Primaries Monday in 4 City Districts

Pontiac's primary elections will be held Monday. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Voters in four city districts will be voting. There is no primary election in District 2, 3 or 6.

Candidates in those districts who filed nominating petitions are automatically nominated to face each other in the general election April 15.

The results of Monday's election will narrow the number of candidates to two in each district.

Registered voters in the four districts where primaries will be held total 20,293 out of a total 29,805 in the city.

LISTED BY DISTRICTS

Candidates in the four districts are:

DISTRICT 1—Incumbent T. Warren Fowler Sr., Robert J. Bowns, Charles M. Tucker Jr.

DISTRICT 4—F. Jack Douglas, Richard I. Moore, George Gaba and Robert E. Grinnell.

DISTRICT 5—Arnold R. Jones, Rollie L. Jones and Robert F. Jackson.

DISTRICT 7—Incumbent James H. Marshall, Robert A. Landry, James B. Davis and Albert C. Shaw.

Administrators Fight Parochialism

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Association of School Administrators added its voice yesterday to growing opposition to pending legislation that would give state money to parents of nonpublic school pupils.

"It is the responsibility of the state to provide tax-supported public education for every child, and conversely, duplicated services based on personal interests or desires should not be the responsibility of the state," the administrators told a news conference.

"The right of citizens not to be taxed to help support private schools is a basic right," the statement added.

The controversial nonpublic school aid measure, now under consideration in both House and Senate education committees, would grant an estimated $21 million to parents of nonpublic school children.

The measure, which promises one of the greatest church-school controversies in the Michigan Legislature, would grant $50 per child to parents of nonpublic elementary school youngsters and $100 per child to parents of nonpublic secondary school pupils.

ADDED SUPPORT

In addition, the bill would give added support — a total of $75 per child for elementary and $150 per child for secondary — to parents of children in core-city nonpublic schools.

The school administrators group said it had first taken a position on state aid — either direct or indirect — to nonpublic schools in January 1967.

"We reject the encouragement of the development of a series of tax-supported schools based on the isolation of children," the group said.

2 Held in Slayings Near Grand Rapids

From Our News Wires
WALKER — Kent County Prosecutor James K. Miller has requested a murder warrant for a 20-year-old Grand Rapids youth and his 13-year-old female accomplice in connection with the execution-type shooting of two gas station attendants early today in this Grand Rapids suburb.

Charles Martin and his female companion, a ward of Grand Rapids Juvenile Court, were arrested at Dunes Park, Ind., a few hours after the slaying.

In the warrant, Martin will be charged with two counts of murder while the girl was named a material witness, according to Sgt. Eli Roberts of the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

The victims, both from Grand Rapids, were identified as Gerald Gort, 59, and Jack McRoy, 18.

Police said they were herded into a back room at the all-night gas station and each shot once in the head with a .44 magnum rifle.

A motorist who stopped for gas discovered the bodies. Police got a lead on the slayer when another motorist described a car he saw in the station.

Sgt. Roberts termed the killing an "execution." He said the victims were shot at point-blank range after the killer had rifled the safe and cash register.

LaPorte County Prosecutor John Daley said the girl appeared to be visibly shaken after the arrest but her boyfriend showed "no emotion" other than apparently looking sort of dazed.

The pair was captured by Indiana State Police, who made the arrest at a toll gate of the Indiana Turnpike. They were taken to jail at La Porte.

SUPPLIES FLOAT IN — Supplies for the U.S. Marines defending the combat base at Khe Sanh float to a drop zone. Many supplies are now dropped to the troops by parachute as North Vietnamese rocket and mortar shelling makes the runway hazardous for planes.

5 Are Arrested in School Protest

About 150 students protesting school budget cuts milled along Auburn Road in front of Avondale Senior High School yesterday, and five were arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies when they failed to disperse.

The students carried signs reading "Board Unfair!" and "Cut Dickey's Pay." Many of them were screaming "We want buses!"

Some indicated they were more interested in buses for the elementary grades than they were for themselves and others protested the elimination of spring sports at the senior and junior high school.

The five students who were arrested were charged with being disorderly and fleeing arrest. Three were taken to the Oakland County Jail and two were placed in Juvenile Court custody.

Two charged with being disorderly were released on bond and face arraignment Monday. A third remained in jail, charged with being drunk and disorderly, and fleeing arrest.

Administrators as of yesterday had not yet determined whether or what punishment would be meted out to the protesters.

Schools Supt. John W. Dickey reportedly spent most of the afternoon in conference with irate parents.

The demonstration was attributed to the results of a board meeting Monday night in which several economies were effected by the board.

Among those were the discontinuation of bus privileges for children living within a mile and a half of school.

Since the cutback also involves elementary students including some kindergartners, parents were also reportedly upset over the fact that many of the roads the children must walk along are major roads and there are no sidewalks.

UAW Still Meeting on AFL-CIO Ties

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther meets again today with his top lieutenants in the United Auto Workers and is expected to have something to say about the union's battle plans in its running feud with the AFL-CIO.

The 60-year-old union president met for five hours yesterday with his 26-member International Executive Board, but a union spokesman declined to say whether the board had adopted any plan.

The spokesman said the board would meet again at 10 a.m. today and might issue a statement by noon.

The stated purpose of the board meetings is "to discuss relationships with the AFL-CIO," which Reuther threatened to withdraw his 1.5 million UAW members from more than a year ago.

As the price for keeping his union in the giant labor federation, Reuther has called for what he terms "revitalization" of the AFL-CIO.

None among top-level UAW sources anticipate there will be a break before the November presidential election, in which labor would like to present a united front for President Johnson's reelection.

There were hints yesterday from union inner-circles that the UAW might ask a special, rank-and-file convention of the AFL-CIO to hear Reuther's demands.

Another possible maneuver would be for the UAW to insist on a meeting of the presidents of all AFL-CIO affiliated unions, thus bypassing the AFL-CIO Executive Council which heretofore has sided with the federation president, George Meany, in squabbles with Reuther.

Social Security Hiked

Fatter Checks for 20 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 20 million Americans, young and old, are receiving fatter Social Security checks starting today.

And the government is adding nearly half a million more persons to the Social Security rolls under the legislation enacted by Congress late last year.

The benefit increase, at least 13 per cent for everyone and higher in some cases, is the first since a 7 per cent hike in July 1965.

The dollar total of the increase is the largest ever for the system: $2.9 billion over what would have been paid this year. The average couple's check goes from about $145 to $165.

Maximum benefits for a couple increase from $215 to $230; the maximum for a single person goes from $142 to $150. Smallest monthly payment to a worker who retired at age 65 reaches $55, from $44.

BIGGER BITE

To finance the increase, the government will take a bigger bite from workers' earnings. But only one in four will have more deducted this year.

That's because the percentage withholding stays the same this year — a maximum of 4.4 per cent — though it is applied now to earnings up to $7,800 instead of $6,000.

The take goes up thereafter, however, to a maximum of 5.9 per cent in 1967.

Publication Delayed

Because of mechanical failure in the electric control panel of the presses, The Pontiac Press was unable to begin its production yesterday.

We regret the inconvenience this has caused our thousands of readers, and deeply appreciate the understanding and patience many have shown.

We trust you will realize that this unintentional failure to publish is not the fault of your newspaperboy.

CHECK THIS—Social Security checks—increased by 13 per cent in money—and totaling 3.8 million in number—are prepared for mailing from Chicago yesterday by postal and Treasury officials. The dollar total of the increase is the largest ever for the system: $2.9 billion over what would have been paid this year. Five states, including Michigan, are affected by this mailing.

Snow Will Dust City, Area Tonight

Occasional light snow flurries during the Pontiac area will continue through tonight.

Windy and turning colder with low temperatures in the 10 to 16 degree range is the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for this evening.

Sunday's outlook is sunny but cold. Fair skies and warmer mercury readings are expected Monday.

Northwest winds will become north to northwest at 20 to 30 miles per hour to-day and 10 to 20 miles tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today, 30; tonight, 20; and Sunday, 10.

The lowest recorded reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 26. At 12:30 p.m. the temperature was 26.

Johnson Predicts Return of Dem Strays

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — in Beaumont for Rep. Jack President Johnson, winging Brooks, a fellow Democrat. The President flies today to Marietta, Ga., to watch the un-veiling of the nation's newest fold-and be welcomed once the party's presidential candi-date is chosen.

This, along with a folksy old defense of administration policy on Vietnam, high-toned a Johnson speech at a gig. Friday night testimonial dinner. "I'm not too concerned about party conflicts," he said at the first stop was Houston and the Manned Space Flight Center where he tried to give a boost to space program morale sagging in the face of administration-sponsored budget cuts.

Then, in Beaumont, he visited an old folks home and handed out the first three pensioner checks reflecting bigger benefits voted by Congress last year. His final stop of the day was at the Brooks dinner.

In his space center address, Johnson said: "You will have to go through some heartaches and headaches. There will be little men with poison pens, without vision, who will seek to destroy your great efforts—but they will not prevail."

'WON'T SURRENDER'

"We will not surrender our station. We will not abandon our dream. We will never evacuate the frontiers of space to any other nation," he said.

Earlier Friday, Chief Astronaut Donald K. Slayton also had taken steps to cheer space workers and dispel reports of dissatisfaction among the astronauts.

The reports said the scientist-astronauts were fearful of losing touch with their academic specialties while undergoing training.

"This has all been a joke among the group," said astronaut Karl Henize at a news conference called by Slayton to mark the end of basic training for the 11-man astronaut class. "It is completely false. The group is still very much going to a high school."

Johnson, who cut next year's budget request for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration from $4.8 billion to $4.3 billion, conceded: "We may have to reduce some of the plans we had, but we will not forget you and we will not stop our work. We will proceed."

Jocular 'Jose Jimenez' Is Here

Bill Dana, movie and television star, will be in the Pontiac area until Tuesday night using the area's winter scenery.

The comedian is here in connection with the annual ice boat races on Cass Lake. The show is being taped for an hour-long special to be shown on TV next year.

Dana is creator of the character Jose Jimenez, and the show features events with an American flavor.

Yesterday Dana and his film crew were on Orchard Lake taking a comedy sequence wherein "Jose" goes ice fishing.

The crew and cast are staying at Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

The show being filmed will be the second in a series. The first, "Discover America With Jose Jimenez," will be shown May 17.

Heater Called Fire Cause; Officer Was Blame Killed 7 Children

LAKE CITY (AP) — A post-mortem autopsy showed that a heater in the kitchen was listed as the probable cause of a fire which claimed the lives of seven children.

State Police Det. Harold Parks said survivors reported a fire was still burning in the heater when the last person went to bed about midnight.

The fire leveled a two-story home near Merritt, about 10 miles east of Lake City. The victims were members of the families. Their bodies were recovered Friday afternoon.

Parks said Louis Snyder, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Snyder, sleeping downstairs discovered the fire and attempted to arouse the others by his Parks said.

Suspended Chicago Policeman Testifies

CHICAGO (AP) — A suspended Chicago policeman testified Friday before a police board that he had been an organizer for the Ku Klux Klan in the Chicago area for 15 years.

William Plogger, 43, the second of three suspended policemen to testify, told the board he held the rank of grand kludge of the Klan. He said the title means he is a Klan organizer.

The board is investigating charges of Klan activity by the three policemen.

Plogger testified that he had never attended a Klan meeting during his 15 years with the organization. He declined to tell how he could perform his Klan functions without attending meetings, because, he said, the Klan was a secret group.

He described the Klan as a "fraternal organization" which helped members who were ill or old. Outside the hearing room later he said one of the Klan's public spirited works was the construction of a cemetery for Negroes. He refused to say where or when it was established.

Plogger specifically charged with failure to obey order, incompetency, inefficiency and conduct bringing discredit on the department. He could be dismissed from the force if found guilty.

Says Public Impatient

WASHINGTON (AP) — The floor manager of the civil rights bill, impatient at the Senate's refusal to choke debate on it and get on to a vote, says Americans are asking: "What in God's name are you doing? Why don't you act?"

