Fifteen of Oakland County's lakes should be refilled to their brims by next summer, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry announced today.

He welcomed yesterday's decision by the County Board of Supervisors to advance $25,000 so that the lake levels can be adequately controlled.

Affected will be several thousand lake-front property owners in Waterford and Independence townships.

At Barry's request, the board of supervisors authorized him to ask the courts to establish proper lake levels and allow the drain commission to maintain them.

The $25,000, plus $5,000 pledged by the Waterford Township Board, is needed to cover court costs and the necessary filing of notices, said Barry.

The ultimate cost of maintaining the water levels then will be determined by subsequent engineering studies, he added.

Barry said that controlling the water levels already has been proven economically feasible by his commission.

He said this can be done by damming peak flows in the Clinton River at two separate locations each spring.

Lakes that would benefit as the result, he said, are Van Norman, Lester, Williams, Maceday, Lotus, Greens, Dollar, Cemetery, Mohawk, Wormer, Schoolhouse, Upper Silver, Silver, Leen and Lake Angeles.

He also assured the board that the cost of maintaining the levels of these lakes will be borne by the benefiting property owners in the form of special assessments.

The dams which Barry proposes the county acquire, maintain and improve in order to rectify the situation all lie within Waterford Township.

They are situated at the former state fish hatchery and near where the Clinton flows under Dixie Highway at the Cascades Motel.

Barry expects the necessary action in Circuit Court will be completed in time for the commission to begin operating the dams next spring.

He said he expects to acquire both dam sites for the nominal fee of $1 each.

Normally the board of supervisors would have required petitions signed by benefiting property owners before authorizing Barry to proceed.

This would have taken an indefinite amount of time because of the great number of land owners in this instance, according to Barry.

He successfully had asked the board to waive the petitions "in the interests of public health and necessity."

Drive Chairman Praises Public for Its Support

Documents Are Filed; Change Requested in Commissioner Election

Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce officials today filed charter amendment petitions containing 11,543 signatures, about 4,000 above their goal.

Some 606 petitions were turned over to City Clerk Olga Berkeley at City Hall at 8:30 a. m. She estimated it would take a week to 10 days to check and verify the signatures.

Approximately 7,400 signatures of registered voters in Pontiac are needed to qualify the petitions. The Jaycees had set 7,500 to 8,000 as their goal.

The petitions request a special election be held on their proposed charter amendment.

Once the clerk certifies the petitions as containing the necessary number of valid signatures, she must automatically set a date for the special election falling 120 to 130 days from the date of filing.

VOTING CHANGE

The proposed amendment would change voting procedures in the April municipal election so that electors would vote for seven city commissioners, one from each district.

Presently, electors only vote for one.

Commissioners would still be nominated by district in the March primary.

"We're a tired but happy crew," said Richard C. Fitzpatrick, Jaycee president, this morning. "This is the biggest Jaycee civic project in our 40-year history."

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the charter amendment committee, said he felt the signatures will be valid.

"We made a spot check as the petitions came in and only had to invalidate about 200 of the first 5,000 signatures," he explained.

PRaises SUPPORT

Schimmel praised support of the general public and such groups as the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club and the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

He estimated that 200 to 300 worked on circulating petitions. Jaycee membership is 90.

Olds Introduces Two New Cars

GM Executive Takes Slop at Ford Motor

DETROIT (AP) — Oldsmobile division of General Motors today introduced two new high-powered cars, the Jetstar 88 and the Jetstar 1 at its national press preview here.

The Jetstar 88 was described as a "lower-priced companion to the Dynamic 88 and Super 88 in Olds' current line," while the Jetstar 1 was listed as "a new sports car in the medium price field."

J. F. Wolfram, vice president of GM and general manager of the Oldsmobile Division, said, "In addition, we are introducing a totally new and somewhat bigger F85. It, too, is powered by Olds' newly developed cast iron Jetfire engine."

Wolfram, in his remarks prepared for delivery to 200 newsmen at a news conference at which the Oldsmobile line was unveiled, took an indirect slap at Ford Motor Co., which has placed great emphasis on its recent success on the race track.

"Oldsmobile has a consistent reputation for performance, not just pepped up races, but sensational performers for everyday owner driving in keeping with driver needs on the greatly improved."

Local Chief of Teamsters Facing Trial

The trial of Pontiac Teamster Local President Leann Harrison on charges of embezzling union funds and falsifying Local 64 financial records opened today.

Federal District Judge Fred Kaess is presiding in Detroit.

Harrison, 44, was indicted last year by a federal grand jury on two counts of embezzling and two counts of falsifying records to cover up the true use of the funds.

He is accused of giving Maurice Croteau, a Pontiac businessman and County Social Welfare Department board member, $500 for political purposes from union funds without authorization of the local's membership.

The money, Croteau indicated during the grand jury hearing, was for advertisement bought by backers of former city Police Chief Herbert Straley. Croteau said he thought the donations had been authorized by the union membership.

Pontiac Press Has Fall Football Facts

Sports fans can settle back and enjoy "Kick Off '63" today and The Press presents its annual preview of the new football season.

Rosters and schedules of all county high school football teams, plus reviews on the top college and professional elevens are included in the special supplement.

Prognosticators are reminded to check page 44 in the section for details on the 1963 Press Football Calendar. Entry deadline is noon Friday Sept. 20.

Avenue Becomes Speedway

By GARY THORNE

Between 5 and 7 p.m. daily, Woodward is a vast traffic jam of household bound motorists.

But once darkness descends, the main artery to Detroit is transformed into an almost endless speedway.

From the outskirts of Pontiac to the fringes of Detroit, through Bloomfield Township, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and half a dozen small communities, U.S. 10 becomes the property of teenagers.

The strip (short for drag strip) offers food, shelter and other things for adults, but for young people it provides "kicks."

Concentrated between 12-Mile Road on the south and Square Lake Road on the north, Woodward is lined with drive-in restaurants, motels, gas stations and numerous other shops and businesses.

The drive-ins and some 17 traffic lights are the major source of entertainment for the hundreds, perhaps thousands, of young people that gather along the highway nightly.

Married Men Off Draft Rolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today ordered a halt to the drafting of married men so long as single men are available to maintain the strength of the armed forces.

Kennedy signed an executive order which provides that married men shall be inducted only after all single men in the 18-25 age group have been drafted.

Military sources said that, for the foreseeable future, enough single men will be available so that there will be no need to draft husbands.

Bar Owner Faces Trial

Pontiac bar owner Clovis Skelton, a member of the city's Civic Improvement Advisory Committee, appeared before Federal District Court Judge Thomas Thornton today on a charge of gambling without a federal tax stamp.

Skelton, 50, of 33 W. Colgate, appeared before Federal District Court Judge Thomas Thornton, who ordered Skelton to stand trial on the charge.

Skelton was released on $1,000 bond pending trial. No trial date was set.

He was arrested July 19 when federal agents, city and state police raided his bar, Baldwin Rubber Tavern, 377 E. South Boulevard.

Police arrested eight men in six raids in the county that day on what they described as bookie operations that took in $1.5 million a year.

Two Pontiac men arrested in the raid, Ray Powell, of 822 1/2 Baldwin, and Robert Barnett, 312 N. Saginaw, pleaded guilty to the charge of "war babies" reaching the minimum draft age of 18.

Others arrested stood mute or pleaded innocent and are awaiting trial.

Skelton has been a member of the Pontiac Civic Improvement Committee (CIAC) since appointed by Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom in January 1961. He was reappointed by Bottom in early this year.

Bar Owner Faces Trial

The White House said the halt to induction of married men will mean that young single men generally will be drafted at an earlier age. At present, the average draftee is about 23 years of age.

Some 1.7 million men are classified 1A. This pool has been growing in recent years because of the crop of "war babies" reaching the minimum draft age of 18.

Hersey and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were called to the White House for Kennedy's signing of the order.

Another Sunny Day in Works for Pontiac

Warm weather will greet area residents tomorrow as the temperatures hit 80. Following a dip to 58 tonight, skies will be partly cloudy tomorrow.

Winds will be light and variable tonight and will change to southerly 8 to 15 miles per hour tomorrow.

Fifty-six was the low recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the temperature had climbed to a high of 78.

WHAT NEXT? — Edwin Wichert, director of the new Bloomfield Hills Recreation Department, adds another item to the growing list of activities which the department plans to offer.

This fall. Approving the schedule is Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of schools in the Bloomfield Hills district.

In Bloomfield Hills

New Recreation Program Under Way

Right now, the most used property of the new Bloomfield Hills Recreation Department is a telephone, a pen and a bulletin board.

And new Recreation Director Edwin Wichert, ex-baseball player, basketball coach and swimming instructor, spends most of his time answering questions, making arrangements and filling schedules.

Wichert is setting up activities for later this fall — when people begin to think about brushing up on their bridge and mothers start to wonder what to do with the kids Saturday mornings.

The programs not only will keep adults and children occupied in their leisure hours but will make optimum use of school facilities.

This is not the first year such sessions have been offered, but Wichert will see that they are coordinated and that gaps are filled.

He plans to expand the program for boys, providing volleyball, basketball and other sports on Saturdays.

Also on the list of possibilities for elementary children are enrichment courses like writing, languages, needlecraft, art and theater.

Tentative plans also call for junior and senior high sessions in baton twirling, modern dance, judo, weightlifting, volleyball and table tennis. A Friday night teen club is scheduled.

Adult evening activities, which have been growing steadily since they were started six years ago, are also being organized.

"Many factors may determine," Wichert said, "but if a minimum of 12 people indicate an interest, the activities will be taken under consideration."

The family concept will be stressed, with emphasis on fun and fitness, he said.

Organized recreation in Bloomfield Hills began in 1957, on a summer basis. It reached a turning point this summer when the board of education hired Wichert to coordinate and direct expansion of what hopefully will be a year-around program.

W. Huron Shut at Last

A portion of West Huron Street hadn't been moved to the Cass-Huron intersection as yet by the contractor.

West Huron was to have been barricaded from Wayne to the Williams State Street intersection for a period of about three weeks beginning yesterday morning.

City officials said the barricades went up for awhile yesterday and then were taken down.

They were up again at noon today, this time to stay until the paving is finished.

House Group OKs Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee in effect approved President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut bill today.

The committee voted on strict party lines, 15-10, to direct Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., to introduce the bill finally agreed on after more than six months work.

Formal committee approval has to await introduction of the bill, and this vote is to be taken later in the day.

Before the final vote on introducing the bill, the committee narrowly defeated a Republican motion that would have written a mandatory spending limit into the cut.

Two minor amendments were adopted, but they left the bill essentially in the same form as the committee drafted it last month.

If centers on an across-the-board cut in both personal and corporate income taxes. The administration is pushing for enactment in time to make the cut felt with January withholding from pay envelopes. The cut would come in two annual stages.

When fully effective, the cut would average about 20 per cent for individuals and 8 per cent for corporations.

The committee scheduled an afternoon meeting at which it planned to formally return the bill to the House with its approval.

House passage later this month seems assured. There is considerable doubt that the Senate will complete action this year despite strong pressure from President Kennedy and many influential business leaders.

The total assessed value of all properties amounts to about $800,000. Owners had appealed for a reduction in the assessment, not specifying any amount.

The City Commission has deferred final action on the 1963 tax levy until all appeals are settled. Under state law, it is illegal to spread taxes on a tax base which is not final.

The city would be responsible for paying any loss in school tax revenue to the school district, if the tax base were reduced after school taxes were collected.

The last time the tax commission convened here, July 30, it heard an appeal from General Motors Corp. for a $33.8-million reduction in the assessed value of GM properties in Pontiac.

Tax commissioners granted GM nearly a $28-million reduction, resulting in the currently proposed tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed value.

The rate proposed for this year prior to the GM reduction was $14.65 per $1,000. The tax rate last year was $13.86 per $1,000.

A slight adjustment under the $16.10 rate could result in further reductions of any size are granted. The city's operating budget could be reduced.

Operating with a limited budget based largely on fees, the recreation department will utilize existing facilities at the schools. Most of the instructors and supervisors will be teachers within the school system, Wichert said.

Wichert's present office, and the center of his planning activities, is a converted storage room in the high school, 4200 Andover.

Wichert, a 34-year-old graduate of Central Michigan University, has combined coaching and recreation supervision with each of his teaching jobs.

City Sated to Decide on Fate of Property

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission may decide next Monday what action it will take on three private properties on a block that is slated to become a municipal parking lot.

At that time a resolution that would start condemnation proceedings will be discussed and possibly voted upon.

The properties are on the northeast corner of Townsend. Other properties on the block, directly south of Shalm Park, already have been acquired by the city.

Steps already have been taken to develop an L-shaped parking lot that will abut the three properties, which the city has unsuccessfully offered to purchase.

It had been expected that the commission would let the city's intention to acquire the properties be known, but discussion on the condemnation resolution never materialized.

Discussion of the resolution first failed to gain support but it was decided later that the resolution would be tabled one week.

City Commissioner Carl Ingraham, in moving that the resolution be discussed next week, said he believed it was unfair to the property owners involved that the commissioners let their feelings be known.

Earlier in the meeting Commissioner David F. Breck pushed for a determination on what is to be done about the properties but his motion failed for lack of support.

The Bloomfield Township Board last night discussed the green belt at Lahser and Maple roads for the third time, deciding on a staggered evergreen pattern.

At issue has been the strip of property which will separate the 7.5-acre site of a proposed shopping center from the Westchester Village subdivision. The shopping center property, owned by Prudential Investment Co. of Detroit, is on the southeast corner.

Trustees agreed that seven evergreen trees per 65 feet and shrubbery would effectively block head lights.

It was noted, however, that the bushes would be without leaves seven months a year. The board decision was based on architects' drawings indicating that the plantings would provide adequate cover for trucks serving the shopping center.

Supervisor Homer Case brought to the board the problem of improper ditches and culverts.

He said there were "at least 300" homes in the township with inadequate ditches because home owners were not aware of the necessities of suburban living.

The ditches are often filled during landscaping, Case said. "If the Oakland County Road Commission is not going to face its responsibility in enforcing ditch restrictions, we should," he said. However, no effective way of doing so was discovered during the discussion.

Jack L. Edington Service for Jack L. Edington, 56 of 604 Wing Lake, Birmingham, was to be 3 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Edington died Sunday after a long illness.

He was a manufacturer's agent. He was also a member of Christ Church Cranbrook; the Revere Club, Detroit; and Oakland Hills Country Club.

Surviving are his wife, Jill; a daughter, Mrs. Peter K. Pasch, of Philadelphia, Pa.; a son, Jack L. II, at home; and his mother Mrs. W. S. Edington of Lake Worth, Fla.

green hills in some spots, is the stage for all kinds of highway hijinks.

Often three or four cars will cruise abreast of one another and proceed at a traffic-snarl pace.

While cars back up for as much as a quarter mile to the tune of (pneumatic) braking screams, the occupants will chat back and forth.

GANG ACTION

Still another "sport" calls for a group of cars to gang up on some innocent driver. Usually, the target of this type of prank is a car full of girls or a surprised adult.

Gunning their engines, shifting gears to "squirrel" ahead, bald tires, the group circles its victim. The object of this "game" has never been clearly defined, but it does scare even the most confident driver.

Activity along the strip begins about 9 p.m. nightly. It reaches a peak between 10 and midnight.

Long lines of cars begin stacking up at the entrances to the various drive-ins. The steady flow of vehicles through these restaurants keeps private police busy directing traffic.

Few cars seem to stop. One reason for this is that the parking spots disappear after 9 p.m.

The drive-ins resemble vast playgrounds. The loud roar of mufflers continually splits the night air, laughter echoes from every corner, and boys and girls hop from car to car despite the best efforts of the police to prevent it.

LATER JAM

By 11 p.m., Woodward is again a traffic jam. Drivers dodge in and out of traffic trying to break free for spurts of speed.

Woodward activities settle down around midnight. However, as traffic thins out the speed picks up. Racing at this hour is in earnest.

Instead of the 60 to 80 m.p.h. drags, speeders now may reach 100 m.p.h. in some of the desolate areas between 15 Mile Road and Pontiac city limits.

Grand Trunk Seeks to Cut Part of Run

Grand Trunk Western Railroad is seeking permission to cut off one of the two trains carrying residents of Pontiac and other area communities to their jobs in Detroit.

In its request to the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPS), the railroad claimed it is losing more than $75,000 a year from operation of the two trains between Durand and Detroit.

Patronage of the trains has decreased sharply in recent years because main highways parallel their route, according to the railroad.

A MPS hearing on the issue has been scheduled for Oct. 21-22 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit.

A commission spokesman said the key question in the case probably will be proposed discontinuance of train No. 22.

The commuter train leaves Durand at 5:30 a.m. and arrives in Detroit at 7:35 a.m. after nine stops in six suburbs between Pontiac and Detroit.

Without No. 22, the earliest arrival in Detroit for north suburban commuters would be on the Grand Trunk's No. 972, which gets to Detroit at 8:05 a.m.

Grand Trunk has also applied to discontinue train No. 27 running from Detroit to Durand. Its arrival time is 12:25 a.m., when it makes connections with a Chicago-bound train.

The railroad, a subsidiary of Canadian National Railways, runs six other trains, three in each direction, over the 67-mile route.

The petition filed today with MPS claims that the two runs the company wants to discontinue are "not only unnecessary for

Race Incident Probed

By The Associated Press
Detroit officials ordered community relations experts today to an area where young Negro boys beat 12 white youths in several incidents yesterday.

Community Relations Commission Director Richard V. Marks said there was no history of racial problems in the Southwest Detroit area. He said commission staff members will investigate the disturbances.

Police believed the beating stemmed from a brawl at a theater Sunday night. Police first termed the brawl nonracial. Later, they described it as "a racial incident."

Meanwhile, in Michigan:

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS
• Picketing for a strong fair housing ordinance continued for the 15th straight City Council meeting at Ann Arbor last night. About 130 pickets, mostly white, demonstrated peacefully.

The council scheduled two meetings tomorrow night on a proposed anti-discrimination housing ordinance—one with several interested persons and the second with a group of civil rights advocates, mostly clergymen.

• Court examination by Leroy Jude, 18, a Negro accused of resisting arrest in Ann Arbor, was adjourned. Jude was shot and wounded by police after a stolen car report, and a civil rights group picketed City Hall in protest.

• Daniel Sheehan, president of the National Real Estate Association, commended the Michigan association for its opposition to so-called "open occupancy rules," and voiced support for a property owners' "bill of rights."

DETROIT BEATINGS

In the Detroit beatings, police said assailants used fists, feet and clubs. All the beatings occurred shortly after classes were let out at Southwestern High School.

Arrested for investigation of felonious assault were Charles Davis, 18, David Taylor, 17, and a 16-year-old. Police believed one group of six to 15 youths was responsible for all the beatings.

The Ann Arbor picketing was cosponsored for the first time by the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Ann Arbor Area Fair Housing Association has been sponsor of all the demonstrations.

The NAACP said it has supported the demonstrations all along, but made a formal move to counter rumors that the two groups had split.

A vote on the city's proposed antidiscrimination housing ordinance is scheduled for next Monday.

Another Ann Arbor civil rights group, the Direct Action Committee, picketed in protest of what it called "police harassment of Negroes" after Jude's shooting.

Police said Jude had been stopped for questioning in a reported car theft.

The car belonged to Jude's brother, who had reported it stolen. He later said Jude had keys to the car.

Barry Would Support Ford for Nomination

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said yesterday that Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan is one of the Republicans he could "wholeheartedly support" for the GOP presidential candidacy.

Other Republicans mentioned by Goldwater in response to a television interviewer's question were William Knowland of California and Reps. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin and William E. Miller of New York.

Sears' Expansion Plan Is Commendable Effort

There is reason for gratification over tentative indication of expansion plans by Sears Roebuck & Co. This is the first substantial interest to be shown in the rehabilitation of Pontiac's downtown business section.

Explicit in the project is agreement by the City to close Saginaw Street north of Huron as a first step in creation of a shopping complex of which Sears would be the core.

Additionally, assurance is asked that parking for 1,500 cars would be provided in the area north of Huron Street.

Both civic measures, related to completion of the perimeter road scheduled for year's end, were unanimously approved by City Commission resolution at last week's meeting.

The Press warmly salutes the mercantile organization on the implied confidence in Pontiac's future. Furthermore, city commissioners merit wholehearted commendation for their progressive and cooperative support of what may well be a most significant development in the history of our city.

Bridge Game Revision Named for Windy City

Bridge, the national indoor pastime, has been about as impervious to change as baseball, its outdoor counterpart.

It has altered little in form since the '20s, and not at all in pace since 1895, when the laws for bridge were laid down by the elite Portland and Turf Club of London.

But recently a revision of the game, unofficially called "Chicago," has caught on—now formally recognized by New York's 900-member Regency Club, among whom are OSWALD JACOBY and CHARLES GOREN.

One variation eliminates the non-tournament often—agonizingly-long unit of play—the rubber—whereby the first side winning two games of 100 wins the contest.

Replacing it, "Chicago" consists of four deals, one by each player. And instead of the hour or more required to play a rubber, the round takes about 20 minutes for average players. At the end of four deals, scores are added up and play can either be halted or begun anew.

Other innovations deal with rules governing vulnerability, carry over of part scores and immediacy of awarding bonuses.

Unchanged, however, are the ground rules re: "talking across the table," or the built-in prerogative of a wife to slug her husband for trumping her ace.

U.S. Mothers Welcome Sound of School Bells

"Eighty million mothers can't be wrong!" September is the best month of the year or so it seems.

While this may be a badly mangled adage, it does echo a widespread, deeply penetrating feeling. The passage of Labor Day provokes a collective sigh from American mothers and a whispered "thank goodness it's over."

"It's over" does not refer to the holiday, but to summer vacation. Although Labor Day is a national respite honoring the working man, it also signals the end of more than two months at hard labor by mom.

School—beloved baby sitter and the best mother-saver since frozen dinners—reopens, and excited, door-slaming, knee-scrapping youngsters are absent from the home nearly eight hours daily.

The trek to classrooms is greeted joyously by American motherhood. Now there is time for TV serials, lingering chats over coffee and mid-morning catnaps.

Of course, the preschoolers are still underfoot, but somehow even they behave better and now there are scattered moments during the day when there is absolute quiet in the house.

While mom has a brief period to recharge her energies, a hectic holiday season lies just around the calendar corner.

Wallace's Fight a Political Fraud

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Gov. George C. Wallace keeps Alabama's temperature up, but it's an artificial fever.

In making a political career of defiance, he has become the master of the big noise and the empty gesture. When the going gets tough, he melts.

His latest performance, defying desegregation of schools in the Alabama cities as ordered by federal courts, is just one more gesture.

He knows he can't get away with it. He may find it helps him politically. When the federal government puts the squeeze on him, he can say he tried.

In his election campaign he called federal courts "lousy," vowed to disobey any court integration order, and at inauguration promised "segregation forever."

The only thing wrong with the promise was that to make good on it, he'd have to be able to defy the federal government and courts successfully.

But if he could do that, any governor could on any issue, and in the end so could any citizen.

The result would be not only no government, federal or state, but not even segregation, just chaos.

He put on the "standing in the schoolhouse doors" act in going through the motions of defying a federal court order desegregating the University of Alabama.

But when President Kennedy called the Alabama National Guard into federal service, Wallace trotted away.

Even as he scouted, he made this announcement: "We are winning this fight because we are awakening the people of the nation to the trend toward military dictatorship."

Strange words, coming from Wallace.

Last week, the officials of four Alabama communities carefully arranged to obey federal court orders to desegregate their public schools.

They said they could meet the situation locally, without Wallace's intervention. But he intervened with state troopers and stopped the desegregation in three of the cities.

From different sides in Alabama Wallace was criticized for doing exactly what he had accused the federal government of doing.

Last month, he got in another empty gesture, this time on Bible reading in public schools.

While the Supreme Court on June 17 banned Bible reading in public schools as a religious exercise, it did not—and said it did not—ban Bible reading as part of a study course.

On Aug. 5, the Alabama Board of Education ordered the Bible read daily in all public schools as part of a study course.

Wallace, who introduced the resolution to do this, said that in making Bible reading part of the study course he was not trying to get around the Supreme Court decision.

Changing Of The Guard

David Lawrence Says:

Right to Differ Is American Way

WASHINGTON—There appeared last Saturday in the press and on TV throughout the country a photograph showing Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona chatting with President Kennedy after a White House ceremony honoring a retired Air Force general.

The news dispatches said Mr. Kennedy, looking over the crowd, saw the senator—who could be his Republican opponent next year for the presidency—and calling him by his first name, summoned him to his side to share the limelight.

The incident was no surprise. LAWRENCE to anyone who is familiar with Washington customs, but it probably was puzzling to too many people who seem to think that, because persons differ in politics, they can't be friends.

Indeed, as Mr. Kennedy called out to "Barry," there was some laughter and one correspondent wrote that the President, "presumably aware of the political incongruity," hastened to say: "We are all friends."

It was an incident which emphasizes that, under the American system of government, political differences can be sharp, but most of the men who hold office or aspire to elected posts realize that personal feelings must always be secondary, if not repressed, and that what counts is the thoughtful presentation of one's side of a controversial question.

FRIENDS TO FOES?

Again and again, not only in federal election contests but in state and local campaigns, men who have been intimate friends find themselves running for office on opposite sides.

The public may have a hard time being convinced from some of the speeches that there is no deep-seated personal antagonism. But there are few instances where the loser of an election is not among the first to extend his congratulations to the winner.

It has always been the view of this writer that controversial issues should be reported and analyzed in the press, too, without regard to personal feelings, though it's hard sometimes to get readers to believe such an impersonal approach is possible.

President Kennedy is a very likeable person. This writer considers him a man with a conscientious desire to serve the public.

As a member of the House of Representatives and as a senator, Mr. Kennedy became known in official circles, and reporters had a chance to talk with him and get acquainted.

If a poll were taken among the writers who criticize him, it might well be found that his most vehement critics never have had and do not have now any personal dislike for the President.

He truly has an attractive personality, and so has his brother, the attorney general.

But those who analyze the news feel a responsibility to the constituency they serve—particularly to readers who really want an evaluation of issues and events based on history, on honest judgment and on convictions formed over years of observation and awareness of the difference between sound and unsound public policies.

To color the argument, however, with one's personal likes or dislikes is to ignore the main reason why public confidence is reduced in a free press.

A view expressed by a news writer or analyst may subsequently be proved wrong, but there's also a chance it may be proved right. If it is wrong, no harm is done because it will be disregarded by the persons in office who have the final responsibility for the action taken.

But if the criticism happens to be right, it could serve as a deterrent if the issue arises again. These are matters that have nothing to do with likes or dislikes with personal feelings or emotions.

In fact, if there were no adverse criticism, there would be little chance to make revisions opportunistically, and the public interest would not be served.

Bob Considine Says:

New Frontiersman Has Latest Word on Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—Here's the latest word on Viet Nam, as seen through the eyes of an important and very hard-nosed New Frontiersman:

—Unless Ngo Dinh Diem "pulls up his socks," the Congress is in a mood to respond to a "wave of neo-isolationism sweeping this country" and strip the Diem government of military aid and other grants, no matter what JFK thinks.

Diem, not his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu or his imperious sister-in-law, Madame Nhu, is in charge.

—The U.S. and the 14 million Vietnamese have one durable thing in common: They are united in their determination to save the country from communism.

—The war in Viet Nam could continue for several more years. It is not a war which can produce a knockout punch.

—Diem does not wish to see the war last indefinitely, so as to prolong U.S. aid. He wants to see it won, get rid of the Americans and run his country, Mandarins style.

—There is no organized persecution of Buddhists by the predominantly Catholic Diem family. Fifteen of the 17 Viet Nam generals are Buddhists, and the percentage of Buddhists in the ranks is even higher.

—We're in Viet Nam because we're trying to (and succeeding) in saving 14 million persons from being engulfed by communism. If we pulled out right now, the Viet Cong would prevail in a bloody war which would kill many of the very men on whom we're counting to run a moderate future government.

—The American public must understand that never again will this country attain complete victory or suffer complete defeat in our dealings overseas.

—Diem recently reassured his American friends in Saigon. He is a 62-year-old bachelor, given to long seizures of prayer, and in the past it was generally believed that he would follow any advice given to him by his attractive sister-in-law. But not long ago he gave her a dressing down in front of witnesses.

He climaxed the angry outburst with an unusual action and a dire threat. He threw an inkwell at her, and sternly declared "If you don't stop undercutting me, I'll get married!"

In Washington:

Bigwigs Map 'Harvest' Tours

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA)—This is going to be a piece about fall nature in autumn.

President Kennedy is going to travel through Pennsylvania and nine western states Sept. 25-29.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, September 10, New York is visiting five states in early September prior to a swing through Europe.

Sen. Barry Goldwater so far has accepted invitations to deliver lectures in 10 states—any may be more later.

Any evil thoughts that there are political implications to all this should be promptly scrubbed from the mind. Because these three tourists say they are non-political tours. The remote fact that there is a presidential election in 1964 is said to be purely coincidental.

September 10, October and November are simply the perfect months for vacationing.

Flying weather is perfect most days, before the fogs of November and the snows of December set in. And there's a nip in the air every patriotic public official want to get out and inspect the crops after the fall harvest. That's all there is to it, gentle readers.

Why, President Kennedy himself says he is going out to check on conservation and recreation and the recreational facilities behind power dams and government-made lakes.

Expresses Disagreement With Lawrence Column

The distinguished correspondent, Mr. David Lawrence, calls the recent peaceful demonstration in our nation's capital a "public disgrace." Mr. Lawrence is a thoroughbred of sorts; for he runs true to form with his insensitivity and cynicism. We Negroes are aware of the existence of the "mediums of petition" he refers to. Also, the Negro has used the radio, television, press, etc., as "mediums through which the right of petition could be effectively expressed and public opinion formed." But that form of expression cannot reach the consciousness of the biased, backward and bigots.

