

King to Confer With Ike

PLANS VISIT TO U. S. — King Ibn Abdul Aziz Al Saud, king of Saudi Arabia, will be the guest of President Eisenhower for several days beginning Jan. 30, White House sources said yesterday. Purpose of the king's visit presumably will be to discuss Eisenhower's plan to block Red aggression in the Middle East. Saud last visited this country in 1947 as a crown prince.

Study Mideast Resolution

See House Unit OK on Ike Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a top Republican committee member both predicted today that the House group will speedily approve President Eisenhower's resolution on the Middle East.

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) expressed that opinion as the committee called Secretary of State Dulles back for more questioning.

Extensive hearings still lay ahead in the Senate, Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said that "I, for one, am not going to be stampeded into action on this."

Eisenhower's resolution, delivered to Congress Saturday on a top priority basis, would authorize dollar help to Middle East countries and use of U. S. armed forces in case of open Communist military attack.

Dulles reserved for today's closed session details on some of the military matters he touched on during daylong questioning yesterday. He did tell the congressmen that:

1. There is no plan for stepping up American forces in the Middle East.

2. Despite manpower cuts in the U. S. armed forces, America's military "effectiveness" has increased and he is satisfied the United States has enough strength to commit itself against possible brush fire wars in addition to its other commitments. He said, for instance, that we have the power to protect Syria.

3. American military actions might not be confined to the country where the Reds attack, but could involve strikes in such other areas as the aggressor's staging areas and communications lines.

4. He does not envision an all-out attack on the Soviet Union, unless it is determined that a Communist invasion is really the beginning of World War III.

Generally, Dulles portrayed the Eisenhower resolution as a "declaration of peace" which would deter war by serving notice of U. S. willingness to fight a Red aggressor and by bolstering the military and economic strength of independent Middle Eastern countries.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said after conferring with Eisenhower yesterday that he believes Congress will pass the resolution, but may make some changes in it.

Case of Cow-Pecking?

DENVER (AP) — The only bull among the 10 buffaloes at the City Park Zoo died yesterday of ulcers. "He was easygoing and so easy to handle," Supt. Clyde Hill said. "Can't imagine him ever getting an ulcer."

Jury to Probe Flint Police

Pontiac Auto Association Plans Car Showing Here

Plans for the biggest and best automobile show in Pontiac's history, were disclosed this morning by officials of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Assn.

The three-day extravaganza will be held Feb. 1, 2, and 3 at the new service building of the Oliver Motor Sales, Inc. at Walnut street.

The highlight of the weekend show will be some 70 1957 glittering, new automobiles displayed by eight auto dealers in the city. Some smaller truck models might be shown also, officials said, by Wilson GMC Co.

The show will be first in this area in the last 25 years. In 1932, the association held a smaller showing at the 4-H fair.

Participating dealers in this year's show will be: Cy Owens, Pontiac Retail Store, Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., Braid Motor Sales, Central Lincoln Mercury Sales Inc., Jerome Motor Sales Inc., Riemschneider Brothers, and Wilson GMC Co.

Planned also will be an added attraction of model dream cars to be displayed through the courtesy of the different divisions of the automotive industry participating in the show.

"This promises to be the biggest and best auto show the city has ever seen," E. Curtis Matthews, newly-elected president of the association and president-secretary of Matthews-Hargreaves Inc., said.

All net proceeds from the show will be turned over to the building fund for the new addition at Pontiac General Hospital. It is expected a special room will be designated as one sponsored by the auto group.

Plans for the show were decided upon at last night's annual meeting of the association.

Co-chairmen of the event will be Matthews, Robert B. Oliver, president of Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., and Henry E. Gotham, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store.

Oliver pointed out that the Walnut street site was ideal for the show in that the 80 by 200-foot building had some 16,000 square feet. Two acres of land are available for parking, he added.

As yet plans are not complete, he said, but entertainment will be sprinkled throughout the afternoon and evening showings.

Suspects Freed by Ballistic Test

No New Clues in Case of Mysterious Sniper, Say Royal Oak Police

Royal Oak police were at a standstill today in their investigation of December sniping incidents in that area after four Pontiac residents and a Royal Oak man were cleared of any connection with the shootings.

"They have been released. Their guns checked out all right," said Royal Oak Chief Ray C. Hayward this morning. "We have no new clues or suspects."

The five gained freedom when ballistics tests at the State Police Laboratory in Lansing showed their guns were not the .22s used in the Royal Oak incidents.