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., commented Friday as the Senate refused for a third time to vote for closure. A fourth attempt will be made Monday but the outcome is in doubt.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who proposed the cloture move, said if the new attempt fails, he thinks Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield will take up the bill and take up other legislation.

Pueblo Fate Uncertain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department expects additional U.S. talks with North Korean negotiators to be held at Panmunjom, but there still is great uncertainty about the release of crewmembers of the USS Pueblo. Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey told newsmen yesterday that the United States still had not been able to obtain the release and that at the moment there was "nothing more we can do" but express hope.

Weapons, Bodies Found

SAIGON (AP) — Salvage crews recovered large hauls of weapons and munitions and 14 enemy bodies today from the three Communist travelers destroyed early yesterday in a coordinated gun-running attempt at three points along the coast of South Vietnam.

Blaiberg Progressing

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's only surviving human transplant patient, completed the second month since his operation today with no indication when he may be released from hospital. Blaiberg was taken to a room in a window of Groote Schuur Hospital, read a book and mountain climbing and continued his gradual emergence from sterilized conditions.

2 Stabbed in Game Riot

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A high school basketball player and a fan were stabbed last night, and another fan suffered a fatal heart attack as fighting broke out after a tense football game. Four policemen were injured in the melee on the floor of the University of Dayton Duane-Beaver Creek game. Police said the trouble started when fans began taunting, poured out on the court.

Peking Assails Russian

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Grechko today of having helped the United States intimidate Vietnamese Communists. The People's Daily, the organ of the Chinese Communist party, blasted Grechko for having said, "contemporary imperialism is far from a paper tiger."

'Draft to Hit Graduates'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Almost all next year's draftees will be college graduates because of the government's new draft regulations, according to a private foundation. Mrs. Betty Vetter, director of the nonprofit Scientific Manpower Commission, told a special house subcommittee on education yesterday the 240,000 men drafted in the year starting June 1 will come almost entirely from graduate schools because of the end of deferments for graduate students suddenly made 220,000 young men eligible.

2 Bandits Get $30 at City Restaurant

Two bandits held up the White Tower, 142 N. Saginaw, at about 8:30 last night and fled with $30, city police said.

Majorie Powell, 47, of 107½ N. Saginaw — one of four employees working in the restaurant at the time of the robbery — told police one of the bandits flashed a small pistol and told everyone to stay where they were.

He then reportedly walked down the stairs and ordered another employee — Judy Mar — to be taken to the cash register.

Edison Franchise Vote Set in Bloomfield Twp.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — declared a state of emergency, to make "reasonable orders, rules and regulations" to insure public safety.

Areas covered by the law include traffic control, control of places of amusement and assembly of persons on public streets, curfews, control of the sale and use of alcoholic beverages, and control of the sale of weapons.

H. G. Johnston, director of the Detroit metropolitan library project, has been named successor to Rose Vainstein as director of the township public library.

A graduate of St. Ambrose College, Iowa, Johnston received his M.A. in library science from the University of Michigan. He has served as assistant librarian in the Flint Public Library and chief librarian at Owosso.

Johnston lives at 2284 Coolidge, Troy. He will assume his new duties July 1.

Court Bill May Shift to Senate

Move to Reconsider House Vote Planned

Paper Calls for Invasion of N. Viet

SAIGON (AP) — A Saigon newspaper known as the voice of the South Vietnamese army called for an invasion of North Vietnam.

An editorial Friday in Tien Tuyen urged a step-up in bombing of the North, including the dikes of the Red River Delta, and a landing of troops in the North.

FAVOR ESCALATION

"Why should we restrain from attacking North Vietnam while it did not restrict its acts of defiance and aggression," the paper asked.

"We suffer from devastations and deaths caused by the war but we would suffer more if such a plight were forced upon us indefinitely. We must gather our energy to drain this abyss. Landing in North Vietnam, bombing the Red River embankments, and, if necessary attacking up to the border of Communist China: Such is the best solution to safeguard peace."

NOT DECIDED

In the Senate, Judiciary Committee Chairman Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, said it had not been decided how to proceed. Senators have before them a bill of their own, which is different than the House-passed bill.

"We'll hold a meeting Tuesday morning to consider whether we'll move the House bill or take immediate action on the Senate bill and send the issue to conference," Richardson said.

He added he favored the Senate's passing its own bill. Either way, the final version of the complex bill is certain to be written by a six-member House-Senate Conference Committee, which will try to iron out the difference between the two versions.

Area Woman Charged With 'Pole Assault'

A West Bloomfield Township woman is in Oakland County jail today charged with willful and felonious assault of a telephone pole.

According to township police, Virginia Clapp, 47, of 3434 14 Mile, and a woman companion took hacksaws to the guide wires on a telephone pole on their property when a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. lineman, Donald Adrich, refused to leave their property.

Junior Editors Quiz on HAPPINESS

Question: What are the ingredients of happiness?

Answer: There are many recipes for happiness and they vary from person to person. But we do think that if you keep yourself well, work hard at whatever you are doing and enjoy your play, you will probably keep on the happy side.

You probably won't be too happy if you live just for yourself alone — do something for someone else once in a while! In our picture, Joe saw a neighbor, Mrs. Blaine, struggling with the heavy snow in her front walk. He grabbed his shovel, pitched in and had her walk cleared in short order.

As he heads home, the glow he's radiating isn't all from the physical effort; he's helped someone without expecting any reward—that's a special glow which gives him pride and happiness.

When Mrs. Blaine brings Joe a bag of her famous doughnuts, she'll get that glow, too. Generous actions have a way of going around full circle, enriching everyone they touch.

GM Exec Aims at Social Betterment

We approve the program presented by MARTIN J. CASERIO, general manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division, to the Pontiac Area Planning Council at its meeting last week.

CASERIO

His proposal, approved unanimously by the 22 Council governors present, embodies the formation of a 15-man task force to explore areas of the community where social problems, many of them racial, exist and to then consolidate findings and suggested solutions for submission to the Planning Council.

Making up the task force would be representatives of social agencies and civic and labor groups. Significantly, a member from each of the three local General Motors plants would serve on the task force — thus indicating the Corporation's interest in alleviating the forces that militate against a peaceful and cooperative citizenry.

The community is fortunate in having one of the executive and influential stature of CASERIO, as busy as he is directing one of GM's top divisions, is identified with the development of an areawide spirit of human relations reflecting mutual enlightenment and trust.

It is this caliber of involvement in local affairs that is so badly needed today, and we commend MARTIN CASERIO on the action he has taken toward improvement of the City's social climate.

Election Booths Beckon Pontiac Voters Monday

Monday is primary election day in Pontiac. It is then that voters will nominate candidates for the City Commission who will be elected at the general election April 15.

In three of the City's seven Districts—2nd, 3rd and 6th—there will be no balloting since the incumbents in each case are opposed by but one candidate.

In the four other Districts, however, a total of 14 candidates will bid for voter preference. In Districts 1 and 5 respectively, the names of three contenders will appear on the ballot, while the 4th and 7th Districts will each offer a choice of four aspirants. The incumbents of District 4 and 5 are not running.

It is the privilege and duty of every qualified voter to vote at every election, and the upcoming one is no exception.

With government at all levels facing new economic and social issues, it is imperative that the citizenry be represented by only the most capable and conscientious public officials.

Only by the democratic process of elective selection can this objective be realized. But it takes votes to bring it to fruition—your vote and those of your fellow citizens if Pontiac is to continue to have enlightened and effective municipal government.

Vote Monday.

LBJ's Vietnam War Proverb Suggests Another

A few months ago, President JOHNSON alluded to a Vietnamese proverb about "riding the tiger" to underscore his determination to see the Vietnam war through to a successful conclusion.

Now that the tiger has shown what long claws he still has long enough to force the complete obliteration of a city called Ben Tre by American bombs and to create tens of thousands of new civilian refugees all over the country — it may be timely to recall another proverb:

"Never burn down the house to get rid of the mice."

Canada-U.S. Border Symbol of Trust

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

The great battle of the century is the battle between communism and freedom.

Wherever the battle rages — whether hot or cold — it is aimed at strengthening an international border somewhere with more guns and barbed wire and concrete, or at leveling an established boundary with a superiority of gunfire.

In such cruel times as these, when the affairs of the world are so unsettled and the perils of war and more war, famine and racial strife are our greatest concerns, when we long for a promise of hope, we have only to look up and we can see that promise.

It is the hope for peace exemplified in the boundary line that separates, and yet joins, Canada and the United States.

The world can see by lifting up its eyes that two nations can live face to face across a thin line that you find only on a map, a line without fencing or armed guards, with absolutely no fear of each other, with respect for each other.

Their border is an unfortified, heart-warming symbol of trust, cooperation and friendship; the symbol of a bond. And such friends can disagree as they please without sacrificing the peace.

That is the great gift of our border with Canada. The immensity of the Canadian-American friendship can be explained in part when we consider the physical facts of Canada. Second only to the Soviet Union in land area, Canada's 20 million people have made of their vast terrain and ample of democracy effectively at work has made Canada rich, strong, and vibrant.

To till the soil of such an enormous acreage so productively — with so comparatively few people — to mine so profitably for their own and the world's benefit their deep-sunk veins of rich ore, to trade so effectively across the globe's tariff barriers; and, through the years, to provide so splendid an example of democracy effectively at work has made Canada rich, strong, and vibrant.

The misunderstandings and argument between us can be explained by the continuing, dynamic development of our two nations. Where there is so much being done, where there is such richness to be brought into being, there are bound to be arguments.

In recent years, the scope and volume of United States investment in Canada have given rise to some sharp questioning by some Canadian economists and government leaders. Not, perhaps without reason.

Some Americans have been distressed by Canada's policy of trade with Communist China, especially the trade in grain and other foodstuffs. That trade has not been an action of which we in the 50 states can approve, but it is an action that has been decided upon by a sovereign, neighbor-nation for reasons best known to itself.

We abide by it like the good neighbors we try to be. We look across the oceans and we see borders all over the world violated every day. We see apparently peaceful borders that stop short of the free flow of ideas and people.

Such streams of thought and enterprise are among the important factors that help Canada and the United States to thrive. Canadians and Americans have turned their border into an asset. It is not a liability to be endured with reluctance and envy.

The international line across North America, from the Bay of Fundy on the East to the Juan de Fuca Strait on the West, is that promise of hope so much needed by the world.

The world needs no more borders.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD IISHMAEL

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Torkom Manougian, primate of the Eastern Diocese of the Armenian Church of North America, at 48 is one of the youngest religious leaders in the world. His diocese includes all of the United States, except California and Arizona, and also embraces Canada and Mexico.

Born in Baghdad, Iraq, and educated in New York City Armenian schools, he received his religious training at the Seminary of the Armenian Patriarchate in Jerusalem. Since coming to the United States in 1946, he has been a potent and dedicated force in the Armenian community and in religious life of the country. One of his primary concerns has been the religious education of young people. He constantly gives impetus to their religious training in the institutions of summer camps, seminars, youth organizations and Sunday Schools.

The Armenian Church was founded in the middle of the first century by the apostles St. Thaddeus and St. Bartholomew. Bishop Manougian is perpetuating the spiritual and religious heritage of one of the oldest of Christian churches.

A physical symbol of that heritage is also one of the Bishop's projects now that he has spearheaded the building of the first Armenian Cathedral in the United States. It is near completion in New York City and will be consecrated in April, when His Holiness Vasken I, Supreme Patriarch and Catholics of all Armenians, journeys to the United States for the ceremony.

Bishop Manougian has helped to give our country another dimension in its religious heritage.

Confident Living:

Life Has Limitless Possibilities

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

There is an amazing potential in human beings to do much more with life than they ever believed possible. Here is a great human story encountered in a lifetime of collecting narratives of people who have done tremendous jobs with their lives.

DR. PEALE

This is another thrilling American story, one of those deeply human episodes that warms your heart and fires your mind with wonder at life's limitless possibilities.

Mary B. Crowe's job was to wash her father's grimy overalls every day. And one day an amazing thing happened; it took place in her thoughts, the place where all great things originate. Something got to working in her mind.

