Hospital Board Refuses to OK Room Rate Hike

Trustees Agree to Cut Staff Further Instead

Hope to Shave $50,000 From Growing Deficit With Reduction

A room rate increase of two dollars a day at Pontiac General Hospital was turned down by the Board of Trustees last night as they met again to see what could be done about a soaring operational deficit at the city hospital.

Trustees did take a step aimed at making a dent in what looms as a year-end deficit of $222,000, when they approved another personnel cut which is expected to save $50,000.

This move was only one of three alternatives by the board's Finance Committee which trustees agreed to.

The other two cost-cutting ideas involved breaking a union contract by cutting union employes' wages five per cent despite their objections, and the proposed room rate increase.

These latter two points, according to Harold B. Euler, acting hospital director and trustee, would have meant a saving around $115,000 for the last part of the year.

OBJECTED LOUDLY

Breaking the union contract with Local 100 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes brought loud objections from several trustees. But the matter never came to a vote.

Instead, upon the suggestion of William P. Babcock, the board decided to look into operational costs which might produce smaller piecemeal savings. The costs of operating the hospital cafeteria will be the first target of a special committee with this purpose.

Babcock, who will head this new four-member committee, warned against the "consequences" of breach of the union contract which expires Dec. 31. "They could take us before the State Labor Mediation Board and tie us up like a pretzel," he said.

PAY CUT OUT

At the start of last night's 2½-hour meeting, Babcock reported that a union negotiating committee had met Monday with the board's Personnel Committee and rejected, for a second time, a pay cut.

Turned down was a compromise move of the board to trim union employes' salaries five per cent for just three months instead of

Marines Turn Green

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — (UPI) — The hair of a number of United States Marines may soon match the color of their uniforms, if they don't watch out. Officials here warned blond-haired leathernecks that, with repeated dousings, the high chlorine content of the camp's swimming pools could turn their hair to a marine corps green.

$2.5 Million Truck Center Being Developed in City

A $2,500,000 trucking center is under development on Franklin road in Pontiac's south-central area.

Interchange, storage and service facilities are being planned for up to 14 trucking firms, seven of whom have already signed leases.

So says a Detroit real estate developer, Louis Y. El'Chonen, who believes the enterprise will help spur industry here.

El'Chonen, a 33-year-old builder, is a field representative and investor in a firm called Elco Investment Co., which is developing the site and erecting the buildings.

GIVES NO NAMES

Behind Elco are a group of private investors from Pontiac, Detroit, Chicago and New York, said El'Chonen. But he declined to name any names other than his own.

The site El'Chonen was describing contains 15 acres bounded by Franklin on the east, Rapid on the south, Bagley on the west and the Diston street line on the north.

The firm already owns the property and has had it leveled by bulldozers, El'Chonen said. One terminal is already erected and has been leased since May to Ellis Trucking Co., while another is nearing completion.

By next fall, Elco plans to complete seven double terminals on the southern side of the property, El'Chonen said, and two warehouses and a service center on the northern side.

One of the contemplated warehouses would contain 30,000 square feet of storage space, said El'Chonen, while the other would contain 17,000.

The service center would offer repair and service facilities for trucks.

TRANSFER POINT

Trucking firms would find the center useful, El'Chonen figured, as a transfer point between local and out-of-town traffic.

He believed there were fewer than a dozen similar centers throughout the nation.

"Our firm has great confidence in the industrial future of Pontiac and its surrounding area," said the real estate man.

"With its central location in the northern Detroit area, and as the gateway to the north, the city acts as a transportation core for a large area."

El'Chonen said that about half the Elco property would be taken up by the transportation project. Plans for the other half are not yet definite, he said.

Farmington Boy Dies in Accident

Killed in 2-Car Head-On Collision; Four Others Injured

James Denniston, 13, of Farmington Township, was killed yesterday in a two-car headon collision on Orchard Lake Rd. at Almeda St., in Farmington Township.

Denniston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finley Denniston, 28349 Parkhill Dr., was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital. He was riding in a car driven by his brother Richard, 17, who was injured in the collision.

Two other passengers, Cecil Costigan, 15, and his brother Leonard, 13, of 29150 12 Mile Rd., Farmington Township, were injured.

The driver of the other car, Ralph J. Garry, 17, of 33715 Oakland St., Farmington, suffered a possible concussion and fractured ribs. All injured are reported in satisfactory condition last night in Beaumont Hospital.

Troy Owners of Prize Hounds Fight Eviction

Droopy-eared Timber King of Meadow Park and Longview Acres of Sweet Talk are on the verge of being evicted.

But the owners of these national champion and near-champion Basset hounds don't believe the City of Troy has any business interfering with their hobby of hound raising.

So Raymond and Charlotte King, of 3616 Rochester Rd., went to Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday to seek an injunction which would stop the city from preventing them from continuing their hobby.

City officials say the Kings' breeding of these low-slung, sad-eyed dogs constitutes a business and is thus in violation of a residential zoning ordinance. King disagrees.

"We're not in this business from the dollar and cent angle," he said. "We love these dogs. They're our hobby."

He explained that those members of a litter which don't bear prerequisites of future champs, are sold. "Doesn't a farmer weed out the wormy corn?" King, a 55-year-old electrician, asked.

Costs to Move Statue

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Department of Parks announced yesterday it would cost $1,250,000 to rehabilitate the Soldiers and Sailors Monument, built in 1902 as a memorial to New York's Civil War dead at a cost of $250,000.

U.S. Urges U.N. Policing Unit for Lebanon

Tells Security Council Marines Would Leave if Replacements Sent

UNITED NATIONS (AP)— The United States urged the U.N. Security Council today to send an international military force to Lebanon to protect the country's independence from the rising tide of Nasserism.

The Americans said their Marines would be withdrawn when the U.N. troops took over.

The Soviet Union was promoting a rival proposal for the Council to demand immediate withdrawal of the Marines the United States landed in Lebanon yesterday.

Delegates predicted the Council would vote on both resolutions by nightfall.

No one expected the Soviet resolution to get the necessary seven votes for adoption, and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal was generally anticipated.

MIGHT ABSTAIN

But one delegate suggested the Soviets might abstain from voting and let the American resolution pass, preferring "a U.N. force to an American force."

Diplomatic sources said that if the Soviet Union vetoed the American resolution, the United States would not ask for a special session of the General Assembly to set up the U.N. force.

Instead it would leave the Marines in Lebanon as long as it was thought necessary.

The Lebanese government claims President Nasser's United Arab Republic is sending arms and men across its border to aid the rebels seeking the overthrow of pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Driving Hazard Put 'in the Bag' by Sack Dress

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — At least one group favors the sack dress.

"We like the sack," said Thomas B. Watkins, president of the North Carolina State Motor Club. "It's what we need for safer summer-time driving."

Watkins said that ladies wearing shorts, especially short shorts, were a traffic hazard because the shorts distract the attention of drivers. Last summer, he said, the club reported the traffic accident rate was going up alarmingly because shorts were getting shorter.

The club even issued a request to girls to wear shorts only in their backyards, away from the view of motorists.

"Now," Watkins said, "thanks to the clothes designers, the trend is to the other extreme, perhaps in the interest of highway safety.

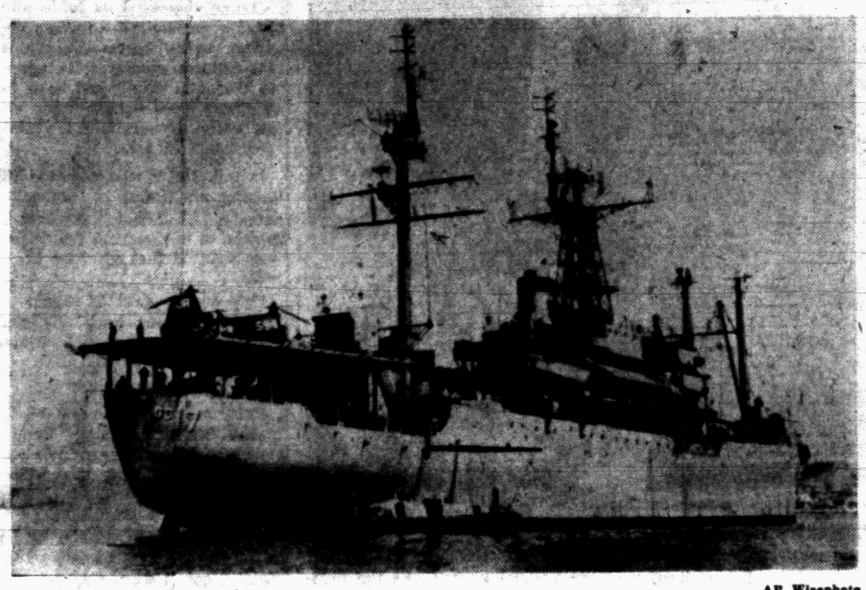

"The problem is, so to speak, in the bag this summer."

Soviets Demand U.S. Withdraw Troops at Once

Advance Guard of GIs Marches Into Beirut, Reports No Opposition

By EDWIN A. SHANKE
Chief of AP Beirut Bureau

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)— Another U.S. Marine battalion landed in Lebanon today. Advance units moved from their beachhead into Beirut, the capital.

This swelled the total of Leathernecks in this troubled republic to 3,600. More are on the way.

The Soviet government today called on the United States to withdraw at once from Lebanon and said the Soviet Union "cannot stand by as a spectator."

Moscow radio broadcast the government statement in Arabic on the American landings in Lebanon.

Moscow said it considers the situation in the Middle East "a threat to world peace. . . ."

Interpretive Stories Pages 10, 38

The Soviet government said it "reserves for itself the right to take the necessary measures to protect peace and security."

The Soviet government also announced it had granted full recognition to the revolutionary government of Iraq. It wished the rebels "all possible successes."

Rebel leaders fighting to topple pro-Western President Camille Chamoun have denounced the Marine landing.

But there was no opposition as the Marines swung into the capital.

A third battalion, rounding out the presently assigned total, was off the Lebanon coast, waiting orders to go in.

More Marine assault troops from Cherry Point, N. C., were being flown to an intermediate destination in the Mediterranean by planes of the Atlantic Fleet.

The number of men was not given, but it was learned a lieutenant colonel commands them. That rank normally handles a battalion of 1,700 to 1,800 men.

Adm. Jerauld Wright, Atlantic Fleet commander, described them as combat ready and "tough as hell."

Rebel leader Saed Salam, holed up in the Moslem quarter of Beirut, issued a statement urging Lebanese "to defend your country and safeguard your freedom."

An air of tension gripped the city.

American civilians were leaving the country in greater numbers.

Of about 3,200 Americans in Lebanon, 220 private citizens and 168 dependents of embassy personnel have left since the revolt began 68 days ago.

The United States, which sent in the Marines at Chamoun's request, described the intervention here as the creation of a beachhead to as-

Faisal Killed on First Day of Revolt

Palace Guard Shot Down Iraq's King

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — King Faisal was shot and killed Monday by a member of his own palace guard, Iran's ambassador in Baghdad reported today.

The ambassador reported the assassination took place on the first day of the revolt in telephone calls to the Iran government.

PRINCE KILLED

He also reported that Crown Prince Abdul Illah was shot and killed at the same time.

Rebel radio broadcasts from Tehran had told of the death of Abdul Illah and said he was dragged through the streets by a mob and his body burned.

But this was the first authoritative report on the fate of King Faisal.

Only last night reports circulated in Amman, capital of neighboring Jordan, that Faisal was still alive, barricaded in his castle and directing the fight against the rebels.

The rebel radio has never announced the death of the 23-year-old Faisal but denounced him as a "traitor." Unconfirmed reports reached Ankara earlier that he had been killed.

The rebels who overthrew Faisal's government in a coup d'etat Monday also were reported to have murdered Premier Nuri Es-Said, the staunchly pro-Western diplomat who directed Iran's affairs for many years.

KING OF UNION

Faisal was monarch of the combined Arab Federation of Iraq and Jordan, and his death left King Hussein of Jordan to try and govern both countries. Hussein is 21.

Hussein proclaimed his intention of trying to recover the capital city of Baghdad, but rebel broadcasts from Baghdad today said the 10,000 Iraqi troops there had deserted to their side.

The broadcast heard in Tehran

Among Initial 1,800 U.S. Troops Landing at Lebanon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department said today 17 Michigan Marines were in the first wave of 1,800 Marines who landed yesterday in Lebanon.

The department said the state Marines included Cpl. Donald A. Misiewicz of Muskegon, Cpl. Gordon T. Stimson of Houghton, Cpl. Gerald L. Ingersol of St. Louis, Pvt. Donald E. Melson of Kalamazoo, Sgt. Robert E. Malott of Jackson, Cpl. Clifford D. Filhart of Ortonville, Cpl. Carl A. Richert of Saginaw, Pfc. Stewart C. Kissinger of Dearborn and Cpl. Eugene Nagy of Harper Woods.

Other Marines from Michigan who landed in Lebanon were Pfc. Joseph Lockett Jr., Pfc. Alan J. Pointzes, Cpl. Torrence J. Trudeau and Sgt. Lawrence E. Paden; all of Detroit; Cpl. Thomas C. Mathias of Grosse Ile, Cpl. Edward D. Jones of Trenton, Cpl. Denver A. Bryson of Wayne and Pfc. John C. Kelley of Monroe.

Dispute's Background

MONDAY

The world was shocked by the news that Iraq's pro-Western government had been overthrown by a military coup in a swift, bloody revolt.

11 a.m.-Noon—President Eisenhower met with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the crisis, which threatened to crumple Western influence in the powder-keg Middle East. The Joint Chiefs of Staff conferred at about the same time at the Pentagon.

2:30-4:40 p.m.—Eisenhower and his top military and diplomatic aides briefed 22 senators and congressmen on the situation. After the session one congressman said U.S. troops would be sent to Lebanon; another said they would go to Jordan.

5:45 p.m.—President Eisenhower called for a special session of the United Nations Security Council as soon as possible to deal with the Mideast situation.

TUESDAY

1 a.m.—The Defense Department announced that planes were being dispatched from Donaldson Air Force Base, S.C. to an undisclosed destination.

9 a.m.—Some 1,700 U.S. Marines started wading ashore near Beirut, Lebanon.

9:30 a.m.—President Eisenhower told the world through a White House statement that he had sent the Leathernecks at Lebanon's request "to maintain security."

10:30 a.m.—U.N. Security Council session opened.

Early afternoon—Eisenhower conferred with Dulles for 90 minutes.

Late afternoon—A White House courier delivered the presidential message to the House and Senate explaining why the Marines were sent and disclosing that more troops may be ordered ashore.

Selfridge, Oscoda 'Alert'

Goldfine Admits Phoning Adams 43 Times in Six-Month Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine testified today he made 43 telephone calls to presidential aide Sherman Adams in a recent six-month period.

In explanation, the Boston millionaire told House investigators that Adams is "one of my best friends . . . and a friend you call whenever you see fit."

Goldfine said, too, that sometimes the calls were on such matters as tariff regulations which were of interest to his textile firms. The 43 telephone calls ewre during the period Nov. 20, 1957, to May 11, 1958.

It was Goldfine's seventh day of testimony before the House subcommittee digging into charges that his business interests have received favored treatment from federal regulatory agencies because of his friendship with Adams.

Both Goldfine and Adams have denied any preferential treatment but have told of gifts exchanged between them.

Goldfine refused today to say whether he had treated gifts to personal friends, other than Adams as business costs.

Goldfine blamed that on his accountants. He and Adams both swore they had exchanged gifts just as friends.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) indicated that once the subcommittee finishes with the 67-year-old Goldfine it will go into a textile contract the Army had with a mill in New Hampshire. Adams was once governor of that state. Harris said Goldfine was not connected with this matter.

Goldfine testified that his 43 telephone calls to Adams were made both to the White House and to Adams' private number. He said he once called Adams in Minneapolis but did not recall why he had made that call.

Under questioning by Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) Goldfine said he got in touch with Adams whenever he felt it was important.

Sunny and Pleasant Tomorrow's Plan

Fair and cooler is the forecast for tonight, with a low about 60.

The weatherman says tomorrow will be sunny and pleasant with the high reaching around 80 degrees. Tomorrow night will be fair and a little warmer with a low of 62-66.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or below the normal high of 84 and normal low of 63. Precipitation will total about ½ inch as showers about Friday and again Sunday.

Sixty-five was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury read 74 at 2 p.m.

Questions-Answers on Mideast: Spelled Out in Oil

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — Here are some of the immediate questions facing the U. S. on the crisis in the Middle East—and answers obtained from qualified authorities:

Q. What do we want from the Middle East?

A. Oil. The U. S. and the free world consume 18½ million barrels of oil each day.

Q. But what about nuclear energy, solar energy—new fuels that science promises?

A. Even at our present rate of scientific advance, our oil needs are increasing daily. Within seven years we will need 28½ million barrels of oil each day.

Q. How much oil do we have?

A. Expert opinion varies. But there is general agreement that proven reserves in the U. S. are about a 12-year supply.

Q. What is the Middle Eastern supply of oil?

A. With much of this barren, treeless, alien land still uncharted, geologists have already estimated that the Middle East holds two-thirds of the earth's oil.

Q. Can't we look to Venezuela or Canada for new oil?

A. Yes. And we are. But the cost of finding it is high and meanwhile we know that under the tiny country of Kuwait — about the size of Connecticut — lies twice the entire amount of oil in the U. S. And under a small section of Saudi Arabia that has been charted there is an equal reserve.

Q. But isn't it costly to import oil?

A. Not Middle Eastern oil. Where U. S. oil costs well over a dollar per barrel to produce, a barrel from Kuwait, for example, costs nine cents.

Q. Because labor is cheaper in the Middle East?

A. No. Oil production is not like auto production: labor is a small part of it. Cost of oil is built on availability. And where the average U. S. well pumps about 13 barrels per day, a Middle Eastern well pumps about 5,000 barrels per day.

Q. Does Western Europe have any oil?

A. Hardly any. France and England, for example, import well over 80 per cent of their oil needs from the Middle East.

Q. Does Russia want Middle Eastern oil?

A. Our experts say no. Russia has enough oil of her own to supply her needs.

Q. But isn't she wooing Col. Nasser?

A. Yes. But not for the rights to use Arab-controlled oil. If Russia succeeds in helping Nasser drive the West out of the Middle East, Russia would then be faced with the tremendous burden of paying Nasser the royalties his people would lose. Saudi Arabia, for example, gets $1,000,000 per day in royalties for her oil.

Q. Does Nasser's United Arab Republic need the oil under its earth?

A. No. The cradle of civilization is only now beginning to awaken after a thousand years' sleep. This is an agrarian land and most of its machinery is used in either tilling the soil or producing oil.

Q. Well then, if Russia doesn't need this oil and the Arabs can't use it, that leaves only the free, industrialized nations.

A. Right. And, Nasser knows it. Listen to an excerpt from his autobiography:

"There remains (a) third source (of strength for us): oil, a sinew of material civilization without which all its machines would cease to function . . . The center of oil production has shifted from the United States to the Arab area where the wells are still virgin. . . . Have I made clear how great the importance of this element of strength is?"

Q. Then he must deal with the free world?

A. Yes. But as he takes over more and more of Middle East, he holds the terms in his own hands. The Suez Canal, for example, floats out 60 per cent of Middle Eastern oil. Now he threatens to take Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Saudi Arabia — the land through which the rest of the oil moves by pipeline.

Q. Is there any way to deal with Nasser short of war?

A. This is the problem that faces the Western World.

BLACK GOLD: At stake in the Middle East crisis is the Arab world's vast production and reserves of oil. The figures above show the average daily production in barrels for the first five months of 1958. Lebanon, Syria and Jordan produce no petroleum, but pipelines from the richest producing nations pass through their territories.

The Day in Birmingham

Public Works, Forestry to Use Relief Recipients

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Public Works and Forestry departments soon will have the use of labor of a number of county relief recipients, provided through the Oakland County Department of Society Welfare Relief program, it was announced today.

The project has been set up as a means of employment for these men at no cost to participating municipalities other than that for supervisory personnel and the necessary tools, according to Robert S. Kenning, assistant city manager.

Under the direction of T. C. Brien, DPW superintendent, the men used by his department will do cleanup work around the DPW yard, city parking lots and streets.

They will remove loose gravel and stones at street intersections and debris from catch basin tops.

Charles Gale, superintendent of the Forestry Department, will have a 15-man crew of relief workers for the balance of the summer. The majority of the men will be used for cleanup along the Rouge River flood plain, particularly in the Outlot B area, recently acquired by the city for flood control, Gale said.

The men also will be used on an improvement program at Greenwood Cemetery and throughout the city's parks, he said.

Kenning said he feels that the use of these men will be of great value to the city. "It will enable us to accomplish a great many things which otherwise would be done only on a piecemeal basis."

The changed timing of traffic signals at seven intersections along Hunter boulevard in Birmingham will save "hundreds of hours" of driving time a day, the State Highway Department reported today.

This was revealed by an experiment initiated 10 days ago on Hunter, reducing signal cycles from 70 seconds to 50 seconds.

The department said the 50-second cycle allows "platoons" of autos to pass the seven intersections on a nonstop basis, instead of having to stop at nearly every intersection.

City Manager L. R. Gare has been named city representative on the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority. Grover Serenbetz, city engineer, will be his alternate.

Dr. Clarence W. Muehlberger, State Health Department toxicologist, held a training session yesterday for Birmingham police officers on the use of the toximeter, used to determine the degree of alcohol in a person's system. Twenty-one officers attended the session, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said.

Friday will be the last day for swimming instruction at the Barnum School pool, Robert E. Girardin, recreation director, said today. The pools at Derby Junior High School and Birmingham High School will remain open.

Francis G. Davis

Service for Francis G. Davis, 81, of 1509 Birmingham Blvd., will be held 11 a.m. Friday at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Davis died Monday at William Beaumont Hospital after a long illness. He retired in 1951 from his position as general sales manager of the Peninsular Steel Co., Detroit, where he had been employed 33 years.

He served as a consultant to the Navy in the processing of tool steel during World War II and was a charter member of the Engineering Society of Detroit and a member of the Masonic Lodge in Bloomfield, Ind., and the Moslem Temple in Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Grace B.; sons, F. Gordon of Birmingham and John B. of Chicago; two sisters, a brother and four grandchildren.

Hospital Board OKs Further Staff Cuts

the originally-planned last six months of the year. Both proposals have been soundly opposed by Local 190.

Euler dismissed as futile any further attempts to convince the union, which represents 265 of 566 fulltime employes, to agree to the cut. "We'll just have to wait now until October when we sit down to negotiate the 1959 contract," he said.

It was Euler who reported the hospital might face a "stubborn" deficit of $125,000 for the last six months of the year. A $96,762 loss was reported through June 30, he said.

