NEW CANADIAN FLAG — At the entrance to Canada House in London's Trafalgar Square today, Canada's new Maple Leaf flag was raised for the first time. The ceremony was performed by the Canadian high commissioner and attended by Canadian officials and guests.

14th District Votes in Primary Today for State Senator

A turnout of some 5,000 voters was foreseen today in the 14th Senate District primary election in western Oakland County.

There are about 50,000 registered voters in the district, according to County Clerk John D. Murphy.

"Anything over 10 per cent would be high," said Murphy, commenting on voter turn out.

The election was scheduled following the death of Sen.-elect Paul M. Chandler of Livonia. Chandler was elected Nov. 3 but died of a heart attack before taking office.

Nine candidates, six Republican and three Democrats, are seeking their party's nomination. The two winners will face each other in a general election April 5.

The GOP hopefuls include Farrell E. Roberts, 2486 LeFay, West Bloomfield Township; George Ames, 41008 Mooringside, Novi, and Allen C. Ingle, 29320 Grand River, Farmington.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Others are Thomas J. McHugh, 1485 Benvenue, Sylvan Lake; Fitzhugh Prescott, 32235 Loomis, Farmington, and Paul A. Kern, 4450 Dow Ridge, Orchard Lake Village.

The Democrats are John H. Burke, 31811 Staman, Farmington Township; Elsie Gilmore, 30415 Puritan, and Edward H. McNamara, 17278 Delores, both of Livonia.

The recently reapportioned 14th District comprises most of western Oakland County, and Livonia, Plymouth and Northville in Wayne County.

Only 51 of Oakland County's 352 precincts are involved in the special election.

The communities that comprise the district are the cities of Farmington, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake Village, South Lyon, Sylvan Lake, Walled Lake and Wixom and the townships of Commerce, Farmington, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Lyon, Milford, Novi, Rose Springfield, West Bloomfield and White Lake.

Voters in Farmington Township also will decide a proposed salary increase for township officials, while in Milford, candidates will be selected for the village council race.

Reform Motion Is Unopposed at Conference

Present Structure Fails to Meet Needs, Say Resolution Supporters

By DICK BARNES

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Democrats have pushed their legislators even more squarely onto the fiscal reform spot by calling for a state income tax in 1965.

The strong tax reform resolution was adopted without dissent yesterday at the party's spring state convention.

Republican Gov. George Romney and the Democratic legislative majority have sparred for weeks over fiscal reform, each apprehensive over the possible consequences of being pinned with a tax label.

Romney wants reform but won't propose a plan until legislators say they're willing to develop it with him. Democrats want Romney to give them a plan to consider.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, the leading Democratic fiscal reform advocate, said the resolution would help him round up support for his two-step, bipartisan tax reform plan.

NOT VOTED YET

Other Democrats, lukewarm on reform this year, commented that legislators, not party conventions, have the votes.

The resolution declared that Michigan's "present tax structure has failed to yield revenue adequate to keep pace with growing human needs."

In a dig at Romney, it said "unless fiscal reform is instituted immediately, the inadequacy of state financing can no longer be obscured by a surplus generated by unmet needs."

★ ★ ★

It asked for comprehensive reform in 1965 including "a state income tax which gives due weight to the ability to pay."

NEED AMENDMENT

Brown's two-step plan would culminate with a graduated income tax but this could not take effect this year because a constitutional amendment would be needed to allow the graduated plan.

This year, however, a flat rate income tax could, by incorporating a high rate and large exemptions, take on some characteristics of a graduated plan, which requires persons with high income to pay proportionately more tax than low-income individuals.

The resolution as first drafted asked only generally for tax reform. But the income tax provision was inserted at an all-night resolutions committee meeting where delegates took cognizance of more than 50 county resolutions backing an income tax.

A companion resolution asked for the graduated tax amendment.

MAIN SESSION

The main convention session lasted less than two hours as delegates unanimously reelected state chairman Zolton Ferency

Fighting Breaks Out Again to End Lull in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Fighting has resumed on scattered fronts in Viet Nam after a comparative lull.

Military sources reported 27 enemy actions during the past 24 hours, most of them in the northern part of the country.

Three U.S. helicopter crewmen were reported injured in a crash.

Two Americans were reported wounded in clashes yesterday. One was hit in the back by metal fragments while searching for 50 Vietnamese who disappeared Saturday after a Viet Cong attack in Binh Dinh Province.

★ ★ ★

In Quang Ngai Province, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, the Viet Cong killed 16 government troops, wounded 30 and captured five.

The Communists poured mortar shells into a government outpost in Quang Tin Province, killing seven defenders and wounding 12.

Near Da Nang, 80 miles south of the northern border, two antigovernment demonstrations broke out today, possibly inspired by the Communist Viet Cong. Troops fired into one of the demonstrations.

Reports said that about 2,000 demonstrators demanded an end to air and artillery attacks on populated areas and attempted to storm the office of the district chief at Thang Binh, about 20 miles south of Da Nang.

In Saigon, Vietnamese leaders appeared ready to announce the formation of a new civilian government with Dr. Phan Huy Quat, a former foreign minister, as its head.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's strongman, also was expected to announce a 20-member advisory council, including six military officers, to serve as a temporary legislative arm of the government.

Still Can't Reach Body of Explorer

DOLGEVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Workmen surveying the desolate scene where cave-explorer James Mitchell met an icy death estimated today that recovery of the body from its cavernous grave would take about two days.

The 23-year-old chemist from Winthrop, Mass., became trapped Saturday in an Adirondack labyrinth called Schroeder's Cave, near here and about 25 miles east of Utica.

At first, he hung under a waterfall, but his body later was lowered. Two companions escaped.

State Police Capt. John Miller, who announced the two-day estimate, said it had been decided to break through the roof of the cave with machines, rather than dynamite or make further attempts to pull the body out.

COMPANIONS LEAVE

Mitchell's two companions in the cave adventure left for Massachusetts.

A rescue worker commented: "The dirty part of this is he didn't get hurt — just cold. Inside it is miserable cold. You tear your clothes and you have to force your way through."

Mitchell had been wedged in a narrow shaft, near the top of an underground crater into which he had descended as two fellow members of the Boston Grotto Club watched.

A numbing, cold underground waterfall that had helped to prevent his ascent drenched his body with freezing water and hampered rescue efforts.

MADE 3 CRAWLS

William Karras, part of a rescue team flown here from Washington, D.C., made three crawls yesterday to the crater opening — about 300 feet from the cave entrance.

He said he used a stethoscope and could not detect any sign of life in Mitchell. Karras lowered him to the bottom of the 75-foot crater to facilitate earth-moving operations.

3 SQUIRMED THROUGH

Mitchell, Hedy Miller, 22, a Boston, Mass., nurse and Charles Bennett, 21, a Harvard graduate student, had squirmed through the passageway Saturday to reach the crater and an underground stream.

Miss Miller and Bennett then helped lower Mitchell into the pit. A nylon cord was anchored to a tripod and the other end was fastened to Mitchell's chest harness.

Cancer Claims Popular Singer

Believed Improving Until Recent Setback

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Singer Nat (King) Cole, who underwent surgery for removal of a cancerous lung tumor Jan. 25, died today. He was 45.

At his bedside was his wife, Maria. She had been at the hospital since yesterday morning, when she took Cole for a brief ride in a wheelchair.

The singer's condition became grave later in the day and he died at 5:30 this morning.

Cole, whose rich voice and bright piano style had made him one of the most popular musicians, was hospitalized last Dec. 8 for what was described as a respiratory ailment.

★ ★ ★

At first it was thought he was recovering well but a spokesman at St. John's Hospital said his condition took a sharp turn for the worse last week.

The first hint of Cole's illness came when he cut short an engagement at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., complaining of a respiratory ailment.

UNABLE TO STAR

The gravity of his illness became more apparent when he was unable to star in the first popular music concert at Los Angeles' new music center on Dec. 11.

Cole leaves his wife, Maria; daughters Carol, 19, Natalie, 14, and twins Casey and Timolin, 3; and his adopted son, Nat Kelly, 5.

Cole, who played his first professional dates with a 14-piece orchestra that earned a total of $1.50 a night, never really meant to be a singer at all.

★ ★ ★

HIS VOICE

Critics called his voice husky, hoarse, furry, sugar-cured and pussy-willow textured.

Whatever it was, his fans loved it, and Cole's recordings of "Mona Lisa," "Ballerina," "Nature Boy," "Unforgettable," "Too Young" and "Christmas Song" ultimately raised his average annual income to half a million dollars.

1,000 Join Protest

Negroes March in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Nearly 1,000 Negroes converged on the Dallas County Courthouse today in a protest of slow voter registration, and the two leaders on opposite sides took their stands.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leading the demonstrators, stood on the outside of the courthouse looking in.

Sheriff James G. Clark watched from a window in his office.

Both left sick beds as the Negroes called for a final, massive push to demonstrate their discontent with the pace of voter registration.

About 100 Negroes lined up early to register, and were being processed.

★ ★ ★

While they stood in line, other demonstrators met at a church and walked to the courthouse.

The march, led by King, was orderly. When the marchers reached the courthouse, Deputy L. C. Crocker met King and told him he wanted all entrances kept clear.

U. S. Eyes Russia, China After Raids

No Sign of Major Red Retaliation Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A week after striking against North Viet Nam, the U.S. government appears to have found no hard evidence of a major military response by Hanoi's giant Communist allies, Red China and the Soviet Union.

In reporting no overt signs of Chinese intent to intervene in a big way in Viet Nam, U.S. officials declined today to rule out the possibility that this could happen later. They suggested it could take the Reds some time to decide on what reaction, if any, to take beyond striking back with words, as they have done.

* * *

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who has been vacationing in Florida since Feb. 3, was scheduled to return to Washington today. Rusk said he planned to proceed first to his office, and then to see President Johnson.

The big-power military and diplomatic position on Viet Nam shaped up this way:

MIG FIGHTERS

The Chinese are reported to have some MIG jet fighters in North Viet Nam already. They did not enter the fray when U.S. and South Vietnamese craft swooped on North Vietnamese targets three days last week.

Peking could send in foot soldiers, but North Viet Nam has yet to engage its own large army estimated at 400,000. U.S. sources discounted reports of Chinese troop movements published in London over the weekend.

* * *

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, returning to the Soviet Union Sunday from a 10-day visit to North Viet Nam and North Korea, with brief stopovers at Peking, has promised more aid to Hanoi.

Even before the U.S. strikes, American officials were predicting Kosygin might supply Hanoi with air defense weapons such as jet fighters. The question remains, how much will Moscow send in?

REDS VAGUE

The Communist capitals chorused angrily at the "imperialist aggression" in Viet Nam, but remained vague.

Peking recalled how Chinese "volunteers" had surged into the Korean war without specifying what China would do now. Hanoi called for revenge in shrill tones. Moscow was milder.

* * *

None of the Red capitals showed signs of wanting to quit because of the air raids.

Calls for Communist unity came from both Peking and Moscow. Washington authorities said this was to be expected. They said it did not prove the Red rivals were ready to bury their deep differences for the sake of united action in Southeast Asia.

WOULD-BE PEACEMAKERS

On the diplomatic front there was a flurry by would-be peacemakers with little encouragement from the principals. Various suggestions came from U.N. Secretary - General U Thant, Indian Prime Minister L. B. Shastri, the French, the Canadians, the British and others.

* * *

Washington did not foreclose negotiations at some future date, but saw no basis for peace talks now with the United States strongly committed to staying in South Viet Nam and the Reds demanding that it pull out.

* * *

Hungary joined in the Communist demonstrations against the U.S. action in Viet Nam in a spectacular way Saturday. Marchers smashed the first-floor windows of the American Legation in Budapest, stripped down the U.S. seal, wrecked the cars of two U.S. diplomats and tossed furniture about inside the building.

REPORTER SAVES BOY — Edwin Holden, 40, reporter for the Providence Journal-Bulletin's North Kingston, R.I., office, pushes an ice flow with Richard McElveen, 11, of North Kingston toward shore yesterday. Holden, a former Navy frogman, waded and swam 75 yards through frigid waters to save the boy.

Expect China Test of Hydrogen Bomb

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China may test a second nuclear device "very shortly," it was learned today. The weapon is likely to be a hydrogen bomb.

The Peking regime was understood to be accelerating its nuclear weapons program, including some form of delivery system.

Communist China detonated its first atomic device last October. Experts said the blast showed Peking was further advanced in atomic development than had been known.

The nearest to an official hint of Peking's nuclear ambitions was contained in the governmental weekly, The Peking Review. It said Red China will "spare no effort to scale the peaks in these matters (nuclear weaponry) and catch up and surpass the most advanced imperialist countries in modern science and technology."

* * *

In its first explosion, Red China used enriched uranium instead of plutonium and some experts believed this characterizes the phase that normally precedes evolution of a hydrogen type test.

RECENT ASSESSMENT

A recent assessment, published in a review of the authoritative Royal Institute for International Affairs suggested that Red China may have halved the time required for the production of hydrogen weapons and may have H-bombs in two to five years.

In pushing a nuclear program, Red China appeared largely prompted by political considerations, to boost its prestige and to strengthen its militant posture against the United States.

Diplomatic dispatches from behind the Bamboo Curtain have stressed the almost pathological determination of the Communist Chinese leadership to win great power status as a gesture of defiance to both the United States and the Soviet Union.

* * *

In this effort, the nuclear issue was said to be playing a key role. Peking in official statements has been at pains to stress that the nuclear bomb cannot decide a major war since Peking would at any rate emerge victorious because some of its 650 million people would survive.

Lately Peking has been hinting that it would be able not only to produce nuclear weapons but also the vehicles to deliver them.

More Judges Recommended

Ask for 13 More at State Circuit Posts

The State Supreme Court today recommended to the legislature that 13 new Circuit Court judges be added to the Michigan judicial system, including one for Oakland County and seven for Wayne County.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh said the additions would cut down the lengthy time citizens must wait to have certain types of cases heard—a backlog that ranges to 37 months in Wayne County.

Wayne County currently has 20 circuit judges while there are seven in Oakland County.

The recommendation proposes two new judges for Macomb County, bringing the total to six, and one more each for Genesee and Ingham counties, giving them five and four circuit judges, respectively.

In addition the Supreme Court recommends the realignment of the 21st and 34th circuits Eastern Michigan.

SEPARATE COUNTY

Under this plan, Midland County would be separated from the 31st judicial district to form a one-judge circuit, the 42nd.

It would also mean the transfer of Gladwin County from the 34th to 21st district, joining Clare and Isabella counties. This would leave Otsego, Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Arena counties in the 34th.

Kavanagh said the additions of the 13 judges would cost the state $195,000. The state pays $15,000 with the circuit adding varying amounts, which is $11,000 in Oakland County.

He said the court believes that any court delay of more than 12 months "is denying citizens of a proper court system."

CASES DELAYED

Negligence jury trial cases are delayed, he said, up to 23 months in Ingham county and 17 months in Oakland and Genesee.

Addition of the 13 would meet the backlog problem for the next three to four years, said Kavanagh.

He recommended that the legislature adopt an automatic judge addition law which would expand the bench as population increases.

Doubleheader in Space Race

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A doubleheader space launching is scheduled here this week to learn more about the moon, how to get men there and the dangers they face along the way.

A mighty Saturn 1, believed to be the most powerful rocket in the world, is to rumble skyward at 8:30 a.m. (EST) Tuesday in an attempt to orbit an huge winged satellite named Pegasus to study the meteoroid hazard in space.

* * *

On Wednesday, at 12:05 p.m., an Atlas-Agena rocket is to propel the Ranger 8 spacecraft on a photographic mission to the moon.

Major goal of the flight is to further evaluate performance of the huge rocket, forerunner of the Saturn 5 vehicle being developed to hoist three-man teams of Apollo astronauts toward the moon in 1969. The Saturn 1 will be seeking its eighth successful test flight without a miss. Two more test shots remain after this week's shot.

FIRST PAYLOAD

Pegasus will be the first working payload carried by a Saturn 1. On launching, it will be folded accordion-style in the nose of the craft. Once in orbit, a protective cover will fall away and the satellite will extend two wing-like panels to a span of 96 feet.

As Pegasus sweeps through an orbit ranging from 310 to 465 miles high, it is to report its collision with meteoroids, bits of space debris which zip through space at more than 25,000 miles an hour. The satellite is to provide a better idea on the distribution, size and velocity of the particles and how to protect spacecraft from them.

* * *

Ranger 8 is to continue the lunar photographic exploration begun last July by Ranger 7. Ranger 8 is to climax a 65-hour, quarter-million-mile journey by snapping more than 4,000 close-up pictures before crash-landing on the lunar surface.

The craft is to photograph an area nearer the moon's shadow line than the region pictured by Ranger 7. Here, the photos would have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountains and other features. The target zone is the Sea of Tranquility, in the east central part of the moon as viewed from earth.

King Leads Selma, Ala. Voter March

complied. They stood in a line, talking quietly.

King called it a "magnificent demonstration," but said the pace of voter registration still is too slow.

* * *

"I am still very much dissatisfied with the registration procedure," he said. "It's far, far too slow."

LEAVES HOSPITAL

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize-winner left his sick bed in Atlanta, Ga., and flew to Selma for today's demonstration. He went to bed Saturday for treatment of a cold and exhaustion.

Clark left a hospital to direct his deputies during the demonstration.

The sheriff, who has arrested more than 3,000 Negroes since the voter registration campaign began a month ago was admitted to the hospital Friday, suffering from chest pains.

His physician said Clark, 43, was kept in the hospital for rest and observation.

* * *

The Dallas County Board of Registrars is convening today for the last time this month to receive voter applications.

PARADE PERMIT

The parade permit — first given the Negroes since the drive began Jan. 18 — was handed to officers of the Dallas County Voters League last night by Wilson Baker, Selma public safety director.

The letter said: "Your organization is hereby granted a permit to walk 400 adult citizens of Dallas County from Brown's Chapel A.M.E. Church to the Dallas County courthouse."

Concerning the 600 figure, Baker said, "that's the number they asked for."

* * *

The letter specified the route the Negroes were to follow, using the sidewalks.

TRAFFIC RULES

It added: "In said procession, you are to observe all traffic regulations of the City of Selma, and you are to walk in such a manner that you will not interfere with other citizens of Dallas County, Ala., using the same streets or sidewalks."

After the march, Negro leaders said those in the group seeking to register would sign the voter applicant priority list set up a week ago.

Negro leaders had petitioned for the priority number system but later objected to it as discriminatory.

Reds Seize Strategic Laos Post

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Covered by strong and mobile anti-aircraft artillery, Communist forces captured a strategic Laotian army stronghold yesterday which had been holding out for years in Patket Lao territory in northern Laos.

* * *

The fall of Hua Muong climaxed a Communist offensive that started in mid-December to clear government regular and irregular forces from Sam Neua province. The Pathet Lao has controlled most of the province for years.

Hua Muong, 30 miles southwest of Sam Neua, the provincial capital, was the headquarters of two battalions of the Laotian army.

An army spokesman, Col. Sananikone, said the government's T28 fighter-bombers were hampered in their strikes by 10 antiaircraft guns which the advancing Communist troops had.

He estimated the Communist strength at six battalions.

He said 2,000 civilians had been evacuated.

2 WOUNDED

Only two government wounded were reported, but government sources claimed considerable casualties were inflicted on the Communists by the Laotian air force.

The Communist offensive did not appear to pose an immediate threat to the royal capital of Luang Prabang or to Muong Soui, a neutralist stronghold at the western end of the Plaine des Jarres.

However, military sources said it seemed to have mopped up the government forces in the area and to effect a link of the Communists in Sam Neua with those to the south in Xieng Khouang.

Col. Sisamouth said the Communists had always intended to secure complete control of northern Phong Ly and Sam Neua provinces in order to get a corridor across Laos.

Canada Officially Hoists New Flag

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada officially hoisted its first distinctive national flag today and retired the traditional red ensign reflecting the Union Jack of Great Britain, which has flown over Canada for two centuries.

Gov. Gen. Georges P. Vanier presided at ceremonies at Parliament Hill during which the gleaming white flag with vertical red borders and a red maple leaf in the center was raised atop Parliament buildings.

China: To Attack Korea if Viet War Is Extended

HONG KONG (AP)—The Communist Chinese paper Ta Kung Pao said today Red China not only will enter the Vietnamese war but also will reopen the Korean War if U.S. troops cross the 17th Parallel into North Viet Nam.

City Will Eye Method to Avoid Ballot Mix-Up

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will consider a proposed method of avoiding confusion on initiative and referendum charter amendment balloting here.

They have been concerned about making clear the differences between two propositions seeking charter amendments in the April 5 election.

The commission in September accepted the recommendation of the Birmingham-Bloomfield League of Women Voters and placed the question on the ballot.

A month later, petitions were filed to have a similar but broader amendment included in the same election.

* * *

The commission's amendment would allow 15 per cent of the city's qualified voters to call for initiatory or referendum elections.

* * *

Currently, this would mean some 2,156 persons would have to sign a petition requesting the election within 90 days of the time a petition committee announced its intention to the city clerk.

The other amendment would require the signatures of five per cent of the qualified voters who cast ballots in the last municipal election — about 186 this year.

It also would allow referendum votes on resolutions of the city commission, not limiting such an election to official action of the group.

* * *

The second amendment contains no exclusions while the commission proposal would not allow initiative or referendum elections on the levy of taxes, appropriation of money, budget or capital improvement program and salaries of city officials and employes.

ZONING QUESTIONS

The commission's amendment also would prohibit petitioners from initiating zoning matters.

City Attorney James L. Howlett will tell commissioners tonight that state statute gives them the authority to add explanatory captions after the propositions on the ballot.

While the commission is given considerable flexibility, Howlett will suggest a form for the parenthetical explanations.

Ernest (Tip) Rumsey, who worked his way from a Southern Michigan Prison cell to become a "Citizen of the Year," will speak tomorrow night at the Birmingham YMCA.

* * *

Cofounder and executive director of Youth Anonymous, Rumsey will speak on juvenile delinquency.

The 8 p.m. meeting at the YMCA, 400 E. Lincoln, will be sponsored by the Oakland County Conservative Club.

DETROIT (AP) — Despite a report that he would be in his office today, Mayor Orville Hubbard of suburban Dearborn did not show by 10:30 a.m. and federal marshals still hadn't found him.

* * *

Both the U. S. attorney's office and the U. S. marshal said the search for the elusive mayor would continue in an effort to serve him with an arrest warrant for violation of a federal civil rights statute.

The rumors that Hubbard would return began last night when Detroit newspapers and radio stations got calls from a man who identified himself as Hubbard, 61.

The caller explained that he left Detroit Thursday for Boston. He said the purpose of the trip was to investigate a theater, similar to a library-theater planned for Dearborn.

