TASTE BUDS — A gourmet's bouquet is offered for sale at Ladispoli, near Rome, Italy, as the town celebrates its annual artichoke feast. The first artichokes proved to be a true sign of spring in the Rome area, where unusually cold weather was replaced by the first warm day of the new season.

SQUARE HOLES FOR SQUARE DUNKERS — For 10 years, baker Pete Cusino, of Denver, Colo., made donuts, round ones, just like thousands of other bakers from time immemorial. But Pete is no square, and one day he rebelled. After all, it gets awfully dull making the same old round donuts day in and day out. So one day Pete amazed the local donut connoisseurs in Denver, by turning out square donuts. They even have square holes, which will probably make all the people who saved the round holes for fish nets unhappy.

Defense Head Warns Generals, Admirals:

'Extra Stars to Be Given Only to Officers Working for Military Unity'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy has served notice that generals and admirals who don't work for military unity may as well forget about extra stars and choice assignments.

McElroy ordered yesterday that all future recommendations for promotion of officers to three and four star rank be submitted to him rather than directly to the President. This directive also would apply to assignment of officers in those ranks.

The order, another move aimed at curbing interservice rivalries, is part of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan. That particular provision, however, didn't require congressional approval.

Under the new procedure, the Joint Chiefs of Staff must express their views on the assignment or promotion of all officers in the two top ranks.

In addition, when civilian secretaries of the three services grant such recommendations they must include a statement that the officer has demonstrated "the capacity for dealing objectively, without extreme service partisanship, with matters of the broadest significance to our national security."

The new order also says when service secretaries submit recommendations for promotions to two or three star rank, it must be shown the officer has served "a successful tour" of duty with a joint, combined or allied command, or on the staff of the defense secretary.

The new procedure will give the Pentagon's civilian boss a much bigger voice in military promotions and assignments. However, the President still will make the final determination, subject to Senate confirmation.

McElroy issued the directive after ending four days of testimony before the House Armed Services Committee on Eisenhower's controversial reorganization proposal. McElroy indicated he will stick to administration objectives for more centralization of authority in the defense forces.

Committee Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the hearings will resume Monday with testimony from Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff.

Search for Body in Eagle Lake

William C. Wilson, 19, Missing; Boat Is Found Overturned

Waterford Township police and Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies are searching for a 19-year-old Drayton Plains youth believed to have drowned late yesterday in Eagle Lake, just north of Walton Blvd., in Waterford Township.

William C. Wilson, 19, of 3556 Hatfield Dr., was reported missing by his father, Floyd L. Wilson at about 9:45 last night.

He was last seen going to Eagle Lake to try out a new 7½ horsepower motor at about 2 p.m. His eight-foot boat was found overturned in the lake by township police last night.

Police said the throttle on the motor was still wide open. A skin diver from the sheriff's department is aiding police in their search of the lake for his body.

The youth was described by police as being six feet tall, weighing about 170 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes.

Guarding Lana, Cheryl, Attorney After Threats

Chief of Police Clinton H. Anderson ordered a stepped up patrol of their Beverly Hills homes yesterday after the threats were reported to him by Giesler, famed defense attorney.

Giesler reported that he had received three threatening calls in as many days.

He said that on Wednesday night, which was a few hours after the Juvenile Court released Cheryl to the custody of her grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Turner, a man called him and said:

"We are sending people out from the East to take care of Lana. And they'll take care of you, too, for representing her."

The weatherman promises fair and cool for Sunday with frost likely tonight and a low of near 33. Tomorrow's high will be around 55 to 59.

For the next four days temperatures will average about three degrees below the normal high of 61 and normal low of 41. Sunday and Monday will be a little warmer with the temperature turning cooler again Tuesday and Wednesday. Precipitation will total around one fourth inch as showers about Monday and Tuesday.

The lowest recording preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 30 degrees. The thermometer reading was 51 at 1 p.m.

He's Fined for Laughing

VIENNA (INS)—A happy Austrian was fined for laughing too loud and ordered to cut it out after 8 p.m. The Supreme Administrative Court upheld the punishment and ruled: "Quiet is one of the first duties of the citizen, especially in new houses with thin walls."

MOSCOW (INS) — Pravda has demanded an investigation of Porfiry K. Ivanov, prophet and healer extraordinary who says he is 40 centuries old. The Communist party newspaper reported that Ivanov, clad in a loin cloth, drives around in a luxurious limousine full of veiled female disciples.

National Festival Kicks Off Trout Season for Michigan

By H. GUY MOATS
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

KALKASKA — This northern community in the hub of Michigan's fabled trout fishing country last night set off one of the state's biggest outdoor seasons with its 22nd annual National Trout Festival.

The "big" season, of course, is the start of trout fishing in Michigan for 1958.

Like almost every focal point in the network of fine trout waters in Michigan's northern "water wonderland" — such as Roscommon, Grayling, Mio, Luzerne and West Branch — accommodations for visitors and eager anglers were practically non-existent.

The bright weather and promises of the best fishing conditions in many years for opening day brought thousands into this section where from now until late fall, trout is king.

In and around Kalkaska are the Manistee, one of the best brown and rainbow waters, the Rapids and the Boardman, all producers of big trout. On these streams, the main stream of the AuSable and its north and south branches can be found a large share of Pontiac trouters.

Early stone fly hatches were reported yesterday and early today by conservation field men. Successful fishermen have not been reported early this morning. Cold winds kept many out of the streams until later in the morning.

While prospects for good catches were bright, a boost of a few degrees in the temperature would really make this one of the best openers, says regional conservation director Troy Yoder at Roscommon.

"Today's starter should be the best in years," Yoder said. "Stream levels are about like those for late June and July, the water is clear and fish are moving with reports of fly hatches in most streams. There was a lot of wind, but it didn't bother the cold fly boys much."

A better than average creel expected today. One check will be made today on the North Branch.

Marjories Wolff, 17, of Grayling, and Dick Davis of Saginaw reign as king and queen over the Festival.

Miss Wolff, a senior at Grayling High School, and Davis, sports editor of WKNX-TV at Saginaw, both were crowned yesterday. The festival continues through Sunday.

3 in Family Shot to Death by Relative Seeking Money

DENVER (AP)—A wealthy lawyer, his wife and daughter were killed last night by a ne'er-do-well relative, bent on getting money four days after his release from prison.

David F. Early, 28, was caught by neighbors moments after the rifle shootings climaxed a four-hour reign of terror in the ranch-style home of Merrill A. Knight in swank Greenwood Village. The suburb is 14 miles southeast of downtown Denver.

Knight, 45, former president of the Denver Bar Assn., his wife, Regina, 43, and their 15-year-old daughter Karen died in Early's futile efforts to flee with $187.

Kenneth Knight, 18, son of the lawyer, escaped although Early fired one shot at him.

Early, freed from the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison last Tuesday, was booked at the Arapahoe County jail for investigation of murder. Dist. Atty. Barney O'Kane said he will file charges next week. O'Kane said Early wrote out a brief confession in longhand after dictating a lengthy statement to a shorthand reporter.

O'Kane said Early, who described himself as a nephew of Knight's, had served aggravated robbery terms at Leavenowrth and Canon City, Colo., prisons.

5,000 Fail to Jump

Bad Weather Holds Up Paratroops

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Bad weather caused a 24-hour postponement in the mass parachute jump planned for dawn in war games here.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, had planned to lead the assault by jumping 20 minutes ahead of his men, to test the wind and weather.

Five men of the 101st were killed and 115 were injured when they were caught in capricious ground-level winds Wednesday.

On hand for the preliminary jump into the Sukchon drop zone with Westmoreland were Capt. Stillman E. Mazeltine of Custer, S. D., his aide, and Capt. Jack Becker of Lakeshore, Miss., a staff officer.

The jump, set for 5:10 a.m. EST was postponed shortly after daybreak.

Nearly 1,400 men of the division's 502nd Battle Group, acting as the invading enemy, flew in from Scott Air Force Base, Ill., and Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn. for the Wednesday jump.

Most of the casualties occurred in the rough terrain of the Sukchon zone, one of many in the remote areas of this sprawling military reservation on the Kentucky-Tennessee line where the current war games are being conducted.

Today's counterattack by 4,985 men from other units of the division was called the largest practice drop in the division' history. Additional support troops will be dropped in later in the weekend manuevers.

The counterattackers were flown in from four bases: Bakalar, Columbus, Ind.; Blytheville, Ark.; Clinton County, Wilmington, Ohio; and Godman Army Air Field, Ft. Knox, Ky.

The troops were flown to those bases a week ago after breaking off preliminary battle games here.

Officers said it marked the first time in war or peace that an airborne division has broken off combat, refurbished its equipment and flown into another battle in only a week's time."

Tax Limitation Held No Bar in Farmington Job

County Public Works Division Wins First Test on Authority

The Oakland County Department of Public Works passed its first big court test of its authority yesterday when an injunction to stop construction of the Farmington sewage disposal system was denied.

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick dismissed the injunction request saying, in effect, that questions of public health far outweigh matters of tax limitations.

However, the judge said his opinion undoubtedly would be appealed to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Irwin I. Cohn, Detroit attorney and West Bloomfield Township resident, contended in seeking to stop the $4,900,000 project, that the act under which it was being built was unconstitutional.

The system, to serve West Bloomfield Township as well as that of Farmington, and portions of the city of Southfield and Keego Harbor was the county department's first project since it was organized last June.

The reverse of Judge Hartrick's ruling would have handcuffed future works of the department, officials said.

He ruled that the townships and cities could, "in the interest of public health," levy a tax beyond its Constitutional limitation of 15 mills.

"The court holds that a Constitutional limitation upon taxation is not an abridgement of the police power of the state when the interest of the public health is involved," the judge said.

His opinion will also allow for the sister project of the Farmington system, the Evergreen system, to proceed on schedule. Both, of course, will hinge on any Supreme Court appeals.

Cohn, of 3277 Interlaken Dr., West Bloomfield, argued that townships, under the state law, could not tax more than the 15 mills of assessed valuation of any property for such public works.

He said West Bloomfield and Farmington Townships will have to levy above this limitation to reimburse the county for constructing the system.

The county can proceed with the project as sufficient revenues to be received by the townships from the users of the system will be

State Deficit Grows Worse

Controller Miller Sets Figure $2 Million Over Williams' Estimate

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's financial picture is even blacker than it was thought, State Controller James W. Miller reports.

A steady drop in liquor sales has boosted estimates of the state's prospective deficit at the end of the fiscal year June 30 to $20,300,000, Miller said. The new figure is some two million dollars over the estimate Gov. Williams gave to the legislature last week.

January estimates indicated the state would pick up a 41-million-dollar profit from its liquor monoply in 1957-58, Miller said. Latest figures have dropped the estimate to 35 million.

As matters now stand, Miller said, the state should collect 331 million dollars in general fund revenue from various sources, some 19 million over the total in 1956-57.

The budget adopted by the legislature last year came to 341 million dollars.

Another $8,300,000 will be needed, however, to pay out state school aid at the $190 formula. This, combined with a general decline in sales tax collections and other revenues, have put the state deep in the red.

500,000 Exhaust Jobless Funds

Sec. of Labor Mitchell Urges Speedy Action on Extra Pay Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell says more than 500,000 workers have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits. He urged speedy enactment of an administration plan for extra payments "so these workers ... may have money to live on."

Mitchell's statement was issued yesterday as the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported that during the week ended April 12 unemployment among insured workers rose that week to a record 8.1 per cent. Some 43 million workers, about two-thirds of the nation's labor force, are covered by unemployment compensation.

The total of insured unemployment — representing workers on the sidelines at least a week—was about 100,000 bigger in mid-April than in mid-March.

This data indicated that the over-all unemployment total for April probably will be close to the 5,200,000 level of March. Normally at this time of the year unemployment drops sharply as outdoor work picks up.

The Labor Department report also showed that during the week ended April 19 the number of newly laid off workers claiming jobless benefits declined by 15,400 to 446,400. This is a smaller-than-usual decline for this season.

In his statement, Mitchell said the report makes it "all the more urgent for Congress to enact speedily the administration's legislation extending the duration of unemployment insurance payments for those who have exhausted their benefits."

UAW Takes On Austerity Program

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers' executive board, completing a four-day study yesterday of the union's financial problems, adopted an austerity program that wil curtail temporarily its organizing efforts.

The board, headed by President Walter P. Reuther, ordered the layoff of 100 international representatives. Their job mainly is to get new members. The union, however, will still have 670 staff members on the payroll, many of whom are assigned to organizing.

The union has been making an intensive effort to organize engineers, craftsmen and white collar workers. It claims considerable success in the past year. Dues-paying members totaled more than 1,204,000 March 31—about the same as a year ago. Signing up of new members offset the loss of members thrown out of work by new production methods in automated plants.

But the union's revenues have been reduced sharply as a result of recent heavy layoffs and short time schedules in the auto industry. Members are exempt from dues if they don't work more than 40 hours in a month.

Reuther and 24 other top officers of the union who make up the executive board voted to cut their own salaries 10 per cent. They are asking staff members to volunteer to accept a similar cut.

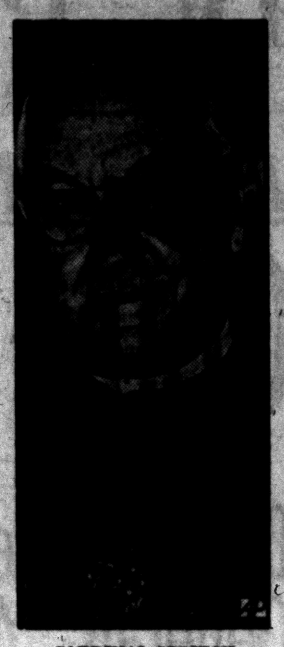

All the cuts are expected to be temporary.

The board made no formal announcement of its retrenchment program. It is informing local unions throughout the nation by mail of the cuts in salaries, staff and services.

Among the services to be cut are publications and radio programs. The union's newspaper, Solidarity, will be published every two weeks instead of weekly.

The extent of curtailment of the union's radio programs in more than 40 cities was not disclosed. The programs are beamed to workers at change of shifts.

CARDINAL STRITCH

Chicago Prelate Sick in Rome

Cardinal Stritch May Lose His Arm Due to Circulatory Ailment

VATICAN CITY (INS) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, first American-born prelate appointed to the highest Roman Catholic council, was rushed to a hospital today suffering from a painful circulatory ailment.

There were unconfirmed reports the ailment may necessitate amputation of the 70-year-old cardinal's right arm. Priests at his residence, Chicago House, refused to comment on the reports saying they were premature, pending an examination.

Vatican cources said Stritch's condition was serious and might require an operation. These sources said his personal physician was being summoned from Chicago.

The prelate, Archbishop of Chicago, was stricken less than 24 hours after he arrived in Rome to assume his duties in the Roman Curia.

He has been designated by Pope Pius XII to become pro-prefect of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, which supervises all church missionary activities.

The Day in Birmingham

Director of Round Table Will Speak Here Friday

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. Robert M. Frehse, executive director of the Detroit Round Table and the Michigan Region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be featured speaker Friday at the annual May Fellowship Day of the United Church Women of Birmingham.

The program will start with a breakfast at 9 a.m., followed by Dr. Frehse's talk at 10 a.m. in the Congregational Church.

His topic will be "Living Up to Our Christian Responsibilities." Representatives from the host Congregational Church will be assisted by members of the Embury Methodist Church, Christ Church Cranbrook, First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Franklin Community, Northminster Presbyterian, St. Andrew's Episcopal Chapel and St. Aames Episcopal Church.

Reservations for the breakfast may be made with any of the affiliated churches. Special nursery facilities will be provided at the First Baptist Church.

Mayor Carl F. Ingraham this week signed two proclamations honoring Birmingham Track Day on April 29 and Law Day U.S.A. on May 1.

The track day proclamation is in special recognition of the dedication of the new track at Birmingham High School.

Married April 25, 1908, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew B. Whittlesey of 1383 Washington Blvd. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last night at a family dinner at the Fox and Hounds.

The couple have been residents of the Birmingham area for more than 40 years. Mr. Whittlesey was one of the original commissioners at the time of the incorporation of Bloomfield Hills as a city.

Will Try to Force Russia Into Open on Arms Issue

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—The U.S. and her major Western allies have decided on an attempt to force the Soviet Union into the open on the disarmament question by action in the United Nations.

Informed sources disclosed today that the allies will call next week for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council to propose a new plan for ending nuclear test explosions.

The action is planned by the U.S., Britain, France and Canada in an effort to persuade Russia to drop her boycott of the U.N. disarmament committee and to bring disarmament discussions into the open.

Diplomatic sources in Washington said a specific request will be made for the Security Council to consider an aerial inspection system of the Arctic area between Northern Canada and the U.S.S.R.

Asian and European informats at U. N. said the Western powers were giving "serious consideration" to a plan for control of nuclear bomber flights of the American Strategic Air Command.

The Soviet attempt last Monday to have the council censure SAC flights backfired and the Russians withdrew their resolution. However, the item alleging that the bomber flights threaten peace still remains on the agenda.

According to current plans, the council would be summoned early next week to meet on a non-urgent basis by May 5.

Rather than a "purely procedural" session, the 11-nation U.N. organ may hear a plan for separating the Western disarmament package by splitting off the questions of suspending test explosions.