"We don't expect to regain the first six months loss," he said, "but we will do anything to slow down the expected deficit."

WAGES HIGHER HERE

Euler reported that one of the major reasons putting Pontiac General in the red was that "our wage level is 22 per cent higher in starting salaries than other Oakland County hospitals."

Seventy-two per cent of every dollar the hospital spends, he explained, goes toward wages.

The personnel cut, which was passed by a 9 to 1 vote, will mean the elimination of some 30 more positions in addition to the 66 agreed to by the board last month. Trustee Cecil Cosgrove voted against the added cut.

Another step taken was a plan to ask for an advance of Hill-Burton federal aid previously appropriated to the hospital.

Trustees decided to meet again in two weeks to see how these piecemeal efforts were progressing.

A spot of good news was handed the board by Euler when he announced that July occupancy had reached slightly over 90 per cent. During the month of June it was 85 per cent.

The room rate increase proposal lost 6 to 4. James Clarkson, the Finance Committee chairman, said hiking the chage to $20 per day "would decrease our occupancy even further in the light of the unemployment situation here."

More Marines On Way; Advance Units in Beirut

sure peace and stability in the Middle East.

Entire Air Force Poised

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—The entire U.S. Air Force in Europe including Matador missile units was placed today on a "pre-alert" status, the Air Force announced. The announcement said all tactical and logistical personnel of the U.S. Air Force were placed on this status "to handle any contingency arising from the international crisis in the Middle East."

Britain has announced movements of land, air and sea forces toward the Middle East.

The first Marine unit to enter Beirut was headed by U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock; Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of the U.S. forces; and Gen. Guad Shehab, commander of the Lebanese army. It included a tank and two troop carriers with 30 men aboard. This column stopped at the U.S. Embassy.

Another unit, including a tank and five amphibious troop carriers with 150 men, continued to the port area, presumably to secure it for the landing of supplies at docks.

The movement into the capital was halted for an hour when Shehab arrived. He conferred in the road with the U.S. ambassador, the American admiral, and Brig. Gen. Sidney Wade, commander of the 2nd Marine Division. Then the conference moved inside a Lebanese army training school.

When the conferees came out they said they had reached agreement on liaison.

The second contingent of 1,800 Marines began landing early today from ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet, joining the 1,800-man contingent that arrived here yesterday. Another battalion will arrive shortly, bringing the total to 5,400 men.

Offshore 11 ships of the 6th Fleet rode at anchor. LSTs were pulled up to the beach.

Equipment rolled off the LSTs and was moved across the sand to higher ground around the airport. Two helicopters ranged back and forth.

Tanks, antiaircraft guns, antitank guns mounted on endless-belt tractors, self-propelled guns, and transport of all types were rolling ashore.

Hundreds of holiday-minded Lebanese came out to the city to watch.

The Marines as they came ashore assembled at the airport, five miles south of Beirut.

Jordan's King Hussein has made an appeal for help to both London and Washington. But qualified officials said he has talked only with the British about sending troops to help keep his pro-Western nation from suffering the fate of Iraq where Arab officers linked to the Nasser government at Cairo seized power Monday.

From the United States, Hussein is reported asking only material aid including petroleum which Jordan normally gets from Iraq.

The Lebanese army and police, while officially loyal to Chamoun, have made no determined effort to dislodge the rebels from the Moslem quarter during the 68 days of the rebellion.

Activity in Beirut has consisted mainly of frequent exchanges of firing and terrorists bombings to enforce a rebel-called general strike which has been only partly effective.

Uncertainty about the purpose of their presence in Lebanon was reflected by the Marines lounging on the sunny beaches.

"If we do any fighting here, we will be on the same side as the Lebanese army, won't we?" asked Pfc. Angelo T. Goscili of Mount Vernon, N.Y. He was eager to know who he would be fighting against but got only vague answers.

New Champ Certain in Women's Amateur

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Keith Leclair of Ann Arbor knocked five-time champion Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint from the Women's Michigan Amateur Gold Tournament today with a 3 and 1 quarter-final victory.

The match was even after 13 holes. But Mrs. Leclair won the 14th, 16th and 17th and sent the defending champion to the sidelines.

Mrs. Weiss had been seeking an unprecedented sixth title.

Sally Sharp, a Michigan State coed and the 1956 champion from Birmingham, ousted Helen Grinnell with a 3 and 2 victory.

Plans for Prevention

Book by Juvenile Judge Is Study of Delinquency

A new study of the problems which beset underprivileged youth has been written and published by Judge Arthur E. Moore, of the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Entitled "Johnny Delinquent," the 100-page book discusses all phases of the youth delinquency problem and concludes with a suggested "blueprint for prevention."

"Johnny Delinquent" is a composite and authentic picture of many children from many families, all unfortunate. To quote from the book's foreword by Walter Gehrke, president of Camp Oakland, Inc.:

"He could be an excellent citizen. Given affection he is kindly; shown decency he gains self control, afforded work and opportunity he acquires self respect; granted counsel, advice and guidance by a Big Brother, a skilled professional, a foster parent or just a good neighbor, he becomes a good citizen."

This book shows the neglect and delinquency problem, the helpful program of the Juvenile Court, the need of improved child and family care, and plans for prevention of delinquency.

The book recommends creation of child protection committees in each community for the betterment of all children and to deal with problems of children who are or may become delinquent. A suggested ordinance which would create such a committee with legal standing is included in the appendix.

Floods Threaten Several Areas

Weather's Rampage Wet

By United Press International

Waves of fast-moving thunderstorms rolled over sections of the southwest and the Ohio River Valley today, creating new flood threats in Missouri and Indiana.

Flash floods plagued Pennsylvania and Ohio yesterday following drenching rain storms. A creek spilled over its banks at Middlefield, Ohio, causing locally heavy damage, and some streets and basements were flooded at Cleveland.

GIRL SWEPT AWAY

Pennsylvania counted thousands of dollars in damage from floods in four western counties, and a four-month-old girl was drowned when she was swept from her father's arms.

Floodwaters receded in north central Illinois today after forcing between 400 and 500 persons to flee their homes in Streator. The flood also was blamed for causing a hardware store explosion and fire that killed six persons.

Elsewhere, a 7.16-inch rain at Chillicothe, Mo., sent four creeks surging across lowlands yesterday, blocking highways into the city and washing a Burlington passenger train off the tracks.

About 40 passengers aboard the train, en route from Chicago to St. Joseph, were rescued and taken to Brockfield, Mo., to be rerouted.

The Grand River threatened to flood farmland today throughout its basin from Gallatin, Mo., to Brunswick.

Farmlands also were inundated in parts of Iowa following five-inch rainfalls yesterday. Storms in Indiana sent the Wabash and White rivers toward flood stage for the second time this season.

TORNADO REPORTED

A tornado was reported near Amarillo, Tex., last night and weathermen issued severe weather warnings for most of western Oklahoma.

Weathermen predicted scattered thundershowers today in the North and Middle Atlantic states and west into the Ohio Valley, and afternoon showers in the Southern Plains and Gulf states.

Mostly fair weather was seen for the West Coast, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes Region.

Faisal Shot Down by Palace Guard

said the Iraqi forces stationed in Jordan had returned "in accordance with orders issued by the commander of the armed forces in Iraq."

The broadcast said all of the troops had returned with all of their arms and "are now within Iraqi territory."

The ambassador's report on Faisal today said a soldier representing the new regime entered the palace to present an ultimatum from the rebels.

The King and Crown Prince were standing together when the soldier entered the room, the ambassador said.

When they saw the soldier approaching Abdul Illah reached toward his holster but before he could draw his pistol a member of his own royal palace guard shot them both.

The ambassador said the new regime did not report Faisal's death because of his popularity.

In the meantime the rebel-controlled radio continued to describe him as a "tiger," a "stooge and mercenary" and a "traitor."

173,888,000 in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau estimated today that as of June 1 the nation's population stood at 173,888,000.

Bang Two Boards to Scare Starlings

EAST LANSING (AP) — An East Lansing fireman has come up with what he claims is a simple, easy and effective way of frightening noisy starlings away from residential neighborhoods.

Other cities have tried shotguns, sirens, patented noise-makers, firecrackers and amplified recordings to get rid of the pests with varying degrees of success. But fireman Floyd Kiepert said he obtains good results simply by clapping two boards together.

The idea worked so well, Kiepert said, that he's organizing neighborhood squads of board-bangers.

Prefer Lee to Sherman

CHICAGO (UPI) — A bunch of Georgia Shriners attending the National Shriners' convention liked everything about the Sherman Hotel here, except its name. So they hoisted a big sign renaming it in honor of Robert E. Lee.

Huron Pipeline Cost Figures Due August 1

An engineering firm is expected to hand the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority by Aug. 1 a rate scale of costs of participating communities in the authority's Lake Huron pipeline project.

The Kansas City firm of Black and Veatch is now preparing a detailed cost plan which the authority needed before negotiations with the communities could continue, said Howard K. Kelley, authority chairman.

"When we get this we can negotiate in earnest," he said.

A 43-mile pipeline from a Lake Huron intake five miles north of Port Huron is planned to bring water to many southeastern Michigan communities in this $150 million project.

Grocery Store Burglar Makes a Meaty Haul

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies reported a break-in by a burglar believed to have a hearty appetite yesterday.

The Green Lake Grocery, 1358 Lapeer Rd., Brandon Township, was entered through a side door and reported stolen were six smoked hams, four beef roasts, two pork roasts, eight pounds of pork chops and 10 pounds of round steak.

22 Others Expected Today

Cuban Rebels Release Seven GIs

By LARRY ALLEN

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — Cuban rebels have finally started releasing the rest of the North Americans they kidnaped. Seven U.S. servicemen were freed yesterday and others of the 22 still held, were expected to be returned today.

The seven bearded men released were in good condition and high spirits as they stepped from two helicopters at the U.S. Navy base on Guantanamo Bay, all said Fidel Castro's men treated them well during their three weeks in the rebels' jungle camps.

The returnees said they understood four or five more servicemen would be freed each day. They had been scheduled to start coming out of the east Cuban mountains Monday but apparently bad weather delayed transporting them to the pickup point.

'REBELS ANXIOUS'

"The rebels are willing and anxious to get rid of all the men because they wish to avoid endangering any of the captives' lives," said Storekeeper L. C. Robert Gibson of Chattahoochee, Fla.

U.S. Consuls Park Wollam and Robert Wiecha, who have been negotiating with the rebels for return of the captives, remained in the mountains to facilitate release of the rest.

The rebels between June 26 and July 1 kidnaped 30 U.S. servicemen, 17 American civilians and 3 Canadians. All the civilians and one Navy airman were freed in small batches between July 2 and July 11, but the delay in freeing the bulk of the servicemen was beginning to anger the Navy and aroused concern for the safety of the men.

Twenty-eight of the Marines and sailors were on a bus seized by 13 heavily armed rebels June 27 between the Navy base and Guantanamo City. The Cuban bus driver also was released yesterday.

CAPTIVES TOGETHER

The 28 were kept together, Gibson said. They spent most of the time in mountains south of Baracoa, near Cuba's eastern tip and about 50 miles northeast of the base.

The men said they were well fed, though some got dysentery. They were given medical treatment.

Home Blows Up, Burning 4 Badly

NEW YORK (AP)—A gas explosion blew a $30,000 Queens home to bits at 3 a.m. today and critically burned a family of four.

The split-level home in Douglastown near Little Neck Bay was demolished as a couple and their two daughters huddled in the living room.

The four apparently were blown out into the yard. A policeman said, "It was a miracle that anyone got out of there alive."

The explosion scattered parts of the house over a radius of 50 yards. Fire broke out in the debris.

A neighbor said: "I heard a child screaming 'Mommy, mommy.' It was horrible."

The smell of gas wakened the family—Joseph GMuidici, 40, a musician; his wife Frances, 37; Joanne, 11; and Rosemary, 7.

As the father nestled the two girls in his arms, the mother telephoned the Consolidated Edison Co. and told an operator: "I smell gas escaping. We've got two children here. What do we do?"

Before the operator could reply, he heard the blast.

George Couldn't Lie

NEWCASTLE, England (UPI) — George Washington could not tell a lie. He admitted taking two cooked meals from a railway station snack bar. The 39-year-old railway examiner was found guilty in magistrates court and conditional discharge.

Wed at 2 A.M.; Navyman Off for Lebanon

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — A Navy man was married at 2 a.m. today and about an hour later was en route back to his ship without his bride.

The unusual hour for the wedding and the hasty return to duty was in compliance with the alert of the U.S. fleets because of the crisis in Lebanon.

Francis A. Theroux, 20, of Pawtucket, and Ethel Barker, also 20 and of Pawtucket, were to have been married at 9 a.m. today.

Because Theroux was hastily summoned to duty from a furlough, he got special permission from the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, Catholic bishop of Providence, for a 2 a.m. wedding at St. Teresa's Church.

At 3:45 a.m., Theroux boarded a train alone to return to his ship, the USS Salute docked at Charleston, S.C.

2,800 Algerians Freed

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — French army headquarters announced last night that clemency had been granted to nearly 2,800 moslem nationalists in keeping with Gen. Chtarles de Gaulle's wishes for "French unity" on Bastile Day Monday. About 175 had been serving prison sentences. The rest were under various forms of house arrest.

Film on Alcoholism Gains State Approval

ESCANABA, Mich. (AP) — Another step has been taken toward the State of Michigan's production of a film on alcoholism as an "illness that can be cured."

The State Board of Alcoholism approved story treatment of the film at a meeting here.

Under the voluntary commitment program, an alcoholic seeks aid and accepts commitment and treatment of his own free will.

The 34 commitments of the 1957-58 fiscal year included 24 to the Grand Rapids Alcoholism Rehabilitation Center, eight to Brighton Hospital for Alcoholics, and two to Newberry State Hospital.

Urges Rebels to Free Yanks

Saginaw Man Playing Key Role in Talks With Castro's Followers

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—When the time came for Robert Wiecha to go to work, he put on his dungarees and climbed into a helicopter.

He looked like a ditch-digger except for one thing—his briefcase. That was the tipoff that Robert Wiecha is a U. S. diplomat—the righthand man to U. S. Consul Park Wollam, chief negotiator with the Cuban rebels for the return of 50 North Americans Fidel Castro's men kidnaped nearly three weeks ago.

Wiecha, in his late 30s, is from Saginaw, Mich.

Tall, rangy and black-haired, he looks like a professional tennis player. He is aggressive and confident, though much less experienced as a displomat than Wollam.

Wiecha came here with Wollam from their consulate in Santiago de Cuba shortly after the first kidnaping on June 26.

He has spent most of the time since in the misty mountain jungles around the village of Calabazos, 40 air miles northwest of here.

He has slept and lived with Castro's rebels, eating their food, mostly chicken and rice.

Wollam shuttled back and forth between the rebel camps and Guantanamo or Havana. But Wiecha stayed in the hills most of the time.

His task: Convince the rebels the kidnapings infuriated Americans and did the Castro cause little good in the United States.

Prayers Asked by Pope Pius for World Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — While units of the powerful U.S. 6th Fleet sped toward the troubled Middle East today, Pope Pius XII called for prayers for world peace and a return to the precepts of Christianity.

The plea and warning of possible universal extermination came in an encyclical letter to all bishops and archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church, the first that he has issued in more than a year.

The letter was dated Monday, the day that strife erupted in Iraq and threatened to spread to other troubled areas of the volatile Middle East.

The 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, reviewing his long campaign for peace, cited the terrible power of today's nuclear arms.

The letter urged bishops of the Roman Catholic Church throughout the world to request prayers to the Virgin Mary for peace in the world. The encyclical also asked that prayers be said for the restoration of liberty to the persecuted church in Communist-dominated countries.

Coaches to Tour Nation

Five new GMC coaches will highlight a week-long caravan from Pontiac to Santa Monica, Calif., beginning July 21.

The buses have been purchased by the Santa Monica Municipal Bus Lines and are being use as the occasion for a good will tour, sponsored by the Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce.

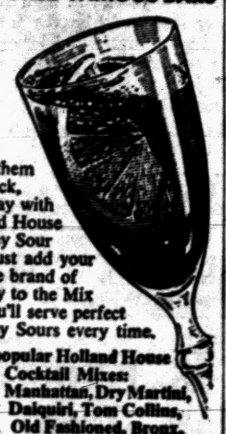

A ceremony to kick off the tour is being planned for the morning of July 21, according to John W. Hirlinger, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce manager.

The buses will then head for Detroit and 10 other cities along the southern route towards Southern California, said Hirlinger.

Hirlinger said local chamber of commerce officials and Mayor William W. Donaldson plan to participate in the ceremony. Representing Santa Monica will be Sam Porter, manager of the chamber of commerce there, and William Farell, superintendent of the Santa Monica bus company.

3 Daughters Found Slain

Mother Discovers Girls Shot to Death; Husband Missing From Home

TROY, Pa. (AP) — A mother found her three young daughters shot to death last night and her husband missing from their farm home near the New York state border.

Mrs. Margaret Pelton, 23, said she had returned to the house after a visit and had found Connie, 2, slumped in her stroller, seemingly asleep. Concerned that the child was up so late, she called out to her husband Paul, 19.

There was no answer. She suddenly realized Connie was shot. She ran into the bedroom. Patricia, 3, was on the bed. Pauline, 5 months, was in a basket. The children were dead.

Mrs. Pelton said later she ran out to the garage where her father Carlton Brion, 45, had just parked the car. She yelled hysterically: "We got to get help quick. The children are dead."

Brion had driven his daughter to Troy Community Hospital earlier in the evening for a visit with Pauline's twin brother Paul, who was critically ill from an asthmatic attack. They had been gone about four hours. Their home is just outside Troy, which is about 25 miles south of Elmira, N. Y.

A wide police search was on for Pelton, but Coroner Gerald Vickery said there was not much to indicate he did the shooting, beside the facts he was missing and so was his .22-caliber rifle.

Police said the children had been shot with a .22, Patricia in the head, and Pauline and Connie in the stomach.

Mrs. Pelton told a newsman that her husband, a slender 6-footer, had been a cheerful, devoted man during their four years of marriage and was very fond of his children.

Pelton, who recently was laid off at a women's stocking factory, had just bought the children new clothing, Mrs. Pelton said.

She said she had put the children to bed and just before she left for the hospital her husband had said: "You stay at the hospital as long as you want to and I will watch the children."

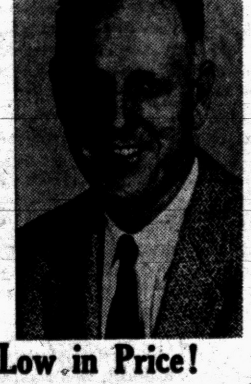

He had given her a dollar for a snack at a restaurant during the trip.

Taffy Tuttle says she's looking for the kind of husband she won't have to keep looking for after they're married . . . You have to be pretty successful before you car afford to wear a battered old hat. —Earl Wilson.

Congress Is in Favor of Virtue

Congress is overwhelmingly in favor of virtue. This was made known last Friday by the Senate's swift adoption of a code of ethics for Government officials.

There is nothing new about virtue, in fact most of us try to lead a virtuous life. Eleven months ago the House approved the same code which has been lying around waiting for action by the Senate.

This is an especially auspicious time to know that neither House approves of unfair discrimination, of the acceptance of favors which might be construed by reasonable persons as influencing public officials or doing anything else that is wrong.

Majority Leader LYNDON B. JOHNSON states that last Friday's action has no particular significance. Senator JOHNSON is an honorable man and when he says anything it is usually true.

Right on the heels of the ethics code adoption, Senator CLIFFORD CASE has introduced a bill that would have more teeth than any concurrent resolution. The CASE bill would require high public officials, including members of Congress, to disclose practically all their financial transactions, including gifts received.

It is quite obvious that the CASE bill will have tough sledding. Perhaps it is not necessary, but the public is entitled to some protection. Running rampant with the taxpayers' money such as was the case with counterpart funds should be stopped immediately.

Passing a law will not necessarily make people honest, nor will resolutions. But together they may help improve public morality.

Adenauer Strengthened in Germany's Election

The resounding victory of Chancellor ADENAUER's Christian Democratic Union in recent elections in the Socialist stronghold of North Rhine-Westphalia shows increased support of the West. Of the 200 seats in Parliament the Christian Democrats won 104, the Social Democrats 81 and Right Wing Free Democrats 15 seats.

At issue was the Chancellor's proposal to equip the West German army with atomic weapons. The Socialists played on fears that this would bring threatened Soviet retaliation. They want Germany out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the hope that Russia would be appeased and agree to German reunification. Ordinarily this issue would have aroused strong support.

However, recent appalling events in Hungary and the unlawful retention of American fliers in the East German puppet state no doubt contributed to Adenauer's majority. Thoughtful Germans must have been convinced that nothing can be expected from Russia.

The election showed the emergence of a strong two party system of government which would give the cabinet power to govern without harassment from splinter parties.

4-H Fair an Opportunity as Well as a Challenge

Oakland County's annual 4-H Club Fair affords the parents of our rural young folks an opportunity to give their boys and girls a better start in life's keen competition.

It is a chance for their young folks to spread themselves.

It offers a challenge to the parents to take stock at home, and see that they do not curb the ambition of the new generation to do things better than the generation that preceded it.

Perhaps the budding and wholesome enthusiasm of youth may have generated a fear that somebody may make the old folks look primitive, and thus engender a little jealousy right in the family.

Perhaps the children are too modest or retiring to put their best foot forward, and thus seem destined to hide their light under a bushel—unless they are given more encouragement at home.

Our 4-H Fair, to be held on its permanent grounds, out Perry Street, Aug. 5 to 8, offers a solution to any of these difficulties that may beset our rural residents.

This fair has grown to be the biggest event of its kind in Michigan. It offers an opportunity that a great majority of the rural young people do not have.

And we have no better citizens than those who are growing up on our farms. They're the best chips off the old block.

The Man About Town

Gets Wide Acclaim

Woman Past 80 Refuses to Cease Her Excellent Work

Horse and buggy days: When the young man did not drive up and blow his horn, but if the wind was in the right direction she'd know he'd arrived.

Although past the mark of four score years,

Mrs. Viola Chapel

of 59 Monroe St., does very fine and intricate knitting. Her friends tell me its texture and design is far beyond anything else they've ever seen. She has a letter from highly complimenting her on her work.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower,

Mrs. Chapel recently completed several slip covers for a large motel in Northern Michigan. Like that world famous bridge builder who designed and erected the "Mighty Mac" Bridge, she writes poetry as a hobby, many of her verses being of exceptional merit. They appear to come from the heart.

