Research Key to Survival, Says Curtice

GM Head, Eisenhower Speak on TV Circuit at Center Dedication

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. said today the nation's survival may depend upon "more emphasis on basic research."

Technological progress, he added, was essential to the continuance "not only of American leadership in the free world, but of the democratic processes themselves."

Curtice made his remarks in an address prepared for delivery over a closed circuit television network at the official dedication of GM's new giant technical center at Mound and Twelve Mile Roads southeast of Pontiac.

The network carried the dedication ceremonies to 137 GM plants in 61 cities in the United States and Canada.

Later in the afternoon President Eisenhower was scheduled to deliver a personal message over the network.

Curtice, in his address, described the center as "one of the nation's great resources" important to national prosperity as well as to national strength.

One step toward meeting the challenge to American technological leadership, the GM president said, would be "to see to it that a larger proportion of our young people have the opportunity and the incentive for embarking on a scientific and engineering career."

CHOICE IS CLEAR

Curtice's statement that the United States must meet the challenge to its technological supremacy was seconded by Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, director of the GM research staff.

"Our choice," he said, "is brutally clear. As a society we can either learn mathematics and science—or Russian."

Concern over dwindling natural resources, Dr. Hafstad said, "is in the main misplaced." Research and technology, he added, will provide substitutes. As an example, he cited GM's experimental free piston automotive engine displayed at the Technical Center dedication. This is an engine that will run on many fuels other than gasoline.

"Ultimately," Dr. Hafstad added, "direct energy from the sun stored up in last year's corn or cotton crop, may, in the form of

County Official Dies Suddenly; Served 17 Years

Register of Deeds, 51, Heart Attack Victim; Career Wins Praise

Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid died suddenly last night in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of a heart attack.

Mr. McQuaid, 51, had been in office since 1939. A resident of Bloomfield Township, he had previously lived in Pontiac since 1908.

A candidate this year for his 10th term, he was prominent in Republican circles throughout the state, and had sponsored successful bills in the Legislature.

He won high praise for his management of the office, which was regarded as a model by other counties. His streamlined and modernized recording procedure, widely copied by other counties, permitted more efficient and economical operation.

Under Mr. McQuaid's leadership, Oakland County became the first county in Michigan to use microfilm processes and automatic photostating methods.

During his 18 years in office, the volume of official activities quadrupled, yet costs of processing documents steadily dropped as his improved methods came into use.

Born Oct. 12, 1904, in Bay City, he attended Pontiac schools, graduated from Ferris Institute and attended the University of Detroit. He was a registered land surveyor.

He married the former Carolyn C. Heitsch of Pontiac in 1942. His wife, a daughter, Carol Ann, and three sisters, Mrs. Charles Hawley of Burma, Mrs. Galen Wendell of Troutman, Texas, and Mrs. Alan Robertson of 16 Murphy St. survive.

Mr. McQuaid, who served in the U. S. Navy in World War II, is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Pontiac Elks Lodge 810.

He helped organize the first Young Men's Republican Club in Oakland County in 1932, and has served as treasurer of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

The Rosary will be recited Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. Funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. from St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills. Burial will follow in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Bus Strike Over, Service Normal

One Day Wildcat Strike by Greyhound Drivers Hits 25,000 Commuters

Service out of the Pontiac and Birmingham Great Lakes Greyhound bus terminals was back to normal today as drivers ended their one-day wildcat strike.

The strike, originated out of Detroit yesterday, and spread locally, forcing some 25,000 Oakland County commuters to seek other means of transportation.

All surburban, intercity, intrastate, and school bus service was resumed today after 100 drivers operating from the Birmingham terminal agreed at a meeting last night to return to their jobs.

The drivers struck in protest over a contract agreement between the company and the union. The company offered a 9-cent hourly wage increase this year, 10 cents next year and another cent the last six months of the two-year contract, which would expire in October, 1958. The old contract ran out May 1.

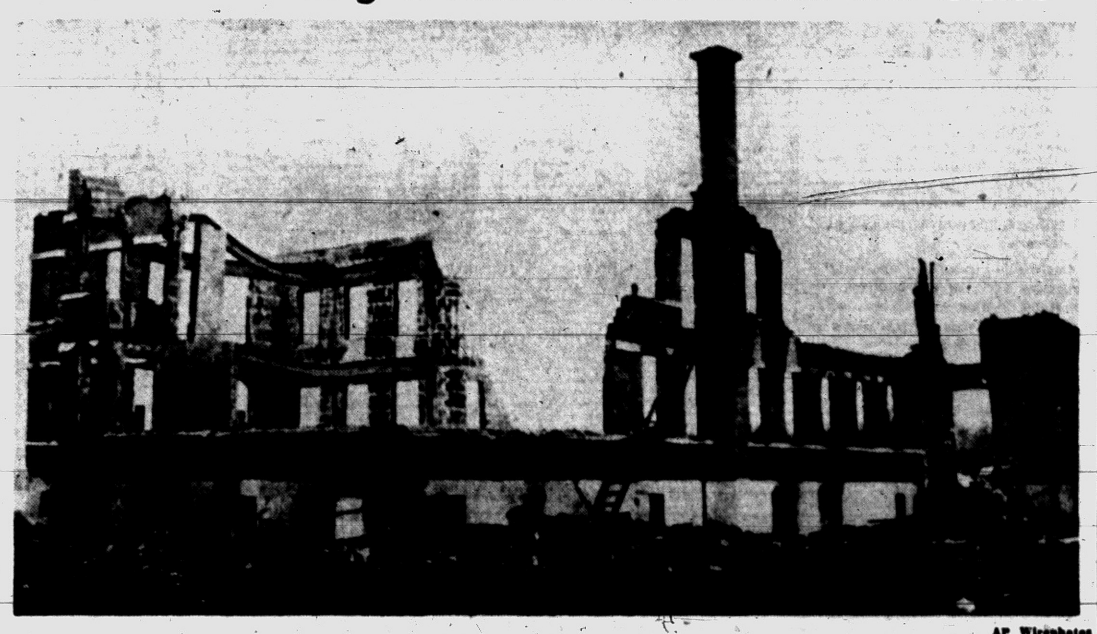

The Press erroneously reported yesterday that local Greyhound bus drivers were under Local 1097 of the AFL affiliated union. This local consists of City Bus Line employes.

Vernon L. Crawford, vice president of the Detroit local, said the drivers wanted a 14-cent hourly wage hike this year and a similar raise in 1957. They also demanded six paid holidays and other fringe benefits.

RCAF Fighter Plummets Into Nun Rest Home

Priest and Pilot Among Dead; Plane Returning From Arctic Mission

OTTAWA (AP) — A Canadian jet fighter, ordered aloft on an interception mission that proved a false alarm, rocketed from a six-mile altitude into a Roman Catholic nuns' rest home last night and left 15 persons dead or missing.

Fuel from the 17-ton CF-100 craft spewed across the three-story brick structure and fed an inferno.

Most of the victims were aged and bed-confined nuns.

Others were the fighter's two-man crew, a priest and a woman cook employed at the home, operated by the Grey Nuns of the Cross alongside the Ottawa River seven miles east of Ottawa.

"Suddenly there was a noise like a thunderclap," said Sister Marie des Martyrs, one of 22 nuns who escaped.

"The panes blew out. The window frames, made of wood, splintered, and the next second there was fire everywhere."

Four of the nuns who escaped were injured.

Sister Marie Emond, assistant general of the order, said there were 35 persons in the convent. Eleven nuns, ranging in age from 21 to 77, were given up as dead.

The bodies of three nuns and the priest had been recovered from the smouldering debris early today. The Royal Canadian Air Force detailed 100 men to search for the others.

The RCAF disclosed the CF100 had been ordered up to identify a mysterious transport from the arctic on which it had not received a flight plan. The fighter's crew ascertained the transport was a RCAF North Star bound for Montreal.

The tragedy was the first of its kind in Canada. An RCAF bomber

Judge to Resign for Higher Post

Wayne County Circuit Jurist Declares He'll Take Chair Soon

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams yesterday appointed Judge George Edwards of the Wayne County Circuit Court to the state Supreme Court.

Judge Edwards said he plans to resign his present post and to take the high court seat as soon as present duties can be discharged — probably within a few days.

Edwards, on the probate and circuit bench in Wayne County since 1951, was named to fill the vacancy resulting from the death last week of Justice Neil E. Reid of Mount Clemens.

JUDGE EDWARDS

Edwards, 41, came to Detroit in the 1930s from his native Texas and was appointed by then Mayor Edward J. Jeffries as director-secretary of the Detroit Housing Commission in 1940.

In 1941, he was elected to the first of four consecutive two year terms on the Detroit Common Council. He was council president for two of the terms.

In 1949, he unsuccessfully opposed Mayor Albert E. Cobo in the mayoralty election

In order to accept the appointment, Edwards will have to take a $6,000 a year pay cut. His salary as a circuit judge is $24,500. On the Supreme Court bench he will receive $18,500.

Curtice Revises Estimate

GM Head Sees Car Output at 5.8 Million This Year

DETROIT (AP)—The president of General Motors, who last year accurately forecast record auto sales, has scaled down his 1956 prediction for the industry.

Harlow Curtice had said the current year would be the auto industry's second best with retail sales of 6½ million cars. Last night, at a news conference, he cut the figure to 5,800,000.

This is 1,600,000 under 1955. It would be the third highest sales total, exceeded in 1950 and 1955.

Curtice, under questioning, said General Motors now has 50,000 fewer hourly employes than it did last June. He did not go into detail. He said some additional layoffs are planned for this week and that he hoped these would be the last for the 1956 model run.

He said the industry as a whole had run into several difficulties in selling cars this year. But, he said, as far as General Motors is concerned, overproduction in 1955 was not one of the difficulties.

A questioner suggested that Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and others had laid some of the blame for the poor market on overproduction and oversupply of cars in 1955.

Curtice said: "We have not indulged in overproduction at any time."

Among the difficulties, he said, were the Federal Reserve Board's policy of tighter credit and the great amount of speculation that 1957 models would be revolutionary.

Curtice said the credit controls were bad and should be reversed.

He said predictions of revolutionary changes just weren't so.

He said 1957 models will cost more than 1956 models.

Korea Re-elects President Rhee

But Strong Opposition Cuts Aging Leader's Vote to 55 Pct.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Syngman Rhee won his expected third term as South Korea's president today but strong opposition cut his vote to only about 55 per cent of the total ballots cast.

* * *

The 81-year-old conservative, South Korea's only president since the republic was established in 1948, polled 72.6 per cent of the total vote in the 1952 election.

In the separate vice presidential ballots Rhee's running mate, Lee Ki Poong, was trailing Democratic party candidate Chang Myun, a former ambassador to the United States. However, Lee was still given a good chance to pull ahead in the rural counting.

Because of Rhee's advanced age many politicos think the next vice president may well turn out to be the old man's presidential heir.

Local GM Plants Observe Opening of Tech Center

It was "Technical Center Day" at the city's three General Motors plants today as the staffs of each joined in conducting visitors through production facilities in separate tributes to the gigantic new Warren Township installation.

First to open its doors for public inspection was GMC Truck & Coach which received visitors at 8 a.m. Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body began tours at 1 p.m. and will receive continuous crowds until 9 p.m. GMC will close at 8 p.m.

The highlights of the observances will be tours of production facilities and displays of motor vehicle products including automobiles, trucks and military units.

Free buses will operate to Pontiac Motor and GMC from the Huron Street side of the County Courthouse to plant parking lots.

You See, Judge, This Is the Man I Wanna Leave

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Phyllis C. Brumfield testified in a divorce hearing that her husband had a genius IQ, but he "was always performing juvenile antics," such as crawling all over his convertible while it was in motion.

This, the 21-year-old wife told Superior Judge A. A. Scott yesterday, constituted cruelty, and her counsel agreed.

"When we'd go out in the car I'd be driving," said the pretty wife, "and he'd be climbing and crawling all over the convertible —out on the hood, over the windshield, behind the seat, making remarks at passers-by. It made me nervous."

She added that John R. Brumfield, also 21, wouldn't work, wouldn't establish a home, had no interest in their 20-month-old son Jonathan.

Mrs. Brumfield got the divorce decree and custody of Jonathan. Brumfield is supervisor of a nut and bolt factory.

Tulip Festival Opens at Holland Today

HOLLAND (AP) — Shunting aside nippy temperatures early today, the city gamboled into the gaiety of its annual tulip time festival, a four-day carnival based on the blossoming of Holland's traditional flowers.

Earl F. Price, tulip time manager, said the celebration was expected to begin on schedule this afternoon, with the traditional street scrubbing parade despite early temperatures in the low 30s.

Meanwhile, costumed residents scurried to their assigned posts in the roles of Netherlands townsfolk, a tribute to Holland's Old World background.

The festival is expected to attract upwards of 300,000 visitors during its run.

Snow Flurries Hit Region as Mercury Dips to 30's

Brief snow flurries fell on Pontiac this morning as the Weather Man pushed aside the calendar and brought back traces of winter.

The mercury dropped to a chilly 34 degrees early this morning after registering a warm 60 degrees yesterday morning. More rain also hit the area in the afternoon and last night.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the skies will be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with a low tonight from 46 to 50. The high tomorrow is expected to reach 64.

The thermometer dipped to freezing at Jackson and 33 in Grand Rapids as frost hit many sections of Lower Michigan last night.

The highest temperature this time a year ago was 79 while the low experienced was 43.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in Pontiac was 34. The thermometer registered 46 degrees at 2 p.m.

Scenic Voyages All Summer

Stern-Wheeler to Make Maiden Cruise on Lake

A substantial addition to Oakland County's lake craft will be the "Island Queen." It will begin public operation on May 26 on Kent Lake, just south of Milford.

One of the projects of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, this lake of 1,200 acres is four miles long, and is formed by impounding the waters of the Huron River. It is located in the authority's 4,500 acre Kensington Metropolitan Park.

The boat is 60 feet long and will carry 55 passengers. It is a good replica of the Mississippi River stern-wheeler of many years ago, but is powered with a single diesel engine turning an eight-foot paddle wheel.

When fully loaded the "Island Queen" draws but 11 inches of water. It was built at Saugatuck, and for the past two seasons has been carrying passengers on the Kalamazoo River.

It was recently purchased by the authority.

The cruise around Kent Lake will require about 50 minutes and covers several miles among the many islands and into some of its numerous bays.

The boat will be berthed at the launching dock near the main Grand River entrance to the park. It will make hourly trips from noon until 7 p.m. on weekends until mid-June.

After that the service will be in effect every day throughout the season. It will also be available for charter before and after its regular hours.

Seamen Stymie Shipping

MONTREAL (AP) — Shipments of Canadian iron ore, grain, coal and general cargo continued to fall off today along the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River as a shipping strike went into its seventh day.

An unofficial survey showed more than 100 ships of the Lake Carriers' Assn. idle from Lake Superior to the lower St. Lawrence. Farmers and manufacturers feared a serious shortage of feed grains and other supplies unless agreement came soon.

The strike was called last Thursday by the Seafarers' International Union (SIU) against two members of the carriers' association to back demands for higher wages.

The other five member companies supported the struck lines by calling a partial tieup of their ships and threatening a complete stoppage. The seven companies operate 220 of Canada's Great Lakes merchant fleet of 260 vessels.

An association official said "not a propeller will be turning on the Great Lakes by this weekend" unless the dispute is settled.

Union negotiators yesterday walked out on talks being conducted by a federal mediator. The union men said they were protesting the action of a company official who issued a statement to reporters while the talks were going on.

Mediator H. Carl Goldenberg said the walkout did not mean an end to mediation efforts and that the disputing groups would meet for a sixth round of talks before the end of the week.

The Seamen's Union originally demanded a monthly wage increase of $78.15 and a 40-hour week for deckhands now getting $190 monthly for a seven-day week. A shipping company official indicated the demand had not been changed materially.

Jaunty Truman Now in France

Looks Beyond Travels to Some Campaigning for Democrats

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Harry S. Truman arrived today with Mrs. Truman on the liner United States, jaunty as ever and looking beyond his seven-week tour of Europe to some campaigning for the Democratic presidential nominee.

* * *

The former U. S. president entered a news conference in the ship's lounge swinging a shiny black cane. He was favoring a foot injured about two weeks ago.

Asked if he thought President Eisenhower would win a second term, the Missourian jutted out his jaw and cracked:

"I'm not doing any crystal gazing but I'm going to try to beat him."

* * *

He said the Russian announcement of a huge armed forces cutback should be taken "with a pinch of salt."

"I don't trust the Russians," he said, adding that while he was in the White House the Russians violated 32 agreements with the United States.

Truman and his wife went to Paris by train after the brief shipboard news conference.

Residency Vote in November

City Commission Vetoes Police Association's August Request

The vote on police and fire personnel residency in the city definitely will be before Pontiac voters in November.

The City Commission vetoed a request from the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. that the question, originated by the group, be placed on the Aug. 7 primary ballot.

The November decision was offered in a motion by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) who said the residency amendment would interfere with another city charter amendment already on the August ballot.

No one from the association was present last night to present the case. A communication had been forwarded to the commission stating a preference for August.

The vote will decide whether police and fire employes should be required "to live within a 10 mile radius of the Huron and Saginaw intersection."

The association had objected to 1932 city charter ruling that they live within the city limits.

A memorial has been unveiled in Nairobi, Kenya, to 2,400 men and women of the Commonwealth land forces who fell in Italian Somaliland, Ethiopia, Kenya and Madagascar during World War II.

GM Boosts Aid to U.S. Students

Firm's Education Outlay Tops $5 Million After New Increases

Increased General Motors financial aid to education, which will provide four-year scholarships to an additional 200 students while benefiting 32 more institutions, was announced yesterday by President Harlow H. Curtice.

The expanded program will increase General Motors' annual contribution toward support of higher education to more than $5 million and will benefit more than 350 colleges and universities in all 48 states.

Curtice disclosed the enlarged program at a news conference at Hotel Statler on the eve of dedication activities of GM's new Technical Center here.

The additional scholarships are part of the "College Plan," one of three plans that make up the GM program, and brings to 400 the number of four-year scholarships which will be awarded each year under the overall program.

Under the plan four-year college scholarships are awarded annually by 110 private and 68 public colleges and universities from which General Motors draws many of its employes. This year's plan benefits institutions in all 48 states, 10 more than previously included.

15 Killed When Jet Hits Ottawa Convent

Within seconds after the jet hit, the convent was a pyre. The explosion was heard 15 miles away.

Said one eyewitness:

"It was horrible. I think everyone on the top floor must have been burned. Many on the ground floor also were unable to get out. It happened so fast . . . The whole building seemed to go up like a torch."

SLOW COMMUNICATIONS

A spokesman said the transport's flight plan had been filed, but that it was delayed because the North Star was coming in from the arctic, a strategic zone in North America's defense.

Interceptors were in the air before ground control units were informed.

The Air Defense Command at St. Hubert, Que., is charged with keeping track of all planes in Canadian skies. It was not immediately clear who was responsible for relaying of the transport's flight plan to that command.

COAL FEEDS FIRE

There was no indication what caused the crash.

Hours after the crash, coal stored in the convent basement still fed the fire. Fire-blackened walls and a 40-foot chimney remained standing. A warped steel fire escape clung crazily to one wall.

Firemen rushed to the blazing building from nearby communities, the air force base and Ottawa. There was little they could do.

Twister Signal Discussed Again

Suggest Aerial Bombs or Defense Sirens for Warning People

Once again the topic of a tornado warning system for Pontiac came up at the City Commission meeting last night.

Mayor William W. Donaldson led the fight by questioning whether Fourth of July aerial bombs could not be used. He said they could be set off if a tornado was sighted by fire department personnel who are on duty 24 hours.

This was suggested in lieu of using the Civil Defense siren which Commissioner John A. Dugan has been fighting for for more than a month.

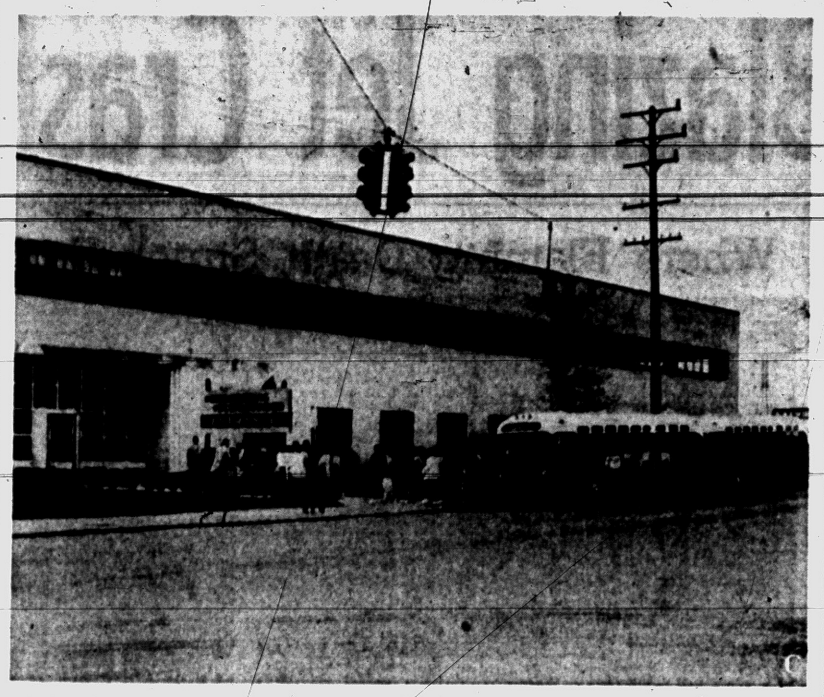

State officials are pessimistic on the use of the siren because of the possible interference with its original purpose.