It was positive thinking and the motivation of positive thought-through. It was the magic of the inspired mental image. As she sloshed overalls in that sudsy water, a breathtaking image flashed up in her mind. College! She saw herself in a cap and gown, coming to the platform to accept her diploma. A college degree? But how silly can you get?

No money, no help, no pull, no chance at all. No member of her family had ever gone to college. It was inconceivable. Forget it!

But she couldn't forget, for a creative image had come; enthusiasm had been born, and with it the kind of motivation that makes things happen.

So she kept on washing overalls, and meanwhile, she went to high school. Came commencement day, Mary graduated with honors. The parish priest called her into his office and pulled out an envelope from his desk, one which he had held there for four years. It contained a scholarship to St. Mary's of the Springs College.

He had been waiting for someone to earn this coveted scholarship. The image was working — a scholarship for a girl who had imaged, dreamed, worked and practiced positive thinking and studies diligently, while washing the inevitable overalls.

Enthusiastically she went to college; she worked as waitress, housemaid, cook — anything to get funds. She graduated.

She took a course in insurance. Then she went to an insurance office and asked for work as an agent. But the manager snorted, "What do you know about life insurance, or about selling? You don't know anyone. Besides," and this was the clincher, "you're a woman. The answer is no!"

This man turned her down time, after time as she continued to ask for a chance. But she sat in his office daily until finally, in desperation and to rid himself of her, he snapped, "OK, here's a rate book and a desk, but no drawing account and no help. Starve yourself to death if you want to."

She failed to oblige, and a few days later came in with her first policy sale.

Twenty-five years after she was grudgingly hired, her associates gathered at a dinner honoring her as an outstanding insurance saleswoman. Her formula of success? It was a process of imaging, praying, having faith and positive thinking, plus enthusiasm and motivation. Taken together, the power-packed formula made things happen.

This woman demonstrated that enthusiasm is a powerful force, backed by faith, that motivates top job performance, overcomes every potential defeat and makes big things happen. Since it was not in her plan to take defeat, she became a winner.

"You can change your thinking and thereby change your life," says Mary Crowe. "You can do this by deliberately imaging into your subconscious good ideas, positive images, instead of negative ones. You are constantly in a state of becoming. And you do become what you think."

"This philosophy does not mean, of course, that your life will be without problems. What it means is that you will be able to meet any problem full of confidence that you have the courage and the strength to face it. You need only ask — and believe! Image and believe; work and believe."

Mary Crowe's story proves once again that faith and enthusiasm constitute the powerful motivation that makes things happen. And, of course, if this can happen to one person, it can happen to others; it can even happen to you.

Reader Answers Letter on Haircut Price Increase

Does "Shaggy" who complained about the raise in haircuts know that barbers get no paid vacation, no paid holidays and sick days, no company-paid hospital insurance, no strike pay, no retirement plan, no unemployment benefits and no overtime pay?

My husband is a barber. He went to school for nine months and paid for it himself. He has to follow State laws in order to keep his license. Haircuts have gone up to keep up with the rising prices. We have to eat, clothe our children and live also.

'Voters Should Approve Millage Increase'

We must have a yes vote for the three mills on the March 25 election in West Bloomfield Township for adequate improved police protection, necessary fire protection for our rapidly growing township, continuation of library facilities and road maintenance and improvement. The cost to the average family of approximately $2.50 a month is a small price to pay for these necessities.

Discusses Cuts in Avondale School Program

The Avondale Education Association regrets the cuts in the school program that the Avondale Board of Education put into effect recently. The Association has worked diligently, along with the Board of Education and the school administration, to develop a forward-looking and meaningful curriculum for the students. Quality education was a reality. Now it again becomes a goal for the future.

Reduced class sizes, art, music, library, remedial reading, junior primary classes, extra curricular activities, new sports, intramural sports, more certified teachers, in-service training, elementary counseling and a vastly improved Avondale image were the results of our combined efforts. In no way can the Association forget the emasculation of so much development.

The well-being of the generation of school children is directly dependent upon the realization of a satisfactory solution to the acute financial plight of the Avondale School District. The Association urges the Board to seek effective remedies to alleviate this crisis.

NITA HALL
PRESIDENT OF THE AVONDALE
EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

'We Must Make Ourselves Heard This Year'

We are being taxed to the point of rebellion. Socialism has taken over our country to such an extent that it discourages the honest working man to make any efforts to improve himself, his family and his property. To do so invites higher taxation.

This is the year we Americans must make ourselves heard. Don't we have one candidate with enough backbone to bring about a morally right revolution; to bring about an end to senseless conflicts, both foreign and domestic; to bring about peaceful integration without impeaching the rights of the individual; to punish the criminal and not the innocent; to cut down our foreign aid which is not aid but a source of worldwide resentment and ridicule; to help our poor by teaching them to help themselves; and educate our children in the manner which we desire. If there is such a man, please make yourself known. America needs you.

Opposes Rezoning Avon Township Property

The Avon Township Planning Commission has an important decision to make concerning rezoning of property directly south of the Stratford Manor Apartments. Before making decisions of this nature it is common practice for the Commission to consult with and ask for recommendations from a professional source. Their complete analysis of the situation and the area made only one decision possible. Why not take their advice? Please do not underestimate the recommendation. Put personal feelings aside and accept professional advice. Do not rezone this property.

'Voters Should Get Dismissal Explanation'

I have recently learned of the decision by the West Bloomfield Board of Education not to renew Supt. Dr. Houghton's contract. The most striking feature of this dismissal is the refusal of the Board members to reveal their reasons. The only reasonable conclusion an observer can reach is that some members want to get rid of Dr. Houghton but themselves from the ravages of public opinion. What are they covering up?

WILLIAM H. LEMAY

Voters of West Bloomfield should demand an explanation from their elected public servants and should remember, next election, which members of the Board voted to preserve the continuity of our academic traditions.

WILLIAM H. LEMAY

Question and Answer

Please print a few of the names and addresses of our national leaders in the House of Representatives in Washington, I'd like to write to as many as I can, if you will print them all.

DOLLIE THACKER

REPLY

We couldn't print the names of all of them, but the address would be the same: New House Office Building, Washington, D.C. We will send you a list of names if you will send us your address. For the benefit of other readers, any library would have a list of government officials.

Head of House Funds Unit Hits Antiriot Program Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee says programs recommended by the President's Commission on Civil Disorders could cost hundreds of billions of dollars and "this is wholly unrealistic."

The commission's report, added Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., "may raise hopes and expectations which could do more harm than good." He contended it is unsound to suggest that racial prejudice can be cured by spending huge sums of money.

His comments Friday joined a flow of criticism—most of it from Southern congressmen—directed at the findings of the group that spent seven months investigating last year's riots. Other congressmen praised the report.

The panel released a 12,000-word summary report Thursday night and issues the rest of the document—some 250,000 words this evening.

SUSTAINED EFFORTS

In its summary, the commission urged massive, compassionate and sustained efforts to halt this movement apart, including programs to provide 2 million jobs, 6 million housing units, better school and a welfare system designed to guarantee "a minimum standard of decent living."

One commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., many of the recommendations can be met by adopting legislation already before Congress, such as the civil rights bill.

"If we do run into programs that need money," Harris said, "we should enact the necessary laws."

Another commissioner, Rep. William W. McCullough, R-Ohio, agreed with Harris many recommendations are before Congress "in one form or another."

Sen. Edward S. Muskie, D-Maine, called the report a "blunt appraisal of the injustices blighting the total environment of inner-city residents." And Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., called for steps to "let each individual walk with dignity."

Reaction from Southern members of Congress was harsh. "Propaganda ad nauseum," declared Rep. F. Edward Herbert, D-La.

"A DISSERVICE"

The report, said Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., is unrealistic, highly exaggerated and "did the country a disservice."

"The answer to every problem seems to be to spend more of the taxpayers' money," said Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss. "There just isn't enough money to go around."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said the commission advocated "a turn-the-other cheek to lawlessness. It offers little encouragement to the millions of Americans who believe the way to stop riots is to use strong methods."

The commission condemned "moves to equip police departments with mass destruction weapons, such as automatic rifles, machine guns and tanks."

"LITTLE SENSE"

"I don't think the commission's comment makes much sense at all," responded Chief Deputy Walter Townbridge of Monroe County, Mich., a Detroit suburb that has ordered a $13,500 armored car and other riot-control equipment.

Sheriff Peter Pitchess of Los Angeles County, whose office has purchased a surplus Army armored vehicle, said "We in law enforcement are doing our part to alleviate and eliminate the root causes of civil disturbances."

"In the meantime," Pitchess said, "we must and will deal with lawbreakers in a firm and absolutely impartial manner."

Radiation-Laden Snow to Be Disposed of in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says snow which was contaminated when a B52 bomber carrying four hydrogen bombs crashed will be removed from an area near Thule, Greenland, and shipped to this country for disposal.

It's "a matter of good housekeeping," said Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard O. Hunziker, who is in charge of the operation, Project Crested Ice.

The Defense Department, in response to questions by The Associated Press, said Friday that Denmark, which governs Greenland, is cooperating in the project.

The radioactive snow at the crash site is on a frozen bay off the Greenland coast where the bomber crashed Jan. 22. The crew survived.

TO BE STORED

The snow will be stored at nearby Thule Air Base in sealed metal containers, and after the bay thaws, will be shipped to this country. By that time, of

WE SALUTE THE PONTIAC JAYCEES

STATE JUNIOR MISS PAGEANT

Michigan's Junior Miss, Pamela Smith is being congratulated by the State Agent Chairman, Richard Jorgensen (left), Jim LaVergne, Local Chairman and Joel Goldberg.

PONTIAC'S CREATIVE ARTS CENTER

Pontiac Jaycee's spearheaded a drive to raise funds for the Pontiac Creative Arts Center. Project Chairman, James Peterson with Mayor William H. Taylor, Jr. and David Ogg, Publicity Chairman.

"MYSTERY TREAT" CONTEST

Big winner in the annual Halloween Mystery Treat contest was Chuck Spak. He receives a new bike from Jaycees President, James H. Gallagher, Jr., Laird Scarlett and contest chairman, D. E. Frechette.

P. S. H. AND PONTIAC JAYCEES WARD B

Jaycees join the Pontiac Area Jaycees in their successful project to supply appliances to Pontiac State Hospital Ward B. Mrs. Martin Hopt (left), Terry Van Orman with Dr. J. Satermeier inspect the latest addition to the Ward.

BOSS OF THE YEAR

Congratulations were exchanged by the recipients of this year's award winners, Richard Fitzpatrick, left and Charles Toby received the Key Man Award. John A. Riker, of The Pontiac Press was named "The Boss of the Year" with David Ogg receiving the Distinguished Service Award.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Putting their individual touch on the sign that is symbolic of Jaycees service to their community are: William Landis (left) Don Doolittle and Dennis Banks.

These Men Called "Jaycees"

What makes them unique? No other group offers as much to young men between the ages of 21 and 35. There are no occupational classifications to determine membership. A Jaycee chapter exists for two primary reasons—to serve the community, state and nation and to offer leadership training to its members. Any activity which can help further either or both of these ends is appropriate for a Jaycee.

TOMORROW is taking shape today

PRESENT, PAST, AND FUTURE

JAYCEES PROJECTS TO BUILD A BETTER AMERICA

Jaycee constructive Community projects that have become a tradition through the years are: The Halloween Mystery Treat, The Jr. Miss Pageant of Michigan, Christmas Shopping Night, and the Annual Easter Egg Hunt. Recognition of the outstanding men in the community is highlighted on Bosses Night.

Youth projects number many in their program. The Pontiac Boys' Club, All Star Football, Punt, Pass and Kick Contest, Jr. Champ Track Meet, Jr. Golf, Jr. Ski Meet, Midget Football, and a Scholarship fund are but to name a few.

In Community Affairs the Jaycees have become active in Operation Chee-Mate, "Speak-Up, Individual", The Creative Arts Center, maintenance of Jaycee Park, International Night and the Chamber of Commerce Membership Drive.