The scheme reportedly worked out would provide for inspected cessation of testing without simultaneous agreement on a cut-off of nuclear weapon production, as previously insisted upon by the West and rejected by the Russians.

The test ban would go into effect six months after agreement was signed, thereby allowing the U.S. and Britain to carry out scheduled summer series and France to detonate its first atomic bomb.

The French had set next February as the target date for their entrance into the atomic weapon club, but French sources said the initial test in the Sahara could be moved up to late this year.

Bound Over for Trial in Lapeer Shooting

LAPEER—Gerald G. Chapman, 31, of Columbiaville, was examined yesterday afternoon before Justice Herbert King in Lapeer, and was bound over to Circuit Court for trial on a charge of assault on his wife, Iris, with intent to kill.

He will be arraigned Monday before Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

Mrs. Chapman is in Lapeer County General Hospital still in serious condition from a shotgun blast in the abdomen. The shooting took place two weeks ago at the home of Mrs. Philip Shutran at 4239 La Valley Rd., Columbiaville, following an all night drinking party.

Chapman was released on bond $2,000.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is snow white?

No, snow is not white but looks white because of the great reflection of light. Likewise, the sky is not blue. Space and air are actually colorless and if one goes far enough into space, and gets away from sunlight, everything will be black.

The reason the sky looks blue is that blue, of all the colors, refracts most easily, and therefore the light from the sun makes the sky blue.

Dust refracts red, which explains why the sun's light makes the evening sunset, quite often, appear to be a rich red.

Cracking Down on Parking Tags

City Issuing Warrants for Persons Who Fail to Pay Tickets

Ignoring parking tickets will prove a costly matter in Pontiac under a new policy inaugurated by the Traffic Violations Bureau.

The new policy is to issue warrants for persons who fail to pay their parking tags.

The previous policy had been to arrest only those who had overdue tickets for a moving violation.

Lt. Claude Evans, head of the violations bureau, said today that the violator who fails to appear to settle a parking meter violation ticket will have to pay $8 in all on what is originally a $1 ticket.

He explained the costs this way: $1 for the ticket, $2 for paying after the court date, and $5 for the warrant and arrest. Other parking offenses will cost $9.

The tickets can be paid, even after arrest, at the violations bureau, or a court trial can be demanded, he stated.

Lt. Evans said that his department writes a letter to each violator if they have failed to appear in court or pay the ticket before the court date.

"This letter is a final warning and gives them one more chance to settle for $3 per parking meter ticket. If they again fail to show up, the warrant is issued," he said.

Air Conditioning, TV, Snacks Bad for Children

Two Texas pediatricians have just presented documented proof to the American Medical Assn. that this happens.

Drs. Floyd A. Norman and Edward L. Pratt of Dallas said these ailments come to those children who watch television in an air-conditioned house during their waking hours and indulge in frequent between-meal snacks.

Such a soft life, they reported, spoils the children's appetite for square meals.

The doctors also said it is unwise for adults to condition children to dislike hot weather or to foist summertime food fads on them.

Here are summertime rules suggested by the doctors:

—Habits of vigorous outdoor activity should be developed. Children do not mind hot weather unless they are conditioned to dislike it.

—Cool, but not cold, drinks are best and, for the most part, water should be used to quench thirst.

—Limiting of high-caloric foods, such as peanut butter and ice cream may be necessary.

Three-fifths of the components of smog come from automobiles and buses, burning of trash, and the heating of homes, stores and office buildings.

Detroit Officials Nix 5 Pct. Cut of Their Pay

DETROIT (AP) — A proposal by Council President Mary Beck that Detroit city officials take a 5 per cent pay cut ran into a big "no" today.

That was the reaction from Mayor Louis Miriani as well as Miss Beck's fellow council members.

Councilman Ed Carey, former Democratic state representative, accused Miss Beck of making the proposal for "only one purpose—publicity."

Miss Beck suggested that at least 5 per cent be cut from the salaries of all city officials making $12,000 a year or more. It would affect 140 persons and save an estimated $95,000 in an annual payroll of $1,900,000.

That, said Mayor Miriani, was "only a small drop in the bucket in a deficit of 10 million dollars."

known immediately whether he was paroled or released from Levenworth.

This was the sequence of events, told by Sheriff Charles Foster:

Early came to Denver after his release from the Kansas prison and registered at the YMCA.

About noon yesterday he had a taxicab take him to the Knight residence. No one was home, but he entered through a basement door. He waited about two and a half hours until Mrs. Knight returned.

Early brandished a .22 caliber rifle and forced her to her bedroom where he bound her hands and feet. Mrs. Knight told him to get $60 from her purse.

Early wanted more money and decided to await Knight's return from work. Meanwhile, the children, Karen and Kenneth returned from school. Early forced Karen into her bedroom and tied her up, the same as her mother.

Kenneth was also bound with silk stockings in his mother's room, at the foot of her bed.

Knight returned home about 5:30 or 5:45 p.m. Early forced Mrs. Knight to call to him and when he entered her bedroom Early threatened him with the gun and forced him to his bedroom.

Knight was ordered to bind his feet with gauze. Early then bound Knight's hands after taking about $127 from his wallet.

Early delayed his departure waiting for darkness. During that period he walked from room to room checking on the four bound persons.

On a visit to Knight's room he said Knight "lunged at me and without thinking I started shooting." Knight was wounded three times. He died later in a hospital.

Early then decided to kill the others because "they were witnesses."

Early went to the mother's bedroom, stepped over Kenneth, and shot Mrs. Knight once in the head. He walked over Kenneth on leaving and went to the daughter's bedroom and killed her with one shot.

While Early was in Karen's bedroom, Kenneth broke lose from his bonds and ran out of the house. Early fired one shot before the rifle jammed.

Kenneth ran to a neighbor's house where a dinner party was in progress and shouted "Mother and Dad have been shot." Several members of the dinner party ran out to get into a car and noticed a car leaving the Knight driveway.

The neighbors rammed their car into the automobile in which Early was trying to escape. Early jumped out and started running but was overtaken by William Pumpelly and Varian Ashbaugh. They held him until officers arrived.

A reporter asked Early why the Knights had been shot.

"I needed money," Early answered.

"What for?" the reporter asked, and Early answered:

"What does anybody need money for?"

In Appreciation ...

Success in my final venture in the political field has left me humble and deeply grateful to the hundreds of citizens who expressed their continued confidence in me, by granting me the privilege of representing them for a fifth term as City Commissioner.

I also wish to thank my opponent, Mr. Earl J. Smith, for his part in conducting the campaign in District 3 on such a high and gentleman-like plane.

The valiant attempt on the part of The League of Women Voters to arouse interest in voting is highly commendable. A sense of shame should prevail among the 82% of the citizens who neglected to exercise their precious right and duty to have a voice in choosing their representative on the City Commission. To them I would like to quote Lord Bryce—"If America ever fails, it will not be because of the strength of the bad people, but because of the indifference of the good people."

Snow Blankets Plains

Midwest Chilled Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frosty temperatures chilled the upper Midwest again today and fresh snow blanketed sections of the western Plains, but the Southeast basked in 70-degree readings and thunderstorms crackled along the Gulf Coast.

Akron, Colo., had a thunderstorm accompanied by snow while three inches of snow already covered the ground.

Skies were fair over most of the area east of the Mississippi River and in the Southwest, but there was considerable cloudiness in the Northwest, the Plains states and the lower Mississippi Valley.

The mercury ranged from the 20s in the northern Great Lakes to the 70s in parts of Florida and along the Gulf Coast.

Warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico rolled northward over much of Texas and the Gulf states, touching off scattered thunderstorms in eastern Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi. A few showers occurred as far north as southern Oklahoma and as far east as Alabama.

available to pay back the county, the opinion stated.

In other words, Oakland County is permitted to pledge its full faith and credit in the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance this and like projects. Cohn asserted it could not do this.

"A contract of a municipality to construct a sewage system in the interest of public health and safety without a vote of the electors is not ultravires if there is a method of self-liquidation," Judge Hartrick ruled.

Livonia Boy, 7, Dies After Struck by Car

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—A 7-year-old Livonia boy was injured fatally yesterday afternoon when struck by a car as he left school at Eight Mile road near Grand River in Farmington Township.

Robert Kelley, 7, of 28626 Fargo St., walked into the side of a car driven by Bruce Kuhn, 18, also of Livonia, witnesses told Township Police.

Navy Vanguard Refuses to Go

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy expects to make another attempt to launch a temperamental Vanguard rocket housing a 20-inch satellite next week after two setbacks caused by technical problems.

One scientific source said the shoot may be tried as early as next Monday.

The launching of the three-stage rocket was "scrubbed" early yesterday morning and again last night when faults were discovered in Vanguard's complex mechanism during the crucial preliminary countdown.

It was reported unofficially that the trouble was caused partly by a leak of white fuming nitric acid from the fuel system that propels the second-stage vehicle.

The Vanguard carried a 21½-pound satellite payload shaped like a basketball. The satellite is three times bigger and seven times heavier than Vanguard I "moon" now orbiting the globe.

The Naval Research Laboratory has announced that this test is the last in a series of seven intended to check the performance of the launching rocket.

Future Vanguard launchings will be aimed primarily at placing a satellite in orbit.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE BIBLE

QUESTION: How many miracles did Jesus perform?

ANSWER: When the wine ran out while Jesus was attending a marriage feast in Cana, He ordered six stone jars be filled with water and then He turned the water into wine. This was the first of many miracles Jesus performed to prove that He was speaking the word of God.

Among other miracles He performed were the filling of the disciples' nets with fish, the healing of Lazarus and other stricken people and the changing of two loaves and seven fishes into enough food for a multitude of people who had come to hear him speak.

It is not certain just how many miracles Jesus performed. Some Biblical scholars say it was 38. Others, not recognizing certain acts as miracles, say it was 34. Most agree there probably were many others not recorded in the Bible.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a picture of a boy bringing the two loaves and seven fishes to Jesus for blessing. Paste the picture on cardboard, color it, cut it out and add it to your Bible collection.

Hollywood Headlines

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Western street at Warner Bros. looked familiar, but the series was different.

This wasn't Cheyenne or Maverick or Sugarfoot or even Colt .45. They were making the first film for a new TV series called Laramie.

Starring as a veteran frontier lawman was John Russell, himself the veteran of another TV series, Soldiers of Fortune. His eagerbeaver assistant was young Peter Brown. And if you can judge by past performance on the Warners Westerns, the two will be blazing guns side by side through dozens of films.

"The studio seemed to like the character I played in a Cheyenne," Russell reported. "He was an old gunman whose trigger finger was ossifying because of a nervous condition. He knew that when the next gunfighter challenged him it might be his last fight.

"I play the same sort of fellow in Laramie with a little less gray in the hair."

Russell admitted that he had some trepidations about embarking on the grind of another TV series. But actors like to eat. And he reported that returns from the Soldiers of Fortune reruns are not enough to live on. He made the deal five years ago, when actors didn't get as much money as they do today.

How many more Westerns can TV absorb?

Warners seems to have no worries on this score. Cheyenne, Maverick and Sugarfoot have been doing fine in the audience ratings, and Colt .45 is doing tolerably. The studio says the first three are renewed through the summer and into the fall, and Colt will resume next season after skipping the hot weather.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

An Independent Newspaper

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
President and Publisher

Editorial Page

SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1958

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . . .

Conference of Newspaper Men Produces Topics of Interest

After nearly two weeks in Washington and New York with newspapermen from coast to coast, I'm back — glad to be here — and surcharged with observations, prognostications and pearls of wisdom from the publishing cognoscente.

Here are gleanings that may be of interest.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke to us in Washington and probably you read his comments. He launched into a sharp defense of his new plans to realign the services and the line of command. "Unity" was the pass word. The President made it plain that this nation must never, never allow itself to become sentimentally attached to outmoded military weapons and obsolete lines of procedure.

The President looked well, healthy and vigorous. He spoke assertively, walked with a firm military tread and was in fine spirits. The old time EISENHOWER smile was "on display" and he indicated he was a man with a mission that he intended to accomplish.

Willard (Bill) C. Worcester, newspaper major-domo from Indianapolis, told me that the automobile dealers had themselves mainly to blame for lower and slower sales. "I've owned three cars for many years," said he, "and in the last full decade, NOT ONE automobile salesman from a single company has called on me. How can sales mount when you don't even bother to ask the buyers? I hope dealers generally aren't afflicted with the same somnolence as the fraternity in Indianapolis." Bill thinks they are.

Newspaper publishers were indignant at school action in some cities which sought public boycotts against Life Magazine. Life recently printed a series of articles on education and uncovered some unhappy truths. Many people figure the education concepts in America have drifted far away from the three "r's" with the substitutes proving less and less satisfactory as time passes. Life's articles were objective and provocative. Attempts to boycott freedom of speech is a new low.

I had a chat with Secretary of the Army, Wilbur Brucker of Michigan, who seemed hail and hearty. The underground rumors in Washington suggest that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate when McNamara's term expires. With his great knowledge of the Michigan political scene and his added experience as Secretary of the Army, Wilbur Brucker would make a formidable candidate and a worthy figure in the Michigan political arena.

Senator LYNDON JOHNSON of Texas addressed the newspaper men at a banquet and "took out" after President EISENHOWER. He charged the President with "confident talk," whereas he said the nation wanted "confident action." He declared that the President lacked "boldness and assurance."

Following his address, I met the southern Senator in the hotel suite of Donald Maxwell of the Chicago Tribune. We asked the genial Texan whether he was a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1960 and he shook his head and tapped himself over the heart. It is true that he suffered a setback of sorts, but he looked well, and spoke with fire and determination.

Senator JOHNSON is a fine appearing individual and commands attention and respect. He is one of this nation's unquestioned leaders and has earned and deserved the role. Mrs. JOHNSON is a very attractive woman and would lend grace and eclat to anyone's campaign.

I also met Governor and Mrs. ROBERT B. MEYNER of New Jersey who were leaving for the World's Fair at Brussels. Again, I report a handsome individual who has been mentioned in connection with the Presidency and again I can tell you that he has a very attractive wife. That seems to be a requisite these days. (Note a Mr. NIXON).

Our newspaper ranks embrace at least three great amateur drummers: ROGER FERGER of Cincinnati; Publisher STERLING GRAHAM of Cleveland; and DON MAXWELL, Editor of the Chicago Tribune. The last named carries a card in the union. These boys aren't just mine run, but handle all the contraptions in the drummers' corner and do it with aplomb.

For what it's worth, I heard complaints against the length and lowness of modern cars. "I'm sick of getting into an automobile through a man-hole," said one publisher. "Tell your manufacturers to shorten them up and make them higher." Well, Harley, here's the message.

STAN SWINTON of The Associated Press reported to the A. P. Board about conditions in Poland and Hungary. They're "eager for news of the United States," and want to "know what's going on over here." This should presage more resistance and trouble for the Commies.

Princess Soraya was staying at The Waldorf and one evening she had dinner a few tables from us. As she approached the entrance to the dining room, about five photographers flashed bulbs with great rapidity. One of them started to follow her in, but a "security officer" ("house dick") to you, raised a restraining hand. A small argument ensued, but the s. o. won.

She's a very comely lass.

WILLIAM DWIGHT, President of The American Newspaper Publishers Association urged all newspapers to continue reporting the economic scene objectively. Pressure has been brought to bear urging us to ignore negative facts and to balloon the positive factors. The newspapers have steadily printed stories of layoffs, national unemployment and will continue. In this country, THE PEOPLE HAVE THE RIGHT TO KNOW. The true facts aren't reserved for any special coterie.

The Pontiac Press has printed local employment figures consistently. Occasionally when they've been delayed, we've offered facts from the Federal Government on the Pontiac area. We will continue to let Pontiac area readers know what is happening, here and elsewhere.

I met General ALFRED GRUENTHER and instead of delving into a lot of earth shaking questions, I quizzed him on bridge which probably made me his most welcome inquisitor. Talking bridge is a lot easier than skating precariously around a lot of inter-continental profundities. If he's ever in this area, I urged him to spend an evening with half a dozen of us who have shuffled the pasteboards together for a quarter of a century. You are probably snickering up your sleeve at the remote possibility, but remember, HE LIKES BRIDGE.

And in conclusion ..... I found Washington and New York reasonably healthy. New York's usual helter skelter tempo has slackened, somewhat. Brother newspaper men from all over America generally report a small loss in advertising, with circulations holding close to level.

This is a great country.

It's the greatest ..... by miles.

We'll go on to bigger, better and more expansive economies, more employment and higher standards of living.

Bet on that.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The Twenty-third Psalm, with its magnificent assertion of faith, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want," inspires mankind today as it has for centuries.

A woman lost on a Texas desert was strengthened as she repeated: "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters."

A group of rehabilitated men in a Salvation Army Mission on San Francisco's Skid Row spoke: "He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake."

A captain I knew in Korea went in battle reciting; "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou are with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me."

Days of All Faiths

Saint Calms Husband's Jealousy

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

There are many who doubt St. Asaph ever lived. But there are legends about him and churches dedicated to him in Wales. There are many who have no doubt he lived a most dedicated and important life. If he lived, it was in the sixth century; he was a bishop, and he died on May 1.