Mr. Lawrence speaks deprecatingly of the peaceful march as "a step backward in the American system of government." Then America has taken many a backward step. This has not been the first march on Washington, D.C., and each were for different reasons.

We as Negroes have believed in this republic as one of voluntarism as opposed to coercion. For over 100 years the Negro has believed in the principles of this democracy, and we continue our loyalty. But, had the United States wanted to legislate "equal right," it would have done so long ago. If our government had passed appropriate legislation to eliminate the heinous practice of racial injustice, the hundreds of thousands of bigots could no longer maintain the balance of power. That balance is exemplified by the economic oppression and social injustice that Negroes have been subjected to since involuntary arrival to these shores.

Thank God Mr. Lawrence exists. When effective legislation is passed giving the Negro the rights that Mr. Lawrence's ancestors put down on paper many, many years ago, we will never forget that "the price of freedom is eternal vigilance."

The Pontiac Press is to be commended for Mr. James Marlow's coverage of the Washington march. His objective comments are noteworthy.

Protests Bus Regulation in Watford

In the Watford schools there are three kindergarten classes. The in-between little ones are not provided with a safety guard. Neither are they allowed to ride the school buses if they are classified as "walkers," although the buses aren't filled.

When parents protested this, they were told that it was up to them to get the children to school. How do they expect mothers with two or three preschoolers to walk the kindergarten children to school and pick them up in two hours?

Let's get together and keep our little ones at home where they are safe until the school board furnishes guards or buses.

A Watford Taxpayer

The White House announcement said the President would inspect national parks, seashores, wilderness areas. So you can see this is just a nature lover's holiday. Anything to get out of Washington for a breath of fresh air.

Anyone who thinks that what the President would really like to conserve and reclaim are six western states he lost in 1960.

North Dakota with four electoral votes, Montana four, Wyoming three, Utah four, Oregon six and California 24, is a meanie.

Goldwater isn't even a presidential candidate yet, according to him. The Draft Goldwater headquarters in Washington says it is doing nothing to promote his tour or get out the crowds. They still aren't speaking to each other. Nature lover Goldwater is just going to inspect the grass roots.

Two of his appearances will be before Republican women—who are great gardeners—in Chicago Sept. 11 and San Diego Oct. 3.

Four of his appearances will be to help the Republicans raise funds in Pennsylvania—Gov. William W. Scranton, a potential rival, invited him—Oklahoma, New Jersey and Massachusetts. Goldwater will visit JFK's home town of Boston Oct. 16 to show how much he loves him.

In New York, Goldwater will be full guy Sept. 17 at a Buffalo Check Saints and Sinners affair, which is just for fun. In New York City he will attend a Financial World dinner Oct. 31, which is strictly business. And

The Associated Press is entitled to use the law for republicans in the United States as well as all AP news destinations.

SEARCH FOR GIRLS — Volunteers with walkie talkies took part in the extensive search for Melissa Ann Lee, 5, and her playmate, Barbara Ann Foshag, 4, of Minneapolis, miss-

Firms Vow Fight on Teen Smoking

CHICAGO (UPI) — A voluntary self-regulation program to prevent illegal sale of cigarettes to teen-agers was announced yesterday by representatives of vending machine firms.

Louis J. Rismann, President of the National Automatic Merchandising Association, said much of the concern about the "alleged relationship" between cigarettes and cancer "has to do with young people."

"The new program will call for a survey to determine location of vending machines, to which minors are likely to have access, Rismann said.

Speed Mixup Splits Road at Army Post

BROWNS MILLS, N.J. — A motorist had better be sure of his direction when he travels on Burlington County Road 545 — the speed limit is 50 miles an hour northbound and 25 miles an hour southbound.

The split speed limit applies to a one-mile stretch of the highway bordering Ft. Dix. A spokesman for the military installation says the Army has jurisdiction over half of roads bordering Ft. Dix and has posted a 25 m.p.h. speed limit on its half. The half bordering Pemberton Township is being maintained at 50 m.p.h.

That's not the only problem. Local police aren't sure whether they ought to ticket traffic violators on the military's half.

To Run or Not to Run?

Barry to Tell '64 Role

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he will decide before the end of the year whether to run for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater told newsmen Monday: "No man can ignore the pressures I have been subjected to, nor ignore the young people urging me forward toward this honor."

"Early in January, when the New Hampshire primary comes, I'm going to have to fish or cut bait. If I enter one state primary, I'll probably enter them all."

He named as good Republicans he could support:

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, former U. S. Sen. William Knowland of California and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

WOULD BACK ROCKY

"Rockefeller is more conservative than the conservatives like to admit," Goldwater said. "Rockefeller is very conservative on domestic issues on fiscal responsibility and taxation. I'd support him if he were nominated."

Goldwater also appeared in two television interviews broadcast from New York Monday. In one on CBS, he said that Republicans he could wholeheartedly support for the GOP candidacy if it were not himself are William Knowland of California and Reps. Gerald R. Ford, Michigan; John W. Byrnes, Wisconsin, and William E. Miller, New York.

He also said that a major factor in his decision on whether to try for the presidency would be "what effect would a defeat have on the conservative movement."

In the other television interview on ABC, Goldwater said that he would feel perfectly comfortable running on Franklin D. Roosevelt's platform of 1932, which he called "the most conservative platform of this century."

In his speech to more than 3,000 persons at a $5-a-plate finance committee luncheon in Cleveland, Goldwater attacked the "far left," which he said has made inroads into the administration.

SIX PICKETS MARCH
"We have been hearing much too much in this country about the far right and not nearly enough about the far left," he said.

Six Negro pickets parade outside the hotel where Goldwater spoke. He said he hadn't noticed them but discussed the incident at the news conference.

"They are protesting in ignorance," Goldwater said of the pickets, who carried signs reading: "We're hep to you, Sen. Goldwater." That was an attempt to link the Arizona senator with

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, champion of segregation.

"I'll stack up my record in civil rights against anyone's," Goldwater asserted. "I've done something about desegregating, not just talk."

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOATING

QUESTION: Why does an egg float in salt water but not in fresh?

ANSWER: Judd and Judy, in our picture, are using peanut butter jars to try to figure this out. They put water in the jars and dropped in the eggs.

Judd noticed something. "See the water rise up as I drop in the egg? I'll bet that amount of water would be the same size as the egg which pushed it up."

"That's the answer, then," said Judy. "In your jar, with fresh water, the egg is slightly heavier than the volume of water in my jar. That made it more dense, or heavier. So my egg is lighter than the same amount of salty water, and it has to stay near the surface; it floats!"

That's the idea, and if you look inside the egg (B) you'll understand how close the egg is in weight to the same bulk of water.

A hen's egg contains 72.7 per cent water. But there is an air sack or air space inside, and this will tend to make the egg lighter. Against this must be counted the weight of the shell and materials in white and yolk.

These tend to make the egg slightly heavier than its bulk in water, unless the water weight is increased through dissolving some substance such as salt.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try the egg experiment. If you're wondering how the boy on top is floating so very easily, the answer is he's in the Great Salt Lake of Utah. The water there is so salty, you can't sink.

Quiz Trucker in Dual Slaying
NEW YORK (UPI)—A 45-year-old truck driver who admitted making obscene telephone calls to a young woman under questioning today by detectives seeking the slayer of Patricia Wylie and Emily Hoffer.

Thomas J. Storff, of Leonia, N.J., who has a wife, a child and two stepchildren, was arrested last night in an elaborate police trap. Officers said, near Sutton Place house in Manhattan of Cynthia Cramer, 30.

Miss Cramer, target of the alleged calls, apparently did not receive any of them. A maid received most of the girl's father, Morgan J. Cramer, president of P. Lorillard Tobacco Co., moved his family to a hotel and called a private detective agency.

Lee Lentz, a woman employee of the agency, moved into the Cramer residence and arranged over the phone for a rendezvous last night with Storff, according to police.

When Storff approached her on a street corner, waiting detectives moved in. The truck driver admitted making about 30 calls to Miss Cramer's residence, officers said.

Meanwhile they agreed to budget the money for more police and firemen instead.
The township presently has 17 firemen and 12 police officers. The budget calls for six more firemen and four additional policemen.

The board is dealing with a $794,000 budget for next year. It represents a $147,000 increase over the present budget.
Township Supervisor James Seeterlin said he is hopeful that work on the budget will be completed at next Monday's meeting.

Police and firemen already have a pension plan approved in the last general election.
Squires said the plan being sought by other employees would be comparable to that given to the police and firemen.

The township board turned down the employees pension plan in earlier budget hearings. No swap was considered at that time.
The board agreed then that the proposed pension plan could be reconsidered next year.

Exam Scheduled on Break-In Charge
Municipal Court examination for a Pontiac man arrested Saturday morning in a gas station for breaking and entering will be held Monday.

Eugene Jones, 21, of 328 Orchard Lake demanded examination before Judge Cecil McCallum at his arraignment yesterday and was returned to jail after failing to meet $50 bail.

Jones was apprehended inside Clarence G. Siskin, 369 Orchard Lake, by Patrolman David Schroeder while he was investigating a break-in there.

Meeting Set on Cityhood for Waterford

A public information meeting on the proposed incorporation of Waterford Township as a city has been called for 4 p.m. tomorrow in the CAT Building on Williams Lake Road.

Guest speaker Don Oakes of the Michigan Municipal League is being presented by the Citizens Action Committee for Incorporation.

Mr. Oakes will discuss what is entailed in incorporation as a city," said Dr. John Naz, committee chairman.

History Professor Dies at Princeton

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Ernst Hartwig Kantorowicz, 68, member of the Institute for Advanced Studies, died Sunday at his home. Dr. Kantorowicz, a professor in the School of Historical Studies, came to the Institute in 1951. He was named recipient of the Haskins Medal of the American Medieval Academy in 1959.

Meanwhile they agreed to budget the money for more police and firemen instead.
The township presently has 17 firemen and 12 police officers. The budget calls for six more firemen and four additional policemen.

The board is dealing with a $794,000 budget for next year. It represents a $147,000 increase over the present budget.
Township Supervisor James Seeterlin said he is hopeful that work on the budget will be completed at next Monday's meeting.

Police and firemen already have a pension plan approved in the last general election.
Squires said the plan being sought by other employees would be comparable to that given to the police and firemen.

The township board turned down the employees pension plan in earlier budget hearings. No swap was considered at that time.
The board agreed then that the proposed pension plan could be reconsidered next year.

Exam Scheduled on Break-In Charge
Municipal Court examination for a Pontiac man arrested Saturday morning in a gas station for breaking and entering will be held Monday.

Eugene Jones, 21, of 328 Orchard Lake demanded examination before Judge Cecil McCallum at his arraignment yesterday and was returned to jail after failing to meet $50 bail.

Jones was apprehended inside Clarence G. Siskin, 369 Orchard Lake, by Patrolman David Schroeder while he was investigating a break-in there.

Employees Prefer Pension Plan

A group of Waterford Township employees last night proposed a swap of a general $200 pay raise and their hospital insurance in next year's budget for a retirement pension plan when they met informally with Township Board members.

The Township Board indicated that they would consider the change at a budget hearing next Monday night.

The cost of the proposed pension plan has been estimated at $55,000, although details haven't been worked out yet. The hospital insurance and wage hike would cost $23,900 in next year's budget.

Police and firemen already have a pension plan approved in the last general election.
Squires said the plan being sought by other employees would be comparable to that given to the police and firemen.

The township board turned down the employees pension plan in earlier budget hearings. No swap was considered at that time.

TWO STRIKES AGAINST HIM FOR LIFE... AND HE'S ONLY 14 YEARS OLD

By the time a child is 14, it may be too late for his parents to accumulate the $10,000 or so necessary for a college education. And if there are several children in the family, the problem is even greater. Many parents look ahead when their children are born, or at least by the time they are in kindergarten. These thoughtful parents take steps to set aside money in a way that may help them to handle college costs for their youngsters. You can get the details about constructive things you can do . . . you'll be told the risks and costs as well as the special features. No obligation, of course. Waterford Firemen Answer 61 Alarms

Waterford Township's fire department answered 61 alarms during August compared to 80 for the same month a year ago.

Total alarms this year to date amount to 595. During the first eight months last year, the department handled 563 alarms.

Property damage last month resulting from fires amounted to $7,830 compared to $8,495 for the same month a year ago.

Three Men Sentenced for Having Bogus Bills

DETROIT (AP) — Lonnie R. Snider, 44, was sentenced to 18 months in prison and Pasquale T. Blonti, 36, and Charles C. Neisz, 40, were placed on two years probation yesterday after all three pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to charges of possessing counterfeit money.

Police charged they were members of a gang of counterfeiters operating in the Detroit area. They said they confiscated $28,000 in phony bills, but have not recovered the plates from which they were made.

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Anastasia O'Farrell said today her scholarship winning 11-year-old son David, just brought back by police after running away for two weeks, has left home 10 times over the past year because he gets bored.

"I think his brain is so active he goes off like this to give it a rest," she said.

Waterford Boy Is Satisfactory After Accident

A 9-year-old Waterford Township boy was listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital today after being struck by a board that fell off a lumber truck.

Robert W. Hinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy G. Hinson, 1991 Crescent Lake, suffered cuts and splinters around his right eye.

The boy was walking alongside Crescent Lake Road yesterday morning, en route to school, when the truck passed him.

The driver, James Luellen, 41, of Warren said he was traveling at about 15 miles an hour and realized what had happened. He is a driver for National Lumber Co., Warren.

Luellen was released by township police after giving his statement.

MRS. MICHAEL CHARLES ROGERS

Wed recently in Trinity Methodist Church, Keego Harbor, were Diane Kay Golding, daughter of the Ralph V. Goldings of Oscoda, and Michael Charles Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Miami Road.

MRS. JAMES TERENCE HAVEL

Vous were exchanged recently in Our Lady of Refuge Church by Margaret Ellen Lang, daughter of the William C. Langs of Orchard Lake, and James Terence Havel, son of the Arthur Havels of Union Lake.

In Recent Ceremonies

3 Couples Repeat Wedding Vows

Rogers-Golding

Honeymooning in the Boyne Mountain Lodge are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Charles Rogers (Diane Kay Golding of Keego Harbor) who will live in Pontiac.

Rev. Elmer Snyder officiated at their recent candle-light wedding in Trinity Methodist Church, Keego Harbor. A church reception followed.

Daughter of the Ralph V. Goldings of Oscoda, the bride appeared in white silk organza accented with re-embroidered rose pattern Alencon lace. Her full skirt swept into a chapel train.

A bouffant veil of illusion with pearl crown and a cascade of white roses completed her ensemble.

Kathy Grove of Oscoda was honor maid for her cousin, Mrs. Donald Ruffner was bridesmaid. White Fuji chrysanthemums complemented their gowns of Radiant blue faille.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Miami Road, had Jack Fredrick for best man. Seating some 250 guests were John Bacon, James McIntosh, David Jones, Kalamazoo, and Harold Golding.

Havel-Lang

Margaret Ellen Lang, daughter of the William C. Langs of Orchard Lake, exchanged recent vows with James Terence Havel in Our Lady of Refuge Church.

Medallions of Alencon lace accented her gown of white silk organza styled with chapel train. Her triple tiered veil of illusion fell from a jeweled tiara. She carried white roses, Stephanotis and ivy.

Burgundy carnations complemented a pale-pink satin dress for Mary Lang, her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids Mrs. Douglas Forrester, in burgundy satin, and Linda Lang in rose pink, held pink carnations. Susan Lang was flower girl.

Attending their brother were William Havel, best man and Terry and Dennis Havel, who ushered. They are the sons of the Arthur Havels of Union Lake.

A group of foreign exchange students who are classmates of the bride couple at Eastern Michigan University attended the wedding and reception in West-acres Club House.

Wilson-Faxon

Dr. Milton Bank officiated at the recent nuptials of Sarah Jo Faxon to Charles Ford Wilson in Central Methodist Church.

odist Church. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the Pontiac Country Club.

Parents of the couple are the Russell M. Faxons of Dover Road and the Ernest R. Wilsons of Lincoln Park.

Alencon lace accented the bride's princess gown of white chiffon worn with silk illusion veil.

Her skirt of unpressed pleats ended in a chapel sweep. She carried white gladioli, roses and Stephanotis.

Wearing beige French brocade were honor matron Mrs. Marshall E. Batchelor, of Mount Pleasant who held orange gladioli and Jacqueline Campbell, Julie Gainer and Linda Wilson. Their bridesmaids' bouquet were yellow gladioli.

Alexis Phillips of Detroit and Kurt Plamman, Clawson were flower girl and ring bearer.

David Wilson served his brother as best man. Seating guests were Marshall E. Batchelor, James Faxon, James Miller, Mont Clemens, and Gary Beels, Petoskey.

Cooperative Dinner Set by Rebekahs

Antique Fair to Show Dealers' Collections

Seventeen antique dealers will be displaying their wares at the annual Bloomfield Antique Fair, sponsored by the Michigan Animal Rescue League.

The fair, which will be held at the Cranbrook School auditorium, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, will be open to the public from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Period antiques, including primitives, a fine collection of old coins, rare books, china and glassware will be featured.

Luncheon, tea and dinner will be served. Proceeds from the fair will be used to enable the Michigan Animal Rescue League to maintain its shelter on Featherstone Road. The shelter, established in 1957, is the only one of its kind in Oakland County.

It is a home for lost and stray animals, all of which are available to the public for adoption. Other activities of the society include investigation of hundreds of cruelty cases each year and the publication of a newsletter.

The society is entirely dependent on individual gifts and donations and on the antique fair.

Area patrons of the fair include Mrs. Carl O. Anderson, Mrs. Frederick Golding, Mrs. Dorothy O. Gould, Mrs. R. W. Hodge, Mrs. Robert C. Lake, Mrs. Arthur Schultz, Mrs. Newton J. Skillman Jr., Mrs. F. L. Ward and Mrs. Lewis M. Wrenn, all of Pontiac.

Others are Mrs. Walter D. Appel, Elaine Appel, Mrs. Clarence K. Patterson and Mrs. Aaron D. Riker of Orchard Lake.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Merrill Bates and Mrs. J.S. Tuttle of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Max Colter of Walled Lake.

Chairmen Are Named by Sorority

Committee chairmen were appointed and delegates to coming conventions designated at the first meeting of the fall session of Psi chapter of Sigma Beta sorority.

Mrs. John Spragg opened her Shoals Street home for the affair, with Mrs. William Russell as cohostess.

Newly appointed committee chairmen include Shakey Godoshian, Mrs. Jack Kudray, Mrs. Spragg, Mrs. Wayne Booth, Mrs. James DeFiorio, Mrs. Charles Fournier, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Mrs. Carmen Tosto and Mrs. Roger Dean.

Plans were made for Mrs. DeFiorio to attend a state leadership conference of the Michigan Society for Mental Health at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing. Sigma Beta sorority has made mental health one of its charity projects for a number of years.

Mrs. Bisogni and Miss Godoshian were named delegates to the national convention in Indianapolis in October.

Medical Group Sets Meeting

Dr. John Kevorkian, pathologist at Pontiac General Hospital, will be guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the Pontiac Society of Medical Technology.

"Fluorescent Microscopy" will be the discussion topic for the meeting starting at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Pontiac General Hospital. Dinner will precede the discussion.

He's Willing to Join Nudists, but His Wife Is Just Too Shy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband has been wanting to join a nudist colony for a long time, but I have been against it. I accompanied him on one trip to the nudist camp and I don't care to go again.

I wasn't brought up to run around naked in front of strangers. I am allowed three visits to the camp before it becomes mandatory that I disrobe, too.

My husband says I have an evil mind, and that man was much happier when he went around naked and lived with nature in the trees.

Should I try to forget my shame and go with him? He can't join unless I do. He is 25 and I am 23. We have a child one year old.

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: There is nothing "evil" about your mind, so don't let him change it.

And you can tell your nature-loving hubby that in time we all might be living "with nature" in the trees again—so he should keep his shirt on.

DEAR ABBY: I hate to go to funerals. Last week a neighbor passed away and my husband wanted me to go to the funeral with him. I refused because (1) I hardly knew the man, (2) I hate to be around grieving folks, I never know what to say.

My husband was very angry with me because he didn't think he ought to go without me. The deceased was a childhood friend of my husband's.

My husband went alone, but I still haven't heard the end of it. Was I wrong?

HATES FUNERALS
DEAR HATES: You should have gone. No one LIKES to be "around grieving folks," but the presence of friends who care enough to come is usually a comfort to mourners.

You need "say" nothing more at a funeral than, "I'm sorry."

HINTS COLLECTED BY MISS DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Most toddlers go through a stage of saying "no" to everything. Whether they mean it or not. Ways to cut down a determined one's "no's":

- Have you ever thought your toddler may be learning to be negative through too many "no's" from you? Your "no's" will be more effective, less likely to be imitated, if used only when necessary.
- "No's" are best ignored when the reasons behind them are not serious.
- When you must restrict, diplomacy, diversion and direction work more wonders than threats.

Safety measures. Of course, all of us know the basic safety precautions for into-everything toddlers. Things that may slip your mind: (1) A forgotten table light. (2) A cleaning compound not returned to an out-of-reach haven. (3) A medicine bottle left on a reachable sink.

Accentuate goodness to cut down negatives at mealtimes. How? Offer foods with colors and flavors that sing. Like Gerber Junior Foods... prepared and seasoned with an eye to enjoyment. Then you might try a selling job, by telling junior how good the food is. A taste or two, accompanied with an "um-mm" from you, is most convincing. If you

Consul and Mrs. Edward Johansson of Sheringham Road and their daughter Berit have returned home after five weeks in Europe. They left Aug. 30 by plane for London, Paris, Copenhagen and then to their native land, Sweden. On Sept. 17, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock leave on a trip around the world. Most of their time will be spent in India and Africa.

Sometime during their trip, they will join the Eugene Ketterings of Dayton, Ohio. By the middle of December they will reach their winter home in Hawaii, not to return to this community until spring.

Mrs. Orville Beardsley will take daughter Judy to Denison University at Granville, Ohio, this week, while son Bob returns to Western Michigan University for his senior year.

By the time Mrs. Beardsley returns home, she will have visitors, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Freer of Cleveland Heights, who will be spending a few days here after a trip by freighter to Duluth.

Sven Kline has returned after six weeks at Haystack, Maine, and begins her classes in sculpture and ceramic sculpture at Bloomfield Art Association Sept. 23.

Farmington to Vote on School Bond, Tax

FARMINGTON — A $5-million bond issue for school construction plus two operational millage requests will be put on the Nov. 18 ballot here.

Board of education members were unanimous last night in their decision to present the package to the voters.

The bond issue, estimated at three mills on the present valuation, would finance construction needed through 1977, actording to Supt. Gerald V. Harrison.

Without additional construction, he said, half-day sessions must be anticipated in the near future. Projected enrollment figures indicate 16,322 students will be ready to attend Farmington schools in September 1967. The present figure is about 11,550.

"Increases of 1,000 a year mean a couple of schools must be built every year," Harrison said. The present building program would carry the district through 1964-65, when the proposed bond issue would take over, according to Harrison.

Building plans, recommended to the board by a citizens' advisory committee, include three elementary schools. Sites would be determined by population studies made when the building was to be done.

Also proposed is a new junior high school, the district's fourth. It would be constructed on the northeast corner of Halsted and 11-Mile roads.

A 24-room addition to one of the existing junior high schools, probably East, is planned, along with a similar addition to North Farmington High School.

While the breakdown of costs has not yet been determined, the board would allocate some of the $5 million for remodeling of the older buildings and purchasing of additional sites.

NEED NO HIKE

"This new bond issue can be financed without the debt levy being increased," Harrison noted, because the tax base is getting broader and bonds are being retired. Debt retirement levy this year was 11.4 mills.

Also on the Nov. 18 ballot will be a request to continue a two-mill operating levy from 1965 through 1973. Approved in 1959, the levy expires in 1964.

The school board will then ask for a three-mill increase in the operating levy from 1964 through 1973. A mill currently brings about $100,000 to the district, Harrison said.

He emphasized the importance of both operational millage votes. "Although we can finance the bond issue without any higher taxes, we can't continue to offer the present instructional program and hire the additional staff necessary without more operating funds," he said.

Troy Receives Plea for Chief

1,447 Signers Fail to Move Commission

TROY — Dying embers of the police chief controversy flared at last night's City Commission meeting, and then returned to just a glow, almost extinguished.

For almost two hours, the audience and commissioners shared views on the issue, after William Whitcomb presented 1,447 signatures appealing for reinstatement of ousted police chief David E. Grattop.

Whitcomb spearheaded the collection of signatures after last month's public meeting of Grattop and City Manager David E. Firestone before a 300-member audience.

Firestone last night presented more evidence backing up his decision to dismiss the former chief.

He earlier charged that Grattop did not have the managerial talents required of his position, and had failed grossly as far as the administrative portion of the job was concerned.

At the regular meeting last night, he showed communications from the FBI and state police, asking why the two had not received city police reports since last January.

Firestone also pointed out the problem Grattop had caused during establishment of the annual budget in past years, by submitting what Firestone called late and inappropriate requests for the department.

Most of the talk last night was concerned with the point of Grattop's dismissal, but with how the commission handled it.

"Why didn't you let the people know about this before the bomb fell," asked Mrs. Darrel F. Landmesser, 737 E. Vandepool.

Commissioner James F. Carey pointed out that if Grattop had resigned as he was requested to, there would have been no need for the "scandal."

"This is the way he chose to take," Carey added.

Whitcomb of 3141 McClure wondered why the dismissal couldn't have been handled "more diplomatically."

"There is no way to fire a man diplomatically," retorted Mayor Robert J. Huber.

The audience was told the petitions would probably be read and filed, and no action taken.

"No action can be taken under the present charter," Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson said.

"Well, if nothing else, this has certainly pointed out the need for better communication between the people and city management," Whitcomb said.

Huber reminded Whitcomb that there was a continual invitation to the public to attend commission sessions, if they wanted to know what was going on.

Ortonville-Brandon Merger Halted by Change of Mind

A petition to annex 186 acres in Brandon Township to the Village of Ortonville was denied yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors when it became apparent that the majority of signers had since changed their minds.

County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy told the board that 13 of the 17 original petitioners for annexation later submitted letters stating they no longer favored joining the village.

County supervisors voted 59 to 20 against the proposed annexation in spite of a committee recommendation that they favor it.

The board's decision is final under the old Michigan Village Act, although the question can be resubmitted by petition at any time.

The decision was made after a public hearing yesterday during which the supervisors heard both sides of the question discussed at length.

BACKS ANNEXATION

Village President Charles Sherman said the proposed annexation to the south of present village limits was necessary for the continued growth of the community.

Brandon Township Supervisor Alex Solley told fellow supervisors that the only property owner in the proposed area favoring annexation now was a Birmingham land developer, Donald Glenn.

"He wants to subdivide the property for new homes and realizes he will get free blacktopping of new roads if it is within the village; otherwise he has to pay for it," said Solley.

Several property owners said they originally signed the annexation petition without realizing that their taxes would go up to no immediate advantage.

They said they were asked to sign by members of the Village Council.

OTHER RECOMMENDATION

The supervisors' boundaries committee voted 3 to 2 in recommending that annexation be approved.

Committee Chairman Thomas Tiley said the members saw the issue as a struggle between the developer and a farmer, George Kruckho of 761 Ortonville. Kruckho owns the largest piece of vacant land in the proposed area and is opposed to joining the village because of taxes.

Tiley said he personally felt that if the annexation was approved, Kruckho could have his property withdrawn later by appealing in Circuit Court.

This would have satisfied both parties in Tiley's opinion.

The old Village Act precludes any necessity for a public election on annexation. Only two villages besides Ortonville still come under the act in Oakland County. They are Holly and Clarkston.

To come under the new act of 1965, which allows for an election on annexation, a special village election would have to be held in each of the three instances.

Although a member of the play group, Councilman John O'Donnell attacked the idea, saying, "There is a lot of land near Rochester that is available . . . I would be remiss if we decided part of the Civic Center to the players."

Countering that the playhouse would be a cultural asset, Thurey Allen, spokesman for the group, said financing was assured and the organization was ready to build this fall.

Council reluctantly agreed to Allen's request to consider the proposal, but were supported by Village Attorney Arthur Cox.

Disturbed at council reaction, Village President John Boerbert said he had hopefully urged the players to consider a site in town rather than another sought for reasoning on Washington Road in Avon Township.

He said there are legal obstacles to transferring ownership or leasing the land to a private group.

Players Denied Village's Land

Opposition is Voiced at Rochester Meeting

ROCHESTER — An amateur playhouse will not be a part of the village's Civic Center if village councilmen hold their views expressed at last night's meeting.

Stiff opposition was expressed to a proposed lease of center property adjacent to the Municipal Building to the non-profit Avon Playhouse Corp.

Although a member of the play group, Councilman John O'Donnell attacked the idea, saying, "There is a lot of land near Rochester that is available . . . I would be remiss if we decided part of the Civic Center to the players."

Construction Eyed

ROCHESTER — New construction for Rochester, both public and private, captured the Village Council's attention at its session last night.

The council voted to accept design of a new DPW garage costing an estimated $53,000 and to advertise for bids. Councilmen also had their first look at plans for an 18-acre proposed multiple-dwelling development.

Village Manager Paul York said the new DPW garage will be located on Wilcox north of Woodward, adjoining the DPW storage building.

Drawings presented by village engineering consultants show a building with steel arched framework and concrete block construction. The 7,000 square feet of space will include DPW offices.

The council supported York's recommendation to open bids on the garage Oct. 9. He said sufficient funds are available in the current budget.

The council referred to the regional planning commission a proposal to build multiple housing units on a parcel near Baldwin and the New York Central Railroad tracks.

Fred York, attorney representing developer Herman Ioppolo of Utica, said the project will follow a "town-house" theme similar to others in the Detroit area. Residents will purchase, rather than rent, their units on a $6-year mortgage basis, York said.

