with us." He said announcement was withheld because Woodeshick told him he intended to compete in track and field for West Virginia this spring.

Vince McNally, general manager of the Eagles, said in Philadelphia "We'll just have to wait and see who is wrong."

Chuck Parke, youngest of five brothers who were jockeys from Idaho, succeeded his brother five years ago as trainer for Fred W. Hooper's horses. Last year the Hooper stable was third in the nation in money won with $623,715.

Slight Advance by Big Three

Mart Trading Moderate

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted along listlessly with prices irregular early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Big Three motors held small advances following a prediction by Henry Ford II of excellent auto sales in 1963.

A few of the oils and utilities attracted continued investment demand and the nonferrous metals section was a bit higher.

The market lacked incentive to carry on yesterday's rally and some stock analysts expressed the view that the big six-week rise since the Cuban crisis has still not had a normal "correction," implying that something of that sort lay ahead.

Meanwhile, the newspaper strike still cut off most New York City investors from their normal supply of financial news so the market was not as responsive as it might be to the rising debate in Washington about prospective tax cuts in 1963.

General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler held fractional gains while the "Little Two," American and Studebaker, traded about unchanged.

Prices were generally higher on the American stock exchange in moderate trading.

Syntex gained more than a point. Fractional gainers included Seaboard World Airlines, Signal Oil "A," Sterling Precision, United Improvement & Investing, and Rio Algom Mines.

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities said they had made no price changes from last night's closing.

Rails showed a slight upside edge in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Industrials and utilities were irregular.

Named Men of 'Demonstrated Ability'

LANSING (UPI)—The three Western Michigan men named by George Romney yesterday as members of his executive team were described by the governor-elect as "men of demonstrated abilities."

L. William Seidman, named as an unpaid special counsel to the governor for financial affairs, is a partner in the Grand Rapids firm of Seidman and Seidman, an accounting firm with offices in 19 cities across the country.

A native of Grand Rapids, Seidman is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Harvard Law School. He also holds a master's degree in accounting from the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

He is chairman of the Grand Valley College Board of Control; previously taught at Michigan State University, Wagner College, and the Practicing Law Institute, the latter two in New York. He is married and has five children.

Glenn S. Allen Jr., new state controller, served 16 years on the Kalamazoo City Commission, 12 years on the Kalamazoo County Board of Supervisors, and was mayor of Kalamazoo from 1951-59.

Allen attended Amherst College and received degrees from Kalamazoo college and the Columbia University Law School. He served as legal Assistant to State Supreme Court Justices William W. Potter and Emerson Boyles before returning to his native Kalamazoo in 1940 to practice law.

He served on the faculties of Western Michigan University and Kalamazoo College, was a delegate to the recent constitutional convention, is married and has two daughters.

★ ★ ★

De Vries, named as executive assistant for program development and agency liaison, also is a former college professor. A native of Holland, De Vries took a leave of absence from his teaching job at Calvin College last year to become a delegate to the constitutional convention.

He attended Holland Business College, and received his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Hope College and Michigan State University.

He formerly taught at Hope. Former administrative assistant to the state house speaker, De Vries is married and has four sons.

U. of M. 'Ear' to Keep Tabs on Probe of Venus

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's giant radio telescope on Peach Mountain near Dexter will be "eavesdropping" when the U.S. Mariner II space probe passes over the face of Venus Friday afternoon, says Fred T. Haddock, director of the U. of M. radio astronomy observatory.

★ ★ ★

The observation will be one of many by similar facilities across the country, as requested by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), Haddock said.

★ ★ ★

The 85-foot dish was used to make the first radio contact with Mercury and Saturn, and was used to monitor temperatures on Venus and Saturn for the NASA this fall.

Oh, Pthaw! Water Pipes Stubborn as Can Be

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — James P. Forristal took a blowtorch to his frozen water pipes Wednesday and set fire to the basement.

The flames shot up a wall into the attic and did about $200 damage.

The water pipes never did thaw.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics contains one-sixth of the earth's land surface.

65 Stations Operate

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communications Minister Nikolai Psurtsev said yesterday that 65 of 100 television relay stations planned by 1965 now are operational, servicing a population of 90 million.

"Look, Ali — the help will simply have to stop hanging around the water cooler!"

Opening lead—♣ K

By OSWALD JACOBY

The first step in planning a cross ruff is to establish the pattern. Next cash the winners in side suits. Then you are ready for the actual ruffing.

JACOBY

Here you plan to use low trumps until you can afford to start ruffing high. From then on you ruff high so that no unkind opponent can overruff and spoil your fun.

South ruffed the opening club lead and took stock. The repeated doubles indicated that finesses were not going to work for him, but he noted that if he could make eight trump tricks everything would be perfect.

Still he would have to play hearts sometime so South led a diamond to dummy's ace, returned a heart and finessed the queen. East won with the king and led a second club.

Now South was ready for the cross ruff. He ruffed a diamond in dummy, returned to his hand with a heart, ruffed another diamond in dummy, ruffed a third club in his hand, ruffed a heart in dummy, led another club and ruffed with the ace after East followed. South could not afford to let West overruff and lead trump.

This gave South nine tricks. He led his last diamond and ruffed with dummy's last trump for his tenth.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Kind of day in which you "work hard to relax." Certainly life is a parade. Comes from trying to please others, to make "perfect" arrangements. Better to let things happen naturally!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Others may see you as a "symbol" rather than real person. Put across your own image. Realize that actually you first represent yourself. Be natural. Others then respond with more enthusiasm.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Good lunar aspect today encourages social activity. Get out and around. Visit. Share knowledge, joy, questions and answers. Much progress today from stimulating discussions.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Could be some deception in form of "white lie." Romantic involvement can be pleasant tonight. But don't take statements too literally! Be more modest—especially with pocketbook.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Cycle reaching high point. Means your personality shines. You come up with original, stimulating ideas. You should, however, be wary of arousing jealousy. Be gracious, kind, considerate.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23): Extend hand of friendship. End foolish disputes. Hold no grudges. The happier you make others, the more you aid yourself. Watch out for trick words, especially in legal documents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Inducements to careless action may be hard to resist. But remember that you must face yourself tomorrow. Remember those who love you. Entertaining at home would bring much pleasure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Face practical issues early. This enables you to relax tonight. Begin list of those to be remembered during holiday season. Avoid loud parties; keep promises made to younger persons.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Realization of certain basic truths makes this day of ILLUMINATION. Tonight favors theater, entertainment, recreation. Sum up recent past. Make plans for future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Avoid tendency to worry over minor matters. Friends contribute opportunity for relief from tension. Accept invitations. Share interests. Like Aries, go with the tide. Don't buck it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be on time for appointments. Give others benefit of any doubt. Show strength by willingness to cooperate. Delay important legal agreements, if practical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Day and evening of glamour, romance, excitement. Be vital, alert, alluring. Find evening for attention to new friends. Creative ideas should be followed up. Open your heart!

★ ★ ★

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY ... you are "alive" to new ideas. You want to investigate, travel, read, gain knowledge. Coming year promising for greater personal happiness.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Glamour of Space Age highlights day. Cycle up for CANCER, LEO, VIRGO. Special word to AQUARIUS. PATIENCE key to ultimate achievement.