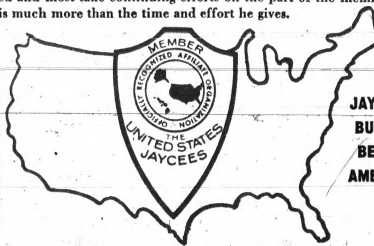

As fund raising projects; The Lions Football Benefit Game, Patriotic Flag Sale and The Autumn Pumpkin Sale provide the necessary means of their work.

While their projects are many, varied and most take continuing efforts on the part of the membership, each young man feels his gain is much more than the time and effort he gives.

The Jaycee Creed

We Believe:

- That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
- That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
- That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
- That government should be of laws rather than of men;
- That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
- That service to humanity is the best work of life.

Jaycee is made up of responsible young men who are proud of their community and have pledged themselves to help in its growth and improvement. They are celebrating their 48th birthday this year . . . we join in saluting these young men of action.

Sunday Schools Seek Boys, Girls

The Midwestern Association of the Social Brethren Church is sponsoring the National Sunday School Association's annual Sunday School Convention today in First Social Brethren Church, 316 Baldwin. Sessions began at 10 this morning.

According to Dick Grimes of 85 E. Colgate, general Sunday School superintendent of the association, the purpose of the convention is to emphasize the importance of Sunday School.

Norman Clothier, director of Oakland Youth for Christ; Robert Gavette of Marimont Baptist Church; and the Rev. Bruce W. Densmore of Wesleyan Methodist Church will be featured speakers.

Leading services will be the Rev. Harry Carr, host pastor, and Grimes, youth director and SS superintendent at the Alpine Social Brethren Church, Waterford Township.

All pastors, Sunday School teachers and officers are especially welcome to the conference.

The Midwestern Association consists of Social Brethren churches in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

SILVERCREST BAPTIST
Members of Silvercrest Baptist Church are engaged in a four-day missionary conference beginning March 10.

The contest begins tomorrow.

"We feel quite sure the contest will put us in the running for first place," said Alfred L. Hindes, general SS superintendent at Silvercrest Church.

"In 1967 we lost the contest to a church in Alabama by .69 per cent.

"Our main concern is to reach boys and girls and parents with the Gospel and Salvation through the Lord Jesus Christ. If contests will do this, then we are for it," Hines said.

OAKLAND AVE. U.P.
A "March to Sunday School in March" attendance campaign will begin tomorrow and continue for the five Sundays in March at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Ivan Hamel is Sunday School superintendent.
Barbara Miller, a member of the congregation and staff member of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship on the University of Michigan campus, will sing at the morning service and tell something of her work.

The church will sponsor a

College students who are involved in Campus Crusade for Christ will conduct the 7 p.m. worship.

Larry Finch and Bill Tipton will speak. Karen Behmer is soloist with the group.

Campus Crusade for Christ is a student movement designed to present the message of Jesus Christ to collegians throughout the United States and the world. The work began at the University of California in 1951. Since that time it has spread to scores of campuses across America and into other countries.

Mrs. Ted Girtman will tell the children's story tomorrow night.

The new church library can be used by people 15 minutes before and after morning and evening services.

Mrs. Grace Waite, head librarian, is assisted by Glen Moon and Agnes Jensen. Books may be checked out during the week with any of the regular staff.

Teen-age boys of Christian Service Brigade are on a weekend outing near Hale. Counselors with the boys are Bill Key, Jerry Fritz and Tom Cox.

"WAIT FOR ME" — Rushing from the side door of Pilgrim Holiness Church yesterday to catch the bus headed for the youth retreat in Sarnia, Ont., are (from left) Denise Eberle of 78 W. Beverly, Debbie Hart of 3071 Judah, Orion Township, and David Lyons of 25 W. Fairmont. With other young people of the Pilgrim Church, the three will enjoy recreation and discussions led by Dick Wynn, director for Youth for Christ in the Thumb area. They will attend Sunday School and worship in Sarnia tomorrow. Counselors accompanying the group include Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Grewe, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bundy.

ORCHARD LAKE

The Rev. Virgil Jones, campus minister at Wayne State University and Negro clergyman of the United Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker at the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian tomorrow.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard who is returning to the pulpit from a period of hospitalization, will lead worship.

Young people of the church who attended the special seminar on "The Negro in the Making of America" at First Presbyterian Church, Farmington include Kathy Ruetenik, Pat Spencer, Joan McNab, Jan Waters, Jim White, Wilfred Kuchenmuller, Douglas Klynweta, Joan Zipp and Greg Kjolhede.

Young adults of the Orchard Lake Church and their friends will get together at 4 p.m. at Cooley Lanes.

CHURCH OF ATONEMENT
"I Am the Light of the World" will be the subject of the Rev. Crea M. Clark's sermon tomorrow morning in the Church of Atonement, Waterford Township.

Music for the service will be by the Junior Choir and the Girls' Ensemble.

The Youth Club will meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday for recreation, music, Bible study and refreshments.

Brady Freeland and Clifford Hager are representing the congregation for a training conference at Northland Inn. The conference is held for United Presbyterian churches participating in the Dimensions in Stewardship Commitment.

It is a year-round emphasis on education and giving as a part of stewardship in the local church.

AUBURN HEIGHTS U.P.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be served by the elders and pastor of Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

The Rev. F. William Palmer will begin a series of sermons on "The Upper Room Devotional Guide."

His subject tomorrow is "Seeing Ourselves As We Are."

FIRST METHODIST—CLARKSTON

Dr. Dwight S. Large, minister of Central Methodist Church in Detroit, will be the featured speaker for the dinner program at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in First Methodist Church, Clarkston. Dr. Gary Ushman is chairman of the Christian Social Concerns Night.

Men and women of North Oakland Christian Church will hear F. Gerald St. Souver, chief investigator for the Oakland County prosecutor's staff, speak on drug abuse at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kain, 2522 Hempstead.

There will be a period for questions and answers.

Four Students at Seminar

Rev., Mrs. Bobbitt, Are Adult Advisers

Four Pontiac students and two adults will be among the 36 persons from throughout the state who will attend the Michigan International Affairs Seminar in New York City and Washington, D.C. next week.

Students include Nancy Appleton, Nancy Brown, Mary Ann Schoneham and Michael Shanholz, all seniors and members of First Christian Church except Mary Ann of Our Lady of Refuge Church.

The Rev. Lawrence Bobbitt, pastor of First Christian, and Mrs. Bobbitt will attend the seminar as adult advisers. Pastor Bobbitt was named assistant director of the program in Michigan this year.

The students qualified for the seminar by writing an essay stating their reasons for wishing to participate.

They also wrote a 2,000-word research paper on some aspect of the role of the United Nations.

Each student was asked to read and digest a portfolio of materials and books concerning national and world government.

The seminar will include three days of special sessions at the United Nations headquarters in New York City with particular emphasis laid on the Arab-Israeli conflict.

In Washington the schedule allows for three days at Capitol Hill. Besides attending session of Congress, the group will meet Michigan political leaders and visit the Smithsonian Institute.

The Michigan International Affairs Seminar is an annual event sponsored by The Christian Church.

CAKE FOR CONVENTION — Three-year-old Bobbi Grimes plucks a bite of frosting from the cake her mother baked for the dinner tonight at First Social Brethren Church. Bobbi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Grimes of 85 E. Colgate, members of the Alpine Social Brethren Church, are participating in the Sunday School Convention held by the Midwestern Association of Social Brethren churches. Mr. Grimes is general SS superintendent of the association.

ST. OWEN BREAKS GROUND—Several hundred members of St. Owen Catholic Parish, Birmingham, prayed aloud the words of the blessing of the ground for the permanent church buildings as the Rev. Edward T. Walling, pastor, wielded the shovel to break ground. The round somewhat pagodlike building is scheduled for completion next year. The structure is expected to seat 1,000 persons. Charles Hannan of Farmington is the architect and Clarence Gleason Co., general contractors.

Medical Unit Needed

Women Plan Addition to St. Anne's Mead

The addition of a medical unit include four single rooms area. Present kitchen and laundry facilities will be designed to provide maximum light and air with special attention given to the dining room, day room and activities.

The Mead is open as a residence to elderly men and women in good health. Presently those who become afflicted in any way must be transferred to outside facilities for nursing or hospital care. Residents who recover fully they return to the Mead—others are required to find permanent accommodations elsewhere.

The proposed medical service would provide nursing for those who may be relatively well with minor, short term or chronic illness or disability requiring long-term medical attention.

It would not provide extensive rehabilitative care—a requirement for Medicare. Tentative plans for the 12-bed unit include four single rooms area. Present kitchen and laundry facilities will be designed to provide maximum light and air with special attention given to the dining room, day room and activities.

The Rev. Ralph E. Leslie, newly appointed Assemblies of God missionary to Peru, will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. wing would provide nursing for those who may be relatively well with minor, short term or chronic illness or disability requiring long-term medical attention.

During their first term of missionary service, the Leslies will live in the coastal city of Piura engaged in evangelism in that city and in villages located in the Andes mountains.

Call Exception to Old Rule on 'the Boss'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: We were transferred to this state by my husband's company. After we were settled we decided to have open house, inviting the people he worked with. His boss was the only man above him.

We knew these people prior to our coming. Was it all right to invite the boss, or should we have left him out?—Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: I hope you did invite your husband's boss; you would have been quite right in doing so. It's true that the newly arrived employee usually waits for the boss to entertain him and his wife first, but three facts make a difference.

First, an open house is most informal—quite different from a dinner party, for instance. Second, it would be an insult to exclude just one person, whether he is your boss or not. Third, you knew him before you moved to the state.

UNEXPECTED VISIT

Dear Mrs. Post: When making an unexpected visit to a friend in the afternoon and you find that she has guests, is it proper to stay or should you leave as soon as possible?—Jean K.

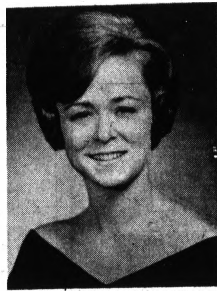

Dear Jean: If they are playing bridge or seem to be having a conversation you are interrupting, you should make some excuse and leave. But if the conversation is general, and you are urged to stay, you may do so.

Coffee Hour Set to Honor Hosts Child Thief Needs Expert Help Before the Situation Gets Worse

Pontiac area residents who have opened their homes to government sponsored visitors from overseas will be guests of honor at the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit Thursday evening.

After a 7:30 p.m. coffee hour, the group will hear talks by Robert A. Aylward, chief Community Relations branch, Bureau of Education and Cultural Affairs Department of State; and Ambassador Arthur L. Richards, executive director National Council for Visitors Services to International Visitors.

They will discuss the visitors sent to American homes and what they expect from the community.

Mrs. Kenneth Peterson of Crestview Street has charge of local reservations.

A Spelling Bee between the fifth and sixth grades will follow Monday evening's 7:30 meeting of the Sashabaw School PTA.

Give Diamond Back Says Judge as Ex-Lovebirds Battle for Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Is an engagement ring a conditional gift a woman owns only after she becomes a bride, or just a gift given for "love and affection?"

Civil Court Judge Sidney Asch ruled the former when he ordered Louis Rosenbhal, 23-year-old secretary-model, to return the $2,500 diamond given her by Leonard Goldstein, a young doctor, after she broke the engagement.

But the girl's attorney, Arthur Hemlock, says he will appeal the ruling, contending that Goldstein gave the ring out of "love and affection" and a new law on return of wedding gifts does not apply to engagement rings.

Besides, Hemlock added, the ring served the purpose, for a time at least, of taking Miss Rosenbhal "off the marriage market."

Judge Asch's ruling was published Thursday in the New York Law Journal.

Before 1935, New York courts invariably held that the girl had to return the ring. But that year the legislature passed a law known as the "Heart Balm Act," designed to keep wily young ladies from suing wealthy young men for allegedly promised money and gifts.

In practice, the law also kept the men from suing to get back their gifts to their former fiancées.

In 1965, a law was passed permitting suits to recover property and money when the "sole consideration" of the transfer was a contemplated marriage.

Hemlock contends this was meant to apply only to wedding gifts from relatives and friends to the engaged couple.

