WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford believes that with good fiscal management, President-elect Richard M. Nixon will be able to let the 10 per cent income surtax expire next June if the Vietnam war continues at its present pace.

The Michigan congressman cautioned that if there is an increased tempo in the war and inflation is not under control, Congress might have to take a different attitude.

But, he added in an interview, "I will not vote for continuing the surtax just to expand federal spending."

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D. Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, has said he sees little possibility for letting the surtax expire. In his view the only hope for tax relief is to impose stringent economies on government spending.

DIFFERENT OPINION

Ford's view is somewhat at variance with that of Wisconsin's John W. Byrnes, top Republican on the ways and means committee, who has said that if there is no change in the Vietnam war during the next few months Congress will have to continue the surtax.

At the same time, Byrnes said that if the shooting aspect of the war is pretty well resolved by January or February, it would be possible to eliminate the surtax or to make changes such as reducing it by 5 per cent.

Ford said he is reasonably optimistic about the chances of passage of Nixon's legislative program.

"The Democratic leadership has pledged to cooperate," Ford said. "If they do, the prospects are pretty good."

At the same time, Ford noted that the Democratic edge in the Senate in the new Congress will be 58 to 42 and in the House the Democrats will have a 243 to 192 advantage.

EXPLAINS RESULTS

In discussing the reasons the Republicans did not pick up more House seats, Ford had predicted a net gain of 40 and got five instead, he listed these:

- The bombing pause in Vietnam.
- The division in the Democratic party at the presidential level was not reflected at the congressional level.
- The candidacy of George Wallace, particularly in the South.
- The closeness of the presidential election.

Senate Will Battle Over Medicaid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The medicare program of health care for the poor — its costs soaring — may provide one of the major battles in the next Congress and an early test of Nixon campaign pledges to hold down federal spending.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee which has jurisdiction over medicare, has pledged that "bringing the cost of this fantastic program into bounds" will be one of his major 1969 objectives.

Republican Jacob K. Javits of New York, whose state has the biggest single medicare program, promises a fight to keep present federal aid formulas.

The government's share of the three-

Recheck Indicates Fast Time Failed in Nov. 5 Election

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan apparently will stay on standard time next spring when the rest of the nation goes on Daylight Saving Time.

State election officials said yesterday a precinct-by-precinct recheck of 75 per cent of the ballots cast in the Nov. 5 fast time referendum has failed to change the 415-vote defeat of the proposition.

Unofficial returns reported immediately after the election indicated the proposition had passed by some 25,000 votes, but an error was turned up in Jackson County and a revised count showed it failed.

Forces supporting fast time are expected to petition for a recount of the vote after the results are certified.

Any citizen may petition for a recount but must pay $5 for each precinct surveyed. A statewide recount would cost more than $30,000.

Mine Is Sealed; All Hope Gone for Trapped 78

WOUNDED ARE EVACUATED — U.S. air cavalrymen load wounded buddies on an evacuation helicopter near the Cambodian border. Their unit received light casualties when ambushed by North Vietnamese troops 80 miles north of Saigon.

Fighting on 2 Fronts Yanks Maul Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen mauled a North Vietnamese battalion near the Cambodian border, and American infantrymen decimated a strong Vietcong force in the Mekong Delta, the U.S. Command reported today.

Elsewhere 140 captured Vietcong shouting anti-Communist slogans were turned loose on the streets of three South Vietnamese cities in a government effort to win over guerrilla troops and strengthen Saigon's position at the Paris peace talks.

Military spokesmen said U.S. 9th Division infantrymen and helicopter gunships killed 70 guerrillas in the marshlands near Cai Lay today, 50 miles southwest of Saigon. The infantrymen also captured 20 suspects.

The spokesman said another 18 enemy, part of a North Vietnamese battalion of about 400 men, were killed in fighting near the frontier outpost of Loc Ninh, three miles from Cambodia northeast of Saigon.

BORDER BATTLES

Headquarters said seven Americans were killed and 16 were wounded in the latest of a series of border battles in

U.S. and Hanoi Trade Charges

PARIS (AP) — Hanoi and the United States each have a long list of accusations alleging violations of the bombing halt agreement, but there was no sign today they will try to collapse the expanded peace talks.

As is, the parity expected to start in two weeks will be difficult enough. Hanoi and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front are refusing to recognize the Saigon delegation, and South Vietnam says it will talk only to Hanoi.

A Hanoi spokesman yesterday made the most serious bombing accusation yet by the North Vietnamese.

He said U.S. planes hit North Vietnamese territory three straight days, the latest attack coming Nov. 27.

ALLEGATION DETAILED

Three U.S. F4 jets bombed five villages more than 40 miles north of the 17th parallel dividing the two Vietnams, he claimed, adding that they were not involved in any pilot rescue or defense.

The United States claims President Johnson's Oct. 31 directive to stop the "bombardment and all other acts involving the use of force" on North Vietnamese territory did not rule out continuing reconnaissance flights.

Scranton Trip Hailed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Newspapers today welcomed the coming Middle East visit of William W. Scranton, a special envoy of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Al Nahar said it hoped that a breakthrough might follow Scranton's trip, saying his visit was a first step. It added that the success of Scranton's six-nation tour hinged on his talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Officials of the Consolidation Coal Co. said the hazardous job of sealing No. 3 mine, where 78 men have been trapped for more than a week, was completed early today.

There were no incidents but the company warned of a danger of still more explosions, which have rocked the sprawling mine periodically.

The completion of sealing of the mine, owned by Consolidation subsidiary Mountaineer Coal Co., came after Consolidation President John Corcoran announced the decision last night.

The Mod's Run shaft in the mine had been filled earlier with crushed limestone. The Atha's portal and Mahan Run shaft were sealed with massive fabricated steel and concrete caps.

SLOPE IS BOARDED

The main mine entrance, the Llewellyn portal, was filled with crushed limestone and the main slope was boarded with heavy timbers and sealed with plastic.

Company officials appeared cautiously optimistic that the seals would control the fire, which began early Nov. 20 when a thundering explosion roared through No. 3, trapped the 78 men.

SLOPE IS BOARDED

Twenty-one other miners escaped the inferno.

"The cumulative evidence shows without question," Corcoran told a news conference last night, "that human life is not possible where the men would be located."

OXYGEN FLOW STOPPED

The sealing process, which began as Corcoran talked to newsmen, covers all of the mine's openings and shuts off air flow. This move extinguishes the fire but also stops oxygen flowing to the men and means sure death if any are still alive.

Before the meeting with newsmen, Corcoran went to the James Fork United Methodist Church where relatives of the missing men had gathered.

Security Expert Seen as Likely Nixon Adviser

NEW YORK (AP) — Three meetings in five days between President-elect Richard M. Nixon and Henry Kissinger have prompted speculation Kissinger may become Nixon's personal adviser on national security matters.

Kissinger had another meeting yesterday with the president-elect. Ron Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, later described Kissinger as "a man well respected in the field of foreign affairs and national security." Kissinger, 45, is director of Harvard University's defense studies program and head of the Harvard International Seminar.

There has been no word from the Nixon camp so far as to whether the president-elect even plans to have a special assistant for national security affairs—a top post occupied during the past eight years by McGeorge Bundy and Walt W. Rostow.

It is widely believed, however, that the new chief executive will almost have to have a close personal adviser in this area, even if he changes the job's title.

SECURITY EXPERT

Kissinger has a broad range of experience in international relations and is considered a specialist on such subjects as European security.

He was born in Germany and became a naturalized citizen in 1943. He was a consultant to the National Security Council in 1961 and 1962, and has been a consultant to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency since 1961.

Nixon also discussed foreign affairs yesterday with Robert Strauss-Hupe, director of the Foreign Policy Research Institute at the University of Pennsylvania, and William Kintner, the institute's associate director.

No Cabinet Post for Romney Yet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney said yesterday he had not yet been offered a cabinet post by President-elect Richard Nixon.

Romney was in Phoenix for a short vacation before attending the Republican Governor's Conference at Palm Springs, Calif., beginning Wednesday.

The governor said the acceptance of a cabinet post, if offered, would depend on the circumstances. He said both Nixon and Vice President-elect Spiro Agnew are expected to attend the governors conference.

The Michigan governor said he planned to introduce the problem of a "lack of state authority to deal with strikes that are bad for the state and local economy." The state does not have the authority to control anything involved with interstate commerce, Romney said.

WARM RECEPTION — Santa was greeted with happy smiles at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center yesterday, after descending in a helicopter. He is accompanied by Judy Justin, 430 Emerson. Santa will be at the shopping center Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Seeping Gas Is Called a Man-Made Problem

MARSHALL (AP) — Calhoun County has a gas problem the leading anecdotal can't touch.

The gas is natural but the cause probably is not, according to a University of Michigan geologist.

More than 20 families were forced from their homes Thanksgiving Day after a home in the south-central area of Michigan was blown to bits while the family was visiting in Wisconsin. Authorities theorized the seeping gas had entered the basement of the home where it was ignited by a water heater or furnace.

Dr. J. N. Dorr Jr., chairman of the Michigan department of geology and mineralogy, said yesterday in a telephone interview that it's possible the gas problem in the Marshall area is related to an earthquake which rattled the Midwest Nov. 9. But he said it's much more probable that the active drilling for oil and natural gas in the area is the cause of the present gas seepage which sometimes forces geysers of mud and water into the air.

MAN-MADE PROBLEM

"Although it's certainly a freakish situation, I don't think we can entirely blame nature for this," said Dr. Dorr. "It's likely this phenomenon is a result of man's work in the oil and gas fields in that area."

"The gas, under high pressure, has probably seeped up along the outside of the steel casing of a well until it has found porous layer in the substrate—gravel or sand," he added. "It's possible for gas under such circumstances to travel many miles laterally until it finds the surface."

Dr. Dorr's theory gained support late yesterday as gas began blowing mud and debris into the air around a recently capped oil well near Albion. No injuries were reported in the past few days, but several Thanksgiving dinners were disrupted.

"We had the dinner table completely set up," said Mrs. Bill Clayborn, 24, who lives about 300 yards from the swamp near Marshall where the seepage problem is currently the worst.

TIME TO GO

"When the house two doors away exploded we decided it was time to go," Clayborn, 38, added.

Roy Strait, a gas engineer with the Michigan Public Service Commission, said the families may be allowed to return to their homes today if pressure subsides. All private gas, electricity and telephone service to the evacuated homes was shut off.

New Flu Outbreaks Reported in 5 Areas

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hong Kong flu has flared in Colorado, southern Arizona, North Carolina, Philadelphia, Pa., and Puerto Rico, the National Communicable Disease Center reports.

The center said yesterday that tourists just back from Hawaii, including a group of 155 Shriners, are believed to have imported the germs into North Carolina.

Dr. J. N. MacCormack, North Carolina's assistant health director, said about 85 of the Shriners who visited Honolulu in October were stricken and blood tests showed they had Hong Kong flu.

The mining town of Bisbee, Ariz. reported an outbreak of the virus, and officials said school absenteeism was running at 60 per cent. However, the center said this outbreak was mild.

Flu has hit the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, sending nearly 2,000 of the 3,400 cadets to the infirmary for treatment. However, less than 1 per cent of the stricken required hospitalization and officials said the outbreak is "definitely on the wane."

An Air Force base in Colorado Springs and Army officials at Ft. Carson, Colo., also reported illnesses from the virus. The number of flu cases at Ft. Carson has dropped, with about 30 of every 1,000 soldiers reported ill now. Earlier, the

Walled Lake Man Is Traffic Fatality

A 49-year-old Walled Lake man was fatally injured late yesterday when struck by a car in Commerce Township moments after being involved in a property damage accident.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Donald A. Galarneau, 4752 Richardson, was killed about 6 p.m. when he attempted to walk across Hagerty Road to check on the driver whose car his vehicle had collided with.

Jerry Lou Phillips, 38, of 1132 Lakeview, Walled Lake, told deputies she did not see Galarneau until after her car struck him.

Neither she nor any of the occupants of the car involved in the collision were injured, according to deputies.

They include Fenton Ludkie, 7465 E. Greenwich, vice president and associate creative director, Campbell-Ewald Advertising Agency; John E. Sattler, 1575 Kensington, Bloomfield Hills, director of public relations programs office, Ford Motor Co.; and J. Thomas Smith, 459 Martell, Bloomfield Hills, board chairman of Dura Corp.

Also honored were Thomas B. Adams, 931 W. Harsdale, board chairman of Campbell-Ewald; Charles A. Grant, 760 Westview, vice president, R. L. Polk Co.; Daniel B. Smith was chairman of a citizens' committee to inform voters on the issues. "The men were given plaques reading 'You Put The Wonder Back' (in Michigan's water wonderland), BIRMINGHAM — Walter J. McCarthy Jr., 1450 Pilgrim, has been appointed assistant manager of engineering for the Detroit Edison Co.

He was also designated to serve as project manager for the boiling water thermal reactor plant that will be constructed on the site of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant.

McCarthy has been an Edison executive since 1963; however, until his recent appointment, all of his Edison affiliation had been spent on leave of absence to Power Reactor Development Co.

A native of New York City, McCarthy earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering at Cornell University in 1949.

REACTORS EXPERT

He has specialized in nuclear reactors and the generation of electric power from nuclear sources.

A Fellow of the American Nuclear Society and a member of the Michigan Chapter, McCarthy has authored numerous papers on fast breeder technology and safety. He was the principal author of the United States papers on fast breeder safety for the United Nations International Conferences on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy in 1958 and 1964.

BIRMINGHAM — Kenneth L. Conn, 1184 Yorkshire, has been elected vice president in charge of commercial mortgage loans at Bank of the Commonwealth.

Conn, who has 16 years experience in the field of mortgage finance, is a member of the Board of Governors of the Mortgage Bankers Association of Michigan.

He is also active in the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers and the Detroit Real Estate Board.

Police Station Fired on After Panther Arrests

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Police say 20 shots were fired from a speeding car at Fifth Precinct police station shortly before midnight Friday, two days after seven Black Panthers were arrested.

Police Chief Stephen T. Nestor said, "I assume it was Black Panthers."

One of the bullets passed through the hat of Sgt. Edward Quirk, who was outside the precinct station. He was unharmed.