Cuban Backdown Likely Lowered K's Kremlin Authority

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Premier Khrushchev's foreign policy speech before the Supreme Soviet sounded like the statements of a witness on trial before a court of world communist opinion.

Despite tough-sounding phrases and implied threats against the West, the speech was definitely defensive. It arouses speculation that opposition to Khrushchev policies, including his stand on Cuba, has important support in the Communist camp even outside the ranks of Red Chinese and Albanian leaders.

RYAN

There were curious notes in the speech.

Khrushchev repeated over and over that the U.S.S.R. is Cuba's friend and will not abandon her, as if to suggest that somebody, somewhere in the Communist camp or in Cuba, had to be reassured on that score.

Khrushchev revived the Berlin question, but mildly. Ever since the Caribbean showdown, Soviet propaganda had permitted this to recede, giving the impression that the Russians had been caught off balance by the Kennedy-Khrushchev showdown and that the Berlin timetable, whatever it might have been, was thrown out of whack.

There was no suggestion in what he said that Khrushchev was ready soon to do anything about Berlin. He repeated the promise to sign a separate treaty with Red East Germany unless the allies agree to treaties with both Germanys.

The idea is that allied rights in West Berlin then allegedly would be canceled. He also revived the idea of stationing United Nations troops in the isolated former German capital.

Possibly Khrushchev is throwing all his proposals into a grab-bag in preparation for whatever discussions may come up. He applied no deadline. But seemingly he was impelled to talk about Berlin, perhaps to still some of the criticism of his attitudes in the Communist world.

BASIC POINT

The nub may lie in Khrushchev's passing mention that "all our thoughts are concentrated on the . . . construction of communism."

This, of course, referred to recent central committee meeting which adopted a drastic party and government structural shake-up to attack economic problems. Here a kind of desperaton may be setting in.

Since Stalin died, Khrushchev's series of schemes for bolstering the Soviet economy, particularly as they applied to agriculture, failed on after another.

The consumer and farm industries have painful ailments, even though the U.S.S.R. has leapt ahead in space and arms developments. In fact, it may be because of those advances.

Now Khrushchev is making a new try. From the look of it, the attempt is all-out. If this one should fail, Khruschev and his Kremlin supporters might find themselves in an uncomfortable position.

Thus Khrushchev would find it difficult to tinker with highly inflammable world issues while exhorting the Soviet public to apply every ounce of energy to solving domestic problems.

Consequently, Khrushchev appears in the position of explaining to world communism why he did what he did in the Cuban crisis, and justifying it in light of the violent criticism from China and Albania.

The Soviet leader tried to justify his Cuban backdown by saying that it proved "the imperialists" could be prevented from starting a war.

That is the gist of his ideological argument with the Chinese, who still contend the big clash between two systems is inevitable.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev agrees with the Chinese that "the imperialists" have not changed their aggressive ways. But, he argues, the balance of world forces has changed, and thus war can be avoided.

The Soviet Union has too much to lose to risk any more dangerous doctrine than that.

Vet Columnist Dies at Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran columnist George E. Sokolsky, 69, died Wednesday night in his Manhattan apartment. A leading spokesman for American conservatism, his writings appeared in 299 newspapers across the country.

★ ★ ★

Plagued by heart trouble, diabetes and the cancer to which he had lost a kidney, Sokolsky succumbed in the study of his home while making a phone call. His daughter, Mrs. Donald Feuerstein, was with him when he was stricken. His wife, Dorothy was in another room.

A relentless foe of domestic and international communism, the bushy-haired Sokolsky drew from a world of experience in writing his six-day-a-week column and in a varied career that included stints as a radio commentator and lecturer.

★ ★ ★

He had been in Russia during the early struggles for political power that culminated in communism's victory there, and he worked for many years in China.

Dinner Honors Glenn Griffin

200 Funeral Directors Gather Here

An estimated 200 funeral directors and guests from all over Michigan last night gave a testimonial dinner for Glenn H. Griffin, owner of Pontiac's Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Griffin was honored for winning the second vice presidency of the National Funeral Directors Association during the group's annual convention in Washington, D.C.

The dinner at the Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills, was sponsored by District 6 of the Michigan Funeral Director's Association under district President Harold Goyette.

★ ★ ★

The main speakers were the executive secretary of the MFDA, Jack Jorgenson and MFDA President Lloyd Bush, both of Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Other state officers also attended.

Griffin is a former president of the district and the state group and a member of the Pontiac Board of Education.

Shuns Council Suggestion

Sylvan Builder Complains

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night weathered a barrage of complaints from longtime Sylvan builder and developer Sam G. Warwick of 2650 Island Court.

The council offered to hold a special session to consider details of Warwick's complaints. However, the builder did not yield to the suggestion.

"They asked me to sit down and talk with them when I had a proposition," said Warwick today. "But it is my point that I shouldn't have to go in there with my hat in my hand every time I want something."

★ ★ ★

Warwick last night spoke on two main points.

He said city grading specifications could not be met on a block-long new street he is building in a new subdivision which he is developing near Keego Harbor.

The city requires a 4 per cent grade for drainage.

TOO FLAT?

Warwick said the land was too flat to establish such a grade.

City Engineer Frank Webster countered that such grading was possible.

★ ★ ★

The builder also described as too restrictive the city's setback lines established on an 11-acre piece of property he owns opposite City Hall.

The industrial-zoned land is bounded by Orchard Lake Road, the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks, Inverness Street and Whitfield School.

Warwick said less restrictive setback lines would allow more leeway in placing buildings on the acreage.

★ ★ ★

Warwick said the city restrictions "make it impossible to use the land for industrial purposes."

Masked Man Takes $306 at Candy Store

A masked bandit threatened a woman employe and escaped with $306 last night in the holdup of a Bloomfield Township candy store.

The thief entered Crockers Candies Store at 2440 Woodward Ave about 8:30 p.m. armed with a small black gun, possibly a toy or the type of pistol used at races and sporting events.

He grabbed the employe, Mrs. Stanley J. Talaga of 1074 Myrtle St. and threatened to "blow her brain out" if he wasn't given the money according to store owner, William E. Crocker of 2581 McClintock Road, Bloomfield Township.

Crocker gave him the money, all in $1 and $5 bills, from the cash register.

★ ★ ★

He ordered Crocker and Mrs. Talaga into a back room, but she saw him running north on Woodward toward Pontiac.

Crocker and Mrs. Talaga, the only occupants of the store, said the bandid wore a rubber mask over the lower part of his face.

Two of four men arrested in a January gambling raid on a card game in Waterford Township cabin pleaded guilty Tuesday before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem to a charge of accepting money upon result of a contest.

Karl Eicker, 26, of 55 Edna St., and Warren W. Welch, 26, of 2421 Ethel Drive, Walled Lake, had been awaiting trial on the charge.

They will be sentenced Dec. 28.

★ ★

The fourth, Adolph J. Prince, 47, of 2026 Kohler Road, Waterford Township, is ill at Veteran's Hospital in Dearborn, according to the county prosecutor's office.

His trial is pending.

Won't Stall Clearing Little Effect by I-75

Adding the new I-75 freeway to the county's snow-removal responsibilities will not delay clearing on other county roads to any great extent, County Road Commission Chairman Sol D. Lomerson said today.

Although there may be some effect, he said, the county has been preparing for I-75 by acquiring new equipment and increasing road commission personnel.