* * *

When asked if he knew there was a warrant pending for his arrest, the caller replied, "I have no official notice from anybody about anything. All I know is what I read in the papers and they aren't always right about the weather."

DROP A NOTE

"If someone is looking for me all they have to do is drop a note at the office," the caller said.

Citizens Party Sets Clarkston Caucus

The Citizens party in Clarkston will pick candidates for the March 8 election in a party caucus tonight at 8.

Candidates will be nominated for all village offices except one, village council trusteeship. Another year remains in the term of Harold Goyette.

Since the Citizens party is the village's only party, the slate on the March election ballot will automatically be elected, unless there is write-in opposition.

Despite much hotel politicking, no mention was made on the convention floor of contests for national committeeman and legislative auditor.

The committeeman job is expected to be vacated by former Gov. John Swainson in April when he is elected to a judgeship. The main contenders are ex-state chairman and defeated gubernatorial candidate Neil Staebler, State Treasurer Sanford Brown and Deputy Secretary of State Gordon Traye.

Legislators made it known they resented interference in their task of picking a man for the eight-year, $25,000 auditing job.

Court Battle Appears Likely

Ballots Seized in Steel Election Fight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers have voted for a union president and because of the closeness of the balloting and the uncertainty of the outcome, two words stand out — court fight.

Each candidate, although expressing confidence in victory, indicated over the weekend the fight for the leadership of the 980,000-member union could move from the ballot box to the courtroom.

In Hammond, Ind., Saturday, U.S. Dist. Judge George N. Beamer had U.S. marshals impound about 8,000 votes cast by the USW's 14,000-member Gary Local 1014.

Beamer acted on a motion by Max Cohen, an attorney for the incumbent President David J. McDonald, who charged there was evidence of vote fraud in the local, one of the largest in the nation.

OPPONENT REPLIES

In Pittsburgh, McDonald's opponent, I. W. Abel, said in a statement:

"We are in the process of collecting information of voting irregularities in a number of places and we believe that as a result of the protests which will be filed, the incumbent president will lose many thousands of additional votes."

* * *

The latest Associated Press unofficial tabulation of incomplete returns has Abel, the USW's secretary-treasurer, leading by about 7,000 votes in his bid to end McDonald's 12-year leadership of the union.

The official counting will be done by the international union's tellers after they receive the votes from the recording secretaries of the approximately 3,300 locals. The vote return sheets must be in the hands of the tellers by next Friday midnight.

BALLOT RULE

The union's constitution says all votes from a local must be tossed out if a single voting violation is discovered in the locals.

* * *

The USW's executive board judges voting complaints. If a member is not satisfied with the board's decision he can appeal to the U.S. secretary of labor under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The secretary of labor then could file suit on behalf of the complaining member. He also has power to order a new election.

While the election outcome remains at issue, negotiations with the basic steel industry are at a standstill. The talks were suspended Jan. 8.

The contract formally was reopened Jan. 1 and the union can strike May 1. The union rejected a request to extend the deadline.

U.S. Hopes Raids on North Viets Will Affect Cong

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States has tacitly recognized that it cannot currently beat the Viet Cong on the ground without committing hundreds of thousands of troops. As a result it has in effect taken to the air to try to beat the Communist forces in Viet Nam with another type of war.

This agonizing policy decision was many months in coming. It exploded into reality a week ago when Viet Cong raiders successfully attacked two major American installations at Pleiku on the same day. Retaliatory air raids against North Viet Nam began.

* * *

There seems little hope of ever protecting American installations here against the guerrillas, no matter what is done on the ground. Big, fixed installations always have been sitting ducks for guerrilla attacks. The Viet Cong has demonstrated this repeatedly in four years, and now appears to have opened a full-fledged campaign against bases.

The Vietnamese and American retaliatory air raids last week on North Viet Nam are not expected to have a direct effect on the guerrillas. U.S. officials do not believe the raids will seriously hamper Viet Cong infiltration routes.

END OPERATIONS

"What we're trying to do," a ranking American official said, "is to get Hanoi to call off the Communist operations in the South."

These air raids are based on two assumptions.

* * *

The first assumption is that they will hurt or scare Hanoi and its Communist allies enough that they will send cease-fire orders to the Viet Cong in the South.

The second is that if such orders should be transmitted by Hanoi they would be followed by the Viet Cong.

Neither of these assumptions is a certainty, and air raids are a gamble. But it is a gamble worth taking right now, U.S. officials feel, if all is not to be lost. Air raids so far have been confined to military installations.

It is difficult to tell how much damage the North Vietnamese forces suffered in last week's raids. Photographs taken by participating planes show one-story barracks, some of them damaged, surrounded by foxhole positions. Despite charges by Communist China and Hanoi that 10,000 were killed in the Dong Hoi raid along, North Vietnamese casualties probably have been fairly light.

* * *

The point is that similar reprisal raids may be mounted against populous North Vietnamese cities and plants, including Hanoi itself. U.S. and Vietnamese leaders do not rule out this possibility.

The war could even be escalated to a confrontation with Communist China, as things now stand. Obviously, both Saigon and Washington would prefer to take care of the guerrilla situation in South Viet Nam itself. But even in terms of expecting reasonable protection for American bases, this has been recognized as unrealistic.

SON WOUNDED

Lt. Gen. John L. Throckmorton, deputy commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, is one of those who have personally suffered in this war. His son, Capt. Thomas B. Throckmorton, was seriously wounded by a shell fragment in a clash with guerrillas.

Gen. Throckmorton, seemingly expressing the feeling of the entire American official community, said about the Pleiku attack:

"In the first place, it would be very difficult for the Vietnamese armed forces to guarantee security under the conditions which exist here today.

* * *

"It must be recognized that in order for them to be able to say positively that none of our installations will be attacked by mortar or rifle fire, they would have to deploy an exceptionally large number of troops around key installations to absolutely preclude infiltration.

"We must take certain calculated risks. Otherwise, we get troops tied down to static security tasks and unable to move out against the Viet Cong. They must operate away from the installations."

The defenses of all American installations in Viet Nam depend basically on Vietnamese forces operating in depth outside theri perimeters. These defenses have been breached virtually every time the Viet Cong has made a determined effort.

What about bringing in American security forces? A few companies of American military police were brought in last summer and after the Viet Cong mortar attack on Bien Hao air base Nov. 1. But the use of large American combat units to defend U.S. installations in depth is not currently in the cards, according to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of American forces here.

If U.S. combat units, including entire combat divisions go into operation, Viet Nam becomes an American war, and this is a situation Washington has so far sought to avoid. There are no indications here that this policy is about to be changed.

CAREFUL PLANS

The air raids have been carefully planned to include at least token participation by Vietnamese planes, even though the bulk of the job has been handled by U.S. Navy jets. Those jets are based on aircraft carriers — the only air installations that cannot be attacked by guerrillas.

The Naval equivalent of guerrilla attacks — strikes by hit-and-run torpedo boats — was tried by Hanoi during the Gulf of Tonkin crisis last summer, and failed. Communist tactician Mao Tze-tung has said the guerrilla must work among the people as fish do in water.

There are no people in the ocean but there are people around U.S. installations in Viet Nam, and this is their biggest weakness.

* * *

At Pleiku, much of the damage was caused by a Viet Cong heavy mortar battery set up in a hamlet a scant thousand yards from the airstrip. No one in the hamlet betrayed the Communists, who must have taken several days moving in and setting up their guns. The four heavy guns and their ammunition undoubtedly were concealed in the hamlet up to the time they went in action.

When Viet Cong raiders cannot depend on the help of local civilians, they use raw force to smash their way into bases. A sample of this was the Viet Cong terror attack a year ago on an American movie theater in Saigon. The terrorists first diverted a Vietnamese policeman and then shot an American MP. They then rushed into the theater lobby and planted a bomb that caused about 70 American casualties.

* * *

An enormously larger application of this technique was used last Wednesday by terror teams that hit an American hotel in Qui Nhon.

A typical detachment compound is a building in the center of a town, with barbed wire on the sidewalk outside and a few Vietnamese civilian police or soldiers on duty outside. The detachment may or may not have armed American guards on duty. It is taken for granted that the Viet Cong has thoroughly cased each of these detachments. Vietnamese servants and delivery men allowed in and out, and infiltration is easy.

* * *

More often, Viet Cong tactics have involved harassing grenades and sniping, apparently intended more as a warning than to cripple American activities. Even so, a lot of Americans have died in these raids. The Communists apparently decided on an all-out showdown, starting this year.

The United States is trying to meet that showdown from the air.

Locate Mars Photo Targets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency has pinpointed locations on a 4,000-mile long area of Mars that are to be photographed by Mariner 4 next July 14.

The spacecraft's television camera will take pictures — almost simultaneously — of the Martian seasons of fall and spring as it flies past the Red Planet.

This is because the target area is divided between the northern hemisphere — where it will be autumn, and the southern hemisphere — where it will be spring.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced yesterday that the exact points at which the spacecraft's cameras will be aimed were determined by an analysis of Mariner's flight path by NASA engineers.

* * *

NASA asked both amateur and professional astronomers to observe the areas for purposes of comparison of Mariner photographs with those taken by ground-based telescopes.

CLOSEST APPROACH

The areas will be telescopically visible a number of times over the next several months before and after Mars makes its closest approach to each in early March.

If Mariner is still operating normally on July 14, it will take up to 21 television photographs and make instrumental measurements of the Martian atmosphere which may indicate whether the planet can harbor life.

The picture-taking will start about 8:25 p. m. EST July 14 when Mariner is 8,400 miles from Mars and continue for 25 minutes. The last picture will be taken at a distance of 6,300 miles.

* * *

Some 21 minutes after the final picture, Mariner will make its closest approach, about 5,400 miles, to the planet.

FIRST PICTURE

When the first picture is taken, the camera will be pointing at the northern Martian desert of Amazonis.

It will then sweep southeast below the Martian Equator, covering in the process areas known to astronomers as the Mare Sirenum, the southern desert of Phaethontis, and the Aonius Sinus.

It will take about eight hours and 20 minutes to transmit each television picture to earth. Photographs will be stored on tape and played back to earth when Mariner has passed Mars. Each playback will be repeated at least twice.

* * *

Mariner was launched Nov. 28, 1964. A camera checkout was made Saturday to make sure that everything would be shipshape on July 14 when the spacecraft will be 134 million miles from the earth.

Press Outlines Its Position on City Income Tax Plan

Reluctantly, this newspaper looks with disfavor on the proposed City income tax.

We recognize that a growing and prosperous city in strong hands—and that's the role Pontiac plays today — must have additional revenues. But we must employ the most logical means.

★ ★ ★

Many years ago, this thriving community had a yoke thrown around its lusty neck by a tax limitation. In a time of temporary stress, voters leaped at any help. A ceiling on property taxes was easy to pass as all citizens were ripe for reform and retrenchment.

We've been hobbled ever since. Costs have risen again.

★ ★ ★

Essentials are needed. The Press feels that this is inescapable and we face it squarely. We believe the bulk of the people agree.

Hence the question becomes: HOW? WHEN? WHERE?

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the City Commission should have named a strong civic committee of leading businessmen with long training in civic and other finances before the matter was placed on a ballot. It's perfectly possible this group might have recommended that the whole civic financial structure be reexamined. They might have had several recommendations in the light of passing years. But the income tax is on the ballot and that's the problem right now.

★ ★ ★

The Press feels raising the mill limitation might be considerably more prudent than an income tax. We also feel the assessed valuation might be stepped up as long as it didn't conflict with equalization values.

★ ★ ★

As now proposed, the income tax is open to sharp attack from many sides. People who live outside the city say:

"Why should I pay?"

"I don't live there."

People who do live within the limits are even more vociferous in asserting:

"Why can the man working at the next bench—or desk—or room—or building — escape half of what they charge me just because he lives outside of town? He earns his living here just exactly as much as I do."

★ ★ ★

However, the City of Pontiac has no control over that phase. It's a new State law and you can like it or jump it. But the fact it comes from Lansing doesn't make it any more equitable in the eyes of the parties that are aggrieved.

The proposed Pontiac income tax doesn't spare the whip. There are no exemptions for charitable donations, as there are in the Federal tax. There are no deductions for interest payment, as the Federal government allows. Nor are there allowances for other taxes.

You get the full treatment.

★ ★ ★

A very large number of our highest paid citizens live outside the city. This includes a long list of top leaders in industry. It includes the managers of many local stores and private businesses. It includes a large number of doctors. It embraces a huge number of lawyers and other professional men. They have the highest incomes of all, but they will pay just half of what those pay who live within the limits on equal amounts.

★ ★ ★

Apparently, the State of Michigan may introduce an income tax of its own. If that comes about, citizens of Pontiac COULD FACE THREE INCOME ASSESSMENTS.

Would you want to pay an income tax to:

The Federal Government
The State of Michigan
The City of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

If you do, this proposed City ordinance is certainly your cup of tea. If you think property should bear its rightful share as this nation clearly established in the days of the Pilgrims, you are against a second—or third—income tax in the City or State—or anywhere else.

★ ★ ★

The tax is highly controversial.

The Pontiac Press believes we have a strong Commission. We have stood squarely with the group since election. Even now, we have as great admiration and belief in it as we ever had. And we readily agree more income must be forthcoming. We are simply convinced an income tax is unfair and unwise. We respect the Commission's opinion as honest and sincere and are confident they will accept ours in the same light.

★ ★ ★

The matter is on the table for discussion.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

"Kelly" was one of the Biggest Theatrical flops of the year. It cost backers $650,000 and folded after one New York performance. . . . . Right here in Michigan they're testing a method of reading electric and gas meters over the telephones. . . . . Overheard: "When dad went to school, he walked two miles. Today a kid's roughing it if the bus won't come up the driveway". . . . . More than 3.5 million flew the Atlantic last year.

THELMA

Trusted scouts tell me Thelma Strum deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . Several years ago, Lillian Hoard (then my secretary) said: "you'll never fly a foot on Eastern if I can avoid it." Asked why, she replied: "they're insolent, impudent, and they lie." She'll be interested in knowing that in the past five years while other air lines have prospered, Eastern profits dwindled from a net of $11 million in 1959 to a loss of $37 million. Now Eastern trips all over its awkward feet to please, to satisfy and to bring happiness to the cash customers. They learned the hard way.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR makes a brief appearance in BURTON's film: "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold" but she stipulated no billing and receives $70.83—journeyman's wages. . . . . Among mementoes in EUNICE SHRIVER's home is a picture of JOHN F. KENNEDY on which he has autographed: "To EUNICE—my former roommate." (If you've forgotten, EUNICE is his sister). . . . . David Lawrence Says:

No Major War Likely in SE Asia

WASHINGTON — There isn't going to be any major war in Southeast Asia. The United States isn't going to start one, and Red China has more to lose than to gain by "escalating" the present conflict.

LAWRENCE

The ultimate result will be an agreement to let North and South Viet Nam remain apart. This objective would be accomplished through negotiation by the major powers, which would provide guarantees to each side against intervention by the other or by forces from outside their borders.

The foregoing survey of the situation is based upon a military analysis which takes into account the strategic facts that exist today in Southeast Asia.

In the first place, Red China is vulnerable. The moment the Peking government starts a major conflict in the Viet Nam area, the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa — with an excellent air force — assisted by air contingents of the United States, could in a few weeks destroy most of Red China's large industrial installations.

This would be a devastating blow, and it could be done without dropping any nuclear bombs. For the targets on mainland China are all within range of attack by planes carrying conventional bombs.

KEY FACTOR

So the most impotant factor at the moment is a recognition by Red China that, unless it stops its aggressions against South Viet Nam, there is a likelihood of a major confrontation with American forces from bases on Formosa, Okinawa and Korea as well as the Philippines.

Also, the United States Navy's aircraft carriers can approach the Chinese coast and launch bombing planes.

Developments until the last few weeks had raised questions in Peking as to whether the United States is in earnest, but the raids and counterattacks of recent days may by now have convinced the Red Chinese that the next step may be "escalation" into air attacks on Red China itself if its forces should in any organized way penetrate from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

The paramount fact right now, however, is that the United States is moving toward possible peace parleys from a position of strength instead of weakness.

There is reason to believe the Red Chinese are not likely to do anything to precipitate a major war and that the Russians would be just as pleased if they didn't.

Meanwhile, the barrages of words on the propaganda front are in themselves an indication that both Moscow and Peking may have decided to turn away from military steps which could aggravate the situation.

The propaganda demonstrations by the Communists thus far have had little effect. The procedures are all too familiar. Simultaneously throughout the world, demonstrations are made against American embassies and legations in what is obviously a concerted movement to gain headlines and make it appear that what the United States is doing is opposed by world opinion.

Most surprising in some respects are the efforts inside the United States to stir up such demonstrations. It is apparent that the Communists are behind most of them.

Swainson Cites Goals and Challenges of Dems

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

GRAND RAPIDS — What may turn out to be his political valedictory was delivered yesterday by John Burley Swainson—onetime Michigan governor, lieutenant governor and state senator.

It was brief but full of stiletto-sharp points for those who listened closely at the Democratic state convention.

The 39-year-old Swainson received a rousing ovation from the delegates as he took the rostrum for the last time before his almost-certain election in April to a nonpartisan seat on Wayne County's Circuit Court bench.

"It is difficult at times to resist a recitation of the great accomplishments of our party over the years," Swainson said. "But continuing history has been rushing past too swiftly for us to spend more time in the past than just enough to see where we've been—so we'll know better where we're going."

In the audience as he spoke were the onetime kingpins of the party—former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the man who helped Williams hold the office for an unprecedented six terms, Neil Staebler.

FORMER JOB

Staebler, defeated in his attempt to unseat Republican Gov. George Romney last November, would like to resume his former job as Michigan Democratic national committeeman once Swainson steps down from the post.

Swainson has taken an official hands-off position on Staebler's candidacy. But he has been described by associates as somewhat less than enthusiastic over the prospect of Staebler picking up the reins again.

"What we have today is a new party which has new challenges in a new environment," Swainson told the convention. "It is a party that has been recast, where deemed necessary, in terms more fitting to the last half of the 20th century than to the first."

In his remarks, Swainson was underscoring what he believes is the need for new issues and new faces in the party.

While praising the veteran Democratic legislators who were reelected as having "wisdom and statesmanship," Swainson added significantly:

"Our new Democratic legislators have brought to Lansing fresh and articulate voices which will add new meaning to our proud claim to being the party of progress."

Swainson has made no secret of his views about the need for a change.

Recently he was quoted as saying, "We're a completely different party than we were in 1948 (when Williams won his first term). We just can't shake hands and win any more."

Michigan motorists do not need legislation to protect them from the uninsured driver. It does not seem logical that anyone should feel responsible for those who fail to avail themselves of this protection.

Something must be done to overcome the uninsured motorist problem but I cannot agree that the unsatisfied judgement plan or compulsory insurance is the answer.

His Finest Hour . . .

The London Observer

Now that the obsequies are over, Sir Winston Churchill's qualities draw a moral for the future of Britain from the whole pattern of his life. In celebrating the memory of Churchill, the hero of the forties, it is only too easy to forget Churchill the unheard prophet of the thirties, the man who might have prevented the last war.

"That was his finest hour," the paper says, "and his loneliest. What he said then, had it been heeded, could have saved fifty million lives and untold suffering."

★ ★ ★

The most important lessons to be learned are those that he was never allowed to apply: how to prevent wars. His maxims that peace must be enforced and that risks must be taken to enforce it, are still not grasped. Applying these truths to an increasingly complex and dangerous world situation poses the acutest problems before us. The anxiety aroused by any proposal to use force, or even ecogomic coercion, to make the United Nations effective, is a reminder how much we will need Churchill's practical understanding and his moral courage if the world is not to drift into another and worse accident.

How else but enforcement is nuclear proliferation to be stopped? How else but by compulsion are small wars to be prevented from becoming big ones? These are the questions that Churchill's lonely right-headedness in the thirties should invoke us to face. We are eternally indebted to Churchill for leading active defiance of the most brutal forces of modern history. We are equally indebted to him for showing how the terrible war might never have happened. His exceptional manliness, which enabled him to perform both these invaluable services to civilization, is a matter for profound rejoicing.

A New York group with a retraining program for high school dropouts has found that 45 per cent of those who sign up for the course become dropouts from the dropout program. The sponsors are now setting up special classes for these dropout dropouts, and, looking ahead, plan to accommodate somehow the anticipated dropouts from the dropouts, after which they can attack the hard core dropout dropout dropouts. Russia Cool to De Gaulle's Plea for U.N. Revision

Poorer Nations Hardest Hit

Population Explosion: the World's Worst Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Population and food production both are growing at a rate of about 2 per cent a year. But much of the population growth is in poorer nations. The following dispatch — the first of three — explains what might be done about it.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The most serious problem in the world today, in the opinion of many sober scholars, can be summed up in the simple statement that there isn't enough food to go around.

Half the human race is perpetually hungry. Two - thirds of the world's people subsist on inadequate diets.

Titanic efforts have been made since World War II to solve this problem by increasing food production.

The United States and other advanced nations have contributed billions of dollars worth of fertilizer, seed, machinery and irrigation equipment, and the skilled services of thousands of agricultural experts, to help undeveloped countries modernize their farming methods.

These efforts have borne fruit. World food production has been increasing at a rate of about 2 per cent a year.

★ ★ ★

But the hunger problem is not being solved. The amount of food per person has increased very little. In some countries it has actually declined. For the number of mouths to be fed has also been increasing at a rate of about 2 per cent a year.

FASTEST RATE

Two per cent may not sound like much. But it is the fastest rate of population growth the world has ever experienced.

For the first million years of the human race's development, population growth was held down by disease, famine and war to a fraction of 1 per cent a year. It was not until 1850 that world population reached the 1 billion mark.

Today, there are 3.3 billion people competing for the resources of planet earth. And new competitors are being born at a rate of nearly four per second.

★ ★ ★

This means the world is adding each year enough people to populate a nation the size of France.

POOR NATIONS

The problem is compounded by the fact that most of the increase is occurring in countries which are least able to afford it.

The economically thriving nations of Western Europe have population growth rates well under 1 per cent. The U.S. growth rate is 1.6 per cent and shows signs of declining.

But in dozens of undeveloped countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America, population is growing at rates in excess of 3 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The population explosion did not result, as many people believe, from a rise in birth rates.

★ ★ ★

What happened is that death rates have declined very sharply, particularly in undeveloped nations, because of modern medical advances. In some countries long ravaged by malaria, for example, DDT spraying cut death rates in half in a few years.

It is customary for birth rates to follow death rates down as a nation becomes more civilized. But it takes time — often quite a long time — for the drop in birth rates to occur.

Among other things, it involves a massive readjustment of popular attitudes. People have to get over the deeply ingrained idea that a family must have a lot of babies in order to bring one or two children up to maturity.