LOWER RATES

When Village President John Boerbert questioned the long mortgage, the attorney said this type of financing, backed by the federal government, results in lower than usual interest rates.

York said the land being considered is unfit for single-family dwellings since it requires considerable grading to eliminate small hills and gulleys. The parcel has also been the center of a controversy over dirt removal, and led to a new ordinance now under study.

Council took no other action on a request that the property be rezoned for multiple dwellings.

Tentative Date Given Hearing on New-Con

DETROIT (AP) — Three federal judges have set Nov. 4 as the tentative date for trial of a suit challenging the new state constitution's apportionment of the Michigan Legislature.

A group of state representatives and Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle filed the suit. It charges that the constitution's apportionment clause violates the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

The suit names Secretary of State James Hare as defendant because he is in charge of all state elections. Three Republican state senators are named as codefendants.

Presiding at the Nov. 4 trial will be U.S. District Judge Fred W. Kaess, Federal Judge Clifford O'Sullivan of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati and Federal Judge Stephen J. Roth.

Following a pretrial hearing in Detroit yesterday, the panel gave Stanton S. Faville, chief assistant attorney general, 45 days to reply to a presentation made by Scholle's attorney, Theodore Sachs.

Sachs said at the hearing he can show that, under the new representation formula, certain areas would have from four to eight times the voting power of other areas.

Sachs and Scholle contended apportionment should be based on population.

The formula prescribed by the new constitution is based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on land area.

Hurler's '2nd Career' Puts Cardinals Close

By The Associated Press
Curt Simmons, admittedly working on his "second career," has reached another lofty plateau while moving the challenging St. Louis Cardinals to within three games of the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 34-year-old left-hander posted the 30th shutout of his career Monday night, stopping the Chicago Cubs 6-0 on five hits as the streaking Cardinals kept the pressure on the Dodgers by rolling to their 12th victory in 13 games.

The Cardinals haven't been this close to the front-runners since July 4. The Dodgers, who were not scheduled Monday night, have 19 games remaining to the Cardinals' 17, including a three-game series between the two teams at St. Louis starting next Monday. Simmons says this is "my second career — this time as a pitcher, not a thrower." The first ended after a fling in the minors, where the former Philadelphia Whiz Kid tried to regain the form that made him a 17-game winner for the pennant-winning Phillies of 1950.

SECOND CAREER

Released during the 1950 season, Simmons got a second chance with the Cardinals — and started career No. 2. He posted a 9-10 record in 1951, was 10-10 last year and this season has become a key man on an in-and-out staff with a 147 record and a 2.60 earned run average.

While Simmons took care of the pitching, Bill White took care of the punch for the Cardinals, becoming the third National League pitcher to reach the 100-RBI level by driving in three runs with a double and two singles.

Tonight, the Cardinals will again be home to the Cubs, sending Bob Gibson, 16-4, to the mound, against Chicago's Glen Hobbie, 7-9. The Dodgers will start Sandy Koufax, 22-5, at Pittsburgh against Don Cardwell, 13-13.

In the only other NL games scheduled Monday, third-place Milwaukee swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati 9-2 and 7-4, and the New York Mets defeated Philadelphia 6-3.

Simmons, registering his second straight shutout and his fifth of the season, got into his only jam in the sixth inning when he was touched for a double by Steve Boros and Billy Williams' infield hit with two out. Simmons then tore down and got Ron Santo to pop up for the final out of the inning.

White, joining Milwaukee's Hank Aaron and Cardinal teammate Ken Boyer as a member of the 100-RBI club, drove in a run in the Cardinals' two-run first inning against Cal Koonce and wound up the scoring with a two-run double in the seventh. Julian Javier chipped in with a homer for St. Louis.

Rookie Bob Sadowski won his fourth straight game for the Braves in the opener, limiting the Reds to six hits and bringing his record to 5-5.

In the nightcap, Hank Aaron doubled in the Braves' first run, then tagged his 30th homer, with a man aboard in the seventh inning, to clinch it and extend Milwaukee's winning streak to seven games. Bob Hendley got the victory.

Consecutive first inning homers by Ron Hunt and Jim Hickman started the Mets off and Roger Craig managed to hold off the Phillies the rest of the way on seven hits. Craig is now 5-20. Don Hosk hit a homer for Philadelphia.

Drysdale Quit Greasy Kid Stuff

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD — Don Drysdale is pulling an Ozzie Nelson. The Dodgers pitching ace has his whole family in show business.

The William Morris Agency, in a package deal, represents Don, his pretty wife, Ginger, and their 3-year-old daughter, Kelly.

Don even has a press agent. Drysdale has a one word explanation for his interest in show biz: money.

Mounted Police to Hold Camp

14 Oakland Horsemen in 4-State Meeting

The Oakland County Sheriff's posse will be represented by 14 members when mounted police divisions from four states hold a camp-out in Kent County this weekend.

About 300 deputies from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin are expected to attend the three-day session at the Cedar Springs Recreation Area near Kent City.

The purpose of the meeting is to promote and further the aims of posses in police work, said Deputy Robert Taylor, spokesman for the posse.

The county organization is believed to be oldest among the 40 posses in the state. It was started in 1947 and presently has 21 members.

The meeting is sponsored by the Michigan Association of Sheriff's Posses. About 150 deputies from the four states attended the first meeting last year, held at Ionia.

COMPETITION

Pistol competition and drills on horseback are scheduled for the program, which begins Friday.

"We have proven our worth in marksmanship and tracking down lost children, but it's generally felt that posses can be used more in other areas of law enforcement," Taylor said.

He said these areas will be explored at business meetings during the camp-out.

There are about 100 species of swallows. The most common in America is the barn swallow.

I get five times as much mail and the letters all begin the same: 'Are you still using that greasy kid stuff?' Makes you think."

Frank Sinatra has signed Drysdale to a recording contract with Reprise-Warner Bros. Records. Television and movie producers—hoping to cash in on the potent chance that the Dodgers will be in the World Series—are after him.

Drysdale, a handsome giant in the John Wayne tradition is a natural for he-man roles. He also is the first to admit he's no actor. "I'd like to study but I don't think I'll have the time—I'm getting too many offers to star in shows."

WIFE ACTS

Ginger, his wife, is a former tournament of roses princess—and still looks it. She has been doing commercials under the name of Ginger Drysdale but her husband says she will use her maiden name in the future.

"She was all set to do a big commercial for an oil company when someone asked her if she were any relation to me," he said. "It cost her the job."

A rival oil company sponsors the Dodgers on radio and television.

The baby is signed for commercial television modeling.

Drysdale doesn't let his acting career interfere with baseball.

"It's strictly a winter job for men," he says.

They Just Make Him 'Boyle'

These Things Are the 'Gripes' of Wrath

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could all do without:

Girls who always wear tennis shoes but never play tennis. Any comedian who can't think up anything funnier to do than to knock his wife and mother-in-law. Television commercials showing people taking baths with an expression on their faces as if they were enjoying an orgy.

Professional football players who spend all their time in the locker room telling younger players what kind of goo to put on their hair. Restaurants that have an extra charge for bread and butter. Waiters who take your order without indicating whether they heard you. Executives who brag about how much work they take home with them at night—after doing nothing in the office all day.

SHOE HUNT

Women who kick off their shoes at the movies and then start hunting for them out loud just as the film reaches a climax. Small grave-eyed children who shake hands with you with a moist lollipop glued to their tiny paw. Fat ladies on picnics who, after an ant crawls under their girdle, glare at you as if you had sliced the insect on them.

All men over 40 who stand on their hands at the beach and all women under 40 who admire these juvenile masculine acrobats.

Ten-cent magazines that now sell for four bits. The 20-cent hot dog that tastes no better than the nickel hot dog used to. People who invite you to their house for dinner—and then serve you a warmed-over, store-bought pizza. Anybody who swears off smoking, except for the cigarettes he can borrow from you.

People who take up collections in the office for needless purposes—such as sending flowers to the boss' wife if her cat has kittens. Strangers who get mad if you answer the phone when they have dialed the wrong number. Strangers who call up when you're taking a nap and ask, "Don't you think it's time to review your insurance portfolio?"

ZIPPER GRIPES

Zipper on the back of wives' dresses. Why don't they put them in front so a woman can zip up herself. Automatic elevators with pipes-in music, thus forcing you to listen to the "Overture from William Tell" while stuck between the 26th and 27th floors.

Jokes about John F. Kennedy and his family which originally were told about Franklin D. Roosevelt and his family.

Books on how to succeed by authors who never did. All tooth-pastes with magic ingredients.

You to get more sleep and quit worrying about your finances. Dentists who tell you "This is going to hurt a little" when they know it's going to hurt a lot. From these and other pests, dear Lord, deliver us, Amen.

Hungarian Premier

on Jaunt to Yugoslavia

BEGRAD, Yugoslavia (AP)—Janos Kadar, premier of Hungary and first secretary of the Central Committee of the Hungarian Communist party, arrived Monday night for an unofficial visit to Yugoslavia.

He was welcomed by President Tito at Karadjordjevo, Tito's hunting lodge in northern Yugoslavia.

North's two heart response was a Jacoby Transfer Bid (JTB). It tells his partner, who has opened one no-trump, that North has at least five spades and will tell South more about his hand later. Meanwhile South must bid two spades and wait for North to hear further from North.

A two diamond response by North would have shown hearts in the same manner. A two club response or two spade response would also have been artificial, but not a transfer bid.

North's pass supplied the further information that he had a poor hand with no interest in game. East knew this, but was ready to enter the bidding with his seven points. West would have liked to back in but he had already passed the two spade bid. He might have acted earlier, but until North passed West had no idea just where North was heading.

At two spades, South won the opening heart lead and led the queen of trumps. Eventually he had to lose two trumps, one heart and two clubs which left him with enough tricks for his contract.

If North and South had not been using the JTB, North would have responded two spades and probably played the hand at that contract. He might have made it, but the chances are that East would have opened the jack of clubs. The defense would start with two club tricks and a ruff and while North might still make two spades if he knew where all the cards were he would most likely have been set.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid the Jacoby transfer of two hearts. West bids three diamonds and your partner bids three spades. East passes. What do you do now?

Will Juries Trust Him?

Valachi's Witness Value Doubted

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—No criminal case can ever be much better than the credibility of the witnesses for the prosecution. If a jury distrusts a witness or decides he is lying under oath, the cause is lost almost automatically.

That fact stamps a big question mark across the name of Joseph Valachi, the low-echelon gangster who has thrown himself on the mercy of the federal government and promised to tell all he knows about organized crime.

His first public appearance will take place shortly before the Senate Rackets Committee. Later he probably will be taken before grand juries in an attempt to get indictments against major gangsters.

Nobody is quite sure what kind of witness Valachi will make. "He has his ups and downs," said a spokesman for the Department of Justice. "One day he will be calm and tell a rational, connected story. The next day he will not be so good. You have to remember that the man is badly scared."

UNEDUCATED MAN

Valachi is an uneducated man. He speaks in a guttural voice that may not be clearly understood in the far reaches of hearing rooms and grand jury chambers.

If he gets excited and confused on the witness stand—and there is a fair chance he will at some stage of his testimony—he is going to stir suspicions among the listeners as to the validity of what he is saying.

It would be misleading to judge the impact of Valachi's testimony on the basis of what is publicly known about the story he is telling.

He is under maximum security guard at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and has been talking off and on for almost a year. It may be that the Justice Department has some dynamite that will give the underworld a bad jar, but if so it is being kept secret.

SONG SESSION

This is what is publicly known about Valachi's prolonged "singing session": He has outlined the organization of what he calls Cosa Nostra ("Our Business" or

"Our Thing") a loose confederation of gangs in at least eight cities.

Each of these is called "a family," he says, controlled by a boss. There are lieutenants under the boss and each is in charge of a "crew."

Valachi says he joined the organization in 1930 and took a blood oath (his finger was pricked) to die rather than betray it.

He supplied some of the argot of the underworld. When a gangster is ordered to kill somebody, it is called a "contract." You get a contract when you are ordered to "hit" a man.

Orders to "hit" are almost always issued by the boss, and Valachi said the bosses included: Vito Genovese, New York (although there apparently are five "families" in New York); Sam Giancana, Chicago; Joseph Zerilli, Detroit; Sebastian Larocca, Pittsburgh; Angelo Bruno, Philadelphia; Stefano Magaddino, Buffalo; Raymond Patriarca, New England; and John T. Scallish, Cleveland.

Much of this information was not exactly fresh news to police and other law enforcement officers in those cities. The problem has been, not to identify the gang leaders, but to get something on them that will stand up in court.

Valachi, for instance, has talked freely about some 30 murders, but as a New York prosecutor put it: "Our office can act only on evidence, and Valachi's statements are pure hearsay."

What the Justice Department hopes is that Valachi can come up with some information about the middle and lower-echelon members of the crime organization. One source said he already had done so and federal agents now are busy questioning those persons in an attempt to obtain corroboration of Valachi's stories and build a solid structure of evidence.

Valachi himself never rose out of the lower ranks.

"He was what is known as a 'button man,' said one federal official. "I suppose that means just a run of the mill gangster, probably equivalent to private first class or maybe a non-commissioned officer in the Army."

LITTLE MONEY

"He never had much money."

The big boys occasionally would throw him a gambling concession or a piece of the narcotics racket. But Valachi was an inveterate horse player and it was easy come easy go.

The man's hole card in the underworld was his friendship with Vito Genovese, a New York "boss" about whom considerable misinformation has circulated in the last month.

He has been depicted as the supreme commander of the American gangs, a sort of oriental potentate tossing occasional scraps of favors to his underlings and issuing "contracts" sometimes in a whimsical manner. Genovese is currently serving a 15-year prison term for narcotics violation and at one time was Valachi's cell mate in Atlanta Penitentiary.

A piece of fiction that refuses to die is that Genovese still controls the underworld by sending a steady stream of orders from his cell. The Justice Department pointed out that, considering the close scrutiny given to a prisoner's mail and visitors, Genovese would have to be doing it by mental telepathy.

This reporter can state unequivocally that he does not have a private telephone in his cell.

Genovese did not dominate the underworld, but he was an important figure and Valachi stayed on his payroll for years. Then he got scared and turned stool pigeon.

Needless to say, the friendship is terminated. Genovese has an appeal of his narcotics conviction coming up this fall before the Supreme Court.

The legend that he still dictates the affairs of the underworld probably got started because members of his New York "family" are waiting to see whether the boss can win his way back into circulation.

Morning Raid Nets 5 Fines

Five men arrested in a Pontiac police vice squad raid on an illegal liquor establishment pleaded guilty to charges before Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan Saturday and were fined a total of $100.

Tony Stollhoff, 72, of 491 Franklin paid a $100 fine for maintaining and operating an illegal liquor place at that address.

Four others paid $15 each for loitering. They are Charles Eason, 21, of 198 E. Huron; Frank Covington, 54, of 120 State; Perry Roberts, 52, of 19 Fiddis; and Walter Jones, 44, of 115 E. Huron.

The raid took place at 4:15 a.m. Saturday.

Four Circuits Taking on New Look During 1963

NWS Debuts; Rochester in Oakland A Loop

Season May Be Best in History; Opening Games on Weekend

There will be a slightly different look to four area football leagues when the season gets underway this weekend.

And it promises to be the best one in the history of county football. There are several squads that could place high in the state ratings.

The area's representation on the AP All-State teams should increase.

Forty-four high schools in the county field football teams. There are over 1,300 varsity players.

The Northwest Suburban is the only new league. Member schools are Birmingham Groves, North Farmington, Oak Park, Livonia Franklin and Detroit Thurston.

Rochester moves from the Tri-County to the Oakland A. Warren Cousino, now an 11th grade school, makes its O-A debut.

Moving from the South Central to the Tri-County is Oxford. Decker will fill the vacancy in the SCC.

Northwest Catholic schools won't participate in the Detroit Catholic playoff this fall. This has left at least two vacancies on the member schools' schedules. St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary will play twice.

BIG GAMES

If pre-season form holds true, some of the big games this fall will be Walled Lake against Pontiac Northern, Birmingham Seaholm against Royal Oak Kimball, Clarkston opposing West Bloomfield, Waterford Our Lady playing Royal Oak St. Mary and Kettering against L'Anse Creuse.

The outcome of these contests could decide league championships. Top rivalry games come in a hurry.

Seaholm faces Groves this Friday, St. Frederick and St. Michael clash Sunday as do RO St. Mary and OL St. Mary.

Other traditional games later in the season will be PNH-Pontiac Central, Waterford - Kettering, Fenton - Holly, West Bloomfield-Bloomfield Hills, Avondale-Lake Orion, Troy-Clawson and Almont-Dryden.

The caliber of play has been improving each season.

This fall should be no exception.

Football Squibs

Oregon has won all seven previous football clashes against San Jose State.

Princeton holds a 28-4 edge in its football rivalry with Columbia.

Yale has beaten Connecticut in all 14 football meetings.

The annual Pontiac Swami Association conference has now been called to order by the chairman for the past two years, Honorable Swami Don Vogel.

On the agenda for the 13-week convention will be a check of the Grapevine to see the ripe results of grid melons and to take a careful tally out of the crystal ball to predict the scores.

Along with Swami Vogel, Swami Craig and Swami Kearns are the "returning veterans" from last year's convention. A new swami is expected to be initiated into the 1963 association shortly.

The early crop of grid grapes from the grapevine are a little green but here are the pickings to be made this weekend, primarily in prep and pro ranks.

Press Seeking Football Shoe Hard to Fit

County's Top Gridder Will Have Footwear Bronzed Plated

Wanted: One shoe.

No, not an ordinary shot, but one that will see action on a high school gridiron somewhere in Oakland County almost every weekend from now to November.

The shot must be hard to fill by anyone other than its present teen-age possessor, and one that will never be filled after the current occupant finishes with it.

This particular foot covering belongs to the top all-around high school football player in Oakland County, and will be coated in bronze when he has been selected.

The wearer must have talented feet, strong desire and an intelligent mind to complement a good personality.

The potential winners of the Tom McAn Bronze Shoe award this season are countless, and the favorites currently are numerous.

Although quarterbacks have dominated their prior selections, lineman and running backs have also been picked. All have gone on to college.

WINNERS

The most recent winner was Royal Oak Shrine's outstanding quarterback, Chuck Lowther. Selected last year, he made it three straight for signal-callers as Steve Juday of Northville was the 1961 winner, and Ferndale's Mike Brown in 1960.

Charley Brown of Pontiac Central in 1959 and Lou Pavloff of Hazel Park in 1957 were chosen for their line play. John Lucadamo's performance at quarterback for West Bloomfield earned him the nod in 1958; while the first winner was Walled Lake's fine fullback in 1956 John Walker.

The student selected by the Press sports staff will be eligible to compete nationally for a $1,000 scholarship. None of the previous nominees has been honored by the Tom McAn Co. as the top candidate on the national basis.

In addition to football ability, the nominee will need a high academic rating plus top sports-demic rating plus top sports-demic rating plus top sports-demic rating.

Contender Role for Ortonville

A big, experienced line and returning backfield talent help boost Ortonville Brandon into a contender's role in the Suburban C League.

The Black Hawks finished tied for third last season. Returning from that squad are 15 lettermen.

Included are two-year tackle letterwinners Roger Cascadden (200) and Joe Spreess (200). Guard Jim Sherman (170) is another veteran.

Halfbacks Roger Wills and Steve Hubbs and fullback Ed McNulty lettered last year.

JV Help Needed by Utica Eleven

Help from last season's junior varsity is needed if Utica is to repeat its third place finish in the Bi-County League.

Gone are the first liners who carried the Chieftains to a 6-3 over-all record. All told, Utica lost 20 lettermen.

On hand to direct the offense is quarterback Ron Paschal who is in his third varsity season. Guard Ken Plucinski (220) is another double letterwinner.

Guard Ken Milk (175), end Robert Belten (170) and halfback Herb Wiles return.

Newcomers being counted on are backs Randy Mankowski and Doug Pine and lineman Dave McIntosh (170) and Mike Seafurri (190).

Major Leaguer's Son

ANN ARBOR — Tom Mack, varsity end candidate on the University of Michigan football squad this fall, is the son of Ray Mack former Cleveland Indian star for a number of years. Tom played his high school ball at Cleveland Heights high school, and lives with his parents in Bucyrus, O.

Optimism Is 'Premium' at PCH

Only Four Lettermen as Nucleus

That may not be funeral black, after all, the Pontiac Central gridiron team will wear this season.

When a Saginaw Valley Conference team has no starters and only four lettermen returning from a team that won only three of nine starts the preceding season, the outlook is decidedly grim. BIG JOB

Coach Paul Dellerba has a large rebuilding job in front of him, but after a week of practice the Chiefs' mentor was not moaning his sad state of affairs.

"This is one of the best groups of boys I've had to work with," he confessed last week.

The reason for his optimistic report was a surprising crop of sophomore candidates and two eager quarterbacks who Dellerba confided were "going to run the team."

Senior Bob Wiggins, decidedly small at 5-7 and 150 pounds, and promising Jerry Murphy, a 5-11, 145 pound sophomore, are running the show not only in scrimmages but also in the calisthenics drills.

Halfbacks Willie Harris and John Smith offers some experience as Orange and Black lettermen at the running back positions. Esjaye Whithers and Smith could see extensive service in the defensive backfield.

Dick Gooley at center is the only veteran lineman, although Dick Northcross, Neal Peterson and sophomore Tom Jenkins have the size to mix it up along the forward wall.

Transfer student Ed Chase shows promise at end along with Jan Anderson. John Knox is another transfer student who has the size for the line or the plunging fullback role.

Ken Seay at 5-8 and 164 pounds could break into the backfield as a sophomore. Mercure Washington is a returning offensive back.

The current frontliners could be reserves soon as Dellerba continues to eye his sophomore and junior prospects. He lacks depth at all positions and is shifting players to fill gaps.

A ray of hope may be found in the schedule. Potent Bay City Central is the opening night foe at Wisner Stadium Friday followed by an away contest at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

BC Central should be a contender this season in the SVC. The Chiefs could be fortunate in catching it at the season's start before it has jelled.

Arthur Hill could very well have a letdown against PCH after catching arch-rival Saginaw in the Lumberjacks' opener this Friday.

While the Chiefs have no breathers on the slate, the opening two weeks may give Dellerba a good indication how much production he can expect from his sophomores, and if Wiggins and Murphy will be able to spur their teammates on the playing field as they have in practice.

If so, the closing weeks of the season could find PCH on the upswing.

Midland, Bay City Central Rated Tops in SVC Forecast

The tough Saginaw Valley Conference is no bed of roses for gridiron dreams of grandeur. Many good teams have fallen on evil times during the course of a season.

This season the loop appears somewhat fragmented with possibly four teams fighting for the championship, two teams battling to slip in among the contenders and the other three squads hoping to be effective spoilers.

The contenders should definitely be Bay City Central and Midland, while Bay City Handy and Saginaw Arthur Hill show promise of making it a four-way fight. Flint Southwestern and Flint Central are expected to battle it out for the city championship and could find their way as high as third place in the Valley with some breaks.

For Saginaw, Flint Northern and Pontiac Central the road will be rocky with an occasional high point — if they are lucky.

The coaches at BC Central and other coaches are. The word is beware of the northern Valley powerhouses.

Elmer Engel is entering his 14th season at BC Central, and it could be one of his best. He has size, defense, running, passing and blocking.

With luck, Wolves' followers will celebrate a league championship and perhaps a state one in November. There are 11 boys weighing 200 pounds or better for the line to protect an all-senior backfield.

TOUGH DEFENSE

Midland has its tough defense in tact from last season's co-champions, and a good looking southpaw quarterback in Dan Jaster. The offensive line has gaps, but there are also prospects to fill the holes.

An early indication of the Chemicals' potential is expected Friday when they clash with Bay City Handy, probably before 9,000 rabid fans.

Handy does have the conference's most imposing line, with middle guard Al Heglund a 6-2, 260-pound behemoth abetted in his defensive skulduggery by team captain Wayne Meylan (6-1, 225 pounds). There is good size along the entire offensive line.

The backfield could be a problem, though, unless Chuck Kopec can develop into the field general at quarterback.

Arthur Hill has 10 lettermen back after finishing ninth last season. Its strength appears along the line, although only average in size.

Like Handy, the Lumberjacks must find a capable field leader to complement runners Dan Jones and Terry Hackett. Art Gelow, 150-pound senior, appears the top candidate at quarterback. Paul Minnis is a promising transfer who has moved in at end.

Flint Central could be a real darkhorse. It is green but a flock of outstanding junior varsity candidates have moved up to returning letter winners Mel Summers, Norm Walter and Tom Pierson along the line.

Both Central and Southwestern will be looking for quarterbacks and backfield depth. Dan Bearbower is a 225-pound center who will probably anchor the Colts' line.

Northern lost standout runner Dalton Kimble, and 24 other lettermen. It must depend on speed and some big linemen to overcome a decided lack of experience and depth.

Neither Saginaw or Pontiac Central appear to have the potential for better than seventh place in the nine team circuit.

THE FORECAST:
1. Bay City City
2. Midland
3. Bay City Handy
4. Flint Central
5. Saginaw Arthur Hill
6. Flint Northern
7. Flint Southwestern
8. Saginaw
9. Pontiac Central

The self-styled upset champ, Major Hoople has picked innumerable upsets in the past and says he is prepared to duplicate this feat in 1963.

PCH ENDS — Jan Anderson (right) and Danny Thomas are bidding for first string berths for Pontiac Central. There are only four letterwinners back, leaving most positions wide open.

Broken Bone for Bear

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Martin, a Chicago Bears kick-return specialist, suffered a broken bone in his left leg in Saturday night's 14-7 victory over the Baltimore Colts at New Orleans. Martin returned to Chicago with the squad Sunday.

Konley County Football 'Dean'

Twenty years on any job certainly must make a man a veteran. When it comes to football in Oakland County, the "dean" of 44 county coaches has to be Rochester's Gene Konley.

Konley, the pudgy power of the football Falcons, has an outstanding record of 116 wins, 44 losses and only two ties in his 19 years. The two ties could indicate Konley's philosophy in football to play to win.

In overall length of service to county football, Bob Mine-weaver follows with 16 years, 14 of which were at St. Mike. Frank Crowell at Avondale has 11 years behind him while Monte Charles at Southfield and Ron Horwath at Northville have 10 years of total service each.

Starting their 10th years are Bob Hayes at Farmington, Rev. John Rakoczy at Orchard Lake, and Carl Lemle at Birmingham Seaholm.

WINNINGEST COACH

Winningest percentage at one school belongs to Horwath with five years at Northville and a record of 37-7-1 for .878.

Dave Smith at Walled Lake

Building Program Now Completed for Lamphere 11

For three years coach Joe Borovick has been building a Central Suburban League contender at Madison Heights Lamphere.

"But the kids didn't grow as we expected," said the veteran coach. "Lutheran East and Huron will be the teams to beat, but I'm not counting us out yet."

If Lamphere can get past its first games — at Clawson and Avondale — without suffering any key injuries, the Rams should be ready for the league's best.

Best of the returning lettermen are guards Larry Smolka (180), and Walt Prochowski (170), tackle Bob Sartain (210), end Dan Coua (170), and halfbacks Steve Zdon and Earl Brock.

Fails to See Jinx

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Fullback Jim Grisham of Oklahoma University is a good bet to escape the "junior jinx" which seems to strike football players after sensational sophomore seasons, in the view of his coach.

Coach Bud Wilkinson notes that players who star as sophomores, as Grisham did, often fall off as juniors because they fail to work as hard.

"I think Grisham has as good a chance to avoid this hazard as anyone I have ever been around," says Wilkinson.

and Art Paddy at West Bloomfield and Pin Ryan at Kimball have established outstanding records in their stays of more than five years. Smith can boast of 5 Inter-Lakes titles.

Frank Joranko at Ferndale has a fine 15-2-1 record in only two years after the long tenure of Ted Meister, one of the most successful county coaches who retired in 1960 after 22 years at the helm with a record 116-58-11.

In the county area, Lapeer's John Fitzpatrick holds the honor in his 11 years with a 56-33-5 record while the "dean" nominee in the Saginaw Valley has to be Elmer Engle at Bay City Central with 88 wins 25 losses and three ties in 13 years.

New members to the county football coaching fraternity this fall are Bob Dingman at Pontiac Northern, Bud Duff at St. Fred, Lyle Albrant at Oak Park and Ernie Mousseau at Ortonville.

Romeo has Stan Motschen-backer as new coach in the area, as do Capac with Thomas Christiansen and Memphis with Jim Wilkinsen.

Walled Lake Major Block to I-L Crown

Huskies' New Mentor Faces 3 Challenges; Open at Troy

Pontiac Northern must mount three ominous stepping stones if it aspires to heights of gridiron glory this season.

 New coach Bob Dingman needs to produce a win over Walled Lake, the Inter-Lakes League title and a victory over Pontiac Central to achieve a football plateau never reached by Huskie eleven.

 The stones will arise in that order, although the final one may not be quite as high to reach as the first two. Dingman apparently has inherited the solid nucleus necessary to fulfill such aspirations.

With some filling in and the proper spirit, PNH should be able to handle its league foes — with the possible exception of Walled Lake which has never lost to Northern.

Team captain Don Weyer rates with the better runners in the county. He is complemented by experienced, able quarterback Jim Kimmel.

 Jimmy DeFlorio will back up Kimmel and may take a fling at ball carrying. Other promising backfield material includes Mike Samulow, Steve Daniel, Mike Woodruff and John Cojocar.

LINEMEN
 Stocky Larry Cheek moves from center to tackle on the forward wall with Cliff Ashley now handling the snap.

The PNH staff visualizes some depth up front as Al Rayner, Jerry Wallis, Paul Marien, Bob Bates, George Miller, Larry Dean, Roger Coleman and Ron Dempsey all bring strength and desire to the battle for linemen's jobs.