The seven members of the Black Panthers, a militant Negro group that has formed in several of the nation's cities, were arrested Wednesday about one mile from the Fifth Precinct headquarters on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Each was held in $10,000 bail.

ONE WOMAN HELD

Six of them were being held in Jersey City police headquarters and the seventh, a woman, had been transferred to a jail in nearby Secaucus.

The station is in a predominantly white neighborhood one block from the edge of a Negro slum.

"We don't think it was anyone from around here," Nestor said. "We don't think anyone who lives around here would do something like this."

NO EXCHANGE

Nestor said police were looking for a 1962, light-colored car. He said the car was headed toward the New Jersey Turnpike after the attack and police were not certain whether it bore New Jersey license plates.

The bullets were fired from an automatic, the chief said. The shots struck the station house, breaking a few windows. Six policemen inside ducked when the shots were fired and did not shoot back, he said.

Nestor said there may have been either two or four men in the car and all were believed to be Negroes.

rate was double that among the post's 12,000 personnel.

Several cases have involved servicemen returning from Asia, but the center said the first reports of Hong Kong flu came from Needles, Calif.

Nine persons died of the flu at Riverview, Philadelphia's home for the needy. But officials said the outbreak is slowing and no deaths have been reported at Riverview since Wednesday.

Vaccine for the new strain of flu is becoming available and the center has urged doctors to give priority to vaccinating the elderly and chronically ill.

Two Girls Beaten to Death in N.J.

ROCKAWAY TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Two young girls were found beaten to death today in a wooded area.

Police identified them as Julie Rodriguez, 7, and Darlene Copensky, 6. Authorities said their skulls were crushed with a rock that was found nearby covered with blood stains. Darlene's uncle, Edward Copensky, discovered the bodies in a gully 150 feet behind the Rodriguez house, police said.

Police said the children lived two doors apart and frequently played in the wooded area behind the Chestnut Terrace residential neighborhood.

About 100 persons searched for the children, police said, after their parents notified authorities that the girls were missing.

Authorities said the girls were found with their clothes on and there was no indication of sexual assault.

Coast Guard Finds 4 Afloat off Florida Keys

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A man, woman and two children kept afloat all night in the Atlantic Ocean by lifejackets after their 63-foot boat sank were rescued today by the Coast Guard.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Miami said the four were found 27 miles off Islamorada in the Florida Keys by the Coast Guard cutter Diligence.

The survivors were identified as James C. Jones, 30, Mrs. Robie Jones, 29, Larry Jones, 14, and Raymond Jones, 11. The Coast Guard said they did not know the boys' relationship to the adults, but all reportedly lived aboard the Macedonian which sank about 5:40 p.m. yesterday after sending an SOS.

Colombian President Caused Crisis to Save Reform Program

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — by the Conservatives in Congress to approve his reforms and then seeing his efforts thwarted by a lack of a coalition discipline when the vote comes. One of the most controversial reforms called for a drastic curtailment of congressional powers on economic legislation and national budget distribution. The issue that brought on the present crisis was a Lleras plan to freeze the present number of legislators but change the representation from each department or state. The Conservatives charged this would assure the Liberals a majority in Congress. Conservative sources said they are united in their determination not to accept the plan despite the hard line taken by the president. The crisis in this coffee-growing nation of 15.5 million persons located on the northwest corner of South America comes at a time of student unrest in Cali, a major city, and elsewhere. The Liberal-Conservative coalition has been governing Colombia for 10 years under terms of a truce that ended 10 years of bloodshed which claimed 200,000 lives. Under the agreement, the two parties alternate the presidency until 1974. BJA/See Nov. 30

President Carlos Lleras caused a crisis in a desperate attempt to save his program of political and economic reforms, informed sources said today. It was similar to a move he made in June when he suddenly offered to resign after the Senate had rejected a similar plan, but then the opposition came from members of Lleras' own Liberal party. According to the sources, the net Friday after his congress-Conservative opposition to the sional reform bill was defeated reform bill provided Lleras with an issue he had been seeking to force a crisis. NEW ALIGNMENT It gives him a chance to look for a new political alignment and determine whether members of the coalition can play a double role—opposing his reforms while holding key government posts. Lleras is reported angered and tired at having to beg Congress to approve his reforms and then seeing his efforts thwarted by a lack of a coalition discipline when the vote comes. The main reason for opposition to reforms in the 106-seat Senate and the 190-member House of Representatives, where Conservatives and Liberals control two-thirds of the seats, is that many of them william for pork-barrel projects, hurt the legislators' interests and futures.

Alleged N.Y. Crime Boss Arraigned on 2 Charges

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Stefano Magaddino, 77, reputed head of syndicate crime in the Buffalo-Niagara Falls-Toronto areas, has been arraigned on charges of international racketeering and conspiracy.

Magaddino was arraigned in his home Friday, four days after FBI agents stopped his automobile here and told him of an arrest warrant pending against him.

Magaddino's arraignment was put off on a day-to-day basis because testimony of doctors recently in a civil action indicated he suffered serious heart disease.

U.S. Commissioner Edmund F. Maxwell went to the Magaddino home in nearby Lewiston and held the arraignment in a bedroom.

EMERGENCY HELP

A doctor stood by Magaddino's side and a cylinder of oxygen was next to the bed, but it was not used.

Magaddino was not required to plead. He confined his comments during the eight-minute proceeding to, "Tell my lawyer," as Maxwell explained his rights and the charges.

Earlier, the Internal Revenue Service announced $3.5 million in income tax liens had been placed against Magaddino, some of his relatives and an aide.

During and preceding his arraignment, FBI agents, armed with search warrants, went through Magaddino's home and those of three sons-in-law, James La Duca, Charles Monacina and Vincent Scro, who are his immediate neighbors in an exclusive suburban area.

Meanwhile, a federal grand jury studied the activities of Magaddino and others that led to the arrest of eight other men Tuesday on the racketeering and conspiracy charges.

They included Stefano Magaddino's son, Peter A. Magaddino, 51, who the FBI called help-up parent to his father; Benjamin Nicoletti Sr., 56, called supervisor of operations; and six associates—Pasquale Passero, 44, (Cino Monaco, 45, Sam Pugliese, 46, Michael A. Farella, 56, Augustine Bizzo, 34, and Louis V. Tavano, 28, all of the Niagara Falls-Buffalo area.

The elder Magaddino and those arrested Tuesday were charged with conspiracy and violating federal statute banning interstate or foreign travel or transportation in aid of racketeering enterprises.

Specifically, the FBI said, the men were charged with gambling activities in the Western New York area during September, October and November.

Valachi said "No crime by members of the organization is permitted without his permission and guidance."

Buffalo police testified at the same hearings and called Magaddino "boss of the entire Western New York area as well as the Ohio Valley area."

Detroit School Split-Up Sought

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Reps. James Del Rio and George Montgomery, both Democrats, are preparing a bill for introduction in the State Legislature in January that would break up the Detroit Public School System into from 8 to 19 independent school systems by July 1970, the Detroit Free Press reported Friday.

The bill would require the superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate School District to divide the Detroit system into independent districts with enrollments of from 15,000 to 40,000 students. The school districts would be completely autonomous, each electing its own seven-member board of education and having its own taxing power.

3 Missionaries' Bodies, Plane Found in Congo

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The missionaries' intended route. Searchers found the charred bodies of three American missionaries Thursday in the wreckage of their light plane which crashed into thick jungle Oct. 13 in a storm.

Reports reaching Kinshasa Friday said searchers, who checked dozens of leads on foot and in trucks and canoes after an air search was called off, believed the Cessna 185 had been hit by lightning.

It was near a village called Toko, north of Monica, about two-thirds of the 200 miles between Mbandaka and Boende, remain in the Congo.

Amnesty Draws 15 'Big-Bore' Guns

DETROIT (AP) — Federal authorities in Detroit have received about 15 machine guns and sawed-off shotguns during an amnesty period for registering "big bore" weapons.

During the amnesty period, which started Nov. 2 and ends Sunday, owners can register such things as machine guns, sawed-off rifles and shotguns, bazookas, antitank guns and "destructive devices" as bombs, hand grenades and rockets. Registration is required by the Gun Control Act of 1968.

Weapons are not required under the act.

NY Gears for Midnight Utility Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Consolidated Edison Co. today deployed 4,000 supervisors to take control of its generators, switchboards and gas lines at midnight when 20,000 workers are set to go out on strike.

The company predicted it will be able to maintain essential service for nine million customers in New York City and Westchester County.

The pace of preparations for the walkout increased Friday with supervisors training in such duties as unloading cable from trucks, monitoring meters and recording data.

City officials warned hospitals, the subway system and various government agencies to check out their emergency plans for dealing with power failures. Many businesses and industrial firms did the same.

Con Ed facilities in four of the five boroughs and in Westchester, turned down a proposed contract after it had been unanimously accepted by their negotiating committee.

PACKAGE DETAILED
The $59.2-million package offer would raise wages 15 percent in the next 19 months. Their hourly wage now averages $3.58.

A similar contract was accepted by 500 Con Ed employees on Staten Island, a group represented by Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

Con Ed officials appealed for public cooperation in the event of a strike, asking the customers conserve electricity especially during the peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

NATO Eyes Soviet Troop Sites

D.C. Officer Shoots, Kills Teen

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Officials say Soviet strength in Czechoslovakia has dwindled to three divisions, but NATO strategists are busy implementing lessons learned from the August invasion.

Reduction of the Soviet forces followed an agreement between Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union in October, legalizing an indefinite Russian presence in the satellite.

The Red troops that once ranged throughout the strategic central European country are now based mainly in Bratislava and Prague, U.S. analysts say.

Particularly alarming to Western allies at the time of the invasion was the presence of six force divisions a short march from the West German frontier.

Despite withdrawal of the main strength, Russian concentrations in East Germany and Poland remain significant. The Soviets have maintained a formidable 20 divisions in East Germany in the past, and some of the troops withdrawn from Czechoslovakia have joined them.

Although the immediate threat to Western Europe's heartland has eased, North Atlantic Treaty Organization is beefing up defenses and keeping a closer watch on Soviet military activity along other European borders.

U.S. military men estimate that the Warsaw Pact occupation forces at peak strength number 250,000 troops, including naval forces, present Soviet divisions. Present strength is estimated at 17 Soviet divisions.

Strategists are considering several U.S. Green Beret units among the two Army brigades and four jet fighter squadrons returning to Europe ahead of schedule to become better integrated and better equipped with the help of Military and diplomatic sources in Washington describing members' defense budgets.

NATO has already created a unified command in Naples to gather intelligence on Soviet naval buildup along Europe's southern flank — the Mediterranean.

Officials plan to replace America's crack Phantom jets with the new concrete barriers.

DETROIT (AP) — Chanting "We want jobs; we want jobs," eight women tried for a meeting with Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Friday to complain they had lost their jobs as teacher aides in inner city schools.

The women, representing 165 mothers who had received welfare payments until they joined a school training program last Dec. 11, charged they were being paid $200 by seven or eight young men.

No guns were used in the theft.

City officials told them cuts in federal funds apparently were the cause of their plight.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A police officer, more or less as a reflex, stopped on a jaywalking violator who threw a hat at the officer, said Police Chief Johnathon B. Layton.

The bullet tore into Peters' chest. The object he threw was jury failed to indict the officer, later identified as a hat. Peters even though a coroner's jury issued a ruling of homicide.

Mrs. Fred Trickey, Orchard Hill Street, Bloomfield Township, forms wire into the basic shape.

Mrs. Joseph Fouser, North Adams Road (left), shows Mrs. Fred Stephanski, Dowling Road, both of Bloomfield Township, how to drape paper over the wire.

Mrs. Frank Jiordano, Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, "dresses" an angel with pieces of sheeting dipped in glue.

Heavenly Figures Have Lowly Background

In the interval between Thanksgiving and Christmas, women with artistic talents go into a frenzy of work, making various decorations for the yuletide season.

Members of the Orchard Lake Garden Club met earlier this fall for a workshop at the North Adams Road home of Mrs. Joseph Fouser.

They spent the day making papier mache angels from such prosaic materials as chicken wire, newspapers, old sheets and glue. But decorated with lace and sprayed with paint, the resulting figures will grace area homes appropriately in the coming weeks.

Pontiac Press photographer, Rolf Winter, captured the process in this series of pictures.

Word Is Home When Meaning Clearly Stated

By ELIZABETH L. POST

of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: I was wondering if you could settle a friendly argument. It all started over the word "home." When a woman marries and leaves her parents' home to make a home for her husband, does she still refer to her parents' house as home? —Carole

Dear Carole: The College Standard Dictionary defines "home" as "one's fixed place of abode; family residence." Emily Post defines it as "the sentiment, the atmosphere, the spirit . . . that the house in which you dwell expresses."

Only a person's place of abode can be his "home." Your parents' house is their home but to you it is "mother and dad's house." If you speak of "going home" it clearly means to your own home or else that you have left your husband to live with your family.

COMBINING

Dear Mrs. Post: May a yellow gold ring (my engagement ring) and a silver ring be worn at the same time? Of course, they would be on the left and right hand respectively. I have a beautiful garnet birthstone ring and a lovely opal one, both set in silver.

Since I am 19, I also occasionally wear my high school class ring. Is it proper to wear any of these at the same time? —Sharon

Dear Sharon: Yes, indeed. A ring set in gold and one with a silver band may be worn at the same time on different hands.

Your garnet or opal ring should not be worn at the same time as your school ring. It would be a little like wearing loafers and a cocktail dress together. One is "every day," the other is "dressy."

This Could Be Blessing for Middle-Aged Couple

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 21 years to a wonderful man. I am 44 and he is 43. We have three children — 13, 16, and 18. I have always worked to help with "extras" and to assure our children of a college education — then I discovered I was pregnant!

I was just sick about it, so our happy home life ended. I haven't spoken to my husband in six months, except when I absolutely have to for the sake of the children. The baby is due in two months.

I love my husband very much, but I don't like what he did to me at my age. And what am I going to do with a baby? I cry every day. My family was all planned — and now this! Am I wrong for feeling and acting as I do?

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Yes. Regardless of how you feel now, the baby could enrich your lives beyond belief. (I've heard from other mothers who also received late dividends and they reaffirm this fact.)