A 12½-mile section of I-75 from Lapeer Road at Pontiac's northeast corner to Dixie Highway west of Clarkston is scheduled to be opened tomorrow.

It will connect to a 22.4-mile stretch opened Oct. 25 from Dixie Highway to U.S. 23 southwest of Flint.

The county will maintain I-75 under a contract with the State Highway Department covering all state trunkline routes. The state reimburses the county for all maintenance costs.

State routes and county primary roads receive priority at snow-clearing times, Lomerson pointed out. Next come other county roads, then local roads.

He said roads where residents are snowed in get attention before routes that can be traveled despite heavy snow.

★ ★ ★

All the county's snow-fighting equipment — including 86 snow plows, 27 graders and 79 salt trucks and spreaders — were in service on a 24-hour-a-day basis during the recent storm.

Publicist Tells Future Plans

Aldo Vagnozzi, present editor, will remain on the News as his top assistant, Ogar said.

Defendant's Demand Halts Murder Trial for 2nd Day

Failure to get under way for the second day marked the trial yesterday of three Pontiac men on first-degree murder charges in the July 30 robbery and killing of Pontiac market owner Eftimias Vasiliou.

★ ★ ★

A defendant demanded a new lawyer.

★ ★ ★

R. G. Stroman, 29, of 235 S. Anderson St. spoke out following selection of a jury before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams.

Ignoring Judge Adams' admonitions for order, Stroman claimed his attorney, John McIntosh of Ferndale, was not giving his defense the proper attention and was "not doing me any good."

After Judge Adams excused the jury from the courtroom, McIntosh asked to be allowed to withdraw from the case. Judge Adams granted his request.

★ ★ ★

Stroman said he wanted a defense counsel 82-year-old Louella Puett, a Detroit attorney known for her fights against traffic tickets.

★ ★ ★

When finally contacted about 2:30 p.m., Miss Puett said she was not able to take the case.

Judge Adams then appointed Royal Oak attorney Donald A. Brown after Brown consulted with Stroman. (Brown is former chief assistant prosecutor, state representative and lieutenant governor candidate.)

By that time it was too late to start the trial, and Judge Adams ordered proceedings to resume at 10 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Stroman's outburst came after a 12th juror was impaneled from 11 additional prospective jurors rounded up Tuesday night. The extra jurors were ordered after available prospects had been exhausted by peremptory challenges by defense attorneys.

Defendants besides Stroman are Joseph Page, 26, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave. and Benny L. Spells, 23, of 235 Anderson St.

Stroman, who maintains he had no part in the crime but is accused of driving the robbery car, petitioned Monday for discharge of McIntosh.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem denied the petition, saying it was up to Stroman to change attorneys if he desired, since he had hired McIntosh.

Thant Pleased to Get Support

U.N. Budgetary Group Backs Assessment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Heartened by strong support for his appeal to U.N. members to pay their share of the Congo debt, Secretary General U Thant summoned his advisory committee today to consider tough new steps against Katanga.

The 110-nation budgetary committee voted 75-17 with 14 abstentions to accept a World Court opinion that U.N. members are legally bound to pay assessments for such special peacekeeping operations as the U.N. Congo force.

The committee's action assured approval by the General Assembly. That will provide a legal basis for moves to suspend voting rights of nations that are two years behind in their assessments. However, both the Soviet Union and France have said they will ignore the assembly action, and it seemed most unlikely the assembly would ever take the vote away from two of the five permanent members of the organization.

SEEN A VICTORY

The committee vote was seen as a victory for Thant, who declared that the United Nations cannot survive as an effective instrument unless members help pay off the $130-million Congo debt.

★ ★ ★

It was also a triumph for the United States and Britain, who sponsored the resolution with 17 other nations. Both powers warned that defeat of the measure might force them to reconsider their positions as major financial contributors to the United Nations.

The vote brought another blast from the Soviet Union's Pavel M. Tchernyshev who declared that the resolution would harm the United Nations' authority.

"The Soviet Union will not pay for these operations," he said. "Let the colonialists and aggressors pay."

'Flow of Grads From Midwest Must Cease'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, opening a conference attended by the chief executives of 12 Midwestern states, today said the exodus of college graduates from the Midwest must be stopped.

Kerner told the first Midwestern Governors' Conference the scientific and engineering standards of Midwest universities are equal to any in the world. But he said there is doubt that the region is holding its share of science and engineering graduates and whether it is attracting its share of those graduated elsewhere.

"We produce the essential ingredient of the growth industries — trained scientific and engineering manpower in quantity — but we ship it elsewhere as if it were iron ore," Kerner said.

Kerner also said the while the Midwest may be "thankful" its economy is not as dependent upon federal spending as that of California, "we cannot be happy to have a small or no place in missiles or space, which bids fair to become the equivalent in importance of the automotive industry."

Edie Cheats Estate —Kovacs' Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The mother of the late comedian Ernie Kovacs charges his widow, actress Edie Adams, with mismanaging her son's estate.

Mrs. Mary Kovacs, 62, petitioned Superior Court yesterday to remove Miss Adams as executor.

Mrs. Kovacs accused Miss Adams of concealing assets and said that the 33-year-old actress ordered her out of the Kovacs' Beverly Hills home the night he died.

★ ★ ★

Kovacs, 43, was killed in an automobile accident in Beverly Hills Jan. 13.

A judge ordered Miss Adams to answer the charges Jan. 3.

The actress is making a movie in Europe.

Ellender Concedes: Spoke in Bad Place

CAIRO (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender says he knows now that he may have said the right thing in the wrong place.

The Louisiana Democrat in an interview yesterday, discussed the furor set off in Africa by his statement in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, on Dec. 1.

He was quoted as saying, "I have yet to see any part of Africa where Africans are ready for self-government. The average African is incapable of leadership without assistance." And in other places his stops were limited because of his statement.

★

Ellender stood by the substance of the statement, but added, "I now realize I may have said the correct thing in the wrong place."

Hood Parking Meters With Merry Christmas

Checks Astrology Book for Good Day in Court

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Patrolman William Koegle flagged a woman driver to the curb when she was clocked driving 47 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Writing the ticket, Koegle asked the woman when she'd like to appear in court. "How about June 29 at 1 p.m.?" Koegle asked.

The woman reached into the glove compartment for an astrology book, flipped through it briefly, then answered: "That will be fine."

Women Not Ladylike— They Beat Up Airman

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Airman James Wilhoit of Davis Monthan Air Force Base is convinced women are getting bigger and tougher all the time.

Wilhoit, 43, said he was walking down a Tucson street when three women stepped out of a doorway, dragged him into a room, hit him over the head with a club and took $40 from his wallet.

Then, he told police, they tossed him out in the street.

DRIVE-IN CRASH — A two-car crash knocked this compact car into a drive-in restaurant near Flint and onto the hood of a parked car. A woman riding in the small car and the driver of the vehicle that struck it were slightly injured.

3 Go On Trial in Area Holdup

Three of four men charged with kidnaping, armed robbery and safe robbery of Royal Oak gas station chain owner J. J. Levy Sept. 5 were to go on trial today before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

They were Joseph Loncar, 35, and James Wilson, 27, both of Lincoln Park, and Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park.

The fourth man accused of the crime, Thomas Kaballa, 26, of Lincoln Park, pleaded guilty Monday to the armed robbery charge before Judge Ziem. Sentencing was set for Dec. 28.

