Holiday Traffic Kills 290 in Nation

Michigan Holds Weekend Road Deaths to Four

State High on Safety List With Only Ten Accident Fatalities

From Our Wire Services

Michigan traffic mishaps claimed only four lives over the New Year's weekend.

Fatalities were fewer than on most any weekend of the old year, and in comparison 18 died in traffic on the Christmas weekend.

There was, however, a major fire tragedy over New Year's. Four children died Saturday in their one-room home a mile south of Watersmeet in the Upper Peninsula's Gogebic County. Four other children escaped. Authorities said fuel oil being poured on embers in a wood burning stove started the fire.

In addition, a Crawford County couple met death New Year's morning in their snow-stalled car on their way home from a party. The coroner's report said they died of carbon monoxide gas poisoning.

The victims were Jack Steiger, 42, a woodcutter, and his wife, Margaret, 40.

With a total of only 10 dead, Michigan ranked among states with fewest holiday weekend fatalities. Most states of comparable population were far ahead, and the nation as a whole counted 345 violent deaths—290 in traffic, 27 in fires and 36 in miscellaneous accidents.

As the pre-holiday prediction of 240 auto fatalities was shattered three hours before the end of the 84-hour period, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, declared:

The toll speaks for itself. What more do we need to bring us to our senses?"

The traffic toll was expected to be less than the 332 deaths on highways over Christmas weekend, which was a new record for a two-day Christmas holiday.

However, council officials foresaw the deaths of at least 300 persons in auto mishaps, surpassing the 1948-49 record of 207 fatalities

Hope for Son's Release From Russia

AP Wirephoto

AFTER NINE YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Noble, in their Detroit home, by candlelight look at picture of their son John, 31, who the Russians said they would release soon from a prison camp where he has been for the past nine years. John and his father were captured in 1945 in Dresden, Germany. The father was released in 1952.

Ask, What About Others?

Detroit Parents Restrain Joy at Word Reds Will Release Son From Prison

DETROIT (UP)—The parents of a Detroit man whom the Russians have promised to release from a prison camp restrained their joy with skepticism and anger today.

The Russians announced late Saturday they would free John Noble, 31, along with William Marchuk of Breckenridge, Pa.

But Noble's father, Charles A. Noble, refused to put complete faith in the Russian announcement and was angry because the Russians withheld information about a third American believed to be in the camp with Noble and Marchuk.

"We're not planning any celebration yet," the elder Noble said. "We don't want to count our chickens before they're hatched."

Although he said he wanted to be careful of what he said lest one of his statements might make the Russians change their minds, Noble, who once was a prisoner of the Russians himself, could not contain his anger.

"Those gangsters are releasing Johnny and Marchuk," he said. "Yet they are refusing information about William Verdine. I know he is a prisoner, too."

Reports from Germany said the Russians were holding Verdine along with Noble and Marchuk at a camp used by the Russians to clear prisoners they plan to release. However, the Reds denied any knowledge of Verdine.

The elder Noble said he had "definite knowledge" that Verdin also was held by the Russians. He said he had talked to a man recently released from the camp while he was in Germany about four weeks ago. The former prisoner told him he had seen Verdine, Noble and Marchuk at the camp.

The father said he had also seen Verdin's signature on a card sent to Noble's friends in Germany.

"Now they say they never heard of Verdine," Noble said.

Democrats Take Over

84th Congress to Convene for First Time Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Filled with hope and mindful of the elections two years away, senators and representatives headed for the capital today for the opening of the 84th Congress Wednesday.

Technically, they should be convening at noon today, since the Constitution sets Jan. 3 as the opening date.

However, it permits a change for the convenience of the legislators, and the outgoing 83rd Congress decided it would be more convenient to meet Jan. 5.

Thursday, President Eisenhower will deliver before a joint session his annual message on the state of the union.

The President, who returned to Washington last night from Augusta, Ga., where he had spent the holidays, arranged to confer this afternoon with members of his Cabinet and Republican congressional leaders.

Presumably he planned to give them a preview of his Thursday message, traditional vehicle for outlining legislative recommendations.

The first order of business in the new Congress will be formal transfer of control of the Senate and the House from Republicans to Democrats.

The last time that Capitol Hill was controlled by one political party and the White House by another was in 1947-48, under Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower is not expected to fare as badly as Truman. A coalition drawn from Democratic and Republican ranks seems likely to approve the main portions of what

3 Go to Prison for Vandalism

Youths Are Sentenced for Destructive Spree at Woodhull Lake

Three juvenile boys who admitted causing $20,000 damage in a rampage through 18 summer homes at Woodhull Lake were sentenced to Jackson Prison today by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

"This is the most unpleasant task I've ever had since I've been on the bench," Doty stated as he issued 1½ to 5-year terms to the trio.

The youths are:

Harold Parker, 16, of 9410 M15 Clarkston, Eugene Buchheister, 16, of 5180 Clarkston-Orion Rd., and Robert Withey, 16, of 4955 Lakeview, Woodhull Lake.

All three admitted smashing furniture and appliances valued at $20,000 in a vandalism spree between Nov. 2 and 5.

The three were waived from juvenile jurisdiction Nov. 16 for prosecution under adult status, because of the seriousness of the crime.

After hearing leniency appeals from attorneys representing two of the youths, Judge Doty pronounced sentence saying "$20,000 can't be overlooked because of age. We must protect the people of Oakland County even against boys as young as you."

State police said nothing in the homes entered by the boys was left untouched. Furniture, mattresses, carpets and drapes were slashed and torn, stoves and refrigerators were smashed, many beyond repair.

Expensive china and television sets were broken and the woodwork and walls hacked with an axe.

Warrant Is Issued in Abandoning Body

A warrant charging unlawful removal of a dead body was issued this morning by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem against William Danks, 32, who told police he left the body of Mrs. Ruth J. Trenary, 41, in a swamp near Pontiac Lake Dec. 26.

Danks told police the woman died in his room at a nearby boat livery. An autopsy showed the cause of death as pneumonia of both lungs.

U.S. Will Reject Soviet Demand for 11 Children

Russians Also Pledge Release of 2 Americans Held Prisoners

WASHINGTON (INS) — The State Department made it clear today that it will reject the Kremlin's latest demand that 11 Soviet children now in the West be returned to Russia.

At the same time officials expressed hope that the Kremlin would stand by its pledge to free two Americans held as prisoners for several years.

While officials were still weighing the individual cases of eight orphans wanted by Russia, they said there was no chance that three other children living in this country, would be handed over to the Soviets.

The eight orphans are now in the American zone of Germany and figured in a formal Soviet note made public over the weekend.

The Kremlin also announced in the note that it will release William T. Marchuk of Breckenridge, Pa., and John N. Noble of Detroit. Noble, 31, has been a Russian prisoner since 1945 while 38-year-old Marchuk has been held since 1949.

The Soviets said they have no information about a third American believed to have been seized with Marchuk. He is William A. Verdine, 28, of Starks, La.

A department spokesman said there was no hint in the Russian note that the Kremlin expected to exchange the two Americans for the 11 children. The two cases were outlined in "separate presentations."

The State Department said that the three children in the U.S.

Brennan Out, Judge Named

Williams Picks Bohn as Ex-Justice Battles Retirement Edict

LANSING (AP)—Holding that Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan is out of office, Gov. Williams today appointed Theodore R. Bohn of Detroit to take his place on the Wayne County bench.

Williams said that Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh had advised him that a vacancy exists in the judgeship held by Judge Brennan.

Judge Brennan has appealed to the Ingham County Circuit Court to force the state Judges Retirement Board to cancel the retirement which he once filed and then sought to withdraw.

Brennan appeared on the bench at Detroit today, but found no cases assigned to him. Presiding Judge Ira W. Jayne said he would send Brennan no work until his retirement dispute is settled by the courts and added, "There may be a question as to the legality of anything he does on the bench from now on."

Kavanagh said his office would move in the Ingham County Circuit Court tomorrow to dismiss Judge Brennan's suit on the ground that the court has no jurisdiction to issue a writ of mandamus in this matter.

Williams said Judge Bohn will not take his oath of office "for some time" until he has cleared up his personal affairs. Bohn, 45, is Wayne County Democratic chairman and a member of the firm of Rothe, Marston, Bohn and Mazey of Detroit, which has a large practice among labor unions.

A native of Bay City, he is a graduate of Bay City Junior College and the Detroit College of Law. In 1941 and 1942, he handled immigration and naturalization cases for the federal Department of Justice.

Ike Appoints Kendall as Treasury Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today gave David W. Kendall of Jackson, Mich., a recess appointment as general counsel for the Treasury Department.

The President sent Kendall's nomination to the special session of the Senate which convened last Nov. 8, but no action was taken on confirmation.

The recess appointment means that Kendall will serve pending consideration of the nomination by the 84th Congress which convenes Wednesday.

Kendall, 51, is a practicing attorney. He succeeds Elbert Tuttle, who has been named a judge of the Federal Circuit Court in the Georgia area.

Nehru Refuses to Aid Mission

Hammarskjold's Request for Top Indian Diplomat on Trip Turned Down

NEW DELHI (AP)—Authoritative sources said today that Indian Prime Minister Nehru has refused a suggestion from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that a senior Indian diplomat accompany him to Peiping.

These sources said Nehru based his refusal on the contention that India had abstained from the General Assembly vote under which Hammarskjold is making his trip and therefore could not associate itself fully with the mission.

The U.N. official and his party left by Indian government plane today on the next leg of the trip to Peiping seeking the release of 11 American airmen and other U.N. personnel held by the Reds.

Hammarskjold had his only meeting with Nehru this morning, 19 hours after his arrival from London.

They talked alone for two hours, then were joined for 15 minutes by V. K. Krishna Menon, chief Indian delegate to the U.N. Assembly, and N. R. Pillai, secretary general of the Indian Foreign Ministry. There was no report on what was said.

Neither Nehru nor Krishna Menon had been at the airport to greet Hammarskjold on arrival. And again only lower ranking Indian officials—none of ministerial rank—were on hand to see the party's takeoff for Canton.

This apparent coolness by India's leader to the U.N. mission underlined Nehru's sharp criticism in Calcutta Saturday of Hammarskjold's trip. The prime minister told newsmen there that the U.N. decision to send the secretary general to Peiping was "unfortunate" and was made in a one-sided manner.

He also said he had not asked the Chinese Communists to reconsider their imprisonment as spies of the American airmen and "I don't know whether or not they will."

Holly Fisherman Taken From Lake

Fellow Anglers Rescue Vern C. Pelton After Fall Through Ice

The 53-year-old owner of a Holly dairy was rescued from the frigid waters of Crotchet Lake Sunday by a human chain of neighboring ice fishermen.

Vern C. Pelton, owner of the Hickory Dairy, was returning to the shore of the small lake after ice fishing when the ice gave way beneath him.

Pelton struggled in the 15-feet deep water but could not pull himself onto the ice's slippery surface. After 15 minutes in the chill water, he began shouting for help.

Four nearby fishermen heard his calls and scrambled over to his aid.

Fritz Nissle, Jack Johnson, Robert Tucker and Hudson Oliver, all of Holly, stretched out on the ice to form a human chain to pull Pelton out.

Pelton, of 14205 Fagan Rd., Holly, was treated for shock at his home, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported.

Panama Police Arrest Over 20 in Fast Roundup

Foreign Minister Takes Office Replacing Victim of Machinegunning

PANAMA (AP) — After a lightning roundup, police announced today they had arrested former President Arnulfo Arias in connection with the slaying last night of President Jose Antonio Remon, strong man of this strategic Central American republic for 10 turbulent years.

Secret police officials said they had arrested more than 20 persons in predawn raids aimed at catching the assassins who machinegunned the 46-year-old Remon as he chatted with a party of friends at Juan Franco race track.

Two other persons died in the gun battle between the President's bodyguard and his assassins. Three of Remon's companions were wounded.

Police said they nabbed Arias, who was thrown out of office in 1951 by Remon's police forces after a bloody palace battle, at Bouquette, 300 miles west of the capital. Arias has a large coffee plantation near there.

In a 3 a.m. session, the National Assembly swore in Foreign Minister Jose Ramon Guizado as president. Guizado was elected first vice president on the ticket with Remon in 1952. Their terms had until October 1956 to run.

The Cabinet announced that calm prevailed in the country and the "government is maintaining rigorous order throughout all the national territory."

The Cabinet statement gave no clue, however to the identity of the President's killers or the motivation for the plot.

Panamanian officials were at a loss to explain the motive behind the unprecedented assassination. They pointed out that—whether in-

Ike Sends Condolences to Panama on Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today expressed "sincere condolences" to the people of Panama on the "tragic assassination" of their president, Jose Antonio Remon.

Man Denies Charge by Baby-Tender

A Waterford Township man, held last week for questioning in connection with an attempted kidnaping report, pleaded innocent to an assault charge in Pontiac Municipal Court.

Henry A. Creech, 28, of 3300 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was accused by a 16-year-old girl of molesting her Dec. 28 at Huron St. and Genesee Ave., then trying to steal a baby in her care.

After a witness' testimony indicated Creech was innocent of grabbing the child, he was charged with molesting the girl.

The accused is held in Oakland County Jail under $1,000 bond. Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set trial for Jan. 6.

8008 Lose Federal Jobs Since Security Crackdown

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Civil Service Commission reported today that 8,008 federal employes have been fired as security risks or resigned while their status was clouded by unfavorable security information.

The files of 2,096 of this number "contained information indicating, in varying degrees, subversive activities, subversive associations, or membership in subversive organizations," the commission said.

The other 5,912 include drunks, sexual perverts, those with criminal records, character defects, and persons found to be insane or undesirable for other medical reasons.

Under President Eisenhower's security order of May 28, 1953, all of these are characterized as security risks along with those accused of subversive activities or associations.

The report was the third issued on the administration's new security program. It covered the period from the program's inception through Sept. 30, 1954.

The previous report, issued for the period through June 30, 1954, showed 6,926 firings or resignations with derogatory information in the files of 1,743 of these concerning some degree of subversive activity or association.

In its previous report the Civil Service Commission listed 75 security cases at the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency. None

Ship Traffic in Suez Canal to Move Again Tomorrow

PORT SAID (INS) — Ship traffic may be resumed today or tomorrow through the Suez Canal, which was blocked last week when a railroad bridge collapsed on a Liberian tanker.

Engineers refloated the damaged tanker "World Peace" yesterday and went to work removing some 50 tons of twisted steel which crashed onto the ship's deck and into the canal.

Egyptian officials did not announce when the canal would be reopened, but shipping circles in Ismalia said the first convoys may move through the waterway sometime today or tomorrow.

The accident closed one of the world's busiest waterways, forcing ships to wait at either end of the canal or take the long route around the Cape of Good Hope.

During the weekend engineers sheared away those portions of the collapsed bridge obstructing the canal and yesterday they pulled the tanker into mid-stream and towed her to a nearby berth.

Agence France Presse quoted Count Jean Philippe de Grailly, chief agent of the Suez Canal Co. in Egypt, as saying that normal traffic would not be restored in the waterway before tomorrow.

However, he added that the damaged tanker had been removed from the path of shipping and that salvage work on the wreckage of the bridge was proceeding rapidly.

Next, a hearing date will be set to consider objections to creating a special assessment district for costs of an alley and parking lot in the southern portion of the block bounded by Henrietta, Martin, Bates and Maple streets.

An estimate of both land and construction costs will be presented tonight. Also on the agenda is the State Supreme Court's decision in the case involving Baldwin Manor, Inc. versus the city.

Panama Police Nab Ex-President in Raid

spired by political reasons or a personal grudge—the killers could not have hoped to gain control of the government by slaying Remon.

Secret Police Chief Jorge Luis Alfaro said those arrested, in addition to Arias, included two women.

One, he said, left Remon's box just before the shooting and the other woman was nearby when the firing began.

News of the death of Remon—rated by many Western leaders as the ablest President Panama has had in its 52 years as a republic—brought expressions of grief from shocked leaders in the United States and Panama's neighbors.

Secretary of State Dulles, in New York for the New Year holiday, expressed profound grief.

Remon died in Santo Tomas Hospital two hours after he had been hit in the groin and liver by machine-gun bullets. Five blood transfusions failed to save him.

The other dead were identified as Jose Peralta of Panama's secret police, who was with the President, and Danilo Sousa, former swimming star. Sousa was believed killed by police bullets but it was not immediately known whether he was among the assailants or got caught in the cross fire.

Remon's widow Cecilia was in Miami to attend the inauguration of Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins at Tallahassee tomorrow. She immediately took a plane back to Panama.

Remon, a professional soldier, gained fame and followers as Panama's police chief. In the 1940s he became known as the country's strong man and president maker.

Eager for order in his country's mercurial politics, he was reluctant to become president. Finally, in May 1952, after four years which saw five men in office, he was elected to the top post.

At the end of his first year in office, he was credited with having done much to straighten out his country's tangled finances. He put through a bill outlawing the Communist party and did much to stamp out graft which had been rampant.

Reds Vow to Free Son of Detroit Pair

"That's the way they play with human beings."

The General Motors photographic division employe said he learned to hate the Russians when they first arrested him and his son in Dresden, Germany, during World War II.

He said he had operated a camera service in Dresden when the Russians arrested him and confiscated his business. He was thrown into a camp with his son for 4½ years before he was released in February, 1950.

"Why did they arrest us?" he asked.

"For nothing," he said answering his own question. "They never told us. It was nothing but a kidnaping."

But even his bitterness and mistrust of the Russians coudn't keep the hope and happiness away from the elder Noble.

"Of course, I'm happy for my son," he smiled.

But he turned grim again as he said, "But its thinking about the others that makes me mad.

"We saw a lot of things in the concentration camp. When Johnny is safely here, maybe we'll tell about them," he said.

The father, however, was declared incompetent to keep custody of the children, who were turned over to Welfare organizations, and in 1947 the parents returned to Armenia.

In December, 1947, the New York Supreme Court ruled that the three children would stay in the U. S. The eldest is 20 and the youngest now 13.

The State Department said it is reviewing the whole problem of the eight children and added that the Russians may have to support their request with proof that the children have parents or other close relatives in the Soviet Union.

In any case, officials ruled out any chance that the Choolokian children would be returned in view of the New York court's decision on their father.

Bobbie Dunn Contributions Mount to $1,530

Contributions to the Bobbie Dunn Fund mounted over the week end, bringing the running total to $1,530.

The committee of three Pontiac pastors administering the fund this morning opened 75 envelopes sent to the fund for the 13-year-old boy who lost his legs under a train Christmas Day.

In addition to the mailed contributions, local business and factory employe's donations are included in today's total. GMC Truck and Coach Division departments collected nearly $500 for Bobbie.

Other plants have turned in contributions which have not yet been tabulated, reported Mayor William W. Donaldson, who is working with the pastors.

Federal Department store employes have gathered another $100 for the fund, Donaldson said, but have not yet turned it over to the committee.

Contributions may be mailed to the Bobbie Dunn Fund, care of Mayor, City Hall, Pontiac, Mich.

Orioles Buy Veteran Bengal, Hoot Evers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today sold veteran outfielder Hoot Evers to the Baltimore Orioles. The Tigers said the deal was for more than $10,000.

It was the second time the Tigers had released Evers, once a popular favorite in Briggs Stadium.

During the club's wholesale shakeup in 1952, Evers was traded to the Boston Red Sox. Later, he was sent by Boston to the New York Giants, from whom the Tigers purchased him last summer.

84th Congress Opens Session Wednesday

Eisenhower calls a "progressive moderate" program.

Although actual legislating will not get under way for a month or so—it will take that long for Congress to set up its committees—hundreds of bills will be tossed into the Senate and House hoppers on opening day.

Presidential recommendations will set the stage of actual legislating.

Besides the three major messages called for by the Constitution or by law—the State of the Union, budget and economic — Eisenhower has announced plans for five special messages.

Two of these were announced at Augusta yesterday. One of them, on Jan. 24, will deal with health. The other, on Jan. 27, will deal with a contemplated new federal-state highway program.

Other special messages, announced previously, will deal with (1) reciprocal trade, (2) pay raises for federal civilian workers and (3) pay raises and a new reserve program for the armed forces.

The annual budget will be sent to Capitol Hill Jan. 17 and the economic message three days later.

Odd Hurricane Howling Again

First January Storm on Record Is Prowling Caribbean Sea

MIAMI (INS) — Freak hurricane Alice, the only howler ever to develop in the month of January, regained her hurricane force winds of 75 miles an hour today as she prowled the Caribbean Sea.

After dropping to winds of 55 miles an hour, the storm picked up again and was carrying hurricane force winds as she hovered near the tiny island of St. Croix, southeast of Puerto Rico.

The San Jaun weather bureau, in its latest advisory, pinpointed the storm at latitude 16.5 north, longitude 64.4 west or about 100 miles south southeast of St. Croix.

Her high winds extend over a small area near the center but gale force winds—from 60 to 75 miles an hour—extend in a semi-circle to the north for 60 miles.

The storm is expected to continue at a speed of from seven to ten miles an hour for the next six hours as she moves in a southwest direction.

The storm is presently 1300 miles southeast of Miami and presents no danger to the American mainland.

The tropical storm caught the weather bureau by surprise because the vast network of hurricane-hunting aircraft and communications centers closes down Nov. 15—the traditional end of the five-month season.

Only 37 County Men Face February Draft

LANSING (AP)—Michigan was ordered to draft 584 men for military service in February, the smallest draft call since June of 1952.

The State Selection Service headquarters said most of the call will be filled with volunteers desiring to complete their military service at a time most convenient to them.

Oakland Board 65 will furnish 10 men; Oakland Board 66, 12 men and Oakland Board 67, 15 men.

Harrisburg Youth on Vacation After Fire

HARRISBURG, Ill. (AP) — About 900 southern Illinois students had a vacation today after weekend fires swept through the Harrisburg junior high school building and part of the Carmi Township school.

The two towns are located in neighboring Saline and White counties.

The 34-year-old building here was destroyed by fire Saturday with cost of replacement estimated by school officials at $400,000. It served 350 seventh and eighth-graders.

The Carmi fire yesterday caused an estimated $250,000 damage. The roof and second floor of the building received the heaviest damage.

Two new wings, completed last August, were saved. They house about two-thirds of the rooms for the 550 Carmi students.

Cranbrook Academy Gets New Director

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—The museum of Cranbrook Academy of Art began the new year with a different title, a revised policy and a new director.