Ask your husband to forgive you. And by the way, this was as much your doing as his, you know. (P.S. For further consolation, Freud said, "There are no accidents.")

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend who insists on bringing something to my home whenever I invite her to dinner. Abby, she is a darling person, but she's possibly the world's worst cook!

When she brings something I have to serve it, don't I? The last time she brought a cake. It was underdone and lumpy with a blue (!) frosting which looked terrible and tasted worse.

I was embarrassed watching the faces of my other guests as they tried to eat it. She's coming again on Sunday, and I told her not to bring anything. I've told her that before, but she always "surprises" me with something. My husband says I am an idiot for serving her failures, so I am writing to you for your opinion.

HELPLESS

DEAR HELPLESS: Your husband is right. Call her and tell her that one of the joys of entertaining is in preparing everything yourself, so please don't bring anything!

And if she "surprises" you with something, surprise her, and don't serve it.

DEAR ABBY: You are always printing letters from people who complain because they're too fat. They don't know how lucky they are. Fat people can always lose weight, but how about thin people who can't put on an ounce?

No body will believe this, but I am living proof that it is harder to put on a pound than to take it off.

I am a 24-year-old girl and have been told I have a beautiful face. But that's where it stops. I am 5 feet 6 and weigh 101 pounds. My bones stick out all over. I've been to doctors and tried diets and exercises and everything known to gain weight, but I can't put on an ounce. I am not sickly, either; I'm healthy, but I'm underweight. Is there something new I can try?

POOR ME

DEAR POOR: If you're healthy, you're wealthy. If you can't change the frame, upholster the clothes. Wear full skirts, tight wide belts, high necklines, and quit worrying about your weight.

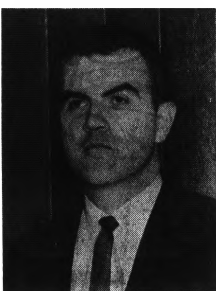

Black Artist's Works on Display at OCC

An exhibit featuring the works of Jon Onye Lockard will be featured Sunday through Dec. 14 in the Learning Resources Center of Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus.

The LRC was recently dedicated the Martin Luther King, Jr. Learning Resources Center and Lockard's portrait of the late Dr. King is displayed in the library.

Orchard Ridge Campus is located south of I-696 between Farmington and Orchard Lake Roads.

JOHN TOUSLEY

Music Teacher Will Be Soloist

John Tousley, head of the vocal music department at Pontiac Northern High School, will be guest soloist at the first of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra's family concerts Sunday in P.N.H.S. auditorium.

His selections will include the well-known twin tenor solos from Handel's Messiah, "Comfort Ye My People," and "And Every Valley Shall Be Exalted," plus Verdi's "La Donna e Mobile," from the opera, Rigoletto.

Tousley holds a bachelor of music degree from the University of Michigan and a master of education degree from Wayne State University. He is also director of music for Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian.

Orchestral selections include Offenbach's "Orpheus" overture; the Peer Gynt Suite No. 1 by Grieg; an excerpt from "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck and the "Thunder and Lightning Polka" by Strauss.

Felix Resnick will conduct. The 2:30 p.m. program will be repeated at 4 p.m. Tickets are available at the door.

It's a Hard Way to Get Rich

LONDON (AP) — Donald MacMasters, married three times to rich women, was sentenced to 30 months in jail Friday on fraud charges that grew out of his attempt to get part of the fortune of one of them, San Francisco millionaire Dolly Fritz.

"You have gambled high and you have lost," Judge John Leonard said on sentencing the 40-year-old American-born antique dealer. The fraud charges involved $68,734.

This is the story told in court:

After marriages to daughters of wealthy French businessmen, MacMasters met Miss Fritz who was living on a $2.6 million fortune in California. MacMasters was living on welfare.

They married, then divorced three years later. MacMasters tried a series of suits to get a share of Miss Fritz's fortune. When they failed he abducted their two daughters but lost custody in a court battle.

Julie Will Receive Special Spanish Book

BILBAO, Spain (AP) — Julie Nixon, daughter of the U.S. president-elect, will receive a Galician Spanish dictionary from the Galician center of Baracaldo.

The center sent the dictionary today after it heard she wanted to study the second language of northwest Spain. The president-elect's driver and housekeeper are natives of Galicia.

To pay court costs MacMasters obtained a diamond with a check that bounced, and sold it for $31,200.

"My financial position was difficult. I was into the nightmare position of trying to fight someone with $9 million," MacMasters told the court.

City Enrichment Subject of Talk

New York artist Jason Crum will present an illustrated lecture at 8 p.m. Monday in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries on "Enrichment of the Urban Environment."

For some time Crum, together with city planner David Bromberg, has been engaged in a project in New York in which large scale paintings have been done on buildings.

The project has met with such success that the city's Department of Parks has sponsored conducted tours to the area.

Last March Crum and Bromberg were in Detroit surveying the possibility of a similar project here.

While nothing definite has developed, Crum feels there is great potential both for buildings and even for expressway application, all of which he will discuss at Cranbrook.

Galleries members will be admitted free. There is an admission charge for nonmembers.

Contrasts Sweden and America

By JEANNE NELSON

With a trunkful of micro minis and tight sweaters, the beautiful Swede arrived at the Ernest Jones' home in Bloomfield Hills.

Almost at once, the hems came down and the sweaters were replaced with wider versions, but every bit of Ingela Berggren's direct and progressive thinking remained intact.

The 17-year-old student from Linköping, Sweden may not say what you want to hear, but when she speaks, you listen.

The truth is, you're afraid not to. Her candor is compelling all the while her views are a bit of a shock to most Americans over 30.

On marriage she has this to say: "Trial marriages in my country are quite a natural and special handling. Send to thing. How else can a man and Laura Wheeler, The Pontiac woman know each other as they Press, 124 Needlecraft Dept., really are? And without know Box 161, Old Chelsea Station, New York, N.Y. 10011. Print themselves to such a lifetime proposition?"

"Right now, when I go out, I dress my best, careful with makeup and manners so that the boy will be impressed and like me. But this isn't real."

"What is real is hair in curlers at night, comfortable but unattractive clothes sometimes, annoying or bad habits, moodiness and even sickness. These are the real things people who want to marry should know about each other."

Here, as an exchange student in the Youth for Understanding program, Ingela hopes to become a physician in her homeland. Most of her countrywomen continue their careers outside of marriage.

Her own mother is a lawyer and her father, a university professor. Her mother has always worked and Ingela intends to do exactly the same.

She explained that often in her country, several families will enter a communal-type arrangement, whereby one or two of the adult members keep the home and bring up the children while the others earn the living.

"And, she adds, 'there is simply no reason why the man, if he is so fitted for it, cannot assume the role of homemaker while the wife earns the family's keep. This is quite common in my country.'"

TAKE HEED, BOYS

She thinks American boys are more polite than the ones at home, and is surprised they telephone girls so much. "In Sweden," she says, "only those going steady do this."

There is not so much individual dating. A girl or boy goes to one of the local "clubs" where they meet and dance. Boys just don't call for dates at home.

All the schools are coeducational over there but she says she's enjoying attending Bloomfield Country Day which is a girls' school, for a change.

"No worries about makeup and hair and everyone wears the same thing so it has been a change of pace," she said.

Her social life hasn't suffered through all this, since the Jones' have entertained for her often and are planning a Christmas vacation trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Another trip to New York City is on tap for spring vacation before she returns to her own home.

Does she like America? "Yes, it's really great," she replied.

FASHION SHOW

Another first for this Swedish miss will be modeling in a fashion show next week. The blue-eyed blond will be showing junior styles Wednesday in Oakland Hills Country Club for the school's fashion show luncheon.

Mrs. Jacques Rousseau, fashion coordinator and commentator for Walton-Pierce whose clothes will be modeled, says the show will be "exciting, to match the season."

In addition to professional models, nine of Ingela's schoolmates will join her on the runway. Proceeds from the affair, open to the public, will be used for school expansion.

Boutique items, hand fashioned by members of the mothers club, will be sold. Mrs. William Scripps is general chairman.

Nurse Doubles as Taxidermist

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — Mrs. Maude Pleasant's profession as a nurse comes in handy when she pursues her hobby of taxidermy, since scalpels, blades and bone clips are among utensils needed for skinning and preparing an animal.

Mrs. Pleasant took a six-months mail order course five years ago to learn the work. "I most enjoy cleaning and mounting fish," she says. "They are the simplest, the neatest and the cleanest." She works in an old wooden house beside her trailer home.

Retired Couple Finds Delight in Their Music

Those happy sounds you hear gardening, another favorite coming from the Walter Draper pastime. The rose garden in home on Sodon Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, reflect an attitude many other retired couples could adopt.

For the past five years, both Mr. and Mrs. Draper have been refused to sit back and let a boredom set in. Instead, they began taking organ lessons together and now have the time of their lives playing for their own enjoyment and that of others.

In addition to the organ, Mr. Draper also plays the violin (his first love) and harmonica. Mrs. Draper had never played a note before her organ lessons began.

Hearing the results now, it's hard to believe the two have only learned to master this instrument in a few years.

Keeping busy has always been their way of life and it doesn't look as if that's about to change. They're both active in several organ groups, including the Pontiac Hammond Organ Society.

Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m., they of Birmingham Junior Woman's will be featured in an "Old Club. The 8 p.m. affair will be Timers Nite, sponsored by held at Smiley Bros. Music the Pontiac group in Grinnell's Company in Birmingham.

Christmas choral music will be furnished by the member performance, the program will also feature a nine-year-old blind youngster, several musicians of the silent movie era and others involved with musical careers today. The public may attend free of charge.

The fine art of needlepoint is one of Mrs. Draper's favorite pastimes. Proof of her artistry can be seen in an exquisite chair she has covered, along with several handbags, which she claims, "never wear out."

Travel means a great deal to both Drapers and they have just about covered the entire United States. They also love to play bridge and entertain at home. The grounds surrounding the home are a testimonial to many hours the two have spent Keeping house and raising a son and daughter never kept Mrs. Draper from her outside work and interests and she attributes this kind of attitude to their successful retirement today.

Keep Romance Alive

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-521: Roland P., aged 38, is depressed.

"Dr. Crane," he groaned, "just look at me!"

"I weigh 214, yet am only 5'8" tall. And my physician says I'm going to have a stroke if I don't lop off this blubber."

"For my blood pressure is now 206/95, and I am so tired that I just sit around."

"My wife calls me Roly-Poly and treats me like a child for I have lost all my erotic verve."

"Would your dehydration diet do the trick for me?"

Excess weight not only zooms your blood pressure dangerously, but it predisposes to diabetes, cancer and a platonic marriage!

So when you slenderize, you can add years to your life span and also keep romance alive.

In recent months, you have read some caustic comments about the attempt to lop off blubber via dangerous drugs.

Actually, drugs are often very helpful, if prescribed by your physician, who carefully checks you periodically.

But drugs usually penalize your faithful heart, which is merely an innocent bystander.

You should focus on your stomach and your brain, if you wish to lose weight sensibly.

In cool weather, therefore, try my famous dehydration diet on which you lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, even though part of this is water loss.

But that's the "gimmick" that makes this dieting plan so successful, for dieters need to work on their "brain" as well as their "stomach."

And a quick initial weight loss is a tonic to the brain!

Women must restrict their intake to 800 calories per day, while men can have 1,200.

But you can kill much of your hunger cramps by limiting your fluid intake to one glass (8 ounces) the first day; two glasses the second; and three glasses the 3rd through the 10th.

Remember, those glasses include ALL fluids, whether coffee, soup, milk, liquor, etc.

Among your food intake, be sure to include about half in high protein foods, like lean meat, cottage cheese, beans, etc.

For your muscles require fresh protein EVERY DAY, to replenish the worn out muscle cells.

Your body has plenty of fat and sugar stored away, but it does not store protein!

Cage Future Looks Bright for Central

Underclassmen Pace Easy Win Over BH Lahser

By DON VOGEL
The basketball future looks bright for Pontiac Central, but it may take a season before the Chiefs become championship contenders.

"We'll be happy to break even this season," said PCH coach Ralph Grubb who picked up his first victory as a varsity coach last night when the Chiefs defeated with a 75-41 home floor decision over Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

It was a game where the Chiefs had the upper hand in all departments. They were quicker, shot better, were superior on defense and controlled the backboards. Lahser was expected to be outclassed and that's what happened.

But Grubb knows the road will get much rougher. He went to Muskegon today to look at PCH's next opponent, Flint Central, preseason favorite to take the Saginaw Valley Conference championship, opens against the Big Red.

Flint Central invades the PCH gym next Friday.

SCORING LEADER

The coach was satisfied with the play of the PCH underclassmen. Junior Monte Herring led the scoring with 18 points and teamed with sophomore Campy Russell to control the boards against Lahser. The 6-5 Russell also tossed in 11 points.

Jerry Ratliff, a 6-2 junior forward, worked well under the boards and scored 12 markers. Senior guards Clayton Burch and John Jefferson gave the Knights trouble on defense and led a full-court press that broke the contest open midway in the first quarter.

They are backed by sophomore Anthony Styles who scored 12 points and displayed some exceptional moves. However, he must polish his defensive play and eliminate floor mistakes. This will come with added game experience.

"Myron Brock, our other sophomore guard, is just about on a par with Styles, but he was pressing too much," said Grubb. The 11 varsity players saw considerable action as Grubb began using different combinations in the second quarter.

"We are a young team," said the coach, "and we will make mistakes that will hurt us. But, I feel that we will improve and should be much stronger by next season."

SLOW START

For the first three and a half minutes against Lahser it looked as if the Chiefs would be anything but winners. The Knights had several good opportunities, but couldn't connect. Russell finally converted a rebound to put PCH ahead 2-1.

The Chiefs went into a pressing defense and quickly pulled away as the Knights repeatedly lost the ball. Lahser's first basket of the game came in the final minute of the first quarter. It was a layup by Tim Graham.

Bill West, who is expected to carry Lahser's scoring load, obviously had an off night. He sat out most of the first half and finished with six points.

But there were a couple of bright spots for Coach Bill Ullenbruch. Guard Ken Rump became steadier as the game progressed and Craig Brown left the bench to score 12 points.

