SILENT NIGHT — The voices of the Pontiac Northern High School choir, under the direction of Judy Davis and John Tousey, launched the Pontiac State Bank's 23rd Annual Christmas Program yesterday. Ten area singing groups will take part in the daily noon concert series. All groups will perform from the main staircase in the Main Office lobby of the Pontiac State Bank Building at Saginaw and Lawrence.

AMC Unveils Plan for Electronic Auto

DETROIT (AP) — Development of an electronic automobile, shaped like an arrowhead and which its builders say will have a cruising speed of 50 miles per hour and a range of 150 miles without recharging, was announced today.

American Motors Corp. and Gulton Industries of Metuchen, N. J., disclosed details of the joint project.

An operational model of the electronic car will be road tested within a year, reported Roy D. Chapin Jr., chairman of the board of American Motors.

A prototype of the small, three-passenger commuter car was unveiled at a news conference. It is called the "Ami-tron" and has a newly developed long-life Gulton lithium battery system.

"This joint project is the result of the development of this new power system. It could eliminate many problems which to this point have made electric-type cars impractical," Chapin said.

'FAR SUPERIOR'

Dr. Leslie K. Gulton, president of Gulton Industries, said "We have made considerable strides toward the creation of an electronic car with characteristics far superior to any that have thus far been seen," he said.

The new lithium-nickel fluoride battery system is lighter than batteries used in other experimental cars, Gulton said.

The system has two lithium units, each weighing 75 pounds. Lithium batteries can store 10 times as much energy as conventional lead-acid batteries of the same size, Gulton said.

The electronic system also includes two 25-pound bipolar batteries of nickel cadmium and a solid-state control system.

FAST ACCELERATION

The lithium battery is rated at 150 watt-hours per pound and is designed to provide cruising at moderate output. Gulton said the bipolar units have a rapid energy output which is expected to provide acceleration from zero to 50 m.p.h. in 20 seconds.

Gulton said the complete system can be fully recharged about 1,000 times over a period of three years. The batteries can be recharged in four hours.

The capacity to drive about 20 miles can be recharged in 30 minutes on ordinary house current or in 10 minutes with a special outlet, he said.

The prototype has an over-all length of 85 inches.

Romeo Vote Jan. 29

Voters of the Romeo School District will again be asked to approve a 3-mill renewal and 5-mill new operating levy on Jan. 29. The same issue in November lost by seven votes.

During Unescorted Viet Visit

Percy Unhurt in Red Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, his wife and seven other Americans escaped injury today when Communist gunners opened up with mortars and small arms during a spur-of-the-moment, unescorted visit to the Illinois Republican made to the devastated village of Dakson.

Some of the five mortar rounds landed within 15 to 20 feet of the 48-year-old senator, who is a potential Republican presidential candidate, and four men inspecting the village with him, but no one was hit. The group took cover, and Percy got some small scratches on his arms as he crawled behind some wood huts.

Mrs. Percy had remained in the group's helicopter 75 yards away with the pilot and two crewmen. They flew her to a nearby town and returned with an escort of armed Army choppers to rescue the senator and his companions.

"This is closer to action than I got in three years of World War II," Percy, a U.S. Navy veteran, told a news conference after he returned to Saigon.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command announced that 471 Vietcong and North Vietnamese regulars — the equivalent of a battle-ready battalion — were killed in a six-day battle that ended yesterday along the narrow coastal plains near the pivotal town of Bong Son.

ALLIED CASUALTIES

Allied casualties were 33 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese soldiers killed, and 147 Americans and 71 South Vietnamese wounded.

The battle erupted when two companies of the helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division began a sweep of the scrub land along the coast about 300 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Just to the north a battalion from the South Vietnamese 40th Infantry Regiment was pushing south.

Both allied groups ran into fortifications manned by the seasoned 22nd Regiment of the North Vietnamese 3rd Division.

The Communists made a final stand in the fortified village of Truong Lam, which was over-run yesterday.

GOP Governors Right--Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a move now by Republican governors to line up behind a single contender for the GOP presidential nomination could rupture their unity.

He said the governors are "doing the only good thing they could do" to preserve unity by concentrating on potential campaign issues rather than getting involved in endorsing someone for the nomination.

Rockefeller yesterday sharply disputed the assertion of Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., that the 26 GOP governors made a mistake and sacrificed their influence on the presidential nomination by failing to agree on a candidate during their meeting last week in Palm Beach, Fla.

Laird acknowledged the party's House leadership has not picked one man to back.

Although the governors appear undecided on backing a single candidate, the public's favorite by a decisive margin, the Harris poll reported, is Richard M. Nixon.

The newest survey by Louis Harris, copyrighted by the Washington Post, shows Nixon leading Rockefeller 52 to 33 per cent; Romney, 63 to 24 per cent; and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, 65 to 22 per cent.

But the poll also showed Nixon has slipped behind President Johnson in popularity. In early November Nixon led Johnson 48 to 41 per cent. Now it's Johnson by 47 to 44 per cent.

Area Schools Feel the Flu Bug's Bite

By ED BLUNDEN

The flu bug has landed here. Health authorities don't yet consider it serious, but Oakland County has been hit by a wave of the nausea, fever and dizziness that lasts one to three days.

The county flu outbreak has doubled the usual number of absences at schools — mostly confined to secondary schools.

A check of area schools yesterday showed Waterford Kettering High School with 240 students absent out of an enrollment of 1,500. An average number of absences for this time of year would be 80, school officials said. Between 20 and 30 others were sent home sick during the day.

Clarkston Junior High also reported several students sent home. Incidence there was high, with 134 out of about 800 absent.

ABSENCE IN BIRMINGHAM

The Birmingham School District reported a rate double normal absenteeism, mostly attributed to the flu, and in the higher grades. At one junior high one out of five students was absent.

At Pontiac Central, absenteeism was quoted as "high" — 330 out of 2,200. However, the worst may be over at that school, because authorities said 75 students were too sick to remain in school Wednesday and had to be sent home.

A check of elementary schools showed absences about normal. Some school authorities feel the younger children went through a flu cycle over the last two weeks and that it is perhaps infecting the older children now.

A check of local manufacturing plants showed absenteeism about normal. However, the plants report sickness from flu last week was high. This, in some authorities' opinion, indicated the present outbreak is mostly confined to teenagers.

WEATHER HELPS FLU

The county's flu sickness has been complicated by a prolonged spell of weather favorable to its spread.

The weather has remained extremely damp and foggy the last six days and the temperature has remained between 30 and 40 degrees — good incubation temperature for flu germs, according to health authorities.

What is needed is a period of sub-freezing temperatures to kill some of the germs and deter the spread, doctors claim.

Deadline Nears for UAW, GM

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers union are trying to beat a bargaining deadline just two days away, but UAW President Walter P. Reuther has promised there will be no national strike until after the first of the year.

Local strikes authorized by the union to prevent the giant of the auto industry from building up a stock of cars idled some 2,500 workers yesterday, a GM spokesman said.

It was expected both facilities affected by the local walkout—a Chevrolet plant and a Fisher Body plant in Willow Run—would be in operation today, the spokesman added.

The 2,500 workers idled by yesterday's strikes were far fewer than the nearly 20,000 idled at GM plants around the nation on Friday.

DEADLINE WILL BE SET

If no contract is agreed upon by Thursday midnight, Reuther has said, a strike deadline will be set at that time, allowing 380,000 workers to reap holiday pay for the Christmas and New Year season.

There has been no break in a news blackout imposed by both sides in the talks.

One major issue believed still in the path of agreement on a new contract is that of working conditions at GM plants across the nation.

Another is that of work required of union committeemen before turning to their union duties.

Senate GOP Shuns State Housing

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans today rejected a proposal that the Senate take up the controversial open occupancy bill while the House continued work on lower court reorganization.

Senate Majority Leader Emil C. Jenner said the Senate would not support a resolution that would allow open occupancy to be introduced in the Senate.

He said it was the feeling of the majority of the 17 Republicans present that "because of the work the House has done on open housing, it would be best if the House continued action on the bill."

Assistant Majority Leader Charles Zoller of Benton Harbor said the caucus lacked the 11 votes necessary to approve support of the resolution.

Neither Lockwood nor Zoller would say how many votes were lacking, but it was reliably reported that the proposal did not receive anywhere near the necessary 11 votes.

'LET HOUSE VOTE FIRST'

Lockwood said it also was felt that since the House had done so much work on the lower court reorganization bill, that the body should take the first vote on that measure too.

Lockwood said the Senate would stand by in daily session until it is clear what the House will do with the two bills.

The Senate GOP action was a rejection of an agreement reached yesterday between acting Gov. William Milliken and majority House and Senate Republican leaders.

They had agreed that the House would continue to work on its complex court bill while the Senate would take up open housing.

MILLIKEN'S OPTIMISM

After a closed-door meeting, Milliken said he thought both bills could be passed by both houses this year. "We expect to win after a tough fight," he said.

Milliken is leading the battle for the open housing bill — which would forbid racial discrimination in most real estate transactions — in the absence of Gov. George Romney, who is in Europe.

Only nine weekdays remain until the Christmas weekend, and some observers were skeptical that both controversial bills could be disposed of in that time. But Milliken and House Speaker Robert Waldron said Monday they thought it could be done.

Work on the big court bill, which abolishes municipal and justice courts and sets up a new statewide judicial system to handle misdemeanor cases, has continued in the House almost since the special legislative session began Oct. 10.

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, had hoped the House would pass it Nov. 16, the day before the three-week recess began, but absent-teism in the chamber that day forced postponement of the vote.

He said Monday he thought the House could dispose of the measure one way or the other in two or three days.

Scranton Changes to Boost Rocky

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who has been supporting Gov. George Romney of Michigan for the Republican presidential nomination, says he now thinks Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is the party's best bet for 1968.

"As of the present moment, I would think the best person we could nominate to get elected president of the United States would be Nelson Rockefeller," Scranton said last night during a question-and-answer session at Brandeis University.

Scranton, Rockefeller and Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island publicly announced their support for Romney last Aug. 12.

A spokesman for the New York governor said today he is still a Romney supporter and is not a candidate himself.

LBJ Praises U. S. Progress at Junior College Dedication

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today, in dedicating a new junior college, that "the time has come for these Americans who believe in progress to convince the doubters."

Johnson said the quest for educational excellence, abolition of poverty, better health, economic stability and world peace will succeed — "if we stay on the course."

His remarks were prepared for ceremonies at Central Texas College.

The President, who flew to Killeen from his ranch near Johnson City, was headed back for Washington after the dedication. AFL-CIO officials hoped he would stop off at their convention in Miami Beach, Fla., on the way. There was no official word on the plan.

UNION SUPPORT

The AFL-CIO gave cheering support Monday to Johnson's Vietnam policies.

At the dedication, the President noted the expansion of educational facilities and opportunities. "Yet still," he said, "there are those who oppose this kind of growth. There are some who tell us that it is too expensive; that it is too dangerous; that the effort cannot succeed."

Johnson argued that progress in America can never be too expensive. He said: "It is sickness and ignorance and discrimination and crime which cost too much. It is not action but inaction that costs too much."

The President said colleges like Central Texas are being established at the rate of one a week.

BRIGHT STATISTICS

"In the past six years," he said, "the number of young people going to college from poor homes has risen by more than 12 per cent."

"In those years, the number of high school dropouts has dropped — from 25 per cent to only 18 per cent of young people between 16 and 24 years old."

The President said colleges

Open Housing Backers Take Bus to Lansing

A busload of area residents left for Lansing this morning bearing a banner reading "We're Vocal for Open Housing." Their intention was to try to convince senators and representatives from this area to work for passage of the housing bill.

The racially-mixed group had people from the suburbs and Pontiac. There were representatives from the Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL), the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth, and churches in Pontiac, Bloomfield Township, Birmingham and Royal Oak.

In Lansing they were to be joined by busloads of residents from other communities.

Why go to Lansing? A VOCAL spokesman said, "Some people have been saying black people are not interested in open housing. An integrated tour like this should help convince them otherwise."

Rev. Stanley Stefancic, a minister from the Birmingham Unitarian Church, concurred:

"It's a moral issue. The bill underlines a basic constitutional right. It's an indictment against society that we have to have the bill."

THAT'S THE QUESTION

"Are property rights more important than individual rights? That's the question we're facing. Justice is a concern of people in the suburbs," he said.

One of the prime movers behind the organization of the bus trip was Mrs. Ralph Tyson of 2796 Eastways, Bloomfield Township. She acted in response to a request from Rev. Willis Taber, a minister with the Detroit Presbytery. He asked her to get a bus trip organized.

LIVER RECIPIENT DIES — Paula Kay Hansen, 26-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hansen of Fort Worth, Tex., died yesterday at Denver's University of Colorado Medical Center, 3½ months after receiving a new liver in a transplant operation. Paula Kay's death was the second in three days of a liver transplant patient, leaving only three known survivors of such operations. All are reported recovering. The cause of death was dead intestines tissue.

Florida Blast Rips Home of Retired Clarkston Man

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Thomas Baroody, manager and partner of Baroody and Co. stock brokers, was damaged by an explosion which wrecked the home of a retired Michigan man and damaged several others today in the Sea Ranch Lakes residential community.

The blast smashed in the east wall of the home of 77-year-old Ernest Squier, a retired manufacturer's representative from Clarkston, and shattered windows in several other houses.

Police said an explosive, believed to be plastic nitrate cellulose, was placed against the east wall of Squier's home. The blast smashed a hole in the concrete wall and ripped through the interior of the house.

Dem Group OKs Antiwar Resolution

A watered-down version of a resolution opposing the Vietnam war and warning President Johnson of the consequences was adopted last night by the Birmingham — Bloomfield Democratic Club.

Approved by a 15-7 vote, the resolution read in part: "That the war now being waged by the U.S. against a portion of the people of South Vietnam and against the state of North Vietnam is contrary to the platform of the Democratic Party meeting in convention in August 1964 and to the campaign pledges of the Presidential nominee of that convention."

The resolution concludes "that the prosecution of the war under presidential power will make it impossible for many active members of the Democratic Party to support the renomination of the incumbent."

The original resolution had termed the war "immoral and under international law illegal," and "caused revulsion among a large and increasing portion of our citizens."

The action taken by the organization supports the position taken by State Party Chairman Zoltan Ferenczy before he resigned recently under pressure.

Jefferson Integration Proposals Due

A report on proposals to relieve de facto segregation at Pontiac's Jefferson Junior High School will be made at tomorrow's board of education meeting.

The central school administration has prepared proposals for integration as the result of one proposal advanced by the board's human relations committee last spring.

Pontiac School District Citizens' Committee on Human Relations had suggested that attendance boundary lines be changed so that students from all-white Whitfield and Irving Elementary Schools would go to 98 per cent-Negro Jefferson Junior High.

Students from Whitfield and Irving presently go to 80 per cent-white Washington Junior High School.

Students from Bethune (99 per cent Negro) and Bagley (97 per cent Negro) Elementary Schools would go to Washington Junior High. They now go to Jefferson.

PARENTS HEAR PROPOSALS

Proposals developed by the administration have been presented to parents from Bagley, Bethune, Jefferson, Irving and Whitfield School areas for reactions.

A report on the proposals was made to the human relations committee last night.

In other business, the board is expected to hear a report recommending a reading clinic be established.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, 350 E. Wide Track.

Rezoning Bid Tabled Again

Waterford to Await Attorneys' Opinion

A rezoning request for apartments and a shopping complex on 32 acres of property on Dixie Highway at Midland near Eagle Lake was tabled a second time by the Waterford Township Board last night.

With several opponents of the proposed development in the audience, the board voted to table the request until township attorneys render an opinion on "unanswered legal questions."

Again, as at the Nov. 27 meeting, residents gave several arguments against the proposed request to rezone the property from single-family residential to multiple dwelling and general business.

However, it was a repeat performance; the arguments were much the same and action was tabled.

At the Nov. 27 meeting, the board tabled action to give developers Donald White and Aben Johnson time to resolve a problem.

ADJACENT SITES
White is behind the proposed 32-acre undertaking, while Johnson seeks to build homes on adjacent property.

Johnson's property reportedly will be landlocked if he is unable to acquire an easement or road access through White's property.

The problem still exists.

A woman, speaking in protest of the apartments and shopping complex, asked board members, "Are you people going to ignore petitions with 230 signatures? Remember, you are going to come up for reelection."

INTERESTS OF MAJORITY
Trustee E. Frank Richardson, who offered several comments on the case, said, "It is our duty to act in the best interests of the 60,000 people in the township" as opposed to the interests of smaller groups.