Wallace Mitchell, registrar of the academy and for 17 years a member of its faculty, took over as head of the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries Jan. 1 when the resignation of museum curator Eva I. Gatling became effective.

Under the new policy, the galleries will place more emphasis than formerly on current activities in the fields of decorative and practical art, as well as sculpture and painting.

Mitchell, well known for his abstract paintings, has an A.B. degree from Northwestern University and a master's degree from Columbia. He came to Cranbrook first as a student in 1934, and later joined the teaching staff.

The art galleries are open free to the public from 2-5 p.m. daily, excepting Mondays and major holidays.

Many GIs to Get Early Release

Army Reports 44,000 Will Be Discharged in May and June

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army states that it plans to release ahead of time next May and June about 44,000 draftees who will be nearing the end of their terms of service.

The Army announcement said present plans, which require final approval, call for the early release of inductees completing 23 and 22 months of service, respectively, in May and June.

The normal 24-month service for draftees will be resumed after June.

The Army said it also plans a comparable early release program in the March through June period for approximately 3,400 reserve lieutenants now serving their initial 24 month tour of active duty. Officers who have volunteered for additional periods of active duty and who have been accepted by the Army will not be released.

The early release program is part of the plan to speed up the process of trimming down the Army. The new program is aimed to cut off the roles by June 73,000 more men than previously planned, leaving a force of 1,100,000 at the end of that month.

Much of the total reduction in strength, the Army said, is expected to be obtained through a substantial decrease in draft calls during each month beginning with February. The Defense Department announced that the draft call for February will be 11,000, a decrease of more thn half from the January call of 23,000. The 11,000 monthly call is expected to continue at least through next June.

The Army said in connection with the planned early release of reservists that the program will not include officers of the Women's Army Corps, the chaplains and the medical corps.

Film, TV Stars Suffer $10,000 Loss in Fire

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Sparks from a fireplace were blamed for a fire that damaged clothing and belongings of the Dean Martins and TV performers Anne Jeffreys and Robert Sterling Saturday.

Mrs. Martin estimated smoke and water damage at $10,000. She said the four were away from the hotel bungalow when the fire started. It was Martin, comedy partner of Jerry Lewis, who discovered the blaze when he returned to the bungalow for an aspirin to ease a headache.

The Martins, Miss Jeffreys and her husband, Sterling, have been vacationing. Miss Jeffreys and Sterling play a pair of ghosts in the "Topper" television series.

Reporter Comes to Boil Making Stanley Steamer

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—I got what I've always wanted for Christmas—a Stanley Steamer automobile.

This wasn't a real one. It was a 69 cent model you have to glue together. A sort of a quick construction kit. The American Automobile Association headquarters here has some 25 of these tiny models in a show-case in the lobby of their new building.

My steamer is a 1909 job. Also in the AAA exhibit are 1903 Cadillacs, a 1910 replica of the Model T Ford. A 1911 Rolls Royce, and cars the very young among us never heard of, like the 1904 Rambler, the 1910 Pierce Arrow—not to mention a few others like the 1914 Stutz Bearcat, the 1908 Buick Rambler.

All are fine machines, of course.

But mine would be the best of the model lot if I could get the plastic pieces assembled.

I'm about as handy as a left-footed elephant when it comes to putting things together. The people, who make these pieces tell you that you can "easily build one of these models in an hour." It adds, I hope in fund, that these "authentic 3/8 scale inch cars of bygone days will bring hours of fun for young and old."

Here were some of the instructions:

Place wheels on axles. Hold axle carefully over an open flame. I used a cigaret lighter and over-did it. There went two wheels.

Slide steering column into slot in floorboard on right side of body. (See drawing.) The drawing didn't reveal much. And for lack of a slide column, which I didn't recognize on sight, another operation was lost.

Insert rear axle in right side of body. That shouldn't have been too difficult, but somehow it never got done.

And so it went. From front fender to left side of body to position on right side while I applied more and more glue.

Place steering wheel in hands of figure after paint is dry, the instructions wound up. I didn't bother to paint, so I didn't fuss around putting the steering thing in hands of figure.

"Now your model is complete and ready for the den or office," the instructions say.

Well, my model isn't ready for anything. I have a few missing parts which I probably lost on the way home. I also have a few things like the rear axle and the sidelamps and the "upholstery" left over.

Perennial Socialist Expires in Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Carle Whitehead, who figured in virtually every major Colorado political race since 1932 as a Socialist party candidate, died at a hospital yesterday after a long illness. He was 77.

Whitehead came to Denver in 1899 after his graduation from Columbia Law School in New York.

Although handicapped by illness, he waged a vigorous campaign for the U. S. Senate last fall. He was a close friend of Norman Thomas, perennial Socialist candidate for president.

Attempts to grow sugar beets in Massachusetts and New York in 1830 were a failure.

Spring Hasn't Sprung Yet

Too Early to Pack Away Long Winter Underwear

DETROIT (UP)—Michigan residents were reminded today it's folly to start turning lightly to thoughts of spring just because Christmas and New Year's are past.

"Remember, this is only the beginning of winter," said W. W. Oak, chief meteorologist at the Detroit Weather Bureau.

Looking deep into his weather ball, Oak had a choice prediction for Michigan's outdoors sports enthusiasts. He said the state would get its usual 40 inches of snow before the thaws come.

Oak termed 40 inches of snow "about average" for Michigan during the winter season. He said this season's fall might be "a little heavier," although he pointed out that such a forecast was hard to pin-point.

However, the forecaster said he was pretty sure Michigan would get its nippiest taste of winter during the usual period—"from mid-January to mid-February."

Oak doubted if any cold records would be broken in Michigan in 1955 because of earlier data which indicated temperatures would average slightly above normal. The normal winter temperatures for Michigan range between 23 and 27 above in lower Michigan and from 15 to 18 in the Upper Peninsula.

Oak's weather records, which go back 80 years, indicated Michigan will get at least four days of below-zero temperatures during the first two months of the New Year.

Average readings for these months during the 1953-54 season were 25.5 for January and 33.1 for February. On an average, temperatures so far this winter have been one degree lower than last winter.

Records showed that the coldest day of the 1953-54 winter was March 7, when the mercury plunged to 30 below at Kenton in Houghton County. The lowest temperature ever recorded in Michigan was a frigid 51 below at Vanderbilt in Otsego County on Feb. 9, 1934.

Oak said, however, that extreme temperatures were "unusual" for Michigan because the state has a natural air conditioning system—the Great Lakes.

The Lakes, he said, tend to cool warm air masses in the summer and heat up cold air fronts in the winter.

But there are exceptions. Cadillac, Pellston and Houghton are perennial recipients of the deep freeze treatment even though temperatures in nearby parts of the state might be balmy. Oak explained this phenomenon by pointing out that these "ice boxes" have high elevations. Because of it, they more readily give off surface heat which moves upward through a less dense atmosphere.

On the other side of the ledger, Michigan often gets smacked with a heat wave along with the rest of the nation during the summer.

Oak's figures showed that record highs were reached in September and October of 1953. The hottest day in 1953 was June 20 when 33 cities throughout Michigan sweltered under temperatures ranging between 95 and 104 degrees.

The hottest days on record in Michigan was reported July 13, 1936 when the mercury boiled up to the 112-degree mark at Mio in Oscoda County.

'Copter Flies Infant to Hospital for Help

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., (AP)—A helicopter completed a mercy flight yesterday to bring an infant born with a spinal growth to a Grenfell mission hospital on the northern tip of Newfoundland.

Mrs. Raymond MacLean gave birth to the baby Wednesday at her home in Green Island Cove, 40 miles southwest of the hospital at St. Anthony's and on the other side of the peninsula.

A nurse who attended the birth reported it by radio as Siamese twins, but the hospital reported last night it was a single baby born with a large mass of tumors attached to its spine. Doctors at the hospital were expected to attempt an operation to remove the growth but no other details were available.

Fighting Reds With Food

Most Americans realize that food surpluses create one of our gravest problems.

Few, however, appreciate that the cost of merely storing those surpluses has reached $256,000,000 a year, four times the cost of operating Congress. Fewer still are aware of how useful these surpluses could be as powerful anti-Communist propaganda.

A survey completed for CARE and signed by 16 prominent business leaders on its National Advisory Committee, explains how our stored food could serve a threefold purpose:

1. It could relieve human suffering in many lands.

2. It could strengthen our economy by reducing the depressing effects of our farm surpluses.

3. It could become a bold arm of American foreign policy countering Communist propaganda that we give generously only of the things of war.

The survey shows that our food surplus could be distributed to the free world's hungry at a cost of five cents per day per person given a full ration. Addition of 500 calories a day to the diets of the many peoples whose food intake is insufficient, could be accomplished for two cents per person per day or less.

With all this in mind, the National Advisory Committee advocates a worldwide food crusade to distribute our surpluses as a major arm of our international diplomacy.

We believe this committee has the right idea. Our food surplus now is so enormous that it could feed every man, woman and child in this country for a year. In our opinion we can't afford not to adopt some such sane solution of this ever growing problem.

Showy But Ineffective

Officials in Thailand, acutely aware of the Communist menace next door in Northern Viet Nam, have decided that henceforth red should be an unpopular color.

One of the first results was a change in the Garuda, the mythical Siamese heraldic creature, half bird and half man. Formerly this emblem always appeared with golden body and red wings. Now it has blue wings.

A far more noticeable change has affected Thailand roofs. In the past the country has shown a decided preference for red tile. From now on all new government buildings will have green roofs.

Unfortunately, as the Swiss Review of World Affairs points out, Thailand's anti-Communism is showy and impractical. For example, the government persists in its policy of keeping rice prices at 30 per cent above the world market.

The official idea was that starving neighbors would have to buy. But it didn't work out that way. The high price stirred Burma and Indonesia into greatly increased rice production. Now much of Thailand's rice remains unsold and is rotting.

Not only is the country going into the red on rice but Communists are making effective propaganda out of this display of official greed.

Add this to your list of things not to worry about: A Canadian astronomer predicts that 11 billion years from now the temperature of the earth will be 1,000 degrees F.

Medic Is Air Test Hero

A Nation advancing with ever greater rapidity into the jet air age, as we are, is fortunate that it has men like Lieut.-Col. John Paul Stapp, an aero-medical scientist.

In the interests of determining the best type of ejection apparatus for pilots of jet planes, he risked unknown hazards in a rocket sled speed test. The sled ran on a track 3,500 feet long. The period of acceleration was five seconds and the top speed attained was 632 miles an hour. From top speed to water brake stop took 1.4 seconds.

Col. Stapp later said that as a result of the pressures to which he was subjected, he was blinded for eight and a half minutes and had two black eyes.

During the five seconds of acceleration he was subjected to pressure of nine Gs, or nine times the force of gravity. This blacked out his sight for two seconds but didn't interfere with his thinking. From top speed to stop he was subjected to pressure of 27 Gs.

Col. Stapp isn't ready yet to say whether it would be safe for a jet pilot to bail out flying 1,000 mph at 35,000 feet. His desire to make another test at higher speed emphasizes that many problems of the jet age remain to be solved.

Not all the heroes of aviation are fliers.

Sample of Property Worth Boosts in Oakland County

Jan. 4: Final day for Christmas present swapping at Pontiac stores.

A sample of changing values in Oakland County real estate is found in the case of 100 acres in Troy Township, purchased in 1904 by now of Birmingham. It was known as the farm, and Mr. Moore went in debt for a good part of the purchase price of $8,000, and for a time felt a little shaky about his investment. Today the value of that 100 acres exceeds a quarter million.

Robert J. Moore,

A belated Santa Claus letter comes from

who now adds that his dad forgot to mail it, "but it's OK because I got what I wanted anyway."

A pedigreed dog owned by

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Crawford of 704 West Commerce Road, has given birth to 25 puppies in two years, many of them having been given to children for Christmas presents. All have good homes, especially "Rinty" who has a red blanket with his name embroidered on it.

The two oldest graduates of Michigan Agricultural College, now Michigan State College, have died within a few days of each other. The oldest, of Ithaca, N. Y., who graduated in 1882, died Dec. 24, exactly one week after

Dr. L. H. Bailey

Leslie A. Buell

of Holly, a member of the Class of 1883. Both were 96 years of age.

A native of Oakland County has been chosen dean of Delta Theta Phi fraternity, said to be the largest of its kind in the nation. He is of Detroit, who was born at Holly in 1907.

I have it directly from

Earle S. MacPherson,

Ford engineering vice president, that the aerial surveys of the new 4,000 acre proving grounds a few miles northeast of Pontiac, have been completed, and everybody is more than pleased with the natural advantages of the area.

Communism Is a Vicious, Ungodly Life; Wake Up, America, Urges Ralph Keeling

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Communism as practiced in Russia is a vicious and ungodly way of life. The leaders do not trust each other and know that there is always a knife at their own back. Some of our leaders listen to their promises and seem to believe them. I, for one, do not believe anything they say.

Any system built upon godless belief is eventually bound to fall and there is always a chance that when the collapse comes the good will be destroyed with the evil.

If the United States and its allies do not wake up to the fact that we are becoming too materialistic, worshiping and making money our god, Communism will sweep over us the same as it has the rest of the world.

Materialism, with the selfishness and greed that goes with it, can never save us. There is no man-made system or man-made religion that can save us. We need the help of a higher power.

Everyone who read the account of the accident to Bobbie Dunn and its accompanying circumstances, must have been struck with its horror and despair.

'Herbert' Gives Reasons Why He Is Proud

Reading the Voice of the People, I noticed the rather weak question, "What have you got to be proud of Herbert?" I could write page after page about that question. So here are a few lines.

I am proud of being a Republican voter. I am proud that I omitted the Democratic X such as the Big Three War Lords. The issue pertaining to the oil tidelands, power, etc. is a mere nothing, compared with giving away our sons, never to return. Wilson, Roosevelt, Truman—put them in the Hall of Fame? What for?

That is my question. Boy! Oh boy! Soapy for President.

Some Nursing Homes Won't Release Elderly People; Want Their Pensions

"White slavery" is going on regarding elderly people in some of our nursing homes. Ruby was thus kept prisoner for two months after she was well and should have been released, because the nursing home was making money out of her. If Mrs. Crane hadn't pushed the case, Ruby would still be a prisoner.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-313: Ruby A., aged 77, has been a member of my Bible class for 16 years.

She is a little old lady with a brilliant mind and a remarkable vocabulary. In her youth she went to college and for a time also studied medicine.

But for the past several years she has lived in a small room and has received an old age pension of $51 per month.

During the early winter she fell and cut her face. Infection set in and she developed a high fever.

She wrote a postcard asking for me to call on her, but I was out of town on a lecture trip, so I didn't get to see her for a week.

Mrs. Crane and I then called on her after I had taught my Bible class that Sunday. We took her some canned food and I gave her some medicine.

But I left town the next day for another speech in the South, so her landlord had her taken to a nursing home, which was probably a wise idea.

There she was treated for her infection, and in a couple of weeks she was as chipper as ever.

But when Ruby wanted to go back to her own little room, the head of the nursing home wouldn't permit it.

He told her she was in need of further medical attention. Ultimately, she mailed a postcard to the secretary of my bible class, asking us to help free her from slavery.

For she said she was well and perfectly able to go home, but that they were keeping her against her will.

She also said they would hold her there till she died, to get her $51 per month pension, plus another monthly sum of about $100 from us taxpayers via additional welfare assistance.

Some of the members of my Bible class went out to see her. They tried to get her released, but to no avail.

Then I returned to Chicago and the following Sunday after I had taught my Bible class, Mrs. Crane and I stopped to visit her.

She seemed to be O.K. in health and was up and around, as spry as ever. In fact, she walked up and down the corridor 25 times to prove to us that she was perfectly healthy.

So Mrs Crane called the head of the nursing home next day. He gave her the run-around, saying he couldn't release Ruby until her physician placed an O.K. on the deal.

So I called the doctor, and he tried to tell me that Ruby was in bad shape and senile and verging on insanity, etc.

I shut him up by telling him I had called on her the day before and that she was both sane and as healthy as she had been during the preceding 15 years while she was living in her own room at a lodging house.

He hemmed and hawed and then passed the buck to the superintendent of the home, saying he couldn't release her without the latter's O.K.

Mrs. Crane was getting steamed up by this time, and so was I, for I resented both the imprisonment of this able bodied American woman, and I doubly resented the extra $100 per month we Chicago taxpayers were being soaked to keep her in this nursing home when she didn't need nursing.

Mrs. Crane finally got the name of the welfare worker who had handled the case and he told Mrs. Crane she could take Ruby out of the home at any time but he needed a week's warning to get her case cleared up.

Meanwhile, an old family friend had invited Ruby to visit her for a few months, so Mrs. Crane drove down and got Ruby. Then we sent her to the neighboring state to visit her friend and she is now happy.

David Lawrence Says:

Business Affected Most by International Situation

WASHINGTON—This is the moment when forecasting the business outlook for the new year is customary, and the usual analyses based on expectations of sales and demand are issued with a good deal of optimism. But the one factor which stands out in the present post-war epoch as having most to do with the ups and downs of business is the uncertain international situation.

By the slender margin of 27 votes out of 547 cast—which means a shift of 14 could have changed everything—the French Assembly agreed to go along with the rearmament of Western Germany. If a future French cabinet changes the policy again, the demand for bigger armament expenditures here would be irresistible and budget balancing would be abandoned.

The United States is in the midst of a prolonged armament cycle. Recessions and booms are the direct result of the ebb and flow of government spending. Prices shot upward when the government demanded a larger and larger share of production for defense purposes, and it was only in the latter part of 1954 that the nation was able to readjust from the four-year upheaval caused by the Korean War.

It is not healthy, of course, for any country to be bolstered constantly by an armament economy. The reason more concern isn't expressed today is that almost everybody has come to the conclusion that the present period of tension will last for a long time. Hence something approximating a condition of artificial stability is accepted as likely for several years.

Whenever an economic equilibrium is reached for any reason, the forces of modern business tend to adjust to an ensuing period of steadiness even in the face of ever-present factors of uncertainty which can suddenly alter such a course.

If it isn't the international situation which can upset the apple cart, it could be the tinkering with the domestic situation by political influences.

Some of the present stability, for example, has been achieved by a reduction in taxes and the dissemination of added purchasing power to the public as a whole. If, however, the spenders in Congress dominate the new coalition of left wing Republicans and left wing Democrats who are expected to rule the coming session, it is possible that a new cycle of inflation will be introduced.

The Eisenhower administration's fiscal policies have been conservative to date, and to a large extent the confidence that prevails in the business world is due to a belief that a steady hand is at the helm. But it remains to be seen whether the Democrats who already are talking about new excess-profits taxes and increased exemptions from taxes in the lower income brackets will disturb that confidence.

All economists concede today what they didn't accept as fundamentally controlling years ago—namely, that the government spending inside this country is the biggest single influence on the economy. But they will have to recognize a supplementary factor—expenditures abroad and trade policies.

The international economic picture has been improving through the flow of billions of American dollars abroad. But a large part of that money is spent for American-made products, and this in turn tends to swell business volume inside the United States.

Tariff changes could produce spotty unemployment. In theory, tariff reductions usually win wide support but, the moment a Republican or a Democrat finds it will hurt employment in his district, he ceases to be a "moderate progressive" or a "progressive moderate" or whatever the synonym for a rubber stamp in behalf of the White House happens to be.

The prospect is for good times in 1955 in a popular sense, but it's in 1956—the presidential election year—when this is to be all-important. The forecasters are not looking that far ahead now. About all they say is that Business looks good for the next six months and maybe for another six months afterward.

What they really mean is that in an uncertain world it is well to keep one's fingers crossed and hope that the cold war in Congress and the cold war abroad will not produce new complexities for the business world.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

New year resolutions are still in force. Possibly because most of us mistake a headache for willpower.

Pledges signed on a night club paper hat are not legal instruments in the sense of the tournament. Our local police solved the problem of towing the derelicts into port by making the chalk lines wider.

We figure 1955 as a banner year. We will be waving it instead of carrying it. This season our enemies will back up like water in Beaver Valley.

Just heard from Eddie Rickenbacker on his Texas ranch. He is as optimistic as a fisherman's cat. We figure he knows conditions and we are glad he finally put windshield wipers on his smoked glasses.

Our prognostications for 1955 are based on the yardstick of history. The United States is as powerful as garlic in a kitchenette.

Best news though is Eddie Rickenbacker is afraid everything is going to be all right. We happen to know that Eddie is as conservative as blue serge and as cautious as an elephant on a rope bridge.

You wouldn't think it was the same fellow who won the Indianapolis Speedway race about fifty years ago. You can't picture him as the chauffeur who drove General Pershing during the start of the AEF invasion in 1917. And you wouldn't imagine for a dull moment that Eddie was one of the first World War aces of the Lafayette Escadrille.

Today Eddie doesn't sit down until he counts the legs on his chair.

But he's always been as right as the answers in back of the book. So when he predicts 1955 is going to be a good year you can lay in your supply of sun tan oil and finish off that attic.

We feel the same way about 1955 in the greatest land of all time. We iron out gimmicks in this country for the free and equal right to make our own wrinkles.

My only one, so wonderful . . . So noble and so true . . . I do not measure you in terms . . . Of seasons or of flowers . . . I only want to capture now . . . Each moment that is ours . . . Staff Doctors in 19th Century Hospitals Resent Talk About Natural Childbirth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I am especially thankful for your teachings on natural childbirth. Before I discovered your column I was content to go along with whatever was the accepted practice in this area. But after reading just one of your articles on the subject, I will be content with nothing less than following your ideas to the letter.

It wasn't hard to win my husband over to your way of thinking, even though many of our friends do not believe it is right. (That doesn't concern us in the least.) We've even found a hospital which permits the prospective father to be with his wife while their baby is being born. (Signed —).

The writer of the letter names the hospital but it is a 500-bed hospital in a city from which the trick specialists and kil-NICK racketeers had me banished because they didn't like my teachings, and I'm afraid the lady will find that her husband will not be permitted to be with her at the supreme moment, though I hope these prospective parents are right about it.

The doctors and others in 19th century hospitals resent all this newfangled talk about natural childbirth, rooming-in, etc., just as their predecessors resented the introduction of asepsis in obstetrics. Oliver Wendell Holmes shot off his mouth about that and became a blankety-blanked so-and-so to many of the big shots of the day.

In 19th century institutions where rules and regulations are coldly and rigidly enforced on the customers it is customary to leave the mother-to-be alone during the first stage of labor, with the casual promise that the nurse will look in from time to time. For the mother expecting her first baby this is likely to be terrifying, especially if she has not had any proper instruction about childbirth.

