Delay Hospital Wing Bid Report

How Did This Happen?

AP Wirephoto

SURPRISE COLLAR — Stinky, 4 weeks old, literally got canned when he tried foraging for himself in Benton Harbor. He was being weaned by his Labrador retriever mother and hunger drove him to explore the inside of a dog food can for the last crumb. The can eventually was eased off his head gently by a machinist and he's none the worse for wear.

Date of May 10 Set for Results, Architect Says

Considering Alternates to Reduce Expenses on Addition to Building

A further delay in the start of construction on the $3,000,000 addition to Pontiac General Hospital was announced last night.

Architect Leo L. Heenan told the hospital board of trustees that the final tabulations of the bids submitted last Thursday will not be ready until May 10.

An unofficial total of low bids submitted topped $4,000,000, and Heenan and his staff are considering several possible alternates on each bid, which could reduce the cost of the proposed wing.

Tabulation of the bids, and recommendations of the architect were originally scheduled for presentation to the city commission last night, but this was later postponed until May 1.

Last night's meeting of the hospital trustees and Heenan and his consultant was held to seek an answer to the financing problem of the addition.

Willis Brewer, chairman of the building committee, added that he had doubts that the wing could be built, but said there were steps to be taken to seek a solution.

MAY CUT SOME ITEMS

"We will have to do some tall studying," he said. "There may be a chance that we can cut some things out of the plans and still get the good hospital we have hoped for."

Brewer said the director of the state hospital survey and construction department was expected today to review plans and figures in a request for federal aid in the construction.

On March 2, federal aid, under the Hill-Burton program, was denied the hospital because "the priority of the hospital area was not high enough to receive a grant for assistance."

Heenan said this morning: "I still believe there is some way to build the functional type hospital with the number of beds we need."

"We haven't given up hope yet that funds will be available from other than the bond source," the architect commented.

He mentioned other sources of

Ground and Air Search of Wilds Continues in UP

Volunteers Joining Hunt in Desolate Forests for Grand Marais Woman

GRAND MARAIS (AP) — More than 100 searchers combed desolate stretches of woodland today for a pretty 21-year-old schoolteacher who disappeared while hitchhiking Sunday night.

The intensive air and ground hunt was pressed for Patricia Burdick, missing in a wilderness area of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Lumbermen, townsfolk and servicemen from bases in the district joined law officers in a foot-by-foot check of side roads and trails bordering highway M77 between Seney and Grand Marais.

Miss Burdick was last seen about 8:30 p.m. Sunday at the main intersection of M77 in Seney, 26 miles south of this Lake Superior fishing and resort village. As was her custom, she was hitching a ride here after a weekend with her mother, Mrs. Eva Burdick, at Sault Ste. Marie.

Searchers, directed by loggers familiar with the district, sought clues in the snow covered woods and unoccupied hunting cabins in the area.

State Police Sgt. John Mongiat added that detectives also were checking "every young man in the area," including those stationed at nearby Air Force and Coast Guard installations.

General Motors Expansion Criticized in Senate Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—A staff report to the Senate's "big business" subcommittee questions whether General Motors should be allowed to expand freely into any new fields.

It also says GM should cut prices of its cars and other products in view of what it says were the company's "extremely high profits" over the past eight years.

The report, made public last night by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), suggests further study by Congress and the Justice Department to see if action is called for to curb what is described as a trend toward monopoly by the six-billion-dollar corporation, world's largest manufacturing concern.

O'Mahoney heads the judiciary subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, which recently completed a survey of General Motors as a "case history" in an inquiry to determine whether changes are needed in the nation's antitrust laws.

In Detroit, a GM spokesman said company officials have not had a chance to study the report. "However," he added, "on the basis of the entire record before the committee, the staff's conclusions as publicized are unwarranted."

George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., defended GM at a news conference called in Detroit yesterday for a report on AMC operations.

"As far as General Motors Corp. is concerned," Romney said, "I

City Eyes Lease for Reserve Site

Army Seeks Approval of Five-Acre Location on Orchard Lake

The city has received a land lease application from the federal government for a five-acre site on Orchard Lake avenue for the proposed new U.S. Army training center, the commisson was told by City Manager W. K. Willman last night.

Upon his recommendation, the commission instructed the city attorney and engineer to study the lease for form and description.

After an extensive study of the former sanitary fill area, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers recommended in February to Fifth Army officials that the site be accepted.

The proposed structure will be of a school-type design and will have a capacity for 100 men training in classrooms four days a week.

It is expected that a discussion will be held at the commission's informal meeting Monday on another proposal by the National Guard for a 10-acre plot adjacent to the reservist's proposed area.

Reserve activities in the area have been conducted in a building at 37 W. Lawrence St., while the Guard trains at the Armory, 57 Water St.

Deer Hit, Killed in Flight Across Highway in Area

The perils of a mechanized age finally caught up with one of the few remaining survivors of Oakland County's once-substantial deer herd early this morning.

The animal, a doe, was struck down by the front bumper of a car on M59, three-fourths of a mile west of Teggerdine Road, according to White Lake Township police.

The unidentified driver apparently dragged the deer off the road following the collision and continued on his way, police said. The deer was found in a ditch with three of its legs broken.

The carcass was turned over to the Michigan Dept. of Conservation.

Use of Sirens Ruled Out for Pontiac Tornado Alerts

Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) last night continued his fight to secure a tornado warning system for the city.

Earlier in the City Commission meeting, City Manager Walter K. Willman read a letter from the acting director of the state Civil Defense office declaring air raid sirens "unthinkable" for this type warning.

"The solution is to get something not in conflict with the civil defense system," the letter stated.

It continued by saying that radio and television were the best means of warning the public.

A week following the recent Grand Rapids tornado, Dugan requested immediate steps be taken to find a solution to tornado warnings.

"I believe we should get a lot more serious on this matter," Dugan declared last night. "I understand the Board of Education is calling a meeting and I believe we should do the same or set up a committee to look into an immediate solution."

The Civil Defense letter mentioned that it might be possible to use the attack warnings installed in many schools, offices and factories as a warning of natural disasters.

Enlarge Powers of Local Courts

Okay Bill to Relieve Region's Circuit Bodies of Big Dockets

A bill slightly altering court jurisdiction in Wayne and Oakland Counties was signed yesterday by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Intended to relieve circuit court dockets of many relatively minor cases, the bill enlarges the jurisdiction of municipal courts to include crimes for which the maximum penalty is a $500 fine and a one-year jail sentence.

State Senator William S. Broomfield, contacted today in Lansing, said it would be "difficult to estimate" how many cases annually would thus be removed from circuit court jurisdiction.

Broomfield said the bill will apply only to Pontiac and Royal Oak in Oakland County, where municipal courts have been established.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long said today many high misdemeanors, previously ruled on in circuit court, and possibly some felonies.

Long said a test case would be needed to establish whether felonies punishable by $500 fine and a year in jail can be handled in municipal courts.

Governor Williams also signed yesterday a bill authorizing cities to establish market authorities to purchase and operate public markets.

Dr. Rufus M. Traver Dies at His Sylvan Lake Home

Dr. Rufus M. Traver, 85, who came to Pontiac as pastor of the First Baptist Church in 1902 and was responsible for the organization of Bethany Baptist Church, died yesterday afternoon at 4:15 in his home, 1633 Inverness Ave., Sylvan Lake. He had been in ill health 16 weeks.

He served the First Baptist Church 16 years. In 1918, he was appointed field secretary for the Baptist Church during World War I serving the U. S. Army.

At the close of the war, he became pastor of the Baptist Church in East Orange, N. J. for four years. While pastor of the First Baptist Church here in 1906, Dr. Traver organized a Sunday School as a home mission project. In 1917, this group was officially organized as Bethany Baptist Church.

In 1946, an adult Bible Class was named in his honor and in 1947, he was elected to the office of honorary deacon for life by members of Bethany Baptist Church.

On Oct. 9, 1954, the Men's Club of Bethany honored Dr. Traver with a dinner for his 50 years of religious and civic activities in Pontiac. The pastor's study was furnished by the men and named the "Traver Study."

Dr. Traver was graduated from Colgate Academy, University of Rochester and the Rochester Theological Seminary. He received his Doctor's degree from Bucknell University. His first pastorate was in Hilton, N. Y.

Circuit Judge Rules on Case

Probation Invalid Unless Officer Is Appointed, He Tells Justices

In a circuit court decision yesterday, probationary powers of justices of the peace were upheld.

But Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ruled that justices' probations are invalid unless the offender is assigned to a probationary officer.

The test case was filed March 26 against Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib by Billy L. Hamilton, 29, of Waterford Township, convicted for speeding Jan. 9.

Leib confiscated Hamilton's driver's license for a six-month period as a condition of probation. Hamilton filed the suit in an effort to obtain return of the license.

Judge Adams' written opinion confirmed justices' power to impose probation, challenged in the suit, and also said suspension of driving privileges was a valid condition of probation.

EXPRESSED CONCERN

Local law enforcement officials had expressed concern over this part of the case, saying they feared justices would be forced to send many more violators to jail if deprived of probationary powers.

Hamilton got his license back when Judge Adams ruled the probation invalid because Hamilton was not assigned to a probation officer or required to make monthly reports.

Local officials yesterday expressed doubt as to whether probationary officers are legally available to justices.

Justice Leib said:

"Undoubtedly, there will be some sort of structure set up under the statute to assign probationary officers to justice courts. Meanwhile, without probationary powers, justices will have to use other methods of sentencing.

Oakland County Probation Officer Arthur P. McKenna, whose department probably will absorb the expanded duties, said he thought a mechanism for justices' use of probation officers already exists.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said in his opinion a "legal void" exists on the problem. He said he could find no reference to justices' use of probation officers in existing statutes.

Fire Vehicles Battle With Traffic Congestion Daily

Fighting the growing problem of traffic congestion which hinders emergency vehicles is a losing battle, Pontiac fire department officials commented today.

Heavy traffic is one of the major hindrances to the firefighters in the six or seven fires they are called to daily in the city, according to Fire Chief John F. Schroeder, and Assistant Chief Max Wells.

"We are hopeful that we can improve this traffic situation, and we feel the fire trucks would find traffic much easier if more drivers knew of our problem and our operating procedure," they said.

Switching two downtown intersection traffic signals to four-way stops is one procedure which causes some confusion, the fire officials pointed out.

The traffic signals are turned to red in all directions when fire engines have to cross either Saginaw or Perry streets, to allow the fire trucks free passage through the intersections.

However motorists who are not familiar with this procedure often think the traffic signals are "stuck", according to Wells, and they drive through them, endangering not only their own lives and those of the fireman, but also fire victims at the scene of the alarm.

Wells urged cautious driving on the downtown fire vehicle routes, which are Pike Street, Saginaw Street, Oakland Avenue, and Perry Street.

The assistant chief also sought to remind motorists of laws concerning following fire equipment. Vehicles should not follow emergency equipment closer than 500 feet, nor pull into a fire zone within 300 feet of the fire appartus being used.

Drivers should pull over to the side of the road and stop their cars when they see or hear an emergency vehicle approaching, Chief Schroeder pointed out.

There is a chance that a life is involved in every alarm we answer, and the public should remember that delays may mean the difference between life and death for someone.

"Because of heavy traffic passing in front of the downtown fire station, sometimes the fire engines and rescue trucks are not together," the chief stated, cautioning drivers to watch for other trucks after the first one has gone past.

"If drivers remember these fire fighting procedures, their cooperation will help the fire department a great deal in handling the fire threat to Pontiac life and property each day," the two officials concluded.

Courthouse Site Talk Delayed

Request of Supervisors for Vacation of Street Faces Commissioners

A request from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors that the city vacate a half-mile stretch of West boulevard in order that the new courthouse be built there, was referred to the City Commission's informal meeting Monday.

A decision is not expected until after city officials confer with county representatives the next day.

Last week the supervisors, by a 69-5 vote, decided to request the city vacate the area between Telegraph road and the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks. A Birmingham firm was hired to prepare final plans for the proposed courthouse tower.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) was told by City Attorney William A. Ewart that it was not possible to re-submit the relocation of the building to the people.

In 1954, voters twice vetoed the relocation of the courthouse.

"I believe that if we could get an expression of the people, the majority would vote against the shift," Miles said. "I guess all that counts is what the Board of Supervisors want."

The 60 photographs entered in competition will be on display at the Institute each afternoon through May.

Police Request to Be Studied

Amendment to Charter on Residency Sought by Association

A request from the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. that a charter amendment be submitted to voters to decide whether officers should be required to live within the city, will be studied by the City Commission Monday at their informal meeting.

Through their attorney Paul L. Merideth, the association last night requested the commission place the proposal on the November ballot.

The group had planned to circulate petitions in the city to force referendum action on the 1932 city charter amendment that requires police officers, as well as fire department personnel, to live within the city.

The organization is requesting that members be permitted to live anywhere in the county. Merideth added that a distance restriction be studied.

He presented two reasons for the need of a charter change. In case of an atomic attack all officers living around the target area, the city, would be "wiped out."

Secondly, these officers are no different from the rest of the people in the trend towards moving into the suburbs, the attorney pointed out.

An answer is expected next Tuesday on whether the amendment will be placed on the ballot.

Re-Study Law on Bump Shops

Amendment to Zoning Being Scanned Again by Commissioners

The amendment of a city zoning ordinance prohibiting auto bumping shops in Commercial 1 districts in the city, lived a short life as the City Commission last night decided to re-consider the proposal.

The ordinance was amended last week by the commission and was to take effect April 27.

Commissioner Philip E. Rowston (District 2) moved that the amendment be re-considered in order to insert sections which would allow this type work in these districts in shops 50 feet from residential zones.

Under the amendment passed last Tuesday, bumping, painting, and refinishing of auto bodies was prohibited except in the case of non-conforming use rule of the city.

Rowston said he and Mayor William W. Donaldson had conferred with a member of a local automobile association who claimed modern bumping methods are not as "noisy" as older methods.

The matter was referred to the City Plan Commission, who had also previously approved it, for discussion at their meeting May 2.

It will also be studied at the commission's informal session Monday.

Will Level Any Place on Earth

U.S. to Make Huge Rocket

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — U. S. officials predicted today the United States will develop an intercontinental rocket capable of leveling any place on earth. But they admitted it's extremely difficult to build a rocket accurate enough to hit a target 5,000 miles away—the goal of U. S. researchers.

In general, these officials were inclined to discount the statement by Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev Monday that the Russians soon would have such an intercontinental missile.

"It's good propaganda," one high source commented, "but that's all you can say for it." These views were expressed at an informal interview during the world's first international conference on guided missiles. The symposium now being held here was arranged by the scientific unit of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A score of Americans representing the Pentagon and aircraft industries are attending, along with 400 others from NATO nations.

They were willing to discuss the U. S. rocket program informally but did not want to be identified by name.

British, Soviets Suggest 'Overtime' Trade Talks

LONDON (AP)—Soviet and British leaders decreed today an 11th hour reprieve for their talks on urgent world problems. Hopes rose for at least a small measure of agreement.

* * *

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev looked thoughtful and solemn as they left No. 10 Downing St. after what was to have been their last session with Prime Minister Eden. But Eden smiled cheerfully.

DISCUSS "OVERTIME"

Both sides had sent their top negotiating teams into action to try to break the deadlocks and narrow the differences on the problems of the Middle East, disarmament, trade and cultural contacts, German reunification and European security.

Neither side wanted the talks to end in complete failure, and there was speculation that at an "overtime" meeting the Russians might offer a package deal—cooperation in the Middle East for increased British-Soviet trade and cultural exchanges.

ANOTHER SESSION?

From the Prime Minister's residence, Bulganin and Khrushchev hurried to a luncheon with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

There still was a possibility of an additional session tomorrow.

The Soviet statesmen's present plan calls for them to take off for Portsmouth to board the Russian cruiser Ordzhonikidze Friday morning, after their delayed news conference.

GM Expansion Hit in O'Mahoney Report

have the greatest admiration for the tremendous contribution it has made to the development of this country. The methods they've used are substantially beyond criticism."

The staff report says GM's dominance in such fields as truck and diesel locomotive manufacturing, and its recent purchase of extensive facilities for making earth-moving equipment, gives GM competitive advantages not necessarily good for the economy as a whole.

O'Mahoney said in an accompanying statement the study "broadly intimates the time has come to consider at least the limitation of any further expansion of the corporation into other industries."

In addition, the report said, "in view of the extremely high level of profits sustained over such a long period the interest of the consumer should receive stronger recognition by the company in lower prices."

There were these other main findings in the report:

1. Legislation is needed to ease the "plight" of retail dealers who, the report said, now operate at a disadvantage in their relations with GM. It was suggested further that dealers be guaranteed redress in court when the company "arbitrarily and not in good faith" refuses to renew a franchise.

2. Competition in the automotive field might be strengthened if GM were separated from its financing subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

3. The expansion of GM in the distribution of wholesale parts does not help the economy but endangers the existence of thousands of independent wholesalers and jobbers.

The report was prepared by subcommittee, chief counsel Joseph W. Burns, who returned to his private law practice in New York upon publication of the document.

WAS TRUMAN AIDE

Burns is a law partner of Hugh Fulton, who was staff director for ex-President Truman's War Production Investigating Committee when Truman was in the Senate, and Rudolph Halley, who similarly ran the crime probe that brought Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) to national prominence.

The investigation was started under the judiciary Committee chairmanship of the late Sen. Kilgore (D-WVA).

Referring particularly to GM's recent purchase of Euclid Road Machinery Co., the report said.

"If there was any doubt as to the circumstances under which conglomerate mergers came within the law, the Department of Justice which looked into this acquisition missed an excellent opportunity to test the law, to determine whether General Motors should be permitted to grow larger by acquisition, in a field which promises to be of tremendous importance as future road building plans get under way."

O'Mahoney in his statement said: "Having noted that the highly concentrated ownership of General Motors stock, with 15 major stockholders owning one-third of the entire outstanding common stock of the corporation and no other stockholder owning as much as 1 per cent of the outstanding stock, the staff report broadly intimates that the time has come to consider at least the limitation of any further expansion of the corporation into other industries."

General Motors, controlled by DuPont interests, makes a wide variety of products ranging from cars and trucks to airplanes, rockets, clocks, mirrors and ice-cube machines."

Posses Scour Wilds for Missing Teacher

Coast Guardsmen from Grand Marais and airmen from a radar base here.

State Police said there was no bus service to Grand Marias and it was not unusual for a young woman like Miss Burdick to hitchhike through the area.

Walter Dolozel, an employe of the city of Marquette, took four Soo girls back to Northern Michigan College at Marquette Sunday and drove Miss Burdick as far as Seney. Mr. and Mrs. George Niemi said they drove through Seney about 8:30 p.m. and saw the young teacher standing at the intersection of M77 and 28.

OFFERED HER RIDE

The couple said they offered her a ride but she declined when she learned they were only driving part way to Grand Marias.

Mrs. Burdick, a speech correction teacher at the Soo, called on police Monday to help locate her daughter. She said her daughter ordinarily called her by telephone to report she had arrived safely but she failed to do so this time.

Miss Burdick was described as 5-feet 6, 135 pounds and having light brown hair. She wore a red coat, kahki slacks and black oxford shoes.

Her father, divorced from her mother, is a furniture man at Muskegon.

Miss Burdick spent three years at Michigan Tech and Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti.

Youths Escape Injury as Car Leaves Highway

A Birmingham youth suffered a bump on the head and his six teenage passengers were shaken when the car in which they were riding went off the road and struck a culvert early last night on Adams Rd., Avon Township.

Americans Mum as Reds Throw Party at Tunnel

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians announced open house today at the tunnel they claim the Americans burrowed under the Iron Curtain to tap their communications lines.

East Berlin's Communist press invited the public to inspect the 1,600-foot underground passageway running under the border between the American and Soviet sectors of Berlin.

The air-conditioned tunnel contains elaborate listening devices, switchboards and recording apparatus. The Russian claimed the Americans used them to tap three main cables used by the Soviets for communications with their forces in east Germany.

There was still no comment from American headquarters in Berlin beyond the statement that the Soviet allegations were being investigated.

Ambulance Law Group Selected

Three Commissioners to Meet With Citizens on Proposed Ordinance

A committee of three city commissioners last night was appointed by the mayor to meet with a group of interested citizens concerning a proposed city ambulance ordinance.

The committee consists of Commissioners Philip E. Rowston, (District 2), Floyd P. Miles (District 4), and Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1).

Miles recommended the committee be appointed to meet with funeral directors in the city and others that would be effected by the proposed law.

A spokesman for the funeral directors last night told the commission that they believed some changes were needed in the proposal.

Miles further suggested that a group meet in the same manner before the formulation of any future city ordinance.

No date has been set for the meeting as yet.

The ordinance is to provide safeguards for persons injured on Pontiac streets by controlling the qualifications of ambulance attendants and other emergency vehicles operating in the city.

It was patterned after a Flint Pontiac Chamber of Commerce ordinance and urged by the Safety Committee.

financial aid as the federal assistance and the possibility of personal contributions.

Brewer said the board had yet to meet with the City Commission to discuss the construction.

"If we can find the money somewhere, I am in favor of going ahead with the construction and I think most of the board is also."

"But there may be a lot of things we will have to leave out," Brewer stated.

He emphasized that the board had 60 days in which to accept or reject the received bids.

Voters approved the $3 million bond issue to finance the project on Nov. 2, 1954.

Chairman of the Board William P. Babcock could not be reached for comment.

Boost Minimum, Says Dairy Head

MMPA President Lake Demands $5 Price at Emergency Meeting

The demand that the Federal minimum marketing order for raw milk be raised to $5 a hundred pounds in the Detroit, Muskegon and Upstate areas was made today by Glenn Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., in a meeting with U.S. Dept. of Agriculture officials.

The price was recently won by the association in negotiations with Detroit creameries during a strike by insurgent MMPA members of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. Lake made his request in an emergency meeting today in Minneapolis, Minn.