David E. Steinman,

Another rattlesnake has been killed in the Pontiac area—they're getting so scarce that a casualty among them is news. An eight-rattler was dispatched by of Clarkston, in a marsh just outside that village. It was 24 inches long.

When at their cottage near Pinconning the other evening,

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Munger

of Keego Harbor, saw what appeared to be a satellite cross the horizon.

The big news of 50 years ago today in Oakland County was the discovery of a lot of stolen goods under a barn near Wixom, by a man who had chased a woodchuck after its scalp, on which there was a 15c bounty.

A letter from a Milford man, over the signature of decries the wearing of shorts, and says the newspaper picture of a girl to show corn knee-high was published more to show the knees than the corn.

"First Things First—Namely Me"

David Lawrence Says:

Cold War Approaches Showdown

WASHINGTON — By itself, the landing of American Marines in Lebanon is not an earth-shaking event. United States forces have been landed lots of times in various parts of the world when it was necessary to protect American lives and property. Such action hasn't always led to a war.

LAWRENCE

The really important point is that the United States has made a counter-demonstration in the "Cold War" which has a far-reaching purpose—to impress the men in the Kremlin that the West will no longer acquiesce in the campaign of aggressive subversion that has been developing in the Middle East under the joint auspices of Moscow and Cairo.

Will the Soviet regime be impressed? The immediate reaction from the Soviet capital has been the customary denunciation of the American move and a pious defense of the revolutions in Lebanon and Iraq as noble efforts of nationalistic groups to deal with supposedly tyrannical governments.

Outside of these exchanges of view as to what caused the trouble in Iraq and Lebanon, the broader strategy turns to the United Nations. Here the Soviets, with their veto in the Security Council, can block any action looking toward a policing of the area. The thesis that these are internal problems will be argued by the Communist representatives at the U.N., but this will not accelerate the withdrawal of the American Marines.

In fact, President Eisenhower has stated that "the initial dispatch of troops will be augmented as required." The remarks by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the United Nations as well as the President's messages to Congress and the American people indicate clearly that the American government does not view the Middle Eastern events as mere internal revolutions, but as something directly propagated by the Soviet government.

President Eisenhower laid the case before the American people in these words:

"In the 1930s the members of the League of Nations became indifferent to direct and indirect aggression in Europe, Asia and Africa. The result was to strengthen and stimulate aggressive forces that made World War II inevitable.

"The United States is determined that that history shall not now be repeated. We are hopeful that the action which we are taking will both preserve the independence of Lebanon and check international violations which, if they succeeded, would endanger world peace."

The situation has in it, of course, the ingredients of a serious crisis, depending upon how serious the rulers in Moscow want to make it. They would be taking a risk by letting a war crisis grow on the horizon, for it might be the signal for uprisings in East Germany and Hungary and in other states held captive by the Soviet dictatorship.

Also, it's hardly likely that the people of Soviet Russia would relish a big war, and this, too, might cause the Kremlin to hesitate to precipitate a break that could lead to war.

The United States government necessarily must look at the picture from the darkest side if the moves are to impress the Soviets.

Certainly it is difficult to deal with the Communist techniques of subversion by just sending in Marines. Bribery of local leaders and the smuggling in of arms from Egypt by the Communists can keep the fires of trouble burning in Iraq and Lebanon and perhaps later in Jordan.

The Western powers may have to face the fact that a larger military operation, possibly in the nature of a military protectorate, will have to be undertaken to keep the nations of the Middle East out of the hands of the Communists.

At the moment, the American action is based on many precedents in international law—the protection of lives and property of its nationals. Also, in the case of Lebanon, the existing government has invited the troops of a friendly power to come in to help preserve its territorial integrity and independence.

The United States is displaying a firm hand in an effort to avert a larger war.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Yes, You Can Keep On Using My Throat Easer

"About a year ago," writes a Pittsburgh man (not a smudge of smog or soot on his letter), "I was notified that I'd be asked to address a convention of about 1000 delegates. I never want to go through such stage fright again. Kept clearing my throat every time I thought about the ordeal. I don't know how I ever got through it.

DR. BRADY

"Since then I have had several parts in church programs, and I have suffered the same stage fright each time, and when the time came for me to do my stuff I kept constantly clearing my throat, which made it very embarrassing for all around me, as well as for myself.

"About a month before I was to speak at a banquet of the ... ... I found in your column a remedy to prevent stage fright or examination jitters. I have long read your column and often profited from your good advice. I sent for the stuff and used for not quite 3 weeks before the banquet. I had no trouble at all, didn't clear my throat once and was calm and collected throughout the speech, which went off beautifully.

"What I would like to know now is whether I can use this right along, as I have to speak somewhere every week. (Signed) . . ."

The answer is yes.

Nothing harmful or habit-forming in it.

But please try this experiment to determine whether you are cured of your trouble: Instead of taking quinine and thiamine three weeks before the examination or performance, take it just 2½ weeks, preferably stopping it three days before the ordeal. If this works satisfactorily, next time take it just two weeks, stopping it as before three days before the performance. Then the third time take it only a week and stop it four or five days before the ordeal.

If all goes well you'll realize you are reconditioned and no longer need the help of q. and t. We'll all be eager to learn how the experiment works.

Each quinine and thiamine tablet contains one grain of quinine (B1).

Remember, please, this remedy is merely a prophylactic. It is not a sedative, not a stimulant, but it may fairly be called a general tonic.

For detailed instructions send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my Free pamphlet, Examination Jitters and State Fright.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Taxpayer Balks at Board's Request for More Money

The Board of Education says it needs to raise $2 million more for schools. Taxes on our homes now are over half school tax. I'm sure many taxpayers must feel as I do, that recent school money has been used extravagantly on schools with so much glass, long useless corridors and beautiful gyms that are rarely used. It seems more classrooms could be built with some of that money to teach more children.

In the north end alone four schools are one mile apart, with a small number of children in each. Why not one less school and bus them in? We needed a high school long before these extra schools. As for repairs on the high school pool, why couldn't swimming be discontinued for a year? Gym only gives one-quarter credit, and swimming can be learned at the YMCA.

How will old people pay their taxes if they keep climbing? There should be an end somewhere, sometime. How many more taxpayers feel as I do?

Praises Comment in Editor's Note

Since the May 6 Editor's Note to George's letter, I've wanted to sing the praises of your Peripatetic Reporter.

I was interested in the statement that he was popping the buttons on his vest, and I'm thankful your P. R. is grown up and old enough to wear a vest. I remember in the Gay Nineties when my mother told me when I was big enough to quit playing with toy blocks, I could wear a vest, and I've worn a vest ever since.

George evidently doesn't realize what happens when Walter Reuther builds up his toy blocks too high. Adding block after block of increased wages and other expenses until the consumer has gone on strike himself.

Glubb Pasha Is Expert on Both Jordan, Iraq

By United Press International

Lieut. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, known throughout the Arab world as Glubb Pasha, is one of the world's leading experts on Middle Eastern political and military affairs. He has deep roots in, and for many years exerted a great influence on, Jordan and Iraq.

Glubb Pasha's widest fame was won as chief of the almost legendary Arab Legion, a post from which he was ousted in 1956 by young King Hussein of Jordan.

A short, quiet-mannered man, Glubb Pasha began his career in the Middle East in August 1920, after battle service in World War I in which he won the Military Cross and was wounded three times.

Soon after his arrival in the Middle East, Glubb, now 60, helped in the quelling of an Iraqi uprising against the British. Gradually, he developed a deep interest in the area's problems and within a year was beginning to learn Arabic, which he eventually mastered and now knows well.

It was this interest and language ability that probably brought him an offer from British Intelligence which was to shape his career thereafter. He became a special service officer in the lawless Muntafiq Liwa on the lower Euphrates.

In his special service post, Glubb grew to know the Arabian tribesmen perhaps better than any Englishman. During a revolt of the Ikhwan against King Ibn Saud, Glubb helped the Iraqi by showing them how to build forts. He also began employing Bedouins to keep tab on Bedouins with a secret service of his own.

When peace was reached between the Iraqis and Saudis, Glubb turned his attention to turbulent Transjordan. It was now 1930 and Glubb had resigned his commission in the British Army. From that point, he turned his attention to developing the Arab Legion.

Glubb Pasha worked untiringly to build the legion, and to win the confidence of the desert people.

Under his influence and with his protection, for the first time in history Bedouins were secure on the desert, able to settle down to cultivating farms and lose some of their nomadic ways. Glubb Pasha is credited generally with bringing a social revolution to the desert, and in many areas of the Arab world is remembered more as a reformer than a soldier.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

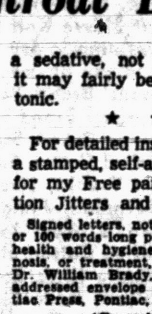

Houdini's Secret Can Be Lifesaver

Jim couldn't stay under water very long in Boy Scout diving contests. But as soon as I gave him Houdini's secret, Jim beat all his competitors. Scrapbook this case for it may save your life some day. And pass along the information to school athletes; both track and swimming team members.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-363: Jim T., aged 16, is a leading Boy Scout enthusiast.

"Dr. Crane, I can swim pretty well," he admitted, "but I seem to run out of wind faster than other kids.

DR. CRANE

"And whenever we have a diving contest, I usually come up first. I think part of the reason is the fact my older brother shoved me off into deep water to make me learn to swim.

"And I learned, all right, but ever since then my heart beats faster than it should when I get in the water.

"Is that why I grow short of oxygen before the other kids do?"

FEAR EFFECTS

Yes, whenever fear or any other emotion speeds up the heart rate, we usually consume a greater supply of oxygen than normally.

For the entire metabolism of the body is likewise accelerated during emotion.

And that is one reason why children should NOT be pushed into deep water in a "sink or swim" method of teaching them the art of swimming.

For such a child may learn to swim; yet always have this faster heart beat while doing so.

As a result, he will be hampered in swimming contests, for he will require more oxygen, per length of the pool, than his competitors do.

Jim obtained some release from his secret terror just by talking out his problem to me, for the very act of expressing your trouble in words, helps free you from its secret domination.

For it is no longer a "secret" complex after you face it openly and try to dissect it in discussion with a doctor or your advisor in school.

HOUDINI'S SECRET

And Jim should also follow the strategy which Houdini employed. You younger readers may not remember the great Houdini.

He could be tied and handcuffed, hand and foot, then dumped under water, yet he would soon come to the surface in a few minutes, free from all the ropes and manacles.

And Houdini had stayed under water as long as 4¼ minutes. I tried to figure out his secret while I was in medical school, and finally hit upon the solution.

As a little parlor test, all of you readers at this very minute can follow Houdini's procedure and probably double or even quadruple the time you can hold your breath at (1) below:

(1) Get out your watch and then inhale deeply, but hold that first breath as long as possible. Your record may be 30 to 40 seconds.

(2) Inhale and exhale deeply for 12 times in succession; then take the 13th deep breath and hold it as long as you can. You will now be likely to reach 60 to 75 seconds.

(3) Now employ Houdini's secret, which involves utilizing the normal aircap in the stomach. Your stomach usually has one or two breaths of air as a big bubble or "aircap."

So take your 12 deep breaths, as at (2) above; then hold the 13th. But now keep your mouth shut tightly and also pinch your nostrils shut and hold them that way.

This gives you a closed air circuit. When you begin to feel vague signs of oxygen hunger, belch and swallow, but be sure you keep your nose and mouth shut so you do not lose air to the outside.

The belching will tap the aircap of the stomach. And the swallowing helps stir up the air, so you help move the stagnant air in your lungs and let some of the fresh stomach air get down there.

By using this method, Jim soon was defeating all his pals at staying under water. Try it this very minute and you'll probably come close to 2 minutes immediately.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Planning Group Surveys Uses of Area Parks

Users of two Pontiac area public parks have been asked to cooperate in a survey being conducted by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Paul M. Reid, the commission's executive director, said the survey will help in future park planning.

He said the public is being asked to fill out questionnaires indicating which parks they use most, why, and how often.

The survey will also aid in determining future highway routes for persons traveling to and from parks for holiday outings, Reid said.

Questionnaires will be distributed to a random sample of park users at Kensington Metropolitan Park and Dodge Brothers State Park on Cass Lake Aug. 3 and Aug. 12, Reid said. The commission made similar surveys at the two parks July 4 and July 10.

Altogether, Reid said, about 13,000 questionnaires are to be distributed this summer at eight parks in the Detroit regional area.

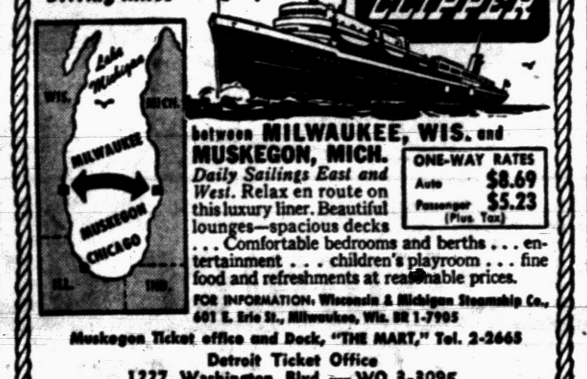

School Bonds Defeated

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Suburban Plainwell School District has turned down a proposed $995,000 bond issue for school construction and remodeling. The vote was 319-268. The school board said it would submit the proposition again soon in somewhat altered form.

Eccentric Hardly Describes This Rich Old Man

LONDON (AP) — Wealthy old William Erskine Gulland was described yesterday as "something of an eccentric old gentleman." It was a crown jewel of understatement.

Atty. Edward Garner told the East Kent Court:

Gulland lives in a clifftop mansion but sleeps every night in a car parked out front.

For a break in routine, he hails a cab and chases fire engines or goes to a railroad and watches the trains go by.

His favorite meal is cakes, milk and vitamin pills.

He never undresses except to take a bath and that "not more than three times a year."

He has a penchant for cats—60 of them roaming through the art treasures and gold and silver ornaments cluttering his home. Each time one dies a veterinarian must perform an autopsy before Gulland is convinced his staff didn't use poison.

Toilet paper is one of the household's major purchases. Eight dozen rolls are delivered each week because everything the master touches must first be cleaned with tissue.

The strange story of life in the Gulland manse came out in connection wth the trial of one of the servants, Harold Berry. He worked 18 months before seeing his boss. When he took his meals to his room, he handed them through the half-open door.

Another 18 months later, Berry found the safe keys in the garden. He stole jewelry worth $2,000 sold it for $1,000 and lost it gambling.

Last night Berry was beginning a nine-month jail sentence. His old boss was curled up on the back seat of his car.

Long-Awaited Rescue Proves to Be in Vain

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)— Robert Biedrzycki, 19, a radio announcer, suffered multiple injuries when his car plunged off an eastern Montana highway early Saturday.

Unable to move or call out, he waved feebly for help for the next 30 hours. Two tourists who stopped for car repairs finally saw him.

He was flown from Glendive to a Billings Hospital. He died there Monday.

Popcorn Counters in Theaters Taxed

LANSING (UPI) — Sixty Michigan movie houses will have to pay chain store taxes on their popcorn stands as the result of one of about 30 decisions handed down by the State Supreme Court yesterday.

The high court overruled a Court of Claims decision that theaters owned by W. S. Butterfield Theaters, Inc. and five other companies operate popcorn "counters" and therefore should not have to pay the state chain stores tax on their retail sales of popcorn, candy and other items munched by patrons.

The State Revenue Department, which appealed the Court of Claims decision, said 60 chain theaters collected more than $4,768,000 from their popcorn stand operations during the three years ending December, 1955.

The court opinion, written by Justice Talbot Smith, said a store is any place where merchandise is sold.

The six theaters had paid 1954-55 taxes under protest. The companies and their tax bills:

W. S. Butterfield Theaters, Inc., $7,070; Butterfield Michigan Theater Co., $3,000; Carley Amusement Co., $1,500; Denniston Theater, $250, and Kalamazoo Michigan

Gas Company Asks to Expand

Consumers Wants OK to Serve 30,000 More Customers in State

LANSING (AP) — Consumers Power Co. today applied for authority to take on 30,000 new gas space heating customers.

The utility made the move as hearings began before the State Public Service Commission on whether the commission should withdraw from the field of regulating retail connections by gas distributing firms.

The commission already has done this to all gas distributing facilities except Consumers.

Consumers, with a backlog of 170,000 applicants for space heating gas, serves 286 Michigan communities, including Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Lansing, Bay City, Jackson, Midland, Kalamazoo, Mt. Clemens and Owosso.

If authority for the new service is granted, Consumers said it would be spread equitably among its operating divisions.

A spokesman for the Pontiac Consumers office said the company had not indicated, as yet, what the increase here would be. In addition to Pontiac City, the local branch serves customers in Rochester, Lake Orion, Oxford and Waterford Township.

The utility told the Public Service Commission it had difficulty in arranging for bulk supplies of gas that would enable it to keep pace with the demand.

Within the past year, it has boosted supplies through development work in the Overisel and Northville fields within Michigan and contracted for large future additional deliveries from Texas.

An agreement with the Trunkline Gas Co. of Houston, Tex., for delivery of 100 million cubic feet of gas daily starting in October of 1959 is subject to Federal Power Commission approval of construction of necessary facilities.

Consumers said it hoped to double prospective initial deliveries from trunklines by the fall of 1963.

June Figures Show Lift in Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government figures show June brought further recovery for the nation's economy.

Industrial production rose, new housing starts increased, nonagricultural employment made advances and personal income was up.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial activity showed a production rise for the second straight month after dropping for eight months. The rise for June was two points to 130 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

The recession low of 126 was reached last April. The index record is 147 set in December 1947.

The Commerce Department reported personal income rose in June to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $351,800,000,000, a figure just 300 million dollars below the record set last August. The 1958 low of $346,400,000,000 was set in February.

Ex-Arab Legion Head Explains Western Problems in Middle East

(Gen. John B. Glubb was a power in the Middle East up to the moment of his dismissal by King Hussein of Jordan 27 months ago, and knows the Middle East perhaps as well as any man on earth. He is an almost legendary figure who helped found Hashemite Transjordan and welded Jordan's Arab Legion into a crack fighting force that was the only one not defeated by Israel in the 1948 Palestine War. In the following dispatch he analyzes the reasons for the coup d'etat in Iraq, tells why the West is in trouble in the Middle East and suggests solutions to those troubles.)

By GEN. SIR JOHN B. GLUBB

LONDON (UPI) — It is still too early to foresee the possible results from the coup d'etat in Baghdad.

Insofar as can be ascertained, however, it appear to bear a remarkable similarity to the Egyptian upheaval which, six years ago, resulted in the dethronement of King Farouk and the ultimate consolidation of Colonel Nasser's military revolutionary government.

Where the procedure has been similar, the results of the coup d'etat, should it ultimately prove successful, may well resemble those which took place in Egypt.

There does not appear to have been originally any logical or inevitable reason why the revolutionary government of Egypt should have become hostile to the West, nor is there any reason why Britain and America should be hostile to Arab nationalism as a whole.

It is essential for the Western powers to work together, to think clearly and to avoid the errors which they committed in Egypt.

DEMAND EQUALITY

All the violent disturbances in the Arab countries since the second world war have taken their origin from the same cause—the anxiety of the younger generation to feel themselves equal to the peoples of the West. The suspicion that Western nations consider them inferior has haunted many Arabs ever since the termination of the first world war.

The rapid extension of education and the ease and speed of air travel have led to greater familiarity between the Arabs and the West, and closer knowledge of the Western nations has not always inspired the Arabs with greater respect.

Thus, the desire to emulate the West has been reinforced by the impression that the peoples of Britain and America are not so wonderful as the Arabs had formerly imagined.

Russian, and subsequently Arab nationalist propaganda, has done much to aggravate these tendencies.

The United States and Britain have been represented as grasping, reactionary and tyrannical, and desirous of obstructing and opposing progress and modernization in the Arab countries.

Such charges, constantly reiterated and rarely if ever contradicted, have been accepted by many Arabs as axiomatic and no longer open to argument.

Another grudge borne by the majority of Arabs against the West results from the common conviction that the United States, France and Britain were the creators and supporters of Israel.

Many in fact allege that the Western powers assisted in the formation of Israel, not from a philanthropic desire to assist persecuted Jews, but as part of a deliberate plot to weaken and destroy the Arab renaissance.

Neither of these charges is true. The American and British peoples do not desire to dominate the Arabs, or to hamper their development, nor do they seek to use Israel as a tool with which to weaken them.

But it is a measure of their lack of skill in the psychological field that such beliefs are widely held by educated Arabs.

Not only have the Western powers failed to convince many Arabs of their good intentions, but the petty jealousies which have so frequently divided Americans and British in the Middle East have done much to weaken the position of both.

The successive upheavals which have taken place in the Arab countries have therefore been caused by certain prevalent ideas held by Arabs—beliefs that the Western powers regard them as inferior, desire to retard their progress and will always support Israel against them.

IDEAS UNTRUE

These ideas are untrue.

It is not the desire, nor is it in the interest of Britain or the United States to do any of these things.

False ideas of this kind, however, can only be opposed by the dissemination of the real facts—that the Western powers do not desire to dominate or exploit the Arabs and that they will not support Israeli expansion at the expense of any Arab country.

In a final analysis indeed, the interests of Britain and America in the Arab countries are largely negative.

Were the Arabs to become mere satellites of Soviet Russia, the commercial and strategic interests of the West would suffer a disastrous setback.

But it is unlikely that the Arab nationalists desire to be dominated by Russia, any more than by Britain or America.

Their present apparent Russian leanings are due to a belief in the evil intentions of the West, rather than to any affection of the Communists.

In view of the facts that the Arabs suspect the West of the desire to dominate them, the threat to use force can only aggravate the situation.

Such actions as the Suez operation in 1956 and the demonstrations in the Eastern Mediterranean by the American Sixth Fleet, serve only to provide material for hostile propaganda.

The trouble in the Middle East is psychological and ideas can not be defeated by soldiers and warships.

All that Britain and the United States want in the Arab countries is the ability to trade, to pass their ships through the Suez Canal and to exploit the oil fields in partnership with the Arabs.

Many economic ties connect the Arab countries with the West, the severance of which would be equally harmful to both parties.

There is nothing in these commercial interests to necessitate domination, nor is there any ascertainable reason why the West should be hostile to Arab nationalism.

On the contrary, if the Arab countries feel themselves secure and prosperous they are less likely to submit to Soviet domination.

It is only fear of Israeli aggression or of Western domination which is likely to drive them into the arms of Russia.

The course to be followed by the Western powers is therefore obvious.

Firstly, it is essential for the United States and Britain to speak everywhere with one voice. Secondly, they should realize that the problem is largely psychological and that many Arabs believe the West to be hostile to Arab nationalism.

Such ideas cannot be eradicated by the threat of force, but only by the dissemination of truer ideas and ideals.