"We are convinced," says Herbert Thoms, M. D., of the department of obstetrics and gynecology, school of medicine, Yale University, "that a woman's sense of security is enhanced by just being alone when she is in active labor, that she prefers to be in a private room, and that for most women the presence of the husband adds greatly to the sense of assurance and comfort." At the same time Dr. Thoms said (J.A.M.A. Sept. 4, '54): "If the mother desires she may have her husband with her until she is moved to the delivery room." Well, anyway, the boob is not kept in the monkey cage until the nurse comes to announce what it is.

A Yale Maternity Center study of more than a thousand women who used the natural childbirth method showed that "labor has been shortened, there is less abnormal bleeding and a lessened incidence of maternal fatigue."

There's much more to say about both natural childbirth and rooming-in — they are not the same — but for fear of being amputated before we finish we'll stop here and tell you more another day.

Signed letters not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to discuss diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

1954's Top Local News Stories Reviewed

The year 1954 has joined the parade of history—the march of people and events that goes grandly, blindly onward in a procession of alternating light and dark.

To a newspaper, time is measured not in days, but in deadlines and editions. Here, passing once more in review, are a few of the headline-making stories from the 301 editions of 1954:

January

January, dawning cold and still on New Year's morning, began rather quietly, as months go. The big stories that started off 1954 that first month included the arrest of two 17-year-old boys who wound up the old year in a wave of 25 burglaries and 15 car thefts.

Eleven Waterford Township High School boys were barred from scholastic athletics for three months because they accepted jackets from the sponsor of their summertime baseball club—tainting, according to state authorities, their amateur standing.

General Motors lent a hopeful note with the announcement of a $1 billion expansion program, and Pontiac Division added that its share would be a new sheet metal and press plant. Truck and Coach Division would share in the program, with additions to several plant buildings.

February

One of the year's biggest stories began in February when rank-and-file members of the Pontiac AFL Teamsters local began a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court, charging union officials with mismanagement of funds.

Thirty-eight persons were arrested at a cock-fight in Independence Township. The mercury skidded to zero on Feb. 12 in the coldest snap of the season.

Thawing ground and heavy rains caused some $55,000 damage to Oakland County roads, and several women reported seeing flying saucers.

Two fires, only a few days apart, caused damage of $350,000 at a Royal Oak wholesale plumbing firm, and $125,000 at the Benson Lumberyard in Pontiac.

March

There was a local angle on the nation's biggest story in March, when 17-year-old William Goodman of Pontiac, a page boy in Washington, was an eyewitness to the shooting of Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) and other congressmen by Puerto Rican terrorists on the House floor.

An 8-inch snowfall was dumped on Pontiac March 29, snarling traffic and causing three deaths.

General Motors announced it would triple the size of its Milford proving ground, and Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. garage and parts department on Mill street was razed by an early morning blaze that injured seven firemen, destroyed 18 new cars, and cost an estimated $700,000.

City teachers won $257,500 in pay raises, but the Board of Education expected a $650,000 deficit by mid-1955 and reached for the aspirin bottle.

April

In an upset in April, 13,855 city voters ousted four incumbents in the city commission race. The electorate approved raising the city tax limit, but failed to give the hospital bond issue a necessary 60 per cent vote. The commission elected William W. Donaldson from the Third District as mayor to serve through 1956.

Hugh Cox, 21, of Pontiac was arrested in Dearborn with $45,700 in loot from a bank holdup. Cox, an escapee from Oakland County Jail, was picked up on a tip from city detectives David Brann and Mahlon France.

A month-long controversy, both local and national, over the Salk polio vaccine, ended when 17,000 county school children got the shots.

The city ended a court battle started back in 1952 by agreeing to pay Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. $78,000 for land to build a municipal parking lot on Parke street.

May

Children figured prominently in many of May's big stories. They happened this way:

Three Avon Township boys, the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Keel of Auburn road, perished in an early-morning fire.

A Bloomfield Township boy, Barry Joe Moore, 2, provided a lighter note when he drove off with pop's car—stopping when a tree stubbornly refused to get out of his way.

For beating her 3-year-old daughter, Mrs. Lois Ann Cottrell, Royal Oak, was sentenced to serve from 20 to 40 years in prison.

Violence flared in the efforts of AFL Teamsters to organize drivers of Pontiac Cab Co., and a different sort of violence cut electricity in 700 Oakland County homes when 50-mile-an-hour winds toppled trees across roads and power lines, causing widespread damage.

June

June was a month of weddings and warm weather, among other things, but the best story was about a chimpanzee who didn't like his basement apartment.

The ape, lodged in the cellar of C. R. Rock's Novi road home, howled and terrified neighbors, who complained with the result that Rock, an animal specialist, was forced to find other quarters for his screaming simian.

Four persons drowned as 75,000 flocked to county lakes on the weekend of June 13, while storms knocked down power lines several times during the month.

Pontiac Motor Division produced its 5 millionth car, 325 Pontiac high school seniors received diplomas, and Mayor Donaldson laid the cornerstone for the new city hall, all in the 30 days of June.

July

A great many good stories made up the front pages of July.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta was fired by the township board for "political activity" and lack of cooperation.

An immediate storm, of protests, including signatures signed by citizens both protesting and supporting the board's move, split the township into two hotly opposed camps. Van Atta, denying any misconduct, said he merely was backing what the board felt was the wrong candidate for sheriff in the county primary.

A mass meeting was scheduled, and the controversy raged.

Mayor Donaldson deposited the first nickel in a parking meter at the new municipal lot on Parke street.

Gordon F. Wyrick Sr., 41, and five Benton Harbor passengers died when his plane crashed in the mountains of Tennessee. He was owner of Gordon Flying Service at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Quick action by attendants averted a possible tragedy when fire swept over the Bloomfield Hospital, near Pontiac. Forty-five patients in the institution were evacuated in 10 minutes, and no one was injured in the $60,000 blaze.

Ford Motor Co. purchased a 4,000 acre tract in Macomb County for a new proving ground, ending speculation over the huge real estate deal that had been a subject of endless rumors for more than a month. The price—upwards of $4,000,000.

August

Waterford Police Chief Frank Van Atta emerged victorious in his month-long battle with the township when the board voted to reinstate him only hours before a public hearing was scheduled.

Waterford residents—4,000 of them—had signed petitions protesting Van Atta's ouster as police chief for what the board called "disloyalty and lack of cooperation."

Karen Hoff, 18-year-old Pontiac High School senior, was named Miss Pontiac, then won the Romeo Peach Festival title. She went to Washington with peaches for Ike and Mamie, reigned at numerous city functions during the year.

In the county primary election, Frank Irons upset incumbent Clare Hubbell for the GOP sheriff nomination, and voters turned down the courthouse issue.

Five young people were killed when their car hit a tree on Rochester road in Troy Township, while seven died in Oakland County over the Aug. 8 weekend for a new high in traffic deaths.

September

Labor Day made a big part of the September news, with an address by Gov. G. Mennen Williams at Murphy Park setting a theme of political activity that waxed hotter as election Tuesday drew closer.

The temperature hit 98, high for the summer.

Donald J. Roller, 23-year-old Detroit plumber, was arrested for setting a chain of fires in Oakland and Macomb counties that caused damage estimated at $10,000 so he could help the firemen.

Oakland County supervisors passed a record of $6,690,468 budget, but cut the tax rate from 5.25 to 5.14 mills because of increased valuation.

GM Truck and Coach Division got an order for 1,000 trucks from Railway Express.

October

The weather, 1955 Pontiac cars, the United Fund drive, and a captured embezzler, made headlines in October.

The month had hardly started when a torrential 4-inch downpour flooded basements, stopped traffic and broke through the roof of Arthur's store, causing $12,000 damage to merchandise alone.

The month set a new all-time record of 9.33 inches of precipitation.

A new line of Pontiacs was introduced, featuring completely new bodies and V-8 engines, and before the year ended, sales and production both were to reach all-time highs. A public showing included a motorcade watched by thousands who braved chilling winds.

Pontiac's United Fund drive, with a goal of $525,823, opened and was given a healthy sendoff with $100,000 from General Motors.

Eugene A. Parmenter, former broker who fled in 1953 when police sought him for questioning on charges of embezzling $50,000, was captured in Oklahoma. Police Chief Herbert W. Straley returned Parmenter to Oakland County Jail, and he later pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve from 7½ to 10 years in prison.

November

Republicans made a clean sweep of county offices. The hospital addition was finally passed, but the courthouse got thumbs down again. City employes got their pension plan.

General Motors built its 50 millionth car, and 55,000 attended open houses marking the event at three divisions here. A civic luncheon heralded the event, and the entire state paused to pay tribute to an unparalleled achievement.

After being extended, the United Fund drive went over the top Thanksgiving Day.

Three young vandals, who broke into Woodhull Lake cottages and caused $30,000 worth of damage, were arrested. They all entered guilty pleas, after juvenile court jurisdiction was waived, and will be sentenced early in January.

George Washington Carver School in Royal Oak was closed by irate parents in a protest over the way the board of education conducted its business. The trouble was settled with the election of a new secretary.

Doreen Buckton, pretty 25-year-old Pontiac State Hospital patient, jumped to her death from a 12th floor window of the Pontiac State Bank Building.

December

An estimated 50,000 turned out to see the Christmas parade, and Pontiac Christmas Savings Club members counted $1 million in returns. Yule mail jammed the post office, and Goodfellows made $3,200 selling a special edition of the Press to make Christmas merry for underprivileged children.

Girl Scout Mary Lynn Gravello, 14, of Waterford Township went to Washington to invite Mamie Eisenhower to the 1955 scout roundup at Highland Recreation Area.

After five persons were killed in a headon crash on M24 north of Oxford, residents of the community entered a strong protest against a long-standing hazard called "Slaughter Hill," where many other accidents have occurred in the past.

Six Oakland County residents were indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with FHA frauds, and on the day before Christmas, eight members of the Thomas Littlefield family lost all their possessions in an early morning fire that leveled their Brooklands home.

John P. Sheridan, 27, Pontiac State Bank teller, pleaded guilty to taking $7,000 over the past two years and making false entries to conceal the shortages. He offered to make restitution.

Lt. John Brown, 28, a native of Virginia, was killed instantly when his Saberjet crashed in a field near Holly. He was on a routine training flight from Selfridge Field at the time.

MOTHER GOOSE—1

Old Mother Goose,
When she wanted to wander,
Would ride through the air
On a very fine gander.

So goes the rhyme of Mother Goose, a storybook lady more than 200 years old. Almost everyone knows of her. The cheerful old lady usually is pictured in a tall hat and an old-fashioned gown. Today's picture, showing her sailing along on a big gander over the hill, can be cut out to rock along your table.

Indiana Crash Is Fatal

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Evelyn Nichols, 61, of Dearborn, Mich., was injured fatally New Year's Day when an automobile driven by her husband, Raymond, 61, went off the pavement, plunged into a ravine and hit a tree on Indiana Route 3 south of Greensburg.

Earthworms are found all over the world except in frozen regions, dry, sandy soils, and certain parts of the North American prairies.

'Suspect' — Chapter 24

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

That question about who might want to kill her brought the old woman's harsh laugh. She seemed to think that was the only answer necessary.

"Did you have a talk with Miss Wister before you made your announcement after dinner last night? And by the way, I thought you worked around the the suggestion of hiring me very cleverly. Or was that rehearsed?"

"The point," Mrs. Oswald snapped, "is whether or not you're accepting employment."

"I'm working for Mrs. Kit."

"That may be no hindrance," the old woman said. She plucked at the covers, pulled them higher. "You saved my life last night. You owe me something for that. You're young. You can use money, and I have plenty. I want to know! Why did you save my life if you're going to let my last years be clouded with fear and suspicion?"

Jim said, "All right. I'll go on with my investigation. But just for your information, if Mrs. Kit is guilty of murder, I won't protect her. Or any of your family."

There was the familiar glint of macabre humor in Mrs. Oswald's eyes. "Conscience," she murmured She went on, "Better include Philip. He's almost a family member, by—by—" apparently she couldn't think of the word she wanted to use.

"The first thing," Jim said, "is that I'll want to know the exact relationship that exists here."

Mrs. Oswald nodded. She let her eyes close, appeared on the verge of sleep.

"Agnes Argyle is your daughter?"

"Yes. I suppose she blurted that out last night? Well, let her tell you the rest of the story then. Poor Aggie. She really went to pieces, didn't she? But I'll give orders. They'll talk to you, tell you the truth or they'll answer to me."

Jim went to the kitchen. He found Philip Stoneman puttering around with a coffeepot. Philip got a cup and filled it.

"There isn't any cream," Philip said. "And I've been a busy boy dumping out all the sugar. I've heard arsenic mixes well with sugar."

Jim sipped the black coffee. "Gregory Stoneman was a relation of yours?"

"Brother. When he died, I took over his job."

"Including Mrs. Hilton?"

Philip nodded. "If you want to put it that way."

"So now, you're almost a member of the family?"

Philip grinned. "Just on the Carlson fringe, you might say. When I'm really in, I won't have to use any self-discipline. Like the rest, I can just let myself go, show my truly sweet nature to the world at large."

"You'll develop the Carlson conscience?" Jim demanded.

"Working on it now," Philip admitted. "Really working on it. Handy place to have your conscience, in a glass case in a summer place where you don't even have to see it 11 months out of the year."

"You think your brother was murdered?"

Philip hesitated a little on that one. "The Carlsons themselves are to blame for my suspecting one of them killed my brother. They all acted as if they had gotten away with something. Don't make any mistake about one thing, chum. The Carlson women may fight among themselves, but they keep it that way."

Jim nodded slowly. He remembered Mrs. Kit's statement she wanted evidence on Mrs. Hilton for use only "in the family circle." He knew now that his employer thought Mrs Hilton guilty of the California murder.

Stoneman appeared to read his mind. "And don't count on Mrs. Kit, chum. She'd toss you to the wolves in a minute if you do any little thing the Carlsons, and old Mrs. Oswald in particular, don't like."

"Like proving Angelica was murdered?"

Philip's smile was a sneer. "Now you're beginning to act like a smart little man."

Dunn asked bluntly, "Have you made up your mind now as to whether your brother was murdered?"

"Yes. I've made up my mind. I'm not too stupid about some things."

"It was you who turned the sign around the night I first came to The Spires? It was you who put the barb wire in the strategic place?"

"The sign, yes. The wire, no. Just lucky chance it was there, I guess."

"You know you might have wrecked my car by misdirecting us?"

Philip shrugged. "I couldn't care less, chum."

"Who told you to change the sign and not let us in the locked gate?"

"Angelica asked me to," Philip went on. "No matter what you think, I liked Angelica. She always had a raw deal as far as I could see. She told me she wanted to get something out of The Spires and didn't know when she'd be able to get away."

"She knew someone was coming to The Spires?"

"We all knew that, chum."

"Mrs. Oswald is going to give orders for everyone to cooperate with me."

"I'm a great little guy for taking orders."

"Why?" Jim demanded, then went on to answer his own question. "Don't tell me. Let me guess. Money. An attractive woman. An easy life."

"You're catching on, chum," Philip said, smashing his coffee cup in the sink.

Breakin Mystery Cleared Up Here

Bank Robbers' Arrest Leads to Loot From 20 Burglaries

Through questioning two bandits who robbed a bank near Trenton recently, Pontiac Police today said that 20 Pontiac house burglaries have been cleared.

Detective Olin Hoffman said that most of the stolen property taken from the homes has been found in the home of Raymond Smart, 27, of 1834 Stumpmeyer, Flat Rock, who is being held in Angola, Ind., on a second degree burglary charge.

Smart is also wanted in Flat Rock for armed robbery and violation of parole in Ypsilanti.

Hoffman said that one of the bandits said they had bought the holdup gun from Smart last November. Police had earlier reported the .22 caliber pistol stolen from the home of Arthur McClellan of 51 Bennett St. in a Thanksgiving breakin here.

Although Smart is wanted by police here on burglary charges, said Hoffman, he probably will be tried by Angola authorities. Smart had served a 7½-year prison term at Jackson. He was sentenced in 1946 from Washtenaw county, according to police records.

A gallon of sea water contains a little more than a quarter of a pound of salt.

Star Raps Noisy Eaters in Moscow Audience

MOSCOW, Jan. 3 (AP) — American movie fans annoyed by the crackling of popcorn bags can sympathize with S. Mezhinsky, famous actor of the Moscow Maly Theater. Russian theatergoers sometimes eat ice cream cones so noisily he can hardly hear his own lines, he writes in the newspaper Evening Moscow.

Foreigners who have attended Moscow theaters understand his complaint. In some theaters there is lots of eating in the spectator seats—sandwiches and sausages as well as sweets.

Indian Woman Hangs for Poisoning of Three

NEW DELHI (AP) — The proprietress of a Delhi sterility clinic was hanged today as the jealous murderess of three of her employes she suspected of having a romantic interest in her husband.

Rattan Bai Jain, about 35, was the first woman ever executed in India's capital and the first woman hanged since the British freed India 7½ years ago. She was convicted of giving poisoned candy to her teen-age victims.

Uninvited Feline

CHICAGO (AP) — The Anticruelty Society received a call about a cat being left in a locked, parked car. It was traced to Ralph McGoogan, who said the cat was not in his car when he parked and locked it and, further, he never saw it before. The society took custody of the cat.

Earth Closest to Sun Tuesday

Daylight Will Last Hour Longer by End of Month, Professor Says

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Tomorrow morning is a good one for sun bathing, if the clouds stay away, and you can do it indoors.

Astronomist Hazel M. Losh at the University of Michigan says that the earth will be closer to the sun tomorrow morning than at any other time in 1955.

This is not a matter of inches either. Associate Professor Losh says the earth will be two million miles closer to the sun than on any other day of the year.

And she has some hopeful words for the persons who feel that the months after the holidays are just so much waiting for sumer.

Days will begin to lengthen in January, until finally they are an hour longer than the short December days.

But for Professor Losh, the nights are important times because she can then follow the wanderings of the planets. Mars, she tells us, will be visible in the southwestern sky in the evening.

The red planet will set on the western horizon between 10 and 11 o'clock (E. S. T.). Jupiter will be rising earlier, until, in late January, it will come up at sunset.

And just after sunset will be a good time to see another planet, Mercury, invisible near the sun during the day, will be seen in the West for about an hour after the sun goes down for the last week in January.

MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS PROOF YOU CAN SPARE YOUR FAMILY DAYS OF SUFFERING FROM COUGHS OF COLDS

Here's Relief So Different It Will Change All Your Ideas About Cough Syrups

Six Leading Cough Syrups Tested in Medical Center. Results Vital to You.

Never before could any leading cough syrup promise you so much. Think of it! A new kind of cough syrup specially made, not only to relieve coughing faster and more completely, but also to shorten the duration of the cough!

Here are Facts:

After testing six leading cough syrups on patients of all ages for two years in a prominent clinic, doctors published their findings in a Medical Journal article. They reported that new Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup was not only the "best of the preparations tested," but also cut the duration of coughs of colds by at least two full days.

Right now . . . with colds threatening, these findings are especially important to you.

Cetamium is the Answer

One reason why Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup is so effective, the report concluded, is that it contains Cetamium. This remarkable new penetrating ingredient carries relief-bringing medicine to the cough-irritated crevices of the throat. There, it medicates as it penetrates. In addition, Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup also works through the system to speed breaking up of the cough.

Proved Safe for Children

Doctors also learned that Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup was the only cough syrup tested that did not upset the stomach of any patient, regardless of age. This feature, plus its pleasant flavor, makes it ideal for children.

So spare your child days of suffering from coughs of colds. Use new, more effective Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup.

MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS:*

Matched, point for point, against five other leading cough preparations, Vicks Cough Syrup:

1. Helped reduce the duration of the cough by 2 full days.
2. Started to bring relief 20% faster than the average.
3. Brought more complete relief from coughs.
4. Was the only preparation tested that did not upset the stomach of a single patient.

STATE FARM CUTS RATES ON COMPREHENSIVE, COLLISION INSURANCE!

"Comprehensive" and "Collision" rates have been cut by percentages shown
If you own a private passenger car and live . . .	Comprehensive	80% Collision	$25 Deductible	$50 Deductible	$100 Deductible
in the DETROIT metropolitan area	NO CHANGE	5.1% LESS	4.9% LESS	4.9% LESS	5.3% LESS
anywhere else in MICHIGAN	8.8% LESS	5.0% LESS	4.9% LESS	4.7% LESS	4.0% LESS

In certain parts of Michigan, State Farm is also revising rates for BI & PD "Liability" insurance—the insurance that protects you in instances where you are legally liable for damages caused.

Members who live in the GRAND RAPIDS metropolitan area will receive a cut of 19.4 per cent . . . members who live in the counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon, or Schoolcraft will receive a cut of 11.8 per cent in their rate.

On the other hand, members who live in the FLINT metropolitan area, or in certain parts of Bay, Genesee, Midland, or Saginaw Counties or anywhere in Clare County will receive slight increases in the cost of their BI & PD "Liability" insurance. In no case will this increase amount to more than $2.40 each six months (for standard limits).

Commercial vehicle rates for BI & PD "Liability" insurance have been cut by 18.9 per cent everywhere in Michigan except in the DETROIT metropolitan area.

Members cash in on the savings their own careful driving makes possible

State Farm Mutual—"the careful driver insurance company"—has just finished the regular review of its rates in Michigan.

Throughout the state, it is reducing rates on many coverages to reflect the reduced cost of insuring its members.

These coverages include:

"Comprehensive"—the insurance that helps pay for loss of or damage to the insured vehicle from almost any cause except collision or upset. It covers fire, windstorm, theft, and many other perils.

"Collision"—the insurance ("80%" or "Deductible") that helps pay for damage to the insured car resulting from an accident.

Specific rate reductions are indicated in the table to the left. For present State Farm members, they become effective on the date next premium is due. They apply for all new members on and after January 3, 1955.

Now you can save even more money with State Farm's "careful driver insurance"

State Farm auto insurance has always been priced below the cost of ordinary auto insurance. These new rate cuts make it an even better buy.

The cost is low because State Farm deliberately aims to insure careful drivers only. Careful driving holds down accident costs.

With State Farm auto insurance you also get fast, fair, friendly claim service . . . the convenience of semiannual payments at no extra cost . . . the peace of mind that comes from dependable protection. State Farm insures more than 3 million cars—more by far than any other company in the world.