"And I'll take my chances in the election of that basis," he asserted.

In reply to a remark by one of the residents that some of the officials may be trying to promote the proposed development, Richardson said that one is really pushing the project because it has been in the hopper almost eight months."

Commission to Examine COG

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night scheduled an in-depth discussion on the Council of Governments for Dec. 26.

The city has not yet joined the voluntary organization, designed as a cooperative program to coordinate mutual problems of communities in six counties.

A letter from James H. Walker Jr. opposing the city's participation in the council sparked a brief discussion on the controversial subject last night.

Walker, of 1555 Villa, wrote, "I earnestly urge that you refrain from joining the city of Birmingham to the Council of Governments until at least its purpose and scope are defined by the Legislature."

"Your position in October was to wait and see; nothing has since occurred to reduce the aimlessness and blue-sky complexion of this proposition," said Walker. "Participation now would divert the talent and waste the money of this city."

REPORT EXPECTED

At the meeting later this month, Commissioner Robert Page, a member of the Committee of One Hundred, the forerunner of the Council of Governments, will present a report on the organization.

Page said that if the city decides to join, it could have a representative at the next meeting of the Council Jan. 13.

A second one-year contract with the Ann Arbor consulting firm of Johnson, Johnson and Roy Inc., for urban design services was approved by the commission.

Under the agreement, the firm reviews all projects, correlating them to give the city an over-all "Birmingham look."

The service for the coming years will cost between $8,000 and $10,000.

A proposal for an updated master traffic plan was accepted by the commission for consideration at its budget hearings next year.

Georgians Face a Taxing Issue

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — For over a century, citizens living on a 1,500-acre tract near Athens have been men without a county.

The 15 families now residing in this unclaimed zone were not too upset by the curious state of affairs. One year they might pay taxes to Clarke County, the next year to Jackson County.

But then both counties decided to present tax bills, and the citizens complained. Gov. Lester Maddox appointed a surveyor to determine a boundary.

House Unit Pushing for OEO Fund Gap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-poverty boss Sargent Shriver has congressional authorization to spend $4.16 billion over two years—but his agency may wind up with far less money.

The bill sent Monday to the White House represents the most money ever authorized for the Office of Economic Opportunity, which Shriver heads, and marks the first time Congress has extended the program for more than one year.

But just after House passage of the bill, a House Appropriations subcommittee recommended that only $1.612 billion be provided to foot the anti-poverty bill in the first year, compared with the $1.98 billion authorized.

Another $2.18 billion was authorized for fiscal 1969 but because Congress only appropriates on an annual basis, the question of how much money actually will be available for the second year isn't at issue now.

The full appropriations committee was expected to uphold the subcommittee cut at a meeting today. The House appeared likely to go along with it later in the day.

The bill includes a controversial provision giving local public officials control of the OEO's Community Action programs.

Opponents of the move say it will breed vote-buying and patronage in city halls, and Shriver has pledged to keep close watch on results of the change.

Supporters of the anti-poverty program pinned their hopes for more money on the Senate, where it has had a more sympathetic reception. Should the Senate approve full financing of $1.98 billion, the outcome could be a compromise of about $1.78 billion.

MINIMUM AMOUNT That's the minimum amount Shriver said would be needed to keep the program at its present level.

The authorization measure cleared the House on a 246-149 vote. Listed for it were 183 Democrats and 63 Republicans. Opposing it were 51 Democrats and 98 Republicans. The Senate passed it last Friday.

Getting the anti-poverty authorization bill to the President removed a big obstacle in the path of planned adjournment of Congress late this week.

Mrs. Claus Is Making A List

Mrs. Santa Claus Takes Christmas Phone Orders

WALLED LAKE—Mrs. Santa Claus is hip. She knows about the Fright Factory, Incredible Edibles, Barbie dolls, hamburger machines, Creepy People and all the latest in toys.

About a hundred children a day call Mrs. Claus on her special telephone in Walled Lake.

Although she asks every child what he or she wants for Christmas, no promises are made. Mrs. Santa only assures that she will give Santa the youngster's list. She stresses that the petitioner be good and go to bed when Mommy says.

Mrs. Claus' calls come from youngsters aged two years and up, she says. Her

Action Expected on Road Protest at OCC Meeting

Oakland Community College trustees are expected to take some action tomorrow concerning the condition of a road which students picketed.

College President Dr. John E. Tirrell is scheduled to recommend that the staff be authorized to negotiate with the county to pave Hospital Road at the Highland Lake campus, Waterford Township.

OCC would pay 25 per cent of the total cost or not more than $5,000, according to Tirrell's anticipated suggestion.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the George A. Bee Administrative Center, 2400 Oydyke, Bloomfield Hills.

Student demonstrators urged students to park cars on the campus' front lawn last week by blocking the dirt road leading to the student parking lot.

COSTS TO BE SHARED

Costs of paving the dirt road would apparently be shared with the county, college and Waterford Township.

In other business, a controversial proposed policy which would virtually impose consent to some day having an intercollegiate football team is likely to come up for adoption for the second time.

The issue was tabled last month because one of the six trustees was absent.

Tentative Date Is Feb. 19

Troy Sets Tax Vote for Library

TROY — City Commission last night set Feb. 19 for a vote on a half-mill tax increase.

The revenue from the hike, expected to raise about $70,000, would go for a new library at the civic center.

The February election will remain only if the city also has a primary on that day. If not, the millage vote will probably be rescheduled for the regular city election in April.

Rochester Orders Street Project Plans

ROCHESTER—The council last night ordered engineering plans to widen West University and pave South Street. Estimate on the cost of the first project is $51,000 and on the latter, more than $100,000.

Mayor Roy Rowold noted it would take a bond issue to pay for the improvements.

Rezoning to allow construction of apart-

The present library is on Rochester Road north of Long Lake Road. Circulating the petitions for the tax increase were the Library Board and the Friends of the Library.

The commissioners also approved construction of a $22,400 addition to the No. 1 fire station at 1400 E. Big Beaver. The addition, to house the elevated platform atop one of the trucks, will be done about spring, said City Manager Paul York.

ments on Helen near West University was approved following a public hearing. A lease with Mitzeff's Department store to use the city's Parking Lot No. 1 for employee parking was approved. Rates are set on a sliding scale for a period of up to five years. Total income available over the life of the contract is $3,500.

Sewer Project Can Qualify for Federal Grant

Chances are good that the cost of the proposed $16.9 million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer can be reduced by $3 million to $4 million, according to R. J. Alexander, director of the county Department of Public Works.

The giant six-township project can qualify for a federal grant on the basis that it fights ground and water pollution, Alexander said.

Served by the project will be areas in six townships — Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, West Bloomfield and Orion. Work is expected to start early in May.

Last week, Alexander announced that the sale of $16.9 million in bonds had been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The county interceptor will empty into the Detroit sewer east of Rochester on lines that will be constructed to service both Oakland and Macomb counties.

FACT WITH DETROIT

A contract for service with Detroit is up for approval by the County Board of Supervisors on Dec. 19.

The only stipulation in the county getting the federal grant would be that work must be under way by June 1, Alexander said. But he expressed confidence that contracts would be awarded in May and work progressing.

The bonds worth $16.9 will cost eventually some $33 million with interest it has been estimated. The bonds will be paid off through hook-on charges and by debt retirement levies added on quarterly service rates.

Another main interceptor to serve the Oxford and Lake Orion area is in the planning stage.

Raise Helps Utica Rehire DPW Boss

UTICA—Reinstatement of Julio Moscone as superintendent of the Department of Public Works has been accomplished by the City Council, helped by a $1,350 pay raise.

Moscone resigned Nov. 22, citing inadequate salary and lack of help as his reasons. He said he had been told that more help would be available. His pay was increased to $9,000 a year.

Moscone, a 13-year-employee of the city, has been superintendent the past two years.

RAISES FOR OTHERS

A $150 wage increase for other DPW employees with a 3.5 per cent increase in 1968 was in the labor contract ratified last week by the council.

Mrs. Eunice Kopietz, clerk, said plans are to hire an additional DPW employee.

Bold Thief Steals Patients' TV Gift

A "Merry Christmas" to the patients at the Oakland County Sanatorium suffered a setback when a bold thief walked off with a holiday-wrapped television gift.

Some 180 patients, most of them seriously ill with tuberculosis or cancer, are at the sanatorium at the County Center.

Margaret Evans, supervisor of patient services, said the set had been wrapped with a ribbon and placed under the large Christmas tree in the hallway.

However, Friday a man who had acted as a visitor picked up the set and walked out, she said.

This is the second year of the project in which service organizations and groups at area businesses participate in saving Christmas money for the patients to insure them a happy holiday.

Township Cityhood Vote Is Opposed by Rochester

ROCHESTER — The City Council last night made it official.

It does not favor the incorporation vote Jan. 15 for creation of a separate city of Avon from the remainder of Avon Township.

Itself incorporated within the last year, the city has officially issued a council policy statement in regard to the scheduled vote, which if favorable, could bind the city to its present boundaries for up to two years.

The statement read: "Because of the misunderstanding that currently exists between the City of Rochester and the Township of Avon, and further because of certain misleading statements that have been recently made, this Council feels it should firmly state its position with regard to the area surrounding Rochester."

"It is hoped that by adopting the following Statement of Policy, this Council may clarify its position and better inform the public of its regard and concern for the area in general."

"1. It is felt that there is a historical significance which ties Rochester, both culturally and economically, to the area surrounding it. Rochester and Avon Township have coexisted for over a century but the paths of these two communities are becoming more and more divergent and that this separation is not in the best interests of the citizens of either community."

"2. It was stated by this Council at the time of incorporation as a home rule city that they would welcome anyone from the surrounding area who desired to become a part of Rochester and that this was in no way intended to be discriminatory."

"3. Contrary to certain recent statements, annexation is not arbitrary but is dependent on the request and consent of those people desiring annexation."

"4. It is untrue that this Council has ever taken the position that they would not annex any particular part of Avon Township if those citizens did so desire annexation. They have stated that they felt there were certain merits to orderly growth, thereby providing an opportunity to gradually meet the needs of a growing community."

"In view of certain recent developments, if the desire of the citizens of these communities is to be one undivided unit, and to do in fact petitions for the annexation of the entire Township of Avon to the City of Rochester, this Council would see that this was brought to the electorate of these communities as speedily and expeditiously as possible."

"5. It is further untrue that the City of Rochester is actively trying to encourage or promote the industries surrounding Rochester to annex to Rochester. As previously stated, it has been the hope of this Council that these people would eventually desire to be a part of this City. This decision should be their decision."

"6. It is felt that the citizens should understand that the possibility of the consolidation of two city governments, while not impossible, is highly improbable and that history bears this out. It stands to reason that where City-Township problems exist, the same problems will exist between two cities."

The foregoing resolution was adopted unanimously by the six council members present at last night's meeting and backed by a statement from the League of Women Voters of the Rochester Area who urged a "no" vote in January.

The League further asked, "We believe that a city charter ought to specify realistic millage rates; that is, rates which enable a city to perform its necessary functions adequately."

"We believe the quality of public discussion will improve when an organizational structure is provided within which the broader questions can be raised and particular issues can be referred to in their total context."

"We support, in essence, the Objectives of the Future Land Use Plan for the Avon-Rochester Area as prepared by Villan-Leman Associates."

The latter statement was signed by Mrs. Russell Corbin, president of the Rochester League.

Avon Official Is Dismayed

AVON TOWNSHIP — Dismay was expressed by at least one Avon Township board member over Rochester's formally adopted statement opposing the Jan. 15 vote for incorporation of Avon Township.

Trustee Philip Trimble, an active member of the original township study committee which promoted the incorporation vote, said this morning, "I would rather have heard that they (the city council members) would sit down to negotiate this thing on an orderly basis, rather than throw the doors wide open at this time to annexation."

He continued, "If the Jan. 15 vote were the final vote on separate incorporation for the township, I wouldn't be working for it. As it is, I believe a 'yes' vote would buy us time toward a more orderly unification. Such a vote would not set us unilaterally toward separate incorporation."

"If petitions are submitted right away for annexation of the whole township to Rochester, I am afraid that vote, too, would go down to defeat. I do not believe the people are ready yet," he said.

She will be crowned by last year's Junior Miss, Gail Kilbourn.

Addison Solving Fireman Problems

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Good progress toward ironing out difficulties besetting the Fire Department was reported here last evening.

Ex-chief John Hock said 22 men, including many former firemen who had resigned from the department, met to lay out grievances and work toward a solution.

Strength of the department, once considered one of the best volunteer agencies in Oakland County, has in the last few years fallen to less than ten men.

Hock said another meeting has been called for 7 p.m. Monday at which time the election of a new fire chief is expected. Elmer Powell continues as acting chief.

Village Orders Cost Analysis

LAKE ORION — A complete breakdown in cost figures of a $44,000 bill for engineering services on an aborted sewage disposal plan has been ordered by the Village Council.

R. J. Alexander director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works last night said such a sum is owed to the engineering firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark for plans drawn up in 1963 to create a sewage disposal plant for the village.

Those plans have been abandoned in favor of hooking into the proposed Paint Creek Arm of the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Interceptor.

While Alexander noted that the bill could be included in bond for the sewer arm and the village, eventually repaid, he said $22,000 should be budgeted as soon as possible and the balance within a year.

No action on means of paying was taken by the council.

Plan Urges Births Only by U.S. Permit

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Dr. William Bradford Shockley, who shared a Nobel Prize in 1956 for helping to develop the transistor, has proposed a sweeping birth control plan that includes temporary sterilization of all women and government approval before each baby.

The Stanford University physicist explained his plan in a lecture at McMaster University Monday night and also accused "inverted liberals" of blocking research into inherited intelligence differences between Negroes and whites.

The chief points of Shockley's birth control plan are these: The public would first of all vote on the rate of population growth it wants. The Census Bureau would determine how many children each couple could have in keeping with the predetermined growth rate and certificates would be issued to them.

TIMED CONTRACEPTIVES

All girls would be temporarily sterilized by time-capsule contraceptives. When a woman and her husband wanted children, they would have the time capsule removed by a public health agency on turning in one of their certificates. After the child was born, the contraceptive capsule would be reinserted.

Couples not wishing children or wishing less than they were entitled to could sell their surplus certificates on the open market.

Under this system, Shockley said, "only people who want and can afford children will have them."

The physicist also made a plea for research into racial differences. He urged eugenic studies related to the relative intelligence levels of Negroes and Caucasians.

GET FACTS

"Let's ask the questions, do the necessary research, get the facts, discuss them widely," Shockley said, "then either worries will evaporate or plans for action will be developed."

Shockley produced statistics based on draft board tests today and during World War I which, he claimed, show the median intelligence of Negroes is below the median of whites during that war and still is.

He said research into inherited intelligence differences could help solve slum problems. He suggested that if intelligence and capabilities of ghetto Negroes are indeed low, then efforts to provide better schools and welfare programs for them can only lead to frustration.

Colorful Youth Is Draft Critic

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lance Elliott Montauk, 20, of Portland reported Monday to the armed forces examination station to take his physical examination for the military draft. He was wearing hip boots.

He pulled off the right boot—and out ran quantities of red paint.

He pulled off the left boot—and out poured green paint.

And as he turned around his back displayed in black letters an uncompromising, obscene comment about the Army.

HEARING SET

Deputy marshals took him to the federal courthouse where paint remover cleaned him up. He then went before a U.S. Commissioner who set a hearing on a charge of willful injury of less than $100 to government property.

Woodsmen Is Committed

IRON RIVER (UPI) — An aging woodsman charged with last spring's ax slaying of his partner has been sent to the Newberry State Hospital for 18 months of mental treatment.

Authorities charged Pete Simmons, 72, Iron River axed Leo Reitmeyer, 32, during an argument at his logging camp in a remote wooded area.

Simmons was found six days later huddled in a clump of balsam trees. He was suffering from malnutrition and an apparently self-inflicted knife wound on his throat.

Sweden Lets Down Bars of Prisons

Sweden (pop. 7.8 million), long in the forefront of social innovation, has racked up another first in the area of prison reform, begun recently by the National Swedish Correctional Administration.

Under an experimental plan, known as the "Family Prison," two prisoners are permitted to live with their families outside prison walls. Except for the obligation to maintain contact with the penal institution, the pair hold well-paying jobs and live normal lives.

This experiment is but the extension of a prison system that has about 20,000 of the nation's 25,000 prisoners on parole, with one-third of the 5,000 inmates of 76 confinement institutions inhabiting "open prisons."

These are usually not guarded, and they have no walls or just low fences. The prisoners work a 45-hour, 5-day week with tax-free pay of about a dollar a day.