The Knights will get another shot at Central later in the season, this time in the Lahser gym.

Wolverine Six Falls to Wisconsin, 5-4

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Wisconsin's hockey team, trailing 4-0 with 15½ minutes to play, struck back Friday night to whip Michigan 5-4.

Doug Galbreath's two goals had paced the Wolverines to their lead, but Jim Boyd ignited the Badgers with two in the third period. Dave Smith's goal tied the game and Dick Kilpis slammed home what proved to be the winning goal 12 seconds later.

The teams meet again tonight.

Jolly Green Giants of Orion Triumph

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Those Jolly Green Giant Dragons of Lake Orion won't have to wait too long to find out if they are as good as the 77-29 thrashing they handed neighboring Oxford last night before a jammed crowd in Oxford.

The Dragons will host Rochester in what many expect will be an early showdown game of the Oakland-A conference next Friday and coach George Elias feels, "the boys were a little ragged and will have to polish things up if we expect to beat Rochester."

Oxford offered Lake Orion little competition in shooting or rebounding and very little in floor play as the Wildcats committed 38 turnovers.

SETTLE DOWN

The Dragons settled down somewhat after the first period in which they gave the ball away seven times. However with their superior height, they had little trouble getting two and three shots off the board.

Big Gary Mize, 6-8, pumped through 32 points on 12 field goals and eight free throws. He took 22 shots and had 12 rebounds, a department in which he will receive a major test next week.

Paul Bailey with some deadly corner shooting helped with 19 points and coach Elias cleaned the bench with 12 players getting into the game.

The smaller Wildcats had five shots blocked by Mize in the first half and as they stayed outside trying to shoot over the tall Dragons they hit only 12 of 60 attempts for a poor 20 per cent.

Orion finished with 28 of 66 for 41 per cent and outrebounded Oxford 42 to 26.

FIRST HALF

In the first half, Oxford made only four of 27 attempts while the Dragons shot close to 50 per cent with 14 of 29.

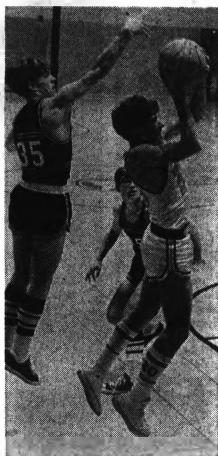

In the first period, Lake Orion led 21-4 and for one stretch in the first half, when Oxford failed to get a field goal for 5½ minutes, the margin was pushed to 37-11 before the intermission score of 39-13.

One definite factor the Dragons will have to improve upon when they get into their league play as top contenders for the title, is better scoring balance.

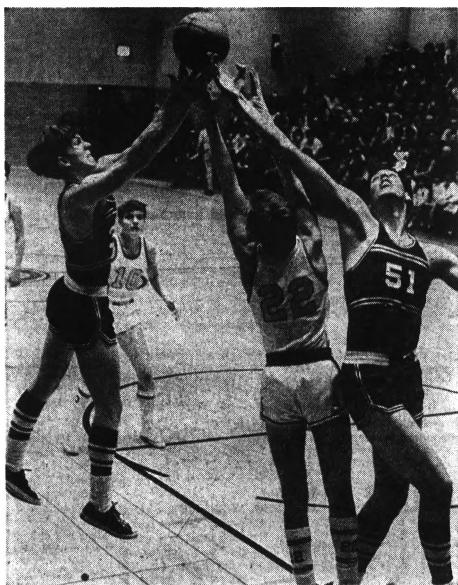

Except for Mize and Bailey, the other three starters, Darryl Roberts, Mike Baker and Joe Kopacek had only five points among them.

UP, UP AND AWAY — Oxford's Dennis Wait gets off a jump shot before Joe Kopacek of Lake Orion can stop the shot in their game last night. The much taller Orion Dragons whipped their neighboring rivals 77-29 in the season openers for both teams.

RING AROUND THE CAGE — All arms make a grab for a loose rebound in the game between Lake Orion and Oxford last night. Orion's Joe Kopacek finally got control of the loose ball which is tipped by Oxford's Dan Valentine (22) and Gary Mize (51) of Orion. Mize who is 6-8 led the Dragons to a 77-29 victory as prep basketball took over the sports scene last night.

DRIVING IN — John Bratton (51) of Birmingham Seaholm moves in for a shot from close range in the first half against city rival Groves last night. Trying to stop the shot are Jim Cameron (42) and Scott Love (54). At right is Dan Sovran (31). Seaholm won, 58-53.

Seaholm 5 Wins by Strong Finish

By FLETCHER SPEARS

A warm start and a torrid finish enabled Birmingham Seaholm 1-0 overcome a sag in the middle and the net result was a successful debut for the Maples in the 1968-69 basketball campaign.

"I'm just happy to win," said Seaholm coach Low Parry, drained of emotion by the tense 58-53 victory over city rival Groves on the losers' court last night.

It wasn't a well-played game. These openers seldom are, but there was an enthusiastic crowd on hand and no one was bored.

TURN SOUR

After breaking away to a 13-9 lead after one quarter, the Maples turned sour in the middle stanzas and headed into the final eight minutes of play on the short end of 41-36 score.

And Groves managed to keep the margin at 3-4½ points until the 1:56 mark. Leading 50-48, the Falcons upset to 53-48 on a layup and a free throw by Jim Cameron and all looked well for the Birds.

SEAHOLM SURGES

But then Seaholm took charge. In the next 1:20, the Maples ran in 10 points in a row to pull it out.

There were a few reasons for the surge. Seaholm applied a press. Groves became a bit jittery. And Seaholm captain Jim Hagen made the shots when they were needed.

The Maples started whittling away at the 53-48 deficit on baskets by Hagen and Merritt Ransdell that made it 53-52 with 45 seconds left.

Groves then had a golden opportunity as forward Bob Heuer, who scored 12 points, stepped to the free throw line on a 1-1 situation at the 45 second mark. He missed, the Maples controlled the rebound and Hagen rammed home a short jumper for a 54-53 Seaholm lead.

Seconds later, Seaholm's press forced a Groves miscue and Hagen again turned it into two points and a 56-53 lead.

And with just seven seconds left, Hagen, who led all scorers with 26 points, made a couple of free throws to ice the contest.

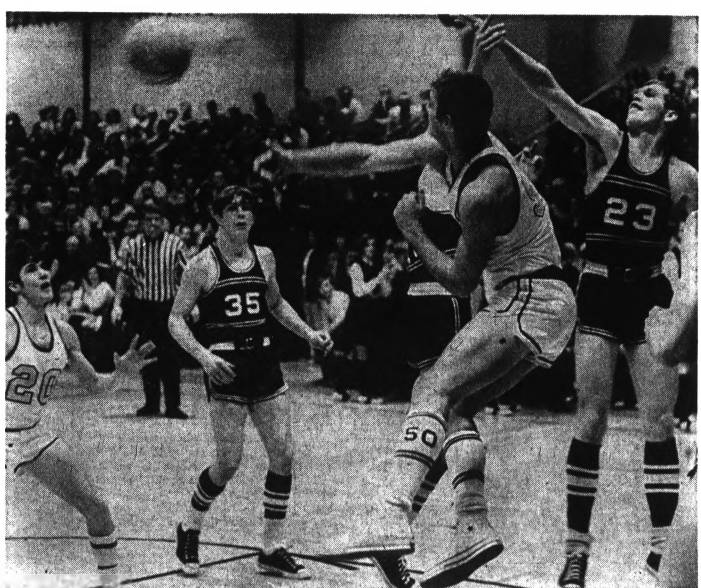

Ken Bratton tossed in 12 points and Earl Charles added 11 to assist Hagen with the scoring, while Jim Cameron led the Groves attack with 19 markers.

For the evening, Groves hit on 23 of 65 shots (35 per cent) while Seaholm fired away at a 43 per cent pace — 25 of 58. The Maples held a 54-45 edge in rebounding.

U. of D.'s Titans Eying Role as Cage Power

LINE DRIVE — Clarence Millen of Oxford (50) bats the ball away from Lake Orion's Mike Baker (23) with Dennis Walt (20) waiting to make the catch. Joe Kopacek (35) of Orion matches the play. The smaller Oxford quintet was not a match for the Dragons who are figured to be strong contenders for the Oakland-A title this year.

Detroit at Home for Debut Tonight

DETROIT (UPI) — Tonight could mark the return of the University of Detroit into the ranks of major college basketball powers.

Behind the status of Olympic superstar Spencer Haywood, the Titans will be trying to capture some of the glory that usually surrounds Michigan's Big Ten teams — the Spartans and Wolverines.

ALL STARTER

A star before he ever got on a college basketball court, the former All-State forward will lead the starting five against Aquinas, a small school that most likely never thought of a player like Haywood when it made up its 1968-69 schedule.

A big crowd is expected tonight at the University of Detroit Memorial Building for the opener. Game time is 8 p.m.

But, the Titan squad is untested and coach Bob Calhoun is hedging until he sees the team in action.

"We need to play to see how good our players are in competition," said Calhoun as he put the finishing touches on the training.

If Aquinas doesn't prove much of a challenge to the Titans, they can look forward to Western Michigan next Wednesday, with games scheduled with Notre Dame, St. Bonaventure, Minnesota, Dayton, Duquesne, Villanova, Marquette and Boston College in the path to the postseason tournament circles.

Open Qualifiers Get Late Times

Second qualifying round of the Pontiac Open Bowling Championship will continue as late as 10:00 p.m. Sunday.

Late squads are scheduled at Airway Lanes and North Hill Lanes.

The eight other establishments taking part in the tournament will have squads going most of the day Sunday.

Huron Bowl, 300 Bowl, Airway and Sylvan Lanes all plan 10:00 a.m. starting, while Cooley, Howe's, Lakewood, North Hill, Savoy and West Side expect to have qualifying squads start around noon.

Ninety bowlers made the semifinals last weekend and another 100 or more should hit the target score of "600" or better tomorrow.

American Golf Classic Signs With New Group

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The president of the American Golf Classic said Friday that the 1969 tournament will be played under the sponsorship of the new American Professional Golfers Inc. Instead of the Professional Golfers Association "to assure another outstanding field of players in next year's event."

Thomas LaRose said he expected "well over 175 outstanding pros" to participate in the tournament.

State Schools Share 'Wealth'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Oakland County football and basketball stars of the past two years are expected to be big factors in these sports at Michigan and Michigan State this year and next.

The two Big 10 schools in the state have made a big haul from the All-Oakland County teams and are ready to reap the rewards.

One of the most prolific basketball players ever to come out of the county, Dan Fife of Clarkston will be one of only a half dozen sophomores in the Big Ten to start starting roles this season in basketball.

Fife is expected to start at guard for U. of M. Monday night in the home basketball opener against Northern Illinois.

Picked the "Outstanding Basketball Player" in Oakland County in 1967, Fife led all scorers with more than 30 points average per game.

With him at Michigan are two other All-County stars: Rick Bloodworth of Ferndale and Mike Rafferty of Groves.

BIG SHARE

Football took a big share of All Oakland County stars to Michigan and Michigan State.

The Outstanding Player Awards of the 1967 season went to twins Doug and Gary Halliday of Royal Oak, and they along with ex-All County stars Gene Pankner of Kettering and Dave Beverlin of Hazel Park were key figures on the Spartan freshman football team this season.

At Michigan, another Seymour, Paul, who is the brother of Notre Dame's Jim Seymour, is a 6-5 end candidate from Shrine.

Pontiac Northern's Dana Coin, listed as a 205 pound fullback, and Leon Hart Jr., a 6-4 and 270 pound tackle from Brother Rice are strong freshman team candidates.

TWIN GRIDDBERS

The Halliday brothers, both standing 6-2 and hitting 210 and 205 pounds, were playing guard and defensive end for the MSU frosh which lost and tied Notre Dame freshmen in their two games.

"I guess we would both like to play defensive end," said Doug.

Doug is going into mechanical engineering and Gary is aiming at a degree in civil engineering.

Pankner, whose face was puffed up from the bruise he sustained in the Notre Dame frosh game, has been used as a blocking back at MSU.

The 6-3 ex-Kettering griddier was playing at 205 pounds, down from the 220 he carried when he entered MSU.

A student in education, Pankner said, "I'm confident I can make a strong bid for the tailback job, but the competition will be tough with all the sophomores and juniors coming back."

"I'd like to go back up to 220 and throw the shot in track next spring," he added.

Beverlin has had his physical troubles. After an accident trying to push open a jammed glass door, he severely cut the tendons in the instep of his foot and then suffered an ankle injury during practice.

At 6-1 and 200 pounds Beverlin has been used on the special kickoff teams.

"I'm going to take part in the winter program here on weights hoping to strengthen my legs and help my size," said the former Hazel Park griddier.

WIN TWO GAMES

Michigan's frosh defeated Bowling Green and Toledo freshmen in their lone two games, and Seymour played both split end on offense and at defensive end.

"He has excellent speed and hands," said Michigan frosh coach Bill Dodd, "and he is fast enough on the long passes to be a great receiver."

Should he end up as a defensive end, Seymour could be playing opposite his cousin Phil Seymour, this year a junior defensive end with the Wolverines.

Hart, the son of all-time Notre Dame great and ex-Lion, Leon Sr., suffered a leg injury and did not play in the two frosh games.

"He certainly has the size and ability to expect good things from him," said Dodd.

HAVE HIGH HOPES

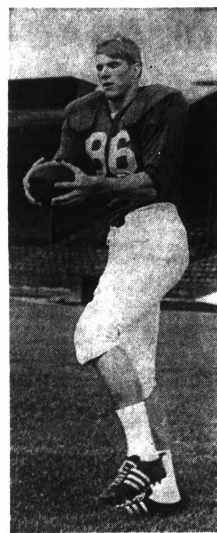

Both the Wolverines, who lost the Big 10 football title in the finale at Columbus, and the Spartans who finished 5-5 for the season with 25 sophomores and 17 juniors on the squad, are very high on their freshmen squads and the exceptional talent which has come from the Oakland County hot bed.

Coin, a fullback by trade, will probably end up as a linebacker and a place-kicker. He made five of seven extra points as a freshman and narrowly missed a 49 yard field goal try.