The West must make it plain that their only object is to foster the economic relations between the Arabs and the West in a manner profitable to both.

Moreover, far from opposing Arab nationalism or progress, they are ready to offer them all the assistance in their power.

Finally, the Arabs must be reassured that the West will not tolerate further Israeli expansion.

The change will inevitably be gradual, but there is no other course.

Only by convincing the Arabs of the good intentions of the West towards them can the situation be permanently restored.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

*Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Site for Fire Hall Purchased

City commissioners last night completed purchase of a central fire hall site and ordered $200,000 set aside this year to begin financing of a new public library.

Purchased was a $19,000 lot across E. Pike street from the Public Safety Building in the Civic Center. Commissioners approved an option on the land obtained from the owner, Mrs. Afrodite Sarros, of 20 Palmer St.

The city now owns four adjacent lots north of Pike street and east of Central School, on which it is tentatively planning to erect a new fire station to replace the existing main fire hall at E. Pike and Perry streets.

The $200,000 will be placed in a capital improvement fund after 1958 tax collections are in, said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Commissioners already have agreed informally to place another $200,000 in the fund next year to begin construction of a library in time for completion by the city's 1961 centennial.

They have tentatively given construction of a new main library priority over a new central fire hall.

In other action, three neighborhood improvements were approved at public hearings. Included are sidewalks on both sides of Robinwood avenue, Perry to Baltimore, and on the north side of Baltimore avenue, Stirling to Melrose.

The other improvement is a combined sewer on Stanley avenue from Yale avenue about 100 feet south.

Two assessment rolls won confirmation. One covers the repaving of Elizabeth Lake avenue, Telegraph to State; the other curbs and gutters on Stanley avenue, Kinney to Kennett.

After public hearings, Commissioners voted to vacate two small streets north of E. South boulevard to General Motors Corp. They are York and Duke streets, both of which lie within GMC Truck & Coach property. No homes are affected.

Two public hearings were scheduled after the Planning Commission reported favorably on proposals to vacate two pieces of city land. One is a small triangular section of N. East boulevard at Perry, which the city says is no longer needed because of the Perry widening project.

A hearing was set for Aug. 19, after the plan board recommended the land be vacated to the adjacent property owner, the Inch Memorial Co.

Another Aug. 19 hearing was set for vacating a dead-end alley running behind two lots west of Sheridan street between Howard and Chamberlain streets.

Commissioners agreed to place on this year's improvement program a request for curbs, gutters and blacktopping on a small section of Longfellow avenue, from University to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railway. A petition for the work was submitted by 55 per cent of the affected residents, City Clerk Ada R. Evans said.

Milton Moves On Today

BALBOA, Canal Zone (UPI) — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower winds up a three-day visit to Panama today and leaves for Honduras on his fact-finding tour of the Central American republics. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, is making the three-week "study mission" as the personal representative of his brother, President Eisenhower.

Michigan Made Pure Sugar

LIFTS UP YOUR ENERGY—YET HELPS HOLD DOWN YOUR WEIGHT

Sensible diets based on sound nutrition call for cutting down on food without cutting out fast-acting energy-producing foods.

The latest research shows that calories which your body uses up are non-fattening . . . and when your body needs energy, the calories from sugar supply it fast—faster than any other food. Michigan Made Pure Sugar contains only 18 calories in a level teaspoonful. Just enough to sustain you through 7½ minutes of normal activity.

On a modern diet you can stay slender and still enjoy many of your favorite foods. Get Big Chief or Pioneer Sugar. Both are Michigan Made Pure Sugar brands. Each has just 18 calories in a level teaspoonful.

3 Gasoline Barges Burn, Recover Worker's Body

GRAND LAKE, Ark. (AP) — Three gasoline barges still burned at an Esso Standard Oil Co. terminal on the Mississippi River today as a result of an explosion Monday. One barge worker died as a result of the blast.

A fourth barge burned itself out yesterday and lay submerged in the river.

The body of James Falvey Jr., 35, of Baton Rouge, La., was found in the water near the sunken barge.

A company spokesman said the blast occurred while 36,000 barrels of gasoline on the barges were being pumped ashore.

Officials have not estimated the loss.

Hammerstein Better

NEW YORK (AP) — Librettist Oscar Hammerstein II, 63, in Doctors Hospital with an intestinal disturbance, was reported in good condition today.

Six Persons Injured in Three-Car Accident

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Four youths and a married couple were injured in a collision of three cars on the crest of a hill on U.S. 37 south of here Monday.

The cars collided when one of the three tried to pass another.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sheets of Macomb, Ill., occupants of one car, were taken to a Traverse City hospital seriously injured.

Four Flint youths in another car suffered cuts and bruises. They are Dave Wentworth, Fred Knapp, Arthur Yeotis and Tom Dancy.

Use Snake as Tourniquet

CAMPTON, Ky. (AP)—A tourniquet made from the snake that bit him may have saved the life of Curt Akers, 16. Curt was bitten by a rattlesnake while mowing weeds. His father killed the snake and knotted it around the boy's leg. The boy then walked a mile to get help from a physician. He was reported in fair condition.

Community's Officials Peer at the Sidewalks

EVERETT, Pa. (AP)—If you're ever in this southwestern Pennsylvania community of 2,500 and you observe a handful of distinguished men walking around peering at the sidewalks, think nothing of it.

They're members of six-man Borough Council who periodically inspect the borough's three miles of paved walks.

Councilman Carl Eichelberger said "We take notes as we go along. When improvements are needed, the property owner gets a letter from us telling him what to do. If he fails to make the repairs in the prescribed time, the borough does the work and bills him for it."

Aphid's Progeny Huge

OMAHA — Researchers have figured that one aphid — plant louse —and its offspring, if none died, could produce in a single season progeny totaling 1,560,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

U.S. Red Blasts Ike for Marines in Lebanon

NEW YORK (AP)—Eugene Dennis, national secretary of the Communist party, has told President Eisenhower that his dispatch of troops to Lebanon was "an act of aggressive imperialistic intervention."

In a telegram to the President yesterday, signed on behalf of the National Committee of the Communist party, Dennis called for immediate withdrawal of the U.S. forces.

"It's all yours," says Carol Petroff (right) of Cherokee road as she hands Janet McNaughton of Birmingham the sail bag. Julie Fitzgerald (left) of Birmingham, is cochairman of the Junior Sailors program at Orchard Lake Country Club. The group of 12 members sails each Tuesday and Friday afternoon. Persons with the highest averages, who have sailed the required number of races, are awarded trophies and the person with the highest over-all average for the summer has her name placed on the club wheel with former winners.

Women, Junior Sailors Vie in Races at Orchard Lake

The women and junior sailors of Orchard Lake Country Club meet to race each Tuesday and Friday. On the mornings of these days the Women's Sailors compete and in the afternoons the Junior Sailors race.

During the summer there are three series of races, the first of which ended July 11. Mrs. George Crane placed first and Mrs. Eric Sommer, second, at the meet. Prizes were awarded Tuesday at the clubhouse.

Attending the luncheon with the sailing group were Mrs. Rudolf Eberstadt, a former member of the sailing group now living in New York.

REGULAR SAILORS

Among those who sail regularly are Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Sommer, Mrs. Benjamin Brewter, Mrs. G. J. Graham, Mrs. Benjamin Micou, Mrs. George D. Miller, Mrs. Paul L. Penfield, Mrs. Edward W. Reid, Mrs. Lawrence Shaffner, Mrs. Arthur Underwood, Mrs. Thomas H. Adams, Mrs. Robert Carder, Mrs. Carson Bingham, and Mrs. John T. Rich.

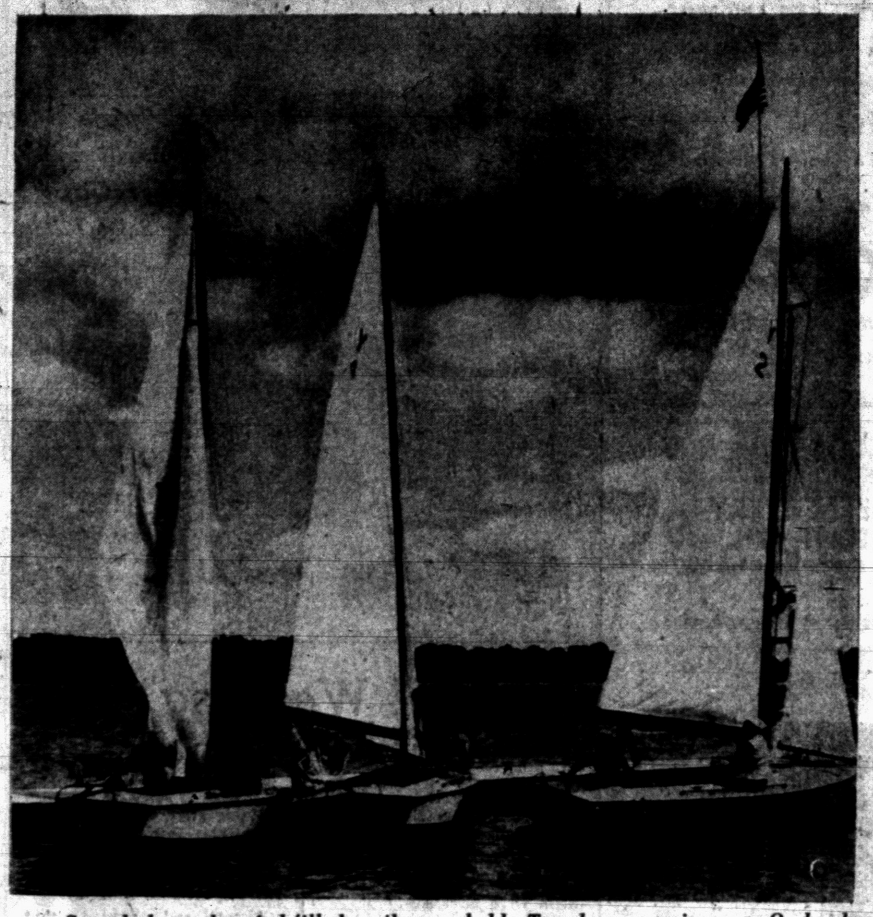

Other members are Mrs. Peggy Russel, Mrs. Frederick Strong, Mrs. Basil Brown, Mrs. John Bagby, Ruth Hibbard, and LuAnn Aulepp.

A championship prize will be awarded to the sailor with the highest score for the summer.

Seated beneath wind-filled sails, members of the Women's Sailors awaited final preparations for the race held Tuesday morning at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Pin-Curl Shoppers Take Note

A supermarket is a fine place to observe other women.

For some reason, most women seem to feel that a supermarket is out of bounds in the matter of looking well groomed. Either that or they feel invisible once they enter its doors.

So anything goes. Pin curls, no make-up, head scarves, blue jeans, slacks worn with high heels. In a country where women have the best cosmetics and the most imaginative fashions to pick from, it's a pity to pass them by.

It's done, of course, because women feel that it doesn't matter how they look in front of family or in a supermarket. But it does. It matters not only for others but for one's own self respect.

To be seen looking frumpish and dowdy in public or in front of people dear to one is equal to saying: "I don't care what you think of me, and worse, I think nothing of myself."

Can You Afford Another?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I live in a two-family house. The house has a very nice porch and in the evening my husband and I generally go out there and sit. We have our own porch chairs which we keep out there. Very often the other couple who live in the house come out and sit there too. They do not have chairs and sit on the porch steps.

"My husband gets up as soon as he sees them coming out and gives up his nice comfortable chair to the wife and spends the rest of the evening on the hard porch steps. I feel that it is not at all necessary in this case for him to relinquish his chair. We bought these so that we may sit comfortably and I don't see why he shouldn't be able to enjoy his chair.

"My husband thinks it would be very rude of him to sit and ignore the lady's discomfort.

Answer: Your husband is being most polite and correct in relinquishing his chair to the wife who should not continue accepting his offer but get a chair of her own. If, however, she does continue, then perhaps the best solution would be for you to buy an extra chair for her or any guest you might have.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is permissible to use a coat of arms belonging to the bridegroom's family on wedding invitations that are being sent out by the bride's family?"

Answer: No. If the bride's family have no coat of arms of their own the invitations are engraved on plain paper with no device of any kind.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible for a guest to take home an unfinished bottle of liquor from his table at a wedding reception? Some say "yes" it is a guest's privilege, and others say "no."

Answer: No, most certainly not!

Mrs. Richard A. Jones of Bloomfield Township (left), the crew, helps Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, skipper, also of Bloomfield Township, to rig the sail in time to compete with fellow sailors at the outing.

Following the race, (left) Mrs. W. L. Shaffner, skipper, of Rochester is assisted in the task of lowering the sails by her crew, Mrs. Paul Rich of Orchard Lake.

2 Receive Life Memberships in Bridge Club

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Elks Temple Monday evening with 11 tables in play.

Mrs. Peter Davidson and John Kraus were given honorary life memberships to the club.

Winning first place North and South were Henry Georgia and Edwin Clarke. Tying for second place were Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Carleton Wright with Dr. Morris Kessler and Dr. W. F. Barron.

East and West first place winners were Mrs. Robert Kircher and Ernest Guy. Mr. and Mrs. Herald Cox were second place winners.

Republican Women Fete Mrs. Murphy

Members of the Oakland County Republican Women's Federation met at the home of Mrs. Harry Henderson in Birmingham with a surprise stork shower honoring Mrs. Daniel T. Murphy Jr. highlighting the day's activities.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr. was speaker at the Monday event, and Allen C. Ingle, candidate for the legislature in this district, was introduced.

Wives of other candidates present were Mrs. Fred Ziem, Mrs. Daniel Barry, Mrs. Louis Barry, Mrs. Frank Irons, and Mrs. Farrell E. Roberts. Mrs. Roy West of Royal Oak poured.

Club Has Lesson on Weight Losing

Mrs. Betty MacQueen showed members of the Fashionette Club how inches could be lost when the group met Tuesday evening at the Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Marlene Mardis won the trophy for losing the most weight in one week. She also won the trophy last week. Linda Stratton was received as a new member.

Job's Daughters Slate Outings

Committees were appointed when Job's Daughters Bethel No. 5 met Monday.

Plans were made to attend a DeMolay picnic at Avon Park Aug. 17 and a trip to Bob-Lo Aug. 19.

A cooperative dinner Sept. 15 and a jewelry demonstration Sept. 17 will be held at Hotel Waldron.

MOMS Meet in LaHote Home

MOMS Unit No. 2 met Tuesday for a picnic luncheon at the Windcroft drive home of Mrs. Harry LaHote.

Among the 18 members present were new member Mrs. Lessie Anderson and a guest Mrs. Thelma Lewis. The next meeting will be held Aug. 5 at the Franklin road home of Mrs. Arno Hulet.

Dear Abby....

Wanted a 'Private' Secretary?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I made application for a position in a large office. The man who interviewed me seemed very friendly. He had a big picture of his wife and children on his desk.

ABBY

After a short time, he pulled his chair closer to the side of his desk where I was sitting and pressed his knee to mine. I thought it was just an accident so I moved away, but in a couple of seconds, his knee was next to mine again. After moving my knee about six times, I arose and left. Needless to say the job never materialized. What do you think?

JOBLESS

DEAR JOBLESS: You flunked the "knee test" — your reflexes were too good. Consider yourself lucky. Had you been more co-operative in the knee department, you'd have been up to your neck in trouble. Keep looking.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me as everyone thinks I am an abnormal mother. My daughter married a man without character and without honor. He even refused to take her to the hospital when she had her baby.

I knew she couldn't depend on this bum, so I refused to move with my husband to another city when he had a chance for a promotion. Now everyone is down on me because I tried to be a good mother. Who is wrong?

A GOOD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, but your first duty is being a good wife. Perhaps if your daughter didn't have you to lean on, she'd make more demands on her husband — and he'd face up.

DEAR ABBY: I am a tall girl and, just my luck, I had to fall in love with a fellow who is four inches shorter than I. People say we look ridiculous walking down the street together. We plan to get married and want to know if there are other married couples who have successfully overcome this problem.

MARY AND BILL

DEAR M. AND B.: A man is measured from his eyebrows upward. He doesn't have to be taller than his lady for her to look up to him.

Practical Wedding Gifts Win Brides' Appreciation

Pity the harassed bride who got so much silver that, out of four station-wagon loads of things to be exchanged, two of them were all silver.

Questionnaires sent out by a national magazine reveal a trend toward the practical in wedding gifts, although not so practical that great-grandmother's cherished silver tea service wouldn't render a bride speechless with joy!

Almost all agreed that brides-to-be should register their silver and china patterns at various stores, for friends' guidance, and they advise sticking to the chosen patterns in selecting gifts.

Some suggest that three or four people collaborate and give an important piece of furniture, if the price is too enormous for one person to spend.

Generally speaking, the bride prefers choosing her own pictures, mirrors and lamps.

NEW YORK (UPI) — This is the year of "togetherness" in fashion.

The costume look takes over in the fall collections being shown this week to 200 visiting fashion reporters.

All collections show coats and dresses designed to be worn together. Or, many of the day dresses come with accompanying jacket, usually fur-trimmed or fur-lined. Suits rarely appear without their own blouses to match jacket linings.

GLITTERING FABRICS

But some of the most extravagant "togetherness" is in costumes for evening. Outsize coats of glittering fabrics top either the full-skirted or sheath, short formal.

One designer said the well-dressed woman this fall would have to consider more than just coordinating dress and coat, suit and blouse.

"It's a matter of composition for a whole effect from head to toe," said Mrs. Adele Simpson recently.

Tinted hosiery and jewelry to blend with a costume color—these, she said, also must be considered.

ANOTHER EXPONENT

Jo Copeland of Patullo is another strong exponent of the costumed look. She featured a whole group of suits and dress-coat combinations in gray, lavishly trimmed with silver, platinum or black fox.

Designer Roxane of Samuel Winston showed a two-piece evening ensemble in gold and silver brocade, with a strapless high-waisted trapeze dress, topped with a sweeping coat, with large standaway collar.

By firms, here are highlights of other collections shown yesterday:

EASY-TO-WEAR

Townley — Mildred Orrick, the head designer, showed the same easy-to-wear casual clothes which were the trademark of her classmate and friend, the late Claire McCardell. One of her favorite silhouettes is the cardigan, shown in coats over silk or silk-and-wool dresses. Long cardigan jackets and over-blouses are shown with slim skirts.

The collection also re-introduced the leotard, first shown in 1943 by Miss McCardell. This season, it was worn with a mandarin-cut tunic of striped wool jersey.

Harvey Berin—designer Karen Stark showed the high-rising-empire waistline, which has been a characteristic of her slim "walking stick" daytime woolens for several seasons.

New, however, is the powder puff skirt, fluffing out with plenty of roundness between the hipline and a point just below the knee. There, it is attached to a fitted under-dress. One powder puff for evening used silk chantilly lace over matching satin.

Gathered and belted high for an empire silhouette is this green paisley corduroy day dress from Claire McCardell Clothes by Townley.

In focus is the new "dancing nymph" silhouette. The all-over beaded blouson dress is of powder blue nylon net fitted over a strapless sheath of white satin. The designer is Ceil Chapman.

Edward Zielkes Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zielke were honored on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday by a surprise reception.

Hostesses at the Zielke home on Berwick boulevard were their two daughters Mrs. Keith Palmerton of Coldwater and Patricia Zielke.

Cranbrook Presents Second Concert Sunday

Troubadour lore by Alexander Suczek and piano selections by William Doppman will be featured in the Cranbrook Music Guild's second Garden Concert at 4:30 p.m. Sunday on the Cranbrook House Terrace.

SUCZEK

Mr. Suczek's repertoire of folk songs and ballads includes 13th century English lute school songs, 17th century Italian numbers, and traditional folk songs from European countries and America, sung in the language native to the song and accompanied on a classic guitar made for him in Paris.

At the age of 20 Mr. Doppman was the first musician to receive both the Naumburg and Michaels awards. He began music study at five years and appeared as soloist with the Cincinnati Symphony at ten. He will perform in trios by Mendelssohn and Beethoven.

Pretend to Walk on Straight Line

Watching people walk can be a funny pastime. Those who toe out or toe in excessively draw attention to a waddling gait that is unnecessary.

To correct such a walk if it is merely one of habit, pretend to walk a straight line. Point your toes straight ahead and keep them as close and as parallel as possible to this line.

Paul Racine, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Racine has returned from Trimley, Suffolk, England with his wife, Maureen, and daughters, Laurinda and Karen. The family is residing on Blaine avenue.

On Saturday the Paul Racines attended an open house honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of his parents in Rochester. Members of the Rev. and Mrs. Racine's congregation at Rochester's Bethany Tabernacle planned the affair.

VACATION MAKE UP

Unless you are headed for the excitement of the big city . . . plan to give your complexion a vacation, too.

By no means are we suggesting that you go around ghost-like. But your skin can rest and breathe better if you restrict yourself to eyebrow care and lipstick.

Take care with your lipstick and experiment with a brush if you don't already use one. This will keep you looking attractive as well as protect you in the sun's glare.

Train your brows with a brush after each swim, and fill in the light spots. This should take you through daytime play and travel time if you are going by car.

When you do have a gala evening that calls for make-up . . . see how glowing and wonderful it will appear!

Phylis Ann Haffner and Paul F. Wheeler were married Friday evening at Community Bible Church. Parents of the couple are the Charles Haffners and and the late Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Wheeler.

MR. and MRS. PAUL F. WHEELER

Nuptial Vows Exchanged

Phylis Ann Haffner and Paul F. Wheeler were married Friday evening at Community Bible Church. The Rev. Kenneth Haffner performed the ceremony.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haffner of Lake Orion, and the late Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Wheeler of Jackson, Tenn. The bridegroom resides on Foster street.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon illusion and Alencon lace. A small bow in back accented the ballerina length skirt. She carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Audrey Friday of Lake Orion served as maid of honor and Pamela St. Arno was junior bridesmaid. Attending as flower girl was Cindy Wheeler and ring bearer was Danny Haffner, nephew of the bride.

Richard Greene attended his cousin as best man. Ushers were Arthur Miles Jr. of Lake Orion and Donald Smith.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlor. For the wedding, Mrs. Haffner wore a dress of black and white chiffon over taffeta with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Upon returning from a Niagara Falls honeymoon, the couple will reside on Foster street.

Use Lipstick Brush for Double Reward

Learning to use a lipstick brush is doubly rewarding. A brush gives a better outline and makes lipstick appear smoother once applied.

It also is economical because a brush can reach into a lipstick after it is too short to apply directly from the tube.

Be Informed About Floor Coverings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS)—If you want to be satisfied with the floor coverings you buy do your share by being an informed buyer, is the advice of home furnishings specialist Dorothy Lawrence.