The most popular of all legends about Asaph tells how he miraculously patched up a domestic difficulty between his king and queen. The young queen Nesta, girl-wife of King Maelgwn, came to Asaph in great distress. She lost a ring her husband had given her and told her to take care of. The loss had been innocent enough, a matter of childish carelessness. She had worn the ring and dropped it while she was taking an impulsive swim in an attractive body of water. Of, course, she had been afraid to tell the king of her carelessness.

But the king had noticed she was no longer wearing the ring, and under his badgering she had had to confess what had happened. And here began the terrible part of the story. As is so often the case with old husbands of young wives, the king did not believe the story his wife told. He was sure she had given the ring to some young, secret lover, unable to convince him, and terrified of his unfounded anger, Nasta ran to Asaph.

After hearing her story, Asaph, it is told, retired to give himself

"I'm 68," says E.B.D., "and I hate to think of limping around for the next 20 years with "rheumatiz" (arthritis) . . . ."

Answer — Perhaps that's the reason why so many poor souls limp around so many years — they hate to think. Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Chronic Joint Disability. It may enable you to think.

"We read so much about cholesterol causing coronary disease and atherosis, but we can't find out which foods to avoid. . . (C. R. E.)"

Answer — I don't think I have missed anything the popular magazines, science writers, headline hunters and trick specialists have told the public; and to date I have not eliminated butter, meat or any other wholesome food from my diet. No one has proved that this or that particular kind of food fat or oil is injurious to heart or blood vessels. I'm still chuckling about the two bachelor brothers who, their sister complained, carefully dissect every bit of fat from their meat before they eat. Probably some "clinic" racketeer put 'em up to it.

"Suffered for years with stomach trouble. Many physicians and specialists failed to give relief. Finally consulted specialist of national reputation, who instructed me never to take any starchy food with either proteins or fruits. Since I adopted that rule I have had no further stomach trouble. (N.A.P.)"

Answer — What, no wheat or wheat products, no potatoes, no breadstuffs, no cereals of any kind? Absurd, son. If your freak dieting gave relief it was because you ate less than before or because you happened to get an increased intake of vitamins. No "specialists" — he probably was not a physician — can condemn the foods mentioned because they contain starch and protein. Only charlatans exploit popular credulity in that way.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Growth of Modern Ethics

The Hebrews nurtured ethics and were 2,000 years ahead of their neighbors in their concept of God. The Greek and Roman Catholic Churches then took over. Next came Protestantism, founded by leading Roman Catholic priests. So modern Christianity is the spiritual Tree of Life with Hebrew roots, Catholic trunk and Protestant branches.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-390: Martin L., aged 36, is a Hebrew who attends my Bible Class every Sunday in Chicago.

"Dr. Crane, aren't the Hebrews called God's chosen people?" he asked.

"So if they nursed ethics through the 2,000 years before Christ, why did Christianity get away from them?"

ETHICAL EVOLUTION

DR. CRANE

Various nations have apparently been "chosen people" to help civilization advance.

Thus, the Greeks nurtured philosophy. The Romans gave us law. The Egyptians developed astronomy and the Phoenicians taught us navigation.

Abraham was likewise chosen to advance the cause of ethics and true religion. Almost 2,000 years B.C., Abraham believed in only one God, though the highly civilized nations of Greece and Rome worshiped many deities even at the time of Christ.

So Abraham was almost 2,000 years ahead of all other nations in his concept of divinity. Then the major Hebrew prophets nurtured the lofty idealism which Abraham had started.

But true religion is too big for any single race or color of mankind. Like music and mathematics, it cannot be confined to one small nation.

About 750 B.C., Isaiah had thus prophesied a World Messiah in startlingly exact terms (see Isaiah, Ch. 53).

Jesus was a Hebrew. So were all of his 12 Apostles. And Peter tried to confine Christianity to the Hebrews until God told him to carry it to the Gentiles (see Acts, Ch. 10).

Christians were first called by that name at Antioch and the early Christian churches sprang up in Greece (see Paul's letters to the Ephesians, Thessalonians, Corinthians, etc.).

HOME ROME DOMINATED

But Greece was no longer the ruling power in the world, for Rome combined both the "Congress" and the "Wall Street" of that day.

So Rome soon took over the rising Christian faith and began to dominate the Greek Church.

You can better realize how this occurred by contrasting New York with Chicago. New York tends to buy away the leadership from Chicago, both in TV and Radio, as well as the legitimate stage, banking, advertising, etc.

The New York Yankees even show similar dominance over the White Sox in the sports realm, too.

Well, Athens was comparable to Chicago and Rome to New York. So Rome got control of the new ethical system, although the Greek Orthodox and the Roman Catholic Churches continued to be rivals then as now.

Later, distinguished college professors and university presidents, who were talented Roman Catholic priests, added innovations which were not approved at Rome itself.

Thus, John Wycliffe (about 1375 A.D.) argued that people could go to God directly with their appeals without an intermediary priest. And he translated the Bible into English so the laymen could read it for themselves.

Although a college professor and Catholic priest, he was read out of the church by Pope Gregory XI.

So was John Huss, Catholic priest and rector of the University of Praha, who founded the Moravian Church.

John Knox, ordained a Roman Catholic priest, helped found the Presbyterian Church with John Calvin, who also had studied for the Catholic priesthood.

Martin Luther was likewise a distinguished college professor and Roman Catholic priest. So, too, was Ulrich Zwingli, who argued that priests should follow the precedent set by St. Peter and marry.

Our modern Christianity is thus a triple ethical outgrowth, stemming from Abraham's faith in one God, through Greek and Roman Catholic leadership up to the liberal Protestantism of the 20th Century.

Suggest Different Solutions for Problem of Recession

Why will no Congress member nerve up and introduce a measure to take away the bankers' union's power to shut their country down?

It would only require a bill to make their chairman of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors elective and call him the Federal Reserve Administrator. Then he would be responsible for depressions he caused by creating and uncreating money at will.

What have Congress members to lose now? They may as well cease obeying this heirarchy because the current depression is almost sure to sweep both halls clean. The broom will surely miss the one who nerves up to such a bill.

'Is This Policy Something New?'

I read an ad for Tel-Huron the other day saying people are invited to "come as you are—your housedress, bermudas or slacks—you are perfectly welcome in any of the 16 stores or shops."

Is this a new policy? About a year ago my sister and I went to one of the stores and clerks said they had nothing to fit us. If it had been only one item, it would have been understandable, but we were told there was nothing in the store to fit us. We were both wearing slacks.

We went across the street to another shop and were cordially received. Since then we've been customers there instead of the shop at Tel-Huron.

Mrs. O. F. Movius

2789 Genes Dr.

With young workers coming into the labor market, automation doing more and more and retirement of workers only 35 years of age, responsibility is upon us to see consumers of products of automation have means to buy these products.

This is the number one issue before the country. All groups must awaken to their responsibilities if we are to have free industry and our American type of freedom.

Needed now more than increased wages and extra money for plant expansion (which won't be needed unless people buy the products) is bringing up incomes of those on dividends, annuities, pensions, etc. This would stop unemployment and if followed through as a permanent program could make prosperity and full employment permanent.

Castro's Attempt to Carry War to City Streets Fails

By JOHN H. MARTIN

The attempt by the rebel leader Fidel Castro to carry his "total war" from the jungle of the Sierra Maestra to the streets of Havana has failed.

President Fulgencio Batista undoubtedly has won the first round in this long drawn - out insurrection in Cuba.

His armed forces have acted with speed, precision and death-dealing effectiveness, and there must be much bitterness among his divided foes.

Castro's forces in the mountains 500 miles from Havana are reported sealed off by the Cuban Army. This may be true, but more rebel forays and more bloodshed are to be expected, although it may be some time before the rebels reorganize themselves and their plans.

Castro and his men have had a year and a half of combat experience in the thick bush which covers their mountain lair. The Cuban army has shown reluctance to go into the mountains. The rebels have not dared make any great stand in the open against the army regulars.

If Castro tries to take his war against Batista to Havana and other main cities, he will do just what the army wants him to do — give the regulars something to shoot at.

Encourages Bill for Paper Mill

Congressman Proposes Experimental Setup in Upper Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) has asked Congress to pave the way for construction of an experimental newsprint paper mill in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Bennett said such a plant could be a beginning for a domestic newsprint industry independent of Canadian imports, now the major supplier for U.S. newspapers.

His bill would:

1. Authorize the Small Business Administration to loan up to five million dollars to a small business firm for construction of the plant somewhere in Bennett's Upper Peninsula district.

2. Authorize a special appropriation of $300,000 for research to be carried on by the U. S. Forest Service in connection with the mill.

Bennett, an avowed opponent of free trade, said his proposals would encourage the expansion and development of the domestic newsprint industry and decrease the need for foreign sources of supply.

Bennett contended his proposals would "help stabilize the lumber and paper industries through Northern Michigan and provide additional employment for many thousands of people."

Bifocal Contact Lens Developed by Science

NEW YORK (INS)—Science has come up with a "bifocal" contact lens.

Like the lens in a regular bifocal spectacle, it enables contact lens wearers to do more looking since it is two lenses in one.

Through the aspirin-sized bifocal, the wearer can see to do both close work and long-distance viewing.

Dr. Newton K. Wesley, director of the Eye Research Foundation, reported on the development in optical science today at a conference in New York.

He said the lens has been tested by 58 patients in Illinois, Texas and Oklahoma.

Dr. Wesley, of Chicago, said doctors who have been helping him follow the first users of the "bifocal" contact lens report that it works quite well.

The doctor and his associates have made formal reports on the new lens in scientific journals.

To read or do other close work, the wearer lowers his eyes in a natural reading position. When he looks upward again to resume distance vision, he simply blinks.

When the wearer does this, the lens centers itself so that the part ground for distance viewing is on a level with the pupil—black center—of the eye.

Security for You

All Earnings Counted Toward SS Limit

By RAY HENRY

From T. A. of New York City: "Some time ago you mentioned in your column that a parent could not earn Social Security coverage if he were working for a son or daughter. I'm wondering if the money earned by a parent working for a son is counted against the income limits which apply to a person collecting Social Security? For example, I'm working for my son and making about $1,800 a year. Before going to work for my son, I worked in another job and became eligible for Social Security payments. I'm now 66. Does the $1,800 my son pays me count toward the Social Security earnings limits?"

Yes. All earnings you have from any type of work, whether or not it's work covered by the Social Security law, is counted toward the Social Security earnings limit.

From P. D. L. of Pittsburgh: "In another year, I'll be retiring from my job with the federal government after 31 years service. I served in the Army for nearly two years during World War I, part of it in France. Is it possible that this military service can be credited toward my Civil Service annuity?"

Yes. As a general rule, military service is credited toward Civil Service retirement provided it was active duty, was terminated under honorable conditions and was rendered before separation from a civilian government job.

From Mrs. B. G. of Newark, N. J.: "If a woman is older than her husband, can she collect Social Security payments on her own work record when she reaches 62 and then switch over to payments on her husband's work record when he reaches 65?"

Yes, but any reduction in her payments due to collecting them before she reaches 65 is carried over to the payments she collects later based on her husband's Social Security record. For example: Suppose your payments at 62 are $24 a month, but would have been $30 if you'd waited until you reached 65 to collect. This reduction of $6 a month is carried over to any payments you collect based on your husband's Social Security record.

From Mrs. V. S. of Washington, D. C.: "My husband is 66, retired and receiving Social Security. I've never worked in a regular job because I've been too busy keeping house for my family. I was 61 on Feb. 10, 1958, and have a heart condition. Would I be able to get Social Security because of my age and poor health?"

No. Social Security disability payments may only be paid to people who've worked in jobs covered by Social Security. But, you will be able to draw payments as a wife when you reach 62 next Feb. 10.

From D. E. of Parsons, Kans.: "I have reason to believe that my employer has been deducting Social Security tax from my wages, but not turning the money over to the government. How can I check up on this?"

Write to the Social Security Administration, Candler Bldg., Baltimore 2, Md., and ask for a statement of wages. Give your Social Security number, full name and address and sign your name the way it appears on your Social Security card. After this statement is returned to you, compare it with your record of your wages. If the two don't jibe, ask the nearest Social Security office to investigate.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. Yo umay obtain Ray Henry's new social security handbook by sending 35 cents in coin to this newspaper and requesting "Security for You" booklet.)

Mikoyan Urges Germans to Bar Nuclear Weapons

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's Socialist opposition found new support today from touring Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in its campaign to keep nuclear weapons out of Germany.

Mikoyan entered the nation's heated internal battle over nuclear arms in a Khrushchev-style informal dinner toast last night. He said in case of war Russia would "be prepared to abstain" from using nuclear weapons in a West Germany free from such weapons.

The dinner marked the signing of a 750-million-dollar trade agreement between West Germany and Russia. Mikoyan, Moscow's top foreign trade expert, planned to talk today with Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard, the prophet of West Germany's free-enterprise postwar boom.

Whatever hopes Mikoyan had of laying the foundation for bigger commercial exchanges between the two nations seemed doomed to disappointment. Economic experts said it already has become obvious there will be difficulty in buying from the Russians all they want to sell under the new agreement.

Mikoyan's statement of nuclear arms added fuel to the nation's hottest dispute: whether West German troops should be armed with atomic weapons.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a staunch ally of the West, has put his government behind accepting the weapons if the North Atlantic Treaty Organization thinks them necessary for Allied defense. A formal NATO decision that they are has been expected.

Agree Small Car 'Not the Place to Have Baby'

DETROIT (AP) — Hugh Brotherton, 25, and his wife Carol, 24, agree the tiny foreign made Isetta automobile is fine for driving. They also agree it's "definitely no place to have a baby."

The couple were going home Thursday from the doctor's office when Mrs. Brotherton sensed the symptoms. Her husband stopped the miniature two-seater and called the fire department.

Fire Chief Harry Martin and two assistants arrived.

"Why, how can anyone have a baby in that thing," the chief asked.

Well, Mrs. Brotherton did. She and the baby girl are reported doing fine at a local hospital.

Battle Creek Editor Dies After Illness

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Albert L. Miller, long-time editor of the Battle Creek Enquirer and News and civic leader, died last night after a long illness. He was 82.

Miller was a newspaperman for 65 years and served as publisher as well as editor of the Enquirer and News before turning over the major responsibilities of the paper to his son, Robert B. Miller, and others in recent years.

Miller, active in local and state civic affairs for nearly a half-century, also served as president of Federated Publications, Inc. — publisher of the Enquirer and News, the Lansing (Mich.) State Journal and the Lafayette (Ind.) Journal and Courier.

Just Doing His Job

NEW YORK (INS)—Hundreds of motorists watched fearfully as a patrolman clambered up towering Manhattan Bridge to a man on a girder. The officer and the man, Edward Haggerty, spoke briefly and then, to the crowd's relief, both started down. As Haggert reached the roadway he was asked: "Why did you do it?" He replied angrily: "Because it's my job. I'm an inspector in the Department of Public Works and I have to look over the steel work every Thursday."

Steals Not for Money

LOS ANGELES (AP)—William F. Spicer, 26, was sentenced to 10 to 40 years in prison after pleading guilty to burglarizing churches and a warehouse. His explanation: "I don't always need the money. These burglaries ease my tensions. I sleep like a baby afterward."

In St. Eustatius, Netherlands West Indies, Fort Oranje fired the first salute of any foreign nation to the revolutionary flag of the American colonies in 1776.

Says Williams Plays Politics

Rep. Phillips Accuses Governor of Twisting Mental Health Facts

LANSING (AP) — The chairman of the House Sub-Committee on Mental Health Appropriations says Gov. Williams was "playing politics" when he forecast layoffs at Michigan's mental hospitals.

The Governor distorted facts and figures in his analysis of the $65,166,000 Mental Health Budget adopted by the Republican-controlled Legislature for 1958-59, said Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron).

"There is absolutely no reason why there should be any reduction in the standards of care for mental patients or any need for dismissing employes if there is a proper administration of every mental institution," he said.

"The administration as a whole has been lax," he added, "and we intend to remedy that so every patient will receive a dollar's worth of care and treatment for every dollar we appropriate."

Williams predicted about 325 employes in the Mental Health Department face layoffs as a result of Republican budget cutting. Other mental health programs, including research, drug therapy and patient care in boarding homes, also would suffer, he said.

Phillips said Charles F. Wagg, mental health director, has indicated the appropriation would enable his staff "to do a good job."

Indications are the department will turn back $1,300,000 in unspent funds at the end of the fiscal year June 30, Phillips said. The Governor's economy order to state department heads earlier this year and an average patient load of 2,000 less than anticipated were responsible for the savings, he said.

"I deeply resent the Governor's constant alarms which give undue worry and concern to the families of mental patients for his own political purposes," he said.

A veteran of 15 years in the Legislature, Phillips is the probable choice to head-up a legislative investigation of Michigan's mental hospitals after lawmakers meet for final adjournment May 15-16.

C. of C. Warns City of Knitting-Machines

It warned area women against hasty purchase of expensive knitting-machines in hopes they might earn extra money by turning out knitted products.

William L. Belaney, assistant manager of the chamber, said there was little chance the home-made products would be salable.

He said homes are being flooded with postcards from an out-of-town concern that offers to sell knitting machines and buy back the knitted products.

"This offer seems particularly attractive in homes where the wage-earner is unemployed," Belaney said. "The racket is aimed a persons least able to afford it."

The machines cost $250 apiece and are too complicated for easy operation by the average person, Belaney said.

Governor Vetoes Bill on Moving Christmas Trees

LANSING (AP) — A bill to outlaw transportation of a Christmas tree or evergreen bough without a bill of sale has run into a veto by Gov. Williams.