Dugan once again insisted on the use of the siren. "I understand they are being used in other cities for tornado warning," he said. "We would only have to work out a means to distinguish between the air attack and natural disaster warning."

$500,000 for New Hospital Addition Gets Formal Commission Approval

The City Commission formally approved last night setting up a $500,000 reserve in a three-year capital improvement program to aid in the construction of the new Pontiac General Hospital addition.

The city manager and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman were authorized establishing the money, which along with the $2,900,000 general obligation bond issue, will be "sufficient to authorize the acceptance of construction bids."

The City Commission met with the hospital board members last Thursday at which time the half-million dollar allocation was adopted.

Other action at last night's City Commission meeting included the approval of a land contract for a lot west of the hospital owned by Charles Durkee. Durkee will be paid $27,500 from hospital funds for the property which is intended to be used by hospital interns.

The commissioners also approved a standard agreement with the Rando Building Co. for engineering inspection services in the Glendale Manor Subdivision.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday night on the following public improvement projects on which engineer estimates were aired last night by the city clerk:

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Liberty street from Henderson to Johnson (Assessed cost: $4,163.24; city cost: $13,333.19).

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Motor street from Alton to Pearsall (Assessed cost: $1,218.20; city cost: $1,157.24).

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Nebraska avenue from Earlmoor to Howland (Assessed cost: $4,748.40; city cost: $7,134.60).

Water main in Mansfield avenue from Kennett road to east property line of lot 166 Buena Vista Heights subdivision and for Kennett road from west property line of lot 58 to east property line of lot 62 of the subdivision (Assessed cost: $2,286.79; city cost: $2,286.79).

Public hearings will also be held next week on special assessment rolls for recap, curb repair and related work on State street from Huron to Johnson and on Osmun street from Saginaw to Sanford.

A hearing will also be on an assessment roll for a water main in Peacock avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, Clara avenue from Fuller to east property line of lot 30 assessor's plat 102, and for Fuller street from Peacock to Columbia.

Other business taken up on the 23-point slate included four public hearings on projects to be assessed at which no citizens were present to be heard.

The commissioners also accepted a resolution of public necessity for concrete paving, curb, gutter and related work on Mansfield avenue from Baldwin to Kennett. An estimated cost was ordered prepared by the city engineer.

May 28 at 2 p.m. was set as the closing of bids on the sale of city owned buildings on lots to be used in the new off-street parking program.

A hearing will be held June 12 on an ordinance to rezone to Commercial 1 use part of lots 62-66 in the Hillside Manor Subdivision providing a 20 foot alley is deeded.

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn was instructed to prepare a planned profile and estimate for grading and graveling the alley in assessor's plat 13 from Linda Vista drive to the east line of lot 40 of the plat. A petition more than 50 per cent signed requested the work.

A BETTER TOMORROW

The center, which consists of 25 buildings on a 330-acre site, has been described as dedicated to "a better tomorrow through research today."

Among the various structures are five staff building groups — styling, research, engineering, process development and service.

Within the buildings guests saw an assembly machine which puts together 75 parts of a cylinder head mechanically, the first successful mechanical heart, a new artificial lung, a device used to purify polio vaccines and blood plasmas, and the electro stethograph, which record's the human heart's inaudible or low frequency sounds.

They also saw a demonstration of laboratory "road testing" of motor vehicles with a "bump and shake" rig, cutaway versions of GM's latest experimental gas turbine automobile, and the even newer experimental automobile powered with a so-called "free piston" engine.

Joining in the dedication program were 137 GM plants in the United States and Canada which held "open house" programs for employes and friends.

Mayor Proclaims Armed Forces Day

Mayor William W. Donaldson last night proclaimed this Saturday "Armed Forces Day in Pontiac" and the week of May 27-June 2 as "Pontiac Foundation Week."

The mayor urged all Pontiac residents to attend the armed forces parade in the city Saturday and visit the military displays to be located on West Huron at Wayne.

"I call upon my fellow citizens to also display the flag on this day in manifestation of their recognition of the sacrifice and devotion to duty of the members of the Armed Forces," the proclamation read.

The second proclamation urged citizens to consider using the "facilities of the Pontiac Foundation in making donations, bequests, and memorials to their community for worthy projects."

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — As a part of Michigan Week observance, all Vaughan School students were to participate in the school's Spring Festival today, reenacting highlights in Michigan history.

WASHINGTON (INS) — A key Republican on the House Post Office Committee predicted today that President Eisenhower's request for postal rate increases will not be enacted this year.

2 Police Officers Await Decision on Overtime Pay

Two Pontiac police officers were assured by the City Commission last night that they will hear the answer on their request for 11 hours overtime pay reportedly denied them by the police chief.

Officers Harold Hayden and Billy Jones sat through a long 23-point agenda only to be told the decision on the case would not be announced because of the absence of the city manager.

They originally appeared before the commission April 3 but the answer has been postponed several times pending the return of one of the officers from vacation.

Both claimed they were denied the pay by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley because they were not given authorization to work overtime on a February felony case.

The commissioners reportedly reached a decision at an informal meeting but deferred action upon the request of City Manager W. K. Willman.

55 Area Firms Will Participate

Pontiac Schools Hosts for All Day Activities on May 23

Approximately 150 local business and industry men representing some 55 firms will visit the Pontiac Schools on Education-Business-Industry-Day May 23, according to John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Title of the annual day has been changed from Business-Industry-Education Day this year, because the school system is host to the activities.

The annual program, sponsored by the chamber, is under the direction of James Nye, chairman of the educational committee, J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, is handling arrangements for the schools.

Visitors to the schools will meet in Pontiac High School auditorium at 8:45 a.m. for an orientation program. The Pontiac High band under the direction of Dale C. Harris will play a few numbers. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, Louis Schimmel, president of the Board of Education and two chamber representatives will be among the speakers for the morning session.

Following the program the visitors will separate and go to different schools to study classroom procedure at 10 a.m. There are 25 public and 3 parochial schools participating in the day's activities.

Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac High, said that the business and industry representatives will be shown different departments and heads of these departments will explain procedure and study matter to them.

Visitors will have lunch at their assigned schools with the teachers If they desire, they may return to Pontiac High at 1:30 p.m. for a question and answer period during which Dr. Whitmer will explain the local building program.

This session is not included in the day's official program, but is an added explanation period, Staley said.

Business and industry members can still sign up for the EBI Day program by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, Hirlinger said. Principals of schools assigned will then issue invitations to the expected visitors.

Dr. Harold N. Skidmore, state superintendent, will address the group on "The Michigan Conference — a Portrait" at 4:30 this afternoon.

He also served with the Massachusetts Council of Churches on their radio and television committee.

The Day in Birmingham

Long-Discussed Terrace Zoning Change Is Voted

BIRMINGHAM — Terrace zoning should be extended westward on three unplatted parcels on North Woodward but the city should retain the flood area along the Rouge River, the Planning Commission recommended last night. Final decision will be by the City Commission.

Unplatted Parcels 1A and 1B, where a terrace zoning for the first 300 feet back from Woodward did not meet with owners' plans for locations of terrace units, have been discussed for months, but last night unplatted Parcel No. 2, just adjacent, was added in the debating.

City planning officials indicated they were relieved to conclude negotiations of the long-discussed zoning last night. A committee of adjacent property owners raised no serious objections to the extension of the terrace zoning.

The flood plain area along the river follows a policy kept by the city over a period of years, giving the river space for flooding. Purchase by the city was discussed, but it was decided that was unnecessary.

* * *

Chief of Police Ralph Moxley has been directed to post several $100 fine signs to help enforce the ordinance against throwing trash on roadways.

Objectors to the nuisance wrote several letters recently to the city, causing city commissioners to ask this week for the signs.

Commissioners also asked that a four-way stop be instituted at the Eton and Lincoln intersection.

The Birmingham Civil Defense Office has announced that a limited supply of pamphlets, "Lean-to Shelters," and "Corner Room Shelters," from the Michigan Office of Civil Defense are available without charge at the director's office, Room 106, Municipal Building.

Springdale Park facilities will be available at the same rates and fees charged last year, city commissioners have decided. Admission will be by membership cards issued to residents or taxpayers with three guests allowed.

But at picnics, at which attendance is limited to 50, the ratio of three residents to one non-resident should be maintained.

19 Residents Protest Rezoning of 5 Lots

Nineteen residents of Anderson's Western Addition subdivision last night continued their fight to block the rezoning of five lots in the area despite the fact the City Commission unanimously approved the rezoning last week.

And indications are that the group will continue its battle up to the public hearing scheduled for June 12.

The contingent objects to the rezoning to Residential 3 lots 85-89 of the addition in the city's southwest side because it will permit construction of a multiple-dwelling apartment building.

Last week the City Commission instructed the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to amend the city's building zone law permitting the rezoning. The first reading of the ordinance was held last night.

It will now go back to the City Plan Commission, who had recommended the rezoning, and will be aired in a public hearing June 12.

It also turned down his request to overturn a ruling by Judge John P. O'Hara of Detroit Recorders Court that certain evidence offered by Detroit police should not be quashed.

The high court's action was made without comment.

New Trial Set in Murder Case

Mother Expected to Tell Jury of Lover's Hand in Husband's Slaying

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 30, serving life after admitting she killed her husband, is scheduled to go before a grand jury today in a unique reopening of the spicy murder case.

• • •

The four Boston morning papers say Mrs. Clark is expected to tell the jury that her "lover," Arthur Jackson, 24, had a hand in her husband's death.

Jackson is serving three years in Salem jail for adultery with Mrs. Clark, a mother of three.

State Atty. Gen. George Fingold told newsmen last night: "We feel we have gathered some very strong evidence indicating the participation of someone else" (in the slaying).

• • •

• • •

A few months later, Clark's weighed body ws found in the salt flat. He had been shot in the Lake Attitash cottage, Amesbury, where he lived with his wife and children.

2nd Farm Bill Facing Changes

Holland, Aiken Leading Final Efforts to Reshape Plan Favorable to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch effort to reshape a second 1956 farm bill in line with President Eisenhower's program was promised in the Senate today by Sens. Holland (D-Fla) and Aiken (R-Vt).

• • •

They said in separate interviews they would seek to kill or modify provisions calling for higher government price supports on oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums and corn grown outside the commercial corn area.

"Unless the feed grain section is cleared up there may be no farm legislation this year," said Aiken, senior Republican on the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"It's the worst section of the new bill," Holland agreed. "It would penalize dairy, poultry and livestock farmers nationwide much more than it would help the feed grain producers."

A version of the measure has passed the House. A Senate-House conference will adjust differences.

Bob Considine Says:

81,000 Words Are Used to Say 'No Bomb'

ABOARD USS MOUNT McKINLEY (INS) — More than 81,000 words of copy were sent from this communications ship in the first seven days of its occupancy by the 15 news media men assigned to cover the first disposable American H-bomb.

Most of the stuff was sent by the nine newspapermen aboard, an all of it went at the average rate of 12 cents a word. Total cost was $10,000.

It could have been said for 24 cents: "No bomb."

The little knot of men burdened with the task of deciding when a bomb can be touched off and when it cannot had to take many serious matters into consideration as the days and delays dragged on.

They knew of all the degrees of impatience around them. The crew of the McKinley, for example, had been promised they'd be back at their home base of San Diego for long shore leaves some weeks ago, then the ship was reassigned to this duty. The boys were promised that it would be a matter of a few days.

* * *

Then there were the thousands of men working the barren and dusty coral islands; the construction crews, the scientists and technicians who set the supersensitive instrumentation that is flung over thousands of square miles of sea and coral. They wanted done with it, and so did the crew of the drop plane.

* * *

And last but not least there was the matter of the news, radio and TV people recording each delay — which, no matter how discreetly phrased or photographed, probably caused millions of Americans to lose interest in an experiment directly involved with the survival of the free world.

TAKE PRECEDENCE

On the other hand, there were two factors which readily took precedence over impatience and growing indifference. These two factors were our relations with the Asiatic world and our allergy toward hurting even people whose cries we could censor if we were that type of power. A handful of Marshallese, for example.

* * *

There is no doubt that we lost face in Japan, India and elsewhere because of the unhappy events that followed the touching off of our surface H-shot March 1, 1954.

Our people unquestionably took many more pains than the Russians take in their experiments, yet this device (it could not be called a bomb because it was not portable) probably yielded twice its expected power.

On top of that, though we had made what under normal conditions would be considered an excessively exhaustive study of weather conditions, the winds sprinkled radioactive dust over several Marshall Islands almost as far away from ground zero as Washington is from New York, and it made 80 odd people sick for a while.

* * *

The great sea patrol of that exercise overlooked a small Japanese tuna trawler a similar distance away (and the trawler's skipper ignored radio warnings.) The trawler was sprinkled, most of its crew was contaminated.

* * *

The Japanese would not let our specialists treat the men. When one of the crew died some months later of hepititis, we were blamed. A wave of anti-American sentiment swept the Asiatic world, undoing the work of years and the expenditure of breath-taking sums of taxpayers' money.

Russian propagandists had a field day, neglecting to mention, of course, that the Reds set off their own nuclear weapons with about as much concern for the well-being of people in the way of the radioactive cloud as they have for the athlete's foot situation in Lower Slobovia.

A seaman on the McKinley who retired to his bunk last Thursday night off the target islet of Namu (the bomb was supposed to go off at 5:51 a.m. Friday but there was a weather postponement and our ship was sent back to the place it came from) woke up at 7 a.m. and, looking at his porthole, recognized the adjacent island.

"Gosh, what a bomb that must have been," he said, in awe. "Blew us all the way back to Eniwetok from Bikini."

Hal Boyle Says:

Feel Bubbly? Well, This Is Tavern Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Has life held foamy wonder for you lately? Have you felt better without knowing why?

* * *

Maybe it's because spring has come at last.

OR PERHAPS

On the other hand, it may be because this is National Tavern Month. Yes, good old National Tavern Month is just another page on the calendar—the interval between the end of April and the first of June, just a time when the days get longer and warmer.

* * *

They don't expect the populace to turn the occasion into another Fourth of July, and go around shooting off firecrackers. But they do think it would be nice if you'd drop into your favorite tavern for a friendly drink at the pump, and pause for a moment in silent reverie over the long and important role taverns have played in history.

Many a wife thinks the neighborhood taven is just a husband trap where the head of the house stops off on the way to the grocery store, stays five hours and comes home without the groceries.

PREJUDICED VIEWS

* * *

They say the origin of the tavern is lost in the mists of the past, but that it helped keep the Roman Empire intact. Along their famous roads the Romans had a network of taverns where the weary traveler could sleep, dine and gulp from the cup that cheers.

* * *

The sponsors like to point out that Thomas Jefferson and some of the other Founding Fathers gathered for relaxation in a tavern while composing the American Declaration of Independence.

MORE ENDURING

That, of course, has endured much longer than the usual declarations of independence that flow in barrooms.

* * *

They like to point out that in Colonial days, as now, taverns were the centers of social and political discussion. As a matter of fact, in young New England town hall meetings and even court trials were held in taverns.

It might be a good idea even today to hold the Republican and Democratic national conventions in taverns. This would certainly make them shorter. It would be even better if they held both national party conventions in the same tavern at the same time, and let all the politicians uncork their oratory at once.

* * *

What can the average man do to honor National Tavern Month? Mother's Day and Be-Kind-to-Animals Week have already taken place during this period. This stirs a thought.

YOUR BARTENDER

If you have sent flowers to your mother and tossed a box of kennel krunch to man's best friend, why not sit down and figure out some way to show your appreciation to the guy who has given you some of the best beers of his life—your favorite bartender?

* * *

I consulted a number of bartenders on what form they honestly would like this testimonial to take. To a man they proudly disdained any desire for small gifts—such as a motor car, a trip to Paris, or a $1,000 government bond.

Bartenders, after all, are not like big league baseball players. They don't expect much from their fans.

* * *

"I'd be satisfied if a guy would just order a martini," one said, "without adding — 'and be sure to make it extra dry.' Nobody ever orders a wet martini."

AND NO WOMEN

"Just tell women — all women —to stay out of the bar for the whole month and give us a rest," said one lady-hating bartender.

* * *

But most of the bartenders surveyed said something like this:

"If the customers would just shut up about their troubles for a while — and listen to our troubles —life would be a dream."

* * *

There you are. For most of the year the bartender is standing psychiatrist to his patrons. Why not, just for a month, become his psychiatrist?

The poor fellow might be so humbly grateful to find a listening ear he'll break down and even buy a drink on the house. Don't count on this, however, not even during National Tavern Month.

Detroit Police Announce 12-Point Plan to Be Used in Case of Tornado Disaster

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins has announced a 12-point program to prepare the city in case it is ever hit by a tornado.

Piggins outlined the plan after touring Flint, Allen Park and Lincoln Park, all of which were hit by last Saturday night's twister. The program will be formally drawn up by Police Superintendent Jack Harvill and Deputy superintendent Miles Furlong.

The commissioner's plan provides for:

1. Dividing the city into 30 separate disaster areas, without regard to precinct boundaries, and with an area commander for each designated in advance to take charge in case of a tornado.

* * *

2. Calling a meeting of all metropolitan police and fire chiefs and Civil Defense heads to insure maximum cooperation between communities.

3. Setting up police search and rescue procedure with, special training in each phase.

4. Designation of a central command post in each of the 30 disaster areas.

5. Planning procedure to seal off the disaster areas from all but essential vehicles to keep streets free of "sightseers" autos.

6. Standardizing a procedure for notifying utilities of live wires, leaking gas and bronken water mains.

7. Getting police tow trucks to the stricken area to clear vechicles and debris from fire department routes.

8. A thorough inventory of emergency lighting equipment such as electric generators and searchlights.

9. Alerting citizens to have flashlights and battery radios in working order.

10. Distribution to each Detroit household of printed instructions to guide them before and after a tornado strikes.

11. Precautions against looting.

12. Designating an evacuation center, preferably equipped with cots and first aid equipment, in each area to which homeless residents may be directed.

* * *

Piggins declared:

"This (program) is not the result of sudden hysteria. It is being done to chart a course of action for police and citizens alike should a disaster strike. We want to have an orderly program with which every member of the police department is familiar."

Pontiac Loses Great Pioneer in W. R. Eames

Mr. Eames was only 70, but the firm of Eames and Brown dates back into the period of Pontiac's first big expansion and Mr. Eames was always an active and assertive figure in the city's growth. This refers to the development of his own business and to the advancement of Pontiac as a community.

Mr. Eames devoted many, many hours of his fruitful life time to work on affairs that advanced the welfare of humanity and mankind. He was always available for assistance and help and never turned a deaf ear to community requests.

Eames and Brown played a big role in the building of Pontiac as it stands today. The senior partner was highly regarded by his fellow craftsmen and his firm was a conspicuous figure in new projects.

Friendly—almost shy—"Russ" knew a host of people and a familiar associate has been wrested from a busy scene in which he played a happy role.

Michigan Week

Between May 20-26 many residents of this lake bordered, lake studded commonwealth are going to learn a lot more about why "It's Great to Live in Michigan."

The phrase, "a lot more," is used advisedly. Those dates include the seven day observance of the third annual Michigan Week. Sponsored by Greater Michigan Inc., State agencies and local committees, the program's aim is to make many more Michiganians acquainted with the varied reasons why ours is one of the most favored of the 48 states.

There are so many reasons why it's great to live in Michigan that it's difficult to know where to start. For example, we are fortunate in living in an all-year playground. Bordered on three sides by four of the Great Lakes, they and our 11,037 inland lakes provide healthful outdoor recreation at any season of the year.

These lakes, our 58 State parks and our 937,687 acres of forest land help make Michigan internationally famous for its vacation facilities and its $600,000,000 a year tourist industry.

Michigan also stands high agriculturally. Although 22nd in area, it is tenth in production of 20 major crops and is rated the most self-sufficient food producing state.

