Viet Students Riot; Anti-U.S. Tone Seen

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Youthful mobs in Saigon, Hue and Da Nang sacked and burned buildings today in the worst outbreak of organized rioting in South Viet Nam since last summer.

Several hundred students supporting the government sacked and burned the Student Union building in Saigon in a counter-demonstration.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, more than 1,000 howling youths stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks as antigovernment demonstrations took an increasingly anti-American tone.

A grenade exploded at the height of the riot, seriously injuring three demonstrators. There were no American casualties. Another blast a short time later killed a woman.

The 30 or more Americans in the barracks fired shots into the air to scare off the demonstrators as rocks smashed windows.

★ ★ ★

The mob then attacked a near-by Roman Catholic village and set a house afire.

LEAVE HOMES

Villagers moved out of their houses to defend themselves while their women carried children and belongings to a waterfront pier.

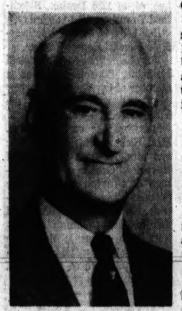
After the fire, mob leaders called for a withdrawal. But some rioters slipped back into the village and set two more houses aflame.

Another grenade exploded as the rioters pulled back. A maid working at the enlisted men's barracks was wounded and died soon afterwards.

More Americans are stationed in Da Nang, on the South China Sea, than anywhere else in country, except Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The counterdemonstrators waved banners and shouted pro-government slogans, pelted the building with rocks and then set it aflame.



ROBERT Y. MOORE

Death Takes Public Servant

Was County Official Over Half His Life

Robert Young Moore, who spent more than half his life in public office in Oakland County, died at Pontiac General Hospital Sunday morning after a long illness. He was 78 years old.

Funeral service will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery.

In declining health for some time, Moore became ill at his residence, 476 Shore View, Waterford Township, last week. He was taken to the hospital Saturday.

Moore retired Jan. 1 of this year after 34 years on the Oakland County board of auditors. He served as chairman of the board 24 years.

★ ★ ★

His political career began in 1920 when he was elected clerk of Bloomfield Township. He held this office four years and was then elected township supervisor.

BOARD OF AUDITORS

After six years on the board of supervisors, during which he served a term as chairman, Moore was appointed to the board of auditors in June, 1930.

He helped guide the growth of the county from a population of less than a quarter-million when he took office to

Seating Hassle Still Explosive

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Democrats began raising the curtain on their 1964 convention today as they moved to pledge fair enforcement of the Civil Rights Act and to denounce lawlessness on either side of the fight.

While the platform committee hammered out this plank, peacemakers worked backstage to cool off the most heated dispute.

The credentials committee sought to find some compromise that would satisfy, if not please, both Southern states and civil rights supporters in the row over seating the Mississippi delegation.

At issue is whether the convention will seat the regular Democratic delegation or the predominantly Negro group representing the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

Convention Page, Page 21

President Johnson, his nomination to be little more than a formality Wednesday night, has been keeping the party guessing as to his choice for a running mate as he called signals from Washington shaping the platform and trying to ease North-South clashes.

But a spokesman for Mississippi Freedom Democratic party delegation, Washington lawyer Joseph Rauh Jr., claimed today he had enough votes to force a floor fight over the Mississippi question.

★ ★ ★

He reiterated at a news conference that the group would not accept a compromise proposal that the regular Mississippi delegation be seated and the Negro group be given a voteless and voiceless place on the convention floor.

LOYALTY PLEDGE

Rauh said his group was holding out for a plan where only those Mississippians from both rival groups who sign a party

Dems Pledge Rights Support

Section of Platform Raps Lawlessness

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee approved a plank today pledging "fair, effective enforcement" of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

★ ★ ★

The civil rights plank is included in a section entitled "Democracy of Opportunity" and condemns lawlessness "whether used to deny equal rights or to obtain equal rights."

"We cannot and will not tolerate lawlessness," the platform declares. "We can and will seek to eliminate its economic and social causes."

This part of the platform, which will be submitted to the party convention tomorrow night, also calls for revision of the immigration laws "to eliminate the discriminatory provisions which base admission upon national origins."

★ ★ ★

The platform also pledges support of legislation toward full equality of opportunity for women as well as men and to strive "to eliminate discrimination against older Americans, especially in their employment."

VOICE VOTE

This section of the platform, which officials said was approved by voice vote, also deciares the party's concern "not only with people's right to be free but also with their ability to use their freedom."

The committee was attempting to put the final polish on a plank condemning extremism "including the extremist tactics of such organizations as the Communist party, Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch society.

In furtherance of the civil rights commitment, the platform pledges to carry on a total war on poverty, to move forward with programs to restore areas such as Appalachia "which the nation's progress has bypassed," help the physically handicapped and mentally disadvantaged to develop their capabilities to the fullest, increase the security of older citizens by encouraging private retirement and welfare programs, and offer opportunities for young citizens like those provided in the newly enacted antipoverty bill.

★ ★ ★

The platform also speaks of expanding decent housing for older citizens and of assisting Indians to improve their standard of living and attain self-sufficiency and the privileges of equal citizenship.

ADJUSTED LEVELS

The platform also declares that the Social Security program "contributes greatly to the strength of the nation" and adds that benefit levels will be adjusted so that those who have contributed to the program may share in the steady rise of living standards.

Area Crashes Fatal for Two

Detroit, Armada Men Victims of Accidents

Two men, both 57, were killed in separate automobile accidents in Oakland County over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Albert J. Tazdan of Detroit was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his car collided with one driven by James Jensen, 24, of 2938 Lansdowne, Waterford Township, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Springfield Township.

Killed in a two-car collision yesterday at 4:25 p.m. at Walton and Opdyke in Pontiac Township was Hoyt C. Brown of Armada.

State police said that Tazdan, driving south on Dixie south of I-75, attempted to make a U-turn in front of Jensen's southbound car after pulling to the shoulder of the road.

Jensen, whose car struck Tazdan's auto in the left side, suffered facial lacerations and is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Brown was killed when his car collided with one driven by Erwin Hahn, 45, of 78409 Romeo Plank, Romeo.

Hahn told sheriff's deputies that he was driving west on Walton and preparing to turn onto Opdyke when Brown's car suddenly appeared in the intersection.

Hahn's wife, Florence, 44, was treated for injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Tornadoes Hit Southeastern State Areas

By The Associated Press

Communities in southeastern Michigan were busy with clean-up and patchup work today following tornadoes and tornado-like winds that struck Saturday, injuring two persons.

In Lenawee County, one of two twisters lifted the home of Richard Moore off its foundations and flung it 50 yards. Moore, 26, and his wife Donna, 28, who were in the house at the time, were hospitalized with multiple cuts and bruises in nearby Adrian.

An old barn containing farm equipment and a car on the Wilford Bates farm, also near Adrian, were destroyed by another funnel.

Roofs, a house trailer and chicken coops elsewhere in the county suffered damage in varying degrees.

ROOF RIPPED OFF

The roof of a house owned by Allegan County deputy sheriff Ned Hopkins near Allegan was ripped off and carried away. It had not been found as of late Sunday.

Across the state in Battle Creek, a violent wind blew down a 300-foot wall of an assembly plant of the industrial truck division of the Clark Equipment Co. Nobody inside the plant was injured.

Witnesses said it looked as if a funnel had sucked the wall outward, but the weather bureau said late yesterday there had been no confirmation that the damage was actually inflicted by a tornado.

Alabaman Sees Majority of Delegation Signing Oath

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Three Alabama delegates and two alternates signed a "loyalty" pledge to the party's presidential nominee today, and one predicted a majority of the delegation would sign it.

If that should come to pass, it might keep the Alabama delegation on the floor during the convention and prevent further wrangling over its seating.

It would represent a drastic overturn in the delegation which had voted 33 to 3 last night not to sign the loyalty pledge which the credentials committee had made the price of seats on the floor.

"I'm ready to sign," Reuben Newton of Jasper, Ala., told National Committee Chairman John M. Bailey.

But he and the others had a hectic time finding where to do it.

Bailey sent them to former Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, chairman of the credentials committee.

MAZE OF CORRIDORS

It took about 10 minutes before they were able to find him in the maze of corridors in the huge convention hall.

"We'll have 22 or 23 of the delegation sign up," said Roy McCord, a delegate from Gadsden. Another delegate, Bill Hardin, also of Gadsden, predicted the number would be around 30.

Lawrence read the declaration, then announced after the four had signed that he'd send it up to the Alabamans' hotel for other delegates who wanted to add their names.

★ ★ ★

Up to the time of the reported shift, the chance for keeping a dispute over the Alabama delegation erupting into a floor fight appeared slim.

'NO COMPROMISE'

Even if the forecast of a majority Alabama sign-up is borne out, there still remained the prospect of a battle over Mississippi representation. Mississippi Negroes were saying "no compromise."

The credentials committee failed to decide yesterday whether the largely Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic delegation or the all-white regulars from that state should be seated.

The committee resumes today its search for a solution it hopes will satisfy Southern states and Southern and Northern Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Aaron Henry, Negro chairman of the Freedom group from Clarksdale, Miss., said the group would not take a "back-of-the-bus" compromise.

NATURAL REACTION

Henry was backed by Dr. Martin Luther King who said "a natural reaction of Negro voters would be to go fishing election day" if the Freedom party is not seated. King heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

★ ★ ★

Henry and King said they had the votes in the credentials committee needed to force the issue onto the floor of the convention if the committee fails to give seats and votes to the Freedom delegation.

SEATS, NO VOTE

There has been speculation that the committee, in an effort to satisfy the Negroes, would give them seats on the floor but no voice and no vote.

Showers Seen for Late Tonight and Tomorrow

Increasing cloudiness is predicted for today and tonight in the Pontiac area. High today will be in the 70s, with the mercury dipping to a low of 55 to 62 tonight.

★ ★ ★

Scattered showers and thundershowers are headed our way and should arrive late tonight, continuing through Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Today in Pontiac, winds are southwest at 10 to 18 miles per hour. The lowest temperature prior to 8 a.m. was 55. By 2 p.m., the temperature climbed to 72.

Special Atlantic City News: Prediction Not Surprising

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

ATLANTIC CITY — Exclusive News Flash: Based on information from a multitude of confidential sources, I flatly predict that one Lyndon B. Johnson, 1600 Pennsylvania NW, Washington, D.C. will be nominated as the Democratic candidate for president on the first ballot.

With this political bombshell exploded, let's take a look at things as we, along with 5,000 delegates and alternates, plus twice that many assorted politicos and observers, head toward Atlantic City for the 34th presidential convention of the Democratic party.

I'm reminded that my only other visit to the city also had a political undertone.

I had just been elected to a lifetime office—by one vote. I was on my honeymoon (periodically, the voter has eyed a recount, but nothing's ever come of it.)

Democrats claim the title of being the oldest political party in the U.S.—and they win it going away.

The organization first saw the light of day as the Democratic-Republican party in 1798—sort of a double-barreled tag to bag all the voters, maybe—but by the election of 1828 it decided that "Republican" was a white elephant, and dropped it.

Heldenbrand

Needless to say, there is no immediate prospect of need for LBJ to leave a mail-forwarding address, but should he by a miracle fail of nomination, it would be but the second time in the history of both parties that an incumbent president was denied his party's nomination.

A DEAF EAR

Back in 1856, the Dems turned a deaf ear to Franklin Pierce, whom they'd elected in 1852, when he voiced hopes of being called back for an encore.

Speaking of records, the 883 first roll-call vote given Goldwater at San Francisco was the greatest ever given a presidential candidate, except those unopposed.

Actually, you know, the founding fathers who set up our government had no idea that their statesmanship would lead to political parties as we know them

On Mississippi Issue

State Delegate Clash

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Over the threatened defiance of some Negro delegates, Michigan Democrats appeared likely today to go along with a compromise on the seating of a Mississippi delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

A pledge to oppose anything less than what they consider an "honorable" settlement of the credentials controversy was issued by the Negroes Sunday as Michigan's delegation caucused for the first time.

★ ★ ★

But party leaders — including Sen. Patrick McNamara and former Gov. John Swainson — promised just as firmly that there will be no abandonment of support for the predominantly Negro "Freedom Democrats" challenging the all-white regular Mississippi delegation.

In any event, McNamara said, he could see no reason to argue over the issue until the convention's credentials committee reveals its decision on the Mississippi question.

DELEGATES CAUCUS

And at his suggestion the delegates agreed to caucus again late today—behind closed doors —anticipating that some word will have been received by then from the credentials committee.

U.S. Rep. Charles Diggs, the state's only Negro congressman, is a member of the subcommittee named yesterday to attempt a compromise.

★ ★ ★

A 25-minute argument over the Mississippi delegation dispute flared just as the Michigan caucus, routine up to that point, was about to adjourn.

Horace Sheffield, a Negro labor official from Detroit, told the group he felt "there has not been enough urgency" toward settling the problem, adding:

KEEP PRINCIPLES

"We can appreciate, accept and understand an honorable compromise but not at the sake of any basic principles."

★ ★ ★

Alphonso Harper, Detroit Negro attorney who has repeatedly expressed doubt that Michigan delegates would fulfill their pledge to back the "freedom Democrats," said he wanted to be sure Michigan's credentials committee members "remain in a position to be instructed, rather than to tell us what they've decided."

★ ★ ★

Harper said he feels Michigan people might interpret the acceptance of any compromise by the state delegation as a "backing-away" from the resolution endorsing the "Freedom Democrats" adopted at the June 13 state convention.

★ ★ ★

"Our position has not changed at all," said Swainson in attempting to reassure the Negroes. "There is nothing to act upon now but we are quite clear in our commitment to the resolution."

'APPROPRIATE ACTION'

State Chairman Zolton Ferency, who earlier termed the resolution not permissive but a mandate, said Sunday he felt its intent is simply to see that Michigan delegates take "all appropriate action" to support the challenging Mississippians.

★ ★ ★

The legal positions of the two groups are equally sound, he said.

Matter of Survival at Tent Revival

City and county employes were not the only ones engaged in pumping water and working on storm drainage problems in the rain-drenched Pontiac area this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Some 20 area ministers and church leaders did a little ditch-digging, too.

The downpour Friday created some problems in a large tent where the Oakland County Revival Crusade is being held just northwest of Pontiac Mall, at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads, Waterford Township.

By Saturday morning, the floor was wet and muddy.

★ ★ ★

What did members and clergymen of the 39 sponsoring churches do?

DON OLD CLOTHES

They donned old clothes and started to work.

First they dug a ditch around the tent, drained the water from inside and pumped it from the ditches.

Then these men of the cloth dug six inches of mud and dirt out from under the entire tent — it seats 1,500 people. They filled the area with sand and covered the aisles with sawdust.

★ ★ ★

Some 1,100 people attended a dry 3 p.m. service yesterday.

MEETING TIME

Meetings are at 7:15 p.m. during the week with just an afternoon service on Sundays.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday was cool and the wind was blowing, so much that sides of the tent flapped continuously.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Jim Mercer, evangelist from Waterford Township, said this was the first meeting when the wind whirled around the tent in all directions. Sides will be fastened down by tomorrow night, he told the worshipers.

loyalty pledge would be allowed a seat.

The civil rights plank was a carefully balanced statement that "the Civil Rights Act of 1964 deserves and requires full observance by every American and fair, effective enforcement if there is any default."

As the convention got into high gear the only real suspense hung on Johnson's choice of his running mate. And he did nothing to clear up the mystery.

★ ★ ★

The name heard the most in the vice presidential talk was that of the Democratic Senate whip Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The weather for the opening session was bright and steamy — more or less traditional for political convention.

Thousands of delegates, alternates and their families mingled on the hot boardwalk with sunburned tourists.

Almost from one end of the boardwalk to the other were stalls hawking mementos using the likenesses or initials of President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy.

The balanced civil rights platform is an obvious concession to the difficulties President Johnson is expected to run into in the South in November.

HIGH SEA AT PUERTO RICO — A child is carried from a waterfront shack by a civil defense worker as Hurricane Cleo pounds the Puerto Rican coast.

Hurricane Clears Haiti, Heads Toward Jamaica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Hurricane Cleo whirled past the Dominican Republic today and pounded across the Caribbean toward Jamaica and possibly Cuba.

With the storm skirting along Haiti's southwest peninsula, Radio Santo Domingo reported no damage or injuries on the Dominican Republic's southern Barahona peninsula. The storm's center passed well out to sea.

The storm swirled past southern Puerto Rico Sunday after battering the Guadeloupe islands. Officials blamed Cleo for at least 14 deaths, 100 injuries and $50 million in damage to the French possession.

★ ★ ★

Cleo will probably strike Jamaica tonight with hurricane force, the Weather Bureau said.

Gale-force winds and heavy rain pounded the southern coast of the Dominican Republic early today. Small but powerful Cleo, with 140-mile center winds, pressed onward south of the island of Hispaniola, which the Dominican Republic shared with Haiti. Severe lowland flooding was predicted.

TOWARD HAITI

The Weather Bureau said that Cleo's 125-mile-wide mass of hurricane force winds apparently would skirt Hispaniola's heartland. The storm was headed toward Haiti's southern peninsula, where thousands were killed last year by Hurricane Flora.

Cleo also might strike Cuba with its fury intact, the Weather Bureau said. It was too early to say whether it would pose any danger to the U.S. mainland.

★ ★ ★

Families along the southern coast of Oriente Province, on the eastern tip of Cuba, were moved to higher ground, the government radio said.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said strong winds, heavy rains and dangerous surf and tides were expected to hit the coastline early this afternoon.

CANCEL LEAVES

Military leaves were canceled in Santo Domingo, Civil defense and Red Cross units were placed on alert. Residents were asked to remain indoors.

At 5 a.m., EST, Cleo was centered about 100 miles southsoutheast of Port au Prince, Haiti. It was moving between west and west-northwest at about 16 miles per hour.

Maximum winds were estimated at 140 miles per hour over a small area near the center with hurricane force winds 40 miles in all quadrants. Gales extend 150 miles to the north and 100 miles to the south.

In Basse Terre, capital of Guadeloupe, authorities said Cleo was the worst hurricane to strike there since 1928. They reported more than 1,000 persons homeless, hundreds of homes demolished and thousands more badly damaged. Electricity was disrupted in most areas and roads were blocked.

CROPS RUINED

Some of Guadeloupe's sugar and banana plantations were wiped out.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Navy hurricane hunter plane with 23 aboard got a taste of Cleo's might Sunday while flying only a few hundred feet off the water. Cleo's winds disabled an engine and battered a wing.

Seven of the crew were injured, none seriously.

Vote to Seek Hospital Funds

Want County to Ask for Federal Grant

The buildings and grounds committee of the Oakland County Board of supervisors today recommended formal application for Hill-Burton federal aid funds to finance conversion of the County Tuberculosis Sanatorium into a certified sub-acute hospital.

★ ★ ★

Cost of the project has been estimated at $789,000, of which 45 per cent would be paid with money made available by the Hill-Burton act.

The recommendation was made to the ways and means committee, which must take formal action before the application can be started.

Supervisor David Levinson of Birmingham, chairman of the ways and means committee, called a special meeting for Thursday afternoon to consider the recommendation.

Levinson also appointed a study committee to determine whether a 20-year federal obligation which generally accompanies Hill-Burton funds can be deferred.

Members of the committee are Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Oakland County health director; George Williams, director of the Social Welfare Department; and Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Auditors.

Motel Robber Steals $182

Bloomfield Township police are seeking an armed robber who netted $182 in a holdup at the Motel Lee, 2551 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, yesterday morning and then made his getaway in the night manager's car.

★ ★ ★

In the office at the time of the holdup were night manager George Stock, 960 Tecumseh, Pontiac, and Ramona Wilson, 217 Princeton, Pontiac, who was arriving to replace him for the day.

★ ★ ★

The holdup man, who carried a revolver, made Stock lie on the floor in a back room while he emptied the cash box and took an envelope containing the night's receipts, Stock told police.

The two motel employes then were forced to drive the robber into Pontiac, where he left them at the corner of Baldwin and Yale, police said.

★ ★ ★

Stock's car was recovered on Lehigh Street about 8:30 a.m., an hour and a half after the holdup.

★ ★ ★

The robber, described as a white man of medium build, wore blue and white coveralls and a cap and covered the lower part of his face with a red bandanna, according to police.

The final tally is over 10,000 more than the original goal of 22,500.

"It is obvious from both the county and statewide results," said Levin, "that voters want the opportunity of deciding for themselves whether there should be a change in the present method of voting."

City Attorney Criticizes Proposed Charter Issue

BIRMINGHAM — City Attorney Dean G. Beier says he doesn't think the people of Birmingham need the rights of initiative and referendum being sought by the League of Women Voters (LWV).

★ ★ ★

Beier elaborated on his position against the proposed charter amendment in a report prepared for presentation to the City Commission tonight.

"My experience with Birmingham municipal government over the past 12 or more years has indicated to me that both the legislative and administrative branches of city government are exceedingly sensitive and responsive to the citizens of the city," he said.

Beier noted that the only recent instance in which Birmingham residents talked of placing commission action on a ballot was during the fluoridation controversy more than a year ago.

The attorney said he has four objections to referendum and initiative.

"First, experience has indicated to me that the initiative and referendum right is used principally by minority groups who have been unable to get their way with the legislative body," Beier said.

"Firemen's hours, pension plans, fluoridation, home owners' rights in connection with the Negro problem — these are the types of things that have been voted upon under the initiative and referendum right."

The attorney also noted there was a danger of a proposed ordinance being phrased in an awkward, amateurish manner.

The vote on such a proposal also could make administration difficult, according to Beier.

"Suppose that an ordinance is proposed and adopted which forbids the city from distributing fluoridated water?" he asked.

"Lastly," Beier concluded, "if I am correct that the people of Birmingham feel they have chosen competent persons to run their government, I think they would prefer to leave the management and operation of the city to their elected and employed officials who can be trusted to spend the time on each problem necessary to make an intelligent decision, rather than have minority groups coming to them each time there is dissatisfaction."

Special Convention Report With Some Facts, Figures

—least of all to political conventions.

The fathers were pretty good at founding, but they flunked the course in practical political science.

IDEALISTIC PLAN

Their idealistic little plan of selecting a chief executive by a body of nonpartisan state electors from among a slate of men considered qualified for the office worked fine—twice.

After that, with the election of 1800, political parties began springing up, rooms of the inns became smoke-filled — and the candidates were off and running.

Since 1828, Democrats have wound up in the White House 16 times, and have occupied the premises a total of 64 years.

★ ★ ★

In the 33 conventions previous to the one, 14 have been decided on the first roll call; 4 went to the second; 1 went around three times; 3 lasted through the fourth; and 1 saw the light in five.

MARATHON JOB

Although four nominees were named by acclamation, there have been some real marathon jobs interspersed.

One convention fought it out for 17 ballots and another for 22. And — don't go yet, you ain't heard nuthin' — there was one 44-roll call decision, one 46er and another that fell short of 50 by one.

The record talkfest, however, was the fracas of 1924 in New York. It went 103 rounds, lasted 16 days, before John W. Davis, a New York lawyer from West Virginia got the decision over William G. McAdoo and New York Gov. Al Smith.

History does not record the feminine filibustering on the prolonged absence of delegates that doubtless ensued on their return.

SUPENSE THRILLER

Watching this convention unfold will be pretty much like reading a suspense thriller backwards. The denouement of the plot is already known.

But a few subordinate issues will have to be wrung out, such as choice of the second-place nominee, the hassle over seating the warring delegations from Mississippi and the civil rights plank in the party platform.

On the identify of Johnson's running mate, your news ferret is sworn to secrecy. (Note to editor: How's that for digging myself out of a hole?)

★ ★ ★

The credentials committee is up to its collective ears (not beagles') in trouble trying to bottle up (not bourbon) in committee the solution to the Mississippi dual delegations.

RHUBARB POSSIBLE

Should it get onto the floor, there could indeed be a rhubarb.

The issue can be taken to the floor by a majority vote of eight state delegations. The Democratic Freedom party of Mississippi says it has at least 10 delegations in the bag — including Michigan's.

★ ★ ★

Michigan pledged its support as far back as Aug. 9 at a pre-convention meeting of delegates in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

At the same meeting, it was resolved not to advance the cause of any vice president aspirant, feeling that the President should be free to pick his own man.

The resolution came from the tireless lips of Gus Scholle, who predicated it upon some long-ago political experience of his that emphasized the futility of trying to influence the presidential nominee's preference and, incidentally, brought admitted discomfiture to Gus.

This open confession of fallibility, even of a bygone day, was greeted by stunned silence, and left Gus's followers pale and shaken and the meeting held further area interest in the selection of Michigan's two members to the platform committee.

★ ★ ★

Chosen were Gen. Philip A. Hart and Miss Adelaine (unrelated) Hart. If I didn't add that this should provide some good Hart to Hart talk I'd be liable to expulsion from SOAP (Society of Ancient Punsters).

Russian Feat Expected Soon

MOSCOW (UPI)—The launching of six unmanned Soviet satellites within the past six days has raised expectations of a new manned Russian space spectacular soon.

Western observers in Moscow said they expect the Russians to send up two or more astronauts, possibly to attempt a link-up in the atmosphere.

The launching Saturday of three new Sputniks in the Cosmos space series followed an earlier trio Tuesday.