He started both games on defense and frosh coach Dodd commented, "He is a hard hitter and loves contact."

HAVE HIGH HOPES

Both the Wolverines, who lost the Big 10 football title in the finale at Columbus, and the Spartans who finished 5-5 for the season with 25 sophomores and 17 juniors on the squad, are very high on their freshmen squads and the exceptional talent which has come from the Oakland County hot bed.

Robertson Provides Spark as Royals Whip Pistons

By The Detroit Press International
The Detroit Pistons ought to be back in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

If they were, even Friday night's 122-112 loss to Cincinnati would have left the Pistons in a virtual third-place tie in the west, rather than way down in fifth place in the Eastern Division, a good six games behind front-running Baltimore.

Detroit's 10-11 record leaves the team 2½ games behind the fourth-place Royals, who used a 40-point effort by Oscar Robertson to snap a two-game losing streak.

Robertson connected on a three-point play with 6:21 left in the game at Cincinnati to give the Royals a 98-91 lead.

TRADED PUNCHES

The Pistons rallied and cut the margin to five points, but Robertson followed with another three-point play to boost Cincinnati's lead to eight points, 105-97, with 4:51 remaining.

The Pistons fell further behind in the closing minutes while Robertson ran up a fourth-quarter total of 13 points to lead both clubs in scoring with 40.

Detroit's Happy Hairston and former Piston Tom Van Arsdale of the Royals traded punches after a scramble under the Cincinnati basket, with 1:17 left in the game and were ejected for fighting. Jimmy Walker led Detroit with 29 points, Dave Bing had 22 and Dave DeBusschere added 21.

The Pistons end their two-game week-end trip tonight when they challenge the Knicks in New York.

OTHER GAMES

In other NBA games Friday night, Baltimore regained the lead in the East by defeating Phoenix 124-106 while Los Angeles dumped Boston 93-82; San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 140-119 and Chicago beat San Diego 110-89.

Los Angeles went ahead of Boston 91-90 with 1:21 left on Mel Counts' jump shot and extended the lead to 93-90 seconds later on a fast-break layup by Elgin Baylor. The Celtics closed the gap to 93-92 on Bailey Howell's two free throws then got the ball again with nine seconds left, but lost it on a traveling violation.

Baltimore had three men hitting at a fast clip. Kevin Loughery finished with 23, Jack Marin 21 and Earl Monroe 20. Gail Goodrich and Dick Van Arsdale each had 24 for Phoenix.

Bob Boozer's 27 points led the Chicago Bulls' winning effort. Elvin Hayes scored 28 for San Diego, but was held to four points in the second half.

Clyde Lee scored a career high of 35 points to lead San Francisco to its lopsided verdict over Milwaukee. Nate Thurmond contributed 27 points and Jeff Mullins 26 to the San Francisco attack. Fred Hetzel led Milwaukee with 29.

Ex-Michigan Kicker Dies

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — James F. Brieske, who set three University of Michigan placekicking records in a career that spanned World War II, died Friday at University Hospital. He was 45.

Brieske, known as "Automatic Jim" in his playing days, was student activities director at Stevenson High School in the Detroit suburb of Livonia.

He began boosting his way into the U-M record books in 1942, then interrupted his college career for a stint in the U.S. Navy before starting on the 1946 Wolverine team and on the unbeaten 1947 squad that won the national championship.

Brieske climaxed his career by kicking seven out of seven extra points in the 1948 Rose Bowl game when the Wolverines licked Southern California 49-0.

Still untouched are the game, season, and career records set by Brieske in his three seasons as the U-M placekicker. He made 9 out of 10 attempts against Pittsburgh in 1947, scored 52 out of 57 in the 1947 season, and ran up a total of 107 points scored in 120 attempts during his three seasons.

Funeral services have been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Aidan's Roman Catholic Church in Livonia, with burial to be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield.

Graham Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Friday he is considering disciplinary action against Otto Graham because the Washington coach criticized officiating during the Redskins' game with the Dallas Cowboys Thursday.

The Washington Post quoted Rozelle as saying his office is obtaining "reports from the game officials by telephone" instead of waiting for usual written reports of such incidents.

Trotting Honors to Nevele Pride

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nationwide balloting by the U.S. Trotting Association has proclaimed Nevele Pride as the harness Horse of the Year — a repeat performance.

The balloting was conducted by the trotting ruling body in cooperation with the U.S. Harness Writers Association. The three-year-old trotting colt received 171½ of the 202 ballots cast. Hum Customer, three-year-old pacing stand-out, was a distant second with support from eight voters. Laverne Hanover was third with 7½ votes as one writer split his choice between that two-year-old pacing star and Nevele Pride.

Cardigan Bay, aged pacing star, was fourth with seven votes, while Best of All was fifth with five votes. Carlisle, Romulus Hanover and Nevele Major drew one vote each.

Pitcher McLain in Ford Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — Organist Denny McLain will miss a few musical appearances because of an enforced vacation following an appendectomy Friday at Detroit's Ford Hospital.

McLain was discussing another facet of his life Friday afternoon when he complained of stomach pains. He was talking with Jim Campbell, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, who recently signed McLain for a reported $85,000.

Campbell called the team physician to his offices in Tiger Stadium and Dr. Clarence Livingston immediately sent McLain to the hospital where tests indicated surgery was required.

Last season the right-handed pitcher won 31 games for the World Champion Tigers. In the off season he plays the organ in night spots and is currently under contract with the Detroit Auto Show.

Soccer Survivors in Quarter-Finals

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The quarter-final round of the 1968 NCAA soccer tournament will be held at four sites today and Michigan State, the defending champion, will play host to West Chester State.

The other quarter finalists, survivors of the original field of 21 teams, are paired as follows: Brown at Army, Hartwick at Maryland and Air Force at San Jose State.

The quarter finals will determine the four teams to come to Atlanta for the championship games Dec. 5 and Dec. 7. MSU's Spartans were granted a share of the 1967 crown with St. Louis University when bad weather forced a halt to last year's championship match with the score tied at 0-0.

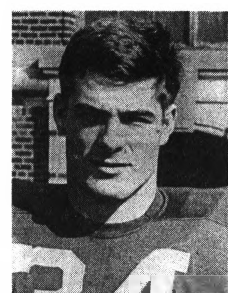

Maryland eliminated St. Louis 3-1 in a second-round clash last weekend.

"If it is appropriate, and apparently it is, disciplinary action will be taken," the commissioner said.

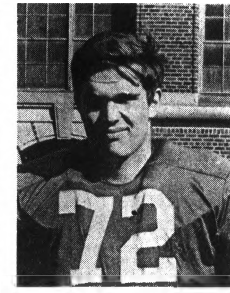

Graham, after his Redskins lost to the Cowboys 29-20, angrily denounced the officiating and said Washington was robbed by calls during the contest.

Rozelle said the fine, which could be levied against Graham for public criticism of officials, has no fixed limits.

"I can vary, according to the extent of the case," he said. "I can fine as high as $5,000 at my own discretion. I could recommend a higher fine to the executive committee, which comprises an owner or an official of each club in the league."

Former Clarkston Cage Standout Takes Big Step

By FLETCHER SPEARS

College is a big step, even for a heralded athlete like, say, Dan Fife of Clarkston.

At Clarkston, Fife left a trail of athletic accomplishments that'll be difficult for anyone to follow. He was the football quarterback, the top scorer on the basketball team and the squad's No. 1 pitcher. In basketball, he was twice an All-Stater.

BIDDING STARTS

Throughout his senior year at Clarkston, there was a steady stream of talent hunters stalking this good-looking youngster, eager to get him to perform for whoever it happened to be was paying their travel expenses.

Dan chose University of Michigan. That was a big step in itself. Along with keeping abreast of his studies in that first year, Dan was a victim of homesickness and he had a bad case of self-doubt. After the big buildup in his hometown and around the state, could he make it at Michigan?

LANDS STARTING JOB

He did and basketball fans will get an opportunity to watch the 6-2 sophomore when he takes the floor as a member of the starting five at U. of M. against visiting Northern Illinois University Monday at 8 p.m.

There's still some of that self-doubt and he still misses home, but he's made the switch. Dan has an infectious grin and the warm smile creased his face almost constantly as he talked of those early troubles.

DAN FIFE
Earns Starting Berth for 'M'

How's he like Michigan? "I'm real happy," says Dan, who is also a pitcher on the 'M' baseball squad.

'JUST GREAT'

"Just being here is great," continued Fife. "When I came here I figured it was the best and I wanted to be with the best."

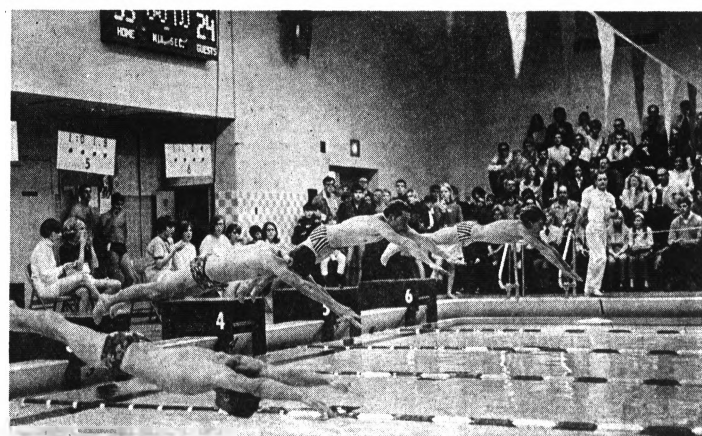

About the self-doubts. "I was never sure I'd make it. Dad (Duayne Fife, 5553 Dvorak) was confident though. He was always sure I'd make the team. Sometimes I wish I had his confidence."

What was the biggest problem he encountered in the move from home to college?

MISSED MOM

"Missing mom's cooking . . . I guess just being away from home. I'd never been away before and I missed mom's cooking. I'm more adapted now. And mom and dad are coming up a lot. Dad likes to come and watch the practice."

Dan and the Wolverines are joining under a new coach this year — Johnny Orr — who fills the spot vacated by Dave Strack, and the new mentor has the squad on a fast-break offense and a pressing defense.

Political 'Devil' Raises Cain in Sierra Leone

KENEMA, Sierra Leone (AP)—When the Poro Devil moans in the forests of Sierra Leone, the men take to the bush or shutter their houses.

Even American Peace Corps volunteers douse their lights and hide, like everyone else in the troubled Mende land of Sierra Leone.

Only members of the secret Poro Society, all men, are safe. Scores of running men, painting and shrieking in the darkness, herald the devil's arrival. But no one ever admits seeing it. If they do, women and male nonmembers of the society are marked for death.

The devil is the latest West African wrinkle in the traditional political game of pushing out the opposition.

POLITICAL WRINKLE

The Poro Devils oppose Prime Minister Siaka Stevens, 62, leader of the ruling All People's Congress party, who has been campaigning in Mende territory.

Most Mende tribesmen support the opposition Sierra Leone

Peoples party, which has been steadily growing weaker since Sir Albert Margai of the Peoples party was ousted as prime minister by a military junta earlier this year. He is now living in exile in London.

Stevens declared a state of emergency 10 days ago, and mass arrests have sharply reduced fighting in this country of 2 million persons. Police Chief J. S. Jackson said 310 persons had been arrested in the Kenema area and sources said hundreds had been arrested in other areas.

TRIBAL FIGHTING

But police said tribal fighting was continuing in the south and 20 miles north in Pangama, where he claimed the Mendes are trying to drive northern tribesmen from the diamond fields.

IN RETALIATION

Witnesses said the fighting began weeks ago at the start of Sierra Leone's election campaign when the Congress party imported truckloads of young men, wearing red vests and caps, to campaign for Stevens in Mende territory. The Poro last May from the military junta which ousted Margai, the said Provincial Commissioner

People's party had a parliament ary strength estimated between 21 and 32 seats.

ANYBODY'S GUESS

The eight by-elections gave the Congress party 52 seats and the People's party two, but they resulted in such an outcry that Stevens canceled the election results. What will happen next is anybody's guess.

Officials hope to prevent further bloodshed by keeping in jail indefinitely those arrested.

"Maybe if we keep them in jail long enough they will forget," the said Provincial Commissioner Abayomi Tejan.

Rights Figures Due at VOCAL

Rosa Parks, whose refusal to give up her bus seat launched the boycott that brought Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to prominence, will be a guest speaker at the Monday meeting of Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL).

Mrs. Parks, now a resident of Detroit, was living in Montgomery, Ala., in 1955. On Dec. 5, she refused to give up her seat and was arrested. Because of her arrest, Dr. King led a boycott which resulted in desegregation of the buses and moved him into the national spotlight.

Another speaker at the VOCAL meeting will be Mrs. Louise Pappas, a civil rights worker with the NAACP and Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the organization Dr. King founded.

VOCAL is a county group formed to combat racism. Its meeting, to start at 7:30 at the Hayes Jones Community Center, 235 Wessen, is open to the public.

Car Overtime Follows Pause for Holiday

DETROIT (AP)—Auto manufacturers paused briefly for the Thanksgiving Day holiday and then scheduled considerable overtime for Saturday to keep up with continuing heavy demand for new cars.

Twenty-seven U.S. auto plants were slated for Saturday work, compared with 24 last Saturday. Output for the calendar year passed the 8-million car mark on Tuesday, far ahead of the 6,671,317 built at the same time last year.

The trade publication Automotive News estimated that 180,966 cars would be built this week, compared with 216,185 last week and 197,859 in the corresponding week last year, a week which did not include the holiday.

TRUCK PRODUCTION

Truck production this week was estimated at 35,020, short of last week's 42,739 and the 40,962 built in the comparable week a year ago. The year to date truck output climbed to 1,804,782—a record high for any year as it topped the old mark of 1,782,812 built in all of 1965. At this point a year ago, the truck count was 1,447,447.

In Canada, auto firms built an estimated 24,735 cars this week compared with 25,835 last week and 19,034 in the like week a year ago. The calendar year count climbed to 808,595 compared with 641,865 at this point a year ago.

Canadian truck makers built 6,946 vehicles this week, up from last week's 6,612 and the year ago figure of 6,243. The calendar year to date total rose to 254,887, well ahead of the 202,617 mark posted at the comparable time in 1967.

