English Faculty Run the Detroit Marathon

For the fifth year in a row, English department faculty members competed in the Detroit Marathon relay. This year's team, known as "Eard Stapan," was comprised of Professors Kevin Grimm, Kevin Laam, Susan Beckwith, Andrea Knutson, and captain Brian Connery. The team shattered the four hour barrier, clocking in at 3:39:40. Overall, the team placed seventh of 24 teams competing in the University division, eightieth overall in the relays out of 631 teams.