So if you're a careful driver—if you want topnotch protection at rock-bottom rates—talk to your State Farm agent now. You'll find his name listed under "State Farm Insurance" in the yellow pages of your phone book.

Says Commies Bore in Basic Industries

FBI Chief Urges Constant Watch Against Subversives

WASHINGTON (INS) — FBI director J. Edgar Hoover warns that hard-core Communists are boring into such basic American industries as steel, automobile, chemical, electrical, and shipping.

The man who in his more than 30 years as director has built the Federal Bureau of Investigation into a massive bulwark of national security sounded the warning in a question-and-answer exchange with International News Service.

America's top investigative official, who became director of the FBI in 1924, has no intention of retiring in the foreseeable future. He is in vigorous good health at 60 and is wholly dedicated to his career of public service.

Here are the questions and answers which cover the highlights of Hoover's three decades as FBI chief and which give eloquent expression to his faith in a better, safer, happier America:

Q. In your thirty years as director of the FBI, what has given you your greatest satisfaction?

A. Three matters come to mind. I recall the concern which was manifested by leaders of government in the early Thirties over the rise in power of the lords of the underworld.

An attitude of defeatism sweeping the country changed overnight when it was demonstrated that the FBI with a comparatively small force of men could secure evidence of their crimes and a determined prosecutive policy of the Department of Justice demonstrated that with this FBI evidence, gangster leaders could be sent to prison.

As a result, the underworld which they ruled was conquered. This brought an end to the era of gangster glorification.

Henceforth, the gangster was to be viewed for what he really is — a cringing coward when exposed in his true colors.

Secondly, when the clouds of World War II were lowering, a wave of hysteria broke out of fear against fifth columns and enemy assaults within the United States. Through alertness of law enforcement agencies, spear-headed by the FBI, no enemy-directed sabotage occurred and enemy espionage was controlled in World War II while civil rights were preserved in the American way.

Thirdly, the manner in which the work of the FBI has been supported and backed by presidents, attorney general, the Congress and law abiding people everywhere has contributed largely to making the FBI the career service that it is today recognized as nonpartisan, obective, and fair in all of its activities.

Q. What is your estimate of the present total strength of the internal Communist subversive force within the United States?

A. At the present time the Communist party has a total membership of roughly 24,000. These numbers may not seem large, but we must always remember that Communist power is not measured in number alone but in organized fanaticism, preverted reasoning and dedicated to a cause. These 24,000 members are hard core Communists.

Q. What is the present status of the internal security of the United States against the constant, insidious subversive activities of the Communists?

A. The Communist party, U.S.A., has been hit hard since 1948. To date, a total of 134 Communist leaders have been indicted under the Smith Act. Eighty-one have been convicted. The party has been kept on the deefnsive. This must be continued and never again should we drop our vigilance.

However, the party today still remains intact. Following historic Communist principles, it has gone underground and is working undercover. Well-organized Communist underground apparatuses have been formulated. Money is still available to them in large quantities.

The best way I know to combat this menace is through education. When the facts of the American way are presented and compared with the Communist way in the market places of free speech and thought, I have no doubts as to the outcome — the American way will prevail.

Q. Is the Communist party still interested in the nation's basic industries?

A. Most emphatically. The party today may be underground but all the time it keeps paramount the tactic of infiltrating basic industries such as steel, automobile, chemical, electrical, shipping.

A program of "colonization" is being employed, whereby young party members are being told to secure jobs in industrial plants.

I consider this program one of the most dangerous being conducted by the party.

The FBI has seen how young members, often husband and wife, are required to leave their homes in one state and, often disguising their backgrounds, go into another area and secure jobs. There they represent themselves to be loyal Americans. They are not openly active in the party and attempt to work themselves into more responsible jobs, join the union and gain the confidence of fellow employes.

Q. Have you any advice to law enforcement agencies, parent, school authorities or community leaders for meeting the challenge of the present-day problems of juvenile delinquency?

A. There is no doubt as to the gravity of the problem. What is needed more than anything else is a determination to give youth a chance to be decent.

If our young people are taught the difference between right and wrong, the fundamentals of life the virtues of hard work, thrift, integrity, self-reliance, and personal responsibility and, if they are given examples of decency on the part of their parents, adults, and all who come in contact with them, they themselves are more likely to be decent.

The many fine youth-serving organizations such as the boys' clubs, girls clubs, 4-H clubs, YMCA, YWCA, Catholic Youth Organization, the Boy and Girl Scouts, YMHA and the other fine agencies should have the fullest support of adults and youth should be encouraged to take part in these constructive and worth-while programs.

Q. Can you give any advice on this same problem to the youngsters themselves?

A. Yes, first of all, boys and girls, be decent and learn that you can make of your life what you will. Seek the guidance of your parents, ministers, teachers and youth leaders. They are concerned about you and know what is best for you. Set your sights high and never be content with any activity until it is as nearly perfect as possible.

Q. From your vantage point of thirty-odd years of law enforcement, can you give the American people a message on what individuals can do to reduce crime, promote respect for law and safeguard our heritage of freedom?

A. Law and order, like charity, start at home. Let the American people as individuals live decently, respect the rights of others, obey our laws and carry out the commandments of God — if we all did this — our heritage of freedom would be assured for the generations to come.

Keego Harbor Man Hurt in Two-Car Collision

Arthur Dalrymple, 31, of 2355 Willow Beach, Keego Harbor, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for scalp cuts received Saturday in an auto collision on Orchard Lake road at Woodrow Wilson street, West Bloomfield Township.

Dalrymple was a passenger with Louise B. Lair, 35, of 3132 Kenrick, Keego Harbor.

Edward Chruscz, 36, of Detroit, driver of the other auto, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he lost control on icy pavement and skidded into the Lair auto.

Bower birds of Asstralia and New Guinea, allied to birds of paradise, are named from bowers or arbors built by the males.

Congress Gets Prayer Room

Remodel Capitol Office to Provide Quiet Place for Meditation

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in 167 years of congressional history, senators and House members this year will have a special, secluded room for quiet meditation.

Capitol architect George Stewart said today the meditation room, authorized by Congress last year, will be ready for use when Congress meets Wednesday.

The idea is to provide a completely private, quiet, restful spot—in the midst of, yet somehow removed from — the tensions and pressures of politics and legislative action.

An office just off the Capitol rotunda—halfway between the House and Senate—has been remodeled for this purpose. It is only about 17 feet square.

It will have a large blue and white stained glass window, lighted from behind. Workmen in California's 21st congressional district are volunteering labor in off hours to make the window. The design will show a candle symbolizing light; a scroll representing the Sermon on the Mount; and an open book, symbolizing the Book of the Law.

The window will be put in place soon. The rest of the room has been completed.

A large plain oak altar stands in front of the window. A green carpet extends out from the altar. Restful chairs, spaced along the soft blue walls, will be separated by small wood screens for more complete privacy. A table near the entrance will hold Bibles, prayer books, and other reading materials.

Carrier Under Way After Hitting Tanker

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The aircraft carrier Monterey, its hull split 20 inches above the water line in a collision with a tanker, prepared to proceed today to Mobile, Ala.

No injuries were reported from the Monterey's collision with the British tanker Hartismere yesterday in the fog-shrouded Mississippi River.

The 14,500-ton Monterey was here for the Navy-Mississippi football game in the Sugar Bowl Saturday.

The Navy had no information on damage to the Hartismere.

MARTHA BROWNING

The engagement of Martha Browning to David Lawson Noe has been announced. She is the daughter of Mrs. Albert J. Browning of Bloomfield Hills and the late General Browning. The Hon. Alton H. Noe and Mrs. Noe of Mt. Clemens are his parents. The couple are juniors at Michigan State College where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and she is a member of Alpha Phi.

Often-Sudsed Curtains Last

Curtains that are sudsed frequently give better service and certainly enhance any room. For easier laundering, tuck them into a pillow case and baste the edges together.

When it comes time to rehang the curtains, try rotating them, since different amount of sunlight come in through different windows.

Also, to get longer wear from your curtains, try turning the panel upside down to prevent exposing the same portion of the fabric to the more intense sunlight that filters through the lower half of the window — usually unprotected by the window shade.

Word Record Set by Writer

LOUISVILLE, Miss. (UP)—Mrs. R. H. Glenn, 83, estimates she has written more than 2,500,000 words about her community during the 48 years she has served as correspondent for the Winston County Journal.

Mrs. Glenn moved to Naxapater when the town was only one year old and has recorded its history for two generations. She has missed only two weeks of sending out copy.

The correspondent who writes all her copy in longhand, says she has no use for such a thing as a typewriter.

Don't Let Tooth Flaw Remain

How long the dreary old wives' tales hang on. One specter is vanquished, only to reappear in some reputable location, clothed in all the disguise of learned language.

The ones that last the longest are hung on our fears. It's no surprise, since the dentist looms high on our list of unpleasant duties, that myths about teeth persist.

One otherwise-smart twentieth century housewife shrugged her shoulders at the prospect of an approaching tooth extraction.

"Oh, well," she said, "a tooth for every child."

This cruel superstition, rather than making her take better care of her great beauty asset, makes her resigned to dental misery in the cause of family-building.

Your dentist is the man for teeth. He knows you and he knows your teeth—the latter better than the former, perhaps. He should get a good look at your teeth and X-ray them every six months.

I. be doesn't notify you, call and make an appointment during the week you've marked on your calendar. Make them for husband and children, too.

And as for the pregnancy, your diet should be good and strong in the things that build teeth and bones, for your baby's teeth and bones, for your baby's starting from scratch. And you should go and see your dentist to be sure the tiniest flaw is taken care of.

Silver is so malleable that it can be beaten into sheets which are only 1/100,000th of an inch in thickness.

Umbrella Rack Will Be Handy

There's a limit to how many wet umbrellas your family and guests can pile into the bathtub of a rainy day.

How much tidier to invest in a new umbrella stand that looks as smart as your new hat—such as a deep sailcloth bag set up on chrome legs. Rubber tips protect your floor and the bag, plus umbrellas, can be folded up during a dry spell.

The cloth container is soap-and-water washable, color fast, and a cinch to keep free of mud splashes.

Wash Bead String

If you intend reviving an old string of those again-popular loopy beads, give them a wash first. Baste them to a turkish towel and dip up and down in lukewarm suds. Scrub with a soft complexion brush. Let them dry right on the towel.

'Wardrobe' for Beauty Aided With Peg Board

The "little wardrobe" is everywhere this year. With boutiques blossoming on every city corner, women are taking delight in collecting little wardrobes of scarfs, jewelry and blouses.

So what could be more natural than gathering up the beauty tools here and there about the house and having a little wardrobe for beauty? Get them together, discard the worn-outs, replace and keep track. Then, if you're the organizing kind, you can have a special place to keep them all.

A pegboard might be a help here, since bathroom walls are notoriously hard and crumbly for getting hooks into. With a good-sized pegboard, you may rearrange and sort your beauty tools and keep them at hand.

Check over what you have and consider the following possibilities: a long-handled back brush, a hair-brush, cosmetic brush, nail brush.

Others not in the brush category are: cuticle nippers, a pumice stone, tweezers, shampoo goggles, a face sponge, a body sponge, powder puffs, a comb and a magnifying mirror.

And, if your washbasin is beginning to look over-tenanted, how about adding your toothbrush and cup? Your washcloths can go here, plus safety pins.

If the board doesn't fall off the wall from the weight, it's mighty convenient.

Actually, there's no need to go overboard if the idea overwhelms you. But many bathtubs are littered with assorted brushes and washcloths that have no real home. A snappy pegboard could provide an easy-to-find location.

Such a pegboard for the kids' bathroom could be a real boon to teaching youngsters order. Try drawing the outlines of the brushes on the board for easy replacing.

Care for Piano

When you're rearranging your furniture, don't settle the piano near the window. Sudden temperature changes injure tone and woodwork. Same goes for radiator or floor heater.

Girl Should Fight Own Battles

He Needn't Worry if She Continues Turning Boy Down

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl and I are going steady, and lately my friend has made it quite plain that he would like to go with her. He has been a good friend and I don't want to cause trouble, but I'm afraid something is going to happen if he doesn't leave my girl alone.

I know she doesn't want to go with him, but he still pesters her to death, always asking her for dates. When she refuses, he won't take the hint. What should I do? Maybe give him a slight hint myself?"

Who's being pestered in this jamboree? I suspect that your girl friend is enjoying it thoroughly! She's flattered to death that your friend wants to date her. She's not annoyed by his invitations. You are!

You're fit to die with worry that he might wear her down sometime. You want him to respect your status as her steady beau. You want to tell him to keep hands off.

But your girl is the best one to do that. She's the one who gets the invitations, and has to turn them down—because of you. She's the one who should announce that she's perfectly content to date only you for the time being, and your job is to make quite sure that she is. Double your efforts to make her feel that steady with you is the way she wants it. Then she'll send your friend packing.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We two girls want to know if we did the right thing. There are five of us who run around together. Two of us were chosen to be in our class play, and the three others, not wanting to be left out, formed a trio.

The dress rehearsal went off fine, then Sally announced that she wouldn't sing that night because her new suit hadn't come.

"The trio was saved by a big-hearted girl who stepped in, and with barely an hour of practice, went on in Sally's place.

After the show, Sally came backstage and told her substitute she was awful! The next day she announced that she'd take her own place in the trio if her new suit came. (We found out her mother had told her she wouldn't get her a new coat if she didn't sing!)

It burned us up. We decided we'd had enough of her selfishness, so we told her bluntly what we thought of her. We decided not to make up with her until she apologized to the girl whose feelings she had hurt. We right?"

You're right to champion the hurt one. You're right to voice your disapproval of Sally's behavior. But you could have let it go at that. Get things patched up all around quickly—otherwise you'll probably never help Sally learn to be a good sport.

She Earns Money by Walking Dogs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Recently, right in my own neighborhood, I have encountered a young mother wheeling her baby along the park and walking a dog.

Now, that doesn't sound too unusual, of course. But the funny thing is that each time I saw her, she had a different dog!

The first time, early in the morning, she had a cocker spaniel trotting along by the carriage. At lunch time, it was a large black poodle. Later in th afternoon, it was a Welsh terrier.

By this time my curiosity got the better of me, and I chatted with her about it, thereby discovering yet another pin-money hobby for young mothers!

Eleanor L., as she introduced herself, walks people's dogs while she is walking her own baby, and gets a small weekly fee.

"It all began," she told me, "when my husband absolutely refused to get me a dog. He thinks it's cruel to have them in the city. But I love dogs, and I hated the thought of waiting years and years till we get our house in the country. It was so tantalizing, too, because in this neighborhood there are so many dogs.

"Well," she continued, "I just naturally got to patting all the dogs we encountered on our walks, and chatting with the owners. I'm out all morning wth the baby, and a couple of hours in the afternoon. So I got pretty well acquainted with both the owners and dogs.

"One day, the owner of the poodle, a very nice woman, stopped me and asked if I would do her a favor. She had visiting relatives, and for three days she would be showing them the city. So she wondered if I would be kind enough to walk the poodle once in the morning and once in the afternoon, for those three days. She said she knew he liked me, and it would help her out so much. Also, she insisted on paying a nice fee.

"It was such fun that I told her later to call on me any time.

"Then I had an idea; there must be plenty of such dog owners who occasionally needed help, and maybe some who would like it regularly I approached those I knew and told them about my idea, and I got one more customer immediately.

"Now the word is out, and doormen at the big apartments often ask me to help out one of the tenants in their building. I have some 'regulars' and some 'occasionals', the baby loves it, I make money from it—and instead of one dog of my own, I have a dozen!"

Old Recipe Starts New Year

Mrs. LeMond Uses Coconut Milk for Cake and Frosting

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

To start 1955 we have a coconut cake recipe that is at least 150 years old. It comes from Mrs. Edwin E. LeMond. It may be made with either fresh or dried coconut.

Although Mrs. Le Mond used to travel extensively, she must relax a great deal of the time now, so does armchair traveling with books. She does all the charity she possibly can from her home. Sewing, embroidery and baking are all hobbies she can still enjoy.

COCONUT CAKE
By Mrs. Edwin E. LeMond

1 package (or ½ pound) coconut
1½ cups milk
1 cup sugar
3 level tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg, well beaten
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Soak the coconut in the milk for 1 hour. Squeeze it well and use 1 cup of the milk for the cake, the rest for confectioners' sugar frosting.

Cream the butter or margarine, add the sugar and egg. Beat well. Add coconut, milk and dry ingredients and beat well. There is no vanilla in this cake. Bake in a greased loaf tin 35-40 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

In a crowded dining car it is quite all right to sit down at a table where someone else is seated. But it is courteous to say to that person: "May I share your table?"

A truly courteous person never forces himself on anyone.

Let Friends Know You Want Club

Seek Their Advice, They Might Make You an Offer

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "My husband and I moved to this town several months ago. We have met several of the people here and like them very much. However, most of the activity centers around the country club. We are not members of this club and therefore miss out on a good deal of the social life.

It is rather an exclusive club and in order to join it is necessary that our names be put up for membership. I would like to know if it would be proper to ask several of our new friends to recommend us for membership in the club?"

This depends upon how well you know them. If they are definitely friendly you could ask their advice as to what to do about joining the country club and someone will probably volunteer to put up your name for membership.

Dear Mrs. Post: It is the custom of the school to which my daughter goes to hold their commencement exercises once a year, in June. My daughter will complete her four years of high school in February but will not receive her diploma until June when she returns for the graduation exercises. I would like to know if it would be proper to give a graduation party for her now or would it be better to wait until she officially graduates?

Since your daughter will have competed her high school education in February, there is no reason why you may not give a graduation party at that time, if you want to.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married at 6 o'clock in the evening and the men will wear tuxedos. However, none of the men own tuxedos and therefore they will have to rent them. I would like to know if the bridegroom is responsible for the rental of these clothes.

No. All of the wedding attendants pay for their own clothes. If any of them cannot afford this expense they will have to decline to take part.

New Jersey is the only state whose governor serves for a three-year term.

Every girl has two lines—the one men look at and the one they have to listen to.

Helen Keller Can Help You

Feeling Sorry for Yourself Today?

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

My dear Helen Keller:

The American Society for Overseas Blind has kindly invited me to the dinner your friends are giving on Feb. 1 to say Godspeed because you are soon journeying to the Far East on behalf of the handicapped of the world. I want very much to come to that dinner, for every time I've had occasion to be near you, I have gone away with hope higher, faith stronger and a firm resolution to try to be a better person.

This is the effect you invariably have on even the most cynical and frivolous. They are surprised and perhaps a little ashamed of the wonder and tenderness that sweep over them when they look into your beautiful face and hear your voice that, I think, is more precious to the world than that of Caruso, Schumann-Heink and Melba rolled into one, for yours burst like a miracle out of silence, darkness and heartbreak.

I've never forgotten the way you described yourself in your life story, the bewildered, chaotic suffering of that little creature shut off completely from the world, who could not see, could not hear and so could not possibly know what speech was.

I think you are the greatest person I have ever met, Helen Keller, and if I seem fulsome, remember the little anthology of poems about you that came out 20 years ago—more than 75 of them, one for every year you have lived.

I suppose such a thing has never happened to any other person—not to a president nor a prime minister nor a king—that the most vocal and sensitive amongst us should spontaneously use their gifts to praise a single human being.

"Somehow I do not think of my handicaps or anyone's when I see you," said one. A Japanese poet declared that you speak with your spiritual tongue like a star. Another poet writing about you at a dinner where others were speaking, some striving for wit, some exploiting their own cleverness, others heavily impressive, said that you arose—Helen Keller, who never hears her own voice nor any voice, who never sees the sun or any human face—and out of her changeless darkness and inner silence spoke, every word a triumph, an achievement, a wonder.

But even more than what has been said about you, Helen Keller, I value what you have said. Once I kept a little book and put your words down. "I believe in immortality," you wrote, "as instinctively as the fruit in the seed."

Again—"Faith never despairs," you soliloquized. "Every calamity, every thwarted longing is a plowing of the heart, turning its sod to the sky so that something fairer may spring up and blossom."

Once, when I was very blue because of a great disappointment, you, though you never knew, comforted me with "defeat is nothing to be ashamed of; it is routine in digging the gold of one's personality."

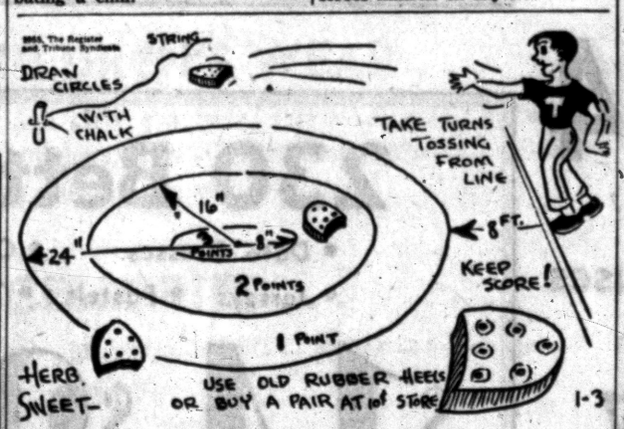

But I would not have anybody think that you who can be so gay are always serious. There was the lovely time you went backstage after seeing Peter Pan and, to Mary Martin's astonished delight, crowed better than Wendy.

And there was the night I saw you clap your hands joyously when you heard you had made a perfect score surpassing those whose business is rugs, by identifying without a single mistake a great mass of priceless Orientals just by feeling them with your sensitive fingers like antennae.

God speed, Helen Keller, on your mission, as usual, for others.

New Pitch Game Is Fun

How would you like a game for indoor fun? Here is one which will be fun for you and your friends.

Put your heels together for a new game! Perhaps you have an old pair of heels around the house, or you can buy a pair at the dime store. You will need three circles drawn on the floor, so this means that you will need to use the basement or the back porch.

Ask one of your friends to hold a clothes pin right where you place a dot, then measure on a string 8 inches, tie your chalk at this place, then go all around the pin making a circle 8 inches from your dot. Do this for a 16-inch circle and for a 24-inch circle. Take turns tossing the two heels at your target, but stand 8 feet away. The circles count 1, 2, and 3 points. The first person to reach 25 is the winner.

This can also be used on your gym floor at school. Tell your teacher about this game, she may be interested in it.

People Must Get Along Without Special 'Care'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Psychoanalyst Karen Horney has recounted an interesting experience she once had with herself.