Radio Station Subs for Band

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A local radio station came to the rescue of the Cartersville Jaycees Friday after the organization was unable to arrange for a band for its Junior Miss Pageant parade.

The radio station, WKRW, began playing marching band music as the parade started and the radios of the 30 convertibles in the parade all were turned to the highest possible volume.

It turned out that Santa Claus never arrived. South entered his hand with the queen of hearts and cashed his queen and jack of diamonds. He discarded a spade and the eight of clubs from dummy. Then he ran off the rest of dummy's hearts and discarded the rest of his clubs.

Incidentally, South could have made the hand if he had known where the cards were at trick one. We'll leave you to work the play out.

THE BETTER HALF

This left dummy with the ace-eight of spades and seven of clubs. South held his original three spades and the unfortunate West had the queen of clubs and queen-10 of spades.

South cashed dummy's ace of spades and noted the fall of West's 10. Then he led dummy's last spade, went up with his king, dropped West's queen and made the slam.

Instead of passing, East bids one heart after your partner's double. You had one spade and your partner raises to two spades. What do you do now?

GMC Executives Entertain Pastors

It was in September that Martin J. Caserio, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, Earl A. Maxwell, and J. R. Miller, other GMC executives, invited several local ministers to lunch.

For All Americans Urged to Help Provide Opportunities

Churches can help the United States emerge from the current crisis in its cities by following up their resolutions supporting antipoverty measures with action, the president of the National Council of Churches declared last week.

Calling the urban unrest "a critical point in our nation's history," Dr. Arthur S. Flemming warned church people not to "stand on the side-lines as spectators" but to help provide all Americans with "the maximum possible opportunities for achieving their highest potential."

Dr. Flemming also asked church leaders to suggest additional ways in which the National Council can be mobilized to help local church groups meet and resolve tension in their communities.

Earlier, in testimony before the House Education and Labor Committee, Dr. Flemming called for funding the Office of Economic Opportunity "at no less than $2.1 billion."

"We are confident that the Congress is going to make it possible for the nation to move forward in an undertaking that must succeed if our nation is to demonstrate, by its deeds, its belief in the dignity and worth of every human being," he told the committee.

The administration's request for $2.1 billion for the coming fiscal year, said Dr. Flemming, is essential "to eliminate the paradox of poverty in the midst of plenty in this nation."

Stating that the country needs the leadership of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the NCC president urged its "single-minded purpose" and urged that OEO continue the "process of innovation and experimentation in the war against poverty" which it has initiated.

He highly commended the progress of OEO programs such as Head Start, Neighborhood Youth Corps, Job Corps, Upward Bound, VISTA, Neighborhood Health Centers and other community action agencies.

Archbishop Urges Attention to Young

TURKU, Finland (UPI) — Lutheran Archbishop Martti Simojoki of the Church of Finland has urged Lutherans to "pay attention to the expectations of the young."

Archbishop Simojoki, addressing a church synod, said "young people's points of view may surprise us who are older."

"The young people of today," he said, "do often express their ideas in a new way, different from what we have been used to in the meetings of the Synod, but let none of us doubt their sincerity and honest desire to serve the church, so dear to all of us, and to aim only at its good."

FLYING SCHOOLROOM

A fleet of 94 T-29 "Flying Classrooms" provides flying training. Above is a T-29 C, equipped with the latest navigational aids.

Learning to use the periscopic sextant.

Mather Air Force Base, Calif., is the home of all United States Air Force navigator training, the Air Force's one such navigation school. Here at Mather, Air Training Command's 3535th Navigator Training Wing provides the Air Force with its navigators, navigator-bombardiers and electronic warfare officers.

A formal flying training course in each of these three navigator specialties makes up the "hard core" of the wing's curriculum. Such training is conducted only at Mather AFB—therefore this operation is of unique importance in the structure of the Department of Defense. The school is a keystone in the nation's capability for global military airlift and strategic and tactical air operations.

The wing also provides related, specialized academic courses in a number of weapons delivery systems, and electronic reconnaissance and defense systems. Over the past two years the curriculum has been branching out, with innovations which reflect the increasing complexity of weaponry and the development of special tactics for the operations in Southeast Asia.

Total enrollment in the courses is now more than 1,000. Undergraduate Navigator Training is a 38-week course in the fundamentals of navigation. For graduates there is then the 30-week Electronic Warfare Officer Training course, or the 28-week Navigator-Bombardier Training course, as well as other shorter, specialized courses.

Mather Air Force Base was first opened in 1918 as a training school for World War I pilots; it also functioned as a flying school during World War II. In 1947 a specialized program of navigator training was instituted and has led to Mather's becoming the home of all U.S. training in that field.

International Viet Peace-Keeping Group May Be Nearing End

SAIGON (AP) — The future of the International Commission, already judged a failure in its mission to keep peace, is one of the many uncertainties along the expanded Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Opinion is divided on whether agreement on the Vietnam conflict would mean a new beginning or the end of the road for the ICC, which is made up of Canada, India and Poland.

Western, neutral and Communist.

Created by the 1954 Geneva Conference to prevent renewed war in Vietnam, the three-nation ICC has spent 14 frustrating years watching the war grow larger and more savage all the time.

It has watched, sometimes from the terrace of Saigon's Continental Palace Hotel, some times from a sandbagged bunker, but almost never has it been able successfully to carry out its original mandate.

BUILT-IN WEAKNESSES

The weaknesses were built in at Geneva. In addition, the ICC in recent times has been increasingly burdened by financial problems which have reduced its original 1,000-man complement to about 300.

India has said it is willing to take additional responsibility now if the Paris talks or the Geneva powers give the commission a new mandate. India is chairman of the commission.

Indian Foreign Minister B. H. Bhaghat has said he forces "an expanded function" for the ICC as a result of Paris.

WON'T BE COMMITTED

Informants close to the ICC, including a leading member of the Indian delegation, said they were at loss to explain the Indian foreign minister's meaning. Some say it is too soon to judge whether the ICC will be called on to refurbish its rusty machinery.

Some Western observers say if the ICC is to have a new lease on life, it may have to receive its mandate from yet another in international conference similar to Geneva.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau told his Parliament recently, "If we are requested to participate in any peace-keeping activities in Vietnam, we will have to ascertain in advance what they entail and under what conditions we would operate in such activities." The ICC, formally the International Commission for Supervision and Control in Vietnam, was conceived as a balanced body of members representing three different blocs.

FAILS TO WORK

In practice, say its detractors, the ICC has failed to work at all.

"The three-way division of the ICC is an essentially fair arrangement but it also has been its greatest weakness," said one Western observer.

"In a sense you could say it reflects the state of the world itself, split into two camps with neutrals in the middle, not knowing what they ought to do except remain neutral."

Another view, held by some ICC officials themselves, is that war from happening was if its organization could have findings of cease-fire violations worked if the main parties to had outraged world opinion. The cease-fire it was supposed to enforce—North and South Vietnam—had cooperated.

"It failed," said one official, "because right or wrong, the two parties were not prepared to coexist."

"The only action the ICC has had is persuasion, and the only way it could have stopped the ICC officials themselves, is that war from happening was if its organization could have findings of cease-fire violations worked if the main parties to had outraged world opinion. The cease-fire it was supposed

Junior Editors Quiz on RED CORAL

QUESTION: Why is red coral so valuable?

ANSWER: Phyllis is admiring a beautiful red coral necklace her father gave her for a birthday present. Coral is so hard it looks like stone. Indeed, it is limestone that has been formed by tiny animals called coral polyps.

The polyps look like minute flowers, but the petals are really tentacles surrounding a mouth which is on top of a sack-like body. Needing protection and support, the polyps take calcium dissolved in sea water and deposit it around their bodies in the form of hard calcium carbonate.

Most coral animals crowd together, their combined cups forming strange and beautiful shapes. It is the combining of billions of these which have made the famous coral reefs, on the top of which many romantic South Sea islands have arisen.

Coral formations differ in color and texture. Phyllis's necklace is of precious coral, a kind which comes from the Mediterranean Sea and Japan.

This kind of coral has a very fine even grain, allowing it to be highly polished. It is the smooth texture, combined with the beautiful coral colors of red, pink or rose, which gives precious coral its value and its name.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if you question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Home Landscape Comes First in Shelby

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Fifteen years ago Joseph S. Masson bought a lot in Shelby Township and bit by bit began the arduous task of improving it.

"I guess I did things in reverse by landscaping first," he said with a chuckle. "But it was fun. I had a well dug and then began planting the trees and putting the lawn in."

"Once it was finished, I spent every second weekend or so keeping the lawn cut and maintaining the grounds."

"When we dug the foundation," said a representative of builder Charles Bailey of Utica, "the bulldozer operator could hardly bring himself to scoop into the lawn, it was so perfect... like a putting green."

30 YEARS

"The house," said Masson, leading from room to room, "represents 30 years of collecting."

Entering into the spacious family room, one is conscious of the opulence of color, from the rich pattern of the deep-piled Chinese Oriental rug to the clusters of glass grapes dropping from the light fixtures before the fireplace.

The home with its balusters, tilelike floor and interior brick accents a Mediterranean motif while the furnishings happily blend Oriental, European and Early American.

In the family room adjoining the dining area and kitchen, a rare Persian table commands attention under a chandelier of shimmering crystal.

CARVING

Each leg of the teakwood table is carved into an elephant's head with its curled trunk serving as the foot. A hammered brass inlay fits into the round handcarved top.

On either side of the olive green velvet sofa are matching Chinese teakwood tables topped by gold-leaf-over ceramic lamps with gold silk shades.

Paintings by Masson dress the walls including the seascapes over the mantel and the still-life above the Victorian, marble-topped breakfast room.

An Oriental lacquered teakwood china cabinet displays Royal Bavarian and Bohemian china.

FOYER

In the nearby foyer, an electrified antique fixture ringed by candles illuminates a massive gold-leafed mirror. A brick step marks the entrance to the library. Its floor covered by a Chinese oriental, vibrant in shades of green, blue, gold, purple, rose and beige.

Again, Masson follows the eclectic style using a gold French Provincial sofa, Victorian cranberry velvet side chairs and a Far Eastern teakwood desk which exhibits a portion of his ivory and Chinese brass collection.

ROLL-DOWN PANTRY — The Rudy Schulers of Tav-view Drive, Oxford Township, have no problem with canned goods storage. Slanted shelves hold the cans and when one is removed, another automatically rolls into its place. Slanted storage is convenient and can save the homemaker many hours of step stool standing.

Proper Design Saves Labor

Cooperating with the housekeeper to make her work easier is all well and good, but the best time to save her labor is when the house is being planned.

Well-designed interior plans that provide easy, rational traffic patterns will help to keep down clutter and dirt, and make make clean-up easier. Adequate storage space is an absolute necessity, of course, if any headway at all is to be made against clutter.

Logical entrances and exits with a properly situated mud room will reduce tracked-in dirt. Cleaning closets in each area and level of the house will eliminate the necessity of trudging back and forth with cleaning equipment and materials.

The choice of surfacing materials can produce housemaid's delight or dismay. An easy-to-clean surfacing material like ceramic tile will reduce chores anywhere in the house as well as in the bathroom, and over the life of a house be less expensive than other materials whose initial cost is less.

RELATIONSHIP
The relationship of laundry and utility room to the rest of the house should suit the size of the family and the housekeeper's working pattern. Easy accessibility of the kitchen to entertainment areas, both indoors and out, will be a boon as housekeeper.

Even when the planning era of the house has long since passed, simple remodeling frequently produces large dividends in housekeeper-saving.

Carpets Reflect a Home's Location

The traveling ways of Americans mean also that their taste in something like carpeting is breaking across geographical lines, according to Frank Hula, director of products for Evans-Black Carpets.

"Geographical differences in home furnishings are disappearing," he said.

However, the Far West and Southwest, with their stress on outdoor living, show a preference for shag carpets.

In the Northeast, plushes, saxones and twist carpeting are predominant, he said, "reflecting the staid type of indoor living."

Sales Spurt in Mobile Homes

An estimated 13 million peo-home owners will reach nearly 30 million. In fact, one out of the nation's population -- today every four homes built so far in 1968 is a transportable domicile. By 1980, the number of mobile homes will reach 30 million.

Commercial Credit Corp., said one doesn't have to go far to find the basic reasons for this sudden spurt in the popularity of the mobile homes.

He said the shortage of mortgage money, high building costs, and a tight market for houses combine to make very attractive a home that can be purchased for as little as $4,000 and financed like a car. And that's completely furnished and fully equipped with appliances.

LUXURIOUS
Sheehan, whose company is the largest financier of these portable houses, said the modern mobile home offers luxuries that were undreamed of in the old fashioned "trailers."

Living space, for example, can border on the extravagant in units that telescope in transit, and then return to size at destination, he said.

The owner can install year-round air conditioning, automatic dishwashers, garbage disposals. The choice of interior decor runs the gamut from early American and French provincial to Oriental and Mediterranean.

"Parks to accommodate all this growth are springing up all across the country," he said. "There are 22,000 such parks in operation today, and the new ones being built are laid out like suburban divisions with paved streets, sidewalks, and landscaped grounds."

FUN CENTERS

They feature recreational centers or clubhouses, shuffleboard and tennis courts, and swimming pools.

The average rental of $15 a month includes water, sewer facilities, and trash collection. Heat is produced by oil fuel, natural or LP gas, or electricity.

"It all adds up to comfortable convenience living, and a practical solution to today's high cost of housing."

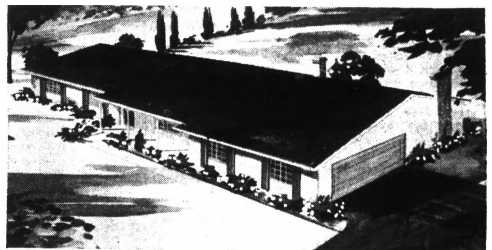

The buyer, Sheehan said, can purchase a mobile home with a downpayment of as little as 20 per cent, and can pay the balance over a 10-year period.

Live-In Staged by Akron Coeds

Home management majors at Akron University have an unusual campus laboratory -- a $40,000 two-story Colonial home donated by the local home this group are springing up all across the country," he said. Coeds (who are also future home buyers) live in the house) for six-week periods, planning budgets, cooking meals, and caring for babies from a nearby orphanage.