On December 21 a Royal Oak teenage girl was wounded and shots narrowly missed another woman.

Two men and two women from Pontiac were suspected following their arrest here Saturday when a gun was found on the seat of a car in which they were riding.

A total of 45 guns have now been tested during the investigation.

Gloomy Forecast: Snow, Rain Due

Today's increasing cloudiness will be followed by rain and snow this evening.

The low tonight will be 24-28 degrees.

Preceding 8 a.m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 15 degrees.

At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 28.

Cross Out That Word!

Ignore Word 12 in this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle — the scrambled letters just won't unscramble!

Because of an error in the illustration furnished The Press by the General Features Corp. of New York City, the letters and Page One words published yesterday do not jibe with the clue: "Circus — would be delightful to a small boy."

Consequently, Word 12 will be deleted by the judges of Puzzle No. 22 and the remaining 15 words will be used in judging possible winners. Entries already mailed or received will receive the same consideration.

Second Installment: 'The FBI Story'

Perfect Coordination Key to FBI's Efficiency

Editor's Note: The following article is the second in a series of daily episodes on the activities and accomplishments of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "The FBI Story," today's account is one of 26 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD
The Federal Bureau of Investigation is almost half a century old, although until 1935 it was known simply as the Bureau of Investigation.

Its name to millions is a symbol of integrity and efficiency. But it remains a mystery organization to a great many Americans even though its activities are interwoven with the protection of civil rights and the security of the nation.

Few know how the FBI operates. Few realize that in the protection of the country the FBI also maintains a rigid around-the-clock system of checks and controls over its own agents and their activities. Director J. Edgar Hoover can and does pick up his telephone and within a matter of minutes learn where an agent is at any given time, the case on which he is working and the progress being made.

The control system works in this fashion. The special agents in charge of the FBI's 52 field divisions are considered to be Hoover's personal representatives. They are responsible directly to him for the work within the geographic area of their assignments.

Each special agent in charge has an assistant—a position regarded as a training ground for the development of future FBI executives.

RIGOROUS TRAINING — FBI agents, even those working in laboratory, undergo extensive training in self-defense as part of strict fitness program. Here agents using tracer bullets practice night firing on range at Quantico, Va. Cardinal FBI rule: never shoot on the run.

Michigan and State Play Home and Home Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Michigan has agreed, at least temporarily, to place its football series with Michigan State on a home-and-home basis.

Michigan State had threatened to cancel the series unless the old ratio of four games in Ann Arbor to one in East Lansing were changed to home-and-home.

The 1960 Spartan-Wolverine game will be played in Michigan State's Mackin Field. That was settled last night as the Big Ten completed drafting of its 1959 and 1960 gridiron schedules.

The 1957 game already was scheduled for Ann Arbor and the 1958 game at East Lansing. The Spartans will go to Michigan in 1959.

The two schools met at Ann Arbor in 1954, 1955 and 1956 under the old four-for-one plan. MSU was host in 1953.

Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director, said the 1959-60 agreement did not mean a permanent home-and-home basis for the series, but conference observers expressed belief that once precedence as been over a four-year span it would be next-to-impossible to go back to four-for-one.

CLEVELAND (Biggie) Munn, MSU athletic director, had indicated that the series would be ruptured, at least, unless MSU and Michigan got on a home-and-home basis.

Another major development at the NCAA meeting here involving Michigan State was the announcement by Munn that the Spartans would play the University of Detroit at East Lansing in either 1959 or 1960.

Senator May Be 1960 Candidate

Knowland to Succeed Ike?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) appears to be moving himself toward a position where he can challenge Vice President Nixon and all other comers for 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, announced yesterday a carefully considered decision not to seek re-election to the Senate next year. His term expires in January 1959.

But he declined to eliminate himself as a possible contender for the Republican nomination for the California governorship in 1958. And neither would he close the door against another bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Significantly, Knowland said he has "no plans" to relinquish his position as Republican leader during the two years remaining in his term. That job keeps him prominently in the public eye.

After first informing President Eisenhower and his GOP colleagues of his intentions, Knowland told a news conference that he is quitting the Senate to spend more time in California with his wife, three children, five grandchildren and elderly father.

He said he wants to become more active as assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune, of which his father is publisher.

He replied only "No comment" to questions about whether he will seek the California governorship in 1956 or the presidential nomination in 1960.