The MMPA leader told the agriculture representatives that the boost is necessary to "cope with the threat of a breakdown in orderly marketing." He asked that the price remain in effect until Jan. 31, 1957.

The present marketing order, $4.33 a hundredweight in March, is pegged to the monthly average of the highest prices paid to representative condensories. The increase would cover Class I milk (bottled milk delivered or sold to the consumer).

Urging immediate action on his demand, Lake called it a deterrent to possible future violence in Michigan and other areas.

Seek to Reduce Assault Charge

Conclude Examination of Former Policeman James B. Sexton

A motion to reduce charges of assault with intent to murder in the case of ex-Pontiac patrolman James B. Sexton, 30, was taken under advisement this morning by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

* * *

The motion came at the conclusion of a pre-trial examination in which Sexton, 686 E. Tennyson Ave. was charged with wounding two companions with his service revolver early Jan. 27.

Defense attorney Clarence Smith argued that there was no malice involved in the shooting of James R. Stephens, 30, of 208 State St. and Sexton's cousin, Archie McCowen, 24, of 180 Norton Ave., after the officer apparently went "berserk" at the end of an alleged off-duty drinking spree.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, however, claimed that malice is legally presumed in the case because a gun is involved.

Judge Finnegan said he would announce May 2 whether he will bind Sexton over to Oakland County Circuit Court on the original charge. He extended until then the $1,000 bond under which Sexton is free.

Philadelphia Blaze Kills Nine Persons

The dead included three women and six children under 14 years of age, said a spokesman at St. Joseph's Hospital where the bodies were taken.

One of the injured, a man, was reported in serious condition at the hospital.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Unites in Meetings to Spur Sewage Project

BIRMINGHAM — Formation of an authority to provide a sewer system to avoid river pollution is being advanced in two meetings this week.

Representatives of Troy City, Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills met Monday and will meet again tonight, both times in Bloomfield Hills.

Establishment of a North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority is called for in the articles of incorporation now being studied by the four governing units. Birmingham commission received its copies Monday night.

Proceeding with the north arm of the Evergreen Interceptor and at least temporarily treating the sewage at the enlarged plant in Birmingham is the authority's goal. The units recognize that the Evergreen Interceptor, continually delayed by additional problems, would give the best and most economical solution to the common problem.

The authority would acquire, own, improve, enlarge, extend and operate a sewage disposal system or systems, according to the four-unit organization.

Southfield Township and the City of Lathrup Village may join the four units later.

The member communities may later dissolve the authority and enter the Evergreen Interceptor project.

Talks on fluoridation of water are slated at next Monday's commission meeting.

City Commissioners requested state advice on pros and cons of fluoridation. Two officials have agreed to come: Dr. Fred Wertheimer, chief, dentistry section, and T. L. VanderVeide, chief, water section, of the Michigan Department of Health.

The health department is recommending the adding of fluoride to all public water supplies not naturally containing it.

Southfield road's residential character within Birmingham is subject of tonight's planning board meeting at the municipal building.

Planners will hear the city engineer and city planner make suggestions for Southfield's improvements if the road south to Eight Mile becomes an expressway. County sharing of road expenses might be possible, with the city later taking jurisdiction to control zoning, according to one official.

Enter Country Club; Report $200 Taken

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives began investigation this morning into an overnight breakin at the Birmingham Country Club in which $200 was taken from a filing cabinet safe.

Country Club manager John Brennan said the entry must have been made during the night. Brennan discovered the money was missing at 6 p.m. today.

He told investigators Leo Hazen and Jack Davis the money had been kept in two strong boxes. Brennan knew of nothing else to be missing although he found a padlock cut off a liquor cabinet.

Ike Scores Idea of H-Bomb Halt

President Sees Russian Missile Progress Near U.S. Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the United States is somewhere around the position of the Soviet Union in the development of guided missiles.

Eisenhower at the same time rejected suggestions by Adlai Stevenson and others that this country halt its tests of hydrogen bombs. A new test is scheduled in the Pacific next month.

PARADOXICAL

While refusing to comment specifically on the proposal by Stevenson, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Eisenhower said it was a bit paradoxical, when we are working as hard as we can on development of guided missiles, for anyone to advocate halting H-bomb tests.

Eisenhower also said Vice President Nixon has not told him definitely whether he wants to be the President's running mate again this fall.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he thinks the Democrats are right in making him, rather than his administration generally, a chief target of criticism. After all, the President said, he is the head of the administration.

He commented that he has been shot at before.

Utility Firm Official Talks on Expansion

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Consumers Power Co. President Dan E. Karn told 875 stockholders last night that their firm has spent 500 million dollars to improve and expand since World War II and may have to expand another half-billion in the next five years.

The Jackson executive, speaking as part of a series of 10 stockholder meetings in consumers-serviced cities, said the company ended last year with 1,214,376 customers—one third of them gas customers.

Karn said consumption of gas and electricity is increasing faster than the population and Consumers is growing faster than the average American utility.

Karn said the company has a $91 million construction budget for 1956 compared to $74 million last year. He outlined plans to add two 156,250 kilowatt-capacity generating units to the Cobb plant at Muskegon and another to the Weadock plant near Bay City by March, 1958.

Grocery Owner Stands Mute at Appeal Hearing

No trial date was immediately set. Judge Frank L. Doty, who entered a plea of innocent for Flood, continued bond of $200.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee has approved legislation calling for gold medals for the four surviving veterans of the Civil War.

Both Parties Satisfied

Ike Rolls Past Stevenson in Pennsylvania Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Eisenhower rolled up a 280,000-plus plurality over Adlai Stevenson in Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary battle for "Popularity" votes with both major parties expressing satisfaction at the result.

* * *

Republican State Chairman Miles Horst said the Eisenhower vote was a "resounding endorsement" of the national administration.

James A. Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said in the Pennsylvania voting his candidate did "exceedingly well, far exceeding our expectations."

LIGHT TURNOUT

It was one of the lightest votes in Pennsylvania's political history. With three fourths of the ballots counted, the results were:

Republican — In 8,229 of 8,730 precincts, Eisenhower 972,033; Sen. William F. Knowland of California, on the ballot against his wishes, 39,894.

* * *

Democratic—In 8,229 precincts, Stevenson, 589,433; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who was not on the ballot and who made no bid for support, 35,250.

While the Eisenhower-Stevenson battle was billed as a "popularity contest," it was strictly an intra-party election. In Pennsylvania primaries, voters cannot cross party lines.

* * *

The turnout was noticeably below pre-election predictions. The hoped-for 40 per cent or better vote actually was running closer to 25 per cent of the state's 4,992,069 registered voters.

The final figures were certain to provide both parties with much discussion material.

Substantiates Theory About Fat Men

Huge Mayor Dominates Kansas City Scene

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Fat men are alleged to be not only jolly, but the recipients of everybody's love.

* * *

The mayor of Kansas City—a man who eats 2-pound steaks for breakfast — substantiates the theory.

One year ago this month, two monumental blessings were heaped on this growing-up small town in the heart of the U. S. It launched a big league ball club, the Kansas City "A's" and it inaugurated gigantic, 6-foot-3, 300-pound H. Roe Bartle as mayor.

The "A's" boosted civic morale but finished an unimpressive sixth in the season's standings.

* * *

Bartle did a similar morale job and, if they measured mayors as they measure ball clubs, he could probably be said to have won the pennant.

The most civic-minded men in the annals of baby kissing, his motto is, "It will take more than the Athletics to make Kansas City big league. We must become big league in every aspect of life and living."

PROMOTES THE CITY

To make his town that way, he has gone out constantly on the road, selling businessmen on the efficient, low-tax, honest opportunities there are in KC, handing out gold keys to the city by the dozens, and generally stirring up more excitement than Kansas City has seen since wholesale murder was abolished here 15 years ago.

* * *

With his explosive voice (which has been compared to the mating call of a moose) and his physical architecture (which is that of a wrestler who has let his appetitie go hog-wild) one would think Bartle might frighten off the very business he is trying to lure into town.

But, no. He is a son of a Presbyterian minister and a long-time leader of the Boy Scouts of America—and the soft side of him comes through the overpowering exterior.

There is no one in town who can deny that he is an honest, sincere man—even, apparently, his political opponents.

* * *

When he was drafted for the mayoralty, Bartle was asked to campaign properly by making a disparaging remark against his wealthy opposing candidate.

FLATTERS FOE

'Anybody who has made four million dollars since 1945 without being indicted for tax evasion," boomed Bartle, "is an extraordinarily honest man." He refused to be anything but flattering to his opponent, so all his backers could do was keep him as muffled as possible.

As a result, Bartle was elected by an overwhelming majority. As fascinating a man as has ever come upon the human scene, the mayor attended the opening day's ball game this year in a tremendous, custom-made "Kansas City Athletics" uniform.

(When he was, for 27 years, chief executive of the Kansas City area of Boy Scouts of America, he used to wear size 52 shorts for hiking trips.)

Early in the ball game, he heard there was a fire in another part of town—so he rushed off, helping the firemen put out the conflagration. It was a shame.

"He ruined his baseball uniform," a friend said "because he didn't have time to go home and put on his custom-made fireman's slicker."

This versatility of costumes and Bartle's relentless energy, which keeps him hopping to all types of events and enjoying them thoroughly makes some few skeptics think he's too much of a "clown" for a mayor.

* * *

But the facts prove he's brought in more business, and kept the city morally cleaner, than any of his predecessors.

* * *

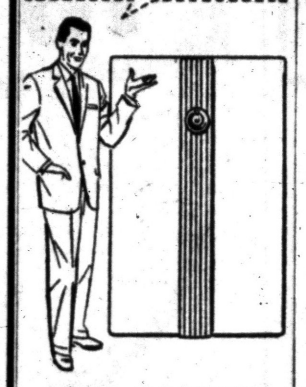

And about the costume bit, well, Roe Bartle is accustomed to being a good scout. His motto is "always prepared."

"It's great to be with Allstate!"

"While on vacation over a thousand miles from home, another driver smashed into our car. My wife and children were nearly in tears as our vacation seemed hopelessly ruined. But a phone call to a nearby Allstate representative brightened things up. He arranged for our overnight stay, and in the morning there was our car—completely repaired and raring to go. We went merrily on our way singing the praises of Allstate. It's a wonderful experience we'll never forget!"

Documentary to Be Released May 9

Film Tells Tale of Flying Saucers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A movie made as a documentary - type story of the flying saucer controversy is scheduled for release May 9.

* * *

Producers Clarence Green and Russell Rouse said at a press preview yesterday that the film brings out "one indisputable fact that flying saucers are here."

* * *

However, Air Secretary Quarles announced last October that an eight-year Air Force investigation of nearly 5,000 sightings produced "no evidence of the existence of the popularly termed flying saucers." The AF said all but 3 per cent were identified.

* * *

The 90-minute movie, "Unidentified Flying Objects," is pegged to what are described as official Pentagon film clips of unidentified objects in flight. The producers declined to say how the Pentagon shots were released to them.

* * *

Clip No. 1 was taken by Nicholas Mariana, general manager of the Great Falls, Mont., baseball club, at the ballpark Aug. 15, 1950. It shows two white spherical objects moving laterally and at the same distance from each other.

Clip No. 2 was photographed by Navy Chief Photographer Delbert C. Newhouse on the Utah desert July 2, 1952. It shows a dancing formation of from 7 to 16 white spots.

* * *

The picture says the Pentagon decided these objects were neither aircraft, balloons nor birds and classified them officially as "unknown."

The movie centesr on the story of Albert M. Chop, who as a public information specialist was assigned to the flying saucer study by the Pentagon and the Air Materiel Command. The part of Chop is played by Tom Towers, aviation writer for the Los Angeles Examiner. Chop is now a public relations man at Douglas Aircraft Co.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT THE MILK STRIKE!

The ill-advised milk strike, in which organized labor endeavored to "take over" the dairy farmers of the Detroit milk shed, proved one thing: That labor union practices and the business of independent farmers don't mix.

It became evident from the start that the instigators were not striking the dairies for a higher price. They had, in fact, agreed with dairies they would take the prevailing market price for farmers' milk!

Instead, they directed their attack against the dairy farmers' own organization, the Michigan Milk Producers Association, which they aimed to control or destroy. In this attempt, forces within organized labor sought to capitalize on the economic plight of the farmer and exploited a minority group of farmers to their own ends.

There should be no misunderstanding the fact that MMPA is a dairy farmers' cooperative, operated by the farmers, for the farmers, to cooperatively market their milk and protect their economic interests. It was the propaganda line of the strike leaders to mislead the farmers and the public in this respect.

The obviously false claim of strike leaders that they won a price increase was a part of this propaganda technique. Actually, nothing good for the dairy farmer resulted from the strike. Rather, only harm was accomplished, the seeds of dissension were sown, and the real issues and facts were wilfully misrepresented.

What Caused the Strike?

The strike stemmed from the ambition of a few within organized labor to control the Detroit milk market and to collect union dues from dairy farmers who ship milk to that market. To accomplish this, the strike organizers turned farmer against farmer in their drive to destroy his cooperative organization.

Who Were the Strike Leaders?

Major leadership and direction came from organized labor. Joined with these professionals were a former union organizer and a small group of dairy farmers who have consistently opposed the methods and policies of MMPA and sought this means of imposing their will on the MMPA membership.

What Were the Real Issues?

This was not a strike for a higher price for milk nor did it accomplish any economic advantage for farmers. The real issue was recognition of the so-called Fair Share group, organized labor's "front", for the purpose of dues collection and check-off. By this action, the strike directors sought to gain control of the assets and functions of MMPA.

Who Won the Price Increase?

The bargaining power of MMPA, carried out in an ultimatum voted at the March 28 delegates' meeting, was alone responsible for the price increase gained on April 1. The Class I price of $5 would have been achieved sooner and without ultimatum if obstructionist tactics of strike leaders and others had not blocked price negotiations carried on by the MMPA Detroit sales committee.

What Are the Economic Facts?

The increased price of $5 per cwt. applies only to that portion of the milk used for bottling and fluid purposes. It is not a net price to the farmer, who must pay marketing and shipping costs. Only part of the milk can be sold at this price, the rest must be used for manufactured products at the prevailing market price.

Outside Milk a Problem

Another factor not to be overlooked is the deluge of milk which results in any market where a higher than average price prevails. Competition from outside the milk shed can cause havoc for regular producers, even to the extent of losing their market.

No one realizes more fully the serious problems of the dairy farmer than does the MMPA, whose affairs are directed by these self same farmers. The present farmer price squeeze is the nation's Number One problem. It cannot be solved by mob action nor by looking for help from agitators outside the ranks of agriculture. They have their own axe to grind.

What Has Happened to Vassily Stalin in Russia?

NEW YORK (AP)—Among all the criticism directed by Communists these days at the late Joseph Stalin there is one strange omission.

* * *

Not a word is being said about the dictator's aviator son, Lt. Gen. Vassily Stalin, and the role he may have played in the plots and counterplots of his father's last years.

Vassily is simply being ignored. He disappeared immediately after his father's funeral.

REPORTED ILL

There have been rumors that he died in a concentration camp and others that he was alive last year in the Lubianka Prison in Moscow.

His sister Svetlana told three American newsmen who visited her more than a year ago that he was very, very ill and that she hoped he would be well soon.

* * *

The solid fact is that Vassily isn't around any more.

During the last years of his father's reign he used to be very much in evidence in the Soviet capital. He was the commander of the air forces of the Moscow Military District. He led the air parades over Red Square and the military section of the air parade at Tushino Airdrome. He was a frequent visitor at the Moscow Hippodrome—the race track. His shock of red hair was a familiar sight to many Muscovites.

GONE INTO ECLIPSE

He even had the beginnings of a political career. He was at one time a member of the Moscow Soviet and the Moscow Committee of the Communist party. He was a deputy of the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Republic.

* * *

Yet there were signs even before his father's death that he had gone into eclipse. In February, 1953, when a long slate of candidates was elected to the Moscow Soviet, he was not renamed. This was a few weeks before Joseph Stalin died.

* * *

The last time Vassily was seen in public was at his father's funeral. He was not mentioned in connection with the ceremonies in the Soviet press. But a Soviet photograph with an official caption distributed for use abroad identified him as one of his father's pallbearers—among members of the Presidium of the Communist party.

That was all. Perhaps some day the Soviet government will reveal what happened to him.

Russian Bear, British Royalty Romp Together

LONDON (INS) — At least one Russian made a hit in London this week.

* * *

Britain's Princess Anne and her brother Prince Charles found the Russian bear cub "Nikki" a willing playmate, as the royal children romped for more than an hour with the cub on the lawns of Windsor Castle.

The bear was a gift to the children of Queen Elizabeth from the visiting Russian leaders, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The cub was brought to the castle by two zoo keepers. They kept a watchful eye over the royal children, who patted and made friends with the bear before playing with him.

* * *

Nikki also met the queen and her husband, Prince Philip, and other royal guests before being returned to the London zoo.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—George R. Spears, 24, of Grand Rapids, was sentenced to 5 to 15 years in prison Monday after pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter resulting from a Nov. 11, 1955 auto accident which killed a woman. Police said Spears had been drinking when his car struck another, killing Mrs. Mabel Hawley, 58, of Grand Rapids.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A FUNNY NAME FOR A FLOWER
"Jack in the Pulpit"

This flower has a good nick-name because its straight pencil-like stalk stands up like a little preacher under a protective canopy which resembles those seen in some churches.

This is a fairly common plant in moist woods and thickets from Nova Scotia in the North to Minnesota and Kansas in the west and South Carolina in the south. It flowers from early spring until June.

Although it is a common plant don't pick it. Like all wild flowers it is better left in its natural place so that others may enjoy it too.

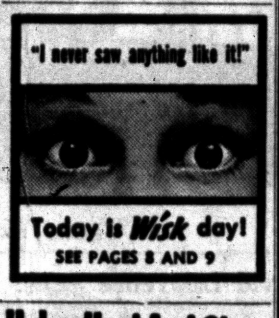

It grows from one to three feet tall, and is very erect with long, ribbed leaves. The pulpit is striped green on the outer part and purple within.

The figure in the background was suggested by the flower's name. Did you ever feel like making a speech? Here's a boy who did. He has climbed up on a stump and is giving a real speech.

When you color this picture, stripe the leaves in two shades of green to show the ribbed effect.

(Judy Green, Oakland, Calif., gets $10 for sending in this idea. If you have a workable idea, send it in care of this newspaper and it may bring you a $10 award from Junior Editors. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Nonpartisan Crusade Launched for Big Vote

If anyone needs to be told that this is a Presidential year, there is indisputable proof of it in the crusade just launched to get out a record vote November 6.

Once again spearheading this nationwide nonpartisan effort is the American Heritage Foundation. Its partner in the drive to get people in record numbers not only to register but to vote in both the primary and election, is the Advertising Council.

★ ★ ★

Between them they have enlisted more than a hundred organizations to do the grass roots work. These groups range from the American Legion to Zonta International.

The Foundation has a three phase program which it will promote with advertisements in newspapers, motion picture theaters and on radio and television. These programs will tie in with community drives by participating groups.

None of this suggests, however, that there will be any lack of partisan effort to get out the vote. Both parties have placed emphasis on precinct work—door to door or telephone canvassers.

This year the Republicans' strategy is going to be a carbon copy of their 1952 tactics. Then it was decided with Mr. Eisenhower's concurrence, that the vote appeal would be made to the 45,000,000 stay-at-homes. The result, an overwhelming Eisenhower victory, confirmed the wisdom of this decision. One party leader estimated that the GOP got three-fourths of the new votes.

★ ★ ★

All this planning seems to point just one way. No matter whether you are a Republican or Democrat or of any other political persuasion, it's going to be hard to avoid registering and voting this year. And that's good.

U. S. Aids Baghdad Pact

Biggest news for Baghdad Pact signatories at their council meeting at Tehran, was the announcement that the United States had become a full member of their economic committee.

This was a step short of what the five nations in the alliance had hoped for—full United States adherence. But it was nonetheless reassuring to the member states because it is new and conclusive evidence that this country approves the pact.

★ ★ ★

Our Government was one of the prime movers of the defense alliance linking Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. While it was felt advisable to refrain from membership, we did show continued interest by sending a team of observers to the economic meeting.

The alliance of northern tier states along the Russian border, all receiving U. S. military aid, is incessantly attacked by Moscow as a step toward war. It is bitterly fought also in Egypt which sees in it a rival force to the Arab League.

Britain has contended that our aloofness weakens the alliance and lets the Russians persuade Arabs that we're playing both ends against the middle. Our Government's position is that by joining we'd drive the anti-Baghdad-pact Arab states into the arms of Russia.

It also is felt that by joining we'd antagonize India, long at sword's point with Pakistan, and embitter Egypt. This, our Government feels, might prevent us from being a moderating force between Egypt and Israel.

E Bonds' Birthday

May 1 should have special meaning for millions of Americans because it will be the 15th birthday of the Nation's Series E Savings Bonds.

From the beginning the bonds were popular instruments of individual thrift. Most sales in the earlier years no doubt were influenced by patriotism. To the surprise of many, however, these bonds didn't disappear after the war.

Instead, most people liked this method of saving for future needs. As a result some 40,000,000 Americans own the huge sum of $40 billion worth of E and H Bonds, of which $38 billion are E Series.

Many of these bonds now are sending students through college, making down payments on homes or providing additional income for those in retirement. Since 1941, 30,000,000 wage earners have participated in the popular payroll savings bonds plan. Today the Treasury reports that 8,000,000 persons still are buying bonds under this plan each payday.

All these facts, indeed, are worthy of inclusion in an inspiring 15 year record.

Death must be a terrible disappointment to a woman, as it is impossible for her to be late for her funeral.

"There Wasn't Much Meat on That"

David Lawrence Says:

Ruling Affirms Right of Congress to Probe Witnesses on Communism

WASHINGTON—Congress has the right to investigate and get information on any phase of Communism or Communist infiltration or anything else on which it seeks to obtain data.