RECESSED ATRIUM entranceway and effective blending of brick and vertical siding give this ranch a contemporary appearance not too usual in a small house. Roof lines fit into styling but have added advantage of making the house appear larger than it is.

Unusual Bedroom Plan in Modern Ranch

Answering readers' requests for a small house with "something different" in layout, architect Herman H. York offers one this week.

It not only incorporates several recently adopted home planning ideas, but is styled in a contemporary fashion in keeping with the advanced thinking of the room circulation.

A glance at the floor plan immediately discloses a divergence from custom: the three bedrooms are not grouped together.

Instead, the master or owners' bedroom is completely separated from the two others.

At the left side of the house, with its private bath, it has a connecting terrace shielded from the street with a high brick wall, the latter a handsome addition to the exterior front elevation.

This arrangement is designed to give the husband and wife a room away from the radio or stereo that is invariably blasting away in either or both of the other bedrooms.

A side but important note is that this principal bedroom has four closets totaling 15 linear feet of space.

The indoor-outdoor theme extends beyond the owners' bedroom area.

There is a rear terrace which can be reached through sliding glass doors in the combination living room-dining room and another set of such doors in the kitchen.

The living room portion has a fireplace as its focal point of interest. The two rooms together, completely open to each other, total 28'.

LARGE FOYER

The open feeling is accentuated by a large foyer which commands a full view through the combined rooms to the rear terrace.

Generous counter and wall cabinet space are included in the kitchen layout, with a breakfast area overlooking the rear terrace, a broom closet, a pantry and an adjoining laundry room, mud closet and lavatory.

Also in this section are doors to the outside and the garage, and a stairway to the basement. The two other bedrooms are at this left side of the house, an arrangement that should be equally pleasing to the parents and the children.

Next to the bedrooms are a split bathroom and a linen closet. Completely separating the main bedroom from the others is a wide atrium entranceway as well as a brick wall on the side of the main bedroom.

A contemporary exterior design, with simplicity as its theme, makes for a house with clean detail, using horizontal lines to make a small home appear larger and longer.

Extended ridge beams are not structurally needed but are used to carry out the over-all design associated with contemporary style.

The atrium entry should be generously landscaped with low shrubs, stones and rectangular flagstones in a fashion that will create an impression of space.

For a house with only 1,346 square feet of habitable space, excluding the garage and service area, this ranch has fulfilled the aim of producing a small home that is different.

Trust Local Man to Do Home Repair

In any multi-billion dollar business touching home owners, you'll find some unethical operators.

How can you avoid them when you're buying home maintenance and repair?

Trade with established lumber dealers and craftsmen. That's Rule No. 1. Avoid being sweet-talked into proposals that seem too good to be true. They are.

Home improvement racketeers are most prevalent in the spring and summer.

Most fraudulent home improvement schemes have common characteristics:

"Phony bargains, tricky financing, guarantees not honored, materials misrepresented and performances exaggerated."

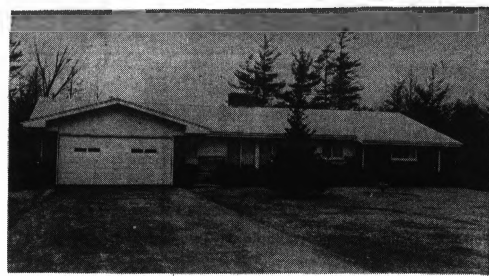

VARIETY

"Itinerant repairmen come in a variety of guises; the gutter, furnace or chimney repairman, the roofing or siding expert, the quick tree surgeon, the bogus termite control expert, home remodeling specialist, driveway blacktoppers and oilers, installers of storm windows and awnings, fire and burglar protection devices, water softeners, central home vacuuming units and intercom systems."

"Why take chances with passing salesmen who are here today (to get your money) and gone tomorrow (taking it with them) and leaving little in return?"

Patronize your local, established tradesmen and building supply yards. They are here today and tomorrow and they'll stand behind their work."

False Economy

Buying a small lavatory for your bathroom because it costs less is false economy. The difference in price between a smaller and larger model is slight, but the one with the roomier bowl is much more convenient for washing, shampooing your hair or doing your hand laundry.

Organize Daily-Weekly Tasks to Reduce Clean-Up Trauma

What every home maker knows and brides soon find out — is that only an organized system of daily and weekly chores will reduce the chaos of seasonal clean-ups.

With household help increasing rapidly, it's the long pull, well done, that really counts. Major seasonal projects such as painting, wall washing, and outdoor and indoor repairs are definitely necessary. But they become feasible only when systematic "preventive" cleaning has been done with the right tools and aids throughout the year," reports Mrs. Mary Gaffney, director of the Hagerly Home Institute, South Bend, Ind.

To "program" a sure-fire work routine, she recommends a written list of daily, weekly, and monthly chores and then a depth investigation of specialized cleaning aids to help get the job done.

"In today's market, there's a myriad of specialists ready to cater to the needs of glass, silver, metal and wood. These are the scientific servants of today and they come with expertise built right in," Mrs. Gaffney said.

HERE'S HOW

Here are the steps she recommends:

• Make a written list of daily, weekly and monthly cleaning tasks to be done within the framework of meals, laundry and daily bed-making.

Daily cleaning tasks, for example, might include sweeping and light mopping of floors and dusting furniture. Weekly jobs cover vacuuming, silver polishing and floor washing.

Monthly projects would include polishing of furniture and metal objects such as copper, brass, and pewter, cleaning of windows and decorative glass and ceramic tiles in bath and kitchen.

• Save time with specialization. If the schedule calls for vacuuming, it's easier to vacuum tools once for vacuuming throughout the house than it is to do a room or two and then switch jobs.

• Keep cleaning tools and aids in a convenient closet and equip the area with inexpensive

Vinyl Siding Shows Gain

Its durability proven in the home, the newest plastic building material on the market today is vinyl siding that is beginning to make inroads in the market dominated by wood and aluminum sidings.

Manufacturers of the new exterior product say it won't dent or chip and it doesn't require painting. That's the same claim which producers of decorative interior laminated plastic surfacing materials have been making about their product for years, too.

Laminated plastic surfacing materials have been accepted by both homeowners and contractors. From the point of view of the builder or remodeling specialist, decorative laminated plastic materials have the same qualities as those claimed by the makers of vinyl siding.

And, the lady of the house finds that plastic covered kitchen countertops, cabinet drawer fronts and wall surfaces are easy to keep clean.

Children's finger prints and food stains wipe off in a jiffy with a swish of a damp cloth or sponge. And, laminated plastic materials resist normal household chemicals and other strong solutions that often mar wood and wood surfaces.

WIDE VARIETY

The designs and patterns offered by makers of decorative plastic laminates cover a wide range of colors, patterns and wood grain finishes.

Careful selection today will save the costly mistakes of tomorrow. It makes good sense to take the time now to make the right color decision when remodeling or buying a new home.

labels on cleaning aids carefully and follow instructions explicitly. The manufacturer always has good reasons for the fine print on a jar, bottle or can.

• There are always new ways being devised to do old jobs better. Dusters, for instance, can be an exasperating daily chore especially during the seasons when windows are kept open," the home care expert said.

• But the problem can easily be solved with new sprays.

SILVER POLISHING

To keep silver shining down to a minimum use a good tarnish-preventing liquid or paste and then make upkeep easy with special silversmiths' gloves that allow you to use both hands to dust and polish. The darker, impregnated sides of the gloves will renew the tarnish barrier and the lighter side gently buffs the silver to a lustrous gleam.

For mirrors, picture glass, windows and crystal chandeliers, use a good aerosol cleaner that eliminates washing, rinsing and drying.

And when it comes to the tough job of cleaning tile and grout in the bathroom, save your strength and use a paste ceramic Tile & Grout cleaner that lifts soap film, and mildew, and brightens yellowed grout without hard rubbing, spilling, or dripping.

"The real key to personal satisfaction in homemaking is a matter of sticking with a good system until it becomes automatic," Mrs. Gaffney said.

"That plus an open mind is all it takes to turn a frustrated housekeeper into a proud and happy professional."

Family Room Needs Storage Facilities

Adequate storage is a "must" in any basement family room. The average family needs space for hobby and game equipment, toys, tools, extra cooking utensils, out-of-season clothes, books records, laundry supplies and miscellaneous items.

The storage facilities should be located adjacent to the related activity area, of course. The workshop, for instance, should have plenty of room for tools and supplies. Try to include a built-in near the hi-fi for the records; another near the desk for books and files.

STORAGE

To take the pressure off bedroom closets, many families are building a large storage unit in a new basement family room for out-of-season clothes. This unit can include a section for furs, another for bedding and a separate compartment for luggage and footwear.

For protection against moths, line this storage unit with aromatic red cedar. Pieces of this tongue-and-groove material can be nailed over any solid backing, or studs. Joints need not occur over studs because the tongue-and-groove design assures a strong "wind" installation. Instructions are included with each package of cedar-lined lining, which is available at local lumber dealers.

What Wall Street Did

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market the past week, apparently little affected by French President Charles de Gaulle's decision not to devalue the franc, was more directly influenced by the record rate of new financing and by the U.S. economy's continuing inflationary growth.

Prices were steady to lower this week, with the Dow Jones industrial average advancing 18.02 points, a new high for the year. The mood in Wall Street was similar to that which prevailed in February, 1966, when the Dow closed at its historic peak of 10,000, and virtually everyone took it as a foregone conclusion that the average would reach 1,000—but it never did.

A gain such as the past week's, of course, put Dow industrials up to and beyond 1,000 mark. Some analysts believe the momentum of the market was such that this week would be the coming week.

Others, recalling past occasions with both the Dow and the European monetary crisis, toward a specific goal, believe that profit taking would take over just before the average actually touched the 1,000 mark. Even these, however, thought that the 1,000 level would be reached in the near future.

The indicator the past week closed at its highest level since Feb. 14, 1966 when it stood at 987.69.

The stock market advanced on every one of the past week's trading days, with the market closed for Thanksgiving.

Factors in the rise included renewed confidence in the market because of its ability to withstand the tremors of the European monetary crisis; a further drop in the rate of inflation; and the uncertainty surrounding the U.S. 300 million, 7 percent investments tied in with European currencies; and the October rise in the consumer price index, which was the biggest in six years.

Florida Power's bonds were a hedge against inflation, priced at $102.45 originally, but in addition, rising auto production and sales together with market to around 100% bid, 101 U.S. Steel's decision to reinstate price boosts for hot-rolled sheet, spurred the important 6.80 percent.

Montana-Dakota's bonds, initially offered at 100.23, declined to around 98.75, asked. Their yield rose to about 7.23 percent from 7.10 percent.

Revenue bonds of toll roads and similar tax-exempt public authorities fell 1/4 or 1/2 point in fairly active trading. Dealers, near nearly all the business was generated by investors who were offering large amounts of new, low coupon revenue bonds as a means of establishing tax losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks the past week advanced 9.0 to a new high for the year of 368.8. It was the largest weekly gain since the week ended Nov. 6 when the average gained 9.8.

Of 1,720 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 1,120 rose and 467 fell, with the year total 383 up and 96 down.

At the close of the week was 61,804.78 shares compared with 61,826.96 the previous week.

Following here the range of Dow-Jones closing averages for the week.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford believes that with good fiscal management, President-elect Richard M. Nixon will be able to let the 10 per cent income surtax expire next June if the Vietnam war continues at its present pace.

The Michigan congressman cautioned that if there is an increased tempo in the war and inflation is not under control,

Congress might have to take a different attitude.

But, he added in an interview, "I will not vote for continuing the surtax just to expand federal spending."

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D. Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, has said he sees little possibility for letting the surtax expire. In his view the only hope for tax relief is to impose stringent economies on government spending.

DIFFERENT OPINION

Ford's view is somewhat at variance with that of Wisconsin's John W. Byrnes, top-Republican on the ways and means committee, who has said that if there is no change in the Vietnam war during the next few months Congress will have to continue the surtax.

At the same time, Byrnes said that if the shooting aspect of the war is pretty well resolved by January or February, it would be possible to eliminate the surtax or to make changes such as reducing it by 5 per cent.

Ford said he is reasonably optimistic about the chances of passage of Nixon's legislative program.

"The Democratic leadership has pledged to cooperate," Ford said. "If they do, the prospects are pretty good."

At the same time, Ford noted that the Democratic edge in the Senate in the new Congress will be 53 to 42 and in the House the Democrats will have a 243 to 192 advantage.

EXPLAINS RESULTS

In discussing the reasons the Republicans did not pick up more House seats, Ford had predicted a net gain of 40 and got five instead, he listed these:

- The bombing pause in Vietnam.
- The division in the Democratic party at the presidential level was not reflected at the congressional level.
- The candidacy of George Wallace, particularly in the South.
- The closeness of the presidential election.

Senate Will Battle Over Medicaid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The medicare program of health care for the poor — its costs soaring — may provide one of the major battles in the next Congress and an early test of Nixon campaign pledges to hold down federal spending.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee which has jurisdiction over medicare, has pledged that "bringing the cost of this fantastic program into bounds" will be one of his major 1969 objectives.

Republican Jacob K. Javits of New York, whose state has the biggest single medicare program, promises a fight to keep present federal aid formulas.

The government's share of the three-year-old program now is estimated for the current fiscal year at $2.6 billion, $1 billion more than forecast a year ago.

CRITICAL NIXON

President-elect Richard M. Nixon, during his campaign, criticized many welfare programs enacted under Democrats. But he's had little to say on medicare itself.

Long revealed what he had in mind in the closing days of the 90th Congress by winning surprise 44-25 Senate approval of a $500 million slash in the federal share of medicare.

Many senators who voted for it said they did so reluctantly but with their eyes open.

The amendment, tacked onto a minor tax bill, eventually was shelved because of what Long called a successful filibuster against it.

Recheck Indicates Fast Time Failed in Nov. 5 Election

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan apparently will stay on standard time next spring when the rest of the nation goes on Daylight Savings Time.

State election officials said yesterday a precinct-by-precinct recheck of 75 per cent of the ballots cast in the Nov. 5 fast time referendum has failed to change the 413-vote defeat of the proposition.