But Judge Asch said "justice requires" that the ring be returned.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son (a junior in high school) is getting to be a very clever thief. We give him a generous allowance, and if he asked for anything extra, we would be glad to give it to him, but he doesn't ask, he just helps himself. He doesn't "need" anything. He just steals for the thrill of stealing.

I know he has been in my purse and stolen money. And I have seen him take money from his father's wallet. He has stolen little things from his friends, and now I find that he's taken things from the grocery store, drugstore and other places of business.

I keep finding things in his room that I know he didn't buy. I have even threatened to take him to the police station to frighten him, but nothing helps. Am I raising a criminal? Please help me.

BROKENHEARTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A child who steals for the "thrill" of stealing needs professional help. He can be straightened out if he's taken in hand early. Threatening him with the police is unwise. A policeman should be identified as a friend who protects us and our property, not an "enemy" who would take pleasure in punishing our wrongdoing. Ask your family doctor whom to see about this boy.

DEAR ABBY: Isn't it true that if two people dance well together it means they are "in tune" and "meant for" each other?

I heard somewhere that if a boy and girl dance well together they will probably have other things in common and will most likely have a successful marriage. Please confirm this.

LOVES TO DANCE

DEAR LOVES: When two people dance well together, it means only one thing. They dance well together. Believe me, it means nothing else. If you are using "dancing" as a basis for compatibility in marriage, forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married soon and being as how he never made it in college we would like to give him a large sum of money for a wedding gift.

It says in the book of etiquette that checks given to brides and grooms should not be put on display with the rest of the wedding gifts.

My husband doesn't go along with this. He feels that since we are giving the newlyweds so much money we should be given full credit for it.

What is your opinion?

GROOM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Checks should not be "on display" along with the other wedding gifts. The book of etiquette recommends displaying only the amount, but covering the signature, which strikes me as being pretty ridiculous. And anyone who gives a large sum of money as a gift and wants to make sure he gets "full credit" for it will, because he's the type who will tell everyone he knows.

DEAR ABBY: To the "GUEST WITH A GIFT" who complained of eating homemade cake at a wedding reception, while a "beautiful three-tier wedding cake stood untouched on the buffet table."

You wouldn't have any better luck at our silver wedding reception. We also had a three-tier beautiful "wedding" cake on our buffet table, but we didn't offer anyone a piece. It was a "baker's dummy" made of plaster of paris, loaned to us for the occasion, and intended for decoration only. Sincerely,

Annie's Needle Dresses Generations

A representative of the senior segment of society is Mrs. Annie Lawson, 92 years old today, and still employing her talents usefully.

The needlecrafts which helped her raise six children to maturity are used now to provide gifts for her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

KEEPS AHEAD

"I like to keep two ahead," she says of the crocheted baby sweaters which are given to each new great-great-grandchild as it comes along. With 39 great-grandchildren scattered about the country, the present four stand a good chance of increasing in number.

Some of the sweaters are trimmed in pink, some in blue. But the design is considered too; the feminine styles reserved for girls, while boys get a manly start in something less frilly.

Mrs. Lawson, "just has to have something to do," she says, so she keeps several projects going at once and turns from one to the other.

As she tires of crocheting, she may knit for a while, or go down to the basement and work on the coverlet stretched on the quilting frame.

Sometimes it takes a little effort to get the knees working after sitting awhile, but this is no deterrent.

PREPARATION

All the cutting, patterning, stitching and quilting is done by hand. A little help to get the completed coverlet on the quilting frame is given by daughter Eva (Mrs. Frank Rocassi, with whom she lives on Angelus Drive.)

Excellent color sense and good eyesight are indicated by a fine blend and balance of color and patterns in the completed quilts.

A hearing loss is compensated by the ability to read lips. At her medical checkup recently, the doctor told her she would probably live to be 120. She answered pertly "I hope you're still my doctor then."

She also crochets dusting mits and pillowcase edgings and makes rugs from narrow strips of brightly-colored cotton. These she cuts and sews together then crochets into throw rugs with an unusual crocheted look.

Originally from Illinois, Mrs. Lawson has outlived all but three of her nine children and has four five-generation families among her descendants.

She came to Pontiac in 1937.

CINDY

Her days are spent in the company of Cindy, an eleven-year-old dachshund who is just as pert and active as her mistress. Cindy's bark lets Mrs. Lawson know when the telephone or doorbell rings. Lipreading can't help here.

Romania Threatens to Shun Soviet Bloc Summit Next Week

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) Soviet party ideologist Mikhail A. Suslov was trying to force day that if the Soviet Union and the Kremlin's views on other delegates.

Niculescu-Mizil and other Romanians were also incensed by the meeting's refusal to disavow the Syrian Communist party's charge that Romania was pro-Israel and by attacks on Red China.

A Romanian party statement said the Budapest meeting had "infringed upon previous agreements . . . and assurances given in public declarations by representatives of some parties that there would be a free exchange of views concerning the work of parties and that no fraternal party would be attacked, condemned or judged."

In the message to the leaders of other Communist parties, the Romanians said that "the attack on other parties, on the Romanian Communist party, aims at hindering the free exchange of views and therefore does not create conditions for the normal procedure of the meeting."

Endorsing the walkout of its delegates, the Romanian party said that "continued participation in the consultative meeting would have meant accepting the promotion of practices and methods of condemning other parties, or imposing the will of some parties on other parties."

On Thursday the Romanians charged that Stalinist tactics had been used to impose upon the meeting a decision already made about the time and place of a world Communist conference. Most of the 29 Communist delegations that have spoken so far have said the meeting should be in Moscow at the end of this year.

NOW! WE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY TO HEALTHY EXERCISE ALL YEAR 'ROUND

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is going ahead with plans to take an agriculture trade mission of about 60 persons—including wives — to the Far East despite criticism that the trip is a "boondoggle."

Freeman announced Friday the 11-day trip will be made in April as originally planned.

He took note of the "boondoggle" charges and said more will probably be heard. But, he insisted, the trip will pay off in millions of dollars worth of increased sales of American farm products.

The mission will include members of the Senate and House Agriculture and Appropriations Committees, governors, farm leaders and government trade officials.

They will travel by government plane, with all official members of the mission receiving per diem allowances of $18. Wives will have to pay for their own meals, lodging and other personal expenses but will travel free.

The trip was criticized last week by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who said it seemed to conflict with President Johnson's pleas to the nation to keep foreign travel to a minimum to cut balance of payments deficits.

The mission will leave April 3, visit Japan and Taiwan and return April 13. A major stop will be Tokyo, where a U.S. food and agriculture exhibition opens April 5 under sponsorship of the Department of Agriculture, 12 state governments and groups representing the food industry and commodity producers.

Huskies Upset; Chiefs' Surge Continues

Stevenson '5' Pulls Shocker in I-L Game

Something went wrong with the Inter-Lakes League basketball script last night.

Pontiac Northern was supposed to win its 11th straight game and finish an unblemished league season at Livonia Stevenson. Someone forgot to show the script to the Spartans.

Stevenson ambushed the Huskies, 72-66, in one of the season's major shocks. The loss didn't hurt Northern's title bid because the Huskies already had wrapped up the championship.

Bruised pride would be a better description.

The Huskies completed regular season play with a 13-3 record and a 7-1 league mark. Stevenson finished 4-4 in the league and 7-10 overall. One of the losses was to Northern, 89-57, on the Huskies' floor.

Northern held a 34-31 halftime lead, but the Huskies went cold in the third quarter and Stevenson slipped into a 50-45 lead. The Spartans then played the Huskies even in the last period.

HIGH SCORERS

Jim Olson with 24 points and Jerry Dettler with 22 sparked the upset win. Bob Traylor netted 20 points and 22 rebounds for Northern.

Mike Clancy turned in a good game for Northern and contributed 16 markers.

Northern opens Class A district tournament play next Tuesday against Clarkston on the Wolves' floor. If PNH wins — and the script says so — the Huskies will meet Pontiac Central Thursday.

The loss to Stevenson dropped the Huskies from slight favorite to co-favorite with Central in the tournament.

Brother Rice Ties School Point Mark in 103-58 Triumph

The Warriors of Birmingham Brother Rice had a hot shooting touch last night as they matched a school record they set just last week in routing visiting Detroit Sacred Heart, 103-58.

Coach Dave Norton used everyone but the cheerleaders and 14 players hit the scoring column.

The triumph enabled the Warriors to square their season record at 8-3. They enter the state district tournament at Birmingham Seaholm next week.

Don MacAloon flipped in 20 points to set the pace for the Warriors. Dave Kruz added 17 and Mike McGill tossed in 14.

Leading the attack for Sacred Heart were Frank Szweczyk (22) and Mike Chateau (18).

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cornell, the 1967 NCAA champion and defending titlist in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference hockey tournament, has been seeded first for the ECAC competition which begins next Tuesday.

Other teams in the field include Boston College, Boston University, Clarkson, Harvard, Princeton and St. Lawrence.

Lapeer Five Romps

Lapeer closed the season in winning style last night by racing past Saginaw MacArthur, 92-68. The victory upped the Panthers record to 6-10.

Don Rice paced the Panthers with 29 points, followed by Terry Surtees (15), Bill Desjardins (10) and Brat Gerlach (10). Dave Clunie tossed in 17 for MacArthur.

Skippers, Captains Beached by Foes

Waterford's Skippers sailed into Walled Lake last night, took a broadside from Greg Fogle and his teammates, and sank.

Meanwhile, Kettering's Captains were trying to maneuver at Farmington, but were whittled into submission.

Fogle led the Skippers gasping by hauling down 34 rebounds and scoring 19 points in a 65-63 upset. And Kettering was all fouled up in a 68-60 loss to the Falcons.

Walled Lake dominated the backboards. The Vikings, who won their first Inter-Lakes League game after seven losses and are 3-12 overall, held a 67-39 rebound advantage.

This was to play a key role in a third quarter rally that all but wiped out a 35-26 Waterford halftime lead. The Viking trailed, 50-49, going into the last period.

AHEAD FOR KEEPS

The lead seasawed back and forth until Walled Lake went ahead for keeps with 58 seconds to play. The Skippers had a chance to tie in the final 18 seconds, but a shot failed and the Vikings cleared the rebound and stalled out the remaining few seconds.

Tim Alderson led Walled Lake's third quarter rally with 10 points and Greg Wendell dropped in six. Alderson finished with 16 points, one more than teammate Paul Allen.

Waterford, which completed its schedule 2-4 in the league and 6-10 overall, was spared by reserve Mike Murphy's 14 points.

The officials called 27 fouls on Kettering to seven against Farmington and this spelled the difference in the game. Three Captains fouled out. Gene Pankner departed in the third stanza, Pete Evans early in the fourth stanza and Bob Lins in the closing minutes.

BIG QUARTER

The other two starters, Bill Penozza and Joe O'Connor, had four and three, respectively. The Falcons took advantage of the situation by going to a full court press and driving toward the basket on offense and came up with 30 points in the fourth quarter.

Doug Hamilton led the rally by scoring

Central Closes Season by Stopping Arthur Hill

By JERE CRAIG

Slowly but surely Pontiac Central's Chiefs have built themselves into a contender for another Class A district title.

The Chiefs continued their late season surge Friday night by repelling a tough Saginaw Arthur Hill quintet, 78-71, to finish the regular season with seven wins in their last 10 starts.

The victory enabled Pontiac to tie the Lumberjacks at 6-6 for fifth place in the Saginaw Valley Conference standings. Both teams finished the regular season at 9-7 overall.

In their earlier meeting, Arthur Hill was a 69-53 victor.

But this is a different, better PCH ball team. Never trailing in the game, Central leads up to 13 points (64-51) in the game that drew a small gathering of loyal PCH fans.

Three out of four from the field by Leonard Cole and seven points by Frank Russell led the Chiefs in front with an 8 of 15 shooting effort in the opening quarter.

Russell, getting loose for several fast break baskets and showing a good touch with his jump shot, hit four more field goals in the second period as the winners held off several surges by Arthur Hill who made 9 of 17.

TRIM LEAD

The visitors climbed within three points three times in the period but were still down, 40-32, at the intermission. A hot hand by Cole (five of six) sparked the Chiefs after the break.