Can the world afford to wait a generation or two for natural social processes to reduce birth rates which will double its population in the next 35 years?

★ ★ ★

No, said President Johnson, in his State of the Union message to Congress last month.

SEEK NEW WAYS

The President said the United States will "seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population."

He did not offer any details. But the obvious inference was that America will begin to apply its formidable scientific and technological skills to the problem of controlling human fertility.

That would be an historic change in policy. In the past, the U.S. government has shied away from birth control research.

★ ★ ★

Of the $15 billion which the government invests annually in research and development, less than $10 million is currently going into studies which are in any way related to reproduction.

(Next: Why new ways are needed to deal with the population explosion.)

Indonesian Infiltration Worries the Philippines

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Philippines continues to maintain friendly relations with Indonesia, but authorities frankly are worried about the extent of Indonesian infiltration of their southern islands.

President Diosdado Macapagal has disclosed plans to shift some of the country's military strength to the south, blaming Communist infiltration for the move and not naming Indonesia.

However, the NEWSOM defense department has announced the arrest of a suspected Indonesian spy and there also has been disclosed an alleged Indonesian timetable to annex the Moslem-dominated Mindanao-Sulu area by 1970.

★ ★ ★

Indonesians are known to hav been slipping illegally into the area for several years and now are estimated at about 12,000.

THE RUMOR MILL: There is evidence that the Soviets quietly have withdrawn several thousand men from their East German force in the last few months, and the movement is continuing. In Berlin the rumor is circulating that the Russians plan to shift some divisions to their eastern border with China.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets have 22 divisions totaling 300,000 to 400,000 men in East Germany. Western experts say a troop reduction would not affect control of the area nor, in an age of nuclear missiles, affect Russia's strategic position.

RED DIFFERENCES: London diplomats say that Russia is pressing desperately for more acceptances of her invitation to the March 1 Moscow conference on inner-Communist differences.

Unless she can get more of the world Communist parties to attend, there may be no quorum of the 90-odd parties to tackle the Sino-Soviet feud.

JOHNSON - DE GAULLE: French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's three days of talks in Washington Feb. 18-20 may pave the way for a Johnson-De Kaulle meeting in Paris early this summer.

★ ★ ★

Informed French officials say Couve de Murville intends to review world problems thoroughly with both President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Southeast Asia is expected to get top priority.

Future Threats Cited by ACLU

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union, in its annual report, cites civil liberties victories in the past year but warns against "increasingly grave threats in the years ahead."

★ ★ ★

The 110-page document, released Sunday, notes "adoption of the most comprehensive federal Civil Rights Act since the Reconstruction era."

★ ★ ★

But severe and growing pressure, the report says, is being placed on civil liberties by "three great social revolutions — the drive for equality, the development of automation and the growth of weapons of mass destruction."

★ ★ ★

As an example of what it terms "serious antilibertarian tensions," it cites the recent successful California campaign that wrote a ban on antidiscrimination housing legislation into that state's constitution.

Ex-Hastings Exec Gets Post in Cadillac

CADILLAC (AP) — The former manager of the Hastings Chamber of Commerce, Robert Jones, has been named new secretary-manager of the Cadillac area Chamber of Commerce.

Jones, 26, succeeds John Toepp, who resigned this week to become a public relations director of the Republican State Central Committee.

A man is what he thinks about all day long.

Tanzania-U.S. Relations Worsen After Expulsions

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Relations between Tanzania and the United States deteriorated further today after the United States expelled a Tanzanian diplomat and the African nation called its ambassador home from Washington.

"We are a small country but we are as much a sovereign state as is the United States," the Tanzanian government said in a statement Sunday night. "We do not bully and we do not like being bullied."

* * *

President Julius Nyerere summoned Ambassador Othman Shariff home Sunday after the United States announced the expulsion of Tanzania's No. 2 diplomat in Washington, Herbert Katua. The pair are Tanzania's only diplomats in Washington.

The U.S. action was in retaliation for Tanzania's expulsion of two American diplomats last month on charges of subversive activities.

CHARGE INVESTIGATED

The U.S. State Department said Sunday that "a thorough investigation" uncovered no basis for the charge against the expelled Americans. They were Frank Carlucci III, consul-general on the island of Zanzibar; and Robert Gordon, counselor of the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanzania.

The United States called Ambassador William Leonhart home from Dar es Salaam two weeks ago for consultations.

* * *

The State Department said it told Tanzania on Jan. 25 that the charges against Gordon and Carlucci were of "wholly mistaken character" but the African nation declined to "provide evidence to substantiate the allegation."

"In view of these circumstances," the State Department continued, "the United States felt compelled to ask for the departure of Katua within a reasonable time."

AN ULTIMATUM

The Tanzania government charged that Washington had given it an ultimatum to produce evidence to support its charges against Gordon and Carlucci or else Katua would be expelled.

"The president and government of Tanzania do not give way to threats or ultimata," the statement said.

* * *

It added that President Nyerere had told the United States that neither Ambassador Leonhart nor the U.S. government was involved in the charges against Gordon and Carlucci.

Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona charged last November that the United States was involved in a plot to use white mercenaries to attack Tanzania. He claimed to have photostatic copies of documents proving the charge. The United States denied any plot against Tanzania and said the documents were "clumsy forgeries."

* * *

Tanzania, a nation of 10.5 million, was formed last year by the merger of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar. Tanganyika is a former British colony and Zanzibar a former British protectorate.

Audience Railroaded

OSIJEK, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Dramatic and Opera Theater here has worked out a plan to increase its audiences. It pays the railway fares of spectators coming from nearby cities.

A man has to live with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company. — Charles Evans Hughes.

U. S. Spent $11 Billion for Alcohol in 1964

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department estimates that Americans spent $11 billion during 1964 for alcoholic beverages.

In a report issued this week-end, the department said the figure represented about 12½ per cent of consumer spending for all food and beverages.

Iceland has no military organization. It is represented on the North American Treaty Organization military committee by a civilian.

Joint Dock Talks Will Resume

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Joint talks between shippers and longshore union officials resume Tuesday and Wednesday at Galveston and Miami after a presidential panel failed to resolve the dock strike at South Atlantic and western Gulf ports.

★ ★ ★

Longshoremen agreed last week to return to work at New York and other major Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports, but local disputes continue to tie up ports at Galveston-Houston, Miami and Hampton Roads, Va.

★ ★ ★

International Longshoremen Association officials meet at Galveston today prior to the resumption of joint negotiations Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Ralph A. Massey, ILA vice president in charge of the Gulf Coast district, the shippers' representatives and Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds will meet in Galveston Tuesday for the first time since they were summoned to Washington last Wednesday.

MIAMI TALKS

Similar talks resume in Miami Wednesday. Those taking part will be Judge Henderson, president of ILA Local 1416, Miami, David Stowe, special consultant to the Labor Department, and David A. Watts, head of the Jacksonville Port Authority.

Watts represents shippers from North Carolina through Florida.

★ ★ ★

The ILA and the Hampton Roads Maritime Association appeared at an impasse with no joint negotiations scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Hampton Roads dockworkers gave virtually unanimous endorsement Sunday to their union leaders' decision to continue the strike.

NEW CONTRACT

The union and the maritime association apparently had agreed on a new contract Feb. 6. It was to have been voted on Feb. 10, but the vote was canceled at the last moment.

In reference to a possible settlement at Galveston, Massey said Sunday, "I do not think it will be too long."

★ ★ ★

The gang size issue is the major stumbling block to ending the strike in Galveston.

The major issue at Hampton Roads is the union demand of a change in the contract preamble so it would cover only the handling of dry cargoes.

Ulbricht's U.A.R. Visit Will Strain Cairo-Bonn Ties

CAIRO (AP) — Relations between Egypt and West Germany appeared headed for a new crisis today as the United Arab Republic was reported preparing a red carpet reception for East German President Walter Ulbricht.

Cairo newspapers reported that Ulbricht would stay at Kubbeh Palace, President Gamal Abdel Nasser's top guest house, when he visits here later this month.

* * *

Relations between Egypt and West Germany were near the breaking point last week until Bonn bowed to Arab pressure and agreed to halt arms shipments to Israel. But West Germany warned that "serious consequences" could ensue if Ulbricht is given full honors during his visit.

Bonn indicated it would interpret such honors as de facto recognition of the Communist East German regime. The West German government considers itself the only legal representative of all the Germans and usually breaks diplomatic relations with nations that recognize East Germany.

6-DAY VISIT

Cairo newspapers said Ulbricht will arrive in Alexandria by ship Feb. 24 and stay for six days.

His visit is to include trips to the Aswan Dam the Soviet Union is building on the Nile, Port Said, Luxor and through the provinces, the newspapers said.

The president of the West German Bundestag, Eugen Gerstenmaier, said in a radio alternative aid Bonn might make. West Germany was re-speech in Bonn that Ulbricht's reception in Cairo "can only be regarded as a hostile act directed against all Germans.

Authoritative sources in Jerusalem said the Israeli Cabinet had voted unanimously to condemn West Germany's decision to halt arms shipments to Israel.

REJECT OFFERS

The Cabinet reportedly decided to reject any offers of ported ready to offer a $16-million loan in exchange for undelivered arms.

* * *

Cairo newspapers continued to portray Ulbricht's visit as a political victory for Nasser, to suspend economic as well as Some editorials called on Bonn military aid to Israel.

In Karlsruhe, Germany, the West German attorney general entered the investigation of an assault on a Moroccan which was regarded as possibly another episode in the espionage war between Egyptian and Israeli agents.

The Moroccan, who said he was an Egyptian intelligence agent, claimed he had been attacked by two Israeli diplomats stationed in Switzerland whom he had been ordered to assassinate.

The Israeli ambassador to Switzerland called the story a fabrication and said no members of his staff had been in Germany recently.

Valentine's Too 'Cheep'

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The amiable spirit of St. Valentine's Day went astray yesterday for Arthur Oliver, two dogs, two pet birds and a bent telephone pole.

Oliver, 57, was headed home in his car. His dogs were sitting in the back seat. His newly purchased finches were in a box next to him. The pooches bared their fangs at the birds.

Amid much barking and alarmed tweeting, and Oliver trying to calm things down, the car smacked into the pole. Police said Oliver was only shaken, also the dogs and the birds.

Working on the Arcadian Road, near Dollar Bay in the Upper Peninsula, Michigan Bell lineman Jim LaBelle saw a huddled form sprawled in the ditch.

It was a frail old man, unconscious, and with serious head injuries from a fall. No time to lose!

LaBelle hurried to the top of the nearest telephone pole...

where he connected his test phone to a line and called the police for help. A patrol car sped to the scene.

Rushed to a nearby hospital, the man was soon out of danger.

Jim LaBelle's helpfulness and quick thinking in this situation were not unusual. These are qualities you come to expect from telephone people.

Annual Y Meeting Is Well Attended

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the 20th annual meeting of the Pontiac YWCA Saturday.

The luncheon was held in the O.L. Beaudette home on West Huron Street, the building the YWCA is raising money to buy.

Mrs. Reba Netzler, executive director, said that this building accommodated three times as many as the Franklin Boulevard home would for such an occasion.

* * *

Alice Papes of the YWCA international staff in New York City spoke to the group on the work the organization is doing throughout the world.

IN 75 COUNTRIES

The YWCA is the largest women's organization in the world with branches in 75 countries.

The program varies from country to country, depending on the need. Education is the common denominator of it all.

In one country, it might be an agricultural club to help the inhabitants raise better food.

In Turkey, it often is secretarial courses. In Northern Rhodesia, it was a five-month course in store clerking and hygiene.

* * *

Hostels, mothers' clubs, puppet shows, nursery schools, teen-age leadership courses, sewing classes, handcraft cooperatives, public affairs programs — all are part of the international YWCA program.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS

New directors to serve on the board were elected.

* * *

These include Mrs. George Yansen, Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Sickels and Mrs. A. L. McAdams.

Others are Mrs. T. Warren Fowler, Mrs. Charles Coppersmith, Mrs. Lynn D. Allen and Maude Chambers.

* * *

A group of the Y nursery school children entertained with songs.

Regardless of age, there is a place in the Pontiac YWCA program for any girl or woman. Mrs. Ada See, Oakland Avenue, is a member of the Golden Age group. Laurie Kuklinski, 4, South Josephine Street, attends the nursery.

Doctor Can Help

You'll Know the Reason

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need a serious answer. Time after time you advise women, who are married to men who have lost all interest in sex, to "get him to a doctor."

Now tell me, Abby. Exactly what can a doctor do for him?

MARRIED TO ONE

DEAR MARRIED: A doctor can tell whether his lack of interest is due to physical reasons, or psychological ones.

ABBY

If it's physical, the situation might possibly be remedied with proper treatment. If it's psychological, the man might need psychotherapy.

If it's due to to the natural aging process, and nothing can be done to restore his interest, then the wife might need some psychotherapy to help her accept it.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that people who eat more slowly tend to eat less food?

HARRIETTE

DEAR HARRIETTE: Yes, and especially if they are members of a large family.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married before but was separated from his wife at the time we met. He assured me that he and his wife had been estranged for a long time and that he never saw her.

Well, Abby, shortly after we returned from our honeymoon, I found a folder with 87 letters from her. I am not proud of it, but I read every one of them.

She tells him how much she "loves" him and "misses" him. They are all dated, and written when he and I were going together.

If I had known that she was trying to get him back, I would have let him alone. It is too late now. We are married.

My husband said those letters don't mean a thing, that she loves to write letters, but he never answered any of them.

I realize he can't be blamed because SHE wrote him, but if her letters didn't mean a thing, what was he saving them for?

SECOND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Look at it this way: If he were trying to get away with something, he'd have destroyed the "evidence."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know you can't print all the letters you get, but I wish you would print this one.

About three years ago I wrote to tell you my troubles, which all started with a drinking problem. You told me to admit to myself that I was an alcoholic and to go to an A.A. meeting.

I went, and they gave me all the help and understanding you said they would. After staying on the wagon for six months, my wife took me back and I became a family man again.

I am now holding down a job. It's hard work, but I'm glad I can do it. I now live according to the A.A. program and still attend meetings. I pay my bills and stay sober one day at a time.

I now look myself in the mirror and I like what I see. I go to parties where others drink, but I stick to my fruit juice. I don't think anybody could get me to take "just one" again.

God bless you, Abby, and thank you for helping to give me a new life.

A.A. AND PROUD OF IT

Stop Lunch Gradually, Tactfully

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me how I can tactfully and graciously get out of lunching with two of the girls in my office?

When I first started my job, two months ago, they invited me to lunch with them and I accepted. I have been having lunch with them ever since and they now take my going with them for granted.

I don't like to hurt their feelings but I find them terribly boring. All they do is gossip about the others in the office.

We are all supposed to go out at the same time so I can't have my lunch hour changed. I would appreciate any advice you can offer.

* * *

A: To suddenly stop lunching with them altogether, would be very pointed.

However, you might ask a friend outside the office to meet you for lunch with them.

Or if this isn't possible, you could bring your lunch a couple of times a week and eat in the office, explaining to them that you are trying to save money.

WITH WIFE'S SISTER

Q: My sister's husband will be coming to this city to attend a convention.

I would like to know if it would be proper for him to stay here in my apartment and use the spare bedroom while he is in town rather than go to a hotel.

* * *

A: If you were married, there would of course be no impropriety in his staying in your and your husband's apartment, but as you are a single woman living alone, he should go to a hotel.

Buying a Car? Shop for Best Financing

MARY FEELEY

Dear Mary Feeley: We are buying a new car for the first time, and can use a little advice. Are all auto - financing plans pretty much the same—or is it possible to make a better deal with one company than another?
M. R., New Orleans.

Dear M. R.: It always pays to shop around. Take some figures with you — the car dealer's statement of the trade-in allowance you'll get for your old car if any; the amount of the down payment if any; the cash difference between trade-in and down payment; the monthly payments you will be expected to meet; and the number of payments involved.

To find out exactly what the financing cost will be, multiply the monthly payment by the number of months you will have to pay. Then from this figure, subtract the amount you must borrow.

This way you'll be able to compare the cost of other financing plans available at the various lending institutions in your locale. Banks, insurance companies, credit unions and finance companies are all sources to investigate.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a young man of 25, and would like to take an apartment by myself. I am paid on the 15th and 31st of the month. After taxes and hospitalization insurance, I take home $135 each payday.

Will you give me a budget that will enable me to carry out my plans? J. F., Astoria, L. I.

Dear J. F.: If you can find an apartment for $75 a month, you can swing it. But that's not so easy in a metropolitan area these days.

Figuring on a total income of $270 a month, you really haven't any surplus to allow for a higher rent — unless you skip all savings and insurance, and I certainly don't recommend that! Here's a possible budget:

Housing, $75; household operating costs, $20; food at home, $45; clothing, $27; savings and insurance, $15; personal allowance for lunches and incidentals, $43; miscellaneous expenses, gifts and contributions, $10; medical, $5 (it behooves you to keep healthy); recreation, $30.

You're probably spending more than $30 a month on recreation now, so this low figure for a young man your age won't be easy.

But no doubt you expect to make some sacrifices in order to have a place to yourself.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley: My mother-in-law receives $64 monthly social security. It's her only income. I pay all other expenses for her, between $800 and $900 a year.

Is this sufficient support to allow me to take her as a dependent deduction on my income tax return? A. L., Brooklyn N.Y.

Dear A. L.: The figures say you are entitled to claim her as a dependent, since you're paying more than half of her support.

But can you prove these expenditures? Proof is what will count.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in her column.)

Strive to realize a state of inward happiness independent of circumstances. —J. P. Greaves.

Candlelight Ceremony for Judith Eldred

A candlelight ceremony and reception in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester, marked the Saturday vows of Judith Mary Eldred and Lawrence Lee Chambers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Eldred Jr. of Rochester and the David Bowens of Third Avenue.

BROCADE GOWN

Ivory brocade fashioned the bride's A-line gown and kick train, worn with fingertip veil of illusion.

Her bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and ivy was arranged in a cascade.

Honor matron, Mrs. Walter Elliott of Royal Oak, appeared in a floor-length Empire gown of dusty rose peau de soie. She carried cascading pink roses.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. James Oberg and Mrs. Rodney Wilson, both of Rochester, wore cranberry peau de soie.

With best man, James Johnson, of Clarkston, were the ushers, Calvin Morgan, Robert Hocking, Nicholas Pavilnac and David Eldred.

★ ★ ★

Rev. J. Douglas Parker officiated at the evening rite for the couple who will reside on South Eastway Drive.

Pontiac Press Photo

Denise Nicholls, Hira Avenue, has fun thinking about summer vacation while she models an appropriate outfit for the Eliza Leggett School PTA fashion show.

Two of the mother models who will help show clothes Thursday evening are (from left) Mrs. Andre DeWilde, Sheryl Avenue, and Mrs. Charles Hoffman of North Cass Lake Road.

Fashions for PTA

A spring fashion show will be sponsored by mothers and daughters of the Eliza Leggett PTA on Thursday in the school at 7:30 p.m.

Mothers modeling will include Mrs. Alan Leach, Mrs. Andre DeWilde, Mrs. Carl Russell, Mrs. Emil Bair, Mrs. Charles Hoffman.

Students modeling will be Rebecca Clemans, Deborah Myers and Denise Nichols.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Old Pen Pals Finally Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Two pen pals who have been writing to each other ever since they were little girls, finally met in person when Primrose Taylor of Birmingham, England, visited Mrs. Ina Zymet here.

Mrs. Zymet, 25, and Miss Taylor, 24, started their correspondence 14 years ago as part of a hands-across-the-sea project.

★ ★ ★

Miss Taylor, a secretary for the Bank of England, came to visit her longtime friend-by-letter while on a two-week vacation.

The Fringe With Tassels

The be-fringed and be-tasseled look is home fashion news in 1965 for throw pillows, bedspreads, canopies, and window shades, to name just a few examples of this new fashion foible.

★ ★ ★

A large 4'x4' "pouff", bursting with fat cushioning of latex foam rubber and dressed up in a favorite fabric takes on added zing with tasseled corners.

Engagement news is made by E. Caroline Pritchett of Loch Leven Drive and William Harlan Ritze of Birmingham. August 7 vows are planned by the couple whose parents are Mrs. William Pritchett of Voorheis Road and the late Mr. Pritchett and the Harlan B. Ritzes of Birmingham. He is a graduate of Ferris Institute and presently doing post graduate work at Wayne State University.

Alcohol Is Subject of Speaker

Sweetheart Hope Chest

The Sweetheart chest, an important furniture item for 1965, is a brand new restyled version of the hope chest (and believe it or not, 40 per cent are bought by young suitors to give to their betrothed).

★ ★ ★

This type of chest is a very handy storage piece and is decorative as well.

It can be used with a latex foam rubber topping as an extra seating piece or even as a convenient window seat.

Is It Washable?

Look for labels and tags which say that clothes can be laundered in a washing machine or by hand.

Washables need only soap or detergent suds to keep them clean, so you can take care of them at home.

This saves both time and money.

Billowing Pillowing

The "romantic" styling of new upholstered furniture puts the accent roundly on comfort and curves. Squashier seating needs no plumping-up with springy latex foam rubber underpinings.

Contemporary designs are softer, and traditional is less ornate.

Result . . . an "established" look, typically 1965.

Flu Shots for Them

CHICAGO (UPI) — Expectant mothers, persons over age 65, and those with chronic debilitating disease are in special need of influenza immunization, the American Medical Association (AMA) reports.

Persons who have had two shots within the past year only need a booster shot. Even one shot of vaccine, however, gives a lot of protection, according to the AMA.

The Bureau of Mines scientists are using bacteria to remove minerals from low-grade ore. Microbes form acids which liberate the ores.

Romeo Area to Get 1st Shopping Center

ROMEO — Work will soon begin on the first shopping center in the Romeo area.

Part of a $600,000 development called Donna Lee Manor No. 2, the center will be located about a half mile south of the village limits on the east side of Van Dyke facing Barbara Ann Drive.

Donna Lee Manor No. 2 will almost match a prior development project called Donna Lee Manor No. 1, which is across Van Dyke from the shopping center site.

As in the first part of the project, occupied for six months, most of the construction involves 10-unit apartment buildings.

Four of these will be situated behind the shopping center, and work has started on one of them.

APARTMENTS

The apartment buildings, which will contain units renting from about $125 up, will match those in Donna Lee Manor No. 1 and will have an exterior design similar to that of the shopping center.

Robert Huhn, a partner in the firm of Huhn Builders, Inc., of Avon Township, which is designer and builder of the entire project, said construction of all the buildings will take about two years.

Huhn is now clearing land for the shopping center itself, and a chain store and three smaller stores have already leased space in it.

* * *

Huhn would not identify the stores as yet, but said the building probably would be ready for use in August.