This principle, long established, now has been reaffirmed by the U.S. Court of Appeals here by a 6-to-3 decision. The issue arose in a case where a defendant didn't plead the Fifth Amendment but asserted that a congressional committee didn't have the right to "expose" anybody but merely to get information really needed for legislation.

The importance of the case is that a few weeks ago, by a 2-to-1 decision, a section of the court of appeals here ruled in favor of the witness. Now Judge Walter Bastian, who was in the minority then, heads the court in rendering the decision in which eight judges participated.

RAPS FALLACY OF LIBERALS

The case is important because it strikes at a fallacy widely believed by many so-called "liberals" who have contended that, unless a congressional committee can furnish absolute proof that it is constitutionally authorized to get the information it seeks from a witness, the latter is justified in declining to answer.

But Judge Bastian, speaking for the court of appeals, says:

"A majority of the court is of the opinion that Congress has power to investigate the history of the Communist Party and to ask the questions Watkins refused to answer. It would be quite in order for Congress to authorize a committee to investigate the rate of growth or decline of the Communist Party, and so its numerical strength at various times, as part of an inquiry into the extent of the menace it poses and the legislative means that may be appropriate for dealing with that menace.

"Inquiry whether thirty persons were Communists between 1942 and 1947 would be pertinent to such an investigation. The questions asked Watkins could be asked for a valid legislative purpose."

The principal point made by the minority of the court was that a congressional committee doesn't have the right to use its powers for "exposure" about anybody. But Judge Bastian, in the majority opinion, adds:

* * *

"Congress has power of exposure if the exposure is incident to the exercise of a legislative function. Congress certainly has the power of inquiry or of investigation when the inquiry or investigation is upon a subject concerning which Congress may legislate. The fact that such an inquiry or investigation may reveal something or 'expose' something is incidental and without effect upon the validity of the inquiry."

FAR-REACHING SIGNIFICANCE

The witness in this case undertook to decide for himself whether Congress ought to require him to give the names of Communists he knew in the labor-union movement. The court says this is for Congress to determine unless a Fifth Amendment plea is interposed as a reason for refusal to answer. The court's ruling, therefore, is of far-reaching significance—particularly this passage:

"Congress has before it the important duty to legislate effectively, but at the same time wisely, upon the problems posed by the world Communist movement. It cannot perform that duty without information. It ought not try to perform it without information. We think that the joint resolution authorized an inquiry into infiltration by Communists into labor unions and that this inquiry was such an inquiry."

Thus does a high court dispose of the allegation that a congressional committee's search for information can be restricted, if not broken down altogether, by the specious plea that it might "expose" something unpleasant about the past associations of a person who once was in the Communist movement or knew something about its operations. Unless the Fifth Amendment is offered as a reason—a fear of self-incrimination—the citizen owes a duty to tell a duly constituted committee of Congress what he knows.

Doctor Advises Mothers to Have Babies at Home

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Home is the safest place to have a baby.

In most cases it is a kind of misfeasance and selfishness to go to a hospital to have a baby. Hospital beds are for sick and injured people. It is neither good sense nor good economy to allow hospital beds to be occupied by ignorant, selfish pampered women who expect to bear or have recently borne children.

It saddens me to see how many prospective parents today, even those who have at home every desirable facility, run to a hospital for childbirth, where they have to submit to the "regulations" imposed by doctors, nurses, and other officious attendants.

When our first baby was born, we lived in a house for which we paid $18 a month rent. When our second baby was born we lived in a house for which we paid $26 a month rent. I was a member of the hospital staff, but our babies were born at home. I know what goes on in hospitals today.

It seems to me several factors contribute to this delinquency. First, our failure to teach teenage children not only "the facts of life" but the physiology and hygiene of pregnancy, childbirth and the care of the baby.

Second, the notion of the ignorant prospective parents that they can shift all responsibility off their own shoulders onto the hospital.

Third, in order to sport fancy cars, clothes and other luxuries required to keep up with the Joneses they have had to live in a cubbyhole which, after all, is a shabby place to rear a family.

Fourth the fast-buck practitioners of today, the trick specialists and the part-time obstetricians, and the nurses, hospital managers and other persons who work with and for them, whoop it up at every opportunity to persuade the yokels that only in a hospital is all the equipment available for whatever emergency may arise. Then, too, some hospital folk prate about the importance of keeping everything sterile, germ-free, but some of the misdeeds perpetrated by these hospital people — today — would make your hair curl if you know what obstetric asepsis means.

When I get really depressed about this, I like to read what Coleen Gray, the movie star, said about having babies—her first in a hospital, her second at home. In the hospital, "toward the end of the first stage of labor they gave me a shot of something —and the next thing I knew, I had a baby. They told me I should have been grateful. I wasn't."

Yet a familar remark of uninformed or misinformed pregnant women, is "Oh, I prefer to go to the hospital, have an anesthetic, and know that when I wake up it will be all over."

Said Miss Gray (Mrs. Bill Bidlack) after the birth of her second baby at home:

"You can cuddle your baby in your arms right away and as often as you want, instead of adhering to hospital rules . . ."

That's a pleasant picture to end this sad harangue. It is reassuring to know that home is still the best place to have a baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Farmer Gives Food Free Instead of Letting It Rot

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

How many times have you passed by fields of berries, fruits, corn, pumpkin, etc., rotting?

Today we answered an ad in the paper for free potatoes. The people who had the potatoes couldn't sell them and rather than let them rot, they gave them away to anyone who wanted them, and believe me, there were plenty who did.

We don't see why other farmers don't do that also when good food is being wasted.

The people had a box, and if you wanted to donate a little you could, but it wasn't necessary. I'm sure everyone got more than their donations worth, and we would like to thank the people for giving the potatoes as they did.

Reader Says Psychology and Bible Just Don't Mix

Dr. Crane says psychology goes to church. If I remember right, a few months ago he said one doesn't need to be baptized to be saved, but the Bible says "Whereunto even baptism doth also now save us."

I pity those 1500 priests, rabbis, and clergymen who seek advice on the word of God. James said if any of you lack wisdom let him ask of God.

Psychology and the Bible don't mix. Psychology is to study the human mind. Now Dr. Crane may be a good psychologist, but when he tries to mix that with the Bible, it just won't work.

The reason that fanaticism so often triumphs is that those who hold a position passionately are the only ones who takes the trouble to arm themselves with persuasive arguments, however wrong they may be.

New Soviet 'Soft' Policy Poses Threat for NATO

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which is losing Supreme Commander in Europe Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, is threatened by disunity and the new Soviet "soft" policy.

The Nebraska-born Gruenther, 57, is retiring for "personal" reasons and with "no ulterior motive." He is making way for a younger successor, the brilliant 49-year-old air deputy, Minnesota-born Gen. Lauris Norstad.

But it is known also that Gruenther has been worried about conflicts among NATO members and the impact of Soviet political offensives aimed to wreck NATO and obtain removal of U. S. forces and air bases from Europe.

Gruenther will leave an organization of 48 divisions spread from Norway to eastern Turkey, backed by approximately 6,000 aircraft.

* * *

OTHER HEADACHES

Along with numerical inferiority NATO has these headaches:

France has reduced its original NATO force of five divisions to two because of the battle with Algerian nationalists in Africa. It also has drained off combat segments of the two divisions.

* * *

NATO's southern flank is in jeopardy because of the feud among Britain, Greece and Turkey over the Cyprus issue.

In Iceland the Parliament want to get U. S. troops out of that strategic Alantic base.

Trouble also is brewing politically in West Germany and France.

* * *

Bonn's entry into NATO last May and the decision to plan for use of tactical atomic weapons against an attack have been the two most important events since Gruenther took over command from Gen. Matthew Ridgway in July 1953.

BONN STILL WEAK

But formation of the West German army has just begun. That army's strength, counted on so heavily by Gruenther and other top NATO planners, eventually is aimed at 500,000 men. But this will take three or four years at least.

* * *

French Socialist Premier Guy Mollet, too, now has complicated West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's political tasks by urging priority for disarmament over NATO's long-range objective of creating the strength to effect German reunification so dear to the hearts of all German politicians.

Bonn as a consequence already has announced it intends to negotiate directly with Moscow on German reunification. This is contrary to the long-time Adenauer policy.

Adenauer's opponents, in seeking votes, also are attacking the chancellor's policy of conscripting German youth. They say there is no purpose in conscription when the major powers are talking about disarmament.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Older People Must Fight Against Urge to Settle Back in Their Rocking Chairs

Tim realizes that he is only two feet from slavery! And those two feet are his own pedal extremities! Oldsters should never succumb to the indolence of an easy chair, for the moment they lose the ability to walk, they are slaves to an invalid's bed. So walk, walk, walk! And every day! For muscles atrophy fast in people past 65. Use them daily to keep them strong.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-339: Tim J., aged 64, is soon to be retired on Social Security.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, my wife and I have saved a few thousand dollars," Tim began, "and next year we'd like to go back to a little plot of ground in the country so we could eke out our living from the soil.

"We both grew up on the farm, so we are used to that kind of life and enjoy it.

"Besides, if we continue to rent here in Chicago, we will hardly have enough left to live on.

"It now costs us $75 per month for our little apartment, and that would knock out most of the Social Security pension I'll receive next year.

"Don't you think we could live more economically on a little five-acre place of our own?"

TWO FEET FROM SLAVERY

When you approach the Social Security age, always keep vividly in mind that fact that you are only two feet from slavery.

And those two feet are your own pedal extremities:

* * *

So keep on your feet as long as you can do so, even if your joints creak with arthritis and you must hobble on a crutch, cane or even a peg leg.

Don't surrender to your easy chair or ever allow yourself to become bedfast, for the moment you lose the power to get around on your own two feet, you will be tied down like a vegetable.

You will then be physically chained to a fixed spot and will have no more physical freedom than a slave.

I say this because too many elderly folks nowadays fail to set themselves a daily stint of physical walking. They succumb to an easy chair. And the more they rest, the faster their muscles atrophy.

Soon they can't walk at all, for they are too weak and wobbly to get upon those two feet.

So thank God that you have feet and be sure you use them daily. Since you are only two feet away from slavery to a bed or invalid's chair, don't neglect to walk, walk, walk.

FARM INDEPENDENCE

Tim is thus smart in planning to get a little plot of farm land. On five acres, an elderly couple can still earn their keep as long as they can hobble.

* * *

And the Social Security check each month will pay for other items like as fuel, electricity, coffee, sugar and such edibles which they can't raise in their garden.

Even if they purchase cheap, second-rate land, it will produce ample garden stuff and chicken forage, cow or goat pasture, etc.

By cheap land, too, I mean clay or sandy soil at $75 to $150 per acre, exclusive of buildings thereon.

The rent which Tim pays in Chicago would soon buy him a five-acre plot. And the taxes thereafter on his 5 acres, plus a little cottage and hen house or cow shed, would probably average less than $5 per month.

So he would save $70 per month by living in his own little farm cottage, instead of in the $75 per month city apartment.

Tomorrow I shall outline in more detail the economical way for elderly folks to live on such small farm plots near small towns in our typical states.

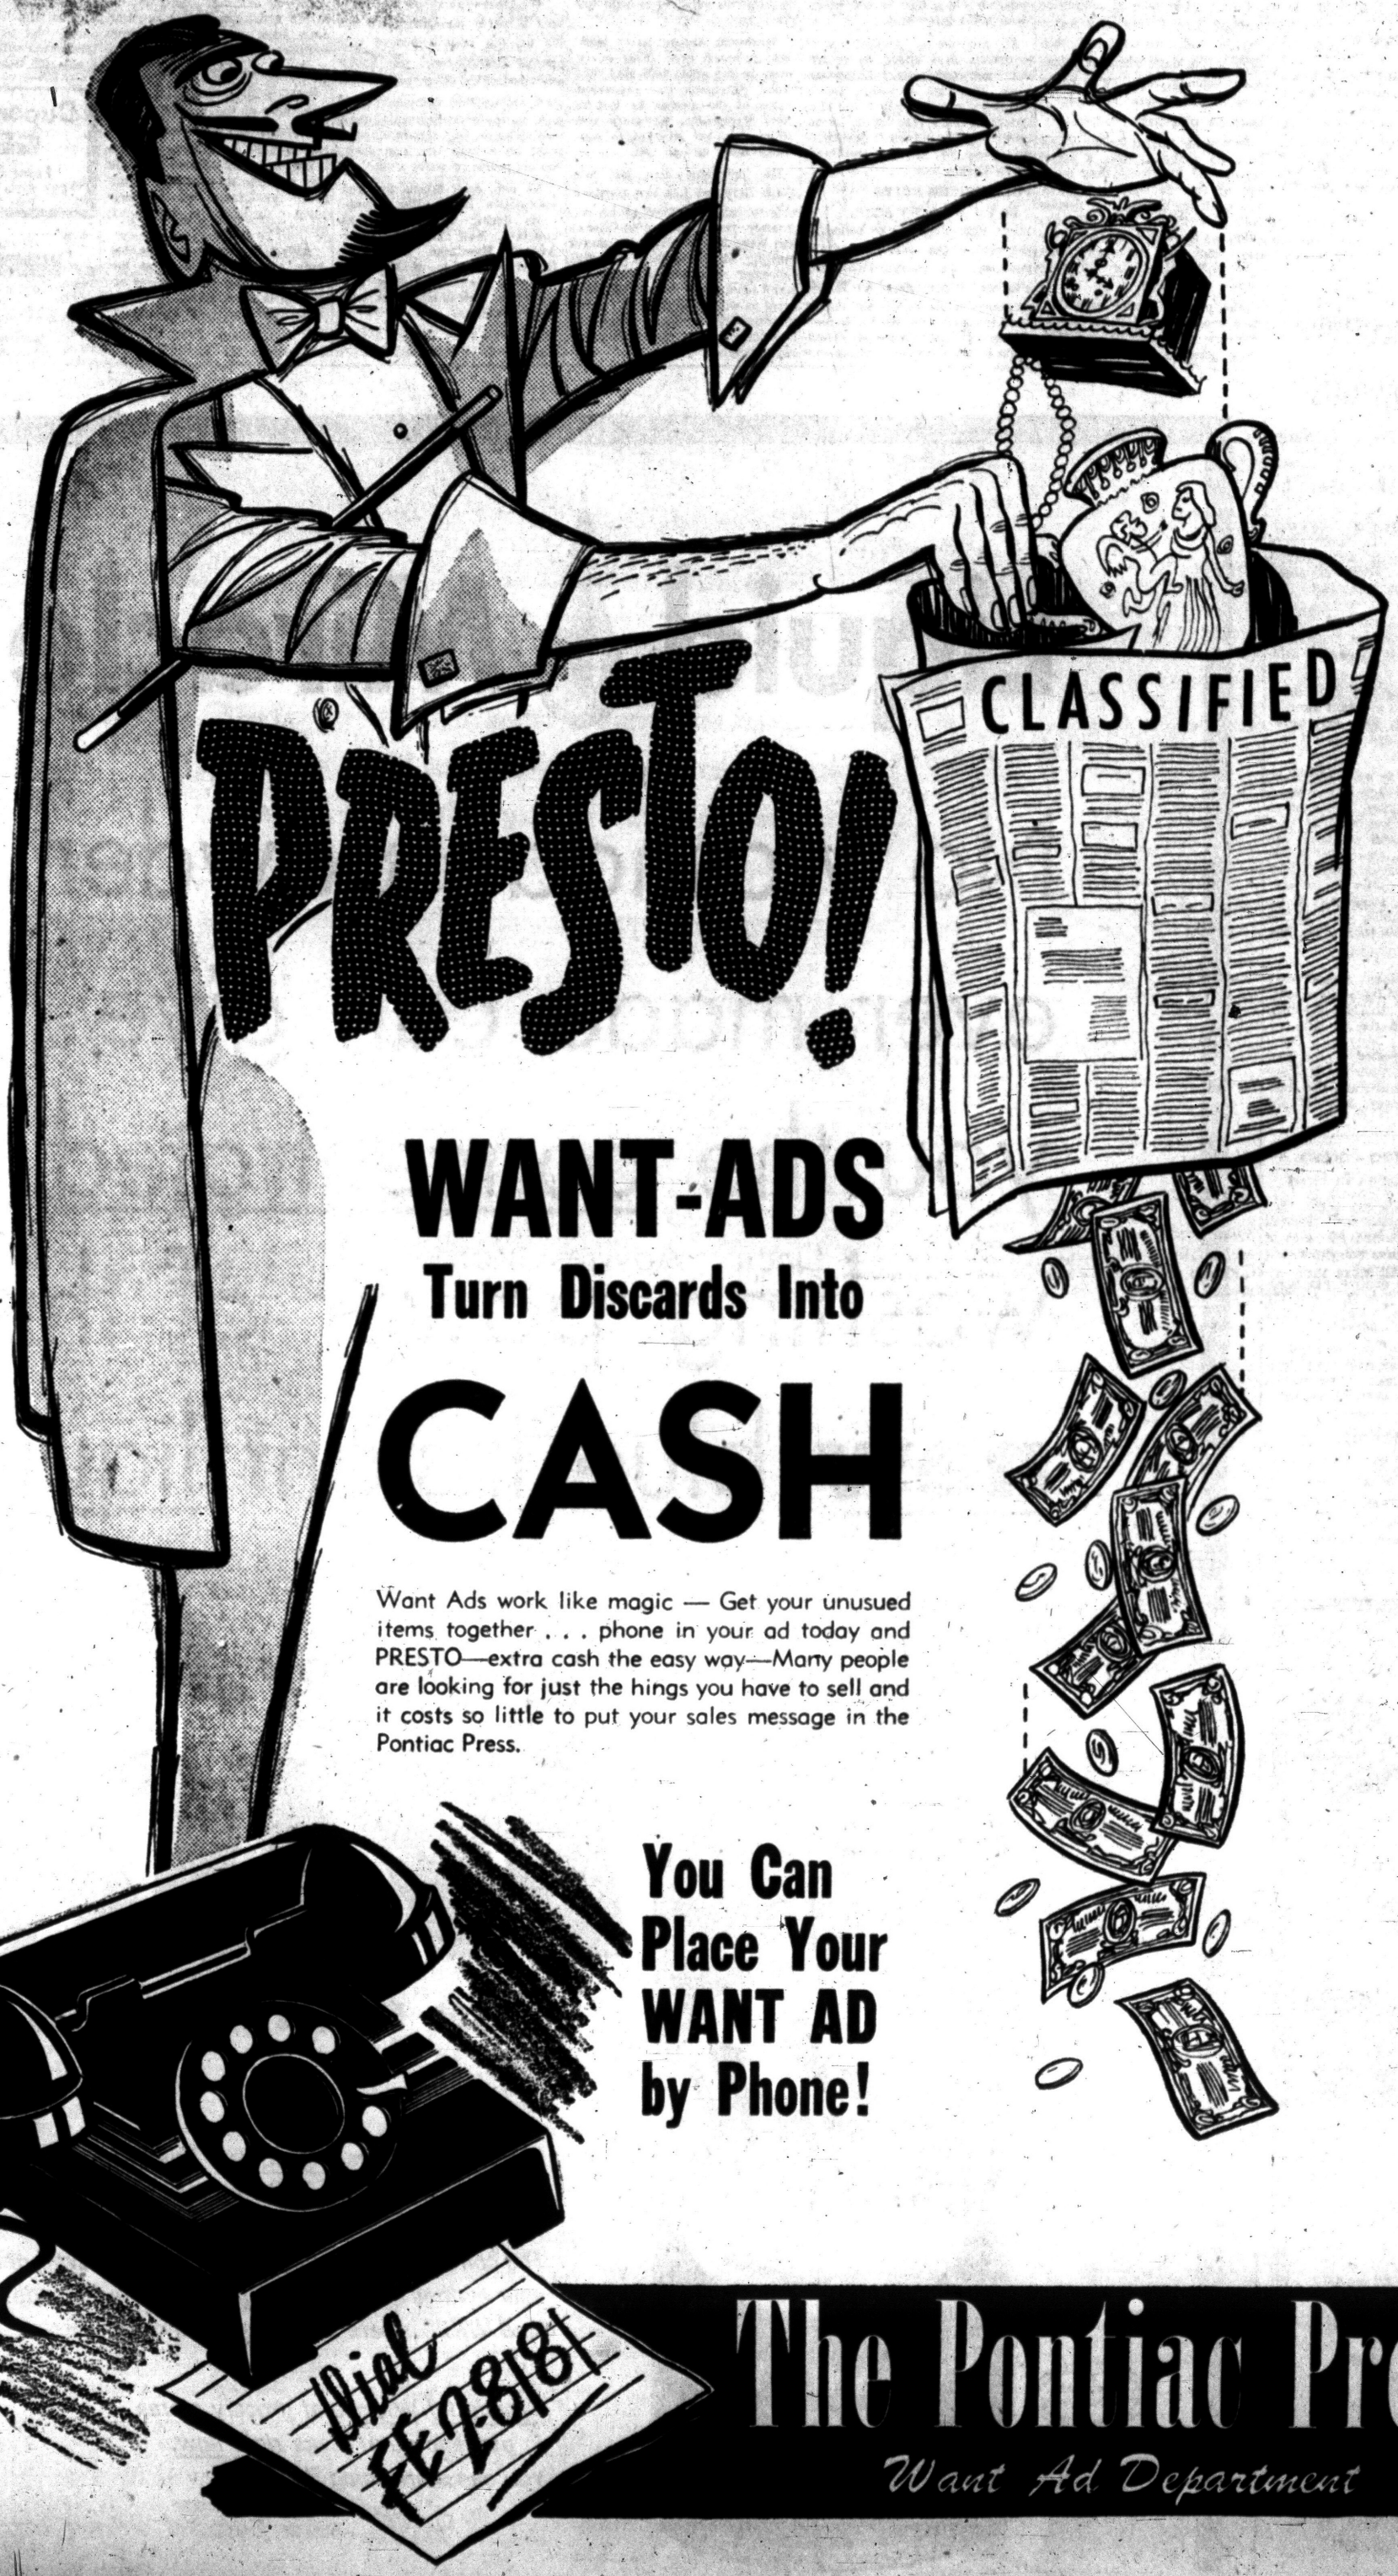

* * *

But by all means, don't go into physical retirement at 65. Stay on your two feet for they are what will keep you physically active and out of a rest home or hospital.