Present law does not require a bill of sale for transporting less than seven trees from January through November and less than four trees in December.

"It is quite understandable that we should discourage and penalize those few who go on the property of others for the purpose of cutting and stealing Christmas trees," the Governor said yesterday in explaining his veto. But he added:

"In controlling this kind of evil, we should not also make law violators out of every person who buys a Christmas tree or evergreen bough and drives home with it without a bill of sale."

Violation of the law would have meant up to 90 days in jail and a $100 fine for the offender.

Proves Security Nil by Stealing Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A young Library of Congress technician says he walked away with 456 hush-hush scientific documents from the library without being detected. He says he did it to show that the nation's security practices are faulty.

John W. Dukeminier, 24, a microphotographer, said yesterday he took the documents, labeled secret and confidential, from the Armed Services Technical Information Agency at the library.

He said he reported his action to the National Security Council in a letter to Robert Cutler, President Eisenhower's special assistant for national security affairs.

A spokesman for Cutler said an investigation is under way. Col. Woodrow W. Dunlop, ASTIA commanding officer, declined comment pending an inquiry.

Michigan Newsman to Head Ad Bureau

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis A. Weil Jr. of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been elected board chairman of the American Newspaper Publisher Assn's. Bureau of Advertising.

Weil, executive vice president of Federated Publications, Inc., was named yesterday to succeed Richard L. Jones Jr., president of Newspaper Printing Corp., Tulsa, Okla.

Russ Stewart, general manager of the Chicago Sun-Times, was named to succeed Weil as vice chairman. Weil had served two successive terms in that position.

Neighbors Form Human Chain to Save 9 Tots From Blazing Home

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Five young children perished late last night in a fire that swept a crowded two-story frame home in Erie's East End. Two other youngsters were burned, one critically.

Fourteen children under 15 years, the members of four Negro families, were sleeping when the blaze broke out shortly before midnight.

The survivors were dragged out of the inferno by neighbors, some of whom formed a human chain, entered the building and passed out the children hand-to-hand.

Edward Knight, a neighbor who turned in the first alarm, said:

"I could hear them screaming in there. The children were in a back bedroom. But they wouldn't have known which way to go anyway. It was bad, real bad."

Det. Sgt. Chester Wizikowski said the fire apparently was started by an overheated kerosene heater.

Wizikowski said the home was occupied by Mrs. Anna Williams, her four daughters and their children. He identified the dead as Marvin, 11 months; Terena, 1; Alphonse, 11; Rosetta, 8, and Sherod, 8 months.

THE BRANDING IRON

The red hot branding iron is the epitome of torture and yet every human being endures a brand, seared into his being during our lifetime. The felon wears the brand of shame, the corrupt politician wears the brand of repudiation while at the other end of our thoughts we see the kindly man with his family who proudly wears the brand of honor. We see the farmer [illegible] animals, plowing, harvesting and we [illegible] with provider. Through misfortun[illegible] see a mother with her children, tea[illegible] them the rudiments of honor among [illegible]mselves and others, see her guide them, inspire them, and watch her as she sees them graduate from school, marry and take their place in the scheme of things. The brand she wears shines through her eyes, her voice rings with pride and above her head we see a halo.

Carnival Spirit Prevails at U. of M.

Stuffing away with colored napkins in a chicken-wire frame are (left to right) Zack Athanas of Birch street, Frances Sekles of Ottawa drive, Douglas Read, of Orange Grove avenue and Madeline Van Matre of West Huron street, as they prepare a float for entry in University of Michigan's Michigras parade.

A salad bowl was the finished product which Judith Palmer of Dakota drive worked to achieve in her share of work on this float. It was entitled "Caesar's Salad" when it was entered in the parade.

'Michigras' Gets Into Swing

By ROSE PERLBERG
U. of M. Correspondent

Carnival spirit is in the air at University of Michigan these days, as men and women begin a weekend of fun and frolic at Michigras, their gala biennial spring festival.

Modeled after the Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans, Michigras opened with a giant parade Friday afternoon. Winding through Ann Arbor's streets were some 32 colorful floats, led off by Michigan's smart, high-stepping Marching Band, and including such attractions as strutting high school bands and gaudily-dressed clowns.

Each portraying some aspect of the theme, "Ventures-In-Ventions," floats represented the efforts of men and women in fraternities, sororities and independent housing units.

RUSH WAS ON

After months in the planning stage, this week saw industrious workers frantically stuffing millions of colored napkins into chicken-wire frames, pounding sturdy boards together and adding the last splashes of bright paint.

The completed floats, many 30 to 40 feet long and as high as 15 feet, have been compared with those in the famous Rose Bowl Parade. Friday, watching crowds saw such "In-Ventions" as the "Satellite," the "First Atomic Sub," "Mousetrap," an "Education Machine," and a "Swiss Clock."

Prizes will be awarded to floats on the basis of construction soundness, originality, attractiveness and conformity to the theme. Making the decisions will be Attorney General Paul Adams, University President Harlan Hatcher, Ann Arbor's Mayor Samuel Eldersveld and two guest judges.

The real carnival began Friday night in Yost Fieldhouse. Transformed into a huge "Big Top" the fieldhouse is the scene of 30 student-built and manned booths, offering visitors games of chance, shows and a variety of refreshments.

BRIGHT NIGHT SCENE

Outside a panorama of swirling light and color brighten the evening sky, as fast moving rides, big and small, take guests on thrilling tumbles through space. Provided by a professional carnival company, the rides will run continuously through the weekend.

Climax of the gay, excitment-filled weekend comes during this evening's fieldhouse festivities, when President Hatcher will present trophies to winning booth and float groups.

Deciding who will get show booth honors are judges Assistant Dean of Women Gertrude Mulhollan, Assistant Dean of Women Elizabeth A. Leslie, Professor Thomas Larkin of the College of Architecture and Design, Professor Marvin Eisenberg of the Department of Fine Arts, and representatives of a local gift shop.

Their decisions, as well as those pertaining to float winners will remain secret until the big moment tonight.

TO AID 4 ORGANIZATIONS

In 1956, crowds of more than 16,000 jammed the fieldhouse. Some $14,376 in profits went to four charities. Receiving proceeds of Friday and Saturday nights' entertainment will be the U. of M. Fresh Air Camp, Wendy Owens Memorial Fund, Washtenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Association for retarded children, and University Hospital Division of the American Cancer Society.

Michigras 1958 became a reality under the direction of a 22-man Central Committee, representing sponsoring organizations, Women's Athletic Association and the Michigan Union. Hundreds of students have been busy since last October on subcommittees and housing unit committees.

The carnival weekend has a long and colorful history. It was born as a county fair in 1902, with the hope of raising funds for a struggling Women's Athletic Association and the then active 'M' Club.

GREW IN POPULARITY

The fair was repeated three years later, with the addition of a parade, which seems to have boosted its popularity, despite a heavy rainstorm.

In 1937, the name Michigras was coined and has stuck ever since. So, it seems, has its success in collecting money for charities or worthy University projects.

Over the years, Michigras has grown in size and scope. This year's central committee has turned "Ventures-In-Ventions" into the biggest so far, and they promise a "royal weekend" for all Michi-followers.

Busy sign painters are (left) Phyllis Young of Orchard Lake and Barbara Ruth of North Hammond Lake drive. These U. of M. students are working on part of the float, The First Atomic Sub" which their sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi, entered in the Michigras parade Friday afternoon.

Central committee members for the biennial carnival at the U. of M. are (left) Donald McNeal of Birmingham, who was in charge of the 29 booths at Michigras, and Frederick Holt of Birmingham, refreshment committee chairman.

Smoking Rules Changing

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever in good taste for a man, or woman, to smoke a cigarette during, or between, the different courses of a dinner? For example: A person has finished one course and is waiting for others to finish this same course before being served the next one."

Answer: Smoking at the dinner table is not correct unless cigarettes and ash trays have been placed on the table by the hostess. I am sorry to have to tell you though that this rule is almost universally being disregarded, and people, even in our best society, are now smoking all through dinner.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Can you please solve a problem for us. It concerns the correct way to answer the telephone at home. Whenever my mother answers the telephone and the caller asks, "My I speak to Mary?" my mother always says, "Who's calling please?" before calling me to the telephone.

"This occurs when my mother doesn't recognize the voice of the caller, whether it be a man or woman. I do not think this is right — it sounds as though my mother mistrusts me. However, we have agreed to stop arguing about this matter and to abide by your decision."

Answer: Your mother asks "Who is calling" so that if it is someone you do not want to talk to, you can be "not at home" or if you are really out she will be able to tell you who called.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother passed away four months ago. I have the opportunity of going to a formal dinner dance in two weeks given by an organization of which I am a member. Would it be proper for me to go at this time? If not, how long a period should I wait before going to functions of this kind?"

Answer: Had you, even a few years ago, gone to a dance without waiting at least six months after your mother's death you would have been criticized for lack of respect to her memory, but today the rules of mourning have been so liberalized that if your own feelings let you go to this dance I doubt that anyone will think anything about seeing you there.

Dear Abby ....

That Speedy Kiss Was Hit and Miss!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am in the Eighth Grade and was the first girl in the class to kiss this new boy who just moved here from El Dorado, Tex. He has a very cute accent and wears a nailhead belt and boots. I kissed him on his lunch hour and gave him my telephone number but he didn't call me.

ABBY

"Next day he said he had so many telephone numbers in his wallet he didn't know which one was mine. Do you think this was a good excuse or should I quit him?"

PONY TAIL

DEAR PONY: Your Texas newcomer doesn't let any cactus grow under his boots. Everything grows taller in Texas . . . including the tales. Let him locate your number and chase you for a while.

"DEAR ABBY: We had a sitter who used to tell our little boy stories about wild animals and witches who live in the dark. Now our child refuses to go to sleep unless we keep all the lights on.

"I have tried to tell him these stories are all made up, but it doesn't do any good. He is terrified of the dark. Please tell us what to do.

MRS. T.

DEAR MRS. T.: Try a "night light" and also a cuddly little toy animal to keep him company in his bed. If this persists, better ask your doctor to recommend a child-behavior specialist.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my parents have been divorced three years. All of a sudden my father comes back and my mother is letting him live with us.

"We have a one-bedroom apartment and a studio couch in the front room. I would rather not say who is sleeping where but I think if my father wants to live here he should hurry up and marry my mother again. Am I correct?"

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: You are correct. And you are old enough to call this to your parents' attention.

"DEAR ABBY: May I put in my two cents' worth about some of the pitfalls encountered by those who have tried to quit smoking? The first week, my family said to me, "Will you please break down and have a cigaret? Your disposition is so ugly nobody can live with you!" I replied, "I took a solemn oath to quit smoking here so I won't smoke there." That shut them up."

A WINNER

"DEAR ABBY: My husband's Army buddy is living in our city now after having been transferred here with a chain store operation. He has no special religion but he goes to some church every Sunday just to meet people.

"He has been going from one church to the other looking over the ladies (he is single). Shopping around in places of worship burns me up. Everyone thinks he is high-minded, but I think this shows what a low character he is. What do you think?"

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: He couldn't be too "low" or he wouldn't be shopping around for a church-going lady. Don't judge him too harshly.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETTY THE BOWLER: Wipe the slate clean, set 'em up and start over again. He's right up your alley!

CONFIDENTIAL TO KAY: You can keep it under your hat, but that's not where it's going to show. Tell your mother.

Swing Time Exercise

Overweight Shows Even in Knees

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Few women are knee deep in beauty. That is why I hope skirts never become that short again! There are too many homely knees and somehow they are more noticeable in a short skirt than when the leg is seen as a whole as it is when wearing shorts or a swim suit. One era of knobby knees and fat knees is enough for one life-time!

Knee defects which come from bone structure cannot be improved with exercise. This of course is the case of the knobby knee. However, you can improve the appearance of your knees if your problem is too much fat there.

Also, remember that your general weight affects the way your knees look. If you are very much underweight, you will have bony knees. If you are very much overweight you are a rare woman if your knees do not also become fat.

I remember once, a long, long time ago, I allowed myself to gain 14 pounds too much. I looked at my knees one night and was frightened. I thought I was swollen up with some poison in my system. My husband gently reminded me that I had never been that fat before and that maybe that was the reason for the change.

Now if I gain a pound my family refers to it as "Poison Fat." Believe me it is poisonous, too, so far as a woman's ego is concerned.

SWING LEG

Anyway if your knees are too fat do the following exercise. Lie on your back, with your arms resting on the floor at your sides and your legs straight. Lift the left leg half-way up to right angles to the body. Hold it there while you swing the leg (from the knee down) in a circle, first in one direction and then in the other. Lower leg. After a while lift the right leg halfway up and circle, from the knee down.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Mastery of Living Reward at Forty

By RUTH MILLETT

There are more than a few advantages to a woman in being 40 instead of 20.

At 40 she can get a botched-up hairdo and not think her life is ruined.

She can have a fight with the man she loves and know it will be made-up like all the quarrels that have gone before it and were made up and forgotten.

She can sit home on Saturday night without feeling that life is passing her by.

She can think of a dozen things to do when canceled plans leave her with a free half day, instead of feeling at loose ends.

She can fail at something without feeling like a total failure.

She knows that "things will look better in the morning" and that "if it can't be helped there's no use worrying about it."

She isn't surprised or resentful when small things go wrong, for she expects such upsets and usually makes allowances for them.

She is rarely "embarrassed to death" by anything that happens.

She knows how to hide a hurt and keep her chin up instead of bursting into tears.

She knows she can admit making a mistake without losing face.

But best of all, perhaps, at 40 she is willing to pause now and then and remember yesterdays.

Family Will Gobble Up Sweet Rolls

Mrs. Shelton's Easy Cinnamon Swirls a Fragrant Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Homemade sweet rolls are as welcome as spring flowers. They are so easy to make that we think they should become a weekly feature in most homes.

Mrs. Leo Shelton shares her recipe for Cinnamon Rolls. The mother of three preschool children, she works as a nurse two days a week. Each week she helps in the toddlers' room at her church. Baking is one of her hobbies.

CINNAMON ROLLS
By Mrs. Leo Shelton

1 cup milk
1 package yeast
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 egg
⅓ cup butter
1½ cups sifted flour
Cinnamon and sugar

Scald milk; let cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in cooled milk, add first 1½ cups flour and beat thoroughly. Let stand in warm place until very light.

Add sugar, salt, beaten eggs and butter. Mix in second 1½ cups flour or enough to knead dough. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until double.

Roll out on floured board to a rectangle, ¼ inch thick. Brush with butter and sprinkle thickly with cinnamon and sugar. Roll up like jelly roll. Cut into slices, 1-inch thick.

Place close together in greased layer cake pan. Let rise to double. Bake 25 minutes in 350-degree oven. While still warm, glaze with a mixture of confectioners sugar, almond flavoring and a few drops of boiling water. Garnish with nuts. Makes 2 dozen rolls.

Today's pattern is a case in point. On the face of it, it is a sweet dress with a pretty neckline and pleated skirt, but here are the inside facts.

The crisp white trim is shaped and placed most particularly, serving as a cool frame for your face and neck, extending your shoulder line to cover upper arms.

The pleated skirt has only one seam, is pleated on the length with the waistline side of the pleats cleverly tapered to add additional width at the hem, eliminates bulk at the belt.

10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16⅝
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17½

Size 12 requires 4⅞ yards of 36 inch material for dress and 5/8 yard of 36 inch material for contrast. To order Pattern No. 1183, state size, send $1.00.

Mend Laundry Before Bundling

A stitch in time will save more than nine if you keep a sharp outlook for holes and tears when assembling your laundry bundle. Soiled clothing and flatwork should be mended before the laundry routeman shows up.

If time is at a premium, merely draw the holes together roughly for the time being with an oversewing stitch. Thin spots should be reinforced by darning before sending any articles to the laundry.

Flowered Shoes

Shoes decorated either with flowers or feathers are the latest thing in Paris. They look best in the home.

Officers Elected by Figure Club

Elected to serve as president of Fashion Your Figure Club of Pontiac Thursday evening was Mrs. Helen Hunt. Also named at the meeting held in Adah Shelley library were Mrs. Elmer Davis, vice president; Mrs. Hartley Bray, secretary; Mrs. Orville Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Johnson, weight recorder, and Mrs. Harry Wallace Jr., scales manager.

Remove Makeup and Cleanse Well

Models and actresses know many makeup secrets. But one of their best ones isn't a secret, really. It is proper removal of makeup and cleansing the face and neck so pores won't become clogged.

Use a cleansing cream to remove all makeup and then wash with soap and water.

Movie Snackers Should Be Quiet

If you must eat at a movie, at least try to make as little noise as possible.

Crumpling paper, passing a sack of popcorn up and down an aisle to share it with your companions, etc., makes it pretty hard for those around you to hear the show.

Use Stale Bread

When preparing bread shapes for canapes, use slightly stale bread and cut the loaf lengthwise in thin slices; cut shapes and toast in oven broiler.

Pins Given to Pupils by DAR

These outstanding young citizens were honored Friday at a ceremony in Jefferson Junior High School. Whittier Choir, under the direction of Albert Shaw, sang two spirituals. Sunshine Workers Club received a merit award which was presented by Agnes Hilton.