A fifth man police said was involved in the robbery, Joseph Rossetti, 30, of Philadelphia, Pa., was killed by a police bullet while fleeing in a car driven by Loncar.

★ ★ ★

The men were accused of taking Levy, owner of Oakland County Gas & Oil Co. and its 17 service stations, from his home to his main station at gun point and forcing him to open a safe.

Nina II Seen Again Nearing End of Trip

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Nina II, the elusive reproduction of Columbus' third ship which is attempting to duplicate the original voyage, was spotted by search planes again Wednesday about 300 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

★ ★ ★

Winds were strong and the sea was rough, but the Nina said it would continue on toward its destination, San Salvador, the Bahamas. The Coast Guard estimated it might arrive there Christmas Eve.

The Nina's crew again refused food but asked for water and cigarettes.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A vat in an illegal rum distillation plant exploded Wednesday at nearby Carolinas, killing two men. Police said antiquated equipment probably caused the blast.

Clyde Beatty Clawed Again; Won't Give Up Playful 'Cat'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Lion-tamer Clyde Beatty came grinning into the Park Sheraton about 1 a.m. with a bright red new scar on his left cheek—he'd just been chewed in his circus at the Coliseum by his playful young lion, "Caesar."

WILSON

"Get rid of him, Papa!" warned his wife, Jane, who'd accompanied him here from their home in Ventura, Cal. "He hurt you once before!"

"You should do to your Caesar what Brutus did to his," exclaimed Mrs. Bob Fellows, wife of the Hollywood film producer.

"It was only a scratch," Beatty smiled, waving warnings aside. "I can't get rid of him. He makes my show. He's my action!"

I congratulated my fellow Buckeye (Clyde came from Hillsboro, Ohio) on being a headliner longer than most stars. He made his sensational N.Y. debut at Madison Square Garden in 1930 for "Mr. John" Ringling—32 years later he still stars.

"I'll never forget a great thing 'Mr. John' told me," Clyde said. "He said, 'Son, don't ever worry about your hospital expenses. We'll pay 'em.' Up to then I hadn't been taking too many chances—because I'd been paying them myself."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Hearing that Fidel Castro now claims to be the Lincoln of Cuba, Mary Kaye has only one suggestion—that he go to the theater more often."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "My apartment was robbed four or five times in two months, so I've put a small sticker on the door. It says 'We gave.' "—Woody Allen.

EARL'S PEARLS: This was reported overheard in a movie: "Why don't you kiss me like he kisses her?" . . . "I would if I got paid as much for it as he does."

The rooster, having found a football in the barnyard, called the hens together. "I don't mean to be ungrateful, ladies," he said, "but I want you to see what the hens in other people's barnyards are doing." . . . That's earl, brother.

Launch Probe of Air Mishap

Liner Clips Antenna in Take-Off at Muskegon

MUSKEGON (UPI) — United Air Lines today launched an investigation into an incident which caused one of its airplanes to clip an instrument landing system antenna on take-off yesterday from the Muskegon County Airport.

A spokesman for United at Chicago said UAL investigators would seek reasons for the craft's "slow climbout" although "all control surfaces and pretake-off checks accomplished by the crew indicates full control."

One of the wheels of the landing gear, the spokesman said, clipped one of the supports for the wire screener atop the localizer shack which enclosed the antenna.

"The bump caused no discomfort to the 33 passengers aboard, did not affect the craft from becoming airborne and the crew experienced no difficulty in controlling the airplane," United said.

The plane, Flight No. 226, originated at Chicago and was bound for stops at Saginaw, Flint and Detroit following its stop here.

However, Capt. Jack Kadey of Detroit, bypassed stops at Saginaw and Flint, United said, "for precautionary conditions where landing conditions were much more favorable." United made other arrangements for its passengers bound for Saginaw and Flint from Detroit, UAL said.

Suggests U. N. Sell Savings Stamps

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Cyprus has urged that the United Nations sell U.N. peace savings stamps to ordinary people throughout the world as one means of financing the cost of operations such as in the Congo and in the Middle East.

Zenon Rossides, head of the Cyprus delegation, advanced the proposal in the assembly's budgetary committee which is attempting to find a way to wipe out more than $130 million in past debts and to finance future peace-keeping operations.

★ ★ ★

"This would bring the little man everywhere in direct contact with the United Nations which was organized to save future generations from the scourge of war," Rossides said.

Offer Housewives Jobs

Gus Scholle Invites Romney to Address Labor Conference

LANSING (AP)—Gov.-elect George Romney, who was opposed during the election campaign by most Michigan labor leaders, has been invited to speak at the biennial legislative conference of the state AFL-CIO.

A spokesman for Romney said that if it is possible for the new governor to attend, "he will make every effort to be there."

Romney was invited to speak Feb. 15 at the opening luncheon meeting of the two-day conference. The invitation was extended in a letter by August Scholle, president of the labor organization.

★ ★ ★

Scholle said the AFL-CIO has a tradition of asking the governor of the state to address the conference.

Romney, who takes office Jan. 1, will be the first Republican to occupy the governor's chair in Michigan in 14 years.

In his letter, Scholle pointed out that speakers at the legislative conferences customarily are requested to place special emphasis on the topics under discussion by the various panels.

★ ★ ★

Scholle said the topics to be discussed at the conference ranged from unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation to civil rights and problems of the aged.

Scholle said, however, that the labor organization was not suggesting limitations on Romney's address.

★ ★ ★

The labor leader said the invitation to Romney was in keeping with what he said was an AFL-CIO custom of asking chief spokesmen for both major political parties to appear before the state labor organization's conventions, conferences, institutes and other functions.

★ ★ ★

During the campaign, Romney was refused permission to speak at some labor meetings, including Labor Day observances in Detroit.

'Leave Adlai to Historians'

Kennedy Tries to End Stevenson Chapter

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

BACKS ADLAI

The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as urging appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

The president said "it is my judgment that this statement or interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on that. I never heard anyone

Avon Twp. Children Give Toys to Needy

By ROGER SRIGLEY

The children in three county agencies will have a brighter Christmas because of the students at Stiles Elementary School, Avon Township.

And the 400 children at Stiles School will find Christmas more enjoyable because they have shared.

Each child selected a toy that he liked especially well and offered it to a child not so fortunate.

★ ★ ★

The unique aspect is that it is not sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association, the school or the room mothers.

It began last year as a result of one child's idea. That youngster was 3rd grader Kurtis Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kendall, 6415 Livernois Road, Troy.

The children in one of the second grade classes participated then. This year the event mushroomed to include the entire school.

★ ★ ★

"Many more items were turned in," Principal Maurice Pelton said, "but after a screening process, 200 were found to be in excellent condition and suitable for gifts."

He pointed out that the children decided to sacrifice one of their better toys, realizing the appreciation with which it would be received.

Dolls, books, puzzles and toys were to be taken today to the Oakland County Children's Home, Crippled Children's Society and the children's ward of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

"The children seem to enjoy it so much that I wouldn't be surprised if it became an annual event," Pelton said. "But that will be up to them."

To Launch Star Balloon

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N. M. (UPI)—The Air Force was expected to launch today a helium-filled balloon in an attempt to give man his first clear look at the stars.

If successful, Project Stargazer will take astronomer William C. White and AF Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger Jr., on the highest astronomical research balloon ascension in history.