300 CARS

Parking space also will be provided for 300 cars.

Although the Romeo Village Council recently denied Huhn's request for a 4-inch water main to the shopping center, Huhn says this will not be an obstacle to the project.

According to Huhn, water service already exists on the property, and his request was only designed to expand that service for the shopping center.

'Freedom Forum' Hears More Viet Support Urged

Speaking before a "Freedom Forum" audience at Central Michigan University, former Minnesota Congressman Dr. Walter Judd, called for stepped-up support for American troops in Viet Nam, "In the war which we are losing as we are currently operating."

Judd, an outspoken critic of American foreign policy for dealing with the Communists, once served as a medical missionary to China where he was imprisoned by Communists 30 years ago.

"Yet some people persist in thinking that such unlawful Red actions are a recent development," he said.

"If you must have peace, you can have it—just surrender! Or you can do as you are doing here, sit down, study, learn about them and then stop them," Judd asserted.

* * *

Speaking on the topic, "Is the Far East Worth Its Cost?" Judd told the more than 200 persons attending, that, "Certainly! If we pull out of Viet Nam, we lose all of Asia and the Phillippines!

"After this, who else in the world would dare rely on the United States?"

The forum is considered as an annual exercise in citizenship information and training by the Michigan Farm Bureau which sponsors it through its Family Program Division..

Besides lectures on world affairs, participants examined such questions as "Why a two-party political system?" and "Why are pressure groups important?"

* * *

Dwelling on the theme "Personal freedom is the basis for progress," Don Kinsey, coordinator of education and research for the Michigan Farm Bureau, told the group that "free men, not government, is the creater of jobs for an expanding economy."

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

He said that government spending is in no way related to worker production levels, which alone yield higher efficiency of production.

* * *

Pointing out that today only 6 per cent of available jobs can make use of unskilled workers, Kinsey said that although society has an obligation to train these people whenever possible, there is the danger that these programs of government aid will subsidize workers into remaining in their present unskilled status.

* * *

Members of the Oakland County Farm Bureau attending the conference were Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crawford, Robert Gorsline and Mrs. Irene Voltz all of Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bourns of Wixom; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heslip of Northville; and Mrs. Grant Chamberlin and Mrs. Violet Porritt, both of Orion Township.

* * *

On Feb. 27, Troy BPW members will attend International Banquet Night at the Prince Edward Hotel, Windsor, sponsored by the Windsor BPW group.

* * *

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Honorable Paul Martin, P.C.M.P., member of the House of Commons of Canada.

Annual Dinner Set by Family Service

Family Service of Oakland County will hold its 15th Annual Dinner Meeting Feb. 25 at the Holiday Inn of Bloomfield, 1801 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township.

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, director of Hawthorn Center will speak on "Enjoying Children — Despite Problems."

The public is invited. Full details can be obtained by contacting the agency, 2351 W. 12 Mile, Berkley.

Four Primaries in Area Today

Milford, Troy, Romeo and Rochester Ballot

Voters are going to the polls in four area communities today to cast their ballots in primary elections.

In Romeo, Rochester, Milford and Troy, slates of candidates are being narrowed for the spring general elections, which will take place April 5 in Troy and March 8 in the three villages.

In Troy, voters are selecting two out of three primary candidates for the office of mayor only, although two city commission seats, the municipal judgeship and associate judgeship are also open this year.

Rochester's election will eliminate one of nine candidates for four Village Council seats. In the general election, the three highest vote-getters will serve 2-year terms, the fourth highest for one year.

* * *

An all-Republican slate in Romeo necessitated a primary election, which will determine general election candidates for the offices of village president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and three 2-year Village Council positions.

LIBRARY BOARD

Also on the ballot will be two candidates for the library board.

The two hopefuls for assessor are running as write-in candidates.

The slate of candidates for 3-year Village Council terms in Milford will be decreased by one as a result of the primary.

No narrowing of slates is necessary for other offices, which include two years remaining in an unexpired council term and the village presidency.

3 Men Injured in 2-Car Crash

DEERFIELD TOWNSHIP—A head-on auto collision early yesterday morning hospitalized three Lapeer area men, one of them in critical condition.

* * *

A car driven by Terry Seaman, 18, of 1655 Tozar, North Branch Township, collided with another driven by William L. Rappuhn, 21, of 1206 W. Oregon, Lapeer, on M24 near Norway Lake Road.

Lapeer County Sheriff's officers said Seaman was northbound on M24 and hit the Rappuhn car head - on when the latter crossed the center line.

Taken to Lapeer County General Hospital were both drivers and passengers Andre Bissonnett, 30, of 1779 Lapeer, Lapeer, and Richard J. Rappuhn, 29, of 301 Davis Lake, Lapeer Township.

* * *

Both passengers were in the Rappuhn car. Richard Rappuhn and Seaman were later transferred to Hurley Hospital, Flint, where Rappuhn is in satisfactory condition and Seaman in critical condition with a head injury.

ONE DISCHARGED

Bissonnett was discharged from Lapeer County General after observation, and William Rappuhn is in good condition there.

The accident is still being investigated by the sheriff's office.

LWV Sets More Talks

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP— A discussion of human resources will be broadened this week by the West Bloomfield League of Women Voters.

In their first meeting on the subject, the women delved into the problems of unequal opportunity in education and employment.

The panel discussion laid the foundation for this week's meetings, to be held at noon tomorrow and 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The questions to be explored by members and other interested persons concern the importance of motivation in learning and how it can be accomplished and the relationship of education in respect to job opportunity.

* * *

Other problems include those of "poverty begetting poverty" and the effects of prejudice and discrimination on the quality of education and employment.

Methods of coping with these also will be discussed.

* * *

Tomorrow's session will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Longyear, 2028 W. Long Lake, and Wednesday's meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Culler, 5223 Cold Spring.

1st of 3 Area Village Caucuses

Leonard to Have 'New Look'

The first of three area caucuses in a four-day period has practically guaranteed the Village of Leonard a new look in government after the March 8 general election.

About 50 Leonard voters gathered in the Addison Township Hall Saturday night to nominate new faces for all but two village offices.

Qualified Metamora residents caucus tonight in the fire hall in two groups. The Progressive party meeting is slated for 7, the Citizens party session at 7:30.

And in Dryden, a nonpartisan caucus is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the fire hall.

A number of members of what could be termed "the old guard" in Leonard either did not run for nomination Saturday or were defeated by challengers.

NOT RUNNING

Among those not running were President Jesse Sutherby, Assessor Elmer Powell and Council Trustees John Sutherby and Dwight Patterson.

Defeated in a bid for nomination to reelection was incumbent Treasurer Mrs. Lucille Porter.

Lawson Sheik, former village president and councilman, was given the nomination for the top spot, defeating another incumbent trustee, Charles Hamilton, by a vote of 32 to 8.

* * *

Councilman Patterson won the nomination for the assessor spot without opposition.

The nomination for John Sutherby's position was taken by former council member Cecil Leistman of 69 Division, and Patterson's by Alex Meyer of 4615 Rochester.

TO RUN FOR TRUSTEE

Hamilton, defeated in his bid for the presidential nomination, won the right to run for reelection to his trustee spot in March.

A 1-year council term also must be filled, representing the unexpired remainder of Sheik's term.

Dave Ferguson, former councilman of 115 W. Elmwood, took the nomination, over former Village Marshal Merton Shattuck of 4333 Whitehead, 22-21.

* * *

Sheik resigned his council seat last week to run for president.

UNCHANGING POSITIONS

The only unchanging positions are those of Hamilton and Clerk Mrs. Calvin Shields.

Mrs. Porter, who has been treasurer for about 11 years, lost the nomination for her spot to Mrs. Mary Vore of 225 E. Elmwood.

In balloting to settle the nomination, Mrs. Vore collected 27 votes to Mrs. Porter's 16.

* * *

Since all are members of the Citizens party in a one-party village, those nominated by Saturday's caucus will be automatically elected in March unless write-in or sticker opposition develops.

Farmington Twp. Votes on Pay Hike Issue Today

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP— The controversy over raises granted to the township's top three officials is in the hands of the electorate today.

While going to the polls for primary balloting, voters also are considering a special question concerning the salary increases given the trio on the ove of the last township election.

They will determine whether the raises totaling $9,000 will go into effect in fiscal 1965-66.

Pay boosts for the township's full-time officials were approved by other Township Board members Nov. 2. The three were reelected the next day.

* * *

Supervisor Curtis H. Hall's salary was jumped from $11,200 to $15,000 a year, Clerk Floyd A. Cairns' from $9,000 to $11,500 and Treasurer Elise Avery's from $8,300 to $11,000.

COURT CHALLENGE

The move first was challenged by 11 township residents in Oakland County Circuit Court.

However, Judge Philip Pratt ruled that the raises were not unconstitutional and that trustees had acted within the scope of their authority.

While the suit was pending, a petition was filed bearing the signatures of more than 1,600 township voters who requested a referendum election on the matter.

* * *

The Township Board awaited Pratt's ruling before setting the date to coincide with the primary election.

Petition Deadlines Are Today

Slates of candidates will be compiled in seven area cities today following deadlines for filing nominating petitions.

Those who will run in April 5 elections had until noon to file in Keego Harbor and until 4 p. m. in Bloomfield Hills and Utica.

The deadline is 5 p. m. in Birmingham, Farmington, South Lyon and Walled Lake.

In Keego Harbor, one council term is expiring.

* * *

UTICA TO ELECT

To be picked in Utica are a mayor, treasurer, assessor and four councilmen.

Needed in Birmingham are candidates for two City Commission and two library board seats.

* * *

Other officials to be elected are three councilmen in Walled Lake, three councilmen in Farmington and a mayor, justice of the peace and two councilmen in South Lyon.

Novi Pilot Lands Stalled Plane Safely

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP— A 24-year-old Novi pilot was uninjured and the airplane he was flying undamaged after a forced landing near Eight Mile and Haggerty yesterday afternoon.

Richard Beaubien of 43443 Grand River said he was flying the single-engine plane at about 800 feet when the engine stopped. He landed it in an irrigation ditch near the intersection.

Beaubien had taken off from Mettetal Airport in Plymouth to check out the plane, he said.

The proportion of U.S. farmers working off the farm today is four times greater than in 1934. Many hold down full-time industrial jobs and farm in their spare time.

Indonesia Seizes U.S. Center Following Red-Inspired Protests

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian government took over the American Cultural Center "temporarily" today after a morning of Communist-inspired, anti-American demonstrations which ended without violence.

U.S. Information Service Director Paul Neilson said Indonesian authorities had assured the embassy the center, which includes a USIS library, would be returned in a few days.

The demonstrators, who were protesting the U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam, pasted a notice on the outside wall of the cultural center saying the Communist-inspired Youth Front had taken over the center for a student headquarters. The center was closed for the day.

Several thousand Indonesians took part in the demonstrations before the center and the U.S. Embassy. Indonesian police maintained a heavy guard at both buildings.

The demonstrators also climbed the walls of the cultural center and hoisted the Indonesian flag.

The center and its library were sacked last December by demonstrators protesting the American rescue operation in the Congo.

Another crowd ransacked the American library in the east Java city of Surabaja, and local authorities closed down USIS operations in the area.

Last August a mob seized the USIS library in the central Java city of Jogjakarta. It is still in the hands of the local branch of the Youth Front.

Death Claims Top Socialite

Cancer Takes Mother of Gloria Vanderbilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Death has taken Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, member of a glittering socialite and financial dynasty and mother of the "poor little rich girl" whose custody she lost in a celebrated court battle.

The 60-year-old widow of Reginald C. Vanderbilt and mother of heiress Gloria Vanderbilt Jr. died Saturday of cancer in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Vanderbilt alleged the aunt had spirited away the daughter. The battle was enlivened when Mrs. Vanderbilt's mother, Laura Kilpatrick Morgan, testified against her, saying she was an unfit guardian.

CASE ENDED

The case ended with Gloria Jr. being made a ward of the state of New York, entrusted five days a week to Mrs. Whitney's care and on weekends and one summer month annually to the mother.

Driver Almost Turned Diver

Spring was in the air yesterday, but Robert Woodward Jr. will testify it was too cold for swimming — especially in a car.

Woodward, 30, of 690 Indianwood, Orion Township, was driving his 1963 auto on Lake Manito in Orion Township when the ice broke.

The driver and passenger Lynn Levin, 19, of 750 Tonkawa, Orion Township, both escaped through a window before the car became totally submerged.

Two officers, who were in the cafe, subdued Baker when he jumped on the counter and threatened customers.

Waste Hunter in Congress Snips at U.S. Paperwork

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If you're an average citizen, chances are you don't get too much mail from the U.S. government.

Just the usual tax form once a year and perhaps an employe tax withholding form every three months if you have a domestic worker.

But in the 1964 fiscal year (July 1, 1963-June 30, 1964), the U.S. Government Printing Office produced over 2¼ billion public - use forms for federal agencies.

This averages out to better than 12 for every man, woman and child in America.

★ ★ ★

Who gets all these forms? Businessmen, mostly. If you're in business for yourself, you get a tax form, a minimum - wage confirmation form, group insurance plans forms, unemployment compensation forms, a census report, a dozen retail reports and a special industry report every year.

4 FORMS

If you have a government loan — small business, farmer or veteran type — you get an average of four forms a year.

Most of this red tape is necessary. "An army travels on its stomach, but the government travels on its paperwork," notes a federal accountant.

But even government men themselves admit sometimes that a certain part of it is totally unnecessary and constitutes a serious drain on the taxpayers' money.

★ ★ ★

Trying to snip his way through this "paperwork jungle" is Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., who heads the House Census and Statistics subcommittee.

STUDY 2 YEARS

For two years, Olsen and his colleagues have been studying ways to reduce the government paperwork load. Their report was released this week.

"The federal government creates some 4.5 billion pieces of paper each year," Olsen says. "It puts up huge buildings to store them in at $2 per square foot. This shakes me up a bit."

Effort to reduce government paperwork is not new. Ten years ago the Second Hoover Commission flatly ordered federal agencies to cut down on unnecessary and excessive paperwork.

★ ★ ★

"The situation has gotten much worse since then," Olsen says.

HORROR STORIES

Among the "horror stories" unearthed by Olsen's subcommittee:

• An eight-year old Midwestern girl whose father opened a small savings account in her name received 15 cents interest.

She also received a standard from from the Social Security Administration asking why she had no Social Security number.

★ ★ ★

This mishap came about as the result of the Internal Revenue Service's decision to require banks to report savings interest over $10.

REPORT ALL

Most banks have found it cheaper to report all interest rather than separate the relatively few payments under $10 from the rest.

(Of course, the reason for requiring banks to report interest payments was because many taxpayers would not report it themselves.)

• The proprietor of a Chicago army surplus store testified that 35 per cent of his time was taken up with federal, state and local regulations, forms and records and the accompanying bookkeeping chores.

• A New York jeweler testified that she closed her store because she could not keep up with the necessary paperwork.

It would have cost her between $200 and $300 a month to hire an accountant to do this work for her, she added.

• An official of a giant retailing organization reported that his firm had to fill out 1,350 forms for the Bureau of Census' five-year report.

• A U.S. merchant ship sailing abroad from New York must fill out 26 forms before it leaves the docks, including one which asks how many guns are mounted on deck.

★ ★ ★

A transatlantic flight from Kennedy Airport needs to fill out only two forms.

ELIMINATE FORM

One of Olsen's specific proposals will be to eliminate form 941-A, the quarterly employe withholding form required by Social Security Administration.

"The Social Security people says they need the information every quarter because state unemployment compensation boards require it that frequently," says Olsen.

"But we've checked with the unemployment boards and they say they automatically contact former employers whenever a person files for compensation.

Wrong Men Nabbed

Descriptions Matched

LONDON (AP) — Patrick James O'Connor of the Royal Engineers decided the army life was no longer for him.

He skipped and sought refuge across the Irish Sea, beyond the reach of British law.

★ ★ ★

But the military police found a Patrick O'Connor still in England. The name matched, the ages matched, the accents matched, so they took him in.

Patrick spent five days in an army guardroom until his AWOL namesake read of his plight. He phoned from Dublin and told the army they had the wrong man.

'FANTASTIC'

Said O'Connor the civilian: "It was fantastic — in the end they even had me half believing I was a deserter."

This weekend the MP's struck again. This time in search of Hugh O'Connor, late of the Royal Irish Fusiliers. In Luton, north of London, they brought Hugh O'Connor into magistrate's court and charged him with being absent without leave from the Fusiliers.

★ ★ ★

Once again the descriptions matched. Same brown hair, same blue eyes, same vaccination marks, even similar tattoos on the arm.

But the O'Connor in court produced documents to prove he was only 14 years old. He admitted telling people he was 19 but said that was to get a job in an auto plant.

LET HIM GO

The magistrates let him go, and Hugh O'Connor set off to rejoin his family in Dublin.

"If I stay here," he said, "I shall have to go to school."

Fourteen is the minimum school-leaving age in Ireland, 15 in Britain.

Soviets Gaining in Air Power---LeMay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who retired two weeks ago as Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is "still far stronger than the Russians" in air strength but "they are catching up."

"Our relative strength is not as great now as it was, say five years ago," LeMay said in an interview on NBC's "Sunday" television show. "There has been, I think, a narrowing of the gap."

★ ★ ★

He suggested in a veiled way, that the Soviet Union may not be honoring the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

As a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, LeMay supported the treaty although he said it contained risks. In the NBC interview he said he has seen "none of the vast political gains that we were supposed to make by having the treaty."

★ ★ ★

But, he added: "Perhaps it is too early to make a final evaluation as yet."

Then, without elaboration, he said: "Certainly, we are not sure that everything has been carried out on the Russian side."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson went to church Sunday and heard his pastor make a critical reference to French President Charles de Gaulle.

The Rev. George R. Davis of the National City Christian Church speaking on "For Those Whose Hats Are Too Small," said some of the United States' enemies and even some of its friends have displayed arrogance.

★ ★ ★

"I sometimes think that Mr. de Gaulle falls into that category — men who play God," the minister said.

Johnson was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, White House assistant Marvin Watson and Mrs. Watson.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says he doesn't know when his Senate Foreign Relations Committee will get around to hearings on the U.S.-Soviet consular treaty.

The Arkansas Democrat said in an interview the committee has a heavy workload on other matters.

The treaty, signed last June 1 and submitted to the Senate 11 days later, would authorize negotiations for the Soviet Union to open consular offices in such cities as New York, Chicago and San Francisco in return for similar U.S. offices in the Soviet Union.

Fulbright, who supported the treaty when it was submitted, declined to say how the violent anti-American demonstration against the U.S. Embassy in Moscow last week will affect the treaty's chances.

Kosygin Back From Asia Trip

Stressed Red Unity on Tour of Nations

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Alexei Kosygin returned today from an 11-day Asian tour during which he promised Soviet military aid to Communist North Viet Nam and held talks with Red China's top leaders.

Kosygin stressed Communist unity in his stops at Hanoi, Peking and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. But there were no indications that either Moscow or Peking had budged on the basic issues dividing them.

Kosygin was expected to sit down shortly after his return with Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev to review the findings of his trip. Brezhnev met him at the airport.

Non - Communist observers here expected that two points would be given priority attention.

* * *

The first was how far the Soviet Union is willing to become directly involved in the Viet Nam situation and what steps, if any, it would consider taking to cool off the crisis.

The second is the Communist meeting Moscow has called for March 1 to prepare for a world conference on Communist unity. Peking has denounced both meetings as an attempt to split the world Communist movement.

There was no indication from Kosygin's trip that he had won support for the March 1 meeting from North Viet Nam, China, or North Korea.

Kosygin was met at the airport by Brezhnev, First Deputy Premier Dmitry Ustinov, Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky and the Chinese ambassador to Moscow Pan Tsu-li.

No representatives of the Chinese Embassy were on hand at the airport when Kosygin left Feb. 4.

Kosygin sent a goodwill message to Chinese Premier Chou En-lai today as he flew over Chinese territory on his way home. The message said:

"We send to you and the fraternal Chinese people good wishes for success in the building of socialism.

"We express the hope that the friendship and cooperation between our two countries will develop and grow stronger."

Note Building Permit Surge in Waterford

Waterford Township's building department issued 44 permits last month at a valuation of $686,306 as the upsurge in building activity evidenced in the latter part of 1964 continued.

During January 1964 a total of 30 permits were issued at a valuation of $186,791.

Residential building activity more than doubled as 21 permits were issued last month compared to 10 in the same month a year ago. Valuations were $367,832 and $143,857 respectively.

Contributing to last month's heavy valuation increase over January 1964 were two commercial permits valued together at $104,000 and a permit for an addition at Our Lady of the Lakes School valued at $170,000.

* * *

No commercial permits were issued during January, 1964.

ACTIVITY DROPS

Last month's activity dropped from the corresponding month a year ago only in residential addition permits.

In January last year 10 of these were issued at a valuation of $22,200. Last month's six remodeling permits were valued at $8,175.

'M' Cagers Put Ranking on Line Tonight at Indiana

Shortened '500' to Lorenzen

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Fred Lorenzen, who has now won at all four majors tracks on the NASCAR circuit, has no intention of quitting.

The Elmhurst, Ill., racing veteran piloted his 1965 Ford to victory Sunday in the rain-shortened Daytona 500 at the Daytona International Speedway.

★ ★ ★

"I'd much rather make a run for it and take the checkered flag," Lorenzen said. "But that's the way things happen, sometimes. I'll take this win — I've wanted it for a long time."

Race officials waited more than 1½ hours before stopping the race. The field, reduced to 22 of the original 43 starters, had run some 43 of those laps under the yellow flag.

LITTLE LUCK

Lorenzen, who has won at Atlanta, Charlotte and Darlington in addition to Daytona, has a little bit of luck going for him Sunday.

But he also did a lot of advance planning, and believed he could have won anyway because he planned only four pit stops.

★ ★ ★

"We used a 3-to-1 gear ratio and figured to save on gas," Lorenzen explained. "We were getting 42 laps to the tank, and I know the other drivers, though having faster cars, could have to make more stops."

him to return to the race without losing his position.

The win, at an average speed of 141.539 miles per hour, was

Quick work by his pit crew a few laps before the race was stopped kept him in the lead, could have won anyway because

On the 127th lap, Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, the leader for most of the race, slammed into Lorenzen and Lorenzen's car went into a guard rail.

The right front fender scraped along the tire, but Lorenzen's pit crew cut away enough of it to stop the rubbing and allow worth $28,600 to Lorenzen, including $800 in lap money.

Darel Dieringer of Charlotte, N.C., who started on the pole, placed second and won $11,950. Bobby Johns, of Miami, Fla., won $7,850 for third and Earl Balmer of Floyd Knobs, Ind., got $4,250 for fourth.