The world's greatest center of automobile production, Michigan ranks fifth among other industrial states. Its 10,000 factories produce 365 of the 451 different kinds of manufacturing in the United States. They also provide employment for more than 1,100,000 men and women at high wages.

★ ★ ★

We who are fortunate to live in this wonderful state with its wonderful educational facilities, owe Michigan Week and its sponsors our heartiest support. Not only should we sing Michigan's praises wherever we go, but we should know about and visit its many magnificent beauty spots.

It's always open season for shooting the bull.

Ike's Friendly Offer

President Eisenhower has chosen wisely in offering Democratic Sen. Walter F. George a post as special ambassador to NATO.

Republicans generally will approve of Mr. Eisenhower's action. Not only was it politically astute, but a well earned tribute to the 78 year old chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who is retiring at the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Indications are that the President's offer was made on the basis of his personal liking for the Senator and in recognition of the latter's support of many Administration programs. The offer and news that the Georgian may be available for the post in January, came shortly after he had announced that he would not seek re-election as he previously had intended.

★ ★ ★

Although regretted by many Democrats, Sen. George's decision to retire wasn't surprising. Undoubtedly it was based on his age and health and was influenced by the sudden death of Sen. Barkley. It brought the expected announcement from Georgia's former Governor, Herman Talmadge, that he would be a candidate for the Senate seat thus to be vacated.

The Colorado woman who had a baby in a movie theater had too much curiosity. She said she just couldn't leave the show until she found out how it ended.

David Lawrence Says:

Technical Decisions of Supreme Court Bypassing Objective, Judicial Purpose

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court as an institution is revered but, unfortunately, the members who happen to be justices for the time being are not always accorded the same reverence.

In fact, today among many lawyers the present Supreme Court is coming in for the most severe criticism. The justices are being spoken of as "arbitrary" and "capricious," and sometimes even the term "reckless" is heard.

The layman isn't aware immediately of the consequences that flow from dangerous decisions. Yet, as one lawyer put it, the jails could be emptied tomorrow of many criminals if their counsel should suddenly take advantage of some of the technical grounds by which criminal convictions are nowadays being reversed.

OTHER THAN RACIAL ISSUES

Such criticism of the Supreme Court stems from cases that have nothing to do with the segregation issue. Thus, the other day the Supreme Court remanded a case of a convict who was charged with armed robbery. The decision was reversed because the robber was held to be too poor for his lawyer to buy a stenographic record of the case so he could file it with his appeal.

Never before has the Supreme Court said that this problem was a basis for federal interference in a normal procedure by state courts. Lawyers are asking now what happens to cases passed upon by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the past? This court has had a self-imposed rule to detect errors in the record in capital cases but not in non-capital offenses.

Another critical decision was rendered by the Supreme Court in the matter of the credibility of witnesses. The new rule set forth in a recent case must be heard over again if a conviction in a lower court occurs as a result of testimony by a witness whose credibility has been challenged in some other case happening afterward.

COMMIES GAIN RETRIAL

Yet this is what six justices of the Supreme Court decided as they sent back to the subversive activities control board a case to be tried again. The Communist party claimed that three witnesses had gotten into difficulties in another case and hence this invalidated their testimony. The Circuit Court of Appeals, which disregarded this plea, pointed out that there was enough evidence without it before the trial court and hence both tribunals actually passed on this very point. But the reversal was ordered by the Supreme Court just the same, and a decision as to the constitutionality of the law itself was indefinitely postponed.

"The only purpose of this procedural maneuver," says the dissenting opinion of Justices Harlan, Reed and Minton, "is to gain additional time before the order to register can become effective. This proceeding has dragged out for many years now, and the function of the board remains suspended and the congressional purpose frustrated at a most critical time in world history."

Bills are being introduced to correct the Supreme Court's misunderstanding of congressional intent. For, if the decision is left standing, it means that a crime committed wholly within a state and directed at the overthrow of a state government cannot be touched by a state authority and must be left to the federal government. This means that a bigger and bigger police force will be necessary for Washington. It also means a whittling down of the rights of the states to maintain law and order within their own boundaries.

CONGRESS ACTING

Many bills are also being introduced to try to get better justices. Sen. Smathers of Florida has a bill to require five years of experience on the bench. The bill of Sen. Stennis of Mississippi would require at least ten years of previous service on the bench. The fact is that only one of the nine justices now on the highest court actually served any appreciable time on the bench.

No constitutional amendment is needed—just a Senate rule to insist on such a qualification before it gives consent to confirming a nominee for the Supreme Court. Sen. Long of Louisiana proposes an amendment to limit tenure to 12 years.

But this isn't the main complaint. It really is that too many of the nine justices have become "ideological" and interested in "causes" rather than in objective and judicial handling of the issues of the day.

Again Doctor Expounds on Having Babies Home

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"How do you expect young mothers to have babies at home? Nowadays doctors won't even make a house call except perhaps to come and pronounce you dead. The nearest hospital, five miles aways, has a waiting list."

(Mrs. T. C.)

I don't really, but I keep hammering away at it on the off chance that here and there some young expectant parents will have enough dignity, character, and self-respect to get off their ischial tuberosities and go systematically through the entire list of doctors in their community in person, not by telephone, until they find one who attends confinement at the patient's home.

How did Coleen Gray (Mrs. Bill Bidlack), Jan Sterling (Mrs. Paul Douglas), Betty Stuart (Mrs. John "Buck" Rodgers) and many other young people with self-respect find physicians who attend confinement at home?

Trouble with too many young prospective parents is that they are too ignorant. It is because of their ignorance that they are so helpless and timid when they face the great miracle, the birth of their baby.

When I say ignorant, I do not mean to imply that they have not had enough education in the ordinary sense of the word. I mean that they have had little or no instruction in embryology, hygiene of pregnancy, prenatal development, the details of the process of birth, and the care and feeding of the infant.

Any young couple whose education has been neglected can repair the defect by reading together the various pamphlets and books such as I have repeatedly recommended here. In some communities some physicians now give instructions to classes of prospective parents. I regret I can't afford to maintain a directory service, but I warn you that some doctors will try to discourage you by telling you hospital birth is easier or safer. From knowledge and experience, I can assure you that home is the safer place to have your baby, and if childbirth, at home will be easier you are not utterly ignorant than it would be in the hospital.

The old-timers, who are generally hostile towards new methods, and the doctors who are in good at the hospital are doing whatever they can to scare people away from this idea, of having their babies at home, and being ignorant, people are easily scared. However the idea is steadily gaining popularity.

Another reader writes:

"I have one baby and am expecting another. I do wish it were possible for my husband to be with me at delivery . . . Wish you could persuade hospitals to be more human in this respect."

(Mrs. O. C. C.)

The suggestion is preposterous! The rules and regulations are designed to promote the convenience and comfort of doctors, nurses, and other hospital attendants, not to insure the well being and happiness of patients.

My advice to you, Mrs. C., is stick to your intention, scout the doctors in your town till you find who attends confinement at home.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Why Not Organize Group Such as C.C.C. for Boys?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

May I make a suggestion that might help some of the city's teenage boys? Why couldn't some group of men . . . dads or brothers . . . organize a type of city C.C.C. group and go with the boys and clean up brush and high grass areas in the city?

For instance, the swamp at the end of Lebaron Avenue is not only unhealthy, but a breeding ground for crime. If it were cleared out so any one could see through, there wouldn't be such danger.

I have three grandchildren who live in that district, and their daddy is a patrolman who goes out every day to risk his life for the public, so isn't it just a friendly turn for these boys to try doing good.

I know there are a great many good teenagers; the majority do not get into trouble, but with a little cooperation I feel the others might turn from destruction to construction.

Germany Lies at the Root of East-West Maneuvers

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Eleven years after the defeat of Germany, that pivotal nation still is at the root of the East-West impasse.

* * *

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, in observing the V-E Day anniversary, struck a familar propaganda note, showing it has not departed from the Stalin theme although the late dictator departed three years ago.

Izvestia accused "monopolies" in the West, particularly the United States, of supplying "death-dealing" equipment to the Nazis for their onslaught on the Soviet Union.

Overlooked intentionally, as usual, is the vast lend-lease equipment worth billions of dollars sent by the United States and Britain to the Soviets to stem the Nazis.

* * *

Ignored also is the fact that Stalin made the 1939 pact with Hitler that touched off World War II, crushed most of Europe, and imperiled the United States.

NO UNIFICATION

What is Soviet policy toward Germany? For one thing, Moscow certainly has no thought of letting Germany be united for some time to come.

* * *

Red party boss Nikita Khrushchev bluntly told British Laborites in his famous row with them in London that they should quit worrying about the 1939 Russo-German pact, which he praised.

Instead, he shocked his Labor-ite hosts by telling them to think of a real danger, a possible Russo-German pact of 1957.

He struck a very sensitive nerve in saying this, because always in the back of every Western official's mind is the fear that someday, sooner or later, the Germans will make a deal with the Russians.

* * *

Those fearing such a pact may argue that Moscow is in a very good position to tempt Bonn to agree to Soviet reunification terms, one of which would be for West Germany to quit NATO.

'LOST PROVINCES'

The Soviets could offer to restore the "lost provinces" of Eastern Germany and open up big Eastern markets to Germany industry, which traditionally did much trading with the East.

* * *

West Germany Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano, who visited London for talks after Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin left, rejected the possibility of a bilateral Russo-Germany accord.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer also has firmly cast his lot with the West.

It also seems unlikely that Russia might at any early date consider restoring Brandenburg, Pomerania, Silesia and southern East Prussia. To do so would mean another partition of Poland, the transfer of some 7,000,000 Poles, and an uproar in all the Soviet satellite belt.

* * *

Moscow's most obvious policy on Germany is to oppose reunification until Adenauer and his aides vanish from the scene, until the rest of the world has lost interest, and then to make its own deal with West Germany on communization terms.

Engineers Who Say 'It Can't Be Done' Do Not Typify American Way of Life

Mr. Hume shows how we consumers must concoct home-made improvements on automobiles because the designing engineers are so out of contact with reality. It isn't more horsepower but more "horse sense" which we buyers are desiring in motor cars. Engineers should take a good course in salesmanship, don't you think?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-357: A. J. Hume has his office in Miami.

"Dr. Crane, some time ago you mentioned that Mrs. Ragsdale, of Knoxville, Tennessee, objected to the reflection on the inside of her windshield, due to the curved housing for the speedometer," he began.

"Well, I have been confronted with the same problem. My wife finally sewed an elastic band which I now place around the outside of the speedometer face.

"Then I slip a blue wash cloth under that elastic band to blot out this annoying reflection of light.

* * *

"Perhaps one reason why manufacturers are scared of helpful suggestions from the public, is fear they will be sued for royalty if they use anything resembling such ideas."

ENGINEERING MYOPIA

Isn't it a sad commentary on auto manufacturing that the buyers must then concoct home remedies to offset glaring faults in automobile design?

Even yet most cars retain the antiquated system of having the brake pedal operated by the right foot, which also must press on the foot throttle.

That means when danger threatens, the driver doesn't even have his foot on the brake at all, but must waste a critical fraction of a second to move it off the throttle.

Meanwhile, the idle left foot is unoccupied. It is a simple engineering matter to let the left foot operate the brake, or else let the left foot press on the throttle.

One inventor 15 years ago let me drive his car all over Chicago, with a combined brake and throttle pedal which rocked on a fulcrum. It worked ideally, and would have saved thousands of lives in the 15 years it has been ignored by auto manufacturers.

* * *

The National Safety Council is doing valiant work trying to encourage auto safety measures and the Automobile Clubs do likewise, but the manufacturers fail to do their part.

They gloat over raising horsepower but meanwhile violate horse sense.

ENGINEERING HOT AIR

"Dr. Crane, you are talking through your hat!" an Indianapolis engineer wrote to me when I printed Mrs. Ragsdale's practical criticism.

"It is not psychologically wise to move the brake pedal from the right foot except by slow, progressive stages."

Well, you auto engineers have had 50 years to make the change so what do you mean by "slow stages?"

And 15 years ago I described the combined brake-throttle pedal that solved the problem entirely and didn't require five minutes of time for a driver to adjust to it perfectly.

About 20 years ago I urged that America foreclose on its loans to foreign nations by taking over vital real estate, since that would not upset economic balances between nations.

So I told a Milwaukee Town Hall audience that we should thus take a strip of land from the U.S.A. to Canada, for a motor highway. This was before the Alcan Highway was even thought of.

* * *

An engineer in Milwaukee rose during the forum after my lecture and said it was "Engineeringly an impossibility to build a motor highway to Alaska from the U.S.A. so my idea was silly."

I wonder what he thinks of our present Alcan highway?

When engineers say things "cannot be done" they are not typifying our American way of life. True Americans believe improvements can always be accomplished.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Benson Assails Surplus Critics

Says 'Cancer Growth' Germinated in Truman Administration

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson predicts the farm problem "will be front and center" in the forthcoming political campaign.

* * *

And in a speech prepared for delivery before the Union League Club, Benson hit back at his critics, saying the build up of farm surpluses was clearly apparent long before the Eisenhower Administration took office.

"But nothing was done to treat this cancerous growth in its early stages," Benson said.

He said most of the farm income decline "took place while the people who seem now to have all the easy answers were in control of both the executive branch of the government and the Congress."

9 BILLION TIED UP

Noting the government has about nine billion dollars tied up in farm commodities in connection with price support programs, Benson said this is "a catastrophe to our farmers."

Department economists estimate, he said, that without excessive stocks last year's net farm income would have been 20 per cent higher, or at least two billion dollars.

* * *

Subsidized prices, he said, always lead to surpluses, with government restrictions in an effort to restore balance between supply and demand.

Stand By— Sales Promotion Boys Have Robot

NEW YORK (AP) — Burroughs Corp. today unveiled a two-ton "electronic robot" that can knock out name and address labels at the rate of 900 lines a minute.

* * *

Intended to facilitate mass mailing operations in the publishing and sales promotion fields, the new machine represents Burroughs' first bid for a slice of the 500-million-dollar punched-card machine market. The machine is called the "Burroughs Series G High Speed Printer-Punch."

The company quoted a customer as saying the production of a million names and addresses for mailing used to involve 200 hours, five machines and a total cost of $5,300, but that the new "robot" can handle the same job in 75 hours at a cost of $2,400.

* * *

Deaths Per Mile Dip, According to Statistics

While the number of highway deaths in Michigan has climbed from 1,470 to 2,004 last year, deaths per hundred million passenger miles traveled has dropped sharply, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said yesterday.

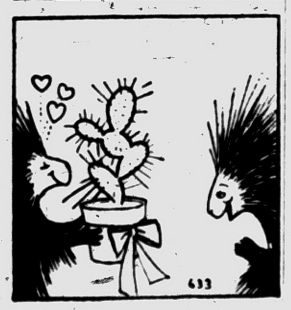

Quoting figures released by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, Ziem said the figure was 9.2 in 1946 but dropped to 6.84 in 1955.

Fewer Forest Fires

LANSING (AP) — Wet weather helped fire control forces hold Michigan's forest fire damage down to 57 acres during the past week, the State Conservation Department reported. The department said 27 or the 32 fires during the week were in the Upper Peninsula.

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Only five votes were cast in Bunker Hill precinct of Cheyenne County in yesterday's primary. The election judges, two Republicans and three Democrats, cast them. Not a single "outside voter" showed up. The outlying precinct normally has about 25 votes cast.

'Kickback' Charged to Solon's Secretary

NEW YORK (AP) — Several witnesses have testified they had to pay back taxes to the government after accountant Joseph Ford prepared returns for them.

Ford is the chief government witness in the income tax evasion trial of Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson, Secretary to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY).

The series of witnesses who testified in federal court yesterday said they were not prosecuted however, for the returns prepared by Ford.

Earlier in the trial, Ford testified that when he was preparing Mrs. Dodson's 1946 income tax return, she told him her congressional salary "belonged to the congressman." The government called that a kickback.

But the Negro lawmaker took the stand to deny he had ever received a penny from Mrs. Dodson.

• • •

Powell said Ford ran a "tax mill" with offices at the Harlem church where the congressman is pastor. Ford was once Powell's campaign manager.

The Negro woman is charged with evading $5,000 in taxes from 1948 to 1952 and illegally collecting $2,000 in tax refunds.

ARTHRITIS PAINED SO FIERCE IT MADE ME CRY

"I'll recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS as long as I live," says Mrs. Margaret Standridge, 2143 Schumacher Street, Flint, Michigan.

"I was crippled with arthritis since the Spring of 1950. It was in my right arm, shoulder and neck and you just can't imagine how much suffering I went through. There wasn't a night went by that I didn't go to bed with tears in my eyes. I'm telling you, I really suffered. My arm was stiff, and burned like someone was holding a torch under it. One day my husband was cutting wood up North, and the man he was working with had to be carried out of the woods due to a severe attack of arthritis. He was so bad that his wife had to turn him over in bed by pulling on his sheets. He used O-JIB-WA BITTERS and three weeks later, was better and back working. After his experience, I decided to try O-JIB-WA too, but after 5 days I gave up, as I foolishly expected immediate relief. Well, the pain just went on, and for a whole year I couldn't move my arm. My knuckles were swollen to twice their normal size, and I couldn't pick up a thing without dropping it. Why even my chest pained fiercely, so last December, I decided to give O-JIB-WA a fair trial this time. I followed directions carefully, and in just 10 days the pains suddenly stopped, and the swelling and stiffness began going away. I know it was the O-JIB-WA that did it, as I hadn't tried anything else for quite some time. I can use my arm again now and do my housework, painting and everything I couldn't do while suffering with arthritis. The pain, stiffness and swelling are all gone and have not returned. I'm so thankful for this wonderful medicine that I will never be without it. I'LL RECOMMEND O-JIB-WA BITTERS AS LONG AS I LIVE."

Smog Cause Seen in 'Compound X'

Silent Sam's on the Track

MONTREAL (INS) — Scientists today unveiled a new smog detective called "Silent Sam" that has tracked down a mysterious "Compound X" believed to be the major culprit in smog formation.

Silent Sam was hailed as a new weapon in the fight against air pollution that is able to expose undetectable pollutants existing in minute quantities in the atmosphere.

Discovery of the elusive compound which is considered the missing link in smog was announced today at a meeting of the refining division of the American Petroleum Institute in Montreal.

To the ordinary eye, Silent Sam — which is a long path infra-red absorption cell — looks like a hot water tank lying on its side in the middle of a forest of piping and flexible tubing. A pyrex window gives a view of what's happening inside.

PROBE THE NATURE

"Compound X" was isolated by Sam in the laboratories of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia after tests conducted there created smog conditions similar to those suffered in the Los Angeles area.

Scientists are now busy trying to find out the exact nature of "Compound X" of which there are five parts in one hundred million parts air.

Since the beginning of several smog attacks in the U. S. practically all known sources of smoke, from industrial smokestacks to back yard trash burners, from oil refineries to automobiles have been blamed, but none have been found to be the sole cause.

• • •

Now with Silent Sam's help and the discovery of "Compound X" which is considered an intermediate component of smog, scientists feel they have their foot in the door as to the nature of smog formation.

British Expect Riots in Singapore Colony

SINGAPORE (AP)—British rulers of this crown colony braced themselves today for an outbreak of violence believed developing in the wake of the collapse of independence talks in London.

Some British residents predicted bloodshed and rioting would break out on a scale comparable to the Cyprus violence in the Mediterranean.

Chief Minister David Marshall said in London he is coming home to resign, a move which could bring the leftist People's Action party into power.

• • •

The three-week-old talks broke off yesterday over British insistence on retaining final control of internal defense on this island base. Marshall's delegation would agree only to a supreme security council on which the British would be represented but would not dominate.

Graham Joins Doomed Killers

Bomber, Set for Death Aug. 29, Still Refuses to Appeal for Retrial

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—John Gilbert Graham joined three other condemned murderers in death row today for his first full day behind the sandstone walls of the Colorado Penitentiary.

One hundred feet from his small cell is the state's lethal gas chamber, where he is sentenced to die the week of Aug. 26.

* * *

Graham, 24, convicted of bombing an airliner which plunged his mother and 43 others to death, was sentenced in Denver District Court yesterday by Judge Joseph M. McDonald.

Judge McDonald passed sentence after hearing Graham spurn his court-appointed lawyers' motions for a new trial.

SATISFIED WITH VERDICT

"I don't see why I should have to make a political rally or something out of this," said Graham, married and the father of two children. "I don't see why it can't stop right here. I believe I had as fair a trial as could be had under the circumstances."

However, the judge ordered Graham's lawyers to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what disposition should be made of their new trial motion, which Judge McDonald rejected. It claimed 36 points of alleged errors in Graham's trial, which ended May 4.

If the court accepts jurisdiction, it could order an appeal and stay the execution. Otherwise, the execution would proceed as scheduled.