The weekend shot — Cosmos satellites 41, 42 and 43—went up on two rockets. Tuesday's feat involved launching Cosmos Sputniks 38, 39 and 40 on a single, still undefined "new type" booster rocket.

But all six were said to have the same task—path finding for manned space flight.

SIMILAR CLUSTER

A similar cluster of Cosmos firings prefaced the 1963 double flight of cosmonauts Valery Bykovsky and Valentina Tereshkova.

* * *

American sources said the United States is at least 18 months away from attempting a link-up in space.

On Biological Institute

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—John M. Allen of the University of Michigan was named an at-large member of the American Institute of Biological Sciences Sunday at the group's annual convention.

Governor to Cut Ribbon

State Fair to Open Friday

A big, colorful Grand Opening Parade plus ribbon-cutting by Gov. Romney and the 119th Michigan State Fair will start on its exciting way Friday night to what shapes up as the biggest and best State Fair ever.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day, 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits, including great horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities.

The State Fair will run through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Gov. Romney will start the State Fair on its way officially at 6 p.m. Friday by cutting a ribbon at the Woodward entrance near State Fair Avenue.

★ ★ ★

At 8 p.m. the Grand Opening Parade will form at Jefferson and go north on Woodward to Vernor in downtown Detroit.

100 UNITS

More than 100 units will take part in the march, which will stretch about three miles.

There'll be stirring band music, colorful drill teams, high-stepping horses and gaily decorated floats.

The parade annually has attracted more than 100,000 spectators.

There'll be something for everybody—and more of it than ever before—at the State Fair. In almost every department and activity, the State Fair has outdone itself.

GENERAL ADMISSION

And, after general admission of $1 to the Fairgrounds is paid (children 12 and under are admitted free when they are accompanied by an adult), all but a few of the attractions of the 164-acre fairgrounds will be free.

The schedule of free entertainment is loaded:

● Programs at the Music Shell from morning through evening will feature such big-name stars as Count Basie and his band, jazz singer Nancy Wilson, the New Christy Minstrels, the Jimmy Wilkins Band, Hitsville, U.S.A., an array of top recording stars, and others.

● In the Coliseum, before the Horse Show events, Grand Ole Opry singing stars Faron Young and Buck Owens will perform country and western music.

● At the Grandstand, three shows daily will feature the outstanding Castle's International Circus.

● All over the Fairgrounds there will be strolling bands offering music of many lands from noon to midnight.

Of special appeal to teen-agers will be the Teen-Age Fair, admission 50 cents, with shows and exhibits aimed at them.

BEATLEMANIA

And there'll be a "We Love You, Beatles" Day, Sept. 6, with Beatlemania in the Music Shell.

For the younger children, there will be the free TV Fun Circus in the Theater for Children, featuring Detroit area TV stars.

Shows in the Children's Puppet Theater will feature TV puppet star Howard the Turtle.

★ ★ ★

The Kiddie Farm area will be a big attraction for children, and it will be the scene daily of the Junior Jamboree, a big free prize giveaway for kids 12 and under.

GREAT ATTRACTION

A great attraction each year, of course is the State Fair Horse Show. There will be 15 performances in the Coliseum. Free, of course.

The traditional features of the State Fair will be bigger and better than ever, too, including the big Midway, featuring the W. G. Wade Shows.

There'll also be a Junior Midway, designed especially for the kids.

★ ★ ★

BIGGER LIST

The agricultural exhibits—everything from bees to prize crops—have a bigger entry list than ever.

Home arts exhibits, offering the finest efforts of Michigan homemakers in needlework and other handicrafts, home baking and canning, will be in a new home, the fine $600,000 Home Arts Building.

In the Home Arts Building, too, will be an invitational Art exhibit of some 50 oil and water color paintings by Michigan artists.

★ ★ ★

With the Home Arts exhibits, there'll be a continuous program of demonstrations, wig weaving, hand weaving, gourmet cooking and china painting.

★ ★ ★

There will be fashion shows and a cookie bake-off.

Staebler Admits He Still Trails Romney

CHEBOYGAN (UPI) — Congressman Neil Staebler, the softsell but hard-working Democratic candidate for governor, ended another campaign trip Saturday by acknowledging he still trails Gov. George Romney by a hefty margin.

After the 900-mile trip by car and plane, Staebler said, "I still haven't solved the public relations problem. About two months ago, 30 per cent of the people didn't know me. Now 20 per cent don't know me."

But Staebler didn't seem to think by any means that victory was out of his grasp.

For one thing, he is not unaccustomed to the role of underdog.

In 1962, when he made his first bid for public office in the race for congressman-at-large, polls showed him trailing his Republican opponent, former Congressman Alvin Bentley, right up until two days before the election.

TIDE TURNED

But then the tide Staebler had been building turned, and he won by 110,000 votes.

Of the present situation, Staebler said, "I'm very satisfied about the way this campaign is going. I think the trip this weekend showed we are making progress."

The swing, his fifth into the Upper Peninsula so far this year, began about 8 p.m. Friday when, because of bad flying conditions, Staebler left for the north from Ann Arbor by auto.

★ ★ ★

On the way north, Staebler stopped at Clare for an ice cream cone and gasoline and he managed to get in a little handshaking at both business spots. In his new station wagon driven by his son Mike, he also caught a little sleep in a reclining front seat of the same type that is favored by Gov. Romney.

SATURDAY VISITS

Saturday the would-be governor visited:

● Two fairs, the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba and the Northern Michigan Fair at Cheboygan.

● a restaurant in St. Ignace

● a tailor shop and restaurant in Manistique

● a restaurant in Rapid River

● a grocery in Ensign

● and a restaurant and Polish wedding reception in Cheboygan.

Young Farmers Buying Land

Most Active Group Acquiring Holdings

Young farmers — particularly those under 30 years of age — are more active in the land market than farmers in any other age group, according to a recent survey conducted by USDA agricultural economists working out of Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Melvin L. Cotner, Myron E. Wirth and George D. Irwin found that out of 265 farmers selected at random in the Thumb and South Central areas of Michigan, more than 90 per cent of the farmers under 30 years of age bought or rented land during the 1959-63 period.

About half of the farmers in the 30-44 year age group acquired land, while 42 per cent in the 45-59 year age group expanded the size of their operation.

Fifteen per cent of the farm operators 60 years of age and older increased the size of their farm in the last four years.

★ ★ ★

The agricultural economists noted that land acquisition declined rapidly as operators spent more and more years farming.

NO CHANGES

Over two-thirds of those farming in the South Central and Thumb areas of Michigan for more than 20 years made no changes in land holdings during the last four years.

Meanwhile, however, two-thirds of those who had farmed less than 20 years acquired land.

4-H'ers Eligible for Two Grants

Outstanding college juniors will share in educational grants offered to present or former 4-H Club members.

★ ★ ★

Two scholarships of $800 each are being provided by the S & H Foundation for the fifth consecutive year, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

Girls who plan to major in home economics are eligible for the 1964 awards. Candidates must have completed at least three years of 4-H Club work.

Scholarships will be granted on the basis of three points: interest and desire to major in home economics with consideration to financial need, scholastic record in college, and all-around 4-H Club record.

★ ★ ★

Additional information and scholarship applications are available from county extension agents or the state 4-H Club office.

Top Mormon Resting After Heart Attack

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — David O. McKay, 90-year-old president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, is reported resting comfortably in Latter-Day Saints Hospital at Salt Lake City.

Officials of the hospital said McKay is showing "definite improvement" in his struggle to overcome effects of coronary thrombosis, suffered last week. McKay is the spiritual leader of more than 2 million Mormons.

Houston Fights Encephalitis

Suspected Cases Are Still Going Up

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The battle in Houston against encephalitis and its carrier — the mosquito — was being waged on four fronts today as the number of suspected cases continued to climb.

On the clinical front, at Ben Taub Hospital, nine new patients were admitted as possibly having encephalitis or sleeping sickness. Confirmation was impossible pending completion of laboratory tests.

* * *

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, who is coordinating the all-out war against the disease, said that as of Sunday night 120 cases had been reported in the Houston area.

Of this number, only four cases had been confirmed by laboratory tests. Blood specimens taken from approximately 23 cases were in various stages of laboratory analysis.

DEATHS REPORTED

Pigford said that in the last five weeks two deaths had been confirmed as due to encephalitis and 14 other deaths were under investigation.

On the epidemic front, Pigford said members of his staff and specialists from the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta, Ga., were working with maps to pinpoint where reported cases have occurred and expanding the system of obtaining reports of suspected cases from private hospitals.

On the entomological front, Dr. William D. Sudia and three others from the Atlanta center erected mosquito traps in various sectors of the city and sent samples of mosquitoes to Atlanta to determine which type carries the disease.

On the mosquito front, Jim Henry of the Houston civil defense office said city crews were working in all 16 areas of the city to complete the first phase of the spraying plan by tonight.

It Seems to Me . . . .

'Imported' Senate Candidates an Affront to U. S. Voters

BOBBY KENNEDY will be a candidate for the U. S. Senate from New York. Of course, the young chap lives in Virginia and Massachusetts, and votes in Massachusetts. The best defense yet offered for this jim-dandy geographical sommersault is an artless and naive:

"So what?"

★ ★ ★

You can like it or lump it.

Lyndon B. Johnson handled Kennedy's Vice Presidential yearning very effectively and so the post of Senator from our biggest state was the most obvious move for the perpetuation of personal power. Bobby never lived in New York but that's a small matter to the family. Didn't their boy, Pierre Salinger, become "Senator from California"? The Kennedys aren't fussy or choosy, just as long as the clan's on the ballot.

★ ★ ★

The current move is an affront to the voters of the Nation and an affliction that few states besides New York could stomach. It's high time we amend our Constitution to compel Senators to run and represent the districts where they live.

★ ★ ★

Cloakroom rumors suggest LBJ would like to nudge Adlai Stevenson into this same New York job. His Illinois connections could be valuable to the Johnson cause. The New York spot is a bit of a free-for-all at the moment.

How about Winston Churchill?

'Extra!' . . .

"Stop the presses."

For the first time in nearly half a century, the Greenback Party will not have a candidate for the Presidency of the United States. This group contended that if enough paper money were printed, we could all pay our debts. And once, they elected two Congressmen from Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Reason for "cease fire" directive:

Not enough greenbacks.

Foreign Aid . . .

President LYNDON B. JOHNSON and his associates register disappointment over the Senate's vote to reduce the foreign appropriations bill by $216.7 million.

A staggering $3.25 billion remains. America still gasps at this.

★ ★ ★

LBJ turns off the electric lights in the White House with his right hand and saves $11; but the other loosens our tax money all over the world. U. S. payers are pretty much fed up. The recipients still growl: "Yank, Go Home" and in the next breath: "but leave $500 million as you depart."

We've had almost enough.

★ ★ ★

The world greets us with a fatuous smile and extended hands. And when these are filled, they turn us around and deliver a mighty kick in the pants.

Let's catch on.

Each Vote Counts . . .

Are you one?

I mean one of those that says: "My vote doesn't count"?

★ ★ ★

Just listen.

In 1884 — 80 years ago — if 575 people in New York had changed their votes, Grover Cleveland would have been defeated for the Presidency of the United States and the office would have gone to James G. Blaine. The state's electoral vote would have switched.

★ ★ ★

Does your vote count?

What do YOU THINK?

Curious Division . . .

Communism is divided rather curiously around the globe. The always unreliable Reds claim they're "in 90 nations." Further, the Kremlin insists that two-thirds of the party organizations are loyal to the Soviets in the ruckus with the Chinese Reds. With true Oriental blandness, MAO TSE-TUNG bows before this but then says that there are a little better than 40 million total Communist party members and that half of them are definitely aligned with the Chinese, anyway.

Draw your own conclusions.

★ ★ ★

One of the challenging sidelights is a statement from China suggesting that the Chinese will set out to take over the world leadership of all communism.

That will be worth watching.

It'll be interesting, even if it fails.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Ushers at the Dem convention this week will be gaily decked in striking red, white and blue costumes . . . . . I hear JOHN FETZER, Tiger owner, has been negotiating with NBC and ABC for weeks over the sale of the ball club to one of the networks. . . . . With the President slated to appear, Secret Service has double-checked credentials of convention participants. More than 600 people were doing the job. . . . . Overheard: "So the MERMAN-BORGNINE marriage lasted 37 days! Pretty good for a bare-knuckle fight."

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie there won't be an automobile strike of any appreciable duration. . . . .Trusted scouts advise me Rebecca La Zelle is one of the area's very attractive young ladies. . . . . CBS-TV has been roundly scored for replacing Walter Cronkite at the Dem convention. Eisenhower was in the vocal chorus. . . . . NBC will inaugurate its fall program Sept. 21 with Bob Hope, Jack Paar and Jack Benny on each other's programs. . . . . There's a new drink: "Gold Water — The Cause That Refreshes."

REBECCA

★ ★ ★

"The secret of good health is to leave the table hungry, the bed sleepy and the tavern thirsty." . . . . . LIBBY MILLER, daughter of the VP candidate has a job at the World's Fair. She speaks French, German and Russian. . . . . BULLOCK'S (Los Angeles) Department Store is upgrading nomenclature. The parking lot is now "the motor court," a switchboard operator becomes a "telephone attendant" and the good, old customer is now a "patron." . . . . . White-topped automobiles are 13 degrees cooler in summer than other colors. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — both Romeo Peach Queens: the 40 second champion and the actual winner; the J's—the judge responsible for that stupid faux pas in the contest.

Something Seems Out Of Gear

David Lawrence Says:

Dem Confab More Like Carnival

ATLANTIC CITY — To paraphrase a widely publicized paradox uttered just a few weeks ago at the Republican National Convention, the political behavior of this conclave of the Democrats might well be epitomized as follows:

LAWRENCE

Extremism in defense of hypocrisy is no vice. Moderation in pursuit of ambition is no virtue.

For it's more like a carnival here than a national assembly designed to nominate a candidate for election to the presidency of the most powerful nation in the world.

The atmosphere rather is that of a carefree reunion of politicians from all parts of the country.

★ ★ ★

They know ahead of time what they are to do and just how to do it. They don't even have to worry about whom to select as vice president, as this will be told them by the boss—Lyndon Johnson—in advance of the balloting.

ROUTINE PROCEDURE

What he dictates will, of course, be ratified in a routine procedure—a vote by acclamation after a single roll call.

But the story here isn't who will be nominated for the presidency and vice presidency on the Democratic tickets. It's the story that was apparent also at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

It concerns the absolute indifference manifested toward the pious principle proclaimed by the Supreme Court of the United States in a recent decision calling for "one person, one vote."

★ ★ ★

For there is no such thing as a vote by the citizen in most of the states of the union in the process of selecting presidential nominees.

PARTY BOSSES

The convention system compels the country to choose in the November election between two candidates selected by groups of party bosses and politicians who rule the roost without benefit of a referendum or any other representative method of picking delegates to reflect voters desires or opinion.

There is nothing, moreover, in a party convention that could, by the remotest stretch of the imagination, be compared to the operations of a national legislative body composed of representative individuals versed in national and internations affairs.

★ ★ ★

Some members of Congress do participate in the writing of the party platforms, but the delegates from all over the country take what is handed to them by the party bosses and automatically approve it.

★ ★ ★

If sometimes there is a dissent and a minority report is filed, this usually is claimed to be "on principle," but as a rule it is actually a transparent mechanism of politics designed by a rival faction to try to embarrass a would-be candidate, as happened at the San Francisco convention.

Capital Letter:

Is Texas Chief Snagging Sen. Humphrey VP Bid?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Front-running Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey may have run into a Texas-sized snag in his bid for the Democratic vice presidential nomination this week.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Reports are circulating that Gov. John Connally, long-time intimate of President Lyndon B. Johnson and a powerful political force in his own right, is urging LBJ to place the mantle on Sen. Eugene McCarthy instead of Humphrey.

Connally, who recently called a preconvention meeting of Southern governors, is said to have told Johnson afterward that the South might go almost solidly for GOP candidate Barry Goldwater if Humphrey is on the Democratic ticket.

A call to McCarthy about the report brought this comment:

★ ★ ★

"Although I have not personally talked with Connally recently, this is the kind of response that we are getting in various quarters. We have talked with a number of people who are being consulted by President Johnson, and have presented my qualifications for the vice presidency."

★ ★ ★

The Minnesota senator pointed to recently published reports that Frank Smith, Democratic boss of Philadelphia, and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley are partial to him, and that Sen. Stephen M. Young of Ohio is flatly in his corner.

LITTLE QUESTION

A Texas congressman and close friend of Connally's said there is "little question in my mind but that Texas would be happier with McCarthy on the ticket than with Humphrey."

Connally, Johnson's chief strategist at the '60 convention, is a long-time friend and admirer of McCarthy.

His reported opposition to Humphrey might have considerable influence on LBJ, since the Texas born-and-bred President is naturally eager to carry his home state.

Johnson has already had one tangle this spring with Connally over Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

TOO LIBERAL

Too liberal for Connally's taste, the governor wanted to run an opposition but Johnson successfully supported Yarborough for renomination.

★ ★ ★

Although candidate LBJ naturally will not give Connally a final veto over the vice presidential nominee, he certainly would want to enlist his all-out support in carrying Texas for the Johnson ticket.

'Retired Men on Benches Didn't Harm a Thing'

I can't see why the city would remove those benches from Saginaw Street where the old retired men could sit and rest, yet put benches on the corner of Bagley and Wessen for those young men to sit and drink wine and beer all day.

Those retired men were very nice and didn't harm a thing.

But, unlike Shakespeare's job, which was his last creation, I predict the creators of our "Tempest" will create more and better ones yet.

Writes on Law Enforcement Restrictions

It is interesting to read about Judge Moore's views on the alleged restrictions placed on law enforcement agencies because of recent decisions from our courts. Judge Moore does not agree that the methodical ferretting out of crime is adequate, but he seems to advocate an effort to cut through the red tape of constitutional safeguards afforded an accused.

I am totally unsympathetic to the proposition that we must curtail fundamental rights of the pursued hopefully to enhance the position of the pursuer. The lessons of history might reveal that soon everyone is suspect and subject to harassment for the reason that he has no protective recourse. Even the pursuer may find himself caught in the web and perish along with the rest. That would be the only consolation.

Hysterical Comments

The (Manchester, England) Guardian

The President of the United States is first and foremost the President of the United States; and it is natural for Americans to resent what they may interpret as outside interference in their own affairs.

★ ★

But the President of the United States is also the leader of the whole western alliance, and his decisions may affect the lives — or deaths — of America's allies more than the decisions of their own governments can.

The man who enters the White House in January will carry a world on his shoulders; and although most of the inhabitants have no votes in his election, they have voices — and they cannot be expected no to use them.

European comment on the American Presidential election should be accurate, honest, and sympathetic; and not all of it has been.

The United States was a mass democracy when Britain was ruled by a narrow aristocratic oligarchy, and when most of continental Europe lived under dynastic autocrats.

This has been too often ignored in some of the more hysterical comments which have appeared on this side of the Atlantic; and so have the sacrifices borne by the American people in the defense of our freedom —and the strains those sacrifices have inevitably left behind them.

But sympathetic comment need not be uncritical comment. American Presidential elections have been conducted under a worldwide spotlight for some time now; the American people are experienced enough not to be dazzled by the glare.

Germany's Inflation

The (Milan, Italy) Il Giorno

Holland seems to be going through the same sort of inflationary process that Italy and France have just recovered from. It seems as if Germany will be the next to face a similar rise in prices.

Apart from similarities, however, there are differences which depend on the diversity of the structural characteristics of the respective economies.

Industrially, Germany is the best equipped nation in the Common Market. In that country the inflationary pressure which stems from a scarcity of manpower is accompanied by a surplus of exports which adds to the pressure.

★ ★ ★

In Italy and France, in the inflationary spiral from which we have just emerged, there was no excess of foreign trade, but the opposite.

Movie Writer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Louis Pollock, 60, movie writer credited with "The Jackie Robinson Story" and a version of "The Lady and the Tramp," died Sunday in his home.

Between Two Germanys

Red Tape Snarls Cooperation

BERLIN (UPI)—It took 19 years for East and West Germany to decide to rebuild a border bridge on the main highway connecting Berlin and South Germany.

For 15 years the matter hardly was discussed. It took four years of negotiations to sign an agreement after formal discussions began.

That tells a lot about East-West German relations.

Considering the state of the relations the wonder is that agreement on rebuilding the bridge was reached at all, not that it took so long.

In fact, there are no relations between the Western Federal Republic of Germany and the Eastern German Democratic Republic, if by relations diplomatic ties are meant.

REFUSE RECOGNITION

West Germany considers itself the only legitimate German state and refused to recognize East Germany or have any official dealings with it. The Western allies support this stand.

East Germany, on the other hand, desires Western recognition and at every possible opportunity suggests high-level East-West German negotiations on disputed questions.

This clash accounts for the delay in reaching an agreement to rebuild the Autobahn Bridge over the Saal River near Hof on the border of the East German province of Thuringia and the West German state of Bavaria.

★ ★ ★

The bridge was blown up by German Army engineers in April 1945 in a vain effort to halt U.S. Army as World War II neared its end.

BACK ROADS

Since then traffic has taken a one-hour detour over bad back roads, dangerous in winter.

It was to everyone's interest to rebuild the bridge. But the East German demand for some form of recognition and West German refusal to grant it kept coming up.

First the East Germans demanded that an agreement be signed by the West German and East German transport ministers.

West Germany refused as it always has refused negotiations on a ministerial level that East Germany could point to as a precedent or sign of recognition.

LEOPOLD SELECTED

It said negotiations must be carried out by the head of the West German Trade Office in Berlin which negotiates with East Germany on inter-zonal trade.

The trade head, Dr. Kurt Leopold, is a low-level official who according to the West German government carries on only "technical" discussions that in no way imply political or diplomatic recognition.

After long delay the East Germans said they would accept Leopold but only if the West German transport minister officially gave him power of attorney to negotiate.

Then the East Germans demanded that at least Leopold sign the bridge agreement in the name of the West German government.

The West Germans again refused and Leopold finally signed the agreement Aug. 14 as head of the West German Trade Mission in West Berlin. Siegried Kasper, deputy East Germany highway chief, signed for East Germany.

This to the outside world may be considered ridiculous hair-splitting, but it is a game that is played with great ardor in both West and East Germany.

It complicates and often makes impossible East - West German dealings.

Lodge in Germany Seeking Viet Aid

BONN, Germany (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, special envoy of President Johnson, arrived in Bonn today to seek further West German support for U.S. policy in South Viet Nam. He is on a tour of allied capitals to explain U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

"The German government is doing many valuable things in Viet Nam," Lodge told reporters. "I think there is a real appreciation here for the problem. I have not come here with hat in hand to beg for more aid. But naturally, with a country emerging into civilization like South Viet Nam, all kinds of help are necessary. There is no such thing as too much help."

West Germany has promised 95 million marks ($23.75 million) in easy-term loans to South Viet Nam.

Say Check Shows Reds, Leftists in N.Y. Youth Organization

NEW YORK — An FBI loyalty check of personnel of Mobilization for Youth has shown that the agency has two employes who are members of the Communist Party and three who belong to other leftist organizations, the New York Times said today.

The newspaper said neither of the Communist party members is in a policy-making position.

The story said the FBI report, which will be transmitted to City Council President Paul R. Screvane today, reportedly will say that at least 32 of the agency's employes have been linked in the past to the Communist party or front groups.

Screvane heads a city survey of Mobilization, a Lower East Side demonstration project to combat juvenile delinquency. The project is supported mainly by federal and city funds. Screvane is director of the city's antipoverty program.

★ ★ ★

The FBI in Washington had no comment on the Times story.

City police and the City Department of Investigation also have been looking into alleged Communist infiltration of Mobilization for Youth.

'SMALL NUMBER'

Winslow Carlton, board chairman of Mobilization, said yesterday on the WCBS-T V "Newsmakers" program that there may be "a small number" of Mobilization's 300 staff members who are affiliated with subversive groups.

He said such persons "should not be on our staff," and he indicated that any suspected staff member would be given a hearing.

Carlton said he thinks an organization like Mobilization is not capable of detecting any real Communist infiltrator. "The good Communist keeps himself pretty well under cover," he said. "It's obviously impossible for a voluntary organization to detect such a person."

★ ★ ★

James E. McCarthy, administrative director of Mobilization, who appeared on the WNBC-TV "Searchlight" program, and Carlton said they had been informed that the results of the FBI security check should reach Screvane today or tomorrow.

TO NAME LAWYER

The two top officials of the agency said they hoped within two days to name a distinguished lawyer to look into possible questionable affiliations among mobilization staff members.

They said the agency has agreed to have such a lawyer review the FBI findings and — if subversive activities are uncovered — recommend to Mobilization what steps should be taken.

McCarthy said that if the probe named any member of the staff as a current card-carrying Communist, the individual "would certainly be given a hearing" to determine whether he should be fired.

RACIALLY MIXED

The organization has concentrated its work in a racially mixed 67 block area.

The Times story said in part:

In the FBI findings, some of the Mobilization employes were linked with Communist-front groups because they signed petitions sponsored by organizations that are on the attorney general's subversive organization list.

★ ★ ★

The FBI report also will be scrutinized in Washington by the Labor Department, the National Institute of Mental Health, and the Juvenile Delinquency Division of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare — the three major federal funding agencies for Mobilization of Youth.