Dave Gruber is another candidate who has been held back by an injury.

The end prospects include Dean Souden, John Samulow, Tom Nichols and John Bland.

 Rayner, Wallis, Weyer and Daniel are good linebacking aspirants who could inspire a strong defensive combine if the staff can find some defensive halfbacks.

 The Huskies will open at Troy Friday night where football is usually well played. Three of the first four PNH starts will be on the road. The schedule has several possible traps.

Dingman has spent a lot of time familiarizing himself with the Northern material and the football opponents.

 The potential seems there for the finest PNH gridiron season — if the team doesn't stumble on one of the unsuspected slippery stepping stones before reaching the bigger ones.

Vikings Get I-L Nod

The Inter-Lakes nod goes to Walled Lake with Pontiac Northern rated the strongest challenger.

An experienced backfield and big, mobile line are the reasons Walled Lake is expected to continue its domination of the league in football.

 Northern has never defeated the Vikings.

If the Huskies can turn the trick this year, there are few who doubt PNH will miss the No. 1 spot.

 Farmington must be rated a darkhorse. Waterford and Southfield are rebuilding. Berkley, hit by graduation, will be involved in the three-way dogfight for fourth place.

The Bears and Southfield were supposed to rule the league last season, but Berkley never really got started and the Blue Jays were winless.

Coach Dave Smith's only problem at Walled Lake probably will be overconfidence. And past records shows that the Vikings aren't noted for taking any team lightly.

PNH has already been slowed by injuries and new head coach Bob Dingman would like to have more speed from his veteran line.

This year's team is the best in PNH's short history.

Farmington hit the bottom in football a couple of years ago. But since then coach Jack Hayes has slowly been molding a title contender. The Yellow Jackets will be waiting in the wings for the contenders to falter.

Waterford's Skippers have hopes of reaching the first division in the six-team loop. How fast the interior line comes along will be the determining factor.

POSSIBLE SPOILER

Southfield could very well be the league's spoiler.

Coach Monte Charles started using underclassmen last season after it became apparent the seniors were not even going to be close to their high pre-season rating. This experience could result in a key upset or two.

Berkley lost its one-man offense — Dick Kakkuri. The Bears also are without several other key players who left via the diploma route.

The Forecast:
 1. Walled Lake
 2. Pontiac Northern
 3. Farmington
 4. Southfield
 5. Waterford
 6. Berkley

Southfield Eyes Comeback From Disastrous '62 Season

The fall of 1962 was a disappointment for Southfield.

Instead of making a big noise in Inter-Lakes League football as predicted, the Blue Jays fell flat. They finished in last place.

The big names have graduated and a band of unheralded seniors and underclassmen will try to pick up the pieces of that tragic campaign a year ago.

Buzz Jenks is the only standout returning. He was one of the top Class A centers in the county last season, but has been switched to guard for 1963. This leaves the pivot chores in the hands of seniors Dave Dawson and Phil Finell.

Berecky and George Glinski are vying for starting berths on each side of center.

Tom Hanford and Tom Linebaugh are senior ends. Dick Smigelski is expected to see a lot of action at flanker along with Rod Brown.

Dick Legros and Don Ford return at tackle. They are being pushed by Al Cohen. Sophomore Kane Boschma may work into the lineup.

Jim Larson and Jerry Hough are battling for the right half-back job. Juniors Tom Zurcher and Serle Fournier are the leading fullback candidates.

This emphasis on underclassmen seems to indicate that the Southfield coaching staff is looking forward to the Blue Jays future participation in a new league.

Southfield and Berkley will leave the Inter-Lakes to join with Ferndale, Birmingham Seaholm, Royal Oak Kimball and Hazel Park from the Eastern Michigan League. The EML will divide in half after this school year.

Quarterback Slot Open, Too

Waterford Line a Question Mark

"Last season was our year. We had to do it then. We didn't." Waterford coach Stu Thorall was remembering the night Pontiac Northern fired a torpedo into the Skippers' hopes of the sharing the 1962 Inter-Lakes crown with Walled Lake. Among the 18 letterwinners missing from the team that tied for second are fullback Tom Grile, tackle Ed Irwin, end Harold Hunt and quarterback Bob Reader. "We lack experience along the interior line and at quarterback," said Thorall. "The team should get stronger as the season progresses."

There is good speed and size in the backfield.

Halfback Rock LaBair proved his speed last spring as the leading dashman on the track team. Lee Keiser is a 190-pound fullback who can really carry the mail.

Dick Court and Tom Hoke are fullbacks, with good potential.

There are four candidates for quarterback. Soph. Rick Ziem appears to have a slight edge, but he is being pushed by juniors Mike Dyer, Mike Freeland and Larry Hould.

Filling in at the tackles are veterans Dale Jones (190) and Bill Powell (200). End Andy Straka (185) was a regular last season. Tom Prue (190) is a letterman guard.

STRONG POSITION

End appears to be the strongest position on the club. In addition to Strake, the flankers Thorall is counting on are Chuck Sickles, Chuck Swenson and Fred Finkbeiner.

The opening game against strong West Bloomfield, top choice in the Wayne-Oakland League, should give some indication of how well the Skippers will do this fall.

"Only two teams really beat us last year," said Thorall. "They were West Bloomfield and Walled Lake. We handed Northern a victory. But we had the manpower last year."

"This season it's going to be a little more difficult."

Thorall feels that the Skippers are capable of a third place finish and may prove to be "spoilers."

Missouri Halfback Injured in Workout

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — An ankle sprain suffered in scrimmage last Saturday may keep Vince Turner, left halfback, out of the starting Missouri line-up in the Northwestern football game Sept. 21, Coach Dan Devine said Monday.

Also on the doubtful list was Ralph Kubinsky, a starting guard who suffered a knee injury in the scrimmage.

COMPLETED PASS—Chuck Swenson gathered in a pass during a Waterford workout. He outraced fellow end Fred Finkbeiner to the ball.

Hillsdale Set for Big Season

Hillsdale College has more than once been called the "Oklahoma of Michigan."

It also has been known to be the haven for surplus gridders from Ann Arbor and East Lansing.

Coach Muddy Waters, who has accumulated a record of 69 wins, 13 losses and two ties, seven MIAA championships including only one conference loss, called 1962 a rebuilding year.

Waters does little to begrudge most any football player of a letter and because of his generosity, 53 received awards last year and 39 of them are back.

Leading the 1963 Dales will be the 1958 Oakland County Outstanding Gridder of the Year, John Lucadam at quarterback. Lucadam, who starred at West Bloomfield High School, started his collegiate career at Michigan before transferring to Hillsdale.

Another outstanding transfer from Michigan to Waters' Wayside for surplus gridders is Doug Bickle, the second best scorer behind Dave Raimy at Michigan in 1961. Bickle has scholastic problems prior to last season and was one of four ends lost to the Wolverines in this same manner in 1962.

Bickle was regarded by the Wolverines as one of the best kicking specialists in many seasons at Ann Arbor. Even the pro Lions have taken a long side glance at him.

Waters himself holds an optimistic view at his 1963 prospects.

"It should be an interesting year and I believe we will be as strong if not stronger than last year. We have no glaring weaknesses," he admits.

Lost from the 1963 is leading runner Tom Ridley, former All-Oakland County star from Southfield. Ridley was the top runner on the team until a broken leg sidelined him.

Hillsdale starts the season Saturday night at home against Findlay College. Sept. 21st the Dales meet Fairmont College of West Virginia at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Football Squibs

A Rice victory against Baylor this fall would tie their football series at 21 victories each. Two games were ties.

In 33 meetings Chattanooga holds only one football victory over Tennessee. Two games were ties.

Yale holds a series edge over every Ivy League football foe.

Oklahoma attracted 352,817 fans to its six home football games last fall.

Lakeland Midgets Have Three Units

Hopes are high as the Lakeland Lakers prepare three teams for competition in the newly formed Suburban Midget Football Conference with familiar foes.

Under the guidance of the Lakeland Athletic Association, the Lakers will join four Royal Oak teams, two from Madison Heights, a Troy entry and arch-rival Walled Lake in the circuit. All were members of the All-American Little Football Conference, but broke off due to administrative and travel difficulties in that growing organization.

Lakeland will compete with varsity, junior varsity and peble teams in a seven-game schedule. The Troy and RO Rebel Rangers are not on the Lakers' slate.

Practice began last week following a clinic at the Whitfield School. Candidates are still being accepted from the Pontiac area. Boys 11 and 12 years old and from 85-120 pounds are needed for the varsity, plus youths down to 65 pounds and 9 years of age for the other two teams.

Equipment, insurance, and physical examinations are mandatory for all the players. Bob Carter handles the varsity team, Max Shane the junior varsity and the pebles are in the coaching care of Al Vidrio.

All home games will be played Sunday afternoons at the West Bloomfield High School field. The pebles kickoff at 1 p.m. and the junior varsity and varsity games follow in order.

Junior varsity and varsity contests have 12-minute quarters (running time) on the regulation field.

Further information is available from Melvin Goldman at FE 5-2431, the association secretary.

The schedule:
Sept. 22—At Madison Heights Spartans
Sept. 29—Madison Heights Wolverines
Oct. 6—Open
Oct. 12—At Royal Oak Yankee Warriors
Oct. 20—Royal Oak Rebel Raiders
Oct. 27—At Royal Oak Yankee Marauders
Nov. 3—Walled Lake

Timing Emphasized At Indiana Practice

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana's football squad emphasized play timing and ball handling in practice Monday, and Coach Phil Dickens noted with pleasure only one fumble, compared to 11 in Saturday's first big scrimmage.

Dickens said the squad's tackling was "away ahead of the rest of the game" and "we still have our hard-nosed spirit."

He said sophomore quarterback Dave Mayoras, Decatur, Ill., established himself as a strong candidate for the safety slot in Saturday's game by intercepting one pass, knocking down another and making 20 tackles.

I-L Champions Quiet

They are the champions and the team to beat, but they aren't admitting it.

Walled Lake won the Inter-Lakes League championship last year on the final night of the season with an assist from Pontiac Northern at Waterford.

Coach Dave Smith has lost the big line that spearheaded last year's drive, but he has a wealth of size and experience returning to offset most losses.

He is concentrating on developing his line and finding the leader to spur its efforts. In Roger Ruminski, Walled Lake has one of the biggest linemen in the county.

The tackle stands 6-3 and weighs 250 pounds. Ruminski is a junior and could develop into one of the best if he continues to improve.

Ken Breit is another tackle who goes over 200 pounds, while Dennis Doss and George Bullock have the size to handle the end positions very nicely. Another top tackle prospect is 5-10, 212-pound Ken Hoffman.

TOP FEATURE

The backfield will be the Vikings' best asset. Two of the county's better quarterbacks are available for Smith's use. They are John Thomas, son of ex-Detroit Lion tackle Russ Thomas, and Rick Trudeau, who stepped in last year when Thomas suffered a broken ankle and finished the successful title chase.

The flanker back will be Steve Pitcher who knows how to get up in the air for those high passes. Dean Cherre will likely run a lot from the fullback slot, while 5-9, 150-pound Pat Godfrey may provide a breakaway threat for the ground game.

Thomas, a two-year letterman, will probably get the starting call as signal caller, but Trudeau could crack the line-up as a pass-throwing halfback.

The biggest problem facing Walled Lake is its schedule.

Royal Oak Kimball is the opener Friday and the tough Knights could be too much to handle so soon.

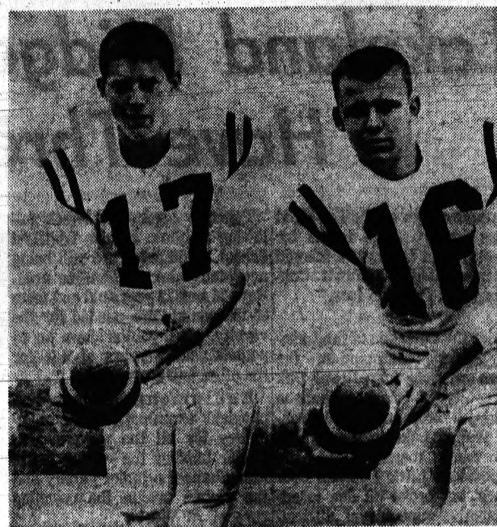

Dearborn, the second foe, promises an improved showing from last year, while, Berkley and Southfield are considered darkhorses in the I-L race.

Pontiac Northern, according to Smith, is the loop team to beat and will be met on the Vikings' field. Farmington was the only league team to defeat them last year and could be troublesome again.

Plymouth returns to the Walled Lake schedule after giving the I-L champs a sound thrashing last season. The slate is a difficult one; but Smith has the potential to cope with it.

TWO SIGNAL CALLERS — Walled Lake has a 1-2 punch at quarterback. John Thomas (right) was fast becoming one of the best in the county last season when he suffered a fractured ankle. Rick Trudeau stepped in and successfully completed directing the Vikings to the Inter-Lakes championship.

'NOW LOOK, FELLAS' — Reserve Greg Niglo looks over the towering opposition he has to overcome if he is to play regularly for Walled Lake. The big linemen are Ken Breit (77) and Roger Ruminski.

Loss of 16 Puts Gophers on Spot

Loss of 16 senior lettermen, including nine players in the "regular" category, has left gaping holes in the ranks of Minnesota's 1962 Rose Bowl champion football squad.

With no "super sophomores" in sight, the 16 returning lettermen, mostly reserves, will have to fill the gaps.

Coach Murray Warmath considers finding some one to fill Stephens vacated shoes at quarterback as his No. 1 problem.

Notre Dame Looks for Soph Help

The presence of 17 monogram winners plus a good sophomore crop which gave Notre Dame one of its better spring practice periods makes for a generally optimistic outlook for Irish football in 1962.

New coach Hugh Devore sees his club as being in better shape physically this fall than has been the case in recent years when injuries seriously handicapped many key players.

The task of replacing 22 monogram winners from the 1961 outfit that won five and lost five will not be easy. Gone via the graduation route are such standouts as end Les Traver, tackles Bob Bill and Joe Carollo, guards Nick Buoniconti and Norb Roy, center Tom Hecomovich and halfbacks Angelo Dabiero and George Sefcik, all first team members in 1961.

Top returning upperclassmen include Capt. Mike Lind, hard-running fullback and the squad's top All-America candidate, and Darryle Lamonica and Frank Budka, experienced quarterbacks who'll have a lot to say on how good a season the Irish can expect.

'Chinese Bandits' Not In Army's Lineups

The biggest change in the Army line-up, this year, will be the absence of the famous "Chinese Bandits," which — because of changes in the NCAA rules — brought an end to the defensive specialists.

Overall, the Army squad didn't suffer too much from graduation, and this year's squad should be tougher than last season's.

Coach Dietzel will have two teams of equal strength with possibly a third string of "younger players" to plug up injury gaps. Dietzel tags Carl Stichweh as the fastest QB he has ever coached.

Memphis State University just won't give up. The Tigers have lost all 17 football games played with Mississippi.

All-State Center Returns

Shrine Has BIG Backfield Hole

The top county football player is gone, but an All-State lineman returns at Royal Oak Shrine High School.

Church Lowther, winner of the Tom McAn trophy as the county's No. 1 football player, graduated but coach Al Fracassa has a new team leader in All-State center Ron Ranieri, a strapping 2-15 pounder, who doubles as a line-backer.

Shrine sped to a 6-1-1 record with Lowther doing everything at quarterback last season. It will be a lot tougher in the Detroit Catholic League's First Division

AA race for Shrine, and no championships are forecast this year.

But Fracassa can call on some talented players in the line with Charley Poser at tackle, Tim Sauter at guard and Bob Chrysler at the other tackle.

The ends will be junior Greg Malcolm and Jim Seymour, both letter winners. Seymour stands 6-4 and weighs 195. He is the brother of John Seymour, a top ground gainer for Army last season.

Denis Bienkowski inherits the quarterback spot from Lowther. Lacking experience, he is expected to improve greatly this year. Dave Kish, Denny Cavallero and Chuck Tillotson will carry most of the running burden.

The defense has Bob Landry and Bob Peltier working as defensive halfbacks and one of the smallest linebackers in the state, spunky Tom Ventitelli, who stands 5-foot and weighs 112 in his full uniform.

The Shrine team will open a week later than most squads, facing St. Anthony Saturday the 21st under the lights at Doro Stadium.

The league is well balanced, it appears, with Holy Redeemer, Servite, St. Ambrose and the amazing Divine Child eleven all in contention.

Divine Child moves into the circuit for the first time, bringing a record of never having lost a varsity football game. The prediction is this year's division champion will lose at least one no matter who.

Alumni to the Rescue

LEXINGTON — Charles Bradshaw who took over as Kentucky football coach in 1962, is the third alumnus to coach the Wildcats. The others were J. White Guyn and A. D. (Ab) Kirwan.

Harvard freshmen were unbeaten during the last year in football, heavyweight and lightweight crew racing, tennis and outdoor track.

St. Michael Looking Ahead

Favor RO St. Mary in Catholic League

A returning squad of 16 lettermen that includes all but two of last season's starters makes Royal Oak St. Mary a solid favorite in the Northwest Catholic League. Waterford Our Lady of Lakes and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows both have good material returning, but will be bothered by a lack of depth.

Only Orchard Lake St. Mary among the loop's other four teams may be able to threaten ROSM, which was co-champion last season. But the Eaglets lack experience and will meet the Irish in this Sunday's season opener.

WOLL appears to have the best bet of giving ROSM a battle. The Lakers have experience and talent, and will have three weeks of game action to get prepared for it.

Farmington OLS is missing several key prospects who did not turn out for practice this season after earning letters last year. If coach Al Webster can fill the gaps left by this unexpected development, he still may be able to produce a contender.

Detroit St. Agatha, and the two Pontiac schools, St. Michael and St. Frederick, are noticeably lacking in depth and experience, but may surprise their four more talented league contemporaries with spurts of good football.

Royal Oak St. Mary will be led by flashy tailback Don Wells and 215-pound tackle Chuck Herron. Mike Connelly at fullback, Rod Bannister and Doug Young at ends, guards Tim Fkete and Jim Dull, 210-pound tackle John Doyle and center Ken Wright all are veteran gridders for the blue-and-white clad Irish.

Tom Wagner also returns to the backfield, as well as John Pelker, Robert Swager and Bill Hermann.

Coach Carl Wells expects co-captains Herron and Wells to contend for All-State honors after notching All-County selections last season.

FOLS has good prospects in runners Bob Allen and Myles Kearney in the backfield, and Greg Novak, Bob Hart and Dave Hamilton have shown well at the Team captain Jim Brakora, a strong linebacker, will spearhead the defense plotted by coach Webster and his assistant, Herb Coleman, former Notre Dame All-American center.

Detroit St. Agatha has quarterback Mike Steen back to captain this year's eleven. Greg Peck is the top returning back, behind a generally inexperienced line.

Lions Expect 37,000 in '63 Season Sales

Approximately 37,000 season tickets will be distributed before the season gets underway. The actual reserved seating capacity is 46,194. Seven thousand bleacher tickets raise the capacity to 53,194.

For the record, here is the way season ticket sales have progressed in the past thirteen seasons with the Lions:

Mikemen Hope to Move Higher in League Race

Nine Lettermen Return for '63; Inexperience Major Drawback

St. Michael figures it will advance this year in the Northwest Catholic League.

How much will be determined by the amount of improvement shown by other loop members. Certainly, the Mikemen are lacking needed talent to be a contender, but the lower echelons in the circuit appear fairly well matched.

Coach Jim Niebauer lost nine letter winners last season, but a like number returned. This total includes three boys with two-years' experience apiece.

Backs—Dick Steinhilper and Larry LaRousa (co-captains) both have played two seasons, as well as 180-pound tackle John Hurren.

LaRousa, it appears, will take over the quarterback duties for the Shamrocks. Roger Cook and Mike Backs figure to give Steinhilper help with the running attack. Freshman Dan Couture also looks as though he will strengthen the backfield.

Niebauer must find linemen to open the holes and give his passer protection. Mike Pope at 6-6 and 200 pounds could find himself in action frequently with his size.

Bill Gottschalk is another good line prospect. Denny Loviska, Frank Lauinger, Rick Lavole and George Henneley have a chance to crack the starting line-up, also, up front.

Bob Vanover and Bob Patch are available for backfield depth. If Niebauer can find sufficient depth for his line, the Mikemen could move up in the league race.

A string of successes in the September portion of the slate would put the Shamrocks in the thick of contention, but they must get by intra-city foe St. Frederick Sunday as a starter.

They will do well not to look past that contest.

An unusual feature to this year's slate will find St. Mike meeting Orchard Lake St. Mary twice, with only the first clash counting in the league standings.

All-America Nominee

LAWRENCE, Kans. (NEA) — Kansas regards Gale Sayers, last season's Big Eight rushing champion, as an All-America halfback candidate.

Quiet Optimism Spurs Waterford OLL

This is the season of optimism at Waterford Our Lady of Lakes. After the first bloom of hope from competition at the varsity level has worn off, coach Bob Mineweaser and the Lakers now find themselves filled with a quiet expectancy of title contention.

Not that the WOLL squad has not contended before. Although still in the growing stages after opening two years ago, the Lakers were one of five teams having title chances entering the final two weeks of play last season.

ALL THE WAY

This season they feel they can go all the way, and others around the Northwest Catholic league respect their potential, too. There are problems, but the hard-working Mineweaser expects many of the uncertainties to be dissolved in Friday's opener with Dryden, a non-loop foe.

He has 17 returning letter winners, including six linemen with 2 years experience, plus a promising crop of juniors and sophomores. The forward wall is not outstandingly heavy, but should be sufficient with some depth from the younger classes.

Quarterback Wes Borys returns to guide the attack, and Bob Schaffer, Tim Davis and Terry Lilley have two years of varsity ball behind them.

Again, depth could be a problem.

Bill Methner, Dick Drake, Joe Petrucci, Dave Troy, Paul Anderson and Pete Ottman head the line candidates. Mike Anderson, Dwayne Weber and Mike Bradley are also experienced.

Weber is a 215-pound tackle who may find steady employment on the defensive line, particularly. Gary Priemer is a 200-pounder among the juniors, as well as Dick Miller.

WOLL will run into Royal Oak St. Mary, probably its toughest foe, in an early October home game. It could be the game that decides the championship.

When Offense Plays Defense

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Paul Dickson, the Minnesota Viking tackle who played offense in 1961 and defense last season, thinks the meaning of the two words has become reversed in the National Football League.

"It may sound strange," he says, "but in pro football the defensive line is more offensive in nature than the offensive line."

"The word offense means to be aggressive, to go all-out, to go forward without looking back. This is something that can't be done on offense, especially on pass protection, which is 75 per cent of pro football."

"You have to be a passive sort—I mean you have to stay between the quarterback and the end and not let the defense get to him."

Joe Palone is in his 14th season as West Point's soccer coach.

St. Frederick Eying New Campaign

Rams Seek First Win in 3 Years

Hope springs eternal in the human breast; and Pontiac St. Frederick gridders are no different than anyone else as the new season starts.

They have special hopes.

These desires are concentrated on this Sunday's opening contest at Wisner Stadium with arch-rival St. Michael. Coach Bud Duff and the Rams want a victory very badly.

It was two years ago in the season opener with Royal Oak St. Mary that St. Fred eked out a 6-6 tie. That was the last time the Rams have not lost; and, in fact, they have not won in the past three seasons.

The Rams, on paper, do not figure to be strong this season, either, but St. Michael should not be out of their class and a lot can happen in the first game of the season.

NEW COACH

Duff has replaced Chuck Lewis as coach at the Northwest Catholic League school. He has several lettermen to work with, including three linemen of admirable size.

Tim Brown figures to be a 205-pound guard, who'll work with 190-pound Mike Dean at end and tackle Bernie Gross, who is 6-3 and 180 pounds.

Bob Peoples at 6-1 figures to give Duff good height on the other terminal.

Quarterback Larry Walter could prove a passing threat with more experience and consistency. He is a 5-9 southpaw. He will lack protection in the backfield, probably, with both Marv Robare at fullback and Marcello Gallardo at halfback being on the light side for blocking.

Newcomers who show promise include Mike Murphy at quarterback, Ralph Landry in the line and Rick Hall at end, but all lack the size needed to withstand the pounding of bigger league foes.

Dick (Buda) Rodriguez offers some more beef in the line, weighing over 200 pounds. Practice sessions have indicated a good runner in halfback John Shearer.

Barring injuries and bad breaks, the Rams could give trouble to three league foes, and two non-league opponents. A lack of depth may be offset some by the determined spirit displayed in early practices.

A lot more may be known after Sunday's clash with St. Mike.

RAMS RAMBLE — Spearheading the line for St. Frederick are Mike Dean (42), Bernie Gross (32) and Tim Brown. The Rams hope to win their first game in three seasons.

Being Co-Champion Doesn't Help Team

Although Northwest Catholic League co-champions last season and having 15 lettermen returning, Orchard Lake St. Mary does not rate the favorite's role this season.

The Eaglets under the Rev. John Rakoczy are lacking experience at key positions and do not have the size of other top contenders.

Still, they usually are well coached, have good speed and spirit, and should not find themselves outclassed by any league foe.

OLSM boasts one of the circuit's top runners in Frankie Rompel, a 5-8, 145-pound speedster at halfback. John Stolnicki, the big full back last season, has been moved to end to take advantage of his 6-5, 190-pound frame in blocking and pass receiving.

In addition to those two veteran returnees, Greg Ziemba has two years' varsity experience at guard. Thaddaus Jablonowski, at 205, will probably occupy the other guard slot.

Quarterback Larry Janiszewski has graduated and left a big hole in the backfield. At the present, Connie Krogulecki will attempt to fill the bill as a 5-9, 152-pound sophomore.

Senior Bernie Stec will add speed to the backfield and sophomore Ignaczak shows promise of complementing Stec and Rompel as a runner.

Fr. Rakoczy has hopes his green linemen will mature quickly in competition and make the Eaglets a strong club in the latter stages of the season.

Unfortunately, Orchard Lake will tangle with top league contender Royal Oak St. Mary in this Sunday's opener and may not be ready for the Irish at this time.

Ward, Miller Boost Team's Ground Game

Good depth in the backfield, but little experience in the line is expected to keep Milford from challenging for the Wayne-Oakland championship.

Four two-year veterans will be in the backfield, and a pair of guards return.

Gone are six regular linemen from the 1962 team that posted a 3-5 over-all record and wound up in the 5th place.

"The biggest handicap," said coach Jerry Ganzel, "is that not one player on the squad reaches the 200-pound mark. The line is going to be green."

"This is the year for quickness, scrapiness and speed. We have to beat the other teams to the punch."

The lack of large players is in direct contrast to Milford teams of the past three years when big lines were the rule.

GUARDS RETURN

Center Jack Ward, tackle Keith Grantham, quarterback Mike Yeager and fullback Chuck Andrews, all sophomores, have been the best of the newcomers.

STATUE OF LIBERTY—Halfback Darrell Hutto takes the ball off the hand of quarterback Ralph Wingate in the Emmanuel Christian version of the Statue of Liberty play. Wingate can also play end. Coach John Malone has his players learn two or three positions.

Lancers Look Up in '63

This could be the year that Emmanuel Christian makes a big splash in football.

The Lancers are starting their third season against full varsity competition and coach John Malone figures they "might win six out of nine if we're lucky."

Emmanuel posted a 4-3-1 overall mark last season. And the 1962 schedule was as tough as any ever faced by a Class D team. Class A Cherry Hill is gone, but the Lancers still will face several stiff tests.

Malone will carry 30 players on the varsity. All are being asked to learn two or three positions.

"By having our experienced players able to move around, we can overcome most injury problems," Malone explained. Only five of 22 lettermen on the 1962 team are missing.

Hills Could Have Trouble Matching 1962 Record

They have to forget last season at Bloomfield Hills, and it isn't easy to do.

The Wayne-Oakland school had some of its finest football moments en route to an 8-0-1 record that tied it for the league championship. The class that gave coach Don Hoff quarterback Roger Stewart, end Bill Calhoun, guard Craig Moncher and tackle Kyle Kerbaw unfortunately is gone.

FEW LETTERMEN

The erstwhile mentor does not find himself completely devoid of talented lettermen to build upon this year, though. Six players with two years of varsity experience each are back led by Pete Vidor who is moving to halfback this season after being the regular fullback last year. There are a total of 10 lettermen back.

Dick Janz is moving from halfback to quarterback and apparently will run the team on offense. Jay Shimmick is expected to do yeoman duty at one of the running back spots.

Veteran linemen include Don Hamilton at guard and linebacker, tackle Tom Richards and center Roger Wotila, who at 180 pounds will be one of the Barons' bigger linemen.

The junior class could be the determining factor in this year's success because Hoff must find help for his thin starting ranks. Promising candidates in the 11th grade include linemen Craig Halverson and Marvin Booth.

punting chores based on his fine work in practice sessions.

Other juniors due to have long looks are halfbacks Mike Kraatz and Bill Barnes, signal caller Jamie Miller, and on the line end Jim Sprout, guard Sandy Eynon and Ken Davies.

Dave Robillard at end and Niel Flemming, a 170-pound fullback, show promise of making the varsity as sophomores.

The Barons will open with two away games this year, at Oak Park Friday and Clarkston the following week. The W-O league opener against the latter squad may prove a very tough one. Another tough contest should be the Northville away game in early October.

If Hills manages to survive the challenge of Clarkston and the Mustangs, then it should find itself in a challenging position entering the final two key games against Holly and West Bloomfield.

Gail Cogdill of the Detroit Lions has caught at least one pass in every regular season game in his three years career, 1960-62, for a total of 40 games.

Safer Helmet Demonstrated

Ex-Wayne Grid Ace Designs New Gear

DALLAS (UPI) — A football star who became a physician Tuesday displayed a football helmet lining designed to reduce head injuries. He said it could cut deaths from head injuries on the gridiron 40-50 per cent.