But politicians probed behind the reasons he gave and many of them thought they came up with a carefully drawn plan for Knowland to seek the California governorship.

SEN. WILLIAM KNOWLAND

norship as a stepping stone for a renewed bid for the presidency.

To get the GOP governorship nomination Knowland probably would have to convince Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight that his best chance for political advancement lay in seeking to fill the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

If Knight declined to be convinced, Knowland would have to face a primary battle with Knight if the senator chose to seek the nomination.

Knowland's announcement apparently caught Knight by surprise. He told newsmen in Sacramento, Calif., he didn't know what to make of it. He said he has no intention of running for the Senate but declined to say whether he would seek renomination to the governorship.

Some Knowland associates in Washington said they believed the senator had decided that if he wants to be president he will have to break the three-way knot that now exists over potential control of the hefty California delegation to the Republican convention four years from now.

As senator, he would have to deal with Knight or Nixon with the prospect that the delegation would be split two, or possibly three, ways. But as governor he would have disposed of Knight and probably could wrest the state's delegation away from Nixon, leaving the latter without a "home base."

Knowland filed for the GOP presidential nomination last year in several early primaries before Eisenhower announced his own second-term intentions, and the senator's friends say they don't think his desire for the post has lessened.

While he did not divulge any further plans, Knowland told a closed conference of All Republican Senators yesterday his decision not to run again for the Senate was "irrevocable." He said he would not yield to any "draft" move that might be started.

Charge Student in Coed Beating

Spurned Suitor Faces Exam in Slugging of U. of M. Senior

ANN ARBOR (INS) — A 24-year-old University of Michigan sophomore was free under $2,500 bond today to await examination on a charge he beat a pretty coed while she slept in her dormitory bed. Virginia L. Large, 21, of Detroit, a senior student nurse at the university was struck four times on the head as she slept Sunday morning in her Cousens Hall room. She was released in good condition from University Hospital.

Accused in the slugging is Charles Castrop, son of a Dearborn doctor.

Miss Large yesterday signed a complaint charging Castrop with assault without intent to do great bodily harm.

Castrop, who has denied having anything to do with the beating, is described as a thwarted suitor of Miss Large. He is married and the father of a small son, but is separated from his wife.

Gaming Bribes and Corruption Are Suspected

2 Men Charged With Conspiracy; 70 Called to Testify

FLINT (AP) — A one-man grand jury probe into alleged corruption and bribed police protection of gambling has been ordered for this industrial city.

Subpoenas have been issued for some witnesses, among them former Police Chief James Byars, one-time Vice Squad Chief Clare Sobey, and 68 gamblers.

The investigation, tentatively set to begin Thursday, was called by the Genesee County Circuit Court just six hours after two men were charged with conspiracy to bribe police. County Prosecutor Jerome O'Rourke asked for the probe and said he was prepared to present witnesses and evidence of a conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The request capped a long self-investigation by Flint City Police.

In rapid order yesterday, Jacob M. Waldo, 55, and James Biagga Barraco, 54, were arrested and arraigned on conspiracy charges. Waldo, vice president of a Flint real estate and insurance agency, is a former Democratic state central committee man. Barraco is a motel operator.

Waldo met bond of $2,000 and Barraco put up bond of $5,000 as guarantee for their appearances at a hearing later this month, set by Municipal Judge John W. Baker. Both men were accused of making payoffs to protect gambling. O'Rourke, in his petition, said "certain persons" have conspired to violate gambling laws and that "certain" police and public officials have "willfully failed" to enforce the law.

THEY WILL TESTIFY

"Due to the nature of the offenses," O'Rourke said, "and the persons involved, they (the witnesses) are unwilling to volunteer information, but if this court will convene as a one-man grand jury with the purpose of investigating these matters, they will testify."

Says Ike to Aid Drought Victims

Seaton Tells Cattleman President to Study Need in Tour of Southwest

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS) — Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton said today that President Eisenhower will seek means of helping farmers and ranchers to "weather through until the rains come" during his tour of drought areas next week.

In a statement prepared for delivery at the annual conference of the American National Cattleman's Association in Phoenix, Seaton said the President is especially interested in assuring himself "that all which is feasible is being and will be done."

Seaton, who will accompany the President on his trip through parched areas of the Southwest Jan. 13-15 also outlined long-range Interior Department water conservation plans.