★ ★ ★

Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., forged to the lead on the first lap and led for the first 27. A tire on his car was apparently cut by a sharp object and he was sidelined after slamming into the wall.

Hoosiers Big Challenge for No. 1 Michigan

Wolverines Trample Spartans, 98-83 for Big Ten Triumph

ANN ARBOR (AP) — If the Wolverines of Michigan are behind at the half when they face Indiana at Bloomington tonight they may find the going a lot tougher then it was Saturday.

It's certain a 60-point second half would not be as easy against the Hoosiers, ranked eighth in the nation in the Associated Press poll.

"They know they've got to do the job," says Michigan coach Dave Strack. "Santa Clause is not operating in the Big Ten this year.

"Everything is getting tougher as the saeson progresses. The schedule won't help you."

★ ★ ★

The Hoosiers, fifth in the Big Ten with a 4-2 record, will take the floor with Tom and Dick Van Arsdale, a pair of 6-foot-5 twins, leading a whole cast of returning veterans.

MSU WINLESS

The No. 1 ranked Wolverines met the hapless Spartans of Michigan State in Ann Arbor Saturday night and added a 98-83 defeat to make State's record 0-8.

The first half of the game looked as if it might be a replay of the 103-98 overtime Michigan squeaker of Jan. 26. Powered by forward Stan Washington's rebounding and 18-point first half, the Spartans went to the locker room with a 43-38 lead.

★ ★ ★

Led by senior guard George Pomey, the Wolverines went into a zone press defense early in the second half. The maize and blue exploded for 60 points to rout the Spartans.

State coach Forddy Anderson said after the game, "We played the best we knew how, but that pressure was the difference."

★ ★ ★

Cazzie Russell led all scorers, adding 32 to Michigan't total. Center Bill Curtis led the Spartans with 22 points with Washington adding 21. Bill Bunton fired in 19 for the Wolverines.

Michigan goes into tonight's game with a 15-2 season record and 7-0 in Big Ten play. State's over-all mark stands at 4-13.

Pontiac Ladies Again Winners

Local Teams Still Rule Elks' Keg Tourney

Hospitality has never been lacking when the Pontiac Elks No. 810 sponsors its annual Ladies National Invitational Bowling Tournament; but visiting chapters may soon start wondering about the team event.

The local teams — in the majority, of course — continued their domination of the five-woman handicap competition by winning the title for the fourth straight year Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The Ogg Cleaners entry posted a 2996 total on the final team squad of the eighth annual tournament to take the ship.

In addition, captain Phyllis Post and team members Doris Hays, Shirley Puckett, Julia Frasier and Evelyn Aumaugher had the high team game with a 1079 effort.

Pontiac also had the runner-up team, Montcalm Auto Glass which hit 2949 the preceding Saturday.

★ ★ ★

This marked the seventh time in the eight years of the tournament that Pontiac has had the championship team. The singles, doubles and all-events titlists will not be determined for two more weeks.

Another 20-Goal Season for Howe

DETROIT (UPI) — To a hockey player, scoring 20 goals in a season is like:

Hitting .300, or, if you're a pitcher, winning 20 games.

Throwing 20 touchdown passes.

Having a 20-point scoring average.

That's why Gordie Howe must rank as one of the greatest of modern-day athletes.

He scored his 20th and 21st goals of the season Sunday night as the Detroit Red Wings whipped the New York Rangers, 6-2. It marked the 16th straight season he has potted 20 or more goals!

Gordie the Great, who will be 37 years old March 31, set a new National Hockey League record, breaking his old mark of 15 in a row. And he upped his all-time scoring total to 587 goals, 746 assists and 1,333 total points.

ENDS SLUMP

At midseason the talk around Olympia Stadium was that Howe's age was showing. He was slowing down. He had lost his touch. So, he decided to silence his critics and since the half-way mark has scored 12 goals — in 16 games.

The victory left Detroit with 58 points, two behind the Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

The Wings trail the league-leading Chicago Blackhawks by six points, but lead fifth-place New York by 17.

The question always comes up as to when Howe, the Sampson among the skating set, will retire.

★ ★ ★

"I want to play 20 seasons, first," he answers. "So I'll have to stick around at least one more year, even if it's as a defenseman, where I wouldn't have to skate so much."

Skating Titles Decided

Injury Sidelines U.S. Ice Star

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has lost one of its leading figure skaters for this weekend's North American Championships in Rochester, N.Y.

Christine Haigler, 17, of Colorado Springs, Colo., announced she would be unable to compete in the meet because of a back injury suffered in last week's U.S. Championships here.

Gary Visconti of Detroit upset defending champion Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., in senior men's singles; Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill., won in senior pairs, and Paul McGrath of Jamaica Plains, Mass., skated off with the junior men's singles crown.

Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills was third in senior men's singles.

Miss Haigler, the highest-ranking American girl in the 1964 world meet, returned home Sunday to rest the injury. She was hurt Thursday night when she fell while attempting a double-revolution jump and landed on her tailbone.

Despite the injury, she won the compulsory figures in ladies' singles in the national meet, but lost the title in the free skating to 16-year-old Peggy Fleming of Pasadena, Calif. Miss Haigler placed second.

"I had been looking forward to the North American Championships," the pretty Cheyenne Mountain High School junior said, "but I think the best thing I can do is take a few days off and get back in shape. I want to be ready for the world meet next month."

The 1965 World Championships will be on Miss Haigler's home ice at the Broadmoor World Arena in Colorado Springs March 2-6. She was fifth in the ladies' singles a year ago.

Norwegian Hits 301 Feet

WESTBY, Wis. (AP) — Norway's Thoralf Engan considered today how he narrowed his chances of boosting his new North American ski jumping record with his first and shortest leap — a 301-footer — in winning the Snowflake Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Engan added jumps of 312 and 317 feet in Class A competition Sunday for 243.5 points and a comfortable margin over second-place Yukio Kashya of Japan. The Tokyo jumper rolled up 231 points on leaps of 287, 308 and 313 feet.

★ ★ ★

Because of a steady cross-wind, officials started the jumping from the lowest of four starting gates on the 90-meter hill. If none of the entrants reached the hill's critical point, they would have been allowed to move up to the next gate on succeeding jumps.

★ ★ ★

But Engan's first jump passed the critical point by one foot and officials ordered remaining starts from the first gate. It was estimated that a move to the second would have added a minimum of 20 feet to later jumps.

Twenty feet on either of Engan's last two leaps would have carried him past the North American standard of 324 feet he set a week earlier at Leavenworth, Wash. His 317-foot effort was only two feet short of the hill record set last year by Matz Jenssen, another Oslo jumper who had taken off from the second gate.

Funseth's 'Knees Knock' in Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Rod Funseth headed for the $46,000 Tucson Open today after taking a big jump off the springboard others have used to launch them to the top of the professional golf world.

Funseth, a 31-year-old pro from Spokane, Wash., who admits his "knees were knocking," put together four fine rounds to win the $10,500 first prize in the $67,500 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

★ ★ ★

He fired a 71-68-68-67—275 on the 6,584-yard, par-72 Arizona Country Club course to outdistance a field which included such notables as Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols.

Nicklaus won the tourney last year and went on to be the top money winner in golf. The previous three years Arnold Palmer won the event, and in two of them he was tops on the money list.

"I had a lot of breaks," said Funseth, who hit two spectators with tee shots and both times had the ball bounce into improved positions.

ONE PROBLEM

"My only real problem," he said, "was my knees knocking."

Funseth was the third-round leader in the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic two weeks ago at Palm Springs, Calif. He soared to a 78 in the fourth round and finished in a tie for 14th.

"This time I didn't let the course get the best of me," he said.

Funseth was one stroke off the pace going into the final round at Phoenix. He birdied the first hole to catch leader Bert Yancey and went ahead to stay when Yancey bogeyed the ninth.

Billy Maxwell, who fired a last round 64, finished in a tie with Frank Beard and Al Geiberger at 279.

College Quints Await Tourney

By The Associated Press

UCLA's defending national collegiate basketball champions, unbeaten in their conference, appear to be one of the best bets to make the NCAA tournament that will decide the 1965 titalist next month.

The Bruins won two Pacific Athletic Conference games last week, pushing their record to 8-0 and 18-2 over-all and all but nailing down a spot in the 25-team field that must struggle through first round activity, then four regional tourneys before reaching the final round of four in Portland, Ore., in March.

★ ★ ★

With three weeks of the regular season remaining, these teams appear today to have the best chances of taking their conference titles and gaining a spot in the tourney:

Michigan, Big Ten; Tennessee, Southeastern; Oklahoma State, Big Eight; Wichita, Missouri Valley San Francisco, West Coast; Texas Tech, Southwest; Cornell, Ivy; St. Joseph's, Pa., Mid-Atlantic; Davidson, Southern; Duke, Atlantic Coast; Connecticut, Yankee; New Mexico, WAC; Eastern Kentucky, Ohio Valley, and Miami of Ohio, Mid American.

AT-LARGE

Providence, Penn State, Villanova, DePaul, Notre Dame, Chicago Loyola, Houston, Texas Western, Seattle, St. John's of New York, Miami of Florida, Detroit, Boston College and Colorado State U. are in the running for the 10 at-large berths.

Some of the teams which fail to make the NCAA will be invited to the National Invitational Tournament in New York. That 14-team field may come from Providence, Detroit, Army, St. John's, Dayton, Miami, Fla., Holy Cross, St. Bonaventure, NYU, Notre Dame, Boston College, Syracuse and the runners-up in the Missouri Valley and WAC. At present that would be Louisville from the MVC and either Brigham Young, Arizona or Wyoming from the WAC.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, Tennessee, Oklahoma State, Davidson, Duke and Cornell still face stern tasks before getting NCAA tournament berths.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll must down Minnesota and Illinois before nailing down the Big Ten title. Tennessee may have a playoff with Vanderbilt for the SEC crown. Oklahoma State has to shake off Kansas. Cornell must beat Princeton again to sew up the Ivy. Davidson and Duke, despite records of 21-1 and 16-2 must win championship tournaments in the Southern and AAC.

Tennessee's 79-66 victory over seventh-ranked Vanderbilt and Minnesota's 105-90 rout of 10th-ranked Illinois were among the highlights of Saturday's action. Unbeaten Providence made it 18 straight by downing Duquesne 83-75. Davidson won its 20th in a row by whipping Richmond 83-73. Cornell won its 12th straight with a 90-60 romp over Brown.

Homecoming Big Success for Falcons

Midwestern Baptist Seminary's basketball team provided the focal point for the school's first Homecoming Saturday and it was a good selection.

The cagers romped past Detroit Bible College, 103-47, to square their Michigan Christian College Athletic Association record at 5-5.

In addition to scoring 25 points and pulling down 10 rebounds, forward Larry Thompson at halftime was named Mr. Midwestern and Kathy Scott was crowned Miss Midwestern.

Thompson relinquished game honors to teammate Ralph Wingate who had 35 points. Wayne Selby (12) and Ed Odom (10) also were in double figures. Odom had 11 rebounds; Selby and Wingate 10.

Former Emmanuel Christian athlete Ron Jackson led the losers, getting 19 points before fouling out. Midwestern's Falcons hit the first field goal and they were never head.

St. Benedict Cagers Move Closer to Title

St. Benedict took a long stride toward the Northwest Catholic Youth Organization basketball championship Sunday by defeating second place St. Bede, 35-31.

Mike McGill with 16, and Gary Mazza with 10, led unbeaten St. Benedict. All other teams now have two lossers.

Prep Cage Schedule Tuesday Lists Five Loop Contests

Five league games and three non-league tilts of interest feature tomorrow's area prep basketball schedule.

Headlining the list will be the renewal of the annual Rochester-Avondale basketball series on the Falcons' court in a key Oakland A League engagement.

It is the only O-A game listed, but North Farmington's visit to Wayne John Glenn in a Northwest Suburban encounter and three Southern Thumb clashes are also of importance.

Topping the latter's full schedule is New Haven's trip to Capac in search of at least a share of the Thumb crown.

Should Dryden stumble at Memphis and Almont at New Baltimore's Anchor Bay, then a victory for the Rockets would settle the issue for good.

Both Waterford and township neighbor Kettering are slated for action against Wayne-Oakland League foes. The Skippers will be host to Clarkston.

FIRST TIME

West Bloomfield will entertain Kettering in the first cage meeting of the two schools. Kettering is a Class A school and the Lakers are "B."

Also on Tuesday's schedule is East Detroit at Royal Oak Kimball, Utica at Mount Clemens, Hazel Park at Warren Fitzgerald, Whitmore Lake at Country Day and Oak Park at Lutheran East.

Both Kettering and West Bloomfield have been going through mediocre seasons and neither is in contention for league titles. They will be anxious, however, to add to their win totals.

Clarkston and Waterford Township have played once. That was two winters ago when the Wolves won their first Class A district championship. Waterford was their first post-season victim, 71-51.

North Farmington can move in on Suburban loop pace-setter Birmingham Groves by pinning another defeat on fledgling John Glenn. The gap will be cut to one-half game if the favored Raiders prevail.

SEEKS BOOST

Rochester has hopes of closing in on second place in the Oakland A circuit against tough Avondale. Through the years, the Yellow Jackets and Falcons have mostly split the series.

* * *

Avondale won both games last season including one by 76-61. That is the second widest spread in the series during the past seven years.

Their first meeting this campaign was an 86-79 overtime affair won by Avondale. The latter needs a win tomorrow to retain any hopes for an upper division finish.

Rochester's chances of overtaking Lake Orion for the No. 2 slot also ride on the contest.

* * *

St. Frederick will entertain rugged Mount Clemens St. Mary on the Rams' home court tomorrow. This recent addition to the schedule will be preceded by a 6:30 p.m. reserve contest. The visitors are champions of the Macomb County Catholic League.

LOOKING UPWARD — The "Male Athlete of the Year" trophy is the focal point of attention for Don Schollander (right) of Lake Oswego, Ore. Mother of the famous swimmer, Mrs. Wendell Schollander and famed Johnny Weissmuller were on hand in Milwaukee to congratulate the winner of the award based on a nationwide poll of the AP. Mrs. Schollander was once a stand-in for "Jane" in Weissmuller's Tarzan movies.

Education First Goal of Olympic Swimmer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Young Don Schollander, winner of four gold medals in swimming at the Olympics last fall, is looking ahead to the 1968 Games, but emphasizes that his education comes first.

"I'm going to school for an education and anything else must be secondary," the 18-year-old Yale University freshman said Sunday night as he was honored as the 1964 Athlete of the Year.

* * *

"This a great honor," Schollander said in accepting the Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy awarded by the Fraternal Order of Eagles on the basis of the Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters.

"When I first heard that I had been named Athlete of the Year, I just couldn't believe it," the muscular young blond told a dinner crowd of some 500, including his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Wendell Schollander of Oswego Lake Ore.

FOUR MEDALS

After winning an unprecedented four gold medals at Tokyo, Schollander was a runaway winner in the AP year-end poll. He far outdistanced Baltimore pro football star Johnny Unitas in becoming the youngest, and first swimmer, to win the honor in the 34-year history of the nationwide balloting.

"I'm looking forward to the 1968 Olympics, but anything can happen, especially in swimming, and I just hope I can make the team," Schollander said. "My education comes first, though. I plan to major in psychology and hope for a career in medicine.

* * *

"Swimming is a great sport and has helped me a lot, especially in disciplining myself. However, I believe college is for an education and swimming must rank second. I could have entered many schools, but I chose Yale, because it offered me what I believed I need."

Schollander said that he is attending Yale on a partial scholarship and has a job. He works 12 hours a week as a messenger and helping out in the university's news office.

* * *

"In high school I often could work out in the pool three times a day if I wanted," he said. "Now, in college, if I can train an hour and 15 minutes a day I'm lucky."

AFL's Broncos Drawing Bids for Franchise

DENVER (AP) — Joe Foss, commissioner of the American Football League, came to Denver Sunday while two groups of stockholders of the town's AFL franchise tried to resolve an ownership dispute.

Gerald H. Phipps and his brother, Allan R. Phipps, who hold 42 per cent of the team's stock, have offered to buy out another group holding 52 per cent. Another six per cent of the stock is held by persons who apparently are not participating in the current dispute.

* * *

The Phipps brothers have said they want to keep the franchise in Denver. The other group, including Club President Cal Kunz, are reported to be trying to sell their holdings to other interests that are said to be seeking an AFL franchise.

Foss on his arrival said, "My telephone has been hot since the Denver story spread through the country last week. A lot of buyers would like to get a foot in the front door. But it is not my job to be the middle man in any deals."

WAITING LIST

Foss said he did not know if the non-Phipps stockholders had "any outside offers. But groups seeking a franchise in the American Football League number into the 30s."

Foss said he planned to stay in Denver until the issue is resolved.

* * *

Gerald Phipps' determination to keep the franchise in Denver represents a stumbling block to outside buyers. Unless a prospective purchaser could obtain the Phipps' 42 per cent, some persons say there is not likely to be an outside offer.

Pontiac 5 Loser in Final Tilt

GRAND RAPIDS—The Grand Rapids Tackers nailed the Pontiac Nationals for the fourth straight time Saturday night in a 147-118 comfortable conquest.

The loss snapped a three-game victory string for the visiting Nationals and probably ended their first season in the North American Basketball League.

Pontiac and Chicago's Bombers have one game remaining but there is no suitable date at this time to complete their slates.

Saturday's game found Pontiac down by 16 points at halftime as the Tackers consistently broke loose for easy layups when they weren't ripping the cords from outside.

The Tackers used a questionable player, Pete Auksel, often in the game. He was an addition after the roster deadline. No ruling has been made on the Pontiac protest.

* * *

Willie Jones, the ex-Piston, and Nick Mantis, former Big Ten star at Northwestern, ridled the Nationals' defense for 35 and 38 points, respectively.

Pontiac, as usual, was paced by Willie Merriweather — the lean sharpshooting ace from Purdue. Now coach at Detroit Eastern. Merriweather pumped in 11 of 21 for 30 points. Bob Bolton, the player-coach, led the National rebounders with 11.

Swim Wins for M, MSU

The powers of Big Ten swimming got together Saturday and both Michigan and Michigan State emerged victorious handing Indiana and Ohio State their first defeats respectively.

* * *

Michigan broke Indiana's dual record of 47 straight swim victories by whipping the Hoosiers 70-53 at Ann Arbor, while the Spartans traveled to Columbus and handed the Buckeyes their first defeat of the season, 60-45.

Four Michigan records were set as the Wolverines stayed unbeaten. Bill Farley did the 1,000 yard freestyle in record time of 10:22.49 while Michigan's 400 yard medley relay team did the distance in 3:33.36.

Paul Scheerer's 2:12.9 set a varsity record in the 200 yard breastroke.

At Columbus, Jim MacMillan won two events and swam a leg on the 400 yard freestyle relay team to pace the Spartans.

MacMillan won the 100 and 200 freestyle events. Gary Dilley, another MSU double winner won the 50 freestyle and 200 backstroke.

Off-Track Bets Gets Opposition From Horsemen

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association was on record today as opposed to off-track betting and sweepstakes.

The HBPA's committee on off-track betting, meeting here Sunday, issued a statement saying it represents owners and trainers of thoroughbreds in the United States and Canada and "unanimously opposes off-track betting."

The report said such betting is detrimental to the best interests of racing, detrimental to the public and to the states themselves. The statement said the HBPA will oppose off-track betting "by all means at its disposal."

The statement said the HBPA is opposed to a sweepstakes program "in any form."

Golf Champion Finishes Cycle

Caribbean Precedent Set by Art Wall Jr.

PANAMA (AP) — Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., has become the first golfer to win each of the five tournaments that make up the Caribbean winter circuit.

Death Closes Career for Prince of Tipsters

LONDON (AP) — Prince Monolulu, the costumed and befeathered race horse tipster who for more than half a century stood outside British tracks shouting "I gotta horse," has died at the age of 81.

Monolulu, whose real name was Peter Carl Mackay, was one of a vanishing breed of race track touts who made a living — and sometimes considerably more — by selling tips on horses.

* * *

Until off track betting became legal, the British horse player could only place a bet at the course, and the tout's profession was an honored one. However, legalized betting drove the horse players to their local betting parlors and the touts out of business.

Monolulu was born in Ethiopia, but spent little of his life in Africa before he was shanghaied aboard a ship as a cabin boy. He eventually made his way to New York about the turn of the century — and wound up joining the Salvation Army.

ANOTHER MOVE

It wasn't long before Monolulu was on the move again, this time under his own steam, after deciding the Salvation Army wasn't exactly his cup of tea.

However, never one to let his experiences be wasted, Monolulu borrowed some of the revivalist spirit for his activities at the track.

He said he once heard a revivalist named Gypsy Daniels attract a crowd by shouting "I got heaven." Monolulu decided to pull in the race fans by shouting "I gotta horse." Then he sold his tips.

* * *

He pulled off his first great coup in 1920, offering Spion Kop as a free tip for the Derby. He bet 3,000 pounds of his own money — about $15,000 at that time — and collected his winnings plus hundreds more from grateful bettors when the horse won.

Monolulu was a frequent speaker at Hyde Park corner, where many times he found himself surrounded by bobbies and fined for using language even more colorful than his costume.

* * *

One of Monolulu's most famous feats was a trip to Moscow in 1961, attempting to stop the East-West Cold War confrontation with a "Peace Through Racing Mission."

His contention was simple. He figured universal horse racing would end all wars because as soon as a beltor comes up with a winner he becomes a capitalist.

TIPSTER DIES — Known as the "Prince of Tipsters," Prince Monolulu whose real name was Peter Carl Mackay, died at the age of 81 yesterday. Mackay was known for more than a half century as a race track tout standing outside British tracks shouting "I gotta horse." He has been in New York since 1957.

OUTMANEUVER — New Zealand's Pete Snell, dark suit, turns on the steam to keep Canada's Bill Crothers from passing him in the Los Angeles Times Indoor Games Saturday night. Snell beat Crothers to the tape in a time of 2:07.9 in the 800 meters.

Cinder Standouts to Skip NY Meet

By The Associated Press

Peter Snell is going to write a book while Randy Matson and young Paul Wilson have to read some, so the big weekend winners won't compete in the AAU National Indoor Track and Field Championships.

The AAU championships in New York this weekend, a two-day combined men's-women's meet, takes center stage but schoolboy Wilson, New Zealander Snell and Texan Matson will be among the missing.

★ ★ ★

Snell, Olympic gold medalist at 800 and 1,500 meters, closed his indoor career with a four-yard victory over arch rival Bill Crothers of Canada in a good 2:07.9 time for 1,000 yards Saturday night in the Los Angeles Times Games.

He had announced earlier it would be his last indoor race. The mile record-holder said he plans one more outdoor season.

"I'm writing a book about track," he said. "I guess that automatically will end my amateur career. But I want to quit this year anyhow. I can't give enough time to track and advance my work, too."