Walk and walk and walk—every day! Fight the inertia of old age which tempts oldsters to sit in rocking chairs before TV sets and thus causes premature invalidism.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Ike Will Be Target for Democrats' Big Guns in November Campaign

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Secret strategy mapped in Washington during the past weekend will revolutionize the '56 Democratic campaign, this correspondent just learned.

A top-ranking Democrat who helped direct the two-day party conclave confided that President Eisenhower himself is to become the personal target of the Democratic big guns.

No longer will the Secretary of Agriculture reap the blame for the administration's farm program, or the Interior secretary for alleged "give-aways." Not Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, but Ike himself, will be blasted for so-called foreign policy blunders.

"From now on, Eisensower is our whipping boy," he strategist declared, "and we are actually beginning to feel we can lick him."

Until the big national committee meeting last Friday and Saturday, he said, "we were just whistling in the dark when we talked about winning. Now, we're beginning to feel serious about it."

SECRET REPORT

Part of the reason for the about-face, he explained, was a secret report read to a closed-door meeting of the national committee. The statistics showed that despite Ike's personal popularity, the Republicans have lost more elections under him than under any other GOP president of the 20th Century.

The political leader said this fact convinced delegates Eisenhower is not invincible, and that "his personal popularity is a passive thing that is not being translated into votes."

An analysis of several recent primaries also added to returning self-confidence. Democrats were told that although Republicans polled two-thirds of the Minnesota primary vote in '52, Democrats exactly reversed the count this year by scoring two-thirds themselves.

POLL HIGHER VOTES

In the Wisconsin primary four years ago, Republicans polled 75 per cent of the vote, and only 55 per cent this spring. Democrats won only 32 per cent of the Illinois primary ballots in '52, but almost 50 per cent this year. In New Jersey's primary last week Democrats captured 43 per cent, as contrasted with only 27 per cent four years ago.

Sentiment among party leaders gathered here from every state in the union indicated that Adlai Stevenson has recovered some of the ground he lost in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Minnesota, but has yet to convince them he can win.

The delegates also felt Sen. Estes Kefauver has lost considerable strength because of his extremely poor showing in Illinois and New Jersey. During a secret meeting, it was pointed out that Kefauver runs best in rural and small town areas, but that a Democrat to win must electrify the big metropolitan sections where the Democratic party draws its greatest strength.

"We Democrats know the rural vote is never an affirmative one for us, but only a protest vote against Republicans," one leader explained. "In other words, any good Democratic candidate could pick up whatever disgruntled rural vote there is. Our standard-bearer must be a man who can sweep the big cities, or we're sunk."

No new dark horses inspired speculation by leading Democrats during the all-important conclave. New York Governor Averell Harriman and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, however, were frequently discussed by the money boys who want a winner.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, considered a strong presidential contender until his heart attack last summer, drew little attention even from southern delegates.

HARRIMAN-SYMINGTON

Surprisingly enough, there was little talk of the possibility of a third party revolt. State chairmen and national committeemen from below the Mason-Dixon line said they can find no politically prominent Southerners who are seriously considering a third party movement.

Although Stevenson was the only avowed candidate at the party conclave, he drew less attention in the smoke-filled rooms than Harriman and Symington.

In fact, several bets were laid that unless the Stevenson bandwagon "begins to roll" in the Florida and California primaries during the next two weeks, the Democrats will have a Harriman-Symington ticket.

Farm Incentive Killed by Aids

Shuman Says Grower Has Right to Earn Income, Not Get It

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The President of the American Farm Bureau Federation says government help has "nearly destroyed incentive among farmers."

* * *

Speaking at a railroad convention Monday, Charles Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., told the 250 delegates:

"A lot of farmers think they have a right to a decent income They're wrong. They only have the right to earn a decent income."

Agriculture, he said, should be put back on a system of free enterprise and incentive. "We must go back to producing what he consumer needs and what he can use. Economic law cannot be replaced by political action," Shuman said.

He praised President Eisenhower for vetoing the "hodge-podge farm bill thrown together by Congress."

* * *

Some government support may be necessary in farm crises, Shuman said, but "the law of supply and demand is the ultimate answer."

Shuman addressed a joint convention of the American Railway Development Assn. and the Railway Development Assn. of the Southeast.

Chapter No. 11 (Condensed) . . . The Truth About Cancer

Watchfulness Is Key to Help Cure Breast Cancer

By DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON
Medical and Scientific Director of the American Cancer Society

Cancer of the breast is the cancer most feared by women. And for good reason, since it is the commonest major form of cancer among females.

It is most likely to occur after the age of 45, though it is not rare in the 30s.

First evidence of breast cancer is a lump, usually painless. It may appear in any part of the breast, but the upper outer quarter is favored. As the mass of cancer grows larger, other signs appear.

The flattening of the nipple is frequently observed. The nipple appears to sink downward or to "retract."

In time, it comes to lie entirely beneath the adjacent skin level.

Later, a portion of the skin covering the breast may grow tense.

As the tumor grows and takes up more space, the breast may become larger. But just as often it appears to shrivel.

All persistent irritations of the skin of the nipple must be definitely diagnosed by biopsy.

Benign tumors of the breast are very frequent, and they, too, show up as lumps. So a breast mass does not always mean cancer, and in women under fifty it usually does not. Again, examination by an experienced doctor is the best way to find out the truth.

Experienced doctors never remove the breast without clear proof of the actual presence of cancer.

When the complete operation of removal is performed while cancer is confined to the breast, the likelihood of cure is 75 to 80 per cent.

THE UTERUS

Cancer of the uterus (the womb) is only slightly less frequent than cancer of the breast. Each year some 45,000 women develop it.

The commonest warning sign is irregular bleeding.

When cancer is present in the uterus, a vaginal discharge is usually tinged with blood, and its color may vary from the faintest pink to deep red.

Fortunately, women can protect themselves against illness and death from cancer of the womb by having a thorough pelvic examination twice a year though the pelvic area does not seem to be giving them any trouble.

Cancer of the cervix can now be identified by a vaginal smear even before it can be seen by the eye of the examining doctor.

THE VAGINAL SMEAR

Experience with the vaginal smear technique of diagnosis has revealed a new condition that can be thought of as midway between what is normal and what is cancer.

Occurring in the cervix, it consists of a cluster of cells which individually look like cancer cells, but they lack the other criterion of cancer—they are not invading or reaching out into normal adjacent areas as cancer cells usually do.

These colonies of cancer cells have remained strictly confined to a single small area.

So, if this can be identified accurately by means of the vaginal smear, then regular performance of that test—say at six-month intervals—should make death from cancer of the cervix a rare event instead of the first cause of death from cancer among women.

Last: The responsibility is yours.

Liquid Miracle!

The instant Wisk hits water, it bursts into millions of wet, live, liquid suds, liquid suds with concentrated washing power that get out dirt and stains dry, lazy, powder suds can't even budge.

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

New, blue WISK is the first detergent of its kind ever made. It is a new formula — completely different from anything else you ever tried.

In the first place, it is a liquid that you pour into your washing machine. It goes to work the instant it hits water. There's no waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And it does a better job, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power completely unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics — safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH!

Never again need you take a napkin out of your washer and find a gravy stain still in it. Never again need you find a lipstick stain left in a hand towel or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep down into the cloth fibers in a way that no powder is able to. Safely, but, oh, so thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything spotlessly clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for the collars and cuffs of your husband's shirts! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash no matter what detergent you used in the past. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so wonderfully clean you can even smell the difference between a WISK wash and one done with another product!

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated liquid WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look like new. And if your kitchen cabinets have yellowed with age, it washes them white and shiny again without scratching or marring the surface in any way.

New, blue, liquid WISK does the toughest cleaning jobs quicker, easier, and more safely than products specially designed for these tasks. Now you can put those harsh and dangerous chemicals in the garbage can where they belong!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS! NO MORE CLUTTERED SHELVES!

And what a blessing WISK is! It does away with "washday hay fever." The handy can does away with clumsy boxes that get soggy and fall apart. It does away with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, it means that you don't have to clutter up your shelves with a box for this, a bottle for that, and all those other packages a woman used to need to keep her home clean.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED BY LEVER BROTHERS!

We've promised a good deal for WISK in this advertisement, but we mean every word we've said. In fact, we guarantee them. We've had them checked by Good Housekeeping Institute and by Parents' magazine. And if you don't agree that every word is true, that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used — not just as good, but the BEST! — we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage! So start using WISK today! It's at grocers and supermarkets in pint and quart sizes.

WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the very first wash!

WISK rinses away cleaner than any powder ever made! WISK rinses away as only a liquid can! Leaves no undissolved powder or soap scum to scorch when ironing.

WISK removes more stains than any powder! Wet stain with water. Spread WISK directly on stain. Put in machine with rest of wash. WISK gets everything clean.

WISK is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made! WISK is safe as only a liquid can be, safe for anything that's safe in water. Kind to hands. And no sneezes!

You haven't washed your cleanest wash . . . until you've washed with Wisk!

Historic Hotel Ruined by Fire

Guests Escape Flames on Engine Ladders in Pennsylvania Blaze

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — A fast-spreading fire wrecked the century-old Carver Hotel early today.

An estimated 65 guests fled to safety. Hotel officials said they believed all occupants had been accounted for within two hours after a general fire alarm was sounded at 1:36 a.m.

* * *

One guest, who identified himself as N.J. Santon, 61, Oswego, N.Y., crawled out a window of his first-floor room about 3 a.m., apparently uninjured.

LADDER RESCUES

Others fled down rear stairways after being warned by telephoned alarms from the hotel switchboard and by hotel employes. Firemen hoisted aerial ladders to rescue other guests.

The blaze burned furiously for more than two hours through the four-story brick structure in the heart of Warren's downtown business district.

STAYED ON JOB

Edgar McClen, night clerk, remained at the hotel switchboard until melted wires broke off his communications. Then he grabbed the register and fled to an office across the street where he immediately began checking for any missing guests.

* * *

Warren Hospital reported it had admitted three persons who had been in the hotel. They were reported suffering from shock.

Milburne Anderson, 73, owner of the hotel, collapsed from a heart attack and was taken to the hospital.

* * *

Cause of the fire was not determined, nor was there any immediate estimate of damage.

First there's the key to the front door. Sometimes there are more than one—for instance, the keys to the bolts.

* * *

Then, if she lives in an apartment, there is a key to the apartment door. In each door of the house, whether it be a two-room flat or a 20-room mansion, there is the familiar key. Many Germans still lock themselves into their bedrooms at night.

* * *

But this is only the beginning of the key cycle. There are keys to the back door, too; to the basement, to the attic, to the china closet, the desk, even to the fuse box.

Strange as it may seem, Germans even lock up their refrigerators at night.

10 MILLION GALLONS

Beer, of course, is a German institution, too. The ministry of foods announced this month that 10 million gallons of beer were consumed in the federal republic in 1955.

This averages out, the ministry said, to 20 gallons per person, "including women, children, old people and refugees."

And they all use keys, an indeterminate number, since there is not yet a federal ministry of keys to keep score.

If anybody happens to lock the key inside a room or a refrigerator, he'll send out a call for the "schlosser," or keymaker, a busy fellow in this country.

SHOCKS GERMANS

No self-respecting German motorist would ever leave his car unlocked, even for a quick dash into the grocery store. The quaint American habit of leaving motor running and the keys in the car shocks German sensitivity.

Not long ago an American businessman in Frankfurt bought a house and went on an inspection tour with his landlord. The living room was locked and no key was evident.

"It's in the basement," said the landlord. "Let's go get it."

But the basement was locked, too. The call went out for the "schlosser."

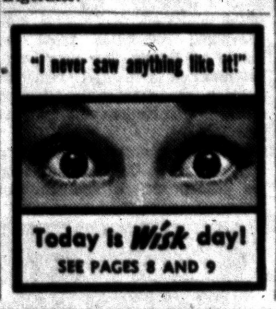

Sociologists have an explanation for the German key consciousness. They explain that the German people are more security conscious than any other people in the world.

AMID HOSTILITY

This is so, they say, because Germany has for centuries been surrounded by hostile, or potentially hostile, forces, the Austrians to the south, the French to the west, the Swedes to the north and the Russians to the east.

* * *

Therefore, according to the explanation, Germans tend to protect what they have — even down to the sausages in the refrigerator.

McCormack's In as Favorite Son

Massachusetts Voters Steamroll Over Adlai 12,392-3,272

BOSTON (AP)—Democratic Boston gave a hearty "favorite son" write-in vote to U.S. Rep. John W. McCormack in yesterday's state primaries.

His Boston vote was 12,392 to 3,272 for Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 nominee who is campaigning for a second shot at the presidency. Stevenson ran ahead in the rest of the state, reducing McCormack's home town lead.

Stevenson's chief rival in the spring primaries, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) ran far behind. Neither Stevenson nor Kefauver campaigned in Massachusetts. In addition, Kefauver urged his supporters to give their write-in preference to McCormack.

As expected, President Eisenhower dominated the Republican write-in. He also was the choice of a number of Democratic voters, although his write-in fell far behind the 16,000 Democratic write-ins he collared four years ago.

Bob Considine Says:

'Friends' Snub Patient Polish Expatriates

LONDON (INS)) — While Britain showed Khrushchev and Bulganin her latest jet aircraft command and the former boasted of early completion of a Soviet H-bomb intercontinental ballistics missile, I sat with a shabby little band of Polish expatriates who live from day to day awaiting retribution and revenge.

The place was a shuttered second story room of the General Sikorski Institute in Prince's Gate. The occasion was the showing of a documentary film, "The Crime of Katyn," and our host was Gen. Wadislaw Anders, bone-bald commander-in-chief of the Free Polish armed forces. The unnamed villains of the piece were Britain's top guests—known here as "B. and K."

In a dark little makeshift theater we saw German, then Russian newsreels of the discovery of the frightfully decomposed bodies of 4,000 Polish officers who had been shot through the head and burned in common graves in the Katyn Forest in the spring of 1940.

The discoverers, the Nazis, blamed the Russians. The Russians later exhumed the remains and "proved" the Germans had committed the shocking crime.

Meanwhile, when the Polish government in exile asked the International Red Cross to make an impartial study, Stalin broke off relations and set up the Polish Communist government that took over after the war and remains in power.

MOANS OF SORROW

The sweatered Pole seated next to me moaned softly in inexpressable sadness as the ghastly film unwound. He and others in the threadbare little audience clucked away impatiently at the film's end which points out that a U. S. congressional committee fixed the blame on Russia four years ago, but America is strangely reluctant to bring the matter to the attention of the United Nations Assembly as promised.

In dreary contrast to the pomp and ceremony that has attended the official visit of the Russian brass, the people at the Sikorski Institute wore not only an air of shabby gentility, but of numb determination. Their manner said:

"We can stand anything because one of these days, justice will be done."

This is the philosophy they have maintained in the face of the cold shoulder they have received from the U. S. and the very Western powers who went to war to deprive Hitler of his now forgotten Polish corridor.

The Federation of Poles in Great Britain, as they call themselves, includes men and women who expect the worst and for the past 16 years have seldom been disappointed in that expectation.

DISPLACED AGAIN

For example, the screening was scheduled for the good projection room of the British Council of Cinema, but a short time before the start, the council reneged. As we arrived at the appointed place, a distinguished old Pole-in-exile apologized and handed us a mimeographed notice beginning:

"At 1 p.m. today, the Federation of Poles in Great Britain was informed by telephone that the British Council of Cinema does not feel able to keep the terms of the agreement according to which the Katyn wood murder documentary film was to have been show."

A bus carried the little audience to the improvised projection room at the institute, several miles away.

There, before the film was shown, Gen. Anders said that at least 14,500 Polish army prisoners, mostly officers, were shot, although only less than a third were found. A proposed new Soviet investigation of the massacre would be a "travesty of justice," he said.

He appealed to the press for support of Free Poland's demands. Khrushchev and Bulganin should be tried as war criminals he asserted. Because they now state that Stalin was a mass murderer and infer they simply were subordinates who had to carry out his orders.

SAME DEFENSE

He recalled the major German war criminals used the same defense at the Nurnberg trials. "Yet they were convicted," he added sternly.

• • •

The motorcycle escort of "B. & K." sounded shrilly as the last of the forlorn but unvanquished Poles went their ways after the film.

The Russians were en route to the splendor of their suites at Claridge's. After that they'd dine with members of the Labor Party at the House of Commons.

For the Poles, the hour of justice must have seemed an eternity away.

JUST ARRIVED — A diamond-back rattler, part of a new shipment of 60 snakes at the "Serpentarium" at 1070 Dixie Highway, gets milked by Paul Allen (left), owner, and Andy Koukoulis, a guide at the snake farm. The venom is sold for anti-venom serum. Included in the shipment of snakes was a 13-foot 130-pound Anaconda. New shipments are needed each spring because 80 per cent of the stock dies of captivity, Allen said.

U.S. Embassies Loaded With Troubles Handling Globe-Trotting Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — So many congressmen and other governmental bigwigs go globe-trotting each year that the U. S. embassies have trouble handling them.

At least that's the view of Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), himself an ardent traveler. He put a table in today's "Congressinal Record" to show how many statesmen have dropped in on such points as Rome, Bonn, Paris and Madrid.

Paris, as you might suspect, got the biggest play.

It had 707 congressional visitors in 1955, or 176 more than the combined population of Congress. This is because the Paris figures also include congressmen's wives and congressional staff members.

• • •

In addition, Paris was visited by 1,360 governmental big wheels and by 911 private citizens considered important enough to rate special attention.

FULL-TIME OFFICE NEEDED

"It has been necessary," Mansfield told the Senate, to establish a full-time office to assist the large number of VIP's (very important persons) traveling through Paris."

Madrid had 303 congressional visitors, Rome 223. Between May and December, 1955, 84 dropped in on Bonn.

Meeting VIPs, Mansfield said, is quite a business.

"Normally this involves meeting the traveler at the airport or the dock, escorting him to his hotel, assisting him in meeting local officials and members of the embassy, helping him obtain the information he seeks, and in due course putting him aboard transportation facilities for travel to his next stop."

Mansfield said he is grateful for this assistance, and he hopes other congressmen are too, and remember it when the State Department's appropriations come up.

• • •

"I do not think I could have done my work properly as a member of the committee on foreign relations," he said, "without the help of the able men and women in the foreign service of the United States."

CHARMING REPORTS

Well, congressmen have been doing a lot of gadding about all right. One informal census, taken in August of last year, found 45 of them bustling through Europe.

The reports drifting back had a charm all their own.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) being chased by an elephant in the Belgium Congo. Beds in London and Berlin collapsing under Rep. T. James Tumulty (D-NJ), who weighs 320 pounds. Sen. George Malone (R-Nev) finding a reminder of home in faraway Russia; The Soviet parliament has U. S. plumbing.

But there's a serious side, of course.

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) once put it this way: With so many billions being appropriated to be spent abroad, he said, there ought to be a law compelling the legislators to go junketing, at government expense if it involved government business.

• • •

"My gosh," Capeheart said, shortly before taking off for Turkey, "when you think of the global responsibilities that we have to meet almost every day during a congressional session, why, you just can't avoid a conclusion that we ought to go abroad and see for ourselves."

Carillon Will Be Mute for Funeral of Donor

RALLS, Tex. (AP)—Several years ago Mrs. John R. Ralls, widow of the founder of this west Texas town, presented the First Baptist church with an expensive carillon, asking in return that it be played at her funeral.

• • •

Mrs. Ralls died Monday and her funeral will be held in the church today—without the carillon.

The huge musical bells were dismantled last week as part of a church rebuilding project, made possible by a contribution from Mrs. Ralls.

Average annual U.S. wheat produciton in 1905-1909 was 681 million bushels.

Tornado Funds Headed for Michigan Victims

LANSING (AP) — President Eisenhower has wired Gov. Williams that the Federal Civil Defense administrator has been authorized to make an initial allotment of funds for assistance of the western Michigan areas designated as tornado disaster areas.

• • •

The wire from the President said Federal Civil Defense administration officials will be in touch with the governor as to the amounts available and the necessary documents governing their expenditure.

OUR ENTIRE FAMILY USED O-JIB-WA WITH GREAT SUCCESS
"We all agree that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best medicine made."
Mrs. Erma Horner, 1765 Fenton Street, Detroit, recently made the following statement about this wonderful medicine

DAUGHTER AND MOTHER
"The first in our family to discover O-JIB-WA BITTERS, was my husband, who works at the Detroit Deisel, on plant protection. He was troubled with pains in his hips, and after one bottle of your medicine, was better. Because of the good results he obtained he brought a bottle to my mother, Mrs. Flora Mae Barber who lives in Frederick, North of Grayling. She suffered for years with arthritis in her fingers so bad that she couldn't hold a pencil or even dish up food. The pain in mothers hips was so bad she often cried, and she couldn't get out of a chair without help. Now, as for my trouble, it was mostly in the back of my legs and knees. I had to wear elastic bandages on them, and even so, they pained so severely, that I couldn't stand up, and I was forced to bed for days at a time. We have all tried other medicines with hardly any results, but O-JIB-WA BITTERS helped every one of us. We have many friends too who have taken your medicine with equally wonderful success, so because of this, and because of the great results it has brought to our family, we are happy to recommend O-JIB-WA to others. We believe that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best medicine made."

ANPA Leader Asserts Government Withholds News From Public

NEW YORK (AP)— Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said today that U. S. newspapers "have not been gaining in the battle" for a free press.

* * *

In an address prepared for the 70th annual ANPA meeting, Slocum charged that government officials are short-changing the public on information it should have.