The inmates get normal "vacations," and can also leave their frame homes for 12 hours each weekend.

They check in with prison officials once a week, sometimes by telephone.

Says the liberal-minded director of the Swedish prison reform program: "I don't believe in punishment or in prisons. It is necessary to incarcerate certain people to protect society. But once we have incarcerated them, we must work against the prison—that is, protect the prisoners from the prison."

The United States has a work-release plan in effect in nearly half of the states.

Under the project, prisoners hold regular jobs in the community during the day, for which they get regular salaries. But they must return to the prison at night, and they can see their families only during normal visiting hours. An exception is in effect at the Mississippi State Penitentiary which allows inmates marital home visits two Sundays each month.

The Swedish plan, if nothing else, points up the age-old penal tug of war — punishment vs. reform.

'Consumerism' Another Guise for Bureaucracy

The chairman of the House subcommittee on Consumer Affairs and the President's special assistant for consumer affairs have expressed the fear that a "blanket of apathy" on the consumer front will result in no action being taken on any significant protective legislation this year.

Could it be that the general public understands the economic system we now have based on free enterprise — selling in a competitive marketplace — already provides the best basic consumer protection? Or could it be the consumer doesn't want some bureaucrat telling him what, when and where he can buy?

U.S. consumers are among the best-informed and most discriminating shoppers in the world. They take pride in being able to make their purchases with due regard to price and quality.

Substandard, overpriced merchandise on a retailer's shelves would gather dust, not customers, and the manufacturers of such products wouldn't be around very long.

"Consumerism" has given rise to legislative proposals aimed at restriction of the marketplace through the extension of regulatory power by political nonproducers and nonmerchandising agencies of one sort or another.

In an effort to breathe life into the consumer-protection movement, representatives of 35 organizations, supposedly with consumers interests, were invited to a Washington meeting to consider priorities and "protective" legislation.

Every consumer in the Nation should be deeply concerned by the activities of those who seek to protect him by excessive regulation of the free market, productive enterprise and mass distribution.

This voluntary combination has served the consumers' interest by creating an abundance of fairly-priced food and merchandise such as the world has never seen.

Government Bureau Cracks Tough Pecan Nut

After intensive study of pecans in the shell, the Agriculture Department has come up with nearly four pages of standards, including charts, as a guide to classifying the nuts according to quality.

All this work is not as nutty as it may sound, says the United States of America Standards Institute. These standards are of multimillion-dollar importance to growers and packers.

We'll take the Institute's word for it, while hoping that it is not just another Washington shell game.

Thread Tying Gold to Dollar Fraying

By JOSEPH R. COVNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — It's only a matter of time before the federal government must cut the last remaining domestic link between gold and the dollar. The final snip could come next year.

Most Americans, however, will hardly notice the change. Business will go on as usual. Dollar bills will still be dollar bills to be spent for groceries, drugs, gasoline and thousands of other everyday items.

Internationally, the cut will free more than $10 billion in gold to defend the dollar abroad.

Worse consequences would confront countries if nothing were done and the U.S. gold pile continued to shrink. Higher interest rates plus weakened confidence in the dollar abroad are two potential results.

Examine a dollar bill closely and you'll see the words "Federal Reserve Note" above George Washington's portrait.

This type of bill is the only kind now placed in circulation and each dollar must be backed under law by 25 cents in gold — the 25 per cent gold cover.

When the United States had plenty of gold this gold cover was well in excess of the 25 per cent ratio. It's still beyond it but not by much.

Last week's switch of $475 million in gold to a special fund to cover, in part, the U.S. share of gold sold on the London market following devaluation of the British pound put more pressure on the gold cover.

Before the switch, the available gold stock equaled 29.9 per cent of all federal reserve notes in circulation — more than $40 billion. After the switch, the ratio was 28.5 per cent.

The supply of gold available for backing paper money is now $12.4 billion, lowest in 30 years, and more than $10 billion of this is already being used.

Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board has repeatedly called for quick removal of the gold cover to end any remaining doubts and uncertainty about U.S. policy.

The Treasury Department, which must make the final decision, agrees the gold cover must eventually be removed but sees no immediate emergency. Officials have indicated, however, that Congress will be asked next year to remove it.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION
The Federal Reserve has the power to suspend the cover temporarily, but at a cost which can be passed on to consumers.

If the ratio drops below 25 per cent, the Federal Reserve must pay a tax to the Treasury which can go as high as 15 per cent of the deficiency.

This would be passed on by increasing the discount rate—the interest commercial banks are charged when they borrow money from the Federal Reserve. This tends to boost interest rates all along the line, including those on consumer goods.

The gold cover on currency was dropped in 1945 from 40 per cent to 25 per cent. It was eliminated on bank reserves in 1965.

Some People Just Don't Scare Easily!

Draft Protest Rights Are Limited

WASHINGTON — Careful reading of the "declaration of policy" in the Universal Military Training and Service Act will answer many of the questions that are now being asked as to the right of college students to carry on anti-draft demonstrations or to interfere with the recruiting LAWRENCE of personnel by companies engaged in national defense work.

Potentially, every male citizen who is in the age bracket from 18½ to 26 is subject to the draft. There are certain exemptions and deferments, but the administration of such regulations is the function of the Selective Service boards throughout the country.

Any demonstrator who seeks to interfere with the recruitment of personnel by the military services violates a federal criminal statute.

No soldier in uniform would be permitted to participate in an "antidraft" demonstration, and neither would any member of the present draft system between the ages of 18½ and 26 be immune from penalties if he seeks to discourage cooperation by other persons subject to the draft.

Entirely apart from the power of discipline permitted to the military institutions of government, there are criminal provisions which declare that anyone, whether or not subject to the draft, may be criminally prosecuted if he "shall knowingly hinder or interfere or attempt to do so in any way, by force or violence or otherwise, with the administration of this (act) or the rules or regulations made pursuant thereto, or who conspires to commit any one or more of such offenses." He can be imprisoned for not more than five years or fined not more than $10,000 or both.

A person could also be subject to criminal prosecution for certain violations of draft rules — as, for instance, failing to register or to report for induction.

A person could also be subject to criminal prosecution for certain violations of draft rules — as, for instance, failing to register or to report for induction.

The joint statement issued by Atty. Gen. Clark and Selective Service Director Hershey says:

Verbal Orchids

Mrs. Jesse J. Friday of Clarkson; 85th birthday.

Mrs. Bonnie Hyde of 31 Fiddis; 83rd birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johns of 2975 W. Walton;

51st wedding anniversary.

"The responsibilities of this unit include prosecution of violations of provisions of the Selective Service law making it unlawful knowingly to counsel, aid, or abet others to refuse to register or serve, or knowingly to interfere by force or violence or otherwise with the administration of the system. This unit also has responsibility for prosecution of violations of the related statutes outlawing interference with the armed forces or obstruction of recruiting and enlistments."

Many of the college authorities have not read the statutes, and some of them have even banned military recruiters from their campuses because they believe that local draft boards have been encouraged "to consider evidence of dissent against military recruitment as a reason for the withdrawal of draft deferments."

Changes in draft status can be made for reasons related to national security and the maintenance of the defense system.

The fundamental question at issue is the right of the Selective Service system to consider all persons who are with an inactive status analogous to that of "Reservists."

Bob Considine Says:

Old Friend Sun Looms as an Enemy in Space

NEW YORK—Nobody questions that the sun is man's greatest friend. Without that obscure and friendly star all earthly life would perish and the stiffly frozen world would wander haphazardly through space.

But the sun could be man's worst enemy — man in space, that is.

By an alarming coincidence the sun will go through one of its 11-year period completion fits during 1969, the same year we hope to begin sending men to the moon.

Each 11 years (and occasionally fewer) the sun erupts with flares that have appalled man since Galileo, working with his first crude telescope and ordinary smoked glass, observed the solar flare and sun spot phenomenon.

But for centuries before that, the Babylonians, Egyptians and Chinese had sensed that on 11-year cycles their sun was not itself.

INCREDIBLE H-BOMB

The sun is an incredible H-bomb. It works the same way: A prolonged nuclear fusion in which hydrogen atoms collide to form helium and give off explosions (or implosions) of energy.

Some 564 million tons of hydrogen are converted every second into 569 million tons of helium.

The remaining four million tons burn away as light and heat, for which we and the rest of the solar system can be grateful.

When the sun blows its top with a flare display, it's not to be believed. Colossal loops and arcs of electrified helium and hydrogen spew out from the sun's surface to form bridges high enough to cover a stack of eight earths.

They can keep spurting for as much as a week, causing blackouts of radio communications and erratic behavior in man's compasses. The energy produced during these spells has been compared to the detonation of one billion H-bombs.

There is radiation flung out, of course. Earthbound man easily survives it because he lives at the bottom of a layer of air which he calls its atmosphere. It filters the harmful rays.

Well and good, but the astronauts are going to leave that atmosphere behind them as they reach for the moon. En route, their spacecraft will protect them from the hammering, unfiltered rays.

But the two men who go down to the moon and walk around on its surface would have no comparable protection against excessive flares.

Neither would the crew and passengers of the supersonic airliners which plan to fly as high as 75,000 feet, well above the outer fringes of the atmosphere.

Something is being done in both cases.

The Yardney Electric Corp.'s Razdow Laboratories, of Newark, N. J., have developed a system of monitoring solar flares and alerting the proper agencies to "take cover" before the arrival of the energetic solar protons — which could damage the chromosomes of astronauts and supersonic pilots. Chromosomes rule heredity, control normal and abnormal births.

Voice of the People:

Realtor Clarifies Stand on Open Housing Laws

The article by Dick Saunders on the editorial page on December 8, only added to the confusion concerning open housing legislation because of his erroneous interpretation of my position. He has a right to his opinion but I object to him stating "What Annett is saying is: 1. A man should have the right to sell to whomever he wants to. 2. He should not base his decision on race or creed or what-have-you."

I agree with No. 1. I challenge Mr. Saunders or your newspaper to show me proof of my ever making such a statement as No. 2 or how he could draw any such conclusion from any statements I have ever made concerning this issue. In fact, my statements and the Michigan Real Estate Association's statements are completely to the contrary.

"We maintain that the owners of private real estate should have the freedom to choose with whom they will deal, whether their reasons be sound, capricious or otherwise. There never has been a civil right given to anyone to acquire the real property of another without his full consent. No one has an endowed right to buy — a person only has a right to offer to buy — just as any other person has the equal right to offer to sell. Only when a willing seller and a willing buyer agree, in all respects, can a transaction be properly consummated."

The proponents of open or a fair housing legislation are truly the people who are "idealistic and theoretical." We know from experience that in a free society, you cannot legislate morality or equality. The solution to true "open occupancy" can only be accomplished through better education, improved communications between all people and respect for law and order by all people.

Coercive housing laws do not in themselves afford more and better residential housing to American Negroes; the preoccupation of civil rights proponents and politicians with laws of this type has diverted attention from other means and methods which offer no affront to the majority, do no damage to the freedom of contract respecting private property and offer what the Negro needs most, namely, more and better housing.

My opinions, as well as most realtors, are based on the experience of dealing with thousands of owners of private property of all races and religions.

BRUCE J. ANNETT

I read the article "Misconceptions Cloud Fair Housing Views" and have been seriously considering whether such a law is morally right or morally wrong. As a real estate broker, it is not my right to judge whether a person should live in a particular neighborhood because of race or color. As a citizen I am constrained to feel the same way as the Negro does — I want the right to choose. From a Christian standpoint, does the Bible speak clearly to us on this subject? God's moral laws are meant for the well being of the individual and the life of Christ bears this out.

If legislation forcing integration in housing which may eventually lead to integrated marriages is going to be the best thing for all people, I am for it. If it is going to create more hatred, more bloodshed and more confusion, I am against. Each must decide for himself.

JEFF FRUSHOUR
424 LAKESIDE

The Rochester Human Relations Council urges an affirmative vote for the Open Contract Housing Bill No. 205. We believe this bill will help secure justice for all in the area of housing and thus is a force for good. We believe responsible representation is accountable representation.

DAVID HACKETT, CHAIRMAN
ROCHESTER HUMAN RELATIONS COUNCIL
1280 RUBY, ROCHESTER

House Bill 2035 would deny a property owner the right to say no to prospective buyers of his property. Refusing to sell constitutes an "unfair housing practice" in the opinion of the authors of this bill. It would give the civil rights commission powers not unlike those of the Spanish Inquisition. A person can be brought before this commission, found guilty of an "unfair housing practice" and fined or otherwise punished, all without the benefit of a judge or jury.

The fair housing act also gives the same powers prescribed to the state civil rights commission to local civil rights commissions, thus creating local inquisitions in each neighborhood. Unless we let our legislators know how we feel on this matter, they cannot represent our views when the bill comes to the floors of the House and Senate.

Explains Substitute Spelling of Christmas

Dropping the name Christ and substituting an "X" does not mean that most anyone's birthday can be remembered. The "X" used comes from the Greek alphabet and is pronounced "Chi." This is the first letter in the spelling of our Lord's name throughout the New Testament in its original language. I do not like the word "Xmas" but as long as people understand its meaning I believe it may be used by all who desire to do so.

Rusk Shuns Public Quiz on Viet, Paper Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has flatly and finally refused to testify in public on Vietnam war policy, the Washington Post reports.

The paper said Rusk's refusal was announced Monday by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a Vietnam policy critic and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which has been pressing the secretary to testify publicly before it.

Gore said he felt Rusk was acting "on orders of President Johnson," the story added, quoting the Tennessee senator as calling the refusal a "break down in public communication" between the panel and Rusk.

Rusk reportedly wrote Gore that "any thorough hearing on our involvement in Vietnam in Dixon, Calif., near San would necessarily deal with Francisco.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

"The committee is entitled to know my views on those questions. But because of the extreme sensitivity of these matters, I am convinced that they should be fully discussed only in executive sessions..."

The committee earlier discussed the possibility of sending to Johnson a resolution requesting the President to order Rusk to testify publicly.

The spices used in cooking which are thought of as coming mostly from exotic places, are also produced in great quantity our involvement in Vietnam in Dixon, Calif., near San would necessarily deal with Francisco.

Korean child, Jung Soon Bok. Roger is the school's foreign exchange student from Ceylon, Larry is president of the Student Council and Nancy council secretary.

And Rochester Students Happier

Happy Yule for Korean Girl

By KARIN HEADLEE

To make a little girl happy and her American friends happier, the Rochester High School Student Council mailed a special Christmas package to Korean orphan Jung Soon Bok.

Soon Bok's father was injured in the Korean War and her mother is unable to provide adequately for her. Last year the students received permission to sponsor the youngster as a council project.

"We wrote her a Christmas letter too," said Roger Francke, foreign exchange student from Ceylon.

Among Soon Bok's gifts will be a Raggedy Ann doll and a Twister game.

The annual Christmas dance, "Candles of Christmas," will be held Saturday from 8 - 11:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

SPONSORED BY BAND

Sponsored by the Varsity Band, the dance is semiformal, but girls may wear either long or short dresses.

Candles will serve as the centerpiece for each table.

The Rochester Treble Choir will present a Christmas Concert Sunday at 3 p.m. at the high school. Alumnae members of the choir are being asked to participate in Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Frank Irish will direct the program which features Bach's "Jesu, Christ, Treasure," by the Concert Choir, The Men's Glee Club, Madrigal Singers, and Triple Trio also will perform.

CHOIR OFFICERS

Officers for the Treble Choir are Gail Osburn, president; Sue Waderlow, vice president; Kathy Ives, secretary; and Andrea Devine, treasurer.

Sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club, two Rochester High boys will attend the Junior Rotarian program this month. The boys are Steve Hopkins, a senior, and Jim Caulfield, a junior.

Juniors and seniors needing financial assistance to attend college are offered a new service through the school's guidance department.

The service, sponsored by North American Educational Computer Services, Inc. of Princeton, New Jersey, uses a computer to match an individual student's qualifications to the requirements of over 700,000 items of scholarships and grants contained in the computer's memory bank.

COMPUTER MILESTONE

Until computer technology became universally available, the task of locating more than a small fraction of the financial aid for which a student was eligible was virtually impossible.

No central source of information relating to scholarships was maintained prior to the computer age.

Using the ECS Computerized Scholarship-Search Service, the student fills out a very detailed questionnaire.

When the questionnaire is returned to the service, the computer matches the individual's qualifications against the available financial aid from colleges, universities, foundations, corporations and civic, professional, charitable, business, social and fraternal organizations, and trade and labor organizations as well as religious and philanthropic groups all over the United States.