Appearance and wearability of a floor covering depend on a number of factors: Pile fiber, yarn construction, closeness of the pile, firmness of the backing and colorfastness.

No matter which fiber you select, the Ohio State University specialist says, the closer the pile tufts, the longer the carpet will wear and keep its new look.

All fibers can be used in a dense pile. All fibers can be used in a sparse, loosely packed pile. Height of the pile should not be confused with density.

Height does not assure long wear. It gives luxurious appearance and feel. But unless it is closely packed denser pile will last longer, explains Miss Lawrence.

She cautions, "Look at the yarns. Loosely twisted yarns may look matty and fuzzy after a while. Smooth, tightly twisted yarns will last longer."

Backing affects the appearance and durability of a floor covering. It should have enough body to be closely woven to hold the pile securely and flexible enough for resilience, she said.

Both Clothes, Body Ought to Be Clean

Clean clothes worn over a well-bathed body are the two basics for odor prevention, according to research on perspiration odors.

One without the other is a half-measure which usually offends family members and coworkers.

Shirley Jean Cumming and Herschel Morris were married Saturday evening. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ralph Tenniswood and Jules Cumming and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Della Collins.

MR. and MRS. HERSCHEL MORRIS

Couple Wed in Church

Blue and white delphiniums and white gladioli banked the altar of Grace Lutheran Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Shirley Jean Cumming and Herschel Morris. The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer officiated at the double ring evening ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ralph Tenniswood of Pioneer drive and Jules Cumming of Mohawk road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Della Collins of Whitesberg, Ky.

The bride wore a ballerina-length dress with white nylon net over a blue satin skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations and white rose buds.

Carole Lee Cumming, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a blue silk organza gown and carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Earl Morris, the bridegroom's brother of Walled Lake was best man. Ushers were Stanley Barker, the bride's uncle, and Jay Boyle.

To receive guests at a reception held at the bride's home, Mrs. Tenniswood wore a champagne nylon and lace dress with a matching rose petal hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations and ivy.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a yellow princess style dress with white accessories. They will live in Walled Lake.

Bathrooms Add More Luxuries

We all know that bathrooms are getting larger and more glamorous—but did you know that some people are raising orchids in their bathrooms?

You'll find telephones in some and magazine racks in others, as well as dressing tables, chaises and bookshelves.

Since everybody spends a great deal of time soaking, showering and shampooing in the bathroom, it should be made as attractive and convenient as possible.

Gently Curved Lips Soften Appearance

A slight curve to the mouth is more pleasing than you would think. Note a woman who has applied her lipstick in a straight line, from center to edges of her mouth. She looks a little grim and older.

Even a little curve done with lipstick softens this appearance. However, don't exaggerate your lips and get that clownish look.

Train in Courtesy

Parents can't expect thier children to have good manners when company comes, unless they are trained to be courteous when there is no one around to impress.

Wed in Methodist Rite

First Methodist Church was the scene of the Saturday wedding of Joyce E. Deevey and Stuart R. Hill. The Rev. Paul T. Hart officiated at the 5 o'clock ceremony before 250 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Mildred Deevey and the late Alonzo Deevey of Seward street and Mrs. Irvan Surratt of Opdyke road and Hubert Hill of Auburn avenue.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly-type lace accented with pleated tulle ruffles. The draped waist band was satin and the gown had a chapel train.

MRS. STUART R. HILL

Mrs. Helen Miners of Saulte Ste. Marie, Ontario, the bride's cousin, was matron of honor. Other cousins of the bride, Alecta Deevey, of Saulte Ste. Marie, Ontario; Beatrice Stephens and Judith Thompson of Dearborn were bridesmaids. The bride's sister, Patricia Deevey, was junior bridesmaid.

All the attendants wore identical ballerina-length gowns of pale blue with matching picture hats and carried bouquets of daisies.

The bridegroom's brother, Russell Hill, of Drayton Plains, was best man. Ushers were Gene Gentges of Auburn Heights, Ron Goff and Ed Deevey of Saulte Ste. Marie, Ontario.

The bride's cousin, William Brown was ring bearer and the bridegroom's niece, Sherry Ann Hill was flower girl.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. To receive guests, the bride's mother wore a beige silk organza dress with beige accessories and a corsage of roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose silk organza dress with beige accessories and a white rose corsage.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a dress of white, hand embroidered in gray with a bouffant skirt and pale blue accessories.

Public Debate to Air Incorporation of Rochester and Portion of Avon

ROCHESTER — The pros and cons of whether Rochester and a portion of Avon Township should be incorporated as the City of Rochester will be aired in public debate at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the gymnasium of the new Rochester High School.

The public information forum, pitting three speakers in favor of the proposed city and three against it, is being sponsored by the Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The issue will be decided by the people in the Aug. 5 charter election, after having been delayed for about two years by legal action.

Moderator of the forum will be Donald Hays, president of the Rochester Jaycees.

Speakers in favor of incorporation will be James C. Hill, village councilman; Roscoe R. Martin, village attorney; and Dr. Glenn Brooks, a candidate for the Charter Commission. Clarence Burr, 421 Castell Ave., Rochester, will be their adviser.

OPPOSE INCORPORATION

Opposing them will be Clarence Cadieux, a member of Rochester Area Fact Finding Committee, organized to fight the incorporation; Joseph A. Parisi Jr., of Lansing, director of the Michigan Township Assn., and John O'Donnell, industrial relations representative for the Ford Motor Co. Chemical Product Plant in Mt. Clemens and a Rochester area resident for the past 10 years.

Rex Bebout, attorney for Avon Township and a member of the fact finding committee, will be their adviser.

Each speaker will be allowed five minutes to present his views, according to Forest Wiley, chairman of the Jaycees' committee responsible for arranging the forum.

After all six of the regular speakers have concluded their remarks, questions from the floor will be answered, Wiley said.

Seating for 2,500 persons will be provided in the gymnasium and a public address system will enable any overflow audience to hear the discussions. No admission will be charged.

The Jaycees say they are sponsoring the forum to provide the people of the Rochester area with information on the incorporation to help them make a well-formed and intelligent decision when they go to the polls. It was stressed that they are taking no sides in the issue.

MR. AND MRS. KURT L. WILD

Two Clarkston school teachers, Ruth L. Goss and Kurt L. Wild, repeated their nuptial vows in a recent ceremony in the Plymouth Congregational Church. A teacher for the past two years at the Pine Knob School in Clarkston, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Goss of Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Wild of Milwaukee, Wis., are the parents of the bridegroom. An arts and shop teacher for two years at Clarkston High School, he will attend the Cranbrook School of Art in the fall. The couple will make their home at 160 W. Church St., Clarkston.

It's Carnival Time at Union Lake!

UNION LAKE — There's a carefree atmosphere in Union Lake Village today.

The occasion is the third annual Paul Bunyon Carnival which began at 2 p.m. and will continue throughout the day, ending tomorrow night.

Sponsored by the Union Lake Businessmen's Assn., the carnival is featuring pony rides for the children, a carousel, carnival booths and skill games.

Proceeds will go to local Boy Scouts, Little League baseball teams and the Union Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the association is assisting in staging the event.

Building Purchased for School Use

NORTH BRANCH — The North Branch Board of Education has announced the purchase of a cement block building at Saginaw and Banker streets, formerly occupied by Johnson Motor Sales. The price was $25,000.

The building will be remodeled for six elementary classrooms to handle as many as 180 pupils. Also included will be a hallway, furnace room, clinic and washroom facilities. A large play lot will extend to the alley behind the structure.

The school addition will be ready for occupancy at the start of the next school term.

MR. and MRS. PERRY J. ATWELL

Newlyweds Now Reside in Oakley Park Home

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Following their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Perry J. Atwell are making their home in Oakley Park, Commerce Township.

The bride is the former Bernice E. Umscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Umscheid of 6701 Loyalty St., West Bloomfield Township. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Atwell of 5565 Dryden St., West Bloomfield Township.

The couple was married Saturday morning, July 5, in St. William's Catholic Church in Walled Lake. Performing the nuptial Mass was the Rev. Raymond Jones.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of summer bridal satin with a triple-layer net overskirt. Her scalloped V-neckline was trimmed with matching lace which extended over the short sleeves of the bodice.

A small, pearl-studded pillbox cap secured her fingertip veil and she carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and streamers.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Cacioppe of Wayne. The bridegroom's sister, Iris, was the bridesmaid and Judith Walter, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was the bride's brother, Robert of Drayton Plains. Ring bearer was Michael Umscheid, a nephew of the bride, and groomsman was John Reid of Fort Wayne, Ind. Fred Swarthout of Walled Lake and George Walter of Pontiac acted as ushers.

The reception was held in the evening at the VFW Hall in Walled Lake.

In Imlay City Election

Dale Wins School Post

IMLAY CITY — Oscar Dale defeated incumbent Kent Gillies Monday for a seat on the Imlay City Board of Education. He polled 210 votes to Gillies' 98.

Two propositions on the ballot also were approved by wide margins. The first will have residents of the former Bentley School District assume their prorata share of the bonded indebtedness of the Imlay City School District and the other authorizes the Board of Education to sell the land and buildings of the Lake Pleasant, Black Corners and Webster schools.

The yearly report, made at the annual meeting held following the election in the Imlay City High School gymnasium, showed a cash balance of $88,308.37 in the district's general fund.

Total receipts were $381,603.99, and disbursements, $323,295.62. The balance in the old building and site fund is $36,088.45, according to the report. This was from the 5 mill tax levy the district had prior to the bond vote for the new high school.

Superintendent Alvin Norlin told the group several courses have been added to the high school curriculum. They include an extra language class and art, sheet metal, general science and mechanical drawing classes. The board has increased the budget $35,000 to operate the new high school.

Before adjourning the group passed a resolution thanking Kent Gillies for his service on the Board of Education.

Class Reunion Slated

AVON TOWNSHIP — Avondale High School Class of 1954 will hold its annual reunion and potluck family picnic Sunday at 10 a.m. at Bloomer State Park.

Township Asks Aid on Licenses

Royal Oak Supervisor Petitions County for Driving Examiner

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is expected to hear a recommendation Monday from one of its committees that Sheriff Frank W. Irons provide an examiner for drivers licenses once a week in Royal Oak Township.

The Miscellaneous Committee yesterday decided to make the request after hearing a complaint from Supervisor Elwood Dickens of the township.

Dickens, in a prior supervisors' meeting and at Tuesday's committee hearing, complained of the inconvenience of township residents having to travel to Pontiac for licenses.

He also stated that the expense of having a part-time examiner, who is a member of the township police force, is borne entirely by the township.

"We would like to have this man off our payroll," Dickens said.

Other townships in the county are visited once a week for a six-hour period by women from the Drivers License Bureau for the purpose of examinations.

Six Oakland Girls Elected to Offices

Six Oakland County area girls were elected to offices during the 18th annual Wolverine Girl's State held at the University of Michigan.

Nancy Hutchins of Rochester was named lieutenant governor; Kay Hamilton, 30 N. Hilldale Dr., Pontiac, prosecutor; Susan Zajko of Romeo and Judy Winchell of Birmingham, county supervisors; Mary Beth Woodward of Lake Orion, county treasurer, and Sharon Harrie of Birmingham, coroner.

During the program each year, girls throughout the state, selected for their outstanding leadership in high school, are guests of the university. Their trip is sponsored by the Michigan Department, American Legion Auxiliary. At Girls State they learn the workings of government through actual experience.

Hal Boyle Says:

They Prefer Small Talk in the Midwest

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — What makes the Midwesterner different?

There's no doubt he is.

Coming from the East to the Midwest you are aware of a difference in the people who dwell in the great heartland of America. But it takes you some time to puzzle out what that difference is.

Here are a few things you may observe:

The Midwesterner seems to get as much done as anybody else, but he never seems to be in a great hurry about it. He feels that every day is long enough for the work that has to be done in it.

The Midwesterner loves to talk, but he prefers small talk to big talk. He seems to have an innate understanding of the fact that time has a way of punishing braggarts.

The Midwesterner doesn't believe much in hysteria. The periodic panics and alarms that sweep people in coastal areas rarely touch him. He still retains a kind of wonderful 19th century feeling of security in both himself and his section of the country.

The Midwesterner has a wry sense of humor based on a sound set of normal values. To him nothing is funnier than anyone or anything that lets itself get out of perspective, or, as he puts it, "too big for its britches."

The Midwesterner is self-confident in peace and makes a good soldier in wartime because he learns early to adjust to life, not as he might want it, but life as it is. He knows each winter probably will be long and cold, and each summer long and hot.

The Midwesterner, like the Southerner, is instinctively polite—although perhaps in a more informal way. He prefers to take the other fellow at his own estimate as long as possible.

The Midwesterner is automatically friendly to everyone he meets. He enjoys doing small favors. But he can also be a long hater if he feels his friendship is imposed upon.

The Midwesterner is endlessly curious. He likes to hear about how other people live, but he is slow to change his own ways—and won't be stampeded into doing so.

The land usually molds and patterns the people who live on it. This is particularly true of the Midwesterner. He is the man in the middle, far from the influences of the seas, and his nature is influenced more by the slow-changing soil than by tidal impacts.

Weather rules his existence from birth, and is always there ready to ruin or enrich him. To a Midwesterner probably the most important things in life are the weather and his home. He's a great weather watcher and a great homebody. No other American takes a deeper pride in his home—or works harder at keeping it up.

To the average Midwesterner a steak sizzling in the barbecue pit in his backyard holds a finer music than any sonata by Beethoven; tomorrow's weather forecast is more meaningful to him than anything Khrushchev may have said yesterday about the international political climate.

The Midwesterner, inhabiting as he does a vast rolling midland, has a timeless feeling, a sense of eternity that springs only from the land. That is why he can spend 15 minutes on a street corner saying goodnight to a fellow he'll be seeing at 8:30 a.m. the next day.

Come up sunshine or a storm, there is one thing the Midwesterner can't quite understand: Why anyone would possibly want to live anywhere else in the wide world except where he does.

Women Make Better Pilots, Says Texan

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Texans are not always noted for their strict adherence to dull fact, and the same can be said for red-haired Irish-type people. Thus it is with no guarantees we present Jimmy (Red) Blaine of Dallas, saying:

"Sure, women make better pilots than men, an' you know why?

"Well, because women, by temperament, are more sensitive to the technical aspects of flying than men are. They have more coordination. They're quicker on the grasp.

"And men, you know, they are dreamers. Everybody has to stay alert in the air, o'course, or they will soon reach the point of life's termination. But men have a tendency to go up there in the sky and lolligag awhile at the sights. Like me—I like to go up and sit on a cloud early in the morning and think.

"Women don't think that same way. They're more 'all business.'

"And flyin' is something you never stop learning. You should work. You should improve. You should add dimension daily to your knowledge about plane and sky." Jimmy shrugged and grinned and took a gulp of tonic without gin. "Which sex do you suppose has the ambition to do all that?" he said.

Jimmy Blaine, besides being hewn and hued like a Texas crag by sunset, was a B17 pilot during the war. He now flies his own Navion plane for relaxation between stints on television.

Currently, those stints include a kiddies' show called "Ruff and Reddy" on Saturday mornings, and some highly lucrative filmed commercials which because of a thing called residuals, allow him to collect $1,500 a week for doing nothing —which is nice worklessness if you can get it and allows much time for the observation of human nature.

"I first noticed that women were fine pilots during the war," he remembers. "I wanted desperately to fly a B29 but, as a B17 man, they wouldn't let me near 'em. I got the impression the 29s were too good for me.

"Then one day, at whatever field it was, I watched the smoothest landing I've ever seen in a B29. I thought, what a guy. I felt small with big eyes. And then out stepped, as it you didn't figure, the neatest little trick of a WAF you'd hope to see.

"Then just a few months ago I was in Florida, and a girl came out to the field to take a first flying lesson. The teacher took me aside and said, 'This girl's smart. I'll have her soloing in two hours.'

"An' you know, he did."

Jimmy's wife also flies their small, fast plane. To him, she has all the finer qualities of Amelia Earhart. But then, all women who fly are sure, safe, coordinated, he says. "Maybe it's a woman's basic love of security that makes them so good.

"Anyway, I'm glad women are such fine pilots. They keep us men humble. And in the air, when you stay humble you stay alive."

Burns Girl's Hands, Mother Gets Jail Term

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A mother accused of burning her 4-year-old daughter's hands has been sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Mrs. Consuelo M. Arce, 28, also lost custody of the child, Frances, who was placed in a foster home.

Mrs. Arce was convicted after officers testified she held Frances' hands over a stove burner because she took a tortilla while her mother was away.

De Gaulle to Call Up Reserves for Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle prepared today to call up more officers to fight a 31-month nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

A decree in the official government gazette said 600 reserve officers between 27 and 32 years old would be called for a year or more. Reserve officers and noncommissioned officers due for release Aug. 1 will be held for an additional three months.

In the past week 457 rebels were killed and 157 captured, military headquarters in Algiers said.

There were only 8,000 automobiles in the U. S. in 1900.

TWO LADDS AND A LASS — Olivia de Havilland, Alan Ladd and his son, David Ladd, head the cast in "Proud Rebel," which co-stars Dean Jagger. Starting Friday at Pontiac Drive In Theater, it is the story of a father who seeks medical for his mute son who saw his mother killed in the Civil War.

Bette Davies Triumphs Playing 'The Scapegoat'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Just back from Europe, Ruth Waterbury tells me that she saw Bette Davis in London where she is playing Alic Guinness' mother in "The Scapegoat," and where Bette has had a great triumph. Bette and Anna Magnani have become very close friends and they are planning to make a picture together. They want to co-star in "The Three Sisters," which Anna owns.

The story is actually about three sisters, but the third one is unimportant. The three women live on an island and raise goats. Everything is wonderful until a man comes into their lives.

With Magnani and Davis there will be plenty of sparks flying, but I can't think of a better team.

Talked to Bill Goetz at the Whitney party. He and Edie had just the day before returned from Europe and he told me that although Queen Elizabeth II has cancelled the command performance, there will be a charity affair on Oct. 27. The Queen, Prince Philip and Princess Margaret will attend, the proceeds going to the Cancer Fund.

Bill said he is very pleased that his picture with Danny Kaye, "Me and the Colonel," has been selected for showing on this occasion.

I'm not surprised that a picture of Danny's has been selected. He always been a favorite with the royal family. He has promised to be in London for the gala affair, and co-star Curt Jurgens has agreed to come from Germany.

Elizabeth Taylor is moving to Tucson, where she'll live when she isn't busy making pictures. She has decided that a smaller town, such as this, is best to bring up her three children. She's toying with the idea of building a house there. She will be close then to Mrs. Jane Moss, sister of Arthur Loew Jr. who is a very good friend of hers.

I fully believe that Elizabeth will go back to work and make another picture as soon as she finds a story suited to her. She's had all kinds of offers and work is certainly the best panacea for her. She still has fits of depression over Mike Todd's death which is not surprising.

The controversial Oscar Levant, who has been in and out of headlines, should try to straighten things out with his wife, June. He will never have a better friend. He's moved in with Vincente Minnelli and spends a lot of time at the home of Howard Hawks.

I telephoned June to check on a story that she was going to do a TV show in opposition to Oscar. She said, "I only talked to Irwin Berke over the phone and I never made any commitment. I would never use another TV show to exploit my troubles with Oscar.

"I have to do something with my time. My three daughters are away for the month of August, and I am all alone. I don't play cards and my home has been my whole life except recently when I went on TV with Oscar. So, I may do a show—I have had offers."

1,400 Bottles of Booze to Get Private Burial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — More than 1,400 bottles of liquor and wine, caught in a warehouse flood recently, will get a private burial at a secret location next week.

Some of the labels were washed away. It's illegal to replace them so the Pure Food and Drug Administration, fearful that the goods may have been contaminated, obtained a court order authorizing destruction of the spirits.

A bulldozer operator, equipped with a gas mask so the fumes won't bother him, will smash the bottles before the burial.

"I'd rather not say where we are going to bury it," said Roy Kiergan, a deputy federal marshal. "We want this to be a private funeral without too many mourners."

Back From 6-Month Tour, Crew Recalled Quickly

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Crewmen were called back to the carrier USS Philippine Sea hours after the vessel arrived from six months duty in the western Pacific.

Police and sheriff's officers helped get the word to the crew.

The Navy said the sailors were recalled as an extra security precaution due to the international situation.

Later, the antisubmarine carries departed for its home port, Long Beach, Calif., 100 miles north.

Hokkaido, one of the Japanese home islands, has almost one-fourth of Japan's total home island area.

Visiting in Moscow Keeps Adlai Busy

MOSCOW (AP) — Adlai Stevenson called on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today, renewing an acquaintanceship from the days when they were members of their countries' U.N. delegations.

The two-time Democratic presidential candidate's busy morning also included a briefing by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson Jr. and a call on Moscow's mayor.

He was scheduled to confer this afternoon with Minister of Culture N. A. Mikhailov to discuss the Soviet Union's refusal to pay royalties to American authors for their works reprinted in the Soviet Union. Acting as a representative of the Authors League of America, Stevenson is trying to arrange for royalty payments.

Five of the states still require a poll tax for voting.

Handmade by Waterford Lawyer

Mobile-Trailer Helps Community

Proof that the automobile industry's "Big Three" can be united into one—with absolutely no labor-management difficulties, has been demonstrated by a young Waterford Township lawyer.

Combining hundreds of parts from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler products, Anthony Renne has built a mobile-trailer that has benefited the entire community.

It features a peaked roof, plywood hood, and resembles early army tanks.

The trailer has been used as a Civil Defense Reserve Police headquarters at various functions, a Red Cross first aid station, as a traveling office, and as a portable ticket booth.

USEFUL CREATION — Attorney Anthony Renne and his daughter Sherri look over the motor-driven trailer that he built during a period of three years. It is used not only by sportsmen, but as a headquarters for many Waterford Township activities.

When it is parked beside the Renne garage, the trailer is an ideal playhouse for ten-year-old Sherri and her friends. The other Renne children are Teddy, 16, and six-months old Sandra.

The beginning of an idea to construct "living-quarters that you could drive," began when Renne was stationed in Kentucky, during his military service.

He explained that off-base living facilities were "scarcer than hens' teeth," and a small home-on-wheels would have been fine.

Long after this, when he had married and settled down with his wife and children at 3740 Aquarina Dr., a client offered Renne a sink, oil heater and cooking stove as a fee.

He accepted the deal, and this was the beginning of the ten-year-old dream.

Renne bought a 1941 six-cylinder Ford milk truck at a junk yard for $75, and after stripping it down, he had the motor over-hauled.