SEEK MOTIVES

He urged editors to look into the motives behind the recent Senate subcommittee questioning of New York newsmen and the U.S. Treasury's temporary seizure of the Communist Daily Worker for allegedly unpaid taxes.

* * *

He said newspapers should announce that they will fight "harassment or interference with the public right to a free press."

And he said editors have not supported what he termed the "wholesome study" being conducted by a House subcommittee into withholding of information within the government.

* * *

Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, expressed confidence "that the American press will meet its obligation of full, fair, objective and unbiased reporting" of the year's political campaigns.

NAME THE PAPER

Noting that there is a difference between the news and editorial columns of a newspaper, he said:

* * *

"We would urge upon both political parties that in any criticism or attack they name specific newspapers for a specific performance or lack of it, not cast an accusation against the whole press or any special part of it."

* * *

But, Slocum said, the American press "cannot be a free and continuing press unless it operates on a sound financial basis, self-sustaining and without subsidy, direct or indirect."

NEWSPRINT WOES

He said the supply of newsprint is a major problem and "no relief is in sight" for the current shortage.

* * *

American newspapers are, however, receiving the largest volume of newsprint in history, Slocum added. He said the shortage stems from the "tremendous" and sudden increase in use of newsprint.

* * *

Slocum is retiring as NPA president after serving two yearly terms.

* * *

The public must give stronger support to the "battle for press freedom," he told more than 1,000 publishers meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

* * *

"We are the active trustees of that right and we intend to continue vigilant and vigorous in its assertion, for government agencies constantly tend to act like clams," he said.

April '29—Arctic Talks to Antarctic Via UM Radio

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It was early spring — April 8, 1929. In the staccato of the Morse code, history was being made. The Arctic and Antarctic were linked directly by radio for the first time.

It began as a usual day for University of Michigan radio operator Fred Albertson, a law student working his way through. He was to contact a university meteorological expedition in Greenland that night.

He had done it dozens of times before. He knew the other operator Earl Hansen who was sitting in a freezing room in Mt. Evans, Greenland near the top of the world.

In his spare moments he had talked via Morse to Little America, where Admiral Byrd was leading another expedition into the frozen waste at the bottom of the world. Said Albertson:

WILL RELAY MESSAGE

"At 9 o'clock I established communication with the university's Greenland expedition and handled the ordinary run of message from them . . . I happened to mention that we had a regular schedule with the Byrd expedition.

He told Hansen he would take any messages and relay them to Byrd's group. "That would be pretty good service," Albertson said. "Greenland to Little America, some 12,000 or so miles in an hour . . ."

Hansen, bored with the desolate Arctic life, agreed, but then says Albertson "a brilliant thought flashed through my mind." Why not try to establish direct communications between the Arctic base and Little America.

Little America would call in at 2 a.m. and in the next three hours until then, Albertson said he kept wondering "would the still small voice from the Arctic wastes be heard by those ears in far-off Antarctica?"

Finally the Little America operator called. After half an hour they had cleared away the routine messages. Then Albertson outlined in Morse code his proposition.

The Little America operator took him up on it immediately. What's more his name was Hanson too, spelled a little differently from Hansen, but still a Dane—Malcom Hanson in Little America.

Then Albertson messaged Hansen in Greenland: "Wl om the time has come fr u to do ur stuf" and so forth in telegraphese, all of which meant:

SEEMED LIKE AN AGE

"Well, old man, the time has come for you to do your stuff. WFA (Little America) is listening for your signals. Go ahead and call WFA for five minutes. Antarctica Hanson of WPA, permit me to introduce you to Arctic Hansen of NXIXL. Go ahead . . . and good luck to you."

"One, two, three minutes passed," Albertson said. "It seemed like an age to me as I sat on the edge of my chair waiting the outcome of this adventure . . ."

Then the five minutes was up. Greenland said go ahead Little America. There was a pause. Then:

IT HAD BEEN DONE

"OK, OK, OK—your signals coming in here OK—greetings Hanson old man from the Antarctic—greetings from the bottom of the world to you up there on the top of the world. . . ."

Said Albertson in his room in Ann Arbor: "It had been done! We had accomplished it! This night the twain—the north and the south—had met!"

As the telegraph conversation went on, Albertson listened. The two Danish radio men were speaking to each other in their native tongues. Then Admiral Byrd exchanged greetings with Prof. William Hobbs of the University of Michigan in Greenland. Then it was all over.

Achievement Day Planned

Approximately 1200 county women will participate in the annual Home Demonstration Achievement Day May 3 in the First Congregational Church of Pontiac.

The event will be in observance of National Home Demonstration Week. Ninety home demonstration units in the county will take part in the day's events.

Speakers for the day will include Mrs. Hazel Peckinpaugh Dunlop, author, lecturer and representative of the J. L. Hudson Co. who will speak to the women on "Decorative Tables for the Home." This presentation will show clever and unusual effects in table settings and how they may be obtained with imagination, Mrs. Bennett said.

Another speaker will be Dr. David Treat, director of the Clara Elizabeth Fund for Maternal Health in Flint. He will address the women on "What Women Should Expect of Themselves as Wives and Mothers."

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. will also participate in the program with a skit, "Your Voice Is You." The audience will participate in this event.

Other activities during the day will find various groups and some of the officers honors for outstanding work in the home demonstration units.

A few of the groups will model cottons made during the year. Church women will serve luncheon at noon.

Hollywood Headlines:

Jack Lemmons Will Get Plenty of Time to Cool Off

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Jack Lemmon will certainly have plenty of time to think over his separation from his Cynthia. He goes to London in 10 days to join Rita Hayworth and Robert Mitchum in "Fire Down Below" for Columbia.

This will be a long location trip, putting miles between Jack and Cynthia. I understand that this is not the first time that he and Mrs. Lemmon have separated. Seems it is just a case of temperament, so I look to see them kiss and make up.

Jack has moved out and is living with his father. In this case there is no other man, no other woman. At least they admit they can't get along, which is more than some of them do when they separate.

That droll old cutie (only he isn't old) Tom Ewell returns to MGM for another one of his average American male comedy roles in "The Little Leaguer."

Remember Tom made his movie debut in "Adam's Rib" before he clicked with Marilyn Monroe in "Seven-Year Itch" and with Sheree North in "The Lieutenant Wore Skirts."

Henry Berman, the producer, says that "The Little Leaguer" is about a father who tries to get closer to his young son by taking on the management of a boys' baseball team and then becomes hilariously involved with the mother of another boy.

UNOBTRUSIVE FRANK

There was absolutely no fanfare when Frank Sinatra arrived in Madrid for "Pride and the Passion," the Stanley Kramer film. Frank was there two days without anybody but the company knowing it.

His first appearance was at a party given by the Spanish magazine Cinemundo, which gave an award to three Spanish actors. Frank met Sophia Loren there for the first time and renewed his Hollywood acquaintance with Cary Grant.

According to one of the reporters who was there, Frank was as affable as affable could be and has evidently decided to start out on the right foot with the Spanish press, which I am glad to hear.

My exclusive on Tyrone Power and Annabella was borne out in a letter from Merle Oberon from London, in which she said, "I had a cocktail party and Tyrone and Annabella were there. Annabella and I plan to drive to Oxford to see Ty in 'The Devil's Disciple.' He is opening in the Shaw play."

Merle says that at her cocktail party were Jennifer Jones and David Selznick, John Huston and other Hollywood friends.

As I understand it, Annabella was in Paris and Ty telephoned her there. She flew over to London to see him and they have been practically inseparable ever since that moment.

RUMORS DENIED

Snapshops of Hollywood collected at random: The mounting rumors that Rock Hudson and Phyllis Gates are no longer honeymooning are indignantly denied. He left her at a nightclub recently simply because he had to get up early in the morning.

Geordie Hormel, who has given up the meat packing business in favor of music publishing, was at the Captain's Table with Bonnie Johnson. Isn't that where he was arrested last year?

Alan Mowbray, who has bought an interest in the Versailles restaurant, says, "I shall continue my work in pictures, a habit acquired many years ago, and, of course, in my TV series."

Gronchi Visits France

PARIS (AP) — President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy arrived today for a four-day state visit aimed at improving relations between his nation and France.

There were 12,000 U.S. farms with milking machines in 1910; 686,000 in 1952.

There are an estimated 300 million malaria cases in the world every year.

2 Surviving Quads in Fair Condition

NEW YORK (AP)—The two surviving quadruplets born to a tiny Bronx mother were reported in fair condition today.

* * *

One boy weighing 2 pounds 15 ounces died yesterday. A second boy died last night. He weighed 3 pounds 3 ounces.

The surviving infants are both girls.

The 25-year-old mother, Mrs. Carmen Medina, gave birth to the quads Monday. She is 5 feet 2 and weighs only 96 pounds.

Moscow will have a nine-story department store — the Children's World—catering to the needs of children.

President Leads Alaska Primary

Adlai Ahead of Estes in Scanty Returns of First Presidential Test

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—President Eisenhower led the field and Adlai Stevenson led Sen. Estes Kefauver in first scanty returns from yesterday's Alaska presidential preference primary.

The count in the first 27 small precincts tallied in the Democratic popularity contest was: Stevenson 440, Kefauver 273.

President Eisenhower topped the Democratic leader with 546 in the same precincts from widely scattered areas. Sen. William F. Knowland of California polled 26. His name had been put on the ballot by Alaska supporters before the President had announced his intention to seek re-election and there was no chance for him to remove it.

The vote on the presidential balloting is not binding on the delegates to the national party conventions. An Associated Press poll of the Democratic delegates earlier showed them preferring Stevenson over the Tennessee senator by a 3-1 margin. Alaska has six votes in the Democratic national convention.

Tallying of the hand ballots was extremely slow because of the complicated election, dominated by local issues.

Youngsters Lose Wild Bunnies to Hunting Season

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If the two little Weatherford boys want to take care of wild rabbits they will have to wait for the hunting season.

Yancy, 7, and Dell, 3, thought they were doing a fine job of caring for the two little bunnies found by their father, C. W. Weatherford, while mowing the lawn.

All went well until Weatherford sought information on proper care and feeding and district wildlife supervisor Cliff Sipe arrived in person.

* * *

Sipe whisked the bunnies away. It's simply illegal to have wild rabbits in your house except during the hunting season. "Does that apply to baby rabbits?" Sipe was asked.

* * *

The season is Nov. 20 to Jan. 18, and, Sipe said, "there wouldn't be any baby rabbits then."

HANDIWORK — Norwegian engraver Bjorn Buen puts finishing touches on a huge hand cast in aluminum. The hand, holding the figure of a youth with a book, was designed by American sculptor Marshall Fredericks. It will be shipped from Oslo, along with another like it, to the United States to adorn a library wall in Texas.

Associated Press Re-elects McLean

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert McLean president of The Associated Press since 1938, has been re-elected for another one-year term.

McLean, also president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, was re-elected head of the news cooperative yesterday by the Board of Directors.

* * *

The directors elected John S. Knight of the Chicago Daily News as first vice president and Henry D. Bradley of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette and Sunday News Press as second vice president.

Lloyd Stratton was re-elected secretary and Robert Booth was re-elected treasurer.

* * *

Members of the Executive Committee are: McLean, Paul Miller, Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat & Chronicle, Robert B. Choate, Boston Herald, Harry F. Byrd Jr., Winchester (Va.) Evening Star, Benjamin M. McKelway, Washington Star; and John R. Reitmeyer, Hartford (Conn.) Courtant.

Salt was air-dropped in Kalimpong, India, when a shortage developed after barter of Indian rice for Tibetan salt had been ordered stopped.

Police Stage Own Riot

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo police staged a mock riot today in preparation for the annual May Day demonstrations. Twenty cops were treated for cuts and bruises. A hundred police reserves, the "rioters," were dispatched to a race track and sounded the riot call.

Kent Seeks Aid Funds

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kent County Controller Leonard V. Andrus said Monday he will make application for $31,000 in federal funds for cleanup work carried out by the county as a result of the April 3 tornado.

Pontiac High's Vocalists Will 'Say It With Music'

Pontiac Press Photos

The annual spring concert, "Say It With Music," will include 800 voices from Pontiac High School's Vocal Department. The concert will be presented May 8, 10 and 11. Mrs. Doreen Voltmann (right) instructs Dixie Davis of Elm street, Suzanne Edgeworth of Commonwealth avenue and Bonnie Allen of Oliver street (left to right) during a rehearsal for the event. George H. Putnam is director of the department.

Three members of the chorus are Bill Price of East Colgate avenue (at the piano), Jackie Dubay of Stanley avenue and Donald Hardy of South Edith street.

Theirs will be among the 800 voices heard May 8, 10 and 11 in Pontiac High School auditorium.

Springtime Concert Set May 8-10-11

800 Young People Will Take Part in Annual Event

"Say It With Music" will be the theme of the annual spring concert to be presented by Pontiac High School Vocal Department May 8-10-11 in the high school auditorium.

* * *

Eight hundred vocalists will present a wide variety of songs which are meaningful as well as entertaining to both singers and their audience.

The A Cappella Choir will sing a group of religious songs, appearing later on the program with the presentation of selections from Jerome Kern's "Roberta" and a group of love songs by Johannes Brahms.

Two-piano arrangements played by Lee Patterson and Sharon Wolfe and a violin obligato played by Diane Beach will accompany the Brahms selections.

The nine Girls' Glee Clubs have selected songs of nature for their theme. This year, due to the large number of participants, the members will be divided into groups so that each glee club will have the opportunity to sing in two of the three evening programs, making it possible for 300 girls to sing each night.

OPERATIC OFFERINGS

The Boys' Glee Clubs have prepared operatic and musical comedy choruses for their contribution to the concert's varied musical presentations.

Their numbers include "Soldier's Chorus" by Faust, "I'll See You Again," a medley of numbers from "My Maryland" and "Silver Moon," and choruses from "Rigoletto," "Magic Flute" and "Bohemian Girl."

Several ensembles and soloists will also appear on the program.

Concluding the concert, the entire Vocal Department will combine voices in "It's a Big, Wide, Wonderful World," "One God" and "Pilgrim Chorus" from Wagner's "Tannhauser."

George H. Putnam, director of the Pontiac High School Vocal Department, will conduct the concert, assisted by Doreen Voltmann and Merlin Asplin.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Vocal Department or from the Pontiac High School Vocal Department office. All seats are being reserved for the concert.

Top Secretary Leads Busy Life

By JOAN RITTER

Secretary to the administrator of a large hospital is not an easy job, but Florence Robinson (Mrs. William Robinson) handles her schedule of duties and still remains a poised receptionist and answers to many questions by members of the hospital staff and medical staff seeking assistance.

* * *

Mrs. Robinson, secretary to Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, begins her daily chores, the preceding afternoon when she checks appointments with Sister. Due to the lack of office space on first floor, Florence's office is on second

Her office is equipped with a large L shaped desk, three comfortable chairs, typewriter, the inevitable files and a photostat machine. Tuesday, her desk sported a bouquet of roses and a congratulatory note from Sister, on her selection as Oakland County Secretary of the Year.

Florence and Sister spend a part of each day doing correspondence. Sister dictates direct to her during the week but on weekends uses the dictaphone and these letters are generally transcribed on Monday morning.

She handles all appointments for Sister regarding the hospital auxiliary, private interviews with the medical staff and with doctors with departmental problems and procedures.

* * *

Copies of all staff work is reviewed by Sister. These copies are prepared by Florence who also serves as receptionist for the medical director of the training program.

Right now, particular emphasis is on resident and internship applications and changes due July 1.

Her services as secretary include the handling of traveling reservations when Sister attends hospital conventions and conferences. Medical staff work such as attending general staff meetings is also in her schedule of activities. Notification of section meetings are sent out by Florence.

Since she handles staff correspondence and division dictation, a certain amount of medical terminology is necessary in her work. Her background in hospital work began 15 years ago when she was employed as an attendant nurse at Pontiac State Hospital.

* * *

She then worked in the medical records department at the hospital, later moving to Pontiac General Hospital as a medical stenographer. She is now beginning her fourth year at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and enjoys her work as it gives her a comprehensive view of the structure and procedures of a modern hospital.

In private life, Florence is Mrs. William Robinson of Nelson street and the mother of Nancy Mae, an eighth grader at Lincoln Junior High School. Her weekends are spent with her family and short trips are usually planned for Sundays.

Mrs. Robinson and Nancy are currently taking lessons in china painting. Their work thus far has been devoted to occasional pieces though Nancy recently finished a pair of bedroom lamps for her room. Mrs. Robinson is planning now to paint a huge bowl as her last project before the closing of classes.

Philosophy Is the Key to Success

By ANNE HEYWOOD
(Copyright 1956)

"I'm not interested in philosophical concepts," readers occasionally tell me. "I'm interested in getting ahead in business!"

* * *

Or, as one forthright gentleman put it, "Philosophy is a haven for the unsuccessful; it helps them rationalize their failure."

However, I've never met an eminently successful person who got that way by a handful of superficial tricks of the trade.

All the big successes I know—and I mean financially as well as intellectually and personally—are philosophers at heart. They have built their successes on firm philosophical grounds.

For example, there's Charles Sherman, vice president in charge of direct mail advertising for one of our largest book publishers.

TRAINS YOUTH

Part of his job is training the young people in his department, helping them develop into good writers of hard-selling copy which will move all kinds of books. It's a big job, by anybody's standards, and one which he handles very successfully.

At lunch the other day Mr. Sherman and I were discussing, among other things, a statement made by Horace, the Greek philosopher: "Ex nihilo nihil fit."

Or, as Mr. Sherman put it, "You have to start with something. If you start with nothing, nothing is what you'll end up with."

Then he told me how he goes about teaching the youngsters to find the "something to start with."

* * *

To those of my readers who rebel at philosophy and want, instead, quick superficial tricks for getting to the top, I would say this:

You are assuming there is a chasm between the materialistic and the philosophical, but it simply doesn't exist. There can never be an outside without an inside.

A LITTLE ATTENTION

If you're having trouble with the outside department, maybe you'd better devote a little attention to the inside department—the philosophical.

You will, to be blunt about it, make more money in the long run!

If you would like to get going on this important aspect of success, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my list of recommended books on philosophy.

Older Pair Asks About Motor Trip

Mrs. Post Thinks Journey Would Be Perfectly Proper

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I'm a man in the mid-50s. I was married for 25 years when my wife died suddenly two years ago. About a year ago I became very friendly with a woman whom I had known slightly for the past 10 years. She too was widowed at the same time.

"We are very fond of each other but she has not quite decided to marry me because of family entanglements. We plan to take our vacations at the same time and I suggested that we motor out to visit my brother and his wife who live several hundred miles from here. We would have to spend at least two nights on the road.

"We both like to travel and we would see a part of the country we have never seen before. Considering our age and our established reputations, do you think we could, in all propriety, do this or not?"

Answer: Considering your ages, I think you could go without any hesitation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: To settle a question, will you please tell me if it is considered dignified and in good taste for a woman who will soon have a baby to appear at social gatherings?

"My husband and I have been invited to the wedding of a very dear friend and I would like to go, but my mother is horrified at the idea. Will you please give me your frank opinion of this?"

Answer: There's not the slightest impropriety in your going, especially if you wear reasonably disguising clothes and also are seated most of the time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Whenever someone pays me a compliment I get very flustered and never know what to say. Will you please help me?"

Answer: Smile with pleasure as you say "thank you" and then talk about something else. Remember that looking pleased is not necessarily an act of vanity but of appreciation of the other person's kindness.

9-Day Reducing Diet

Spring May Burst Out but Seams Shouldn't

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Just because nature is bursting forth in all her glory is no reason for us to burst out of our seams. Yet many women do find themselves a few pounds overweight, come spring.

* * *

Thousands of women are just 5 or 10 pounds away from a lovely figure. Since they are not greatly overweight they fail to lose the few extra pounds they have. This seems too bad because with just a little effort during a short reducing period a truly youthful silhouette could be theirs.

Also, it is a hazard to keep the first 10 pounds overweight because extra pounds are likely to multiply and before you know it you may have 20 or 25 or more to lose.

I am here with my 9-Day Reducing Diet again to help you lose those extra pounds. If you have lots of weight to lose, these nine days can give you an encouraging start.

Here are your menus for tomorrow.

THURSDAY

Breakfast

One poached egg on toast
Black coffee

Luncheon

One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat)
Celery sticks
One glass skimmed milk
Two raw carrots

Dinner

Small lean steak
One-half cup cauliflower
One baked potato (no butter. Medium-sized potato has only about 90 calories)
One orange
One glass skimmed milk before bedtime

Thousands of women are just 5 or 10 pounds away from a lovely figure . . . with just a little effort during a short reducing period a truly youthful silhouette could be theirs.

If you have missed some of the preceding 9-Day Diet menus you may have them in a convenient booklet by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Don't Let Figure Faults Haunt You—Try 9-Day Diet."

Just 2 Cups Cooked Ham Make Dish

Mrs. Cross Mixes Crumbs and Sugar to Top Casserole

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Whether you are entertaining a small group for lunch, or a large number, you will like this recipe for Ham Casserole. Add a fruit salad and a simple dessert for a complete and delicious meal.

Mrs. L. H. Cross of Scott Lake is today's cook. This recipe of hers was used recently for a church group luncheon.

The Cross' have one daughter now in college. Mrs. Cross is a member of the Saybrook group of her church, a child study group and Beta Theta Phi sorority. She and her husband both spend long hours on their rock garden.

HAM CASSEROLE
By Mrs. L. H. Cross

2 cups cooked chopped ham
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 can (No. 2) peas, drained
¼ cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 cups medium white sauce

Add peas to ham and heat slowly, stirring constantly. Pour mixture into buttered casserole.

Add mustard to white sauce. If sauce is too thick, add some of the juice from the peas. Pour sauce over ham and peas.

Combine bread crumbs and sugar and sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake 30-40 minutes in a 350-degree oven, or until golden brown. Serves 6-8.

Wrinkles Needless

Care of the hands and nails become increasingly important as a woman grows older. This is because the natural drying process that goes on in the body goes on in the hands, too, and hands can look needlessly wrinkled and old if not cared for correctly.