OFFICIAL REPORT

An official report of the FBI investigation of Mobilization was sent to Washington Saturday. Officials of the organization met here late Friday with David L. Hackett, executive director of President Johnson's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency.

Fire Is Raging on Palomar

TEMECULA, Calif. (UPI) — A brush fire raged uncontrolled early today on the northwest slope of Mt. Palomar, 14 air miles from the 200-inch mirror of the world's largest telescope.

There was no immediate danger to the priceless instrument, a U.S. Forestry Service spokesman said.

Today's forecast calls for 98-degree temperature, 8 per cent humidity and winds up to 18 miles an hour. Hopefully, the winds are predicted to blow away from the telescope.

More than 500 firefighters battled the blaze in high rugged brush and timberland along State Highway 71. Fire fighters estimated the fire had burned over 1,200 acres by midnight yesterday.

Two houses were reported destroyed, one seriously damaged and several outbuildings destroyed.

Japanese Socialists Predict N-Sub Visit

TOKYO (AP) — The opposition Socialists predicted today that the Japanese government will soon allow U.S. nuclear submarines to visit Japan, and again demanded the submarines be kept out of the country.

The Socialist statement said the United States required the port calls because of a change in strategy as a result of the worsening crisis in Viet Nam.

Her Vacation Is Spent Lost in Mountains

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The former Army nurse wants to go home. Her vacation, while exciting, hasn't been much fun.

Harriet Coyle, 39, San Antonio, Tex., spent 2½ days lost and without food and water, in the northern New Mexico mountains. She was hospitalized for treatment for leg cuts and scratches, and mild shock.

★ ★ ★

She and her husband, Capt. George Coyle of the Brooke Army Medical Center, Tex., and her father-in-law were on a picnic and rock hunting trip in the mountains north of Santa Fe last Wednesday.

Mrs. Coyle lagged behind. Then she found she didn't know where she was and got no response to her screams for help.

When found late Friday she was about 16 miles north of where she first strayed.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

Copyright 1964 by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

'Dig We Musn't'

BY JIM NORBERT

For thousands of years (I counted them) this small river twisted deep underground, ending up in the ocean. (As many of us do.)

A number of tiny streams made up the river. One such little stream had its rock formation upset by the building of a housing project.

A good deal of the stream still made the river but since water (like all of us) needs an out, some of the stream now came up to the earth's surface and was known as a "spring."

It also caused the ground about a mile back of the housing project to turn swampy.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Blow was one of these clowns who thrive on "challenges."

TOO SWAMPY

When told the ground was far too swampy for a house, he promptly showed them all (although none of them could really care less) by sinking tall tree trunks to form a strong foundation.

This caused the zig-zag outlet of the spring to become completely blocked. By the time Joe moved into his spanking new split-level ranch house, the spring had backed up to form a pool some 150 yards to the rear of Joe's pad.

At first Joe was delighted to have a built-in pool on his land, but the water had no place to go and it became sluggish and full of mosquito larvae.

★ ★ ★

Within months poor Joe was thin and worn, ready to flip, a wreck from lack of sleep, his drawn face a mass of mosquito bites.

STOCK POOL

Joe's favorite chicks refused to spend any time in his mosquito haven. A bottle-buddy suggested he stock the pool with fish.

Fish would not only eat the mosquito larvae, but they would provide interesting entertainment for Joe and his guests who could catch them and eat them. It would sort of turn the tables on those mosquitos.

Joe was not the kind of man who goes in for every suggestion made by well-wishing friends, but after some argument he was convinced that it was worth a try.

★ ★ ★

After all, the fish wouldn't bother him, and even if they didn't eat the mosquitos, they could be caught.

CYNICAL DOUBT

Full of cynical doubt Joe purchased a few baby fish and they came on strong and fat, lunching on mosquito eggs.

Joe was delighted once more, for again he had kayoed the challenge and the pesky mosquitos were gone.

Joe slept and rested, grew fat himself during the following months, plus any number of babes returned to put their hand in at decorating his pad.

★ ★ ★

One Sunday afternoon a friend staggered out of Joe's rumpus room. Reaching the pool he screamed, "Man, what plump old fish we have here! Hey, Joey, you got yourself a fisherman's paradise."

CAUGHT FEVER

Joe and his pals caught the fishing fever, frying the fat fish on the outdoor barbecue pit fast as they hooked them. It was a new kick. They fished like crazy and within a week they had eaten every fish, even the smallest, in the pool.

★ ★ ★

Any conservationist would have told Joe that he had made a mistake.

There are natural balances which have to be maintained. As long as the fish were in the pool, doing their job, the least Joe could have done would have been to grant a few of them parole from the hook and frying pan.

★ ★ ★

But Joe was not the kind of man who thought things out. And when he upset the balance, Nature punished him.

PING-PONG JAG

For the next few weeks things were okay. Joe was now on a ping-pong jag.

Unfortunately a passing and sick mosquito reached the pool, dropped its eggs.

★ ★ ★

The wretched mosquito was dying because he was full of hungry and tiny virus. Since there were no fish to eat the eggs, the virus grew strong enough to explore the area.

★ ★ ★

Some of them found their way into Joe Blow's fat tummy. A flash fever took poor Joe from his split-level world.

JUST AS EXTINCT

Joe was just as extinct as the fish that could have saved his life.

The house soon carried a rep for being a haunted joint, on all levels. Nobody in his right mind was interested in buying it.

After a few years the pad crumpled and rotted. The weight and pressure on the foundation piles eased and the spring was now able to work its way down to join the underground river once more.

★ ★ ★

The pool vanished, the virus had long since perished and soon everything was pretty much like it had been for thousands of years.

★ ★ ★

So, has this fable a moral? You can bet your green grass it sure enough has:

MAN, WHY DON'T YOU STOP MAKING WAVES?

(The End)

Viet Village Chief Gets Results

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Eight months ago Capt. Pham Van Kiet was appointed chief of the Khiem Ich District of Dih Tuong Province south of Saigon.

We met in a restaurant someplace in South Viet Nam with two of my acquaintances who had been with him as guerrilla fighters in the early war years.

"Eight months ago," a Vietnamese goverment official had told me, "it sometimes cost a man 100,000 piasters (roughly $2,500) to get the district chief's job in Khiem Ich District.

"Farmers had to pay bribes to get service from officials. Justice depended on whom you knew. The tax collected from a farmer was related to whether he had official friends. The military service required of a youth depended on whom his friends were.

★ ★ ★

"The government army would periodically move in and round up the youth by force, commandeer homes, steal chickens, rape the wives.

FLED TO REDS

"The 40-man local militia would not fight. Many young people regularly fled to the Communists.

"Virtually the whole of the district outside My Tho City was under Viet Cong control. It was considered one of the worst Viet Cong areas of South Viet Nam."

Capt. Pham Van Kiet is a short, tough, excitable man who does not hesitate to go straight to a deputy prime minister of South Viet Nam and argue his points.

Looking angry, he said to me:

"I paid nothing for the job. I left my car in Saigon, took only my bicycle. I told my 20 village chiefs (representing 120 to 150 hamlets) that this was the end of bribery and corruption in this district.

FRIGHTENING SITUATION

"The situation I found was frightening. After a checkup I fired the assistant district chief, the five other top district officials, six of my 20 village chiefs and three officers of the 40-man district militia.

"I jailed two village chiefs for bribery and extortion. I sent a warning to all my hamlet chiefs. Three immediately fled.

"I told my village chiefs to 'judge me by how many bridges we construct, how many hectares of rice we get planted, how many markets we build.'

★ ★ ★

"I set up a security squad which went from village to village picking up complaints from the farmers and villagers. I took action on these complaints.

ROUGH EXAMPLES

"I set rough examples, even at the bottom. I had a platoon leader who was a very good fighter. But he stole money and food from the farmers. I threw him out fast.

"I built the militia from 40 to 400 men. I picked the new officers and noncoms strictly on their performance — the VC and weapons they captured, their bravery in battle.

"I couldn't get the mortars I needed for the militia, so I started making my own locally. I was issued a few automatic rifles, but not enough magazines for the ammunition.

★ ★ ★

After a battle in a nearby district between VC and government troops, my men and I went over the battlefield and picked up discarded magazines.

MILITIA FIGHTS

"Now the militia fights. Young people are beginning to volunteer.

"Villagers are starting to spy on the Viet Cong. Every time VC troops come at night to a hamlet, people there pass the word to relatives who inform me.

"Most of them are still afraid to come to us directly. But one night when the VC set up an ambush for the militia, a woman took a boat and found a militiaman she knew and told him. The militia then shifted its plans, caught the VC in its own ambush.

★ ★ ★

Today, Viet Cong troops are beginning to leave the dstirct and move to neighboring districts."

SEES KILLING

Out of the 350-400 districts in South Viet Nam, there are maybe 10 . . . 20 . . . 30 . . . 40 district chiefs like Capt. Pham Van Kiet.

That night a key Vietnamese official predicted to me, "The Viet Cong will kill Capt. Pham Van Kiet within the next 12 months."

LBJ to Give Salute, Fete for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to the White House Thursday a compromise bill providing $1,570,968,000 for construction at U.S. military bases during the fiscal year which began July 1.

The measure provides $2,660,000 for construction at Air Force bases in Michigan, including:

★ ★ ★

K.I. Sawyer AFB, Marquette, $499,000; Kincheloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie, $1,470,000; Selfridge AFB, Mount Clemens, $299,000, and Wurtsmith AFB, Oscoda, $392,000.

The compromise bill was worked out by the House and Senate appropriations committees.

Gunshot Proves Fatal

YORK, S.C. (AP) — Caroline Coleman, 42, television personality and Broadway understudy actress, died Friday of a gunshot wound which the York County coroner termed self-inflicted. Miss Coleman signed a three-year contract with CBS-TV in 1949 and appeared in "Make Mine Music."

Dynamite Explosion Kills Four Workers

MEEKER, Colo. (AP) — Twenty-two sticks of dynamite exploded while four men worked on a flatbed truck preparing it for use in casing a northwestern Colorado oil well.

An oil company representative discovered the bodies Sunday. Kracht said the tragedy may have occurred either Friday or Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The men, all from Vernal, Utah, were Charles McConkie, 35, his son Duane, 16, Robert Hatch, 27, and Houtz Ross, 44.

Extensive Protection Fails to Halt Theft

WASHINGTON (AP) — An extensive burglar alarm system and a steel door in the back failed to prevent burglars stealing nearly $50,000 in furs from a Connecticut Avenue store, the French Poodle.

The burglars broke into an office above the store, owned by Mrs. Alvin Epstein. They cut a hole through the ceiling of the shop, lowered themselves with a rope or rope ladder, and made away early Sunday with the furs.

'Charms' Couldn't Save Her

Russia 'Witch' Sent to Jail

MOSCOW (UPI) — Anna Shalygina is a witch, according to the current issue of the Russian Supreme Court journal "Soviet Justice."

The magazine said Anna was sentenced to two years in prison for taking advantage of "citizens" religious beliefs . . . to cure and charm away the misfortunes and diseases . . . for a price."

"She was a witch," Soviet Justice said, who dealt "in holy water and icons."

The magazine said Anna accepted $110 to "charm away" one old woman's back pains and took $11 from a young woman to patch up a spat between her and her boyfriend.

★ ★ ★

To bring back a runaway husband in another case, Soviet justice claimed, Anna prescribed a chicken feather to be worn around the neck of the abandoned wife.

Coed Takes Police Training With 300 Men

CHICAGO (AP) — Coeds who are wont to calculate the male-to-female ratio might envy Virginia Rakocinski's situation: 300 to 1 and she's the one.

But the subjects she studies are a far cry from the usual coed fare — jujitsu, narcotics, criminal law and pistol shooting.

Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

SEPARATE CLASS

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating.

★ ★ ★

"I'm here to study," she said, "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

TOP CHALLENGER

She already has met one challenge: she topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on the Skokie police department. Skokie is a suburb served by the Chicago police training school.

A graduate of Mundelein College in Chicago, with a degree in chemistry, Miss Rakocinski quit a job in the radioactive research department of a Skokie pharmaceutical firm.

When she completes her training, Miss Rakocinski says she wants to work with juvenile delinquents and other young people.

Physical training is the only class she doesn't attend with the men. She does, however, participate in the male jujitsu classes.

GOOD SHOT

Lt. John Childs, head of the Skokie police department's administrative division said: "She's getting good grades and doing better than average on the pistol range."

"The only thing odd about her as a trainee is, frankly, her long hair," an academy spokesman said.

Charged With Keeping Order for Dems

New Beat for Senate's 'Policeman'

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — The man charged with keeping order at this Democratic convention — and sometimes that is no mean feat — is a former gun-toting border patrolman whose current full-time chore is keeping order in the U.S. Senate.

That is generally a cinch, though it is true that two senators recently wrestled each other to the marble floor outside a Commerce Committee hearing room.

Senate Sergeant-at - Arms Joseph C. Duke unfortunately wasn't on hand to break that one up.

Duke is here, though, and with considerably more help in his peace-keeping role than he ever had in the Senate.

Besides being convention sergeant-at-arms, Duke is a delegate from Arizona and a member of the platform committee.

SEEMS RELAXED

Though wearing three hats, Duke manages to look like the most relaxed functionary around, and you would never mistake him for a cop.

Duke was an assistant sergeant-at-arms at the Democratic conventions of 1936, 1944 and 1952. But the quiet-spoken Arizonan is a delegate this year for the first time.

Despite the hurly-burly elsewhere, Duke holds forth quietly in a strategically located office on the mammoth convention hall's top level, overlooking the convention floor.

★ ★ ★

With him are his two veteran secretarial aides from Washington, Mrs. Dorothy McCarthy and Emily Kennedy.

CHIEF ASSISTANT

Chet Smith of Nevada, another easy-going Westerner, is Duke's chief assistant and shoulders much of the detail work.

Normally, Smith is chief counsel of the Senate District of Columbia Committee.

Duke, a man of medium build with horn-rimmed glasses and a fondness for good cigars, looks not at all like the border patrolman he was until a bullet through the abdomen, fired by a Mexican "wetback," ended his police career and almost his life. The wound still bothers him at times.

Condemned to less vigorous duty, Duke went to Washington under Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., the Senate's president pro tempore and third man in line for the presidency. A series of Senate jobs led to his present post as sergeant-at-arms.

Duke admits there were problems getting the pieces here pulled together for the convention. "But they're all falling into place," he said.

He belittled his own role. He praised the New Jersey State Police, who will handle much of the crowd control work, as "very competent and efficient," and also the convention hall's veteran year-round staff of trained guards.

LBJ Outlines 'Success' Policies, Doesn't Name VP Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, still pondering the choice of a vice presidential running mate, says the policies of his administration offer the country the "course of sure success," with peace and prosperity.

On the eve of the Atlantic City convention that will renominate him, the President met Saturday with 30 Democratic governors and outlined Democratic accomplishments in a speech to them and to a radio-television audience.

* * *

Then, in a warmup for the general election campaign, he said:

"Others may believe and others may say that the people of America want to pursue some other way, but I do not and I cannot agree.

DOESN'T BELIEVE

"I do not believe the people of this country want to turn aside from this course of sure success — to risk war or to gamble with peace — to place their prosperity in peril or their well-being in doubt — to reopen old questions that are now resolved or to fail to face new questions that are now imposed."

As to a running mate, he told the governors he still has several men under consideration and will announce his choice sometime this week — in time for nominating speeches to be prepared.

* * *

The vice presidential candidate is to be nominated on Wednesday, just after Johnson's own nomination receives formal action.

Sunday Johnson attended the National City Christian church where evangelist Billy Graham was guest speaker, and then entertained Graham at the White House.

GOVERNORS ABSENT

Four Southern governors — George C. Wallace of Alabama, Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, John McKeithen of Louisiana and Paul Johnson of Mississippi — stayed away from the Saturday session. The others met for three hours with Johnson and many of his Cabinet members, and later were guests at a White House dinner.

In his speech, Johnson said his administration has kept the peace, mounted no expeditions, widened no wars and given an appropriate response to aggression.

What he called the most productive Congress in decades has "found answers to the problems that have troubled and perplexed" generations, he said, and there have been 43 months of the longest and largest economic gains in history.

English Mass First in U.S.

Historic Service Set at St. Louis Church

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Joseph Cardinal Ritter, host prelate for the 25th annual National Liturgical Week, sees today's opening session as publicizing changes being made in Roman Catholic worship without disturbing doctrine.

Key feature of the four-day meeting of some 15,000 delegates — from bishops to parishioners — is celebration of the Mass in English late today for the first time in the United States.

The English-language Mass will be effective throughout the country Nov. 29. Other countries will be able to celebrate it in their own languages too.

The Ecumenical Council, said Cardinal Ritter, 72-year-old archbishop of St. Louis, "desires the church to be alerted to be adapted to our times, and also to show forth the church in a better light to the world."

REFORM, PROGRESS

The conference will discuss in a workshop atmosphere changes in church reform and progress. They range from replacement of Latin by English in the Mass to new concepts of church art and music.

Some present Catholic actions during the Mass "are confusing to the people," Cardinal Ritter said. "Non-Catholics seeing it say, 'What are they doing here?' Our actions don't really indicate what it is we are doing."

Cardinal Ritter had a lead role during the two Vatican councils in obtaining approval for English usage in the Mass. He also has been a leader in promoting other changes in church liturgy.

"We are going to have in the Mass more Scripture reading," the Cardinal said. "Probably we will have (eventually) two Epistles — one from the Old Testament and one from the New Testament. You can't understand the New Testament without the Old Testament."

FORMAL BODY

The liturgical conference is the formal Catholic body concerned with Christian worship. It comprises educators, Bible scholars, musicians, artists and others involved in church liturgy.

The first of four English-language Masses will be celebrated at 5 p.m. at Kiel Auditorium in downtown St. Louis. Cardinal Ritter will celebrate another Tuesday — feast of St. Louis IX, king of France and patron of the city.

Threatens Child, Uses Knife on Self

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — A young father threatened the life of his baby and slashed himself with a butcher knife last night before a priest and a friend calmed him.

Officers said the 24-year old man stood in a balcony window of his apartment for an hour and a half. He held a knife to the chest of his 11-month-old son and occasionally slashed himself on his arms with the knife.

A priest talked his way into the apartment and took the child while a friend convinced the man to hand over the knife. A hospital spokesman said the man had three slashes on each wrist and another on his forearm.

Major News Briefs From Washington

$7.2 Million in Counterfeit Money Seized in Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service reports it seized a record $7.2 million in counterfeit currency during the year ended June 30.

Of the known bogus currency, agents confiscated $11 out of every $12 before it was passed.

★ ★ ★

Chief James J. Rowley of the Secret Service reported that agents uncovered 44 counterfeit plants and arrested 737 persons during the year.

During the preceding fiscal year agents seized only $2.8 million. This comparison was distorted by the seizure of more than $2 million in one case in California in early July 1963.

INVESTIGATIONS INCREASE

The number of cases investigated increased from 10,378 to 12,166.

Rowley said improved printing equipment has enabled individuals to turn out counterfeits more easily and faster.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher pay and good assignments are twin lures being offered by the State Department to boost the supply of U.S. diplomats who can speak one of 29 difficult languages.

The higher pay may be up to $1,000 additional a year. The promise of good assignments could lead to an ambassadorship.

★ ★ ★

The incentive program is aimed at getting 1,000 officers —one fourth of the U.S. diplomatic corps — equipped with one of the native languages of remote countries.

Only about 600 U.S. career diplomats now meet this qualification.

DEPARTMENT PROBLEM

The department has run into difficulty with the languages which are tough for Americans to learn and which are spoken only in limited areas. The most wanted at present are Hebrew, Bengali, Burmese, Korean, Napali, Sinhala, Tamil and Vietnamese.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat imports will be kept 15 per cent below last year's record level under a bill signed by President Johson Saturday.

The bill sets a basic import limit of 725,400,000 pounds per year of fresh, chilled or frozen beef, goats and sheep, except lambs. A 16 per cent estimated growth factor is added and a 10 per cent leeway is allowed foreign nations selling such meat to the United States.

This means that imports would have to reach about 913 million pounds next year to trigger the imposition of quotas.

The new law gives the President power to suspend the limitations if he decides it is in the national interest.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAILBOATS

QUESTION: How do sailboats keep from tipping over?

ANSWER: People who don't know about sailboats are often alarmed, when they first go for a sail, to find the boat tipping sharply over (sailors call this "heeling") when going across or into the wind.

Actually, sailboats are supposed to sail this way. As the boat heels over, the wind spills off the sail (black arrows, upper left) and so a moderate amount of heel is a safety measure.

Sailboats have other ways of preventing the heeling from going too far, when it would of course become dangerous. In keel-type boats(upper picture) the weight on the bottom of the keel tends to balance against the force of the wind on the sail, and the keel itself pushes against the water on its upper side (black arrows).

Boats of this kind, designed for rough water, rarely capsize. Smaller sailboats, used on calmer waters, often have a centerboard instead of a keel.

This can be raised or lowered. These boats are usually wide, which means the bottom, pressing down, keeps them from heeling too far.

As additional help, the crew usually gets its weight up on the windward side. If a strong puff of wind comes, the watchful skipper slacks out instantly on the "sheet" controlling the sail and so prevents a capsize.

FOR YOU TO DO: Sailing is one of the most thrilling of all sports. Try it if you have a chance. But first get someone who really knows how to sail to show you all about it.

3 Laotian Princes Meet to Seek Peace

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International

A 17th-century chateau outside Paris is the setting for a modern day tale of the three princes from Laos.

The trio conists of Prince Souvanna Phouma, Prince Souphanouvong, his half-brother, and Prince Boun Oum.

Souvanna is premier of Laos and leader of its Neutralist faction. Souphanouvong is known as the "Red Prince" and heads up the pro-Communist element. Boun Oum is a former premier and chief of the right-wing forces.

The three are to confer for a period that may range from 10 days to 10 weeks on ways to end the current civil war in their tiny, landlocked Southeast Asian kingdom.

When they finish, there may be peace — but it is unlikely to be permanent, because it is predicated on too many outside factors over which the three princes have little or no control.

Essentially, Laos is only a part of the larger power tug-of-war in which the Peking-Moscow struggle, French President Charles de Gaulle's Olympian views and American foreign policy all figure.

The French are giving the princely summit enthusiastic support because they consider it as a useful opening gambit for a new full-scale 14-power Geneva conference on Laos.

This, in turn, they figure, could develop into the general conference on neutralization of all Southeast Asia that de Gaulle seeks.

Peking and Souphanouvong also want a reconvened 14-nation Laotian conference, of which Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen.

The United States continues to oppose such a parley on grounds that Red China wants it as a forum for propaganda attacks against American policy in Southeast Asia.

TELEPHONE INSTALLER HELPS A MOTHER AND HER SICK CHILDREN

Michigan Bell Installer Richard Bruske was on a routine assignment. His job was to remove a telephone from a house where the family was moving out. But instead of finding the family moving, he discovered the mother frantically trying to care for her three children who were sick with the flu.

The father had driven their car to the new home several hundred miles away to prepare for the family's arrival. Just before leaving, he had called Michigan Bell to cancel the telephone service, so the phone had been disconnected at the central office.

As a result, the mother was unable to telephone a doctor or even send for food. The nearest house with a telephone was nearly a mile away.

Richard Bruske immediately drove to the closest phone booth and called his foreman to reconnect the woman's telephone at the central office. Then he drove back to the house to make sure the phone was working and that the family would be all right.

The mother was able to call a doctor, order food, and notify her husband.

News From Around the World

New U.S. Berlin Leader Pledges Firmness

BERLIN (AP) — The new U.S. commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. John F. Franklin, arrived today and pledged that Americans will "continue to meet aggression with courage and firmness."

Franklin takes over on Aug. 31 from Maj. Gen. James H. Polk, promoted to command of the U.S. 5th Corps in West Germany.

Franklin said that "notwithstanding the ever-changing identity of persons who represent the United States here and elsewhere around the world, our policy remains steadfast and sure in support of our friends and our ideals."

MOSCOW (AP) — It's sad but true. There's a beer shortage in Moscow.

"People are wandering around looking for beer," said a reporter for the newspaper Moskovskaya Pravda.

★ ★ ★

What's the trouble? Moscow's four breweries aren't brewing enough and what is brewed isn't all taken, says the paper.

Beverages are sold at 9,500 places in Moscow but only 92 sell beer in addition to 105 beer wagons.

What Moscow really needs, the paper adds, is 300 or 400 stores that stock beer.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that the United Nations is a tool of the United States and insisted that it has no right to discuss the Indochina problem.

The official People's Daily said the Viet Nam question "falls within the competence of the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina and not of the U.N. Security Council."

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cardinal Eugene Tisserant, 80-year-old dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, begins a 10-day journey today to Mexico's provinces.

★ ★ ★

Cardinal Tisserant is expected to inaugurate a new seminary tonight at Jalapa, capital of tropical Veracruz State.

★ ★ ★

Sunday the cardinal consecrated the new cathedral of Tlalnepantla, newest diocese in Mexico, which he helped found. About 15,000 persons attended the ceremony.

KIRKENES, Norway (AP) — The defense Committee of Norway's Parliament made a forced landing in a desolate arctic sea fjord Saturday, it was reported today.