* * *

Graham was convicted of murdering his mother Mrs. Daisie E. King by placing a dynamite time bomb in her luggage shortly before she boarded a United Air Lines plane at Denver last Nov. 1. The craft exploded and crashed 11 minutes after takeoff near Longmont, Colo.

May Help Beaches

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To find ways of eliminating pollution of bathing beaches, engineers will experiment next week with radioactive isotopes as a means of tracing the flow of sewage into the ocean. Beach cities in the bay area have complained repeatedly that sewage is making their waters unfit for bathing.

The pedestrian record reflected the 5th consecutive year of improvement for motor vehicle accidents in 1955.

Moscow Awaits 50,000 Iowan Hybrid Eggs

DE SMOINES (AP) — Russia will soon be getting a shipment of 50,000 hybrid chicken eggs from Iowa.

* * *

Simon Casady Jr., secretary of the Hy-Line poultry farm of Jounston, announced the eggs were being shipped today by air to Moscow.

A delegation of Russians who visited this country last summer saw the Hy-Line operations and ordered the eggs. The cost, including air freight, is about $33,000. The eggs run from 16 to 70 cents apiece.

The hybrids are all fertile and are to be hatched after they reach Moscow.

* * *

Hy-Line has a farm in Holland which serves European markets but the Russians wanted eggs direct from the Iowa farm, Casady said. If they want more, the Holland farm likely will supply them, he explained.

Prelate Opposes Ban on Church Remarriage

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, an outspoken opponent of divorce, has warned Anglican Church leaders against a proposed ban on church marriage of a divorced person whose former spouse is still alive.

* * *

The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, told the church's top legislative body it should continue to express its disapproval of such marriages by resolution rather than outright ban.

He said Parliament might challenge the state-supported church in a ban that went beyond the civil law.

* * *

He added that some clergy value their liberty under civil law to remarry such divorced persons.

STORIES IN THE STARS — 3

The Bears

The constellations we usually call the Big Dipper and the Little Dipper are also known by the Latin names of Ursa Major and Ursa Minor, or the Big Bear and the Little Bear. The Greeks first called them the Bears when they linked them with the myth of Callisto, a lovely Greek woman.

Callisto was so beautiful she feared the jealous anger of Juno, queen of Heaven. To protect her, Jupiter, ruler of the gods, turned Callisto into a bear. Parted from her little son Arcas, poor Callisto roamed the woods hunting for him.

Arcas grew to manhood and became a hunter. One day, armed with a bow and arrow he met Callisto in the woods, and, not knowing that this was his mother took aim at the great bear.

Once again Jupiter saved her. He turned Arcas into a small bear. Then he caught both bears by their tails and swung them into the sky.

Before pasting this picture down on thin cardboard, color with crayons. Make the sky a rich deep blue. Prick out the stars outlined on the two bears until you have pricked away the whole star, and then prick the small holes in the various small star dots scattered over the background. Then hold it up to a strong light and you will see the two constellations. The two front stars of the big bear always point at the Pole star, which makes it easy to locate.

By putting a string through the holes in the circles at the top you can hang this picture up with the others or you can fold the panels at the lower corners and it will stand up.

To Lead Fund Drive

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A group of 27 veterans of World Wars I and II have been appointed leaders in a house-to-house campaign to be held May 28 for funds for a Kent County war memorial in Grand Rapids' Fulton Park. They hope to enlist 3,500 men and women for the campaign.

"Just what were the 'good old days'?" a reader wrote to ask a London editor. He replied: "When baby-sitters were called mother."

Grant Wins Fourth Term as Fisher Body Local Head

Harold A. Grant, of 481 N. East Blvd., was elected recently to a fourth term as president of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO).

Also elected to 2-year terms on the local's executive board were: Norman Bolton, 100 W. Hopkins Ave., vice president; Loren McPherson, Waterford Township, financial secretary; Mrs. Donna Mielke, Waterford Township, recording secretary; Frank Prudhomme, 42 E. Fairmount Ave., guide; and Lawrence Hartley, Waterford Township, chairman of the shop committee.

A run-off election will be conducted May 22 by the local for two other offices on the board, a 4-year trustee position, and sergeant-at-arms office. Candidates for the trustee office are Frank Williams and Buster McCray, both of Pontiac.

The following local members were appointed delegates to the Michigan State CIO Convention to be held in June at Grand Rapids: Thomas White, Mrs. Harold A. Grant, Archie Shearer, John Shearer, Robert Zeeman, all of Pontiac; Raymond Norman, Ortonville; and Joe Zeleski of Waterford Township.

To serve a 1-year term on the shop committee will be the following: Spurgeon Grazes and John Galvin, both of Pontiac; Lawrence Hartman, Clarkston; Lawrence Hartley and Donald Johnson, both of Waterford Township; and Daniel Chaton of Walled Lake.

Commercial Industry Boom for Government

• • •

The survey, conducted by at least 32 federal agencies under Budget Bureau direction, listed 19,771 business-type activities as owned by the government. The capital assets of these plants total $11,861,569, according to the survey. The government operates most of the facilities. Some are run by private contractors.

• • •

Enterprises range from armament and ship manufacture to such things as ladies' underwear, shoe repair, farming, mining and logging.

Letter to Ike Asks Auto Layoffs Probe

A letter was sent to President Eisenhower this week from some 5,400 members of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO) requesting an investigation of continued lay-offs in the automobile industry.

According to Harold A. Grant, president of the local, 2,200 Fisher Body Division workers in the Pontiac plant are presently laid off.

• • •

The letter suggested a committee be appointed to "investigate the drastic cutback in the automobile industry."

Two weeks ago, the president of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 (UAW-CIO) requested UAW President Walter Reuther to investigate guaranteed annual wage grievances as the result of lay-offs of some 3,000 workers at the Pontiac factory.

Charles Curry said yesterday he had received no answer from the Detroit union office.

'Errors' Are Admitted by British Communists

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Communist party has made an admission of mistakes, including attacks on Yugoslav Communist leaders.

A party statement, following the new Moscow line, blamed the mistakes on its uncritical acceptance of Stalin dictates. Russia's present leadership has ordered the late dictator put into disrepute by Communists at home and abroad.

Harry Pollitt, 65, staunch Stalin supporter, resigned last week as general secretary of the British Communist party. John Gollan, 45, promoter of Communist youth units, replaced him.

Gambol in Flood Water

Soekarno of Indonesia Receives a Full Dress Military Reception

* * *

After receiving the traditional golden key to Washington from the District of Columbia commissioners, Soekarno was expected at the White House for his meeting with Eisenhower.

Soekarno's visit is billed primarily as a good will trip. U.S. officials did not anticipate any negotiations would result.

But American diplomatic officials are aware that both Communist China and the Soviet Union have wooed Indonesia with offers of foreign aid. Soekarno is due to visit Peiping and Moscow this fall.

* * *

Tomorrow, Soekarno is scheduled to address a joint session of Congress. He is leaving Saturday on a two-week tour of the country.

Veteran Newsman Replies to Critics of Newspapers

People's Right to Know Is Theme of Latest Book

Kent Cooper, who for 25 years was the chief executive officer of the Associated Press, has answered some of the complaints and allegations against newspapers in his new book, "The Right to Know." Cooper joined the Associated Press in 1910 and later became general manager and executive director. He retired five years ago. Excerpts from the book are reproduced in the accompanying article.

* * *

By KENT COOPER

KENT COOPER

In spite of all that has been favorably said of American newspapers for having helped to integrate democratic forces so that a great nation could be created, adverse critics, from time to time, have said that because of their faults, the days of their success are numbered.

Critics have rightfully said that the most important element of the public responsibility of the newspaper is that it must give complete as well as reliable information.

In any city where this is not done the public may have to seek in vain for what it must have. Mere numbers of different newspapers in a city, however, do not mean the public is necessarily better served than it would be by fewer. To emphasize this: Washington, our capital city, may be compared to the Paris of the French.

NUMBERS NO SAFEGUARD

It is true that a multiplicity of newspapers can present different points of view, but the field also can be so crowded with journals, as in Paris, that not one of them can afford to give adequate factual news coverage. Not one does! Views, yes, lots of them! News, little or none! And that is far from wholesome.

Actually if one newspaper in a community is adequately supported by its subscribers and advertisers, and if it prints all the news without bias, that community is better off than if it had a dozen or more newspapers with views and little or no news.

At one time Paris had 33 daily newspapers, advocating different policies. Each reader bought the one and only the one newspaper that appealed to his own biased views. It cannot be argued that such a procedure puts the reader in a better intellectual position than if he could buy two or even one newspaper that gives him all the news. If he has the news he can reach his own conclusions.

* * *

Washington and Paris alone are named for comparison because, while it is important for every community to have an adequate budget of news, local, national and international, it is of the greatest importance for the national capital of any country to have strong, thoroughgoing newspapers with adequate information on all subjects.

Officials in all branches of government are or ought to be cognizant of the news. Otherwise they will be blind to realities.

Actually in Washington government officials and legislators can get from newspapers all the news which the government does not itself control and suppress. And they can get it from the newspapers quicker and more fully than they can from their own agents, from ambassadors down. Which means that government officials and legislators in Washington are thoroughly informed on the news of the day.

CONFUSION REIGNS

French officials and legislators in Paris are not. It is turbulent French politics that today casts off a government to which a few days ago it gave a vote of confidence.

This instability of French politicians may be traced partly to the lack of authentic, unbiased news in the Paris newspapers. Even the great French news agency which should serve news without bias is itself subsidized by the French government.

Obviously it must serve its master.

* * *

Only in recent years have the best of the Paris newspapers come to rely upon the English and American news agencies for accuracy and impartiality. This shows a determination on their part to do the best they can in spite of meager incomes.

But there is no evidence that their efforts have been effective in broadening the intelligence of French politicians.

Adequate rejoiners to criticisms of newspapers never have been effectively publicized. Speeches were made attacking them. The newspapers usually printed them without comment. Books were written decrying nearly everything about newspapers, especially their capitalistic leanings. The newspapers dispassionately reviewed them and printed advertisements that sold the books. And so it went.

SELF-CRITICISM

There were, however, valid criticisms of the way newspapers functioned in the first 50 years of this century. But they were more constructively expressed by newspapermen among themselves than by the public.

What the critics overlooked was that the very newspapers to which they pointed as being properly edited were themselves in existence solely because their publishers found adequate reader clientele to serve with the fare the publishers held to be right and proper.

In other words, they pleased their readers. It could not be otherwise. Whatever their readers wanted, that is what each and every prosperous newspaper without any exception gave them, and properly so, for the newspapers were not masters of the people. In a free country they well might never try to be!

And that may be the answer to the thoughtless, provocative statement that the newspapers should not cater to the tastes of their readers.

As if the newspapers in a democracy should strive to supplant the position of responsibility for education and morality that the schools, the church, and above all the home and parenthood so rightfully should exercise.

All things considered, the first 50 years of this century justified far more pride over newspaper accomplishments than disappointments over defects. For, whatever the faults, no thoughtful, informed person could deny that through their newspapers the American people had available a far larger and more truthful supply of information on affairs of all kinds than any other people on earth.

Freedom of the press had made it possible for the newspapers to function here on behalf of the people more successfully than anywhere else.

In peacetime, for more than a century, there had been no arbitrary intervention by government in their right to print what they pleased. They operated entirely on their own responsibility.

The right of the individual to know was coordinated with the right of his newspaper to tell him all the news, except what the government was guilty of withholding and suppressing.

Book Review

Former AP Head Traces Battle

Gives Factual Account of Long Controversy Over Suppression

By GEMMA STRIFFLER

"The Right to Know" by Kent Cooper

Kent Cooper has continued his fight for freedom of the press . . . or, as he puts it, the people's Right to Know.

Kent Cooper, who served 45 years with the Associated Press, in his new book, "The Right to Know," has written a forceful, factual treatise on the evils of news suppression and propaganda.

He traces the history of news expression and communication from pre-historic pictographs through modern-day printing presses to present day propaganda.

The Right to Know is only curiosity . . . a very human trait, he says, and governments would do well to realize that confidence and loyalty can thrive only where individuals are given the Right to Know. Patriotism cannot be built up when bad propaganda is offered (which can also be suppression of the truth, otherwise known as censorship.)

* * *

He cites the Zengers as launching the fight back in 1735; then the revolt against the Sedition Act under President Adams.

Edward Kennedy, who broke the story of the signing of the 1945 Armistice in France, was another brave soul who fought against suppression of the truth. Mothers and wives were waiting prayerfully for bullets to stop whining. But Uncle Joe wanted to stage things his own way in Berlin. And the other rulers were letting their people wait for the good news.

* * *

Edward Kennedy, who saw the papers signed, couldn't see it that way, and he got his story out. Anxious hearts started beating again.

However, there are two sides to the story. The reporter had ignored his pledge. He lost his job. But the author makes it quite plain which side he was on.

Today, readers rely on news in, and not views of, newspapers; and such news must be objective and unhampered. Mr. Cooper is most emphatic on this subject.

Government propaganda (and government censorship) can be very insidious; sometimes guileless, sometimes even tactful, but always to be watched.

Wise readers will study editorials for warnings.

Dubinsky Sees Labor Raising $3 Million

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — David Dubinsky expects the labor movement to raise some three million dollars for political purposes this year with more than half a million coming from his own International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

* * *

Dubinsky, president of the ILGWU, told the union's triennial convention yesterday he believes both major political parties will spend at least 30 million dollars on the presidential campaign.

The Republican outlay alone may reach that figure, the labor leader said.

He rapped those who attack unions' role in raising political funds and said the amount contributed by union members is small compared with that raised from other sources.

* * *

The convention earlier adopted a resolution calling on the 440,000 ILGWU members to make voluntary contributions to the union's campaign fund to insure a "liberal victory" in the November elections.

Keeps Extra Change; Now Held for Theft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has ruled that a 31-year-old Los Angeles man must stand trial on grand theft charges which accuse him of keeping $227 too much change.

* * *

Claude Parker, 31, cashed a check in payment for car repairs. However, cashier Velta Graham mistook the date of the check, 4-11-56, for the amount, and gave him change from $411.56, or $227 too much.

When the error was discovered Parker refused to refund the overpayment, it was charged yesterday.

Long Service Employes Will Be Honored by City

Forty retired and long-service city employes will be feted tonight at the second annual Employe Award banquet to be held in their honor at the Elks Temple, 144 Orchard Lake Ave. The banquet will begin at 6:30.

Honored will be 15 employes who have reached 15 years service since the last banquet held Dec. 17, 1952. These employes will receive gold pins.

To receive gold pins will be some 25 employes who have retired since 1952 and those who have worked 30 or more years for the city.

The awards will be presented by Mayor William W. Donaldson. Other members of the City Commission and top city officials are expected to be present to honor the employes.

Toastmaster will be Pontiac Chamber of Commerce President John W. Hirlinger. Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will deliver the after-dinner address.

Expected to attend will be Fire Chief John F. Schroeder who is still active with 44 years service.

Special guests of the city will be city employes who have retired since the city retirement plan's inception and those with 15 or more years service.

Adopts Higher Budget

EAST LANSING (AP) — The East Lansing City Council has adopted a budget of $789,998 and a tax rate of $18.80 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation for the coming fiscal year. The budget is $103,215 more than last year and the tax rate is up $1.40 per thousand.

Appearance by Wife Hikes Husband's Fine

TULSA, Okla. (AP)— A 39-year-old Tulsa man's assault and battery fine was hiked in Municipal Court when his wife showed up — even though she was a silent witness.

* * *

After fining Claude Harrell $10 and costs, Judge James P. Goeppinger looked around the courtroom and saw a woman with black eyes and bruised face.

"Is this the defendant's wife?" he asked.

Informed it was, the judge said: "The sentence is changed to a fine of $100 and 30 days in jail."

Over Protests of Many Present

Board Acts to Bring Issue to Referendum; Petitions Asked

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Township Board, in special meeting last night, unanimously approved a proposal to rezone 244 acres in the southwest section of the township, to make way for a $5,500,000 race track and sports arena.

* * *

The proposal was passed over the protest of many of those present in the crowded town hall. However, it was pointed out immediately that it is the prerogative of those opposed to petition for a referendum.

LABEL CONTROVERSIAL

Fred Westlake and Mrs. Elise Avery, trustees, who made and supported the motion, stated that the issue is clearly a controversial one in the township, and that it is the desire of the board to bring it to a referendum.

"Unless the board takes some action, this cannot come to a vote," said Mrs. Avery, "and I think it is up to the people to decide this issue."

Westlake said, "No matter how we vote, a lot of people are going to think we voted the wrong way. The people themselves should make the decision."

* * *

The board, snarled last week in legal technicalities depended upon Judge Arthur E. Moore of Pontiac to answer legal questions tossed at them by a well prepared citizenry.

All present were given an opportunity to be heard by Ward Eagle, township supervisor.

"The township board is open minded," Eagle said, "we want to do the will of the people—we are not trying to railroad anything through."

Judge Moore was asked how soon petitions would be available for a referendum. He replied that they should be ready this week.

City Is Studying Ambulance Law

Funeral Directors Aid Police, Commissioners With Ordinance

A revised and proposed ambulance ordinance for the city was presented to the City Commission last night for first reading.

A mayor-appointed committee of three commissioners met with fu- and members of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee to study certain portions of the original ordinance needing revisions according to the directors.

The ordinance is for the protection of injured persons upon the highways of the city and to protect them in their removal from the place of accident to the hospital.

It will require at least one attendant in the ambulance with a certificate of fitness issued after completion of the advanced Red Cross first aid course.

The certificate will be issued by the Director of Public Health. The department will also issue another certificate showing the emergency vehicle contained the proper first aid equipment.

Under the proposed law, any violators will be subject to a $100 fine or 90 days or both.

Ninety days will be given to persons affected by the ordinance to comply with the provisions.

Suffers Heart Attack While Setting Pins

Efforts by a fire department inhalator crew failed to revive John W. Sebastian, 141½ Oakland Ave. He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 7:15 p.m.

All are welcome to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. George West and committee.

Walled Lake

Open house in both the junior and senior high schools is the program planned for the Thursday meeting of the PTA. Teachers have been asked to have the work of the students on display in the rooms so that parents may see what their youngsters are doing. These are to feature daily work examples.

Because there will be no general meeting, officers for the coming year were installed at the April meeting.

In a candlelight service Mrs. Edward Johnson installed Mrs. Owen Clevering, president; Mrs. Olavi Wahamaki, mother vice president; Virgil Slinker, father vice president; Richard Miller and William Eary, teacher vice presidents; Mrs. Robert Hines, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul De Podesta, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Kay Taylor, treasurer.

Webber PTA is having a hard time getting its officers installed. Saturday's meeting was postponed because last Wednesday's rain invaded the meeting room and PTA members were recruited for clean-up detail.

The meeting — with the original program as planned — will be held at 8 tonight at the school.

Veteran Officer Cited by League

David Gilpin Awarded Tribute for Top Record by Citizens' Group

At the annual meeting last night in Birmingham Community House of the Oakland County Citizens' League, former Pontiac police officer David Y. Gilpin was awarded the League's annual tribute for outstanding service to the county.

Gilpin, 56, who served 27 years with the department before his retirement last year, was honored for his part in breaking up numbers racket gambling in the county in 1944-1949.

He headed the vice squad for eight years, during which he received civic praise for his handling of numbers racketeers and was instrumental in obtaining a grand jury investigation.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, guest speaker at the meeting, advocated formation of a county safety council with full-time salaried staff workers and a voluntary executive baord.

Childs said Oakland County has the second largest traffice death record in the state, and leads in rural highway deaths.

League directors re-elected to three-year terms were Frank Chapmann of Avon Township; Henry S. Booth, of Bloomfield Hills; and Mrs. Edwin V. Clarke, of Birmingham.

New directors elected to three-year terms were Gerald McNieve, of Watrford Township; Mrs. Donald N. Bckn of Birmingham; and Edward N. Nakfoor, of 59 Monroe St.

Directors elected to fill unexpired terms were Mrs. Arthur Griswold, of Bloomfield Township; E. R. Pettingill, of Clarkston; Kenneth Youel, of Bloomfield Hills, and William McClellan, of Oakland Township.

Warren Protesting Detroit's Airport

WARREN TOWNSHIP — Township officials here have called a second mass meeting protesting the building of an airport in Warren by Detroit.

The meeting, to be held at 8 tonight at Fitzgerald School, will have as its speakers Frank E. Runey, chairman of the Tri-County Civic Association, and Paul K Cousino, superintendent of Warren schools.

Patrick F. Rulle, Royal Oak's airport representative has urged Royal Oak residents to attend. Ruelle said this morning that similar meetings will follow in Royal Oak, Hazel Park and Madison Heights.

Detroit owns the Warren Airport and the 74 acres surrounding it between 13-Mile and 14-Mile Rds., and is now seeking to have the adjacent land condemned for the purpose of building a major airport.