INDOOR RECORD

Matson, the Texas A&M giant, broke the indoor shot put record with a tremendous toss of 66 feet, 2¼ inches in the Dallas Invitational Saturday, then announced plans to start concentrating on the outdoor season. Besides, the Aggies sophomore has some studies to attend to.

Same thing with Wilson, a 17-year-old from Downey, Calif., who was the first schoolboy to clear 16 feet in the pole vault. He went 16¾ and won the event against a veteran field in Los Angeles and was acclaimed the meet's outstanding athlete.

★ ★ ★

The AAU, however, has talent galore, what with the Russian delegation and a total of 11 Olympic gold medal winners entered.

The center of interest figures to be Russia's incomparable Valery Brumel, Olympic gold medalist and holder of the indoor and outdoor high jump records. He has gone 7-3 this year and has announced a concerted try at his own indoor mark of 7-4.

TWO DAYS

The meet is being split into two days for the first time, and the men's and women's championships are being combined for the first time.

One of the top attractions could be the broad jump battle among Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, Nashville's Ralph Boston and New York's Charlie Mays. Boston beat the Russian in Los Angeles by one-quarter inch — 26-4¾ to 26-4½.

★ ★ ★

Another feature figures to be the try for a double, in the 600 and 1,000, by St. John's Tommy Farrell. Farrell, who recently set an indoor half-mile mark of 1:49.8, will go against U.S. Olympic gold medal winners Mike Larrabee and Ollan Cassell in the 600 Friday, then come back in the 1,000 Saturday.

Cincinnati Wins Without Big Men; Celtics Romp

By The Associated Press

Oscar Robertson was on the bench. Wayne Embry was in Civilian clothes. Jerry Lucas was nowhere to be seen. But, if the Cincinnati Royals had the shorts, it didn't show on the scoreboard.

The Royals, already depleted by injuries to Lucas and Embry, their top big men, lost Robertson on fouls with 11½ minutes to play in Sunday's National Basketball Association game at St. Louis. But Bud Olsen and Jack Twyman led a come-from-behind spurt that snapped the Hawks' five-game winning streak 99-92.

★ ★ ★

In the only other game scheduled, the Bill Russell-less Boston Celtics got a second half lift from 7-foot-1 Mel Counts and riddled the Baltimore Bullets 126-111 for their 51st victory in 63 starts.

Olsen and Twyman combined for 11 points in the closing minutes, bailing out Cincinnati after the Hawks had gone in front 83-80 following Robertson's sixth personal foul. The Big O left with 30 points, high for the game and six more than St. Louis' Bob Pettit, who also sat out the last period with a twisted knee.

STRETCH DRIVE

Olsen filled in for Embry, who was hurt in Saturday's 108-106 victory over Philadelphia. He scored 17 points, including seven down the stretch.

★ ★ ★

Russell, out for the second straight game with arthritic knees, watched understudy Counts grab nine rebounds and score eight points as the Celtics overpowered Baltimore in the opening minutes of the second half.

★ ★ ★

Outrebounding the Bullets 24-1 in one 10-minute span and limiting them to 16 shots in the third period, Boston raced from a 58-58 deadlock to a 98-86 bulge.

Sam Jones led the NBA champions with 35 points and Tom Heinsohn scored 26. The Bullets' Walt Bellamy, held to seven points in the first half by Boston rookie John Thompson, wound up with 24.

The Celtics lost to New York 123-113, Baltimore beat Detroit 123-117 and Los Angeles trimmed Philadelphia 129-105 in Saturday's other games.

Albion Quintet Notches Share of MIAA Crown

By The Associated Press

Albion assured itself of at least a tie for the MIAA championship Saturday by whipping Kalamazoo 97-88.

Junior cocaptain Larry Downs led the Britons from a 59-59 tie to defeat the Hornets. Downs topped all scorers with 29 points. Kalamazoo is 3-5 in the conference.

Albion's MIAA record of seven victories and two losses ties it with Hope.

★ ★ ★

Hope's Dutchmen defeated Alma 106-81 to keep in contention for the MIAA title. Carl Walters scored 26 points for Hope. Bill Pendell had 21 for Alma, now 0-9.

Adrian dumped Olivet 85-71 in another MIAA contest. Olivet's Dave Gosselin topped all scorers with 19 points, all in the second half. Lee Kennedy hit 17 for Adrian. Adrian is 5-4. Olivet is 2-7 in the conference.

BRONCS KICKED

Western Michigan fell victim to the Mid-American Conference championship drive of Miami of Ohio. The Redskins won their 10th game against no losses over the Broncos, 93-68. WMU, 6-14, was paced by Dave Anderson with 20 points. Jeff Gehring led Miami with 23 in the game at Oxford, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Calvin won its homecoming game, wiping out an 8-point deficit and defeating Ferris 87-83 at Grand Rapids. Ken Fletcher led all scorers with 25 points for the Knights, now 8-9. Bernie Kilpatrick scored 23 for the Bulldogs, now 13-5.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Pettway fired in 44 points as Northwood beat Sault Tech 98-93. Ross Sober was high scorer for the Hornets with 29. Northwood is 11-5. Sault Tech is 15-2.

Unbeaten Wayne State added an 80-70 victory over John Carroll to its drive for a President's Athletic Conference title. Fred Wolcott scored 29 points for Wayne, now 6-0 in the PAC. John Carroll is 5-3.

HIGH SCORER

Gene Simmons scored 24 points for Davenport in its 108-101 victory over Michigan Lutheran. Mervin Gallop of Lutheran led all scorers with 30 points.

A game-high 34 points by Gene Summers sparked Northern Michigan to a 111-89 victory over St. Norbert of Wisconsin. Dick Rankin was high man for the losers with 21 points. NMU is 16-3. St. Norbert is 13-8.

Gary Fewless pushed Aquinas to a 91-83 homecoming game victory over Ohio Northern with his 27 points. Tom Stonk had 22 for ONU.

★ ★ ★

Moorhead State of Minnesota dumped Michigan Tech 78-57 at Moorhead for its winningest season of all time. Moorhead has won 17 games this season and is 6-1 in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference. Tech lost its 17th game of the season.

Detroit Tech bowed to Fenn State of Ohio 79-69. Jim Garza scored 32 for Fenn and Dick Mostowy 24 for Tech. DIT is 2-19. Fenn is 6-8.

HALL OF FAME BOWLING TIPS

By JOE NORRIS
Written for NEA

Andy Varipapa is perhaps best known for his colorful personality and mastery of trick shot bowling, and that's not altogether fair.

True enough, his antics please crowds wherever he bowls, but many in his younger generation of fans don't know of Andy's many serious bowling achievements.

He was the first man to win successive National All-Star titles and he was 56 years old when he won the second in 1948. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1957.

The snap Andy puts on the ball at the point of delivery is a big reason for his success both at stringing strikes and producing amazing trick shots. His excellent timing brings him to the foul line with his body in balance and ready for ball release.

★ ★ ★

He imparts a pin-spilling hook to the ball by drawing his hand upward as it leaves the ball. He does this with the authority — or snap — necessary to give the ball a driving spin. The result is greater pin mixing, the mark of a champion.

Former Flint Skier Wins Jumping Title

MESICK (AP)—Jan Simonsen of Globe, Arizona, took first place in the senior division of the Michigan Lower Peninsula ski jumping championships Sunday.

Simonsen's jump of 155 feet equaled the hill record held by Art Tokle, coach of the U. S. Olympic ski jumping team in 1964.

In the veteran division, Earl Hill, jumping for the Briar Hills Ski Club of Mesick, took first place with a jump of 143 feet.

Giants Set Fast Pace in Signing '65 Squad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants announced today the signing of two more players, making 37 of their 44-man roster in the fold.

Newly signed are infielder Chuck Hiller, who hit .180 in reserve action last season, and outfielder Charles (Cap) Peterson, who hit .203 and led the club in pinch hits with 12.

Olympic Skater Wins 2 Races in Flint Outing

FLINT (UPI) — Eddie Bertand, the North American Olympic intermediate champion, won the the Flint Open speed skating title in his division Sunday, then beat the field in an open two-mile race.

Bertand, the 17-year-old Detroiter, finished with a 7:17.8 clocking in the two-miler with Paul Mehl of Southfield second, Bill Freeman of Detroit third and Don Blasy of Midland fourth.

Jeanne Omelenchuk of Warren and Bill Kucyk of Detroit, Michigan's two national outdoor champions, also swept the senior women and juvenile boys divisions, respectively.

Student's Shyness May Hide Inability

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Until this year, a fourth-grade student, Billy Smith, had a well-kept secret. He couldn't read!

Like all young children, Billy had enjoyed listening to stories. No one noticed that, as he grew old enough to read for himself, he was still content to listen as his mother read to his younger sister. In school, his unwillingness to read aloud in class was attributed to shyness, not inability.

Billy was fair at spelling and, given words one at a time, he was reasonably accurate in explaining their meanings. His lack of comprehension in silent reading made this year's fourth-grade teacher suspicious of his progress. She tested him carefully in several after-school sessions.

In silent reading, Billy missed even words that he seemed to recognize when seen by themselves. For example, he could explain the word "farmer" when seen in a list, but he might read the sentence "They were searching for the farmer's horse" and not be able to tell whose horse was being sought.

★ ★ ★

The teacher discovered that when Billy read aloud, he pronounced the words but understood very little of what he read.

CARELESS READER

Billy could best be described as a careless reader. This carelessness came about quite naturally. He grew up in a home that had always been run in an indifferent manner.

By behaving himself at home and acting "shy" at school, Billy avoided reading for four years.

With the secret out, a tutor has been working with Billy for one hour twice a week. Progress is slow.

★ ★ ★

Billy will have to make up his mind to change his ways and make a real try at learning or there is little hope for lasting improvement.

CAN'T BE MADE UP

Enough hours of work to make up for his avoidance of reading over the past four years can scarcely be arranged for on a tutorial basis. Most of these hours will have to be put in by Billy working alone.

★ ★ ★

Parents and teachers should not let themselves be fooled in cases like Billy's. If a child seems "shy" about reading, an investigation is in order.

An estimated $8.6 billion in health insurance benefits was paid in 1964 — some $800 million more than in the previous year.

The maxim "Silence is golden" does not mean that one should remain silent when speech is required, but merely that there is no need to open one's mouth when he has nothing to gain by opening it.

JACOBY

In a recent team game both South players opened with two clubs. In each instance North responded two diamonds because they were playing that bid to show a bad hand over the two club opening.

One East player could not wait to double. He had good diamonds and wanted to tell the world about it.

The diamond double did not discourage his opponents but rather helped them to reach the spade slam since North realized that his singleton diamond had to be just what his partner wanted.

It also helped South in the play. He won the first trick with the diamond ace and promptly ruffed a diamond in dummy. Then he came back to his hand with a heart and ruffed a second diamond. This time he returned with a trump and ruffed his last diamond. Eventually he had to lose a club but the slam was home.

The other East saw no reason to open his mouth. The hand belonged to his opponents and he decided to tell them nothing.

South bid his spades anyway but North had no way to know that his singleton diamond was anything special and North and South settled for a game contract.

Of course, South made the same 12 tricks but the slam bonus was noteworthy for its absence.

Lost Boy Lived Like Huck Finn

TUXEDO PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer have nothing on 7-year-old Greg Johnson.

Lost in the woods, the boy didn't panic. He munched on wild wintergreen leaves and spent the night in the hideout cave of a revolutionary era highwayman.

Gregory drifted away from a hiking party in Bear Mountain-Harriman State Park Saturday. More than 100 persons, aided by bloodhounds and two Air Force helicopters searched for the youngster.

Greg was found yesterday morning by a neighbor, William Jannone, who also resides in the nearby village of Tuxedo.

* * *

After he became lost, Greg said, he "remembered what daddy said about not wandering in the forest at night." He found the cave once used as a hideout by Claudius Smith, the horse thief and murderer hanged on the village green in Goshen, the seat of Orange County.

SLEPT FITFULLY

It was kind of cold, Greg said, so he covered himself with leaves. The second-grader said he slept fitfully and "every once in a while, I'd sit outside and just look at the moon."

* * *

Mrs. Johnson, asked if Greg would be in school today, said: "You bet. He can't wait to tell his chums about his night in the bandit cave."

ARA Extension to Be Sought

Say Johnson Will Ask Overhaul of Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to send a special message to Congress this week urging extension of the controversial area recommending that it be overhauled.

The loan-and-grant plan to areas has been the target of vociferous critics since it was set up about four years ago. It is due to expire June 30.

Congressional sources said that Johnson would request extension of the program and propose a $400 million appropriation to keep it in business.

He is also expected to urge reorganization of the program along lines which, some believe, partially acknowledge the validity of past criticism.

* * *

The program is intended to woo job-producing industries to chronic unemployment regions by providing subsidies to build plants, public facilities, and other community improvements.

OUT OF MONEY

In 1961, Congress provided $451 million to finance it, but the Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA), which administers the program, ran out of money last summer.

An attempt to replenish the ARA fund was rejected in the House the year before.

President Johnson said in his economic report to Congress last month that ARA had helped economically depressed areas, but he emphasized that "redirection of this program can benefit from the experience of the last four years."

* * *

Earlier, in his budget message, he said that in the future "federal resources and efforts would be concentrated more heavily in areas of greatest need."

Most Groups Higher

Market Continues to Recover

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued a recovery drive in active trading early this afternoon.

The market had some soft spots, but most major groups showed a higher trend.

★ ★ ★

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to a point or better. Wider gains were scored by higher-priced or more volatile secondary issues.

★ ★ ★

Some of the merger and takeover candidates among oils were in the spotlight.

The larger gains in market wheelhorses appeared among nonferrous metals, chemicals and airlines, but a definitely higher trend prevailed among the international oils, cigarettes, electrical equipments, rails and electronics.

The fact that the Viet Nam crisis did not escalate into anything worse over the weekend was a reassuring factor. The business news background remain encouraging.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 333.4 with industrials up 1.3, rails up .3 and utilities up .2.

Chrysler was another soft spot, falling well over a point, as Wall Street gave further thought to stock dilution anticipated from the planned stock rights offering. General Motors, planning an assembly plant in Antwerp, Belgium, gained a sizable fraction, as did Ford.

Up fractionally were Texaco, Jersey Standard, U.S. Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Raytheon, General Electric and Union Carbide.

Du Pont added a point.

Chrysler was off 1⅝ at 55¼ on one block of 17,000 shares. Tektronix was unchanged at 20½ on a transaction of 18,600 shares.

Greek Sailors Deny Shooting at Abandoned Ship

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Greek seaman from the grounded Liberian freighter Irini Stefanou has denied that any of the crew fired on the ship.

★ ★ ★

Constinos Roussos was interviewed via radio-telephone by the San Diego Union Sunday night as he was en route to Long Beach, Calif., on the tug Turner.

★ ★ ★

Through a translator, Roussos said the 16 crewmen who waded 20 yards to San Benito Island after the freighter ran aground during a storm Feb. 3, took a gun "only for hunting" and said the weapon was not used to fire on the ship.

★ ★ ★

Salvage master William C. Miller of San Diego had reported hearing the whine of bullets fired at the ship last Friday.

GOING HOME

The other crewmen were to be flown either to San Diego or Long Beach by chartered amphibian planes today, then flown back to Greece, according to Miller.

Bomb Home of Malcolm X

Negro Leader Says He's Not Frightened

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, controversial black nationalist leader, whose home was damaged by three gasoline bombs, says "it doesn't frighten me; it doesn't quiet me down in any way or shut me up."

Malcolm X, who had advocated a doctrine of Negro "self-defense against white supremacists," fled with his wife and four children early Sunday after the homemade bombs crashed through the living room window.

★ ★ ★

Damage was termed extensive, but the blaze was quickly extinguished. Police began an investgation.

Authorities believe the devices — bottles filled with gasoline with rags for wicks — were hurled from a passing car into the two-story home in Elmhurst, Queens.

CONTROVERSIAL FIGURE

The house itself is controversial. Malcolm began occupying it while he was a leader in the Black Muslim organization. He refused to leave after he broke with the Muslims last year and set up his own group.

Malcolm X left by plane for Detroit a few hours after the blaze to address an Afro-American rally. He said he would return today.

★ ★ ★

Malcolm X said he had received anonymous telephone threats daily for some time. He said the bomb throwing "could have been done by any one of many."

Court-Named Defenders to Be Discussed

A public hearing on the feasibility of creating a public defender system in Oakland County will be held in committee room "A" of the Supervisors Auditorium tomorrow, beginning at 9 a.m.

Representatives of the Michigan Bar Association, the Legal Aid Society and numerous county officials are expected to attend the hearing, which was called by the legislative committee of the board of supervisors.

County officials are anticipating a substantial increase in the demand for court-appointed defense counsel because of recent Supreme Court rulings.

The county may be forced to retain a staff of attorneys and secretaries similar to the prosecutor's staff, except they would have the opposite function.

County officials are hopeful tomorrow's hearing will provide a solution to the problem of financing such an operation.

Jet Airliner Lands Safely After Mishap

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An American Airlines Astrojet with 105 persons aboard landed safely at Carswell Air Force Base Sunday afternoon after circling the field for an hour.

Shortly after the plane had taken off from Dallas Love Field on a flight to New York the pilot discovered that a hydraulic failure had prevented the nose landing gear from retracting.

★ ★ ★

An airline spokesman said the plane had been diverted to Carswell for a landing because of the longer runways and emergency facilities.

King of Belgium Sick, Cancels Appointments

BRUSSELS (AP) — An audience scheduled today by King Baudouin for Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki was canceled because the Belgian ruler is suffering from flu.

A spokesman said the king had canceled a number of other commitments because of his illness.

RATTLESNAKE ROUNDUP — Ed and Don Aiken clean out a rattlesnake den on their ranch during the annual Rattlesnake Roundup in Sweetwater, Tex. Don (right) rakes the deadly diamondback rattlesnakes out with a short hook as Ed picks them up.

Texas Rattlesnake Hunt Will Save Lives

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UPI)— Take 1,940 rattlesnakes, stir with about 18,000 people, mix well and the result is about two quarts of snake venom for medical research.

A three-man Army team was heading back to Ft. Knox, Ky., today with the venom — more valuable than any gold in saving lives.

The venom was extracted yesterday from the snakes as part of the 7th annual Rattlesnake Roundup. The devenomized snakes were then devoured as the main course at a barbecue.

"Tastes like a cross between chicken and fish," Edwin Aiken said.

★ ★ ★

The snakes, weighed a grand total of 2,375 pounds. Tony Halen and James Kamer, both of Sweetwater, split $75 for catching the biggest rattler. It was 64 inches of meanness.

SMALLEST RATTLER

C. W. Carlyle of Blackwell, Okla., caught the smallest, an eight-inch tad. It was worth $10.

But the real value was not the monetary prizes. It will be the few precious ounces of pure venom that will be distilled from the jars being taken to Army medical research laboratory.

Dr. B. D. Ashley of Louisville, part of the "snake-milking" team, said the venom was being taken back to the laboratory in dry ice. Scientists, after distilling it down to a deadly concentrate, will attempt to find better ways to treat victims of snakebite.

★ ★ ★

A disadvantage for the Army, Ashley said, is that everywhere soldiers are stationed, there are snakes, and many of them poisonous.

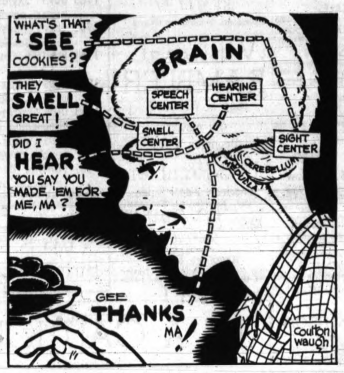
The snake hunters took to the rolling hills of this west Texas country with varied paraphernalia. They walked through a half-inch of snow, looking for tell-tale holes in the hard earth. At likely spots they would squirt gasoline.

The vapors, acting as a noxious narcotic, would force the noisy - tailed reptiles from their dens.

Using forked sticks or modern "pincher bars" (equipped with a trigger that manipulates two finger-like grabbing devices), about 400 hunters picked up the wriggling snakes, stuffed them in bags and took them back to town.

There has yet to be a fatality during the seven-year-old roundup. Most of the other 17,600 visitors watched the hunters — at a distance. They also watched the crowning of Miss Sharon Shelton as Miss Snake Charmer.

Junior Editors Quiz on YOUR BRAIN



QUESTION: How does the brain work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Your brain — much more intricate than any machine ever built—directs the activity of your body. Your eyes, ears and nose send it information about what's going on outside; your brain gathers it together, compares it with past experiences and decides what's to be done.

Then your brain sends out commands to various parts of the body so your decisions can be carried out.

Study the picture and you'll find the parts of the brain to which information from Harry's senses are being sent. Covering the upper, main part of the brain, or cerebrum, is an almost magic layer of grey cells called the cortex.

Such cells are thought to tie in the various reports from the centers, comparing them with memories of past events.

The part of this layer toward the front has to do with consciousness and thought.

Here Harry can realize that what he sees and smells are cookies, and from here he can send commands to the motor part of the brain which controls the movements of all parts of the body.

He sends out a command to his hand to reach out for a cookie and to his speech organs to thank his mother for making them.

FOR YOU TO DO: Locate the medula and cerebellum in the picture, for these are also important parts of the brain. They also get reports and send out commands, controlling balance, heartbeats and many other things.

But these parts of the brain work automatically; the conscious mind need not bother about them at all.

Solon Asks Study of Sewer Overflows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., urged Sunday a $20-million-a-year study of storm and sanitary sewer overflow problems.

★ ★ ★

He estimated $1 million a year could be spent in the Detroit area in developing and demonstrating better means of handling overflows.

★ ★ ★

"The Detroit River offers an outstanding example of pollution caused in part by overflows of combined storm and sanitary sewers," he said. "Industrial waste also causes much Detroit River pollution, but solving the problem of sewer overflow would help greatly."

The Virgin Islands were once known as the Danish West Indies. The United States purchased them for $25 million from Denmark in 1917.