Unofficial returns reported immediately after the election indicated the proposition had passed by some 25,000 votes, but an error was turned up in Jackson County and a revised count showed it failed.

Forces supporting fast time are expected to petition for a recount of the vote after the results are certified.

Any citizen may petition for a recount but must pay $5 for each precinct surveyed. A statewide recount would cost more than $30,000.

Waterford's Junior Miss Will Be Selected Tonight

Waterford Junior Miss contestants are preparing for tonight's final judging at Mason Junior High School, 3835 W. Walton.

The 8 p.m. performance is open to the public. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The seven girls are busy learning a youth fitness routine for the final performance. They also are undergoing individual interviews with the contest judges.

The contestants are judged on poise and appearance, scholastic ability, youth fitness, personal interviews and performing abilities.

The winner receives a chance to compete in the regional Junior Miss Pageant in Redford Township Dec. 15. The runner-up receives a $150 scholarship while the winner receives one for $350.

Fighting on 2 Fronts Yanks Maul Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen mauled a North Vietnamese battalion near the Cambodian border and American infantrymen decimated a strong Vietcong force in the Mekong Delta, the U.S. Command reported today.

Elsewhere 140 captured Vietcong shouting anti-Communist slogans were turned loose on the streets of three South Vietnamese cities in a government effort to win over guerrilla troops and strengthen Saigon's position at the Paris peace talks.

Military spokesmen said U.S. 9th Division infantrymen and helicopter gunships killed 70 guerrillas in the marshlands near Cai Ly early today, 50 miles southwest of Saigon. The infantrymen also captured 20 suspects.

The spokesman said another 78 enemy, part of a North Vietnamese battalion of about 400 men, were killed in fighting near the frontier outpost of Loc Ninh, three miles from Cambodia northeast of Saigon.

BORDER BATTLES

Headquarters said seven Americans were killed and 16 were wounded in the latest of a series of border battles in which the air cavalrymen claim to have killed 525 enemy this week.

A handful of enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported today outside the border area.

U.S. Air Force B52 bombers continued round-the-clock raids along the Cambodian border and on approach routes to Saigon.

Despite a Vietcong announcement of a new offensive to "utterly destroy" U.S. forces in South Vietnam, the Saigon government went through with its plans this morning and released 140 former Vietcong from prisoner of war camps as part of a national reconciliation program.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Newspapers today welcomed the coming Middle East visit of William W. Scranton, a special envoy of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Al Nahar said it hoped that a breakthrough might follow Scranton's trip, saying his visit was a first step. It added that the success of Scranton's six-nation tour hinged on his talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

U.S. and Hanoi Trade Charges

PARIS (AP) — Hanoi and the United States each have a long list of accusations alleging violations of the bombing halt agreement, but there was no sign today they will try to collapse the expanded peace talks.

As it is, the parity expected to start in two weeks will be difficult enough. Hanoi and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front are refusing to recognize the Saigon delegation, and South Vietnam says it will talk only to Hanoi.

A Hanoi spokesman yesterday made the most serious bombing accusation yet by the North Vietnamese.

He said U.S. planes hit North Vietnamese territory three straight days, the latest attack coming Nov. 27.

ALLEGATION DETAILED

Three U.S. F4 jets bombed five villages more than 40 miles north of the 17th parallel dividing the two Vietnams, he claimed, adding that they were not involved in any pilot rescue or defense.

The United States claims President Johnson's Oct. 31 directive to stop the "bombardment and all other acts involving the use of force" on North Vietnamese territory did not rule out continuing reconnaissance flights.

Washington says continuing U.S. surveillance of enemy territory is necessary and defense of the reconnaissance craft is justified, including bombing if necessary to help a helicopter rescue a downed pilot.

North Vietnam claims its gunners have shot down at least eight U.S. planes since Nov. 1.

TERROR RAIDS

Radio Hanoi also broadcast an official Foreign Ministry statement today, claiming U.S. Marines conducted "terror raids" in the southern half of the demilitarized zone "to massacre the civilian population."

Mine Is Sealed; All Hope Gone for Trapped 78

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Officials of the Consolidation Coal Co. said the hazardous job of sealing No. 9 mine, where 78 men have been trapped for more than a week, was completed early today.

There were no incidents but the company warned of a danger of still more explosions, which have rocked the sprawling mine periodically.

The completion of sealing of the mine, owned by Consolidation subsidiary Mountaineer Coal Co., came after Consolidation President John Corcoran announced the decision last night.

The Mod's Run shaft in the mine had been filled earlier with crushed limestone. The Aika's portal and Mahan Run shaft were sealed with massive fabricated steel and concrete caps.

SLOPE IS BOARDED

The main mine entrance, the Llewellyn portal, was filled with crushed limestone and the main slope was boarded with heavy timbers and sealed with plastic.

Company officials appeared cautiously optimistic that the seals would control the fire, which began early Nov. 20 when a thundering explosion roared through No. 9, trapped the 78 men.

Twenty-one other miners escaped the inferno.

"The cumulative evidence shows without question," Corcoran told a news conference last night, "that human life is not possible where the men would be located."

OXYGEN FLOW STOPPED

The sealing process, which began as Corcoran talked to newsmen, covers all of the mine's openings and shuts off air flow. This move extinguishes the fire but also stops oxygen flowing to the men and means sure death if they are still alive.

Before the meeting with newsmen, Corcoran went to the James Park United Methodist Church where relatives of the missing men had gathered.

"It was terribly difficult for them to accept the fact that all hope is gone," he said, "but being the kind of people they are, they have accepted that fact."

One observer at the small, red brick church said, "The minister couldn't finish the prayer because of the crying in the church."

Security Expert Seen as Likely Nixon Adviser

NEW YORK (AP) — Three meetings in five days between President-elect Richard M. Nixon and Henry Kissinger have prompted speculation Kissinger may become Nixon's personal adviser on national security matters.

Kissinger had another meeting yesterday with the president-elect. Ron Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, later described Kissinger as "a man well respected in the field of foreign affairs and national security." Kissinger, 45, is director of Harvard University's defense studies program and head of the Harvard International Seminar.

There has been no word from the Nixon camp so far as to whether the president-elect even plans to have a special assistant for national security affairs—a top post occupied during the past eight years by McGeorge Bundy and Walt W. Rostow.

It is widely believed, however, that the new chief executive will almost have to have a close personal adviser in this area, even if he changes the job's title.

SECURITY EXPERT

Kissinger has a broad range of experience in international relations and is considered a specialist on such subjects as European security.

He was born in Germany and became a naturalized citizen in 1943. He was a consultant to the National Security Council in 1961 and 1962, and has been a consultant to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency since 1961.

Nixon also discussed foreign affairs yesterday with Robert Strauss-Hupe director of the Foreign Policy Research Institute at the University of Pennsylvania, and William Kintner, the institute's associate director.

No Cabinet Post for Romney Yet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney said yesterday he had not yet been offered a cabinet post by President-elect Richard Nixon.

Romney was in Phoenix for a short vacation before attending the Republican Governor's Conference at Palm Springs, Calif., beginning Wednesday.

The governor said the acceptance of a cabinet post, if offered, would depend on the circumstances. He said both Nixon and Vice President-elect Spiro Agnew are expected to attend the governors conference.

The Michigan governor said he planned to introduce the problem of a "lack of state authority to deal with strikes that are bad for the state and local economy." The state does not have the authority to control anything involved with interstate commerce, Romney said.

Seeping Gas Is Called a Man-Made Problem

MARSHALL (AP) — Calhoun County has a gas problem the leading antic can't touch.

The gas is natural but the cause probably is not, according to a University of Michigan geologist.

More than 20 families were forced from their homes Thanksgiving Day after a home in the south-central area of Michigan was blown to bits while the family was visiting in Wisconsin. Authorities theorized the seeping gas had entered the basement of the home where it was ignited by a water heater or furnace.

Dr. J. N. Dorr Jr., chairman of the Michigan department of geology and mineralogy, said yesterday in a telephone interview that it's possible the gas problem in the Marshall area is related to an earthquake which rattled the Midwest Nov. 9. But he said it's much more probable that the active drilling for oil and natural gas in the area is the cause of the present gas seepage which sometimes forces geysers of mud and water into the air.

MAN-MADE PROBLEM

"Although it's certainly a freakish situation, I don't think we can entirely blame nature for this," said Dr. Dorr. "It's likely this phenomenon is a result of man's work in the oil and gas fields in that area."

"The gas, under high pressure, has probably seeped up along the outside of the steel casing of a well until it has found porous layer in the substrate — gravel or sand," he added. "It's possible for gas under such circumstances to travel many miles laterally until it finds the surface."

Dr. Dorr's theory gained support late yesterday as gas began blowing mud and debris into the air around a recently capped oil well near Abion. No injuries were reported in the past few days, but several Thanksgiving dinners were disrupted.

"We had the dinner table completely set up," said Mrs. Bill Clayborn, 24, who lives about 300 yards from the swamp near Marshall where the seepage problem is currently the worst.

TIME TO GO

"When the house two doors away exploded we decided it was time to go," Clayborn, 38, added.

Roy Strait, a gas engineer with the Michigan Public Service Commission, said the families may be allowed to return to their homes today if pressure subsides. All private gas, electricity and telephone service to the evacuated homes was shut off.

New Flu Outbreaks Reported in 5 Areas

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hong Kong flu has flared in Colorado, southern Arizona, North Carolina, Philadelphia, Pa., and Puerto Rico, the National Communicable Disease Center reports.

The center said yesterday that tourists just back from Hawaii, including a group of 155 Shriners, are believed to have imported the germs into North Carolina. Dr. J. N. McCormack, North Carolina's assistant health director, said about 85 of the Shriners who visited Honolulu in October were stricken and blood tests showed they had Hong Kong flu.

The mining town of Bisbee, Ariz., reported an outbreak of the virus, and officials said school absenteeism was running at 60 per cent. However, the center said this outbreak was mild.

Flu has hit the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, sending nearly 2,000 of the 3,400 cadets to the infirmary for treatment. However, less than 1 per cent of the stricken required hospitalization and officials said the outbreak is "definitely on the wane."

An Air Force base in Colorado Springs and Army officials at Ft. Carson, Colo., also reported illnesses from the virus. The number of flu cases at Ft. Carson has dropped, with about 30 of every 1,000 soldiers reported ill now. Earlier, the rate was double that among the post's 12,000 personnel.

Several cases have involved servicemen returning from Asia, but the center said the first reports of Hong Kong flu came from Needles, Calif.

Nine persons died of the flu at Riverview, Philadelphia's home for the needy. But officials said the outbreak is slowing and no deaths have been reported at Riverview since Wednesday. Vaccine for the new strain of flu is becoming available and the center has urged doctors to give priority to vaccinating the elderly and chronically ill.

Two Girls Beaten to Death in N.J.

ROCKAWAY TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Two young girls were found beaten to death today in a wooded area.

Police identified them as Julie Rodriguez, 7, and Darlene Copensky, 6.

Authorities said their skulls were crushed with a rock that was found nearby covered with blood stains. Darlene's uncle, Edward Copensky, discovered the bodies in a gully 150 feet behind the Rodriguez house, police said.

Police said the children lived two doors apart and frequently played in the wooded area behind the Chestnut Terrace residential neighborhood.

About 100 persons searched for the children, police said, after their parents notified authorities that the girls were missing.

Authorities said the girls were found with their clothes on and there was no indication of sexual assault.

Coast Guard Finds 4 Afloat off Florida Keys

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A man, woman and two children kept afloat all night in the Atlantic Ocean by lifejackets after their 65-foot boat sank were rescued today by the Coast Guard.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Miami said the four were found 27 miles off Islamorada in the Florida Keys by the Coast Guard cutter Diligence.

The survivors were identified as James C. Jones, 30, Mrs. Robie Jones, 29, Larry Jones, 14, and Raymond Jones, 11. The Coast Guard said they did not know the boys' relationship to the adults, but all reportedly lived aboard the Macedonian which sank about 5:40 p.m. Friday after sending an S.O.S.

Police Station Fired on After Panther Arrests

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Police say 20 shots were fired from a speeding car at Fifth Precinct police station shortly before midnight Friday, two days after seven Black Panthers were arrested.

Police Chief Stephen T. Nestor said, "I assume it was Black Panthers."

One of the bullets passed through the hat of Sgt. Edward Quirk, who was outside the precinct station. He was unharmed.

The seven members of the Black Panthers, a militant Negro group that has formed in several of the nation's cities, were arrested Wednesday about one mile from the Fifth Precinct headquarters on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Each was held in $10,000 bail.

ONE WOMAN HELD

Six of them were being held in Jersey City police headquarters and the seventh, a woman, had been transferred to a jail in nearby Secaucus.

The station is in a predominantly white neighborhood one block from the edge of a Negro slum.

"We don't think it was anyone from around here," Nestor said. "We don't think anyone who lives around here would do something like this."

NO EXCHANGE

Nestor said police were looking for a 1962, light-colored car. He said the car was headed toward the New Jersey Turnpike after the attack and police were not certain whether it bore New Jersey license plates.

The bullets were fired from an automatic, the chief said. The shots struck the station house, breaking a few windows. Six policemen inside ducked when the shots were fired and did not shoot back, he said.

Nestor said there may have been either two or four men in the car and all were believed to be Negroes.

BIRMINGHAM — Walter J. McCarthy Jr., 1450 Pilgrim, has been appointed assistant manager of engineering for the Detroit Edison Co.

He was also designated to serve as project manager for the boiling water thermal reactor plant that will be constructed on the site of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant.

McCarthy has been an Edison executive since 1963; however, until his recent appointment, all of his Edison affiliation had been spent on leave of absence to Power Reactor Development Co.

A native of New York City, McCarthy earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering at Cornell University in 1949.

REACTORS EXPERT

He has specialized in nuclear reactors and the generation of electric power from nuclear sources.

A Fellow of the American Nuclear Society and a member of the Michigan Chapter, McCarthy has authored numerous papers on fast breeder technology and safety. He was the principal author of the United States on fast breeder safety for the United Nations International Conferences on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy in 1958 and 1964.

BIRMINGHAM — Kenneth L. Conn, 1184 Yorkshire, has been elected vice president in charge of commercial mortgage loans at Bank of the Commonwealth.