Varsity Club Holds Initiations at Central

By KATHY MCCLURE

Varsity Club initiations took place last week at Pontiac Central High School.

Gary Andrews, Roger Butler, Rolly Garcia and Roger Greece were initiated. Others were Bill Graham, Jerry Hintersperger, Robert Hunt, and Wendell Luckadoo.

Would-be members paid a 50 cent fee before initiation week started. Another requirement was that they make a Varsity Club pledge and have it approved by active members.

All club officers and 10 other members had to sign each pledge. The pledge must not be used as a weapon and may be brought to school on induction day only.

Initiation began Monday with all pledges wearing knee socks and a pledge sign. A pledge sign was required "wearing apparel" all week.

RESTRICTIONS

Tuesday, pledges were not allowed to talk to girls. Wednesday they were required to carry the books of any active member if so requested.

Thursday and Friday were dress-up days. Each pledge was required to wear a sport coat or suit.

Formal induction was held after school Friday. Each pledge was required to be there and be able to sing the light song.

Bill Graham was given the Best Paddle Award.

Varsity Club members, and the student body are looking forward to the club's annual Varsity Club-Faculty basketball game Jan. 17.

Retail co-op students at Central have received a charter to establish a chapter of the Distributive Education Club of America (DECA).

Newly-elected officers of the local club are Bev Neal, president; Charles Graham, vice-president; and Vicki West, secretary. Janice Ledsinger, treasurer; Beverly Batten, reporter; and George Negoshian parliamentarian.

William C. Rogers, co-op coordinator, is the club adviser.

DELEGATES CONGRESS

The club is looking forward to the Delegates Congress to be held at Battle Creek in January. This will be a meeting of representatives of all chapters of the DECA in Michigan.

Tryouts for the spring musical will be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

This year's play, "The King and I," will be under the direction of Peter Ugoini and Michael Dempsey.

Gls in Viet Get Lapeer NHS Aid

By SHARON KIEHLER

The National Honor Society of Lapeer High School is sponsoring a schoolwide campaign entitled "Our Vietnam Cause."

"We want to send a portion of home to our boys overseas," said Sharon Kiehl, chairman of the committee.

"We will be shipping articles that can be easily transported and preserved."

The NHS is requesting donations from the students, the various clubs, and the Student Council.

Members have considered an assembly; admittance would require a donation of one article from a specified list or a nominal cash contribution.

The list includes matches, powdered soft drinks, razor blades, gum, foil-wrapped cocktail nibbles and assorted foods; sewing kits, playing cards, plastic bags, small puzzles and safety pins.

Addresses are being obtained from families and friends of the service men. "Many people have failed to our aid and NHS wants to make this project a huge success," said Sharon.

"It's important to let the boys know that we at home have not forgotten why they are over there and that we appreciate what they're doing for us," commented a NHS member. "It's the least we can do."

The concert this year will include three choreography numbers performed by high school girls.

Directing the choral portion of the program is Sister M. Kara, O.P. Choreographer is Mrs. Joan Mossner.

Senior play tryouts for the "Little Dog Laughed" recently were held at St. Lawrence High School.

Members of the cast are Maureen Brown, Janice Blanche, Tony Olek, Ray Reckling, Don Rautenberg, Peter Hypner, Louise Marcinak, Diane Wolf, Mark Vollmers and Nancy Galubensky.

Others are Barbara Amelot, Madeline Backus, Patricia Dutchik, Chris Domagalski and Nancy Duyck.

The play will be presented Jan. 17 in the school gymnasium.

New members of the National Honor Society were inducted last Thursday by the principal, Sister M. Paula O.P.

A luncheon for the inductees and their parents was held after the induction program.

Guest speaker for the ceremony was John Buchalski Jr., assistant principal at Stevenson High School.

The new members are Madeline Backus, Konstantyn Damas, Nancy Duyck, Mary Erskine, Nancy Galubensky, Linda Heinrich, Daniel Lemanski and Ruth Schmidt, all seniors.

Juniors chosen were Maureen Chapoton, Diane Du Russel, Mary Gazda, Lynn Hitch, Barbara Masseth, Cheryl Strauss.

Annual Tea Set at Convent of Sacred Heart

By ELAINE COSTELLO

Every Christmas season, mothers and daughters at Convent of the Sacred Heart enjoy a friendly meeting amid Christmas decorations and plates of cookies at the annual Mother-Daughter Tea.

The tea will be held Saturday afternoon at the convent.

Senior girls and their mothers will serve refreshments to mothers and girls of grades kindergarten through 11.

Junior and senior girls look forward to another festive highlight of the season. The semiformal Christmas Dinner-Dance will be held at the Detroit Athletic Club on Dec. 23.

Wednesday, the Glee Club, under the direction of Stauey Edwards, will perform in a Christmas Concert.

Parents, faculty, and friends will view this annual performance.

The Christmas drive this year will support 35 families in Holy Trinity Parish and four in St. Frederick's parish, Pontiac.

Each day for eight days, a different type of food is collected, and baskets will be distributed to needy families Wednesday.

Girls from the Upper School visited these families last Sunday to find out specifically what each needs and wants. They plan to give a special present to each member of their families.

Kettering's Ensemble, Choir, Gleemen Perform

By DONNA FURLONG

Everyone is busy at the Christmas holidays drawing near.

Today the choir, ensemble and gleemen participated in the annual Pontiac State Bank Christmas Program.

Featured as soloist was Margot Headley. Also participating were Darryl Bowden, Ann Keith, Ross Reppuhn, Mickey Simmons, and Kathy Stewart. All were accompanied by Gail Strader.

Swim Club began its winter season Sunday evening. This year students must pay a $5 membership fee, at which time they will receive a card that will admit them every week to the pool at Oakland University. Sponsor of the group is Emerson White, biology teacher.

Three WKHS students qualified for the second state mathematics test. Only 600 students in the state were eligible for the second group of tests. Those from Kettering were juniors Martin Hudson and Dave Powell and sophomore Janet Martin.

CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS

For their Christmas Project this year the Girls' Athletic Association Letter Club will fill Christmas stockings and deliver them to underprivileged children. Sponsor of the group is Mrs. Philip Rabaja, physical education teacher.

Tomorrow there will be a Parent Band Booster Meeting. The meeting will be held in the west cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Friday night following the basketball game with Lapeer a dance will be held.

Kingswood Spreads Good News

By MARY STEWART

Students at Kingswood have proven that "good news travels fast," as the campaign to help the committee, "Homes by Christmas," gathers interest in seven area schools.

Recently, the Kingswood - Cranbrook Student Cabinet invited representatives from other independent schools to a meeting at which Dr. Sally Cassidy, chairman of "Homes by Christmas," explained the purpose.

The committee was organized after the riots of last July when 14 interested persons met at Dr. Cassidy's home to determine how they could aid the unfortunate families whose homes had been destroyed.

The public's interest in the "Homes by Christmas" project was concrete. Enough funds have been raised to finance the assistance of 20 homes.

"We're just amateurs," Dr. Cassidy states, "but that's still pretty good." The immediate plans at Kingswood for this project are not only to aid the organization financially, but also to provide household goods and other useful items.

The junior class is sponsoring a trading-stamp drive, and the other classes are donating clothing, toys, bedding and household appliances.

an assembly yesterday, sixth hour. Members of the central choir, band, orchestra, and Student Union attended the assembly.

SCHOOL NEWS ROUNDUP

North Farmington

By ANNE KILLEEN

Hallways at North Farmington High School are filled with the cry, "Class of '68 will dominate." Seniors have gone to the top in class spirit.

Following cap and gown measurements last week, John Khani, president of the senior class, announced the plans for the senior Christmas Caroling party. Practice will be held this Saturday to organize different groups for the party Dec. 23.

"Give us the tools and we will build tomorrow," is the motto for the graduating class. Seniors chose the yellow rose as their class flower and powder blue and navy as the class colors.

"The Impossible Dream" was selected as the senior class song.

At a recent senior board meeting suggestions for the class gift were discussed. Among the ideas, a bronze "Sidney Raider," for the front of the school was most popular.

Blonde-haired senior Linda Haviland has been selected for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizens Award. Linda is corresponding secretary for Student Council and the varsity cheerleader captain.

Brother Rice

By GARY MILLER

At a recent meeting of the Brother Rice High School Student Council the council constitution was drastically changed by the representatives.

Many new amendments were also proposed by Frank Mazza, chairman of the constitution committee.

One dealt with the line of succession in the event of an impeachment of a class officer.

A "Grievance Committee," to be headed by John Markey, was organized.

BAROMETER

John Bodette, president of the Student Council, explained, "The purpose of this committee will be to act as a barometer for student opinion and will also act as a sounding board."

At the meeting it was unanimously decided to purchase a "victory bell." This bell would be hung outside the locker room and would be rung after every Warrior victory.

The long-awaited Christmas trees for the Senior's tree drive have finally arrived.

After weeks of preparation, Chairman Rich Kopke and his committee are ready to sell the Scotch pines at $1-per-foot after school and on weekends.

All money raised will be used by the seniors to buy the school a gift at the end of the school year.

Intramural soccer has been canceled by the intramural committee. Intramural hockey will begin soon.

Country Day

By SHARON BERRIDGE

Seniors of Bloomfield Country Day received their rings Wednesday. The school's crest, name and motto, "The truth shall make you free," are mounted on a black stone set in gold.

The annual Christmas play, a series of plays from the Chester Cycle written in the 13th century, was presented Sunday. Mrs. Mortimer Neff directed the play and Mrs. Raymond Neff led the choir.

In the Red Choir were Sue Adams, Peggie Kramer, Dawa Higley, Lolly Imer, Janet Jones, Sue Beardsley, Karen Sheppard, Elizabeth Goldin, Helen Freeman, Sara Muller Betsy Monto and Gail Bewick.

Others were Mary Ann Bricker, Sharon Berridge Andrea Carnick, Kristie Johnson, Beth Frank, Terry Finkel, Mary Schultz, Missy Scripts, Gaylynn Coldwell, Carol McNaughton, Lisa Solomon and Sandy Wilson.

In the Gold Choir were Margie Birkdorf, Wendy Davidson, Libby Connolly, Maggie Cannon, Dede Dink, Dawn Forshaw, Roberta Hickson, Janet Coulter, Jane Smith, Sally Bricker and Laurie Emmerman.

Janet Ivory, Nancy Graham and Karen Rubens were the three wise men. Portraying shepherds were Stephanie Kikakis, Wendy Mitchell, Nancy Russ and Kit Butcher.

Shari Lightstone was Mary and Debbie Carruthers, Joseph.

Angels were Debbie Daly, Marilyn Monaghan, Sue Hiller, Jean Neff, Tracy Primmer, Kitti Johnson, Cathy Sorock, Tina Spitzley, Ellen Bleznak, Amie Robins, Cathy Croft and Debbie Taubie.

Clarkston

By KATHY MATLOCK

The Clarkston High School Ski Team led by its coach Jim Johnson, shop teacher, is currently playing soccer to strengthen muscles for skiing.

Girls on the team are Leslie Bell, Nadine Blackett, Debbie Head, Shari Kosiba, Linda Slade, Sue Tower, and Diane Wagner.

The Girls Athletic Association will sponsor a "play-a-lie" for the entire student body from 7:30 p.m. Monday. There will be volleyball, basketball, tumbling and other sports available.

Friday night the junior class will sponsor the dance after the home game against Clarenceville.

The Christmas Concert will be held tomorrow and Thursday night. The Beginners' Choir, Girls Glee Club, Varsity Choir, and Madrigal singers, will participate. Margaret Tobin of the faculty is the director.

The Madrigal Singers are going to perform at a convalescent home, Friday.

Lahser

By GRETCHEN HAAS

The French Club at Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School is making plans for an all-area Christmas sock hop to be held at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School Dec. 22.

The Mermad Tavern and H. P. and the Grass Route Movement will entertain during the evening.

The club has also planned a French cooperative dinner in the home of one of the members. Foods served at the dinner will be French dishes prepared by club members.

The French students hope to bring a touch of the French atmosphere to an American dinner table.

Meetings of the French Club are held on Tuesdays after school. It is hoped that future meetings will also be held in homes of the members.

CLUB OFFICERS

Club officers for the year are Liz Read, president; Debbie Parsons, vice president; Jane Fox, secretary; and Sid Simonian, treasurer.

The faculty adviser is Joseph Kesner.

The play-reading committee of the Drama Club met Wednesday to make a final decision on a play for presentation in January.

They chose "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder which will be presented in the Little Theater at Bloomfield Hills Andover. Tryouts begin this week.

Marian

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

Each year student body and faculty observe the freshman class of Marian High School with interest and anticipation.

Freshmen can escalate or degrade their image by their performance in their initial activities of the year.

Spirit and unity characterize early activities of the Class of '71.

Their Field Day float, a bottle labeled "Frosh," pouring its imaginary contents on three cubes of ice which represented the other classes was considered the "best ever" produced by freshmen.

In addition, their song, banner and costume showed imagination and long hours of hard work. The float won fourth place.

RENEWED AMBITION

Undaunted, the high-spirited freshmen tackled the yearbook ad drive, their next project, with renewed ambition and increased efforts.

Throughout the two-week drive, freshmen held the first-place berth until the last day, when they were edged out by the seniors.

For their efforts, however, freshmen were rewarded with a class party last week. They spent an hour in the gym, drinking pop, singing, eating potato chips and just getting acquainted with more classmates.

The class came through once more in Marian's first Thanksgiving Drive. Cans, candies and other goods accumulated quickly in freshman collection centers.

Behind this successful group is the earnest endeavors and good example of its leaders: Diane Torzewski, president; Kathy Solmer, vice president; Adele Dahlin, secretary; and Mary LaPorte, treasurer, class officers.

The spark behind this incomparable class, as the entire class will readily testify, is Sister Baptista, class moderator.

Cranbrook Plans Yule Pageant

By DAVID DYE

Sunday evening, Cranbrook School will celebrate Christmas with its 39th annual Christmas Pageant.

The festivities will start at 5 when court jester, Mike Wilson, will lead the students and faculty into the main dining hall, decorated in the yuletide spirit, for the feast.

After the guests are seated in the hall, the Cranbrook Glee Club will begin the ceremonies.

The singers, wearing traditional costumes of the Middle Ages, will parade down the middle of the hall, singing "Adeste Fideles." They will finish at the end of the dining hall, before the "nativity scene." There, the Glee Club will sing a number of Christmas carols.

The dinner will be highlighted by three processions of the Glee Club. These include the Procession of the Boar's Head which signals the start of the main course; the Procession of the Plum Pudding; which starts dessert; and the Procession of the Yule-Log; which heralds the beginning of the Mummies' Play.

Concert at Adelphian

By GAIL GALLANT

The Adelphian Academy choir will present its first public concert of the year Saturday. Carl Asholch, dean of boys, will direct. Renditions by the Senior Ensemble will highlight the program.

Elder Peter Fritz from Monroe is the main speaker at the Fall Week of Prayer which began yesterday and will continue through Saturday.

by the Ashland Oil and Refining Co. With a quotation of 15.39 cents per gallon, Little's, Inc., was the apparent low bidder for the premium grade gasoline.

The bids, which were referred to Clerk Arthur J. Salley for review and a report back to the board at next Monday's meeting ranged to a high of 16.5 cents per gallon for regular grade gasoline to 20 cents for premium.

The board authorized Salley to advertise for bids for eight new township vehicles. The bids are to be opened at the board's Dec. 27 meeting which was delayed two days because of Christmas.

TOWNSHIP VEHICLES

Also approved were revised specifications for the six police cars, fire department station wagon and pickup truck for the water and sewer department.

Five police cars and a station wagon will be traded in toward purchase of the vehicles, according to township officials.

In other business last night, the board allocated $10,000 to the construction fund for the pedestrian overpass to be built across Pontiac Lake Road near Leggett School.

Total project cost, to be shared equally by the township and school district, is $17,350.

MINOR COSTS

The township's share, consequently is $8,675, however minor additional expenses may be forthcoming.

Introduced by the board last night was a proposed ordinance specifying collection fees for each stage of preparing a land plat.

A public hearing on the matter will be conducted at next Monday's meeting.

The board voted to inform the Oakland County Road Commission that it had no objections to vacating Farmridge Street from Cottage to the Cass Lake front, despite the protests of a few residents who were concerned with access to the lake.

ROAD HEARING

The Road Commission will hold a public hearing on the issue.

The board had tabled action on the matter for the township fire department to determine whether it would affect fire protection in area, known as Cass Lake Highlands subdivision. Fire Chief, Lewis Goff said it wouldn't.