Ladies Aid Unit Holds Luncheon

Mrs. Leslie Bibby of Euclid avenue entertained the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church for luncheon. She was aided at the Thursday meeting by Mrs. Guy Caswell and Mrs. William Bradley. Mrs. Bradley also participated in the program.

Cancer pads were made for the American Cancer Society. Mrs. C. W. Seaman will open her Menominee road home for the next meeting.

LaZaroff Speaks at Zonta Club

"Photography" was the subject which Dimitri LaZaroff chose when he spoke Thursday at a luncheon meeting of Zonta Club. He was introduced at the gathering in Hotel Waldron by Helen Travis, program chairman for the day.

The speaker gave pointers on lighting and portrait modeling emphasizing the importance of proper makeup. He gave hints on the type of clothing and neckline for a portrait sitting.

No Sacks for Guides at Fair

A white nylon blouse is worn under the jacket, which has three-quarter length sleeves. The outfit is topped by a gold sateen beret. The shoes are specially designed Capezios.

Although the guides are not raving about it, they think it is practical. They have two complete outfits for the six months they will be on duty in the American pavilion. The material is drip-dry.

Beret Started Out as Man's Fashion

The popularity of the beret reminds us that this soft hat style was originally a masculine one.

Charlemagne is said to have owned a collection of 500 different berets.

St. John Unit Plans Mom-Daughter Tea

The film "Reasons for Being" was shown by Mrs. Carl Nelson when members of the Ladies Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran Church met in the church parlors.

Plans were completed for the Mother - and - Daughter Tea to be held at 6 p.m. Thursday. "A Luncheon Is Served" will be held on May 20 followed by a style show with fashions by J. C. Penney's store.

Hair and Hat Bulk Should Harmonize

If you wear a full-blown hat, be sure that your coiffure is moderately full beneath it. Otherwise, when you doff your hat you're apt to look like a pinhead.

Don't try to cram a fluffy hairdo under a close cap either. Hat and hairdo should harmonize in bulk as well as in line.

Everett Spurlock Talks on Church

Everett Spurlock was the speaker Friday for the April meeting of the Womens' Fellowship of the First Congregational Church. He discussed the church in social action.

Phyllis Smith sang two spirituals, accompanied by Charles Wilson.

Confident Living

Industrialist Has Answer After Prayer Meeting

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Robert G. LeTourneau, a notable industrialist and manufacturer of earth-moving machinery has devoted his wealth and time to the service of God and the good of his fellowmen.

DR. PEALE

During World War II, LeTourneau received an order from the government for a complicated large machine to lift airplanes. No machine quite like it had ever previously been designed, so I understand.

By way I heard the story it seems that LeTourneau and his engineers went to work on the problem, but it baffled them. After working for several days it became more and more apparent that they weren't getting anywhere and everyone became tense.

PEALE

It was Wednesday night, and in the midst of their work LeTourneau suddenly announced: "Well, boys, I'm knocking off. I'm going to prayer meeting."

"Why," they said, "you can't do that, boss. We've got a deadline to meet on this job."

"But," he answered, I've got a deadline with God."

LeTourneau went to that prayer meeting, meanwhile putting the problem of the machine out of his mind. He sang hymns. He prayed. He got himself into harmony with God.

After the prayer meeting, according to the story, while on his way home, suddenly in his mind, he saw the correct design of the machine on which they had been working. Of course the answer he had sought was in his mind all along, but it had needed the creative stimulation of the atmosphere developed in that prayer meeting to bring it forth.

This incident illustrates a valuable formula for meeting deadlines or responsibilities which require creative ideas. From the experience just described it appears that: (1) You must have knowledge and experience. (2) Give the problem all you've got of intensive thought and study. (3) Don't press the mind to the point of overstress, else it will tighten up and ideas will stop coming through. (4) Relax mind and body to keep creative processes fluid. (5) Pray and worship to bring yourself into harmony with the Great Mind from which all worthwhile insights come.

So, don't try so hard to force ideas! Relax and pray for real insights. Whatever the problem, drop it confidently into the deep well of unconscious cerebration. Say to yourself: "I am a child of God and, therefore, am able to handle this responsibility. I affirm confidence in God and in His power to help me. I can think my way through my problem with His help. I will relax in God's creative quietness knowing that the right answer will come through.

You do not necessarily need to attend a prayer meeting, as did Mr. LeTourneau, to succeed in problem solving. Church services can be of great help in nurturing and developing ideas, but you can also find your answers in quiet meditation and private prayer and Bible reading.

A few lines back I used the phrase "the deep well of unconscious cerebration." It refers to that depth in your mind where God presides, where true answers lie waiting to be summoned forth through Divine guidance.

The mind is so constituted that if you direct maximum attention to a problem, without overstress and with calm faith in God, fully believing that you are going to get the right answer, meanwhile keeping a calm and unruffled mind, that answer will appear. And this is the surest guarantee that it will be the RIGHT answer too.

TEA TIME — Mrs. Fred Reich of 36 Franklin Blvd. is pouring tea and serving "honey balls" to Linda Mattingly of 631 Benson St. as she will at 3 p. m. Sunday in the First Church of God, 25 S. East Blvd. The occasion will be the annual Silver Benefit Tea with the theme, "Tea Time in Japan." With other members of the Sunday School, Linda studied about Japan during the month of January. Of Japanese birth, Mrs. Reich is wearing a kimona of black background with red and white design. Linda's kimona is of pink and soft orange with flowered design. Both are wearing the "geta" or platform shoe.

Sunday Event to Aid Missions

Church of God to Hold 'Tea Time in Japan'

"Tea Time in Japan," scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday at First Church of God, will bring a far country close to home for Pontiac people, through authentic portrayal of customs, peoples, exhibits and foods.

The Japanese tea, served by Japanese born Mrs. Takako Reich, will be a feature of the annual silver benefit reception by which the church aids home and world missions.

Mrs. Reich will wear her native kimono with its colorful "obi" or belt, and traditional "tabs" socks and "zori" sandals, to preside at the low table.

A rice dish, "shushi," will be served for those who wish to taste and learn to use chopsticks, and Japanese candy, shrimp chip puffs, will be part of the fare.

There also will be an American style tea table for general serving.

STORY-TELLER MAN

The "kamishibai" (story-teller man) will come clacking his sticks and the group of children following will listen as he begins his "true story of Japan"—concerning mission work and world friendship.

The characters in the tale will come alive as the story is dramatised by young people of the Church of God congregation. There will be Japanese singing, too, to add to the foreign atmosphere.

The junior church youngsters and the Church Choir will bring into focus the purpose of the tea, emphasizing the brotherhood of mankind and the obligation, under God, to care for one another.

Special tribute will be given to Mrs. Audrey Puckett of Pontiac for her "outstanding work and consecrated interest in world neighbors."

The Rev. Eugene Ramsey, pastor of the church, has invited all interested persons, as well as church members and their friends, to "kite kudasai" (please come). The church is located at 25 East Blvd. S. in Pontiac.

In the evening, a film, "Fujita—Orhpan in Japan," will be shown as part of the 7:30 p.m. service. Visitors will be welcomed at this service also, the pastor said.

Kalamazoo College Choir to Give Concert Monday

The Kalamazoo College Singers will be guests of Bethany Baptist Church Monday night and will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

Lou Ellen Jones of Pontiac and Rick Kontz and Mary Ojala of Birmingham are area residents of the choir.

On their annual spring tour, the 42 men and women singers will present both sacred and secular choral work, a cappella and accompanied.

Professor Henry Overley AAGO, head of the music department since 1936, is a music educator, organist and composer.

More than 25 of his compositions have been published and sung by leading choirs throughout the country said the Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor of Bethany.

Mr. Overley is founder and director of the Kalamazoo College Bach Festival, now in its 12th annual season.

At the 9 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow, Dr. Chapman will speak on "When Is a Church Christian?" The youth participant at the early service will be Jeff Bergemann. Elaine Garrett will assist the pastor at 11.

RUSSELL E. ELLIOTT

Ministers to Hear Detroit Speaker

Russell E. Elliott, director of public relations for the YMCA of Detroit, will be the speaker at the 10:30 morning meeting of the Pontiac Pastors' Association Friday in the First Presbyterian Church.

His subject will be "The Pastor's Role in Public Relations and His Use of Mediums of Communication in Church Promotion."

Mr. Elliott is a graduate of the University of Illinois School of Journalism and holds a Master's Degree from Wayne State University. He has had 26 years experience as a newspaper man.

Not Everyone Shares TV Critics' Opinions

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Is television really lousy—as the critics say it is — and if so, what are you going to do about it next season?"

I tossed that impudent question at Ed Sullivan, Steve Allen, Jack Barry, Dody Goodman and others — and found out that THEY all think TV's pretty good. However, comedy's coming back . . . yet serious things are on the way, too.

WILSON

Jack Barry was sitting with a beautiful pair of shoulder named Greta Thyssen at the Friars Club. "I agree with you that every critic's lambasting the quiz-and-game shows," Quizmaster Barry told me.

"But apparently the public likes them. Otherwise how do you account for the high ratings? We have four shows now—and we will prepare even more—two or three more—for next season. Giveaway shows will pass . . . but they will come back. They always do."

DODY GOODMAN

"Sure I'd like to change TV. I have a mental health series called 'Conflict' I'm pushing like hell for next year—sort of a 'Medic' with a psychiatrist as central figure. But there's terrific resistance to it from the agencies. They don't think the public is ready for it," he shrugged.

Steve Allen was in his dressing room. "TV's bad?" he echoed as though this were news to him. "I have the vague impression that dramtic shows are better. Comedy may not be as good, because so many guys have gone off—but our program's gradually becoming an out-and-out comedy show rather than a variety show."

"Do you think you might take on Dody Goodman regularly?"

Steve hesitated. "We're going to try to use her again. We like her. We might use my wife Jayne, and Audrey Meadows every few weeks in a kind of a family sketch."

Dody Goodman said for herself she'd like to get into a situation comedy. "I'm not a variety performer, I can't do monologues," she said. What about Jack Paar? "I guess I'm finished there," she said.

Ed Sullivan spoke up sharply that TV's improved—"Of course there has to be a lot of tripe used to fill all the time, but I think we're inclined to kiss it off too easily."

To oppose "Maverick," Ed grabbed two comedy teams. "We'll emphasize comedy especially in the first half hour. Some of the sketches will run 8 to 15 minutes," Ed said.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Joanne Woodward says she and Paul Newman plan to live in N.Y.: "We'll never own a home in Hollywood!" . . . Boxer Archie Moore opened a publicity office . . . Tab for the "ginger-bread" house to be used on the "Hansel and Gretel" TV show is $7,500 (just what a real house used to cost). Sam Cook, the hottest new singer, bought a huge annuity with his recording loot. Members of the Sgt. Bilko TV platoon wear dogtags during the show—but they're blank. (One actor said, "The Army even took our names away") . . . Nat (King) Cole's ann'y gift to his wife: a Thunderbird with a horn that plays part of "St. Louis Blues."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Sugar Ray Robinson watched a dull movie and reported, "Seeing it once is like sitting through it twice." . . . That's earl, brother.

2 Area Students to Be Honored

Selected to Attend Wolverine States at Michigan Universities

NORTH BRANCH — Richard Butterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Butterfield of North Branch, has been chosen to attend Wolverine Boys' State on the campus of the Michigan State University at East Lansing from June 19 to 26.

Sharon DeGrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollie DeGrow of North Branch, has been selected to attend Wolverine Girls' State on the campus of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor from June 17 to 26. She is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

These two students were chosen from the junior class for their high sense of duty and morality, honesty, mental alertness, sportsmanship, leadership and cooperativeness.

At Wolverine States they will receive intensive instruction and practice in governmental procedure. Each girl or boy will be assigned to a "city" where elections for city, county and state officers will take place.

After nine days in governmental instructions, two boys and two girls will be selected to attend Girls' Nation and Boys' Nation at Washington, D.C.

CHURCH OF CHRIST — The congregation of the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ now meeting at 3261 Orchard Lake Rd. has approved plans for a new auditorium and educational plant. Construction will begin early this summer on lots located on Inverness, at Orchard Lake and Middlebelt roads. The estimated cost of the building is $85,000. The structure will seat 350 in the auditorium with additional seating for 500 made available by opening folding walls. The drive for funds will begin at the 6:30 dinner tonight in the present church building. Financing will be by the Broadway Plan with Gene Jonas of 407 S. Paddock St., chairman of the central committee. Marvin Hastings is minister.

Minister Announces Church Building Plans

Marvin W. Hastings, minister, is announcing plans for a bond selling campaign to provide money for the proposed new building of the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ now of Keego Harbor.

The congregation has approved the building of a new auditorium and educational plant on the property owned by the church on Inverness at Middlebelt and Orchard Lake roads, Sylvan Lake.

Construction is expected to begin early this summer.

The structure will consist of an auditorium seating 350, with a portion of the educational area opening into it by the removal of folding walls, giving a capacity seating of 500.

Also included will be ten classrooms, a nursery, church office, baptistry facilities, rest rooms and a utility room. The estimated cost is $85,000.

The Sylvan Lake Church is using the Broadway Plan for financing the building.

TO SELL BONDS

According to Mr. Hastings, thousands of churches throughout the country have financed new churches and additions using this method without a default. The plan calls for the members to sell 5 per cent interest bearing bonds with a bank appointed as paying agent.

The organizations for selling the bonds consist of a central committee. This includes the finance committee, chairman of the building committee, church treasurer and the minister. Gene Jonas is general chairman.

The following captains head teams composed of the entire membership, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Browning, Mr. and Mrs. James Chittick, the Kenneth Locks, the Roy Nichalsons, Mr. and Mrs. John Potter Jr., the Joseph Poulsons, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Riley, and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Joe Whitmire.

The drive will get under way at a "kickoff" dinner meeting at 6:30 tonight in the present church building at 3261 Orchard Lake Rd. J. Harvey Dykes of the Vinewood Church of Christ, Detroit, will be the speaker.

About eight years ago several families met in the Community Building at Keego Harbor to worship. Sensing the need for future planning, the congregation acquired the lots in Sylvan Lake and incorporated as the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ.

Six years ago the present building was purchased. The mortgage on this building was burned at the annual meeting in January. The Inverness property was paid for several years ago.

served the congregation: Wheeler Utley of Birmingham, L. C. Utley of Ann Arbor and the present minister, Marvin W. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings stated: "There is an acute need for expansion. We realize that few churches have ever been built or could have kept pace with a growing community through the years, without sacrificial effort. This we are pledged to do."

Narleski Keeps Indian Sign on Tigers

Bunning Routed as Tribe Romps to 12-2 Victory

Vernon Clouts Four-Run Homer; Bengals Limited to Six Hits

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray Narleski, the able Cleveland hurler, seems to have Indian sign on the Detroit Tigers and their ace pitcher, Jim Bunning.

In three starts this season Narleski has lost one and won two — both wins coming at the expense of Detroit and Bunning, a 20-game winner for the Tigers in 1957, who has won only once in three outings this season.

Narleski racked up his second straight triumph over Bunning, last night by holding the Tigers to six hits as his teammates clobbered Detroit for a 12-2 victory.

The loss dropped the Tigers into a fourth place tie with the Indians. Both clubs are a game and a half behind the American League leading New York Yankees, with Washington holding down second and Kansas City third.

Bunning held the Indians scoreless until the third inning when Mickey Vernon blasted a grand slam home run to stake Narleski to a 4-0 lead. Vernon's blast into the right field stands brought in Bobby Avila, Minnie Minoso and Roger Maris.

The Indians clobbered Bunning and reliefer Mickey McDermott for six more runs in the fourth inning before Hank Aguirre came in to collect the final two outs and stop the slaughter. Avila drove in two runs in the wild-scoring inning with a double, Minoso drove in two more with a single to center, and Carrasquel made it 10-1 with a single to center.

Detroit picked up its first run in the top of the fourth on a single by Milt Bolling, a double by Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline's infield out. The Tigers got their final tally of the game in the sixth when Milt Bolling walked and Kuenn doubled.

The Indians got their 11th run in the fifth and their final tally in the seventh on Billy Harrell's double and a single by Minoso.

The game was the first in a four-game series between the Tigers and the Indians. Frank Lary (0-1) of Detroit faces Jim Grant (1-0) today.

Baltimore Outfielder Beats Ex-Mates in 9th

Woodling Squelches Yanks

The Associated Press

Well, whaddya know! Those New York Yankees ain't perfect after all. And while the record is being set straight, it might be mentioned that Gene Woodling should find things a bit more pleasant in Baltimore from now on.

Woodling, the ex-Yankee who was booed out of Baltimore three seasons ago, was traded to Cleveland, and now is back with the Orioles, improved public relations immensely last night. It was his pinch-hit, two-out, two-strike double in the ninth that turned a shutout into a 2-1 victory over the Yanks.

It was the second consecutive game in which the defending American League champs blew a lead in the ninth. What's more, it was slick-fielding shortstop Gil McDougald who made the boots in both losses.

Last night, he bobbled a leadoff grounder by Dick Williams in the ninth. A fielder's choice, a walk to fleet Jim Busby and Woodling's Yankee style clutch hit broke up a wonderful duel between right-hander Connie Johnson of the Orioles and Whitey Ford, the Yankees' stubby southpaw.

Both finished with five-hitters, with Ford striking out eight and Johnson six. Both now are 1-1.