They moved to a 44-51 edge for their biggest advantage in the contest. That followed a slump that saw Arthur Hill come within four at 53-49.

The Saginaw squad kept waging its uphill fight and really made headway. With Pontiac ahead 66-55, the visitors made deep inroads on their deficit behind Tom Rousseau.

Rousseau hit three consecutive shots and the gap was 66-63. However, a violation at this point cost Arthur Hill possession of the basketball and its momentum suffered.

Crisp free throw shooting by the Chiefs — Russell made four of four and Alton Russell three of four — protected the victory, although SAH had the gap down to 69-67 and 71-69 on baskets by Mark Champagne and Bob Welzein.

HELD EDGE

The losers actually outshot PCH from the floor, thanks to an 18 of 31 (58 per cent) second half. Arthur Hill made 30 of 64 (47 per cent) to Central's 28 of 63 (43 per cent). But missing 8 of 11 charity tosses in the last half hurt the visitors.

The statistics were close except for the free throw shooting. The Chiefs had a 46-43 rebounding edge, and both teams committed 21 turnovers (not a good omen for the tournament).

Pontiac Catholic Closes Campaign With 74-73 Defeat

Pontiac Catholic's Titans, who enjoyed only intermittent success this season on the basketball court, closed the regular campaign in a losing way last night and now they'll try to get something going in tournament action starting Tuesday at Pontiac Central.

The Titans meet Orionville Brandon in a first-round Class C district contest Tuesday evening.

The Titans wound up 4-13 following last night's setback at Mount Clemens St. Mary 77-74.

Pontiac held a one-point lead at halftime, 37-36, but St. Mary battled back to pull it out.

Sam Brady led the Titans with 20 points, while Tim Loviska tossed in 16 and Gary Roediger 14.

Dennis Greiner and Jim Hansinger scored 20 apiece for St. Mary.

Ortonville Scores League Champion Linden in Finale

Ortonville Brandon threw a big scare into Genesee Suburban League champion Linden last night, but the Black Hawks couldn't come up with quite enough firepower and lost, 68-60.

After falling behind, 39-29, early in the third quarter, the visiting Hawks rallied for a 41-40 lead. But Linden (13-1) regained an edge and maintained a three-point margin until the closing minute.

Ortonville closed its season with a 2-15 mark. Dave Tuttle sparked the Hawks with 21 points. Thad Cook hit 27 for Linden.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Pierre Jais is the greatest bridge player in France and one of the greatest in the world. Unlike many great players he prefers rubber bridge to duplicate.

He played today's hand in some years ago in a rubber JACOBY bridge game. He uses it to his own hand. He could run describe how a man who is diamonds and discard a spade alright to what is going on around but would be left with a hosing the table can profit by it.

His own story is that when West opened a club East necessary. Jais knew that he shrugged his shoulders a trifle would look mighty silly if he as to say, "What can you do play he intended to make went with such a partner."

This didn't affect the early his slam. He took a deep breath play. Jais took his ace of clubs and led a low diamond toward and finessed hearts unsuccess-dummy. West did the best he fully. East returned a heart, could. He played his seven of Jais took dummy's ace and led diamonds but Jais finessed dummy a heart to his own hand to pull my's nine!

East's last trump.

Ford Worker's Idea Worth a New Car

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Cromwell, a drafting supervisor at Ford Motor Co., had a new car today because he had a better idea.

Cromwell, competing in the firm's employee incentive program under which prizes are awarded for the best suggestions for improving company efficiency, noted most drafts-men used only half their 16-foot long drafting boards.

His prize winning suggestion—cut them in half.

Empty Seat Helps Bring Girl Back to God

By DON MOTT
Insurance company president,
Orlando, Fla.

"Good morning, sir, it is 4:30 a.m., the cheery voice of the hotel operator broke into my dreams. As I stumbled to my feet I had never been so sleepy: This speaking tour meant a different town each day, long distances between.

MOTT

At the airport I was the first person aboard the plane. As I dropped into a seat next to the window I repeated almost mechanically the prayer I always say when traveling alone. "Lord, if there is anyone on this plane You want me to talk to, let him take the seat beside me."

The other window seats filled up rapidly, then the aisle seats. The one next to me remained empty.

closed, the steps rolled away and we were bumping over the ground to the runway.

With a sigh of gratitude I let my seat back as far as it would go, fastened my seat belt, and shut my eyes.

ANOTHER PLAN

"Lord," I said, "I'm going to sleep from here to Chicago. But God had another flight plan.

It was at that moment that I felt someone sit down beside me. I opened my eyes. It was the stewardess, buckling into a belt for take-off. I was about to close my eyes again when I saw that she looked quite upset.

"What's the matter?" I whispered. She gave me a startled look. "My goodness, does it show?" I reluctantly straightened up. "I'm afraid it does," I said.

ANOTHER WOMAN

The young woman didn't speak again until we were airborne. At last she said, "The man I was going with has dropped me. I think he ran off with another woman."

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of 40 articles to be published by The Pontiac Press during Lent telling personal stories of faith in action in the lives of sincere people. Some contributors are famous, others relatively unknown.)

"Well," I said, "why don't you thank the Lord and get yourself a good man?"

For the first time she looked straight at me. "But first I have to get the tea and coffee orders."

When she sat down again after serving us, she had apparently looked up my name because she said, "Mr. Mott, what does a girl do when she's going to become a mother and she's unmarried?"

"You tell me," I said.

"I had an operation." Her voice was very small. "But I know now it was wrong. I feel like a murderer and have considered killing myself. That's why I'm going to see a psychiatrist."

I was trying to choose words to say to her when all at once I realized that they had already been chosen for me.

"Here in my briefcase I have a copy of a prayer that a man prayed who was guilty of the same two sins that are haunting you," I told her.

STUDY PSALM

"This man had committed adultery and he had committed murder. And yet as a result of this prayer, God forgave him. He cleaned him inside and out and made him as innocent as the day he was born."

She said, "I sure would like to read that prayer."

I opened my briefcase, took out my Bible and for the rest of the flight she and I studied the 51st Psalm, David's prayer.

I explained to her that if she would confess her sins to God, hiding nothing, but just surrendering everything, He would give him in place of her old life, the life of His Son Jesus Christ.

At last she asked me, "When will all this happen?"

"Before we get to Chicago if you ask Him."

"I don't know how to ask," she said. "Will you help me?"

And there, before the plane descended over Chicago, we bowed our heads and she prayed, repeating after me words that I believe she meant from her heart.

"Oh God, I have sinned. I confess my sin. I pray that You will forgive me. Thank You that Jesus died on the cross for sinners like me. I now accept Him as my Saviour. Come into my heart, Lord Jesus, and make me a new creature."

There were tears of joy glistening in her eyes as she stood up. I followed her with my eyes as she walked back to her hostess station. And as I did I noticed every seat on that entire plane — with the single exception of the one beside me — was occupied.

The plane came to a stop. The aisle filled with people and coats and briefcases, but I sat still. I was remembering that when we ask God to use us, we mustn't afterward be surprised when He does.

Ghetto Course Offered at OU

Helps Understanding Differences in Life

When someone talks about "Mother's Day", to most people he would probably mean the second Sunday in May.

To others, he would either mean the first day of every month or the first and fifteenth day of every month, depending upon the locality because Mother's Day is also the day unwed mothers receive aid to dependent children (ADC) money from the state.

Particular meanings such as this one can be found in the Negro ghettos across the United States. There are many other terms and expressions that are not understood by those outside the ghetto.

As a means to help people understand ghetto life, Oakland University is offering such a course, Ghetto Life 1381.

Started last fall, the course is taken by a number of middle-class women who tour ghettos in Pontiac, Detroit and Royal Oak Township as part of the curriculum.

DIFFERENCES

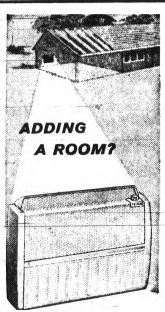

"Concerned citizens anxious to help in the ghetto must first understand the sometimes subtle, sometimes extreme differences in the environment—physical and human—of their neighbors," says social worker Elizabeth Wright who coordinates the course.

In addition to the tours, speakers will discuss aspects of ghetto life, such as problems of living in a ghetto, ADC, ghetto youth and effects of poverty on mental and physical health and police community relations.

The Pontiac tour in private cars will include a visit to Lakeside Homes and the Crystal Beach project.

Beginning Tuesday, the course will be held for nine consecutive Tuesdays from 9 to 11 a.m. at the university. It is sponsored by OU's Division of Continuing Education.

Course enrollment is limited to 25 people. The fee is $20.

Mrs. Brooks died Thursday. She was a member of the Church of God.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Bradley of Pontiac and Mrs. Belle Davis of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; four sons, Frank A. of Pontiac, James A. of Madison Heights, Stanley J. of Huntsville, Ala., and J. Woodrow of Garden City.

Also surviving are 12 grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; a sister and a brother.

George A. Mercer
George A. Mercer, 63, of 255 State died yesterday. His body is at Pursey-Gilbert Funeral Home.

Mr. Mercer, a spot welder at GMC Truck & Coach Division, was a member of Masonic Lodge No. 561 F&M.

Surviving are two stepdaughters, Mrs. Charles Bradley and Mrs. Barbara Smith, both of Pontiac; and two sisters.

Paving Funds to Be Discussed

The Waterford Township Board is expected to discuss a matching fund arrangement at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday to pave Highway 10 at Oakland Community College.

Arrangements may be made for the township, college and county to share the costs of the project. College students have protested over its condition.

In other business, the board may act on:

- A proposed zoning change for apartment units at a shopping center complex at Dixie Highway.
- Two lot-split requests by R. N. Robbins in Burlington Lake Park subdivision and by Walter Duquay in Supervisor's Plat No. 58.

Course enrollment is limited to 25 people. The fee is $20.

A 'Finger' Up in Space

SOUTHFIELD — An electronic device no bigger than a woman's pinkie is helping to point out in space why we have radio blackouts.

The petite electron multiplier, designed and developed by Bendix Research Laboratories of Southfield, is mounted in the nonsmoking section of NASA's latest Orbiting Solar Polar Observatory, OSO-4, launched from Cape Kennedy.

The device, 0.80 by 2.2 inches, enables a solar ultraviolet spectrometer experiment to monitor solar events occurring at any spot on the sun. In addition to information that will help man better to understand the radio black-out phenomenon, it will also help interpret weather changes brought about on earth by solar activity.

Two Men Held in Narcotics Case

Two men were arrested in a warehouse in the city last night for investigation of narcotics offenses, according to Pontiac police.

Arrested were Charles M. Brown, 31, of 236 Charles and William J. McCargue, 43, of Detroit.

Coventry Has a New Problem

COVENTRY, England — This city — historically involved in a big fight back 900 years ago when the original Peeping Tom stole a squint at Lady Godiva — is again involved in a question of vision.

This time the issue is not over a nude lady riding horseback through Coventry's market place, but the color of the municipality's fire engines, that almost daily race over her ladyship's original route.

Despite clanging bells and the fiery red with which the city's fire trucks have been daubed, drivers and other citizens are having trouble in spotting them.

This has resulted in delays in getting to fires, traffic tie-ups and even collisions.

Finally, Coventry's chief fire officer A. A. Leese, blew the whistle and asked the Lancaster College of Technology to put to scientific test which color is the most arresting.

After sweating over hot spectroscopes for a year, the experts informed the fire department that red was not the perfect color for fire engines.

"Yellow," said the technocrats "is the most psychologically unpleasant color of the spectrum to the human eye."

Being the most unpleasant, it is the most arresting.

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, March 2, the 62nd day of 1968 with 304 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The frontier hero of Texas, Sam Houston, was born on March 2, 1793.

On this day in history:

In 1899 Congress established Mount Rainier national park in Washington.

In 1927 Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees signed a $70,000 contract, making him the highest paid baseball player up to that time.

In 1943 the battle of Bismarck Sea began. Before it was over American airmen destroyed a Japanese convoy of some 21 ships.

In 1945 units of the U.S. Ninth Army reached the Rhine River opposite Dusseldorf, Germany.