Newest bridal gown is princess silhouette in lightweight silk, here combined with a lace front panel and petal-shaped bodice adding height and slenderness.

The look for spring bridal gowns is more classic or traditional in sheer silk in floor-length and chapel sweeps. Skirts are worked out with smooth fronts through cuts, instead of unpressed pleats or gathers.

Announces Use of Cookie Profits

Mrs. Donald Redmond, chairman, announces plans for proceeds of the Girl Scout Cookie Sale and thanks northern Oakland County for the warm reception which seemed to prevail wherever the girls sold their cookies.

* * *

A small per cent of the cookie sale earnings remain in the troop treasury and are used in buying supplies for service projects, troop flags or equipment or for special trips in which the girls take part as a troop to pass scouting requirements.

* * *

The larger per cent goes to troop camp equipment and resident Camp Sherwood for annual improvements and upkeep, since the camp is a separate Girl Scout function and receives no part of the United Fund allocation.

Patient at Home

Mrs. E. R. Luscumb of Warwick drive is convalescing at her home following surgery at Grace Hospital, Detroit.

Plumbing Cleaner

Housewives can clean discolored plumbing fixtures which have become rust-colored by using a cloth dipped in peroxide and coated with cream of tartar. Allow the mixture to remain on the fixture for about an hour,

New York Too Noisy for This Frenchman

By EARL WILSON

SHANNON, Ireland—He was a Frenchman and he didn't like New York.

"What's wrong with New York?" I demanded, somewhat pugnaciously. Being a Middle-Westerner, maybe I have my own idea about New York, but don't let anybody start knocking it to me . . . see?

"Oh, lewk," he hastened to explain, "I loff New York . . . but eet ees not America, no?"

★ ★ ★ ★

"What's wrong with us?" I repeated.

"Nozzing! Ackcapt de crowds," he murmured.

"De crowds!" I mimicked. "You don't have de crowds in Paris?"

"Oui, oui, but in the subways, we say only so many can come in ze car, and we don't crowd. Maybe you don't believe me, but when we leevd in New York Zitty, eet waz zo noisee I cood nott zleep.

LILLY

"Zo my wife says we must move to ze contree. Eez so quiet there, you know, I cannot zleep!"

"You didn't need ze contree, you needed a zleeping peel," I said.

"You joke me," he said. "But I loff Ummareecka very much. Vurjjjunia, New Inglon, Texahsss, Bosting. I had a secretary once, she went to New Jerzay. She comes to me back and says, 'Ze first time I evair see a cow.'

"Cows are all right if you like cows," I said. "Personally, I milked cows as a boy in Ohio and got to know several cows rather intimately. Let us not speak further of cows."

"Hawkay!" chortled my French friend. "But I want you know I loff your contree. Of course your people cannot speak English zo good but then most of them never study it, hah?

"Howevair, New Inglon is zo beautiful, zo rastful. Especialitay, Rhode Island."

"Where?"

"Rhode Island, eez beautiful. Zo ratsful. I can zleep there a whole weekend. Zuch a vonderful contree you have in Rhode Island, eet makes me loff all of America."

"Good," I said, "I forgive your earlier remarks. I am glad that you have finally come to love my contree."

"Oui, oui, I am glad, too. Eez wonderful. Eez only too bad," he shrugged, "after veesiting America, you haff to come back to New York!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Nejla Ates, the lightly-clad belly dancer in "Fanny" refused to pose in a bikini suit—considers it "undignified" . . . Here we go again—Rita Hayworth is dating Aly Kahn in Paris.

Cleo Moore sprained her back posing for football pictures with the U. of Illinois backfield . . . Lilly Christine, the Cat Girl, will be one of the attractions at New York's photo show.

The Princess of Monaco's American friends now wonder what they should call her. The answer is "Grace," the same as always . . .

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission Takes Deed to Two Lots for Parking

Two more lots in the $600,000 off-street parking package became the property of the city last night as the City Commission accepted a deed from the owner.

Lots 21 and 22 of assessor's plat 35, part of the Lafayette street lot, were deeded to the city by the owner Lola M. Swift.

The commissioners accepted the warranty deed and authorized the purchase be recoreded in the register of deed's office.

Other actions taken up on the 33-point slate last night involved the granting of a five-year lease at $900 a year for the construction of a hangar at the Municipal Airport.

The commission authorized the mayor and the city clerk to sign the land lease.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday on the following sidewalk construction projects, on which engineer estimates were aired last night:

For the south side of Oneida road, Menominee to Manitou for Lot 10 of the Crofoot Western Addition.

North side of Hazel Bend avenue from Jessie to Belmont for Lot 102 and east 40 feet to Lot 103 Bellevue Annex Addition.

South side of Auburn avenue from east line of Lot 2 of the East Side Park Subdivision to Seward and from Russell street to the east line of Lot 191 of the subdivision.

A public hearing will also be conducted next week on the grading and graveling proposed for Joslyn avenue extended from Perry street to Linda Vista avenue and on Linda Vista from Joslyn extended east approximately 307 feet.

Last night hearings were held on seven public improvement projects and the city assessor was authorized to prepare special assessment rolls and report to the commission next week.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed with the construction of a sidewalk on a portion of the west side of Douglas street, the cost of which is to be paid by the city.

Public hearings on special assessment rolls for the following jobs will also be conducted at next week's commission session:

Curb, gutter, grading, graveling and related work for Cedardale and Bondale avenues from Earlmoor to Howland, Strathmore avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle, and Prall street from State to Washington.

Sanitary sewer on the southwest side of Oakland avenue from Cass to 818 feet southeast.

Curb, gutter, and related work on Glenwood avenue relocated from Perry street to Paddock and Crestview avenue.

Five hearings, with confirmation deferred, were aired last night on special assessment rolls on further improvement projects.

Three petitions for projects, two on Livingston avenue and the other on Stanley avenue, were approved and the city engineer instructed to prepare cost estimates.

A fourth petition requesting the rezoning to Residential 3 of Lots 85 to 89 of the Anderson Western Subdivision, was referred to the City Plan Commission's May 2 meeting.

A resolution of public necessity for curb, gutter, blacktopping and related work for Motor street from Alton to Pearsall, was accepted by the commission.

Study Ordinance on Train Speed

City Traffic Engineer Asks Meeting With Several Officials

A city ordinance to limit the speed of trains passing through Pontiac is presently under study by Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer.

* * *

Speed checks on two evening passenger trains of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad revealed that they sped through the South Saginaw street crossing at speeds greater than 55 m.p.h., Vanderstempel said.

He has written to the Michigan Public Service Commission requesting a meeting of city, railroad and state officials in seeking a solution to this hazard.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said yesterday there is no city ordinance which limits the speed of trains.

Vanderstempel asked for the speed check April 18 on a 6:30 train after police reported they had clocked a train a day earlier speeding through the intersection.

He has requested that the trains limit their speed through the city in proportion to the view ahead in case a rapid stop is necessary.

"It is about time that something is done on this situation before someone is killed or seriously injured," he stated.

* * *

He concluded by saying that he would recommend in the ordinance that trains maintain the same speed of automobiles on city streets, which is 25 m.p.h., as they cross intersections.

Negroes May Cease Boycott in Montgomery

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS) — Montgomery Negroes have scheduled a meeting for tomorrow night to decide whether to end the 4½-month-old boycott against the city bus lines.

* * *

The Montgomery City Lines Inc. which has lost undisclosed thousands of dollars in revenue during the Negro boycott, ordered an end to segregation Monday. The order followed the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that segregation of all public transportation is unconstitutional.

Expert to Talk on Investments

W. Bloomfield Library Sponsors Public Event Thursday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Clayton Call, accounting executive with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Bean, will speak at West Bloomfield Township Hall, Thursday at 8 p.m. He will address both husbands and wives in regard to making carefully considered, smaller investments in 1956.

He will also tell of the formation and operation of small investment groups he has helped form in nearby communities.

Mr. Call, a business administration graduate of Wayne University, has been in the investment business 10 years.

The event is being sponsored free of charge by West Bloomfield Township Library for the public. A social hour will follow.

$160,000 Library Planned at St. Mary

ORCHARD LAKE — Plans have been made for a $160,000 library for St. Mary of Orchard Lake. The structure will be built on Seminary road on the campus, and will be ready for use in the fall.

The first soil will be turned Sunday, May 6 at 4 p.m., by Rt. Rev. Edward J. Szumal, President, proceeded by procession and benediction at the Grotto on the Campus.

Walter J. R. Ozycki, architect, and National President of the Alumni Assn. will be chairman of the program for the occasion. A gathering of 2,000 is expected.

Area Youth Qualifies for State Competition

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Sheldon Smith, participating in the Hearst Tournament of Orators, yesterday qualified to participate in the state competition to be held at 8 p.m. Monday, May 7 in the Veterans Memorial Building.

Seven districts were represented in yesterday's contest, held at Mumford High School in Detroit. Winners came from the University of Detroit High School, Denby, Northville, and Birmingham High Schools.

His original speech was entitled "John Adams."

Call Plane Experts for Bomber's Trial

DENVER (AP) — Aircraft experts were called today by the state in the effort to build a murder case against John Gilbert Graham, 24, accused of dynamiting an airliner carrying 44, including his mother.

Graham is charged in the death of his prosperous mother Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55. He is accused of placing a 25-stick dynamite bomb in her luggage before taking out $37,500 flight insurance on her life payable to him.

A scale model of a DC6B air transport, the same type shattered by an explosion last Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., was placed in the courtroom yesterday. Parts of the wrecked plane were ready for introduction.

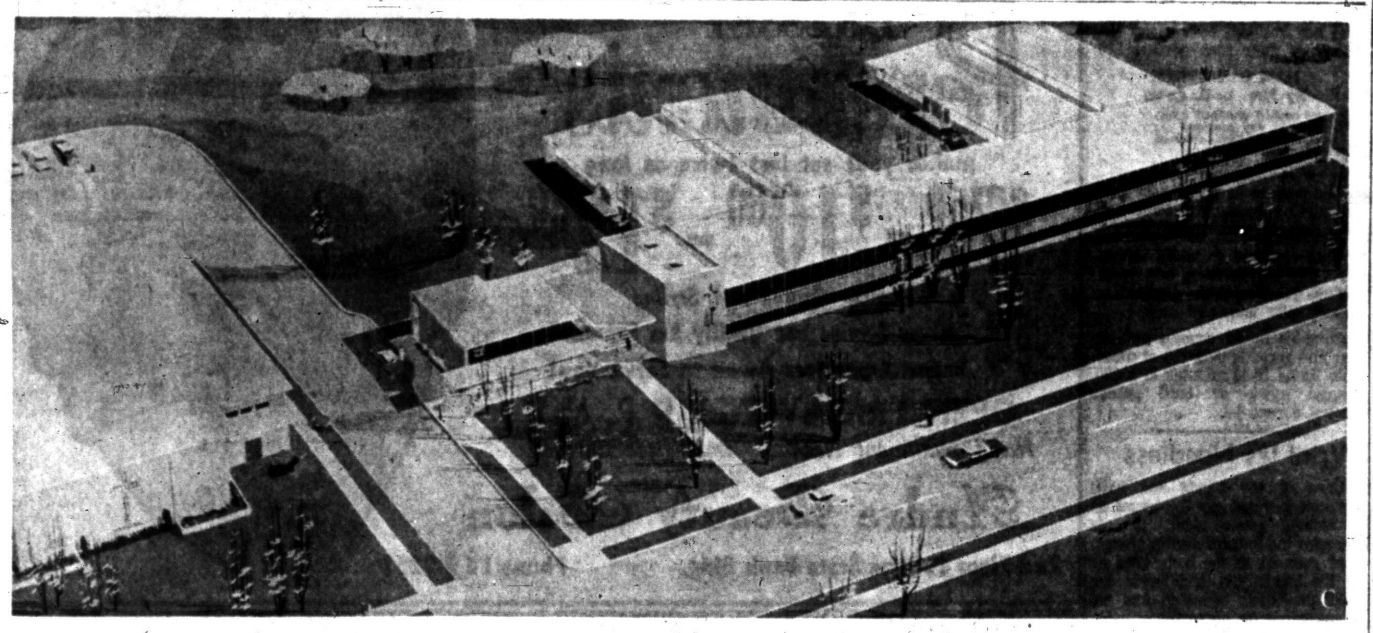

Dist. Atty. Bert Keating said the five-foot long model would be used in describing the explosion to the jury of seven men and five women. One side is of clear plastic for easy viewing of the interior.

India now plans prohibition by 1958.

NEARS COMPLETION — The long, low tri-level structure of yellow Roman brick which is Our Lady of Sorrows new high school is almost completed. The 20-room, $345,000 building in Farmington was designed by architect Charles D. Hannan.

Our Lady of Sorrows High, Farmington, Is Nearing Completion

By MARY CELINSKE
Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON—The 1,500 Catholic families of Our Lady of Sorrows parish here watch with pride as their new 20-room, $345,000 high school nears completion.

* * *

Already four rooms are in use by 124 ninth and tenth grade students, and by next September enough furniture and equipment will have been installed for the eleventh grade. By September, 1957 all four grades of high school can be accommdated; and June 1958 will see graduation of "Sorrows" first senior class, now tenth graders.

When completed and equipped, the new high school will accommodate 353 to 400 students.

It will contain 10 home rooms, two science and chemistry laboratories, two commercial rooms, one mechanical drawing and art, one home-making, one music room, a study hall, library, and assembly hall. The assembly hall eventually will become a cafeteria, and although there is no gymnasium, the present church is scheduled to be used for that purpose when a proposed new church is built. Parochial school students are presently using the Farmington High School gymnasium nearby.

The building, a long, low, tri-level of yellow Roman brick, was designed by architect Charles D. Hannan of Farmington, to conform with the architectural style of the adjoining grade school, church and convent. The buildings, because of beautiful simplicity of design and economy of construction, were featured in a national architectural magazine a few years ago, and helped to set a post-war national trend in single-story school buildings.

The 16-room grade school, eight rooms of which were built in 1948, was the first school in the country of one story construction with cross light and cross ventilation, and with each room opening to the outside. These features eliminated expensive fireproofing of halls and stairs and made possible the construction of a school at approximately $12,000 per classroom at a time when the cost of the average school room was $20,000. Wherever feasible, this plan has been carried into the new high school.

When all four high school grades are in the new building, it is expected that Our Lady of Sorrows will have an enrollment of 1,200 to 1,500 students.

One of the greatest problems faced by Father Thomas Beahan, pastor, is common to all school superintendents — where and how to obtain an adequate teaching staff. At present, Fathers John Dunn and Ralph Vigneau are assisting the 17 nuns and 5 lay teachers in instructing the 964 students enrolled. Of these, 940 are elementary students. Sister M. Assisium is principal of the schools.

"Everybody teaches school but me," Father Beahan said. "All I do is worry about finding teachers and paying the bills."

* * *

Parochial schools are paid for and maintained by the members of the parish, but buildings and curriculum must be approved by the State Department of Education. They do not, however, receive State or Federal assistance or financing.

Sea Theme at Tuesday Event

Milford Spring Concert to Feature 'Aquaflections'

MILFORD — "Aquaflections," is the name of the first spring concert to be presented by the Freshman Choir Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

More than 70 boys and girls under the direction of Eleanor Beam will sing in ensembles, trios, duets and solo numbers for the "underwater" presentation.

A huge translucent shell will hold the piano. Accompanists will be Norma Brandeberry, Kathie Hanna and Mrs. Beam.

Seaweed, jewels and fish will be hanging above the stage, and one scene will feature a treasure chest.

Atmosphere for the songs will be reflections in the water as special colored lights play on the group and elaborate setting.

There will be no admission charge, according to Mrs. Beam, but donations may be left at the door.

'Indians' to Model for Photographs

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Avon Photographic Club will meet Thursday in the Avon Township Library at Rochester.

The program, to start at 7:30 p.m., will be a shooting session, using Pontiac area Boy Scouts in authentic Indian costume, as models.

Words to the Wise

If possible, always hang your husband's suit coat on a wooden hanger. Never on a wire hanger. Wire digs into the padding, spreading it apart, causing breaks in the seams and excessive wear on the shoulders.

Tired of getting shoe polish on the sole ribbing of your shoes when you polish them yourself. Cover it first with cellophane tape. After applying polish, tape easily pulls off.

A little "vaseline" or similar lubricant applied on your eye lids before retiring will prevent early morning "sticking together."

FROM LIONS TO LAMBS . . .

Serving quick and easy-to-make bread 'n butter waffles brings 'em to the table in a hurry. Butter 8 to 10 slices of bread on both sides. Mix together well: 1 cup milk, 2 eggs slightly beaten, 1 teaspoon sugar, and a dash of salt. Dip buttered bread in mixture, thoroughly but quickly. Then bake on a medium hot waffle iron 'till done (about 5 minutes). Top with a pat of butter. Put the syrup bottle right on the table. A real luncheon treat for the children or when the whole family's home Sunday noon.

BEEN DOING THIS FOR YEARS

With all the recent discussion of heart attacks among important people (and we all like to think we're important) interest in using non-fattening foods was so increased that many large meat packers started featuring beef and pork with most of the fat trimmed off. Your neighborhood NATIONAL HAS BEEN DOING THIS FOR MANY YEARS . . . We call it "Value Way Trim." And National goes still further by removing all excess bone before your purchase is weighed.

QUOTE: On the race to the altar some gals make more laps than others. Anon.

Thank You . . .

Mrs. R. T. J. of Davenport, Iowa, for this helper. But just be sure you heed Mrs. J.'s advice to be careful. "I have two small daughters who wear puffed sleeve dresses," she wrote. "They are next to impossible to iron, but I've found a hot electric light bulb just the thing, but you do have to be very careful not to explode the bulb. The sleeves must be slightly damp, not wet. Slip the sleeve over the bulb and pull back and forth." Sounds good, doesn't it? How about a helper from YOU?

Teen Agers ARE Important People . . .

Don't know about your thoughts on the subject of Teen-agers, but I did discover the thinking of one of the top ten retailers in the world. Management of National Food Stores told me that of the thousands of people who are in our employ, one out of every four is a teen-ager! What are they doing, you ask? They're learning about a business all of us depend upon—the food industry. They're learning how to handle foodstuffs like meat, produce, dairy products, etc., in order that you and I, the consumer, will always get the best food available for the least amount of money. They're learning merchandising, advertising, and accounting. National feels young America is destined for bigger things and as Young America goes—so goes Old America (That's you and me).

Yours for satisfaction,

Tigers Head Home After 7-4 Win Over A's

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

In my travels about the country as a boxing commentator, I'm faced with the task of trying to score the winner under five different systems.

★ ★ ★ ★

It is little wonder the fan who sits in front of his TV set, or listens to his radio, is confused when the result comes out in figures well into the hundreds (Saxton-Basilio); or via the half-point Australian system in use in California; or the Missouri system, where one divides 10 points between the winner and loser of each round; or in New York, where a majority of winning rounds holds unless the total rounds are even—then points are employed!

★ ★ ★ ★

The New York State Athletic Commission some time back announced it was making a study of the situation. This prompted me to consult the best boxing brain I know—Young Otto.

★ ★ ★ ★

Otto has been associated with boxing over 50 years as a fighter, promoter, manager, trainer, Golden Gloves coach, referee and judge.

OTTO NEVER CALLED A ROUND 'EVEN'

What I like about Young Otto is that, in his 30 years of judging fights, he has never once called a round even. It is his theory there is a winner of each round, even if the margin is hairline.

★ ★ ★ ★

Otto claims when you call a round even you are hedging. A judge sitting in court must make a decision. So it should be with a judge at a boxing match.

AAU GETTING STUFFY AND RIDICULOUS

The AAU is getting indefensibly stuffy and ridiculous, with officials now quarreling among themselves over the protocol to be observed in inviting John Landy to California.

★ ★ ★ ★

It is now faced with a rather touchy situation it probably will ignore. To wit: Paul Wright, voted the outstanding boxer in the AAU's own tournament, qualified for the Olympic Final tryouts by winning the 165-pound title.

★ ★ ★ ★

Wright is quoted by the Associated Press: "I don't plan to enlist in the Air Force. I'm looking forward to the Olympics. After that, if I get an offer from a good manager, I may turn pro."

★ ★ ★ ★

Will the AAU now disqualify the honest, outspoken Paul Wright?

Bertoia Snaps Hitting Slump by Getting 3

Detroit Back Boasting Three Wins in 5 Games on Road Trip

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers headed home from their first short road trip today, still one game shy of the .500 mark in the standings but with a pleasant 3-2 mark away from home.

It was the Tigers' tendency to lose on the road last season that cost them a first division berth. Their home average was .597 against a .429 travelling mark.

This time they split in four games at Cleveland and whipped the Athletics 7-4 in the only Kansas City game played. They were frozen out of a scheduled Monday night encounter here.

The club was due in Detroit in mid-afternoon and won't return to action until Friday when Cleveland visits Briggs Stadium.

The Tigers were 5-6 in both Cleveland and Kansas City last year.

At this same stage of the 1955 race the Tigers were in 6th place with a 3-4 record and were 2½ games behind the 1st place club. Today they stand 3-4 in 5th place but are three full games behind the pace - setting New York Yankees.

In yesterday's game the Tigers collected three more home runs to run their total to 11 in 7 games.

Young Reno Bertoia, fighting for the second base job, snapped a brief batting slump with two singles and a home run. Bill Tuttle and Ray Boone also homered.

Steve Gromek used the 10-hit cushion to pitch his first victory. He was beaten by Kansas City at Briggs Stadium in the season's second game and now has a 1-1 record.

He gave up six hits and the most telling was a two-run homer by Vic Power.

Tuttle's home run plus a single drove in four runs and ran his hitting streak to seven games. He's the only Tiger to hit in each game.

Arnold Portocarrero, beaten twice by the Tigers last season, was charged with yesterday's loss. It was his first start of the year.