Also last night, the board approved the transfer of a Class C and SDM-licensed business from Pontiac Lake Inn, Inc., 7890 M59, to Terry Fiscus and Walter Murrick.

Action is scheduled to be taken at next Monday night's board meeting on five rezoning requests which were introduced last night.

PROPERTY LISTED

They are requests to rezone property on:

• Pontiac Lake Road near Oceana from general business (C2) to extensive business (C3) for a candy processing plant.

Santa's Magic Everywhere

AT WAITE'S — What's tickling David Douras? Santa's beard, perhaps? But David and Santa look as though they have reached an agreement: You leave salt for my reindeer, and I'll fill your stocking to the brim. Christmas will be merry at David's house at 1291 Featherstone.

There's something about a Santa Claus . . .

Snatches of carols, the pleasure of childhood, the stuffed stockings of yesterday, the anticipation of new ice skates.

Rolled up into his red suit, black boots and white flowing beard is the power to reach right through the frayed nerve ends of a frantic shopper and touch the heart.

A kindly old gentleman, Santa's magnetism for children is never doubted. Their awe—their joy—their expectancy shine from wondering eyes.

One of the biggest attractions during the holiday season is a visit to Santa Claus, and there are plenty of possibilities in Pontiac.

Pontiac Press Photos
By
Ed Vanderworp

AT FEDERAL'S — "Hey, Santa," says 10-month-old Michael Holcomb, "Why is my brother Eddie crying?" Though Eddie is a bit overawed by Santa, he's sure to feel better Christmas morning when he finds that Santa visited his house at 216 Clinton, Milford, and filled his stocking.

At Tel-Huron

Santa reads excitement in 3-year-old Mark Reeling's eyes and promises to bring good things to his home at 1443 Dundee, Waterford Township. Mark is trying to find out just what time Santa will arrive so he can watch him come down the chimney.

At Sears

Debbie Crow shows younger sister Cheryl how to sit on Santa's lap. Brother Ricky, already familiar with the routine, mulls over his list of requests. Have the Crow children behaved well this year? They'll know Christmas morning when they check their stockings at 234 Liberty.

Elf Moves and Talks---but Is She Real?

A tiny elf seated in a magic ball is attracting inquisitive boys and girls — and Moms and Dads, too — to the small house at Coleman's Furniture Mart, 563 N. Perry.

Even though she's too small to be a real person, she can move about, see you, and even talk to you. Her name is Twinkles.

What do kids say to this?
"She's a puppet!"

"I know! She's a big mirror!"
"She's too small to be 417 years old!"
"I know! She's run by a battery!"

Is Twinkles real? Visit her and see. Soon she'll be off traveling in her magic ball — and then you won't be able to distinguish her from the other stars in the sky.

Look In The Window Of The Small House

... And Behold a Six-Inch Elf

AT THE MALL — Parents are eager for their children to talk to Santa. Teen-agers, remembering the pleasure they used to get from such a visit at Christmas, bring younger brothers and sisters, too. Here they all line up to greet Santa in his home away from home, the igloo at the Mall.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Claus charms the snakes with the magic harp and Tweedleknives escapes. This leaves only the dagger but the elf accidentally sticks himself and is poisoned.

CHAPTER ELEVENThe Door in the Wall

Claus held the dying Tweedleknives in his arms. The elf had said he would live if a stone should weep. But whoever heard of stones weeping?

Claus played around at the rocky boulders jutting out of the snow. "Weep!" shouted Claus wildly. "Weep for Tweedleknives!"

But the great stones stood frozen and dry in the wind.

Claus carried the elf into a nearby cave. It was cold there, too, but the stone walls cut off the wind. Claus built a fire and tried to warm the elf. He melted snow in a tin cup he carried on his belt. When the water boiled he used it to wash the small puncture in the palm of the elf's hand.

Then Claus sat there staring gloomily at nothing. Presently, his eyes widened and his mouth fell open. "They're weeping!" he shouted. "The walls are weeping!"

TRICKLES ON ROCKS
Now it could have been that the warmth of the fire and the steam from the boiling water caused moisture to form on the frozen rocks. Whatever the cause, tiny streams of water ran gently down the walls. There was no denying it; the stones were weeping!

Tweedleknives opened his eyes. He sat up. He stretched. He was well.

Claus was so happy to see the elf return to life that he did not scold him for his carelessness with the dagger. But Tweedleknives was gloomy. "All our weapons are gone. How can we fight the Pigwidgen now?"

"We'll have to use our wits," said Claus.

SHORT ON WITS

"Alas," said Tweedleknives, "that is one thing I have in short supply."

"We shall see when the time comes," said Claus. "Now let us get where we are going or neither magic nor wits will do us any good."

So on they traveled northward. Snow swirled against them. Wind whistled around their ears. Tears froze in their eyelashes. Icicles hung from their chins.

"If the Pigwidgen lives in a land of frost and never-ending snow this surely must be it," said Tweedleknives at last.

SQUINTING AT SNOW

Claus cried, "Look! Look!"

Tweedleknives squinted through his frozen lashes. All he could see was snow, snow, snow.

"It's like a solid wall," he grumbled.

"It is a wall!" exclaimed Claus. "A solid wall 30 feet high."

"Then we're there!" whooped Tweedleknives.

"But how do we get in?" wondered Claus.

"Simple," retorted the elf. "We'll climb it."

NO FINGERHOLD

But the wall was straight and smooth. They could not get even a fingerhold. They heaped up mounds of snow but could not reach even half way.

Claus said, "There must be a door."

They searched the length of the wall. They went down the side and around the back and down the other side. There was no door.

"What a stupid place to live," spluttered the elf. "You can't get in or out!" He kicked irritably at the wall.

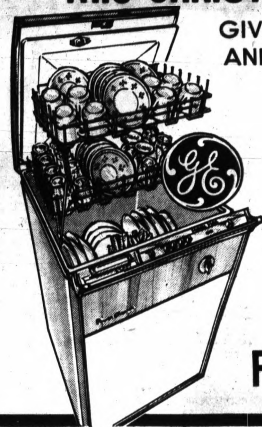

A small square of wall jiggled slightly at his kick. "It moved!" blurted the elf. "It's a door!"

Claus and Tweedleknives fell to their knees and scraped the snow from the wall. There was a tiny door no higher than Tweedleknives' waist, in the center of the door was a tiny keyhole.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please print this? Some time ago I had an ad in a paper — something for sale. Several women called up for a description, and promised to come to see it when their husbands came home with the car.

Some of them called and said they might be late in coming. I sat up until 11 o'clock — none showed up. I wonder how they would like such treatment? Why don't some women keep their promises? — Sally

Dear Sally: Yes, I'll print your very justifiable complaint. It's the height of rudeness to tell someone you will see them at a certain time and then not show up. Whether it's a business deal or a social date, the lack of consideration is the same.

When you make a date, keep it, and if it's impossible, notify the other person at once.

"Etiquette Tips for Teen-agers" by Elizabeth L. Post is available to readers of this paper. This booklet will answer questions for teen-agers and their parents. To get a copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48066.

Tempting the palates of members of Waterford Child Study Club for their annual Christmas cookie exchange is this attractive display of home-baked goodies. The event was held Monday evening in the YWCA. Mrs. Robert J. Lawyer of Indian View Drive lights the candles of the centerpiece while Mrs. Robert Holan of Wormer Drive looks on. Exchange student Bram Over, from the Netherlands, explained Christmas customs in his country. He is a guest of the Herman Trost family, of Troy.

Because her appearance is a necessary factor in her role as a professional model, it seemed natural for Mrs. Robert Murphy to launch a second career in the field of woman's makeup. The gel from this tiny alone plant is the key ingredient of all the products represented by Mrs. Murphy.

Today's Woman

Top Model Proves Domestic Too

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

One who adheres to the "feminine mystique" is the woman who looks for a self identity beyond the realm of her home life.

Mrs. Robert Murphy of Orchard Lake not only fits that description, she challenges it.

Stretching each day to its maximum, she finds time for family, home and two going careers, one as a fashion model, the other as distributor for a new cosmetic firm.

The day we met Joan Murphy was a typically busy one for her, filled with miles of mad dashing here and there. But the tall, slim redhead with big green eyes, who was wearing a bright orange car coat, appeared not the least bit worn out by her schedule.

Her looks explained why she chose modeling for her initial profession.

EYES FASHION TOO

Not to be outdone by Mom's cheerful appearance was two-year-old Adam, who was sporting a flashy red neck scarf.

Adam is the youngest of Mrs. Murphy's brood of four. The others, Todd, Robert and April range in age from seven to 15.

But back to Joan Murphy, the woman with the multiple careers. Known professionally as Joan Mumford, she had her first taste of modeling as a member of J. L. Hudson's teen panel in Detroit.

By the 10th grade she was modeling for Saks Fifth Avenue.

Fulfilling the dreams of many a young girl, Joan went on to New York and became an Eileen Ford model. She worked for Ladies Home Journal, Vogue and Glamour magazines before returning to Detroit.

"The majority of my work at the moment deals with photographic modeling," she said. "And of course my assignments vary so I have to keep my wardrobe up to date." This seems like a project in itself as she sews all of her clothes.

Her second professional career was an expansion of her role as someone often in the public eye.

"It's only natural," she concluded, "that, as a model your first concern is proper makeup."

"I've tried just about everything on the market within reason. And now, for the first time I'm convinced I've found something good."

The cosmetics she uses and sells are made with aloe which resembles a cactus. The juice of this plant has healing properties.

As we talked, young Adam was busy in his own two-year-old way. One look at his gray hands and Mom retrieved him from further explorations in an ashtray.

"One of the big advantages of my selling job is that I can do a lot of my work right at home where I can be with the children," she said.

"I'm not a 'joiner,' I'd just as soon stay home and paint or sew. And of course there's my husband."

Speaking of family, we automatically looked again for Adam. He had wandered off into the ether regions of the editorial department, looking for more adventure.

His smiling young mother scooped him up, buttoned him into his jacket with that flashy red scarf and took off.

Busy efficient person, that Joan Murphy.

Get Gang's Help for Handicapped; Your Own Concern Is Touching

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school freshman and belong to a church group which meets every Friday night. There is a boy in this group who is sort of physically deformed and a little mentally unbalanced. (I am not saying this to be mean, Abby, he really is.) Everyone makes fun of him but me. My problem is, he keeps hanging around me asking me to do weird things, like telling him if he blinks his eyes. (He claims he can't blink his eyes.) Abby, I go to have a good time, and I can't with this kid bothering me all the time. I don't want to tell him to get lost or anything like that because I hate to hurt his feelings. But what can I do? He keeps following me around.

I have even considered dropping out of the group, but I don't want to because it could be a lot of fun if it weren't for this kid. How can I get rid of him nicely?

PESTERED
DEAR PESTERED: That you would write with such a problem shows you to be an extremely sensitive warm-hearted person. Surely this group has an adult counselor, and a few leaders among its peers. Why not try to organize a meeting to discuss this problem with them?

It would be an act of genuine kindness (not only to the handicapped lad, but to all the young people) to point out the need for patience and understanding in such a situation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.G.: The woman who needs more than five minutes to decide what to wear has more clothes than she needs.

Problems? Write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48066. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48066.

Another Grandchild for the Romneys

LANSING (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. George Romney's grandchildren now number an even dozen.

The executive office has announced the birth Friday of the latest Romney grandchild, Timothy Robinson, son of the Romneys' daughter, Jane Robinson and Dr. Bruce M. Robinson of Ann Arbor.

The grandparents were notified of Timothy's birth on Saturday in Paris, the first stop on the governor's month-long tour of Europe, the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Groups Perform Seasonal Music Trip to Caribbean Follows Wedding of Grant J. Weises

Alan Hovaness' "Magnificat" will be the highlight of the annual Christmas concert to be presented by the 170-voice Oakland University Chorus Friday at the Sports-Recreation Building of Oakland University.

The public is invited to attend this free performance which will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The "Magnificat" was written for soloists, chorus and orchestra. The chorus group, assisted by the University Chorus Orchestra, will be directed by John Dorvaras, head of choral activities at the university.

Soloists are Marily Mercer, soprano; Chalvey Brown, alto; Philip Steen, tenor; Servind Netzer, bass. Chorus members are from Royal Oak, Detroit, Rochester, Oak Park, Drayton Plains, Farmington, Ann Arbor and Waterford.

The Rochester Community Orchestra will present its annual Christmas concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Rochester High School student lounge.

The program features the Treble Choir from Rochester High School under the direction of Frank Irish. The choir will sing "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," a Negro spiritual, and "Three Carols for Christmas," arranged by Grundman.

The orchestra will perform the Overture to "Music for the Royal Fireworks" by Handel; "Five Courtly Dances" from "Gloriana" by Britten; and "Wildcat Highlands" by Cy Coleman.

Richard Goldsworthy conducts the orchestra.

Girls' Ensemble Highlights Meeting

The Senior Girls' Ensemble of Pontiac Central High School provided Christmas music for the Monday evening meeting of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club. They were directed by Michael Dempsey.

The program in the First Federal Savings of Oakland was the first of 16 performances they are scheduled to give in the next two weeks.

Mrs. Robert Anderson read "A Christmas Present for a Lady" and "The Juggler."

Mrs. Lewis Cornell of Landsdowne

Street was elected to membership.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Roy Wright and Mrs. Clarence Pudney. Mrs. Fred Sytz was social chairman, assisted by Mesdames Vilas Newcomb, Murt Jennings, Warren Newton and John Meddaugh.

Others helping were Mesdames Russell Auten, Robert Stogdill, Norman Bartell, Allen Palmer and Charles Crawford.

Stores Get Copies of Lynda's Gown

NEW YORK (AP) — Brides-to-be can buy a copy of the wedding dress worn by Lynda Johnson Robb for $135.

The white satin imitation will go on sale Thursday at 200 Gimbel department stores throughout the country.

The name on the label will be Alfred Angelo, however, not Geoffrey Beene, who designed the original for President Johnson's daughter.

But the reproduced model will contain seven yards of satin and 46 covered buttons — just like the original.

For those with a bigger pocketbook, another $80 will buy a headress and 15 yards of nylon net to serve as a train.

Angelo's Philadelphia factory also rolled off copies of wedding dresses worn by Luci Johnson Nugent, Lynda's sister, and by Princess Margaret and Grace Kelly.

500 OUTLETS

He expects to have the unauthorized copy of Lynda's gown sold in 500 stores within a few weeks.

And he believes he will surpass the 2,000 copies for Mrs. Nugent's dress, which went for approximately the same price.

Lynda Bird Johnson's wedding dress made a big hit with Alfred Angelo, Inc. of New York and Philadelphia. And the firm hopes it will be a hit with other brides when it hits the "common market" Thursday. The Alfred Angelo version of the gown is modeled here by Pat Christine as a company executive. Len Strahl, looks on in New York Monday. The President's daughter's gown was designed by Geoffrey Beene.

Why Grow Old?
BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

After a long day of Christmas shopping do your feet rebel at the thought of an evening of festivities? If they do, you probably do also because tired feet will make you feel tired, too.

This is a gay but hectic time with intensive shopping, Christmas parties and preparation for family reunions. A few simple measures and precautions will

LOW HEELS

It should be leather with low to mid - heels. Leathers unmatched moldability assure the snapper of a shoe custom-formed to the foot's contours. In addition, because it is an animal covering, leather has pores which permit continuous intake of air and absorption of moisture.

To get the most shopping done with the least fatigue your shoes should also have leather soles. These provide support and protection against wet weather and pavement shock.

Avoid shoes that have large openings, front, back or sides. You'll find that they offer inadequate protection against dirty sidewalks, wintry breezes and aggressive fellow shoppers.

Above all, do not wear a broken-down pair of shoes you have had for years because you think they will be more comfortable. You can't beat itching burning feet by wearing beat-up footwear resurrected from the depths of the closet. They will give you no more support for a long day on your feet than a pair of sluffs.

It is certainly no problem in 1967 to find shoes which pamper your feet and also, please your fashion sense. You can make your choice from a chic collection of low or mid-heeled pumps, ties, booties, and boots in a variety of leathers. For extra comfort shoes now sport wider toe-lines in both round and squarish silhouettes.

Home Reception for Newlywed Miguel Valdezes

A reception at the Costa Mesa Street home of the James Van Scoyoc followed the wedding Saturday of their daughter, Bettie Irene, and Miguel Valdez Jr. The bridegroom is the son of the senior Valdezes of Saline Street.