Two seaplanes from the Norwegian air force transporting the committee on an inspection tour in northern Norway, lost their way because of fog and had to land in Laksefjord, military sources said.

TOKYO (AP) — The chairman of the Development Assistance Committee thinks Japan should increase aid and soften terms to less developed nations.

Prof. Willard Throp told a news conference today that next to Italy, aid terms given by Japan were the stiffest among the 12 industrialized nations of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Despite the increase of dial phones, the number of operators in the U.S. has gained 70 per cent in the past 10 years.

Not Starting Point, Says Cypriot Leader

Union With Greece Said No Solution

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The Greek Cypriots have rejected "enosis" — the idea of union with Greece—as a basis for a solution to the fighting on Cyprus.

Glafkos Clerides, president of the Greek Cypriot - controlled House of Representatives, told visiting Yugoslav newsmen last night that to make enosis a starting point for negotiations would be "unacceptable to us."

He did not rule out the idea as an eventual solution. But he said Cyprus must be "freed of all restrictions" and then permitted to seek a way out of its own problems.

The "restrictions" apparently referred to the treaties that set the island free but gave both Greece and Turkey the right to intervene to protect their own communities.

Clerides is a close aide to President Makarios, who is believed opposed to enosis.

★ ★ ★

Some other leaders on this strife-torn island, including Gen. George Grivas, the hero of the war for independence and now commander of the National Guard, favor it.

Reports from abroad have indicated that both Greece and Turkey feel enosis may be the best way to end the Cyprus crisis which began when open warfare between the two communities on the island exploded last Christmas.

According to the reports, enosis would be accompanied by talks aimed at guaranteeing the rights of the Turkish minority on Cyprus—possibly through the establishment of a NATO or Turkish military base. Greek Cypriots outnumber Turkish Cypriots four to one.

★ ★ ★

SELF-DETERMINATION

"I don't think union with Greece should be brought about without the people of Cyprus first exercising the right of self-determination," he said. "It is for the Cypriots to decide—after being freed of all restrictions—the destiny of their country."

If union with Greece is to come first, with Greece subsequently negotiationg the rights of the Turkish Cypriot community with Turkey and also whether there would be a NATO or Turkish base on Cyprus, then this will be unacceptable to us," Clerides said.

"It would be tantamount to imposing a solution of the Cyprus problem with the Western alliance and depriving Cyprus of the support of countries outside the alliance."

★ ★ ★

The Cyprus crisis at times has threatened to precipitate war between Greece and Turkey, both members of NATO. The United States is anxious to prevent a split in the alliance.

Recently the problem became more complicated when Russia promised to come to the aid of Cyprus in case of aggression. Although the offer was vague, the West fears that the Kremlin is trying to gain a new toehold in the Mediterranean.

Cyprus Aide Off to Athens for Confabs

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew to Athens today for consultations with the Greek Government.

It was the fourth such journey in two weeks by Kyprianou who left 48 hours after Greek Defense Minister Petros Garoufalias visited Nicosia.

★ ★ ★

Kyprianou denied there was pressure by the Greek government to accept a compromise solution of the Greek-Turk Cypriot crisis or to reject an offer of Soviet military aid for Cyprus.

★ ★ ★

Kyprianou also denied Athens reports that he agreed to postpone his visit to Moscow for aid negotiations for 10 days.

Greek Cypriot President Makarios appealed to the Soviet Union for military aid after Turkish air raids on northwest Cyprus.

She Talks So People Can Understand

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

When Dorothy Vredenburgh Bush was 12 her older sister admonished her:

"Wherever you go say what you have to say so the people you're speaking to understand it."

* * *

Dorothy says she took this advice to heart, and it's possibly one of the reasons she is facing her sixth successful stint as secretary to the Democratic National Convention when it opens in Atlantic City Aug. 24.

Mrs. Bush has a soft, clear voice, seemingly without accent. Delegates find it a pleasure to listen to her call the roll.

When she wants to, though, dynamic and dimpled Dorothy can lapse into the Southern accent she grew up with in Mississippi. It's still there, just under the surface, she says.

At the age of 27, in March of 1944, she was appointed secretary to the Democratic National Committee, the first woman and the youngest of either sex to hold this position with either party.

That same year she started her string of convention secretaryships, in Chicago.

The party was just trying to express appreciation for the youth among its supporters, she says she explained then.

RECOGNITION

Now, she goes on with a chuckle, her explanation is that the appointment is in recognition of the more mature women in the party.

"That's the trouble with getting your age on record. You're stuck thereafter," she says.

"But it has been loads of fun and the greatest pleasure has been getting to know so many wonderful people."

Mrs. Bush says her job, besides calling the roll, is to assist the committee secretaries and "help out wherever I can."

REALLY EXCITED

As the convention date approaches, she's getting "really excited." The people planning the convention were a little worried that the President would announce his vice presidential candidate early, she says, and remove any chance of a contest.

But now everyone's happy that the suspense will be kept intact.

* * *

She has advice for delegates: Bring along a bathing suit, if you like to swim. There will be time and opportunity.

Whether a sweater might be advisable for air conditioned Convention Hall is debatable.

COLD

"The boys and girls working there now keep telling us 'Boy, it's cold,' but maybe when all the people get in it will be comfortable."

Her opposite number in the Republican party is pretty Polly Buck of Greenville, Del., who called roll at the GOP convention in San Francisco in July.

* * *

Sometimes the two women have appeared on programs together and have been addressed by the other's name because of the confusing similarity.

But Dorothy Bush doesn't mind being called Dorothy Buck by mistake, not only because she likes Polly but because it shows that women are getting numerous in politics.

MORE OPPORTUNITY

"There are more and more things for women in all walks of life to do, to take an interest in politics," she says. "Many advances in housekeeping aids makes this possible."

Her interest in politics started early. After she received a B.S. degree from Mississippi State College for Women, she worked as secretary to the director of insurance of a steel company in Birmingham, Ala.

Then she married Peter Vredenburgh 3rd and became active in Democratic politics and in many civic affairs in Birmingham.

Widowed, she married the Hon. John W. Bush, commissioner of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a couple of years ago.

HUSBAND DELEGATE

Her husband will be attending the convention too. "Jack is a delegate from the state of Ohio," she says proudly.

A Beauty Hint
Margaret Merril advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold water smooth on a little tropical oil of olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

Antiques Are in Demand

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Antique coffee mills and even old iron sink pumps were never so much in demand as they are today. So says Mrs. Lawrence L. Hills, show chairman of the Greater Kansas City Antique Dealers Association.

* * *

The growing popularity of Early American family rooms and kitchens is responsible for the increased use of antique accessories, she said.

The hint submitted by "Sharon" in today's Polly's Pointers column was sent in by Mrs. Sharon Beach of 1540 Lapeer Road, Lake Orion.

Don't Take Flowers in Decoration

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I attended a large wedding reception. Each table had a centerpiece of pink and white carnations

* * *

A friend of ours, who was seated at the same table with us, took one of the carnations from the centerpiece and put it in his buttonhole. What is your opinion of this?

* * *

A: Your friend very definitely showed bad manners by taking one of the flowers from the centerpiece which was put on the table for decoration purposes and not to be used for boutonniers.

* * *

If all the other men at table had followed his example, there would be nothing left of the centerpiece.

Q: My girl friend is planning to give a friend of hers a box of toilet soap for a birthday present.

* * *

The soap is attractively packaged and has a delightful scent, but even so, I think such a present in bad taste and in fact, insulting.

* * *

A: Because the giving of soap could easily be taken as a hint that the recipient should use more of it, you are right in thinking that such a gift would be in questionable taste.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Bruce O. Wilson Weds Susan Widman Leader

Off on a honeymoon to Jamaica and the Grand Bahamas are the Bruce Oliver Wilsons (Susan Widman Leader) who were wed Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook.

* * *

The Very Rev. John Weaver, Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Detroit, and the Rev. Michael T. Nesbitt officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader were hosts at their daughter's garden reception at their Bloomfield Hills home.

Floral beaded Alencon lace accented the bride's Bianchi gown and train of white silk-veiled organza and peau de soie. A lace pillbox held her cathedral veil of imported silk illusion. She carried gardenias.

With honor maid, Jane Leader, were the bridesmaids Mrs. Elliott Hawkes, Mrs. John Appleford, Sally Wells, Mrs. Earl Naas, and Mrs. John Knoblock.

* * *

The bridegroom, son of the A. Glenn Wilsons of Alice Avenue had Woods Proctor for best man.

Seating some 400 guests were Albert C. Leader; Albert Lopatin, Detroit; Peter W. BeGole; Dr. Roy T. Hawkinson; Roger J. Rinke; John N. Dreystadt, Dublin, Ohio; and Horatio B. Lewis II.

Sue Turner, new auxiliary president, will entertain the group at a splash party this evening at her home on Pioneer Drive.

FIRST PROJECT

As its first fall project, the auxiliary will usher for the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society when the Michigan Historical Commission Historymobile visits Wisner Home, beginning Sept. 10.

Rick-Rack Over Hemstitching

Do not throw away linens in which the hemstitching has worn out nor should you try to mend them with needle and thread. This usually produces an unsightly result.

Instead, just stitch rick-rack braid of matching color over the hemstitching. Do this when the hemstitching first begins to break. Stitch across the points on both the top and bottom of the braid.

This method of stitching does not hurt the appearance of the braid and causes it to lie flat and iron easier.

Picture Frames

Magazines Too Trashy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine and I were looking over some magazines in a drugstore.

ABBY

I am 14 and so is he. When we found two we wanted, we put our money down.

The owner looked at the magazines and then he gave us a big lecture on how unsuitable the magazines were for decent people.

He said they were nothing but trash and he wouldn't want any son of his reading them.

He made us feel so cheap we didn't buy them.

* * *

We want to ask you, Abby, if those magazines were nothing but "trash" and "unsuitable for decent people," what were they doing in his store in the first place?

GOOD QUESTION

DEAR GOOD: The question is better than "good." It's excellent.

Why don't you go back and ask him?

DEAR ABBY: I laughed to myself when I read about the bride who said she would rather buy one "good" piece of furniture, as they could afford it, than to set up housekeeping with a lot of "junk" from her relatives' attics.

* * *

When my husband and I were married five years ago, we furnished our home with discards from our relatives' attics, but I'm glad we did.

* * *

Now we have three healthy, lively youngsters, all under four years of age.

We don't have to worry about any of them getting jelly on our $500 living room sofa because we don't have one. Sign me —

Reception at Devon Gables Follows Vows

Reception at Devon Gables followed the vows of Diane Elizabeth Richey and William Keith Hanson Saturday afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Parents of the couple who spoke vows before Rev. Michael Nesbitt, are the Thomas C. Richeys' of Haddington Road and the William S. Hansons of Traverse City.

The bride's street-length gown of white brocade was styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. A white satin crown held her short illusion veil. She carried white roses and ivy.

Joan Richey was her sister's only attendant.

On the esquire side were best man, James Ruhly, of Beverly Hills, with ushers, Joseph Dupree of Berkley and James Richey.

The couple will live in Traverse City until he begins graduate studies at Michigan State University in January.

Pierced Ears on Everybody

London's Jewelry Information Centre is busy passing out names of ear-piercers. Not all of the inquiries come from women.

A leading ear-piercing expert reports that he numbers many men among his clients, including plane pilots and sailors. Some fishermen also wear earrings, as do male gypsies.

New interest in piercing the lobes has been traced to a revival of heirloom jewelry — heavy blobs of stone and metal looking like a steal from the crown jewels.

The wearer of the real crown jewels, by the way, Queen Elizabeth, already has pierced ears.

Cyril Wilkinson, an ear piercer from 'way back, has operated on royal patrons and commoners — as young as eight weeks, as old as 84.

Donna von Koehnen, daughter of John von Koehnen of Mary Sue Street, Independence Township, was graduated Sunday from St. Joseph School of Nursing, Syracuse, N.Y.

NOEL-HODGE

The Gary Lee Noels (Donna Marie Hodge) left for Niagara Falls after their wedding and reception Saturday in Evangel Temple. Their parents are the Harry Hodges, Cadillac Avenue, and the Oscar Noels, West Chicago Avenue. Chantilly lace panels accented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza over taffeta. Attendants at the rite performed by Rev. Geoffrey Dey were Patricia Hodge, Janie Chism, Mrs. David Noel and Mrs. Dave Weitz; David Noel, Ronald Hodge, Danny Austin and Dave Weitz. Karen Barker and Larry Andress were flower-girl and ring-bearer.

STAUP-BATE

Sharon Rose Bate exchanged vows with Jay Wesley Staup Jr. at noon Saturday in St. Patrick's Church, Union Lake. Their parents are the Edward M. Bates, Cedar Shores Drive, White Lake Township and Mr. and Mrs. Jay W. Staup of Milford. With her floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta and bouffant illusion veil, the bride carried white carnations. Attendants were Jacqueline Boggs, Janice Bate and Christen Staup; Marine Lt. Thomas Hubble, of Camp LeJeune, N.C., Corwin Newberry and Edward Michaels.

KEYWORTH-EDWARDS

In New York City for their honeymoon are the James Gerald Keyworths (Mary Anne Edwards) who were wed Saturday in the First Congregational Church. An English illusion veil complemented a gown and Watteau train of white silk organza over taffeta for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Edwards, Wolfe Street. Attendants were Nancy Norberg, Mrs. John Tenjeras, Brenda Reeves, with Lynn Ann Edwards, Stacy and John Tenjeras. Dennis Keyworth was his brother's best man. Their parents are the Gerald Keyworths of Flint. Robert Edwards and Gene Weber ushered. The bride will attend Eastern Michigan University.

Cap Keeps Out Sand

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I put a shower cap or plastic bowl cover over my preschool children's hair every time they play in the sand pile.

Not only does this keep the sand out of their hair and save me from giving many a shampoo but it also keeps their hair from getting bleached from the sun.—MRS. D. S.

DEAR POLLY — In order to eliminate some of that clutter around the bathtup, I use pinch-type clothespins to hang the wet washcloths on coat hangers.

They also dry more quickly this way. Attaching them to hangers with clothespins is also a good way for the children to keep their towels and washcloths separate.—SHARON

DEAR POLLY — My piano tuner suggested that I tape his name, address and telephone number inside the lid of our spinet or inside the bench lid.

I have expanded this idea further by taping the name of our favorite washer repair man on the washer, the television man's name on the back of the set and so on.

This is really handy and quick when an emergency arises. — BILLIE

DEAR POLLY — To remove stubborn jar lids, make a lid gripper by cutting a circle approximately five inches in diameter from a discarded rubber bathing cap.—BERTHA

DEAR GIRLS—Often when we want to get a job done quickly or to do a more thorough one, we may be tempted to mix household cleansing agents under the mistaken impression that if one does a good job, two will do a better one.

Combining some of them is a real gamble—one none of us can afford.

Not only may the combination of some neutralize or dilute each other, thereby producing poor results, but they may combine to form a poisonous gas producing disastrous results.

Do cut out the following warning and paste it inside your cleaning cupboard door: DON'T MIX bleaching agents with toilet bowl cleaners, ammonia, lye, rust remover, vinegar or oven cleaner. NEVER mix bleaching agents with any other cleaning components.—POLLY

Piano Hopping Gets Attention

THREE RIVERS, Calif. (AP)— Mrs. Carolyn Hines' cat is really a Kitten on the Keys.

Precat, short for Pretty Cat, has a weak voice and often her meows asking to be let out of the house went unheard.

* * *

One day the startled family heard piano notes and found their pet walking on the keyboard. She jumped down and meowed to be let out.

Since then, when Prevat wants to attract attention, she hops up on the piano. "She never does it unless she wants something," Mrs. Hines reports.

Teach Child Fire Safety

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A good way to keep children from setting fires by mistake is to make sure they use matches under supervision, the U.S. Children's Bureau reports in "Accidents and Children."

Helping to light a fire in the fireplace, candles, even helping to burn rubbish in a wire container helps teach the child safety rules about matches.

Show ways of being sure a match is out and let your child practice while you watch closely. Let him help douse a fire before leaving a picnic or camping spot.

First Budget Likely to Leave You Cannier

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: This September I start my first term of teaching. I will be sharing a lovely little apartment with another young teacher. I need help in setting up a budget.

My salary is $4,600, paid twice a month over a 12-month period. My share of the rent is $45 a month, utilities $10.

How much should I allow for food? Car (I hope to buy one)? Clothes? Savings? What else? It is rather frightening!

C.H., Galena, Ohio

★ ★ ★

Dear C. H.: It's exciting though, isn't it? Coming to grips with your first budget, on your own, is apt to make you a cannier shopper and more alert bookkeeper. But you really have no cause for concern—you're getting a nice break on rent, which is the big item.

Assuming your monthly income will be approximately $330 after deductions, you could start with this plan:

Housing, $45; household operating cost, $20; food, $35; clothing, $35; savings, $30; insurance, $5; personal, $43; miscellaneous, $22; medical, $10; recreation, $30. Total, $275.

This would allow you about $55 a month toward buying a car — in addition to regular savings and insurance.

After you've tried this budget awhile for size, don't hesitate to adjust it to a better fit if you're so inclined. No budget should be so rigid it can't be revamped. Just remember that you have a fixed sum to play with, so what you add to one category must be sliced off another.

Dear Miss Feeley: Our 15-year-old son has his first steady job as a route boy for the newspaper. His monthly earnings should be approximately $55 to $60. Expenses will be: a second-hand bike, $38.50; car insurance premium, $22.60 total yearly; route expenses, $2.30 monthly.

He does not own a car, of course, but has received a driver's license which entitles him to drive with an adult in the car with him. For this privilege his father feels he should be expected to pay the additional premium of insurance.

Should the boy be contributing something toward household expenses, and saving a certain amount of each pay check to add to his savings account? We feel he should, but cannot decide how much.

What is your opinion on this?
Mrs. W. L. H., San Antonio.

Dear Mrs. H.: I've always believed that a youngster with a steady income should help out at home when the extra money is really needed. However, in this particular case, I gather that money isn't the real issue.

The young man has certain fixed expenses to meet, and his collections are apt to be sporadic. If his customers don't pay on time, neither can he. Or if he does, he may not have any profits left.

If he makes $55 a month, and his expenses total about $14 (until the bike is paid for), he'll have about $40 left. If he saves $20 a month toward his future education, I think he needs the incentive of the remaining $20 as spending money.

I don't mean that he should fritter it away for knicknacks. But a boy his age has interests and hobbies that can cost a little money.

★ ★ ★

This job should give him valuable experience in keeping books and managing money. If he earns more than $900 in a year, he must learn how to report his income — even though deductions may make it unnecessary that he actually pay a tax.

He will also see the rewards of using his spare time profitably. So I wouldn't burden him needlessly.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy leaflet on Building Financial Stability by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Luci Rarin' to Get in Thick of Democrat Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — President Johnson's daughter Luci is "dying to come to the Democratic convention" and expects to arrive here tomorrow or Wednesday — ahead of her family.

The First Lady's press secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, said 17-year-old Luci had seen all of her friends working with the "Teen Dems" and is "urging her mother to let her come up to work with them."

Many of Luci's teen-age friends have been running convention errands, stuffing envelopes and doing the chores. Luci wants to be where the action is.

"It's quite possible Luci may come on Tuesday or Wednesday," said Mrs. Carpenter. She will stay with Mrs. Walter Jenkins, wife of the President's special assistant, who has a 17-year old daughter, Beth.

Lady Bird Johnson and her other daughter Lynda, 20, will arrive with much fanfare around 4 on Wednsday afternoon.

WILL BE GUESTS

They will go directly to 132 South Delancey Place, where they will be the guests of Hess Rosenbloom, brother of Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts.

The White House ladies apparently were getting excited about the convention — especially with all their friends in Atlantic City.

While Mrs. Carpenter was briefing reporters, she got a telephone call from Mrs. Johnson asking her to "tell you all hello . . . not to work so hard . . . and to get into the ocean."

A downtown ceremonial arrival is being planned for the First Lady who will arrive on a chartered plane. On Wednesday evening, she will sit in a box with her daughters to watch the President's nomination for a White House term of his own.

PRESS BREAKFAST

On Thursday, she will be the guest of honor at a press breakfast with Luci and Lynda given by Mrs. Richard Hughes, wife of the New Jersey governor and Mrs. John Bailey, wife of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Around noon on Thursday, Luci and Lynda will drop in on a Young Citizens for Johnson rally at Convention Hall. Mrs. Johnson plans to stick to strictly official doings.

She will spend Thursday afternoon, from 1 to 6 p.m., at the memorial reception for the late President John F. Kennedy. In the evening, she and the girls will sit in the presidential box to hear Johnson deliver his acceptance speech. She will then go up to the platform to stand with him before the entire convention.

CHECKS SCENE — Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who political pundits say will be picked by President Johnson for a running mate in November, signals to a friend during a tour of Atlantic City's Convention Hall yesterday.

Common Traits for 5,260: All Dems, Wonder on VP

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The 5,260 delegates and alternates at this national convention have two things in common: they're Democrats and they don't know who Lyndon Johnson wants for vice president.

In fact, they don't even know if the President has made up his mind about a running mate, for he isn't saying. He isn't even hinting.

★ ★ ★

So the guessing game continues, with only one thing certain — by Wednesday night the mantle will have fallen on someone.

Like last week and the weeks before that, the names being mentioned most are Minnesota's two liberal Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey and the professor he persuaded to go into politics, Eugene J. McCarthy.

They appeared separately Sunday night on NBC's "Meet the Press," said separately they had not discussed the vice presidency with Johnson and collectively left little doubt they wouldn't mind being his running mate.

Afterward, they received a telephone call from the White House, spoke separately to the President and appeared jubilant. Quipped Humphrey: "Well, we're both in. He's going to take both of us."

★ ★ ★

A little later, a thick straw took to what little wind there is in this overheated city: it was learned that McCarthy had left town, probably for Washington.

The Humphrey fans had something to cheer about too, however. During the afternoon, California's powerful Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown, said on CBS' "Face the Nation" that he has "a feeling" Humphrey will be the nominee.

But while Brown was pointing at Humphrey, there are those who are pointing at Brown. The rumor mills also are working over these other names: Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Gov. Matthew Welch of Indiana.

★ ★ ★

Then, too, there's the mysterious Mr. X — the university President Johnson hasn't identified but said can't be ruled out.

OLDEST, YOUNGEST — Mrs. Emma Guffy Miller of Pennsylvania, oldest national committeewoman in the Democratic party, demonstrates she can touch the floor without bending her knees in a contest with the youngest committeewoman, Mrs. Liv Bjorlie of Valley City, N.D.

ON CONVENTION FLOOR — Gov. Pat Brown of California gets the feel of the seats at the Democratic Convention hall in Atlantic City before the proceedings began today. Behind him is a huge display containing a quote from a President Johnson speech.

Both Political and Otherwise

Pitchmen Besiege Delegates

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— Democrats gathered in solemn conclave on this taffy-pulling, neon-splashed sandbar are besieged by land, sea, air and rolling chair with pleas to take a dynamic stand on everything from civil rights to Eddie Fisher's boyish baritone.

"We Want the Holy Bible in Our Schools," proclaims the trailer attached to a low-flying plane that makes periodic sweeps along the ocean front, hoping to coax the off-duty delegate's eyes away from the fetching bikinis on the beach and the spellbinding kitchen utensil demonstrators on the boardwalk.

★ ★ ★

In the wake of this particularly persistent plane sometimes comes another trailing the legend, "Edison, N.J., Young Democrats for LBJ," and still another pleading, "See Eddie Fisher at the 500 Club."

Even some of the fishing boats temporarily have suspended hunting for blues and ocean perch in favor of steaming by, close offshore, plugging the merits of health care for the aged and lower excise taxes.

JUST AS FRANTIC

On land, the advertising tattoo is just as frantic.

"Justice for Jimmy Hoffa — Investigate Bobby Kennedy," demands the whole side of a huge trailer truck parked almost next to the cavernous Convention Hall by the Teamsters Union.

Delegates en route to the hall from their hotels in jitney cars, Atlantic City's unique 14-passenger miniature buses — or giant taxis, depending on how you look at them — regularly pass by a parked "Mississippi terror truck," a flat-bed truck that civil rights organizations have decorated with grim relics of racial strife in the South. The exhibits include the charred chassis of a burned-out automobile and the bell of a burned-down Negro church.

President Johnson's portrait is everywhere: on hats, on buttons, in shop windows, in hotel lobbies, on lampposts, hanging in Orwellian dimensions from the walls of Convention Hall and even on the sides of some of the rolling wicker chairs that footweary delegates ride when they get tired of tramping the miles of boardwalk.

But by far the largest and most prominent sign beaming down on the conventioneers is atop the Million-Dollar Pier, which juts into the ocean just a few blocks below Convention Hall. The sign, fully lighted in glorious color, reads, "In Your Heart, You Know He's Right" and carries the smiling, sunbronzed face of Barry Goldwater, together with a flashing device that tells the temperature and the time.

Despite the invitations to keep their noses to the platform grindstone, the Democrats proved to be as spirited and fun loving as any other group to invade this convention city.

★ ★ ★

Parties seemed to be going on everywhere, from the smallest delegation to the biggest pressure group. An anonymous outfit called "Friends of the Diving Horse" scheduled a cocktail party in behalf of the aquatic equine that nightly does a half gainer into a tank of water on the steel pier.