Then came the uniting of bumpers from Cadillac and Buick, a radiator from Dodge, a speedometer from Chevrolet, windshield wipers from Chrysler, hub caps from Oldsmobile and an engine by Ford.

For the body, Renne constructed a box out of plywood.

Inside, a table was built over the engine, but under the sink and big double bed, there is plenty of storage space.

Three tiny lights in the ceiling, powered by portable batteries, provide visibility at night, and if occupants are near cvilization, they can plug into any electric outlet for immediate brighter lighting.

Costing only $400 to build (plus three years of hard labor), Renne has found that as a hunting vehicle, his dream-child is very handy. It cruises along with traffic at a smooth 60-miles-an-hour, and boasts a remarkable 18-miles-to-a-gallon gas record.

When the driving gets rough, through back woods and muddy roads, the mobile-home not only pulls itself out of trouble, but has the power to assist less fortunate sportsmen whose cars get mired down.

Mrs. Renne said that many curious people stop to ask about the trailer when it is parked next to their garage, and it has so many different uses, that she said, "When they ask 'what is it,' I really don't know what to tell then."

Vote Will Decide High Court Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a broad but simple states' rights bill took a no-compromise position today as the House neared a final vote on a measure to limit the effect of Supreme Court opinions.

They apparently had more than enough votes to send the hotly controversial measure to the Senate, but there was some question about their ability to fend off a liberal-backed amendment to limit the bill's scope.

In a preliminary test yesterday, backers led by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) chalked up a 268-114 victory on the issue of considering the bill.

The bill would provide that when Congress and state legislatures enact laws in the same field, the federal law does not supersede the state legislation unless there is an irreconcilable, direct and positive conflict between the two or unless the federal law specifically excludes the operation of similar state laws.

More than half the employed women of the U. S. are married.

Find a Silver Lining

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—About 200 car owners got pretty sore when painters spraying a warehouse with aluminum paint got careless about the wind. The result: A silver cloud that left it's lining on cars in a next-door parking lot. Special paint-removing crews restored the original colors.

Heads Marine Firm

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — B. W. Reeve has been elected president of Lakeshore, Inc., succeeding F. A. Flodin, who died June 20. Directors of the marine equipment manufacturing firm elected Flodin's widow to the board.

Tot Dies of Poisoning

DETROIT (AP) — A two-year-old Detroit boy, Patrick M. Hogan, of 11834 Maiden, died Monday night of copper cyanide poisoning. He drank the solution, used by his father Joseph, an electro-plater, last Thursday.

U.S. Attorneys Plan to See Red Courts

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Ross L. Malone, president-elect of the American Bar Assn., says a small delegation of American attorneys will visit the Soviet Union this month to observe courts in action.

Malone, of Roswell, N.M., said the attorneys will spend about 15 days traveling in the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

He said association officials want to determine if there is any hope bonds between the legal professions of the Soviet Union and the United States could be made a basis for improving relations between the two countries.

The group making the trip includes Charles S. Rhyne, ABA president; S. Smythe Gambrell, Atlanta, Ga.; Richard C. Coburn, St. Louis; and Walter F. Powell Jr., Richmond, Va.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE DIAMOND BELT
Ninth of a series

By DONALD J. SOBOL

"Perhaps it was because I was young and enchanted by my first circus, but never has another human thrilled me as did the Great Merko," declared Mrs. Sydney.

Never has another human thrilled as did the Great Merko.

"All aerialists since have bored me; their bodies seem grotesquely overdeveloped. Ah, but the Great Merko! If only you could have beheld that slender yet superbly strong and graceful figure floating like a swallow 50 feet above the ground!

"It was the summer of 1904, the same year as the Great Merko's triumphant world tour. You may have read of the tributes everywhere. The Czar's was the most fabulous of all—a diamond belt worth half a million dollars.

"Naturally, the newspapers publicized the belt—an extraordinary show of admiration for even the Great Merko's talents. Some of the sensational things printed then are better forgotten today.

"The night of its presentation, a roustabout tried to steal the belt, and was knocked senseless by a blow from the aerialist's fist. The belt was placed in a strongbox, where it lay for half a century.

"The Great Merko died in 1921, leaving a strange will. The belt was to be given in 1958 to the oldest grandson, and if no such descendent existed, to the next of kin.

"The attorneys for the estate located a grandson in Kansas City, one Fred Gipson. As the judge was about to unlock the strongbox, a Mrs. Vincent Benaldo swept into the courtroom.

"She claimed the diamond belt, being the closest of kin, a grand niece. With the next breath she proved the Great Merko was not Fred Gipson's grandfather.

"The judge agreed Mrs. Benaldo's evidence was valid. Under the terms of the will, he did not hesitate to award the diamonds — to whom?"

"My dear Mrs. Sydney, you are pulling an old sleuth's leg," admonished Haledjian. So that the other guests could not catch the answer, he whispered into Mrs. Sydney's ear.

WHICH NAME DID HALEDJIAN WHISPER?

Fred Gipson. The Great Merko was his grandmother.

Horses, cows and dogs are believed to have been once nocturnal in their habits, adjusting to man's normal daylight schedule when they became domesticated.

Justice Comes Swiftly in State's 13th District

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (UPI) —Justice is swift in northern Michigan's 13th judicial district where Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown covers his four-county district in an airplane.

Brown, 57, a colonel in the Air Force Reserve, can fly to any county seat in his circuit in about 30 minutes.

Open Bids on School at Whitmore Lake

LANSING (UPI) — Bids will be opened tomorrow for the first unit of a new boys vocational school at Whitmore Lake.

State Controller James W. Miller said he hopes to have the bids ready for approval at the July 21 meeting of the State Administrative Board.

The bids will be for the first 100-boy security unit, which is expected to cost about $2,500,000. The institution would have a capacity of 600 and cost between 12 and 15 million dollars when completed.

State Welfare Director W. J. Maxey said he hopes to move the first youths into the school by 1960.

Maxey said he sees no delay to the project despite protests by a citizen's group opposed to location of the school at Whitmore Lake.

"This is the best location from all standpoints and we're going ahead with plans," Maxey said.

Man Hanged at Soo, Ont. for Murder of Banker

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (UP)— Fred Montgomery was hanged early today for the murder of a Blind River bank manager shot down during an attempted holdup last October.

Montgomery, 45, and his 17-year-old son Rodney were convicted in April of killing J. J. Walter Bridges but the jury recommended mercy only for the son. The federal cabinet commuted the son's death sentence to life imprisonment but refused to save the father.

The trap was sprung at 12:15 a.m. and Montgomery was pronounced dead 15 minutes later.

After the holdup attempt the Montgomerys escaped and hid out for a month. They were arrested last November on a farm in Saskatchewan.

IT'S MANAGERS' MONTH AT....

July is Managers' Month at Wrigley—and all of us Wrigley managers have agreed that we're going to make this the biggest month ever. How are we going to do it? By running the whole show ourselves! . . . That means our bosses have let us pick our own items for specials and set our own prices, too. Naturally, because we see you every week, we know what you buy most often — and THOSE are the items you'll find specially priced for saving. In the Grocery Department, Meat Department, Frozen Food Department, Dairy Department and Freshland, too, the Managers' Special Tags show you how to save money on your food budget. It's another way that all Wrigley Managers can show you that we're glad you shop at Wrigley.

Lary Beats 'Buddies' Sixth Straight, 12-5

AP Wirephoto

EASY FOR FRANK — Tiger Frank Lary continued his mastery over the Yankees yesterday, beating them easily for the 6th straight time in a 12-5 romp. The team now has won 9 of 13 with the defending AL champions. Close-up shows Frank at work in the 4th inning.

Harris, Kaline and Virgil Pace Assault on Yanks

Tigers Now 9-4 Against Champs; Jim Bunning Duels Turley Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The American League's greatest modern fantasy still is playing to rave notices.

The Detroit Tigers still are beating the Yankees.

Yesterday, with Frank Lary, Detroit clobbered the league leaders 12-5. Tonight the Tigers are to shoot Jim Bunning at the Yanks in hopes of making more history. Bob Turley will be his mound foe.

With Lary in full command until the heat got him late in play, the Tigers gave their proud rivals a mauling in the three-game series opener. Behind a 13-hit attack they led 9-0 at one point.

If it could happen again tonight with Bunning, the other section of Detroit's one-two punch against New York, the story might actually be turning old hat.

Now the score for the season is Detroit 9 to 4 over the Yanks in games and Lary 14-4 for his lifetime against New York — plus a string of 27 straight scoreless innings and six straight victories since June, 1957.

The string stopped at 27 when Lary got tired in the 90-degree heat permitted New York some liberties in the seventh and eighth innings. Until then he had a shutout on four hits in six innings as he threatened to make it three blankings in a row of the defending champions.

For added luster, the Tigers have won eight of their last nine games with New York and Lary has won five in a row from Casey Stengel's men.

Supporting Lary in yesterday's mopup were Al Kaline's return to action with a three-run triple, two singles and a triple by Gail Harris, and Ozzie Virgil's three singles.

The Tigers rapped rookie Zack Monroe for six hits and six runs in the first two innings and built this up to 9-0 off former Tiger Virgil Trucks by the seventh.

New York picked up two runs off Lary in the seventh on a walk and two singles. After Mickey Mantle hit his 24th homer in the eighth and a walk and two singles scored a second run, manager Bill Norman sent in Hank Aguirre to pitch to pinch-hitter Yogi Berra. Aguirre got Berra on a grounder. Then, after yielding a home run to Marv Throneberry as the first batter in the ninth, he put the next three men down in order.

Kaline, back in action after his brief layoff for a wrist injury suffered by a pitched ball in Baltimore, smashed a triple to the right center field wall in the second with the bases full. Singles by Virgil and Red Wilson and a Yank error had filled the bags. Kaline later scored on Harris' single.

The Tigers collected two runs in the first. Charley Maxwell drove both in on a single. In the third singles by Virgil and Wilson and Virgil's stolen base added another. Two more followed in the fourth on Kaline's walk, Harris' triple and Maxwell's fly.

The Tigers waited till the ninth for their last three runs. With Johnny Kucks pitching, they got the trio on two walks and three hits, including Harris' second triple.

From The PRESS BOX

Veteran fullbacks John Olszewski and Tank Younger were involved in pro football trades yesterday. The Chicago Cards received Auburn tackle Ben Preston and a high draft choice from Washington for Olszewski. The LA Rams, who swapped Younger to Pittsburgh for a high draft choice, said the move was made because the team was "loaded with backfield talent."

Roberts Top Phils' Hurler; Loses 1-0 Tilts

Giants Take Shutout

By The Associated Press

With 196 victories, Robin Roberts is the winningest pitcher the Philadelphia Phillies ever have had. But he's the tough luck guy among active major leaguers when it comes to 1-0 defeats.

He had no luck at all last night, giving up just two hits in his seven innings, but losing 1-0 at San Francisco. It was his second 1-0 defeat of the season and seventh of his career, more than any other pitcher now working in the majors.

And you might say Robin has lost 7 2-3 by 1-0. He's the Phils' pitcher in a still-hanging suspended game of June 22, with the Giants leading 1-0 in the sixth inning.

Roberts, who has won five 1-0 games, has been a shutout victim enough times this season to go on strike. The Phils have been blanked eight times, more than any other National League team, and Robin has been the loser in half of 'em.

Young Mike McCormick collared the Phils in this one, struggling through with a nine-hitter for his second shutout and a 7-1 record as the Giants, who managed just three hits, stayed within a half-game of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves rapped St. Louis 4-1 on the four-hit pitching of Joey Jay and home runs by Hank Aaron and Wes Covington. Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Roberts (7-9) no-hit the Giants until the fifth, then was socked for the run in the sixth on a walk, Willie Kirkland's double and an error. Jim Hearn gave up the other Giant hit in the eighth.

McCormick, a 19-year-old southpaw, retired 16 in a row at one stage and didn't get much trouble until the eighth from the once-hot Phils, who now have lost four in a row—all by one run. Two infield hits and McCormick's lone walk loaded the bases with two out in the eighth. But Rip Repulski then flied out. Carl Sawatski rapped into a double play with two men on in the ninth to end it.

Aaron and Covington split the four hits Sal Maglie allowed the Braves in four innings — but Aaron's two were his 16th and 17th home runs, while Covington singled and hit his 14th homer for a 3-0 lead that handed Maglie his third consecutive defeat and a 2-3 record. Aaron's fly ball brought in the other run after the Cards had scored in the fourth on a walk and singles by Stan Musial and Curt Flood. Jay (4-3) allowed but one hit over the last five innings, fanning the last four for a total of eight strikeouts.

Duke Snider's two-run seventh homer—a 440-foot shot, longest yet in the Coliseum—gave the Dodgers a tie in the sixth. But the Bucs bagged it with four in the eighth off Don Drysdale, who lost his 10th. Dick Stuart scored the clincher on Bob Skinner's single, after driving in the first two Pirate runs with a single and his third home run, Ronnie Kline (9-9) lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, won it, giving up only two hits before the sixth.

Brown Trains on 'Wrong Side'

Lanes a Switch-Hitter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jack Kearns, manager of Kenny Lane, the Michigan challenger for Joe Brown's lightweight championship today expressed tongue-in-cheek sympathy for Brown and his trainer, Bill Gore.

When Kearns and co-manager Pete Petroskey arrived here yesterday with Lane they learned that Brown had concentrated on fighting a left-hander in his training at Camp Holden, 20 miles southwest of Houston.

But Kearns said Lane isn't a southpaw. "He is a switch-hitter, just like Mickey Mantle," Kearns declared. "He hits a home run every time. Kenny can hit equally well with either hand."

Manager Lou Viscusi and trainer Gore have imported four left-handlers to work with Brown, who never has lost a fight to a southpaw.

"I'll admit Brown is a good champion, a good fighter," Kearns said. "But I'm worried about Gore. There he is out there working Joe against all those left-handers. I don't think he ever saw Lane fight. I hear Gore says Brown can put Kenny out with one punch. Now that's a laugh. This boy is in great shape."

Lane, who has been training at New Orleans for the past 10 days, held a workout immediately upon arrival yesterday. Daily workouts will continue through Monday and one of Lane's sparmates will be Paul Jorgensen, the Houston featherweight who will fight Joey Lopez on the July 23 card that features the Brown-Lane bout.

Petroskey said the 26-year-old Lane was in great condition and very confident.

"After all, confidence is 90 per cent of fighting with boys like this," he commented.

Lane weighs 136, needing to take off only one pound for the title fight. Brown shows 137.

A crowd of 10,000 is forecast for the second world's lightweight title bout here in less than three months. Brown beat Ralph Dupas of New Orleans May 7 with 11,000 turning out.

Lions and Raiders Are Having Problems

The Detroit Lions had some good and bad news yesterday while the new Detroit-Dearborn Raiders were trying to find a place to hold workouts.

Joe Schmidt notified the Lions he will be out of the Army Saturday and will be on hand at Cranbrook when drills start July 23. He is still unsigned as are Jack Christiansen, Jim David, Jim Doran, Gene Gedman, John Henry Johnson and Charley Ane.

Latest to ink a contract was guard Stan Campbell yesterday. One unhappy note in the Lion camp was the report that young blocking specialist John Gordy will quit the pro game to accept a job as assistant coach at Nebraska.

The Raiders, America's only team in the Ontario Rugby Football Union, was evicted from a Dearborn field and moved to Detroit yesterday.

A total of 45 candidates were on hand for the opening drill led by halfback Elbert Richmond, Wayne, guard Tom Waldron, Eastern Michigan, tackle Jim Berger, Colorado and Bill Hoelscher, former Mississippi State fullback.

The team will practice each day and open play Aug. 23 at Sarnia, Ont.

Ex-Horse Owner Sues to Get Racer Back

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ralph Trainello Jr. of Baltimore wants his horse back, along with some of the $13,000 it has won.

Trainello, in a suit in circuit court, contended Tuesday that Charles T. Coburn "fraudulently and deceitfully represented" the condition of the horse, Belfaster.

Trainello said he turned the horse over to Coburn for housing, maintenance and training Feb. 24, 1957, and also gave him authority to run the horse when he deemed it in condition.

Last January, Trainello said, Coburn presented a bill for $1,700 and said the horse was "broken down completely and permanently and was of no further value or use whatsoever."

Coburn offered to take the horse for payment of the bill and Trainello sold. He found out later, he said, that the horse not only has been running but has won more than $13,000 in purses.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Manager Tommy Heath of the Portland Beavers walked through the wrong door in the dark, tumbled down a flight of stairs and fractured four vertabrae, his physician said yesterday.

The 220-pound Heath was brought to a hospital here after the accident last night at the coastal resort town of Seaside, where he and his family were vacationing.

Doctoring Your Golf

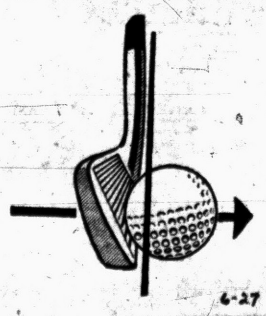

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Weak With Irons.

DIAGNOSIS: You're Lining Up Wrong.

Treatment: To get distance and accuracy with your irons, the face of the club must be square to the intended line of flight. Many players think they have the face of the club square when in fact the face is slanted outward, or open. It seems to be a kind of optical illusion.

To check this point, note the grooves in the face of your iron. See that they're at right angles with the line on which you mean to send the ball. This is a wonderful help in lining up the shot.

Anytime you feel you're not getting as much distance with a particular iron as you should, check to see whether you're starting the shot with the clubface open.

A few players have the opposite fault — that is, toeing the clubface in too much at address. But the prevalent fault is the open clubface, which adds loft to the club and gives the ball a left-to-right spin. The usual result is a shot short of and to the right of the target.

Women Golfers Seek City Title

The annual City Women's Medal Play Golf Championship is scheduled this Saturday over an 18-hole route at Pontiac Municipal course. Starting time is 12 o'clock noon.

Post-entries are accepted, but pairings and tee-off times will be posted only for those golfers registering before 6 p.m. Thursday.

The entry fee is $2.50 per person. Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runnerup while top-grade golf balls are presented to the 3rd and 4th place shooters.

Mrs. Phyllis Boyer is the defending champion. All Oakland County residents are eligible to compete. Last year's event at Pontiac Municipal golf course drew only seven players.

MacKay Has Trouble, Still Wins 2 Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-seeded Barry MacKay, the power-serving Davis Cupper, led a host of rated performers today into the fourth round of the 48th annual National Clay court tennis tournament.

The 22-year-old Dayton, Ohio stroker, one of America's best Davis Cup bets, encountered some trouble in blasting out two victories yesterday in suburban River Forest.

Arriving from Davis Cup zone play in Canada, MacKay had some difficulty from 15-year-old Bobby Siska of San Francisco before winning the second round match, 6-3, 6-4.

Then, the towering slugger turned back Gay Messick of Western Springs, Ill., by a similar score.

Sue Metzger of Kalamazoo, Mich., won her first round singles match yesterday by default.

In another first round match, Baby Vivanco of Mexico City defeated Virginia Hesse of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-2, 6-3.

BAIT-CASTING SIZE — Howard F. Clark of Miami, Fla., international record holder for tarpon fishing, took a big one (above) in the Florida city's annual tourney. The tarpon went 131½ pounds, was taken on a home-made rod threaded with a 15-pound test line, and with a artificial minnow lure.

Jensen Paces Bosox Win

By United Press International

Jackie Jensen, enjoying his finest season in the majors, socked a three-run homer in the first inning last night and the Boston Red Sox went on to register a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The homer was Jensen's 27th of the season and it came at the expense of loser Ray Herbert. Jensen also doubled to help Frank Sullivan gain his eighth triumph against two defeats. Leo Kiely relieved Sullivan in the eighth and held the A's hitless over the final two innings.

Roy Sievers clouted his 21st homer in the seventh inning to break a tie and lead the Washington Senators to a 5-4 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Sievers socked his homer off loser Gary Bell, who relieved starter Herb Score after the Senators had scored four runs off him in two innings.

Russ Kemmerer started for the Senators and was knocked out in the third inning when the Indians scored all their four runs. Tex Clevenger took over and held Cleveland to one hit over the final 6 1-3 innings to notch his fifth victory.

Gus Triandos' 12th inning single with the bases loaded gave Baltimore a 4-3 triumph over Chicago and moved the Orioles into the first division for the first time since the opening week of the season.

Triandos' hit came off reliever Turk Lown with two out after the Orioles loaded the bases on Foster Castleman's single, an error by Earl Torgeson and an intentional pass to Gene Woodling. In addition to collecting the winning hit, Triandos also belted his 17th homer off starter Jim Wilson in the second inning.

Arnie Portocarrero went the distance for Baltimore to post his eighth victory. By winning, the Orioles climbed into a fourth place tie with Kansas City.

New Pact May End Dodgers' Troubles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Negotiation of a new ballpark contract designed to overcome legal objections appeared Tuesday as a possible solution of the Dodgers' dilemma.

Mayor Norris Poulson and the city attorney's office said an appeal probably will be taken from Superior Judge Arnold Praeger's decision Monday that the city - Dodgers' contract for a stadium in Chavez Ravine is invalid.

However, Councilmen John Holland and Karl Rundberg, leading opponents of the contract, said they will oppose an appeal. They advocated renegotiation of the contract, or selection of another site.

This could lead to another hot battle in the City Council. The Council was reported to be 9-6 in favor of an appeal. It would require a majority of eight to forbid the city attorney to appeal.

America's Cup Trials Resumed

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—A harried race committee resumed efforts today to sail trial races through which will be selected a defender of the America's Cup against the British challenger Sceptre.

In four days, only one day's racing has been logged, and that last Saturday when 19-year-old Vim scored an impressive victory over recently launched Columbia. Since Saturday absence of a breeze and fog have frustrated all attempts to sail a race.

Mike Holt Confident He'll Beat Durelle

MONTREAL (AP)—Mike Holt, sleek-looking South African fighter, makes no bones about his plans to handle Yvon Durelle in their British Empire light-heavyweight title bout tonight.

"I'll wear him down," said Holt with finality. There was just enough crispness in his voice to indicate he's a trifle edgy—in peak condition and ready.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Ryson-Lincoln game went only four innings. A bases-loaded triple and a single by Harry Savas and Paul Moran's three-run homer paced the winners who got a 1-hit, 10-strikeout mound job from Gary Moran. . . . Dave Moczarski flipped a no-hitter for Pontiac B.C. (Class F). He fanned 12.

Auburn trailed early 1-0 but romped thereafter behind a one-hitter for Fred Carlton. He struck out 13. . . . A big single in the last of the 7th produced the Oxford victory in a tight mound duel. Loser Dave Jones had a one-hitter for six frames. . . . Miracle Mile scored its trio in the 3rd. Jim Lowry allowed two safeties. . . . An infield hit spoiled a no-hitter for Cranbrook's Andy Billesdon.