An electrical system malfunction delayed lift-off time from 9:30 a. m. to about noon. White and Kittinger hope to take the balloon with its aluminum gondola 16.5 miles above the earth.

At that altitude the telescope-topped cylinder will be above 90 to 95 per cent of the earth's atmosphere and will give the scientists an undistorted view of the stars.

Death Figure Well Over 100; Records Fall

Florida Crop Damage Heavy and Tennessee Reports 18 Below

From Our News Wires

The most bitter cold wave of the century hit the Southeast today, shattering low temperature records as far south as Florida.

The death toll from more than a week of cold and snow climbed well past the 100 mark.

The temperature rose in the upper Midwest as southerly winds brought light snow, but another cold air invasion with heavy snow was expected

★ ★ ★

Florida citrus growers waged what appeared to be a losing battle in the face of the record cold.

Sleet, snow and the frigid arctic air also caused millions of dollars of damage to Florida's vegetable crops.

Reports had not yet come in on the citrus damage but the Lakeland, Fla., weather bureau — in the heart of the citrus belt — said damage would be serious.

COLDEST READINGS

The coldest readings in the history of the weather bureau were recorded at Tallahassee where the mercury plummeted to 10 degrees above zero and Tampa where it dropped to 18.

Jacksonville at 12 was the coldest in 20 years and 35 at Miami was the coldest Dec. 13 on record.

Florida residents were warned to protect waterpipe and automobile radiators. A Miami, Fla., clothier sent a rush order up north for a shipment of top coats. Stores throughout the state did a heavy business in electric heaters, blankets and winter clothing.

★ ★ ★

The weather bureau said the frigid onslaught was "one of the greatest outbreaks of arctic air ever to invade the eastern United States during December."

★ ★ ★

The main core of the arctic air was in the northern Gulf states.

The mercury plunged to 18 below in Crossville, in eastern Tennessee.

Temperatures along the coast dipped to the middle teens. Readings of zero were reported in north Georgia and in mountain areas of Alabama.

ONE ABOVE AT ATLANTA

New December records were also set at Nashville, Tenn., where the mercury sank to 7 below; at Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga., where the temperature hovered at 1 above; and at Charles-

Frigid air from the arctic region has extended to seven days the bitter cold wave throughout the state as the calendar proclaims that winter is still nine days off.

Temperatures plunged to zero early this morning in Pontiac, the lowest reading for this date in the 90 years such records have been maintained.

With the low reading came a light snowfall with more of the same forecast for tonight.

★ ★ ★

A warming trend, had been predicted for today with temperatures expected to reach 22 with a low of 8 degrees above zero forecast for tonight in this area.

Today's snow will turn into flurries tonight and Friday.

An ironic twist to the state's weather picture is the turnabout traditional icebox city.

Tito Supports Nikita on Cuba

Stand Seems Certain to Rile Chinese

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia addressed the Soviet parliament today and approved Premier Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis. This seemed certain to increase Communist Chinese anger at the Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslav leader, expelled from the Communist fold as a "deviationist" by Stalin in 1948, told the Supreme Soviet that Kremlin and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

Tito's appearance followed an address by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in which, echoing Khrushchev's major policy speech of yesterday, he suggested the U.S.S.R. wanted to negotiate a settlement of the West Berlin issue. He said Moscow is setting no deadline.

The 1,443 member Supreme Soviet wound up its four-day session by applauding its stamp of approval to a sweeping reorganization of the Soviet economic structure and accepting the U.S.S.R.'s 86.6 billion-ruble budget for the ensuing year.

The parliament approved Khrushchev's moves to consolidate economic controls in a newly created national economic council.

Traffic Fatalities 1,463

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,463 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,466.

SANTA'S WORKSHOP — It's no idle talk when Pontiac citizens point with pride to the snow-glittering sight of a factory brightening this season's night. In Pontiac, busy factories means a better Christmas for everybody. Here the site is the Pontiac Motor Division plant on the north side of Montcalm Street between Saginaw Street and Glenwood Avenue. A night shift means extra cars built and extra stockings filled. The clicking of wheels and the grinding of gears, the puffing of steam and the billowing smoke — they're the pulse beat of the city that is producing cars in record volume.

Rusk Gives Pep Talk, Wants NATO to Act

PARIS (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today to take the initiative in the "freedom is the wave of the future."

In a cautiously optimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Cold War and demonstrate that Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

LET EAST WORRY

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured America's NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

* * *

He proposed wide-ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

* * *

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treaty to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour at the opening session of a three-day ministerial review of NATO problems in the Paris headquarters of the 15-nation alliance.

RED PROBLEM

He said the Soviet Union is bumping into serious problems, including troubles inside the country itself, within the Communist bloc, and in relations with the rest of the world.

* * *

He described Premier Khrushchev's differences with Peking as serious and predicted more trouble probably is coming. At home, he added, Khrushchev's government is beset with serious economic problems both in manufacturing and agriculture.

* * *

He told the delegates that when such topics as Berlin came up during the Cuban negotiations, U.S. representatives replied with positions previously taken by the Kennedy administration.

U.S. Sticks to N-Ban Guns

Russian Trick Charged

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States charged the Soviet Union today with trying to trick the West out of its insistence on on-site inspection in a nuclear test ban.

American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean made the charge before the three-nation test ban subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

He told the 49th session of the group, made up of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, that Russian concessions on a nuclear test ban were merely "a device to influence the West to give up its position on on-site inspection."

Russian negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin did not respond directly to the charge. But he said an agreement in principle that national and not international inspection is sufficient to police such a ban was needed before the conference goes into details.

ton, S.C., which marked a 9 above reading.

A thick cloud cover kept the killer cold away from citrus crops and vegetables in the lush, semitropical Rio Grande Valley.

Eleven persons, including several children, perished in fires in Georgia. A fire killed a family of five, including a 3-day-old baby, in Dalton as the mercury dropped to zero.

Three children huddling around an open fireplace to keep warm perished in a fire that destroyed a four-room frame house in Gainesville.

More snow fell in the snow-clogged sections of the Northeast and strong winds added to the mountainous drifts.

Colder weather swept into the main snowbelt which covered areas along the south and east shores of the Great Lakes in Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York State.

Depths ranged up to from 20 to 48 inches after a week of steady snow. Five inches of fresh snow was dumped on Ashtabula County, Ohio.

Zero or below readings extended across areas in Indiana, most of Ohio, sections of Kentucky, Tennessee, southern Illinois and upstate New York. Zero to 10 above temperatures prevailed in New England except along coastal areas.

By contrast the western half of the nation today was in for another comfortably cool to mild day. Most high temperatures west of the Rockies yesterday in the 50s or higher.

Fatally injured was Jeffrey N. White, a driver of one of the cars that collided at Dequindre Road and South Boulevard.

Nine persons were injured in the accident, including five other teenagers in the car White was driving.

The driver of the other car, Walter Keller, 55, of 1960 Maham St., Hazel Park, told Sheriff deputies that White entered the intersection without stopping.

Police said that a stop sign that would have warned White had been knocked down earlier.

Keller suffered a fractured spine in the accident. His two passengers also were injured.

In South Haven, Muskegon, Ludington, Benton Harbor and other communities in the area, officials were hard-pressed to find a place to put the snow already removed from the streets.

The snow belt was heaviest in Berrien, Cass, Ottawa and Van Buren counties in the extreme southwest corner of the state.