For the ceremony in First Methodist Church, the bride chose a satin ensemble with a lace overlay. A satin bow highlighted the gown's fitted waist. To secure her elbow length veil she wore a beaded tiara. Cymbidium orchids made up the bridal bouquet.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendants for the vows were Mary Hieatt and Charles Taylor. Susan Wright and Sally Ann Well were bridesmaids with Leanne Van Scoyoc as flower girl.

David Valdez and David Chiappelli performed ushers' duties with David Bain acting as ring bearer.

Stops Sneaker Holes

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Denise, who always wears holes in the toes of her canvas shoes before the rest of the shoe wears out. I had this problem for years and finally asked the clerk from whom I was buying a new pair what caused this.

I was told that I had been buying the shoes too small. I bought the new ones one-half size larger than usual and there are no more holes in the toes. —MRS. L. E. DEAR GIRLS—Most canvas shoes shrink a bit when washed, so it is well to make an allowance for that, too. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I need help. I have been saving those pretty nylon bags that fruit and vegetable come in. They are strong and of different weights, so there must be some good use for them. How does one sew or fasten them together? I wonder if they could be used to make scrubbing balls and, if so, how would the balls be formed and then fastened? —E. E.

DEAR POLLY—The glass harp on my fireplace screen was ably black and, after trying everything, I found that baking soda, applied with nylon net by ice blue ruffles at the neck over a wet sponge and a little on the cuffs, elbow grease added, makes it really sparkle. —KATHLEEN

Gals 'Pant' for Concert

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Imagine going to a concert in culottes?

That's what 28 women plan to wear tonight for the Kansas City Philharmonic concert.

However, these 28 women are members of the orchestra and in these days of short skirts it has become difficult to try to bow a cello or pluck a harp gracefully and comfortably. The culottes appear as flowery black crepe gowns, accented with ice blue ruffles at the neck over a wet sponge and a little on the cuffs, elbow grease added, makes it really sparkle. —KATHLEEN

Save a second. Spoil a life.

Car theft is often the first offense that later turns a boy into a full-time criminal. A lot of the fault is yours. You make car theft so easy. (Last year 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked; nearly half also had ignition keys in them.) Quite a temptation. You realize how great this temptation is when you know that 64% of people arrested for car theft are under 18. When you carelessly walk away from your unlocked car, you may be avoiding a 10-second job, but starting someone on a 10-year sentence.

Don't help a good boy go bad.
Lock your car. Take your keys.

U. of D. Cagers Stop W. Virginia, 86-81

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
The better they come the tougher U. of Detroit's basketball team seems to get.

The Titans played their best game of the season last night to defeat the highly rated University of West Virginia Mountaineers in the Memorial Fieldhouse, 86-81, before 4,600 fans.

With former all-county star Bruce Rodwan of Ferndale leading the way with 17 points in the first half, the Titans pulled away 12-2 from the onset and except for three occasions in the second half when the Mountaineers went ahead by one point, U. of D. came back with 5:39 left for a four-point lead to stay.

It was 33-20 at one point in the first half and the teams went off the floor at halftime with Detroit leading, 47-38.

West Virginia then came back and narrowed it to 51-50 at 16:45 to play with Dave Reaser hitting the corner shots.

Former Warren High star Larry Salci and Ralph Brisker from Hamtramck picked up the scoring tempo for U. of D. in the second half after the Mountain boys took a 55-54 lead, their first in the game.

The Titans came back and made it 60-55 on a pair of jumpers by Brisker and one by Salci, but again West Virginia pushed to a 61-60 lead.

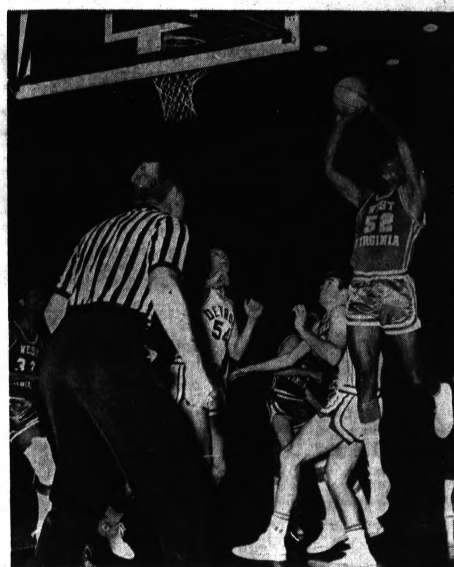

Salci hit to make it 62-61 and reserve Al McIntosh made it 64-61. It was tied at 66-66, 68-68, 72-72 and when Tom Richardson pushed in a rebound to make it 74-72, the Titans never lost the lead.

Leading 76-72, U. of D. then had three straight chances to expand the margin but a wild pass and two offensive fouls nixed the opportunities.

They did move ahead 83-74 with 1:39 to play but Richardson nailed many of his 20 rebounds in the late stages to give Detroit control.

Rodwan finished with 20 while Reaser had 29 for West Virginia.

Pontiac Catholic Wins No. 1

Bruins Troubled by Key Injuries

The recuperative powers of youth can be amazing.

And because of this, Pontiac Catholic has the first basketball victory in the new school's history.

Sam Brady, who wasn't supposed to play, was among a trio of Titans who led a 61-55 victory over Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes last night at Madison junior high.

Pontiac Catholic and OLL both have 1-2 records in Northwest Catholic League play. The Titans had lost three straight going into the contest. The Lakers are 2-2 overall.

Brady, a 6-2 sophomore, was expected to be out two weeks because of illness. He had suffered chest pains last week. But the pains cleared up and doctors gave him permission to play, according to Coach Walt Wynek.

Brady dropped in 13 points and led all rebounders with 10.

Herb Larson's drive-in layup opening the second half broke a 27-all deadlock and put the Titans ahead to stay. They led by as many as 10 points in the last half, but the Lakers kept rallying.

Dan Fahlgren of WOLL topped all scorers with 22 points. Larson and Butch Finnigan each scored 19 for Catholic.

The local prep schedule is light tonight.

However, Waterford Township and Kettering could be in for tough encounters.

Township travels to West Bloomfield where they could find plenty of trouble. Kettering entertains Clarkson in a game matching rebuilding programs.

Unbeaten West Bloomfield has an experienced team and is always tough at home. The Skippers will have to tighten their defense, which has appeared shaky in two victorious outings, if they are to win.

Jim Bunning NL Workhorse by Pitching in 302 Innings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jim Bunning is a glutton for work—and for a pitcher of 36, he sure seems to thrive on it.

He led the National League in 1967 with 302 innings on the mound—down from 314 in 1966—started 40 games, shut out the opposition in six of them and struck out 253 of the 1,216 batters he faced.

For sheer labor, his closest rival was Gaylord Perry of the San Francisco Giants. That 29-year-old right-hander worked 293 innings and fished 1,178 batters.

Perry ended up with a 15-17 record and an earned run average of 2.61, while Bunning, a former Detroit Tiger, was 17-15 and had an ERA of 2.29—second only to Phil Niekro of Atlanta on the league's list of top 15 pitchers.

Niekro, 11-9, had an ERA of 1.87 and became the first reliever-starter to win the title since the Giants' Stu Miller did it in 1938. Niekro made his first start

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bruins are suddenly hurting, with Bobby Orr and Ted Green on the sidelines, but General Manager Milt Schmidt says his surprise team of the 1967-68 National Hockey League season isn't about to collapse.

"Certainly we're going to miss them — let's not kid ourselves," Schmidt said Monday after medical reports revealed Orr would be out about three weeks with a broken left collarbone and Green a few days with a severe right knee bruise.

"There's only one Bobby Orr," Schmidt said of the sensational 19-year-old defenseman who was Rookie of the Year and a second team All-Star selection last season.

"It's really rough now with Green out too — especially offensively," he added. "They're two of the best defenses at getting the puck out of their own zone."

But the general manager said he "likes to think positively" and believes the Bruins, currently leading the NHL's East Division after years as door-mats, can stay in the race until the two return.

"The reasons we're in first place now are a combination of ability, spirit, morale and will to win," Schmidt said. "I think this team will just pull up its bootstraps and work harder to take up the slack."

Both men were hurt during Saturday night's 3-3 tie at Toronto. Orr's injury came when he was checked hard by Frank Mahovlich while carrying the puck. Green was hurt while diving to block a shot by Mahovlich.

Phils Get Mound Coach

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Al Widmar, who pitched for three major league teams in a career that spanned 25 years, is the pitching coach for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Widmar, 42, a Tulsa, Okla., native, pitched for the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox.

ONE NO-HITTER
Don Wilson of Houston pitched the only no-hitter of the National League season. Aside from that triumph on June 18 against Atlanta, there was nothing very distinguished about his 10-9 record. His ERA of 2.79 barely qualified him for the list of the top 15 with at least 162 innings on the mound.

That minimum work rule kept the pitcher with the best winning average from the list. Nelson Briles, St. Louis, whose 14-5 record averaged out to .733 victories, had an ERA of 2.44 but worked only 155 innings.

Three IHL Players Ailing or Injured

PORT HURON (AP)—Three members of the International Hockey League All-Star Team have been sidelined by injuries and illness and will not see action in the game against the Dayton Gems Tuesday.

Merv Dubchak of Fort Wayne has a broken ankle and will be replaced by Moe Bartoli of Columbus. Stan Maxwell of Toledo has a knee injury and his spot goes to Lyle Bradley of Des Moines. Muskegon's Carl Brewer, out with the flu, will be replaced by Lionel Repka of Fort Wayne.

More Grid Coaches Exiting

By the Associated Press

It's that time of year again: the return of basketball and the departure of college football coaches.

The latest to leave are Hal Lahar of Colgate and Bowling Green's Bob Gipson, who resigned with the most original reason within memory.

"My reason for resigning is unbelievably simple," he said. "I no longer want the job."

Gipson made it a pretty good job in his three years at the helm of the Falcons. He had a 19-9 record after being an assistant for nine years.

Gipson, 49, who plans to remain as an assistant professor of health and physical education, is the third Mid-American Conference coach to leave in the last two months.

Charlie Snyder of Marshall was fired near the end of the season and Lee Strang of Kent State resigned.

Lahar, 47, resigned to devote full time to his job as athletic director. Neil Wheelwright, 35, his chief assistant, replaced him.

Lahar had a 54-40-8 record in his tenure since 1953, not including a brief stay at Houston. His team nosedived to 2-8 this season after an 8-1 mark in 1966.

Wheelwright came to Colgate in 1962 from Hofstra, where he was an assistant. Earlier casualties of this seasonal epidemic included Bill Weeks of New Mexico, Clay Stapleton of Iowa State, Mike Giddings of Utah, Jim Miller of Boston College, Buff Donnell of Columbia, Wilburn Tucker of Tennessee Tech., Lt. Cmdr. Frank S. Kapral of the Coast Guard Academy and Les McKillip of Idaho State.

The late Charles Lockett of St. Louis was a rubber bridge player first and a duplicate bridge player second. His grandson, Roger L. Lockett, played with Norbert Kremer in the national rubber bridge tournament at the Sands.

They reached JACOBY the semifinals when Roger jockeyed the opponents into a four-spade contract and Norbert made the killing lead.

It was the last hand of the match. Roger was vulnerable, his opponents not; but his opponents held a 750-point lead on the score. If Roger could make a game he would collect a 700-point rubber bonus.

This bonus plus his point score would give him the match. Otherwise, he needed to pick up a 50-point penalty. This would also win the match because he would get a 300-point bonus for his leg on the rubber.

He didn't think he had much chance when he picked up a king and two jacks, and he passed. South chirped a spade and Norbert overcalled with two hearts. North raised to two spades and Roger jumped right to four hearts.

South looked hard at Roger and Norbert. South didn't really think that Norbert would be able to make four hearts, but after some more thought South decided that he would surely be able to take eight or more tricks at spades and that since he could afford a two-trick set he had better bid four spades and insure the match.

Roger doubled and Norbert made the brilliant opening lead of the deuce of diamonds. South went right up with dummy's ace. He didn't want to take a chance of losing the first trick.

Then he made the mistake of taking the spade finesse. West

Driver Robbed by Armed Pair

City Man Threatened With Bayonet, Knife

A Pontiac man was robbed by two persons who threatened him with a bayonet and a knife outside a city bar, it was reported early today.

Fred Hall, 34, of 935 Stanley said he parked in the lot adjacent to the Trojan Bar, 72 Auburn, about 12:30 a.m., then returned to his car when he found the tavern was closed.

He told police a man who had apparently hidden in the back seat put a bayonet to his throat when he started the vehicle, and a woman wielding a knife then jumped into the front seat.

The pair then forced him to drive down numerous side streets, Hall said, then took his wallet, containing some $100, after he attempted to escape after parking in the Ferry area.

Officers said Hall suffered minor lacerations of the hands when he struggled with his assailants while trying to break free.

Waterford Man Just Slightly Hurt as Truck Splits

An extremely lucky Waterford Township man escaped serious injury in a traffic accident on Highway Road near Bender in the township shortly before 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

Carroll Fahlgren, 46, of 2278 Pauline was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released. He escaped serious injury though his small pickup truck split into two pieces after striking a sign post and a tree.

Fahlgren told township police he lost control of his truck when another vehicle pulled out in front of him from Bender. The motorist said he attempted to stop, but that his truck slid out of control.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TELEPHONES

QUESTION: How does a telephone work?

ANSWER: When Mary (1) speaks into the telephone to her friend Marcia, her voice makes sound waves in the air. In the telephone transmitter, there is a kind of drum, the diaphragm (2).

The sound waves make this vibrate. The vibration being carried through grains of carbon through which an electric current is also passing. Different pressures on the carbon grains cause electric impulses of different strength.

To put it simply, the sound vibrations of Mary's voice have changed into electric signals. These travel over the telephone wire from Mary to Marcia's house (3, 4).

There is a magnet in the receiver Marcia is holding at her ear (5), connected with another diaphragm. Through the action of the magnet, the electric signals cause this second diaphragm to vibrate. This causes sound waves which go into Marcia's ear and allow her to hear Mary's voice (6).

Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876 after experimenting with sounds made by metal reeds. It was one of the most important inventions in history.

Sewer Project Pact Awarded

A contract of $144,466 for construction of a special assessment district sanitary sewer project was awarded to D'Angela Construction Co. of Warren last night by the Waterford Township Board.

The Warren firm was the lowest of seven bidders for the Voorheis-Elizabeth Lake Road-Marion - Chadwick - Corlain sewer project which consists of construction of 1 1/4 miles of eight-inch lateral sewers on parts of the five streets.

Total project cost was set at $179,067 by township consulting engineers Johnson and Anderson, Inc.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson will set up a special assessment roll and then the board will establish a public hearing date for residents of the more than 100 would-be benefiting households.

Meanwhile, approval will be sought from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to sell the $179,067 worth of bonds.

Target date for completion of the project is late next summer.

His 'Used Clothes' Column Warms Appalachia Kiddies

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—It made a mistake a couple of months ago and wrote a wonderful column.

Sitting in the Eileen Ford model agency, waiting for Mrs. Ford to parade out her beautiful 100-an-hour darlings, I happened to spy some large paper bags. They didn't contain models' wigs, bras, panties, or such finery—but used clothing that Mrs. Ford had gathered for children who can't go to school in the Appalachian Mountain area simply because they have nothing to wear.

Readers from 30 states wrote in and asked how to collect and send clothes after I described the children's condition.

A man came in from the World Clothing Fund in St. Louis, sat across from my desk, and said, "That was wonderful, but we need still more..."

"Through that appeal," he continued, "we have received about 20,000 tons of clothes already."

"But in the hill country, we need so much more. The children start to school barefoot."

"When the first cold snap comes, they quit going to school—they have no shoes. Their father, maybe a coal miner, or a logger or fence-post cutter, hasn't a job."

"You can't go barefoot in the snow."

Eileen Ford arose and to churches of New York persuading groups to collect clothes. The Ladies Aid societies, B'nai B'rith, Boy Scouts, service clubs, school organizations, teachers, and building superintendents, have helped tremendously.

World Clothing picks up the collection if it is at least 100 pounds, which is only about five bagsful.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Mia Farrow Sinatra slipped quietly into town to finish filming "Rosemary's Baby" . . . Frank Sinatra told friends he doesn't want a party for his 52nd birthday Dec. 12—he's "not in the mood for it," instead he'll be recording with Duke Ellington.

Roger Smith, in town with his wife Ann-Margret, is wearing dark glasses; he got two black eyes, and stitches in his scalp, in a St. Moritz ski spill. (Ann-Margret was one of the miniskirters seen hereabouts.)

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "When put to the test, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."—Elbert Hubbard.