Sunday night Perle Mesta tossed a blast for 200 selected guests and what seemed like 400 assorted television cameramen at a rented Victorian mansion that included in its decor red velvet banisters and Maria Theresa crystal chandeliers.

★ ★ ★

La bella Dame Mesta has kept her composure presiding over creamed chicken and coldcuts under all sorts of trying circumstances, but this is probably the first time she ever tried to carry on a debonair conversation with actress Carol Channing while 12 nuns peeked in one window and a huge television camera came down from the sky on an enormous crane to stick its lens in another.

For those who fail to make her select little circles of 200 and 400, however, there is always Sally Rand at the Globe Burlesque, the nearby race track and, of course, that waterlogged horse.

Humphrey in Role of Party Peacemaker

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the pick of many of the party professionals for the Democratic vice presidential spot, assumed a role today as peacemaker.

"We have a large number of fight promoters," Humphrey said. "Now we need a few peacemakers. I think the Democratic party is on the road to victory. We seek understanding, harmony and accommodations."

Humphrey, Minnesota's effusive man-in-motion, remained the man most Democratic leaders expected President Johnson to pick as his running mate.

But other candidates loomed in the speculation, one of the top topics of conversation in this convention city.

★ ★ ★

One of these was Humphrey's Minnesota colleague, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. Others being mentioned were Govs. Edmund (Pat) Brown of California, Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Edmund Muskie of Maine, J. William Fulbright of Arkansas and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

McCarthy left for Washington yesterday after a "double bill" appearance with Humphrey on a one-hour television interview (NBC — Meet the Press). Both are convention delegates.

McCarty's staff said the senator would pick up three of his four children arriving in Washington from a summer stay in Minnesota, and had no plans to visit Johnson. He was to return today.

Humphrey planned an appearance at a 3 p.m. EST meeting of the Iowa Meat Growers Group, then was scheduled to go to Convention Hall to watch the keynote address of Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I.

The President sent his congratulations to Humphrey and McCarthy in a surprise long-distance telephone call immediately after the two senators finished their joint TV interview. An aide said the Chief Executive told them: "I'll give you an A-plus."

★ ★ ★

"We got a passing grade," was all Humphrey would tell newsmen crowded into a small corridor after the call. "Have you heard who he wants for vice president?" asked a reporter.

QUESTION OF THE DAY

"No, have you?" replied Humphrey.

It was the question of the day.

James a Farley, who steered the landslide victories of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 and 1936, and Stephen Mitchell, another former national chairman who led Adai E. Stevenson's campaign in 1952, both picked Humphrey.

But Presiding Chairman John M. Bailey remained noncommittal. Bailey said in a TV interview that the vice presidential candidate would be "whoever Johnson wants."

And Johnson seemed inclined to keep the suspense.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield, asked if he would be the candidate under any circumstances, said: "I would not." The Senate leader said that "from all indications Humphrey is in the lead, and I would certainly not count out Eugene McCarthy."

BROWN RULES SELF OUT

California's Gov. Brown all but ruled himself out. On a TV program, Brown said, in reply to a question whether he considered himself in the running for vice president, "I don't think I am."

In the joint TV interview, Humphrey said he felt the vice presidential nominee would carry the burden of campaigning in the November elections, permitting the President to stay close to his White House duties.

He outlined what he felt were the prime qualities a vice president could give to the chief executive — "Loyalty, fidelity, a faithful friend and servant to the president."

★ ★ ★

McCarthy said that leaving the choice of a running mate to Johnson — "leaving him free of pressure to make a decision" — was only proper and "reflects the confidence in Lyndon Johnson. He will use good judgment."

Dead Dem's Manual Is Convention Rule Book

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) —The work of a prominent Democrat, now dead, is playing a vital role at the party's national convention.

★ ★ ★

Time after time during the four-day convention, party officials will have cause to refer to the official convention manual, written by the late Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo.

★ ★ ★

As official parliamentarian, Cannon refereed every Democratic convention from 1920 to 1960 and wrote the rule book for this year's meeting shortly before his death. Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., succeeded Cannon as parliamentarian.

Iowa Beef to Be Featured at JFK Fund Dinner

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)— Beef from Iowa will be the feature of a benefit dinner for the John F. Kennedy memorial Fund tonight prior to the opening of the Democratic National Convention.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, former baseball star Stan Musial and golfer Jess Sweetser were to be among those present for the dinner.

★ ★ ★

Restaurateurs were expected to bid on a prize Hereford steer to kick off the event sponsored by the Iowa Beef Producers Association. A spokesman said proceeds would be donated to the Kennedy fund.

LOOKS THINGS OVER — Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota senator, is a leading contender for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. Yesterday he toured the Convention Hall on the eve of the party's national convention.

Kennedy Quits Delegates; Candidacy Seen Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has resigned from the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention in apparent preparation for announcing today his candidacy for the U.S. Senate from New York.

★ ★ ★

After receiving Kennedy's resignation yesterday, the Massachusetts delegation met last night and named his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, to replace him.

★ ★ ★

The attorney general was expected to formally announce tomorrow he will seek the Democratic nomination to oppose incumbent Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in the November election.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's most influential Democrat, endorsed Kennedy for the Senate nomination last Friday.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy announced his resignation as a delegate in a telegram sent from his McLean, Va. home to Gov. Endicott Peabody, chairman of the Massachusetts delegation.

NO REASON

He gave no reason for quitting.

In his wire, Kennedy expressed his appreciation to the Massachusetts delegates for their support and interest in the hopes and ideals of his brother, the late president, during 18 years of public life.

★ ★ ★

"Whatever my future, I will never forget their many kindnesses to me and to my family, their support of my brother, Ted and their devotion to President Kennedy," the attorney general's telegram said.

★ ★ ★

Joan Kennedy, the new delegate, is the wife of Massachusetts' junior senator who is recuperating from a broken back suffered in a plane crash June 19.

WON'T SIGN OATH — Jess Lanier, chairman of the Alabama delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, said yesterday his group will not sign an oath pledging them to vote for the Democratic slate in the November election. The refusal before the Credential Committee set the stage for a floor fight.

Believes Miller Will Be a Tough Contender

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)— Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., a leading contender for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, believes Republican vice presidential candidate William E. Miller will be a tough campaigner after a period of rehabilitation from the GOP national chairmanship.

"There's a period after a man steps down as Republican chairman that he's not fit at once to return to civilian life," McCarthy said. "He's a little like a war dog. He has to be reconditioned."

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Charles Stevens, 71, veteran actor known by face to millions and by name to few, died Saturday. Known to Hollywood as "Indian Joe," Stevens was a grandson of the famed Apache chief Geronimo. Stevens had been in pictures since 1914.

Fabian, 21, Made Clean Break

What Happens to Teen Idols Afterwards?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Take a Philadelphia teen-ager off a front porch, give him the handle of Fabulous Fabian, make him a pop singer even if he can't sing, expose him to the screams of frantic females, put him into the big time with veteran stars. What happens afterward.

THOMAS

In the case of Fabian, it is a wonder that he didn't end up shattered as a person and forgotten as a personality. Now 21, he seems to have survived.

★ ★ ★

Fabian had just finished a role with James Stewart in "Dear Brigitte." The lad was preparing to leave on a tour to plus "Ride the Wild Surf," in which he starred for Columbia.

It was to be his first extensive meeting with the public in three years, during which he has striven to escape the anonymity that threatens all teen-age idols.

ETCHED IN HEARTS

The Fabian saga was etched in the hearts of millions of young girls—how he was discovered in front of his own home by the mentor of Frankie Avalon, how he was manufactured into a star in one of the greatest selling campaigns since the Edsel.

His memory of those early days: "I don't remember anything about the performances. I got on the stage, did the songs and got off without the slightest recollection of what had happened.

★ ★ ★

"Every time I had to go before the public I was terrified. It's a strange feeling to find suddenly that wherever you go there will be girls screaming and tearing at you."

Often the scene became violent: fire hoses to control the mob in Union City, N.J.; 14 girls sent to the hospital in Baltimore. When Fabian arrived at the airport here for his first movie, hysterical girls clambered over his limousine; one stuck her hand through the window and scratched his eye.

ADULT REACTION

The adult reaction was entirely the reverse, especially in the press.

"Every time I faced a reporter I knew I was going to get rapped," he recalled. "I finally began telling them: 'Look, you're entitled to your opinion; go ahead and write what you please. All I'm trying to do is entertain, and apparently the public is buying.'"

But how long would the notoriously fickle teen-agers go on buying? Fabian was barely 18 when he gave the matter some thought.

★ ★ ★

"The first time I thought that I might have a future in the acting business was when I did 'North to Alaska' with John Wayne," he said. "I got the first good reviews I had ever received."

CLEAN BREAK

He decided to make a clean break. He paid off the contract with his discoverer-manager. He started serious study of dramatics. And he stopped singing. He hasn't made a record in three years.

As part of his campaign for a new image, he even proposed resuming the use of his last name, which is Forte.

★ ★ ★

"But producers told me they were buying Fabian, not an actor named Fabian Forte," he said. "That's all right with me — as long as they keep buying."

Heflin's Daughter Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Vana Heflin, 22-year-old daughter of actor Van Heflin, is honeymooning today with Dennis O'Brien, a graduate student of architecture at the University of California at Berkeley. They were married yesterday at the Heflin home.

Lava Beds in Oregon Site of 'Lunar' Astronaut Test

BEND, Ore. (AP) — The jagged lava rocks of the McKenzie Pass area served as the moon today for space scientists testing man's agility and dexterity on a simulated lunar surface.

Three Air Force trucks were loaded with equipment to support astronaut Walter Cunningham and two engineers, who will take turns in a pressurized space suit this week.

★ ★ ★

The crew from the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex., arrived in town Sunday and conferred with an advance party which had laid out the test courses on three lava beds in this area. The tests will involve walking, climbing, setting up equipment and gathering of samples.

The tanks will be difficult because of the suit exerting 3½ pounds of pressure per square inch, plus a 30-pound back pack supplying oxygen.

2 SESSIONS

Earl Lafevers, test director, said it would take almost two hours to set up the instruments each day for tests lasting about 1½ hours in both morning and afternoon sessions. Cunningham, expected to fly in this evening, is to participate Tuesday through Thursday.

Lafevers said, "the procedures will be the same each day. Only the terrain will be different."

★ ★ ★

McKenzie Pass will be the scene of operations until Wednesday. Then the tests will shift for the final three days to the grainy pumice plain in the craggy Devil's Garden area.

Spokesmen emphasized that the tests would measure man's ability to perform tasks while wearing the space suit, but would not test the suit itself. Design of a lunar garment will come later.

N.Y. Pastor Chastizes Rockefellers

MT. VERNON, N. Y. (UPI) — A Protestant minister in Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's home county yesterday sharply attacked the governor and his wife, Happy, in connection with Mrs. Rockefeller's pending custody fight over her four children.

Mrs. Rockefeller went to court in Westchester County last week with an application for "complete custody" of the children by her first marriage to Dr. James S. Murphy.

Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi ordered a hearing of the application behind closed doors.

The Rev. Harald Bredesen, pastor of the First Reformed Church in Mount Vernon, told parishioners at his church:

WON CUSTODY

Dr. Murphy won custody of the children last year when he and Happy were divorced one month before her marriage to the governor. The children are Melinda, 4; James B. II, 13; Margaretta Harrisen, 11; and Carol Slater, 8.

Murphy married the former Victoria Thompson last June 10.

The Rev. Bredesen, in criticizing the governor and Happy, took as his text: "It is time for Thee, O Lord, to act, for they have made void Thy law.""

The pastor, expressing sympathy for Murphy, said he was now "threatened with deprivation of his children, all the children he has."

★ ★ ★

What was Dr. Murphy's offense? the minister asked.

"Simply that another man, whose power and prestige were as great as his principle is small, coveted his wife and she coveted him.

"To have him she was willing to break up her marriage and sign away her children. And now that she has him, she wants her children, too. Her desire is quite natural and quite unjust," he said.

Top Defense Firms to Explain System

Leaders of three of the nation's top defense industries will tell military and industrial officials how they have been able to motivate their people to perform work more accurately, economically, and on schedule at a Zero Defects Conference at Wayne State University, Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"We all make mistakes, but the Defense Department is convinced that to err is not really so human after all," explained John H. Patterson of 2748 W. Tienken, Avon Township.

Patterson is director of quality assurance, Detroit procurement District, U. S.Army.

This one-day conference, the second of its kind in the nation, is to help prove the Defense Department's point.

★ ★ ★

The three top defense industries, whose representatives will take an active part in the program are General Electric Co., Litton Systems, Inc. and Martin Co.

MICHIGAN FIRMS

C. J. Werner, a General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMCTruck & Coach Division, together with corporate directors and many GM plant managers throughout Michigan, will join more than 400 officials from Michigan firms who will listen to key speakers.

The speakers, whose companies have been leaders in developing Zero Defects-type programs in their own operations, will tell how they have been able to develop a high quality control attitude among their employes and the benefits they have been able to obtain from the program.

Representatives from the governor's office, the mayor of Detroit and the UAW will also participate.

★ ★ ★

Zero Defects is the Defense Department's new program aimed at improving quality consciousness throughout industry and the defense complex.

★ ★ ★

It has as an ultimate goal, to raise production standards to a "no defect" level with the subsequent savings of taxpayer's dollars.

★ ★ ★

Patterson will also moderate a panel discussion composed of the three industry representatives and defense officials in the afternoon.

Eagle Bald All Over

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)— A proud bald eagle swooped regally in for a landing on a power line — and wound up bald all over.

★ ★ ★

The great bird, boasting a 73-inch wingspan, short-circuited himself to death yesterday when he touched two power lines. He also caused a power cutoff for several hours in hundreds of homes in North San Bernardino, North Muscoy and Devore.

★ ★ ★

Also bald were about 10 acres of brush, ignited by burning feathers from the hapless bird, firemen said.

Changing Schools Can Cause Conflict

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

Whether young children benefit from or are hurt by a change of schools can be controlled by parents.

If the change is brought about by a new job for the father, his attitude sets that of the children. His worry about success on the job, or finances, or about leaving old friends and making new ones will cause the children to adopt similar attitudes toward school.

Parents who exude optimism and enjoy meeting new challenges and new people, and making new acquaintances find that their children are also happy and successful in the change.

A change from elementary school, to junior high involves worries about life in a new school, worry about communal showers and the change from a self-contained classroom to a different teacher in each subject.

Now the pupil needs help from his peers as well as support from his parents. An eighth-grader who knows the ropes can give a new boy or girl the lowdown on life in the school.

This sholud be done to give the new pupil confidence in advance and to avoid a summer of worry.

A move from junior high to senior high involves some of the same social adjustments, but at that time school subjects begin to take on more importance.

BE PREPARED

At this level the student himself should take matters in hand and prepare for the change, as our friend Sue did.

In her last semester of junior high, Sue made careful inquiries about the school she was to attend the next year. She made it a point to become acquainted with two or three girls who were successful in the new school.

Her mother gave her some help in contacting these girls—mothers have a way of arranging these things.

* * *

Sue asked them frankly, "How do you go about learning the subjects in the tenth grade?" "How does studying geometry differ from studying algebra?" "What do you have to be able to do in tenth-grade English that differs from ninth-grade English?"

Sue learned that she would be expected to do more reading and studying on her own. Not only more reading but more careful reading. She would be required to write longer themes with better organization and more library research.

Sue decided the best preparation for the new school year was to practice needed skills. She worked hard to increase her reading speed and comprehension.

She thought over the way she was studying each course and discussed proper methods of studying not only with the instructor, but with one of the better students and she tried out the suggested methods.

* * *

As a result, Sue enjoyed a relaxed and pleasant summer. She entered senior high ready to attack her new subjects convidently.

She was not trapped into poor work by a set of study habits poorly adapted to the new subjects.

Opening lead—Ace of ♣

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the first conventions a bridge player learns is Blackwood. This invaluable convention allows a player to find out how many aces and kings his partner holds. The procedure is to bid four no-trump whereupon partner shows aces as follows:

Five clubs, no aces or four aces.

Five diamonds, one ace.
Five hearts, two aces.
Five spades, three aces.

Then, in order to ask for kings, bid five no-trump, whereupon partner shows kings in the same manner.

Today's hand is a perfect hand for Blackwood. Only the South hand and the start of the bidding is given. The rest is not necessary.

After South bids four no-trump he will bid five spades if his partner shows no aces, six spades if he shows one and seven spades or even seven no-trump is he shows two.

Blackwood has one conspicuous weakness. There are occasions when you want to use four no-trump as a strong bid in no-trump and not a demand to show aces.

If you want to use it in the simple way shown in this article, you will be using a good working convention.

♥♠CARD Sense♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	2♥	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠K4 ♥K4 ♦A10876 ♣K754
What do you do?

A—Bid two no-trump. You are prepared for the lead of any suit and your hand is just a trifle above a minimum.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner raises to three no-trump. What do you do now?

Split Is Brewing in N.Y. GOP Over Support for Mrs. Luce

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State's two Republican National Committee members fought to stop Clare Boothe Luce's entry as Conservative party candidate against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and possibly Democrat Robert F. Kennedy.

The two committee members wired National Chairman Dean Burch, threatening to withdraw support of the national ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater if Goldwater's supporters in New York continue to back Mrs. Luce and 58 Conservative candidates for lesser offices.

★ ★ ★

In Buffalo, Rep. William E. Miller, Republican vice presidential candidate, said neither he nor Goldwater controls the Conservative party.

"They presume that Sen. Goldwater and I can control the Conservative party, and we can't," said Miller, in a hospital interview. He is undergoing a three-day physical checkup.

Kennedy's still unannounced candidacy gained momentum at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

Kennedy resigned as a delegate from Massachusetts, obviously preparing to enter the New York race. His announcement is expected today or Tuesday.

BACK BOBBY

Mayor Robert F. Wagner and United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson made statements at the convention backing Kennedy. Wagner endorsed him last Friday, but evidently wanted to knock down reports that his support was reluctant.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam apparently was still planning to fight Kennedy for the nomination at the state convention on Sept. 1. A group of Stratton's upstate supporters in the Liberal party met in Saratoga Springs, but failed to say they will buck that party's probable nomination of Kennedy.

The Republican-Conservative tug-of-war over Mrs. Luce, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut and ambassador to Italy, held the spotlight.

The telegram to Burch was signed by National Committeeman George L. Hinnan, one of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's closest associates, and Dorothy McHugh, the national committeewoman.

WARN OF WITHDRAWAL

They told Burch that if Mrs. Luce runs along with 58 Conservative party candidates for Congress and the state legislature it would "release all Republicans from any obligations to support (the national) ticket in the November election."

Burch said in Washington he had no immediate comment on the telegram.

A highly placed source in New York State said Rockefeller saw the telegram before it was sent and approved its content and tone.

The state GOP, headed by Rockefeller's handpicked chairman, Fred Young, is backing both Goldwater and Keating, who so far has refused to endorse the national ticket.

Young views the Conservative threat to run Mrs. Luce as an effort to blackjack the GOP into permitting the Conservatives to jointly sponsor a slate of electors pledged to Goldwater. Both Young and Rockefeller have said they will not do this.

With neither a Goldwater slate nor a Senate candidate the Conservatives would be without a statewide issue. The party has about 10,000 registered members but its candidates polled about 140,000 votes in 1962 against Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, whom they consider too liberal.

★ ★ ★

Keating said in a radio interview that a Conservative candidate would cost him votes. He declined to criticize Kennedy and said he hopes the campaign will be on issues, not personalities.

Mrs. Luce, who says Goldwater must have an advocate in the Senate race, said Keating "sounded very much as if he were supporting Mr. Johnson."

Goldwater, in New York for a speech Saturday, declined comment on Mrs. Luce until he had a chance to talk with her again. He visits the city again today.

Mrs. Luce said Goldwater had told her that "Republicans should back Republicans," but that she was standing "on principle."

Japan Typhoon Leaves 7 Dead

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Kathy, losing some of its punch, churned through Japan's inland sea today after leaving seven persons dead and two missing in Kyushu, the country's southernmost island.

★ ★ ★

Twenty others were injured.

Police said landslides caused most of the casualties as the typhoon rampaged through Kyushu Sunday.

Up to 28 inches of rain was recorded in Kyushu's mountainous regions and many cities had an average of four inches.

U.S. Red Exec Dies Following Long Illness

NEW YORK (AP)—Benjamin J. Davis, 60, national secretary of the Communist party of the United States, died Saturday after a long illness.

He served more than 3½ years in prison after being sentenced to serve 5 years and a $10,000 fine in 1949 after conviction of advocating the forcible overthrow of the government.

Davis was a native of Dawson, Ga., and a graduate of the Harvard Law School.

Arrived Too Late

Nix to Queen's Message

WORCESTER, England (AP) — Alice Jenkins' special telegram from the queen didn't arrive in time for her birthday and now she doesn't want it.

Mrs. Jenkins was 100 on Thursday. She waited for the traditional telegram of congratulations from Queen Elizabeth II, but it never came.

Instead of popping it in the slot at Mrs. Jenkins' house at 14 Ombersley Road, a delivery boy took it to 14 Droitwich Road. The occupants there were away on vacation.

"They can take it back to the post office," Alice Gwillam, Mrs. Jenkins' daughter, said today. "We do not want the telegram now, as the novelty has gone.

★ ★ ★

My mother was quite upset at not having the queen's telegram on her birthday. My brother is taking up the matter further."

Coroner Probes Crash in Ohio Fatal to Five

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — A coroner sought to determine today why a recently divorced father and his four children lost their lives in a one-car smashup described as one of the worst in this northern Ohio area.

★ ★ ★ ★

The accident occurred yesterday as the 26-year-old father was taking the children, ranging in age from 2 to 7, to a store to buy them toys.

He had taken them for a ride each Sunday afternoon since obtaining his divorce three weeks ago.

The southbound convertible in which the victims were riding veered off a straightaway stretch on Ohio 58 six miles west of Elyria.

★ ★ ★

It went 91 feet before slamming into a concrete abutment supporting a railroad overpass.

Dragged dead from the twisted wreckage in which the front of the car was pushed nearly flush with the windshield were Ronald Pandy of Lorain, and his children, Debbie, 7, Daniel, 5, David, 4, and Dennis, 2.

Venturi Puts Game on Solid Ground at Akron

Oakland Hills Next Stop for Open Champ

Among World Meet Favorites; Ben Hogan Tours Carling Site

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi put his game on solid ground in his travels along the comeback trail with a smashing five-stroke victory in the American Golf Classic yesterday at Akron, Ohio.

* * *

The 33-year-old Venturi, who hit rock bottom with his shaky game in 1963, carved out a 69 on his final round over the 7,165-yard Firestone Course and a 72-hole total of 275, a single stroke better than the record 276 set by Arnold Palmer in 1962 and tied by Johnny Pott last year.

In addition to the $7,500 check, which boosted his earnings this year to $53,840, the triumph assured Venturi that his U.S. Open victory was no fluke.

Venturi started the final round with a two-stroke lead over Mason Rudolph. Rudolph slipped to a 72 on the final tour for a 280 but collected the $4,000 second-place money.

Masters champion Palmer finished third at 281 and Jack Nicklaus fell into the fourth slot at 285.

"I have now proven to my full satisfaction that the Open was no fluke," said Venturi. "I would have hated to win the Open and then not back it up."

Venturi, Palmer, Nicklaus, Tony Lema along with the other top names on the tour are now en route to Oakland Hills for the $200,000 Carling World Open which gets under way Thursday.

Practice sessions at the 6,907-yard Oakland Hills layout are scheduled for today, Tuesday and Wednesday for the 155-man field that includes golfers from 14 countries.

PGA officials said that Venturi would probably check in for a look at Oakland Hills tomorrow.

Venturi, sensational in the late 1950s, stirred the golf world with his decline the last two years.

WAY DOWN

Ken made 27 starts in 1962 in which he collected $6,951.39 and slipped to $3,848.33 in 1963 in 27 tournaments in which he finished no better than 18th.

After his dramatic victory in the Open at Congressional Country Club in Bethesda, Md., in June, the 170-pounder hit the jackpot again in the Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn., late in July.

The Open King will be one of the favorites when the players begin shooting for the $35,000 first prize in the Carling tournament.

Among the early arrivals at Oakland Hills was Bantam Ben Hogan of Texas, who made a tour of the course yesterday along with Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, Pete Fleming of Arkansas and PGA official Jack Tuthill.

Hogan won one of his four U.S. Open titles with a record 67 (since tied) in the closing round at Oakland Hills in 1951.

The 52-year-old Texan, the sentimental favorite in the field, was slated to play a practice round today with former PGA champion Walter Burkemo, head pro at Detroit Golf Club.

Burkemo Likes Practice Play

7 State Pros in World Open

By FLETCH SPEARS

It's a pity those practice rounds don't count.

If they did, Walter Burkemo would have shot an eye-opening, seven-under-par 273 and won the 1961 U.S. Open at Oakland Hills by a whopping eight strokes.

As it turned out, Gene Littler donned the Open crown with a oneover-par 281.

The 45-year-old Burkemo, 1953 PGA champion, is one of seven Michigan professionals in the 150-man Carling World Open field.

Other state players are Ben Lula of Hillcrest, Ted Kroll of Franklin Hills, Nick Berklich of Grosse Ile, Bob Gajda of Bloomfield Hills, Dave Hill of Jackson and host pro Al Watrous.