He said: "While we must learn to live with drought in the foreseeable future, it is by no means true that we must sit with folded hands and permit it to wreak unchecked havoc on our farms and ranges."

Seaton emphasized that the department will go along with local officials on "all feasible emergency measures which will bring some relief." He stressed, however, that "we must be ever mindful of the erosion damage which can result from overgrazing."

The interior secretary also cited efforts of his department to develop low-cost methods of desalting sea water, predicting an eventual network of pipelines that would deliver water to regions of low rainfall.

Construction Climbs in Waterford

Township Tops 1955 Figure

Total Near $13 Million, Fewer Home Permits Issued in '56

Fast-growing Waterford Township had another banner year of construction within its limits, topping last year's figure of $12,885,639, but residential building dipped.

The 1956 year recorded 1,566 permits totaling $12,916,170, compared to 1,633 permits in 1955.

Residential permits dropped from 1,026 valued at $10,505,572 in 1955 to 788 homes for $8,897,597 in 1956.

Some 283 garages were put up in '56, adding $250,575 to the construction total.

COMMERCIAL TOTAL

Commercial building included 63 new structures, totaling $3,001,270. Sixteen houses were moved during the year for $27,450. For additions, both commercial and homes, there were 43 permits issued totaling $274,354.

This report from the Building and Electrical Permits department was given at the Township Board meeting last night.

Felix Anderson, of Johnson and Anderson Engineers, presented preliminary plans for a municipal water supply system for Waterford Township. Approximate estimates were presented, and after all plans have been completed this week, they will be given to a bonding expert to see if the plan is possible.

Township Treasurer, Dorcas Tibbals, has announced that the property tax deadline has been extended from Jan. 20, through Feb. 28. This does not include the personal property tax, she added.

Other business included board approval of an additional water softener for the township buildings for $390. A $450 softener was approved by the board at the last meeting, but proved inadequate for both the fire hall and the township hall.

Tom Belton presented his annual report on the Recreation Department's activities for 1956, which was approved by the board.

He was complimented on his work as director and supervisor for the some 7,000 members, using recreational facilities.

The Day in Birmingham

Conduct Traffic Survey; Shows Ban Unnecessary

BIRMINGHAM — A survey conducted last Friday by T. M. Vanderstemple, Birmingham traffic engineer, showed, he said, that the left-hand turn ban from Hunter boulevard to Oak street is unnecessary. He explained that the cars making this turn would have ample time to clear traffic lanes if a ten-second delay light were installed. Commissioners asked that the State Highway Department be notified of their willingness to participate in light costs if this left hand turn is permitted.

Coordination Is Key to FBI's Efficiency

methods in robbing a Chicago bank is recognized by a supervisor as the identical method used a few days earlier in Los Angeles.

There may be some piece of information known at headquarters which ties a suspect to a crime. This same operating procedure is used in espionage cases to tie together widely separated operations and to coordinate the agents' work.

The agents are required to telephone their home offices at intervals throughout the day and report their movements. Periodic reports are made on the progress of each investigation, and the progress is reflected on the agents' assignment cards.

DISCIPLINE RIGID
Through more than 30 years, Hoover has insisted on discipline in the ranks of the FBI. This discipline is sternest, of course, in the special agent force of some 6,200 men.

But it is also maintained among the other 8,000 employees. Obedience to official regulations is demanded to a degree that is astonishing to an outsider.

The reason for this obedience is always clear to anyone who knows anything of the discipline operations which almost destroyed the bureau in the pre-Hoover days.

Over and over, Hoover has stressed the point that there must never be a scandal in the operations of the FBI. "One man can't build the FBI," he says, "but one man can tear it down."

NO EASY LIFE
The life of a special agent isn't an easy one. He knows he may be dismissed summarily from the service if he violates certain rules. For example:

1. He cannot drink intoxicants while on duty. Even off-duty excessive use of intoxicants is banned, since the agent is subject to call at any time.

2. He cannot use a government automobile for any purpose except official business.

3. He is forbidden to use brutality or duress in dealing with persons under investigation.

He can be disciplined for a number of other things. Among the "shall nots" are these:

1. He cannot disclose information to any unauthorized person, not even his wife.

2. He cannot accept rewards or gratuities in any form.

3. He cannot fail to pay his taxes or to meet other financial obligations.

4. He must not lose official property issued to him.

And the list goes on and on.

INTENSIVE TRAINING

The newly appointed agent begins to learn discipline from the day he reports into headquarters to begin an intensive training course which lasts for 18 weeks.