Dr. Nick Cherup, halfback at Wayne State University from 1941-45, demonstrated the lining he developed to the 1,000 delegates attending the American Congress of Physical Medicine and rehabilitation.

Principle of the lining is a plastic-covered elastic webbing or membrane that distributes the force of a blow over the entire head. He said it would absorb 80 per cent more force than the conventional helmet.

The conventional helmet has a vinyl foam lining and a non-elastic webbing designed merely to hold the inside of the helmet away from the head. The padding rather than the webbing is designed to absorb shock.

CONTROL MIDDLE—Quarterback Dick Janz prepares to take the ball from center Roger Wotila. They played on last season's Bloomfield Hills team that tied for the Wayne-Oakland championship.

STIFF ARM—Halfback Jay Shimmick gives a stiff arm to linebacker Don Hamilton during a Bloomfield Hills practice. Both players are lettermen from last year's team.

Sports Era Is Over

Still Some Kick at Northville

Northville's golden era of sports is history.

Gone from the gridiron and cage courts are such names as the Judays, Bells, Hays, Browns and Swiss.

It's kind of like starting all over.

And that's exactly what football coach Ron Horwath is doing. The line has to be rebuilt and replacements must be found behind the few veteran ball carriers.

Horwath places his team fifth in the eight-team Wayne-Oakland League.

Rival coaches are more realistic. They see the Mustangs finishing a step or two higher and being the league's trial horses for title contenders.

Northville was third in the league last season, losing only by a touchdown each to co-champions Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield.

The quarterback job, so capably handled at first by Steve Juday, now a potential starter for Michigan State, and last year by Craig Bell, will be a problem.

John Mach, a 150-pound junior, is leading contender among the signal callers.

Two seniors are beginning their third years on the varsity.

Halfback Dave Commings and fullback Don Rice should be among the W-O's better ball carriers. Senior guard Dave Jerome is being groomed as the line leader.

A pair of junior centers, Dave Kerr and 195-pound Bob Tuck, are listed by Horwath as being among the top four newcomers. The others are sophomore end Jerry Imsland, who is 6-3, 185 pounds, and junior halfback Jerry French.

Northville may have lost its good horses of the past three years, but there is still enough kick left in the Mustangs' corral to make the opposition worry.

Ollie Matson, Detroit Lions fullback who was acquired from the Los Angeles Rams, has gained 11,130 yards in the NFL as a ball-carrier, pass receiver, and punt and kickoff return specialist.

Jets Get Trainer

NEW YORK (AP)—John Snedeker, a 1957 graduate of Cortland State Teachers College, will be the team trainer for the New York Jets of the American Football League. He formerly was assistant trainer for the University of Washington team.

COACH: Art Paddy
HIGH SCHOOL: Benton Harbor
LOCATION: Benton Harbor, Mich.

Graduation took the big linemen away from West Bloomfield's championship team, but the Lakers are expected to adequately shore up the holes with speed instead of size.

Gone are such stalwarts as All-County end Dave Helmreich (200), center Ken Victor (280) and tackle Bill Eliason (180).

This trio helped the Lakers to a 7-0-1 record, a tie for the Wayne-Oakland championship, and a deadlock for sixth place in the final Associated Press state Class B poll.

Coach Art Paddy leaned heavily toward underclassmen in 1962. This is the reason West Bloomfield is favored to finish alone in first place.

Dan Greig, the fine All-County Class B quarterback, returns for his third season as a starter.

The 5-10, 161-pound senior is a slick ball handler and deadly passer. He proved last season that he was the best in his class in the county and is expected to vie with Walled Lake's John Thomas for the All-County team berth.

"We'll be small up front," means Paddy, but no one is impressed — as usual.

The Lakers' line will make up in speed and aggressiveness what it lacks in size.

Guards Bob Mannor (171) and Larry Zidar (142), tackles Mike Starick (155) and Jim Shoots (165), guard John Shearlock (132), end Rick Hacht (190), and center Rod Thompson (160) are the veterans.

There is good talent in the backfield.

RUNNING THREATS

Fullback John Nemyer, halfbacks Jay Williams and Vaughn McGraw are seasoned performers. Transfer Tim Ruen is also pushing for a starting job.

The experience begins to thin out rapidly, however, after the first unit, and this could prove costly if there is a rash of injuries early in the season.

The Lakers toughest foe probably will be Waterford. The Skipper hosts West Bloomfield Sept. 13, the opening game for both teams.

Early Contests to Test Holly Eleven's Chances

Holly's Broncos appear to have a long row to hoe before they can make much noise in the Wayne-Oakland League race.

Coach Ray Figg has only eight lettermen back from last year's team that posted a 2-5 loop mark and finished in sixth place.

"Lack of experience will be a liability," Figg pointed out. "We have a long way to go. But I feel we can be a real good club."

Two early games against strong opponents will test the young Broncos. They open the season at Flint Bendle and then return home the following week to take on W-O favorite West Bloomfield.

Holly has some experience on the line. Tackle Howard Chanter (210) and center Frank White (240) will be big obstacles for an foe. Gary Thrall (170) returns at guard and Bob Wichter (195) returns at center.

Filling the other starting slots and then finding adequate line replacements is a big problem. Chuck Rosello may work in at tackle and newcomer Bill Stark has been impressive at end.

Figg feels that Tom Fagan will be one of the best quarterbacks in the league. There is a definite shortage of experienced ball carriers.

Indications are that the Broncos may take to the air more this season until more experience can be gained for the ground attack.

Clarkston Looking Upward

Middle Line Has Beef and Experience

Coach Kenyon Happy With Early Drills
in Grid Camp

An intangible may be the key to Clarkston's football success this season.

Although not admitting especially high hopes, coach Ralph Kenyon makes it clear he is not going to settle for a repeat of last season's uninspiring 1-8 record.

He expresses such thoughts because he has basically the same squad that compiled the unenviable log.

Much of this season's optimism is in the hands of team co-captains Ken Miskin and Dan Craven, and their now experienced teammates. The intangible mentioned earlier is spirit.

Kenyon reports satisfaction with the high morale shown to date in practices, and hopes Craven and Miskin will keep the level at a high plane through their leadership.

Another plus factor is the material available at the Wayne-Oakland League school.

"We should be able to move the ball," Kenyon avows. A veteran backfield with Craven at quarterback, and good running backs Randy Armstrong and Dan Jenks promises scoring punch.

OB OPEN

The wingback slot is open for grabs with scabback Johnny Williams a strong contender. Craven's improved passing has an able target in the 6-2 Miskin at end.

The offensive line has experience and size in the persons of Frank Miller, 220-pound tackle, 6-2 and 180-pound Jon Gary at the other tackle, and sturdy guard Leonard Bullard.

There is beef on the defensive line with 245-pound Dave Hollis clogging the middle area, and 240 pound Rick Wilson available for goal line stands, also. John Wilberg offers solid protection on one flank.

The important linebacking posts seem in good hands with Miskin and Craven on the outside and Bullard inside. Williams' speed may give him steady employment at defensive safety.

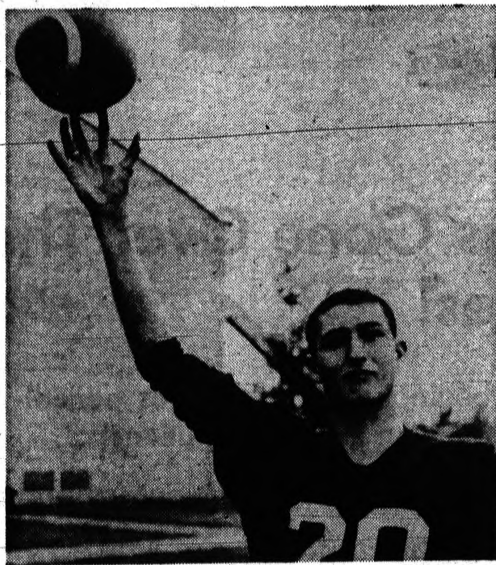

FULL SPEED AHEAD—This is Clarkston's veteran line: end John Wilberg, tackle Frank Miller, guard Len Bullard, center Bill Baily, guard John Hallmark, tackle Jon Gary and end Ken Miskin.

LEADS WOLVES — Dan Craven is the starting quarterback for Clarkston. He is one of four experienced backs for the Wolves.

Lakers Under W-O Guns During Coming Season

All football guns in the Wayne-Oakland League are pointing toward Keego Harbor, home of 1962 co-champion West Bloomfield High.

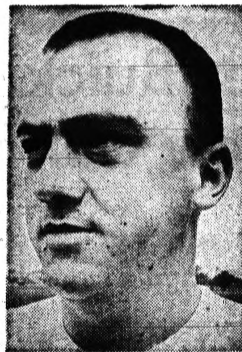

The Lakers are heavy choices to take all the grid spoils this fall. Seven loop foes will be trying to spoil the predicted coronation march.

Foremost among the opposition will be Clarkston, Brighton and Bloomfield Hills, the defending co-champ.

There are those who feel that Clarenceville is ready to leave the deep confines of the second division. Milford has its backers for a third place finish. A few say that Holly may be green up front, but still dangerous.

Northville's past reputation is about all the Mustangs have going these days.

West Bloomfield has quarterback Danny Greig, one of the best in the county, and this is enough to make any team a title threat. In addition, there is a host of talented ball carriers. The line is on the light side but very fast. Depth may be a problem.

VETERAN TEAM

Clarkston has a veteran team on hand. If the line lives up to expectation, there should be many happy nights in the Wolves' den.

Jack Korwin, former University of Michigan end, has taken over at Brighton and inherited a veteran team that showed plenty of hustle last year.

Clarenceville also has a new mentor — Fred Webber — but the climb from last place may be too long for the Trojans who could very well land right back at the bottom.

Milford has experience in the backfield, but the line is being rebuilt. The Redskins are also lighter than in previous years.

The cream of the crop is gone at Bloomfield Hills. But the Barons may be a surprise. There is speed in the backfield and many of the linemen gained good game experience as reserves in 1962.

Holly and Northville are also listed with those teams having problems up front.

The battle for third and fourth is shaping up as a close one.

The Forecast:
1. West Bloomfield
2. Clarkston
3. Bloomfield Hills
4. Brighton
5. Northville
6. Holly
7. Clarenceville
8. Milford

Record Speed Wins Langehorne for Goldsmith

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—Leading virtually all the way, defending champion Paul Goldsmith, of St. Clair Shores, Mich., captured the 250-mile national championship for late model stock cars Sunday in a record time at the Langhorne Speedway.

Goldsmith, driving the 1963 Plymouth in which A. J. Foyt set records for the mile and the 50-mile in May, established a mile mark of 96.527 miles per hour and finished in the record time of 2 hours, 41 minutes and 48.9 seconds — an average speed of 92.706 m.p.h.

The old mark was 3 hours, 4 minutes and 11.08 seconds and an average speed of 81.440 m.p.h. set in 1959 by Mike Klapak, of Pittsburgh.

Captains Setting Three Goals for Grid Season

Two Big Holes Open on Line

Backfield Returnees Help Ground Attack

Kettering's football team has three major goals this season:

1. Defeating arch-rival Waterford.
2. Adding the Tri-County grid crown to laurels won in basketball and track during the last school year.
3. An unbeaten season.

Beating a traditional rival, winning a championship and sweeping all foes aside are the goals of all teams connected with a league.

Should Kettering turn the difficult trick, however, it will be a little more unusual. Schools three years old aren't supposed to reach such heights on the gridiron.

"We'll miss tackle Tom Campbell and guard Jerry Ryan, but otherwise we have a good first team back," said coach Jim Larkin. "If we can avoid the injuries that hit us last year — we dressed only 21 for the final game — we should do all right."

"The attitude of the boys is very good. It's the best in the three years, and this should carry us a long way."

L'Anse Creuse appears to be the biggest road block to winning the league title. In pre-season ratings, the Captains would have to be rated higher than Waterford.

The unbeaten season may be the most difficult. The Captains will be underdogs against Pontiac Northern and no better than even against Lake Orion, Cranbrook and Berkley.

ANCHORS LINE

Bob Dustman, a solid 200-pounder, will anchor the line at center. He will be flanked on the right side by guard Chuck Haviland, tackle Chuck Wallace and end Steve McCallum.

There is good strength in the backfield.

Larkin has shifted 190-pound Mel Patterson from quarterback to tailback in the wing T and some times single wing. Mike Shipman will take over the signal calling duties.

Earl Hook, lauded by the coach as a player "who leaves every thing he has on the practice field," and hard running Jim Haviland will be the other backs.

Depth could be a problem. Larkin and his assistants have been sifting through 60 candidates for varsity reserve strength.

Wallace, guard Chuck Haviland and center Bob Dustman.

L'Anse Creuse, Kettering Tri-County Loop Favorites

A tie was all that kept L'Anse Creuse from gaining a share of the Tri-County League title last fall.

The Lancers, with 10 lettermen on hand, are expected to challenge Kettering from loop grid supremacy in 1963. Lapeer and Romeo are seen battling for third with new member Oxford figured to bring up the rear.

Randy McConnell returns at quarterback for L'Anse Creuse and has Dick Skelton and Kurt Carlos as veteran ball carriers.

The Mt. Clemens school has good size at tackle where Dennis Carly, 195, and Dick Olejar, 218, will hold forth. Paul Miller, 180, and Dan Schmidt, 190, are a pair of lettermen guards.

Ron Arscheene is one of the fastest ends in the area.

Lapeer is rebuilding, but could sting one of the contenders before the season is over. The same goes for Romeo and Oxford.

The Forecast:
1. Kettering
2. L'Anse Creuse
3. Romeo
4. Lapeer
5. Oxford

Brothers Join Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — When the Houston Oilers of the American Football League signed Danny Brabham, their No. 1 draft choice from Arkansas, they gained another player. The 220-pound Razorback fullback's presence on the Houston roster induced a former Tulane end to join the squad. He is Billy Brabham, Danny's brother.

Army's football team this season plays Cincinnati, Minnesota and Washington State for the first time.

San Francisco Loses 2 More Key Players

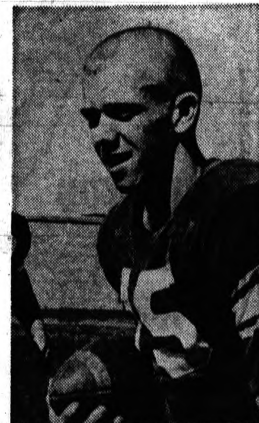

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Defensive halfback Jerry Mertens probably is lost to San Francisco for the season and guard Mike Magac will be out indefinitely with a shoulder dislocation as injuries continue to plague the 49ers.

Both Mertens and Magac were hurt Saturday night as the 49ers lost to Los Angeles 17-0 for their fifth National Football League pre-season defeat.

Mertens suffered torn knee ligaments and underwent surgery Monday.

On the brighter side, offensive guard John Thomas signed his 1963 contract, leaving only line-backer Bill Cooper unsigned in the 49ers ranks.

Two of the Ivy League's football captains are centers. They are Yale's George Humphrey from Chagrin Falls, Ohio and Penn's Fred Jaffin from Amblet, Pa.

FLANKER—Jim Bates is a veteran end for Oxford.

Michigan State's player record for touchdowns scored over an entire career is 31, held by Lynn Chandnoise who played in the 1946 through 1949 seasons.

Tough Schedule for Oxford Eleven

"We could have the best team we've had since I started coaching at Oxford, but our record may not show it."

Coach Walt Braun made this statement after reviewing the Wildcats' schedule. Like last season, it contains schools much larger than Oxford, and schools that are just the opposite.

Oxford replaces Rochester in the Tri-County League this year. This is the reason for the pessimism. Included are much larger league foes Kettering, Lapeer and L'Anse Creuse. The first two are Class A schools, one notch higher than Oxford, and so is Clarkston, the opening opponent.

Lake Orion and L'Anse are large B schools. The "little" fellows on the slate are Imlay

City, Millington and North Branch, teams Oxford handled last season while winning its only South Central football crown.

Oxford has good depth in the backfield, according to Braun,

COACH: Walt Braun
HIGH SCHOOL: Romeo
LOCATION: Romeo, Mich.
COLLEGE: Central Michigan
COACHING RECORD: 25-32-2
OXFORD RECORD: 9-18
SYSTEM: T with variations
ASSISTANT: Lee Notz

but the veteran line can't afford any injuries.

"Like most high school teams, our season will depend on the number of key injuries we have," the coach pointed out.

SPEARHEADS ATTACK

Dan VanVleet, a top quarterback, will direct the attack. Jack Farrell and Sam Gingell, who both ran the 100 under 10.5 in track, are battling for one half-back berth. Buzz Cork will be the other starting halfback.

Tackle Jeff Ruff, 215, is the heaviest lineman among the veterans. Other monogram winners up front are end Jim Bates, 160, and guard John Trojonawski, 150.

VanVleet and Ruff are starting their fourth season on the varsity. This will be the third for the others mentioned above, except Gingell who did not play last year.

Top players among the newcomers are fullback Steve Bowker, tackle Elroy Converse and guard Jerry Sowels.

Bowl Minded Texans

AUSTIN, Tex.—(NEA)—Darrell Royal has produced five New Year's Day bowl teams in six years as Texas' head football coach.

No Title Surrender Planned by Bulldogs

The big names are gone, but Romeo's Bulldogs aren't planning to yield the Tri-County League football championship without a struggle.

A new head coach greeted the players when they began workouts.

Stan Motschenbacher moved up from the assistant's post, replacing Ernie Maule who has taken over the grid reigns in the junior high after molding Romeo into a championship team. John Mowery is the new assistant.

Twenty-three lettermen are missing from the 1962 squad including highly touted halfbacks John Hanley and Mark Johnson, pass catching end Jim Compton, center Jack Ruddick and line-backer Curt Gnepper.

On hand are 16 lettermen led by quarterback Roy Smiles, 202-pound fullback Keith Simunic, tackle Don Kaufman, 202, and guard Mike Maniaci, 165.

"A lot will depend on how quickly the boys can grasp the new system and my way of handling the team," said Motschenbacher. "We have only four regulars returning, so you can see we have a lot of looking and work to do before our first game."

The Bulldogs appear strong at guard with veterans Phil Hoxsey, 168, Ed Webber, 156, and Gene Ramin, 175, ready to go.

End Larry Bazyk, 171, and half-back Ron Hewitt are the other key lettermen expected to see plenty of action.

The coach is "looking" closely at newcomers Rod Rohloff and Dick Siewke, both ends, half-backs Ed Leritz, Mike Simunic and Phil Sweeney, center Tom Zavislak, guard Dave Dorn and tackle Bill Redd.

Oaks Looking Up in Border Cities Football League

Coaches and players are looking up at Royal Oak Dondoro.

"We hope to improve on our 1962 record," says coach Ivy Lofton. "I expect the Border Cities League to be a close race with all teams fairly even."

Last season the Oaks finished fifth in the six-team loop and were 4-5 overall.

Strength along the interior line and experience at two backfield positions is the reason for the optimism.

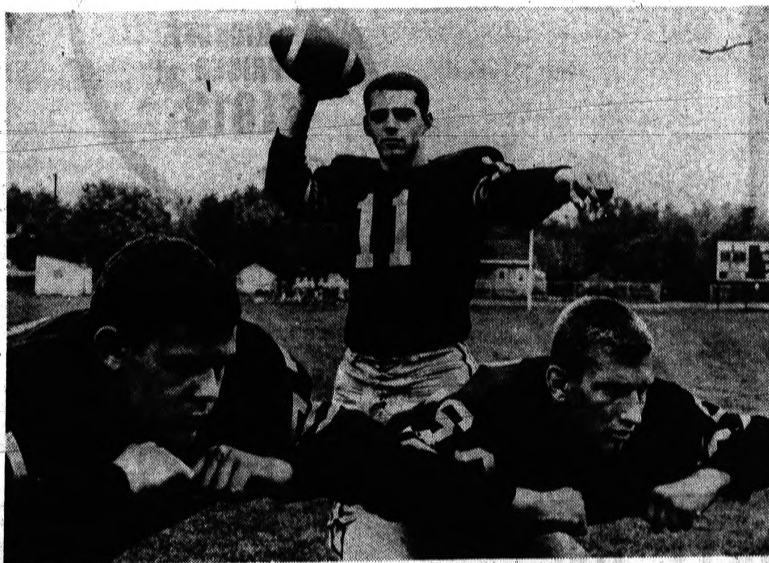

Bruce West (170), a two-year letterwinner, joins veteran Steve Faraday (195) at guard. Bruce Rose (190) and Jim St. Clair (250) are returning tackles. Backfield returnees are quarterback Bruce Kezlarian and halfback Tom LeZotte.

Monday Deals For LA Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams traded defensive tackle Larry Stephens to the Dallas Cowboys Monday for a future draft choice.

The National Football League team announced also that it has: Acquired tackle Stan Fanning on waivers from the Chicago Bears.

Signed linebacker Andy Von Sonn, UCLA's 6-foot-2, 225-pound captain last year, for 1964. He recently was placed on waivers by the Bears.

Stephens, who is 25, stands 6-4 and weighs 260, is in his fourth year in the league. He came to the Rams prior to the 1962 season in a trade from the Cleveland Browns and played as a starter last year at defensive tackle.

Fanning, whose previous three NFL seasons were with the Bears, is 25, weighs 270 and stands 6-7. He came to prof football from the University of Idaho.

The Rams must drop two players to be at Tuesday's league limit of 37.

Few Letter Winners Will Aid Lake Orion

Eight letter winners back from a team with only one win in six league starts last season does not create much enthusiasm for a football coach.

Frank Kownacki does have three two-year veterans back this season, however, at Lake Orion and another five who earned monograms last season.

This gives the Dragons' mentor a nucleus to build with. Edd Legg (190), Art Beatty (210) and Jack Hodges (202) will furnish the bulk of the weight on the offensive and defensive lines, although freshman Greg Longpre has 210 pounds of potential to throw into action after some refinement.

Jon Cucksey and Bruno Jandasek have experience at quarterback with the former expected to get a trial as a running back, also. Rich Stallings could provide the break-away threat in the attack.

Bruce Fritz may develop into a fine pass-catching end at 6-3. Willis Scott also provides height (6-2) on the flank.

Terry Brookens is a 135-pound sophomore back who shows promise. Dave Andrews probably will see action in the defensive secondary with his 6-1, 180-pound frame.

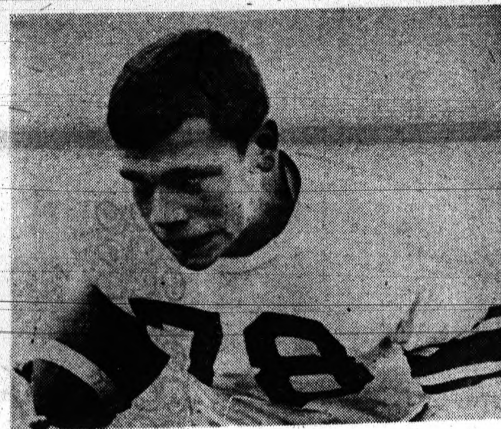

Depth will be a problem for coach Kownacki. The Dragons will have to avoid injuries and carry a very high spirit to contend in the Oakland A League this season.

The Lake Orion eleven will open with Waterford Kettering Friday at home in a non-conference clash. The Captains could prove very troublesome, and Troy the following weekend will not show any mercy either.

Splitting those two starts should lead to a strong push through early October. The going will be tougher in the closing weeks.

SET TO ROLL—Ed Legg (left), Dave Townsend and Art Beatty (right) give Lake Orion solid experience in the line. Legg and Beatty will play the tackles.

Yellow Jackets Have Numbers Problem

The problem at Avondale this season will be numbers — and that doesn't mean on the jerseys.

Coach Frank Crowell and his staff were greeted by a slim turnout at practice this season. Missing were such dependables from last year as Roger and Mike Ball, Jim Lindsey, Larry Falk, Doug Venable and Jim Weaver.

Particularly weakened is the line. Bob Schwerin, a 6-1, 195-pound tackle, will constitute most of the experience.

Juniors Mike Peel and John Tasker, and sophomore Dennis Jacobs seem destined to get plenty of game time this year in an effort to fill some holes.

Jacobs is a 6-3, 192-pounder. He'll probably split the position with Dick Bye, a junior. Other linemen of whom much is demanded are Dave Moldenhauer, Frank Killian, Rod Ash and Dan Jenks.

Gary Sipperly and Keith Crystal are guard candidates.

GOOD BACKS

The backfield is thin, but has fine potential. Lynn Thorpe has a year's experience at quarterback. Dennis Acker, and Dick Reddaway have won letters with their running, and Steve Blomberg will be handling a halfback slot.

The thin ranks will give sophomore candidates an excellent chance for varsity experience at Avondale.

Crowell will be encountering a much similar situation with the Yellow Jackets' opening foe, Milford, Friday night. Then Lamphere is to visit them prior to the first Oakland A contest with always tough Troy.

Injuries robbed Avondale of considerable player strength last year, and the coaching staff will be working extra hard to lessen the chances this season.

A few boys will play a lot of football for the Yellow Jackets this year. If their production will match their playing time, the season could seem a lot shorter. Tasker%abnm

Falcons Move Into O-A Loop

Cagey Gene Konley at Rochester High School will direct his strategy against new foes this season as the Falcons move into a new league, the Oakland A. The dean of county grid mentors, Konley has coached 116 winning games in 19 years for a top mark — averaging better than six wins a year.

He lost 17 letter winners from last season's below average team, but has a nucleus of 12 returning. Rochester boasts a 200-pound tackle Howard Hagen, plus center Mike Konley and tackle Craig Moody who both surpass the 190 mark.

Quarterback Roger Thompson returns, along with running backs Carl Stefanski, Gary Sullivan and Al Baugher. Tom Knust and Bruce Campbell show promise at ends.

The Falcons had a large turnout for early practice, and Konley will be seeking some much needed depth in that crew to bolster their hopes for a finish high in the eight-team circuit.

Stefanski tallied nine touchdowns last year and should be a top running threat again this season.

Konley predicts Madison, Troy and Clawson as the top teams in the league this time. He will have three games to prepare the team for its meeting with Madison, while Troy and Clawson come later in the schedule.

Non-league foes Utica (Friday night at Rochester) and Waterford will give the Falcons their first competition this season. The two starts could be very important ones as Konley searches for the right combination to carry the burden in the loop contests.

Nearby Avondale will close out the slate in November.

Troy O-A Favorite

Troy High School has been a power in Oakland A League football the past two campaigns and indications are this year will make it three straight.

Although little is known about the Clawson and Madison prospects at this time, most loop coaches feel they are the two schools likely to nip at the Colts' hoofs all season.

The Oakland A has expanded, admitting Rochester and Warren Cousino to replace departed Oak Park. Rochester is considered a dark horse by some and a possible contender, since coach Gene Konley commands a lot of respect for getting results.

Avondale, Lake Orion, Fitzgerald and Warren apparently will not have the depth and experience to be more than spoilers in the race.

Coach Bob McElreath welcomed 18 varsity players back from last season's champions at Troy. Four of the returnees have won two letters.

The Colts could have one of the finest offensive backfields in the county.

Certainly, in Dan Armstrong the Colts have one of the best signal callers. The two-year veteran packs 195 pounds on his 6-2 frame. Ken Holder and Jeff Quandt have won two monograms at Lake Orion.

Bidding to join them is Jerry Brotzke, a junior speedster. Gary Hrabon, at 6-1 and 180 pounds, is an inviting target for Armstrong's passes.

Two 6-foot, 200-pounders will see action at the tackle spots: Claude Vidal a senior and Ed Gillespie, a sophomore. Lloyd Stage also returns at tackle.

Bob Dolmage and Dave Cudney are letter winners at guard and center, respectively.

If Clawson and Madison can find the depth to challenge the spirited Colts all season, the race could be very exciting.

Fitzgerald has 21 letter winners available, led by back Mickey Szulborski and Tom Dobberstein, a 6-4 end. Al Harpan, a 230-pound tackle, constitutes, however, the only player over 200 pounds among the experienced candidates.

The Spartans have good talent, apparently returning in the backfield, but will need beefing up on defense. They definitely could prove troublesome to the contenders.

Warren Cousino will play its first varsity football game Friday against Warren High. Then it will move into its regular loop schedule.

Having no seniors and only practice game experience, the Patriots must count on the junior and sophomore players developing rapidly.

The forecast:

1. Troy
2. Madison
3. Fitzgerald
4. Clawson
5. Rochester
6. Lake Orion
7. Avondale
8. Warren Cousino.

Seaholm Will Display Heavy, Capable Eleven

Maples Boast Big Fullback, Solid Line

Favorable Early Bird May Aid Birmingham

The grid news at Birmingham Seaholm can be wrapped up in two words: talented size.

The Maples will boast probably the heaviest fullback in southeast Michigan: Brant Conley stands 6-2 and weighs 235. He was moved from tackle because of his good mobility.

The presence of John Dirnbauer's 6-3, 225-pound frame at tackle also gave support to the move. The All-County prospect has 230-pound Tom Thatcher, 225-pound Mike Garza, and "thin-men" Bill Graham (205), Sturgess Killik (205) and Bruce Clark (210) for help at tackles.

Ron Jacobson at 6-3 and 205 shows enough moves to fill an end slot. Zig Baran, Rick Snyder, John Hilly, Dale Rennell range 10-15 pounds under the 200 figure and will handle the guard spots.

Combining for a strong 1-2 punch in the backfield with Conley is Ken Heft, team leader and a top runner in the county last year.

The quarterback slot is the questionable position for the Maples. Two juniors, Jack Sights and Dick Swaney, plus senior Dean Wisniewski are battling for the job.

Defensively, Brent Miller provides good insurance in the backfield behind the linebacking of Conley and Baran, and the big front line.

Coach Carl Lemle has a roster loaded with seniors and juniors to fill the gaps left when graduation depleted key positions on last year's 8-1 team.