"KID" AVENGES LOSS — Britain's Peter Waterman (left) and Cuba's Kid Gavilan, former world welterweight champion, slug it out during their ten-rounder in London's Earls Court Stadium last night. The Kid won the decision to avenge a previously hotly disputed defeat. It was a hard fight between 30-year-old Gavilan and the 21-year-old Briton who had never lost a pro bout.

Johnny Appleford, clever and efficient Birmingham High School left halfback, last fall, is pointing for the coveted East-West prep all-star game Aug. 15 at Memphis, Tenn.

Appleford has just returned a questionnaire after being nominated by sports writers and radio men in this area for the national prep all-star squad. That made him eligible for the 8th annual game, and he hopes to be among the 44 final selections. The event is a project of the nationally known Wigwam Wisemen of America, located at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Ernie Greer of Holly, playing the outfield on the Michigan Normal baseball team, is supplying the Hurons with a heavy bat at the plate in the first six games of the season thus far.

An extraordinary attendance record has been attained by a Drayton Plains bowler. Mildred Welsh, of 4530 Thirza Court, last Thursday night completed 10 years of perfect attendance in the Drayton Ladies League.

Mrs. Welsh, who is averaging 127 this season, bowls with the Dixie Recreation team. Her top effort during the 10-year span was on May 7, 1953, when she rolled an actual score of 247.

Middlecoff Top Choice to Take Champions' Test

Cary Never Has Won Las Vegas Event, but Still Is Favored

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Golfer Cary Middlecoff remained the favorite to win the $37,500 Tournament of Champions as he and 21 rivals got in final practice rounds today for the start of the event tomorrow.

* * *

Middlecoff never has won this tournament in three tries, but he is the most consistent professional in action today and figures to be a strong candidate to carry off the $10,000 top money.

Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum and Sam Snead are the only eligibles to qualify for the Tournament of Champions in its three editions. The field is limited to winners of a major PGA Open in the preceding year up to and including the Masters in Georgia.

* * *

Snead and the recent Masters winner, Jack Burke Jr., notified Tournament Director Howard Capps that business commitments would prevent them from participating this year.

Those who did qualify and are due to tee off tomorrow are Gene Littler, last year's winner; Mangrum, Middlecoff, Mike Souchak, Bo Wininger, Dick Mayer, National Open champion Jack Fleck, Tommy Bolt, Shelley Mayfield, Chandler Harper, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Henry Ransom, Julius Boros, Arnold Palmer, Ted Kroll, Max Evans, Frank Stranahan, Al Balding, Don Fairfield, Mike Fetchik and Gardner Dickinson.

Play is over the 7,102-yard, par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Ohio State Nine Looms as Favorite in Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—Predicting the Big Ten baseball race which opens this weekend is as precarious an occupation as can be found and sticking with the winner could be a good bet although champions seldom repeat.

* * *

Untried sophomores, hot-and-cold veterans and breaks in weather conditions usually determine the champion. And nothing is more unpredictable than a sophomore or the weather.

Ohio State, however, stands a fairly good chance to repeat if the Buckeyes find some pitching. Michigan, on paper, seems to have the best balance while Michigan State and Minnesota, last year's runnerups, should be in contention.

Wisconsin, Illinois and Purdue warrant darkhorse consideration and Indiana, Iowa and Northwestern will find it tough to break into the first division.

* * *

Friday's openers find Purdue at Illinois, Northwestern at Iowa, Wisconsin at Minnesota, Indiana at Michigan and Ohio State at Michigan State.

Saturday is doubleheader day with Purdue at Illinois, Northwestern at Minnesota, Wisconsin at Iowa, Indiana at Michigan State and Ohio State at Michigan.

The Ohio State-Michigan twin bill should provide some insight on the comparative strength of the top contenders. Ohio State piled up a 9-4 record this spring with five regulars hitting at a .324 or better clip.

* * *

Catcher John Purvis led the Buckeye power brigade with a .387 average and three home runs. Howard Cassady of All-America football fame had a .367 mark.

* * *

Bill Sater, a junior righthander with three straight victories, looks like the No. 1 mound choice.

Michigan is solid offensively and defensively and has six pitchers returning from the 1955 squad. Sophomore third baseman Steve Boros led the Wolverines in pre-season games with a lusty .448 average. Outfielder Bruce Fox was next with a .375 mark with Bob Sealby and Gene Snider providing the long ball.

Ed Hobaugh, Walt Godfrey and Jack Wenner offer enough pitching strength to hurl Michigan State into contention.

Mizell Aims for 20

Yanks Beat Nats, 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vinegar Bend Mizell appears a cinch to win 20 games for the St. Louis Cardinals this season provided Ellis Kinder's aging arm holds out.

The young lefthanded Mizell has turned in victories in his first two starts but in each case he needed ninth inning assistance from the old righthanded Kinder.

* * *

Last night, exactly a week after the pair had combined to down the Cincinnati Redlegs 4-2 in the season's opener, the Mizell-Kinder duo teamed up to defeat the Reds again, this time 5-3.

After walking the first batter in the ninth, Mizell was relieved by Kinder who promptly gave up a hit to Bob Thurman, that put the potential tying run on base. The 41-year-old relief bore down, however, to strike out George Crowe and persuaded Johnny Temple to hit into a game ending double play.

* * *

It's too early to make comparisons but the Mizell-Kinder act is reminding of the Reynolds - Page duo who pitched so successfully for the New York Yankees in 1949.

Rain and cold weather raised havoc with the schedule yesterday, limiting the action to three games, two in the American League. In those, the Yankees whipped the Washington Senators 4-1 and the Detroit Tigers drubbed the Kansas City Athletics 7-4.

* * *

The home run ball was very much in evidence in the Yankee and Tiger victories. They accounted for all but three of the 11 runs made by the two teams. The Yankees hit two, one of them a three-run blast by Hank Bauer. The other was a solo blow by Yogi Berra.

Rain washed out the scheduled game between Boston and the Orioles in Baltimore. Cold weather forced the postponement of games between Milwaukee and Chicago, New York and Pittsburgh and Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

The postponement was a break for the Red Sox who have lost three straight while Ted Williams, their big slugger, has been nursing a tender foot.

No Wisecracks

AL Umpire Is on Job and Wearing Glasses

KANSAS CITY (AP) — American League Umpire Frank Umont patrolled his second-base domain yesterday wearing glasses and became the first major league umpire ever to work a game so equipped.

Before you make any cracks, stop to consider: Umont is a 6-footer and weighs 218. He was a tackle on the New York Giants pro football team from 1943 to 1947.

"I just don't think I'll say anything," quoth the 37-year-old umpire when asked about his cheaters.

Charley Berry, veteran American League man in blue who also worked in yesterday's Kansas City Detroit game, did the explaining:

* * *

"It's as simple as this. Frank needed a slight correction for his left eye. So he asked Harridge (President Will Harridge of the American League) if it would be all right to get glasses. Harridge said he believed it would be the right thing to do. It has nothing to do with Frank's judgment. He could see and umpire without them and do a good job.

"Why shouldn't he wear glasses as well as anyone else? The players do."

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City A's didn't notice at first that Umont was wearing glasses.

"It's no disgrace to wear glasses," Boudreau said. "If it makes him a better umpire, I'm for it. More power to him."

Gavilan Takes Sweet Revenge

Keed Beats Waterman in Tough Battle in English Ring

LONDON (AP) — Former world welterweight champion Kid Gavilan today threw out a "let's meet again for the third and final time" challenge to Britain's Peter Waterman.

* * *

The 30-year-old Cuban hammered out a decision over the 21-year-old Briton in London's Earls Court Stadium last night in a tough 10-rounder that had 14,000 fans cheering wildly.

* * *

It was sweet revenge for Gavilan who lost a disputed verdict to Waterman in London in February.

Most people thought Gavilan won that fight easily.

"Waterman was much better this time," Gavilan said as he sat in his dressing room nursing a badly swollen right eye. "He really hurt with those rights."

Chamil Chade, Gavilan's manager, talked about a rest in the sun for his charge and more fights in Europe before they return home.

"The Kid has now had two fights since his influenza," said Chade. "He needs rest."

Ferris Accused of Aiding Violations

AAU Official Now on Receiving End

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A former Stanford University track star has accused Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the American Amateur Athletic Union, of arranging for him to make a trip to Canada that exceeded AAU expense account rules.

Ferris, in New York, quickly denied the allegation, branding it as "ridiculous."

John T. Fulton, who was a half-miler at Stanford and captain of the 1946 United States track team which toured Europe, held a long conference yesterday with Larry Houston, secretary of the Southern Pacific Assn. of the AAU. Then he announced he would place before the AAU Executive Committee a charge that Ferris was "instrumental in my defection" from amateurism.

* * *

It was the "shocking" lifetime suspension of miler Wes Santee that prompted Fulton's decision to air his case, he told newsmen.

Fulton, 33 and now an independent television producer, displayed a letter dated March 19, 1956, from Ferris in answer to Fulton's wherein he told Ferris they both might be guilty of violating rules.

Ferris disclaimed any knowledge of alleged irregularities. He said: "Your attempt to besmirch my reputation is definitely libelous. If you violated the amateur role you certainly did it without my knowledge. Was your letter written in an attempt to intimidate me?"

* * *

Fulton told Houston and newsmen that in 1944 he competed in several Eastern indoor meets at the invitation of the AAU. He said he won events in the Millrose Games in New York and at the Boston Gardens. He said he was tired, had blisters on his feet, and so went to Ferris and told him he was returning home.

* * *

"The National Indoor Championships were coming up and Ferris asked me to stay on," Fulton related. "We agreed that I could take a trip to east Canada to visit my grandparents whom I had not seen since I was little. I got a voucher from the AAU and bought a round-trip plane ticket to Canada. And I got my $7 a day expense money every day I was away. I know this was far in excess of AAU expense rules."

Lions in Deal With Steelers

DETROIT (INS) — Defensive halfback Dick Alban, who was just traded to the Detroit Lions by the Washington Redskins, was on his way to Pittsburgh today in another swap.

Lions' general manager Nick Kerbawy announced yesterday that Alban had been traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers for Dick (Little Mo) Modzelewski. Alban had been acquired Monday in exchange for all-pro league guard Dick Stanfel.

But the Lion front office indicated that Modzelewski will not be around Detroit for long. It was hinted he'll be used in a further trade for a middle guard much sought by coach Buddy Parker.

Parker wants to return Lou Creekmur to his old offensive tackle post, so he needs a strong replacement at middle guard.

Little Mo, who played in 1954 with Washington and last season with Pittsburgh, is the younger brother of Cleveland's Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski.

Win Two, Lose One

Cranbrook Athletes Busy

Cranbrook athletes had a busy afternoon Tuesday, with baseball, track and tennis engagements on the program. When the festivities were ended the Cranes showed two wins and one loss for their efforts.

Cranbrook's baseball team was administered the lone defeat, a 4-1 spanking by Detroit Catholic Central. The Cranes were subdued by the slants of Bob Wood, Shamrock pitcher who scattered four hits while striking out eight and walking one.

Central tagged Pete Bedford for three runs in the 4th inning on an infield error and singles by Bob Hauck, Ed Sheridan and Dick Daguanno. The Shamrocks added an insurance run in the 7th and Cranbrook tallied its only marker in the same stanza. The loss was the Cranes' 4th in six starts.

Paced by Ross Smith, Bob Waddell and Herb Stanton, the Cranbrook track team defeated Walled Lake, 74⅓-34⅔. Smith won the board jump and high hurdles, Waddell took 1st in the 100 and 220 dashes, and Stanton won the 440 and tied for 1st in the high jump.

Cranbrook's tennis team blanked Ferndale, 7-0, for its 4th win in six matches. Bob Klein of Cranbrook defeated Ferndale's Doug Winnie in the 1st match, 6-0, 6-1.

Surprise at Pinehurst

Sanders Leads Amateurs

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — This golf-wise resort village has been watching the greats of the links game come and go for over half a century, but seldom has it been as excited over anyone as it has been over Doug Sanders this week.

The Cedartown, Ga., native who now lives in Miami, Fla., looks more and more like the man to beat in the 56th staging of the North and South Amateur tournament.

Twenty-two-year-old Doug went after a second-round victory today against Howard Everitt of Northfield, N.J., with an amazing record behind him in his brief stay here.

Sanders, who five years ago was National Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament winner, had never set foot on the hallowed turf of the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club until last weekend when he began to tune up his game for the tournament. He had practice rounds of 72, 71, 71, 70, then won the qualifying medal with a record 66. This was six under par for the 7,000-yard course, long regarded as one of the most formidable in the nation.

In his first match yesterday Sanders polished off Keely Grice of Charlotte, N.C., one of the finest amateurs in the Carolinas, 5 and 4, shooting five-under-par golf.

The brilliant play of Sanders overshadowed a major surprise turned in by Bill Williamson of Charlotte, 3-and-2 winner over Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla.

Otherwise favorites came through in fine fashion. Dave Smith of Gastonia, N. C., last year's medalist and semifinalist; Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., 1955 National Amateur runner-up; Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., and Pinehurst's Dick Chapman won in the upper half.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

The downswing with a short iron is guided by the left hand. Since there is little pivot as compared to wood shots, you will not have the noticeable shift of weight.

When your hands are about shoulder high in the downswing, your weight is fairly evenly distributed over both feet and your hips are almost square. Also at this point, your left arm is almost fully extended from your body and the wrists are still cocked.

Your right elbow begins to come into the right side and will continue to come even closer as the clubhead nears the hitting area.

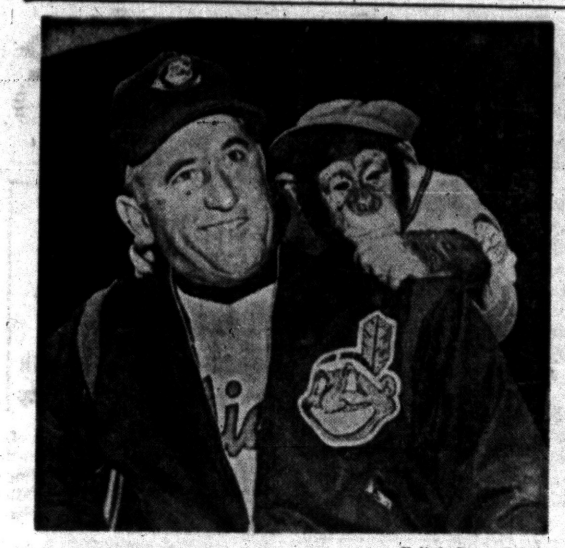

I would like to stress the importance of not rushing your shot. As mentioned before, with the shorter irons you have the sensation of cocking and uncocking your wrists quickly, but this does not necessitate your hurrying your swing. Maintain the same timing and rhythm you developed as your swing pattern for your woods and long irons.

The more upright swing will give you the feeling of hitting a sharp descending blow. It is the hands and wrists that control the club throughout your short-iron swing.

Remember, you can save your power hitting for tee shots. The short iron is played for accuracy, not distance. Never use a short iron where a longer iron is required to carry the distance.

The left hand guides the short iron in the downswing. The right elbow starts to come in close to the right side.

USGA Firm in Gambling Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Golf Assn., which took a firm stand against organized gambling in the wake of the notorious "Deepdale incident" last summer, now finds itself plagued by questions it can't answer.

* * *

The principal one is what kind of gambling is likely to disqualify a golfer as an amateur?

* * *

Golf's amateur rule, probably the longest and strictest applying to any sport, lists some 15 ways in which a player can put his amateur status in danger. One is: "Any conduct, including activities in connection with golf gambling, which is considered detrimental to the best interests of the game."

* * *

The gambling clause was inserted this year and the concern of of the USGA was re-emphasized when the executive committee's resolution opposing gambling was printed on the entry forms for the Open championship.

* * *

But the USGA has nothing against "friendly" bets. It recognizes the fact that most golfers like to wager a few bucks on their skill, or lack of it, and that Dick Duffer as well as Claude Champion is likely to go out on the links with a glint in his eye and a determination to take his best pal for every cent the guy will put up.

* * *

The USGA Executive Committee tried to settle that by mail within the past few weeks but came up with such an assortment of opinions that it decided to postpone a decision until the members can thresh it out at a meeting in June.

* * *

Meanwhile the only answer USGA officials can give is: "We can't tell in advance whether you'll lose your amateur status. We can only decide whether something you've done is detrimental after you've done it."

The USGA resolution took dead aim at the so-called "Calcutta" or auction pools. This is a device in which tournament contestants are "sold" to the highest bidders and the resulting pool, less deductions is divided among the ticket holders according to the positions of the players. It isn't uncommon, where professionals are concerned, for the lucky ticket holder to reward the player and even amateurs sometimes have come up with a share of a ricket on themselves.

* * *

That was the situation at the Deepdale Club on Long Island last summer when a couple of players entered as amateurs with falsified handicaps, walked off with the top prize.

Yanks Top AL Hitters

Card Soph Leads Major League Batters

NEW YORK (AP)—Ken Boyer, who hit only .264 as a major league rookie last year, is off to a whirlwind start and leads the National League in batting while giving St. Louis Cards' followers high hopes of a banner season.

In his first 7 games, Boyer has collected 15 hits—the most in the majors—in 27 at bats for a .556 average. He got two safe blows and drove in four runs as the Cards tripped Cincinnati 5-3 last night.

* * *

Figures compiled by The Associated Press also reveal that Bill Skowron of the New York Yankees is the American League pace-setter among the players who have at least 20 times at bat. The husky first baseman shows a .464 average on 13 safeties in 28 trips.

Actually, the Yankees are dominating the junior circuit statistics-wise. Mickey Mantle is runner-up to Skowron with a .462 batting mark and Yogi Berra is fourth with .417. Karl Olson of Washington, obtained from Boston last winter, is third with .433.

* * *

Mantle and Berra are deadlocked for home-run honors with four apiece. And they're also tied for most runs batted in with 13. Dick Tettelbach of Washington is third in RBI's with seven.

Boyer is having things pretty much his own way in the National League. Bill Sarni, also of the Cards, is a rather distant second with .440 on 11 hits in 25 at bats. Bill Bruton of Milwaukee is third with .429 followed by Dale Long of Pittsburgh with .391 and Ray Jablonski of Cincinnati and Wally Moon of St. Louis with .385 each.

Jablonski, coming off a dismal campaign in 1955, tops the National League in homers with five and runs batted in with 11.

* * *

Joe Adcock of Milwaukee has clubbed the most doubles in the National League, four. Hobie Landrith of the Chicago Cubs and the Braves' Bruton are the only players to have at least two triples and Bruton and Junior Gilliam of Brooklyn are the pace-setters in runs scored with eight apiece.

* * *

Vinegar Bend Mizell of the Cards and Robin Roberts of the Phillies are the pitching leaders with 2-0 records. Mizell and Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants have struck out the most batsmen, 10.

* * *

In the American League, Mantle and Hank Bauer of the Yanks and Eddie Yost of Washington are tops in runs scored with nine. Billy Goodman of the Red Sox is head man in doubles with four while Hector Lopez of Kansas City and Tettelbach each have walloped a pair of triples.

Billy Pierce of the White Sox and Johnny Kucks of New York are 2-0 in pitching. And the strikeout leader is Camillo Pascual of Washington. He's fanned 18.

Court Action Threatened to Tie Up Fistic Inquiry

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Court action to tie up the entire California boxing investigation was threatened today by Attorney Howard C. Ellis, who objected to what he called the "travesty" of public sessions.

* * *

Ellis said today he would seek "a permanent injunction to throw out all the information illegally obtained." He said "this would tie up the entire report" and prevent investigators from submitting their findings to Gov. Goodwin Knight, who ordered the inquiry.

* * *

Ellis' idea of "information illegally obtained" involves public disclosure of anything deriving from "private books and records" subpoenaed by investigators. He insisted that this information under California law should be kept private during an administrative hearing.

* * *

Ellis used most of yesterday's session in carefully building up the background for the court action he said he would file after his clients, San Francisco fight manager Sid Flaherty and promoter Bennie Ford, have finished testifying. Committee Counsel James Cox, who clashed repeatedly with Ellis, commented:

* * *

"He's welcome to try. We've litigated with two other people"—fight promoters Babe McCoy of Los Angeles and Jim Murray of San Francisco and Richmond, Calif.

* * *

The legal gymnastics just about blacked out any new information on operations of boxing in California.

Ford's memory failures and Ellis' objections, effectively blocked Cox's efforts to learn more about California Boxing Enterprises, Inc. Ford is president of the corporation that promotes bouts in San Francisco, Oakland and Richmond.

* * *

But Vice President Johnny Munro of Richmond has testified that Flaherty is the real boss of the corporation, whose stockholders include International Boxing Club President James D. Norris and Executive Secretary Truman Gibson.

Under California regulations fight managers are not allowed to be connected with promoting.

Tennis Troupe Wants Iron Curtain Booking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Kramer, whose touring professional tennis troupe will visit a large part of the world this year, is interested in still another trip—behind the Iron Curtain of Russia.

The idea is still quite indefinite, Kramer said, but he added:

"Sure, we'd like to go to Russia and show them our tennis. Not so much for the money—rubles, that is—but sort of as a first for tennis."

Kramer, who disclosed that his present domestic tour starring Pancho Gonzales and Tony Trabert has already assured him of a profit, said a friend, wealthy Mrs. Roddy Holt of Carmel, Calif. had promised to look into the possibilities of a Russian tour.

"We have heard the Russians are trying to expand tennis, although I guess they really are more interested in athletics for the large masses," he said.

Kramer said the Gonzales-Trabert tour reached the break-even stage April 6 at Detroit. He predicted the tour will gross between $170,000 and $190,000 before the U.S. phase ends at La Jolla, Calif., June 3.

* * *

He also announced a $7,500 round robin tournament here July 29-Aug. 5 involving Gonzales, Trabert, Pancho Segura and Rex Hartwig, the present tour members, and Frank Sedgman of Australia and himself. To get into shape, Kramer will play in the last 15 matches of the current tour.