Burkemo, former assistant to Watrous at Oakland Hills and now head pro at Detroit Golf Club, was slated to play a practice round today with Bantam Ben Hogan, who won the Open at Oakland in 1951.

* * *

Walter entered the 1961 Open, and in four practice rounds posted scores of 67, 69, 69, 68. He then shot 77-73—150 in the first two rounds of the tourney and missed the halfway cut by one stroke.

He also missed the halfway cut by a single blow when Hogan won the '51 crown.

He toured the 6,907-yard layout two weeks ago with a four-over-par 74. "I was looking around, not paying too much attention to score," he said.

"The course looks a lot easier than in 1951 or 1961," Burkemo continued.

"The rough's not too high and the fairways are watered. The rough is cut down. In past Opens, getting in the rough was almost an automatic stroke."

PLAYING WELL

Burkemo, admitting his game is "very good," is looking for a record performance from a golfer with the power of Jack Nicklaus.

"It's a great course for Nicklaus. He flies the ball long . . . carry a few of the fairway bunkers."

With good weather, Burkemo forsees a score of 277, and he is not discounting the game of his friend Hogan.

"I like Ben Hogan's game. He has every shot in the bag . . . except on the putting green. If he develops the touch on the green he may win it."

Walt played with Hogan in this year's PGA at Columbus in which Hogan finished fifth. "He was hitting the greens, but he putted terrible," Walt said.

OTHER LOCALS

Gajda is another of the state delegation looking for a record score at Oakland. "Somewhere around 276 by Nicklaus or Arnold Palmer," he said.

Kroll, who qualified in July at Spring Meadow, along with Lula and Berklich, hurt his back after an opening round of 71 in 1961 and his game suffered in later rounds.

* * *

The 44-year-old Kroll, who moved into Franklin Hills as head pro last spring, is no stranger to "World Championships."

In 1956, he pocketed a $50,000 check for a first-place finish in the "World" championship at Tam O'Shanter Country Club near Chicago, and with first place went another $50,000 for exhibitions.

* * *

Lula, 39, played a round at Oakland two years ago and calls it "a wonderful course."

"I feel the greens will be a big factor . . . only one or two level ones."

Lula isn't among those who feel par will be broken. "Maybe a score of 282 or 283, and if they want to be mean, they could fix it so no one could do anything."

CHECK THE SMILE — Ken Venturi displays checks totaling $9,500 after winning the American Golf Classic in Akron yesterday with a four-round total of 275. The U.S. Open champion is scheduled to arrive at Oakland Hills tomorrow to tune up for the $200,000 Carling World Open which gets under way Thursday.

HOGAN TOURS — Grim-faced Bantam Ben Hogan of Texas, here for the Carling World Open, took his first practice cuts over the 6,907-yard Oakland Hills course yesterday. Hogan, who won the 1961 U.S. Open at Oakland, made the tour with Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, and Peter Fleming of Arkansas.

Tigers Outdo Twin Belters

DETROIT (AP) — Minnesota got a taste of some of its own medicine over the weekend as the Detroit Tigers outhomered the slugging Twins, 8-2, in winning two of the three games played.

* * *

The Twins, major league leaders with 189 home runs, managed only two homers Sunday. But one of them was a grand slammer out of the park by Don Mincher in the eighth inning of the first game that sparked the Twins to a 6-5 victory.

The Tigers, with Bill Freehan hitting two home runs and Don Demeter and Gates Brown one each, salvaged the nightcap of the twin-bill, 5-2, to give Hank Aguirre his first win since July 1.

"It's a little bit different to be out there for the final out," the smiling Aguirre said.

Aguirre was making his 20th start and set down the Twins on five hits to pick up his third victory in 10 decisions. It was his third complete game.

The only Minnesota runs off the tall lefthander came on a two-run homer by Zoilo Versalles in the third inning.

"He hit a real good curve ball," Aguirre explained. "I think he was sort of looking for it. He's a good curve ball hitter."

The loss in the first game still had Manager Charlie Dressen scratching his head after the double header was over.

Mickey Lolich, looking for his fifth straight win, had a 5-1 lead going into the eighth inning.

But the youngster suddenly lost his stuff and hit Jerry Kindall. He walked Harmon Killebrew and had two balls on Bob Allison when Dressen walked out to the mound.

NO CHANGE

For one of the few times this season, Dressen did not take his pitcher out.

"He told me he had lost his rhythm but said he could get them out," Dressen explained.

Lolich walked Allison and his first pitch to Mincher was a ball. That was enough for Dressen who summoned Fred Gladding.

* * *

Mincher looked at Gladding's first offering, a ball, then sent the ball some 500-feet out of Tiger Stadium over the right field stands. He was only the 10th player in history to turn the trick.

Three singles in the ninth inning, the last one by Tony Oliva, scored the winning run for the Twins.

Two-run homers by Dick McAuliffe and Jerry Lumpe, and a run-scoring double by Brown, gave the Tigers their seemingly comfortable advantage and chased starter Camilo Pascual.

Rich Rollins' double and Oliva's single scored the Twins' first run in the fourth.

* * *

After giving up Versalles' homer, Aguirre settled down and gave up just two more hits the rest of the way in the second game.

He also drew a round of applause when he flied out to center in the seventh. He was retired on strikeouts—the usual way for him — his first two times up.

* * *

Demeter's homer was hit off relief pitcher Bill Pleis. It was Demeter's 17th of the season, eighth against the Twins and 12th off a lefthanded pitcher.

The Tigers leave for Boston Tuesday to start a 13-game road trip. They do not return until September 9 when they play host to the New York Yankees.

DICK ROBERTSON
City Medal Champion

138 Total Is Winning Tally

Tom Balliet Runnerup, 6 Strokes Behind

A 48-year-old grandfather fired a one-under-par 68 in the closing round yesterday at Pontiac Municipal Course and finished six strokes in front in the 35th annual Men's Medal Championship.

Dick Robertson, whose family numbers three daughters and seven grandchildren, wrapped up the crown with an even par 70-68—138 over the 5,677-yard course.

Six strokes back in the runner-up slot was Tom Balliet of Pontiac at 72-72—144.

Defending champion Lou Mitzelfelt of Rochester finished in a tie for 15th place at 152.

"I couldn't do anything wrong," Robertson admitted after his closing 68.

He had four birdies in the final round, closing the door on the rest of the field with birdie putts of 12 and 18 feet on Nos. 16 and 17.

Ray Allen shot a 145 for third place and former champion Ed Wasik and Glen Vallance shared fourth at 146.

The top five in the tourney will represent Pontiac in the Recreation Association of Michigan tournament at Midland September 12.

Robertson, a member of Bald Mountain's Publinx team, was one stroke behind Vallance after the opening round Saturday.

Playing in the wind and rain, Vallance carded a par 69, but he soared to a 77 in the closing round yesterday.

* * *

Robertson's winning total was three strokes off the record of 135 set by Butler Cooper in 1958. Cooper tied for sixth yesterday with a 147.

And for Robertson, the victory brought an end to a little frustration. He had entered six times before, never finishing in the top five.

Other ex-champs who finished the 36-hole route was Paul Bada (10th), Ron Rothbarth (12th) and Glenn Harding (17th).

There were two father-son combinations in the field — Tom Balliet and son Gary (7th) and Lou Mitzelfelt and son Tom (tie 6th).

Six-time winner Mike Andonian is playing in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's match-play tournament at Saginaw and missed the local action.

U-M Gridders Report Today for Practice

ANN ARBOR (AP) — More than 75 candidates were to report to Coach Bump Elliott today as the University of Michigan opened pre-season football practice.

This afternoon's practice time has been set aside for the annual news photographers opening day picture session.

But the Wolverines will be hard at work the rest of the week as they go through two-a-day drills.

Though allowed to open a week before other Big Ten schools, U-M will have fewer practice sessions than the other league schools because classes begin this Monday. The university is working under a trisemester program.

Oliva Acts Like Hurler

DETROIT (AP) — Minnesota rookie outfielder Tony Oliva must have set some sort of record when he threw his bat three times in a single time at bat in the eighth inning of the first game Sunday.

The bat went all the way to the Twins dugout the first time he let go, and his other erratic swings sent the bat out toward the pitching mound. Both of the last two tosses came as he fouled off Mickey Lolich's pitches.

BASEBALL SIT-DOWN — Baltimore's Earl Robinson dropped on the seat of his pants after avoiding a pitch from Chicago White Sox hurler Ray Herbert in the first game yesterday. Catcher is J. C. Martin. Orioles won the opener, 7-3, but dropped the nightcap, 3-1.

White Sox Still Lacking Power

By United Press International

Al Lopez keeps insisting his White Sox can do it, and if they do it'll be with the same formula they used five years ago — pitching, speed and defense but hardly any power.

* * *

Chicago slapped, punched and sliced 13 hits in Sunday's doubleheader with Baltimore.

Eleven were singles and the other two doubles but they still wound up with a split and saved themselves from a humiliating four-game sweep by the Birds to stay within reach of the top, 1½ games back.

* * *

Lopez called on southpaw Gary Peters, 1963 rookie-of-the year, to apply the brakes to the White Sox skid and extract a pesky thorn from the manager's side.

Causing Lopez' discomfort was third baseman Brooks Robinson.

The series opened Friday with the Sox leading the Orioles by a half game. Robby drove in the winning runs both Friday and Saturday and had three hits and two RBI's in the first game Sunday, which Baltimore won 7-3.

* * *

His first inning run-producing single in the nightcap had Lopez groping for aspirin but Peters took charge after that and went all the way, behind seven singles for his 14th victory against seven setbacks when his teammates managed three runs off loser Steve Barber in the seventh for a 3-1 triumph.

* * *

In the opener, 19-year-old Wally Bunker, 13-3, allowed only six hits, coasting in after Baltimore scored twice in the fourth and four times in the fifth.

Lions Still Unbeaten in Exhibition, but Look at This

17-13 Victory Over Eagles Led by Plum

Wilson Clears Bench in Second Exhibition Triumph of Season

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Any way you look at it in any sport, it's the final score that counts.

The Detroit Lions didn't look like world beaters in defeating the Philadelphia Eagles 17-13 before 30,000 fans at Franklin Field yesterday, but it was a rougher game than any quick TV glances could show as both teams were trying to make their past trades look good.

Coach George Wilson cleared the entire bench, as did the Eagles, except for the players who were injured prior to the game, and even though the Lions were on the short end of the statistics the fact remains they are still unbeaten in exhibition play with two wins and a tie.

"When we sputtered there a few times, I had to get the regulars back in, but overall I thought the new faces did pretty well," said Wilson.

Wally Hilgenberg, getting his first chance in a Lions' uniform, and Bobby Thompson, who has moved into Dick Lane's corner defensive spot, both suffered concussions early in the game and did not return.

The Eagles started the scoring early when Sam Baker booted a 41 yard field goal, but the Lions came right back with Milt Plum firing a 50-yard touchdown pass play to Gail Cogdill.

FIRST TD

The slippery end took the ball on the 10 yard line and eluded Don Burroughs into the end zone. Wayne Walker made it 7-3 with the PAT.

★ ★ ★

Early in the second quarter, Plum had the Lions on the move and on the 10th play, he hit Pat Studstill from the five yard line to make it 14-3 with Walker's kick.

In the second half, the Lions didn't come through with any late scoring sprees as they did in the first two games, in fact they appeared to be tiring as the game reached the 4th period.

The Eagles were on the move several times. Baker booted a 34-yard field goal in the third quarter to make it 14-6, and this came after Yale Lary faked a punt and decided to run.

He missed the first down and the Eagles took over on the Detroit 48, moving to the 27 and setting up Baker's field goal.

A couple roughing penalties helped the Eagles in their next series late in the third period.

Ollie Matson's running and King Hill's passing moved the Eagles 77 yards in 16 plays for the touchdown. Tom Woodeshick carried over from the one and with Baker's kick the score was

Lions' Plane Hit by Bolt of Lightning

Nothing like a bolt of lightning to shake up a football team.

En route to Philadelphia, the Lions' plane out of Willow Run had to travel for more than an hour in dense fog, but everyone on the plane encountered a new experience.

A bolt of lightning hit the plane giving it a good shaking.

Pilot Bud Jordon, who flies most of the Lions' chartered flights, then announced over the speaker, "Everything's fine, it happens quite often. Don't get alarmed."

"Thanks a lot," returned coach George Wilson, who lost his cup of coffee in the process.

Bears Hope Arnett Will Be Breakaway

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Rams halfback Jon Arnett, a former All-Pro selection and eight-year veteran, was traded to the Chicago Bears Sunday for two offensive linemen and a defensive halfback.

Arnett, 29, hampered by a knee injury, saw limited action last year and has not appeared in the Rams three National Football League exhibition games this season. But he said Sunday he's healthy and ready to play.

For Arnett, the Rams got offensive guard Roger Davis, center Joe Wendryhoski, and defensive back Frank Budka.

Rams Coach Harland Svare said he was reluctant to let Arnett go, but the three new players would give the Rams added depth and the chance to improve the club in three positions.

Arnett said he is happy about the trade.

"I would have had a weighty decision to make if I had been traded to a second division club," Arnett said. "But this is just perfect."

He added that he thought he would be used as a running back in the Bear offense. He will move his family to Chicago for the season, but intends to keep his Los Angeles home.

Davis is thought to be the key man in the trade. The former Syracuse player has been a Bear starter at right guard for four season. He was the Bears' first draft choice in 1960.

Budka, a former Notre Dame quarterback, is a rookie, and played defensive halfback for the Bears.

Wendryhoski, who played with Illinois, was signed as a free agent last spring. He played two seasons with Vancouver, B.C., in the Canadian League.

Browns Bomb Steelers, 42-7 for 2nd Rout

Next Lions' Opponent Led by Ninowski Has 98 Points in 2 Games

From Our Wire Services

Say, there Detroit Lions, don't go patting your defense on the back too soon. In just five days, those Cleveland Browns will be in the Motor City and they have 98 points to show for themselves to two games.

With Jim Ninowski passing for five touchdowns, including a 99 yard strike to rookie Clifton McNeil, the Browns routed the Pittsburgh Steelers, 42-7, Saturday night.

What was said about Jimmy Brown and the Browns after the 20-7 loss to the San Francisco 49ers in the exhibition opener must caused a fire in the lakefront city.

Last week the Browns walloped the Rams 56-31 and Frank Ryan passed for four TD's and Ninowski for two.

OTHER GAMES

In other NFL games this weekend, the Washington Redskins won their first exhibition in three games by downing the New York Giants 27-24 while Minnesota stayed unbeaten in trimming the 49ers, 24-21 and the Packers were whipping the were edging Dallas, 25-16.

Paul Hornung scored on runs of three and 11 yards, caught an 18 yard scoring pass from Bart Starr and kicked three extra points to account for all 21 points for the Packers.

The Bears, hurt by injuries, including the loss of halfback Ronnie Bull with a pulled muscle in pre-game practice, could not launch an effective attack until reserve quarterback Rudy Bukich took over in the final period.

He ended an 80-yard march passing eight yards to former Packer Gary Barnes.

8 FOR 16

Ernie Green put the Browns ahead in the first quarter on a one yard plunge.

Ninowski, playing in place of injured Frank Ryan, completed 12 of 20 passes for 338 yards.

McNeil's spectacular reception and run came in the 4th period. He had a 91 yarder against the Rams last week.

★ ★ ★

Two of Ninowski's passes for TD's went to Gary Collins in the 2nd period, covering nine and 20 yards; a six yarder to Jim Brown and a 19 yarder to Tom Hutchinson.

The Steelers recovered a Jim Brown fumble in the 2nd quarter and moved from the Cleveland 41 in five plays. Dick Hoag going over from four yards to tie it 7-7.

ROOKIE KICKER

Rookie John Seedberg kicked the tie-breaking 35-yard field goal in Washington's victory over the Giants.

The Giants went out in front 24-21 on a 99-yard kickoff return by Clarence Childs. Seedberg then tied with four minutes left with a 46-yard field goal.'

The Skins scored first on George Izo's 11-yard pass to Angelo Coia, and again on Bob Pellegrini's lumbering 60-yard return on a Y. A. Tittle interception and a 19-yard burst by J. D. Lockett.

The Giants scored on a blocked kick recovery in the end zone and a 47-yard pass interception return by Tom Scott, plus Child's kickoff return.

Raiders Edge Bills

Winning Kick in AFL Tilt

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Mike Mercer's 32-yard field goal with 14 seconds left gave the Oakland Raiders a 34-31 victory over the Buffalo Bills in their American Football League exhibition contest Sunday.

The winning field goal capped a 20-point fourth quarter by the Raiders.

★ ★ ★

Quarterback Tom Flores, taking over the Raider offense in the second half, passed for three touchdowns to Art Powell and set up a fourth.

Flores completed 13 of 16 for 250 yards. Split-end Powell made nine receptions in all for 223 yards, including the three touchdown tosses.

LEAD 10-0

The Bills jumped to a first half 10-0 lead on a 3-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak and a one-yard touchdown plunge by Cookie Gilchrist.

The score was set up by a 34-yard pass from quarterback Jack Kemp to flanker Elbert Dubenion on the one.

In other American Football League games Saturday, New York nipped Boston 21-20 and San Diego beat Kansas City 26-14.

Rookie fullback Matt Snell led a fourth period comeback for the Jets. Snell, who gained 117 yards for the day, set up two touchdowns that overcame a 20-7 deficit. Jim Turner's conversion, after Bill Mathis scored with 1:57 to play, won it.

Tobin Rote, San Diego's veteran quarterback, collaborated with Don Norton on a 90-yard pass-run play for the Chargers' go - ahead touchdown, then capped an 86-yard insurance drive with an 18-yard scoring toss to Norton.

Spiked Shoes Help Net Duo

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — The top-seeded men's and women's teams advanced to the finals of the rain-delayed National Doubles Tennis championships Sunday but not until defending champions Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston had done some precarious skidding on the slippery turf.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., and Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., had to go all out to beat fourth-seeded Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla. and Charles Pasarell of Santurce, Puerto Rico, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, 12-10.

★ ★ ★

They wore spiked shoes because the courts were wet from the rain, which caused a day's postponement of the tournament Saturday, and mist, which continued through Sunday's matches.

Australia's Margaret Smith and Lesley Turner, the first-ranked women's team, relied on baseline steadiness to eliminate the fourth-seeded U.S. team of Nancy Richey of Dallas and Mrs. Carole Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, 6-4, 6-4.

The Australians are current Wimbledon doubles champions and haven't been beaten in tournament play this year.

★ ★ ★

England's Mike Sangster and Graham Stillwell, rated eighth here, completed a minor upset in an interrupted quarter-final match. They beat third-seeded Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill. 2-6, 22-20, 6-3, 8-10, 6-4.

The match was started Friday and halted by darkness with the score at 6-6 in the fourth set after the Englishmen had won two of the first three. Sangster and Stillwell were sluggish when play was resumed Sunday but picked up speed and went on to win.

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — Results Sunday in the National Doubles Tennis Championships:

Men's Semifinals

Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., and Chuck McKinley, San Antonio, defeated Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., and Charles Pasarell, Santurce, P.R., 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, 12-10.

Women's Semifinals

Margaret Smith and Lesley Turner, Australia, defeated Nancy Richey, Dallas, and Mrs. Carole Graebner, Beachwood, Ohio, 6-4, 6-4.

Waterford 9 Still in Race

Waterford Twonship stayed in the Clinton Valley League baseball race Sunday with an 8-0 blanking of Chesterfield.

The win pushed the township nine's record to 7-2. League leading Utica (8-0) was rained out of its game at Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse.

Lake Orion also was washed out against Washington-Romeo. The final regularly scheduled games are this weekend with Utica needing only one win in two tries to clinch the title.

TWO-HITTER

Larry McGuffey and Mike Kerr shared the mound duties for Waterford and combined on a two-hitter. McGuffey hurled the first five innings to get the victory.

Leadoff batter Chuck Swenson singled once and walked four times for the winners, scoring the only run needed on a first-inning fielder's choice.

Waterford scored six times in the last inning to sew up the verdict. Larry Mathews and Charlie Ahnen each had two hits for the winners.

Duck Hunting Opens Oct. 8

Five More Shooting Days for Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Michigan duck hunters will get a later start this season, but they'll have five more shooting days and—for the first time in four years—they can bag Canvasbacks and Redheads.

Acting in the wake of federal duck regulations released in Washington, the Michigan Conservation Commission set a 40-day season for Oct. 8-Nov. 16.

★ ★ ★

Pushing back the opener three days would give Lower Peninsula shooters a better chance at peak duck migrations, it said.

Bag limits of four ducks a day and eight in possession are the same as last year. The daily bag of four may include a total of two Canvasbacks or Redheads.

PROTECTED LIST

Canvasbacks and Redheads increased their numbers while they were on the protected list for four years.

A 70-day goose season in the Upper and northern Lower Peninsula was set for Oct. 1-Dec. 9. In the southern Lower Peninsula it will run from Oct. 8-Dec. 9. The goose combined and possession limit remains at five birds, including two Canada geese.

Starting time on opening days has been moved from noon to sunrise.

Amateur Champion Has Game in Order

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Confident Deane Beman has begun pointing for the defense of his National Amateur golf championship after once more finding a cure for his golfing ailments in a tournament that's almost his personal property — the Eastern Amateur.

"I'm playing much better now than I was at this time a year ago," Beman said Sunday after winning the eastern title for the fourth time in five tries at Portsmouth's tough, tight little Elizabeth Manor Course. "For the first time, all parts of my game seem in working order."

Beman shot rounds of 71-71-72-68—282, two over par for Elizabeth Manor, winning the championship by three strokes over Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.

Cartwright Takes 2 in Catamaran Races

In two races of the Catamarans yesterday on Cass Lake, Chuck Cartwright was in first place each time.

Roland and Bob Redner finished 2nd and 3rd in the first race and Walt Johnson and Art Anderson were the runnerups in the second race.

The first race had some exciting moments when Frank Marriot boat capsized and was towed in, and Rod Smith's boat snapped in half and sunk in shallow water just as he crossed the finish line.

Both boats were retrieved.

Softball Teams Hit by Weather

300 Bowl, Arro 9's Await Rescheduling

Rain washed out the Michigan Softball Association district tournaments at Port Huron Saturday and Sunday and the games are expected to be played early this week.

Jim Leonard of Port Huron, commissioner of state district No. 8, said he would make a rescheduling decision today.

Entered in the tournaments are Pontiac's 300 Bowl and Arro Realty.

The Class A 300 team has dropped one game in the two-game knockout series. Arro, the Class B entry, will meet Flint Sport Shop in its first game when the series resumes.

Two other Pontiac squads move into state tournament competition Friday at Owosso.

UAW No. 594 will represent the city in the Class C division, and Sam Reeves is entering the Class D action.

Australian Nets Medalist Honor in Seniors' Golf

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (AP) — Australia's Jack Barkel was medalist as the annual World Seniors Golf tournament, for players 55 and older, got under way today.

Barkel shot a 137 net score in the two-day international team challenge matches won Sunday by the United States. His final round was a six-under-par 66.

The final U.S. score was 441 based on the low three scores by four-man teams.

Australia was next with 144 with Japan's defending champions, at 447, third among the 11 teams competing.

A two-time winner of the seniors tourney, Howard Creel of Colorado Springs, led the Americans with a two-under-par 70.

Adrian Women Win

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Adrian defeated Atlanta 4-2 Sunday in the Women's World of Softball Tournament here.

Local Sailors Prevail in Watkins Lake Races

Two local sailors ran one-two in the third annual Snipe Regatta held Saturday and Sunday at Watkins Lake.

Glen Fries won all three races — one Saturday and two Sunday — to finish on top and Dave Green was second in the field of 18.

Mel Nichols of Jackson placed third.

One Perfect Score Hit in Clay Target Shoot

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A junior high school English teacher came out of Annie Oakley's home town Sunday and startled the clay target world by winning the final preliminary event to the 65th Grand American Trapshoot.

Hiram Bradley, 27, of Greenville, Ohio, broke 200 straight at 16 yards, the only perfect score registered by 581 amateurs from 36 states in the Dayton homecoming event.

Bradley started shooting only a year ago.

★ ★ ★

In the professional field, Paul Smith, All-American from Denver, Colo., cracked 200 straight.

C. E. Barnhart of Kansas City, Bueford Bailey of Big Springs, Neb., and George Snellenberger of Angola, Ind. tied for second with 199 of 200, and Barnhart then broke 50 straight to win the shoot-off for the runner-up spot.

Championship shooting opens Monday with a 200-target 16-yard event in which the veterans, husband-wife, parent-child and brother-brother titles will be decided.

An added attraction is the Champion of Champions contest in which the title holders from all the states and Canada's provinces will compete.

Phillies' Allen Adds to MVP Rating

NL Leaders Again Led by Rookie

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen, Philadelphia's hard - hitting third baseman, wears orange shoes, four-button suits and sports jackets with buckles in the back.

Now he's trying to stick a couple of feathers in his cap.

A leading contender for both Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player honors, the stand-out dresser and outstanding third baseman belted two homers and a single, driving in four runs Sunday as the National League leading Phillies walloped Pittsburgh 9-3.

The performance lifted Allen's batting average to .313, gave him 23 homers and 66 runs batted in, and once again shot him front and center as a distinct possibility to become the first rookie in major league history to win the MVP award.