B & B walloped 21 hits and Baldwin 19. . . . Gary McGinnis of the Little Eagles socked a grand slam. . . . Northside blew a 3-0 lead. . . . Jim Frye blanked the Senators with four hits. . . . Steve Rendis had a triple and single to score twice and Tom LaVerdue chucked a three-hitter for the Braves. Gary Munce belted a grand slammer for Preston's.

Frick Would Curb TV, Radio

WASHINGTON (AP)— Commissioner Ford Frick told senators today that baseball desperately needs the power to curb TV-radio broadcasts of its games. Otherwise, he said, the sport faces destruction.

Frick pictured major league telecasts into minor league territory as a "major contributing cause" of the minors' rapid decline in popularity.

He said the majors and minors depend on each other to stay in existence.

But he cautioned that without a binding TV-radio rule some clubs may "deviate from the desire line" and continue to beam their games into minor league cities regardless of the consequences.

Frick testified before the Senate Antimonopoly Subcommittee which is weighing House-passed legislation to grant pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey broad exemptions from antitrust laws.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, also was called as a witness today.

In appealing for self regulation by baseball of its broadcasting activity, Frick touched on what may be the sorest point with senators who have expressed fear the House bill sets a bad precedent for easing antitrust law restrictions.

Frick went over baseball's problems from beginning to end, testifying upon other topics that:

1. Expansion of the major leagues is inevitable. He once thought a third league was the most likely method, but is now convinced that it "will first come as an expansion of the existing leagues."

2. Legislated exemptions are necessary to protect baseball against a reversal of Supreme Court rulings that the national pastime is now immune to the antitrust laws.

The court has held other sports enjoy no such freedom. Frick said each sport needs the question settled once and for all.

Frick recalled that the Justice Department several years ago had called on baseball to rescind a rule that prevented conflicts between television and minor league games and had said that any restriction must be confined to a particular league.

"In other words," he testified "baseball would have to operate for the benefit of the broadcasters even though it meant the destruction of minor leagues and minor league clubs."

He said the real problem is in striking a balance between protection of at-the-park attendance and broadcasting income.

Comeback Wins in City Baseball

CIO Defeats Jets; PBI Pulls Triple Play and Upends Boys Club

CIO Local 594 spotted the Jets a 6-0 lead, then bounced back for a 7-6 victory in Class A City League baseball action Tuesday at Wisner Field. The Union club climaxed its uphill struggle with three runs in the bottom of the 7th inning.

Pontiac Business Institute also pulled a decision out of the fire and turned in the 1st triple killing of the season to boot in Class B activity at Jaycee Park. PBI rallied with three runs in the last of the 7th to upset the Boys Club, 5-4.

A walk to Chet Woodmore, Ron Woodhull's single, a double by Chuck Graves and Al Hayward's single, all in succession, produced three runs and victory for the CIO in the 7th stanza. Ted Reaver homered for the CIO to open the 3rd frame.

Dick Cloonan, the 3rd of four Jet pitchers, was charged with the defeat. The game-winning blow by Hayward came off reliever Jim Comparoni. Jim Wagner, who hurled five scoreless innings in relief of starter Jim Addis, was the winning pitcher.

PBI pulled its triple play in the top of the 7th when shortstop Leroy Nicholas caught a line drive from the bat of Bill Hayward, tagged out the runner coming back to 2nd and retired the 3rd man in a rundown between 1st and 2nd.

The triple execution was all-important to PBI's triumphant three-run uprising in the last half of the inning. Pitcher Greg Meadows won his own game with a two-run double against loser Dick Goldsworthy.

Orioles Get 2 Broncs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Sosnowski and Jack Rumohr, a pair of 22-year-old right-handed pitchers from Western Michigan University, were signed by the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday for bonuses "in excess of $4,000."

Sosnowski and Rumohr will be assigned to Bluefield, W.Va., in the all-rookie Appalachian League.

RACES TOMORROW — Leon Blachura of Hazel Park, shown in his convertible sprint car, will be among the drivers in the featured race at Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens Thursday night.

Just One Pitching Battle

Hitters' Night in Softball

It was a prosperous night for batters Tuesday in the City Softball League as O'Neil Realty, Lakeside Royals, Sports Shop and Deni's Corner posted victories at Beaudette and North Side parks.

The only pitching duel of the evening was the battle between Ron Clark of Deni's and Wilbur Wright of the Moose with Clark getting the best of it, 2-1.

Deni's made 10 hits off Wright and broke a 1-1 tie with the deciding run in the 5th inning.

Each team had scored once in the 2nd. The Moose touched Clark for eight safeties.

O'Neil nosed out Spence Rambler, 7-6, on the strength of six runs in the 1st stanza, to open the twin bill at Beaudette. The game was stopped after 5½ innings to permit the starting of the Deni's-Moose affair. Sawyer clouted a three-run homer for Rambler in the 3rd.

Larry Douglas slammed a two-run homer in the 5th frame to help the Lakeside Royals down Griff's Grill, 6-3, on the North Side diamond. Ken Spears hurled for the Royals and limited Griff's to three hits.

In the other North Side attraction, the Sports Shop rapped out 10 safeties for an 11-3 rout of Autos of Europe. Al Urbaniak pitched a two-hitter for the winners in a contest marred by 14 errors.

Spencer Rolls Along in Waterford Loop

Spencer Floor Covering kept rolling in the National division of the Waterford Softball League with a 3-1 triumph over the Pontiac Lake Merchants last night at Drayton Plains.

Dick Shell was the winning pitcher in relief of Jack Nelson. Spencer broke a 1-1 tie with one run in the 4th, then added an insurance marker in the 6th. Bob Mitchell had two hits for Spencer and losing hurler Gary Petty also made two.

Drayton Drug A handed Lakeland Pharmacy an 8-1 thumping in American League play. Paul Atkins collected three hits while winning pitcher Gene Shell and Sid Gregory each bagged two. One of Gregory's safeties was a two-run triple.

Elliott's Furniture walloped Berg Cleaners, 11-1, in a Little League game and Nu-Brite Plating was defeated by Lakeland Pharmacy, 4-3, in the Junior loop.

Stewart of MSU Gets St. Louis U. Position

ST. LOUIS (AP) — J. Robert Stewart, director of scholarships at Michigan State University, was named Tuesday as athletic director of St. Louis University.

Stewart succeeds Ed Hickey, who took a coaching assignment at Marquette University.

Royal Oak Wins 6th

Royal Oak won its 6th game against four setbacks in Junior Legion play by whipping Berkley 5-2 last night in a makeup contest. Bob Lezotte hurled two-hit ball for the victors with Joe Brenkert wielding the big bat.

Bolt's Status Big Question

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—With or without Tommy Bolt, the first PGA championship conducted at stroke play figures to be a whopping success when it gets under way tomorrow at the Llanerch Country Club.

There's about $100,000 in the till already from advance ticket sales and program advertising officials and PGA officials are looking for this tournament to set the pattern that will make the PGA championship at least equal in importance to the National Open.

The big question on the eve of the tournament wasn't who will win and what score will it take, but will Bolt get the chance to become the first player in 10 years and the third in all time to win the two major American titles in the same year. Only two players, Gene Sarazen in 1922 and Ben Hogan in 1948, have won the Open and PGA championships in the same year.

Tommy talked himself into trouble at a couple of Long Island tournaments last month. He was scheduled for a hearing yesterday on charges that he had violated a probation imposed last January for other peccadilloes. He didn't show up and after a few embarrassing delays it was found he hadn't been properly notified. The hearing was reset for 6 p.m. EDT today.

This year's stroke play, 72-hole tournament, the first of its kind after 39 years of deciding the title by head-to-head matches, is strictly an experiment.

The defending champion, Liney Hebert, who won at match play last year, said he thought a good golfer had a better chance of winning over the 72-hole medal route.

"In a couple of years," Hebert said "I think clubs like Merion, Winged Foot and Cherry Hills (Open championship sites) will be breaking their necks to get the PGA. We have the best field of all because there aren't any amateurs and the top money winners among the professionals quality automatically. There's no chance that a player like Sam Snead, for instance, will miss because he has a bad day in the qualifying sections."

Harold Sargent, the PGA president, agreed at least in part. Several top-rank clubs, he hinted, are awaiting results of this tournament before bidding for future PGA championships. Prize money this year is almost certain to go above the $30,000 minimum guarantee.

Llanerch isn't the toughest in the world but Hebert thinks it's a lot stronger than most of those over which the weekly tournaments are played. The front nine has some difficult holes but the back side is comparatievely easy.

HE'S HAPPY — Jack Fleck was wearing a big smile yesterday and he had good reason. The Rochester Country Club pro fired a hole-in-one during a practice round for the annual PGA tourney at Havertown, Pa.

3 Ex-Champs Stay Alive in Women's Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Eight survivors — three of them former champions — moved into today's quarter-finals of the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Tournament.

And as usual, they were headed by Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint, Michigan' fair lady of the links and a demon in pressurized match play. The Scottish-born five-time state champion again proved her knack in a woman-to-woman struggle in the opening round yesterday at Plum Hollow Golf Club.

She ousted Mrs. W. L. Mosher of Orchard Lake, 4 and 3, with a display of classy chipping and precision putting. On four of her 15 greens, her red-hot putter was used only once.

Mrs. Weiss proved her supremacy on the 457-yard par-5 first hole. She scuffed her second shot and then deftly placed her third eight feet from the pin. One putt and Mrs. Weiss had a birdie which put her in front to stay.

Mrs. Weiss faces a rugged opponent today in Mrs. Keith LeClair of Ann Arbor. Mrs. LeClair, who won the Ann Arbor city title when she was 15, downed Mrs. D. D. MacFarlane of Detroit, 4 and 3. She was six strokes over par when the match ended after 15 holes.

Yesterday's play was marked by a pair of upsets. Mrs. Frank Campsie, of Grosse Ile, who won medalist honors with a 3-over-par 79 Monday, was ousted 2 and 1 by the 1953 winner, Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Mount Clemens.

Also falling by the wayside was Mrs. Jack Scripsema, the Grand Rapids city champion and a finalist in 1956. Mrs. Scripsema, third in the qualifying round, was defeated 3 and 1 by Mrs. John LaBoskey of Flint.

Sally Sharp, a Michigan State senior from Birmingham, continued her bid for the title she won in 1956. Miss Sharp eliminated Margaret Watkins of Detroit, 4 and 2. Miss Watkins went all the way to the finals last year before losing to Mrs. Weiss.

Helen Grinnell of Detroit scored an easy 8 and 7 victory over Mrs. Ruth Stricker of Detroit. Mrs. Frank L. Thompson Jr. of Birmingham turned back Mrs. Bruce Hilkene of Birmingham, 4 and 2. Mrs. T. H. Guething of Orchard Lake moved into the quarter-finals with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills.

Today Miss Sharp meets Miss Grinnell, Mrs. Marquardt plays Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. LaBoskey faces Mrs. Guething.

The semifinals will be contested tomorrow and the 36-hole final Friday.

Mrs. Keith LeClair, Ann Arbor, defeated Mrs. D. D. MacFarlane, Detroit, 4 and 3.
Mrs. Don Weiss, Flint, defeated Mrs. W. L. Mosher, Orchard Lake, 4 and 3.
Miss Helen Grinnell, Detroit, defeated Mrs. Ruth Stricker, Detroit, 8 and 7.
Mrs. Harold Marquardt, Mount Clemens, defeated Mrs. Frank Campsie, Grosse Ile, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Frank L. Thompson Jr., Birmingham, defeated Mrs. Bruce Hilkene, Birmingham, 4 and 2.
Miss Sally Sharp, Birmingham, defeated Miss Margaret Watkins, Detroit, 4 and 2.
Mrs. John LaBoskey, Flint, defeated Mrs. Jack Scripsema, Grand Rapids, 3 and 1.
Mrs. T. H. Guething, Orchard Lake, defeated Mrs. S. E. Gawne, Bloomfield Hills, 3 and 2.

Ward on U.S. Team Headed by Patton

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven former Walker Cup golfers, including Harvie Ward, Tuesday were named to defend the Americas Cup against Mexico and Canada at San Francisco, Sept. 5-6.

Ward recently concluded a one-year probationary period after accepting unauthorized expense monies and was returned to good standing as an amateur.

Billy Joe Patton, the flamboyant North Carolinian, was named team captain. Patton, who hails from Morganton, was the leading amateur in the 1954 and 1957 U.S. Open and the 1954 and 1958 Masters.

Also selected were Charlie Coe, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Hillman Robbins Jr., Memphis, Tenn.; Mason Rudolph, Clarksville, Tenn. Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif., and Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex.

Bolt Confident He'll Be Cleared at PGA Hearing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tommy Bolt flew in from Odessa, Tex., early today, confident he could satisfactorily settle matters with the Professional Golfers Assn., which is considering his suspension.

"I have done nothing wrong," said the temperamental National Open champion. "I have done nothing more than other golfers have been doing for years. I anticipate no trouble in clearing my skirts with the PGA."

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Things will be different tomorrow when the National PGA golf tournament, among the top four in prestige for the traveling pros, begins its four-day run at Llanerch Country Club in Havertown, Pa.

With stormy objections flying from one direction and elated voices of approval coming from another, the Professional Golfers' Association changes the time-honored tourney from match play to medal this year.

The decision to switch to stroke play was prompted by several reasons, the foremost being the increasing difficulty of the PGA to obtain sponsors for an event which saw attendance steadily decline as the star-studded field was reduced.

Until now, the PGA tournament was the only major national test using the match play format. The latest move simply means that the touring pros will have an uninterrupted diet of medal events.

The chief objection to the change was based on this fact. It was claimed that the PGA would become just another tourney on the circuit as far as the pros were concerned, that it would gradually lose its prestige and appeal.

This is highly unlikely. Tournaments with the prestige which the PGA has always carried seldom lose their luster. The only thing the tourney has lost is uniqueness. As for the shift to medal play—it's about time.

KOCSIS

Match play never has been and never will be a true test of championship golf. A champion's true worth in any tournament is measured by his consistently sharp performance — shot after shot, hole after hole and round after round.

Only stroke play furnishes this kind of test. One bad hole in a medal event can ruin a player's chance to win. An excellent example of this was the 1957 Western Open at Plum Hollow where Sam Snead shot a disastrous 10 on the 4th hole, then finished only one stroke behind the leaders.

A situation like that would have posed no particular problem for Snead in a match tourney. When something like that happens in head-to-head battle, the golfer merely picks up, forgets all about the bad hole and goes to the next tee for a fresh start.

There is no opportunity for a new start in medal action. The contestant either produces and keeps producing or else he's out of the running.

Chuck Kocsis, who still has no peer as an amateur in Michigan, is a staunch foe of match play. It is the main reason for his continued absence from the State Amateur, a tourney he has won six times in hole-by-hole warfare.

"Golf has no business being decided by holes," said the veteran Kocsis. "The end result, the final score, is the determining factor in all other sports and should always be that way in golf." Kocsis stated.

Some golfers have acquired great reputations as match players. Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, former PGA champion, and Glenn Johnston of Grosse Ile, who just won the Michigan Amateur for the 4th time in the last five years, are dogged competitors in head-to-head combat, but neither has fared too well in medal firing.

Proponents of match play will no doubt continue their protests over the latest PGA maneuver, but nevertheless, they'll be counting shots this week at Havertown, not holes. Amen.

Pontiac Drivers Race Thursday

Several Pontiac area drivers will take part in a nine-event race program postponed by bad weather from the Fourth of July Thursday night at the Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens.

A 50-lap main event called "The Firecracker Fifty" for the no-engine-limit modifieds and a fireworks display will head the program.

Joy Fair, Joe Doyle, Jack Harvey, Bill Kourt, Mickey Katlin, Chuck Partello, Johnny Wallace and Jack Conley will be among the Pontiac favorites taking part along some of the top performers in Michigan. Promotor Ed Jones has guaranteed a purse of $1,250 with $200 going to the feature winner.

Another Ace at Morey's

Jud Huntley of Orchard Lake holds the honor of shooting the 3rd hole-in-one of the season on the Red nine at Morey's Golf and Country Club. Huntley aced the 135-yard 7th hole and shot a par 35 for the nine-hole round. Huntley's ace was witnessed by Joe Fox and John Laffrey, both from Orchard Lake.

'57 Champions Defend Titles in Ski Tourney

Outstate Entries Come in for Aug. 2-3 Water Skiing Meet

Prospective challengers for Michigan water skiing titles on Aug. 2 and 3, at Lake Sherwood will have to beat off the defensive efforts of practically every divisional champion for 1957. Michigan Water Ski Championships officials today said they expect every class champion to be back in action. This condition promises one of the hottest water ski competitions in the state meet's history.

Entries are coming in from many outstate points, Dwight Holton, meet chairman, reports. They include Bill Bilbie of Whitmore Lake, Buddy Davis of Belleville, Joe Grimaldi, recent winner of the St. Charles, Ill. doubles crown, working with Norinne Bardell, who will ski with him in the Michigan championships.

From this section, one of the state's water-skiing hotspots, entries will include (all last year's champions), Marsha Hickson of Cass Lake, Alice Shotwell of Pontiac, Johnny Pierce of Birmingham, Paul Boel of Detroit, and Ralph Davis of Notre Dame. Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo, Ron Edy of Diamond Lake are also among the defending titlists now on the lists. Entrants also include state jumping champion, Dick Perry of Flint, who did 86 feet last year for a state record.

The state association held its first interclub tourney a week ago, at Devils Lake, near Adrian. Diamond Lake club won top honors with 5100 points. Lake Sherwood was 5th with 3,000, scored by its commodore, Bill Hart. Bill Weaver was 2nd in trick skiing, Lee Messle of Cass Lake, Jim Cole and Bob Mueller were other area contestants.

Metropolitan Beach Site for 'Outboard Holiday'

A full day of water features has been arranged for the "Outboard Holiday" at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair, Saturday, with the concluding spectacle a "snake-dance" afloat by all outboard boats at the beach, and there will be plenty of them, officials predict.

Starting at 10 a.m. the program will include demonstrations of bait and fly-casting by two world champions, one of whom is Pontiac's own Ben Hardesty, exhibitions by international champion water-skiers and water shows for many types of outboard motor-craft.

There will be a marine style show, water safety demonstration by the Red Cross, skin diving by area experts, and water skiing, showing how anyone, regardless of age, can learn in about 20 minutes.

Water shows are set for 10 a.m. 12:30 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Demonstrations of landing boats, launching techniques, camping out (by family of four), handling boat trailers, making of marine knots, general fishing tips, will be under way all day ashore.

The Metropolitan Beach has ample parking facilities for more than 7,000 cars, offers many additional attractions about its 550 acres of waterfront. It is considered the largest fresh-water beach of its kind in the world.

Widings Expected to Enter 15-Mile Ludington Race

Albert and LeRoy Widing, fresh from their recent laurels in the 85-mile Midwest International canoe race down the Rifle River, are expected to try for the 2nd annual Pere Marquette River race, Aug. 17.

The Holly brother team had not filed an entry as yet, but race officials at Ludington figure they will be among the favored teams when the 15-mile race starts at Scottville. A $100 first prize awaits the winners.

The Widings won $300 and a trophy for their winning efforts in the Rifle River run.

Thunderbird Wins

Five-month-old Ravenhill's Thunderbird walked off with divisional honors in the recent puppy match of the Michigan Great Dane club, held at Livonia. Thunderbird, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hank Roberts of Clarkston, won first bitch in the class for puppies four to six months old. Eighty Dane puppies competed in the match.

Learning to Water Ski Easy Task

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Joe Cash was nine years old he had asthma so bad that at one period he had to have four adrenalin shots a day.

Today, at 21, "Jumpin' Joe" Cash is a tanned, virile young man of 21 who holds the world water skiing championship and has hurled his body through the air to a 126-foot world record.

"I still have slight attacks of asthma now and then," he admits, "but as well as being the finest all-family sport I know, water-skiing has played a big part in making me healthier."

Joe's big break, he feels, came when his family moved from Nashville, Tenn., to Sarasota, Fla., because of his poor health. Joe became a "water rat" and yet it was less than four years ago that he turned to water skiing.

"It came so easy it scares me sometimes," he says with a flash of white teeth.

Actually, it must have been easy. The five-foot, nine-inch 160-pounder won the world championship last September against the best from 28 rival nations. He won the first event he ever entered, the Suncoast championships at St. Petersburg, Fla., back in July of 1956, and his two-year-old son and infant daughter have 37 glittering trophies to admire around the Cash Hacienda in Sarasota, Fla.

Joe, who runs the Sarasota Ski School and draws a handsome salary appearing with the Mercury Water Ski Show, thinks that "anybody who walks can water ski."

"I've taught a four-year-old and a man 71 years old," he explains, rubbing a hard, brown hand over his stubby crew cut. "Weight makes no difference, because I've also taught a man who weighs 260 pounds. Learning is easy, at least learning to simply stay up on the skis, because I've taught a whole family the simple fundamentals inside of a half hour."

Water skiing has taken a tremendous upsurge across the nation and around the world with, strangely enough, the Lebanses being amoung the top challengers for world honors. There are an estimated 3,000,000 skiiers in the United States and Cash predicts firmly that "5,000,000 will learn to water ski this year."

Whistling Swans Enjoy Ease, Gain in Numbers

By JACK PATTERSON

ELK RAPIDS — In these latter days of too many people and not much of anything else it's hard to find anyone who knows much about whistling swans, including ourself.

And yet these stately birds, perhaps the grandest of our native waterfowls, continue to increase as more shootable species falter toward the day when they'll only fly in yesterday's skies, along with the passenger pigeon.

Perhaps because they were never favored as game by market hunters and because they are inedible and rarely shot or shot at except by tyros, these great birds remain with us in comparative plenty and, in the "Chain of Lakes" area of northwestern Michigan, they serve today as a prime tourist attraction.

Protected by law for nearly half a century and by the inclination of hunters even longer, these birds greet adventurers into their breeding grounds with a friendliness and lack of fear that belies their native wildness. Anyone interested in looking at a bit of America as it was before the improvers got busy could do worse than spend a day fiddling around in an area such as the Torch River, one of many breeding grounds favored by these birds.

Of course, if looking at swans begins to pall a bit, one can always go fishing. Despite the "three day summer" that has visited this region for the third consecutive year, anglers who don't know enough to come in out of the rain (or wind) are currently doing well on rainbows and smallish lake trout, particularly in Elk Lake.

We should like to be able to say that stream trout fishing is out of the doldrums, but being reasonably honest, at least when it doesn't cost anything, we're forced to admit that it isn't what it should be.