Bronc Collapse Spells Defeat

Wolverines Break Up Ball Game in Sixth With 4 Runs

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan's defenses collapsed in the 6th inning, enabling the University of Michigan to collect four runs and win a non-conference baseball game yesterday, 5-2.

The victory was the 10th for the Wolverines against three defeats and left the defending Mid-American Conference Champion Broncos with a 4-4 record.

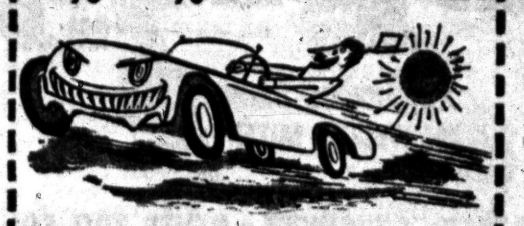

It was a 1-1 ball game until the 6th when Michigan pushed across four runs on two bases on balls, two errors, a sacrifice fly, a single by Bruce Fox and a double by Ken Tippery.

Both teams used three pitchers, who gave up a combined total of only five hits to a side. Righthander Glenn Girardin picked up the victory, hurling no-hit ball in his 3 2-3 innings.

PREPARATIONS — Here's one avid Pontiac trout fisherman of the "purist" school who is getting ready for the 1956 season. Oliver (Red) Lemeaux, affable attache of the city police department, a fly fisherman of parts, was looking over his gear, tying off a new fly as the camera caught him in his home on Silver Circle. However, says Red, "I don't think it's going to be too good opening day. Too cold. I'll wait a couple weeks maybe, before hitting the streams." Waders, net, rods, fly-tying material and other angling impedimenta are seen about Red's workbench.

Where Big Ones Are

By JACK PATTERSON

PATTERSON

Most opening day trout fishermen have a pretty definite idea, long before April 28 rolls around, just where they'll be on the first morning. There are many, however, who like to sample different territory always looking for that legendary spot where a record fish swirls up to every cast.

And then there is always the annual increase of first-timers who may not have a destination clearly in mind. If, for one of these reasons, or for any other, a problem of where to go for the opening exists, the following list of streams which the writer has usually found productive and always enjoyable to fish may be useful.

We're going to skip over the U. P. rather lightly because conditions just aren't good yet because of continuing cold weather. Hardy souls, however, should get action with big rainbows and maybe browns and some brooks (if they can get to the streams) in the Silver, Huron, Yellow Dog and Salmon Trout rivers in Baraga County.

Farther east really big brook trout are always a possibility in the Fox River—the main stream out of Seney or the east branch, a bit north on the Grand Marais road. Muddier minnows take the big ones here.

Luce County's Two Hearted River is a pleasure to fish, produces plenty of brookies, may be hard to get in to. Big rainbows in the St. Mary's River won't be available until June 1, but the Northern Power Company's canal will be open and some nice ones are taken from there.

* * *

In the Lower Peninsula, Emmett County's Maple River is a pleasant, sandy bottomed stream, with some nice brooks and rainbows. Running from Otsego County into Cheboygan County's Burt Lake, the Sturgeon River offers a little bit of everything.

* * *

There's good flyfishing water upstream from Wolverine, good wading. Below Wolverine the water gets heavy in the haunts of the big rainbows, clay bottom and deep holes makes wading tricky. Wonderful place for big rainbows, though. Just a bit east the Pigeon River, a pleasant, wadable stream, offers brooks, browns and rainbows.

In Kalkaska and Grand Traverse Counties the Boardman river deserves the fisherman's attention. It is accessible in a number of spots, is a fine stream to fish. In Benzie County the Platte and Betsie Rivers both offer splendid fishing, good wading, are readily accessible.

In Mason County the Little Manistee near Irons, a beautiful stream, offers good rainbows, browns. Upper waters of the Little Manistee, west of Frederic are worth a try, too.

Crawford, Oscoda and Roscommon Counties are dominated by the Au Sable system. The main stream is "open" except between Burton's Landing and Wakely Bridge.

Sections of North Branch and South Branch are flyfishing only. Check Fish Law Digest for boundaries. Five fish, nine-inch limit in effect in these waters.

East branch Au Gres should have better rainbow runs by week's end. Right around home, trout fishermen should find activity on rainbows in Orchard, Maceday, Union Lakes, Paint Creek, Bald Mountain trout pond. For complete list of Oakland County trout waters, see elsewhere on this page.

U.S. Prepares to Push Fight on Lampreys

Wildlife Service Will Try 54 Electrical Traps on Great Lakes

MARQUETTE (AP) — Government wildlife men are setting up their weapons in a man-versus-fish war on the destructive sea lamprey.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service this year will operate 35 electro-mechanical weirs on Lake Superior streams and 19 on Lake Michigan to trap and kill the parasitic lamprey.

Leo F. Erkkila of the wildlife service's Marquette office, said 23 of the Lake Superior weirs and all but one of those on Lake Michigan have been put in operation.

Two new weirs, the first to be operated on the Wisconsin shore of Lake Superior, are on the Bad and White rivers near Ashland. Ten of the Lake Michigan traps are in the Upper Peninsula and nine in Wisconsin.

Canadian officials have announced their government will have 29 weirs in operation this year, all of them on streams emptying into Lake Superior.

Of the weirs already in operation, as of April 13 those on Lake Superior had trapped 65 lampreys and those on Lake Michigan, 267. Between April 13 and 17 a trap on the Chocolay river in Marquette county killed 69 lampreys.

OCSC Holds 'Trout Night'

Clark will offer colored pictures of trout feeding and stream habitats, in connection with work aimed to improve conditions for the fish. He is also expected to discuss the work done on the Rifle and Cedar river watersheds.

New president of OCSC, Lloyd Sible, will report plans for a number of coming events.

Regulations for Trout Fishing

Here are salient points of Michigan's trout fishing regulations:

Get annual fishing license, to which must be attached the trout stamp (if you wish to take brook, brown or rainbow trout in state waters). Resident license costs $1.50, the trout stamp $1 additional. Non-resident fees; annual $4.00; 15-day $3.00; except trout. Must also have trout stamp, if fishing for this species.

Season opens Saturday at 12:01 a. m.

Season closes Sept. 9.

Creel limits (daily) — 5 per person, from lakes, or 10 from streams, but not more than 10 pounds and one trout. Minimum length 7 inches (except on some specially designated waters).

Trout ponds — Bald Mt., Davisburg. Fenton State rearing pond, are limited to fishing from 1 hour before sunrise to 1 hour after sunset. Only two trout in one day, legal 7 inches. Only artificial flies may be used and no boats or rafts may be employed.

Solunar Tables

Thousands of trout fishermen in Oakland County are waiting a bit impatiently for the opening of the 1956 season, Saturday. John Alden Knight's solunar periods, prepared especially for this area may help find the best fishing times on that occasion.

Periods listed below are for the week beginning today. Major periods last an hour and a half to two hours. Minors are somewhat shorter.

The national trout queen will be selected Friday night at the high school gym. A fine program is planned for that evening.

The 1956 trout king will be announced also. He will be a well known sportsman from southern Michigan.

The fly casting program will be held Friday, with prizes for all winners.

This two-day celebration will be climaxed Saturday evening at the queen's ball at which time the coronation of the new trout queen will take place.

HERE'S HOW MANTLE DOES IT — Yankee center fielder Mickey Mantle, who has hit .462 so far this season, is shown in sequence how he gets his base hits. He is seen here after driving out a hit against the Washington Senators yesterday, and despite a leg injury which has slowed his running, he is off to a great start this season. The Yanks won yesterday, 4-1.

Prep Hurlers Continue to Prosper

Tuesday was another profitable day for pitchers in high school baseball activity around the Oakland County area. Two no-hit games were posted on the scoreboard with a one-hit effort and a two-hitter close behind.

Tom Weeden pitched a no-hitter as Fraser shut out Bloomfield Hills, 7-0. Weeden struck out 16. Fraser collected five hits off Ken Newberry and capitalized on nine Bloomfield errors for its easy triumph.

South Lyon blanked Hartland, 4-0, as Jim Hock fashioned a no-hit performance. Hock eliminated 13 batters via the strikeout route.

* * *

Imlay City's Duane Maison hurled a one-hitter as the Spartans shutout Lapeer 3-0. Maison fanned 15, including the 1st 10 batters he faced, and walked only one. Wayne Samson made two hits for Imlay.

* * *

The two-hit chore was hurled by Waterford's Chuck Gillis as the Skippers shut out Walled Lake, 4-0. Gillis struck out 10 and issued just one base on balls. John Walker pitched a nifty three-hitter for the Vikings, but four errors hurt his cause. Waterford scored only one earned run.

Birmingham opened its Eastern Michigan League campaign with a 6-2 victory over Mt. Clemens behind the four-hit pitching of Don Picman. Bill Coons and John Fleser each rapped out two safeties and Bill Deer clouted a 7th-inning home run for the Maples.

Chuck Melchert mowed down 18 hitters on strikes as Lake Orion downed Avondale, 5-1. Melchert's feat is believed to be a new record at the school. Mickey McWilliams and Jerry Hurdik led Orion's six-hit attack with two apiece while the Jackets were garnering four against Melchert.

* * *

Madison scored four runs in the 7th inning to trim Mt. Clemens St. Mary, 7-3.

West Bloomfield remained unbeaten in the golf ranks by downing Northville, 177-190, at the Pontiac Country Club yesterday with Tom McLennan of the Lakers taking medalist honors with 42.

* * *

In a triangular match at Brighton yesterday, the host Bulldogs won with 191 strokes followed by Milford with 200 and University High of Ann Arbor with 203.

Medalists were Larry Piersall of Brighton and Ed Tokarsky of Milford, each with 42.

Trim Field at Lincoln Downs

'Find' Is Installed 8-5 Favorite in $50,000 Special Today

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP)—A five-horse field, trimmed from 23 nominations, goes in the $50,000 Lincoln Special at Lincoln Downs today in a mile and a sixteenth test that may be a repeat of last week's Excelsior Handicap at Jamaica.

* * *

Three of the horses that started the Excelsior are having another go at each other at Lincoln with Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Joe Jones rated the favorite, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find ranked second and Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action a close third.

* * *

Find won the Excelsior by a neck after a wire-to-wire duel with Joe Jones. The time was 1:43.1, second fastest in the 49-year history of the handicap. Jet Action stumbled leaving the gate and never did figure in the race.

Joe Jones, with 1953 jockey champ Tony DeSpirito up, has been installed an 8-5 favorite. Find, ridden by Eric Guerin, is a 2-1 choice and Jet Action goes off at 5-2. The Maine Chance entry is ridden by Willie Hartack, 1955's top rider with 417 victories.

One Singles Win Averts Net Shutout

Bob Erb's victory over Flint Central's Bob Baum averted a shutout for PHS tennis Chiefs yesterday afternoon at Flint. Indians took the SVC match 6-1, to leave Pontiac's record at 1-1 (1-2 overall).

Erb was carried to three sets before winning 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Losing the first set Erb came back to break Baum's service for winning sets.

Two other singles matches went three sets. Gary Thomas gave Bill Lau a rough time, 8-6, 3-6, 2-6 and Gary Wylie forced Jack Howe into a 3-set match, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Ted Wiersema lost to Jim Jesick 6-3, 8-6.

Dave Scriven, Jack Doerr lost to Charles Kiesel and Bill Spencer 6-3, 6-1. Fred Roeser, Dick Mallory lost to Spence Rutherford, Raleigh Draper 6-4, 6-4.

Bay City comes here Friday at 3:30 and Flint Central comes to Pontiac early next week.

Blue Grass Stakes Next Effort for 'Career Boy'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Career Boy, winner of the 1 1-16-mile Gotham Stakes, will journey a little farther tomorrow in the trail owner C. V. Whitney hopes will lead to his first Kentucky Derby victory.

Rated second to Needles in the Derby Future Book, Career Boy will go 1⅛ miles, just a furlong short of Derby distance, in the Blue Grass Stakes, Keeneland's closing-day feature.

* * *

The $25,000-added Blue Grass probably will draw a field of six other 3-year-old colts, although Career Boy apparently has scared off some of the competition for the prep. Entries were due today.

Career Boy, Reaping Right and Countermand were figured to try the Blue Grass, then move on to Louisville's Churchill Downs for the Derby May 5.

Whitney, who has had nine starters in the Derby, has a pair of aces for this year's showdown, Career Boy and Head Man, winner of the Wood Memorial on a foul.

Indian Swingers Take Links Match

Apparently not yet "in the groove" Pontiac High School's golf team first of the week suffered a 11-4 defeat at the hands of a consistently shooting Flint Central team.

Playing the Pontiac Municipal layout, PHS was led by Dick Whitmer's good 80 (38-42) to edge Flint's Don Taylor 2-1. Whitmer was medalist for the match. Other PHS cards were—Dick Singleton 47-38—85, Tom Cross 45-44—89, Sam Coleman 50-41—91 and George Bergstrom 52-46—98.

Central's cards—Charles Johnson 85, Gene Hurt 81, Dick Collins 86, and Dave Karr 89.

Pontiac Angler Lands Lengthy Pike Monday

A Pontiac angler landed a husky Northern pike Monday while fishing with his family at Harson Island in the St. Clair Flats.

Allen Pyle, who lives at 170 Auburn Avenue, caught the fish with a spinning rod and daredevil. The pike measured 29 inches long and weighed about eight pounds, Pyle said.

Snead and Hogan to Represent U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — The two-man team of Sam Snead and Ben Hogan will represent the U.S. in the 27-nation International Golf Championships and Canada Cup Matches June 24-26 at Wentworth in Surrey, Eng.

John Jay Hopkins, founder of the International Golf Association, announced last night that Snead would team with his longtime rival in the two-man jousts and also would shoot for the individual international trophy.

Snead, at 44 still the most feared shotmaker in U.S. professional ranks, has won more tournaments and more prize money during his 20-year career than any other player.

Milford Track Squad Winner Over Clarkston

Milford's track powerhouse, winner of the Howell Invitational last Friday, added Clarkston to its list of victims Tuesday. Russ Gabier's Redskins crushed the Wolves, 87-22, on the Clarkston track.

Milford won 11 of the 13 events and took seven runner-up spots. Lee Averill paced the Redskins with 14¼ points, tops for the meet. Averill won the 100 and 220, took 2nd in the broad jump, and ran on the winning 880 relay team.

Clarkston's two winning efforts were made by Doug Fortin in the mile and Clyde Kizer in the broad jump.

Mrs. Luce Praises Italians on Progress

MILAN (INS)—U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce described Italy's progress in the last decade as "astounding and well-nigh miraculous."

She predicted Italy would maintain and even improve its rate of progress.

The ambassador spoke at an American Chamber of Commerce meeting on America Day this week at the Milan Fair. It was also the third anniversary of her arrival in Italy.

She said three factors were responsible for Italy's progress:

"First, faith in Italy's future. Second, the improvement in the international situation . . . NATO is acting as a key deterrent to aggression . . . and third, Italo-American cooperation."

New York harbor boasts 24,000 annual arrivals and departures of ocean-going vessels, more than any other port in the world.

Red Cross Officials Attend Lansing Talk

The Rev. William Hamm, chairman of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, and Mildred E. Bennett, executive director of the chapter met Monday in Lansing to hear Frederick W. Laise, manager of the Mid Western Area Headquarters in St. Louis, Mo. speak on the March fund campaigns and how fund raising has been affected by national disasters since 1950.

Laise expressed the fear that the national goal for 1956-57 of 93 million will not be realized. The high goal may necessitate separate funds to be raised by individual chapters.

Wrong Address Listed

Dale Richmond, 21, who Monday was charged by Pontiac police with breaking and entering, lives at 334 Voorheis Rd. The Pontiac Press Tuesday erroneously stated Richmond's address was 335 Voorheis Rd.

Dividends

Revere Copper & Brass Inc. has declared a dividend of 68 cents on its new common stock, payable June 1 to owners of record May 15. The dividend is equivalent to $1.10 on the old stock which was split 2 for 1. In March the company paid a 90 cent dividend and last year paid 75 cents in each quarter.

Stock Market Moves Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was lower today, but there were plenty of recovery signs in evidence in the early afternoon.

Price changes covered a range of around 2 points either way with only a few outside those limits.

The trading pace was under yesterday — around 2,300,000 shares for the day as compared with 2,500,000 shares traded in yesterday's lower market.

* * *

The market was lower at the start today in a continuation of yesterday's weakness. Some areas, however, resisted the decline and whole marked improved considerably as time went on.

Motors, with the exception of General Motors, did quite well with fractional gains. GM opened on 10,000 shares off ⅛ at 44 and then it sold down a shade more. The stock is under the pressure of attention of a Senate subcommittee probing anti-trust aspects in business.

U. S. Steel, which after the close yesterday reported record high profits and declared the usual dividend, started on 2,000 shares off ⅛ at 60⅝ and then held at or slightly below that figure.

Grains Stage Small Upturn

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains staged a little rally after selling off for losses running to a couple of cents in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

The rally was most pronounced in soybeans, sending both the old and new crop months of that commodity above the previous close. A nervous market prevailed in beans, with quick reversals in the trend.

Among other cereals, largest losses were run up in corn. This continued to reflect some apprehension about an increase in corn plantings as a result of price supports for corn grown outside acreage allotments. There also was some much needed moisture in parts of Illinois.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May $2.39; corn 1 to 1⅜ lower, May $1.49⅜; oats ½ to ¾ lower, May 66⅛; rye ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, May $1.32⅛; soybeans unchanged to 1 cent higher, May $3.04, and lard unchanged to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.70.

Small Business' Role Lauded by Educator

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Small business will continue to be the backbone of the nation's economy, a university of Michigan business expert predicted yesterday.

"Types of small business will change. Some will disappear, but small business as an institution will continue to be the backbone of our dynamic, competitive economy," Edgar H. Gault, University marketing professor, said. He addressed the Ninth Annual University Merchandizing Conference.

"Small business can operate profitably in markets too small for the profitable big business," he explained. "In most instances this means the use of small business by big business to take care of small jobs."

"A dynamic economy, such as ours is, opens many new opportunities for small business," he added. "Today these opportunities lie in the fields of plastics, electronics, high fidelity and gadgetry for the home."

Japan's Prime Minister said in Tokyo that it is "all a mistake" to expect an early peace treaty with the Soviet Union.

3 Shows Doing Vanishing Act

Arthur's Ax Falls on Whole Program, Not Just One 'Friend'

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—The cry of "Fire!" has panicked CBS, with three shows out and two stars burning.

One: Arthur Godfrey is at it again.

* * *

This time he hasn't fired one performer—he has axed an entire show. His Wednesday night "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends" will vanish from your screen as of July 25.

Unavailable for comment in Florida, the redhead last week sent out a statement through his New York office to the effect that he was discontinuing his "Friends" because of "the extreme pressures of maintaining a heavy schedule that calls for a total of 13½ hours of broadcasting weekly."

He told his office he was "not giving out any further statements regarding his professional future."

* * *

Meanwhile the "Friends" (who at this writing include—but you can never tell from one edition to the next—Frank Parker, Tony Marvin, Tommy White, Carmel Quinn, the McGuire sisters and Janette Davis) have been officially informed that friendship is a wonderful thing but it can't be expected to last forever.

'DIFFERENT TALENT'

Last week Godfrey told a Chicago convention that he will use "lots of different talent" and that he'd "no longer have permanent talent" on his show. The redhead also revealed that his hip is still bothering him.

* * *

Speculation is running high that Godfrey may bow out in favor of the life of a gentleman farmer. Peter Lind Hayes will take over his other shows on July 28 for a scheduled six-week period, the longest "vacation" Godfrey has taken since he first started in radio.

Do you remember Godfrey's early a.m. radio show when it started? We used to drive family and neighbors crazy by blaring the radio at 6:45 a. m. just to hear his impertinent patter.

He used to spin classical platters like "Walter, Walter Lead Me to the Altar (Cause-Mama-Says-You-Orta)" and "Don't Go in the Lion's Cage Tonight, Mama Darling (The Lions Are Ferocious and May Bite)."

Golly gee, but it was fun!

* * *

We're not alone in wishing that the old Godfrey, breezy and irreverent, would come back.

WEALTH AND HEALTH

Now he has the pressures of a fantastically complicated industry upon him. The pressures that come with great wealth and the pressures of ill health.

Maybe he won't comment on his professional future because he, himself, doesn't know what it's going to be.

* * *

Two: Jack Paar is off CBS as of May 15. Paar will be replaced by a mystery show. No reason given for the exile.

* * *

Three: Robert Q. Lewis is shopping for another network, too. Silence all round on exactly why.

Elks Expect 800 to Attend Dinner This Evening

Fifty public officials will be among the more than 800 members of the Pontiac Elks Lodge in attendance at their Dedication Banquet at the Oakland Avenue Temple tonight at 7, dinner-dance chairman Thomas Gillottee said yesterday.

Lt. Gov. Philip Hart will head the list of dignitaries on hand.

The guest speaker for the affair will be John L. Walker, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks from Roanoke, Va. The banquet is being held in honor of his visit which will culminate a tour of state lodges. Dancing will follow his talk.

Gillotte, who is Past Exalted Ruler and Past Psesident of Michigan Elks, said special tables will be set up for dignitaries, guests, and Lodge officess. Gillottee will introduce the speaker.

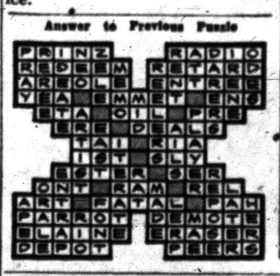

Kefauver, Stevenson Join Television Array

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, will join an array of national political leaders in a new educational television series, the Educational Television and Radio Center just announced in Ann Arbor.

The series, being filmed in Pittsburgh, is designed to evaluate the presidential nomination process for the American voter, the center said. The series will begin its run over the nation's 19 educational TV stations in June.

In connection with its big Sarchinar cement plant, Iraq is getting bids to build a 546-house factory housing project, with roads, water, sewerage and electric service.