He will have to mold this year's entry very quickly. After its opener Friday with Birmingham Groves, Seaholm runs into a talented Royal Oak Kimball eleven in a game that could label the winner a top contender in the Eastern Michigan League this season.

The Maples have a schedule that calls for three straight home games to start the season. Ferndale and Roseville will both be met on the home soil, also, which could prove an important factor in the EML race.

With help from the junior class candidates, the Maples will have a lot to say in the race this season.

Fear Newcomer Roseville

RO Kimball Looks Strong in EML Chase

The return of 20 lettermen from last year's third place team makes Royal Oak Kimball a solid choice to dethrone Ferndale atop a very tough Eastern Michigan League.

Three teams may change the outlook before long, however: Ferndale, Birmingham Seaholm and Roseville—a newcomer.

Port Huron, Mount Clemens, Hazel Park and East Detroit probably will not overcome the strength of the other four with any regularity.

Kimball has experienced weight on the line in Don Baier (243), Joe Ripmaster (212) at tackles, and Dave McClelland (210) and Craig Irwin (234) at guards.

Dick Sanderson and Tom Beke-meyer are returning backs and will likely team with John Baumann and quarterback Bob Miles to fill out the starting backfield.

John Gabler and Andy Stubl will provide experience at the important linebacking posts.

Roseville joins the league officially for the first time in football. The Wildcats did manage to win three of five contests with league teams last season, although not counting in the standings. Included was a startling upset of league champion Ferndale.

Coach Bill Sherman has 23 boys back from that team. He will be lacking size, however, with the exception of 240-pound Augie Gambino. Lyle Teal, Dave Murphy and George Day will likely do much of the ball carrying.

Tri-captains Floyd Hubbard, Steve Hill and Gerry Engel will lead a Port Huron eleven that has the size to stay with any loop team.

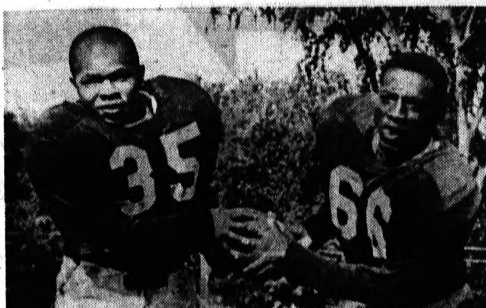

Hubbard is the fullback, Engel an end and Hill plays guard. The beef is found with linemen Dwight Simmons (271 pounds), Al Dickens (231), Gary Shipley (224) and Bob Bennett (216).

Mount Clemens has only nine returnees from last year's squad that tied with Kimball. Halfback Jesse Johnson is the only two-letter winner, while Win Coffin at 208 pounds packs most of the line size.

Bill Madigan carries the hopes at quarterback and John Ashby will add to the running attack at halfback.

The forecast:

1. Royal Oak Kimball
2. Birmingham Seaholm
3. Ferndale
4. Roseville
5. Port Huron
6. East Detroit
7. Mount Clemens
8. Hazel Park

Irish Racked
By Injuries

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame football Coach Hugh Devore, who started fall practice with three experienced tackles, had none Monday as the Irish worked on blocking and pass defense.

Dave Huminik, a 235-pound senior, suffered a knee injury Saturday and surgery may be necessary. Junior Gene Penman has already undergone surgery on his left knee and is probably out for the season.

Senior Nick Etten is temporarily sidelined with a fractured toe. All of the injured tackles had more than 130 minutes of playing time last season.

Newest AFL Entry Has Wildest Opener

By The Associated Press
Kansas City's quick-striking Chiefs, a pair of stars returned to health, and a Boston team apparently a lot better than it was supposed to be provided fireworks in the American Football League's opening action this past weekend.

The Chiefs, league champions last year as the Dallas Texans, rode the passing of Len Dawson to a 59-7 rout of the Broncos at Denver Saturday night.

Tom Flores, back in the passing wars after recovering from a lung ailment, sparked the Oakland Raiders to a 24-13 upset triumph over the Oilers at Houston, also in a Saturday night game.

And on Sunday—Paul Lowe, out last year with a broken arm, flashed 48 yards for the deciding touchdowns as the San Diego Chargers scored a 14-10 home victory over the Buffalo Bills, while the Boston Patriots smothered the New York Jets 38-14 at Boston.

Dawson threw four touchdown strikes as the Chiefs amassed 458 yards through the air in handing the Broncos their worst defeat in four AFL seasons. Two of Dawson's scoring tosses went to Frank Jackson, one on an 80-yard play, the others to Chris Burford and Curtis McClinton, the star fullback who also clicked on a touchdown pass to Burford.

99-YARD RUN

Dave Grayson added another Kansas City six-pointer, sprinting 99 yards with the kickoff following Denver's lone touchdown, and linebacker Sherrill Headrick lumbered 38 yards into the end zone with an intercepted pass.

Flores replaced Cotton Davidson in the second half at Houston with the Raiders behind 6-0 and quickly triggered a comeback with passes to Oakland's classy receivers, Art Powell and Bo Roberson. Clem Daniels plunged two yards for the Raiders' first touchdown and an 11-yard field goal by Mike Mercer put them ahead to stay.

A spectacular pass play covering 85 yards, Flores to Powell, gave Oakland its clinching touchdown in the closing period. As usual, Houston's George Blanda was interception-prone and Oiler halfback Billy Cannon was injury-prone. Blanda suffered a rash of steals in the second half, and Cannon left the game for good in the second quarter with an ankle sprain.

Bob Mitinger's interception of Jack Kemp's pass led to the Chargers' first touchdown, scored from one yard out by Bob Jackson after a 32-yard gain on a Tobin Rote-to-Frank Kocourek pass. Lowe put it away in the third period when he got loose on his long run.

The Bills, weakened by the loss of line-smashing Cookie Gilchrist, capitalized on a string of San Diego penalties for a second-quarter field goal and put on a 90-yard drive in the final period for their only touchdown. Gilchrist was forced to the sidelines in the second quarter with an ankle injury.

The Patriots lost all five of their exhibition games — including one to New York — had been hobbled by injuries, and were supposedly vulnerable on pass defense. But they had little trouble with the Jets, the ex-Titans, who have been reshuffled from top to bottom but remain probably the league's weakest entry.

Boston stole five passes, and two interceptions by Nick Buoniconti and Tommy Stephens in the third and fourth quarters set up 10 points that put the Patriots firmly in charge. Babe Parilli scored one Boston touchdown and threw for one, while Billy Lott made two short scoring runs for the winners.

Mistakes Hinder Michigan Practice

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The Michigan Wolverines set out Monday to correct the mistakes they made in a game-condition scrimmage Saturday.

"In general, they were making more mistakes than they should have," Coach Bump Elliott said. "It wasn't surprising, really, but we were a little disappointed that the Blue (No. 1) squad didn't do better offensively against the White (No. 2) squad."

The Blues hung onto a slim lead, winning the match in Michigan Stadium, 32-30.

Dewey Lincoln, fleet Michigan State fullback from Hamtramck, was the Spartans' busiest man in 1962 in terms of time on the field playing 339 out of a possible 540 minutes.

Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White earned All-Pro honors with the Detroit Lions in 1940, leading the team in both passing and rushing statistics.

Brother Rice Should Improve

Faces New Schedule With 17 Lettermen

Birmingham Brother Rice enters the 1963 season with prospects for improving last season's 1-8 record.

The Warriors have 19 lettermen returning, and a new schedule. There are no returning opponents on this season's slate.

Leading the Birmingham school will be co-captains Dan Van Mourik at end and guard Bob Miller. Van Bourik will be a chief target of veteran quarterback Paul Jagels, and also backs up the line on defense.

Earl Tracey handles another linebacking slot and, teamed with tackles Mike Nave, a 215-pounder and 218-pound Paul DeRoche, puts some bite in the Warriors defense.

The bespectacled Jagels will have an experienced runner and blocker in Chuck Schaffer, a 195-pound halfback.

The Warriors do not have the depth or size, apparently, to contend in their division of the Detroit Catholic League. Notre Dame and University of Detroit high schools, which appear to be the strength in the loop, will be met on successive Sundays in early October at Birmingham.

If Brother Rice jells in time, however, an upset could result.

Football Squibs

The Air Force Academy football team this fall plays Washington, Nebraska and Boston College for the first time.

The University of Alabama holds a 34-10 edge in its football series with Mississippi State. Three games were ties.

Boston College leads Holy Cross in its football series, 29-27. Three games were tied.

Backfield Looks Good for Groves

The newly formed Northeast Suburban League — comprised of Birmingham Groves, North Farmington, Livonia Franklin, Thurston and Oak Park make its debut this fall.

Groves returns 18 lettermen from last year's team that won only one game in six starts in the Tri-River Conference and posted a 2-7 overall mark.

Six veterans, including tackles Steve Meinzing and Greg Morris and halfbacks Lloyd Lewis and Tom Lindeman, will be missing due to graduation.

The Falcons will boast a strong backfield with two-year letterman Bill Stephenson directing the offense from his quarterback spot. Halfbacks Al Proctor and Doug Jardine are ready to carry the ball along with senior fullback Dave Kaweck.

Other top returnees include lettermen Tom McKennie, a guard, and Pete Johnson, a 210-pound tackle, as well as top prospects Greg Headrick and Dick Baignorh, both 200-pound tackles and Larry Judd.

North Farmington is rated one of the strongest teams in the new loop, finishing 6-3 last season and welcoming 30 lettermen back for the campaign. The school added the 12th grade this year and this has a large number of lettermen.

The Raider backfield is pretty well set with quarterback Lee Martilla, halfbacks Bob Huth and Jim Acitelli and fullback Bob Thomas all two-year letter winners and all back for a third term.

Also back for a third letter are tackle Al Voss and guard Jim Prucha, while guard Joe O'Donnell, halfback Gerald Bliss and reserve quarterback Andy Lawing are top prospects.

Livonia Franklin is another school that is expanding to 12 grades, but it is not expected to be as strong as North Farmington. Oak Park has been hard hit by graduation and will experience some trouble in the loop.

Thurston is a question mark in the league, although the school has a large enrollment and could field a powerful team.

The Forecast:
1. North Farmington
2. Groves
3. Thurston
4. Oak Park
5. Franklin

Injury to Steeler Back Reported Not Serious

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Buddy Parker was pondering Monday which three of his Pittsburgh Football League limit.

Meanwhile, Parker said the shoulder injury fullback Bob Ferguson incurred in Sunday's 16-7 exhibition game victory over the Cleveland Browns was not serious.

The team will begin workouts Tuesday in preparation for its league opener Sunday with the Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia.

Prep

Front

By DON VOGEL

Hope springs eternal for Oakland County area football coaches as they prepare their charges for season openers this week.

Even those mentors who are directing the "have-nots" are not waving the traditional crying towels. This is a refreshing change from the past when even a few of the coaches with strong squads could be heard moaning loud and long before the real firing got under way.

Invariably, some contender gets clobbered right out of a league's title picture. The same will happen again this fall.

Southfield was the biggest bust last year. One or more of the following will take an unexpected skid this season:

Walled Lake, Pontiac Northern, West Bloomfield, Clarkston, Kettering, Royal Oak Kimball, Royal Oak St. Mary, Birmingham Groves, New Haven and North Branch. These are the contenders in area leagues.

Only the Oakland A favorites are exempt. This league is like the Southwest Conference in football—full of upsets.

Oakland County football has always had its share of the better prep quarterbacks in the state. This year is no exception.

Walled Lake's John Thomas, Dan Greig of West Bloomfield, Oxford's Dan Van Vleet, Dan Craven of Clarkston and Groves' Bill Stephenson proved themselves under fire last fall.

Craven and VanVleet will be on the same field Friday when Clarkston plays Oxford.

It won't be noticeable to fans sitting back from the field, unless a player removes his helmet, but there will be numerous grid-ders wearing glasses in action.

The Inter-Lakes League is still looking for a couple of schools to replace Southfield and Berkley. These schools are departing to join four from the Eastern Michigan to form the Southeastern Michigan Association.

Kettering appears to be a logical choice. But athletic officials in the Waterford school system are rejecting the idea, feeling it would be better not to have two schools in the same loop. Waterford Township is in the I-L.

SINGLE WING

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows will be the only area team using the single wing as its primary offense. Kettering and possibly Bloomfield Hills will use it as a supplement.

Actually, the single wing is still being used extensively, but the attack is disguised by the backfield alignment.

The true winged T, and a lot of high schools and colleges are using this attack, relies on single wing blocking. About the only difference between it and the single wing is that the quarterback is behind the center.

A few of the area coaches are changing to the pro type Slot T.

The Detroit City League will get its first of outside football competition this fall. One of the games will be between Mumfords and Royal Oak Dondero.

PREDICTION: Pontiac Central won't finish last in the Saginaw Valley. If the Chiefs keep up the hustle they've shown in practice, one or two of the SVC's better rated squads could be jolted.

Nebraska Backs Hurt, Force New Backfield

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney reshuffled his backfield Sunday because of injuries to fullback Gene Young and halfback Willie Ross during Saturday's first game-type football scrimmage.

Bruce Smith took over as fullback and utility back Rudy Johnson took over at left half. Both Young and Ross suffered muscle injuries but should be back in action by Tuesday.

A pleasant place to meet before and after the game!

Crane Coach Gauges Juniors, Seniors

Cranbrook Has Letter Winners Up Front

Running Attack Seems Probable If Backs Produce As Expected

A line-up heavy with junior and senior candidates features the early report from Cranbrook's football camp.

Coach Pete Slader has experience on the line and expects capable running backs to make his squad a potent ground attack team.

Four veteran linemen held the list of returnees at the Bloomfield Hills school. Pete Maxwell, 6-2 and 185, and Larry Willey are the co-captains who will handle the blocking chores along with Tom Barlow at 205. Bob Parsons is a 6-1 end target.

Bruce Smith packs 190 pounds on his 6-foot frame and could take the center spot as a newcomer.

In the backfield, John Goodman appears in the driver's seat at quarterback. Dale Bosley has the size for the important full-back spot. Lanky Arch Copeland is bidding for the wingback position.

Other running candidates include Terry Verity, Buzz Mieras, Mike Yamasaki and Owen Porterfield.

The Cranes were 3-5 overall last season and only 1-3 in the Inter-State Prep League. This season they will open with Birmingham Groves and will play a tough Kettering team Oct. 4 just before beginning the regular league schedule.

Slader has some promising material and it could develop into a potent team before the season concludes.

Scotland's Clark Will Keep Driving

MONZA, Italy (AP)—Jim Clark, a far from dour Scot, already has the world driving championship locked up but says he will continue to drive in the Grand Prix circuit.

"As far as I know," Clark said, "The Lotus-Climax people expect me to carry on as scheduled. Nothing has changed and I expect to take part in the last three races."

Clark, a 27-year-old farmer from Scotland who says driving is just a hobby, clinched the 1963 title Sunday by driving his Lotus-Climax to victory in the Grand Prix of Italy formula-one race.

The victory increased his points in the world driving standings to 51. With only three more races left in the season, he has an insurmountable lead over Richie Ginther of Los Angeles, with 24, and John Surtees of England, with 22, his closest challengers.

HIGH STEPPERS—Cranbrook halfback Terry Verity leaps over his teammates while running mate Buzz Mieras cuts

Chips Have Entire Backfield Returning

MOUNT PLEASANT — Central Michigan University, the only Michigan Team in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (IAC), has its entire starting backfield returning and is expected to make a strong bid this season to defend its IAC football crown and walk off with its seventh grid title in the last 14 years.

Northern Illinois, the Chippewas' chief contender a year ago, is again figured to be a top challenger if passing whiz George Bork is on the beam.

Western Illinois and Illinois State both are in the darkhorse stage while Eastern Illinois doesn't seem to have the power to be a factor in the race.

A year ago Central bounced back from a four-game losing streak to win its last six games including the exciting 35-27 triumph over Northern that decided the championship.

Although Central suffered some line losses, the backfield of quarterback Dick Moffit, halfbacks Bill Shuple and George Wolfe and tailback Larry Moore returns to give coach Bill Kelly a strong nucleus.

LINE VETS

Even in the line, Central has some strong performers returning. Among the highly-touted performers are defensive tackle Tom Lang and Uwe Wiese, Guard Ken Bickle, linebackers Charlie Koons, Wayne Frieders and Frank Goldberg and sophomore end Al Bishop.

Although the Chips need line depth, they should have a strong offensive punch topped by Moffit's passing and Shuple's running.

Northern's bid for the championship will rest mainly on the arm of Bork, who was one of the nation's leading passers last year while leading the Huskies to an 8-1 regular season mark.

KC Chiefs' Rookie Dies After 8 Days

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Stone Johnson, promising rookie for the Kansas City Chiefs and a runner for the United States in the 1960 Olympics, died Sunday night of a broken neck suffered in an exhibition football game eight days ago.

An attending physician attributed death to a fracture of the fifth cervical vertebra of the neck and spinal cord damage.

The physician, who declined use of his name, said an autopsy also revealed a blood clot in a lung artery. While this was a complication unknown previously, the physician said it was not the cause of death.

The 23-year-old x x x 3rd grad b49.

The IAC race doesn't get underway until Oct. 5 but Central will meet Bradley at Saginaw Feather game.

New Haven Preparing To Launch Title Team

Dryden may climb into the first division, Almont may be ready to leave last place, and New Haven is the team to beat this season in the Southern Thumb Conference.

"We have experience returning, but will lack size, speed and depth," according to Dryden coach Bob Mason. "We will make it interesting for all our opponents."

The Cardinals finally quit the cellar last season and moved into a sixth place tie. They are aiming for fifth this time and could slip a notch higher in the eight-team loop.

There are seven two-time letterwinners. They are guards Fred York (255) and Tom Townsend, guards Mike Thomas and Perry Arnold, center Dave Bancroft, fullback Dick Powers and halfback Larry Panduran.

Single monogram winners are quarterback Tom Sterner, back Dave Reynolds and end Dennis Hilliker.

"If desire and experience are determining factors, then we should be the surprise team of the league," said Almont mentor Bill Biggs. Seventeen lettermen are among the 55 candidates.

Briggs noted that only three are seniors and that most of the experienced juniors have added 15 to 20 pounds.

Top returnees for the Raiders are guard Larry Millikin, tackle Ed Tusluk, quarterback John

TOP RUNNERS

Veteran backs John Mack and Dwight Lee are expected to lead New Haven to the title it shared with Armada and Capac last year. Standout frontliners are tackle Jack Bolt, guards Chuck Mathew and Rick Foss and end Richard Chenault.

Memphis is a dark horse.

Among 12 lettermen are backs Bill Doig, Jim Olmstead and Bob Moore, center Chuck Duffee, guard Steve Sinda and end Kenny Dunsmore.

Capac and Armada are rebuilding. This leaves Anchor Bay and Brown City as the chief challengers.

Top players at Capac are ends John Scheuer and Jake Bishop, tackle Gary Smith, guard Rod Ryder, center Bob Shenfer and two-year halfback Ken Adamski.

Anchor Bay's hopes are built around backs Tom Stanek and Larry Kandler and guard Al Godin.

The Forecast:
1. New Haven
2. Brown City
3. Anchor Bay
4. Capac
5. Memphis
6. Dryden
7. Armada
8. Almont

Contest to Draw 500,000

Nearly a half-million boys are expected to participate in the Ford Motor Co. and National Football League sponsored third annual punt, pass and kick competition.

Registration throughout the nation began last week.

Competition in each phase of football is limited to boys eight through 11 years of age.

Top prize for the eight national finalists—one in each age group from both the eastern and western division team areas—will be an all expense paid tour of Washington, a reception by President Kennedy at the white house and a tour of the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

The finals will be held at halftime of the NFL championship game Dec. 29 in the city of the Western Division champion. The contests will begin Oct. 12.

Registration will continue until Oct. 11 at Ford dealerships. McAuliffe Ford on North Saginaw is taking local registrations.

His Number Reads 81...

DENVER, Colo. (NEA)—The fascination of some players for certain numbers is a paramount point in assignments.

Tom Rychlec has an affinity for 81. He started with it in college at American International. He continued wearing it with the Detroit Lions and the Buffalo Bills. His telephone number had 81 in it. His automobile license number ended with 8181.

When Rychlec joined the Denver Broncos, Gary Clark was wearing his pet digits, but the recruit end was released and Tom now sports 81 on his uniform.

Champ or Chump?

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—West Point football coach Paul Dietzel says an athlete can be almost anything he wants to be if he wants to pay the price.

Speaking to a group of high school gridders here, Dietzel told the players: "You have a chance to be a champ or a chump. The only difference between them is 'u'."

Of all traditional classics that enliven football schedules, none is more established than this yearly test of wits.

During past years, the ladies have had a monopoly on bagging the bond—Though last year the distaff division broke through to post a tie win.

Proving that football sagacity is no respecter of age, one of the winners had seen 16 summers while the co-winner was an up-and-coming citizen of nine months.

Other pretenders to the football throne are Inlay City and Deckerville, Oxford's replacement. Even with 12 of 16 lettermen back, Millington is not expected to issue more than a token challenge.

North Branch's only league loss last year was to Oxford. Coach Phil Marozitos welcomed 16 veterans to practice.

All but one of the top eight players have at least two years experience. They are halfbacks Howard Myers, Terry Jamison and Dennis Smith, center Jim McLaughlin, guard Brien Hagemeyer, end Ralph Margriffs and back Karl Krepps.

Quarterback Glenn Jamison lettered last year as did reserve signal caller Fred Monroe.

Inlay City is continuing to rebuild and Deckerville's strength in the league has yet to be tested.

Millington's strength appears to be up front. Running are tackles Bill Bushaw and Dick Galdy and guard Dick Blackmer. Chuck Sawyer is back at quarterback and Eddie Jewell is a veteran ball carrier.

The Forecast:
1. North Branch
2. Deckerville
3. Inlay City
4. Millington

Phil Hurlers Disciplined

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Disciplinary action has been taken against Philadelphia pitchers Ray Culp and Jack Hamilton after police reported they were involved in a minor auto accident which occurred after the club's curfew.

But Manager Gene Mauch, who called the two pitchers into his office before the Philadelphia-Milwaukee game Sunday, declined to disclose the nature of the disciplinary action.

No one else commented, either. Culp, a rookie with a 12-11 record who was the starter in the Phillies' 6-4 loss to the Braves Saturday night, said only: "We were in an accident. That's all I can say about it."

Police said that Milwaukee pitcher Bob Sadowski was with Culp and Hamilton when the accident occurred early Sunday, two hours after the Phillies' 2 a.m. curfew for night games.

Hamilton was identified as the driver of one of the cars. None of the players was injured.

Police said a car driven by Mrs. Isabel Jones, 23, of Philadelphia, struck Hamilton's car broadside. She and her husband, Walter, 26, suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Yacht Champs at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Sixty-eight Star Class yachting champions from 16 nations, including Russia's 1960 Olympic titlists, provided Chicago's lakefront with an international touch today as the 1963 world's championship races got underway.

The week-long yachting races, except for an open date Thursday, are the final tuneups for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Defending champions are Richard Stearns, skipper, and his crewman Lynn Williams, both of Wilmette, Ill. They captured the title last year in Portugal.

The 1960 Olympic champions are Timir Pinegin, a Moscow aircraft engineer, and his crewman, Feodor Shutkov, who use an American built boat. Pinegin has been a top international Star Class competitor for more than seven years.

Another Soviet entry is from the Leningrad fleet.

Wyandotte Undeclared in Great Lakes Play

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Wyandotte and East Chicago, Ind., pushed their winning streaks to 2-0 Sunday with second round victories in the American Amateur Baseball Congress' Great Lakes regional tournament.

Wyandotte defeated Louisville, Ky., 2-0 Sunday night on playing manager Len Trusewicz' two-run homer in the eighth.

Earlier in the day, East Chicago outscored Lakewood, Ohio, 9-6 in a free-swinging contest, and Glendale, Ohio, eliminated Melrose Park, Ill., 4-3 in a game that went 10 innings.

Florida Skier Scores

VICHY, France (AP) — Jeanette Brown of Tampa, Fla., won the women's title at the world water-ski championships Saturday.

Ailments Eliminates Pair at Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The Northwestern football team lost two more players for the season Monday because of ailments.

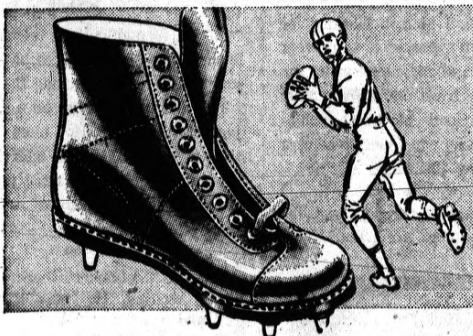

Senior halfback Jerry Daugherty suffered a fractured knee bone in Saturday's scrimmage and sophomore halfback Ron Gerouard quit the squad because of recurring headaches.

The Wildcats worked on their kicking game.

Switches to Canada

CALGARY (AP)—The Calgary Stampeders announced Monday Doug Elmore, offensive quarterback and defensive halfback cut by the Washington Redskins of the National Football League, will try out with the Canadian Football League Club.

Until this year the Dodgers have played only four American League rivals in 10 World Series. They met the Yankees seven times, the White Sox, Indians and Red Sox once.

College Coaches Advise Junior Gridders

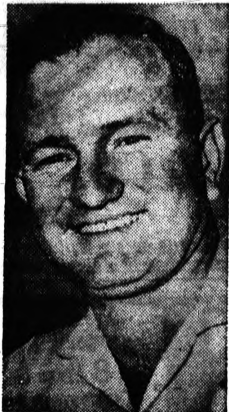

LSU Tigers' McClendon Urges 'Never Give Up'

By CHARLES McCLENDON
Coach at Louisiana State University

In my presentation to youngsters of America I am going to depart from the usual "tip." My tip has nothing to do with the mechanics of football in the sense that blocking, kicking or passing might be classified. My tip has to do with acquiring an intangible quality which is every bit as important as any fundamental in the game.

This intangible goes by many names. Some call it desire. Others refer to it as competitive spirit. I like to think of it in the term we use at LSU. We call it SECOND EFFORT.

I would never minimize the

first effort in any endeavor, but like everything else in life, the first effort sometimes fails. That's when the true champion calls on something within himself to give the SECOND EFFORT.

At the risk of sounding like a negative coach, I must be honest. I know that during the course of a game, our opposition will execute effective blocks on our players. We therefore teach our players that "it is not a crime to be blocked in a football game. It is a crime to stay blocked."

To gain the ability to give that SECOND EFFORT, youngsters should develop mental discipline. They should learn to be quick in their movements, even if they are not blessed with speed. And, above all, never give up until the whistle sounds, because determination in giving that great SECOND EFFORT might be the difference in winning or losing the game.

Pride Aids Protecting for Pass

By BOB DEVANEY
Coach at University of Nebraska

The No. 1 idea in blocking for your team's passer is to prevent by any legal means possible, the opponent from reaching your passer. Good blocking enables your passer to spot receivers and throw the ball.

What are the key ingredients for good pass protection blocking? On an individual basis, I think personal pride is the most important — pride in yourself as a football player and as a man and the determination that no single opponent will whip you. But in addition to pride and determination, you must learn some techniques which will help you accomplish your mission.

The biggest mistake a player can make in blocking on pass protection is to attempt just one hit, then relax or quit.

The pass-pro man should be in a semi-crouch with the weight of his body shifted to the balls of his feet. He should be loose, ready to shift as the situation demands. When an opponent approaches — make the defender come to you, then don't be afraid to stick your nose into trouble — be ready to strike a blow and drop back. At Nebraska we use the term, "drop your anchor," which simply means keeping your seat low so you won't easily be derailed by a charging opponent.

As a last resort, if you feel you are being whipped or losing your man, give it an all-out side-body effort and try to knock your opponent off his feet.

A boy who can do a good job of pass protecting is a definite asset on today's college football team because there is so much emphasis on passing.

Backing Up Line Is Tough Work

By FLOYD (BEN) SCHWARTZWALDER
Coach at Syracuse University

As a former college linebacker, I have always been interested in the versatility required of the young fellow who wants to do an outstanding job of backing the line.

The line-backer must be a real jack-of-all-trades. He must be able to defend against both the run and the pass. He must have excellent initial movement at the snap of the ball.

For the linebacker, there can be no waiting. He must travel ... and react correctly.

How does the linebacker know where to go and when? By doing what we call "keying" ... watching certain action or individuals.

As a general rule, we have our linebackers key their guard into the ball.

By that I mean that a linebacker will key the offensive guard on his side of the line. Usually, the backer's initial movement will be to the right if the guard goes right, and to the left, if the guard goes left.

However, the linebacker must also be aware of the direction the ball takes. It may be different than that taken by the guard. This is what we mean by keying the guard into the ball.

BEN SCHWARTZWALDER

There are six variations to our linebacker key system, and they are all important.

To every young linebacker, I would say this: Learn your keying system so well that you react automatically.

Punting Important Skill in Football

By WILLIAM D. MURRAY
Coach at Duke University

One of the most neglected skills in football is the ability to punt. Increased emphasis on offensive football has taken away some of the glitter that, in former years, was attached to the kicking game.

I can think of no surer way to become an important member of a football squad than to learn to be an able punter.

First of all, a punter must have balance. He should learn to stand firmly on the entire foot and not the toe as the ball leaves the kicking foot.

He should practice dropping the ball until it always reaches the foot at the same spot.

The top of the instep of the foot should meet the ball somewhere near the ball's center.

I would recommend the two-step method for starting the kick. The first step should be relatively short and the second relatively long. This will bring the body and the kicking foot into the ball with great force.

Longest pass of the 1962 season for the Detroit Lions was an 80-yard effort from Milt Plum to Terry Barr for a touchdown against the Baltimore Colts.