The Washington Senators moved into second, a game behind the Yankees, on Pete Ramos' six-hit, 2-0 victory at Boston. The Chicago White Sox escaped the cellar and dropped Kansas City to a close third by beating the A's 6-5 in 12 innings. Cleveland smacked Detroit 12-2.

Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron each had two of the Yankee hits off Johnson, who yielded a run on Mantle's double and a single by Skowron in the first, then shut out the champs the rest of the way. Ford, who beat the Birds 3-1 last week, had no-hit the Orioles from the fourth until Woodling's shot off the right field wall. Johnson's lone defeat was a 7-0 shutout by the Yanks.

Ramos, now 13-5 against Boston, gained his third major league shutout and second against the Red Sox. The young right-hander (he'll be 23 Monday) fanned seven for a 2-0 record, both against Boston. Southpaw Frank Baumann struck out 10 in his seven frames for the Red Sox, but lost it in the fifth when Eddie Yost doubled and a pair of ex-Sox, Albie Pearson and Norm Zauchin, followed with a single and double.

The White Sox, who had lost five straight, scored three in the ninth for a tie, then beat reliever Walt Craddock on Luis Aparicio's one-out single in the 12th. Bill Fischer, who came on in the ninth, won his first with four-innings of no-hit relief.

The latest offensive and defensive techniques of the multiple offense, split-T and single wing will be explained during the session. Such topics as defensive trends in Michigan high schools and Texas football will also be discussed for the benefit of the 600 attending.

Demonstrations, drills, game movies of the Spartans and other Big 10 teams, a visit to a spring squad practice and training talks by veteran MSU trainer Jack Heppinstall will be other activities held for the coaches. The clinic will be held at both the Kellogg Center and Jenison Fieldhouse.

Highlighting the affair will be the 2nd annual "Old Timers Game" next Saturday afternoon. More than 200,000 fans are expected at Spartan Stadium to watch former State stars battle the 1958 varsity.

Frisco Blanks Cubs for 3rd Consecutive Win

Giants Take Over NL Lead

The Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants, winning their third straight, climbed into the National League lead last night with a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Right-hander Ray Monzant, no rookie but a youngster, gained his first major league shutout with a four-hitter while rookie Bob Schmidt tripled and scored the first run (on Monzant's single) and rookie Orlando Cepeda drove in the second.

At Los Angeles, rookie Norm Larker drove in a pair of runs and rookie southpaw Fred Kipp won his first as a record NL night-game crowd of 60,635 sat in on the Dodgers' 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Milwaukee's world champion Braves gained a share of second with the Cubs, a half-game behind, as ex-Cub Bob Rush tossed a six-hit shutout for a 4-0 decision over Philadelphia. Pittsburgh clipped Cincinnati 4-3.

Monzant, beating the Cubs for the first time in five decisions, struck out seven—three times fanning dangerous Ernie Banks—and didn't allow a walk for his second victory. Jim Brosnan lost it for a 1-2 record, although allowing only five hits. The game drew a crowd of 16,870.

Kipp, who had a brief fling last year, didn't walk a man, but needed relief when the Cardinals scored an unearned run in the eighth that made it 4-3. Ed Roebuck retired three pinch hitters in the ninth.

Larker sent a 430-foot triple into center field for two runs and a 3-1 lead in the fifth off losing reliever Frank Barnes, then singled and scored the clincher on Gil Hodges' double in the seventh.

Stan Musial had four of the Cards' nine hits, upping his league leading average to .553, but twice was cut down at the plate in attempts to score on infield grounders.

The crowd bettered the night-game record of 51,780 set by the Giants and Dodgers at New York's Polo Grounds on May 16, 1947.

There were three casualties in the game: Dodgers Randy Jackson (who suffered a spike wound on his leg while making a putout at third) and Charlie Neal (hit on the wrist by a Barnes' pitch) and Herm Wehmeier, the Cards' starter who pulled a muscle in his pitching arm.

Rush, the right-hander the Braves "stole" from the Cubs last winter, had the help of Joe Adcock's 400-foot-plus home run in winning his first start. A double-play got him out of a bases-loaded jam in the sixth, an inning after he had given up his first hit. Robin Roberts, who beat Rush last week, lost it, giving up nine hits.

Roberto Clemente had three of Pittsburgh's nine hits, one a three-run homer that iced it in the seventh against loser Harvey Haddix. Clemente also doubled and scored the first run, tying it 1-all in the sixth after George Crowe had homered in the Redleg third. Vern Law won it with relief help.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: A Few Ruinous Holes.
Diagnosis: Foolhardy Tactics.

Treatment: There are times when you should be bold on the golf course; there are also times when you should be cautious. Unfortunately, for the sake of lower scoring, most high-handicap golfers tend to be bold when they should be cautious — and vice versa.

Make your golf motto: "Keep The Ball In Play." When you get in trouble, the first consideration is to get out of trouble. If your ball is in deep rough, for instance, sacrifice possible distance to the matter of getting the ball back on the fairway.

Why not play the percentages? Ask yourself what your chances are of hitting a long shot out of the rough with a wood. If chances are against you, take an iron with some loft in it and play it cozy. Maybe you can knock your next shot up on the green for one putt and save a stroke that way.

Last Rites Tuesday for Herman Hickman

WASHINGTON (INS) — Funeral service for Herman Hickman, colorful television personality and former Yale football coach, will be held Tuesday in Jacksonville, Fla., with burial in Ponte Verda, Fla.

The erudite story-teller, poet and former wrestler died yesterday in Washington's Providence Hospital of internal complications following an ulcer operation. He was 46 years old.

Hickman, a Tennessee All-America guard, was stricken in La Plata, Md., last month while on his way to Florida with his wife, Helen, to visit his mother.

He was transferred to Providence Hospital where he was admitted with gastro-intestinal bleeding because of an ulcer.

An operation was performed last Monday and attending physicians said his condition was satisfactory until Thursday evening when an acute hemorrhage of the lower esophagus occurred.

Severe liver and kidney complications brought about his death after he lapsed into unconsciousness. His wife, New York restaurateur Toots Short, David Driscoll of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and Hickman's mother were at his bedside when death came.

Hickman weighed more than 300 pounds in his heydey and was known as a man of Gargantuan appetite. Just last week, he was making light of his long illness. Told he was down to 240 pounds, he said: "That's 60 pounds under my eating weight."

Hickman was an assistant coach at West Point and coached at Wake Forest and North Carolina State. He played professionally with the old Brooklyn Dodgers.

U.S. Cagers Down Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Plain old-fashioned firehouse basketball gave the visiting U. S. men's team something even Frank Sinatra and flowers failed to provide for the American women — a victory over their Russian counterparts in last night's male-female doubleheader.

In the opening phase of the basketball competition, part of a sports and cultural exchange program between the two nations, the Russians provided Sinatra records and flowers for the Americans, then followed with a jolting 61-46 triumph over the championship U. S. women's team.

But the American men supplied the fireworks in the nightcap when they grabbed the lead with less than four minutes remaining and raced to a 74-68 victory.

The result left an estimated crowd of 17,000 Russians applauding the American comeback, and the Russian team aching for another shot at American five, made up principally of the Peoria Cats, National AAU champions.

Flint Northern Stuns PCH Thinclads

UP AND OVER — One of Pontiac Central's victories in yesterday's dual track meet against Flint Northern came in the high jump when Charley Barge and Fred Brooks tied for the honors a 6'2". Here is Willie Robinson going over the bar. He gained a 3rd place tie for the Chiefs.

Vikings Handle Chiefs Easily in Dual Contest

Large Crowd Watches Rival Cinder Giants in Strong Winds

Flint Northern, with its depth, placed a man in one of the top three places in every event to hand the Chiefs a stunning defeat, 67⅔ to 41⅓.

A large standing crowd watched as the Vikings took eight firsts led by Reg Gilliard's victories in 120-yard high hurdles, 180-yard low hurdles and the broad jump.

Pontiac Central's state champions, Roger Coats and Larry Beamer, won easily in their events, the 880-yard and mile run respectively, along with Bob Manning's wins in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard sprint.

Big disappointment for the Chiefs came in the hurdles when Danny Sowell had to settle for third in the highs and second to Gillard in the lows. Sowell also finished second to Gillard in the broad jump.

The other Chief hope in the hurdles, Jim Hawkins, failed to score.

The distance men of both teams battled the strong winds after making the northwest turn on the track. Northern swept all three places in the 440-yard dash won by Phil Gaines in 53.8, and the Vikings also picked up 10 points in both relay events, the 880-yard and the medley.

Besides Manning's two firsts and those by Beamer and Coats, the other win came in the high jump when Charley Barge and Fred Brooks tied for the honors at 6-feet-2.

It was the second year in a row the Chiefs have been beaten by Flint Northern in dual competition and it again may give the indication that the Vikings will be strong choices to successfully defend their Saginaw Valley title.

Villanova Out to Add More Titles Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Villanova, rested from a spectacular record-breaking defense of its distance medley relay title, today goes after victories in two other races it has won three years in a row. A double victory would accomplish what has never been done before at the gigantic Penn Relays carnival.

The Wildcats, anchored by Olympic champion Ron Delany, shattered their own 2-year-old mark of 9:58.1 with a 9:55.3 clocking in the only major relay championship decided yesterday. It was Villanova's third straight win in this event.

Frick Rejects San Diego Plan

Lemon Feud Grows

CLEVELAND (AP)—Frank Lane is boiling mad over Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's refusal to permit veteran Cleveland pitcher Bob Lemon, now on the disabled list for 30 days, to join the Indians' San Diego farm club in an attempt to work his pitching arm back into shape.

Frick wired the Cleveland general manager last night that he rejected Lane's proposal to send Lemon to San Diego while on the disabled list.

"Player Lemon cannot be given the assignment you outlined for him at San Diego," Frick's telegram said in part. "He must either stay at home or be reinstated to your active list within 24 hours."

Lane blew up when he received the order from the commissioner. He declared the 37-year-old right-hander, winner of 20 or more games a season seven different times in his career, would not be reinstated but would go to California.

"Lem will go to California as a civilian," Lane said. "I don't know what the established uniform will be.

"Maybe, he'll have to wear a polka dot tie and yellow slacks. If somebody drops a baseball near him he'd better not pick it up and throw it back.

"That's how ridiculous this whole thing is."

Lemon underwent an operation to remove bone chips in his right elbow last November. He has been trying to work himself into shape but the Indians maintain his arm needs further strengthening. He was placed on the disabled list Wednesday.

Spartans Nip Wolverines in Opener; Play 2 Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ron Perranoski overcame an early rash of wildness to hurl Michigan State to a 4-2 victory over arch rival Michigan in a Big-Ten opener. Perranoski yielded four hits and two runs after his mates had staked him to a 4-0 lead.

The Wolverines played without star catcher Gene Snider. The Western Conference ruled shortly before the game had started that Snider had used up his playing eligibility.

Scheuerman, who led the Big Ten with a 4-0 record last year, struck out nine and walked four. He also chipped in with a two-run double.

Indiana dropped Minnesota, 3-1; Ohio State defeated Iowa, 7-3; and Purdue nipped Wisconsin, 9-8.

Bob Lawrence's two-run single in the eighth inning broke up a 1-1 tie and led Indiana to victory. Bill Smith held Minnesota to seven scattered hits.

Ohio State had little trouble with Iowa. Sophomore right-hander Dale Denny went the distance for the Buckeyes on a yield of seven hits. He struck out 10 Hawkeyes, 7 in the first four innings. Iowa committed eight errors and had four passed balls.

Purdue came from behind a 6-0 deficit and capitalized on six Wisconsin errors for its victory. The Boilermakers collected 10 hits to 13 for Wisconsin but sewed up the game in the eighth with a six-run rally.

Shatters 2-Mile Mark in Relays

DES MOINES (AP)—A swift-striding Australian who wasn't supposed to run, Alex Henderson of Arizona State at Tempe, shattered the American collegiate two-mile record at the 49th Drake Relays Friday.

Another American collegiate record was bettered when Cliff Cushman of Kansas won the 440-yard hurdles in 52.3 seconds. The former collegiate and Drake record of 52.4 was set by Bob DeVinney of Kansas in 1952.

Henderson, 25, a last-minute sophomore entry, ran a brilliant 8:51.3 race in breaking Drake's 19-year-old record for two miles, oldest running mark on the meet's books.

Fractured Thumb Puts Pitcher Out of Action

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles put pitcher Hal "Skinny" Brown on the disabled list for a month Friday.

Brown was hit on the right thumb Wednesday by a ball hit by Sammy White in Boston. It chipped a bone, fractured the thumb and opened a gash that required two stitches.

Prep Does Mile in 4:13.2 Time

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Dyrol Burleson, a tall high school senior, yesterday ran the mile in 4:13.2 in a prep track meet here.

Meet officials said they thought it might be the fastest prep mile in the nation's history. The previous mark of 4:16.1, they said, was set by Jim Bowers in Sterling, Ill., in 1956.

Three of the meet's timers recorded Burleson in 4:13.2. The fourth checked him in at 4:13.4.

IBC Matchmaker Faces Grand Jury Quizzing

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Brown, matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, Friday was ordered by General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen to answer specific questions before the April Grand Jury investigating boxing.

The order was issued after Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti, in charge of the rackets' bureau, said that Brown admitted he "talked in code" to Paul John Carbo, also known as Frankie Carbo, described as an undercover fight manager using "front men."

During the last few months of every school year news about coaching changes and the addition of games on future schedules start making the rounds. This spring has been no exception.

The naming of basketball and football coaches for the new Pontiac Northern got things started in the matter of coaching shifts.

That information and some on games added by teams in various sports has already been printed on these pages. There will likely be a great deal more coming up on both subjects during the next two months.

For example, there are still several positions unsettled and many openings for scheduling athletic events for Northern which opens its door in the fall.

According to the latest transfer of personnel by the school board, present Central football assistant Arnie Wilson and head wrestling coach Bill Willson will be moving to Northern, meaning they likely will hold similar posts at the new institution. Also to be shifted is present Chief golf boss John Maturo.

Willson's move will probably mean his capable assistant, Steve Szabo, will take over the reins at PCH. (That possibility was discussed in this space earlier.) An addition to the Central faculty come fall will be Gene Norris. He took over the tennis post this spring while still an elementary teacher.

Clarkston will have to come up with a new baseball coach since Gus Birtsas plans to go into the insurance field full time following the current school year. He has been a part-time salesman. Mike Leonard, junior varsity hoop skipper, is leaving for a coaching job in Florida which will mean another opening there. Someone in the school system may get the baseball assignment.

Milford has added Gary Mansfield to start 9th grade football but now must also land another coach with hard-working football-basketball assistant Ray Sine headed for the Army next month.

Royal Oak St. Mary will have a new head man when football gets under way again. He is 21-year-old Ted Mac, who graduates from Wayne State in August. Mac will also coach baseball.

In the added games department, Pontiac Northern will play Melvindale in 1959 only and Central will meet the same team on a home-and-home basis in 1960-61 football. Brighton has added South Lyon and Flint Mandeville and is considering playing in a holiday tournament either at Lansing or Fenton in basketball.

Bloomfield Hills has also filled its basketball openings left by the new and unpopular Wayne-Oakland setup by arranging home-and-home series with Cranbrook, Oak Park and Madison Lamphere for 1958-59.

SKIPPING AROUND

Perfect weather yesterday for the big Pontiac-Flint Northern track battle, . . . Milford's baseball power gets a big test at Clarkston Monday with Terry Hoy and Dave Gaddis dueling. Hoy is 4-0 with 45 strikeouts in 22 innings while allowing just two earned runs. . . . Berkley's Ted Radatz (2-0) will pitch the opener of a twin bill for MSU against Michigan today. John Fleser of Birmingham is hitting .317 for the Spartans.

Milford Winner of Howell Meet

Six new records were written into the books Friday as Milford High School won the 5th annual Howell Invitational track and field meet for the 3rd straight year.

Milford's Andre Lavoy won the broad jump and high jump and set a school record in the latter event as the Redskins piled up a winning total of 69 and 1/10 points.

Fenton finished 2nd with 42 and 1/5 points, followed by host Howell with 33 and 7/10, Durand 27, Grand Blanc 16, and West Bloomfield 9.

Milford won three events in all and captured eight 2nd places as balance in the field events paid off. Bob Hoit was Milford's other winner with a shot put of 46 feet, 5 inches. Lavoy's record high jump was 5-8¼.

Bob McKlenna of Fenton set records in the high and low hurdles with winning times of 16.2 and 21.7 respectively. Others records were posted in the 880, 440 and medley relay.

Detroit Keglers Take ABC Doubles Lead

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Joe Joseph and Bob Nickel combined their rotund talents for a 1,369 total and spurted into first place in the doubles division of the 55th American Bowling Congress Tournament Friday.

Nickel, a 260-pounder who moved from Toledo to Detroit to bowl with the famed Strohs this season, boomed a 190-256-260—706 series. He had posted a 589 Thursday night as the Strohs tied for second place in the open team division with 3,205.

FORMAL LIVING ROOM — This room is always in readiness for company. It is furnished more formally than the family room, but uses the same color scheme of beige and brown. Walls are pale sandalwood. Curtains and ceiling are beige. The carpeting is brown tweed. This room is on the upper level of the house.