OVERBOARD

Although it may be difficult to go overboard in praise of Allen's taste in clothes, Manager Gene Mauch has had no difficulty sizing up his talent.

"He's something, really something," says Mauch. "His hands are so fast it's unbelievavble. He can hit to any field and he's a pleasant mixture of man and kid.

"There's enough man in him to know what he's doing and enough kid in him so that he's wild-eyed about being in the major leagues."

* * *

Allen, whose chief competition for MVP honors might come from teammates John (All-Star Hero) Callison and Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, hit a two-run homer against the Pirates in the third inning, hit a solo homer in the fifth and singled home a run in the eighth

Bunning, who went seven innings, benefited from the support, bringing his record to 14-4 with a 2.17 earned run average despite being tagged for homers by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon.

BIG LEAD

The victory boosted the Phillies lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Phil Ortega's three-hitter 1-0 while the Giants edged St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings.

In other games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings and 5-4 and Houston beat Milwaukee 7-1 in a night game.

Wills Accuses Giles of 'Stealing' on Rule

* * *

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers contemptuously paid a $50 fine to National League President Warren C. Giles with 5,000 pennies.

If anything, the little shortstop's respect for Giles has since diminished.

Wills, who has run his salary up to $50,000 largely by stealing bases, accused Giles Sunday of stealing excitement from fans and opportunity from good baserunners by failing to have the balk rule enforced.

* * *

In fact, Wills charged, the National League office has gone so far as to take money away from umpires who tried to enforce it.

Said Giles: "If Wills has a complaint, he should make it in writing. And he should get his facts straight before making public statements."

Giles did not elaborate.

Wills did. He said he had a long talk with an umpire recently "and he told me the whole story."

"Last year the umpires who were calling all those balks early in the season were called into the National League office," Wills said. "At first the league office had wanted the balk rule enforced. Then the umpires really started calling a lot of them and they were told to cut down."

UMPS BOTHERED

This annoyed umpires, Wills said, because it placed them in the impossible position of having to judge not whether a pitcher was balking but "whether he was balking too much."

* * *

Wills said he learned one umpire "lost his Christmas bonus because he enforced the rule and I believe one also was cut in salary for the same reason."

The section of the balk rule that has caused perhaps the most trouble is the one providing that, with a runner or runners on base, a pitcher working from the set position must bring his hands to a stop before delivering a pitch.

Wills said the stop requirement is being ignored and this makes it difficult for the base stealer to decide when to take off.

"At the rate it's going, I think in a couple of years 40 stolen bases will be an awful lot," Wills said. "And in five years the stolen base will be obsolete."

Wills has 38 steals so far this season.

Miss McIntire Paces U. S. Women's Event

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Barbara McIntire, fresh from her second victory in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf tournament, turns now to the Curtis Cup match to be played in South Wales Sept. 11-12.

Miss McIntire, from Colorado Springs, defeated Joe Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals of the 64th women's tournament Saturday at Prairie Dunes Country Club. Miss Gunderson had won the tournament three times previously and Miss McIntire won in 1959.

SHARED HONORS

Miss McIntire, Miss Gunderson and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., shared medalist honors by qualifying with 36-hole scores of 151 — the first time this event has held qualifying rounds.

In their championship match, Miss McIntire went four down on the 20th hole but won the next three holes and pulled even on the 25th. She went ahead for the first time — and to stay — at the 26th when Miss Gunderson inadvertently played a stray ball on her third shot from rough grass just off the green.

Italian Captures Trouble-Marred Austrian Race

ZELTWEG, Austria (AP)—Lorenzo Bandini of Italy drove his Ferrari to victory in the Grand Prix of Austria auto race Sunday, but the action was marred by mechanical troubles and fire.

Some of the outstanding drivers in the world were forced out of the race by the slew of mishaps. The race was the seventh this year counting toward the world driving championship, and the leaders in the standings all failed to finish.

Only one major accident occurred. Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., took a spin on a turn and his Cooper car rolled over several times and burst into flames. Hill jumped to safety before flames from the leaking gas tank reached him. It was learned later that a broken axle had been responsible for the mishap.

Wisconsin, Ohio Nines in Connie Mack Finals

MARSHALL (AP) — Racine, Wis., and Springfield, Ohio, will meet today for the championship of the Great Lakes Regional Connie Mack Baseball Tournament.

While each team has been defeated once, Racine has four victories to Springfield's three.

They traded shutouts Sunday. Racine won the first encounter, 1-0, but Springfield later avenged the loss with a 5-0 shutout.

HAPPY YANKEES — Manager Yogi Berra hugs Mickey Mantle in the dressing room after the slugger had clouted a decisive two-run homer in the Yankees' 4-3 win over Boston. The blow was Mantle's 27th of the season and second in as many games.

Baltimore Infielder Is Strong Choice

By The Associated Press

It's odd, but Brooks Robinson is at his best in even-numbered years.

This year he's better than ever and has a better than even chance of being named the American League's most valuable player—if Baltimore wins the pennant.

Robinson tried to see to that, sparking the Orioles to three victories in four weekend games with Chicago. Baltimore won their third straight 7-3 Sunday before the White Sox salvaged the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The split left the Orioles 1½ games ahead of the White Sox who led by one-half game before the series started.

Robinson lashed three hits in Sunday's opener, scoring two runs, and drove in the Orioles lone run in the second game. In the previous two games, Robinson knocked in two runs in Friday's 4-2 triumph and slammed a three-run homer that won Saturday's game by the same score.

His overall performance, eight hits in 16 times at bat, increased the 27-year-old third baseman's batting average seven points to .308, his home run total to 22 and his runs batted in to 85.

Robinson reached his best RBI mark in 1960 when he drove in 88 runs. He dipped to 61 the next season but rose to 86 in 1962 when he also hit 23 homers and batted .303, his best marks in those categories prior to this season.

But the oddity struck again as he plummeted to a .251 average last year with only 11 homers and 67 RBI.

Robinson, incidentally, was named the most valuable Oriole in 1960 and 1962, the first player to win the honor twice. He may go one better this year. No Oriole ever has won the league's MVP award.

Detroit Favro Nine Takes Crown Again

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Detroit Favro's won its seventh straight National Amateur Baseball Federation championship Sunday by defeating Chicago Fernwood, 2-0.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's first run came in the fourth inning with two out. Jack Pilarski doubled and scored on a single by Tom Keating.

In the ninth, Jim Boreland singled and was sacrificed to second. He scored on a single by Tom Paciorek.

Detroit hurler Gary Smith held Chicago to six hits.

Publinx Meet Finale Reset

SAGINAW (AP) — Four Detroit area golfers — a pair of 27-year-olds, a 44-year-old veteran, and a 45-year-old Ford Mowill battle it out for the title of the Michigan Public Golfer of the Year next Sunday at Swan Valley Golf Club.

★ ★ ★

An all-day rainstorm Friday forced postponement of the scheduled conclusion of the tournament scheduled for Sunday. Publinx officials decided on Aug. 30 as the date for the final.

In Sunday's third and fourth round matches, Don Curyla, John Kurach, Dayton Shanahan and Joe Wilson advanced into this weekend's semifinal and final matches.

Curyla, a 27-year-old Wayne University education major, will meet Kurach, 44, a two-time state amateur finalist, in one semifinal match.

Shanahan, also 27, a greenskeeper at Hickory Hill Golf Course in Detroit, takes on Wilson in the other semi-final.

Kuryla disposed of two-time Publinx champion Mike Andonian of Pontiac, and Joe Peak of Detroit in Sunday's two matches.

Lions Down Eagles by 17-13 Score

14-13 in the first minute of the 4th period.

Earl Morrall started the second half at quarterback, but the ex-Michigan Stater didn't have his "bullpen" touch.

The Lions had to punt out twice early in the 4th quarter and the Eagles took over on their own 34 and started to move again.

Norm Snead hit Ralph Smith with a 33-yard pass to the Lions' 34 yard line, and rookie Roger Gill replaced Matson in the backfield.

★ ★ ★

On his first carry, Gill fumbled and Sam Williams fell on the ball to stop the Eagles' threat.

However, Morrall again could not move the team and Lary punted out.

PLUM RETURNS

With 3:50 left in the game, Plum came back into the game. A 15-yard penalty put the Lions on the Philly 43. Plum then threw 13 yards to Cogdill to the 28, and on 4th down on the 20, Walker came in and booted a 28-yard field goal to make it 17-13.

★ ★ ★

Snead tried to get the Eagles downfield with 1:40 left throwing a 11-yard pass to Tim Brown and a 17 yarder to Smith, but Alex Karras hit Snead for a 10 yard loss on one instance and time ran out with three incomplete pases.

Walker and linebacker Dennis Gaubatz ran into each other on the pass to Brown and suffered minor injuries.

Defensive end Bill Quinlin and offensive tackle J. D. Smith, both ex-Eagles, and Dave Lloyd and Floyd Peter, ex-Lions, along with Matson, had some good moments against their former teammates.

Friday night the highscoring Cleveland Browns, who have scored 56 and 42 points in their last two games, will be in Tiger Stadium for the 4th exhibition game of the season.

Russians Dual Concern for Olympian-Politician

NEW YORK (AP) — As a candidate for office, it isn't unusual for Norbert Schemansky to be concerned about the Russians.

But he's more interested in the Japanese.

★ ★ ★

Schemansky, a Democratic candidate for the Michigan House of Representatives, won the heavyweight championship in the U.S. Olympic weightlifting trials last weekend and qualified for a berth on the team that will represent this country in Tokyo.

The 40-year-old resident of Dearborn, Mich., who qualified for his fourth Olympic team, was asked about his training methods, but quickly shifted the reply to the Russians and Japanese.

"I'm interested in the Japanese training. Lately they are the ones who are breaking all of the world records."

Despite Schemansky's concern for the Japanese he said he still fears the Russians the most.

WON MEDAL

"I feel that I have an excellent chance of winning the gold medal," said Norbert, who won the Olympic gold medal as a middle heavyweight in 1952 in Finland.

"However, the Russians have the potential to win all seven titles. They have greater depth than Americans. Just look at the names they have in competition. You never heard of them before. Not so with our team. Most of us have been around for years."

★ ★ ★

In Schemansky's case, he has shattered 26 world records during his career and finished second in the '48 Olympics and third in the '60 games after missing the '56 competition because of back injury.

The 6-foot, 264-pounder lifted 1,146 pounds in the two-day trials at the world's fair to head the five-man U.S. team that was selected Sunday by the weightlifting committee.

THIRD TIME

Isaac Berger, 27-year old cantor from Brooklyn, N.Y., the 1956 feather weight Olympic champ and the runner-up in '60, was picked for a third straight time.

Ford to Expand Sterling Plant

Addition to Create 1,400 New Jobs

Ford Motor Co. today announced that it will expand its Sterling Township plant, creating approximately 1,400 new jobs.

The plans for the 600,000-square-foot expansion and additional jobs were revealed at a luncheon attended by Macomb County business and civic leaders at the Sterling plant, Mound and 17 Mile roads.

The announcement was made by Charles H. Patterson, executive vice president at Ford.

It was the seventh major expansion in southeastern Michigan announced by Ford Motor Co. this year.

* *

"When anticipated full employment of more than 7,500 persons is attained at the Sterling plant, the annual payroll will total close to $67 million, and the plant will be one of the largest in the automotive industry," said Patterson.

AUGUST 1965

When the expansion is completed in August 1965, the Sterling plant will have 2.5 million square feet of floor space. Construction of the new addition is expected to begin next month.

The addition will be constructed to the south and east of the present building, utilizing the present employes parking lot. Work on a new parking area is already under way.

The present facility was built in 1956.

The Sterling plant makes front end suspensions, rear axle assemblies, wheel spindles, drive shafts and other automotive parts for Ford's 17 U.S. assembly plants.

Patterson said "The Sterling plant is one of our key operations and represents an important segment of our forward program to meet dealer and customer requirements."

The latest Ford announcement brings to 8,500 the number of new jobs created in southeastern Michigan when the company's increased capacity is completely utilized, according to Patterson.

This will add about $75 million annually to the company's payrolls.

Albert Kahn Associated Architects and Engineers, Inc., of Detroit, will design the new structure. Contractors have yet to be selected.

'I Killed Two,' Seaman Says

Detroit Detective 1 of 2 Miami Deaths

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Jamaican seaman, who claimed everybody was trying to kill him, has been charged with murder in the slaying of a private detective from Detroit and a Miami policeman.

Lloyd Astley Cuff, a 25-year-old man who jumped ship in Detroit Aug. 21, was given a preliminary hearing Sunday before Peace Justice Ruth Esuton.

★ ★ ★

"I really did kill those men," said Cuff, shackled hand and foot at the hearing. "They were trying to kill me. I was protecting myself."

Cuff is charged with shooting Paul Chisenhall, 33, Detroit, and Deputy Carlos Stuteville, 28, at crowded Miami Airport Saturday night with Stuteville's gun.

RETURNING MAN

Police said Chisenhall was returning Cuff to Jamaica for the seaman's employer and had asked Miami police for assistance.

Two cargo loaders at the airport gave this account:

Cuff got up from a chair and started walking toward a stairway. Stuteville ordered Cuff to stop and a scuffle ensued.

★ ★ ★

The two men were wrestling on the floor when Cuff grabbed Stuteville's revolver and shot the officer in the heart.

SHOOTS MAN

Then, Cuff shot the unarmed Chisenhall.

Another officer, Bill Pearson, ran to the scene. Police said Cuff started firing at Pearson and Pearson emptied his revolver at Cuff, but did not hit him.

Pearson, his gun empty as was Cuff's, then wrestled the seaman to the floor. Other officers helped capture him.

★ ★ ★

Cuff was held without bond.

Police said he was being returned to Jamaica by a private detective under a law which makes a steamship line responsible for sailors who jump ship in port.

Cuff told officers he jumped ship because others aboard were trying to kill him.

Satisfactory After Crash

Ethel Washington, 33, of 363 Irwin and her daughter, Linda, 13, both are in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in a three-car collision Saturday at Nebraska and Franklin.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred at 3:25 p.m. when a car driven by Othaline Bridges, 20, of 48 Pleasant View headed west on Nebraska, struck a car driven by Virginia Yapo, 23, of 512 N. East Blvd. pushing it into the Washington Car, according to Pontiac Police.

Miss Yapo's car was headed south on Franklin, and Mrs. Washington's auto was traveling north on Franklin.

Man Is Hospitalized After Car Strikes Pole

Bruce Davis, 20, of 34½ Midland is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered when his car hit a utility pole Saturday night and rolled over.

Davis told police he was driving south on N. East Boulevard when his car went out of control and struck the Edison Co. pole south of Phillips.

Septuplets Born Dead

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI)—A 30-year-old woman recently gave birth to still-born septuplets, Uppsala University Hospital said today.

Hospital authorities said the seven infants were born four months prematurely.

A hospital spokesman said the woman had been treated with hormones to correct an inability to become pregnant.

The report of the septuplets was first made in London, yesterday by Prof. Carl A. Gemzell, who developed the hormone treatment. He gave no exact date of the miscarriage and declined to reveal the name of the mother.

Gemzell said all seven were properly developed, though they were very small.

★ ★ ★

He said he had found one similar case in medical literature dating back to 1894..

BORN ALIVE

In that case, all seven babies were born alive but all died within a few hours, he said.

GM Says UAW Is Delaying

General Motors accused the UAW of foot-dragging today in the contract negotiations between the two.

GM's vice president of personnel Louis G. Seaton pointed out that his company's latest offer was rejected a week ago, and has not produced a counter-proposal by the union.

Seaton said:

"We are bewildered by the union's time-wasting maneuvering. Thirteen days ago the UAW made a public appeal that General Motors come forth with an economic proposal as early as possible so there would be time to work out a settlement without a strike.

★

"GM responded promptly. A week ago today, General Motors offered the best and most comprehensive proposal GM has ever made to the UAW.

★

"General Motors offered:

- Wage increases worth more than 26 cents an hour, on the average.
- Cost of living allowances to protect wages.
- Sixteen per cent higher basic pension benefits.
- A new early retirement incentive.
- An 8th paid holiday.
- More vacation pay.
- New widow's benefits.
- More life insurance protection, fully paid by GM.
- Sickness and accident benefits, also paid by GM.
- Improved unemployment pay and separation pay plans.
- Company paid educational opportunities.
- A $6 million wage differential adjustment fund.

REJECT PROPOSAL

"Within minutes, the union rejected our proposal out of hand. They then took a week to maneuver, and decide who would be first to be threatened with a $65-million strike fund.

Even that decision must wait until next Wednesday night — leaving a bare five days before the GM-UAW agreement runs out.

"There is still time to work out a settlement—if the union will come down off the mountain and get realistic. As we said a week ago, we are flexible. We can work out an equitable new agreement within the economic dimensions of our proposal."

Break-In Nets $202 at Local Oil Plant

Approximately $200 in cash from a safe and $2 from a soft-drink vending machine were reported stolen in a break-in last night at the Gulf Oil Co. bulk oil plant, 392 S. Sanford.

The break-in was discovered at 7 a.m. today by employes reporting for work.

Police said the safe was pried open. Several checks and other papers it contained were strewn nearby on the floor but only cash was reported missing.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to open a wall safe in the building, according to police.

LBJ's Cattle Capture Top Texas Fair Honors

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP) — Herefords from President Lyndon Johnson's LBJ Ranch won blue ribbons at the Gillespie County Fair over the weekend.

The ribbons were for the grand champion get-of-sire, showing four animals of both sexes sired by the same bull.

Reuther Plans Visits to Talks

Marks the Start of Urgent Negotiations

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther planned to visit negotiations at each Big Three auto firm today — marking the start of urgent bargaining on new contracts for more than half a million workers.

Current pacts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler expire one week from today.

Speaking to UAW workers in Flint last night, Reuther said "we are looking for justice, and we will strike to get it." He added:

The companies made their first and then force the other two to economic offers last Monday.

BOARD VIEW

The UAW International Executive Board termed them "narrow" and "selfish."

Reuther asked the board to meet Wednesday night to pick a strike target, if necessary. Traditionally, the union hopes to drive one company to a contract, via strike or threat of it, and then force the other twoto meet or better the original agreement.

Thousands of workers in supplier plants and allied industries will be affected by the contract pattern — or the strike.

★ ★ ★

Among its demands, the union stated:

"Pensions and early retirement are among the most promising single means available to us to create job opportunities.

"A sound early retirement requires a level of pension benefits sufficiently high to serve as a proper reward to older workers (and) it also adds to the years retirees can devote to enjoying themselves, free from work and economic worry."

The union also contended the annual improvement factor wage increase of 2½ per cent provided under most of its contracts is "obsolete and inadequate."

Among its non-economic demands, the UAW has insisted that the sovereignty of human beings, over machines be asserted by initiating "guaranteed rest periods" in addition to two 12-minute breaks workers now get on each eight-hour shift to attend to personal needs.

Club Patrons Find Visitors Are No Joke

ALGHERO, Sardinia (AP) — Eight masked bandits took over a nightclub near this city on the west coast of Sardinia last night, held more than 70 customers at gun point for four hours, and escaped with 7 million lire (about $11,500) in money and jewelry.

The bandits, armed with submachine guns and rifles, walked into the Scala Piccada nightclub just as the evening's festivities were starting.

They ordered 20 patrons and the manager to lie on the floor. At first, patrons and manager thought it was a joke. One of the bandits knocked the manager to the floor with a rifle butt and further commands were obeyed.

The bandits herded the clients into two rooms, women in one and men in the other. Then the gunmen waited patiently for more customers to show up.

★ ★ ★

Three directed parking outside. Three guarded entrances and exists. Two stood guard over the imprisoned patrons.

ESCAPE IN CARS

Finally, with more than 70 persons under guard, shortly after midnight, the bandits decided the crowd would get no larger, made their collection and took off in automobiles.

Tshombe Enlisting Whites

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe's Congo government has opened a drive here to enlist young whites to fight Communist-backed Congolese rebels.

Applicants found physically fit are flown to the Congo to reinforce regular army units at salaries up to $380 a month. Tshombe used white mercenaries in leading the Katanga secession.

★ ★ ★

Similar recruiting is reported under way in South Africa. Southern Rhodesia and South Africa are both governed by white supremacist regimes.

Tshombe's recruiters have placed cautiously worded advertisements in Salisbury papers. Those interested are instructed to call a city telephone number.

CALLED NUMBER

A man who called the number and received an appointment said:

"In a well-furnished office, a tall, well-groomed man, aged about 40, asked if I'd had military training. He eventually asked if I was willing to serve in the Congo, and asked if Thursday night would be all right."

★ ★ ★

He said the recruiter told him the morale of the Congo army had vanished and that the troops often deserted their European officers in battle. "The new idea is to put all white troops together," he said.

★

Skymaster transports, owned by a Rhodesian airline, fly the recruits to Katanga province.

Last Thursday — just as the recruiter had promised — a Skymaster left Salisbury. It carred 36 South African, Rhodesian, Belgian, Italian and German mercenaries.

Pan Am Strike Set for Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union plans to strike Pan American World Airways at midnight tonight unless marathon negotiations in Washington achieve a breakthrough.

Sunday night the union postponed the strike for 24 hours after an appeal by President Johnson, according to Bob Batting, vice president of Local 500.

Pan Am officials were unavailable for comment.

The airline flies about 17,000 passengers daily to and from the United States. Main ports of entry are Miami, New York, San Francisco and Houston.

The union and the company have been negotiating about four months on wages, hours and working conditions.

When mediation failed, the Railway Labor Act was invoked and a 30-day cooling-off period began July 24.

Both sides met all day Sunday with federal mediator Francis A. O'Neill in Washington.

About 12,000 members of the union work for Pan Am. Members include maintenance and ground service employes, flight stewards and stewardesses.

The union is asking a general 15 per cent increase in wages.

Crash Kills 9 in N. Carolina

SCOTLAND NECK, N.C. (AP) —Nine persons died in a one-car accident near Scotland Neck Sunday only a day after eight persons were killed in a head-on collision near Sanford, N.C.

State highway patrolman F. C. Simmons said the victims of Sunday's crash included six members of one family and three others. The Sanford tragedy wiped out four members of each of two families.

★ ★ ★

The nine persons were jammed into a two-door sedan which ran off a rural road and crashed into a tree about two and a half miles west of Scotland Neck, a rural eastern North Carolina community.

They were identified as Thomas Lee Draughan, 32, of Rt. 1, Hobgood, N.C.; his wife, Christine Cooper Draughan, and four of their children, Thomas Lee Jr., 13, Arthur, 10, Carolyn, 8, and Leonard 6.

★ ★ ★

Also killed were Jon Earl Knight, 33, of Oak City, Thomas Demary, 20, and Joseph C. Demary, 19, both of Scotland Neck.

Their deaths pushed North Carolina's weekend traffic death toll to at least 27.

Perle Starts Party Cycle

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Perle Mesta's opening convention party proved more fun outside than inside as hundreds came to gawk.

It was something like a big block party as neighbors, tourists, and some nuns clustered around Sunday night to watch the famous Washington party-giver give a party.

★ ★ ★

Perle didn't have too many VIP's to show them, but she came out on the steps of her rented villa a few times to wave to her 600 to 700 fans and give them a big smile.

"Hi, Perle," some shouted across the street to the hostess in her pink organdy coat over a baby blue-sequined party dress. She wore a pale blue bow in her gray hair.

SAME FOLKS

Perle invited some 200 guests, mostly the same Capitol Hill, White House (but not the Johnsons), Georgetown folks she has to her parties in her Washington penthouse apartment.

The biggest crowd pleaser was actress Carol Channing, star of the Broadway musical "Hello Dolly," who arrived wearing a black chiffon flapper-era dress with hipline band of glittering rhinestones. She wore rhinestone buckles on her black shoes and topped the costume with a dramatic high stovepipe hat of white satin.

★ ★ ★

Miss Channing is here to introduce a new campaign song — "Hello Lyndon" — at a Wednesday convention party. But at Perle's, she just said "Hello."

Perle's party was one of the first on the convention circuit and she plans one a day throughout the sessions.

PARTY LINE

Minibuses marked "Perle's Party Line" helped transport guests over the 15-minute drive to her villa in neighboring Ventnor.

Mrs. Mesta, former U.S. minister to Luxembourg, attracted —and invited—a big turnout of television cameramen, who even pushed a big camera eye at a front window to record the scene.

★ ★ ★

Inside, everyone was jammed in the four-room, ground floor layout which Perle had prepared for the onslaught by removing about all the furniture except the glittering chandeliers.

She added a few imported rock waterfalls, burbling with water and flanked by artificial flowers.

PLENTY TO EAT

There was plenty to eat and drink, including Italian meatballs and zita.

The watchers outside, some of whom served a party buffet on their own porches, were far cooler than Perle's guests. They got the ocean breezes, while it got hotter and hotter inside.

CONTINENTAL MANNER — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey prepares to kiss the hand of Mrs. Perle Mesta as she welcomes him to a party she gave in Atlantic City last night for delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Fire Fatal to Infant, Son of County Girl

DETROIT (AP)—Fire in a second floor bedroom killed Gregory Marvin, 7 months, Sunday at his grandfather's home in suburban Taylor Township. The grandfather, Carlton Brockway, suffered burns in trying to rescue the infant. Gregory was the son of Mrs. Sharon Marvin, 19, of Madison Heights.