Plan Senior Air Patrol in Lake Orion Area

LAKE ORION — The senior cadets of the Civil Air Patrol will meet at 8 tonight at Allen's Airport to name officers and organize a Senior Air Patrol in the "18 and over" age group.

CAP cadets in the 15-18 age bracket are planning an expedition to Selfridge Air Force Base Sunday.

A headline in the Pontiac Press March 10 erroneously stated that Hayward had been jailed.

Asks Condemnation of Three City Homes

In three suits filed yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court, County Health Officer Dr. John D. Monroe asks court orders for the condemnation and emolishing of three Pontiac houses.

A suit against Fred Anderson, 648 Franklin Rd., charges his house is "a dangerous and serious menace to the neighborhood," and "subverts the public peac, health, welfare and safety."

Dr. Monroe said he ordered Anderson to demolish the house in October, 1953.

Similar charges were made against Mrs. Fanny Hammond, owner of a structure at 74 Virginia Ave., and against the estate of the late Mrs. Joel Piche of Lansing, owner of a house at 90 Peach St. also condemned in October, 1953.

Waterford Area Book Club Holds Birthday Party

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Some of the forty women who gathered at Haven Hill Lodge for the luncheon which celebrated the birthday of The Book Review Club Monday were original members of that organization.

Ten years ago a small group of these women met to talk about establishing a township library. Shortly after library facilities were set up in the CAI Building, the group began having monthly meetings with a dual purpose in mind —to stimulate interest in the library and to raise funds for it.

An informal organization is the Book Review Club with membership open to anyone in the township who is interested in good books.

Mrs. Ralph Eaton is the present chairman; Mrs. Francis L. Kinkle, treasurer; and Mrs. George A. Dean, publicity chairman. On the program committee are Mrs. William A. Shunck, Mrs. John Maz, Mrs. William H. Vann, and Mrs. Leland Bunyan.

Barnard Dinner Plans Complete

Troy to Honor Former Township Supervisor at Thursday Banquet

TROY — Plans are complete for Norman Barnard Day tomorrow, when the City of Troy will fete its longtime city official with a public dinner at Troy High School.

Barnard, who was city manager after the city's incorporation last year and previously had been township supervisor, has become the clerk of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

He continues to live in Troy.

Special speaker at the dinner, set for 6:30 p.m. will be Judge Clark Adams of Pontiac.

City officials are planning the event in Barnard's honor.

Troy Rejects Factory Plan

Board Okays Plans for Dry Cleaning; Studies Others

TROY—Board of Appeals members last night denied approval to plans for a factory on a less than two-acre site here and for a used car lot.

Go-ahead was given to a dry cleaning plant and requests for permission to build a mushroom house and homes with a new three-ply construction of relatively low grade wood were taken under advisement.

The city engineer is studying the home construction method proposed by the John Barling Construction Company of Waterford for a group of home.

The city attorney will decide whether William Baker's five acres, where he wants to build a mushroom house with possibly three stories, is now zoned agricultural. Then at next month's meeting the appeals board will decide on whether mushroom growing in such a structure is agricultural.

Chester F. Mally of Ferndale must have two acres for his factory because parking land is also need, the board ruled. He wished to build on Stevenson south of 15 Mile.

If Maney L. Elrod wishes to establish a used car lot at Rochester and 19 Mile, he will have to call a public hearing at his own expense, the board ruled.

F. B. Visner's alterations of his tool shop front would be too slight to increase business, the board ruled as they approved it.

Annual Dinner May 24

Leaders Suspenseful as Silver Awards Due

An element of suspense hangs over Clinton Valley Council Boy Scout leaders until the annual dinner meeting May 24 when presentation of three Silver Beaver awards will be made.

Top honor a council can bestow upon a Scout leader for service to his unit, the district for service council, the names of those chosen to receive this award are kept secret until the men are called out during a ceremony.

William P. Pascher of Gingellville last year began to dress up this ceremony by using an elaborate archway, flags, spotlights and built-up suspense. The selection committee for this year's recipients of the award included Ted Pearson of Oxford, Manito District; Louis Gilson of Farmington, Ottawa District; Ralph Forman of Pontiac, Pontiac District; and Martin Schwark of Mt. Clemens, Macomb District.

WILLIAM PASCHER

A long term of service to Scouting is a major point in selection of leaders to receive the award. The National Council limits the number of awards to a quota based on the size of the local council.

Past Council Presidents Mason Case of Rochester and Ralph Bennett of Mt. Clemens, program cochairmen, said the Silver Beaver awards will be made during a ceremony following the annual dinner which will begin at 6:45 p.m. May 24 in Pontiac Motor Division's Engineering Building, Pontiac.

5 File for Avondale School Board Posts

AVON TOWNSHIP — Five candidates have filed to have their names placed on the ballot for the Avondale School Board election June 11.

'If You Slow Down, You Might Get Lonely'

Widow of Speedway Ace Races With Life

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Cathleen "Boots" Shaw — widow of the late Indianapolis Speedway hero, Wilbur Shaw — is a woman who speeds through life as if she were out to win a trophy.

She wants it that way, needs it that way.

• • •

"If you slow down, you might get lonely. So you say yes to everything anybody suggests that you do, and then pray that somehow you'll get it done."

Boots is a small, pretty woman with hair the color of dark molasses taffy and a wide colleen kind of a smile. A fine recommendation for the theory that keeping busy is the answer for keeping young. She is 47, but the last two decades don't show.

"I never had a chance to slow down when Wilbur was alive," she muses, tenderly and not unhappily. "From the first time I went out with him and he drove me 90 miles an hour and said I might as well get used to riding like that because I'd be doing it the rest of my life.

• • •

"Lots of people have asked me whether I was nervous when he was driving in races, in those days. I was never aware of being nervous or liking or disliking it. I was in love. You don't think much when you're in love."

IN THE BACKGROUND

Until her husband (three times winner of the Indianapolis race) died in a plane crash less than two years ago, Boots remained quietly in the background.

• • •

"I lived in reflected glory and was very happy to. The wife of a famous man, especially a man who lived constantly in high gear, has one job — to keep things running smoothly, keep the wheels oiled."

Then the tragedy happened and suddenly she and their son, Bill, now 10, were on their own.

"I started running," she says, "to keep from feeling sorry for myself, and maybe part of it was trying to keep up the Wilbur Shaw speed record. As one of our best friends said the other day, 'You know what, Boots? I think some of that Shaw must have rubbed off on you'."

• • •

Besides taking care of Bill, Mrs. Shaw has taken on a daily radio show at breakfast time. She also manages and hostesses a big, booming restaurant in downtown Indianapolis called "Wilbur Shaw's 500 Club" (for the 500-mile race).

WORK WAITING

In the evenings, after the diners are comfortably settled over their steaks and chops in her dimly lighted club, Boots goes home to roost over a little more work.

• • •

"The nights are simple," she says. "I go home, I cook dinner, and until 9 o'clock, Bill and I study his homework."

And each year, because it's been tradition with the Wilbur Shaws, Boots will continue to give "kick-your-shoes-off" parties on the big night of the big race.

Whether or not Boots and Bill will go on as a duo, or whether she will marry again, nobody knows. Least of all Boots, herself. But she's keeping an open mind on the matter.

• • •

"I don't think anyone who's been happily married, as I was for more than 26 years, can ever be completely happy living alone. Right now, we're in the business of keeping busy, Bill and I," she smiles. "But someday perhaps we ought to be a family again."

Now TV has been blamed for stuttering. A schoolmistress at Barnsley, England, thinks that overtiredness caused by late-night viewing is causing her students to stutter.

Lizard, If Touched, Runs Out of Skin

HONOLULU—A little brown lizard, a gecko, that lives in ntaive houses on the Palau Islands in the Pacific Ocean, can get out of its own skin. It is almost impossible to capture by hand. Like certain other lizards, it sheds its tail when grabbed by it. But as soon as a hand is laid on its body it literally runs out of its entire skin, leaving its would-be captor holding the empty skin.

Nuclear Plants Heavily Insured

AEC Chief Sees Need of Additional Indemnity Against Unusual Loss

WASHINGTON (INS) — Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has disclosed that commercial companies have offered to insure each atomic power plant for 65 million dollars.

* * *

Strauss told the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee that this is about four times as much as any public liability policy ever issued for any single American industrial plant.

But, he added, most atomic energy industry representatives feel it is not sufficient to provide "adequate protection against the possibility of catastrophic accidents."

Therefore, Strauss urged the enactment of legislation to furnish government indemnity or reinsurance against unusual losses.

The AEC head said the likelihood of a catastrophic accident is remote. He termed the probability of even major accidents "very unlikely."

Pension Funds Have Source for Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Rains (D-La) said today the time is about ripe to talk about channeling to home building some of the billions of dollars accumulating in pension funds.

Rains is chairman of the House Banking subcommittee on housing. This group has reported building funds begin to dry up whenever more than about 1,200,000 housing starts are made in any one year. The Banking Committee yesterday heard testimony that at least two million starts a year are needed.

"We have to interest the big pension funds," Rains said in an interview. The subcommittee, he said, already has put out feelers and is encouraged by what it has found. It estimates at 15 to 20 billion dollars the total assets of such funds.

Rains said he thinks fund managers should be interested in reinvesting some of their assets in government-guaranteed mortgages because of attractive yield.

Strict Traffic Enforcement Cuts Road Fatalities

CHICAGO (INS) — A Chicago insurance executive reports that "get-tough" drives on traffic violations will spread to all 48 states within the next 18 months.

* * *

James S. Kemper, chairman of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, said his belief is based on letters he has received from 28 governors expressing their interest in stricter law enforcement.

Kemper told policyholders at an annual meeting:

"We have conclusive evidence that strict and impartial enforcement of realistic laws will save lives and result in a reduction of automobile insurance costs . . .

* * *

"Along with Chicago, cities such as Atlanta, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Memphis, Tenn., Miami, Norfolk, Va., Portland, Ore., San Francisco, San Diego, Calif., and Seattle have reduced their traffic death rates from 40 to 80 per cent through stepped up traffic law enforcement."

All Are Welcome!

Yes, Virginia, There Is a U.S. Senate—Also

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yes Virginia, there is a U. S. Senate.

It's still on the job, talking, arguing, passing laws.

* * *

You may need this reassurance if you have just latched on to that fancy new government publication: "The Capitol in Story and Pictures."

Wonderful pictures of the Capitol in its early days, Historic shots of presidential inaugurations, of presidents and foreign bigwigs addressing joint sessions of Congress in the House chamber.

FINE SHOTS

Possibly a dozen pictures in which you may recognize Sam Rayburn, who has been speaker of the House longer than any man in history. Another half dozen in which you can spot his counterpart, Joe Martin, speaker when the Republicans are at bat.

Fine shots of 41 of the 47 men who have become speakers. Wonderfully detailed pictures of House committees in action, of the Library of Congress.

NO NAMES

But nowhere in all these 80 pages is there a picture identifying a senator by name. Only a discerning eye can pick out any senators at all, lurking like fugitives in the background.

* * *

Actually, Virginia, this was no attempt to slight senators. Their absence is a further illustration of how Congress works, with the House and Senate each serenely going its own way and acting, publicly as if the other body didn't exist.

HOUSE PUBLICATION

This is a House publication, dreamed up and put together by House members, and its chief dreamer, Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex), explained today:

"I wouldn't presume to try to put senators in a House publication. You know how it is around here. Of course, I will say I hope that the senators like it so well they'll decide to join us so the magazine will be complete."

* * *

Order New MSU Vote

EAST LANSING (AP)—The student government elections committee at Michigan State University has ordered a new election for senior class president. Barry Grant of Detroit, the losing candidate, charged there were instances of illegal voting and students casting more than one ballot. Pat Wilson, the football quarterback from Lapeer, was named class president in the first ballot count.

Wisk

The instant Wisk hits water, it bursts into millions of wet, live, liquid suds, liquid suds with concentrated washing power that get out dirt and stains dry, lazy, powder suds can't even budge.

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

LIQUID MIRACLE! WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash!

New, blue WISK is different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washer. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics — safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, but thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is! It does away with "washday hay fever"... with clumsy, soggy boxes . . . with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with all those boxes and bottles you used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used — not just as good, but the BEST! — we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage!

THOSE GOOD (?) OLD DAYS

In 1928, the average grocery store handled about 870 products — today the number's closer to 5,000, with new ones coming along every day. Twenty-five years ago you could choose from about 24 kinds of canned fruit, today there are roughly 140. Flour mixes have multiplied by six since 1928 . . . cereals from 16 to 90, and those new items (all in the last 25 years) such as frozen foods, baby foods, paper products, health aids and toiletries, are helping better our way of life. Times HAVE changed, and all for the better. Wonder how it will be in 1976? No matter what the products are, this much I'll bet on, if we gals want it, National will handle it.

"Can there be a difference between two similar cuts of beef when both are U. S. Government inspected and graded 'Choice'?" Emphatically YES! Let's compare two standing rib roasts, both "Choice" and one of them to be found at your National Food Store.

1st prize

First, FAT: National's rib roast has less fat due to National Value Way Trim. Notice, too, the fine marbling, of fat (due to scientific corn feeding) throughout the meat to give it the tenderness and succulent flavor we demand in a rib roast.

Second, BONES: Compare the length. No National rib roast bones are over 7-inches long, or more than 5-ribs in size. The 6th and 7th ribs will be found in the lower priced roasts.

So there IS a difference in "Choice" roasts. At National you are not paying for wasted fat . . . or useless bones! You pay for edible meat, full of the savoury goodness only corn-fed beef will bring to your table.

Yours for satisfaction,

Betty Natso

THIS IS IT — Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowski, left, director of the University Hospital at Ann Arbor, and Dr. Albert C. Furstenberg, dean of the Medical School, look at a model of the new Medical Center to be built in Ann Arbor. The University has embarked on the first of two programs that will bring the associated medical sciences into close proximity with University Hospital.

First Unit Costs $8,500,000

UM Planning $16 Million Ann Arbor Medical Center

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Science is ending a long, wasteful divorce at the University of Michigan. The reconciliation will cost a lot of money, but doctors are sure it's worth it.

* * *

The university has embarked on the first of two programs that will bring the associated medical sciences into close proximity with University Hospital. First unit cost is $8,500,000.

It will provide, not only better teaching facilities, but better research and laboratory cooperation with the working doctor and the clinical staff

* * *

"In the past," he explains, "the tendency in medical education has been to divorce the basic sciences from the clinical side.

"We believe that it is important to bring our basic science teachers in close association with the clinical departments. It will be best for all concerned when they can work shoulder to shoulder."

JUST PART OF IT

The first step is part of a $16,000,000 program. It will move the administration of the medical school and the departments of biochemistry, pathology, nursing and pharmacology into an area immediately behind University Hospital.

Looking to the future, the buildings may be hooked by built in conduits to a television system which will cover the entire medical plant. This will allow anyone interested in various departments to watch operations and experiments via closed circuit TV, instead of jamming a single auditorium or amphitheater.

Consequently, there'll be no amphitheaters in the new three-building unit. They will include however, fully-equipped laboratories, classrooms and specimen rooms for experimental animals.

The two smaller buildings will house the schools of nursing and pathology, while the other units will be placed in the larger of the three buildings.

* * *

The entire center will be connected to the hospital, so that patients can be taken anywhere for treatment.

The second unit, to be built sometime in the future, would house anatomy, bacteriology, physiology and other basic sciences.

Ike Captures Nebraska Vote

Outbids Sen. Kefauver by Nearly 2-1 Edge in Preferential Primary

OMAHA (AP) — President Eisenhower outscored Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) nearly 2-1 yesterday on the basis of still incomplete returns from a Nebraska presidential preference primary election.

It was about par for Nebraska's political course, and Democrats looking for signs of a rural revolt against administration farm policies got little cause for encouragement here.

* * *

Unofficial returns from 1,383 of 2,127 precincts gave Eisenhower 57,921, Kefauver 32,019. In percentages, that's about 64 to 36.

EDGE MAINTAINED

In the 1952 Nebraska primary, Republican balloters outnumbered Democrats about 65-35. Two years ago the GOP margin swelled to 67-33.

Write-ins for Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman siphoned some votes from Kefauver but only a sprinkling of write-ins showed up on the Republican side.

Most observers figured that farm discontent, if strong enough in the state, might show in a switch from Republican to Democratic ballots. Party line crossing at the polling place was permissible in all except the 13 cities of 7,000 or more.

* * *

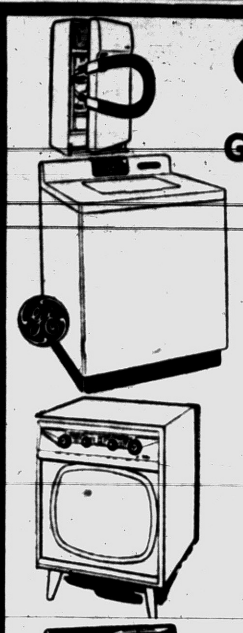

No campaign to encourage ballot switching ever developed, however, and leaders of both parties, including Kefauver's backers, had predicted the outcome would signify little.

Italian olive-oil production of 1955 dropped to an estimated 165,000 tons, smaller than in any year since 1948 and just half the 1954 output.

Noted Attorney Dies

PLYMOUTH (AP) — Claude H. Buzzard, 64, general attorney for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad in Michigan, died yesterday at home. He was a former city attorney here.

"Sausages in 1881 were much better than they are now," said Britain's Lord Chief Justice. "I can just remember them."

Contest Glorifies the Homemaker

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There were interesting "doings" last week in Daytona Beach, Fla. Forty-nine prize-winning housewives, one from each state and one from the District of Columbia, competed for the title "Mrs. America."

* * *

Each of these cooking marvels, chosen to represent her native state, together with her husband took up living quarters in individual villas along "Mrs. America drive" in Ellinor Village.

They carried on typical household chores and homemaking duties in their individual villas for an entire week of competition.

During each day for a week of the homemaking competition the contestants engaged in a set of daily cooking, sewing, ironing and other housekeeping chores. Breakfast was judged one morning while a refrigerated luncheon was judged in the respective villas another afternoon.

* * *

A complete full course dinner was prepared in each household one evening during the week. The judges tasted, sampled and examined the meals of each contestant.

Personal appearance also counts in the final tally of this contest. Iris Davenport, editor of Farm and Ranch magazine, and one of the judges, says that the personal appearance of the homemaker is an important quality in an outstanding housewife because nutrition, cleanliness, and knowledge concerning clothes and beauty care are as important as being able to batter up a delicious stack of pancakes.

Mrs. America contestants are judged on their homemaking ability as well as their personal appearance.

I think that "Mrs. America" week is a most interesting institution. It must stimulate interest in homemaking all over the country and the competing women from different parts of the country have an opportunity to exchange recipes and ideas.

The fact that the contestants actually "keep house" rather than just dish up their favorite recipes, and that their personal appearance also plays a part, adds to the value of this program.

What about you in your own little villa? I am sure that some of you, as well as I, could improve our personal appearance and oil up the wheels of our homemaking to advantage. After all, homemaking is woman's most important job.

Mothers' Club Will Be Headed by Mrs. Dennis

Members of the Boys' Club under the direction of Michael Fiorilla entertained their mothers at dinner Tuesday evening at the Boys' Club.

* * *

At the business meeting, Mrs. Herman Dennis was elected president of the Mothers' Club for the coming year. Others who will serve with her are Mrs. Arthur Longbrake, vice president; Mrs. Lester Christensen, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Lucas, treasurer.

Serving on the board of directors are Mrs. Ralph Weir, Mrs. Lloyd Halpin, Mrs. Walter Peters, Mrs. Kenneth Nichols, Mrs. Delbert Hammett, Mrs. Charles Eaglen, Mrs. Almon Austin and Mrs. Donald McKee.

Mrs. Earl Luchenbach, Mrs. Henry Warren and Mrs. Chester Meger were welcomed as new members.

Typographical Unit Chooses Delegates

Mrs. William Considine was hostess to members of the Pontiac Typographical Auxiliary at her home on Gateway drive Monday evening.

* * *

Mrs. Stanley Hatfield and Mrs. Kenneth Phares were elected delegates to the state convention being held in Detroit in June. Alternates are Mrs. Carl Rieth and Mrs. Donald Parker.

* * *

Plans were made for the dinner to be held June 12 honoring charter members.

Dorothy E. Williams Wed in St. Vincent Ceremony

Honeymooning in Florida are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lawson who were married Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

* * *

The Rev. John F. Tierney of Christ the King Church, Detroit, celebrated the 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass in the presence of 300 guests.

The bride is the former Dorothy Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tonking Williams of East Tennyson avenue. Charles is the son of Mrs. Emma McLean of Walled Lake.

* * *

ATTEND BRIDE

Bridal attendants Lucille Lee Shove and Geraldine Zettell of Royal Oak and Mary A. Drake wore waltz-length gowns of silk shantung in a shade of Madonna blue, with the bouffant skirts featuring Madonna blue tulle. They carried blue lace fans with cymbidium orchids.