In Paw Paw 48 inches was on the ground.

Also hit hard by falling snow was an area on the extreme southern border of the state running parallel to Indiana.

The central and eastern portions of the state, including the Pontiac area, experienced relatively little snow until today, although temperatures have remained near zero for several days.

Skybolt Fate Hangs on Words of Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the Skybolt missile program, subject of the hottest U.S.-British argument in years, hangs precariously on next week's meeting between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and this country's military budget.

* * *

Tentative American plans to give up on the expensive missile—around which Britain has shaped its nuclear strategy—has brought a sharp reaction from Britain and put a strain on the alliance.

When asked about the Skybolt dispute at his news conference yesterday, Kennedy spoke cautiously.

* * *

1. He was sure it would be discussed when he meets with Macmillan in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20. The United States is now reviewing its budget for the new fiscal year. No final decision will be made until these matters have been completed.

2. The Unied States has put a half-billion dollars into the program so far. To complete it and buy the missiles might require $2.5 billion more. Five tests of the 1,100-mile range ballistic missile for launching from bombers have not been successful.

"So—there really is the question of how much it is worth to the British and ourselves to put in that kind of money when we have competing claims for our available funds," the President said.

COMPLEX SYSTEM

Kennedy characterized the Skybolt as "the most sophisticated weapon imaginable. To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us."

British experts don't believe the Skybolt is a flop. They feel the initial troubles can be overcome.

Kennedy noted that Britain has a "very important equity in the matter."

* * *

There is, of course, the possibility that Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may reconsider what seems to be the present intention to drop the program.

Kennedy Attempts to End Adlai Issue

characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did."

* * *

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters—"A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

Kennedy was asked: "You don't know, then, who leaked it?"

"No, I don't know who," he replied, "and I think it is unfortunate if anybody discusses any matter that comes before the National Security Council because I think it lessens its effectiveness."

Los Angeles Said New Way of Life

WASHINGTON — California's City of the Angels, so the saying goes, is 40 suburbs looking for a city. An outdoor circus. A fine place to live — if you're an orange.

★ ★ ★

Not so, says Robert de Roos in his article, "Los Angeles," in the National Geographic. Mr. de Roos takes the measure of the city and concludes that Los Angeles is, in fact, the Colossus of the West.

Los Angeles surrounds the independent cities of San Fernando, Culver City, and Beverly Hills, and almost pushes Santa Monica and Long Beach into the Pacific. There are 82 other incorporated cities in Greater Los Angeles.

"Los Angeles has always been running too fast to observe itself," Mr. de Roos says. "Neither residents nor visitors seem to realize that this biggest city of the southwest is a new phenomenon in the nation."

★ ★ ★

John Anson Ford, who served for 24 years on the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, told Mr. de Roos: "I think we may be evolving a modification of the American way of living.

"There is an intensity of drive here. Along with creative work, there is an almost frantic attempt to capture leasure. The exodus each weekend is terrific — to Palm Springs, to the beaches, to the mountains."

Another Angeleno expressed the same idea on a personal basis: "Every morning I get into my 12-cylinder Ferrari and drive to work. It takes me 20 minutes.

"Every weekend I spend on the beach. If the weather at the beach is not good, I drive to Palm Springs, where the weather is always good. That's why I live in Los Angeles."

In a century, Los Angeles has grown from a village into the Nation's third city with a population of 2.5 million; it is exceeded only by New York and Chicago. Greater Los Angeles embraces all of Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Some seven million people live and work in an 85-by-125-mile sweep of coastal plain and mountains.

More Americans moved into metropolitan Los Angeles in the past two years than trekked west along the Oregon Trail. The population of the area grows by nearly 5,000 a week, 30 new citizens every hour.

Peace Corps Readies Africa Lawyer Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Peace Corps is preparing a pilot project to supply urgently needed lawyers in at least six African countries.

The pay will be low, no private practice will be allowed, and special precautions are being taken to keep the American attorneys out of politically sensitive positions.

The only "fees" will be $75 a month plus living expenses.

But already Peace Corps officials report a "tremendous response" to their informal soundings among the U.S. law community.

Tentative plans call for a total of 40 or 50 lawyers to be sent to Nigeria, Cameroon, Ethiopia, Nyasaland, Liberia and Sierra Leone. Tanganyika was said to be a doubtful possibility.

The need was said to be critical in some of the countries, especially in government ministries.

Nyasaland, one of three territories in the largely self-governing federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, was said to have "only a handful of lawyers."

★ ★ ★

Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver has fully endorsed the idea and one Midwestern university and several in the East have expressed an interest in preparing lawyers for African positions.

Pair Try to Learn About Life in Space

HOUSTON (UPI)—Two University of Houston scientists are now working on a project that may determine if life once existed in space.

★ ★ ★

The pair, Dr. John Oro, a biochemist, and Dr. Albert Klatkis, a chemical engineer, have received a $71,250 grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on the three-year research project.

Both scientists are associate professors of chemistry at the university.

The NASA grant came in hopes that their work will help the development of simple miniature instruments with which the chemical composition of the moon and the planets may be analyzed by future manned and unmanned space probes.

★ ★ ★

The scientists are starting their study with pieces of two meteorites, in which other scientists have already reported finding what appears to be life of a primitive type.

The fragments are from the Murray Meteorite which fell near Murray, Ky., in September 1950, and from the Mokoia Meteorite, discovered near Wanganui, New Zealand, Nov. 26, 1908.

★ ★ ★

The scientists believe that these two meteorites came from a parent body that possessed an atmosphere and an ocean of some type and was at least lunar size.

Most astronomers believe that meteorites are chunks of matter which come from the orbital belt of asteroids between Mars and Jupiter.

The asteroids are small planetary bodies. There are thousands of them revolving around the sun between Mars and Jupiter.

Cottons Improved by Formaldehyde

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Formaldehyde, that chemical so much in evidence around biology laboratories, is bringing improved wash-and-wear qualities to cotton fabrics, the Texas A & M College extension service says.

A new process being studied by the textile finishing industry uses formaldehyde to bind together cotton's cellulose molecules to give a more durable finish to cotton used in wash-and-wear clothing.

The formaldehyde-treated fabrics showed no tendency to yellow in tests, the extension service said, and did not discolor when subjected to chloride bleach.

The Dutch annexed New Guinea in 1828.

If You Can't Beat 'Em

NEOSHO, Mo. (UPI) — City manager Andy O'Rourke received city council permission to have a special sign painted on Neosho's largest water tower.

The sign will read:

"Neosho

"Dedicated to all seniors of Neosho High School."

The idea behind it is to keep enterprising youngsters from redecorating the tower to their own tastes each year.

Nobody Roars Louder Than That Democrat Cannon

BACKGROUND — Ap SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP) — They may come tougher than Clarence Cannon, but it's hard to find them.

He's the cantankerous Democrat who lambasted his own House leadership in the closing hours of the last session so bitterly that the Republican leader took the floor to say some kind words about Speaker John McCormack.

The 83-year-old Missouri Congressman, who heads the House Appropriations Committee, is a man of many facets. Depending on his mood and the occasion, he can be as tenacious as a bulldog, as stubborn as a Missouri mule, or as gentle as the doting grandpa that he is.