The course is divided into two parts. There is the classroom study of investigative techniques, FBI responsibilities under the law and administrative work; and there is the rugged training in self-defense and the use of firearms given at the FBI Academy on the Marine base at Quantico, Va.

Each agent, including the scientists and engineers who work in the laboratory, must know how to take care of himself in a gun battle.

He learns the "quick draw," in which a pistol is whipped from a holster with split-second precision in a stance which gives the steadiest position for firing accurately. "Never shoot while running" is an FBI axiom.

He is instructed in jujitsu and other tricks of taking care of himself in a rough-and-tumble fight. The roll of 18 agents killed in line of duty is a reminder that the battle against criminals is a dangerous one.

The FBI's training system produced such sound results that even prior to World War II the Marine Corps arranged to have agents train the Marines in hand-to-hand defensive and disarming tactics.

But the FBI traveled a long road to reach this point. It had its beginning in 1908 when President Theodore Roosevelt demanded an investigative agency in his crusade against the "land thieves" in the West and the big-business "trusts" in the East.

Banning the left hand turn at this point would throw additional traffic on Hamilton street, Oakland street, Woodward avenue and other already heavily burdened streets. Vanderstemple's report is being forwarded to Samuel LaVine this week for state consideration.

Several traffic surveys have shown that there is no immediate need for a Webster street cross-over at Hunter boulevard. Plans for it were officially abandoned last night.

The possible widening of Adams road was discussed by city commissioners last night as one solution to the traffic hazard that exists now in the vicinity of Adams and Derby schools. Requests for a higher speed limit in the area were frowned upon by commissioners, who said there is already too great a hazard for children using the area.

The unpaved condition of Derby road is causing many people to stop on Adams road, to let their children out of the cars to reach Derby school. This practice ties up one lane of traffic since Adams is only two - lane at that point. Buses using the turn-around at the school more or less prohibit the use of the area by private cars, commissioners noted.

Commissioners have expressed their opposition to the proposal of increasing Cranbrook road speeds to 30 miles per hour. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said that traffic already is too fast there and in so far as there is no posted speed limit there are little grounds for law enforcement.

The commission indicated that they felt a 25 mile per hour speed limit was sufficient there due to the excessive traffic of students using Cranbrook on leaving the school parking lot.

They recommend this speed limit, proper posting of it and suggest that Chief Moxley instruct his officers to rigidly enforce it.

Alan Wittrup, assistant pastor at the First Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Ham-burg.

MAKE OVER PAJ

Lathrup Official Quits

By NANCE BELLEFLEUR, Southfield Correspondent.

LATHRUP — Kathryn V. Feyereisen resigned as councilwoman at the regular meeting of the council held here last night.

In her letter, Miss Feyereisen said, "Events of the past seven months make it increasingly difficult for me to fulfill my obligations to the people of Lathrup Village as their representative."

The resignation climaxed efforts by Miss Feyereisen and Mayor John G. Campbell to oust administrator Leonard A. Watchowski on charges of poor administration.

Mayor Campbell said this morning "It all started seven months ago when Lathrup's Justice of the Peace, Leonard W. Pygas and Police Chief, Lt. Dave Bourgeois resigned."

The reason given at that time was that they could not work with the inadequate volunteer police department.

Watchowski supported Pygas and Bourgeois in their claim.

Campbell maintained that the police force was adequate.

Watchowski has been under attack by Miss Feyereisen and Campbell ever since demanding his resignation.

At a closed hearing held Dec. 3 Watchowski was given a chance to answer charges brought by Miss Feyereisen and Campbell.

He was given a vote of confidence by the council at that time by a three-to-two vote.

Miss Feyereisen has been with the council for five years.

Small Business May Get Help

Special Federal Bank, Other Proposals Made by House Committee

WASHINGTON — The majority of the House small business committee is considering a proposal for a special federal bank to help finance and expand small business operations.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex) said today the Democratic majority has agreed on 21 recommendations which were "not concurred in by the Republican members of the committee."

One is that the committee considered a proposal to establish a federal small business bank, to have authority and capital equal to that of the Export-Import Bank, the Treasury's agency for making loans abroad.

Tax recommendations in the Patman said in a statement, include: taxes on a progressive basis like personal taxes, so that smaller businesses would pay less and larger businesses more.