That is not to say that a fellow can't go out and catch a trout now and then but the easy fishing that comes with the late big hatches just isn't as easy as it usually is. For those that feel they must try, a big mayfly imitation at nightfall will probably keep the fisherman's mind off mosquitoes and might take a talking-size fish to boot.

Pioneer Riders Top Trail-Blazers Show

Taking seven of the show's nine action events, during the 2nd annual 4-H Rochester Trail Blazers Horse Show, members of Oxford's Michigan Pioneers Saddle club, topped all competition. Show was held during the weekend at Great Oaks Stock Farm, Rochester.

Harris Bryant of the Pioneers won the high point award.

Other winners:

Ring Race, Harris Bryant (Gingellville); speed and action (14 and under) Stanley A. Feldmann (Lake Orion); speed and action (15 and over) Bert Wells (Troy); bareback class, Harris Bryant; musical barrels, Harold Feldmann (Oxford); cover leaf, George Smith (Rochester); women's egg race, Barbara Jones (Pontiac).

Solunar Table

The solunar periods, described below, were prepared especially for this area by John Alden Knight. They are designed to aid the angler in determining the best times in which to enjoy his sport:

	A.M.		P.M.
	Minor	Major	Minor	Major
Thurs.	6:20	12:05	6:55	12:35
Fri.	7:15	1:00	7:45	1:25
Sat.	8:05	1:50	8:35	2:15
Sun.	8:55	2:40	9:25	3:05
Mon.	9:45	3:30	10:15	3:55
Tues.	10:35	4:20	11:05	4:45
Wednes.	11:25	5:10	11:50	5:30

Fishing Is Good— When You Get 'Em

It all depends on whether one gets fish—or whether one doesn't. It's either good or no good, as Michigan anglers well know.

Those who did, include Mrs. Helen (Bob) Davey, 200 Teggerdine road, Oxbow Lake, who watched her husband land a 20 and ¾ inch, 4-pound 5½-ounce largemouth bass on a four pound test line. Then there was Roy Jones, Clio, who took a 16-inch, 2¼ largemouth from Otter Lake, while fishing with Dodge Park's Dick Stafford, and Robert F. Norton, 309 Eubank, Walled Lake, who landed a 4-pound, 2-ounce smallmouth on Walled Lake, his year's biggest fish.

On the other side (bad for the trout) a Mesick woman, with her husband, fishing on a nearby creek saw a water snake go by holding a trout. Len Hoseit killed the snake and found the trout to be a 10-incher. Ed Meany of Grand Haven also reported to the conservation department that he found a 26½-inch brown trout (six pounds) on the shore of the Pere Marquette river. A 13-inch brown trout in the lunker's throat probably choked it to death, he observed.

Little Stories About Outdoors

"Courtesy and common sense afloat"

Outboard Boating club of America points out in a colorful, pungent poster (that is distributed without any cost to boat clubs, safety councils and similar organizations that desire it), that courtesy and common sense make for more fun in a boat.

The poster calls attention to such things as operator negligence; overloading and overpowering; making high-speed turns; standing up in a boat; going out in bad weather, failing to keep a sharp lookout for other boats, swimmers, fishermen, water skiers and obstruction.

Observance of common sense in these matters certainly should improve the safety factor in small boat operation.

(Copies of poster may be had by writing OBC, 307 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill.)

Planning a fishing vacation?

Here are a few little, homely, reminders, as Florida Wildlife once reported:

The best time to catch fish is some other time!

There's a choice as to the best days—either yesterday, or tomorrow.

The best lure to use is the one fish will bite — subject to change without notice.

When fish are biting make the most of it and don't ask fool questions.

When they don't bite, might as well pack up and go home — the most elaborate lure in the box won't feaze them.

But remember — whether the fish bite, or whether they don't, fishing will always remain one of the grandest pastimes known to man. Especially on a vacation!

The Pontiac forest in Israel is now promised 345 trees, according to Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The mayor said he has raised $690 for the Jewish National Fund, which seeks funds to reforest the little nation to prevent erosion and reclaim land. The organization says it costs $2 to plant one tree.

Donaldson is raising the money in connection with a trip he's taking to Israel under the auspices of the Pontiac Chapter, B'nai Brith.

CHICAGO (AP) — All grain futures prices tipped downward in early Board of Trade dealings today in about the same uniformity with which they made their sharp climb yesterday.

Commission houses appeared to be the most liberal sellers in all pits and offerings were quickly absorbed.

Firm U.S. Stand Bolsters Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market advanced in heavy early trading today.

Key stocks rose from fractions to about a point on a broad front.

Oils, coppers, steels and rails were prominent in the upturn. Aircrafts, chemicals, rubbers, motors and airlines were among other gainers.

The strong stand of the United States in the Middle East crisis was said by brokers to have a bolstering effect, particularly since war jitters subsided.

Economic prospects were brightened by government figures showing a rise in industrial production, personal income, housing starts and employment.

Waterford School Board to Establish Tax Rate

Establishing the Waterford Township school tax rate, will be one of the main items of business when the Board of Education meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow night, according to superintendent William Shunck.

The tax spread for 1957 was 8.2 mills by the allocation board, as voters approved 5 mills for operation and 3.8 mills for a 3½-million dollar bond issue in February 1956.

The total rate paid by school district residents, was $25.60 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized in 1957, Shunck added, "For the past three years, there has been no increase in the tax rate approved by the Board of Education."

In other business, architect Eugene Cleland is expected to present a question involving the sewage disposal field for the new Thomas M. Cooley elementary school, now under construction on the north side of Watkins Lake.

A consideration of an inquiry from the Dublin School District Board of Education, relative to annexation with the Waterford Township school district, will be presented and discussed.

There are 916 children in the Dublin School District, which is located in a 3-square mile area in White Lake Township, adjoining the southwest corner of Waterford Township. There are 122 pupils enrolled at Walled Lake High School, because there is no high school in the Dublin School District.

The board will appoint members to the personnel and building committees, along with naming a representative to the recreation board.

Shunck will present a report concerning parking facilities at the Eliza S. Leggett Elementary School. A request to increase the parking area was presented at the last board meeting.

Further consideration of another high school site will also be part of the business meeting, Shunck said.

Recruits Sought for CD Work in Waterford

All Waterford Township men interested in becoming Civil Defense auxiliary policemen and auxiliary firemen have been urged to meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 23, at the Community Activities Building.

This is the first time that instruction for new fire fighter recruits has been available, according to Assistant CD Director Lloyd Gidley.

The 15-week course will include a complete first aid course in both auxiliary units. Already 30 auxiliary policemen have completed this course, Gidley said.

He added that the auxiliary fire unit will be a complete organization of officers and men to support the fire department and will work with, and be trained by, the regular township firemen for disaster duty.

For further information, residents may call Auxiliary Police Chief Dean Chew, Auxiliary Fire Chief Rudy Boss, or Gidley.

'58 City Taxes Top Last Year's by $18,452.83

Pontiac's 1958 city tax collections are ahead of last year's.

As of yesterday, the city had received $18,452.83 more in paid taxes than at a comparable time in 1957, according to Finance Director Oscar Eckman and City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings.

During the first nine days of tax collections this year, they said, the city received $1,009,802.19 from taxpayers. In the same period last year, it got $991,349.36, they said.

Approximately 30,000 Pontiac city and school taxpayers have until Aug. 1 to submit tax payments. After that, a penalty of one per cent a month will be added each month until delinquent taxes are paid, Giddings said.

Waterford Eyes Zoning Tonight

Split Proposal Would Bring Autonomy Into Commercial Districts

A major revision in commercial zoning will be eyed by the Waterford Township Zoning Board tonight.

Up for consideration is a proposal to split the existing commercial classification into two sub-classifications.

The split would allow the township to group commercial activities that are similar and separate those that differ, proponents of the idea say.

It would help eliminate "hodgepodge" commercial districts, they believe.

The present zoning ordinance allows any type of commercial activity to exist anywhere within a commercial zone.

Within its framework, such diverse activities as theaters, automobile repair garages, warehouses, shops and professional offices could theoretically be located next to one another in a "helter-skelter" pattern, critics of the present ordinance argue.

Tonight's meeting, which begins at 8 p.m. at the township hall, is to give the proposed change an initial airing.

AMC Reports Sales of Rambler Cars Up

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors reported today its sales of Rambler cars in the first 10 days of July increased to 5,111 from 1,679 in the same 1957 period.

So far in its fiscal year starting last Oct. 1, the company has sold 117,943 Ramblers. This compares with 69,310 in the same period a year earlier.

Mackie Rapped on Northwestern

State Senator Charges Money Slated for Road Now Used Elsewhere

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie was the target again today over his handling of the $25 million bond issue which was once to finance the Northwestern Highway extension.

Republican Sen. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield said the idling of this bond money was costing taxpayers nearly one half million dollars a year interest.

Moreover, he said, it appears some of the money dedicated for the project now is being used for other purposes.

Also, Porter asked Mackie for a detailed rundown of expenses of preparation, legal fees, advertising, reprinting bonds and other costs of the much-debated $100 million bond sale started in May and completed July 9.

After he took office in mid-1957, Mackie announced the Northwestern expressway project would be set aside temporarily until a more satisfactory substitute could be devised.

The senator asked Mackie if it was not correct that the money for the project was limited to being spent only at the location specified in the bond contract.

Pamphlets on CD Now at City Hall

Civil Defense officials today announced there are 200 Federal Civil Defense Administration pamphlets available for public distribution at City Hall.

The pamphlets, made available through the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, deal with radioactive fallout and home-made fallout shelters, according to Robert A. Stierer, deputy Pontiac civil defense director.

He said the public is invited to pick up pamphlets at three places in City Hall, at the city manager's second floor office, at the office of the building inspector on the first floor, and at the Health Department in the basement.

He Steals Motorcycle, Complete Riding Outfit

A burglar looted Roy's Motorcycle Shop, 203 W. Montcalm St., of a motorcycle and a complete riding outfit, it was reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

Missing are a black leather jacket, two pairs of black leather boots, a motorcycle cap, a crash helmet and strap, and a pair of goggles. He also took $12 in cash from the register.

Atomic Bomb First Exploded 13 Years Ago

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Thirteen years ago this morning, a small group of scientists sworn to secrecy watched the first atomic bomb explode into a mushroom cloud on the New Mexico desert.

At 5:30 a.m., the bomb obliterated the tower on which it was placed and glazed a large saucer of surrounding sand.

Officials explained the far-felt jolt as the explosion of an ammunition magazine, until, three weeks later, President Truman told of the dropping of an atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

Then came to light what had been going on at the secret city of Los Alamos, in the mountains of northern New Mexico, where the bomb was born.

Streator Begins to 'Bail Out'

Six Bodies Recovered in Wake of Flood, Fire and Explosion

STREATOR, Ill. (UPI) — Flood water fell back rapidly in Streator today and firemen recovered the bodies of the last of six persons killed in a flood-induced explosion and fire.

The twin plagues of fire and water hit this city of 17,000 Monday. Authorities and an army of 2,500 volunteers — simultaneously battled an eight-hour fire in a downtown hardware store and the worst Vermilion River floods on record.

The flood crest passed yesterday and most of the 400 to 500 persons forced from their homes by high water were expected to return today to begin the difficult mop-up.

Firemen probing rubble in the basement of the Williams Hardware Store located the bodies of the last two victims last night. Earlier, the body of a third victim was found on the second floor of the burned out building.

The body taken from the second floor was believed to be that of George Blaine, 52, a clerk. The bodies in the basement were believed to be those of Donald R. Williams, 57, owner of the store, and Ry Aschinger, 59, sales manager.

Earlier, two persons died in a hospital of burns suffered in the fire and a sixth victim was crushed by a falling wall.

The hardware store blast was blamed on sewer gas backed into the basement of the building by the flood.

Damage to the four-story building was estimated by firemen at $1,250,000. Destruction to flooded homes, businesses and rich farm lands in the area was incalculable.

Sputnik's Launcher Visible Here Tonight

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The rocket carrier of Sputnik III may be seen in Eastern Michigan between 8:30 and 9 p.m. (EST) tonight, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory says.

The carrier will enter the United States over western Florida at 8:25 p.m. It will pass up the east coast and depart over eastern Lake Ontario. The satellite should be visible in Louisiana, Arkansas, Illinois and Eastern Michigan.

The carrier put on a spectacular display last night over the Berkshire Hills in Massachusetts. Observers said it looked like a blinking, shooting star as it shot north.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PRESton Hibler who passed away July 16, 1944
Just when life was brightest,
Just when his years were best,
He was called from this world of sorrow
To his home of eternal rest.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Son and family.

Ask Wilson About Tips on a Winning System

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS—So you want to know how the Barefoot Wife and I made out gambling here. Certainly. Be glad to tell you. Well, you see . . ."

WILSON

First, wouldn't you rather hear about Bing Crosby being here to get his choppers fixed by Dr. Sterling T. Bowen? Must be some dentist for Bing to come over to see him. Fact is, when 'twas announced that Bing was in town to get his teeth repaired, Comedian Tommy Noonan blurted out, "Why didn't he just mail them over?"

But as to how we did with our own system for beating roulette—sure. I've got nothing to hide. That first day when we decided how much we'd risk . . . Man, was it hot in this town that day? Have you noticed the temperatures out here?

Oh, yes, you wanted to know about Bing Crosby's son, Philip Crosby.

Fine boy. Lovely girl he's going with, that showgal Sandra Drummond. I asked when they were getting married and Phil said, "Oh, I gotta go to college first"—The University of Washington—"and get my letter." Bing took Phil to see the new Paris Lido show. One of the girls in the show was so excited about the Crosby's being there, she came out with her clothes on.

Now don't get impatient. Of course I'm going to tell you how we did when we switched to shooting craps. What do you mean, have we got a system? We were playing at the same table with Eddie Fisher and that boy is so great . . . singing, I mean . . .

Wait a minute. Why should I tell anybody how I did? I got a right to a little privacy around here. It's none of your business how I did. I'll tell you this, though; there's a sign saying "Children Not Admitted." They ought to put up a sign saying "Adults Not Admitted." Let the children come in. They'd have better sense.

CAROLE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y.

One of the loveliest Wilson Girl nominees yet is Carole Heger of Cincinnati, proving again that the best things come from Ohio.

Christine Jorgensen may star in "Idiot's Delight" in summer stock . . . When Rita Hayworth and family left aboard the United States, daughter Rebecca told reporters: "I'm going to see my daddy (Orson Welles) in Rome. Daughter Yasmin said, "And I'm going to see my daddy (Aly Khan) in Paris."

EARL'S PEARLS: You can figure you're getting old when the doctor looks you over and the girls overlook you. That's earl, brother.

'Industry Sticks to the Accepted'

He Doubts if Networks Would Take on a Show Called 'See It Now'

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — If Ed Murrow were just now starting in television he'd be unlikely to find a network willing to take on a show called "See It Now."

Who says this? Ed Murrow.

"The industry today has a great fear of experiment, of controversy and, of course, great expense," he says. "The cost of failure is greater than ever and today television is much more conservative than it was in its youth.

"Today a new idea, a bold idea, would have to be fought through five echelons of a big corporation. The industry suffers from a rigid pattern.

"You get a new idea on the air, you get sponsored, you become moderately successful, you get imitated and God help any one who wants to change anything."

WHAT'S WRONG

Murrow's opinion was elicited by the question, "What's wrong with television today?" Chain-smoking, as usual, in his impressively small office at CBS, Murrow thought a moment, wreathed his face in a characteristic pattern of frowns, and said:

"In my own field — news and documentaries—there is an unwillingness to experiment, to try new techniques, new devices.

"Just examine the program listings for the prime evening viewing hours and you have to conclude that TV is insulating people from the realities, from the crises of the world.

"Except for Sunday afternoons, television offers almost nothing but escapism. But this, I'm afraid, reflects a national characteristic of ours, an unwillingness to accept the unpleasant."

PLANS NEW SHOW

But Murrow being Murrow — a man whose documentaries run off with most of the awards year after year — he will be coming up with a new show in the fall, "Small World."

It will involve a three-way conversation between three divergent personalities at widely separated points around the globe. Murrow will be the man in the middle who starts the conversation and helps keep it rolling.

The three personalities actually will converse by radio, be recorded and filmed simultaneously and then edited for the half-hour show.

"If the idea has any virtue at all," Murrow says, "that lies in its unpredictability. For example, in our pilot film, we have Lauren Bacall talking from Hollywood. Malcolm Muggeridge, retired editor of 'Punch' from Australia, and Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, from Washington.

"Their conversation ranged all the way from politics to books to fashions to the responsibility of the press in covering movie morals. They were wonderfully spontaneous and the cameras got many fantastic reaction shots."

Dr. Waksman Never Forgot

Death of Little Girl, 3 Leads to Wonder Drug

PISCATAWAY TWP., N. J. (AP)—More than half a century ago, a 3-year-old girl died of diptheria in a small Ukranian village because there was no antitoxin available.

Forty-six years later, her brother, Dr. Selman Abraham Waksman, announced the discovery of streptomycin.

The two occurrences are not unrelated.

Waksman, who will be 70 on July 22, has not forgotten his sister's death.

"She died just three years after the diphtheria antitoxin was discovered," he says. "I remember the doctor said he would have saved her if we had some of the antitoxin. I remember watching my sister die and watching my mother grieve."

And there is something else Waksman keeps in mind. It is his motto: "I want to know."

The memory and the motto have carried him down a long road.

In 1910, they led him to the United States.

Unable to enter a Russian university because he was a Jew, Waksman left his village near Kieve at the age of 22 and came to this country to study.

An impoverished but desperately determined youth, he entered Rutgers University. A professor befriended him, gave him advice, and, to help Waksman earn money for food, got him a job washing laboratory equipment at 10 cents an hour.

When he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and didn't have $5 for the key, the professor gave him the money.

Waksman hasn't forgotten this either. He later named his son Byron Halstead, after the professor.

Graduating in 1915, Waksman entered the University of California. He received a doctorate there three years later and returned to his alma mater to teach biochemistry.

Years of research followed until, in 1942, Waksman and his staff discovered streptomycin, the first effective antibiotic against tuberculosis.

Waksman announced the discovery a year later, and, in 1952, received a Nobel Prize for his part in developing the drug.

The Rutgers Institute of Microbiology was built largely with royalties from streptomycin. Waksman, who has been director of the institute since it was founded in 1949, is retiring from the post later this month on reaching the mandatory retirement age.

A short, somewhat pot-bellied man with gray hair and a thick mustache, Waksman lives in this residential community across the river from Rutgers with his wife, Bertha.

His interests range from science to international news to politics and local affairs.

As he explains in a Latin proverb: "I am a man, and nothing human is strange to me."

Mrs. Levant on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Oscar Levant, who left her husband's television show when they separated last week, will return to the air today—but not on Oscar's show. She will have her own show over local TV station KCOP. It will be known as "4:30 Matinee" and will show movies along with interviews and commentaries.

VA Finds Illness Similar to TB, Due to Pine Tree

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two microbes which cause a serious and sometimes fatal disease similar to tuberculosis have been discovered in the polle of the eastern pie tree.

Dr. Martin M. Cummings, director of Veterans Administraton research here, said two chemicals found in the wax of pine pollen are similar, if not identical, to materials found in sarcoidoss lesions.

VA research has come up with some interestng statistics on this disease. It has prepared a map of pine tree areas o the east coast which coincide closely with distributon of the disease.

A chart prepared by VA showing the birthplaces of 1,200 veteres with the dsease shows correlation between the tree and sarcoidosis.

Dr. Cummings found few cases of the disease among veterans born in the western United States.

Although sarcoidosis is not wdely found in the United States, Dr. Cummings sad VA research studies have shown that there are about five cases amog each 100,000 hospitalized white veterans. The rate is about 50 among each 100,000 hospitalized no-white veterans.

'Miss Maryland' Anxious to Right Wrongs to State

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carrying an affidavit swearing that she never has been married, Patricia Marie Vogts leaves today "to right the wrong done Maryland" in last year's Miss Universe contest.

Miss Vogts, an eye-appealing 22-year-old nurse, will appear as Miss Maryland in the annual Miss United States beauty pageant opening Saturday at Long Beach, Calif.

"I want to win especially because of what happened in the contest last year," Miss Vogts said.

Mary Leona Gage, then Miss Maryland, was selected as Miss United States. But the title was taken away and she was disqualified from the ensuing Miss Universe competition because she was married.

Miss Vogts has been a neurosurgical nurse at University of Maryland Hospital here for the past three months. She says she enjoys nursing, but believes she also could handle modeling assignments.

Her 37½-24½-36½ measurements tend to bear this out.

World Faces the Worst Crisis Since Defeat of Axis Nations

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

ATHENS (AP)—The reaction of the U.S. and British governments to the sudden explosion in Iraq sets up the most dangerous situation since the end of World War II.

The danger of a new global war is all too apparent, but it is unlikely that such a catastrophe is yet at hand.

The United States has intervened physically in the Middle East crisis. Undoubtedly the reaction from the Soviet Union is going to be violent. But the Soviets are likely to avoid measures which might set off a big international conflict.

Moscow obviously is already doing far too well in the Middle East to risk world war at this juncture. The Soviets probably will make ominous warlike noises for propaganda purposes while stopping short of overt actions which might precipitate a conflict.

The United States landed its Marines in Lebanon against Washington's will. The intervention was dictated not by events in Lebanon but by what happened in Iraq.

The action was not taken to save Lebanese President Camille Chamoun or any other one man, nor was it necessarily an act to save a specific government from going under. Events in Iraq were bound to give new impetus to the Lebanese revolt, but the main concern of the United States was the future of the entire Middle East, with its vast strategic importance to Western Europe.

The United States and Britain face the prospect of the entire Middle East being enveloped by the unreasoning anti-Western fever President Nasser has fostered so assiduously.

For Britain it is a matter of life or death. If the Iraqi revolt spreads into Kuwait, Britain most likely will fight. The oil production of Iraq and Kuwait is the life blood of British industry.

The United States, too, has a tremendous stake in what happens in this area, and in whether these events spill over into the Arabian Peninsula to threaten the vast American oil holdings there.

The situation can bring the world close to the brink of a new war. But it is unlikely the world is going to topple over that brink at this time. There even might be one slight glimmer of silver lining.

The crisis is so deep and so important it apparently has forced Britain and the United States at long last to consider a common policy for the Middle East. But the struggle for a common policy comes far too late. It had been a crying need for years in the Middle East, where it had been obvious Western interests could go nowhere but downhill so long as the two great Western powers remained at cross purposes.

Now the Middle East is slipping away, and force can do little to halt that process. The sins of inept and divided Western policies are catching up with the West. Only a miracle of Soviet blundering can offer any hope of restoring Western fortunes.

American Farm Bureau federation is the largest of farmer organizations.