SLIDING DOORS — Serving as both window and outside door, these sliding glass doors take up half the space of one wall in the family room. Floor length draperies of beige rayon cover the entire wall for cold weather warmth. At the left is the door to the kitchen. Through the door can be seen the patio the Johnsons are constructing for use this summer. From that area they have a long view of rural landscape.

ON LITTLE TRAIL ROAD — This bi-level brick and stained siding house was the first to be occupied in Marotta's Apple Orchard subdivision, south of Pontiac Trail. The Donald Johnsons moved in last July from Detroit. Herbert Hawthorne, AIA, was the architect and Marotta Building Company did the construction work. That's an apple tree in the front yard; there are more in the back yard and throughout the subdivision.

FAVORITE SPOT FOR ALL — In this pine paneled family room the Johnson family spends most of its time. Everywhere the family goes so goes Pandora, the miniature French poodle belonging to Carol Johnson. You can't see it, but Pandora was wearing a tiny red bow in her hair just for this picture. You can see that interesting cane chair inthe corner next to the sofa. That's a family heirloom. This room is decorated in shades of brown and beige.

Background for LIVING

BRIGHT KITCHEN — White walls, natural birch cabinets and a knotty pine dado help make this kitchen a light room. The breakfast set has a light feeling also with delicate tracing of leaves on the chairs and the glass table top. The floor is corktone tile. This room is on the ground level.

Your Neighbor's House

Donald Johnsons Moved in First

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There's something about a country subdivision built in an old apple orchard that appeals to city dwellers. If they see the building site in the spring when the trees are in bloom, they're "goners."

We'll not say that the Donald Johnsons moved to Marotta's Apple Orchard on the strength of a few blooming fruit trees. But they are taking good care of the ones on their lot.

Detroit residents for many years, they have taken to country living with enthusiasm. Their subdivision, south of Pontiac Trail, is only a year old. The Johnsons were the first family to move in. Now their married son and his family are building a new home a few streets away. Their daughter, Carol, commutes to her city job from the new house.

The Johnsons' keystone-shaped lot is at the end of the first street in the subdivision, Little Trail road. The house and attached garage are constructed of red brick and stained siding. Herbert Hawthorne, an architect who lives in Orchard Lake Village, designed the house.

The house itself is bi-level with the garage on a third level. From the front entrance one can go up to the "quiet area" of the house or down to the "noisy area." Brown tweed carpeting covers the stairs.

This same carpeting is used in the upstairs living room. A formal room, it is furnished in traditional style. The spinet piano, brocaded sofa and little chests are mahogany.

Walls are pale sandalwood, while the ceiling which slants toward the rear of the house is beige. In the front the windows are high and narrow. Above the piano at the rear they are lower and wider. The short curtains have a damask weave pattern and a thread of copper in them.

CAROL'S ROOM

The bathroom on this level is brown and beige with white fixtures. The downstairs lavatory is gray and peach.

In the Johnsons' bedroom the walls and curtains are pink. Their bed is a four poster one, complete with canopy. This canopy is dyed pink to match the pink organdy bed skirt. The white colonial type bedspread had ball fringe around the sides.

Downstairs there are four more rooms: Utility room, family room, kitchen and an "odds and ends" room. Other families in the subdivision use this latter room as a play room or even a fourth bedroom.

The family room, which extends the width of the house, has knotty pine paneled walls. The ceiling is painted beige. On one side there is a double window and at the rear sliding glass doors. Draperies are beige.

INFORMAL ROOM

Large braided rugs in beige and brown are used on this floor. With the exception of a drop-leaf mahogany table (to be replaced), the furniture is informal. The maple sofa is covered in a brown fabric. Lamp shades are Early American.

Mrs. Johnson does not care much for pictures as a means of decorating a room. She does like artificial flowers and unusual bottles filled with colored water. These present colorful accents.

The kitchen is wonderfully light. A corktone tile floor and natural birch cabinets contribute to the light look. The corner reserved for the breakfast table has a knotty pine dado.

The Johnson's are one of the few families in the subdivision without small children. This spring Marotta's Apple Orchard is bursting with apple blossoms and small fry.

Trade Journal Condemns Builders for 'Upgrading'

A basic reason for the decline in home building is that too many builders are catering to the "luxury" market, pushing prices beyond the reach of the lower- and middle-income families who comprise the lion's share of the housing market. Let builders build houses to fit customer pocketbooks and the resulting demand will get home construction quickly back into high gear.

So reasons Practical Builder magazine, a leading building journal, in a recent issue, in the first of a series of editorials outlining abuses and reforms needed in the home building industry.

Long an outspoken voice in the building field, the magazine charges that many builders, in order to make their houses more attractive to prospects, load them with luxury items. The result is either that the price of the house shoots up several thousand dollars beyond the reach of the buyer it was originally intended for, or else the builder has to build a smaller house, sacrificing the basic essential of space, in order to keep the price down.

The article emphasized that Practical Builder's editors are not against upgrading houses with numerous appliances, fancy decor and masonry, and other features that have become everyday conveniences by American standards. They urge, however, that builders include only those features that buyers can realistically afford, with provision for later addition of extras. The result, the magazine predicts, will be that more people will be able to afford houses — thus, more business for builders.

The magazine advocates a "selective" approach to features in new homes, especially in the medium-priced class:

"For example, it may be smart to leave the dishwasher out of a home for a retired couple, who do not entertain, in favor of thermostatic controls for each room. On the other hand, it may be better to skip those thermostatic controls in a home filled with children — in favor of the dishwasher, where the reduction of household chores is really important."

Going a step further, the magazine counsels manufacturers that sales of their products will actually increase if housing costs are kept down.

"We not only will find a wider market for our homes but available mortgage money will spread farther. Dollars now required to finance one home may help to finance two.

"The same arithmetic can be applied to many building products. For example, a small segment of the market—the buyers of expensive homes—can use only a limited amount of equipment in kitchen, bathroom, heating and the like per house. If the base of home ownership is extended to include tens of thousands of lower-priced homes, the sales of products are multiplied."

Attic Fans Cool House Quickly

Without forced ventilation, a house can store up heat that is carried through a cooler night and on into the next day. Open windows and doors on a calm summer night fail to yield noticeable relief because of the lack of air movement.

Experiments have shown that fans operated at night—either attic fans or window fans—can bring down room temperatures to within one or two degrees above the outdoor night temperature.

Sudden slumps in the outdoor temperature can be guarded against by thermostatic controls. As soon as the mercury falls below the point you want, the fan turns off.

However, like all mechanical devices, night fans have their drawbacks. Noise can be one. Dust brought into a house near a street can be another. And sometimes humidity runs high at night, with dew and fog, and this can bring dampness into the house.

So it's up to you to decide on all the prices you'll pay for the privilege of keeping cool.

Americans Use More

The average American uses twice as much lumber as his Russian counterpart, four times as much as the Englishman and six times as much as the Frenchman. Here in the U. S., the country's most widely used species of lumber is Douglas fir, found principally in western Oregon and Washington, and popular because of its great strength, as well as beauty of grain and texture.

HOUSE ON A HILL — Adapted especially for a hillside lot, this ranch house features a mid-level foyer. The main living area of the house is up six steps from the foyer. The basement area, including space for a recreation room and a den or bedroom, is seven steps down.

Slope of Land Dictates Style

Tri Level House Suits Hill Site, Saves Money in Construction

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

A bargain hilltop lot has been turned adroitly to advantage in this house designed exclusively for the House of The Week series.

By exploiting the natural advantages of sloping land, New Jersey Architect Alan Wood Fraser has virtually doubled the living area of a house under one roof without measurably increasing the construction cost.

The end result of this design, designated X-3 in the House of the Week series, is that you get extra rooms without a basement-high window look.

An important part of the construction savings is achieved in the excavation.

The house is placed on the pinnacle. The front looks down one sloping side to the street. The rear of the house sits on the back slope. The excavation is made into the back slope of the lot.

Space for the basement area is dug out of the rear slope, and the rear wall of the house extends upward from the base of the rear slope.

DROPPED PORCH A FEATURE

The architect has further exploited his design by creating a mid-level foyer. The foyer opens from a front entrance off a porch dropped five steps from the front sidewalk.

Thus, although the exterior of the house resembles a ranch, the dropped porch and the mid-level foyer actually provide some features of a ranch plus split level and two-story planning.

The mid-level foyer works toward this end in this way:

It links the lower level with the upper level and converts both into family living areas.

There is no need to have a family room on the upper level because there is a recreation room on the terrace level only seven steps down from the foyer.

From the central hall balcony, you enter the kitchen through a door at the right. From the same point you can walk through the living room to a rear balcony.

The major living area has 1,352 square feet.

Under this terrace, which is partially sheltered, is the garage.

The basement area, seven steps down from the foyer, has a storage room, a guest lavatory serving the lower den or bedroom, a recreation room 25 by 11 feet 5 inches, and space for utilities, laundry and heating plant.

Sliding glass doors open from the recreation room onto a second rear terrace, at grade level. Extensive use of stone and battens has been made in exterior details of the house. The roof is of asphalt shingles.

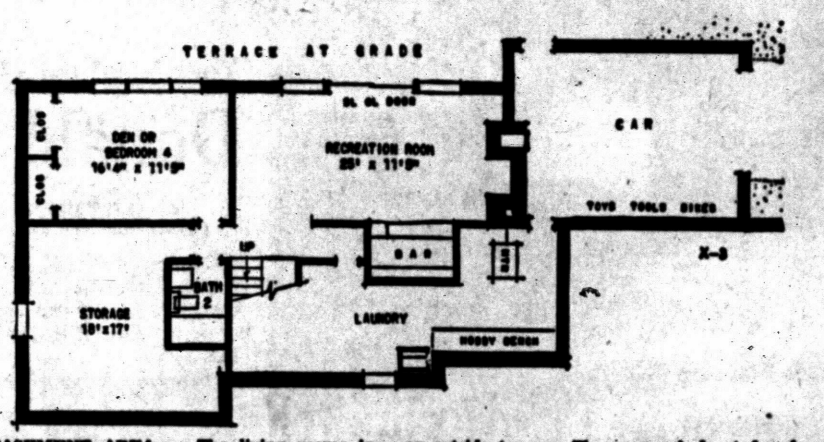

If you are interested in a study plan of this house, send 35 cents in coin (no stamps accepted) and ask for House of the Week Plan HW-X3. Address all requests to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac 12, Michigan.

Statistics

There are 1,352 square feet in the major living area of House of The Week X-3. The basement area has the same square footage but the architect says the cost of the basement area will be about half the cost of the upper area. The garage has 355 square feet. The overall dimensions of the house are 68 feet 6 inches by 35 feet, including the rail-enclosed terrace and the garage under it.

MAIN LIVING AREA — From a dropped porch entrance one enters the mid-level foyer. Without the basement area which the hilly character of the lot allows, this would be an adequate sized house. A balcony runs the length of the house at the rear. Bedrooms are large.

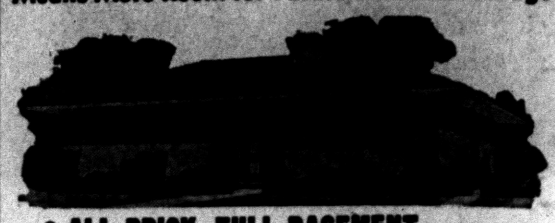

BASEMENT AREA — The living rooms in this basement have regular windows. There is a sliding glass door from the recreation room to an outside terrace. The garage is located under an upper terrace.

Trim Paint Long Lasting

If your home is brick or stone, or if it is asbestos-cement sided, you should use a trim paint or enamel on the wood trimming. This will be around windows and doors, along eaves, on shutters, porch railings, etc. These coatings are available in colors as well as white, and usually a relatively long life can be expected from them.

CLEAN THE GUTTERS — One spring chore you should not put off is gutter maintenance. Inserts in illustration show how to apply patching material to a rusted-out spot in gutter.

First Important Spring Job Is to Repair House Gutters

The next mild day that comes along should see you out of doors, beginning the annual inventory of what inroads winter's ravages has made on your home and property.

Some types of damage can be ignored safely until late spring; other items should receive your immediate attention. Don't forget that the heavy rains and strong winds which will be in the vernal weather picture can finish some of the works of ill-will winter initiated.

Here are some conditions you should check for: exterior paint that has blistered or peeled, loosened downspouts, rusted gutters, cracks in driveway, loose shingles, leaning fences. These are only a few of many items, but they're sufficient to head your list of post-winter repairs which may be required.

Painting is better left until there are long stretches of warm weather. But it isn't too soon for some of the preparatory work that precedes painting. Using a wire brush and a scraper, you can start cleaning off some of that loose paint. (Leave the blowtorch method to the professional.)

Cracks in the drive, loose mortar and similar damage should be repaired just as soon as all danger of frost is past.

And unless you are accustomed to scrambling around in high places better leave roof repairs to the expert.

REPAIR GUTTERS

But one job that you ought to complete as soon as possible is the repair of winter-damaged gutters and downspouts. The excessive weight of snow and ice often pulls gutters away from the house and loosens downspout straps. Cracks may have developed due to alternate freezing and thawing. Rust may have opened holes in the gutters.

If you don't repair damaged gutters before the heavy spring rains, cracks will become enlarged and rain flowing off the roof may seep between inner and outer walls, causing interior damage.

A sagging gutter can be corrected by gently pressing it back into position, adding new hangers to support it. Old hangers that have become loosened, should be tightened by renailing.

When adding a new hanger or repairing an old one, remember to use large headed, coated nails.

Spread asphalt cement or caulking compound over the nail heads to seal them. If renailing, fill the old holes with asphalt or caulking. Hangers should be nailed to the roof below the shingles. Remember to lift the fully so that it doesn't crack, when nailing hanger in place.

If the gutter overflows, check first to see that there is no debris, such as last fall's leaves, at point of overflow. Barring a stoppage, best bet is that the pitch of the gutter is wrong. Pour some water into the gutter and watch which awy it flows. If it doesn't run toward the downspout, you have a sagging gutter on your hands. Tighten all hangers and add new ones at point of sagging, if necessary.

If the downspout is pulling away from the wall, remove the nails from the straps which hold it in place, and renail with larger nails. Be sure to seal the nail holes with asphalt or other sealer.

If you find a rusted-out spot in your gutter, repair it at once. Clean away as much of the rust as you can with a stiff wire brush. Then paint the area with a rust-resistant paint. When dry, coat the area with asphalt cement.

If the opening is a very small one, such as a fine crack, this may be adequate. If, however, the hole is larger, patch it with a piece of roofing, burlap, canvas or metal. Place the patch over the asphalt-covered area. Cover patch with another coat of asphalt, making sure that the edges of the patch are covered.

Use metal in extremely bad cases of damage. But make certain that the metal is the same as that in the gutter itself. Otherwise, a chemical reaction may take place, causing further corrosion.

If there's a small crack in a downspout, follow the same procedure as used in patching a gutter, with this exception: Wrap the patch around the outside of the downspout and then paint it once it's set.

Large, ripped or rusted - out sections of downspout may call for replacement. Remove straps with which downspout is fastened to the wall, lift out the damaged section of spout and replace with a new section. (Your hardward or tinsmith stocks these sections.) Replace straps, following nailing procedures for gutters.

Materials that you'll need for your gutter repairing are: asphalt cement, an old paint brush, scissors, hammer, tinsnips, patching material (burlap, felt roofing, metal), hangers, straps, nails.

And a few rainless days will be a big help, too.

Politeness Will Pay When House Hunting

You can help your realtor help you to a quick and happy end to your housing quest if you will follow a few simple rules of etiquette when you're inspecting houses with him.

Remember, a man's home is his castle — even when he's trying to sell it. Among the points of polite usage in home inspection cited are suggestions that viewers abstain from insulting the owner with comments on his ideas of home decoration and that they avoid bringing small children and pets with them.

Once you have decided on a house, it's a good idea to have itemized in the sale contract all non-realty items which are covered by the sale price. "Those old wagon wheels out in back, conveying the rustic touch" may or may not go with the house. By itemizing, you avoid the little things that stir up hard feelings and disappointments.

The art of house hunting is not difficult. By following the simple rules, based mostly on common sense and courtesy, you can make the purchase of your home one of the most satisfying experiences of life — with the advice and assistance of your chosen realtor.

Face House to Help in Air Conditioning

Here are some tips on weather-conditioning your new home. Face large window areas south, using a solar roof overhang that blocks the hot summer sun but permits winter rays to enter. Place bedrooms on the north and east exposures for cooler summer sleeping comfort.

Use an attached garage as a windbreaker. Make the window areas facing cold winter winds smaller than those facing to the south.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A LAWN BENCH

National Lumber Manufacturers Association

Extra lawn furniture can be made of 1½ by 8 and 1½ by 10-inch lumber.

The top or seat is made of two pieces of 1½ by 8-inch lumber. The horizontal support is made of two pieces of 1½ by 7-inch lumber. Space the boards 1/16 inch apart for drainage of rainwater. The leg detail is shown in the small diagram. Cut out the half leg along the dotted lines. Use dowel joints to assemble the leg sections.

'Pouring Wool' Form Easiest Way to Insulate

Pouring wool comes in paper bags that are light and easy to handle. The mineral wool is simply poured out of the bags into spaces between the attic floor joists and smoothed to an even depth of at least four inches.

Steel Backed Plastic New Wall Covering

Colorful walls with a vinyl plastic finish that seemingly "lasts forever" and create exciting new decorating possibilities soon may be making their appearance in new homes. Some already are being used in public buildings.