Flower girl Saralou Garrison wore a gown of nylon tulle trimmed with bands of lace. Her wide circular collar was edged in lace, and a white satin sash accented the dress. She carried a nosegay of baby pink roses.

John E. Kinville of Detroit was best man, Clarence L. Smith of Grosse Pointe and John T. Kelly seated the guests. Lawrence Morrow and Martin Koenig were acolytes for the ceremony.

A breakfast was served at Rotunda Inn for members of the bridal party and the immediate families. The evening reception was held at the Amvets Hall on Oakland avenue.

The latest fashion in hats is on the decorative side; therefore, simpler eyeglass frames are smartest. Then too, the color of the frames should harmonize.

Should Girl Offer Room to Parents?

Her Beau's Family Will Visit Town for Graduation

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "A young man whom I have been seeing quite steadily for the past year is going to graduate in June. The college to which he goes is in my home town.

"His mother and father are coming here for the exercises. I have never met them. Would it be proper to write and ask them to stay at our house?

"We have a large house and could accommodate them very easily. However, I don't want them to think me forward in doing this."

Answer: Since they are complete strangers to you, I think it would be unwise to invite them to stay at your house, but it would be nice to have your mother invite them to a meal — or possibly several meals — during their stay in your city.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation to the wedding and reception of my boss' son. This was sent to me at home but did not include my wife, and I feel that I should not go without her unless it is usual for business employes to be invited without their wives. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: It is more usual than not to invite employes and not their families. If this is the case, you should not feel that your wife is slighted. On the other hand, if other wives have been invited, you should hesitate to go without her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: It is customary here to keep a register at a funeral home so callers may sign their names and the family be given the record of who came. What shall be done about such names? Is it necessary that they be thanked for their 'visit'?"

Answer: Nothing need be done about them. They are merely kept so that the family can know the names of those who came to show their friendship and sympathy.

Here's the Way to Pack

Packing a travel case need not be a chore. Follow a few basic rules and the worries of wrinkled clothes will disappear into thin air. No matter what style traveling case is used, the packing principles are the same:

1. Don't overload your case, but do pack so that nothing moves around.

* * *

2. Place shoes and heavy things at one end of bottom of bag and cosmetic case at other end of bottom of bag. Stockings, lingerie, blouses should go in the middle. Tuck in the little things like belts around the edges.

3. Suits and dresses are next. Place pleated tissue paper or cleansing tissues in folds to avoid creases.

* * *

4. Night clothes on top for easy accessibility. It's a good idea to bring along a raincoat and umbrella—place them on top also.

* * *

5. Pack light. Plan to wear clothes of the new, lightweight man-made fabrics, all of which weight little, resist wrinkles and hardly ever need ironing.

Mrs. E. J. Lally Jr. (right), president of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, explained a poster to Mrs. William Cellner (left), an intermediate Girl Scout leader in Rochester, and Mrs. Leonard Doub of Square Lake road, a volunteer trainer. Plans for the coming year were presented to the council in chart form. The meeting was held Tuesday evening in the Waterford CAI Building.

New Yorker Addresses Area Volunteers Tuesday

Reports of the past year, plans for the coming one and the Senior Roundup shared equal honors in the annual meeting of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council Tuesday evening.

* * *

Nearly 200 adult volunteers gathered in the Waterford CAI Building to transact council business and to hear Mrs. Richard T. Beckhard of New York City speak on the Senior Roundup, scheduled for the Highland Recreation Area June 29-July 11.

Mrs. Beckhard will direct the camp of 5,000 girls who are coming to the local state park from every one of the United States, from all the territories and from eight foreign countries.

Explaining some of the aims of this first, experimental large-scale camp, Mrs. Beckhard said that repeated demands from the older Scouts was a determining factor. They are anxious to meet and know girls from others states and other parts of the world, she explained.

Using the time-tested patrol system, a feature of both Boy and Girl Scouting, the girls will plan their own programs. They will come together in three large performances which will be open to the public on July 4, 7 and 9.

LONG-TERM EFFECT

Mrs. Beckhard stressed that although a limited number of girls will take part in the actual Roundup, the effects of the training and preparation will have a long-term effect on Girl Scouting all over the country.

Mrs. E. J. Lally Jr., president of the local council, presided at the meeting. Mrs. William Murray and Mrs. William Merrill were in charge of the program.

Scholarship Offer Made by Theater

Fifteen hundred dollars in scholarships for men will be provided by the Cranbrook Summer Theater School for qualified seniors and post-graduate students interested in assisting with the mechanical work in the summer theater and with production.

Scholaship students are furnished all tuition without charge and are given general school privileges without any expense, including the use of the Cranbrook pools.

They participate in weekly and final plays, and under certain conditions may apply for school credit on the payment of a small fee.

Scholarship students may live anywhere in the Detroit metropolitan area, and should apply directly to Carl G. Wonnberger, director of the Cranbrook Summer Theater School.

A Lot of Sewing

Thirty-eight million U. S. women sew at home each year. The fabric they use could drape the earth at the equator 15 times. The pattern envelopes would cover 12,000 miles.

When choosing your hair style one important consideration is often overlooked . . . . HAIR TEXTURE. The lines of a hairdo may be becoming to you but if it doesn't work up well in your hair texture it will not be lasting. For instance most coarse & medium coarse hair stays in place cut short while most fine hair holds a finger wave longer if it is long enough to anchor with a comb or bobby. There is one kind of fine hair which is too limp to hold a finger wave when long. This hair must be shorter. So with all textures there is a best length. If you are having trouble keeping your hairdo from one shampoo to the next your problem may be in the length of it.

Too Much Leisure Proves Boring

By ANNE HEWWOOD

An old sea captain once said: "Leisure, like a kiss, must be stolen to be enjoyed," and I think of that often when the subject of retirement comes up.

We think it will be just divine to have nothing to do—and we find that it's only divine if it's sandwiched in between many activities.

Bertha L. has found that out.

"I was a businesswoman for 35 years," she writes. "It was an okay job, and I didn't mind it too much.

"But there were days when I hated the alarm clock and used to dream of just throwing it out the window and turning over for a nice long snooze. I used to think: 'Someday, when I retire, I'll do just that!'

"Well, I was retired two months ago.

* * *

"I had a fine time the first week—no alarm, plenty of sleep and lazing around. I got the apartment in good shape—never had had time before to do it up brown.

"I got my clothes all organized. I figured my budget, and fortunately I do have enough to live on. I had planned it well through the years.

MOVIES, PLAYS

"I saw the movies I wanted to see, and the plays I'd missed. I signed up for painting lessons and and I saw all the old friends I've always been too busy for.

"But now, let's face it—I'm miserable! Everything is in shape. I'm caught up with everything. I've slept myself out—and I'm bored to death! Last month I took a trip I've always wanted to take, but it wasn't nearly the fun I expected it to be.

"I guess this business of having all the time in the world isn't what it's cracked up to be."

Yes, a life full of leisure is like a menu full of dessert. That may be hard for you to believe this minute, but the day will doubtless come when you will learn it all too well.

* * *

The answer is to plan now against that day. Start now thinking of extra-curricular hobbies or interests which you can develop as you go along.

It's well known that you have to plan financially against your retirement, but remember you also save to plan emotionally and vocationally.

START READING

One good step is to start reading about various job possibilities, and exploring them while you have time.

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I'll send you a list of books on planning for retirement.

Then, when the day comes that you have leisure to burn, you won't have to burn it! You'll be too busy having fun!

Bipartisan Drive Yields $1,163 in Minnesota

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. (AP) — A three-night bipartisan political experiment yielded $1,163.47 after Republicans and Democratic-Farmer-Laborites wound up the campaign "on the other side of the tracks" last night.

* * *

Volunteer workers—mixed politically but working toward a common goal—collected fund sin less-privileged sections of this city of 5,300 in the final night.

Seventy-five per cent of those contacted during the three nights contributed to the fund, which was backed by both parties.

Proceeds of the drive, which continues in early June in Douglas County villages and rural areas, will be divided between the two county party organizations in ratio to the votes cast for president in 1952 and for governor in 1954.

A young widow in a poor section of town told two campaigners, "I've heard about it and I believe in it, but all I can give is 10 cents." Another woman contributed a nickel and four pennies.

Friend Reveals Connelly Loan

KC Businessman Says Lawyer of HST Aide Repaid the $750

ST.LOUIS (AP)—A close friend of former President Truman testified a $750 loan obtained by Truman's former appointments secretary to buy an oil lease was repaid the next day by a tax dodger's lawyer.

* * *

Tom L. Evans, Kansas City businessman, told a federal jury yesterday he loaned the money to Matthew J. Connelly, onetime White House appointments secretary.

He said it was repaid by Harry I. Schwimmer, then attorney for Irvin Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

Connelly, Schwimmer and T. Lamar Caudle, head of the Justice Department's Tax Division under Truman, are on trial on charges they conspired to fix the tax evasion case against Sachs.

* * *

Evans testified Schwimmer said to him on a plane ride to Washington in 1949:

"Tom, I'd like to do something for Matt Connelly. He's been so wonderful and nice to me."

Evans said he replied there was nothing the attorney could do. Schwimmer later suggested buying an oil lease "that would produce about $40 to $50 a month for him."

Evans said he told Schwimmer Connelly would repay the loan but Schwimmer replied: "No, I will repay it. Remember, I want to do a favor for Mr. Connelly."

Parakeet Brings Luck to Doomed Prisoners

CHICAGO (AP)—The 21 prisoners confined to the maximum security wing of the Cook County jail have a new jailbird—a blue parakeet—and regard it as a good luck omen.

* * *

The bird flew through heavy bars into the wing housing the prisoners awaiting death in the electric chair. Later in the day stays of execution were issued for two convicted murders who had been scheduled to be executed this weekend.

8 Victims Marking Cerebral Palsy Month

May, United Cerebral Palsy Month, is being observed quietly by the eight palsy victims attending Special Education classes in Whittier School.

* * *

There eight CP's are learning how to speak, how to stand alone, maybe take the first few steps aided by crutches and braces and finally to walk alone in the two classrooms devoted to Speical Education at Whittier.

In these special rooms are intricate tables and chairs designed for dual purposes—one of which is always to help strengthen muscles.

A bicycle type machine sits in one corner of the room. This machine while giving the idea of play, helps weak muscles develop and grow stronger.

* * *

William Wright, head of the Special Education program in Pontiac and principal of the new Linda Vista School, explains cerebral palsy as a general term for a group of disorders, caused by injury to certain cells in the brain. It is neither contagious nor herediatry.

It can result from faulty development of brain cells before bith, phsyical injury, prolonged high fever, or other causes.

Staff of five works with the young children to teach them how to use their facilities more thoroughly: Ann Lundblad, occupational therapit; Eleanor Trout, physpeech therapist. Two orthopedic teachers, giving lessons to the palsied children are Mrs. Phillip Kinsella and Deolores Smith.

Pontiac Area United Fund dollars, working through the United Cerebral Palsy Association, make possible some of the therapy treatment give these Whittier Students.

Four rooms in the new Linda Vista School will be devoted to the Special Education classes. The group in Whittier hopes to move into the new quarters by September.

CEREBRAL PALSY EXERCISE—Little Bobby Seator, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Seator, 354 Linda Vista, is not only playing a game of dropping beads through a small opening. But as he bends down to get the beads, he accomplishes another object—that of stretching his back leg muscles—necessary in the treatment of cerebral palsy. A first year student in the Special Education rooms at Whittier School, Bobbie is coached by occupational therapist Ann Lundblad.

Gilbert, refusing to disclose the identity of his passenger, said she called him to make the drive to Oakland so she could visit friends.

British Explode Atomic Device

By GORDON TAIT

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Britain exploded an "atomic device" today in a test in the Monte Bello Islands off the coast of west Australia. The test was termed successful but there was no indication of the nature of the device.

* * *

British spokesmen said last month the blast would be detonated on a tower. There have been reports it might be a type of "trigger" for a hydrogen bomb test Britain is expected to hold late this year.

Supply Minister Howard Beale announced that an "atomic device was succesfully exploded" at 1:51 p.m., Eastern Australian Time, and said "all safety precautions are in operation." He added that "scientific records are being collected for accurate evaluation."

BEGAN IN '52

The current series of atomic tests is the third conducted by Britain. The first British atomic blast was set off in the Monte Bellos in 1952. The second test series was carried out at the Woomera rocket range on the Australian mainland in 1953.

An announcement last month said the radioactive fall-out from the third test would be less than occurrd in the 1952 explosion in the island chain.

Reports from the explosion area said the blast sent an atomic cloud soaring high into the air and prevailing winds swept it out over the Indian Ocean, away from the mainland.

Russian Military Cutback Worries U.S. Strategists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's announced decision to cut its military manpower by about 25 per cent has challenged U. S. leadership of the free world at several critical points:

* * *

1. It has increased the difficulties of maintaining Western military strength. Although such a cutback is not likely to affect Russia's capacity for atomic war, the move will almost certainly be regarded in many countries as evidence of peaceful Soviet intentions lessening Western defense needs.

* * *

2. It generates new pressure on the Eisenhower administration to regain the initiative from the Russians through some bold new move. Not all these pressures come from Democratic critics; there apparently is some such concern inside the administration.

* * *

3. The problem of keeping cold war neutrals alert to the dangers of expanding Soviet influence through political and economic infiltration is intensified.

* * *

4. The ground seems to have been cut from under one of this country's strategies for pressuring Russia to agree to the reunification of Germany, and the solution of that outstanding East-West problem therefore becomes more difficult.

NO FIGURES

Concern over these problems apparently motivated the skeptical line taken by administration officials yesterday in discussing Moscow's announcement Monday that military personnel would be reduced by 1,200,000 men. The Soviets never have published figures on their mobilized strength. Western estimates put the figure at about 4½ million.

* * *

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference the proposed cut could not be verified. He summed up his attitude this way:

"I'm merely warning that I believe what has happened can be explained by economic factors and the desire of the Soviet rulers to strengthen their economy in terms of agriculture and industry—perhaps to have more people in the factories which produce modern weapons rather than to have them standing around doing guard duty or training duty in the army."

WILSON COMMENT

Secretary of Defense Wilson said at a later session with newsmen the move seemed to be a "step in the right direction" but that it did not alter materially Russia's real military power.

Wilson said he would not say that the Moscow announcement "means nothing," but that it does not appear to "justify any appreciable change in our present military strength" or in worldwide U. S. military alliances.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess told a Senate subcommittee yesterday the United States plans to maintain armed forces of about 2,850,000 "for the indefinite future."

FORGETS WEST

U. S. officials have commented that the Moscow announcement made no mention of large armed forces cutbacks by Western nations since World War II.

Like Wilson, Dulles said the promised Russian reduction would not warrant at this stage any cutback in Western strength.

Officials conceded the Soviets were making extremely clever use of what was, by most American estimates, an internal necessity.

In a sense the Russians were regarded as converting a weakness into strength by emphasizing the peaceful aspects of a reduction of men under arms when the long-range effect may be to increase their over-all military capacity.

It now appears that the Russians have decided, in preference to joining in a general disarmament system complete with inspections, on a kind of one-sided reduction of military forces. In this way they can keep their atomic weapons under their own control, free of any international strings and promises.

MSU Has New Traffic Safety Unit

EAST LANSING (AP) — You can post signs, limit speeds and pass alws till the cows come home, but safety expert Gordon Scheehe says the real traffic problem begins and ends with the man behind the wheel.

Scheehe, a husky ex-cop, is director of the new traffice safety center at Michigan State University.

He plans to use basic research into "all the things we don't know" as his big weapon in the battle to cut down the mounting highway toll.

"We can't legislate a moral or a frame of mind," says Scheehe, whose 20-year career in the field of traffice safety includes five years as a highway patrolman in his native Vermont.

"We still don't know how to neutralize the great variable in the equation — the driver himself. In this entire nation we haven't even begun to explore this problem.

POLICE THEMSELVES

"Why do people have accidents? What makes us drive the way we do? It's more than just a broken law or slippery pavement."

Scheehe notes the public demand that traffic deaths be cut—but feels that people aren't ready to police themselves.

"It's something of a game," says Scheehe, a onetime professor of police administration in traffic at MSU. "People want a sporting chance against traffic enforcement. They want clearly marked police cars. Some cities even ban radar as not sporting enough."

IT'S NO GAME

It's no game, though, says Scheehe, when you add up the more than 2,000 killed and 60,000 injured in highway accidents last year.

At the traffice safety center, he hopes to find some answers through such projects as a psychophusical clinic to help learn about the so-called accident prone driver.

He also aims at getting more teachers for driving training, information-swap workshops, training of more career men in traffic safety, a library and information service.

The center will draw on sociologists, psychologists and traffice engineers. Its pool of experts will be tapped for avice and informa-for help o natrt syrncount kiao tion when a county or city asks for help on a traffice problem.

"This isn't just an isolated outpost but a total university effort," Scheeh says. "We'll be using experts from other departments and schools. We'll be able to pin down a good deal of information which before has eluded us.

"Suppose next year or 10 years from now, our work begins to show results; we find part of the answers, a pattern begins to appear. Then we'll be able to move!"

$1,000,000 in Losses for Tornado Insurance

NEW YORK (INS) — The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates insurance losses exceeding $1,000,000 were caused in Michigan by last Saturday night's tornadoes.

The board suggested insured property owners in the state who sustained damage make temporary repairs necessary to prevent further damage to buildings or their contents.

The underwriters group said a claims adjustment office was being opened in Flint and that additional adjusters were being sent into other affected areas.

Dorothy Dandridge to Do Two Pictures in Europe

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — With "Island in the Sun," the Alec Waugh best seller, postponed until December at 20th, Dorothy Dandridge has time to make two films in Europe before returning here.

The first job to supply songstress Dandridge with the moola for new mink coats and diamond rings is "Tamango" for French producer Roland Girard.

There has been much talk about George Stevens producing and directing "Andersonville" for Columbia.

George has a month's more work on "Giant," and then he'll be free, but "Andersonville" will take a lot of preparation and won't be ready to film for some months.

TAHITI PREMIERE

Faraway Tahiti has been chosen by Jon Hall for the world premiere of his new telefilm series, "Knight of the South Seas." The proceeds will go to the Elephantiasis Research Fund, with which the French government hopes to stamp out that dread disease in Tahiti.

The premiere coincides with the week long South Seas Olympic Games which start on Bastille Day July 14. Jon's lady love, Linda Danson, is accompanying him to Tahiti where Jon spent most of his boyhood.

The reason she didn't make a picture for so long, Myrna Loy tells me, was because she nevfound a script she liked until "The Ambassador's Daughter."

She and her husband, Howland Sargent, are at the Beverly Hills Hotel. He leaves Thursday, but Myrna remains on to see her mother and friends.

She said when Eddie Arnold went to Paris to make "The Ambassador's Daughter" it was his first trip to Europe and he was so happy all the time he was making the picture.

Myrna, herself, will make some appearances. "Not to go on tour," she said, "but just a few interviews."

Steelworkers Ready Plans for Arbitration

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers will seek a "substantial" wage increase and 21 other contract changes in forthcoming negotiations with 172 basic steel firms.

Highest on the list, besides wages, are a premium pay plan for Saturday and Sunday work and supplemental unemployment benefits. The committee did not put a dollar and cents value on the package.

David J. McDonald, USW president, said he felt the demands were "reasonable" in view of high profits reported by most basic steel producers.

A date for negotiation with basic steel companies has not been set, but union officials said they are hopeful to get contract talks under way by about June 1.

Contracts covering 650,000 union members in the 172 firms expire at midnight June 30. If an agreement is not reached by that time, the union is free to strike.

GOODBYE DETROIT, HELLO CHICAGO—Traded by the Detroit Tigers, Jim Delsing (left) and Fred Hatfield departed for Chicago where they will wear the uniform of the White Sox. In return for the pair the Tigers got utility player Bob Kennedy and infielder Jim Brideweiser. Delsing was part of the Ned Garver-Vic Wertz trade in 1952 and Hatfield came to the Tigers the same year as part of the nine-player trade with Boston.

Four Players Involved in Tiger-Chisox Swap

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Kennedy and Jim Brideweser join the Detroit Tigers today in a two-for-two trade that sent Tiger utility players Jim Delsing and Fred Hatfield to the Chicago White Sox.

The swap yesterday involved four players who have been used sparingly this season. It still leaves the Tigers with three players to cut from the roster before the squad-cutting deadline at midnight. The squad limit is 25.

At 35, Kennedy is one of the oldest players in the American League. He broke into organized baseball in 1937 and performs as a combination infielder-outfielder.

Now in his second tour with the Sox, he has chalked up just one hit in 13 at bats this year. Kennedy played with the Sox for a number of years before he was traded to Cleveland. From there he went to Baltimore, then wound up back in Chicago at the opening of the 1955 season.