COACH'S LINE — UCLA coach Bill Barnes lines up his team for a pep talk about their first game of the season against Pitt at the Los Angeles Coliseum Sept. 20.

Dales Like 'Icy' Treats

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Hillsdale football coach Muddy Waters has his players in "good humor" lately.

After every morning scrimmage, the Dale's athletic department treats the 100-man squad to popsicles.

"It's good for them and it cuts down on too many trips to the water bucket," Waters said.

The only trouble is, you have to mix up the flavors, Waters said. The players got orange, two days in a row and complained of a lack of variety.

Waters said Wednesday that if the players did well in practice this week, the flavor would be grape popsicles.

'63 Wolverines Look Upward in 84th Campaign

Elliott Has Hopes for '63 Climb

ANN ARBOR — The University of Michigan is about to launch its 84th official football season with only one way to go — up.

The Wolverines turned in their poorest performance since 1936 last fall, winning only two games and losing seven, and posting a 1-6 conference record.

But the signs point to a better year, said Bump Elliott, who starts his fifth season as head coach.

Practice at Michigan started a week earlier than other Big Ten schools because of the earlier opening of classes and 73 players turned out.

"The squad is decidedly better than the one that took to the practice field a year ago," Elliott said, "But is not outstanding."

"We do have more depth and experience as well as promising new fellows to pick up the slack," he said.

Elliott's decision to allow sophomores as much playing time as possible last fall may have paid off, he said; "They received some valuable experience and showed real improvement last spring."

LOSE 3 STARTERS

The Wolverines lost only three starters through graduation this year. The only serious loss was that of Dave Raimy, a speedy right half from Dayton, Ohio, and Michigan's greatest scorer since the fabled Tom Harmon in the early 1940s.

This year, they have three lettermen at end — juniors Jim Conley of Springdale, Pa.; Ben Farabee of Holland, and Bill Laskey of Milan — as well as promising sophomores in Steve Smith, a 6-2, 230-pounder from Park Ridge, Ill.; Dennis Flanagan, 6-2, 215, of Niles, Ohio; Craig Kirby, 6-1, 180, of Royal Oak Kimball High School, and Jeff Hoyne, 6-1, 195, of Chicago.

At center there are three lettermen where there were none a year ago — although sophomore Tom Cecchini of Detroit Pershing High School is scheduled to start at that spot. The lettermen are junior Jim Green of Trenton, senior Bill Muir of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and Dick Szymanski, a senior from Toledo.

At fullback are two tested veterans and a promising sophomore. Junior Mel Anthony of Cincinnati and senior Wayne Sparkman of Plymouth will supply the experience. Sophomore Charles Dehlin, 5-11, 195, of Flushing could be a contender for the starting spot.

Lack of experienced quarterbacks continues to be one of the least of Elliott's problems. He has four lettermen for the spot including junior Bob Timberlake, Franklin, Ohio; senior Bob Chandler of La Grange, Ill.; senior Frosty Evashevski, son of Iowa football coach Forest Evashevski, and senior Tom Prichard of Marion, Ohio.

Kansas Stadium Decor

LAWRENCE, Kans. (NEA) — In addition to Memorial Stadium's capacity being increased to 44,900, Kansas football fans will be greeted by new decor. Section numbers have been painted on crimson and blue panels.

HEAD LINE — Michigan football coach Bump Elliott stands ready to check his roster and a line of shiny helmets awaits the heads of the squad coming out for practice.

70 Wayne Gridders Report for Drills

DETROIT — Nearly 70 Wayne State University football players reported to Tartar Field this week to begin drills for the 1963 campaign.

Coach Hal Willard boasted 24 letter-winners among the crop, and he's pinning his hopes chiefly on them for bettering last year's 0-6-1 mark and eighth-place finish in the Presidents' Athletic Conference.

Seventeen of the returnees are juniors. "They all have a full season under their belts now," Willard said, "and we have a handful of some fine first-year prospects."

Willard, who is starting his fourth year as head coach, said the Tartars will be strongest at guard, halfback and fullback. He has 12 lettermen returning at these positions.

Top lineman back is senior guard Jim Moore, who won Little All-American honors last year. The 5-11, 195-pounder from Detroit's Cass Tech High produced the team's third highest number of tackles (46) playing solely on defense, but Willard plans to use his talents both ways this year.

OTHER RETURNES

Other returning guards are junior co-captain Al Tessmer, a 5-9, 180-pounder from Melvindale High, who was voted the team's "Most Valuable Lineman" in 1962; senior Enrico Orderico, the 1962 captain, and junior Jim McClorey.

Top sophomores figured to help at guard are Paul Jane, a 5-10, 180-pounder from Bay City Handy; and John Williams, 6-4, 190, from Lake Charles (La.) Boston High.

Ted Hayes, a 215-pound junior from Lincoln Park, leads the tackles. Willard said he blocked with 80 per cent efficiency last year and offensively "is the biggest gun on the line."

Junior quarterback Dennis D'Angelo, fully recovered from his post-season knee operation of last year, will be the spark plug of the Tartar offense. The 20-year-old captain started two games last year, completed 40 per cent of his passes, and had only one intercepted out of 40 attempts.

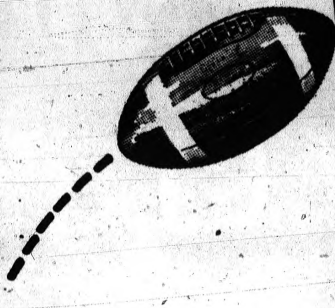

Other quarterback candidates are junior Richard Tesaro and sophomore Robert Coosaia.

Willard has five lettermen at the halfback positions — juniors Jim Hall, Pete Owens, Bill Koury, Don Sims; and senior Larry Kaluzny. Hall is the best field runner and has the most potential, while Owens is the strongest and Sims the fastest.

Two lettermen — Dempsey Harrison and John Gutowski — return at fullback, along with junior Walt Lyszak, who lettered at guard last year.

The 1963 Wayne State schedule calls for three home games and four away. The Tartars will open at home Oct. 5 against Marietta in a nonconference game at 2:00 p.m.

Air Force II Experienced

An experienced Air Force Academy football team boasting 26 returning lettermen will tackle a rugged, intersectional schedule in 1963, as the Falcons get set for their eighth season of varsity football at the nation's newest service academy.

"We should be considerably improved over last season," said Coach Ben Martin, "but a quick look at the schedule for this fall indicates that any improvement over last year's 5-5 record will be a major undertaking."

The popular AFA coach was thinking of his opening game with the powerful University of Washington, then on to other rugged opponents which include the AFA's second clash with West Point, and games with UCLA, Maryland, Nebraska and Boston College, to mention just a few.

All-American Quarterback Terry Isaacson will be back to guide a big, rugged and veteran backfield.

MSU Looking for Surprises

Duffy Is Happy Spartans Not Among Rated

Michigan State Fields Lighter '63 Team for Rough Schedule

EAST LANSING — "Don't be discouraged. We're going to pleasantly surprise a lot of people," Duffy Daugherty advised Michigan State football fans.

"This is the first year since 1955," recalled Daugherty, going into his 10th season as MSU football boss, "that we haven't been picked in the top 20."

The pressure is off this year, Daugherty philosophized. So Michigan State can come from nowhere to bring up some surprises.

"We don't want the fans to be discouraged," said Daugherty. "They are going to have one of the most interesting years of football-watching at Michigan State they've ever seen. We don't have the weight, so we're going to rely on quickness, deception and speed. And we are going to have to throw a lot more."

Daugherty outlined some of the reasons most of the pickers pick Michigan State to be an also-ran this year.

"Our line is 30 pounds lighter than last year — that is man by man — we went from the heaviest line in the Big Ten to probably the lightest."

Gone are such great ones as Dave Behrman, Ed Budde and Jim Bobbitt, among nine signing pro football contracts.

"We have probably the toughest schedule on record. I can't remember a rougher one," said Daugherty.

Michigan State opens against North Carolina, a team with an indifferent 3-7 record last year.

LIGHT BACKFIELD

His backfield, Daugherty said, will be the lightest in the Big Ten. Sherm Lewis, Ron Rubick and Dewey Lincoln are figured as the mail-carriers this year.

Lewis, the co-captain, was a out for track this spring but is expected to put on football shoes easily. He led the team last year in scoring and was second in yardage only to All-American George Salmes.

Daugherty will have to make up his mind fast between Dick Proebstle and Steve Juday, an all-Oakland County ace from Northville at quarterback. Proebstle has seniority on the job but was out all last season because of an early injury. Juday has shown some brilliant passing in practice.

"You don't generally gamble on a sophomore quarterback in the Big Ten," Daugherty commented. "We'll try them both out in early games and then I'll decide how to gamble."

Hurons Have 7 Regulars Back in '63

A squad of 44 men turned out this week to begin opening football practice at Eastern Michigan University.

Headed by 15 lettermen and seven returning regulars, the Hurons hope to begin where they left off last season when they won the last two contests of the season after a string of 29 straight games without a win.

Coach Fred Trosko, starting his 11th season as Huron mentor, admits that it will be a tough grind to work up to last season's peak. "We have had some tough breaks in the last few years and our teams don't seem to jell until the second part of the season," Trosko says.

Returning veterans are Terry Hurley from St. Clair Shores, a senior whom Trosko says has more football savvy than any player on the team. The flashy halfback broke five school records last season.

Also returning is Bill MacGillivray, a quarterback who played mostly on defense last season but was chosen to the all NAIA Michigan team last year.

Co-captain Dempster Ross and Bill Fanning at the end slots are returning along with Jim Hadley and Jim Ziegler at the tackles. Cyril Nichols at fullback and Don Oboza at halfback have returned to round the backfield.

Lists Both M-MSU NCAA TV Schedule

Both Michigan and Michigan State will have their moments on the NCAA's 1963 television schedule.

Both will be covered on a regional basis.

Michigan will be shown in its Big Ten struggle with Purdue Oct. 19, while MSU's Spartans will be televised Nov. 16 while entertaining Notre Dame.

All ten of the last season's top college teams will be seen during the season. The schedule will start Saturday with the Florida-Georgia Tech clash.

Last season's national champion Southern California has a video date with Oklahoma Sept. 28. There are nine nationally televised games on the schedule and five weekends of regional telecasts.

Only the Texas-Texas A&M

Thanksgiving Day contest will not be a Saturday game. Alabama and Miami on Dec. 7 conclude the slate, one week after the annual Army-Navy tussle in Philadelphia.

Player Change Line Positions On Illini Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — First string guards of the University of Illinois football team were switched Monday and Dave Mueller moved to No. 1 left end to replace the injured Bill Pasko.

Pasko has a hip injury which will keep him out of contact work this week. Guard Dick Deller was switched to left and Lynn Stewart to right following Illinois' first squad game Saturday.

Coach Pete Elliott made other position shifts below the first team level. And ends Gregg Schumacher and Mike Summers were in pads Monday and working for the second team. They were out last week with pulled leg muscles.

Lee Grosscup Changes Mind About Canada

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Quarterback Lee Grosscup, who signed with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Football Conference last week, will not join the club. Instead he will play with the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League, sources here said, Monday.

The former Utah State passing star played for the New York Giants of the National Football League and the New York Jets, formerly Titans, of the AFL. He was cut by the Jets recently.

Has Winning Habit

HANOVER, N.H. (UP) — Dartmouth's football captain, Scott Creelman, has played in 26 consecutive winning football games.

Soph-Laden Titans Play 10 Games

DETROIT — Emphasis will be on the "new" as the University of Detroit Titans get ready for a 10-game schedule opening with Bowling Green on September 21 at the Ohio city. Head coach John Idzik, in his second year at the Titan helm, has 30 sophomores, to support 22 upper-classmen including 15 lettermen. Going into the season, Idzik describes his outlook as one of "hopeful optimism."

GOOD FULLBACK

"We've got a strong and experienced first unit in the line and we are very strong at fullback. We've got four lettermen returning at halfback but we are looking for help there."

The Titans will also have a new type offense, according to Idzik.

"We're going to stress the running game much more this year depending a lot on junior fullback Fred Beier.

"Beier is in top condition and he turned sensational performances for us in the five spring squad games when he averaged 8.5 yards per carry. He's the best runner the Titans have had in years and he'll be real tough to stop."

KEY LINEMAN

Key man in the line is co-captain Bob Koval, being touted for All-American honors, at guard. Koval is a real "iron man" appearing in all out seven minutes of the Titans' final three games in 1962.

The center position is in the competent hands of senior co-captain Dennis Shaw; other lettermen in the first-unit line include Ed Greeves at guard; Mike Walderzak and Bob Rice at tackle; and John Every of Shrine and Dick Johnson at end.

Idzik will generally go with two units playing both offense and defense and fill in with a third.

Biggest loss for the Titans was All-American quarterback Jerry Gross. Filling Gross' shoes is Idzik's big problem. The solution to it rests on the shoulders of promising sophomore Tom Zientek of Toledo Central Catholic high.

Zientek is one of four sophs Idzik has available for duty at quarterback. Idzik is confident he has the talent and ability to deliver. At 6-2 and 185 pounds, Zientek has impressive credentials.

He was All-city and All-State in high school and his size makes him a definite running threat.

Wisconsin Guard Quits Over Injury

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's chances to repeat as Big Ten Conference football champions were dealt a setback Monday when first team guard Dion Kempthorne announced he was giving up the sport.

Kempthorne, a senior and double-letter winner from Dubuque, Iowa, has been beset with injuries since the end of last season when a stomach ailment forced him to miss the Rose Bowl.

Last week the 5-foot-11, 215-pound lineman was confined to the infirmary for a series of X rays on his back. Coach Milt Bruhn described Kempthorne's retirement "a heavy loss."

Virginia Grid Leader

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Turnley Todd, a 215-pound line star from Orange, Va., is the 1963 captain of the University of Virginia football team.

Todd was shifted from offensive guard to center. He is a dean's list student at Virginia.

Rookie tackle Roy Williams of the Detroit Lions was a member of the Navy boxing team at Treasure Island, and also used his 6'7", 255-pound frame in judo events in service.

Opening Foe, Western Woe

Broncos Meet Big 10 Champ in 1st Game

Coach Schlosser Has Brighter Grid Hope in '63 Campaign

No one has to remind Western Michigan who its 1963 season opening foe is.

The Broncos are looking for a better season than the 5-4 mark of 1962 but realistically they will have to start looking at the victory column after the opening game in Madison, Wisconsin where they play the defending Big 10 champions, Sept. 21st.

Western Michigan plucked the Wisconsin game from remnants of a schedule left open when Marquette dropped football and the Badgers found themselves with opening dates.

Big surprise in the Bronco camp is the alignment at quarterback where transferee Troy Allen of Detroit has taken over as number one ahead of last year's second team leader Ken Barnhill of Wayne.

Quarterback is one of Schlosser's best positions. In addition, transferee Bob Radlinski (6-3, 210, Warren), Lonnie Wells (5-10, 160, Flint) and Joe Karam (5-10, 185, Detroit) are all adept passers and runners.

STARTERS

George Ihler, a 6-3, 185-pounder from Marinette, Wis., will probably start at right half for the Broncos in the Wisconsin opener. He lettered last year in his sophomore season as a safetyman and was third team quarterback. He'll be backed by junior letterman Elwood Miller and sophomore Stan Williams.

Center Denny Rutowski, 6-2, 230, Centerline, heads the pivotmen. Jim Reid (6-0, 195, Flint), Roger Pulliam (6-2, 200, Gary, Ind.) and other sophomores will be capable centers and linebackers.

The ends are solid with co-captain Bill Somerville (6-2, 212, Chicago) and Ron Schneider (6-2, 198, Owosso) again starting. And senior Tom Patterson (6-0, 185, Parma) and sophomore Ken Moon (6-2, 203, Detroit) will back up Somerville.

Larry Botolameoli (6-4, 250, Iron Mountain) and Paul Rakow (6-1, 222, Detroit) are the starting tackles.

Top Frosh Brighten U. of D. Grid Future

Two high school All-Americans head the list of the best freshmen football squad to enter the University of Detroit in many years. A roster of 32 candidates slated to enter U-D in the fall semester was released along with a five game freshmen schedule.

The U-D frosh are scheduled to meet the freshmen teams of Bowling Green, Hillsdale, Toledo, Central Michigan and Kent State.

All freshmen home games will be played at Titan Stadium at 3 p.m. Thursday afternoon. The public is invited to attend, admission is free.

Top prospects on the freshmen squad are end Tony Richardson of Michigan's Oscoda High selected to the Coaches All-American squad and quarterback Mike Flaherty, a 5-10, 175-pounder from Erie, Pa., named to the Catholic High School All-America team.

Two brothers of U-D varsity squad members are also listed on the frosh roster. Halfback Tom Beier of Fremont, Ohio, brother of first string fullback Fred Beier and Doug Collins an end from Windsor's Petterson C. I., brother of tackle Ted Collins, will follow their older kin to U-D.

Head coach John Idzik, in releasing the schedule and roster said that this year's frosh squad is the finest in U-D's recent history.

"This has been the most productive recruiting effort in years and has given a great boost in our efforts to build a solid foundation for U-D's football future."

Brainy Wolverine QB

ANN ARBOR — Bob Timberlake, Michigan's 6-4, 210-pound starting quarterback, is a perfect example of the athlete who combines brains with brawn. Timberlake has maintained a 3.6 grad average since his freshman year in the College of Literature Science and the Arts. He's planning to enter the School of Business Administration.

Southern California Picked for No. 1 Again

By The Associated Press

Southern California has the ingredients to deny as national collegiate football champion but the record book indicates the chances are unlikely. If the Trojans falter, Northwestern, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas are the teams to remember.

Against this backdrop, a new season opens Saturday. Georgia Tech and Florida collide in the TV-kickoff, CBS.

Southern Cal opens its title defense a week later at Colorado but a much better line on two powers will come when an Oklahoma squad Bud Wilkinson concedes is his best in six or seven years invades USC Sept. 28.

Northwestern, which hasn't won a big ten title in 27 years and is renowned for its November slumps, finally has the depth — and quarterback Tom Myers — to go all the way.

The "smarts" want to stick with defending champ Wisconsin even without Ron Vanderkelen because of blazing Badger speed.

In the SEC it's impossible not to go with those familiar powers, Ole Miss and 'Bama's Crimson Tide.

The southwest conference showdown again narrows to the Oct. 19 Texas-Arkansas meeting. The Longhorns had their first unbeaten regular season in 39 years last fall prior to the Cotton Bowl loss to LSU and much of that cast of ball-control experts is back.

Elsewhere, the regional breakdown looks like this:

Big six — USC is the pick, naturally. Washington remains dangerous even with less experience. UCLA gets stronger.

Big eight—The Oklahoma team which won its last seven games in a row last season before hitting Alabama in the Orange Bowl should jell from the start Nebraska can nudge Kansas and Missouri for runner-up.

Atlantic Coast — Clemson to spoil Duke's bid for a third straight crown. Dark horse roles shared by North Carolina and Maryland.

Southern — West Virginia, though though mountaineers may have to share it again with VMI. Missouri Valley — Between defender Tulsa and Wichita.

Ivy League — No one picks against Dartmouth's Bob Blackman but Harvard's John Yovicsin has aspirations.

Independents — Miami, Navy, Syracuse, Oregon, Oregon State. Penn State joints Pitt and Notre Dame as owners of three of the toughest schedules ever put together so how much records will reflect quality of these squads is a question.

Most surprising teams of the year — Illinois, North Carolina, TCU and Washington State.

Dawson Early Leader in AFL Aerial Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Lenny Dawson, who led the Kansas City Chiefs—then the Dallas Texas—to the American Football League 1962 title, has picked up right where he left off in the new season.

Dawson pitched the Chiefs to a 59-7 conquest of the Denver Broncos, and himself to the top of the passing statistics after the first full week of regular season action.

Dawson completed 12 of 15 for 278 yards and four touchdowns. Babe Parilli of Boston with 19-35 for 287 yards was second, and Tobin Rote of San Diego third, 18-29 and 260 yards.

Mark Smolinski, fullback of the New York Jets, picked up 100 yards on eight carries to top the ground gainers. Bake Turner of the Jets caught 10 passes for the lead in that department.

Three players — Frank Jackson and Chris Burford of Kansas City and Billy Lott of Boston—scored two touchdowns each to share the scoring lead.

Passing Rush Misses Karras

Lions Analysis — Better Team but Not Record

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Is it possible for a team like the Detroit Lions to have a better unit than any of the past three second place finishers and yet finish lower in the Western Division standings of the NFL?

Not only possible, but the probability is strong.

The Lions have better depth than the 1962 squad. The starting personnel is as good.

Then why shouldn't the Lions do better than the 11-3 mark of last year? Why shouldn't they win the title?

To answer the latter, they COULD win the title, and they COULD do it by just matching their 1962 record.

But, this is where sentiment has to be forsaken. The Lions big problem may be attitude. They haven't been "up" since Thanksgiving Day and the winter rubarb with commissioner Pete Rozelle may have hurt team morale more than Lions' bosses realize.

MISS KARRAS

If the recent exhibition slate is any indication, it must be said definitely that the Lions do miss Alex Karras at the defensive tackle spot.

Floyd Peters obtained from the Browns in a pre-season trade has filled the spot adequately but Karras was considered the best pass rusher in the league and this was a trouble spot in the 5-game exhibition slate.

Against the Steelers, quarterback Ed Brown was hit only once for a loss. Against Dallas, Eddie LeBaron did not have to "eat" the ball at all.

Without the rush on the passer, the pressure on the defensive backfield has become evident. Opposing quarterbacks are getting more time to throw and more accuracy as well.

The middle secondary has been strong, but glaring weaknesses have been noticed at the corners, and opposing quarterbacks have used the air lanes in these directions with regularity.

The change in the offensive line with John Gordy and Dan LaRose at guards, to even out the weight element against mammoth defensive linemen, and rookie Daryl Sanders and John Gonzaga at the tackles is expected to jell to a strong blocking unit early in the season.

Pat Studstill's speed will be missed, but Terry Barr was given a few good jolts in the last two exhibition games and every indication points to Barr being back in form again after the knee injury in 1962.

In Gail Cogdill, the Lions have one of pro football's best receivers, and with Barr and Gibbons, the receiving corps is first class.

Milt Plum, calling the signals on his own for the first time last year, should have gained the confidence in this respect and with Earl Morrall in the "bullpen" the Lions have the best relief quarterback in the NFL.

Carl Brettschneider is nursing an injured back, but put him together with Captain Joe Schmidt and Wayne Walker and the Lions are strong with line-backers. Ex-MSU ace Ernie Clark and former LSU griddle Dennis Gaubatz, a pair of rookies, along with veteran Max Messner give the Lions good line-backing depth.

It's been a long time since Detroit has been able to talk about running depth, but veterans Nick Pietrosante, Dan Lewis and Tom Watkins will get strong backing from rookie Larry Ferguson and one of the all-time pro greats Ollie Maston.

Everything is there for the Lions to make a strong title bid, everything the Lions need. It all rests, how bad do they want the title!

SUMMARIZING EACH TEAM

Green Bay—Packers are solid team, should make it three straight titles. New York—Coach Sherman calls it his best squad, should repeat in East. Detroit—Plum should improve on his own, but Lions will have to be up from September 14 through Thanksgiving Day. Pittsburgh—Defense gets sharper and running is better. Good choice. Chicago—Hale wants another title before retiring. Bears would win Eastern Division but have to settle behind 3 others in West. Cleveland—Tough first year team, not of title caliber. Poor draft and pre-season losses hurt. Baltimore—The team to watch. Won statistics against Packers last year, this year could be score. Washington—Another exciting team, still short of title talents. San Francisco—Need work at QB, have good kids with "potential." Dallas—Have offense, now building defense. Ready to move. Minnesota—New men on defense need polishing. Tarkenton will be better. St. Louis—Johnson will improve through season at QB. Hot and cold team. Los Angeles—Should be better. Bigger stride on defense, QB's still young. Philadelphia—May be personnel problem. Too much youth in offensive middle.

STICKY FINGERS — Probably the best 6th draft choice the Lions ever made was the 1960 selection of Gail Cogdill of Washington State. Cogdill has become one of the most colorful pass receivers in the NFL and for three seasons he has flirted with the 1,000 mark in pass receiving yardage. Last year he had 991 and in 1961 he had 956.

AIRLINE THIEVES — The Detroit Lions have long been known as a top flight defensive team and much of the credit has to be given to the defensive backfield. Returning intact for the third straight season is this 5-man unit of Dick Lane and Yale Lary (bottom). Gary Lowe, Bruce Maher and Dick LeBeau up the line.

ONE OF FOUR — Member of the Lions' highly touted "Fearsome Foursome" is defense end Darris McCord, 6-foot-4 and 255 pound defensive end. McCord is the "old pro" of the defensive line, having held down his spot since 1955, after being the No. 2 draft choice from the University of Tennessee.

He Pays Way With Baltimore Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — As the Baltimore Colts trooped aboard a chartered bus after an exhibition game, Gary Cuozzo dropped a coin in the fare box.

"Hey, you don't have to pay," yelled a veteran.

"Well, you never know," replied Cuozzo.

The rookie quarterback still didn't know Monday if coach Don Shula was going to keep him with a final cut coming up Tuesday before the National Football League starts playing in earnest.

But after five exhibition games, the consensus is that Shula will postpone deciding whether to retain three quarterbacks or release Cuozzo or the veteran Lamar McHan.

The choice has been one of the most fascinating of the Colt exhibition season in which Cuozzo prompted talk he will be the successor to John Unitas when he retires as No. 1 quarterback.

Unitas is in his eighth season and 30 years old.

McHan, the same age and with nine years in the NFL, has been the Colt insurance quarterback the past two years.

The 22-year-old Cuozzo an inch over 6 feet and weighing 190 pounds, was signed as a free agent—the same way they got Unitas.

One of the reasons the pro teams reportedly ignored Cuozzo in the drafts was that he intended to continue the study of medicine. He was an "A" student at the University of Virginia, his father is a dentist in Glen Ridge, N.J., and so is a brother now in the Navy.

Coach Shula was expected to carry both Cuozzo and McHan behind Unitas for at least several more weeks. At that time, Bobby Boyd, a three-year veteran at defensive halfback, is due to be recovered from a shoulder separation.

Top Air Force Cadet

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (NEA) — Junior Powell was honored at the Otis Air Force summer training camp as the outstanding athlete among 231 cadets. He will be a senior halfback and trackman at Penn State.

LION TAUNTERS — Another NFL season starts this weekend and these are four of league's quarterbacks who will taunt the Detroit Lions in 14 games. Left to right are John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts; Zeke Bratkowski, Saturday's foe with the Los Angeles Rams; Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings and John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers. The Lions must counter these aerial artists with Milt Plum and Earl Morrall.

New NFL Champ? - - Not so in '63

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The frustrating role of NFL bridesmaid will end for the Detroit Lions this year.

Green Bay will keep the bride's bouquet, but from this corner it appears that Baltimore will be the new 1963 bridesmaid.

The Lions will be strong challengers and the Packers will be beaten more than once but when the championship game is held in frigid Green Bay December 29th we look for the Washington Redskins to represent the Eastern Division.

THE PRO WAY

Pittsburgh will make another trip to Miami for the playoff bowl and take a lacing from the Colts in this "mean-nothing" attraction.

Loyal Detroit pro fans have every right to hope that after three straight runnerup finishes, this will be the year of the Lion roar.

But, as the Lions missed Jim Martin last year, having lost only three of 14 games, all via the field goal route, they will also miss Alex Karras this season.

Green Bay will miss Paul Hornung but not as much as the Lions will miss Karras. Bigger Packer loss will actually be the absence of outspoken Bill Quinlan, traded to the Eagles after the 1962 championship.

The Colts, under former Lion assistant Don Shula, lost twice to the Packers last year even though they gave the champs a statistical beating.

This year the Colts are healthier, deeper and Johnny Unitas' arm is hitting the bullseye more readily once again.

Unfortunately for the Lions, no one else in the league offered them any help against the Packers in 1962. This season the race will get tougher, because the Bears are back on the prowl and Detroit and Chicago should give Baltimore a helping hand by taking care of Green Bay at least once during the campaign.

As we see it, Green Bay will finish with Detroit's 11-3 record this year. Baltimore could go 11-3 and lose in a play-off to the Packers, this puts the Lions at 10-4 in third place, Chicago 9-5 in 4th position, Minnesota in 5th position, Los Angeles 6th and San Francisco 7th.

Giants' Offensive Linemen Abandon Passive Stance

NEW YORK (NEA) — Hugh McElhenny, veteran of a dozen years of professional football, was worried.

In McElhenny's hands was the bulky play book of the New York Giants. That should have made him feel good. Because Mac the King has never played with a winner, which the Giants are.

He shook his head warily and told Coach Allie Sherman, "I don't know if I can block like you want me to."

Normally, a squiggly - hipped guy like The King earns his keep for running. Don't tell that to Y. A. Tittle.

When Old Baldy fades to pass, he needs Mac — or whoever happens to populate the backfield — to keep the defense at passing arm's length.

McElhenny didn't make it this far without a certain amount of blocking ability. Coming to the Giants, however, exposed him to a new concept of pass protection.

The standard technique has been passive resistance, which worked fine for Mahatma Gandhi but presents a bit of problem when applied against a Gino Marchetti or Doug Atkins.

Blockers set up with elbows out and fists tucked into their chests, weight evenly balanced, reacting like counter-punchers when Gino or Doug try to muscle past them.

The offensive line is the first path of resistance. If the pass rusher penetrates that area, the two running backs try to pick him up. If he gets past them — well, Tittle gingerly feels his bones to see if anything is missing.

As Sherman explains it, in football jargon, "With the 4-3 defense and the red dog, the protective cup around the passer didn't lend itself to the blocking techniques they were using."

That means, simplified, guys couldn't rest on their haunches and wait for the rushers to come to them because with two or three linebackers blitzing and defense linemen coming, the blocking backs didn't know where to turn.