A small man physically — he weighs around 140 pounds—Cannon makes up in grit for what he lacks in heft. His physical encounters during a span of almost 40 years in the House include minor fisticuffs with such colleagues as former Rep. John Phillips of California and Rep. John Taber of New York, Republicans, and former Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, a Democrat.

These sparring matches occurred over differences on government money bills, all of which clear through Cannon's hands.

During his more than 30 years on the Appropriations Committee, Cannon has helped shell out billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, and has cut billions from recommended appropriations. He warns continuously of the dangers of overspending and the evils of deficit financing.

TIGHT ON THE JOB

As tight as he is with the public's money, Cannon is somewhat loose with his own, especially with silver dollars. He has shelled out hundreds of them to children whom he encounters in the course of his official meanderings.

With each silver dollar goes the admonition that if the recipient holds on to it "you will never go broke."

Cannon is mentally as well as physically agile—and he can hold a grudge or forget it.

At the end of the recent session of Congress he unleashed a tirade against the Democratic House leadership in general and Speaker McCormack in particular. He described the leadership as the most "biased and inept" he had seen during his long years of service.

Only a few minutes later, he stood and applauded as the House adopted a resolution praising McCormack's "able, impartial and dignified" handling of the speakership.

'BULLHEADED'

Cannon was personally close to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, although Rayburn privately conceded that at times he found Cannon extremely difficult to get along with legislatively.

"Stubborn" and "bullheaded" were words Rayburn used on occasion to described Cannon's attitude.

But when the chips were down during Democratic national conventions, Rayburn at times found in Cannon a real friend in need.

As chairman of many conventions Rayburn always insisted that Cannon serve as parliamentarian. Conventions can get out of hand without a presiding officer and a shrewd parliamentarian with a working knowledge of precedents and the procedural "ropes".

On more than one occasion Cannon dipped into his bag of parliamentary gimmicks when the going got rough. He could somehow manage to cite a precedent for almost anything Rayburn wanted to do as chairman.

Rayburn once confessed after a turbulent convention session that he didn't know where Cannon found the precedents and doubted if they actually existed.

"If he can't find them, he'll make them," the late speaker commented.

Probably no one is more experienced in legislative precedent than is Cannon. He wrote many of the House rules—and "Cannon's Procedure in the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

Cannon started out to be a lawyer but got into local Missouri politics to widen his field of contacts. In 1913, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House, persuaded Cannon to come to Washington as a clerk in the speaker's office.

"I wanted to see the wheels go around" for a few weeks and took the job, Cannon recalls. He never got back to Missouri to stay. In 1917 he was named parliamentarian of the House, a post he held until he was elected as a member in 1922. Only one present member, Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, outranks Cannon in years of service.

In private life, Cannon is a gentle, home-loving man. His devotion to his wife, the former Ida Dawson Wigginton, to whom he has been married 56 years, is cited as a model of domesticity by colleagues.

The Cannons have two married daughters and five grandchildren.

"She runs the place, but she doesn't fool me," Cannon says of the only grandaughter, "but I doubt if I fool her, either."

Cannon's hobbies are few. He tinkers at the piano and operates a diversified 750-acre farm on the Mississippi River. He is an avid student of history.

He is a Baptist by birth and by choice and has never moved his home from his native town of Elsberry, Mo., which was founded in 1879, the year Cannon was born.

* * *

This year Cannon lead a prestige battle with the Senate over the Senate's insistence that it be allowed to originate some appropriation bills, a privilege the House claims as its own.

"Like the Berlin crisis, the dispute between the Senate and the House is not negotiable," Cannon asserts with finality. "We are right and they are wrong."

One of Cannon's final legislative moves in the 87th Congress was to have the House fire back to the Senate a temporary appropriation bill that originated in the Senate. The Senate countered with a resolution insisting it has the right to launch money bills.

There the matter stood at adjournment. But the battle will be renewed in 1963, and those who know, Cannon are betting he'll win.

U.S. Space Switchboard Planned for Orbit Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Keeping a weather eye on the winds six to eight miles above the earth, the space agency today prepared to install an intercontinental switchboard out in space.

Barring trouble from high winds above or the unseasonably cold weather down here below, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will send the Relay communications satellite aloft sometime between 6:30 and 8:18 (EST) tonight.

* * *

Relay, a more sophisticated brother of the highly successful Telstar, was designed as another step in the process of developing a spatial communications network to take the load off overtaxed land lines and ocean cables.

It is equipped to relay telephone, teletype, radio and television signals between the United States, Europe and—except for television—South America. Officials emphasize that it is purely experimental.

RELIABLE ROCKET

Relay will be carried aloft on the nose of a Thor-Delta rocket. Robert Gray, project manager for NASA said the rocket has chalked up 13 straight successes.

He said the only problem that had officials concerned were winds 30,000 to 40,000 feet above the earth in the area where the Thor-Delta undergoes its most severe structural strain.

* * *

If all goes well, the experiments will begin Friday morning, 13½ hours after launch, as Relay swings through an egg-shaped orbit reaching from 700 to 4,000 miles above the earth.

Wideband radio frequency and television test pattern transmissions will be relayed through the satellite. Two days after launching news stories will be transmitted between the United States and Europe, and two days later between the United States and South America.

Romanoff's to Close Doors at Month's End

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Romanoff's, for more than two decades a sartorial showplace for movie stars dining out, is closing its doors for good Dec. 31.

Proprietor Mike Romanoff admits it's no coincidence that the famed restaurant is going out of business on the eve of the Internal Revenue Service crackdown on expense account living.

"It's the end of an era," he said yesterday.

Mike, once famous as a bogus prince, gave the sad news to his staff yesterday.

He has invited his old customers, a virtual who's who of Hollywood, to his restaurant for a farewell party next Tuesday, the 23rd anniversary of his restaurant's founding.

Prince Mike, 69, said the restaurant has lost money the last year, and future prospects looked dim — what with stricter expense account accounting now in the offing.

Polly's Pointers

Mice Sniff, Run Off

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a funny one but it works. I live in an old house with mice. They chewed a hole into an upper kitchen wall cabinet.

It was too high and narrow for my cat to catch them. So I combed the cat and got a handful of cat hair and taped it into the mouse hole.

It scared the living daylights out of the mice and they never came back. About once a year I renew the cat hair.

DEAR POLLY — Take along a shopping bag when going to the movies with the children. In it can go all the mittens, hats, scarves and what have you and there is no danger of losing anything. It also ends the juggling of things on your lap.
MRS. N. T.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — Sew a loop of elastic inside the cuffs of your small child's sweaters. To keep sweater sleeves from pushing up when putting on his coat, slip loops (U) over the thumbs.

DEAR POLLY — We make homemade candies for Christmas gifts. By packing a small piece of bread in each box, our delights stay as fresh for Christmas delivery as if we made them the night before. The bread may be cut in cute shapes with small cookie cutters.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — The binding on the top edge of an electric blanket gets pretty soiled before the end of the season. To protect it, I take a worn sheet, fold it in half, top to bottom, and sew just the sides together. This slips perfectly over the top half of the blanket and can be slipped off and washed as often as needed.
MRS. V. M. McG.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I think the idea about protecting garden tools by keeping in a bucket of sand is good. The writer should have added: "If oil is mixed with the sand, not only will it clean the tools but it will also leave a film of oil which will help prevent rust."