John P. Schneidt
SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Service for former resident John P. Schneidt, 60, of Madison Heights will be 2:30 p.m. Monday at Diener Funeral Home, Utica, with burial in Prestonsville Cemetery.

Mr. Schneidt died Thursday. He was employed with Tempco Solar Products Corp., Troy. He is a life member of Detroit Sportsmen Congress and the Michigan Ontario Muskie Club.

Surviving are his wife, Gladys, three sons, Robert of Keego Harbor, John of Birmingham and Dennis of Brevard; two stepsons, Allen Fremody in Arizona; and Dan Fremody in Louisiana; nine grandchildren; five sisters; and a brother.

Charles R. Warner
COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Service for Charles R. Warner, newborn son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Warner of 1108 Penarth, will be 11 a.m. Monday at C. J. Goddard Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

The baby died yesterday. Surviving besides his parents are a sister, Charlene A. at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Truitt of Orchard Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Warner of Waterford Township.

CHARMING PRINCE — Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands, poses with her son, Prince Willem Alexander. He will celebrate his first birthday April 27.

Son of Slave Sends Five to College

DALLAS (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Louis James Willie, of Dallas, were determined to give all five of their children a college education. And they did.

Willie was born the son of a day at Lewis E. Wint Funeral home, on an East Texas farm 75 miles from Dallas, with burial in years ago. He said all the time Andrewsville Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Hilda L., a daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Gillis of Clarkston; five sisters, including Mrs. Victor Smith of a Waterford Township and Mrs. John Provo of Davis; a brother, Richard E. of Birmingham; and a grandson.

Willie said, "While my children were in school, I bought only what we needed." The careful budgeting paid off.

As Willie and his wife had determined, all five children went to college and on to graduate work.

His youngest daughter, Mary Virginia, who received a master's degree from Syracuse University, now teaches music in New York. His son, Alfred N., who received a bachelor's degree and did pre-law work at Morehouse College, now is a technical writer for a Los Angeles electronics firm.

Charles Vert, who received a D.D.S. degree at Meharry Medical College, is now a dentist in Houston.

Louis James Jr., who received his masters from the University of Michigan, now is first vice president of a Birmingham, Ala., firm.

Willie said, "I feel awake now at night and think of the sacrifices I made. It has paid off. I am proud of my children, and they are proud of me."

Alliance Church Sets Breakfast

Dr. Clarence Jones of Radio Station HCJC in Quito, Ecuador, will speak at the 8:30 breakfast in Christian art. Missionary Alliance Church, 220 N. Cass Thursday.

The occasion is the meeting of the Greater Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship. Reservations for the breakfast should be in by Wednesday. There is no charge.

2 Bandits Hold Up Station in Wixom

Two men held up a Pure Oil Station in Wixom early today and made off with $128 from the cash register.

Wixom police said the two bandits, reportedly armed with guns, walked in the front door of the station at 28055 S. Wixom Road about 5:30 a.m.

When the station attendant, Thomas Johns, turned his back to make change for a dollar, the bandits ordered him not to turn around and then took the money.

Willis Stephens of 639 Peacock Road, who was in the station yesterday, said that someone stole two guns and gun cases worth $139 from his apartment.

Mary L. Hughes of 212 S. Edith reported to city police yesterday the theft of a milk stand, valued at $370, from her home.

SHOULD FUNERALS BE PRE-ARRANGED?

Many people find peace and comfort in making pre-arrangements with the knowledge that the exact wishes and desires they have will be carried out. In making pre-arrangements many things should be taken into consideration. Where money is paid in advance of need you should make certain that it will be available for you to withdraw at any time, for any reason, in the event an emergency arises or you change your mind.

If there are any questions you have concerning pre-arrangements or any other facts you would like to know about our profession, remember, we are as close as your telephone.

Mystery Baby Deaths Due to Spinal Injuries?

CHICAGO (AP) — A Boston University pathologist says spinal injury during or after birth may be the unknown cause of thousands of sudden unexpected infant deaths.

The Public Health Service estimates that 12,000 to 25,000 such deaths occur in the United States every year. In most cases, apparently normal babies are found dead in their cribs.

Although autopsies attribute such deaths to pneumonia, infection, suffocation and other conditions, the underlying cause is obscure.

In a speech Friday to the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, Dr. Abraham Towbin said that spinal structures are not routinely examined in infant autopsies.

He told the group that after examining the spinal structures of all infants on which he performed autopsies last year, he found evidence of spinal injury in seven of eight cases of unexplained crib deaths. He said the injury took the form of hemorrhage around the spinal cord.

He explained that spinal hemorrhage is not fatal in itself but that suppression of the cord's vital functions causes fatal paralysis of respiration.

"Manifestly, not only during delivery, but also after birth, the vertebral structures of the neck are subject to sudden strain and injury," he said. "In the young infant, the head is large and heavy, making up approximately one fourth of the body weight."

"Structurally, the young infant is top heavy; the infant's head, in proportion to body weight, is four times as heavy as that of the adult. From these considerations emerges a prospective basis for the pathogenesis of spinal injury in young infants. With the heavy head pivoted atop the frail weak cervical spine, the small infant is vulnerable to self-injury."

Sudden death is most prevalent in babies between 2 and 4 months of age but it does strike at any time from birth until 2 years.

Researchers, many working in projects financed by grants from the National Institutes of Health, have long worked on a variety of theories to try to explain the disease.

Charming White-Trimmed Barn-Red Colonial Of The Robert V. Daly Family In Bloomfield Township Is Sheltered By Towering Trees

Former Easterners Favor Colonial Design

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

When the Robert V. Dalys, originally from Boston, moved to Bloomfield Township, they found a site reminiscent of their former home and built a modified colonial.

"We chose the barn-red color," said Mrs. Daly, "because it is so popular back East."

When the sheltering trees and shrubs are in full leaf, the colonial is obscured from the road; but with the advent of fall, its classic lines become apparent to passersby. And, against a snow-carpeted landscape, the exterior presents a charming and inviting picture.

Using heirloom accent pieces, Mrs. Daly follows a predominately Early American theme throughout the interior.

In the formal living room, a monochromatic background of off-white is brightened by fabrics and accessories.

HEIRLOOM

Serving a gold boucle covered chair near the used-brick fireplace is a square walnut table (a family piece) lighted by an antique brass lamp.

Green candles in brass candlesticks of varying heights balance an antique brass chest on the white mantel. The chest was discovered at the Saturday Market in Mexico. The child print by Renoir on the fireplace wall emphasizes shades of blue and green in its background.

Black Hitchcock arm chairs with rush seats and a gold-on-white print sofa are grouped about a hinged cherry coffee table. Lighting the arrangement are matching white ceramic and antique brass lamps — one on a distressed maple tilt-top table, the other on a cherry drop-leaf.

Above the sofa, a steel etching is flanked by silhouettes, a black wrought iron key and a black candle sconce with a white candle.

TRANSFORMATION — Even in a new home, such as this one, the basement can look like the upper photo. A remodeling project transformed the cluttered catch-all to a showplace and mecca for family recreation, relaxation and entertainment. The ceiling was lowered and suitable lighting and ventilation installed. Walls and stairway were faced with an English walnut, a prefinished hardwood paneling, with striking "book matched" grain patterns separated by bold, black grooves. Ideal for recreation rooms because of its fine appearance, dent resistance and easy maintenance, the decorator panels require only occasional wiping with a damp cloth. They can be installed easily with adhesive or nails.

Planning a Concrete Project?

If you're planning on working with concrete this spring or summer, clip out this article and save it. You can avoid trouble and get good results by heeding the following bits of information:

The certain way to make a concrete mixture that will be weak and porous when it hardens is to use more water than is absolutely necessary. Using excessive water is a common error because a mixture of this kind seems more workable than one with less water.

Concrete should be put into position immediately after it has been mixed. A delay of even 30 minutes can affect the strength of the finished job.

Using a wood float on the concrete produces a rough surface. A steel trowel results in a smooth finish.

In grading to assure that rain water runs in the proper direction, don't rely on your eyes to get the proper slope. Always use a level.

CURING
The "curing" of concrete is one of the most important steps. This consists of keeping it wet for several days after it has been put into place, preventing premature drying. Cover the concrete with burlap or similar material as soon as it begins to set, then keep the covering wet. An alternative is to sprinkle the concrete three or four times a day with a garden hose.

Real Estate Man Predicts Good Year

A real estate executive in Montgomery, Ala. predicts a bright future for the industry in 1968.

William K. Nicrosi, president of the Montgomery Board of Realtors, said in a speech delivered at a meeting of the National Board in Dallas that demand for housing will be moderately strong.

He said this demand would be based on three things: people want better homes, are making more money, and are moving more.

Nicrosi estimated the number of houses and apartments in the nation would increase 1.4 million this year. This is slightly more than 1967 and considerably more than 1966.

He said only one-third of the homes sold each year are new.

Program Topic Good Nutrition

The film, "The Challenge of Good Nutrition" will be narrated by Gina Larson, nutritionist, at the March 14 meeting of the Organic Farm and Garden Club of Royal Oak.

The public meeting will be held at 7:45 p.m. in the Royal Oak Woman's Club, 404 S. Pleasant at Fourth, Royal Oak. A social hour will follow the program.

Supercities Due

One of the startling predictions of an institute studying further America is that by the year 2000, almost half the nation's population will be living in three huge supercities: "Boswash," which will cover the Boston, New York City, Washington area; "Chippitts," the area from Chicago to Pittsburgh; and "Sanson," the region from San Francisco to San Diego.

Take Care of Minor Damage Before It Becomes Major

One of these days spring will return. And when it does it will be time to assess the damage winter did to your house and property.

Some of this damage may not be readily apparent. If not tended to as soon as possible the damage, however minor, can turn into something major later on.

The best way to be certain of detecting all trouble quickly is to give your house a systematic check from top to bottom.

Ice, snow, excessive moisture, high winds, freezing temperatures will all have taken their toll to some extent. Take a look at the roof. Even from ground level you will be able to see if shingles have been torn loose or damaged. If weather permits, by all means give the roof a closer look from a ladder.

A dab of roof coating under a loose shingle will hold it in place. In severe cases, nail down a curled up shingle and put a bit of coating over the nail head to prevent rusting.

You may note damaged areas in the flashing, the metal covering around the chimney or in the valleys where roofs come together.

Slight damage can be corrected with roof coating. Severe damage may call for replacement by a qualified roofer.

Next, check the gutters. Ice and snow may have caused them to sag. Rerail hangers so that the gutter has a slight, consistent pitch toward the downspout.

Examine outside walls of your home. If paint is peeling, scrape off the loose paint and touch up with exterior grade paint.

Look for loose, missing or defective caulking in corners where walls come together, around windows and door frames. Clean out old material and recaulk.

Examine all masonry very carefully—foundation, mortar in brickwork, chimney, brick or stone steps, concrete walks and drives.

Cracks that were hairline affairs last fall may be far larger by now due to alternate freezing and thawing during the winter. Dig out crumbling mortar and replace with fresh. Use a ready mix.

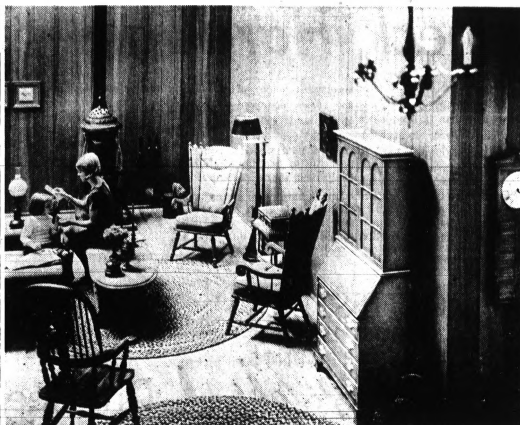

Cracks in concrete must be cleaned out and enlarged enough to hold fresh material. Dig out the opening so that it is wider at the bottom than at the top.

Use a ready-mix concrete patch to which you only need add water. Mix what you can use immediately and fill the openings after first wetting down.

Keep damp until patch is thoroughly hardened.

Take a look around your property. Fence posts may have loosened or rotted.