EARL'S PEARLS: Someone described an annoying person: "I couldn't warm up to him in a steam room."

Bill Shelley crossed a maraschino cherry with a Mexican jumping bean—and came up with something for people who are too lazy to stir their Manhattans.—That's earl, brother.

Money Tree Seized by Secret Service

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—wearing glasses, inscribed with After 23 Christmas seasons in a words, "this certificate is local finance company's win-not worth a cent," and signed down, a "money tree" was seized by "Oscar Zilech and Harry T. Monday by the Secret Service Zilech, stenographer."

Because it held "reproductions" of the Secret Service office of legal tender. Dallas explained that it is

The play money on the tree, charged with preventing counterfeit and that the "money" lar bill, was imprinted with a reproduction of legal skinny George Washington tender.

Singer Is Still Critical but Improving

GLENDAL, Calif. (UPI) — Singer Jimmie Rodgers may be taken off the critical list by the end of the week if his condition continues to improve, according to his personal physician.

Dr. William Donham said Rodgers was "resting comfortably."

He was admitted to the hospital Dec. 1 after he was found unconscious in his car suffering from a skull fracture, the two operations last week were to halt cerebral hemorrhaging and to relieve pressure from swelling of the brain.

Viet Cargo Burns in Seattle Ship Fire

SEATTLE (AP) — A fire broke out in the freighter Lone Star State while the ship was taking on military cargo for Vietnam at the Seattle Naval Ship Depot Monday night, shrouding huge clouds of smoke over parts of the city.

More than a dozen Seattle fire department units and two fireboats fought the blaze in No. 5 hold for more than an hour before it was brought under control.

The captain of the 492-foot

State's Marine Lines Ship, M. C. Carpenter of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said he did not know what cargo was burned. "It is an Army cargo and we never know what is inside the boxes," he said.

During Unescorted Viet Visit

Percy Unhurt in Red Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, his wife and seven other Americans escaped injury today when Communist gunners opened up with mortars and small arms during a spur-of-the-moment, unescorted visit the Illinois Republican made to the devastated village of Dakson.

Some of the five mortar rounds crashed within 15 to 20 feet of the 48-year-old senator, who is a potential Republican presidential candidate, and four men inspecting the village with him, but no one was hit. The group took cover, and Percy got some small scratches on his arms as he crawled behind some wood huts.

Mrs. Percy had remained in the group's helicopter 75 yards away with the pilot and two crewmen. They flew her to a nearby town and returned with an escort of armed Army choppers to rescue the senator and his companions.

"This is closer to action than I got in three years of World War II," Percy, a U.S. Navy veteran, told a news conference after he returned to Saigon.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command announced that 471 Vietcong and North Vietnamese regulars — the equivalent of a battle-ready battalion — were killed in a six-day battle that ended yesterday along the narrow coastal plains near the pivotal town of Bong Son.

ALLIED CASUALTIES

Allied casualties were 33 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese soldiers killed, and 147 Americans and 71 South Vietnamese wounded.

The battle erupted when two companies of the helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division began a sweep of the scrub land along the coast about 300 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Just to the north a battalion from the South Vietnamese 4th Infantry Regiment was pushing south.

Both allied groups ran into fortifications manned by the seasoned 22nd Regiment of the North Vietnamese 3rd Division.

Area Schools Feel the Flu Bug's Bite

By ED BLUNDEN

The flu bug has landed here. Health authorities don't yet consider it serious, but Oakland County has been hit by a wave of the nausea, fever and dizziness that lasts one to three days.

The county flu outbreak has doubled the usual number of absences at schools — mostly confined to secondary schools.

A check of area schools yesterday showed Waterford Kettering High School with 240 students absent out of an enrollment of 1,500. An average number of absences for this time of year would be 80, school officials said. Between 20 and 30 others were sent home sick during the day.

Clarkston Junior High also reported several students sent home. Incidence there was high, with 134 out of about 900 absent.

ABSENCES IN BIRMINGHAM

The Birmingham School District reported a rate double normal absenteeism, mostly attributed to the flu, and in the higher grades. At one junior high one out of five students was absent.

At Pontiac Central, absenteeism was quoted as "high" — 320 out of 2,300. However, the worst may be over at that school, because authorities said 75 students were too sick to remain in school Wednesday and had to be sent home.

A check of elementary schools showed absences about normal. Some school authorities feel the younger children went through a flu cycle over the last two weeks and that it is perhaps infecting the older children now.

A check of local manufacturing plants showed absenteeism about normal. However, the plants report sickness from flu last week was high. This, in some authorities' opinion, indicated the present outbreak is mostly confined to teenagers.

WEATHER HELPS FLU

The county's flu sickness has been complicated by a prolonged spell of weather favorable to its spread.

The weather has remained extremely damp and foggy the last six days and the temperature has remained between 30 and 40 degrees — good incubation temperature for flu germs, according to health authorities.

What is needed is a period of sub-freezing temperatures to kill some of the germs and deter the spread, doctors claim.

Rocky Declines Push to Unite on a Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a move now by Republican governors to line up behind a single contender for the GOP presidential nomination could rupture their unity.

He said the governors are "doing the only good thing they could do" to preserve unity by concentrating on potential campaign issues rather than getting involved in endorsing someone for the nomination.

Rockefeller yesterday sharply disputed the assertion of Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., that the 26 GOP governors made a mistake and sacrificed their influence on the presidential nomination by failing to agree on a candidate during their meeting last week in Palm Beach, Fla.

"You mean like the Republicans in Congress?" the New York governor said. "Have the Republicans in Congress taken a position on a candidate?"

'MOST EFFECTIVE'

He said it's for the 1968 candidate who could be most effective in helping to win congressional seats.

Although the governors appear undecided on backing a single candidate, the public's favorite by a decisive margin, the Harris poll reported, is Richard M. Nixon.

The newest survey by Louis Harris, copyrighted by the Washington Post, shows Nixon leading Rockefeller 52 to 33 per cent; Romney, 63 to 24 per cent; and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, 65 to 22 per cent.

But the poll also showed Nixon has slipped behind President Johnson in popularity. In early November Nixon led Johnson 48 to 41 per cent. Now it's Johnson by 47 to 44 per cent.

GETTING IN A HOLIDAY MOOD — A tiny frosted Christmas tree, received by a member of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, sits in the foreground atop a sandbagged bunker at Bu Dop as troops prepare defenses in the background. The tree was delivered in the mail to the unit in the field and was set out as a bunker decoration. Bu Dop has been under heavy enemy mortar and rocket fire, and the GIs are constantly on alert. The rubber plantation in the far background is an assembly area for Vietcong and North Vietnamese units harassing the U.S. soldiers.

State Housing Fight to Senate

LANSING (AP) — The fight over a proposed open occupancy law shifted to the Senate today as the Legislature returned to Lansing after a 25-day recess.

Meeting Monday with acting Gov. William Milliken, majority Republican legislative leaders agreed the House would continue to work on its complex court reorganization bill while the Senate would take up open housing.

Currently, the GOP leaders noted, both bills are before the House and if they stayed there the Senate would have little to do during the first of two weeks remaining before the Christmas holidays.

A special resolution will have to be approved by both houses before a housing bill can be introduced in the Senate, but GOP and Democratic leaders both said they would not object to the move.

Meantime, a busload of Oakland County residents left Birmingham this morning for Lansing. The banner they bore read "We're Vocal for Open Housing." Their aim was to talk to senators and representatives from this area and convince them of the necessity for passing the housing bill.

FROM AREA GROUPS

The group were representatives from VOCAL (Voice of Oakland County Action League), from POOBY (Pontiac Organization of Black Youth), and from a number of churches in Pontiac, Bloomfield, Birmingham and Royal Oak.

After the closed-door meeting, Milliken said he thought both bills could be passed by both houses this year. "We expect to win after a tough fight," he said.

Milliken is leading the battle for the open housing bill which would forbid racial discrimination in most real estate transactions — in the absence of Gov. George Romney, who is in Europe.

Only nine weekdays remain until the Christmas weekend, and some observers were skeptical that both controversial bills could be disposed of in that time. But Milliken and House Speaker Robert Waldron said Monday they thought it could be done.

COURT BILL WORK

Work on the big court bill, which abolishes municipal and justice courts and sets up a new statewide judicial system to handle misdemeanor cases, has continued in the House almost since the special legislative session began Oct. 10.

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, had hoped the House would pass it Nov. 16, the day before the three-week recess began, but absenteeism in the chamber that day forced postponement of the vote.

He said Monday he thought the House could dispose of the measure one way or the other in two or three days.

Realtor Raps Two Articles on Open Housing Issue

Bruce J. Annett, president of the Pontiac Real Estate Board, has taken exception to two articles on open housing which The Pontiac Press ran last week.

"After reading the articles and the so-called answers to the questions, which the Press claims are the main concern of the public, I can understand why many people are confused."

"Most of the reported questions in the articles are not pertinent to the issue and do not in my opinion represent the concern of the public over the passage of legislation to force open occupancy."

"The answers given in the articles were furnished by a well-organized, small group of people whose sole objective was to force upon the people of Michigan a so-called Fair Housing Law. Both articles were completely biased and, in my opinion, did not fairly present the main issue involved."

"The main issue concerning the passage of any legislation concerning open occupancy is first and foremost: Should an owner of private property be denied the freedom of choice in the disposition or rental of his private property?"

"Secondly: If such legislation is deemed necessary, should it deny this freedom of choice of disposition or rental to all people and groups or should some people be exempt from the provision of the legislation? Also should legislation only cover certain communities in our state, or the entire state, or should it cover the United States?"

GRANTED POWER

"Third: If such legislation is deemed necessary should an appointed commission, not responsible to the electorate or to the Legislature or to the courts, be granted the power to be the complainant, prosecutor, judge and administrative agency?"

"In my opinion, the three questions above are the primary concern of the public regarding the passage of House Bill 2035, which is now before our State Legislature."

Bargaining Deadline Draws Near in UAW-GM Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers union are trying to beat a bargaining deadline just two days away, but UAW President Walter P. Reuther has promised there will be no national strike until after the first of the year.

Local strikes authorized by the union to prevent the giant of the auto industry from building up a stock of cars idled some 2,500 workers yesterday, a GM spokesman said.

It was expected both facilities affected by the local walkout — a Chevrolet plant and a Fisher Body plant in Willow Run — would be in operation today, the spokesman added.

The 2,500 workers idled by yesterday's strikes were far fewer than the nearly 20,000 idled at GM plants around the nation on Friday.

A GM spokesman said after a day of subcommittee and main table bargaining yesterday that today's meetings — starting at 9 a.m. — would follow the same pattern, with subcommittee meetings in the morning and head-to-head negotiating featuring Reuther and Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, later in the day.

DEADLINE WILL BE SET

If no contract is agreed upon by Thursday midnight, Reuther has said, a strike deadline will be set at that time, allowing 380,000 workers to reap holiday pay for the Christmas and New Year season.

There has been no break in a news blackout imposed by both sides in the talks.

One major issue believed still in the path of agreement on a new contract is that of working conditions at GM plants across the nation.

Another is that of work required of union committeemen before turning to their union duties.

Committeemen at Ford and Chrysler are not required to work any specific length of time before taking up UAW business. GM requires them to work at least an hour on the job before-hand.

Romeo Vote Jan. 29

Voters of the Romeo School District will again be asked to approve a 3-mill renewal and 5-mill new operating levy on Jan. 29. The same issue in November last by seven votes.

SILENT NIGHT — The voices of the Pontiac Northern High School choir, under the direction of Judy Davis and John Tousey, launched the Pontiac State Bank's 23rd Annual Christmas Program yesterday. Ten area singing groups will take part in the daily noon concert series. All groups will perform from the main staircase in the Main Office lobby of the Pontiac State Bank Building at Saginaw and Lawrence.

Rain Will Change to Flurries Tonight

Snow flurries are on the way. The weatherman forecasts a cloudy, windy and colder tonight with showers changing to snow flurries and a low of 28 to 34.

Cloudy and colder is tomorrow's prediction; and cloudy, continued cold with a chance of snow is Thursday's outlook.

Temperatures through Saturday are expected to average 3 to 5 degrees below the normal high of 32 to 37 and normal low of 18 to 23.

Precipitation for the period will total one-third to one-half of an inch in rain or snow about midweek. Forty-one was the low thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury had moved up to 43 by 12:30 p.m.

LBj Praises U. S. Progress at Junior College Dedication

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today, in dedicating a new junior college, that "the time has come for these Americans who believe in progress to convince the doubters."

Johnson said the quest for educational excellence, abolition of poverty, better health, economic stability and world peace will succeed "if we stay on the course."

His remarks were prepared for ceremonies at Central Texas College.

The President, who flew to Killeen from his ranch near Johnson City, was headed back for Washington after the dedication. AFL-CIO officials hoped he would stop off at their convention in Miami Beach, Fla., on the way. There was no official word on the plan.

UNION SUPPORT

The AFL-CIO gave cheering support Monday to Johnson's Vietnam policies.

At the dedication, the President noted the expansion of educational facilities and opportunities. "Yet still," he said, "there are those who oppose this kind of growth. . . . There are some who tell us that it is too expensive; that it is too dangerous; that the effort cannot succeed."

Johnson argued that progress in America can never be too expensive. He said: "It is sickness and ignorance and discrimination and crime which cost too much. . . . It is not action but inaction that costs too much."

The President said colleges like Central Texas are being established at the rate of one a week.

BRIGHT STATISTICS

"In the past six years," he said, "the number of young people going to college from poor homes has risen by more than 12 per cent."

"In those years, the number of high school dropouts has dropped—from 25 per cent to only 18 per cent of young people between 16 and 24 years old."

Carmichael's Passport Lifted

Penalties Sought for Unauthorized Travel

NEW YORK (AP) — Black Power militant Stokely Carmichael was back in the United States today, his passport in the hands of federal officials and his presence stirring Congress to consider penalties for U.S. citizens who travel to forbidden nations.

Carmichael, whose five-month trip included calls in Communist Cuba and North Vietnam, flew into Kennedy airport Monday and was met by a cheering group of his admirers and by U.S. marshals.

U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey of Brooklyn said Carmichael's passport—issued with the proviso that he not go to either Cuba or North Vietnam—was seized by a marshal executing a federal search warrant.

Shortly before Carmichael arrived, the State Department in Washington asked Congress to authorize penalties of up to one year in prison and $10,000 in fines for unauthorized travel by U.S. citizens to forbidden countries.

'INADEQUATE ACTION'

Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach termed lifting of a passport to prevent repeated violations of travel restrictions "inadequate to secure the foreign policy interests which are at stake."

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said, "The Carmichael case points up the need to invoke criminal penalties for forbidden visits."

"Carmichael has made statements which have given great aid and comfort to our enemies in Vietnam, Cuba and elsewhere. Those statements weigh heavily on the border on treason," he said.

"It would be most anomalous if a great country like the United States did not protect itself against flagrant violators of passport laws by desperate men like Carmichael," Celler said.

LIVER RECIPIENT DIES — Paula Kay Hansen, 26-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hansen of Fort Worth, Tex., died yesterday at Denver's University of Colorado Medical Center, 3 1/2 months after receiving a new liver in a transplant operation. Paula Kay's death was the second in three days of a liver transplant patient, leaving only three known survivors of such operations. All are reported recovering. The cause of death was dead intestines tissue.

Pentagon to Study Aid to Poverty-Scarred Youth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The close attention and instruction Pentagon plans long-range studies to evaluate social effects of its new project to salvage 100,000 poverty-stricken youth each year for military service.

Since Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced Project 100,000 last year, the services have accepted 49,000 men who would otherwise be rejected for mental or physical reasons.

This year the goal is to reach the full 100,000 annual rate. The services have just received their quotas: Army 70,400, Navy 11,000, and the Air Force and Marines 9,300 each.

These "new standards" men, as they are called, are getting to help them get through basic training and, in the process, acquire a job skill intended to make them productive later in society.

A small percentage is receiving minor surgery or other medical treatment to correct health problems which otherwise would have made them unfit for military duty.

Dem Group OKs Antiwar Resolution

A watered-down version of a resolution opposing the Vietnam war and warning President Johnson of the consequences was adopted last night by the Birmingham - Bloomfield Democratic Club.

Approved by a 15-7 vote, the resolution read in part: "That the war now being waged by the U.S. against a portion of the people of South Vietnam and against the state of North Vietnam is contrary to the platform of the Democratic Party meeting in convention in August, 1964 and to the campaign pledges of the Presidential nominee of that convention."

The resolution concludes "that the prosecution of the war under presidential power will make it impossible for many active members of the Democratic Party to support the renomination of the incumbent."