During World War II, she was flying from Mexico to New York. In a small Southern town, priorities commandeered her plane seat. Though she accepted the rule, she was infuriated by its aplication to her. She saw the long train ride ahead of her as an intolerable imposition.

However, people trained in self-knowledge don't just passively accept anger and discontent for themselves. They discover why they feel them. Accordingly, this expert set herself to consider her extravagant reaction to inconvenience.

She located its cause in the claim to exceptional treatment by life. And so she enjoyed her train trip.

If the rest of us were as skillful in relating our angers to the claim for exceptional treatment by life, we could reduce the statistics on ulcers and high blood pressure.

The other night, this claim drove Mr. A. to blow up in a temper he cannot afford. His son brought home the car with a dented fender. In a rage, he forbade its further use. Though ordinary parents have to consider the possibility of accident when they lend their cars, he doesn't. He is an exceptional person for whom all traffic hazards must be suspended when his son takes out his car.

This is the kind of claim that makes housework stupid drudgery, Jimmy's lie a humiliation and any disappointment an unbearable affront:

It's born in spoiled childhood.

As children, we are not conscious that our parents are forming our future claims on life. So when they permit us to use charm, talent and bad temper to evade mistakes and work, we do not know that we are concluding, "I rate special treatment." And only after suffering, wake up to see that our angry discontents are the result of expecting exceptional treatment by life.

Only then do we have the sense to sit back and enjoy the train ride.

Petticoats Hint at Strong Style

NEW YORK (UP) — Petticoats continue into winter-time popularity even with the new kilt-length skirts. The short petticoats, designed to show, include bright plaids and solid colors with pleats, flounces, ruffles and lace or net frills.

The kiltie skirt has revived another fad — snug-type pants as colorful as petticoats, but not designed to show. Fitted knit pants have contrast trims, plaid ribbon banding, rosettes and fringes in bright and dark colors.

Use care in washing the new underpinnings. Nylons, orlons and dacrons of tricot and woven versions should be washed by hand in warm suspends. Don't wring, twist or rub the synthetics, for this may "set" creases.

After a couple of rinses, let them drip dry on hangers. Finger-press ruffles, pleats and trims while the garments are wet. Taffetas can be pressed on the wrong side with a cool iron while they're still damp.

Use a washing machine if you wish on the cotton or synthetic knit pants. Squeeze out excess moisture and hang on a rack to dry. Shape any fancy trims with fingers while the garments are wet.

Ohio Youth Held in Sister Killing

Strangled, Nude Body of Teenage Girl Found in Thicket

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old boy was held for questioning here today in the strangling death of his sister—younger by one year—whose nude body was found in a thicket north of Galion Saturday.

Crawford County Prosecutor John D. Sears Jr., says he is holding Frederick Spears, of Galion, in county jail.

The body of the youth's sister Patricia, 16, was found about 125 feet from a road by two teen-age hunters.

Dr. B. P. Mansfield, county coroner, said an autopsy showed the blue-eyed young high school sophomore was strangled both manually and probably with a cord shortly after she was reported missing Friday. He said she had not been sexually attacked.

Sears said Frederick told him he last saw his sister Friday morning before he left for work at a sewing machine agency.

The prosecutor said the youth was several hours late for work that day, but explained his absence by saying he had to go to Bucyrus for some equipment for his car.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spears, could give no explanation for the tragedy.

Sears said Frederick had spent a year in a private Michigan correctional institution after a Juvenile Court decision on an arson charge. The youth was released last July, Sears said.

Clark had admitted loading a panel truck with lumber and shingles from new homesites on Berwick boulevard near Avon road Dec. 19.

Gets 2 Years Probation

Fred Pagel, 18, of 6211 Newburg, Wayne, today was placed on two years probation and assessed $100 costs by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty after Pagel admitted last week taking a car Sept. 30, 1954, in Novi Township.

Faces Assault Count for Threatening Wife

A man who threatened his wife with a shotgun after an argument over a supper menu was charged Saturday with felonious assault, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

William Dennis, 51, of 629 Markle Ave., is slated for examination on the charge today in Pontiac Municipal Court, said Long.

Dennis came home Dec. 29 and asked his wife, Louise, 42, what was for supper. When she replied, "soup," he got his shotgun from a closet and loaded it. She grabbed the gun which discharged during the struggle then ran from the house and summoned police.

Dennis told police he was getting ready for a rabbit hunt. The assault charge carries a maximum sentence of four years in prison.

Innocent Plea Filed for Breakin Suspect

Forest Phillips, 26, of 1773 Lombard, Detroit, today stood mute on a breaking and entering charge and Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty entered an innocent plea for him.

Phillips is accused of entering the Lewis Inn at 38410 Grand River, Farmington, last Nov. 31 with an accomplice and taking liquor, money and a television set. Judge Doty directed that a trial date be set.

In Municipal Court

Appointment of Policemen as Clerks to Cut Overtime

Municipal Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald today began swearing in 12 Pontiac police officers as deputy court clerks in a move to improve working conditions for policemen.

Members of the Police Officers Assn. had recently complained that too many off-duty hours were being spent in court without overtime compensation.

The four lieutenants and eight sergeants who will act as deputy court clerks will be empowered to take complaints and swear complainants in cases involving violations of city ordinances. But no other power or authority as deputy clerks will be granted to them.

Municipal Judges Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil McCallum explained that the officers will be unable to authorize warrants under the measure.

Both judges recommended the move last month to the association after the organization's grievance committee complained to the city that policemen were spending off-duty time in court without overtime pay.

The measure is subject to termination or change by McDonald and is governed solely by the court. The judges' statement notes that the officers' duties as deputy clerks are "free from any control by the Pontiac Police Department."

The officers, upon taking the deputy clerk's oath, will have to furnish a $1,000 bond each, said McDonald.

In addition to approving the new move McCallum and Finnegan also stated:

"We feel that police officers are entitled to the statutory witness fee, the same as any other witness, when they appear in court for trial, if their appearance is necessary at a time other than hours of usual duty."

The association and the court have designated the following as deputy clerks:

Lieuts. Rudolph F. Nartker, William A. Crisp, George T. Scott and Joseph Koren; Sgts. Claude Hodges, Claude A. Evans, Lawrence E. LaBair, Telton Rogg, Fred W. Goines, William F. Nesbitt, Ted C. Goines and Carl P. Colando.

Held are Lyndall R. Williams, 31, of the Hess street address and his wife, Elsie Mae, 35.

Light Traffic Cuts Accident Rate Here

Pontiac experienced a relatively light traffic problem during the New Year's weekend, according to Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Pontiac Police Dept.'s traffic and accident bureau.

Since Friday morning, only 16 minor accidents were reported, two of which involved slight injuries to two persons.

Nine drivers, however, faced drunk driving charges in Municipal Court and three others were charged with reckless driving.

Koren attributed the compartively high number of traffic arrests and few injury accidents to heavy patrol duty by the department's regular policemen and reserve officers.

SHIRLEY ANN LEWIS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Auburn Heights have announced the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Thomas A. Tuffin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tuffin of Auburn Heights.

Farmington Man Escapes Prison

County Officers Alerted After William Manros Flees Jackson Farm

Local law enforcement agencies today were alerted to watch for a former Farmington man, convicted of robbery unarmed, who walked away from a prison farm at Jackson last night.

William Manross, 26, was one of two trustees missing at a midnight checkup, prison officials said. He was sentenced Jan. 18, 1954 in Oakland County Circuit Court to three to ten years in prison by Judge George B. Hartrick.

Also missing was James. L. Brown, 27, sentenced to two-and-a-half to five years for breaking and entering from Kalamazoo County March 6, 1953.

Manross and a companion broke into a store at 30942 Grand River, Farmington, Dec. 17, 1953 and took goods valued at $338. The same day, the two assaulted a man in Royal Oak Township and stole $150.

Manross was arrested two days later and charged with larceny from a building plus robbery unarmed. He pleaded guilty to both counts. But sentence on the larceny charge was suspended.

Residents Seek Excavation Ban

Southfield Group Asks for Court Order to Halt Firm's Operations

Residents of Southfield Township on Southfield road between Eleven and Twelve Mile roads are attempting to get an Oakland County Circuit Court order stopping operations of the L. G. Nelson Excavating Co. on land near them.

They assert the firm is conducting a topsoil removal business on land zoned residential in Fruit Ridge Farms Subdivision. Residents claim the operation violates the township zoning ordinance.

Continuing the excavation would "adversely affect all of the nearby property (and) would create an eye-sore and a nuisance," they allege.

They claim the firm obtained no permit to remove top soil, as city regulations require, and the business spreads dust, congests traffic plus creating a danger to children.

No court hearing date has been set.

Rush Integration Military Asked

Services Told to Lift Color Bans in Schools on Posts by Sept. 1

WASHINGTON (UP) — Military officials were under orders today to use the quick rather than the gradual approach to ending segregation in schools for children of military pesonnel.

The Defense Department said it will push ahead with plans to lift the color bar in all military post schools "as soon as practicable," and not later than Sept. 1 despite Supreme Court delay on the overall segregation problem.

The high tribunal has not issued a decree yet on how or when segregation of white and Negro public school students should be ended and has scheduled new hearings on the question.

The Justice Department has advocated a local approach with federal courts determing the time and manner of integration.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson last January told the military to end segregation in a directive handed down before the Supreme Court ruled that public segregation is unconstitutional. Wilson set Sept. 1, 1955, as the deadline.

Two schools have been integrated since then. Two others have been closed.

Defense officials said the remaining 17 segregated schools "will be integrated on or before September of this year."

He'll Drive Faster in Next Stolen Car

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Gilbert Ahrens, 22, of Whittier, Calif., wound up in the custody of police—because he was driving too slowly.

Ahrens, a sailor attached to the USS McNair, was stoped by state police on Route 6 between Fall River and New Bedford for driving 10 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone.

Police said an investigation showed the car was stolen in Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 24. Ahrens was charged with larceny of a motor vehicle and having no registration in his possession.

Over-Eager to Help, Man Winds Up in Jail

BALTIMORE (AP)—When an ambulance stopped near his home yesterday, John Calvin Jones offered to help two firemen unload a patient. The firemen declined and Jones became demonstrative.

Police said the 42-year-old man ripped the rear door of the ambulance open, broke the hinges and challenged the firemen to a fight.

Again the firemen turned down his offer and Jones was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

Hal Boyle Says:

Beginning of a New Year Is Always Doubtful Thing

NEW YORK (AP)—Reflections of a Pavement Plato:

"Remember and go on!"

That is the average man's task as 1955 begins. It is the only way he can honor the past and embrace the future, too.

The beginning of a new year is always a doubtful thing. It is a fledgling time for both young and old. Little lovers and big businesses make huge decisions that mean a gamble on the days ahead.

It is a fine period for self-pity, this month when time and the stars and the calendar turn on a wheel of pitiless change.

That characteristic flower of mankind, good will, the late-blooming perennial, withers in the deepening winds of winter. Frost seizes the hilltops, mist the valleys.

Santa Claus has gone back where he came from. The children resume school and teacher.

And a man goes back to his job. He has to. Hunger is the maw that draws us all. He has to. He looks through a window to the iron thorn on a tree, the frozen nest in the crotch where the bough bends. He has to go back to his job.

The holiday is over. He's back in school, too. So is his wife. She's right back on the job, even though the holiday really never was quite a holiday for her.

But since a man can usually only feel truly sorry for one person at a time he prefers to feel sorry for himself right now. February is a good month to feel sorry for his wife. It only has 28 days.

The backlash of too much celebration whips back upon a man often now, and drowns his mind in guilt. His self-accusation for some sins imagined and others half-performed leads him to feel there is no real justice in the world, because, if there was, he would be in jail where he rightfully belongs, sharing a cell with all the other trash and human rubble of the world, including hit-and-run drivers.

Another point was made by a fellow who looked at the calendar and said:

"Why does the first day a guy has to go back to work in a new year have to be a Monday. Monday should always be a separate problem. It's enough by itself."

For those suffering from hangover remorse and New Year exhaustion, complicated by the Monday blues, we offer a prescription. Read the following three times, chasing each time with a deep glass of water, and seasoning with aspirin if desired:

"The torment is the same in country and in city. There is an escape. Help is in the heaven of your heart.

"Anyway, it isn't as bad as you think. You cannot scar the sky by anything you do on earth. You cannot wound a thing above you, and you can always bend and repair all else.

"The depth of your regret mirrors the height of your dreams. Remember, in a sunken today, that yesterday rode higher, and tomorrow will surge again. The reach for victory, like the beat of a heart, must pulse and pause ... and pulse again.

"Heaven does lie within your own heart. This year you will explore it.

"The world of 1955 lies terrible in vigor and lovely in hope before you."

Have a happy Tuesday!

The exhibit, "The Church in America," is designed to show the people of foreign countries the importance of religion in American tradition and culture. It was viewed by President Eisenhower before being sent to 77 countries abroad.

Composed of over 50 different panels, the exhibit was compiled by the United States Information Agency. It depicts the role of churches in educational and recreational program, community and charitable services, and church art and architecture.

The agency says use of the exhibition abroad "Will help demonstrate to the people of other countries that religion plays a vital role in American life."

A Year-End Telegram to the 10,000 Ford Motor Company Dealers of America

(Text of a message sent by Henry Ford II, President, Ford Motor Company, shortly after the close of business in 1954)

1954 was a great year for America.

We proved that we can have peace and prosperity at the same time.

1954 was a great year for Ford Motor Company, too.

In 1954, our domestic payrolls totaled more than $950,000,000, averaging better than $18,000,000 each week.

1954 was the best sales year in the 51 years we have been in business.

In 1954, the American public bought more Ford Motor Company passenger cars and trucks than in any other year. In total, our customers selected and purchased more than 2,000,000 Fords, Lincolns, Mercurys, Ford trucks and Ford tractors.

During 1954, the public swing to the Ford passenger car was clearly established.

Complete sales information for the industry is available, at this moment, only to November 1st.

For the first 10 months of 1954, more people bought Ford passenger cars than any other make. In fact, for the entire 15-month period from August 1, 1953, to November 1, 1954—a postwar period of free competition—the Ford car is first in sales . . . and our sales are continuing at a leadership rate.

We are proud of this record for 1954. We are grateful to the people who made the record possible—our employees, our dealers, our suppliers and, most importantly, our customers.

As still another great year for America begins, we remind ourselves that any achievements of ours are made possible only by the kind of country in which we live and work.

We believe that American freedom and American opportunity are the silent partners of all the individuals and all the companies that have helped keep this country always new, young, vigorous and strong.

He'll Drive Faster in Next Stolen Car

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Gilbert Ahrens, 22, of Whittier, Calif., wound up in the custody of police—because he was driving too slowly.

Ahrens, a sailor attached to the USS McNair, was stoped by state police on Route 6 between Fall River and New Bedford for driving 10 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone.

Police said an investigation showed the car was stolen in Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 24. Ahrens was charged with larceny of a motor vehicle and having no registration in his possession.

Over-Eager to Help, Man Winds Up in Jail

BALTIMORE (AP)—When an ambulance stopped near his home yesterday, John Calvin Jones offered to help two firemen unload a patient. The firemen declined and Jones became demonstrative.

Police said the 42-year-old man ripped the rear door of the ambulance open, broke the hinges and challenged the firemen to a fight.

Again the firemen turned down his offer and Jones was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP)—Reflections of a Pavement Plato:

"Remember and go on!"

That is the average man's task as 1955 begins. It is the only way he can honor the past and embrace the future, too.

The beginning of a new year is always a doubtful thing. It is a fledgling time for both young and old. Little lovers and big businesses make huge decisions that mean a gamble on the days ahead.

It is a fine period for self-pity, this month when time and the stars and the calendar turn on a wheel of pitiless change.

That characteristic flower of mankind, good will, the late-blooming perennial, withers in the deepening winds of winter. Frost seizes the hilltops, mist the valleys.

Santa Claus has gone back where he came from. The children resume school and teacher.

And a man goes back to his job. He has to. Hunger is the maw that draws us all. He has to. He looks through a window to the iron thorn on a tree, the frozen nest in the crotch where the bough bends. He has to go back to his job.

The holiday is over. He's back in school, too. So is his wife. She's right back on the job, even though the holiday really never was quite a holiday for her.

But since a man can usually only feel truly sorry for one person at a time he prefers to feel sorry for himself right now. February is a good month to feel sorry for his wife. It only has 28 days.

The backlash of too much celebration whips back upon a man often now, and drowns his mind in guilt. His self-accusation for some sins imagined and others half-performed leads him to feel there is no real justice in the world, because, if there was, he would be in jail where he rightfully belongs, sharing a cell with all the other trash and human rubble of the world, including hit-and-run drivers.

Another point was made by a fellow who looked at the calendar and said:

"Why does the first day a guy has to go back to work in a new year have to be a Monday. Monday should always be a separate problem. It's enough by itself."

For those suffering from hangover remorse and New Year exhaustion, complicated by the Monday blues, we offer a prescription. Read the following three times, chasing each time with a deep glass of water, and seasoning with aspirin if desired:

"The torment is the same in country and in city. There is an escape. Help is in the heaven of your heart.

"Anyway, it isn't as bad as you think. You cannot scar the sky by anything you do on earth. You cannot wound a thing above you, and you can always bend and repair all else.

"The depth of your regret mirrors the height of your dreams. Remember, in a sunken today, that yesterday rode higher, and tomorrow will surge again. The reach for victory, like the beat of a heart, must pulse and pause ... pulse and pause ... and pulse again.

"Heaven does lie within your own heart. This year you will explore it.

"The world of 1955 lies terrible in vigor and lovely in hope before you."

Have a happy Tuesday!

OSU's Rose Bowl Win 8th in 9 Years for Big Ten

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ohioans heading home from this sun-drenched land today were strutting just a bit.

Ohio State's 20-7 victory Saturday over Southern Cal in the waterlogged Rose Bowl—eighth Big Ten conquest in nine years over the Coast entry—gave the Midwesterners their latest chest-thumping excuse.

The Buckeye backers also had the last laugh on Californians who brag about the coast climate.

Among the Pasadena folk there was more moaning over the poor weather Saturday than over Southern Cal's loss. Rain fell on the Tournament of Roses parade in the morning and all through the Rose Bowl game in the afternoon.

Only 89,00 of the 102,000 ticket holders showed up for the contest, and some 5,000 cars were hopelessly mired in the stadium parking lots. Hundreds, after driving to the bowl, stayed in their cars and listened to radio accounts of the game.

The muddy going made it a sloppy game in every way. Players were not identifiable a minute after getting on the field, and Southern Cal fumbled the slippery ball seven times, losing it three. The Bucks scored after two of the recoveries.

Ohio showed definite superiority, piling up 22 first downs to 6 for the Trojans, the coast team getting only one in the last half. The Bucks gained 295 yards rushing to 177 for Southern Cal, sophomore Jon Arnett getting 123 for the coast club in 9 attempts, and All-America Hopalong Cassady moving 92 in 21 tries to pace the victors.

Coach Woody Hayes of the Bucks didn't endear himself to the coast fans with an after-game statement in which he rated Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State of the Big Ten ahead of Southern Cal. The Trojans finished second in the coast conference, losing only to UCLA in the league. The Uclans, in the bowl last year, were ineligible this time.

A lot of the coast writers, noting that Ohio State was named No. 1 and UCLA No. 2 in The Associated Press season-end rankings, had things to say about the game.

Dick Hyland of the Los Angeles Times, a former Rose Bowl hero, observed in print about the Bucks and Trojans:

"The UCLA Bruins could take them both on the same afternoon.

"If the Buckeyes are the best collegiate football team in the country . . . then the United States Marine Corps is a bunch of sissies."

UCLA defeated the Trojans 34-0.

Ohio did it 20-7 under far different conditions.

Perhaps the most amazing part of Ohio's performance was quarterback Davey Leggett's brilliant feeding and carrying the pigskin without once making an error or fumble.

His handoffs and pitchouts were perfect to all-America Howard Cassady, Hubert Bobo and Bob Watkins and one of Leggett's few passes sailed accurately to Watkins for a touchdown in the 2nd quarter.

In addition to the touchdown pass in the 2nd quarter, Leggett sneaked over for another touchdown in the same period. The Buckeyes' other score came in the 4th quarter when Leggett pitched to Jerry Harkrader and he legged into the end zone from the nine-yard line.

Perhaps the biggest thrill for the 89,121 rain-soaked spectators came on the Trojans' lone touchdown, when Aramis Dandoy took a punt and returned it 86 yards for a touchdown, the longest punt return in Rose Bowl history.

GAINS FOR OHIO—Halfback Bob Watkins of Ohio State slips away from a Southern California tackler to pick up eight yards to Buckeyes' 41 in Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. Halfback Jon Arnett (26) comes up to try to bring Watkins down. No. 74 is USC tackle Mario DaRe. Ohio State won, 20-7.

3 Teams Unbeaten

College Fives Move Back Into Loop Play

The Associated Press

The extracurricular holiday tournaments out of the way, college basketball gets down to the serious business of conference races this week.

For most of the schools, the 30-odd tournaments that dotted the nation for the past two weeks served merely as warmups. They are interested more in league titles and the resultant bids to the NCAA and National Invitation events in March.

So starting tonight, it's a brand new season. Only three major teams boast unblemished record—Kentucky, Auburn and Dartmouth. During the past week, no fewer than 10 undefeateds met their match.

Kentucky has looked so good winning seven games in a row that it's hard to see how any other club is going to beat it. Both Auburn and Dartmouth probably will taste defeat along the route. Auburn, in fact, must play Kentucky in Lexington Feb. 26.

The always-interesting Big Ten race moves into high gear tonight with four games — Indiana vs. Michigan, Wisconsin vs. Iowa, Ohio State vs. Michigan State and Northwestern vs Minnesota. Wisconsin and Illinois got the jump on the rest of the league last Saturday and that one ended in an upset, the Badgers winning 79-64.

But the Illini and Iowa still rank as the two teams to beat in the loop. If Wisconsin can get by Iowa tonight, then the Badgers also will bear watching.

LaSalle clubbed St. Louis 88-79 in the only major game played last night. All America Tom Gola scored 34 points for LaSalle, which probably will give Duquesne a tussle for the title of No. 1 independent in the nation.

Wings' Hustle Pays Dividends in Sunday Game

Fighting Detroiters Edge Canadiens, 3-2, in Important Tilt

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings won their most important game this season last night, and they did it with the oldest ingredient in sports: Hustle.