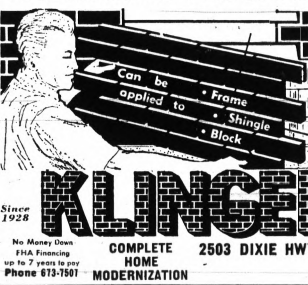

Dead limbs on trees may be weak and ready to fall. In the latter case, call in a tree expert for high and large limbs.

COMFORT CENTER—A family room should be a place to relax, read, listen to music, or pull up a chair and toast your toes by the fire. Formality is out; comfort is in. Warm wood paneling sets the scene because it's so easy to live with. Practically takes care of itself and retains its beauty throughout the years. Today's factory-finished wood panels are easy to install and have been specially designed to meet the demands of family living. Fingerprints and even crayon scribbles often wipe off with just a damp cloth or sponge. After all, family rooms are meant for the whole family!

WHAT IS KLINGELHUT FACE BRICK SIDING? It is the Multi-Purpose Brick Siding that does so many jobs—BETTER

Klingelhut brick is genuine, individually made, kiln-fired brick of standard dimension except that it is 1/2 inch thick. It is bonded to 1/2 inch insulating grommet by an exclusive process developed by Klingelhut. This produces an insulating combination equal to 4 inches of blown-in insulation—or 4 feet of solid brick.

• Gives year-round insulation
• Reduces fuel costs • Beautifies your home, increases its value • Resists fire • Ends repair and maintenance bills — no painting • Economical to install

Williamson-Doenges

Merger Announced

A merger of two Birmingham's systemwide expansion program which has been under way for some time. The company has just completed and announced Monday by Gordon Williamson and A.L. Doenges, heads of the two companies.

The statement said that, as of March 1, the office which had been occupied by the Birmingham branch of the Williamson firm at 4066 West Maple would be moved to the Doenges building at 887 Maple Road East, between Hunter Blvd. and Adams. Present associates of the two firms will operate from the center of Birmingham location.

Doenges, who has been a "Bidder and Realtor" in Birmingham for 15 years, has been elected a vice president of the Gordon Williamson Company and manager of the combined Birmingham-Bloomfield Office.

Besides Birmingham, Williamson has offices in Detroit, Dearborn, Farmington, Livonia and Walled Lake. All are linked into the network of the firm's computerized home-finding service, supplemented by a teletype communications system.

The Williamson-Doenges merger is a phase of the company's expansion.

Giving Fireplace a New Look?

Planning to give your fireplace a face-lifting? Be careful in choosing the surfacing material you will use.

The fireplace is subject to heat, smoke and soot, and use of inferior surfacings that scorch or burn or are hard to clean is not recommended. Try instead to use easy maintenance, fire-, burn- and scorch-proof surfacings such as decorative ceramic tile.

Optical Illusion

A framed mirror is a decorating plus in a small room. It will make the room seem more spacious and provide a handsome wall accessory at the same time.

To Work Properly

Drill Needs Right Bit

By ANDY LANG

AP Newsfeatures

A portable electric drill, used mostly in working with wood, is an excellent tool for making holes in metal and concrete provided its handled properly.

The most essential requirement for success is the right bit. Using an ordinary bit intended for wood is a sure way to get nowhere, not to mention ruining the bit.

Be sure the bit or set of bits you buy is for use on metal or concrete, whichever you require. If the card to which the bit is attached does not specifically say this, then you can be sure that it is meant for use only on wood.

Whenever possible, metal to be drilled should be held firmly in a vise or clamp. Use a wooden block on thin metal which might be bent or distorted when drilled.

A starting hole should be made with a center punch. For thick or tough metal, use a bit lubricant, such as kerosene or turpentine.

USE PARAFFIN

For most other metals, soluble oil, hard oil and kerosene are good, while paraffin is excellent for soft metals, such as brass or aluminum.

The drill should be held firmly, with only enough pressure to keep the bit cutting smoothly. When a large hole is to be made in hard metal, it sometimes is advisable to drill a small hole first, then one of the desired size.

Drilling concrete with a portable electric drill was once an impossible task for the amateur. It became feasible with the invention of the carbide-tipped bit. Even with this bit the drill must be held firmly and the pressure must be heavy.

Since drilling into concrete, no matter what the conditions, is a job requiring a certain degree of strength, the holder of the drill must stop every so often and rest.

When this is done, it is important that the drill be removed from the hole while the bit is still spinning.

Therefore, don't relax your grip on the drill trigger until the bit is out of the hole. If the bit stops spinning while it is in the concrete, its cutting edges will be quickly dulled.

Most householders who own portable electric drills have the quarter-inch size, which refers to the maximum diameter of the bit that can be held in the chuck.

It is the best size for most jobs around the house. But if you do a lot of work with metal and concrete, a heavy-duty drill — either 3/8 of an inch or 1/2 inch — is recommended.

Spaciousness Holds the Key

In many parts of the United States, in urban as well as rural areas, carriage houses still stand — fascinating relics of a romantic past.

Their transformation into a modern home is an increasingly popular form of remodeling.

Such conversions are unique because they blend nostalgic charm with contemporary forms and styling. There is an enchanting combination of old and new. Spaciousness was a hallmark of the old carriage house and that, of course, is one of the most sought after attributes of modern living.

As a general rule, the construction of carriage houses was a painstakingly careful process. For the most part, they were solidly and securely framed with strong, well-seasoned lumber. As a result, many are still as sturdy as the all but forgotten day they were built and the need for major structural alterations or repairs is thus minimized in modernization.

One of the most attractive features of converted carriage houses is rough sawn lumber siding — a typical embellishment for exterior walls. This creates a facade that is modern yet preserves the traditions of the past.

CONTEMPORARY

With rough sawn lumber, the remodeler achieves a sculptured, contemporary impression. The sawn texture enhances the natural character of the material and develops a warmth and friendliness in keeping with the original function and design concept.

Simple devices such as brass or copper lanterns flanking the entrance or artistically styled wood railings or stairs further strengthen the relationship between old and new.

Not only is rough sawn lumber siding attractive but it is also a low maintenance material. Preshrunk lumber offers great strength, durability and resistance to wear.

Exterior stain-type finishes combining pigment, water repellents and preservatives — are extremely durable, easy and economical to apply.

Laminated Arches of Bonded Wood

Engineered timber construction brings the warmth of wood in breathtaking fashion to large clear-span structures.

Clear spans of several hundred feet have been achieved with glued laminated arches — formed by laminating and building up one and two inch thick lumber with powerful adhesives.

A further and perhaps surprising advantage is fire safety.

If exposed directly to flame, the titanic timbers may char on their outer surface but the solid core of wood remains intact to prevent collapse of the structure.

Builders OK Promotion

Many of the 44 builder organizations across the nation affiliated with the National Association of Home Builders are joining an industry-wide marketing campaign under the theme, "The Name of the Game is Living."

Purpose of "The Name of the Game is Living" — a continuing promotion — is to make the public aware of better environmental possibilities in today's new housing communities.

In many localities the promotional efforts being made by organizations of home builders is being supplemented by companies that manufacture building materials, lending institutions and other segments of the housing industry. The theme will be carried out in advertising, placards, billboards, posters.

Originated in Roman Times

Nail Continues Its Popularity

There is no lack of fasteners on the market today and they get more ingenious all the time. But in spite of fancy screws, con- sider the printed designation — 4d for four-penny nails. The "d" is the English sign for pence.

A fastener that goes back to Roman times, the nail has not only held its own in popularity but has branched out into special purpose designs.

Though most nails are made from steel wire, new materials and shapes are popping up all the time. Four types, however, remain in widest use—common nails, box nails, casing nails and finishing nails.

These four can be used for just about everything. Common nails and box nails have flat heads, casing and finishing nails have narrow heads that sink into the wood and remain almost invisible.

Box nails are thinner than common nails in any given length, and finishing nails are thinner than casing nails in similar lengths.

SHORTER LENGTHS
Box nails and finishing nails also are not available in as long lengths as common and casing nails.

Now about length.

You will hear nails referred to as four-penny, eight-penny, special materials. Roofing nails have an extra-large, flat head and are galvanized. Cement-coated nails have a gritty surface to increase their holding power. There are other coatings that make the nail rust-resistant.

One story about the origin of the designation has it that, when nails were sold by the hundred, the number of pence was the price per hundred for a particular size.

Today, if you buy nails in bulk, you will buy them by the pound. But a 2d nail in any of the four types, and whether in bulk or packaged, will be the same length. In the case of a 2d nail, it is one inch. Longest nail common, a six-inch spike.

As for the choice between lengths, get one long enough to go through the first surface and about halfway into the second.

Whether to use a thicker or thinner nail depends on the nature of the work and the material. Obviously, the thicker nail is stronger but in some instances it might split the material.

SPECIAL NAILS

Among the special nails beyond the four common types

The nail is an all-purpose fastener.

DUTCH COLONIAL—Old-fashioned enchantment of the Dutch Colonial is evident in this four-bedroom house, with its gambrel roof and well-proportioned features, including the recessed entrance flanked on each side by large box-bays with small-paned windows.

Gambrel Roof Tops Dutch Colonial Plan

The quaint and practical gambrel roof gets full play in this charming Dutch Colonial.

With its two slopes—the upper of which is much steeper—the gambrel roof presents a pleasing appearance. But, more important, its design permits more headroom on the second floor. In Design Z-30 of the House of the Week series, the lower and flatter slope of the roof has four front dormers, spaced symmetrically.

They unite, with the narrow-width red cedar siding of the first story to give the house a formal yet unostentatious look.

This 18th century exterior cloaks a 20th century floor plan, with four bedrooms, 2½ baths and a total of 2395 square feet—1365 on the main level, 1030 on the upper.

An exceptionally large foyer, more than 14' long, has two closets for guests. To the left of it is a living room that stretches 24'2" from the front to the rear of the house, a feature that architect William G. Chirgots finds in demand among persons who prefer two-story houses.

FIREPLACE

Centered on one of the long walls of this room is a brick-faced fireplace with windows on each side.

To the right of the foyer is a car garage, and to the right of the dining room. And to the right of the room for storing garden tools, that is a large, wood-paneled lawn furniture and toys. If the family room, with a fireplace rear entrance to the garage is and floor-to-ceiling sliding glass doors having direct access to patio or garden.

This room has entrances to both the kitchen and the dining room and is bound to be the focal point of many activities. Note, too, that it has a spacious closet.

At the rear of the house and accessible from the foyer is a large kitchen (17'6" long) with dinette space and a full complement of modern appliances. Next to it is a lavatory and, next to that, a sizable laundry with rear service entrance.

No need for the children to track mud through the house, since the lavatory is only a few steps from the back door.

An attractive open staircase opposite the front door leads directly to the second-floor sleeping quarters. A wide open hall provides easy access to the four bedrooms and bath.

The master bedroom has three generous closets, a walk-in, a dressing alcove and a tiled private, full bath with stall shower and a mirrored vanity. The other three bedrooms are close to the main family bathroom and all have good closet space.

LINEN CLOSET

A louvered sliding door linen closet, in the hall next to the main bath, is very wide.

Adjacent to the family room downstairs is an oversized two-car garage, allowing plenty of space for storing garden tools, that is a large, wood-paneled lawn furniture and toys. If the family room, with a fireplace rear entrance to the garage is not practical, the doors may be placed at the front or the right side. There's an entrance from the garage to the family room.

Outside, the garage's gabled roof and tall cupola offer an interesting contrast to the gambrel roof of the two-story wing.

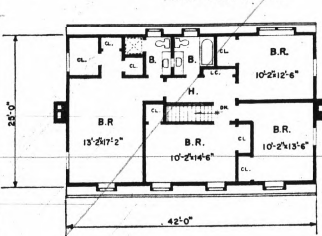

Authentic detailing—such as est major furniture purchase. You'll find it will stand out radiantly against the wall of a different color!

Z-30 STATISTICS

Design Z-30 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, family room, laundry, lavatory and foyer on the first floor, with a habitable area of 1,365 square feet. Four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor add 1,030 square feet for a two-level total of 2,395. The basic house is 57' by 23', with the two-car garage adding 23' to the frontage. The plans call for a basement.