The original resolution had termed the war "immoral and under international law illegal," and "caused revulsion among a large and increasing portion of our citizens."

The action taken by the organization supports the position taken by State Party Chairman Zoltan Ferenczy before he resigned recently under pressure.

Jefferson Integration Proposals Due

A report on proposals to relieve de facto segregation at Pontiac's Jefferson Junior High School will be made at tomorrow's board of education meeting.

The central school administration has prepared proposals for integration as the result of one proposal advanced by the board's human relations committee last spring.

Pontiac School District Citizens' Committee on Human Relations had suggested that attendance boundary lines be changed so that students from all-white Whitfield and Irving Elementary Schools would go to 98 per cent-Negro Jefferson Junior High.

Students from Whitfield and Irving presently go to 80 per cent-white Washington Junior High School.

Rezoning Bid Tabled Again

Waterford to Await Attorneys' Opinions

A rezoning request for apartments and a shopping complex on 32 acres of property on Eagle Highway at Midland near Eagle Lake was tabled a second time by the Waterford Township Board last night.

With several opponents of the proposed development in the audience, the board voted to table the request until township attorneys render an opinion on "unanswered legal questions."

Again, as at the Nov. 27 meeting, residents gave several arguments against the proposed request to rezone the property from single-family residential to multiple dwelling and general business.

However, it was a repeat performance; the arguments were much the same and action was tabled.

At the Nov. 27 meeting, the board tabled action to give developers Donald White and Allen Johnson time to resolve a problem.

ADJACENT SITES

White is behind the proposed 32-acre undertaking, while Johnson seeks to build homes on adjacent property.

Johnson's property reportedly will be landlocked if he is unable to acquire an easement or road access through White's property.

The problem still exists.

A woman, speaking in protest of the apartments and shopping complex, asked board members, "Are you people going to ignore petitions with 230 signatures? Remember, you are going to come up for reelection."

INTERESTS OF MAJORITY

Trustee E. Frank Richardson, who offered several comments on the case, said, "It is our duty to act in the best interests of the 60,000 people in the township" as opposed to the interests of smaller groups.

"And I'll take my chances in the election of that basis," he asserted.

In reply to a remark by one of the residents that some of the officials may be trying to short-range intercept of the project, Richardson said that no one is really pushing the project "because in has been in the hopper almost eight months."

Birmingham Area News

Commission to Examine COG

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night scheduled an in-depth discussion on the Council of Governments for Dec. 26.

The city has not yet joined the voluntary organization, designed as a cooperative program to coordinate mutual problems of communities in six counties.

A letter from James H. Walker, Jr. opposing the city's participation in the council sparked a brief discussion on the controversial subject last night.

Walker, of 1555 Villa, wrote, "I earnestly urge that you refrain from joining the city of Birmingham to the Council of Governments until at least its purpose and scope are defined by the Legislature."

"Your position in October was to wait and see; nothing has since occurred to reduce the aimlessness and blue-sky complexion of this proposition," said Walker. "Participation now would divert the talent and waste the money of this city."

REPORT EXPECTED

At the meeting later this month, Commissioner Robert Page, a member of the Committee of One Hundred, the forerunner of the Council of Governments, will present a report on the organization.

Page said that if the city decides to join, it could have a representative at the next meeting of the Council Jan. 13.

A second one-year contract with the Ann Arbor consulting firm of Johnson, Johnson and Roy Inc., for urban design services was approved by the commission last night.

Under the agreement, the firm reviews all projects, correlating them to give the city an over-all "Birmingham look."

The service for the coming years will cost between $8,000 and $10,000.

A proposal for an updated master traffic plan was accepted by the commission for consideration at its budget hearings next year.

Board Opens 5 Gas Bids for Township Fleet

Bids submitted by five firms to provide gasoline over the next two years for Waterford Township's fleet of vehicles were opened last night by the Township Board.

The apparent low bid for regular grade gasoline of 13.44 cents per gallon was turned in by the Ashland Oil and Refining Co. With a quotation of 15.39 cents per gallon, Little's, Inc., was the apparent low bidder for the premium grade gasoline.

The bids, which were referred to Clerk Arthur J. Salley for review and a report back to the board at next Monday's meeting, ranged to a high of 16.5 cents per gallon for regular grade gasoline to 20 cents for premium.

The board authorized Salley to advertise for bids for eight new township vehicles. The bids are to be opened at the board's Dec. 27 meeting which was delayed two days because of Christmas.

TOWNSHIP VEHICLES

Also approved were revised specifications for the six police cars, fire department station wagon and pickup truck for the water and sewer department.

Five police cars and a station wagon will be traded in toward purchase of the vehicles, according to township officials.

In other business last night, the board allocated $10,000 to the construction fund for the pedestrian overpass to be built across Pontiac Lake Road near Leggett School.

Total project cost, to be

News of Waterford

shared equally by the township and school district, is $17,350.

MINOR COSTS

The township's share, consequently is $8,675, however minor additional expenses may be forthcoming.

Introduced by the board last night was a proposed ordinance specifying collection fees for each stage of preparing a land plat.

A public hearing on the matter will be conducted at next Monday's meeting.

The board voted to inform the Oakland County Road Commission that it had no objections to vacating Farmridge Street from Cottage to the Cass Lake front, despite the protests of a few residents who were concerned with access to the lake.

ROAD HEARING

The Road Commission will hold a public hearing on the issue.

The board had tabled action on the matter for the township fire department to determine whether it would affect fire protection in area, known as Cass Lake Highlands subdivision. Fire Chief Lewis Goff said it wouldn't.

Also last night, the board approved the transfer of a Class C and SDM-licensed business from Pontiac Lake Inn, Inc., 7890 M59, to Terry Fiscus and Walter Murrick.

Action is scheduled to be taken at next Monday night's board meeting on five rezoning requests which were introduced last night.

PROPERTY LISTED

They are requests to rezone property on:

• Pontiac Lake Road near Oceana from general business (C2) to extensive business (C3) for a candy processing plant.

Santa's Magic Everywhere

AT WAITE'S — What's tickling David Douras? Santa's beard, perhaps? But David and Santa look as though they have reached an agreement: You leave salt for my reindeer, and I'll fill your stocking to the brim. Christmas will be merry at David's house at 1291 Featherstone.

There's something about a Santa Claus . . .

Snatches of carols, the pleasure of childhood, the stuffed stockings of yesterday, the anticipation of new ice skates.

Rolled up into his red suit, black boots and white flowing beard is the power to reach right through the frayed nerve ends of a frantic shopper and touch the heart.

A kindly old gentleman, Santa's magnetism for children is never doubted. Their awe—their joy—their expectancy shine from wondering eyes.

One of the biggest attractions during the holiday season is a visit to Santa Claus, and there are plenty of possibilities in Pontiac.

Pontiac Press Photos
By
Ed Vanderworp

AT FEDERAL'S — "Hey, Santa," says 10-month-old Michael Holcomb, "Why is my brother Eddie crying?" Though Eddie is a bit overawed by Santa, he's sure to feel better Christmas morning when he finds that Santa visited his house at 216 Clinton, Milford, and filled his stocking.

At Tel-Huron

Santa reads excitement in 3-year-old Mark Reeling's eyes and promises to bring good things to his home at 1443 Dundee, Waterford Township. Mark is trying to find out just what time Santa will arrive so he can watch him come down the chimney.

At Sears

Debbie Crow shows younger sister Cheryl how to sit on Santa's lap. Brother Ricky, already familiar with the routine, mulls over his list of requests. Have the Crow children behaved well this year? They'll know Christmas morning when they check their stockings at 234 Liberty.

Elf Moves and Talks---but Is She Real?

A tiny elf seated in a magic ball is attracting inquisitive boys and girls — and Moms and Dads, too — to the small house at Coleman's Furniture Mart, 563 N. Perry.

Even though she's too small to be a real person, she can move about, see you, and even talk to you. Her name is Twinkles.

What do kids say to this?
"She's a puppet!"

"I know! She's a big mirror!"
"She's too small to be 417 years old!"
"I know! She's run by a battery!"

Is Twinkles real? Visit her and see. Soon she'll be off traveling in her magic ball — and then you won't be able to distinguish her from the other stars in the sky.

Look In The Window Of The Small House

... And Behold a Six-Inch Elf

Appointments Should Not Be Ignored

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please print this? Some time ago I had an ad in a paper — something for sale. Several women called up for a description, and promised to come to see it when their husbands came home with the car.

Some of them called and said they might be late in coming. I sat up until 11 o'clock — none showed up. I wonder how they would like such treatment? I don't know women keep their promises? — Sally

Dear Sally: Yes, I'll print your very reliable complaint. It's the height of silliness to tell someone you will see them at a certain time and then not show up. Whether it's a business deal or a social date, the lack of consideration is the same.

When you make a date, keep it, and if it's impossible, notify the other person at once.

"Etiquette Tips for Teen-agers" by Elizabeth L. Post is available to readers of this paper. This booklet will answer questions for teen-agers and their parents. To get a copy, send 25 cents in cash to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Tempting the palates of members of Waterford Child Study Club I for their annual Christmas cookie exchange is this attractive display of home-baked goodies. The event was held Monday evening in the YWCA. Mrs. Robert J. Lawyer of Indian View Drive lights the candles of the centerpiece while Mrs. Robert Holan of Wormer Drive looks on. Exchange student Bram Over, from the Netherlands, explained Christmas customs in his country. He is a guest of the Herman Trost family, of Troy.

Because her appearance is a necessary factor in her role as a professional model, it seemed natural for Mrs. Robert Murphy to launch a second career in the field of woman's makeup. The gel from this tiny aloe plant is the key ingredient of all the products represented by Mrs. Murphy.

Top Model Proves Domestic Too

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

One who adheres to the "feminine mystique" is the woman who looks for a self identity beyond the realm of her home life.

Mrs. Robert Murphy of Orchard Lake not only fits that description, she challenges it.

Stretching each day to its maximum, she finds time for family, home and two going careers, one as a fashion model, the other as distributor for a new cosmetic firm.

The day we met Joan Murphy was a typically busy one for her, filled with miles of mad dashing here and there. But the tall, slim redhead with big green eyes, who was wearing a bright orange car coat, appeared not the least bit worn out by her schedule.

Her looks explained why she chose modeling for her initial profession.

EYES FASHION TOO

Not to be outdone by Mom's cheerful appearance was two-year-old Adam, who was sporting a flashy red neck scarf.

Adam is the youngest of Mrs. Murphy's brood of four. The others, Todd, Robert and April range in age from seven to 15.

But back to Joan Murphy, the woman with the multiple careers. Known professionally as Joan Mumford, she had her first taste of modeling as a member of J. L. Hudson's teen panel in Detroit.

By the 10th grade she was modeling for Saks Fifth Avenue.

Fulfilling the dreams of a young girl, Joan went on to New York and became an Eileen Ford model. She worked for Ladies Home Journal, Vogue and Glamour magazines before returning to Detroit.

"The majority of my work at the moment deals with photographic modeling," she said. "And of course my assignments vary so I have to keep my wardrobe up to date." This seems like a project in itself as she sews all of her clothes.

Her second professional career was an expansion of her role as someone often in the public eye.

"It's only natural," she concluded, "that, as a model your first concern is proper makeup."

"I've tried just about everything on the market within reason. And now, for the first time I'm convinced I've found something good."

The cosmetics she uses and sells are made with aloe which resembles a cactus. The juice of this plant has healing properties.

As we talked, young Adam was busy in his own two-year-old way. One look at his gray hands and Mom retrieved him from further explorations in an ashtray.

"One of the big advantages of my selling job is that I can do a lot of my work right at home where I can be with the children," she said.

"I'm not a 'joiner,' I'd just as soon stay home and paint or sew. And of course there's my husband."

Speaking of family, we automatically looked again for Adam. He had wandered off into the ether regions of the editorial department, looking for more adventure.

His smiling young mother scooped him up, buttoned him into his jacket with that flashy red scarf and took off.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school freshman and belong to a church group which meets every Friday night. There is a boy in this group who is sort of physically deformed and a little mentally unbalanced. (I am not saying this to be mean, Abby, he really is.) Everyone makes fun of him but me. My problem is, he keeps hanging around me asking me to do weird things, like telling him if he blinks his eyes. (He claims he can't blink his eyes.) Abby, I go to have a good time, and I can't with this kid bothering me all the time. I don't want to tell him to get lost or anything like that because I hate to hurt his feelings. But what can I do? He keeps following me around.

I have even considered dropping out of the group, but I don't want to because it could be a lot of fun if it weren't for this kid. How can I get rid of him nicely? PESTERED

DEAR PESTERED: That you would write with such a problem shows you to be an extremely sensitive warm-hearted person. Surely this group has an adult counselor, and a few leaders among its peers. Why not try to organize a meeting to discuss this problem with them?

It would be an act of genuine kindness (not only to the handicapped lad, but to all the young people) to point out the need for patience and understanding in such a situation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.G.: The woman who needs more than five minutes to decide what to wear has more clothes than she needs.

Problems? Write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Another Grandchild for the Romneys

LANSING (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. George Romney's grandchildren now number an even dozen.

The executive office has announced the birth Friday of the latest Romney grandchild, Timothy Robinson, son of the Romneys' daughter, Jane Robinson and Dr. Bruce M. Robinson of Ann Arbor.

The grandparents were notified of Timothy's birth on Saturday in Paris, the first stop on the governor's month-long tour of Europe, the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Alan Hovhaness' "Magnificat" will be the highlight of the annual Christmas concert to be presented by the 170-voice Oakland University Chorus Friday at the Sports-Recreation Building of Oakland University.

The public is invited to attend this free performance which will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The "Magnificat" was written for soloists, chorus and orchestra. The choral group, assisted by the University Chamber Orchestra, will be directed by John Dorvaras, head of choral activities at the university.

Soloists are Marilyn Mercer, soprano; Chalyce Brown, alto; Philip Steen, tenor; Serwind Netzel, bass. Chorus members are from Royal Oak, Detroit, Rochester, Oak Park, Drayton Plains, Farmington, Ann Arbor and Waterford. The Rochester Community Orchestra will present its annual Christmas concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Rochester High School student lounge.

The program features the Treble Choir from Rochester High School under the direction of Frank Irish. The choir will sing "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," a Negro spiritual, and "Three Carols for Christmas," arranged by Grundman.

The orchestra will perform the Overture to "Music for the Royal Fireworks" by Handel; "Five Courtly Dances" from "Gloriana" by Britten; and "Wildcat Highlands" by Cy Coleman.

Girls' Ensemble Highlights Meeting

The Senior Girls' Ensemble of Pontiac Central High School provided Christmas music for the Monday evening meeting of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club. They were directed by Michael Dempsey.

The program in the First Federal Savings of Oakland was the first of 16 performances they are scheduled to give in the next two weeks.

Mrs. Robert Anderson read "A Christmas Present for a Lady" and "The Juggler."

Fete Kresge 'Friends' at a Holiday Coffee

Volunteers of the Friends of the Kresge Library at Oakland University will be honored Wednesday morning at a Christmas coffee in the home of Mrs. Richard G. Pearce of Birmingham.

The coffee is in recognition of work being done by the Volunteers on Operation Books III, book acquisition efforts, sorting gift books and membership drive for the Friends.

Stores Get Copies of Lynda's Gown

NEW YORK (AP) — Brides-to-be can buy a copy of the wedding dress worn by Lynda Johnson Robb for $135.

The white satin imitation will go on sale Thursday at 200 Gimbels department stores throughout the country.

The name on the label will be Alfred Angelo, however, not Geoffrey Beene, who designed the original for President Johnson's daughter.

But the reproduced model will contain seven yards of satin and 46 covered buttons — just like the original.

For those with a bigger pocketbook, another $80 will buy a headress and 15 yards of nylon net to serve as a train.

Angelo's Philadelphia factory also rolled off copies of wedding dresses worn by Luci Johnson Nugent, Lynda's sister, and by Princess Margaret and Grace Kelly.

500 OUTLETS

He expects to have the unauthorized copy of Lynda's gown sold in 500 stores within a few weeks.

And he believes he will surpass the 2,000 orders for Mrs. Nugent's dress, which went for approximately the same price.

AP Wirephoto

Lynda Bird Johnson's wedding dress made a big hit with Alfred Angelo, Inc. of New York and Philadelphia. And the firm hopes it will be a hit with other brides when it hits the "common market" Thursday. The Alfred Angelo version of the gown is modeled here by Pat Christine as a company executive. Len Strahl, looks on in New York Monday. The President's daughter's gown was designed by Geoffrey Beene.