Indonesian Force Said to Be Larger

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—An Indonesian invasion force that landed a week ago on the Malaysian mainland was two to three times larger than officially reported, authoritative sources said today.

The informants, who declined to be identified, said the force numbered about 100 heavily armed raiders. The Malaysian government put their numbers at between 30 and 40.

The Indonesians say there weren't any. The force, by government account, landed at three points along the southwest coastline of Johore State in Malaya last Monday.

So far, 52 have been put out of action, including 11 killed, informants say. They added that as many as 20 were Malaysians of Malay or Chinese origin.

The government has dropped a veil of secrecy over military operations in the swampy, jungle-covered Pontian region of Johore. Only the number of those killed is being given out by the Defense Ministry.

DAILY ACCOUNTS

But almost daily accounts of clashes and the number of persons already charged in Pontain court in connection with the landings have contrasted sharply with the initial government announcement of 30 to 40 men involved in the landings.

Informants said the invaders included a regular Indonesian Navy team of underwater demolition experts plus a number of commandos.

The landing parties were said to have brought with them mortars, light machine guns, hand grenades, explosives and radio equipment, including walkie talkie sets for communication.

Viet Students Riot; Anti-U.S. Tone Seen

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Youthful mobs in Saigon, Hue and Da Nang sacked and burned buildings today in the worst outbreak of organized rioting in South Viet Nam since last summer.

Several hundred students supporting the government sacked and burned the Student Union building in Saigon in a counter-demonstration.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, more than 1,000 howling youths stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks as antigovernment demonstrations took an increasingly anti-American tone.

A grenade exploded at the height of the riot, seriously injuring three demonstrators. There were no American casualties. Another blast a short time later killed a woman.

The 30 or more Americans in the barracks fired shots into the air to scare off the demonstrators as rocks smashed windows.

★ ★ ★

The mob then attacked a nearby Roman Catholic village and set a house afire.

LEAVE HOMES

Villagers moved out of their houses to defend themselves while their women carried children and belongings to a waterfront pier.

After the fire, mob leaders called for a withdrawal. But some rioters slipped back into the village and set two more houses aflame.

Another grenade exploded as the rioters pulled back. A maid working at the enlisted men's barracks was wounded and died soon afterwards.

More Americans are stationed in Da Nang, on the South China Sea, than anywhere else in country, except Saigon.

COUNTER-DEMONSTRATION

The counterdemonstrators arrived at the one-story Student Union building in buses and three-wheeled scooter taxis provided by the government.

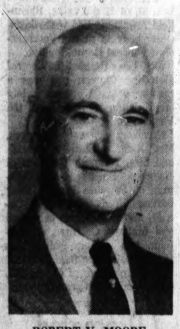
ALL-NIGHT VIGIL — Demonstrators supporting the Freedom Democratic Party delegation from Mississippi sit on the boardwalk outside Convention Hall last night in what their spokesman called an all-night vigil. Some 70 persons took their places after midnight. The Democratic Credentials Committee is to decide between the two Mississippi delegations today.



ROBERT Y. MOORE

Death Takes Public Servant

Was County Official Over Half His Life

Robert Young Moore, who spent more than half his life in public office in Oakland County, died at Pontiac General Hospital Sunday morning after a long illness. He was 78 years old.

Funeral service will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery.

In declining health for some time, Moore became ill at his residence, 476 Shore View, Waterford Township, last week. He was taken to the hospital Saturday.

Moore retired Jan. 1 of this year after 34 years on the Oakland County board of auditors. He served as chairman of the board 24 years.

★ ★ ★

His political career began in 1920 when he was elected clerk of Bloomfield Township. He held this office four years and was then elected township supervisor.

BOARD OF AUDITORS

After six years on the board of supervisors, during which he served a term as chairman, Moore was appointed to the board of auditors in June, 1930.

He helped guide the growth of the county from a population of less than a quarter-million when he took office to

Tornadoes Hit Southeastern State Areas

By The Associated Press

Communities in southeastern Michigan were busy with clean-up and patchup work today following tornadoes and tornado-like winds that struck Saturday, injuring two persons.

In Lenawee County, one of two twisters lifted the home of Richard Moore off its foundations and flung it 50 yards. Moore, 26, and his wife Donna, 28, who were in the house at the time, were hospitalized with multiple cuts and bruises in nearby Adrian.

An old barn containing farm equipment and a car on the Wilford Bates farm, also near Adrian, were destroyed by another funnel.

Roofs, a house trailer and chicken coops elsewhere in the county suffered damage in varying degrees.

ROOF RIPPED OFF

The roof of a house owned by Allegan County deputy sheriff Ned Hopkins near Allegan was ripped off and carried away. It had not been found as of late Sunday.

Across the state in Battle Creek, a violent wind blew down a 300-foot wall of an assembly plant of the industrial truck division of the Clark Equipment Co. Nobody inside the plant was injured.

Witnesses said it looked as if a funnel had sucked the wall outward, but the weather bureau said late yesterday there had been no confirmation that the damage was actually inflicted by a tornado.

AFTERMATH — A Lenawee County sheriff's deputy stands on concrete foundation of Richard Moore home yesterday, pointing to crumpled remnants of the house after it was struck by a tornado, lifted off the foundation and dropped 50 yards away. Moore and his wife were inside the building when it was struck. They were hospitalized with cuts and bruises.

Area Crashes Fatal for Two

Detroit, Armada Men Victims of Accidents

Two men, both 57, were killed in separate automobile accidents in Oakland County over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Albert J. Tazdan of Detroit was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his car collided with one driven by James Jensen, 24, of 2938 Lansdowne, Waterford Township, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Springfield Township.

Killed in a two-car collision yesterday at 4:25 p.m. at Walton and Opdyke in Pontiac Township was Hoyt C. Brown of Armada.

State police said that Tazdan, driving south on Dixie south of I-75, attempted to make a U-turn in front of Jensen's southbound car after pulling to the shoulder of the road.

Jensen, whose car struck Tazdan's auto in the left side, suffered facial lacerations and is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Brown was killed when his car collided with one driven by Erwin Hahn, 45, of 7840 Romeo Plank, Romeo.

Hahn told sheriff's deputies that he was driving west on Walton and preparing to turn onto Opdyke when Brown's car suddenly appeared in the intersection.

Hahn's wife, Florence, 44, was treated for injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Dems Still Seeking Answer to Dixie Delegate Squabble

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mississippi Negroes said "no compromise" and Alabama's white delegates shouted "no loyalty pledge" as Democrats searched for answers to the hottest issues at their national convention.

★ ★ ★

Chances of keeping the Mississippi and Alabama disputes from bursting forth upon the floor of the convention when it opens tonight appeared slim. The threat of a walkout by some Southern delegations remained a possibility.

The credentials committee failed to decide yesterday whether the largely Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic delegation or the all-white regulars from that state should be seated.

The committee resumes today its search for a solution it hopes will satisfy Southern states and Southern and Northern Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Aaron Henry, Negro chairman of the Freedom group from Clarksdale, Miss., said the group would not take a "back-of-the-bus" compromise.

NATURAL REACTION

Henry was backed by Dr. Martin Luther King who said "a natural reaction of Negro voters would be to go fishing election day" if the Freedom party is not seated. King heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Two civil rights organizations set up vigil in front of Convention Hall early today in support of the freedom delegation.

The organizations were the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

★ ★ ★

Henry and King said they had the votes in the credentials committee needed to force the issue onto the floor of the convention if the committee fails to give seats and votes to the Freedom delegation.

SEATS, NO VOTE

There has been speculation that the committee, in an effort to satisfy the Negroes, would give them seats on the floor but no voice and no vote.

Henry and his Freedom Party want to be seated because, they say, the regular Mississippi Democratic party will not support Johnson, his vice presidential choice, or the national Democratic party.

They also say the regular Democrats exclude Negroes from their ranks.

★ ★ ★

John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, said Sunday night he had not been in touch with Johnson on the Mississippi issue and had no plans to contact him about the problem.

LOYALTY PLEDGE

The credentials committee thought it had solved the Alabama problem when it ruled that all the Alabama delegates had to do to be seated was take a loyalty pledge.

A thunderous no greeted this proposal.

The Alabama delegation, which got its credentials before it was supposed to, dared convention officials to take them back. The credentials were given National Committeeman Eugene (Bull) Conner of Birmingham and he refused to surrender them.

Showers Seen for Late Tonight and Tomorrow

Increasing cloudiness is predicted for today and tonight in the Pontiac area. High today will be in the 70s, with the mercury dipping to a low of 55 to 62 tonight.

★ ★ ★

Scattered showers and thundershowers are headed our way and should arrive late tonight, continuing through Tuesday.

Today in Pontiac, winds are southwest at 10 to 18 miles per hour. The lowest temperature prior to 8 a.m. was 55. By 1 p.m., the temperature climbed to 73.

Special Atlantic City News: Prediction Not Surprising

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

ATLANTIC CITY — Exclusive News Flash: Based on information from a multitude of confidential sources, I flatly predict that one Lyndon B. Johnson, 1600 NW Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C., will be nominated as the Democratic candidate for president on the first ballot.

With this political bombshell exploded, let's take a look at things as we, along with 5,000 delegates and alternates, plus twice that many assorted politicos and observers, head toward Atlantic City for the 34th presidential convention of the Democratic party.

I'm reminded that my only other visit to the city also had a political undertone.

I had just been elected to a lifetime office—by one vote. I was on my honeymoon (periodically, the voter has eyed a recount, but nothing's ever come of it.)

Democrats claim the title of being the oldest political party in the U.S.—and they win it going away.

The organization first saw the light of day as the Democratic-Republican party in 1798—sort of a double-barreled tag to bag all the voters, maybe—but by the election of 1828 it decided that "Republican" was a white elephant, and dropped it. Needless to say, there is no immediate prospect of need for LBJ to leave a mail-forwarding address, but should he by a miracle fail of nomination, it would be but the second time in the history of both parties that an incumbent president was denied his party's nomination.

Heldenbrand

A DEAF EAR

Back in 1856, the Dems turned a deaf ear to Franklin Pierce, whom they'd elected in 1852, when he voiced hopes of being called back for an encore.

Speaking of records, the 883 first roll-call vote given Goldwater at San Francisco was the greatest ever given a presidential candidate, except those unopposed.

Actually, you know, the founding fathers who set up our government had no idea that their statesmanship would lead to political parties as we know them.

Delegate Row Top Problem

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The big LBJ roundup — the 1964 Democratic convention — opens tonight with President Johnson trying to herd it away from bruising North-South clashes.

The President, his own nomination to be a noisy normality Wednesday night, concentrated his efforts on keeping his ranks intact for November and thus was calling practically all the signals from Washington.

One signal he hasn't called, his choice of a running mate, but half a dozen hands were ready to jump at the ring.

Still the most often mentioned number was that of the party's Senate whip, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The day broke bright and warm. Thousands of delegates, alternates and their families mingled with sun-burned tourists along the storied boardwalk, faced on all sides with stalls of carnival souvenirs of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy.

As the sun rose, hundreds of red, white and blue bedecked volunteers for LBJ rallied on the ocean front to begin shaping up for their convention duties.

Behind the honky tonk glitter the committees worked at shaping the convention and its platform into the broad harmony and unity design Johnson would like.

The word had gone down the line to avoid any explosive fight over a civil rights plank and to settle the controversy over the seating of contested Alabama and Mississippi delegations in a manner calculated to give the least offense to Southerners and the Negro-dominated delegation demanding seats from Mississippi.

Aim Platform at Broad Base

Final Effort Today on Still-Secret Document

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee approved a plank today pledging "fair, effective enforcement" of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A Democratic party platform designed for broad party acceptance, even on civil rights and political extremism, gets its final polishing today.

★ ★ ★

It calls for fair and effective enforcement of the wide-r

It calls for fair and effective enforcement of the wide-ranging new Civil Rights Act, but does not recommend additional legislation. Northern supporters of the law and at least some Southerners indicated they could live with this formula.

Although much of the party statement still is officially secret, pending consideration by the full platform committee today, informants said the draft platform decries political extremism generally and also the tractics of some organizations, naming the John Birch Society, the Communist party and the Ku Klux Klan.

One of the bitterest wrangles at the Republican convention was over an extremism plank. Generally, supporters of Sen. Goldwater opposed adopting such a plank — and they prevailed.

★ ★ ★

The platform committee's executive panel, working late into the night, decided to avoid controversy on two other subjects simply by omitting them from the platform.

AVOID ISSUES

These were the issues of legislative reapportionment and prayer in schools.

The full committee, which already has approved foreign affairs and national defense portions of the platform, was called into session to consider the final, domestic portion today.

The convention has the last say, but committee approval almost certainly means acceptance of the platform with little or no debate by the delegates, who open the party's national convention tonight.

★ ★ ★

The committee is working closely with the White House, and is understood to be heeding a plea by President Johnson to avoid convention floor battles.

RIGHTS PLANK

The civil rights plank, it was understood, contemplates federal enforcement of the rights guarantees when and if necessary, but also speaks up for law and order in language designed to please critics of recent racially tinged riots.

Moreover, it treats racial tensions and the problems of minorities in relation to economic questions, tying in recommendations for support of the program against poverty.

Coed Takes Police Training With 300 Men

CHICAGO (AP) — Coeds who are wont to calculate the male-to-female ratio might envy Virginia Rakocinski's situation: 300 to 1 and she's the one.

But the subjects she studies are a far cry from the usual coed fare — jujitsu, narcotics, criminal law and pistol shooting.

Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

SEPARATE CLASS

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating.

★ ★ ★

"I'm here to study," she said, "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

TOP CHALLENGER

She already has met one challenge: she topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on the Skokie police department. Skokie is a suburb served by the Chicago police training school.

A graduate of Mundelein College in Chicago, with a degree in chemistry, Miss Rakocinski quit a job in the radioactive research department of a Skokie pharmaceutical firm.

When she completes her training, Miss Rakocinski says she wants to work with juvenile delinquents and other young people.

Physical training is the only class she doesn't attend with the men. She does, however, participate in the male jujitsu classes.

GOOD SHOT

Lt. John Childs, head of the Skokie police department's administrative division said: "She's getting good grades and doing better than average on the pistol range."

"The only thing odd about her as a trainee is, frankly, her long hair," an academy spokesman said.

Charged With Keeping Order for Dems

New Beat for Senate's 'Policeman'

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — The man charged with keeping order at this Democratic convention — and sometimes that is no mean feat — is a former gun-toting border patrolman whose current full-time chore is keeping order in the U.S. Senate.

That is generally a cinch, though it is true that two senators recently wrestled each other to the marble floor outside a Commerce Committee hearing room.

Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Joseph C. Duke unfortunately wasn't on hand to break that one up.

Duke is here, though, and with considerably more help in his peace-keeping role than he ever had in the Senate.

Besides being convention sergeant-at-arms, Duke is a delegate from Arizona and a member of the platform committee.

SEEMS RELAXED

Though wearing three hats, Duke manages to look like the most relaxed functionary around, and you would never mistake him for a cop.

Duke was an assistant sergeant-at-arms at the Democratic conventions of 1936, 1944 and 1952. But the quiet-spoken Arizonan is a delegate this year for the first time.

Despite the hurly-burly elsewhere, Duke holds forth quietly in a strategically located office on the mammoth convention hall's top level, overlooking the convention floor.

★ ★ ★

With him are his two veteran secretarial aides from Washington, Mrs. Dorothy McCarthy and Emily Kennedy.

CHIEF ASSISTANT

Chet Smith of Nevada, another easy-going Westerner, is Duke's chief assistant and shoulders much of the detail work.

Normally, Smith is chief counsel of the Senate District of Columbia Committee.

Duke, a man of medium build with horn-rimmed glasses and a fondness for good cigars, looks not at all like the border patrolman he was until a bullet through the abdomen, fired by a Mexican "wetback," ended his police career and almost his life. The wound still bothers him at times.

Condemned to less vigorous duty, Duke went to Washington under Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., the Senate's president pro tempore and third man in line for the presidency. A series of Senate jobs led to his present post as sergeant-at-arms.

Duke admits there were problems getting the pieces here pulled together for the convention. "But they're all falling into place," he said.

He belittled his own role. He praised the New Jersey State Police, who will handle much of the crowd control work, as "very competent and efficient," and also the convention hall's veteran year-round staff of trained guards.

AFL 11 Signs Jim Pace

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders of the American Football League Saturday signed free agent Jim Pace, a former All-America halfback at Michigan. Pace has been out of football since 1961, when he broke a leg while playing for the San Francisco 49ers of the National League.

Phillies' Allen Adds to MVP Rating

NL Leaders Again Led by Rookie

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen, Philadelphia's hard - hitting third baseman, wears orange shoes, four-button suits and sports jackets with buckles in the back.

Now he's trying to stick a couple of feathers in his cap.

A leading contender for both Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player honors, the stand-out dresser and outstanding third baseman belted two homers and a single, driving in four runs Sunday as the National League leading Phillies walloped Pittsburgh 9-3.

The performance lifted Allen's batting average to .313, gave him 23 homers and 66 runs batted in, and once again shot him front and center as a distinct possibility to become the first rookie in major league history to win the MVP award.

OVERBOARD

Although it may be difficult to go overboard in praise of Allen's taste in clothes, Manager Gene Mauch has had no difficulty sizing up his talent.

"He's something, really something," says Mauch. "His hands are so fast it's unbelievable. He can hit to any field and he's a pleasant mixture of man and kid.

"There's enough man in him to know what he's doing and enough kid in him so that he's wild-eyed about being in the major leagues."

* * *

Allen, whose chief competition for MVP honors might come from teammates John (All-Star Hero) Callison and Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, hit a two-run homer against the Pirates in the third inning, hit a solo homer in the fifth and singled home a run in the eighth

Bunning, who went seven innings, benefited from the support, bringing his record to 14-4 with a 2.17 earned run average despite being tagged for homers by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon.

BIG LEAD

The victory boosted the Phillies lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Phil Ortega's three-hitter 1-0 while the Giants edged St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings.

In other games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings and 5-4 and Houston beat Milwaukee 7-1 in a night game.

Undefeated 9s Clash

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Wyoming, Mich., and Eureka, Calif., both still undefeated in the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament, clash tonight in the tourney's fourth round.

Wills Accuses Giles of 'Stealing' on Rule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers contemptuously paid a $50 fine to National League President Warren C. Giles with 5,000 pennies.

If anything, the little shortstop's respect for Giles has since diminished.

Wills, who has run his salary up to $50,000 largely by stealing bases, accused Giles Sunday of stealing excitement from fans and opportunity from good baserunners by failing to have the balk rule enforced.

* * *

In fact, Wills charged, the National League office has gone so far as to take money away from umpires who tried to enforce it.

Said Giles: "If Wills has a complaint, he should make it in writing. And he should get his facts straight before making public statements."

Giles did not elaborate.

Wills did. He said he had a long talk with an umpire recently "and he told me the whole story."

"Last year the umpires who were calling all those balks early in the season were called into the National League office," Wills said. "At first the league office had wanted the balk rule enforced. Then the umpires really started calling a lot of them and they were told to cut down."

UMPS BOTHERED

This annoyed umpires, Wills said, because it placed them in the impossible position of having to judge not whether a pitcher was balking but "whether he was balking too much."

* * *

Wills said he learned one umpire "lost his Christmas bonus because he enforced the rule and I believe one also was cut in salary for the same reason."

The section of the balk rule that has caused perhaps the most trouble is the one providing that, with a runner or runners on base, a pitcher working from the set position must bring his hands to a stop before delivering a pitch.

Wills said the stop requirement is being ignored and this makes it difficult for the base stealer to decide when to take off.

"At the rate it's going, I think in a couple of years 40 stolen bases will be an awful lot," Wills said. "And in five years the stolen base will be obsolete."

Wills has 38 steals so far this season.

Western Girl Amateur Titlist

Miss McIntire Paces U. S. Women's Event

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Barbara McIntire, fresh from her second victory in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf tournament, turns now to the Curtis Cup match to be played in South Wales Sept. 11-12.

Miss McIntire, from Colorado Springs, defeated Joe Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals of the 64th women's tournament Saturday at Prairie Dunes Country Club. Miss Gunderson had won the tournament three times previously and Miss McIntire won in 1959.

SHARED HONORS

Miss McIntire, Miss Gunderson and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., shared medalist honors by qualifying with 36-hole scores of 151 — the first time this event has held qualifying rounds.

In their championship match, Miss McIntire went four down on the 20th hole but won the next three holes and pulled even on the 25th. She went ahead for the first time — and to stay — at the 26th when Miss Gunderson inadvertently played a stray ball on her third shot from rough grass just off the green.

Italian Captures Trouble-Marred Austrian Race

ZELTWEG, Austria (AP)—Lorenzo Bandini of Italy drove his Ferrari to victory in the Grand Prix of Austria auto race Sunday, but the action was marred by mechanical troubles and fire.

Some of the outstanding drivers in the world were forced out of the race by the slew of mishaps. The race was the seventh this year counting toward the world driving championship, and the leaders in the standings all failed to finish.

Only one major accident occurred. Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., took a spin on a turn and his Cooper car rolled over several times and burst into flames. Hill jumped to safety before flames from the leaking gas tank reached him. It was learned later that a broken axle had been responsible for the mishap.

Wisconsin, Ohio Nines in Connie Mack Finals

MARSHALL (AP) — Racine, Wis., and Springfield, Ohio, will meet today for the championship of the Great Lakes Regional Connie Mack Baseball Tournament.

While each team has been defeated once, Racine has four victories to Springfield's three.

They traded shutouts Sunday. Racine won the first encounter, 1-0, but Springfield later avenged the loss with a 5-0 shutout.

Trading Moderate

Stocks Make Ragged Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a ragged advance in moderate trading early today.

Fractional gainers among key stocks outnumbered losers.

International Harvester advanced well over a point following a report of record sales and earnings.

Speculative interest centered on a few issues. Pure Oil rose ¾ to 60¾ on an opener of 4,000 shares.

STRIKE DEADLINE

With the auto strike deadline a week away, motor stocks were steady. Ford was up a fraction. Little change was shown by the other leaders.

The top steelmakers moved upward irregularly as estimates for steel output this year were raised again.

★ ★ ★

On Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .6 to 315.6.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Perle Starts Party Cycle

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Perle Mesta's opening convention party proved more fun outside than inside as hundreds came to gawk.

It was something like a big block party as neighbors, tourists, and some nuns clustered around Sunday night to watch the famous Washington party-giver give a party.

★ ★ ★

Perle didn't have too many VIP's to show them, but she came out on the steps of her rented villa a few times to wave to her 600 to 700 fans and give them a big smile.

"Hi, Perle," some shouted across the street to the hostess in her pink organdy coat over a baby blue-sequined party dress. She wore a pale blue bow in her gray hair.

SAME FOLKS

Perle invited some 200 guests, mostly the same Capitol Hill, White House (but not the Johnsons), Georgetown folks she has to her parties in her Washington penthouse apartment.

The biggest crowd pleaser was actress Carol Channing, star of the Broadway musical "Hello Dolly," who arrived wearing a black chiffon flapper-era dress with hipline band of glittering rhinestones. She wore rhinestone buckles on her black shoes and topped the costume with a dramatic high stovepipe hat of white satin.

★ ★ ★

Miss Channing is here to introduce a new campaign song — "Hello Lyndon" — at a Wednesday convention party. But at Perle's, she just said "Hello."

Perle's party was one of the first on the convention circuit and she plans one a day throughout the sessions.

PARTY LINE

Minibuses marked "Perle's Party Line" helped transport guests over the 15-minute drive to her villa in neighboring Ventnor.

Mrs. Mesta, former U.S. minister to Luxembourg, attracted —and invited—a big turnout of television cameramen, who even pushed a big camera eye at a front window to record the scene.

★ ★ ★

Inside, everyone was jammed in the four-room, ground floor layout which Perle had prepared for the onslaught by removing about all the furniture except the glittering chandeliers.

She added a few imported rock waterfalls, burbling with water and flanked by artificial flowers.

PLENTY TO EAT

There was plenty to eat and drink, including Italian meatballs and zita.

The watchers outside, some of whom served a party buffet on their own porches, were far cooler than Perle's guests. They got the ocean breezes, while it got flotter and hotter inside.

Indonesian Force Said to Be Larger

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—An Indonesian invasion force that landed a week ago on the Malaysian mainland was two to three times larger than officially reported, authoritative sources said today.

The informants, who declined to be identified, said the force numbered about 100 heavily armed raiders. The Malaysian government put their numbers at between 30 and 40.

The Indonesians say there weren't any. The force, by government account, landed at three points along the southwest coastline of Johore State in Malaya last Monday.

So far, 52 have been put out of action, including 11 killed, informants say. They added that as many as 20 were Malaysians of Malay or Chinese origin.

The government has dropped a veil of secrecy over military operations in the swampy, jungle-covered Pontian region of Johore. Only the number of those killed is being given out by the Defense Ministry.

DAILY ACCOUNTS

But almost daily accounts of clashes and the number of persons already charged in Pontain court in connection with the landings have contrasted sharply with the initial government announcement of 30 to 40 men involved in the landings.

Informants said the invaders included a regular Indonesian Navy team of underwater demolition experts plus a number of commandos.

The landing parties were said to have brought with them mortars, light machine guns, hand grenades, explosives and radio equipment, including walkie talkie sets for communication.