Brideweser, 29-year-old utility infielder, had two hits in 11 plate appearances for the Sox. He rose through the New York Yankee farm system and played with the parent club for parts of three seasons. He also put in a stint with Baltimore before moving to the White Sox.

The 30-year-old Delsing was Detroit's regular left fielder last season, but has started only one game this year. He went hitless in 12 times at bat, mostly as a pinch hitter.

Delsing wore the uniforms of the Yankees, St. Louis Browns and White Sox before coming to the Tigers in 1952 in an eight-player deal with the Browns.

* * *

Hatfield, last year's regular second baseman, apparently had lost his job to Reno Bertoia and Buddy Hicks. This season he has collected three hits in 12 tries.

Hatfield entered the majors with the Boston Red Sox in 1950 and came to Detroit in 1952 in a nine-man exchange.

The University of California at Los Angeles, conference football and basketball champion, will admit to a budget of only $54,000 for campus jobs—lowest in the circuit.

Its crosstown neighbor, the University of Southern California, reports expenditures of $100,000 to $130,000 for grants-in-aid (tuition) and campus work.

That $776,000 is the sum spent in accordance with conference rules. Some cash comes from the schools' athletic budgets. Some is contributed by alumni and booster groups, but all the money is handled by the schools.

The University of Washington, slapped with a 2-year probation at an emergency meeting of the conference earlier this month, spent an estimated $97,000 over the school year on its athletes.

Stanford, by contrast, has a heavy tuition schedule and dug up $83,000 in 1954-55 for grants-in-aid.

The cost at Washington State College was reported as $96,500 by Athletic Director Stan Bates, with $71,000 going to the job program. Contributions were $48,000.

Detroiter Rated Masters Threat

Nagy, Dick Hoover of Akron Still Unbeaten in Pin Tourney

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, and Steve Nagy of Detroit—a pair of former match game champions—were the favorites to win the 6th annual American Bowling Congress Masters tournament today when the champion is crowned.

A new champion was assured when Jack Stockdale of Sioux City, Iowa, defeated defending champion Buzz Fazio of Detroit, Mich., last night 811-761. It was Fazio's 2nd defeat in the current tourney.

Stockdale himself was later eliminated by Marvin Lowry of Birmingham, Ala., 806-736.

With only six bowlers left out of a field of 64 in the double elimination tournament, Nagy, who won the all-star match game title in 1955, and Hoover, who won the crown in 1950, are undefeated while the other four bowlers have suffered one loss each.

OK's Track Plan

Farmington Body Approves

* * *

Townspeople and promoters of the track indicated they would circulate petitions calling for a referendum vote on the project. They need about 650 signatures, 10 per cent of the qualified voters.

B. F. Gregoric, former president of the Hazel Park Race Track and one of three men promoting the new track, said the group plans to build a ⅝ mile track, fully enclosed with a 12,000 seating capacity.

* * *

His associates are George S. Kovacs, an industrialist and breeder of harness horses, and Harry Vreeland, of Walled Lake, owner of a harness stable and an area beer distributor.

BOSTON (AP) — A ceremony to commemorate the playing of the first world series on the Huntington Ave. baseball grounds will be held today at Northeastern University.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick will be the speaker at the event at which a plaque will be unveiled. The university now stands where the old ball field was located.

Vickie McKylo Wins Feature at Wolverine

DETROIT (AP)—Vickie McKylo, newly arrived from California, stepped out well on a muddy track to capture the feature pace at Wolverine Harness Raceway last night. She beat Great Water by less than half a length to pay $4.20.

Foytack Lends Tigers Hopes, Wins 6-3

After the husky righthander racked up his second Major League triumph yesterday over the Boston Red Sox, Tighe offered the opinion that "these days" might be just around the corner.

The Detroit Tiger pitching coach saw the 25-year-old Foytack whip the Red Sox 6-3 to avenge a setback he suffered on the recent road trip. Foytack, whose best pitch is a "real live" fast ball, needed help over the last two innings from Steve Gromek, who blanked the Bosox for six straight outs to save the victory.

"All that kid ever needed was confidence," said Tighe in the clubhouse. "He has all the equipment to be a good winning pitcher. His fast ball is far above average, and his curve is OK. But he must believe in himself."

Others of the higher-up Tigers have had less faith in the strong-armed Pennsylvanian. He has been on and off the trading block and has been on the waiver list more than once. Tighe, who was Foytack's manager in the Minor Leagues, never lost faith and argued strongly against any move to dispose of Foytack.

Foytack, who allowed all three Boston runs and seven hits in seven innings, fanned five and walked three. He served up home run pitches to veteran Mickey Vernon and rookie shortstop Don Buddin.

The Tigers sent 23 men to the plate in the first four innings to give Foytack a comfortable lead. They scored once in the second inning on a single and a run-producing double by Reno Bertoia; twice in the 3rd on Wayne Belardi's one-base-hit and Bill Tuttle's 4th home run of the season into the lower deck in centerfield.

Boston starter Willard Nixon, who went into the game with a 12-5 lifetime mark against the Bengals, left in the 4th when Detroit scored twice. All the action came with two out, and Foytack started it himself with a line single over short. Harvey Kuenn and Belardi singled to load the bases, and walks to Al Kaline and Tuttle brought home two more runs.

Kuenn batted across the final run in the 4th after a single by Frank House, a walk to Charlie Maxwell and a fielder's choice. The final run came off young Dave Sisler, son of the great first baseman.

Oh, Happy Day

When Calculators Goof!

The electronic calculators of pari-mutuel ticket sales goofed yesterday to the tune of a $77,134.20 overpayment—so far—to 331 daily double plungers.

* * *

The lucky bettors can thank defective wiring for the lush payoff odds on Violet Rose, returning $7 in the first race, and Mario Tass, an $8.20 winner in the second.

The wiring has been repaired.

Plays Second Round

Second round of play was accomplished yesterday by Silver Lake Golf Club's Women's League, with 32 turning out.

Mrs. Elbert Looney of Pontiac had low gross of 55 and Mrs. Reginald Edwards of Pontiac was low on putts, with 15 for the 9-hole round.

Rain Delays Softball Games Tuesday Night

Tuesday night's scheduled City Softball League program at Beaudette and North Side parks was postponed because of rain.

Tonight's card matches Pontiac Select a Drink-Richard's Tavern and Lunsford Market-Oxbow Pavilion in National division games at Beaudette and Stadium Inn-Bicmar Inn and Royal Bar-Sam Benson in American loop games at North Side. All contests start at 7 and 8:30 p.m.

Win 5th Straight Game

White Sox Bats Go Booming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What's gotten into the Chicago White Sox? All of a sudden they're belting the ball like crazy in support of a pitching staff that takes its lumps but somehow has managed to fashion a five-game winning streak.

* * *

Before the Sox started the fuss they lost seven of nine and any talk of American League pennant contenders stopped with Cleveland, New York and Boston.

Then boom! The Sox began clubbing the ball to make up for some shaky pitching, and now that the mound staff looks to have found itself, the hitters are still at it. In the five games, Chicago has collected 65 hits—an average of 13 a game—including nine doubles, two triples and seven home runs.

* * *

Last night they poked 14 hits off four Washington pitchers and beat the Senators 5-1. Bob Keegan, in his first '56 start, pigeon-holed nine Nat hits. The only Washington run was unearned.

The victory pushed the Sox to within 1½ games of the AL lead, virtually held on a joint basis by Cleveland and New York, who were rained out last night. Baltimore clipped Kansas City 9-5 and Detroit battered Boston 6-3.

In the National, Brooklyn used four unearned runs for a fifth straight victory in a 7-5 decision over St. Louis. Philadelphia, behind ex-Cardinal Stu Miller, beat Milwaukee 3-1 to end a 10-game losing streak. And the New York Giants outlasted the Chicago Cubs 6-4. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were rained out.

* * *

Bob Nieman hit his second homer to get the White Sox started on a two-run second against Chuck Stobbs, then singled to open the fourth as Chicago made it 3-0. An error and doubles by Sherm Lollar and Ron Jackson provided two unearned runs in the fifth for the Sox.

The Orioles scored three in the third and four in the fourth off Lou Kretlow and Ed Burtschy at Kansas City as Jim Wilson won his fourth.

* * *

Milwaukee, in the NL lead by 36 percentage points over St. Louis and only a game ahead of third-place Brooklyn, got a run off Miller in the seventh at Philadelphia, but the little right-hander hung on to win his first complete game since Sept. 15, 1953. Lew Burdette gave only two hits for six innings, but a triple by Jim Greengrass tied it and Willie Jones' single put the Phils into the lead in a two-run seventh.

* * *

Willie Mays and Don Mueller each homered and collected three hits, for five RBIs between them, as Johnny Antonelli hung on to dump the Cubs into the cellar.

PITCHER TAKES A SLIDE — Paul Foytack, Detroit Tiger pitcher, slides back into third after he slipped rounding the base after advancing from second on Wayne Belardi's single against the Boston Red Sox yesterday. Boston third sacker Fran Malzone takes a throw from catcher Sammy White but too late to make the tag. The umpire is Frank Umont. The Tigers won, 6-3, with Foytack the winning pitcher. AP Wirephoto

PHS Intrasquad Meet Is Tuneup for State Test

Pontiac High School track coaches send their charges through a intrasquad meet this afternoon at Wisner Field. The event is designed as a tuneup for the "big one" (MHSAA state championships) at Ann Arbor on Saturday. Chiefs are defending tilists.

Squad has been divided into two groups, balanced as evenly as possible, with "Mr. Big Chief" himself, Hayes Jones and fine 440 man, Jimmy (Sugarcane) Shorter as opposing captains.

A full event card will be run, providing a yardstick for possible performances at Ann Arbor.

Cage Official Ill

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Matthew (Mat) Kennedy, internationally known basketball referee who officiated with the Harlem Globetrotters on their world tours, is critically ill in Nassau Hospital.

Wants Crown Back

Olson Has Two Objectives

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fight experts are pretty well divided but one faction is fairly confident that Carl (Bobo) Olson will accomplish two objectives in his 15-round battle with middleweight champion Ray Robinson at Wrigley Field Friday night.

* * *

Olson's No. 1 target is to win back the crown he lost to the Sugar Man in Chicago last Dec. 9, and the other is to send Robinson back into retirement—permanent this time.

Robinson, who is 35, has intimated that this might be his last bout of a brilliant career.

* * *

Robinson will not say he won't fight another time after Friday's nationally televised match. But the inference is that he will hang up the gloves.

Today both principals went into comparative seclusion. Their hard training is over. All they have to do now is fret and wait for the gong.

WDGA Tourney Off; Rescheduled July 13

Women's District Golf Association's 1st test of the season, set for Pine Lake CC, was abandoned, when the course could not be played in its entirety. Tourney was reset for July 13.

However, the Pine Lake layout is improving rapidly, and with some good weather will be playable all the way within a week.

The club's annual invitational, June 14 through June 17 is already getting a lot of entries and promises to be one the best in the series.

AAU Wins in Court

Lifetime Ban Against Santee Upheld

NEW YORK (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union, which appeared to be buckling under the relentless pressure of the Wes Santee case during the past month, emerged today from the drawn-out legal battle more powerful than ever.

* * *

For Santee, America's greatest miler who took a long gamble by bringing the AAU to court on a legal technicality, it marks the end of the line as a competitor.

In upholding the lifetime ban imposed on Santee by the AAU, Justice Walter A. Lynch of the New York State Supreme Court yesterday minced no words in condemning the gangling Marine Corps lieutenant for openly flouting the AAU's expense rules.

Had Santee won the case, the AAU would have been reduced to nothingness. But the organization, which rules most amateur sports in this country, never has lost a court case challenging its authority—and it probably will be a long time before anyone else brings suit.

* * *

Sante and his Olympic ambitions had little to do with the result. No matter what the outcome, he never would have been certified for the games. Now he can run only against service personnel, where he has met little competition.

* * *

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, seemed lukewarm about taking the case to a higher court. He said:

"I really don't know what we'll do until I talk to Wes."

For his part, Santee admitted for the first time that he did break the rules of the AAU. Heretofore, his case had been based on the contention that the Executive Committee of the AAU did not have authority to bar him and that his case should be turned back to his local Missouri Valley District.

* * *

At the Quantico Marine base, where he is stationed, Santee said that although Justice Lynch accused him of refusing to follow the AAU code, his infractions were committed with the aid of the promoters.

"That's what I've contended all along," he said. "Most of the meet promoters are AAU officials, and these are the ones who okayed any breaking of the rules. Who was I to question my superior officers?"

AAU officials were jubilant at the decision.

Said President Carl Hansen:

"The AAU has been fully vindicated . . . The AAU would have failed in its function had it not acted. After a full and fair court hearing, the accusations made against the AAU were found to be baseless."

Hansen added that the AAU already has launched an investigation into its rules and practices, which could mean sweeping changes. Many outside observers believe the AAU's rules to be outmoded and virtually impossible to follow.

Fight Pilot Hits Writer

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A fight manager, who evidently resented some uncomplimentary stories written about his fighter, struck a sports writer in the dressing room of the Coliseum here Tuesday night.

* * *

Bob Johnson, who writes for the Spokane Chronicle, was cut and bruised about the face and had his glasses broken.

* * *

Dressing room witnesses said the punch was thrown by "Uncle" Chuck Woods, manager of lightweight Bobby Woods.

* * *

Johnson said Manager Woods hit him after complaining that Johnson's pre-game articles in the Chronicle had held down the size of the crowd.

Bobby Woods, who usually calls Spokane his hometown, was upset by Russ Tague of Iowa in a unanimous decision.

Decision for Greaves

WINNIPEG (AP)—Wilf Greaves of Edmonton and Pittsburgh scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Jimmy Perrault of St. Paul, Minn., in the main bout of a professional boxing card here Tuesday night. Both weighed 155.

Here's a memo to the city fathers, the board of education, the students of Pontiac High School and to the townsfolk of Pontiac.

At Ann Arbor Saturday, when Michigan high school trackmen gather for the annual state meet, every Class A team represented will be trying to accomplish something which hasn't been done in 2½ years—to beat the Chiefs of Pontiac.

Probably no other athletic team in history has ever gained for the City of Pontiac the prestige throughout the state and the nation than the powerful aggregation of track stars assembled under Coach Wally Schloerke.

Barring what is often called in athletics "the upset," Pontiac is a sound favorite to successfully defend the state track crown, and the Chiefs could conceivably "walk away" with their 22nd consecutive meet plus the second straight Michigan title.

* * * *

In every event which takes place Saturday, the prep runners of the state will be trying to outrun the young men wearing the orange and black jerseys.

The attention of all the interested spectators will be focused on the Pontiac High team and as it often goes many will be rooting for the underdogs against the favorites.

This adds up to one thing, that is, the need for some moral support from the hometown and that's where the civic leaders of the city should enter the picture.

IT'S A FABULOUS TRACK TEAM

During several recent gatherings of state sportswriters, the conversation quite often turned to the state track meet Saturday and each time the men of the press merely shook their heads wondering just how one team could be so strong in every event.

The Chiefs have moved out of the realm of being a great team and are ready for the notch on the ladder reserved for Michigan's fabulous athletic teams.

Winning the state title again Saturday could put another feather in the cap for the city and the high school.

* * * *

More laurels could go to young Hayes Jones who will get his last chance to crack state records in two events which someday may earn him an Olympic bid.

Jones already owns the state mark in the high hurdles in a time of 14.5, but three times this season including the regionals at Ypsilanti last week he cracked the high posts in 14.3.

In the broad jump, Jones hit 23-3½ in the Saginaw Valley meet this season which is better than the state record of 22-11¾ held by Theodore Tycocki of Lansing Central back in 1936.

* * * *

The 17-year-old Senior could very well do it again for the state meet record book.

Along with Jones, due credit should go to the "Mutt and Jeff" combination in the high jump of Alex Barge and Hudson Ray who tied in the state meet at 6-3½ last year.

* * * *

Bill Douglas is aiming for the 1:59 state mark in the 880 and coach Wally Schloerke has confidence that this might just be the time to do it.

* * * *

Girls Open Tennis Tourney Gets Under Way Thursday

Seeded players from Hamtramck and Kalamazoo, the tennis strongholds of Michigan, are expected to dominate the scene when the Michigan State Open girls tennis championships start Thursday afternoon at Kingswood School, Cranbrook.

Three Hamtramck netters and two from Kalamazoo constitute five of the six seeded performers in the tournament. The top seeded player is Judy Peoples from Gary, Indiana.

Seeded No. 2 is Sue Hodgman of Kalamazoo. Virginia Hesse, Darnella Everson and Phyllis Saganski, all from Hamtramck, are seeded 3rd, 4th and 5th respectively. The 6th seeded netter is Sue Metzger of Kalamazoo.

Nine Oakland County girls are entered in the tourney, including four from Pontiac. Entrants fro Pontiac are Jo Ann Dearing, Claudia Wasik, Saida Tuttle, and Darlyne Gould.

Other area hopefuls are Marjorie Davis, Jane Collister and Sharon Gray, all of Birmingham, Nancy Butson of Rochester, and Carolyn Wolf of Bloomfield Hills. Sixteen girls from host Kingswood are also among the field.

This year's entry list is smaller than 1955, with 49 girls entered compared to 73 a year ago. "The weather may be a factor," said Luella C. Hauser, tourney referee.

More Time for Entries

Tourney Deadline Extended to May 18

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

Additional two days in which to file entries have been given invited high school golf squads, in the 5th annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tournament. Tourney will take place May 28 at Pontiac's municipal course.

Extension was made because a number of schools have not had much practice opportunity to fully evaluate their players. However, Friday, May 18 has been set as the final time for getting in the teams, along with the required MHSAA (form 2) eligibility sheet. Some schools have sent in entries, but failed to include the regular form.

Up to this morning a large entry had been assured. Extension will undoubtedly increase the field to a score or more five-man teams.

Tourney is a medal play test, with boys playing in foursomes, but no team plays as an entity. Draw for places and starting times will be made as soon as the entry closes, and will be published in ample time to acquaint all with their proper spots.

Entries are headed by Birmingham, coached by Joe Borovick. Maples seek their 5th straight title. They set a tourney record last year for the 5-man team at 380 strokes. Only two of the 1955 champions are still on the squad. Maples will lean heavily on Captain Tim Baldwin and Mike Conroy, both good shooters.

Currently, Waterford's Skippers promise to make it rather hot for the defending titlists. Pete Everett's quintet grabbed the recent Flint MHSAA regional, led by Jack Reynolds' fine 74 as co-medalist with Ray Puffpaff of Mt. Clemens. Jack appears, on the basis of his season's play, to be a hot candidate for individual honors. Dale Wheeler (80) and John Wettlaufer (80) can also be tough. Maples' Baldwin is also a good prospect.

At least one new school will enter the lists. Clawson, which has hoped to take part, other years, but ran into conflicts, has filed its first entry.

Other schools include:

Bloomfield Hills, led by Bud Badger a sophomore 80 shooter. Brighton, with Larry Piersall (82); Tom Raeside's Fitzgerald high squad; Milford, led by Ed Tovarsky (82); Royal Oak high, Shrine, with 16-year-old Frank Syron (80) following in the footsteps of older brother Lloyd, one-time medalist in this tourney, now a top Notre Dame player; St. Frederick's, led by Dick Doyon (82); Southfield, with Bob Turner (80) one of the better scorers in last year's test. Pontiac, with Tom Cross in the No. 1 spot.

Wehle, who was in New York City yesterday to discuss the project with engineers, said it would cut the cost of stocking fish from the present $1.47 a pound to 50 cents or less.

The others are Amelia Renkel and Marge Slogar. The three women have formed a 300 Ladies Club. New members are scarce.

Entry of 825 Dogs Listed for OCKC Show May 20

Led by a list of 63 rough collies, as leading breed, Oakland County Kennel Club's annual all-breed, benched show and obedience trial will take place Sunday at the Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 W. Eight Mile road.

An entry of 825 dogs has been recieved, the Bow Dog Shor organization (conducting the affair) reports. This is a somewhat lower list than a year ago, but only slightly under the 1955 figures.

One of the show's highlights will be presentation of the annual "hero dog." A panel of veteran newspaper dog writer will announce its selection Thursday.

In the various groups, the show officials reported 233 in the sporting dog division; 73 hounds, with some unusual breeds such as the Afghan, Basenji, Borzoi and Norwegian elk hound; 260 working dog entries; 53 terriers; 48 toys; 91 non-sporting dogs and 63 in the obedience class.

Tough Rodent Makes Vicious Attack on Man

MIO — When it comes to stories of vicious animals, the villian usually is a bear, a wolf or a bobcat, but an exceptional black squirrel recently showed an amazing amount of nastiness.