2. Various revisions in the tax code to help unincorporated firms heirs of closely held business concerns, and owners of businesses whose assets are sold for corporate stock, and to bring excise taxes back to pre-World War II levels.

Patman also said the report calls for investigation of price increases to see if some of them result from "inadequate competitive restraint and unwarranted profit-taking."

Other recommendations, he said, deal with tightening of the antitrust laws and implementing federal policies of procuring goods from small businesses when possible.

Attlee Lectures on Red 'Empire'

Briton Cites Domination of Russia by Minorities in Satellite Fringe

ANN ARBOR — The Soviet Union is the outstanding example of an imperialistic nation in action, says the postwar prime minister of Great Britain, Earl Attlee.

Attlee made this statement to a University of Michigan audience last night as he embarked on a 12-lecture tour of the United States and Canada.

"There are many minorities in the U. S. S. R. who are dominated by the Russians," he said in support of his charge.

He mentioned the Georgians, the Armenians and the peoples in the satellite fringe as those in the cloak of Russian domination.

Attlee's talk dealt with the evolution of the British empire to its present status as a commonwealth of nations which exists with each other by "contact and conference."

He explained how two different movements — nationalism which had its roots in 19th century Europe and a larger unity among nations stemming from scientific advancements — brought about the transformation.

Wars too took their toll on the colonial British empire, Attlee told his audience.

He cited the Boer War in South Africa during the first years of the 20th century as the beginning of the decline of imperialistic Britain.

Earlier, at a news conference, Attlee said he is glad President Eisenhower told the world of the United States' responsibilities in the strife-torn Middle East, but he wished the President had made his declaration earlier.

Tax Decision Sets Precedent

Wisconsin Court States Claims Against Firm Are Legitimate

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled that the personal property taxes of $336,000 assessed by the city of Kenosha against the American Motors Corp. (AMC) were valid despite the company's contention that the property was, in effect, owned by the federal government.

AMC, formerly Nash-Kelvinator, manufactured aircraft parts for the Air Force from 1952 to 1954. The company was assessed taxes on its tools, materials and non-durable supplies in aircraft manufacture.

The company contended that this property actually was owned by the government.

The decision conceivably could affect millions of dollars of similar taxes throughout the nation, a brief presented by the city stated.

"The ownership of the property is in the company and assessments are valid," the Supreme Court stated.

The city appealed from a decision of Circuit Judge Alfred R. Drury who had ruled that the federal government had title to the taxed property and therefore it should be exempt from local personal property taxes.

The Supreme Court said: "The government has performed no act whatever with respect to the property in the company's possession except to make partial payments under the contract. It has not inspected, accepted and paid for. There was, indeed, no certainty at the time the assessments were made, that the property so segregated would be accepted; and the contract provides that title to all such property not eventually delivered and accepted by the government should vest in the company."

Police said Miss Lois Morrison, Mrs. Marston's sister, told them Mrs. Marston had run a newspaper advertisement seeking work as a practical nurse. A man came to the house yesterday morning and hired her to take care of his elderly parents, Mrs. Marston and Ronnie drove away with him.

Investigators said Ronnie could tell them nothing about what happened except a man in a tan Ford drove them into the country. Police theorized he had been sent away to play when his mother was killed.

Miss Morrison said Mrs. Marston was either divorced or separated from her husband.

MARKETS

Pace Sluggish in Mixed Deals

Prices prevailed in early trading today on the stock exchange. Prices of pivotal issues moved narrowly in moderate trading.

The opening was fairly active as key stocks were traded high around a point at most. Then turnover fell off and the pace became quiet as quotations remained about the same.

The failure of the list yesterday to penetrate a supply area in the averages which had provided resistance on past occasions since September left the market in an indecisive mood, analysts said.

Outstanding news was lacking to provide a decisive thrust through this barrier. A drop in steel scrap prices was an element of doubt, but price rises in crude oil and the progress of highway construction were heartening.

International Nickel moved ahead fractionally after an initial loss. American Telephone continued gain.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem lost fractions while Youngstown gained. General Motors retreated a bit while other motors showed little change.

Leading rails were mainly unchanged. Nonferrous metals were narrowly mixed. Mail order and farm implement stocks eased. Oils were narrowly mixed to unchanged.

Opening blocks included International Nickel off 1/4 at 110 1/4 on 1,000 shares. Cities Service up 1/4 at 68 1/4 on 1,500 and Radio Corp. off 1/4 at 34 1/4 on 1,200.