Fighting every second of the way, the Red Wings rallied for a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens, who thus lost a chance to take a stranglehold on 1st place in the National Hockey League.

Frenchmen came to town with an imposing 6-point lead. They had whipped the Wings 4-1 in Montreal on Saturday and another victory would have widened their margin to eight points over Detroit.

For two periods, the Red Wings did most of the work and Montreal most of the scoring. Canadiens led 2-1 going into the final period.

Red Wings kept on digging and hustling while the Canadiens went into a shell, hoping to protect their slender 1-goal lead.

Montreal's strategy didn't work. At 6:21 of the final period, Dutch Riebel cashed a 40-foot screen shot for Detroit, tying the score at 2-2. The crowd of 13,472—largest of the season—roared its approval.

But the Red Wings weren't satisfied. They kept the pressure on and Montreal, seemingly content with a tie, still played defensive hockey.

Dollard St. Laurent, Montreal defenseman, was sent off at 14:55 for holding. That gave Detroit the break it needed.

Red Wings stormed the Montreal net and, at 15:09, during a wild scramble, Red Kelly poked in what turned out to be the winning goal.

As time ran out the Canadiens belatedly tried to regain a tie but had no success. So instead of owning an 8-point lead, they went home with the same margin as they had before the weekend—4 points.

Jacober's Loss Hits Skippers

While full-scale activity on the high school basketball front doesn't resume until Friday, several area teams end the holiday respite Tuesday night. In the feature, Waterford goes to Birmingham still seeking its first victory.

Not only have the Skippers lost four straight games, but more bad news was forthcoming during the holiday layoff. The wrist injury, suffered by Bob Jacober prior to the season's start, has not mended as expected and he likely is lost for the season.

JACOBER
Jacober played parts of Waterford's first two games, scoring 16 points against Milford and 5 against Clarkston, but has been sidelined since. A 6-foot senior, he has been the Skippers' top scorer for two seasons and holds game and season scoring marks for the school.

Jacober's loss will put even more stress at Waterford on underclassmen. Dave Larkin and Joe Umphrey are the only seniors in the category of regulars.

The Skipper fortunes seem to rest with Jerry Kruskie, top scorer with 58 points; Jerry Harnack; Gary Meeker and John Woodman, all juniors, and Chuck Gillis, a lanky sophomore.

In Tuesday's game, Birmingham will be shooting for its 5th win in six games. The test will be the Maples' final non-league affair. Their lone loss was a 54-48 nod to Mt. Clemens.

John Petrakis' crew has hurdled Royal Oak, Troy, Southfield and Fitzgerald. Balanced scoring has been the key with Dick Sheldon, Ed Peters and Bill Watkinson taking turns providing the scoring lift.

Bob Goldsmith adds poise in the back-court and Bob Isbell, 6-3 sophomore, is showing progress.

The only other game Tuesday involving a county team has Clawson entertaining Center Line. It is a re-match of a Dec. 21 game taken by Center Line, 72-40. Lapeer, (1-2), sees action on its home court against Davison.

Scortichini and Dreyer Are Favored in TV Bouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Italy's Italo Scortichini is an 8-5 favorite to make Gil Turner of Philadelphia his fourth straight victim when they clash in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The handsome Italian middleweight, headed for a ranking soon if he continues his good work, attributes his recent successes to his new "American-style" attack.

"Here they don't count cleverness too much like in Europe," said Italo. "The fans and the officials like aggressive fighters who keep punching. I do that and win three straight. I hope to keep it up."

In Turner, he'll meet an opponent with the "American style." Winner of two straight, Gil just keeps coming and punching. It should be punching bee as long as it lasts.

Du Mont will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Gerry Dreyer, former British Empire welterweight champion from South Africa, is a 2-1 choice to beat New York's Joey Klein in the 10-round feature at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight. Dreyer has scored three knockouts in a row and has a 39-5-2 record. Klein, beaten in four of his six fights last year, has a 23-11-5 record.

ABC will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Houston, Titans Have Tough Job

Go on Road to Face St. Louis, Oklahoma Aggies This Week

ST. LOUIS (AP)—If Houston and Detroit hope to end the 19-year reign of Henry Iba and Eddie Hickey over Missouri Valley basketball, they must win on the road, and that's just where they face the two masters this week.

Hickey's St. Louis club entertains Houston and seven-foot Don Boldebuck Thursday night. Once-beaten Detroit Saturday plays at Oklahoma A & M, off to one of its worst starts in 20 years under Iba.

Wichita's gang of hot shooters, given the best chance to break the Iba-Hickey grip on Valley titles, open at home against Houston Saturday.

It's a trying road trip for Houston, which opened with a split at Detroit in the only two conference games played. In the All-College tourney at Oklahoma City, Cougars lost by only four points to Wichita and whipped Oklahoma A & M.

Detroit is unbeaten in non-conference games with its best club since 1950.

'Fish for Fish' Feeding Advocate Takes Proof of Plan to Conservation Meeting

LANSING (AP)—When Eddie Parker wants to tell you about a fish he caught, he doesn't give you that old "it was this long" routine with the outstretched arms. Instead, he brings the fish right along.

Parker showed up at a recent conservation commission meeting carrying a small valise. Inside, there was a good supply of chipped ice and a couple of his better trophies—lake run rainbow trout.

Parker, a fisherman from Whittemore, is an employe of "More Trout Incorporated," and he wanted to show the commissioners what can be done if you feed fish to fish.

More Trout Incorporated, formed in 1951, is composed of sportsmen who want to experiment with the idea of trapping trout upstream after spawning.

They hired Parker, who with the consent of the conservation department, built a dam on the east branch of the Au Gres River, about 18 miles upstream from Lake Huron.

With the commission's permission, Parker installed a grating in the weir and waited for the results.

Here's what happens:

Every year, in the latter part of April, the trout come up the river to spawn. They swim through the grating and start feeding on "offal," fish heads and tails which Parker gets free from commercial fishermen and dumps in the stream.

The fish grow to 10 or 11 inches. Too large to swim through the grating at the dam, they are trapped upstream and can't return to the lake.

That's where members of "More Trout Incorporated" come into the picture. By buying shares in the organization, they are allowed to park near the river above the dam and fish where the trout are trapped.

Parker said one of his specimens, which he tags in order to record growth, grew an inch in 12 days.

Another, he said, grew from seven to 14 ounces in 25 days.

The commissioners seemed genuinely interested, and agreed to look into the matter. But right now, it seems doubtful the state will adopt any of Parker's ideas on a large scale.

Too Many Mistakes Hurt Nebraska in Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mistakes, mistakes, mistakes.

The word was used often as Coach Bill Glassford and the Nebraska football team discussed their 34-7 loss to Duke's Blue Devils in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

"You can't make the mistakes we did and win a bowl game," said quarterback Dan Brown. "Duke has a fine club and you can't take anything away from them. Their offense was really varied and, boy, were they quick."

Don Comstock, who scored Nebraska's touchdown, said Duke got the breaks but "we made too many mistakes."

They didn't say a thing that their coach hadn't already said.

Some examples of what they meant:

Twice Nebraska passed deep in its territory. Duke fullback Bryant Aldridge intercepted one and it led to the Blue Devils' second touchdown. Glassford and Coach Bill Murray of Duke ageed that was the game's turning point. Halfback Nick McKeithan intercepted the other and Duke soon had another touchdown.

Once, at the Duke 30, with fourth down and 10 yards to go, Nebraska ran fullback Don Smith straight up the middle. He made two yards and Duke took over.

"We should have passed — or tried some wide stuff — anything but that," commented Glassford afterward.

Murray, proud of his team's fine showing, said he expected to have another good team next season.

"We lost some great seniors," he said, "but we have some fine young players coming up. We should be as good, and maybe better, next year."

Junior Hockey Tourney Opens

City's junior hockey tournament opened over the weekend with two games at the Northside rink.

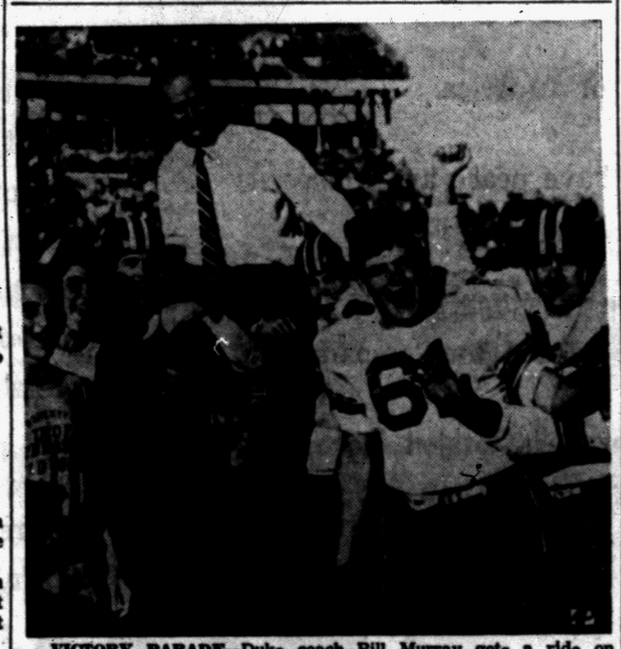

Tom Bryce scored four goals and Al Nestor and Bob Fargher added three apiece as Nestor's All-Stars routed Smith's Hawks, 14-0.

Ed Proksch accounted for both goals as Dick & Wes blanked Lake Orion, 2-0, in the 2nd game.

Smith's will take on Lake Orion at 8:30 a.m. and Nestor's will meet Dick & Wes at 9:30 a.m. next Saturday in 2nd-round action.

BAD BILL—St. Louis Billikens' Dick Boushka is the guy the opposition has to worry about. Boushka is touted as All-America timber in the Midlands.

VICTORY PARADE—Duke coach Bill Murray gets a ride on husky and willing shoulders of his team after Duke beat Nebraska 34-7 in Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.

Bowl Gridders to Start Drills for Senior Tilt

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Football stars fresh from major bowl and all-star appearances begin workouts for the Senior Bowl game Monday.

Forty of the 48 men who will turn pro in the sixth annual classic Saturday saw bowl or other game action.

As a result North and South coaches said they don't expect getting the players in condition for the weekend contest will be much of a problem.

Ohio State back Dave Leggett, end Dean Duger and center Bob Thornton were among early arrivals, along with Southern California's back Lindon Crow. These Rose Bowl foes will be North teammates.

Big 10 Contenders

At least two Michigan teams in spring sports are expected to be contenders this year. The tennis and golf teams both look to the top of the conference.

Gator Bowl Officials Satisfied With Game

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Gator Bowl officials, after seeing the other bowl football games, are satisfied they had one of the best spectator games and one of the truly outstanding teams in Auburn's 33-13 victory over Baylor.

They also were satisfied that the crowd of 34,408 on a Friday afternoon portends even better for the next two years when the game will be played on Saturday.

MSC Pucksters Win Over Tech's Sextet

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State overcame a 2-point deficit to beat Michigan Tech, 5-3, in a Western Intercollegiate Hockey League game New Year's Day.

Center Jim Ward, with a goal and two assists, led the Spartan attack as MSC scored four goals in the 2nd period and added another in the final stanza.

Fans Jam Detroit Gym to See Sugar

DETROIT (INS)—Biggest crowd in Motor City Gym history turned out yesterday to watch Sugar Ray Robinson go through a brisk workout in preparation for his battle with Joe Rindone at Olympia Wednesday night.

Robinson, former middleweight and welterweight titleholder, chose Rindone and Detroit for his 1st battle after coming out of retirement.

No Surprises Registered in Bowl Contests; Ohio State, UCLA Fans Continue Arguments

The Associated Press

The argument over whether Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes rated the national football championship over undefeated UCLA is about the only issue the Jan. 1 bowl games failed to decide.

None of the major postseason gridiron classics produced a real surprise even though Navy, which beat Mississippi 21-0 in the Sugar Bowl, relinquished the favorite's role after injuries and illness sidelined several first-string players.

Supporters of the Uclans, who finished a close second to the Buckeyes in the final Associated Press Poll, hoped Southern California would rise up and down Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. But the Big Ten champions went out to prove that they rated the No. 1 spot. True they defeated USC by only 20-7 compared to UCLA's 34-0 romp during the regular season, but rain during Saturday's game was not conducive to high scoring.

So the followers of Ohio State and UCLA will continue their arguments.

Duke was the favorite to whip Nebraska, Big Seven runner-up, and the Blue Devils came through with ease 34-7 in the Orange Bowl.

In the Cotton Bowl Georgia Tech was the choice to knock off 10th-ranked Arkansas. This the Engineers did 14-6.

The other major New Year's Day game produced a 13-12 victory for the Eastern all-stars against the West in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

The bowl competition started last Friday with favored Auburn downing Baylor 33-13 in the Gator Bowl.

There were those who said interest in the bowl games was decreasing. But there wasn't anything in the day's turnouts to back up their contention. More than half a million fans — 501,874 to be exact — turned out for 13 games played between Friday and Sunday.

The rain kept away some 12,000 who had purchased seats in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena but the granddaddy of them all attracted the largest crowd — 89,191. All of the other major bowls were sellouts, with 80,735 at the Sugar Bowl, 75,504 at the Cotton and 68,750 at the Orange. The East-West contest attracted 62,000.

Quiet Session Seen for NCAA Meeting

Star of Shrine Game Credits Ralph Guglielmi

Penn State's Bailey Says Notre Dame Ace Was His Tutor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Quarterback Don Bailey of Penn State, who was expected to do little more than spell All-America Ralph Guglielmi but would up as the game's most valuable player credits Guglielmi with "teaching me more in 10 days than I've learned all my football life."

Bailey was a big factor in the East's 13-12 victory over the West in the New Year's Day Shrine charity football game at Kezar Stadium. He turned his team of all-stars into a cohesive unit that played as if it had been a solid entry for three seasons.

The Penn State quarterback, who had never won an award before, received the William Coffman Trophy as the game's most valuable player. He said he cried "for the first time since I was a kid" when it was announced he had won the trophy.

Bailey, a second stringer at Penn until last fall, said he and Guglielmi spent long hours figuring "what would go" against the West.

The 62,000 fans who paid a quarter of a million dollars to the Shriners Hospital for crippled children saw Bailey lead the East 60 yards to a second-period touchdown after the West had taken a 6-0 lead on California center Matt Hazeltine's runback of a pass interception in the first period.

Bailey went over for the TD on a quarterback sneak from one yard out.

The East's other touchdown came on a fourth-quarter pass from Guglielmi to Purdue end John Kerr, who snatched the ball on the five and sauntered into the end zone.

Appropriately enough, it was another Penn State player—end Jim Garrity—who provided the one-point victory margin with his confersion after the East's second touchdown. Garrity's kick following the first score was blocked by Hazeltine.

'Long Handles', Coal Dust for Snowy Gridiron

MONTREAL (AP)—To prove there is something new, the goal lines were marked with coal dust and the players wore long red underwear and green pajamas in Canada's annual Garbage Bowl.

Coal dust was used when the gridiron was covered by a foot of snow Saturday. The players were from Montreal west high schools.

The Northern Combines, attired in the red underwear, won 11-6 over the pajama-dressed Southern Bombers.

The receipts, estimated at $1,000 go to the Montreal school for crippled children.

Gattuso Most Valuable

Erdelatz Finds Flaws Despite Navy's 21-0 Victory Over Ole Miss Saturday

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Not many persons will believe it, especially those from Mississippi, but Navy's football team did make some mistakes in Saturday's Sugar Bowl game which the Midshipmen won handily from the Rebels, 21-0.

Eddie Erderlatz, coach of the Sailors, took a glance at a series of pictures taken by a 70 mm Associated Press sequence camera and groaned "We missed an assignment there."

The play, despite the error, was good for nine yards with quarterback Gene DuBuisson, Mississippi center, was pulling him to the ground. The camera, perched atop Tulane Stadium, equipped with a 20-inch lense, was taking eight pictures a second.

"This is one of our most simple plays and somebody should have blocked that DuBuisson out of there before he had a chance to lay a hand on Welsh," said the coach.

Gattuso, voted the game's most outstanding player, also viewed the pictures and decided "that I didn't take enough advantage of my blockers or I could have gone further." Erdelatz didn't agree.

Gattuso, a 175-pounder who stretches only 5-10, carred the ball 16 times and gained 111 yards. He never was thrown for a loss. His deadly blocking freed John Weaver on several of the halfback's spectacular runs. His three punts averaged 36 yards each.

Erdelatz said that "desire" brought Navy its first major bowl victory. The Midshipmen tied in the Rose Bowl 31 years ago, their only previous post-season endeavor.

He wouldn't name a star, saying it was a team effort but did add that Welsh had called a near perfect game. The coach approved Welsh's decision to plunge on fourth down with one yard to go and Navy deep in its own territory in the first series of downs.

The Sailors will stay in New Orleans until Tuesday morning before flying back to Annapolis.

TECH PASS BROKEN UP—Paul Rotenberry (21) of Georgia Tech, attempting to catch a pass from teammate Bill Brigman in 2nd quarter against Arksansas at Cotton Bowl game in Dallas, Tex., is frustrated by Arkansas' leaping Joe Thomason. Tech won, 14-6.

Missouri Rates Big 7 Favorite

Tigers Won League's Tournament With Ease Last Week

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Missouri Tigers rate the unhappy role of favorites as the Big Seven Conference championship basketball race starts this week.

Coach Sparky Stalcup's Tigers, highly regarded in pre-season, gained top billing by winning the Big Seven Tournament with comparative ease last week. There's a jinx element connected with a tourament title, however. Only one tourney champion, Kansas in 1953, went on to win the conference crown.

Another factor against Missouri is the fact the Tigers' first conference foe will be the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence, Kan., Tuesday night.

Missouri hasn't won over Kansas at Lawrence since 1948.

Attendance Records Broken at Caberfae

CADILLAC (UP)—Two all-time attendance records were broken at Caberfae during the weekend as skiers flocked to the popular winter sports area.

The weekly attendance record at the run was shattered when crowds pushed the seven-day total to 4,161 persons who actually participated in the activities.

The course's daily record participant attendance was 1st shattered Saturday as 1,007 skiers showed up but that record lasted only one day as 1,068 tried their luck on the staves Sunday.

State Entries Place

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo (AP)—Michigan entries placed 4th and 9th yesterday in the Class A division of the New Year's Ski tournament.

Clarence Hill of Ishpeming was 4th in the tournament with 308.2 points. Ray Gauthier, also of Ishpeming, finished 9th with 282.4 points.

Keith Wegeman of Steamboat Sprints took top honors with jumps of 285, 258, and 272 feet.

Rival Coaches 'Regret' Rough Sun Bowl Play

Open Temper Displays Mar Final Quarter of Contest

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Coaches Tom Nugent of Florida State and Mike Brumbelow of Texas Western both said they "regret" the rough play, fisticuffs and open displays of temper that marred the fourth quarter of their New Year's Day Sun Bowl game.

The game, won 47-20 by Texas Western in the highest scoring clash in the 20-year history of the bowl, didn't start getting rough until late in the third quarter.

But from that point until midway in the fourth quarter, tempers began to climb to match the 60-degree Texas heat. Three times plays were nullified by personal fouls called on each team. Players from each team were ejected from the game.

About the middle of the final period both coaches came on the field at the same time, and had a talk with their boys. Each said later they "just told them to cut out the rough stuff." And the brief period in which football was forgotten ended right then.

Nugent said he thought his team was "about two years away" from being ready to play in the Sun Bowl Classic. Texas Western's triumph was its second straight in the bowl game.

Topsy-Turvy Big Ten Cage Race Started

Season Under Way on Upset by Wisconsin 5 Over Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—What has all the makings of a topsy-turvy Big Ten basketball race picks up steam tonight with eight teams, including Indiana's reeling Hoosiers, matched up in four games.

Indiana's defending champions are on a four-game losing streak and have only two victories in five pre-conference games this season. The Hoosiers take on a sophomore studded Michigan team which twice has scored more than 100 points in piling up five victories in seven games.

The conference race got off to a surprising start with Wisconsin upsetting Illinois 79-64 Saturday night.

It was Wisconsin's 3rd victory at Huff gym in 24 years and the Badgers canned 41 free throws in the process.

Wisconsin is now in position to move far ahead of the field. Badgers take on Iowa tonight at Madison. Hawkeyes (7-1) were pre-season favorites to dethrone Indiana.

Minnesota and Northwestern, a couple of dangerous clubs which presently figure very much in the title race, tangle at Evanston.

Michigan State and Ohio State round out the conference program at Columbus. The high-scoring Buckeye team, led by Robin Freeman, has lost twice in seven games, both defeats at the hands of California.

In scoring five victories, Ohio State has run up 461 points.

Well-Conceived Defense Backfired for Arkansas

DALLAS (AP)—Georgia Tech took a considerable shoving around for two quarters in while probing for a weakness in Arkansas' defense, but the Yellow Jackets finally found a loophole and promptly capitalized for a 14-6 Cotton Bowl triumph.

Analyzing the game, it is found that ironically, the "weakness" was the result of Arkansas' well-planned defense against Tech's famed "belly series." The Southwest Conference champion Razorbacks, eager to keep Tech from moving on the outside from the "belly series," spread its line too much.

So, in the second half of Saturday's game, a covey of swift Tech backs cut through big holes in the Razorback line for two touchdowns and their sixth bowl victory in the past 10 years.

Tech Head Coach Bobby Dodd, who still can boast a record of undefeated bowl contests, praised Arkansas as a "well-prepared and determined team."

Arkansas Coach Bowden Wyatt said Tech had the better team Saturday.

"Georgia Tech played an awfully fine game and deserved to beat us," Wyatt said. "But I'm very proud of our boys. We played as well as we have all year, and we have no alibis.

No Settlement Seen for TV Controversy

Big 10 Will Avoid Any Ultimatum During Week's Confab

NEW YORK (AP)—In spite of rumors and thinly veiled hints of a wild scrap over football television, some 1,400 representatives of more than 400 colleges and universities opened their week-long series of meetings today with every indication of a quiet session.

If there's any warfare during the five days when the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and five allied bodies are scheduled to meet, it likely will be under a placid surface.

Indications are that no settlement of the hot television debate will be reached this week.

The Big Ten conference, leading opposition to the present national game - a - week program, has dropped a few dire threats as to what may happen if its plan of national-regional control of TV isn't adopted. But a source close to the conference leaders said the Big Ten won't make an open fight at the convention.