The squirrel leaped from a tree onto the shoulder of Al Snyder, 83-year-old resident of Luzerne, and immediately started clawing him. Snyder was bitten twice on the hand before he could grab the animal and throw him to the ground.

Feeblest in Years

Rainbow Fishing Still 'Away Off'

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

Michigan fishermen are not the only ones who have had to make the best of mighty poor spring weather. Smith Falconer, who hails from the land of the heather, and who subscribes to his home town newspaper, reports that Scotland's trout and salmon fishermen have had a lot of rain and sub-normal temperatures.

PATTERSON

Rainbow fishing, or more particularly the lack of it, continues to keep fishermen and conservationists guessing. Over-fishing in years past, lampreys, cold stream temperatures are some factors which are mentioned as limiting spawning runs. Whatever the reason, this season's rainbow run has been the feeblest in years.

Some fishermen, uninterested in statistics, go out and catch goodly rainbows nonetheless. Case in point is Walter Krause, who recently forced the Little Manistee to yield rainbows of 18, 24 and 26 inches in length. The biggest was a hefty seven and one-half pounds.

It is important to note that in each of the three instances the fish caught was the only one taken in the area. Maybe Walt is as good a fisherman as he says he is. We might add that he uses a rather unusual bait.

* * *

Although sworn to secrecy on the subject, and unable to pass it along, we can say that this bait is the kind of thing a good trout fisherman might stumble across if he gave the matter some thought.

Local lake rainbow fishing moves along in fits and starts. Last Friday morning, for example, before the hurricanes, typhoons, williwaws and one thing and another that made the weekend one to remember, got under way, some nice catches were taken from Orchard Lake. Nothing huge, but 13-15 inch stuff. The fishing died with the rising wind.

Spring has come at last to the Laurentian Shield region. Canadian bound fishermen can relax in the knowledge that the pack horses of the mid-twentieth century—the Norsemen, the Cessnas, the SeeBees can get in and out of just about anywhere these days.

Incidentally, for the benefit of large parties flying in, attention is directed to a regulation that forbids lashing a canoe to each float. One canoe on one float—O. K.

* * *

Northern Michigan trout streams are getting better every day. Every day without rain, that is. Two or three dry days, continuing mild weather and the outlook for weekend brown and brook trout fishing will be good to very good. Maybe even good enough to get us stirring.

* * *

We've had a number of requests recently for the copper sulphate methods of weed control in lakes.

For low weeds in shallow water—the usual stuff found on seldom used swimming beaches—a grain sack with perhaps 50 pounds of copper sulphate (much less will do, but 50 pounds is a nice round number and some weight is desirable) dragged across the bottom will do the trick.

After a week or two if some weeds persist, repeat. If there are patches of unusually heavy or coarse weeds, a handful of c. s. crystals will deal with them. In the limited areas of a few thousand square feet where we've used the treatment, no damage to fish or other aquatic life was observed, but the chemical is poisonous and its use should be accompanied by common sense.

Technicolor Ducks

Red-Dyed Fowl at Howell

LANSING — Two migrating ducks, sporting bright red feathers, were sighted recently by Robert G. Smith of Howell at Winans Lake in Livingston county.

The ducks were dyed during the winter on the east coast of Florida as part of a program to study the flight routes of migrating waterfowl. Many ducks and geese were banded and dyed for easy identification when sighted.

The ducks, part of a flock of 50 sighted by Smith were scaup, also commonly called "bluebills," and were the first recorded observation of the technicolor waterfowl in Michigan.

Conservation Department waterfowl workers are urging the public to report any observation of the specially-colored birds.

Reports on dyed waterfowl observations should include the color combinations used, location of the coloring on the birds, and where and when the birds were sighted.

Rainiers Air 'Beefs' Against Luke Sewell

SEATTLE (AP)—The full Seattle Rainier baseball squad met last night with Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Pacific Coast League club, to air grievances by the players over the managing of Luke Sewell.

The meeting, second blow-up by players this year, ended after a 75-minute discussion. Soriano said the grievances "were small things although taken by themselves they mean a lot to the individual." He said he felt the problems could be "worked out amicably."

Snead Decides to Participate

Goes to Britain in June With Hogan for Two Other Tests

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Snead has decided to shoot for the British Open Golf championship at Liverpool July 2-6, but Ben Hogan will skip it.

Snead, winner of the title in 1946 at St. Andrews, today formally filed his application with the Royal and Ancient, enclosing the required two pounds, approximately $5.60 in Yankee cash.

Hogan, who will team with Snead in the Canada Cup and International Trophy matches at Wentworth late next month, won't remain in Britain to try to duplicate his historic triumph at Carnoustie in 1953.

Snead and Hogan, dominant figures in American golf through the last decade, will leave for Britain on June 18, the Monday following the National Open at Rochester. They will team to play rivals from 27 other nations in the Canada Cup matches and will seek the international individual trophy put up by John Jay Hopkins, American industrialist.

Chiefs Losers as Tying Rally Is Washed Out

Chiefs' failed to complete their turn at bats, when the rains came, and the count went back to the 5th frame, 5-1 for Cranbrook.

Three good hits, a pair of walks gave Pontiac four runs in the unlucky frame, after being blanked following a one-run first inning. Two runners were on, one out when the game was called.

Cranes scored 2 each in the 2nd and 3rd innings, plus another in the 5th.

Jim Jones (3), Arnold Larson (2), pitched for Pontiac. Bruce Richards went all the way for Cranes. PHS got 5 hits off Richards. Jones gave up 3 and Larson was untouched. Jones fanned 4, Larson 2 and Richards 6. Richards gave up three walks in the Chiefs' big (no-good) rally.

Crane netters also won, downing Dearborn 4-2.

Saxton Favored Over Gil Turner

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Saxton, the newest welterweight boxing champion, rules an 8-5 choice tonight to smother the whirlwind style of Gil Turner in a 10-round over-the-weight boxing bout.

The fight is at Chicago Stadium, scene of Saxton's loudly booed lifting of Carmen Basilio's crown in March and Turner's surprising third-round knockout by weak-hitting Al Andrews in 1954.

It will be televised nationally (ABC, 10 p.m. EDT).

The follow-through on your putting stroke is as essential as that on your tee shot.

Never stop the action of the putter after impact. This will result in a stabbed or stubbed ball which will not roll smoothly toward the hole.

After the ball has been sent on its way by the clubhead, the blade of the putter should follow it on an upward arc. This position of the blade on the follow-through indicates that the ball has been hit in an upward manner with no hint of jerkiness in the swing.

Hitting the ball with an upward swing gives it the maximum amount of overspin to carry it to the hole.

Also, at this point, the head and eyes follow the flight of the ball. The head and eyes have remained in a more or less fixed position until the ball is well on its way to the hole.

Your putting stoke should be practiced as diligently as your drives. It is primarily a stroke of touch and feel and as such can vary from day to day. It is essential to practice putting before each game in order to acquire the feel of the greens.

Remember, even the greens on a course which you play daily have a tendency to change due to weather. This will automatically alter your putting.

Your putter can be the best friend you have after you have lost a stroke getting to the green. No golfer can consistently reach every green in par, and it is here your putter can pick up a much needed stroke.

No part of the course offers more stroke-saving opportunities than does the green.

FOLLOW-THROUGH VITAL ON GREEN AS ON TEE

The blade of the putter follows the ball squarely to the hole on an upward arc. The head and eyes follow the flight of the ball.

Detroit Told to Start Construction on Port

DETROIT (INS) — The president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association has declared construction of needed Detroit port facilities should begin Sept. 1, 1957.

Association President N. R. Danielian made the statement in a report to the port committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

In his reports, Danielian set up a time-table which was approved to assure needed facilities would be ready by April, 1959, when deep-water traffic will reach Detroit via the Seaway.

The association chief, who directed a St. Lawrence Seaway survey for the U.S. Department of Commerce in 1940, said a decision on facilities required should be reached by Sept. 1 of this year. He said approval of financing and selection of sites should be completed by Jan. 1, 1957.

Introduce Gas Bill After Lengthy Debate

OTTAWA, Can. (AP)—The Canadian government's controversial bill to help finance a 375-million-dollar transcontinental natural gas pipeline was introduced in Parliament just before dawn today after 12 tumultuous hours of preliminary wrangling.

The administration's Liberal Party forced through a rarely-used closure rule limiting each speaker to 20 minutes. The opposition Progressive Conservative and Socialist CCF parties threw up a barrage of delaying motions and forced nine votes.

The session vacillated from angry bedlam to exuberant singing. When the final vote was taken at 4:41 a. m., only three members had left to get some sleep.

The next test comes tomorrow with debate on the bill itself. The measure must go through three readings, and with the government having set a June 7 deadline for final passage, there was considerable further use of closure would be necessary.

Stock Market Becomes Mixed

Most changes either way were quite small, but the range extended to around 2 points higher or lower in the early afternoon.

Trading was at a moderate pace in the neighborhood of 2,500,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,650,000 shares traded yesterday in a lower market.

H. H. Curtice, president of General Motors, said GM was laying off additional workers this week, and he made a sharp downward revision in his estimates of industrywide production—22 per cent under last year.

General Motors stock opened on 6,000 shares off ¼ at 41⅞. It was yesterday's most active issue off ⅜. The stock was quite active today at lower and lower prices and quickly worked its decline to a full point.

The market as a whole opened higher in a rally from the severe declines of the past two days triggered initially by the Russian announcement of plans for a cut in its military forces.

The motor division was steady in the beginning, and then the continued decline of GM unsettled the motors and eventually the rest of the market, which gradually turned from higher to mixed by the start of the third hour.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $184.70. It lost 90 cents yesterday and $2.20 the previous day.

Prices Steady for Most Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Steady prices ruled for most grains in relatively quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

Old crop soybeans jumped several cents at one time, but otherwise price changes were limited to small fractions. While the urgent selling of the previous session appeared to have let up, it wasn't replaced by any aggressive demand.

Buying in old crop soybeans largely reflected an advance in soybean meal, which in turn was based on larger exports of this commodity.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ higher, May $2.27¼; corn, ⅛ lower to higher, May $1.48¾; oats ⅜ to ¾ higher, May 67; rye, unchanged to ½ lower, July $1.25¼; soybeans, ¾ lower to 2 cents higher, May $3.22; lard, 3 cents lower to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.07.

Coe Embraces 5th Amendment

'I Never Was a Spy,' Hs Claims, but Refuses Communist Query

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I was never a spy," V. Frank Coe told investigating senators yesterday. But he refused to say whether he is a Communist.

Coe, who served in the Treasury and the International Monetary Fund under the late Harry Dexter White, has been linked in congressional testimony with alleged espionage for the Soviet Union.

Four years ago, Coe invoked his possible self- incrimination in refusing to answer questions by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee concerning spy accusations against him. As a result of his refusal to talk, he lost his job as secretary of the fund.

DROPS 5TH AMENDMENT

Yesterday, Coe came before the subcommittee and declared, "I wish to drop the protection of the Fifth Amendment and state for the record: I was never a spy." Coe also challenged the subcommittee to bring forth any evidence that he ever did pass government secrets.

However, he pleaded the Fifth Amendment when asked if he is a Communist. He told the subcommittee he objected to "being compelled to talk about my political beliefs and associations."

* * *

Coe said he is convinced that White was not a spy "and that any notion to the contrary is unthinkable."

Film Mogul Warner Reports Jewel Loss

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Albert Warner, 72, one of the three movie-making Warner brothers, has reported the disappearance of jewels valued at $100,000.

Warner, through an insurance adjuster, said yesterday a traveling bag containing the jewels did not arrive on the plane that Warner and his wife took back to New York last Sunday. The adjuster, Robert L. Reynolds, told police the bag may have been lost or stolen.

Warner, a New York resident, was here to close the 19-million-dollar sale of controlling interest in the brothers' studio.

turned up no trace of the missing bag. He said there was no positive evidence yet that the bag was lost while in the airlines jurisdiction.

Slab of Concrete Delays Progress on Vets Project

The circular piece measured about 12 feet in diameter and believed to date back to 1865.

The men, some from the "Nike" guided missile base in Auburn Heights, are leveling off the site in preparation for making it into a war memorial for all Pontiac residents who have died in wars.

According to Floyd E. Cremer, deputy director of veteran's affairs in the county, the slab, sunk four feet in the ground, served as a base for the cannons. They were melted for scrap in World War II, he said.

"I believe the site was once known as 'Cannon Point,'" Cremer added. "The depth the foundation was sunk indicates they must have expected to fire the weapons."

The cement is being torn up so the improvement work may continue. The project is being promoted by the Cook-Nelson Post of the American Legion who own the 50-square yard site.

Will Seek Senate

COLDWATER (AP) — John T. Smeekens, Coldwater businessman, announced today he will seek the Republican nomination for the state senate post being vacated by Creighton R. Coleman, Battle Creek Republican. Coleman has announced he will run for Congress this year.

Little Stations Suffering Loss

Sen. Bricker Pressing for Federal Regulation to Check 'Monopoly'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said the two biggest television networks have established "an unprecedented economic stranglehold" on the TV industry.

The Ohioan said these networks — Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Company—have made such fabulous profits that many little stations unable to obtain their programs are threatened with bankruptcy.

* * *

In his report, Bricker listed what he called "heretofore secret financial data" from the files of the federal communications commission, which he said showed that in 1954 NBC and CBS made big profits while their competitors, American Broadcasting Company and Dumont, showed losses. At the same time, he said.

As one example, he said CBS and NBC and their eight wholly owned stations showed net profits, before taxes, of $41,413,902 in 1954.

As another instance, Bricker said CBS and NBC together with 75 affiliate stations made $90,500,000 in 1954, while all four networks plus all 410 stations in the country garnered $90,600,000 in 1954.

* * *

"This boils down to one fact. Exclusive of the operations of these 73 major CBS and NBC affiliates and the two major networks, losses more than offset profits in operation of the remaining 337 stations in the country, plus the ABC and Dumont networks," he said.

* * *

Frank Stanton, president of CBS, asserted in reply that Bricker is charging the TV networks with monopoly "to advance his long dormant bill designed to regulate networks." Stanton said that by using only profit figures Bricker "has presented a grossly inaccurate picture."

By no accepted standards does CBS have anything even approaching monopoly in the television broadcasting business," Stanton said.

* * *

After taxes in 1954, Stanton contended, CBS' net was only 4.6 per cent of sales, compared with 6.1 per cent shown by 3,000 leading United States companies.

Bricker did not give breakdowns in the manner suggested by Stanton, but he did quote previous testimony by Stanton to the commerce committee. He said Stanton testified on June 18, 1954:

"The television networking business is a complicated and delicate business. Profit margins are relatively small — particularly when one takes into account the enormous investments and operating expenditures involved."

* * *

Bricker conceded Stanton did not then know the 1954 profits, but he said the "economic pattern for the year" must have been established by that time."

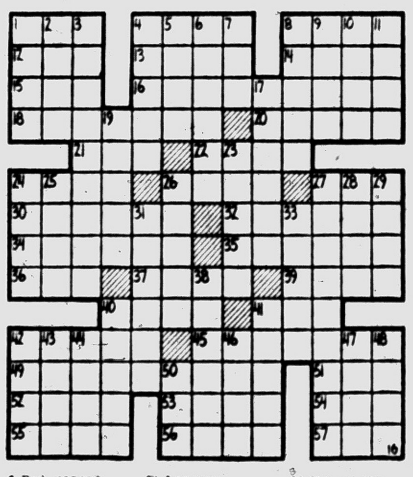

With respect to small stations, Bricker contended they suffer whenever CBS and NBC refuse to give them network programs.

* * *

What happens, he said, is that the big networks prefer to give their programs to the big city stations, which simply extend their coverage to the areas served by the little operators.

Beautiful Girl Becomes Ugly for Acting Break

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We wondered how there could be so many homely girls on TV. So when we saw a picture of one that was real ug, we arranged a rendezvous with her.

"Listen, dear," we planned to ask this crow, named Jeanne Moody, "how can a girl with such a plain kisser, who gets mud all over it besides, sneak into television?" Something charmingly tactful like that, see?

JEANNE MOODY

"I had to make myself look plain to get into television," explained Miss Moody, whom we knew from 1952 when she worked in the Versailles floor show, wearing a bathtub.

★ ★ ★

"You see, I used to go around New York applying for TV jobs as just myself. Nothing!

"I decided when I got to Hollywood I'd go looking like a real beast. Flat shoes. Hair very severe. Black turtleneck sweater. No makeup. I began to get parts by deglamorizing."

"That's your success story, is it?" we asked Miss Moody, who just accidentally, we suppose, was in a very tight wool dress.

(When Miss Moody got into that dress, there wasn't room for anything else in it—not even improvement.)

"It's the story of my failure! she retorted. "Now I can't get out of Mother Hubbards."

In fact, she was in something like that when we saw the picture of her that convinced us she was going to be voted Miss Take of 1956. She was in NBC's "Frontier" TV series. You could hardly tell her from the horse.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Eddie Cantor's Ida was taken from her hotel to Mt. Sinai in an ambulance. Probably indigestion, but she's in for a week . . . Hot Miami rumor (denied here): NBC might try to grab Godfrey . . . Is Leo Durocher waiting for Casey Stengel to retire?

Joan Crawford and Al Steele had a 1st anniversary party at 21 . . . Noting that Anita Ekberg'll wed Anthony Steele, Geo. DeWitt says, "It would take a man of Steele."

Jackie Gleason'd sworn pals to secrecy about switching back to his old format . . . Sammy Davis Jr. stars on Steve Allen's first Sunday show June 24. Irving Berlin's writing some "Music Box Revue" music for Giselle MacKenzie for spectaculars.

Actor Richard Egan's steady date in town is Mona Knox . . . Brazil's ex-Pres. Cafe Filho was here for a medical checkup—ticker trouble . . . Lu Ann Simms, will make $10,000 a week at the Allentown, Pa., and Colorado state fairs.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A hypocrite," notes Woody Allen, "is a guy who writes a book praising atheism—and then prays that it'll sell."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Lynn Dollar claims Taffy Tuttle's very soft-hearted—every time she hears "Poor People of Paris" she sends a CARE package to France.

David Merrick, producer of "Fanny," is seeking a replacement for 280-pound Walter Slezak. "Applicants don't have to try out," Slezak says, "—just weigh in." . . . That's earl, brother.

Teachers Quit Jobs When Town Can't Pay Wages

AVOCA, Pa. (AP)—The schools in this northeastern Pennsylvania town of slightly more than 4,000 close today because the 23 teachers of the district say they won't work until they're paid.

* * *

The reason, School Board Secretary Francis Woods, says is that people aren't paying their taxes.

* * *

He explained that th eboard applied to the First National Bank of Avoca for a $10,000 loan, enough to pay salaries for one month, but that the application was denied. He added that the bank already has lent the board about $50,000 for salaries.

Enrollment in Avoca's schools is 568.

Targonski Asks Probe of Deckerville Justice

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh was asked today to investigate alleged irregularities in the accounts of Lloyd F. Buhl, Deckerville justice of the peace.

The request was made by Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski, who said an examination of Buhl's books had disclosed some discrepancies.

Lumber Camp Ain't What It Used to Be

Loggers wear plaid shirts instead of gray flannel suits, but they can commute to work in their cars and enjoy a home life as routine as any 9 to 5 white collar worker.

The oldtime lumberjack lived in camp all winter, darning his own sox and underwear to save money. Then he'd spend his earnings in a wild three days when he did hit town.

Today's logger is likely to live in town or on a farm. He drives to work in the forest over distances that once kept his grandfather in camp the winter long.

BINGES TOO CLOSE

Logging camps, once a familiar center of woods life in the Upper Peninsula, have dwindled to a fraction of their former size. Only a few large camps now have many as 75 or 80 men. Logging settlements with 125 to 150 men once were commonplace. Now a camp is considered good sized with 25 men.

There's one aspect of modern logging that didn't arise in the oldtime camps. Coming of auto travel, say some loggers, has increased absenteeism by making taverns more accessible. Lumberjacks used to have to wait until they got out of camp to go on a binge.

Life in a logging camp was always rough and ready. In September living quarters were set up and roads cut into the forest to timber stands, crews arrived in October to start cutting.

INDUSTRIAL OPERATION

From fall to spring timber was stacked and hauled out on the ice covered roads. When spring thaws came, loggers put on caulked boots and took to riding the logs on flood swollen streams to the mills.

New and better machines changed logging from a way of life to an industrial operation. Bulldozers built roads that made it possible to move timber from the stump direct to the mill.

"A power saw will cut twice as much timber in a day as the old cedar saw and it cuts the stump much lower. The timber was so heavy we'd get two or three million feet to a 40-acre tract. Now it's a very good hardwood 40 that has a half million or 600,000 feet."

* * *

They tell the story that timber was once so dense a woman who saw a cedar block pavement in Gladstone remarked, "The trees were certainly thick before they cut them down here, weren't they?"