What Hollywood Talks About

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The whole town's talking about:

The growing Oscar fever; the improvement of Julie Andrews' chances to win the big prize, especially since her "Golden Globe" appearance; The foreign press award to "Circus World" as best song of the year over "Dear Heart" and "Chim Chim Cheree";

THOMAS

The tentative schedules for next year's television season; The chance that "Dr. Kildare" may split a la "Peyton Place" with a half-hour twice a week; The reported death knells for such series as "Perry Mason," "Mr. Novak," "The Defenders," "The Doctors and the Nurses," "Rawhide," "Slattery's People," "Hazel," "Bing Crosby Show," "Tycoon" and many more;

CBS joining the other two networks in showing old movies in prime time; the pair of wartime prison camp series — CBS "Hogan's Heroes" and NBC "Campo 44"; ABC pushing a success to the limit with "Peyton Place" twice a week and "The Girl from Peyton" twice a week; The boom for camera-trick artists: more supernatural series "I Dream of Genie," "Haunted," etc. on the 1965-66 schedule;

★ ★ ★

Gary Lewis' lesson in how to be successful in show business by hardly trying: Jerry's boy has the No. 3 record "This Diamond Ring," and his combo is a hot item on the rock 'n' roll circuit; the flock of James Bond imitations being planned;

Joseph E. Levine's hapless debut as a legit backer: the one-night Broadway stand of "Kelly" at a record $650,000 loss; the growing censorship of movie ads by American newspapers; the concern over Sen. Thomas Dodd's announced intention of investigating "sex and violence" in movies;

The succumbing of Spencer Tracy to the television lure — he'll host and narrate a series of historical films;

★ ★ ★

The euphoria following settlement of contract demands by movie craft unions, and the feeling Hollywood is on the move, with the strike threat gone; the growing boredom with projects to exploit the sorrows of Jean Harlow;

★ ★ ★

The bullish outlook at Disney's, with "Mary Poppins" pushing profits to a new high, Jack Lemmon's escape from his leering image with the imaginative, hilarious "How To Murder Your Wife."

U.S. Destroyer Has MLF Crew

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Manned by 255 seamen from six nations, the guided missile destroyer Claude V. Ricketts goes out today on her first regular deployment with the U.S. Navy since she became America's prototype of a multilateral force.

The Ricketts sails with two other ships for five to six months' duty with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. Her mixed crew has been in training for the "show-me" assignment for eight months.

★ ★ ★

Aboard are 150 crewmen from the United States, 36 from West Germany, 24 from Italy, 23 from Great Britain, 20 from Greece, 2 from the Netherlands. All speak English — or try to.

The multilateral force — MLF — has been America's proposal for a way to share control of nuclear weapons with other nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

SURFACE SHIP

The late President John F. Kennedy had proposed a fleet of MLF surface ships carrying Polaris missiles.

The idea hit heavy opposition at the start and has been losing more ground lately.

Play Shakes Italy Regime

Protest the Halting of 'Deputy' Performance

ROME (AP) — Praised by Communists and blasted by the Vatican, a troupe of actors who tried to stage the controversial play "The Deputy" remained in their makeshift Rome theater today behind a police blockade.

The actors holed up in the theater — a former church — Saturday night to protest police interference. They sent word they would remain at least through this morning.

They said a delegation of Parliament members and theater critics would call on Deputy Premier Pietro Nenni, a Socialist, and that the matter would be raised in Parliament. This could mean trouble for Premier Aldo Moro's center-left coalition government.

The play by Rolf Hochhuth, a West German, questions whether Pope Pius XII did all he could to save the Jews from Nazi extermination. The Vatican radio asserted that "staging of this play in Rome would amount to a grave and international affront to a city which was saved (from World War II bombardment) by the Pope."

RED SUPPORT

The Communist party paper L'Unita called the play "a noble experiment," insisted that it be performed and called police action against it "aggression clearly inspired by the Vatican."

Although there is no ban against the play itself, police prevented the first performance Saturday night with the explanation that the building had not had the safety inspection required for public gatherings.

Actor Gian Maria Volonte had rehearsed his company for weeks in secrecy and invited a group of journalists, critics and cultural figures to attend the opening Saturday night. It was billed as a reading for a private literary circle, with no admission charged.

Police entered the building several minutes after the performance began. They ordered out the 40 spectators and hauled some out bodily.

Gotham Cabbie Gives Lift to Penniless Passengers

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Our New York cab drivers sometimes are wonderful . . .

Handsome movie star Stephen Boyd, in town from Hollywood, forgot his wallet when he took beautiful star Raquel Welch from the Hotel St. Regis to see the comedy, "Luv." And Miss Welch, starring with him in "Fantastic Voyage," had no money either, not even enough to take care of the 75 cent fare. But Negro cabbie Bruce Mullins cashed Miss Welch's $10 check—during the theater rush hour, yet . . . You'd better never knock New York cabbies to them!

Joe E. Lewis was asked on a TV show to cut his act to 3 minutes. "There's just one thing that can be done right in 3 minutes," Joe answered, "and that's an egg" . . . Al Cooper hears that when Frank Sinatra and Joe E. acquire humorous material, they buy it by the quart.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Altered Diet Should Ease Colitis Victim

Q. — What are some of the symptoms of colitis? Can anything be done for it?

* * *

A—The commonest form of colitis — mucous colitis — is characterized by the passage of loose stools that contain recognizable mucus.

There are also frequent cramps that travel from side to side throughout the abdomen, a good deal of abdominal gurgling, heartburn and an excessive amount of gas in the bowels.

It is often impossible to relieve this condition until the underlying tensions and conflicts are resolved.

Meanwhile, the victim will be more comfortable if he cuts out all bran, cooked and raw vegetables and fruit, nuts, jams and concentrated sweets.

On such a diet it is necessary to take vitamin supplements. A short course of tranquilizers may also help.

Q — My husband has been drinking heavily for several years. He gets pains in his back. Will alcohol affect his pancreas?

A — Although alcohol, if taken to excess, has an adverse effect on the brain and liver there is no evidence that it is the direct cause of any disease in other organs including the pancreas.

Before the discovery of insulin, alcohol was widely used in the treatment of diabetes, a disease in which the pancreas fails to put out enough of its internal secretion.

Q — My husband has a whitish ring on the outside of the iris of his eyes. His sight is good. What causes the ring and is it serious?

A — This condition is known as arcus senilis because it is seen chiefly in people of advanced age. It occasionally occurs, however, in persons in their early 30's.

The condition is not serious as it does not affect the sight and does not indicate hardening of the arteries.

ROYAL BEAUTY — Oakland University's 1965 Snow Queen, Sharon Snyder of 6765 Woodbank, Bloomfield Township, settles the crown on her raven hair Saturday night as Gene Martineau of Detroit, Winter Carnival cochairman, awards her the traditional bouquet of red roses and his congratulations. Queen Sharon will represent OU in the Northern Michigan University's annual collegiate Snow Queen Contest at Houghton Feb. 26 and 27.

Primary Today in 14th District

A turnout of some 5,000 voters was foreseen today in the 14th Senate District primary election in western Oakland County.

There are about 50,000 registered voters in the district, according to County Clerk John D. Murphy.

"Anything over 10 per cent would be high," said Murphy, commenting on voter turn out.

The election was scheduled following the death of Sen.-elect Paul M. Chandler of Livonia. Chandler was elected Nov. 3 but died of a heart attack before taking office.

Nine candidates, six Republican and three Democrats, are seeking their party's nomination. The two winners will face each other in a general election April 5.

The GOP hopefuls include Farrell E. Roberts, 2486 LeFay, West Bloomfield Township; George Ames, 41008 Mooringside, Novi, and Allen C. Ingle, 29320 Grand River, Farmington.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Others are Thomas J. McHugh, 1485 Benvenue, Sylvan Lake; Fitzhugh Prescott, 32235 Loomis, Farmington, and Paul A. Kern, 4450 Dow Ridge, Orchard Lake Village.

The Democrats are John H. Burke, 31811 Staman, Farmington Township; Elsie Gilmore, 30415 Puritan, and Edward H. McNamara, 17278 Delores, both of Livonia.

The recently reapportioned 14th District comprises most of western Oakland County, and Livonia, Plymouth and Northville in Wayne County.

Only 51 of Oakland County's 352 precincts are involved in the special election.

The communities that comprise the district are the cities of Farmington, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake Village, South Lyon, Sylvan Lake, Walled Lake and Wixom and the townships of Commerce, Farmington, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Lyon, Milford, Novi, Rose Springfield, West Bloomfield and White Lake.

Voters in Farmington Township also will decide a proposed salary increase for township officials, while in Milford, candidates will be selected for the village council race.

Primary elections for council nominees also are being conducted in the area today in Troy, Rochester and Romeo.

Cold Death for Cave Explorer

DOLGEVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — All hope of life was gone, but men and machines moved on today to try to recover the body of cave explorer James Mitchell, 23.

Mitchell, a chemist from Winthrop, Mass., had been trapped since Saturday in an Adirondack labyrinth called Schroeder's Cave, near here and about 25 miles east of Utica.

Highway department crews, with bulldozers and other earth-moving machines, were summoned to tackle first the maples and beeches atop the cave, then the rock and earth below—about 40 feet straight down.

State police said they believed the rock was limestone.

The day dawned clear but cold, about 15 above zero. Police had maintained an all-night watch.

COMPANIONS LEAVE

Mitchell's two companions in the cave adventure left for Massachusetts.

A rescue worker commented: "The dirty part of this is he didn't get hurt — just cold. Inside it is miserable cold. You tear your clothes and you have to force your way through."

Mitchell had been wedged in a narrow shaft, near the top of an underground crater into which he had descended as two fellow members of the Boston Grotto Club watched.

A numbing, cold underground waterfall that had helped to prevent his ascent drenched his body with freezing water and hampered rescue efforts.

No Opposition Is Voiced to Reform Motion

Resolution: Present Structure Fails to Meet Human Needs

By DICK BARNES

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Democrats have pushed their legislators even more squarely onto the fiscal reform spot by calling for a state income tax in 1965.

The strong tax reform resolution was adopted without dissent yesterday at the party's spring state convention.

Republican Gov. George Romney and the Democratic legislative majority have sparred for weeks over fiscal reform, each apprehensive over the possible consequences of being pinned with a tax label.

Romney wants reform but won't propose a plan until legislators say they're willing to develop it with him. Democrats want Romney to give them a plan to consider.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, the leading Democratic fiscal reform advocate, said the resolution would help him round up support for his two-step, bipartisan tax reform plan.

NOT VOTED YET

Other Democrats, lukewarm on reform this year, commented that legislators, not party conventions, have the votes.

The resolution declared that

NAT (KING) COLE

Cancer Fatal to Top Singer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Nat (King) Cole, velvet-voiced singer who was one of the nation's top popular recording stars for a generation, died today of cancer. He was 47.

Cole underwent surgery Jan. 25 for removal of his cancerous left lung at St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica.

The famed singer entered the hospital last Dec. 8 for observation and tests which disclosed a malignant tumor in the lung. He was given cobalt and X-ray treatments to shrink the tumor before the surgery.

After the three-hour surgery, his condition was described as satisfactory and later as very good.

Lull Ends, Fighting Resumes on Scattered Fronts in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fighting has resumed on scattered fronts in Viet Nam after a comparative lull.

Military sources reported 27 enemy actions during the past 24 hours, most of them in the northern part of the country.

Three U.S. helicopter crewmen were reported injured in a crash.

Two Americans were reported wounded in clashes yesterday. One was hit in the back by metal fragments while searching for 50 Vietnamese who disappeared Saturday after a Viet Cong attack in Binh Dinh Province.

★ ★ ★

In Quang Ngai Province, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, the Viet Cong killed 16 government troops, wounded 30 and captured five.

The Communists poured mortar shells into a government outpost in Quang Tin Province, killing seven defenders and wounding 12.

Near Da Nang, 80 miles south of the northern border, two antigovernment demonstrations broke out today, possibly inspired by the Communist Viet Cong. Troops fired into one of the demonstrations.

Reports said that about 2,000 demonstrators demanded an end to air and artillery attacks on populated areas and attempted to storm the office of the district chief at Thang Binh, about 20 miles south of Da Nang.

★ ★ ★

In Saigon, Vietnamese leaders appeared ready to announce the formation of a new civilian government with Dr. Phan Huy Quat, a former foreign minister, as its head.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's strongman, also was expected to announce a 20-member advisory council, including six military officers, to serve as a temporary legislative arm of the government.

Khanh's ruling military council reportedly picked Quat, 55, after three other candidates turned down the premiership.

A doctor and opponent of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, Quat served as foreign minister last year under Khanh.

★ ★ ★

Quat's Cabinet reportedly includes men who are expected to win the support of various groups whose opposition has toppled past governments in Saigon.

N. VIET NATIVE

Quat is a native of North Viet Nam, and of 13 top Cabinet members reportedly chosen so far, nine are either from the north or central Vjet Nam.

The most active political pressure groups in the country, including the militant Buddhists, are led by north or central Vietnamese.

The government has been headed by acting Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh who was appointed by Khanh Jan. 28 after Premier Tran Van Huong was ousted in a military coup.

★ ★ ★

Khanh retins real authority as commander of the armed forces.

FIGHTING SLACKENS

Although the fighting in Viet Nam has slackened, the Communists were ordered today to strike harder against U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

Radio Hanoi said the order was issued by Nguyen Huu Tho, president of the Central Committee of the Viet Cong's Presidium.

It called upon the Viet Cong to "deal deadly blows at the enemy" and said that the war is becoming "more and more ruthless as it is drawing near to success."

2 Foes to Leave Hospital for Negro March in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Two leaders on opposite sides of the civil rights conflict here, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sheriff James G. Clark, were to leave sick beds today to lead their respective charges as Negroes planned a massive right-to-vote march.

Negro leaders, armed with their first parade permit, called for a minimum of 1,000 in the march on the Dallas County courthouse.

King promised to leave his sick bed in Atlanta to lead the procession from two Negro churches about 10 blocks through downtown Selma to the courthouse.

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner was put to bed Saturday for treatment of a cold and exhaustion.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttleworth, who spoke in King's place at a mass meeting last night, said he would walk at the head of the freedom parade.

U. S. Eyes Russia, China After Raids

No Sign of Major Red Retaliation Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A week after striking against North Viet Nam, the U.S. government appears to have found no hard evidence of a major military response by Hanoi's giant Communist allies, Red China and the Soviet Union.

In reporting no overt signs of Chinese intent to intervene in a big way in Viet Nam, U.S. officials declined today to rule out the possibility that this could happen later. They suggested it could take the Reds some time to decide on what reaction, if any, to take beyond striking back with words, as they have done.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who has been vacationing in Florida since Feb. 3, was scheduled to return to Washington today. Rusk said he planned to proceed first to his office, and then to see President Johnson.

The big-power military and diplomatic position on Viet Nam shaped up this way:

MIG FIGHTERS

The Chinese are reported to have some MIG jet fighters in North Viet Nam already. They did not enter the fray when U.S. and South Vietnamese craft swooped on North Vietnamese targets three days last week.

Peking could send in foot soldiers, but North Viet Nam has yet to engage its own large army estimated at 400,000. U.S. sources discounted reports of Chinese troop movements published in London over the weekend.

* * *

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, returning to the Soviet Union Sunday from a 10-day visit to North Viet Nam and North Korea, with brief stopovers at Peking, has promised more aid to Hanoi.

Even before the U.S. strikes, American officials were predicting Kosygin might supply Hanoi with air defense weapons such as jet fighters. The question remains, how much will Moscow send in?

REDS VAGUE

The Communist capitals chorused angrily at the "imperialist aggression" in Viet Nam, but remained vague.

Peking recalled how Chinese "volunteers" had surged into the Korean war without specifying what China would do now. Hanoi called for revenge in shrill tones. Moscow was milder.

* * *

None of the Red capitals showed signs of wanting to quit because of the air raids.

Calls for Communist unity came from both Peking and Moscow. Washington authorities said this was to be expected. They said it did not prove the Red rivals were ready to bury their deep differences for the sake of united action in Southeast Asia.

WOULD-BE PEACEMAKERS

On the diplomatic front there was a flurry by would-be peacemakers with little encouragement from the principals. Various suggestions came from U.N. Secretary - General U Thant, Indian Prime Minister L. B. Shastri, the French, the Canadians, the British and others.

* * *

Washington did not foreclose negotiations at some future date, but saw no basis for peace talks now with the United States strongly committed to staying in South Viet Nam and the Reds demanding that it pull out.

* * *

Hungary joined in the Communist demonstrations against the U.S. action in Viet Nam in a spectacular way Saturday. Marchers smashed the first-floor windows of the American Legation in Budapest, stripped down the U.S. seal, wrecked the cars of two U.S. diplomats and tossed furniture about inside the building.

Expect China Test of Hydrogen Bomb

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China may test a second nuclear device "very shortly," it was learned today. The weapon is likely to be a hydrogen bomb.

The Peking regime was understood to be accelerating its nuclear weapons program, including some form of delivery system.

Communist China detonated its first atomic device last October. Experts said the blast showed Peking was further advanced in atomic development than had been known.

The nearest to an official hint of Peking's nuclear ambitions was contained in the governmental weekly, The Peking Review. It said Red China will "spare no effort to scale the peaks in these matters (nuclear weaponry) and catch up and surpass the most advanced imperialist countries in modern science and technology."

* * *

In its first explosion, Red China used enriched uranium instead of plutonium and some experts believed this characterizes the phase that normally precedes evolution of a hydrogen type test.

RECENT ASSESSMENT

A recent assessment, published in a review of the authoritative Royal Institute for International Affairs suggested that Red China may have halved the time required for the production of hydrogen weapons and may have H-bombs in two to five years.

In pushing a nuclear program, Red China appeared largely prompted by political considerations, to boost its prestige and to strengthen its militant posture against the United States.

Diplomatic dispatches from behind the Bamboo Curtain have stressed the almost pathological determination of the Communist Chinese leadership to win great power status as a gesture of defiance to both the United States and the Soviet Union.

* * *

In this effort, the nuclear issue was said to be playing a key role. Peking in official statements has been at pains to stress that the nuclear bomb cannot decide a major war since Peking would at any rate emerge victorious because some of its 650 million people would survive.

Lately Peking has been hinting that it would be able not only to produce nuclear weapons but also the vehicles to deliver them.

Reds Seize Strategic Laos Post

VIENTIANE, Laos, (AP)—Covered by strong and mobile anti-aircraft artillery, Communist forces captured a strategic Laotian army strongpoint yesterday which had been holding out for years in Patket Lao territory in northern Laos.

* * *

The fall of Hua Muong climaxed a Communist offensive that started in mid-December to clear government regular and irregular forces from Sam Neua province. The Pathet Lao has controlled most of the province for years.

Hua Muong, 30 miles southwest of Sam Neua, the provincial capital, was the headquarters of two battalions of the Laotian army.

An army spokesman, Col. Sananikone, said the government's T28 fighter-bombers were hampered in their strikes by 10 antiaircraft guns which the advancing Communist troops had.

* * *

He estimated the Communist strength at six battalions.

He said 2,000 civilians had been evacuated.

2 WOUNDED

Only two government wounded were reported, but government sources claimed considerable casualties were inflicted on the Communists by the Laotian air force.

The Communist offensive did not appear to pose an immediate threat to the royal capital of Luang Prabang or to Muong Soui, a neutralist stronghold at the western end of the Plaine des Jarres.

However, military sources said it seemed to have mopped up the government forces in the area and to effect a link of the Communists in Sam Neua with those to the south in Xieng Khouang.

Col. Sisamouth said the Comsecure complete control of northern Phong Ly and Sam Neua provinces in order to get a corridor across Laos.

RECOVERING EXPLORER'S BODY — Rescuers trying to recover the body of a trapped cave explorer huddle about the opening of a limestone cavern near Dolgeville, N.Y., early today. The explorer, James Mitchell, 23, died from the ordeal of hanging by a rope in the cold pit.

He said he used a stethescope and could not detect any sign of life in Mitchell. Karras lowered him to the bottom of the 75-foot crater to facilitate earth-moving operations.

State police requested owners of bulldozers and other heavy equipment to help rip away part of the hillside over the crater.

* * *

Rescue efforts inside had bogged down in mud and were cramped by the 12- to 16-inch-passageway leading to the crater opening.

3 SQUIRMED THROUGH

Mitchell, Hedy Miller, 22, a Boston, Mass., nurse and Charles Bennett, 21, a Harvard graduate student, had squirmed through the passageway Saturday to reach the crater and an underground stream.

Mill Miller and Bennett then helped lower Mitchell into the pit. A nylon cord was anchored to a tripod and the other end was fastened to Mitchell's chest harness.

The underground stream feeds into the crater. Mitchell, who weighs 185 pounds, was soaked by the time he reached the base of the crater. He faltered on the hand-over-hand ascent.

* * *

Miss Miller said: "We didn't have the strength to pull him up. He got up within 10 feet of the opening but he started to stall directly in the water fall. He took off his gloves to handle the rope better.

HANDS GOT NUMB

"His hands got numb. He tried too hard and the cold got him.

"He kept talking slower and slower. Finally he didn't answer. His head lolled to one side.

"At that point Charles went for help."

* * *

Miss Miller stayed, "but nothing I could do would help him."

Bennet and Miss Miller were treated for exposure and shock at the Little Falls hospital.

OUTDOOR ENTHUSIAST

Mitchell left his Waterville, Ohio, home in September to work at the General Electric Co. in Lynn, Mass. His friends knew him as an outdoors enthusiast who had been exploring caves since last fall.

The Grotto Club is a club of spelunkers, or cave explorers.

Karras is from the National Capitol Grotto rescue squad. A Syracuse University team had tried to free Mitchell Saturday night.

Canada Officially Hoists New Flag

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada officially hoisted its first distinctive national flag today and retired the traditional red ensign reflecting the Union Jack of Great Britain, which has flown over Canada for two centuries.

Doubleheader in Space Race

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A doubleheader space launching is scheduled here this week to learn more about the moon, how to get men there and the dangers they face along the way.

A mighty Saturn 1, believed to be the most powerful rocket in the world, is to rumble skyward at 8:30 a.m. (EST) Tuesday in an attempt to orbit an huge winged satellite named Pegasus to study the meteoroid hazard in space.

* * *

On Wednesday, at 12:05 p.m., an Atlas-Agena rocket is to propel the Ranger 8 spacecraft on a photographic mission to the moon.

Major goal of the flight is to further evaluate performance of the huge rocket, forerunner of the Saturn 5 vehicle being developed to hoist three-man teams of Apollo astronauts toward the moon in 1969. The Saturn 1 will be seeking its eighth successful test flight without a miss. Two more test shots remain after this week's shot.

FIRST PAYLOAD

Pegasus will be the first working payload carried by a Saturn 1. On launching, it will be folded accordion-style in the nose of the craft. Once in orbit, a protective cover will fall away and the satellite will extend two wing-like panels to a span of 96 feet.

As Pegasus sweeps through an orbit ranging from 310 to 465 miles high, it is to report its collision with meteoroids, bits of space debris which zip through space at more than 25,000 miles an hour. The satellite is to provide a better idea on the distribution, size and velocity of the particles and how to protect spacecraft from them.

* * *

Ranger 8 is to continue the lunar photographic exploration begun last July by Ranger 7. Ranger 8 is to climax a 65-hour, quarter-million-mile journey by snapping more than 4,000 close-up pictures before crash-landing on the lunar surface.