"We definitely will avoid any ultimatum," he said. "The showdown, if any, will come when the new committee shows its hand."

Five TV proposals will be presented and discussed at a round-table meeting Thursday. These range from a readoption of the 1954 plan to unrestricted football television. A preferential straw ballot will be taken for the guidance of the incoming committee, but there won't be any directive. The convention will be asked to vote only on a resolution which calls for careful study of all proposals.

In addition to the NCAA, the American Football Coaches Assn., the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches, the American College Public Relations Assn. (sports division), the College Athletic Business Managers Assn. and the National Collegiate Track Coaches Assn. scheduled meetings during the week.

Bob-Sled Ace in Bad Spill

Lloyd Johnson Injured as Sled Overturns on German Course

GARMISCH - Partenkirschen, Germany (AP)—Lloyd Johnson, who captured the world four-man bobsled championship for the United States two years ago, will be out of action at least a month as a result of a serious spill, physicians said today.

Johnson, who won the title just three years after he had taken up the sport, crashed Sunday near the finish of famed Olympic course here and his sled overturned several times.

The 40-year-old Rapid City, N. D, driver suffered a broken collar bone, a broken nose and facial cuts. His brakeman, Sgt. Pat Biesiadecki of Ware, Mass., escaped with cuts and bruises.

Johnson was rushed to a hospital and it was feared his injuries were more serious than they turned out to be. Doctors said he would be released from the hospital in a few days, but the mishap scratched him from the world championships at St. Moritz, Switzerland late this month.

Philadelphian Meets Pakistan Squash Ace

NEW YORK (AP)—Diehl Mateer Jr., of Philadelphia, will meet Azam Kham, a Pakistan professional, this evening for the United States Open squash racquets championship. Mateer gained his bracket Sunday when Hashim Khan, another Pakistan player, defaulted because of an injured leg. Azam Khan advanced at the expense of Roshan Khan, his cousin, 15-11, 15-12, 11-15, 15-13.

Santee Turns in 'Poor' Run Over Soggy Track

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Slim Wes Santee of Kansas said Monday he would renew his efforts for a 4-minute mile at Los Angeles later this month, but he will need better conditions than he faced in the Sugar Bowl track meet.

The flying Kansas turned in what was a poor effort for him in the Sugar Bowl event Sunday, finishing with a 4.14 clocking over a water-logged track.

Santee, who holds the American mile record and has been clocked in 4:00.6, said the track Sunday made any sort of record impossible and he was contented just to win. Santee set the Sugar Bowl record last year with a 4:04.2 timing.

However, some excellent times were turned in, particularly by Olympic team member Jim Mashburn of Oklahoma A&M, who won the 440-yard run with a 48-second performance. Mashburn, running unattached, missed the Sugar Bowl record set by Thane Baker of Kansas in 1953 by just 1-10 of a second.

Dean Smith of Texas University turned in another top effort in winning the 100-yard dash in 9.8 and his third Sugar Bowl title.

Rice Institute set a new standard by winning the mile relay in 3:16, 3-10 better than the record established by an Oklahoma A&M team in 1949.

Flying Without Wings Most Exalting Experience

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Frankly, I never thought much of this idea of flying through space without wings. Let Peter Pan go his way, I'll go mine.

For one thing, that sort of flight is totally unnecessary since the Wright brothers came up with their gimmick, and for another, it simply doesn't look safe. If God meant us to fly without wings, I felt, he'd have given us helium heads.

Mary Martin proved me wrong.

Mary is starring in the revival of "Peter Pan" and soaring like 60, eight times a week, over the screaming audiences at the Winter Garden. "It's the most exalting feeling in the world," she claims, "and it's simply maddening every time you have to come down to earth.

"You must try this kind of flying sometime," she insisted. "Just wear a pair of old slacks, go backstage and look up Peter Foy. He's the genius who does it all."

So saying she flew off, leaving me to settle my accounts and spend a touching, memorable Christmas with the family, before coming back to the theater and putting on the old slacks.

The "genius who does it all," a 29-year-old Britisher, looked up with bland curiosity when it came time for the take-off.

"Can you relax?" he said.

I slumped quickly against a wall, showing him I was with it.

"Good," he said, "You'll fly all right." He disappeared to get the equipment, leaving me with three of the "little lost boys" who soar through space nightly with Miss Martin. Small ones, these child actors, but decidedly not lost.

"You'll be all right," remarked the cute one. "Hope you've got insurance," said the fiendish one. "The important thing is to think lovely thoughts," said the third, looking doubtful. (It is lovely thoughts that allegedly keep Peter Pan aloft. Actually, of course, it is wires.)

Foy returned with a harness to be donned over the slacks. "Don't tell how it's made," he said firmly, "or you'll destroy the illusion. What's more, you won't fly."

So into it I went, fastening a secret buckle here, a screw there, and in one minute was a compact bundle ready for shipping to the stars. Behind me, a hook slipped into place and clicked. Above, a slim cable connected the body with the black ceiling more than 100 feet up. Around me, everyone abruptly vanished.

"Ready?" called a man's voice. "Think lovely thoughts now!" piped a kid.

And suddenly, like a whooshing comet, I shot off. Gliding, as if on a giant gentle wind, I soared up into the wings. In mid-air and I was coasting down again, feeling like pink feathers, past the floor and looping lopsided into the wings on the other side.

Up and back — 15 feet high, then 25 — and I was sure there were clouds rushing through my toes. I wanted to sing, to grab hold of planets, to spread my arms like a bird and, most of all, to float on forever. . .

Just then I was brought softly, positively, to earth.

Dazedly, I felt myself being unharnessed; heard one of the "lost boys" remark, "You must've thought lovely. 'Cause you flew pretty good." And vaguely I realized he was right: those were genuinely lovely thoughts I'd borne on the breeze in mid-air.

Vowing to hold them, I wandered out the stage door onto Broadway.

But Broadway's fairy dust is carbon and soot, its winds waft earthy smells, and its taxicabs are far more perilous than wingless flight.

Iowa Outlaws Labeling of Powdered Skim Milk

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Department of Agriculture has notified the other 47 states of its action against labeling of dried skim milk.

The department recently ordered a halt to sales of the powder labeled "nonfat dry milk" or "nonfat milk" in Iowa. The department contents there is no such thing as "nonfat milk" since Iowa law defines milk with the fat removed as "skim milk."

Show Business

Harold Arlen Has Written Songs for Most of Entertainment Greats

By EDDIE CANTOR

I just read the reviews of a show called, "House of Flowers." I was particularly interested in this musical because of my very close friend, Harold Arlen, who wrote the music. He's one of the great melody writers of all time.

"Stormy Weather," "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," "Black Magic," are just three of the more than several hundred hits he has written.

Harold never fails to delight me with his whimsical humor. Several months ago in Beverly Hills, we were walking when he stopped in front of a house with a sign that read: "For Sale — $35,000." Harold said, "Gosh, things are high here. Imagine! Thirty-five thousand dollars for a little sign like that!"

And when I mentioned a recently-divorced Hollywood couple, Harold smiled—"They worked things out beautifully. She got everything, but he got visiting privileges to see their Jaguar!"

It must be a great satisfaction for a composer to know that he's supplied material for the "Who's Who" in Show Business: Judy Garland, Harry James, Ethel Waters, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire, Pearl Bailey, Danny Kaye. Yes, and even this banjo-eyed minstrel.

"The way you work," I once told Arlen, "there just couldn't be any time left for hobbies." He surprised me. "You're wrong, Eddie. I have a hobby—painting. It's the greatest escape there is. No matter what's on your mind, when you start daubing away, everything is forgotten."

Then he added, "Eddie, I'd like to paint you some time—would you sit for me?" I refused. Then Harold remarked, "Well, I guess I can manage without you in person—I'll just set up two fried eggs and some ham!"

Trio Escapes Car Stalled on Crossing

CRESCO (AP)—Arthur G. Houvener, 60, of Burlington, and his two young grandchildren had a narrow escape Saturday night. Two New York Central trains crushed their disabled car minutes after the three jumped to safety from a railroad crossing in this Calhoun County community.

Houvener and the youngsters, 10-year-old Raymond White and his 11-year-old sister, Carrie, both of Battle Creek, found a passenger train and a freight train bearing down on them from opposite directions after their car got stuck on the ice-covered crossing.

The diesel on the passenger train—the NYC's Twilight to Chicago—was damaged by the impact and held up for more than two hours.

Workmen had to use blow torches to cut the mangled automobile away from the trains.

William Holden Back at 20th After 6 Years

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Happy New Year for William Holden and 20th Century-Fox. It's six long years since Bill has been at that studio, and now he's returning in a blaze of glory to star in "A Many Splendored Thing," by John Patrick who won the Pulitzer Prize for his "Teahouse of the August Moon." Darryl Zanuck closed the deal.

This will unite three Academy Award winners — Holden, Patrick and Buddy Adler who won an Oscar for producing "From Here to Eternity."

Adler is a stickler for authentic backgrounds, so he'll send the company to Hong Kong. Clark Gable is just back from there where he did another Adler picture, "Soldier of Fortune."

If my boss hadn't made a point of personally asking me to do it, I think I would have jumped out the window before I made a list of Hollywood's 10 best dressed women!

It is with a gasp and a gulp that I take the dive, and not in the order named, I nominate:

Irene Dunne: Has the great gift of combining simplicity and elegance.

Jane Wyman: Looks equally well in a suit or a ball gown.

Gracie Allen: Has won many polls as the best dressed woman on TV and shows the same taste in her personal wear.

Dinah Shore: Dresses to please her husband and as a result, pleases most males in what she wears.

Mrs. Louis B. Mayer: Sets off her famed beauty and magnificent diamonds, with conservatively lovely clothes.

Mary (Mrs. Jack) Benny: Has a great flare for lovely clothes and has great originality.

Arlene Dahl: Wears exciting, exotic colors and fabrics with the same ease most women wear those little black numbers.

Loretta Young: A young old-timer on lists for dressing in excellent taste for all occasions.

Mrs. Humphrey Bogart (Lauren Bacall): Who chooses simple but elegant costumes, always in good taste.

The Shah of Iran and his Empress Soraya couldn't have picked a better time to visit Hollywood, socially speaking, than the holiday week. There were many festivities in his honor, and one of his favorite dancing partners is Greer Garson. Not only did he enjoy dancing with the redhead, but he found her a brilliant conversationalist.

Chatter in Hollywood: Joan Crawford had a visitor today who came all the way from Chicago just to spend New Year's with her. He is Charles Baron, wealthy automobile dealer. I pinned Joan down after I had heard he had given her a sapphire - studded watch which plays a tune — as well as a station wagon!

"Are you going to marry him?" I asked her.

She laughed and said, "Haven't thought of it so far. Why don't you ask him?"

Obviously he's very much in love with Joan and it could be she will marry again, but she said she has to be really sure.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: George Fisher tells me he and his wife have named their month old daughter, Gina. He says, "after Gina Lollobrigida — hopefully."

After flying to Tucson to spend New Year's, Fred Clark and Benay Venuta decided they'd have more fun at home and planed back the other night.

Debbie Reynolds has such a bad cold that Eddie Fisher will spend most of his time at her home (he has the sniffles himself).

Polly Bergen swears she's going to spend the day looking at her $10,000 per week salary check from the Thunderbird in Las Vegas. When she last worked there she got $75 weekly singing with a band.

Robert Wagner, who is spending the holidays with his parents in La Jolla, couldn't resist driving up up for the Rose Bowl game after a sick pal handed him a ducat.

It may be interesting to the Hollywood Women's Press Club which voted her "Most Uncooperative Actress of '54," to hear that Doris Day's New Year's resolution is, "to follow the old Chinese philosophy of forgiving all grievances as the new year dawns."

The triplets, girls and identical, weighed 4 pounds 1 ounce; 4 pounds 12½ ounces; and 4 pounds 9 ounces.

Chicken Meat Once Came Straight From Barnyard

By MARGARET LATROBE

A whole generation is growing up today which has never seen a pin feather or chicken neck. From the supermarket come dainty packages of drumsticks, white meat or whatever piece of meat is fancied. No more gizzards palmed off on the kids. No more wings for Tuesday's stew.

You name it, and the butcher wraps your selection of what once was a complete and varied pullet.

It was not always thus. Some of us recall the days when "selection" referred to wandering through the chicken yard with an eye on the best-looking bird for noonday dinner. Nobody ate "lunch" except school children or others regrettably away from home at dinner time. It was a kind of "piecing" done on trains or picnics.

The chickens strutted past, stupidly assuming you were there without motive. Suddenly the right-sized Rhode Island Red appeared and with deft hand was caught and muffled before her squawking alarmed the setting hens.

In those days, women's work included the fine art of chicken killing. There are several schools of thought on the quickest and surest method for this job. And if I do say so myself, at a very young age your correspondent was considered quite passable as a neck-wringer.

Some preferred a large cleaver with which to sever the creature's feathered throat, but this required a twosome of intrepid teamwork. And occasionally, even with skilled and willing hands, an accident not affecting the chicken occurred.

Although my cousin and I were encouraged in this feminine art, we were not considered the best judges of the tenderest birds. One morning, however, wishing to perfect our talents, we decided to prove ourselves in the eyes of our aunts.

So quite early, knowing it was the day of harvest and that many succulent morsels were planned for the noon-time feast, we hastened to the barnyard for the day's work.

We made the common error of confusing quantity for quality, and wrung the necks of six fine roosters. Tough, proud, ancient birds who under different circumstances might have lived long and happy lives.

The commotion set up was not confined to the setting hens. The aunts out-clucked them 10 to one. Humbled forever, we were told to saddle the pony and get lost. I have since not so much as laid a hand on a feathered friend. The white meat, the drumsticks, the second joints on our table come wrapped in pristine cellophane, straight from the grocery store.

Explosive Sold as Fuel, Tecumseh Area Warned

TECUMSEH, Mich. (AP)—State Police have warned purchasers of 100 gallons of fuel oil bought from a gasoline station here that the fuel is a dangerously explosive mixture of oil and gasoline.

Thirty gallons of the mixture have been recovered.

Judge Not Impressed

CHICAGO (AP)—James Dameron, 37, cut off the last three figures on his license plate to get a conspicuously low number for his new convertible, but ended up in jail when the number turned out to be that of a county judge. "I like to impress women," Dameron explained.

Agriculture employes 40 to 45 per cent of the total Japanese population.

Jail Key Witness in Narcotics Trial of Hormel Scion

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The key witness in the George A. Hormel II marijuana case, Robert (Iggy) Shevak, 36, is in jail today on suspicion of possessing heroin.

Sheriff's narcotics officers said they found two capsules of heroin Saturday hidden in a flashlight in Shevak's car. Shevak formerly played string bass in a trio led by Hormel, 26.

The piano-playing scion of the meat-packing family is scheduled for trial tomorrow on a marijuana possession charge.

In September Shevak appeared at preliminary hearing for Mark Lamb, night club parking lot attendant, and testified he acted as intermediary in a $200 marijuana transaction between Lamb and Hormel. Lamb was charged with selling narcotics.

Officers who arrested Hormel said they found 13 marijuana cigarettes in his car. He has denied the charge.

Would-Be Suicide Hurt in 4-Story Fall

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Here I go," Melvin Northington shouted from a rooftop here yesterday. Then he rolled off the four-story building and fell to the sidewalk.

The 26-year-old man was taken to Mercy Hospital with a fractured pelvis and arm. The body struck a ledge on the first-floor roof before dropping to the sidewalk.

Police found a blood-stained coat, a hand towel and a knife with a 12-inch blade on a nearby roof.

Firemen and police had arrived on the scene moments before Northington fell. "Get out of the way," he told them. "I'm going to kill myself."

Soviet Official Missing, Vienna Police Report

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A top-ranking Soviet official is reported missing in Vienna, Austrian police said today.

The official, identified as Lt. Col. Gregori Rapalov, 42, is the general director of USIA, a network of Austrian enterprises run by the Russians.

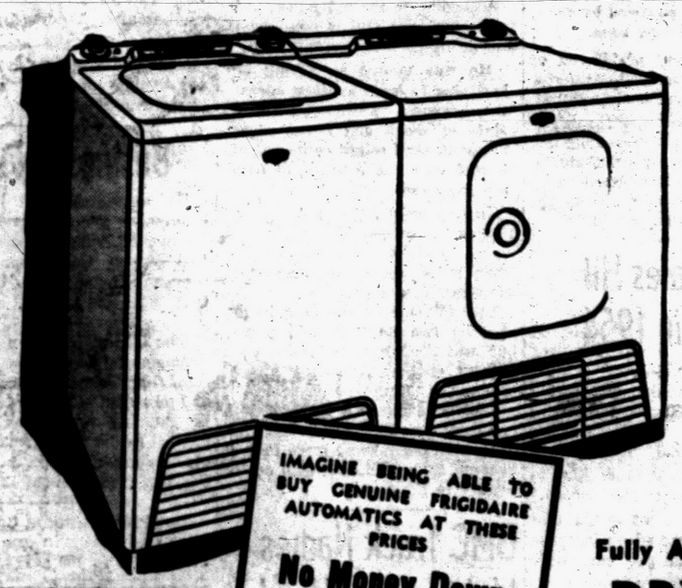

Rapalov reportedly attended a New Year's Eve party and was last seen early yesterday morning on a bridge over the Danube.

Disillusioned at Last?

ST. JOSEPH (INS)—Mrs. Jennett Kerr of St. Joseph is an optimist. She told police she did not report the theft of her wrist watch for three months because she thought an "honest person" would return it.

Wheat Weak, Others Firm

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (AP) — More moisture in the Southwest caused a little selling in wheat at the start of the new year on the Board of Trade today. The bread grain retreated more than a cent at one time.

The rest of the market did not reflect wheat's weakness. Feed grains held steady on lighter receipts of cash grain than many traders had expected. Soybeans firmed on movement of more cash beans out of this market by barge to New Orleans.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent lower, March $2.33¼; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.55½; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 78¼; rye unchanged to ½ higher, March $1.19½ soybeans ¼ to 1¼ higher, January $2.86¼; and lard unchanged to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $13.27.

Stabbing Victim on Critical List

Hold Brother-in-Law for Investigation of Felonious Assault

The condition of a Pontiac man reportedly stabbed Saturday night during an argument at his brother-in-law's home, remains critical today.

Cordice Newport, 31, of 93½ Orchard Lake Ave., stabbed in the stomach Saturday following an argument, was on the operating table at Pontiac General Hospital for over five hours Saturday night.

Held for investigation of assault is his brother-in-law, Arlie L. Baker, 40, who lives at 3083 Grove, Keego Harbor, where the stabbing occurred.

Newports' brother, Marion Dewey, 34, of 93½ Orchard Lake Ave., is also held for investigation of felonious assault upon Baker.

Robert Long, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, said Baker was stabbed in the shoulder after Newport was wounded.

West Bloomfield Township Police Chief William Van Meter and Patrolman Calvin Baxter arrested Marion Newport and Baker at the latter's home. Both men are in Oakland County Jail.

Long said today that court action against the pair would be delayed until statements could be taken, and to see if Newport survives.

The hospitalized man's brother told Long that he left Baker's home before the argument and returned while his brother was being loaded into an ambulance. He denies stabbing Baker. Long said there had been some drinking before the argument.

Pontiac Man Is Injured in Five-Car Smash-Up

Norman L. Batchelor, 35, of 92 Murphy St., was treated for minor injures at Pontiac General Hospital Saturday after a five-car, rear-end collision at Elizabeth Lake Road near Ogemaw Road.

Pontiac Police said that a motorist, driving behind an auto operated by Charles W. Cowger, 35, of 45 Neome Dr., fled the scene after ramming the rear of Cowger's car.

Three other cars also crashed into the forward autos. Batchelor's car was the third in line.

Stocks Open '55 on Upward Note

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were higher today in an active market in the first 1955 session.

The market ended the old year at peak levels, and it started in this year with a moderate forward movement which continued in early dealings.

Gains were largely fractional, but a few individual issues shot ahead strongly.

Right after the opening, the tape fell behind in reporting actual floor transactions, a daily event in recent sessions.

General Motors, which closed Friday at 97⅞, was quoted at a bid of 100 and an asking price of 105. Over the weekend, Federal Trade Commissioner Howrey said General Motors "is too big." It opened late on 15,000 shares up 4⅛ at 102.

Du Pont, which owns a substantial interest in General Motors common stock, traded actively up around 8 points at times.

Among higher stocks were Granite City Steel, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Pacific Tin, Baltimore & Ohio, and Texas Co.

Lower were U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, New York Central, and Allied Chemical.

McCarthy Doing Last Stint Today

Holding Final Hearings as Chairman of Senate Probe Group

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy makes his final public appearance as chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee today in a concluding session on Communists in defense plants.

The Wisconsin Republican will relinquish his chairmanship after the new Congress convenes Wednesday under Democratic control. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) is in line to succeed him.

In announcing the hearings, McCarthy told newsmen they would run this morning, afternoon and evening to dispose of as many of the 16 subpoenaed witnesses as possible.

He said the inquiry involves plants of the General Electric Co., in New England, Westinghouse in Pittsburgh, and Allis-Chalmers in Boston.

If time allows, he added, the subcommitte ewill quiz two "alleged Communists in the Army."

Today's hearings bring to a close McCarthy's stormy two years as chairman of the subcommittee. Although he will remain at the helm for several days longer, it is unlikely that he will be active.

During his tenure, he became the most controversial figure in the land as his investigations of Army personnel brought him to a clash with the Eisenhower administration.

As a result, he wound up on the receiving end of the Army-McCarthy hearings.

Hold Two Suspects in Station Breakins

Two suspects, stopped on the highway because one of their auto's headlights was not working, are being held today in Oakland County Jail for investigation of breaking and entering.

The two are Chester F. Ward, 22, of 3433 Dodds Ct., Pontiac Township, and Alfred R. Adkins, 18, of 4824 Clinton Dr., Clarkston.

Waterford Township Patrolmen Millard Pender and Donald Gravlin stopped the pair Saturday at U.S. 10 and Sashabaw road and when the boys could not explain how they came into possession of two auto batteries on the car's back seat, the officers arrested them for investigation.

The youths later admitted taking the batteries from Grant's Service Station at Sashabaw and Walton Rds., and some change from Buck and Bud's Service Station at 4186 Sashabaw road, shortly before they were stopped, according to Police Chief Frank Van Atta.