The wall panels, introduced by Arvin Industries, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of housewares and appliances, are made by bonding vinyl to thin sheet steel with a backing of wallboard. Benefits offered by using these panels include ease of construction, durability, beauty and reduction of maintenance, according to architects.

Home economists point out the walls can be cleaned by wiping them with a damp cloth. Even pencil and crayon marks can be removed by applying a little soapy water.

Save Work With Brush

An old paint brush comes in handy when patching plaster or filling holes or cracks in wood. Apply spackling material with spatula or knife and while it is still wet lightly brush out rough spots with the brush which has been dipped into clean water. This cuts down the amount of sanding needed before finishing coat is applied.

MSU to Train Kitchen Experts

CHICAGO, Ill. — In response to a service need created by the growing demand for modern, efficient kitchens the National Institute of Wood Kitchen Cabinets has announced plans for the second annual Training School for Kitchen Specialists.

The school will be conducted at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., August 17 through August 29, by the Michigan State Continuing Education Service in cooperation with the institute.

Two separate courses will be offered — a basic curriculum covering the entire two-week period and a one-week advanced course starting August 17, said Fred F. Montiegel, institute manager.

"The tremendous public interest in better kitchens, both for new and for older homes," Montiegel said, "has established the kitchen specialist as an increasingly important figure in home building and remodeling.

"To provide the service needed, the kitchen industry must develop more specialists and offer those now in the field an opportunity to advance their knowledge in all phases of the business.

"Trainees at the school will be taught such fundamentals as the principals of kitchen planning, including the proper utilization of cabinets, appliances and other kitchen components. Business and sales procedures also will be covered."

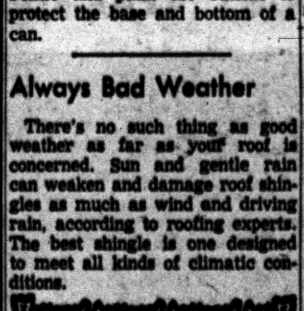

Members of the Michigan State faculty and experts from within the kitchen industry will serve as instructors. Co-sponsors are the university's Department of Forest Products, the College of Home Economics and the College of Business and Public Service.

New Glaze Fixes Porcelain Chips

There was a time when chipped porcelain could not be patched properly by an amateur. But it now can be done with one of the new porcelain glazes.

Be sure the area to be fixed is free of grease and dirt and is completely dry. Apply a thin coat of the glaze, wait 30 minutes and apply another thin coat. Keep applying these thin coats until the damaged spot is built up so that it is level with the surrounding surface.

Keep some denatured alcohol on hand for wiping off any surplus glaze. And remember, you won't get good results if you try to make the patch with a single thick coat of the glaze.

INDOORS OR OUTDOORS house plants will like this terraced stand. Many plants will appreciate the shade of a shadow box when placed outdoors for the summer. Pattern 366 which gives actual-size cutting guides and directions for both, is 25c. This pattern is one of five in the Garden Brightener Packet No. 59 all for $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service charge.

Protection Worthwhile

Protect galvanized steel garbage cans from rust by painting the inside with zinc chromate when new, says the April issue of a home magazine. Periodic cleaning and drying also prevents rust. Prime and paint the outside to protect the base and bottom of a can.

Always Bad Weather

There's no such thing as good weather as far as your roof is concerned. Sun and gentle rain can weaken and damage roof shingles as much as wind and driving rain, according to roofing experts. The best shingle is one designed to meet all kinds of climatic conditions.

Stock Doors Panel Wall

Interior decorators across the country today are enthusiastic about a new idea that adds drama and texture to drab rooms.

The idea: Using wood panel doors as wall paneling.

The panels provide built-in frames for pictures, clocks and other decorations. The wood can be stained to retain the warmth of its natural grain, or painted in any color desired.

In the photograph, four stock doors of ponderosa pine were used to panel one wall of a den. Three doors were fitted side by side, and the fourth was sawed into three sections to fit above them. Joints were covered with narrow, half-round molding.

Paneling one wall or an entire room can be an ideal do-it-yourself project, since little technical knowledge or skill is necessary. The walls should be carefully measured and the measurements discussed with a building material dealer. He can offer advice as to which of several stock sizes of doors should be used.

Using panel doors of ponderosa pine in this way does away with the expensive method of having wall paneling custom made. The doors, in styles ranging from traditional to modern, are readily available as stock items from building material dealers.

Roll Screens Fit All Windows

Two completely new housing styles of Screen-o-matic window screens, which are compact, light and easy to handle, have been introduced by the Lockhart Manufacturing Corporation of Detroit.

The new styles make it possible to screen all types of wood windows. One model screens casement and awning type windows. Another model is made for the double-hung windows.

Screen-o-matic screens are adaptable to use in houses, apartments and public and industrial buildings. They eliminate screen storage problems and reduce maintenance costs. The screening rolls up when the window is closed, making window washing easy. Rain cannot speckle the glass when the windows are closed and dirty screens do not shut out light when they are open.

Screen-o-matics are made in non-shrinking, non-stretching, non-flammable fiberglass screening, which has been tested and proven for the last four years. They never need protective painting, and will take hard blows without bulging.

Specially designed units are also manufactured for storm and prime window manufacturers. These units are designed to be built into and are operated with the storm or prime windows.

Windows Work Like Awnings

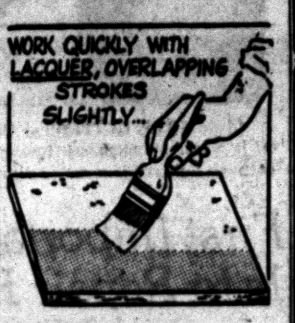

Available now for new construction and for remodeling is a window that looks like a traditional double-hung window yet operates like a modern awning window.

The window, of ponderosa pine, differs from the standard double-hung style in that both the upper and lower sections swing outward to provide full ventilation.

Three styles currently are available in the new window, a Colonial design with six panes in each of the two sections, a more modern design consisting of two panes in each half separated by a horizontal cross bar, and a third which has a single pane in each of the two sashes.

Moisture Added to Air

When the floor of a kitchen, 8 feet by 10 feet, is washed with soapy water and rinsed with clear water, 2.4 pounds of water vapor are released in the home. The amount of moisture given off by house plants is nearly equal in volume to the amount of water required to water the plants.

Shellac Is Tricky Product to Use

Don't wash a shellac finish with either water, which may turn it white, or alcohol, which will soften it.

Don't use shellac which has been around the house for a year or two, as it deteriorates with age, even when you think the container is completely sealed.

Don't apply shellac to wood that is damp or when it is raining, or when the humidity is very high.

Home Workshop

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

Matching lamps of brass tubing and wood are a workshop project that is sure to please. The floor lamp gives a perfect light beside an easy chair. The table lamp is good for a desk or an end table. Both are made with pattern 240 which will be mailed for 25c. This pattern is one of five in the Complete Living Room Packet for $1.

The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept. Bedford Hills, New York.

Large Lot Desirable for Many Reasons

In evaluating the size of a lot, think in terms of usable space as well as total area. Generally, the space behind the house will be used for family activities, and it should be adequate in most cases for your needs.

But be certain the site allows room for future expansion — for example, for the addition of a garage, a workshop or an extra wing.

If the lot is not served by a public sewer, it should be no less than half an acre in size. In such a case, to be completely safe, try to find a site of an acre or more. Septic tanks sour the soil, and the more land you have the safer you will be where there is no public sewer.

Kitchen Gets Luxury Look

The transformation of the American kitchen, says a well known Washington, D.C., designer, has already occurred. Appliances are being designed now to look like furniture — rich, restful, pleasant furniture. Cabinets, walls and even the new wall ovens, he points out, are being finished luxuriously in wood to eliminate the laboratory look.

To Bleach Wood

To bleach floors or furniture (hardwood or softwood) — Remove finish; wash thoroughly. Use 1 cup of liquid bleach per gallon of warm water; let stand 15 minutes; rinse; dry. Repeat if necessary. Wax, polish.

Freak of Nature Causes Flood in Yosemite Valley

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—Several acres of the Yosemite Valley just below Yosemite Falls were flooded today as the result of a natural phenomenon so baffling park scientists say most of the valley's residents don't understand it.

The bed of Yosemite Creek is jammed with a mixture of ice and snow that has all the appearance and effect of an ice jam.

Two foot-bridges have been isolated and threatened with destruction since yesterday morning, and water is pouring through an area with maintenance shops.

Chief Ranger Oscar Sedergren and his staff yesterday started pumping water from Yosemite Creek near the junction with the Merced River in an effort to clear the channel. They feared a repetition of a flood which covered 40 acres in 1953.

Residents of the valley say the jam is caused by the breaking of a huge ice cone which formed from frozen spray during the winter beneath the main Yosemite Falls. When the cone breaks after the first warm days of spring it clogs the creek with ice. They view it as a harbinger of spring.

Sedergren, backed by scientific opinion, said it is a frazil, for which the dictionary gives this definition: "Snow floating in the water. Ice crystals within a body of water."

It results when the falls develops a heavy flow from a few warm days immediately followed by a sharp cold snap.

Directory Helps Locate Pen Pals for Many

COPENHAGEN — The Pen Pal Directory of All Nations, headed by Dr. Sven V. Knudsen of Copenhagen, reports that it helped 117,435 individuals in 128 lands find pen pals in the first half of 1957. Among them were 3,011 youngsters from the United States.

The directory's services are open to any person between 14 and 21.

Corporation Spokesmen Remain Mum

Is GM Trying to 'Scoop' Big Three With Small Car?

By FRANK SNYDER

DETROIT (INS) — Will General Motors get the jump on the other members of the "big three" with the production of a small, economical automobile?

GM's impending plunge into the small car producing field has been in the rumor stage for some time. But several recent developments put the rumors closer to facts, even though a GM spokesman has termed them "pure speculation and without foundation in fact."

PLANT SHUT

Chevrolet recently announced it was shutting down its truck plant at Willow Run for expansion purposes and the realignment of existing facilities.

This was followed closely by a report that GM would open a new plant in Willow Run next year, probably for the production of a small car. The new plant, it was said, would employ 3,500 to 4,000 persons.

GM spokesmen remained "mum," although it's impossible to keep secret any length of time a project of such magnitude.

Fortunately, many employes don't think in terms of keeping company plans a secret, even if public relations personnel are paid to keep information from the public.

So the writer has an acquaintance who is a tool and die maker at one of the GM divisions.

The other day this gentleman volunteered that his work was slacking off, since most of the tooling for the 1959 model changes had been completed.

"But we might be real busy the rest of the year," he added, "if we get the work for the small car that GM is going to build."

The man had a lot of other information on the subject, excepting drawings and blueprints of the small car, itself.

Tool and die makers, particularly, don't need to speculate about what's going on where they work. And they have quite a few fellow workers to confirm what they tell you.

The writer is willing to take the word of a hard to impeach source.

The car makers should soon know how big a part the savage winter in many parts of the country played in the sharp sales decline.

With the increasing sunshine and slackening of the unpleasant elements, there are signs that business is beginning to pick up.

The successful "Auto Buy Now" campaigns around the country are cutting down the heavy inventories of both new and used cars and if it keeps up, the auto plants should start humming again.

The dealer lots seem less crowded and the trade talk coming in an optimistic vein after nearly five months of increasing gloom.

A regional sales manager for DeSoto reports that the last two 10-day reports for his area were the best since announcement time last October.

Used car sales also are up across the country, according to the national used car manager for American Motors Corp.

William H. McGaughey, vice president in charge of AMC communications, helped Houston, Texas, dealers launch their "Auto Buy Now" campaign by phoning 16 persons. He says he sold three Ramblers in one day.

McGaughey said it proves a point that AMC has been trying to get across to its dealers "that one of every eight homes has a potential car buyer."

The publicity releases from the auto companies also are becoming more realistic and in closer tune with the spring season.

Jealousy of Husband Calmed by St. Asaph

to prayer and thought. Emerging from his meditation, he sent the king an invitation to dinner, at the same time letting him know the queen was in the church's keeping, which meant she was inaccessible.

So the king came to dinner, which was the only thing he could do. But he was by no means over his anger. Arguing and shouting, he went in with Asaph and sat down at the table. The first course was fish, and when Maelgwn cut into his portion what did he find but the cause of all the anguish — the ring.

Please don't ask how the ring got from the fish's stomach into its flesh. Just be satisfied with the miracle and happy that the king, full of remorse, tenderly welcomed back to his arms his faithful, innocent Nesta.

CANCER SAINT

Friday's saint is the patron of cancer patients, St. Peregrine, who died on this day in 1345.

St. Peregrine started out as anything but a saint. In fact, he was even an enemy of the church. In his little Italian town of Forli, where he was the spoiled son of wealthy parents, he joined with zest in a revolt against the Roman Catholic Church and became one of the leaders in the insurrection. The Pope, to win the people of Forli back sent the saintly Philip Benzi to reason with them. But Philip was heckled, abused, and beaten — and in the forefront of the attack was Peregrine, adding a final brutal kick to the unresisting papal emissary.

It was this beating of Philip which began the change that in the end made Peregrine a saint. Philip's heroic meekness at the hands of Forli village hoodlums made Peregrine a little doubtful about how smart it was to be so tough. He went back and begged Philip's forgiveness.

Reformed, Peregrine devoted himself to the Blessed Virgin, and in time had a vision of her in which she told him to go to Siena and ask for admission to the Servite order.

Over the ensuing years Peregrine performed miracles almost constantly. He multiplied bread and wine to feed the hungry when supplies were short; once by prayer he won over to righteousness a gang of 40 outlaws who had been terrorizing the countryside; and he cured countless sick people by merely saying the name of Jesus over them.

The reason he is the "cancer saint" is he himself had the terrible affliction in one of his feet, to the point where amputation was his only chance for life. The night before his operation he dragged himself to the chapel to pray. He fell asleep kneeling before the Crucifix, and in the morning when they found him there was not the slightest evidence of his ever having had a cancer.

He lived to the age of 80 and cured many cancer victims.

Seminole Wars' Ending Recalled

Hardy Indians Fought Army to Standstill in May of 1858

WASHINGTON — May marks the 100th anniversary of the bitter end of the only wars the United States ever lost.

Florida's Seminole Indians fought the United States Army to a standstill in two of the bloodiest struggles ever waged on American soil (1816-18 and 1835-42), the National Geographic Society recalls. A third round ending in 1858 — the "Billy Bowlegs War" — failed to defeat the proud, tenacious people of the Everglades and Big Cypress Swamp.

Proud and aloof the Seminoles remain. The Seminoles can properly say, "We are unconquered; we never surrendered; we signed no peace treaty."

Nor have the Seminoles ever lived on dole. They have always made their own way.

A Seminole council recently met with Government officials in Everglades, Florida, to consider a philanthropist's offer of considerable land. At last the Indians said no, partly on the fastidious premise that Florida, after all, is their own ancestral property.

So wary are these Indians that they refused to set foot in a theater where the powwow was to be held. Not even bad weather dampened the elders' memory of a great chief who was tricked into capture under a flag of truce more than a century ago. Thus a somewhat soggy group of conferees met in the rain on neutral ground — the lawn of a beloved missionary, Deaconess Harriet Bedell.

Relations with the whites, nevertheless, are friendly. At the onset of World War II the Seminoles stated formally that, despite everything, their allegiance was to the Allies.

Not long ago the people of Lake Wales learned that the Seminoles had been hard hit by the bitter winter of 1957-58. They collected three tons of clothing, food, and blankets. But the townspeople were careful to specify that the supplies were given not as charity but in a spirit of brotherhood.

Flath Pleads Guilty to Disturbing Peace

Carl I. Flath, 49, director of Pontiac General Hospital, yesterday pleaded guilty to arguing with the Orchard Lake Village policeman who arrested him on a drunk and disorderly charge after his car left Orchard Lake road March 16 and smashed into a fence.

Flath paid $5 court costs and field Township Justice Elmer C. a $45 fine imposed by West Bloom-Dieterle for committing a breach of the peace on a public highway.

The officer's complaint against Flath was amended to drop the charge of being drunk and add the other of disturbing the peace.

Polly's Talented Father Still Prefers Engineering

By DICK KLEINER

He could probably make a career out of TV, but that's not for him. At least, not today.

"I'm a construction engineer," he says "I build bridges and roads and dams. The construction business is always slow in the winter but, come summer, I'll go back to it again. After 35 years, it's in the blood."

Bill, who knows four or five hundred hillbilly songs by heart —and he uses the word "hillbilly" himself—admits he's not a trained musician. As he puts it, "I just do what the hillbillies call 'pickin' up the guitar and startin' a-screamin' and a-beaten'.' "

Bill says he always encouraged Polly in her wish to sing.

They moved a lot, as his trade took him all over the country—"Polly one year went to nine different schools in six different states"—but always they'd find a music teacher, even if it meant (as it frequently did) a 50-mile drive for each lesson.

This parental encouragement lasted even after she was grown and working. Once, when they were living in California, she had an offer of a job in Las Vegas but she didn't have a proper gown to wear.

"It was during a bad time for me," Bill recalls. "I'd broken my back in an accident. Well, the only thing good we had in the house was our stove. So we unplugged 'er and sold 'er. Polly didn't know where the money came from for years."

That's Bill Bergen—a proud father, and rightly so.

Auto Crash Victim Condition Satisfactory