Count Your Blessings

Breathe...and Be Happy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's easy to take our blessings for granted, small as well as big. On a hot day we turn on the fan or the air conditioning. On a cold day we flip on the furnace.

We take our electric refrigerators and washing machines, our radios and televisions, our telephones and telegraph, our cars, frozen vegetables and a thousand other items which make life easy for granted.

We seldom stop to think of the imagination and work which made them possible.

We take all of our wonderful and varied cosmetic aids for granted. We take powder and cold cream and rouge and lipstick, mascara and eye shadow and all of the other new and magic improvers for granted.

We take the moon and the sun, the flowers and the seasons for granted. I often think what a shock it would be if we had never seen a moon before and it suddenly appeared in the sky or if we had never seen a flower and it suddenly sprang from the ground! We take the wonders of nature all for granted.

We are even apt to take friendship and love and health for granted until we are about to lose them. Most of all we take the wondrous working of our body for granted. It works night and day to keep us alive and to protect us.

We go along taking in great gulps of pleasant living just as though we had earned them. Much of the time we do not appreciate our joys and pleasures because we take them for granted. Even worse, we don't even enjoy life to the fullest.

Breathing is one of the miracles our body performs for us without any thought on our part. Truly, our breath is the very essence of life. With our first breath we inherit the gift of life and we are not dead until we take our last one.

Since our breathing is involuntary we are apt to breathe shallowly. Deep breathing is beneficial to health and is also most relaxing. Try the following exercise:

★ ★ ★

Stand tall. Take a deep breath and exhale completely. Place your hands on your ribs with the fingertips of one hand touching the fingertips of the other. Breathe in very deeply, expanding the diaphram and lifting the ribs as the lungs fill with air. See how wide you can make the space between the fingertips when you inhale. Exhale and continue slowly.

1963 Racing Dates Listed

Harness Tracks Given 187 Nights Next Year

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's four harness tracks will total 187 nights of racing in 1963 starting with the Hazel Park meet April 11.

State racing commissioner Edgar Hayes said today the harness season will run from April 11 through Nov. 16. The 187 nights of racing are an increase of five above 1962.

Hazel Park harness raceway will be in operation 50 nights through June 8. The trotters and pacers then will move to Northville June 10 for 45 nights of racing through July 31.

Wolverine will open a 50-night stand running from Aug. 2 through Sept. 28. Jackson's 42-night meeting will begin Sept. 30 and end Nov. 16.

With the previously announced thoroughbred dates, Michigan will have 331 days of racing next year.

Hayes reported that all four tracks showed an increase in business in 1962.

NASCAR Has 'Big' Year

Test for W. Bloomfield

Clarkston, Bloomfield Favored to Improve Cage Marks

Northville's Mustangs are no longer running away from the opposition in the Wayne-Oakland League.

★ ★ ★

Instead of being front-runners, like all of last season, the Mustangs are now trial horses.

They will test another pretender to the crown Friday when the Mustangs invade West Bloomfield.

Clarkston, another heir apparent, travels to Milford, and Bloomfield Hills, also an aspirant to the throne room, entertains Brighton. Clarenceville goes to Holly for the other W-O game.

Northville has all but lost its crown in the first two league games, being defeated by Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield will be favored to knock it off completely. The Lakers have had little difficulty whipping three opponents.

BALANCE PAYS

Coach Art Paddy has come up with a balanced attack featuring Chuck Robison, Bill Eliason, Dan Grieg and Dan Armistead to go with the rebounding of Dave Helmreich.

Northville has a couple of potent scoring weapons in Craig Bell and Tom Swiss. The retrun of Jim Juday in the backcourt will be a steadying influence. This was proved in the 65-55 upset of Plymouth the last time out. This proved the Mustangs can still kick.

Ken Misken has blossomed into a scoring threat for Clarkston and this means added trouble for Milford. The Redskins will also give away some height.

Port Huron Poses Problem to Maples

A victory will be the order of the day for the Birmingham Seaholm cagers tomorrow as they swing into action at Port Huron.

It may prove to be a long trip for the Maples. The Big Reds already have indicated that they have serious thoughts concerning who will occupy the No. 1 spot when the warring Eastern Michigan League factions quit the courts the first of March.

Ferndale has already stopped the Huron and Seaholm quints in it's first two starts, 60-48 and 36-30 respectively.

The victor of the Port Huron-Maples' clash will still have top flight opponents in Hazel Park, first in the EML standings presently with an overall 3-0 mark, and Royal Oak Kimball, 1-1, before any serious title plans can materialize.

The entire league will tipoff a full conference schedule Friday for the first time in the young prep cage season.

Besides the Maple - Port Huron tilt, Kimball will travel to Mt. Clemens (1-1), defending league champion East Detroit will play host to Ferndale and Hazel Park will entertain loop newcomer, Roseville.

'Tiger' Turns Kitten

Machen Found With Gun, Put in Hospital

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Machen, top-ranked heavyweight contender, was detained in a mental hospital Wednesday after a highway patrolman said he found him apparently contemplating suicide.

The patrolman said Machen told him he planned to kill himself because he was broke, couldn't get any more fights and "everything was all wrong."

The 30-year-old boxer was admitted to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Patrol Traffic Officer Bill McCluskey said he found Machen parked off U.S. Highway 40 near Vallejo, Calif., "a loaded gun next to him on the seat. He was writing a farewell letter."

A physician at the hospital said Wednesday night Machen was in "satisfactory condition and has no apparent injuries,"

Dr. B. J. Qhelan of the hospital staff would not discuss Machen's confinement but said he would be examined today.

Key Stock Gains Mostly Fractions

Motors, Oils, Metals Up Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Big three motors, some oils, metals, and utilities were on the upside in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

★ ★ ★

Gains of most key stocks were fractional.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler reported fractional gains. According to Henry Ford II, president of Ford, prospects are for an excellent auto sales year in 1963.

Further investment demand brought small gains to Texaco, Royal Dutch, American Telephone, Southern California Edison, Union Carbide and Du Pont.

Polaroid swung ahead more than 2 in a routine move.

International Nickel was up a point, Homestake a fraction.

U.S. Gypsum was a 1-point loser.

Dynamics Corp. of America, strong lately, held about steady.

★ ★ ★

Goodrich sank nearly a point. Small losers included Santa Fe, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Allied Chemical and Westinghouse Electric.

Prices were mixed from the start. After a spurt at the opening, trading lagged. The market had a fairly sharp one-day rise behind it and nothing very fresh to provide further stimulus.

New York investors were still in a semiblackout of financial news due to the newspaper strike.

Opening blocks include: Benguet, unchanged at 1¼ on 15,000 shares; General Motors, up ½ at 56⅞ on 5,000 and American Telephone, up ⅝ at 117½, on 3,000.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.0 to 240.3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were easy. Among small losers were Kawecki Chemical, Syntex, Ogden Corp. and Tampa Electric.

Deadlock Halts Talks in NY Press Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations in this city's newspaper strike have been called off until next week by federal mediators in the face of a solid deadlock that caused one negotiator to comment: "We are in a state of siege."

★ ★ ★

The action late Wednesday meant that eight-million persons would have to do without their nine major dailies for at least five more days. Also doing without are the hundreds of businesses that depend on the papers to advertise their wares during the Christmas shopping season.

★ ★ ★

The strike of printers represented by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union is already in its sixth day. Nearly 20,000 employes of the papers have been idled.