Finds Live Grenade

DALLAS, (AP)—R. H. Crump, a fisherman, found a live hand grenade yesterday on a lakeshore. It lay in the mud a short distance from children at play. How it got there isn't known. It was taken to demolition experts at Dallas Naval Air Station.

Cheaper, More Reliable

Electricity Seen Replacing Auto Hydraulic Systems

The days of hydraulic power steering are limited, according to Ward's Automotive Reports, auto industry trade paper.

Steering with an electrical assist soon will supplant the hydraulic method, the trade paper predicts.

"It will be more reliable and flexible and always ready even when the engine is not functioning," Ward's states. "And there will be no oil seals or stuffing boxes to blow out.

"Cost of the electric method would be much lower and repair far simpler than with the current plumbing installations."

The passing of all hydraulically powered automotive accessories is seen by Ward's. "Such a complicated system has no place on an automobile. It's too powerful, too vulnerable to be completely safe."

Also seen by the paper is a general increase in the number of electric power assists for the motorist.

"This year will see electric windshield wipers with variable speed controls," Ward's says. "Rear deck and motor compartment lid lifters, powered by electricity, also will bow soon.

"With the advent of 110-volt or even 64-volt electrical systems, electric brakes will be introduced.

"Then will follow electric refrigeration in handy package units and so on until the modern automobile becomes as well-equipped with electrical labor savers as the up-to-date American household."

Boiler Explosion Brings Warning

Filling Station Blast Prompts Fire Marshal to Caution Residents

An explosion of a filling station's steam boiler Saturday night brought warning by Pontiac's fire marshal to other establishments possessing this type of heating system today.

Marshal Charles E. Metz said inspections of the boilers' safety valves should be made frequently, since the lime in the city's water supply may clog up openings in the boilers and cause the tanks to blow up.

The steam boiler in a filling station at 251 Oakland Ave. "left nothing but debris in the boiler room Saturday night. That's how powerful the blast was," said Metz.

He explained that the boiler had been left on after the station closed. "The pop-off valve wasn't working right. If anyone had been around, it probably would have meant death."

He urged that owners of steam boilers in Pontiac have the units inspected and possibly de-limed immediately. Metz said that there are numerous boilers in the city requiring care.

Pentagon Kitty Locked Tighter Than Ft. Knox

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's bank vault was locked up tighter than Ft. Knox today.

It got an extended New Year's weekend holiday because two tellers last Friday set the time locks for tomorrow, instead of today. As a result, the vault door will swing open 24 hours behind schedule.

The vault is the property of the First and Merchants National Bank of Richmond, Va., the only bank which does business in the Pentagon. Bank manager Waring Christian said "friends in Washington banks sent me over enough cash to last out the day."

It's a good thing the vault will open tomorrow. That's a Pentagon payday.

Denies Ike Plans Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)— James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said today he knows of no plans for President Eisenhower to visit London for a conference with British Prime Minister Churchill.

Cadillac Sales Hit New High in 1954

DETROIT (AP) — J. M. Roche, general sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Division of General Motors, said today that Cadillac delivered more than 123,700 cars to dealers in 1954 to hit a new company sales record.

Roche said in a statement that the figure represented an increase of more than 10 per cent over 1953.

He predicted Cadillac sales would reach a new high in 1955 and exceed last year's sales by at least 21 per cent.

Roche said:

"Although complete figures are not yet available, 1955 model sales during the month of December were well in excess of any other month in the company's 52 years of automobile production."

Pontiac Man Sentenced for Breaking, Entering

Fred R. Hodges, 22, of 74 Parkhurst St., today received 3½ to 15 years in Jackson State Prison when he appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty after pleading guilty Dec. 27 to breaking and entering.

Hodges had admitted a filling station breakin. Doty said a prison term was called for because of Hodges' previous record.

Auto Victim Is Reported in Good Condition Today

Barton Hodge, 10, of 29½ N. Washington, Oxford, who was struck by a car Sunday, is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Hodge received a fractured elbow, Oxford police said, when he darted into the path of a car near his home.

'Fringe Benefits' Important for House Members, Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—If they don't already know, freshmen congressmen will soon find they get a lot more than $15,000 a year for the job of legislating for the United States.

A House member is helped in dozens of other ways—some officially spelled out, others mainly custom—ranging from money for office help to low-price haircuts.

Some of these assists are listed in a booklet just published by the House clerk, mainly for the benefit of the 56 new members going on the House rolls this week.

Besides direct pay of $15,000 ($12,500 plus a $2,500 expense allowance), a House member is entitled to about $25,000 a year to hire a staff.

He can divide the $25,000 any way he wants to among his office help so long as he sticks to a ceiling of about $10,000 for one person. Anything left over must go back to the U.S. Treasury.

A House member also is allowed:

20 cents a mile for traveling from his home to Washington and back once every regular session.

$200 a year for airmail and special delivery stamps. Regular mail can go free if it concerns official business and doesn't weigh more than 4 ounces.

$1,200 a session for stationery, which can also be bought at below-retail prices from a House stationery room.

2,700 minutes a year worth of long distance telephone calls, free, and 12,000 words in telegrams.

An equipped office in Washington and, if the member desires, office space in a federal building in his his home district. If there is no "suitable space" in such buildings he can get up to $900 a year to rent an office somewhere else.

Then there are other things not listed in the official booklet: A small gymnasium, for instance, and food in House restaurants at prices lower than usually can be found in town.

A haircut from the House barber costs 50 cents plus tip.

Whether the sum total of pay and benefits really foots the bill for a term in Congress is another matter. Most of the lawmakers, beset with a heavy legislative load and a flood of demands from constituents, say it's a losing proposition money-wise—especially when they have to maintain two residences, one in Washington and one at home.

Congressmen last year voted themselves a more liberal pension system, and this non-election year are reported likely to hike their pay, perhaps to $25,000.

GM Stock Paces Motor Shares

Passes $98, Winds Up at $97 After Starting Year at $60

General Motors common was the only automotive stock to keep pace with the remarkably upswinging 1954 stock market.

"Motor stocks, with few exceptions, moved in narrow price range in the fabulous 'bull market' of 1954," commennts Ward's Automotive Reports, industry trade paper, in its current issue.

GM started the year in the $60 per share area and closed the 12 months trading above $97 after passing the $98 mark.

The closing figure was near the highest level of the year and provided a $37 spread for some 88,000,000 outstanding shares, Ward's says.

Chrysler, which also started the year at $60 per share, ended at $72, the paper reports. Of this advance, $7 came last month.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. market values have ranged from $10.50 to $14.25, with the latter reached Dec. 20.

Prices on American Motors Corp. stock ranged from $9.75 to $14.75, with the current price $11.50.

Kaiser Motors Shares, moving between $1.50 and $2.62 all year, are now in the $2 area.

Godfrey Afraid More Surgery Might Be Fatal

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Arthur Godfrey has disclosed that he almost died during his 1953 hip operation and fears additional surgery because he may "never come out of it."

The magazine TV Guide, in a copyrighted interview yesterday with the red-haired performer, quoted Godfrey as saying that in his first operation "they almost lost me during that shock period."

According to the magazine, Godfrey's hip joint still is not "good" and he needs more surgery.

He was quoted as saying he hesitates to have another operation because: "I might go into a state of shock and never come out of it. Or I might come out of it with only half a brain, or with my liver shot."

Godfrey said he is not fighting against a second operation, but wants to delay it until doctors learn more about his reaction to the shock of the first one.

The TV star, who limps badly, said he can do "everything now but walk." When he does walk without crutches, Godfrey stated, the pain is "almost unbearable."

The magazine said Godfrey does not want to quit his television appearances because he fears he will become depressed, and also out of loyalty to his cast.

GMC Truck Names Maintenance Head

John E. Gottschalk, of 209 Preston Ave., has been appointed superintendent of maintenance at GMC Truck and Coach Division, according to an announcement by Thomas E. Wilson, general manufacturing manager.

A graduate from Michigan College of Mines and Technology, Gottschalk joined the division in 1939. In 1952, he was named shift superintendent in the engine plant, the position he held prior to his new appointment.

Wife Awaiting Greek Orphan

Mate En Route to U. S. With 17-Month-Old Girl as Belated Yule Gift

NEW YORK (AP) — The childless wife of a Navy fighter pilot says she is "thrilled to death" over her delayed Christmas present — an adopted foundling her husband is bringing home from Greece.

Word came from Athens yesterday that Lt. Norman K. (Moose) Donahoe, 27-year-old Korean War veteran, was on the return leg of a 13,000-mile adoption trip.

His prize was 17-month-old Roni Marie. Donahoe, a handsome, 6-foot Texan, planned to hitchhike home via military air transport with the lively, brown-eyed Greek girl.

Donahoe's wife Helen, 27, is waiting for him and their new daughter in Brooklyn. She is staying with her sister.

Mrs. Donahoe, who has been married five years, said last night she and her husband will have a belated Christmas celebration when he returns with that delightful Christmas present, Roni Marie."

Donahoe said in Athens that he and his wife had been trying for more than seven months to adopt a child in the United States, but "for every child available, there are 10 families after it down in Texas."

Donahoe and the baby are expected here in a few days. Father and mother plan then to drive to Texas with Roni Marie.

Start Tabulation of Salk Tests

Research Team Will Use Code to Determine Effect of Polio Vaccine

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—Scientists today will take a crucial step that will soon tell them whether the long-heralded vaccine of Dr. Jonas Salk has conquered infantile paralysis.

Basil O'Connor, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, told a radio audience last night that a research team in Ann Arbor, Mich., will make its first use of a code that will show which of 1,830,000 second-grade youngsters were given the serum last summer and which received a harmless substitute.

The code will determine the effectiveness of the serum, O'Connor said, by enabling scientists to compare the list of those who received the vaccine with those who have since been struck down by polio.

"The riddle of the polio crippler may soon be unlocked," O'Connor said. He did not say when the results of the evaluation would be announced.

His address came at the kickoff of the 1955 March of Dimes campaign, in which the foundation hopes to raise 64 million dollars.

O'Connor said the foundation has purchased nine million dollars worth of the vaccine, "to be ready for instant use if it proves effective."

Suggests Giving Duke of Windsor Government Job

LONDON (AP)—The perennially recurring story about the Duke of Windsor wanting a British government job has cropped up again, with the Labor party weekly paper The People urging that he be given one.

"Let's stop treating the Duke of Windsor like the black sheep of the royal family," the Sunday newspaper said yesterday. "Let's recall the Wandering Duke from the aimless exile to which we have condemned him."

The paper said "sound constitutional reasons" might prevent the Duke from settling again in Britain, "but there are many parts of the empire that would welcome his service." It spoke also of "this aimless, wandering life" he and his American-born duchess, the former Wallis Simpson, have lived since his 1936 abdication and their marriage.

Windsor, now paying his annual winter visit to New York, was not available for comment.

Report Finding Buoy From Lost Freighter

MIAMIA Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard had a slim clue today on the disappearance of the SS Southern Districts, which vanished with 24 men aboard during a trip from Louisiana to Maine.

The clue was a report from the SS Tullahoma that it found a life ring bearing the words "Southern Districts" floating near Sand Key off the southern tip of Florida.

The Coast Guard may decide to make another all-out search, but postponed any immediate decision. A plane which flew up and down the chain of islands late yesterday returned without sighting any further wreckage.

The converted LST-type vessel left Port Sulphur, La., Dec. 2 for Bucksport, Maine. It was last heard from on Dec. 4 and reported missing Dec. 11.

ROK Charges Buildup of Red Armed Forces

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea today accused the Communists of building more than 40 air bases and bringing in 110,000 new troops and 200 Russian-built tanks in violation of the armistice.

The charges were made by Gen. Lee Hyung Keun, chairman of the ROK Joint Chiefs of Staff, in a New Year article published in the Korean Republic, English language newspaper.

Said bonds will mature serially on the first day of November in each year as follows: $200,000 in the year 1955, $150,000 in the year 1956, $130,000 in each of the years 1957 through 1959, $290,000 in each of the years 1960 and 1961, and $390,000 in each of the years 1962 and 1963. Bonds maturing in the years 1961 through 1963 will be subject to redemption by the school district prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after November 1, 1960, at par and accrued interest plus a premium for each $1,000 of par value on each bond in accordance with the following schedule:

No premium if called to be redeemed on or after November 1, 1961.

Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. The remaining bonds will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and equipping new elementary school buildings and additions to existing school buildings and acquiring sites and additions to sites, in said school district, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, subject to such limitations upon the said taxing power as may result from the provisions of Section 21 of Article X of the Michigan Constitution and the Michigan Property Tax Limitation Act.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from February 1, 1955 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $42,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Berry, Stevens & Moorman, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Wife + Wife = Confusion for TV Husband

Real Wife Gets Worst of Mix-Up

'I Married Joan' Star, Jim Backus, Can't Get Rest From Marriage

NEW YORK (AP)—On television Jim Backus has to convince viewers that "I married Joan" but he spends the rest of the time trying to convince people he didn't.

"Actually it's my wife who's the butt of most of the confusion," says Backus, who on TV plays the role of husband to comedienne Joan Davis and in real life has been the husband for 11 years of attractive Henny Backus, successful actress in her own right.

Backus even claims that because of his TV role as husband of Miss Davis, who currently is unmarried, he's had a checkup from hotel house detectives when he tried to check in with Henny.

Since Miss Davis owns I Love Joan on NBC-TV Wednesday night, Backus says he tells his wife, "I'm the only guy who comes home with lipstick on his paycheck."

"If I'm not on time at the office, my TV wife, Miss Davis who also is my boss, wants to know 'Why are you late?' And if I say 'I was working late with the boss,' I'm in trouble. I'm married 24 hours a day."

The confusion arising from his TV role as Miss Davis' husband has reached the point, Backus says, that his wife has answered the telephone with, "This is Jim's other wife."

It also works in reverse. He recalls one occasion when he and Miss Davis were on tour and checked into a hotel in Louisville. His room was in the ninth floor and hers on the 14th but the clerk, under the impression they were husband and wife in real life, suggested he could provide adjoining rooms. But Miss Davis in a typical response replied, "No, leave it like it is—he snores."

Girl Marksman Slays Father After Quarrel

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl admitted to police that she killed her father in their home last night after an argument over a boy friend.

Officers said Linda Lee Lantis, winner of a marksmanship medal, told them she shot her father in the back of the head with a .22-caliber rifle. It was the same rifle the junior high school girl had used in winning the marksmanship medal.

Linda said her father, Lawrence R. Lantis, 46, had objected earlier in the day to the boy friend calling her on the telephone.

Asst. County Atty. Myron Lindstrom said a murder charge would be filed in Juvenile Court.

Alma Pair Dies in South

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—William Delano Rule and Mrs. Lena Rule, both of Alma, Mich., and about 66 years old, were killed Sunday when their car left the highway and struck a tree just inside the Bartow city limits.

Eat More Eggs, Nation Urged

U. S. Calls on Consumer to Cut Down Oversupply During January

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Starting today, the government wants you to go on a month-long egg-eating spree.

Reason: Hens are flooding the markets with a record-smashing supply. Production is increasing seasonally. And the poultry industry is worried about finding a market for all the eggs—even at today's low prices.

Farm prices for eggs have droped one-third during the past year. Producers don't relish the prospect of still lower prices.

So an industry-government campaign was officially launched today to persuade you and other consumers that "January is egg month" and your diet should be adjusted, accordingly.

Noting that egg industry leaders haven't asked the government to set a floor price through price support buying, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson says the least consumers can do is eat a lot of eggs to help out.

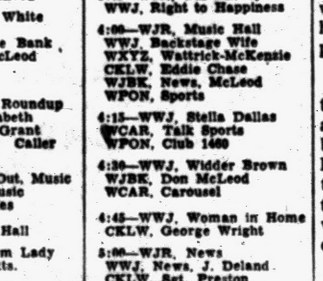

Agriculture officials predict that egg production this month probably will top by five per cent the record high for January set a year ago. That would mean about 270,000,000 more eggs than last January's record supply.

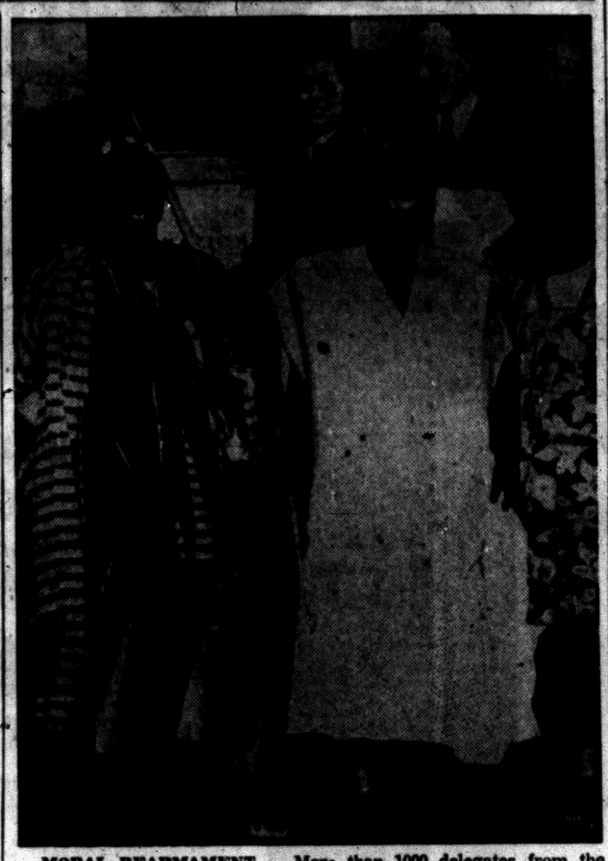

The government revealed yesterday it soon will take about 72,000,000 eggs off the market. The agriculture department said it would buy up 2,000,000 pounds of eggs in dried form for distribution to the national school lunch program.

The department, which has stood firm against scattered pleas from some farmers for price support, emphasized there was no change in policy. It said the move was not designed to prop prices.

The liver, which weighs from three to four pounds, is the heaviest organ in the human body.

Pope Pius Asks for Coexistence

Ailing Pontiff Pleads for Peace in Belated Yule Message to World

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII, in his delayed Christmas message to the world, urged East and West today to seek peaceful coexistence.

The Pope's annual holiday message, his 16th, had been delayed by his current illness.

In this, as in all of them, he pleaded once more for peace.

The 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church called for "true" coexistence. He said the world's present "state of relative calm" is based on fear.

The message was written in Italian and an official translation into English was issued by the Vatican press office. On Christmas Eve an abbreviated message the Pope had recorded was broadcast over the Vatican radio.

The pontiff described the world today as neither at war nor peace. Instead, he continued, the cold war has slowly been replaced by a period of decreased tension between the opposing parties, "as if they were giving each other a longer breathing space."

"Not without some ironly," he went on, "this decreased tension has been given the name 'cold peace.'"

"Each of the groups, into which the human family is divided, tolerates the existence of the other, because it does not wish to perish. By thus avoiding the fatal risk, the two groups do not live together, they coexist. It is not a state of war, but neither is it peace: it is a cold calm."

The Pope said that the present coexistence in fear has only two possible prospects before it:

"Either it will raise itself to a coexistence in the fear of God, and thence to truly peaceful living together, inspired and protected by the divine moral order, or else it will shrivel more into a frozen paralysis of international life, the grave dangers of which are even now foreseeable."

Uneasy Vienna Will Have a Ball – 2,000 Times

VIENNA (AP)—Occupied Vienna, onec a capital of wine, women, waltzes and apple strudel, is determined to recapture its old-time gaiety in the coming carnival season.

Nearly 2,000 balls will be staged in seven weeks beginning Wednesday to help Viennese forget the cares of the cold war. The balls range from the formal white tie dance of the Vienna Philharmonic Society to a costume affair of the city's chimney sweeps.

Even the Austrian government will discard the cares of four-power occupation. Chancellor Julius Raab will open the Ball for the Viennese Wednesday. Foreign Minister Leopold Figl will preside at the dance given by the swank Riding Club, an affair usually attended by everyone who claims to be anyone here.

For those who can't afford expensive fun, there will be a wide variety of entertainment at less cost. They even can go to the ball of the city's undertakers.

Japan Diet Elections Scheduled in February

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's government now plans nationwide Diet elections Feb. 27, Transportation Minister Takeo Miki said tonight.

It was the first Cabinet member report indicating elections would be held before March 10.

Hatoyama had to promise to dissolve the present Diet late in January and hold general elections by March 10 in order to get Socialist support to unseat former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and get himself elected to the premiership.

Saved by Italian Gabfest

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Genoveffa Franceschini, a 75-year-old widow, plunged from a third-story window yesterday in an apparent suicide attempt, police said. She landed unhurt in the arms of two men talking on the sidewalk.

Movie Drowns Real Gunplay

Policewoman's 2 Shots at Suspect Go Unheard at Height of Western

NEW YORK (AP)—Noisy gunplay in the movie at the Capital Theater yesterday drowned out for most patrons a policewoman's real-life shots at the back of the house.

Detective Mary Shanley had spotted a suspected pickpocket in the theater audience and took him to the rear of the house to search him. She ordered him to kneel, but instead he swung around, knocked her off balance and broke away.

She quickly fired two shots at the fleeing man. Both missed, but retired Patrolman John Duffy, who was in the audience, stopped him.

The movie, "Vera Cruz," a Western, was running through a shooting sequence when Detective Shanley's shots were fired and only a few patrons sitting near the back realized there was some honest-to-goodness shooting going on, police said.

The man seized was identified as Henry Orlando Martin, 26, whom she had arrested once before in 1953 on pickpocket charges.

He was charged with assault and mingling in public gatherings for unlawful purposes.

Returns Decoration in Protest at French

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Kurt E. Wallach, German-born U. S. Army reserve major, says he is sending his World War II Croix de Guerre back to France as a personal protest against that country's approval of West German rearmament.

Wallach, 47, says he has sent the medal to the French Embassy in Washington. French approval of German rearmament will be "disastrous for the French," he declared.

The medal was awarded for returning some captured flags to the French government while he was with the 3rd Army in Europe, Wallach said.

He now is an accountant at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

Miffed Cop Hunts Trio Who Shot Up Patrol Car

MIDDLEVILLE (AP) — Police today sought the three occupants of a car who eluded arrest late Saturday by shooting out the "stop" light on a police car in this Barry County community.

Ralph Ross, Middleville police chief, said the men shot out the signal light when he sought to stop them for questioning. The shot forced Ross' car out of control.

By the time he had gained control of his vehicle the men had fled.