Sherman taught offensive linemen to initiate controlled contact instead of retreating into a cup. He gave blocking backs definite assignments.

Sherman, who is not a statistics man, proudly points out, "Last season we lost 136 yards in 14 games, trying to pass. Which isn't bad. As a team we handle the red dog very well."

Other teams are following suit. Harland Svare, an ex-Giant, has instituted the same system of protective pass blocking for the Los Angeles Rams. The Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys (coincidentally coached by ex-Giants) are also aggressively inclined.

In the East, Washington will dethrone the Giants while Buddy Parker will suffer the frustrations of his ex-team the Lions and manage second place.

Dallas, which has never been shut out in 51 regular season and exhibition games since joining the NFL three years ago, will score plenty but give up a few touchdowns too many and finish third.

The Detroit Lions, noted for defense, have had All-Pro representatives every year since 1952, but the last player to make the All-Pro offense team was Lou Creekmur in 1957.

The football series between Georgia and Georgia Tech is tied at 26-26. Five games ended in ties.

Gary Lowe of the Detroit Lions is due to intercept five passes in '63 if his previous record holds. The former Michigan State star got two in '58, five in '59, two in '60, five in '61, and two in '62.

Wyoming has beaten Montana State University in football 11 straight times. That's all they have played.

Jaycees Top Petition Goal

Vote Request Filed With City

11,543 Ask Election on Charter Change

Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce officials today filed charter amendment petitions containing 11,543 signatures, about 4,000 above their goal.

Some 605 petitions were turned over to City Clerk Olga Barkley at City Hall at 8:30 a. m. She estimated it would take a week to 10 days to check and verify the signatures.

Approximately 7,400 signatures of registered voters in Pontiac are needed to qualify the petitions. The Jaycees had set 7,500 to 8,000 as their goal.

The petitions request a special election be held on their proposed charter amendment.

Once the clerk certifies the petitions as containing the necessary number of valid signatures, she must automatically set a date for the special election falling 120 to 130 days from the date of filing.

VOTING CHANGE

The proposed amendment would change voting procedures in the April municipal election so that electors would vote for seven city commissioners, one from each district.

Presently, electors only vote for one.

Commissioners would still be nominated by district in the March primary.

"We're a tired but happy crew," said Richard C. Fitzpatrick, Jaycee president, this morning. "This is the biggest Jaycee civic project in our 40-year history."

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the charter amendment committee, said he felt the signatures will be valid.

"We made a spot check as the petitions came in and only had to invalidate about 200 of the first 5,000 signatures," he explained.

PRaises Support

Schimmel praised support of the general public and such groups as the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club and the Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

He estimated that 400 to 500 worked on circulating petitions. Jaycee membership is 80.

Schimmel said public response to the Jaycee proposal "was fantastic, especially over the weekend and last night."

"We were swamped with signed petitions Saturday and Sunday. Last night, the committee office stayed open late and we had whole families coming in to be signed up."

15 Oakland Lakes Expected to Be Full by Next Summer

Fifteen of Oakland County's lakes should be refilled to their brims by next summer, County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry announced today.

He welcomed yesterday's decision by the County Board of Supervisors to advance $25,000 so that the lake levels can be adequately controlled.

Affected will be several thousand lake-front properties in Waterford and Independence townships.

Trial Ordered for Bar Owner

Pontiac bar owner Clovis Skelton, a member of the city's Civil Improvement Advisory Committee, yesterday stood mute in Federal District Court in Detroit on a charge of gambling without a federal tax stamp.

Skelton, 50, of 33 W. Colgate, appeared before Federal District Judge Thomas Thornton, who ordered Skelton to stand trial on the charge.

Skelton was released on $1,000 bond pending trial. No trial date was set.

He was arrested July 19 when federal agents, city and state police raided his bar, Baldwin Rubber Tavern, 377 E. South Boulevard.

Police arrested eight men in six raids in the county that day for what they described as bookie operations that took in $1.5 million a year.

Two Pontiac men arrested in the raid, Ray Powell, 622½ Baldwin, and Robert Barnett, 312 N. Saginaw, pleaded guilty to the tax stamp charge. They face maximum sentences of a year in prison and/or $10,000 fine.

Others arrested stood mute or pleaded innocent and are awaiting trial.

They are Ellis C. Adler, 1910 Hopefield, Orion Township; William W. Berryman, 162 Strathmore; James Flynn, 3029 Avalon, Avon Township; Charles Thompson, 1225 Petrolia, Union Lake; and Steve S. Grapass, 3762 South Blvd.

Skelton has been a member of the Pontiac Civic Improvement Committee (CIAC) since appointed by Mayor Pro-tem Winford E. Bottom in January, 1961. He was reappointed by Bottom early this year.

Married Men Deferred From Hitch in Army

Presidential Order Prompted by Supply of Single Registrants

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today ordered a halt to the drafting of married men so long as single men are available to maintain the strength of the armed forces.

Kennedy signed an executive order which provides that married men shall be inducted only after all single men in the 19-25 age group have been drafted.

Military sources said that, for the foreseeable future, enough single men will be available so that there will be no need to draft husbands.

Only a major increase in military strength, they said, would again place married men within the scope of the draft.

LI. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, estimated that about one out of every five men now classified as 1A—available for service—is married and without children.

PREVIOUS ORDER

A previous executive order last March provided for deferment of fathers.

The White House said the halt to induction of married men will mean that young single men generally will be drafted at an earlier age. At present, the average draftee is about 23 years of age.

Some 1.7 million men are classified 1A. This pool has been growing in recent years because of the crop of "war babies" reaching the minimum draft age of 18.

Hershey and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were called to the White House for Kennedy's signing of the order.

The terms of the order exclude from the draft all young men who get married from this day forward. The order is effective immediately.

Pontiac Press Has Fall Football Facts

Sports fans can settle back and enjoy "Kick Off '63" today as The Press presents its annual preview of the new football season.

Rosters and schedules of all county high school football teams, plus reviews on the top college and professional eleven are included in the special supplement.

Prognosticators are reminded to check page 44 in the section for details on the 1963 Press Football Contest. Entry deadline is noon Friday Sept. 20.

Drive-ins — large and small, clean and dirty — serve as mobile hangouts, replacing the drug stores and ice parlors of a former day.

Anyone over 25 years of age would feel uncomfortable in this multicolored neon world, which extends nearly ten miles.

Drag racing is the main attraction on Woodward. Traffic lights, of course, are official starters for the almost constant "drags."

The drive-ins and some 17 traffic lights are the major source of entertainment for the hundreds, perhaps thousands, of young people that gather along the highway nightly.

The strip (short for drag strip) offers food, shelter and other things for adults, but for young people it provides "kicks."

Concentrated between 12-Mile Road on the south and Square Lake Road on the north, Woodward is lined with drive-in restaurants, motels, gas stations and numerous other shops and businesses.

TEARS AT INTEGRATION — A young schoolgirl was in tears after Negroes were admitted to West End High in Birmingham, Ala., today. Hundreds of white students stayed away in protest.

FBI Probes White Attack, Kidnaping of Mixed Group

FROM OUR NEWS WIRE

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The FBI today investigated a complaint that a gang of "15 to 25" whites kidnaped and beat a white minister and an interracial group of college students in Alabama.

The Rev. W. T. Trost, Akron, Ohio, told federal agents late yesterday he and four students—three of them African Negroes—were beaten with chains, belts and car tools after "three or four carloads" of whites forced their station wagon off a rural road near Northport, Ala., Sunday night.

Ed Steele, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said, "We are investigating the complaint and those who made it." He said he could release no further information.

Trost said the group was en route to Akron from a tour of colleges and other places of interest in the South when the incident occurred.

A Vanderbilt spokesman said Trost suffered bruised ribs; James Glover, head and jaw bruises; Bansal, lip and jaw bruises; Koli, bruises of the temple, left eye and right arm.

Trost said the group decided to report the incident to the FBI here because he feared further violence would have resulted if Alabama authorities had been informed.

In Washington, diplomatic sources said the State Department had expressed regrets over the incident.

G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and Pedro A. Sanjuan, trouble shooter of the State Department's Protocol Office, called the Ghana Embassy immediately after they received reports of the attack on the students, an informant said.

The trial of Pontiac Teamster local President Leann Harrelson on charges of embezzling union funds and falsifying Local 614 financial records was to begin today.

Harrelson, 44, was indicted last year by a federal grand jury on two counts of embezzling and two counts of falsifying records to cover up the true use of the funds.

He is accused of giving Maurice Croteau, a Pontiac businessman and County Social Welfare Department board member, $500 for political purposes from union funds without authorization of the local's membership.

The money, Croteau indicated during the grand jury hearing, was for advertisement bought by backers of former city Police Chief Herbert Straley. Croteau said he thought the donations had been authorized by the union membership.

20 Negroes Enter Schools in Three Cities

17,000 Guardsmen Removed From the Governor's Authority

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — President Kennedy took control of 17,000 Alabama National Guardsmen away from Gov. George C. Wallace today, and 20 Negro children integrated public schools at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee.

Wallace, who had blocked their entry Monday with executive orders and state troopers, declined comment at Montgomery on the President's federalization of the Guard and the desegregation which followed quickly.

Desegregation below the college level in Alabama came first Monday at Huntsville where there was normal classroom activity today. Wallace mysteriously made no attempt to block desegregation there.

Thirteen of the 20 who were turned back by state troopers Monday and went to school today were at Tuskegee. There were five at Birmingham and two at Mobile.

The transition was peaceful at most of the schools but at West End High School in Birmingham several hundred white pupils started jeering after two Negro girls entered. The white group refused to go into the building.

2 TEENS FIRST

Two teen-age Negroes walked into Murphy High School at Mobile before 7:30 a.m. to become the first of their race to attend school with white pupils in the state at the high school level. The Huntsville desegregation involved grammar and junior high schools.

Guardsmen under Wallace's control for a few hours went on duty before dawn at the Mobile school. But they withdrew later to an army under Kennedy's federalization proclamation.

Police were on guard at another high school and a grammar school in Birmingham but were needed only to direct traffic, and there was little of that. Demonstrators who clashed with police last Wednesday when desegregation began.

Olds Introduces Two New Cars

GM Executive Takes Slap at Ford Motor

DETROIT (AP) — Oldsmobile division of General Motors today introduced two new high-powered cars, the Jetstar 88 and the Jetstar 1 as its national press preview here.

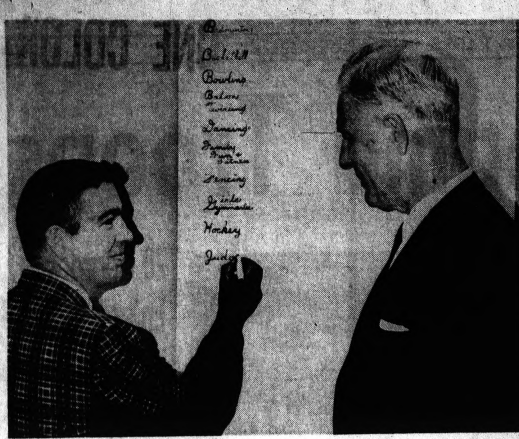

The Jetstar 88 was described as a "lower-priced companion to the Dynamic 88 and Super 88 in Olds' current line," while the Jetstar 1 was listed as "a new sports car in the medium price field."

J. F. Wolfram, vice president of GM and general manager of the Oldsmobile Division, said, "In addition, we are introducing a totally new and somewhat bigger F85. It, too, is powered by Olds' newly developed cast iron Jetfire engine."

Wolfram, in his remarks, pointed out that the Jetstar 88 is "a new concept in the medium price field."

WHAT NEXT? — Edwin Wicher, director of the new Bloomfield Hills recreation department, adds another item to the growing list of activities which the department plans to offer this fall. Approving the schedule is Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of schools in the Bloomfield Hills district.

In Bloomfield Hills

New Recreation Program Under Way

Right now, the most-used properties of the new Bloomfield Hills Recreation Department are a telephone, a pen and a bulletin board.

And new Recreation Director Edwin Wicher, ex-baseball player, basketball coach and swimming instructor, spends most of his time answering questions, making arrangements and filling schedules.

Wicher is setting up activities for later this fall — when couples begin to think about brushing up on their bridge and mothers start to wonder what to do with the kids Saturday mornings.

The programs not only will keep adults and children occupied in their leisure hours but will make optimum use of school facilities.

This is not the first year such sessions have been offered, but Wicher will see that they are coordinated and that gaps are filled.

He plans to expand the program for boys, providing volleyball and basketball after school and on Saturdays.

OTHER COURSES

Also on the list of possibilities for elementary children are enrichment courses like writing, languages, needlecraft, art and theater.

Tentative plans also call for junior and senior high sessions in baton twirling, modern dance, judo, weightlifting, volleyball and table tennis. A Friday night teen club is scheduled.

Adult evening activities, which have been growing steadily since they were started six years ago, are also being organized.

"Many factors may determine need," Wicher said, "but if a minimum of 12 people indicate an interest, the activities will be taken under consideration."

The family concept will be stressed, with emphasis on fun and fitness, he said.

Organized recreation in Bloomfield Hills began in 1957 on a summer basis. It reached a turning point this summer when the board of education hired Wicher to coordinate and direct expansion of what hopefully will be a year-around program.

Wicher, a 34-year-old graduate of Central Michigan University, has combined coaching and recreation supervision with each of his teaching jobs.

Last year while teaching mathematics he was head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Looking beyond immediate plans, Wicher sees special activities during Christmas vacation and kite and marble tournaments for youngsters at the spring recess.

Operating with a limited budget based largely on fees, the recreation department will utilize existing facilities at the schools. Most of the instructors and supervisors will be teachers within the school system, Wicher said.

Wicher's present office, and the center of his planning activities, is a converted storage room in the high school, 4200 Anderson.

Lack of Equipment

Street Closing Stalled

State Highway Department officials today said that a much-publicized closing of a portion of West Huron to through traffic failed to materialize as scheduled due to a lack of equipment.

J. O. Smith, project engineer, said that equipment used to break up pavement hadn't been moved to the Cass-Huron intersection as yet by the contractor.

West Huron was to have been barricaded from Wayne

Student Revolt Foiled by Diem

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A government show of force today squelched plans of Saigon high school students for their biggest demonstration against President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

Ten-agers at three schools again banged on their desks and shouted insults at marines, infantrymen and combat police outside, but quieted down quickly when authorities indicated the security forces would move in.

tion first was scheduled were absent today.

One white man was arrested at West End when he refused an order to move on.

Henry Holby, 17, and Dorothy Bridgett Davis, 16, were driven to the Mobile school by a Negro minister. They stroled into the building while a handful of white pupils on the grounds watched silently.

Wallace ordered the Guard into service shortly after midnight to keep Negroes out of white schools at Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee. President Kennedy federalized the Guard to remove control from the governor.

The governor, who early in the day used Guardsmen and state troopers to chase federal marshals out of the capital at Montgomery, declined immediate comment on the White House move bringing the Alabama House crisis to a showdown.

Before directing that the Guard be federalized Kennedy issued an order calling upon Wallace to cease and desist from his maneuvers to thwart federal court directives for school integration. A similar move preceded desegregation of the University of Alabama in June over Wallace's opposition.

More than 1,000 students were arrested Saturday and Sunday.

Today no arrests were seen by newsmen at any of the three schools, the Gia Long girls' high school and the Van Lang and Thanh Lan high schools for boys.

Pupils at both the boys' school later left their classes under military surveillance and went home for the remainder of the day.

OTHER SCHOOLS

Military authorities had occupied at least three other schools before dawn.

Pupils carrying satchels found a company of infantrymen in their Hung Dao high school near Saigon market. Most of these students were seen to turn around and go home.

There was an unconfirmed report the government has reinforced the marine contingent in Saigon, increasing the force to nearly 1,000 men. In addition there are at least one paratroop battalion, some infantry battalions and hundreds of special forces, combat police and regular police to enforce martial law.

WHAT VICTORY

Accounts of a big victory over Communist guerrillas in the field were all but lost in this uneasy capital.

A Vietnamese armored unit swept through rice paddies in the Mekong River delta Monday and killed 80 guerrillas. American advisers said this was the most significant victory over the Reds in months.

On the other hand, a highly informed source said a significant number of Vietnamese community grade officers and noncommissioned officers have defected to neutral Cambodia in recent weeks. Official confirmation was lacking.

There were unconfirmed reports also that some Vietnamese navy personnel have fled to Cambodia by taking river craft across the border along the Bassac River. A number of the Mekong River delta units of the Vietnamese armed forces are made up almost entirely of men of Cambodian origin.

73 U.S. Senators in Favor of N-Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventy-three of the Senate's 100 members either are committed to or are inclined now to vote for ratification of the limited nuclear test treaty, an Associated Press survey showed today.

But 27 senators either are opposed to approval or have grave reservations about a treaty that would ban all but underground testing. Of this group 12 have either announced their opposition or have voted in committee against the treaty. Fifteen are listed as doubtful.

If this lineup held, the treaty, which the Senate resumed debate today, would be ratified by a comfortable but not an internationally impressive margin. If all 100 senators voted, ratification would require 67 affirmative votes.

Senate leaders are confident that some of the uncommitted eventually will vote for ratification. Unless there are unexpected developments they do not believe they have indicated their present intention to support the treaty.

MAY RESOLVE

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he hopes that a letter President Kennedy is addressing to him and to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana will resolve "some of the fears and misgivings" about the treaty.

It remained to be seen whether the "unequivocal assurances" Dirksen said Kennedy will give on the readiness posture of American defense under the treaty would satisfy the doubters.

Outright opposition to ratification has come from eight Southern Democrats and three Western and a Texas Republican.

"Our door-to-door campaign and the work at shopping centers showed excellent results," Fitzpatrick noted.

"Circulators reported to us that opposition to the petitions was nonexistent. If we had wanted to extend this a few more weeks, I'm sure we could have had many more thousands of signatures."

There are still almost as many petitions out as were returned and filed this morning.

It took Jaycees three weeks to get the 11,543 signatures. The charter amendment campaign was announced Aug. 16.

Assuming the petitions are certified as valid by the city clerk, the special election should fall close to Feb. 1, 1964.

Robbery 'Detectives' Steal Farmer's Money

LONDON (AP) — Five men posing as detectives investigating the great train robbery bluffed their way into a lonely Kent farmhouse Monday night, kidnaped the farmer and occupied with his barley harvest money.

John Philpott, 54, said the men demanded to search the premises and found $2,800 he had put away pending his next visit to the bank.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, said he believed the Romney plan "has some good points" and added that he considers its provisions for corporate and personal income taxes to be "honest and responsible."

IFK Urges Patience on Aid Says Cut Might Bring Fall of Viet Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says the United States must pursue a policy of patience in South Viet Nam and avoid a get-tough slash in aid.

An aid cut, Kennedy said Monday night, might bring about a collapse of the Vietnamese government of Ngo Dinh Diem and open all of Southeast Asia to the threat of Communist take-over.

The President, in a nationally televised interview conceded there was no easy solution to the internal opposition to the Diem Vietnamese problem marked by widespread arrests of Buddhists and students.

Kennedy expressed the administration viewpoint in these words: "We are using our influence to persuade the government there to take those steps which will win back support and calm some of the unrest and we must be patient, we must persist."

SHOWS CONCERN

He expressed concern that Americans might get impatient and urge a U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam.

"That only makes it easy for the Communists," Kennedy said. "I think we should stay. We should use our influence in as effective a way as we can, but we should not withdraw."

Kennedy's remarks on Viet Nam represented an elaboration of statements he made in a similar television interview on Labor Day. At that time, he said the Diem regime had to change policies and, perhaps personnel to win popular support; otherwise it would lose its war with Communist guerrillas.

The President's latest statements indicated the United States would proceed cautiously in trying to bring about governmental changes in South Viet Nam.

Ex-Firestone Exec Dies

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — William A. Karl, 64, former president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., died of a heart ailment Monday Karl joined the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. in 1919 as a fabric technologist.

There was an unconfirmed report the government has reinforced the marine contingent in Saigon, increasing the force to nearly 1,000 men. In addition there are at least one paratroop battalion, some infantry battalions and hundreds of special forces, combat police and regular police to enforce martial law.

Tax Appeals to Go Before Commission

For the second time in less than seven weeks the State Tax Commission will convene in Pontiac Thursday morning.

A 10 a.m. hearing has been scheduled by the commission at City Hall to consider about five property assessment appeals by local taxpayers.

Among those appealing the assessed value placed on their local properties by City Assessor Edward C. Blo, are J. C. Penney Co., Grand Trunk Western Railroad, People's Market and Grinnell Brothers.

A similar appeal filed by owners of WKC, Inc., may also be on the agenda.

The total assessed value of all properties in the city is about $800,000. Owners had appealed for a reduction in the assessment, not specifying any amount.

ACTION DEFERRED

The City Commission has deferred final action on the 1963 tax levy until all appeals are settled. Under state law, it is illegal to spread taxes on a tax base which is not final the commission has been told.

The city would be responsible for paying any loss a school tax revenue if the school district, if the tax base were reduced after school taxes were collected.

The last time the tax commission convened here, July 30, it heard an appeal from General Motors Corp. for a $33-million reduction in the assessed value of GM properties in Pontiac.

Tax commissioners granted GM nearly a $28-million reduction, resulting in the currently proposed tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed value.

The rate proposed for this year prior to the GM reduction was $14.65 per $1,000. The tax rate prior to the GM reduction was $14.65 per $1,000. The tax rate prior to the GM reduction was $14.65 per $1,000.

A slight adjustment upward in the $16.10 tax rate could result in further reductions of any size are granted. Or the city's operating budget could be reduced.

pared for delivery to 200 new men at a news conference at which the 1964 Oldsmobile line unveiled, took an indirect slap at Ford Motor Co., which has placed great emphasis on the recent success on the race track.

"Oldsmobile has a consistent reputation for performance, not just pepped up races, but sensational performers for everyday owners who need a car that will drive needs on the greatly improved state and national highway systems," Wolfram said.

Noting that the full line of 1964 Oldsmobiles will be shown at dealer salesrooms on Oct. 4, Wolfram said the general business outlook for the nation continues good.

"Indications are that industrial production, employment and personal income will continue to improve in 1964," he said. He added "If consumer confidence remains strong, the auto industry can look forward to a good year, just as good as 1963 — maybe a total of 7 1/2 million cars."

Birmingham Area News City Slated to Decide on Fate of Property

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission may decide next Monday what action it will take on three private properties on a block that is slated to become a municipal parking lot.

At that time a resolution that would start condemnation proceedings will be discussed and possibly voted upon.

The properties are on the northeast corner of Townsend. Other properties on the block, directly south of Shain Park, already have been acquired by the city.

Steps already have been taken to develop an L-shaped parking lot that will abut the three properties, which the city has unsuccessfully offered to purchase.

It had been expected that the commission would let the city's position on the properties last night, but discussion on the condemnation resolution never materialized.

Discussion of the resolution first failed to gain support but it was decided later that the resolution would be tabled one week.

City Commissioner Carl Ingram, in moving that the resolution be tabled next week, said he believed it was only fair to the property owners involved that the commissioners let their feelings be known.

Earlier in the meeting Commissioner David F. Bruck pushed for a determination on what is to be done about the properties but his motion failed for lack of support.

The Birmingham Township Board last night discussed the green belt at Lahser and Maple roads for the second time, deciding on a staggered evergreen pattern.

At issues has been the strip of property which will separate the 7.5-acre site of a proposed shopping center from the Westchester Village subdivision. The shopping center property, owned by Prudential Investment Co. of Detroit, is on the southeast corner.

Trustees agreed that seven evergreen trees per 85 feet and green hills in some spots, is the stage for all kinds of highway hijinks.

Often three or four cars will cruise abreast of one another and proceed at a traffic-snarl pace.

While cars back up for as much as a quarter mile to the tune of (panic) braking screeches, the occupants will chat back and forth.

GANG ACTION

Still another "sport" calls for a gang of cars to gang up on some innocent car. Usually the victim of this type of prank is a car full of girls or a surprised adult.

Gunning their engines, shifting gears to "sneaky" and "bald tires," the group circles its victim. The object of this "game" has never been clearly defined, but it does scare even the most confident driver.

Activity along the strip begins about 9 p.m. nightly. It reaches a peak between 10 and midnight.

Long lines of cars begin stacking up at the entrances to the various drive-ins. The steady flow of vehicles through these restaurants keeps private police busy directing traffic.

Few cars seem to stop. One reason for this is that the parking spots disappear after 9 p.m.

The drive-ins resemble vast playgrounds. The loud roar of mufflers continually splits the night air, in contrast to the every corner, and boys and girls pop from car to car despite the best efforts of the police to prevent it.

LATER JAM

By 11 p.m., Woodward is again a traffic jam. Draggers dodge in and out of traffic trying to break free for spurts of speed.

Woodward activities settle down around midnight. However, as traffic thins out the speed picks up. Racing at this hour is in earnest.

Instead of the 0 to 80 m.p.h. grades, speeders now may reach 100 m.p.h. in some of the desolate areas between 15 Mile Road and Pontiac city limits.

After midnight, the speedway gradually returns to a normal, busy thoroughfare.

The drive-ins empty slowly and only the faint smelt of burning rubber, the sight of skid marks at intersections and spent beer cans along the roadway testify to the evening's earlier happenings.

Stock Market Moves Carefully

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved cautiously in moderately active early trading today.

Most pivotal issues showed minor changes. Gains or losses of around a point were displayed by some of the more volatile issues.

Control Data, the most active stock Monday when it fell 5% on profit taking, recovered more than a point, U. S. Smelting dropped more than a point, then erased the loss.

Some firming was apparent among rails which were a mingling of fractional advances and declines. Steels showed a slightly lower trend although Jones & Laughlin added a fraction.

Ford and Chrysler posted gains. General Motors edged off.

Analysts saw the market as feeling its way following two sessions of sharp decline which came after last week's climb to a record high.

Business news remained fairly encouraging. Wall Street was concerned about the progress of

Chinese Ousted in Train Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's $1-billion tax reduction proposal today as recession insurance and said "The prudent man does not tempt fate by unnecessarily delaying his acquisition of insurance."

Speaking to the national conference of the Business Committee for Tax Reduction in 1963, a group formed to support the tax cut, Kennedy noted that excluding war years, "this nation has had a recession on the average of every 42 months since the second World War—or every 44 months since the first World War."

"By January, it will have been 44 months since the last recession began," he said in his prepared text.

Kennedy said he would not predict that a recession will come if there is no tax cut, or even say that it would be impossible to have a recession if a tax cut were enacted.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry in a note handed to the Red Chinese Embassy accused the Chinese of trying to prevent Soviet officials from inspecting the train when it crossed the border Saturday.

The note said the Chinese locked the customs men in the train after the officials had seized literature "of a character hostile to the Soviet Union."

Refusing to continue the trip until the propaganda machine was returned, the Chinese staged a slowdown strike, locked hands, blocked the entrance of office buildings and grabbed at passing Russians the Soviets charged.

The note said the Chinese "before the eyes of indignant passengers, outrageously violated elementary demands of sanitary hygiene on the station premises."

"They continued to commit outrageous acts of hooliganism and tried in every way to provoke Soviet officials," it said.

The behavior of the Chinese citizens was obviously aimed at aggravating on purpose this incident which was generated solely by themselves."

The note said the slowdown forced the Russians to make up another train to take more than 100 non-Chinese passengers on to Moscow, delaying their trip by 4½ hours.

"The Chinese citizens who refused to continue on to Moscow and who remained on the Naushki station during the 7th and 8th of September perpetrating committing infractions and in all possible ways provoked Soviet officials," it said.

Dimitri La Zoroff Photography, 124 W. Huron, has been awarded the photography contract for the 1964 Waterford Township High School yearbook.

The Pontiac Travel Service, 702 W. Huron, has been named one of the 12 outside-Detroit agencies where tickets for Rocking horse games and all other Olympia Stadium events can be reserved.

Travel agent Russell Gustavson said the travel service will not handle the tickets firsthand.

Instead, customers orders will be phoned by the agency directly to Olympia boxoffice where the tickets will be held until the customer arrives.

"My chief problem is that I have a lot of certificates of small lots of shares that make odd lots when selling. Is there any way I can have the certificates put together to make (100 shares) round lots?" J. C.

A) Any broker with whom you do a reasonable amount of business will be glad to combine your many stock certificates into those comprising 100 shares. In some instances, a small charge is made to make the transfers.

But, unless your odd-lot shares are a real nuisance to you, why bother to combine them? Any time you sell — if you own a hundred shares — you can sell as a round lot and save the odd lot differential, no matter how many certificates you deliver.

Q) "I have a number of Series E savings bonds bought between 1942 and 1949. I need to cash in a few of these bonds and would like to know which would be to my best advantage to sell." M. C.

A) It really makes very little difference. All bonds in this period were given a three-year term from date of purchase at 3% per cent. Your 1942 bonds are now in their 10-year period and your 1949 bonds will not reach that period until 1959.

There is a very slight advantage in holding the later-maturing bonds, but this is too complicated to explain and you'll just have to take my word for it.

Q) "Is there any limit as to how many E bonds one can own — and any limit as to co-owners?"

A) No one can buy more than $10,000 (face value) of E bonds in any given year, and the same rule applies to individuals co-owners. There is no limit as to the amount you can own — only as to your purchases in any given year.

There was no anti-aircraft fire, according to the leaders of MIRR, Marcelino Garcia and Orlando Bosch.

Havana radio has not acknowledged the attack.

Bosch warned that MIRR would attack "by sea or air" any Greek ship found near Cuba after Oct. 1. Greece was stung out, he said, because they, more than any other vessels at the moment, are helping to supply Castro.

The latest raid was carried out by a twin-engine plane which dropped six bombs ranging in size from 75 to 120 pounds, Bosch said. The plane also dropped leaflets which said "the MIRR will continue until victory or death the bombardments and land attacks."