The craft is to photograph an area nearer the moon's shadow line than the region pictured by Ranger 7. Here, the photos would have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountains and other features. The target zone is the Sea of Tranquility, in the east central part of the moon as viewed from earth.

Dems Urge Income Tax for State

Michigan's "present tax structure has failed to yield revenue adequate to keep pace with growing human needs."

In a dig at Romney, it said "unless fiscal reform is instituted immediately, the inadequacy of state financing can no longer be obscured by a surplus generated by unmet needs."

* * *

It asked for comprehensive reform in 1965 including "a state income tax which gives due weight to the ability to pay."

NEED AMENDMENT

Brown's two-step plan would culminate with a graduated income tax but this could not take effect this year because a constitutional amendment would be needed to allow the graduated plan.

This year, however, a flat rate income tax could, buy incorporating a high rate and large exemptions, take on some characteristics of a graduated plan, which requires persons with high income to pay proportionately more tax than low-income individuals.

The resolution as first drafted asked only generally for tax reform. But the income tax provision was inserted at an all-night resolutions committee meeting where delegates took cognizance of more than 50 county resolutions backing an income tax.

A companion resolution asked for the graduated tax amendment.

MAIN SESSION

The main convention session lasted less than two hours as delegates unanimously reelected state chairman Zolton Ferency and vice chairman Adelaide Hart for two-year terms.

Despite much hotel politicking, no mention was made on the convention floor of contests for national committeeman and legislative auditor.

The committeeman job is expected to be vacated by former Gov. John Swainson in April when he is elected to a judgeship. The main contenders are ex-state chairman and defeated gubernatorial candidate Neil Staebler, State Treasurer Sanford Brown and Deputy Secretary of State Gordon Traye.

Legislators made it known they resented interference in their task of picking a man for the eight-year, $25,000 auditing job.

Birmingham Area News

City Will Eye Method to Avoid Ballot Mix-Up

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will consider a proposed method of avoiding confusion on initiative and referendum charter amendment balloting here.

They have been concerned about making clear the differences between two propositions seeking charter amendments in the April 5 election.

The commission in September accepted the recommendation of the Birmingham-Bloomfield League of Women Voters and placed the question on the ballot.

A month later, petitions were filed to have a similar but broader amendment included in the same election.

* * *

The commission's amendment would allow 15 per cent of the city's qualified voters to call for initiatory or referendum elections.

2,156 SIGNATURES

Currently, this would mean some 2,156 persons would have to sign a petition requesting the election within 90 days of the time a petition committee announced its intention to the city clerk.

The other amendment would require the signatures of five per cent of the qualified voters who cast ballots in the last municipal election — about 186 this year.

It also would allow referendum votes on resolutions of the city commission, not limiting such an election to official action of the group.

* * *

The second amendment contains no exclusions while the commission proposal would not allow initiative or referendum elections on the levy of taxes, appropriation of money, budget or capital improvement program and salaries of city officials and employes.

ZONING QUESTIONS

The commission's amendment also would prohibit petitioners from initiating zoning matters.

City Attorney James L. Howlett will tell commissioners tonight that state statute gives them the authority to add explanatory captions after the propositions on the ballot.

While the commission is given considerable flexibility, Howlett will suggest a form for the parenthetical explanations.

Many Reports on Hubbard

Speculate Mayor to Appear at Office

DETROIT (AP)—A flurry of reports circulated in the Detroit area Sunday that Dearborn's disappearing Mayor Orville Hubbard would be in his office and ready for business today.

One Detroit newspaper and two Detroit radio stations received telephone calls last night from a caller identifying himself as Hubbard.

The 61-year-old mayor has for four days eluded U.S. marshals seeking to serve him with an arrest warrant for violation of a federal civil rights statute.

The caller explained that he left Detroit Thursday for Boston. He said the purpose of the trip was to investigate a theater, similar to a library-theater planned for Dearborn.

* * *

When asked if he knew there was a warrant pending for his arrest, the caller replied, "I have no official notice from anybody about anything. All I know is what I read in the papers and they aren't always right about the weather."

DROP A NOTE

"If someone is looking for me all they have to do is drop a note at the office," the caller said.

The "someone," in this case, included U.S. Attorney Lawrence Gubow and several deputy U.S. marshals.

The much sought-after, never found mayor is wanted for failure to appear in Federal Court on charges of violating and conspiring to violate a federal civil rights statute.

MISS IRISH WEEK '65 — Patricia Ann Houlehan, 17, Rochester High School senior, has been selected by the United Irish Societies (UIS) of Metropolitan Detroit as Miss Irish Week. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Houlehan of 1651 N. Bretton, Avon Township, she will reign over Irish Week festivities, March 14-20, including the seventh annual St. Patrick's Parade March 14 and the UIS St. Patrick Day Dance in Cobo Hall March 17.

Negroes Plan Selma March

His physician said Clark, 43, was kept in the hospital for rest and observation.

* * *

The Dallas County Board of Registrars is convening today for the last time this month to receive voter applications.

PARADE PERMIT

The parade permit — first given the Negroes since the drive began Jan. 18 — was handed to officers of the Dallas County Voters League last night by Wilson Baker, Selma public safety director.

The letter said: "Your organization is hereby granted a permit to walk 600 adult citizens of Dallas County from Brown's Chapel A.M.E. Church to the Dallas County courthouse."

Concerning the 600 figure, Baker said, "that's the number they asked for."

* * *

The letter specified the route the Negroes were to follow, using the sidewalks.

TRAFFIC RULES

It added: "In said procession, you are to observe all traffic regulations of the City of Selma, and you are to walk in such a manner that you will not interfere with other citizens of Dallas County, Ala., using the same streets or sidewalks."

* * *

After the march, Negro leaders said those in the group seeking to register would sign the voter applicant priority list set up a week ago.

* * *

Negro leaders had petitioned for the priority number system but later objected to it as discriminatory.

Court Battle Appears Likely

Ballots Seized in Steel Election Fight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers have voted for a union president and because of the closeness of the balloting and the uncertainty of the outcome, two words stand out — court fight.

Each candidate, although expressing confidence in victory, indicated over the weekend the fight for the leadership of the 980,000-member union could move from the ballot box to the courtroom.

In Hammond, Ind., Saturday, U.S. Dist. Judge George N. Beamer had U.S. marshals impound about 8,000 votes cast by the USW's 14,000-member Gary Local 1014.

Beamer acted on a motion by Max Cohen, an attorney for the incumbent President David J. McDonald, who charged there was evidence of vote fraud in the local, one of the largest in the nation.

OPPONENT REPLIES

In Pittsburgh, McDonald's opponent, I. W. Abel, said in a statement:

"We are in the process of collecting information of voting irregularities in a number of places and we believe that as a result of the protests which will be filed, the incumbent president will lose many thousands of additional votes."

★ ★ ★

The latest Associated Press unofficial tabulation of incomplete returns has Abel, the USW's secretary-treasurer, leading by about 7,000 votes in his bid to end McDonald's 12-year leadership of the union.

The official counting will be done by the international union's tellers after they receive the votes from the recording secretaries of the approximately 3,300 locals. The vote return sheets must be in the hands of the tellers by next Friday midnight.

BALLOT RULE

The union's constitution says all votes from a local must be tossed out if a single voting violation is discovered in the locals.

★ ★

The USW's executive board judges voting complaints. If a member is not satisfied with the board's decision he can appeal to the U.S. secretary of labor under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The secretary of labor then could file suit on behalf of the complaining member. He also has power to order a new election.

While the election outcome remains at issue, negotiations with the basic steel industry are at a standstill. The talks were suspended Jan. 8.

The contract formally was reopened Jan. 1 and the union can strike May 1. The union rejected a request to extend the deadline.

It Seems to Me . . .

Press Outlines Its Position on City Income Tax Plan

Reluctantly, this newspaper looks with disfavor on the proposed City income tax.

We recognize that a growing and prosperous city in strong hands—and that's the role Pontiac plays today — must have additional revenues. But we must employ the most logical means.

★ ★ ★

Many years ago, this thriving community had a yoke thrown around its lusty neck by a tax limitation. In a time of temporary stress, voters leaped at any help. A ceiling on property taxes was easy to pass as all citizens were ripe for reform and retrenchment.

We've been hobbled ever since. Costs have risen again.

★ ★ ★

Essentials are needed. The Press feels that this is inescapable and we face it squarely. We believe the bulk of the people agree.

Hence the question becomes: HOW? WHEN? WHERE?

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the City Commission should have named a strong civic committee of leading businessmen with long training in civic and other finances before the matter was placed on a ballot. It's perfectly possible this group might have recommended that the whole civic financial structure be reexamined. They might have had several recommendations in the light of passing years. But the income tax is on the ballot and that's the problem right now.

★ ★ ★

The Press feels raising the mill limitation might be considerably more prudent than an income tax. We also feel the assessed valuation might be stepped up as long as it didn't conflict with equalization values.

★ ★ ★

As now proposed, the income tax is open to sharp attack from many sides. People who live outside the city say:

"Why should I pay?"

"I don't live there."

People who do live within the limits are even more vociferous in asserting:

"Why can the man working at the next bench—or desk—or room—or building — escape half of what they charge me just because he lives outside of town? He earns his living here just exactly as much as I do."

★ ★ ★

However, the City of Pontiac has no control over that phase. It's a new State law and you can like it or lump it. But the fact it comes from Lansing doesn't make it any more equitable in the eyes of the parties that are aggrieved.

The proposed Pontiac income tax doesn't spare the whip. There are no exemptions for charitable donations, as there are in the Federal tax. There are no deductions for interest payment, as the Federal government allows. Nor are there allowances for other taxes.

You get the full treatment.

★ ★ ★

A very large number of our highest paid citizens live outside the city. This includes a long list of top leaders in industry. It includes the managers of many local stores and private businesses. It includes a large number of doctors. It embraces a huge number of lawyers and other professional men. They have the highest incomes of all, but they will pay just half of what those pay who live within the limits on equal amounts.

★ ★ ★

Apparently, the State of Michigan may introduce an income tax of its own. If that comes about, citizens of Pontiac COULD FACE THREE INCOME ASSESSMENTS.

Would you want to pay an income tax to:

The Federal Government
The State of Michigan
The City of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

If you do, this proposed City ordinance is certainly your cup of tea. If you think property should bear its rightful share as this nation clearly established in the days of the Pilgrims, you are against a second—or third—income tax in the City or State—or anywhere else.

★ ★ ★

The tax is highly controversial.

The Pontiac Press believes we have a strong Commission. We have stood squarely with the group since election. Even now, we have as great admiration and belief in it as we ever had. And we readily agree more income must be forthcoming. We are simply convinced an income tax is unfair and unwise. We respect the Commission's opinion as honest and sincere and are confident they will accept ours in the same light.

★ ★ ★

The matter is on the table for discussion.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

"Kelly" was one of the Biggest Theatrical flops of the year. It cost backers $650,000 and folded after one New York performance. . . . . Right here in Michigan they're testing a method of reading electric and gas meters over the telephones. . . . . Overheard: "When dad went to school, he walked two miles. Today a kid's roughing it if the bus won't come up the driveway". . . . . More than 3.5 million flew the Atlantic last year.

★ ★ ★

THELMA

Trusted scouts tell me Thelma Strum deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . Several years ago, Lillian Hoard (then my secretary) said: "you'll never fly a foot on Eastern if I can avoid it." Asked why, she replied: "they're insolent, impudent, and they lie." She'll be interested in knowing that in the past five years while other air lines have prospered, Eastern profits dwindled from a net of $11 million in 1959 to a loss of $37 million. Now Eastern trips all over its awkward feet to please, to satisfy and to bring happiness to the cash customers. They learned the hard way.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR makes a brief appearance in BURTON's film: "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold" but she stipulated no billing and receives $70.83—journeyman's wages. . . . . Among mementoes in EUNICE SHRIVER'S home is a picture of JOHN F. KENNEDY on which he has autographed: "To EUNICE—my former roommate." (If you've forgotten, EUNICE is his sister). . . . . "Going Up?"

David Lawrence Says:

No Major War Likely in SE Asia

WASHINGTON — There isn't going to be any major war in Southeast Asia. The United States isn't going to start one, and Red China has more to lose than to gain by "escalating" the present conflict.

LAWRENCE

The ultimate result will be an agreement to let North and South Viet Nam remain apart. This objective would be accomplished through negotiation by the major powers, which would provide guarantees to each side against intervention by the other or by forces from outside their borders.

The foregoing survey of the situation is based upon a military analysis which takes into account the strategic facts that exist today in Southeast Asia.

In the first place, Red China is vulnerable. The moment the Peking government starts a major conflict in the Viet Nam area, the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa — with an excellent air force — assisted by air contingents of the United States, could in a few weeks destroy most of Red China's large industrial installations.

This would be a devastating blow, and it could be done without dropping any nuclear bombs. For the targets on mainland China are all within range of attack by planes carrying conventional bombs.

KEY FACTOR

So the most impotant factor at the moment is a recognition by Red China that, unless it stops its aggressions against South Viet Nam, there is a likelihood of a major confrontation with American forces from bases on Formosa, Okinawa and Korea as well as the Philippines.

Also, the United States Navy's aircraft carriers can approach the Chinese coast and launch bombing planes.

Developments until the last few weeks had raised questions in Peking as to whether the United States is in earnest, but the raids and counterattacks of recent days may by now have convinced the Red Chinese that the next step may be "escalation" into air attacks on Red China itself if its forces should in any organized way penetrate from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

The paramount fact right now, however, is that the United States is moving toward possible peace parleys from a position of strength instead of weakness.

There is reason to believe the Red Chinese are not likely to do anything to precipitate a major war and that the Russians would be just as pleased if they didn't.

Meanwhile, the barrages of words on the propaganda front are in themselves an indication that both Moscow and Peking may have decided to turn away from military steps which could aggravate the situation.

The propaganda demonstrations by the Communists thus far have had little effect. The procedures are all too familiar.

Simultaneously throughout the world, demonstrations are made against American embassies and legations in what is obviously a concerted movement to gain headlines and make it appear that what the United States is doing is opposed by world opinion.

Most surprising in some respects are the efforts inside the United States to stir up such demonstrations. It is apparent that the Communists are behind most of them.

Swainson Cites Goals and Challenges of Dems

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

GRAND RAPIDS — What may turn out to be his political valedictory was delivered yesterday by John Burley Swainson—onetime Michigan governor, lieutenant governor and state senator.

It was brief but full of stiletto-sharp points for those who listened closely at the Democratic state convention.

The 39-year-old Swainson received a rousing ovation from the delegates as he took the last time before his almost-certain election in April to a nonpartisan seat on Wayne County's Circuit Court bench.

"It is difficult at times to resist a recitation of the great accomplishments of our party over the years," Swainson said. "But continuing history has been rushing past too swiftly for us to spend more time in the past than just enough to see where we've been—so we'll know better where we're going."

In the audience as he spoke were the onetime kingpins of the party—former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the man who helped Williams hold the office for an unprecedented six terms, Neil Staebler.

FORMER JOB

Staebler, defeated in his attempt to unseat Republican Gov. George Romney last November, would like to resume his former job as Michigan Democratic national committeeman once Swainson steps down from the post.

Swainson has taken an official hands-off position on Staebler's candidacy. But he has been described by associates as somewhat less than enthusiastic over the prospect of Staebler picking up the reins again.

"What we have today is a new party which has new challenges in a new environment," Swainson told the convention. "It is a party that has been recast, where deemed necessary, in terms more fitting to the last half of the 20th century than to the first."

In his remarks, Swainson was underscoring what he believes is the need for new issues and new faces in the party.

VETERAN DEMS

While praising the veteran Democratic legislators who were reelected as having "wisdom and statesmanship," Swainson added significantly:

"Our new Democratic legislators have brought to Lansing fresh and articulate voices which will add new meaning to our proud claim to being the party of progress."

Swainson has made no secret of his views about the need for a change.

Recently he was quoted as saying, "We're a completely different party than we were in 1948 (when Williams won his first term). We just can't shake hands and win any more."

'Let's Solve Uninsured Driver Problem'

Michigan motorists do not need legislation to protect them from the uninsured driver. Any motorist could be protected from loss by bodily injury caused by an uninsured motorist by coverage available at every insurance agency in the state. It does not seem logical that anyone should feel responsible for those who fail to avail themselves of this protection.

★ ★ ★

Something must be done to overcome the uninsured motorist problem but I cannot agree that the unsatisfied judgement plan or compulsory insurance is the answer.

His Finest Hour . . .

The London Observer

Now that the obsequies are over, Sir Winston Churchill's qualities draw a moral for the future of Britain from the whole pattern of his life. In celebrating the memory of Churchill, the hero of the forties, it is only too easy to forget Churchill the unheard prophet of the thirties, the man who might have prevented the last war.

"That was his finest hour," the paper says, "and his loneliest. What he said then, had it been heeded, could have saved fifty million lives and untold suffering."

★ ★ ★

The most important lessons to be learned are those that he was never allowed to apply: how to prevent wars. His maxims that peace must be enforced and that risks must be taken to enforce it, are still not grasped. Applying these truths to an increasingly complex and dangerous world situation poses the acutest problems before us. The anxiety aroused by any proposal to use force, or even economic coercion, to make the United Nations effective, is a reminder how much we will need Churchill's practical understanding and his moral courage if the world is not to drift into another and worse accident.

★ ★ ★

How else but enforcement is nuclear proliferation to be stopped? How else but by compulsion are small wars to be prevented from becoming big ones? These are the questions that Churchill's lonely right-headedness in the thirties should invoke us to face. We are eternally indebted to Churchill for leading active defiance of the most brutal forces of modern history. We are equally indebted to him for showing how the terrible war might never have happened. His exceptional manliness, which enabled him to perform both these invaluable services to civilization, is a matter for profound rejoicing.

Dropout, etc . . .

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

A New York group with a retraining program for high school dropouts has found that 45 per cent of those who sign up for the course become dropouts from the dropout program. The sponsors are now setting up special classes for these dropout dropouts, and, looking ahead, plan to accommodate somehow the anticipated dropouts from the dropouts, after which they can attack the hard core dropout dropout dropouts. Or, possibly, at that point, acknowledge that you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink.

In reference to a possible settlement at Galveston, Massey said Sunday, "I do not think it will be too long."

★ ★ ★

The gang size issue is the major stumbling block to ending the strike in Galveston.

The major issue at Hampton Roads is the union demand of a change in the contract preamble so it would cover only the handling of dry cargoes.

Annual Y Meeting Is Well Attended

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the 20th annual meeting of the Pontiac YWCA Saturday.

The luncheon was held in the O.L. Beaudette home on West Huron Street, the building the YWCA is raising money to buy.

Mrs. Reba Netzler, executive director, said that this building accommodated three times as many as the Franklin Boulevard home would for such an occasion.

★ ★ ★

Alice Papes of the YWCA international staff in New York City spoke to the group on the work the organization is doing throughout the world.

IN 75 COUNTRIES

The YWCA is the largest women's organization in the world with branches in 75 countries.

The program varies from country to country, depending on the need. Education is the common denominator of it all.

In one country, it might be an agricultural club to help the inhabitants raise better food.

In Turkey, it often is secretarial courses. In Northern Rhodesia, it was a five-month course in store clerking and hygiene.

★ ★ ★

Hostels, mothers' clubs, puppet shows, nursery schools, teen-age leadership courses, sewing classes, handcraft cooperatives, public affairs programs — all are part of the international YWCA program.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS

New directors to serve on the board were elected.

★ ★ ★

These include Mrs. George Yansen, Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Sickels and Mrs. A. L. McAdams.

Others are Mrs. T. Warren Fowler, Mrs. Charles Coppersmith, Mrs. Lynn D. Allen and Maude Chambers.

Doctor Can Help

You'll Know the Reason

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need a serious answer. Time after time you advise women, who are married to men who have lost all interest in sex, to "get him to a doctor."

Now tell me, Abby. Exactly what can a doctor do for him?

MARRIED TO ONE

DEAR MARRIED: A doctor can tell whether his lack of interest is due to physical reasons, or psychological ones.

ABBY

If it's physical, the situation might possibly be remedied with proper treatment. If it's psychological, the man might need psychotherapy.

If it's due to the natural aging process, and nothing can be done to restore his interest, then the wife might need some psychotherapy to help her accept it.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that people who eat more slowly tend to eat less food?

HARRIETTE

DEAR HARRIETTE: Yes, and especially if they are members of a large family.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married before but was separated from his wife at the time we met. He assured me that he and his wife had been estranged for a long time and that he never saw her.

Well, Abby, shortly after we returned from our honeymoon, I found a folder with 87 letters from her. I am not proud of it, but I read every one of them.

She tells him how much she "loves" him and "misses" him. They are all dated, and written when he and I were going together.

If I had known that she was trying to get him back, I would have let him alone. It is too late now. We are married.

My husband said those letters don't mean a thing, that she loves to write letters, but he never answered any of them.

I realize he can't be blamed because SHE wrote him, but if her letters didn't mean a thing, what was he saving them for?

SECOND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Look at it this way: If he were trying to get away with something, he'd have destroyed the "evidence."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know you can't print all the letters you get, but I wish you would print this one.

About three years ago I wrote to tell you my troubles, which all started with a drinking problem. You told me to admit to myself that I was an alcoholic and to go to an A.A. meeting.

I went, and they gave me all the help and understanding you said they would. After staying on the wagon for six months, my wife took me back and I became a family man again.

I am now holding down a job. It's hard work, but I'm glad I can do it. I now live according to the A.A. program and still attend meetings. I pay my bills and stay sober one day at a time.

I now look myself in the mirror and I like what I see. I go to parties where others drink, but I stick to my fruit juice. I don't think anybody could get me to take "just one" again.

God bless you, Abby, and thank you for helping to give me a new life.

Stop Lunch Gradually, Tactfully

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me how I can tactfully and graciously get out of lunching with two of the girls in my office?

When I first started my job, two months ago, they invited me to lunch with them and I accepted. I have been having lunch with them ever since and they now take my going with them for granted.

I don't like to hurt their feelings but I find them terribly boring. All they do is gossip about the others in the office.

We are all supposed to go out at the same time so I can't have my lunch hour changed. I would appreciate any advice you can offer.

★ ★ ★

A: To suddenly stop lunching with them altogether, would be very pointed.

However, you might ask a friend outside the office to meet you for lunch with them.

Or if this isn't possible, you could bring your lunch a couple of times a week and eat in the office, explaining to them that you are trying to save money.

WITH WIFE'S SISTER

Q: My sister's husband will be coming to this city to attend a convention.

I would like to know if it would be proper for him to stay here in my apartment and use the spare bedroom while he is in town rather than go to a hotel.

★ ★ ★

A: If you were married, there would of course be no impropriety in his staying in your and your husband's apartment, but as you are a single woman living alone, he should go to a hotel.
